Area UF Drive Over Top for New Record

$900,181 Collected; Almost Six Per Cent More Than Last Year

The Pontiac Area United Fund campaign blazed across its 1964 finish line today with an all-time record of $900,182 in total contributions.

The final total was revealed by Bruce J. Annett, general campaign chairman, at a UF victory luncheon at the Pontiac Elks Temple.

It exceeds the 1964 goal of $815,500 by 10.4 per cent and tops the amount raised last year by nearly 6 per cent.

Annett complimented all of the 4,000 volunteer workers in the campaign which includes Pontiac, Waterford, Independence, Oxford, Orion and Brandon townships.

★ ★ ★

"We are indeed fortunate to have so many citizens who realize that they owe their community a great deal. Their contributions and volunteer work help make Pontiac and its surrounding area a much finer place to live and work."

GOOD COOPERATION

Annett cited "the splendid cooperation of General Motors Corp. as a major influence on the outcome of the drive's success. "Not only," he said "for its financial contribution but for the generous assistance in manpower and through the facilities of various departments."

Since the first drive in 1949 approximately $9 million has been raised for United Fund agency services, Annett stated.

The industrial division, accounting for nearly two-thirds of the amount raised, produced $615,631 or 115.2 per cent of the quota. Charles Brown, division manager, Consumers Power Co. headed the industrial solicitation.

★ ★ ★

Jack C. Brannack heading the commercial division reported his division "over the top" at 106.4 per cent.

SMALLER FIRMS

Commercial volunteers collected pledges of $238,022 from small and medium-sized business firms and their employes, professional, school and government workers.

The final total on the women's campaign, headed by Mrs. Merrell Petrie shows $33,543. This was 105.7 per cent of the division goal.

Boy, Woman Die in Auto Accidents

A 10-year-old Avon Township boy and a Waterford Township woman were killed yesterday in separate traffic accidents.

The boy, Ricky J. Griffin, 2839 Harrison, Avon Township, was struck down at 7:15 p.m. as he crossed Auburn at Eastern in Avon Township, according to state police.

Bernadine A. Rickel, 39, of 2985 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township, was killed about 6:30 p.m. when her car collided with another car at Airport and M59, Waterford Township, said police.

Township police said that Mrs. Rickel's auto was hit as it made a left turn onto M59. The second vehicle was driven by Stephen G. Fraser, 17, of 1948 W. Highland, Highland Township.

The Griffin youngster was returning from church when he ran into the path of a car driven by Agnes R. Zemke, 41, of Whittemore, state police said.

He was crossing Auburn with his brother, Daniel, 13. Police said that the older boy yelled at his brother to wait, but the youngster darted into the path of the Zemke auto.

Alleged Dem Imposter Is Silent on Accusations

DETROIT (AP) — A state representative made his first public appearance today since being accused of hiding his prison record by masquerading for 10 years as an outstanding young attorney.

But Rep. Daniel W. West, 54, a Detroit Democrat, refused to make any statement about the accusations.

He appeared in Recorder's Court where he is to be tried on charges of aiding and abetting false registration.

The lawmaker was scheduled to begin his second term in the House next month.

He represents the predominantly Negro 24th District of Wayne County.

★ ★ ★

BEING TRIED

Peter P. Cobbs, attorney for West, said "he's already being tried in the newspapers."

Speaking of the vote trial he asked, "How are we ever going to get a jury in this case now?"

West ignored newspapermen who tried to question him.

The News said an inspection of FBI records indicated West had served sentences in Minnesota's state reformatory, the District of Columbia reformatory and the Iowa state penitentiary for crimes ranging from burglary to forgery and larceny.

The newspaper said West was unmasked mainly through the

Talks Start on Strategy in Viet War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor and South Vietnamese Premier Tran Van Huong today opened planning talks expected to lead to bombing of Viet Cong supply lines in Laos.

★ ★ ★

Taylor returned to Saigon yesterday from Washington amid increasing speculation that the war against the Communists would be broadened. It was believed that President Johnson had ruled out attacks against North Viet Nam, but the Red supply routes through southern Laos were considered likely targets.

Officials said no announcements were expected from the U.S.-Vietnamese planning sessions.

"I think as time goes on the results of the decisions will become apparent," one official said.

★ ★ ★

Taylor, on his return, said "new measures by both the United States and the South Vietnamese would be discussed." He refused to say what they were.

TO CONSULT

"As an outcome of my visit," Taylor said, "the President has instructed me to consult urgently with the government of Premier Tran Van Huong as to the measures to be taken to improve the situation here in all its aspects."

The ambassador said Johnson had "reaffirmed the basic U.S. policy of providing all possible useful assistance to the South Viet Nam people and the Huong government in their struggle to defeat the externally supported insurgency and aggression being conducted against them."

Thousands of police were strung out along Taylor's route from the airport into town. There had been rumors that Buddhists planned a demonstration against the Huong government. None materialized.

CAPTIVE CARS — Ice-ladened limbs, too heavy for a tree to hold, snapped down on these cars in Schenectady, N.Y. Hundreds of trees and many utility poles were toppled by ice formations from a storm that hit New York State Saturday and struck some areas again yesterday. Many city, streets were closed to traffic because of icy conditions and fallen trees.

Temperatures Plunge to 10 Below Zero

3 Deaths Blamed on Storm; Thousands of Homes Are Darkened

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — Cold and hardship continued today for thousands of families in an ice-crippled eastern portion of New York. Power crews sought to restore heat and light for nearly 40,000 customers.

The sun glistened this morning on a winter wonderland created by ice-laden trees and power lines. Temperatures ranged down to 10 below zero in the wake of one of the state's worst storms.

The bitter cold added the threat of frozen water pipes for stricken residents, most of whom were in an area bounded generally by Albany on the south, Glens Falls on the north and Amsterdam-Gloversville on the west.

Three deaths were attributed to the weekend onslaught of snow, sleet and freezing rain.

★ ★ ★

Many schools closed Friday remained closed today. Others served as emergency centers for those driven from their homes. Churches, fire houses and other public places also were opened for emergency use, and cooking facilities were provided.

MERCURY SKIDS

In addition to the 10 below at Owls Head, in the northern Adirondacks, overnight low temperatures included: Watertown -7, Massena and Plattsburg -5, Glens Falls zero, Poughkeepsie 1, Albany 3, Rochester 5, Buffalo 6.

The Weather Bureau said tonight and tomorrow would be a bit warmer, amid scattered snow.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, touring evacuation centers in the Schenectady area last night, declared, "We've had ice storms before, but none has ever been as bad as this."

★ ★ ★

He was talking about a combination of freezing rain, snow and ice accumulation that began Friday and that, by late last night, froze community activities — from high school basketball games to worship services — to a stop.

On Disarmament

Gromyko Asks Summit Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko called today for a world summit conference on disarmament.

The Soviet proposal was made before the U.N. General Assembly in the first major policy declaration of the new Soviet leadership.

Gromyko also submitted a detailed memorandum on disarmament, outlining measures to be considered at the proposed conference.

The Soviet foreign minister declared that the present international situation was ripe for progress on such measures as a complete ban on nuclear weapons, the liquidation of foreign bases and the reduction of military budgets.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson listened intently as Gromyko spoke in quiet, conciliatory words.

The Soviet delegate specifically endorsed Red China's proposal for a meeting of the heads of state of all countries to consider a ban on all nuclear weapons. He also backed the recommendation of the so-called nonaligned nations at Cairo for a world disarmament conference.

"The Soviet government is prepared to participate in further discussions in any form and at any level, including the highest one, of the problem of general and complete disarmament, of banning and destroying nuclear weapons, and of measures for the curtailment of the arms drive," Gromyko said.

Gromyko pledged the Soviet government's complete support to the United Nations and promised to use it "for easing international tensions, for international cooperation and for the development of relations among states with different social systems on the basis of the principles of peaceful coexistence."

Gromyko referred to what he called the "great verbal swordplay" on the issue of U.N. peacekeeping. He made no specific mention of the formulas being advanced to resolve the crisis over failure of the Russians to pay peacekeeping assessments, but stressed that all solutions must be in accordance with the U.N. charter.

In the Soviet view, the assessments violated the charter because they were approved by the General Assembly instead of the Security Council.

He spelled out the current Soviet policy on international relations as "a line of security peaceful conditions for building socialism and communism in our country, for strengthening the unity and cohesion of socialist countries, and their friendship and fraternal ties."

"This," he said, "is a line of support for national liberation movements, of all-round development of solidarity and cooperation with the independent states of Asia, Africa, and Latin America; this is a line of the triumph of the principles of peaceful coexistence with countries which have a differing social system, of saving mankind the threat of a world war."

'Russia to Aid Congo Rebels'

Claim Soviets to Pay Part of Airlift Cost

CAIRO (AP) — The Soviet Union reportedly has agreed to help finance the growing arms airlift to the Congolese rebels.

An East European Communist diplomat said the Soviets agreed last weekend to replenish stocks of the Soviet-made weapons which Algeria and the United Arab Republic are shipping to Christophe Gbenye's forces. The Russians also reportedly will pay part of the airlift costs.

Communist China has supported the rebels through its embassy in Burundi, east of the Congo, but when the rebels were driven north toward the Sudanese border, the supply lines became difficult to maintain.

The Chinese are reported trying to improve their supply, and the Soviets apparently are trying to counter this.

★ ★ ★

Ghana is reported to have made a token contribution to the airlift, which is known to involve more than a dozen flights of the Antonov transports, each capable of ferrying many tons.

Residents of Juba, in the South Sudan just across the border from the Congo, report some of the weapons are moved south by truck under Sudanese army escort.

The Sudanese government has declined to comment, apparently wishing to avoid an all-out commitment to the rebels.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet support of the airlift was negotiated in Cairo by rebel "defense minister" Gaston Soumialot and the Soviet ambassador to Egypt, Vladimir Erofeev.

Soumialot also saw President Gamal Abdel Nasser and flew to Algeria for talks with President Ahmed Ben Bella.

Farnum Backs Drive for a 'Great Stadium'

Commenting on The Pontiac Press editorial suggesting a new stadium on Detroit State Fair Grounds property, Billie S. Farnum, state auditor general and currently congressman-elect said:

"As long ago as 1951, when I was state fair commissioner, I offered a building policy based on the idea that time would increasingly make the fairgrounds an ideal site for a well-planned recreation center designed to serve the whole metropolitan area.

"Recent developments in highway construction move the area ever closer to all of us in terms of minutes of driving needed to reach it. Projected highways will make it even more convenient to great numbers in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb Counties.

"Obviously, a great stadium would make an ideal hub around which to construct a center for wholesome sport and recreation.

"Much planning has been done over the years by dedicated and talented men, and there has been considerable progress in developing the area. What is needed now, as I see things, is for a public push — a push in its own right — not connected with the Olympic Games or anything else, to get more done faster. A drive for a stadium would make an ideal start.

"I believe that any public drive to put the fairgrounds to greater use will shorten the time when all of us will find it a place to seek a variety of healthful enjoyments.

"I will do my best as a citizen of the community to bring this about."

BILLIE S. FARNUM

Temperature Due to Climb

Area residents are due for some warmer weather within the next five days.

Temperatures will rise slowly through the week. Today's predicted high is 23 to 30; tomorrow's, 25 to 32 and the week's average near the normal high of 36.

While there was no recorded snow yesterday, Friday and Saturday brought .42 of an inch in precipitation.

The low before 8 this morning was 13. By 2 p.m. the mercury had started its climb by reaching 23.

Few 'Yards' Short of College Site Goal

Pontiac still needs $16,067 to buy the osteopathic college site. Voluntary contributions have continued to come in, but the goal is still a few sticky yards away.

Max Adams, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, implores you to send in your money or pledge to him.

Mayor Taylor echoes the same plea.

So do the givers who have already pitched in to assist the community. The total goal is $375,000.

Jones, Henry & Wilkins	$6,000
Pontiac Varnish Co.	3,000

LBJ, Wilson Open Confab

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson opened a two-day conference today on the nuclear weapons crisis in the Atlantic alliance.

They reportedly hope to develop some new formula which would win West German and other allied support in spite of bitter French opposition.

Wilson went into the White House meeting shortly before noon.

He and the President scheduled another conference in late afternoon and two more working sessions tomorrow in addition to a White House dinner tonight.

★ ★ ★

The head of Britain's new Labor government arrived last night, bringing a reassurance to allied countries that the President and he did not intend to "finalize" any agreements.

BADLY SPLIT

He predicted, however, steps toward strengthening the Atlantic alliance which has been split by the question of how to organize nuclear weapons forces —and particularly by controversy over the U.S.-sponsored multilateral force (MLF) project.

MLF is a proposed 25-ship surface fleet, manned by international crews and armed with U.S. Polaris nuclear missiles.

Wilson, with special British nuclear problems to solve, evidently hopes to emerge in some kind of middleman role, by developing with the President the rough outlines of a program to:

- Absorb Britain's nuclear force into a NATO system.
- Revise the U.S. MLF plan so that it will be more acceptable to other European allies as well as West Germany.

Both U.S. and British diplomats were reported hopeful of an understanding between Wilson and Johnson which would then be discussed with West German and other European leaders.

★ ★ ★

Wilson was also reportedly seeking a kind of go-between role in Washington-Moscow relations.

O'Hara and O'Brien found discrepancies on affidavits filed by West in connection with the election.

INTERNAL REVENUE

In addition, the Detroit Free Press said in another copyrighted story, West has been under investigation for months by the Internal Revenue Service in connection with his income tax consulting service.

R. I. Nixon, IRS district director in Detroit, was quoted by the newspaper as saying "considerable evidence" had been gathered on a complicated operation by West involving tax rebates.

Meanwhile, West also faces charges of aiding and abetting the false registration of voters in the September primary. He is free on $500 bond pending trial.

The complaint, filed by Elections Director John A. Smith of Detroit, accused West of inducing a group of voters to register unlawfully in the 24th district.

Because of legislative reapportionment, West ran for reelection from the new 24th district rather than the 6th, his former one.

West has not been available for comment since the disclosures were made over the weekend.

But other politicians have not been so reticent.

Rep. Joseph Kowalski of Detroit, newly elected Democratic House speaker, said he planned to appoint a committee to look into the matter.

GWCC SPEAKERS — Discussing their parts in tomorrow night's Greater Waterford Community Council holiday program are exchange students Reiji Ukita (left) and Karin Hunt and Harold Rynerson, chairman of the 8 p.m. program. Reija, who came from Japan to attend Kettering High School, will describe Christmas in his country and Karin will tell of her trip to Finland last summer.

Students Will Describe Foreign Yule

Foreign exchange students, many dressed in their native attire, will discuss how Christmas is observed in their native countries at tomorrow night's meeting of the Greater Waterford Community Council.

Sharing in the pre-Christmas program will be local students who went abroad last summer and a representaitve of the Michigan Council of Churches which sponsors the program.

Also scheduled for the meeting is the kickoff of the 1964-65 Jon Simon Memorial Fund drive.

The fund was established a year ago to raise money to help finance trips abroad by local students.

Fifteen students, six from Waterford Township High School and nine from Waterford-Kettering visited foreign countries last summer under the program.

FOREIGN BAKER

Tuesday's meeting will begin with a bake sale at 7:30 p.m. featuring cookies, cakes and candies from foreign lands.

The exchange students from Germany, Sweden, Holland, Finland, Japan and Italy will begin their program at 8 p.m.

All meetings of the Council are open to the public.

C. of C. Changes Its Name

BIRMINGHAM — The local Chamber of Commerce, operating under revised bylaws, has changed its name.

Effective immediately, the group will be known as the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce, according to its president, Virgil LaMarre.

"We believe 'Birmingham-Bloomfield' more accurately describes our local organization with its rapidly increasing peripheral area membership," LaMarre said.

"A recent survey disclosed that many persons were unaware that we have members ranging from Square Lake Road on the north to 13 Mile Road on the south, Orchard Lake Road on the west and Crooks Road to the east," he said.

The change in bylaws is the outgrowth of a lengthy study and evaluation by three chamber committees, LaMarre said.

More than 1,100 area residents, both members and nonmembers, were invited to comment on the chamber and make suggestions for its improvement.

FAVOR EXPANSION

"The response overwhelmingly favored expanded activities to benefit all segments of the community," LaMarre noted.

Among the new provisions in the revised bylaws is an increase in board representation from 12 to 15.

Nine membership group classifications have been created to cover retail; automotive and transportation; finance and utilities; hotels, motels and restaurants; manufacturers; real estate, construction and property management; professional; general service businesses; and all types of insurance.

Leading the work on the study were Harris O. Machus, William E. Roberts, Robert L. Kilpatrick, James F. Moore and Knowles B. Smith, executive director of the chamber.

Florence C. Southwell, teacher and practitioner of Christian Science from Orlando, Fla., will speak on "God's Love and the Human Need" tomorrow night at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Chester at Willits.

The lecture will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Tributes Are Quiet at Pearl Harbor

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — An oil slick catches the rays of the subtropical sun, expanding in a rainbow of color on the water's surface.

A garland of brilliant flowers joins the widening kaleidoscope.

A gray United States destroyer moves quietly through the water, its crew lining the rails, staring at Ford Island on this quiet Monday morning in December.

The place is Pearl Harbor; the time, the present.

The oil slick is from a sunken battleship; the flowers from an anonymous mourner who makes an annual pilgrimage to Pearl Harbor at this time each year.

QUIET SCENE

The harbor is a serene scene, with the mountains of Oahu a backdrop for the blue water.

But 23 years ago today, a few minutes before 8 a.m., hell broke loose at Pearl and in 110 minutes, more than 2,000 Americans were dead or dying; another 1,700 were injured; eight battleships were sunk or disabled; four others were less damaged; and other smaller vessels were damaged, sunk or sinking.

Today is "Pearl Harbor Day."

Members of veterans organizations visit the white memorial which straddles the sunken battleship Arizona. Wreaths are placed in the chapel, prayers said.

VISIT TO TOMB

Arriving quietly in ones and twos for the Navy - provided shuttleboat are some whose sons or husbands were among the 1,102 men still entombed in the Arizona.

You can still see parts of the rusted superstructure jutting from the water.

Occasionally, oil still bubbles to the surface from the old ship.

The United States flag flies over her, signifying the USS Arizona remains a commissioned vessel of the fleet on this December 7, 23 years after the U.S. was plunged into World War II.

Search Is On for Pontiac's Junior Miss

A Pontiac high school senior will be chosen this city's Junior Miss on January 10, and right now, the search is on for this talented beauty.

The announcement of the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored contest was made by Gerald Smith and Richard Fitzpatrick, co-chairmen of the Jaycee Pageant committee.

The local Junior Miss title is given to the high school senior between the ages of 16 and 19 who best typifies the ideal American teen-ager.

Judging is based on personality, talent, scholastic achievement and personal appearance.

Rose Marie Tripp, Pontiac's Junior Miss for 1964, will act as hostess at the 1965 pageant.

SCHOLARSHIP

The girl chosen Junior Miss will be presented a scholarship, the Junior Miss Trophy and will represent the city at the state finals in February.

The state Junior Miss will compete in the national finals at Mobile, Ala., where winners will share in a $14,000 scholarship fund.

Local girls interested in competing may obtain entry blanks at Haskill's Studio, Fitzpatrick Pharmacy or from local Jaycees.

Sino-Soviet Truce Seen Near Collapse

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press International

Experts on Red Chinese-Soviet relations expect Peking first of all to take a tougher position toward Moscow and then to resume all out attacks on Soviet ideological and foreign policies.

NEWSOM

Red China has told the Kremlin that the removal of Nikita Khrushchev is not enough. She wants a Soviet surrender to Peking. The month-long truce appears at the point of collapse.

Hong Kong diplomatic sources also view the current truce with reserve.

They say that even if there is a get-together within the next couple of months—as some reports have speculated—it could be only of a preliminary nature.

The two still are too far apart on idealogical matters and the position of the new Russian leaders still too unclear for the Chinese to attempt any serious talks by top party people.

VIET CONG TROUBLES: Saigon sources speculate that the Communist Viet Cong may have bitten off more than they can chew in their haste to expand the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam.

Red radio broadcasts and captured Viet Cong documents have been full of appeals in the last six weeks for more attention to "educating," and "training and managing the (military) units."

There have been a number of incidents in the past months of meaningless Viet Cong terrorism directed against ordinary people.

The Reds had to sharply increase their "taxes" this summer, before the rice crop was harvested in the fertile Mekong Delta.

All this points to a major increase in the number of full-time Communist soldiers, with attendant problems of discipline, organization and supply, all of which could hurt their relations with the peasantry as well as their fighting capacity.

The disastrous floods in central Viet Nam last month are certain to have aggravated the situation, since there is not enough food in the region to feed the people, much less the guerrillas.

FRENCH LABOR VS. DE GAULLE: The 24-hour general strike scheduled for Dec. 11 will be the first muscle-flexing test of strength by French labor unions against the government's hold-the-line wage-price policies.

All public services are expected to come to a standstill.

MRS. VANDERBILT BALSAN

Heiress of Vanderbilt Family Dies

SOUTHAMPTON, N.C. (AP) — Consuelo Vanderbilt Balsan, 88, the former Duchess of Marlborough, who led a storybook life as an American heiress, hostess to international royalty and social worker in the London slums, died Sunday at her Long Island home.

Since the end of World War II, she had lived in virtual retirement, except for publication in 1952 of her best-selling autobiography, "The Glitter and the Gold."

★ ★ ★

She was born into one of America's wealthiest families. Her great-grandfather, Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, had founded the New Lork Central Railroad and provided the base for the family's $150-million fortune.

Nearly 70 years ago, she first met Winston Churchill, a "young, red-headed boy a few years older than I." She said he struck her as "ardent and vital, and seemed to have every intention of getting the most out of life, whether in sports, in love, adventure or in politics."

RELUCTANT MARRIAGE

At 17, the shy, dark-haired Miss Vanderbilt reluctantly married Charles Richard John Spencer-Churchill, ninth Duke of Marlborough. He was a first cousin of Churchill. The arriage lasted 11 years, ended in divorce and later was annulled after both had remarried. The ground for the annulment was that her mother had forced her to marry the duke.

In 1921, she married Col. Louis Jacques Balsan, a pioneer French aviator. He died eight years ago.

BROUGHT DOWRY

With her marriage to the duke, the slender American heiress brought along a dowry estimated at $1.6 million in cash and the income from $2 million in gilt-edge stocks. She became mistress of Blenheim Palace, the only British palace that is not a royal household.

She hated the life at Blenheim where she entertained the German emperor, the King of Portugal and the Prince and Princess of Wales, who later became King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra. She went to Russia in 1902 and was entertained by Czar Nicholas.

It was at Blenheim that she came across young Winston Churchill and set up a life-long friendship.

NOTICE OF TAXES CITY OF PONTIAC

The 1964 County taxes in the City of Pontiac will be due and payable at the office of the Pontiac City Treasurer, December 10, 1964 through January 20, 1965, without fees.

On January 21, 1965, a collection fee of 4% will be added to all County taxes paid through February 28, 1965.

On March 1, 1965, all unpaid County and 1964 City and School taxes will be returned to the Oakland County Treasurer's office and must be paid there with additional fees.

Payments made by mail must be postmarked not later than January 20, 1965 to avoid penalties.

See McNamara Staying Through '66

Defense Dept. Team Is Expected to Remain Intact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department team of top civilian leaders, headed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, is expected to remain intact at least until mid-1965.

★ ★ ★

McNamara reportedly has discussed with key members of his team his wish that they stay on and see the Pentagon's programs through the Congress next session. They were said to have agreed.

★ ★ ★

This is taken to mean that McNamara himself intends to remain in office at least that long.

Associates said they had been unable to detect any signs that McNamara is thinking of stepping out. He is nearing the end of his fourth year as secretary of defense, still well short of the record of 56 months set by Charles E. Wilson in the Eisenhower administration.

BEING PROMOTED

The only member of McNamara's top group to resign recently was Thomas D. Morris, assistant secretary of defense for installations and logistics. He will be succeeded by Paul Ignatius, who is being promoted from undersecretary of the Army.

A major defense post that has gone unfilled since last summer is that of general counsel.

Adam Yarmolinsky, special assistant to McNamara, is believed to be hopeful of getting that nomination. But observers consider this unlikely in view of the opposition of some members of Congress which blocked Yarmolinsky's appointment to a high position in the new Job Corps.

A change in the military high command will come in early February when Gen. Curtis E. LeMay retires as Air Force chief of staff.

★ ★ ★

Gen. John P. McConnell, who has been the Air Force's second in command since midsummer, is likely to succeed LeMay.

★ ★ ★

Adm. David L. McDonald will finish a two-year term as chief of naval operations in June. He probably will be given a second term.

★ ★ ★

Otherwise, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler is only a few months into his term as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The same goes for Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff. Gen. Wallace M. Greene, Marine Corps commandant, still has three more years to go in a four-year term.

Complete Party Rebuilding Necessary for Republicans

Republican ranks are headless.

Perhaps this is natural.

After a thumping defeat, a variety of voices cry out in the wilderness—and in the big cities, too—all seeking a way to better days.

Disunity is the first hurdle.

GOP ranks were ripped apart rather severely in some sectors because of the wide divergence in any general conception of BARRY GOLDWATER. He meant too many things to too many people. The GOP rebuilding conclave originally scheduled for Chicago early in January has been set back until the latter part of the month. In the meantime Republican governors wrestled with issues in a solemn Colorado conclave and have reached reasonable agreements.

★ ★ ★

A research and policy group decided that Goldwater himself was the major issue in the 1964 campaign. He confused too many of his own supporters and he actually frightened and alarmed an appreciable number. Personally, I believe he lost ground almost every time the sun arose after his triumphal and wildly enthusiastic nomination in San Francisco. Republican candidates across the country were constantly "explaining" too many of his comments and unexpected pronouncements. State delegations had candidates running without reference to the national ticket.

Goldwater became a national enigma.

Our own Governor ROMNEY, for example, looked out the window every time GOLDWATER's name was mentioned and he never wavered. And yet with JOHNSON grandly sweeping the state, those same voters gave ROMNEY a whopping majority.

The nominee's own selection of vice presidential candidate MILLER left the majority of the party limp and let down. He was almost as weak as the selection on the Democratic ticket, and HUMPHREY did have one big advantage. He was well known.

★ ★ ★

The GOP campaign flopped.

And the GOLDWATER cabal led the way.

The Arizona Senator and his close henchmen refused to listen to party admonitions. They were adamant on almost everything that came from even the most ardent Republicans and "that's no way to run a railroad."

★ ★ ★

There are powerful, trustworthy, sound and intelligent GOP leaders ready to pick up the pieces and start anew. I refer to such stalwarts as our own Governor, along with Governors Scranton and Rockefeller, Robert A. Taft Jr., Charles Percy, Richard Nixon and many others.

The two that loom the most prominently are Oakland County's George Romney and Richard Nixon. If these men, with a few closely allied associates, can agree upon a hard core program, they can work out a sound platform in a constructive manner. Rebuilding is no time for recriminations and "I-Told-You-So." Rather, it must be a definite movement towards a clearer understanding of the real issues on which the party proposes to stand and fight.

★ ★ ★

There's a sharp division on whether Republican National Chairman DEAN BURCH should retain his post. ROMNEY wants him replaced. BARRY GOLDWATER recently asserted that he himself is the titular head of the party; and there are two schools of thought on that. A reasonable give-and-take must motivate both sides.

The job is there to do.

Getting started is imperative.

Juan Peron . . . .

When JUAN PERON was pitched back to Spain willy nilly, it was a body blow for the Soviets as well as the onetime Argentine phony. PERON has itched to get back ever since the Argentine Navy threw him to the wolves. He was sacked before he touched the border.

And CASTRO suffers, too.

★ ★ ★

Castro was Russia's back door entrance to this hemisphere, but the Cuban has been repudiated so roundly the Soviets have lost faith in his "powers." Had Peron seized the Argentine, Castro's Dow-Jones average would have leaped a hundred points. As it is now, he looks worse than ever, and Castro can smell to high heaven as can no one else in the hemisphere.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

A few days in New York elicits some interesting facts from newspaper pals. When ED SULLIVAN labeled MYRON COHEN "the greatest story-teller the world has ever known" the blasts haven't stopped yet. More than a hundred others have been proclaimed as "definitely superior" (including SOCRATES). . . . . The loan shark racket is under sharp investigation. Gotham borrowers have been "taken" for as much as 5% a week in a billion dollar racket. Mostly this is in the hands of goons, crooks and it finances the underworld. . . . . One of the boys said on his eightieth birthday, NORMAN THOMAS, six times Socialist candidate for the presidency disclosed "I'd rather be right than be president — but it would be nice to be both."

BERTHA

Scouts advise me Bertha Thornton should be listed as one of the area's attractive young ladies. . . . . TV writers say Pernell Roberts (Adam Cartright) will definitely drop out after this season. He was supposed to be married and disappear last year but the plan was switched. . . . . One of the funsters says the new insurance plan for skiers is Black and Blue Cross. . . . . LBJ came up with a nifty at the first cabinet session. Introducing Hubert Humphrey he said: "Gentlemen, the greatest vice president since Lyndon Johnson."

★ ★ ★

The boys are sure the inaugural parade this year will be the shortest in years, with warming pans along the way for the scantily clad Florida Drum majorettes. . . . . Newsweek was completely cock-eyed in its bald assertion that JOHNSON was going to drop J. EDGAR HOOVER. As the N. Y. News said: "No man is indispensable, but once in a while a man comes close to it — and such a man is HOOVER." . . . . A rumor says one of BOBBY KENNEDY's first proposals in the Senate will be another investigation of JIMMY HOFFA. He's under sentence already. . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—ROMNEY's work in Colorado; the J's—Gainesville's rioting students.

No Loitering In The Hallways, Please!

David Lawrence Says:

27 Million Voters Not a 'Clique'

WASHINGTON — The Republican governors adopted at their Denver conference what was intended to be a constructive statement about future policy for the Republican party.

LAWRENCE

Naturally, it was worded in a political vocabulary of broad scope so as to give comfort to all factions and viewpoints. But no sooner had the document been issued to the press than those who are still rankling over their defeat at the national convention last July began interpreting the statement in terms of friction instead of harmony, personality preferences instead of principles and political warfare instead of peace within the Republican party.

The governors' statement recommended that all the leaders in the Republican party on the state and national level should formulate "positive policies with broad appeal to bring before all the American people," and then added:

"We need to appeal to all Americans. We need to become inclusive, rather than exclusive. We need to win elections and serve America as a great broad-based political party, far greater and far more effective than any narrow, exclusive political clique can ever hope to become."

Just who comprise the "exclusive political clique" can hardly be discerned from a reading of the complete text of the statement. But certainly it cannot be assumed that the 27 million who voted for Sen. Barry Goldwater are such a clique or that the national chairman, Dean Burch, and his lieutenants could be so characterized.

Several of the same Republican governors who met at Denver — or their henchmen —gave the impression during the last campaign that it was all right for Republican voters to cast their ballots for President Johnson just so long as they split their ticket and voted for the Republican nominees for the Senate or House or for state offices.

This isn't conducive to the rebuilding of widespread confidence and trust.

Many Republicans of the "moderate" school have not yet discovered that it's a form of "extremism" in politics to punish the ones who remained loyal in a campaign and transfer the leadership of the party afterward to those who strayed from its ranks.

On ideological issues, the Republican "moderates" can be credited with deep convictions, but they know in their hearts that many of their principles are closer to those of the Democratic party today than to the Republican doctrines of opposition to centralized government, fiscal extravagance and interferences with the free-enterprise system.

Capital Letter:

Edicts Planned by Ruth Once She's Made Queen

WASHINGTON — If I were queen for a day, I would institute the following reforms with a stroke of the pen:

RUTH

● U. S. presidential campaigns would be limited to seven weeks. During this period each candidate would address a regional rally in MONTGOMERY these seven areas: New England, mid-Atlantic states, the South, Southwest, Rocky Mountain states, Midwest and Far West. The campaign would begin Labor Day and continue until election day on the last Monday in October.

● The winner elected in late October would be inaugurated Dec. 15. This reform would place the new president in control before Congress assembled in early January, and obviate a State-of-the-Union message by a lame-duck president.

● Congress would hold two sessions each year. The first would begin the Monday after New Year's Day and run until Aug. 1, recessing for a three-months holiday. This session would concentrate primarily on appropriations bills, taxes and other money matters.

The second would convene Nov. 1, handle legislation which had been readied by committees during the recess, and adjourn Dec. 15. Every fourth year the end of Congress would coincide with inauguration day.

PRESS BUTTON

● All votes and quorum calls in the two houses would be conducted by pressing a button at each solon's desk. The time saved in calling the roll could add several weeks to the congressional calendar.

● Committee chairmen would be elected by secret vote of the committee members. None could hold a chairmanship longer than six years, without a two-year interval between terms. This reform would eliminate a lot of doddering or power-hungry oldsters, and focus national spotlight on up-and-coming younger members.

If I were queen for two days, I would tackle the problem of representation. I would want to know why tiny Rhode Island, with a population of only 860,000, should continue to have the same number of U.S. senators as California or New York, with their approximately 17 million voters each.

And I would want to know why Zambia, Togo, Somalia or Sierra Leone should have a United Nations Assembly vote equal to that of the U.S., which pays a third of all U.N. costs.

But who wants to be queen for two days?

Voice of the People:

'Purposes of The Bible, Obscene Material Differ'

Obscene literature is meant to appeal to the lower desires and impulses of man. The Bible is meant to lift men far above the base and make him a fit person to live on God's earth and eventually enter His heaven. This is in a sense a textbook on moral living. If it is obscene, what is a biology or medical textbook? All will agree these are not obscene or full of smut.

★ ★ ★

Whether a book or magazine is obscene would depend on the purpose for which it was published. The literature that has been cried out against is not published to educate or improve its readers, but rather to appeal to the lusts of man and drag his morals down.

★ ★ ★

Continued easy access to obscene material can only mean decline in the morals of those who read it. Removing the publications from the newsstands is a definite step forward in the moral rearmament that our nation needs if it is to keep the respect of the rest of the world.

'City Has Better Places for Stop Lights'

It seems the City of Pontiac could find better places for stop lights than the Johnson railroad crossing. Perhaps Chamberlain and Perry streets, or Perry at Beach Street. With two schools in this immediate area I would think they could place a light here. Also, there should be a light at the Mt. Clemens and Opdyke intersection.

I imagine the city makes quite a bit of money off the light on the railroad crossing. I would like to know why it is there.

Housing Aid

The Washington Star

Washington officials are heavily engaged in planning the next steps to help advance Latin American housing standards closer to the 20th century. Discussions are in progress in the offices of the Agency for International Development, the Alliance for Progress, the Inter-American Development Bank and other agencies on plans to be reflected in the budget for the next fiscal year.

Housing officials are particularly anxious to rebut the charges of critics who say the effort is all for upper crust Latins and that the mud-hut people are being left out in the cold. The problem facing State Department, AID and banking officials is enormous. Latin America's housing needs have been estimated at 61 million units by 1975, or 14,000 units a day for 15 years.

The answer does not lie in outright charity, officials say. And even if that were the approach, there simply isn't enough money available to give every poor Latin a home. The answer lies in creating institutions, public and private, savings and loan and credit union structures, a construction industry that can meet the continuing need. The answer also hinges on using money over and over again to help everyone.

If money is made available for housing to a family who can repay it, more money is generated for the use of others. Our help should enable Latin American governments to come to the aid of those families needing outright subsidies.

IDB loans to Latin America for housing are for people whose incomes range from a low of $30 a month in Bolivia to about $200 a month in some of the more sophisticated countries. The annual need for new construction runs about 2.6 to 3.3 million dwellings, or about $3.5 billion. How could this kind of money be given away? It's not done in the United States and it isn't going to be done in Latin America.

Baruch said if a dwelling requires a payment of $10 a month, the family must have an income of $40 a month. IDB doesn't go beyond the 25 per cent limit on housing payments in relation to total income. Officials admit that those Latin Americans who are outside the cash economy are in an area where housing aid does not reach.

★ ★ ★

A State Department spokesman said about $335 million in U.S. public funds has been committed for Latin American housing over the past three years. About $165 million of this has been through AID and about $170 million from the IDB Social Progress Trust Fund. The latter has been IDB's contribution toward $378 million in housing, or about 200,000 units, with the rest of the money coming from Latin sources.

Real Problem

The Tokyo News

Inhabitants of the nation's major cities really felt that the abuses brought about by overpopulated cities have now reached their limits. A shortage of dwellings and an increase in prices of building lots are repeating a vicious cycle. Moreover, public harm engendered by the industry-first principle has contaminated rivers and the atmosphere. Industrial accidents have also been increasing. The imperfections of water supple and drainage are worrying the citizenry, too.

★ ★

It is well that Prime Minister Sato has instructed officials in charge to map 60 immediate and long-term measures to prevent big cities from further expanding. It is ardently hoped that both the central and local governments will positively tackle the over-population problem with firm determination.

Romney Returns From Denver Conference With Seemingly Solid Position in Party

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney returned to Michigan problems today after two and a half days of national politicking that seemingly solidified his Republican leadership position and potential.

Romney jumped squarely into the anti-Dean Burch camp at the weekend meeting in Denver of Republican governors. He came away praising the governors' "united action" and was obviously satisfied with steps the organization took to strengthen itself.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan governor's plan for an all-inclusive party policy conference also moved toward reality. And he said "there has been real progress here more than may even appear on the surface."

★ ★ ★

Reports were that Romney encountered no significant animosity directed either at his lack of endorsement for GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater or his earlier refusal to cooperate fully with Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton and other moderates in their national convention fight against Goldwater.

★ ★ ★

Romney and Scranton worked closely through the Denver session and their personal departure comments sounded nearly alike in many places.

In serving as a subcommittee head and as one of three authors of the governors' closing summation, Romney kept strictly in the mainstream of the conference. He was not so located when the governors met at Cleveland earlier this year to try to figure out how to keep the nomination from Goldwater.

★ ★ ★

Romney's overwhelming re-election in November in the face of Goldwater's smashing defeat carried him into the group of Republicans mentioned as 1968 presidential possibilities.

His role at this first major post-election GOP meeting did nothing to dampen such speculation.

FACE DEADLINE

Now he must face approaching deadlines on Michigan budget and legislative plans, whose fates in a Democratic legislature could also affect national Romney speculation.

Until the governors' meeting, Romney had called "premature" the question of whether national chairman Dean Burch should be ousted. It developed that Romney wanted a broad based Republican leadership council to consider the Burch question before the national committee meets in late January.

WAS CONVINCED

But Romney became convinced in Denver that it would be impossible to convene such a council.

Thus he happily went along with the compromise governors' statement calling for a new sort of national GOP leadership without naming Burch specifically, as some had wanted.

★ ★ ★

At the close, Romney said since the election he had "been watching carefully to see any indication that those currently in control of the national party organization would take positive action to make it once again an all-inclusive political instrument rather than a narrow exclusive one.

"There has been no indication of such attempts. Second, I wanted the opportunity to meet at least with my fellow Republican governors to examine in detail the results and effects of the past election.

"I have concluded that in the interests of unifying our party it is necessary for Dean Burch to be removed or to resign as national chairman.

It would be impossible for the Republican party to unify and broaden and strengthen itself under his direction because of the positions he and those he is responsible to have continued to take."

The party policy conference Romney sought is being considered for next Spring. A governors committee yet to be named will meet with Republican senators, representatives and other groups to plan and call the conference.

★ ★ ★

The governors set as the conference's responsibility the restatement of basic party principles, development of positive solutions to national problems, and recommendations of plans to strengthen party organization.

Support Seems Lacking

Burch May Have Trouble Holding Job

By JACK BELL

News Analysis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican governors have started a fire within their party that could make it difficult for National Chairman Dean Burch to command the broad base support he needs to hold his job.

Although they stopped short in a declaration at Denver, Colo., Saturday of calling collectively for Burch's resignation, there appeared to be majority belief among the 18 who attended that after Burch canvasses the situation thoroughly he may decide to step out.

★ ★ ★

This was based in part on reports given the governors in closed session that as many as 70 of the 138-member Republican National Committee may favor replacement of Burch.

Burch's own canvass of his strength within the committee was said to have been somewhat disappointing to him.

MAKES A POINT

Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, former head of the committee, made the point on a television broadcast Sunday — ABC "Issues and Answers" — that the chairman has to have broad support within the committee. He added he didn't know anybody "who would want to stay in that position that didn't have support of his own committee."

Morton, who had announced his backing of Burch, said it is up to the members of the National Committee and no one else to determine whether Burch should be replaced.

★ ★ ★

He added: "He must have broad support in the National Committee itself, he must have broad support among the Republican governors, the Republican mayors, Republican leaders, state chairmen, vice chairmen, Young Republicans and all."

Although the governors avoided naming Burch in a declaration setting out their ideas about revising the party leadership, it seemed clear a majority were not offering the chairman the kind of "broad support" Morton said was necessary.

ROMNEY CONVINCED

Gov. George Romney of Michigan said in a national telecast — CBS "Face the Nation" — he is convinced a majority of the national committee members want Burch to go. Romney was joined by Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, Robert E. Smylie of Idaho and some others in saying Burch must go.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the defeated GOP presidential nominee, has said he is standing firmly behind Burch. But even some of Goldwater's firmest supporters among the governors qualified their endorsement of the national chairman.

Gov. Tim Babcock of Montana said Burch should have the opportunity to end "the factionalism which is disrupting us." If the chairman can't do that, Babcock said, he would expect Burch "to step down for the good of the party and I would be among those asking him to do so."

Gov. Clifford Hansen of Wyoming, who opposed efforts by Smylie and others to put the governors association on record for Burch's ouster, said a statement approved unanimously by the chief executives laid down broad leadership guidelines and the chairman "should be guided by them or get out."

KANSAS GOVERNOR

Gov.-elect William Avery of Kansas said that if Burch found the declaration "incompatible" he should quit.

Among other things the governors said in their statement:

★ ★ ★

"We strongly recommend to the National Committee that in determining its leadership at the forthcoming meeting in January, it adopt leadership which clearly represents a broad view of Republicanism and practices a policy of inclusion, rather than exclusion."

Party progressives have contended that Burch has frozen them out of policy making and party operations. This viewpoint seemed reflected in the governors' call for a top party leadership conference next spring to "sharpen and restate our party's basic principles."

NEED CANDIDATE

But unless Burch himself should become convinced he lacks the support to carry on, those seeking to force him out seem likely to encounter difficulty in agreeing on a candidate to oppose him.

There was no indication that the governors were anywhere near agreement among them for a possible successor to Burch.

Quotes Barry's Preelection Tiff

NEW YORK (AP) — Newsweek magazine says it has obtained a verbatim transcript of the Aug. 12 "unity conference" of Republican leaders at Hershey, Pa., and quotes Sen. Barry Goldwater as saying:

"I think it's time that we decide that you've got a candidate for the presidency and the vice presidency. You might not like us, but you're stuck with us . . ."

The magazine, in its Dec. 14 issue, released last night, printed excerpts for the confidential transcript it said it obtained last week.

Among the discussions reported by the magazine was an argument between Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and presidential nominee Goldwater over the latter's public statement that he did not seek extremist support.

★ ★ ★

According to Newsweek, Rockefeller told Goldwater he felt the candidate should say he completely rejects extremist support, rather than that he does not seek such support.

House Planning Unit Appointed

State Democrats Begin Mapping Strategy

LANSING (AP) — Fourteen Democratic representatives are mapping strategy this week for the 1965 legislative session.

The House Democrats, who feel strongly their newly won role of majority party, appointed a planning committee at their first caucus Friday.

* * *

The 14-member committee meets Tuesday to discuss, among other things, a program for the coming session.

Rep. Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, who graduates from minority floor leader to speaker of the House when the legislature convenes Jan. 13, said the committee will make recommendations to the caucus, which is scheduled to meet again before Christmas.

Kowalski was elected speaker at the Friday caucus. He is an ex-officio member of the committee, but will not serve as its chairman. A chairman will be elected Tuesday, he said.

Among the matters to be discussed may be whether to try to beat Republican Gov. George Romney to the punch by drawing up and presenting their program before he has a chance to present his.

* * *

Several Democratic lawmakers have said they expect their goals and Romney's to be very similar.

The same holds true for methods of reaching the goals.

PROPOSE PLATFORM

Rep. Robert Traxler of Bay City has proposed that the Democratic legislators draw up a platform to prevent Romney from upstaging the Democratic legislature.

* * *

Traxler, elected to the powerful position of majority floor leader, although he is only starting his second term, said that if Romney presents a program which includes everything the Democrats want, they would be forced to pass it and let the Republican governor take the glory.

* * *

He added that the platform also would "let the people of Michigan know where we stand on important issues."

Kowalski said Friday that the Democratic program might be presented a piece at a time rather than as a complete platform.

ANNUAL MESSAGE

The governor traditionally reveals the bulk of his program detail in the annual State of the State message, delivered after the legislature convenes.

But this same situation could induce Romney to reveal more of his hopes for the 1965 session earlier—possibly in his inaugural address Jan. 1.

* * *

Romney, however, already has begun, in the controversial field of workman's compensation. Both Republicans and Democrats have placed the state's law covering the compensation of injured workers near the top of the legislative list.

Liberalizing changes in the law were recommended last week by Weldon Yeager, director of the State Workmen's Compensation Department.

Yeager, a Romney appointee, recommended sweeping changes in the law, including lifetime benefits where needed. Benefits currently are limited to a maximum of 500 weeks.

He also proposed raising maximum benefits to $100 a week, nearly doubling the current maximum.

HOW TO FIGHT

"How can you fight a proposal like that?" asked one veteran House Democrat.

Thoughtful Robbers?

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — Three armed men dropped by the home of grocery manager Buck Fleming last night and drove him to his store, where they forced him to open the safe and give them the money. Then thoughtfully returned him to his home before making their getaway.

Shastri Back in India

NEW DLEHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India returned to New Delhi today after a three-day state visit to Britain and said he was "completely satisfied" with his talks in London. He undertook the trip at the personal invitation of British Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

Yule Spirit Featured at Rochester Parade

ROCHESTER — All of the ingredients for a successful Christmas parade were present in Rochester Saturday afternoon.

As if on signal the sun broke through the clouds just before the parade started, the girls' precision drill teams were right in step and the floats were colorful and bright.

Providing the appropriate musical accompaniment were the Rochester senior high and two junior high school bands that played traditional holiday airs all along the parade route.

A total of 40 units participated in the 13th annual event sponsored by the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce to the delight of the several thousands of spectators who lined Main Street.

* * *

Capturing the grand and first place trophies for the best float in the parade was the St. Andrews Parents Club entry.

CHILDREN FEATURED

Based on the theme, "Light a Candle for Peace," it featured children in costumes of foreign lands, all seated beside giant candles.

Second place honors went to the Rochester YMCA which had the largest float with the most riders, about 50, all Indian Guides.

Judged the best marching unit again this year was the Rae-Vens, girls' precision drill team from Pontiac which put on a demonstration of high - stepping accuracy in front of the downtown reviewing stand.

* * *

Placing second in this category was a group from the Rochester Junior Woman's Club, each member dressed as a walking Christmas package.

Other outstanding entries included the Arts N' Apples float featuring members of Girl Scout Troop 518, the Avon Players' replica of their future playhouse and still more from local service clubs, organizations and stores.

Among the dignitaries in the line of march were Village President John O'Donnell and his wife; Avon Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller and other township officials; Homecoming Queen Chris Collins and her court; and Miss Rochester of 1964, the former Judi Soule, now Mrs. Donald Audet.

* * *

Bringing up the rear, as usual, was Santa Claus making his initial appearance before taking "temporary" residence in the Hills Theater lobby.

Judging the entries were Thor Ulseth, Rotary Club; Herbert Stoutenburg, Kiwanis Club; and Arne Bosen, Lions Club.

Pontiac Press Photos

BEST FLOAT — Copping the trophies as grand prize winner and best float in Rochester's 13th annual Christmas parade Saturday was this entry of the St. Andrew's Parents Club. Its theme, "Light a Candle for Peace," was carried out by young people dressed in costumes of foreign lands, each seated by a giant-size candle around a globe of the world.

GIFTS AFOOT — The Rochester Junior Woman's Club was awarded a trophy for the second best marching unit in Saturday's parade. Drafting some of their children to walk with them, the members and youngsters alike were garbed as Christmas packages — each package plugging one of the club's charitable projects.

Vote Tomorrow on Charter for Orchard Lake

ORCHARD LAKE—The issue before voters here tomorrow will be whether they approve the document drafted by the charter commission.

* * *

The charter was prepared during the spring and summer by the commission elected March 3 when the Orchard Lake electorate decided the village should be changed to a city.

With the question of incorporating as a city settled nine months ago, voters now are being asked to adopt a new charter for the unit.

If they accept the document, Orchard Lake will begin to operate as a city next week. If the charter is defeated, the commission will be put back to work drafting a new one.

* * *

Preelection campaigning here, where a village ballot normally has attracted 40 to 60 voters, has been highlighted by an information-sheet debate between the West Bloomfield Township Board and the charter commission.

LIST SERVICES

The Township Board sent to village residents a list of observations about the services now supplied by the township and those which will have to be provided by the city.

These included comments on tax rates and collection in the city, as well as the need for assessing, court facilities and fire protection. It also was noted that the township library is available to village residents.

In its rebuttal, also sent to all village voters, the charter commission noted that the village auditor has predicted there will be no increase in administrative costs to handle additional accounting needed in the city.

* * *

Court facilities, the commission said, already are being provided by the village and library services will cost less on a nonresident fee basis than they do through taxes.

FIRE PROTECTION

The township now supplies fire protection to Keego Harbor and Sylvan Lake for more than $8,000 each.

* * *

Charter commissioners noted that another $8,000 contract would bring the total from outside sources to more than half the total cost.

AREA NEWS

MUTUAL AGREEMENT

"If West Bloomfield does not want these contracts, the three communities concerned could work out a mutual agreement for fire protection, or the City of Orchard Lake would have no difficulty providing its own," they said.

But commissioners emphasized that cityhood is no longer an issue here — the question now is approval of a charter to govern the city.

Also on tomorrow's ballot will be candidates for six council posts and a municipal judgeship who would take office next week if the charter is approved.

* * *

Seeking the council seats are Fred J. Walls, John C. Hall, Edwin M. Douglas, Everett R. Casey, Kenneth Treacy, Sylvester Leahy, Mrs. Katherine M. Baker, Harold Knisley, Frederick S. Strong Jr. and Theodore Bloom.

* * *

Attorney Martin J. Kabcenell is the single candidate for municipal judge.

For Rochester Voters

Brochure Tells Renewal Story

ROCHESTER—Village voters were to receive brochures called "The Urban Renewal Story" in today's mail, designed to inform them on the issues that will affect their vote in tomorrow's election.

Up to the electorate tomorrow are two questions.

One of them is whether Rochester can borrow $190,000 and issue bonds to cover it in order to pay its share of the cost of the East Third Street Renewal Project.

The other asks whether the village charter should be amended to allow the village to sell urban renewal land valued at more than $2 per capita (about $12,000) without a public vote.

This amendment would make it possible for Rochester to resell the 31 acres in the project to developers, who will then bring light industry to the area.

ADDITIONAL FUNDS

The $190,000 would be swelled by $531,778 in federal funds to cover the total cost of redeveloping the land in the "blighted' East Third Street area.

Now occupied by houses, a good many of which have officially been termed "dilapidated," the area would be cleared, mass-graded and prepared for industrial sites.

This includes the straightening of Paint Creek, new railroad bridges over Paint Creek and Baldwin Avenue, and construction of a new street entrance to supplement the steep East Third Street approach.

* * *

The cost of redevelopment is estimated at $20,000 per acre, and the village plans to resell the land to developers at $5,000 per acre.

PRICE DIFFERENCE

The difference in purchase and resale prices will be more than made up, however, by the increased village and tax revenue from the area when completely developed.

With only 30 per cent of redevelopment completed, experts estimate that $30,000 in village taxes and $100,000 in school taxes will be realized.

This compares with village tax revenues of $1,700 and school tax intake of $6,500 from the total renewal area at present.

* * *

Passage of the bond issue proposal will not raise taxes for village residents, inasmuch as repayment dates on the bonds can be set to take advantage of increasing tax revenue from the land's new occupants, as it is redeveloped.

MAJORITY NEEDED

County Man Hunting Victim

Shot Accidentally by Teen in Addison

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — A 30-year-old Hazel Park man was killed instantly by a shotgun blast in a hunting accident here yesterday morning.

Ernest Dilldine Jr. died when hit in the head by a charge fired by 15-year-old Frank S. Bernette of Madison Heights.

Romeo State Police said Bernette, his father, Dilldine and two other companions were hunting rabbits on the property at 770 W. Romeo Road when the accident occurred.

They were attempting to flush rabbits from a woodpile, and Dilldine apparently stood up into the line of fire when a rabbit ran between him and Bernette.

Bernette was not held by police.

Dilldine's body was taken to William R. Potere Funeral Home, Rochester.

Livestock Show Starts

DETROIT (UPI) — About 400 young livestock producers are expected to participate in the 35th annual Detroit Junior Livestock Show which runs today through Thursday.

The show is sponsored by the 4-H Club department of the Michigan Cooperative Extension and the Detroit Junior Livestock Society.

It normally attracts 4-H youngsters and their prize pork, lamb and beef entries from all parts of the state.

The show is being held at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

Devise Sewage Plan in West Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A handful of residents and developers have devised a plan to bring sewage lines to the northeastern portion of the township.

* * *

Their proposal would serve as an alternate to the Walnut Lake arm which was turned down at a public hearing on necessity in June.

The Lone Pine arm would bring sewers to the area that "needs and wants them," according to Township Supervisor John C. Rehard.

It would cover roughly the northern two-thirds of the district which had been proposed for the Walnut Lake arm.

* * *

The proposed arm would extend from the Farmington sewage system up to Pine Lake. However, the southern boundary of service would be just below Walnut Lake Road, rather than 14 Mile as planned for the Walnut Lake arm.

SERVE BLOOMFIELD

A portion of the line would serve property in Bloomfield Township.

West Bloomfield Township officials had proposed establishing a special assessment district to pay for the unit's share of the Walnut Lake arm, about $1.5 million. Bloomfield and Farmington Townships would have split the rest of the $1,693,000 total.

But a number of West Bloomfield property owners objected to the project on the basis of the method chosen to finance it.

* * *

With public protest at a peak, the proposal was defeated in what Rehard labeled "the most severe setback this township has had in years."

ANOTHER METHOD

Those working on alternate plans have suggested another method of financing the arm, through connection fees.

They retained engineers at Michigan Land Planning Inc., Bloomfield Hills, to draw plans for the project.

The group interested in the proposal has scheduled a Friday morning meeting with the Oakland County Department of Pubic Works (DPW).

* * *

Also to attend the session are William Phelps of the engineering firm and officials of both West Bloomfield and Bloomfield townships.

COUNTY BONDS

If the DPW approves the plans, the group backing the move hopes to have the arm financed through county bonds, Rehard said.

The bonds would be paid for on the basis of contracts with the two townships, he said.

Although its plans are still in the tentative stage, the group took them to the township board to seek support of its work in principle.

The township board gave it that backing.

UAW President Is Scheduled for Surgery Today

DETROIT (AP)—Surgery for Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, was scheduled today at Henry Ford Hospital.

The operation was described as corrective surgery when Reuther entered the hospital last week. Further details were not given.

Reuther, 57, head of the million-member UAW for 18 years, has followed a policy of having periodic physical checkups.

Shelby Boy, 9, Hurt in Crash

Mother's Car Skids Into the Wrong Lane

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — A nine-year-old Shelby Township boy was hospitalized following an auto accident on Mound Road between 23 and 24 Mile roads, shortly after noon yesterday.

Mark Somers of 5537 Debra sustained head and shoulder injuries when the car driven by his mother skidded into the wrong lane and was hit by another car.

Shelby Township police said that Mrs. Marilyn Somer, 39, tried to stop for a car making a left turn, and skidded from the northbound lane of Mound Road into the southbound lane.

The Somers vehicle was struck by a car driven by Laverne A. Grabski, 5399 23 Mile, Shelby Township.

Mrs. Grabski's son, Theodore, 10, was taken with Mark Somers to St. Joseph's Hospital, Mount Clemens, where he was treated for minor injuries and released.

Loans Still Available

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY — Socialist leader and oftentimes candidate for president Norman Thomas blows out a single candle on the birthday cake as he celebrates his 80th birthday anniversary in New York yesterday. Nearly 2,000 persons packed a Hotel Astor ballroom for the occasion. A warm message from Vice President-elect Hubert Humphrey was received.

Junior Editors Quiz on ATOM

QUESTION: How it is possible to split the atom?

ANSWER: Certainly not by the method shown at upper left—which our artist put in just to show how impossible a tiny thing like the atom seems to be.

To realize how minute an atom is, think of a toy balloon containing hydrogen. The number of hydrogen atoms in it would be around 100 million billion.

Yet scientists do succeed in splitting such infinitesimal particles.

By 1913, it was known that the atom had a definite structure, an inner nucleus containing protons and neutrons, with minute electrons circling around this.

It was found possible, by using magnetic and electric fields—or spaces in which these forces have influence — to accelerate a stream of charged particles such as protons and electrons to an enormous speed.

They would then smash into the atoms of a bit of target material and split these atoms so as to release various particles.

The long tube in (1) is opened to show smaller tubes which speed the particles along. The synchrotron (2) speeds particles in a circle until they, too, smash into a target.

In (3) a neutron from a highly radioactive material splits an atom to start the famous chain reaction and release enormous amounts of atomic energy.

FOR YOU TO DO: Keep a scrapbook of the Junior Eidtors' stories and drawings. Refer to them from time to time.

Actress Liz Taylor Spikes Death Rumors

PARIS (UPI) — Actess Elizabeth Taylor crushed rumors that she had been killed in a Riviera auto accident by simply stepping out of her hotel here yesterday.

Miss Taylor and Richard Burton, her husband, smiled and waved at photographers. The couple's press agent was not so happy. He was awakened early in the morning by newsmen seeking to verify the rumors.

U. of Alabama Bars Negro Jazzman

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) — The University of Alabama has refused to permit jazzman Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong to perform at its "Festival of Arts" next February. Students charged race was the reason.

University President Dr. Frank A. Rose Jr. insisted last night the action was not taken because Armstrong is a Negro but he declined to say why the performance was canceled.

The student newspaper, Crimson and White, claimed race was the reason and asked the administration to reverse its decision. It called Armstrong a "great American."

Students circulated petitions to get the administration to change its position and nearly 1,000 signed.

Armstrong's New York booking agent, Associates Bookers, in a letter to Bill Cardwall, president of the Cotillion Club, the student group that was to sponsor the appearance, expressed amazement and asked that the university reconsider.

NO INCIDENT

The agent said Armstrong has played at every Southern university, including the University of Alabama, without incident.

Four-Day Celebration Planned

Kenya Becomes Republic Next Saturday

United Press International

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI)—Kenya becomes a republic at the stroke of midnight Friday, one year to the day after it was given independence by Britain.

While retaining its membership in the British Commonwealth, Kenya will no longer recognize Queen Elizabeth as the head of state.

The new republic's head of state will be the president—Jomo Kenyatta, who has served as prime minister since June 1, 1963.

Four days of celebrations have been planned to mark the transition. They will start on Thursday and last until the following Monday.

One of the first engagements Kenyatta will undertake is to see off the last of the British troops from Kenya. He will inspect men of the Staffordshire Regiment after visiting the former British base at Kahawa, outside Nairobi. The base will be converted to a teachers training college.

WILL LEAVE

On Friday morning, Gov.-Gen. Malcolm MacDonald will leave. He also served as governor of Kenya in the year before independence. MacDonald will return to Kenya in January as British high commissioner.

In the evening there will be tribal dancing in Mitchell Park, the Kenya agricultural showground. At 11 p. m. massed military bands and marchers will move into the arena for the climax of the celebrations — the breaking out of the presidential standard at midnight.

After the swearing-in ceremonies, there will be a flypast by the Kenya Air Force and presentation of new colors to the Kenya Army by the president. This will be followed by tribal dancing.

On Monday, Kenyatta and members of his cabinet will attend Parliament for the formal opening session.

After his speech to the House, a statue of Kenyatta will be unveiled outside Parliament buildings.

Since independence a year ago, Kenya has become a one-party state. Long-time observers said that this was inevitable if Kenya was to create its own systems, more suitable to the African mentality in government than the British pattern of parliamentary democracy.

The public has taken the dissolution decision by the opposition party, the Kenya African Democratic Union (KADU), as a demonstration of faith and trust in the ruling Kenya African National Union (KANU), headed by Kenyatta.

The reality of the situation, the observers said, is that Kenyatta can govern better within a republic under a one-party system.

Kenya itself is in a critical phase of development in a troubled continent.

Its leadership must, therefore be strong and highly representative of all factions.

In introducing legislation, the government must feel that it has the full confidence and support of all of Kenya's somewhat polyglot racial and tribal society.

Bold New Chicago Program to Initiate Birth Control for Poor

CHICAGO (AP) — With 40,000 families on Aid to Dependent Children relief programs, Chicago hopes to initiate a bold new program for birth control next year.

Plans call for the city's Board of Health to take on an added responsibility: The giving of birth control information and devices to both married and unwed mothers.

If its tentative program is approved by the City Council early next year, the health board would be the first public agency in Illinois to recognize birth control as a health program in dealing with unwed mothers.

The state now provides birth control benefits for married mothers with children, but previous efforts to include unwed mothers in the program met strong resistance.

MOVING SURELY

"I'm moving slowly but surely," says Dr. Eric Oldberg, 63, a prominent neurosurgeon who has been president of the Board of Health since 1960.

"The idea is that the program would be a health measure, a program to help parents whose children are just happenstances," Dr. Oldberg said Sunday. "I can't imagine anyone wants them that way."

The program, Dr. Oldberg said, is especially geared to help those on the Aid to Dependent Children rolls.

"These people often don't know how long ago they were married or where their husbands are," he said. "Many of them have had three or four children since their husbands left. That may mean they get more money from the IPAC — Illinois Public Aid Commission —but what about the children?

MORAL ACTION

"If we can keep these people from having unwanted children, then I think it's a very moral thing," Dr. Oldberg said. "I don't see how any ethical or religious organization could object."

He said the birth control program isn't "going to start passing out a lot of stuff to teen-agers in high school. We're not going to make it possible for anybody who wants to become promiscuous.

"What I mean by unmarried mothers in this program," Dr. Oldberg explained, "are people who have been married or are separated and keep on having children."

The Board of Health's birth control program will have the firm backing of the Planned Parenthood Association of Chicago.

FINALLY AWAKE

"People are finally awakening to the fact that this is a health measure that should be available to all, especially to the lower classes," said Jane C. Browne, executive director of the private agency.

"In one sense we condemn them for having so many children and not being able to take care of them, and on the other hand we deny them medical services that people in middle and higher income groups can always get from their private physicians.

"The medically indigent shouldn't be discriminated against just because they can't afford a private physician," Mrs. Browne said.

What kind of a tiger do you want under your hood?

(Have you priced a tiger lately?)

If you're handy with a whip and chair, you could go for the 360-hp GTO. It bites. But then, even the 335-hp GTO bites. So it all depends on how much you think you can chew. If you want a slightly more civilized package (but with all the growl and lots of the muscle of the GTO), try the LeMans. You can get it with a six or either of two V-8s. They all have magnificent interior appointments that make you feel you're languishing in luxury. Like bucket seats. And full carpeting. Yet they cost less than some very tame cats that go around trying to pass themselves off as tigers but who can't even manage the growl. How do we do it? That's our secret. See them all in captivity at your Pontiac dealer's.

Congo Hit by Problem After Problem

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — "Solving problems in the Congo is like trying to kill a hydra by chopping off its head," said a diplomat. "As soon as one is gone, a couple of others grow in its place."

Officials here believe it likely that some rebel leaders will "surface" in another African country and launch a "Congolese People's Republic" in exile.

Enough African leaders are jealous of this sprawling country or dislike Prime Minister Moise Tshombe sufficiently to provide a haven for fleeing rebels.

Some have already been criticizing Congolese policies in the Organization of African Unity.

Tshombe's white - led mercenary army can drive at will into rebel territory, but its leaders admit they cannot establish permanent control.

MOVE AHEAD

"We move ahead without meeting real opposition. But when we pass they close in again behind us," said Maj. Michael Hoare, a South African who leads the mercenaries.

"Leopoldville must find a political, not a military solution."

Almost a fifth of this land has been ravaged by civil strife. The Congo is about the size of the United States east of the Mississippi River. Agriculture, highways and communications can be restored, but the loss of trained manpower will be felt for decades.

Rebels — especially the savage "jeunesse" (young ones) youth groups — tortured and murdered scores of persons they termed intellectuals.

LITERATE SLAIN

Teachers, minor clerks, nurses and anyone else who could read and write was likely to be a victim.

Belgium left the Congo in 1960 with a handful of trained personnel. Rebel killings eliminated hundreds of the Congolese.

Diplomats here see 1965 as crucial in determining the Congo's future. Tshombe's provisional government has promised elections.

Many Congolese leaders say a new parliament would provide a necessary national safety valve.

"The key to the Congo is tribal friction. Parliament provides the only national sounding board for these differences," said one diplomat.

Many of the various tribes among the Congo's 14 million people have been fighting each other for centuries. Much rebel success was based on exploiting tribal - regional hatreds.

Tshombe has pledged to put the best-qualified administrators in important provincial offices without regard to tribal ties. He also has promised to neutralize the power of traditional tribal chiefs.

* * *

He has met with limited success so far in these efforts.

NO ILLUSIONS

The prime minister has no illusions about the quality of his available manpower. He has termed some of the political hacks holding important posts "clowns" and "dopes."

Surprisingly the economy did not suffer greatly this year.

The copper mines in Katanga Province were untouched by rebel activity.

* * *

But the cotton crop was largely destroyed and the loss of seedlings probably will curtail next year's crop.

"Resumption of farming in former rebel territory will depend entirely on security," said an economist here.

The rebel army was basically a guerrilla force and many roving bands will harass the countryside for months.

Palm oil plantations owned by international soap companies such as Unilever have full storage tanks and lack transport to resume operations in many areas.

* * *

There has been almost no private investment from overseas here and the flight of capital from this country has been a severe threat.

The United States supplied $45 million in aid this year — about 25 per cent in direct economic assistance and most of the rest in surplus farm products.

Aid has also come from Britain, West Germany and the European Common Market.

Paradoxical Press Agent

Creates Interest---in Himself

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — Jim Moran is a press agent who usually gets more publicity for himself than he does for his clients.

This has a certain paradoxical aspect, something like earning a living by taking in your own laundry. But Moran seems to have made it pay.

His more famous exploits include selling an icebox to an Eskimo, finding a needle in a haystack and sitting on an ostrich egg until it hatched.

Probably nobody can recall the clients in whose behalf he performed these services. But they made everyone remember Jim Moran.

At the moment, Moran is going around the country giving harem lessons. He is trying to get the harem movement started in this country, and he figures that American men are going to need a lot of instructions.

* * *

What he does is drape a hotel suite with Persian rugs, don the robes of an Arab prince and hire some pretty girls to loll around the premises posing as odalisques.

FINE POINTS

Then he invites newspapermen and other scholarly types to stop by for a lecture on the fine points of running a harem, which is not as easy as it looks.

Moran said it takes more executive ability to manage a harem than it does to operate General Motors. I can't recall all of the details, but the two points he stressed were:

(1) Stay cool, and (2) let the law of natural selection prevail.

* * *

Moran's lecture tour has some sort of vague tie-in with a movie called "John Goldfarb, Please Come Home." But we needn't go into that. Neither need we concern ourselves with how Moran came to be an authority on harem management.

FAMOUS AUTHOR

No one would be so impertinent as to demand credentials from the author of such works as "The Truth About Pig Tails" and "Never Pucker the Wattles of a Cassowary."

I did, however, ask Moran how he went about preparing himself for his present job.

"I fast and I contemplate," he said. "Between the two of them it keeps me at such a low physical ebb that I can get my work done."

* * *

I also asked Moran what happened to that ostrich he hatched.

"It is attending a posture school in Arizona," he said.

"The poor thing was starting to slump. It is very depressing to be around a slumping ostrich."

LOT OF CREDIT

"I imagine so," I said. "But you deserve a lot of credit for having fathered the ostrich in the first place."

"Well," he said modestly, "somebody has to do it."

Old Gunboat Yields Arms

VICKSBURG, Miss. (UPI) — A special committee planned to board the stern section of the Union gunboat Cairo in the Yazoo River near here today to remove artifacts that will be used in a museum.

* * *

The stern, final section of the old gunboat to be raised, was pulled into shallow water near the riverbank Saturday.

First aboard was a team of demolition experts from Ft. Polk, La., to remove live shells and cannonballs from the ironclad which sank after striking confederate mines in 1862.

The munitions are to be disarmed and returned to the Cairo Artifacts Committee for display in the museum to be established when the old boat is restored.

* * *

The committee has recovered hundreds of articles including sailors' personal gear, weapons, pictures and swords from two other sections raised earlier.

Shift Is Success for Mars Shot

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — America's Mariner-4 spacecraft sped toward Mars today on a new course that could send it closer than expected to the mysterious red planet.

A highly successful maneuver was triggered by scientists on earth Saturday while the windmill-shaped spacecraft was more than a million miles away.

It corrected Mariner's course and sharpened its aim for Mars to take the first close-up pictures of the Martian terrain with a high-powered television camera.

Scientists at Cal Tech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL), control center for the historic 325-million mile, 7½-month space journey, said the "midcourse maneuver" appeared so successful that Mariner might zoom as close as 4,400 miles to the Martian surface.

★ ★ ★

JPL previously had estimated the spacecraft would fly by Mars next July 14 at a distance of from 8,000 to 12,000 miles.

TOO FAR AWAY

Without the correction maneuver it would have made its fly by at a distance of 151,000 miles — too far to capture pictures and conduct other scientific experiments.

The maneuver was a scheduled part of Mariner's flight — to put the spacecraft on a new and truer trajectory for Mars. It was performed while the spacecraft — launched from Cape Kennedy Nov. 28 — was 7,267,613 miles from earth and traveling at a speed of 7,019 miles an hour.

Although exact results of the course correction maneuver will not be known for about five days, JPL scientists were highly optimistic because telemetry indicated it "went exactly as planned.

"We believe we will come close enough to Mars to accomplish our mission," said Dr. William Pickering, JPL director.

MARTIAN CANALS

Scientists hope that some 22 photographs sent back to earth by Mariner's telescopic camera will reveal the secret of the strange Martian "canals," which appear through telescopes as long straight lines.

Mariner's flight was not designed to determine whether some form of life exists on Mars.

A Russian spacecraft, Zond-2, launched two days after Mariner-4, was racing the U.S. probe to Mars.

But the Soviet craft was reported to have suffered a serious power loss and it was believed unlikely to succeed in accomplishing its mission.

Jagan Faces Ouster in Vote Today

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—Some 225,000 British Guianeans are voting today in an election expected to replace Marxist Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan's government with a shaky, middle-road coalition.

The contest is considered a turning point for the racially disturbed British colony on the northern coast of South America, which has been seeking independence.

The British have been afraid to free the colony while a Marxist holds power there. The United States is watching the outcome with concern.

Preelection surveys indicate that Jagan's Peoples Progressive party may win about 45 per cent of the popular vote.

★ ★ ★

Under a new proportional representation plan, however, if it does not win more than 50 per cent of the vote, Jagan will probably lose control of the assembly.

VOTE PERCENTAGE

Under the system, seven parties are vying for 53 assembly seats that will be allocated on the basis of the percentage of votes won.

In 1961, Jagan won only 43 per cent of the votes but his party got 57 per cent of the seats.

His chief rival, who is expected to forge the new coalition, is Forbes Burnham, 41, pro-Western Socialist leader of the People's National Congress.

MSU, U. of M., Wayne Ranked on Enrollment

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan State University, with 28,587 students, ranks ninth in fulltime enrollment among the nation's universities.

The University of Michigan, with 24,642, ranks 12th and Wayne State University, with 14,075 ranks 27th.

The figures released today are reported in School and Society, an educational journal.

In grand - total enrollment, MSU is 11th, the U. of M. is 14th and WSU is 18th.

* * *

The report is based on a survey of 1,111 accredited universities and four - year colleges, enrolling 2,090,638 full-time and 4,118,735 grand total.

1ST LISTING

Leading universities dropped one place in full-time and grand total enrollment due to the listing for the first time this year of the State College of California as a single unit.

Otherwise, MSU retained its previous relative standing.

The U. of M. retained its same relative standing in full-time enrollment, but dropped from 12th to 14th in grand-total enrollment.

* * *

WSU was 29th in full-time enrollment last year, moving up to 27th this year. In grand-total enrollment, WSU advanced from 22nd to 18th.

GRAND TOTALS

The grand-total enrollment at MSU is 36,102; at U. of M., 30,799; and at WSU, 25,200.

The California State Colleges were far in front in the ranking with a full-time enrollment of 92,220.

Finishing out the full-time enrollment top 12 in order were: University of California, 66,980; State University of New York, 60,569; City University of New York, 48,787; Minnesota, 38,403; Wisconsin, 33,912; Ohio State, 32,737; Illinois, 30,992; Michigan State, 28,587; Texas, 27,492; Indiana, 26,199; and Michigan, 24,642.

Legislator Hits Yuletide Stamp

'Not Symbolic of True Christmas Meaning'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Melvin R. Laird today criticized the 1964 yuletide postal stamp and urged issuance of Christmas stamps with a religious theme such as a Nativity scene — "not the commercialized symbol of a Christmas tree or Santa Claus."

In a letter to Postmaster Gen. John A. Gronouski, the Wisconsin Republican said many controversial issues have arisen in recent years over the principle of separation of church and state.

"There is one issue, however, over which there should be no controversy because it in no way concerns the separation of church and state," Laird wrote. "That issue is the annual issuance of Christmas stamps by the Post Office Department.

"Again this year the Post Office has issued a highly commercialized stamp which purports to convey the 'spirit' of Christmas but which in no way symbolizes the true meaning of Christmas."

NATIVITY SCENE

He has urged for years, Laird said, and in the past has introduced legislation calling on the Post Office Department to use the Nativity scene on its annual Christmas stamp.

The Post Office Department's special stamp committee, Laird said, turned down the Nativity scene for a Christmas stamp on the basis that it would commemorate a religious holiday.

* * *

"This argument has no relevance to this issue," he wrote. "Christmas is celebrated each year to honor the birthday of Jesus Christ. Even those who do not acknowledge Him as the son of God recognize that He was a great figure in history.

"A Christmas stamp commemorating His birthday should in some way convey that fact and not the commercialized symbol of a Christmas tree or Santa Claus."

SPIRITUAL LEADER

Christ is the spiritual leader of millions of Americans and of millions the world over, Laird said.

"If a national holiday were set aside to commemorate Buddha or John Calvin or Mohammed, one would expect and would have no objection to a commemorative stamp that appropriately symbolized that which is being commemorated," Laird said.

* * *

"If the Post Office Department is going to issue a Christmas stamp each year, then that stamp should be an appropriate one, such as the Nativity scene."

Safe Robbers Use Hostage Technique

REDONDO BEACH, Calif. (AP) — While one robber held the family captive at home, another forced the manager of a J. J. Newberry Co. store to open the store safe and turn over $15,000, police say.

* * *

John McPeak, 50, the manager, told officers the pair appeared Sunday night at his home in nearby Lynwood. One stayed with McPeak's wife Marie and daughter Susan, 12. The other took the manager to the Redondo Beach store in McPeak's car.

* * *

The store is closed on Sunday. McPeak said his kidnaper tied up the janitor. The kidnaper then forced him to open the safe, drove him home, and the two robbers fled in his car, McPeak said. The auto was found five blocks away.

CAJUN-STYLE PARTY — Louisiana Gov. John McKeithen danced with Pat Byrd of Baton Rouge last night when hundreds of Cajuns accepted the governor's "come to the mansion" invitation and staked a "fais do do," a Cajun-style party complete with a French-singing band and bowl of gumbo. Louisiana Cajuns are descendants of the French Acadians.

Louisiana Governor Throws Cajun Party

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Gov. John McKeithen gave a "fais do do" in the stately, million-dollar executive mansion and hundreds of Cajuns showed up for the shindig.

★ ★ ★

Students from Louisiana State University, legislators, a couple of millionaires and even Texas University football coach Darrell Royal joined in the festivities.

★ ★ ★

A "fais do do," for those who don't speak French, is a dance. But to the Louisiana Cajuns — descendents of the French Acadians immortalized by Longfellow's "Evangeline" — it also means a party.

McKeithen and his wife ordered all the furniture moved aside for the Saturday night affair. The rug was rolled up in the state living room.

RECENT TOUR

"Come down to the mansion," McKeithen said during a recent tour of the French-talking Cajun country of southwest Louisiana.

Four buses packed with Cajuns wheeled up to the mansion, a gleaming white building styled after old Southern plantation homes.

★ ★ ★

The visitors brought their own drinks and their own band.

The Cajun band — three men playing a fiddle, an accordion and a triangle — regaled the crowd with songs in French.

SPICY GUMBO

State Sen. Austin Fontenot of Opelousas — where McKeithen had issued the invitation — came to the governor's aid with 500 pounds of spicy gumbo, made from duck and guinea fowl.

★ ★ ★

The guests lined up to file through the kitchen, filling bowls with rice and the stew.

★ ★ ★

The party was under way when McKeithen returned from a football game. His team, the Louisiana State Tigers, had been upset 20-6 by Florida.

Mumbling "a disaster . . . terrible," McKeithen was upset at first. The singing and dancing soon brightened his spirits.

OIL MILLIONAIRE

Royal joined the party shortly afterwards, in company with Houston oil millionaire John Mecom.

The "fais do do" lasted until the wee hours.

★ ★ ★

To top off the evening, McKeithen's 11-year-old daughter, Melissa, entertained with a strictly non-Cajun dance popular with today's teen-agers — "the Bird."

Crash Injures 14 on Way to Church

GRAND HAVEN (UPI) — Fourteen persons bound for church were injured—four of them severely—yesterday morning when two cars collided in Allendale, Ottawa County.

All were treated in St. Mary's Hospital at Grand Rapids and 10 were released.

According to deputies, James Allen OverWeg, 16, of Allendale, whose car carried nine other persons, was attempting to pull out and restart an attempt to park and his car collided with another vehicle driven by Mrs. Donna Redder, 26, also of Allendale.

With Mrs. Redder were her children, Norman, 6, Stephen, 3 and Terry, five months old.

★ ★ ★

Besides OverWeg, his mother, Mrs. Connie OverWeg, and his sister, Linda, 13, and seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Papp were in his car.

Mrs. Redder and her sons, Stephen and Norman remained in the hospital for treatment, as did OverWeg.

A portable gasoline-powered generator can supply 115 volts DC or AC and also 12 volts DC for camping, boating, power tools or automobile starting.

FBI Official Raps Magazine for Hoover Article

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI has accused Newsweek magazine of "a new low in reporting" for an article in which the magazine said President Johnson had decided to replace J. Edgar Hoover as FBI chief — an allegation which the White House since has denied.

The criticism, along with an accusation that the magazine presented inaccurate statistics on the FBI, was in a letter sent by FBI Associate Director Clyde Tolson to Newsweek editor Osborn Elliott.

★ ★ ★

Reached Sunday night at his New York home, Elliott said the magazine stands by its story.

Among other things, the article in Newsweek's Dec. 7 issue, released in advance of its cover date, said Rep. John J. Rooney, D-N.Y., head of a House Appropriations subcommittee, was especially sympathetic to Hoover's requests for funds.

AGENTS ON LOAN

The article said five special FBI agents are on loan to Rooney to help with subcommittee work. Tolson's letter denied this.

At the time Tolson's letter was written on Nov. 30, the FBI declined to release the text. It said that was up to the magazine. A Newsweek spokesman said Sunday the magazine was not releasing nor printing the letter.

★ ★ ★

Here is the text of Tolson's letter released Sunday by the FBI:

"Dear Mr. Elliott:

"Your article in the December 7 issue of Newsweek, entitled 'J. Edgar Hoover and the F.B.I.', represents a new low in reporting.

★ ★ ★

"You said that President Johnson has become disenchanted with Mr. Hoover and has decided he must find a new director of the F.B.I. This statement was repudiated in its entirety by the President on Nov. 30. He stated, in effect, that it would be well for Newsweek to get in touch with the White House before making such statements.

★ ★ ★

"Your statement concerning F.B.I. statistics is inaccurate. You state 'other critics assert that the F.B.I. further falsifies the car theft statistics by raising the value of every car recovered. . . .' This is incorrect. We rely on the Standard Blue Book value or the opinions of recovering officers, reputable automobile dealers and the owner. Recovered cars are recorded in connection with cases investigated by the F.B.I. There has never been any claim that all of these cars were recovered by the F.B.I.

"You state 'Rooney has five F.B.I. agents on loan to him to help with the committee's work.' The fact is that Mr. Rooney has no special agents on loan to him for any purpose whatsoever.

"You further state that 'one reason may be that the F.B.I. Director . . . never bothered to send him — Robert Kennedy — a note of condolence on his brother's death.' The fact of the matter is that Mr Hoover wrote Mr. Kennedy on the date of the assassination of President Kennedy. A copy of his letter is attached.

"There are many other misstatements of fact in your article.

"very truly yours,

"Clyde Tolson"

The note from Hoover to Kennedy, released last week by the FBI, said:

"Words fail me when I try to tell you how grieved I am over the terrible tragedy of the death of the President. I am heartsick for your family in its loss of a beloved member, and heartsick for our nation which could so illafford to lose its leader

"Sincerely,

"Edgar"

Elliott said Sunday night he had sent a reply to Tolson on Saturday, saying the magazine still stands by its story.

Elliott added that the magazine will not go beyond a statement it made shortly after George Reedy, White House press secretary, denied that Hoover would be replaced.

Newsweek said at that time its source was a highly authoritative one within the White House.

Elliott said his letter concedes that Newsweek "seems to be" in error "concerning the letter that we understood was not sent to Robert Kennedy."

He said Kennedy's staff has "unearthed" the letter, after a search prompted by the controversy, but that Kennedy had not received it until after the search began.

Elliott said he told Tolson the Hoover story "represented perhaps a new high in the number of people we talked to, the number of crackpot critics of the FBI we ignored, the number of reporters and writers who worked on the story, and that we consider it to be a fair evaluation.'

Fashion World Digs Up List of Gifts for Dogs

NEW YORK (AP) — Don't tell Fido, but to keep up with the real top dogs this Christmas, he must have flannel pajamas, heated sleeping pad and a self-service biscuit dispenser.

That's the word from those in the know on the pooch fashion front.

★ ★ ★

For the dog of real distinction, these other items are being shown in the doggy departments of stores:

A striped Arabian tent, complete with mattress, where the dog tired-of-it-all can rest in privacy, $14.95 up.

SKI OUTFIT

A nylon ski jacket and cap, for the outdoor dog who likes to hear the whistle of the wind in his ears, a nifty outfit, $7.98.

Ear-muffs with attached tinkle-bell topped beret, for the indoor dog who still must go outdoors occasionally, $2.98.

★ ★ ★

For the lady dog who runs with the cafe society set, a velvet cocktail collar, in lavender and other shades, trimmed with roses and semiprecious stones, $2.98.

The pub-crawling gentleman dog hasn't been overlooked. He is offered a velvet collar, with white, formal, bow tie, $4.98.

COLOR SHAMPOO

Naturally, the evening dogs want to bring out the true high lights of their hair. Color shampoo is useful here at $2 a bottle.

For the dogs who have to play Santa Claus on Christmas Eve, like their masters, a Santa Claus suit, with beard, very stylish, $4.98.

★ ★ ★

Some discriminating dogs may want something better than the clothes shown on the racks. A made-to-measure mink coat at $65 may satisfy their quality tastes.

The dog biscuit dispenser, looking like a coin machine, is for the dog who likes to eat between meals. One paw push and a biscuit falls out, $6.95.

DOG PAJAMAS

Does a dog really need pajames at $2.49 to sleep in, one store official was asked.

"We sell quite a lot of pajamas," he replied. "When the heat dies down late at night a dog gets cold. He can't wrap up in a blanket like a human, you know."

Hijackers Take Truck With Load of Liquor

NEW YORK (AP) — Two gunmen stole a $70,000 cargo of liquor in a trailer parked in a Queens trucking terminal Sunday.

Brandishing a rifle and a shotgun, the pair locked two guards in one trailer and made off with a trailer loaded with 1,000 cases of liquor. The Trans-American Trucking Co. owned the vehicle.

Can Leave if Work Is Necessary

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Frequently I take work home with me from the office. Should guests happen to drop in unexpectedly while I'm working, would it be rude to leave them and go into another room in order to work, or must I stay and help entertain the guests?

This has been a bone of contention between my wife and me for some time and I would appreciate your settling it once and for all.

A: If it is work that has to be done, you may, without being rude, leave your your wife to entertain the unexpected visitors, explaining that you are very sorry but you have to finish some work that must be in the office in the morning.

Q: When giving a dinner party to which an equal number of men and women have been invited and one of the women guests has to beg out at the last minute because of illness, would it be proper to ask a woman friend to fill in and not ask her husband?

★ ★ ★

A: It would be most improper unless she and her husband are both very intimate friends of yours and you know that he wouldn't mind her dining out without him.

Q: My husband has been asked to be the godfather for the child of his friend. The baby was born a week ago and we were informed of its arrival.

The christening will not take place for two months. I would like to know, because of the length of time in between, if my husband should give his gift for the baby at this time, or wait until the christening?

★ ★ ★

A: As the baby's godfather, he should wait until the christening to give his gift.

Dear Abby

He Dealt Her a Bum Hand

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: While a senior at the university last year, I fell in love with another senior. We were married in July and I agreed to take a job on campus to help put my husband through graduate school.

ABBY

I became suspicious when I never saw him studying and he appeared so nonchalant about finals that I checked up on him. I found out that while I was working like a horse all day he was playing bridge.

Then I discovered that he wasn't even registered in the university!

He says he loves me and if I give him another chance he'll enroll next term and make it up to me, and give up bridge entirely until he's finished with school. What do you make of this and what should I do?

STUNNED

★ ★ ★

DEAR STUNNED: Let's just say your husband finessed your jack!

Give him another chance. But save your heart and lead with a club if he cheats again.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been very happily married for many years. I am his second wife. His first wife died and left him with three small children.

★ ★ ★

She had been gone a year when I met him. All the children are married now.

A few days ago his daughter's husband showed me a picture of a little girl and said she had been fathered by my husband while he was in the service in another country about 20 years ago. (He spent four years there.) I was shocked.

★ ★ ★

This son-in-law is planning to confront my husband with this in the presence of the entire family when we get together for the holidays.

My husband had a heart attack last year and I'm afraid he might suffer a setback. He is now 62 years old. What should I do?

★ ★ ★

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: First, tell your husband of the sadistic son-in-law's threat and assure him that, true or false, it means nothing to you.

Second, both of you tell the son-in-law that until and unless he surrenders the picture and drops the blackmail, there will be NO father at family gatherings where the son-in-law is present.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MRS. DAVID B. NILES

Guests Go to Home for Reception

Reception in the home of the Ralph R. Smiths on Riviera Street followed the marriage of their daughter, Sandra Joy, to David Barry Niles, Saturday, in All Saints Episcopal Church.

A pleated draped back trimmed with Venise lace highlighted the bride's slipper satin gown which swept into a chapel train.

The bouffant illusion veil fell from a pearl and crystal headpiece. Phalaenopsis orchids and Stephanotis comprised the bride's bouquet.

SISTERS ATTEND

Attending their sister as bridesmaids were Mrs. Jerry Choler and Mrs. James Boring, along with Hazel Shoemaker of Royal Oak.

Lois Carlson was maid of honor at the afternoon ceremony performed by Rev. C. George Widdifield.

Richardson Hickson was best man for the bridegroom, son of Mrs. John P. Niles of Voorheis Road and the late Mr. Niles.

Stephen Crocker, Larry Strain and James Boring were ushers.

Wool, Suede for Joe College

The Spanish fashion industry wants Joe College to switch out of the all-wool sweater and into one made of wool and suede.

What's suggested: a turtle-necked pull-over with a suede front. The turtle-neck zips up to any height — within limits of the sweater, of course.

MRS. ROBERT E. DOTY

Couple Goes North After Milford Rites

Off on a northern honeymoon are the Robert E. Dotys (Carole Jean Glynn) who spoke vows Saturday in the Milford Methodist Church.

Hosting a reception at the IOOF Hall in Clyde following the ceremony were the bride's parents the Charles L. Glynns of Grandview Boulevard, Highland Township.

Their daughter chose a gown and train of white peau de soie appliqued with baroque scrolls of pearl applique and worn with silk illusion veil.

She carried a cascade of white roses.

With Robin L. Reader, maid of honor were Mrs. Ernest Hoffman and Mrs. Jeffrey Motchenbacker, sisters of the bridal couple, who attended as bridesmaids, along with Karen Gaffney.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Orval McPherson of Clyde and Ellsworth Doty of Romeo, had Frank Lee of Brighton for best man.

Ushering at the evening rite performed by Rev. Howard Short were Ronald Glynn, Farmington, James Doty and Kip Reed, both of Clyde.

Picking Pups for Presents

Give a Christmas present that moves without being wound up, makes noise without assistance from batteries, and grows on you.

Put a pup or a kitten under the tree.

* * *

If you've decided that this is the Yuletide gift your children deserve you're probably reading the "pets for sale" ads with interest and bewilderment.

Where do you begin looking for the pet you want? How much should you pay? How can you tell if a puppy or kitten is healthy?

SOME SUGGESTIONS

To help you in your search for a four-footed present, here are some suggestions.

- Begin your search by asking friends who own pets or a veterinarian to recommend a kennel, pet shop or animal shelter.

* * *

Don't be afraid to ask questions, especially about prices.

Most people who sell pets are sincerely interested in finding good homes for them, so don't be surprised if they ask you a few questions, too.

USE SENSES

- When you visit places recommended to you, let your eyes and nose — as well as your heart — help make your decision.

Check to see if the animals are kept in clean pens. Notice if the feeding bowls contain fresh food and the water dishes look as if they are scrubbed often.

* * *

Observe how the owner handles his stock. A puppy or kitten that has been treated with tender, loving care will make an easy adjustment to your family and a new home.

- How can you judge a puppy or kitten's health? First, notice if it acts alert and friendly.

IS IT HEALTHY?

The shy one, the one with a sad "please take me home" look, may be sick. When you pick up a healthy baby animal, its body feels well-rounded and firm. Also check the eyes, ears, and nose to make sure there is no sign of a runny discharge. As you cuddle each one, run your fingers through the fur.

* * *

A well-cared-for pup or kitten has a thick, even glossy coat. Inspect teeth and gums, too. Pink gums and white teeth testify to good general health.

- Have the pet you select checked immediately by a veterinarian. Most reputable pet dealers will replace an animal if some defect is discovered within a day or two.

Overblouses in Fun Furs

In addition to parka, polo and great coat styles evident in most fun fur lines, a big innovation is the overblouse—in calfskin, mink gills and many other furs.

Some are zipped up the side of the front. Some are sleeveless. Many have matching fur headbands.

Newness!
No other Cadillac ever offered so much so new in a single year. Its styling and performance add exciting new dimensions to Cadillac distinction. Drive this car to discover its true greatness.
And when should you drive this greatest of all Cadillacs? As soon as you can! Never in history has a Cadillac delivered so much power so effortlessly or with such authority. Nor has any automatic transmission permitted such response with such smoothness. Then there is a new frame and a completely new suspension system that provide a sureness of cornering and a stability on rough roads that even veteran Cadillac owners find hard to believe. And there is such personal equipment as a new and exclusive steering wheel that both tilts and telescopes to fit your favorite driving position; and Comfort Control that maintains interior temperature season to season with a single setting. Want to know more? It has always been a fact that a Cadillac's greatness is best explained by the car itself. Drive one soon at your Cadillac dealer's!
So new! So right! So obviously Cadillac

It's Wise to Know Limits of One's Strength

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE — Last night our daughter, 15, broke down and told us that her best friend is pregnant. She was so upset by breaking the girl's secret to us that we agreed to do nothing about it. But this morning neither her father nor I think that is the right thing to do.

We know the girl's parents and think they should be informed. But Carol burst into tears when her father said this. What should we do? Tell them—or let them find out?

Answer — I don't know. All I can do is suggest that this terrified girl may want her parents informed.

In confiding her secret to Carol, I expect she may be preparing herself to share it with them. She does not know this, of course. Right now she dares not know she wants to tell them because the consequences of confession are still more terrifying than the pregnancy.

That is all I care to say in regard to your responsibility to the child of two other people.

But in regard to your own child, I have something to say. I am awfully glad that she was able to ask you, her parents, to share her shock and anxiety with her.

HELP DAUGHTER

If you are helpless to relieve the terrified confusions of Carol's friend, you are not helpless to do something about the confusions Carol herself is experiencing as the betrayer of that friend.

She needs to be reminded that, like yours and mine, her strength has its limits. She needs to be assured it is eminently sensible to know it when another person demands more strength of us that we possess.

She needs to see that it was not weakness but courage that enabled her to "break down" and recognize the point at which her friend's secret became too scary to bear alone.

* * *

If you can help her find respect for this "betrayal" of her friend instead of despising it, she'll be able to confess it to the friend.

And who knows where we might go from there?

It is just possible that Carol's admission of her limited strength is what is needed to encourage this other overburdened child to admit her limited strength — and, as Carol has done, take her parents into her confidence.

* * *

Carol's report of your kind and concerned response to her trouble may be the most important influence at this time.

Local Wedding a Family Affair

Almost every member of both families participated in the Saturday wedding of Karl Ann Haaseth to James Edward Cook.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kaare Haaseth of East Preda Drive, wore a floor length white velvet gown made by her mother. With it, she wore a floor length illusion veil secured by a crystal and pearl crown. Her bouquet was of white roses and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Robert Burgen of Walled Lake was matron of honor for her cousin. Randi and Margret Haaseth were bridesmaids for their sister. The bridegroom's sisters, Carolyn and Linda Cook, were also bridesmaids.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. Cook of South Roslyn Street chose his brother, Fred Jr., as his best man. His bride's brothers, Henry, Rolf and Olav Haaseth, helped escort guests. Gary Moran also served as an usher.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom's sister, Mary Cook, was flowergirl. Kenny Haaseth carried the ring for his sister and John Cook carried the ring for his brother.

The late afternoon ceremony, was held in the Christ Lutheran Church, was performed by Rev. Wayne E. Patterson. Rev. Robert Shelton of the First Baptist Church assisted.

How Children Fail—I

Fear, Boredom, Confusion in Our Schools

Most children in school fail.

For a great many, this failure is avowed and absolute. Close to 40 per cent of those who begin high school drop out before they finish. For college, the figure is one in three.

Many others fail in fact if not in name. They complete their schooling only because we have agreed to push them up through the grades and out of the schools, whether they know anything or not. There are many more such children than we think.

If we "raise our standards" much higher, as some would have us do, we will find out very soon just how many there are. Our classrooms will bulge with kids who can't pass the test to get into the next class.

* * *

But there is a more important sense in which almost all children fail: Except for a handful, who may or may not be good students, they fail to develop more than a tiny part of the tremendous capacity for learning, understanding and creating with which they were born and of which they made full use during the first two or three years of their lives.

REASONS

Why do they fail?

They fail because they are afraid, bored and confused.

They are afraid, above all else, of failing, of disappointing or displeasing the many anxious adults around them, whose limitless hopes and expectations for them hang over their heads like a cloud.

* * *

They are bored because the things they are given and told to do in school are so trivial, so dull and make such limited and narrow demands on the wide spectrum of their intelligence, capabilities and talents.

TORRENT OF WORDS

They are confused because most of the torrent of words that pours over them in school makes little or no sense.

It often flatly contradicts other things they have been told, and hardly ever has any relation to what they really know — to the rough model of reality that they carry around in their minds.

How does this mass failure take place? What really goes on in the classroom? What are these children who fail doing? What goes on in their heads? Why don't they make use of more of their capacity?

* * *

This book is the rough and partial record of a search for answers to these questions.

SERIES OF MEMOS

It began as a series of memos written in the evenings to my colleague and friend Bill Hull, whose fifth grade class I observed and taught during the day. These memos deal with four major topics:

- Strategy: The ways in which children try to meet — or dodge — the demands that adults make on them in school.
- Fear and Failure: the interaction in children of fear and failure and the effect of this on strategy and learning.
- Real Learning: the difference between what children appear to know or are expected to know and what they really know.
- How Schools Fail: the ways in which schools foster bad strategies, raise children's fears, produce learning which is usually fragementary, distorted and short-lived and generally fail to meet the real needs of children.

It must be made clear that the book is not about unusually bad schools or backward children. The schools in which the experiences described here took place are private schools of the highest standards and reputation.

Friends and colleagues tell me that the schools I have not seen are not a bit better than those I have and very often are worse.

(NOTE: If you would like to read all of "How Children Fail," consult your local bookseller or send $4.50 to Pitman Publishing Corp., 20 East 46 St., New York, N.Y. 10017.)

Rioters Due Discipline at U. of Florida

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Scores of male students faced disciplinary action at the University of Florida today for their part in a riot staged by 8,000 who were egged on by panty-waving coeds yesterday.

The students, celebrating Saturday night football and basketball victories by their school, set fire to bleachers, trees and cars early yesterday.

The demonstration got up full steam about midnight and lasted nearly two hours.

At least one student and two policemen were injured and officers closed all bars and parties, except for the annual policemen's ball in Gainesville.

Sixteen students were released from jail yesterday on $100 bond each. Although those were the only men arrested, university police inspector Gene Watson said 8,000 male students took part.

POLICE HAMPERED

Watson said campus police were hampered in putting a halt to things by coeds who stood in the windows of dormitories waving their panties, brassiers, slips and shouting at the boys to "come and get it."

Police withstood one massive assault on a women's dorm.

Dean of Men Frank T. Adams said the mob first gathered about 11 p.m. after the team defeated Stetson University of Deland, Fla., in basketball, 90-57, and the Florida Gator football team upset Louisiana State at Baton Rouge, 20-6.

The students started a bonfire on U.S. highway 441 in front of the administration building but moved in on an official bonfire rally on the university parade ground when police and firemen arrived with riot equipment.

CHOP UP BLEACHERS

The rally turned into a melee, with students chopping up bleachers and setting more bonfires, including one atop football coach Ray Graves' moveable coaching tower.

The burning tower was pushed down the "main drag" — University Avenue — and students set fires in trees and automobiles as they went.

4 Teen-Agers Killed in Wisconsin Crash

WEST DE PERE, Wis. (AP) — Four young persons were killed last night when a car left the road and struck a tree about seven miles south of this northeastern Wisconsin community.

The victims, all of rural West de Pere, were Laverne Janz, 17; Larry Schmitz, 18; Kathleen de Ruyter, 17, and her cousin, Susan de Ruyter, 18.

* * *

The Brown County sheriff's office said the car, apparently driven by Schmitz, was traveling east on a county highway when it went off the road on a straightaway.

The car careened into a ditch, came out of it and slammed into a tree. The car was ripped almost in half by the impact.

Rebel Threat Halted in Haiti

Duvalier Said Strong as Ever---for Now

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UPI) — President Francois Duvalier appears to have overcome the latest threats to his 7-year dictatorship. His power seems as strong as ever — at least for the moment.

Informed sources say the small bands of guerilla invaders who fought in the mountains for almost three months have been liquidated or forced to lie low.

The public execution here Nov. 12 of Marcel Numa and Lou's Droin, the two surviving members of a 13-man rebel group operating in southwestern Haiti, dramatically ended that threat.

About 60 rebels who had been operating in the southeastern mountains either retreated to the neighboring Dominican Republic several weeks ago or are in hiding.

The latest information indicates that the size of the rebel groups was exaggerated — and that rumors of landings were unfounded.

The southwestern guerrilla group, made up largely of young Roman Catholics and Socialists, is believed to have been formed in New York. The larger group in the southeast apparently set out from the Dominican Republic.

The possibility of new landings is not entirely discounted, but there is no evidence that any are imminent.

The sources said the periodic rumors of internal plotting and hints that Duvalier might be overthrown by his own henchmen appear to be wishful thinking.

Duvalier's army and militia, although said to be poorly armed and supplied, appear to have succeeded against the guerrillas.

The government is believed to be seeking to build up its armaments by buying planes, automatic weapons and ammunition to replenish stocks depleted in the antirebel campaign.

Economically, observers say, Haiti is near rock-bottom. But it is managing to scrape along with the sale of coffee and other export crops. The country is receiving very little U.S. aid, and business is generally stagnant.

Pope Paul Eying More Pilgrimages

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI is considering the possibility of making more trips abroad in his new role as a pilgrim for peace, high Vatican sources said today.

The 67-year-old pontiff returned to his desk today. He is just back from an unprecedented trip to India.

Informed sources at the Holy See said one likely place for a papal visit next year is the Philippines. The Pacific islands will mark the 400th anniversary of Roman Catholicism in 1965.

Another possibility is the Marian Congress in the West Indies in mid-March.

It was emphasized that the final decision for any trips rests with the Pope.

'DIFFICULT TO SAY'

Asked by newsmen on his return flight from Bombay Saturday about the prospects for other trips, the Pope said:

"It is difficult for me to say at this time."

The pontiff pointed out that the Indian trip resulted from an invitation extended by Valerian Cardinal Cracias of Bombay and involved attendance at the Eucharistic Congress.

* * *

"It is quite possible that Rufino Cardinal Santos of Manila may have extended a similar invitation for a visit to the Philippines next year," a Vatican source said today.

"But if so, that is a matter between him and the Pope, and it is up to the Holy Father to decide."

The pontiff has been making a point of visiting holy places or religious events rather than specific countries in order to forestall a flood of requests for papal visits.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped in Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world - famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

News From Around the World

New Kremlin Bosses Claim Guarantees Against Return of 1-Man Rule

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin's new rulers say they have set up "additional guarantees" against a revival of one-man rule in the Soviet Union.

An editorial in Pravda Sunday said the Communist party leaders' meeting that toppled former Premier Nikita Khrushchev in October also concerned itself with "the creation of additional guarantees against the excessive concentration of power in the hands of individual persons."

The Communist party paper did not say what these guarantees were, but it seemed to confirm reports of a secret party rule prohibiting one man from taking over both the top Communist party and government posts, as Khrushchev and Stalin did.

The editorial also strongly emphasized the need for giving more administrative independence to local government organs, trade unions, the Young Communist League, various cooperative organizations and intellectual groups.

LONDON (AP) — More than 600 Russian tourists hit town today on the maiden voyage of the Soviet cruise ship Ivan Franko. They are here for three days before heading to the Mediterranean sun.

★ ★ ★

The one-month cruise costs the equivalent of $450 to $650, Soviet officials said. The travelers live aboard the ship, which has a movie and two swimming pools.

After a reception given by the Soviet Embassy the tourists headed for the stores and the usual sightseeing attractions — Westminster Abbey, Big Ben and Buckingham Palace.

WEDNESBURY, England (AP) — Seven hundred workers today abandoned the cherished British tradition that everything stops for tea.

In place of their usual 10-minute tea break employes of the Joseph Hampton steel nut plant will get 2½ days extra vacation, bringing their total to 18½ days. Manager Edward Mormon said the idea came from the unions.

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Communist-led mobs rioted during the weekend in retaliation for Prime Minister Sirimavo Bandaranaike's defeat in parliament.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bandaranaike's coalition of her Freedom party and the Trotskyites was defeated Thursday by one vote when 14 members of the freedom party in Parliament defected. Mrs. Bandaranaike said she would dissolve Parliament.

8 Road Deaths Over Weekend

State Traffic Slight on Snow-Slick Highways

By The Associated Press

Only eight persons were killed in eight separate traffic accidents in Michigan over the weekend as many motorists apparently stayed home rather than brave snow-slick highways.

The Associated Press weekend fatality count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The victims included:

Ricky J. Griffin, 10, of Rochester, was killed Sunday when he ran in front of an auto on M59 in Oakland County.

Bernadine A. Rickel, 39, of Pontiac, was killed Sunday when the car in which she was riding collided head-on with another vehicle on M59 in Waterford Township of Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

Wilhelmina Link, 54, of Jackson, was fatally injured Saturday when the car in which she was riding hit an abandoned truck tire on U.S. 27 in Jackson County, careened out of control and was struck by another vehicle.

★ ★ ★

Vernon Mattson, 63, of Mount Clemens, was killed Saturday in a two-car crash on Metropolitan Beach Parkway two miles south of Mount Clemens.

KILLED ON BIKE

Walter Brazier, 57, of Coldwater, was killed Saturday when the bicycle he was riding collided with a car on a rural road four miles north of Coldwater.

Walter Petoskey, 11, of Allen Park, was killed Saturday in a two-car collision in Allen Park.

★ ★ ★

Bruce Ahern, 21, of Williamston, was killed Saturday when his car struck a bridge section on M43 near Williamston.

Floyd H. Dine, 74, of Marcellus, was killed Saturday when he drove his pickup truck into the path of a Grand Trunk Western freight train despite signal crossings, police said.

Dixie Youth Is Battling Hemophilia

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Doctors say 8-year-old Lewis Owens has a fighting chance for survival with at least 30 to 35 more blood transfusions.

Lewis, who lives in the Mississippi hamlet of Hot Coffee, is a hemophiliac — a sufferer of that rare condition notable among some branches of royalty where blood doesn't clot.

★ ★ ★

Two months ago, Lewis Owens, son of a Negro laborer, had an emergency appendectomy. Doctors say only 26 known hemophiliacs have undergone appendectomies. Five of them died.

★ ★ ★

Lewis is still in Baptist Hospital here. He has had 289 blood transfusions — enough to change all the blood in his body 40 times over.

MAY SURVIVE

"As long as we keep on giving him blood, it appears now he will be all right," one of his doctors said Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Hospital authorities now are finding it difficult to get blood for Lewis.

★ ★ ★

Local supplies have almost been exhausted. Members of the hospital staff have provided some blood for Lewis' transfusions.

The blood Lewis has received thus far is valued by hospital authorities at $3,500. His total hospital bill is more than $10,000.

BENEFITS GONE

Roscoe Owens, Lewis' father, says benefits from his small hospital insurance policy ran out long ago.

Lewis remains in good spirits at the hospital and has become the pet of the pediatrics ward.

★ ★ ★

He has six brothers and sisters back home in Hot Coffee. Three of them are also hemophiliacs.

Blocked Drain Costly

SHELTON, England (UPI) — A tennis ball which blocked a drain at St. Mark's Church here caused water to back up and rot the roof timbers. Damage was estimated at 70,000.

SANTA and the SINGING TURTLE

By LUCRECE BEALE

(SYNOPSIS — Prince Chad soon to be King of Razenpie sets out to visit Santa Claus. Acting King Kerchew orders his servant Womp to see to it the prince never returns so that he himself can remain king.)

Prince Chad rushed to his room. He hurriedly pulled on his boots and his big winter coat and his gloves.

★ ★ ★

He yanked open all the bureau drawers and looked under the bed and even on the chandelier where he sometimes tossed things, but he could not find his red woolen hat.

He was in a terrible hurry. He could hear King Kerchew sputtering and pounding the table in the dining room and shouting for Womp, his servant.

He knew Kerchew would order Womp to stop him from going to Santa Land.

★ ★ ★

The prince was afraid of the servant because he was one of those who knew that Womp was really a man-witch with magic powers.

ONE LAST LOOK

"I'll look just one last place," thought Chad. He climbed on a chair and peered over the closet shelf.

There, wrapped in tissue paper, was the gold and jeweled crown he would wear when he became king on Christmas Day.

He dragged the crown down and put it on his head. He looked at himself in the mirror.

He thought he looked a little strange wearing a crown with his big winter coat but it was better than nothing. Anyway, he thought, it would show Santa that he really was a king, or would be soon.

NOT A SOUND

He tiptoed out of his room and down the long stairs to the front door. He was out without a sound.

But Womp heard nevertheless. He wrapped himself in a big, black cloak and followed the boy out the door.

The prince had no idea how to get to Santa Land, but he was certain there was such a place for he had read about it often enough in his books.

He knew Santa would understand his problem and help him to have a Christmas party for all the people of Razenpie on the day he became king.

STARED AT HIM

He went up to an old woman who was staggering under a load of firewood she carried on her back. "Please," said Chad. "Could you tell me the way to Santa Land? I am off to see Santa Claus."

The old woman stared at him. She was amazed at the crown he wore and even more amazed at his question.

"King Kerchew has forbidden all mention of that name in this kingdom," she quavered. "Are you a spy from the palace sent to trap me?"

★ ★ ★

"I am Frederick Chadwick Anthony Matthew Christopher John, soon to be King of Razenpie, and I am on my way to Santa Land. But I must hurry, for time is short and I do not know the way."

DARE NOT HELP

"Oh, Sire," quavered the old woman, not knowing what to believe and scared to death she would lose her head. "I can't help you. I dare not. You must not ask your question of anyone in Razenpie." She shut her eyes and bent again under her load.

The prince sighed and started away.

He had not gone three steps when he felt the old woman's hand on his arm. "The north road," she whispered. "I'd take the north road if I were you."

★ ★ ★

"Thank you," cried Chad. But the old woman was gone.

WAVED AT HER

He waved after her and straightening his crown, set out on the north road.

Womp, the man-witch, like an unseen shadow, trailed behind.

The north road was a long road, and 10 hours later the end was not yet in sight though the prince was sure he had passed far beyond the Kingdom of Razenpie.

★ ★ ★

He lay down by the side of the road to rest.

He wished he had brought something to eat, but it didn't matter too much because he was so tired he was soon fast asleep.

He slept until dawn and would have slept on and on, but he was awakened by a song.

He sat up and rubbed his eyes and looked around. No one was in sight but the song was everywhere and the voice that sang was the sweetest he had ever heard.

"Where are you? Who are you?" he cried jumping up.

The song stopped. The prince peered up at the trees and into the bushes and down the road. "Whoever you are," he begged, "please don't stop."

"And whoever are you?" snapped a voice at his feet.

Looking down, the astonished prince saw a turtle poking his head from behind a rock.

"I - I heard singing," stammered the prince.

"You heard me," said the creature. "I am George, the Singing Turtle, and I was practicing my scales when you so rudely interrupted."

Two Russia Teens' Visit With U.S. Family Thaws Cold War

By ROBERT HOLTON

MERRICK, N.Y. (AP) — Two Russian and three American youngsters clasped hands across the threshold of an American home the other day and the Cold War, for the moment, melted.

The pair of Moscow teen-agers and my three eldest children conducted in our home last Tuesday what probably was the first small-fry East-West summit conference in history.

The experiment was a smashing success.

Timothy Holton, 7, and Yuri Popv, 14, agreed to exchange back yard fort-building plans.

YOUTHFUL FADS

Peg Holton, 6, and Irena Tolstikova, 13, pledged to keep each other abreast of youthful fads in their respective countries.

And Jane Holton, 3, fell in love with Yuri.

* * *

"Mommy," she said after the 10-hour visit ended. "I love Yuri. He's so handsome and he's so kind."

Irena and Peg hit it off beautifully from the moment they met until they kissed goodby.

NEVER FORGET

"I have enjoyed myself in your home, Peggy, only I wish I had enough time to teach you to say 'I like you very much' in Russian," Irena said. "We must see each other again. I promise I will never forget you and our visit here."

The two Russian youngsters spent the day in our suburban home during a two-week stay in the United States as guests of the American Broadcasting Co. during which they were filmed in a taped television program for showing next month.

* * *

The junior goodwill delegates wore slacks and skirts, carried their credentials in their hearts and conducted discussions on the living room floor or across a toy-littered playroom table.

"It has been a wonderful experience to come into your home and see how you live," Yuri said. "I enjoyed it very much. I particularly liked the pretzels and the strawberry shortcake. Those I never had before."

LOTS OF FUN

Irena, who spent a good portion of her time flitting about the house in quest of pigtails to pull, said she found our home 'warm, pretty and full of lots of fun and laughing."

Yuri and Irena began their visit with a one-hour commuter train trip from their Manhattan hotel to the suburbs. The day's activities included a tour of a junior high school where they stood in line to have their trays filled in the cafeteria, a quick trip to a supermarket, a peek into a pet shop with carpeting on the floor and a visit to a large toy store.

* * *

In the midst of all the fun there were a few tense moments brought about by highly undiplomatic utterances of the Holton children.

"Is Mr. Khrushchev really still alive or did they kill him?" Timothy asked at the dinner table.

NICE APARTMENT

"He is living in a nice apartment in Moscow," Yuri replied without a hint of annoyance. "He was just too old and too sick to rule. So he resigned."

There was another awkward moment at the dinner table when the children began to recite a prayer .The two Russian children and their chaperone, Miss Zena Evgrosvi, just looked on.

* * *

This puzzled Timothy, so he asked, "Why don't you pray? Don't you think there's a God?"

His mother quickly turned the conversation to another subject.

IN FISH BOWb

At the junior high school, Yuri seemed ill at ease with the children and gave the impression that he felt as though he were living in a fish bowl.

Once in our home, however, he became relaxed and laughed a lot and talked without prodding. Irena was outgoing from the start.

* * *

One of the articles in our early American home that most attracted the two visitors was a large Boston rocker that tilted its occupant far back when it was rocked.

"We have these in the homes in the country but in the city where I live we never see them," Yuri said. "They are a lot of fun to rock in."

The electric refrigerator, automatic washer and drier and the deep freeze appeared to hold little interest for Yuri and Irena.

Yuri was the more inquisitive of the two, asking such questions as how much American journalists earn, why they don't live in a city apartment, how much a compact car cost and why American children don't go to school six days a week as they do in Russia.

* * *

It was on a walking tour of the village that Jane probably began to take a deep liking for Yuri. She had tripped and stubbed her toe and began to cry.

Yuri lifted her into his arms and in Russian whispered soft words of comfort. Soon she stopped crying.

'JUST CHILDREN'

"Just like my little sister," Yuri explained. "You know children are children, no matter where they live."

After dinner, Irena insisted on helping to clear the table while Yuri joined the menfolk watching the day's news on television.

When a picture of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk came onto the screen, Yuri's eyes lighted up.

* * *

"Look how friendly they are," he said. "It was your dead President Kennedy who brought that friendliness. He is the most liked American among Russian children."

CLOSE OUT DAY

To close out the day, the two visitors were taken to a toy store to select a gift to take back with them. Yuri chose an Indian bow and arrow set. Irena selected a painting set.

"I like cowboy and Indian movies," Yuri said. "So I will take this back with me."

* * *

In return, each of the children was given a small medal commemorating a Soviet space venture.

As their two guests drove away in a car toward their Manhattan hotel Jane turned to her mother and said with tears in her eyes:

"Pray that they come back again Mommy. I love Yuri."

Tito Hits China Policies

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Tito accused the Chinese Communists today of trying to dominate the world Communist movement.

Opening the Yugoslav Communist party's eighth congress, its first in six years, he also praised Nikita Khrushchev. Among the 1,700 delegates were representatives of the Soviet party and most other Communist parties around the world.

* * *

However, no one was present from Communist China or Albania, Peking's European ally. They have long viewed Tito and his party as traitors to Marxism.

Tito told the congress:

"If we analyze the actions of the Communist party of China over the past years, we must reach the conclusion that it has deliberately and purposefully striven to transfer the center of the international workers movement to China and to achieve a dominant influence on world politics regardless of the means it may have to use to attain this aim."

He denounced Peking for "Cold War foreign policies" and for being "non-Marxist," "non-Leninist" and "destructive."

* * *

He rejected Chinese claims that their dispute with Moscow is an ideological disagreement. He called it a struggle for domination of the Communist movement in which China wants to be "a leading country and party."

* * *

"The Chinese do not deny that," he said. "They only deny the Communist party of the Soviet Union the right and ability to perform such a role. They claim this right for themselves."

Turning to the change of command in Moscow, Tito said Khrushchev had made mistakes but "he played a great role in regard to destalinization and also had great merits in safeguarding world peace."

* * *

He did not mention Khrushchev's successors by name but said Yugoslavia "will continue to strive most actively for close cooperation with the Soviet Union and other Socialist countries."

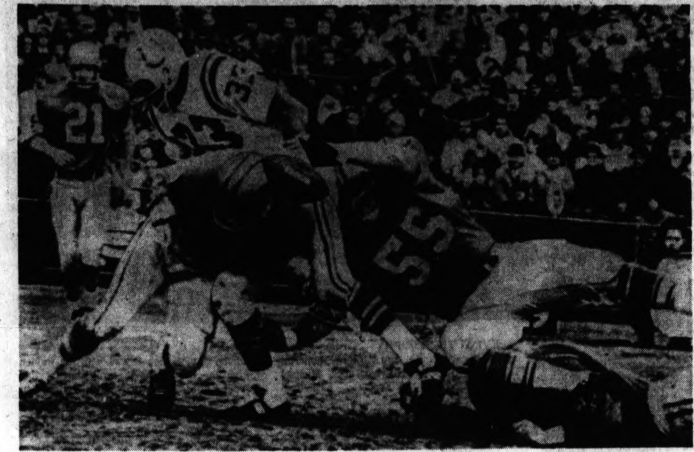
Finally! Baltimore Upset Victim as Lions Overcome Frustration



SOMETHING'S GONE AMISS — Baltimore Colt fullback Tony Lorick (33) bulls his way to the Detroit three-yard-line Sunday before being stopped by Lions' Wayne Walker (55) and Yale Lary. But Lorick has lost possession of football (arrow). However, teammate John Mackey recovered to set up first Colt touchdown in 31-14 beating that ended 11-game Baltimore winning streak. Lions' Bruce Maher (21) also is visible in play.

Wings Rebound Against Montreal

DETROIT (UPI) — "It was a moral victory for us," Sid Abel beamed.

The general manager-coach of the Detroit Red Wings had just seen his club whip the Montreal Canadiens, 4-1, before 13,259 patrons at Olympia Stadium.

What's so moralizing about that, you may ask?

Nothing, except 24 hours before the Wings had been shot down in Toronto by a whopping 10-2 margin.

"It was one of those games where nothing went right for us and everything went right for the Maple Leafs," Abel explained.

"That's why tonight's game was so important. We had to prove to ourselves that the game in Toronto was just a big mistake — one of those once-a-season deals.

★ ★ ★

"Had we lost to Montreal we might have started thinking negatively. Once you start that you start a losing streak that's almost impossible to stop."

Rookie goalie Roger Crozier, who stopped 36 shots in Toronto, made 32 saves against the Canadiens and had a shutout until with nine minutes to play the Detroit defense collapsed and allowed Ralph Backstrom to score unmolested.

★ ★ ★

The natural question seemed to be, "How could you give up 10 goals one night and one the next?"

"I'm not sure," Crozier answered. "I didn't see half of those scores in Toronto, so I don't know how they did it.

"But tonight we had a better defensive effort. Remember, I'm not a one-man show out there. It's a team effort'.'

The victory upped Detroit's league lead over Toronto and Montreal to three points. The Wings, who are idle until Saturday when they'll host Chicago, have 28 points.

★ ★ ★

Both clubs played as if the outcome meant first place — which it did. Bruce MacGregor and Paul Henderson scored first period goals in the first period, during which referee Art Skov handed out eight penalties.

MacGregor scored his ninth goal, and first in nine games, mid-way through the period when he beat goalie Charlie Hodge with a 20-footer. Five minutes later Henderson notched his first score of the season when he poked a rebound into the net.

★ ★ ★

Alex Delvecchio added the third score unassisted when he backhanded a 25-footer past Hodge with the third period only 64 seconds old.

Eight minutes later Pit Martin slapped in a rebound for the fourth marker.

While there was no scoring in the middle period, it was the most exciting for the partisans.

With 64 seconds to play a 10-man fight erupted that featured a real slug-fest between 39-year-old Ted Lindsay of Detroit and Montreal defenseman Ted Harris, who weighed in at 6-foot-2 and 175 pounds.

Detroit Wins, 31-14, to End 11-Game String

Milt Plum Sparkles on Offense; Defense Limits John Unitas

BALTIMORE (AP)—The 1964 National Football League season will leave at least bitter-sweet memories with the Detroit Lions, partly because they avenged themselves mightily over the Western Conference champion Baltimore Colts.

The Lions smashed the Colts in the Colts' own backyard Sunday, 31-14, adding some flavor to a season of frustration as quarterback Milt Plum threw three touchdown passes and scored a fourth Detroit touchdown himself.

★ ★ ★

For one of the few times in all of his pro career the Lions also prevented the Colts' Johnny Unitas from throwing a touchdown pass of his own.

The victory, besides avenging Baltimore's 34-0 shellacking of Detroit at Detroit earlier in the season, also preserved the Lions' outside chance of finishing as runner-up in the Western Conference.

FINAL GAME

Detroit closes the season against the San Francisco 49ers at Detroit next Sunday. The Lions are 7-5-1 in the race as compared with second-place Green Bay's 8-5-0.

The Lions, who stopped Baltimore's 11-game winning streak, raced to a 10-0 lead in the first two times they had the ball at the start of the game.

Except for a brief second quarter rally in which the Colts went 65 yards for a score and a freakish second Colt touchdown, the Lions were in command all the way.

★ ★ ★

Under other circumstances, the Lions' victory would have rated as a huge upset. However, the Colts already had the conference title tucked away and had no need to press while the Lions were in a spot of everything to win and little to lose.

Plum engineered a 64-yard drive for the first touchdown in the first period, passing six yards to Jim Gibbons for the score. He passed seven yards to Gibbons for the second touchdown in the second period after another 64-yard drive.

Between the two scores Wayne Walker kicked a 42-yard field goal for Detroit and the Colts drove 65 yards for a score, Jerry Hill going over from the three after Baltimore recovered its own fumble at that point.

With the Lions leading 17-7, the Colts threatened at the start of the second half. Jimmy Orr fumbled int othe Detroit end zone on a 55-yard pass play from Unitas and Lenny Moore recovered for a touchdown.

In view of the fumble Unitas did not get credit for a touchdown pass.

★ ★ ★

The Lions retaliated with a 45-yard touchdown drive after recovering a Colt fumble. Plum went over on a one-yard sneaker. The Lions collected their final touchdown on Plum's 17-yard pass to Terry Barr. Beforehand, Bill Quinlan intercepted a Unitas pass on the Colt 30.

Cardinals Must Get Title Help of Giants

By The Associated Press

It wasn't so very long ago that the St. Louis Cardinals were vitally concerned with what went on in Yankee Stadium in New York and it will be that way again next Saturday.

This time it's the National Football League's Eastern Division title going up for grabs and the Cardinals will be the football variety instead of baseball.

★ ★ ★

The Cleveland Browns had a chance to wrap up the Eastern title Sunday but lost to St. Louis 28-19 allowing the Cards to creep within a half-game of the lead. Cleveland visits New York Saturday and the Giants, struggling through a dismal season after three straight Eastern crowns, once again are a vital factor in the Eastern race.

Should the Browns win Saturday, Sunday's game between the Philadelphia Eagles and St. Louis won't mean a thing. But a Giant victory could give the Cards the crown if St. Louis gets by the Eagles the following day.

NINTH LOSS

The Giants lost their ninth in 13 games Sunday, bowing to Minnesota 30-21. In other games, Detroit ended Baltimore's 11-game winning streak 31-14, Pittsburgh topped Washington 14-7, Philadelphia downed Dallas 24-14, and San Francisco defeated Los Angeles 28-7. Saturday it was Green Bay 17, Chicago 3.

Charley Johnson keyed the Cardinal triumph, pitching two touchdown passes and running short yardage for two more scores as St. Louis stalled Cleveland's title drive. Johnson completed 15 of 22 for 167 yards.

★ ★ ★

Lou Groza kept the Browns in the game, booting four field goals to match his output in Cleveland's first game against the Cards which ended in a 33-33 tie.

The Giants, who handed St. Louis one of its losses and held the Cards to a tie in their other game, showed signs of life against Minnesota. Clarance Childs raced 100 yards returning a kickoff for a TD and Gary Wood handled the New York offense adequately.

BIG KICK

But scrambling Fran Tarkenton tossed two TD passes and Fred Cox kicked three field goals as the Vikings came from behind to win it.

Pittsburgh scored the winning touchdown midway in the final period and then halted a last minute Washington drive for its victory. Ed Brown's 47-yard pass to Gary Ballman produced the deciding points.

★ ★ ★

Rookie Jack Concannon, a $50,000 draft choice last winter, made his first start for Philadelphia after watching 12 games from the bench and sparked the Eagles' victory over Dallas. Concannon completed 10 of 20 passes including two TDs and also carried the ball eight times for 99 yards.

John Brodie threw a pair of TD passes and an aggressive San Francisco defense stalled Los Angeles as the 49ers reversed an early season loss.

Boston Wins, Ties for Lead

By The Associated Press

The Boston Patriots, who have been chasing the Buffalo Bills all season, finally caught the American Football League Eastern Division leaders Sunday, but they needed some help from the Oakland Raiders to do it.

★ ★ ★

The Patriots were in the dressing room with a 31-24 victory over Kansas City, engineered by two fourth quarter touchdowns, when Oakland's Tom Flores flipped a three-yard TD pass to Art Powell in the last four seconds giving the Raiders a 16-13 come from behind victory over the Bills.

★ ★ ★

That left Buffalo with a 10-2 mark, tied with Boston 10-2-1 for the Eastern Division lead.

The Bills play at Denver next Sunday but regardless of the outcome, the Eastern title won't be settled until the following week in Boston when the Pats host Buffalo in the final game of the regular season.

★ ★ ★

In Sunday's only other AFL game, San Diego won the Western crown, ripping New York 38-3.

Eight Tilts Listed on Practice Slate

Eight games are on the week's city adult recreation basketball schedule. All are practice games prior to the start of championship play next month.

Men interested in playing should contact teams at one of the practice games.

★ ★ ★

The recreation department has announced that there will be open practice at Lincoln JHS 7-9 p.m. Mondays and Tuesdays for boys 16-18 interested in participating in the junior cage program.

To date not enough teams have indicated interest to warrant formation of a league; but such a program is still possible for January and February.

PLUM PICKER? — Gino Marchetti (89), Baltimore defensive end, tries to latch onto Detroit quarterback Milt Plum, but the Lions' signal caller evades Gino and scampers for a first down. Plum tossed three touchdown passes and scored once in leading the Lions to a upset of the Colts.

Nicklaus Rallies for Canada Cup Win

KAANAPALI, Maui, Hawaii, (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus stole a page from teammate Arnold Palmer's book of golfing comebacks in winning the individual trophy in the Canada Cup matches for the second straight year.

Trailing Palmer by six strokes at the start of Sunday's final round at the sun-drenched Royal Kaanapali links, Nicklaus fired a two-under-par 70 for a 72 hole total of 276, two strokes ahead of his friendly rival, who soared to a 78.

The Yanks combined total of 554, a record for the event, earned their country the cup for the fifth straight year.

But it was Nicklaus stirring comeback and Palmer's rare collapse through the stretch that gave the gallery of 7,386 at this resort course 75 miles southeast of Honolulu something to remember.

Nicklaus pulled even with his friendly rival on the 11th hole, blew a three - stroke lead when he bogied the 15th and 16th, then walked off with the silver International Trophy after Palmer three-putting the 17th and 18th greens.

Palmer, noted throughout his career as a strong finisher, simply wilted in the tropical heat while Nicklaus seemed to relish it.

Big Jack shot the front nine in 33 to Palmer's 38 to cut Arnie's lead to one stroke. Gary Player of South Africa joined the Yanks in a three-way tie for the lead at the 12th hole but then knocked himself out of contention with bogeys on the next four holes.

In the team race, South Africa skidded to third place when Player's partner, Denis Hutchinson, took a 77 to raise his team's total to 568, three strokes more than Argentina.

The Argentines gained the runnerup spot as Leopoldo Ruiz shot a closing 71 and Robert De Vincenzo added a 73.

Spain was fourth at 572 and was followed by England 578, Hawaii 579, Canada 584, Japan 585, Brazil 587, Belgium 588, China 590 and Wales 591.

Bump Guest of Honor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, coach of Michigan's Rose Bowl-bound football team, will be the guest of honor next Thursday night at the annual sports dinner of the University of Michigan Club of New York.

HOCKEY DUEL — Detroit Red Wings' center Alex Delvecchio (10) duels with Montreal Canadiens' goalie Charlie Hodge for the puck in first period action last night at Olympia Stadium. Delvecchio won the duel but failed to score when the puck hit the goal post. At left is Canadiens' J. C. Tremblay. Wings' Parker MacDonald is in background. Detroit won, 4-1.

Mikemen, Rams in 'Trophy' Series

A new reward will be at stake when St. Michael and St. Frederick square off tonight at Madison Junior High School in their first meeting of the season on the basketball court.

The award is a new Jim Brown Memorial Trophy which will be retired by the first school to win three games in the series.

★ ★ ★

Only the first meeting each season is used in determining who takes the trophy. St. Frederick retired the old trophy last year with a 65-59 win in the first meeting between the two. The victory followed wins in 1960-61 and 1961-62.

"We want it kind of bad," said St. Michael coach Jim Niebauer, referring to the trophy.

Chances are that Niebauer and the Shamrocks will get it — at least this year.

The Mikemen have won three in a row and rate as one of the favorites in the Northwest Parochial League race.

On the other hand, St. Frederick's Rams have dropped two out of three and looked a little shaky in dropping a 60-27 decision to Royal Oak St. Mary Friday night.

ANOTHER NIGHT

"It was just one of those nights," moaned coach Eugene Wright. "The kids didn't do anything right. I'm glad it was Friday instead of tonight."

Lack of a big man under the basket has hurt the Rams. They have one in Mike Dean, but he was injured late in the football season and will not be back in action until after Christmas.

Filling in while Dean is absent is junior Mark Brasch, who is almost a shorty on the basketball court at 6-1.

Along with Brasch, Wright is expected to have Larry Walter, Ralph Landry, Mike Murphy and John Carry in the lineup.

Murphy, a 5-6 senior guard, leads the team in scoring with an average of 13 points a game in three outings.

★ ★ ★

The Mikemen will have sophomore Bill French (6-4) under the basket and Rick Lavoie (6-3) and Gary Lamphere (6-2) at forwards. Holding down the guard slots will be Mike Backes (5-8) and sophomore Greg Glynn (5-7).

Lavoie has been the big point producer on the squad. In three games he has poured in 53 markers for a 17.6 average.

The Mikemen lost starting guard Tom Patch last week when he suffered a broken nose in an automobile accident and Niebauer said he wouldn't be back until after the St. Fred game.

Backes took over Patch's post. "He's filled in real well," said Neibauer. Against Farmington OLS Friday, Backes led the scored with 15 points.

Game time for tonight's tilt is 6:30 for the reserve action and 8 p. m. for the varsity.

EYING THE TROPHY — Casting admiring glances at the Jim Brown Memorial Trophy are Rick Lavoie (left) of St. Michael and Mike Dean of St. Frederick, basketball team captains at their respective schools. St. Frederick and St. Michael meet tonight at Madison Junior High School with the winner taking the trophy. Lavoie will start at forward for the Mikemen. Dean, injured late in the football season, is not expected to be back until after Christmas.

Highland Park Five Invades PNH Court

Highland Park has been a magic name in high school basketball for many seasons.

This week the magic becomes "mystery" as Pontiac Northern braces for the Parkers invasion Tuesday night.

"We don't know a thing about Highland Park," complained PNH mentor Dick Hall. "Last Friday we were supposed to scout them against Monroe, but the game was postponed because of the weather."

The game will be Highland Park's first of the season and the second for the Huskies.

One advantage in Northern's favor is that the Huskies will be playing at home instead of in the notorious Highland Park "band box" with its everhanging balconies, bleachers and screaming fans.

"At last report, we haven't recieved a roster," said Hall. "We don't know how tall or experienced they are, but I understand from people who have seen them practice say Highland Park is very good."

FLAT TEAM

The Huskies, who lost their opener to Flint Southwestern last week, have "been flat" in practice, according to the coach.

"The way we practiced Saturday morning, we couldn't beat anybody," Hall commented.

He feels, however, that the players have reached the point where they would "rather play a game" than sit out a Friday night and practice the next day.

Highland Park may be ready to return to the prep basketball heights. The Parkers at one time filled the Pontiac Central gym to overflowing and for several seasons were among the state's Class A powers.

★ ★ ★

Then came a financial crises in the school system and one season curtailment in the sport.

The Parkers are now starting the climb back to the basketball heights.

★ ★ ★

The Huskies hope to keep them from getting started in Pontiac.

Captains Play Milford Quint

Arch-Rival Fenton on Holly's Schedule

The basketball season could take on a dreary look for Waterford Kettering or Milford after tomorrow night.

The two teams square off at Milford after suffering opening game "shocks" last Friday. The Redskins were upset at Clarkston and Kettering lost a game to North Farmington that it apparently had won.

The loser of the Milford-Kettering contest may find the going much rougher for the remainder of the season.

Another top game on tomorrow's schedule sends Holly against arch-rival Fenton on the Tiger's court. Fenton is being rated one of the top Class B teams in the state.

Two games are scheduled in the Northwest Catholic League.

Orchard Lake St. Mary will be hoping to increase its hold on first place when the Eaglets host Royal Oak St. Mary. Farmington OLS entertains Waterford OLL in the other contest.

AAU President Bids for Peace With NCAA

HOUSTON (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union's new president hopes the AAU and the National Collegiate Athletic Association can soon iron out their differences for the good of amateur athletics in the United States.

★ ★ ★

Clifford H. Buck said after election Sunday there should be a way for "fair-minded men of good faith, dedicated to amateur athletics, to unite in a common cause."

The cause, he said, is "giving the best possible service we can to amateur athletics of this country — to the youth."

However, the AAU gave no indication at the closing session of its annual meeting of softening on its argument with the NCAA over sanctioning of open track and field events.

Fence-Busting Oliva Puts Name on Record

BOSTON (UPI)—Outfielder Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins has it officially on record today that in 1964 he was the greatest fence-busting rookie in major league history.

The lithe, 24-year-old native of Pinar Del Rio, Cuba, became the majors' first rookie batting champion when he led the American League with a .323 average and also set rookie marks in hits and total bases.

3 Bowlerama Events Still Have Weekend

One last big weekend of qualifying in three divisions remains for the 1964 Pontiac Bowlerama, and then all those who survive the cuts will go into the tournament finals the weekend of Jan. 19-20 at 300 Bowl.

Singles handicap qualifying continued at Airway, Huron, Montcalm, 300 Bowl and Howe's and these same five houses will end the qualifying next weekend, after which the top 10 per cent or better will go into the finals.

Some of the past weekend's scoring in singles handicap and in team competition will be announced Tuesday after the score sheets have been checked.

In doubles competition at 300 Bowl and Howe's, the team of Dick Viles and Max Evans roll up 1354 to take top honors. Viles had 627 actual and Evans a 661 actual at 300 Bowl.

Two other doubles series over 1300 were posted by Don Lawson and Bill Nichols (1319) and Paul Ochoa and Endell Stevens (1314).

At Howe's the top pair was Harry Lafnear and Don Haynes with a 1336 total.

★ ★ ★

Bowlers are reminded that they can enter any or all of the three divisions right up to post time next Saturday and Sunday and squad times can be obtained by calling or submitting entries at the respective houses.

Team events are being held at Lakewood and North Hill. It should also be noted that last week, the Actual's event was canceled out because of lack of interest, and there will be no qualifying in this event. Bowlers who have submitted entries in actual's will be refunded their entry or they can bowl in another event.

GRAND RAPIDS — The Pontiac Nationals put on their finest display of the North American Basketball League season Saturday night and had nothing but a frustrating loss as their reward.

The locker room for the Nationals after their 128-122 defeat at the hands of the Grand Rapids Trackers steamed with dejection.

★ ★ ★

The primary object of their scorn was the fouls which time and again had the crowd of slightly more than 2,000 in an uproar.

Following Willie Merriweather's foul shot which tied the score at 108 with about eight minutes to play, the home team rolled up points from the charity stripe.

BAD START

Numerous defensive lapses by the Nationals and aggressive offensive rebounding — coupled with the fine fast break of Grand Rapids — led to the home team's finest quarter of the season. It led, 39-27, after the first 12 minutes.

★ ★ ★

With 2:42 of 3rd period to go, a basket and foul shot by Charley North put Pontiac up, 94-93. Grand Rapids regained the lead, 100-98, as the quarter ended.

After North and Dick Dzik departed on personals and this severely restricted the Nationals' attack.

★ ★ ★

Muskegon's upset of Benton Harbor, 129-113, Saturday kept Pontiac in good position in the race, despite its third loss in five games. The Nationals remain in third place, two games off the pace of the Tackers (3-1) and Benton Harbor (3-1).

Strohs' Unit Paces Bowling Tourney

DETROIT (AP) — Strohs Beer of Detroit, pounding out a final three-game score of 3,180, led six qualifiers Sunday night into finals of the National Men's Team Bowling Championships of the Bowling Proprietors Association of America.

Strohs, with all but one man rolling 600 or more and Mike Samardzija contributing the high of 676, compiled a pinfall of 12,412 for the 12 games of qualifications. In Sunday's first three games Stroh totaled 3,117.

Two days of match game rolling start Monday among the six qualifying teams in the drive for $6,630 in prize money.

Jenny Five of Rochester, N.Y., was runner-up to Stroh with 12,136. Jenny Five rolled 2,991 in its final three games.

Tulsa Passer Wins College Offense Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Rhome, Tulsa's second team All-America, broke 16 major college football records this season en route to winning individual titles in total offense and passing by big margins.

Final figures released today by the NCAA Service Bureau show that the Tulsa senior quarterback gained 3,128 yards rushing and passing for a margin of 902 yards over runner-up John Torok of Arizona State. In passing, Rhome completed 224 aerials, 39 more than second place Craig Morton of California and compiled 2,870 yards through the air.

Here are Rhome's major college records:

U-M, State Cagers Victors

By The Associated Press

Michigan's pre-holidays college basketball season is going along already in high style.

Top-ranked Michigan's 86-79 rallying victory over fifth-ranked Duke and Michigan State's 89-80 conquest of scrappy Western Michigan spiced the weekend show.

★ ★ ★

The defending Big Ten champion Wolverines lost a 13-point lead but broke away from a 69-69 tie to beat out Duke in the last five minutes of their game at Durham, N.C. Cazzie Russell led Michigan with 21 points.

MSU's Spartans, with Stan Washington scoring 26 points, had to step lively in handling Western Michigan at Kalamazoo. MSU's lead dwindled to 76-75 lead during the last four minutes.

Off to a fast start and a 10-0 lead in four minutes, the University of Detroit trimmed Christian Brothers 92-72 with all five Titan starters scoring in double figures. Lou Hyatt led with 23 points.

★ ★ ★

Wayne State and Eastern Michigan won their second straight games in the President's Athletic Conference. Wayne State defeated Case Tech 92-62 and Eastern won from Western Reserve 90-79 with Rod Marlatt scoring 23 points.

★ ★ ★

Albion, after dissipating a 36-28 halftime lead, rallied to win from Kalamazoo for the first time in five years 74-69 in the MIAA opener for both teams. With five minutes to play, Albion overcame a 64-61 Kalamazoo lead. Tom Nicolai of Kalamazoo topped the individual scoring with 25 points.

★ ★ ★

Wichita, paced by All-America Dave Stallworth's 37-points, swamped Long Beach State 114-78 — setting a school scoring record — in its season opener Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

Second-ranked UCLA rebounded from an opening loss at Illinois and riddled Indiana State 112-76; sixth-ranked Vanderbilt trimmed Southern Methodist 99-67; San Francisco, No. 9, clubbed Stanford 77-50 and St. John's, N.Y., eased by Temple 60-50.

MORE UPSETS

But St. Joseph's of Philadelphia upended fourth-ranked Davidson 77-64 while Penn State stunned Syracuse, No. 7, 81-59 and Kansas State, No. 8, bowed to Indiana 74-70.

Missouri won its second straight, topping Arkansas 81-71 after trailing by four points at halftime.

Midwest Aids Homecoming

Midwestern Baptist Seminary of Pontiac helped make it a happy homecoming Saturday afternoon for Baptist Bible College of Grand Rapids.

The Falcons were 98-79 victims in their Michigan Christian College Athletic Association meeting in the Furniture City.

Despite Ralph Wingate's game high of 29 points, Midwestern fell behind early and never was close after trailing, 50-40, at halftime.

Midwestern's Larry Thompson hit 17 and Eddie Odom 13, but Baptist Bible had four players in double figures led by Paul Grewe with 26. The winners hit 35 field goals at a 46 per cent clip while Midwestern had a cold 29 of 81 for 35 per cent.

Midwestern, the defending league champion, is now 0-3.

Hope to Finish Baker Probe

'Party Girl' Issue May Keep Case Alive

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Rules Committee hopes to wind up its second Bobby Baker investigation this week—but the tantalizing "party girl" issue may keep the case alive right into the new Congress.

Only three witnesses remain on the list to be called when public hearings resume tomorrow: Lobbyist Wayne Bromley, a former Senate employe, and two officials of the Federal Housing Agency, Robert Berman and C. Franklin Daniels.

But the Justice Department has decided to permit the committee to inspect its files on Mrs. Ellen Rometsch, a German beauty who is the "mystery woman" of the case. Her name pops up frequently in speculation as to how Baker operated.

Lennox P. McLendon, the committee's chief counsel, said yesterday that he would make "a wild guess" that the Baker hearings would wind up in three days.

* * *

The committee has not yet reached a decision on whether to go into the accusation that "party girls" played a big part in the award of government contracts and influencing legislation.

ANOTHER PHASE

In another phase of the case, it was expected that the committee would turn over to the Justice Department the major investigation into the field of illegal corporate gifts to political campaigns.

The department already is looking into some testimony about political contributions.

A federal grand jury, empaneled in early October to investigate Baker's affairs, also is expected to investigate the same field.

* * *

The Senate committee has received statements — not yet brought out publicly during its Baker hearings — about alleged forced contributions to political causes by officials of major companies.

UNDECIDED

The committee has not yet decided whether to broaden its inquiry into this field.

Sen John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., a committee member, said he hoped the Baker investigation might be carried on into the new Congress in January for "a real donnybrook."

* * *

The committee wrapped up one investigation last July into how Baker allegedly parlayed his $19,600 salary as secretary to Senate Democrats into a $2 million fortune.

Try to Hold Defense Under $50 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says he hopes to keep the defense budget next year to slightly below $50 billion.

After checking over budget figures for two hours at the White House with President Johnson on Saturday, McNamara said recent economies in the Defense Department will permit a substantial cut in new spending authority requested for the fiscal year which begins next July 1.

He said the most recent estimate of spending for the present year is $49.8 billion and the new budget should be close to that.

He said the department doesn't build the defense budget toward a predetermined level. "The primary objective is national security," he said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The population of the world in mid-1964 was an estimated 3,283,000,000 and it is growing at the rate of about 65 million a year. In 1980 it is expected to hit 4.3 billion.

The figures were compiled primarily from United Nations estimates. They were released by the Population Reference Bureau to point out the long-range problems posed by the global population increase.

One of the points brought out showed that the least developed areas of the world have the greatest share of the present population: 56 per cent in Asia, 16 per cent in Latin America and Africa, and only 28 per cent in Europe, Northern America, the Soviet Union and Oceania.

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 2,000 graduate and undergraduate students will undertake intensive training in 34 rarely taught modern languages next summer.

The Office of Education in announcing this today said an allocation of some $525,000 has been made under language development provisions of the National Defense Education Act. Sixteen institutions will participate and contribute funds that will at least match the federal grants.

The programs scheduled for qualified students include four in East Asian languages, four in Slavic and East European, three in Latin America, two each in Middle Eastern, South Asian, and African languages, and one in Southeast Asia. There is also a joint Indo-Iranian program.

Accutron is not a watch.

But it will always give you the precise time of day.

All the parts that make a watch fast or slow—the mainspring, hairspring, balance wheel—have been left out of Accutron. The Accutron movement is electronic. It keeps virtually perfect time by the vibrations of a tiny tuning fork powered by a battery. And comes with the first guarantee of accuracy ever given. No watch has ever been so precise. So don't even call it a watch. Accutron is the world's only electronic wrist timepiece. It's worth the time to you to look into it.

Law Allowing Dropouts Needs Change

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Should a child be permitted to leave school when he has reached aged 16, or any other age?

DR. NASON

Or should the law be changed to keep him in school until he has attained a specified level of education?

Our reply is is a big "yes" to the second question. We feel that age alone is an unsatisfactory measure of when a child should be released from school. Under a competence plan, the education of dropouts not only would be upgraded, but it would give them something to work toward during their last months in school.

Too often, the answer to, "How are you getting along in school?" too often is, "I'm just waiting until I'm 16 to get out."

Referred to by teachers as "sitters," these children have given up trying to master school work and, as long as they cause no disturbance in their classes, are allowed to quietly await the magic day when they become 16.

* * *

Being 16 does not prepare a boy or girl to make the change from school life to the work world. This is brought out forcibly in a new booklet, "The Tragic Migration," by Robert D. Strom, associate professor at Ohio State University and former associate director of the National Education Association's dropout project.

REQUIRE TRAINING

Strom points out that almost all sectors of the economy now reuire extensive training for work positions. He says, "In New York City, there are 54,000 white-collar jobs unfilled for lack of qualified applicants, while 77,000 unemployed out-of-school youth are unable to find work.

Chicago, where 285,000 persons are on public assistance, over half of whom cannot read at the eight - grade level. The monthly relief allocation granted these people is in excess of 16 million dollars."

Strom advocates that more attention be given to the individual learner and that the growth of an individual be measured in relation to his previous position rather than by comparison with others.

* * *

He suggests that one out of every five children in the United States is a slow learner, and that individual achievement should be based on personal rather than group progress.

As long as a child has not sufficiently mastered the art of reading and writing, his major activity in school should of the grade level or age he has attained.

The requirement that a child learn to read and write at reasonable levels of proficiency is very little to ask in return for all the money the taxpayers have spent on his education.

Such a regulation would force pupils, parents and school people to face up to the problem, squarely and realistically.

The Italians added 13 International Match Points to their lead on the first hand of the second session when Avarelli contracted for a grand slam while our North-South pair stopped at six in the World Bridge Olympiad.

The Italian bidding is shown in the box and here is the official analysis of the operation of their "Roman Club" system with these cards.

"In the Roman system the one heart opening is forcing and one spade is the negative response. Normally this negative response denies nine high card points, but possibly North downgraded his hand because of the singleton king of diamonds.

"South's two no-trump rebid showed a big hand (officially 21-24 high card points) with every suit guarded. The next two bids were natural. Four no-trump was Roman Blackwood, five diamonds showed one ace or all four. Six diamonds showed one king.

"Six spades appears to have been a waiting bid. If so, the six no-trump response can show nothing extra, so the final bid of seven hearts appears to have been a complete gamble as to which black king South would hold."

I want to go a trifle further than the official analysis and point out that North's six spade call was a nothing bid. He intended to get to seven when he bid six spades and might better have saved one round of bidding. And, of course, seven was a complete gamble. South had to have the king of clubs in order to have any play for it, but South came through with that key card.

♥♠ CARD Sense ♦♣

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	Dble.	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ 6 5 3 ♥ 8 4 2 ♦ 9 4 3 ♣ 8 7 5 2
What do you do?

A—Bid two clubs. You would like to hand your cards to someone else, but you are stuck with them. Do not pass! Your partner has asked you to bid.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Again your partner has doubled one spade. This time you hold:
♠ Q 8 7 6 4 ♥ 3 2 ♦ Q 7 5 4 ♣ 6 4
What do you do?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Tuesday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Communicate with friends. Get point of view across. Take pains to be sure your message is clear. Many are interested. But it is up to you to capitalize on that interest.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Pride in job well done is highlighted. Be sure positive and insistent upon QUALITY. Your efforts will be appreciated. Loved ones are proud if you adhere to principles. Act accordingly!

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): If you are too specific, you could miss major points. Means go after BASIC issues. Be analytical, frank. Sincere attitude gains much. Beating about the bush results in loss of confidence.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): Harsh remarks are no excuse for excess concern. Be mature. Realize loved ones often speak without thinking. Be considerate. Set fine example. Then you are wise and attract happiness.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22): You are able to perceive needs of public. Act on intuitive knowledge. Advisors are well-meaning. But today . . . heed your own counsel. Own judgment is most accurate!

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): If you insist on going in improved direction . . . you will learn from experience. But if you are wise — you can avoid pitfalls. Use logic, reason — careful planning. Try to open mind and heart.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Unusual suggestions apt to have merit. Know this and respond accordingly. You can discover previously obscure truth today. May involve family member. Refuse to cast first stone.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Be determined to break through maze of confusion. Emphasize clarity. You can get at truth if you INSIST. Key to constructive day is sincerity, courage of convictions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Be aware of basic issues. Combine practicality with "sense of vision." But also know that possibility of PROFITABLE EXPANSION exists. Your intuition rings bell!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): Issues prove workable. Profit results from past efforts. Day to carry through on plans. One who expressed skepticism . . . now admits you have valid point. Be appreciative!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18): By using WILL POWER you can gain objective. Cycle high. Circumstances are turning in your favor. Hold onto ideals. Others learn to see your point of view.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20): Don't confuse yourself concerning finances. Pull in reins. Be aware of promises, budget and resolutions. Face facts as they exist. Today can mark favorable turning point.

IF TUESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you are capable of overcoming odds, of succeeding where others have failed. You are an individual in true and best sense. Know this — act with GREATER CONFIDENCE.

* * *

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for AQUARIUS, PISCES, ARIES. Special word to LIBRA: Open heart to opportunity for ROMANCE.

Mart Makes Rebound

Blue Chips Pace Stock Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market made a substantial rebound today with trading active early this afternoon.

Blue chips paced a continued recovery from the selling of early last week.

* * *

High-quality issues rose from fractions to 1 or 2 points. Du Pont made an advance exceeding 4 points, lending a lot of beef to market averages.

Favored issues put on a strong performance but the general picture was one of fractional changes.

NUDGE HIGHER

The utilities and rails nudged higher on balance. The trend was generally better among electronics, chemicals, airlines, electrical equipments, mail order-retails, electronics and nonferrous metals.

A mixed pattern prevailed among steels, tobaccos and motors.

* * *

Improved economic news over the weekend and a technical recovery from last week's losses were cited as factors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.6 at 326.3 with industrials up 3.7, rails up .1 and utilities up .2.

Prices advanced in moderately active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Anelex and Horn & Hardart Baking gained 1 while Pyle National and Savoy Industries rose more than a point each. Fractional gainers included Firth Sterling, Ogden Corp., Goldfield, Elco, Heinicke and Ogden Corp. Carnation also added more than a point and Data-Control Systems rose 2. Louisiana Land, New Park Mining and Massey-Ferguson were fractional losers.

* * *

Corporate bonds were mixed in light trading. U.S. Government bonds rose slightly, with trading dull.

Florida Racial Law Is Illegal

Court Fails to Touch on Mixed Marriages

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court struck down as unconstitutional today a Florida law making it a crime for a man and woman of different races to live together.

The court, however, did not touch on the broader question of laws barring racially mixed marriages which are on the books of Florida and number of other states.

The unanimous decision limited itself to declaring that the Florida statute prohibiting a mixed couple to "habitually . . . occupy in the nighttime the same room" violated the equal protection of the law guarantee in the Constitution.

In another action, the court agreed to hear a challenge to Connecticut's 85-year-old birth control law which forbids use of contraceptive devices. The court will hear arguments in the case and hand down an opinion later this session.

* * *

The court also:

— Agreed to review the conviction of Texas financier Billie Sol Estes on a charge he swindled a Pecos, Tex., farmer. Estes, facing an eight-year prison sentence on the charge, complained that he was unable to obtain a fair trial because the court proceedings were televised.

RED PROPAGANDA

— Accepted for argument and later decision a case challenging a 1962 law restricting mail delivery of Communist propaganda from abroad. The appeal was brought by Corliss Lamont of New York. A special three-judge court dismissed his complaint earlier this year. Subsequently, a Los Angeles court declared the law unconstitutional.

— Refused to accept a case in which the Justice Department claimed that the acceptance of federal grants for the education of military and other government dependents requires school desegregation.

— Declined to hear an appeal from seven states based on an argument that inherent differences between Negroes and whites might justify school segregation.

Area Man Injured in Rear-End Crash

An early Sunday evening auto accident sent a Commerce Township man to Pontiac General Hospital with possible internal injuries.

Listed in satisfactory condition is Raymond Messer, 26, 149 Osburn.

* * *

Deputies said Messer was driving a car which struck a vehicle driven by Emanuel S. Lunsford, 42, of 6155 Carroll Lake Road, Commerce Township, in the rear.

The accident occurred at Wise and Carroll Lake Road in Commerce Township. Lunsford was not hurt.

The Washington monument, 550 feet high, has 898 steps to its peak.

To Await Developments

Business Holding Line

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — A holding action is in force along much of the business front.

Talk of a steel price increase has been stilled by President Johnson's voiced disapproval.

The same method has called a halt at least for a time to any general and formal rise in the cost of bank loans to business.

DAWSON

An expensive truce in an international monetary crisis has been achieved by a $3-billion fund to bolster the British pound sterling.

* * *

None of the problems involved has been erased. The moments of decision have been postponed. And the stock market and corporate board rooms are watching what may develop during the waiting periods.

Holding actions of various sorts also are characterizing other business problems just new: the wage pattern that steel-workers may establish on the heels of auto workers' gains; the U.S. payments deficit in international finance that still can cloud the dollar's outlook; the future of American trade after the Common Market decides what to do about tariffs; how big a bite Britain's new 15 per cent import tax will take out of the volume of products Americans ship there.

SOME CLUES

President Johnson's talks with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, starting in Washington today, may give some clues.

But businessmen won't be surprised if most of the problems, foreign and domestic, aren't still kept in the deep freeze to be heated up later for definite decisions after letting time work what miracles it can.

* * *

Few feel that the holding action on either steel wages or steel prices can be effective for long. Still ahead lies what seems a sure conflict between government guidelines of what is best for the public interest and what the union will demand and what the companies will do about the squeeze they foresee on profit margins.

* * *

The matter of interest rates also is postponed rather than solved. The delaying action was based both on the President's plea to hold down borrowing costs lest the current business expansion be chilled and on the Federal Reserve's action as well as assurance that plenty of lendable funds would be made available.

MUST PAY MORE

The banks must pay more for money they borrow from the Federal Reserve, and some are paying more for money deposited in savings accounts. But with plenty of lendable funds, competition tends to hold down lending charges. And the President's urging to avoid the risk of upsetting the current and projected economic growth has wide popular appeal the banks can't ignore.

* * *

When, and if, the jitters over Britain's financial troubles subside and the course of the American economy becomes clearer with the presentation to the Congress of the new federal budget, businessmen and bankers can decide better what to do about the problems they are shelving at the moment. And they can guess better, too, what courses will be accepted and succeed.

Home in City Swept by Fire

Fire swept through the first floor of a home at 391 N. Perry yesterday afternoon, causing $4,000 damage.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac firemen fought the blaze for one hour and 45 minutes.

Firemen reported that the fire apparently started in the bathroom, but have not as yet determined the cause.

Firefighter Joseph McCurry, 38, 652 Parkwood, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for facial cuts he sustained while fighting the fire.

French Silent on Atom Test

Won't Tell if Device Exploded Last Month

PARIS (AP) — French Defense Ministry officials refused today to confirm or deny a report that France had exploded an atomic device underground at the Sahara testing ground last month.

There was general belief that such an experiment was made as part of France's development of nuclear weapons.

"I can neither confirm nor deny that a test was made," said one defense official. "Our policy is to maintain silence in these matters."

Other sources indicated that an underground test was made late in November. There was no indication what type of device was exploded.

KEPT SILENT

The French government has recently kept silent about testing in the Algerian Sahara, especially because Algeria and other African nations oppose such tests. Under an agreement with Algeria in the articles of Algerian independence, France has the right to use its testing ground at the Reggane Oasis until mid-1967.

France has already developed a 50-kiloton atomic bomb to be delivered by her supersonic Mirage IV jets. There is speculation that the government now is developing a missile warhead and is close to testing its first ballistic missile.

The French also are planning their first hydrogen bomb tests in the Pacific next year.

Area Youth Breaks Neck Tobogganing

A 17-year-old Clawson youth is in serious condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a broken neck following a sledding accident Saturday night.

James Haglund of 341 Charlevoix, and about 18 other friends were tobogganing on Waterford Hill when the mishap occurred, deputies said.

Frank Luxton, 17, of 716 Nahma, Clawson, told sheriff's deputies that Haglund went down the hill alone about 9 p.m.

No one saw him again until 10 p.m. when the group prepared to leave, the youth said.

Luxton said the sledders noticed one toboggan was missing and while searching found Haglund. The youth was unconscious under the toboggan.

Runaway Film Trend in Reverse

Movie Set Has Limey Flavor

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — There's a bit of old blighty in the nearby Conejo Valley these days.

Listen to the accents on the "King Rat" set and you might think you're in Piccadilly, that's how bloomin' British it is. The movie is kind of reverse runaway, being made by a British producer, director - writer and cast, with the exception of New Yorker George Segal as the rat himself.

THOMAS

★ ★ ★

The Columbia film is shooting near Thousand Oaks on a ranch owned by the Hawaiian Steamship Co. There studio craftsmen have constructed an amazing replica of Singapore's Changi Prison, where during the war 10,000 Allied prisoners were housed by the Japanese in facilities originally intended for 600.

It's quite a set. The permanent prison towers with harsh reality over clusters of thatched huts designed to house the overflow of prisoners. On the hillsides are scatterings of rootless palms and other portable plants to simulate the tropical foliage. The grass-shy California slopes also got a coat of green paint to add to the effect. Total cost of the set: $375,000.

IMPORTED ACTORS

Fourteen English actors were imported for top roles, and they were augmented by members of the local British colony. Extras were a problem. They had to be skinny, if not emaciated, and the Screen Extras Guild couldn't supply the hundreds that were needed. Casting agents enlisted others from state unemployment offices.

Producing "King Rat" is James Woolf — "Room at the Top". The director is former actor Bryan Forbes, who scored success last year with his direction of "The L-Shaped Room." He also wrote the "King Rat" script from the James Clavell novel.

DISCOVER RADIO

One day after lunch he was directing Tom Courtenay, James Fox, John Mills and others in a scene in which Japanese guards discover a radio in one of the barracks.

★ ★ ★

Forbes paused to explain why the film was being made in California: "Because it would be impossible to make in England. Even in the summer there would be no assurance of good weather and we could run into another 'Cleopatra' type of disaster.

★ ★ ★

"Yes, we could have shot it in Singapore, but that would have meant transporting a complete cast and crew and finding a thousand Caucasians for prison inmates. And although the prison is still standing, we couldn't shoot outside of it without filming a forest of television aerials."

★ ★ ★

Forbes reported he was proceeding apace, thanks to the friendly California weather. During a couple of rainstorms, he was able to shift indoors at the Columbia lot. The film was a mere day behind schedule, unusual for one of such size.

★ ★ ★

I asked George Segal, who plays the scrounging Yank prisoner, how he was faring amid the Limey crowd.

"Fine," he replied. "Just a little trouble with my pronunciation. I may be saying 'shedyule'—British for schedule — for quite a while."

Motorist Keeps Going

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Police today were looking for a motorist who wasn't fazed a bit over the weekend when his 1957 Chevrolet overturned twice on the Long Beach Freeway.

Witnesses told police the auto flipped end-over-end twice, landing on its wheels. The apparently unperturbed driver just drove off minus his windshield and window glass.

Neighbors Want Ringo to Move Out

LONDON (AP) — Ringo Starr, the Beatle drummer who lost his tonsils last week, may also lose his home.

His neighbors have petitioned his landlord to move him out of his $125-a-week apartment in Westminster. His teen-age fans are driving them crazy.

"Ringo's tonsil operation has given us our first peace for months," said Lathom Gedge, a neighbor.

"Teen-age girls scream and shriek all day long," said his wife. "They get hysterical, fight and kick each other and chase every car that arrives in case Ringo is inside."

"It's a drag," said Ringo, due out of University College Hospital on Thursday.

"I wish I could do something about it —but I can't control the fans."

Ringo was reported coming along well despite a slight cold. His voice retains its Liverpudlian croak.

Crash of Jet Fighter Is Fatal to State Pilot

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Capt. John R. Mitchell of Ypsilanti, Mich., died Sunday when he unsuccessfully ejected from his F84 Air National Guard jet and it crashed 10 miles north of Las Vegas, the Air Force reported.

Mitchell, 30, was on a routine training flight from the Alameda Naval Air Station, near San Francisco, to Tinker Air Force Base, Okla.

Actress Is Cut on Head

PARIS (AP) — An arc lamp toppled onto actress Romy Scheider during the shooting of "What's New, Pussycat?" cutting her head and temporarily stunning her, a spokesman for the film company reported today.

Miss Schneider was sent home for a few days. The spokesman said someone tripped over the cable of the lamp during a chase scene. Co-star Peter O'Toole lifted the actress away as the lamp blew out in a shower of sparks.

Goulet Wears an Admirer While Bowing to Others

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Robert Goulet was singing his love songs in Palm Beach when a smitten woman demonstrated her fondness in an unusual manner . . . she leaped on his back and shoulders, and locked her arms around him.

Lyn Duddy and Jerry Bresler, who "wrote Goulet's act," as they say, hadn't supplied Bob with any patter for such an enthusiast.

"How would you like to take a bow with a woman around your neck?" says Duddy.

"That's what Bod did. He smiled, took his bow, and walked off with the woman still hanging on. He did just the right thing."

Goulet, whose women fans usually go no further than throwing their room keys at him, or screaming "I want you," had a big, successful engagement at the Plaza Persian Room — and Lyn Duddy and Jerry Bresler were usually ringsiding because some people think they're the Rodgers and Hammerstein of the Saloon Circuit and of course they're inclined to agree.

WILSON

They carry a lot of weight — and so do some of their stars, for example, Sophie Tucker, Kate Smith and Totie Fields.

★ ★ ★

They're also writers and arrangers for Van Johnson, Gordon and Sheila MacRae and Jane Morgan. Goulet's success helped them leap to national attention, however.

"Sophie Tucker likes numbers kidding herself — especially her weight," they'll tell you.

Sophie'll therefore be "the first woman astronaut" in her next act.

"I ought to know something about space — I've taken up an awful lot of it in the last 76 years," she says. "And I've flown many, many times — once in a plane."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "I didn't hear my marriage ceremony too well," admits Ray Rieves of Norfolk. "—my bride talked right through it."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Marriages may be made in heaven, but man is responsible for the maintenance work." — Anon.

EARL'S PEARLS: A man never tells his wife a secret — he just thinks he does.

Hermione Gingold was asked about the fad of gals wearing ostrich tail feathers. "Poor birds," she said. "Soon they'll have to hide more than their heads in the sand." . . . That's earl, brother.

All-Night Talks on Bendix Pact

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for Bendix Corp. and the United Auto Workers stayed in 'round-the-clock talks today in an effort to reach a strike-averting agreement.

The negotiations went into the owl hours in a race against a 10 a.m. strike deadline for Bendix' 12,000 workers in midwest plants.

Previously, the UAW and two other auto parts manufacturers, the Eaton Manufacturing Co. and Dana Corp., had reached three-year agreements under strike deadlines.

UNION ACCORD

Dana, with 6,000 workers, and the union came to an agreement Sunday night. The agreement pends ratification by Dana UAW locals.

Together, Bendix, Eaton and Dana employ nearly 25,000 men in the manufacture of automobile parts. They are vital suppliers to the car industry.

Some 5.2 per cent of the Gross National Product last year was spent on medical care.

Emerging World Is Treating U.S. as Favorite Whipping Boy

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Bloodthirsty gangsters. Hideous imperialism. Despicable murderers.

The words, intended to describe Americans, echo through Africa and Asia, testimony to the degree of U.S. success in winning love and gratitude — let alone respect — from leaders of the so-called emerging world.

News Analysis

* * *

Representatives of governments which have accepted American aid and with which the United States maintains diplomatic relations join a chorus of vilification. Primarily, it is led by Red China, with a background obligato from Moscow.

Regimented students, turning out under the banner of a government-operated "youth organization," tear down the American flag in the capital of Indonesia, a nation which long has accepted U.S. aid.

'HIDEOUS IMPERIALISM'

The governmnt-controlled press in the United Arab Republic excoriates U.S. policy as "hideous imperialism," after a mob burns and pillages the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library in Cairo, shouting prefabricated slogans. The U.A.R. government long has accepted U.S. aid.

In Dar es Salaam, the official newspaper of the Tanganyika African National Union tells its readers that free grain and milk from America are part of a plot "to subvert the Tanzanian government" and a demonstration of "the imperialists' hypocrisy."

* * *

Few voices defend Americans. There are some, like Nigeria's, but these are lost in the swelling chorus of denunciation.

The chorus has risen in volume since the United States was involved in the operation to rescue whites from rebels in the Congo. People in countries whose press is controlled hear nothing about the other side of the story: atrocities against hostages, savage rallying cries from rebel leaders calling for indiscriminate slaughter of innocents.

JUST AN EPISODE

Indeed, the rescue operation was just an episode. Many leaders of "emerging nations" long had made the American their favorite whipping boy. Among these leaders there seems a realization that the Congo is a rich prize where strong influence would be of inestimable value to an ambitious politician.

The dictator of Ghana, Kwame Nkrumah — whose representative now is president of the United Nations General Assembly — consistently has sought expulsion of Americans from the African continent. He finds little fault with the Communists. He wants an "African solution' for Africa, but he also appears to want an "African unity" based on the leadership of Nkrumah.

* * *

Nkrumah called the rescue operation a "flagrant act of aggression against Africa and should serve as a warning to the continent that imperialism is flexing its muscles and that the ex-colonialists and neocolonialists will return in force to Africa whenever they deem it to be in their interest."

This, however, was Nkrumah's tone long before the rescue operation. He wants, he says, to protect Africa from "the barbarisms of crude colonialism."

VIOLENT SLOGANS

Adoption of violent slogans of Chinese communism is parrot-like.

The ambassador of the Brazzaville Congo to Peking, speaking at an enormous government-directed mass rally there, called Americans "bloodthirsty gangsters" whose rescue effort was "a deceptive pretext to massacre the heroic and patriotic people of the Congo," and who had "done everything evil in order to achieve the above aim.'

* * *

Al Ahram, a Cairo newspaper supposedly reflecting U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser's views, professed to frown on the attack of a student mob on the Kennedy library.

But it said, "When hideous imperialism recently attempted to invade the revolutionaries in the Congo, our masses denounced this crime and unequivocally pointed to the low level to which American policy has gone."

DENUNCIATIONS

From Algeria, President Ahmed Ben Bella issued denunciations of the Americans and threatened to intervene with force.

Moscow and European Communist capitals joined in with formalized propaganda cliches, but Peking led the African-Asian chorus, providing "emerging nations" with their slogans and catch phrases.

* * *

Daily, the United States is denounced as "the most reactionary international gendarme, the bulwark of colonialism, the common enemy of the people of the whole world."

To willing emulators in Africa, Peking sends this advice:

"Only by bringin down imperialism through their joint efforts can all the oppressed peoples win their liberation."

$900,181 Collected; Almost Six Per Cent More Than Last Year

The Pontiac Area United Fund campaign blazed across its 1964 finish line today with an all-time record of $900,182 in total contributions.

The final total was revealed by Bruce J. Annett, general campaign chairman, at a UF victory luncheon at the Pontiac Elks Temple.

It exceeds the 1964 goal of $815,500 by 10.4 per cent and $815,500 by 10.4 per cent and tops the amount raised last year by nearly 6 per cent.

Annett complimented all of the 4,000 volunteer workers in the campaign which includes Pontiac, Waterford, Independence, Oxford, Orion and Brandon townships.

★ ★ ★

"We are indeed fortunate to have so many citizens who realize that they owe their community a great deal. Their contributions and volunteer work help make Pontiac and its surrounding area a much finer place to live and work."

★ ★ ★

GOOD COOPERATION

Annett cited "the splendid cooperation of General Motors Corp. as a major influence on the outcome of the drive's success. "Not only," he said "for its financial contribution but for the generous assistance in manpower and through the facilities of various departments."

Since the first drive in 1949 approximately $9 million has been raised for United Fund agency services, Annett stated.

The industrial division, accounting for nearly two-thirds of the amount raised, produced $615,631 or 115.2 per cent fthe quota. harles Brown, division headed the industrial solicitation.

Jack C. Brannack heading the commercial division reported his division "over the top" at 106.4 per cent.

SMALLER FIRMS

Commercial volunteers collected pledges of $238,022 from small and medium-sized business firms and their employes, professional, school and government workers.

The final total on the womens campaign, headed by Mrs. Merrell Petrie shows $33,543. This was 105.7 per cent of the division goal.

Talks Start on Strategy in Viet War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor and South Vietnamese Premier Tran Van Huong today opened planning talks expected to lead to bombing of Viet Cong supply lines in Laos.

Taylor returned to Saigon yesterday from Washington amid increasing speculation that the war against the Communists would be broadened. It was believed that President Johnson had ruled out attacks against North Viet Nam, but the Red supply routes through southern Laos were considered likely targets.

Officials said no announcements were expected from the U.S.-Vietnamese planning sessions.

"I think as time goes on the results of the decisions will become apparent," one official said.

★ ★ ★

Taylor, on his return, said "new measures by both the United States and the South Vietnamese would be discussed." He refused to say what they were.

TO CONSULT

"As an outcome of my visit," Taylor said, "the President has instructed me to consult urgently with the government of Premier Tran Van Huong as to the measures to be taken to improve the situation here in all its aspects."

The ambassador said Johnson had "reaffirmed the basic U.S. policy of providing all possible useful assistance to the South Viet Nam people and the Huong government in their struggle to defeat the externally supported insurgency and aggression being conducted against them."

Thousands of police were strung out along Taylor's route from the airport into town. There had been rumors that Buddhists planned a demonstration against the Huong government. None materialized.

★ ★ ★

The South Vietnamese forces scored a major victory against the Viet Cong in a fierce nine-hour battle Saturday on the Ca Mau Peninsula, at the southern tip of South Viet Nam. The government said 115 Communists were killed in the encounter at Tan Lac village, about 150 miles southwest of Saigon.

Alleged Dem Imposter May Lose Legislative Seat

DETROIT (AP) — A state representative who allegedly hid his prison record by masquerading for 10 years as an outstanding young attorney may be barred from his seat in Michigan's legislature next year.

The lawmaker, who was scheduled to begin his second term in the House last month, is Rep. Daniel W. West, 54, a Detroit Democrat representing the predominantly Negro 24th District of Wayne County.

West's alleged background was disclosed by the Detroit News in a copyrighted story which said his criminal background was confirmed by an FBI fingerprint check.

The News said an inspection of FBI records indicated West had served sentences in Minnesota's state reformatory, the District of Columbia reformatory and the Iowa State penitentiary for crimes ranging from burglary to forgery and larceny.

The newspaper said West was unmasked mainly through the efforts of Thomas W. O'Hara, one of five candidates West defeated in last September's election, and William H. O'Brien, executive secretary of Civic Searchlight, Inc., which publishes a nonpartisan newsletter rating candidates for public office.

★ ★ ★

O'Hara and O'Brien found discrepancies on affidavits filed by West in connection with the election.

INTERNAL REVENUE

In addition, the Detroit Free Press said in another copyrighted story, West has been under investigation for months by the Internal Revenue Service in

Boy, Woman Die in Auto Accidents

A 10-year-old Avon Township boy and a Waterford Township woman were killed yesterday in separate traffic accidents.

Oakland Highway Toll in '64

Last Year to Date 136

The boy, Ricky J. Griffin, 2839 Harrison, Avon Township, was struck down at 7:15 p.m. as he crossed Auburn at Eastern in Avon Township, according to state police.

Bernadine A. Rickel, 39, of 2985 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township, was killed about 6:30 p.m. when her car collided with another car at Airport and M59, Waterford township, said police.

Township police said that Mrs. Rickel's auto was hit as it made a left turn onto M59. The second vehicle was driven by Stephen G. Fraser, 17, of 1948 W. Highland, Highland Township.

The Griffin youngster was returning from church when he ran into the path of a car driven by Agnes R. Zemke, 41, of Whittemore, state police said.

CAPTIVE CARS — Ice-ladened limbs, too heavy for a tree to hold, snapped down on these cars in Schenectady, N.Y. Hundreds of trees and many utility poles were toppled by ice formations from a storm that hit New York State Saturday and struck some areas again yesterday. Many city streets were closed to traffic because of icy conditions and fallen trees.

Temperatures Plunge to 10 Below Zero

3 Deaths Blamed on Storm; Thousands of Homes Are Darkened

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — Cold and hardship continued today for thousands of families in an ice-crippled eastern portion of New York. Power crews sought to restore heat and light for nearly 40,000 customers.

The sun glistened this morning on a winter wonderland created by ice-laden trees and power lines. Temperatures ranged down to 10 below zero in the wake of one of the state's worst storms.

The bitter cold added the threat of frozen water pipes for stricken residents, most of whom were in an area bounded generally by Albany on the south, Glens Falls on the north and Amsterdam-Gloversville on the west.

Three deaths were attributed to the weekend onslaught of snow, sleet and freezing rain.

★ ★ ★

Many schools closed Friday remained closed today. Others served as emergency centers for those driven from their homes. Churches, fire houses and other public places also were opened for emergency use, and cooking facilities were provided.

MERCURY SKIDS

In addition to the 10 below at Owls Head, in the northern Adirondacks, overnight low temperatures included: Watertown —7, Massena and Plattsburg —5, Glens Falls zero, Poughkeepsie 1, Albany 3, Rochester, 5, Buffalo 6.

The Weather Bureau said tonight and tomorrow would be a bit warmer, amid scattered snow.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, touring evacuation centers in the Schenectady area last night, declared, "We've had ice storms before, but none has ever been as bad as this."

★ ★ ★

He was talking about a combination of freezing rain, snow and ice accumulation that began Friday and that, by late last night, froze community activities — from high school basketball games to worship services — to a stop.

At its peak, the storm had darkened the homes and busi-

Wilson Meets With LBJ

To Offer New N-Force Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson was to present to President Johnson today new British proposals for organizing a nuclear weapons force within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

★ ★ ★

U.S. and British officials were hopeful for early agreement on the rough outlines of a command and control system, which would then be negotiated with West Germany and other interested allies.

The Johnson-Wilson conference will continue through Tuesday.

The President will then meet with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

That meeting will afford Johnson an opportunity to stress to the new government in Moscow his view that the projected NATO nuclear force — opposed by the Soviet Union — will not lead to the spreading of nuclear weapons.

NO 'GANGING UP'

Wilson arrived from London Sunday night. Obviously conscious of the danger that other allies might think Johnson and he were "ganging up" to decide the nuclear organization issue, he told newsmen "we don't expect to finalize anything."

The head of the British Labor government which took power in mid-October described the conference as "the beginning of a fruitful cooperation, the beginning of a series of discussions which we hope will lead to the strengthening of the alliance."

Wilson has made many trips to Washington in recent years and has met Johnson before, but this is the first occasion on which they have held policy discussions as prime minister and president.

★ ★ ★

The White House announced the Gromyko visit Sunday night. The Soviet foreign minister is in this country for the U.N. General Assembly session which opened last Tuesday. He has already held a series of talks in New York with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

FRIENDLY

These discussions have been represented as friendly but they have not, so far as is known, led to any changes in either Soviet or U.S. positions on outstanding East-West problems.

★ ★ ★

The White House said the Gromyko call on Johnson was a customary one. He has normally come to Washington for a presidential meeting when he was in this country on U.N. business.

★ ★ ★

Officials said the range of talks between Johnson and Wilson would go far beyond the NATO nuclear weapons question. One issue certain to arise is the war in South Viet Nam.

Johnson was expected to urge Wilson to enlarge Britain's contribution to that struggle.

'Russia to Aid Congo Rebels'

Claim Soviets to Pay Part of Airlift Cost

CAIRO (AP) — The Soviet Union reportedly has agreed to help finance the growing arms airlift to the Congolese rebels.

An East European Communist diplomat said the Soviets agreed last weekend to replenish stocks of the Soviet-made weapons which Algeria and the United Arab Republic are shipping to Christophe Gbenye's forces. The Russians also reportedly will pay part of the airlift costs.

Communist China has supported the rebels through its embassy in Burundi, east of the Congo, but when the rebels were driven north toward the Sudanese border, the supply lines became difficult to maintain.

The Chinese are reported trying to improve their supply, and the Soviets apparently are trying to counter this.

★ ★ ★

Ghana is reported to have made a token contribution to the airlift, which is known to involve more than a dozen flights of the Antonov transports, each capable of ferrying many tons.

Residents of Juba, in the South Sudan just across the border from the Congo, report some of the weapons are moved south by truck under Sudanese army escort.

The Sudanese government has declined to comment, apparently wishing to avoid an all-out commitment to the rebels.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet support of the airlift was negotiated in Cairo by rebel "defense minister" Gaston Soumialot and the Soviet ambassador to Egypt, Vladimir Erofeev.

Soumialot also saw President Gamal Abdel Nasser and flew to Algeria for talks with President Ahmed Ben Bella.

Farnum Backs Drive for a 'Great Stadium'

Commenting on The Pontiac Press editorial suggesting a new stadium on Detroit State Fair Grounds property, Billie S. Farnum, state auditor general and currently congressman-elect said:

"As long ago as 1951, when I was state fair commissioner, I offered a building policy based on the idea that time would increasingly make the fairgrounds an idea site for a well-planned recreation center designed to serve the whole metropolitan area.

BILLIE S. FARNUM

"Recent developments in highway construction move the area ever closer to all of us in terms of minutes of driving needed to reach it. Projected highways will make it even more convenient to great numbers in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb Counties.

"Obviously, a great stadium would make an ideal hub around which to construct a center for wholesome sport and recreation.

"Much planning has been done over the years by dedicated and talented men, and there has been considerable progress in developing the area. What is needed now, as I see things, is for a public push — a push in its own right — not connected with the Olympic Games or anything else, to get more done faster. A drive for a stadium would make an ideal start.

"I believe that any public drive to put the fairgrounds to greater use will shorten the time when all of us will find it a place to seek a variety of healthful enjoyments.

"I will do my best as a citizen of the community to bring this about."

15 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

Warmer Weather Predicted for Area

Area residents are due for some warmer weather within the next five days.

Temperatures will rise slowly through the week. Today's predicted high is 23 to 30; tomorrow's, 25 to 32 and the week's average near the normal high of 36.

While there was no recorded snow yesterday, Friday and Saturday brought .42 in precipitation.

The low before 8 this morning was 13. By 1 p.m. the mercury had started its climb by reaching 19.

Few 'Yards' Short of College Site Goal

Pontiac still needs $16,067 to buy the osteopathic college site. Voluntary contributions have continue to come in, but the goal is still a few sticky yards away.

Max Adams, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, implores you to send in your money or pledge to him.

Mayor Taylor echoes the same plea.

So do the givers who have already pitched in to assist the community. The total goal is $375,000.

Disarmament Gromyko Topic

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today called for a world summit conference on disarmament.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko was expected to unveil some new Soviet disarmament proposals in a policy speech to the U.N. General Assembly today.

Diplomats looked to Gromyko's speech for the first exposition of the Soviet policy on U.N. issues since Premier Khrushchev's replacement in mid-October.

★ ★ ★

The new Soviet government has not yet produced any new ideas on disarmament. Gromyko and U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk discussed disarmament in their talks last week. U.S. sources said they discussed broadening the nuclear test-ban treaty to include underground tests and also took up proposals to cut military budgets, destroy obsolete but salable military goods and prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

All these ideas have been discussed in the 17-nation disarmament talks in Geneva.

Gromyko also was expected to devote part of his speech to an attack on the U.S. proposal for a multilateral nuclear force of surface vessels armed with Polaris missiles and manned by sailors of various North Atlantic Treaty countries.

★ ★ ★

The United States devised the plan to give her allies, particularly West Germany, a hand in control of nuclear weapons without manufacturing their own. The Soviet Union contends it would result in the further spread of such weapons.

Gromyko now has been foreign minister since 1957 under three premiers — Nikolai Bulganin, Khrushchev and Alexei N. Kosygin. He was deputy foreign minister for nine years, in the governments of Joseph Stalin, Georgi Malenkov and Bulganin.

Faces Ouster in State House connection with his income tax consulting service.

R. I. Nixon, IRS district director in Detroit, was quoted by the newspaper as saying "considerable evidence" had been gathered on a complicated operation by West involving tax rebates.

Meanwhile, West also faces charges of aiding and abetting the false registration of voters in the September primary. He is free on $500 bond pending trial.

The complaint, filed by Elections Director John A. Smith of Detroit, accused West of inducing a group of voters to register unlawfully in the 24th district.

NEW 24TH

Because of legislative reapportionment, West ran for reelection from the new 24th district rather than the 6th, his former one.

West has not been available for comment since the disclosures were made over the weekend.

But other politicians have not been so reticent.

Rep. Joseph Kowalski of Detroit, newly elected Democratic House speaker, said he planned to appoint a committee to look into the matter. But he observed:

SOLE JUDGE

"The House is the sole judge of membership and someone will have to challenge his seating. We will have to have irrefutable evidence, since a man is innocent until proven guilty."

Rep. Robert Waldron of Grosse Pointe, newly elected Republican minority leader, said that if the Democrats don't act, "we certainly would discuss this in our GOP caucus."

"I feel strongly that West should not be seated," he added.

Democrats won control of the State Legislature from the Republicans in last month's election.

GWCC SPEAKERS — Discussing their parts in tomorow night's Greater Waterford Community Council holiday program are exchange students Reiji Ukita (left) and Karin Hunt and Harold Rynerson, chairman of the 8 p.m. program. Reija, who came from Japan to attend Kettering High School, will describe Christmas in his country and Karin will tell of her trip to Finland last summer.

Students Will Describe Foreign Yule

Foreign exchange students, many dressed in their native attire, will discuss how Christmas is observed in their native countries at tomorrow night's meeting of the Greater Waterford Community Council.

Sharing in the pre-Christmas program will be local students who went abroad last summer and a representaitve of the Michigan Council of Churches which sponsors the program.

Also scheduled for the meeting is the kickoff of the 1964-65 Jon Simon Memorial Fund drive.

The fund was established a year ago to raise money to help finance trips abroad by local students.

Fifteen students, six from Waterford Township High School and nine from Waterford-Kettering visited foreign countries last summer under the program.

FOREIGN BAKER

Tuesday's meeting will begin with a bake sale at 7:30 p.m. featuring cookies, cakes and candies from foreign lands.

The exchange students from Germany, Sweden, Holland, Finland, Japan and Italy will begin their program at 8 p.m.

All meetings of the Council are open to the public.

But, a Schenectady County Civil Defense official said, it will be a few days before thousands of broken tree limbs and snapped power lines can be cleared from city streets and yards. Until then, many families will remain in evacuation centers.

Quiet Tributes at Pearl Harbor

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — An oil slick catches the rays of the subtropical sun, expanding in a rainbow of color on the water's surface.

A garland of brilliant flowers joins the widening kaleidoscope.

A gray United States destroyer moves quietly through the water, its crew lining the rails, staring at Ford Island on this quiet Monday morning in December.

The place is Pearl Harbor; the time, the present.

★ ★ ★

The oil slick is from a sunken battleship; the flowers from an anonymous mourner who makes an annual pilgrimage to Pearl Harbor at this time each year.

QUIET SCENE

The harbor is a serene scene, with the mountains of Oahu a backdrop for the blue water.

But 23 years ago today, a few minutes before 8 a.m., hell broke loose at Pearl and in 110 minutes, more than 2,000 Americans were dead or dying; another 1,700 were injured; eight battleships were sunk or disabled; four others were less damaged; and other smaller vessels were damaged, sunk or sinking.

Today is "Pearl Harbor Day."

Members of veterans organizations visit the white memorial which straddles the sunken battleship Arizona. Wreaths are placed in the chapel, prayers said.

VISIT TO TOMB

Arriving quietly in ones and twos for the Navy - provided shuttleboat are some whose sons or husbands were among the 1,102 men still entombed in the Arizona.

You can still see parts of the rusted superstructure jutting from the water.

Occasionally, oil still bubbles to the surface from the old ship.

The United States flag flies over her, signifying the USS Arizona remains a commissioned vessel of the fleet on this December 7, 23 years after the U.S. was plunged into World War II.

Search Is On for Pontiac's Junior Miss

A Pontiac high school senior will be chosen this city's Junior Miss on January 10, and right now, the search is on for this talented beauty.

The announcement of the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored contest was made by Gerald Smith and Richard Fitzpatrick, co-chairmen of the Jaycee Pageant committee.

The local Junior Miss title is given to the high school senior between the ages of 16 and 19 who best typifies the ideal American teen-ager.

Judging is based on personality, talent, scholastic achievement and personal appearance.

Rose Marie Tripp, Pontiac's Junior Miss for 1964, will act as hostess at the 1965 pageant.

SCHOLARSHIP

The girl chosen Junior Miss will be presented a scholarship, the Junior Miss Trophy and will represent the city at the state finals in February.

The state Junior Miss will compete in the national finals at Mobile, Ala., where winners will share in a 14,000 scholarship fund.

Local girls interested in competing may obtain entry blanks at Haskill's Studio, Fitzpatrick Pharmacy or from local Jaycees.

Birmingham Area News

C. of C. Changes Its Name

BIRMINGHAM — The local Chamber of Commerce, operating under revised bylaws, has changed its name.

Effective immediately, the group will be known as the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce, according to its president, Virgil LaMarre.

"We believe 'Birmingham-Bloomfield' more accurately describes our local organization with its rapidly increasing peripheral area membership," LaMarre said.

"A recent ssurvey disclosed that many persons were unaware that we have members ranging from Square Lake Road on the north to 13 Mile Road on the south, Orchard Lake Road on the west and Crooks Road to the east," he said.

The change in bylaws is the outgrowth of a lengthy study and evaluation by three chamber committees, LaMarre said.

More than 1,100 area residents, both members and nonmembers, were invited to comment on the chamber and make suggestions for its improvement.

FAVOR EXPANSION

"The response overwhelmingly favored expanded activities to benefit all segments of the community," LaMarre noted.

Among the new provisions is the revised bylaws is an increase in board representation from 12 to 15.

Nine membership group classifications have been created to cover retail; automotive and transportation; finance and utilities; hotels, motels and restaurants; manufacturers; real estate, construction and property management; professional; general service businesses; and all types of insurance.

Leading the work on the study were Harris O. Machus, William E. Roberts, Robert L. Kilpatrick, James F. Moore and Knowles B. Smith, executive director of the chamber.

Florence C. Southwell, teacher and practitioner of Christian Science from Orlando, Fla., will speak on "God's Love and the Human Need" tomorrow night at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Chester at Willits.

The lecture will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Sino-Soviet Truce Seen Near Collapse

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press International

Experts on Red Chinese-Soviet relations expect Peking first of all to take a tougher position toward Moscow and then to resume all out attacks on Soviet ideological and foreign policies.

NEWSOM

Red China has told the Kremlin that the removal of Nikita Khrushchev is not enough. She wants a Soviet surrender to Peking. The month-long truce appears at the point of collapse.

Hong Kong diplomatic sources also view the current truce with reserve.

They say that even if there is a get-together within the next couple of months—as some reports have speculated—it could be only of a preliminary nature.

The two still are too far apart on idealogical matters and the position of the new Russian leaders still too unclear for the Chinese to attempt any serious talks by top party people.

VIET CONG TROUBLES: Saigon sources speculate that the Communist Viet Cong may have bitten off more than they can chew in their haste to expand the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam.

Red radio broadcasts and captured Viet Cong documents have been full of appeals in the last six weeks for more attention to "edpcating," and "training and managing the (military) units."

There have been a number of incidents in the past months of meaningless Viet Cong terrorism directed against ordinary people.

The Reds had to sharply increase their "taxes" this summer, before the rice crop was harvested in the fertile Mekong Delta.

All this points to a major increase in the number of full-time Communist soldiers, with attendant problems of discipline, organization and supply, all of which could hurt their relations with the peasantry as well as their fighting capacity.

The disastrous floods in central Viet Nam last month are certain to have aggravated the situation, since there is not enough food in the region to feed the people, much less the guerrillas.

FRENCH LABOR VS. DE GAULLE: The 24-hour general strike scheduled for Dec. 11 will be the first muscle-flexing test of strength by French labor unions against the government's hold-the-line wage-price policies.

All public services are expected to come to a standstill,

MRS. VANDERBILT BALSAN

Heiress of Vanderbilt Family Dies

SOUTHAMPTON, N.C. (AP) — Consuelo Vanderbilt Balsan, 88, the former Duchess of Marlborough, who led a storybook life as an American heiress, hostess to international royalty and social worker in the London slums, died Sunday at her Long Island home.

Since the end of World War II, she had lived in virtual retirement, except for publication in 1952 of her best-selling autobiography, "The Glitter and the Gold."

★ ★ ★

She was born into one of America's wealthiest families. Her great-grandfather, Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, had founded the New Lork Central Railroad and provided the base for the family's $150-million fortune.

Nearly 70 years ago, she first met Winston Churchill, a "young, red-headed boy a few years older than I." She said he struck her as "ardent and vital, and seemed to have every intention of getting the most out of life, whether in sports, in love, adventure or in politics."

RELUCTANT MARRIAGE

At 17, the shy, dark-haired Miss Vanderbilt reluctantly married Charles Richard John Spencer-Churchill, ninth Duke of Marlborough. He was a first cousin of Churchill. The arriage lasted 11 years, ended in divorce and later was annulled after both had remarried. The ground for the annulment was that her mother had forced her to marry the duke.

In 1921, she married Col. Louis Jacques Balsan, a pioneer French aviator. He died eight years ago.

BROUGHT DOWRY

With her marriage to the duke, the slender American heiress brought along a dowry estimated at $1.6 million in cash and the income from $2 million in gilt-edge stocks. She became mistress of Blenheim Palace, the only British palace that is not a royal household.

She hated the life at Blenheim where she entertained the German emperor, the King of Portugal and the Prince and Princess of Wales, who later became King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra. She went to Russia in 1902 and was entertained by Czar Nicholas.

It was at Blenheim that she came across young Winston Churchill and set up a life-long friendship.

NOTICE OF TAXES CITY OF PONTIAC

The 1964 County taxes in the City of Pontiac will be due and payable at the office of the Pontiac City Treasurer, December 10, 1964 through January 20, 1965, without fees.

On January 21, 1965, a collection fee of 4% will be added to all County taxes paid through February 28, 1965.

On March 1, 1965, all unpaid County and 1964 City and School taxes will be returned to the Oakland County Treasurer's office and must be paid there with additional fees.

Payments made by mail must be postmarked not later than January 20, 1965 to avoid penalties.

See McNamara Staying Through '66

Defense Dept. Team Is Expected to Remain Intact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department team of top civilian leaders, headed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, is expected to remain intact at least until mid-1965.

★ ★ ★

McNamara reportedly has discussed with key members of his team his wish that they stay on and see the Pentagon's programs through the Congress next session. They were said to have agreed.

★ ★ ★

This is taken to mean that McNamara himself intends to remain in office at least that long.

Associates said they had been unable to detect any signs that McNamara is thinking of stepping out. He is nearing the end of his fourth year as secretary of defense, still well short of the record of 56 months set by Charles E. Wilson in the Eisenhower administration.

BEING PROMOTED

The only member of McNamara's top group to resign recently was Thomas D. Morris, assistant secretary of defense for installations and logistics. He will be succeeded by Paul Ignatius, who is being promoted from undersecretary of the Army.

A major defense post that has gone unfilled since last summer is that of general counsel.

Adam Yarmolinsky, special assistant to McNamara, is believed to be hopeful of getting that nomination. But observers consider this unlikely in view of the opposition of some members of Congress which blocked Yarmolinsky's appointment to a high position in the new Job Corps.

A change in the military high command will come in early February when Gen. Curtis E. LeMay retires as Air Force chief of staff.

★ ★ ★

Gen. John P. McConnell, who has been the Air Force's second in command since midsummer, is likely to succeed LeMay.

★ ★ ★

Adm. David L. McDonald will finish a two-year term as chief of naval operations in June. He probably will be given a second term.

★ ★ ★

Otherwise, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler is only a few months into his term as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The same goes for Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff. Gen. Wallace M. Greene, Marine Corps commandant, still has three more years to go in a four-year term.

It Seems to Me . . . .

Complete Party Rebuilding Necessary for Republicans

Republican ranks are headless.

Perhaps this is natural.

After a thumping defeat, a variety of voices cry out in the wilderness—and in the big cities, too—all seeking a way to better days.

★ ★ ★

Disunity is the first hurdle.

GOP ranks were ripped apart rather severely in some sectors because of the wide divergence in any general conception of BARRY GOLDWATER. He meant too many things to too many people. The GOP rebuilding conclave originally scheduled for Chicago early in January has been set back until the latter part of the month. In the meantime Republican governors wrestled with issues in a solemn Colorado conclave and have reached reasonable agreements.

★ ★ ★

A research and policy group decided that Goldwater himself was the major issue in the 1964 campaign. He confused too many of his own supporters and he actually frightened and alarmed an appreciable number. Personally, I believe he lost ground almost every time the sun arose after his triumphal and wildly enthusiastic nomination in San Francisco. Republican candidates across the country were constantly "explaining" too many of his comments and unexpected pronouncements. State delegations had candidates running without reference to the national ticket.

Goldwater became a national enigma.

★ ★ ★

Our own Governor ROMNEY, for example, looked out the window every time GOLDWATER's name was mentioned and he never wavered. And yet with JOHNSON grandly sweeping the state, those same voters gave ROMNEY a whopping majority.

The nominee's own selection of vice presidential candidate MILLER left the majority of the party limp and let down. He was almost as weak as the selection on the Democratic ticket, and HUMPHREY did have one big advantage. He was well known.

★ ★ ★

The GOP campaign flopped.

And the GOLDWATER cabal led the way.

The Arizona Senator and his close henchmen refused to listen to party admonitions. They were adamant on almost everything that came from even the most ardent Republicans and "that's no way to run a railroad."

★ ★ ★

There are powerful, trustworthy, sound and intelligent GOP leaders ready to pick up the pieces and start anew. I refer to such stalwarts as our own Governor, along with Governors Scranton and Rockefeller, Robert A. Taft Jr., Charles Percy, Richard Nixon and many others.

The two that loom the most prominently are Oakland County's George Romney and Richard Nixon. If these men, with a few closely allied associates, can agree upon a hard core program, they can work out a sound platform in a constructive manner. Rebuilding is no time for recriminations and "I-Told-You-So." Rather, it must be a definite movement towards a clearer understanding of the real issues on which the party proposes to stand and fight.

★ ★ ★

There's a sharp division on whether Republican National Chairman DEAN BURCH should retain his post. ROMNEY wants him replaced. BARRY GOLDWATER recently asserted that he himself is the titular head of the party; and there are two schools of thought on that. A reasonable give-and-take must motivate both sides.

The job is there to do.

Getting started is imperative.

Juan Peron . . . .

When JUAN PERON was pitched back to Spain willy nilly, it was a body blow for the Soviets as well as the onetime Argentine phony. PERON has itched to get back ever since the Argentine Navy threw him to the wolves. He was sacked before he touched the border.

And CASTRO suffers, too.

★ ★ ★

Castro was Russia's back door entrance to this hemisphere, but the Cuban has been repudiated so roundly the Soviets have lost faith in his "powers." Had Peron seized the Argentine, Castro's Dow-Jones average would have leaped a hundred points. As it is now, he looks worse than ever, and Castro can smell to high heaven as can no one else in the hemisphere.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

A few days in New York elicits some interesting facts from newspaper pals. When ED SULLIVAN labeled MYRON COHEN "the greatest story-teller the world has ever known" the blasts haven't stopped yet. More than a hundred others have been proclaimed as "definitely superior" (including SOCRATES). . . . . The loan shark racket is under sharp investigation. Gotham borrowers have been "taken" for as much as 5% a week in a billion dollar racket. Mostly this is in the hands of goons, crooks and it finances the underworld. . . . . One of the boys said on his eightieth birthday, NORMAN THOMAS, six times Socialist candidate for the presidency disclosed "I'd rather be right than be president — but it would be nice to be both."

BERTHA

Scouts advise me Bertha Thornton should be listed as one of the area's attractive young ladies. . . . . TV writers say Pernell Roberts (Adam Cartright) will definitely drop out after this season. He was supposed to be married and disappear last year but the plan was switched. . . . . One of the funsters says the new insurance plan for skiers is Black and Blue Cross. . . . . LBJ came up with a nifty at the first cabinet session. Introducing Hubert Humphrey he said: "Gentlemen, the greatest vice president since Lyndon Johnson."

★ ★ ★

The boys are sure the inaugural parade this year will be the shortest in years, with warming pans along the way for the scantily clad Florida Drum majorettes. . . . . Newsweek was completely cock-eyed in its bald assertion that JOHNSON was going to drop J. EDGAR HOOVER. As the N. Y. News said: "No man is indispensable, but once in a while a man comes close to it — and such a man is HOOVER." . . . . A rumor says one of BOBBY KENNEDY's first proposals in the Senate will be another investigation of JIMMY HOFFA. He's under sentence already. . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—ROMNEY's work in Colorado; the J's—Gainesville's rioting students.

No Loitering In The Hallways, Please!

David Lawrence Says:

27 Million Voters Not a 'Clique'

WASHINGTON — The Republican governors adopted at their Denver conference what was intended to be a constructive statement about future policy for the Republican party.

LAWRENCE

Naturally, it was worded in a political vocabulary of broad scope so as to give comfort to all factions and viewpoints. But no sooner had the document been issued to the press than those who are still rankling over their defeat at the national convention last July began interpreting the statement in terms of friction instead of harmony, personality preferences instead of principles and political warfare instead of peace within the Republican party.

The governors' statement recommended that all the leaders in the Republican party on the state and national level should formulate "positive policies with broad appeal to bring before all the American people," and then added:

"We need to appeal to all Americans. We need to become inclusive, rather than exclusive. We need to win elections and serve America as a great broad-based political party, far greater and far more effective than any narrow, exclusive political clique can ever hope to become."

Just who comprise the "exclusive political clique" can hardly be discerned from a reading of the complete text of the statement. But certainly it cannot be assumed that the 27 million who voted for Sen. Barry Goldwater are such a clique or that the national chairman, Dean Burch, and his lieutenants could be so characterized.

Several of the same Republican governors who met at Denver — or their henchmen —gave the impression during the last campaign that it was all right for Republican voters to cast their ballots for President Johnson just so long as they split their ticket and voted for the Republican nominees for the Senate or House or for state offices.

This isn't conducive to the rebuilding of widespread confidence and trust.

★ ★ ★

Many Republicans of the "moderate" school have not yet discovered that it's a form of "extremism" in politics to punish the ones who remained loyal in a campaign and transfer the leadership of the party afterward to those who strayed from its ranks.

On ideological issues, the Republican "moderates" can be credited with deep convictions, but they know in their hearts that many of their principles are closer to those of the Democratic party today than to the Republican doctrines of opposition to centralized government, fiscal extravagance and interferences with the free-enterprise system.

Capital Letter:

Edicts Planned by Ruth Once She's Made Queen

WASHINGTON — If I were queen for a day, I would institute the following reforms with a stroke of the pen:

RUTH MONTGOMERY

- U. S. presidential campaigns would be limited to seven weeks. During this period each candidate would address a regional rally in these seven areas: New England, mid-Atlantic states, the South, Southwest, Rocky Mountain states, Midwest and Far West. The campaign would begin Labor Day and continue until election day on the last Monday in October.
- The winner elected in late October would be inaugurated Dec. 15. This reform would place the new president in control before Congress assembled in early January, and obviate a State-of-the-Union message by a lame-duck president.
- Congress would hold two sessions each year. The first would begin the Monday after New Year's Day and run until Aug. 1, recessing for a three-months holiday. This session would concentrate primarily on appropriations bills, taxes and other money matters.

The second would convene Nov. 1, handle legislation which had been readied by committees during the recess, and adjourn Dec. 15. Every fourth year the end of Congress would coincide with inauguration day.

PRESS BUTTON

- All votes and quorum calls in the two houses would be conducted by pressing a button at each solon's desk. The time saved in calling the roll could add several weeks to the congressional calendar.
- Committee chairmen would be elected by secret vote of the committee members. None could hold a chairmanship longer than six years, without a two-year interval between terms. This reform would eliminate a lot of doddering or power-hungry oldsters, and focus national spotlight on up-and-coming younger members.

If I were queen for two days, I would tackle the problem of representation. I would want to know why tiny Rhode Island, with a population of only 860,000, should continue to have the same number of U.S. senators as California or New York, with their approximately 17 million voters each.

And I would want to know why Zambia, Togo, Somalia or Siegra Leone should have a United Nations Assembly vote equal to that of the U.S., which pays a third of all U.N. costs.

But who wants to be queen for two days?

Voice of the People:

'Purposes of The Bible, Obscene Material Differ'

Obscene literature is meant to appeal to the lower desires and impulses of man. The Bible is meant to lift men far above the base and make him a fit person to live on God's earth and eventually enter His heaven. This is in a sense a textbook on moral living. If it is obscene, what is a biology or medical textbook? All will agree these are not obscene or full of smut.

★ ★ ★

Whether a book or magazine is obscene would depend on the purpose for which it was published. The literature that has been cried out against is not published to educate or improve its readers, but rather to appeal to the lusts of man and drag his morals down.

★ ★ ★

Continued easy access to obscene material can only mean decline in the morals of those who read it. Removing the publications from the newsstands is a definite step forward in the moral rearmament that our nation needs if it is to keep the respect of the rest of the world.

'City Has Better Places for Stop Lights'

It seems the City of Pontiac could find better places for stop lights than the Johnson railroad crossing. Perhaps Chamberlain and Perry streets, or Perry at Beach Street. With two schools in this immediate area I would think they could place a light here. Also, there should be a light at the Mt. Clemens and Opdyke intersection.

I imagine the city makes quite a bit of money off the light on the railroad crossing. I would like to know why it is there.

Housing Aid

The Washington Star

Washington officials are heavily engaged in planning the next steps to help advance Latin American housing standards closer to the 20th century. Discussions are in progress in the offices of the Agency for International Development, the Alliance for Progress, the Inter-American Development Bank and other agencies on plans to be reflected in the budget for the next fiscal year.

Housing officials are particularly anxious to rebut the charges of critics who say the effort is all for upper crust Latins and that the mud-hut people are being left out in the cold. The problem facing State Department, AID and banking officials is enormous. Latin America's housing needs have been estimated at 81 million units by 1975, or 14,000 units a day for 15 years.

The answer does not lie in outright charity, officials say. And even if that were the approach, there simply isn't enough money available to give every poor Latin a home. The answer lies in creating institutions, public and private, savings and loan and credit union structures, a construction industry that can meet the continuing need. The answer also hinges on using money over and over again to help everyone.

If money is made available for housing to a family who can repay it, more money is generated for the use of others. Our help should enable Latin American governments to come to the aid of those families needing outright subsidies.

★ ★ ★

IDB loans to Latin America for housing are for people whose incomes range from a low of $30 a month in Bolivia to about $200 a month in some of the more sophisticated countries. The annual need for new construction runs about 2.6 to 3.3 million dwellings, or about $3.5 billion. How could this kind of money be given away? It's not done in the United States and it isn't going to be done in Latin America.

Baruch said if a dwelling requires a payment of $10 a month, the family must have an income of $40 a month. IDB doesn't go beyond the 25 per cent limit on housing payments in relation to total income. Officials admit that those Latin Americans who are outside the cash economy are in an area where housing aid does not reach.

★ ★ ★

A State Department spokesman said about $335 million in U.S. public funds has been committed for Latin American housing over the past three years. About $165 million of this has been through AID and about $170 million from the IDB Social Progress Trust Fund. The latter has been IDB's contribution toward $378 million in housing, or about 200,000 units, with the rest of the money coming from Latin sources.

Real Problem

The Tokyo News

Inhabitants of the nation's major cities really felt that the abuses brought about by over-populated cities have now reached their limits. A shortage of dwellings and an increase in prices of building lots are repeating a vicious cycle. Moreover, public harm engendered by the industry-first principle has contaminated rivers and the atmosphere. Industrial accidents have also been increasing. The imperfections of water supple and drainage are worrying the citizenry, too.

★ ★ ★

It is well that Prime Minister Sato has instructed officials in charge to map 60 immediate and long-term measures to prevent big cities from further expanding. It is ardently hoped that both the central and local governments will positively tackle the over-population problem with firm determination.

Yule Spirit Featured at Rochester Parade

ROCHESTER — All of the ingredients for a successful Christmas parade were present in Rochester Saturday afternoon.

As if on signal the sun broke through the clouds just before the parade started, the girls' precision drill teams were right in step and the floats were colorful and bright.

Providing the appropriate musical accompaniment were the Rochester senior high and two junior high school bands that played traditional holiday airs all along the parade route.

A total of 40 units participated in the 13th annual event sponsored by the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce to the delight of the several thousands of spectators who lined Main Street.

★ ★ ★

Capturing the grand and first place trophies for the best float in the parade was the St. Andrews Parents Club entry.

CHILDREN FEATURED

Based on the theme, "Light a Candle for Peace," it featured children in costumes of foreign lands, all seated beside giant candles.

Second place honors went to the Rochester YMCA which had the largest float with the most riders, about 50, all Indian Guides.

Judged the best marching unit again this year was the Rae-Vens, girls' precision drill team from Pontiac which put on a demonstration of high - stepping accuracy in front of the downtown reviewing stand.

★ ★ ★

Placing second in this category was a group from the Rochester Junior Woman's Club, each member dressed as a walking Christmas package.

Other outstanding entries included the Arts N' Apples float featuring members of Girl Scout Troop 518, the Avon Players' replica of their future playhouse and still more from local service clubs, organizations and stores.

Among the dignitaries in the line of march were Village President John O'Donnell and his wife; Avon Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller and other township officials; Homecoming Queen Chris Collins and her court; and Miss Rochester of 1964, the former Judi Soule, now Mrs. Donald Audet.

★ ★ ★

Bringing up the rear, as usual, was Santa Claus making his initial appearance before taking "temporary" residence in the Hills Theater lobby.

Judging the entries were Thor Ulseth, Rotary Club; Herbert Stoutenburg, Kiwanis Club; and Arne Bosen, Lions Club.

BEST FLOAT — Copping the trophies as grand prize winner and best float in Rochester's 13th annual Christmas parade Saturday was this entry of the St. Andrew's Parents Club. Its theme, "Light a Candle for Peace," was carried out by young people dressed in costumes of foreign lands, each seated by a giant-size candle around a globe of the world.

GIFTS AFOOT — The Rochester Junior Woman's Club was awarded a trophy for the second best marching unit in Saturday's parade. Drafting some of their children to walk with them, the members and youngsters alike were garbed as Christmas packages — each package plugging one of the club's charitable projects.

Vote Tomorrow on Charter for Orchard Lake

ORCHARD LAKE—The issue before voters here tomorrow will be whether they approve the document drafted by the charter commission.

★ ★ ★

The charter was prepared during the spring and summer by the commission elected March 3 when the Orchard Lake electorate decided the village should be changed to a city.

With the question of incorporating as a city settled nine months ago, voters now are being asked to adopt a new charter for the unit.

If they accept the document, Orchard Lake will begin to operate as a city next week. If the charter is defeated, the commission will be put back to work drafting a new one.

★ ★ ★

Preelection campaigning here, where a village ballot normally has attracted 40 to 60 voters, has been highlighted by an information-sheet debate between the West Bloomfield Township Board and the charter commission.

LIST SERVICES

The Township Board sent to village residents a list of observations about the services now supplied by the township and those which will have to be provided by the city.

These included comments on tax rates and collection in the city, as well as the need for assessing, court facilities and fire protection. It also was noted that the township library is available to village residents.

In its rebuttal, also sent to all village voters, the charter commission noted that the village auditor has predicted there will be no increase in administrative costs to handle additional accounting needed in the city.

★ ★ ★

Court facilities, the commission said, already are being provided by the village and library services will cost less on a nonresident fee basis than they do through taxes.

FIRE PROTECTION

The township now supplies fire protection to Keego Harbor and Sylvan Lake for more than $8,000 each.

★ ★ ★

Charter commissioners noted that another $8,000 contract would bring the total from outside sources to more than half the total cost.

MUTUAL AGREEMENT

"If West Bloomfield does not want these contracts, the three communities concerned could work out a mutual agreement for fire protection, or the City of Orchard Lake would have no difficulty providing its own," they said.

But commissioners emphasized that cityhood is no longer an issue here — the question now is approval of a charter to govern the city.

Also on tomorrow's ballot will be candidates for six council posts and a municipal judgeship who would take office next week if the charter is approved.

★ ★ ★

Seeking the council seats are Fred J. Walls, John C. Hall, Edwin M. Douglas, Everett R. Casey, Kenneth Treacy, Sylvester Leahy, Mrs. Katherine M. Baker, Harold Knisley, Frederick S. Strong Jr. and Theodore Bloom.

★ ★ ★

Attorney Martin J. Kabcenell is the single candidate for municipal judge.

For Rochester Voters

Brochure Tells Renewal Story

ROCHESTER—Village voters were to receive brochures called "The Urban Renewal Story" in today's mail, designed to inform them on the issues that will affect their vote in tomorrow's election.

Up to the electorate tomorrow are two questions.

One of them is whether Rochester can borrow $190,000 and issue bonds to cover it in order to pay its share of the cost of the East Third Street Renewal Project.

The other asks whether the village charter should be amended to allow the village to sell urban renewal land valued at more than $2 per capita (about $12,000) without a public vote.

This amendment would make it possible for Rochester to resell the 31 acres in the project to developers, who will then bring light industry to the area.

ADDITIONAL FUNDS

The $190,000 would be swelled by $531,778 in federal funds to cover the total cost of redeveloping the land in the "blighted' East Third Street area.

Now occupied by houses, a good many of which have officially been termed "dilapidated," the area would be cleared, mass-graded and prepared for industrial sites.

This includes the straightening of Paint Creek, new railroad bridges over Paint Creek and Baldwin Avenue, and construction of a new street entrance to supplement the steep East Third Street approach.

★ ★ ★

The cost of redevelopment is estimated at $20,000 per acre, and the village plans to resell the land to developers at $5,000 per acre.

PRICE DIFFERENCE

The difference in purchase and resale prices will be more than made up, however, by the increased village and tax revenue from the area when completely developed.

With only 30 per cent of redevelopment completed, experts estimate that $30,000 in village taxes and $100,000 in school taxes will be realized.

This compares with village tax revenues of $1,700 and school tax intake of $6,500 from the total renewal area at present.

★ ★ ★

Passage of the bond issue proposal will not raise taxes for village residents, inasmuch as repayment dates on the bonds can be set to take advantage of increasing tax revenue from the land's new occupants, as it is redeveloped.

MAJORITY NEEDED

A three - fifths majority is needed to pass the bond issue proposition, while a simple majority is necessary to approve the charter amendment.

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — A 30-year-old Hazel Park man was killed instantly by a shotgun blast in a hunting accident here yesterday morning.

Ernest Dilldine Jr. died when hit in the head by a charge fired by 15-year-old Frank S. Bernette of Madison Heights.

Romeo State Police said Bernette, his father, Dilldine and two other companions were hunting rabbits on the property at 770 W. Romeo Road when the accident occurred.

They were attempting to flush rabbits from a woodpile, and Dilldine apparently stood up into the line of fire when a rabbit ran between him and Bernette.

Bernette was not held by police.

Dilldine's body was taken to William R. Potere Funeral Home, Rochester.

Devise Sewage Plan in West Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A handful of residents and developers have devised a plan to bring sewage lines to the northeastern portion of the township.

★ ★ ★

Their proposal would serve as an alternate to the Walnut Lake arm which was turned down at a public hearing on necessity in June.

The Lone Pine arm would bring sewers to the area that "needs and wants them," according to Township Supervisor John C. Rehard.

It would cover roughly the northern two-thirds of the district which had been proposed for the Walnut Lake arm.

★ ★ ★

The proposed arm would extend from the Farmington sewage system up to Pine Lake. However, the southern boundary of service would be just below Walnut Lake Road, rather than 14 Mile as planned for the Walnut Lake arm.

SERVE BLOOMFIELD

A portion of the line would serve property in Bloomfield Township.

West Bloomfield Township officials had proposed establishing a special assessment district to pay for the unit's share of the Walnut Lake arm, about $1.5 million. Bloomfield and Farmington Townships would have split the rest of the $1,693,000 total.

But a number of West Bloomfield property owners objected to the project on the basis of the method chosen to finance it.

★ ★ ★

With public protest at a peak, the proposal was defeated in what Rehard labeled "the most severe setback this township has had in years."

ANOTHER METHOD

Those working on alternate plans have suggested another method of financing the arm, through connection fees.

They retained engineers at Michigan Land Planning Inc., Bloomfield Hills, to draw plans for the project.

The group interested in the proposal has scheduled a Friday morning meeting with the Oakland County Department of Pubic Works (DPW).

★ ★ ★

Also to attend the session are William Phelps of the engineering firm and officials of both West Bloomfield and Bloomfield townships.

COUNTY BONDS

If the DPW approves the plans, the group backing the move hopes to have the arm financed through county bonds, Rehard said.

The bonds would be paid for on the basis of contracts with the two townships, he said.

Although its plans are still in the tentative stage, the group took them to the township board to seek support of its work in principle.

The township board gave it that backing.

Shelby Boy, 9, Hurt in Crash

Mother's Car Skids Into the Wrong Lane

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — A nine-year-old Shelby Township boy was hospitalized following an auto accident on Mound Road between 23 and 24 Mile roads, shortly after noon yesterday.

Mark Somers of 5537 Debra sustained head and shoulder injuries when the car driven by his mother skidded into the wrong lane and was hit by another car.

Shelby Township police said that Mrs. Marilyn Somer, 39, tried to stop for a car making a left turn, and skidded from the northbound lane of Mound Road into the southbound lane.

The Somers vehicle was struck by a car driven by Laverne A. Grabski, 5399 23 Mile, Shelby Township.

Mrs. Grabski's son, Theodore, 10, was taken with Mark Somers to St. Joseph's Hospital, Mount Clemens, where he was treated for minor injuries and released.

Livestock Show Starts

DETROIT (UPI) — About 400 young livestock producers are expected to participate in the 35th annual Detroit Junior Livestock Show which runs today through Thursday.

The show is sponsored by the 4-H Club department of the Michigan Cooperative Extension and the Detroit Junior Livestock Society.

It normally attracts 4-H youngsters and their prize pork, lamb and beef entries from all parts of the state.

The show is being held at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

UAW President Is Scheduled for Surgery Today

DETROIT (AP)—Surgery for Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, was scheduled today at Henry Ford Hospital.

The operation was described as corrective surgery when Reuther entered the hospital last week. Further details were not given.

Reuther, 57, head of the million-member UAW for 18 years, has followed a policy of having periodic physical checkups.

Loans Still Available

DETROIT (UPI) — Macomb County resident who suffered damage in the May 8 tornado can get federal loans for repairs through March 31, the Small Business Administration announced today.

Wool, Suede for Joe College

The Spanish fashion industry wants Joe College to switch out of the all-wool sweater and into one made of wool and suede.

What's suggested: a turtle-necked pull-over with a suede front. The turtle-neck zips up to any height — within limits of the sweater, of course.

MRS. ROBERT E. DOTY

Couple Goes North After Milford Rites

Off on a northern honeymoon are the Robert E. Dotys (Carole Jean Glynn) who spoke vows Saturday in the Milford Methodist Church.

Hosting a reception at the IOOF Hall in Clyde following the ceremony were the bride's parents the Charles L. Glynns of Grandview Boulevard, Highland Township.

Their daughter chose a gown and train of white peau de soie appliqued with baroque scrolls of pearl applique and worn with silk illusion veil.

She carried a cascade of white roses.

With Robin L. Reader, maid of honor were Mrs. Ernest Hoffman and Mrs. Jeffrey Motchenbacker, sisters of the bridal couple, who attended as bridesmaids, along with Karen Gaffney.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Orval McPherson of Clyde and Ellsworth Doty of Romeo, had Frank Lee of Brighton for best man.

Ushering at the evening rite performed by Rev. Howard Short were Ronald Glynn, Farmington, James Doty and Kip Reed, both of Clyde.

Overblouses in Fun Furs

In addition to parka, polo and great coat styles evident in most fun fur lines, a big innovation is the overblouse—in calfskin, mink gills and many other furs.

Some are zipped up the side of the front. Some are sleeveless. Many have matching fur headbands.

Never Greens

You won't find any evergreens on display at Christmastime in Finland. The Finns consider evergreen to be a sign of mourning. For Christmas decorations, the Finns use straw instead of evergreen.

Picking Pups for Presents

Give a Christmas present that moves without being wound up, makes noise without assistance from batteries, and grows on you.

Put a pup or a kitten under the tree.

★ ★ ★

If you've decided that this is the Yuletide gift your children deserve you're probably reading the "pets for sale" ads with interest and bewilderment.

Where do you begin looking for the pet you want? How much should you pay? How can you tell if a puppy or kitten is healthy?

SOME SUGGESTIONS

To help you in your search for a four-footed present, here are some suggestions.

• Begin your search by asking friends who own pets or a veterinarian to recommend a kennel, pet shop or animal shelter.

★ ★ ★

Don't be afraid to ask questions, especially about prices.

Most people who sell pets are sincerely interested in finding good homes for them, so don't be surprised if they ask you a few questions, too.

USE SENSES

• When you visit places recommended to you, let your eyes and nose — as well as your heart — help make your decision.

Check to see if the animals are kept in clean pens. Notice if the feeding bowls contain fresh food and the water dishes look as if they are scrubbed often.

★ ★ ★

Observe how the owner handles his stock. A puppy or kitten that has been treated with tender, loving care will make an easy adjustment to your family and a new home.

• How can you judge a puppy or kitten's health? First, notice if it acts alert and friendly.

IS IT HEALTHY?

The shy one, the one with a sad "please take me home" look, may be sick. When you pick up a healthy baby animal, its body feels well-rounded and firm. Also check the eyes, ears, and nose to make sure there is no sign of a runny discharge. As you cuddle each one, run your fingers through the fur.

★ ★ ★

A well-cared-for pup or kitten has a thick, even glossy coat. Inspect teeth and gums, too. Pink gums and white teeth testify to good general health.

• Have the pet you select checked immediately by a veterinarian. Most reputable pet dealers will replace an animal if some defect is discovered within a day or two.

Common Waste

Discarding the liquid in canned foods causes a loss of as much as one-third of the water-soluble vitamins and minerals.

How Children Fail

Fear, Boredom, Confusion in Our Schools

Most children in school fail.

For a great many, this failure is avowed and absolute. Close to 40 per cent of those who begin high school drop out before they finish. For college, the figure is one in three.

Many others fail in fact if not in name. They complete their schooling only because we have agreed to push them up through the grades and out of the schools, whether they know anything or not. There are many more such children than we think.

If we "raise our standards" much higher, as some would have us do, we will find out very soon just how many there are. Our classrooms will bulge with kids who can't pass the test to get into the next class.

* * *

But there is a more important sense in which almost all children fail: Except for a handful, who may or may not be good students, they fail to develop more than a tiny part of the tremendous capacity for learning, understanding and creating with which they were born and of which they made full use during the first two or three years of their lives.

REASONS

Why do they fail?

They fail because they are afraid, bored and confused.

They are afraid, above all else, of failing, of disappointing or displeasing the many anxious adults around them, whose limitless hopes and expectations for them hang over their heads like a cloud.

* * *

They are bored because the things they are given and told to do in school are so trivial, so dull and make such limited and narrow demands on the wide spectrum of their intelligence, capabilities and talents.

TORRENT OF WORDS

They are confused because most of the torrent of words that pours over them in school makes little or no sense.

It often flatly contradicts other things they have been told, and hardly ever has any relation to what they really know — to the rough model of reality that they carry around in their minds.

How does this mass failure take place? What really goes on in the classroom? What are these children who fail doing? What goes on in their heads? Why don't they make use of more of their capacity?

* * *

This book is the rough and partial record of a search for answers to these questions.

SERIES OF MEMOS

It began as a series of memos written in the evenings to my colleague and friend Bill Hull, whose fifth grade class I observed and taught during the day. These memos deal with four major topics:

- Strategy: The ways in which children try to meet — or dodge — the demands that adults make on them in school.
- Fear and Failure: the interaction in children of fear and failure and the effect of this on strategy and learning.
- Real Learning: the difference between what children appear to know or are expected to know and what they really know.
- How Schools Fail: the ways in which schools foster bad strategies, raise children's fears, produce learning which is usually fragementary, distorted and short-lived and generally fail to meet the real needs of children.

It must be made clear that the book is not about unusually bad schools or backward children. The schools in which the experiences described here took place are private schools of the highest standards and reputation.

Friends and colleagues tell me that the schools I have not seen are not a bit better than those I have and very often are worse.

(NOTE: If you would like to read all of "How Children Fail," consult your local bookseller or send $4.50 to Pitman Publishing Corp., 20 East 46 St., New York, N.Y. 10017.)

'Dead' Woman Still Alive

Mrs. Catherine Leask, 35, of Glasgow, Scotland, still is alive — after being dead.

She was found alive four days ago on a mortuary slab after being certified dead. She recovered consciousness in Glasgow's Royal Infirmary yesterday.

* * *

She had been rushed to the hospital Thursday after suffering a drug overdose.

A doctor found no sign of life and sent her to the city morgue.

The hospital listed her on the danger list.

Rioters Due Discipline at U. of Florida

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Scores of male students faced disciplinary action at the University of Florida today for their part in a riot staged by 8,000 who were egged on by panty-waving coeds yesterday.

The students, celebrating Saturday night football and basketball victories by their school, set fire to bleachers, trees and cars early yesterday.

The demonstration got up full steam about midnight and lasted nearly two hours.

At least one student and two policemen were injured and officers closed all bars and parties, except for the annual policemen's ball in Gainesville.

Sixteen students were released from jail yesterday on $100 bond each. Although those were the only men arrested, university police inspector Gene Watson said 8,000 male students took part.

POLICE HAMPERED

Watson said campus police were hampered in putting a halt to things by coeds who stood in the windows of dormitories waving their panties, brassiers, slips and shouting at the boys to "come and get it."

Police withstood one massive assault on a women's dorm.

Dean of Men Frank T. Adams said the mob first gathered about 11 p.m. after the team defeated Stetson University of Deland, Fla., in basketball, 90-57, and the Florida Gator football team upset Louisiana State at Baton Rouge, 20-6.

The students started a bonfire on U.S. highway 441 in front of the administration building but moved in on an official bonfire rally on the university parade ground when police and firemen arrived with riot equipment.

CHOP UP BLEACHERS

The rally turned into a melee, with students chopping up bleachers and setting more bonfires, including one atop football coach Ray Graves' moveable coaching tower.

The burning tower was pushed down the "main drag" — University Avenue — and students set fires in trees and automobiles as they went.

4 Teen-Agers Killed in Wisconsin Crash

WEST DE PERE, Wis. (AP) — Four young persons were killed last night when a car left the road and struck a tree about seven miles south of this northeastern Wisconsin community.

The victims, all of rural West de Pere, were Laverne Janz, 17; Larry Schmitz, 18; Kathleen de Ruyter, 17, and her cousin, Susan de Ruyter, 18.

* * *

The Brown County sheriff's office said the car, apparently driven by Schmitz, was traveling east on a county highway when it went off the road on a straightaway.

The car careened into a ditch, came out of it and slammed into a tree. The car was ripped almost in half by the impact.
