President Stresses Defense

Tells Canadians Atomic Attack Threat Is Real

Says Russia Is Acting Arrogant, Our Nations Must Work Together

OTTAWA (AP)—President Eisenhower declared today Canada and the United States "can and will" work out a defense against any surprise atomic attack while still maintaining their commitments in other parts of the world.

Addressing a joint session of the Canadian Parliament, Eisenhower said the Russians have adopted a truculent tone and United States-Canadian security plans "must now take into account Soviet ability to employ atomic attack on North America."

In his speech, prepared for delivery as the highlight of his good neighbor visit to Canada, the U.S. President declared:

"We shall achieve the defense of our continent without whittling our pledges to Western Europe or forgetting our friends in the Pacific.

"The bankruptcy of armament races and the suicide of nuclear war," he continued solemnly, are the only alternatives to "an international will to cast out the bomb and gun as arbiters."

Asserting "the threat of Communist purpose still exists," Eisenhower described Russia's recent rejection of the Western Powers' bid to a foreign ministers' conference on Germany and Austria as "truculent, not to say arrogant in tone."

"Our security plans must now take into account Soviet ability to employ atomic attack on North America, as well as on countries friendly to us, lying nearer to the U. S. S. R."

"Their atomic stockpile will, of course, increase in size, and means of delivery will improve as time goes on."

Eisenhower's historic address was telecast by the Canadian Broadcasting Co.—the first "live" television broadcast from the House of Commons chamber.

It also was scheduled on nationwide radio networks in the United States and Canada.

Eisenhower talked also of a need for expansion of international radio networks in the United States and Canada.

Prince Charles Is Five; Birthday Party Canceled

LONDON (U)—Prince Charles, chubby-faced heir to Britain's throne, had his fifth birthday today—without a party, without a birthday cake and without parents to wish him happy returns.

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh—who so far have spent only one birthday with their son—were set to have a happy family time together this time but suddenly changed their plans.

Traffic Stalled for 5 Hours

One Killed as Truck, Auto Crash on Telegraph Road

A spectacular automobile-truck collision about five miles south of Pontiac killed a Detroit truck driver early today and snarled deer-hunter and truck traffic on Telegraph road for nearly five hours.

Dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was Carl Billings, 33, of 15876 Dexter, Detroit, who died while pinned beneath his overturned truck for more than a half hour, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Porter Lee Gibson, 31, of 121 Tennessee, Detroit, driver of the car, is being held at the Oakland County Jail for investigation of negligent homicide. He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for cuts and bruises and given a blood test. Gibson will probably make a statement to Oakland County prosecutor's office today, according to Deputy Homer Kelly.

Gibson's wife, Katie Mae, 26, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with a fractured jaw, and a passenger with Gibson, Mrs. Grace DePriest, 31, of 115 Ten-

Teamster Petitioners Hold Meeting Despite Threats

Some 50 union members of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 (AFL) who are petitioning to end the local's trusteeship, conducted a closed meeting last night despite further threats of violence.

The group's attorney, Louis W. Snyder of Pontiac, said he summoned Oakland County sheriff's deputies and Sylvan Lake police "to insure a peaceful meeting after more intimidations of members last night."

Snyder said that some members were chased by auto while on their way to the meeting place and warned not to attend.

He added that a union steward also was threatened with the loss of his job and injury to his family if he continued to circulate petitions.

Other members of the group asked for police protection for their families while they attended the meeting. Snyder said that some were escorted home by police.

The members, who also are demanding the ouster of all officers of the local, said they recognized some of their intimidators last night as union men.

Yesterday it was reported that the complaining union members had petitions grabbed out of their hands and torn up by opponents. Meanwhile, James A. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Joint Council, said he expected some action today.

Immediate Start on Water Data Being Pushed

Rep. Broomfield to Ask Special Appropriation for 3-County Survey

Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) said today he would ask a special state appropriation of $37,750 to launch by Jan. 1 a $775,000 water supply survey in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb Counties.

Total cost of the five-year survey was estimated yesterday in Detroit by a 13-man committee representing the three counties.

Committeemen, named by the Michigan Water Resources Commission, recommended that the state and the communities involved share equal cost of the $775,000 survey.

Broomfield said he would ask the state senate finance committee Tuesday for the supplemental appropriation so the survey could begin before the state's fiscal year starts July 1, 1954.

"The problem of inadequate water supplies is so acute that a survey is called for at once," said Broomfield. "We don't want to string this thing along."

The survey, said Broomfield, would include a review of the water supplies in the three counties and lead to recommendations toward solving the problem of dwindling water reserves.

The committee recommended that the state furnish $77,500 yearly over the five-year survey period and that communities in the three counties match this sum.

Final action on the appropriations would be left to the Michigan Legislature and governments of the communities involved.

Broomfield said the $37,750 special appropriation, plus a similar amount furnished by the communities involved, would finance the survey for the first six months.

"After the six-month period elapses, the state could include its share of the cost for continuing the survey, in its budget," he added.

The committee serving as an advisory group for the Waters Resources Commission included officials from all three counties.

Those representing Oakland County are Walter K. Willman, Pontiac city manager; Donald M. Oakes, Berkley city manager; Floyd Andrews, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors; and George Schmid, director-engineer for the South Oakland County Garbage and Water Authority.

Planet Mercury Shades Sun Today

NEW YORK (U)—The planet Mercury moves across the Sun today in a rare astronomical drama last seen in its entirety from the United States in 1894.

The event known as the "Transit of Mercury," occurs with Mercury passing directly between the Earth and the Sun in essentially the same manner as the moon does in an eclipse of the sun.

Mercury, the smallest planet in the solar system, is too small for the naked eye to see it against the blazing sun.

For those using telescopes, it will appear as a tiny black dot. Officials of the American Museum-Hayden Planetarium here cautioned those watching through telescopes to use very dark filters to protect their eyes.

The planetarium said the transit can be seen in the United States between 10:36 a.m. and 1:12 p.m. (EST). It will next occur Nov. 6, 1960.

Demands Hoover Appear Before House Committee

NEW YORK (AP)—President Truman said today he will make an "all-out broadcast" Monday night from Kansas City on the Harry Dexter White case.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The top Democrat on the House Un-American Activities Committee has demanded that FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover tell all he knows about the Harry Dexter White case.

"Everybody who had any contact with it ought to tell everything he or she knows," said Rep. Walter of Pennsylvania in calling for Hoover's appearance before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

Walter, in a recorded CBS radio interview last night, said that so far as he knows Atty. Gen. Brownell is the only person close to the case to call White a Communist spy.

Brownell touched off the far-reaching uproar in a speech at Chicago Nov. 6, when he said former President Truman gave White a better government job in 1946 despite FBI reports that White was a Communist spy.

"He must have made that statement on the basis of information we've never had," Walter said. "We and the American people are entitled to have that information."

Walter said the House Un-American Activities Committee, of which (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

No Sale to Reds, Says Ferguson

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) said today he was confident the government would reject any application by a U.S. company to sell automobiles in Red China.

And he is confident "no application has been made to sell automobiles" to the Communist country, he added in an interview.

The United States cut off all trade with Red China during the Korean War. The barriers have not been lifted. However, some free world countries trade with the Communist-led Chinese in items they hold to be non-strategic to China's war potential.

Ferguson was asked about the matter in view of statements in Detroit by a Chrysler Company executive that the State and Commerce Departments had been sounding out industry sentiment on possible reopening of limited trade with Red China.

The official, C. B. Thomas, president of Chrysler's export division, said a possible Chinese market was a ray in a generally not too favorable export outlook.

A State Department spokesman denied that agency was making any such study, adding "there is not even anything in mind."

A Commerce spokesman had "no comment."

James Cope, Chrysler vice president, said that, in response to questions he believed came from the Commerce Department, "Our export people told the government people that if the Chinese trade were opened, we would be interested in competing for it."

But he emphasized that Chrysler is not recommending any change in the present policy and has "no interest in operating under any policy except one which the government thinks is right."

Pontiac to Greet Fair, Warmer Weather Sunday

Fair and mild weather tonight and Sunday is the forecast for the Pontiac area by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

A low of from 35 to 42 tonight is expected to rise to a high of from 63 to 67 on Sunday.

Friday the mercury rose from a low of 39 to a high of 50 degrees in the city.

Today at 8 a.m. the reading was 35, but by 2 p. m. in downtown Pontiac the temperature stood at 66 degrees.

4 Suffer Burns in Cabin Blast

Youths Hurt as Lantern Spills, Explodes Near Gingerville

Four Pontiac youths suffered first and second degree burns early this morning when a gasoline lantern, knocked accidentally, into a fireplace, exploded when the boys attempted to light a fire at a cabin near Gingerville.

In fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital are J. C. Hardin, 16, of 54 Clove St.; Joseph Rosser, 16, of 1460 1/2 Baldwin; and Martin Nixon, 16, of 56 W. Rutgers. They suffered burns on the face and hands.

A companion, Charles Snodgrass, 17, of 117 W. Longfellow, was treated at the hospital for burns on the face and back.

The unoccupied cabin is located between Clarkston and Waldron roads in Orion Township. No fire resulted from the explosion.

According to Oakland County sheriff's deputy Melvin Glover, the youths were driven to the cabin last night by a friend, Richard Overmier of Lake Orion. They hitchhiked back to Pontiac this morning after the explosion.

Hunters Held Up 16 Hours at Straits of Mackinac

Northbound deer hunters had to wait from 15 to 16 hours to cross the Straits of Mackinac by car ferry today and State Highway Department officials said autos were lined up for 10 miles at Mackinaw City.

The long lines—and long wait—came as the rush toward deer country in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula approached its peak.

Five state-operated car ferries were making trips as fast as possible between Mackinac City and St. Ignace in an effort to clear the jam but officials said it appeared it would be tonight before traffic tapered off.

Spokesmen for the highway department at Mackinaw City said a new record may have been set Friday and another one on its way today for northbound car traffic.

State police were urging hunters to register their names, addresses and the location of their hunting sites with trappers.

Will Take Up Several Points Simultaneously

Agreement Gives New Hope for Korean Peace Settlement

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Allied and Communist diplomats today pumped new life into dwindling hopes for a Korean peace settlement with agreement on an agenda for preliminary talks to arrange a political conference.

Top-level negotiators reconvened after a week-long recess and approved an agenda drafted by staff advisers in six secret sessions.

The agreement provides for simultaneous discussion of a time and place for the peace conference and of nations which will attend. Communist insistence on deciding the composition first had deadlocked the preliminary talks for three weeks.

Approval of the agenda will get the stalled preliminary talks under way but U. S. Envoy Arthur Dean told newsmen: "This is just the key that opens the door. The real hard work is just commencing."

Meanwhile, non-Communist members of the Korean Repatriation Commission were increasingly pessimistic over the future of Red interviews with Chinese and Korean war prisoners who have refused to go home.

Explanations have been cancelled for nine straight days because of Communist demands to interview prisoners called up but not interviewed Nov. 5.

Armin Daniluk, Swiss member of the commission, said Saturday the future of the explanation program doesn't look very good.

"The only solution seems to be a change of mind by the northern (Communist) command. If that is not forthcoming, the work may have to go on by other means—but we shouldn't talk too much about that at this stage," Daniluk added.

The agenda for the preliminary political talks closely parallels a plan proposed first by Envoy Dean Oct. 31. At that time Red negotiators called it "slight of hand" and "absolutely unacceptable."

Dean said after Saturday's meeting that he always has been optimistic.

Foolproof Answer Wins Store Contest

OAKLAND, California (U)—Robert Reynolds came up with a foolproof way to win a guessing contest—to the dismay of a radio shop which had to be persuaded by police to give Reynolds the prize.

The problem: To guess the four-digit combination of a safe.

Reynolds' solution: He submitted 10,000 entries, with every possible combination from 0-0-0-0 to 9-9-9-9.

Police inspectors Lester King and Eric Gustavson persuaded the protesting store that Reynolds was entitled to the prize, a four-year old television set with a 12 1/2-inch screen originally worth $600.

Birmingham Police Warn Motorists to Lock Autos, Be Cautious With Keys

From Our Birmingham Bureau

"Ninety per cent of the cars stolen by teenagers are left unlocked or left with the keys in the ignition," he said. Such negligence not only encourages juvenile delinquency, but offers chances of serious injuries both to the youngsters and people they may crash into."

Four Highland Park juveniles, 11 to 13, were apprehended by police Wednesday after taking a car from a local collision shop and crashing it into a tree when they lost control.

An attendant of the shop was ticketed by police for leaving the keys in the car.

Moxley spoke out against abandoning of auto steering column locks by manufacturers in recent years. "This device, although it fails to stop the professional auto thief, does frustrate the average teenager who takes a car for a joy ride," he added.

Leaving the keys to the car openly in the ignition, or leaving the doors unlocked is an invitation to theft, and a violation of both city and state statutes, Moxley remarked.

Attempts to curtail this thoughtless practice are an active step toward curbing the increase in juvenile delinquency, the chief concluded.

There will be no meeting of the Youth Fellowship of Kirk in the Hills tomorrow. Instead, the group will attend a Youth Fellowship fall rally at the Redford Avenue Presbyterian Church from 3:30-8:15 p.m.

Speaking on "Rotary Friendship and World Peace," Dr. W. Glen Harris, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, will address his fellow members at Monday noon Rotary luncheon at the Community House.

Dr. Harris has just returned from three weeks in Mexico where he attended the National Convention of the Presbyterian Church as the American representative.

Postmaster Bernard E. Fowler says he has received no communication to date from the Civil Service Commission regarding his dismissal appeal lodged last Thursday.

"There will probably be a hearing either in Chicago or Detroit by the Seventh Regional Office of the Commission," Fowler stated, "and I'll appeal beyond that to the commission itself in Washington, D. C., if I have to."

Fowler was notified Oct. 12 by N. R. Abrams, assistant U. S. Postmaster General, that his successor would be named at an early date, "as a result of unsatisfactory conditions disclosed in a recent investigation at your office."

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Mikulaschek, now at Hartford School of Religion preparing for service in Portuguese East Africa, will be honored at both First Methodist Church services tomorrow. The church has underwritten entire support of the missionary couple.

Dr. Mikulaschek recently completed specialized study at Detroit's Grace Hospital. The missionaries will speak at the 7 o'clock Intermediate and Senior Fellowship meetings.

The intermediate group will also see the film "A Voyage to Rome," while Bill Surridge will lead a discussion on "Why Be a Methodist?" before the senior group.

Cub Pack B-9 at Pierce School had a pleasant surprise at Thursday's meeting when the PTA presented the pack with its own flag, complete with insignia. Entertainment was led by Den 12, which gave a skit on the Indians Thanksgiving. Costumes for the play had been made by the boys themselves.

"Wills and Estates" will be the topic of discussion at Monday's Rotary Ann's meeting when Edgar Galloway Jr., assistant trust officer of the Detroit Trust Co., addresses the group.

The 1 p.m. meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William De Graff, on Fairfax.

Luncheon chairman Mrs. William Rowland will be assisted by Mrs. William Knight, Mrs. Paul Grant, Mrs. Edwin Kirber and Mrs. Charles Shain.

Continuing with "Candid Views of Christ" as the theme of the 7:30 p.m. Sunday devotional services at the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Emil Kontz will speak tomorrow on "Lod of Life—His Mouth."

Birmingham YMCA is continuing to seek young men for participation in its Intramural Basketball League. Men 18 years old and up are invited to participate. League play will start Dec. 3 and continue until March. Membership in the Y is required of all participants.

Annual Baldwin PTA open house is scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday at the school. Parents will meet in their children's rooms to see the work being done this year, and will also talk with the teachers.

Birmingham newcomers are: Mr. and Mrs. James T. Wilson and children, Tommy, 7, Linda, 6, of 1627 Maryland, from Royal Oak. He is with Pontiac Motors.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gerogian and children, Edward, 4, Jo Ann, 8 months, 444 Harmon, from Pontiac. He is district manager of Firestone.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Penn and children, Merrill, 8, Sara, 6, of 177 Maryland, from Jackson. He is with Kent-Moore Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edmond, 694 Fairfax, formerly of Lake Forest, Ill. He is with McCann-Erickson, advertising.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Orr and daughter, Carolyn, 15, 883 Larches, from Warren, Ohio. He is with General Motors.

Violent Storm Hits West Coast

Rain, 85 M.P.H. Winds Smack North California During Night

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A violent storm smacked the Pacific coast with rain and winds up to 85 mph during the night and was moving into the Los Angeles area today.

A second storm, close behind, should bring heavy rains to parts of Washington, Oregon and northern California Sunday, the U. S. Weather Bureau predicted.

A freighter lost its propeller 1,100 miles west of the Columbia River mouth, but a Coast Guard cutter reached the scene about 4 a.m. and reported the Panamanian registry ship Margo in no immediate danger from the high seas and winds.

In northern California, where the storm's center hit, communications and power were disrupted, highways were littered with uprooted trees and debris, streets were flooded and chimneys were toppled.

Temperatures were above normal, but rain changed to snow in the High Sierras shortly after midnight and motorists were asked to carry tire chains.

Hurricane force wind readings of 85 mph were reported by the Coast Guard about 8 p.m. at a lightship off Ft. Bragg and at the Pt. Reyes light station, both north of San Francisco.

President in Canada, Talks Joint Defense

ional trade and for joint U. S.-Canadian action on construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

But his emphasis on the danger to the security of the two countries and on the need for enduring peace overshadowed other subjects.

"Canada and the United States," he said, "are equal partners and neither dares to waste time. There is a time to be alert and a time to rest."

"These days demand ceaseless vigilance. We must be ready and prepared. The threat is present."

He said U. S.-Canadian Joint Board on Permanent Defense has worked "assiduously and effectively" on mutual problems and that "now is the time for action on all agreed measures."

He did not specify those measures. Joint continental defense plans include, for example, a radar system, with more stations to the south to track planes after the outer screen has picked them up.

The President emphasized that steps to defend North America are but one part of the world-wide security program.

"The North Atlantic Treaty Organization, for example, is an essential defense for Ottawa, for Washington, and for our neighbors to the south, as well as for communities thousands of miles to the eastward."

"Implicit in the consultations and the detailed studies which must continue, and in the defenses which we have already mounted, is the need for world-wide vigilance and strength. But the purpose is defense. We have no other aim."

Meanwhile, said Eisenhower, the United States claims no monopoly on wisdom in trying to win a secure peace.

"We are willing—nay anxious—to discuss with friends and any others all possible paths to peace. We will use every means—from the normal diplomatic exchange to the forum of the United Nations—to further this search."

Contests Third Pooch Ticket but Pays Up

BIRMINGHAM—The wanderings of a tan, black and white Beagle hound stirred Birmingham's justice court again yesterday.

Fred M. Harley, 480 Pleasant, opponent of the city's recently amended dog ordinance, contested his third ticket issued by Dog Warden Ralph Riley for "not having a dog under reasonable control."

On two former occasions, charges against Harley were dismissed by Associate Justice John C. Emery Jr. when Riley could not positively identify the dog.

Riley testified yesterday he saw the dog several blocks from home, and chased it with his truck, then chased vacant lots on foot, right to Harley's back door.

"I told him who I was, and that I would have to ticket him for letting his dog run loose, and he slammed the door in my face," Riley stated.

Harley charged the law was discriminatory, the fine ($5.50) excessive, and Riley's presentation of the ticket illegal. He was found guilty by Justice John J. Gaffill, and fined $5.50 plus $3 costs.

Harley, considering an appeal of the decision, said he would definitely ask a jury trial "the next time this comes up."

Union Petitioners Meet Despite Threat

type of conflict when the petitioning started last week.

"Members of the local are bitterly resentful of the fact that 'others are circulating the petitions,'" he said.

Hoffa said, "There isn't one grievance left pending in the local. We have cleaned up all discrepancies. Every contract has been properly negotiated and 99 per cent of the people are happy."

"I personally have combed the records of companies under contract and have cleaned up all existing affairs," he added.

Hoffa said those circulating petitions are a jealous faction who want to "grab the strings of the local."

He said, "If we were to let them take over, they would not know what to do with it. They don't have the ability to cope with the present problems, for which the trusteeship was set up."

Snyder said his group "will not let down until we gain equal rights in the union."

He said the members have already secured 1,200 signatures of the local's 2,500 members, "and half of the petitions are not in yet."

Snyder said that they expect to have at least three-quarters of the members signed up by the end of the week and will then submit the papers to International President Dave Beck.

At last night's meeting, Snyder said, the group contended that its request to see certain financial records was always ignored in the past.

Snyder added that if the international does not act on the request of the petitions, they will attempt a court order demanding the books.

The members further complained they have never seen the local's by-laws and that they were told in the past that they were governed under the international constitution.

The petitions charge suspended local President Daniel J. Keating and Secretary-Treasurer Louis C. Lintean with "arbitrary interpretations of the constitution" to perpetuate themselves in office.

Detroit's Recorder Judge Martha Griffiths ordered both Keating and Lintean and three other Teamster officers bound over for trial recently following a one-man labor racket grand jury and hearing. They are free under $5,000 bond.

Dewey Musters Might for Fight

Governor Seen Seeking Strength to Retain Role in National GOP

ALBANY (UP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey sought to muster additional strength today for a state political dogfight which threatens his "kingmaker" role in the national Republican organization.

Dewey has staked his political future on the outcome of his battle to clear his state administration of the taint of corruption by ousting Lt. Gov. Arthur H. Wicks as State Senate majority leader.

Wicks, who came under the governor's fire for visiting labor extortionist Joseph S. (Joey) Fay in Sing Sing Prison, has withdrawn an offer to resign the post.

Dewey's position was materially weakened Friday by the resignation of National GOP Committeeman Russell Sprague. Sprague quit because he feared his financial connection with the scandal-ridden Yonkers raceway might have an "adverse" effect on the Eisenhower Administration and the Republican Party.

A spokesman said Dewey knew a week ago of Sprague's plan to resign and urged him to "reconsider." Sprague resigned anyway saying that "I have never put my personal interest ahead of the party."

The resignation left Dewey without Sprague's much-needed support in toughest political battle of his career.

The fight comes to a head Thursday when the Wicks case goes before the State Senate. If the senate fails to oust him, as the GOP State Executive Committee has demanded, it will be considered a repudiation of Dewey's leadership.

Observers feel that such a loss for Dewey, who engineered President Eisenhower's nomination, would wipe out any hopes he might have for a third attempt to reach the White House.

Number Thirteen Figures in Game After All (25-13)

The score wasn't 13-0, but the number "13" figured into last night's football game between St. Michael and Oxford High Schools.

Yesterday, Allen Samson, 15, who wears jersey number 13 on St. Michael's freshman squad, indicated a 13-0 victory over Oxford would be a good omen.

The number 13 was a good omen for St. Michael, but a bad one for Oxford. Oxford lost, 25-13.

Why all the concern over the number 13? Yesterday was Friday the Thirteenth.

Edward Gaffney of Farmington and Robert Schweitzer of Allen Park, truck drivers for Cooper Supply Co. of Detroit delayed their shipment for three hours as they worked with five wreckers to move Billings' truck.

All available police cars in the area were on hand to assist in clearing the wreckage and to direct traffic. A crowd of about 400 persons gathered at the scene.

Motorists heading north to the deer country were backed up two miles south of the accident and finally were rerouted on Fifteen Mile to Lahser, to Lone Pine road and back to Telegraph. Kelley said, Woodward and Telegraph roads, especially near the accident scene were congested, according to Deputy Roy West, and traffic packed Dixie highway, M-24, Auburn and Opdyke roads.

Review Results of Vision Tests

Luncheon Winds Up '53 Program, Sets Plans for Next Year

Pontiac and Birmingham advisory committees rounded out the year's activities on recent vision screening programs with a luncheon meeting yesterday at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Key members of the Junior League of Birmingham, which sponsors the vision tests for pre-school children, together with physicians, health department and board of education representatives, reviewed the results of the sight testing and mapped plans for future programs.

Significant in the information brought before the group was the announcement that, in sight tests given by Pontiac public school system to children in kindergarten, 10 per cent of the youngsters were discovered to have faulty vision.

This tied in with the Junior League findings, which report over 10 per cent of children tested had vision defects. Purpose of the league program is to discover faulty eyesight in children before they reach kindergarten age, thus assuring them a fair start when they enter school.

The group made concrete plans to look into the possibility of acquiring a mobile unit for conducting examination.

Such a clinic-on-wheels could carry the screening program into new, fast-growing school districts, such as Waterford, Rochester and Clawson. Mrs. E. Jamison William, program publicity chairman, pointed out.

The group was invited to attend a meeting of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness Dec. 1 in Detroit, to discuss a new eye disease, retrolental fibroplasia, found chiefly in incubator babies.

A letter from the Oakland County Optometric Society complimenting the league on their "worthwhile project" was read.

Attending the luncheon, in addition to Mrs. Williams, were Mrs. Otis C. Thompson, president, and Mrs. Gene A. White and Mrs. Harvey Kresge Jr., co-chairmen, of the Junior League of Birmingham.

Dr. W. Lloyd Kemp, Birmingham pediatrician; Mrs. Josephine Seeley, coordinator of Pontiac School Health Services; Miss Frances Curtin, Birmingham school nurse; Miss Martha Johnson, assistant director of nurses of Oakland County Health Department; and Miss Caroline Austin, vision consultant with Michigan Department of Health.

Allies, Reds Agree on Agenda for Talks

mistic about chances for a Korean peace conference "and I am even more optimistic now."

Dean and the Communist negotiators will meet again Monday to iron out working plans for subcommittee discussions.

The top U. N. negotiator said he probably would sit on one of the subcommittees himself.

The Communists have insisted from the beginning that they would discuss a time and place for the peace conference only after a decision on their demand that neutral nations—particularly Asian neutrals—be invited to attend.

Dean has insisted that time and place be decided first. He offered to exchange views on composition of the conference after that, but told the Reds he has no authority to decide the question.

The U. N. Assembly voted to invite belligerent nations to the peace conference, with Russia sitting on the Communist side if North Korea and Red China invite her.

The agenda adopted Saturday lists composition and place first, followed by time, procedural matters, administrative arrangements and expenditures for the political conference.

Informed quarters said listing composition at the top of the agenda—as demanded by the Communists—is not significant since all items will be discussed simultaneously.

Dean said the Communists feared that if they agreed on a time and place first, Allied negotiators would walk out on the preliminary talks.

"I assured them this was not the case," he added.

Observers at the Allied base camp said the expenditure of three weeks in negotiating an agenda probably is indicative of how slowly the preliminary talks will go.

No one predicted quick agreement.

A few miles from the hut where negotiators met, non-Communist members of the repatriation commission said privately that India probably will have to complete the screening of roughly 25,000 Chinese and Korean POWs who have refused repatriation.

The Communists have shown no indication that they will agree to new explanation rules laid down by Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian of the repatriation commission. He told the Reds last week to interview entire compounds of 500 men in a day or skip altogether those not interviewed.

Italian motorists who frantically speed their four-cylinder La Nacia and Topolino (Little Mouse) over Roman highways and lofty Calabrian Alps were enough reason for Tony Grimaldi to return to Pontiac.

Tony Grimaldi Tells of Tiny Italian Cars

Grimaldi, who owns and operates the Economy Used Car Market at 22 Auburn Ave., returned from his sixth visit to his native Italy this week after spending five months there.

"I took my big car with me," Tony said, "but the way those Italians wheel their cars is enough to scare you off the road."

He said the Little Mouse gets 18 kilometers on a quart of gas and its motor is so small that it can be lifted with three fingers.

Girl Hit by Bus, in Poor Condition

A six-year-old Oxford girl struck by the school bus which brought her home from school yesterday is reported in poor condition at Pontiac General Hospital today.

Linda Lee Knight, daughter of Richard L. Knight of 1865 Hummer Lake Rd., suffered a fractured leg, possible jaw fracture and head injuries, when she walked in front of the bus as it was starting to move.

Driver Marvin Acheson of 5280 Hosmer, Oxford, told deputies he let some children off and was driving away when he heard someone scream. He stopped the bus and found the Knight girl under the front bumper.

Vehicle Crashes Injure Two

Overturning Car, Truck in Avon Township Send Men to Hospital

Passengers in separate car and truck accidents yesterday were injured when the vehicles overturned in Avon Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Donald G. Tucker, 20, of 630 Second St., was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with a concussion suffered when the car in which he was riding rolled over on Pontiac road, one-half mile east of Squirrel road, at 1:40 a. m. His condition today is reported good.

At 3:45 a. m. Leroy Brunett, 20, of Fife Lake, was hurt when a truck, in which he was a passenger, overturned on Ruby street at Livernois road. He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for hand and wrist cuts.

Tucker was riding with Richard L. Parks, 17, of 22 McNeill St. Parks told deputies he did not know what happened.

Donald Conta, 18, of 651 Humphrey, Birmingham, driver of the truck in which Brunett was riding, said he was turning left from Ruby when his brakes failed.

Two Are Sentenced on Break-In Charge

One Royal Oak youth received a prison term and his companion was given a jail sentence yesterday by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty on a charge of breaking and entering.

William O. Jones, 19, of 1845 Center St., was sentenced to one to 15 years in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson. Kurt Dermburger, 18, of 1502 Catalpa St. was placed on three years probation, the first 60 days to be spent in Oakland County Jail, and assessed $100 costs.

The pair pleaded guilty Oct. 30 to breaking into a greeting card company at 531 Vester Ave., Ferndale. They were arrested by Ferndale police after entering the building.

Sylvan RR Crossing May Be Improved

After an inspection Wednesday the Grand Trunk Western Railroad is considering changed to improve safety at its crossing on Orchard Lake avenue in Sylvan Lake, according to Ernest L. Ethier, Sylvan Lake city manager.

Ethier requested changes after a motorist was killed Sept. 25 at the crossing in a collision with a switch engine.

Changes in the flasher system to give motorists earlier warning of trains involved in switching operations have been suggested by State Highway Department engineers, said Ethier.

Highland Post Office History Tangles With 'Corners,' Spring Mills, West Side

Another in a series tracing Oakland County history through early postal records.

By MAURICE F. COLE

The story of the Highland post office is rather involved, and includes the establishment of additional post offices under the names of Highland Corners, Spring Mills, Highland Station and West Highland, all located within two or three miles of each other in Highland Township.

Highland Township was given a name of its own by an act of the Territorial Legislature which became effective on March 17, 1835.

It was named "Highland" because of its high elevation, there being few, if any, higher points in that part of Michigan lying south of the Saginaw-Grand Rapids line.

The date ascribed to the establishment of the post office at Highland was the day before Highland Township itself was formed as a township on March 16, 1835.

The first postmaster was Jonathan F. Stratton. Stratton came to Highland by way of Ann Arbor, where he had arrived from Erie County, Pennsylvania in 1825.

The first settlers arrived in Highland Township in 1832, with Stratton coming from Ann Arbor the following year.

Stratton was well known throughout the Territory as a surveyor of note. While still residing at Ann Arbor he had prepared "a plan of the village of Jacksonburgh," the present City of Jackson.

In 1830 he was appointed by Governor Cass as one of three commissioners to designate the county seat of newly-created Jackson County.

They selected as the county seat this same village, Jacksonburgh, a thriving community which was springing up where the Territorial Road called at that time the St. Joseph's Road crossed Grand River.

So enthused were they with the prospects of this village that in their report to the governor they predicted that in time "the state capital will be at Jacksonburgh." By 1870 Jackson was the third largest city in Michigan.

After coming to Highland, Stratton served this new township as its first justice of the peace, as well as being its first postmaster. He still did considerable surveying.

It would appear that Stratton was followed as postmaster by George Showerman, after whom Oliver F. Davison was appointed.

Davison was a member of a very prominent family that originally came from New York State and which entered largely into the settlement of both Highland Township and that part of Genesee County lying just to the west.

Davison served the county in the state legislature in 1847, and was one of the leaders in the fight to remove the state capital from Detroit and locate it somewhere out in the state.

He owned and developed a mill site and for a time operated a mill in the township.

Cut-Throat Bolivia Is Fun for 3 Who Like Hot Scrap

By OSWALD JACOBY

Several correspondents have asked how the new game of bolivia is played by three people.

The most interesting way to do so, in my opinion, is to adopt the "cut-throat" method, which is often used also for regular canasta and samba.

In a game of cut-throat, three separate scores are kept. Each player begins a hand on his own, without partners.

As soon as any player takes the discard pile, however, the other two players become partners against him and are allowed to merge all their melds—whether or not these melds were made before they became partners.

The partnership continues until the end of that hand, and then the next hand begins again with each player on his own.

The two partners get the same score after a hand of cut-throat. The lone wolf, naturally, gets his own score. The partners score separately for their red threes, but otherwise get identical amounts.

Suppose, for example, that I play a hand against Mr. and Mrs. Brown. I take the discard pile, and eventually meld out with a total score of 3,850 points.

Mr. Brown has two red threes and Mrs. Brown has three red threes. Their combined melds, less the cards left in their hands, total 2,740 points. Mr. Brown then gets credit for 2,940, while his wife gets credit for 3,040 on the scorepad.

Two partners playing together can usually make one or two canastas (sequence canastas) and perhaps a bolivia (canasta of wild cards) if they are allowed to play unmolested.

The bonus for a samba is 1,500 points, and that for a bolivia is 2,500 points, so that the partnership can pile up a big score if the game goes on for very long.

In view of this big scoring opportunity for partners, a player who wants to take the discard pile should think twice—or perhaps thrice—about it.

All will be well if he can meld out very quickly. If he cannot meld out quickly, he will probably be sorry he took the pile.

As an exception, however, you may wish to take a very large discard pile towards the end of a hand even if you cannot be sure of melding out quickly. For one thing, you may find the right cards in the pile to meld out immediately.

For another, you may be able to meld enough to compensate for the melds scored against you by the two opponents. And finally, the opponents may not be partners long enough to do you much damage if only a few cards are left in the stock pile.

Boys Club Director Heads 2-State Group

William V. Coullacos, executive director of Pontiac Boys' Club, was elected program chairman of the Michigan and Ohio Boys Club Association recently at the group's annual meeting in Toledo.

Various heads from clubs throughout both states exchanged ideas on boys activities and improvements in club programs. They also discussed inter-club activities for 1934.

Coullacos said his new position calls for drawing up winter sports schedule for the clubs belonging to the association. He added that the Pontiac club will engage in a basketball league next season.

When He Takes Part in Christmas Schemes!

With the advent of the Christmas Season, both business men and members of the public will be solicited on every hand both directly and by mail to help the "unfortunate" have a happy Christmas. Those of us who are able, would be derelict in our duty if we did not donate to help the needy have at least one day of happiness during the year.

But, let's don't be a Santa Claus to the promoters. They are master psychologists and always attempt to prey on the "milk" of human kindness and our generosity during the Christmas season.

Based on past performances the following are some of the Christmas schemes you may expect:

1. Solicitations by mail to help some underprivileged charitable or patriotic group in which the promoter gets the "lion's share" of the proceeds.
2. The same kind of scheme, based on the shipment of unordered merchandise such as greeting cards, neckties, handkerchiefs, aprons, postals, etc.
3. Attempts to sell advertising space in holiday issues of publications that have no established circulation and which is sold on the basis of helping some cause.
4. Sale by sidewalk hawkers of gift merchandise which can be purchased at local stores at much lower prices.
5. Solicitations for donations and prices for bazaar by unknown religious groups to help the needy.

9 More Voting Precincts

Decision of the City Commission to add nine voting precincts to the present 35 is good news on more than one count.

As pointed out by City Clerk ADA R. EVANS, who proposed the change, it will bring Pontiac into line with the State law. This requires that a precinct be split when the vote in it exceeds 650. In some existing precincts more than 1,000 voted in the last Presidential election.

The results was that precinct workers were overtaxed, voters experienced inconvenience and delay and the tabulation of ballots was correspondingly slow. These conditions naturally reflect the city's steady growth.

We know of no reason why a change that will make voting easier and speed election returns shouldn't have unanimous official and public approval.

Legend of Ibn Saud

If the death of King IBN SAUD has raised questions as to the capabilities of his successor, EMIR SAUD, it hasn't taken any glamor out of the late king's life story.

The career of this absolute monarch, with life and death power over the 6,000,000 people of Saudi Arabia, reads like an Arabian Nights tale. Back in 1901 young IBN SAUD with 200 followers started out to conquer central Arabia. By 1926 he was King of Hejaz and Nejd, later combining these realms into the present Saudi Arabia.

Feudal monarch though he was, Ibn Saud was a fighter for the purity of his Mohammedan religion as well as a desert statesman of unusual ability. Long before the oil in his country made him one of the world's richest men he had set about improving economic and social conditions for his followers.

At his death he had an annual income of $200,000,000, mostly from oil concessions granted American firms. An Islamic puritan, he never had more than the four wives at a time allowed by the Koran. But he had divorced and continued to support more than 120, and is survived by more than 100 daughters and about 40 sons.

Whether the eldest of these, the new King EMIR SAUD, has inherited his father's ability, remains to be seen. However, he has had broad military training and experience and is interested in modernizing the country and educating the people.

In addition he has the advantage of a good general education and travel in Europe and the United States, and like his father, is a firm friend of the West.

Ike's Library Enlarged

Thanks to a project started by the American Booksellers Association in 1929, the permanent library in the White House now contains 1,700 volumes.

The idea of establishing such a library for the benefit of Presidents originated when it was discovered more than 24 years ago that no such library existed.

The first gift included 500 volumes, chosen by the association's committee as suitable for family reading. Each four years since 200 more books have been added, with the latest gift being presented at the White House a few days ago.

This year's selections cover a broad field including history, current events, philosophy, religion and politics.

The association's program is a splendid one. But its value to successive occupants of the White House naturally will depend on the wisdom with which the quadrennial selections are made.

Withdraw Coumarin

It is news of the most encouraging sort when four of the Nation's largest manufacturers of chemicals voluntarily act to end a threat to public health.

These companies are Dow Chemical of Midland, Mich., Monsanto of St. Louis, Mo., DuPont of Wilmington, Del. and Trubek Laboratories of East Rutherford, N. J.

All have been manufacturers of the coal tar product known as coumarin used in the production of synthetic vanilla extract. All have notified the U. S. Food and Drug Administration that they are withdrawing coumarin as a food.

In their notification the companies pointed out that experiments showed coumarin responsible for many cases of sclerosis of the liver. A Washington report says that in the future these firms will use the more expensive but safe vanilla bean in the manufacture of this flavoring extract.

We hope housewives not only appreciate the laudable public spirit in this action but take due notice of the warning in the report on coumarin.

It has been so dry in many sections of the country that the catfish have hay fever.

It is still a bit cheaper to ship a package by parcel post than to transport it by private automobile.

Paul Bunyan Interviewed on State Trophy Hassle

By JACK L. GREEN
LANSING (AP)—A reporter brought back this interview with Paul Bunyan, the big wooden statue which Gov. Williams is presenting as a permanent trophy for the Michigan-Michigan State football game.

Reporter: "Well, hello there, Mr. Bunyan. I've been looking all over for you. What are you doing in this dark corner?"

Mr. Bunyan: "It's a disgrace. That's what it is, a disgrace."

Reporter: "What's a disgrace, Mr. Bunyan? You look right nice—as well as I can see you in the dark. But be careful you don't fall off that pedestal and cut yourself on that axe."

Bunyan: "Look, what's everybody shoving me off in the corner for? They act like they didn't want me. The governor and I are hurt about this. Politics, that's what it is. Politics."

Newshound: "Are you a Democrat or a Republican, Mr. Bunyan?"

Bunyan: "Well, the Democrats claim they represent the mass of the people and the Republicans represent pine stumps up north. You might say, on that basis, that I am descended from Republicans. This is a bipartisan proposition."

Reporter: "How does it feel to be mixing with governors and things like that?"

Bunyan: "Why, the governor and I get along real well. You might say we see eye to eye. We are both upset about not getting on television during the half. After all, I cost $1,400 and that's half the price of the cars they're advertising."

Professional snop: "Did the governor really pay for you, Paul?"

Paul: "The governor is donating me. Of course, I suppose some of his friends will help with the cash. But I understand the governor's friends are legion."

Reporter: "Why are you up there on that big pedestal?"

Paul: "Some blockhead, probably Samaras, forgot to get the dimensions of a trophy case. So they made me too big. So they put me on this nice big pedestal. You couldn't just leave me lying around in a back corridor, could you? Don't answer that."

Reporter: "What do you think of the University of Michigan's attitude, Paul—that they'd prefer to stick with the trophies they have?"

Mr. Bunyan: "Imagine comparing me to a little broken jug. Me—$1,400. Little Brown Jug—25 cents."

Reporter: "I hear Michigan State wasn't too keen about you, either, old man."

Old Man: "Well, at least they had the grace to keep quiet."

Reporter: "Did you know you are becoming a political issue, Paul?"

Paul: "I wouldn't be surprised, old man. I ought to become something after all this hullabaloo. I hear the Republicans may donate their own trophy, too. There's getting to be too much competition in this world."

Reporter: "They say politics makes strange bedfellows. I wonder what Williams thinks about getting into bed with a stump—mean statue?"

Paul: "Look, why don't you go away and watch the football game. I'll be here long after Williams is gone."

Principal and Teachers of Keego Harbor School Commended by 'Pleased Mother'

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

For years I have heard nothing but good reports about Roosevelt School in Keego Harbor. Our two daughters, of high school age, entered that school this year.

Now, after visiting Roosevelt on several occasions and since attending "open house" there recently, I am happy to have learned that the school fully lives up to its good name. The principal and teachers all seem to be exceptionally fine people.

A close relationship between more parents and the school is desirable and is to the advantage of all concerned. Such an occasion as "open house" affords an excellent opportunity for furthering that goal.

Says Kids Meet at Corner but Don't Cause Trouble

Recently the kids in my neighborhood were called a bunch of trouble makers due to the fact that we gather nightly on a street corner near our neighborhood.

It just happens that there is no other place close by for us to gather, since all of us live closer to this corner than anywhere else. We aren't looking for trouble and are not causing any trouble that we know of.

If these people are so interested in what we do, they should provide a decent place for us to meet.

A Good Buddy

GOP Must Make Good Its Promises or Lose Out in 1954 and 1956, Says Star

(Indianapolis Star)

Republicans took a licking in last Tuesday's elections. They deserved it. The New Jersey election was typical of what was wrong with the Republican Party and the reason why the voters rejected its candidates.

In New Jersey the Republican Party let the people down. It nominated a hack candidate for governor. When this fellow Frost was discovered consorting with gangster Joey Fay and other shady characters, the state GOP organization stood by him. The people didn't. Why should they? Why should they elect a bad candidate just because he is a Republican? Did the party leaders think that the "Eisenhower magic" would make the people vote for a man-in-whom-the-people had no trust?

How strong is that "Eisenhower magic" anyway? What reason have GOP leaders to believe that all they have to do is put up candidates who say they are going to be rubber stamps for Eisenhower to win elections? Has the Eisenhower Administration won the full support of the American public yet?—won it enough to make the voters vote Republican out of loyalty?

Have taxes been cut yet? Have the bureaucrats been cleaned out of Washington yet? Has foreign aid spending been cut yet? Has inflation stopped? Have the powers and responsibilities taken from the states by the New Deal been returned to the states yet? Have the waste, the subsidies, the vote buying and log rolling stopped yet?

It is all very well to say that the Eisenhower Administration cannot do everything in a year. Did they try to cut foreign spending so that tax money could be saved? They did not! This year they are sending more money to Europe than President Truman sent in any year since World War II!

Is that keeping faith with the people? Republicans and independent voters voted for a change in Washington. How much of a change have they got?

In three fields, the administration has cautiously sought to fulfill its promises to the people. In foreign affairs, a one-third switch of direction has brought important changes in America's attitude toward other nations and their attitude toward us. Congressional committees, without much outspoken encouragement from Eisenhower Administration leaders have been doing a bang up job of finding and scuttling Communists and their friends in the government. Secretary Benson is bravely carrying out his promises and the President's promises to the people on farm problems. Yet leaders of his own party are trying to cut him down for doing what the voters voted for!

Aside from these things what has been done to redeem the 1952 promises made by the Republican Party to the people?

The American people no longer vote for party labels. They vote for good candidates. They vote for those who carry out their promises. They vote against bad candidates. They vote against entrenched bureaucracy and political machines. This was proved in local elections all over the country.

In Virginia the Republicans, who were taking a beating everywhere else, made the strongest bid since the Civil War for the governorship. Why did they come so close to winning? The people voted against a government they believed has been too long in power. The same thing happened in city elections all over the country.

The people have more sense than to look upon parties as fixed objects of their loyalty. When the party does what it promises, they support it. When it fails them, they reject it. They use their two-party system to get rid of rascals and blunders. This is the lesson of Tuesday's election and the politicians ought to learn it.

Republican leaders in New Jersey and elsewhere have been misjudging the people. They

Young Should Consider Obligations to Parents

Doris wants some specific examples to use in Sunday school discussion. So I have given her several concerning the antics of college students on vacation at Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. You might debate these cases tomorrow in your own Sunday school.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-342: Doris D., aged 20, is a vivacious teacher of a teenage Sunday school class.

"Dr. Crane, you often tell us to use specific cases in teaching morality," she began.

"For you say it isn't enough to urge young people to memorize the Golden Rule or the 10 Commandments."

"Because those general statements may not be linked with concrete incidents which they encounter in real life. So please give me some actual examples of moral specificity."

You may have heard a mother send her youngster to the bathroom to wash his face before dinner.

When he returns, his mother may exclaim: "Why, your neck and ears are black! So go right back and wash all over again."

"But you just told me to wash my face," the boy defends. "You didn't tell me to wash my neck and ears."

Well, that same principle applies to general moral truths like the Golden Rule. Many young people know that famous ethical law. But if it hasn't been applied to common situations, they may act as selfishly as pagans.

For example, during the spring vacation last March, hundreds of college students from Chicago and elsewhere descended upon Florida.

At Ft. Lauderdale, however, the Mayor finally had to institute a curfew, because of the supposedly funny capers of these idle college youth.

For example, one night a bunch of the boys took a dead shark and cast it into a nice clean swimming pool at the hotel. They thought they were funny!

Unlike mature adults, they did not look ahead to the fact that the swimming pool was put out of use for a day.

Nor did they realize the cost of draining the pool and paying for the great amount of water required to re-fill it. For the Golden Rule had never been linked specifically with a swimming pool!

Ask your Sunday school students if they think newspaper boys would be so thoughtless? For newspaper boys obtain mature business judgment by operating their own private business. So they have more consideration for property rights than these college men.

Another group of college boys at Ft. Lauderdale stole a city bus and drove it around the streets for a joyride. Then they left it parked in front of the hotel.

Suppose they had been arrested and locked in jail! And suppose their names had then appeared in their home town newspapers back in the northern states.

"Oh, that wouldn't have been so bad," they might have laughed, thoughtlessly.

But what about humiliation of their Dads who were clergymen or teachers or doctors or other pillars of honesty at home?

Wouldn't it have put them in a bad light? And those same Dads were probably furnishing the money for the vacation fun for their children at Ft. Lauderdale!

Fair play must be taught in every phase of life. So we need specific examples to make young people think about their obligations to their hard working parents who finance their luxury years in college.

For example, another group of boys at Ft. Lauderdale climbed the water tower at night. It had been a beautiful white color. But they daubed its sides with dark paint, inscribing their fraternity emblem in letters 10 feet high!

Was this an evidence of fair play or of foresight? Ask your Sunday school pupils to compile lists of similar specific moral situations in their own communities.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

International News Service
There's a loose Democrat in old Mississippi who is upsetting the theory of party capers.

His right monicker is Hugh White and he's governor of the state. He violates the ethics of partisan politics by saying Ike is doing everything he can for the good of the country.

Somebody should tell the governor. They haven't been doing that lately.

You can butter my biscuits if the governor didn't go further than a fly on a wheel. He said Ike's economic wrangles are hold-overs from Harry Truman's two times at bat.

In case of a storm at sea Gov. White mentions baggy farm economy, commodity surpluses and drooping markets. He also says Ezra Benson was the heir to the hoohah.

So you know Gov. White can diagnose his pearl onions. He's a grass-rooter from the cane bottoms down where they sandbag the Delta.

This frank and open document shows no twisting of the arm. Mr. White has been a life-long Democrat in an agricultural state where a 200-pound Republican has been landed with rod and reel.

After that splinter opinion in Wisconsin it's nice to hear the pennies bouncing on the tambourine again. Gov. White is as impartial as a tennis linesman with a white-washed nose.

Calcium and Vitamin D Works Wonders to Ease Pain in Old Bones, Says Writer

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

THE MAIL BOX

Old Bones

Thanks to your advice I began supplementing my diet with calcium and vitamin D and have now gotten rid of my aching bones which I have had for years. (Mrs. F. M.)

Answer—Pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatism available on written request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Old Skin

The lotion you recommended in the Acne pamphlet has done wonders for my daughter's complexion. She was beginning to become a recluse. . . is again enjoying all the fun. . . (Mrs. P. L.)

Answer—Acne—oily skin, blackheads and pimples—is a physiological concomitant of the early teens. It has no significance, even though it embarrasses a boy and makes a girl unhappy. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask in writing for pamphlet on Acne.

Algebra

Algebra should be studied by medical or premedical students because it facilitates the solution of physics and chemistry problems. (Dr. L.)

Answer—For instance? Can't anybody give me an instance which an ignorant man like me can understand?

Throat Exercise
I have long believed that throat and face exercises should be helpful—de-lightful read about your advocacy of such exercise. . . pamphlet on Tinnitus. (G. O.)

Answer—Directions for such exercises are given in the pamphlet on Head Noises and Deafness, available on written (of course signed) request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope. The exercises are beneficial not only for tinnitus (head noises) and deafness but for snoring, too.

Soaks Up Boos

We hope you will have something to say about the recent Army order permitting the sale of alcoholic liquor by the bottle or drink in commissioned officers' messes. . . (C. H. S.)

Answer—Well, why restrict Army officers and sanction or ignore the crapulous conduct of big and little government officials in Washington!

Citrus Fruit

For many years I have consumed citrus fruit daily. Now my arthritis friends are horrified—they say citrus fruits has been proven a cause of arthritis. (H. M.)

Answer—Your friends are seriously mistaken. Liberal daily consumption of citrus fruit or fruit juices is healthful for any one who likes it.

Vitamin D

According to your teaching an expectant mother needs daily calcium and D to insure a good supply of milk for her baby. When I obtained a prescription my doctor said a 25,000 unit dose daily is dangerous if not taken carefully. . . (Mrs. T. M.)

Answer—I do not advise so much vitamin D for any one. From 1,000 to 2,500 units of vitamin D daily should be enough for any one. Vitamin D (sunshine vitamin) doesn't particularly insure good milk supply. It is essential for the expectant mother because her growing child needs it to develop normally and can get it only from the mother's blood.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to discuss diseases or treatments, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Sees Hard Fight in '54 Election

GOP Chairman Says People Will Not Burden Ike With Dem Congress

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—The American people "have no desire to tie one arm behind Ike's back by saddling him with a Democratic Congress next year," the national chairman of the Republican party said last night.

Leonard Hall told a dinner meeting of Kansas Republicans that a victory in the 1954 elections would require a hard fight.

Earlier, Hall's predecessor in the national chairmanship, Wesley Roberts, received a standing ovation at the state committee meeting. He was presented with a silver tray by the national party organization bearing the signatures of President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon and the late Sen. Robert A. Taft among more than 200 others.

Roberts, a Kansan, resigned the national chairmanship under fire after a Kansas legislative committee held he violated the spirit of the lobbying law in handling a 1951 building sale to the state.

Roy W. Cox, 65-year-old Iowa grain dealer, was elected state chairman by the Kansas Republicans.

Hall told the $25 a plate meeting that on the domestic front the Republican administration was cutting "the huge socialistic super structure which we call the federal bureaucracy."

He also said the Eisenhower administration is charting the only course that ever has been successful against the menace of communism—firmness and a sound national defense policy.

Landon Unheralded at GOP Dinner

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Star said last night that Alf M. Landon, 1936 Republican presidential candidate, was not invited to sit at the speakers' table at the Kansas party's harmony meeting and victory dinner in Topeka.

In a special dispatch from its Topeka Bureau, the Star said Landon "sat inconspicuously among other party members" and quoted him as saying:

"I have had honors which come to few men from the Republican party. I am conscious of my obligations and responsibilities to my party, and I am deeply grateful to the several million Democrats who voted for me.

"Whether I sit on one more dais or not is a matter of indifference to me. My only concern is to be of some use to my country first and my party second."

Close Willow Plant Deal in Phone Booth

DETROIT (AP)—One of the automotive industry's biggest deals, the $26,000,000 purchase of the Willow Run plant by General Motors, was completed in a pay station phone booth it was learned here.

Negotiations between Kaiser Motors Corp. and GM were under way last Tuesday and Harlow H. Curcio, president of General Motors Corp., waited for confirmation of the purchase from Edgar F. Kaiser in Washington.

Meanwhile, he was scheduled to make a luncheon address before the Fisher Body management group at a downtown hotel.

Curcio refused to cancel the speech and left his office to attend the luncheon. The phone call from Kaiser caught him there and the two executives closed the deal in a hotel phone booth.

To Remove Damn, Hell From GI Film Talk

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The words "damn" and "hell" will be withdrawn from the movie, "Cease Fire," made by real soldiers in Korea.

Producer Hal Wallis said yesterday that more delicate words will be substituted in the script as a result of the refusal of the Motion Picture Association of America to give the picture its seal of approval.

Starlet Joan Dixon Sues Ted Briskin for Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Movie starlet Joan Dixon sued Chicago camera manufacturer Ted Briskin for divorce yesterday, alleging that their marriage lasted only 21 days when he abandoned her last year. Briskin, former husband of Betty Hutton, sued Miss Dixon for divorce last January, alleging she beat him twice. The suit was not brought to trial, however.

Man Gets 2 to 14 Years for Passing Bad Checks

A 2 to 14 year prison term was imposed on James Gibson, 21, of 133 W. Brooklyn St., by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty yesterday on a charge of passing bad checks.

Gibson pleaded guilty Oct. 23 to issuing a $20 check, knowing he didn't have enough money in the bank to cover it. He will serve his term in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

Chief Straley Announces Statewide Safety Program

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley today announced that Pontiac's Police Department is cooperating in a statewide traffic safety program during November, December and January.

As one feature of the program the department is sponsoring a series of brief illustrated articles entitled "Unwritten Laws of the Road," which will appear in the Pontiac Press.

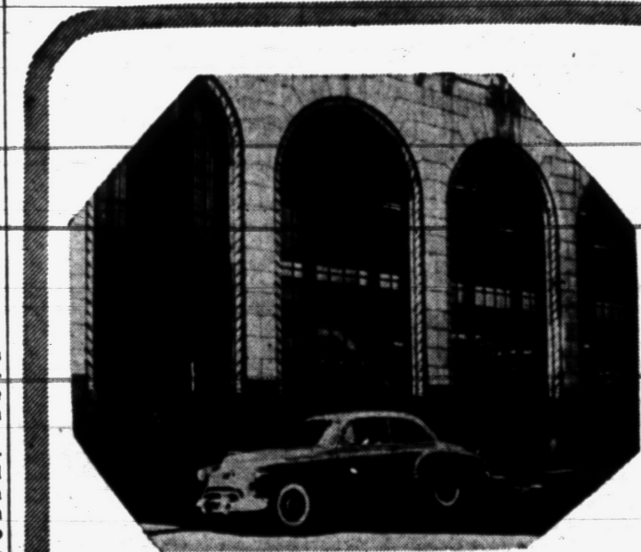

These articles were prepared under the joint sponsorship of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, Michigan State Safety Commission and the Automobile Club of Michigan. The first appears herewith.

"All motorists and pedestrians are urged to study the illustrations because they represent the most common types of difficulty which result from mixing the man on foot with the man on wheels in the traffic stream," Chief Straley said.

"In traffic it's what you don't know and don't understand, and therefore not prepared for, that gets you into trouble," he added.

According to the chief any motorist or pedestrian who learns these 10 lessons will be less apt to become involved in a pedestrian accident than one who has not thought out these practical situations.

This is the season when dangerous conditions "gang up" on motorists and pedestrians. If it is twice as hard to drive safely at night, then it must be three times as hard to drive equally safely when it's dark and raining. And it's probably four times as hard to drive equally safely when it's dark.

Four Get Probation on Weapons Count

Two year probation and $100 costs each were imposed on four youths Friday by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty on charges of carrying concealed weapons.

They are Tilton Glenn, 19, of 17408 Arlington St. and John Box, 18, of 20224 Washburn St., both of Detroit, and Edward Bradford Jr., 21, of 21687 Glenfield St. and Jayward Walker, 19, of 10683 Eckley Ct., both of Ferndale.

The four pleaded guilty to the charge Nov. 3.

Probation Given Youth on Breakin Charge

Donald Bostwick, 17, of 1301 Clarkston Rd., Lake Orion, was placed on two years probation and assessed $100 costs Friday by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty on a charge of breaking and entering.

He pleaded guilty Oct. 30 to breaking into an auto agency at 51 N. Broadway, Lake Orion, and stealing a pay check and $42 in cash. Restitution has been made by Bostwick.

Home Made Nitro Creates Tense Moments

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Julius Kaplan's chemistry lesson began in the basement of his home this week and ended 500 feet out in the Ohio River.

Some of his teachers along the way included firemen, policemen, Coast Guardsmen and an Army detachment.

They spent a tense two hours disposing of the 17-year-old boy's product—about two pounds of TNT. With more than a year's experience in chemistry and a textbook to guide him, Jules figured he could make nitro-glycerine, so he borrowed the ingredients from school Thursday and went to work in his basement.

The next day he began brooding about his achievement and called the Fire Prevention Bureau.

Since it had no nitro experts, the bureau communicated with Ft. Knox and was told to evacuate the eight people in the house.

Several hours later, two fire cars arrived, followed by a jeep with bomb experts from the Army post. They poured the frothing liquid into a metal pail filled with sawdust, carried it to the fire car and headed for the river, where a Coast Guard boat was waiting.

A safe distance from shore, the pail was lowered into the water at the end of a 50-foot rope and sank from sight.

"You could hear the silence," said fire prevention Inspector Franklin Morgan. "And then you could hear seven sighs of relief."

At home, Jules also breathed a sigh of relief. But he added: "It hasn't dampened my enthusiasm for science."

Arthur Godfrey Again at Peace With Coal People

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The anthracite industry and Arthur Godfrey apparently have come to an understanding.

Tempers of hard coal producers burned as hot as their product when Godfrey commented about the old time inconvenience of using anthracite. He made the remark on his Wednesday night television show.

The Anthracite Information Bureau retorted:

"His remarks were not contemporary enough and did not take into account some of the new automatic methods of burning fuel."

Godfrey yesterday apologized on his radio show. He said he didn't mean what his critics thought he meant.

"It doesn't make any difference what you say on the radio or the television—no matter what you say—what you do, you always say it wrong, never say it right," Godfrey said, adding he hoped "the people in the coal business realize that I didn't want to hurt you."

"I used to be a coal miner myself," Godfrey said. "I know what it is. What I was talking about was who wants the good old days."

Sitter Rescues Tots, Helps Save Home

TAMPA, Idaho (AP)—Firemen credited a 17-year-old baby sitter yesterday with saving the lives of four youngsters and fighting a single-handed battle to keep their home from burning down.

The baby sitter, Shirley Lenz, rushed the children to the safety of a nearby car when fire broke out in a kitchen wall late Thursday night. She fought the flames with a container of water until firemen arrived.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Hyslop, arrived home from a square dance to find Julie Ann, 5; Lynn, 7; Jimmie, 5; and Sara, 4, watching the flames in wonder. They were wrapped in warm blankets.

Two Ferndale Men Get Probation for Larceny

Two Ferndale men were placed on two years probation and assessed $50 costs yesterday on a charge of larceny from a car when they appeared before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Mack Jones Jr., 20, of 21206 Westview St. and Andrew Thomas, 19, of 21401 Downing St., pleaded guilty Nov. 3 to stealing two wheels and tires from an automobile last June 13.

4-Year-Old Boy Falls From Moving Automobile

A four-year-old Orion Township boy was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital yesterday, after he fell from a moving car on Baldwin Road in Orion Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Richard Dissmore, son of Lloyd G. Dissmore of 1800 Lakeview Dr., is reported in good condition today at the hospital. He suffered possible head injuries.

Reflections

"WHAT WE HAVE DONE"

by J. Lee Voorhees

"We judge ourselves by what we feel capable of doing; others judge us by what we have done," was Longfellow's way of picking the bubble of an inflated ego.

A ball player is acclaimed when he makes the WINNING RUN; a teacher stands in the spotlight when her pupils GRASP her instructions; a farmer BANKS profit in ratio to his knowledge of seeds, soil and animals; our greatest ministers are those men who GAVE their auditors thoughts by which they live rich lives; business men SUCCEEDED when their customers trade with them after years of trial.

A Soap Box orator thrives on his crowd and generally has ridicule for recompense; he feels greater capabilities than he can deliver. The boasting braggart has derisive smiles but the person who does, and lets others discover his virtues, stands on the horizon of acceptance.

It isn't what you say; it's what you do that brings the mantle of approbation.

LYNDON SALATHIEL

The choir of First Presbyterian Church, under the direction of Lyndon Salathiel, will present a "Festival of Anthems Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in the Sashabaw Presbyterian Church on Maybee road.

The program will be in dedication of the new organ recently installed.

Salathiel will play "Andante Cantabile (Fifth Symphony) by Tschalkowsky for the prelude and "Festival March in D" by Mallard for the postlude.

Anthems of praise will include "The Lord Is My Light" by Protheroe, "The 150 Psalm" by Franck, "Rise Up, Rise Up O Men of God" by Reed and "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains" by Harker. Mrs. B. B. Kimball will be the soprano soloist.

In the anthems of Prayer and Consolation, the numbers are "Out of the Depths" by James, "Did Not Our Hearts Burn Within Us" by Salathiel, "My God and I" by Sergei and "I Waited for the Lord" by Mendelssohn. Mrs. John B. Nicolls Jr. and Royce Everett will be soloists.

Another group will feature anthems of Thanksgiving. They are "He Shall Come Down Like Rain" by Buck, "We Thank Thee, Lord" by Boriniansky, "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem" by Maunder and "O Divine Redeemer" by Gounod. In this group Mrs. Michael Siano will be soprano soloist.

"Words of Christ" have been chosen for the last two numbers: The Beatitudes by Evans and "Choral Benediction and Seven Fold Amen" by Lutkin.

Will Be Speaker at Youth Rally

Rev. Robert Fischer to Take Part in Service at Baptist Church

Guest speaker at the youth rally tonight in Perry Park Baptist Church will be the Rev. Robert Fischer, associate pastor at First Baptist Church here.

Sponsored by young people from several Baptist Churches in Pontiac, this is the second rally of the season, and all young people of the city are invited.

Group singing will be under the direction of Arthur Dalby of Silvercrest Baptist Church, with Mrs. Dalby as pianist. Donald Plumb of Marimont Baptist Church will give a trumpet solo and a Girl's Trio from the Gillingville Baptist Church will sing.

Following the service a fellowship hour with refreshments has been planned.

Bonds for Israel Banquet Slated

Two well-known speakers will be heard Sunday evening at B'Nai Israel Congregation, Oneida and Menominee Roads. They will be speaking at the "Bonds for Israel" banquet at 6 p. m.

James G. McDonald, first ambassador to Israel, and Rabbi Charles E. Shulman, spiritual leader of Riverdale Temple in New York City, are scheduled to speak.

Rabbi Shulman also is a member of the executive committee of the New York Board of Rabbis and of the Synagogue Commission of the Union of Hebrew Congregations. He is an author.

Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 26; 'Pray for Enduring Peace'

President Eisenhower officially designated Thursday, Nov. 26, as Thanksgiving Day in a proclamation asking Americans to pray for "wisdom in our striving for a better world."

Text of the proclamation follows: "As a nation much blessed, we feel impelled at harvest time to follow the tradition handed down by our Pilgrim Fathers of pausing from our labors for one day to render thanks to Almighty God for His bounties. Now that the year is drawing to a close, once again it is fitting that we incline our thoughts to His mercies and offer to Him our special prayers of gratitude.

"For the courage and vision of our forebears who settled a wilderness and founded a nation; for the 'blessings of liberty' which the framers of our Constitution sought to secure for themselves and for their posterity, and which are so abundantly realized in our land today; for the unity of spirit which has made our country strong; and for the continuing faith under His guidance that has kept us a religious people with freedom of worship for all, we should kneel in humble thanksgiving.

"Especially are we grateful this year for the truce in battle-weary Korea, which gives to anxious men and women throughout the world the hope that there may be an enduring peace."

"Now, therefore, I, Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States of America, in consonance with the joint resolution of Congress approved Dec. 26, 1941, do hereby call upon our people to observe Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of November, 1953, as a day of national thanksgiving. On that day let all of us, in accordance with our hallowed custom, foregather in our respective places of worship and bow before God in contrition for our sins, in supplication for wisdom in our striving for a better world, and in gratitude for the manifold blessing he has bestowed upon us and upon our fellow men.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

"Done at the City of Washington this seventh day of November in the year of Our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-three and of the independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and seventy-eighth."

Mayflower Compact Is of Value to All Americans

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER
In 1620 the Pilgrims signed what is now known as the Mayflower Compact. They did not realize that they were establishing the first constitutional government on this continent.

The purpose of the Compact was to get the signed promises of certain restless members of the group, who were unhappy about the location where the new colony was about to be set up.

The original plan had been to land in Virginia, and when the course was changed to what is now Cape Cod, some of the brethren threatened to desert and strike out for themselves as soon as they reached shore.

The leaders drew up the Compact and made everyone sign it before the ship was allowed to touch land.

The important significance of this document, however, is not that it solved an immediate problem for the Pilgrims. Rather, the Mayflower Compact is of value to all Americans because of its religious nature.

The Pilgrims simply took a typical "church covenant" of the times and made it include the civil government, too.

It means that the very first constitutional government in this country was from start to finish a religious covenant.

I Samuel, chapter 17, verses 4 to 7, you will find that the giant Goliath, whom young David killed with a well-aimed stone from his slingshot, was six cubits and a span tall.

Church Planning Family Night

Presbyterians Will Meet Wednesday Evening for Dinner, Discussions

Family night will be observed with a dinner in First Presbyterian Church Wednesday evening.

The program will include a brief musical program under the direction of Lyndon Salathiel, after which the group will divide into three sections using the African designation of "Palaver Houses."

Two short plays will be given by children of the primary and junior departments, entitled "Mpenge of the Congo" and "Chama's Choice," respectively.

The second group will hear a panel discussion on "The Challenge of Africa." Bruce Robertson, Wayne Ostrander, Douglas Bartlett, Charlene McCarthar, Pat Mann and Carol Feneley will participate.

The third group will present Mrs. Jessie B. Woolfenden of Birmingham as inspirational speaker.

Given under the sponsorship of the Women's Association, with Mrs. Leslie Ellis, Mrs. Floyd Short and Mrs. Edward D. Auchard as chairmen, the meeting will close with a devotional message by the associate pastor, the Rev. Mr. Auchard on behalf of the Men's club.

Restore Roman Crypt

A Romanesque crypt under the Late Gothic choir of St. Andrew's Church in Cologne, Germany, buried under rubble since 1420, has been excavated and will be restored.

It consists of three naves with six vaults and an apsidal eastern end. After restoration, the crypt will harbor the shrine of St. Albertus Magnus.

Baptist Group to Incorporate

Marimont Parishioners to Become Independent Body After 15 Years

Marimont Baptist Church is in the process of becoming an independent Baptist Church. Marimont Baptist has been a branch of the First Baptist Church here for 15 years and its Sunday School was organized 20 years ago.

Following a favorable and an understanding vote by the "mother church," an incorporation night is planned for Wednesday evening. A new constitution has been accepted by the Marimont Church.

A fellowship supper for all charter members has been planned for Friday evening, with Kenneth Hempstead representing First Church as guest speaker. The Howard School family will furnish special music.

Next Sunday will be designated "Independence Day," with the Rev. Ray Hein, state missionary of the Conservative Baptist Association of Michigan, as guest speaker at the 11 a.m. worship service.

The church will be decorated with the traditional Harvest Home and Thanksgiving setting which also will furnish the setting for the Thanksgiving service being held in the church at 10 a.m. Thanksgiving Day.

The Rev. David Mortensen is pastor.

Confident Living

Do Something for Others to Forget Own Troubles

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I was preparing to leave my office late one Sunday night when the telephone rang. The call was from a man I did not know; he said he was staying at a hotel in a nearby city.

"I just don't know what to do," he said. "I haven't been able to sleep. I'm so discouraged, I'm sunk. And tomorrow at three I have to meet the greatest crisis of my whole life. If things don't go right, I'm finished."

"Wait a minute," I told him. "How many years have you been allowed in life so far?"

"Forty-seven," he said.

"Haven't you got through a good many crises in all those years?" I reminded him. "Nothing is ever quite as bad as it sounds. Just say to yourself, 'If things don't go right tomorrow, there'll be other days.'"

"I could almost feel him relax a bit at the other end of the line."

"Maybe I'm too hot up about this," he said. "What do you think is wrong with me?"

"Well," I answered, "I can't see you, but from our conversation, I would say you seem depressed."

"You won't get anywhere that way," I insisted. "If you lack confidence and affirm defeat, you will draw failure to you. If you have confidence and affirm faith, you draw success."

"How in the world," he demanded, "do I get confidence when I'm in a situation such as this?"

"Begin by asserting to yourself that you will stop worrying about tomorrow afternoon," I advised.

"Then sit down in a chair and get calm and relaxed. Now tell me, who are you thinking about most?"

"Why, myself," he answered promptly.

"That's one reason you're depressed. You must immediately do something for someone else. Have you given anything to anyone lately?" I asked. "Or done anything for anyone?"

"No, I haven't," he admitted.

"Then go to the Salvation Army tomorrow morning and make a contribution. This will help you to forget yourself, to get outside yourself where your creative powers are bogged down."

"Then start to pray, not in a spirit of panic, but in calm faith that you are getting your answer. Pray a prayer of thanksgiving—be thankful you're well and strong enough to lift up the phone and talk to me, or anyone else."

My caller agreed to try this.

"You have a lot to be thankful about," I continued. "Your crisis needn't be a crisis—it can be an opportunity. Be thankful for that opportunity."

"And pray with faith and hope and expectancy and optimism. If you do this, I think that three o'clock engagement will turn out better than you think."

He said goodnight and I did not hear from him again until some months later, when he came to see me.

"Dr. Peale," he said, "when I called you, I was steeped in gloom. I couldn't think; I couldn't do anything. I'd lost all my confidence."

"Loss of confidence will always sap your creative ability," I told him.

"It sure did do that to me. But I followed your advice and began to build it up again. The results have been far better than I expected. You won't find me depressed again. I've learned to find confidence through faith."

How right he was! If you are depressed about anything, try the method that proved so effective for this man. Pray prayers of thanksgiving.

Do something for someone else. Get outside yourself. Become calm and quiet and think of the text, "Give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good."

Believe in and practice the creative power of confidence and it will work miracles in your life.

Churches Urged to Oppose Reds

Ask All Denominations to Support U. S. Fight Against Aggression

By Religious News Service
CLEVELAND — Protestants of all denominations have been called to support the United States in its fight on Soviet aggression and to "further the cause of justice and freedom throughout the world."

Addressing the opening general session of the National Study Conference on the Churches and World Order, Episcopal Bishop Angus Dun of Washington, D. C., described the contest with the Communists as the first major issue before the country.

"The other is to avoid a third world war," he said. "To adhere to these two objectives requires sustained commitment and restraint that will test our moral fiber to the breaking point."

More than 400 lay and clerical delegates representing 30 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox communions attended the conference sponsored by the National Council of Churches.

At the outset of his address on "The Christian Faith and International Responsibility," Bishop Dun declared that "we are confronted by a revolutionary upheaval."

"The main focus of this ferment is in Asia, but it is a powerful force in the Middle East and in Africa," he said.

"Many forces combine to produce the violent eruptions in these areas: passionate nationalism, a revolt against hunger and misery, deep resentment against racial arrogance and the discriminatory practices of the dominant peoples of the west."

"As Christians in a technically advanced society we have," he said, "a special obligation to recognize the creative and destructive possibilities in this widespread ferment."

Plan Catholic Cathedral for African Diocese

By Religious News Service
NAIROBI, Kenya Colony — Materials are being assembled at Mbeya, Southern Tanganyika, for a new Roman Catholic cathedral to be the seat of the Diocese of Mbeya, one of 18 created by Pope Pius XII last April when he set up an East African Hierarchy.

Brother Hugo, who has supervised construction of six mission stations and other church buildings since arriving in the territory in 1932, is in charge of the work at Mbeya.

He said it is hoped the cathedral will be ready for dedication by Easter, 1955. Adjoining cloisters and gardens, already under way, should be completed in time to hold an outdoor midnight Mass in them by Christmas.

Cathedral Rededication Follows Reconstruction

The famous Kaiserdom (Emperor's Cathedral) in Frankfurt, Germany, where for centuries the German emperors were crowned, will be re-consecrated on November 28, making the completion of its reconstruction after heavy war damage.

This is the fourth time the great structure, landmark of Frankfurt, has been consecrated, the first time being on Aug. 20, 1239, by Bishop Ludolf of Ratzeburg. In 1250 and in 1877 re-consecrations were held after the cathedral had been damaged by fire.

Song Writing, Like Penning Stories, Has Great Allure for Most Women

But Composing Is Rated as Very Risky Business That Seldom Earns Profit

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Remember the television show "Songs for Sale"? A friend of mine who used to work on it told me that every week they received hundreds and hundreds of songs from would-be song writers — and I can believe it!

Next to story writing, song writing seems to be a dream that most women indulge in at one or another time in their lives.

The following suggestions on the field are especially directed to F. R. J. R. and I. L., in answer to their letters.

Song writing is the riskiest business in the world, and the hardest from which to realize any cash.

Don't, for heaven's sake, write songs in order to make money to pay debts. Your chances are really about one in 10,000.

And don't fall for the blandishments of advertisers who claim that for one dollar, or two, or whatever, they will have your words set to music, or your music fitted with words.

All you'll get is one copy of a make-believe song, and a bad one, too. It will never be in the proper sense, published, and nobody will ever play it or sing it, and you will make no money.

Don't take the word of friends who think your song is just lovely. They may only be saying the kind thing, and they probably don't know a good—or saleable—song if they hear one.

Try to get somebody with some musical background to give you an opinion.

If your song is any good, don't mail it to a song publisher. They will probably return it unopened—not because they are mean, but because they cannot possibly take the chance of having you sue, someday, when a song remotely like it is published.

There are only so many notes, and they may use those same notes in a similar combination some day of their own accord. So they cannot open your package and hear your song.

The only way I know of that has ever worked, for an amateur, is this: Write your song, with a decent piano arrangement, and sign it before a notary.

Then talk to a small orchestra leader in your town—at the night club, or a country club, or any local orchestra you can find.

See if he will perform it—and have his vocalist sing it. He may, for the sake of the "local talent" angle, if the song is any good.

Then, if enough people hear it, like it, and request it, he may be able to get a publisher to take it for you. And he may not.

But this is the only way I know of for a beginner to go about it—short of marrying Bing Crosby or being related to Rosemary Clooney.

Trabajamas Plans Dance November 21

November means Sadie Hawkins for Trabajamas Club.

Members are busy planning for the Sadie Hawkins Dance scheduled for Nov. 21 at Roosevelt Temple. The dance will be from 9 o'clock until midnight, and unlike the usual Dogpatch costume affairs, semi-formal attire will be worn.

Sara Hallock, dance chairman, has announced Kay Trager as head of the decorations committee assisted by Martha Varney and Linda Palace.

Carol Doyle and Gail Lewis have charge of tickets and Doris Miller and Dodo Shaw secured patrons.

The duty of selecting a band went to Mary Mount, with the assistance of Carol Borsvold.

Other committee members include Nancy Rondo on publicity with Carol Young and Phyllis Law; Anna Lou Terry, chairman of the refreshment committee, with Pat Farr, Margie Stringer and Anna Davis assisting her.

Sophie Cosmas has charge of prizes, Barbara Tompkins, the hall, and Kay Newlin, post-dance committee.

Mom Bans Money Gifts to Children

Mrs. Post Agrees With Hubby, Sees Nothing Harmful

By EMILY POST

A mother writes: "As a child, I was not allowed to take gifts of money. Now that I have two children I would like them to do the same."

"However, when certain relatives of my husband come to visit us, or we them, they always thrust money into the children's hands upon departure with the request that they buy something for themselves."

"When the children refuse, they say, 'Don't tell your mother until later.' I feel that there is a moral issue involved and that the money should be returned."

"However, my husband sees no harm in the children accepting the money. I would very much like to have your opinion on this as I feel very strongly about it."

Answer: Your husband is right. I see no harm in letting the children keep the money. In fact, it would be very unappreciative for them to refuse it.

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening my wife and I were dining in a restaurant when my employer and his wife came into this same restaurant and were seated at a table next to ours. I greeted them both and exchanged a few words with them, and that was that.

"I did not, however, introduce my wife to them and she is very much put out over it and says that I was very discourteous. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?"

Answer: Since you knew them both and spoke to them both, you were wrong and I agree with your wife.

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently, I had a rather large reception at my house to celebrate our 25th wedding anniversary, and almost everyone brought presents. People kept coming in before I had a chance to open any of the presents so I put them on a table and opened them after everyone had gone.

I was criticized for doing this by a relative who felt I should have opened them while the guests were still there. Will you please tell me if I committed a breach of etiquette.

Answer: During any full-in-receiving you should have opened as many as you possibly could and thanked the givers. Now you will have to write a thank-you note to each.

Dietician Talks to Figure Club

Mrs. Ernest Heckert, chief dietitian at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, was guest speaker at the weekly Fashion-Your-Figure Club meeting at the high school Thursday evening.

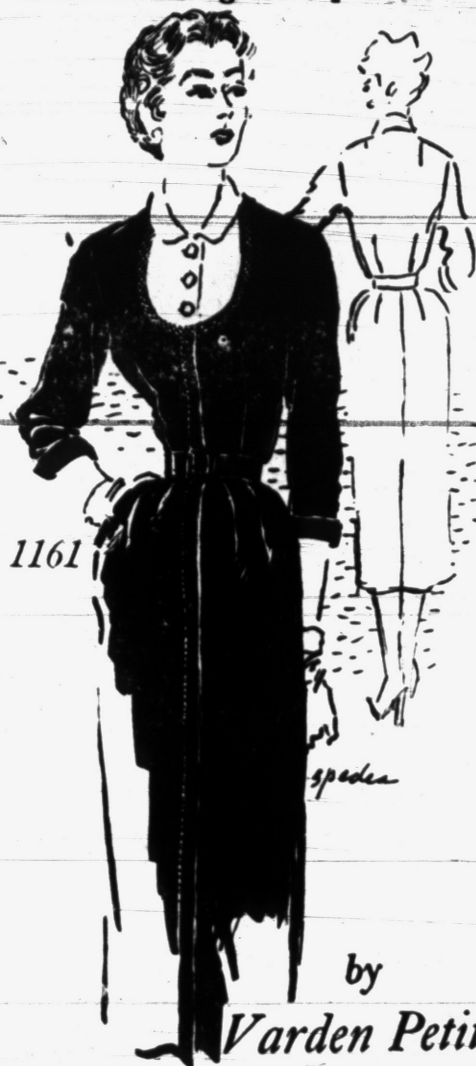

Mrs. Heckert cautioned her audience not to go on fat diets, asserting that hospitals receive patients who have followed extreme diets such as the banana or all-protein types.

"See your doctor before starting any reducing diet, and include food from each of seven basic groups in your daily meals," advised the dietitian. A question-and-answer period followed Mrs. Heckert's speech.

Next Thursday evening Fashion-Your-Figure Club will have a demonstration on care of the skin by Mrs. Edythe McCulloch, Pontiac hair stylist. The club has openings for new members, and further information may be had by phoning Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

Dress for Petite Woman Has Noteworthy Styling

The "little woman" is the object of the affections of some of our best designers and among these is Varden Petite, a house devoted to creating up-to-the minute clothes for our smaller framed, shorter-waisted sisters.

Today's design is a combination of many important fashion points. The dickey, especially if made of a white material, is typical of what Dior says fashion needs: A young, fresh, teen-ager look.

The artful pleating and darts at the front hipline do a trick of making waists look smaller.

Varden originally used black crepe with a red and white-checked dickey and red braid, but made in black velvet with a white satin or faille dickey, it becomes a perfect winter dress-up dress. For day-in day-out wear, it is very smart in tweed with white lines.

Size 12 requires 3 1/2 yards of 39-inch material or 2 1/4 yards of 54-inch material for the dress, and one-half yard of 39-inch material for the gilet.

Wilson, McConnell Hold Open Houses

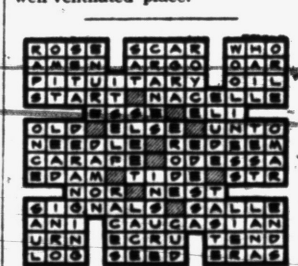

Parents were escorted through Wilson and McConnell Schools Thursday evening as each school observed Education Week with an open house.

Homeroom mothers of Wilson School served coffee and doughnuts to the guests.

McConnell School PTA showed a movie, "The Air Age," at a meeting following the open house, and Mrs. Cecil Lankford reported on the school fair.

Rooms were decorated by the pupils for the occasion, and exhibits were presented.

MSC-UM Conflict Stirs Enthusiasm of Students

By GARY FRINK

The collegiate spirit has burst out on Michigan State College campus in the form of beads, which some students are growing in observance of the annual UM-MSU gridiron conflict today.

Don Blome of Rochester and Wally Crowson of Pleasant Ridge are two seniors participating in the contest.

Gene Bergell of Bloomfield was one of the organizers of the Friday evening pep rally, and after the rally a group of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity pledges was sent to keep an all-night watch on "Sparty."

Gordon Much, Tom Rickeman, Eric Davison, Bob Stribe and Bob Gasser, all of Birmingham, were among those chosen for the task.

This evening parties will take the spotlight.

MSC chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity will entertain the U. of M. chapter with a party. Dick Deskin, MSC Lambda Chi from Bloomfield Hills, will be squiring Martha Waldbillich of Birmingham, a student at U. of M.

Planning to attend a Paddy Murphy Party to be given by SAE this evening are Dave Beatty of Oxford and Arv Kallen of Birmingham.

Jan Elkins will attend the Phi Kappa Tau Pirate Party with Jene Cope, and Mavis Fors, U. of M. student, will be the guest of Delores West and Elvira Bisogni at State.

Pontiac area residents of note on the East Lansing campus are Ann Rutledge of Birmingham, who is an area captain of the Campus Chest, student charity organization, and Roger Langley. Roger, who is also from Birmingham, was recently elected secretary-treasurer of the Young Republican Club on campus.

Navy Mothers Maps Christmas Box Plans

Mrs. Weiler Keebaugh, Mrs. Vinton Ball and Mrs. Mark Kenney were named to the nominating committee Thursday evening when Navy Mothers met at the Naval Training Center.

The group made plans to pack Christmas boxes Friday evening at the home of Mrs. William Christie of Euclid avenue, and an announcement was made of a new club organized in Burlington, Vt., which makes a total of 48 states having Navy Mothers' Clubs.

The next meeting was announced for Dec. 3, due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Society Hears Talk About Temperance

Mrs. Minnie Clemens was guest speaker Thursday evening, before the Pioneer Missionary Society of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church. "Temperance" was her subject.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Walter Naperski, and prayers for Negro missions in the South were offered by Mrs. Ernel Lloyd. Mrs. Peter Niemi, Mrs. Ralph Osborne, Mrs. Flora Howard and Mrs. William McGilvary.

The next meeting, a Christmas party, will be held at the home of Mrs. Richard Kelly on Putnam avenue.

Guns Close at Hand, Deer Hunters Await Big Day

Pontiacers Flee From Cold Climate Begin Annual Trek to Sunny Arizona and Florida

As November reaches the half-way mark, and colder weather peeps around the corner, Pontiac residents begin the annual trek to warmer climates.

Mrs. A. V. Murtha of Erie road is escaping cold Michigan weather as she leaves this weekend for Tucson, Ariz.

Her son, Stephen, will accompany her to Tucson, where she will visit her daughter, Catharine, and from there he will return to his Navy station in California.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Sargent of East South boulevard, with their sons, Billy and Leonard, left for Ft. Myers, Fla., recently for the winter season.

After 30 years as Pontiac residents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Shannon of Mechanic street are planning to make their new home in Florida. They will leave Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Eames of West Pike street have recently returned from a 10-day stay at Lost Lake Woods Club in Lincoln.

Returning with them was their houseguest, Mrs. Ray Walker of Niagara Falls, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. McIsaac of Harper street returned recently from a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Brown, in Sarnia, Ont.

The Browns observed their 50th wedding anniversary Wednesday.

Robert Jennings of Beaumont, Tex., is the weekend houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Irwin of White Lake.

Mr. Jennings and Mr. Irwin were fraternity brothers at Michigan State College. Today, they and Mrs. Irwin are attending the University of Michigan-Michigan State football game in East Lansing.

Recent visitors to Wheaton College in Wheaton, Ill., for the homecoming celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nelson of Lincoln avenue and Nancy Prevette of Mary Day avenue. All are graduates of the college.

Amy Krueger of Williams street is among the students at Cranbrook Academy of Art this semester. She is studying metalwork under Richard Thomas.

Annabelle Marshbanks, daughter of the Clyde Marshbanks of West Square Lake road, has a major part in the Albion College production, "Othello," which will be presented Dec. 11 and 12.

Ruth Harriett Caswell of Bloomfield Hills has recently become a pledge of Alpha Alpha sorority at Stephens College in Columbia, Mo. She is the daughter of the Frank S. Caswells.

Robert Boss was recently pledged by Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity at Florida Southern College in Lakeland, Fla. He is the son of the Harold A. Bosses of East Iroquois road.

From Marygrove College comes word that Mary Joan Hoffman, daughter of the Samuel Hoffmans of Sylvan Shores drive, and Rita Nord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nord of Ferry avenue, were among the freshmen invested in academic caps and gowns recently.

The ceremonies were in conjunction with the Founder's Day program commemorating the 43rd anniversary of the college.

Announcing the birth of twin girls Nov. 9 in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas James of Monterey boulevard.

Cheryl Lee and Carol Dee are the names chosen for the grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Guy James and Mrs. Joel Sandstrom, all of Michigan avenue. The mother is the former JoAnn Sandstrom.

Dr. and Mrs. Wixom Standish Sibley of Redwood City, Calif., are announcing the birth of a son, Standish Wixom, Nov. 7 in California.

The infant's grandparents are Mrs. Sarah Pickett of San Francisco and Dr. and Mrs. Harry Sibley of Matthews street.

Announcing the birth of a son, David Jr., Oct. 26 in Detroit are Mr. and Mrs. John W. Williams of Royal Oak.

Grandparents are the R. M. Williamses of Lincoln avenue and the Arthur Jarreds of East Lansing.

Agnes E. Shaughnessy Married in Morning Rite

BIRMINGHAM — Agnes Elizabeth Shaughnessy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Shaughnessy of Birmingham boulevard, and Don Joseph Stoddard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Stoddard of Detroit, were married this morning at 10 o'clock in Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church.

The bride wore an ivory satin gown. The portrait neckline of the fitted bodice was outlined in seed pearl and crystal embroidery and the sleeves were long. The full skirt with puffed effect fell to a cathedral train and the bouquet was of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Arlene Unhavy, maid of honor, wore sapphire blue taffeta in ballerina length with a matching velvet headpiece and carried white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. William Shaughnessy and Joanne Mularoni were bridesmaids. Their frocks were raspberry taffeta and their flowers were also white chrysanthemums. John G. Stoddard of South Bend, Ind., was best man and Robert and William Shaughnessy and James J. Buchanan were ushers. A reception followed at Ford Hall in Royal Oak.

The bride wore a tulle veil for the wedding trip to Florida. Her hat and accessories were brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Stoddard will live in Birmingham.

Aluminum Utensils

Cast aluminum utensils are made by melting the metal and pouring it into a mold. Stamped aluminum pots and pans are stamped out of a sheet of cold metal. The cast utensils will last a lifetime if they are given proper care.

Welcome Rebekah to Visit TV Studio

Plans to visit a Detroit television studio were made by members of Welcome Rebekah Lodge 246 Thursday evening when they met at Malta Temple.

The charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Howard Spicer. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Irene Bowen, Mrs. Margaret Crew, Mrs. Furman Huston and Mrs. Harvey May.

Workshop Planned

An arts and crafts workshop for teachers and members of Association for Childhood Education will begin Tuesday at Longfellow School.

Mrs. Harry Hammerbeck will instruct the classes, which will be held from 7 to 9 o'clock in the evening every Tuesday for eight weeks.

For weeks Pontiac area residents who are deer hunters have been keyed up with the excitement that this time of year always brings. These past few days the hunters have been making last minute preparations. Mark Schram (upper right photo) of South East boulevard points out with pride the bullseye which Mrs. Schram got while target practicing.

All set for the opening day Sunday are Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vreeland all of Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake. In the center, right photo, Mrs. Wilson (left) and Mrs. Vreeland talk over recipes for deer meat while Mr. Wilson (second from right) and Mr. Vreeland (right) check their firearms.

Mr. and Mrs. James LaPonsie of Michigan avenue (lower left photo) check the safety features of the gun Mr. LaPonsie will use, while Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leach of Draper avenue (lower right photo) express their enthusiasm while they get the feel of their guns.

Miss Shearer Feted at Party in Brett Home

A miscellaneous shower honoring Virginia Shearer was given Friday evening by Mrs. Gilbert Brett at her home on Osceola drive.

Virginia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Shearer of West Iroquois road, will exchange vows with James E. Bensken Dec. 11 at Bethany Baptist Church.

He is the son of Ralph Bensken of Portland Ore.

Guests at the shower included Rita Flicker, Mrs. John Kish, Mrs. James Laing, Mrs. John Walford, Jane Darrough, Mrs. Curt Wilborne, Marja Wesp and Mrs. Edward Kern.

Others were Mrs. Granville Thompson, Marilyn Shearer, Mrs. Shearer, Mrs. Jack Baughman, Patricia Young, Shirley Avadenka, Mrs. Rose McKillop, Mrs. Charles Neal, Mrs. Stuart Shepard and Mrs. Verne Ernst.

Alpha Xi Alumnae Will Meet Monday

Birmingham Alumnae of Alpha Xi Delta sorority will meet Monday with Mrs. Maurice Dreiffuss of Rockingham road, Royal Oak.

A display and demonstration of Christmas gifts will be given by a mobile gift shop from Dearborn.

Reservations may be made through Mrs. Dreiffuss.

'Cinderella' Ends Successful Run

The Pontiac High School Play-crafter children's theater production "Cinderella" closed Friday afternoon with a matinee performance.

The audience was enthusiastic at all four shows over the lovely sets and the appealing performances of all concerned.

The cast of fine thespians included obtrusive Galitron, played by Burton Belant. This bumbling cousin to Prince Charming kept the viewers literally howling with his deft comical interpretation.

Mrs. Lefurgy Heads Guild 6

Mrs. Willis Lefurgy was elected president of Guild Six, All Saints Episcopal Church, Thursday evening when the group met in the Rose Kneale Room of Stevens Hall.

Other officers elected included Mrs. Albert J. Kimball as vice president, Mrs. R. A. Rutzen, secretary, and Mrs. Clarence Hardenburg, treasurer.

Mrs. Wilfred Whitfield announced Nov. 29 as the date for Guild Six ingathering, which will be held from 3 to 4 o'clock in the Rose Kneale Room.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. William Isgrigg and Mrs. Donald Stearns.

Standish Group Elects Officers for Coming Year

Standish group of First Congregational Church elected Mrs. Sol Kline as their president for the ensuing year when the group met Friday at the home of Mrs. F. G. VanHorn. Helen Moody assisted the hostess.

Fellow officers are Mrs. Donald B. Hogue, vice president; Mrs. E. C. Durphy, secretary, and Mrs. Frank Dohner, treasurer.

Mrs. Malcolm K. Burton presented the program for the day, taking excerpts from "Fun and Philosophy" by William E. Barton known as "Safed the Sage."

The late Mr. Barton who was pastor of Congregational Church of Oak Park, Ill., also wrote the book, "The Soul of Abraham Lincoln" in which he refuted the charge of atheism directed at the former president.

Plans for the Christmas bazaar to be held Dec. 4 at the church were outlined. The group will call their booth, "Kris Kringle's Korner" for miscellaneous items.

Next meeting will be a Christmas meeting in December at the home of Mrs. Dan Kimey on East Huron Street.

Reports Are Given for St. Mary Unit

Reports on unit projects were heard Thursday evening when St. Mary Unit of St. Benedict Church met with Mrs. Blanche Ericson on Osceola drive.

Mrs. William Ford, Mrs. Anton Bego and Mrs. Joseph Albrecht reported on the projects.

Plans were made for the next meeting, which will be a luncheon at Carrie Lee Tearoom in Birmingham Dec. 10.

School Fund Drive to Open

Special Services Open Campaign for Addition to St. Clement

ROMEO — Special services here Sunday at St. Clement Parish Hall will open a parishioner's campaign to raise funds for construction of a proposed four-room addition to St. Clement School.

For the next two weeks, 75 members of the fund-raising committee will contact members of the parish to secure pledges for the fund.

Officials of the drive expect to raise $50,000 of the required $90,000 necessary.

To date parishioners have pledged $10,300. The special gifts committee has announced that it has received $5,000 in its second week of collecting contributions from merchants at Romeo, Washington, Davis and Ray Township.

Milford Installs Parking Meters

Units on Union Street Call for 5-Cent Charge for 2 Hours

MILFORD—More parking meters are being installed here this week with the authorization from the Village Council to J. D. Caswell, superintendent of public works.

The new meters are being installed along Union street in the two newly surfaced blocks between E. Commerce and E. Liberty Sts.

A five-cent charge for two hours' parking will be set up according to the motion authorizing the installation.

The action was taken when Council members felt that it would be impossible to enforce the proposed two-hour parking limit merely by posting signs along the street.

Trustee Joe Gerrard was authorized by council members to ask the police chief to enforce parking meter charges not only in the new area but in other areas off Main street where meters are installed.

Lone Bandit Robs Hazel Park Store

HAZEL PARK — A lone armed bandit held up Tan's Market, 2409 Dequindre, here last night and fled with $200 in cash, according to police.

Owners of the store, Frank and Irene Tanski, said the bandit held them at the point of a .32 caliber revolver and fled north toward Ten Mile road in an old black coupe.

The man was described as about 35 years old, five-foot ten-inches tall and 160 pounds and with crew cut brown hair and a crooked nose. He was wearing khaki trousers.

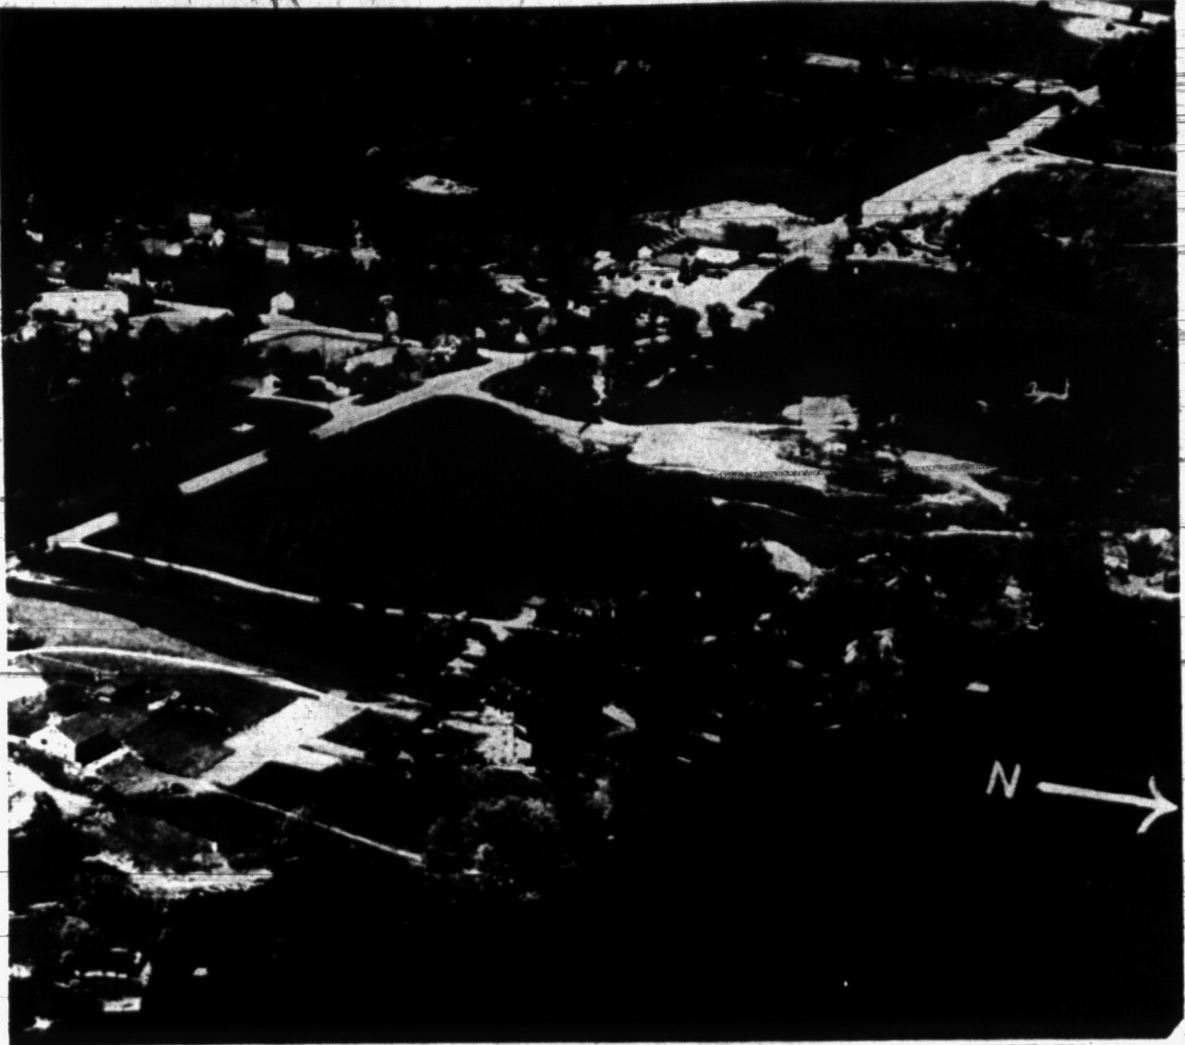

Library to Add New Volumes for Children

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Observing National Book Week next week, the Waterford Community Library will add a number of new children's books, it was announced today by Mrs. O. L. Stegman, librarian.

Mrs. Edward Cox held a story hour in the library, in the CAI building, this morning. Children were invited to attend and check out books free of charge.

"We hope that parents will bring children to enjoy the many features which our building features every Saturday morning," said Mrs. Cox, "and we invite the parents to have a look at the adult books which our library features too."

Library hours are also maintained on Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. when school children are invited to make use of library facilities.

Rochester Sets Bond Vote Date

Ballots Will Be Cast by Area Residents on Issue for Schools Dec. 16

ROCHESTER — Area residents will vote on the new school bond issue Dec. 16, the Rochester Community Board of Education determined at a special meeting last night.

If approved at the polls, the issue will top $1.5 million and will be paid off by a tax assessment of 9.75 mills.

Funds provided by the bond issue would provide for elementary school additions, a new elementary school, purchase of a high school site and construction of a high school.

By a 4-1 vote, the board endorsed the Citizens' Advisory Committee selection of the Townsend property at Livernois and Walton boulevard as the high school site.

The dissenting vote was cast by Board Trustee Earl Dean, who earlier this week had suggested a site 50 acres of the Oxford property at Tienken and North Rochester roads. He said the recent proposition on that site was a better offer.

The regular meeting of the board will be held Tuesday night.

Union Lake PTA Meets on Monday

WALLED LAKE — Miss Nina Kropidloski, elementary consultant, will be speaker at a meeting of Union Lake School PTA Monday at 8 p.m.

After her talk, parents are invited to visit classrooms where teachers will explain new teaching methods and answer questions.

PTA program booklets will be distributed by Mrs. George Schroeder, program chairman, and members of Mrs. James Morton's Girl Scout troop. Mrs. Charles Cox's Brownie Troop 64 is making name tags. Refreshments will be served by mothers of the two sixth grades.

Club Turns In 20 Hospital Gowns

DRAYTON PLAINS—Twenty completed hospital gowns were turned in for the Red Cross when Drayton Birthday Club members met Wednesday to observe Mrs. Floyd Bowren's birthday.

The group also presented 14 dressed dolls slated for donation to Waterford Township's Goodfellow drive.

The club's Christmas party has been scheduled for Dec. 9 at the home of Mrs. Stephen Longair of Sashabaw road.

Mrs. Freeman Hostess

METAMORA — Mrs. Lawrence Freeman of Lapeer will be hostess to Metamora Past Matrons Club Monday at her home on South Saginaw street.

Addison Township Village Was First Settled in 1830

Lakeville is situated in Addison Township in the northeast part of Oakland County, not on any railroad, but with excellent paved highway connections with the outside world.

The community was first settled in 1830 when Samuel Hopkins came from the East and built a dam across Stoney Creek, impounding the waters to turn the wheel of a grist and saw mill.

These back-up waters formed Lakeville Lake, now one of the best known among the 400 lakes in Oakland County. This water power was in use for over a century.

Hopkins was succeeded in a few years by Addison Chamberlain, in whose honor Addison Township was named, and who became a prominent mercantile figure in the community.

The Lakeville post office was established in 1838, the mail coming through the forest by horseback carried from Royal Oak. Several stores, taverns and blacksmith shops followed soon after.

When the Detroit & Bay City Railroad came through in the early 1870s, Lakeville put in a strong bid for it to come that way from Rochester to Lapeer. But it went by way of Oxford instead, and for many years Lakeville was in a dormant stage.

The coming of the era of the automobile and lake cottage was an impetus for the community to take on new life, and Lakeville now is progressive in every way. It never has been incorporated as a village or city, and there now is no sentiment for such action. It comes under the jurisdiction of the Addison Township Board.

Lakeville has some home industry, but many of its residents are employed in Pontiac and other industrial centers.

PTA Discusses Consolidation

Clarkston School Head Outlines Advantages of Sashabaw Meeting

CLARKSTON — Leslie Greene, superintendent of Clarkston Community Schools, described advantages of consolidation to Sashabaw School PTA members at a meeting this week at the school.

The 120 parents present also heard Mrs. Gertrude Ealy, coordinator of West Bloomfield Township Community Schools, explain what report cards should do.

Greene announced that the board of education was making a population survey in the area and would report at a meeting with the local Citizens' Committee on the advisability of drawing up a new school building plan.

Mrs. Ealy told the group that report cards should be instrumental in guiding the student rather than just a report of ability.

Benefit Card Party Set by Romeo Band Parents

ROMEO — The newly organized Romeo Band Parents Club has scheduled a benefit card party for tonight at 8 in the Masonic Hall.

Proceeds from the affair will be used for uniform repairs and replacements, according to Mrs. Charles B. Green, general chairman.

Music Club to Meet

OXFORD — Mrs. Robert Ambrose of St. Clair Shores will discuss early Negro music Monday at a 7:45 p.m. meeting of the Music Club in the home of Mrs. H. J. Brown.

Bird Program Features Color, Sound Movie

MARLETTE — A program on birds was the main item on the agenda when Research Club members met recently at the home of Mrs. Alex Heussner.

Presenting the program, which included two color and sound films, was Mrs. Ruth Frost. Leaflets explaining how to build bird houses and feeding stations were also studied.

In other business, Mrs. Otis Harlan, president, appointed Mrs. Lee Wilson to head an essay contest committee on "What America Means to Me."

The group also announced that it will meet Monday as guests of Snover Literary Club at the home of Mrs. Gordon Smeckert. On Nov. 24, it will be the guest of Philomathean Club at Methodist Church here. Mrs. Mahaffy, who recently visited the Holy Land, will speak.

Rotary Club Hears Parke-Davis Official

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Dr. Harvey M. Merker, director of scientific relations for Parke-Davis and Co., a Detroit pharmaceutical firm, described strides in quality of drugs and medicines made during the past few decades when he spoke to Rotarians here this week.

He also stressed the importance of educating backward countries in food cultivation, improved sanitation, and medicine.

If these countries are aided in this way, it will help halt the spread of Communism, he said.

Milford Monday Club to See 3D Color Film

MILFORD — A three dimensional color film will be shown here at a meeting Monday of the Milford Monday Club at 2 p.m. in Presbyterian Church.

Norman Roth of Pontiac will lecture on the film and other pictures which he took last year in Hawaii. All club members are urged to attend the business meeting.

School Building Permit Issued

$1,200,000 Junior High to Boost Construction in Waterford Area

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A building permit valued at $1,200,000 for Waterford Township's new junior high school boosted proposed building expenditures in this area to $1,320,276 for the period between Oct. 2 to Nov. 7.

Construction of the school, which is located on a 36-acre site north of Elizabeth Lake Rd. on Cass Lake Rd., is underway.

The electorate of the school district last year approved a $1,350,000 bond issue. This was to purchase two high school sites, equip the building now under construction and to landscape the grounds. Architect and legal fees also were included in that amount.

Other permits issued were for nine homes at $36,000; four remodeling and additions at $4,900; three garages at $2,376, and one commercial building valued at $16,000.

Rounding out the list of 20 was a removal permit valued at $1,000.

Pilgrim Club Head Named at Metamora

METAMORA—Mrs. Lloyd Anderson was named president of the Pilgrim Club when the group met recently to elect officers for the coming year.

Others named were Mrs. Carl Andress, vice president; Mrs. George Schenkel, secretary; and Mrs. Lyle Allen, treasurer.

The group also announced that it will hold a fish supper Dec. 4 at Pilgrim Congregational Church. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harry Best when the group's annual Thanksgiving dinner will be served.

Sons and Dads Attend Millford Awards Dinner

MILFORD—Sons and dads—115 of them—had dinner here Wednesday night at the Presbyterian Church.

The occasion was the annual awards dinner for cross-country and football players when athletes and their fathers get together for an evening of fun.

Principal speaker was Fred Tronko, head football coach at Ypsilanti, who spoke on "What the College Coach Expects of his Squad."

The Rev. Charles Richey gave the invocation followed by remarks from school officials including Principal Erwin Johnson.

Community singing was led by Phil Haddrell with Paul Vanston at the piano.

Awards were presented by Coaches Dennis Boyle, Richard Yeager and Russell Gabier.

Ortonville Church Plans Evangelic Services

ORTONVILLE—A special evangelistic mission will be held here at the Methodist Church next week with the Rev. John Bray of the Flint Park Methodist Church in the pulpit.

All residents in the area are invited. Starting tomorrow, the program will begin each evening at 7:30 with the exception of Saturday. There will be special music each night.

Romeo UF Drive for $2,190 Opens

ROMEO — The local United Fund drive opened Friday with a house-to-house canvass of Village residents.

As a unit of the North Macomb County Torch Drive, Romeo's quota is $2,190. Of this $1,140 will go to the United Fund, $350 to the Salvation Army and $450 to the Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council.

The American Red Cross this year is included in the united effort, but will conduct a separate campaign later.

Some 30 Romeo women are in charge of collection in their area.

Holly School Board Sells Two Buildings

HOLLY — The Jones School has been purchased by William Duncan and the Rose Center School by Lester VanDeusen. Both sales were made by the Holly Area Schools Board of Education.

Both buildings were in use for a half-century or more as district schools, but children from the area now are being brought to the Holly schools.

Metropolitan Auxiliary to Meet in CAI Building

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Women's Metropolitan Auxiliary 62 will meet at the CAI building Monday at 8 p.m.

Members dressing dolls are being asked to bring them to the meeting. The dolls will be distributed by the Goodfellows at Christmas time.

Romeo Club Will Hold Thanksgiving Dinner

ROMEO — Meeting Monday for their annual Thanksgiving dinner will be the Romeo Monday Club.

The event will be at the home of Mrs. Wayne Kasuri with serving scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. A musical program will follow the dinner.

Editor Wonders Why TV Stars Lack Color

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (U)—Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene:
A magazine editor was wondering out loud why TV stars lack the color of movie personalities. A good question.

In the past year, there have arisen as many TV fan mags as the movie mags, but the TVers make pretty drab reading. The movie writers have a field day covering the dildos of Ava, Rita, Lana, Chata, Shelley, etc.

The reason for the difference? Maybe it's because the TV stars come into the home; therefore they require a family type of buildup. Or maybe it's because they work too hard and don't have time to get into trouble. Whereas the filmstars have all that free time between pictures . . .

Listen to Vic Damone's version of "Ebb Tide" and you'll swear it's Sinatra singing at you. Why doesn't Vic develop a style of his own?

. . . I go for the current craze of pretty records like "Ebb Tide," "Lime Light," "Story of Three Loves," "The Velvet Glove," etc. You can have the Doggies in the Window . . .

Marilyn Monroe and Joan Crawford have both accepted invitations to tonight's costume ball of the society of Hollywood Press Photographers. Will they bury the hatchet?

After a series of mediocre TV shows, Jimmy Durante's last was superb. Just like his first two or three, which were classics of entertainment . . .

Wonder why you always see the same faces at movie premieres . . . least likely person to be a football fan: Jean Simmons. But you can see her at the Coliseum many a Saturday afternoon . . .

Lots of Biblical epics coming up, but I think they've been overdone already. Next cycles: stories of early Egypt, King Arthur tales. . .

Add things I am weary of: Testimonial affairs for movie executives; Hollywood's drawn-out divorces; disc jockeys who slip in three commercials between records; smog . . . Glamor girls may come and go, but Betty Grable can teach them all lessons . . .

The Danny Thomas Show might do better if it wasn't so soggy with sentiment . . . The Ray Bolger Show seems just right . . .

It makes me cringe to see stars like Peggy Lee and Frank Sinatra singing commercials.

Goody Supply Goes to Animals at Reformatory

OKLAHOMA CITY (U)—The mules and cows and hogs at the Federal Reformatory near El Reno, Okla., never had it so good.

By order of U. S. Dist. Judge Stephen Chandler, they will inherit enough goodies to last them for weeks. It will be quite a cookie binge, if they don't mind a weevil or two.

Judge Chandler yesterday ordered seizure of 635 cases of wafers, 164 cases of coconut bars and 161 cases of coconut "pudding" from the Guthrie Biscuit Company's Southport plant.

Federal food inspectors found evidences of weevils there. The judge stipulated that the shipment go into livestock feed at the reformatory.

The True Story Behind That Famous Poker Face!

FIRST SHOWING in PONTIAC

NO ADVANCE IN PRICES!

JOE LOUIS STORY

It all began on an afternoon in May, when an obscure young fighter moved out of his corner at the sound of the bell, threw two punches at his opponent, and watched him collapse on the canvas.

This is Joe's story—his battles and his victories both in the ring and outside it. This his personal, intimate story—as real as his humility . . . as deep-reaching as his love for the girl from Chicago . . . as terrifying as the wicked whispers that plagued him. It's all here, powerfully told with a great cast whose surprise performances will stun you.

Someone once said, "Joe lost his wife, lost his title, lost his money, lost his beloved Chappie . . . but out of it all—he found himself."

In this motion picture you will find all the excitement . . . the adventure . . . the thrills—of a great story of a great guy who had the world in his corner!

Paging Johnny Appleseed

Homes Now Appearing Under Fruit Tree Shade

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

Johnny Appleseed would rub his eyes and take another look if he could see what is taking place in the nearby apple orchards today.

People are building houses amongst the fruit trees.

The subdividers today are the orchardists of yesterday and the Jonathon, Northern Spy, McIntosh and Wealthy find their names recorded on fancy street, road and avenue signs where people now live.

The well-known Romeo apple orchard on its high hill overlooking miles of countryside is staked out for home sites.

Other former apple producing orchards near Rochester, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Waterford and Pontiac are bowing out in favor of the home builder.

It is, generally part of the economic picture. Help is hard to get, report the orchard growers; their materials are expensive and taxes keep going up.

They can make more money by subdividing their land and they don't have to worry about the wind, the rain or an early frost.

But the apple trees are not all being sacrificed in the interests of the builder. Bulldozers are sparing many of the trees as they move in to prepare the land for a new home.

Recognizing the intrinsic value of the apple tree as part of the total landscape planning of the home site, the builders and land developers are pointing out that the dream about waking up in an apple orchard in full bloom can become a reality.

Not only the beauty of the trees, but another practical factor favors the selection of orchard plats. Most orchards have been planted in areas where there is plenty of good natural drainage. This terrain is particularly good for home sites. Sub-soil invites foundations and provides a good base for top soil for fine lawns.

Apple trees in your yard invite bird life. Although the blossoming period is short, it is a time of the year when poets and artists for generations have found inspiration for pen and paint brush.

Karl D. Bailey, district horticultural agent for this part of Michigan said that the new chemicals used in spray materials will give the orchard homeowner the bloom, the shade and the beauty of the apple tree without the bother of the spoiled fruit in the fall.

"There are special hormone sprays, if used when the tree is in blossom, that will keep the fruit from forming. The directions for their applications can be found with all these trade sprays.

This is a recommended procedure for small home-owners plots as trying to produce fruit on a small scale is expensive and requires many different operations," said Bailey.

However, apple lovers need have no worry, according to Bailey, about the disappearance of their favorite fruit.

"It is true that smaller areas are being cultivated in apple orchards, but although the number of trees is going down each year, the yield per bushel is going up," he said.

Credit for this, he said, goes to the specialized fruit growing techniques and to new discoveries in the spray fields.

APPLE TREES BOW TO SUBDIVISIONS—"Home is where the apple tree is" in many of Oakland County new housing developments. Jonathans, Northern Spys and Delicious apple trees are being uprooted to make way for home foundations. However, many of the home builders and developers are planning the sites so that some of the apple trees are preserved. Modern science has found a hormone spray which if applied correctly will prolong the life of the tree, give the homeowner the beauty and the shade without the fall crop of apples. Former orchardists are now in the subdividing business. Expense and labor involved in raising apples, they claim, cannot compete with the amount of money they can obtain from selling off these orchards for home sites. The above Jonathan is one of the hundreds in the former Romeo Apple Orchard which is staked out for building sites.

FRANKLIN ROAD ORCHARD HOME—When Francis H. Phelps Jr. chose his own homesite, he selected one at 4351 Franklin Rd., north of Long Lake road, with apple trees in the front yard. Part of a new former orchard homesite development, Phelps constructed his house of field stone, white brick and with some panels of white painted wood siding.

ORCHARD DRIVE—The new Rochdale subdivision west of Rochester was once part of a large apple orchard. New home owners in this development have used the apple trees for shade and beauty cutting out only those that stood in the way of nice lawn plantings. The brick contemporary home owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Hesketh Sr., at 85 Orchard Dr., has wide picture windows across the front and back with full view of the sloping yard and apple trees.

ROMEO ORCHARD AREA—Jonathan trees are in abundance in the front yard of the William Calder home at 8025 West St. Clair St., Romeo. A one-story plan, this home is of cinder block, frame and native field stone. These building materials have a natural affinity for the country look provided by the surrounding apple trees and rolling lawns. Nearby, the old Romeo Orchard is being subdivided for dozens of home sites, and this area, long noted for its fruit growing, is watching the many new homes taking shape in its former orchards.

APPLE LANE—The George Foundation, a vast acreage bounded by West Long Lake, Square Lake, Wabek and Franklin roads, has one area of its housing development in a former apple orchard. On Apple Lane, a winding road overlooking a wooded and lake section, is this contemporary Colonial brick design built by the T. W. Hay Co. of Birmingham. Even a "keeping room" has been included in this early American plan. Rows of apple trees are part of the landscaping in both the front and the rear of this house.

Get Right Brushes for Painting Chores

When you're preparing to paint the walls and woodwork of a room, remember that you'll need a 2 to 2½-inch brush for the woodwork and possibly a long-handled sash brush for the windows.

For walls and ceiling, a roller or 4 to 5-inch brush will make it an easy matter to apply the color swiftly and smoothly. When buying brushes, remember that good brushes hold more paint and enable you to do a smoother job. It's important to take good care of your tools.

Don't overload a brush or scrape it across the rim of a can. And don't ever jab the tips of the bristles into corners.

Timer Turns Off Flame After Food Is Cooked

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — No more hanging around the stove with a stopwatch in hand when the recipe says: "Cook five minutes."

There's a new gas range on the market that will cook your food just as long as you wish, ring a bell to tell you it's done, and then turn off the flame.

The stove, claimed to be the first major improvement in top burner cooking by its manufacturers, features "TBT"—Top Burner Timer.

The left rear burner is attached to a dial. You dial the time you want, turn on the burner and start the cookery. The dial moves around the required time, then shuts off the burner. It also will show you at any stage just how much cooking time is left. In addition, if you want to use the timer for judging the length of time to beat a cake, simply set it the regular way, but don't turn on the burner. It will ring a bell at the end of the scheduled time.

Junior Firms in Business

Eight Companies Sell Stock, Produce Goods in Achievement Program

Pontiac's eight Junior Achievement companies have completed selling their stock and are producing articles for sale, according to William Dean, chairman of the Junior Achievement program here. One group, sponsored by the Standard Oil Co., has begun to retail plastic earring bars made at the Junior Achievement Business Center, 53 Mill St.

Working this year in groups numbering up to 55, the high school boys and girls form companies, issue stock, and plan, make and sell products, said Dean.

The Pontiac Rotary Club was host at a dinner last night in Hotel Waldron attended by all local board members and advisors in the program.

The problem of having too large groups was discussed and the solution advanced of dividing participants into more companies next year, Dean said.

The program began in 1952. It runs from October through May each year, when all companies are liquidated in preparation for a new start the next fall.

Sponsors this year and products being made include Michigan Bell Telephone Co., television tables; General Motors Truck and Coach Division, plastic cribbage boards; Pontiac Rotary Club, magnet memo pads; and the Pontiac Retail store, Christmas card holders.

Others are the Community National Bank, plastic salt and pepper shakers; Fisher Body Division, toys; and Pontiac Motor Division, "Easy-Go," a chemical placed under tires to prevent skidding in snow.

A-Threat May Influence
U.S. Housing Program

WASHINGTON (INS) — The atomic bomb may play an important role in deliberations of a White House committee which soon will recommend a new housing program for the nation.

What steps the government can take to protect home owners from the physical and financial devastation of atomic attack is the question facing the committee in the next few weeks.

As matters stand now, most home owners would lose everything if their homes were destroyed by Russian A-bombs, although many property owners carry fire insurance, virtually all these policies carry clauses voiding them on damages caused by warfare.

Full protection against war damages are considered too costly for most families dealing with private insurance companies but there has been some talk that the government might revive its World War II war damage insurance program to handle the problem.

The Reconstruction Finance Corp. issued nearly nine million policies under the program to business firms and home owners seeking protection for about 140 million dollars worth of property. The cost to holders was 10 cents for every $100 worth of insurance per year or about $10 year for a $10,000 home.

So far, the problem of war damage has remained in the background but increasing evidence of Russia's capability to drop atomic bombs on the U. S. and destroy whole city blocks has a number of housing officials concerned.

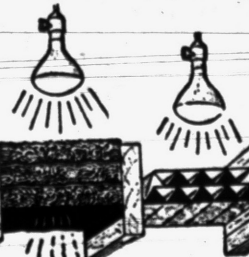

One expert familiar with the situation says he believes the atomic question is "one problem the committee can not possibly ignore."

Chairman Albert M. Cole of the President's housing committee may get into the atomic situation when the question of city redevelopment comes up for review by the group.

Civil Defense authorities have advocated programs of decentralization of the big cities to minimize the effects of atomic disaster. Problems involving slum clearance and public housing are expected to figure in this discussion.

Much of the committee's work has been shrouded in secrecy by

Care in Hanging
Wash Important as Laundering

RALEIGH, N. C. (INS)—Care in hanging out the wash is as important as the laundering. So says Clothing Specialist Julia McIver of North Carolina State College, who offered the following tips:

"Clothes should be hung on the straight of the goods with the pins placed at the firmest part of the garment."

Wet garments, she explained, are heavy and unless hung properly and with care are apt to pull out of shape. Miss McIver added: "Men's shirts, for instance, should be hung by the tails, wrong side out."

She reminded housewives that special precautions should be taken to see that brightly colored garments do not hang in strong sunlight, to avoid fading.

Latest Plastic Miracle...

A LUXURY KITCHEN WORK-SURFACE
FOR AS LOW AS $49.75* COMPLETE

Meet Do-It-Yourself PANELYTE—newest, finest plastic surface yet developed. Goes right over your present top — YOU INSTALL IT!

Say Hello! to an entirely new concept in kitchen renovation...

It's the inexpensive, Install-It-Yourself idea. You get a luxury surface made of a plastic that's been tried, tested and true for over a decade. But you get it at an unbelievably low price—because it is now manufactured in a special form that makes it easy for YOU to install. Famous PANELYTE is the surface — in its new Do-It-Yourself form. You can install it with ordinary hand tools with confidence, as difficult gluing techniques are no longer necessary.

PRACTICAL BECAUSE IT'S DURABLE

Just think! New Do-It-Yourself Panelyte resists stains, cigarette burns, abrasions. Think of what that means in a kitchen surface! It will serve you for years and years and years of constant use.

... And wait till you see its sheen beauty!

You have a wide choice of popular patterns and colors to choose from. Let McCandless' show you actual samples. The colors will last year after year because they're as durable as Panelyte itself.

WAIT TILL YOUR GUESTS SEE IT!

How proud you'll be to show your new kitchen surface to your guests! Chances are they'll guess you paid a lot more than you did. ... And you'll be doubly proud because a member of your family did all the installation.

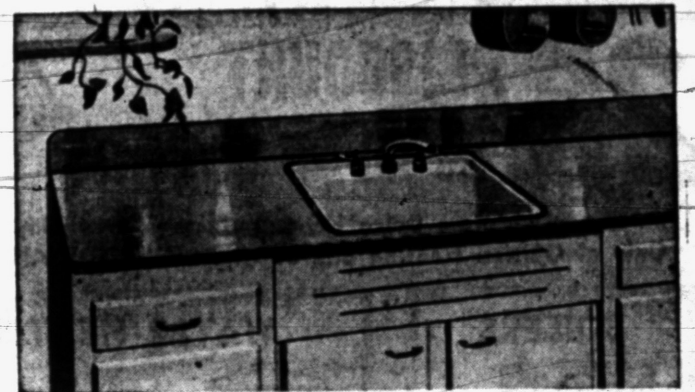

Be among the very first to display this entirely new idea in kitchen redecorating. See Do-It-Yourself Panelyte NOW at McCandless'.

IF YOU WANT A PROFESSIONAL INSTALLATION
...YOUR LOCAL MAN CAN DO IT QUICKLY

McCandless'
WILL INSTALL IT FOR YOU

This is the same high-pressure laminated plastic surface used for years on highest quality dinette tables and kitchen counter-tops.

*Based on current retail prices for standard counter 2' x 10' with backsplash, using your present plywood top.

GLEAMS LIKE A SUBDUED MIRROR

... and you won't have to worry about spilled greases and acids, or be concerned about wear on your sparkling, new Do-It-Yourself Panelyte surface. Panelyte resists 'em all.

4 EASY STEPS AND YOU'VE INSTALLED YOUR OWN PANELYTE

TOOLS NEEDED—hand saw, hacksaw, hammer, screwdriver and drill.

1. Trim your Panelyte to fit over your present surface, with openings for sink, pipes, etc., properly located. (Panelyte comes in pieces large as 4' x 10'.)

2. Anchor rear edge of Panelyte against wall with cove molding. Do same for ends if they touch against walls also.

3. Attach front edge of Panelyte with molding made for purpose. Do same for ends if they are not against wall surfaces.

4. With standard flat-rim sinks, fit special sink rim into place, with caulking, to give neat water-tight fit.

Sandpaper Covers Fine-Coarse Range

If you have trouble remembering grades of sandpaper, take note of these two numbers: No. 8/0 and No. 3 1/2. Grades from the finest to the coarsest range between those numbers.

For sanding woodwork and walls in the home, experts recommend nothing coarser than No. 1 1/2. Use No. 1 1/2 for the first sanding of furniture; No. 0 and 00 for the final sandings. No. 3/0 or 4/0 is the best for the finest finishing work.

VA Loans to Get Closer Scrutiny

Cleveland Investigation Spurs Move for Careful Screening

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration said today managers of its 70 regional offices are being instructed "to screen carefully all loan guaranty activities."

Information Director A. W. Woolford said Ralph Stone, deputy administrator of veterans benefits, was sending letters to the managers as the outgrowth of an investigation at Cleveland on which a report is now being prepared. But Woolford said he did not regard the action as representing a nationwide investigation of the program.

Woolford told a reporter the Cleveland investigation had disclosed at least two instances in which an appraisal of value in connection with a proposed GI home loan had been increased between the time it was filed and the time it reached the lending institution.

"We have no evidence of any malfeasance or crookedness," Woolford said. "It might have been a clerical error, but we don't know yet."

He said Stone is writing the 70 regional offices to screen carefully all their loan guaranty activities.

"He is telling them that if there is any development of irregularities they are to report to him immediately."

Woolford added in connection with the Cleveland investigation that it is likely hearings would have to be held if it should be determined that the change in appraisal value resulted from a clerical error.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER—There may be room for a desk—and a big one—just around the corner. Is there a do-nothing corner in the house? Perhaps not in the living room, but in a bedroom, the sun room or even in the dining room where an empty corner is most likely to be. There may be room enough there for a desk that is big enough for an executive if the wall is used on both sides of the corner, like this. A two-way spread of desk top is very handy, and it can be custom-made by sweeping a plywood top piece over two chests. The chests can be drawer units, or a drawer and a door unit, and they might be either new ready-to-paint pieces or old chests of the right height. Cut a pattern of the top the size and shape that's right for the corner and take it to a lumber dealer who will cut the wood. Finish the top with an extra coat of special damage-resistant varnish, or have the lumber dealer also cut hardy formica in the same shape to cement atop the plywood.

'53 Detroit Area Building Is Leading 1952 by 5,000

Residential building permits issued in the Detroit region during the third quarter of 1953 totaled 8,326, slightly less than during the corresponding period of 1952 when 8,395 were issued, according to a report issued by the Regional Planning Commission today.

"But the high level of building during the first two quarters of 1953," said T. Ledyard Blakeman, executive director of the commission, "shot the nine-month record to 26,797 new dwelling units, more than 5,000 above the 1952 total of 21,517 for the similar period. On October 1, the number of new homes in the region was 24.5 per cent ahead of last year."

"In the city of Detroit, building permits were issued for 4,655 new dwelling units," continued Blakeman. "It is important to note that 2,138 or 46.7 per cent of these were for public housing in the Jeffries and Douglass home projects."

Changing Room Colors Transforms Old to New

The biggest single change you can make does not lie in replacing your furniture or your fabrics, but in changing the room's background color. This, you yourself can do... easily, quickly and inexpensively—with the aid of the countless eye-delecting hues of paint that are now available.

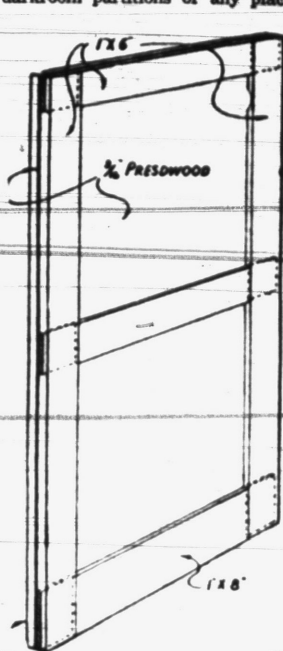

Actually, the ceiling, walls and woodwork of an average room can be re-painted for less than $10. And as for the time it takes, you'll be surprised how rapidly you can apply the color... in a very few hours, at most.

Fill Cracks First

Before re-painting a ceiling—or any other surface, for that matter—make sure that all cracks are carefully filled, then smoothed level with the surface. Small hairline cracks can be filled with spackling material. It sets very rapidly, so you'll be wise to smooth the surface before the filling material is quite dry. This lessens the amount of sanding you'll need to do later.

Plan for Sag-Proof Doors

Sag-proof doors are best applied on a farm, in workshop or darkroom partitions or any place a home handyman is making alterations.

Here is a scheme for a door which always will remain square.

The framework, if the door is not to be larger than 4 by 8 feet, should be 1x4-inch lumber for the top and two sides and 1x2-inch lumber for the bottom. Heavier lumber is needed for larger doors.

The secret of making this frame sag-proof is to use 3/16-inch tempered pressed wood (Masonite) as a core. This material is so rigid and strong that it supplies the no-sag ingredient. It also makes possible the use of lighter framing members.

As illustrated, the framework is halved at the corners and at the intersection of cross-members. After the framework is assembled, the tempered pressed wood is nailed in place.

Over the hard-board panel is nailed the exterior of the door—either dressed and matched flooring or car siding. In either case, the boards are nailed vertically through the hardboard to the framework.

For longer life, both sides of the door should be given a prime coat of good quality paint and two finish coats.

Designer Likes Mass Output

Italian Says American Craftsmen See Their Designs Everywhere

NEW YORK (INS) — American designers have an advantage over European designers, claims Maurizio Tempestini of Italy.

For one thing, he says, Americans can see their designs wherever they go.

But an Italian designer, he explained, doesn't have the benefit of mass production—and his designs normally are hidden under a barrel.

This Italian architect-designer explained that it's the custom on the Continent to hire designers to create not only the architecture of a building but everything inside—from furniture to ashtrays.

All the designs become the property of the building owner and you have to be invited inside to see the designer's work.

So Tempestini was delighted when commissioned to design wrought-iron furniture.

The prospects of thousands of customers enjoying his designs caused him to say: "It is the wonder of America—that so many Americans can afford so much good design."

Tempestini's designs have had considerable influence on U. S. furniture trends. He creates wrought iron pieces so elegant they couldn't be called "porch" furniture.

Tempestini combines his iron with marble or raffia or wicker for new, graceful designs that are much used in "indoor-outdoor" living.

TV Watching Requires Light

Totally Darkened Room Can Cause Eye Strain During Video Viewing

WASHINGTON (INS) — Proper lighting is essential to insure both eye comfort and clear picture when watching television, according to the Rural Electrification Administration.

The government agency says new owners of television sets often make the mistake of thinking that the room should be entirely dark when the television is turned on.

Watching a bright screen in an otherwise dark room may be almost as tiring to the eyes as driving against the glare of oncoming headlights on a dark night.

The sharp contrast between a spot of bright light against surrounding darkness can cause eye fatigue. Subdued general illumination of the room is suggested to avoid both glare and gloom.

To balance the bright light from the screen, low lights may be used—or soft indirect lights placed at the back of the television set, above it or on either side.

If lamps are used, medium-dark shades are better than white or very light-colored shades.

The influence of television may be one reason that more lamps, both floor and table models, are coming out with a three-way switch so that they may be turned low when television is on or higher for other purposes.

The placing of lamps in the room also is important. No light should be located directly in the line of vision toward the screen because it will interfere with a clear picture and also tire the eyes.

No light should be located where it will be reflected on the screen. The reflection causes a bright spot that conceals part of the picture. Also, no light should

GM Planning $300-Million Debenture Bonds Offering

Working Capital Needed by Firm

Huge Industrial Issue to Be Sold December 9; No Funded Debt

NEW YORK (AP)—The board of directors of General Motors Corp. has approved the issuance of 300 million dollars of 25-year debentures, according to board chairman Alfred P. Sloan Jr., and Harlow H. Curtice, president.

GM said the offering will represent the largest industrial issue ever offered publicly in the United States and is expected to be made about Dec. 9 by a nationwide group of investment firms, headed by Morgan Stanley & Co.

Proceeds from the issue will be used in part towards financing the corporation's program of capital expenditures and in part for working capital.

The corporation expects to file a registration statement on the debentures with the Securities and Exchange Commission early next week.

Capital expenditures will have totaled about 1 1/2 billion dollars during the four years ending Dec. 31, 1953, according to GM.

These expenditures are about 700 million in excess of depreciation charges for the period.

The GM announcement said that it believes that on the basis of the present business outlook its rate of capital expenditures will continue at a high level.

In addition, the expansion in sales volume, including substantial sales of defense products, has increased materially the amount of working capital required in the business.

General Motors Corp. itself presently has no funded debt outstanding. GM last offered its securities to the public in November, 1946, when it sold 100 million dollars worth of 3 1/2% preferred stock. The corporation also has a $5 preferred stock issue with a stated value of $183,564,400.

GM has 88,513,817 shares of common stock outstanding, currently selling at about $40 per share.

The corporation has reported net sales of $7,931,026 and net income of $452,798,196 or $5.08 per share of common stock for the first nine months of 1953.

Prior to June, 1950, when the war began, Korea ranked 12th among countries of the world in population, with some 30 million inhabitants.

STATE OF MICHIGAN—In the Probate Court for the County of Oakland, Juvenile Division.

In the matter of the petition, wherein Mary Ann, Linda Lucille and Gordon Timmy Tyler, minors, Cause No. 13138, To Gordon Tyler, father of said children.

Petition having been filed in this Court alleging that the present whereabouts of the father of the said minor children is unknown and the said children are dependent upon the public for support and that said children should be placed under the jurisdiction of this Court.

In the name of the people of the State of Michigan, you are hereby notified that the hearing on said petition will be held at the Court House in the City of Pontiac in said County, on the 24th day of November A.D. 1953, at two o'clock in the afternoon, and you are hereby commanded to appear personally at said hearing.

It being impractical to make personal service hereof, this summons and notice shall be served by publication of a copy one week previous to said hearing in the Pontiac Daily Press a newspaper printed and circulated in said County. Witness, the Honorable Arthur E. Moore, Judge of said Court, in the City of Pontiac in said County, this 12th day of November A.D. 1953.

Hal Boyle Says:

Meet Mr. Jones -- the Guy Always One Step Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — What makes America strong? It's that fellow Jones — the guy the neighbors are trying to keep up with.

Who is he? What is he? What does he believe in?

Jones is the sparkplug of the great middle class, which is the bedrock strength of any well-balanced nation.

Depending on where he lives, Jones may be a farmer, a small businessman, a skilled craftsman, or a white collar office worker.

He probably has only a high school education, but he didn't quit learning after he enrolled in the college of experience.

Jones doesn't understand the cynicism of the idle-rich or the envious poor. His own chief quality is an enthusiastic love of living. He is proud he has fared a bit better in life than perhaps his father did, and he wants to do even better.

Money is not his god, but he has a healthy respect for it — and likes to spend it to make life more comfortable for himself and his family.

Jones is no intellectual and would rather be called a lowbrow than a highbrow, but doesn't want to be regarded as either.

His basic ideas and virtues are old-fashioned, but still widely popular.

He believes in patriotism, fair play, and thinks hard work is the best formula for getting ahead.

He owns a house and a car, and is in debt for both — but he is meeting the payments. He has a life insurance policy, belongs to a lodge and a church, and sometimes on rainy days feels guilty because he skips going to church more often than he misses a lodge meeting.

Jones clings to tradition in many ways. It makes him uneasy to see so many of his friends' marriages break up in divorce. He likes the idea of having one wife and one life at a time.

But he is an adventurer in his own way. He likes to try out new gadgets and new work methods.

Farmer Jones was one of the first in his county to employ contour plowing. Skilled Craftsman

Jones won a company bonus for a simple time-saving idea in his plant.

In every community it is Jones who is first to buy a television set, a new kind of motor car, or air-conditioning machine for his home. It is one of his vanities that he wants to take the first step in his neighborhood toward anything he thinks will make life better.

Jones thinks of himself as a fairly nice guy, and he is. He doesn't care a damn when the soldier for the Red Cross or the Community Fund comes his way.

He crabs about the income tax, but his biggest ambition is to get his income into a bracket that will give him the right to holler even louder.

Sometimes Jones wishes he saved more and didn't have to live quite so close to each payday. He'd like to be piling up a bigger nestegg to leave his kids when he goes, but, after all, what's life insurance for except that?

There are days when worry over the atom and hydrogen bomb shadows his thoughts, but actually his greatest fear is hard times, because he has known them in the past.

At heart Jones wants most to go on being a social pioneer of the 20th century, doing his part in making America more prosperous — and enjoying a rich full life. He is an eternal optimist.

If old age and illness ever catch up with him, Jones will be the first guy in his neighborhood with a jet-propelled wheelchair.

Who is Jones? There are five million Joneses in America. Look around you. Jones is the guy you probably envy because he gets more things done — and a greater kick out of living — than you do.

Jones is simply the man you could be if you had the sense to give yourself a booster shot.

Crude oil production in the United States in 1952 set a new record. It went up from 2,247,711,000 barrels in 1951 to an estimated 2,291,997,000 barrels in 1952—an increase of more than 44 million barrels.

Reception Set for Newcomers

Entertainment, Exhibits to Highlight Wednesday Night Affair

BIRMINGHAM — This year's influx of new residents attending the Newcomers reception at the Community House Wednesday will find the evening highlighted by entertainment and exhibits.

Birmingham High School's yearly Variety Show will be sneak-premiered under the direction of Angelo Angelotti. The 8 p.m. reception for all new residents of the area will feature music and dancing from the show.

Displaying their talents will be Sue McDonald, Beverly Bleakley, David Gibbons and Robert Luscombe.

Other high school performers will be Howard Johnson, Sandy Overgard, Carole and Beverly Negri, Jean Ruslander and Bettye Baker.

In other entertainment, Mrs. William Milligan will present her monologue, "A Day at the Community House," and a tap dance will be done by David Shuh. Mrs. Lawton Tabor heads the entertainment committee.

Among organizations to have exhibits are: Baldwin Library, AALW, Lions Club and Bloomfield Hills Camera Club. Churches planning exhibits include Redeemer Lutheran, Ascension Lutheran and the Christian Science First Church.

Hosts and hostesses for the evening will be former Community House Association President Charles Kass and Mrs. Kass, and present Board Members Mrs. Lawton Tabor, Mrs. Howard Willett, Stanley Fulton, Dexter Horton and their husbands and wives. Newcomers Club President Mrs. Grant Harold and Mr. Harold will also act as hosts.

Optometrists say that good vision is essential to the enjoyment of 3D motion pictures.

Urges Action on Civil Rights

Kentucky Republican Says GOP Should Move on Problem

WASHINGTON (U-P) — Sen. Cooper (R-Ky.) said today the Republicans should try to pass civil rights legislation when Congress meets again, but Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said that would start "a battle royal" in the Senate.

Cooper said in an interview he believes the Republican record in Congress will be decisive in the 1954 elections for 35 Senate seats and all 435 House seats. The Kentucky senator may be opposed for re-election by Alben W. Barkley, Democrat and former vice president.

Cooper said he doesn't believe such issues as the farm problem, budget balancing and tax revisions can be solved by any "quick and magic methods." But he said he doesn't think the Republicans ought to dodge any problems they promised to try to solve.

The civil rights plank of the 1952 GOP platform pledged "legislation to further just and equitable treatment in the area of discriminatory employment practices."

"I think we should make an honest effort to pass some civil rights bills," he said. "It is better to make a fight on civil rights and not just say that no bill can pass because of a filibuster and give up on the issue."

Ellender said in a separate interview he feels the Republicans will be getting off on the wrong foot if they try to bring a compulsory Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) bill before the Senate. In the past he has spoken for days against such measures.

"If they begin debate on the civil rights issue, the Senate may be in session for a long time and may accomplish little or nothing," Ellender said.

The Louisiana senator sat out the 1952 campaign after criticizing Democratic presidential nominee Adlai E. Stevenson for endorsing former President Truman's civil rights program.

"The people want action now and not headlines," Ellender declared. "The Republican party had better get busy and clear its decks for some constructive work on major problems instead of talking about civil rights and Communist activity of years ago."

Lawyers Still Wondering If 'Doodlebug' Is a Fake

DENVER (UP) — Learned attorneys appeared no closer today to the important question of whether the "Doodlebug" can find oil.

The mysterious gadget is the main exhibit in the trial of Silas Newton and Leo Gebauer on confidence game charges.

They are accused of selling three of the machines to Denver Industrialist Herman A. Flader for a total of $24,532.

Howard Hill, independent Los Angeles motion picture producer and amateur archer, testified Friday that Newton and Gebauer showed him a "geophysical gadget" that located a buried oil tank and two buried water pipes in his back yard.

But he couldn't identify either of the two machines exhibited in court as models of the mechanism that worked for him.

Flader identified the two machines in court, saying he paid Gebauer $12,500 for one and $12,000 for the other. He said he also paid $900 for a third machine "which Gebauer said was in the making but I never got."

District Attorney Bert Keating said Gebauer claimed he had used the "Doodlebug" to sink the Japanese submarine fleet during World War II.

He said testimony would show that Gebauer advised Flader to drill for oil near Dove Creek, Wyo., when the "Doodlebug" indicated oil beneath the surface by flashing its red light.

The drilling venture, Keating said, cost Flader $120,000 on a dry well. He said Flader also invested $40,000 in a gas well on the Mojave Desert and another $1,500 in an oil well near Newhall, Calif.

In all, Keating charged, the two men bilked Flader of more than $200,000.

Newton gained attention on March 8, 1950, when he told a Denver University class that flying saucers manned by 36-inch tall men from Venus had landed in this country.

Red Papers in West Zone in Red Ink

FRANKFURT, Germany (U)—Thirteen daily newspapers and a big weekly publish Communist propaganda in West Germany.

The Allied High Commission does not consider their efforts really damaging. An American public affairs officer said today the Communist reading audience is small—200,000 at the most—and the daily doses of propaganda have "only a mild effect."

"The Communist papers used to be hell raisers," he said, "but they aren't any more. Communism has been slipping steadily in West Germany since the peak days of 1946-48. The Sept. 6 elections are proof. The Communists got only 2 percent of the total vote."

The last time the Communist press "really got out of hand" was soon after the start of the Korean War in 1950, the official told a reporter.

"They started printing the worst kind of stuff. They called General MacArthur 'The Butcher of Korea' and they said our GIs were committing atrocious crimes."

The papers then were padlocked one by one by the Allies for three-month periods. Afterwards, they were tamer with only scattered outbursts.

The Communist press has almost no visible means of support. Revenue from circulation and advertisements does not cover production costs. The papers are in the red, more ways than one. They are subsidized from the Soviet zone.

The editors are leading but low-paid functionaries. Their jobs are considered regular party duties. They must be able to turn every item into a Communist-slanted editorial, and see support for communism where none exists.

Almost any Communist can write for the party papers—without pay, of course. "People's correspondents" send in reports on beer hall brawls, rumors of any kind and especially incidents reflecting on the Allies.

Four of the papers are named "Echo."

Lecture Series Begins Tuesday

Mrs. Robert Vogeler Heads List of Speakers on Kiwanis Programs

The Pontiac Kiwanis Club will kickoff its 1953 entertainment series Tuesday at 8 p. m. in Pontiac High School auditorium with Mrs. Robert Vogeler as the program's first speaker.

Mrs. Vogeler, chosen international mother of the year in 1951, will relate the story of her fight against the forces of communism in trying to free her husband, imprisoned by the Red Hungarian government while representing an American firm.

With sympathizers inside Hungary, Mrs. Vogeler planned a daring but abortive attempt to kidnap her husband from his captors. She later secured terms of agreement whereby the Hungarian government would release her husband.

The courageous mother of two children brought these terms to the attention of Secretary of State Dean Acheson in a London meeting of the North Atlantic Council, which later made world headlines.

Finally, Mrs. Vogeler was reunited with her husband at the Hungarian border when he was freed after his 17-month imprisonment.

Police Dispatcher Calls All Cars to 'Go Scrub'

DENVER (U)—There was a note of urgency in the voice of the Denver Police Department radio dispatcher:

"Attention all solo traffic enforcement cars!"

A pause and then: "Today is your washday."

Startled listeners, who have receivers for picking up police calls, were informed that officers were just being reminded that Friday was their day for having their police cars washed.

Man Given Probation, Costs on Arson Count

James G. Butcher, 23, of 323 Ferry St. was placed on two years probation and assessed $100 costs yesterday by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty on a charge of arson.

Butcher pleaded guilty Oct. 30 to setting his auto on fire Sept. 11. Insurance representatives said today Butcher must still pay at least $500 owed a finance company for the auto and that he will never be able to obtain auto insurance again.

Mitchell Hits GOP 'Tactics'

Young Dems Are Told White Case Designed to Offset Setbacks

ST. PAUL, Minn. (U)—Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell says Republicans are using "desperate tactics" in the Harry Dexter White case.

Mitchell told the national convention of Young Democrats last night that Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. had given advance notices to certain top party leaders and newspapers of his Chicago speech a week ago yesterday.

It was in this speech, setting off the White controversy, that Brownell charged former President Truman promoted the late Treasury aide, White, after the FBI reported White was a Russian spy.

Mitchell said he believed the entire White affair was aimed at countering Republican election setbacks.

"Probably never before in history," said Mitchell, "has the chief law officer of the United States, the man who heads the Department of Justice, which is supposed to protect the rights of all the people, so demeaned that high office."

"I know every fair minded person was relieved to hear President Eisenhower disassociate himself from Brownell's whole course."

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) told the delegates yesterday the GOP was playing into the hands of power monopolies and seeking to "poison the minds of Congress and the country against the idea of public power."

Medicine Maker, 92, to Wed Secretary, 50

LOS ANGELES (U)—A 92-year-old medicine manufacturer has obtained a license to wed his 50-year-old private secretary.

George M. Bartlett said yesterday he and Mrs. Sonja du Pont will be married next Thursday. His first wife died last April after a marriage of almost 70 years. He has six children, 18 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

He told newsmen he came to California 55 years ago because of his delicate health.

WANT A GOOD NEW JOB?

If you are interested in life in the country
If you are young (under 40) and happily married.
If you are ambitious and willing to learn (not set in your ways)
If you are innately and inherently neat (sanitary minded) - a respect-mechanic

We will train you for a job which involves delivery and sale of the products of our hundred yr. old, water powered stone ground flour mill.

We will pay $200 per month plus housing in a very nice 12 room house. Plus substantial yr-end achievement bonus. There is opportunity for your wife to work too, if she is interested.

Interviews evenings and all day Saturdays & Sundays by appointment only. References required.
