Blast Demolishes W. Columbia House

Believe Owners on Vacation; Ruins Searched

Windows Shattered by Force of 11:15 Blast in Northeast Section

A single-story frame dwelling at the southeast corner of West Columbia avenue and Carlisle street exploded before noon today, but police believe its owners were away on a Florida vacation.

Force of the blast, which occurred at approximately 11:15, shook the northeast section of the city, and shattered windows in the immediate vicinity.

A retired Fisher Body employe, Leonard Gravitt and his wife, Beatrice, purchased the home about eight months ago.

The house, number 179, was leveled and debris scattered over a wide area.

Portions of the west wall were found 300 feet from the scene by police and firemen, who continued to probe the debris in the event someone may have been in the home.

CAUSE UNKNOWN

Cause of the single explosion was not immediately determined. Adjacent homes were not damaged, beyond broken windows.

Firemen at the scene reported that the gas meter had been shut off, giving credence to the hope that the house had been closed up by the couple.

The blast peeled back the roof of the single-story building, and the east wall collapsed inward.

Mrs. Daryl H. Manning, who lives several doors away, reported the blast blew the window out of her back door. Mrs. Kay Loren, on West Chicago avenue, 12 blocks away, said the explosion shook the ground.

The blast apparently took place beneath the kitchen floor, and blew out several blocks in the foundation.

Fire Marshal Charles Metz began checking the ruins for a possible gas leak, with an explosion meter. Consumers Power crews were digging for the home's gas connection.

Cause of the blast apparently was leaking gas, according to Assistant Fire Chief Max W. Wells, who said a full investigation will be made of where the gas came from and how it was ignited.

Snow, Sleet Bury Region as Blizzard Hits Midwest

Pelted with a double-trouble mixture of four inches of snow and sleet last night, the weatherman could promise no let-up in treacherous driving conditions for Pontiac and the rest of Southern Michigan for the weekend.

Freezing rain or snow is likely for this area tomorrow with temperatures expected to reach a high of 29 to 33 degrees after tonight's expected low of from 24 to 28.

The rest of the eastern half of the nation also felt the sting of fierce snow, sleet and rainstorms during the night.

One man was reported dead and 35 others injured as a tornado sliced through Aberdeen, Miss., causing a reported $750,000 damage and demolishing 20 homes and four stores.

The wind - whipped snow which began falling here at 9 last night was followed by sleet and freezing rain in the early morning hours. The accumulation has closed rural schools today in widespread areas.

'Like a Bomb,' Witness Says of Home Blast

"It sounded like a bomb. When I looked up, the house was in splinters," said Mrs. Lorraine Johnson, 34, of 169 W. Columbia, describing the explosion of a nearby home today.

She said she saw the scene of devastation through her kitchen window, which faces the Gavitt home.

"I was washing dishes," she said. "The blast shattered my window, cracked the plaster on the walls and knocked an ashtray off a table.

"I saw furniture hurled into the street. Venetian blinds were flung into my back yard.

"The house was already leveled. Smoke and flames were coming from the middle of the ruins.

"I ran and called the police."

Three Are Killed in Auto Crashes

Heart Attack Takes Life of 4th While Shoveling Snow Near Home

Three persons, including a Waterford Township mother and a 13-months-old girl, died in automobile accidents in the area this morning and yesterday afternoon. A fourth, an elderly resident of Pontiac, died of a heart attack while shoveling snow.

The dead include: Mrs. Sarah P. Greyhek, 2318 Kohler Rd., Paris Marie Ohanesian, Robert L. Renchard, 19, of Birmingham; and Richard Gaddes, 70, of 51 Hudson Ave., Pontiac.

Gaddes succumbed at 11 a.m. while clearing the walk in front of his home. Renchard lost control of his car yesterday and hit a cement abutment on Crooks Rd. at Butterfield.

The Greyhek car smashed into an oncoming semi-truck on Telegraph Road late this morning.

Three others in the car, Mrs. Agnes Ohanesian, the baby's mother, and Mrs. Greyhek's two daughters, Patty Ann, 14 months, and Rita, 4, are undergoing emergency treatment in Pontiac General Hospital.

Waterford Township police said the collision occurred at a curve in the road near Oakland County Contagious Hospital, when the woman's south-bound car skidded out of control and rammed sideways into the north-bound truck.

The driver, John A. Cannon, 38, of Cleveland, was not held, police said. They said he tried to avoid the accident by pulling far over onto the shoulder.

'Tired' Postman Utilizes His Attic as Dumping Spot

DETROIT (AP)—Maybe Ellwyn A. Hughes, 18, of Dearborn, didn't hear in his 16 days as a mailman the postman's creed. It goes like this:

"Not snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds."

Postal authorities say Hughes completed his rounds on only four of his 16 days and most of the mail he was supposed to deliver ended up in his attic, where some of it got opened.

Postal Inspector Earl Wheeler, who said he would ask a warrant for theft from the mails, said Hughes explained:

"'I was tired. The load was heavy.'"

'Gun Only Way,' Witness Testifies

Grand Blanc Resident Tells of Dye Statement About Tenant Farmer

A witness testified yesterday that a lawyer accused of attempting to murder tenant farmer William C. Clark once said the only way to deal with Clark was "with a gun."

Former Fenton Village Attorney Clifford Dye, 53, is being tried in Oakland County Circuit Court for the non-fatal shooting last Aug. 26 of Clark, 27, who leased a farm near Fenton owned by Dye's sister.

Matthew Sitkowiak, of Grand Blanc, said he sold two pigs to Clark for $40 about a year ago and was to be paid by check. Clark later told him, Sitkowiak testified, that the check had been sent to Dye for endorsement.

When he asked Dye about the check, Sitkowiak stated, the accused said, "There's only one way to deal with Clark and that's with a gun."

Clark's wife, Lois 27, was cross-examined by Dye's attorney, Clarence L. Smith. Dye, she said, offered to take Clark to the hospital immediately after the shooting, "but I was afraid to have anything to do with him (Dye)," she declared.

Wallace VanStratt, a State Police ballistics expert, said the bullet taken from Clark's body was fired from the gun allegedly used by Dye.

Dondero Cites Changes by Ike

Tasks of Eisenhower Compared to Lincoln's by Congressman

"Three years have passed since President Eisenhower took office and during that short period of time he has brought about the most amazing changes in this country's history," veteran U.S. Congressman George A. Dondero, said in an address before the annual banquet of the Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club, last night.

He compared the tasks faced by the present administration with those of Abraham Lincoln's.

The present main objective, Dondero said, is "that of welding together the free nations of the world into an effective alliance against Russian tyranny . . ."

Citing Republican progress, the Congressman said: "We are at peace. Here at home we have changed from a war-time economy based on blood and tears to a healthy peace-time economy based on the American principle of free enterprise.

"The laboring men and women of our country . . . are enjoying a measure of prosperity never before reached in all our history.'

Dondero described Lincoln as "the greatest symbol of freedom the world has ever known . . . though dead he still lives."

Following his address, he preceded his introduction of Senator Barry Goldwater by reading telegrams of greeting from President Eisenhower and Robert Todd Lincoln Beckwith, Lincoln's great-grandson.

The banquet was the 54th consecutive Oakland event of its kind that Dondero has attended.

600 Hear GOP Leaders at Lincoln Club Banquet

Approximately 600 area Republicans turned out last night for the 66th annual banquet of the Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club, held in the Elks' Temple.

In addition to principal speaker Senator Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz), Congressmen George A. Dondero (R-Royal Oak) and Alvin M. Bentley (R-Owosso), Toastmaster Bruce Annett introduced a large number of other honored guests.

Welcomed by the near-capacity crowd were State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, State Senator William S. Broomfield, Clair L. Taylor, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, George Higgins, Michigan Turnpike Authority chairman, and former Republican gubernatorial candidate Donald S. Leonard.

Others were Republican National Committeewoman Mrs. Rae Hooker, State Representatives Fred G. Beardsley and Richard C. Van Dusen, Chad Ritchie, County Republican chairman and E. E. Wilson, County Republican finance chairman.

Robert A. Sutton, president of the Lincoln Republican Club, introduced Annett as toastmaster, following the invocation by Rabbi Sanford Saperstein of Temple Beth Jacob, and the salute to the flag, led by Mrs. Florence Brown.

Mrs. Kenneth B. Nichols, president of the Republican Women's Federation of Oakland County, called for increased activity by Republican women throughout the county.

Telegraphed best wishes were received from Vice President Richard Nixon, Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, and Secretary of Defense C. E. Wilson and Sen. Charles E. Potter.

A light note of entertainment was presented by the Chevrolet Glee Club, which sang several selections.

Hunt for Clues in Detroit Killing

Police Seeking Motive After Father Was First Listed as Heart Victim

DETROIT (AP)—Police strove today to find a clue or motive for the slaying of Clement Campeau, 48-year-old father of five, found dead outside his backyard garage yesterday and at first thought to have been the victim of a heart attack.

An undertaker found a bullet hole in his chest just above the heart. And assistant medical examiner, after a cursory examination, had pronounced Campeau dead of a heart attack several hours earlier.

The bullet, a .38 caliber, was found lodged in Campeau's back.

His wife, Florence, 49 said she last saw him, as he left the house at 5:30 a.m. to report to his job as assistant foreman of a Grand Trunk Western railroad warehouse. The body was discovered when the railroad called to ask why he hadn't reported for work.

Campeau had backed his car out of the garage and left it standing, the lights on, when he went back to close the door. Apparently his slayer came around the corner of the garage and fired, police said, from six feet away.

Senator Lashes Harry Truman, Walter Reuther

Calls for Reinstitution of Basic Concepts in American Life

Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz) last night lashed out at Harry S. Truman and Walter P. Reuther terming their principles and methods a "threat to American liberty."

Speaking at the Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club's 66th annual dinner, he called on Republicans and conservative Democrats "to rally together and reinstitute the basic concepts which made us strong."

He decried what he termed "the trend to Socialism and communistic materialism" and asked a "step backward" toward free enterprise and individual initiative.

The lawmaker enumerated basic American and Republican principles, as he sees them, and said they have grown stronger under the present administration.

Goldwater spoke in support of the Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policy and asserted the GOP has more public support now than in 1952.

He charged the New and Fair Deals of Roosevelt and Truman with instilling disunity and breaking up the American populace into "minority groups."

HARPOONS REUTHER

The senator threw verbal harpoons at Reuther branding the labor leader as "the chief source of hate and doubt in our country."

Reuther has "unlimited funds" at his disposal to "spread the philosophy of the Socialist state," the senator said.

Reuther's program, he charged, aims at discrediting Congressmen who actually aid the working man by voting against Socialistic programs and for continuation of the free enterprise system.

"He (Reuther) terms many lawmakers as labor-haters when they actually act with the best interests of the working man at heart," said Goldwater.

'THREAT TO LIBERTY'

"This program is a threat to American liberty and a challenge to Republicans and Jeffersonian Democrats.

"Reuther wants to dictate who will run for office in both parties. The people will not tolerate such a monopoly of power"

The senator termed the labor movement an essential part of American life, but warned against letting any one man become too powerful.

Goldwater described Truman as "a man who can't agree with himself. Pointing up "Truman's mistakes and inconsistencies" is the greatest campaign asset the GOP has, he declared.

'COUNTRY SPLIT'

The Roosevelt-Truman era, he alleged, made "labor distrustful of

U. S. Halts Arabian Tank Shipment

Announcement Causes Clamor

White House Influence Believed to Have Part in Making Decision

ta33 eesszyyzyy TANKS bjt JT 17

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the White House taking a hand, the State Department today canceled a shipment of 18 American light tanks destined for Saudi Arabia.

It was not immediately clear whether the decision would quiet all the clamor stirred up by an announcement just nine hours earlier that the tanks were to be shipped from New York later today.

Nor was the reaction of Saudi Arabia predictable.

At any rate, the reversal had the effect of blocking the dispatch of the tanks to the Middle East, where their arrival might have started new excitement and perhaps trouble in the Israeli-Arab tinderbox.

DECISION DENOUNCED

Announcement late yesterday that the tanks were to be shipped had brought denunciations from a number of Democrats in the Senate and from the Israeli Embassy the cry: "Utterly beyond our comprehension."

News of the impending shipment was startling because the State Department in delaying action on Israel's request to buy 50 million dollars worth of American arms for the past several months, has pleaded it wants to avoid an arms race in the Middle East.

Further, it has said the sale of Communist arms to Egypt tended to upset the power balance in that troubled area.

Any shipment of American weapons to an Arab country would have given Russia a tailor-made argument that it was all right for the Reds to supply arms to the Arabs since the United States was doing the same thing.

Obviously with these considerations in mind, the State Department backtracked quickly.

All eight schools in the Walled Lake school district were closed, giving 4,700 students a day off from classes. No buses were run in the West Bloomfield district but schools there were open with about 700 reported absent.

FEW ROAD ACCIDENTS

Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. and Pontiac Police reported very few accidents with only the police recording one personal injury accident as the result of the storm.

Joseph B. Jewell, superintendent of Pontiac Public Works, said trucks have been out clearing the main arteries since 10:30 last night. They are considered passable but not in good shape. Plows are expected to get to the residential areas by tonight, he said.

The lowest temperature in Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 20 degrees. The thermometer registered 30 at 2 p.m.

The cold line in the nation extended from northern New England to the Central Plains into the Rocky Mountains. It blanketed St. Louis with a dense fog grounding planes in the city. The Cleveland Municipal Airport was also reported closed this morning.

Last night's four inches of snow and sleet brought the city's accumulation to around 20 inches for the winter.

Lansing, Muskegon, and Traverse City all reported six inches of snow from last night's paralyzing storm.

management and farmers distrustful of industry. It split the country into minority groups all concerned primarily with their own aims.

"We must work toward the day when a Congressman can work toward the good of the whole country first and then for the benefit of his own area or group."

Describing basic Republican concept, Goldwater said "the Republican Party is a party of peace. "We've had three wars in this century, all under the Democrats."

HITS DULLES CRITICISM

Hitting back at Democratic criticism of Secretary of State Dulles' statement the country has been at the brink of war under the present administration, the senator said the GOP has realized "that threat of war can be the most effective instrument of peace."

In the past, he asserted, the Democrats have fallen victim to "brink-and-sink" situations.

A second GOP principle, he said, is that "the government should do for the people only what the people can't do for themselves.

"Recent Democratic administrations have attempted to control more and more of our daily lives . . . Paternalism destroys initiative . . . Americans don't need to have their every move regulated."

The GOP, he said, has fostered a sound fiscal policy. "At the rate Truman was going, if he had continued in power the country would be $40 billion farther in debt. Out of the last 15 tax increases, 13 came from the Democrats. The only two tax cuts were Republican sponsored."

President Eisenhower, he stated, has restored dignity to public office. "You hear no snide jokes about the President."

The Declaration of Independence, Constitution and Bill of Rights contain the basic source of America's strength, he said. "If we forget these ideals, we are close to accepting Materialism, which is the basic source of Communism.

"The Republicans aided by many Democrats, have and must continue to foster these spiritual values which transcend simple desires and make our country great.

"We can stamp out Communism through a spiritual force which will bring the whole world over to our way of thinking."

Urging Republicans to greater efforts, Goldwater said, "We are not the majority party and can't afford to fight each other, but we can fight the enemies of American freedom."

Aircraft Firm Under Inquiry

House Group to Probe Companies Contracted With Government

WASHINGTON (INS)—House investigators will turn their scrutiny today on the Glenn L. Martin Co. in their probe on the nation's 15 major aircraft manufacturing firms.

George M. Bunker, of Baltimore, Md., president and board chairman, will take the witness stand after J. L. Atwood, president of North American Aviation, completes his testimony.

The Martin company manufactures planes for the Air Force and Navy. The public hearings will continue next week—with four sessions scheduled.

An armed services subcommittee headed by Rep. F. Edward Herbert (D-La) is delving into the profits and production performances of aircraft companies which have contracts with the Air Force and Navy.

Atwood, the initial witness, testified that his company's present capital investment is $6,544,971. It has government property valued at $95,413,948 on which it pays no rentals, except for $1,133,000 paid since 1947 for work done for foreign governments.

The company's profits after payment of taxes amounted to $75,123,159 from 1952 through 1955. Atwood disclosed also that the company's sales to the Air Force and Navy during this period totaled $2,412,456,358.

The Los Angeles executive testified that the company's net profits rose from $7,820,886 in 1952 to $32,349,176 in 1955.

Atwood revealed that his concern's 10 officers were awarded $993,000 last year in salaries and bonuses. A total of $594,250 in salaries and $399,000 in bonuses went to the board chairman, president, seven vice presidents and the secretary.

The top compensation of $264,000 went last year to J. H. Kindelberger, board chairman, who received a salary of $150,000 and a bonus of $114,000. Atwood was awarded a $110,000 salary and an $80,000 bonus, or a total of $190,000.

False Blood Test Earns Jail Term

Court Says Man Sent 'Substitute' for Check at City Hospital

A 22-year-old Royal Oak man was found guilty of persuading a "substitute" to take a blood test for him in connection with a paternity trial in Oakland County Circuit Court today.

Robert Felk, of 601 N. Dorchester, had been ordered by Judge H. Russel Holland to take the test at Pontiac General Hospital as testimony.

According to hospital records, a person who represented himself as Felk was given a test Feb. 13. The test proved that the man could not have been the child's father.

Felk was later brought to the hospital for a routine check by an employe who failed to identify him as the person who took the test, according to Prosecutor Fred C. Ziem. A test Feb. 15 indicated that Felk could have been the father, Ziem said.

Felk was sentenced to serve five day in the Oakland County Jail for contempt of court by Judge Holland. The man who reportedly took the test in Felk's place was not identified.

Edgar Says Ike Will

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—"Knowing the Eisenhowers and the way their minds work, I think Dwight will run," said Edgar Eisenhower, brother of the President.

"He has a job which isn't finished," the Tacoma, Wash., attorney told newsmen yesterday. "And he doesn't like to leave anything unfinished."

The Day in Birmingham

Report Participation Good at Eton Park Skating Rink

BIRMINGHAM — Recreation Board members heard with pride reports that participation has been good at the new Eton Park Skating Rink, and heard a recreation expert advise them on hiring a new director of recreational activities in the city.

A field representative of the National Recreational Assn. talked with the group, but because of absence of three members, a decision was forestalled until a special meeting on March 1.

The representative talked of lists available from the association on directors wanting to make a change, and other agencies that might provide applicants for the post left vacant by Norman Landry's resignation early this month.

The board may advertise the position, but not depend entirely on ads in municipal trade journals as they had before Landry was hired.

The ice rink has attracted 3,400 boys, girls and adults during its first ten days of operation, Charles W. Gale of the Forestry department, told the group. Gale, as superintendent of parks is administrator, while Dale Rolph has management of the rinks.

Rollie Reese, recreation board member who spurred the ice rinks institution, reported to the board his findings on rink operation and acceptance by the public.

"There have been no complaints that I could find," he said, and "no accidents. Public acceptance has been very favorable and the management seems to be in very good hands."

"We've made big progress in the last year after recreation interests were dormant for a number of years in Birmingham," he said.

A figure skating demonstration by members of the Pontiac Skating Club, which the club offered would be an interesting program, board members felt, and turned the request over to Gale.

Formation of a figure skating club in Birmingham within the coming year, now that facilities are possible, were eyed optimistically by the board. Several local skaters belong to the Detroit Figure Skating club, which provided the opening day's program.

Robert L Renchard

Service for Robert L. Renchard, 1692 Villa, who died yesterday in an auto accident, will be at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Monday at 3 p.m. with burial in White Chapel Cemetery.

Renchard, 19, has attended Birmingham High School before clerking at McBride's hardware and then becoming a clerk and carrier at the post office. Yesterday was his day off.

He lived with his parents, the Lewis L. Renchards, coming here with the family seven years ago from Detroit. His father is traveling passenger agent for the Milwaukee railroad.

Besides his parents, he leaves a brother and sister, Richard L. and Jean, both at home, and two grandmothers, Mrs. Carrie G. Renchard of Birmingham, and Mrs. Mabel Hill of Ferndale.

Holdup of Grocery Brings Bandit $75

A pint-sized holdup man with a nickel-plated automatic took $75 from the till of Reid's Grocery store, Baldwin Road in Orion Township, last night, and told the clerk to lie on the floor while he made his getaway.

Mrs. Diana McDaniel, alone in the store, told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies the bandit was about six feet tall, weighed about 130 pounds, and sported a small black moustache.

He looked about 20 years old, she said.

Action in Courts Begins for Gang

White Lake Burglaries Admitted by 10 Youths From Detroit

Legal action was taken yesterday against ten Detroit youngsters admittedly involved in a series of White Lake burglaries, and the case of their 16-year-old leader was turned over to Wayne County juvenile officials.

Thomas Schwartz, 17; Russell Dancey, 17; and Russell Johnson, 18, all were charged with felonies at arrangement before Highland Township Justice Roy J. Carl. They waived examination and Carl freed them under $500 bonds pending arraignment in Oakland County Court Monday.

Eugene Herrick, 19, was charged with simple larceny, a misdemeanor, and paid a $35 fine levied by Justice Carl.

David Miller and Gerald Luma, both 17, pleaded guilty to entering without permission and paid $25 fines imposed by White Lake Township Justice Frederick Stephan.

Petitions charging the four juvenile boys with breaking and entering were filed in Oakland County Juvenile Court, Sheriff's Det. Leo Hazen said.

A report of the 16-year-old's part in the breakins will be made to Wayne County Juvenile Court, which is investigating a charge of auto theft brought against him by Detroit police, Hazen said.

Arrested Tuesday, the gang admitted breaking into eight cottages and homes since September, Hazen said, as well as a club house, gas station and restaurant.

Uranium Find Hinted Along Labrador Coast

ST. JOHNS, Nfld. (AP)—Premier Joseph Smallwood says an important uranium find has been made along Labrador's bleak coast. He announced last night that experts rank the newly found deposits among Canada's most important to date. He said pitchblende and other uranium minerals were found in a coastal area 85 miles long and 8 miles wide, reaching from Makkovik, an Atlantic Coast settlement, southeast to Seal Lake.

Commons Asks Bill to Lift Death Penalty

LONDON (UP) — The House of Commons ordered Prime Minister Eden's government last night to draft a bill abolishing the death penalty in Britain. Eden indicated he hoped the deputies would change their mind when voting time comes again.

The House voted 293-262 to direct the government to introduce legislation removing capital punishment from the statute books, either permanently or for some specified trial period to allow reconsideration.

Cheers rang through the Commons chamber when the tellers announced the vote. Women in the public galleries excitedly waved their arms.

However, it may be many months before the death penalty is officially lifted. The present parliamentary program is so heavy that the Cabinet may not get a bill drafted for several months. And even if the Commons repeats its vote.

Divorcee Freed of Manslaughter in Canada Trial

BROCKVILLE, Ont. (UP) — An American divorcee was freed last night in the pistol death of a fishing guide at her island lodge.

Mrs Virginia Ricks, 42, four-time-married daughter of a former Syracuse mayor, was acquitted of manslaughter in the death of George (Tommy) Knapp. The 45-year-old guide died of bullet wounds Dec. 30 at the lodge on Newborough Lake.

Defense counsel asserted that Mrs. Ricks was repeatedly beaten by Knapp and feared him. She testified that she threatened the man with a pistol and that he was shot accidentally as they struggled for the weapon.

The prosecution asserted that if Mrs. Ricks feared Knapp, she and Francis Burns, a friend present at the time of the shooting, could easily have subdued him.

Mrs. Ricks still faces a civil action brought on behalf of the dead man's estate and his 14-year-old son.

Thieves and Cheaters End Courtesy Project

ASHLAND, Ky. (UP)—Thieves and "cheaters" have prompted city officials to abandon "courtesy fine-o-meters" for overtime parking.

The city has removed the familiar red boxes from 62 locations installed eight months ago as a convenience to drivers.

The fine-o-meter permitted overtime parkers to place a quarter in an envelope to be dropped into a box within an hour after getting the parking ticket. After an hour the fine is a dollar.

City officials said many boxes had been robbed and some motorists parked all day for one 25-cent fine.

Gets It Coming, Going

TULSA, Okla. (UP)—A roving police radar unit nabbed a Tulsa motorist speeding in the eastern part of the city. Moving their check point closer to the downtown area a little later, they grabbed him again going the other way. His fines totaled $29.

Traffic Pupil Misses Class; Hits Pedestrian

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (UP)—Last month Judge John T. Labb ordered Bob Boring, 19, to attend four sessions of a traffic school after he had been convicted of reckless driving.

The third session was held last night but Boring didn't show up.

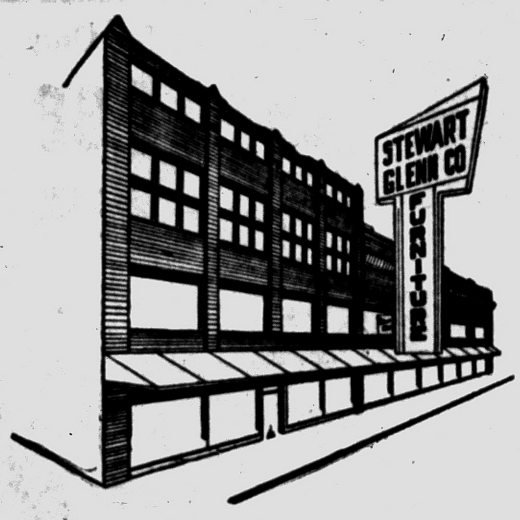

He had been arrested for hitting a pedestrian while en route to the class.

Burns and Allen Sued in Ronnie's Auto Crash

LOS ANGELES (UP) — George Burns and Gracie Allen have been sued for $60,000 damages in connection with a traffic accident involving their son Ronald, 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frailich said in the suit that they were injured last March 2 when their car was struck by another driven by Ronald, who was also named in the suit.

Ike's Plantation Visit Recalls McKinley Stay

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (INS)—The "Old South" setting where President Eisenhower is now pondering his political future figured prominently in putting one of his Republican predecessors in the White House 60 years ago.

William McKinley made his decision to seek the presidency in 1896 while a guest on a nearby plantation of the late Mark Hanna, Ohio's then powerful political boss.

Eisenhower is a guest of Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, another Ohioan, who was attracted to the beautiful heart of this Georgia plantation country through his ociation with the Hanna fami..

A more secluded spot to wrestle with momentous problems would be difficult to find. It is a land of vast acres, white-columned mansions and magnolias in which the romance of the "Old South" still lives.

Unlike so much of Georgia, this southern part of the state was missed by Gen. She n on his march to the sea with fire and sword, so that many of the old estates have survived.

GOOD BIRD SHOOTING

More than half a century ago wealthy northerners had bought up the old estates here because of the mild winter climate and fine bird shooting.

Hanna had picked McKinley as his man to unseat a Democratic administration and restore the Republican Party to power. He invited McKinley to his sumptuous home here to discuss his possible candidacy. McKinley decided to accept Hanna's support.

Hanna then held at the old Mitchell house a lavish reception which was attended by more than 1,000 persons, and McKinley was "informally" nominated as the Republican presidential candidate.

When Humphrey was a young attorney in Flint, Mich., he was retained by Howard Hanna, then head of the enormously rich M. A. Hanna Co., of Cleveland, to handle some of the concern's interests in Michigan.

Later, Humphrey rose to become head of M. A. Hanna, a post which he relinquished to become treasury secretary.

Humphrey learned of the winter attractions and fine shoting in the Thomasville area through his association with the Hannas. Humphrey bought Milestone Plantation, to which the President came yesterday.

When Humphrey is asked the size of his plantation, he gives a modest figure of around 600 acres. But local citizens say his holdings run between 10,000 and 15,000 acres.

The Humphrey estate, where the President and Mrs. Eisenhower are staying, is on the Metcalfe Road, seven miles south of Thomasville.

Outlines Air Terminal

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Kent County Airport's proposed new $1,500,000 administration building Thursday was described as a 2-level structure, similar to one at Milwaukee, Wis. Architect H. G. Daverman said the building's lower level will be used for airline equipment storage, maintenance and baggage. The upper level will be for passenger use and office space.

Kefauver to Make Talk in Baltimore

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Estes Kefauver, making a whirlwind stumping tour of Florida, took time out today to fly to Baltimore for a luncheon address but will be back in Florida tonight.

In Miami yesterday he said the racial integration issue should not stand in the way of federal aid to public school construction.

He pointed out that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY), a Negro, has indicated he may try to amend federal aid bills for schools to deny funds in states which have not completely desegregated public schools.

"Children should not be penalized by having federal aid cut off," the senator said in an interview.

Kefauver told a Jacksonville audience he was "quite confident" the Democrats would win whether President Eisenhower is a candidate or not.

On the subject of integrated schools he said, "I don't know anything that can be done but to make provisions to comply with the Supreme Court decision."

Medical Report on Ike Raises 2nd Term Hopes

Things are bright again on the GOP Presidential front.

A committee of doctors has decided after examining President Eisenhower that there is no medical reason why he couldn't carry on in the presidency "for another five or ten years."

This is the best news since it became certain that he would recover from his heart attack of last September 24. It delighted Republicans, drew statements of gratification from leading Democrats and even boosted stock market prices.

In GOP circles what previously had been an atmosphere of suspense, has given way to a feeling of certainty. Party leaders are jubilant and hope the President will announce his willingness to seek a second term before the end of the month.

Meanwhile the President is vacationing in Georgia where he probably will reach his decision before returning to Washington next week. The only recent clue that has come from him is his press conference statement of a week ago. Then he indicated that his answer would depend more on how he feels than on what the doctors say.

Nonetheless, we share the hope and belief of millions of Americans that the answer will be YES.

Rigid Parity Backers Risk Farm Bill Veto

If you've forgotten that this is a Presidential year, consider what has happened to the soil bank bill in the Senate.

What started out in the Agricultural Committee under that name has been given a new look. Vermont's Senator Aiken had declared that the measure could add as much as $2 billion to farm income this year if Congress retains the flexible price support program.

Hardly had he voiced that opinion in an interview when the Democrat controlled committee voted eight to seven to include in the bill restoration of 90 per cent price supports for five basic crops.

As might be expected, this started the fight in earnest. Senators Ellender and Young said they are willing to risk an Eisenhower veto for their amendment. What they didn't say is that rigid price supports built up our $7.7 billion crop surpluses.

New Mexico's Democratic Senator Anderson, a former Secretary of Agriculture, agreed with Aiken that the President would veto the bill in its present form.

So did Secretary Benson.

There isn't any doubt about how the President views this matter. As he submitted his soil bank message to Congress, with its plan for retiring some 40,000,000 acres from production, he said "we must not go back to old programs that have failed utterly to protect farm families." At the same time he made it clear that his belief in the flexible price support theory is unchanged.

This newspaper believes the Administration is right in that stand. We also believe that return to rigid supports not only wouldn't help farmers but would make their plight worse. Restoration of rigid price supports would be a tragic mistake. Any bill to accomplish it should be vetoed.

22 in Commission Race

With 22 candidates in the race for seven seats on the City Commission, it is evident that a healthy political interest exists in Pontiac's municipal affairs.

As a result, primaries will be necessary March 5 in four of the seven voting districts. Also noteworthy is the fact that only Harry W. Lutz, among incumbent commissioners, failed to seek re-election. Outside of those seeking re-election, only three of the candidates have had previous commission experience.

We consider it a splendid thing that so many citizens are anxious to serve as members of the City's legislative body. It augurs well for continued high quality of local government.

The Man About Town

Firsts for Holly

Village Led Entire County in Making Some Changes

New deal: A political term, also what a man with a straight flush never demands.

Making claims to several Oakland County "firsts" is the

including the first railroad junction point (1862), first water works plant (1879), first use of voting machines (1898), first incorporated village to keep its original charter (1865), and after beating even Pontiac on the above firsts, it ran a neck and neck race with the county seat on the installation of the first electric light and power plant in the 1880s. Holly was the last among the county's 25 townships to be organized (1838).

Just to show you the contrast: The State of Nevada has 400 acres for every inhabitant, while Oakland County has less than one acre for every inhabitant.

"The most misspelled highway on the map," writes

Leonard Reigleman,

who lives on it, in speaking of Lahser Road. He wonders if it is a perennial typographical error for Lasher Road. MAT has investigated, and finds that it was named in honor of the Lahser (not Lasher) family. But there is a road in Oakland County whose name is a typographical error. It is which got its name from the Rose Township lake named in honor of a pioneer of that area whose name was Rappallee. When the first maps showing the names of the roads were printed the error was made, and it has persisted.

Originally intended to be celebrated only after some holiday,

"National Bicarbonate of Soda Week" in these lush times finds many who are celebrating it every week, and who wonder if medical science ever will provide a substitute for it.

The designs for the 1957 calendars already are under way, and sales executive for one of the nation's largest firms in that line, tells me that the major buyers are turning thumbs down on nudes.

The following poem includes every letter of the alphabet but one. If you can detect the missing letter in less than 30 seconds, you're smarter than we are:

A jovial swain should not complain
Of any buxom fair,
Who mocks his pain and thinks it gain
To quiz his awkward air.

My milkman tells me that glass bottles soon are to be treated with a silicone lubricating film that makes it almost impossible to break them.

Pontiac changed from a village to a city status on March 15, 1861, only a few days before the Civil War broke out. One of the first acts of the new city council under was adoption of a resolution on April 27 to give $50 to the family of every Pontiac young man who enlisted in the armed services.

Getting It Is a Feat; Staying There Is a Miracle

David Lawrence Says:

Truman Declares Adlai Must Recognize 'Big City Bosses' to Win Nomination

WASHINGTON — Former President Truman has served notice that Adlai Stevenson must recognize him and the "big city bosses" of the Democratic party or he will not get the nomination this year.

Truman, in his "Memoirs" in Life magazine, criticizes Stevenson severely for failing in the 1952 campaign to "give proper recognition to existing Democratic organizations in the major population centers."

As Truman owed his rise in politics in Missouri to the bossrule of the Pendergast organization in Kansas City, it is natural to find him scolding Stevenson as follows: "By alienating many influential Democratic political leaders at the outset Stevenson may have thought he was attaining full freedom of action.

But in reality he needlessly sacrificed basic political backing and perhaps millions in votes . . . a Democratic candidate for any office will usually fare better in his campaign if he does not throw away organization support without good reason."

Most political observers will be surprised to learn that Stevenson threw away any support whatsoever in 1952, and that the former President speaks so glibly of the loss of "millions of votes. It is apparent from reading the article that Truman is at odds with Stevenson because somehow the latter didn't fall all over himself to accept always the advice of the then functioning leader of the party.

'MESS IN WASHINGTON'

Truman is irritated because Stevenson permitted himself to use the phrase "the mess in Washington." Here is how the former President describes it:

"Stevenson, during an interview in Oregon, quoted a reporter's phrase in answering a question and said that he would clean up 'the mess in Washington.' I wondered if he had been taken in by the Republican fraudulent build-up of a few flyspecks on our Washington windows into a big blot or 'mess'."

Now the truth is Stevenson didn't give an interview but answered a letter in which the editor of "The Oregon Journal" — a supporter of Stevenson — had asked what he would do about "the mess in Washington." It was a slip of the pen on Stevenson's part that, in his reply, in quoting from the Oregon editor's letter, he forgot to put the words in quotation marks.

There is nothing in the reply by Stevenson, published at that time, which indicates that he concurred in the Republican concept of "the Mess in Washington," though he didn't consider it as insignificant as a "flyspeck," either.

HAVE TO EXPLAIN

In the 1956 campaign Stevenson will have to explain away in some fashion Truman's refusal to tell the people why, after having been warned by the FBI director about the late Harry Dexter White, he wrote a letter of fulsome praise to the former treasury official within two months of that incident and then a similar letter the next year.

Truman's condemnation of Eisenhower is on the severe side. He argues that, by making the announcement in 1952 that he was going to Korea, Eisenhower "must have known he was weakening our hand in negotiations" with the Communists.

Truman forgets the chronology. For it was on Oct. 8, 1952, that the United Nations representatives broke off negotiations at Panmunjom after a deadlock which began in May 1952. As for a "weakening" of America's position, it was Truman's dismissal of General MacArthur which was interpreted throughout Asia as an American trend toward appeasement.

HEADLINE ACCUSES

It was on Oct. 24 that Eisenhower announced that he was going to Korea. It was on Oct. 28 that a New York Times headline read: "Truman Accuses Eisenhower of Dishonesty about Korea." In the article itself the Times correspondent quoted Truman as having accused Eisenhower of being "thoroughly dishonest."

Yet Truman wonders why on November 17, 1952, when Eisenhower came to the White House for a briefing on current matters, there was a "frozen grimness" in the president-elect's face during the meeting. Truman writes that maybe Eisenhower "failed to grasp the true picture" of what his administration had been doing and had gotten a "distorted version of the true facts."

Reader Reports Calcium, Vitamin D Relieve Bursitis

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

"Over a year ago I was in constant pain in arms and shoulders, especially my left arm, which I couldn't move without severe pain. I could use my right arm to lift my left hand up on my head. Couldn't stand it other wise.

"So I commenced taking calcium and D to supplement my diet, as you suggested. After three weeks I noticed some change for the better. For several months I have been just fine—I can move my arm any way without any pain. I will be 75 in June and up and at 'em every day." (E.S.H.)

From time to time readers report some such experience as that of E. S. H., whose trouble was probably shoulder bursitis. For instance, Mrs. L. F. writes:

"I suffered headaches nearly all the time and two attacks of bursitis in my left shoulder, but since I have been supplementing my diet with calcium and D, no headaches and no bursitis."

For all I know the increased intake of Ca and D may have had nothing to do with the relief these correspondents describe.

After all, bursitis—inflammation of one of the pads or sacs placed between bony prominence and muscle tendon—is generally due to strain, overuse, sprain, or prolonged pressure.

Bursitis pain abates when the inflammation subsides. Rest, local heat, diathermy, needling, or aspiration of the bursa and other remedial measures relieve pain and hasten recovery.

Recovery of normal function and prevention of permanent stiffness depends on persevering graduated and active exercise.

Neither a Ca & D supplement nor high calcium diet is of any particular benefit.

On the other hand, one of the psychological functions of calcium is to regulate excitability of nerve fibres and nerve centers — the young person whose diet provides an adequate daily intake of calcium has "steady nerves."

An optimal daily intake of calcium (at least twice as much as the minimum daily requirement) tends to prevent or alleviate ache or pain.

Please remember that the calcium and D I recommend is not medicine, so you can't "try" it for a few days as you might try medicine.

It is food, food essential for good nutrition, and you must eat it every day for weeks.

I can't promise it will do you any good, but I do assure you it can do no harm.

Wants City to Encourage Service of Major Airlines

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Now that Pontiac has the needed funds with the federal grant of close to $100,000 to extend its runways, why doesn't the Pontiac Press, the city manager, W. K. Willman, and Homer Hoskins, the airport manager, prevail upon one or more major airlines to inaugurate shuttle service between large terminals, such as Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago?

There are many air-minded prospects in the short radius of our airport who would welcome this service. From the looks of things it will be many years, if ever, before Detroit has a northeast airport. With Oakland County and townships like Pontiac, Waterford, Bloomfield and West Bloomfield growing by leaps and bounds, I am sure service from Pontiac would immediately be a profitable undertaking and keep the city-owned airport self-supporting.

Why should we take a back seat to Flint? Many of our residents are already using their airport service.

Let's make our city-owned Pontiac Airport something we can be proud of. Why not an airport used not only by a select few private owners and those having access to planes owned by large corporations but by everyone?

Melinda Maclean Named 'Lost Lamb' of Spy Case

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The "little lost lamb" in the Burgess-Maclean vanishing act is Chicago-born Melinda Marling.

She disappeared about 27 months after her husband, Donald Maclean, fled from Britain with the other turncoat diplomat Guy Burgess. She took along three children.

Melinda, undoubtedly a reluctant key figure in the international mystery, was born July 25, 1916, the eldest daughter of Francis and Melinda Marling.

On her father's side she came from English stock, and the Marlings were a well-known Gloucestershire family. Francis Marling's father had migrated to the United States as a child, making him a first-generation American.

Melinda's mother's family, the Goodlets, originally French Huguenots, were among the earliest settlers in America and had won established positions in public life, mainly in the law and the armed services.

MOTHER ELOPED

Melinda Goodlet, the mother of the woman who disappeared behind the Iron Curtain, eloped with Francis Marling. They were married in New York and lived there for a time before settling in Chicago.

A separation occurred in 1928. The following year Mrs. Marling took Melinda, then aged 13, and her sisters, Harriet and Catherine, to school in Switzerland.

Mrs. Marling returned to the United States later and married Hal Dunbar of New York.

It was at the Cafe Flore, then at the height of its fame as the meeting place of artists, writers and talkers—many talkers—that Melinda met Donald Maclean, a rising young British diplomat, one snowy December night in 1939.

TROUBLED TIMES

Melinda had two children by Donald Maclean in a troubled marriage rocked by his heavy drinking sprees, including a so-called "nervous breakdown" when he was stationed in Egypt.

Despite the lapses, Maclean climbed up the London diplomatic ladder and reached the leadership of the American Department in the London Foreign Office.

He had knowledge of many Anglo-American diplomatic secrets, was a Communist from college days and was under surveillance when he fled to Russia in the spring of 1951.

Geoffrey Hoare, veteran London newspaperman who knew the Macleans and has told the story in the book entitled "The Missing Macleans," has described the agony of Melinda when her husband suddenly vanished while she was awaiting the birth of their third child.

Mrs. Dunbar, the mother of Melinda, stepped into this tragedy and tried to soothe her daughter.

Yet the daughter, who could have divorced Donald Maclean upon well-justified grounds of desertion, was contacted by a Soviet agent and arranged for her own defection and that of the children from a home in Switzerland.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Being Talented Professional Man Is Not Insurance Against Poor Parent

Rev. Paul's dilemma shows again that habits are quite specific. A man may be a talented clergyman or banker or musician or editor, yet prove a flop as a father. For very different habits and techniques are needed to rear children than to burn a church mortgage and these are not inherited. They must be learned, so rate yourselves on the "Tests for Good Parents" named below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, he has inspired hundreds of people to join the church," one of his parishioners informed me.

"And he has burned the mortgages for three different churches which he has served.

"But his two sons have gone to the dogs. As a parent, therefore, he has been a failure.

"How do you explain the fact that a trained college man can be so successful in one realm and such a flop in another?"

HABITS ARE SPECIFIC

Previously this week I have stressed the facts that habits are very specific.

A chemist may have a Ph.D. degree and be in Who's Who for his great skill in handling chemicals. Yet he can be a miserable failure as a parent.

And the banker, as well as the famous musician, may both be miserable failures in dealing with their own children.

The ancient prophet Samuel was a great clergyman, but a total flop as a parent. And so was the prophet Eli ahead of him.

David was an admirable soldier and a good king, but flunked out as a father, for Absalom killed his brother Amnon, and Solomon ordered his brother Adonijah slain.

TEST FOR PARENTS

Being a good parent requires just as precise and definite skill as being a chemist or banker or musician or engineer. And that parental skill is not synonymous with music or banking, either.

Thus, men must not assume that they will be successful parents just because they are talented editors or bankers or musicians or even clergymen.

For that very driving energy that leads a man to success in his given profession, may make him rather blunt and tactless with his own youngsters.

He may domineer them without realizing that fact. Or he will expect them to jump to attention, like his employes.

Successful men often hold up an unfair yardstick of accomplishment for their own children, and then bawl them out unmercifully when they don't meet such lofty paternal demands.

SPOILED CHILDREN

Sometimes, too, a famous parent has an extra disadvantage. Rev. Paul, for instance, was in this dilemma.

For gushing parishioners would "make a fuss" over his sons even as toddlers and spoil them, partly out of regard for their talented father, or as a means of currying favor with him.

The boys thus did not merit this spotlighting because of any individual attainments which they had shown, so they learned to ride the coattails of their distinguished dad.

This made them lazy and inclined to sponge off of others. And they ultimately got into trouble.

They couldn't hold a job and even forged checks. Like the sons of Eli and Samuel, they took unfair advantage of the eminence which their distinguished parents had attained.

So rate yourselves as parents. If your children are old enough to read, let them check your merits and demerits on my "Tests for Good Parents." Enclose a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents for these tests and use them at PTA meetings to encourage wholesome self-analysis.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Autherine Lucy Faces Probers

Expelled U. of Alabama Coed to Be Quizzed by School Attorneys

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—University of Alabama attorneys plan to question Autherine Lucy next Tuesday in connection with her federal court suit to force the school to readmit her to classes.

Andrew Thomas, university attorney, said he would take a deposition statement under oath from her at the Jefferson County Courthouse in Birmingham.

Arthur Shores, Miss Lucy's attorney, said last night he hasn't made up his mind whether he will take similar action in connection with university authorities named in Miss Lucy's suit.

Depositions are usual in federal court cases.

SEEKS READMITANCE

The 26-year-old Birmingham Negro is petitioning the court to force the university to readmit her to classes, from which she was excluded Feb. 6, after a tumultuous demonstration drove her from the campus. A hearing is scheduled in Birmingham Feb. 29.

University trustees met in Montgomery yesterday to discuss the hearing.

Miss Lucy is at present a guest of Talladega College at Talladega, Ala., a private liberal arts school sponsored by the Congregationalist Church. She could not be reached for comment.

Rebels Strike Peruvian Town

Capture Area of Iquitos; Most of Nation Is Quiet on Martial Law Order

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Rebel army troops claimed control of the east Peruvian city of Iquitos today but the government said the rest of the nation was quiet and "everything goes perfectly."

The revolt at Iquitos, a major Amazon River port 640 miles northeast of Lima, erupted yesterday. President Manuel Odria's government immediately declared modified martial law throughout the country.

A government spokesman said other armed forces throughout the nation—army, navy, air force and police—remained loyal to the ruling regime.

The spokesman indicated also that some government forces were still holding out in the Iquitos region. He said naval forces on the Amazon, which have a base just south of Iquitos, are "not participating in the subversive movement and are remaining loyal to the government."

The outbreak came at a time of political confusion and unrest in Peru. National elections are only 3½ months away but no definite candidates have emerged. Efforts to organize a national convention of various political groups to pick a standard bearer have failed. Under the constitution Odria cannot succeed himself. His term expires July 28.

A rebel-held radio station at Iquitos claimed the city of 35,000 was in complete control of the insurgent forces.

Beck Says Unions an 'Economic Group'

CHICAGO (INS) — Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters Union, is an "Eisenhower man" and believes the merged AFL-CIO is essentially an economic group and not a political one.

In a telephone interview with New York Columnist Victor Riesel which was broadcast yesterday in Chicago to delegates attending the mid-winter conference of the American Management Assn., Beck said:

"I know he (Eisenhower) has made some mistakes but let us not overlook the fact that every decision he has made . . . has been in the interest, as he visions it, of America."

Beck, who voted for Eisenhower in 1952 while the AFL endorsed Adlai Stevenson, asserted that he does not believe the AFL or the CIO should go into politics "any more than is absolutely necessary on issues definitely confronting them in the economic field."

Dogs in Antarctica

MIDDLEVILLE (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Neal Cook, who raise and sell Alaskan malemute dogs (huskies), are keeping an interested eye on the Adm. Richard E. Byrd expedition to the Antarctic. Two of the Cook dogs are with the expedition. Cook says probably not more than 100 of the rare animals are registered in the United States. His kennels have a dozen.

19th Century Box Yields Treasures of Journalism

NEW YORK (AP)—The cornerstone box of the old Pulitzer Building has yielded a treasure of journalistic mementoes dating back more than 66 years.

The copper container was opened Wednesday in the presence of city officials and representatives of the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism, which becomes heir to the whole collection.

The box—laid away on Oct. 10, 1889—held yellowed ragpaper editions of all New York newspapers of that era, including a May 11, 1883, copy of the New York World carrying the announcement by Joseph Pulitzer that he had taken charge of the paper.

Also in the 18x12x10-inch box was a rare photograph of the late, famed Pulitzer senior; gold and silver coins dated 1889, Pulitzer family photographs two phonographic cylinders; a graphone cylinder, and an 1889 world almanac.

The cylinders will be played later.

"These are extraordinarily valuable relics that will be of interest to students of journalism for years to come," said Carl W. Ackerman, dean of Columbia's journalism school.

Among those present at the ceremonies was Mrs. Edith Moore, aunt of Joseph Pulitzer III, publisher of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Buys Lighthouse Ship

MUSKEGON (AP) — The Roen Steamship Co. of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., has purchased a 178-ton former Coast Guard lighthouse tender for an undisclosed amount from Ira J. Lyons of nearby White Lake. Lyons Wednesday said the Wisconsin firm plans to make the 160-foot, diesel-powered vessel into the largest and most powerful tug on the Great Lakes.

The Army will spend aout $85,000,000 to clothe its troops during the 1956 fiscal year.

British Plan to Be First With A-Power Passenger Ship

LONDON (INS)—Britain is planning to be the first nation in the world to put an atomic-powered passenger ship into service on the North Atlantic route.

The British have maintained a discreet silence on the results of their research into nuclear propulsion from the marine angle. But it is known that new designs are on Cunard Line drawing boards for a ship to be propelled by nuclear power.

Cunard Line technicians and the Ministry of Transport have held a series of discussions on the subject. It is believed the new ship will be in the 50,000-ton range.

Dr. T.W.F. Brown, director of the PAMTREDA research station at Wallsend-on-Tyne, has declared publicly that there are no problems which would prevent the immediate installation of nuclear-powered engines in ships.

Speaking of America's two atom-powered submarines which utilize conventional steam turbines, Dr. Brown indicated Britain expected to do "rather better" than that.

MORE EFFICIENCY

Britain, according to British experts, easily could duplicate the American efforts but British research workers are concentrating on a more efficient means of harnessing atomic power to ship propulsion.

Last October the PAMTREDA station (Parsons and Marine Engineering Turbine Research Association) put on display designs for nuclear power plant for merchant ships which were both smaller and lighter than comparable diesel engines.

These designs, however, utilized conventional steam turbines.

But PAMTREDA, established 10 years ago as a corporate design and research center for marine turbines for the British shipbuilding industry, already is far advanced on a "hot" gas turbine expected to prove a substantially more efficient means of harnessing atomic power to ship propulsion.

This engine gives off a powerful roar and operates at such high temperatures—2,200 degrees Fahrenheit—that the ceramic-lined cylinder is permanent red hot. The engine already has run full tests.

A novel way of cooling the turbine blades has been devised by filling them with a mixture of metallic sodium and potassium—a material which is a liquid even at ordinary temperatures.

Similar marine propulsion research is also being carried out at the National Gas Turbine research establishment at Aldershot, a station sponsored by the Ministry of Supply, and by private firms. The Department of Scientific and Industrial Research also is keenly interested in harnessing atomic power to ship propulsion.

The British are not saying much about the progress they are making, apart from significant hints.

P. L. Jones, general manager of Swan, Hunter, Wigham Richardson Ltd., speaking at recent launching of a cargo motor ship at the firm's shipyard said he did not agree with those who thought it would be a long time before nuclear energy was adopted to any extent for ship propulsion.

SPEEDING RESEARCH

The British government is speeding up nuclear research and Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden has indicated that there would be "no cheeseparing" in nuclear spending.

Eden in his latest party political television broadcast said he was determined that Britain should be in the forefront in the atomic age.

"That is why, ever since I have been prime minister, I have maintained that all important new developments under what we may call the nuclear field should be carried through without the kind of cuts and cheeseparing we have to do with so many other things."

Britain's atom industry is developing at such a rate that Sir Christopher Hinton, managing director of the industrial group of the United Kingdom Atomic Energy Authority, estimates it will have a home business worth 300 million pounds a year together with a comparable if not larger export business by 1957.

Ike's Condition Stirs Thoughts for Barber Bill

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (UP) — Snipping away, Bill Connell the barber mused aloud that he had "one of those darn heart attacks last June and I'm not sure whether Ike ought to run again."

But Bill thought about it a moment, snipped some more at the shaggy head before him, then came out with this:

"On the other hand, I suppose every man's heart attack is different. If I were Ike, I don't know that I'd want to run again. But I'm not Ike and if he decides it's all right for him to run, then I guess it will be.

"I can tell you he probably knows better how he feels than the doctors do, even though they are mighty fine doctors. That's the way it has been with me, I know."

Bill Connell is a slight, wiry man of 60. He mans the front chair near the window at Boyett's Barber Shop on Broad Street, which is Thomasville's main thoroughfare.

WONDERS LIKE OTHERS

Just like so many millions of persons everywhere in the United States, Bill is wondering whether President Eisenhower is going to bid for a second term.

In the barber shop where Bill works the big question is a topic of daily conversation. And it's being discussed now more than ever with Eisenhower vacationing only 7½ miles outside of town at the plantation estate of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

And Bill and the customers reflect a kind of pride that Ike, as they call him, has come to this piney woods region of south Georgia for a rest and some relaxation before announcing his decision.

"This is a good place for a man to think," they say. "He'll get lots of quiet out there."

By virtue of his own heart attack "the same kind Ike had, I hear"—Bill figures he knows, on some small scale at least, what the President is going through.

"It's not easy after one of those attacks," says Bill. "But then as I say, I suppose every man's attack is different. Ike will just have to decide for himself whether he is up to it."

That, of course, is just what Ike is doing.

Alimony Plagues Actor's Europe Trek

Flynn's Woe: $900,000 to Come Home

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — If you think movie stars have no financial problems, lend an ear to Errol Flynn, who says it's costing him $900,000 just to return to this country after four years abroad.

That's the amount the swashbuckling Flynn must fork over to Uncle Sam, former wives and other creditors in order to pick up the threads of his Hollywood career again.

So far he's paid off about $600,000, and he hopes to pay the remainder in the next two years. Meantime, his plans call for living on a "relatively modest scale."

Flynn, now working in the film "Istanbul" at Universal International studio, said he ran into financial trouble through taxes, alimony, child support payments and "carelessness in trusting people."

But he didn't go into bankruptcy, he said, "because I refused to." He explained:

"I would have gotten out without paying anything. It would have been the easy way out, but I don't believe in it. You have to live with yourself."

They plan to return to London in a few weeks to film a television series, "The Errol Flynn Teleyision Theater," and then come back to Hollywood again to stay.

Flynn said he stayed in Europe before returning to iron out his tangled affairs because he "wanted to finish my European commitments before stepping into the spider's web."

Mention of the assorted reports of his overseas activities that filtered back to Hollywood brought forth the famous Flynn smile.

"I can't understand all the rumors," he said. "I was supposed to be living in a castle, had a yacht, was so ill I was in a wheelchair didn't want to work and was through with movies.

"The castle was a two-bedroom villa (in Majorca) that cost about $125 a month. The yacht cost about as much as a 30-footer would here. I was working like a dog. My health—never better. And I have no plans to retire."

He noted, too, that his former playboy tendencies are "latent." "I've changed," he explained. "In a sense I don't take things as seriously—if I ever did—except my work. I'm more interested in working."

FBI Arrests One of 10 Most Wanted

Director J. Edgar Hoover said Green escaped May 21, 1954, from the Washington State Penitentiary, Walla Walla, Wash., where he was serving a term of six years for robbery.

Earlier, Hoover said, Green had been convicted of robbery, burglary, possessing a concealed weapon and assault with intent to murder.

Examination Waived by Confessed Bandit

One of two confessed red-hooded bandits, John D. Fortson, 23, of Auburn Heights at arraingment yesterday waived examination in the $890 armed robbery Jan. 18 of Tom's Bar, 928 Mt. Clemens St.

He was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment Monday and remanded to jail under $5,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Fortson's confessed partner, Gerald K. Davis, 28, of Avon Township is charged with an Orion Township stickup Feb. 4 and will also appear in circuit court Monday.

Draft Status Eased by Ike for Fathers, Men Over 26

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has put fathers and men past their 26th birthdays practically out of the reach of draft boards unless there is a sharp increase from recent manpower demands.

An executive order, signed yesterday before the President left for his Georgia vacation and made public by the White House today, puts childless registrants aged 19 through 25 at the top of the list in a new order of call-up.

With an estimated 1,347,000 registrants now in that bracket, yearly additions can be expected to approach 200,000.

A Selective Service spokesman said calls were 6,000 men for February, 16,000 for March.

At the highest of those rates — 16,000 — the annual call-up would be under 200,000.

In the past, fatherhood has not been a factor in whether or when a man was called. Registrants have been called starting with the top age—35 under the law but slightly lower than that in practice—and working down.

4 CATEGORIES SET UP

The new order sets up four categories.

The first category provides for calling up the oldest 25-year-olds who are not fathers and going down the list to the youngest 19-year-olds.

Category 2, to be operative once the first category is exhausted, provides for starting with the oldest 25-year-old father and going down to the youngest 19-year-old father. There are an estimated 150,000 in this group.

Category 3 provides for calling the youngest 26 - year - olds and working upward, regardless of whether the registrant is a father. In this group there are an estimated 16,000.

Under category 4 the services would take the oldest 18-year-olds, regardless of fatherhood, on down to the bottom age limit. There are 210,000 in this group.

The order does not reclassify any registrants. No new deferments or exemptions are provided, nor are the ones now in effect altered.

The fathers and older registrants who are in class 1-A or class 1-A-O (the latter means conscientious objectors) continue to remain fully liable for call at any time the demand for men exceeds the number in the younger and childless group.

NO DEFERMENTS PROVIDED

The order says registrants between 18 and 18½ years old who enlist in the National Guard or ready reserve will be deferred from induction while they serve satisfactorily, and on reaching 28 also will be classified as exempt from further peacetime induction.

Registrants who have enlisted in these reserve programs and who fail to serve satisfactorily, the order said, will be inducted into the armed forces for 24 months of training and service prior to all other registrants.

The order does not in any way affect the induction of doctors.

It provides that aliens shall be exempt from registration and induction only if they have been admitted to this country temporarily from countries with which the United States has military service exemption treaties.

Transient Worker True to His Word

DALLAS (AP)—A transient odd-jobs worker who turned over $700 he found to police here 15 months ago then borrowed $5 to get out of town has paid off the debt.

Police Lt. N. T. Fisher said today Grady Wilson, 45, dropped into the police station and handed him a $5 bill.

Said Lt. Fisher, "I never worried about getting the $5 back. After all, who can question the character of a man who turns over $700 when he didn't have but a few pennies in his pocket?"

Wilson, a bachelor, rode a bus from Oklahoma to Dallas to repay the $5 personal debt to Lt. Fisher and hunt for a job.

Hal Boyle Says:

No Humbug! Hardy Bug Can Win $25,000

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Do you have any little six-legged insect friends who would like to gamble their lives on a chance to win $25,000? If so, Ralph G. Martin is the man for them to see.

GIANT BUSINESS

Martin, president of the Cook Chemical Co., has built his lifelong hatred of bugs into a profitable multimillion-dollar business in insecticides.

Bugs are stubborn creatures. The best known way to kill bugs is to pinpoint them on a hard surface and then hit them a sharp blow on the head with a hammer.

While this form of insecticide appeals to the hunting instinct in man, it is too time-consuming and gives the bugs too great an advantage. By the time you find and hammer down a bug he has already had 3,612,489 descendants, and is probably ready to die of old age anyway.

The trouble with chemical insecticides is this: A chemical that is one bug's poison in time becomes another bug's meat. They develop an immunity.

PIONEER IN DDT

Martin pioneered in the distribution of DDT and, later, chlordane, which was up to 10 times as strong as DDT. But strains of bugs now have emerged tough enough to survive either DDT or chlordane.

Martin isn't a man to give up easily. His latest weapon is an insecticide called "real-kill," fortified with still another chemical, dieldrin, which he says is 28 times as deadly as DDT.

Martin is so convinced of the strength of his new mixture that he has announced a $25,000 reward "for the first bug that does not die after being sprayed" with it.

The rules are quite simple. The contest will run for a three-month period starting in June, when bugs are in their best physical condition. Any bug can enter voluntarily or, if you have one that's bashful, you can enter him against his will.

FEELS CONFIDENT

"There is no humbug involved," said Martin, who expects thousands of contestants from all walks of bug life in America. "If there is no winner — and I don't think there will be — the $25,000 will be given to a national charity."

Any bug who can stand up to the spray and walk away on his own six feet — or eight, if it should be a spider — stands to collect a lot more than the $25,000. That might turn out to be pocket change compared to the sums he could earn from television appearances, the sale of his ghost-written autobiography, "Bug Out," to the Book of the Month Club, and a movie based on his life called, "I Survived." With that kind of dough a bug could afford to live the rest of his days in the best garbage in town.

Anyone wanting to muscle in on this potential wealth, however, had better start putting his bug in training now, so he'll be in real shape by summer.

MUST BE STUBORN

No lazy, fly-by-night insect stands a chance. Victory will take a hard stubborn crawl. Martin took the precaution of testing his spray on 300 different kinds of bugs before announcing the contest, and none lasted a full round.

Bugs have names as strange, exciting and glamorous as boxers, con men and female movie stars. Here are the monickers of a few touted contenders who already have been mowed down by Martin:

The drug store beetle, kissing bug, slender pigeon louse, pertumed yellow ant, flatheaded borer, assassin bug, ambush bug, carpenter ant, chicken head louse, cigarette bettle, confused flour beetle, crazy ant, glacial lady beetle, horse chewing louse, redlegged ham beetle, sticktight flea and thick-headed fly.

But if you know of any kind of bug that's itching for action, now's his chance to land in the big time and make himself a real name.

GAME — BUT OUT OF SEASON — Foraging for food on the outskirts of Yakima, Wash., are several deer who seem to know that the hunting season is not in effect. Natives say the deer are never alarmed in the winter off-season. During the fall hunting season, some hunters swear the deer leave the state altogether.

5 Persons Die in Iowa Blaze

Mother, 2 Daughters, Son and Neighbor Girl Burn in Home

Seek 50 New Agents in Internal Revenue

A program to hire and train 50 new Internal Revenue agents for assignments in Michigan cities will be launched March 5 in Detroit with the first of two six-month courses.

The program will be open to college graduates who have at least 24 semester hours of credit in accounting. Applicants will be interviewed by a panel and outstanding candidates offered appointments.

The training will be initiated because of a current lack of applicants whose education and experience would qualify them for direct assignments, according to A. M. Menninger, district director of the Internal Revenue Service.

School Temperance Code Ends in Nevada

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — "Frances Willard Day" in Nevada will soon be consigned to the past from which it sprang.

Nevada legislators were shocked to find a 1919 law still on the books, requiring schools to set aside part of each Sept. 28 for instruction "in the benefits of prohibition." This is in honor of Frances Willard, an early-day temperance leader, whose birthday fell on Sept. 28.

This seemed to be carrying things a bit far in a state where saloons close only on election day, so the Assembly yesterday voted unanimously to remove the law from the school code. The State Senate is expected to follow suit.

Hazel Park Residents to Discuss Airport

HAZEL PARK — Feb. 24 has been set by Mayor Zigmund J. Niparko, and the City Council for a public meeting to discuss the controversial north east airport issue.

Detroit and Warren township officials have been invited to attend. The meeting was called because so many Hazel Park residents have shown concern over Detroit's development plan for the nearby airport, Niparko said.

State Pleaders Find D.C. Tough

Group Seeking U.S. Aid for Waterways Pool Resources for Action

LANSING (AP)—Michigan pleaders found themselves to be "comparative novices" when they went to Washington, D.C., to seek federal aid in river and harbor projects.

"That's why we called this meeting of everyone interested in obtaining such projects," explained Fred Lifton, director of the Michigan State Waterways Commission, to a gathering yesterday of more than 100 persons seeking federal waterways projects.

"Delegates from other states appeared to be well organized and knew their way around Washington," Lifton said. "We decided we'd be smart to also pool our resources to push Michigan interests."

Col. A. C. Nauman, Detroit district engineer of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, explained to the morning session the steps that must be taken to obtain federal aid for a river, harbor or flood project.

"The corps of engineers cannot initiate projects," Col. Nauman said. "We must work on congressional directive and must have a congressional appropriation to do our work."

LISTS STEPS

Steps leading up to actual work on such a project, Col. Nauman said, are:

1. Request for federal aid in waterways project by the people concerned.
2. Inclusion of an item requesting a survey in the omnibus river and harbor and flood control bill and passage of the bill or a separate bill asking for such a survey.
3. Filing of a report of the preliminary examination with the chief of engineers.
4. Holding of a public hearing on the proposed project.
5. Approval of the project by the chief of engineers.
6. Authorization for a thorough survey of the project by the chief of engineers.
7. Final approval of the project by the chief of engineers and transmission of a recommendation for the project to Congress.
8. Approval of the project by both houses of the Congress and the President.
9. Approval of a separate appropriation bill to finance the project.

Boss Has Troubles, Group Told at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP)—The boss doesn't have as easy a time of it as you might think, a group of junior business and industrial executives was told at a management conference at Michigan State University.

Dr. Ward McDowell of he MSU business department told the young executives that many leaders of industry came up through the ranks as specialists.

"When they reach the top, they are confronted wih many unare confronted with many unfamiliar problems," he said. "Very often, they have to learn about them almost from scratch."

"The measure of an executive," Dr. McDowell said, "is how much work he can get out of other men."

Attempts to Chisel Detroit FBI Agent

DALLAS (AP)—A 25-year-old Garland man is in the Dallas County Jail because he wasn't particular enough in choosing his victims.

FBI agents said the man was arrested as he claimed $100 sent to him from Detroit. They said he had picked the name of a Detroit man listed as a survivor in a newspaper obituary column and, posing as a relative, called him long distance and asked that $100 be sent to cover dmages of an auto wreck so he could return home to Arkansas.

The Detroit man sent the money but he also called the FBI. Seems that the Detroit survivor was an FBI man himself.

Navajo Mute, 13, to Live in Lifelong Darkness

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — David Ghee, a smiling, 13-year-old Navajo Indian boy, lives in a world of silence—and soon will be living in darkness too.

David is a student at the New Mexico School for the Deaf. His passion is art, and his favorite subjects are horses. He draws them with remarkable realism.

David is unaware that congenital glaucoma, an eye disease, is expected to deprive him of his sight in just a few months. No ways are known to arrest the affliction at this stage.

He has been deaf since birth. The eye disease, physicians say, developed during his infancy on the Navajo reservation hamlet of Manuelito, N.M., where his parents live.

NO CHANCE TO LEARN

He hasn't had the opportunity to learn words and the meaning of objects—except horses—in his young life.

Supt. Marshal Hester of the School for the Deaf said today David's one chance to retain some contact with the world after total blindness falls depends on a system of understanding words by putting his hands to the lips of other persons and interpreting the vibrations.

And he'd have to acquire this skill in the few remaining months of sight.

This week, Danuel J. Burns, director of the deaf-blind department at the Perkins Institute, Watertown, Mass., visited David to determine if his institution could help him.

Burns approved the youngster for admission to the institute, a privately endowed institution, and agreed to try and waive the ordinary tuition fees.

But that hasn't solved David's problem.

The Federal Indian Service, whose charge David is, doesn't have the funds in its current budget for the $600 or so needed to send David to Massachusetts.

There the matter stands today, with Hester and others working to raise the money while David is drawing his horses—and the precious days slip by.

Summon 2 in Probe of Red Shipments

WASHINGTON (INS)—Two Defense Department experts were summoned today by Senate investigators looking into allied shipments of strategic goods to the Soviet bloc.

The investigations subcommittee said it would hear testimony on the significance of the trade from Dr. Timothy May, Pentagon expert on metals, and George Grim, who handles electrical machinery matters for the department.

The group headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), went into its third day of hearings on the subject with Senate endorsement of their activities to the tune of a $215,000 appropriation for their 1956 inquiries.

Yesterday, John Williams, of the Pentagon's office of supply and logistics, said he had objected to a step-up in allied trade with Russia which could save the Reds three to five years in obtaining machine tools for war production.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Federal Defense Reserve of Executives From Labor, Business Created by Ike

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower has created a national defense civilian reserve for the training of up to 4,000 top flight executives from business and labor for government service in any emergency.

The order directs the Office of Defense Mobilization to get the training program under way on a full scale basis. Actually ODM already is operating a pilot training program under which about 40 key executives have been recruited from all sections of the country.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said ODM Director Arthur S. Flemming hopes that from 3,000 to 4,000 executives will be recruited eventually.

VOLUNTARY BASIS

Participation in the reserve pool is on a voluntary basis and those who enroll must have permission from their employers, Hagerty said.

In response to questions, Hagerty also said that so far as he knows there would be nothing compulsory about serving in a government job in event of war or other national emergency.

Hagerty said enrollees would be called upon in any general mobilization, for example. He added that for the most part they would take jobs in the ODM and the Department of Defense, Commerce, Interior and Labor.

The enrollees are being drawn from the ranks of labor organizations as well as business.

KEY PERSONNEL SOUGHT

The procedure, Hagerty explained, is for government officials to go to key people wanted and ask them to take part in the program with employer permission. Those who agree are asked to come to Washington or other centers for training.

Citing an example, Hagerty said they might be asked to take part on the next "operation alert" the government conducts, providing for evacuation of key federal agency personnel from Washington.

Those taking part in the program would serve in one of three categories—without pay, on a $15 a day allowance, or on a regular government salary at full time.

As examples of the fields from which the government wants to recruit executives—Hagerty mentioned communications — newspaper, radio and television officials, and and motor vehicle idustry executives.

Detroit Firebug, 16, Slated for Clinic Test

DETROIT (AP)—Authorities today planned a clinical examination of a 16-year-old boy who fire inspectors say has admitted setting two costly fires at Detroit's Edgewater Amusement Park.

The penny arcade building burned Dec. 26 with a $175,000 loss. A second fire a week later caused another $5,000 damages. The park was closed for the winter.

Fire Inspector William O'Brien quoted the teen-ager as saying he was "just waiting for a good northwest wind to burn down the whole amusement park."

Romeo State Police Get New Trooper

ROMEO—Donald H. Hinds, 27, one of the first recruits in the new State Police program, has become associated with the Romeo Post as probationary trooper.

He was sworn in last week in East Lansing after completing a nine week training course. Hinds comes from Norway (Mich.) and will serve a six month probationary period with the state police.

True Faith in a Loved One Will Dispel Every Doubt

By EVA PHILBRICK

Just one year and a half after my wedding, I began to suspect my husband, Herb, was seeing another woman. Mother thought so, too. She kept saying Herb was working awfully long hours for a man who made only $18 a week.

PHILBRICK

"It's hard to get started in advertising," I said.

I loved and trusted my husband. During the next few weeks, I kept very busy trying to forget mother's words, but at night I found myself listing the arguments. The nights he came home, tiptoeing to bed after midnight; the preoccupied way he would sit at his desk and stare into the blank wall.

One night I went to one of the Baptist young couples meetings. When the meeting was about to break up, Bill Robbins said, "We haven't been seeing much of Herb lately, Eva."

"He's been very busy," I said.

"With those new pals of his? The Communists?"

I was stunned. Some kind person changed the subject, and the group broke up. I knew Herb was doing volunteer work for the Cambridge Youth Council. He had joined to help their peace petitions and in their job opportunities work. I knew Herb's motives. It made me angry that Bill should use the term "Communist" so loosely. Herb was an independent-thinking liberal; a reformer, perhaps.

THERE WERE MANY EVENTS

But then there were some puzzling events.

One morning there was a knock on the door. It was a young woman dressed in dungarees. In spite of straight hair and glasses, she was very attractive.

"Is Herb here?"

"No, he isn't."

"Oh, I'm sorry," the girl said. "I wanted to leave something for him."

I took the paper she handed me and closed the door without saying thanks. Across the top was a banner with the words: The Daily Worker.

When Herb came home, I told him a girl had been to see him. "She left this," I said.

Herb looked at the headlines. He didn't seem concerned, but calmly placed it among some other pamphlets and books he had been collecting. "Never mind about Joy and those papers, honey. It's all right," he said.

Joy kept coming to the house. I finally got so annoyed I slammed the door in her face. That very evening Herb told me I would have to be nicer to his friends. "You'll just have to trust me, dear," he said.

If it hadn't been for Bible reading Herb and I did together in the evenings and for our prayers together, I would have walked out.

Then, one night, Herb was due home for a special dinner at six o'clock. Mother was there. We waited.

"What do you know about Herb's political life?" Mother asked.

"What do you mean?"

She went to Herb's desk and held up some of the pamphlets and papers. "Have you read these? They're printed by the Communists. It even says so."

I was defensive. "So?"

Mother tossed the pamphlets back on Herb's desk. "Your faith amazes me, my dear," she said and changed the subject.

ANGER WINS THE BATTLE

About nine Herb still hadn't come home. My anger won out. I went over to Herb's desk. Angrily, I scooped up an armload of the pamphlets and dumped them into our wood stove; books, pamphlets, newspapers, all were burned.

An hour later I returned from my walk. Herb was there. The air was electric, but I didn't care what he was going to say.

We didn't refer to that evening again, except for one puzzling statement by Herb. "Another stranger may come calling, honey. If he does, let him in. You'll be interested.

Then one morning a stranger did call at our house. The man said his name was Hal Leary and he thought I might be expecting him. We chatted for a while, then he leaned forward, "We need your cooperation, Mrs. Philbrick."

"Yes," I replied uneasily.

"Your husband has been working for us . . . but he doesn't get paid for it. We need to have you on our side, Mrs. Philbrick, because Herb is doing something very important."

Important! My ears pounded. I thought of the secret phone calls, Joy, The Daily Worker, the strange visits to the house.

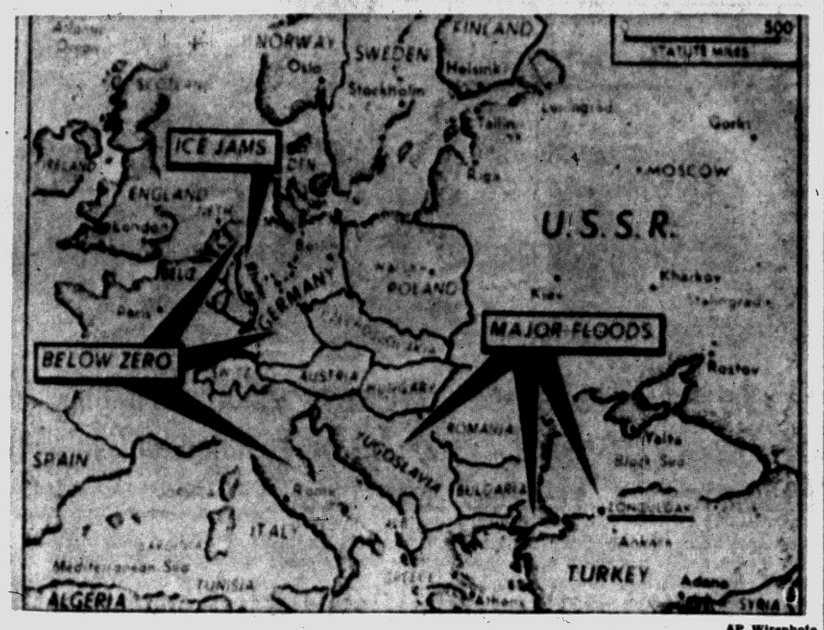

"Just exactly what are you asking me to do?" I said angrily.

Hal Leary reached into his pocket. He placed something on the table. "Just understand—and cooperate," he said.

I looked down. On the table was a shield. Printed in blue letters were the words: "Federal Bureau of Investigation."

WHERE FLOODS AND COLD HIT EUROPE — Map indicates key areas currently affected by Europe's continuing bad weather. Heavy flood damage is reported from Yugoslavia and various areas of Turkey. Ice jams plus floods are reported on the Rhine and other rivers. Below zero temperatures were reported in the Netherlands, in southern Germany, in central Italy. Out of Russia, however, there have been no special weather reports this week.

Facing Food Shortage

LONDON (AP) — Frozen Europe, counting at least 611 dead from its worst winter of the 20th Century, faced the peril today of food shortages. Crops worth hundreds of millions of dollars already were ruined.

Floods ravaged Yugoslavia and Turkey, covering farm lands. Ice packs trapped fuel-carrying ships in the northern seas. Tempests of rain, snow and winds swept the usually sunny Spanish peninsula and North Africa.

The French government estimated crops worth more than half a billion dollars were lost in France, most of it wheat. The Italian Ministry of Agriculture warned Italy's crop damage "will be tremendous."

With the freeze in its 18th day, these were the known deaths attributed to the weather:

France 147, Turkey 72, Italy 72, Yugoslavia 67, Britain 50, Denmark 33, Greece 30, Germany 29, Austria 19, the Netherlands 16, Spain 19, Portugal 17, Switzerland 12, Belgium 10, Sweden 6, Poland 4, Norway 3, Sibya 2 and Spanish Morocco 3.

The sun came back to northern Italy but the temperature was still down to 5 below zero. Snowplows and ski teams broke through to almost all of 600 snowbound communities.

The subzero weather so far averted floods. But officials in Sicily and southern Italy warned many communities would be in danger if sudden thaws started.

An ice pack narrowed the only sea lane between east and west Denmark, across the Store Baelt Sound. More than 2,000 railway freight cars were piled up on both ends of the route. The government banned all unnecessary shipments.

Ice barriers stretched almost 30 miles across the North Sea from Germany to Helgoland Island.

A special German-Austrian committee met at Passu to make emergency plans for the floods expected after the end of the cold wave. The committee was reported planning to ask the U. S. Army to blast the Danube ice blocks.

The East German press reported some Communist power stations were running too low on coal to maintain a full output.

Heavy snow covered the Pyrenees in northwest Spain. Atlantic gales roared over the Canary Islands. Three persons died in Spanish Morocco when torrential rains caved in their homes.

Daylight Saving Time May Be Standard

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House group is going to study a bill designed to end the annual confusion caused by Summer's "two-clock system" of Standard and Daylight time.

The word came from Rep. Staggers (D-W Va), who has been pushing unsuccessfully for seven years to establish uniform time in the summer months.

He said a House commerce subcommittee is forming to hold hearings on his bill which would end the patchwork observance and nonobservance of Daylight Saving time.

Staggers' bill would authorize Congress each year to set Daylight Saving time but would provide also that such time be uniformly recognized. Congress would set Daylight time to begin sometime after the last Sunday of April and to end before the last Sunday of September.

Gas Bill 'Pressure' Reported by Lehman

WASHINGTON (INS) — A new case of possible "improper pressure" in favor of the natural gas bill was reported today by Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-NY), who leveled the charge against a machinery firm.

In disclosing the matter, Lehman became the first senator to respond to an appeal from Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga), for any and all information relating to "improper pressure" on the gas measure.

George, chairman of a special blue-ribbon Senate committee, is winding up an investigation into the $2,500 campaign contribution offered Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) by a lawyer favoring the gas bill.

The Senate created the committee to find out whether oil company lawyer John M. Neff attempted to influence Case's vote on the measure in offering the money which was received by Case. A committee report on the probe is expected next week.

Lehman said in a statement that he was turning over his information to the Senate Elections subcommittee which plans a sweeping inquiry into campaign contributions

Arizona Lawmaker Tells About President's Dignity

John Martin Jr. and Rep. Dondero Also Speak at Gathering

"Dignity has been restored in the office of the President," U. S. Senator Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona told members of the Republican Women's Federation of Oakland County at a reception held in his honor Thursday.

"The Republican Party," he continued, "was formed to preserve dignity," and he added that since President Eisenhower has been in office this dignity has been preserved. He noted that this was a decided change from previous administrations.

Those gathering at Hotel Waldron to meet the senator also heard him lash out at the Democratic Party for what he termed its "division of the people of America."

"The American people are concerned with this move to divide them in pigeonhole categories," the senator declared, and he said that government should be based on what is best for America, not for what is best for "this group or that group, a small segment of America."

Sen. Goldwater praised the Oakland County women for their work and stressed the importance of unity in the Republican Party.

Speaking briefly was John B. Martin Jr., chairman of field organization division of the 1956 state campaign committee. He explained that the workshop meetings to teach precinct workers better campaign techniques will bring about better organization.

Veal Chops Simmered a la Creole

Mrs. Arie Serves Meat and Gravy Over Boiled Pasta

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

While veal does not have the popularity of beef and pork, it is a delicious meat. It needs careful cooking in order not to be dry. Mrs. Lester Arie suggests fixing Veal Chops in the Creole manner.

Mrs. Arie is an outdoor enthusiast. She loves to garden. She skates. And she goes trout fishing with her husband. In all these activities she is also a camera bug, taking pictures everywhere.

VEAL CHOPS, CREOLE
By Mrs. Lester Arie

½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons fat
1 small bay leaf
1 finely chopped green pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
6 veal chops
1 cup canned tomatoes
2 whole cloves

Mix together salt, paprika and flour. Trim chops and rub this dry mixture into them. Heat fat and brown the chops in it quickly on both sides.

Pour the canned tomatoes over the meat, add bay leaf, cloves and green pepper. Cover closely and simmer for one hour.

Have ready plain boiled macaroni or sphaghetti. When ready to serve, spread macaroni on a large platter, arrange the veal chops on top and pour over all the gravy. Add water to gravy if necessary. Serves 6.

Girl, 16, Shouldn't Take Man, 27, Seriously

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 16, a junior in high school, deeply interested in a guy 27 years old. I only see him once a week at a nearby restaurant.

"He always sits and talks with me, but he has never asked me for a date. If at any time he should ask, do you think I should refuse because of the difference in our ages?

"Do you think he is trying to make a fool out of me, as older men usually do with younger girls?

"He acts as if he really likes me. My girl friend goes with a guy older than she is, and she keeps telling me age doesn't matter. My parents say I should decide for myself. But what do you think?"

Answer: It would be difficult for anyone to make a fool out of you. Only you can do that.

This older man can tease you, flirt with you, give you the big buildup. And you can laugh it off. Or fall for it.

If he were serious, he wouldn't take a chance on just bumping into you occasionally in a restaurant. He'd seek you out at your home, he'd call you up, he would have already asked you for a date. But as things are, he has a good time playing up to you when you meet by chance.

He acts as though he likes you. But what does that really mean? He comes over to sit with you. He acts glad to see you. (He might be lonely.) He uses pretty talk. (He knows that goes over big with women of all ages.)

His conversation is all gay, laughing chatter. (He's in no mood for any real, solid, fact-finding stuff.) He acts sorry when he has to leave, or you get up to go. (He's had an effortless encounter with an attractive girl.)

Take all of that as a sure sign that he likes you specially, if you want to. I'd laugh it off. It really would be silly to fall for it.

Why isn't the man busy with girls his own age? Why, with his years of experience, should he find a 16-year-old girl the answer to his prayers?

Despite what your girl friend says, I wouldn't accept any dates with him, were I you. In fact, I wouldn't let him get around to asking for any.

I'd make it clear by my attitude that chatting with him now and then is fun—and that's all. I wouldn't let him get the idea that I consider him a possibility. I'd never even hint that I'd like to see more of him.

Instead, I'd consider him as part of the restaurant's background decoration. And to be sure I wouldn't make a fool of myself, I'd take to eating somewhere else!

Natural Hue Wood Finish Is Returning

NEW YORK (INS) — Furniture designer Harvey Probber is a "naturalist" when it comes to wood in the home.

"There's a great demand today," he said, "for natural finishds—dull, true finishes—even if they are not arrived at truly.

"This is very, very good because it is a decorating idea with integrity and shows a yearning to have the real thing, rather than an imitation.

"In the past they were putting everything but purple on wood, and the fact that we are leaving this phase is wonderful. Wood with too much, or the wrong, finish is like a lady with too much make-up or a man who needs a shave."

When it comes to color of upholstery and other home decor fabrics, Probber, who manufactures his own designs, believes the "blue pallette is going to keep tramping on, particularly in high style levels." He foresees bright, bright red with an orange cast as a coming color, and predicts a resurgence of yellow-green.

"Color is really an outgrowth of the ready-to-wear industry," Probber declared. "Your advance colorists keep a close eye on women's fashions. The important coloring talent today is in ready-to-wear. Women are weaned on fashion colors, then they are ready to accept them in their homes."

Young people are more often subject to headaches caused by vision difficulties than are older people.

Temporary Jobs Can Be Helpful

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"Why do you continue to stress the importance of temporary jobs?" an irate reader writes.

"There's nothing wonderful about temporary work, and it's insecure to boot. You're no sooner employed than you're out of work again!

"I don't want temporary work. I want a permanent job."

There are many answers to that one.

First, any job is temporary, really. Even the most permanent job they can last only three days if they don't like you. They can always let you go.

Or, if you find after the second week that the job is nothing like what it was said to be, you can get fed up and leave. What's permanent about that?

DIFFICULT TASK

Employers who will hesitate to take you permanently will frequently take you on a temporary basis and then it will work into a permanent job. I don't like the fact that this is so, but it is.

Third, it is better to be busy than idle if you are really looking for work.

A temporary job at least kepes you from morbid introspection and despair. You're too busy. And the more you do, the more you can do.

Many a temporary job has been a godsend, because it has led to something permanent and good.

Just the other day, I talked with a woman who had this experience.

VERY DISCOURAGED

When she came to see me for the first time about eight months ago, she was very discouraged, because she wanted to be a babysitter but could get only a few evening jobs.

She wanted lots of "customers," so that she would be able to keep busy and make a permanent, long-range thing of her babysitting service. She had advertised, had only a few replies because she was new in her community and nobody really knew her.

I suggested that she take a temporary job over the Christmas holidays, as a saleselerk, preferably in the toy or children's wear department of her local department store.

She found a spot in the infants' wear department, liked it and did a good job. She was so helpful and kind with the mothers that they really warmed up to her.

By the time the temporary job was over, she was on friendly terms with many of her customers.

BUSINESS BOOMS

Several days later, she sent a brief note to each of them, telling them that she was available for babysitting.

She has a wonderful business now, with lots of customers and a good income. And all because she took a temporary job!

In short, it doesn't pay to be too stubborn when you're in the market for a job.

If you'll turn to and do a good job at whatever is available, it may open doors you never dreamed of.

Ask Friend if His Wife Will Attend

She's Stranger to Pair Making Plans for Party

By EMILY POST

A reader writes: "My husband has his own business here in town. His best customer, whom both of us know quite well through business dealings, is a very charming person and one we would like to have as a friend. His wife, however, is a complete stranger to us.

"My husband and I are planning several dinner and bridge parties in the near future and I would like to know if it would be proper to include them as guests at one of these parties?"

Answer: It would be well, I think, to ask him first whether his wife would like to come. If so, you of course invite them both.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of my daughter is giving her a shower soon. In making up the guest list, the question arose as to whether or not it is correct to invite people who will not be invited to her wedding.

"(2 Also, would it be proper for the hostess to invite her own friends even though the bride-to-be does not know them.

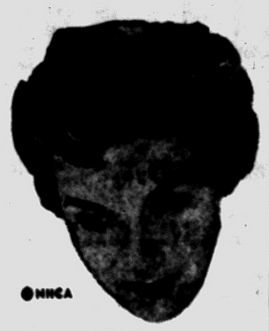

"(3) Another question up for discussion is whether or not relatives of the bride-to-be, such as aunts or cousins, may give a shower for her."

Answer: (1) Unless the marriage is to take place with none but the families present, it would be most improper to invite anyone to a shower who is not also invited to the wedding.

(2)) It would not do to ask people to contribute presents to someone they do not know. (3) Relatives of the bride-to-be — unless distant ones — should not give showers for her.

"Dear Mrs. Post: On occasion, I have noted that some people, before drinking a toast, clink glasses. Is this correct, and what is the reason for doing this?"

Answer: This custom dates back to long ago. Today it is not incorrect but neither is it obligatory, and should never be noisily done.

Britain Reveals Cut of Forces in Korea

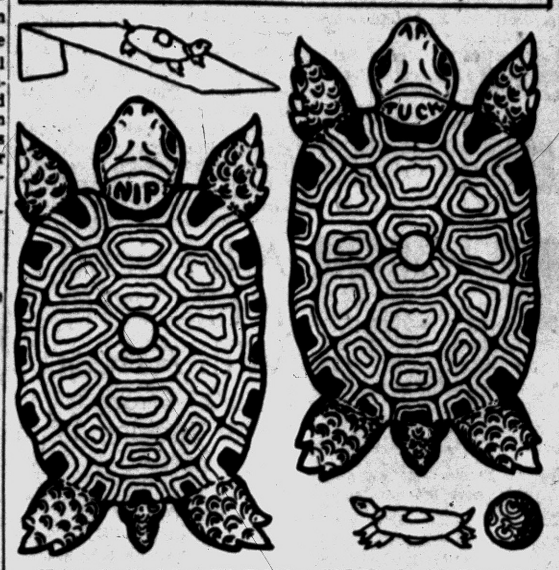

TOKYO (AP) — British Commonwealth forces in Japan will be withdrawn and those in Korea reduced to a battalion, it was announced here tonight. There now are 6,000 to 7,000 troops in the two countries — most in Korea. The battalion left in Korea would include Canadian medical personnel, Australian signal corp troops and New Zealand transport elements. It will have some other supporting troops.

The cutback marks another move in the shrinking of Western forces here and in Korea. The United States has withdrawn all but two of its former eight divisions in Korea and in ground strength is down to one division and two regimental combat teams in Japan. These are to be further reduced under plans already announced.

THE TURTLE RACE — 5

Here are two little turtles named Nip and Tuck. How would you like to race them down a slanting board with a marble for a motor?

Paste this picture down on cereal box cardboard and color with crayons. The feet are green with white claws, the heads red, the shells green and yellow.

Cut out the turtles carefully. Fold their feet down and their tails up. Raise their heads slightly so they can see where they are going.

Cut a small hole in the center of each shell as indicated. Do not make it too large at first. Enlarge it carefully as needed so you can wedge a marble into the hole. The marble must be fitted firmly and must rest on the surface of the slide.

When Nip and Tuck are side by side at the top of the slope you can send them on their merry way.

Ann Arbor Official Calls for New School Aid Plan

ANN ARBOR (AP)—An Ann Arbor school official today called for consolidation and elimination of all non-high school or primary school districts in the state.

Dr. Frederic B. House, a director of the Michigan Association of School Boards, told a workshop on school finance at the University of Michigan this would put taxation for secondary education "on a realistic basis."

Dr. House, also a member of the Ann Arbor School Board, said that in 20 years of state support under the present formula, the pupil opportunity in primary districts is below par.

He explained that the per pupil allotments of state aid are generally the same, at the present, for districts with high schools and for districts without them.

Where high schools are not available in a district, he said, tuition is paid and students are sent to districts which have high schools.

PRINCIPLE'S GOOD

Dr. House said that the principle of everyone paying for education of the nation's young people is a good one, but on the current formula:

"Pupils from primary districts come to our high school many times totally unprepared to cooperate in our secondary program.

"Therefore in solving the problem of increasing the state aid fund, I would say the first step is legislative elimination of the primary districts," he said.

This, he said, would make every child the part of a secondary school district and every piece of property in the state would be taxable for secondary education on a realistic basis.

The tuition system, now used, he said was not equitable.

Woman Blown Out of Doomed House

MIDLAND (AP)—A nearby Homer Township housewife escaped injury Wednesday after being blown out the door of her home by a thundering oil pipeline explosion which burned the home to the ground.

Mrs. Thomas J. Marshall said she was standing at the back door of the 2-story frame home talking with neighbors when the force of the explosion blew her out the door. No one else was in the house.

The explosion occurred after a crude oil pipeline which transports oil from Mount Pleasant to the Dow Chemical Co. in Midland sprung a leak and ignited. Marshall declined to estimate damages, but said the home was a total loss.

Dow officials who investigated said oil leaked into the basement of the home, blowing part of the foundation away when it ignited. The Marshall home was seven miles southwest of Midland.

Gasoline Tank Truck Explodes; Driver Okay

SAGINAW (AP)—Fumes ignited by friction touched off a blast that blew a gasoline tank truck to bits yesterday as it was being towed west of the Saginaw city limits.

The driver of the tow truck, Roland Cooper, 35 of rural Rhodes escaped injury although the explosion dented his truck cab.

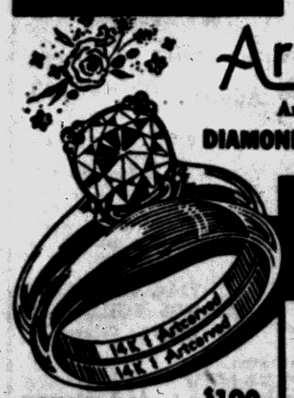

Pieces of the tank truck were blown as far as 100 feet. A second truck driver following the first managed to shove his truck into reverse in time to get out of range of flying bits of metal.

Junior Highs Rehearse for First All-City Concert

MOVING DAY — Madison Junior High ninth grade students Jim Henderson and Berta Cooper help clear off storage room shelves during "Operation Big Move" this week. They were among some 40 students who were so anxious to get into the fine new Madison building at 1275 N. Perry St. that they took time out from vacation days to help move supplies from the old Wever School. Students were given a week's vacation during the moving period, and will resume classes Wednesday morning in the new building.

Gigantic Festival Feb. 28 Will Feature 1,100 Students

Along with the romantic billing and cooing that usually hovers around Valentine week, everything from the sound of chorus and glee clubs to the clatter of moving vans could be heard around Pontiac's junior high schools this week.

Rehearsals are going great guns in five junior high schools for Pontiac's first gigantic citywide Junior High vocal festival.

In addition, one school hunched its muscles to launch a five-day moving job while others reported elections, special assemblies, games and plans for an operetta.

The Junior High School Vocal Music Festival will be presented at 8 p.m. Feb. 28 in the boys' gymnasium of Pontiac High School. The massed choir of 1,100 voices from all the city's junior high schools, will sing nine numbers, and additional vocal ensembles from each of the schools will be given.

George Putnam, supervisor of secondary vocal music for Pontiac schools and coordinator for the vocal festival, said Pontiac can expect some "stirring music" from the junior high singers.

"It is the first such concert in the history of the city, and we expect to make it a one all will remember," Putnam said.

Tickets, at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students, will cover only the cost of staging the festival. Purpose of the festival is to give the students a chance to show what they can do in a massed group.

AT MADISON

Madison Junior High students bid farewell to Wever School Tuesday, when classes were dismissed until next Wednesday, when they will resume in the new building at Perry and Madison Sts. However, about 40 students gave up their vacation to labor mightily, packing and moving books and equipment this week.

The mammoth moving job will continue until next Wednesday, says Principal George Yansen.

Main classroom area of the new school is built around an open court which will be landscaped later.

AT WASHINGTON

Washington Junior High students were enthusiastic in their praise of Aunt Jemima, who appeared in the person of versatile Edith Wilson, radio and movie star, at an assembly yesterday morning.

The talented singer was brought to the school through the courtesy of the west side Kiwanis Club. She will also appear Saturday at the West Pontiac Kiwanis Pancake Festival, for the benefit of Kiwanis youth work.

The new Student Council is electing a number of committees. One of them, composed of four students and three faculty members, will pick one boy and one girl student to receive the Student Council award of a trip to Washington, D. C. with the senior class.

AT LINCOLN

Lincoln Junior High is proud of its band members who rated well at the Southeastern Michigan Band and Orchestra Assn. Festival last Saturday in Ypsilanti.

Two band ensembles won first place ratings. The flute trio with Anita Bowers, Nancy Cunningham and Sara Wood and the coronet quartet with James Sheridan, Diane Flicker, Roger Richards and Robert Pearson are now qualified to enter the state finals April 21 at Michigan State University.

A clarinet quartet of Jerry Menter, Patricia Hoyes, Duane Heaton and Judy Phipps made 2nd place rating, while several other band soloists placed in the third division.

AT EASTERN

Eastern Junior High has a new club, named Warum Club after a German word meaning "why?" Meetings are held once a week, after school.

A successful candy sale this week earned some more money for an aquarium for Mr. Levine's science classes.

That new electric scoreboard used in the Faculty-Varsity game was purchased by the Boys Athletic Club. It chalked up a victory for the Faculty All-Stars, who are still crowing over trouncing the Varsity.

A plum of the future is the operetta "The Mikado." Boys and Girls Glee Clubs are practicing for the presentation early in March, and art classes are working on scenery.

AT AVONDALE

More than 200 turned out at Avondale Junior High School's first Valentine Dance last Friday. Variety numbers such as a pantomime and vocal and guitar solos were well received as an entertaining addition to the dancing.

Wednesday night the school glee club sang for the teacher's club, which held its monthly meeting in the gym.

If drapes in the office and library soon add extra cheer to Avondale's new school, thanks will go to the Mothers' Sewing Club. The moms have been working hard with their needles and machines to complete the curtains.

Slate Founder's Day at Avondale

Events Move Swiftly in Area Schools With Plans for Dance, Play, Programs

The current of events moved swiftly in Pontiac area high schools this week.

Along with plenty of excitement over current basketball games, there were plans for a play, a radio program, debates, dances, and even a Founder's Day program.

AT AVONDALE

Avondale High will be the center of the school district's PTA activities when it holds its Founder's Day program Thursday. Children from all schools will join in entertaining at the program, which begins at 8 p.m.

Taking part, with 15 minutes' stage time allotted to each, will be Auburn Heights, Elmwood, Stiles and Stone district schools. Emceeing the program will be Avondale High senior San Sheehy.

Next to the last home game of the season will be held at Avondale tonight, as the Yellow Jackets try to avenge an earlier defeat against Clawson.

Juniors at Avondale are having play tryouts this afternoon, and rehearsals will begin next week. "Caught in the Villain's Web" is the melodrama chosen by the selection committee to be staged April 5.

Pianist William Haaker will be at Avondale for an assembly program next Tuesday afternoon. A protege of Jose Iturbi, Mr. Haaker is also a conductor.

Last night's career night was one of the best attended and most successful yet, with over 20 institutions of higher learning represented in the evening's festivities.

AT WALLED LAKE

Walled Lake High School's Student Council will present a radio program Tuesday. The program will include a discussion of the council, its problems, functions, and its relations with other councils by Council members Robin Perry, Ann Churchill, Sue Moore, Bob Hess, and Dorb Naubert.

The senior points committee has been diligently evaluating activity points of class members.

Senior high students and their dates will dance to the music of a Floyd Snyder band tomorrow night and decorations which will carry out a Valentine theme. Climax of the senior-sponsored dance will be the selection of a queen and court by the band.

AT CLARKSTON

Clarkston High School's debate team will travel to Pontiac High School tomorrow to take part in the regional tournament. The team won an invite to the regionals as a result of its second-place finish in the Wayne-Oakland League.

The debaters will meet Flint Mandeville High in the first round. Other teams competing are Bloomfield Hills, Detroit Pershing, Hazel Park and Pontiac, with the winner going into the state quarter-finals.

AT BLOOMFIELD HILLS

Bloomfield Hills High School's Barons take on Oak Park tonight, and every student is hoping for a win. The JV basketball game starts at 7:15 with the varsity game at 8:30 in Bloomfield's big new gym.

News for the future is a comedy play, "Rest Assured," to be put on by junior and senior classes. Rehearsals are well under way and a tentative time for production has been set as the middle of March.

Seniors drew a big crowd at their Valentine dance Saturday.

Operetta to Run for Three Days

Waterford Vocal Units to Stage Production Feb. 29, March 2, 3

By JEAN LIMATTA

Waterford Township High School vocal groups had not a moment to spare this week, as they rehearsed for the school's second operetta. "Pirates of Penzance," with double casting, will be given at Isaac E. Crary Junior High Feb. 29, and in the high school auditorium March 2 and 3.

"Pirates of Penzance" stirs real humor. First little Frederic's nurse mistakenly apprentices him to a band of pirates. Then, on reaching the legal age of 21, Frederick finally is set to leave the band only to discover he is bound to the pirates because of his Feb. 29 leap-year birthday which makes him only five years old.

GAA will welcome St. Michael, West Bloomfield, and Bloomfield girls at WTHS's third annual Sports Day from 1 to 4 p.m. tomorrow. Ruth Goodwin, senior, is chairman of the day, which will include basketball, volleyball, and refreshments.

More than $9,000 was received by the Student Council this week, as people answered the first call for the football lights bonds.

Waterford Township's elementary children will have a special treat March 7, 8, and 10 when Speech II Class presents "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" in the high school auditorium. March 8 has been set aside especially for adults to view the fairy tale production.

Vocal and dramatic groups aren't the only ones working extra hours at WTHS. Band members have been preparing for the annual district band and orchestra festival to be held Feb. 25 at Wayne University. About 85 WTHS members will attend. Also on the band's approaching schedule is the annual concert, March 27.

Mackinac Island was chosen by juniors last week as the destination of their senior trip in June, 1957. The 1956 class also chose Mackinac for its trip.

Lent Brings Time for Thought to Parochial Students

Valentine dances brought to a close the frivolous aspect of life in Pontiac's Catholic high schools, as Lent began this week. Ann Schachern, St. Frederick High School correspondent, and Janet English of St. Michael's report that students of both schools are taking time out for serious thought on spiritual values.

With the coming of Lent, which started Ash Wednesday, the social life at St. Frederick High School suddenly slowed to a halt.

Students try to prepare themselves for Easter Sunday and Christ's Resurrection by acts of self-denial through the forty days of Lent.

The Teen Club night last Friday and the Juniors' successful "Cupid's Capers" were the last dances until Easter Sunday.

School work goes right along, however, and with the extra time available for studying, it sometimes goes along much better.

Last weekend all five of St. Fred's basketball teams won their games. Last Thursday night boys varsity beat St. Mary's Royal Oak and split the three-way tie for the league first place position. Boy's JV won also.

In a complicated schedule Sunday afternoon, girls varsity beat crosstown rivals St. Mike's, 30-12. Girls' reserves beat St. Lawrence of Utica, 22-21.

Tuesday after school a general Sodality meeting was held, the first this year.

Reports were given from those who attended the training school of Sodality Action at the University of Detroit two weeks ago. Officers elected were; Prefect, George Daily; Vice prefect, Mary Kay Sclesky; Secretary, Donna Needle; and Treasurer, Jim Mayworm.

Boys varsity cagers will play a game Sunday afternoon at the parish hall with a team yet to be announced.

VALENTINE DANCE HELD

At St. Michael High School, spinning platters amidst red and white streamers and oversized Valentines set the pace for the senior sponsored benefit dance, the "Bow and Arrow Ball," Monday night.

Seniors Bill Hall and Marge Bateman were crowned king and queen by Father William Immel, an honor bestowed on them as winners of a week-long penny-a-vote campaign.

On display at the dance were the three winning posters picked from those made to advertise the affair. Seniors Colleen McEnery, Dolores Cook, and Mary Singles combined their artistic talents and won first prize, two tickets to the dance. Two tickets also went to Pat Martin, a junior, who copped second place.

Last but not least was third prize winner, Pat Sears, who was awarded one ticket for her efforts.

Our 42-36 win over St. Mary's of Orchard Lake was the cause of the dance being changed from its former Tuesday to Monday. By this victory, the varsity team became eligible for playoffs with St. Benedict's of Highland Park for championship in the Suburban Catholic League. The game was played at the Shrine's gym in Royal Oak.

Tuesday, St. Valentine's Day was also tag day here. Red Valentines bearing the inscription "Have a Heart. Buy a Heart. Help th Missions." were made by seventh graders and sold, with the proceeds earmarked to be sent to a missionary.

Winner of the Betty Crocker Homemaking Contest, is Marcia Kramer. Recipient of a pin on which is engraved "Homemaker of Tomorrow," Marcia is now eligible to compete in the state contest.

Wednesday, the Children of Mary and Holy Name Societies held their monthly meetings. The girls of the Junior and Senior classes, society members, have ransomed their first pagan baby as a mission project. The name chosen for the baby was Theresa Lynn.

Senior English classes have been putting extensive study into Shakespeare's tragedy, Macbeth. Friday, the classes listened to an album of professional interpretations in order to gain a more thorough understanding of this drama.

Students Invited to Army Program

All high school students and their parents have been invited to attend an educational program and movie at 8 p.m. tonight, to be held at Pontiac's 703rd Tank Battalion Headquarters, 37 W. Lawrence.

* * *

Refreshments will be part of the entertainment, as will a special display of tanks, firearms and other combat equipment.

Bob Considine Says:

Why Is New York Letting Good Show Die?

NEW YORK (INS) — Small girl-type child we board with, aged 7, announced with flutter-lidded piety the other day, "I'm giving up cigarettes for Lent."

Sure and it's obsessed, the New York theater-going public must be, to let a play like "The Righteous Are Bold" go to its reward with only a few more performances.

Frank Carney's completely startling play about an Irish girl who returns to her home from work in England possessed of the devil, himself, deserved a better patronage. But there's still a few days remaining to catch this one, which Eddie Dowling brought over from Dublin's Abbey Theater.

Was there ever a part in recent years as demanding as that of Irene Hayes, the 22-year-old girl who plays the bewitched? She must go from a deranged she-devil who crashes about the poor cottage destroying holy statues and crosses and spitting in the face of the kindly old parish priest all the way to whimpering in contrition.

The priest and the doctor claim her; one on the ground that her devil must be cast out, the other on the premise that the girl is mad and must be sent to an institution.

Suddenly . . .

Well, see it.

LAURELS FOR LILLIAN

And while we're plugging away, the best nightclub torch singer in the land, to my way of thinking, is Lillian Roth — who is presently playing the Persian Room of the Plaza in Nw York.

Everybody knows her story now, from the book "I'll Cry Tomorrow" to her appearance on "This Is Your Life" (which drew 40,000 letters) to her other TV appearances, to her new Epic record album.

She was the star who shot high into the night sky, exploded in a burst of alcohol, and volplaned all the way down to the dregs of the bottle.

What a magnificent comeback this courageous woman has made! This star is not only reborn but must be more luminous than when she was dazzling them on Broadway and in Hollywood in the late 1920s.

She has the kind of delivery for music that Shirley Booth has for a stage line, a friend of mine named Gino di Grandi said the other night as people actually stood and cheered her at the end of her numbers.

Miss Roth makes no play for sympathy, yet one senses that everyone in earshot silently roots for her and secretly wonders if he could rebound from the bottom as did she.

She's gay and carefree through many of the numbers and deliberately corny in a few throwbacks to the late '20s.

But when she calms down and sings "I'd Climb the Highest Mountain" she can bring more tears to more jaded old ringsiders than they've shed in years.

JUST BY A LOOK

Dr. Paul Dudley White commented, after taking overall command of the President's corps of heart specialists, that he could affect the stock market by the expression on his face as he'd leave the President after making a checkup.

True, too. But now what about the expression on the face of Secretary of Treasury George Humphrey, Ike's host at Thomasville, Ga.?

Will the news boys beyond the gates focus a telescope on Humphrey as he takes his daily constitutional? If he is seen looking forlorn does he mean that Ike has told him something, that he has just failed to get his quota of birds? If he's happy looking is it because of Ike or a joke he's heard?

The world waits and wonders. I wonder if ever before in history have as many people hung on a yes or no?

WHEN WILL BREAKUP COME? — Slight movement was noted Wednesday in this ice jam in lower Lake Huron north of the Blue Water bridge at Port Huron, but no major breakup occurred. Open water is noted in two sections, but the rest of the area is locked tight. Observers hope when the breakup comes it will be gradual. A sudden thaw would send ice floes crashing into the St. Clair river, damaging shore installations.

No Breakup Seen as Ice Continues to Grip St. Clair

PORT HURON (AP)—Despite some ice floes breaking up at the mouth of the St. Clair River Wednesday, miles of 10-inch ice still remain solid over most of the river.

State Police at the St. Clair post eight miles south of Port Huron reported "nothing much is moving" and ice was 8 to 10 inches thick.

Port Huron Coast Guardsmen said some ice floes broke up north of the Blue Water bridge and moved southward into the river.

The Coast Guard said no wholesale breakup is in sight in the 28-mile stretch of the river south of Algonac although open spots are reported at various intervals.

Coast Guardsmen said the slow breakup would aid cottage owners whose docks on the river stand to be ruined if huge ice floes move down the river too fast.

Kavanagh Still Holds License

State Attorney General Acquitted on Charge of Unsafe Driving

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, probably the state's most prominent and publicized collector of traffic tickets, still has a shaky hold on his driver's license.

Kavanagh, the state's top law enforcement officer, was acquitted yesterday on a charge of unsafe driving.

The attorney general was under probation for a series of moving violations—including several for speeding—and a guilty verdict might have taken his license and also provided fuel for blasts from Republican opponents.

Kavanagh and Roy Armstrong, a Michigan State University student, were involved in a property damage collision in downtown Lansing last Dec. 17. Streets were icy at the time. Both were charged with unsafe driving.

In the 18 months before taking office, Kavanagh was convicted of five moving violations — four of them for speeding.

While attorney general he was again cited for speeding.

NEVER PRESSED

This was never pressed and until St. Clair County Sheriff Ferris Lucus demanded an explanation and newspapers took up the story, was forgotten.

Sec. of State James M. Hare, also a Democrat, conducted an intensive investigation, he reported, but said he was unable to find out who lost or mislaid the citation against Kavanagh.

Kavanagh was re-examined last Oct. 1 and placed on a six months probation.

Municipal Judge Earl E. McDonald found both Kavanagh and Armstrong innocent of the unsafe driving charge, saying that the facts and evidence showed both were proceeding with due caution and reasonable speeds at 15 to 20 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

Both drivers used caution, and the only error might be one of judgment, the judge said.

'Iliac' the Robot Ready to Work for U. S. Farmer

CHICAGO (AP) — An electronic brain named "Iliac" can help a farmer plan his crop and livestock operations for the best profit whether prices go up or down, an Illinois farm economist said yesterday.

Earl R. Swanson of the University of Illin is in a prepared speech said it took Iliac just 20 minutes to whirl through combinations of figures and come up with four alternative plans for operating a 320-acre Illinois farm at maximum financial returns, depending on various price levels for corn.

Swanson spoke at the eighth annual joint meeting of midwestern agronomists and fertilizer industry representatives sponsored by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

The machine, he said, is known as an "electronic digital computer" and is used in a recently developed mathematical technique called linear programming.

In arriving at its recommendations in the case mentioned, he said, the electronic brain had to consider factors such as crop rotation, various levels of fertilizer applications, the farmer's starting capital, cropping patterns, limestone, manure and the acreage planted to various crops.

The brain also had to review detailed data on relationships between crops and livestock, the farm's soil types, available machinery, amount of family farm help, livestock systems, the value of roughage and various markets prices for corn, small grains, hogs and cattle.

Swanson said the chief limitation of the technique is the large amount of data needed, adding that most farmers do not have enough for a thorough job of programming.

"We do not hope by these methods to work out a recipe for large numbers of farms," he said. "But we do hope, however, to get a more realistic conception of fitting the individual enterprises and practices into the total farm business."

Tot Thrown From Car in Middlebelt Crash

WEST BLOOMFIELD—Edith E. Hertza, three years old, was treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital last night for hip and head injuries which she received when she was thrown from her mother's car in a head-on collision on Middlebelt road near Orchard Lake road.

Drivers reported to West Bloomfield police that Mrs. Nicholas Hertza of 2027 Middlebelt was driving south on Middlebelt road when her car hit a patch of ice and she lost control and went into the opposite lane and hit the auto of George William Patrix of 1307 Nikomas, Pontiac.

Nigeria Visit Ends; Queen Arrives Home

LONDON (INS)—Britain's Queen Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, came home to London today and thus ended another royal tour.

The special British Overseas Airways Argonaut carrying their party landed at London airport this morning after an overnight flight from Nigeria, where the couple had spent three weeks.

Elizabeth and Philip were welcomed at the airport by the happy Prince Charles and Princess Anne. The Queen Mother, Princess Margaret and Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden also were on hand.

The aircraft was held up for an hour at Castel Idris airport in Libya when a faulty starter motor was changed. The Queen and her consort left for Britain last night from Kano, in the northern section of the West African colony.

This morning's London Daily Mirror reported from Kano that when the Queen visited the local Moslem Emir's "Arabian Nights" palace, she asked to see the harem.

The Mirror said the concubines fell to their knees and bowed their heads when the Queen walked in.

Chevrolet to Erect New Assembly Plant

DETROIT (INS)—Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corp. announced today it will build a new assembly plant on 300 acres of land just acquired in northeastern Ohio.

Chevrolet General Manager T. H. Keating said the site of the new plant, 13th in the division's national network of assembly facilities, is located about 12 miles northwest of Youngstown.

Keating said the plant, expected to be in operation by the fall of 1957, will employ about 8,000 salaried and hourly-rated workers.

The new plant will be Chevrolet's largest assembly facility in size and employment. It will be able to turn out 75 cars and 30 trucks an hour — an average of nearly two vehicles a minute.

Divers Probe Reservoir for Missing MIT Pledge

WALTHAM, Mass. (INS) — A despairing father today watched silently as police and skin divers began a search of the Cambridge reservoir to search for his son, feared drowned in a Massachusetts Institute of Technology initiation stunt.

Alfred R. Clark, of Harvey, Ill. a telephone company executive, was bent with grief as the mo pushed across the thin ice, relying on small boats to support them if the ice broke.

Clark's son, Thomas L., 18, a freshman at MIT vanished a week ago today after being dropped from a car in Lincoln at 1 a.m., with instructions to get back to the institute by 8 a.m.

Aides of Middlesex County District Attorney Ephraim Martin also waited nearby as a helicopter hovered overhead. Martin assigned his men to the search so an immediate autopsy could be held if searchers find the body of the young student. The prosecutor said:

"A death — if there be a death — cannot be considered a lark."

SEARCH POND

The search was concentrated on the pond as a result of the discovery and recovery from a helicopter of a shoe and scarf, indentified as the boy's. These were found near a patch of newly-frozen thin ice.

Searchers and the father had only slim hopes that Thomas still was alive. These were based on a report by Philip Blanchette, 54, of Belmont, that he had picked up a hitchiker answering the boy's description in Wayland on Wednesday and had driven him to Cochituate.

Three residents of Auburn also told authorities they had talked Saturday with a youth answering the missing student's description.

Group Reported Persuading Ike to Drop Nixon

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today a movement is developing within the Republican party to persuade President Eisenhower to accept another vice presidential running mate if he decides to seek a second term.

A Washington dispatch by James Reston said the movement to replace Vice President Nixon is "without support from the White House" so far.

The idea being discussed, the story added, is to transfer Nixon to a regular Cabinet post in any second Eisenhower administration.

The story also said:

"Even those high in the administration who have been in on these discussions, and who favor a switch, concede, however, that Mr. Nixon has powerful support within the White House and with many key Republican leaders, including former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York."

Assistance on Tax Not Official Approval

Taxpayers of the Detroit district were cautioned today by District Director A. M. Menninger of the Internal Revenue Service that preparation of their 1955 tax forms by revenue personnel, or aid in preparing them, is no guarantee that he returns will not be audited.

"Many taxpayers," Menninger said, "think that returns prepared in our offices are finished and that they need have no further concern with them. This isn't true. Our agents who prepare or assist are merely inserting the information provided by taxpayers.

"If later check reveals discrepancies or even incorrect figures, the taxpayer must be prepared to explain and prove the items in question."

Menninger urged each taxpayer to attempt preparations of his own return. The first step necessary to self-preparation of returns, he pointed out, is complete availability of business or financial records for 1955.

Man Literally Digs Up Most of $3,000 Bond

Harris, a resident of nearby Mecosta Township, dug up $2,990 of his $3,000 bond from fruit jars buried in his barn.

For the other $10, Harris sent a son to friends.

'Appreciation Dinner' for Hoffa Set April 20

DETROIT (AP)—A national committee under chairmanship of a Chicago department store owner says it will sponsor a $100-a-plate "appreciation dinner" in Detroit April 20 for James R. (Jimmy) Hoffa, Midwest boss of the Teamsters Union.

Joel Goldblatt, committee chairman, said it was hoped the dinner would attract 2,500 and raise $250,000, all of which would go toward building a children's home in Jerusalem.

Goldblatt said Histadrut, a trade union organization in Israel, had proposed to match the Hoffa dinner donation.

Cypriots Stirred by Communists

Reds Passing Rumors to Upset Negotiations of British, Rebels

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—A war within a war is being waged on this strategic Mediterranean island.

On the surface, there are nearly 400,000 Greeks passionately supporting a campaign of terror to gain self-determination and eventually union with Greece.

"Without Makarios," an avowed Communist told this reporter, "We could take over the leadership of the movement and make the British do what we want. There are other countries who would help us and we would not be at the mercy of Anglo-American imperialists."

He would not identify the prospective friendly nation, although he was asked if he meant Soviet Russia. "These friends would send us arms, too," he said.

It was gleaned from this interview and others that the immediate objective is to sabotage negotiations between the archbishop and Field Marshal Sir John Harding, governor of the island.

Informed sources said this week that Harding and the archbishop had agreed on a British plan to give the island complete internal selfgovernment, with Britain retaining control of defense and foreign affairs. These sources said announcement was being delayed until next week, so as not to influence the general election in Greece Sunday.

The Communists secretly are circulating the report that Makarios and the Greek government are ready to betray the Cyprus cause. This has gained considerable credence among fellow travelers, perhaps a fourth of the population.

President Thanks 300 Pupils for Valentines

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — President Eisenhower says thank you for the 300 Valentines he received from Dayton area schoolchildren.

In a letter received here, he called the Valentines the "most charming and original" that have ever come his way.

The Dayton chapter of the American Heart Assn. selected the 300 Valentine cards from among several thousand made by the schoolchildren. They were delivered to the Whit House Monday by Mrs. Robert Knee, general chairman for the Feb. 26 Heart Sunday collection here, and two other Dayton area representatives.

Yesterday, Mrs. Knee received a letter from the President which said:

"If it were physically possible, I would like nothing better than to thank personally each of the children who sent me a Valentine. Since that manifestly cannot be done, I must rely on you to express in some way to the children my gratitude and my admiration."

State Safety Measure May Get Rough Go

LANSING (AP) — A traffic safety bill brought in by 16 Republican senators appeared today to be in for tough going in the Michigan Legislature.

The measure, calling for establishment of training schools for "undesirable" drivers in counties over 30,000 population, ran into sharp criticism Thursday as unworkable, unwise and illogical.

Most, but not all, of the opposition came from minority Democrats led by Sen. Harold N. Ryan of Detroit, party floor spokesman.

Under the proposal, "undesirable" drivers and motorists convicted of serious or repeated moving offenses could be required to attend the schools 1½ hours weekly for six weeks.

Judges would be authorized to suspend sentences for traffic violations — except drunken driving — on the condition of school attendance.

The program, affecting about 50 counties, would be jointly supervised by the state commissioner of police and county law enforcers.

One Known Dead; 35 Hurt as Twister Rips Town of Aberdeen

ABERDEEN, Miss. (AP)—Volunteer searchers poked through the twisted ruins of a residential area today, probing for possible dead or survivors of a quick-striking tornado that killed at least one person and left 35 known injured.

The twister ripped through this northeast Mississippi town of 5,300 last night, unleashing its might on the four-block area.

Israel Hayes.

Damage estimates ran as high as $750,000, the state highway patrol said.

The dead man was identified as Israel Hayes, 50-year-old Negro.

Monroe County Hospital said four were hospitalized there in critical condition. They were Nathaniel Walker, 60; Rebecca Randle, 60; Sarah Cummingham, 39; and Lucinda Owens, 54 All were victims of cuts, bruises and internal injuries.

The hospitals placed the total injury list at 35, but said some of the victims needed only first aid.

Mayor A. G. Bright said about 100 persons were left homeless.

Emergency headquarters were established in a high school gymnasium.

30-Ton Die Gets Wander Fever on Romeo Street

ROMEO — A 30-ton die got the wanderlust yesterday when it snapped its chain on a truck and rolled to the pavement.

Truck driver Dale Collins said he heard a snap on his "low boy" truck as he was rounding the bend on Gates Street (M-53). Down went the die. No damage was done, however. The die rolled to the curb and even missed a picket fence close by.

Romeo police, worried about its removal, were relieved when a crane was sent from Detroit shortly afterward and hauled it away

Protests Son's Death by Refusal to Pay Fine

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP)—Because "nothing was done" to the driver whose car killed her son, a Michigan woman spent six hours in the county jail at nearby La Porte rather than pay a fine or buy a driver's license.

Mrs. Isabella Statkus, 37, of Union Pier, Mich., pleaded guilty in City Court to driving without a license. Finally she was released to her husband, Julius, who paid her $19.75 fine Wednesday night.

She had been arrested after being involved in a traffic accident in Michigan City Feb. 6.

Prof, Dealer Disagree With GM Executive

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A General Motors vice president said Thursday that state legislation to regulate automobile manufacturer-dealer contracts is unnecessary, but a dealer representative and a professor of law disagreed.

William F. Hufstader of Detroit, vice president in charge of distribution for GM, appeared for his firm before a general assembly committee studying sales franchises in the auto industry.

Dr. Charles M. Hewitt, Indiana University professor of business law, advocated "good faith" legislation to make the manufacturers liable for damages in contract cancellations.

Rep. Court Rollins of Muncie a committee member and a GM employe, disputed Hewitt's promember, Sen. Matthew E. Welsh posal at length. Another committee of Vincennes, criticized Rollins in turn for trying to embarrass the witness.

Keaton admitted, police said, he had been in an argument with his wife, having accused her of taking $20 from his pockets while he slept.

Prepare to Move Patients Into Osteopathic Hospital

Approximately 30 Pontiac Osteopathic patients are expected to be moved into the hospital's new site in the former Hotel Pontiac, 50 N. Perry St., Wednesday, Harry Whitlow, hospital administrator, announced yesterday.

Whitlow said the conversion plans for the first four floors of the seven - floor sturcture should be completed by then along with the necessary inspection.

The 27-year-old hotel was purchased from the Hotel Pontiac Corp. in December for an undisclosed price.

Since Jan. 1, a $100,000 renovation program has been under way. The new hospital, when completed, will provide 110 beds as compared to the 26-bed capacity of its present quarters at 32 Auburn Ave.

Whitlaw said he believed the remaining three floors to be completed for hospital use one month after Wednesday's scheduled opening.

The new hospital will be equipped with the newest in hospital equipment, totaling $150,000. All equipment from the Auburn avenue building will also be used. The old building will be used for quarters for interns, Whitlow said.

The first floor the the new quarters will house admitting rooms, a waiting room, reception desk with switchboard, administration offices, three wards and 26 beds, and a cafeteria for employes and in-patients.

The second level will be devoted to three surgery rooms, one delivery room and two recovery rooms for eight patients.

The obsterical department will be situated on the third floor to include eight private rooms and three semi-private rooms, all with television, radio, and telephones. A 13-crib nursery and an isolation room for two babies will be located on this floor also.

The fourth floor will be devoted entirely to patients and will have 16 beds. The basement will have three X-ray rooms, a lab and central supply.

Whitlow said he expected to increase the hospital's medical staff from its present 32 to around 60.

Waterford PTAS Support Request

Educators Review Insurance Program

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — The question of a student insurance program was reviewed when the Board of Education met last night.

A majority of the township's PTAs have supported the request which originated with the Waterford Center PTA that the insurance plan be made available to students.

The teachers' professional problems committee has gone on record as opposing handling the insurance through the schools because it does not constitute a part of the education program.

The Board instructed Supt. William Shunck to contact the Waterford Township Insurance Agents Assn. to see what they could offer.

A committee of parents, from the Georgeland Street-Pauline Street area near the Fish Hatchery, were on with a petition asking that their youngsters be allowed bus service to the new Monteith School because of hazardous walking conditions on Hatchery Road. A check will be made on the distance and traffic conditions involved and the problem will be re-considered as soon as possible.

SET BOUNDARIES

The boundary lines for the Eliza Seaman Leggett School have been set. Roughly, they are Lakewood Farms subdivision, the north and sides of Pontiac Lake Road just east of Crescent Lake Road but not as far south as Fiddle Street, a western portion of the Watkins Lake area, and Lorraine Manor.

Roy Hallenbeck, a resident from the Williams Lake area, presented a report on prefabricated school buildings now being used in Illinois.

The real merit of this type of building is the short time needed for construction. Average cost per room is $18,500.

The average cost per room of the Waterford Township Schools now under construction is $20,000. Supt. William Shunck was instructed to refer the suggestion to the architect.

'Gembling' Gals Make Hair Stylist Frantic

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

HIALEAH, Fla. (INS) — There probably is no site on earth—outside of a poker table or a gents' gym—where a female is less admired and desired than at a racetrack.

The true horseplayer looks at it this way. If the female is a wife, she usually nags and sulks. If she's a girl friend, she yaks and distracts. If she's a filly or mare, she does not run true to form.

"And when you see a good-lookin' doll at the track," says he, "it's 4-to-5 she's got a hot tip in the eighth. Not on a horse, but the millionaire who owns 'im."

To combat this traditional resentment, the Hialeah Racetrack has installed this year a flossy little annex, for women only, called "Vincent and Joseph's Bettors Beauty Salon."

Located 50 yards below the $2 mutuel windows of the grandstand and immediately adjacent to the men's barber shop, it was designed as a retreat where women could go to fritter away time while their hubbies were frittering away the family funds.

"Thees was the idea," says Vincent, an Italian-American with a French accent. "But the ladees, they cannot sit still, they want to gemble, gemble, gemble on every race.

"In the middle of shempoos they say 'Here, Vincent, bet number deux'—and I was always running up and down, up, down.

"One lady tells me I run better than her horses."

Vincent, who has a mustache and several other beautp shops in other parts of the country, leaned back and sighed heavily. "They tell me this will keep women happy while their husbands watch horses. They don't know. Women, I'll betcha two dollars, gemble more than men."

As if to confirm it, a woman pounced in, clutching binoculars and a racing form: "Can I get a shampoo and set and be out for the daily double?"

Vincent eyed his watch. "To see it, yes. To bet it, no."

The woman hustled off. "You see for yourself," he said. "Women are gemblers. Long-shot players. Men bet on Nashua. Women bet daily doubles.

RUNNING WOES

When the beauty shop opened last month, Vincent Pileggi learned quickly that he could not physically continue to "run bets" for women with their heads in lather or hair dryers.

Besides there was too much mental strain in trying to remember how much to bet, at what window, on which horse. (He is a neophyte at horse playing and wants to keep it that way.)

"So I begin to let the girls go upstairs themselves in hairnets and towels," he says dourly. "When they get there, they drop clips and hairpins all over and I lose money."

In a self-protection move, Vincent then decided to design turbans with flamingos on them to hold in the pins. But even that is not a sure thing. "Gemblers" are sometimes undependable.

"There was a lady having a permanent. She said you must excuse me, I will go bet on the best bet of the day. She went. She stayed to watch the race. She never come back."

Vincent smiled philosophically. "I gembled on her. She gembled on a horse. We both lost."

Camera Snaps Color Pictures in Darkness

BOSTON (AP) — A costly instrument nicknamed "Eva," which can take color pictures in complete darkness, has been exhibited to the public for the first time.

"Eva," short for evaporograph, enables photos to be made of a blacked-out city, a house a mile away and even hot gases pouring out of a chimney.

Only recently declassified by the U.S. Signal Corps, the $9,500 instrument was demonstrated yesterday by Dr. Bruce Billings, physicist and general manager of Baird Associates, Inc.

Not an electronic device, Eva gathers the heat radiation sent out in varying degrees and wave lengths by various objects. The radiations are focussed on a very thin, uniform film of oil.

PLASTIC MEMBRANE FILM

The film is maintained, inside Eva, on a plastic membrane. Molecules evaporate from the oil surface in proportion to the temperatures focussed on the various parts of the film. Color pictures of the image are taken by a little camera built inside the instrument.

Eva's civilian uses are endless. Being highly sensitive to heat, it may be used in research requiring delicate temperature readings. In medicine, it might reveal tumors or infections which cause temperatures to rise in some parts of the skin. It also can tell where heat is being lost in a house.

Fullmer Meets Gil Turner in Rubber Match

Utah Middleweight Is Favored in Televised Bout Tonight

Each fight seems to scramble the ratings in the 160-pound class. First it was Fullmer upsetting high-ranked Rocky Castellani in Cleveland, Jan.4. Then it was Bobby Boyd whipping favored Eduardo Lausse, the fiery Argentine, on the Wednesday show at Chicago.

Turner has a great chance to wreck the rankings tonight for he is not listed among the top 10 in the division while Fullmer is No.6.

The odds favor Fullmer at 8-5 to continue his advance toward a contending position. If he gets past Turner, the next stop for the 23-year-old cyclone may be a late March date at the Garden with Charles Humez of France, who is rated right behind ex-champ Bobo Olson among Sugar Ray Robinson's challengers.

Turner ended Fullmer's 29-fight winning streak last April 4 at Eastern Parkway in Brooklyn, the first defeat in Gene's budding career. Fullmer reversed it, winning a decision in a June 20 rematch at Salt Lake City. Now comes No. 3.

Network radio and television (NBC) will carry the scrap, starting at 10 p.m. (EST). Two judges and a referee will score it by rounds with a supplementary point system.

NCAA Announces Similar TV Plans

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The NCAA has come up with the 1956 version of its football television program, and in all essentials it looks just about like last year's offering.

There are to be eight national "game of the week" telecasts and five district TV showings.

The '56 format was disclosed yesterday by Walt Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. It represents the plans of the NCAA's television committee, and ratification by the membership is expected to be mere formality.

Following closely the outlines of last year's television setup, the 1956 plan specifies four dates—Sept. 22, Oct. 6, Dec. 1 and Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 22—for national telecasts.

An additional four dates are left open, to be selected by sponsors of the program. The remaining five Saturdays are set aside for intra-district telecasting. Member institutions will again be allowed to make their own arrangements.

Once again, a member will be limited to appear once on a national and once on a district telecast—or twice on district showings.

Last year, NCAA refusal to permit telecast by certain stations of the sellout Notre Dame-Iowa and Oklahoma-Texas games caused an uproar. Under the 1956 plan again these telecasts would be banned.

Differences in the '56 setup compared with the previous year include:

1. A game played more than 400 miles away from the visiting team's home may be telecast back to the team's home TV area.

2. Sellout games may be telecast to the home TV area of the home and visiting teams in the TV locale of the game—if it is played off-campus.

3. A team may participate twice in a telecast not released in its home NCAA district and these telecasts will not be counted as appearances.

Small colleges will be exempt from all appearance restrictions.

Howard Grubbs, commissioner of the Southwest Conference and chairman of the NCAA's TV committee, said last year's plan proved "successful" and after thorough study the group concluded that the 1956 plan should be continued in "virtually the same form."

The new proposal also deals with the case of colleges that have transferred their NCAA membership to another district from the one in which it is located geographically.

In such instances the member in the "displaced" category would be released for telecast not only in the district of its affiliation but also throughout the state in which it is located.

Byers said 10 schools are in the "displaced" group with changed affiliation: Navy, Iowa, Colorado, Houston, Detroit, Bradley, West Virginia, Marshall (Huntington, W. Va.), New Mexico and Idaho State.

West Point's Col. Red Reeder has come up with another thrilling book I heartily recommend. It is "Whispering Wind" (Duell, Sloan and Pearce).

It is a bold, plain-spoken story in which Indian ways and Indian customs are accurately portrayed; in which Indians and whites are depicted alike as men with the same reactions to threats against life and property, with similar weaknesses in individuals, with equal individual courage in the face of danger.

It is the story of the massacre at Sand Creek.

Golden Glove Titlist Upset

Young Detroit Auto Worker Scores Upset in Finals

DETROIT (AP) — John Powell, 18, an auto worker, scored an upset decision over Walter Sabbath, defending champion and 1955 national AAU titlist, to win the 147-pound title in the Detroit Golden Gloves finals last night.

It was the 4th meeting of the two fighters and gave them two victories apiece.

Powell pushed the fight to his opponent with a steady attack of body punches. Sabbath tried desperately to rally in the last round but was too far behind to overcome the advantage Powell had built up.

The decision was unanimous.

Bob Cornwell, who was 1955 champion in the 112-pound class, took the 118-pound title this year by knocking out Jack Balan in 1:50 of the second round.

Rookie Tiger Hurlers Get Scanned

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — A couple of rookie pitchers caught the eye of manager Bucky Harris as 55 youngsters called out for early spring drills by the Detroit Tigers went through their paces today.

And a third one vowed he'd play the full season where he started and ended the last — with Detroit.

Harris had a close look at Mal Simmons, who had a 17-9 record with Durham, N. C., in the Class B Carolina league last season, and Gene Host, who had a 10-13 mark with Little Rock in the Class AA Southern Assn.

Young Bob Miller, now 20 and weighing 184, said he was sure he'd fit into whatever pitching plans Harris had for the Tigers this season. Miller had an 8-2 record with Augusta in the Class A south Atlantic League, after being sent down when his "bonus baby" status ended. He came back to beat Cleveland twice and lose to New York at the end of the season.

Host a six footer, had one pitching streak of 51 consecutive innings without an earned run against him at Little Rock, which started and finished in the cellar.

Harris is looking sharply for relief pitching strength and figures either Host or Simmons might help.

Detroit lost 28 games last season by one run, and Harris says that just a little better relief pitching might have salvaged some of those losses.

Miller had one no-hitter at Augusta, and concedes: "I learned a lot after they shipped me down." The youngster added:

"I got confidence now that I never had before. I know darned well I'm going to be so good that they won't want to ship me out this year."

Miller is working on development of sinker now to go with his fast ball and curve. Willis Hudling, a longtime American Leaguer and minor Manager, is working with Miller daily.

Rocket, Pocket Score 2 Goals Each to Help Rout Leafs 8-1

There were the Deans and Waners in baseball. The O'Briens in college basketball and the Baers in boxing. Now the Richards are working up a pretty good brother act in the National Hockey League.

Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, the veteran and Henri (Pocket Rocket), a rookie, each scored twice last night to lead the Montreal Canadiens to an 8-1 rout of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Rocket, the NHL's all-time high scorer, boosted his season's goal output to 31. Jean Beliveau, Bert Olmstead, Dickie Moore and Marcel grabbed the other goals for the pace-setting Canucks. Tod Sloan netter Toronto's lone score.

Montreal's assault came against Harry Lumley, who made his first start in the Toronto nets in almost a month. He was injured Jan. 22.

VALLEY STANDINGS

Flint Central	5	2	371	371
PONTIAC	4	3	457	421
Arthur Hill	4	3	395	396
Bay City	2	5	428	456
Saginaw	0	7	390	485

Chief's basketball crew from Pontiac High School today was making it's final road trip of the season. And Coach Art Van Ryzin said this morning he hoped to improve on the "away" status of his club in this encounter, against Bay City Central.

Chiefs have won 2, lost 4 away from home, including Tuesday's terrific battle at Highland Park, won by the Polar Bears. Victories have been over Catholic Central (Detroit) and Saginaw Eastern. Losses, besides the Tuesday affair, were to Flint Central, Flint Northern and Arthur Hill.

Van Ryzin warned his club today that it was not to look for any easy game against Coach Art Paddy's outfit, which has been improving rapidly over its last three games.

"You never sell Bay City short" Art reminded. "They're always tough on their own floor. They gave both Central and Vikings some rough times, before taking a loss in each case. Wolves forced Northern into overtime before Vikings won, and they were right in the fight up to the last few minutes against Central."

Wolfpack has bettered its shooting, particularly in the last 2 games, when totals of 80 or better were compiled. Against Saginaw Tuesday night Bay City hit 83 to Trojan's 78. Chuck Crampton and Jim Chesney hit 25 and 23 points respectively.

Always a dangerous foe at home, Bay City is rated a sound club, well-coached and alert.

Art said he would start the same five that went against the Polar Bears, but hoped for much better scoring from some of his players who had tough work hitting at Highland Park.

Northwestern Pleased Over New Prospect

Grid Coach Tells of Top Prep Quarterback ---- Holcomb, Jr.

CHICAGO (AP)—A star high school quarterback has enrolled at Northwestern—and there's an inkling that the Wildcats' new athletic director, Stu Holcomb, had something to do with it.

Northwestern's new football coach, Ara Parseghian, told several hundred alumni at a Northwestern Club meeting yesterday about the quarterback.

"I am pleased to announce," he said, "that through hard work we have managed to induce one of the finest high school quarterbacks in the country to enroll at Northwestern.

"His old man was a hard nut to crack and the boy almost got away to Notre Dame, which wanted him badly.

"The boy's name is Stu Holcomb, Jr."

BHS Swim Team Dunks Mt. Clemens

Birmingham completed its dual swimming season yesterday with a 55-32 victory over Mt. Clemens in the Bather pool. The win gave the Maples a perfect 6-0 mark for their 8th straight Eastern Michigan League title.

A new pool record was set by Wayne Geggie in the 100 yard backstroke in 1:03.5 and the 200 yard medley relay of Geggie, Tom Bechtel, Jay Lewis and Pete Sintz set a pool and school mark of 1:52.

Next Thursday the preliminaries to the EML swim meet will be held at Ferndale with the finals Wednesday, February 29th at Barnum pool in Birmingham.

Braves' Boss Isn't Worried Over Laggards

MILWAUKEE (AP)—General Manager John Quinn today shrugged off the fact that 15 Milwaukee Braves players, including 10 of his regulars, still haven't signed on dotted line for 1956.

"I'm not concerned about it," said Quinn, who leaves tomorrow on the way to the Braves' camp at Bradenton, Fla. "After all, we experienced the same thing last year.

"Seems to me six or seven of our players signed a few hours before the March 1st deadline last year when they would be considered holdouts."

Seven Pontiac Table Net Players in State Tourney

Seven of Pontiac's finest table tennis performers, headed by Carol Ryan, will compete in the 25th annual Michigan Closed Table Tennis Tournament, Feb. 25-26, at the Godwin Heights High School gym in Grand Rapids.

Miss Ryan, who lives at 2980 Lansdowne in Waterford, is the defending state junior girls closed champion. A student at Central Michigan College, she also holds the state junior open crown. The 18-year-old star plans to compete in both junior girls and women's divisions.

Other Pontiac players participating in the tourney are Ellen Tiffany, city champion and state novice queen; John Wettlaufer, Michigan Recreation Association king; Carl Knaack, Ralph Reeves, Gloria Rose, and Perc Secord.

Secord will enter the senior men's division. He and Wettlaufer are defending MRA doubles champs.

Competition will be stiff at Grand Rapids with some of the state's best paddle-swingers competing, including several titleholders.

Leaders Unchanged in PTTA Standings

Results of last night's contests in the Pontiac Table Tennis Association failed to change the top positions. Pontiac Varnish defeated Heckman's on a 6-0 shutout to stay in front, as runnerup Cigarette Service also blanked their opponents, 6-0. Bethany Baptists were the unlucky ones.

In other matches Stadium Inn defeated Fleet Carriers 4-2 and Capitol Barbers won from Paddle Kings 4-2.

Kansas State Appoints Lee

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—H. B. (Bebe) Lee, Colorado University basketball coach, was named athletic director for Kansas State College today.

Dr. James A. McCain, college president, announced Lee's appointment after it was approved by the Kansas Board of Regents.

Lee is expected to take over his new duties at Manhattan about 9 new duties at Manhattan about (Moon) Mullins, who is taking a similar position at Marquette University.

Lee, 39, has coached at Colorado since 1950. His team shared the Big 7 Conference title in 1954 and was the champion last year.

Dr. McCain said Kansas State considers Lee "superbly qualified for our athletic director. He was the unanimous and enthusiastic choice of the college athletic council. There is every indication that he has also an abundant degree the administrative and leadership ability and the integrity which the position calls for."

3 Referees, 1 Game

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Hockey fans won't be seeing things this weekend when three referees work the Colorado College-British Columbia U. series at the Broadmoor Ice Palace.

Colorado College decided it would experiment with three officials instead of the customary two. One will act as chief referee; the other two will be linesmen.

b. Try a hit-and-run (hit behind runner)?

Rams Host Eaglets Sunday Afternoon

Aside from Highland Park St. Benedict's participation in the parochial high school tournament, which starts Sunday afternoon in Detroit, basketball action in the Suburban Catholic League this weekend is the scantiest since the 1955-56 season began.

Only one game involving an SCL team is scheduled tonight. Bedraggled St. Clement, still looking for its 1st victory, tackles Notre Dame of Harper Woods at Center Line.

Sunday afternoon St. Frederick battles Orchard Lake St. Mary on the St. Fred court in a return match. The Eaglets defeated the Rams in their 1st meeting at Orchard Lake, 58-42.

The contest means nothing to the SCL race since the campaign is now officially at an end. Play gets under way at 2:30 p.m.

St. Michael has only one scheduled game remaining until tournament time, its traditional finale with Oxford on March 1 at the PHS gym. Coach Bob Mineweaser is attempting to negotiate a couple of added engagements prior to the Oxford encounter.

St. Benedict's Ravens, SCL champions by virtue of their 60-36 triumph over St Mike in last Tuesday's title playoff, plunge into the parochial tourney Sunday at the U. of D. Memorial building against seven other Catholic division kings. The winner meets the Detroit public school titleholder.

In other 1st round attractions St. Bernard meets St. Florian at 3:30, Austin faces Lourdes at 5 o'clock, and St. Andrews clashes with All Saints at 8:15.

Dayton vs Louisville

Top Ranked Giants Meet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

San Francisco's Dons should push their major college winning record to 46 straight games tonight against St. Mary's of California, but if you're looking for the really big basketball action of the night, hustle on to the Louisville armory. That's where Dayton's Flyers get another crack at the Louisville Cardinals.

Dayton, ranked 2nd only to the Dons in the Associated Press poll, have won 19 of 20 games this season. The one that got away was filched 64-62 in overtime by Louisville, ranked 4th and currently 20-2.

The return match between the two NIT-bound clubs should be a pip. These two outfits have battled into overtime in their last three meetings.

Basilio, Saxton Sign for Bout on March 14

CHICAGO (AP) —Welterweight champion Carmen Basilio and challenger Johnny Saxton have signed a contract for a 30-30 split of the proceeds for their 15-round title bout in Chicago Stadium March 14.

The bout originally was scheduled for Feb. 15, but was postponed when the champion became ill with a virus infection.

Gault and Eskridge Win Non-Title Bouts

Today's story on NCAA television plans for the 1956 football season has an interesting point which may draw some local attention.

"It deals with one of the new proposals in the case of colleges which are located in one district and play their games in another district because of league affiliation.

Among this so-called "displaced group there are 10 schools including Iowa of the Big Ten and Detroit in the Missouri Valley conference.

According to the story released today members in the "displaced" category would be released for telecast in the district of their affiliation as well as in the state in which they are located.

This could mean Iowa and Detroit football games could be carried in Michigan without restriction; Iowa because of affiliation with the Big Ten district and Detroit being located in the state.

There will probably be numerous interpretations of this rule.

COACHES ON THE MOVE

A couple of high school football coaches have already made their moves in the annual turnover of coaches. Bruno Marana, of Center Line, resigned to enter business in his home town of Caspian in the Upper Peninsula. He was at Center Line for four seasons, having compiled a 27-7-1 record and winning the Bi-County title the last two years.

Another change for "personal reasons" was the resignation of Bob Perry at Lowell high school as football coach.

Robin Roberts the ex-MSU basketball and baseball star signed the third highest salaried contract in history of Philadelphia. Reported salary calls for $50,000.

The Big Ten conference has voted to permit the use of freshmen boxers in inter-collegiate competition. Only two Big Ten schools, Michigan State and Wisconsin, engage in boxing competition.

Pitcher Frank Lary, who had a 14-15 record with the Tigers last season, signed his 1956 contract. The amount was not disclosed.

Night of Decision for Preps

All doubts about league champions in the Inter-Lakes conference and Eastern Michigan League may be settled for good tonight.

One of the big games in the area is at Southfield where the Jays entertain Berkley. Both teams are currently tied with 6-2 marks in the league, this having come about as result of Waterford's upset win over Southfield last Friday.

Berkley and Southfield both started the seasons on the same keel. Each lost its first three games before gaining the momentum of winning streaks.

The Bears have now won six straight and eight of their last nine, and the Jays were riding a seven game winning crest before falling to Waterford.

Elsewhere in the IL, Waterford travels to Farmington and Walled Lake goes to Van Dyke.

At Port Huron, the Big Red could virtually wrap up the EML with a win over second place Birmingham, although both the Maples and East Detroit are still mathematically in the race.

A loss would end hopes for defending champion Birmingham. Other EML games have Ferndale at Mt. Clemens and East Detroit at Hazel Park.

Avondale will be looking for revenge at home against Clawson. The Jackets may have lost their title chances because of 68-51 setback at Clawson earlier.

League leader Fitzgerald rests while Madison, tied with Avondale for 2nd, plays host to Roseville and Lake Orion travels to Troy.

Holly, victorious in a surprising win over Clarenceville last week, travels to Brighton in Wayne-Oakland action. The Broncos had lost 10 straight before beating Clarenceville.

At West Bloomfield an interesting clash takes place with Rochester visiting the Laker court in a rematch. Rochester won the first game this season 66-46, but Frank Rogers was missing from the Laker lineup in that game.

Other games have Flint Tech at Cranbrook, North Branch at Oxford, Almont at Armada in an important Southern Thumb game, Romeo visiting Lapeer, Lakeview at Utica, Oak Park at Bloomfield Hills, and Capac at Brown City.

Three-Year-Old Crop Lacking Top Stars

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Racing at Santa Anita, or anywhere else thus far this winter, hasn't unveiled anything in the new crop of 3-year-olds to provoke wild excitement.

Tomorrow at Santa Anita some of the better prospects go to bat in the $25,000-added San Felipe Handicap at a mile and one-sixteenth

Out of this may come a definite threat for the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby March 3, and the subsequent gems of the triple crown—the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes—later in the spring.

Dillard Goes for 9th Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Harrison Dillard has won more national titles than any of the 10 other champions slated to defend their laurels in the AAU indoor track and field championships tomorrow night but he may find that time has passed him by as he goes after his ninth hurdle crown.

The reason is not that the 32-year-old 1948 sprint and 1952 hurdles Olympic winner has slowed up to any great degree. It is because Lee Calhoun of North Carolina College has come along after two years in the Army to take control of the event Old Bones considered his personal property.

Calhoun has beaten Dillard once this winter while going unbeaten in five races and hanging up records at 50, 60 and 70 yards. Tomorrow's race will be at 60 over five hurdles. Calhoun's record for 60 yards was over four obstacles.

Dillard, however, has said tomorrow will be a different story since he apparently has recovered from a thigh injury suffered three weeks ago.

Of the other champions favored to repeat, Ernie Shelton, former Southern California ace competing in the colors of the Los Angeles AC, is in the most danger.

Shelton has cleared 6-10 outdoors 21 times but never has been able to reach that height off the boards. He was tied at 6-8¾ by Morgan State's Bob Barksdale two weeks ago. Then a week ago in the New York AC games, the Morgan State leaper cleared 6-9. Villanova's Phil Reavis also is a big threat off early season performances.

McDermott Sees Big Year With Yanks

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — So determined is Maury McDermott to prove the Yankees made no mistake in giving up five promising young players for him, he's started a conditioning program of his own to get into the best shape of his career.

The gangling lefthander, who makes his winter home here, looks as if he can pitch nine innings right now. Daily rounds of golf, running and other forms of exercise have hardened his leg and shoulder muscles and reduced his weight to 190 pounds. He finished last season weighing 189.

"I can't wait to get started," McDermott said enthusiastically. "I'm going to report to the Yankees in the best physical shape possible. This is the biggest streak of my life and I'm not going to flub it. It's great to be a Yankee but it's even greater after you've proven yourself a Yankee."

Blackburn, Newell Pilots for East-West Cage Game

NEW YORK (AP)—Tommy Blackburn of the University of Dayton and Pete Newell of the University of California will coach the East and West teams in the tenth Fresh Air Fund All-Star basketball game at Madison Square Garden, March 31.

As All-Star coaches they will share the responsibility of preparing the college squad for the final Olympic tryouts in Kansas City, April 2-4. The 14 players picked for the All-Star college Olympic entry will form the nucleus of the East and West teams for the game here. Six other college seniors will be added to complete the teams.

Blackburn, in his ninth year at Dayton, will bring his team here earlier to compete in the National Invitation Tournament for the fifth time. Dayton reached the NIT finals last year. One Blackburn-coached team also played in the National Collegiate tournament.

Newell also is familiar to New York fans. As University of San Francisco coach, he brought two teams here to play in the NIT, winning the tournament in 1949. Newell later coached at Michigan State before going to California two years ago.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Mike Fetchick, a big, muscular man from Mahopac, N.Y., who never has won a big one, led the $20,000 Texas Open Golf Tournament into its second round today.

His 9-under-par 63 headed a collection of "unknowns" who took over yesterday as a field of 157 cracked par from here to there on the 6,566-yard Fort Sam Houston course that was supposed to replace the "joke" of Brackenridge Park.

Fifty-seven players bettered regulation figures in the opening assault which saw Manuel DeLaTorre of Milwaukee, who hasn't won a nickel on the tour this year, push into second place with a fine 66.

Tied at 67 were Al Besselink of Grossinger, N.Y.; Paul McGuire of Wichita, Kans., and John Custin of Charlottesville, Va., golfers who haven't been doing much winning lately, and Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, an always well-regarded entry.

Mike Souchak of Grossinger, who set a new PGA record of 257 in winning the tournament last year, had a 69 to stay within hailing distance of first place. It was the fantastic shooting, headed by Souchak with his 257 and a 60 round, last year at Brackenridge that caused the tournament to be shifted to what was thought to be a much tougher Fort Sam Houston course.

Seven players were bunched at 68, these including Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., Texas Open champion in 1954, and Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., a player highly rated here.

Others in the 68 brackets were Bill Ogden of Chicago, Shelley Mayfield of Westbury, N.Y.; Don Palmer of Dubuque, Iowa; Buster Cupit, Ruston, La., and Bill Casper Jr., Chula Vista, Calif.

Fetchick said his 63 was the finest round he ever shot. He missed only two greens and he was sinking the putts like a machine. He broke the course record by a stroke and came close to making it two. He missed a 35-foot putt by inches on the eighteenth green that would have given him an eagle.

McElhenny Tells Tale About Income at WU

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Hurrin' Hugh McElhenny, who swivel-hipped his way to football fame with the University of Washington and then the San Francisco 49ers, said today he and his wife had a combined income of $800 a month on the Seattle campus.

But McElhenny, one of the greatest open field runners in the National Football League, declared the jobs and the income were known to Victor Schmidt, Pacific Coast Conference Commissioner, and federal income tax authorities.

"There was nothing undercover about it," he told The Associated Press. "It was all on the up and up. We worked for it."

He said Schmidt checked out both the income and the jobs and interviewed him twice to be certain there were no violations of the PCC code.

Schmidt was not available for comment.

Soon after McElhenny joined the 49ers his teammates jokingly said he was the only college star who ever had to take a cut in salary when he turned pro.

McElhenny said he accepted it as a joke, and so didn't bother to deny it.

St. Nick Fights, Sullivan Status Up for Decision

NEW YORK (AP)—Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, rules today on the future of the Monday night televised fights from St. Nicholas Arena and Promoter Tex Sullivan.

After a two-day hearing on charges against the London Sporting Club, Sullivan and his ex-partner, Willie Gilzenberg, Helfand reserved decision, Jan. 25. Gilzenberg turned in his license as corporation treasurer before the hearing and sold his interest to Sullivan. However, Helfand refused to accept Gilzenberg's license.

Crucial Big Ten Game to Be Televised

Illinois After 9th Win in Conference Tilt at East Lansing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Illinois aims for its 9th straight Big Ten basketball victory before a national television audience Saturday at Michigan State, whose Julius McCoy is averaging 29.5 points for conference game.

For the second television Saturday in a row, the Illini will be called upon to stifle a sensational scorer.

Last Saturday at Champaign, Bill Ridley and Paul Judson held Ohio State's Robin Freeman to three baskets, dropping his Big Ten average to 31.1 and tightening the scoring race with McCoy.

Illinois, third ranked nationally and winner of 14 consecutive games since dropping a one-point decision to Missouri early in December, is receiving rave notices from other conference coaches.

"Some of the Illinois reserves could start for most of the other teams in the league," said Northwestern's Waldo Fisher. "I don't know when I've seen a Big Ten team with as many fine players."

Floyd Stahl of Ohio State agreed that Illinois' depth makes it "one of the great teams—one of the best I've seen in years."

"When you have kids on that bench like Bill Altenberger and Bruce Brothers, both regulars last year, you're bound to be tough," he said.

Michigan State's only potent scoring threat is McCoy. Next to him on the list are Pat Wilson with an 8.4 average and Duane Peterson with 8.3.

The Spartans, with a 4-4 record, only can hope to be a spoiler in the final games of the Big Ten campaign. But they threw a scare into Illinois when the two teams met at Champaign Jan. 2. The Illini had to overcome a 16-point deficit to win 73-65.

Saturday's game will be televised over CBS starting at 3 p.m. EST.

In other conference engagements, second-place Iowa (7-1) is host to Wisconsin (3-6), Indiana (4-5) is at Michigan (3-6) and Minnesota (4-5) is at Ohio State (5-4). Purdue has a non-league game at Notre Dame.

Alan Ameche, former Wisconsin football ace, carried the ball more often than any back in the National Football league in the 1955 playing season.

Washington's Braves experienced a tight squeeze Thursday afternoon, but when the smoke of battle subsided it was the same old story.

It was a repeat performance for Smith, who netted two free throws in the 2nd overtime last year at Washington as the Braves nipped the Warriors.

Harrison Munson and Wade Jones each scored nine points for the Braves, who won their 17th consecutive decision. Sammy Cole was tops for the Warriors with 10 points.

Ralph Allen's Washington Junior Varsity spanked the Jefferson reserves, 30-19, behind Jim Patterson's 11 points.

A dozen Eastern players broke into the scoring column, led by Gene Gidcumb's 10 points, as the Redskins crushed visiting Madison, 57-8.

6 Points Widest Edge

Close Battles Feature City Hoop Play

Four closely-contested games featured Thursday night's action in city league basketball at Pontiac High and Eastern Junior gymnasiums.

At PHS the Trojans edged the Independents, 48-46, in adult National League play. Wilbur Finley scored 17 points and Mel Karrigan 14 for the Trojans, who moved within one game of league-leading Griff's Grill. Merl Taulbee of the Independents took scoring honors with 20 points.

Stone Front outlasted the Keeg Merchants, 59-56, in an adult American League contest. Three players hit double figures for Stone's, headed by Jerry Long with 18 points. Bob Hobson and Mike Haines each bucketed 15 for the Merchants.

A pair of Cass D games, originally slated Feb. 29 at Lincoln, were played last night at Eastern due to tournament conflicts.

Boys Club moved into 2nd place in the American division, a full game back of the Police Association, with a narrow 49-47 verdict over Oliver Buick. Oliver's Art Larson grabbed scoring laurels on 18 points while Dean Perkio led the winners with 14.

In National loop activity the Blue Devils notched their 1st win of the season after nine losses, a 33-27 decision over Central Christian. The Blue Devils' Joe Tinson and Central's Gene Willis paced their respective teams with 12 points apiece.

BPA's Captains, Sponsors Hold 6th Tourney, Party

Sam Felice was named "sponsor of the year" for the 6th annual captains-sponsors banquet and bowling tournament, held recently in Howe's Lanes and at Old Mill Tavern. One hundred fifty-eight took part in the double-barrelled affair. Alma Cheslik, Waterford, was captain of the Waterford Market team, sponsored by Felice, which has participated in every captain-sponsor affair. The affair was the big annual party for the Bowling Proprietors' Association of Greater Pontiac.

Tony Lindeman, well-known top bowler, was main speaker at the banquet. Lloyd Anderson, and Larry Parker of Brunswick were guests along with Genevieve Bradley of the PWBA.

BPA top team was C. W. Froling (Ferndale) and his captain, Don Hickman of Waterford (556-596—1152). Bill Jacober of Waterford had top captain series with 209-209-209—627. Top sponsor was Stan Mayes, Montcalm Center, 579; woman captain, Helen Belisle, Hotel Commodore, 515; sponsor, Lorraine Lamberton, 442; singles high—Tom Newton (Auburn Lanes 5 Acres) 238, Donna Verbey (Coats Funeral) 201.

Among other awards made was one to Ada Scarce of Clarkston as the tourney's eldest bowler. Phil Newman, Drayton Plains 17-year-old, was the youngest.

Widener Race to Be on TV

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Nashua's competition for the $100,000-added Widener Handicap shapes up today with the naming of entries for Hialeah's Saturday feature race.

No matter what horses start, the bay son of Nasrullah will rule as the heavy favorite. Odds-makers predicted he would go to the post at 1-2 or even less.

The probable entries include the Alfred Vanderbilt pair of Social Outcast and Find; Brookmeade's Sailor; Hasty House Farms' Sea O Erin and Prince Noor; Mrs. E. D. Jacobs' Man of Destiny; and a Venezuelan horse, El Chama. Prince Morvi, an Australian import, may be entered.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro, who will ride Nashua in the mile and a quarter race, is scheduled to arrive today.

Even if Nashua takes the race as expected, the rest of the field will find it worthwhile to compete for the rest of the purse. Second place in the Widener will pay $20,000, third $10,000 and fourth $5,000.

Post time for the race is 5:15 p.m. (EST) and it will be broadcast and televised nationally (by NBC) in this country and will be broadcast throughout South America.

Wolverines at Home Saturday

UM Cagers to Meet Indiana in Big Ten Clash at Yost

ANN ARBOR—Michigan's basketball team, loser of its last three conference games, all of them on the road, will make its first Big Ten home stand since January 21, when it plays a return engagement with Indiana in Yost Field House Saturday night.

The Wolverines haven't played a conference game at home since dropping a 78-67 decision to Iowa in a nationally-televised contest.

Only other home appearance was a victory over Washington University, 81-66. On the road they dropped contests to Michigan State, 88-76; Indiana, 97-73 and Illinois, 89-66.

Ron Kramer, however, has continued to pace the Maize and Blue basketeers, and will go into the second Hoosier contest with a 20.1 average for 17 games, with a total of 129 field goals and 84 free throws.

Seixas, Larsen Seeded at Top of Indoor Test

NEW YORK (AP) — Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., are seeded one-two in the national indoor mens' tennis championships opening Feb. 22 at the 7th Regiment Armory.

Seixas, seeking to win the title captured last year by his former Davis Cup teammate, Tony Trabert, now a professional, will play William Lurie of Brooklyn in the opening round. Larsen is paired against Jan Lundquist of Sweden.

Titans Tangle With NIT Bound Marquette

DETROIT (INS)—University of Detroit makes its final home stand of the 1955-56 basketball campaign tomorrow and Monday.

Saturday, Marquette invades the Detroit Memorial building. The game will be the 44th meeting since 1921 between the two schools.

Titans' Bill Ebben, junior forward from Chicago, has scored 493 points in 23 starts but must average 27 for the final four games of the season if he is to break Guy Sparrow's all-time Detroit record of 600 points in a single campaign.

Monday, Detroit takes on its final Missouri Valley Conference foe in Wichita, a club which dumped the Titans, 99-79, on the wheatshockers home court.

Court Orders Campy to Pay Medic $5,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy Campanella, the National League's Most Valuable Player whose big bat did much to lead Brooklyn to its first baseball championship in 1955, dropped a decision in court yesterday.

The umpires—a supreme court jury—awarded Dr. Samuel Shenkman $5,000 in his $9,500 suit against Campanella for an operation performed on the catcher's hand Oct. 20, 1954.

Hayes After New Title

Olympic Skater Bids for Grand Slam

GARMISCH-Partenkirchen, Germany (AP)—Hayes Alan Jenkins, the pride of Colorado Springs, Colo., goes out tonight to clinch his fourth straight world's figure skating championship in his bid for an international grand slam.

Jenkins, winner of the event in the Olympics at Cortina D'Ampezzo, Italy, put a stranglehold on the world title yesterday by finishing on top in the school or compulsory figures.

He wound up with 1018.6 points to 998 for Ronnie Robertson of Long Beach, Calif. Hayes' younger brother, David, was third with 952.

The men show off their free skating ability tonight. This part of the competition accounts for only 40 per cent compared to 60 per cent for the school figures.

If Jenkins does win, he' need only to capture the American championship to complete the third grand slam by an American in the history of skating.

Dick Button won the Olympic, world and American championships in 1948 and 1952.

The ladies' figure skating competition also is scheduled to get underway tonight with Tenley Albright of Newton Center, Mass., favored to repeat her Olympic triumph over Carol Heiss of Ozone Park, N.Y.

The first title of the games went to Austria last night as the Olympic titleholders Issy Schwartz and Kurt Oppelt won the pairs championship. The American pair of Robin Greiner and Carole Ormaca from Fresno, Calif. finished fourth.

Aldo Ray Off Suspension and Ready for 'Nightfall'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Next to making up with Jeff Donnell, the best news Aldo Ray has had is that he is off suspension at Columbia. Aldo hasn't collected a salary check since he refused to do "Beyond Mombassa" because he didn't want to go on a long location trip right after he'd reconciled with his wife.

But the feud ends with Columbia summoning Aldo back to the home lot for the star role in "Nightfall" for Ty Power's and Ted Richmond's Copa Company.

It's a rip roaring murder-mystery set in Los Angeles, adapted from the novel by David Goodis. This time, Aldo has promised his bosses he'll be there on the March 12 starting date.

When I talked with June Allyson she told me she thought she would say yes to co-starring with Rossano Brazzi in "Unfinished Symphony." Well, "yes" it is, and June goes to Europe June 15.

That isn't all the deal that June has signed at Universal-International. She has agreed to star in "Ride a Tiger" with Dick Powell directing as soon as he is free of his 20th Century-Fox commitments.

GOOD COMMENTS

Comments on "The Man Who Never Was" are so justly favorable that the names of Andre Hakim, the producer, and Ronald Neame, the director, have a new value.

Andre is married to Susan Zanuck, and has been producing pictures abroad for some years. Following the success of "The Man Who Never Was," starring Clifton Webb, Andre has Richard Burton for his next picture, "Sea-Wyf and Biscuit," with Neame again directing.

Burton agreed to leave the Old Vic company to star in "Sea-Wyf and Biscuit" based on a British novel by J. N. Scott. (I hope to heaven they change that title!)

On my driver's day off, Ernest Scarcliff, better known as "Limey," drove me to the MGM studio. Limey has worked for MGM for 32 years, and he's just full of stories.

He drove Norma Shearer to her wedding when she married Irving Thalberg.

Garbo used to take a runout powder and hide, and not even the studio would know where she was, but Limey would be in on the secret and carry messages from her bosses to the silent Swede. "Nobody could make me divulge where Garbo was," Limey said, "because I wouldn't betray a confidence."

He drove Lady Sylvia Ashley to meet Clark Gable, and was in on the secret of their marriage. His latest assignment was driving Venetia Stevenson on Valentine's Day to the church in Palos Verdes where she married Russ Tamblyn. I told him he ought to write a book.

SCHOOL WOES

At the time Robert Ryan and his wife, Jessica, started the Oakwood School in North Hollywood several years ago as a two-classroom structure for their own children and some in the neighborhood, they didn't know what they were getting into.

I ran into Bob the other day and he tells me that overcrowding in schoolrooms is one of our most serious national problems. "Oakwood has been expanded to five classrooms with 75 pupils," he told me, "and we can't begin to take care of the requests of desperate parents begging that their children be admitted.

"My wife now works full time as superintendent of the school —and we need more and more teachers and many more rooms."

Greer Garson's mother, Mrs. Nina Garson, is home from St. John. Greer says it was an ulcer and not a heart attack.

Acting as if they had never filed for a divorce were Hal Peary (the Great Gildersleeve) and his wife sitting at a table for two at the Eldorado.

That percentage in "Bandido" that Bob Mitchum holds should pay off for him. He leaves Saturday to drive across the country to talk with key exhibitors about his latest movies.

Britain Tightens Credit Policies

Bank Rate Increased in Government Move to Meet Rising Inflation

LONDON (INS) — The British government took a major step in a new battle against rising inflation yesterday by increasing the bank rate one full point to five and one-half per cent.

The New Bank of England rate on loans to banks means a tightening of credit to slow the inflationary spiral and make more products available for export.

The interest rate is the highest in the country since September, 1931. It had been hiked a full point Feb. 24, 1955 to four and one-half per cent. Thus in less than a year it has jumped two points.

A Bank of England spokesman said the action showed that the bank and the government "are determined at all costs to maintain a firm monetary policy in order to fight the danger of inflation.

He added: "The increase in the bank rate must however be seen in the light of any further measures to be announced in due course by the chancellor of the exchequer. It is part of a combined operation, so to speak, to kill inflation."

The move had been expected in business circles but there still was criticism of the government for its delay in dealing with a worsening economic situation.

250,000 Watch Paratrooper Save Buddy in Mid-Air

BANGKOK, Thailand (INS)—An estimated 250,000 persons yesterday saw an American paratrooper rescue a buddy whose chute had failed to open and who was falling to his death.

The two GIs were among the 600 American paratroopers who were participating in an "operation firm link" maneuver of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. Neither soldier was hurt.

Pfc. Arlene Cheatum of Roanoke, Va., leaped from a transport plane over the Bangkok Airport. His chute did not open and he plummeted toward earth.

He was passing Cpl. Douglas Burris of Smyrna, Del. Burris said later: "I saw Cheatum come by. His parachute was flapping so I caught it and wrapped his shroud around my waist. We had a heavy landing."

Most of the spectators at the airport were residents of Bangkok who had come out to watch the SEATO exercises.

Hitchhiking AWOL Hit by Colonel's Auto

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP)—A lieutenant colonel ran into a private last night and brought a quick end to the soldier's trip home.

Highway Patrolman Doc Evans said Pvt. Robert J. Davis, 17, Yakima, Wash., was attempting to hitchhike a ride on Highway 67 when he was struck by a car driven by Lt. Col. Clarence W. Reddin of nearby Red River Arsenal.

Davis was only slightly injured. Evans said that on being questioned Davis said he had left Ft Campbell, Ky., without permission and that he was en route to his home in Yakima. Police are holding him for Ft. Campbell officers.

Jet Plane Noise Will Get Worse

General Twining Tells Mayors No Solution to Engines' Din in Sight

WASHINGTON (INS)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining told the Washington conference of mayors yesterday that the noise of jet engines will get worse and is "just something we are going to have to live with."

The Air Force chief of staff spoke as the mayors gathered at the Pentagon to discuss community problems, many of them caused by noise complaints lodged against air bases throughout the country.

Twining said military and civilian aviation will cooperate to do everything possible toward solving the noise problem, but that no real solution is in sight.

He explained: "Aircraft engines continue to become more powerful, and therefore louder . . . noise is just something we are going to have to live with. The American people will eventually understand this."

He said a "whole gamut" of devices have been invented to muffle jet noise, but that "many of the gadgets developed so far degrade performance and are unacceptable."

He continued: "Our margin of security depends on ever increasing performance in combat aircraft. The big job is to get our nation to recognize this (noise) as a largely unavoidable consequence of progress.

"I wish our jet noise were our only problem. To me the echoes of the Communist H-bomb tests obliterate the noise that comes from our building a defense against them."

Twining said the Air Force will continue to relocate bases farther from population centers when possible.

City Rinks Closed by Warm Weather

Pontiac Parks Supervisor William Aho announced yesterday that ice skating on 11 city operated rinks has been discontinued due to the frequent warm weather.

"Since the rinks were put in use shortly before Christmas, approximately 50,000 skaters used them when we had good weather," Aho said.

"This was probably one of the best seasons we had for skating," he added.

Third GM Worker Dies From Furnace Blast

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The third of four men burned Feb. 6 when a heat treating furnace backfied at the General Motors diesel equipment plant died yesterday.

He was Richard J. Timm, 23 of Grand Rapids. Orville Case, 36, died Tuesday and Myron J. Gates, 32 died Sunday.

Robin Prefers North

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—No strenuous flights South for this smart robin. He never had it so good in Florida. Louis Burgtorf said the same robin has showed up at his feeding station every day this winter. "I can't decide whether that bird was too lazy to fly South or too brave to be scared by the snow and cold," Burgtorf said.

Larry Welk Returns to Fascinate Audiences

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Lawrence Welk—the farm boy accordionist who became a Hollywood TV star—seems like a guy you might sit next to at the Rotary Club.

But he is unorthodox—he showed us that you can do a big TV show with just a dance band . . . and that you can have two accordions in the band, even though you play one and the other guy plays better'n you do.

WELK

"Were you ever broke?" I asked him at dinner at "21."

"I hocked this ring once for $75 to keep the boys eating." He looked at the diamond on his finger.

"We traveled across country to Phoenix to play a ballroom that folded just before we got there." Welk spoke with a slight German accent, a hangover from his boyhood in Yankton, S. D.

"I used a little sales work. "I said 'Why not open up again and, if there's any loss, I'll take it myself.' Believe me, I didn't have anything to lose —nothing! This was all I had — and I hocked it."

★ ★ ★ ★

When he got set to do TV on ABC after years in the business—in Pittsburgh, Milwaukee, Chicago and Hollywood, the geniuses told him, "Replace the orchestra with a combo and get a line of girls and a line of boys."

"When you fall on your face several times, you get convinced. This time I put my foot down. One fellow said, 'I don't want anything to do with this show'."

But now that it's a success, Welk can talk with fatherly pride — and some candor — about his men, including Orie Amadeo, the first flutist, who comes from Mechanicsville, N. Y.

"Orie," smiled Welk, "joined us at the St. Francis in San Francisco—and I decided not to keep him.

"Only I didn't have enough money to send him back. And you had to pay a man's fare home if you fired him.

"So I kept him and I got to like him. I've got the money now to send him back, since Mechanicsville isn't very far away from New York—but I can't get along without him."

Accordionist Myron Floren, of Webster, S. D., whom Welk'd known 29 years ago, is a fascinating gent.

"I invited him up on the stand the first time in St. Louis," Welk remembered. "I thought I didn't have to be afraid of him.

"But something'd happened. He'd been practicing 9 hours a day. When he played, everybody stopped dancing to listen. I decided I'd better hire him so he wouldn't be competition. I discussed it with 12 people—associates of mine—and each one told me not to hire him.

"He's so fine a man, so honest, I'm grooming him now in case something ever happens to my health, he could take over."

India Set to Buy British Bombers

May Reject Soviet Offer of Jets at Half Price for New Bombsighted Craft

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India, planning to replace its bomber fleet, was reported ready today to turn down an offer of Russian Ilyushin T28 jets at half price in favor of British Canberra jet bombers — provided they are equipped with a new secret bombsight.

India's final decision apparently hinges on whether the North Atlantic Treaty Organization members agree to let it have the bombsight.

Unconfirmed reports here said NATO members, including the United States, would agree—if they have not done so already.

Defense Ministry sources said India wants the new bombers to replace the present fleet of World War II American Liberators.

These sources said the Russians are willing to sell India Ilyushin bombers at about half the price of the Canberra—which costs about $500,000 dollars.

Canada's population reached 15,706,000 at the start of September, a gain of 105,000, or 2.7 per cent since June 1.

Convertible Vandalized

MUSKEGON (AP)—Benjamin Anderson reported Wednesday to sheriff's officers that someone had puuched seven holes in the top of his convertible while it was parked outside a bowling alley. The culprit has not yet been apprehended, police said.

'Spotters' Atop Dam Work in Semi-Dark

While the dam generates electric power for thousands of users in the Kent-Newago area, spotters are forced to work by kerosene lamp.

Sgt. Michael J. White of Big Rapids, who supervises the post in his 5-county area, says it will cost about $300 to bring in electricity from a highway transmission line 200 yards away.

The post was built by residents of Big Prairie Township and now includes a total of 80 observers—one traveling a distance of 20 miles—to act as aircraft spotters.

The typical American reads at about 250 words a minute which is inconveniently slow, says the Better Vision Institute.

Gains Enliven Stock Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—Gains ranging to around 2 points in leading issues and active trading enlivened the stock market late this morning.

Du Pont, whose directors meet Monday and is Wall street's favorite candidate for a stock split, went ahead around 7 points, later dropping around 2 points of the advance.

Long-Bell Lumber gained more than 3 points at one time but lost about a point of this as it continued its run-up on merger talks with International Paper.

Bethlehem Steel, Zenith, Kennecott Copper and Johns-Manville advanced in the neighborhood of 2 points.

Anderson-Prichard Oil, however, fell 2½ points on an opening block of 5,000 shares to 66½ after news was out on its proposed 2-for-1 stock split. Later it regained over a point of this. The stock was up 3½ points yesterday, apparently in anticipation.

* * *

U. S. Steel, Anaconda, Boeing, New York Central, Santa Fe, Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Texas Co. were up around a point.

Republic Steel, American Telephone, Union Carbide and Montgomery Ward were other gainers.

Ford Motor stock was quoted at 61⅛ bid, 61¾ asked in over-the-counter trading, unchanged from yesterday's late quote.

Thief Pilfers Cash From Cleaning Shop

Thieves who "seemed to know where the money was hidden" netted $38 from a breakin at Brookland Cleaners, Auburn Avenue in Avon Township, last night.

An employe of the store, Albert Hill, told deputies he saw a man clambering out the window just 15 minutes after the manager left for the night.

Deputies Neil Blackmer and Ross E. Miller said the thief, who joined his companion in a waiting car, went directly to the place where the money was hidden. "He didn't even open the cash register," Blackmer said.

Pontiac post State Police said today a Pontiac Lake Prison Camp convict who escaped Sunday afternoon has still not been located.

He is described as six feet tall, 150 pounds, with brown hair and hazel eyes.

Budget for 1957 Approved by County School Board

A $97,170 budget for 1957 was approved by the Oakland County Board of Education yesterday afternoon, at a meeting in which the board also gave the nod to a transfer to Clarkston Community Schools of approximately 750 acres of land from Waterford Township School District.

The 1957 operating expense budget exceeds this year's by $19,100. Dr. William Emerson, county superintendent of schools, said the increase will go principally for salaries of new employes.

The budget, which does not include teachers in the special education department, will go to the board of auditors of Oakland County Board of Supervisors, for consideration as part of the county budget appropriations.

Annexed to the Clarkston Community Schools is a portion of land in the area north of Waterford Hill. It includes Moon Valley territory, acreage around the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club and residential developments along Maybee roads.

The petition for transfer of the property was presented to the board after residents of the area, all in Independence Township, had had too far to travel to attend Waterford schools. Preceding the meeting, schools superintendents William Shunck of Waterford and L. G. Green of Clarkston presented the pros and cons of the transfer to the board.

The board also heard a report by Dr. Emerson on the new reading center. Three eight-week courses for teachers deal with corrective reading techniques, and the center also conducts a reading clinic for children with reading problems. The weekly sessions have been oversubscribed, Dr. Emerson said, and plans are being made to extend the program.

DRUMMER BOY — Eleven-year-old Peter Sullivan's desire to become a drummer boy, like those of Civil War days, has been fulfilled. The Collingdale, Pa., youngster made his request to the commanding officer of Pennsylvania's 79th Army Reserve Division at Philadelphia. Request granted, he is shown above giving a snappy salute to Col. Rafael Montilla, Sr., division's unit adviser, after he was sworn in as honorary drummer boy.

Question Four Survivors

4 Die When B52 Explodes in Mid-Air Over California

TRACY, Calif. (INS)—Air Force authorities questioned four survivors today in an attempt to determine the cause of the explosion in flight and flaming crash of a huge eight-engine B52 intercontinental jet bomber.

The plane, America's biggest and most modern atomic-age craft, carried four men to their deaths.

This was the first crash of one of the $8,000,000 Stratofortresses which are the most powerful weapon of the Strategic Air Command.

An internal explosion shattered the big craft at 5:30 p.m. yesterday as it was flying at an altitude of 32,000 feet over Tracy in northern California's San Joaquin Valley.

The craft, part of the 93rd Bombardment Wing, was on a routine training flight, and headed back to Castle Air Force base near Merced, Calif.

The fuselage and control section landed near the Army's depot one and a half miles southeast of Tracy.

Two bodies were found in the control section and two other bodies were discovered in the tail section.

The four survivors struggled out of the plane and parachuted to scattered points. They were hospitalized with burns, cuts and bruises.

The Air Force identified the survivors as: Maj. Harold F. Korger, radar observer; Maj. Michael Shay, instructor pilot; Maj. Billy Beardsley, radio operator; and Master Sgt. Willard Lucy, tail gunner.

Major Korger was alone in the observer's compartment when the plane was rocked by the explosion.

He reported:

"The intercom radio was out of commission and I was unable to learn what happened.

"But within seconds the compartment was filled with flames and smoke. I knew it was time to get out of there and I pulled the automatic ejection release.

"I'm positive we did not hit anything and nothing struck us.

Kroger said his oxygen mast was whipped from his face as he was ejected and he blacked out. When he regained consciousness he was only a few thousand feet above the ground.

Waterford Woman Hurt as Autos Skid Together

A Waterford Township woman suffered a bruised hip when her husband's automobile was struck by a skidding car at the corner of W. Huron and State streets last night.

Mrs. Dorcas Tibbals, 38, of 1522 Eason road, was released after treatment in Pontiac General Hospital.

Mrs. Shirley Ann Inscho, 18, of Drayton Plains, told police her car skidded on new-fallen snow, went through a changing traffic light and rammed the right side of the car driven by Clayton S. Tibbals, 49.

Boy, 8, Eats Poison Enough to Kill 25 Men

FLORENCE, S.C. (AP)—An 8-year-old boy was in critical condition today after eating enough deadly poison to kill 25 men. The poison was in a hot dog the lad found on his front porch.

At least two other poisoned hot dogs were found last night in the same block by police and frightened parents forbade their children to leave their houses alone.

He said ordinarily a fifth of a grain would be fatal to an adult. He said prompt action by Larry's grandmother, Mrs. Cindy Mathews, probably will save Larry's life. She poured a quantity of milk down Larry's throat when he came staggering into the house on the verge of a convulsion.

Fisher to Build Huge Ohio Plant

Future Installation 12th and Largest in Division's Factory Network

Plans to build its 12th and largest assembly plant near Youngstown, Ohio, were announced today by the Fisher Body Division of General Motors. The factory will adjoin the recently-announced Chevrolet plant in the area.

Probable working force at the installation will be 4,000.

The future facility is described by General Manager James A. Goodman as "the world's most modern automobile body-assembly plant. Production capacity will be considerably larger than that of any existing Fisher assembly plant, he added.

Rochester Boy Injured When Car Leaves Road

Arnold M. Vera, 14, of Rochester, was treated for minor injuries and released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday after the car in which he was riding went out of control and left the road.

Randall was ticketed for driving without a license.

Thieves Enter Station, Take Cigarettes, Plugs

Thieves who broke into Weber's Gulf Service Station on West Maple Road, Walled Lake, last night walked off with 12 cartons of cigarettes, two batteries and several boxes of spark plugs, Oakland County Sheriff's detectives said today.

Deputies said the robbers apparently were in a hurry, since battery wires had been ripped off bodily and several articles of value had been overlooked.

IN USED CARS

This Is the Question We Hear:

"Why is there a variation in price between identical cars that are offered by different dealers?"

There are two reasons for this. First, it is because no two used cars are identical. They may look a lot alike, but chances are the price is based on the condition of the car. The second reason is that some dealers operate on a larger volume of business than others. The larger volume dealer sells more cars at a lower mark-up. Hence, the smaller volume dealer has a higher mark-up because of the smaller amount of used cars sold.

She Can't See Others Perform

Comedienne Coca Will Appear in Spectacular on February 26

By JOAN HANAUER

The tiny comedienne, who will star on NBC-TV's "Panorama," a spectacular satire of television Feb. 26, blushed and tried to explain.

"Well, you see," she stammered, "it's . . . it's . . ." She crossed her arms over her midsection and laughed nervously. Then she looked up red-faced and said:

"I might as well get it over with. It's my stomach. It's wild. I don't know what to do about it. I've tried everything."

She looked appealingly across a low coffee table in her living room, saw the blank expression on her listener's face, and said impatiently:

"It makes noises! Loud noises. Everytime I go to the theater it makes noises—all different kinds. Sometimes I sound like a gurgling water pipe, sometimes I sound like a frog. People rows away turn around to see what the disturbance is and I die, I'm so embarrassed.

NOTHING HELPS

"It doesn't happen when I go to the movies, and it doesn't happen when it's me on stage. I guess maybe my stomach resents other performers or something."

Imogene seems to have bounced back after the tragic deaths, separated by only three weeks, of her mother and husband last spring. She has been touring with a variety act since last summer and claims she had "a ball."

"We played mostly theaters and hotel supper rooms," she said. "I don't like nightclubs too much although I had fun with those, too, in this tour.

"I like to do dramatic parts, but I've never done them on TV or in New York. Movies? Well, I made two shorts several years ago. I finally got the nerve to look at one of them, and it's just as bad as I thought it was. When I made it I said, "You'll never get me to look at that."

LONGS FOR HORSE

"I'd like to have children but I don't," she explained. "I'd like to own a race horse. Lots of people like horse racing and can't afford it. A group of people could get together and buy a horse, stable him and all that.

"You know," she said wistfully, "sort of like getting backers for a Broadway show. Get 20 people to put in $100 apiece and then chip in for upkeep.

"I've looked into it and for $25 a week you can have a horse trained and stabled. I don't go to the races myself, I just think about them."

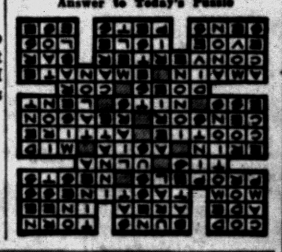

3 Feel the Bite

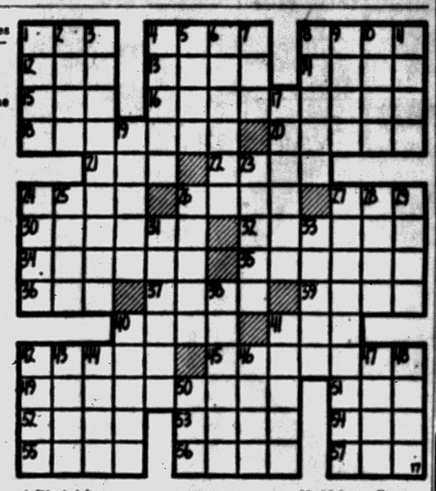

PORTALES, N. M. (AP)—After a gang fight, police picked up a fence post, a four-foot length of timber, a case knife, a section of lead pipe and two bottles. The three victims who required emergency treatment after the battle showed that teeth had also been used—at close range.

He Was Framed

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Police arrested George Doyle, 52, on a charge of stealing two men's suits and a topcoat from a Wheeling apartment, and selling them to another man for $5. Charles McGraw, who reported the theft, said four $5 bills were in the pocket of one suit. Police said it was news to Doyle, too.

Dealers Urging Road Measures

State Auto Association Wants Congress to Ease Traffic Woes

LANSING (AP)—Emergency measures to solve the national traffic crisis were urged upon Congress yesterday by the Michigan Automobile Dealers Assn.

Gilbert Haley, executive vice president of the association, said the 1956 Congress has a chance to correct the traffic situation.

"The tremendous increase in the use of automobiles, trucks and buses in recent years without proportionate improvements in our roads and streets makes it necessary to enlarge our building program so that the roads will catch up with the vehicles," Haley said.

"Otherwise, traffic congestion will continue to cost America millions of dollars in wasted time, travel delays and accidents."

The new car retailers asked for completion of the 40,000 mile national system of interstate superhighways within 5 years, with the federal government providing 90 per cent of the cost.

They also urged that the states retain their traditional administration of the highways and that the cost of building the remaining federal aid highway systems be shared equally between the national and state governments.

A final suggestion was that Congress keep the financing provisions in separate bills from the highway program bills during the 1956 session because disagreement over the financing sections was one factor that killed the highway program during 1955.
