Predict Ranger 7 Will Hit Target Area on Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The camera-carrying Ranger 7 spacecraft probably will hit its target area of the lighted side of the moon, a space scientist said today after an apparently successful midway maneuver of the rocket.

Dr William H Pickering, director of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which is guiding the 806-pound vehicle on its 228,000-mile voyage, told a news conference "I think we'll get in the target area" — a 300-mile wide plain just above the equator in the center of the left half of the moon.

The area, called the Sea of Clouds by ancient astronomers who imagined the flat spaces on the moon were bodies of water, was chosen as a photographic target because it could be a good landing spot for U.S. astronauts within a few years.

Pickering, obviously elated, said it appears the spacecraft did what it was supposed to do, "but we must analyze tracking data for several hours before we can determine the impact area precisely."

Ranger 7, latest attempt of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to take closeup pictures of the surface of the moon, was launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., yesterday morning.

Major event in the hour and a half midcourse maneuver was a 67-mile-an-hour change in speed — termed a kick in the head — designed to bring Ranger 7 on course toward its target area.

The kick—a 50-second burst by its steering rocket—was ordered at 5:27 a.m. Pontiac time by Jet Propulsion Laboratory scientists after hours of tracking indicated Ranger 7 would buttonhook past the leading edge of the moon and impact on the dark side.

On radio signals from earth, the 800-pound spacecraft pirouetted briefly for better aim, then ignited a small rocket in its base.

★ ★ ★

In effect, the brief burst slowed by 67 m.p.h. the 4,000 m.p.h. speed that would have carried Ranger 7 some 240 miles left of the face of the moon, as viewed from earth.

Dems Block Johnson Foes

GOP Leaders Predict Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders of the House and Senate spent an hour today with Sen. Barry Goldwater, then declared the party's wounds are healing and GOP unity is in sight.

"The cooling-off period which always follows a hotly contested national convention has set in," the GOP leaders said in a statement issued three hours after the meeting with the party's presidential nominee and his vice presidential running mate, Rep. William E. Miller of New York.

"Republicans are already at work resolving their differences," they said. "A united Republican effort . . . will be achieved."

Goldwater leaving the closed session said only: "It was all about Republicans."

★ ★ ★

One Republican leader was missing. Senate whip Thomas Kuchel of California, who campaigned against Goldwater's nomination, was not present.

EYES CHECKED

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Kuchel had a conflicting appointment with an eye doctor.

In their statement, the leaders conceded the GOP "starts this campaign cast as the underdog."

But they said in the campaign ahead, President Johnson "must stand on his own feet, on his own actions, and on his own record."

★ ★ ★

"Clever and determined politician though he is, we frankly don't think he can do this and win," the Republicans said.

TIDE TURNING

"Already the political tide is turning in this country," they added. "By November it will be running full steam."

At the session's break up, Dirksen promised he and House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana would have a statement later.

"The best I can tell you now is in the words of Caesar: Veni, vidi, vici . . . we came, we saw, we conquered . . . lots of things,"

Goldwater, arriving for the leadership meeting, denied reports that he talked by telephone yesterday with Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, his beaten rival for the presidential nomination.

"I don't even know where he is," Goldwater told a reporter.

The Arizona senator told more than 70 House Republicans yesterday he wants to debate Johnson during their campaign battle for the White House.

Move Called Victory Over Barnett Forces

Convention Action Termed Hypocritical by Rival Negro Party

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Soft-pedaling their opposition to President Johnson, Mississippi's all-white regular Democrats have named an uninstructed delegation to the national convention.

The move came at the request of Gov. Paul B. Johnson, titular head of the party in Mississippi, at yesterday's State Democratic Convention, which delayed naming presidential electors until a recess session is held Sept. 9 after next month's national convention.

Observers called the state convention action a victory for Gov. Johnson over former Gov. Ross Barnett's unpledged elector forces.

The latter are opposed to opening the door to the possibility that President Johnson may get on the ballot in Mississippi under the Democratic label.

★ ★ ★

The convention action was harshly criticized by leaders of the rival Freedom Democratic Party, a nearly all-Negro group which will seek the ouster of the regular Mississippi Democrats at the national convention.

'HYPOCRITICAL ACTION'

The convention "was probably one of the greatest examples of hypocritical political expediency in American history," said a statement by State Chairman Aaron Henry, a Clarksdale Negro druggist, and other leaders of the Freedom Democrats.

"By resolving that in September both pledged and unpledged electors will be placed on the ballot, the Mississippi party hopes to tempt the national party with at least the possibility of their supporting the national candidates in November.

"But this transparent ruse was used in 1960 and it is common knowledge that at that time the Mississippi party threw its whole weight behind the unpledged electors and denounced the national candidates."

★ ★ ★

Some of the regular Democrats had been expected to ask the state party to put up presidential electors pledged to Republican nominee Barry Goldwater, but the move did not materialize.

EXPECT BATTLE

Observers said they expected a battle at the Sept. 9 recess convention by Goldwater Democrats to capture the Democratic electors.

★ ★ ★

Gov. Johnson told the convention he stood ready to call a special session of the legislature and do what is necessary "to see that everyone in Mississippi has a choice and a right to choose."

Pontiac Area Wakes Up to Surprise—Cool Relief

After 13 days of blistering heat, the Pontiac area woke up today to a cool surprise. The mercury hit a low of 70 at 8 a.m. At 2 p.m., the thermometer registered a pleasant 80 downtown.

The forecast for the next five days calls for more cool temperatures. The mercury will stay from one to three degrees below the normal high of 84 and low of 65.

A low of 54 to 60 is predicted for tonight, followed by a high tomorrow of 75 to 82. Warmer weather is expected Friday.

Skies will be fair the next two days.

Precipitation will total about one-fourth inch in occasional thundershowers over the weekend.

High Temperatures Dig In on a Stationary Front

The words "hot and humid" have been getting a real workout in weather forecasts this summer.

A more scientific answer to the question "How's the weather?" is: "slow, lazy and stagnant."

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Detroit Metropolitan Airport explained the long stretches of 90-degree weather today.

In essence, weather depends upon where high and low pressure centers locate and how long they stay there.

If a high center locates east of Michigan, we get warm, humid gulf air from the south.

When pressure centers are moving on a regular basis, the spans of hot and cooler weather are more frequent and of shorter duration.

The problem this summer? They're congregating in the wrong places (from a comfort standpoint) and then sitting there for long periods.

WEAK FRONTS

Most of the cool air fronts recently have been weak. A strong front brings storm activity; a weak front, clouds and maybe some scattered showers.

Today was a good example. A weak cold front moved through this area at about 7:15 a.m.

It brought some clouds and a few widely scattered showers, but by midmorning the sun was out again.

Name Pastore Dem Keynoter

Flamboyant Senator Handpicked by LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John O. Pastore, passionate liberal orator from Rhode Island, was chosen today as keynote speaker for the Democratic National Convention.

★ ★ ★

Tapped by President Johnson, Pastore, 57, was approved by the arrangements committee for the convention opening Aug. 24 in Atlantic City.

The selection was in line with Johnsonian strategy of trying to nail down the industrialized East as part of the drive to thwart Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater's bid for the presidency.

Of Italian descent, Pastore has carved himself a respected place in the Senate with intimate knowledge of legislation and his fiery willingness to take on all comers in debate.

The keynoter — technically known as temporary chairman — traditionally pulls out all stops in praise of his own party and in disdain of the opposition.

STRONG SUPPORTER

Pastore has been a strong supporter of the Johnson program including the civil rights bill.

The committee formally ratified the selection of House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts as permanent chairman of the convention and Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, House majority whip, as head of the platform committee.

Originally there had been tentative plans to tab Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the youngest senator and the brother of the late President John F. Kennedy, for the job at the Atlantic City convention which opens Aug. 24.

Kennedy's serious injuries in a June 19 plane crash, in which Sen. Birch Bayh and his wife also were injured, made this impossible.

Layoffs Start as Pontiac Prepares for Changeover

Heavy model changeover layoffs will begin at Fisher Body Plant tonight as Pontiac Motor Division prepares to complete production of 1964 models Friday, after breaking every existing production record in the 38-year history of the division.

The final 1964 total will be 715,261 new cars, which exceeds the previous record total of 590,671 Pontiacs and Tempests produced last year.

This week, United Auto Workers locals and the Michigan Employment Security Commission Pontiac branch office are arranging for workers to file for and receive unemployment benefit claims at local union halls.

This year's production marks an increase of 125,190 cars assembled, or 21 per cent greater than in 1963, according to E. M. Estes, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Estes also listed the following accomplishments during Pontiac's record run.

● Eleven monthly production records were set, one for every month Pontiacs and Tempests were assembled.

MONTHLY RECORD

● A new all-time monthly record set in April when 77,273 cars were built, surpassing the former high for a previous model year of 64,161 units set in May, 1963.

● A new weekly production mark of 18,038 cars set the week of April 20.

● A one-day production record of 3,632 cars assembled on May 18.

Reject Debate for Now—LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House today turned down for the present a suggestion by Sen. Barry Goldwater for a debate with President Johnson on television during the fall election compaign.

White House Press Secretary George E. Reedy tossed back at Goldwater several statements by the GOP presidential nominee earlier this year to the effect that Goldwater regarded it as "dangerous" for a President to subject himself to questioning debate.

★

"We are not quite certain what he intends," Reedy said of Goldwater's current position on television debates, "but this is not a matter Democrats would consider until the campaign begins . . ."

When asked at a Friday news conference about the possibility of debating Goldwater, Johnson had said he could cross that bridge when he came to it.

Step in Space on 2nd Gemini?

Astronaut May Go Outside During Flight

HOUSTON (AP) — One of the crewmen on the second Gemini space mission may become the first astronaut to step outside the spacecraft while in flight, the crewmen said today.

This experiment for the mission scheduled early next year was announced as the primary and backup crews held their first news conference since being selected Monday for the mission.

"This stepping into space will be one of the highlights of our experiment," said Air Force Capt. James A. McDivitt, the primary crew's spacecraft commander.

McDivitt's copilot, Air Force Capt. Edward H. White II, agreed.

"This means the start of extra vehicular activities," White said. "You have to crawl before you walk, and this will be a vital link toward that first step to be taken on the moon."

The backup crew of Air Force Maj. Frank Borman, the pilot, and Navy Lt. Cmdr. James A. Lovell Jr., copilot, also pinpointed movement outside the space vehicle as probably the

Negro Leaders Meeting on Race Riots, Politics

NEW YORK (AP)—Leaders of the nation's major civil rights organizations meet in a "summit conference" today with Northern race riots and national politics high on the agenda.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP warned in his call for the meeting of the possibility of "increasingly violent and futile disorder."

Besides Wilkins, those scheduled to meet at the NAACP headquarters are Whitney M. Young, executive director of the Urban League; A. Philip Randolph, chairman of the National Negro American Labor Council; John Lewis, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee; James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

In his invitation to the other leaders, Wilkins called the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona as the Republican candidate for president a factor that could "produce the sternest challenge we have yet seen."

He had said shortly after the Republican convention that among Goldwater's supporters "are some of the most out spoken racists in America."

King and Mayor Robert F. Wagner held a second round of talks yesterday on ways to prevent further racial violence in New York City.

JOINT EFFORT

An aide to the mayor said there were telephone calls to the White House and federal agencies in a "joint effort by all participants to increase federal participation" in various city programs, such as job retraining and aid to youth.

Invited by the mayor, King came here Monday night on what he called "a peace mission."

King, Wagner, Bayard Rustin, leader of the march on Washington last summer, and other civil rights leaders conferred for four hours.

Race Riot Erupts at Teen Dance

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — A teen-age rock 'n' roll dance erupted into a flat-swinging, rock-throwing melee last night between several hundred white and Negro youths.

Seven boys and one girl were injured and three policemen suffered cuts from thrown rocks. Some 1,200 white youths were attending the dance.

One boy, Joseph W. Sacco, 16, of Medford was still hospitalized today. He was at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston with a possible concussion.

The manager of the Bal-A-Roue Roller Skating Rink said the disturbance began when a Negro youth tried to cut in on a white couple. The manager asked not to be identified.

Police said 50 to 75 Negro youths appeared at the dance without dates and formed a stag line at one side of the privately operated rink — where weekly dances are held on Tuesday nights.

BROKE OUT

The trouble broke out just before the dance was to end at 11 p.m.

The rink management said 11 extra policemen were on because of an increasing number of Negro youths who had been showing up at the dances.

There had been no prior trouble at the dances, the manager said.

Police from five Greater Boston communities brought the disturbance under control within an hour. But the fighting and rock throwing had already carried over into the parking lot and into three buses parked there.

BEER BOTTLES

Police said knives and razor blades also were used in the fracas. Several broken beer bottles were found at the scene afterward.

In buses and cars parked in the lot, windows were broken and other damage caused. Police said seats in the buses were ripped up.

Rochester Moving Toward Normalcy

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Officials of racially troubled Rochester took another step today to restore the city's normal routine by lifting a three-day ban on liquor sales.

The latest move followed a successful test suspension of a dusk-to-dawn curfew which saw the city spend a relatively peaceful night.

Liquor sales were forbidden in Rochester and surrounding Monroe County after a weekend of violence.

Hundreds of helmeted city and state police continued to patrol the city's Negro sections today and about 1,500 National Guard troops still stood by ready to help put down any new rioting.

'PEACE' FALLS — Vietnamese students shout and heave on ropes as they topple "Peace," a bronze female figure that stood in the French War Memorial in downtown Saigon. Last night's anti-French demonstration was one of many that have erupted recently.

Viets Blast De Gaulle

French Jeer Statue Wrecking

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — About 20 angry French men and women gathered today at the remains of a French war monument wrecked by Vietnamese students and hurled insults at passing natives.

* * *

"Fight the live enemy of the present, the Viet Cong, and not the dead enemy of the past," one Frenchman shouted to Vietnamese standing near the remnants of the memorial in downtown Saigon.

* * *

Police dispersed the French without violence when a group of Vietnamese students arrived and a clash threatened.

Students wrecked the huge bronze monument to France's war dead Tuesday night in a demonstration against President Charles de Gaulle's proposal that Viet Nam be neutralized and the war against the Communist Viet Cong ended.

HANDS FOLDED

As police stood by with hands folded, screaming youths pulled down a 30-foot statue of two French infantrymen and towed it off. They also toppled a bronze female figure representing peace.

* * *

The students wound up their demonstration with speeches calling for a break in relations with France, and expansion of the war against the Communist to North Viet Nam.

* * *

One student said action would be taken soon to persuade the government to nationalize French property in Viet Nam.

A few Frenchmen watched quietly as the students demolished the monument. About 1 a.m. several cars filled with French men and women drove up.

WOMEN WEEP

Some of the women began weeping. One read the inscribed names of Frenchmen killed in both World War I and the Indochina conflict and said: "May their souls rest in peace after this night."

Students had smeared the monument with green paint on July 20 in a protest demonstration marking the 10th anniversary of the Geneva agreement putting the northern half of this former French colony under Communist rule. The South Vietnamese government brushed aside a protest from the French Embassy.

Red Attack Repelled by Vietnamese

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist Viet Cong units attacked a district capital 30 miles north of Saigon Tuesday but were beaten off with possibly high casualties.

Viet Cong forward units got to within 1,200 yards of Ben Cat and lobbed 18 heavy mortar rounds into a regimental headquarters before being pushed back into the jungle by artillery and fighter bombers.

* * *

A Vietnamese spokesman claimed that 300 Viet Cong were killed or wounded in the engagement, which began early in the morning and lasted until evening.

American advisers were more conservative in estimating Viet Cong losses, although they were told by a Vietnamese soldier who was briefly a Viet Cong prisoner that they lost 186.

NEVER KNOW

"We will never really know how many of them got hit," an adviser said. "Our observer craft out there at midday saw them carting off their dead and wounded."

Government casualties were 25 killed, 23 wounded and 30 missing.

Vietnamese sources estimated Viet Cong strength at 500.

4th Arrested in Store Thefts

A fourth employe of the Pontiac Mall Montgomery Ward store was arrested yesterday on charges of taking part in a theft ring operating in the building.

State police detective Robert Neigebauer said the investigation is continuing and other employes are being questioned.

Arraigned yesterday on a charge of larceny from a building was David Schane, 29, of 23122 Tuck, Farmington, manager of the store's drapery department.

He demanded examination before Waterford Township Justice John McGrath, which was set for Tuesday, and released on $1,000 bond.

* * *

Out on bond awaiting arraignment in Circuit Court Monday on similar charges are three employes arrested Friday. They all waived preliminary examination in justice court.

THREE ARRESTED

They are Jerome T. Pomeroy, 26, of Detroit, men's clothing department manager; Robert N. Schroyer, 29, of 4666 Circle, Waterford Township, a hardware salesman, and Lloyd H. Hearns, 43, of 38 Lexington, assistant manager of the display department.

* * *

State police and Waterford Township detectives say the arrests followed a four-month investigation into the theft of some $1,500 worth of merchandise at the store.

most critical phase of the mission.

SECOND MISSION

The second mission scheduled for early 1965 will last up to four days, and will follow the initial manned Gemini flight of three orbits due in late December this year.

Kenneth S. Kleinknecht, deputy manager of the Gemini program, declined to give details of the step into space experiment, but said the entire maneuver probably could be accomplished in about five minutes.

Kleinknecht said the four-day mission will have 10 or 11 additional scientific experiment assignments.

He said the other experiments involve medical tests, radiation measurements, weather photographs and measurement of the earth's magnetic field.

COMMUNICATIONS ESTABLISHED — Rescue workers talk through a tunnel with nine trapped miners today in Eastern France. The tunnel was pushed down to them to provide air. The men are trapped beneath Mt. Rivel near the Swiss Border.

Rescue Workers Digging for Trapped French Miners

CHAMPAGNOLE, France (AP) — Rescue workers punched an entrance today into an underground tunnel where five miners are believed trapped by a cave-in. Other men worked to open a rescue shaft to nine trapped men found alive more than 200 feet below the surface.

The rescuers made contact through an air tube with the nine men last night, 36 hours after the cave-in in a limestone mine in the Jura Mountains of eastern France.

The miners said three of their five missing companions were caught by falling rock and may have perished. They said there was no trace of the other two.

Torrential rains hampered the rescue work yesterday, but the sky was blue today. The limestone quarry lies beneath Mt. Rivel near the Swiss border.

The hole was opened by bulldozers this morning to permit rescue teams to enter the entrance tunnel where the cave-in occurred Monday and clear away debris by hand.

It was believed that the five missing men were in this gallery.

OTHER TEAMS

Other rescue teams were digging a 3-foot vertical shaft through the 211-foot layer of rock above the chamber where the nine known survivors were.

Drillers sank a small pipe into the underground gallery last night and exchanged signals with the miners. Then they lowered a microphone to the men by pushing through a larger pipe.

Police Chase Speeder Into 3 Counties

A high speed chase in which two police cars were damaged ended early this morning with the arrest of Larry Hill, 21, of Walled Lake.

Hill pleaded guilty in Wixom Municipal Court to reckless driving. Justice Elwood Grubb sentenced him to five days in jail.

The chase, which at times reached speeds in excess of 105 m.p.h. extended through Oakland, Wayne and Washtenaw counties and involved the Wixom, South Lyon, and State Police.

The Wixom and South Lyon police cars were damaged when officer Lawrence Beamish of the Wixom police department attempted to stop Hill by forcing him off the road.

The arrest was finally made when Hill went into a ditch on a gravel road, Beamish said.

The chase began when Hill fled from a filling station without paying for $2 in gas, authorities said.

Cave-In Fatal for Area Man

Gravel Pit Mishap in Groveland Twp.

James E. Griffin, 34, was killed yesterday in a gravel pit cave-in in Groveland Township.

Griffin of 14235 Hess Rd., Groveland Township, was in the process of hooking a cable onto the rear of a bulldozer when the fatal cave-in occurred at the Jennings Gravel Co. at Shields and Warden.

Three fellow workers gave a warning yell when they saw the crest of the bank above the bulldozer begin to give way. Griffin could not get out of the way in time.

The three workers immediately began to dig Griffin out with their hands. They had him out in three minutes, but the weight of the gravel had pinned him against the rear of the bulldozer.

Ronald J. Moore, one of the pit workers, said that about two tons of earth had fallen on or about Griffin's body.

Griffin was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Hospital in Flint, where doctors attributed his death to a crushed chest.

DRYER FUNERAL

His body is at the Dryer Funeral Home in Holly.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday, at the Stackus Funeral Home in Boyne City. Burial will follow there.

Surviving are his wife Barbara; a daughter, Anita Ann, and three sons, James, Earl and Dennis, all at home.

Open Swims to Continue in 3 Pools Until Aug. 14

BIRMINGHAM — The city's recreation department is keeping right in tune with the weather.

* * *

Its seven-week playground program came to a close yesterday, but open swimming will continue until Aug. 14.

With the days bringing temperatures almost too hot in which to play, the department is providing a chance to take it easy in one of three pools.

In Barnum Pool, the boys will do the splashing beginning at 2:30 p.m. until 3:15 p.m. when the girls take over for 45 minutes.

Junior and senior high school students will be allowed in the Derby pool from 1 to 2:30 p.m., followed by their younger elementary counterparts 2:30-4 p.m.

* * *

Swimming time will be split during the same periods for the elementary and advanced students at the Seaholm pool.

Family swimming sessions, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., will be held at Seaholm on Monday and Wednesday and in the Derby pool Tuesday and Thursday.

* * *

During the summer playground activities more than 1,500 children participated in programs including softball, crafts, baton, puppetry, dramatics and various tournaments.

BIRMINGHAM—Members of Seaholm High School's class of '61 are being asked to "practice" three "R's" again.

They're invited to a Reunion with a Reason—voter Registration.

All 600 classmates, along with their spouses, are invited to the home of Wendy Paddison, 3100 Bradway, Bloomfield Township, for the Saturday event.

Greetings and experiences will be shared from 2 to 5 p.m.

* * *

Former class president Mosby Harvey has issued a call to every member of the graduating group to attend.

FIRST VOTE

"This is more than just a reunion, it's an opportunity for each of the 600 in our class to also register for the 1964 elections and make their first vote count," Harvey said.

Representatives of the Birmingham City Clerk's office will be on hand to sign up eligible voters.

Class advisers and Principal Ross A. Wagner have also been invited to the affair.

Any 1961 Seaholm graduate who has not been reached is asked to contact Miss Paddison or Mike Emery, 311 Southlawn.

Mrs. J. F. Hunt

Service for Mrs. J. F. (Lora T.) Hunt, 80, of 4115 Orchard Hills, Bloomfield Township, will be 1 p.m. Friday at the Manley-Bailey Funeral Home, Birmingham. Burial will follow in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkley.

Mrs. Hunt died yesterday after a brief illness.

She was past worthy matron of Birmingham Chapter No. 220, Order of the Eastern Star.

Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Norman Gustafason, with whom she made her home.

Layoffs Start at Fisher Body

tion records set this year. They are a fitting tribute, both to the individual and the entire Pontiac team," Estes said.

While some layoffs have already taken place, the major layoffs will begin tonight at Fisher Body and Friday at Pontiac Motor Division.

Layoffs are expected to reach their height in the first 10 days of August. Fisher Body will begin calling workers back about Aug. 11 and expects to have all workers back on the job before Aug. 31.

* * *

Pontiac assembly operations are expected to begin on Aug. 24, with production of 1965 models.

GMTC LAYOFFS

Layoffs at GMC Truck & Coach Division are minor and staggered over a longer period. Inventory will begin there next week.

The system of setting up suboffices at union halls was first tried last year and found to be much more convenient, according to C. H. Lown, manager of the unemployment insurance division of Pontiac's MESC office.

Temporary units in each of three local halls began full operations Monday, he said, and will continue an 8:30 a.m. to 4:40 p.m. schedule every Monday through Friday.

* * *

Lown estimated about 3,000 auto workers have already been laid off and another 5,000 are expected to be off the job Friday. The annual shutdown is expected to involve more than 10,000 at its peak.

UNDER AGREEMENT

Under the agreement, the UAW locals provide space for MESC staff workers.

Lown advised that this arrangement is for auto workers living in Oakland County north of 14 Mile; Others should file for benefits at MESC offices in their communities.

No layoff claims will be handled at the Pontiac office at 242 Oakland during this period.

* * *

Special provisions of state unemployment laws permit workers going out of town to file a claim at unemployment offices anywhere in the United States, or in Canada which has a reciprocal agreement.

CAN VACATION

Once properly registered, auto workers can vacation until their callback time, since the accumulated benefit checks will be held for them.

Unlike other layoff situations auto workers expecting to return to work are not required to be actively seeking employment during the change-over.

Most will find unemployment benefits have been increased since last year.

* * *

A typical married worker, with two children and earning $106 a week or more, will now receive $54 in weekly benefits, up from the previous $49.

GOP's Kuhn Challenges Foe on Barry

One of three Republicans seeking nomination in the 19th Congressional District race, Richard D. Kuhn, today challenged his leading opponent to state his views on the party's national ticket.

* * *

Kuhn, a Pontiac attorney, said the offer is aimed at James P. Dickerson, an Oakland University staff aide. He said he intends to make it a major issue.

"I pledge my entire support to Barry Goldwater. My opponent has expressed reservations about supporting Goldwater, and I challenge him to make his position clear."

Kuhn first made the demand at a meet-the-candidate forum Monday night before the Farmington Women's Republican Club.

"It is the responsibility of Republican congressmen to support the Republican leadership. We have been told that it is important that Romney be supported by a Republican legislature. The same applies to the national ticket," said Kuhn.

BARRY SUPPORTER

Kuhn identifies himself as a conservative and an active supporter of Sen. Goldwater since last year. Dickerson, generally regarded as a moderate, has not yet issued a formal statement on the national candidates.

The two so far are the leading Republican candidates in the race for the new congressional seat, since former Livonia mayor William Brashear did not publicly enter the contest until last week.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Scattered showers and thundershowers are expected tonight in New England, the Tennessee, Ohio and Mississippi valleys, central Plains, northwest and Gulf Coast areas. A cool mass was moving south through the eastern half of the nation. Elsewhere it is warmer.

Speed Up Whole Process

Must Educate People to End Coin Crisis

"A speeding up of the whole process" of getting coins back into circulation is the most immediate and feasible solution to the present national coin shortage crisis, according to Mr. Russel A. Swaney, vice president in charge, Detroit Branch, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

* * *

Swaney, speaking yesterday before the Pontiac Community National Bank staff, said that one of the best ways to accomplish this is to educate all people to the intricate problems of this crisis.

The main cause of the present shortage is the unprecedented 40-odd months of booming business, Swaney said. When business is good, the channels that coins go through before being returned to the banks are increased.

People can afford to hold on to their hard money. This quickly takes coins out of circulation.

* * *

This, Swaney said, leads to a series of events that complicate the problem even more. The stores first begin to feel the shortage, so when they do get coins they keep them, instead of returning them to the bank as they usually do.

NEXT IN PINCH

The banks are the next to feel the pinch on coins since they are not getting them from the stores.

They then, in order to satisfy customer demand, strive to maintain their stock of coins by not returning coins to the Federal Reserve Bank as would be the usual procedure.

The Federal Reserve then does not get back in coin the same amount that they originally sent to the member banks.

* * *

The Federal Reserve's inventory dwindles to the extent, where, according to Swaney, the Detroit Branch presently has a negligible supply of coins on hand to redistribute to the banks who need the coins.

ONLY RECOURSE

The only recourse the Federal Reserve Bank has is the mint, which already is working at capacity.

Here in Michigan, we have several other problems. The four per cent sales tax shifted the pressure on coins from pennies to nickels. This has caused a drastic shortage of nickels.

The minting of Kennedy half dollars has caused a hoarding of this coin. This, plus the Mackinac Bridge charge of $3.75, has put extreme pressure on quarters, since these are used as change.

* * *

Three bills are now being considered by Congress to help remedy the coin shortage. But the lack of speed at which Congress has considered these bills has hurt, Swaney said.

NEW MINT

The bill for the appropriation of $16 million to build a new mint was introduced in March of 1963. It is expected to be passed sometime this week, according to Mr. Swaney.

Another bill, which would allow the mint to continue to use a 1964 date on half dollars, is also expected to be passed this week. This would help to eliminate the hoarding by collectors of the Kennedy half dollar.

A bill is presently before Congress which would allow the government to accept bids from private industry to make coins.

* * *

Swaney said that this would help greatly in taking pressure off the mints and greatly increase coining capacity. This bill has met with little favor, though, in Congress.

DOWN TREND

Besides a concerted effort to speed up the recirculation process, the only other immediate relief from the coin shortage would come with a downward trend in business, Swaney said.

Elk Temple Denied License for Liquor

ROCHESTER — Plans for a new Elks Temple on Ludlow have been jolted by action of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission. The Elks' request for a liquor license has been denied.

* * *

Edward F. Maloney, director of the commission's license division, said yesterday the fraternal order could apply for a hearing if members thought the commission's decision was unjust.

However George L. Martin, club secretary, indicated that the Elks would accept the commission's decision.

"We really never formally applied," Martin said. He explained that the commission probably made its decision without an application because of "many letters from residents on Ludlow," and the action of the township board.

COUNCIL VOTE

On June 24 the board went on record 6-1 questioning issuance of a liquor license as being in the best interest of the township.

Prior to that the Rochester Village Council voted 4-3 in favor of rezoning which would allow construction of the Elks facility.

Council's action came in spite of several hearings at which Ludlow Street homeowners, led by Charles Edie, 528 Ludlow, vigorously objected to the rezoning.

Fifty-three protesting residents petitioned the council and the liquor commission.

* * *

They fought the proposed building on grounds that many children played in the township park across the street, Ludlow had too heavy traffic and there was a sharp turn near the location proposed for the lodge.

CALL RESIDENTIAL

They also contended the street was characteristically residential.

The Elks countered that Ludlow was already a major traffic artery, not really residential, and alcoholic beverages would not be consumed by the general public, only members and guests.

Following the village council's decision Ludlow homeowners said they would take the issue to court if the Elks proceeded. The residents' ultimatum was announced June 29.

* * *

Although few were aware of it, the liquor license application was received by the liquor commission in Lansing on June 22. Maloney said it was based on a resolution the club passed June 18 and signed by Martin and William H. Parker, Elks exalted ruler.

DENY REQUEST

On July 6 the commission denied the request, according to Maloney. Yet, as late as last week some club officials were still publicly discussing whether they would apply.

Maloney said the club was notified of the commission's July 6 decision "a few days after the decision was made."

* * *

Future plans are expected to be discussed at the Elks' general membership meeting Aug. 6.

CAPTAIN TOPPER'S BIG NIGHT — The prize Shetland stallion, Captain Topper, was guest of honor at a "Celebrity Night" showing of the Alpenrose Shetland Pony "Shodeo" last night at the State Fair Coliseum in Detroit. With him here before he entered the ring are his owner, Miss Patricia Burton of Dryden; Bill Simpson of Baraboo, Wis., editor of "Your Pony" magazine; and the pony's handler, Lewis Pfeifer. Last night's show was a preview of public performances this weekend to benefit the Captain Topper Foundation for mentally retarded children.

Drop Most of School Path Project

TROY — Faced with City Commission's refusal to allow blacktop sidewalks, the Troy Board of Education last night abandoned most of its school walkway project.

* * *

The school board, after reducing the area in which school buses would pick up children, had undertaken a $15,000 project to make walking to school safer.

Fifteen paths to district schools had been considered for blacktop paving. All city schools except Troy Union and Colerain were included in the plan.

However in order to finance the proposed construction the board Monday requested city commission to allow an exception to the ordinance requiring all sidewalks to be concrete.

"Blacktop sidewalks are about half as expensive as concrete ones," Schools Supt. Dr. Rex Smith said today.

Dr. Smith explained that by cutting down the bus routes the district would save approximately $20,000 annually.

However, he said presently the district could not invest more than $15,000 in the sidewalk project.

Last night the board resolved to abandon the planned concrete walkways and proceed with building gravel paths around the edges of fields and vacant lots.

The board also resolved to request the city to provide crossing guards at five more locations and to study the possible need of guards at two more crossing points.

Continuing on with other business, the board adopted a general operation budget for 1964-65 which will run an estimated $94,145 in the red.

Anticipated income is expected to reach $1,802,743 while expenditures are estimated at $1,896,888.

'END-OF-LINE'

The last of three budget drafts, the financial account has been called "end-of-the-line, emergency-type" by Dr. Smith.

The superintendent said the district's financial position has deteriorated steadily since 1962-63, without the three extra mills which were requested and rejected three times.

Cost of running the school has increased, despite cuts in spending in many categories, because of the necessary addition of 14 new teachers.

The board last night also adopted a tax levy of 22.23 mills, a reduction of 1.23 mills.

OPERATING LEVY

Operating levy, set at 17.63 mills, is based on 9.63 allocated (down .08) plus eight mills voted.

Most of the reduction, 1.15, is based on an increase in state equalized valuation. This lowers the debt levy to 4.6 mills.

Early U.S. Plays Will Be Revived

Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village are going a step further in "bringing American history to life" by authentically re-creating early American drama.

* * *

The Museum and Village has established the American Drama Festival, a unique summer resident theater that opens with the famous 19th century drawing room comedy, "Our American Cousin" Friday at the Henry Ford Museum Theater.

It will play Monday, Wednesday, and Friday of each week through Sept. 7. On Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, the Festival presents "Metamora," famous as the greatest American Indian tragedy of all time.

"Our American Cousin," one of Abraham Lincoln's favorite comedies, is based upon the adventures of a robust 'Yankee' abroad in England during the early 19th century.

It was while watching this play on April 14, 1865, that Lincoln was assassinated.

"Metamora" is a colorful, rustic frontier drama depicting the tragedy of the Wampanoag tribe of Indians in and around Massachusetts.

This play is based upon actual historical events. It deals with the 1675 "King Philip" uprising of the Wampanoag Indians and their eventual annihilation by the white settlers.

The American Drama Festival is actually an educational endeavor, developed as an appendage to the vast collectors of American artifacts contained in the Museum and Greenfield Village.

Free Eye Test at State Fair

Optometrists Renew Offer for 4th Year

Squinting a little these days?

Straining to read the fine print in the stock market quotations or baseball box scores?

Had your eyes checked lately?

You'll have a chance for a free eye examination at the 115th annual Michigan State Fair, which opens Aug. 28, and runs through Sept. 7.

The Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb Societies of Optometry will offer again this year their visual screening project free to the public.

* * *

This is the fourth year the optometrists have performed this public service at the State Fair. Last year, 7,500 examinations were given.

BAD VISION

A total of 2,500 persons taking the exams had vision of 20-30 or worse in one or both eyes (20-20 is considered perfect).

The free eye exams will be offered from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. at the optometry exhibit in the White Building.

* * *

General chairman of the project is Dr. Floyd G. Seal of Detroit.

Assistant chairman is Dr. Joseph Johnson of Royal Oak. Finance chairmen are Dr. Marvin Weisman, whose office is at 413 Main, Rochester, and Dr. George Graham of Grosse Pointe Farms.

Apple Group OKs Budget for Promotion

The Michigan State Apple Commission has approved a record budget of $373,050 for promotion of the expected record apple crop of 18.5-million bushels.

The budget includes a cash outlay of over $221,000 for merchandising advertising and promotion.

Promotions already under way include summer apple display kits and trade magazine advertising.

The Harvest Promotion period will see a record number of in-store full-color display kits, trade magazine advertising to produce buyers, billboard advertising within the state of Michigan and a consumer radio advertising program.

* * *

A record amount of over $30,000 will be spent to promote processed apple products including apple pie and apple sauce. Pie will be promoted in restaurants with table tents, menu 'clip-ons' and place mats.

Orders for these types of items are expected to run into the millions of pieces.

Blonde Beauties Win Awards in State Pageant

MUSKEGON (AP) — Blondes from Detroit and Muskegon walked off with the awards Tuesday in the opening night preliminaries of the annual Miss Michigan Beauty Pageant here.

Susan Marie Bieganowski of Detroit, 21-year-old senior at Western Michigan University, was named the winner in the preliminary swimsuit judging.

* * *

Winner in the talent division was Lucylle Johnson, 18, of Muskegon, who did a free-hand drawing in story book form with a monologue.

The preliminaries continue through Thursday night for the 48 contestants. The winner and the top ten entries iwll be chosen Friday night.

Girls Prepare for Friday Contest

Miss Ortonville Deadline Near

ORTONVILLE — The hair appointments are made and the last stitches on the formal gowns are being taken as nine local girls prepare for the Miss Ortonville contest Friday night.

* * *

Just about 24 hours remain for those not already registered to notify officials they would like to enter the competition.

An informal get-together of the title aspirants is set for 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Richard Maule, 421 Mill.

That will be the deadline for girls to let contest chairman Mrs. Peter F. Aria know of their intention to compete. They can either contact her by 7:30 or come to the informal social gathering.

* * *

The local contest will be held at 8 p.m. Friday on an outdoor stage at the corner of Mill and Pond streets.

JAYCEE AUXILIARY

Sponsored by the Ortonville Area Jaycee Auxiliary, the pageant is planned to pick the girl to represent the village in the Romeo Peach Queen competition Aug. 15.

A winner of the local title and two runners-up will be selected. They will receive gifts from local merchants plus $60 in prize money.

The format of the contest will be patterned after the Peach Queen contest last year. Contestants will appear on stage in both street wear and formal gowns for interviews and to answer questions extemporaneously.

* * *

Master of ceremonies will be Richard Maule, local florist.

Each of the girls will be rated on beauty, charm and public speaking ability.

SERVING AS JUDGES

Serving as judges will be Mrs. Helen Bennett of Rochester, District 9 vice president of the Jaycettes; Jack Cooper of Waterford, vice president of District 10 of the Jaycees; and Lee Olson, area news editor of The Pontiac Press.

Candidates for Miss Ortonville title thus far are Bev Austin, Mary Jo Atkins, Sue Ashbaugh, Teri Ball, Connie Kassuba, Cheryl Leese, Carol Perry, Dianne Sharrard and Hazel Solley.

* * *

The contest also is planned to tie in with Ortonville Carnival Days, a weekend celebration to promote the village, which will run from tomorrow through Sunday.

Administration Opposes Senate Measure

Count on House to Vote Down Meat Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials today looked to the House to kill a meat import quota bill passed by an overwhelming 72-15 Senate margin.

The legislation, long sought by the livestock industry, won votes from 50 Democrats and 22 Republicans late Tuesday after a six-hour Senate debate.

* * *

Only nine Democrats and six Republicans, mostly from large consumer states, opposed it.

The bill would establish quotas on beef, veal and mutton imports based on 1959-63 levels. This would mean a cut to about 1.2 billion pounds fro mthe record 1.7 billion level of last year — a 30 per cent reduction.

The bill's foes said the measure had a strong political appeal in the Senate because the cattle industry has become nationwide and affects a majority of the states.

HIGHER PRICES

But they argued the bill would inevitably lead to higher prices and that the consumer interest would be more important in the House.

* * *

The administration was counting on the strong liberal trade majority in the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles all such legislation, to defeat the meat bill.

The measure's Senate supporters said that meat imports rose to record levels last year and that this was the biggest factor in a severe price drop to the lowest point in 16 years.

Many cattlemen, they said, are going broke and the nation's rural economy is suffering heavily.

COULD BE HARMFUL

The bill's opponents said that it not only would affect consumers adversely but that it actually could harm U.S. farmers by wrecking the trade expansion talks now going on at Geneva.

In these negotiations, the United States is trying hard to win new foreign markets for surplus American agricultural products such as wheat.

* * *

The opponents contend also that domestic overproduction and speculation in livestock feeding encouraged by favorable tax treatment were the big factors in the price drop, not imports.

* * *

The administration has taken several steps in an attempt to head off mandatory quota legislation. It has pushed various meat consumption programs and has worked out voluntary import limitation agreements with Australia, New Zealand, Ireland and Mexico.

* * *

The bill's sponsors insisted all these moves were inadequate.

* * *

Senate Democratic leaders supported the bill despite the administration stand. Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana was an original sponsor of it.

Most Persons Discard Freeloading Junk Mail

The New Yorker Magazine runs an excerpt from a Springfield, Massachusetts newspaper suggesting 75% of the junk mail is promptly filed in the wastebasket. Personally, we feel the percentage thus discarded is higher and we base it on reactions right here in our own building. Practically 100% of the mail that bears less than first class postage is tossed out unopened.

★ ★ ★

Occasionally, we may miss a message that should have gotten through but the enormous amount of time saved is considerably more important. If the "message" of the sender isn't important enough to justify first-class postage, it can't be important enough for us to open.

★ ★ ★

Currently, records, books and magazines seem to lead the list. Their "offerings" must be flooding the local wastebaskets. And one of the rather curious sidelights lies in the fact so many of them send two, three and as high as twelve duplicates in the same mail with identically the same address.

★ ★ ★

Remember, you, as a taxpayer, are paying the post office costs for handling the junk mail just as though it were a personal letter from your beloved.

Trade Strong Between Western Europe, Reds

Communists and capitalists are trading with each other at a rate unequaled since World War II—and the prospect is for more two-way dealing rather than less.

★ ★ ★

Washington is of two minds about the booming business between Western Europe and the Communist states.

★ ★ ★

There is a general understanding among the United States, Great Britain, France, West Germany and Italy that each will do all it can to draw the satellite states away from the Soviet Union. But some of the sales to the Soviet bloc and most of the sales to Red China are disturbing for strategic and other reasons.

★ ★ ★

A roundup in the Wall Street Journal shows Britain's sales to Russia in 1963 at $155 million, up 33⅓ per cent over 1962; French sales to Red countries in Europe other than Russia at $161 million, up 30 per cent; Italy's sales to satellites at $152 million, up 11 per cent; and West Germany is aggressively selling behind the iron and bamboo curtains.

The Krupp group recently signed a $4.2 million contract with the Soviet Union to expand output at a chemical plant in Kursk originally built by Krupp.

★ ★ ★

The boom is two ways. Russia shipped $255 million worth of lumber and other materials to Britain last year, up 11 per cent from 1962 and a good $100 million more than it imported from Britain. Red China is running a trade surplus with every Western European nation but France.

Britain is reported considering the sale of even a nuclear reactor to Romania.

★ ★ ★

The United States and its NATO allies in the past have agreed not to extend to Communist nations credits of more than five years. The French now say the British have violated this agreement by giving Czechoslovakia 12-year credits to finance the purchase of fertilizer plants. Britain also is reported to have given the Soviet Union 15-year credits.

★ ★ ★

No one will be much surprised if other Western European trade-hungry nations follow suit. It seems as if this leaves the U.S. holding the bag once again.

Barry, Johnson Polite -- for Now

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — From the way President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater have been talking, you can get the impression the presidential campaign is going to be on a high plane, more or less. But this may not last long, since neither man can predict or control the future.

MARLOW

Goldwater himself, in the midst of saying he would not make any personal attacks on Johnson and would campaign solely on the issues, told a news conference: "Oh, I think you'll find some brickbats flying around all over the place."

And Johnson is apparently prepared for anything that happens, while so far being bland about it all, for he told a news conference: "Most campaigns are rough campaigns and I'm an old campaigner. I've been at it 30 years."

This gives him more than twice the campaign experience of Goldwater because he was in Congress more than twice as long.

★ ★ ★

He never batted an eye — in public, that is — to Goldwater's charge that he is a "faker" and a "phony" and seemed to be trying to brush aside any thought he might retaliate in kind.

NOT MUCH INTERESTED

He said of his 30 years of campaigning: "One of the first things I learned — at least, as far as I'm concerned — the people are not much interested in my personal opinion of my opponent.

"The American people will make their judgments on the very statements that he may make from time to time."

There are plenty of other Democrats around to fling brickbats if Johnson won't, although it remains to be seen if he won't, particularly if Goldwater flings them.

★ ★ ★

And if Goldwater won't, his running mate for the vice presidency, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, probably will, since Miller has been described as a gut-fighter, a "wiry rooster" with "nothing namby-pamby about him."

CLAIMS SCANDAL ISSUE

It can't be forgotten that Goldwater said one of the main issues in the campaign is the "scandal hanging over the White House." Somebody, if not Goldwater, is going to have to talk about it, since he called it an issue.

If a guess had to be made, this seems the likely one: this is going to be rougher than any campaign in memory if only because the intensity of feeling among Americans themselves seems so deep.

There was hardly deep feeling among voters over the 1960 race between Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon. They weren't so far apart in their views. It was a personality contest.

★ ★ ★

It marks the most clear-cut division — which is what Goldwater said he wanted to provide anyway — between American conservatives and those of more liberal views and between those who are against big government and those who consider it a necessity in the middle of the 20th century.

The lines have already hardened on both sides and if anyone doubts it, all he has to do is talk to a dozen people and listen to the intensity of their feelings.

There was no such intensity before or even during the two campaigns between Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson.

In addition to this, all the unpredictables — like the turn of events at home and abroad, particularly if they're violent — could make this whole campaign boil.

The All-Seeing Tortoise Shell Glasses

David Lawrence Says:

Europe Should Join U.S. Effort

WASHINGTON — Many high officials and several newspapers in Europe have begun to meddle in American political affairs as they take sides publicly on the attitude of the presidential candidates on questions of American foreign policy.

LAWRENCE

But this is only a smoke screen to divert attention from the tragic manner in which Great Britain and France have failed to back up the United States in Southeast Asia.

Scores of American boys are being killed and the lives of many thousands of United States troops in Viet Nam are being endangered by Communist guerrillas who are being supplied arms and ammunition by Red China.

Yet the Peking government has recently been recognized by General de Gaulle of France, while the British continue their diplomatic relations with the Communist Chinese.

★ ★ ★

Instead of joining in a trade and diplomatic embargo, the European governments are seeking increased trade with Red China, which inevitably will help to bolster its economy.

OAS ACTION

In contrast, the Organization of American States in this hemisphere has just decided on diplomatic and economic measures designed to isolate Communist Cuba.

This is the kind of international cooperation which could change the whole course of the "cold war" if the European governments wholeheartedly joined such an effort in Asia.

The European critics are mistaken in their widely publicized fear that the political campaign in this country is related in any important way to possible changes in American foreign policy.

★ ★ ★

There is no essential difference between the viewpoint of the Republican and Democratic parties in their earnest desire to see peace maintained with all nations.

EUROPE APPEASEMENT

But there is discussion in this country as to whether the European type of appeasement — which helped bring on World War II — might, if applied today, result in another world conflict.

Sen. Goldwater, for example, insists that firmness and resoluteness are vital and that a craven attitude can bring on war. President Johnson has again and again expressed the same sentiment.

But the Europeans are concerned lest the United States apply some of its firmness in Europe by insisting that Great Britain and France join an economic and diplomatic embargo not only against Cuba but also against Red China.

★ ★ ★

The device of employing trade boycotts or arms embargoes has been repeatedly suggested to Britain and France, but the businessmen of those countries evidently have enough influence to prevent their respective governments from interfering with money-making even if Americans are being killed in Southeast Asia with arms being supplied by Red China.

BASIC TACTICS

The idea of developing trade and diplomatic relations with Red China has the support of some "liberals" in this country, too, but it is basic in the tactics of almost all of the ruling parties in Europe today.

This is what is alienating American public opinion. If Sen. Goldwater does gain political strength on foreign policy questions, it will be largely due to resentment among the people of the United States over the manner in which Britain and France have isolated themselves from a fundamental principle of American policy — that freedom-loving nations should make every sacrifice to present a united front against Communist aggression.

Bob Considine Says:

Flight From Mexico City Wobbles 'Toward Cuba

HAVANA (Delayed) — This morning in Mexico City at the hour Cubana de Aviacion had urged us to call about the flight to Havana, there was no answer. It figured. So I called an hour later and a voice like a blonde's answered. Certainly Flight 465 would run and I must be at the airport in 30 minutes.

CONSIDINE

I had been waiting for nearly a week, but this was no time to bring that up.

Now I'm off, on the double, to gate six, when along with the other correspondents, I surrendered my passport to a sleepy bloke who gave us a battered brass tag in exchange. We put our typewriters and bags in chairs and started back to the restaurant and bar elsewhere in the terminal.

No, all must remain in that room, although Flight 465 was still somewhere between Havana and Mexico City, or somewhere between Mars and Mexico City.

A young Cuban and his wife stood with anguished looks on the other side of the door through which we could no longer pass.

"Are you going to Cuba?" he asked desperately. When I nodded he reached two small bottles of medicine through the doorway. "Please take this medicine to my father in Santiago. His address is on the bottle. He suffers from the heart and there is none of this medicine for him in Cuba."

★ ★ ★

A trim young diplomat representing the Sovereign Military Order of Malta, which maintains relations with about 20 countries, reached for the bottle.

"I will see that they are delivered to your father," he said, putting them in his dispatch case.

EYES MELT

The eyes of the young couple melted in gratitude. "Sometimes they spill my medicine out and give my father only the bottle," the young man said.

Flight 465 looked better than any plane should look when it is the only one of its kind in the company barn and thus is sternly overworked. It is a British-built Brittania, a four-engine turbo prop that resembles a Viscount suffering from an overactive pituitary.

★ ★ ★

There were 90 of us aboard by the time the doors were closed and generally it was the average overseas flight. There were a nun, Japanese children, assorted business types and in this case some American newsmen, none of whom had any idea about how much or little they'd be able to see when they arrived. Or how much they'd be able to file or speak from ensconced.

Voice of the People:

'Dixie-Telegraph Median Creates Confusion'

The road divider located at the Dixie Highway-Telegraph intersection looks like a result of poor engineering. It creates more problems than it eliminates. The major problem at the intersection was traffic turning left onto Telegraph from Dixie and the solution would have been a signal stopping all other traffic. The median creates confusion. Lanes are not marked and drivers don't know where to go.

I hope something can be done. It will take more than filling in the cracks in the road and painting the median. It will take good engineering and more money.

'Goldwater's the Man to Help Country'

Sen. Barry Goldwater's statement on extremism is familiar to most Americans, but how many understand it? You don't have to be a Nazi or a Communist to be labeled extreme. Patrick Henry was most certainly an extremist.

★ ★ ★

Most people today share the view of this administration on communism. They would rather sit back and say "My, how awful," rather than risk provoking the Communists into war. Let me remind you that Communists are bullies. And a bully will not fight someone who is just as tough or tougher.

This election offers a new chance at freedom, a balanced budget and a strengthening of our image abroad.

I agree with the lady who said the dog warden seems upset when you complain about barking dogs. He told us he would warn the people but it wouldn't do any good unless we got a warrant for their arrest. If there is no ordinance against this it's time for our city commission to get busy.

'Sellers Should Advertise Own Property'

Those who are afraid to put their homes in the hands of the real estate companies due to the laws should advertise their own property. It would help to stabilize property value and put a stop to the wholesale turnover now going on.

RIGHTS FOR ALL

'What About Rights of Other Groups?'

Since the passage of the civil rights bill we have been witnesses to two opposing factions. One faction supports "states' rights." They are called bigots. But are they? Don't they have rights? One group can clamor for its supposed "denied" rights while at the same time forgets other's rights.

The second faction screams for its "deserved rights." But did God intend for all men to have the same disposition, the same environment to develop and to civilize? This second faction seems to forget that with every privilege or right acquired there is a responsibility or duty to perform. Why should they be an exception and not be bound to abide by these duties?

A DISGUSTED ADOLESCENT

Armenian Writes on Turkish Brutality

I can give personal examples of Turkish brutality during the massacres of 1917-1918 against the Greek and Armenian subject people. I lost four uncles, three great-aunts, one great-grandfather and one great-grandmother. My grandfather, who was in this country at the time, returned to try to avenge the loss of almost all of his family (brothers, sisters and parents). He became a legend as one man who wasn't afraid of ten times as many Turks. The writer who stated that only 10,000 were killed should add several zeros to the figure.

Why do you think so much blood is being shed on Cyprus? Because for the first time the position is reversed. The Turks can no longer use brutal force, nor can they cover up the truth. Those who live can never forget the dead—there are too many graves to be forgotten.

Power Seizure

The Indianapolis Star

The proposal by Indiana Republican Ralph Harvey to amend the United States Constitution so that states may apportion one chamber of their legislatures on a basis other than population is sound, but it does not touch the real crisis in American government.

Harvey's plan would deal with a symptom, without making progress toward curing the basic illness of the central government. The ailment, which could be fatal to the American system of representative government, is a Supreme Court which has seized the power of both other arms of the body politic.

The Supreme Court, as it functions today, both legislates and administers. There is no longer any question that several court rulings were in fact new pieces of legislation rather than interpretations of existing law. Following the last ruling on the Prince Edward County school case, the court has moved to take over purely administrative functions.

Harvey's plan might eventually be approved by the United States. By that time, the court could have overleaped any number of constitutional boundaries. In fact, the evidence points in exactly that direction.

What, for instance, is to keep the present court from saying that the 14th amendment supersedes the requirement that every state have two senators? The logic that made possible the apportionment ruling can be applied with equal validity to the United States Senate.

★ ★ ★

Neither Congress nor the executive is powerless, yet both these arms of government appear to lack the will to take action. A sort of numbing paralysis appears to keep the other branches from asserting their constitutional equality in the face of the court's assumption of power . . . As a means to relieve one part of the problem, Rep. Harvey's amendment to the fundamental law is sound. As a more certain cure for the more critical trouble, Congress and the President must move to reestablish the true "law of the land."

Georgia Delegation: 'Loyal Democrats'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Georgia's delegation to the Democratic National Convention — including Negroes for the first time in modern history — "is made up of loyal Democrats who represent our party," says Gov. Carl Sanders.

The names of the 64 delegates and 53 of 53 alternates were announced Tuesday by Sanders and Travis Stewart, executive director of the Georgia Democratic party. Four Negroes — two delegates and two alternates — were included on the list of those who will go to the convention opening Aug. 24 in Atlantic City.

There was only one Negro — an alternate — among the Georgia delegation to the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

Sanders, asked the significance of including Negroes among the Democratic delegation, replied:

"This is not a social club. This is a political organization and it is right and proper that we have a cross section of the voters of the state represented. This delegation is made up of loyal Democrats who represent our party."

MISSING FROM LIST

Missing from the list — at their request — are U.S. Sens. Richard B. Russell and Herman Talmadge. Both said they had previous commitments, but Talmadge stated flatly that he is still a Democrat.

Several other high state officials who normally would be expected to attend also begged off. Most pleaded previous commitments, too. They are Lt. Gov. Peter Zack Geer, Agriculture Commissioner Phil Campbell, Treasurer Jack B. Ray and Comptroller General James L. Bentley Jr.

* * *

Former Gov. Ernest Vandiver specifically requested that he be included although he will be unable to attend the convention due to a previous commitment. He is listed as an alternate.

* * *

The Negro delegates are State Sen. Leroy Johnson and attorney A. T. Walden, both of Atlanta. Johnson is the first Negro to win election to the legislature in half a century. Walden is a political power in Atlanta who worked for the Democratic party in the 1960 presidential election.

AMONG ALTERNATES

The alternates are T. B. Hooper of Macon and Mrs. P. Q. Yancy of Atlanta.

Democrats from Fulton and DeKalb counties compose more than one third of the delegation. The two counties make up much of Greater Atlanta's population of more than a million.

* * *

The Georgia delegation will vote under the unit rule and its 53 convention ballots will be cast for President Johnson.

Union Protests on Plant Blasts

DETROIT (UPI) — A steel plant explosion injured two workers critically and their foreman seriously early yesterday and United Steel Workers Local 2859 later lodged a safety complaint with the firm, McLouth Steel Corp.

"This is the third explosion this month" at the McLouth plant in Trention, union safety chairman Pat Patterson said.

He said the union was "highly concerned" with the safety situation at the plant.

"We've had a series of meetings all day today with the company," Patterson said, "and it says it is going to take corrective action."

* * *

Listed in very serious condition at Ann Arbor hospital were workers Charles Souders and Bill Maciag, while the foreman, Richard Katz, was hospitlized in serious condition. All suffered severe burns over large areas of the body.

COVERED VESSEL

Patterson said the explosion occurred in a huge covered vessel in which oxygen is inserted to make the steel from pig iron.

He said it was caused by a water leak in the "oxygen lance," a long pipe that forces the oxygen into the vessel.

North Rhodesia's Leaders Fly to Scene of Religious Outbreak

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — Northern Rhodesia's British governor and African prime minister flew today to the bushland area where 1,200 African troops, police and their white officers are trying to put down a religious outbreak that has cost at least 40 lives.

★ ★ ★

The governor, Sir Evelyn Hone, assumed emergency powers Tuesday after a week's rampage of murder, arson and looting by the spear-wielding Lumpa sect of religious fanatics.

The Lumpas are led by an African "prophetess," Alice Lenshima, who claims she died and returned to life three days later to lead a religious crusade against witchcraft.

"There will be no appeasement with the sect. This violence has got to end," Prime Minister Kenneth Kaunda told newsmen as he and Hone left for Chinsali, 500 miles northeast of Lusaka and the center of the violence.

DESTROYED VILLAGE

The sect destroyed a village 30 miles south of Chinsali Tuesday, an official spokesman said, then ambushed a police riot squad rushing to the rescue. A white officer was killed and another was seriously wounded. Police killed five attackers and wounded two.

Utilizing a blend of Christian theology and superstition, Alice has taught her followers that the sect war cry of "Jericho" will turn bullets into water. They reportedly charge into police gunfire without fear.

★ ★ ★

The current wave of violence stems from a long history of friction between the United National Independence party of Kenneth Kaunda, who will head the government of this central African territory when it gains independence from Britain later this year.

★ ★ ★

Kaunda, announcing the British governor's assumption of emergency powers, told Parliament: "We are determined to do everything possible to put an end to disturbances and to needless waste of human lives."

In a broadcast he said the Lumpa attacks were "wanton and ruthless" and the troops sent to Chinsali were instructed to take all necessary steps to restore order.

Under his emergency powers, the governor can introduce curfews, ban public meetings and restrict movement on roads.

The current violence erupted after a young member of the sect was clipped on the ear by a relative for playing hookey from school. The relative was a member of Kaunda's party.

The Lumpas in retaliation burned a neighboring village. On Friday 300 sect members ambushed a police patrol, killing a white officer and an African constable searching for the arsonists.

★ ★ ★

The police struck back Saturday, recovering the mutilated bodies of their comrades in battle against the spear and axe-wielding sect. Most of the Lumpa men escaped and rampaged through villages.

Leftist Vows Capture of Eastern Congo

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Congo Premier Moise Tshombe has been trying to unite opposing forces through a policy of reconciliation. A stumbling block is leftist Gaston Soumialot, whose rebel tribesmen have overrun 70,000 square miles of the eastern Congo. AP writer Dennis Need has spent nearly three weeks in Soumialot's so-called stronghold.)

By DENNIS NEELD

ALBERTVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Gaston Soumialot, leftist leader whose rebels hold two provincial capitals and territory the size of Iowa, has vowed to seize control of the eastern Congo. But he has little authority over his rampaging warriors.

Soumialot's ragged tribesmen took over Albertville, the North Katanga capital, last month and have captured Kindu, capital of Maneima Province. Now they are pushing slowly northwest toward Stanleyville, former capital of Antoine Gizenga's secessionist regime.

★ ★ ★

Soumialot, who sometimes wears the camouflage uniform of a paratrooper, says his spear-wielding braves will capture Kamina and Elisabethville also. It is doubtful he will have much to say about it.

He has set up a provisional government to rule the territories the guerrillas have seized, but he exercises little control outside Albertville.

SEEMS POWERLESS

Even in his "capital" on Lake Tanganyika, he seems powerless to control his troops, who rage through the streets demanding protection money from Asian, European and African shopkeepers.

Food stocks are almost exhausted in Albertville. To survive, many depend on the fish they can catch in the lake.

★ ★ ★

A single doctor aided by Catholic nuns runs Albertville's two hospitals, filled with wounded brought back from the front. Drugs are running short. Rebels threaten the staff with reprisals if any of the wounded die.

The rebels seized all trucks and automobiles when they took over Albertville June 18. The primitive tribesmen quickly ran them into a useless state.

120 EUROPEANS

About 120 Europeans, most of them Belgian, are still in Albertville. They maintain the water and power services and operate a textile plant.

★ ★ ★

It is almost impossible for them to get permits to leave, but Soumialot denies the whites are hostages. However, he has threatened harsh measures against Europeans whose governments aid Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe's forces.

Bands of rebels leave by train and cattle truck each day for the front, singing songs praising the late Patrice Lumumba, former Congo premier and patron saint of all the Congo's rebels.

They go off to war with spears, knives and clubs, confident that witchcraft medicine protects them from the bullets of the Congolese Army.

U Thant Meets Khrushchev for Talks on Overdue Debts

MOSCOW (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant met Soviet Premier Khrushchev in the Kremlin today for talks on the Soviet Union's overdue debts for its share of U.N. peacekeeping operations.

Thant handed the premier a richly engraved Burmese silver bowl which Khrushchev admiringly said was "beautiful and should be exhibited in a museum."

Thant met earlier with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, who in talks Tuesday with British Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler reportedly reiterated the Soviet Union's stand that it did not consider itself bound by the peacekeeping assessments for the U.N. Congo and Middle East forces because those forces were not under the control of the Security Council.

Under the U.N. Charter, the Soviet Union could lose its General Assembly vote this fall if it does not pay part of the debt. Soviet spokesmen have contended that this would wreck the world organization.

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The U.N. Security Council is expected to vote eventually to send an observer team to the frontier between Cambodia and South Viet Nam to watch for border incidents.

A U.N. commission back from the disputed area recommended that the U.N. post civilian observers on the Cambodia side of the border. The commission was appointed after Cambodia accused South Viet Nam and the United States of violating her frontier.

The commission also suggested that a person of high international standing be named to bring the two feuding governments together for talks on resuming diplomatic relations and marking the ill-defined frontier.

CAIRO (AP) — The explosion which blew up the Egyptian ammunition ship star of Alexandria in Bone harbor was an act of sabotage, the newspaper Al-Ahram claimed today.

* * *

The newspaper said Egyptian frogmen working in the wreckage found explosives which were not part of the ship's cargo.

* * *

Last reports from Algeria said 108 persons were killed in the explosion.

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia says Canadian pledges of support for his country's struggle with Indonesia were "beyond my expectations, beyond my dreams."

Rahman told newsmen Tuesday night after meeting with Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson that Canada promised to train Malaysian pilots and to supply long-term credit for the purchase of Canadian planes.

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda charged the Chinese Communists today with "an unbridled smear campaign

* * *

The Soviet Communist party newspaper said that from Feb. 16 to July 24, the Chinese party newspaper Jen Min Jih Pao published about 500 articles attacking the Soviet and other Communist parties.

UAW, Auto Industry Negotiate

Talks Head for Hard-Core Bargaining

DETROIT (AP) — With preliminary probing and propaganda barrages out of the way, new contract bargaining in the auto industry today appeared headed toward hard-core, day-of-reckoning phases.

Since contract talks between the auto industry and the United Auto Workers Union started June 30, both sides have expended most energy in preparing to blame each other if 1965 car model prices increase.

Along the way, agreements likely have been reached — as in the past — on some minor clauses such as those recognizing the United Auto Workers union as bargaining agent and specifying time and a half for work beyond 40 hours.

Working conditions, improvement of which the UAW has made its No. 1 goal for current negotiations, now have been taken up at both Ford and General Motors. They are due to come up shortly on the UAW-Chrysler agenda.

CONTRACT OFFERS

Ken Bannon, director of the UAW's Ford department, predicted Tuesday what newsmen have anticipated for some time: New contract offers from the Big Three about mid-August.

Current three-year pacts with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler expire August 31 and Bannon recalled that "historically an offer doesn't come until 12 to 14 days before expiration."

Up to now, five-week-old bargaining has centered primarily on union demands for wide-reaching economic gains, which include higher wages, bigger pensions, earlier retirement and larger supplemental unemployment benefits.

Working conditions were to come up again today at General Motors, as they did Monday there, and at Ford Tuesday.

TWO COFFEE BREAKS

The union is insisting on what amounts to two 10-minute coffee breaks in addition to the 12-minute personal relief periods afforded workers now on each eight hour shift, among other "improved working conditions."

At Ford Tuesday, M. M. (Mike) Cummins, Ford labor relations director, disclosed that the UAW had demanded additional work breaks for production personnel working at jobs other than those on the assembly line.

* * *

Heretofore the UAW has centered its demand for additional relief time on assembly line workers whom it claims are "tied to monotonous jobs where machines are the masters."

Cummings said the union indicated it wants maintenance and inspection employes, among others, afforded the new breaks it is aiming for.

The automakers have voiced strenuous objections to any relief time in excess of the two 12-minute personal relief periods. They have pointed out two 10-minute breaks, in which the UAW wants assembly lines shut down, would cost them 20 or more cars a day in production at one-a-minute plants.

Productivity per worker occupied a general bargaining session at General Motors. The UAW insists that the current 2.5 per cent annual improvement factor should be raised to at least 4.9 per cent.

The union contends that an annual productivity increase of 3.2 per cent estimated as the average for industry generally by the present President's Council of Economic Advisors falls short of the yearly gain in autos.

A long standing UAW demand that production workers be placed on an an annual salary, instead of an hourly wage, was a main topic of discussion at Chrysler - UAW negotiations Tuesday.

But Says Alaska Town Needs Touch of Youth

Resigning Manager Sees Potential in Quake-Struck Seward

(EDITOR'S NOTE — One Alaskan town struck by the March 27 earthquake is fighting hard to pull out of the shambles and realize its full potential. Robert Knox reports for NEA on the destruction and hope in Seward.)

By ROBERT G. KNOX

SEWARD, Alaska (NEA) — James W. Harrison, city manager of this seacoast railroad terminal town, has resigned his position to return to his home in Texas.

There is nothing unusual in a city manager leaving his post after several years of hard work, but Harrison has an unusual reason for leaving Seward.

It is connected to the March 27 earthquake and its hectic aftermath, and it points up the strain and toll inherent in managing the affairs of a small community ravaged by a great natural disaster.

When Harrison arrived here in 1960 Seward was torn by dissension. Rival political factions were at war and the town's economy was dragging.

During Harrison's years as manager, political wounds were healed, the city was spruced up and new industry was induced to come in.

The day before the earthquake struck, the sponsors of an annual, national contest announced that Seward was one of eleven U.S. cities selected on the basis of its progress for the 1964 All-America City award.

In a few hours, the quake, a series of seismic waves as high as 37 feet and resulting fires wiped out these years of progress.

Harrison was faced with the job of starting over again from scratch, and he felt his health wasn't equal to the immense task.

"What they need here is a younger man and," he said, "a man used to dealing with all of the federal agencies that are in the picture now."

NOT ONLY ONE

Harrison isn't the only Seward resident who has left since the quake.

The city's docks were destroyed by the quake and with them went the jobs of the longshoremen. To keep working — and to keep up their union retirement and pension benefits — many of the longshoremen departed for other West Coast ports.

But despite these losses, Seward is still very much alive. The town went ahead with a belated celebration of its All America City award in June, has hired a new city manager and is busy making plans for the future.

As in the other quake-struck communities, that future hinges on the results of soil studies.

FUTURE LOCATION

The studies will decide the future location of Seward's port facilities and railroad terminal yards. Until these decisions are made permanent reconstruction is on a slow bell.

Seward's economy has been tied directly to the railroad ever since the line was completed by the federal government in the 1920s to provide transportation to the inland cities of Anchorage and Fairbanks.

The lion's share of the town's income has always come from the railroad terminal yards and associated waterfront and warehousing activities.

The railroad sustained a heavy loss in the earthquake. Not only was the terminal at Seward wiped out, but the many miles of track linking the port with Anchorage and the rest of the main line were heaved and buckled.

BRIDGES DESTROYED

Dozens of small bridges were destroyed. A spur line running a short distance from Anchorage to the Army port of Whittier has been restored.

It may be another year before the line to Seward is back in pre-quake condition.

This calamity has had a drastic effect on the town's economy, but other activities are taking up some of the slack.

The recovery and reconstruction work has provided some payroll — and this payroll should grow larger.

STATE FERRY

The state ferry, Tustumena, will go into service later this year between the Kenai Peninsula and Kodiak Island. Seward will be one of the main ports of call.

Seward's magnificent scenery, always a major tourist attraction, and its excellent sports fishing and hunting, have not been hurt by the quake.

As highways get back into pre-quake shape these attractions may play a larger role than ever in the town's economy.

* * *

Like the other quake-hit communities Seward has not yet recovered. But its citizens are betting that it will be an All-America city again in the future.

NEEDS HELP

As Harrison put it: "The town has had a lot of help — and it's going to need a lot more. But the potential is here. It's not going to disappear, it's going to grow."

NEXT: A port city hungs on.

END OF TRACK — Alaska's earthquake left Seward's busy railroad yards in shambles, as well as destroying the major portion of the city's port facilities. But residents have begun the task of rebuilding, with vigor and hope for the future.

Marriage More Costly With Hike in Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The cost of getting married in Louisiana rose $1.50 at noon today.

A bill signed into law by Gov. John J. McKeithen Tuesday boosted the cost of a marriage license from $3.50 to $5. The increase was necessary because of the cost of handling paper work.

Ruby Lawyers Beat Clock, File 'Errors'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby's attorneys, working around the clock, beat the legal deadline by half an hour Tuesday as they formally lodged 15 allegations of error against the trial court in which Ruby received the death penalty.

The 15 formal bills of exception represent a key effort in the fight to save the former strip joint operator from the electric chair.

Ruby, 53, was sentenced to die for the slaying Nov. 24, 1963, of Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy. The trial was held in March.

Oswald was shot down before a national television audience in the Dallas City Hall as officers were transferring him to the county jail.

Defense lawyers now have 60 days in which to file the trial transcript and briefs with the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin.

Joe Tonahill of Jasper, one of the Ruby lawyers, said today the defense expects to present oral arguments to the appellate court by mid-October.

The errors alleged included little that had not been charged in April when attorneys asked for and were denied a new trial for Ruby.

About 400 pounds of newspapers were brought into the courtroom and physically attached to one bill of exception with a long blue ribbon.

Defense lewyers Phil Burleson and Emmett Colvin Jr. said the shoulder-high stack of papers would support their contention that the Ruby trial should have been moved away from Dallas because of widespread publicity.

Ruby stayed in his county jail cell during the proceedings. His sister, Eva Grant, was in the courthouse corridors as the documents were filed.

Can't Be in Wedding

Girl Must Learn Lesson

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is planning her wedding. She has asked her 18-year-old cousin to be a bridesmaid.

The problem is that this cousin has a 12-year-old sister who thinks she should be a bridesmaid, or have some special part in the wedding, so she can be in the wedding party, too.

She has even begged to be a flower girl (she is 5 feet seven!) but my daughter doesn't want her.

We aren't having any junior bridesmaids, so that's out. This little snip has always been jealous of her older sister and is extremely hard to handle.

Her mother (my sister) has me on the telephone 20 times a day telling me that we MUST fit this child into the wedding party as she is becoming unmanageable.

What do you suggest?

BRIDE'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I suggest that you tell your sister that the bride decides who shall be in the wedding party.

The 12-year-old girl needs to learn a very important lesson in life.

"We can't always have what we want."

Now would be as good a time as any to teach her.

DEAR ABBY: Here's a bit of information which doesn't amount to a "damn," but perhaps you can use it.

Your correspondent who claimed that the expression "Don't give a dam" was not improper because a "dam" was a small Indian coin, may have been right.

"But the origin of the "dam" used in that sense came from the old-time traveling "tinker," or fixit man.

When mending pots and pans, he used a small ridge of clay around the edge of the hole of the vessel to prevent the solder from running off the area for which it was intended.

The little clay ridge was called a "tinker's dam." After the hole had been mended it had no further use.

Hence the phrase. Best regards.

Look, Ma, no hair! Bibelot, a model for French designer, Jacques Esterel, shows his newest hairstyle—no hair at all—at an afternoon cocktail party in Paris this week. Asked how she felt after submitting to the Yul Brynner treatment, she said, "Cool." She wears a fur hat pulled well back on her head.

John D. Farnham—Sculptor in Metals

John D. Farnham, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Farnham of West Pike Street, is now exhibiting his newest sculpture pieces at the University of Wisconsin Kenosha Center.

* * *

Farnham has been a high school art teacher in Kenosha for three years and works on sculpture pieces all the way from those based purely on form, to the quite representational.

He works mainly in steel and other metals but has also done wood, stone carving, and bronze.

* * *

Scraps or doodles are his beginnings and he then works them into sculpture. Old automobile bumpers and rejected pieces from a chrome furniture factory are often found in his works.

* * *

His success and fame as an artist depend on how he combines his materials and changes their surfaces. He tries to achieve certain colors or qualities of rust and then strives to protect them with lacquer coverings.

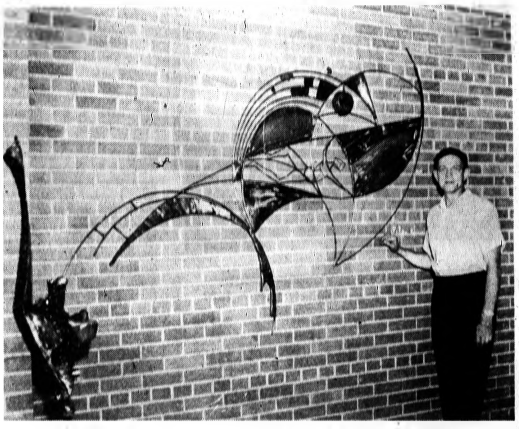

* * *

Farnham graduated from Pontiac Central High School and received his B.A. degree from Olivet College. He met his wife, Ruth, at U. of M. where he earned a master of design degree.

Before leaving Michigan, Farnham taught at Delta College in Saginaw and two schools in Midland.

* * *

Mrs. Farnham is a painter and she and her husband have displayed works together. The Farnhams have four children: Dru, 12; Thad, 10; Stuart, 8; and Lucia, 5 (named for her grandfather).

"Is is Jonah?" "No, it's a fish," said neighborhood children when sculptor John Farnham hung this work on a fence outside his home. This is one of the many pieces that Farnham has created within the past year for a show which is now being presented at the University of Wisconsin Kenosha Center. Besides sculpture, he also has several of his sketches on display. Farnham, before becoming a teacher in the Kenosha school system, was a resident of Pontiac.

Visitors From New York for Elmer Sylvesters

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

It was a special occasion when mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, Mrs. Alfred Wagner of Rochester, N.Y. recently arrived by plane for a weekend with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sylvester of Snowshoe Circle. Mrs. Wagner was accompanied by another son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Harcourt M. Sylvester also of Rochester.

* * *

This was the time for a family reunion celebration. The Frank K. Littles with their children MaryBeth and Jonathan came from Columbus, Ohio to greet Mrs. Little's grandmother.

* * *

The William T. Beresfords with their children Peter, Bonnie, Chris and Andy, were also present to welcome Mrs. Beresford's grandmother.

* * *

CAMPING TRIP

Back home from a month's camping trip are Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Fox and their four children. They toured Colorado, the Grand Tetons, Glacier National Park, Banff and Lake Louise.

* * *

Mrs. Fox' mother, Mrs. Leslie D. Stauffer has returned from several days at Wabigama, Elk Lake where she was the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. Lester Dingstedt.

* * *

Christie and Laurie Stouffer of Atlanta, Ga. came to travel with their grandmother, Mrs. Stauffer to spend part of the summer with their grandparents, the Dragstedts at Elk Lake.

DINNER PARTY

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Torgerson of Burning Bush Drive gave a recent dinner party honoring her godfather, H. M. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, who visited here for a few days en route to their home in Pinehurst, N. C.

* * *

The Taylors, as well as Mrs. M. M. Burgess, had spent some time at the Colonial Inn in Harbor Beach and returned together to Bloomfield Hills.

* * *

Mrs. Burgess was dinner hostess, honoring the Taylors and the George W. Walkers of Delray Beach, Fla. (formerly Bloomfield Hills) who have taken an apartment at the Burlington Arms for the summer.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Woodhouse are returning to their home after spending the month of July at Crystal Lake. With them, has been their daughter, Mrs. William E. Lang. Mr. Lang commuted over week-ends.

Personals

Recent visitors in the home of Mrs. Robert Tarr on West Iroquois Road were her son James and his family from Urbana, Ill. While in Pontiac, the Tarrs and their four children, Stuart, Douglas, Kevin, and Julie, also visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chancy, parents of the younger Mrs. Tarr.

Presently at Mrs. Robert Tarr's home are her other son and his wife, the David Tarrs from Silver Spring, Md. The Hugh Smiths of Chadwick Drive will also be visited by their daughter and son-in-law while they are here.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Myers and son Gale of Worcester, Mass. are vacationing in the Mohawk Road home of Mrs. Myers' sister, Mrs. Harry J. Richards.

* * *

Recent guests at the summer home of Mrs. Henry Loper on Hammond Bay were Mrs. Oscar Lundbeck, Mrs. L. F. Hire and Mrs. C. W. Doerr.

Engagement Told

The Paul T. Pestermans of South Boulevard, Avon Township, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Norma June to Pvt. Donald F. Ashbaugh, son of the Edgar Ashbaughs of Susin Lane, Springfield Township. Her fiance is stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

Hello, Kimberly

A daughter, Kimberly Ann was born July 27 to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Bishop (Diane Harris) of Birmingham. Grand parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Harris, Lancaster Road Bloomfield Township and the Fletcher J. Bishops of Barrington Road.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice: All my friends sew and I, too, would like to, but sewing makes me nervous. Have you got the answer to this?

Mrs. R.R.

* * *

Everywhere I go, whenever the subject of sewing comes up, this is the first thing I always hear. That's why I am devoting part of my today's column to it. My answer is as simple as this: You need the know-how to give you confidence as well as the desire.

Sewing is an art, and as any other subject, requires a basic knowledge or foundation to begin with, in other words, you must learn to walk before you can run.

* * *

Begin with a simple pattern, don't be afraid or dread to rip. This is part of sewing, (yes, I have to rip many times too). Take any adult education courses you can find and read all the sewing information available.

You can never learn too much. I am learning new techniques every day and happily pass them on to you.

Always remember that sewing requires endless patience and time, but the rewards of a successful garment can do more for you and your ego than anything imaginable. I always remind my students that everything that is worn by anyone, at any price, has been made by someone — why not you!

Mrs. F.M. says: In a recent column of yours, a woman asked about adding an under-bodice to a skirt. This trick worked beautifully. We bought a slip and cut off the bodice, attached it to the skirt and used a side zipper.

A center back opening could also be used with a neckline zipper. Don't waste the lower half of the slip. Turn a casing, insert elastic, and you have a new half-slip.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

"Please don't have your readers use talcum powder on plastic when sewing unless they want to keep the repairman busy. I worked in a factory making plastic garments and we put a few drops of sewing machine oil on a soft cloth. Rub it lightly over the plastic as you are sewing and it will never stick, nor injure your machine."

Mrs. Ruth Bolt, San Diego, Calif., is this week's winner of a Tailor Trix Pressing Board.

Dear Eunice: Just what is the "secret" of gussets?

Mrs. H. C.

* * *

The secret of gussets is to avoid taking one stitch too many, which will cause the gusset to pucker, and to avoid stopping short of the last stitch, which would form a hole.

Since you will find gusset-type detail on godets, inserts, and almost any kind of pattern you work with today, I think you will find my detailed leaflet "The Secret of Gussets" invaluable.

Send a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope with 10 cents to Sew Simple care of The Pontiac Press for your copy.

Dear Eunice Farmer: I have just bought a dress form and know nothing about using one. Do you adjust the form to your exact measurements or the way you want your dress to fit when it is finished?

Mrs. I. B.

If you buy the kind that looks like wire mesh, it must be pressed closely to your body, for your exact measurement. Someone will have to fit this for you.

The standard-type dress forms will never fit exactly as your own body because you cannot attain the same curves even though you may come close to the same measurements.

The fact that your body is not rigid, which makes it possible to slip into a dress by moving shoulders, etc., you must remember that a dress form is rigid, and for this reason, it is impossible to do fitting unless you leave the shoulder and underarm open.

* * *

I personally feel that the most successful method of fitting, is to learn to adjust the pattern to your own measurements and by trial and error, learn to fit yourself.

Mrs. J. W. gives us this terrific suggestion. She is knitting matching sweaters for her son and daughter. Her girl is the older, so she decided to use a zipper closing for the cardigan, instead of buttons. In this way, her son can grow into it beautifully without looking like "sister's" sweaters.

Home Arts Exhibit Will Be Great!

With a record number of entries predicted, the Home Arts exhibits at the 115th annual Michigan State Fair promise to be the best in history.

The State Fair opens Aug. 28 and runs through Sept. 7. The entry deadline for Home Arts exhibits is July 31.

* * *

This year the Home Arts Department has a new director, Mrs. Pauline Harris, of Detroit, and will be housed in the new $600,000 Home Arts Building, complete except for the auditorium section.

WOOL CONTEST

Again this year, the popular National Wool Needlework Contest will be a part of the Home Arts show, with winners going on to participation in the nationwide contest.

* * *

The 21 sections run from afghans to rugs, place mats to wall hangings . . . just about anything that can be made from wool.

* * *

Sweepstakes prizes given by a number of companies will be continued in such fields as knitting, canning, weaving, cooking, quilting and flower arranging.

* * *

Special awards will go to veterans and other convalescents in Michigan hospitals.

Memorial awards will include one given by Mrs. Harris for her father, Samuel McKinney, in the convalescent and veterans class; and one given by Wilma Lundberg for her mother, Constance Johnson, in hand weaving.

TRADITIONAL

There will, of course, be the traditional classes in baking, candy making, canning and preserving, needlecraft, flower arranging, and creative ceramics.

Junior awards also will be given in various classes.

Old Shaving Brush Is Bathtub Toy

Young children like plenty of time to play when taking a bath.

You'll be able to convince your youngster to get clean as well as have fun if you give him an old shaving brush and let him put the soap suds on with the brush. All you will have to do is rinse him off.

HEWETT-NULL

Rose Arlene Null, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Null of Goshen, Ind. and John Lovelace Hewett, were wed Sunday afternoon in the New Paris United Missionary Church in Goshen. White silk organza and Chantilly lace fashioned the bride's gown and chapel train worn with organza veil. Her attendants were Marilyn Gerber, Farmington; Shirley Null, Mrs. Gary Candelaria and Judy Post. With the bridegroom, son of the Burten Hewetts of Cameron Avenue were Theodore Parker, best man. Ushers were LaMar and Robert Null, David Murphy, Charles Perkins and Gary Candelario.

Should She Be Sent Invitation?

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My daughter is going to be married in six weeks. A friend is sailing for Europe two days before the wedding and will, of course, not be able to be present.

Should we send her an invitation anyway?

* *

A: An invitation should be sent to her.

Q: I have no maid and my husband carves the meat at the table. Each place at table is set with a dinner plate.

I would like to know how the meat is put on these plates? Does each guest pass his, or her plate to him?

This seems rather awkward to me.

* * *

A: Instead of setting your table with a dinner plate at each place, put them in a pile in front of your husband who puts a slice of meat on each plate and then passes it to a guest — starting with the lady on his right.

Q: The son of friends is going into the service the end of next month. His parents are giving a party for him before he leaves and my husband and I have been invited. Does this call for a gift?

* *

A: No gift is necessary.

The clothes of the bride's and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception."

MRS. K. R. MANCOUR

Newlyweds to Reside in Milford

White gladioli and chrysanthemums banked the altar in St. Patrick's Church, Union Lake, for the recent vows of Barbara Elizabeth Eaton to Kirk Robert Mancour.

* * *

Her parents, the Charles M. Eatons were hosts at the wedding breakfast in their home on Duck Lake Road, Highland Township, following the ceremony performed by Rev. Walter E. Burke.

CATHEDRAL TRAIN

Styled with cathedral train and softly molded bodice, the bride's gown was appliqued with pearls and sequins matching the tiara attached to her short illusion veil.

* * *

She carried cascading white chrysanthemums, miniature yellow roses and her father's gift rosary.

* * *

Attending their sister were honor matron, Mrs. James Funni of Farmington and Sheila Kay Eaton, junior bridesmaid. Sylvia Rose Cholo, White Lake Township and Mrs. Terence Eaton of Wixom were bridesmaids.

* * *

James R. Funni performed the duties of best man for the son of the Morris W. Mancours of Milford. James Price and John Huertebise of Milford seated the guests along with Patrick J. Lewton of Duluth, Minn., junior usher.

EVENING RECEPTION

The couple left for northern Michigan and Niagara Falls after an evening reception in Hi-Land Manor. They will live in Milford.

Launder Curtains

Delicate curtains can be laundered in a washing machine if you tie them in a pillow case.

Soapsuds Combat Dust, Ease a Trip

The conviction that soap can "do anything" gets a boost from dramatically different roles it played in recent newsworthy events.

Soapsuds spray is being used to combat hazardous coal dust in Pennsylvania mines—and may replace the cumbersome, dust collecting equipment now in general use.

Turning from industry to art, soap smoothed the journey of the treasured Pieta by Michelangelo from Vatican City to the New York World's Fair.

The statue was slid along a runway of soaped planks from its pedestal onto the packing platform.

MRS. H. C. HANSEN JR.

Popular Cabbage

Cabbage is grown in 34 states, the Western Growers Association reports.

Highland Girl Weds

Barbara Lowe, daughter of the Theodore M. Lowes of Highland, became Mrs. Henry C. Hansen Jr. recently in St. Patrick's Church, Union Lake.

The Thad J. Lowes were hosts at their niece's wedding luncheon in the CAI Building, following the ceremony performed by Rev. Lewis M. Ellis.

* * *

Highlighting the bridal gown of white silk organza over taffeta were a bodice, tiered skirt and chapel train of Chantilly lace.

PEARL TIARA

A pearl tiara cradling her lace-bordered illusion veil and a bouquet of Stephanotis and carnations completed the bride's ensemble.

With Margaret Lowe, her sister's maid of honor, were bridesmaids, Margaret Drake and Janne Eskola. Julie Kant was flower-girl.

* * *

Wallace Hansen was best man for his brother. Their parents are the senior Hansens of Dearborn. Donald Magnuson, Fred Crowley and Theodore Lowe, ushered.

* *

After the evening reception in the CAI Building, the couple left for a northern honeymoon. They are both graduates of Michigan State University and will reside in Flint.

Gov. Faubus Sweeps Primary for Bid to Sixth Term

EASY VICTORY — Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus (seated left) won a landslide victory in the Democratic primary yesterday. He secured the nomination to a sixth term and will meet Republican Winthrop Rockefeller in November. Appearing at rear is campaign manager J. L. Bland; at right, State Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney; and Faubus' wife. AP Photofax

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus won an easy, six-term nomination in Tuesday's Arkansas Democratic primary and moved immediately to unite his party for a fall campaign against Republican Winthrop Rockefeller.

* * *

Calling his three primary opponents "fine men" in a victory statement, Faubus said he would need help from their supporters in his race against the "millionaire candidate."

* * *

Rockefeller spent the evening of the election organizing his support in northeast Arkansas. He said Faubus' victory proved what he had said all along — that Faubus controls Arkansas.

With 2,252 of the state's 2,325 precincts reporting, The Associated Press count showed Faubus 238,804; Odell Dorsey, 66,272; Joe Hubbard, 37,445; and R. D. Burrow, 16,042.

POLITICAL UNKNOWNS

Dorsey, Hubbard and Burrow were political unknowns. Only Dorsey had enough financing to open a statewide headquarters and conduct a regular campaign.

* * *

Veteran Reps. E. C. Gathings and Oren Harris won renomination and reelection, since they have no Republican opponents.

* * *

Gathings piled up a 10 to 1 margin over Florence Clay, a Negro funeral home operator, in the 1st District. Harris got a scare from Dean Murphy, the politically inexperienced owner of a truck stop, before pulling to victory in the 4th District.

* * *

Returns from 284 of 322 precincts in the 1st District gave Gathings 42,435 votes, Mrs. Clay 4,561.

* * *

The count in 778 of 786 precincts in the 4th District showed Harris with 77,004, Murphy with 53,775.

GOP PRIMARY

In a Republican primary in the 3rd District, Jerry Hinshaw, a poultry firm executive from Springdale, defeated Hal Cochran of Fort Smith for the right to oppose Rep. J. W. Trimble, Democrats in November.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, had no opposition in the 2nd District.

* * *

Democratic nomination has meant election in Arkansas for almost a century, but Rockefeller has put the Republican party back in business with a four-year campaign to build it from the grass-roots level.

* * *

For the first time the Republicans have a candidate, financing and an organization to make a real race for the governor's chair.

* * *

Rockefeller is the brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and grandson of John D. Rockefeller. He moved to Arkansas in 1953 and quickly became a business and civic leader. Faubus appointed him chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission. The agency scouted up 90,000 industrial jobs in the state in 10 years.

Astronaut Carpenter Gets Hospital Release

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Astronaut M. Scott Carpenter has been released from a hospital but he'll have to spend a week at his Houston home before going back to work at the manned spacecraft center.

Carpenter's left arm was broken two weeks ago in a motorbike accident in Bermuda. He also suffered a severe bruise on his left knee and broke a toe on his left foot.

Escaped Reds Ask Asylum

2 Soldiers Defected From East Germany

HEIDELBERG, Germany (UPI) — Two Russian soldiers who defected to the West from East Germany have asked for political asylum, the U. S. Army announced today.

The two Russians fled over the Communist-barricaded border to West German Bavaria near Neustadt on the Saale River last Friday at 2 a.m.

They were unarmed except for knives, but wore their Red Army battle dress.

"The Soviet soldiers are now in American control," a spokesman at U.S. Army European headquarters here said. "American authorities have received their request for asylum."

The Army announcement was the first official confirmation of a Bavarian border police report Monday that two Russian soldiers had fled across the iron curtain frontier.

STOP SOLDIERS

Bavarian villagers first stopped the two soldiers, summoned the regional border police who held the defectors until U.S. Army officers arrived on the scene.

The Russians are now in the custody of American military intelligence at a secret camp in West Germany, informed sources said. It was assumed they were being closely questioned.

The Army announcement withheld the Russians' identities and the circumstances and reasons for their defection.

"We have no further information for release," the spokesman said.

Mayors Have Task in Youth Corps Bill

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz has urged the nation's mayors to take the initiative in forming home town youth corps which would be authorized by the antipoverty bill before Congress.

He told the annual American Municipal Association convention Tuesday that 90 days after passage of the bill, the federal government would be ready to help enlist 150,000 unemployed boys and girls between 16 and 21 in such corps for job training and placement. He placed the number of unemployed persons in that age bracket at 1,200,000.

"The next move is up to you," Wirtz told 800 municipal leaders.

He said every local dollar spent on a youth corps would be matched by nine federal dollars.

Destroyer Is Renamed for 'Mix-Crew' Pioneer

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The guided missile destroyer Biddle, selected earlier this year for test use of a multinational crew, has been renamed after a pioneer of the mixed crew concept.

She was renamed the USS Claude V. Ricketts Tuesday in honor of the late chief of naval operations.

It's a Feather in Their Cap

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — U.S. customs agents got into the chicken business Tuesday when they seized 20,000 baby chicks which were being exported illegally from the United States to Mexico.

The agents also confiscated a 1950 two-ton truck.

Monty R. Blackwell, customs agent, estimated the chicks were worth $4,000 and said they may be sold at public auction.

Dean's Aide Gets Post

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Dr. Leland E. Traywick, 49, assistant dean of Michigan State University's College of Business and Public Service from 1947 to to 1960, Tuesday was named eighth president of the Municipal University of Omaha.

Youth Drowns in Lake

HOUGHTON LAKE (AP) — James Farmer, 15, of Houghton Lake drowned Tuesday while swimming alongside a boat in Houghton Lake. His body was not immediately recovered.

State's Governors Disagree on Executive Mansion Functions

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's governors, past and present, have widely differing opinions on what kind of an official governor's mansion the state should build.

* * *

Former Gov. John Swainson thinks it should be a building suitable for any kind of an official function and should house the executive offices in addition to living quarters.

* * *

His immediate predecessor, ex-Gov. G. Mennen Williams, believes it should be a combined family and official residence with enough room for children and also enough for legislative receptions.

Recalling that other state chief executives he met during 1961 complained their mansions gave them little privacy, former Gov. Murray Van Wagoner says he's not sure one is necessary.

COMBINED USE

Gov. George W. Romney believes the state should build a mansion for combined family and official use but that the executive offices should remain at the capitol.

* * *

Opinions of the governors solicited by Sen. Elmer Porter, R-Bilasfield, chairman of a legislative interim committee studying the subject of an official residence.

REPORT TO LEGISLATURE

The views of the chief executives along with other data such as location, and availability, costs and design will be incorporated in a report to the 1965 legislature.

* * *

Michigan is one of nine states without an executive residence in the capital city. The new constitution directs that one be built.

* * *

In its first meeting Tuesday, Porter's committee agreed to study maps of Lansing, showing location and present use of state land that might be used for the mansion, and meet again Aug. 19.

* * *

Porter said the committee should also decide whether a tour of other states, to "look for ideas" in other governor's mansions, would be part of the study. The legislature provided $10,000 for the committee's work.

MORE SPACE

Swainson, in his letter to Porter, proposed that the executive offices be located at the mansion to provide more space in the capitol for the legislature, and said it should have space for the governor's staff and dining facilities for 300 persons.

Several committee members indicated they did not like Swainson's idea, however, saying it sounded like a "little White House."

* * *

"I wouldn't go for a White House type of thing unless it was right across the street from the capitol," said Rep. William Thorne, D-Dearborn.

"If I want to see the governor, I don't want to have to walk half a mile."

IN AN ARCHWAY

Porter said he'd obtained Romney's views during talks with the governor and said at one point Romney had proposed the governor's residence be located in an archway over the street between the proposed new State Supreme Court building and state library.

* * *

"I don't know if he was serious about it or not," said Porter.

* * *

One point on which committee members indicated agreement was that the mansion should be located near the capitol, preferably within walking distance.

* * *

They also agreed that its main function ought to be that of a residence for the governor, his family and whatever servants not a place for tourists to and other aides he needed, but tramp through.

Rights Workers End Merchant Boycott

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A 14-month selective buying campaign against downtown Jackson merchants — during which 23 businesses closed — was over today.

* * *

The Jackson movement, composed of civil rights groups who advocate putting an economic pinch on white merchants to win rights for Negroes, voted Tuesday night after a heated debate to end the boycott.

* * *

Several opponents said there was still no promise that the merchants would agree to hire Negroes above the "broom and mop" level.

Strategists of the movement promised they would continue to press Negro demands for better jobs and courteous treatment.

'DIFFERENT PHASE'

The Rev. R. L. T. Smith, movement president, said passage of the Civil Rights Act had put the Negro in a different "phase of the struggle."

"We have not backed up one inch. We must now adjust our tactics."

* * *

He urged the audience to "resume shopping in the downtown sector and claim that which is rightfully ours. The future is in the hands of the merchants."

Slain Negro civil rights leader Medgar Evers was one of the spearheads of the economic boycott. He said in its early days, "We will not return to Capitol Street until Negroes have decent jobs and are treated decently."

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMALS

QUESTION: Most leopards are yellow with black spots — but why are some leopards pure black?

* * *

ANSWER: Think of dogs, and you will realize that there are white dogs, black dogs, spotted dogs as well as many other color arrangements.

The darker ones are caused by the presence of dark pigment melanin which makes him look entirely black — a ment. When all the pigment is missing, we have what are called albinos, and these pure white varieties occur among almost all animals.

The black and spotted leopards are color variations of the same animal. The black leopard has a great deal of the dark pigment melnin which makes him look entirely black — a condition called melanism.

Nature seems to be always experimenting with her creatures, so every once in a while a leopard is found without any pigment. He will be as fierce and savage as the others, but perfectly snow white.

Think, however, how such a beast would stand out against the dark green of the jungle, finding it difficult to sneak up on his prey. In contrast, the black leopard's coat helps him to merge into the jungle shadows.

This seems a successful color variation, for black leopards are fairly common in the jungles of the Malay Peninsula and in southwest China.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: With crayon or water color, run a deep, dark jungle blue green over the part of the picture the black leopard is in and see how he sinks back into the jungle.

'Fight' Starts Over Northern Beach

California Battle---Parks vs. Highways

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A primeval beach and nearby redwood trees which were living before Christ have touched off a rebellion among state park officials against California's powerful freeway builders.

Tossing protocol aside, members of the State Park Commission and other state officials have publicly criticized the California Highway Commission and demanded a limit on its power to condemn park land for freeways.

* * *

"We have almost established in modern life a divine attitude toward the automobile," said Charles A. DeTurk, director of the State Department of Parks and Recreation.

He says Prairie Creek Redwoods State Park, on the Northern California coast, is threatened by a proposal by highway engineers to build a freeway through it.

"We love redwoods as well as they do, or better," replied Robert A. Bradford, administrator of the Highway Transportation Agency and chairman of the Highway Commission.

The 1965 legislature likely will be asked to settle the fight.

* * *

The battleground is about 300 miles north of San Francisco along a narrow, two-lane road through the redwood forests. Officially known as U.S. 101, it's famed throughout the world as the redwood highway.

The highway also is the lifeline of California's north coastal area. Every day, it is jammed with big trucks carrying newly cut timber to big cities and bringing food, clothing and other supplies to small communities.

SORE NECKS

At Prairie Creek, the two-lane road cuts through a forest with trees so tall that tourists have developed sore necks from looking at them.

The State Park Commission, admitting the need for widening the road, opposes two of three alternates being considered by the Division of Highways.

One would follow the present 101, and would mean destruction of some of the park's most popular redwood groves. Another would slice across Gold Bluff Beach and, park officials say, ruin one of the nation's last undeveloped beaches and destroy a memorial redwood grove.

Park men back a third alternative, on a rugged ridge seven miles east of the beach. It, too, would mean the loss of redwoods, but the park commission contends the beach, soon to be acquired by the state, should be left unspoiled.

News From Washington

Sen. Humphrey Delays 'Freedom of Information' Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey has delayed — at least temporarily — a "freedom of information" bill designed to make it easier for newsmen to challenge government agencies which refuse to give out information.

Humphrey entered a motion for reconsideration of the measure, shortly after the Senate passed it Tuesday by voice vote. The Minnesota Democrat said several senators had told him there should be some discussion on the measure.

* * *

Similar legislation has been pending before the House Judiciary Committee for more than a year.

Jointly sponsored by Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the legislation would permit federal court suits to challenge the withholding of information and would put the burden of proof on the agencies to defend their refusal to give out information.

* * *

The bill would also require an agency's public information policies to be published and made available to the public.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Authority for the Treasury to mint 45 million new silver dollars is included in an appropriations bill which received final congressional approval Tuesday.

The measure provides $6,253,273,000 to operate the Treasury and Post Office departments, the executive office of the President and some independent agencies.

* * *

It was passed after House conferees agreed to a Senate amendment sponsored by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, which provides $400,000 to mint the new cartwheels at the Denver mint.

This was a victory for Western senators and representatives from Western states where the shortage of the coins has become a hot political issue.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., says the recent increases in the national debt and the annual deficit result solely from increased federal spending recommended by President Johnson's administration.

"This administration, despite its economy propaganda, is spending federal funds faster by $2 million a day than President Kennedy, faster by $50 million a day than President Eisenhower," Ford said in a statement to constituents.

* * *

The federal government, Ford said, closed its books for the fiscal year on June 30 and "some in the White House spoke as though Uncle Sam's finances for the previous 12 months had been all to the good. The facts are there was a deficit of $8.3 billion."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting Office said Tuesday that bad administration of the Army's allotment system is costing the government about $2 million a year in erroneous payments.

* * *

At least $340,000 of this amount is never recovered from the servicemen who get the erroneous payments, the congressional agency added.

* * *

The most common error, it reported, is the failure to make proper deductions for U.S. savings bonds, government life insurance and support of dependents on allotment requests.

The GAO said mistakes occur primarily because Army personnel and finance workers are not properly trained, do not remain on the job long enough to learn it properly, have to perform other military duties and "do not exercise the proper degree of care in their work."

Trading Continues Sluggish

Stock Market Inches Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market inched higher early Wednesday afternoon following seven straight sessions in which more stocks declined than advanced. Trading continued sluggish.

The foundation for the rise was apparent in Tuesday's losing session when selling pressure was lifting and stocks showed increasing resistance to further retreat.

The recovery—a mild one—seemed purely technical, based on buying of a variety of issues which have been easing backward on profit taking and now appeared within desirable range to traders and investors.

Selected chemicals, motors steels, aerospace issues, rails, office equipments, utilities and airlines were among the favored issues.

GAINS TRIFLING

Most gains were trifling, however, and the few advances of a point or more were mainly among the higher-priced stocks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 318.1 with industrials up .9, rails up .1 and utilities unchanged.

U.S. Steel added a fraction following its half-yearly report on finances and operations. The trend among other major steels was unevenly higher.

Prices were mostly higher in quiet trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Up a point or better were Rollins Broadcasting, Webb & Knapp preferred, Anelex and Paddington "A."

Corporate and U.S. Government bonds were generally lower. Trading was quiet.

High Winds Damage Park

Cut Lengthy Swath Near Rogers City

ROGERS CITY (AP) — High winds, accompanied by heavy rain and gusting up to 80 miles per hour, cut a swath 200 yards wide and 800 yards long through P. H. Hoeft State Park five miles northeast of Rogers City Tuesday.

State police at Cheboygan said one man suffered a minor head wound when struck by a branch and an Ohio family narrowly escaped injury when a tree fell on their car moments after they left it to save camping equipment.

More than 100 trees were felled by the winds, stirred up by what State Police termed a "baby twister." Police said the tornado did not touch down.

Police and park officials estimated damage at upwards of $5,000 to car, tents, trailers and camping equipment. About 100 persons were camping in the park when the storm struck.

SUPERIOR CLEANUP

State police from Cheboygan and Alpena and sheriff's deputies from Presque Isle County helped supervise cleanup operations.

Ralph Pringle of (21080 E. Fourth) Royal Oak was treated at the scene for a scalp wound.

Troopers said the unidentified Ohio family arrived at the park just before the storm, loaded their camping equipment onto a picnic table and tied a tarpaulin over it when they saw the storm coming.

"They got into the car," an officer said. "Then, when the wind started to lift the tarp, they all got out to hold it down. A tree fell on their car right after they got out."

Tree and television antennas were downed at nearby Rogers City, but no serious damage was reported, police said.

Soybeans Muster Additional Firmness

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybean futures mustered a little additional firmness today in early transactions on the Board of Trade but the grains remained almost stationary in slow dealings.

The market had become a little firmer generally near the end of the first hour with wheat ⅛ to ½ cent a bushel higher, September new grade $1.41¼. Corn was ⅛ to ¼ higher, September $1.17⅝; oats ⅜ to ⅝ higher, September 62⅝ cents; rye ⅛ to ⅛ higher, September $1.23¾; soybeans ⅛ lower to ¾ higher, August $2.47¼.

Local Branch to Carry On

License Office Funds Cut

The Secretary of State's Pontiac branch office at 94 E. Huron will continue operating despite the State Civil Service Commission's refusal to pay $10,900 in fees to 34 fee branch managers in nine major cities yesterday.

The commission created a cause for a test court case in refusing payments to license plate fee branch operations in Pontiac, Detroit, Lansing, Saginaw, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Flint, Bay City and Muskegon.

Under the fee system, managers have been paid periodic fees by the state. The managers own or rent office space and equipment, operate and staff branch offices.

"I imagine someone will take this to court," commented Willis M. Brewer, Pontiac branch manager. "I plan to keep operating the local branch until some legal ruling is made on the fee payments."

* * *

The Civil Service Commission has held that the offices should be staffed by merit workers under its control. Brewer would be over the age limit to qualify for a civil service job.

COST MORE

Brewer has contended that this would cost the state more and inconvenience the public and automobile dealers in that civil service offices couldn't be open Saturdays, as can fee offices.

Secretary of State James Hare had contended the managers should be given civil service tests and a chance for tenure although the offices should remain under the fee system.

The commission told Hare last December it would no longer approve fee payments to managers of the 34 offices affected after July 1.

* * *

The commission said it felt the operation of fee branch offices in populous areas that could support a full-time state office was in violation of the state constitution.

NO PROVISION

The 1964 legislature upset this contention, however, by allowing $1.3 million for payments to fee branch managers without making any provision for the funds to be transferred to pay classified employes.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley told Hare he should follow the intent of the legislature.

State Controller Glenn Allen Jr. said he would ask Kelley for a ruling on whether he should make the payments to the fee branch managers, despite commission disapproval.

* * *

Leon Cahan, deputy attorney general, said the office would continue to follow the legislative intent and advise Allen to make the payments.

A Civil Service Commission aide said the next step would be a legal challenge of such payments, the form to be decided at the Aug. 10-11 commission meeting.

Public to Aid Plank Forming

Delegates Also Assist in County GOP Work

Republican precinct delegate candidates and the general public will participate in forming proposals for the state party platform, GOP County Chairman Charles L. Lyle said today.

* * *

Lyle described this as creating eight platform subcommittees, meeting between Aug. 7 and 15, to work on the separate planks of the Oakland County Republican Party platform.

State and local issues to be incorporated are finance and taxation, education, health and welfare, civil rights, labor legislation, political affairs, county home rule and county issues.

On Aug. 20, Lyle said subcommittee chairman will in turn meet with the full Rules and Resolutions Committee, headed by Walter O. Briggs III of Birmingham to draft the county platform.

* * *

This will be aired in an open public hearing on Aug. 22 before being presented at the party county convention on Sept. 12. Next step will be to forward it to the state platform committee.

AD COMMITTEE

Lyle also announced formation of a new advertising committee for the county party organization. It will assist area candidates in the fall campaign.

Members are Chairman Bartram D. Lewis, Pleasant Ridge. Robert D. Schiller, Birmingham, co-chairman; L. James Schneider, Birmingham; Richard B. deSpelder and Donald W. Walton, both of Bloomfield Hills.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "My husband and I have two separate savings accounts of $3,400 each for helping the higher education of our grandchildren. We have been considering withdrawing $1,500 from each account to buy two growth stocks. Would you suggest doing this? If so, give us the names of stocks to purchase. Are the shares purchased in the children's name, or do we act as Trustees, as with the savings accounts?" W. F.

A) Your idea is excellent, since money in the bank is fixed as to principal whereas a good growth stock can enhance your capital over a period of years.

For your purpose, I suggest Sears, Roebuck as the world's greatest merchandiser and Texaco, the nation's best oil marketer.

Stocks purchased for minors in your state are registered in your name as "Custodian" under the "Uniform Gifts to Minors Act."

* * *

Q) "I bought 200 Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea at 66 per share and have now bought 200 more at 41 to average down my cost. Could you give me your opinion about this stock?" M. B.

A) A & P is still about twice as big in volume as its nearest competitor, Safeway Stores. However, since the death of the Hartford brothers, the company has seemed unable to come up with a strong management team.

After remaining on a plateau for three years, share earnings declined in 1963, and the company estimates another decline of 18 per cent for the first fiscal quarter ended May 31.

The company has problems that may take considerable time to resolve.

Unless you need the relatively higher yield, I would switch to Winn-Dixie Stores, which has increased both earnings and dividends in every year of the past decade.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Burglars Net $225 From Dan's Market

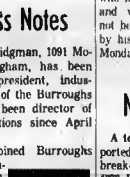

Dan's Market, 356 Oakland Ave., was burglarized of $225 in merchandise yesterday sometime between 12:30 a.m. and 8:15 a.m.

The theft was reported by Dan Varon, owner of the market.

The thieves apparently entered the building by prying a steel mesh screen from a bathroom window at the rear of the store.

Business Notes

James M. Bridgman, 1091 Mohegan, Birmingham, has been named vice president, industrial relations, of the Burroughs Corp. He has been director of industrial relations since April 1963.

BRIDGMAN

Bridgman joined Burroughs at the company's Pennsylvania research laboratories in 1955. He was transferred to the corporate industrial relations division in Detroit in 1959.

Before joining Burroughs he was associated with Atlantic Refining Co. and Remington Rand Division. He attended Temple University, University of Florida and holds a B.S. degree from Lehigh University.

O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach Associates of Birmingham have been appointed architects for a multimillion-dollar building program at Western Michigan University.

The program will begin with construction of a $3-million classroom building and a 5,000-seat auditorium on 300 acres west of the present campus.

STILL REMAINING — The cement block bearing the name "Jacobs" is located on Williams Street, between the addresses 14 and 30. The family home was torn down in 1940 but the Jacobs family owned and lived on the property from the 1860's to the 1900's. The block was used as a carriage step to give ladies assistance in climbing into carriages and buggies in the old days.

Stepping Stone Is Key to Memories of Pontiac

Beneath a no parking sign on Williams Street just south of Huron is a stone slab about three feet long and one foot high. It says "Jacobs" on it.

* * *

Behind it is a well-kept, but empty lot.

* * *

What used to be there? Who is Jacobs? What happened?

The property behind the carriage block — a device left over from the horse and buggy days — now belongs to Harold Ward of 142 Ottawa. But who was there first?

Goodman Jacobs, one of the organizers of the First Commercial Bank, bought the property in the 1860s, ten years after he moved to the area.

* * *

Goodman married a daughter of James Holden, one of the pioneer citizens of Oakland County while he was living in California. She had accompanied her sister to California and it was there she met and married Goodman.

BOUGHT PROPERTY

Sometime soon after returning he bought the property on Williams Street and built a white frame house there.

Goodman had two sons, Frank G. and Harry L. Frank became treasurer of the First Commercial Bank and Harry was manager of the Union Buggy Company.

* * *

In 1886, Frank purchased a lot on Franklin Blvd. from Henry Ward, who is the present owner's uncle. Later that year Frank married Jenny Saterlee. The ceremony was held in Frank's newly completed home.

* * *

This house, numbered 99, is still standing but has been converted into apartments.

MOVED RESIDENCE

Harry moved to a residence on Orchard Lake.

Goodman Jacobs, whose last name appears on the carriage block died in 1903, leaving his real and personal estate to be divided between his two sons.

From that time on, no member of the immediate family lived in the house. The house next door to the Jacobs was occupied by the Robert G. Kneale family. They also owned the Jacob property after Goodman's death.

* * *

The house was rented out, a room at a time, and was finally converted into two apartments.

BELOW COSTS

But the rent from the apartments never met the costs of keeping it up.

In 1940 the home was torn down. But the carriage block still remains to stir memories of another day.

In the days of carriages and buggies, ladies in their long dresses would not make the two-foot step into the carriage without assistance. Carriage blocks gave them the needed boost.

* * *

Along with telling the name of a family, the carriage step shows much more. Pontiac in its early days was primarily residential with Huron a dirt road and Saginaw a cobblestone street.

Miss Kate Sawyer, Jennie Saterlee Jacob's niece, remembers. She grew up in the home on the corner of Huron and Williams. The lot next to her old home, now 14 Williams, was once a tennis court between her home and the Jacob's home.

The tennis court was removed and Miss Sawyer's girlhood home became for a time the manse for the First Presbyterian Church on Huron Street.

Most of the original Williams Street families have long since moved.

* * *

But one man, Harold Ward, who presently owns the property at 14, 30 and 38 Williams, cares about the street.

* * *

He has rejuvenated the old homes by replacing the plumbing and heating facilities, reroofing them and redecorating the interiors with the aid of Mrs. Robert C. Smith who lives at 14 Williams.

TREES STANDING

The basic structure of the homes is untouched and the trees are still standing.

The buildings numbered 30 and 38 Williams are divided into apartments, but there are still crystal chandeliers and open, winding stairways.

The houses again have the flavor and atmosphere of bygone days.

* * *

Even though Ward has modernized the homes, the street will never again be the same, Pontiac has changed.

The no parking sign next to the carriage step shows Pontiac old and new side by side.

The carriage step that wasn't removed with the tearing down of the Jacob family home stays on to revive memories of the old times in the hearts of long-time residents.

Jackie Buys $200,000 Fifth Avenue Apartment

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy, who celebrated her 35th birthday here yesterday, has purchased a $200,000 Fifth Avenue cooperative apartment.

* * *

Mrs. Kennedy will move into the 15-room apartment in September with her two children, Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3. Their current residence is in the Georgetown section of Washington.

The apartment, on the top floor of the 15-story building overlooking Central Park, is presently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Weicker. The Weickers are moving into a penthouse apartment atop the same building.

Mrs. Weicker, a pretty blonde whose husband is president of Bigelow - Sanford Carpet Co., said she was pleased to have Mrs. Kennedy in the building.

* * *

Douglas L. Elliman, managing agent of the building, said the apartment, in addition to the purchase price, carries about a $14,000 annual maintenance cost.

VISITS TWICE

Mrs. Kennedy visited the Weicker apartment twice in recent weeks before consummating the sale. The apartment had been on the market for several weeks.

It is tastefully decorated with 18th Century French furniture.

The 40-year-old building is located on Fifth Avenue at 88th Street, within 10 blocks of those of her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, and the late President Kennedy's sisters, Patricia Lawford and Jean Smith.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kennedy, the late president's parents, have a six-room apartment at the southern end of Central Park, which they use when they are in New York.

Firm Offers to Send Supplies to Turkey

A Waterford Township real estate firm has offered to ship school supplies, gathered by area youngsters, to needy children in Turkey.

* * *

Bloch Brothers Realty Co., 5069 Dixie, will accept any discarded supplies from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily through Aug. 14.

* * *

The real estate firm then will take the collected materials to Thunder Bay Village near Alpena and prepare them for shipment to Buca, Turkey.

* * *

The campaign is an extension of a current drive in the Alpena area. It was inspired by a teacher at a U.S. air base in Turkey who saw a need among Turkish youngsters for school supplies.

Researchers Turn Cooks

Vegetables cooked in sufficient boiling water to cover were milder in flavor and greener than those cooked in just the water clinging to them after washing or in a pressure saucepan, according to a University of Minnesota study by Joan Gordon and Isabel Noble.

They also found that broccoli and cauliflower, but not cabbage or turnips, cooked in the pressure saucepan were milder in flavor than comparable samples cooked in the "waterless" saucepan.

Java, Banana Blend in a Pie

Sophisticated flavor is the outstanding feature of Coffee Banana Pie. This frothy summer dessert contains instant coffee, and it is an unexpected and tasteful complement to the bananas sliced throughout the filling.

Marshmallows thicken the pie, and whipped cream gives it lightness. An easy-to-make feature is the Corn Flake Crumbs shell.

Coffee Banana Pie

4 cups corn flakes or
1 cup packaged corn flake crumbs
½ pound regular or miniature marshmallows
2 tablespoons instant coffee powder
2 tablespoons sugar
⅓ cup soft or melted butter or margarine
⅓ cup hot water
1 cup whipping cream
2 cups sliced bananas (about 3 medium)

If using corn flakes, crush into fine crumbs. Combine corn flake crumbs, sugar and butter in 9-inch pie pan; mix well. Press evenly and firmly around sides and bottom of pie pan. Chill.

Combine marshmallows, coffee powder and water in medium-sized saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until marshmallows are melted. Cool until slightly thickened. Whip cream until stiff. Fold into coffee mixture together with bananas. Pour into Crumb crust. Chill until firm. Garnish with banana slices and sweetened whipped cream, if desired.

Yield: 8 servings.

Note: If a more crisp crust is desired, bake Corn Flake Crumbs shell in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 5 minutes before chilling.

COFFEE BANANA PIE—Instant coffee is the predominant flavor in this pie. The smooth creamy filling holds slices of banana. Puffs of whipped cream with more banana slices. The crust is made with corn flake crumbs.

Corn Comes to Town Early

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Fresh corn is on the market earlier than usual this year. Perhaps you have been aware of this fact, especially if you have gone out to the farmers' market.

* * *

Much of the corn sold locally is chilled immediately upon picking. This prevents its ripening any more. You will want to cook it soon after buying—only a short time, not more than five minutes.

Don't limit your eating of fresh corn to just plain boiled corn. Try a side-dish of cream corn.

Creamy Fresh Corn

6 to 8 ears fresh corn
3 strips bacon (halved crosswise)
⅔ cup water
1 teaspoon salt or to taste
½ teaspoon sugar
2 teaspoons flour
¼ cup milk
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Husk corn and cut the kernels from the cob. Scrape cob well with a tablespoon to remove all the pulp and milk—there should be 3 cups.

Cook bacon slowly until crisp in an 8-inch skillet; remove and drain on paper towl. Stir corn into hot bacon fat and then add water, salt and sugar. Stir and cook 5 minutes, uncovered.

Stir milk gradually into flour, keeping smooth. Add to corn and cook and stir constantly for a few minutes or until thickened. Mix in pepper and butter.

Serve hot garnished with bacon. Makes 6 servings.

Corn and oysters make an interesting buffet dish. At this time of year you use canned or frozen oysters.

Corn and Oyster Casserole

3 cups (4 ears) fresh corn cut off the cob
¼ cup soft bread crumbs
1 cup drained oysters
1 egg, beaten
1¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon whole celery seed
½ teaspoon ground black pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Combine first 7 ingredients. Break 2 tablespoons butter or margarine into small pieces and add. Turn into a greased 1-quart casserole.

Mix crumbs with remaining melted butter or margarine and sprinkle over top. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) for 40 minutes or until crumbs are brown and corn is tender.

Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Corn chowder made with fresh corn is something entirely different from any chowder you've ever tasted.

Corn Chowder

2 slices bacon or 1 ounce salt pork, diced
½ cup chopped onion
2 cups fresh corn, cut off the cob
2 cups boiling water
1 quart milk
4½ cups mashed potatoes
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon whole marjoram leaves, crumbled
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
8 saltine crackers

* * *

Fry bacon or salt pork until crisp. Remove and add onion. Saute until limp. Add corn and water. Cook for 10 minutes. Stir in milk, potatoes and seasonings. Heat. Crumble 4 crackers in each bowl and pour in soup. Garnish with crumbled bacon or salt pork.

Yield: 8 servings.

Rosy Pineapple Punch

Rosy pineapple punch: Combine 1 (46-ounce) can pineapple juice and 1 cup lemon juice in punch bowl. Add 2 partially thawed 10-ounce packages frozen raspberries and their syrup. Stir to blend. Add 1 quart chilled lemon lime carbonated beverage and mix well. This punch has a becoming blush and fills about 25 (4-ounce) punch cups.

try this recipe with Shedd's Italian DRESSING

BLUE CHEESE DRESSING
½ cup Shedd's Chef Italian Dressing
½ cup sour cream
4 tablespoons Blue or Roquefort cheese
Mash blue cheese with a spoon or fork in a mixing bowl. Shake bottle of Chef Italian Dressing vigorously to obtain a uniform mix. Measure immediately ½ cup of the dressing. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons of the dressing to the cheese and mix. Blend in sour cream. Finish by adding remainder of Chef Dressing and mixing smooth.
The dressing will keep nicely for several days if stored in the refrigerator.

Fruit Salads Make an Appeal to the Eye

Now is the time to welcome fresh air and sunshine with gay fruit salad plates. But to capture the beauty, goodness and vitality of Nature, fruits must be served attractively. Here are some tricks which will help bring out the best in your fruit salads.

* * *

● Canned or frozen fruits should be thoroughly drained on absorbent paper towels. Nobody likes to have a puddle on his plate!

● Cut fresh fruits, such as apples, avocados, and pears, that brown on exposure to air should be sprinkled with lemon juice and covered with plastic wrap until serving time.

* * *

● Choose a colorful variety of fruits and use color accents to decorate the salad plate. For added contrast certain fruits, such as pear halves, can be tinted by using a paper towel to daub on maraschino cherry juice or food coloring.

● If refrigerator is jammed and fruit salads must stand a half-hour or so at room temperature, dip paper towels in ice water, wring out and spread over salad. Fruits will stay moist and cold.

● If greens, such as lettuce or chickory are used, they should be washed and thoroughly drained on paper towels.

Fruit salads can make a meal or complement a meal. Either way, fruits are a vitamin-filled, mineral-rich addition to any menu, and one of Nature's most appetising offerings.

Crispy Bananas

Remove peel and cut bananas into 1½ inch slices. Pour about ½ cup bran flakes into a wax sandwich bag. Hold top of bag tightly closed with one hand while squeezing bottom of bag with other hand to crush bran flakes.

* * *

Then place banana slices, one or two at a time, in bag with bran and shake to coat bananas.

Cheese Apples

For eight cheese apples, shred or grate ¼ pound of Swiss cheese. Moisten the cheese with 1 teaspoon prepared mustard and 1 teaspoon mayonnaise. Roll into balls using about 2 tablespoons of cheese mixture for each ball.

Dent ends of each ball, stick a whole clove in one end, half a green toothpick in the other. To color, shake cheese apples with a little paprika in a wax sandwich bag.

Blushing Pears

Drain canned pear halves on paper towels and blot dry. To tint, daub maraschino cherry juice on pears with a paper towel or paper napkin. Fill hollows with cottage cheese that has been drained on paper towels.

Seal two pear halves together with softened cream cheese pushed through a pastry tube (or use one of the cheese mixes sold in aerosol cans.) For stems, stick small pieces of stick cinnamon on top.

Decorate with green, leaf-shaped candy mints, if desired.

Avocado Sunburst

Cut avocado in half lengthwise and gently twist halves apart. Lift out seed. To prevent browning, cover cut edges immediately with plastic wrap and refrigerate.

Just before serving, arrange canned or fresh orange sections in an overlapping circle in the center of each avocado shell. To prepare in advance, brush cut edges of avocado with orange or lemon juice, fill with orange sections and cover with plastic wrap. Refrigerate until serving time.

Serve with clear French dressing if desired.

Strawberry Cantaloupes

1 package strawberry-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup cold water
1 cup halved strawberries, fresh or frozen
2 cantaloupes

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water and mix well. Chill until syrupy. Fold in strawberries (drain frozen strawberries on paper towels).

Cut a slice from the top of each cantaloupe; scoop out seeds and enlarge cavity slightly. Pour in strawberry mixture. Chill in refrigerator until serving time.

Cut in crosswise slices to serve. If desired, remove rind from cantaloupe before serving.

Banana Appetizers

Cut firm bananas in 2" pieces; coat with pineapple jam. Roll in cereal crumbs. Wrap partially cooked bacon slice around each banana section; secure with toothpick. Broil until sizzling and crisp. Serve hot.

Note to new cooks: to "dredge a food means to coat it with such a dry ingredient as flour or sugar.

Clam Macaroni for Friday Fare

This pantry-shelf, quick-to-make recipe may come in handy.

Clam Twist

1 package (8 ounces) macaroni twists
¼ pound butter
2 medium clove garlic, crushed
1 can (10 ounces) minced clams
¼ cup minced parsley

Cook the macaroni twists according to package directions and drain.

In the clean kettle, melt the butter with the garlic; add the clams, including their liquid. Add cooked drained twists. Reheat gently, mixing a few times, as twists absorb clam liquid. Sprinkle with parsley. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Banana Frost Real Cooler

If your youngsters have been "too hot to eat," this snack will provide good nutrition.

Fabulous Frosteds

4 small ripe bananas
½ cup quick chocolate-flavored mix
3 cups milk
1 pint vanilla ice cream

Mash bananas thoroughly with a fork. Stir in chocolate-flavored mix; gradually beat in milk; continue to beat if necessary until blended. Pour into 4 tall glasses; add ice cream.

Blueberries for Chiffon Pie

Looking for a sumptuous, eye-catching summertime dessert? Then turn to plump fresh blueberries and roll them into an orange chiffon pie and top with whipped cream.

Blueberry Orange Chiffon Pie

2 cups fresh blueberries
1 package orange chiffon pie filling
1 9-inch baked pie shell
1 cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Rinse blueberries and dry well. Prepare chiffon pie filling according to package directions. Fold in 1½ cups of blueberries and spoon filling into baked pie shell. Chill until firm, about 2 hours.

* * *

With a toothpick lightly mark top of pie into 6 equal wedges.

Whip cream with confectioners' sugar and vanilla and fill 3 alternate wedges with whipped cream. Fill remaining wedges with fresh blueberries. Chill.

Cut wedges of pie so that each piece is topped with half blueberries and half whipped cream.

Cooked Vegetables Given Zest With Herbs

Even a city windowbox gardener can enjoy the delights of fresh summer vegetables romantically flavored with a variety of home-grown herbs!

All it really takes is a few plants, lovingly tended, plus the piquant zest of Tabasco, the liquid red pepper seasoning.

Chives, thyme, and tarragon are the three herbs used in these recipes for cooking summer squash, cucumbers and corn, but you might want to experiment with fresh dill and parsley to your own taste.

Tabasco seasons the water in which both the squash and cucumbers are quickly cooked and combined with fresh tarragon it spices the melted butter poured over hot cooked corn.

Herbed Squash

2 pounds summer squash, sliced
2 cups water
¼ cup butter
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon Tabasco
3 tablespoons chopped chives

Combine squash, water, butter, salt and Tabasco in saucepan. Cover. Heat to simmer; cook about 15 to 20 minutes. Sprinkle with chives during last 5 minutes of cooking. Spoon into serving dish. Serve hot. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Cucumbers With Herbs

2 tablespoons oil
1 teaspoon salt
2 cucumbers, thinly sliced
1 small garlic clove, crushed
2 tablespoons water
⅛ teaspoon Tabasco
2 tablespoons chopped fresh thyme

Heat oil with salt in skillet. Add cucumbers and garlic. Stir while sauteeing over medium flame; about 3 minutes. Combine water and Tabasco. Pour quickly over cucumbers. Sprinkle in thyme. Cover.

Let cook, shaking skillet occasionally about 2 minutes. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

Note: If fresh thyme is not available, substitute ⅛ teaspoon dried thyme or ¼ teaspoon powdered thyme for each tablespoon of fresh thyme.

Corn Tarragon

4 ears of corn
⅓ cup butter
2 tablespoons chopped fresh tarragon
⅛ teaspoon Tabasco

Remove husks and silk from corn. Drop into boiling, salted water (1 teaspoon salt per quart water). Cover; boil 5 to 8 minutes. Serve with tarragon sauce.

To make sauce, combine butter, tarragon and Tabasco in small saucepan. Stirring, bring to simmer as butter melts. Pour over corn on serving dish. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

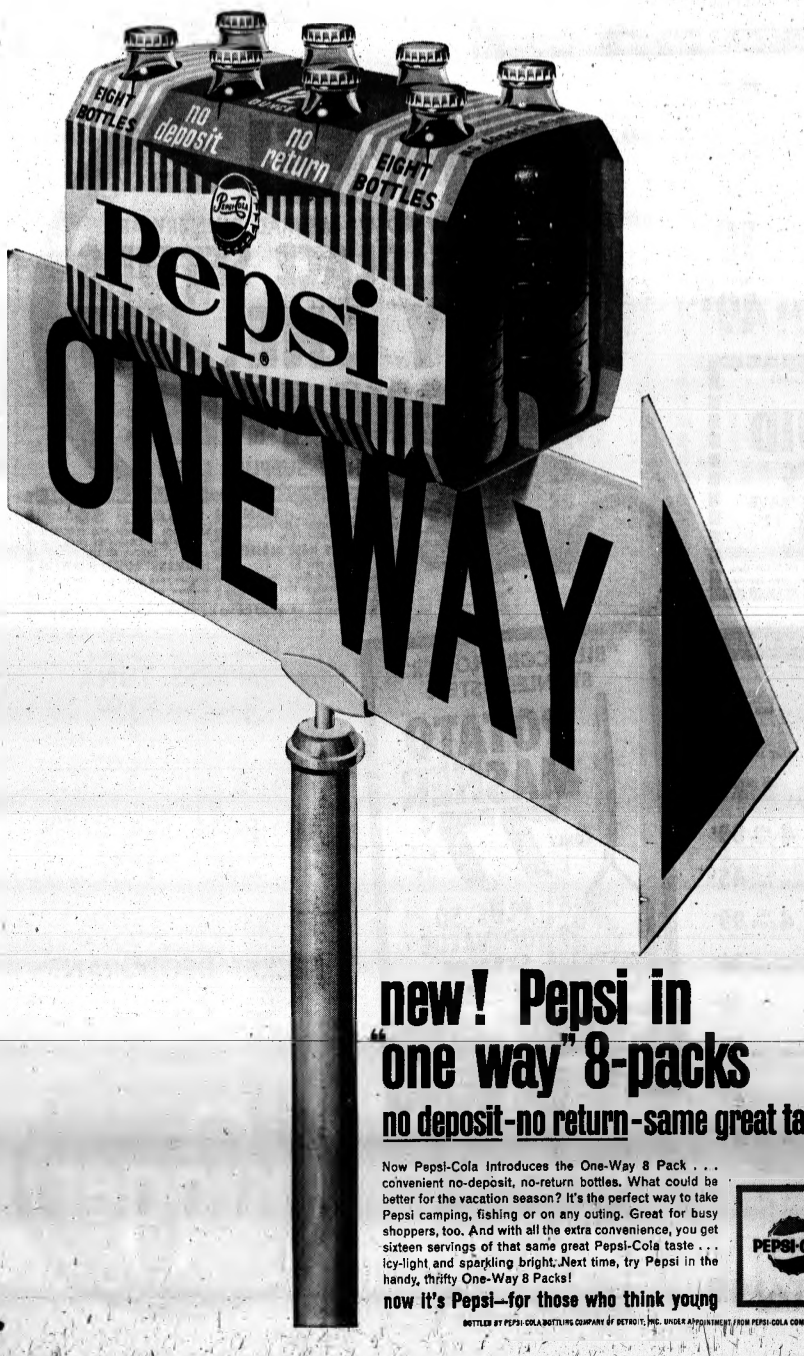

Note: If fresh tarragon is not available, substitute ⅛ teaspoon dried tarragon for each tablespoon of fresh tarragon.

HERBED VEGETABLES — Just a touch of fresh herbs is all that is needed to spark interest in summer vegetables. Chives, thyme and tarragon, plus the spicy spark of Tabasco, add imaginative flavor to cooked summer squash, cucumbers and corn.

Tiny Cocktail Biscuits

Split tiny hot biscuits and fill with deviled ham or tongue. Press halves together; top each biscuit with spoonful orange marmalade and dot of butter. Heat in hot oven for about 5 minutes just before serving.

Quick Cooking for Squash

Zucchini saute is a delicious and easy to prepare campfire dish. Eat it with the broiled fish and season all with the great outdoors. Appetite guaranteed.

Campfire Zucchini Saute
(4 servings)

1 lb. unpeeled zucchini squash
1 medium onion, thinly sliced
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
Salt to taste
Ground black pepper to taste

Cut squash into thin slices. Melt butter or margarine in a large, heavy skillet. Add squash and onion and cook, uncovered, for 5 minutes, turning occasionally with a fork.

Cover and continue cooking until zucchini is tender, about 5 minutes. (Add 1 to 2 tablespoons water, if necessary.) Season to taste with salt and ground black pepper.

Elegant Fruit Dressing

Raisin blush dressing tops the most elegant of summer fruit salads. Beat together 1 softened 3-ounce package cream cheese and ½ cup vanilla ice cream until smooth. Add ¼ cup chopped raisins, 3 chopped maraschino cherries and a little cherry syrup to achieve desired blush. Refrigerate until serving.

FREE THE COOK—Carefree cookout is this Sausage and Apple grill, that combines convenient pie-sliced apples, sweet potatoes and pre-cooked sausages, cooked in foil on top of the grill.

Grill Sausage Dish

'Tis the season of the picnic. And all across the land families are piling into cars and heading for the great outdoors, never forgetting to pack the trusty grill for that favorite outdoor sport — barbecuing.

But barbecuing, even as cooking in the kitchen, can keep someone slaving over a hot stove, so a carefree cookout like this nifty Sausage and Apple Grill that takes just the flick of a can-opener to prepare, and cooks itself, is sure to be a winner with the cook.

Easy to pack too, with nothing to spoil or spill. Heating time on the grill takes just thirty minutes; the neat foil package needs no watching, so that means time enough for a pre-prandial swim for the lucky chef.

Carefree Sausage and Apple Cookout

Pre-cooked or ready-to-eat sausages (enough for four)
1 can whole sweet potatoes
1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) pie-sliced apples, well drained
½ cup dark brown sugar
½ teaspoon ground cloves
Heavy duty aluminum foil

Arrange sausage links in a rectangle on a double thickness of heavy duty aluminum foil (cut about 18 inches long). Place sweet potatoes inside the rectangle.

Mix brown sugar and cloves and sprinkle over the apple slices. Arrange apple slices in rows on top of sweet potatoes. Wrap tightly in foil. Heat on grill about 30 minutes or until hot.

HINT: Mix sugar and cloves at home and take to picnic in foil package.

Hot or Cold — Not in Between!

To reduce chance of food poisoning during the warm summer months, keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold. This particularly applies to picnic-goers and cook-out devotees.

Often during warm weather, food poisoning cases are reported to the Michigan Department of Agriculture because meals are exposed to summer temperatures without adequate refrigeration after the food is prepared.

Foods that are especially susceptible to food poisoning organisms unless they are properly cared for are potato salad, puddings, cream sauces, mayonnaise, cream fillings, and salad dressings, particularly those in which cream and eggs are used.

During hot weather, microbiologists in the Department's laboratory detect bacterial contaminants in food samples submitted by the Foods and Standards Division, which has responsibility in this state for the wholesomeness of food. These food samples are taken in cases where people, often picnic-goers, became ill after eating certain food.

Foods and Standards Chief J. L. Littlefield cautions that foods to be eaten hot should be kept heated during the time between preparation and eating. In the case of cold foods, chilling and good refrigeration are suggested between the time the dish is prepared and when it is served.

Mr. Littlefield and workers at the Department's laboratory suggest food to be served cold should be kept at a 45-degree temperature or less. Temperatures of 140 degrees or higher should be maintained for hot foods.

Fizzing Floats

Into skyscraping tall glasses pour pineapple juice to about half full. Add double scoop pineapple sherbet and stir to mix slightly. Fill with ginger ale. These are pleasers with young and old alike and always make a hit as teenage party refreshments.

Cereals Flavor Cakes, Become Baked-on-Frostings

When you pack a picnic basket full of fried chicken, sandwiches, potato salad and franks, be sure you leave room for dessert. A flat cake baked in a square or rectangular pan is easy to carry to the park or beach. Choose a self-frosted cake for neat eating.

* * *

Choco-Nut Date Cake meets all these specifications, and in addition, it's so tasty you won't carry home more than the pan and a few crumbs. Made with whole bran cereal, the easy-to-make date cake has a delicate cocoa flavor complemented by a baked-on frosting of semi-sweet chocolate pieces and chopped nuts.

* * *

Another bran cake nicely styled for outdoor eating is Orange Raisin Cake. This moist cake is flavored by a whole orange ground with raisins and nuts. As a finishing touch, drizzle honey and nuts over the cake while it is still warm.

Sugared corn flakes are a crunchy ingredient in, as well as the topping for, a third picnic dessert, Crunch-Topped Brownie Cake. Coconut is combined with the cereal atop the cake, and baking toastily accents its flavor.

Choco-Nut Date Cake

1 cup finely cut, pitted dates
½ cup whole bran cereal
1 cup boiling water
1¼ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons cocoa
⅔ cup soft shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1 cup (6-oz. pkg.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
½ cup finely chopped nutmeats

Measure dates and bran into mixing bowl; add water, stirring until combined. Let stand about 10 minutes. Sift together flour, soda, salt and cocoa. Blend shortening and sugar until light and fluffy; add eggs and vanilla, beat well. Stir in bran mixture.

Add sifted dry ingredients; mix until well-blended. Spread in greased 12x9-inch baking pan. Sprinkle with chocolate pieces and nutmeats. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes or until done. Cut into squares to serve. Yield: 15 2¼-inch squares.

Orange Raisin Cake

1 medium-sized seedless orange
½ cup seedless raisins
¼ cup walnut meats
½ cup whole bran cereal
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup soft shortening
¼ cup sugar
1 egg
⅓ cup milk
¼ cup honey
¼ cup chopped walnut meats.

Put whole orange through food chopper with raisins, walnut meats and bran. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Blend shortening and sugar until light and fluffy; add egg and beat well.

Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, mixing after each addition. Stir in bran mixture. Spread in greased 8x8-inch baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes.

Drizzle honey over warm cake; sprinkle with walnut meats. Serve warm or cold, cut into squares.

Yield: 9 2½-inch squares.

* * *

Crunch-Topped Brownie Cake

2 cups sugared corn flakes
1 cup (6-oz. pkg.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
⅓ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup flaked coconut
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted

Crush cereal flakes slightly. Melt chocolate and butter together over very low heat; remove from heat. Stir in sugar, eggs and vanilla; beat well.

Sift together flour, soda and salt. Stir into chocolate mixture together with half the cereal.

Spread in greased 8x8-inch baking pan. Combine remaining cereal and coconut with melted butter; sprinkle evenly over cake, pressing gently into batter.

Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) about 40 minutes or until done. Cool and cut into squares.

Avocados Hold Cool Salads

California avocados join ever so naturally in summer fun.

Salads in avocado halves can be assembled "on location," whether it be in ship's galley, picnic grounds or your own backyard. Store the filling in a covered container and keep it cool.

* * *

Just before time to eat, slice avocados lengthwise into halves; remove seeds. Spoon filling into avocados.

The thick skin of the summer varieties of California avocados provides a "built-in" serving container.

Any of these fillings will tempt outdoor appetites:

* * *

Strips of cooked beef, chicken or ham, onion rings, diced tomato and partially cooked zucchini slices chilled in garlic cheese dressing make a cool, hearty main dish in avocado halves.

Melon balls and pineapple cubes marinated in French dressing perked up with lemon juice, honey and celery seed add up to a tasty fruit salad when spooned into luscious halves of California avocado.

A mixture of catsup, sliced green onion and lime or lemon juice in avocado half-shells is delicious and gloriously simple. Enjoy it with fried chicken or shrimp.

New Strainers of Aluminum Are Better

New rustproof kitchen strainers made of flexible aluminum mesh, have been introduced by Ekco Housewares Company.

The development of aluminum mesh provides a strainer that is completely hygenic, resists food acids and discoloration, and may be air dryed.

Because the aluminum has a built-in "memory," the wires will stay in place and prevent gaps in the mest. Six strainers range in size from 2½" to 8" with mesh that ranges from extra heavy coarse to super fine.

Ekco's new aluminum mesh strainers with black, white or sandalwood handles and in Carousel white with blue and gold decorations are available at hardware, variety and department stores.

Color the Milk Pink

Blend ¼ cup instant dry milk crystals, 1 pint cranberry juice cocktail with a dash of lemon juice and sugar to taste in your electric blender. Serve in tall frosty glasses spiked with a dash of nutmeg to tempt even the reluctant milk drinker.

Don't discard natural cheddar cheese on which mold has formed; just scrape or cut off the mold.

In Child's Formative Years

Mother Has Responsibility as Teacher

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Mothers are expected to be, and often are, the world's best teachers. A child learns rapidly in the first five years and has many things to learn. Mothers are in charge of all this training.

* * *

When a child enters school he is expected to have acquired the self-control necessary for sitting quietly, listening to instructions and not only understanding them, but being willing to follow them.

A child must not only be able to express himself, but he must have the self-discipline to wait his turn while others talk.

He is expected, perhaps for the first time, to behave properly in a group outside his home without the support and direction of his mother.

As schools become formal and classes larger, the training at home for life in school became more of a problem.

Kindergartens were established to help make this transition. But the groups are often too large, having as many as 30 of 40 children.

Now, in many cases, even the transition from home to kindergarten is a shock to the child. He is one of many instead of being the center of attention.

HELP TO ADJUST

Kindergarten can do much to help children in their adjustment to school life, but the teacher is faced with a difficult task. Within the group there are those who have not had sufficient training at home and who need almost her undivided attention to perform satisfactorily.

A few cities like Culver City, Calif., are meeting this problem realistically by holding beginning classes to approximately 10.

Some cities retain children in the beginning group until they reach a state of development which makes success probable in the first grade.

* * *

Mothers have many duties in addition to training children which make prekindergarten preparation difficult. In such cases a good nursery school can be a real help.

The nursery school teacher works full time helping the child develop necessary self-confidence, self-discipline and skills.

Parents should select nursery schools carefully. It is essential that the nursery school groups be small and the staff be well trained.

The program should include "work" periods in which children get training in listening and carrying out instructions. The teacher gets results since all the children are putting away their paints, moving their chairs up to the tables, or carrying out any of the other specific activities.

Total revenues of TVA power distributors in fiscal 1963 increased by $19.4 million to a new high of $223.1 million. Net income rose to a record $26.9 million.

In duplicate play a part-score hand is likely to be played by either side, depending on who is willing to make the last competitive bid.

JACOBY

At most tables at the Valley View Studio in Dallas, West was allowed to play three spades. North would open the jack of diamonds. South would cash two diamond tricks and shift to the queen of clubs.

The trick would be won in dummy and a low spade led. Some South players hopped right up with the ace and led a heart to partner, whereupon a club return enabled South to ruff for the fifth defensive trick.

Other South players ducked, whereupon West would make his three-spade contract.

A couple of North players competed to four diamonds and usually went down one trick since good defense caused South to lose two hearts and one trick in each black suit. . .

The North-South top went to a player who managed to make four diamonds.

He won the first spade with his ace and promptly ran off six trump tricks.

His first discard from dummy was the three of clubs, second the nine of spades and the next two the four and six of hearts. East also had to make four discards.

Naturally, he hung on to his clubs for dear life. He should have thrown two spades and two hearts, but he went wrong and discarded three hearts. Now South played ace and another heart to set up his last heart for the tenth trick.

The CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
1 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
5 ♦	Pass	?

You, South, hold: ♠ A J 6 5 ♥ Q J 6 5 ♦ 3 2 ♣ A 9 8

What do you bid now?

A—Six spades. This is a slight overbid and the contract may depend on a finesse, but five spades would be penalizeable.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding one spade your partner has jumped from one heart to three hearts. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Thursday

"The wise man controls his destiny, astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Day to be extremely frank. State position clearly. Carry through on ideas, projects. Those who are timid should be ignored. Put best foot forward and show it.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): What you will discover about romance is ultimately beneficial. All may not appear pleasant. But what occurs is to your advantage. Message received after midnight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): You may receive some surprises where family members are concerned, instead of being obstinate . . . understand new, unpopular view. Be proud instead of ashamed of feelings.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): You should require privacy . . . time and place to think. Your responsibilities appear to "pile up." Take one thing at a time . . . finish present task. Be factual. Avoid self-adoration.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22): Your plans are sound. Your potential is promising. But your "management principles" are in poor week. Apply self-discipline. More thought needed in area of finances.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): Cycle has been higher in past. You need rest, time to formulate plans. No time for entering "choppy waters." Take advice offered by one with greater experience.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Day to slow down. Hold off on final decisions, declarations. Avoid embarrassment by keeping OPEN MIND. Many who are "sure" may reverse their positions. WAIT AND OBSERVE.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Friends argue. Older individual seeks your sympathy. Remain impersonal, neutral. Don't become involved in family disputes. Hold fast to principles. Relax early, if practical.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Express yourself. Day for bringing forth creative spark. Make changes. Time to take the bull by the horns. Make known your views. Don't be pushed or pulled.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): There are basic responsibilities which cry for attention. Don't neglect them! No day for unnecessary travel. Time very valuable. Key word is REASON.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18): Begin certain things based on change. BUT THIS IS NOT THE TIME! Be sensible, mature and patient. Message received tonight will help clarify matters.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20): . . . accent on savings, money, security. You can get what you want. Remember: Is that what you want is not what you need. Be neutral, diplomatic . . . and receptive to advice.

IF THURSDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you have great sense of humor . . . you desire the spotlight . . . and would make wonderful entertainer.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle continues high for ARIES. Special word to SCORPIO: The more practical you are about health matters . . . the better.

Everyone Gets Candle on Piece of Cake

For an appealing child's birthday cake, try this. Bake a square cake. Place colored candles in the center to represent the honored guest's age. Then place white candles over the remainder of the cake, spacing them so the cake may be cut into squares with each child getting a piece of cake with a candle in its center.

Hearty Bean Sandwich

Here's a delicious and quick sandwich idea that has lots of zip. Combine 1 can (1 pound) beans & ground beef in barbecue sauce and ¼ teaspoon mustard. Spoon beans on 3 Hamburger buns (split and toasted); top with 6 slices mild process cheese. Broil about 6 inches from heat, until cheese melts and beans are hot. Makes 6 hearty servings.

The belief that oysters are good to eat only during months that have an "R" is a myth.

No Cooking for Fruit

Try this flavor treat and save on calories, too! Just soak your next batch of dried fruit overnight in cranberry juice cocktail; no need to cook, no sugar to add. Result: big plump juicy fruit!

Supper In a Hurry? Open Some Cans

Make this delicious eggs a la king for supper. In saucepan, brown 1 can (4 ounces) sliced mushrooms (drained) in 1 tablespoon butter or margarine. Blend in 1 can (10 ounces) chicken gravy and dash pepper; heat, stirring now and then. Gently stir in ½ cup cooked peas and 3 hard-cooked eggs (sliced). Serve on 3 slices of toast. Makes 3 servings.

To stretch a package of frozen lobster Newburg, add sliced hard-cooked eggs.

Blend Coconut, Lemon to Garnish Frosting

Coconut is delicious sprinkled over a white frosting atop a white, yellow or banana cake. For extra interest, blend the coconut with grated lemon rind. The blending job will be easiest if you turn flaked coconut into a bowl, sprinkle it with lemon rind and then work together with the back of a wooden spoon. Use ¼ teaspoon of rind to ½ cup coconut.

Count on getting about 2½ tablespoons of grated rind from one medium orange.

What Is Flank Steak?

Flank steak is a lean, flat, boneless muscle with the meat fibers running lengthwise, reports the American Meat Institute. The meat is usually stuffed and baked covered or braised as a steak. Other names for this economical cut of meat are London broil, cube steak, minute steak, flank steak filet and Swiss steak.

Corned Beef Makes a Hearty Salad

Many a European chef uses aspic to add elegance to simple foods. Whether the food be molded in the savory jelly, or garnished with aspic cutouts or border, it takes on excitement and sophistication. More, the chilly aspic is exceedingly refreshing and deliciously light warm-weather eating.

Surprisingly simple to make, corned beef in aspic relies on canned consomme and canned corned beef for its speed and ease of preparation. They eliminate the innumerable herbs and spices, and the long slow cooking of meat, required in Continental recipes.

The corned beef should be used just as it comes from the can on the pantry shelf. That way it is easily flaked into the bite-size chunks needed. Because these chunks may separate into even smaller pieces when mixed with the thickened jelly, it is a good idea to chill them after flaking; they will then keep their shape and size during the folding-in process.

Corned Beef In Aspic

1 can (12 oz.) corned beef, unchilled
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2 cans (10½ oz. each) consomme
2 tablespoons sherry
3 hard cooked eggs, sliced
Salad greens

Flake corned beef with a fork into bite-size pieces. Refrigerate while preparing aspic mixture.

Soften gelatin in water; dissolve in 1 can consomme which has been heated to boiling; add remaining consomme and sherry. Chill until partly thickened. Fold in corned beef. Turn mixture into six 6-ounce custard cups. Chill until firm.

To unmold, loosen edges of each serving and turn out on crisp greens. Top each serving with center slice from eggs; press remainder of eggs through coarse shredder and arrange around aspic molds as garnish. Serve with dressing made by blending vinegar and sour cream or mayonnaise and sprinkling top with tarragon. Makes 6 servings.

Dressing:

1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar
½ cup thick sour cream or mayonnaise
Chopped fresh tarragon, optional

CORNED BEEF IN ASPIC — For a truly elegant summer salad that is unique serve corned beef in aspic. Each mold is a cool, cool mound or well-seasoned jelly that encases tender chunks of the full-flavored beef. A touch of sherry adds sophistication; a garnish of eggs eye-catching color.

For Kaffeeklatsch

Bake Delicate Cookies

On a hot summer day, all minds have but a single thought: keeping cool. One fine way to outwit the temperature is simply to serve coffee iced rather than hot. Then accompany the frosty coffee with light, sweet refreshment.

Just right for the summer kaffeeklatsch are these delicate Coffee Almond Blossoms. Even the name has a refreshing ring and you'll find these subtly-flavored, meringue-type cookies are light and non-filling.

To prepare the iced coffee itself, either brew coffee double-strength before pouring it over ice cubes, or pour regular strength coffee over coffee ice cubes. However it's made, the coffee is cooling, calorie-less and conducive to a relaxing afternoon.

Coffee Almond Blossoms

2 egg whites
1½ cups sugar
1 tablespoon instant coffee powder
¼ teaspoon salt
⅔ cup thinly sliced blanched almonds
½ teaspoon almond extract

Beat egg whites stiff. Combine sugar, coffee and salt; add gradually, while continuing to beat. Fold in almonds and almond extract.

Drop by teaspoons, far apart, on greased cookie sheets. Bake at 325 degrees for 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Remove from cookie sheets at once. Makes about 3 dozen.

If You Like It Hot, Here's Your Sauce

A spicy sauce that adds that extra touch to hamburgers.

Sloppy Charlie Sauce

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 medium onion and 1 small green pepper, coarsely chopped
1 clove garlic, peeled and halved
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
¼ teaspoon each salt and sugar
½ teaspoon strong chili powder
⅛ teaspoon ground cumin

In an 8-inch skillet over low heat, melt the butter. Add onion, green pepper and garlic inserted on toothpick halves; cook gently until wilted, stirring occasionally — about 20 minutes.

Stir in remaining ingredients; heat slowly. Remove garlic. Makes about 1½ cups — enough for 6 hamburgers made from 1½ pounds lean ground beef.

HAS THAT ROAR — Former Michigan Stater Bill Quinlan is hoping he has a loud enough roar to help the Detroit Lions' defensive unit this season. The former Green Bay defensive end who was obtained from the Eagles the past winter joins Sam Williams and Darris McCord in the crew of defensive ends. (See Press Box Column below).

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Bill Quinlan refers to his move to the Detroit Lions as going "first class."

"This is a first class franchise," said Quinlan in making his appearance this week to the Lions' training camp at Cranbrook, "and this is one team I always wished I could be with."

"This team has always played the kind of football I like, good solid defense, and there isn't a team in either division that hasn't been afraid of Detroit's defense," he added.

Quinlan, who played only one year of football at Michigan State before a couple years in the service, isn't a stranger to winning.

He joined the Browns in 1957 and Cleveland won the division title in 1957 and lost the divisional playoff to the Giants in 1958.

The Packers had him from 1959 through 1962 and they won three divisional and two world titles.

Last year with the Eagles was the "poorest season" of his career. He was happy to leave Philadelphia and he now feels he has reported to Lions' camp in the "best physical condition of my pro career."

STANDS ACCUSED

Through his pro career there were many fingers pointed at Quinlan charging he had deliberate intentions to cripple an opposing player upon contact.

"That's ridiculous," he says, "I like good hard football, and I never hit anyone deliberately from the blind side or with intention of maiming him."

"I don't cry when anyone hits me hard, that's the kind of game we're in."

With Alex Karras back to join the "Fearsome Foursome," the addition of Quinlan to the defensive end slots with another Spartan, Sam Williams and Darris McCord, has a few teams now wondering how much mayhem the Lions' defensive unit can create with its veteran linebackers and defensive backfield.

★ ★ ★

"I'll tell you one thing, I know one team that swallowed the olive when they knew they had to go up against the Lions' defense, and I use to hope I was part of such a defense that had some of the others choking."

Of course it was the Packers of whom Quinlan was referring even though he conceded that the Green Bay offensive unit was one of the best in the NFL.

About that memorable Thanksgiving Day contest before millions of nationwide viewers in 1962, Quinlan said, "the Packer offense knew what was coming to them and they really choked."

"Last year the Lions were hurting and everyone knew it and the Packers had to whip Detroit to try to save face. They wouldn't have done it against a healthy team."

"This Detroit team has had more than its share of injuries and problems the past two years and I'm just aching to get the season started, because these guys are hungry and have a lot of scores to settle with a few teams," he added.

Of course the circled date on his calendar is the home opener at Tiger Stadium. It's a Monday night game, September 28th. The opponent—Green Bay.

"It may not be Thanksgiving Day, but it will be a blue Monday in Green Bay," and I sure hope I'm part of it."

Lions Battle Selves in Saturday Game

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

"Get your tickets, first come first served for the first showing of the 1964 Lions.

It promises to be a knockout and dragout affair at U. of D. Stadium Saturday night and it has the blessing of coach George Wilson to be just that.

It won't be the defensive unit against the offensive unit as past intra-squad scrimmages where special point systems had to be set up to enable the defensive team to score.

On one side of Titan Stadium will be the Blue team, quarterbacked by Earl Morrall and coached by Aldo Forte, Don Doll and Gene Cronin and even their own trainer, Bob Lundy.

On the opposing side of the field, Sonny Grandelius, Bob Nussbaumer and Les Bingaman will direct the White-shirted Lions, quarterbacked by Milt Plum with Millard Kelley as the trainer.

SQUAD CAPTAINS

Even the new setup of four captains will be split with Terry Barr and Joe Schmidt with the Blues, and Jim Gibbons and Dick Lane with the Whites.

Nothing has been done to make one team tougher than the other. The 54-man roster was split down the middle.

★ ★ ★

It will be Alex Karras with the Whites and Roger Brown with the Blue; Darris McCord with the Blues and Sam Williams with the Whites; John Gordy with the Blues and J. D. Smith with the Whites and so on by position.

"They can push each other around all they want Saturday night, but Sunday we're back as a team thinking about pushing a few other teams around," said Wilson.

The game is being sponsored by the Lions' Alumni Association with all proceeds going to the family of the late Ray "Scooter" McLean.

"Ther are 40 places to be had on this team and Saturday night is as good a time for every player to show how badly he wants one of those spots," Wilson added.

The final cut of players before the first exhibition game against the Redskins in Charlotte, N. C., August 8th is expected to be made after the Saturday night squad game.

★ ★ ★

Along with the veterans who give the Lions an intact, experienced squad at 22 positions offensively and defensively, the new faces on the team, Bill Quinlan, J. D. Smith and Hugh McInnis obtained by deals, and rookies Warren Wells, Pat Batten and Roger LaLonde will share the spotlight in their first Detroit appearance.

A crowd of 12,000 to 15,000 is anticipated Saturday night with the hope that it may reach 20,000 if weather conditions permit.

TICKETS AVAILABLE

Tickets are available in Pontiac at Osmun's on Saginaw and at Oliver Buick on Orchard Lake. In Birmingham they can be obtained at Varsity Shop.

The Cranbrook training camp office also has them and they can be picked up at U. of D. ticket office. Gates will open at 6:30 p.m. All tickets are $1.00.

Joe Schmidt Signs '64 Lion Contract

Veteran linebacker and co-captain, Joe Schmidt, signed his contract with the Detroit Lions yesterday, leaving four players still unsigned.

★ ★ ★

This will be Schmidt's 12th season in the NFL since his college days at Pitt.

The four still not under contract are flanker Terry Barr, guard John Gordy and defensive ends Sam Williams and Darris McCord.

NO PEP TALK — This isn't a pep talk gathering of the Detroit Lions by coach George Wilson. It was photography day at Cranbrook yesterday and a large crowd of fans was on hand to watch Detroit's 1964 NFL representative team pose for a team picture. There was no posing this morning, however, as the team engaged in its head bumping session.

Young Lefty Downs Chisox; Eyes 15 Wins

Detroit Uses 4 Hits, Walks to Advantage Gaining Victory

DETROIT (AP)—Young Mickey Lolich got the Detroit Tigers on the winning road again Tuesday night and took another step toward his goal of 15 victories this season.

And the strong lefthander did it against the team that has given the Tigers fits this year and Lolich trouble in his brief major league career — the Chicago White Sox.

The Tigers could manage only four hits off Joel Horlen and Hoyt Wilhelm, but took advantage of every one of them — and a few walks — to record a 6-3 triumph.

It was only the second win over the White Sox in eight games this year and the first in five games at home.

Lolich had the most trouble with Pete Ward, who got two of the six Chicago hits. Both were solid homers which accounted for all of the Sox runs.

OUTSIDE CURVE

"He hit an outside curve the first time," said Lolich, explaining Ward's two-run blast in the fourth inning.

"He was fooled on a fast ball that was up the next time (in the sixth)," Lolich continued. "But he used his wrists and sent that one out too. The ball was up but not up enough."

It was Lolich's first win over the White Sox, after four setbacks, and his seventh complete game of the campaign.

"In spring training I set my goal at 15 victories," Lolich explained. "We've got about 60 games to play and I should get about ten starts. I should get five wins out of that."

★

Lolich went on to say that Manager Charlie Dressen told him he would be a starting pitcher for the rest of the year and would not be used in relief.

"Charlie told me the only reason he used me against New York in relief was because we had used so many pitchers against them."

A walk, Jerry Lumpe's single and an infield out gave the Tigers their first run in the first inning.

Then came Ward's two homers, and the White Sox had a 3-1 lead going into the sixth.

Gates Brown then hit a two-run homer in the last half of the sixth to tie the score.

Horlen, who got out of earlier jams with the help of double plays, gave way to Wilhelm in the seventh. George Thomas' sacrifice fly scored Bill Freehan with the go-ahead run.

★

A double by Al Kaline, Norm Cash's single and a throwing error by Chicago second baseman Don Buford gave the Tigers their final two runs in the eighth.

Hank Aguirre (2-5) and Ray Herbert (3-3) are the scheduled starters for the game tonight, the second of the three-game series.

Can Only Beat Giants

Jim Bunning Slipping—Is He?

By The Associated Press

Jim (Perfect Game) Bunning is slipping and if he keeps it up the Philadelphia Phillies are in able to slide right into their first National League pennant in 14 years.

Bunning, you see, is undergoing the jinx that strikes so many no-hit pitchers. The poor fellow has struggled through July with just two victories. He can't seem to beat anybody anymore—that is anybody except the second place San Francisco Giants.

The lanky ex-American Leaguer baffled the Giants for 8 1-3 innings Tuesday night before leaving for Jack Baldschun who fed a double play ball to Willie McCovey to wrap up a 4-0 Phillie victory in the opener of a crucial three-game series.

It was only Bunning's third victory in the five weeks since he set down 27 New York Mets in a row. Two of these victories have come against the Giants and Phillie Manager Gene Mauch couldn't have hoped for a healthier hex.

SPELL BROKEN

The Giants couldn't do a thing with Bunning for 5 1-3 innings and visions of another no-hitter (only three pitchers have ever put two classics together in one summer) had Phillie fans excited. But Hal Lanier's single broke the spell in the sixth.

Gus Triandos, meanwhile, provided his batterymate with all the runs he needed in the fourth inning with a three-run homer, his first circuit in three months and only his second of the season.

YANKEE KILLER

Dean Chance doesn't know it, but he's in trouble.

He's a Yankee-killer, full-fledged, thorough-going and heavily credentialled. He's the best in the world at the obscure art, succeeding Frank Lary in the position.

★ ★ ★

The Los Angeles Angel right-hander stopped New York's American League leaders on just two hits Tuesday night, 3-1, snapping the Yanks' five-game winning string but not disturbing their leading margin.

One of the Yank hits was a homer by Mickey Mantle in the seventh, the first New York run off Chance in 37 innings, a string that stretched back to Sept. 25, 1963.

Chance got all the support he needed from Jim Fregosi, who hit for the cycle, lashing a two run homer in third and adding a triple, double and single.

The Yankees, however, retained a full-game lead over Baltimore, 7-4 losers to Minnesota. Detroit beat Chicago 6-3, Washington edged Cleveland 4-3 and Kansas City nipped Boston 2-1 in the other American League games, all at night.

NBA Votes to Widen Foul Lanes

CINCINNATI (AP)—The little man is being given more of a chance to compete with the giants in the National Basketball Association.

Widening of the free throw lanes from 12 to 16 feet was approved Tuesday by the NBA Board of Governors.

★ ★ ★

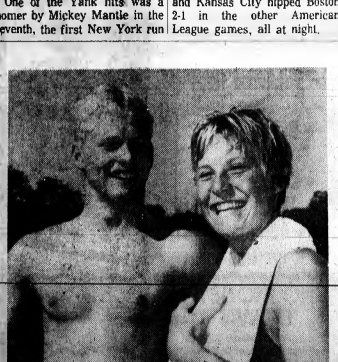

"The new rule is designed to open up the middle a bit more and give the little man driving room," League Commissioner J. Walter Kennedy said.

"It should reduce effectiveness of extreme height to a certain extent, and make sure teams do not use a zone defense—which is prohibited anyway," he added.

TRIAL PERIOD

The new rule will be used in exhibition and regular games, Kennedy said, until mid-December when a decision will be made on whether to make it permanent.

Kennedy said the NBA also discussed the possibility of increasing the nine-team league to 10 teams by 1965-66. Cities being considered for a new franchise include Pittsburgh, Chicago, Cleveland, Kansas City, Houston, Dallas and San Diego.

SWIM FAVORITES — Santa Clara Swim Club stars Don Schollander and Donna de Varona are expected to show up well in the National AAU men's and women's championships which begin tomorrow at Foothill College and Fremont Hills pools in Los Altos. Some 380 swimmers are entered in the four-day event.

Sackett Blanks PBI for 8th Win

One of the big reasons for Huron-Airway's runaway in the Class A men's league this season has been the pitching of Don Sackett.

The hard-throwing Sackett racked up his eighth win and fourth shutout of the campaign last night as Huron nipped Pontiac Business Institute, 1-0.

Sackett struck out five, walked one and spaced four hits. PBI runners never advanced beyond second base.

The win raised Huron's record to 15-2, while the loss dropped PBI (9-7) 1½ games behind the second place Clippers (11-6).

Victim of Sackett's performance was left-hander Ed Sparkman, who struck out nine and yielded Huron's unearned run in the opening frame.

With two out in the first, John Fleser and Al Barkeley rapped back-to-back singles and Fleser came across the plate on a throwing error by left fielder Bob Smith.

DON'T MOO-VE — The cows aren't the least bit upset as golfer Chauncey Smith goes into his backswing on the eighth fairway in a nine-hole course at Barton, Vt. The course is laid out smack in the middle of the farm of Amri Vezina, who leases the grazing land to the club. AP Photofax

Cows Have Little Course Etiquette

BARTON, Vt. (AP) — The sign on the first tee at the Barton Country Club entreats golfers not to hit the cows.

"Yes," says the club vice president, Ken Elliott, "I guess we're not like most country clubs. But we have a lot of fun."

* * *

The nine-hole course is laid out in the middle of Amri Vezina's farm. Amri, who leases the land to the club, doesn't play golf. He's too busy protecting his herd of 50 dairy cows from the golfers.

"We've had to modify our rules a little," said Elliott, an insurance agent, "for example we play winter rules here all year around."

Winter rules permit a golfer to improve his fairway lie so long as he doesn't move the ball appreciably closer to the hole.

"We have to have preferred lies at all times," said Elliott, "because the cows aren't very considerate."

The cows also require some modifications of the course.

"We have fences around all the greens — about three feet high — to keep the cows away," Elliott said.

* * *

What happens if the approach shot strikes the fence?

"Oh, we just allow the golfer to take it over — unless it hits the fence on the back of the green. We have to count those."

The cows create other problems.

"We have to carry insurance against the cows being hurt," Elliott said. "And we've had to pay off a few times."

'UDDER DAMAGE'

Farmer Vezina sued on several occasions claiming "udder damage" and won.

"Fella was visiting me once," Elliott remembers, "and he remarked that the course looked kind of shoddy. He didn't think we had a prosperous club.

"I took him out to the first fairway the next day. The cows had been grazing there all morning and had eaten away every bit of rough — clear up to the woodline.

"'Can you tell me of any other course,' I asked him, 'that has 50 fairway mowers.'"

5 Ranked Juniors Out in Net Tourney

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)— Five ranking juniors are on the sidelines after two rounds of play in the National Junior and Boys Tennis Championships.

Latest to fall were fifth-seeded Jeff Brown of Carmichael, Calif., and seventh-seeded Lamar Roemer of Houston, Tex. Both were eliminated Tuesday in the second round.

* * *

Unheralded Mike Sprengelmeyer of Dubuque, Iowa, stunned an erratic Brown, 6-4, 6-3. Mike Graham of Houston won by default in the third set when Roemer had to retire because of a painful case of bursitis in his right shoulder. The scores were 4-6, 6-3, 1-0. Graham lost the first set, won the second and had the edge in the third.

Sprengelmeyer played Pierce Kelley of Miami Beach, Fla., in today's round of 16 matches while Graham faced Michigan champion Chuck Brainard of Hamtramck.

WESTERN CHAMP

Western junior champion Bill Harris of West Palm Beach, Fla., second seeded in the nationals, advanced with a 6-3, 6-1 victory over Mike Anderson of Chicago. Harris played Bernard Adelburg of Fresh Meadows, N.Y., in today's round.

Top-seeded junior George Seewagen of Bayside, N.Y., eliminated Charles Hawley of Cincinnati, 6-3, 6-3. Seewagen's next opponent was Richard Dell of Bethesda, Md.

The rankings held true in boys singles although fifth-seeded Stanley Pasarell of Capara Heights, Puerto Rico, was extended to three sets in beating John Mayotte of Springfield, Mass., 2-6, 6-3, 6-1. Seventh-ranked Richard Howell of Atlanta ousted Bob McKinley of St. Louis 4-6, 6-3, 6-0.

Pasarell played Bruce Bartlett of Metairie, La., today and Howell met Steve Turpen of Sacramento, Calif.

2 Deadlocked in Medal Play

Former Pontiac Women's Medal champion Mrs. Chris Miller was tied for the lead as the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association moved into the third round today of its 54-hole medal play tourney at Brae-Burn Golf Club in Detroit.

Ex-Teammate Haunts Arro

A few weeks back, pitcher Doug Hall, toiling for Arro Realty in the American Softball League, complained of lack of work.

Hall had pitched only 10 innings, so he decided to ask Arro for a release as the July 15 deadline neared. The release was granted and Hall hooked up with 300 Bowl.

Last night, Hall came back to haunt his ex-teammates.

He tossed a no-hitter and scored the winning run as 300 downed Arro, 1-0 in the season finale, and the victory enabled 300 to tie the really crew for the league lead. Both are 12-3.

The two squads will decide the loop championship tomorrow at 7 p.m. at Beaudette Park.

OTHER GAMES

In other American games, Elk No. 810 (7-8) downed Sam Reeve (5-10), 6-1, and Local No. 594 (7-9) trimmed Bob & Ken's (12-13), 11-1.

Hall fanned three and walked four as he breezed through the Arro lineup.

He started the winning rally with a single leading off in the sixth inning, moved around to third on an error and a sacrifice and came across the plate on an infield hit by left fielder Tom Studt.

Jake Mazur tossed a three-hitter and struck out 13 batters for UAW, and he banged out a pair of singles in four trips to the plate.

Elks, trailing 1-0 after two innings, came up with two in the third, two in the fourth and two in the fifth to sew up the decision. Ed McNamara led the attack with a pair of singles.

* * *

In Waterford playoff action, Lakeland C downed Huron Bowl, 6-5, in the first of a best-of-three series, and Howe's Lanes trimmed LaKeland B, 8-5.

The same teams meet again in the second game of the series tonight.

One More Day to Enter Net Tournament

Thursday Is Deadline for Oakland County Open Tennis Meet

Thursday is the deadline for entering the 5th annual Oakland County Open tennis tournament which will start Saturday morning at Oakland University tennis courts.

The tournament, open for men's singles and doubles entries only, will be played Saturday and Sunday and continue the following weekend with the finals set for Sunday August 9th.

The entry blank found in The Press can be used and the entry fee of $1.00 for singles and $1.00 per doubles team must accompany the form.

Players who wish to enter but cannot submit their entries by the 4:00 p.m. deadline can do so by calling The Press sports department or the city recreation department.

REGISTRATION

They can pay their fees at the time they register at the courts.

Each player must supply one ball for his match up to the semi-finals. The tennis balls will be supplied for the semi-final and final matches.

Defending singles champion is Dick Scripter of Birmingham and doubles champs are Dick Mineweaser and Ralph Alee of Pontiac.

Pairings and times of the matches this weekend will be posted in Friday's Press.

Nitschke, Defense Sparkle for Packers

By United Press International

There seems to be no justice in the National Football League as the rich get richer.

But when the rich are the talent laden Green Bay Packers the rest of the NFL teams had better be on their guard.

* * *

Ray Nitschke, the most valuable player in the National Football League championship game two years ago, seems to be fully recovered from a broken arm which kept him sidelined for the final games of last season and his teammates have this information firsthand.

Nitschke along with ends Dave Robinson and Willie Davis, ran rampant over the Packers offensive unit during a full-scale scrimmage yesterday.

The three defenders stopped end sweeps and were in tackle after tackle.

Even second-year man Lionel Aldridge, reporting late because of Army duty, looked especially good in thwarting Green Bay passers Bart Starr, Zeke Bratkowski and rookie Merv Holland.

* * *

As if a healthy defense were not enough, fullback Jim Taylor and versatile halfback Paul Hornung were also impressive.

It could be that the rest of the NFL coaches will soon be calling for an equalization draft to break up the Packers.

The speedy development of several rookies forced the New York Giants to cut halfback Bob Anderson, a star at West Point several years ago.

Giants rookie backs Ernie Wheelright, Clarence Childs and Steve Thurlow are determined to win berths with the Eastern Division champs.

TIES FOR LEAD — This 5¾-pound largemouth being held by Harold Reeves, 93 E. Princeton, is in a three-way tie for the lead in The Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby's black bass division. Reeves caught the lunker last Friday on a nightcrawler harness while fishing Lake Louise.

Three Deadlocked in Press Fish Derby

Who will catch the tie-breaker in The Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby's black bass division?

Will it be Nickolai Ivanov, Harold Reeves, Elizabeth Dodge or someone else?

The three mentioned above have entered largemouth bass each weighing 5¾ pounds. There has only been one previous deadlock in the 29 years of the Derby.

The Derby doesn't close until Sept. 4, so there is a good chance a larger bass will be entered.

Ivanov, of Auburn Heights, caught his bass at Fish Lake the last week in June. Mrs. Dodge, of Holly, scored Saturday at Simpson Lake and Reeves boated his last Friday at Lake Louise.

Other leaders are a one-pound bluegill, a 4-pound rainbow and an 8¾-pound pike. All but the rainbow are below average for this time in the Derby.

Russell Rana, 670 Scottwood, Highland Township, took a 4-pound smallmouth last week at Cass Lake using crabmeat.

Charles Garland, 451 S. Telegraph, had his hands full this week while fishing the Clinton River between Sylvan Lake and Beaudette Park pond.

He hooked, and managed to land, a 22-pound carp.

Dave Keaggy Jr. Leads Tournament

WATKINS GLEN, N. Y. — Dave Keaggy Jr., 3807 Aquarina, Waterford Township, is leading the amateur division of the National Field Archery Tournament after the first day of shooting.

Keaggy fired a 513 yesterday to take a five-point lead over his nearest competitor in the tournament which ends Friday.

Recommend S. Michigan Antlerless Deer Season

Oakland Area Possible Site

Over-All Whitetail Harvest Studied

A plan to thin the expanding Southern Michigan deer herd will be presented to the Conservation Commission during its Aug. 6-7 meeting at Higgins Lake.

Up for consideration is a Conservation Department plan that calls for the taking of 1,800 antlerless deer from nine Southern Michigan areas during the regular firearms season.

Northwest Oakland County has been mentioned as one of the possible locations.

Also, the department is recommending a fall deer harvest of about 60,000 antlerless whitetails and 70,000 bucks.

The Southern Michigan plan, in the works for several months, is an attempt to solve the problem of farm crop damage caused by the whitetail herd that officials estimate is doubling every five years.

"The season will not be a one - shot answer to the region's deer problems," an official said.

"However, it would bring relief where control is needed most." The department said the proposed fall deer kill is designed to let hunters "take all surplus deer above an adequate safety cushion."

Elsewhere, the department will recommend an antlerless take of 15,400 deer in the Upper Peninsula — about one per acre — and 49,000 in the northern Lower Peninsula, or less than four per acre in the areas involved.

Special seasons would be held in 11 areas above the Straits of Mackinac and in 44 areas in the northern Lower Peninsula.

The department said it anticipates issuing 200,000 antlerless permits statewide to reach the kill projection.

The legislature this year provided for a firearms season opening Nov. 14 and running through Nov. 29 west of M77 in the Upper Peninsula.

The season will be Nov. 15-30 for the remainder of the state.

In other game matters, the department said it will recommend Oct. 25 as the "median date" for waterfowl duck and coots seasons with the opening adjusted to not fall on Saturday or Sunday.

CAVITIES CHECKED — A researcher checks the teeth of a "tranquilized" grizzly bear at Yellowstone National Park. The collar around the bear's neck contains a tiny radio transmitter that will record the animal's movements.

'Ursus Horribilis' Object of Research

Ursus horribilis.

The ancient Romans never saw a North American grizzly bear, but they certainly had an apt Latin name for it. The "horrible bear" has struck fear into many an outdoorsman, particularly naturalists, are fearing for the grizzly bear's precarious existence.

"Since Lewis and Clark first saw grizzly bears on our western prairies in 1805, their numbers have steadily declined," report research scientists John and Frank Craighead.

"In the United States, excluding Alaska, they now exist only as remnant populations in wilderness areas, national parks and national forests of the Rocky Mountains."

These brother naturalists, both Ph.D.'s in ecology, believe the heaviest grizzly concentration to be in Yellowstone National Park.

Consequently, some of the estimated 200 grizzlies inhabiting Yellowstone Park and adjacent country are serving science. Some are being "tranquilized" with drugs, "tagged" with radio transmitters and "tattooed" on the leg—all in the interest of preserving the species.

Tourists in Yellowstone Park rarely, if ever, see a grizzly. They don't become roadside panhandlers like their smaller relative, the mooching black bears.

RESEARCH TEAM

Unmolested, that is, until 1959 when the Craighead research team appeared on the scene.

Sponsored by the National Science Foundation, the National Geographic Society, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and other interested organizations, the team began an intensive grizzly bear study in order to more fully understand the threatened giant.

The experience of Bear No. 73 is a typical example of their work. It was a male, or boar, grizzly. He entered a baited cage located in the Hayden Valley. He liked the bait and the trap door clanked shut behind him.

Researchers shot a drugged dart at him.

Eight minutes later, "tranquilized" Number 73 was dragged out onto the ground.

He was hoisted on a scale and carefully weighed (780 pounds, the largest bear examined to date). He was measured from head to tail.

Blood samples were taken.

His fangs and claws examined. Identification numbers tattooed on the inside of the right leg. The examination over, a colorful plastic tag was fastened in his left ear. Researchers moved cautiously back from the beast.

* * *

Ninety-three minutes after being stung by a dart, Number 73 snarled and ambled awkwardly across the valley to the safety of lodgepole pine. Slowly.

Certain bears are "tagged" with a small radio transmitter fastened by a loop antenna around the neck. This gives off a pulsed signal.

Shotgun Championship

State Shoot at Davison

The 10th annual Michigan State Shotgun Championship will be Aug. 8-9 at the Williams Gunsight Company fields on Lapeer Road west of Davison.

This tournament is rated one of the most difficult in the United States because contestants must shoot in the trap, skeet and bird fields.

The bird field contains 25 targets that are released as the shooter walks through under simulated hunting conditions.

No one has ever posted a perfect 75 in the shoot.

Last year's men's champion was Jay Howlett of Davison with a score of 72. Velma Hickey of Saginaw topped the lady shooters with a 60.

Non-resident titles went to Joe Haggerty of Fremont, Ohio, and Bill Neitz of Perrysburg, Ohio.

Skeet, trap and bird fields will be open for practice rounds Aug. 3-7. A preliminary shoot will also be held this Saturday and Sunday.

World's champion party-goer.

ONCE TOO OFTEN — The 240-pound blue shark on the left nosed around for dinner once too often. Mrs. James Clarkson, 3111 St. Jude, Waterford Township, caught the shark July 23, while fishing 20 miles south of Montauk (Long Island) Light in the Atlantic. Mr. Clarkson stands a little to the side. That's his 51-pound dusky shark displayed.

Mr. Wettlaufer, a foreman for Fernstedt Division of General Motors, Detroit, died Saturday after an illness of several weeks.

There are no survivors.

Car Mishaps Kill 1,100

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic accidents have killed 1,100 persons in Michigan this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The highway death toll at this date last year was 962.

2 Men Admit Setting Fire

Two of three Oakland County men, arrested in Gaylord July 19 in connection with a burglary and shooting, Monday told Pontiac police they set a June 18 fire at Main Cleaners in Waterford Township.

The men volunteered information on the fire during questioning by Pontiac Detective Robert Verbine and Sgt. John DePauw at the Antrim County jail where the trio awaits sentencing.

All three formerly worked at Main Cleaners.

Held in jail are Charles Ward, 20, and Gerald Milmine, 24, both of 5 Front and George Boatwright, 22, of 27 Hickory, Milford Township.

Ward and Boatwright told police they set the fire and said Milmine assisted them, Pontiac police said Milmine denied any participation.

All three pleaded guilty to burglary and await sentence. Milmine faces a trial in the shooting of a store owner in the leg during the burglary near Gaylord.

Pontiac officers also said the trio admitted a July 8 service station burglary in Pontiac and another recent gas station break-in in Orion Township.

The officers questioned the men because Milmine is on parole.

Due to construction work on the Otsego County jail in Gaylord, the trio was transported to the Antrim County jail in Bellaire.

Damage at Main Cleaners, 4480 Elizabeth Lake, was estimated at $33,500.

SHORTY A 2-Minute Short Story

Copyright 1964 by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

'My Dear Miss Hicklewaith'

By ROSE MISHLOVE

Miss Daphne Hicklewaith
Chicago, Ill.

I hope you will note that this is not another form letter but, rather, a personal request for your cooperation in supplying with information.

You have received a number of form letters over the past five months requesting payment of $6.30 for your 1963 Universal BOOK OF THE YEAR.

However, my purpose in writing you is NOT to ask you to pay for your YEAR BOOK, but rather to ask you WHY you haven't paid.

* * *

It appears that it is not a question of being UNABLE to pay — for obviously the amount is very small — but rather of being UNWILLING to pay.

SURPRISING

This surprises me, for we know from experience that the type of person who buys a set of Universal does not default on debts of this type.

I am sure that you feel you have good reason for withholding payment. If so, perhaps there is something we at Universal are overlooking, and it would help us greatly if you would bring it to our attention. That is why I am personally writing to you.

You may be assured that I will take a personal interest in what you have to say and will very much appreciate hearing from you.

Sincerely,
Melvin Braxton, Asst.
Credit Manager
Universal Encyclopedia

* * *

Dear Mr. Braxton:

I am sorry that I have let you people down. I guess I'm not the type of person who should be permitted to own the Universal Encyclopedia.

MERE PITTANCE

Obviously, the type of person who buys the Universal is a member of the elite. So special, that the sum of $6.30 is a mere pittance. Well, let me fill you in on a few facts, Buster — $6.30 is not a piddling sum to me and never has been.

But of course you would not accept this as a good reason for not paying. Or would you? It would not be good business because everyone would be encouraged to buy what they can't afford.

Sure, I own a Universal Encyclopedia. It was the dream of my lifetime; it represented the college education I was never able to have. I even went without lunches and nylons to have enough for the down payment. I ordered the 1963 Year book, because things looked pretty good.

* * *

How did I know that I was going to get sick and lose my job and have the bills piling up. I'm not sorry that I have the Year book. I must have looked through it a thousand times while I was sick.

DIDN'T MEAN

Anyway, I didn't mean to bore you with all those details; only I have been lonely and your letter did seem a little bit friendly.

Faithfully yours,
Daphne Hicklewaith

* * *

My Dear Miss Hicklewaith:
It grieves me to hear that one of our loyal subscribers has been ill.

I disagree with you. You obviously are a person of the caliber who not only should be allowed to have a set of the Universal, but your reverence for the knowledge it contains should be publicized, so as to encourage other people.

* * *

If you will allow us to reprint portions of your letter in our brochures, we will be glad to write off the $6.30 as well as gift you with a free copy of the 1964 Book of the year, which I will undertake to deliver personally this coming Saturday night.

CHINESE NEW YEAR

You will note, if you check your Universal Calendar, that this is the night of the Chinese New Year.

Cordially yours,
Melvin Braxton

* * *

Dear Bette:
I want to thank you for the loan of your Hong Kong Lounging Pajamas as well as for your recipe of Chicken Moo Goo Guy Pan. I made Melvin Braxton an authentic Chinese supper when he came to present me with the 1964 Book of the Year.

Well, we spent a very instructive evening looking up Chinese customs in the Universal Encyclopedia. It really is a very absorbing topic and I guess Melvin stayed pretty late.

* * *

It was a little difficult reading by the light of the Japanese lanterns you loaned me, but the pictures were nice and clear.

CLOSEST FRIEND

Since you are my closest friend, I'll let you in on a little secret. When I opened my fortune cookie, it said "You will meet a man who will alter the course of your life."

Melvin put his hands over mine and said "Just how smart can a fortune cookie get?"

Anyway, I guess that a mutual interest in things of Oriental nature is as good a basis for marriage as any.

* * *

Don't worry, I'll pitch my bridal bouquet directly at you; after all you were the one who told me about that adorable, eligible fellow in charge of delinquent accounts at your office.

Gratefully,
Daph.

Resident Finds Dixie Diamond

Dora Acton of 280 W. Hopkins in Pontiac found a rare silver cape diamond, worth $3,500 uncut, in the Arkansas Diamond Mine southeast of Murfreesboro, Ark. yesterday.

* * *

She, her husband Lonnie, and their granddaughter, Lynn Ann Hensley, were some of the many sightseers attracted to the mine, which charges $1.50 admission and gives the tourist the right to keep all he finds.

Mrs. Acton found the diamond in an open field which had just recently been washed with rain. "It was setting right on top of the ground," Mr. Acton said.

The four carat, 30 point, colorless diamond was weighed and appraised by J. R. Johnston, owner of the mine and a gemologist.

* * *

Johnston said the diamond will cut into approximately two and one-half carats, which should sell for about $2,500 a carat as a cut stone.

French Esteem for JFK Like Ours for Lafayette

By EARL WILSON

PARIS — There's a lovely street here along the Seine that you probably haven't seen if you haven't been to Paris since the autumn of 1963.

It's Avenue du President Kennedy — pronounced "Pressidahnt Kennuhdeeee."

WILSON

Paris gave it that name after JFK was taken from us. You come upon it quite dramatically if you're a walker. You're meandering along the Right Bank in the sun on the Avenue de New York when you come to the beautiful cool, green gardens of Trocadero . . . and at Rue Le Notre near Avenue des Nations-Unies, you see something that's startling.

You see blue-and-white street signs on sides of walls that say "Quai de Passy"—but there are downward white strokes through Quai de Passy . . . and below are the large new signs, Avenue du President Kennedy.

* * *

You pull yourself up! You've heard about this, but there you are, right in it! It's historic.

I pulled in my waist and mopped my brow and decided to walk the whole distance . . . for Quai de Passy has been wiped off the new maps by Avenue du President Kennedy. It starts around the Rue Beethoven and continues past not exactly the most interesting architecture in the world . . .

* * *

The Ministry of Construction, a viaduct, a Shell and Esso station, a few bistros, a big Peugot works, and a large round new Radiodiffusion Television Francaise building.

All the way to the Avenue du Versailles at the Bridge of Grenelle.

There I reined myself in and sank down at Les Ondes cafe and had a beer and thought it over.

CUTS CAKE — Cheryl Crane, actress Lana Turner's daughter, cuts her 21st birthday cake during a party for her in Hollywood last weekend. With Lana Turner is former husband and father to Cheryl, Steven Crane. Cheryl fatally stabbed one of her mother's boyfriends in 1958 but the killing was ruled as justified.

Party Marks Cheryl's 21st

Lana's Daughter Now of Age

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD—It was a social event that almost went without notice, despite its significance in the history of Hollywood's cafe society.

The occasion: a 21st birthday party for Cheryl Crane, given by her mother, Lana Turner.

THOMAS

Cheryl and her friends were rocking to the Watusi until early Monday morning on the Sunset Strip, where Lana once ruled as queen of filmland's night life. The blonde star joined in the gyrating dance with professional style. But most of the time she watched as the youngsters vibrated to the beat of strumming guitars. This was Cheryl's night.

"For weeks I've been working on every tiny detail," Lana remarked over the party noise.

The flowers, the buffet, the entertainment—I took care of everything. I even invited every guest by telephone."

The party reflected careful planning. One hundred and fifty guests, all screened by private detectives at the door, poured into the Galaxy, one of the strip's night spots that has sprung up to satisfy the Watusi craze. Each table was decorated with sprays of red and pink daisies and carnations, and balloons festooned the walls. Pink carnations spelled out "Happy Birthday, Cheryl" over the bar.

CLINGING WHITE

Lana, trim in a clinging white lace dress, greeted each guest. Her daughter, in a low-backed red formal, also visited every table. Cheryl, who has been sheltered since the 1958 slaying of Johnny Stompanato, is now a statuesque brunette beauty, five inches taller than her mother.

* * *

Cheryl's stabbing of Stompanato, underworld figure who had been dating her mother, was ruled justifiable homicide after she testified he had threatened Miss Turner. Thereafter she was involved in a series of minor scrapes that kept her name in the news. Friends and family say that she now has settled down and become a model citizen.

* * *

Most of the guests were Cheryl's contemporaries, plus some of the younger acting crop, such as Elizabeth Ashley and television stars Gardner McKay, Clint Eastwood and Doug McClure. An old friend of the family also dropped in—Frank Sinatra.

Cheryl's father, Steve Crane, was in attendance, as was Lana's No. 5 Fred May, who is often her date despite their divorce.

U.S. Steel Chief Sees Good Second Half

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK — The outlook for the economy and the steel industry appears good for the balance of the year, says Roger M. Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp.

He made the observation at a news conference Tuesday after U.S. Steel reported earnings for the three months ended June 30.

* * *

The company, largest steelmaker in the country, earned $80,696,096, or $1 a share, in the second quarter. This compared with $73,214,182 or $1.25 a share, in the 1963 second quarter and $51,546,002, or 84 cents a share, in the first quarter of this year.

In the first half, U.S. Steel's profits totaled $132,242,098, or $1.84 a share, against $103,132,950, or $1.67 a share in the 1963 first half.

REGULAR DIVIDEND

Directors declared a regular dividend of 50 cents a share, payable Sept. 10 to stockholders of record Aug. 7.

* * *

In the second half of 1963 steel users were buying heavily as a hedge against a possible strike. There was no parallel situation in the second quarter of this year.

* * *

Republic Steel, No. 3 in the industry, reported earlier that its earnings fell to $17,705,078, or $1.13 a share, in the second quarter from $21,993,374, or $1.40 a share, in the like 1963 period.

Second ranking Bethlehem Steel will report Thursday.

'ON EVEN KEEL'

Blough said the economy seems to be "on an even keel" and "one could be modestly optimistic about the rest of the year."

"The order picture in the steel industry for this time of year is especially good," he said. "The first days of July brought orders as good as any we have seen."

* * *

"We think the present trend in capital spending by industry is much better," Blough said. "We have had a major resurgence in private building. When you have a resurgence in capital goods you can expect steel to gain."

345 Approved for State Races

2 Rejected From Ballot

LANSING (AP) — The Board of State Canvassers has denied a place on the Sept. 1 primary ballot to two legislative candidates because of improper petitions.

The board Tuesday approved the candidacy of 345 other persons for offices ranging from governor to state representative, and awarded two the right to distinguishing labels on the ballot.

David Lebenbom, chairman of the board, said petitions filed by Ronald Miller of Trenton, a Democratic candidate for the 11th senatorial district, were disallowed because they lacked the required number of signatures.

Miller needed 377 names but by his own admission submitted only about 300, according to Bernard Apol, assistant elections director.

Also denied a place on the ballot was Noble J. Brady of New Baltimore, one of seven Democrats in the primary in the 75th district of Macomb County. Brady's petitions lacked some information required by state law, Apol said.

The board approved ballot designations for two candidates for the senate's 30th (Ingham County) district, on the basis of their having similar surnames.

Victor Meir of Williamston, will be designated "attorney" and Lamont Meir of Byron, "township supervisor," the board ruled.

Ballot designations were denied to Circuit Judge Allen Miller of Alpena, and Circuit Judge Donald Holbrook of Clare, candidates for the new State Court of Appeals.

The board rejected the claims of Miller and Holbrook that their surnames were similar to those of candidates Philip Mitchell of Hastings, and Robert Howell of Grand Rapids, respectively.

Also turned down by the board was a challenge to the residency qualifications of Rep. Carroll Newton, R-Delton, who moved to Charlotte following reapportionment of the legislature.

Predict Ranger 7 Will Hit Target Area on Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The camera-carrying Ranger 7 spacecraft probably will hit its largest area of the lighted side of the moon, a space scientist said today after an apparently successful midway maneuver of the rocket.

Dr. William H. Pickering, director of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which is guiding the 806-pound vehicle on its 238,000-mile voyage, told a news conference "I think we'll get in the target area" — a 300-mile wide plain just above the equator in the center of the left half of the moon.

The area, called the Sea of Clouds by ancient astronomers who imagined the flat spaces on the moon were bodies of water, was chosen as a photographic target because it could be a good landing spot for U.S. astronauts within a few years.

Pickering, obviously elated, said it appears the spacecraft did what it was supposed to do, "but we must analyze tracking data for several hours before we can determine the impact area precisely."

Ranger 7, latest attempt of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to take closeup pictures of the surface of the moon, was launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., yesterday morning.

Major event in the hour and a half midcourse maneuver was a 57-mile-an-hour change in speed — termed a kick in the head — designed to bring Ranger 7 on course toward its target area.

The kick—a 50-second burst by its steering rocket—was ordered at 5:27 a.m. Pontiac time by Jet Propulsion Laboratory scientists after hours of tracking indicated Ranger 7 would buttonhook past the leading edge of the moon and impact on the dark side.

On radio signals from earth, the 806-pound spacecraft pirouetted briefly for better aim, then ignited a small rocket in its base.

★ ★ ★

In effect, the brief burst slowed by 67 m.p.h. the 4,000 m.p.h. speed that would have carried Ranger 7 some 240 miles left of the face of the moon, as viewed from earth.

Pontiac Area Wakes Up to Surprise—Cool Relief

After 13 days of blistering heat, the Pontiac area woke up today to a cool surprise. The mercury hit a low of 70 at 8 a.m. At 1 p.m., the thermometer registered a pleasant 82 downtown.

The forecast for the next five days calls for more cool temperatures. The mercury will stay from one to three degrees below the normal high of 84 and low of 65.

A low of 54 to 60 is predicted for tonight, followed by a high tomorrow of 76 to 86. Warmer weather is expected Friday.

Skies will be fair the next two days.

★ ★ ★

Precipitation will total about one-fourth inch in occasional thundershowers over the weekend.

High Temperatures Dig In on a Stationary Front

The words "hot and humid" have been getting a real workout in weather forecasts this summer.

A more scientific answer to the question "How's the weather?" is: "slow, lazy and stagnant."

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Detroit Metropolitan Airport explained the long stretches of 90-degree weather today.

In essence, weather depends upon where high and low pressure centers locate and how long they stay there.

If a high center locates east of Michigan, we get warm, humid gulf air from the south.

When pressure centers are moving on a regular basis, the spans of hot and cooler weather are more frequent and of shorter duration.

The problem this summer? They're congregating in the wrong places (from a comfort standpoint) and then sitting there for long periods.

WEAK FRONTS

Most of the cool air fronts recently have been weak. A strong front brings storm activity; a weak front, clouds and maybe some scattered showers.

Today was a good example. A weak cold front moved through this area at about 7:15 a.m.

It brought some clouds and a few widely scattered showers, but by midmorning the sun was out again.

Mississippi Unpledged

Dems Block LBJ Foes

Two Top Contenders for Dem's Keynoter

WASHINGTON (AP)—An arrangements committee picks a keynoter today for next month's Democratic National Convention with Sens. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island and Birch Bayh of Indiana high among the possibilities.

Party colleagues said most of the speculation had centered on Pastore. A fiery speaker of Italian descent, Pastore has carved himself a respected place in the Senate with his intimate knowledge of legislation and his willingness to take on all comers in debate. He is 57.

In Providence, R. I., the Providence Journal said today it has learned reliably that Pastore has been asked by the White House to deliver the keynote address. The newspaper did not identify the source of its information.

Bayh, the second youngest senator at 36, is credited with some of the spellbinding ability that is traditional when the temporary chairman, or keynoter, extolls his own party's record and assails the opposition.

Originally there had been tentative plans to tab Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the youngest senator and the brother of the late President John F. Kennedy, for the job at the Atlantic City convention which opens Aug. 24. Kennedy's serious injuries in a June 19 plane crash, in which Bayh and his wife also were injured, made this impossible.

★ ★ ★

The arrangements committee, headed by National Chairman John M. Bailey, has been hampered in its choice of a keynoter because so many of the prospects have been mentioned as possible vice presidential candidates.

NO PROMOTION

The group didn't want to appear to be promoting any of these.

President Johnson is reported to have given no inkling of his choice to party organization or congressional leaders.

Both Pastore and Bayh have been staunch supporters of the Johnson legislative program, including the civil rights bill.

Seek to Rescue Trapped French Miners

CHAMPAGNOLE, France (AP) — Rescue workers punched an entrance today into an underground tunnel where five miners are believed trapped by a cave-in. Other men worked to open a rescue shaft to nine trapped men found alive more than 200 feet below the surface.

★ ★ ★

The rescuers made contact through an air tube with the nine men last night, 36 hours after the cave-in in a limestone mine in the Jura Mountains of eastern France.

The miners said three of their five missing companions were caught by falling rock and may have perished. They said there was no trace of the other two.

Torrential rains hampered the rescue work yesterday, but the sky was blue today. The limestone quarry lies beneath Mt. Rivel near the Swiss border.

The hole was opened by bulldozers this morning to permit rescue teams to enter the entrance tunnel where the cave-in occurred Monday and clear away debris by hand.

It was believed that the five missing men were in this gallery.

OTHER TEAMS

Other rescue teams were digging a 3-foot vertical shaft through the 211-foot layer of rock above the chamber where the nine known survivors were.

Drillers sank a small pipe into the underground gallery last night and exchanged signals with the miners. Then they lowered a microphone to the men by pushing through a larger pipe.

Negro Leaders Meet on Rioting, Politics

NEW YORK (AP)—Leaders of the nation's major civil rights organizations meet in a "summit conference" today, with Northern race riots and national politics high on the agenda.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP warned in his call for the meeting of the possibility of "increasingly violent and futile disorder."

★ ★ ★

Besides Wilkins, those scheduled to meet at the NAACP headquarters are Whitney M. Young, executive director of the Urban League; A. Philip Randolph, chairman of the National Negro American Labor Council; John Lewis, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee; James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

In his invitation to the other leaders, Wilkins called the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona as the Republican candidate for president a factor that could "produce the sternest challenge we have yet seen."

He had said shortly after the Republican convention that among Goldwater's supporters "are some of the most outspoken racists in America."

Move Called Victory Over Barnett Forces

Convention Action Termed Hypocritical by Rival Negro Party

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Soft-pedaling their opposition to President Johnson, Mississippi's all-white regular Democrats have named an uninstructed delegation to the national convention.

The move came at the request of Gov. Paul B. Johnson, titular head of the party in Mississippi, at yesterday's State Democratic Convention, which delayed naming presidential electors until a recess session is held Sept. 9 after next month's national convention.

Observers called the state convention action a victory for Gov. Johnson over former Gov. Ross Barnett's unpledged elector forces.

The latter are opposed to opening the door to the possibility that President Johnson may get on the ballot in Mississippi under the Democratic label.

★ ★ ★

The convention action was harshly criticized by leaders of the rival Freedom Democratic Party, a nearly all-Negro group which will seek the ouster of the regular Mississippi Democrats at the national convention.

'HYPOCRITICAL ACTION'

The convention "was probably one of the greatest examples of hypocritical political expediency in American history," said a statement by State Chairman Aaron Henry, a Clarksdale Negro druggist, and other leaders of the Freedom Democrats.

"By resolving that in September both pledged and unpledged electors will be placed on the ballot, the Mississippi party hopes to tempt the national party with at least the possibility of their supporting the national candidates in November.

"But this transparent ruse was used in 1960 and it is common knowledge that at that time the Mississippi party threw its whole weight behind the unpledged electors and denounced the national candidates."

★ ★ ★

Some of the regular Democrats had been expected to ask the state party to put up presidential electors pledged to Republican nominee Barry Goldwater, but the move did not materialize.

EXPECT BATTLE

Observers said they expected a battle at the Sept. 9 recess convention by Goldwater Democrats to capture the Democratic electors.

★ ★ ★

Gov. Johnson told the convention he stood ready to call a special session of the legislature and do what is necessary "to see that everyone in Mississippi has a choice and a right to choose."

Barry Wooing GOP Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican running mates Barry Goldwater and William E. Miller spent more than an hour with GOP congressional leaders today, seeking to cement party unity for the campaign ahead.

Miller, a New York congressman, called it another step in the drive to unify all Republicans — and said "we have no doubt that they will be successful."

Goldwater hurried out of the closed-door conference to a waiting elevator and said only:

"It was all about Republicans."

A dozen GOP leaders of the House and Senate were on hand — but one top Republican was missing. Senate whip Thomas Kuchel of California, who battled Goldwater's bid for the nomination, was not on hand.

★ ★ ★

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Kuchel had a conflicting appointment to have his eyes examined.

STATEMENT LATER

Dirksen said he and House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, would issue a statement on the session later.

"The best I can tell you now is in the words of Caesar: Veni, vidi, vici . . . we came, we saw, we conquered . . . lots of things."

Goldwater, arriving for the leadership meeting, denied reports that he talked by telephone yesterday with Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, his beaten rival for the presidential nomination.

★ ★

"I don't even know where he is, "Goldwater told a reporter.

WANTS TO DEBATE

The Arizona senator told more than 70 House Republicans yesterday he wants to debate Johnson during their campaign battle for the White House.

Rep. Jack Westland of Washington relayed word of the senator's declaration at a closed-door session that lasted for more than an hour. Goldwater confirmed it.

Westland reported Goldwater said he was ready and willing to confront Johnson before a nationwide television audience "and was anxious to do so."

★ ★ ★

To pave the way for debates, Westland said, Goldwater wants action on legislation that would suspend equal broadcast time requirements during the presidential race.

Layoffs Start at Fisher Body

Pontiac Motor Ends '64 Production Friday

Heavy model changeover layoffs will begin at Fisher Body Plant tonight as Pontiac Motor Division prepares to complete production of 1964 models Friday, after breaking every existing production record in the 38-year history of the division.

★ ★ ★

The final 1964 total will be 715,261 new cars, which exceeds the previous record total of 590,071 Pontiacs and Tempests produced last year.

This week, United Auto Workers locals and the Michigan Employment Security Commission Pontiac branch office are arranging for workers to file for and receive unemployment benefit claims at local union halls.

This year's production marks an increase of 125,190 cars assembled, or 21 per cent greater than in 1963, according to E. M. Estes, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

★ ★ ★

Estes also listed the following accomplishments during Pontiac's record run.

Teen-Age Race Riot Erupts at Dance in Boston Suburb

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — A teen-age rock 'n' roll dance erupted into a fist-swinging, rock-throwing melee last night between several hundred white and Negro youths.

* * *

Seven boys and one girl were injured and three policemen suffered cuts from thrown rocks. Some 1,200 white youths were attending the dance.

One boy, Joseph W. Sacco, 16, of Medford was still hospitalized today. He was at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston with a possible concussion.

The manager of the Bal-A-Roue Roller Skating Rink said the disturbance began when a Negro youth tried to cut in on a white couple. The manager asked not to be identified.

* * *

BROKE OUT

The trouble broke out just before the dance was to end at 11 p.m.

The rink management said 11 extra policemen were on because of an increasing number of Negro youths who had been showing up at the dances.

There had been no prior trouble at the dances, the manager said.

Police from five Greater Boston communities brought the disturbance under control within an hour. But the fighting and rock throwing had already carried over into the parking lot and into three buses parked there.

BEER BOTTLES

Police said knives and razor blades also were used in the fracas. Several broken beer bottles were found at the scene afterward.

In buses and cars parked in the lot, windows were broken and other damage caused. Police said seats in the buses were ripped up.

Rochester Keeps Lid on Unrest

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Racially troubled Rochester, where raging mobs staged a weekend of bloody violence, edged closer to its normal peace and quiet today after a test lifting of a dusk-to-dawn curfew.

Although the city spent a relatively peaceful night, hundreds of helmeted city and state police continued to patrol Rochester's Negro sections. Still standing by were 1,500 National Guardsmen, ready to swing into action if needed.

A promise of swift, harsh retaliation in event of renewed racial rioting apparently produced the desired effect of keeping the lid on a simmering unrest. The ban on liquor sales for Rochester and surrounding Monroe County remained in effect at least until 5 p.m. today.

Throughout the night, police checked out a flurry of trouble calls from the neighborhoods where rampaging mobs battled police, pillaged and looted stores and inflicted property damage estimated in the millions of dollars. Most of the calls turned out to be without cause.

HOMEMADE BOMBS

Detectives investigating a report of suspected loot, however, found three homemade gasoline bombs beneath a back porch in a Negro section. They confiscated the fire bombs, but no arrests were made.

In discussing the lifting of the curfew, first imposed last Saturday night, Mayor Frank T. Lamb described the move as a test.

* * *

"We are determined," Lamb said, "that law and order shall prevail in Rochester. Any violations shall be dealt with swiftly, harshly and conclusively."

Police have been instructed to use all necessary force to protect lives and property in case of a renewal of the bloody riots, which brought death to four men and injuries to three others.

More than 1,000 persons, mostly Negroes, were arrested, some on felony charges that could result in prison terms of up to five years.

JOINT EFFORT

An aide to the mayor said there were telephone calls to the White House and federal agencies in a "joint effort by all participants to increase federal participation" in various city programs, such as job retraining and aid to youth.

Invited by the mayor, King came here Monday night on what he called "a peace mission."

King, Wagner, Bayard Rustin, leader of the march on Washington last summer, and other civil rights leaders conferred for four hours.

Viets Blast De Gaulle

French Jeer Statue Wrecking

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — About 20 angry French men and women gathered today at the remains of a French war monument wrecked by Vietnamese students and hurled insults at passing natives.

* * *

"Fight the live enemy of the present, the Viet Cong, and not the dead enemy of the past," one Frenchman shouted to Vietnamese standing near the remnants of the memorial in downtown Saigon.

* * *

Police dispersed the French without violence when a group of Vietnamese students arrived and a clash threatened.

Students wrecked the huge bronze monument to France's war dead Tuesday night in a demonstration against President Charles de Gaulle's proposal that Viet Nam be neutralized and the war against the Communist Viet Cong ended.

HANDS FOLDED

As police stood by with hands folded, screaming youths pulled down a 30-foot statue of two French infantrymen and towed it off. They also toppled a bronze female figure representing peace.

* * *

The students wound up their demonstration with speeches calling for a break in relations with France, and expansion of the war against the Communist to North Viet Nam.

* * *

One student said action would be taken soon to persuade the government to nationalize French property in Viet Nam.

A few Frenchmen watched quietly as the students demolished the monument. About 1 a.m. several cars filled with French men and women drove up.

WOMEN WEEP

Some of the women began weeping. One read the inscribed names of Frenchmen killed in both World War I and the Indochina conflict and said: "May their souls rest in peace after this night."

Students had smeared the monument with green paint on July 20 in a protest demonstration marking the 10th anniversary of the Geneva agreement putting the northern half of this former French colony under Communist rule. The South Vietnamese government brushed aside a protest from the French Embassy.

Goldwater Article Attacks Multinational Force Plan

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — A West German weekly which has spoken favorably of Sen. Barry Goldwater's candidacy published today an article under his signature. It opposed the proposed multinational nuclear force and said a nuclear-armed North Atlantic Treaty Organization could "oppose local invasions on the spot with tactical nuclear weapons."

* * *

The paper, Deutsche National Zeitung, gave no indication when the article was written or whether it had been published previously.

* * *

Chief Editor Gerhard Frey's office said the article was written after Goldwater's nomination, expressly for the paper.

The article says:

"If we continue to withdraw our nuclear forces from Europe instead of strengthening them and bringing them under joint command, we shall one day be faced with a 'local invasion' by the Communists which will leave us no other choice than intercontinental retaliation or surrender to the Communist threat.

OPPOSE INVASION

"A nuclear-armed North Atlantic Treaty Organization could oppose local invasions on the spot with tactical nuclear weapons."

* * *

Deutsche National Zietung normally devotes much of its space to the defense of Germans accused of war crimes on Nazism.

In today's issue, all three articles on the front page are about American affairs.

* * *

The Goldwater article appears under the heading: "We have a duty to Europe, by Senator Barry Goldwater."

It begins: "The United States has a duty to the free world and should not draw back from this duty."

PAYS TRIBUTE

It pays tribute to NATO and charges the present United States government with weakening it to a point where it cannot serve as a firm wall against communism.

The root of the problem, the article continues, is the American determination to carry on its own negotiations with the Soviet Union.

* * *

"The government has failed to assure the full participation of the allies in the planning of NATO strategy in view of this problem, and to develop their forces including suitable atomic weapons," the article says.

* * *

The multinational nuclear force is endorsed by the American and West German governments. The United States wants such a force to be a surface fleet, armed with Polaris missiles and manned jointly by members of the Atlantic alliance, with nuclear warheads under the control of the American members of each crew.

NO SOLUTION

It is not a solution, the article says.

* * *

"What is more," it adds, "it is an insult to the intelligence of our allies. Any reasonable person with the slightest measure of military experience can see the obstacles that such a mixed crew would bring with it to a warship or any other unit. It is hardly possible for a 'multinational' captain to command a warship."

GOP's Kuhn Challenges Foe

One of three Republicans seeking nomination in the 19th Congressional District race, Richard D. Kuhn, today challenged his leading opponent to state his views on the party's national ticket.

* * *

Kuhn, a Pontiac attorney, said the offer is aimed at James P. Dickerson, an Oakland University staff aide. He said he intends to make it a major issue.

"I pledge my entire support to Barry Goldwater. My opponent has expressed reservations about supporting Goldwater, and I challenge him to make his position clear."

Kuhn first made the demand at a meet-the-candidate forum Monday night before the Farmington Women's Republican Club.

* * *

"It is the responsibility of Republican congressmen to support the Republican leadership. We have been told that it is important that Romney be supported by a Republican legislature. The same applies to the national ticket," said Kuhn.

BARRY SUPPORTER

Kuhn identifies himself as a conservative and an active supporter of Sen. Goldwater since last year. Dickerson, generally regarded as a moderate, has not yet issued a formal statement on the national candidates.

* * *

The two so far are the leading Republican candidates in the race for the new congressional seat, since former Livonia mayor William Brashear did not publicly enter the contest until last week.

Layoffs Start at Fisher Body

month Pontiacs and Tempests were assembled.

MONTHLY RECORD

• A new all-time monthly record set in April when 77,275 cars were built, surpassing the former high for a previous model year of 64,161 units set in May, 1963.

• A new weekly production mark of 18,838 cars set the week of April 20.

• A one-day production record of 3,632 cars assembled on May 18.

* * *

The 1964 total included 480,133 Pontiacs and 235,126 cars in the Tempest series.

* * *

"Everyone at Pontiac may be extremely proud of the production records set this year. They are a fitting tribute, both to the individual and the entire Pontiac team," Estes said.

While some layoffs have already taken place, the major layoffs will begin tonight at Fisher Body and Friday at Pontiac Motor Division.

Layoffs are expected to reach their height in the first 10 days of August. Fisher Body will begin calling workers back about Aug. 11 and expects to have all workers back on the job before Aug. 31.

* * *

Pontiac assembly operations are expected to begin on Aug. 24, with production of 1965 models.

GMTC LAYOFFS

Layoffs at GMC Truck & Coach Division are minor and staggered over a longer period. Inventory will begin there next week.

The system of setting up suboffices at union halls was first tried last year and found to be much more convenient, according to C. H. Lown, manager of the unemployment insurance division of Pontiac's MESC office.

Temporary units in each of three local halls began full operations Monday, he said, and will continue an 8:30 a.m. to 4:40 p.m. schedule every Monday through Friday.

* * *

Lown estimated about 3,000 auto workers have already been laid off and another 5,000 are expected to be off the job Friday. The annual shutdown is expected to involve more than 10,000 at its peak.

UNDER AGREEMENT?

Under the agreement, the UAW locals provide space for MESC staff workers.

Lown advised that this arrangement is for auto workers living in Oakland County north of 14 Mile. Others should file for benefits at MESC offices in their communities.

No layoff claims will be handled at the Pontiac office at 242 Oakland during this period.

* * *

Special provisions of state unemployment laws permit workers going out of town to file a claim at unemployment offices anywhere in the United States, or in Canada which has a reciprocal agreement.

CAN VACATION

Once properly registered, auto workers can vacation until their callback time, since the accumulated benefit checks will be held for them.

Unlike other layoff situations auto workers expecting to return to work are not required to be actively seeking employment during the changeover.

Most will find unemployment benefits have been increased since last year.

* * *

A typical married worker, with two children and earning $106 a week or more, will now receive $54 in weekly benefits, up from the previous $49.

French House Burglary Nets $20,000 in Gems

CAP D'ANTIBES, France (AP) — Jewel thieves took gems worth 100,000 francs ($20,000) in a second-story burglary while their victims were dining on a terrace last night.

* * *

It was the 18th major jewel robbery in France in six months. Police said the thieves broke into a bedroom in the home of Georges Bossoni while he and his wife were entertaining friends on a terrace on the other side of the house.

Open Swims to Continue in 3 Pools Until Aug. 14

BIRMINGHAM — The city's recreation department is keeping right in tune with the weather.

* * *

Its seven-week playground program came to a close yesterday, but open swimming will continue until Aug. 14.

With the days bringing temperatures almost too hot in which to play, the department is providing a chance to take it easy in one of three pools.

In Barnum Pool, the boys will do the splashing beginning at 2:30 p.m. until 3:15 p.m. when the girls take over for 45 minutes.

Junior and senior high school students will be allowed in the Derby pool from 1 to 2:30 p.m., followed by their younger elementary counterparts from 2:30-4 p.m.

* * *

Swimming time will be split during the same periods for the elementary and advanced students at the Seaholm pool.

Family swimming sessions, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., will be held at Seaholm on Monday and Wednesday and in the Derby pool Tuesday and Thursday.

* * *

During the summer playground activities more than 1,800 children participated in programs including softball, crafts, baton, puppetry, dramatics and various tournaments.

BIRMINGHAM—Members of Seaholm High School's class of '61 are being asked to "practice" three "R's" again.

They're invited to a Reunion with a Reason—voter Registration.

All 600 classmates, along with their spouses, are invited to the home of Wendy Paddison, 3100 Bradway, Bloomfield Township, for the Saturday event.

Greetings and experiences will be shared from 2 to 5 p.m.

* * *

Former class president Mosby Harvey has issued a call to every member of the graduating group to attend.

FIRST VOTE

"This is more than just a reunion, it's an opportunity for each of the 600 in our class to also register for the 1964 elections and make their first vote count," Harvey said.

Representatives of the Birmingham City Clerk's office will be on hand to sign up eligible voters.

Class advisers and Principal Ross A. Wagner have also been invited to the affair.

* * *

Any 1961 Seaholm graduate who has not been reached is asked to contact Miss Paddison or Mike Emery, 311 Southlawn.

Mrs. J. F. Hunt

Service for Mrs. J. F. Lora T. Hunt, 90, of 4115 Orchard Hills, Bloomfield Township, will be 1 p.m. Friday at the Manley Hatley Funeral Home, Birmingham. Burial will follow in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkley.

Mrs. Hunt died yesterday after a brief illness.

She was past worthy matron of Birmingham Chapter No. 230, Order of the Eastern Star.

Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Norman Gustafason, with whom she made her home.

Cave-In Fatal for Area Man

Gravel Pit Mishap in Groveland Twp.

James E. Griffith, 34, was killed yesterday in a gravel pit cave-in in Groveland Township.

* * *

Griffin of 14235 Hess Rd., Groveland Township, was in the process of hooking a cable onto the rear of a bulldozer when the fatal cave-in occurred at the Jenningas Gravel Co. at Shields and Warden.

Three fellow workers gave a warning yell when they saw the crest of the bank above the bulldozer begin to give way. Griffin could not get out of the way in time.

The three workers immediately began to dig Griffin out with their hands. They had him out in three minutes, but the weight of the gravel had pinned him against the rear of the bulldozer.

* * *

Ronald J. Moore, one of the pit workers, said that about two tons of earth had fallen on or about Griffin's body.

* * *

Griffin was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Hospital in Flint, where doctors attributed his death to a crushed chest.

DRYER FUNERAL

His body is at the Dryer Funeral Home in Holly.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday, at the Stackus Funeral Home in Boyne City. Burial will follow there.

Surviving are his wife Barbara; a daughter, Anita Ann, and three sons, James, Earl and Dennis, all at home.

Albin Parrad, the mine's senior foreman, exchanged information with shift foreman Andre Martinet at the bottom.

Parrad said one of the missing men, a truck driver, had been caught in the middle of the crush and was trapped under tons of rock. "I don't think he will ever be found," Parrad said.

Martinet said his group was cut off from the missing men by debris. He said two of the men were engaged in ceiling work only five yards away when the roof caved in and he had found no trace of them.

Among the trapped survivors were Andre and Michel Jacques, sons of a farmer whose house was shaken apart when a section of the mine collapsed.

Red Attack Repelled by Vietnamese

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist Viet Cong units attacked a district capital 30 miles north of Saigon Tuesday but were beaten off with possibly high casualties.

Viet Cong forward units got to within 1,200 yards of Ben Cat and lobbed 18 heavy mortar rounds into a regimental headquarters before being pushed back into the jungle by artillery and fighter bombers.

* * *

A Vietnamese spokesman claimed that 300 Viet Cong were killed or wounded in the engagement, which began early in the morning and lasted until evening.

American advisers were more conservative in estimating Viet Cong losses, although they were told by a Vietnamese soldier who was briefly a Viet Cong prisoner that they lost 186.

NEVER KNOW

"We will never really know how many of them got hit," an adviser said. "Our observer craft out there at midday saw them carting off their dead and wounded."

Government casualties were 25 killed, 23 wounded and 30 missing.

Vietnamese sources estimated Viet Cong strength at 500.

Prices Mixed, Trade Moderate

Market Gropes for Support

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market groped for support today, with prices mixed and trading moderate.

Gains and losses of most key stocks ranged from fractions to about a point.

* * *

After a reaction which has lasted seven sessions, some rallying tendencies were noted following Tuesday's sluggish performance.

IBM and Polaroid were up a point or so. Steels and motors were no worse than irregular. None of the major groups showed a decided downtrend.

* * *

U.S. Steel pushed ahead slightly following Tuesday's earnings report. Jones & Laughlin added a fraction to its 1¾-point spurt of late Tuesday.

SMALL FRACTIONS

Ford rose a bit and American Motors was firm. Chrysler and General Motors were off by small fractions.

Tuesday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 1.1 to 317.7.

* * *

The price trend on the American Stock Exchange was generally higher. Fractional gains were scored by Paddington, Massey-Ferguson and Barnes Engineering.
