James Hilton, Famed Novelist, Dies of Cancer

'Lost Horizon' Author Born in England, Lived in California 10 Years

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—James Hilton, screenwriter and novelist who wrote such books as "Goodbye Mr. Chips" and "Lost Horizon," died last night in Seaside Hospital after a long illness. He was 54.

His former wife Alice, who had maintained a vigil for days, was still at the bedside.

Hilton had lived here in Long Beach for 10 years while writing for the movies.

He entered the hospital Nov. 21 suffering from an infection the nature of which was not disclosed. Today his physician, Dr. David Wigod, said that he had had cancer of the liver for a long time.

He had been near death for several days.

Hilton, born Sept. 9, 1900, in Leigh, Lancashire, England, had said it was Hollywood which brought him to America, although he said he couldn't find America in Hollywood.

"I live in Long Beach because it puts me closer to the feel of America," he once said. "You can't get the feel of it from Hollywood."

It was the mystical lost land of Shangri-la, a valley of beauty, serenity and eternal youth, which started Hilton on years of restless wanderings between England and the United States.

Shangri-la was a distant, misty utopia in Hilton's most famous novel, "Lost Horizon." The 1934 best-seller and the 1935 movie version, which Hilton came here to help film, have made the word famous the world over.

In 1935, when Ronald Colman appeared in dramatization of "Lost Horizon," Robert Donat and Marlene Dietrich costarred in a version of his 1933 novel, "Knight Without Armor."

Later Colman appeared in his 1941 "Random Harvest" and Donat won an Oscar for the film version of "Goodbye Mr. Chips" made six years after Hilton wrote it—on two weeks' notice—as a magazine story for a Christmas supplement.

After his 1935 trip to Hollywood he returned in 1937, the year he and his first wife Alice Brown Hilton were divorced. That same year he and the former Galina Kopineck were married. Their divorce came in 1945.

Hilton was graduated from Cambridge University in 1922 and studied briefly to be a concert pianist. He gave it up to devote full time to writing. While learning the craft of producing fiction, he supported himself by writing book reviews for the London Telegraph.

SISTERS UNITED—Mrs. Carl Parker (left) of Louisville, Ky., and her sister, Nancy Peek of Marion, Ky., trim Christmas tree after they met for the first time Friday. Until that time Mrs. Parker, who had been reared in orphanages and by a foster mother, had not known her maiden name and her family. Her detective husband, Carl, utilizing his experience with the missing persons bureau, traced her records and located Miss Peek. (See story, page 50.)

Panel Promises to Decide Fate of Sam Today

Osteopath Impassive as He Awaits Verdict in Wife's Murder

CLEVELAND (INS)—Dr. Sam Sheppard wearily returned for the 12th time today to hear his fate, but the jury deadlocked for five days still was at an impasse.

At 12:20 p. m., after having the wife-murder case in their hands for 98 hours and 7 minutes, the seven men and five women were sent to lunch—their 11th meal as guests of the state.

Today was tabbed as D-Day for Dr. Sam. The jury had reported to Judge Edward Blythin last night they felt they could arrive at a unanimous decision if given another day.

The 30-year-old osteopath was impassive as he was manacled to his guard, beefy Jim Kilroy, to be taken back to the courtroom for the 12th time since the jury took his case Friday.

The judge asked no questions of the panel, and with an impish grin told a newsman "I never ask juries anything before lunch."

The deadlocked panel worked conscientiously toward making a reality of their expressed belief they can reach a verdict sometime today.

They indicated they might arrive at a decision one way or the other in reply to a query from the judge last night about the prospect of ending their squabbles and returning a verdict.

The handsome accused wife-killer prayed as he waited for his 12th return to the smoke-filled courtroom where faithful relatives and friends have kept the long vigil.

Refreshed after a night of sleep, the life-or-death jurors walked determinedly to their jobs at 9:04 a.m. (EST) ready to nail down their long delayed verdict.

The jury can decide they have finally reached an impasse and request their dismissal. They also can return a verdict of innocent or four different guilty decisions.

A hung jury midway in the 19th week of the trial would mean a

Rising Mercury to Greet Winter

Expect 26-Degree High to Follow Two Days of Near Zero Weather

The pre-winter deep freeze remained in Pontiac and Michigan today, but the weatherman says it's going to warm up slightly by tomorrow night.

Meanwhile school attendance in Waterford Township returned to normal today after about 5,500 students were unable to attend yesterday when school buses failed to start.

The U. S. Weather Bureau says the high tomorrow will be 26 but the low tomorrow night will be from 16 to 20.

Yesterday's low in downtown Pontiac was 2 above and the high was 18. At 6:00 a.m. this morning the mercury stood at 7 above and had risen one degree by 8 o'clock. At 2 p.m. it was 22 above.

The forecast for this area calls for partly cloudy and continued cold weather tonight with a low of 12 degrees. Tomorrow will be mostly cloudy.

In other Michigan cities, thermometers slid to 14 below at Pellston and Cadillac last night and to 8 below as far south as Flint. Traverse City had a -3, Saginaw, -5 and Sault Ste. Marie and Gladwin, 0.

Highest of the overnight lows were recorded in the Upper Peninsula. Houghton had 20, Marquette, 21; Grand Marias, 10, and Escanaba, 14. Below the Straits of Mackinac, cities trailing Pellston and Cadillac included: Jackson, 1; Traverse City, 3; Lansing, 5; Detroit, 9; Grand Rapids, 11; Battle Creek, 14, and Muskegon, 15.

The cold weather is a fitting greeting for winter which begins at 4:25 a.m. tomorrow. At that moment, the sun reaches a point farthest from the north pole. It will be the shortest day of the year with 15 hours of darkness and only nine hours of daylight.

Fur Firm Robbed of $175,000 in Mink

DETROIT (AP)—Furs with a retail value of $175,000 were stolen from the downtown store of the E. C. Dittrich & Co. last night.

The company reported to police the furs, all mink, included 23 jackets and 28 coats. They were kept in a rear storeroom.

Donald Dittrich, vice president of the 62-year-old Detroit fur company, told police he believed the bandits backed a truck to a rear window and cut through window bars to reach the furs.

The theft was reported to police at 10:40 p.m.

Dittrich said the loss was fully insured.

City's Parking Lot Collects $608 for Past Week

A new weekly high mark for Pontiac's first municipal parking lot was set last week as Christmas shoppers plunked $608 in pennies, nickles and dimes into the lot's 240 meters.

City Treasurer Murray M. Ashbaugh expects this week's receipts to approximate last week's.

Meanwhile, workmen are continuing to dismantle the old county-city market on Mill street to make way for an 80-car addition to the lot.

Luxury Items Now Offered in Moderate Price Range

By JANET ODELL

If you haven't already picked out HER present, these suggestions may help:

The purses this year are exceptionally beautiful. Many of them are copies of imported bags, some are imports. We saw rich looking honey-colored leather ones at moderate prices.

We also lost our heart to a black camera-case type bag, lined in turquoise leather (it's in the $25 and up class).

The unusual decorative features of this second group of bags make them stand out as something special.

If your list includes someone just beginning to go out to formal affairs, she would like a tiny gold mesh evening purse for under $2.

With the luxury tax cut to ten per cent this year, gifts in this category are not prohibitive. French perfume comes with a matching flower in a clear plastic box. You may choose carnation, rose or violet. Atop a small sewing kit or smaller pill box we saw a golden chicken guarding pearly eggs. Both boxes are functional and serve as conversation pieces.

Dresser sets made of clear plastic enclosing gay "flowers" will please the feminine taste of

Rearmament Opponents Open Fire in Assembly Session Today

PARIS (UP)—Enemies of German rearmament opened an attack in the French National Assembly today against ratification of treaties that would bring the Bonn government into a western European union.

Andre Liauthey of the powerful finance committee warned that a rearmed Germany may swing to Russia's side in the struggle between Democratic and totalitarian powers.

As debate on ratification went into its first full day, some deputies began to study the possibility that final voting may be delayed until after Christmas.

Odds now heavily favor a pre-Christmas victory for France's fighting Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

"The texts which return her military power to Germany are heavy with the worst dangers," Liauthey declared in presenting the views of the finance committee which has joined the defense committee in opposing German rearmament.

Spokesmen for committees in favor of bringing West Germany into an armed western camp immediately blunted the attack and started clearing the way for a knock-down verbal battle.

The major strategy still was

Ross Tenny Injured When Trucks Collide

Ross P. Tenny, 56, of 208 Cherokee Rd., general manager of the L. H. Cole Oil Co., was injured this morning when he was caught between two trucks at the oil company yards.

He was taken to Pontiac General Hospital where officials said that he is suffering from a possible fractured pelvis and chest injuries. His condition is listed as critical.

An oil company spokesman theorized that Tenny, who was supervising traffic, was caught between two trucks when they backed into one another.

However, he said the cause of the accident would not be known until police complete their investigation.

Curvaceous Spy Gets Five Years

German Beauty Pleads Guilty to Seducing U.S. Officers for Secrets

BERLIN (AP)—A beautiful German brunette was sentenced to five years in prison today after she pleaded guilty to seducing secrets out of two U.S. intelligence officers for Russian pay.

The names of the two Americans were not introduced in court. U.S. officials said previously the black-eyed charmer — Irmgard Margarethe Schmidt — was the mistress of an Air Force intelligence colonel and had occasional dates with a civilian intelligence chief.

The prosecution described her as one of the most dangerous spies encountered here since World War II.

The 24-year-old former East zone student burst into tears as U.S. High Commission Judge Ambrose Fuller pronounced sentence. Although she had said nothing in her own defense during the trial, she sobbed bitterly:

"I can't take it. It's too much."

The girl pleaded guilty to transmitting to the Russians for money details of the order of battle for Allied defense of West Berlin. She also admitted a second charge of approaching a German national in U.S. intelligence to get more information.

She pleaded innocent to a third charge of attempting to obtain details of the entire network of American agents in West Berlin. This accusation was dismissed on a prosecution motion.

She had been under arrest since Dec. 1, when American agents caught her as she was about to deliver secret material to her Russian bosses in East Berlin.

American officials said one of her American admirers had given her a job in his office and there she had been able to lay her hands on top U.S. secrets.

Christmas Gift From God

Cult Awaiting Final Flood Finds Goodness and Light

CHICAGO (INS)—Dr. Charles A. Laughead, former Michigan State College staff physician, gave up on his prediction today that a giant tidal wave would flood the continent. He said:

"The God of Earth has interfered and has stayed his destructive forces. It's like a Christmas gift from God."

Laughead had waited throughout the night at the Oak Park, Ill., home of Mrs. Dorothy Martin with others who had passed along the prediction of "outer-spacemen" that a tidal wave would engulf North America.

He said that there was no prediction as to how long the "disaster" had been stayed.

The doctor said "the group of disciples has sat for the father's message the night through and God has spoken."

He said Mrs. Martin had "written God's message as her hand was guided" and related that this was the message:

"Mighty is the word of God and by His word have ye been saved. From the mouth of death ye have been delivered. At no time has there been such a force loosed upon the earth—not since the beginning of time has there been such a force of good and light as now floods this room.

"That which has been loosed within this room now floods the entire earth."

A group of men who maintained an all-night vigil on a pier extending into Lake Michigan despite a bone-chilling 23 degree temperature and a south wind at four miles an hour reported "all was calm at dawn."

Dr. Laughead and Mrs. Martin had claimed "outer-space men" told them a vast wall of water rising out of Lake Michigan would flood North America from the

Military Forces Start Trimming

Draft Calls Go Down in February as Army Eyes Big Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—The military services have been told to start pruning 403,000 from their present over-all strength to reach the 2,815,000-man level the administration thinks is about right for the current cold war.

In disclosing a manpower cutback program yesterday, Secretary of Defense Wilson said it will be accompanied by a 50 per cent slash in draft calls starting in February, when the announced quota of 20,000 is to be dropped to 10,000 or 11,000. Quotas have been running about 20,000 for many months.

Wilson said an improved situation in the Far East and "better opportunities for peace" everywhere entered into President Eisenhower's decision to trim the services.

Only the Air Force, which will continue its gradual buildup to 975,000 men in the next 18 months, escapes the trimming.

In the same period—that is, by June 30, 1956—the Army will drop 25 per cent of its current strength to level off at an even one million. The Navy is down for a 6 per cent cut from present strength to reach 650,000 and the Marine Corps will drop 14 per cent to 190,000. Over-all strength for all services last month was 3,218,000.

Drunk Drivers to Go to Jail

Local Authorities Say Drinking Motorists Will Spend Christmas There

Drunk drivers will spend the holiday period in jail.

This stern warning today was voiced by State Police of Pontiac Post, Oakland County Sheriff's Dept., Pontiac Police and the Municipal Court.

"If you're going to drink, don't drive your car—or you'll find yourself celebrating the rest of the Christmas season in jail," warned Judge Cecil McCallum.

Judge Maurice E. Finnegan issued a similar warning after reviewing, he said, the high number of deaths and accidents caused by drunk drivers.

Sgt. Melvin Will, commanding officer of the Pontiac post, grimly reminded motorists that 41 drivers and 14 pedestrians who had been drinking lost their lives in traffic accidents during December, 1953. He said the warning will be enforced by all State Police troopers.

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and Sheriff Clare L. Hubbell both added that their respective departments are instructed to jail motorists driving under the influence of liquor.

"Adding to the condition of drunk driving," Hubbell said, "the roads in the county may be hazardous. Don't increase your chances of getting killed by driving when intoxicated."

Straley advised motorists to celebrate the holidays with common sense. "Do your drinking at home and, by all means, don't drive your car until you've sobered up."

Sgt. Will explained that various police agencies, safety groups, tavern owners and others in the state are carrying on a special December campaign warning drivers to take it easy with emphasis on the fact that "drunk drivers go to jail."

Higher Exemptions Viewed, but May Wait Until 1956

Congressmen Favor Personal Income Tax Cuts; Would Keep Corporation Levies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Incoming members of Congress show some inclination to reduce individual income taxes by raising personal exemptions — and stop right there with tax cuts.

A majority of senators and House members taking a definite stand in an Associated Press poll favors higher personal exemptions. But the margin is less than 3.2 among the 128 members replying. And even should the 84th Congress decide to ease up on taxes on individuals, it may wait until 1956.

Among lawmakers responding to the questionnaire, there is heavy support for President Eisenhower's bid to postpone again a reduction in the corporation income tax now set automatically for April 1. There is somewhat less enthusiastic backing for his request to put off a cut in excise (sales) taxes scheduled for the same date, but enough to indicate Congress may go along on a bipartisan basis.

The picture on both corporate and excise taxes could change, since many lawmakers still aren't committing themselves on them.

Congressional opinion at this point appears to be weighted against any major changes in the massive tax revision law passed last summer and against amending or repealing a controversial cut in the tax on dividends. Members are 53-41 against tampering with the revision law and nearly two to one against changing the dividend tax.

On a separate 1955 issue which will be handled by the same congressional committees that process tax bills, both Democrats and Republicans lined up overwhelmingly behind Eisenhower's proposal that Congress give him more power to reduce tariffs on a reciprocal basis with other nations.

The administration now expects to run nearly five billion dollars in the red during the present fiscal year. It figures that government spending will exceed income by around three billions in the next fiscal year starting July 1.

Should Congress let excise and corporate income taxes drop as provided under present law, next year's deficit would go up by some three billions more. The excise taxes apply to such big sellers as gasoline, liquor, cigarettes and cars.

The poll showed that 12 senators and 53 House members definitely favor keeping the corporate income tax rate at the present 52 per cent level instead of letting it fall to 47 per cent. Only one senator and 19 House members want it to come down. Senators are divided 10-3 and House members 37-19 in favor of extending present excise taxes.

On the question of increasing personal exemptions, senators went on record 11-3 for a boost and House members by a close 34-32. Most of the support for higher exemptions came from Democrats, most of the opposition from the GOP.

The personal exemption for a taxpayer and each of his dependents now is $600. Of 40 members naming a specific figure, exactly half said the exemption ought to go up to $700. Six others spoke up for an increase of $100 to $200 and eight for a $200 boost. From there, the figures ranged up to a proposed $600 increase.

City Commission Passes Parking Bonds Ordinance

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — Like Detroit, Birmingham is going into the parking business. City Commissioners last night passed an ordinance establishing an automibile parking system whereby up to $400,000 in revenue bonds may be issued for as many as three parking lots.

Final approval rests with the state Municipal Finance Commission and should take about six weeks to clear, officials said.

After this is secured and if condemnation proceedings now in process are in the city's favor, a hearing will be held on the issuance of $260,000 of the $400,000 in bonds, for construction of a 220-car lot on Pierce between Merrill and Brown streets.

Half of the cost will be returned to the city through assessments to benefiting property owners.

A stumbling block in the city's proposed Municipal Parking Lot No. 2 came out when Bernard Walker of B. Siegel Co., Detroit women's apparel store, told the commission of plans for a branch store on Bates between Maple and Martin. Negotiations are under way with the two property owners involved, he said.

Lawmakers nevertheless authorized City Manager Donald C. Egbert to continue negotiations and plans for a lot in the southwest portion of the block bounded by Maple, Henrietta, Martin and Bates.

Commissioners recommended the incorporation of the lot behind the S. S. Kresge Co. building into the latest parking project, providing an approximate 57-car lot on Martin from Henrietta to Bates.

Egbert also will prepare plans for an alley south of Maple extending east from Bates.

May Level M24 Danger Spot

Broomfield Will Urge Widening With Hill Cut as Alternative

If funds can't be found to extend the planned widening of M24 to "Slaughter Hill," a mile north of Oxford, a proposal to level the treacherous dip will be made to State Highway Commissioner Chares M. Ziegler.

Oakland County's state senator William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak), today said he would take the problem up with Ziegler immediately after the holidays.

"If extension of the widening is out of the immediate picture, then I'll propose that quick action be taken to remove the dip and allow drivers clear visibility," Broomfield stated.

"The leveling cost should not be prohibitive and the work would probably have to be done anyway when the road is widened."

Broomfield's action came after he inspected the site yesterday on request of Oxford and Orion citizens.

"I'm going to let the problem be known in Lansing and bring it before the State Senate's highway committee when the Legislature convenes Jan. 12," he said. "I'm convinced the widening should be done as soon as possible."

A long record of traffic deaths at "Slaughter Hill" was climaxed Dec. 5 when five Oxford residents were killed there in a headon collision, bringing the total to nine in the past year.

The highway department plans to widen M24 from two to four lanes from Opdyke to Lake Orion next spring. In answering a request from Oxford citizens that the widening be extended, Ziegler said the $500,000 needed to do the work is not available.

Reinstatement of 25 at Square D Advised

DETROIT (UP) — Gabriel N. Alexander, arbitrator in a dispute between the Square D Co. and the United Electrical Workers union, announced yesterday that he had recommended reinstatement of 25 workers accused of violence during a recent 108-day strike at the company.

Alexander said he had recommended that the workers be reinstated with full seniority rights. However, he also recommended that two others accused of violence be discharged.

The alleged worker violence took place during a company-sponsored back-to-work movement while 1,200 members of the independent union were on strike. The House Un-American Activities Committee has investigated alleged Communist influence in the strike.

Detroiter Bound Over on Bad Check Charge

BIRMINGHAM—Eugene Ayotte, 28, of Detroit, waived examination and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court when he appeared yesterday before Judge John J. Gafill on an uttering and publishing charge. He was released on $2,000 bond.

Ayotte was specifically charged with cashing a $370 check at Milks Appliances, 1493 S. Woodward Ave.

Strike Vote Procedure Set Up by Fisher CIO

Fisher Local 596, UAW-CIO at a special membership meeting Sunday voted unanimously to give the executive board and the shop committee authorization to hold a strike vote of its members at such time as it deems it necessary. This was brought about by the many speed-up cases the union has against Fisher Body Pontiac Division at this time, according to William O. Medlock, president.

Suicide Try Made by Maxine Andrews

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Maxine Andrews, 37, one of the singing Andrews Sisters, swallowed 18 sleeping pills early today because of despondency over "family troubles."

Police said she was found in her nightdress, slumped on the kitchen floor of her Chatsworth home, by Mr. and Mrs. William Csiga, who live in a house nearby.

The singing star and a sister, Laverne, who returned together only last week from a highly successful 10-day tour of Australia, have been in a legal battle with their sister, Patti, who broke off from their famed singing act to have a career alone. The battle has been over disposition of an estate left by their parents.

Officers said they took Miss Andrews to Valley Receiving Hospital where they said her condition was found to be satisfactory. She was held for observation.

Draft Boards to Call for Doctors, Dentists

LANSING (AP) — State Selective Service headquarters said today 68 physicians and 41 dentists will be drafted into the armed forces from Michigan during March.

Oakland County's quota for the draft is three doctors.

Local draft boards were told to issue induction orders immediately so all doctors and dentists included in the call will have an opportunity to apply for commissions.

Those who accept commissions will report for duty during April. Those who do not accept commissions prior to March 30 will be inducted as enlisted men.

The headquarters said that all doctors and dentists born after Aug. 30, 1922, who are registered as regular registrants will be processed for induction as soon as available unless they have applied for a commission and volunteered for immediate active duty prior to the effective date of their local board induction orders.

Arctic to Mexico. They had maintained:

"Today—Tuesday, Dec. 21, 1954—is the day."

Dr. Laughead, whose espousal of the "doomsday" prediction cost him his post last week, said the "space boys are in charge and they have changed nothing in the original."

Dr. Laughead spent the night with a group of supporters in the Oak Park home of Mrs. Martin.

Calmly, he explained that the "boys" would swoop down in their space disks (he doesn't like the phrase saucers) and rescue "everyone who has the light on." Asked to explain what he meant, the physician replied:

"The light inside their hearts."

Christmas Tree Safety

Christmas trees long since have ceased to be the terrible threats to life and property they once were.

But in the opinion of Fire Chief Schroeder they still are enough of a hazard to call for special precautions by every householder.

While the Chief knows of no formula which will make a Christmas tree fire proof, he suggests two methods of making them fire resistant and reducing the danger of tragedy.

One method is the use of a fire resistant spray. This can be made by mixing nine ounces of powdered boric acid and four ounces of borax in a gallon of water. Sprayed on the tree this gives it a fire resistant coating.

The second method is one that could well be used in combination with the first. The butt of the tree should be cut diagonally to provide more water absorbing surface. It should then be mounted in a water holding stand which should be kept filled at all times. This not only will make the tree less flammable but its needles will stay on longer.

Christmas tree lighting and wiring should be inspected to eliminate any danger from that quarter. Electricity ended the hazard caused by candles. But loose connections, short circuits and defective sockets still can cause tragedy.

Finally, the family never should retire or leave the house without disconnecting the Christmas tree lights.

Don't let fire mar your family's holiday happiness.

International Blackmail

Despite reports that U. S. Secretary-General Hammarskjold is optimistic that he will obtain release of 11 American airmen, the prospect is none too bright.

For one thing, nothing has happened to erase the impression that the trial and conviction of these uniformed men as spies is just part of Red China's game of international blackmail.

The simple truth is that the only encouraging development to date was Premier Chou En-lai's agreement to receive Hammarskjold some time after Christmas. In making this known the Red premier emphasized that conviction of the Americans is considered by his government a closed book.

However, there have been hints that Peiping might consider release of the Americans in exchange for exit visas for 35 Chinese students still kept in this country. State and Defense Department records show 57 Americans now held behind the Iron Curtain, all of them in Red China. Of these 15 are military men and 42 civilians.

In the opinion of diplomats around U. N. headquarters, however, Red China's price for release of the 11 Americans may be exorbitant.

Nonetheless there is recent history to suggest that even this situation isn't hopeless. In six years our State Department has succeeded in negotiating by varied means, including ransoms, the release of 38 Americans held behind the European Iron Curtain.

In dealing with a gangster government like Red China's, it is wise to expect the worst and hope for the best.

A fairly close observer estimates that a dealer in Christmas toys can sell only about half the toys he buys, as children break the other half by handling and playing with them in the store.

Modified UMT Unveiled

At least three things can be said in favor of the modified military training program just unveiled by Defense Secretary Wilson.

First, carefully devised as it has been, this plan deserves the sympathetic consideration of Congress and the people.

Second, with its four service plans it offers the Nation's teenagers a wide choice of how to discharge their military obligations.

Third, the program makes an honest effort to correct the undeniably serious weaknesses of our organized reserves. At the same time it seeks to equalize everyone's military obligation and keep security costs within the Nation's ability to pay.

Secretary Wilson and his aide, Carter L. Burgess, pointed out that under the new plan it should be possible by mid-1959 to cut the present 3,217,971 man active armed forces to about 2,750,000.

Without estimating the savings thus made possible, they predict that the new reserve program would cost about $1.1 billion a year. The cost of the present inadequate reserve program is $700,000,000 annually.

Universal military training runs counter to American ideals and traditions. But as long as the cold war lasts, we have no choice but to maintain adequate defenses or risk national suicide.

"Fish are not color-blind." — Newspaper filler. Accordingly, they no doubt enjoy many hearty laughs at the fancy multi-colored lures used in an unsuccessful effort to catch them.

Christmas Spirit Brings a Suggestion on Making Will

Santa Claus: Whom the Oakland County Board of Supervisors wish would bring us a new courthouse on a site where everybody wants it.

Humane Director Pleads for the Welfare of Pets Given as Christmas Presents

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

If you give a pet for Christmas, be sure it's wanted otherwise it might be neglected or turned out when you leave. On the first night of Christ's life God honored the brute creation. The animals of that stable in Bethlehem heard the first cry of the infant Lord.

Will you who are about to abandon an unwanted kitten or puppy remember that Christ came, among other things, to alleviate the sufferings of the brute creation?

Was it not appropriate that he should, during the first few days and nights of His life on earth, be surrounded by the dumb beasts whose moans and plaints and bellowing have for the ages been a prayer to God for the arresting of their tortures and the righting of their wrongs? He will answer in the punishment of those who maltreat the dumb breasts.

The Oakland Co. Animal Shelter endeavors to find good homes for unwanted pets. Please report cases of cruelty to the Humane officer, FE 2-8262.

Says U.S. Approaching Stage of Dictatorship

Have things come to such a pass that one has no right to criticize a person in high office? If we have not reached the stage of dictatorship, we are approaching it very fast.

Of course, if the speaker or writer has misstated the facts, we still have the law of libel whereby the person has the privilege to sue for slander, if he can prove the statements were false. If the statements were false, then the people have a right to know the facts.

It is a sorry state we are getting into when a person gets so high up that he is above criticism. Let's lay the ax at the foot of the tree. Let's hew to the line and let the chips fall where they may.

I have been told that free speech and free press have made this country what it is. Are we slipping back again into the Middle Ages? Every investigator who has attempted to expose communism has been censured and was compelled to give up investigation.

What is going to happen is anyone's guess this time. Let the people draw their own conclusions or confusions, as the case may be. Why do we have to hide the facts?

Case Records of a Psychologist

Emotional Rather Than Calendar Age Important When Selecting a Husband

Laura is unduly worried about the calendar age of her boy friend. That is not nearly as critical as his emotional age. Many a man of 18 is far more mature than the average playboy of 25. This is especially true of former newspaper carriers. They rate a gold star as marriage prospects.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-302: Laura M., aged 22, is an office secretary.

"Dr. Crane, I have a very serious problem," she began. "It deals with dating.

"For the past six months I have been going with a boy of 19. That means there is an age difference of three years between us.

"Do you think there is anything wrong in this kind of situation? He is a wonderful boy and we love each other.

"Is it true that wives should be younger than their husbands?"

No, there is nothing wrong psychologically when an older girl falls in love with a younger man.

In fact, some writers are now advising girls to pick husbands who are three or four years younger than themselves so they will not be widows for so many years.

Since the average man dies about 3 years earlier than the average woman, there is a certain amount of logic behind such advice.

Furthermore, when you have reached adulthood, the calendar is of relatively small importance. What really counts most is similarity of ideals, interests and basic habits.

Besides, you can't tell a person's age by his kisses! So quit fretting unduly about age differences.

It is only a custom, anyway, that has led to the belief a husband should be older than his wife.

And that custom originated far back in ancient times when it was conventional for a man to purchase his wife from her father.

Marriage was then a market arrangement. It cost the prospective groom some sheep or cattle before he could figuratively get a bill of sale for his bride.

Obviously, a young man of 18 to 21 seldom had a flock of sheep or cattle for it took years to acquire such wealth. So the older men with the money would dominate the marriage market.

Seldom could a young man like Jacob, in Bible days, buy his wife on the installment plan.

Jacob was lucky in that he got Rachel first and then paid for her by seven years of hard work afterwards.

A second reason why wives have usually been younger, is the fact the female generally matures earlier than the male.

That was more apparent in earlier generations when girls of 16 would get married. Nowadays, since the average age for a girl at marriage is about 21, there is no significant "maturity" difference.

For by the age of 21, the male and the female are both physically mature.

The more critical age to consider nowadays when you marry is not the calendar age but the emotional age of your mate.

A newspaper carrier with his understanding of business and financial matters, may be emotionally several years older than the average male.

Such a young fellow, even though only 18, may thus have far more maturity of social and financial experience than the average playboy of 25.

To help pick your mate more wisely, send for my "Rating Scale for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

If he rates superior thereon, then marry him regardless of his calendar age.

If folks can get divorced like Bill and Gladys, and stay good friends, I don't believe they were ever more than friends.

David Lawrence Says:

2 Moves Being Planned Against Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON — Flushed with their recent victory, the Republican "left wingers" are planning to keep the McCarthy controversy alive in the next session of Congress.

Two moves are in the offing. One is sponsored by Senator-elect Case of New Jersey, who intends to make a motion in January that the Wisconsin senator be declared ineligible for membership on any investigating committee of the Senate. Inasmuch as nearly every committee has some investigative task, this would mean virtually depriving him of any duties or functions except talking and voting. He probably would then make all his charges on the floor of the Senate, where debate is unlimited.

The second move—which has the support of "left wing" Democrats, too—would reopen hearings by the Senate Subcommittee on Privileges and Elections and order Senator McCarthy to testify with respect to his personal finances.

Although he has already made full disclosure to the Department of Justice and the Bureau of Internal Revenue of all the facts about his receipts and expenditures in connection with funds collected to fight Communists, and no violation of law has been found, the plan now is to go over the same ground in public so as to focus attention in a dramatic way on the senator's personal transactions. Such a hearing, especially if put on television, would certainly attract attention comparable to the Cohn-Schine-Stevens hearings.

Whether these new plans have the White House blessing, as was the case with the Mundt and Watkins hearings, the moves, if carried out, would certainly have the effect of prolonging the McCarthy controversy and assuring that it will have an effect on the 1956 campaign. Just why any Republican wants to keep on emphasizing the split in the party is an unexplained mystery.

Presumably the Republican "right wingers"—who are the opposite faction to the "left wingers"—will fight back. They may invoke the constitutional question as to the right of the Senate to restrict any senator in performing his duties as the representative of a sovereign state. This could tie up the Senate's organization for weeks.

Senator Morse of Oregon, independent—who certainly has no fondness for the Wisconsin senator and, in fact, filed some of the charges against him before the Watkins committee—has already spoken out in opposition to the attempted punishment of Senator McCarthy on this point. The Oregon senator feels that to deprive any senator of committee assignments by such action is wrong.

If the folks who are anxious to keep the McCarthy controversy alive are looking for ways and means of doing it, they probably will have some help from certain Republicans on the McCarthy side. Already there is talk about introducing a resolution to "condemn" each of the senators who participated in the 11-day filibuster in the last session.

This idea grows out of the formal declaration by the Senate, in the resolution in the McCarthy case, that it now is an offense to "obstruct legislative processes." Certainly filibustering is even more of an obstruction to the performance of Senate business than mere refusal by one member to attend a committee hearing when he is not even ordered to do so by subpoena.

Then there's the announcement by Senator Smathers of Florida, Democrat, warning the Republicans that, if they dare to make any more charges against the Democrats hereafter, the bipartisanship spirit will be ended and the Democrats will wreak vengeance against the President by voting against his legislative program. This is a new form of political intimidation and probably will be the subject of debate when Congress reconvenes.

Some Democrats, moreover, say they are aggrieved by Vice President Nixon's speeches during the last campaign. If it is the desire of the Democrats to have a controversy on that subject, too, it will, of course, be necessary for congressional committees to go back into the substance or merits of the cases involving communism and subversion or security risks. This will also help to keep the Communist issue alive in American politics.

Maybe the Congress will wish to take up also the alleged contempt by former President Truman, who certainly refused to "cooperate" with a House committee when it subpoenaed him to testify as to why he wrote complimentary letters to Harry Dexter White after the latter had been disclosed to him by the FBI to be a link in a Communist "spy ring."

Then there is the Oklahoma City speech in 1948 by Mr. Truman who, while president, stated that the Republican Party "is unwittingly the ally of the Communists in this country" and said "this is clearly shown in the election record of the Communist Party." That kind of language has been "condemned" by the Senate in the case of McCarthy, but it remains to be seen whether anyone else will ever be "condemned" now for the same offense. Certainly the Congress can have plenty of controversial debate on the communism issue if the "left wingers" want to keep it going.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

Life in the upper echelons is sparse and brittle. You can go into any club in Washington and you won't find two Morris chairs facing each other.

There is a right and left wing in the Democratic majority. There is a right and left wing in the Republican outfit.

Our plea for a five-minute armistice during Christmas week got no more results than fanning moonbeams with your hat. This was a rough semester in practical politics. There was more elbowing than Messina and Ben Hur's eight-hoss parley trying to pass on bowling alley.

The tempo will reach its low boiling point when the Democrats take over the House and Senate in January. The cat has jumped and they've measured the leap.

The proud role of Democratic national chairman is a Butler part. The new boy on the used-desk lot says he will work hand-in-glove with the administration. But there's two mittens to a pair.

In case you think all is sweetness and light in the Democratic Party during Christmas week don't forget Harry Truman doesn't cotton to Chairman Butler. Harry goes further than that. He doesn't cotton to Chairman Butler by the bale.

Whoever Mr. Truman supported can sue for it now. Chairman Butler was foisted on him. There's a foist time for everything.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

The light of the righteous rejoiceth: but the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.—Prov. 13:9.

Do not be deceived; happiness and enjoyment do not lie in wicked ways.—Dr. Watts.

Almost Every Normal Young Person Suffers From Some Degree of Acne

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

In my early 'teens I suffered with oily skin, blackheads and pimples (doctors call it acne) and so I have a lot of sympathy for youngsters with this trouble, for boys and even more for girls, because a girl's vanity is tender and more easily hurt.

I urge every reader who has this common skin rash, eruption, blemish or whatever you please to call it, or who has a boy or girl so troubled, to send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask in writing (you see, knucklehead, if you use a clipping of this item instead of signing your request, it is likely to become separated from the envelope and we cannot stop to guess who writes what) for the pamphlet Acne.

If you use the camphor-sulfur-glycerin-witch hazel lotion every night, following hot soap and water scrubbing, it will probably set up some irritation after four or five days, that is not bad; in fact it is desirable. Just give the treatment a rest for two or three days, or until the irritation subsides, then resume applications every night or twice in the week.

For goodness sake don't take my pamphlet or any part of it to the drugstore and ask the man to put up this or that "prescription" for you. The formulas or recipes I give are not prescriptions. They are merely directions to guide you in making up the mixtures yourself. You can read, can't you?

If you don't want an impudent clerk to ask embarrassing questions or try to sell you the nostrum that pays the largest profit, you may purchase the sublimed sulfur at one store, the camphor water at another, the glycerin at a third and the witch hazel "extract" at the 5&10 maybe.

For the benefit of ignorant and vicious persons who know so much that isn't so, I repeat here what I say in the pamphlet:

Nearly all normal young persons have more or less acne—perhaps it is a blessing in that it tempers what might otherwise become insufferable vanity in youth.

Pimples are in no way related to "impure blood" (whatever that may be) and have no bearing whatever on the morality of the individual.

Young persons with oily skin, blackheads and a tendency to acne should avoid all salves or creams and rely on plain soap and water skin care. Plain soap, I say, not medicated, "beauty" or "penetrating" nostrums.

For excessive oiliness of the skin without pimples, sop on the skin once daily a solution of ten (10) grains of resorcin in the ounce of bay rum, whitch hazel or toilet water of any kind.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Korean Kiddies Await Arrival of 'Harabo Ji'

SEOUL (INS) — Predominately Christian South Koreans readied themselves today to celebrate "Sung Tan Jol," the "Birthday of the Holy Man."

Little children in choirs throughout the war-battered peninsula were being taught to sing traditional Christmas songs, translated into Korean.

For being good children, they could expect a visit on Christmas Day from "Harabo Ji," the grand old man in the red suit with white flowing whiskers."

In Korea, as in Japan, Christmas Day marks the beginning of a weeklong celebration culminating in the New Year celebration. During that time, school children enjoy vacations and government offices close down on Christmas and New Year's Day.

Christmas in South Korea is a religious celebration as an estimated 55 to 60 per cent of the 20-million residents of the nation are Christian.

Children lucky enough to be living close by American Army units will get a taste of traditional American good cheer from parties scheduled to be held in mess halls.

This Christmas will mark the first full year of peace in Korea since 1950.

Philly, Chicago Vie for Politicos

Atlantic City, Frisco, Houston Also Interested in '56 Conventions

WASHINGTON (INS) — Philadelphia and Chicago are regarded today as the two leading contenders for the 1956 political conventions, with the early odds slightly favoring the eastern city.

In addition, Atlantic City is making a serious bid to become host to the Republican and Democratic conventions due in 18 months.

Two other cities, San Francisco and Houston, have indicated interest in the huge political gatherings.

The first real airing of city bids will come on Jan. 8, when the Republican convention site committee meets in Washington to hear all proposals.

Spokesmen for both parties insist the selection is "wide open" at this stage. But there are signs which indicate that the City of Brotherly Love may begin with a little edge.

First of all, Philadelphia wants both conventions and, as she did in 1948, will put up cash to get them.

Philadelphia won both meetings six years ago by laying $250,000 on the line for each party to meet convention expenses. In 1952, Chicago reclaimed the conventions — partly by providing an air-conditioned hall, partly because of its central location.

But some political factors of 1952 are missing now and will be absent in 1956. The Democrats, who had control of Illinois in 1952 and nominated its governor, Adlai Stevenson, as their presidential candidate have since lost it to the GOP. Now they have a new Democratic administration in Pennsylvania.

In 1952, selection of the Republican convention city and arrangements were in the hands of backers of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), who lost the GOP nomination battle to the then Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Taft leaders wanted the convention in Chicago, metropolis of the conservative Middle West. Now the Eisenhower wing is in the saddle and President Eisenhower himself has labeled the GOP the party of "progressive moderates."

Democratic headquarters plans no convention activity until spring. But it is still expected that both parties will agree to convent in the same city, as they have since 1944.

Alimony Can Saddle Man With Unjustified Expense

By MARGARET LATHROBE

The country abounds in big business, not the least of which is the alimony business. With a bit of careful planning, the right beauty shop and a penchant for easy living, a girl can invest in a rich husband, who pays excellent dividends as an ex-husband.

It isn't always the rich guy who finds himself suddenly minus his little housefrau and a goodly packet of dough. Sometimes plain old Joe, the insurance salesman, awakens to find himself looking for a boarding house and nothing in the mail but a notice to support his former wife—for life.

I shed no tears over Jackims Astor and his growing collection of ex-wives, who reportedly consider diamonds a girl's birthright. Nor do the alimony hassels of Bobo and her Rockefeller cause me any sleepless midnights. They can afford their troubles.

But the fellows who draw my sympathy are those who are no more at fault than their former spouses for marital break ups, who are saddled for life with alimony which must come from a very small salary. Many a shiftless gal is taking support from her divorced husband, even though she has no children, is quite able to work, but is too spiteful or lazy to do it.

The "justice" of forcing a man to support childless ex-wives, willy nilly, doesn't contribute to lowering divorce rates. Nor is it particularly just. And where children are involved, divorce spells just one thing—heartbreak. It is often as agonizing for fathers to give up homes and children as for mothers. And somehow I think fathers take the short end of the stick in divorce courts.

If complete justice could be done, that would be ideal. Certainly the wife who has contributed half to a marriage deserves to take her fair share from it, should the split-up be inevitable. Wonderful work is being done nowadays by marriage clinics in forestalling divorce, but until there can also be "engagement clinics." I would suggest an alimony pool. All alimony would be collected by a central agency, and distributed according to rigid standards of fairness.

It would at least keep the gals from eyeing a rich lad more tenderly than a poor boy as a prospective ex-husband. Might make a few less grass widows, too, if alimony had the habit of paying off $20 a week instead of a glossy six million.

George Gobel a Comedian's Comic --His Humor Sneaks Up on You

By EDDIE CANTOR

George Gobel is an unusual kind of a comedian. He must be. Imagine a comedian whom comedians like! The critics call him an overnight success. He's 34 and started his career at the age of 12. Some "overnight!"

What makes Gobel hotter than a $2 pistol is that his comedy sneaks up on you—like when he dead-pans, "I'm proud to announce that this program is being sent to our Armed Forces in Helsing's Bar and Grill. And let me say something to our fighting men. Men, stop fighting."

George looks no more like an actor than I look like Jane Russell. During rehearsal, when he was on my show last year, Al Goodman, the orchestra leader, pushed a dollar bill into his hand and said, "Oh, Boy, get me a chicken sandwich without mayonnaise."

Gobel answered seriously, "Why you can't hardly get them no more." It was only then that Al Goodman knew Gobel was not one of our propesty men. Now he is everybody's property.

During World War II he was a flight instructor, and started practicing his monologues at officers' clubs. When the conflict was over, Gobel found a ready market for his comedy routines in Chicago night clubs. He was an instantaneous hit. His style and his material are universal.

Audiences in Chicago, New York, and Las Vegas, and everywhere else in the 48, laugh uproariously at this comedian's comedian.

No wonder. Sober-faced Gobel said a while ago, "Walter Winchell has been a great blessing to the cancer drive. Bob Hope's been doin' great work for cerebral palsy and Eddie Cantor is a big booster for the heart fund. By the time I get started, all the good diseases will be taken."

Ex-Marine Given Innocent Verdict

Jury Acquits Craddock of Murder in Shooting of Wife's Lover

DETROIT (AP) — A recorder's court jury of nine women and three men yesterday found Denny Craddock, 29-year-old ex-Marine, not guilty of first degree murder in the fatal shooting of his wife's lover last July 1.

The jury deliberated only 55 minutes.

Craddock was charged in the shooting of Ernest A. Trullard, 29, who he found living with his wife and two daughters upon returning from Korea last summer.

His 6-year-old daughter, Lydia, was the first to reach Craddock after the verdict was announced.

She ran to her tearful father, saying:

"I'm taking you home to see my Christmas tree, daddy."

Craddock's wife, Julia, 27, joined them, telling newsmen later, "I want him to come home."

Craddock, after recovering his composure, said:

"I've just been sitting here wondering whether I'm crazy. I didn't mean to kill that man. No, I don't know where I'll sleep tonight."

Craddock pleaded self defense and temporary insanity at his trial. He claimed Trullard appeared to be reaching for a revolver.

Local Red Cross Offers Home Nursing Course

All community residents are invited to take part in a new training program in home nursing sponsored by the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Herminio Rodriguez, chairman of nursing for the Oakland County chapter, announces the course will begin Jan. 17 at 7:30 p. m.

Home care of the sick is the theme of the course, including the bed bath, taking temperatures, following doctor's orders, care of patients with communicable diseases and making use of improvised home equipments.

This course will be followed by one in home nursing instructor training if there is a demand.

Lily Pons Rumored to Ask Divorce Soon

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Opera singer Lily Pons has registered in an El Paso hotel but refuses to talk to newsmen concerning a rumor she is here to seek a Mexican divorce from her orchestra-conductor husband, Andre Kostelanetz.

Miss Pons registered Monday in the Hilton Hotel under the name of Virginia Lee, of Palm Springs, Fla. She has contacted a Mexican attorney across the Rio Grande in Juarez, Mexico.

Kostelanetz is also reported in El Paso. No action has taken place in any Juarez courts.

Girl, 17, Rescues Intended Suicide From Drowning

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A 17-year-old girl who "couldn't stand to see a human being die" was hailed as a heroine today.

Norma Florence Paulsen was credited with saving the life of Charles Pusey, 52, who had plunged into the murky waters of the Miami River at noon yesterday.

"I kicked my shoes off and dove in. The water was freezing cold and he kept fighting to keep his head under water.

* * *

"I had to swim and pull him with me and I didn't think I was going to make it—but I guess God helped me."

Detective Neal Coston said Pusey, an engineer for the Florida Paper & Light Co., first fought off the restraining hands of a friend before diving 30 feet from the Brickell Avenue bridge.

Coston said Pusey is suffering with a nervous condition and has been under a physician's care. He was being taken to a doctor's office at the time.

Had to Confess, Youth Charges

Claims Police Beating Forced Him to Admit Slaying Woman

CLARENDON, Ark. (AP)—The 19-year-old transient charged with the slaying of Mrs. Milton Fuller said he admitted the killing only after he was beaten by police, but his statement brought denials from officers.

Billy Ray Willingham, of Florence, Ala., has been charged with first-degree murder in the death of the 25-year-old Brinkley, Ark., mother of two children, brutally beaten in her home Dec. 12. He was arrested Friday.

He told an Associated Press reporter in an interview last night at the county jail here:

"I didn't kill that woman. I just told them that I did to get it over with."

Willingham told his story of hitting the sleeping woman with a five-pound stick of hickory firewood to police and newsmen early last Sunday.

Prosecutor J. B. Reed, Sheriff Frank Henderson all denied Willingham was struck either by H. K. McKenzie and Police Chief themselves or any other person.

Willingham denied last night he was in Brinkley at the time Mrs. Fuller was attacked.

A preliminary hearing on the murder charge against Willingham will be held Wednesday at Municipal Court in Brinkley.

Shoppers Push Carts as Bandits Make Haul

DETROIT (AP)—Two men robbed a Detroit supermarket last night of $15,000 while 25 shoppers calmly went about their business unaware that anything was happening.

Police said one robber entered the Big Bear Market's office and told store manager Howard Pettit to empty the currency from the safe into a paper bag.

Meanwhile, Bernard Roche, a 19-year-old stockboy, was directed to stand in the corner of the office.

A second man joined the robber, Pettit and Roche outside the office and the four left the store through the back door, police said. Pettit said the robbers told him and Roche to "walk straight ahead and don't look back for five minutes.

"When we did look back, nobody was in sight," said Pettit.

U. S. Acquires Early Photos

Brady-Handy Collection Includes Some Taken During Civil War

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Library of Congress has acquired an extensive and historic photograph collection from the studios of the late Levin C. Handy, famed 19th and early 20th century photographer and nephew of the Civil War picture chronicler, Mathew B. Brady.

Negatives, prints and daguerreotypes by both Brady and Handy are represented in the collection, which was obtained from Mrs. Mary H. Evans and Mrs. Alice H. Cox, daughters of Handy. Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Cox are the present owners of the L. C. Handy studios here.

The material, estimated at about 20,000 items, is now being catalogued and organized by the library to make it available for use. For the next 10 years, permission for reproduction must be obtained from Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Dox, but after Sept. 14, 1964, there will be no restriction on the use of the collection.

Over 3,000 negatives by Brady are included in the group, some made as early as the 1840s. Brady's negatives and daguerreotypes have long been famed for the picture they present of life in the Civil War period. The latest dated works are plates made by Handy in 1932.

Brady negatives in the group include those of Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, members of Lincoln's cabinet, justices of the U. S. Supreme Court, military leaders of the North and South and other celebrities of the day. The total number of negatives in the collection has been estimated at between 6,000 and 8,000. Brady's daguerreotypes include Edwin Booth, William Cullen Bryant, Stephen A. Douglas, Jenny Lind, Daniel Webster, Brigham Young and one of Brady himself.

Handy became Brady's apprentice at the age of 12, about 1868. At 16 he was relieved of the onerous task of coating negatives and was allowed to operate a camera in his uncle's studio. In the famous gallery at 627 Pennsylvania Ave., he photographed presidents, congressmen, justices and other notables. When Brady died in 1896, Handy moved the studio to its present location at 494 Maryland Ave. Handy died in 1932.

Of especial significance to the library is the procurement of a group of portraits Brady made of members of Congress during and after the Civil War. As early as 1871, the library sought to obtain the portraits, recommending that Congress purchase 2,000 of the Brady pictures for $25,000.

Space Satellite Project Still On

Research for Artificial Moon Being Advanced by Defense Department

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson has termed questions about space ships "a littl dreamy" and disclaimed knowledge of such studies by the Pentagon, but his department said today it is actively exploring the possibility of creating artifical earth satellites.

And it has been doing that for at least six years.

In response to a question about in a 1948 report by the first secretary of defense, James Forrestal, the Defense Department today gave this official answer:

"Studies relating to a satellite program as mentioned in 1948 ar active and are proceeding at a rate commensurate with th technical state of the art.

* * *

"These studies are being coordinated within the office of the secretary of defense and provide for full utilization of the combined efforts of the services."

In addition to the aparent limited circulation within th department of information about the satellite program, the project is under a "secret" classification.

What the scientists aim at first is not the building of a "space ship" to carry men beyond the pull of the earth's gravity or to another planet, but an artifical satellite for scientific or even weapon use. There has been the suggestion of installing some form of automatic radar equipment on such a satellite to provie continuous surveillance of all nations of the Northern Hemisphere.

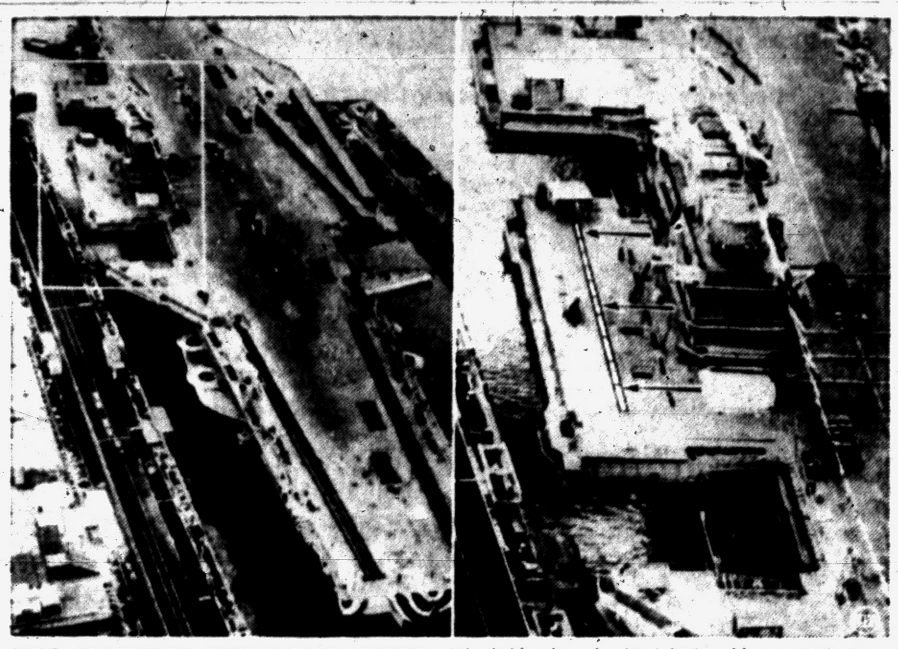

Bandit's Bank Loot Found in Garbage Can

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—A bandit who took $30,000 from the Idaho Bank and Trust Co. yesterday discovered that a garbage can was not a safe hiding place for his loot.

Two small boys told police they saw a man put something into the can—and officers found $23,890 lying in it loose, hidden only by an overturned paper box.

A six-state alarm was sent out for the bandit.

In the summer of 1953 a uranium rush started in Canada's Blind River district east of Sault Ste. Marie. Within a few weeks 10,000 claims were staked.

NAVY ANNOUNCES "FORRESTAL" CHANGE—The Navy announced plans to relocate the bridge of the recently launched supercarrier "The Forrestal." The change will cost about a million dollars and take 80,000 man hours. Photo at left is an aerial view of the huge craft's flight deck, with the bridge boxed. At right is a blowup of the insert, illustrating how the Navy plans to move the bridge 22 feet to the starboard. Heavy catapults are being installed on the port side to counter-balance the massive shift ofweight.

Last Wish of Onetime Slave Still Helps Needy at Yule

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP) — The Christmas spirit of a thrifty man born a slave still lives in this Antioch College town of 2,900 people.

This week, for the 61st Christmas season, some 35 worthy widows will reap some of the benefits of Wheeling Gaunt's years of hard work and saving.

They will get 10 pounds of flour and 10 pounds of sugar each—purchased with rental money of land left the town by Gaunt when he died in 1894. Annual rental is $75.

His will requested that the money from the rental of nine acres of land southwest of the village be used at Christmastime each year to buy flour for worthy and poor widows. The Town Council has followed his wishes each year since then, distributing the flour to a list prepared by the mayor or village manager. Sugar was added to the gift this year because, officials said, some women do not use a whole sack of flour in a year.

* * *

Village Manager Howard Kahoe said all of the recipients are not so poor that a sack of flour or two would make a difference. Most of the widows take the flour, though, because to refuse it perhaps would violate the intention of Gaunt's will.

Gaunt was born a slave in Kentucky in 1812. He learned to perform odd jobs as soon as he was big enough, saved his pay from these jobs and eventually had enough to buy his freedom. He paid his master $900 for that freedom, and later paid $500 for the freedom of his wife.

At the end of the Civil War, while still living in the South, hi industry nabled him to save considerable money. He came to Yellow Springs in the 1860s, bought property and gradualy became wealthy. When he died he left an estimate estimated to be worth $30,000.

British Ignore Soviet Threat to End Treaty

LONDON (AP)—The British government is going ahead with ratification of the Paris agreements to free and rearm West Germany despite a Soviet threat in a note yesterday to annul the 1942 British-Soviet Friendship and Mutual Aid Pact.

A Foreign Office spokesman said last night the Cabinet expects to complete the ratification procedure. Parliament already has approved the agreements.

Bandits Come Disguised With Christmas Trees

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two men, each carrying a Christmas tree, knocked on the door of Jessie Alsup's children's wear shop before she had opened up yesterday. She unlocked the door and they asked if they could leave the trees inside while they shopped.

Mrs. Alsup ushered them in. They produced revolvers, robbed her of $163 and then fled, leaving the trees behind.

Renew Salvage Tries for Victims of Crash

NEW YORK (AP)—Navy divers today resume their grim task of raising from the bottom of Jamaica Bay the wreckage of an Italian airliner that crashed Saturday, killing 26.

In salvage operations yesterday, bodies of three victims were recovered in a 35-foot section of the fuselage. They were tentatively identified as the stewardess and two crew members. All 10 of the plane's crew died in the crash. Six of the 22 passengers survived.

Thus far the bodies of 12 victims have been recovered.

The big four-engine airliner struck the end of a pier while making its fourth attempt at a radar-guided landing through rain and mist at Idlewild Airport. The pier extends 2,000 feet into Jamaica Bay as a base for runway guide lights.

Air Force Men Living in Tubes on Icy Greenland

WASHINGTON (AP) — Somewhere in Greenland several score men are living in a series of connected tubes, 18 feet in diameter and of varying length, which are sinking slowly into the arctic ice cap.

Disclosing this yesterday, the Air Force said the quarters include sleeping space, mess hall, recreation room a ndakitchen.Itsai d tion room and a kitchen. It said they are in an area where standard buildings could not be erected on the packed snow.

* * *

Since the tubes are heated to about 72 degrees and the outside temperature goes as low as 75 degrees below zero, the Air Force said, the tubes can be expected to sink into the snow at a rate of about three feet a year.

* * *

In Miami, Fla., retired Brig. Gen. Robert G. Lovett, who supervised the construction, said the quarters were built 18 months ago. He estimated they could be used for 15 to 18 years before they will have to be abandoned.

The Air Force said the men living in them make weather observations and collect other information. The exact location was not given.

Plan for Yule Calls

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co says "every available operator" will be on duty plus additional long distance circuits to handle the crush of Christmas Eve and Christmas Day calls.

Pope Rests Better; Able to Work Today

VATICAN CITY (INS) — Pope Pius XII spent a restful night, untroubled by any hiccoughs which recurrently have interfered with his recovery from a nearly year-old illness.

The 78-year-old pontiff spent part of the morning working on church affairs at his desk in his study.

The Vatican announced yesterday that because of the Pope's weakness he would be unable to deliver his traditional lengthy address to the world on Christmas Eve. Instead, he will broadcast a few words to the faithful at noon (6 a. m. EST) on Dec. 24 from his apartment in the Vatican palace.

Reckless Driver Fined

Ben Norhof, 57, of Columbiaville, pleaded guilty to reckless driving yesterday and was fined $10 and $5 costs by Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy.

Giardello Now Faces $100,000 Damage Suit

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Middleweight contender Joey Giardello takes pretty good care of himself in the ring, but it's outside of the boxing ring which is tough on him.

Currently under indictment by the grand jury in connection with a brawl at a South Philadelphia gasoline station, Giardello was socked with a $100,000 damage suit yesterday as a result of an auto accident in which he was involved last summer.

Jan. 1 Retirees Will Receive Social Security Boosts

EDITOR'S NOTE: Social Security coverage will be extended to millions of Americans under new laws effective Jan. 1. In addition increased benefits are in store for those who retire after Jan 1. This is the second of two stories on the new Social Security laws.

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Social security benefit increases ranging from $5 to $35.30 a month are in store for workers who retire after the new social security law becomes fully effective Jan. 1.

There will be tax increases on some, too, to help pay for the higher benefits. Beginning with the new year, the two per cent social security tax will be levied against the first $4,200 of an employe's annual pay, compared to a tax against the first $3,600 under the old law.

The effect of this on workers who earn $4,200 or more a year is that the social security tax on an annual basis will be $84 in 1955, compared to $72 in 1954. The matching amount paid by employers directly to the government will go up correspondingly.

The tax and benefit increases are part of the new law enacted by the last Congress. Besides boosting benefits, the new law extends coverage to some 10,000,000 additional persons, including farmers, many farm and household workers, architects, accountants, engineers, many state and local government employes, and clergymen.

Persons who become totally disabled are given special consideration under the new law. And it is now possible for a retired worker between 65 and 72 to earn as much as $1,200 a year without sacrificing any social security benefit rights. Under the old law the maximum earnings permitted was $75 a month, or $900 a year.

Persons covered by social security who already have reached the retirement age of 65 started receiving their benefit increases in checks mailed about Oct. 1.

These increases ranged from a minimum of $5 to a maximum of $20.30 for a retired worker who had been drawing a benefit check of $127.50 for himself and his wife.

Persons retiring in the future will fare even better. Those who retire after paying in at the $4,200 annual base for the next 18 months—until July 1, 1956—will get the maximum increases. The top payment for a retired worker will go up to $108.50 a month, compared to the previous top of $85.

The maximum for a retired worker and his wife will jump from $127.50 to $162.80. The top payment for a surviving widow with at least two children will go up from $162.75 to $200.

These benefit increases are based on three actual changes in the old law.

The first was hiking the tax base from $3,600 to $4,200.

The second was a new "drop out" provision. Under this provision, a worker can forget about his four years of lowest earnings, which might pull his overall average down. Thus, it becomes easier to qualify for higher benefit payments.

The third change which contributed to an increase in benefits was in the basic formula. Under the old law, a worker used as a basis of computation 55 per cent of the first $100 of the average monthly wage, plus 15 per cent of the remainder up to $200.

Under the new law, the benefit is figured by taking 55 per cent of the first $110 of average monthly earnings and adding 20 per cent of the next $240 of average earnings.

Congress changed the law to permit persons between 65 and 72 to earn up to $1,200 a year without losing any of their social security benefits. Above 72, a person can earn as much as the traffic will bear without any limitation on earnings. The old law put the earnings restriction on persons between 65 and 75.

The new law also provides special treatment for persons who become totally disabled. The earnings record of disabled persons is "frozen" while they are unable to work. Thus, a period of low earnings or no earnings at all would not have to be counted in figuring average earnings.

Commission May Act on Rezoning

City Attorney to Give Opinion

Residents Oppose Shift in Peacock, Joslyn, Fuller, Grace Area

Action on the controversial rezoning of tracts of land in the Grace-Fuller-Peacock-Joslyn section from residential to manufacturing may be forthcoming at tonight's City Commission meeting.

Slated is an opinion by City Attorney William A. Ewart on questions raised by George A. Cram, attorney for a citizens' group opposing the zone shift.

The commission can take final action on the proposal since all legal preliminaries have been acted upon at previous meetings.

Six of the seven commissioners must favor the zone change in order for it to pass.

Michigan law states that three-quarters of the governing body must approve such a change if 20 per cent or more of adjacent property owners object. About 25 per cent are against the rezoning.

Other business on the 11-point agenda includes reports from Ewart on a set back agreement with Harry Wood for lots 16, 17 and 18 of Citizens Development Co.'s addition, and on a deed from Joseph Istrate for a portion of lot 11, assessor's plat 143.

Also up for action are two applications for transfer of alcoholic beverage licenses.

James Citino has asked for the shift of his package beer and wine license at 424-430 S. Jessie St. to Charles DeSantis. The other application is from Leslie and Frances Hudson and Clarence Uhan to transfer their package beer, wine and liquor licenses to Ernest Cosmos at 1461-1463 Baldwin Ave.

Final major item on the agenda is a communication from Orrin McQuaid requesting vacating of a 20-foot alley east of Stanley avenue, extending from Sheffield street to the Grand Trunk Western-Belt Line Railroad property.

Puzzle Over Estate Taxing Legal Minds

LANSING (UP)—The State Board of Escheats asked Atty Gen. Frank G. Millard today to help settle a dispute over the estate of a man who spent 45 years in a mental institution.

State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, chairman, said Matt Vulkia, committed to the Newberry State Hospital in 1901 from Marquette County, died in 1946. He left $4,000 which he had earned by selling cigarettes and candy to other inmates.

Brake said the Luce County Probate Court escheated the money to the state in the belief there were no heirs and later allowed a $7,000 claim against the estate by the State Revenue Department for Vulkia's maintenance in the state institution. In the interim, heirs were located in Finland.

Millard was asked whether the state can keep the money or whether it must go to the foreign heirs.

House Unit Seeking to Revise Survivor Benefit Law

WASHINGTON (UP) — A House committee said today there should be changes in the law which, in thousands of cases, provides a serviceman's survivors bigger benefit payments than the man earned while alive.

In other cases, the group said in a formal report, survivors receive benefits "inadequate to meet their basic minimum needs."

The committee is a special House group headed by Rep. Bates (R-Mass). It was created to study survivor benefits of armed forces personnel.

* * *

It urged further study aimed at simplifying the law, noting that the government now maintains five distinct survivor benefit programs, with survivors being required to deal with five agencies.

The committee said there are approximately 465,000 cases on the various death compensation rolls, with a normal peacetime addition of 7,000 cases annually and an annual cost of 365 million dollars.

Death compensation, as distinguished from pensions, is paid only to survivors of persons who die while on active duty or from service-connected causes.

* * *

The compensation is paid from these programs:

1. A six-month death gratuity with a minimum payment of $468 and maximum of $6,857, paid to the next of kin and administered by the Defense Department.

2. A gratuitous indemnity of $10,000, with payments of $92.90 monthly for 10 years, usually to the next of kin, administered by the Veterans Administration.

3. Veterans Administration compensation, with payments ranging from $40 upward, monthly, depending on the number of dependents and their relationships to the deceased.

4. Social security, with monthly benefits depending on many variables.

5. Federal Employes Compensation Act, through which benefits are paid to survivors of certain reservists whose death is service-connected. This program is administered by the Labor Department's Bureau of Employe Compensation.

The existing setup, the committee commented, is so complicated as to "confound the intellect" of informed survivors and "completely frustrate the uninformed." Thousands of survivors were said not to be receiving benefits to which they are entitled, simply because they don't know about them or don't understand the programs.

* * *

The committee recommended among other things that (1) the Federal Employes Compensation Act survivor benefits for certain reserve personnel be terminated, (2) the six-month death gratuity paid by the Defenset Department be continued, and (3) serious consideration be given to placing all armed forces personnel under social security on a contributory basis, with benefits replacing certain survivor benefits now provided free. This would require the federal government to pay an employer's tax of more than 215 million dollars annually based on present military strength and pay scales.

Schoolchildren Get Treats From Tycoon

LAKE LINDEN (UP) — Former sawmill tycoon Samuel Eddy played Santa Claus to pupils in Torch Lake district schools when the schools closed for Christmas vacation.

Eddy passed out candy and nuts to more than 1,000 pupils in the schools.

His treats for school children come twice a year.

Every June he gives graduates a rose to wear for commencement ceremonies. This year the students reciprocated by dedicating a portrait in honor of the 90-year-old man.

Ex-Chicagoan Is 'The' Santa to Allegan Tots

ALLEGAN (UP)—Jonathan Wallace, better known to many Allegan residents as Santa Claus, was presented with a key to the city by Mayor Steward Miller in appreciation for the happiness he has brought to thousands of children.

To Allegan children, Wallace is "The" Santa and all the others are just helpers.

Wallace came to Allegan 10 years ago from Chicago after he retired as an electrician in the Chicago Park Department.

He brought his Santa Claus suit with him, figuring he might find some use for it. Wallace was one of the Windy City's best-known Santas for 20 years before coming here.

Wallace was first selected to play Santa for the poor and needy children of Chicago because of his figure and he's been doing it ever since.

He has worn out three corduroy suits—the seat of the pants go first, he said—and has held thousands of children on his knees during the last 30 years.

THE FAMILY HOBBY — TELEVISION — The members of the James Marinos family, 284 Chandler Ave. lined up before one of their hobbies, television, to have their picture taken. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Marinos are their two sons and a daughter, Peter, three; Christopher, six and Pamela, eight.

What Religion Means to Our Family

Marinos Believe Faith Helps Children

By LULA B. OGDEN

Besides television, the James Marinos family of 284 Chandler Ave. enjoys taking automobile rides especially if they end up with a picnic dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Marinos and the three children are members of St. George Greek Orthodox Church here. Mrs. Marinos, who was Helen Pratt, has always lived in Pontiac, attending Central, Eastern Junior High and Pontiac Senior High School.

Mr. Marinos is a native of Detroit.

It was because a little child was christened and Helen Pratt was asked to be godmother that the father and mother met.

Mr. Marinos, who was working for a lumber company in Detroit, made the tables for the christening dinner and the father of the baby invited him to the celebration.

Here he met Helen Pratt, the godmother, and about a year later she became Mrs. James Marinos.

They set up their home here as Mrs. Marinos was an only child and the parents wished to have them near.

"I think of our religion as a place where we go to pray all together. We all go to take communion together and by so doing, we feel it will help our children.

"We are interested in our church work, and try to teach our children to do good unto others.

"We feel that by doing everything together and taking an interest in our church is a way of getting the children to believe that there is more enjoyment in giving and doing good for others, than in just receiving," the parents said.

Principal objective of the campaign is construction of a new girl's dormitory. The college board already has contributed $207,480 to the building fund.

Dies as Car Hits Train

BITELY (UP)—Robert R. Schooley, 23, of rural Bitely, was fatally injured yesterday when his car collided with a Chesapeake & Ohio train two miles north of this west central Michigan community. Newaygo County sheriff's officers said Schooley apparently could not stop because of slippery roads.

SANTA STANDS BY — Three-year-old Shirley Brown's father, Melvin, gave her a goodby kiss just before she was taken to Oakland County Children's Home yesterday. Standing by is Lee Ellsworth, owner of Lee's Diner on North Perry street, who played Santa to the tot yesterday. Shirley, cold and ill-clad, was brought in to Ellsworth's restaurant by her father, who said he was out of work and unable to buy her warm clothing. Ellsworth took the tot Christmas shopping, bought her a complete outfit, and then turned her over to Pontiac police who sent her to the home.

Seaway Seen Bringing Wealth

Senate Report Predicts Vast Expansion Ahead for U.S., Canada

WASHINGTON (INS) — The St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. predicted today that construction of the new inland waterway, to be finished by the fall of 1958, will bring a "vast expansion of wealth" in the U.S. and Canada.

In a question-and-answer pamphlet prepared for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and issued by that group, the corporation reported that excavation work on the big project will start "probably about March, near Massena, N. Y." It said the work awaits only "weather and ground conditions."

The 105-million dollar seaway, approved by Congress after years of opposition by railroad and seaport interests, will provide a minimum 27-foot channel. The corporation expects that "navigation works will be ready for the first larger ships in the spring season of 1959."

The document stated:

"It is anticipated that the United States and Canada will experience a vast expansion of wealth. The areas served by the seaway are to become more industrialized as the natural consequence of the provision of cheaper bulk transportation. Access to direct foreign trade should be greatly beneficial."

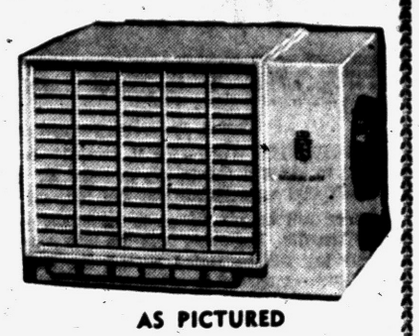

It denied the claim that older east coast ports will "face ruin" as a result, explaining that U. S. economy is expanding.

Rhee Blasts China Trip

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee today blasted U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's trip to Peiping to talk directly with the Chinese Communists about captured American fliers. Only advocates of "peace at any cost" would consider it wise, he told a news conference.

Snakes can swim, contrary to general belief. They cannot strike as far on water as on land because of lack of firm support. But their bite is almost as effective under water as elsewhere.

Local Restaurant Owner Plays Santa to 3-Year-Old

Despite near-zero weather, and the lack of winter clothing, a small three-year-old girl found the world a mighty warm place yesterday.

For blonde Shirley Marie Brown knows how to pick a real Santa when she sees one—even if he is disguised in the white apron of a restaurant man.

Lee Ellsworth, owner of Lee's Diner on North Perry street doesn't have a comfortable paunch, white whiskers or red suit, but he filled the roll of Santa in fine style. And today little Shirley is sporting a brand new snowsuit, a bright wool cap, mittens and shiny new galoshes.

Shirley was brought into Lee's Diner early yesterday morning by her father, Melvin Brown, 44, who told the restaurant owner he had come in from California and was looking for a job.

The child was crying with the cold, Ellsworth said. She was clad in thin dungarees, two ragged sweaters, and a thin summer coat.

"Her hands were blue with cold and one of my waitresses held them to warm them," Ellsworth said.

"I was an orphan child myself, and I know what Christmas means to a child. I told her father not to take her out anymore in the cold—that I was taking her to see Santa."

When Ellsworth and the now happy-faced Shirley returned from their shopping tour, Shirley's father had disappeared. Two hours elapsed and Ellsworth, thinking perhaps the tot had been abandoned, turned her over to Miss Patricia Sweeney of the Pontiac Police Women's Division.

At the police station, the chubby, blue-eyed tot played happily with colored pencils and stole the hearts of several burly patrolmen before her father and mother finally turned up to claim her.

Preliminary investigation by the police revealed that little Shirley had been living a transient life, being kept at hotels on a night-to-night basis.

They decided to take her to the Oakland County Children's Home.

Brown said a younger child, Joan, was in Florida with a relative, but that he and the children's mother, Dorothy, 22, had taken Shirley with them to California, and subsequently back to Pontiac.

Brown said there was no work in California, and he had hoped to find a job here. Since they arrived here last Thursday, the family had been staying at a hotel and living on a food allowance given them by the Salvation Army.

A court hearing has been scheduled for Jan. 4 on just what is to be done about Shirley.

Meanwhile, the tot played with her new playmates, joyful in the certainty that there really was a Santa and that, undoubtedly, she was the best-dressed girl in the Oakland County Children's Home.

Reading Time: 2 Minutes

'Hurry' Complex Throttles Americans Until They Die

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS) — "Hurry, hurry, hurry!" That's not only the cry of a barker at a carnival sideshow, but all too often the slogan hammering at our poor eardrums from the time we're in rompers to the time we're on our last legs.

"Hurry up and button that snowsuit," our mothers order us when we're scarcely as tall as a table. "Hurry down — supper's ready." "Hurry or you'll be late for school."

"Hurry, hurry, hurry. When we're old enough to work, we start racing for the commuters' train or dashing for the city bus; we begin slamming our way through crowds to get somewhere faster than the others can get there — never mind where, or why it's got to be faster.

Even things like travel and reading, that used to be regarded as leisure things to rest and soothe and relax — even they are now measured in terms of seconds and minutes and hours.

They got cars speeded up long ago to 40 miles per hour, then 50, then 80, then 110; trains knocked off X hours between Chicago and the coast; ocean liners knocked off X hours from the briny deep; airplanes crash through sonic barriers; even kids' bicycles today go twice as fast as they did years ago. And if they don't, undoubtedly they soon will.

Hurry, hurry, hurry. When it comes to the old-fashioned joys of reading, we're taught to speed up our eye-action and thus speed up the acreage of print we can plough through. We're urged to train our eyes to gobble up a page, sentence for sentence, not merely nibble at it, word for word, the way our forefathers did in their pokey old centuries before the 20th came along.

Magazine articles often wear a little flag of assurance flying from their mastheads—"Reading time only 11 min. 30 sec." one will tell us, or "Reading time 8 min. flat."

Long books are boiled down to short books, and the boiled versions are often packaged together, four or five at a clip, so we busy folks can "get" the five leading books of the season, in the time we'd once have had to put into one unboiled one.

Proverbs once cautioned just the opposite. "Make haste slowly," was one old adage, and "Haste maketh waste" another. The Tortoise and the Hare was a fable every impatient youngster sooner or later had to listen to, and the very notion of speed for speed's sake seemed a touch silly.

But today we live in the "age of acceleration" and it's inevitable that every last one of us should feel our pulse quicken up a bit, our breath come a little faster, our nerves twang a little harder.

Or is it so inevitable?

If you're not in the actual world of the split second, say, if you're not working in aviation or television or radio or auto-racing — if your job and your pay envelope don't actually depend on shaving off one more tenth of a second from the last world's record —

Then do you really have to hurry, hurry, hurry all the time?

I doubt it. It's struck me a thousand times in the past few years that when that old demon, hurry, starts racing through my own innards, the surest net result is that I accomplish a lot less in the long run.

And I wonder if that isn't true for a great number of men and women, fathers and mothers, boys and girls. I wonder if that eternal hurry doesn't make a lot of whirring, flapping, busy noises and get us nowhere real fast?

Take it easy — that's my biggest resolution for 1955! Or easier, anyway.

2 Farmington Men Admit Breaking and Entering

Ransom A. Campbell, 22, of 722 Kinney Rd. and Thomas J. Graham, of 442 Broadway Ave. pleaded innocent yesterday to robbery unarmed and were remanded to Oakland County Jail by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty to await trial.

They are accused of assaulting a Pontiac man Dec. 3 and taking $48.

Hitchhiker's $700 Find Still Unclaimed

DALLAS (UP) — Grady Wilson, 41-year-old farm hand and laborer from Phoenix, Ariz., found $700 while hitchhiking through Dallas Sunday and promptly turned it in to police.

Police Lt. N. T. Fisher said last night claims for the money are going to have to be more convincing than any received so far. Claimants have been rather vague in their descriptions.

Wilson, en route to Florida, borrowed $5 from Fisher and said he'd check back in four months. "I hope he does," said Fisher. "I know I would."

Huge Tapestry Planned for Coventry Cathedral

COVENTRY, England (UP) — A committee directing reconstruction of Coventry's war-ruined cathedral today approved a design submitted by British artist Graham Sutherland for the "world's largest single tapestry" to hang behind the main altar.

Sutherland's design shows Christ with figures of a calf, an eagle, a lion and a man adoring him. The woolen tapestry will be as high as an eight-story building and will cost more than $56,000.

Attempts Suicide When Ordered to Part With Dog

TOKYO (UP)—Welfare ministry officials are pondering the case of an old man on relief who tried to kill himself rather than part with his pet dog.

They had told Ryokichi Mizutani, 64, that he must get rid of the dog or have his monthly relief check cut because of a rule against people on relief keeping dogs.

Mizutani took sleeping tablets yesterday, but was rushed to a hospital and is reported out of danger.

The ministry is thinking about the case because the dog used to belong to the Mizutani's daughter, Emiko, 24, who was their sole support. She was one of 16 trampled to death in a stampede during a New Year's reception at the imperial palace grounds last Jan. 2.

Signature Worth $10

BARRINGTON, R. I. (UP) — Mamie Eisenhower's signature brought $10 at a Rosary and Altar Guild auction. Mrs. Eisenhower's signature was on a letter that accompanied a picture of the White House.

Mississippi Voting May Close Schools

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi voters today decide whether the threat of abolishing public schools is the way to keep Negroes out of white classrooms.

Up for voter approval is the proposed constitutional amendment giving the Legislature power to abolish public schools. Lawmakers passed the amendment to get around the U. S. Supreme Court ban on school segregation. A majority of votes cast would ratify the measure.

Amendment sponsors contend the loss of public schools would not be too great a price to pay for contiued segregation. But opponents argue the amendment isn't necessary.

The first National Guard unit (militia) was organized in 1636.

A PICTURE FRAME FOR FATHER

It's usually easy to buy a gift for father, but by making one you can please him even more.

1. Cut out a piece of strong cardboard 6 inches square. In the middle draw a 2½ inch square. One way to center this second square is to place a dot 1¾ inches from each corner of the big square. Draw lines through the dots and parallel to the sides of the big square.
2. Cut out the smaller square with sharp scissors or knife. Now you have the foundation for the frame.
3. Cut a piece of dark blue, light weight construction paper 5 inches square and place the frame in its center.
4. Fold the edges of the paper back around the frame and paste them to it neatly with library paste.
5. Cut diagonal slits across the paper covering the small square. Fold back the points of the paper and paste them to the back of the frame also.
6. Cut another piece of construction paper 5 inches square and paste it on the back of the frame, covering the small square. BE SURE however to leave the top edge unpasted. This makes a pocket for the picture.
7. Decorate the front of the frame with several sizes of silver stars you can buy at a stationery store. Or you can draw stars on silver paper and cut them out yourself. They do not have to be perfect.
8. For hanging the frame on the wall, glue a loop of tape or cloth to the back, in the center above the picture opening.
9. Now slip a snapshot of yourself into the pocket and the gift is ready.

Average Draftee Now 21 or Over

Pentagon Quota-Cutting Expected to Push Age Even Higher

WASHINGTON (AP)—The average age of men now being drafted in 35 states is 21 or over, an Associated Press survey of state draft directors showed today.

In 18 states, the average is 22 or over and in 5, over 23. Minimum legal draft age is 18½.

As in the past, draft directors are taking their older men first in the quotas given them by national draft headquarters. The quotas are based on the total number of men each state has available for service.

Quotas recently have been relatively small—about 20,000 a month—and a high percentage of state quotas has been filled by volunteers, mostly men 20 or under. This has tended to push upward the average age of men called involuntarily.

The state draft directors were questioned before yesterday's announcement by Secretary of Defense Wilson that draft quotas, starting in February and running at least through June, will be approximately halved. Wilson said the quota of 20,000 which had been fixed for February will be cut to 10,000 or 11,000.

* * *

Lad Believed Drowned

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hope was virtually abandoned today for a 5-year-old handicapped boy who wandered away from a Christmas party Sunday. Police believe Shapley Lalor, who has a speech handicap and can't talk except to say "boo," probably fell into the Miami River and drowned.

Maine is said to contain 2,465 lakes and large ponds.

Metallic Yarn Industry Booms

New Materials Flashes Ray of Hope on Limping Textile Trade

NEW YORK (UP) — Metallic yarns are flashing rays of optimism nowadays in the nation's recession-ridden textile industry.

The yarn with a glitter turns up in women's blouses, table linens, draperies, men's ties and even golf bags.

"The metallic yarn business has spurted from a standing start in 1947, when output was only 11,000 pounds, to a new record of about 1,000,000 pounds this year," said Arthur C. Brucks, a pioneer in the field. He is president of Metlon Corp., a leading producer.

Brucks thinks that the metallic yarn business is just starting to roll, with new uses popping up constantly. Metlon, for instance, will turn out yarn for the upholstery fabrics of 1955 model autos.

Available in 16 colors (ranging from "cornflower blue" to "Arctic green"), the Metlon product is made by "sandwiching "transparent plastic film to both sides of super-thin aluminum foil. The most popular width is 1-64th of an inch.

The pliable thread does not tarnish and it may be combined with both natural and synthetic yarns.

Metlon is used in church vestments, as well as in rugs and suspenders. As a defense item, it goes into tow targets for anti-aircraft guns.

"Before World War II," Brucks notes, "metallic yarn used in this country was chiefly an import from France of plated copper wire.

"During the war there were restrictions on using aluminum, so it is only in the past eight years that the metallic yarn field has enjoyed a chance to grow."

He points out that use of metallic yarn enhances the beauty of other textiles, thereby tending to aid the entire industry. Studies show that Americans now use only 32 pounds of cotton, wool and man-made fibers annually on a per capita basis. This compares with 36 pounds last year and a record of almost 42 pounds in 1941.

Booming Venezuela Attracts Capital From U.S. and Copies Yankee Ways

CARACAS, Venezuela (INS) — Business is booming in Venezuela and North Americans who are engaged in private enterprise in this country are enthusiastic over its present and future prospects.

The bustling city of Caracas, Venezuela's capital, is growing by leaps and bounds. Caracas' population today is 650,000 and is expected to reach 1,000,000 within five years.

There has arisen a new and beautiful hotel in Caracas—the luxurious Tamanaco, which rivals any hostelry in the United States.

Edward J. Moran Jr., former president of the American Chamber of Commerce and ex-president of the American Club, took me on an eye-opening tour of the city.

New buildings and beautiful homes are sprouting up on all sides. The authorities are striving to remove all signs of poverty, including the elimination of "squatters" from the hillsides.

Venezuela's wealth revolves around its tremendous oil resources, and United States capital is making it one of the liveliest, most enterprising nations in all Latin America.

You can buy anything in Caracas that you can buy in New York, from a soft drink to the latest model automobile.

It has its boulvards, modern office buildings, cocktail lounges, night spots and country clubs.

It has a luxurious Venezuelan officers' club, reputed to have cost $10,000,000, that is swankier than any military establishment in the United States.

"Venezuela has a tremendous future," said Moran, a construction man who has directed some of the most important building projects in Venezuela.

"We have no exchange restrictions here in Venezuela. United States businessmen can take out of the country all the dollars they can make.

"Income taxes are normal, and in no way discriminatory toward private capital. Employment is high, wages good. Naturally, with business flourishing and the standard of living improving, there is no communism in Venezuela."

Everything in Caracas is "going modern." The old Spanish-type architecture is on the wane and is being supplanted by the American motif in building.

Caracas keeps abreast of the times. The city has nine newspapers, five radio stations and three television stations.

No Hero in Home Town, Williams Complains

BAY PORT (UP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams noted last night his home town doesn't think as much of his political successes as other home towns feel about the state officials elected from them.

Williams, speaking at a non-partisan civic dinner honoring State Treasurer-elect Sanford A. Brown, said: "I have been elected four times but Grosse Pointe has never seen fit to honor me."

"What's more they never even have voted for me," he added.

'Man's Reaction to Change' Studied by Waterford Group

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Township incorporation was used as subject matter in discussing "Constructive Attitudes Toward Change" when the lay-leadership group of the Waterford Program Planning Committee met last night at the Covert School. This was the sixth topic of the adult education project "Parenthood in a Free Nation," sponsored by the University of Chicago as a pilot study in the township.

From the basic study text, the fact was brought out that people are "changing selves in a changing world — everything changes, nothing remains exactly the same."

In connection with incorporation, it was brought out that the Township of Waterford now has a population of 38,000—approximately half that of the city of Pontiac. These 38,000 people are served by the simple township form of government which is handled by a five-man board—supervisor, clerk, treasurer and two trustees.

The group discussed the conflict in regard to change. "There is in all men a natural resistance to change . . . There is also in every individual a desire for change, for new experience," the group learned.

It was pointed out that "in most countries there is an ever-increasing proportion of the population who, because they are older, tend to resist change. And this development is occurring at a time when most of the world is called upon to adjust to increasingly rapid changes."

An adjustable person was defined as one who maintains sufficient satisfactory harmony between himself and his environment. "Adjustment is not merely a passive submission to any and all environmental conditions . . . We must first gain some understanding of the change which is imminent," they learned.

In reference to incorporation, the group discussed the increased services and representation it would mean. This might mean an economic change through higher taxes although the monies returned from the state would be greater. As a township, the return this year is approximately $6 per capita. As a home rule city, the return would be about $13.

That each important change warrants thoughtful consideration was emphasized. It was pointed out that the Jaycees are handling township incorporation as a project and intend to make a minute survey of the area's needs, facilities, activities, and resources, and are going to call on organizations throughout the township to assist them.

Constructive attitudes toward change were suggested "as essential to healthy personality and to mature, responsible participation in a democratic way of life."

They are: to expect change and be prepared for it; to accept and adjust to inevitable and uncontrollable change; to recognize in change a basis for optimism; to see one's self in a great perspective.

Ethel Kawin, director of the parent education project of the University of Chicago, originated the "Parenthood in a Free Nation" course. Sponsored by the Ford Foundation, it is being used as an experiment in 51 communities in the United States and Canada.

At the conclusion of last night's meeting, this lay-leadership group prepared an evaluation which is to be sent to Miss Kawin.

Kodak Forced to Stop Color Developing Plan

WASHINGTON (UP) — Eastman Kodak Co., under threat of government anti-trust prosecution, today agreed to give up the practice of requiring buyers of its color film to send it to Eastman for processing.

Previously, the film was sold for a package price which included the cost of processing. Henceforth, under an agreement announced today, purchasers will pay for the film only and may have it processed wherever they please.

Held in Breakin

Accused of breaking into a dwelling at 67 Clovese St., Reuben McCray, 35, of 278 Dellwood Ave., demanded examination yesterday when he appeared before Pontiac Judge Cecil McCallum who ordered him held for the hearing Dec. 29 after failing to post a $3,000 bond.

Mother's Death Kept From Two Daughters

LONDON (UP)—An American opera singer hugged his two excited little girls at the airport today and bundled them aboard a plane for Germany without telling them their mother is dead.

The wife of baritone James Pease collapsed last night in her stateroom aboard the liner America which was taking her and their two daughters on a Christmas voyage back to the Unitde States. The liner was at Southampton.

Margaret, 8, and Martha, 7, were with her when she collapsed. But grownups told the little girls their mother had simply "gone to the hospital."

The American consul, steamship line officials and newsmen kept the secret, leaving it up to Pease to tell his daughters the crushing news.

Children's Program Set at Sunnyvale Chapel

Freed Canadian Flier to Visit Kin of U.S. Men

OTTAWA (INS)—Squadron Leader Andy MacKenzie, recently repatriated after two years in Red Chinese prison camps, said today he will visit the families of three U. S. fliers with whom he was imprisoned at Mukden.

The three U. S. fliers — Capt. Harold Fischer, Swea City, Iowa, Lt. Lyle Cameron, Lincoln, Neb., and Lt. Roland Parks, Omaha, Neb.—still are in Chinese cells.

MacKenzie plans his visits to the families soon after the new year. He said he thinks he will be able to bring some comfort to them.

Scientists and Industrialists Join to Speed Use of Atomic Knowledge

By ROBERT B. TARR
Pontiac Press Managing Editor

Leading U. S. scientists, educators and industrialists yesterday announced the organization of the Fund for Peaceful Atomic Development, Inc., to promote the peaceful use of atomic energy.

The organization said its goal is to promote internationally "vigorous and early development of the peaceful uses of atomic energy."

Walker L. Cisler, president of both the fund and the Detroit Edison Co., said the non-profit organization is non-governmental and was formed to help carry out President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace plan.

"Whereas the President's international atomic plan contemplates arrangements between governments," said Cisler, "the fund's activities will emphasize people-to-people, industry-to-industry, and science-to-science cooperation on a world-wide basis."

Cisler added:

"Only with a private organization supplementing the work of our government, can the available talent throughout the world be mobilized in a maximum effort to bring into reality the beneficial uses of the atom.

"The fund seeks to put to work all the private resources available in this country and abroad so as to improve the welfare of men and women throughout the world and raise their living standards by means of atomic energy."

The fund will establish headquarters in Detroit, and maintain offices in New York and Washington.

The fund's other officers besides Cisler are:

William C. Foster, president of the Manufacturing Chemists' Assn. and former administrator of the Economic Cooperation Administration, vice president; Oscar M. Ruebhausen, chairman of the Atomic Energy Committee of the New York City Bar Assn., secretary; and Joseph M. Dodge, special assistant to the President on foreign economic policy and former U. S. budget director, treasurer.

Cisler said the fund's first operations will consist of arranging a task force of leading industrialists, scientists and others from foreign countries to visit this country to survey unclassified aspects of both private and government efforts to harness the atom for peaceful uses.

He said the fund also will provide for an international clearing house for unclassified atomic information and will form scholarships for research and study in atomics.

Detroit Edison, of which Cisler is president, was an original member of 25 companies which grouped forces as the Atomic Power Development Associates for nuclear power research and development for industry.

Cisler was executive secretary of the first AEC Industrial Advisory Committee in 1947 and now is president of the Atomic Industrial Forum, Inc.

The Ford Foundation announced it was giving $150,000 to the organization for its work, half the money to become available immediately and the remainder over the next three years. Cisler said several other grants are expected.

The fund's directors include Robert F. Bacher, director of the Norman Bridge Laboratory at California's Institute of Technology and former member of the Atomic Energy Commission; Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the Studebaker-Packard Corp. and former chief of the Economic Cooperation Administration; Hartley Rowe, vice president of the United Fruit Co. and former member of the AEC's general advisory committee.

Prentiss M. Brown, former U. S. senator and chairman of the Detroit Edison Co.; Chester Bowles, former price stabilizer and ambassador to India; William A. Calvin, president of the AFL Boilermakers Union; William T. Gossett, vice president and general counsel of the Ford Motor Co.; C. D. Jackson, vice president of Time, Inc., and U. S. representative to the General Assembly of the United Nations.

Philip D. Reed, chairman of the General Electric Co.; David Rockefeller, vice president of Chase National Bank of New York; Arthur Dean, partner in Sullivan & Cromwell; Dr. John R. Dunning, Columbia University dean of engineering; E. Blyth Stason, University of Michigan Law School dean and chairman of the American Bar Assn. committee on atomic energy; William Webster, vice president of the New England Electric System, president of the Yankee Atomic Electric Co., and former chairman of the defense department's research and development board; and Theodore P. Wright, vice president of Cornell University and president of Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory.

More Than 500,000 This Year

Air Travel, Favorable Peso Exchange Help Open Up Mexico to U.S. Visitors

MEXICO CITY (INS)—The tourist business is flourishing in Mexico.

About 500,000 visitors from the United States have flocked into Mexico this year, a substantial increase over a year ago, and prospects for the future are even brighter with various American airlines running a steady stream of flights to this picturesque and sunny country.

Good highways and the low rate of exchange—favorable to United States visitors—are important factors in the booming tourist trade.

The peso is worth 8 cents—12.50 pesos for the American dollar. This is a "break" for free-spending tourists who get their money's worth in the stores, restaurants and resorts.

New modern hotels are springing up all over Mexico, whose population has jumped to nearly 29,000,000. The capital, Mexico City, is as busy looking as Chicago and now has a population of close to 4,000,000, according to government officials.

In an interview with International News Service, Gustavo Ortiz Hernan, director general of the Mexican government tourist bureau, declared that the increase in tourist trade is helping both countries.

"Every dollar U.S. tourists spend in Mexico goes back to your country," he explained.

Pointing out that Mexico is the best Latin-American customer of the United States, with the possible exception of Brazil, Hernan added:

"Here in Mexico practically every car you see is U.S.-made. Our stores sell American goods. Our factory equipment is 99½ per cent American. Our shoes are made with American machinery. Our electricity is generated by American turbines, and so on."

Yet the balance of trade between the United States is at present unfavorable to Mexico, Hernan said.

"We buy more from the United states than you buy from us," Hernan explained. "In the first nine months of 1954, we imported four billion 839 million 368 thousand pesos worth of goods. On the other hand, we exported three billion 329 million 49 pesos worth of goods."

This unfavorable balance to Mexico means, according to Hernan, that Mexico has a constant need for dollars—not only to maintain the rate of exchange but to buy goods Mexico requires from the United States.

"One of the ways we have of procuring dollars is the tourist industry," Hernan said. "We treat tourists well. I'm sure you noticed that we do all we can to please them. I think we're succeeding.

"When American tourists spend money in Mexico they are not only helping us but are promoting their own economy back home.

"American tourist business is the third largest producer of our dollar income. The first is the mineral industry—silver, lead, copper, oil and aluminum. The second is agricultural production, mainly cotton, coffee and tomatoes."

Illustrating how tourist business has increased, Hernan stated that this year, up to Nov. 30, visitors from the United States totaled 417,000, compared to 351,000 in the same period of 1953 and 381,000 the corresponding period of 1952.

Next year Mexico expects to attract 600,000 Americans and in time—after more new hotels and other facilities for handling tourists are completed—raise the number to 1,000,000.

The airplane has been a big factor in bringing tourists into Mexico. American airlines leads with numerous flights from New York, Washington, Chicago and Dallas. Air France flies non-stop from New York to Mexico City and Pan-American has a Houston-Mexico City schedule.

Canadian-Pacific, trans-Canada and KLM Royal Dutch airlines over-fly the United States with passengers for Mexico. Guest air lines run flights from Miami, Fla., and Taca-International Airways brings Latin American tourists into Mexico.

A spokesman for American Airlines said the tourist influx from the United States is growing steadily. When the Mexican government suggested that this line institute an air coach service for tourists they complied immediately and other lines followed suit.

Mexico's tourist chief, Hernan, said 1954 has been a wonderful year for hotels in Mexico. This has been true not only in Mexico City but at popular resorts such as Acapulco in the Pacific, an easy airplane hop or a pleasant drive from Mexico City.

"Mexico has great faith in its tourist industry," Hernan said. "A steady effort is being made not only to improve the hotels but the service as well.

"The future for tourist trade looks bright."

Australians Hunting Missing Passports

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Australian security officers are making a widespread check for some 30 blank passports which disappeared from the government printing works.

Top security officials discounted suggestions that the passports had been stolen by a spy ring. Instead they believed the blanks had been purloined for use by Australian Communists denied exit permits to visit Iron Curtain countries.

Selects Trousseau, Then Pulls Stickup

CHICAGO (AP)—The handsome, wavy-haired young man told the clerk in a dress shop all about his fiancee as the clerk helped him pick out a woman's overcoat, three dresses and lingerie.

"She's gorgeous," he told Mrs. Celia Freidkin, who gift-wrapped each article. "We're going to have a beautiful candlelight church wedding."

Mrs. Freidkin handed him the packages and he pulled a gun and handed her a note. It said: "This is a holdup." Mrs. Freidkin told police the young man took $200 from the cash register, and the wearing apparel.

RESCUES TOT FROM TRACKS—Donald Gallagher, 25, gets a rewarding smile from his wife, Sheila, at his home in Newark, N. J., after dramatically rescuing Mary Caterine Wheeler, 3, who fell from a train onto the railroad tracks at Pennsylvania Station in Newark. Gallagher, a former high school basketball star, dropped an armful of Christmas gifts he had bought for his wife and daughter, sheds his overcoat on the run and squirmed to the tracks through the narrow opening between the train and platform to make the rescue.

Bowling History Is Traced to Primitive Religious Rite

WASHINGTON—A bowling alley is a far cry from a church aisle. Yet the winter sport for some 15 to 20 million Americans has a history that goes back to primitive religious rites.

Bowling at pins, as distinct from the even older sport of lawn bowling, has been traced to Europe's early Germanic tribes, says the National Geographic Society.

The Teutonic people had a favorite wooden bottle-shaped club, which they used to toughen their muscles, to bludgeon their enemies, or in throwing contests. It was known as a kegel, a word still denoting a ninepin or game of ninepins. Bowlers today are often called "keglers."

According to a 19th Century German authority on bowling history, the old Teutonic priests tested their followers' virtue by the kegel.

The subject was required to roll a small stone toward his club. If he hit the target his righteousness was established. If not, he later repeated until he could prove his rectitude.

This religious rite is believed to have died out after the Fifth Century. By then, however, the practice of bowling over a single club or group of clubs had caught on as a sport.

Played with large stones and eventually with wooden balls, bowling became a popular medieval pastime. At first the number of pins varied anywhere from 3 to 17. Finally, a set of nine became standard as the game spread in central and northern Europe.

The game of ninepins was introduced to America by the Dutch and immortalized in Washington Irving's "Rip Van Winkle."

Its popularity was almost its undoing. So many unscrupulous gamblers moved in during the mid-19th Century that public opinion turned against the game. Connecticut passed a law prohibiting it.

Bowling was revived by faithful adherents who changed the target from 9 to 10 pins and established standard rules.

The Monroe Doctrine dates from President James Monroe's statement of U. S. rights in the western hemisphere made Dec. 2, 1823.

For Audio-Minded Public

Company Spinning Tales on Long-Playing Records

LOS ANGELES—Alice, the girl from Wonderland, will soon be at the bookstores in a new guise—flat, round and revolving.

A Los Angeles and St. Joseph, Mich., firm has found a way to make a very, very long-playing record, squeezing the rendition of an entire book on three or four tiny discs. "Alice in Wonderland" is one of the four "talking books" the company is producing now. Already on the market is a recording of the entire New Testament.

"This thing can raise the cultural level of the whole country," Raymond Tierstein, vice president of Audio Books, explains enthusiastically. "We thought of it at first as something for the blind. Now we see it appeals to a big segment of the public.

"About half the people in the country are audio-minded instead of visual-minded. They grasp things they hear, instead of things they see. That's why they don't like to read. But they like to listen."

A lot of engineering had to be done before the recordings could go on the market. When the Highwayman comes riding, riding, up to the old inn door he'll be doing it at 16 and 2/3 r.p.m.—the speed the firm finally decided was the best for spinning their tales.

After they prefected the record, the manufacturers had to invent a device adapting a regular three-speed turntable to the slower revolutions of the book discs. They have a gadget they believe will do the trick.

Last year, as soon as Tierstein and company president J. L. D. Morrison became convinced they had conquered the technical difficulties, they started a massive project: recording the New Testament.

After five months of recording they had the voice of Marvin Miller, a radio-television personality reading the entire text on just 26 records. It takes 24 hours to play the album.

It was only after they had cut the records on this project that Morrison and Tierstein decided that the general public—not just blind people—would like to buy books they could listen to. They recorded Poe, an anthology of well-known poems, a book of bedtime stories, and Alice in Wonderland in little albums of two to four records. They're coming off the presses now.

"We're having some trouble deciding whether they're records or books," Tierstein said. "They'll be sold both in record shops and bookstores. I insist they're books, but the government says they're records and makes us pay excise tax.

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — When his wife lost the car keys after a shopping trip, Orwin Benson made a mighty search.

There were the keys his wife had dropped on an open book lying sat down to read. He selected a the shelf.

Australians Asking Santa for TV by Christmas '55

SYDNEY (UP)—A subtle change is taking place in the lonely north of Australia—the continent's "last frontier"—and the crusty hard-bitten "bushmen" and prospectors are not too happy about it.

For women are invading "The Territory" — vast heart of Australia as big as New South Wales and Victoria but without statehood.

In prewar days men outnumbered women three to one in this area. Now the ratio is something like 10 to 7.

And the birthrate in the Northern Territory, once the lowest in Australia, now is higher than in the thickly populated southern states.

Hand-in-hand with this invasion has gone a steady improvement in the standard of living. This, in turn, attracts more families to the region. Commenting on the change, Minister for Territories Paul M. Hasluck said:

"We have passed the age of the mattock, tent and donkey team, and are in the age of the power-wagon, airplane, bulldozer, refrigerator and radio.

"The standard of living and the way of living are more like the rest of Australia than they used to be. Doctors and hospitals are within reach of the population through aerial ambulance, and preventive and protective health measures are now being taken.

"Expenditure on health services has nearly trebled in the last four years."

Hasluck said that in the past four years nearly $5,500,000 was spent on housing for the area, though a big improvement is still needed in the standard of housing.

"We have to get rid of the old Australian habit of thinking that the only people who live in the remote areas are a few deadbeats surrounded by clouds of flies," he said.

Pointing to the steady increase in white population in the Northern Territory, Hasluck added:

"There is a change more impressive than the increase in numbers; today families are living in the north. The test of the value of development is the kind of community it produces.

"Today more than 2,000 children are attending school in the territory, and during the last three years about $2,240,000 in private capital has been spent on building."

He said the standard of housing on the remote stations (ranches) in particular had undergone a striking improvement.

"While the pioneering of the north will always call for great qualities of character in the pioneer, we cannot afford to wait for the one man in a hundred to come along to endure and conquer on his own," he said.

"The north has been made safe and habitable for the family, otherwise most of the population will be shiftless and adventurous, while a depressed minority will be hopeless and feckless."

The area's main hopes for development, Hasluck added, are the discoveries of valuable uranium, gold, copper and wolfram deposits, the prospecting for oil and a big improvement in the beef industry and other farming pursuits.

Phoenix White Flags Boast Safety Record

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP)—When a police car in Phoenix flies a white flag, it's a symbol of victory and not a concession of defeat.

Every Phoenix city police car and motorcycle has two sets of flags — black and white. When there are no persons killed in traffic accidents in Phoenix, the police vehicles display the white flags.

But when a traffic fatality has been recorded in the city, the black flags go up for a period of three days.

Phoenix, which recently won honors for improved traffic control, showed its appreciation by granting motorists one day of free parking in metered zones when 100 days passed without a fatality. Now, they say that if 200 days pass without a fatal accident, Phoenicians will get the same bonus.

Library Book Returned — 263 Months Overdue

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (UP) — A book was returned to the public library here recently—263 months overdue.

There was no charge either. The library's board of trustees recently passed a new regulation hiking the cost per day of overdue books from one to two cents a day. But at the same time it permitted then overdue books to be returned without fines and no questions asked.

When two tones of different pitch are sounded, you may hear both the tones and also two other tones —a low tone, equal to the difference in frequency of the first two and a high tone equal to the sum of the two tones.

Squirrel, Hog or Kentucky, Rifle Was Truly American

WASHINGTON — Kentuckians called it a "squirrel" or "hog" rifle; General Andrew Jackson's Tennessee volunteers called it the "Kentucky" rifle, the term still used by collectors and gunsmiths.

Whatever the name, the long-barreled, single - shot muzzle-loader was truly an American product. It developed in the gunsmiths' shops of Lancaster County, Pa., and it played a major role in the history of the nation.

Thus, in summer when marksmen gather at shooting matches, many try their aim with the same brand of shooting iron used by Daniel Boone, Simon Kenton and other frontiersmen.

In its national matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, last year, the National Rifle Association scheduled special events for Kentucky rifle competition. The National Muzzle-Loading Rifle Assn. holds annual contests at Walter Cline range in Friendship, Ind. Various local and regional matches feature the muzzle - loader at "turkey - shoots" and "beef-shoots."

The Kentucky rifle's design fulfilled the frontiersman's demand for a weapon particularly suited to the needs of the early American wilderness. Swiss and Austrian gunsmiths who had emigrated to Pennsylvania around 1700 brought with them samples of the Jaeger. Large calibered and stubby barreled, it made a lot of noise when fired and "had a kick like the blow of a hammer."

About 1734, the year Daniel Boone was born, the pioneers started using a greased "patch" in loading. This small piece of homespun linen or wool (or tanned buckskin) was dipped in bear grease or mutton tallow, wrapped around the lead ball, and inserted atop the black powder charge with a ramrod. The patch helped clean and lubricate the barrel's rifling and powder gases, increasing velocity.

DO IT YOURSELF — Holly High students have applied the popular "Do-It-Yourself" idea to selling Christmas seals, and relieving the crowded Holly post office. Here student council members Susanna Duman, William Roberts, Tom Stock, Pat Kubinec and Amos Bradshaw drop Christmas cards in the mail box. By placing a Christmas seal on the cards, they are delivered by a between-classes mail system.

Holly High Students Play Post Office, Handle Their Own Christmas Mailings

HOLLY—Students of Holly High School have added postal deliveries to the list of "Do - It - Yourself" projects, and they're quite pleased with the results.

So are school officials, and anyone working in the Holly post office.

According to Principal Ray Barber, the students decided to set up a Christmas card mail distribution system, to stimulate sale of Christmas seals.

Christmas cards from one student to another in the school would be placed in the school in a special "mail box."

If they bear a Christmas seal in the place of the usual stamp, they would be delivered without ever leaving the school.

Student council members collect the cards from mail boxes serving the 650 students in the grades 7-12, and distribute them to homeroom teachers, who hand them out.

The seals which carry the yule wishes through this novel delivery system are being sold for one cent.

Principal Barber said the new idea is replacing the usual contests between classes in selling the seals.

"Considering this is the first time we've tried anything like this, it's going over very well," he added.

As for the Holly post office and mailmen toting those bulging bags this time of year, the movement of Christmas seal mailing in the school makes their packets of cheerful wishes seem a little lighter.

SANTA AND THE MARS KING

By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

AP Newsfeatures

Chaper 16
THE CHILDREN'S PLAN

The children of Mars gathered around the hole in the golden mountain.

"Come out, kings!" they shouted.

In the mountain, the kings shivered. They started to obey the command.

"Wait!" cried Majesty fiercely. "We are kings! Kings must rule. We do not have to obey children!"

The kings shook their heads sorrowfully. "We do not have your courage and strength," they mumbled. They went out of the mountain and stood before the children.

Tom and Majesty hid within. They guarded the vacuum machine which the kings had made to suck the flying saucers from the sky.

"Who removed the rocks from this opening?" demanded the children.

The kings hung their heads. They were silent.

"Answer!"

Unhappily the kings obeyed. They told of the return of Majesty who had been a flying saucer.

"Where is he? Who is the one?" cried the children.

"He hides within the mountain," said the kings helplessly.

"Bring him out!"

* * *

Suddenly Majesty stood at the entrance to the mountain. "No need to bring me out," he said bravely. "I am here."

The children were delighted at the strange sight of a king in a space suit. They snatched at it and clamored for Majesty to take it off.

Majesty climbed to the top of the heaped up golden rocks.

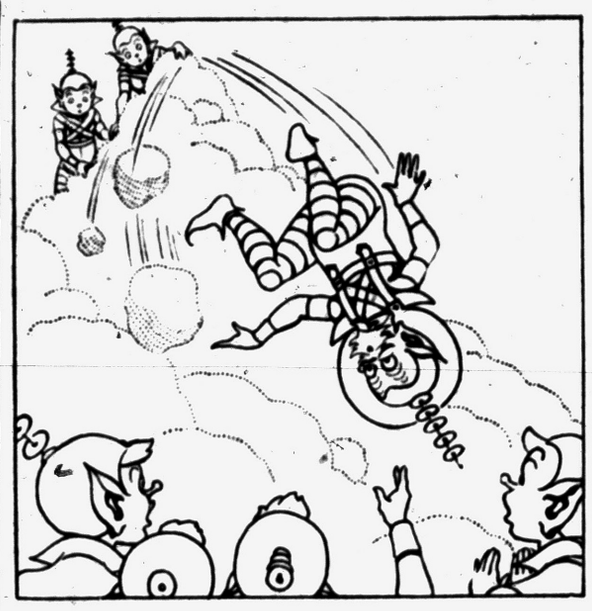

"Quiet!" he cried. "I am a king. You will treat me as a king."

The children stared at him in astonishment. Never had they heard a king speak so boldly. They looked at one another and wondered what they should do. They decided they had best obey such a kingly king.

At that moment a dreadful thing happened. The rocks on which the King stood suddenly tumbled apart and his Majesty crashed to the bottom of the pile.

His space helmet was smashed to bits. Worse, his spectacles fell from his nose and were crushed beneath the rocks.

Now Majesty was like all the other kings of Mars. He was weak and sightless and afraid. The children were quick to see the change that had come over him. They ordered all the kings back into the mountain and Majesty obeyed as did the others.

Coloring suggestion: Mars King green with yellow trimmings. Mountain streaked with yellow. Children purple. Faces flesh colored.

But as the children began shutting up the entrance a voice suddenly cried.

"Let me out! Don't shut me in here!"

And there stood Tom with the vacuum machine in his arms.

"Who are you? Where did you come from? What do you want?" cried the children.

"I am a child—just like you," said Tom. "I come from the planet Earth. There Kings rule and children obey."

"What nonsense! Come with us and we will show you how we live."

They rolled the last of the rocks in front of the mountain opening. Then they led Tom to their city of golden palaces. Tom still carried the precious vacuum machine.

"What is that you carry?" asked one of the children.

* * *

At first Tom was afraid to answer. Finally, he said, "It is a machine. Would you like to see how it works?"

He did not know what he would do if they said yes. But fortunately the children were too excited about showing their own things.

"We will see the machine later," they said. "Now you must see where we live."

They led Tom through the palaces and showed him the golden furniture and golden tapestries which hung from the walls.

But there were no books or toys anywhere.

"What do you do all day to amuse yourselves?" asked Tom.

The faces of the children were pale and unhappy.

"What is there to do except torment the kings?" they replied.

Polite Holdup Man Lets Lady Shopper Go First

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP) — "This man was ahead of me," a woman politely told a drug store clerk as she waited beside another customer for service.

"No, you go ahead," the man said.

The woman thanked him, made her purchase, and left.

The store empty, the man drew a pistol and told the clerk:

"I'll take your money."

He did.

Filemon's Wonderful Bike Brings Fame---and Brakes

CHIGNAHUAPAN, Mexico (UP) —All his life Filemon Sanchez Trujillo, 24, had wanted a bicycle, but there seemed to be no way to get one. A peon, he earned only a few cents a day at odd jobs.

The thing that kept his ambition alive was the mayor's bicycle, the only one in this village. Filemon watched the mayor ride around town and sometimes down the winding mountain road to Mexico City.

The mayor was not only a man of prestige but an accomplished cyclist as well.

Filemon was absolutely positive that he could ride with as much skill. Not at first, perhaps, but after all, you have to learn to do everything.

So Filemon studied the mayor's bicycle. He carefully noted all details of construction and finally he borrowed some tools and made himself a wooden bicycle. It took two years.

The wheels, with heavy wooden spokes, looked like small wagon wheels, and the frame more or less followed the conventional lines and was sturdy. He even rigged a wooden seat mounted on coil springs.

The drive was a piece of old square-linked pulley chain. It looked primitive enough to be the first model bicycle conceived by man, but Filemon climbed aboard, began pedaling and it worked.

He spent several days learning to ride in the village street, until he felt he was ready for the mountain road.

On this road Filemon met his first real test as a cyclist. As he rounded a curve, he saw a man leading a corn-laden burro across the road a few yards ahead of him.

And here Filemon gave his first serious thought to a mechanical feature he had omitted in the construction of his fabulous bicycle. Brakes.

Filemon crawled out of the tangle of burro, bike and corn to survey the damage. But the bicycle was as tough as it was primitive. A careful inspection showed no damage and Filemon rode away through the scattered corn.

A few days later Filemon, still minus brakes but infinitely more careful, peddled down the mountain road and into Mexico City.

He rode straight to the office of Col. Jose Garcia Valseca, the newspaper publisher who sponsors an annual bicycle race over more than 1,000 miles of mountain road in central Mexico.

The colonel was not only impressed with the wooden bike, he was amazed. He declared that such genius would not go unrewarded.

Overnight Fileman became a celebrity. The colonel bought the wooden bicycle at a generous price and placed it on public display. He published the story in his newspapers and entertained Filemon royally.

Finally the colonel presented Filemon with a handsome yellow, factory-built bicycle to ride proudly back to Chignahuapan. It made the mayor's ancient contraption look shabby.

Filemon is now a man who travels in style. He is a man of achievement, with confidence and dignity. And brakes.

Family Works Big Iowa Farm

With Help of 9 of His 12 Sons, Father Cultivates 1,500 Acres

VINCENT, Ia. (UP)—The family of Tony and Frieda Dencklau does things in a big way.

Seventeen strong, the family has 1,500 acres of rich Iowa farm land under cultivation in the north-central part of the state and works as a team to get the most out of it.

When neighbors in Webster County see a string of machinery raising dust down a rural road, they know its a caravan of Dencklaus.

Nine of the 12 sons are farmers, and when the Dencklaus cultivate corn on their seven scattered farms, nine tractors are put on the field at one time.

Besides two corn-shellers, their machinery includes three small and 11 large tractors, six combines, six corn-pickers, one baler, five four-row corn-planters, nine four-row cultivators and one threshing machine.

No one knows how the Dencklaus pass the word to each other as to where and when they plan to work. All of the farms don't have phones, but somehow—by car, tractor, letter or telephone—the men receive the word and always show up at the right time and place when there's work to be done.

And the Dencklaus have fun while they work, too. One farmer in the small village of Vincent said:

"I always like to have the Dencklaus shell corn for me. If you're short of workers, they don't sit around and watch, they pitch right in and help shovel corn. But no matter how busy they are, they've always got time for a joke."

The women also are hard-working. You have to be when Sunday dinner for the whole family means serving 50 people.

Geiger Counter Reveals When Dishes Are Clean

BAYONNE, N. J. (UP) — The Navy is using Geiger counters to "prospect" for dirt on dishes.

The Geiger counters thus can tell which method does the cleanest job quickest.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL By Charles Dickens

9 Bears Adopt Pulp Mill as Their Favorite Lair

LONG LAKE, N. Y. (UP) — Here's a tip for big game hunters, especially those who like to hunt bears.

Nine bruins, the largest weighing about 500 pounds, have selected Johnston Pulp Corp. lumber camp as their favorite hangout.

Some 40 lumberjacks in the area reported they have almost "daily contact" with the bears, and it's not uncommon to go out a back door at the camp and stumble over one.

The lumberpacks say the animals are not tame but keep any atagonism they may have toward humans well covered—and for good reason. The bears get plenty of handouts from the camp.

The workers said you can get within hand-feeding distance, but that's all. The bruins won't permit petting.

Much Study in Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (UP)—The University of Alaska's scientific research information center has published a 100-page book describing studies being made in the territory on subjects ranging from Bering Sea salmon stocks to air pollution.

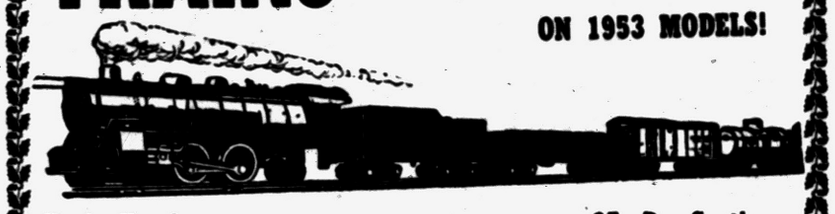

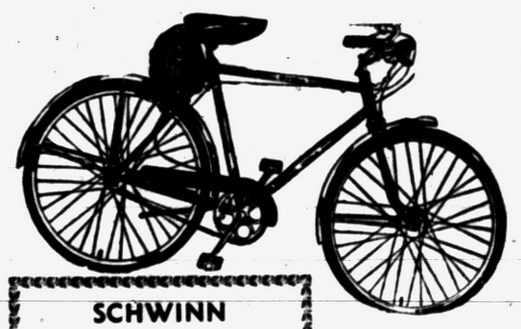

Glaring headlights can cause temporary blindness lasting for as much as three seconds.

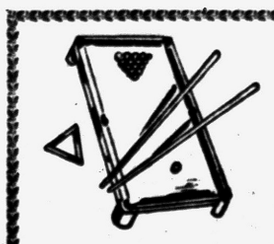

Speeding to Twins OK

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (AP) — City Prosecutor Edward C. Kalkowski recommended to the judge that a speeding charge against Werner Bacharach be dropped. Judge Harry Ginsburg agreed. Class Displays Entertaining Skill

Party Features Punch, Goodies

Lincoln Ninth Graders Contribute Recipe for Attractive Bonbons

A girl is never too young to learn how to entertain graciously. It need not be expensive entertaining; in fact, it is good to know how to make pennies count.

The ninth grade members of Francille Schymik's foods class at Lincoln Junior High School are learning just that.

Last Thursday they had a Christmas party, the climax to several weeks of study, planning and food preparation. Their table looked lovely, the food was excellent and everyone had a good time.

On one side of the table a holly-encircled punchbowl made a bright spot of color. The holly had been sent from Miss Schymik's Indiana home—it grows in her yard.

Floating in the tangy fruit punch was a green ice tree. The girls had drozen maraschino cherries in green water in a tree cake pan. As the tree melted the punch became greener.

Across the table half a dozen plates of cookies and candy tempted the guests. Red and green fondant; Danish tree cookies; brownies; sugar cookies with raisin faces; and chocolate-dipped candy; each one looked better than the other.

The following girls were responsible for the party: Decorations, Sue Lawrence, Barbara Ray, Barbara Brownell and Mary Ruth Floyd; punch and fondant, Janelle Hicks, Donna Darr, Patty Hilty and Jeanette Beckwith.

Chocolate-dipped bonbons, Ann Pirochta, Krista Kaasik, Faye Sims and Carol Easton; the ice tree, Judith Truex and Norma Monahan; cookies, Margaret Gibbs, Nancy Edwards and Betty Taylor.

Our readers will enjoy making the chocolate-dipped candy. It is attractive and easy to do.

Chocolate Dipped Bonbons

Dipping chocolate
Raisins
Peanuts, pecans, almonds
Marshmallow halves
Plain caramels

Melt chocolate over hot, not boiling water. Remove from stove just before all the lumps are melted, letting the heat in the pan melt the rest.

Working with only one kind of center at a time, use a fork to drop the coated bonbons on waxed paper. Hold the fork straight up and down, allowing the last bit of chocolate to pile up.

Use ¾ to 1 cup of raisins or peanuts for four squares of chocolate. Be sure all are covered before adding any more. Dip caramels and marshmallows singly. Pile three to four pecans in one bonbon.

Do not use salted nuts. Peanuts and almonds must be water blanched before dipping. Overheating will make your chocolate streaked, but will not affect the flavor.

Use Whipped Cream for Viennese Coffee

To be different try:

Vienna Coffee — Float 1 tablespoon of whipped cream on each cup of coffee.

New Year's Punch: Pour 4 cups coffee over 1½ pints vanilla or chocolate ice cream. Beat lightly until ice cream is in medium-size chunks. Serve immediately in punch glasses. Sprinkle with nutmeg.

Coffee with chocolate sauce. Add 1 to 2 tablespoons of your favorite chocolate sauce to each cup of steaming hot coffee.

Crust Failures Banished by New Fool-Proof Mix

Stop right here! There's a new pie crust mix on the market that says goodbye to pie crust failures.

Handle the dough as much as you need, re-roll it as much as 10 times—you'll still get a tender, flaky crust with this new homogenized pie mix. It comes in a new stick form (as handy as butter) with two sticks to a package. Each stick makes a single crust.

There is more shortening more efficiently used in this new pie crust mix, and you use less liquid than for other mixes. Using milk gives better color, flavor and extra richness.

Two separate shortenings are used in making this mix. One is soft, for tenderness, homogenized so completely that every particle of flour is coated. This protective coating keeps liquid from reaching the flour gluten and developing it.

The second shortening is hard shortening in rich flakes. These "flakemaker" flakes melt slowly during baking, raising the pastry into delicate layers. You can actually lift the rich, golden flakes off the finished crust with a butter knife or eggshell!

You'll see these flakes in the sticks of pie crust mix and in the dough as you roll it. And you will be thrilled at how pliable the pie dough is—it doesn't crack or crumble.

Mixing the dough right in your pie pan with a fork will save washing a bowl, and the shallowness and large area of the pan makes for quick mixing.

No refrigeration is needed for the new mix. It will stay fresh in your cupboard. If you make a one crust pie—or tarts, meat pastries or turnovers—keep the other stick on the shelf for later use.

Here's how to use the new mix.

Two-Crust Pie

1. Put two pastry sticks into pie pan (8 or 9-inch). Add 3 tablespoons milk. Slice and mash sticks with a fork until all milk is absorbed.

2. Pick up dough. Work into ball until hands are no longer sticky. Handling won't toughen this pastry. Flatten in two rounds.

3. Roll out each round on generously floured surface. Extra flour won't toughen this pastry. Roll 1 inch larger than inverted pan.

4. Ease one round into pan. (Use same pan dough was mixed in.) Fill; trim and moisten edge. Cut slits in second round, fit over filling; seal, flute. Bake at 425 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes. Apple pie 50 to 60 minutes.

1-Crust Pie

Use one pastry stick and 1½ tablespoons milk. Bake as directed in each recipe. For baked shell, prick sides and bottom when fitted into pan. Bake at 475 degrees 8 to 10 minutes.

Crown Baked Hash With Deviled Eggs

A few quick meals each week can often mean the difference between rushing and resting for the homemaker.

Canned corned beef hash may be sliced, heated, and ready for the table in just a few minutes.

Or, with a little preparation and about a half hour in the oven, it can be combined with vegetables and a sauce for a flavorful one-dish meal.

If you keep corned beef hash on hand, you will always have something which can be easily prepared for family or guests.

Crowned Hash

2 deviled eggs
1 can (15 ounce) corned beef hash
1-3 cup chili sauce

Prepare deviled egg halves using your favorite recipe. Remove hash from can and cut into four slices. Place in a greased baking dish and top with chili sauce.

Bake in oven at 400 degrees for about 10 minutes. Arrange one deviled egg half on each slice of hash. Makes four servings.

Yule Fruit Cup Low in Calories

During the holidays, when heavy meals and calorie-weighted desserts are the usual thing, fresh fruit is a refreshing change.

The tart-sweet taste of grapes, the bland smoothness of bananas, the crisp crunchiness of apples and pears, all make their contributions in taste and nutrition.

When guests drop in to wish you a merry Christmas, have the bowl of fruit handy.

They will be grateful for the fruit's fresh flavor and the weight-watchers will be cheered by the knowledge that these foods, while sweet with natural sugar, are low in calories. There is no dessert or late-evening snack as healthful as a piece of fresh fruit.

Christmas Fresh Fruit Cup

2 large fresh oranges
1 large fresh grapefruit
2 bananas
8 tablespoons mint syrup
4 tablespoons freshly grated coconut
2 drops green coloring (optional)
½ teaspoon water (optional)
4 red maraschino cherries

Peel oranges and grapefruit and cut into sections, removing all the white bitter portion and the membrane. Arrange sections in alternate layers with sliced bananas in sherbet glasses.

Pour 2 tablespoons mint syrup over each serving. Top with freshly grated coconut (if desired, color coconut with the green coloring mixed with the water). Top with red maraschino cherries.

Yield: Four servings.

Leftover Baby Foods Flavor Adult Dishes

Ingenious mothers have no problem of baby food leftovers, even when baby is using only a modest serving of fruit.

Recent inspirations: Add one quarter cup or more applesauce or apricot-applesauce to cookie or gingerbread mix.

A few spoonfuls of strained or junior vegetables or fruits also go neatly into sauces, soups, meat loaf, even baked beans.

Exotic Chicken Rates Cheers From Company

Want to show off when that very special guest comes to dinner? Here's a chicken recipe that's a "stopper."

Chicken Exotique

1 3 pound fryer, cut into quarters
1 large onion, diced
2 ounces butter (half of one-quarter pound stick)
2 cups heavy cream
1 cup chicken broth (canned or fresh)
1 cup dry white wine
2 tablespoons chopped dress dill (or 2 tablespoons chopped dill pickle)
Salt and pepper to taste

Season pieces of chicken and brown in hot fat. Place on paper toweling to drain. Next, in a dutch oven or deep frying pan, melt butter, toss in diced onion, and simmer until soft; then add chicken broth and wine. Let come to a boil, then reduce heat to moderate.

Now cut chicken away from bone and add to above. Cook uncovered until chicken is tender (about 35 minutes), then remove chicken to a casserole and set aside.

Continue cooking liquids in pot until reduced to about one-fourth cup. Stir in cream to make smooth sauce; then strain, add salt and pepper and pour over chicken in casserole. Add chopped dill.

Place in oven to heat slowly about 20 minutes at 274 degrees before serving. Serves three.

Save Syrup or Liquid From Canned Foods

Canned fruits and vegetables retain to a high degree the nutritive value of raw products.

Since some of the vitamins and minerals do dissolve in water, to save food values use the syrup or liquid in which the fruits and vegetables are packed.

The syrup or liquid may be used in casserole dishes, soups, sauces and beverages.

Canned foods should be stored in a cool, dry, dark place.

It's a fact! The key to any sound reducing diet is a good nourishing breakfast that contains one-fourth to one-third of your day's total calories.

Yule Tree Cake Is Eye-Opener

When Christmas guests stay overnight, what are you going to feed them when they tumble downstairs in the morning? If you'll just keep a package of hot roll mix and some spices on hand, you can feed them this festive Christmas Tree Coffee Cake, all spicy and fresh.

And if you care to pop it into a hot oven for a few minutes while you're making the coffee, it'll be deliciously warm, too. (You'll have made the bread the day before, of course, so that you, too, can sleep a little later in the morning!)

A word about that coffee. Make it in healthy quantities! When you discover how much coffee last night's partygoers put away, you're apt to find yourself humming, "How Deep Is The Ocean?" in a slightly dazed fashion.

Granted that the song originally described the depth of man's love for a maid, it also refers to the measure of man's love for his coffee!

Chilled orange juice or grapefruit juice, plenty of fresh sweet butter and marmalade or preserve will complete the simple but delectable spread.

Christmas Tree Coffee Cake

Follow recipe for sweet rolls or refrigerator rolls on package of hot roll mix, adding 1 teaspoon cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg and one-fourth teaspoon allspice to the dry ingredients. After mixing with liquid called for, work in one-third cup finely chopped walnuts.

Let rise as directed. Shape dough in long rope about one-half inch in diameter. Coil rope in shape of Christmas tree, starting with trunk. Brush with melted butter or margarine.

Cover and let rise again until doubled in bulk. Bake as directed for rolls. Cool. Decorate with white confectioners' sugar frosting, green sugar and maraschino cherries.

Store Popcorn So It Won't Lose Vital Moisture

Sometimes popcorn doesn't pop. It's not always the fault of the corn; it might be with the way it was stored.

The amount of moisture in the kernel is important. Popcorn pops by explosion; when it is heated steam forms in the kernel and explodes it. When there is too little moisture, not enough steam is formed and there is just a small explosion or none at all.

Too much moisture in commercially packaged popcorn is seldom found because the corn loses its moisture to the air during storage. This loss of moisture often happens in homes where the air has a low relative humidity.

To store popcorn so it will have the proper amount of moisture, make a saturated salt solution by adding more salt to about a cup of water than will dissolve. Cut several strips of blotters about an inch wide and about a foot long. Soak the strips in the salt solution.

Roll each strip like a jelly roll and tie with a string. Put two or three of these rolls in a tight container with the popcorn. This will keep the right moisture content.

The blotter rolls should stay moist unless the corn is very dry. Then, you may need to re-soak the blotters.

When corn is popped, it should pop all at once and about 98 per cent of the kernels should explode.

Cat's Away, Mice — Too

TIJUANA, Mex. (UP)—During a shakeup in the Tijuana police department all 27 of the city's detectives were discharged. In the following 48 hours not one robbery was reported. It was the first time the city had made such a record in more than 10 years.

Some of the most famous glaciers in the world are located in Switzerland and Alaska.

EGGNOG ENTERTAINING—Eggnog is appropriate for any kind of entertaining—from a tree-trimming get-together to a formal party—during the busy holiday season. The bowl of dairy eggnog pictured here is topped with mounds of flavorful whipped cream. Christmas pecan cake, sweet and crunchy, is served alongside.

Goose Gaining Greater Fame

Roast goose, Christmas favorite among many New England families, is due for wider fame.

That's because it has been brought up-to-date and is now available ready-to-cook (fresh or frozen) and labeled so a cook knows whether she is dealing with a young and tender bird or one that is less tender and mature.

Nowadays geese come from 4 to 14 pounds, ready - to - cook weight. Count on about one pound of this weight for each serving, and choose accordingly.

Test kitchen experts, working with poultry, recommend a low (325 degrees) temperature for roasting goose. They also suggest that the stuffed trussed goose be placed breast down on a rack in a shallow uncovered pan.

When the goose is about two-thirds done, it is turned breast-side up to finish roasting.

In this fashion, a bird from 4 to 6 pounds should roast from 2¾ to 3 hours; one 6 to 8 pounds from 3 to 3½ hours; one 8 to 10 pounds from 3½ to 3¾ hours; one 10 to 12 pounds from 3¾ to 4¼ hours; and one 12 to 14 pounds from 4 to 4¾ hours.

An extra half hour should be allowed, however, in case more cooking is necessary.

Test the goose by moving the drumstick up and down: the joints should twist out readily and the drumstick must feel really soft.

Brazil Nut Tidbits Tease the Appetite

These delicious tidbits tease the appetite when served with a favorite beverage.

Brazil Nut Teasers

1½ cups shelled Brazil nuts
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon celery salt
½ teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon paprika

Cover nuts with cold water; bring slowly to a boil; simmer 2 to 3 minutes. Drain and cut into thin lengthwise slices, about one-eighth inch thick.

Dot with butter; sprinkle with celery salt, garlic salt and paprika.

Get Eggnog, Cake Ready to Treat Holiday Guests

With numerous friends and relatives dropping in to wish you "Merry Christmas" and "Happy New Year," entertaining undoubtedly reaches its peak in your home during the holiday season.

What refreshments to serve? Of all the holiday foods, eggnog takes its place as one of the most traditional.

Time was when eggnog making was real work, but today your dairy conveniently provides the eggnog. There's never any doubt about the goodness of dairy eggnog and it comes in bottles or cartons that are easy to store in precious refrigerator space.

With plenty of this egg and milk drink handy in the refrigerator and your good supply of Christmas cookies and cakes to serve with it, you're all set for the easiest kind of entertaining.

For extra glamor, you might like to dress up the eggnog by folding in or floating on top either whipped cream or beaten egg white. Shavings of bittersweet chocolate are another good topping and make an attractive color contrast.

Or for a spicy touch, sprinkle nutmeg over the eggnog. If you like to grind your own nutmeg from the whole seed, that's all the better.

Christmas pecan cake is a tasty sweet treat to have on hand for an eggnog accompaniment. This cake is of the fruitcake family, but it's easier to make than most. Persons who like fruitcake, but prefer a small amount of fruit in it, will be especially pleased with Christmas pecan cake.

Like fruitcake, this can be made in advance of the hectic holiday hustle and bustle—as long as a month ahead of time.

Real butter is an important ingredient in this cake recipe because butter has a natural flavor that can't be matched.

Christmas Pecan Cake

2 cups seeded raisins
¾ pound butter
2 cups white sugar
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
6 egg yolks, beaten
4 cups flour, sifted
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons nutmeg
1 cup pineapple juice
3 cups finely chopped pecans
6 egg whites, beaten stiff

Wash raisins in warm water and drain. Cream butter, white sugar and brown sugar. Add beaten egg yolks. Sift dry ingredients, mix a small portion with raisins and nuts. Add the rest alternately with pineapple juice. Add raisins and nuts and fold in beaten egg whites last.

Pour batter into two loaf pans which have been greased, lined with waxed paper, and buttered over the paper.

Bake in a 275-degree oven for three hours. Turn out of pans, and when cool wrap in waxed paper or aluminum foil and store in a tight covered can. Age for one or two weeks, then slice thin to serve. Makes 2 loaves.

Eggnog

8 eggs
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 quarts cold milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup whipping cream

Beat eggs well with a rotary or electric beater. Add sugar and salt and mix well. Add milk and vanilla and blend. Just before serving, top with mounds of stiffly whipped cream. 16-20 servings.

Youngsters Enjoy Banana Pudding

Youngsters home from school for a noontime meal will enjoy this nutritious pudding.

Butterscotch Banana Pudding

1 package butterscotch pudding
1 egg (separated)
2 cups milk
1 large banana (diced)

Place pudding powder in saucepan. Beat egg yolk slightly; add milk and beat enough to combine; add to pudding powder gradually, blending well.

Cook and stir over moderate heat until mixture comes to a boil and is thickened. Remove from heat.

Beat egg white until just stiff but still moist; fold in hot pudding mixture gradually, then diced banana.

Turn into sherbet glasses; chill. Makes five servings.

Serve Ginger Apples

A luscious dessert is Ginger Apples Glace, easy to prepare, festive to serve. Arrange slices of two unpeeled oranges and two red Delicious apples on a serving dish. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon powdered ginger. Pile vanilla ice cream in center and garnish with chopped candied ginger. Serves four.

Turkey Thighs Make Luscious 'Swiss Steaks'

Turkey drumsticks will be welcome for months after the holidays if they are converted into turkey Swiss steaks and frozen.

For economy, buy a 25-pound bird when prices are seasonally low. The large bird can be cut into family-size portions and frozen to be cooked as needed.

To make the turkey Swiss steaks, prepare the thighs in this manner:

Cut six 1-inch-thick slices, sprinkle them with monosodium glutamate and dredge them in flour.

Saute in 6 tablespoons butter or margarine in deep-well cooker over medium-low heat about 10 minutes to a side or until golden brown. Arrange steaks in freezer casserole.

Saute 1 cup chopped onions and 1 minced garlic bud in cooker until golden brown. Add 2½ cups tomato juice. Cover steaks with sauce. Cool. Freeze.

Cover, label and seal with freezer tape and store in freezer. Freezer storage life: Six-eight months.

To thaw and serve, unseal and uncover. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon salt over steaks. Return cover.

Bake in preheated 300-degree oven 1½ hours, or until tender.

Yule Demands Gala Breakfast

Christmas to most of us means a time for peace and serenity. A time for family and friends. This is the one day of the year when joy and festivity should be the keynote from morning until night.

Start the day off with a Happy Christmas Breakfast. Grapefruit is in excellent supply and is a pretty "eye-opener" fluted and decked with Christmas holly.

Then, of course, crisp cereal, either oven-popped rice or one of the new presweetened cereals, should be just right.

And for the holiday touch, a homemade coffee cake. Our suggestion is a flavorful Cranberry Coffee Cake made with the garnet red tart cranberries that are abundant now. This is a yeast bread that will need day-before preparation.

Cranberry Coffee Cake

1 cup cranberries
6 tablespoons sugar
1 cake compressed yeast or 1 package dry granular yeast
2 tablespoons lukewarm water
½ cup ready-to-eat bran
⅓ cup scalded milk
3 tablespoons shortening
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2½ cups sifted flour
1 egg, well-beaten

Cook cranberries and sugar together over low heat, stirring carefully until sugar is dissolved and skins are broken. Let cool.

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Combine bran and milk; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Add shortening, sugar and salt and stir until shortening is melted; cool to lukewarm. Stir in enough flour to make a thick batter.

Add yeast and beaten eggs, beat well. Add remainder of flour to make a soft dough. Turn onto lightly floured board and knead.

Place in greased bowl, cover and let stand in warm place until double in bulk. When light, punch down and roll into rectangle about 12x9 inches.

Spread cranberry mixture over half of the rectangle; fold other half over cranberries and press edges together. Place in greased 12x8-inch pan and let rise until double in bulk.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes. Yield: One loaf.

CHRISTMAS BREAKFAST—It need not be an elaborate meal, but it should be festive. Deck the table with a cracker basket full of holly and put a sprig on each grapefruit half. Serve the family's favorite cold cereal and a hot bread like Cranberry Coffee Cake.

Tuck Packs of Gum in Yule Stockings

It's easy to add extra fun and good cheer to the holidays without spending lots of extra money. Just have plenty of gaily colored packs of chewing gum on hand for tree decorations, stocking fillers, and after-meal treats to pass around the dinner table.

Youngsters always love to find a few packs of gum on the tree and among the other treasures in their Christmas stockings.

Some chewing gum even comes wrapped in Chrismasy red, green and white packages, right in tune with the holiday spirit.

Mothers are especially delighted with the idea of using packages of gum for Christmas decorations, because the protective wrappings keep the gum clean and wholesome, and the youngsters can enjoy the contents without spoiling their appetites.

No harm done even if she notices that a package or two have mysteriously disappeared from the tree!

Make Maple Topping

Any maple sugar in the house? Then you can make a delectable topping with it. Beat some of the crushed sugar into heavy cream as you finish whipping it. Serve with apple cobbler.

You Dieters Needn't Go Without Holiday Desserts

Pontiac Press Food Editor

"When I read a recipe that calls for whipped cream or nuts I just toss it away. I wish someone would write an article about how people on a diet can enjoy holiday eating. We work all year to take off 25 pounds, then put half of them back in a week."

This was actually said to me recently. It was a challenge to find some ideas and recipes for dieters so they wouldn't miss out entirely on good holiday eating.

None of the following recipes calls for artificial sweeteners. If your doctor has suggested your using them, go ahead. But in this article I am speaking only of natural foods.

You will have to pick and choose when you are away from home, just as always. If you are matter-of-fact about it, no one will notice.

Remembering that roasting and broiling are the best ways to prepare meat for dieters, plan your home meals using those methods.

For ways of using leftover poultry we suggest these: A sandwich made with one slice of bread; salad with boiled dressing; sliced cold turkey with hot vegetables on the side; even turkey hash, if you bake rather than fry it.

One of the prettiest items on a relish tray that I've seen lately was cottage cheese with bits of green pepper and pimiento cut up in it. There was just a hint of onion also. Half a cup of that is 125 calories.

Tomato aspic, plain, or with shredded green vegetables makes a colorful Christmas salad. Fresh fruit salad (skip the bananas) is beautiful at any time of the year.

But, oh the desserts! That's the place where the calories add up horribly fast. I have found some ideas for you, if you'll forget such things as chocolate, nuts or frosting.

Two small scoops of sherbet, one lime, one cranberry or raspberry, make a Christmas dessert. Serve it with one plain cookie from the recipe given below. Total calories: 200—one-half cup sherbet—140 calories; 1 cookie—60 calories.

Rolled Cookies

1 cup margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups brown sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
3½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt

Cream margarine and vanilla, add sugar gradually and beat until light. Add eggs and continue beating. Combine sifted dry ingredients with the creamed mixture. Blend thoroughly and chill until firm.

Roll out dough and lightly floured board or cloth and cut with cutters. Bake in 400-degree oven 7-10 minutes. These may be sprinkled with colored sugar before baking. Makes 6 dozen.

* * *

You may have candy if you make this fondant. If you use skim milk, there will be approximately 1,800 calories in the entire recipe. Divide that by the 48 pieces and you'll get about 40 calories per piece.

Creamy Butter Fondant

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups sugar
1 cup skim milk
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar

Combine ingredients in heavy saucepan. Place over low heat and stir until mixture boils. Continue cooking over low heat until the syrup reaches 238 degrees (soft ball stage). Wipe down sides of pan with damp cloth as crystals accumulate.

Pour onto a large platter that has been rinsed with cold water. Do not scrape the pan. Let cool to lukewarm (104 degrees) without stirring.

Beat for seven minutes or until stiff, then knead in desired flavoring and coloring. Force through cookie press onto waxed paper. Store in tightly covered container. Makes 4 dozen small candies.

* * *

Tiny meringues or kisses need not be high in calories if you use powdered sugar and fold in 2 cups of one of the pre-sweetened cereals. The last will add about 200 calories to the whole recipe.

Cereal Kisses

4 egg whites
½ teaspoon salt
1¼ cups powdered sugar
2 cups pre-sweetened cereal
Grated rind of half an orange or one lemon

Beat the egg whites until very stiff, gradually adding the salt and sugar while beating. Fold in the cereal and the orange or lemon rind. Drop from the tip of a teaspoon onto cookie sheets lined with ungreased paper.

Bake in 325-degree oven 20 minutes or until delicately browned. Slip the paper onto a damp table or board, let stand a minute to steam, then loosen with a spatula and remove the kisses to a cooling rack.

When cold, store in an airtight container. Makes 3-4 dozen cookies.

Cookies Spark Yule Hospitality

Hospitality is just as much a keynote for Christmas as Santa Claus, holly or jingle bells. It is true, too, down through the years that gracious entertainment includes the serving of food and drink.

It doesn't matter how simple or informal the refreshment, the friendly gesture makes a guest feel welcome. And the hostess who always has a few food treats on hand is the one who enjoys each festive moment.

Here's one suggestion we have found very valuable: Have a supply of cookies on hand and vary the type from time to time.

A new favorite called Rich Chocolate Cookies uses powdered instant cream that is rapidly becoming a favorite in so many modern kitchens. It just seems to give an added richness and flavor to a number of our favorite recipes—so here it is:

Rich Chocolate Cookies

3 tablespoons instant powdered cream
1¾ cups sifted all purpose flour
1½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
⅓ cup water
4 1-ounce squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift instant powdered cream, flour, baking powder, soda and salt together. Add shortening, sugar, eggs and water. Beat until smooth, about two minutes. Stir in melted chocolate and vanilla.

Drop by teaspoons 2 inches apart on greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) about 10 to 12 minutes or until firm to touch. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

Frost cookies with chocolate icing made by mixing 6 tablespoons instant powdered cream with 2½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar. Add 3 to 4 tablespoons hot water and two 1-ounce squares unsweetened chocolate, melted. Top each cookie with half walnut.

Beat Yolks Till Thick

Cake baking tip; Beat egg yolks, for use in sponge cake batter, until thick and pale colored. This beating prevents the yolks from settling at the bottom of the cake and making a soggy streak.

Gum drops make fine holders for tiny candles on a birthday cake. Choose colors that go with your frosting scheme!

Plum-Rich Cake Would Delight Jack Horner

Draw your chairs around the fireplace at dessert time and serve this good cake with coffee.

Plum Cake

1 1-pound, 14-ounce can blue plums
1 cup sifted cake flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Allow plums to drain well in strainer; you should have at least 1½ cups syrup to use another time for a pudding sauce or a cold drink.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, one-half cup sugar and vanilla; beat in eggs one at a time. (Mixture will look curdled but this doesn't matter.)

Stir in sifted dry ingredients in three additions until smooth. Turn into buttered baking pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches).

Remove pits from plums as you spread them over cake batter. Mix one-fourth cup sugar and cinnamon together; sprinkle over plums.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center has no cake particles sticking to it—about 45 minutes.

Allow to stand a few minutes before turning out on rack; plums will have sunk to bottom; if a few plums stick to pan, turn them onto cake with small spatula.

When cool invert on cake plate; top will have pretty dark markings.

For Tangy Dressing

Add drained crushed pineapple and grated cheddar cheese to mayonnaise; thin with a little lemon juice and add a sprinkle of paprika for color. Serve over avocado crescents on crisp romaine.

Colorful Christmas Salads Lend Sparkle to Menus

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Sometime during the Christmas weekend you will be planning a salad or two. Even if you do not want a large salad for your big holiday meal, there are suppers and lunches to be fixed. We think you might like some different salad recipes.

Cranberries are so much a part of our holiday season that they need no further publicity. In fact, we are not including any cranberry salads except one that uses cranberry juice.

These first two salads, one red, the other green, come from the Wine Institute in California. These sound both good and attractive.

Gala holiday salads, one Santa Claus red, the other Christmas tree green, will sparkle on any festive table. Filled with nuts and fruits and ever so subtly flavored with wine, they are bursting with goodness. So pretty together, either of them may star alone for special luncheons, dinners or buffet suppers.

Vintage Cranberry Molds

1¼ cups bottled cranberry juice cocktail
1 package cherry-flavored gelatin
½ cup burgundy or other red table wine
3 tablespoons red wine vinegar
½ cup sugar
Dash of salt
1 cup halved fresh or canned seedless grapes
1 cup finely cut celery
½ cup finely chopped walnuts

Heat cranberry juice cocktail to simmering; add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat. Add wine, wine vinegar, sugar and salt; stir to dissolve sugar. Cool, then chill.

When mixture begins to thicken, fold in grapes, celery and nuts. Spoon into six individual molds or custard cups that have been rinsed with cold water. Chill until firm.

Unmold on crisp salad greens and serve with mayonnaise or a fruit salad dressing. Serves six.

Holiday Lime-Pineapple Molds

1 cup syrup from canned pineapple
½ cup water
1 package lime-flavored gelatin
⅓ cup sauterne or other white table wine
2 tablespoons fresh lime juice
¼ cup sugar
Dash of salt
Green food coloring
1 cup diced canned pineapple (use pineapple tidbits or dice slices with scissors)
1 cup finely cut celery
½ cup finely chopped walnuts

Heat pineapple syrup and water to simmering; add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat. Add wine, lime juice, sugar and salt; stir to dissolve sugar. Tint mixture a deep green with food coloring.

Cool, then chill. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in pineapple, celery and nuts. Spoon into six individual molds or custard cups that have been rinsed with cold water. Chill until firm.

Unmold on crisp salad greens and serve with mayonnaise or a fruit salad dressing. Serves six.

This last salad is entirely different and could be used as a dessert salad. It should be especially refreshing after some of the hearty and heavy foods we consume at Christmas.

When you count your Christmas blessings, add oranges to the food you're thankful for this season.

Because the current orange crop is the biggest in history, prices are low. The crop is 40 per cent larger than average. This is welcome news now when most fresh fruits are rather expensive.

We think you will like this unusual method of serving a fruit salad.

Fruit Salad in Orange Ice Rings

1½ cups orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Dash salt
⅔ cup sugar
¼ cup water
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Segments from 4 grapefruit
4 slices pineapple, diced
Segments from 2 oranges
Mayonnaise
Lettuce cups
Mint leaves

Combine orange juice, lemon juice and salt and freeze in a refrigerator tray until firm. Boil sugar and water together for three minutes and pour slowly into stiffly-beaten whites, beating constantly. Cool to lukewarm.

Scrape up thin layers of the frozen mixture and fold into the egg white mixture. Pour this into four individual ring molds and freeze in refrigerator trays until firm.

Combine the grapefruit, pineapple and orange with mayonnaise and chill. Take the orange ice out of the molds. Place lettuce cups in the centers and fill with fruit salad. Garnish with mint leaves.

Potage Au Potiron Is French Favorite

Here's a quick but authentic version of a popular French soup.

POTAGE AU POTIRON
(Pumpkin Soup)

One 10¾-ounce can condensed onion soup
1 cup canned pumpkin
2 tablespoons cream
Nutmeg
Pepper

Empty soup into saucepan; using soup can for measure add one can water. Add pumpkin.

Heat to boiling, stirring a few times. Force soup through a fine sieve so onions are pureed; return to sauce pan and reheat to boiling.

Remove from heat and stir in cream, a dash of nutmeg, and pepper to taste. Makes almost 4 cups—enough for four servings.

If you have nutmeg and pepper grinders, pass them with the potage instead of adding these spices before serving.

Cheese Dip Goes Well With Apple Fingers

Appetizing snack to serve before dinner, or in the evening while you're watching television, is a cheese dip with apple fingers.

To prepare, soften one package processed American cheese at room temperature. Blend in 2 tablespoons catsup or chili sauce and one-half teaspoon celery seeds.

Mix well and serve in a bowl with crisp red Delicious apples cut into thick slices, to serve as fingers.

Baby-Strained Egg Yolks Make Delightful Canapes

This is hospitality season, when every door swings inward, when even seldom-seen friends drop by to see the tree and deposit their tokens under its branches.

Impromptu snacks are expected and acceptable — ready-to-serve treats like cookies, fruits and homemade candies, and best of all, tempting canapes.

Hors d'oeuvres are more than appetite teasers—they are a gracious gesture of hospitality.

"What about using baby-strained egg yolks in canapes?" That question has been asked many times in recent months, so much so that home economists began testing, later calling in a staff of researchers for critical tasting.

Favorite among the four spreads sampled was the egg and cheese, a real jiffy recipe.

Egg and olive along with egg and minced clam tied for second place with the tasting panel. Folks with a taste for fish went for the egg and kippered herring.

Mothers who have started baby on a very small serving of strained egg yolks can easily adapt the egg and cheese recipe so it will utilize the balance of the can.

Creamy in consistency, the product has only salt and water added to farm-fresh egg yolks.

Each 3½-ounce can offers about 3¼ cooked egg yolks. As the label indicates, 2 level tablespoons equal 1 egg yolk.

Egg and Cheese Spread

1 can strained egg yolks
½ cup processed cheese spread with bacon

Have both ingredients at room temperature for faster blending. Blend well. Chill. Makes about two-thirds cup.

* * *

Egg and Olive Spread

2 cans strained egg yolks
⅓ cup finely diced stuffed olives
¼ cup finely diced celery
1 to 2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
¼ teaspoon prepared mustard

Combine ingredients and chill thoroughly. Makes about 1½ cups.

* * *

Egg and Minced Clam Spread

2 cans strained egg yolks
1 (5½ ounce) can minced clams, well drained
Dash of onion or garlic powder
½ teaspoon Worcestershire
2 tablespoons well-drained pickle relish

Combine ingredients and chill thoroughly. Makes about 1½ cups.

* * *

Egg and Kippered Herring Spread

2 cans strained egg yolks
1 (3½ ounce) can fillet of kippered herring, well drained
Dash of onion or garlic salt or ½ teaspoon grated onion

Thoroughly mash the herring fillet, or force through a wire sieve. Combine with the egg yolks. Add onion. Chill thoroughly. Makes about 1½ cups.

Honey and Apple Flavor Corn Muffins

The honey-and-apple flavor of this hot bread is at its best when the muffins are served hot from the oven.

Special Corn Muffins

¾ cup sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup water-ground yellow cornmeal
1 egg
¼ cup honey
½ cup milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted)
½ cup finely diced unpeeled red apple

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt; stir in cornmeal.

Beat egg until thick and ivory colored; add honey and milk and beat enough to combine.

Add flour-cornmeal mixture, melted butter and apple; stir just until dry ingredients are well moistened.

Fill greased muffin cups one-half full and bake in hot (400 degrees) oven until lightly browned and cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

If cups in muffin pan are one-third cup size, there will be nine muffins that will need about 15 minutes baking.

Try Stuffing Garnish

Flavorful garnish for bowls of hot creamy soup is crisp bread stuffing, the packaged kind. The herb seasoning in the stuffing highlights flavor of several soups—cream of mushroom, cream of celery or cream of chicken. Try this at a holiday meal.

Mark Frozen Food With Colored Pencil

Colored pencils can help keep track of the "expiration dates" of foods stored in the home freezer.

The month and year when recommended storage life expires should be noted on a tag attached to every food package that goes into the freezer.

If this date is written with a colored pencil that signifies the season, it will be easier to tell at a glance when foods should be used, suggest home economists.

A black pencil might be used for the winter months of December, January and February; a green one for March, April and May; a red one for June, July and August; an orange one for September, October and November.

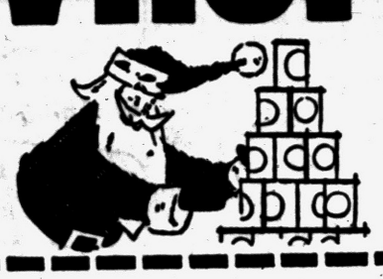

Grouping packages in baskets or bags according to storage life also will help assure use within proper time limits.

Popcorn Yule Trees Brighten Holiday Table

Popcorn Christmas trees are clever decorations to add to your table during the Yule season, says the December issue of a home magazine.

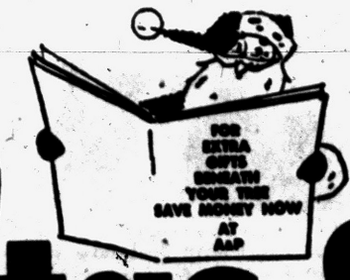

They may be made by covering inverted ice cream cones with frosting and then pressing popcorn into the frosting while it's still soft. Decorations include red cinnamon candies and green sugar sprinkled over each cone.

APPLE-CRANBERRY SALAD—A new twist with cranberries, using them raw in a molded salad, is a menu suggestion for holiday meals and meals throughout the winter. This colorful salad will be welcome whenever you serve it. Lettuce wedges and mayonnaise accompany it.

Raw Berries Good in Salad

Cranberries look so good and taste so good that it's no chore to plan them often in holiday meals. Using them raw in a molded salad adds zest to any dinner.

Chill it in a ring mold as shown above, or use individual star molds if you have them.

Apple-Cranberry Salad

2 cups raw cranberries
1 orange quartered
1 cup sugar
1½ cups canned applesauce
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
½ cup boiling water
½ cup chopped walnuts
1 cup diced celery, salad greens
Mayonnaise

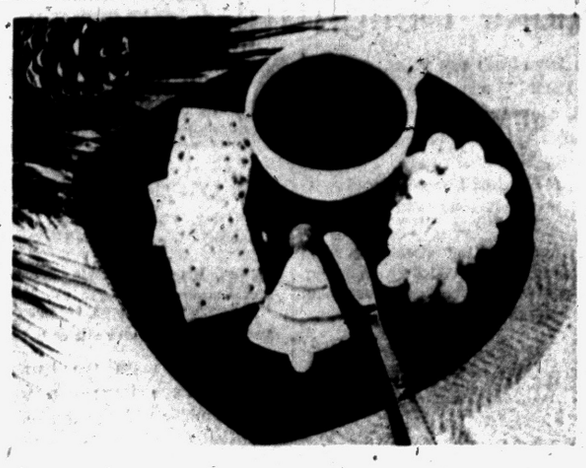

Using medium blade of food chopper, grind cranberries and orange (rind and pulp); add sugar. Mix well.

Soften gelatin in cold water, let stand five minutes. Add boiling water to gelatin, stirring until dissolved.

Combine cranberry mixture, applesauce, walnuts and celery; gradually add dissolved gelatin; mix thoroughly.

Pour into 1½-quart ring mold, which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm.

Unmold on salad greens. Serve with mayonnaise. Makes eight servings.

Holiday Snack Is Light, Festive

Friends coming to help trim the tree? Unexpected guests dropping in for a holiday visit? Family asking for a change from rich foods and sweets?

If you can answer "yes" to any one of these questions, here's a suggestion you will welcome — serve a snack plate of tangy sweet grapes, your favorite cheese and crisp rye wafers, a perfect blending of flavors and textures in these always-ready foods that are light but satisfying at the same time.

Served with fragrant coffee, you have a combination that rises to all holiday occasions.

It's easy to add a touch of the holiday spirit to the snack plate, too. The wedge of cheese becomes a miniature Christmas tree when decorated with strips of green pepper, a red cherry at the top and a nut for the trunk.

The grapes get a Jack Frost touch when they're dipped into beaten egg whites and then sprinkled with granulated sugar.

The crisp rye wafers need no dressing up because they're so good with cheese and fruit. Plain or fancy, this combination is one that will please your family and friends at holiday time or any time.

Or, six small patty pan squashes may be used, in season. Wash patty pan or cymblings and remove blossom end.

Cut round slice from top of each squash and remove centers. Place in covered casserole; dot each with butter, bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 35 to 40 minutes, until tender.

Meanwhile, melt butter in saucepan over low heat, add flour and seasonings, and blend. Add milk slowly and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is smooth and thickened.

Add diced, cooked ham and heat through. Fill centers of hot baked squash. Garnish with parsley sprigs. Serves six.

Dairy Products Enhance Holiday Foods and Drinks

When the house is all clean and shining and special holiday touches are in evidence, it is an ideal time for the homemaker to enjoy her friends at informal social gatherings.

Whether the guests are invited or drop in casually, it is gratifying to the hostess to know that she has some special food or beverage on hand for refreshments.

Here are several recipes that show how well dairy foods fit into the holiday scheme. There is hardly a food that is served during the holidays that is not made more appetizing by the use of milk, cream, butter, cheese or ice cream.

Many foods are enhanced also by serving them with milk beverages, either hot or cold. Dairy foods are tops in flavor, economy and food nutrients and combine ideally with most other foods. Calcium, which is a very necessary mineral for good health, is found in important quantities in milk.

Christmas Cookies

2½ cups all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup butter
1½ cups granulated sugar
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup chopped candied cherries
¼ cup chopped or broken pecans
1 ounce sweet milk chocolate, melted

Sift flour, measure; sift twice with baking powder and salt. Cream butter until soft and gradually blend in sugar. Add egg and vanilla, and beat vigorously until smooth and fluffy. Add flour mixture and mix thoroughly. Divide dough into two portions. Add chopped cherries to one portion, and nuts and chocolate to the second.

Line a small bread pan with waxed paper and pack the chocolate - nut dough in the bottom of the pan as evenly as possible. Over this pack the cherry dough. Cover with waxed paper and chill several hours or overnight in the refrigerator.

When ready to bake, turn out of the pan and slice very thin. Place on cookie sheets and bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees, for about 10 minutes, or until delicately browned (dough may be stored for several days in refrigerator, and cookies baked a few at a time as required). Makes about 8 dozen thin cookies.

Pour candy into buttered 8-inch square pan and let stand at room temperature until firm. Cut into squares. Makes about 2½ pounds fudge.

Lone Visit by Friend Is Proper

Practice Depends, However, on Type of People Involved

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter tells me: "I am a widow and have several friends who are also widows. A few of them have men friends who either call on them or take them out occasionally. During an informal get-together the other evening the question came up as to whether it was proper to invite these men to come to their apartments for dinner or to spend the evening while alone.

The consensus was that the idea of middle-aged women having to be chaperoned was ridiculous and old-fashioned. I disagreed with them and said that a woman, no matter what her age, would invite criticism if she entertained a man alone. What is your opinion?

It depends very much upon the type of men who come to see her and the type of person she herself is. In most cases it would be entirely proper for her to see an old friend alone.

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be married soon and I have been invited to a shower that is being given for his bride-to-be. I have known the young woman for a long time and am very happy to have her in the family. I would like to know how to sign the gift card enclosed with the shower present.

I think Mary Jones sounds too formal and stiff to someone who is soon to be my daughter-in-law. Would it be proper to sign the card "Mother" or "Mother Jones?"

Sign it "With love from Jim's mother."

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is necessary to answer a wedding invitation when no R.s.v.p. appears anywhere on it. My husband and I have a small wager on this.

Not if the invitation is to the church. If it is to the house or club or hotel, then yes, because an invitation which implies that food will be served, must always be answered.

'Be Like Crowd' Aim of Children

URBANA, Ill. (INS) — Being "one of the crowd" is important to a child's development.

Margueritte Briggs, child development specialist at the University of Illinois, says a good part of a child's happiness depends on whether he can be like the others.

Miss Briggs explained that this helps the child like others of his age and aids in his adjustment in later years to the outer world.

Because of this Miss Briggs urged mothers to dress their children like others in the community.

And, if the child has an unusual first name, Miss Briggs said the family should give him a nickname that does not set him apart from other youngsters in the community.

Unevenness Complaint on Oil Heat

By HUBBARD COBB

We've had a good deal of mail of late from people who converted their hand fired coal furnace over to oil or gas and aren't too happy about things. Their chief complaint is that the heat in the house is uneven—it's either too cool or too hot—never just right.

Well, this can be the fault of a lot of things but it's not the fault of either the gas or the oil. Both of these, just like coal, are good fuels for house heating. The main cause of the trouble is with the furnace or the manner in which the conversion system has been installed.

When you heat by coal the coal burns all the time at a pretty even rate. Maybe you slow the fire down at night and bring it up in the morning but for hours at a time the coal just burns along nice and steady. Now with gas or oil the fire is not constant.

When the thermostat demands heat the burner goes into operation and develops a good deal of heat. This goes on until the house is warm at which point the thermostat cuts off the burner. If the system is not properly balanced, there will be long delays between firing.

If this is the case, when the burner goes on it must first warm up the furnace before any heat is delivered to the house. Then it must warm up the chilled floors, walls and ceilings of the house before it can actually get to the job of heating the air in the house.

What you end up with is a house that is too warm for comfort. The best remedy for this little headache is to have the burner adjusted so that it will run for short periods rather close together. This will prevent the house becoming chilled and therefore prevent the furnace from having to deliver too much heat.

Tight Trousers and Loose Tops Greet New Year

NEW YORK (NEA)—Loose tops, either wide or long (or both) worn over very tight pants, short or long, typify this year's resort playclothes.

Planters pants are the newest length. These just cover the kneecaps, are sometimes called gondolier pants. There are lots of skin-tight long pants, too, in solid colors of bright prints. Plenty of very short, shorts, too. These are meant to be worn with a long loose top that very nearly covers them.

Beach coats are cut straight and turn up in unexpected fabrics, like the hound's-tooth check. Play-skirts continue in varous versions of the Bermuda skirt. Some are permanently pleated cottons that flare and there are kilts in white linen.

There are lots of cottons with a hand-woven look. This means a coarse weave most often and interesting striped and checked patterns. Most designers are making use of mat jersey because they like the way it drapes and wraps and feel that it's practical because it packs beautifully.

Establish a Christmas mood in the kitchen. Here is an original way of decorating the walls with kitchen wares made into gifts. Right about now this is a good idea for the last minute rush. Here, a wire strainer is turned into a femme fatale with red scouring pads as hair, sink stoppers for eyes, Christmas tree ornaments for earrings and a neckpiece of a wooden salad set. It is put together with bands of green gift wrap tape and touched off with large bows of green and white ribbon.

Advises Mary Margaret McBride:

Abolish Tipping---Even If It Hurts

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

The newest etiquette book advises the browbeaten public to stop fighting, accept tipping as an established institution and tip liberally.

The idea is apparently that no matter how wretched the service, you must still produce a token of gratitude. Otherwise, warns the expert, you're in for social ostracism.

Sometimes I think I'll just go ahead and be ostracized. Could it possibly be any worse than the frustrated state of anxiously calculating a tip and then being scowled at because it's not enough — and it's never enough, no matter how big it is. No — I say raise prices, if necessary, but abolish tipping.

Women, I realize, are considered poor tippers. Any woman who has ever been caught on a rainy corner looking for a taxicab, has seen the result of that belief in operation: almost invariably the cabbie will slither in his empty hack to the point just beyond the lone, drenched female to the first signalling male.

And if the male astonishingly happens to be an old-fashioned gentleman who gallantly waves the woman to the taxi, there's a good chance the driver will slam into gear, make rude grumpy noises and go out of his way to scare his passenger nearly into fits.

The same sex discrimination goes on in restaurants. In the average luncheon place where both men and women eat, you usually find the tables closest to the kitchen and the swinging doors given over to the supposedly bad-tipping sex who are there served by sour-looking, napkin - snapping waiters. The banquettes, the front tables, the draft - free spots are reserved for males

It isn't because I'm discriminated against that I would do away with tipping, though. My really important objection is that tipping is against everything Americans stand for. It's a fedal hangover, sett &) up a lord - serf relationship that doesn't exist here.

Tipping customs, furthermore, simply don't make sense. Why, for example, is one expected to slip a bit of silver unostentatiously under the dessert plate for the waiter who brings you food and no fee for the salesperson behind the counter who sells you perfume or shirts?

The average male, as everybody knows, pays several times the cost of his hat each year to redeem it from cloak-rooms manned by pretty girls. Yet cloak - rooms are concessions farmed out by the management and the hat-chicks are merely salaried employes. The tip goes to a corporation.

We are supposed to tip the lordly maitre d' hotel, but not the lowly bus boy who brings the bread and fills the glasses; the stewards on the ship but never stewards wearing airline uniforms; the girl who shampoos your hair and manicures your nails, but never the proprietor of the shop when he or she takes over with the shears or nail lacquer.

Why wouldn't it be better all around to increase the check to cover the helps' salaries? Then the doorman who hustles cabs and hands you into your car would do it as part of his routine job. Even if it meant a little higher rent, I'd like it better.

Tipping is an indignity for the man with the outstretched palm. And it's a humiliating nuisance for the tipper, too.

Be Safe With Yule Tree, Assure Pleasant Holiday

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

The tree that keeps its needles longest is the tree that's most freshly cut, and this is also the safest tree.

The more moisture there is in the tree, the longer it will last and the less danger there is of fire. A tree stand that holds water helps to refresh the tree. But make sure the tree will absorb all the water it can by making a diagonal cut an inch or so above the original cut end, and keeping the water level above the cut surface as long as the tree is in the house.

Inspect extension cords as well as light sets before trimming the tree, and discard those which are damaged. Don't plug too many light sets into extension cords, and don't expect the replacement of a blown fuse to solve the problem—a blown fuse means the load on a circuit must be lightened. Keep ornaments away from light sockets. Paper may be ignited this way, or metallic decorations may short the circuit. And when the tree comes down, don't burn it in the fireplace. A dry tree burns with an almost uncontrollable flame.

Styled Uniform Is Joy to Wear

Nothing's more comfortable to wear or satisfactory to launder than a well-styled uniform. And now that new uniforms are being made as "separates," just like your favorite sportswear, you'll find them even more appealing.

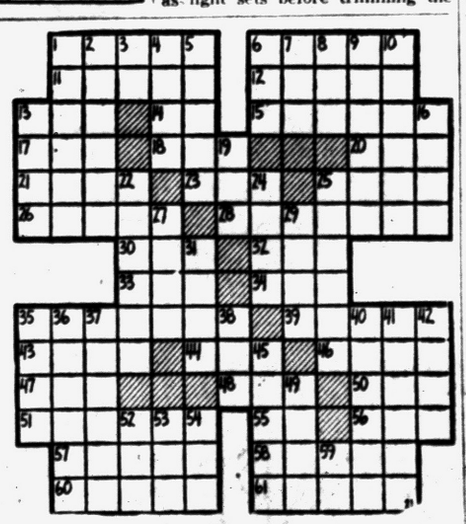

Two blouses and a skirt are being sold as one outfit, in white-on-white patterned cotton and also in plain cotton poplin.

A neat trick is the elastic loop attached to the inner waistband of the skirt, so it can fit around a blouse button and be held securely in place. Tucked bibs, French cuffs, and zippered skirts also make for more fashion significance.

Cucumbers Score

Those fancy "scored" cucumber slices are easy to make. Just draw a fork lengthwise from end to end on the cucumber and then slice thin.

Nine out of 10 fur coats sold in the United States are made inside a five-block area bounding Seventh Avenue in New York.

Her Desperation Helped to Uncover New Talent

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Mrs. J. had been a teacher in the primary grades for years. Then she married, had three children of her own and settled down to homemaking.

But after her own children were in school, she began doing a little substitute teaching, to keep her hand in and keep abreast of new methods.

When her youngest was fifteen, Mrs. J. lost her husband, suddenly and tragically.

"I had to get to work fast, if we were to eat," she told me. "But the trouble was, I had been having great trouble with my eyes and the doctor said teaching would be out. It was a panicky time, and I honestly didn't know which way to turn.

"But I guess necessity really is the mother of invention, because one day it occurred to me that I might get a job in a toy company. Our city has two big toy manufacturers, and I went down to the personnel manager of the biggest one.

"I told him that I knew all about children, and their parents, and what appealed to them in the line of toys. I also told him that since educational toys are so popular, I thought my teaching experience would be helpful. And I offered to start in any job, no matter how lowly, provided it would help me learn the toy business and not require close eye work.

"Well," she continued, "he hired me as receptionist in their show room, and boy, was it hectic! I sat at a big desk, and all day long buyers from stores and schools came in, and I would show them the merchandise and try to sell them. I did quite well, because of course, I understood their point of view.

"That was four years ago, and now I am one of their top salesmen, making a very good salary. On top of that, I came up with an idea for a toy, which they bought and which is doing awfully well.

"I thought your readers might like to hear about me, because if I can do it, anybody can! And tell them that maybe one of the toys their own children will find under the tree this Christmas might be the one I invented!"

Twosome Leaves for Denmark to Visit With Relatives

Teens Must Do Repairs, Then Shop

Most teens are more clever than their elders admit about stretching a tiny clothing budget a long way. It is from teen-agers that half of the novel beauty and fashion ideas come.

Shrewd gals raid the five-and-ten and odd boxes around the house to find what they need. They improvise and invent in ways that are witty as well as pretty.

But sometimes, finding that this is not enough, teeners cut the budget in unsound ways. No gal likes to put the price of a new pair of high socks into something that won't show — she thinks. So shoes go unrepaired, bras wear down to the slimmest frazzle and underpinnings tatter unreplaced.

Cleaning, repairing, replacing. These are the investments that tire the soul. How much more fun to buy a new sweater or look at knee pants of a Saturday!

But they must be done. There is no bright and cheery word that can be offered to make these payments fun.

Undone, they make a young woman look sloppy and cheap. Done, they are the meticulous mark of a well-groomed high school girl, or young married woman.

Take a regular check on everything in your wardrobe. Plan the spending over a period so the cost of a new slip won't wreck you.

Avoid Allergy Before Birth

Doctors at a post-graduate clinic in Detroit have been told that the first food a baby eats is likely to set off an allergic tendency, if the baby inherits an allergic nature.

Dr. Jerome Glasser of the University of Rochester suggested that plans should be made before birth to avert or alleviate allergies in the case of babies whose parents or brothers and sisters have suffered allergy troubles.

One suggestion was that such babies, if they cannot be breast fed, be given feedings made of soy bean milk, and not allowed to have a formula containing cow's milk.

He explained that the child could thus be saved from an allergy to "migraine," but still want to look cow's milk. The danger of touching off an allergy condition, Dr. Glasser said, subsides by the sixth to the ninth month.

Ruffles May Help in Baby Confusion

A girl baby who is as bald as an egg may upset her mother, for people on the street say—"Isn't he cute?" If it makes you unhappy, get a ruffly bonnet for trips outdoors.

It will cover her baldness and yet not be as awkward as those dresses that get snarled up in her kicking legs. Her hair will grow in soon and then there'll be no mistaking her femininity.

Paris Knits Get Praise of Balmain

PARIS — Knitting isn't considered "old fashioned" in France. In fact, French hand-knit garments are a proof of taste and elegance even in fashionable circles.

Besides the sweater or shawl, "knitted by loving hands," there are smart and interesting dresses and evening styles in the fashion picture of Parisian knit-wear. The most individual and chic styles shown recently were awarded prizes in a knitting competition organized by the International Wool Secretariat.

Prize-winning 'round-the-clock outfits gave knitting conscious ladies an idea of what French women do with needles and wool.

Judged by Paris designer Pierre Balmain the smartest feminine hand-made garment was a black wool cocktail dress crocheted in a beautiful, lacy flower pattern. Its low-cut neckline, full flaring skirt and taffeta lining was stylish and elegant. It was produced by a 46-year-old woman who finished it in three months, working evenings.

Other knitted style-setters were a black woolen cocktail dress in a herring-bone pattern with a wide strapped neckline, a rib-knitted white afternoon dress and a short sleeved white evening blouse made of alternating stripes of firm knitted bands and wool loops.

One cheerful sweater appeared to be made of many small wool-balls in all the rainbow colors. A very Parisian looking hand-knitted model showed narrow light blue and white stripes patterned to a strict shirtwaist style and worn with a black velvet ribbon bow at the collar.

MR. and MRS. DAVID L. PRICE

Wed in Lutheran Church

St. Trinity Lutheran Church was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Thayle Arlette McMonagle and David Price.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo H. McMonagle of Cloverlawn avenue, and his parents are the Harry C. Prices of Stanley avenue.

She wore a white ballerina length gown with pearl necklace and earrings. Her bouquet was an arrangement of white carnations and stephanotis.

Janice Price, as maid of honor, wore a blue ballerina length gown and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Walter Schrodi was best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McMonagle wore a navy blue dress with red accessories and a corsage of red carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue dress with black accessories and a red carnation corsage.

After a reception held in the Gingellville Community Club, the bride changed to her traveling costume, a gray suit with navy blue accessories. The newlyweds will reside at Crescent Lake.

SYLVIA L. THEODORE

Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Theodore of Tex avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Sylvia, to Richard R. Lovelace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton O. Lovelace of Snellbrook road. No date has been set for the wedding.

Hubby's Mad, Get a Shaver of Your Own

The most grim visage a husband ever assumes is not the one he puts on when the biscuits burn. It's the one that comes over him the minute he finds his wife has been using his electric shaver.

He nibbles off a fraction of an inch of whisker daily and then finds longer, finer hair bristling from his shaver. The best thing to do is get out of the house. He isn't going to believe that the poodle touched up his last haircut with it.

Then the wise move is to get a shaver of your own. You probably have a razor, but sometimes you get out of the shower in a big hurry to find you forgot to shave your legs. And that electric shaver that works dry is so handy . . . Be sure it's yours and not your husband's.

Many women have found an electric shaver of their own is a real delight. They don't fret about cuts that seem never to stop bleeding. For touch-ups or neglected areas, they like the safety of the non-cutting electric model.

Now there are shavers that are properly feminine looking and handsome travel accessories. A new one is a lovely pink to grace any femine bathroom.

Mrs. William Pfahlert, Mrs. Perkio, Mrs. Ed Pritchard and Mrs. Thomas Cox were in charge of the gift exchange. Members celebrating birthdays in December were presented with gifts by the hospitality committee.

Future activities announced by Mrs. Sidney Fellows, worthy matron, were the Jan. 3 meeting, officer practice to be held on Jan. 16 at 7 p.m. and Areme Chapter's annual card party on Jan. 30. Mrs. Beatrice Keller of St. Clair Shores was a guest for the evening.

Holiday Cottons Are High Style for Parties

NEW YORK (NEA) —The uses of cotton for pretty at-home clothes are many. Fashions for holiday wear combine high style with brilliant color and a truly practical warmth.

Favorite fabrics for these at-home and party clothes are velveteen, cotton lace and quilted cotton. Bright floral prints are sometimes combined with black velveteen for sharp contrast.

The young housewife who does a lot of entertaining during the holidays (and all of her own housework) will have more fun as a hostess if she dresses to the occasion. Designed especially for at-home hours, a floral top in cotton is worn with slim black velveteen pants. The blouse goes either in or out, has a tiny edging of black lace.

Most households have a certain number of visitors who just drop in during the holidays. The one costume that will get you by gracefully, yet permit you to be comfortable, too, is a little robe that's cut to look like a dress. This is a floral-printed cotton, quilted for warmth.

You can pack a pie without fear of squashing if you hinge two pie tins together as a container.

Concert Hall Trade Loses Composer

Long-Haired Music Gets Crewcut by Miss Goetschius

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

When a long-hair composer gives her music a crewcut, the result sometimes lands on the Hit Parade.

That, at least, is the experience of blonde, diffident Marjorie Goetschius, bred in the great musical tradition, daughter of a long line of musicians and wife of a short-haired band leader named Emery Deutsch.

* * *

She was composing strictly for the Carnegie Hall trade until she met Emery. He advised her to give her sonatas a haircut. She took his advice, and produced "I Dream of You," which stayed on the Hit Parade for 16 weeks. Her most recent crewcut effort is a brand new hit called "My Bambino," inspired by the birth of a baby boy, to Marjorie and Emery after 12 years of marriage. Says Marjorie:

"It's a 'counting sheep' song which I adapted from an old Italian lullaby that my grandmother used to sing to me."

Marjorie's grandmother was opera star Maria Stephany and her grandfather was Dr. Percy Goetschius, one of the founders of the Juilliard School of Music, a personal friend of Johannes Brahms and Franz Liszt and author of some 35 standard works on musical theory.

* * *

Marjorie's grandfather and grandmother met at Juilliard. So did her father and mother and so did she and Emery.

Born in Manchester, N. H. Marjorie was starting her songwriting career by the time she was 5. Her mother the former Pauline Gauer, concert pianist, started training her in music almost as soon as she could talk, and encouraged her to make up rhymes and set them to music. Says Marjorie:

"I guess I was destined to be a songwriter, from the first. But I didn't realize it until I got my crewcut."

A gifts exchange was held by the group's secret sisters. Assisting the hostess for the evening were Mrs. W. F. Kalwitz and Mrs. John Little.

Wesleyan Class Has Program

"Christmas at the Dodds" was presented by members of the Wesleyan Class of First Methodist Church when they met Friday evening in the Clarkston home of the Russell Backetts.

Taking part in the playlet were the William Farrells, Dick Shelton, Guy Emery and Mrs. William Kovin. Mrs. Robert Murphy told of Christmas customs and church services of colonial days in America.

Holiday Decor Fun for Stars

HOLLYWOOD — Movie actor William Holden, whose secret ambition is to be an architect, has his own ideas about Christmas decorations.

Bill makes cookie cutters in the shape of house plans which wife Brenda Marshall faithfully bakes to size and scale.

Then the two of them put the house together with thick icing and decorate to their hearts' content. Some of the cookies manage to get hung on the Christmas tree, but most of them wind up in the eager hands of their offspring.

Baby Needn't Change Hands

Handedness worries many mothers. Give baby a chance and don't force him. He'll use one hand for a while and then the other for a month or so.

Don't get wrought up if he uses the left for a long while or even forever. The hobgoblin of the difficulties a person faces who is left-handed should be ignored.

A child can get along fine in school if he's left-handed, but if you try to change him and he starts to stammer, he may not have it so easy.

Both are seniors at Michigan State College where Miss Ireland is a member of Alpha Omega and Mr. Smith is a member of Phi Kappa Tau. The announcement was made at a family dinner on Sunday.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Douglas will be among hosts Sunday afternoon. They will entertain at their annual holiday open house.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Richardson will entertain at dinner Saturday evening. With their children they will leave the day after Christmas for a trip to Florida.

* * *

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Madden (Jennie Buel Quirk) announce the birth of a daughter, Suzanne Quirk Madden, Dec. 6.

* * *

Beverly Scales, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Richard C. Scales, will come from Ann Arbor Friday for the holidays and will be hostess at a tea Tuesday.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dodds will spend the holidays in Denver, Colo., with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cotton.

'Old Dobbin' Returns to Scene

Horses Move to House, Not Stable in Newest Decor

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK, Dec. 20 (INS)—Old Dobbin, who certainly got pushed out of the picture when horseless carriages took over, is coming back to the American scene.

But not to the stable.

Horses are moving into the house as the newest aid to decor. These are picture horses, of course, on fabrics and wallpapers, but there are more of them around this season than usual.

We've always had prints of the southern plantation type, with somebody holding a steed at the front door, and fabrics showing English hunt scenes, with a lot of red-coated equestrians going yoicks!

But now we've got those plus prints of horses at the paddock, in the stable, at the post, as well as horsey prints of jockey shirts and saddles, minus horse.

So far, no Hopalong Cassidy type horses, except in nursery decoration. And no Indians or cavalry yet.

But horses in racing, in hunting and just standing around are all over the place. Big companies like F. Schumacher are displaying prints called "Morning Line" in place of the usual petunia patterns.

Nobody seems to know just why horses got to be so popular. One observer thought it was an urge for "outdoors scenes," another thought people just liked horses.

Whatever the reason, if you go for horses in the decor, now's the time to buy. Next year it could be Cocker Spaniels.

Isabellas Install New Members

Members of Circle 479 of Daughters of Isabella held a Christmas party Monday evening in Knights of Columbus Hall.

Recitation of the Rosary for world peace was led by Mrs. Richard Ashton, chaplain. New members were installed.

The Rev. Michael O'Reilly was guest of honor at the party. Christmas hymns were sung including one composed by the Rev. Father O'Reilly.

A card party has been planned by the group for Jan. 24 at 8 p. m. in St. Michael Hall.

Citizen's League Has Party

Christmas customs of many lands were enjoyed by members of New Citizens League and Janice Antona's citizenship class at the annual "Christmas Around the World" program sponsored jointly by the groups.

Pontiac High School cafeteria was the setting for the Friday evening event. Flora Grimaldi described Christmas in Italy; Cecily Dubis described Poland; Anna Maria William, Germany; Maria Brioves, Mexico; Flora Manukian, Armenia and Inger Madsen, Norway.

Music was furnished by a group of boys and girls from Wilson School. Taking special parts in the program were Gary Reynolds, Rita Schmansky, Linda Butler and Edward Haroutunian. Margaret Snyder was accompanist.

Mrs. Theodore Wiersema told of the origin of our American Christmas customs. Mrs. Herbert Laughon was chairman for the social hour. The tea table was centered with a silver Christmas tree surrounded by Christmas candles and cookies from all parts of the world.

Presiding at the tea service were Miss Madsen and Miss Dubis. Santa Claus, as guest of honor presented gifts to the children and was greeted with "Merry Christmas" in nine different languages.

Christmas Party Held by Baptists

Paulson Circle of Emmanuel Baptist Church held a Christmas party recently in the Madison avenue home of Mrs. Roy Church.

Mrs. Charles Whitfield opened the meeting with prayer. Gifts for missionaries were shown to members. Mrs. Eldon Peterson read the Christmas story from the Bible.

Kuenn Named 'Soph of Year'

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Harvey Kuenn, baseball's 1954 Sophomore-of-the-Year, says it was a bat "that felt like it was made of iron" that broke his batting slump last summer.

* * *

Kuenn not only broke the slump, but he hexed the second jinx and added to his sensational freshman season which saw him named Rookie of the Year in the American League in 1953.

The bonus prize shortstop of the Detroit Tigers, who hails from Milwaukee, was named to The Associated Press award Tuesday in a poll of sports writers and sportscasters throughout the nation.

Kuenn, 24, a right-handed batting baseball star at the University of Wisconsin, raced off with the honors and polled 205 votes to 55 for second-place Ruben Gomez, youthful pitcher for the New York Giants. Gomez, as a result, gets the National League vote.

* * *

Kuenn, in telling of the slump, said "I was swinging late all the time and it got so bad all they had to do was play me to hit to right and they'd have me. But one day in August, I saw this bat leaning in Walt Dropo's locker. It was an old one, felt heavy like iron, but I asked him if I could use it.

"I figured I couldn't do any worse than I had so I took it out even though Walt warned 'it was too heavy' for me. But I got two hits the next day and kept right on going."

Kuenn offered no diagnosis, but said despite using the heavier bat he suddenly was able to pull his hits again. He used the bat for several weeks, until it broke.

"Luckily, I'd had some made just like it," Kuenn grinned, "and they'd come in just a day or so before. They were just in time and I kept right on hitting."

Kuenn's two-year bonus arrangement with the Tigers, reported to be for $55,000, has expired and he'll dicker this winter for new salary terms.

* * *

"Expect any trouble?" he was asked.

"I don't think so," he replied.

Montreal Stars Hold First Four Scoring Berths

Geoffrion Leads Point Parade With 37 on 22 Goals, 15 Assists

MONTREAL (AP)—Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion and his Montreal teammates gave statistical evidence today why the Canadiens are leading the National Hockey League. In the individual scoring race, Montreal skaters hold the top four spots.

* * *

Geoffrion, shooting for his first scoring title, leads the parade with 37 points on 22 goals and 15 assists. He tops in the league in goals while George Sullivan of the Chicago Blackhawks, Ted Kennedy, Toronto Maple Leafs, Don Raleigh, New York Rangers and Doug Harvey, Montreal are tied for playmaking honors with 20 assists each.

Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, who scored his 400th goal last week —more than any other hockey player, and Jean Beliveau, are tied for second place with 32 points. Another teammate, Kenny Mosdell followed with 26 points.

* * *

Harry Lumley, Toronto goaltender, took a firmer grip in the battle for netminding honors with a 1.66 goals-against average. Terry Sawchuk of the Detroit Red Wings, leader in shutouts with 6 has an average of 2.00.

Dodgers List Roster of 42

Strikeout Star Spooner, Bonus Boy Koufax on Mound Staff

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers today released a revised 1955 roster of 42 players including three former National Defense service men who do not count under the player limit. The returning servicemen are pitchers Don Newcombe, Glen Cox and Charles Templeton, none of whom has been back for the required full year.

* * *

Manager Walt Alston will have 22 pitchers to look over at the Vero Beach, Fla. camp including the rookie strikeout sensation, lefty Karl Spooner. Five catchers, nine infielders and seven outfielders are on the roster.

* * *

Jackie Robinson who switched from third base to left field last season is listed as an infielder for '55. Included among the pitchers is Sanford Koufax, the bonus lefthander from Brooklyn who was signed last week. Under the rules, Koufax must stay with the Dodgers for at least two years.

Scalpers Get $45 for Tennis Ducats

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Scalpers were reported asking—and getting—$45 for single-seat tickets Tuesday as all Australia's temperature continued to rise over the approaching Davis Cup challenge round pitting the home forces against the United States.

Esca Stephens, chairman of the organizing committee, said nothing could be done to prevent scalping legitimate tickets but warned fans against buying pasteboards that have been either stolen or counterfeited.

Pender and Adams Win in Decisions

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Pender of Boston has passed his first big test since his return from the Marines and handicapped Pete Adams of Newark N. J. has proved his right to main-bout status.

Pender, 160, upset Ted Olla, 160½, to win a split decision at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Monday night and Adams, a 3-1 underdog, whipped Jimmy Martinez at New York's St. Nicholas Arena. Both 10-rounders were seen on network television.

Willie Mays Is 'Happy' to Receive Honor

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Willie Mays, the New York Giants' outfielder who was selected as the male athlete of the year in the Associated Press poll, said today he was glad to receive the honor "because, after all, there are quite a number of good male athletes around the country."

He added that he was especially happy about receiving the award because "you have to consider that I am practically starting my career in the big leagues."

Mays is playing with the Puerto Rico Winter League.

Illini and Ohio State Take Unbeaten Marks on Road

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois and Ohio State, only unbeaten basketball teams in the Big Ten, take their untarnished records to different sections of the country tonight.

The Illini, ranked No. 3 nationally, are at Rice, defending champion of the Southwest Conference, and Ohio State is at California.

The Buckeyes moved up into 11th place in the Associated Press poll this week.

In three other contests tonight, Indiana is at Kansas State, Southern Methodist is at Minnesota and Washington of St. Louis invades Purdue.

Northwestern and Michigan, both having lost only one game, came up with victories last night while Wisconsin's hot-and-cold Badgers went down to defeat before Tulane.

Northwestern had little trouble downing Louisiana State 83-66 as Frank Ehmann powered in 30 points.

Michigan went over the century mark for the 2nd time this season pushing over Denver 104-77. Tom Jorgenson led the attack with 21 points as five Wolverines scored in double figures.

It was Michigan's 4th victory in five games.

Tulane snapped a four-game Wisconsin winning streak, 69-66, in a rough-tough battle. The score was tied 15 times before the Green Wave moved out ahead to stay. Wisconsin ace Dick Cable topped all scores with 31 points.

Boston Writer Says Ted Will Be Back

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Post reports today that Ted Williams, just voted baseball's "Comeback of 1954," will announce his decision to return to the game late next month.

In his daily column, Gerry Hern says Williams will continue his repeated denials that he plans to return to left field for the Boston Red Sox until he informs Sox Owner Tom Yawkey of his decision.

Indians, Giants Provide Cubs With Spring Work

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs will be in fast company this spring playing the Cleveland Indians and New York Giants in 2-3 of their spring exhibition schedule.

The Cubs today announced a 24-game exhibition schedule with all but six contests booked in Arizona.

The American League champion Cleveland Indians are down for nine games and the world champion New York Giants are scheduled seven times.

Knollwood Pro Quits

After 21 years as head professional at Knollwood Country Club, Herm Fiebig Monday quit his post. Club officials are now seeking a successor. Applications for the place should be filed with George Kayes, greens chairman.

Fiebig has been a golf pro for 38 years. He plans to enter business in the Detroit area.

Shrine Elevens Appear Loaded as Waldorf Has Larson, Moegle; East Boasts Guglielmi, Bolden

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The coaches played their usual coy game today as they herded their charges into training camps for the East-West Shrine Football Game Jan. 1 but they had a hard time concealing feelings that they are sitting on kegs of gridiron dynamite.

* * *

Neither Holy Cross' lean Eddie Anderson, coach of the East, nor California's roly-poly Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, would post a prediction beyond a "good game."

But:

* * *

Anderson, a Notre Dame great back in the days of George Gipp, was so confident that Notre Dames Ralph Guglielmi could mesh a winning T-formation attack quickly that he's even thinking of tapering off the workouts at University of Santa Clara after the first three strenuous two-a-days.

Pappy is all for the strenuous buildup and intends to keep the two-a-days going at Stanford even after Christmas.

But he's so pleased with having both the nation's No. 1 passer, his own quarterback Paul Larson, and the No. 2, Oregon's quarterback George Shaw, that he's even toying with the idea of making one a halfback and using them together.

* * *

Those two, teamed up with Dick Moegle, Rice's hurricane runner, and Washington State's Duke Washington at fullback, would form a fearsome four behind such great linemen as UCLA's 214-pound Buck Lansford.

But Minnesota's Bernie Bierman, who is on the East side for the 16th year, this time as an advisor, wants it known that the Gophers' fullback Bob McNamara is almost a football team in himself. Bierman points out that McNamara went into action only a few weeks after a knee cartilege operation and in the Wisconsin game, when called on unexpectedly to punt, averaged around 43 yards in what was for him a strange role.

With Guglielmi, McNamara and such others as Michigan State's Leroy Bolden and Notre Dame's Joe Heap in the backfield behind a line heavily studded with Big Ten brilliants, it's small wonder that Anderson can say:

"We're in better shape than last year. Our quarterbacks are a little better. For the first three days we will work out twice a day. After that it's doubtful if we'll go it so heavy. I don't know if we will have outside scrimmages. No predictions. The game may go either way. But we think we can win."

Southfield Five to Test Maples in Tilt at Home

Bluejays Have Set Up High Average in Taking 3 of 5 Games

Birmingham and Southfield meet tonight in the feature game of a skimpy 10-game prep basketball schedule in the Oakland County area.

Only three other county quintets are in action with Holly going to Grand Blanc and Clawson to Center Line, while Hazel Park plays its alumni. All other county teams are idle until after the holidays.

Southfield will match its scoring power against the Birmingham defense in their contest on the Buejays' court. Bob Watts' Southfielders have averaged nearly 60 points per game in winning three out of five.

The 'Jays registered a school record 71 in whipping Waterford last Friday. While forwards Ray Filar and Eric Leighton both stand 6-4, the scoring punch has been found at the guard positions.

Ken Moser tossed in 25 points against Waterford, while Bob Evans has hit 83 points to date for a 16.6 average. Both Moser and Evans are 5-9 juniors.

John Petrakis' Birmingham club opened by beating Birmingham and Troy, limiting the foes to an average of 35 points, but the Maples dropped their first Eastern Michigan League game Friday at Mt. Clemens, 54-48.

The game was lost in the final minute after the score was tied, 48-48. Ed Peters, 6-2 center, did not play in the game, and Bob Goldsmith, a fine back court man, had fouled out.

Offering Petrakis some consolation for the loss was the play of Bob Isbell. The 6-3 sophomore center tallied 19 points.

Birmingham also has a holiday date with Fitzgerald, Dec. 30, and meets Waterford Jan. 4, before embarking on a string of nine straight EML contests.

Brother Hunters Have Big Year; Bag 89 'Coons

The 1954 raccoon season proved a good on for a pair of Pontiac hunters. Brothers Floyd and Clyde Morris, 346 Midway street, bagged some 89 of the nocturnal animals. They kept 67 and released 22, according to Clyde, who has been a 'coon hunter only two years.

All of the animals were taken in Gladwin county, on property owned by Floyd who has hunted for 20 years. All were trailed by one dog, 11-year old Hunter, a proper name for such a capable animal. Hunter, however, is a rarity among coon dogs—he is silent on the trail. Because of that trait he took many coons on the ground, Morris says.

Desperation Shots Beat Tartars' Club

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Bradley university's desperation field goals in the waning moments of its game with Wayne university last night, gave Bradley the edge it needed to come from behind to beat the Detroiters, 72-68.

Bradley held the scoring edge throughout most of the 1st half, but a field goal by Wayne's Ron Porter just as the half ended gave Wayne a 40-39 edge.

Giants' Lefty Johnny Antonelli Captures Both ERA, Winning-Percentage Titles

NEW YORK (AP)—The important part lefthander Johnny Antonelli played in the pennant drive of the New York Giants last season was reflected today in the official release of National League pitching records.

* * *

The 24-year-old Antonelli, who was obtained in a trade with Milwaukee last February, captured both the earned-runs and winning-percentage titles. He is the 12th National Leaguer in history to win the double crown. The last was Hoyt Wilhelm, also of the Giants, in 1952.

Antonelli gave up 66 earned runs in the 259 innings he worked for a sparkling 2.29 earned-run mark. The talented southpaw won 21 games and lost only 7 for a winning percentage of .750.

Antonelli's efficiency in earned runs continued the dominance of National League southpaws in this department. Seven of the last 10 leaders were lefties in a list that includes Howie Pollet (1946), Warren Spahn (1947 and 1953), Harry Brecheen (1948), Dave Koslo (1949) and Chet Nichols (1951).

Figures compiled by the Associated Press and released last October also showed Antonelli as the top man in ERA with 2.29.

Behind the Giants' stalwart in the earned-run listings came Lew Burdette of Milwaukee with 2.76, Curt Simmons of Philadelphia, 2.81, Ruben Gomez of New York, 2.88 and Robin Roberts of the Phillies with 2.96.

* * *

As usual, Roberts, the circuit's perennial workhorse, paced the hurlers in several other categories. He led in games won — 23; games started — 38; complete games — 29; innings pitched — 337; strikeouts — 185, and home runs allowed — 35.

Gomez gave up the most bases on balls, 109. Jim Hughes of Brooklyn appeared in the most games, 60, and John Hetki of Pittsburgh finished the most games, 46.

Antonelli, Roberts and the Braves' Spahn were the only pitchers to win at least 20 games. Spahn produced 21 victories.

Murry Dickson of the Phillies lost the most games, 20.

The champion Giants compiled the best collective earned-run average, 3.09. The Braves' pitchers gave up the fewest home runs, 106 and the Cardinals the most, 170.

No. 1 Cage Ranking at Stake in Tourney

By KYLE VANCE

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 21 (AP)—Leadership in the nation's cage parade will be at stake tonight when top-notchers Kentucky, Utah, LaSalle and Southern Cal start slugging it out in a headliner tournament.

* * *

The main event of the basketball battle royal will send host Kentucky No. 1 in the latest Associated Press poll, against Utah, the No. 2 outfit.

* * *

That game will follow the 7:30 p.m. (CST) opener pitting LaSalle, No. 4, against Southern Cal, No. 13.

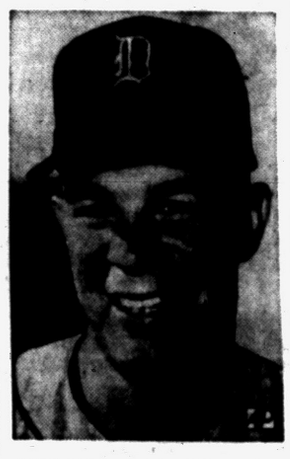

The two-day University of Kentucky Invitational tournament will end Wednesday night with today's losers scrapping for third place and the winners fighting it out for the tourney title and for considerable recognition in the national cage race.

The Kentucky-Utah meeting comes as the nearest thing to a "dream game" that might be conceived of so early in the season.

Kentucky risks a 28-game winning streak, a 125-game home-floor victor string and top place in the AP poll against a Utah club that has emerged as the 1954-55 season's prime surprise aggregation. Utah jumped all the way from 15th place in the weekly poll after its upset 79-69 victory over LaSalle, No. 1 at that time, last Saturday.

HONORED — Detroit Tigers' capable young shortstop, Harvey Kuenn today was named the American League's "sophomore of the year." He won the loop's "rookie of the year" honor two years ago.

Coach Hails North's Hustle

South Picks Garrigus, Burris as Co-Captains for Shrine Tilt

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The North squad will elect co-captains Tuesday for the North-South charity football game in the Orange Bowl Christmas night and Coach Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin announced drills will be cut to one a day.

"They're shaping up fine," the North squad mentor said after Monday's second workout. "I like the way these boys hustle. We haven't a loafter in the bunch."

Late arrivals included Charles Kubes, tackle, and James Soltau, end, both of Minnesota, ad Carl Norman, West Virginia halfback.

The South squad, under Coach Andy Gustafson of Miami and Coach Jim Tatum of Maryland, picked Kurt Burris, Oklahoma center and linebacker, and Carl Garrigus of Miami as co-captains for the Shrine charity game.

"The players certainly made fine choices and I know both will be great leaders on the field Christmas night," Gustafson said.

Kentucky Five Rated Tops by AP Cage Poll

Utah Second, Followed by Illinois as LaSalle Drops to 4th

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kentucky was ranked as the No. 1 basketball team in the nation Tuesday in the weekly Associated Press poll and if the Wildcats can get past this week's action, they'll be hard to displace.

* * *

Adolph Rupp's team boasts a 3-0 record and hasn't been beaten since the last game of the 1951-52 season. The Wildcats didn't field a team the following year and they were undefeated for 1953-54.

* * *

They're running their own tournament this week and they go into action against three pretenders to their lofty perch—Utah, ranked No. 2; LaSalle, which was in first place in the first poll last week and Southern California, possibly the class of the Pacific Coast Conference.

Of the 69 sports writers and sportscasters who voted in the poll 21 of them put the Wildcats in first place. All told, they drew a total of 527 points based on the standard procedure of 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second and so on.

* * *

Utah, another of the rapidly dwindling list of undefeated, cornered 15 firsts and 427 points—just 100 behind Kentucky. Utah sports a 7-0 record. Next was Illinois, one of the favorites in the Big Ten, with 419 points.

* * *

LaSalle, voted in the pre-season poll the potential national champion, tumbled to fourth following its defeat at the hands of Utah at Madison Square Garden last Saturday. North Carolina State, with the longest winning streak among the top colleges — eight games—rounded out the top five.

* * *

Others in the first 10, in order, were Dayton, Missouri, George Wahington, Duquesne and Niagara.

Utah showed the biggest jump, rising from 15th to second. George Washington also made its first appearance in the top 10 while UCLA and Indiana dropped out.

Service Shifts Hurt, Help Chicago Bears

CHICAGO (AP) — Uncle Sam is going to play give and take with the Chicago Bears next month.

Owner-Coach George Halas Monday announced that rookie quarterback Zeke Bratkowski will enter the Air Force next month.

* * *

Halas also said former Notre Dame star Bob Williams, who played with the Bears in 1951 and 1952, will be discharged from the Navy shortly after New Year's Day.

OSU Ace Keeps Scoring Lead

Robin Freeman Posts 44 Points This Week in His Only Game

CHICAGO (AP) — Robin Freeman, Ohio State's classy little guard, whipped in 44 points in the only game he played last week to hold on to his Big Ten scoring lead.

It was the best night of the year for Freeman who has yet to score less than 37 points in a single game and is averaging 40 plus points per game in four games.

Schlundt, with 122, was closely pursued by Joe Sexson of Purdue. Sexson had 113 points.

Dropping into 5th place behind Sexson was Iowa's Bob Logan with 98 points. Last week Logan and Sexson were tied for 4th place.

Jewelers and GMC Extend City 'A' Cage Streaks

Undefeated Shaw's Jewelry and General Motors won their 3rd consecutive victories in their respective City Basketball League classes last night.

Jewelers, paced by center Bob McManus' 22 points, downed Price's 60-44 in Class A. High for the losers was Bob Rush, with 18.

GMC jumped into an 18-9 halftime lead after trailing 10-9 in the 1st quarter and coasted to a 51-38 victory over Davis Machinery. Ron Terry sparked the win with 13 points.

In Class D, the unbeaten Elks routed Meteors 72-18 and Wolverines defeated Hawks, 41-24. Felix Brooks collected 20 points for Elks to outscore the opposition singlehandedly.

Tonight's games — Police vs. Keego Kiwanis (Class D, 6:30); Bad Cats vs. Elks (Class D, 6:30); Slaybaugh's vs. Hawks (Class D, 7:30); Rosa vs. Hornets (Class C), 7:30). All games at Eastern Junior High.

Sensational Willie Mays Named 'Athlete of Year'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Willie Mays, the sensational, young centerfielder who led the New York Giants to a pennant and World Series sweep in his first full year in the major leagues, was selected today as the "Male Athlete of the Year" for 1954 in the Associated Press year-end poll.

* * *

The 23-year-old batting and fielding phenom beat out miracle miler Roger Bannister of England by 35 points for the honor in the AP's 24th annual poll of sports writers and sportcasters.

* * *

The "Say Hey" kid from Fairfield, Ala., winner of the National League's batting championship and chosen as the league's most valuable player, received 38 first-place votes from the panel of 122, and 815 points on a basis of three points for first, two for second and one for a third-place vote.

* * *

Bannister, the tall, slender, 25-year-old intern who first broke the 4-minute mile barrier in May and then roared from behind to edge Australia's John Landy in the Mile of the Century" in August, received 36½ first-place votes and a total of 150 points.

* * *

In third place, far behind the two leaders, came Landy with 7½ first-place votes and 60 points. The Australian followed Bannister's monumental short-lived 3:59.4 world record with a spectacular 3:58 performance in Turku, Finland, June 21.

* * *

But when they ran against each other in the great mile of the British Empire Games at Vancouver, B. C., Bannister came from behind in the last 100 yards to beat the Australian by four yards in 3:58.8. Landy was clocked in 3:59.6 in the first mile in history in which two men cracked the 4-minute barrier.

Fourth in the voting was Carl (Bobo) Olson, the Hawaiian-born middleweight boxing champion who successfully defended his 160-pound crown three times during the year. He was followed in order by heavyweight king Rocky Marciano; fullback Alan Ameche of Wisconsin; Frank Selvy, the basketballer of college and pro basketball fame; Ed Furgol, the surprise winner of the National Open golf title; Dusty Rhodes, the Giants' pinch-hitter de luxe, and Ralph Guglielmi, Notre Dame's All-America quarterback.

Hailed by Manager Leo Durocher as one of the greats of the game, Mays, a lithe, 5-10½ Negro, more than lived up to expectations in a spectacular year. A power hitter, he clouted .345 to lead both major leagues, and led the National with 13 triples and an impressive .667 slugging percentage.

He also walloped 41 homers and 33 doubles and drove in 110 runs. His fielding was just as brilliant. He showed fans all over the nation via television during the World Series why he is rated with such fielding greats of the past as Tris Speaker, Joe DiMaggio and Terry Moore.

In the first game of the series he made his memorable running, back-to-the plate catch of Vic Wertz' 450-foot drive to deepest centerfield to save the game and open the gates for the Giants' fourgame sweep over the Cleveland Indians.

Recreation 5's Rally for Wins

Manny's Ringside and Harry's Recreation staged 4th quarter rallies Monday night to win Waterford Township Recreation basketball league games at Crary Junior High.

Dick DeWitt of Manny's and Merchants' Seth Cummings each had 16 points.

Philgas had a 39-32 advantage going into the last quarter, but Harry's ran up a 17-7 edge to gain a 49-46 triumph. Mike Hanes tossed in 21 points for Harry's.

Aggies, Wichita Knocked From All-College Event

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The 19th annual All-College Basketball Tournament entered the semifinal round today minus its perennial fixture, the Oklahoma Aggies.

* * *

Coach Hank Iba's A&M team fell in the first round Monday night 56-46 to George Washington, the nation's No. 8-ranked quintet. The Aggies have played in all 19 tournaments and this is the first year they lost out in the opening round. They were defending champions and have won 11 tournament titles.

George Washington, which now looms as a favorite to take the crown, meets Tulsa in the second game of tonight's semifinal doubleheader after Oklahoma City University and San Francisco play in the first contest.

San Francisco showed some of the finest class in Monday's opening round in upsetting favored Wichita 94-75. Oklahoma City University overcame Houston's height to win 72-65 and Tulsa outhustled Wyoming 69-64.

This afternoon's consolation found Wichita playing Houston and Wyoming taking on the Aggies.

Rocky May Put Title on Line Next March

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano will defend his title on the Pacific Coast in March, if his injured nose survives February exhibitions.

Al Weill, the champion's manager, says the early 1955 title fight will be hed in Los Angeles, San Francisco or Las Vegas, Nev.

Exhibitions to test Rocky's nose — injured in his second fight with Ezzard Charles — were postponed until February. Sports Editor Jimmy Burns of the Miami Herald reported.

Senior Bowl Eyes Record

More Than 30,000 May Witness College Stars Turn Pro

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — More than 30,000 fans, which would be a record, will attend the sixth annual Senior Bowl game Jan. 8, advance ticket sales indicate.

Rea Schuessler, manager of 36,000 capacity Ladd Memorial Stadium, said Monday ticket sales were far ahead of last year. A record 28,174 saw the North win that game 20-14.

The two squads, with 25 highly regarded players each, begin workouts Jan. 3 under the direction of Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland pro Browns for the North and Stev Owen, former New York Giant coach for the South.

The players will begin their pro careers in the game. Members of the winning squad will receive $500 and expenses each and the losers $400 and expenses.

Selvy Retains Scoring Lead by 14-Point Edge

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie Frank Selvy of the Milwaukee Hawks held on to his scoring lead in the National Basketball Assn. today, but only by a margin of 14 points.

The Boston Celtics' versatile veteran Bob Cousy was in second place with 509 points in 24 games for an average of 21.2. Selvy's 523 points gives him a per game average of 21.8.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

CASE—Form for Short Bowlers.

A slightly crouched stance, ball held a bit below the waistline, approximately in line with the right leg, is suggested for short, stocky bowlers.

Hold the ball in the palm of the left hand. It will handle easily that way for the very necessary push-away movement which puts the swing into the proper groove.

Crouching, and holding the ball low, with a fair amount of push-away, will bring the ball back below the knees. You'll have no trouble with a right hip block, which results when the stance is too erect and the ball is held high and centered, rather than held to the right.

I also suggest using very short steps in 4-step footwork because they lend themselves readily to coordinating the stride with the swing.

Yankees' Bob Grim AL's Rookie of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Grim, a 24-year-old ex-marine who never pitched higher than Class A before he made the grade with the New York Yankees last spring today was named American League "Rookie of the Year" for 1954 by the Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

* * *

Grim outdistanced the opposition in the vote of the 24-man writers' committee. The righthanded pitcher who finished with a 20-6 record received 15 first-place votes. Runner-up Jim Finigan, the fine third baseman who came out of the Yankee chain to star at Philadelphia (now Kansas City) polled eight votes. The other ballot went to Al Kaline, Detroit's fleet outfielder.

In contrast with the balloting for most valuable player, there are no second or third-place votes in the rookie competition. Each committee member, three from each league city, selects only one man.

* * *

Grim was the second Yankee to win the rookie award dating back to 1947. Gil McDougald grabbed the honors in 1951. Last year's winner was Detroit's brilliant shortstop, Harvey Kuenn.

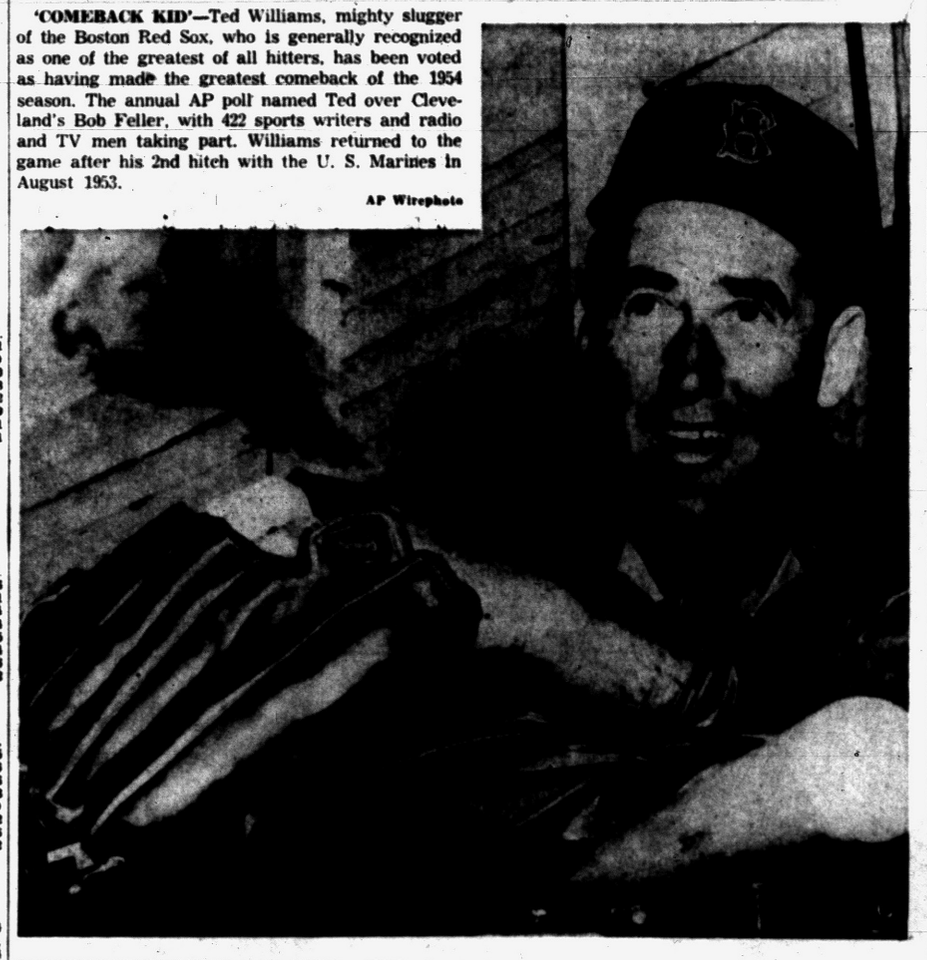

It had been a foregone conclusion since mid-summer that the American League rookie race was between Grim and Finigan although Kaline, despite 30 games in 1953, attracted plenty of attention.

Both Grim and Finigan had played with the same minor league team, Binghamton, N. Y. of the Class A Eastern League, but at different times. Grim went into the Marines after a 16-5 year on the Yank farm in 1951. Finigan, who was traded to the A's last winter in the Harry Byrd deal, played at Binghamton in 953.

Grim became the first Yankee rookie to win 20 games since Russ Ford in 1910 as he compiled a 20-6 record in 37 games. He started 20, completed eight, allowed 175 hits in 199 innings, walked 85 and struck out 108 for an earned-run average of 3.26.

'COMEBACK KID'—Ted Williams, mighty slugger of the Boston Red Sox, who is generally recognized as one of the greatest of all hitters, has been voted as having made the greatest comeback of the 1954 season. The annual AP poll named Ted over Cleveland's Bob Feller, with 422 sports writers and radio and TV men taking part. Williams returned to the game after his 2nd hitch with the U. S. Marines in August 1953.

Wolverine Five Swamps Denver

DETROIT (AP) — The University of Michigan, with five players in the double figure scoring ranks and all-around superiority, set a Denver fieldhouse scoring record last night by beating the Pioneers, 104-77.

It was Michigan's 3rd victory in four starts and Denver's 2nd loss in five.

Michigan encountered little trouble with the exception of sophomore Dick Brott, whose pivot shots netted him 12 baskets and nine free throws for 33 points.

Denver took a 5-0 and 9-4 lead before Michigan began to roll and overtook them 17-17 with 11:12 left in the 1st half. Wolverines then proceeded to run up a 10-point lead and increased the advantage to 47-31 at halftime.

Rifle River Area Produces Good Hunting

LANSING — Hunting success on the Rifle River area in Ogemaw county was better this year than in any of the four years just preceding Michigans' 1st special deer season.

The Rifle River area, accessible by only a few roads, is an ideal small area in northern deer country where state conservation workers can make careful checks of hunting each year.

Checks have been kept on the total number of hunting "trips" made into the area and the total number of deer removed. A comparison of these figures gives the annual hunting success.

These official records show that hunters bagged more deer in less time this year than they did in any of the four years before special any-deer seasons were inaugurated.

Service Track Aces Will Start Training

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Some 30 track and field stars of the Armed Forces are gathering at the University of Maryland here to train for a chance to compete on the other side of the world from Maryland.

The Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force men will point for the Amateur Athletic Union Championships Feb. 19 in New York and the Pan-American Games next March in Mexico, but their big goal is the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne, Australia.

Tigers Appoint Scout

DETROIT (AP)—Harrison P. Wickel, 44, former Chicago Cubs farm director, was named by the Detroit Tigers yesterday to coordinate Southern California area scouting activities.

John McHale, Tiger minor league director, said Wickel will work with Joe Gordon.

Much-Traveled Man

Ed Barbour, freshman coach and chief scout at the University of Detroit since 1934, estimated that in his 20 years he has traveled more than 200,000 miles scouting Titan opponents.

Greek King Urges Patience on Cyprus

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Greek King Paul urged his people last night to be calm and patient over the Cyprus issue. He said the east Mediterranean island, now a British crown colony, was certain to win the right of self-determination eventually.

The monarch's broadcast to the nation was designed to ward off recurrences of the anti-American and anti-British violence in both Greece and Cyprus last week which accompanied the U. N. Assembly's shelving of Greek demands that the Cyprus people be allowed to determine their political future.

Records indicate that the Norsemen first sighted the coast of Greenland in 877 A.D.

Blind Fugitive Turns Himself In

Gropes Across 3 States While Police Hunt Him in Father's Shooting

MORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—An almost blind teen-age boy, who police said made his way through three states to his mother's home here while he was being sought in connection with the slaying of his father in West Virginia, was being held today after surrendering to authorites.

Police Chief Robert Reilly said William Hallman, 18, was turned over to him last night by Atty. Robert Honeyman of Norristown, the boy's lawyer.

Reilly said Hallman had wandered through West Virginia, Pennsylvania and New York before arriving at his mother's house in this eastern Pennsylvania city. Then, police said, he telephoned Honeyman and surrendered.

* * *

Mrs. Hallman's house had been under surveillance since 43-year-old Albert Francis Hallman was shot and killed early Sunday as he lay asleep in his Nitro, W. Va., home. Police said the boy somehow managed to sneak into the Norristown dwelling despite the police watch.

Reilly said Hallman surrendered because "he couldn't get along by himself with his affliction."

Mrs Helen Fekety Scudder, 35, told police in Nitro the youth shot at his father five times, then reloaded and fired at her as she fled the house. Officers quoted Mrs. Scudder, who said she had been living with the elder Hallman for the past eight years, that there had been no argument before the shooting.

The woman was wounded in the hea dan darm but her condition was reported "satisfactory."

Britain, 6 Others Sign Coal-Steel Agreement

LONDON (AP)—Britain and the six Schuman Plan nations signed an agreement today to seek common policies for the production and marketing of their two basic industrial commodities — coal and steel.

The British and the European Coal and Steel Community agreed to set up a "Standing Council of Association" to coordinate coal and steel policy of the island kingdom and the nations of the continental pool — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Police Hunt for Maid in Abandoning of Tot

ATLANTA (AP)—Police searched today for a maid for questioning about a 5-month-old girl found alone and crying in a small storage room at the State Capitol.

The chubby little girl was identified last night as Pamela Denise Coggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Coggins, of nearby Decatur, about five hours after she was found.

Policewoman Ruby Barrett said that when the parents went to work yesterday morning they left the infant in the care of a maid identified as Betty Pearl Brown, about 39. Both the maid and the child were gone when the parents returned.

The National Guard, originally "militia," took its present name to honor Lafayette, French Garde Nationale chief.

Almont Man Is Charged With Leaving Scene of Fatal Accident

Morris I. Wilcox, 45, of 4191 Shoemaker, Almont, charged with leaving the scene of an accident in which an Oakland County Road Commission employe was killed Saturday, demanded examination of the charge when arraigned yesterday.

Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback who arraigned Wilcox, freed the Almont motorist on $2,000 bond.

Wilcox is accused of leaving the scene where William C. Hercliff, 23, of 2800 Walton Blvd., was fatally injured.

Hercliff was struck down by a pickup truck as he stepped from his vehicle to inspect its equipment on Pontiac road.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Jack Fritch said Wilcox was the driver of the truck which struck Hercliff. Wilcox was arrested by Fritch about three-quarters of a mile from where Hercliff was injured, after witnesses described and pointed out the direction in which the truck had fled.

Geishas Back at Work

FUKUOKA, Japan (AP)—Fukuoka got along exactly one week without its geisha girls, who struck until the city fathers reduced taxes on their earnings. The City Assembly also formally asked the girls to call off their strike. The girls, reaching for their three-stringed Japanese lutes, obliged.

Ike Looking Over Latest in Cattle on Jaunt Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower motors today to a cattle-producing station near Front Royal, Va., and there may pick up some tips on how to care for the beef herd he is starting at his Pennsylvania farm.

The President and Secretary of Agriculture Benson will drive to the breeding station operated jointly by the Agriculture Department, the Commonwealth of Virginia and Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

* * *

On the way they planned to stop briefly at the farm home of J. Willard Marriott, proprietor of a chain of Washington restaurants, about 12 miles from Front Royal.

After inspecting the breeding station, the President and Benson will return to Marriott's place for dinner and to spend the evening. They will be joined there by Mrs. Eisenhower; her mother Mrs. John S. Doud, of Denver, Colo.; and Mrs. Gordon Moore, of Washington. Mrs. Moore is the First Lady's sister.

Eisenhower plans to fly to Augusta, Ga., Thursday to spend the holidays.

Hal Boyle Says:

'Common Man' Edges Out Headliners for '54 Honors

NEW YORK (AP)—A stranger in a worn topcoat came up to me as I sat at my typewriter with a preoccupied air.

"Excuse me," he said, and as I looked up with a start, he added, grinning:

"Did I wake you?"

"Certainly not," I said indignantly. "I wasn't sleeping. I was thinking.'

"What about?'

"Well," I replied, half-annoyed. "I was about to pick my man of the year candidate. It is one of the chores of columning. Every columnist who wants to get ahead in the world has to do four things during the year—praise motherhood, alert the public to the menace of poison ivy, discover a new sure cure for hay fever, and pick the man of the year.'

* * *

"Who you going to pick?" he asked.

"I'm in a quandary," I said. "I'm torn between Pope Pius, President Eisenhower, Winston Churchill, Pierre Mendes-France, and Carl Sandburg."

"I knew it!" exclaimed the stranger, taking off his battered hat and throwing it on the floor. "You're just like all the others!"

"What do you mean—I'm like all the others?"

"You're like all the other typewriter jockeys when they get around to picking the man of the year. You always play it safe and give the nod to somebody with a headline name."

* * *

"Is there anything wrong with the men I mentioned?"

"Not a thing," he admitted. "They're all fine men. But they're already famous. They don't need any more honors. Why not be different? Why don't you pick a dark horse for man of the year?"

"Well," I said, thinking that was a mixed metaphor if I'd ever heard one. "Who you got in mind, mister?"

"Me!" he said defiantly. "And don't laugh."

"I'm not laughing," I told him, looking around for help. "But would you mind telling me why I should name you man of the year?"

* * *

"Don't think I'm not important," he said. "I'm 45 years old, I got two kids in school, I got a wife. I also got a 3-year-old car that's paid for, and a house that isn't, but it will be. I got a television set, a refrigerator, a radio, a washing machine, and $7,500 worth of insurance."

"Well, bully for you."

"Maybe that don't impress you," he said. "But I keep all those things together on $72.50 a week, and I give money to the church and the Red Cross and the Community Chest."

"Well, bully bully for you, but—'

"But nothing!" he stormed. "I see you still don't know me. Listen, you pavement pundit, if it weren't for me every store in America would close its doors, every wheel in every factory would stop turning—and there wouldn't be any elections, nor no baseball games either, I can tell you. Now do you know who I am?"

* * *

"You're face is familiar, but I'm sorry I don't quite recall your name."

"You don't?" he said, exasperated. "Well, you should. You and the other ivory domes gave it to me. I'm the guy you're always patting on the back in print and calling the common man, the average American, and—oh, yes—the little fellow. Well, once in my life I want to be the big fellow."

"By golly, you are!" I told him, putting another sheet in the typewriter. "Everything you say is true, and if it makes you any happier—you're tops on my list, the real man of the year."

* * *

He shook hands, started to leave, then turned back uncertainly.

"Anything wrong?" I asked.

"No," he said. "I was just thinking about the little lady. "Anything good I done was all on account of her, and I wouldn't feel right getting this honor if—"

"How about us making her the woman of the year?" I said.

"Now you're really talking—gee, will she be surprised." He left smiling, but as he reached the door he turned and said, "you wouldn't kid me, would you? I really won't believe it until I see it in the newspaper."

Well, here it is in the newspaper: To Mr. and Mrs. Average American, man and woman of the year 1954—and twin bulwarks of a free world in the terrible and wonderful 20th century.

A former member of Hawaiian royalty, Prince Jonah Kuhio Kalanianole, represented the Territory of Hawaii in Congress from 1902 to 1922. He was a Republican.

Wild Customer Subdued With Lion-Taming Act

BALTIMORE (AP) — Wielding a chair lion-tamer style, James Cole yesterday tamed a knife-brandishing, impatient customer out the door of his shoeshine parlor, down the street and all the way to a police station.

Police said they were told the trouble started when Charles Carter, 44, waiting for a shoeshine in Cole's establishment, complained about the slow service. To emphasize his dissatisfaction, he whipped out a large hunting knife and waved it around.

* * *

Cole grabbed a chair and then went to work, feinting and weaving toward Carter. South on McDonough Street they went, east on Ashland—and up the steps and through the door of the Northeastern Police Station.

Carter was charged with assault and carrying a deadly weapon and sentenced to 60 days in jail.

YELLOW MOUNTAIN STARS — Lex Barker, as the hero of "Yellow Mountain" played opposite lovely Mala Powers, while on the sides sat Mrs. Barker (Lana Turner) watching him portray the heroic lover. The Universal-International Western, in Technicolor, also stars Howard Duff.

Won't Tolerate Raiding of Files

Rep. Walter Will Ban the Practice of Pilfering Secret Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Walter (D-Pa) said today he will not tolerate any "surreptitious methods, or the outright pilfering of files from security agencies" when he becomes chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Walter, slated to head the committee when Democrats organize Congress next month, made plain in an interview that he had in mind the case of a secret FBI document which found its way into committee files, and perhaps other instances.

* * *

Committee sources last week said an Air Force intelligence agent, Rea Van Fosson, had delivered a copy of an FBI security file to committee staff investigators. They said the Air Force forced him to resign his captain's commission Nov. 23 and the committee hired him the next day as an $8,200-a-year investigator. There has been no comment from Van Fosson.

Walter said he knew nothing of the incident until he read about it in the newspapers. In planning administrative changes for the committee next year, he said, certain principles will be laid down and the staff "will be closely held" to them. He said in a statement:

* * *

"It is ironic for an investigatory committee, seeking to uphold the law, to avail itself of illegal methods, and indeed by occasionally rewarding those who have betrayed confidence reposed in them by security agencies. Such acts cannot be condoned, much less rewarded."

First ironworks in the U.S. was established at Saugus, Mass., about 300 years ago.

Tailwaggers to Buy Dogs for Christmas

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If all the kids in Los Angeles hear about the latest offer of the Tailwaggers Foundation, there won't be a dog Christmas Day in any of the various animal shelters.

Jim Lindsay, secretary of the foundation, said the organization has put up enough money to make its fifth annual "bail 'em out party" a huge success. It will cost the Tailwaggers an average of $5 in fees for every dog bailed out.

Lauren Bacall Rushed With Offers for Films

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's time for a checkup on the Bacall renaissance.

This Bacall is Lauren, and until recently she has been known chiefly as the retiring wife of an actor named Humphrey Bogart. Not that she is retiring by nature. She has a ready wit that can keep a steady pace with her vigorous husband.

Miss Bacall's retirement has been a self-imposed one. Between "Bright Leaf," her last film under contract to Warners, and "How to Marry a Millionaire," she was off the screen for three years. That might be enough to kill the career of most film stars.

But she bounced back to prominence in "Millionaire," in which some reviewers said she stole the film from another couple of blondes named Grable and Monroe. La Bacall again languished at home for several months, then returned in "A Woman's World." That did it.

Now she has all the offers she can handle. Good ones too. For the first time in years, she is going from one picture right into another. She is now doing "The Cobweb" with Richard Widmark, Charles Boyer, Gloria Grahame, Lillian Gish, etc. Then she hustles to "Blood Alley" with Robert Mitchum.

"Oh, it's grand to be pursued again," she said in her kidding manner. "Lord knows it has been long enough since that has happened. That three-year stretch was the longest period I was away. But I wasn't exactly idle. I went to Africa while Bogie was making 'African Queen' and I also mothered a little one.

"I always had offers. But they were either for crummy pictures I didn't want to do, or else they wanted me to play heavies. I don't think I'm the heavy type. Really I don't." She stroked her blonde hair in the mock gesture of a film siren.

I asked her what she thought has caused the rebirth of her career.

"It's hard to say," she said. "Certainly timing has a lot to do with anyone's success. And the element of getting older and maturing is a factor. (She's now 30.) There's no doubt that I'm a better actress than I used to be, which is not saying much.

"It's not because I kept busy acting, because I didn't. But I think radio had a lot to do with it. Bogie and I did a series and I learned a great deal."

Sen. Kennedy Leaves Hospital After Surgery

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass), who entered the hospital 10 weeks ago for a spinal operation, leaves today for a two-months rest at his father's Palm Beach home.

The 37-year-old senator will be carried on a stretcher from the Hospital for Special Surgery to a private plane at LaGuardia Airport, an associate said yesterday. He said no estimate has been made on when Kennedy might be able to walk again.

Nevada has the least rainfall of any state, averaging 8.81 inches per year.

'Suspect'---Chapter 14

—by Hugh Lawrence Nelson

CHAPTER 14

THE STORY: Jim Dunn, private detective, who with his wife Nancy is posing as a caretaker while doing some work for his client, Mrs. Kit Carlson, has just discovered the body of Mrs. Angelica Jones, sister-in-law of his client, in the basement of the mountain lodge occupied by Mrs. Kit. The discovery is immediately complicated by the presence of the car Miss Wister, Jim's secretary, outside the lodge. Jim thought Miss Wister was in Denver. Miss Wister is not around but when the sheriff arrives, she is riding with the sheriff. And the sheriff is a woman, Mrs. Toby Argyle.

Miss Wister told her story in a monotone which gave no emphasis to any particular part and no credence to the whole.

"Angelica talked to me on the phone yesterday at the office in Denver. She was calling long distance. She wanted to see me, said she had something of interest to tell. I couldn't get away before and I met her at Creek Junction last night. We drove part way here. I guess I got confused because I turned off the main road here. It was dark as pitch. I got out of the car and walked on ahead to see what was going to come along next, to see where the road went. Angelica turned my car around, drove off and left me. For a while I thought she would be coming back, so I just waited. I stumbled around in the dark awhile then and decided I'd better just stay put until daylight. I did. When it got light I started walking, and I'd managed to reach the main road when Mrs. Argyle came along in her truck. She brought me here."

Jim Dunn looked at Sheriff Agnes with both expectation and fear. Expectation of a blast which would jolt Miss Wister from her present state of mind, and fear that his secretary would probably be arrested immediately.

Instead, the sheriff asked mildly, "What time did you meet Angelica?"

"About three this morning," Miss Wister said. "I couldn't make it any sooner."

"What did she want to see you about?'

"She didn't get around to telling me."

Jim Dunn found that his mouth was open. He closed it, swallowed several times to moisten the lining of his throat. He realized that neither Miss Wister nor the sheriff was paying much attention to what she was saying. Both seemed to have their minds, the concentration of their thoughts, on something else. Both were going through the motions of a more or less proper attention to the requirements of such a situation. That was for his benefit.

He must have made some sort of noise with his swallowing because Sheriff Agnes turned toward him, gave him a hard official glare, and used an equally harsh tone in the question, "You know this woman well?"

"She works for me," Jim managed. He showed the sheriff his credentials. She did not give any evidence of surprise, or, for that matter, of any particular interest.

She said, "All right. And—the body?"

The very slight hesitation before the use of the last word gave Jim what he thought to be his clue. So that was the reason for the sheriff's preoccupation. She was putting off as long as possible an examination which must be made in accordance with her official position. Dreading it so much, she had missed the many careless holes in Miss Wister's story.

"In the basement," Jim said. "On the wood elevator." He handed over the key to the basement door.

The basement door had been closed behind the sheriff for a full three minutes before Jim broke the silence.

"Well, Miss Wister?"

She almost smiled, but then her face took on a stubborn expression. There was nothing he could do but let nature take its course, which in this case meant listening to whatever it was Miss Wister had decided to tell him.

"You may not know it," Miss Wister said, "but I'm a relation of the Carlsons. Call it cousin, which is close enough. I suppose you noticed I recognized Kit when she came into the office, and I'm sure she knew me, or of me through Angelica. Anyway when you told me to look up anything I could on Mrs. Hilton, I had a head start. I've always kept track of the Carlson doings, just as a matter of habit."

"Just a minute," Jim interrupted. "Did she actually phone you?"

Miss Wister did not appreciate the interruption. "She phoned me. She—often did. I'd just as soon not have it known by anyone else, but sometimes I received mail for Angelica."

"Who from?" Jim demanded.

She set her lips in a mulish line. "I wouldn't care to make a guess. Anyway she'd call me up and ask, 'Anything?'. That was all, because we couldn't tell how much the local operators toady to Mrs. Oswald. But this time when she called she wanted help in getting something from The Spires. Poor thing! I've always liked Angelica. At least, I've liked her the best of any of the Carlsons. But still, she is a Carlson! At any rate I had to come up to make a report to you, so I arranged to meet Angelica at Creek Junction."

"How about this report?" Jim asked.

"I'm going to wait awhile," Miss Wister said.

Market Prices Now Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—Irregular price movements marked the stock market in the early afternoon today following four days of strength.

Changes in either direction went to around 2 points, but the emphasis was on the lower side of the list.

Trading was heavy, and the tape fell behind around 3 minutes shortly after the opening in reporting floor transactions. Yesterday's total was 3,770,000 shares.

The market started higher but soon began to deteriorate. The steels headed lower, and rails and utilities were down on balance. The chemicals held doggedly to small gains. The rest of the list was mixed.

Douglas Aircraft, which has gained 23¾ in the past week, turned soft today and quickly lost between 2 and 3 points. It opened the day on 1,000 shares up 1½ at 124.

A block of 11,000 shares of Curtiss-Wright traded unchanged at 14¾. The company announced development of a new turboprop engine.

Disaster Routes Are Discussed

Civil Defense Officials in Three Counties Study Plans at Detroit Meet

A tentative mapping of disaster escape routes from the Detroit area was presented to about 30 civil defense officials from Macomb, Wayne and Oakland Counties yesterday at a meeting in the National Guard Armory on Eight Mile Road.

A nine-person committee, three from each county, will be appointed to review the setup and suggest changes prior to another meeting in January at which time the map may be approved, according to Acting Oakland County Civil Defense Director Ramsford Bromley.

Certain roads will be marked for civilian evacuation, said Bromley, and others for use by police, fire equipment, the Army, medical services and other key groups needing to move both in and out of Detroit in case of enemy attack.

After the map is approved, the roads involved will probably have signs erected naming them as civil defense routes, he stated. The practice is already in use by numerous areas in the east, Bromley added.

"Hundreds of persons would have to be recruited and trained to direct traffic," he said.

Development of an evacuation plan represents an almost complete change from the policy of a year ago, the civil defense worker explained.

"Then the idea was to get persons into an air raid shelter and keep them there until the all-clear warning.

"Now the Air Force is expected to give a two to six hour warning allowing evacuation and distribution of refugees in outlying areas."

Sailors Nabbed in Holdup Wave

Pair Said Responsible for Hitchhiking Crimes in Three States

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation said today two U.S. sailors have admitted staging a series of kidnapings and holdups while posing as hitchhikers on highways in Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey.

The FBI said one of the men was arrested last night at the Philadelphia Naval Base and the other at Boston. The two were identified by the FBI as Milford W. Eutsey, 20, of Chester, Pa., and Connelsville, Pa., and Roger Lee Henriksen was picked up in Boston.

Norman H. McCabe, special agent in charge of the Philadelphia FBI ofice, said Eutsey was arrested at the base and Henrik-

A Navy statement said the two sailors, both holding the rank of seaman, were stationed on the USS Catoctin, now anchored here.

Rear Adm. E. H. von Heimburg, commandant of the 4th Naval District, said "it is believed both men will be released by the Navy Department to appear for trial in a civilian court."

The Navy said that both men had made "full confessions" which "has ended the mystery of the 'phantom sailors' who have recently committed 10 highway robberies and kidnapings in three different states."

Meet for First Time

Detective Locates Sister of Wife for Christmas

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Detective Carl Parker has solved his most important case — one that gave his wife the "nicest Christmas present anybody ever had."

He has brought Mrs. Doris Jean Parker together with a sister she never had seen, and word of a family she never knew.

The 21-year-old woman and her sister Miss Nancy Carol Peek, 19, met for the first time last week at the Parker home here.

* * *

Doris Jean lived with Mrs. Stahl in Bowling Green, Ky., until she was 12, but when Mrs. Stahl and her husband separated, the girl was placed in another orphanage.

The years passed, with Doris Jean moving on to a third orphanage, where she remained until she married at 16. When that marriage ended in divorce, Doris Jean came here.

Last year she met Parker and married him.

On his wife's 21st birthday, the detective tackled the problem, using his experience as a policeman assigned to the crime prevention bureau, which locates missing persons.

Parker learned his wife had been placed in the first orphanage under the wrong last name. Then, through the State Board of Health, he found a record of her birth in Marion, Ky., and the name of the attending physician.

Last Thursday, the detective located Nancy in Marion. He telephoned her and arranged for her to come to Louisville the next day. Then he told his wife.

"I didn't believe it till she came," said Mrs. Parker. "Even when Carl walked in with her I didn't know what to think."

Nancy's story was much the same as her sister's.

She lived with her mother Mrs. Una Peek several years and then with her sister Mrs. Gladys Sisco in Marion, and finally with another couple.

Nancy says there are three brothers in the family but she hasn't seen them in years. One lives with their mother in St. Louis; another is in Liberty, Ky.; and the third is a soldier at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

As for Doris Jean and Nancy, they plan to spend the holidays together getting acquainted.

"I've got a lot of catching up to do," said Doris Jean.

After that?

"Well, if we've found one, we should be able to find them all," said Parker.

Avery Loses Fight With Lumber Firm

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Sewell Avery, who is fighting the financial battle of his life for control of Montgomery Ward Co., appeared today to have lost his fight with fellow directors of the Cadillac-Soo Lumber Co.

Federal Judge W. Wallace Kent signed a consent decree yesterday ending Avery's suit against the company's board in which he asked that a dividend declared by the board last summer be declared illegal.

The decree also dissolved a temporary injunction Avery obtained last week to prevent the board from paying any future dividends.

Avery, who was ousted as president of the lumber firm at a board meeting last July 14, filed suit immediately after the meeting to have a $15 dividend declared illegal and to require six directors who voted for it to refund it to the company.

Seek 2 Hunters in Dog Shooting

Authorities and Owner Offer Reward in Injury of Weimaraner

Two rabbit hunters who are believed to have shot an expensive Weimaraner dog in Pontiac Township Saturday are being sought by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies and the Oakland County Animal Welfare Society.

The animal, a two-year-old owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Nevin, of 3440 Featherstone Rd., was reported shot in the face.

The dog, named Henry, has lost the sight of one eye and may lose the sight of the other, according to the veterinary surgeon who operated on him.

Some of the birdshot was dug out of the dog's body as well as his face, the veterinarian said, indicating that he was shot while going away from the gun.

Mrs. Nevin said she spoke to one of the hunters soon after hearing a dog's screams from the back of her property.

The hunter, described only as a big man, told her he had not seen her dog, then hurried off to join his companion, who, she said, fled when she approached.

Soon after she found the 75-pound Weimarner staggering about, his face bloody. She said she thought the hunters had turned their pack of four or five Beagle hounds loose on her dog. But the veterinarian's report said he had been shot.

The county welfare society is offering $50 reward and Mrs. Nevin is offering an additional $100.

Howard Shelley, manager of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, said he believed that organization would also offer a reward.

"You cannot comprehend that any decent, law-abiding sportsman would do such a thing," Shelley said.

Deputy Jack Davis said the hunters would probably face a cruelty to animals charge.

Man Asks Hearing in Hit-Run Accident

One of two Ferndale men held in connection with the hit-run injury of a bicyclist Friday night in Waterford Township, demanded examination on the charge when he was arraigned before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy yesterday.

William W. Jolley, 36, of 2613 McDowell, the accused, was freed after the hearing on $500 bond. His examination was scheduled for Dec. 30.

Vinson C. Payton, 33, also of the McDowell address, was released after making a statement at the Oakland County Prosecutor's office, according to Township Police Chief Frank J. Van Atta.

Jolley is accused of driving the hit-run car which struck down Willard W. Williams, 38, of 311 Marian, Waterford Township, while Williams was riding a bicycle on Elizabeth Lake road near Cass Lake road. Williams was treated for scalp cuts.

Giftagraph Outsmarts Wilson at Christmas

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—A fellow connected with "Giftagraph," the gimmick that sells you Christmas gifts out of a machine, took me over to Grand Central.

"Would you like to send something to a friend?" he said.

"I sure would!" I said, as I haven't done any Christmas shopping yet. The fellow put a dime in the machine.

Out came the dime, some cards, and an envelope. On the card I was to write the number of the gift I wanted sent, the address, etc.

★ ★ ★ ★

"What'll you send your friend? I'll pay for it," this fellow said.

"A book!" I said, looking over the selections of cocktail glasses, toys, etc. "I'll send him 'The View From Pompey's Head,' by Hamilton Basso. My friend hasn't read that."

"O. K.!" the fellow said, pencil poised. "What's your friend's name?"

"Earl Wilson," I said. "He's a swell guy, Earl is."

★ ★ ★ ★

The fellow was disappointed in me. "I thought you'd send your wife something!" he said, stuffing the money into the envelope, which he then put into the machine.

I rushed home to tell the B. W. how I'd outsmarted her again.

"You sure did," she said. "Somebody sent you a copy of that book three weeks ago. I can't wait till you try to tell that machine you want to exchange your present."

Well, anyway, Merry Christmas!

Grace Kelly became a full-fledged star with the opening of "Country Girl"—and afterward danced at the Harwyn with constant escort Oleg Cassini. Her wealthy Philadelphia parents, the John B. Kellys, and pretty sister Lizanne and fiancee Don Levine, were in the party. Of her future, Miss Kelly says, "I have no plans to be married and I'm not engaged, either."

El Morocco never has a floor show—the patrons are too chic—but Jackie Gleason, celebrating his rise to No. 1 in the TV ratings, gave it one Wed. night. He introduced Johnnie Ray who went to the dance floor and sang for a half hour. Everybody was happy, especially bossman John Perona, who didn't have to pay the expensive talent—in fact, the talent insisted on paying a goodly check.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Red Buttons' managers deny he asked to be freed of his TV contract; he merely wanted some rest . . . Now it's Denise Darcel and Dick Cowell . . . Mayor Wagner'll spend a couple weeks at the Miami Fontainebleau which had its luxurious eponing last weekend.

Ex-boxing champ Kid Gavilan and his manager, Angel Lopez, ain't talking . . . Jimmy Stewart's take for a single GE Theater TV shot will be 50 G's . . . Pat White (of Jan Murray's "Dollar A Second") bought two minks to raise—but they turned out to be brothers.

★ ★ ★ ★

Gregg Sherwood says she'll wear the country's only full length white mink coat to the Cotillion Ball . . . Van Johnson may get the male lead in the Lillian Roth film, "I'll Cry Tomorrow."

Earl's Pearls . . .

Bobby Nicholson wonders if his wife's hinting at something: "This Christmas, instead of putting up a stocking, she's leaving a coat hanger."

THE MARILYN SHEPPARD CASE is Cleveland's best-publicized murder since the Giants left town. That's earl, brother.

'Kukla' Will Do Full Hour Show

March Plays 'Scrooge'; Church Services Mark Christmas on TV

NEW YORK (UP) — Television stays pretty close to the script when it comes to Christmas, but it does make an off-beat gesture occasionally, and one of them seems worthy of comment.

For example, who but the TV people would dream of casting so blood-stained a tragedienne as Judith Anderson, famed for her fiery medea and scheming Lady MacBeth, as a reader of fairy tales for the Christmas moppet audience?

That is going to happen at 5 p. m. Christmas Day during the sixth annual "Christmas Hour of Story and Song" program.

The star, who was last seen on TV handing daggers to Macbeth (Maurice Evans) and urging him to hack the king, is going to read Hans Christian Andersen's "The Little Match Girl" and have a fine time doing it.

"I've been typed so long in the theater as a 'heavy' dramatic actress," she said, "that I look forward with delight to this new 'role.' Actually, I have had 'amateur' experience in this line, reading stories to my children.

"And I am rehearsing very earnestly for this. Some might think an experienced actor could just show up at air time, pick up the text and read it without difficulty. But a fairy tale to be told well, needs just as much work as any sort of script; possibly more in my case because it isn't the type of thing I do regularly."

Jackie Gleason's regular program falls on Christmas Day, and the comedian is going to play his Poor Soul role that evening—a poor soul whose life is made momentarily merrier by a trip through Christmas-land.

ABC is going to give "Kukla, Fran and Ollie" a full hour instead of the usual 15 minutes on Christmas Day beginning at 6 p. m. because of a special TV adaptation by Burr Tillstrom of "Many Moons," a fairy tale by James Thurber.

This will be the most ambitious effort ever made by Tillstrom with his hand puppets. There will be nine characters, most of them especially created for the show, and an original music score. Tillstrom will do all of the voices and work all of the puppets.

Kukla will appear in the cast as a court jester, Fran Allison will introduce the play and speak the epilogue and Ollie will stick his snout into the affair as stage manager.

Imogene Coca's program Christmas night will present the comedienne in an original Christmas fairy tale that will find her playing a peasant girl who winds up as a beautiful lady in a king's court.

Stephen Vincent Benet's blank verse Christmas play, "A Child Is Born," will be done on "Kraft Theater" Thursday night.

The television week will not be without its version of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol." This will be done in color beginning at 8:30 p. m. Thursday as the contribution of the monthly "Shower of Stars" program.

Maxwell Anderson, noted playwright, has adapted the work to a musical score by Bernard Herrmann, and the cast will include such stars as Frederic March in the role of Scrooge, Basil Rathbone as Marley's ghost, and Ray Middleton in two roles, those of Scrooge's nephew and the Spirit of Christmas Present.

On Christmas Eve TV will broadcast services from Washington National Cathedral in the nation's capital, beginning at 11:30 p. m. The next day will bring a Christmas morning service from the chapel in Boys' Town, Neb., beginning at 12:30 p. m.

TV will put the Christmas Eve service in St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York City, on the air at midnight Friday.

McCauliffe Will Head U.S. Europe Forces

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, the combat leader who 10 years ago said "nuts" to a German surrender demand at the Battle of the Bulge, is going to become commander of U.S. Army forces in Europe.

The Army announced yesterday that McAuliffe will succeed Gen. William M. Hoge, who will retire next month.

McAuliffe, 56, commanded the 101st Airborne Division late in 1944. He will be succeeded in his present post as head of the 7th Army in Europe by Lt. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, present commander of the 7th Corps.

Horn Alarm Costly

DETROIT (AP) — Traffic Court referee Oscar Riopelle Jr. fined Elmore Pike, 32, of Detroit, $25 Monday because he used his auto horn as an alarm clock. Patrolman Raymond Fortin testified Pike tooted his horn eight times to arouse a share-the-ride-to-work friend who overslept.

Drunk Driver Fined

John D. Helton, 22, of 179 Raeburn St., was fined $100 and $25 costs yesterday after he pleaded guilty to drunk driving before Sylvan Lake Justice Joseph J. Leavy.

Santa Claus Bushes Not in Short Supply

LANSING (UP)—The Christmas tree, a symbol of peace and goodwill, was perched atop a pile of squabbles today in Michigan.

Somebody is telling fibs.

"There is absolutely no truth to reports there is a shortage of trees in Michigan," said C. A. Boyer, chief of the Agriculture Department's bureau of plant industry.

"Merchants who claim a shortage probably are just trying to keep the price up," he said.

The supply is normal and the trees are of a "much better" grade this year, Boyer noted.

Report Suspect in Plot Took Own Life in Egypt

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's public prosecutor announced today that Max Bennett, one of 13 persons on trial for participation in an alleged Zionist conspiracy in Egypt, had committed suicide.

The prosecutor said that Bennett, an employe of the Anglo-Egyptian Motors Co., slashed his wrists early today.
