Trial in Recess Today; Reuther to Be Witness for Union Next Week

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers' corrupt practices trial was in recess today. It resumes Tuesday before a jury in U. S. District Court.

UAW President Walter Reuther is expected to be a star witness for the union next week.

Judge Frank A. Picard ordered the weekend recess yesterday after testimony from two union officials that the union's 1954 political campaign television shows were not meant to support anyone's candidacy for office.

Frank Winn, UAW public relations director, and Brendan Sexton, UAW education director, gave the testimony. Both said any advantage or disadvantage to political candidates was coincidental.

The government charges that the union-financed TV broadcasts violated the Corrupt Practices Act's restrictions against political expenditures by banks, corporations and labor organizations.

The government says Democratic office seekers were supported by the programs.

The union contends it carried on the programs as a service to its membership and that any additional audience was the benefactor of a public service.

Judge Picard dismissed the indictment against the union in 1955 but the U.S. Supreme Court, acting on the government's appeal, sent it back to him for a trial to determine the facts.

Judge Picard threw out the indictment on grounds the act was unspecific relative to exact expenditures and that he had precedent from other court rulings.

Procession Formally Opens Bridge

AFTER FIRST CROSSING — Autos and buses line up on the new Mackinac Bridge Friday after crossing the $100,000,000 span in a procession behind Gov. G. Mennen Williams. This helicopter view shows the Governor's car at the St. Ignace toll plaza where he was the bridge's first toll-paying patron.

Ferry Makes Final Voyage Across Waters

Much Work Remains to Be Done Before Span Finally Finished

ST. IGNACE (AP) — The bustle of opening day over, Mackinac Straits Bridge officials turned today to the immediate task of tidying up the odds and ends.

A lot of steel "I's" have to be dotted and concrete "T's" crossed before the 100 million dollar structure is finally finished, despite its opening for traffic yesterday. Officials estimate it'll take until mid-1958 to wrap up all the loose ends.

Even heavy fog couldn't dampen the holiday spirit of the crowd that showed up to make the historic first crossing of the four-lane, five-mile bridge joining Michigan's two peninsulas.

Colorful pennants added to the carnival mood of the crowd. Ear-piercing blasts of boat whistles and sirens punctuated the steady honking of caravans of cars crossing high above the span of water that links Lakes Michigan and Huron.

Mackinac Bridge Authority officials said 3,005 vehicles passed over the bridge during its first 10 hours of operation Friday.

END OF REIGN

The conquest of the steel and concrete bridge marked, however, the end of the reign of the Mackinac Straits ferry fleet — symbolized dramatically by the last voyage of The Vacationland as she steamed out of sight into a fog bank.

The five auto-carrying ferries were displaced when the bridge opened and The Vacationland — largest and newest of the fleet — was picked for a final sailing.

Carrying Gov. G. Mennen Williams, his wife, Nancy, and a host of dignitaries, she began her final run from St. Ignace. Capt. Aaron Sweeney, her skipper, had planned to have his ship bow out with a sailing under the bridge's suspension span, longest in the world.

But the fog provided a backdrop more dramatic than what Sweeney had planned. As the great ship got under way, a fog bank rolled

Are U.S. Children Starting on Right Idea in Reading?

(Are America's children getting the right start in school? Some 30 million are enrolled in U.S. grade schools, and these are the children who will inherit the space age future. What and how children are being taught is, described in the series of six articles that starts today, the result of a nationwide survey by INS.)

By JOHN BARROW
INS Staff Writer

Johnny, seasoned by several weeks of school, opened his first grade workbook, pointed to a phrase beneath a drawing of a chicken and recited: "I am mother hen. Paint me red." Next was a picture of a doll and he said, "I am a girl. Paint my . . ."

"Johnny," his mother prompted, "I am a D-O-L-L." The boy swallowed. His mother looked at the drawing. It represented a girl as well as a doll. Johnny was following the picture, paying scant attention to the words.

Recalling her own schooling of a quarter-century ago, the mother wondered: Why don't they sound out the letters to learn words?

This question threw parents and teachers into an uproar a few years ago when a book appeared charging that Johnny was not being taught to read. It set off a debate:

Should teachers use phonics—breaking a word into the phonetic sounds of its letters and calling them aloud to identify the word? Or substitute "word recog-

Giant Railroads Study Merger

NYC and Pennsylvania Firms Probe 'Wisdom of Consolidation'

NEW YORK (INS) — The two top revenue producers among the nation's railroads—the New York Central and the Pennsylvania—have announced plans that may pave the way for a merger.

Officials of the transportation giants said a study is under way to consider "the wisdom of consolidating" the properties into a single operation. The merged firm would have assets of more than $5.5 billion and would be the eleventh largest corporation in the U. S.

The new company would be the country's largest in track mileage. It would operate some 20,000 miles of track, eclipsing the 13,000 miles of road owned by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe.

A statement issued jointly by PRR President James M. Symes and Central President Alfred E. Perlman said preliminary discussions indicated that a merger would result in "substantial benefits to all concerned."

The statement said in part:

"Economical and competitive conditions confronting railroads, particularly in the East, have so changed that a thorough inquiry should be made into the wisdom of consolidating, as against continuing competitive operations."

The financial plight of both carriers has been worsening in recent months. Pennsy earnings for the first nine months of this year were $19.5 million, a sharp drop from the $31 million in the same period last year. The Central's earnings skidded to $8.7 million for the January-September period of this year from $28 million for the first three-quarters of 1956.

Symes and Perlman, commenting on the carriers economic woes, said rate increases granted by regulatory agencies have been "long-delayed and inadequate."

The Pennsylvania has 9,663 miles of track running from New York City south and west through Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago and St. Louis.

Ike Attending Class Reunion at West Point

The cadets are favored to win, and old grad Eisenhower is going to the game at Michie Stadium with a perfect record of helping pull Army teams to victory this year. He has watched three West Point squads win in the last week.

In advance of today's game, the President and about 30 other members of the 1915 graduation class arranged to present a $14,000 gift to the academy. It's a granite memorial monument with a drinking fountain, located on the parade grounds.

After that ceremony, the President reviews the corps of cadets on the parade grounds and then goes to nearby Cullum Hall for lunch with Mrs. Eisenhower, his classmates and their wives.

The President and the First Lady arrived by plane from Washington in a chill rain yesterday afternoon. This is the chief executive's first visit to his alma mater since June 1955, when he returned for the 40th reunion of his class and to deliver that year's commencement address.

A few minutes after arriving at his third floor suite at the academy's Thayer Hotel, the President went to a nearby field for the last six minutes of a football game between Army's team of 150-pound players and the University of Pennsylvania lightweight squad. Army already was ahead 46 to 6, and it won by that margin.

Breakfast Session Monday Starts United Fund Drive

With a pressing urgency to meet the growing welfare and social service needs of the Pontiac area's mushrooming population, volunteers for the Pontiac Area United Fund will kick off the 1958 campaign at a breakfast Monday.

More than 400 UF workers are expected at the event to be held at 8 a. m. in the Elks Temple. The Pontiac Manufacturers' Assn. will pay for the breakfast.

SAYURI PECK

This 8-year-old Japanese-American girl, Sayuri Peck, has been named Miss Torch and Feather for 1957 by officials of the Pontiac Area United Fund. She will be a guest at Monday's breakfast.

Every family in Pontiac, Waterford, Brandon, Independence, Orion and Oxford townships has a stake in this year's drive.

More than 4,500 volunteer workers will call on their friends and neighbors in a united effort to surpass this year's $612,000 campaign goal.

Little eight-year-old Sayuri Peck, Miss Torch of 1958, will be guest of honor. She was elected by United Fund officials in the belief that she truly typifies and symbolized the services offered by the 55 Pontiac Area United Fund supported agencies.

Sayuri will also light the PAUF Torch at 8 p.m., Monday at the annual ceremony. The public is invited to attend this brief, but traditional ceremony.

The Torch, located at N. Saginaw and Oakland streets will burn through the three week drive as a symbol of the area's generosity and faith in the United Fund principle of "Giving Once For All."

Orion Man Dies in Rolling Car

Clyde Cromwell Killed as Automobile Skids, Hits Mail Boxes

Clyde L. Cromwell, 44, of 310 Coats Rd., Orion Township, was killed early this morning when his car went out of control, striking a row of mailboxes and a tree, and rolling for about 100 feet.

He was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital at 6:10. Oakland County Deputy Coroner Leon F. Cobb said the exact cause of death has not yet been determined.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies said that Cromwell's car left Sashabaw Rd. at Woodhull Dr., in Independence Township, skidding 120 feet into the mailboxes and tree. The car then rolled some distance, coming to rest in a field. Cromwell was thrown from the vehicle.

Couple Nabbed With Dead Baby

Bruised Body Found in Suitcase, Prepared for Oakland Burial

DETROIT (INS) — A 20-year-old mother and her husband of one month were held for murder today in the mysterious death of the woman's 13-month-old daughter.

Police arrested Clarence Green, 24, and his wife, Martha, as they prepared to leave their Detroit flat with the child's body stuffed in a suitcase.

Police said the parents had purchased two toy shovels they planned to use to dig a grave for the baby, Martha Rose, in an Oakland County cemetery.

In the suitcase, police found the body wrapped in a white sheet and placed in a plastic bag. Next to the body were found gift cards, a bedtime prayer on a sheet of paper, and a small black book entitled "Story of Our Baby."

An autopsy disclosed the child died from a brain hemorrhage apparently caused by blows to the head. The body also bore bruises, cuts and eye injuries.

Mrs. Green told police the child died of pneumonia. Her husband said Martha Rose fell out of bed twice. Both denied beating the child.

Police said the parents were going to bury the girl and leave for West Virginia, Green's home state.

Until further notice visitors on maternity wards will be restricted to husbands; in children's wards to parents; and on all other areas to not more than two members of a patient's family in one day. It is urged that these visits be restricted to 15 to 20 minutes.

Regulations were announced by Sister Mary Williams at St. Joseph Mercy and by Assistant Director Warren Simonds at Pontiac General.

Approve Setting Up Youth Court

P.H.S. Students May Try Own Traffic Offenders

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

Pontiac High School students soon may try their own traffic offenders, rather than turn them over to juvenile authorities.

The student body this week voted, 1,175 to 201, approval for a Pontiac teenage traffic court.

The traffic court, expected to be in session within a month, will be co-sponsored by the Pontiac Police, Oakland County Juvenile Court, the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Traffic and Safety Committee and the Pontiac High School Student Council.

In an all-out campaign to promote teenage traffic safety, the students also voted to sponsor a Teenage Safety Conference to be held this winter.

The court would be given authority by Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore to hear traffic cases occurring in Pontiac and involving teenage drivers.

The jury of 10 which would convene at first monthly, would be composed of high school seniors. The judge would also be a student. The judge and jury membership would rotate to allow as many seniors as possible to participate.

The jury will differ from an ordinary one in as much as jurymen will be allowed to question the defendant in the case.

Most of the cases tried would be confined to traffic ticket violations of teenagers under 17 years of age, according to Moore.

The court will be allowed to give the same dispositions and penalties as the juvenile court although it will probably invoke other dispositions which would be appropriate to teen violators, such as writing traffic safety essays.

If the Pontiac parochial high school students are interested in serving on the jury, they too may be active in the court program later, Moore said.

During the court sessions, a police officer would be present to advise the students on any legal matters which could arise during the trial. Several practice courtroom sessions would first be held to familiarize the students with court procedure.

Moore told the student council members that the purpose of the court would not be to penalize the students as much as it would be to educate them on traffic safety.

Any teen under 17 years of age who violates a traffic law within the Pontiac city limits may request to be heard by the teen court. Violators and their parents will have to sign a waiver stating they prefer to be heard by the teen court.

Following the disposition, the violator and his parents again sign a paper stating they will abide by the teen court's ruling. The case can be appealed to the Oakland County Juvenile Court.

The proposed Teenage Traffic Safety Conference, also to be sponsored by the four groups, is to consist of delegations from high school organizations throughout the county.

Instrumental in the organization of both of traffic court and the conference are Lt. Clayton A. Randolph and Sgt. David H. Slater, Pontiac police traffic and safety bureau; Robert Flynn and George Stewart, Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Traffic and Safety Committee; the student council under the leadership of Larry Beamer, president, and Judge Moore.

Bridge Displaces Gulls

MACKINAW CITY (AP) — Sailors aboard Straits of Mackinac ferries aren't the only ones who are going to have to look for a new livelihood since the Mackinac Bridge displaced the boats. The others whose livelihoods all but have been cut off by the new bridge are the bumming seagulls that clutter ferry docks on either side of the Straits and for years have mooched a fat living from motorists sometimes caught for hours between ferry crossings.

Truman Attacks Defense Setup

Charges That Ike Was 'Agonizingly Slow' to Sense Red Danger

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former President Truman charged last night that President Eisenhower was "agonizingly slow" to sense the new danger posed by the successful launching of a Russian satellite.

"And when made aware of it," Turman said, "he was slow to do what he ought to do."

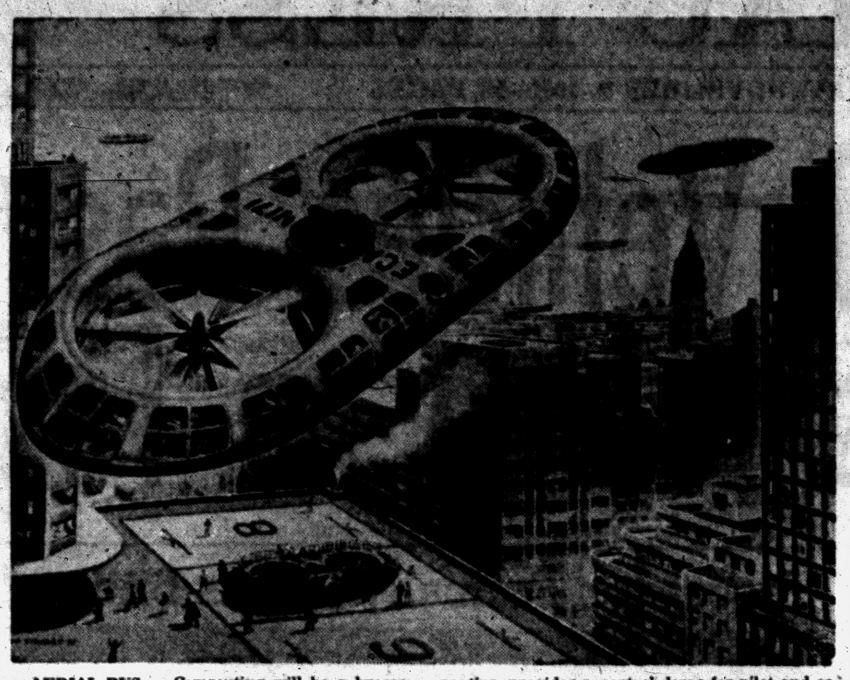

In a speech peppered with scorn for the administration, particularly with reference to national defense and foreign affairs, the ex-president told a Jefferson-Jackson Day banquet audience:

"While the Russians were demonstrating their scientific advances, the administration was actually issuing secret orders cutting down on basic research in the defense establishment.

"These are serious blunders, shocking in the lack of judgment, imperiling our country's safety."

Truman said the Russian satellite may have proved a good thing, then added, in an apparent reference to Defense Secretary Neil McElroy: "The soap executive in the Defense Department is now attempting to put a few more bubbles in the research program."

The former president accused the administration of letting the U.S. defense system "go to pot for a mess of pottage called a balanced budget.

AERIAL BUS — Commuting will be a breeze in the future, according to a national science magazine, which envisions tomorrow's workers traveling from home to business at 100 m. p. h. via a ducted-fan flying bus like the one above. The design, originated by Charles Zimmerman of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, provides a control dome for pilot and co-pilot, and seats for 40 passengers behind large door windows which provide an unexcelled view. Artist-author Frank Tinsley of Mechanix Illustrated magazine, depicts the craft, which will support itself on columns of air forced downward through its twin fans.

Following the kick-off breakfast, volunteer solicitors led by Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, campaign chairman, will call on Pontiac area residents, workers and employers for their annual pledges. The donor is assured that he will be approached only once in the year for funds to support the 55 member agencies.

The 4,500 volunteer workers are organized into three general divisions. The industrial division, headed by George Watson, the commercial division, headed by Carroll Osmun and the geographic division under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Eldred.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Where does today's weather go tomorrow? Where was it yesterday?

Today's weather will probably be several hundred miles to the east tomorrow. This is not an entirely accurate picture of the movement of weather across the earth but it is a general truth.

Weather moves across the United States from west to east five to six hundred miles a day—on an average. Thus, the barometer reading (height of the layer of gas overhead) in this area today will likely be 600 miles east tomorrow.

Likewise, the layer of gas above us today was probably about the same distance to the west, or northwest or southwest, yesterday. The moisture content, wind velocity and other factors change, but usually the weather overhead is recogninzable when compared to yesterday—600 miles westward.

Johnny Learns to Read (But How and What?)

nition"—linking words with pictures to impress on the child that C-A-T is the symbol for the meowing pet he keeps at home?

Today a study of elementary public schools across the nation produces a unanimous answer: The methods must be combined.

Ohio director of education E. E. Holt says, "In 35 years of school work, I've never known a time when a great deal of attention was not given to phonics. But there is no one method which will do the job adequately."

Otis Crosby of the Detroit Public Schools points out, "Many words are not phonetic."

Such words or bough, though, and rough are cited by Jack E. Boyd, administrative assistant of Denver Public Schools, who agrees, adding:

"We attempt to use the phonic system as much as possible, but there are areas where we find word recognition works best."

The same view is held in Miami, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Atlanta, New Orleans, Indianapolis, Phoenix, and Washington, D. C. The combination is welded into a unified tool, called the "developmental" system by Fred P. Hill, assistant superintendent of Omaha, Neb., schools.

"Sight" is combined with phonics and recognition in Philadelphia. Words such as t-h-e and w-h-e-n cannot be illustrated by a picture. Sight reading, in sentences with familiar words, helps establish them in the six-year-old minds.

A "kinesthetic" procedure is part of Chicago's combination. Some pupils are helped to fix words in their minds by tracing their fingers over the letters while pronouncing the word.

And distinguishing these pupils from others points up an argument most schools raise against being limited to any single method: You need more than a five-iron to play 18 holes of golf.

James F. Redmond, superintendent of New Orleans Schools says: "We use whatever technique we feel is best and applicable to the problem of the individual reader."

Phoenix teachers face a hurdle of more than 4,500 pupils who speak Spanish at home. District Superintendent Loren Vaughn says:

"Too much emphasis on the phonic system, we have found, results in pupils knowing too much about pronunciation and not enough about meaning. Concentration on the word recognition system gives children a good understanding of meanings but does not teach them how to pronounce syllables properly."

Did the literary attack on America's teaching shake up the system?

No, asserts Prof. Eldridge T. McSwain, dean of Northwestern University's School of Education. He says:

"It did little more than to motivate administrators and teachers to re-evaluate their methods and programs. The best schools are doing a top-notch job—as they always have—finding no need to change."

A Washington, D. C., administrator put it this way: "The furor pointed up the need to do better what we were doing anyway."

Jail Trouble Makers Separated by Irons

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons today clamped down on prisoners at the Oakland County Jail while scoffing at reports of an organized gang robbing and terrorizing prisoners.

"In a jail of this size we frequently get prisoners who are habitual trouble makers," he said, "but we have always controlled these men in the past and have the current situation equally under control."

Irons said that a group of young prisoners awaiting sentence had been jailed together in the same cell block. "There were about six of them in a 26-man block," he stated.

"When they began acting up we merely separated them," he explained. The trouble began when one prisoner's head was shaved and another was robbed of about $2.

NAACP Arrest Tangles Courts

Little Rock Group Will Be Busy on Monday Facing Two Judges

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The local NAACP, which chose prosecution under a new city ordinance rather than make public its confidential records, faced a somewhat involved legal situation today.

An NAACP official who was arrested on a charge of violating the ordinance will appear in Municipal Court Monday morning.

On the same morning, a hearing is scheduled in U.S. District Court at Little Rock on an NAACP petition for a temporary restraining order to keep the ordinance from being enforced.

The ordinance, drafted by State Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, does not mention the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People specifically. It requires certain organizations to submit financial data, membership lists and other information to the city clerk. Violation carries a penalty of $50 to $250 a day.

Bennett has made it plain the ordinance was aimed at the NAACP. However, it applies to Little Rock segregationist groups, and three such organizations have filed their documents with the city clerk.

When the deadline for filing expired Thursday, the City Council voted unanimously for the arrest of all NACCP officials who could be found here.

Scout Troops Play Big Part in Torch Drive

This weekend will mark the completion of more than 40,000 "good deeds" by thousands of Pontiac area Boy Scouts.

Preparing the way for Pontiac Area United Fund solicitors, Scout troops in Pontiac, Waterford, Brandon, Independence, Oxford and Orion townships are distributing doorknob hangers to more than 40,000 homes. The placards read: "Open your door and open your heart."

The Scouts are one of the several recreation and character building agencies supported by this year's "give once for all" effort. Some $187,635.68 of the $612,000 being sought by the 4,500 United Fund volunteer workers during the Nov. 4-Nov. 26 campaign will be earmarked for these agencies.

2 Halloween Runaways Picked Up Hitchhiking

Francis Stimson, 11, and Arthur Clark, 13, were picked up while trying to hitchike a ride near Grand Haven. They were returned to their homes here by their parents.

The youngsters were reported missing after failing to return from their outing. They said they slept in a cornfield.

They told police they just decided to leave home and had no particular destination in mind.

Bess Myerson Claims Hubby Beat Her Up

NEW YORK (INS) — Television star Bess Myerson, "Miss America" of 1945, had her husband arrested on a charge of simple assault today, saying he ripped off her pajamas and beat her up after bursting into her bedroom.

Her husband, wealthy doll manufacturer Allan Wayne, was picked up by policemen in a radio patrol car at the couple's mid-Manhattan apartment and was held at the station house for more than an hour until his lawyer raised $500 bail.

The 33-year-old Miss Myerson, star of the CBS-TV show "The Big Payoff," filed a complaint charging she had been "beaten about the body and suffered painful bruises."

She told police her husband burst into her bedroom at 4 o'clock this morning and an argument followed. Then, she said, "he ripped my pajamas off and put his hands around my throat, hurting me."

The 39-year-old Wayne surrendered without resistance, police said, adding that Miss Myerson appeared "nervous and upset" when she filed the complaint but showed no visible signs of assault.

Earlier this year, the couple had been reconciled after a lengthy estrangement during which Miss Myerson was awarded custody of their daughter, Barbara Carol Wayne, who is now 10 years old.

in from Lake Michigan swallowing her completely.

The fog did its best to swallow the bridge too, but failed to envelop completely the 47-story-high towers that rose above the gloom.

Capt. Sweeney turned the wheel over to Gov. Williams just before the ship docked at Mackinaw City. But the Governor turned the ship back to Wheelsman Merritt Lasch of Cheboygan as the bow of the ship drew menacingly close to the docks, prompting Williams' wife to comment: "Maybe you'd better let a professional do it."

HIS SHIP NOW

Said Sweeney: "It's his ship now. Let him do what he wants with her."

The Mackinaw City High School band boomed a welcome and the city fire engines sirens squealed. But long after the band had stopped and the wails of the sirens had died away, The Vacationland lay quiet in her berth, her bows lapped by the water she would never rule again.

Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the bridge authority, made a one-sentence speech yesterday in officially turning over the new 100 million dollar straits bridge to Gov. Williams.

Standing in the center of the 7,400 - foot suspension span, the bridge builder said to the governor as representative of the people of Michigan:

"We give you the bridge."

The governor replied:

"This bridge is the work of many people and it first was built in the hearts of the people. It is not only something for Michigan but is a true, new Northwest Passage. This magnificent bridge signifies that once the people set their minds to it they can overcome any obstruction whether it be physical or man made."

Brown said the authority's goal now is to free the bridge from debt as soon as possible. He remarked jokingly that the first toll payment of $3.25 to be made later in the day by the governor "will cut us down a little from the 100 million."

The man who designed the bridge says the structure is the "safest long-span bridge that has ever been designed."

Dr. David B. Steinman of New York told a meeting of the Michigan society of Professioinal Engineers that the bridge has the "strength of the pyramids."

"No wind of any velocity from any direction can make the bridge oscillate," Steinman said. "The stronger the wind the safer the bridge will be."

He said the span linking Michigan's two peninsulas is the result of years of special mathematical and wind tunnel research.

"The Mackinac Bridge has the safest design the world has ever seen and has perfect aerodynamics, stability," Steinman said.

Report on Conditions in Sick Home in Error

An article in Friday's paper regarding Mrs. Luebke, Clarkston resident afflicted with cancer, gave the impression that conditions of the home was reported by Mrs. Lucille Richardson, which was in error. The description of the home was not a quotation from Mrs. Richardson, and the report on conditions was more serious than the facts warranted. The Press regrets this error.

Oakland Youth Held in Chicago

Lake Orion Boy Caught After Chase at Speeds Up to 110 M. P. H.

A Lake Orion youth was arrested in Chicago yesterday after an automobile chase at speeds of up to 110 miles an hour.

Clyde Corbiere, 17, of Lake Orion, along with Patrick Pizuto, 17, of Paterson, N. J., and Robert Krinke, 37, of Chicago, were chased by police and fired on the pursuing officers in an escape attempt at Thornton, near the southern outskirts of Chicago.

Nine shots from the trio's car disabled the police car, but later, police learned the vehicle had a smashup and they seized Krinke at the scene.

He led them to Corbiere and Pizuto who were in a south side hotel.

Krinke, police said, told them the trio was returning from Indiana where they sought to rob several gasoline stations.

Police said they found a rifle and a shotgun in the wrecked auto. The car, a Cadillac, was stolen from Detroit Tuesday.

The car was originally stopped for a traffic violation and taken to the Thornton police station from where the youths fled.

Corbiere's father, a steel worker, is believed to have been working in Detroit for the past few weeks, although he lives on Chamberlain St., two and a half miles out of Lake Orion.

Lake Orion police said they had never had any previous trouble with the youth.

Y Seeks Volunteer Help for Family Swim Party

BIRMINGHAM — An SOS for volunteer help on the Friday night family swim party has gone out today from Ed Kirbert, YMCA executive secretary.

Kirbert is asking parents to volunteer to supervise locker rooms for the Nov. 8 event.

The family swim parties are from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The Nov. 8 affair will be followed by a travelogue movie and refreshments at the Y.

However, admission to the pool is by ticket only and because of limited capacity, reservations should be made in advance.

Kirbert also announced elections for the Alpha and Beta Chapters of the Tri-Hi-Y in Troy. Adammae Akin is president of Alpha Chapter and Carol Schroeder is president of Beta Chapter.

Falsification of an accident report brought about the arrest of a Birmingham youth yesterday. Police said to avoid reporting a minor accident, the boy had reported his car stolen.

Investigation found loopholes in his statement, bringing out the true story.

Birmingham Women's Club will meet at Baldwin Public Library at 1 p.m. Monday for a program and dessert luncheon.

Says Scott Admitted He Didn't Love Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A former maid in the home of L. Ewing Scott has testified that Scott once told her he did not love his wife, whom he is accused of murdering for her $600,000 estate.

Mrs. Vera Landry also testified at Scott's trial yesterday that the 61-year-old former broker admitted he once "slapped the wind" out of his wife, Evelyn, 63.

Mrs. Scott has been missing since May of 1956. The state has not produced a body in support of its contention that she is dead, but is trying to develop circumstantial evidence to support its contention that she was killed by her husband.

Mrs. Landry said she was working in the kitchen of the Scotts' fashionable Bel Air home one day when Scott came in and discussed his feeling about his wife.

"What did he say?" asked Dep. Dist. Atty. J. Miller Leavy.

"He said he wasn't in love with her," Mrs. Landry answered.

Mrs. Landry testified that one morning she noticed Mrs. Scott's face was bruised. She said she had seen no bruises on it the night before.

'Jerking Water' Led to Town's Nickname

MONTROSE, N. Y. — In 1870 at Montrose the New York Central Railroad made the first installation of a track pan and scoop to enable locomotives to take water on the fly.

Since these installations were always in small towns and let the locomotives "jerk water" without stopping, small towns soon became known as a "jerk-water" towns.

Makes Overseas Assignments

Machine Picks GI's Post

WASHINGTON (INS) — GI Joe may not know it, but whether he goes to Japan, Germany or Fort Benning, Ga., depends upon a machine—not a general—in the Pentagon.

That is what Chief Signal Officer Maj. Gen. J. D. O'Connell told the Association of the U. S. Army recently.

Use of automation in manpower control, he said, is only one of the many uses of machines in the Army's effort to stay mechanized.

Lt. Gen. T. Williams, deputy commanding general of the U. S. Continental Army Command, said: "We in the Army want more killing power in our weapons per man. Therefore, we look to automation to assist us in reaching these goals."

However, the generals are not overlooking the theme of the convention—"The American Soldier—the Ultimate Weapon."

"After all," Williams told the convention, "the human mind developed the machine and, in using this brainchild the human mind must tell the machine what to do."

However, Williams and O'Connell emphasized that the Army is using machines to speed up its operations wherever possible.

O'Connell said that early next year, with use of more electronic operations, the individual soldier's ultimate overseas assignment will be made in most cases before he leaves his home station in the U. S.

He said use of the machines already has made it possible to close some overseas replacement depots that have been used solely for assigning personnel.

The Proxy Murder

By ERLE STANLEY GARDNER

Copyright 1957

THE STORY SO FAR: Jerry Conway is alarmed by an advertising campaign Gifford Farrell, a discharged employe is conducting to obtain proxies and oust Conway at a stockholders' meeting. In a mysterious telephone call a woman calling herself Rosalind offers to supply Conway with a list of the proxies Farrell has acquired. Though he suspects a trap Conway agrees to follow directions. Asking the hotel clerk for a message for Gerald Boswell he obtains a key to an hotel room for the meeting, but instead of finding Rosalind there's a young woman scantily attired with a mud pack on her face. She points a gun at Conway which he takes from her. Since the gun has been recently fired Conway suspects a frame-up and calls Perry Mason, attorney. Mason and Paul Drake, detective, go to the hotel room and find a woman murdered. Mason traps Evangeline Farrell into admitting she is Rosalind. She is divorcing Gifford and wants to help Conway. Farrell must have given Conway the telephone directions that trapped him. Farrell is having an affair with Rose Calvert, a secretary. Mrs. Farrell obtains carbons of the proxy list from Rose's wastebasket. Mason calls on Rose's husband, learns Rose wants a divorce, sees her picture, and tells him his wife was involved in a murder. Rose was afraid of Mrs. Farrell.

Chapter 18

The lawyer eased out of the house, tiptoed up the gravel walk. The dog in the adjoining house once more started a frenzied barking and was again calmed to silence by the man's authorative voice.

Mason got in his car and drove back toward the city.

From Corona, Mason called Paul Drake.

"This is Perry, Paul. Any news?"

"Nothing important."

"Body been identified?"

"Not yet. At least not as far as anyone knows."

"Anything else new?"

"Sgt. Holcomb rang up and wanted to know where you could be reached."

"What did you tell him?"

"I told him I didn't know where you were, but I knew that you intended to be at the district attorney's office at nine o'clock in the morning."

"What about Della?"

"I told her you said to go home, but she didn't go. She's sticking it out. She's got a percolator full of hot coffee . . . What the heck are you doing down at Corona?"

"Running down a lead," Mason said. "Now look, Paul, here's something I want you to do."

"What?"

'COVER THE HOTEL'

"Cover the Redfern Hotel. Find out if there were any checkouts from the seventh floor between six and eight last night. If there were I want those rooms rented by some of your operatives."

"You can't ask for a specific room by number," Drake said. "It would make them suspicious . . ."

"Don't be that crude," Mason told him. "Have operatives go to the hotel. They're just in from a plane trip. They don't want to get too high, but they want to be high enough to be away from the street noises, something on the seventh floor. Then start getting particular until they get the rooms we want.

"Checkouts tonight? Is that right?"

"Well, it's yesterday night now," Mason said, "but I want any checkouts between — well, say between six and nine just to be safe."

"You coming in here?" Drake asked.

"I'm coming in," Mason told him. "What have you found out about the gun? Anything?"

"Not yet. We're working."

"Well, get some action," Mason told him.

"Do you know what time it is?" Drake asked.

'WE HAVE TO RUSH'

"Sure I know what time it is?" Mason said. "And I'll tell you something for your information. By tomorrow morning the police will be swarming all over us. If we're going to do anything at all, we're going to have to do it before nine o'clock this morning."

"I've got ten men out," Drake said. "They should turn up something. Come on in. Della's got the electric coffee percolator going. I'll try to get a line on the hotel. I've got a couple of men in there already. They're buying drinks, tipping the bellboys and trying to get them to talk."

"What kind of a place?" Mason asked.

"You can get anything you want," Drake told him.

"Who runs it? The clerks?"

"The bell captains run that end of it."

"Well, we may want something," Mason told him. I'm coming in, Paul. I'll be seeing you in an hour."

Mason's steps echoed along the corridor of the silent building as he left the elevator and walked down to his office. He inserted his latchkey, snapped back the spring lock and opened the door.

She saw Mason's face, smiled, and said, "Gosh, Chief, I was asleep. I made myself comfortable and all of a sudden I went out like a light.

"There's coffee over there in the electric percolator. I'm afraid it's pretty strong and stale by now. I made it fresh about midnight."

"Didn't Drake tell you to go home," Della Street smiled. "But I thought I'd wait it out, at least until you got in."

"What have you got to go with the coffee?" Mason asked.

Doughnuts. And they're pretty good. I went down to this doughnut shop just before it closed at midnight and got a bag of fresh doughnuts.—I'll bet I'm a mess."

"What's new?"

"Lots of things, Della. Give Paul Drake a ring and ask him if he wants to come and have coffee, doughnuts and chitchat."

Mason opened the closet which contained the washstand, washed his hands and face in hot water, rubbed briskly with a towel.

COFFEE SMELLED GOOD

Della Street produced three big coffee mugs and opened the faucet on the electric percolator. The office filled with the aroma of hot coffee.

Drake's code knock sounded on the door.

Della Street opend it.

"Hi, Paul," Mason said, hanging up the towel with which he had been drying his face. "What's new?"

"Not too much at this end," Drake said. "What's new with you?"

"They're going to have the body identified in about thirty minutes," Mason said.

"How do you know?"

Mason grinned. "I fixed a time bomb so it will go off just about on schedule."

"How come?"

"The body," Mason said, "is that of Rose Calvert. Rose's middle name, believe it or not, was Mistletoe. Her dad thought she might turn out to be romantic. His hunch was right—poor kid.

"For your information, Rose's husband, Norton Barclay Calvert, lives in Elsinore, is running a service station, and was waiting from day to day in hopes that he wife would come back.

"Probably at about this time he's at the Elsinore police station, telling them that he has reason to believe his wife has been murdered, and asking the Elsinore police to find out about it. They'll call the Los Angeles police, and since there is only one unidentified body, at least so far, the police will ask for a description, and very shortly will have an identification."

"But won't they find out that you were down there?" Della Street asked apprehensively.

"They'll find out I was down there," Mason said, "and they'll be mad. They'll feel that I held out on them in respect to an identification of the body."

"Well?" Drake asked drily. "Wouldn't that be a natural conclusion under the circumstances?"

"Sure, it would," Mason said.

Plane Clips Circuits Blacking Out Wide Area

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — A pilot seeking an unlighted landing field clipped two 60,000 volt power circuits, blacking out large areas of Marin County, then flew on to a safe landing 40 miles away last night.

Power was cut to areas near Hamilton Air Force Base, Sausalito, Tiburon and Mill Valley.

The pilot, Lt. Daniel R. Yankle, 27, of Mather AFB near Sacramento, flew on to Napa and reported to the sheriff's office. He was flying a small private plane. It was damaged slightly.

Police to Experiment With Use of Jeeps

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police reported today that they will experiment with the use of jeeps in rescue missions and other duties in the back woods country of the Upper Peninsula.

Three jeeps have been ordered and will be placed in service next week at the Wakefield, L'Anse and Newberry state police posts.

Conventional patrol cars have received considerable damage on woods roads and sometimes have been stopped by heavy snows, police said.

It is hoped that the jeeps will solve the problem of rescuing lost hunters, answering emergency calls and performing other missions in the deep woods country.

If the experiment is successful, several more jeeps will be ordered for other Upper Peninsual posts.

The jeeps will be painted state police blue and will have the state shield on the sides.

The Customer Is NOT Always Right!...

Sometimes a business house receives an unreasonable request for a refund or adjustment which it must refuse. Many customers have the false notion that because an article on which they have paid a deposit has not been taken from the store, they are entitled to a refund of their deposit if they change their minds about buying. Again there is the customer who pays a deposit and holds goods for two or three months and wants a refund on the return of unseasonable goods, which the merchant would have to resell at a loss.

SO BE SURE you want the article before you make a deposit.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It Seems to Me . . .

These New Trucks Are Tops

I've been driving a 200 horsepower, half ton GMC pick-up truck which is the slickest, smoothest thing you ever saw for light hauling and it's complete with hydra-matic transmission.

I've driven it to work, to church, to the Bloomfield Club for lunch, to Hartman's Watkins Lake chateau for bridge and over to the "Y" for a workout with Heldenbrand's Octogenarian Swimming Club.

First off, it's an especially decorative job, painted a nice bright red and it cuts a dashing figure as it bowls along a main stem or purrs down a rough side road. The ancient phrase, "It rides like a truck," is herewith stricken from the automotive lexicon. This GMC beauty trips along like a passenger car — one of the better ones, that is.

It has a V-8 motor and since the speedometer only showed 18 miles, 65 was the fastest I did, although my 24-year-old son confessed that he had notched the Red Knight up to 75 on a short, back-road stretch. I'll wager the charmer will do 100.

It has three speeds, forward, and in low it acts as thought it could pull the General Motors Building right off its foundation.

The adjustable seat is very comfortable, smooth and will accommodate three Les Bingamans or an emaciated Cornell coxswain. I don't see how they've wrapped up such versatility in just one vehicle. The thing could replace a fleet. Pontiac, Michigan, is very lucky to have this made locally.

It ought to blitz the light truck market.

Our Future Plans

Along with other growing communities, this area has an important stake in the future water supply.

Neither STEPHEN MACK nor the incorporating group ever dreamed this section would ultimately support the people that have currently assembled.

The water consumption per capita has increased far, far beyond early conceptions. People are using much more individually, and industry requires vast quantities in many unexpected ways. Hence, our planning must contemplate an ultimate beyond the demands of even today.

Basically, the Pontiac area can provide water through:

1—Direct local pumping

2—Lake St. Clair

3—Detroit

4—Lake Huron.

Of these four sources, THE PRESS urges an exhaustive study of Lake Huron.

Local pumping is only adequate for the immediate present, so this source is dropped as the final solution.

If Oakland County has 600,000 residents today, many astute and shrewd planners feel this will be doubled in the forseeable future. If industry and people continue to use water in even greater proportions for air conditioning, cooling and other undiscovered purposes, it is possible the water demand can mulptiply by four instead of two.

Detroit would thus constitute a dubious supply, for the area Detroit is already serving might multiply equally.

Lake St. Clair is shallow. An intake would be within a dozen or fifteen feet of the surface. In Lake Huron, the pipe openings could be "down in the deep" with the water beyond contamination.

Also, the supply in Lake Huron is hundreds of times greater than St. Clair's. Neither drought, lack of rain, unusual sun nor "acts of God" could affect the Port Huron water supply very much.

Unless the initial cost were infinitely greater, this would look like the best prospect for the long haul. A century from now, our decendents might thank us mightily for giving them the inexhaustible source. This might even be true in our own lives.

The first cost isn't necessarily the final verdict. It's a complicated projection and THE PRESS is happy to report that we feel City Manager WALTER K. WILLMAN is right on top of the problem.

And in Conclusion . . . . . .

Jottings from the well thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter: V. P. RICHARD NIXON cancels his November trip to Europe to help faltering GOP campaigners . . . RUSS KELLY, Michigan State soph lineman has a personal rooting section, consisting of a wife and four children . . . Department of Tremendous Trifles: neither the Queen nor PHILIP smokes . . . Our Air Force missile test center on Florida's Cape Canaveral is the best guarded U.S. base in the world. No newsman has ever set foot there in two years. They watch it afar through binoculars.

I like this from C. E. Wilson: "A company's behavior must be as good as its literature claims. It's no use to decorate the plant walls with portraits of Abraham Lincoln if Ivan the Terrible stalks up and down the aisles." . . . Our own Sylvia de Steiger was a model for Pontiac Motor Division when she was a youngster. Most of us feel she's pretty enough to do a job right now . . . How many know Pontiac Motor's own Marty Rummell was an outstanding tackle at SMU? He was a real rough 180 pounds.

Very few are aware that the mysterious "H" in Judge H. RUSSEL HOLLAND stands for "HEZEKIAH." (I hope I don't appear before him during the next six months) . . . . . Overheard at a Canterbury Dance: "Scientists claim the body is 92 per cent water, but that girl in the light blue dress did a whale of a lot with eight per cent." . . . . . Department of Cheers and Jeers: The C's—Pontiac High coaches who miss seeing their own team play to scout ensuing opponents; The J's—DAVE BECK. —HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Lonely and depressed after the death of his wife, poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow found himself unable to concentrate or write a single line. But in the depths of his despair, as he later recalled, came "a voice from my inmost heart." Taking pen in hand, Longfellow obeyed the voice and wrote one of his greatest poems, "A Psalm of Life."

From his melancholy musings over death, he turned to celebrate life with:

"Life is real—life is earnest—
and the grave is not its goal:
Dust thou art, to dust returnest,
was not written of the soul . . .
Act—Act in the glorious present!
Heart within, and God o'er head!"

America Is Named After Saint

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

The continents of North and South America are named for the man whose memory is honored Monday in the church calendar — St. Emeric. The process, it must be admitted, was somewhat roundabout.

Actually America was named for the Italian navigator, Amerigo Vespucci, but Amerigo is simply the Italian form of Emeric and there can be no doubt that Vespucci was named for the saint.

One wonders what our two great continents would be called if Vespucci's parents had named him after some other saint, say, for example, Ignatius or Polycarp.

Emeric was the eldest son of St. Stephen, King of Hungary. Not much is known about him beyond the fact that he was a prince and was born in 1007. No legends make him appear especially devout. The reason for his reputation and popularity was after his death (he was killed in a hunting accident) a great many miraculous things happen at his tomb.

Although generally called a saint, Emeric has never been canonized. He is listed in martyrologies as Blessed Emeric, which means he has been "beatified" by the church. This is one step short of sainthood.

BAPTIST'S PARENTS

Tuesday commemorates Zacharias and Elizabeth, parents of John the Baptist. There is no evidence these good people were ever Christians — indeed, it is most unlikely they ever were. But they certainly occupied an important place in the events leading up to Christianity, and it is proper that they should be honored by the church.

Zacharias was a Jewish priest in the Temple at Jerusalem. According to St. Luke, chapter 1, both he and his wife were well along in years when one day, as he was serving before the altar, he had a vision in which he was told Elizabeth would bear a son, whose name was to be John. The rest of the chapter tells of John's birth and circumcision, and from then on neither Zacharias nor Elizabeth is ever mentioned again.

So nobody knows what finally happened to them. It was a common tradition in the early church that Zacharias had been martyred by command of King Herod when he refused to tell the King's soldiers where John the Baptist was hiding. The martyrology of the Roman church, however, does not say anything about this martyrdom.

RAIL

Americans are getting steadily better about going to church and synagogue, and more of them go during November than in any other month. Much of the credit for this happy condition goes to RIAL, the Religion in American Life movement. Since 1949, when RIAL began, church attendance in the U.S. has increased 12 per cent. A poll has shown that 51 per cent of the population now attends church regularly.

Answer — Smoking.

DR. BRADY

"Your column is always most helpful and interesting to our family. We are looking forward to more articles to help dispute or dispel beliefs of some people that they catch "cold" or rheumatism from drafts, sudden changes of temperature, dampness or insufficient clothing. (J. S.)

Answer—Thank you, sir. I'd like to write 'em, but when I do the censors are displeased—there he goes again, harping on the same old thing. . .

"Our boy is in the Navy and I worry about him a lot lately, because he is in England where they have the Asian flu . . . the symptoms . . . will vaccination help? (Mrs. G. W.)

Answer—Aside from the disproportionate publicity the flu has been given this season, it appears to be about the same as in other seasons . . . an illness that makes the victim feel miserable for three or four days and keeps him somewhat below par for a week or two afterward. I have not seen any evidence that vaccination will help. After all, 95 per cent of the "news" about "Asian" flu is just blah-blah, isn't it?

"On your advice I have been taking vitamin and mineral pills (21 vitamins and minerals) for chronic rheumatism. . . (N. R. H.)

Answer—How could you get so mixed up? Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet Chronic Joint Disability.

"Brother-in-law had skull fracture some years ago and has had two mastoid operations. Doctors have used the antibiotics, silver nitrate, etc., for his running ear, with little success. I have read many reports of the successful use of drops for running ear. . . (Mrs. T. W.)

Answer—I doubt that the drops will help but there is no harm in trying—for instructions send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mother Tells of Problem With Disturbed Children

I have a ten-year-old boy termed "emotionally disturbed" with a potential I.Q. of 80-90. He is able to read books on a third grade level. He is at home because I was notified two weeks before school started that there would be no room in the Pontiac schools for him.

Mentally retarded children have rooms so they can attend. How can you explain to a child there isn't room for him when he watches other children going by the house? Why isn't there room in the big city of Pontiac for a child with an emotional problem?

After years of searching for help, I've recently contacted a person who, by his influence and position is able to offer substantial aid. If parents of other similar unfortunate children will contact me, help can be obtained. The sooner I hear from you the sooner our children can be helped.

Waitresses Gripe About Local Union

I work in one of Pontiac's better known restaurants and we belong to the Pontiac local. We pay union dues but that's as far as it goes. We aren't even allowed to be represented by a union steward. It's our union, so we're told, and yet we don't even know what goes on. Isn't our money as good as the next person's?

Fed Up

I've been a union waitress since 1950 and what has it gotten me? Nothing. I belonged to the Pontiac local four years, paid my dues and that was that. Then I started working in country clubs and transferred to the Detroit local, which was real good. It really stood behind you. You knew what was in your contract and you got what was coming to you.

In the Pontiac local you're never notified of union meetings if you're the type of person who opens her mouth. If you're a quiet, meek person, you're probably notified. Take it from one who knows. I'd rather stay home and not work than work under Pontiac local conditions.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Advises Clergymen on Prayers

Rev. Sam illustrates a common fault of many modern clergymen. He fails to realize that a public speaker loses his audience when he has them shut their eyes. Jesus likewise condemned long public prayers as a heathen practice.. The Lord's Prayer which Christ gave us, takes less than 30 seconds to utter!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"And he preaches mighty fine sermons. But a number of our people have indicated they think he has one fault.

DR. CRANE

"And that's his praying. Why, he will devote as much as seven or eight minutes to his opening prayer, yet his sermon is only supposed to run 20 minutes.

"Our folks don't like such long prayers. And I admit they don't appeal to me, either. So are we wrong or is he in error?"

BEWARE LONG PRAYERS

For the congregation generally bow their heads and close their eyes, thus blotting out the sight of the leader.

As a result, they no longer see any of his gestures. And they miss the flash of his eyes and the facial expressions that help hold the attention of an audience.

When a parson is preaching, he is combining vision and sound, as does TV.

But when he prays, he cuts off the TV and reverts to sound alone, which hampers his effectiveness, for the visual element is now gone.

From the viewpoint of public platform psychology, therefore, any prayer over one-minute in duration is likely to reduce the preacher's effectiveness.

Jesus even vetoed long, public prayers (Matthew 6:7).

"But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking."

ORIGINAL PRAYERS

Most clergymen indulge in trite or overworked phrases when they do pray. These lack originality, so the audience meanwhile tends to daydream.

Even when group prayer is invoked, as by recitation of the Lord's Prayer, the average person hardly notices what he is uttering, for such mechanical phrases have been memorized for so many years that a person's mind wanders elsewhere, even while repeating phrases.

It would thus be helpful if parents would encourage more originality in the prayers they teach their children.

And let the youngsters create their own original supplications. For then the youngster has his attention riveted on his prayer and is not daydreaming about other things.

The same need for originality is very evident as regards the prayers of professional religionists, such as the clergymen.

Although they endeavor to present original sermons, they tend to "coast" all their lives on a few trite mechanical prayers, repeated with very little change from one Sabbath to the next.

OPEN-EYED PRAYERS

Prayer has too long been confused with bowed heads and closed eyes.

So it is far better to make your formal opening or closing prayer a short, 30-second utterance and salvage the remaining time for a dramatic, soul-lifting sermon.

At the hospital sick bed or in private conferences, longer prayers are more valuable than in public audiences.

Listen to Billy Graham or Bishop Sheen on radio or TV and you'll find a good pattern for a brief, attention-attracting prayer.

Jesus never indulged in long public prayers though he probably preached dramatic sermons that lasted more than an hour.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Effects of Pain Are Great; Strength of Soul, Greater

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

DR. PEALE

Early in September of this year, the Massachusetts Medical Society named Dr. Philip F. Fortin of New Bedford their "General Practitioner of the Year." Dr. Fortin had attracted national attention some six months earlier when he announced his retirement from practice after twenty-four years because he had diagnosed his own illness as an inoperable and incurable cancer of the liver.

Fellow sufferers from all over the United States wrote to Dr. Fortin, sharing their experiences. Some of them told him that they had been the victims of mis-diagnosis and, although expecting the end long before, were still alive. They urged him to keep his courage up because he might be wrong about himself just as other doctors had been wrong about their patients.

Other cancer victims asked for advice. They wanted to know how they might keep their courage up, just as the newspapers reported he was doing. This is what he wrote back:

"Carry on in your family circle as though you know you'll be healed.

"Develop an inner sense of satisfaction from having done as much for your fellow men as many others who may live longer than you will.

"Decide that the Creator has a life pattern for each of us. Others have endured your particular affliction. You can, too."

Dr. Fortin took his own advice. It was a good thing that he did. He was a fine doctor and his diagnosis of his own disease was a careful one. He died only a week after the medical society had honored him.

AFFLICTION BRINGS OUT BEST

Illness and affliction somehow bring out the best in people. Day after day, in my work, I talk with people who are sick, or weary, or suffering, and I am repeatedly amazed by their goodnes sand strength. I have seen them meet and stand up to their pain, to the disappointments and difficulties of human life. And I have wondered what it is that enables them to see it through, to live with pain.

As a result of my observations, I have come to the conclusion that, as tough as it is, one of the simplest solutions to the problem of pain is simply to make up your mind to lick it. One thing that will help you do that is to invoke a rugged statement from the Bible: "Quit ye like men, be strong." The effect of pain is very great indeed; but the effects of strength of mind and soul can be even greater.

An important factor in your program of overcoming pain is the practice of prayer. I believe that you have the right to ask God to take away or reduce your pain. Ask Him and believe that He will grant your request for, as we have been told, "according to your faith be it unto you."

Then, having made the request, put the pain in God's hands and leave its disposition to Him. If it is His will that you are to endure it, He will fortify you with sufficient understanding and strength to do so. Perhaps the great blessing of healing may be granted you. Keep that hope alive while living with your pain, even while accepting it.

Whatever He does, surrender yourself to God. Pray that His will be done. Make yourself expert in the art of acceptance, and you will find inner peace and a sense of Divine love that makes it possible to endure any affliction. Moreover, this relaxed attitude will often stimulate healing forces. Set four glorious words against affliction and you can win your battle. Those four words are: patience, acceptance, faith, hope.

THE BIBLE

QUESTION: When was the first Bible printed?

ANSWER: That depends on what you mean by the word printing. If by printing you mean "lettering" as opposed to "writing," then the distinction goes to the monks of the Middle Ages who lovingly hand printed thousands of copies of the Bible. But if you mean making copies from the same type, then the credit goes to Johanes Gutenberg. No one knows for certain when printing began in Europe, but Gutenberg of Mainz, Germany, started the age of printing in about 1450 by discovering a quick and accurate way to cast moveable type in quantity. Gutenberg crowned his discovery in 1456 by issuing a printed copy of the Bible, probably the first complete book printed in moveable type. Gutenberg got his idea from a wine press. Only 38 perfect copies of his Bible are known to exist today. One sold for $106,000 in 1926.

FOR YOU TO DO: Visit a printing plant or newspaper office to see printing presses at work. For your scrapbook, cut out this panel, mount it on cardboard and color it with your crayons. It will make a handsome decoration for the top of your bookshelf.

Perama's New Fleet Blessed After Fire

The blue harbor of Perama near Athens was aflutter with excitement a few weeks ago. On the quai a group of government and village dignitaries, church leaders, fishermen and their families had gathered to witness the blessing of a fleet of 14 new fishing boats by the Rev. George Demetriadis of Perama's St. Nicholas Orthodox Church.

Purchased with funds given by American church people through Church World Service, the boats replaced others destroyed last July in a disastrous fire and explosion in the harbor.

The Rev. R. Norris Wilson, CWS executive director, who was in Greece to confer on relief problems, stood with the others as the secretary general of the Greek Ministry of Merchant Marine told the gathering that the gift "symbolized practical sympathy with human needs."

Dr. Wilson was later honored at a luncheon in Athens attended by Archbishop Theoclitos, head of the Greek Orthodox Church, and government officials. Since the beginning of the year, he reported, CWS—the relief arm of the National Council of Churches has sent almost 45,000 tons of food and clothing to the Greek people.

Jews Honor 2 Catholics

NEW YORK (AP) — The Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America has awarded special citations to two Roman Catholic chaplains in the U.S. Army, Col. James B. Murphy and Col. John H. Connelly, for their "devotion to the religious interests of Jewish servicemen and servicewomen under their charge"—the first time Orthodox Judaism has so honored non-Jewish clergymen.

For I, the Lord thy God, will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee.

No Ordination of Women

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—A convention of the State Lutheran Church of Sweden has rejected a proposal that would have permitted the ordination of women. Effect of the convention vote was to kill a government-sponsored bill authorizing the ordaining of women in the state church.

Pontiac Area Geographic Division

Solicitors Meet to Open UF Drive

The geographical division of the Pontiac Area United Fund campaign for 1957 got off to a good start Friday morning with a breakfast at Devon Gables.

More than 300 solicitors gathered for the kickoff of the annual women's campaign which is headed by Mrs. George Eldred of Waterford. Her co-chairmen are Mrs. Ralph Norvell and Mrs. Robert White.

Chairman of the campaign Dr. Dana P. Whitmer praised the volunteers for their efforts to make a better Pontiac area saying, "You are part of the team that makes this community a good community through support of the 55 agencies in the United Fund. Pontiac is grateful for what you are doing."

Principal speakers were introduced by John Hirlinger, toastmaster for the occasion. Edward Leland, executive director of the Clinton Valley Council, Boy Scouts, explained how the people in the area are helped through United Fund services.

He pointed out that the agencies have earned status in the United Fund, and that giving "until it helps" presents an opportunity to make individual enthusiasm and beliefs pay off. "This is the American way of doing things," he pointed out.

Concluding the program was a fashion show sponsored by Bloomfield Fashion Shop with Maurice Barnett as commentator.

Long, Long Girdle Smoothes Bulges

Lumpy thighs or any unwanted bulges from waist to calf can now be smoothed without diet or massage.

There's a new long, long girdle, designed to trim the figure for skinny fun pants, which stretches from the midriff to below the knee.

The modern-thinking pantaloons are made of lightweight nylon elastic and are airy enough for wear as long as long pants are comfortable.

Put Bright Patches on Your Washables

Early autumn breezes won't bother you at that outdoor barbecue if colorful cotton patches are sewn to your washable cotton tablecloth at each place setting. These "pockets" will hold napkins, silverware, and anything else that could possibly blow away.

Be sure the patches are colorfast, so that you can continue to buds the cloth as usual in your washing machine.

Zonta Club Hears About Ham Radios

"The World of Ham Radio" was the topic of guest speaker Mitchell Bacow when members of the Zonta Club gathered at the Waldron Hotel for their Thursday luncheon.

Mr. Bacow explained how amateur radio operators can play a vital part in emergencies when a major disaster clogs communications. Two of his most rewarding experiences have been relaying messages from an injured boy in North Africa to his family in Salt Lake City, Utah and reporting to a family in Pontiac from a soldier wounded in the Korean conflict.

Mr. Bacow has talked with radio amateurs General Curtis LeMay, deputy commander of the U. S. Air Force, Major Francis H. Griswold of the U. S. Army, and Arthur Godfrey.

Mrs. W. O. Moll reported on the group's recent rummage sale, and Mrs. L. R. Sampson, on a project to raise funds for community services sponsored by the club.

Norman Dunn, chairman of the arrangements committee, took time off to have a cup of coffee with Mrs. Dunn at the breakfast Friday.

Shoe Buying Tips

BAY CITY, Mich. (INS) — Some tips on buying shoes:

Morey Cranmer of Bay City, a shoe salesman for 26 years, says wait until after 4 p.m to buy shoes. After spending a day on your feet they may stretch a full size.

Try on both shoes, Cranmer suggests, and walk around the store.

The Bay City salesman says that men buying work shoes should hold something heavy in their hands while being measured. That's the best way to simulate working conditions.

Central Methodist Scene of McEvoy-Ladd Rite

Central Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Margaret E. McEvoy and James F. Ladd this afternoon. Dr. Milton H. Bank performed the 4:30 p.m. ceremony in the presence of 250 guests.

MRS. JAMES F. LADD

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew D. McEvoy of Euclid avenue, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Ladd of Markle avenue.

For her wedding Margaret chose a gown of imported Italian silk accented by a scoop neckline, princess styled bodice, and long tapered sleeves with a front panel of Alencon lace. Her bouffant skirt formed a cathedral train, and the Alencon lace head piece was secured to a fingertip scalloped and hard rolled veil of French illusion. Pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, were her only jewelry, and she carried a white orchid on a prayer book with streamers.

For her duties as maid of honor Connie Ladd, sister of the bridegroom, wore an emerald green crystallette gown with princess styled lines, a bustle back bouffant skirt and matching head piece. Attendant, Audrey Ladd, also a sister of the bridegroom, wore a coral dress in the same style as that of the maid of honor. Both carried cascade arrangements of Fugi chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Ladd wore a rose beige silk princess styled dress with brown accessories and a yellow rose wrist corsage.

Before leaving on a trip to the New England states the new Mrs. Ladd changed to a beige wool jersey dress with brown accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bridegroom, a member of Beta Alpha Epsilon fraternity, was graduated from General Motors Institute. The couple will live on Rosshire Court.

Elastic Hosiery Gains Glamor

There are, in this country, some 8,000,000 women who need special stockings to give them support for the veins in their legs. This means that these women have a major beauty problem with which to deal.

These women will welcome brand new elastic stockings that offer both great leg control and a sheer appearance. It was this lack of sheerness that made such hosiery unattractive in the past.

The new stockings are made of helanca yarn in combination with nylon-covered rubber. They are full-fashioned and full-footed. They are also lighter in weight than the elastic stockings of the past.

Usually, elastic stockings come in two sizes. The new hosiery comes in six proportioned sizes. Because they're both sheer and full-fashioned, they don't need an additional pair of stockings as camouflage, the makers say.

Choose Mid-Heel

When you buy the new, narrow shoes with pointed toes, pick the mid-heel for your first pair rather than a very high heel. And choose a lightweight, pliable leather.

Finds One Retirement Enough

By BEULAH STOWE

"I was retired once — for eight months. But I couldn't stand it," said Mr. H. T., 50, an ad agency vice president.

Mr. T. retired at 49, with enough money to live happily ever after. He and his wife went to the West Coast to find their personal dreamland. They found the climate, the flowers and the leisure time they wanted. But Mr. T. missed one thing for which he found no satisfactory substitute: work.

He came back home and sold himself and a well-packaged idea to a national advertiser, pocketed the contract and associated himself with another advertising agency as a vice president.

Why didn't he like retirement? "No prizes, no competition, no excitement," he sums it up.

Can he retire again—successfully—when he's 65?

"Sure I can," says Mr. T. "That's 15 years from now. I may get tired of running before that. My wife and I both feel we have profited from our trial run. We'll know what we're doing and we'll be ready for it. I think I'll buy into a small business in some California town and build it into something big."

And if everyone, like Mr. T., could retire for eight months between the ages of 49-50 and then recoup—it might be easier to retire successfully at age 65.

Selling on the road, traditionally a young man's game, has possibilities for the man past 65, says Mr. Joseph Cullen.

After his retirement from a position with a large utility company he found a job with an electrical supply company, selling to retailers over a six-state area. Mr. Cullen drives his own car on his selling trips, and Mrs. Cullen goes along. No children at home to worry about—they're all grown. And while Mr. Cullen sells, Mrs. Cullen surveys the town with an eye to choosing a permanent home.

Sack Dress Can't Cover Her Legs

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS)—There's one part of the feminine figure that man can still ogle, even in the season of the sack dress —and that's legs.

All the new styles point toward the leg, after de-emphasizing the bust, obliterating the waist and ignoring the hips. Many of the slim silhouette styles are slightly pegged at the bottom of their short skirts. Others have button or similar detail at the hemline, some flare out into gentle accordion pleats, and the extreme bell and harem skirts are great for showing off shapely gams.

Seamless stockings are the answer, and the color depends entirely on what shade your costume is. It is particularly important to match your stockings to your outfit color if you are wearing shoes to match your suit or dress.

This isn't just a Paris decree. Mamie Eisenhower, who's as American as apple pie, loves to wear tinted stockings, particularly the alluring black tinted hose with black suits.

You can get almost any shade in the rainbow in sheers these days, or you can buy a commercial preparation and tint them yourself. But be careful just to tint—don't get too dark a shade.

Clean and Serene

Clean and serene — that's a worthy goal for home decorators. A house that's easy to keep clean — where everything is washable — is a joy to live in.

Heel Fit Important

Shoes with ill-fitting heels will leave their mark. Whether too loose or too tight, the heels will rub this sensitive spot, sometimes making it so tender that you wince at every step.

Family style chicken dinner will highlight the evening when members of Grace Lutheran Church gather for their bazaar to be held Nov. 8 at the church. Pictured above are, left to right, Mrs. William Rahn of Glendale avenue, Mrs. Leon Clendenin of Pontiac drive, Mrs. Otto Mielke of Loon Lake Shores, and Mrs. Lewis Loch of Anders street, who are getting set for their roles in the kitchen that night.

Monogram on Heirloom Table Linen

Bridegroom - to - Be Objects to Initials of Bride's Grandma

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have a number of exquisite banquet cloths with matching napkins of the finest linen, which were imported from Italy. These were my mother's and have her initials on them. I have offered them to my daughter who is engaged to be married and she would like very much to have them.

"However, her fiance thinks it would be most improper to use them in their future house because the initials on them will be different from theirs. He says that it would look as though they were using borrowed linens. May we have your opinion?"

Answer: Quite the contrary, she has every reason to point out with pride that this beautiful old table linen has come down to her from her grandmother.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be maid of honor at a friend's wedding shortly and I would like to know how to manage the bouquets during the ceremony. I know I ame supposed to hold the bride's bouquet, but what do I do with mine? Wouldn't be awkward to hold the two of them?"

Answer: You should be able to hold both bouquets easily unless they are enormous or so different in kind that they would be awkward to manage together. In this case you would hand your own bouquet to the bridesmaid who is standing nearest to you.

Or if there is no bridesmaid, you will have to lay your own bouquet on the floor — at the side where it won't be stepped on when you go forward to give back the bride's bouquet.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When dining in a restaurant, does a woman check her coat, or should she take it with her to the dining table? If she does check it, does she tip the hatcheck girl, or does the man she is with do this for her?"

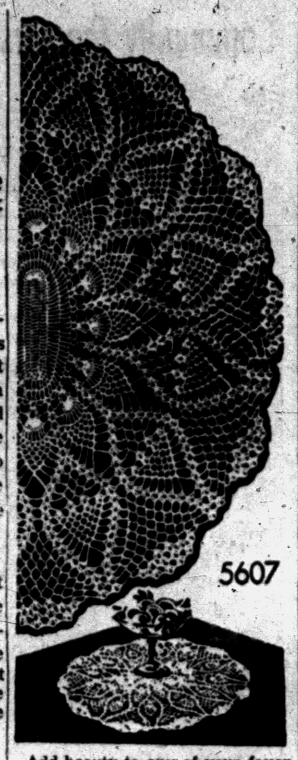

Answer: She may do whichever she prefers. If there is a separate cloakroom for ladies she should tip the attendant herself, but if it is checked along with the hat of the man she is with, he would do the tipping.

See Your Doctor

Bunions should be treated by a physician for best relief. Until you can get to a doctor, ease the discomfort by covering the area with a cotton pad soaked in witch hazel.

Hair Needs Styling

No matter how often you brush and shampoo your hair, it can still detract from your appearance. This is true if you neglect to have it properly cut and shaped to your most flattering style.

Add beauty to any of your favorite tables with this lovely oval centerpiece measuring 15"x17". It's quick and easy to crochet, and so nice for gift-giving.

One-Color Room Appears Larger

WASHINGTON (INS) — If you want a bedroom to look larger, paint the walls and woodwork the same light color.

This recommendation comes from the Institute of Real Estate Management, an affiliate of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Other tips from the institute:

Light colors will make a small room appear larger; dark colors will decrease its apparent size.

Kitchens and bathrooms, if small, will look larger and less cluttered if there is little or no contrast between walls, ceiling and trim. Color contrasts should be kept to curtains, accessories and flooring.

The general rules for using warm and cool colors:

Warm colors—like pastel yellow, cameo peach, dusky rose, maize buff, french beige—should be used in rooms receiving cool light, usually from north and east.

Ounce of Prevention Is Well Worthwhile

Avoid Complications With Colds

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Half the population will suffer from more than one cold this year. Only about 10 per cent escape at least one annual bout with the sniffles. Although a cold is not serious unless secondary complications arise, no malady is quite so annoying.

The running nose, the hacking cough, the sore throat and weeping eyes and the bronchial wheeze are not only the most unattractive conditions imaginable, but just about the most miserable.

Regardless of all of the amazing discoveries of science, the cause of colds has remained a mystery for years. It is suspected that a virus is the culprit and that the offender is always present in the throat but does not attack until our resistance is weakened by some factor.

Other bacteria such as penumonia may also be present but get the upper hand only after the tissues and membranes have become susceptible to them because of a cold.

Regardless of what one does, a cold usually runs its course. The main thing is to avoid complications. The treatment is much the same as ever. You should go to bed, eat a light diet, drink liquids copiously. Antihistamines seem to relieve some folks, but these should be taken only when your doctor prescribes them.

If your symptoms persist past the usual length of time for a cold, if your fever rises or you have any unusual occurrences, you should call your physician. An ounce of prevention and care is well worthwhile. It is foolish to tempt the more serious complications which sometimes follow a cold.

Half the population of the United States will suffer from more than one cold this year.

GOOD HABITS OF LIFE

As to prevention, our best bets are habits of life which keep our health at a high level. The right food and plenty of sleep and exercise help keep our resistance strong.

The habit of keeping rooms too hot weakens our defenses. Moderately warm homes and offices and sufficiently heavy clothing for the cold outdoors should be a part of your preventative measures.

Naturally, whenever possible, you should avoid those who have a cold. If a member of your family is a victim, destroy the tissues he uses and keep the patient as isolated as feasible.

I hope you at least cut down on your quota this year. I have quoted in this column the fact that a large dose of vitamin A, if taken at the first sign of a cold, works like magic with some people.

Others do not respond to this therapy. It does no one any good after the cold has gotten a real hold. You might ask your doctor about this.

MSU Expert Gives Rules for Power Mower

EAST LANSING (INS) — Power mowers, the joy of homeowners faced with huge lawns to cut, are not dangerous but can be handled in a dangerous manner.

That's the word of Dick Pfister, safety specialist at Michigan State University, who suggests these practices in power mower operation.

—Always disconnect the spark plug wire before making adjustments on any part of the cutter bar housing. Do not make any adjustments while the engine is running.

—Start the mower on level ground. Make sure your feet are away from the cutter bar or blade.

—Remove rocks, sticks, wire, and other possible obstructions from lawn before mowing.

Many Try on Hats

A hat shopping expedition calls for a shampoo upon return home. This is very logical for the person who wishes to maintain a healthy scalp. Consider the fact that other persons have been trying on the hats, too.

Convalescing at Pontiac General Hospital is Arthur Mastick of Hopkins street.

Keep Lawns Clean

Here's a clever idea on how to keep your lawn clean while holding a lawn party. Wash coffee cans, paint them red and scatter them throughout the lawn. Little signs or markers, made of clean sticks and stuck into the ground near the cans should be marked "Ash Tray."

Woman Spreads Cheer as She Buys Groceries

By RUTH MILLETT

The other day I pushed a supermarket cart behind a woman who effortlessly and graciously brought a smile of pleasure to half a dozen persons during the routine chore of buying groceries.

To the old man in the fruit and vegetable section, more used to complaints about price and quality than to compliments, she said, I don't know how you do it, but you always seem to have the freshest vegetables in town."

The old man smiled and his shoulders straightened as the woman pushed her cart around the corner and into the next aisle.

There she called to an acquaintance, "We saw Jim make that touchdown Friday night." Jim's mother beamed with pride as she answered: "Yes, he came home that night feeling 9 feet tall."

At the bakery counter she said to the pale, tired-looking woman behind the counter, "It's good to see you back. I asked what had happened to you when you weren't behind the counter and the girl at the check-out counter said you had been in the hospital. I was so sorry to hear it."

Right away the clerk's face brightened.

She was a happy-faced woman spreading a little friendliness as she went about doing a routine chore.

In the hurry and rush of getting through each day, how often we neglect the little acts of courtesy and kindness that come so naturally when we slow down enough to treat everyone we meet like a human being.

Spadea's American Designer Pattern

Design by Berin Blends Shapeless Look, Curves

From all reports the shapeless case is here to stay, but leave it to Harvey Berin to present the compromise that gives a woman's figure the feminine definition she prefers and still keep her at the top of the fashion ladder.

This is accomplished by using material on the bias for both the front and back, with clever front bodice darts and seaming to emphasize rather than erase contours. A two-piece dress that is easy to make, it has a double collar and a grosgrain ribbon tie.

Choose a dress-weight wool, faille, worsteds, linen, cotton or any fabric with a certain amount of body. For the top collar, use a contrast such as linen, pique, faille, velvet or satin.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
10	34	24	35	16½
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼
18	40	30	41	17½

Size 12 requires 4⅛ yards of 39-inch material for two-piece dress and three-eighths yard of 35-inch material for contrast.

To order Pattern 1213, send 50 cents — for Harvey Berin label, send 25 cents. For airmail service in U. S., add 25 cents per pattern. Sales tax extra.

Address Spadea, The Pontiac Press, Box 535, G.P.O., Dept. P-6, New York 1, N.Y. If paid by check, bank requires 4 cents handling charge.

Selling Helps Banish Bad Times

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Several years ago, a family I knew was going through a very trying time. You know the kind, illness, no money, loss of job, everything bad happening at once.

One day while I was visiting them, the father of the house said, with a wry grin, "Someday we'll look back on this and laugh — but anybody who laughs now will get his teeth knocked out!"

REALLY WONDERFUL

I often remember this when past bad times come to mind. It is wonderful, really, the way we can look back on past tragedies and laugh.

I remember, for example, when my little son was a very sick baby and my husband was on a destroyer in the South Pacific.

My mother-in-law, a real angel, moved in and took care of the baby while I went out and got a job.

It was a sales job, in a cosmetic shop, and it brought in the extra money we needed for treatments for the baby. It also got me out of my troubles and loneliness.

LEARNED A LOT

It taught me a great deal about people, too. I met hundreds of women of all kinds, from all walks of life, and learned a lot that still comes in handy today.

At the time, of course, it was a near tragedy! Yet I frequently find myself telling people some hilarious story about that perfectly amusing time when I was selling cosmetics.

Much of my mail comes from people who are now faced with some difficulty

They may desperately need extra money, or they have lost a dearly beloved husband, or they have some personality trait — like intense shyness — that is making them miserable.

I often advise that they do just as I did — get some kind of a sales job, if they can find a shop to hire them. If they're too old for that or can't work full-time, then direct selling will do nicely.

ROOM REFUSED

The reason is that troubles do tend to melt if we refuse to give them mental house room.

If you have full-time available for sitting and contemplating your sorry state, it'll really master you for a long time. But if you keep busy, especially with people, trouble will fade away.

And someday you'll be able to look back on it as a very interesting spell.

If you'd like to contemplate the direct sales field, I'll be glad to send you a list of the good reliable firms in the field. Just send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press.

Romeo Correspondent

ROMEO—The Rev. John G. Milburn, new vicar of St. Paul's Episcopal Church here, is a man, who with his wife and son, has known idyllic life on a West Indian island.

The genial clergyman said, "We moved to Barbuda Island from England five years ago because of my health. And contrary to the reactions of visitors to the island, who felt sorry for us, we were happy with our isolated existence."

Barbuda is one of the Leeward islands in the West Indies, 30 miles from Antigua. "It is a lonely, uncivilized place with no roads, no telephones and no conveniences whatever," the Rev. Mr. Milburn said.

"Our son Peter, now 12, was the only white child on the island. He went to a school with 300 Negro children in a tiny, two-room schoolhouse. All were taught by six semi-literate teachers," the minister recalled.

So fascinating is the Rev. Mr. Milburn's story that he has compiled his experiences in a recently completed book which he calls "The Travels of a Priest."

The next chapter reads almost like a movie script. A wealthy Texan visited the tropical isle and took an immediate liking to the Milburn family. He offered to take Peter to the United States, educate him and give him all the stateside advantages.

The Milburns thought it over and decided that their son had reached an age where his schooling was of great importance. They were prepared to allow Peter to spend the school year in Texas provided he could return to the island for his vacations.

"Soon after we made our decision we received a letter and a substantial check covering the whole family's expenses for a trip to Texas from our American friend," the British cleric said.

"We hadn't planned to come to the United States—we were considering either Australia or Canada because American movies had given us an unfavorable impression of this country. We thought the people here were boastful, arrogant and too aggressive for our tastes."

He hurried to correct this preconceived idea by saying, "Since we have been in the United States, some nine months now, we have met many delightful people — so sincere and so anxious to make us feel at home."

The greying Britisher was one of 30 clergymen to apply for the Romeo position in response to an advertisement in a weekly church magazine. Local parishioners have already found that he has a delightful sense of humor, charming manner and a number of accomplishments.

The Rev. Mr. Milburn is a gifted musician, proficient writer and especially talented in the art of cookery. Nothing pleases him more than to take over a kitchen and prepare a sumptious English meal complete from hors d'oeuvres to demi-tasse.

"My wife won't allow me in her kitchen. She says men are too messy when they cook," he said, as he basted the succulent roast chicken he had just pulled out of the oven.

Peter Ustinov Gives His Ideas on Critics

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I turned Peter Ustinov on one night recently and this big, bearded human talking machine played beautiful music on the subject of theater and TV critics.

WILSON

"And at the same time, if I say he stinks, that's my right."

With charming politeness, the star and playwright of "Romanoff and Juliet" indicated that it was his opinion that one or maybe two critics did stink, too, in their reviews . . . and he wasn't saying which (not for publication).

As for the Rex Harrison TV spectacular, "Crescendo," which he helped write, and which got panned, he said, "I still like the script."

"I was in Philadelphia and had a very capricious TV set," he said. "Rex always seemed to be at an angle, leaning out of one corner of it. Some of the words, which were pretty good I thought, I couldn't catch."

"Are you affected by what the critics say?" I asked.

"Only when you're young. Of course you can't help complaining of the hours you've put in on a play compared to 10 minutes a critic has put in on it.

"But it's only when a critic misquotes or garbles or misrepresents that you get angry."

And a critic or two did just that, he maintained — but added: "The ladies behind the grill are smiling" — then translated, "The ticket-sellers are happy."

Dulles in Hospital for Health Checkup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles entered Walter Reed Hospital for a routine health examination last night—one year after undergoing surgery for cancer.

An aide said Dulles, 69, would remain in the hospital overnight. A report on the examination—described as routine post-operative technique—was due today.

On Nov. 3, 1956, Dulles was operated on for the removal of a cancerous portion of the large intestine. His doctors said afterward they found no evidence the cancer might spread.

Since the surgery, Dulles has had a check-up every three months.

Gaines Scores 3 Touchdowns in First Half

Chiefs Score Lone TD in Final Period With Douglas Going Over

By BRUNO KEARNS

Defending Saginaw Valley champion Flint Northern, led by shifty Phil Gaines, struck hard and fast in the first half for all of its scoring to whip Pontiac 20-7 at Atwood Stadium last night, before 3,900 fans.

Gaines, a little 155-pound senior, shuffled like dancer and spun like a top in scoring all three Northern touchdowns. He also netted himself 111 yards from scrimmage.

The Chiefs stopped the Vikings from scoring in the second half and added their lone tally in the fourth period with halfback Larry Douglas going seven yards after he recovered a fumble on the Northern 13.

A poor punt of only 14 yards started Northern moving from its 43 yard line. In five plays, climaxed by Gaines' 26 yard dash, the Vikings scored and made it 7-0 as Jerry Nagy added the point.

Just as the second period started, Whitmer punted from his own 10. Collins took the kick on the 42 and handed off to Gaines who scampered down the sidelines for the touchdown to make it 13-0. Only nine seconds of the second period went by.

Five minutes later, another bad punt went only 14 yards and it was taken by Fred Wallace who raced from the 45 to the 17 before being stopped.

In three plays, Gaines went over from the two and Nagy added the point to take a 20-0 halftime lead.

Early in the second half, the Chiefs drove from their own 14 to the Northern 19 where they lost the ball on downs by just a yard. Key plays in the drive were a 32 yard run by Whitmer and a 20 yard pass play from Fred Staley to Mike Hardiman.

Just before the third period ended there was an exchange of fumbles and to start the 4th stanza Northern punted out on the PHS 24-yard line.

Neither team was able to penetrate deeply, but with three minutes to play, after a 50-yard punt forced the Vikings back to their own 20-yard line, Douglas fell on the fumble on the 13 and from here went on to score.

On the ensuing kickoff, Gaines fumbled as he was hit and Pontiac recovered on the Northern 36, but the official whistled the play dead and the Vikings got possession and held until the last 40 seconds.

Whitmer led Pontiac's running attack with 89 yards in 15 carries, and the big fullback was the best for the Chiefs defensively.

Gaines spun off would-be tacklers in 11 carries, while team mate Fred Wallace carried the tacklers with him for 68 yards in 11 attempts.

ON THE RECEIVING LINE

Dragons Subdue Troy, 20-7, for 1st Loop Crown

Drake, Neph and Niera Pace Triumph; Clawson Routs Avondale, 40-0

By BILL CORNWELL

They had a big celebration in Lake Orion last night — and for good reason.

Orion High's classy Dragons caused the happy demonstration by defeating visiting Troy, 20-7, to win the 1st Oakland B League championship in the school's history.

Nick Niera, Jim Drake, Doug Storey, Jim Neph, or any other Dragon gridder you care to name —it doesn't make much difference — they're alll heroes as far as Orion rooters are concerned.

The Dragons won their title the hard way. They let the stubborn Colts push them into a 7-0 hole then came roaring back to win going away.

Their impressive victory was their 6th without loss, the 5th and last in Oakland B action, and squashed defending champion Clawson's only hope of sharing the title gravy.

Clawson did its best to stay in the running by crushing winless Avondale, 40-0, but Troy, which also had a chance to divide the honors, was unable to cope with the speed and diversity of Lake Orion's attack.

Niera, the cool-under-fire quarterback; Drake, a fleet-footed halfback, and Neph, another speed merchant, sparked the Dragons to their all-important win.

It was Niera's pin-point passing that enabled Orion to tie the score at 7-7 just before the 1st half ended. Neph, who was the workhorse of the ground assault, tallied the touchdown that put them ahead. And Drake squelched Troy once and for all with a dazzling punt runback.

Troy's lone touchdown was set up on the final play of the 1st period when quarterback Wayne Figley returned a punt to the Orion 24. The Colts scored in 13 plays with Figley cracking over from the one-foot line. Dave Stokes knifed over tackle for the extra point.

Orion tied the count with only 18 seconds left in the half. Storey recovered a fumble on the Colt 48 and the Dragons took to the air.

Niera hit Drake for 22 yards, putting the ball on the 26. Four plays later he found Drake again and this time the flashy runner went 26 yards to score. Niera passed to end Jack Schaeffer for the tying point.

The Dragons marched 45 yards for their 2nd TD. With nearly four minutes gone in the 4th quarter, Neph climaxed the drive by bulling across from one yard out.

Drake applied the finishing touch about three minutes later. He gathered in a Troy punt on the Orion 15 and outraced the Colt defenders for a dazzling 85-yard touchdown sprint. Niera's pass to Schaeffer made the extra point.

Avondale went down to its 6th straight setback at the hands of Clawson as John Volk and Dave Rehse each tallied twice in the 1st half to pace the massacre.

Volk scored on dashes of 70 and 25 yards while Rehse had jaunts of 35 and 5. Dick Schreder scooted 30 yards for a TD in the 3rd period and Pat Hanes finished the rout by running 90 with an intercepted pass.

In non-league games Friday night, Royal Oak Kimball whitewashed Fitzgerald, 33-0, and Madison fell before Garden City, 25-7.

Southfield Wins First I-L Crown, 21-0

Southfield High School came to life in time to win its first Inter-Lakes Conference football crown Friday afternoon at Southfield.

Outplayed for almost three quarters, the favored Bluejays turned on all of their pent-up power to conquer a spirited Farmington team 21-0 in their title showdown yesterday.

With big Jim Zurcher and halfback Tom Ridley setting the example, the Jays' vaunted offense suddenly exploded and they rolled to three touchdowns in the 4th quarter for a convincing triumph.

Once the landslide started, it was like a snowball going down hill. Southfield's superior weight and speed began to assert itself and the outmanned Falcons became visibly tired during the last-period onslaught.

It was Farmington's final bid to score that ignited the Jay attack. The Falcons drove to the Southfield 28 in the waning minutes of the 3rd period. There they fumbled and Zurcher recovered.

The Jays marched 72 yards in 13 plays with the 250-pound Zurcher smashing the final yard. Dick Jusino placekicked the 1st of his three perfect conversions.

Not content to rest on a 7-0 lead, the Jays re-entered pay-dirt 2½ minutes later. Ed Mariuz intercepted a pass by Farmington's Al LeSage on the Falcon 29 and the Jays capitalized as the speedy Ridley dashed 26 yards for a TD.

Southfield scored its last touchdown with two minutes left. Bob Filar spotted Ridley in the clear and hit him with a TD pass covering 25 yards. It was the Jays' only aerial attempt all day.

With deceptive Dave Catherman carrying the brunt of the offense, the Falcons twice threatened to score in the 1st half. They lost the ball on downs each time, once on the Southfield 28 and later on the 24. As an example of their spirit, they were on the Jay 39 when the game ended.

The hard-earned victory preserved the Jays' unbeaten record. They now have six wins and one tie.

In Inter-Lakes contests under the lights, Walled Lake spoiled Berkley's Homecoming with a lopsided 46-18 decision and sagging Waterford bowed to Van Dyke 13-0.

Walled Lake gave its finest offensive performance of the year while drubbing the Bears. Three sparkling punt returns and an aerial strike were among the Vikings' seven touchdowns.

A two-yard plunge by Frank Fink, Bill Havel's 24-yard pass to Jim Pierce, a one-yard smash by Mike Wurst and punt runbacks of 66 yards by Don Yeargan and 65 by Don Rounds handed the Vikings a comfortable 33-6 halftime lead.

Fink's 80-yard punt return and Wurst's 40-yard gallop completed the romp.

Van Dyke got its 1st win of the season at the expense of the Skippers. Larry Rubel's three-yard run in the 3rd period and an eight-yard scamper by Charley Day in the 4th stanza accounted for the Abes' two tallies.

EMERGENCY CONFERENCE — Lake Orion's board of strategy, quarterback Nick Niera and head coach Ted Sela, took time out for a conference after the Dragons found themselves trailing Troy, 7-0, in their Oakland B game Friday at Orion. The Dragons rallied to whip Troy, 20-7, and win the league championship.

Lakers Whip Barons 24-0; Holly Wins

By CHUCK ABAIR

It looks like the nip-and-tuck race which has existed all season in the Wayne-Oakland League will go right down to the final whistle before the champion is decided with three schools still in line for the top prize.

Once-beaten West Bloomfield, and unbeaten Holly and Northville, the 1956 winner, prepped for some big showdown battles coming up during the next two weeks by scoring impressive victories last night.

The Lakers, who now have two weeks to get ready for their shot at Northville, handed Bloomfield Hills its 5th successive setback by a 24-0 count led by senior Alvin Dubois playing his final home game for the Green and White.

Holly romped with ease after a scoreless opening quarter to wallop Clarenceville 29-0 while Northville was defeating Clarkston 28-13. End Terry Anderson garnered all the points as Milford blanked Brighton 19-0 in the other W-O tilt.

West Bloomfield's Dubois had the best night of his career. He scored two touchdowns on runs of three and 22 yards and passed to end Dave Deacon for a 3rd. Al compiled an 8.9 running average gaining 80 yards in nine carries.

Ross Fockler also picked up 80, running 10 times. John Lucadem excelled at quarterback and threw a TD pass to Ken Armstrong. The deepest Bloomfield penetration was to the two as the half ended.

Bob Letson's two touchdowns sparked Holly, while at Northville it was a case of a big early lead paying off. The Mustangs were ahead 21-0 but had to hold off a Clarkston rally to win 28-13. Jim Jenson highlighted the Wolves' comeback with a 62-yard punt return for a tally and a TD pass to Leroy Parks. Holly hosts Northville next.

Pat Kelley chalked up two more scoring passes as Milford closed its home slate with its best defensive performance of the season stopping Brighton three times inside the 15.

Maples Shock Port Huron 11

Birmingham Pulls 13-7 Surprise; Parkers Rip Ferndale, 33-7

Birmingham ended its Eastern Michigan League football campaign on a happy note Friday night at Birmingham by toppling favored Port Huron, 13-7. It was the Maples' 3rd loop victory in five starts.

Touchdowns by quarterback Dave Ritchie gave the Maples a 13-0 halftime lead and they held off the rallying Big Reds after intermission to post their 2nd straight upset. Last week they surprised East Detroit, 14-12.

Fullback Chuck Gibson set up Birmingham's 1st touchdown in the 1st quarter with a 64-yard gallop to the Port Huron one from where Ritchie sneaked across. The Maples marched 87 yards in the 2nd period for their winning margin with Ritchie again going over from the one. Ed Estes converted after the 1st TD.

Port Huron scored its lone TD in the 3rd period when Len Falkner returned Phil Isbell's punt 70 yards into pay-dirt.

Hazel Park took over undisputed possession of 1st place in the EML with a 33-7 rout of Ferndale at Hazel Park. Jim Wellington scored three times and Tony Palise and Oscar Lewis once each for the unbeaten Vikings. Roger Sutton tallied Ferndale's only TD.

Collapsing East Detroit suffered its 3rd straight defeat, a 21-12 loss to lowly Mt. Clemens on the East Detroit gridiron.

Rookie Goalie Gets NHL Telecast 'Spot'

Marcel Paille, 24, donned the pads for the New York Rangers against the Boston Bruins at Madison Square Garden. The game, which started at 3 p.m., EST, was carried on 125 stations of the CBS network. The telecast was seen in all 48 states.

Halas Ridicules Idea

Macias, Halimi Fight 'Gate' May Be Record

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Prospects appeared fairly bright today that a couple of jockey-sized boxers will challenge or beat the all-time record for a fight gate in California.

The highly-prized miniatures are Raul (Raton) Macias, the idol of Mexico, and Alphonse Halimi of La Belle, France who battle next Wednesday night at Wrigley Field for the undisputed bantamweight title. Europe recognizes the Frnchman as champ, and Macias is recognized in America.

Advance sale has been great, according to the promoters.

Promoter Cal Eaton who says he has $100,000 already in the till, predicted the bout will draw more than $200,000, close to the California record of $233,000 drawn by Sugar Ray Robinson and Bobo Olson.

END OF THE LINE — An unidentified Southfield ball carrier has reached the end of the line during this bit of action in yesterday's Inter-Lakes showdown at Southfield. No. 22 is Farmington's Glen Ekey. The Jays defeated Farmington, 21-0, to win the Inter-Lakes title.

Tri-County Title Near for Rochester

The surprising Rochester Falcons had the 1st Tri-County League title virtually clinched today following a convincing 26-6 blasting of Romeo at the Bulldog Homecoming last night.

★ ★ ★ ★

Rochester, with four straight wins since an opening setback, has only weak L'Anse Creuse to get by its final at home next Friday to clinch the crown.

The Falcons had to overcome a 6-0 deficit to win last night and they did so with plenty to spare.

Butch Dallwitz' connected with Gary Douglas on a 60-yard pass play to give Romeo the lead but it only served to fire up the visitors.

★ ★ ★ ★

Rochester drove 70 yards to start the 2nd quarter with Carl Montross passing to Mike Hart for the last eight. Montross kicked the extra point that put the Falcons ahead to stay.

A bad pass from center and two pass interceptions set up the other tallies that added icing to the cage for winning coach Gene Konley and his gridders.

Dave Hecht added the final trio of six-pointers on plunges of one, two and three yards.

Rochester is unbeaten in loop play following triumphs over Lapeer and Romeo on successive weeks. It was Romeo's 1st Homecoming loss in history.

Lamprey Experiment Called Successful

RODGERS CITY (AP) Fishery experts said today preliminary evaluations indicate results of a recent test of a chemical compound to control sea lampreys in Great Lakes waters were "very successful."

The report was issued by the Great Lakes Fishery Commission and the U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

J. W. Moffett, chief of the Great Lakes Fishery investigation for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, said the test was carried out this week in Little Billie's Creek which empties into Duncan Bay on Lake Huron near Cheboygan, Mich.

Examination of caged lamprey control specimens, Thursday, indicated a 92 per cent kill of lampreys resident in the stream, Moffett said.

In 19 seasons as football coach at Alfred University, Coach Alex Yunevich's teams have won 95 games, lost 37 and tied 6. Alex formerly played for Purdue.

New Haven Dumps Dryden

Almont Wins Thumb Title

It's all over in the Southern Thumb prep football league's title race. Almont ran its consecutive win streak to 15 and its season string to seven with a 45-6 victory over hapless Capac. Friday's home game was the home finale for the Raiders who close the year against Dryden in a Friday game next week. Almont's league record is now 5-0.

In other Southern Thumb games New Haven edged Dryden in a free-scoring contest, 32-20, with 19 NH points coming in the 2nd period, while Dryden's Cardinals came back in the 3rd with 14. Rockets banged across two tallies in the finale to nail the win. Brown City and Armada played a scoreless tie in a heavy fog.

Raiders put over three TDs in the 1st, one in the 2nd, two in the 3rd and the final in the fourth session. Capac scored in the last period. Jim Ostrander (2), Gary Emery, Jim Johnson (2), Dick Howe and Frank Hartway made Almont's counters, and Dave Griffin (2) and Jim Ostrander added extra points.

New Haven's points were made by Nate Petty (40 on pass), Tom Kamley, Fred Diescery (int. 40 yards), Narron Lee (pass 10 yards) Keith Griffin (loose ball, 60 yards), Curt Slater, Gary Howell and Herb Sawle made Dryden TDs.

NFL Leaders in Tough Tests

Lions Must Win for Deadlock in Western Sector

49ers Hold Four Game Winning Streak Since Losing Opener

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Browns and San Francisco 49ers, leaders in the conference races of the National Football League, face stiff tests on their home grounds Sunday as the circuit completes the first half of its 1957 schedule with a full six-game program.

In the other games, the Pittsburgh Steelers will be at Baltimore, the New York Giants at Green Bay, the Chicago Bears at Los Angeles and Philadelphia faces the Cards at Chicago.

The 4-1 record for Cleveland and 2-3 for Washington may be misleading. Last year the Redskins won both games from the Browns. In addition Eddie LeBaron and company really opened up last weekend and trounced the highly favored Giants 31-14.

The Browns, who moved into undisputed possession of first place last Sunday by virtue of their triumph over the Cards and the Giants' setback, have lost only to Philadelphia—by 17-7 two weeks ago.

San Francisco dropped its opening game to the Cards and has come on strong to win its last four. The 49ers just squeezed past the bears 21-17 last Sunday.

The Lions, bitter disappointments to Detroit's followers, will be seeking to make amends by trouncing the coast team. Apparently, dissension stemming from the Leon Hart controversy has hurt the Lions more than their NFL opponents.

Still, Detroit shares the Western Conference's runner-up spot with Baltimore and could conceivably move into a first place tie when competition is over tomorrow. The Lions and Colts each are 3-2 for the year and San Francisco is 4-1.

A lot hinges on the Baltimore-Pittsburgh game. The Steelers are deadlocked with the Giants for second place in the Eastern. A victory for the Colts coupled with one by Detroit over San Francisco will result in a triple tie for the lead in the Western half.

The Giants will invade Green Bay for the first time since 1949. The teams met last in 1952 when the Packers won 17-3 in New York. The Giants, last year's champions, appeared formidable until Washington knocked them off a week ago. Green Bay, after blowing three in succession, surprised Baltimore 24-21 last Sunday.

PCL OK's Legal Move

May Sue Nationals

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (INS) — Pacific Coast League directors yesterday decided to sue the National League for damages if the Giants and the Dodgers fail to meet PCL demands for compensation for the loss of San Francisco and Los Angeles baseball territories.

PCL president Leslie O'Connor disclosed the decision following his league's annual meeting attended by Horace Stoneham, president of the San Francisco Giants, and E. J. (Buzzy) Bavasi, vice president of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

O'Connor, describing the session as "pistol at our heads negotiations," said the National League representatives took the position that "they are not financially obligated."

He said negotiations would continue but added:

"I am authorized (by the directors) to institute appropriate proceedings designed to obtain declaratory judgments as to the rights and obligations of the Pacific Coast League as well as the rights and obligations of the majors."

The amount of money involved, O'Connor said, was not discussed "as this would depend on whether the Coast League can reorganize in time to play the 1958 season."

Representatives of cities that want a Coast League team were permitted to speak their pieces at the meeting. They included mayor Adiel F. Stewart of Salt Lake City and city councilman Pat Ahern of Long Beach.

The Giants have already proposed to move the homeless San Francisco Seals to Phoenix.

PCL approval is required before the Angel move can be carried out.

O'Connor said the PCL might not have to go to court because a National League rule requires that compensation be paid when a major league club moves into a minor league territory.

But he added that if court action becomes necessary another purpose of the case would be to obtain a legal opinion on whether the PCL would be required to submit to findings of an arbitration board.

As for the future of the PCL, O'Connor said "whether we operate next year depends on whether we can reorganize the league."

Tough Road for Lakers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big George Mikan is finding out the hard way that there's loads of difference between coaching and playing.

He used to be the toast of all Minneapolis when he was tossing points in for the Lakers from all angles.

Now, as coach of the NBA club, he can't find a winning combination, and last night the Lakers went down to their third loss of the season without a triumph. This time they were victimized by the Syracuse Nationals 113-100.

The Lakers, who led just twice, were in the game until the fourth period when the Nats suddenly dropped in 14 straight points to pull to a 16-point lead.

Larry Foust of the Lakers was high scorer with 24 points although he hurt his ankle near the end.

In the other NBA game, the Cincinnati Royals survived a shaky first half and whipped the St. Louis Hawks, 99-92.

The Hawks' Bob Pettit gave the rest of the league Hawkeyes something to shoot at when he dropped in 45 points—high for the season. Clyde Lovellette hit for 26 points for the Royals, who head the western division.

Mikes Seek Roamin' Jug Tonight Against RO 11; Rams Away Sunday

St. Michael will shoot for its 4th victory in six games here tonight when the Shamrocks meet Royal Oak St. Mary in their annual Dad's Night-Homecoming football battle at Wisner Stadium. Game time is 8 p.m.

At stake will be the Roamin' Jug, a traveling award held each year by the winner of the St. Mike-RO St. Mary contest. The jug was instituted in 1950 and the Mikes retained it every year until last season when the Irish won, 12-0.

The Shamrocks are heavily favored to down their Suburban Catholic League foe, winless in five starts.

St. Frederick, hoping to bounce back from last Sunday's loss to St. Benedict, tackles league-leading St. Rita tomorrow afternoon at Hazel Park.

Other SCL games Sunday are St. Clement at Orchard Lake St. Mary and St. Benedict at Ferndale St. James.

10,000 Home Folks Greet Burdette

NITRO, W. Va. (AP)—World Series hero Lew Burdette went back to his home town last night and got a rousing welcome from 10,000 ogling admirers.

It was a far cry from the three-quarter million frantic fans who turned out to welcome the Milwaukee Braves when they returned there after beating the New York Yankees in the Series last month.

But this town of some 3,000 persons located about 15 miles west of Charleston rolled out the carpet for all it was worth. And Burdette thought it was great.

He rode with his wife near the head of a parade two miles long. The fans along the 36-block parade route cheered, waved and whistled their greetings to the Braves' great right hander, who defeated the Yankees three times, including two shutouts.

Burdette, 30, also made pals with Gov. Cecil Underwood, who is only four years his senior.

Underwood said he might vacation next February in Florida. Since Burdette now makes his home at Sarasota, Fla., he told the governor "we have enough boats to take care of you" in case Underwood wants to go fishing.

"Who was the toughest Yankee batter you faced?" one wanted to know.

"Tony Kubek," Burdette replied with good reason. "He got the most hits off me and he can play any position equally well."

Asked if he'd signed a contract for 1958 yet, he said, "No, but I don't anticipate any trouble. I don't expect to be a holdout."

Bay City, Midland Aces Spark Teams to Easy Victories

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mike Westley of Midland and Jerry Gross of Bay City Central, two rifle-armed quarterbacks who are waging a red-hot battle for the class A all-state team, sparked their teams to impressive triumphs Friay night

Westley, who is just as big a running threat as he is passing, frustrated Bay City Handy with his ball-handling wizardry and his running as the No. 1 Chemics rolled to a 53-0 triumph, their seventh without a setback.

Westley scored on a 51-yard run and halfback LeeRoy added three touchdowns as the Chemics nailed down their second straight Arrowhead Conference championship. Handy penetrated no deeper than the Midland 29.

Gross, who is just a junior, hit on 16 of 22 aerials for 284 yards and four touchdowns as the Wolves routed Saginaw 41-0. Central, ranked No. 2 in the Associated Press weekly rankings and beaten only by Midland, won this Saginaw Valley conference tussle easily.

Gross now has thrown 16 touchdown passes in seven games, completing 65 of 101 for 1,294 yards.

Webb Wins on TV

NEW YORK (INS) — Spider Webb, seventh ranked middleweight contender from Chicago, scored a unanimous 10-round decision over Willie Vaughn of Los Angeles last night in a nationally televised fight at Madison Square Garden. Webb, who won 25 of his 27 bouts, spotted his opponent two pounds at 158½.

TOUCHDOWN PRELIMINARY — This 2nd quarter play set the stage for Lake Orion's 1st touchdown in last night's Oakland B League battle with Troy at Lake Orion. The Dragons' Jim Drake (center) latches on to a pass from Nick Niera as Troy gridders Chuck Steele (24) and Chuck Beach (27) move up. The aerial gained 22 yards and the Niera-Drake combination scored on a 26-yarder four plays later. Orion won the Oakland B crown with a 20-7 victory.

Imlay Clinches Share of Title; Blanks Oxford

Blanking Oxford 20-0 in its final South Central League contest, Imlay City last night clinched at least a share of the crown. The Spartans held the upper hand all the way, with the Wildcats never getting within the winners' 30-yard stripe. Oxford had a minus 10 yards rushing in the first half, compared to Spartans' 102. Game was played in a fog so dense coaches were unable to see the yard markers across the field.

Don Coenen, Rog Lomerson; Jerry Billiet and Gordon Hoeksema made the TDs and Lomerson added an extra point.

Ortonville scored twice in the 2nd period to edge Millington 12-6, and North Branch went outside the loop to wallop Memphis of the Southern Thumb 20-7. Ted Follis and Charles Graves scored for the Blackhawks. George Kish made Millington's counter. Bob Morse, Bernie Radzwoin (2) scored for Broncos and Dunsmore went over for the Yellow Jackets.

Underhill's Two TD's Pace South Lyon Victory

Talented Tom Underhill ran the opening kickoff back 70 yards for a touchdown and scored again in the 3rd quarter on a 20-yard dash as South Lyon downed Homer 13-6 last night.

The game, arranged between the schools recently when both came up with open dates, was the 1st home setback in six years for Homer.

Ike Will Watch Army and Colgate

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — If Army defeats Colgate today as it figures to do, President Eisenhower could very well become the Cadets permanent mascot. The presence of the nation's chief executive seems to insure victory for Army football forces.

A week ago he saw the Army 150-pound team defeat the Navy 7-0 at Annapolis. Yesterday he watched part of the game as the Cadets 150-pounders rolled over Penn 46-6 for their fourth straight victory and then his presence inspired the Plebes to a 12-7 comeback triumph over the Colgate frosh.

The President, here for a reunion of the class of '15 as well as today's game, followed play in both games walking up and down the sidelines during pouring rain.

Princeton Mourns Death of Caldwell

PRINCETON, N.J. (INS) — Charley Caldwell, whose slick single-wing made Princeton a football power in the T-formation era, is dead of cancer at 56.

The former Tiger fullback succumbed yesterday in University Hospital where he was admitted on Monday.

Princeton campus was plunged into mourning and president Robert Goheen announced the establishment of a memorial fund in Caldwell's honor to be used for increasing Princeton's athletic facilities.

Question Dulles on Secrecy Lid

Committee to Ask Why Warehouse With Gifts for Officials 'Classified'

WASHINGTON (UP) — A congressional committee has called on Secretary of State Dulles to explain why a secrecy lid has been clamped on a warehouse where gifts from foreign dignitaries to U.S. officials are stored.

★ ★ ★ ★

In a letter to Dulles, Chairman Moss (D-Calif) of the House Government Information subcommittee said he understood newsmen were told the building is "classified," and he said the subcommittee wants some answers.

The existence of the warehouse has not been a secret, but it has received increased attention as a result of the gift of an automobile to the family of Victor Purse, a State Department official. The car was a present from King Saud of Saudi Arabia.

In his letter yesterday, Moss asked Dulles: "Who owns these gifts? Are they public property? Who pays the rent for their storage?"

It continued:

"The subcommittee has found on numerous other occasions that federal officials, because they feel that something may be slightly embarrassing, are prone to sweep it under the rug of secrecy. . . .

"The subcommittee also will appreciate your explanation of why these gifts are placed in a classified status and what possible bearing they might have on the national security."

The State Department has indicated it does not want to talk about the 6,000 gifts which have collected in the warehouse over the year. The presents were given by foreign officials, usually in appreciation for activities of government employes.

Purse, who was deputy chief of protocol for the State Department, has been moved to another post in the Department. The car was said to have no bearing on the transfer.

At a news conference yesterday, Lincoln White, State Department press officer, acknowledged that the warehouse is classified as a security secret. He said the gifts are "simply held in trust," and that "they don't belong to anybody until a decision is made whether to accept them."

Rubbish Worker Buried Beneath 5 Tons of Debris

GLENDALE, Calif. (UP) — While helping unload rubbish from the back of a dump truck, Richard Alegria lost his footing and toppled into the refuse pit. The truck's load of debris—five tons of it — spilled on top of him.

Alegria, 31, was completely buried under the trash yesterday. The truck drove away from the city incinerator pit. The crew Alegria was working with failed to notice he was missing.

A huge power shovel began eating into the trash that covered Alegria. Load after load was lifted and dropped into the white-hot incinerator.

Finally the shovel's jaws bit into the debris and clamped shut six inches above the trapped rubbish worker. Another rip by the shovel and Alegria would have been dropped into the incinerator — or mangled in the jaws.

Instead, the shovel merely uncovered Alegria, who climbed to safety. He was treated for abrasions.

Nixon Wins Break in Presidential Bid

WASHINGTON (UP)—There will be no presidential primary collisions between Vice President Nixon and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) outside of California in 1960, authoritative sources here say.

Knowland's decision, reported to have been communicated to close Washington associates, was seen as a break for Nixon in his own obvious but unannounced campaign for the 1960 presidential spot.

Any 1960 moves by Knowland still would hinge on whether he wins the California governorship next year—an objective which appeared until recently to be possible only after a tough, intra-party struggle with incumbent Gov. Goodwin Knight.

Knight, reportedly intends to seek the Senate seat Knowland is vacationing, leaving a clear field for Knowland in the California gubernatorial primary.

Friends say Knowland has not made up his mind about trying for the big prize in 1960, and arrived at his primaries decision without consulting Nixon.

Big Philippine City Under Police Control

MANILA (UP)—One of the Philippines' largest cities was placed under police constabulary control today as President Carlos P. Garcia and other officials moved quickly to check an outbreak of pre-election violence which killed five men.

The commission on elections announced it and the constabulary were taking over control of Iloilo City on the island of Panay because city officials engaged in illegal campaign activities.

The commission said it was also considering taking control of several other cities, including several on Garcia's home island of Bohol, where five died and three were wounded in a gunfight yesterday.

Flu Epidemic Slackens

DETROIT (UP) — The Asian flu epidemic appears to be slackening in Detroit, Dr. Joseph G. Molner, city health commissioner, reported. But he warned that the city can expect a second wave of the disease in February or March. The current outbreak has caused 29 deaths in Detroit. The latest victim was Anthony P. Logis, 65, who died Monday.

Hailed as Hero for Saving Boy on Moving Train

Maier was awarded for his Sept. 29 resuce of Johnny Powell, 10, in the Pennsylvania Railroad Yards.

Witnesses said Donald climbed a freight car to rescue Johnny who had brushed against a high-tension wire while playing atop the car. Just then the car began moving and Donald held young Powell flat so he would not contract the wire again as the train passed through a tunnel.

Your Neighbor's House

Aldersons Like Tri-Level

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Getting a family of five children settled in a new home and in new schools is a full time job. The Clifford Aldersons, former Bay City residents, moved to Oakland county the end of June. Their family includes Sharon, 16; Jerry, 14; Gary, 13; Randy, 10; and Tim, 7.

They chose a tri-level home in Huron Woods, a new subdivision on the south shore of Long Lake, west of Union Lake road. Here the lots are large and much of the surrounding area is state recreation land that will never be built up.

The subdivision residents have lake privileges so the youngsters had a pleasant summer of swimming. Now they're settled in school (four schools for the five children!) and Mrs. Alderson has time to breathe.

Built on the last street west in Huron Woods, the Alderson house is coral brick with coral wood trim. The upper story is frame, also painted coral. There is a two-car attached garage at the front.

Because her sink and work counter were placed against a blank wall so that she had her back to the window while working, Mrs. Alderson had a mirror mounted on this wall. Now she can see the out-of-doors reflected and have extra light on her work.

In the dining room the floor is covered with tile in a brown and beige tweedy looking pattern. Walls, like those in the living room, are pale sandalwood. For decoration Mrs. Alderson has used four gilt and black panels depicting the four seasons.

A long green sofa faces the picture window. Near the fireplace is a large green lounge chair. There is also a red platform rocker and an armless upholstered chair. Tables and the television set are blond. Lamps have brass trim.

On the upper level all the floors are tile in the tweed pattern. The bathroom combines coral and gray. The floor and wall tile are coral while the upper walls and fixtures are gray. There is a double sink vanity. Curtains are coral.

The lower level has a recreation room and two work rooms. One of the latter has laundry and heating equipment. The other has a stove and freezer. Here Mrs. Alderson does all her canning and freezing. The floor is striking in black and gray tiles.

WOODSY VIEW — Anyone who sits on the sofa at the left has a pleasing view of lawn and woods outside. The Alderson home is built on the last street in the subdivision and has state recreation land bordering it. Sandalwood walls and brown tweed carpeting blend well. The draperies have coral, green, brown and gold designs. Lamps are brass trimmed.

Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Vanderwerp

DINING AREA — This space for dining is plenty large enough for the seven Aldersons to gather at a meal. The limed oak drop leaf table can extend out into the living room if necessary. Curtains match those in the living room. The gilt and black wall panels depict the four seasons.

RIGHT FOR KIDS — This recreation room on the ground level of the Alderson house is furnished so that school agers can have fun without having to be too careful. There is plenty of light from windows on three sides. Curtains have bright prints on them. The floor is black and white tile.

SMART WOMAN — Mrs. Alderson didn't like facing a blank wall while she did the dishes. So she had a large round mirror mounted above the sink. This reflects the other side of the room and the outside through the windows. Walls in this room are green. Cabinets are light finished birch with steel handles. The sink is a double one.

THE FIRST UNIT — The Reverend W. Cadman Prout, his wife and two daughters lived in this little house on Williams Lake road during the summer months. Now they occupy it only weekends. It is the first part of their permanent home which, when done, will have three bedrooms, another bath, living room, den and laundry room. Most of the work they did themselves. The exterior is rough sided buff brick. The Prouts have fifteen acres of land around their house.

Aluminum Roof Will Last Forever

PITTSBURGH, Pa. —Endurance, beauty, and freedom from maintenance are the outstanding characteristics of a new aluminum roof announced today by Aluminum Company of America.

The roof is one of many new ideas featured in Alcoa's Care-free Home, a model dwelling now on exhibition in 24 locations throughout the United States.

Featuring a pebble texture, the new aluminum roof is of batten-seam construction. For the Care-Free Home, it is covered with a light blue film. However, Alcoa states that such a roof could be made available in a variety of colors for residential use.

The aluminum roof for the Care-free Home is actually a roofing skin, which is applied over the standard construction of joists and a plywood deck. Installation is extremely simple.

H-shaped strips are laid on their sides and fastened to the roof by clips at three-foot intervals. Large aluminum sheets are laid between the strips so that their slightly upturned edges butt against the cross member of the "H".

The top edge, or flange of the "H", is then crimped down over the edge of the aluminum sheet with a special crimping tool.

Installation is rapid and easy. Each large aluminum sheet covers a big area, and yet is so light that a man can carry it effortlessly.

Yet, the roof reflects heat, making the home's interior up to 20 degrees cooler than residences covered with traditional roofs. And despite popular conceptions, noise from a rain or hail storm has been virtually eliminated.

In the Care-free Home, the roof also features a central vent arrangement. All vents from and laundry are brought up through one central roof housing, eliminating the need for numerous pipes protruding from the roof.

Alcoa states that this roof will last a lifetime without maintenance or painting problems. The roof is another of the new ideas in home construction being presented to the public through construction of the Care-free Home.

Darkest Before Dawn!

"Tight" money may be a blessing in disguise to prospective home buyers, according to the United States Savings and Loan League. The League said that in periods of high national prosperity, the ultimate effect of somewhat tighter credit is to produce better values for the home buyer, and give him more house for his money.

Quality Sought by Homeowners

Many of these homes approach the obsolete stage, but their owners aren't buying new ones until builders offer the right quality features to them.

With their average income over $5,000 (and a third of these with incomes over $8,000) they are willing to move, but only if and when they are provided the following musts:

1. Larger suburban and rural sites.

2. Quality, as expressed by extensive use of durable materials such as hardwood and ceramic tile.

3. Open-planned interiors. Owners want to get away from the feeling of rooms as boxes.

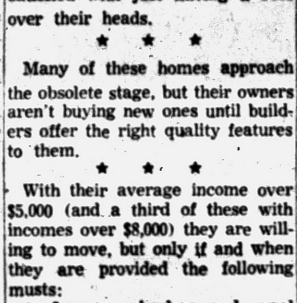

4. More bedrooms per house. Four shouldn't be unusual in today's medium-priced range.

5. More than one ceramic tile bath.

6. Insulation to cut fuel bills in winter and cool the interior in the summer.

7. Kitchens with built-in facilities including refrigerators arranged under single countertops of an easy-to-clean material like glazed tile.

8. Flow of space and traffic from house to patio and garden.

UNIT SHELVES AND DESK may be arranged in different ways to fit your space. More shelves may be made as needed. Pattern 270 for the shelf and rounded end sections, 271 for the corner unit, 272 for the desk, give actual-size cutting guides where needed and illustrated construction steps. These patterns are 25 cents each. Add 10 cents service charge to your order.

Architect Helps Reduce Costs in Building Homes

Do you have the notion that an architect's services cost too much? Well, it's a fact that the architect's fee often is more than offset by the economies realized through his precision and skill. Don't take our word for it—talk it over with friends who have consulted architects and those who went it alone. Among other things the former will tell you:

1. Our architect designed our home to meet our special desires—our particular needs.

2. Our architect supervised every step from drawing board to ironing board. He checked to assure that everything called for in drawings and specifications was furnished.

3. Our architect advised us on construction procedure, financing, budgeting and helped obtain estimates and information on contractors.

4. Our architect assisted in drawing contracts, cleared with building codes, lien laws and zoning regulations and checked bills for materials and labor.

Another sound piece of advice for the building family is: inspect existing homes designed by various architects. This is one of the best ways to select an architect who will interpret the needs of your family in a style of building compatible with your tastes and preferences.

Look at the Gutters

Falling leaves are likely to clog gutters and downspouts and can cause considerable damage. Rain water may be forced under the eaves causing the wood to rot. This is a good time of the year to examine the paint film on your gutters and downspouts. If the finish has worn away to the galvanized metal, a zinc dust primer should be used. It serves the purpose of protecting the metal against rust and provides and excellent base for the finish coat of paint.

Fix Fireplace for Fall Parties

Great idea, you say, but my fireplace is an eyesore. No matter how gruesome your indoor trash burner looks now, there's nothing wrong with the average fireplace that a few square feet of colorful ceramic tile and a little imagination can't fix.

Once you get the fireplace transformed from the blackened heap of stone or brick, there are several steps that can be taken to keep the glorified hearth glorious. Here are a few:

1. Accessories. The elementary implements for kindling, stoking and dousing blazes are the poker, the tongs, the spade and the brush. These four basic tools should be handy but inconspicuous. One happy solution to the problem is a stand in which they are hung or parked in an upright position. If the stand is made of polished brass or painted a gay color it also can contribute to decor.

2. Kindling. Small sticks of dry wood and crumpled paper are the best materials for kindling fires but are hardly the kind of thing to improve the appearance of the home. A wide, shallow wood basket is the simplest solution.

3. Fuel. Keep a reasonable amount of dry, seasoned cordwood on hand. The bulk of the supply can be kept in basement or outside storage if covered. The fireplace itself will probably hold enough wood for several hours of flames, and necessary replacements can be stacked alongside the hearth. If a storage bin is lacking, plan to include a recess for extra logs when you're remodeling, plan to include a recess for the fireplace.

FAMILY ROOM — At present the family room, kitchen and utility room, plus a bath comprise the whole of the W. Cadman Prout house. Walls and cupboards in here are knotty cedar paneling. The fireplace and breakfast bar are smooth sided buff colored bricks. On the floor the Prouts laid corktone asphalt vinyl tile. Ten-year-old Linda and 14-year-old Joellyn perch on the raised hearth. Mr. Prout is the minister of Four Towns Community Methodist Church.

Heater Sales Are Double

From total sales of 1,319,000 to sales of 2,762,100 units in 1956 — this, in belief, is the story of a ten-year gain in sales chalked up by the gas-fired automatic storage water heater industry.

Last year was an all-time record year for manufacturers of gas-fired automatic storage water heaters. Sales for the industry totalled 2,762,100 units.

Sales are down this year, however, with the total for the first seven months standing at 1,538,600 as compared with 1,734,600 for the first seven months of last year.

Nevertheless manufacturers are optimistic for the long pull and look forward to a 3,000,000 year in the not too distant future, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

Equally significant as the upward trend in sales in the last ten years is the swing toward larger-size automatic storage gas-fired water heaters. The reason: Bigger families, ever-growing use of washing machines and dishwashers in the home, and more attention to personal grooming.

Not only has the industry stepped up the sizes of its models but it is turning out units that heat water faster than their predecessors.

The Toro Manufacturing Corp., Minneapolis, has a couple of new models in its rotary lawn mower line which include an automatic feature to control the height of the cut through a quick, easy adjustment without tools.

Tilt Your Tool to Sand Well With Power

The proper method of sanding with an electric drill is described by specialists of the Thor Power Tool Company, Chicago. This is how they advise it be done:

Tip the drill forward at a slight angle, pressing the front arc of the abrasive disc along the work evenly with smooth, fairly fast strokes. Tilting the drill keeps the whole abrasive disc off the work.

Don't tilt the drill too far forward, they warn, or you will cut down the sanding area of the disc and be applying too much uneven pressure. Again, don't press the whole abrasive disc on the work.

If you press harder in one spot than in another, circular sanding marks will show. Too much pressure in one spot also will result in a circular depression that will mar the finish.

Change the sanding disc as often as the paper clogs. Follow the same procedure for sanding painted-surfaces, using a fine-grain grit.

Government Housing Slated to Be Changed

WASHINGTON (INS) — New policies on government housing, which has boomed this year, are designed to make the homes conform with community patterns and the trend toward bigger families.

A policy statement prepared by the Budget Bureau provides more flexibility in the size and features of family homes in line with recommendations of the 1956 Women's Congress on Housing.

It will serve as a guide in Construction of federal civilian, as well as military housing at government installations where private dwelling units are not available for rent or sale.

In addition to flexibility to meet local conditions, the houses will have more room—up to six rooms, instead of five, for a household of four persons, and a maximum of seven rooms, instead of six, for a household of six or more.

The Bureau said the range of house sizes will provide "adequate, but not luxurious, quarters" at a reasonable rent as one way of making government employment more attractive.

Federal housing may account for as much as five per cent of total starts this year compared with less than one per cent in 1956.

While private home building has been on the decline, biggest reason for the increase in construction of government houses is the fact that the Capehart program has reached a "rolling peak."

Authorized late in 1955, it produced only 8,000 applications in all of 1956 compared with 27,000 in the first eight months of this year. They are mostly single family or duplex homes.

Based on ned and permanency of military bases, the Capehart houses for servicemen's families are built with private money insured by FHA. They will become government-owned when the mortgages are paid off with monthly rental allowances to the GI's.

Housing for civilian government workers has jumpe from 775 applications in all of 1956 to 1,100 for January-August, 1957.

The civilian housing usually is in multiple-family units to take advantage of the economy of construction and maintenance and to keep rents on a level with private housing in the area.

The Government has recognized, however, that special features may be needed in some area to make the housing comparable with private rental units and to meet more than minimum standards.

These may include recreation rooms if weather conditions are bad, extra storage space if stores are far away; fireplaces if they would be an advantage to comfort and air conditioning if the climate makes it necessary.

Good Paint Self-Cleans

Paint manufacturers have developed specific types of paints for durable jobs. For making that much desired gleaming white coat on the exterior of your house you will do well to select a self-cleaning variety. It will maintain its gleaming white appearance. If the surface to be painted is above plain brick, use a non-chalking outside house paint or trim paint.

Instead of applying stain and then varnish, a varnish-stain is sometimes used. This coating is applied in the same manner as clear varnish.

NEWS VIEWS

They tell me that the ladies are usually a bit sensitive about the passing of years . . . but did you know the Statue of Liberty had a birthday on October 28? Yep, the grand old lady who carries the torch for us all was unveiled on that date in the year 1886 . . . and she's been greeting incoming travelers ever since. She's probably received more second looks than any movie queen you can name.

Miss Liberty was given to us by France . . . and during the years she's become a symbol of everything the U. S. stands for, and a guardian of our natural rights. Remember the G. CAPE COD STYLE — This story and a half Cape Codder emphasizes space for living on the first floor and space for expansion on the second floor. The front is covered with a brick facing while the sides and rear have rough cut shingles for contrast.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN — Five rooms on the first floor include an area which can be used either as a study or a bedroom. There are seven closets on this floor, with four planned for the upstairs, making a grand total of eleven for the house.

Upstairs of Cape Codder Grows to Suit Budget

A house with special appeal to budget-conscious families, this story-and-a-half Cape Codder provides comfortable living quarters at once — and ample space for expansion later, at the convenience of the family budget.

It has all the advantages of a four-bedroom, two-bathroom house, but the entire investment need not be made at once. Some families could live comfortably downstairs while finishing the upstairs.

Designated as HW-76 in The House of The Week series, and designed by Architect Derick B. Kipp, it has good sized rooms, above-average storage space and excellent ventilation throughout.

Despite the popularity of ranch and split level houses, many story and a half houses are being built throughout the United States today. This is a well designed story and a half house.

In the first floor plan, which has 1,455 square feet, you will find a living room, dining room, kitchen, bedroom and a study or second bedroom.

Two bedrooms and three large storage areas are provided in the upper floor plan. Baths are located on both floors.

An attractive interior feature has been created for the living room-dining room area. There you will find a brick planter dividing the two rooms but leaving sufficient space so that the fireplace, with its raised hearth, can be seen from both rooms.

The architect has achieved overall harmony in these two rooms in two ways: he has used brick for both the planter and the fireplace, and he has tied the rooms together also by extending the vertical wood paneling of the dining room up to the edge of the fireplace in the living room.

The overall dimensions of House of The Week HW-76 are 76 feet 6 inches by 27 feet 5 inches, including the two-car garage. The first floor square footage is 1,455, excluding the porch and the garage. The second floor has 785 square feet.

Flagstones have been suggested for the top of the raised hearth, and a stock mantel can be used, according to the preference of the owner, to combine with home furnishings.

A TOTAL OF 11 CLOSETS

Storage space has been provided abundantly. Downstairs, there are two closets in each bedroom, two hall closets (one for coats and one for linens) and a service closet in the kitchen. Upstairs, there are four closets, making a total of 11.

Additionally, there are three large storage areas upstairs, also a storage wall in the kitchen, built-ins in the downstairs bedrooms, and even put-away cabinets under the planter in the dining room.

Storage alcoves in the garage supplement the normal basement storage.

Bow windows are a feature of the exterior, with two in front and two in the rear. The bow windows in the rear add nearly two feet more space in both the kitchen and the dining room.

Space has been built into the rooms, too. The living room is 22 feet wide, the smallest bedroom is 13 feet wide, and the dining room is 11 feet by 13 feet.

There are two exposures in all bedrooms and one bedroom has three exposures.

COVERED ENTRY FROM GARAGE

A door opens from the dining room onto the porch in the rear of the house, adding to the ease of serving outdoor meals. The door from the garage to the porch gives a covered entry into the house via the porch in inclement weather.

Most women prefer the kitchen at the rear of the house, and that's where you'll find the kitchen in this house; but with the center hall plan of HW-76, the front door is really only a few steps away from the kitchen.

An island cook-top is a feature of the kitchen: the sink is handily close and there is abundant counter space. A wall oven has been placed next to the refrigerator. A large storage space has been included in the kitchen plan.

The dormer windows of this Cape Cod blend nicely with the bow windows as you view the house from the front, which is the view your friends and guests first have of your home.

Brick facing has been used on the front exterior. Rough cut shingles, for contrast, are used on both ends of the house and in the rear. Asphalt shingles and a brick chimney complete the exterior details.

Preparation Is Important

Go over the entire area to be painted and scrape off loose paint. This will speed up your painting a lot. Use a cup-brush in an electric drill as the quickest method of cleaning the surface well. Use a caulking gun to fill all the cracks, if they are too wide for paint to "bridge." Never caulk or paint when wood is wet. Wait till morning dew has dried and at least three days after a rain.

When remodeling your bathroom, replace swinging doors with sliding doors. You can save valuable space for extra storage and additional plumbing fixtures.

WHEN YOU HEAT with Gas

TWIN LAKES VILLAGE — This four bedroom face brick ranch home with two baths and attached two car garage is featured in Twin Lakes Village, new community of 500 modern homes in White Lake Township, eight miles west of Pontiac. More than half of the homes will have lake frontage. The model shown above is offered by LaMar Home Builders, Inc., in cooperation with Rose-Hill Realty Co. Included in the purchase price of $26,500 are built-in electric oven and range and dishwasher.

Twin Lakes Village Sees First House Built

Year-round lake front living is the pleasing prospect opened up in Twin Lakes Village, a picturesque new community of 500 modern face brick ranch homes taking shape in White Lake Township, eight miles due west of Pontiac.

In the heart of the new $15,000,000 development, being carved out of gently rolling terrain, is man-made Tull Lake, created by the developer, Kelly-Cook, Inc. The 125-acre spring-fed lake, stocked with large-mouth bass and bluegills, runs a mile in length and from 10 to 20 feet in depth.

Presenting a scenic view of islands, bays and inlets, Tull Lake will be restricted to the private use of home owners in Twin Lakes Village. Two more lakes are planned for the development which will feature homes in the $20,000 to $50,000 price range. Set back on 80 to 110 foot lots running 150 feet deep.

Entry to Twin Lakes Village is on Highland Road (M-59), a mile and a half west of Williams Lake Road. Four hundred homes will be built on the south side of Highland Road with 300 of these directly on lake frontage. There are sites for an additional 100 homes on the north side of the road.

The new community will be served by a new $400,000 central water system, now under construction by the developers. The water supply has been found to be more than ample. Land has been reserved in Twin Lakes for a 35-acre shopping center. An additional 15 acres has been set aside for schools, churches and playgrounds.

Adjoining the residential property is the rolling Twin Lakes golf course. The Huron River, one of the famous trout streams in the area, also borders the community for a stretch of more than a mile.

A choice of five exterior designs, featuring four bedrooms and two baths, is offered by LaMar Home Builders. All models have attached two-car garages.

Both contemporary and colonial designs are available in face brick, trimmed with either field stone or Tennessee ledgerock. Exteriors are 80 feet wide with garage. An outstanding feature is the finished rear patio with barbecue pit facing the lake. The patio may be entered from the family room through an eight-foot sliding glass door.

Included in the purchase price are built-in electric oven and range and dishwasher. A snack bar serves as a divider between the large kitchen and dining area. Other kitchen features are copper hood and fan over the range and post-formed textolite or formica counters.

A natural divider between the living room and attractively-paneled family room is a handsome Roman brick fireplace, open on both sides. Both rooms have studio ceilings. The family room may be converted into a den or library.

Both baths are fully tiled in ceramic. There is a stall shower in the bath off the master bedroom and a built-in vanity in the centrally-located bath. All four bedrooms have large closets with birch double folding doors. A deep walk-in closet is featured in the master bedroom.

There is a large utility room with additional storage space provided in the attached garage. Customers have a choice of interioir paints or washable wall coverings. They also are given a selection of electrical fixtures.

Other features are silent switches and 100 amphere circuit breakers. A series of spotlights across front and rear exteriors provide a flood of light for after dark use.

LaMar Home Builders also offer three bedroom floor plans. Rose Hill is handling sales.

Standard Sized Rugs Chosen

Any carpet can be a rug. The term "rug" means a carpet of a given size. The familiar minimum of a room-sized rug is the 9 feet by 12 feet, but it could be any dimension. The most economical widths are the standard 9, 12, 15 or even 18 feet because no trimming or binding is involved.

If you are in the market for new floor covering, you'll be interested in knowing why rugs are regaining importance. Carpeting is a major investment. A rug which delivers almost the same benefits as wall-to-wall coverage costs less.

Smart homemakers know that if they're going to get the longest service from carpeting, quality counts high. And for equal quality, a standard-size rug will cost less than a custom wall-to-wall installation.

Another important feature in the rug's favor is its portability. A rug can be moved from home to home, or from room to room.

When figuring rug sizes, a rule of thumb is to leave a border of uncovered floor no more than eight inches in a small room or 12 inches in a large room.

In an open-floor plan, the best proportions for a rug provide for the furniture group to be underscored completely. That holds it together visually.

In areas exposed to heavy traffic, wood floors, when badly soiled, should be sanded and sealed with a penetrating floor sealer, and then waxed with a paste or a liquid wax. It will be possible to touch up worn spots without too much work.

Floor Coverings Have Different Characteristics

Most everyone is familiar with linoleum. There are two kinds — inlaid and molded. Both have the color and pattern all the way through the material. The inlaid type has erroneously been considered better although both types wear equally as long and retain their color and finish.

Linoleum in the marbelized or spatter-dash patterns are usually the inlaid type while the molded has more definite, bold patterns. Linoleum comes in six-foot wide rolls, or square or oblong tiles of various sizes (the nine-inch is the most popular).

There are also enameled floorings which are designed to resemble linoleum that have only a painted top layer covered with a clear enamel surface. While the initial cost of such flooring materials is much lower than linoleum, they should not be confused with the real thing. Once the enamel begins to wear away, solvents and grime destroy the paint and it soon has to be replaced.

Vinyl plastic floorings have great durability and offer clear, brilliant colors in nicely textured patterns. Since they have a smooth, non-porous surface that is resistant to dirt, grease, acids strong alkalis, they are especially easy to keep clean.

Some manufacturers say waxing is not necessary, but it always gives a protective coat. This type of flooring is available in standard six-foot rolls as well as tiles of various sizes, so that interesting geometric and decorative effects can be achieved.

In choosing the right hard-surface flooring, consideration must be given to the floor level in relation to the ground, or grade, as it is called. The terms used are below grade, which is usually a basement floor of concrete; on-grade is a concrete slab laid at ground level (typical of many ranch-type homes); and above grade which are wood or concrete floors above full or partial basements.

For the on-grade floors the vinyl-asbestos combination is a wise choice because the asbestos in the material resists the moisture in the concrete and the vinyl gives the desireable tough, nonporous surface in clear, bright colors. It may also be installed over radiant heating where the heating tubes are embedded in the concrete floor.

The vinyl-asbestos flooring is available only in the 9" x 9" tiles and may safely be installed by the do-it-yourself method. The tiles come in two thicknesses, ⅛ inch and 1-16 inch, and the lighter material is generally recommended for kitchens.

With the variety of material to choose from, there's really no limit to the design possibilities. But don't get carried away by too wild a pattern. If you choose one that is overly bold and fairly jumps at you, it will grow tiresome over the years that a good floor lasts. Yet remember, too, that dirt will show much more on solid colors than any mottled or textured finishes.

SAFETY COMES FIRST — When you are working in your shop, your prime consideration should be for safety. Guards on tools were made to be used. Safety glasses will prevent painful eye injuries.

Always Make Safety First Workshop Concern

Now is the time for all good handy men to check on safety procedures before they leave the gardens to return to the fall-and-winter workshop havens.

Insurance companies, who are concerned about such things, have been busy compiling figures on home mishaps.

Estimates of the number of disabling accidents in the home each year range from 550,000 to 640,000. Whichever figure you take, it's still too high.

Many safety precautions are unknown to amateurs, disregarded by professionals. When you handle repair or building chores, consider the following suggestions:

Hand tools. Believe it or not, a tool with a cutting edge that is sharp is a lot safer than a dull tool. After you have used a saw for a time, sharpen it and reset the teeth. If you can't do this job yourself, have it done by a professional. An improperly set saw will bind, making for poor work and potential accidents.

Keep wood bits sharp. A frequent cause of accidents is application of excessive pressure on a brace because of a dull bit.

Do not used a screw driver as a chisel. It will slip before it will cut the wood. Don't use a screw driver for a pry bar. The least that will happen is that you'll break the screw driver.

Don't, for obvious reasons, use a screw driver for work held in the hand. Keep the blade of a screw driver square and clean. Use it only for the size screw for which it was designed.

STEEL HAMMER

Never use a hammer with a cast iron head. Pick one that's made of forged steel. Check the handle carefully. It should be well-fitted, straight-grained and free from cracks.

Properly stored hand tools will remain sharp longer. Inspect a tool before you use it. Keep tools clean at all times.

Ladders. Largest group of accidents around the home involves falls from ladders and scaffolds. A ladder should rest on a firm, level surface. The foot of a ladder should be about one fourth of its length away from the wall.

Discard a ladder that has become worn and shaky. When using a stepladder, open it fully.

Climb a ladder slowly and work only within arm's length. Keep both hands free when climbing. Put your tools in a container and haul them up with a rope.

Don't work on a ladder on a windy day. If possible, have someone around to brace a ladder. Otherwise fasten a safety rope to the ladder, tie the other end to some projection on the wall.

POWER TOOLS

Read instructions carefully before attempting to use a new power tool. Ask the salesman for a demonstration at time of purchase.

Make sure that power tools are equipped, wherever possible, with safety guards. Enclose open-running wheels, belts and pulleys.

Power cords and electrical appliances should carry the seal of a reputable, well-known testing laboratory. Remember — such a seal indicates that the device meets electrical requirements for that type of equipment. It does NOT serve as a blanket guarantee of the merchandise.

Your powered equipment should be on a circuit that is equipped with an on-off switch that you can lock shut when tools are not in use.

Wear safety goggles for sawing, drilling and grinding. It's a good idea to wear them, too, when using solvents and caustic compounds.

To remove rusty water stains from bathtubs, sinks, stoves, and iceboxes, rub with lemon and rinse well.

'His and Hers' Applies to Shop

A "his-'n'-her" workshop makes sense in many homes. While the man fiddles with his home improvement projects, the woman can be busy with her own hobby or craft projects, at her own center. Companionship and co-operative effort are important adjuncts to the dual workshop.

The man's area centers around a sturdy bench which he can whip together in an evening. Over it, according to a free plan offered by Masonite Corporation, is a "Peg-Board" panel for keeping tools instantly available. The working surface and storage shelf off the bench are durable, splinter-proof hardboard, a material widely used in industry for workbench tops because it "has what it takes."

On "her" side is a large cabinet with handsome sliding doors of "Peg-Board" paneling, painted to suit her own tastes. She, too, has a handy perforated hardboard panel over her cabinets for her own tools and equipment. Like her hubby's workbench, her cabinet is topped with a panel of hardboard, providing the same working surface as his. This is ideal for painting, working with plants and doing other projects likely to be messy.

For comfort and pleasing appearance, the walls of the workshop should be in keeping with the friendly atmosphere. Cold concrete walls readily can be covered with a handsome new paneled material, a hardboard having vertical grooves and coming in wide, easy-to-install sheets four feet across. The "how to" of this wall improvement is shown also in the free plan.

To obtain a copy of the illustrated "his and her" workshop plan, address a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Masonite Corporation, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and ask for No. AE-322.

Lift furniture to move it. Pushing heavy pieces across a floor covering may damage fibers in the rug.

Home Products Use 33 Pct. of All Nation's Steel

Approximately one-third of all the steel produced in this country finds its way into the American home or garage. Automobiles, of course, use much steel, but a high percentage of the metal's production goes into building materials and appliances.

Steel is preferred by industrial designers because of its natural strength and the ease with which it may be worked into kitchen cabinets, pots and pans, pails, tubs and garbage cans.

Various coatings are applied to steel. Porcelain enamel is popular in the kitchen, but for many other products, galvanized steel is used.

Galvanizing is the technique by which rust-resistant zinc is applied to sturdy steel. The process is most commonly used in the production of galvanized ware. This ware includes such products as garbage and ash cans, pails, tubs, sprinkling cans and fuel storage cans.

Strength and adaptability are two important features of steel, but the metal has other equally important assets. For one thing, it is completely fireproof. For another, steel does not absorb odors, so it is very easy to clean—a bonus feature for the busy homemaker.

On-the-Job Training Still Sought by Vets

LANSING (AP)—There is still a demand for on-the-job training under the Korean Veterans Bill, the State Department of Public Instruction reported today.

The department said that since 1952, 1,617 establishments have been approved in Michigan to offer training in 273 occupations.

Of those approved, 407 establishments currently are training more than 1,000 veterans in cooperation with the local public schools, the department said.

A veteran must have served in the Armed Forces between June 27, 1950, and Jan. 31, 1955, to be eligible for the training. A veteran has until three years after his discharge date to apply for the training so many Michigan veterans are still eligible, the department said.

Unionist Disclaims Knowing of Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—An AFL-CIO official yesterday disclaimed knowledge of a warning by a United Auto Workers vice president that "tricks" would be used on production lines if a right-to-work law is passed in Ohio.

Harry Flannery, AFL-CIO information chief, told a reporter his organization never has made such threats, "certainly in regard to right-to-work legislation."

"We show our opposition through legislative procedures," said Flannery. He was interviewed by a reporter representing Toledo radio station WOHO.

Last Wednesday, Richard T. Gosser, United Auto Workers vice president, told 380 persons at a meeting of the Toledo Industrial Development Council that a right-to-work law in Ohio would mean labor trouble.

If such a law should be enacted, he said, "I know lots of tricks to use on the production lines. Then watch what happens to the production figures."

In January Issue of Fortune Magazine

Industry to View Michigan

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's message to industry will be carried to the nation in a special 22-page section of the January issue of Fortune Magazine, the State Economic Development Commission announced today.

The project, undertaken with the cooperation of several of the state's larger industries, will cost about $75,000, with virtually the entire amount being underwritten by 18 participating businesses.

The department said Michigan's advantages for business and industry will be presented in narrative form and in illustrations, with some color work. Direct advertising matter will take up the rest of the space.

The article will play up the state's strategic location from the marketing standpoint, its natural resources, skilled labor supply, abundant water and rail, water, air and truck transportation system.

The department said there will also be a description of the state's educational facilities and recreation attractions.

Don Weeks, department director, said the special section was the first of its kind to appear in the magazine in three years and the largest it has ever carried.

In addition to the magazine's regular circulation of 375,000, additional distribution of the special section portion is being arranged by the department, which has ordered 50,000 reprints.

Coffee Prices May Tumble

Consumers Might Get Pound of Java in 1960 for 60 Cents

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Coffee down to 60 cents a pound by 1960 is better than just a hope for you coffee drinkers.

But coffee men say there are a string of ifs in the picture — If weather is normal; If world inflation does not increase and If people don't suddenly begin to drink twice as much coffee.

"A big fall in coffee prices might even bring back the five cent cup of coffee," one dealer said. "But don't count on it."

The main reason for lower prices lies in a prospective glut in the coffee market. The world now produces around 42 million bags a year. Consumption is about the same.

But by 1960 indications are for a world production of 50 million bags. Consumption is not expected to go up as much. That means more coffee on the market and price cutting.

Brazil, which supplies 42 per cent of the world's coffee, will turn out most of the increased production. Coffee trees due to start bearing by 1960 have increased 25 per cent in the past year. This would make Brazilian production about 22 million bags. The average over the past four years has been 14 million.

Continued inflation could cancel all estimates of future prices. Coffee will drop to 60 cents at your grocer's only if other costs don't go up — if freight and roasters' payrolls and container prices remain more or less where they are.

The Brazilian government also comes into the picture. It divides the coffee dollar almost equally with the grower, who gets 25 cents a pound or thereabouts for his coffee. This means a profit, for most growers, of about 3 cents. The break-even price for the bulk of the producers is 22 cents a pound.

With a grower's cost of 22 cents and a processing cost of about 30 cents, the lowest feasible price for coffee is 52 cents a pound. Allowing something for the government itself, you get the 60 cent price.

"Nobody drinks an extra cup of coffee just because coffee is cheap," one exporter said. "What happens is that they get careless with coffee and say 'Let's make an extra cup in case we want it.' Then they throw the extra cup down the drain when they wash the coffee pot. So maybe you can get an increase of one cup in five or six."

Red Tape Halts Airport Repairs

Pontiac Field Addition Shelved for This Year Due to Dispute

A $233,000 improvement program at Pontiac Municipal Airport has been shelved this year because of a "red tape delay," said Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager.

The delay exists in a controversy between the Civil Aeronautics Administration and state and local aviation officials as to whether the Pontiac field needs another taxi strip in the central part of the field.

Local authorities say they need it to facilitate movements from the commercial buildings on one side of the field to the new 4,000-foot runway, while the CAA says there is no need after a control tower is constructed.

This pro and con debate is holding up such other 1957 plans for lights on the new runway and the paralleling taxi way, another strip in addition to the one in question, and construction of boundary fences.

"This doesn't mean we won't get these things done," said Hoskins. "It's just a matter of a red tape delay."

Driver Tequilaed Out

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — A Tucson motorist pulled up to the U.S. Customs and Immigration border station in Nogales, gave a friendly greeting to federal officers—then passed out. The police blotter reads "too much tequila and lime."

'Balloon Doctor' Wants to Become Space Voyager

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Remember Maj. David G. Simons, the Air Force doctor who soared to a record height of 103,000 feet in a balloon gondola last summer?

Well, the daring young doctor now wants to become America's first space voyager in a manned satellite, says fellow researcher, Col. John Paul Stapp, chief of the Aero Medical Field Laboratory at Holloman Air Force Base, N.M.

Stapp said another qualified American is Capt. J. W. Kittinger Jr., who has reached 96,000 feet in a balloon-towed capsule.

Man Wants to Die in Nuclear Tests

LONDON — The man who tried to get himself killed by the British hydrogen bomb tests at Christmas Island is back home in Britain, worrying about his failure.

Harold Steele, 63-year-old retired poultry farmer and father of three, bought a one-way ticket to Tokyo but failed to get into the test area to give his life in protest against use of the bomb.

After he was unable to get passage into the test area Steele was stranded in Tokyo, alone and penniless. "I was too utterly alone to succeed," he said. "It needs a minimum of two people. But I shall try again if I have an opportunity. I have a great love of children. That's why I went." His wife fully agrees with him.

Ex-Grid Star Guilty in Black Market Case

A Federal Court jury of eight men and four women deliberated 9½ hours before bringing in a verdict against Meehan, two other defendants and three corporations.

The defendant corporations were John L. Kern, Inc., headed by Kern; Finnegan Associates, Inc., headed by Meehan; and State Equipment Corp., headed by Kopp. All the firms were located at 42 Broadway.

The three men were released in $1,000 bail. Sentencing was set for Nov. 15. Each could receive a maximum five-year prison sentence and a $10,000 fine.

Davisburg Resident, 85, Injured in Car Accident

An 85-year-old Davisburg man is listed in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital today after being injured in an accident on U.S. 10 in Waterford Township last night.

Edmund Kross, of 7515 Birch Rd., suffered a possible concussion and chest injury, said hospital officials. State Police said Kross evidently blacked out at the wheel of his northbound car.

Teamsters Guilty of Bad Practice

NLRB Rules Union Can't Be Bargaining Agent for Its Employes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board has ruled that a union cannot act as bargaining representative for its own employes.

The ruling came yesterday in an NLRB decision which found the Teamsters Union—and several of its affiliates—guilty of unfair labor practices in dealing with its employes.

The board found that the Teamsters International and several affiliates joined to prevent Portland, Ore., office employes of the union from joining another union.

The board ordered the Teamsters to offer new jobs and back pay to five women found to have been fired illegally to discourage their union activities.

The case, which had been fought through the courts by the Teamsters, was brought by the Office Employes International Union. The board's findings were against the Teamsters International Union, the union's Security Administration Fund and its Building Assn., both in Portland, and Portland Locals 206 and 233, and Joint Council 37.

The NLRB said one or all of these organizations coerced Portland Teamsters employes to become Teamsters members, prevented them from joining the Office Employes Union, declined to bargain with that union, and illegally fired the women who balked.

In banning the practice of a union representing its own workers, the board said:

"A union must approach the bargaining table 'with the single-minded purpose of protecting and advancing the interests of the employes who have selected it as their bargaining agent and there must be no ulterior purpose.'"

Detroit Clerk Awarded Carnegie Hero's Medal

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A 52-year-old retired Detroit police-man has been awarded a Carnegie Hero Medal for his part in rescuing four fishermen from drowning.

Otto C. Weirauch was credited with saving Donald W. Wise and helping to save Vernon Collins, Michael G. Reuther and Curmit Collier from drowning after they were caught in rough wather while fishing near Sebastian, Fla., March 10, 1956.

Weirauch retired from the Detroit Police Department three years ago.

In his 25 years on the force he was cited for rescuing two persons from drowning and for shooting it out with two burgulars.

Queen's Oratory Getting Better

Subdued Critic Claims Liz Is on Her Way to Becoming TV Star

LONDON (AP)—Lord Altrincham, who recently said the speaking style of Queen Elizabeth II was a "pain in the neck," now says she "shows every sign of being a television star in the making."

The 33-year-old peer wrote in a monthly magazine that the Queen did well in her television speech last month in Canada, but not so well in speeches in the United States.

"When she arrived at Washington Airport and was greeted by the President," Altrincham said, "one sentence spoken spontaneously would have been much preferable to the few sentences which were read off a piece of paper."

Commenting on the Queen's speech at the Washington Press Club, Altrincham added:

"The opening remarks, being unpretentious and human, seemed to come naturally from the speaker, whereas the rather trite little sermon which followed did not have an authentic ring."

The young critic said if Elizabeth is "completely and unaffectedly herself, she will lose no dignity, while gaining those qualities which, in a queen, are even more precious than dignity."

In the Canadian speech Elizabth used simple and direct wording and the content was better than usual, Altrincham said. "Indeed," he said, "she shows every sign of being a television star in the making."

Altrincham expressed his views in the National and English Review, which he edits. Two months ago he set off a continuing national debate with an article in the Review saying the Queen's speeches made her sound like "a priggish schoolgirl."

Ask Taylor to Withdraw as Speaker in Alabama

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, says he has been asked to withdraw as speaker at a Veterans Day program in Birmingham, Ala. The Little Rock school situation apparently was the reason.

Taylor said yesterday he replied to a Birmingham committee by saying he had "no choice but to defer to your request that I withdraw from this engagement."

The general released his reply as well as a telegram sent to him by Richmond Weeks, director of the Birmingham committee which had invited Taylor to be main speaker at the Nov. 11 observance.

Strikers Accept Truce

Uneasy Peace Prevails in Lone Star Steel Strike

DAINGERFIELD, Tex. (AP) — An uneasy peace prevailed today in the Lone Star Steel Co. labor dispute after strikers accepted a truce which means many will be returning to work.

Pickets were removed from around the sprawling steel plant last night. This followed a three-hour meeting of about 2,000 strikers, all but 50 of whom voted to go back to work.

Jittery residents, aroused by bombings, shotgun blasts and threats during the seven-week wildcat strike, were hopeful the truce would end tension that has gripped a 10-county area around the huge steel plant.

Chris Dixie of Houston, regional attorney for the United Steelworkers of America said the idled workers agreed to abide by union recommendations that they return to work, made after a conference with company lawyers.

"The action amounted to a truce and not a settlement," Dixie said. "None of the aggravations have been settled but are left for the future. The international union intends to process an arbitration case."

He said this case would cover the main points in the dispute.

When the workers struck Sept. 21, they said it was because the company was disregarding the seniority system outlined in their three-year contract, which runs until September, 1959.

The company fired all those who walked off the job and later said any accepted for reemployment would be considered new employes without seniority. It also reserved the right to reject job applications from leaders of the strike.

Less than half the men still out when the settlement was reached will find jobs available. The company said only 800 were open. Nearly 700 union members refused to join the walkout and 950 new employes have been hired since the strike started.

Union sources had estimated 1,500 to 2,300 were idled.

"We will welcome back those strikers who can qualify for employment," said L. D. Webster of Dallas, company vice president.

Dixie said strikers not placed immediately will be put on a reserve list from which the company has agreed to fill vacancies.

Weary strikers, who stood six hours around union headquarters in the nearby town of Lone Star, appeared glum after the meeting.
