South Vietnamese Repel Two Communist Assaults

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Vietnamese forces beat back two heavy Communist assaults on the central coast today with help from bombarding U.S. Navy ships offshore and air strikes later. U.S. and South Vietnamese officers said at least 300 of about 1,500 attackers were killed.

The South Vietnamese—defending a fort in Thach Tru village, 20 miles south of Quang Ngai and 320 miles northeast of Saigon—were outnumbered 3 to 1.

Two U.S. army advisers were killed in an outpost on a hill about a half-mile west of the fort.

In launching their attack, the Communists took advantage of poor weather conditions that grounded U.S. and South Vietnamese support planes.

The attack broke before dawn and the U.S. advisers called for the bombardment from two 7th Fleet destroyers lying offshore.

Navy shells kept the attackers down until the weather cleared later in the day. Then U.S. and South Vietnamese planes and U.S. Marine helicopters attacked with napalm bombs and rockets.

BODIES STREWN
Viet Cong bodies were strewn inside the fort, in the rice paddy fields and on the outpost hill.

Attack planes silenced six 81mm Viet Cong mortars that were firing on the hill.

U.S. and South Vietnamese officers on the scene said at least 200 Viet Cong were killed. Associated Press correspondent George Exper said he counted more than 100 bodies.

Officials said government casualties were light, but Exper said their casualties appeared to be moderate. Many of the Female First in Football Forecasting

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

To nobody's surprise, another feminine forecaster finished first in The Press' Annual Football Contest.

Over the years, distaff entrants have consistently monopolized the winner's circle in the perennial pigskin puzzle.

Mrs. John F. Pump, 111 Oneida, outlasted several thousand entrants to become the No. 1 contestant with Penn State's unexpected, nail-biter defeat by PHU, 38-27.

She was pitted against two other finalists, both of whom liked the looks of the Penn State.

The winner, a native Ohioan and Pontiac resident for 45 years, performed the almost unbelievable feat of correctly calling the outcome of 13 straight games of the contest's 15-game schedule.

Mrs. Pump modestly disclaims any supernatural or even esoteric approach to handicapping football games.

Asked about her technique in scoring this coup, on the fifth yearly attempt, a Mona Lisa smile was the answer.

"However," she confided, "after I'd run the string to 12, I was sure I'd win Saturday. Thirteen has always been my lucky number."

Intermittent sunshine chased away this morning's fog, leaving partly cloudy skies.

State Police Medal to Spy

Secretary Is Honored in Sten Club Case

EAST LANSING (AP)—Margaret Peggy Allen, the State Police spy who aided in the arrest and conviction of 20 persons on gambling conspiracy charges, has been awarded a Civilian Citation for Meritorious Service by the department.

Miss Allen posed as a gambler's girlfriend on visits to the Sten Assembly Club in Madison Heights.

A State Police spokesman said today that Miss Allen was presented the award at a dinner meeting in Lansing Friday for her "courage, initiative, and exemplary good citizenship" in her undercover assignment.

Miss Allen, a pretty brunette who was a stenographer for House Democrats at the time she took the spy role in October 1963, lost her job as a result of her activities and said she was "pressured" by high state officials who were "outraged" at her undercover work.

A subsequent investigation revealed there was no evidence that would warrant any criminal charges against any public official named by Miss Allen.

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney showed up wearing big "We're Rose Bowl Bound" buttons today and told newsmen he's made a friendly negotiation with California Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The University of California at Los Angeles, by virtue of Saturday's 20-16 defeat of the University of Southern California, is the logical choice to represent the Pacific Athletic Conference in the Rose Bowl.

Refusing to call his office and Brown's counterpart a bet, Romney said he'll provide dinner for 50 if UCLA wins but Brown will give the same if Michigan State wins.

DAMAGED HOME — A pre-dawn blast today ripped off the front door and severely damaged the home of Fred Alexander, a Negro leader and member of the Charlotte (N.C.) City Council. The homes of three other Negro leaders, including Alexander's brother, were also damaged by explosions.

Blasts Rock Homes of 4 Negro Leaders

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—The homes of four Negro civil rights leaders, including the state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, were rocked by explosions early today, but no one was injured.

Chief of Police John S. Hord said the homes of Kelly Alexander, state president of the NAACP, and of his brother, Fred Alexander, were the most seriously damaged.

Blasts also occurred at the home of Dr. Reginald Hawkins, a dentist and militant civil rights leader, and the home of Julius Chambers, a young attorney who had handled many suits in behalf of Negro groups.

"We have no idea whatsoever on who might be behind the explosions, Hord said.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation joined the investigation of the blasts, which occurred at the four homes on Charlotte's west side about 2:30 a.m.

"We are certainly glad that no one was hurt," Hord said. He said there had been no racial incidents in recent years in Charlotte.

Kelly Alexander said, "I could see this happening somewhere else, but not in Charlotte."

"I called my brother after it happened and he said, 'Yes, I'm ruined.'"

U.N. Unit OK of Arms Talks Is Predicted

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. diplomats generally predicted that the General Assembly's main political committee would give overwhelming approval today to a world disarmament conference including Communist China.

It was expected that 12 to 15 countries would abstain from the vote, among them the United States and France, two of the five nuclear powers.

The United States told the committee it would not decide whether to participate in the conference until it could study the arrangements for it. The Americans say they are not interested in another lengthy, oversized meeting if it is going to turn into the usual sounding board for propaganda speeches and nothing else.

The resolution, sponsored by 43 countries, endorses the annual conference by the Cairo summit meeting of nonaligned nations in October 1964.

$700,000 Haul by Gem Gang

Thieves Strike Again in London's West End

LONDON (AP) — Jewelry worth more than $700,000 was taken from the strongroom of a fashionable West End shop today by a gang that worked its way in with acetylene torches.

A spokesman for Carrington's and Co., on Regent Street, made the estimate of loss and added: "It is probably far in excess of a quarter of a million pounds."

Insurance valuers, whose standard reward for stolen goods is 10 per cent, posted a reward of $80,000.

Police got an anonymous tip that the bandits were at work at 7 a.m. A caller to Scotland Yard said he saw a number of men loitering around Carrington's. By the time a police car arrived, the gang had disappeared.

TORCHES FOUND

High-temperature torches used to cut through steel were found in the store. A number of heavy steel gas cylinders also were left behind.

Rings and watches were among the stolen goods, but a spokesman for the store said a number of "specially valuable items" also were taken.

Thieves at West End fur and jewelry shops have been so frequent in the past year or so that insurance premiums have skyrocketed. A gang of fur thieves has packed almost once a month in the past year. Police are still trying to catch them.

Man Said a Suspect in Ship Fire Tragedy S. Viets Repel Cong Assaults

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A 36-year-old man described as an "adult problem child" with a record of mental illness is under official scrutiny in connection with the fiery sinking of the Yarmouth Castle cruise ship that took 89 lives, the Miami Herald reports.

The disclosure came on the eve of a Coast Guard inquiry into the disaster Nov. 13 when the Yarmouth Castle went down 120 miles east of Miami en route to Nassau.

The "adult problem child," a passenger on the ship, was not named by the Herald and the newspaper did not specify who was making the investigation. However, the paper reported that two fires of undetermined origin broke out during the last two years in an enterprise operated by the man's family.

The Coast Guard inquiry in Miami under the chairmanship of Rear Adm. Louis Thayer begins today and is expected to last as long as three weeks.

NEW AGREEMENT

In another development, Rep. Edward A. Garmatz, D-Md., urged a new safety of life at sea agreement to replace the present international accord. The Yarmouth Castle was registered under the flag of Panama.

Garmatz, acting chairman of the House Merchant Marine Committee, said he told Secretary of State Dean Rusk by letter that if foreign governments do not agree to a new convention the United States should denounce the current one and withdraw from the international consultative organization which drew it up.

A new agreement, he said, should close any loopholes under which present bare-minimum standard vessels can trade in and out of the United States.

Hunt Kidnaper in Three States Girl, 8, Abducted From Louisiana Yard

BASTROP, La. (AP) — Hundreds of officers combed three states today for some trace of an 8-year-old free-kickable girl and her abductor, described as a man about 20.

Manyan George Keller was kidnapped late yesterday from the yard of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Keller.

A playmate, Connie Spear, 7, said a young man drove up, tried to coax Nancy into his car, and when he failed, picked her up bodily, threw her in the car, and sped away.

Morehouse Parish Chief Deputy Sheriff W. H. Freeland said a three-state alert was out in Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.

Roadblocks were up in the north Louisiana area near where the kidnapping occurred.

No demand for ransom had been received. Officers were checking out mental institutions and known sex deviates.

eastbound I-94 when he began to feel sleepy about 2 a.m.

Spencer and his passengers reportedly were driving to Walled Lake to visit relatives.

The worst traffic accident during the weekend occurred yesterday, when five persons, including four children, were killed and four injured when a car and a station wagon collided two miles northwest of Mount Clemens at an M59 intersection.

Killed were Michael Essmanacher, 6; his brothers Timothy 28, and Patrick, 4; a cousin Gary Essmanacher, 10, all of Center Line, and Michael Tisso, 20, of Roseville.

SHATTERED BOTH

The impact shattered both vehicles. The station wagon, which carried four of the victims, was cut nearly in half.

Macomb County Sheriff's Deputy Dan Metzger said the station wagon, driven by Carl Essmanacher, 27, apparently made a U-turn in the path of the car in which Tisso was riding.

Other traffic victims: Mark Mann, 44, of Coldwater, was killed yesterday when his car left US 27 in Girard Township of Branch County and hit a fence.

CRUSHED FATALLY

Gerald Heath, 29, of Milan, was crushed fatally yesterday when his car overturned on a rural Monroe County road.

Herman Ramos, 21, of Detroit, died yesterday when his car hit an embankment in Madison Heights.

Ronald Wedge, 18, of Detroit, died yesterday in Detroit when the car in which he was a passenger struck a tree.

Mrs. Paulette L. Mamo, 23, of Wyandotte, and her children, Angela, 5, and Bryan, 3, died Saturday when their car collided with a train in Romulus Township.

CAPTURE WEAPONS

Government troops also captured nearly 100 enemy weapons, including recoilless rifles, light machine guns and Chinese-type assault rifles.

About 1,000 Viet Cong hit a Vietnamese regimental and artillery command post 40 miles northwest of Saigon. A few of the attackers penetrated the post's defense perimeter but were thrown back. The Vietnamese claimed they killed 100 of the attackers.

There was no report of government casualties in either action.

U.S. troops suffered light casualties and U.S. Army helicopters, refueling trucks and buildings were damaged by a 15-minute mortar barrage on the Soc Trang airfield 95 miles southwest of Saigon, a U.S. spokesman said.

The spokesman refused to disclose the extent of damage under a new restriction on press coverage of the war.

ATLANTA (AP) — Assistant Secretary of State Douglas MacArthur II said today the over-all situation in South Viet Nam "has shown improvement in recent months."

In a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Cotton Producers Association, the nephew of the late Gen. "While we must face up to the reality of a long and dirty struggle," he said, "the military and over-all situation has shown improvement in recent months."

New Police Procedures on Obscenity to Be Aired

BIRMINGHAM — New police procedures for enforcing laws against obscenity and pornography will be recommended to the City Commission by City Manager Robert S. Kenning tonight.

Kenning's review of the existing police procedure resulted from recent controversy over police investigation of a novel sold locally.

The controversy involved the circumstances under which Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley borrowed two copies of "The Last Temptation of Christ" from the Doubleday Book Store, 238 Pierce.

While accusations that Moxley had confiscated the books were refuted, Mayor Robert W. Page said new procedures should be developed so that "no one even has a feeling there is censorship involved."

In his recommended policy, Kenning notes that a complaint can be initiated by a citizen or a member of the police department.

BE INVESTIGATED

He recommends that complaints be investigated promptly by a command officer of the police department.

Central to the new policy is the requirement that a book being investigated be purchased by the department.

"When the material is obtained from the seller, he shall be notified that a complaint has been received and that the material is being obtained in order to submit it to the city legal counsel for review to see whether or not, in the opinion of the city legal counsel, it is a violation of obscenity or pornography laws," Kenning said.

The explanation will be given to the store owner in a printed statement, according to Kenning's recommendation.

The city attorney will review the material and recommend action to the police department.

Report France Has Postponed 1st Orbiting Try

PARIS (UPI) — France today postponed its first attempt to orbit a space satellite, a reliable source reported.

The decision to put off the shot was made at a launch site deep in the Algerian Sahara, it was reported, but no reason was given.

Official sources at the French Defense Ministry would not comment.

Earlier reports said technicians were readying the countdown and that only the weather was holding up the firing of an 18-ton rocket carrying an 83.7 pound satellite from the Harmauguet test center.

The rocket will have more political than scientific value.

The raiders said they confiscated betting cards, $15,000 in cash, two printing presses, autos and gambling equipment.

Anti-Viet Parade Leaders Unhappy

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Bill Miller, 24, a VDC leader, from which most U. S. soldiers, are sent to Viet Nam. The base was the goal of two VDC parades Oct. 15 and 16 which were halted by police at the Oakland city limits.

Probe Gun Blast, Fire Fatal to 7

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP) — State police were investigating today the shotgun wounding of a farm couple and the cause of a fire that killed seven of their 13 children.

The parents and six older children escaped the flames that destroyed their log house in a remote farm area Saturday night.

State Trooper John Sherosick, a fire marshal heading the investigation, would say only that it was a "mysterious fire."

The father, Paul Borden, 38, said he did not know the source of the blast, only "that it was a shotgun." He said he kept several guns in the house.

SAY BLAST "The woman (his wife) said she saw the blast, but we don't know who fired it," said Borden. He was treated for pellet wounds of the arm at a hospital and discharged.

Borden said he and his oldest son, Harold, 17, tried in vain to save the victims, who ranged in age from 1 year to 10.

Mrs. Borden underwent surgery at Sunbury Community Hospital. She was listed in critical condition. Harold also was reported in critical condition with burns.

The other surviving children also were hospitalized. They are Marlene, 15; Kenneth, 14; Virginia, 12; Kathy, 10; and Shirley, 9. Marlene was listed in poor condition. All had been sleeping in one bedroom.

By the time firemen arrived, the two-story house was engulfed in flames. The bodies of the dead children were recovered Sunday.

The dead were Cindy, 10; Jerry, 8; Steven, 6; Roger, 5; Ruby, 3; John, 3; and Erich, 1. Borden said Harold was in the living room, yelling, "The house is on fire."

The father said he and Harold tried to reach the seven children on the second floor, but could not.

Harold jumped into an automobile and drove two miles into the community of Urban to summon help, Borden said, while he took his wife and surviving children in another car and were met by an ambulance.

U-M Student's Deferment for Draft Is Lost

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A University of Michigan student who leads an organization which has launched a program of conscientious objectors says his draft deferment has been reclassified, making him available for immediate draft.

Eric Chester, 22, reported this Saturday. He is president of the Ann Arbor chapter of Voice, a student organization which has a program to aid conscientious objectors.

Chester was convicted for his part in a sit-in at the Ann Arbor draft board last month and said he has been convicted in two other demonstrations, involving picketing for civil rights in Detroit and against the House Un-American Activities Committee hearings in Chicago. Chester said he is appealing the Ann Arbor sentence.

The rocks of which mountains are composed are made up of silicon and aluminum compounds.

Miller, who describes himself as a businessman, referred to a decision by Dwight D. Eisenhower, U. S. District Court judge, to allow the parade over the protests of Oakland officials but under certain restrictions.

ROUTE SET The judge set the route for the five-mile march from the University of California campus in adjoining Berkeley to Oakland's DeFremery Park.

The park is about a mile from the Army Terminal — the point from which most U. S. soldiers, are sent to Viet Nam. The base was the goal of two VDC parades Oct. 15 and 16 which were halted by police at the Oakland city limits.

"The march was satisfying to the extent that this time we entered Oakland," said Miller. "But something new is in the offing. We may attempt a rally at the Army Terminal."

SMOOTH MARCH About 800 law officers were massed along the route to make sure there was no violence and that the demonstrators kept within the prescribed parade limits.

The march went smoothly and the marchers dispersed after a parade in the park, before the 5 p.m. deadline set by Judge Sweet. The Hell's Angels motorcycle club which skirmished with demonstrators Oct. 16 kept its promise to boycott the parade. Parade monitors carried a $15,000.

It Seems to Me....

Mr. President---What Really Goes on Now in Viet Nam?

Things aren't good in Viet Nam. We are now suffering our worst casualties of this catastrophic "border incident." (You know this isn't a "war.")

Upon his return from the area, our own Governor declared that our attitude here at home is "too optimistic," and then he added: "it's my impression that this can get a lot worse before it gets better."

It has already gotten "a lot worse" since George Romney uttered this shrewd and candid observation. I protest against the news handling of this affair which the government wants to pass off as a "little skirmish."

We don't know the facts. We're told "what's good for us."

The President of the United States takes it upon himself to release such information as he decides is proper and fitting for the rest to know. Of course it's your money. And it's your men that die in action.

His autocratic issuance of news has just been soundly censured once more officially. This time it's by Sigma Delta Chi, leading journalistic fraternity. In two recent weeks 156 Americans were killed and 484 were wounded.

Others are "missing."

This whole affair was supposed to have been over long, long ago. Not too far back, some disinterested international sources suggested the U.S. was far, far behind in the overall conflict up to that point. But the U.S. Government never talked that way. Never.

This newspaper stands with our Government. If the top officials who have all the facts at their disposal feel that it is safer and more constructive over-all for us to continue, then we abide by that decision and accept it as the pronouncement of those best in a position to know.

However, we want the facts. We want ALL the facts. Where do we really stand?

Our Government estimates that 17,000 of the enemy were destroyed in 1964. Through the middle of October of 1965, the number leaped to 25,000 with more than ten weeks to go for a full year.

Are things "in hand?" If so, whose hand?

Two Candidates....

In Washington I heard several favorable comments on Michigan's GERALD FORD as a strong presidential possibility. The minority leader of the House has won a host of friends with his activities and he looms bigger than ever. Michigan is one of the greatest states in the union but we have never had a U.S. President.

Currently, there are two real candidates in Governor George Romney and Congressman Gerald Ford.

Straight Aim....

One of the most titanic struggles waged beneath the surface in all Washington history is under way.

Bobby Kennedy is completely determined to become the President of the United States. Nothing can stand in his way. His sights have been adjusted coolly, calmly, mathematically and totally beyond recall. When the moment comes to strike, all the dogs of political warfare will be unleashed in one fell swoop. Soothsayers declare certain statements and movements in South America are strictly in conformance with this overpowering ambition.

But it can't happen now. LBJ's the top boss.

And what he and young KENNEDY think of each other can be told in the same language in the same paragraph.

A Real Bargain....

Princeton University has just announced that tuition and academic fees will advance from $1,770 to $1,950 next fall. This means a four year course costs more than $15,000.

At Oakland University, a local student can graduate as a senior for a total cost around $2,500 or $3,000. Further, the local institution is the most modern top ranking college or university in the country. We're tied down by no time-honored "traditions" that conflict with the progressive spirit of "this changing world." We're cast in the highest type mold of today.

Think—just think—of the tremendous, breathless and wonderful God-sent gift in education that lies at your door. This may well be the greatest bargain in America in any line anywhere.

And in Conclusion....

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

A New Yorker tells me the only saving grace in the big blackout was old Mother Nature. She came up with a bright, brilliant moon. Overheard: "In this day, the man who says something can't be done is likely to be interrupted by someone doing it." Air traffic is so great in London, a third gigantic airfield is on the drawing boards. It will be 20 miles from the heart of town and all residents in the area will be swept away. Peoples of all countries are similarly caught.

Trusted scouts advise me Lynne Brockman deserves mention as one of the attractive girls in the area. China gives her population as 646 million but 750 million is believed to be right. Overheard: "She's doing wonderfully in college in everything except her studies." Geologists now believe we had life on this planet three billion years ago.

The most baffling sign of an office location in the world is in the Pontiac Medical Building on Johnson. They designate some offices as "O.A." I've been in some of the biggest office buildings and some of the smallest and I never heard a designation as wierd as that. On inquiry, I find others haven't either. Overheard: "I get along real good with my mother-in-law. We can't afford a baby sister yet." Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—MARIE JENKS who plays 27 holes a day all summer with her golf cart. MARIE's 85 years old; the J's—this CLAY-PATTERSON fiasco. —HAROLD A. FITZGERALD Misplaced Flame!

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Gets Shortchanged in U.N.

WASHINGTON — Maybe it's time to "reapportion" the votes in the United Nations General Assembly.

If the voting system were arranged on the basis of only one vote for every million dollars donated by a member state to sustain that organization, the United States would LAWRENCE have enough votes to counterbalance the votes controlled directly or indirectly by the Communist bloc.

Certainly when any group of individuals puts the largest amount of capital in a corporation, they are usually given the biggest share of the stock and the voting power.

In the 20 years since the U.N. was organized, the United States has contributed $2.41 billion out of the total of $5.37 billion collected, which includes all assessments and voluntary payments. Thus America's share of the expense has been 45 per cent.

Yet the Soviet Union in the same period paid only $233 million or less than 5 per cent of the total.

PECULIAR VOTE What brings up this question is the peculiar vote recorded in the United Nations General Assembly last week when 47 members voted to admit Red China and 47 voted against the admission, while 20 abstained.

An examination of the way the votes were cast reveals that the group of 47 for Red China was made up almost entirely of countries in Africa, Eastern Europe and Asia which are engaged in trade with the Communists.

How long is the United States going to be subjected to the menace of a voting combination whereby the Soviet Union, though sometimes quarreling with Red China outwardly, manages nevertheless to work with the Peking regime against the United States?

Fifteen different systems of "weighted voting" the U.N. have been studied in vain by the Department of State.

NONE ADVOCATED Some are based on population, some on financial contributions to the U.N., and some on comparisons of Gross National Product. But none of these plans has as yet been formally advocated by the United States.

The United States in 1965 is paying 57 per cent of the total assessments of the U.N. This is much larger than any other nation's contribution.

In fact, more than four-fifths of the 117 members are assessed at less than 1 per cent each. Indeed, more than one-third of all the members pay the minimum assessment of less than four-tenths of 1 per cent.

many small nations which happen to be influenced by imperialistic regimes.

The problem will ultimately have to be settled on a practical basis — that the policies of the nation which puts up the most money and furnishes the largest amount of economic aid to the other nations of the world should not be subjected to a majority vote by a bloc of members whose votes are manipulated or intimidated by Communist imperialism.

Bob Considine Says:

Might Have Benefited All if Rusk Had Belted Spitter

NEW YORK — Asked for a comment after he had been spit upon by some jerk student in Montevideo, our distinguished Secretary of State Dean Rusk said that his trip there had been "extremely hospitable... with the exception of one young individual whose welcome seemed to be a little unconventional."

All very stiff upper lip and in the best tradition of the State Department. But I wonder if it might not have been a lot better for everyone concerned, including the jerk, if Rusk had flattened him on the spot?

The State Department manual has nothing that would condone that kind of reaction. I know. I used to work there. But times change, and sometimes even manuals are rewritten. Even the State Department manual.

Just suppose Rusk, who was an Army officer during World War II, sprang back at that pinhead and said, "why you miserable so and so, nobody can do that to me!" And decked him.

Do you suppose all those who witnessed the event — which probably would have been carried to the other side of the world by Early Bird — might have said, "Say, maybe you can't fool around with those American paties any more."

ROUGHED UP Sen. Robert Kennedy was roughed up in Concepcion, Chile, pelted with overripe vegetables and called (of all things, what with the imminence of Nov. 22) an "assassin."

Left to his own resources, he could have handled any three bums in the joint.

We have borne these senseless insults with great tolerance and have established several variable AAU records for check-turning. But every time we fail to react as an ordinary human being would react to unwarranted affront, every time we have neglected to grab the host nation's chancellor by the lapels and demanded an explanation, we have lost something.

We have encouraged the senseless to take more chances with us. We have made the neutral wonder if perhaps what he has been told by Peking and

Moscow and Havana might very well have some basis in fact.

The bum who spit on Dean Rusk "was seized" by Uruguayan cops. Splendid. Probably got two days in the clink, was back in class by midweek, and a hero whose deeds will be emulated in bigger and better ways by others the next time one of our people venture in there on a mission of peace and aid.

How did the student get close enough to Rusk in the first place? What kind of security do we ask for our programs?

Or do we dare ask at all? Even St. Bernard's sometimes growl. Let's now and then hear one from our gut.

Bride Prices

The Nairobi Reporter

A few months ago there was a controversy in East Africa over whether the modern African miss should adopt Western ways, wear Western-style dresses and use face make-up. With some reservations on the use of make-up, and such refinements as hair-straightening, the modernists came out on top. There is no doubt that shaven heads and bare feet are on their way out.

Now another controversy is raging. This concerns the ancient bride price custom, and here, tradition is going to make a stand. In East Africa today the size of the bride price is getting all out of proportion to income while more and more women are objecting to being sold like cattle. Enlightened parents are having increasing doubts about the ethics of demanding exorbitant bride prices; it remains a fact that marriage is one field in which the Western world has little in the way of example to offer Africa.

While many greedy men are prepared to bully their daughters into accepting the highest bidder, our inquiries have shown that the majority of women look upon the custom as a kind of marriage insurance, i.e., present custom does not permit a man, or women to enter into marriage lightly, and therefore the union is more likely to endure. Nevertheless, it is high time that a ceiling was

In answer to Mrs. Thomason's recent letter on the condition of nursing homes and patient care, I have worked as an aide in nursing homes and hospitals for many years and resent very much that anyone should vent family-guilt feelings on the personnel who take over the job some relatives shirk.

Where I have worked patients needing assistance or feeding get it. Housekeepers work daily to keep the rooms clean. It is impossible to have incontinent patients clean and dry at all times even with private nursing care. Diets are followed according to doctors' orders, not the families'.

DEBORAH DAVENPORT
201 VOORHEIS

A recent Voice of the People letter about rest homes was certainly misleading. I have been in a rest home since January and have had the best of care. I have never had to sleep in a soiled bed and have never seen one that was soiled or unclean. Bed patients are fed and well cared for. Those who can go by wheelchair are taken to the dining room for meals.

Hopes Our Next Congress Has a Backbone

Can anyone tell me how many people have a key to the White House other than the President? Luther King and James Farmer seem to be the only people who can contact our President any time, make a request and have it sent to Congress with a request from the President to pass it. I hope the next Congress will have a backbone.

I have observed that in some southern states the schools used by the colored people are the best looking schools. I've talked with some colored people in the South and they were well-satisfied. Some own farms and are doing as well or better than the white people. It would be well if our officials would take a firsthand look instead of listening to some rabble-rouser.

Photos Seized in Rhodesia

News Shots of Negro Leaders Confiscated

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI)—Rhodesian authorities today seized news photographs of Black Nationalist leaders from Life magazine correspondents in the southwestern city of Bulawayo. It was the first censorship of outgoing dispatches by the rebel regime.

Bulawayo, 250 miles southwest of Salisbury, is a nationalist stronghold. The photographs were being put on planes leaving the country.

In addition to the Life photographs, packets destined for Independent Television (ITV) news in London and the Rand Daily Mail of Johannesburg also were seized. Contents of the latter said only it was "a police matter."

Representatives of the organizations involved lodged a protest over the action.

Newspaper censorship was imposed by Premier Ian Smith when he declared Rhodesia independent from Britain Nov. 11, but until today the rebel government had not interfered with reports and photographs sent out by foreign newsmen.

Among the pictures deemed offensive were photos of Mrs. Joseph Nkomo, whose husband leads one of white-led Rhodesia's two banned African nationalist movements, and Nationalist leader Le Baron, who is restricted to Bulawayo.

A government censor now is posted in all newspaper offices and many newspapers came out with blank spaces on their editorial and news pages.

The Smith regime meanwhile appeared untroubled by the United Nations Security Council resolution calling on all nations to end oil shipments to Rhodesia, whose 220,000 whites rule 3.8 million black Africans.

Neighboring South Africa, which also maintains an apartheid (segregation) government, was reported to be trying to force forward with full economic support of the Smith government.

FRUSTRATE EFFORT
Most observers felt South African support alone could frustrate the immediate effect of an oil boycott as proposed by the U.N.

The country was calm throughout the weekend. Thousands in Salisbury flocked to swimming pools and movies. Shops were well stocked with Christmas goods.

The bile of economic sanctions placed on Rhodesia by Britain and other nations was not expected to be felt by the consumer for several months.

The British government Saturday issued a decree revoking the press censorship orders imposed by the rebel government. It was hoped in London that Rhodesian newspapers would challenge the decrees, thus testing the loyalty of judges in the breakaway colony.

To date, jurists in Rhodesia have not been forced to take a stand on independence.

The Rev. Paul Oestreicher, associate secretary of the International Department of the British Council of Churches, yesterday warned Rhodesian Europeans that "in the terrible reckoning to come" they would "suffer most and lose all."

The Rev. Oestreicher was commenting in London on a statement by Dr. Michael Ramsey, the Archbishop of Canterbury, that in certain circumstances Britain would be justified in using force to quell the Rhodesian rebellion.

"We know that the day may come when our government will be asked to assert its legal rights in the interests of justice and peace," the Rev. Oestreicher said.

"The de facto — yet illegal and government of Rhodesia — pious phrases notwithstanding, is clearly determined to uphold white supremacy."

Wallace Rites to Be Simple

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Final public rites will be conducted at St. Paul's Episcopal church today for former Vice President Henry A. Wallace.

The Rev. William L. Jacobs, church rector, said the service would be simple, and without an eulogy.

A native Iowan, Wallace, 77, died Thursday in a Danbury, Conn., hospital where he had been taken from his home in South Salem, N.Y. A brief funeral service was conducted Saturday at Ridgefield, Conn., and the body was taken to Bridgeport, Conn., for cremation.

Wallace's ashes will be buried Tuesday in a private service.

High rise apartments began to displace city tenements on a large scale as living quarters between 1885-1900 with greater use of structural steel, improvement of elevators and increased supplies of electricity.

Freshman Senators—6

Oklahoman Ready to Probe of U.S. Research Mill

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the sixth in a 10-part series on freshmen senators. The subject is Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma.)

By JOHN GOLDSMITH
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Fred R. Harris, the model of a self-effacing freshman lawmaker, is quietly preparing for a congressional inquiry which could spotlight him as a top member of the class.

The 35-year-old Oklahoma Democrat, whose election victory over popular football coach Bud Wilkinson was one of last year's major upsets, will head a study of the federal government's role in research. It is a $16-billion-a-year hunting ground for the new subcommittee which Harris heads.

What are the repercussions of government-financed research in colleges and universities? Does the government's right hand know what the left is discovering — what it is paying to discover?

These are some of the questions to be considered by the new senator's government operations subcommittee on government research.

Few senators achieve status as a subcommittee chairman during their freshman year. But Harris accomplished it and, in the process, stamped himself as a quiet but resourceful legislative technician—the sort of senator who survives.

SECOND YOUNGEST
For the Senate's second youngest member (Only Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., is younger, by a year) the future appears to be bright. Harris is taking it all in stride, however.

"It has been an easy transition," he said in an interview, recalling that he spent eight years in the Oklahoma Senate where Thomas Jefferson's manual is the source of the operating rules, just as it is in the Senate.

"Legislation is pretty much the same anywhere," he said.

"very few great victories, more a series of little bitty battles. I haven't had to learn, through frustration, that the process is generally unromantic and undramatic."

Harris frequently has pinched his nose for vice president Hubert H. Humphrey as the Senate's presiding officer. The chore always falls heavily on first-year senators, and Harris has been much in demand as an experienced legislator well grounded in Senate procedure.

100 HOURS
Weeks ago, Humphrey participated in ceremonies at which Harris was given a gavel as a memento of 100 hours in the presiding officer's chair. Harris has been "Mr. President" more than any senator during the present session.

Other mementos of the first year in Washington include three of those pens President Johnson hands out to lawmakers and others who have helped to fashion the bills he signs. They reflect the Harris' activities as a member of the Senate Government Operations and Public Works committees.

One pen marked the enactment of the Economic Development and Public Works Act — the bill which applies the principle of the administration's Appalachia program to other economically disadvantaged regions.

Other pens were acquired at the signing of the administration's bill creating a department of housing and urban development and the water pollution bill.

AGAINST MEDICARE
But Harris voted against the Medicare-Social Security bill partly because he felt that the opposition to Medicare voiced by his predecessor, the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr, was something of a commitment. Harris also opposed the administration on some aspects of the foreign aid program.

Harris supported President Johnson's policies in the Dominican Republic and Vietnam.

However, he opposed the President on what he says was "the most actively lobbied Senate vote in the present session."

That came on a move — narrowly defeated — to eliminate some of the discretionary aid authority for billboard control in the highway beautification bill — a special concern of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

(Tomorrow: Sen. Joseph D. Tydings of Maryland.)

Robert Maxwells Wed in Cincinnati Chapel

A reception in the Kenwood Country Club followed the vows of Helen Kay Benckenstein and Robert A. Maxwell, Saturday, in Armstrong Chapel, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. George W. Benckenstein Jr. of Cincinnati and the Earl A. Maxwells of Lahser Road.

EMPIRE GOWN

A hand-jeweled re-embroidered Alencon lace bodice highlighted the Empire bridal gown and chapel train of ivory peau de soie.

An open pillbox of matching lace held her bouffant veil of imported illusion.

The bride held a spray of Stephanotis with deep green foliage, stimulating orange blossoms.

Honor attendants were Mrs. George W. Benckenstein III and Judy Drosch, both of Cincinnati.

Bridesmaids were Susan Koll, Mary McLaury and Mrs. Michael Monson, all of Chicago, Suzanne Scott, Mrs. Jay Ferguson, Mrs. Ron Bates, all of Cincinnati, and Ann Maxwell, the bridegroom's sister.

John Catlin of Chicago was best man. The ushers were William C. Purdy, Wayne A. Andrae, Gary E. Downey and E. Curtis Matthews all of Birmingham.

Richard LeStage, North Andover, Mass., Edgar Harris, Pittsburgh, George W. Benckenstein III and Master Douglas E. Maxwell complete the usher list. Master George Benckenstein IV carried the rings.

After a honeymoon in the Caribbean, the couple will live in Ann Arbor where he attends University of Michigan Law School. Both are graduates of Denison University.

Designer Is on Scene With Color

Adele Simpson articulates "The Art of Life" in her Winterlude '65 collection with a fresh fashion message to brighten the wintry scene.

The collection is young, as all chic women are eternally young, and definitely influenced by the great contemporary modern artists.

Versatility is the keynote. Costumes, suits and dresses with stoles or scarfs go anywhere at any time of day or night with great fashion aplomb.

Silhouettes are easy; mobile, pleated skirts swing with the young, active American woman.

Fabrics are light in weight with texture intrigue. Woven stripes, pin dots and airy tweeds in wool sculptured collars and striking silk prints predominate.

Colors from the modern art palette vibrate in true red, canary yellow, cobalt blue, Valencia orange, are softened by pastel pink and blue. The crisp contrast of black, brown and navy with white adds a fresh early spring note.

Contemporary fashion is a unique American art.

Pick Soloists for Oratorio

Mrs. Irene Kunst Edinger of Birmingham will sing soprano for the Oakland University Chorus presentation of Bach's "Christmas Oratorio."

Other soloists are: alto, Alice Engram of the OU music faculty; tenor, Dan Presley of the Hillside College music faculty; and bass, Otto Brown, director of vocal music at Ferndale High School.

The Oratorio will be presented Dec. 12 at 3:30 p.m. in the OU Sports and Recreation Building. The performance is open to the public at no charge.

Hold Reception Honoring Two

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Jones of Bloomfield Hills will hold a cocktail reception honoring Dr. and Mrs. Harlan Hatcher and Congressman and Mrs. Gerald Ford Tuesday evening.

Films of exciting events of 1965 at the University of Michigan will highlight the evening.

Local Mom Fits Pattern

By MARGARET BROWN

Did you know that millions of American women are leading a double life? They're the working wives and mothers.

Why are the storied mainstays of the homefront leaping so notably into the fray of the workaday world? And how is it working out?

How are employed couples coping with the often awesome business of finding reliable baby sitters, keeping up the home, enjoying some free time for one's self — even getting sufficient rest? And what about the "working mother guilt complex?"

NATIONAL SURVEY

Recently a 35-state survey querying employed mothers revealed financial goals and mental stimulation as primary objectives for working, although most of the wives confessed that there simply aren't enough hours in a day.

Seeking a few extra thoughts on this dual-role existence and its inevitable complications, this reporter met with three Pontiac working mothers.

Mrs. Leon Yulkowski of Oneida Road has been working full-time since 1958, assisting her husband in his own business, General Lock, Inc., on Sheffield Street. He's a former architect with the late Ellet Saarian.

"I've quit for brief periods a couple of times," said Mrs. Yulkowski during an interview on the job.

"Although I enjoyed pastimes such as painting and baking bread while at home, I felt that I must have too much energy to be home full-time, especially when I found myself doing something as ridiculous as ironing t-shirts."

"My husband says I complained a lot when at home," she laughed.

HAS TO BE EFFICIENT

Calm and capable, which explains her efficiency in supervising office duties for her appreciative husband, the striking brunette has a lively home life. There are four little Yulkowskis; the youngest, a daughter, is just ten months old.

Fortunate in having someone dependable to care for her brood, Mrs. Yulkowski said, "The children have been exposed to sitters practically since birth, and I think they're more extroverted for it. Perhaps we mothers tend to overprotect in some ways."

The Yulkowskis spend much time with their children evenings. "Weekends are devoted entirely to children," added Mrs. Yulkowski who underscored the importance of her one-day-a-week domestic help: "It's when everything gets behind that you start getting mean!"

As for that "guilt complex," the pensive mother reflected, "I have that feeling only when an occasional non-working mother remarks, 'I think too much of my children to work outside the home.'"

Admitting that she naturally would delight in having more time with her youngsters, Mrs. Yulkowski commented, "I do try to make my time with them count. We make a point of conversing and talking frankly with them. They're very affectionate children."

FIRM DISCIPLINE

And I firmly believe a parent's love is shown best by firm discipline," she said flatly. "Do you 'spank' in your home?" we inquired. "Absolutely!"

Miss Ryan in Whirl of Parties

Former schoolmates of Sally Kay Ryan and their mothers honored the bride-elect at a recent shower in the home of Mrs. James Ward on Dixie Highway.

The J. P. Ryans of Loch Leven Drive are parents of Sally who will become the bride of Gilbert Bruce Robertson, Saturday, in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

Mrs. William Basinger gave a shower in her Rochester home with Karen Pope as cohostess.

Mrs. George Howard and Mrs. Thomas Sweetman honored the bride-to-be at a "round-the-clock" shower in the Sweetman home on Loch Leven Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Isles of Pirin Street will host a dinner in Greenfield's Restaurant, Birmingham, for her son and his fiancée, following the church rehearsal on Friday.

Lets Ask the Boys

Who Wants Brass Band?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I was surprised at your answer to the mother whose son was coming home from Viet Nam.

She asked if you thought it was all right to go overboard with "welcome home" signs in her front yard surrounded by flags, and you said, "Why not? And line up a brass band if you can."

If the mother goes through with this kind of welcome for her son, he will resent it till his dying day. War is sheer hell, Abby. Especially a jungle war. And any man who has won three medals for bravery, such as this boy has, is bound to be emotionally "shook." Yours is the typical feminine approach.

Ask your husband, or son, a homecoming such as this mother has planned would embarrass any veteran who has seen action. A small, quiet homecoming with the family and a few close friends is all any veteran wants. Save the fireworks for the Fourth of July.

KOREAN VETERAN AT HOME IN CHICAGO

DEAR VETERAN: You speak with authority and I bow to your judgment. But I'd like to hear from some of our boys in Vietnam who are dreaming of the day they come home.

You DESERVE a brass band—but does anyone want one?

DEAR ABBY: Our son was in Vietnam for one year, and he survived the worst the Far East had to offer.

He arrived last week at the Newark Airport and we greeted him with a large 16-foot banner with huge red block letters spelling out "WELCOME HOME, SON!"

I thought of the idea when he wrote to tell us he was coming home. My husband went along with the idea and I am glad he did. Everyone who saw that banner seemed happy for us. And no one thought we were "bragging" too much for a boy who had risked his life every day in the cause of humanity.

Our son was so thrilled he took a picture of the banner to keep forever. So tell that other proud mother of a Vietnamese hero that if she wants to borrow our banner, we'll be glad to send it to her.

MRS. C. M. HAMILTON SQUARE, N. J.

DEAR ABBY: A recent letter in your column asked how to reward a son's return from Vietnam, as this young man had a very impressive record.

You suggested the "brass band" treatment. This may not be correct. While he is certainly entitled to it, the main question is, "Would he want it?"

Church Women Slate Luncheon

The Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook will host "Advent As a Preparation for Christmas" at the noon luncheon in the church on Nov. 30.

Mrs. Nicholas Mumford and her committee have planned the program.

The Rev. Mr. William P. Erwin, the first and present Ecumenical Fellow of Christ Church, will open the afternoon session.

The morning segment of the meeting will begin at 10 a.m. and be devoted to the instruction of crewelwork and needlepoint.

Mother Plays Dual Role

feelings of oppression from lack of time. She recently began teaching Sunday school at All Saints Episcopal Church, an endeavor she "... wouldn't give up for the world."

Although their growing business is "like a fifth child," the Yulkowskis even find time for Friday evenings with the Detroit Fencers Club. "We met through fencing while in college," she said.

The couple's home pulsates with activity evenings, but Mrs. Yulkowski says she doesn't feel she suffers from lack of sleep. "I don't think everyone needs eight hours sleep nightly."

Fortunately, I love to cook," she said, "though I don't have everything neatly stacked in my freezer with a little label."

NIGHTLY CHORES

After dinner and dishes each night, Mrs. Yulkowski tries to wash a load of clothes and accomplish some ironing. "Our sister is good to pitch in, and our little ones wear lots of wash-and-wears, corduroys and things I can shake out."

Asked if a full-time job made her more efficient, she responded, "Yes, one certainly tries to be more organized; yet there are times when I see no sign at all of organization. I make a list and simply try to get three-quarters of it done."

Back to the time-or lack of element, she did allow, "I guess I only forget the lack of time in that there are so many things I'd like to do: classes at Oakland University, Meadow Brook concerts."

Still, I never have that feeling. Good heavens, what can I do tomorrow? I really do enjoy my work."

(Next: A Pontiac General Hospital nurse offers her views as a working mother.)

Late spring vows are planned by Carol Sue Brown, daughter of the Leeland Browns of King Circle, Orion Township, and Frederick Ray Rossman, son of the Frederick L. Rossmans of Lapeer.

Never Lay Cigarette on Edge

By The Emily Post Institute

First of all, it is unforfeitable to lay a cigarette (or cigar) on the edge of a table or other piece of furniture—ever!

Forgetting it and letting it burn a groove on a table edge or a brown scar on a marble mantel is merely the result of putting it down on the wrong place to begin with. Find an ash tray or ask for one.

Striking a match directly toward someone is dangerous; the head may fly off and cause a painful burn.

Never toss a lighted cigarette out the window. It may land on an awning or the top of someone's convertible parked outside.

Other don'ts include such untidiness as spilling ashes on the floor or upholstery, or throwing filter-tipped cigarettes on a lawn or terrace where the fireproof, rainproof tip will remain until someone rakes or sweeps it away.

Worst offender of all is the smoker who leaves his lighted end in the ash tray to burn itself out, making even other smokers present ill from the smell.

DOESN'T WISH COCKTAIL

Q: When a man invites a young woman to dine, may he order a cocktail for himself if his guest doesn't want one, or would it be considered rude to let her sit and wait with nothing before her while he has a drink?

A: There is no reason why he may not have a cocktail if he would like one.

He should, however, ask his guest if she would like to have a ginger ale, or tomato juice perhaps, while he is having his drink.

The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Table Rules of Importance" describes how to eat spaghetti as well as other difficult foods.

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute at The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Polly's Pointers

Stick to Outline

DEAR GIRLS—Schedules are like New Year's resolutions in that more are broken than are kept. Nevertheless, a general outline for Christmas holiday preparations (always subject to change for individual needs) will help prevent last-minute panic and pandemonium on Christmas Eve.

Some readers may be ahead of these proposed plans. If so, fine. Many packages for delivery overseas are probably already mailed by the week of Nov. 1. If not, they must be mailed by Nov. 10, or air mailed by Dec. 10 to be sure of delivery by Christmas.

By, or during, the first week of November, Christmas cards should be ordered. If the signature is to be imprinted, include your last name as someone may know a dozen Marys or Jims. Last year's card list must be checked to know how many to order and we suggest getting some extras.

At this time make address changes in your file or book and zip code numbers. This will speed up the job when envelopes are addressed. One of our readers suggested that addresses be written with pencil for easier changing. Another uses a red and a green pen to draw sprays of holly berries and leaves on the name and address stickers she will put on the envelopes.

Cookie baking can be done now. The cookies keep for a long time in the freezer. A home economist also suggests making all the dough, quick freezing the cutout shapes on cookie sheets and then slipping them into plastic bags and storing in the freezer to be baked later.

Those who do Christmas shopping throughout the year should check their lists on hand against their lists so there is no chance of duplicate buying.

About this time it might be well to write down your own sizes and wants so when friend husband asks you are all prepared with suggestions to help him shop.

By the week of Nov. 8, it is well to plan any special entertaining to be done during the holidays. Start guest lists and jot down ideas for menus. Start clipping any holiday recipes, party or menu ideas that appear in newspapers and magazines. If your family has no established Christmas custom think ahead to one that you will start this year. In most families these are simple things like reading aloud Dickens' "Christmas Carol" on Christmas Eve, singing carols or a tree trimming party for lonely friends.—POLLY

Pontiac Symphony Has First Family Concerts

By JOHN C. TOUSLEY

Alice Dutcher, mezzo-soprano, was the featured guest soloist at Sunday's Pontiac Symphony Orchestra family concert.

Because of the large number of ticket sales, identical concerts were presented at 3:00 and 4:30 p.m. in the Northern High School auditorium.

The first selection on the program was to be Rossini's Overture to William Tell, which consists of five parts. The orchestra, however, chose to play only the last two sections, which embrace the familiar "Lone Ranger" theme.

While the orchestral effect was fiery and full, the brass section lacked precision, and the orchestra as a whole failed to achieve unity, either of sound or of mood.

Alice Dutcher charmed the audience with two much-loved arias from Bizet's Carmen, "Habenera" and "Seguidilla," throughout which she displayed a beautiful voice and excellent technique.

The arias were performed in English, which allowed even the youngest members of the audience to enjoy Miss Dutcher's beguiling portrayal of the designing gypsy.

The orchestra did an adequate job of accompaniment; however, there were several times when the violins were somewhat less than together.

Next on the program was Debussy's brief musical gem, The Girl with the Flaxen Hair, which featured a rather listless violin solo. The orchestra came close to creating even more aloof effects than the impressionistic Debussy intended.

CAUGHT FIRE

The orchestra finally began to jell in its rendition of Brahms' Hungarian Dance Number Five. The catchy rhythms and delightful melodies of Brahms were performed with noteworthy rhythmic variety and excellent ensemble.

Alice Dutcher returned to sing "Non Piu Mesta," from Rossini's "La Cenerentola." This number, from Rossini's setting of Cinderella, presents a formidable array of vocal difficulties, requiring a wide range and an unlimited amount of vocal agility, all of which were handled by the soloist with true artistry.

The final selection, March Hongroise, by Berlioz, brought the symphony to its usual high level of performance. This splendid march opened with solid brass and moved rhythmically and brilliantly to its climax.

Ma's Not the Maid, Pa's Not the Slave

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

"I'm not the maid, my husband is not the slave."

This is the way Mrs. S. I., of Flushing, N. Y., stated her philosophy of family life to her two children some years ago. They were very young then. Now they're both over 21, have fat savings accounts and a pretty swell people.

I want to share her letter with you:

"Dear Mary Feeley:
"We have two grown children we have put through college. One is teaching, the other will graduate next year and also teach."

"From the beginning, I saved for them all money gifts over 50 cents that were given to me for them."

"My son started selling papers at age 12, and my daughter worked at the five-and-dime store for awhile during high school."

"From the first money the children made, I held out one-third for them, with no strings attached . . . another one-third for their bank account . . . and another one-third for me—also no strings attached."

"After their teens, the one-third for the bank was up to them."

"At the beginning of his teens, with my son's permission, I put his savings into a blue chip stock. My daughter voted to keep hers in the savings bank."

"Now both children have a nice fat amount at their disposal—they're over 21."

"Believe me, there was a slightly more-than-mild squawk from our son a few years ago:

nobody else he knew had to pay board to the extent he was asked to pay."

"I reminded him that those he referred to were not put through a four-year college living away from home or any other four-year college."

"Even if there's plenty of money in the family, children still need to know that money doesn't just come. It has to be earned by somebody and should be managed. Where there's not plenty of money—as in our family—I feel I am not the maid, my husband is not the slave. This is the family's home and the family should contribute to its upkeep."

Dear Mrs. I:
I'm right down on my knees in admiration—and this is a position I don't usually take in public. I think you'll be interested to know that I'm receiving an increasing number of letters from all parts of the country, from parents—fathers, too—who are waking up, pulling themselves together, and pointing out to their children that the family is a unit that needs all available hands to keep it going. This is what made this country great in the pioneer days, and it's still what's needed today. I thank you for your letter."

(You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions of widest interest will be answered in her column.)

Miss McKee Will Wed B'ham Man

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred S. McKee of Auburn Heights announce the engagement of their daughter Betty Ann to Rev. James Weathers of Birmingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Weathers of Otwell, Ind.

The bride-elect was a former student at Bethany Bible College, Minneapolis, Minn., and her fiancé is presently attending Midwestern Baptist seminary.

Air Hostess Gals Design Own Outfits

By United Press International
Most major airlines turned to name designers in the flurry to redesign stewardess uniforms.

But one line, Panagra, pulled a practical switch. It let its flight hostesses design their own. "We decided that the girls who wear the uniform day in and day out were entitled to first consideration on what it should be like," said Panagra's president Andrew B. Shea.

The girl's produced a one-button jacket with just barely the suggestion of a fit. A white blouse is collarless, rounded at the neck and loose.

CHOSE BERET
The skirt has seamless front and the new cap is a round beret worn on the back of the head. The girls stuck with the light green color traditional of the airlines.

Topcoat is worn with a white headscarf (which seems to be a trademark of all stewardesses) and the shoulder strap on the bag has been replaced with conventional arm strap.

Longbrakes Visit South After Vows

Off on a honeymoon at Williamsburg, Va. are the William Arthur Longbrakes (Suzanne Mary Brown) who spoke vows, Saturday, in the Orchard Lake Community Church Presbyterian.

Rev. Edward Auchard performed the candlelight ceremony and a reception followed in the CAI Building.

Parents of the couple are the Gerald V. Browns of Linwood Drive, West Bloomfield Township, and the Arthur O. Longbrakes of Fiddis Street.

Motifs of Alencon lace accented the bride's gown and train of white peau taffeta worn with imported illusion veil and lace headpiece. She carried white orchids and carnations.

With Donalds Corey, honor maid, were bridesmaids, Mrs. Richard Goldsworthy and Mrs. Raymond Tuttle. Julie Brown was her sister's flower girl. Todd Goldsworthy carried the rings.

Richard Goldsworthy was best man along with Bruce Smith and Michael Brown who ushered.

Music Guild Has Recital

Several members of the Pontiac Music Guild presented students in recital Sunday at the First Congregational Church.

Those participating included Mrs. Carl Clifford, Mrs. Don Derragon, Mrs. Hazel Gessinger and Amy Hogle.

Others were Mrs. Claude Kimler, Mrs. Walter Schmitz, Mrs. Clarence Shepard, Mrs. Lester Snell, Eida Sutter and Charles Wilson.

A business meeting followed the musical program.

Reds Put U.S. Tourist on Trial

Charge Is Crossing Border Without Visa

MURMANSK, USSR (UPI) — A young American went on trial in this dark arctic city today on charges he entered the Soviet Union illegally.

The pale winter dawn was just breaking at 10 a.m. when Newcomb Mott, 27, of Sheffield, Mass., entered the Murmansk Regional Court to answer charges which could bring a maximum sentence of three years on conviction.

Mott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Mott, who were in the courtroom when the trial began, said they had learned that the Soviet prosecutor plans to present evidence that Mott ignored written warnings against entering the Soviet Union without a visa.

Murmansk citizens hurried around their cold, snow-covered city, unaware that it was the scene of the first trial in Soviet history of an American citizen on border-crossing charges.

No Soviet newspaper has reported Mott's arrest or trial so far, a sign the Kremlin does not consider the affair serious.

HELD FOR TRIAL

Mott was arrested near the Soviet-Norwegian border Sept. 4 and has been held here since that date.

The trial began with the reading of the indictment, which charged that Mott, a tourist, crossed the border from Kirkenes, Norway, to Boris Gleb, Russia, without a visa.

He was stopped by Soviet officials and asked for identification. When he produced his American passport, he was arrested.

Mott was expected to admit the crossing, but to plead that he crossed with good intent, not knowing that the visa-free border crossing permitted to Scandinavians at that point did not extend to other foreigners.

WARNING EVIDENCE

But Mott's parents said they learned that Soviet authorities have possession of a Norwegian document warning non-Scandinavians against crossing the border, and plan to introduce it as evidence.

Such evidence could damage Mott's plea of innocent intent, American officials admitted.

Ike to Be Taken to D.C. Hospital Today

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower heads for Washington late today aboard a special train.

The 75-year-old general is recovering from his second heart attack, and doctors report they are pleased with his progress. He has been hospitalized at the Army hospital here since Nov. 9.

An Army ambulance will take Eisenhower to the railroad siding where he will be placed in his special compartment aboard the Army-ordered eight-car train. Another Army ambulance will meet the train about 14 hours later somewhere in the Washington area to move him to the Walter Reed Army Hospital. Eisenhower's 8- by 11-foot compartment in the train's third car has been equipped with a hospital bed and assorted emergency and heart monitoring equipment.

The rest of the car will be occupied by doctors and nurses.

Mrs. Eisenhower and members of the general's staff will travel in the fourth car — a private car belonging to an official of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

The train will make only one stop en route for equipment servicing. The location of the stop is classified information.

Saturday afternoon, Eisenhower made his first public appearance since suffering his heart attack. He was wheeled onto the porch of his hospital suite to talk briefly with newsmen and have his picture taken.

Would he play golf again? Eisenhower said he was willing to obey his doctors' orders, but added with a grin: "If they order me not to play golf, then there'll be an argument."

Put Down Riot in Aden

ADEN (AP) — British and Arab troops used tear gas yesterday to break up a riot that followed the slaying of an Arab — apparently by extremists of the National Liberation Front. The riot erupted after a group of young men marched toward the shopping area shouting anti-British slogans. A Jewish-owned bar was set afire during the melee.

Sukarno Blasts Leftist Coup, Says Strife Weakens Indonesia

JAKARTA (UPI) — President Sukarno yesterday condemned the Leftist coup attempt against his government but warned the Indonesian people that internal fighting and hatreds posed an even greater threat.

"What we are doing now is self-destruction," the 64-year-old president said in a speech to a crowd assembled for Moslem Ascension Day ceremonies in his palace garden. "No more of this, my brothers."

Sukarno said "killings, slander, burnings and hatred among ourselves" has cost Indonesia its leading role among Asian nations.

The speech echoed statements Sukarno made Saturday to a group of 300 military and political leaders at his weekend palace in suburban Bogor. In that address, Sukarno said Indonesia still adheres to a pro-Communist axis of Asian powers including Communist China, North Viet Nam and North Korea.

Sukarno did not denounce the Indonesian Communist party or call for its dissolution despite heavy public pressure to do so.

ADmits HARM

In a rare moment of candor, Sukarno admitted that the Oct. 1 coup attempt has harmed Indonesia's prestige abroad.

In a related development, the Indonesian navy was reported to have imposed martial law on the Central Java ports of Tegal, Semarang and Tjilatjap.

Central Java has been the main Communist stronghold since the coup collapsed and there have been reports of violence there over the past few weeks despite army claims to have broken the back of the Communist axis of Asian pow-

Wants to Reach 100

Ex-VP Marks 97th Birthday

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — Former Vice President John Nance Garner celebrated his 97th birthday today with a brand new hat and a wish to be 100.

National and state officials gathered in this small South Texas town to honor the only man who ever served successively as Speaker of the U.S. House and presiding officer of the U.S. Senate. Others sent birthday wishes by mail and wire.

Garner made his birthday wishes known late Sunday in an emotional visit with his son, Tully Garner, 67, prominent Uvalde businessman.

"Son, I believe you want me to reach 100 as much as I do," said the elder Garner.

EVEN MORE

"I want it even more, Dad," Tully said.

The former vice president's birthday presents began arriving as he talked to his son and a few visitors beneath the giant oak trees encircling the modest white house where Garner now lives.

Tully brought a new light tan hat and a billfold. The Uvalde mayor sent a tie. Another old friend brought a pair of warm socks.

'PARTNERS'

"These oak trees and me are partners," the bushy-browed Garner told visitors. "I have been sitting under this one old tree since like maybe 70 years, and I bet it will last another 70 if I can last that long. That's all I've got to do, now, is sit here under these old trees."

He reached out a hand and strained his weakening eyes to see each newcomer.

"You are as welcome here as these old oak trees," he said.

Cactus Jack, as he was known during much of his 46 years as a public official, bowed out of politics in 1940 when he caught a train to Texas and never returned to Washington.

He began his political career with election as Uvalde County judge when Grover Cleveland was president. He served two terms in the Texas Legislature and was elected to Congress in 1902. He served in the U.S. House 30 years and was elected speaker in 1931. In 1932, he lost a bid for the Democratic presidential nomination, but was picked as Franklin D. Roosevelt's running mate. After two terms as vice president, he and Roosevelt broke up the partnership and Garner returned to Texas.

LBJ Contab to Stress Plight of Negro Male

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR., Executive Director, National Urban League

The White House has indicated that its forthcoming conference on race relations will emphasize the tragic plight of the Negro male.

Stirred by the recent U.S. Labor Department study of widespread disorganization among the Negro poor, President Johnson has asked his brain trust to plumb beneath the surface and to produce some far-reaching solutions.

"There will be no social peace in the United States for generations" (unless the Negro male has the same opportunities as his white counterparts), the report warns. His lot is regarded as the key to the future of the Negro poor — and that's every second family of color in this country.

The Urban League movement, of course, has long been trying to focus public opinion on this question. In fact, the federal report cites these paragraphs from my "To Be Equal" book (McGraw-Hill):

"Both as husband and as a father, the Negro male is made to feel inadequate, not because he is unlovable or unaffectionate, lacks intelligence or even a gray flannel suit. But in a society that measures a man by the size of his pay check, he doesn't stand very tall in comparison with his white counterpart."

"To this situation he may react with withdrawal, bitterness toward society, aggression both within the family and racial group, self-hatred, or crime. Or he may escape through a number of avenues that help him to lose himself in fantasy or to compensate for his low status through a variety of exploits."

As I read these words again I can imagine the fresh batch of letters I will receive accusing me of "making excuses for Negro criminals" and the like.

MUST DO MORE
But just as I tell Negro citizens that "we must do more than deplore injustice by whites" I say it is not enough for white citizens to "deplore" crime among Negroes.

This is a time for understanding — and for action.

Regarding the former, I found my recent trip to Africa of immense usefulness.

On that continent I was deeply impressed by the head-high altitude of ordinary Africans. The colonialism which they endured for centuries has not marked them as deeply as slavery did their American brothers.

FEELS HIS WORTH
In African society, the African male — whether he is a pilot or ditch-digger — feels his worth as an individual. His job is as steady as the next man's, and his family unit is as stable. (This is true for middle-class American Negroes, by the way.) He possesses a spirit of confidence in himself, his daily role, and his future.

The difference lies in the fact that European colonialism thrived to exploit the land and its resources — whereas slavery sought to exploit the human person.

Moreover, because of our Judeo-Christian heritage, the slave owners had to convince the Negro that slavery was holy writ, and moral, in keeping with the servant mentality they forced the slave to assume.

At the same time, they fed the vanity of unthinking white people with the pipe dream of a superior race — to justify slaveholding. Only in America has the Negro male been so deeply injured.

TO HIT HARD
My understanding is that President Johnson intends to hit hard the issue of the Negro male.

Hopefully, his solutions will include far-reaching meat-and-potato programs to encourage Negro youth, to rehabilitate their poverty-stricken fathers, and to improve their housing and economic prospects.

Most of the signs of overt discrimination ("white" and "colored") have been taken down. Now the unwritten sign over our ghettos must be removed. For too long it has read: "Abandon hope, all ye who enter here."

BIG YANK GUN — A 31-ton 175mm artillery piece, with a range of over 18 miles, is ferried across the Song River into South Vietnam's D Zone by engineers of the 1st Infantry Division yesterday. The self-propelled gun is the biggest in Viet Nam. The highway bridge in the background was too weak for the gun to use.

Ties Move to Viet Policy Change

Morse: 2 LBJ Aides Should Quit

HONOLULU (UPI) — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said he favors the resignation of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara.

"There is nothing personal in this," Morse said here during a weekend stopover en route to Tokyo. "If we are going to continue our present policy in Viet Nam, they are both excellent men for their jobs. But I want to see this policy changed."

Morse, a consistent critic of U.S. policy in Viet Nam, contends that intervention by U.S. troops in the fighting there is "illegal and unconstitutional" because no declaration of war has been made by Congress.

"There is no doubt that we will win (in Viet Nam) because we are shooting fish in a barrel. Our opposition in Viet Nam has no navy, no air power, no heavy artillery," Morse said.

Morse favors arbitration of the dispute in Southeast Asia by the United Nations.

Knowledgeable Moscow sources ridicule recent reports that former Premier and Foreign Minister Viacheslav Molotov has been politically rehabilitated and even consulted by Premier Alexei Kosygin in connection with recent economic reforms.

PHILIPPINES NEW LOOK: Manila observers believe the Philippines scene may undergo considerable change under the new administration of President-elect Ferdinand E. Marcos.

Though Marcos and outgoing President Diosdado Macapagal are in agreement on practically all issues domestic and foreign, Marcos will bring to Malacanang palace a toughness and decisiveness not present since the days of Ramon Magsaysay.

Many of those who have watched Marcos believe he has all the personal traits and strength of character to lead the country to some genuine accomplishment, a commodity in short supply in the last decade.

NEW FRENCH AMBASSADOR: France's new ambassador to the United States, Charles Lucet, will fly to Washington around Nov. 26-27 to take up his post.

It is expected that early in 1966 he will present a memo-

The French plan is said to propose one loosely knit alliance which would include the United States with each member retaining freedom of action, and another, more integrated, which would exclude the United States.

WILSON'S FUTURE: British Prime Minister Harold Wilson appears to have gained new political strength at home with his strong stand on Rhodesia.

A public opinion poll shows him 18.5 per cent ahead of his Conservative opposition, an increase of 8.5 per cent in three weeks.

Darien Police in Dope Raid

Drink Scandal Figure
Among Nine Arrested

DARIEN, Conn., (AP) — Nine young persons, including Michael J. Smith, a key figure in a teen-age drinking scandal that shook this fashionable city a year ago, are free on bond today on narcotics charges.

Smith, 20, and eight friends were arrested Sunday in a pre-dawn police raid on Smith's apartment. Eight were charged with violating the state narcotics act, and freed on bonds of $5,000 to $5,000.

The other, a 15-year-old girl, whose name was withheld, was released in custody of her parents and will be referred to juvenile authorities.

Police said a "quantity of a substance believed to be marijuana" was found in the apartment shared by Smith and Jack White, 19.

ARREST COUPLES

Thirteen months ago, four socially prominent Darien couples were arrested on charges of serving liquor to minors at private parties.

The charges resulted from reported drinking at coming out parties for two debutantes and the death of an Eastern Air Lines executive's daughter, Nancy Hitchings, 17, in an automobile accident after the parties.

Smith was convicted of negligent homicide in the death of Miss Hitchings. He has an appeal pending.

During Smith's trial, Circuit Judge Rodney S. Eielson ordered the arrests of the adults involved in the parties.

APPEALED FINES

A psychiatrist and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. George Hughes, appealed to the State Supreme Court their $500 fines on the charge of serving liquor to minors. The court declined to review their cases.

The others convicted did not appeal. Charges against 5 of the 13, including two caterers and a bartender, eventually were dropped.

Acting Police Chief Hugh McManus declined to say how Sunday's raid took place, except to say that the officers had search warrants, and that the raid was "a planned affair."

Among those arrested was Glenn Carter, 20, of neighboring New Canaan. Carter had testified as a prosecution witness in Smith's trial last year.

Carter said that he and some friends were visiting Smith and White. He said none of the six boys or three girls present had marijuana on his person, as far as he knew.

Eastern Third of U.S., West Hit by Rain

By The Associated Press
Much of the eastern third of the nation was receiving generous rains today while fog shrouded many. Midwestern cities and the water-soaked West Coast once again became the target of rainstorms.

The Deep South was pounded Sunday by a combination of hail, strong winds and tornadoes.

The northern Alabama cities of Lacey Springs and Hartsell reported golf-ball-size hail. A tornado spotted near Bridgeport, Ala.

Among Southern cities doused Sunday was Anderson, S.C., which was bathed by an inch and a half of rain during the evening. Chattanooga, Tenn., received nearly an inch during the same period, bringing the 18-hour total there to more than three inches.

VISIBILITY RESTRICTED

Fog across the Midwest this morning restricted visibilities to a few hundred feet or less at such major air centers as Chicago.

Rain was expected to last through Tuesday in the Los Angeles area.

Unseasonably high readings in the 40s and 50s were reported early today across wide sections of the Plains.

About 40 per cent of the inhabitants of Canada are Roman Catholics. The largest Protestant denomination is the United Church of Christ.

Gen. LeMay Says Raids on N. Viet Restrained

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay says there was a checkrein on the way targets in North Viet Nam could be attacked.

LeMay, retired Air Force chief of staff, was asked by the Associated Press whether there have been restraints on U.S. defense Department said, "We do not discuss tactics followed in carrying out combat air operations over North Viet Nam."

When I left active duty, there were some restrictions on the number of airplanes that could be used on a mission and also on types of ordinance that could be delivered," LeMay said.

Asked for comment, the Defense Department said, "We do not discuss tactics followed in carrying out combat air operations over North Viet Nam."

He said: "I am not familiar with the activity since I retired."

The founder of the Strategic Air Command did not say who imposed the restrictions.

However, since the air strikes started last Feb. 7, a number of senior Air Force and Navy officers have spoken privately and with irritation — about the limits they were established by top civilian officials.

GREAT LEeway

Many of these curbs since have been relaxed and much greater leeway is allowed military commanders.

The number of missions to be flown into the north in a given period is subject to approval in Washington.

Military targets in and around Hanoi and its port city of Haiphong are still off limits to U.S. bombers.

LeMay's statement put on the record for the first time what other officers have said in less open fashion.

DISTANT COMMAND

At one stage in the early months of the bombing, one top officer said that, in effect, President Johnson was functioning almost like a squadron commander and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara as an executive officer. This officer said the President and McNamara approved or disapproved specific targets to be hit; that top civilian officials determined the way the targets were to be attacked, the size of the attacking force, and the type of bombs and rockets to be used.

Defenders of this policy have said it was necessary because the bombings have a political as well as a military purpose, that the intent is to limit damage as much as possible to military targets and thus demonstrate to the Communists that the United States does not want to destroy North Viet Nam.

During his 35 years of military service LeMay achieved a reputation as a leader in development of doctrine and practice in air warfare. He has accepted a job with a California electronics firm.

In the exclusive interview, LeMay underscored and elaborated on what he has said previously about the air war against North Viet Nam.

STEP UP RAIDS

"What I propose is stepping up the attacks and making it progressively more expensive for the North Vietnamese to continue the war in the south," LeMay said.

"I don't advocate complete devastation of the north (although we have the capability of doing this if necessary). I do not advocate attacking the people; rather, they should be warned away from targets."

"I do advocate attacking more important targets such as air fields with MIGs on them, power plants, oil storage, industrial targets, ports, etc."

LeMay said there is "a real danger" that the Chinese Communists "might find it attractive to escalate their support (for North Viet Nam's aggressive policy) slowly, hoping to prolong the war, increase our losses, and thereby weaken our will and support here at home."

He said "I am not advocating" any preventive air strikes against Communist China's atomic installations.

However, the general did not rule out the possibility of such strikes, saying that "if this were the solution arrived at, and if the strikes were directed by the President, the Air Force could do the job."

On other matters: The bomber — "We are long past the time when we should have started production for the new and advanced manned system."

NOT AS RELIABLE

Missile reliability — "The unmanned systems are not as reliable as the manned systems and never will be, although their reliability is improving all the time."

Missile reliability — "The unmanned systems are not as reliable as the manned systems and never will be, although their reliability is improving all the time."

Space — "I think the 'space' (for North Viet Nam's aggressive policy) slowly, hoping to prolong the war, increase our losses, and thereby weaken our will and support here at home."

He said "I am not advocating" any preventive air strikes against Communist China's atomic installations.

However, the general did not rule out the possibility of such strikes, saying that "if this were the solution arrived at, and if the strikes were directed by the President, the Air Force could do the job."

On other matters: The bomber — "We are long past the time when we should have started production for the new and advanced manned system."

MEETS THE PEOPLE — President Johnson moved into the crowd at San Antonio, Texas, yesterday following a speech at a shopping center.

The President went to San Antonio to help celebrate Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez' election four years ago this month.

LBJ Back Relaxing at Ranch After Jaunt to San Antonio

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson relaxed at his ranch today following a whirlwind political trip to San Antonio where he waded into a crowd to shake hands, give autographs and kiss children.

The excursion was in behalf of Democratic Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez of Texas.

The President told a shopping center crowd composed primarily of Mexican-Americans they had a right to be proud to have Mexican blood in their veins.

In addition to lauding Gonzalez as one of his best supporters in the House, Johnson praised Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex.

Yarborough, who was present, has been feuding with Gov. John Connally, a close Johnson ally. After the speech, Johnson walked out into the crowd. Twenty minutes later, he left the square and walked behind the buildings where hundreds were gathered behind barriers and in the yards of neighboring homes.

Striding briskly through the gate of one of these, he sat down at a wooden yard table to chat with Sebastian Saldana, 43, a Kelly Air Force employee and the father of seven.

Quickly, they were joined by Gonzalez, Yarborough, and Cantinflas, the Mexican comic who had spent the previous night at the Johnson ranch and had accompanied the President to San Antonio.

HANDSHAKES, KISS

Other neighbors got a handshake, a 7-year-old girl a kiss and the Johnson party was off in the presidential helicopter for the ranch.

Today, the President and Mrs. Johnson were to attend a memorial service at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church in Fredericksburg in memory of President John F. Kennedy.

Other activities were expected to include the dispatch of a complimentary message to President Charles de Gaulle of France on his 75th birthday.

The President and de Gaulle haven't been getting along too well on some international matters and staff aides regarded this as an opportunity to warm relations somewhat.

NO WORD ON SITE

Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers, who flew to the ranch early Sunday after conferences in Washington, reported it hasn't been decided where Johnson will meet Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany at a Dec. 34 conference. Moyers said he was flying back to Washington today.

Idaho Man Charged

Quiz Suspect in Triple Killing

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (UPI) — Sheriff's officers today questioned Lawrence Boswell, the prime suspect, in an effort to determine a motive for the slayings of his father, mother and teen-age nephew.

Boswell, 32, was charged with first-degree murder late yesterday after he was arrested on the family's small farm about 30 miles south of here where officers discovered the three bodies. All the victims had been shot to death.

The bodies of Walter G. Boswell, 68, and his 14-year-old grandson, Ronald Reddy, were found covered with hay in a small manger in the barn a short distance from the house.

After a three-hour search of the farm, the body of Minella Boswell, 68, was found in a shallow grave about 100 yards from the farmhouse.

Kootenai County Sheriff John Bender said he was unable to determine any motive for the killings.

SHOT 3 TIMES

Bender said the elder Boswell, who had been shot twice in the head and once in the chest, and the youth, who had suffered a bullet wound in the head and two in the chest, had apparently been killed near the barn.

He said Mrs. Boswell appeared to have been shot twice in the head and then dragged from a bedroom of the home to the makeshift grave.

Von Braun Predictions: Moon by '70, Mars by '90

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., (AP) — Pioneer space scientist Dr. Werner von Braun predicted Sunday night that United States spacemen, equipped with million-dollar canes, will land on the moon by 1970 and on Mars by 1990.

He also said men have defeated adverse climates so well on earth there is no reason they cannot live in perfect control on the moon and other planets.

Von Braun, director of the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., was the guest speaker at a Butler University lecture series.

Von Braun said Americans probably can expect to hear live radio broadcasts of moon-based astronauts by 1970.

He said on the first flight landing would be for a day only, but that soon after, an unmanned supply ship could be sent with the astronauts and enable moon living up to a month.

TWO-MAN CRAFT

The rocket expert said the vehicle for the moon voyage would be a two-man craft with its own landing and takeoff rockets, and legs for support.

He said the moon is the first U.S. target instead of Mars because it would be less expensive — a trip of days, not months — and would be within our present space travel knowledge.

The million-dollar cane will help a bulky clothed astronaut to walk on the moon, Von Braun said. The cane tip would record radioactivity, pick up ground particles and do other technological jobs.

Von Braun said "if public support holds up" for the American space program, Mars could be landed on within 15 to 20 years after the moon landing.

He also said colonization is limited only by the problem of getting to a place. Living there will be possible because of advances in air conditioning and pressurization.

"Man even could be more comfortable other places than on earth," Von Braun said.

Dropouts Are Tragedy

By Esther Van Wagoner Tutty
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Unemployed teen-agers and school dropouts are the tragedy of this period of high employment and prosperity, says Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

In Michigan, unemployed youth 16 to 23 number 34,000, representing 10.4 per cent. This is, at least, below the national youth unemployment rate of 13 per cent, which is three times the general rate of 4.3 per cent.

Many younger boys and girls, between ages of 14 and 18, mostly dropouts, are looking for work today and can't find it.

Changing times explain part of the unemployment of youths without skills.

As the secretary put it: "No boys are needed any more to deliver a horse to the blacksmith and the automobile repair shops want a trained mechanic."

REGISTER YOUTHS

Secretary Wirtz would like to see developed in every city a United States outnumber men name-to-name roster of every- by 51 to 49 per cent.

Modern Versions of Traditional Pie Are Delicious

Ever since the women in Plymouth Colony baked pumpkin with maple syrup and served it for dessert, cooks have been experimenting with pumpkin pie.

Modern test kitchens home economists keep doing the same thing. This year they have come up with some different versions of the traditional American dessert for Thanksgiving Day.

Maybe after reading the recipes below, you'll decide to try something new this year.

First comes pumpkin pie made with canned apple sauce. The result is a smooth, delectable pie with a melt-in-the-mouth consistency.

APPLE SAUCE PUMPKIN PIE
1 cup canned or cooked strained pumpkin
1 cup canned apple sauce
½ cup light brown sugar
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
4 eggs
¼ cup milk
1 cup heavy cream
9" unbaked pastry shell
Combine pumpkin, apple sauce, sugar, salt and spices. Beat eggs; add to apple sauce mixture. Scald milk and ¼ cup cream; add slowly, mixing well. Pour into 9" pastry shell.

Bake at 425 degrees, 45 minutes, or until inserted knife comes out clean. Cool. Whip remaining ¼ cup cream. Spoon in mounds on top of pie. Makes 6-8 servings.

Those on sugar-free diets will welcome this second recipe. It is similar in texture to cheesecake.

SURPRISE PUMPKIN CHEESE PIE

Crust:
16 graham crackers, crushed
¼ teaspoon sucaryl solution
Combine pumpkin, apple sauce, sugar, salt and spices. Beat eggs; add to apple sauce mixture. Scald milk and ¼ cup cream; add slowly, mixing well. Pour into 9" pastry shell.

Bake at 425 degrees, 45 minutes, or until inserted knife comes out clean. Cool. Whip

3 tablespoons melted butter
Filling:
1½ cups cottage cheese
¼ cup sucaryl solution
¼ cup skim milk
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon almond extract
¾ egg
1 cup canned pumpkin
Topping:
½ cup cottage cheese

¼ teaspoon lemon juice
3 tablespoons skim milk
¼ teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon sucaryl solution
To make crust: Combine all ingredients; press into a 9-inch (350 degrees) for 35 to 40 minutes longer. Replate and refrigerate.

To make filling: Force cheese through sieve; add remaining ingredients and beat with mixer until smooth. Spoon into crust. Spread thinly over pumpkin filling. Bake in a moderate oven; return to oven and bake 10 minutes longer. Let pie cool completely before serving.
To make topping: While pie is baking, combine all ingredients; refrigerate at least 4 hours before serving.
Makes 6 servings, each 215 calories; 19.5 grams protein; 10 grams fat; 12.5 grams carbohydrate.

CANADIAN WHISKY. A BLEND. 40 PROOF. IMPORTED BY McMASTER IMPORT COMPANY, DETROIT, MICHIGAN.

A $6.50 Canadian for only $4.80?

What's the gimmick?

Big tax savings on every bottle!

Instead of bottling McMaster's in Canada, where most Canadian Whiskies are bottled, we import it direct and bottle it here. By doing it this way, we save handsomely on taxes and other charges.

You would expect to pay $6.50 for this smooth, mellow Canadian Whisky. McMaster's is distilled, aged in the barrel, and blended in Canada.

You can't buy a finer Canadian Whisky than McMaster's. Why pay more than $4.80 a fifth (tax included).

(P.S. McMaster's also comes in a big ½ gallon or handy pint. Just $11.95 and $3.06.)

A $7.00 Scotch for only $4.97?

Cooked Pork Chops Go in Jellied Salad

Make salad the hub of the meal with one of the salad gels which were brought out especially to complement meats, chicken, or seafood. They're lightly seasoned with onion, garlic, celery or tomato, so that the flavor of less robust meats, such as veal and pork, comes through.

Seasoned tomato flavor salad gelatin, for instance, is especially good with pork.
The salad is unusual in that the pork chops are cooked especially for it, rather than using leftover pork roast. This gives the salad more flavor because the liquid, which is used to cook the pork, is used to dissolve the gelatin.

Pork-Tomato Mold
4 loin pork chops (about 1½ lb.) cut 1 inch thick
2 cups water
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon pickling spice
1 large bay leaf
1 medium onion, quartered
¼ cup vinegar
1 package (3 oz.) seasoned tomato flavor salad gelatin
½ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Trim excess fat from chops and place them in a single layer in a large skillet or shallow pan. Add water, salt, pickling spice, bay leaf, onion, and vinegar. Bring to a boil over medium heat. Reduce heat; cover and simmer until chops are tender—about 1 hour.
Remove chops from liquid and set aside. Strain liquid into bowl. Cool; then skim off fat. Meanwhile, remove meat from bones and chop coarsely. Bring 1 cup of the cooled liquid to a boil over medium heat. Remove from heat. Add gelatin; stir until dissolved. If necessary, add water to remaining liquid to make 1 cup. Stir into gelatin mixture. Chill until thickened.
Fold in meat, celery, onion, and parsley. Spoon into 1-quart mold or 6 individual molds. Chill until firm — at least 3 hours. Makes 6 servings.

Lower Sodium Diet Is No Bar to Good Thanksgiving Eating

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

If the doctor has put you on a low sodium diet, don't feel that it will spoil your Thanksgiving dinner. The most it means is that you will have to exercise some care when you're cooking.

You must also become a dedicated label reader to find the canned and frozen foods that are salt-free.

We discussed this with Mrs. Leona Jagunich, a dietitian at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

"The principle behind a low sodium diet, says Mrs. Jagunich, is old-fashioned cooking with everything made from scratch. You cannot use mixes."

For a first course, serve any juice except tomato unless you have tomato juice canned without salt.

But outside of salt, you can have any herb and spice that is available.

Cook the turkey without any salt, letting everyone else add that condiment at the table.

Prepare your own dressing, using salt-free bread. Sage, onion and some of the broth from the giblets will flavor it. Don't use prepared stuffing. Don't use MSG. Avoid using extra eggs.

Mashed potatoes, squash and gravy can be made exactly as you've always done, omitting the salt.

SWEET POTATOES

If you like candied sweet potatoes, prepare your own with fresh potatoes. Sugar, salt-free butter and marshmallows are all right to use. Don't buy frozen candied sweets.

Don't use brown sugar or corn syrup; honey and white sugar are all right.

For salad you have a wide choice. Make it a tossed salad with oil and vinegar or a vinaigrette dressing you make that is salt free.

A Waldorf salad or a frozen fruit salad is an excellent choice. You will, of course, use salt-free mayonnaise. Whipped cream is permitted.

Make your rolls at home with water for the liquid and omitting salt. Sprinkle with poppy or sesame seeds if you want a little more flavor.
Pie is definitely on your menu. You must make your crust with vegetable shortening and leave out salt.

Make your pumpkin pie as spicy as you wish. Make it apple pie if you like fruit filling better. But unless you have made your own mince-meat and know what's in it, better skip that.

Forget cheese with the pie. Coffee or tea and wine are all permitted.

Frosted Glasses

For a party at which you are serving fruit compote, you might like to put the compote in frosted sherbet glasses. Dip the edge of each sherbet glass in lemon juice, then in refrigerated sugar; chill in the refrigerator so the frost will "set."

Split Peas Are Base of Party Dips

Next time you have friends in, you'll really surprise them and yourself by serving one or both of the following pea pickin' Party Dips.

The base for both of these dips is a thick, cooked puree of split peas.

½ cup diced salt pork
1 cup split peas
4 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ cup butter

Crisp diced salt pork in fry pan. Bring water to boil in cooking pan. Add the split peas and salt pork. Reduce heat and simmer until peas are tender. Drain, reserving ½ cup of the water.

Place peas and salt pork, along with remaining ingredients and the ½ cup of water in blender container and blend to smoothness. In place of a blender, the mixture can be pressed through a sieve or ricer.

TAN - talizing Dip: Combine split pea puree with mayonnaise, using more puree than mayonnaise to achieve desired "dip" consistency. Season to your taste with Worcestershire sauce, onion juice and crisp bacon bits. Dip will be light tan in color.

Creamy-Dreamy Dip: Combine split pea puree with an equal portion of cream cheese, adding your cream as necessary to achieve "dip" consistency. Season to taste with onion juice and crisp bacon bits. Dip is creamy in color.

Spinach Gets Special Touch

One way to get more enjoyment out of fresh vegetables is to avoid monotony. Look for new ways to cook them, new combinations.

Try this spinach recipe and enjoy a tasty surprise.

Savory Fresh Spinach

½ lb. young tender prepackaged fresh spinach
1 tablespoon olive oil or margarine
2 tablespoons chopped onion
¼ teaspoon crumbled oregano leaves
¼ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash garlic powder
Dash ground black pepper
¼ teaspoon fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons grated Cheddar or Parmesan cheese
Onion rings

Wash spinach and place in a saucepan with only the water that clings to the leaves. Cover and cook only until spinach is wilted and tender, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and cut cross-cross with 2 knives. Drain if necessary.

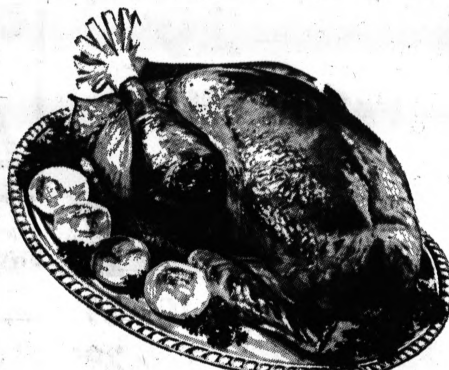

Heat olive oil, butter or margarine in a saucepan. Add onion and sauté until limp, about 3 minutes. Add seasonings and lemon juice. Pour over spinach. Turn lightly.

Turn into a serving dish. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Garnish with onion rings as desired. Makes 2 servings.

CARIBBEAN BANANA DESSERT

To make bananas a very special treat give them the secret treatment. Take in hand that mystery agent known as Angostura aromatic bitters and use its magic to your own purposes.

The result will be a Caribbean Banana Dessert that has foreign intrigue built right in. Not so foreign but that the family will enjoy making its acquaintance, yet undeniably intriguing.

Here's a perfect example of what can be done with a simple food to make it exciting and unusual, when one knows how

Ex-Commandant Dies

ASHVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Gen. Francis Bowditch Wilby, 82, former head of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, died Saturday after a long illness. He was commandant of the military school from 1942 to 1946 when he retired. to use a blend of spices like Angostura bitters. This unique ingredient transforms an everyday fruit into a caterer's creation.

The syrup mixture can be made ahead of time in some odd leisure moment (aren't all leisure moments odd?) and poured over the bananas in the casserole just before the cook sits down for the main dinner course.

By dessert time there is really something to show for the little bit of secret effort put forth.

Granulated Brown Sugar and Yams Make Tempting Dishes

The people of the United States owe a great deal to the American Indian for introducing them to two foods which have been served at holiday tables for hundreds of years... turkey and sweet potatoes.

Today our turkeys are full-breasted, meaty birds which can be bought fresh or frozen, or even stuffed and ready for roasting. And the sweet potatoes to go along with the bird are very likely to be plump, copper-colored Louisiana yams.

These smooth, stringless bayou beauties are perfect for glazing and candying, and if you're casting about for some exciting ideas in this category, you might like to know of several using the new granulated brown sugar.

This brown sugar is a cinch to pour and measure, and you'll find that the molasses it contains imparts a pleasing flavor to most any kind of dish you wish to make... and especially to those made with moist-fleshed Louisiana yams.

Here are some new Louisiana yam recipes, each of which calls for this easy-pouring granulated brown sugar. Enjoy them at your holiday dinner and throughout the year.

Praline Louisiana Yams

1/2 cup granulated brown sugar
1/2 cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped pecans or filberts
1/4 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon EACH cinnamon and nutmeg
3 cans (1 pound each) yams, heated and drained or 6 medium Louisiana yams, cooked, peeled and quartered

Place sugar, cream, butter, pecans, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg in 1-quart thick saucepan. Stir over low heat until ingredients blend and form heavy syrup, about 7 minutes. Pour over hot yams in serving dish. Makes 6 servings.

Quick Glazed Yams and Apples
2 cans (1 pound each) yams
1/2 cup granulated brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Dash cloves

1 1/2 cups canned apple slices, drained
2 tablespoons seedless raisins
Drain yams, reserving liquid. Combine 1/2 cup liquid, sugar, salt, butter and cloves in 1 quart

(top-of-stove) casserole. Place over moderate heat, stirring until sugar dissolves and mixture boils. Boil until syrup is thick, about 5 minutes.

Arrange yams, apple slices and raisins on top of syrup. *Cook over moderate heat until syrup bubbles and yams are hot, about 5 minutes. Serve in individual small bowls. Makes 5 servings.

*Or, bake in 500-degree oven until hot, about 5 minutes.

Homemade Stuffing Sure to Please Family Taste

Unless you have an invitation skillet. Add onion, celery, MSG, for dinner on Thanksgiving Day, salt and poultry seasoning. Cook you're going to spend some time until onion is tender, but not in the kitchen on both Wednesday and Thursday. Add bread cubes and parsley. Add water or stock; toss lightly with a fork until well mixed. Yield: Enough stuffing for a 12-pound turkey.

Turkeys are better, tenderer, and have a larger proportion of white meat than at any time in the past.

They come into your kitchen all ready (or the oven). As a rule, you don't need to remove even so much as a pin feather.

Many women will buy a ready stuffed turkey. But more prefer to make their own dressing in order to please the family.

STUFF AND BAKE
That usual word of caution is in order: don't stuff your turkey until it is ready for the oven. It is not safe.

And as soon as dinner is over, remove all dressing from the turkey and refrigerate every thing. Use leftover dressing within two or three days.

Below you will find a recipe for basic stuffing, then a number of other stuffing recipes. Maybe you can try a new version this year.

- Basic Stuffing
- 1/2 cup butter
 - 1/2 cup chopped onion
 - 1/2 cup diced celery with leaves
 - 1/2 cup MSG
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
 - 1 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
 - 10 cups lightly packed bread cubes
 - 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
 - 1/2 cup boiling water or stock
 - Melt butter in saucepan or

Turkey Parts Best for Some

Whether you're having a big reunion or a dinner for two, select a turkey to fit your plans, and follow custom on Thanksgiving Day 1965.

ROAST TURKEY QUARTERS
— Choose either light or dark meat. Rub cavity of cut side with salt. Skewer skin to meat along cut edges. Tie or skewer leg to tail (on hindquarter) or wing to breast (on forequarter). Place turkey skin side up in a shallow pan and brush with butter or margarine. Roast at 325 degrees, 25 to 30 minutes per pound, basting occasionally with pan drippings or additional melted butter or margarine. Stuffing may be prepared and baked in a covered casserole during the last hour of roasting, if desired.

ROAST STUFFED TURKEY HALF — Sprinkle cavity of cut side with salt. Tie leg to tail and skewer wing to breast. Place turkey, skin side up in shallow roasting pan. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Roast at 325 degrees, 20 to 25 minutes per pound. About one hour before turkey is done, lift out of pan. Mound about six cups of your favorite stuffing on sheet of heavy-duty over stuffing and continue roasting until turkey is done.

ROAST TURKEY BREAST — Sprinkle with salt, pepper, paprika. Roast in shallow pan at 325 degrees for 1 1/2 hours or until fork tender. Baste with butter or margarine.

Don't Freeze It!

Never home-freeze uncooked stuffed or a roast stuffed turkey. Even a good home freezer requires too long to freeze such a mass of protein with carbohydrates added.

Try Duckling for a Change This Year

Thanksgiving dinner is indeed traditional, and without variation it can become a routine meal offering tastes that have long since been exciting treats. This year, be different. Serve roast duckling with an Herb Fruit Stuffing.

Select a 4- to 5-pound duckling. Rub inside with salt and stuff lightly. Close opening with skewers.

Place breast side up, on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast uncovered in slow oven (325 degrees) for 1 1/2 hours for moderately done, 2 to 2 1/2 hours for well done.

Meaty part of leg should feel tender and it should be easy to move leg up and down.

Herb Fruit Stuffing

- 1 package (8 ounces) herb-seasoned stuffing
- 1 cup finely diced celery
- 1 tablespoon grated orange peel
- 1 can (11 ounces) mandarin orange sections
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine

Toss together herb-seasoned stuffing, celery, orange peel and orange sections. Combine egg and melted butter; add to stuffing mixture, tossing lightly. Makes enough stuffing for 4- to 5-pound duckling.

HONEY GLAZE: 30 minutes before duckling is done, brush with 2 tablespoons honey combined with 1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet.

KUMQUAT POSIES: Leave kumquat whole. Make 4 petals by cutting petal in fourths from blossom end, going almost to stem end. Peel the petals about 1/4 way back. (Leave the fruit portion as is — it makes the center of the flower.) Place in ice water about 1 hour or until petals open.

Don't Stuff Big Birds

One of our leading universities questions the advisability of stuffing large turkeys weighing eighteen pounds or more.

Stuffing the turkey is the only laborious part of preparing it for roasting, does not enhance the flavor of the cooked meat, lengthens roasting time, and leaves a chance for food poisoning caused by bacterial growth in the stuffing. This is avoided if the stuffing is baked separately.

Since stuffing is traditional with turkey, bake the dressing in a covered pan for one to one-and-a-half hours. Use a favorite recipe, and some of the turkey broth or pan drippings for flavor.

Need a new look for a party menu. Top squares of brownies with ice cream and cherry pie filling and you have a beaut!

FRESH CRANBERRY PUDDING

Pink Color in Turkey Not Sign of Danger

Pink color is normal in meats pale pinkish appearance. Darkened bones in a turkey heat. The nitrates in many are one of the best indications of a young bird. As the bird gets older the bones mature and there is less blood in the bone.

To Roast Turkey

Turkeys of any size may be roasted. True roasting is slow cooking by dry heat on a rack in an open pan. It requires no water, no basting, no cover and no searing. Always roast turkey done in one continuous cooking period.

Low temperatures assure better flavor and appearance, less shrinkage and less loss of juices.

A shallow, open pan allows the heat to circulate around the bird, roasting it evenly. A rack at least 1/4 inch — high raises the bird off the bottom of the pan, keeping it out of the juices.

For best results, follow these simple steps:

- Preheat oven to 325 degrees F (slow).
- Rinse bird with cold water, drain and pat dry. Rub cavity of bird lightly with salt, if desired. Do not salt if stuffed.
- If stuffing is used, fill wishbone area (neck); fasten neck skin to back with skewer. Fill body cavity lightly. Push drumsticks under band of skin at tail, if present; or tie them to tail.
- Place turkey on rack in shallow roasting pan, breast side up. Brush skin with fat. If a roast meat thermometer is to be used, insert it so that the bulb is in the center of the inside thigh muscle or the thickest part of the breast meat. Be sure that the bulb does not touch bone.
- Place in preheated oven. If desired, baste or brush occasionally with pan drippings — especially any dry areas. When turkey is two-thirds done, cut cord or band of skin at drumsticks. Place a loose tent of aluminum foil over the turkey to prevent excessive browning. Continue roasting until done.
- To test doneness, a roast meat thermometer placed in the center of the inside thigh muscle or the thickest part of the breast should register approximately 185 degrees F. If stuffing is used, it should register 165 degrees F at the same time.

Turkey is done when the thickest part of drumstick feels very soft when pressed between protected fingers.

Steam a Fresh Cranberry Pudding

What's for dessert on your Thanksgiving menu? You're probably planning one sumptuous creation to top off this popular holiday meal. But it wasn't always that easy.

A nineteenth century cookbook lists some astonishing choices for Thanksgiving dinner dessert or, more properly, "desserts": apple pie, squash pie, mince pie, Thanksgiving pudding with wine sauce, fruit tarts, and cheese and crackers — all for the same meal!

One of the things we can be thankful for these days is that we don't eat like that any more. We still enjoy good food and we also enjoy traditional Thanksgiving treats.

So, put all the old-time "desserts" into one extra special holiday dessert, and try serving this Fresh Cranberry Thanksgiving Pudding. It's rich, spicy and full of the tart-sweet flavor of fresh cranberries.

Fresh Cranberry Pudding

- 1/2 cup vegetable shortening
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup unsifted all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- 3 cups soft bread crumbs
- 1 cup cranberries, rinsed and drained
- 1 cup seedless raisins

Cream shortening until light and fluffy. Gradually beat in sugar. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition.

Hot Sandwich Adds Chicken to Asparagus

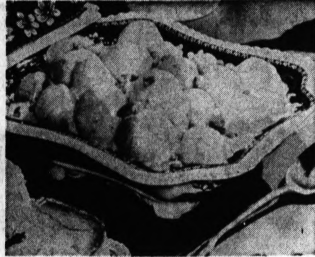

Serve this tasty sandwich as a midnight snack for the bridge club or TV party! A cinch to prepare and so tempting! Garden fresh frozen asparagus cuts and tips into 1/2 cup boiling water with 1/2 teaspoon salt. Gently separate with fork. Bring to full second boil. Cover, lower heat and cook 5 to 7 minutes, or until plump pieces are tender.

- 1 package frozen asparagus cuts and tips
- 4 slices bread
- 4 thin slices chicken
- 2 cups cream sauce or 1 can cream of mushroom soup diluted with 1/2 can of milk
- Buttered bread crumbs or grated cheese

Toast lightly 4 slices of bread. Butter toast and cover with thin slices of chicken.

Drop solidly frozen asparagus cuts and tips into 1/2 cup boiling water with 1/2 teaspoon salt. Gently separate with fork. Bring to full second boil. Cover, lower heat and cook 5 to 7 minutes, or until plump pieces are tender.

Drain and add 2 cups of cream sauce or 1 can of mushroom soup diluted with 1/2 can of milk. Arrange on toast and sprinkle with grated cheese or buttered bread crumbs and set under broiler until delicately browned. Serves 3 to 4.

CREAMED ONIONS

Serve Whole Onions in Creamy Sauce

What we eat on Thanksgiving Day has been little changed through the years.

One of the items on a menu of 1863 (the year President Lincoln issued a proclamation naming the last Thursday in November as the date for the first national Thanksgiving Day) was creamed onions.

Creamed onions still have a place on holiday menus.

- 1/2 cup salad oil
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1 cup shredded American cheese
- Peas, chopped

Peel onions and cook in a large amount of boiling salted water until tender; drain.

In a large saucepan, blend salad oil and flour; stir in milk and cook slowly until mixture thickens, stirring constantly.

Add the shredded cheese and stir until melted. Add drained onions and heat through. Place in vegetable bowl and sprinkle with chopped peanuts. Makes 8 to 9 servings.

After-Holiday Dish Is a Turkey Mousse

Leftover turkey brings no complaints from the family if served in a unique and tasty manner. Here's one good suggestion:

- Turkey Mousse
- 4 1/2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 4 1/2 tablespoons flour
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dish pepper
- 1 tablespoon steak sauce
- 2 1/2 cups minced turkey
- 3 cups soft bread crumbs
- 3 eggs

Melt shortening, blend in flour. Gradually add milk, place in double boiler and cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thick. Add salt, pepper, and steak sauce. Cool for a few minutes, then add turkey and crumbs. Add beaten eggs. Pour into individual greased molds. Place in pan of warm water, bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 45 minutes. Serves 6.

Chicken Pea Salad

- 1/2 pound dried chick peas*
- Water
- 1/2 cup tarragon vinegar
- 1/2 cup olive or salad oil
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- 1/2 cup pimiento-stuffed olives, sliced
- 1/2 pound hard salami, cut in strips

Soak chick peas in cold water overnight; drain. Cover with salted water in saucepan. Bring to boil; simmer 1 hour, 45 minutes or until tender. Drain and rinse with cold water; drain again.

Combine vinegar, oil, garlic, salt and pepper in bowl. Add chick peas, olives and salami. Mix lightly and chill. Turn into bowl lined with salad greens. Sprinkle with scallions; garnish with tomatoes. Makes 6 servings.

*Or 1 can garbanzos or chick peas.

Teriyaki Chicken

Raisin Teriyaki Chicken browns handsomely in the oven and has a most tempting fragrance. Marinate a 2 1/2-pound chicken, cut in pieces, in mixture of 1/2 cup each chopped raisins, soy sauce and sherry, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon brown sugar and 1 crushed clove garlic. Bake with marinade, covered, in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour.

Nedzi: LBJ Push Needed for OK of Army Merger

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Pressure from the White House would be sufficient to win House passage of the proposed merger of the Reserves and the National Guard, Rep. Lucien N. Nedzi, D-Mich., said today.

"If the administration would get behind the legislation, as it has Medicare, civil rights, and the farm bill, I believe it would pass the House," he said in an interview.

The only test so far has been before the military-oriented armed services committees, he said. Nedzi is a member of the House committee, and of the subcommittee where he alone supported Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's merger plan.

The most powerful opposition stems from the Reserve Officers Association which has a vested interest in protecting and perpetuating its members' positions, Nedzi said.

"I hate to say it, but I think that's the primary reason for the opposition," he said. "Unwittingly, they're putting their personal interest above the national interest."

"Some House members, with big bases in their back yards, are sensitive to this pressure, but they are in the minority."

"HOLIDAY BILLS?"

"Not me! I shop with cash...cash from Associates. Saves time and trouble...and means I can start the new year with a clean slate. Yes, sir, I can get the money I need for any worthwhile purpose. Associates will even arrange extra cash so I can take advantage of the January sales. Holiday bills? Not me! See Associates! That's the answer!"

NIXON TALKS TO PRESS—Former Republican Vice President Richard Nixon talks with reporters in New York yesterday following a television interview in which he charged President Johnson with declaring war on prosperity. He based the charge on the President's "heavy-handed use of power in the metals affair."

Nixon Praises GOP for Viet Nam Stand

NEW YORK (UPI)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon yesterday declared that "Republicans have shown a high degree of statesmanship in not nit-picking" President Johnson's Viet Nam policy.

Nixon, appearing on a nationwide television broadcast, added that he thought several specific measures might help the U.S. war effort in Southeast Asia.

He suggested mining North Vietnamese harbors, bombing military targets in Hanoi after warning the populace with leaflets, and increasing attacks on North Viet Nam in general.

Nixon said he opposed hitting Communist China, and added that "the way to avoid escalation is to step up the military attacks on North Viet Nam."

To prevent greater Soviet or Chinese intervention, the former vice president said, "A declaration of war against North Viet Nam at this point is not in the best interests of the United States." House Minority Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan has suggested a formal declaration.

Nixon had these comments on other national issues:

• As possible GOP presidential candidates in 1968, he mentioned Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, George Romney of Michigan, William Scranton of Pennsylvania, John Volpe of Massachusetts, and James Rhodes of Ohio. Also Mayor-elect John Lindsay of New York, "if he does a good job as mayor."

• The administration's handling of the aluminum price dispute indicated "that apparently President Johnson has decided to declare war on prosperity."

• He said Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, "has always over-looked and downgraded the danger of Communist infiltration in Latin America," and Sen. Fulbright "was wrong" in opposing U.S. intervention in the Dominican Republic.

• Asked about reports that the Eisenhower administration had put nuclear warheads in planes and missiles of the West German government, Nixon said that "the control stayed with the president of the United States."

Fumes of Car Kill Children

DETROIT (AP)—Two small Kentucky children died of asphyxiation from carbon monoxide poisoning Sunday while riding in a car with their mother and eight other persons on a trip to Michigan.

The victims, Vickie Wise, 5, and her brother, Charles, 3, were the children of Mrs. Mary Wise, 36, of War Creek, Ky. State Police administered mouth-to-mouth respiration but their efforts failed to revive the youngsters and they were pronounced dead at a local hospital.

2 Years After JFK Death

White House Now Bears LBJ Brand

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON (UPI) — What happened in Dallas two years ago today is vividly remembered in President Johnson's White House, but the image of John F. Kennedy there is all but vanished.

On this anniversary of the assassination, there will be a respectful pause for Johnson's predecessor by the people who work for the President but all but a handful of those who knew Kennedy will have left.

For the most part, White House personnel, here and at the LBJ Ranch in Texas, are occupied with getting the third year of the Johnson administration into high gear.

At the end of two years since Lyndon B. Johnson was thrust into the presidency, the White House has a full Texas flavor.

The Irish Mafia of the Kennedy days — Kenny O'Donnell, Pierre Salinger, Ted Sorensen, Dave Power, Ted Redmond — are gone.

Larry O'Brien, Kennedy's close political and congressional comrade, has moved out to become postmaster general. Harvard man Arthur Schlesinger has departed.

Of the Kennedy inner council, only McGeorge Bundy remains; and there has been speculation he may leave soon.

All of which means that as every president must, Johnson has put his own impress on the White House.

It was only a year ago this month that the Texan was elected to the presidency in his own right by an overwhelming margin.

KENNEDY SHADOW
Until then, he had operated to a great extent under the shadow of the Kennedy image.

At the two-year milestone of his presidency, there is now no question of his mandate. The acceptance and approval of the American people of his conduct in office is staggeringly high.

He has a Congress that in all but a few instances is quick to do his bidding. The non-Communist world looks to his leadership.

Physically, he is convalescing from surgery that removed a gallbladder and kidney stone. But from all available evidence, his health is basically good and he is showing signs of bounce in his recuperation.

WILL NEED STAMINA

There is no question he will need stamina — physical and political — in the year ahead.

The steadily mounting pressures on the United States and the White House from Viet Nam will occupy his every skill and ounce of patience.

Unless there is a sudden break in the conflict, the burden of responsibility will be with Johnson every waking hour.

And 1966 is a political year. Johnson is expected to plunge full tilt into the campaigning for the Democratic Congress he wants to carry out the rest of his Great Society legislative program.

PERSONAL DIPLOMACY

To top it off, the President is expected in the months ahead to devote himself more than before to personal diplomacy.

On his schedule is the visit next week of West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard to be followed later by meeting with the leaders of India and Pakistan.

There are also strong prospects that Johnson may commit himself to travels abroad next year.

In two years, the proud and sensitive Texan has achieved an effective blending of his public and private life.

DEVOURS JOB

To a close observer, he not only likes the job — he devours it, lives it and relishes it even more so than his younger predecessor.

He likes to get down to his Texas ranch often and sometimes frets about the demands and limitations that confine him in the White House.

But even when relaxing on his ranch on the Pedernales River, Johnson never really leaves work.

He can be bouncing along a rocky hill road in his car, miles from the cares of state. Almost by impulse, he will pick up a microphone from under the dashboard and begin conferring with a staff aide.

NO WAITING

There's no waiting a minute or so, no waiting for an operator to place a call. It's a matter of picking up that microphone and let's get this business settled.

He has four hobbies: politics, government, more politics, more government.

His idea of a fine evening is to call in a group of old friends for a talk. The topic of the chat: politics, government and current affairs, sprinkled with anecdotes of his early days as a Texas congressman.

Nearly 150 Bushels Per Acre

Novi Farm Takes Corn Title

A yield of nearly 150 bushels per acre took top honors in this year's annual Oakland County Corn Contest, according to Jay Poffenberger, county agriculture agent.

Twenty-eight farmers entered the competition, sponsored by the county Cooperative Extension Service office.

They averaged 163.3 bushels per acre on their contest plots, despite drought conditions which qualified the county for federal agricultural disaster relief.

Winner of the contest was Tollgate Farm, managed by Ernest L. Morris of 28115 Meadowbrook, Novi Township, with a contest plot yield of 149.2 bushels per acre.

Morris planted the first week in May, using Pioneer 252 seed with 100 pounds of 45-0-20 and 200 pounds of 0-40-0 fertilizer as a plow-down and 200 pounds of 8-32-18 at planting time. He had a plant count of 21,600 stalks per acre.

Not far behind in second place was John Speiza Jr. of 4960

Rochester, Addison Township. Specia produced 148.5 bushels per acre, planting Funk G-17A the last week in April. He plowed down 125 pounds of 32-4-4 and 125 pounds of 0-4-65, adding 150 pounds of 11-48-0 fertilizer per acre at planting time. His plant count was also 21,600.

Nelson Tucker of 1985 Oakwood, Brandon Township, and Keith Middleton of 2610 Stony Creek, Oakland Township, tied for third place with yields of 146 bushels per acre.

Tucker planted Funk G-18 the second week in May and grew an average of 28,200 stalks per acre. Middleton produced 19,000 stalks per acre, planting Michigan 400 the second week in May. Poffenberger emphasized the importance of early planting by pointing out that the top 50 per cent of the contestants had their corn in the ground by May 21 and averaged over 20,000 plants per acre.

All of the top yields used supplemental nitrogen either

Also Claire Haack, 52526 12 Mile, Lyon Township; Howard Mansell, 13824 Spencer, Milford Township; Philip Elbow, 26233 South Hill, Lyon Township; and James Vantine, 490 Hadley, Brandon Township.

Also Walter Oliver, 5234 Greer, West Bloomfield Township; Clark Miller, 2885 Seymour Lake, Brandon Township; Carlton Crawford, 2535 South Hill, Milford Township; E. G. Bourne, 28009 Martindale, Lyon Township; and William Irish, 531 Atlantic, Milford Township.

Average yields per acre for each year of the contest are as follows:

1956	79.9
1957	94.7
1958	100.1
1959	92.1
1960	92.2
1961	114.4
1962	128.6
1963	116.6
1964	111.1
1965	103.3

New Post in Rogers City

County Agent to Leave Soon

Oakland County's agriculture agent, Ruth Montney, resigned as a result of the statewide shake-up. Jay Poffenberger, will terminate his assignment here Nov. 30.

Poffenberger will be transferred to Rogers City in Presque Isle County as a result of Cooperative Extension Service cutbacks of field personnel.

He will not be replaced, as the position of agriculture agent has been terminated in Oakland County.

The Extension Service cutbacks, started last September, also resulted in two other transfers in Oakland County.

John Worthington, 4-H agent, was sent to Cass County and Mary Hardy, home demonstration agent, was transferred to Macomb County.

AGENT RESIGNED

The county's second 4-H agent, replaced by Emil Fimlinger, and a second 4-H agent is supposed to be transferred to Oakland County in the near future.

There will be no replacement for Mary Hardy, however, according to Lyle B. Abel, county extension director.

Poffenberger came to Oakland County in 1956 after eight years with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service in Flint and Sault Ste. Marie.

He will have the same functions in Presque Isle County that he served here, but he will also have administrative responsibility for the Extension Service office.

A graduate of Michigan State University, Poffenberger is married and has three children.

Meeting Tonight on Auburn Safety

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Businessmen and residents, aroused by the death of a boy who was struck by a car while crossing Auburn Road, will hold a public meeting tonight with representatives of the Michigan State Highway Department.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. in the Oakland Room of Oakland University, to discuss ways of improving safety conditions on Auburn.

Service club representatives say they want to work as a community in cooperation with the Highway Department to make it safer for pedestrians to cross Auburn.

GRASS FIRE FIGHTER — New addition to the Highland Township Volunteer Fire Department is this high-pressure fog unit for extinguishing grass fires. The $14,000 truck was purchased from the John Bean Division, FMC Corp., Lansing. Five of the department's 30 volunteers attended a two-day school on operation of the truck. It will supplement the work of three other trucks and a tanker. Funds for the purchase came from a 1-mill fire department tax levied in the township.

AAUW Slates Yule Meeting

ROCHESTER — The Rochester branch of the American Association of University Women will hold its annual Christmas dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 8 at the Pagoda Restaurant, 101 W. Maple, Clawson.

Reservations must be made by Nov. 30 with chairman Mrs. Michael Lakagna, 111 W. Church, Lake Orion.

Mrs. Helen Williams, owner of the Book Stall, 436 1/2 Main, who is prominent in the field of children's literature, will be the guest speaker. She will present "A Child's Christmas in Wales."

Mrs. Williams was formerly a lecturer at Wayne State University and the University of Chicago. She writes a column for the Michigan Educational Journal and conducts discussions of literature in her home.

Film Will Be Shown to Parents of Retarded

COMMERCIAL TOWNSHIP — A film entitled "Whatever Happened to Eight" is scheduled to be shown at the Tuesday night meeting of the Special Parents Unit for the Retarded. The 8 p.m. program will be held at Clifford H. Smart Junior High School.

Help Sought for Bond Vote

Huron Valley Panel to Survey School Needs

MILFORD — The Huron Valley Board of Education will enlist the aid of citizens and educational experts in planning a building bond proposition to be on the June ballot.

Consultants from the University of Michigan's bureau of school services have been retained to survey the needs of the district.

They will work with a 35- or 40-member citizens committee, expected to be named at the school board's Dec. 16 meeting.

The study of future building requirements will begin early in January 1966, with the committee asked to make recommendations in March or April.

The committee's study will include physical plant needs and operating costs.

WAIT ON SURVEY "I can't say at this time whether it will involve millage for additional operating money," Schools Supt. Dr. Truman Owens said. "We'll have to wait until the study is made."

Scope of the survey will cover curriculum, population growth and present buildings.

Besides school needs, the committee will be asked for recommendations concerning a location for the central administrative offices, the purchase of future school sites and improvement of sites on which buildings now stand.

The district's last bond issue, for $2.2 million, was approved by property owners in December 1963.

Highlighting the building program it financed was Muir Junior High School, which is now being completed.

Some $4.5 million students were enrolled this school year in U.S. colleges and universities.

Rights Council Joins School Hiring Drive

The coordinating body for Oakland County's human relations groups has joined the drive for nondiscriminatory hiring practices in the county's 30 school districts.

Announcement that the group would cooperate with the NAACP in its drive was made by John Millhone of Farmington, president of the newly formed Oakland County Human Relations Coordinating Council.

The first step in the campaign will be sending a questionnaire to school superintendents regarding hiring policies.

The council is composed of representatives from all the human relations groups in the county in addition to the South Oakland County and Detroit Round Tables of Catholics, Jews and Protestants; the Oakland County NAACP; the Jewish Community Council; the Archdiocese's Committee on Human Relations; the Michigan Urban League; and the Michigan Civil Rights Commission.

While working on the school project, the council also plans to contact real estate agents regarding open occupancy.

The council also is planning a leadership conference for exchange of experiences and ideas between communities and coordination of action on a county-wide basis.

Main speaker at the Dec. 5 event will be Burt Gordin, executive director of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission.

The conference will be held from 1:30 to 6 p.m. at St. Stephen Episcopal Church, Calvin Lippitt of Oak Park is chairman of the program.

Churchwomen Slate Gift-Making Session

TROY — The women's circles of Northminster Presbyterian Church will meet the first week in December to make Christmas gifts for patients at Pontiac State Hospital.

The gifts will go to women of Kinney Cottage at the hospital.

Lions Stay in Role of NFL's Leading Giveaway Team

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
Even the script of "How to Lose a Game" doesn't change anymore for the Detroit Lions. It's the case of give the ball to the offense, cross your fingers, hold your breath and hope they can do something with it.

As usual, they didn't do anything but it except give it away again yesterday at Tiger Stadium and the Chicago

Bears went back to the Windy City with a 17-10 victory.

Even the Detroit defensive unit was losing its poise as indicated by the big share of penalties and the ejection of Alex Karras from the game in the closing seconds.

The wild and rough game produced 11 penalties for 126 yards against the Lions and nine for 75 yards against the Bears, some of which both teams thought were warranted and others they felt were "bad calls."

As has been commonly seen this season, the kick return team led by the running of Tommy Watkins and Pat Stud-still gave the Lions good field position, only to have the unimaginative offense throw it away.

When Watkins was hurt and out of the game, however, it was the kick return errors which eventually cost the Lions the contest.

Bobby Smith, a four-year defensive back took the deep position on kicks in place of Watkins and he fumbled both return opportunities, leading to the Bear's first seven points.

CUT BY L.A.

Smith, whom fans will remember played for the LA Rams against the Lions earlier this year, was the goat in that game when his first three kick return fumbles led to Detroit's initial 17 points.

He was released immediately after the game and the Lions picked him up.

Watkins thrilled the crowd of 51,499 with a dazzling return of the opening kickoff 94 yards to the Chicago six yard line. He received a key block from Ron Kramer who took out Roosevelt Taylor at the Bears' 20.

Defensive back Ron Smith finally forced him out on the six, but two plays later Amos Marsh went around his left side for a three yard touchdown. Only 1:12 passed on the clock and with Wayne Walker's point it was 7-0.

Few minutes later, the Lions recovered a Bears' fumble on the Chicago 49 and punched the ball to the six in seven plays. But on second down and six, Watkins hit over left tackle, fumbled when hit by Butkus and the rookie Bears' linebacker recovered in the end zone to kill the opportunity.

The Detroit defensive kept the Bears on their own side of the 50 for two ensuing series of plays. When Bob Green was forced to punt early in the second quarter, Smith took the ball on the 25, fumbled and Mike Reilly recovered on the Detroit 24.

On the first play, Jon Arnett went through a huge hole at right tackle and into the end zone for the 24-yard touchdown. Roger LeClerc converted and after 6:18 it was 7-7.

After Andy Livingston powered his way for 25 yards, this set up an 18-yard field goal by LeClerc to make it 10-7.

FUMBLES AGAIN

On the ensuing kickoff, Smith took the ball in the end zone, hesitated, then fumbled at the 12 where Larry Hand fortunately recovered at the 10 for Detroit.

With three minutes left in the half, two plays failed and Plum then went back to pass. As the crowd screamed for him to run with a wide open field ahead, the Bears' Nick Petrosante at the Bears' 36, and connected for a 54-yard gain.

But as usual, the offense died and Walker had to tie the score 10-10 with a 37-yard field goal.

In the third quarter, the Bears went 77 yards in five plays, aided by another 25-yard run by Livingston. Gayle Sayers then eluded three tacklers and went 20 yards into the end zone for the TD. It was 17-10 with LeClerc's conversion.

Late in the third quarter, a "new" play was added when with third down and three inches to go on the Detroit 39, Plum ran the ball for a first down on the 42 as the crowd roared approval.

Three running plays failed by Marsh, and then what was considered a "key play" of the game took place. On a 4th down gamble Plum threw a swing pass to Marsh at mid-field. He had daylight yardage ahead of him but he dropped it, and the Bears took over at the 50.

TEMPERS FLARE

For the remainder of the 4th quarter, tempers flared, penalties were numerous.

With 4:43 to play, the Lions still had a chance.

Watkins returned a punt to the Detroit 44 and as the clock ticked away, Plum sent Petrosante into the middle of the line for two plays and a total of one yard. His pass for Gail Cogdill went into the ground and Studstill had to punt.

The Bears held the ball the rest of the 3:43 in the game.

Bears' coach George Halas said he was "happy to beat his favorite opponent" twice in one season, and he commented that the yellow penalty flags of the officials "looked like daisies growing all over the field."

UCLA Next for 'Green' (MSU) Giants'

After Win Over Irish

Spartans Get No. 1 Reception

LANSING—Nearly 4,000 ecstatic Michigan State football rosters engulfed a Lansing railway station to greet their team Saturday night following its 19-3 victory at Notre Dame.

The yelling, sign-waving fans—mostly students and baggage carts and lined up perilously close to the railroad tracks in cheering their top-ranked team.

"It's a wonderful reception and very fitting for a wonderful team," said coach Duffy Daugherty from the train.

"We can't tell you how much we appreciate this," he said.

"Our defensive team played the most magnificent game any college team ever played."

MSU defenders held Notre Dame to 14 yards and three first downs.

Defensive Capt. Don Japina asked as he stepped from the train, "Who's No. 1 in the nation?"

as "Rose Bowl, Rose Bowl" "Go, State, Go" and "We're No. 1."

The crowd spontaneously yelled for giant defensive end Bubba Smith.

Clutching an apple, Smith said, "I'm happy that we won."

This drew a big laugh. The team headed for home after the last of the rooters scrambled off.

Spartans Whip Irish to Climax 10-0 Campaign

Rose Bowl Foe Felled by Michigan State in Season Opener, 13-3

CHICAGO (AP) — It will be anything but monotonous for UCLA to be meeting Michigan State in the Rose Bowl football game for the third time in 10 more than a decade.

This will be the most impressive Michigan State squad ever to hit Pasadena and, defensively, it may be the strongest Big Ten representative since the current Rose Bowl series started in 1947.

Duffy Daugherty's superb collection of "unfriendly green giants" racked up a perfect 10-0 season Saturday with a devastating defensive performance in beating Notre Dame 12-3 in South Bend, Ind.

Don't let that Irish field goal fool you.

The score scarcely was a true measure of top-ranked MSU's superiority over the fourth-ranked Irish, who ended up with minus 12 yards rushing and a total gain of only 12 yards.

TWICE BEFORE

Michigan State twice has defeated UCLA in the Rose Bowl, winning 28-10 in the 1954 game under Biggie Munn and 17-14 in 1956 under Daugherty.

The Spartans started this season with a 13-3 win over the Bruins.

Those were the only two Rose Bowl appearances by Michigan State, which entered the Big Ten in 1953 but—until this season—never represented its conference as undisputed champion.

Munn's 1953 Spartans shared the title with Illinois at 5-1 and got the Rose Bowl call because the Illini had played at Pasadena most recently.

Daugherty's 1955 club (5-1) placed second behind Ohio State (6-0) and went to the Rose Bowl because the Buckeyes had appeared the previous New Year's Day.

The current Spartans, who took the Big Ten crown with a 7-0 record, may break an all-time Rose Bowl record set by Alabama in holding Southern California to six rushing yards in the 1946 game.

Saturday, the tremendous Michigan State defense, spirited by a "fearome front five" averaging 245 pounds, held an opponent to minus rushing yardage for the third time.

The nation's number one team in this department as well as in the AP poll previously set down Michigan with minus 51 yards and Ohio State with minus 22 on the ground.

What gave the Irish fits Saturday was a 5-3-3 Spartan anchor in which star roverback George Webster was anchored in a linebacking trio with Charles Thornhill and Ron Goovert.

This trio choked off Notre Dame's sweeps, forcing the Irish into MSU's meat grinder front five of middle guard Harold Lucas (280); tackles Buddy Owens and Don Bierwicz; and ends Bubba Smith (268) and Bob Viney.

The 211-pound Owens, a senior, got the game ball for keying what Daugherty called "the most magnificent defensive game any college team ever played."

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Sonny Jurgensen threw one touchdown pass and the Washington Redskins turned three miscues into scores for a 31-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Packers Pound Vikings, 38-13

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL—The Packers who smothered Minnesota—Defeat tasted as bitter as ever to Norm Van Brocklin Sunday, but at least this time he didn't resign.

He watched the Green Bay defense rip his offense asunder to put four touchdowns flooding the scoreboard in the fourth quarter as the Packers thundered to a 38-13 victory over the Minnesota Vikings.

"It wasn't that one-sided a game," Van Brocklin did say. "We were doing real well until we started coughing the ball up."

3 FUMBLES

He referred to three Viking fumbles recovered by the Packers and one pass interception in the fourth quarter which brought the cascade of late Green Bay touchdowns.

"I think we'll go all the way now," coach Vince Lombardi gushed.

Starr, snapping a personal slump, Taylor, running like the old Jim Taylor, and the Packers defense kept the pressure on until the Vikings cracked.

Starr passed for three touchdowns — to Carroll Dale for 15 yards, to Boyd Dowler for 47 and to Bob Long for 11 — and wound up with nine completions in 19 attempts for 159 yards.

"Taylor didn't score, but punched the Viking defense with his best afternoon of the season, gaining 111 yards on 25 carries, riles.

And the Green Bay defense recovered four fumbles, interrupted two passes and caught Viking quarterback Fran Tarkenton and Ron Vanderkelen four times for 36 yards.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Jimmy Orr returned dramatically from the hospital in the last quarter, ran directly into action and caught a touchdown pass Sunday that assured the Baltimore Colts of their eighth straight National Football League victory, a 34-24 decision over the Philadelphia Eagles.

The spectacular 23-yard scoring pass, the second thrown by John Unitas, came with the Colts holding a nervous 27-24 lead with seven minutes to play.

Their ninth victory in 10 games kept the Colts on top of the Western Conference, a game ahead of the Green Bay Pack-

NO CRYING TOWEL — It was hot and stuffy in the old shower room Saturday after Michigan State defeated Notre Dame, 12-3, so MSU coach Duffy Daugherty grabbed a towel to soak up the perspiration as he talked to newsmen and well wishers.

Morrall Finds Range as Giants Win, 28-15

By The Associated Press

Three touchdown passes by Earl Morrall and a pair of great defensive plays by cornerback Dick Lynch carried the New York Giants to a 28-15 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday.

Lynch ran one fumble for a touchdown and set up another with an interception.

With the Cardinals leading 5-0 late in the first half, Lynch got the Giants moving by intercepting a pass at the St. Louis 38. The pass was thrown by Buddy Humphrey, subbing for the injured Charley Johnson.

Lynch returned to the 15 and after Tucker Frederickton rushed for eight yards, Earl Morrall threw five yards to Homer Jones in the end zone for a 7-5 halftime spread.

GETS FUMBLE

Linebacker Jerry Hillbrand recovered a fumble by Willie Greenawald at the St. Louis 20, and Morrall threw for the score to Joe Morrison, who made a leaping catch in the end zone.

Then Lynch ended a St. Louis threat, scooping up a fumble by Billy Gambrell and racing 60 yards untouched for the clinching score.

Morrall added another score late in the period, throwing 46 yards to Morrison.

HE CAUGHT IT — Detroit Lions' flanker Pat Studstill (25) goes up for a pass in the third quarter as Dave Whitsett of the Bears grabs his shirt in yesterday's game. Studstill managed to catch the ball for an 11-yard gain. The Bears won, 17-10.

By FREDERICK M. WINSHIP
NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy ends her second year as a widow with new vitality, increasingly radiant beauty and some new friends and admirers to divert her mind from tragic memories.

Not that Mrs. Kennedy will ever forget Nov. 22, 1963, the sunny day in Dallas that turned into a nightmare.

She will observe the anniversary quietly, probably at her New Jersey farm retreat.

But time, the proverbial healer, has gradually restored the joy of living to Mrs. Kennedy.

She officially ended her mourning a year ago but she did not begin to go out socially until last spring and then at the urging of her high-spirited sister, Princess Stanislas Radziwill.

Princess Radziwill will come from London to stay at her New York apartment next month and this will mean that Mrs. Kennedy's social calendar will be more crowded.

She has not yet attended the opera or symphony this season and the only entertaining she has done was a small dinner party at a famous restaurant for retiring French ambassador Herve Alphonse and his wife, Nicole.

It does not seem likely that Mrs. Kennedy will ever seek or accept an ambassadorial appointment or United Nations post as has been suggested from time to time.

Her future appears to lie along more private paths of service as a mother and patron of the arts and humanities.

MORE BEAUTIFUL.
Certainly her public appearances have disclosed that Mrs. Kennedy is more beautiful than ever.

Her longer hair style is extremely flattering and she has acquired a lovely maturity without cost to her youthfulness.

NOVEMBER BIRTHDAYS
Irrepressible John, who will be 5 on Thanksgiving Day, and dignified Caroline, 8 two days later, are the center of her life. They have a nanny but are not relegated to the nursery.

East Siders often see Mrs. Kennedy walking her children to school — Caroline to the Convent of the Sacred Heart where she is in the third grade, and John to kindergarten at St. David's School — or to St. Ignace Loyola Church where she is a faithful parishioner.

The Kennedys are inevitably accompanied by Secret Service men who are assigned to the family through 1967.

Ruby Assured
Enduring Fame

DALLAS (UPI) — Whatever happens to him, the balding little man who always wanted to be a big shot will have his place in history.

On the morning of Nov. 24, 1963, Jack Ruby shot Lee Harvey Oswald in the basement of Dallas City Hall before the eyes of millions of persons watching on television.

He sealed forever the lips of the man who assassinated John F. Kennedy, the president of the United States.

For this, Jack Ruby was sentenced on March 14, 1964, to death in the electric chair. He has been in an isolation cell at Dallas County Jail since. Defense attorneys have come and gone like men through a revolving door.

Last October, a sanity trial for the former striptease joint operator was ordered postponed indefinitely pending appeals by his present set of lawyers to overthrow his conviction.

LEFT CASE

Trial Judge Joe B. Brown has left the case and has written a book about it. District Judge Louis Holland of Montague, Tex. has taken over.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, who prosecuted Ruby, says he would recommend commutation of the death sentence.

Ruby, now 34 and looking fit, has said only that: "I am going down in history as the most despicable person who ever lived."

Flowers, Objects Only Markers Now

2 Dallas Memorials to JFK Planned

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The paper sacks on which visitors wrote about the feelings they experienced at the assassination spot where President John F. Kennedy was assassinated two years ago today is marked, so far, only by flowers and objects left by hundreds of visitors.

Next year, however, the City of Dallas plans to complete two memorials. One will be a 30-foot marker costing $20,000. The other will be a new plaza a block north of the assassination site.

The visitors came from all over America and from many foreign countries.

As the flowers they leave wither, the city has them taken away to be preserved in a cedar-paneled storehouse.

The flower wreaths number in the hundreds now. The stored collection includes many flags, plastic crosses and Bibles. A large wooden chest contains the notepaper, postcards, and bronze panels set in native red granite, and containing a description of the tragedy using words and maps from the Warren Commission report.

On the back of a Japanese fan, a Tokyo visitor wrote: "I loved you. I admire you forever. I will not be able to forget you. Your image will not die."

Two Michigan families signed a note that read: "We came a long way from Michigan to pay tribute to our late President Kennedy. May he rest in peace."

ON PAPER SACK
On a brown paper sack: "The flowers here will be no more soon, like our late president. But his memory will never be forgotten as long as good, kind men live on this earth."

Within six months, Dallas City Park Director L. B. Houston hopes to unveil the marker. On the 48th anniversary of Kennedy's birth, May 28, 1965, a

John F. Kennedy Living Center for Retarded Children was dedicated in Dallas.

A striking bronze image of an eagle in flight stands in front of the Dallas Trade Mart, where Kennedy was headed when he was shot. The inscription on the memorial is taken from William Blake:

"When thou seest an eagle thou seest a portion of genius. Lift up thy head."

HOSPITAL ROOM

There is talk of a memorial of some sort in the room at Parkland Hospital where Kennedy was pronounced dead.

They still call it simply "Trauma Room No. 1."

In hospital jargon a trauma room is for emergency treatment of a bodily trauma, or wound.

Parkland is being remodeled. The people who work there think Trauma Room No. 1 should at least be preserved exactly as it is.

"Employees of the hospital have asked that they be allowed to memorialize the room, possibly with a plaque," said Parkland Administrator C. J. Price. "It seems to me we should do no more than that."

NO SPECIAL PLAN

"I have no specific plan, but the medical staff has appointed a committee to work with me on this."

Price said the room has been closed twice — once, briefly, after Kennedy died there and again on Nov. 22, 1964, the first anniversary of the assassination.

Oswald, the president's killer, himself died in a trauma room a few feet away in the same emergency ward after he had been shot down by Jack Ruby.

Quiet Birthday for De Gaulle

Wants No Tributes;
Will Work as Usual

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle of France today quietly observed his 75th birthday. It was just another working day for the austere general, who banned public or private tributes.

There were no flags flying, no special radio or television programs, no parades and no reception. There were only scattered references in the press to the 75th birthday of the general.

De Gaulle, an overwhelming favorite to win another seven years in office in the Dec. 5 general election, once referred to old age as "shipwreck."

Reliable sources reported today France might soon launch its first satellite from a Sahara Desert test center in Algeria. This apparently is designed to boost the stock of de Gaulle's Fifth Republic before the election.

SAME DISDAIN

De Gaulle showed the same disdain for birthday celebrations as he does for electioneering. He plans only an election eve television address, leaving campaign appearances for his opponents, none of whom is given even a remote chance of toppling him.

The man Frenchmen know as "Le Grand Charles" is reported in robust good health, considering his age. He underwent extensive medical checks during the fall before announcing his decision to seek a second term as leader of the Fifth Republic.

In recent news conferences and television appearances, de Gaulle appeared tired and to have aged noticeably. But aides said he still lays down the law as forcefully as in the past and his outbursts of anger were said still to be terrifying.

Jacques Chaban-Delmas, president of the National Assembly (Lower House), a staunch Gaullist who is close to the president, said in an interview yesterday de Gaulle plans to serve the full term, at the end of which he would be 82.

As for his birthday, it was doubtful even members of his staff would risk a "Happy birthday, Mon General!" today.

Percy Urged to Seek U.S. Senate Seat

CHICAGO (AP) — A prominent Illinois Republican has added his voice to those calling for Charles H. Percy, defeated 1964 gubernatorial candidate, to run for the U.S. Senate.

State Treasurer William J. Scott Saturday publicly threw his support behind the 46-year-old chairman of Bell & Howell Co.

Percy's opponent in a try for the U.S. Senate would probably be Democrat Paul H. Douglas. Douglas, the incumbent, has indicated he will seek reelection but has laid down conditions of advance financial support from the party.

Scott, who opposed Percy in the GOP primary before the gubernatorial race, said the Republican party must "unite for victory in 1968 if for no other reason than to preserve our competitive two party system."

"WILL CONSIDER..." Percy was chairman of the 1968 Republican convention platform committee.

After Scott's statement, Percy said: "I will give earnest consideration to what responsibility I can assume in the elections of 1968. Mr. Scott's statement, added to the urging of many others, encourages me greatly to continue these considerations."

Boyle Opens His Mailbag and Finds a Safety Tip

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Simple fatigue is blamed for one out of three U.S. highway accidents. So, if you're tired, stay out from behind the wheel.

Habitual drunkenness is ground for divorce in 42 states, drug addiction in only 11. Three states allow divorce if a marriage partner tries to kill the other.

Life is getting easier all the time. A quarter of a century ago the coffee break was fairly un-

LOUD GROANING

Coal miners like to use tunnel supports made from lobolly pine trees because when pressure becomes too great the lobolly props groan aloud — thus warning of an impending cave-in.

The influenza season is upon us. It probably won't help your sniffles any to learn that the word influenza comes from an Arabic expression "anf al anza," which literally means "the nose of the goat" — which always drips.

Quotable notables: "A man is a fool if he drinks before the age of 50, and a fool if he doesn't afterward" — Frank Lloyd

Wright, who liked a single nip of Irish whiskey before dinner. Getting kids to their classrooms has become a major industry. Last year public school authorities spent $650 million to ferry some 15.4 million pupils to and from school in more than 200,000 vehicles ranging from buses to trains, airplanes and boats.

REAL COLOR

It is hard today — and getting harder — to tell the real color of a woman's hair. But among those without benefit of tints or dyes, brunettes outnumber natural blondes 5-1. Only one out of 33 has red hair.

Speaking of the ladies, some nine million now use flavored lipstick. Among the lip-smacking new flavors available are candymint punch, cinnamon swizzle, sugarplum punch, and eggnog grog. We're saving our heart for a girl who wears lipstick that tastes like either chili or T-bone steak.

Wisdom from the Farmers' Almanac: Abraham Lincoln was once criticized for his attitude toward his enemies. "Why do you try to make friends of them?" a colleague asked. "You should try to destroy them." "Am I not destroying my enemies," the president asked gently, "when I make them my friends?"

Don't worry about what to do with your cat if you're going on an ocean voyage. Take it along. Cats rarely get seasick.

ROOSTER GROWS

any dream you have on a Saturday night and tell to another person on Sunday will come true before the week is out. It is bad luck to trim your fingernails on a Friday. Two persons who dry their hands at the same time on the same towel soon will have a quarrel.

Facts to startle your bartender with: The nests of eagles sometimes weigh more than a ton. The average college man has 2.9 suits of clothes. The walrus and whale originally were land animals. Ants have such poor eyesight they probably can't see an elephant 20 feet away.

It was Mike Todd who observed, "I've never been poor, only broke. Being poor is a frame of mind. Being broke is only a temporary situation."

Pinkerton's, Inc., founded in New York City 100 years ago with a staff of two, is now an 18,000-man security and investigative company with 49 branch offices throughout the U. S. and Canada.

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY & SON

The Complete Book of Duplicate Bridge by Norman Kay, Sidney Silodor and Fred Karpin has made its appearance. The book is excellent indeed and, among other things, discusses the major differences between duplicate and rubber bridge you never gamble with your contract when you don't have to. In duplicate you do so occasionally.

Thus, if you are South and West opens the jack of clubs against your four-heart contract, you look over dummy happily and note that you have one spade loser, one club loser and one possible trump loser. You win the trick in dummy and East drops the queen of clubs.

Now what should you do? You can start by leading out dummy's queen of hearts. Maybe East is one of those players who will cover automatically with the king if he has it. However, West does not put up the king. Should you finesse? The rubber bridge answer is an unqualified "No!" You can play your ace of hearts and be sure of your contract while if you finesse unsuccessfully West will probably give his partner a club ruff and you will be down one.

What is the answer in match-point duplicate?

The authors say it is a pure guess but we disagree with them here. We would refuse the finesse and make sure of our contract.

Q—The bidding has been: West North East South 3♠ Pass ? You, South, are not vulnerable and hold: ♠ 5 4 3 2 ♦ A 8 5 4 ♣ A 10 8 2 What do you do?

A—Pass! You have three tricks for your partner but the invulnerable three-spade opening shows only six playing tricks and in addition your singleton spade represents decided weakness.

TODAY'S QUESTION
 You hold the same hand and your partner opens a vulnerable three-spade bid. What do you do now?

Latin Soccer Game a Hit With Kennedy

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—Football, South American style, had a new fan today — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

The touring senator was so enthused after watching the soccer game between Brazil and Russia yesterday that he broke a date with Secretary of State Dean Rusk so he could visit the players in the locker room. He is a touch football devotee.

Earlier yesterday, Kennedy laid a wreath at a monument to his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy, who was assassinated two years ago today.

Art Is Found, Four Arrested

MILAN (UPI)—Police recovered three stolen paintings yesterday worth a total $320,000 and arrested four men in connection with the theft. By coincidence, the paintings were recovered hours before the Milan-Inter soccer game.

They were stolen before the same game last year from the home of collector Mario Buscaini while he and his family were at the stadium.

The paintings were an "Adoration of the Magi" by Francesco Guardi, a "Bacchante" of the Utrecht school and a "Rape of Europa" by Joseph Heintz.

A tall fence can be scaled down by building a low garden bench at the base.

More Talks on Aircraft Strike Held

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiators move into their fourth round of talks today in an effort to break a McDonnell aircraft strike that could delay the Dec. 4 launching of Gemini 7.

A conference presided over by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service broke up after midnight. There was no report on whether any progress had been made.

The 17,000-member International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, walked off the job at McDonnell's St. Louis plant Thursday in a contract dispute.

About 200 McDonnell technicians at Cape Kennedy, Fla., went out the next day, although they had voted to accept the company's contract proposals.

The Cape Kennedy crew was preparing for next month's launching of astronaut Frank Borman and James A. Lovell on a 14-day space journey.

McDonnell sent 38 management and technical experts to the Cape to try to keep preparations on schedule.

Thus far, they are succeeding, but the National Aeronautics and Space Administration was making no promise on how long a postponement could be avoided.

Said a NASA spokesman "We'll just have to take it day by day."

2 Years Since Slaying

Tribute Is Paid to JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the drizzle-damp chill of a gray Day of Remembrance, a bouquet of small white lilies was placed today at the base of the eternal flame that flickers over the grave of John F. Kennedy.

The token from Jacqueline Kennedy, young widow of the slain President, was delivered by her mother, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss.

to the burial site on a hillside in Arlington National Cemetery.

Meantime other Americans across the land observed the second anniversary of the young president's slaying in ways of their own.

No formal service was planned at the graveside, but the inclement weather was no bar to the individual visitors, thousands of whom walked up the long pathway yesterday.

Other members of the Kennedy family were expected during the day, to kneel at the white picket fence surrounding the burial spot.

Mrs. Auchincloss came at 7:50 a.m., before the cemetery gates were opened to the public. She knelt for a few moments and placed sprigs of lilies also at the headstone for the two infant Kennedy children buried on each side of her father.

COLLEGE STUDENTS
Next, at 8 a.m., came 11 students from American University with a wreath. On a ribbon across the wreath were the words "to words to go."

One of the students said they had come last year on Nov. 22 and will come again next year.

Then came Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor, who removed his hat in the rain and stood for a few moments.

President Johnson directed Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach to lay a presidential wreath on the grave. Johnson was with Kennedy in Dallas when the young chief executive was gunned down by an assassin's bullets.

THOUSANDS WALK

A group from El Paso, Tex., brought a wreath.

A girl brought a vase of white chrysanthemums and gave them to a soldier standing guard. He placed them inside the picket fence.

Memorial services were scheduled in several cities today.

The President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy were in the White House today.

S. Viets Repel Cong Assaults

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese forces beat back two heavy Communist assaults on the central coast today with help from bombarding U.S. Navy ships offshore and air strikes later. U.S. and South Vietnamese officers said at least 300 of about 1,500 attackers were killed.

The South Vietnamese — defending a fort in Thach Tru village, 20 miles south of Quang Ngai and 320 miles northeast of Saigon — were outnumbered 3 to 1.

Two U.S. army advisers were killed in an assault on an outpost on a hill about a half-mile west of the fort.

In launching their attack, the Communists took advantage of poor weather conditions that grounded U.S. and South Vietnamese support planes.

The attack broke before dawn and the U.S. advisers called for the bombardment from the 7th Fleet destroyers lying offshore.

Navy shells kept the attackers down until the weather cleared later in the day. Then U.S. and South Vietnamese planes and U.S. Marine helicopters attacked with napalm bombs and rockets.

Attack planes silenced six 81mm Viet Cong mortars that were firing on the hill.

U.S. and South Vietnamese officers on the scene said at least 200 Viet Cong were killed. Associated Press correspondent George Esper said he counted more than 100 bodies.

Officials said government casualties were light, but Esper said their casualties appeared to be moderate. Many of the rangers were killed inside the fort in close-in fighting. At one spot, about 20 bodies of government soldiers were stacked side by side.

RANGERS DIVIDED
The rangers were divided into three companies, one inside the fort, one on the hill outpost and one north of the village of Thach Tru.

The Viet Cong assaulted the fort six times during an eight-hour battle.

Romania Role on Viet Is Told

'Acts as Go-Between After Hanoi Feelers'

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Romania's Communist leaders are acting as go-betweens for another Viet Nam peace effort, Austrian diplomats say.

The Austrian sources said Romanian efforts to achieve peace talks began last June after North Viet Nam put out peace feelers through Bucharest.

The diplomats said Romanian Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer reported the moves to Austrian officials during an official visit to Vienna last week.

The diplomats said Maurer gave this account: After the overtures from Hanoi, Romanian officials approached U.S. Ambassador William Crawford in Bucharest.

The results of these contacts formed a basis for follow-up talks between Romanian Foreign Minister Cornelius Manescu and Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the United Nations in New York last month.

OUTCOME NOT TOLD
The outcome of these talks was not indicated.

Maurer told Austrian officials Romania is ready to mediate between the United States and North Viet Nam "whenever there is a chance of bringing the war to an end."

U.S. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and four other senators left Romania yesterday on their way to Saigon after talks with Romanian officials on the Viet Nam war.

DAMAGED HOME — A pre-dawn blast today ripped off the front door and severely damaged the home of Fred Alexander, a Negro leader and member of the Charlotte (N.C.) City Council. The homes of three other Negro leaders, including Alexander's brother, were also damaged by explosions.

Blasts Rock Homes of 4 Negro Leaders

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The homes of four Negro civil rights leaders, including the state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, were rocked by explosions early today, but no one was injured.

Chief of Police John S. Hord said the homes of Kelly Alexander, state president of the NAACP, and of his brother, Fred Alexander, were the most seriously damaged.

Blasts also occurred at the home of Dr. Reginald Hawkins, a dentist and militant civil rights leader, and the home of Julius Chambers, a young attorney who had handled many suits in behalf of Negro groups.

"We have no idea whatsoever" on who might be behind the explosions, Hord said. The Federal Bureau of Investigation joined the investigation of the blasts, which occurred at the four homes on Charlotte's west side about 2:30 a.m.

"We are certainly glad that no one was hurt," Hord said. He said there had been no racial incidents in recent years in Charlotte.

SOMEWHERE ELSE
Kelly Alexander said, "I could see this happening somewhere else, but not in Charlotte."

"I called my brother after it happened and he said, 'Yes, I'm ruined.'"

"Anytime four blasts happen like this, it's organized. I don't know who organized it, but it was an organized force whose efforts it was to kill us."

"No use fooling ourselves."

BLOWN OUT
Kelly Alexander's two sons, Kelly Jr., 17, and Alfred, 13, were sleeping in a front bedroom of the brick, ranch-style home. The window over their heads was blown out with such force that splinters of glass were imbedded in the opposite wall.

"We are certainly glad that no one was hurt," Hord said. He said there had been no racial incidents in recent years in Charlotte.

9 Hunters Shot; Crashes Kill 4 From County

3 Fatal Smashups Occur in Area; Orion Man Dies of Injury.

Traffic accidents in Michigan over the weekend claimed the lives of at least 22 persons, including four Oakland County residents.

In Oakland County, there were three fatal accidents and an Orion Township man died last night from injuries suffered in an accident Thursday.

Not included in the traffic toll were two children from Kentucky who died of carbon monoxide poisoning when they were overcome by fumes in the family car in Lyon Township early yesterday.

In addition, at least nine hunters, two from Oakland County, were shot to death accidentally, while another four suffered fatal heart attacks over the weekend.

The victims of area traffic accidents not previously reported, are Tommie Collins, 28, of 412 W. Highland, Highland Township; and Jack L. Florida, 50, of 7356 Rory, Grand Blanc.

Collins was killed about 2:30 p.m. Saturday when his car left W. Commerce Road, east of Garner, in Milford Township and struck a tree.

Sheriff's deputies said Collins apparently lost control of his vehicle on a curve, sideswiping one tree and striking another with such force that it was necessary to pry the auto from the tree to remove his body.

DEAD ON ARRIVAL
Florida was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital after his car overturned several times on I-75 near Clintonville Road in Independence Township at 11:20 p.m. Saturday.

Fred Sowinski, 68, of 1222 Sharp, Orion Township, died yesterday in Harper Hospital Detroit, from injuries suffered four days earlier when his car smashed into an abutment at John R. and Wadsworth, Madison Heights.

Police said Sowinski was fleeing the scene of a minor accident when he lost control of his car.

Other Oakland County residents killed outside the area were Thomas R. Workman, 34, of South Lyon; Linda Hoerle, 17, of Farmington; and Carl Beck, 70, of Southfield.

THROWN FROM CAR
Workman was thrown from his car and killed yesterday when his vehicle failed to negotiate a curve in Clinton County.

Miss Hoerle died Saturday when her car failed to make a curve and struck a tree in Livingston County.

Kidnaper, Girl Are Hunted in Three States

BASTROP, La. (AP) — Hundreds of officers combed three states today for some trace of an 8-year-old freckle-faced girl and her abductor, described as a man about 20.

Nancy Gergette Keller was kidnapped late yesterday from the yard of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Keller.

A playmate, Connie Spear, 7, said a young man drove up, tried to coax Nancy into his car, and when he failed, picked her up bodily, threw her in the car, and sped away.

Morehouse Parish Chief Deputy Sheriff W. H. Freeland said a three-state alert was out in Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.

Roadblocks were up in the north Louisiana area near where the kidnapping occurred.

No demand for ransom had been received. Officers were checking out mental institutions and known sex deviates.

Woman Wins Press Contest

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

To nobody's surprise, another feminine forecaster finished first in The Press' Annual Football Contest.

Over the years, distaff entrants have consistently monopolized the winner's circle in the perennial pigskin puzzle.

Mrs. John F. Pump, 111 Oneida, outlasted several thousand entrants to become the No. 1 contestant with Penn State's unexpected, nail-biter defeat by Pitt, 38-27.

She was pitted against two other finalists, both of whom liked the looks of the Penn State.

The winner, a native Ohioan and Pontiac resident for 45 years, performed the almost unbelievable feat of correctly calling the outcome of 13 straight games of the contest's 15-game schedule.

It Seems to Me....

Mr. President---What Really Goes on Now in Viet Nam?

Things aren't good in Viet Nam. We are now suffering our worst casualties of this catastrophic "border incident." (You know this isn't a "war.")

Upon his return from the area, our own Governor declared that our attitude here at home is "too optimistic," and then he added: "it's my impression that this can get a lot worse before it gets better."

It has already gotten "a lot worse" since George Romney uttered this shrewd and candid observation. I protest against the news handling of this affair which the government wants to pass off as a "little skirmish." We don't know the facts. We're told "what's good for us."

The President of the United States takes it unto himself to release such information as he decides is proper and fitting for the rest to know. Of course it's your money. And it's your men that die in action.

His autocratic issuance of news has just been soundly censured once more officially. This time it's by Sigma Delta Chi, leading journalistic fraternity. In two recent weeks 156 Americans were killed and 484 were wounded.

Others are "missing."

This whole affair was supposed to have been over long, long ago. Not too far back, some disinterested international sources suggested the U.S. was far, far behind in the overall conflict up to that point. But the U.S. Government never talked that way. Never.

This newspaper stands with our Government. If the top officials who have all the facts at their disposal feel that it is safer and more constructive over-all for us to continue, then we abide by that decision and accept it as the pronouncement of those best in a position to know.

However, we want the facts. We want ALL the facts. Where do we really stand?

Our Government estimates that 17,000 of the enemy were destroyed in 1964. Through the middle of October of 1965, the number leaped to 25,000 with more than ten weeks to go for a full year.

Are things "in hand?" If so, whose hand?

Two Candidates....

In Washington I heard several favorable comments on Michigan's GERALD FORD as a strong presidential possibility. The minority leader of the House has won a host of friends with his activities and he looms bigger than ever. Michigan is one of the greatest states in the union but we have never had a U. S. President.

Currently, there are two real candidates in Governor George Romney and Congressman Gerald Ford.

Straight Aim....

One of the most titanic struggles waged beneath the surface in all Washington history is under way.

Bobby Kennedy is completely determined to become the President of the United States. Nothing can stand in his way. His sights have been adjusted coolly, calmly, mathematically and totally beyond recall. When the moment comes to strike, all the dogs of political warfare will be unleashed in one fell swoop. Soothsayers declare certain statements and movements in South America are strictly in conformance with this overpowering ambition.

But it can't happen now. LBJ's the top boss. And what he and young KENNEDY think of each other can be told in the same language in the same paragraph.

A Real Bargain....

Princeton University has just announced that tuition and academic fees will advance from $1,770 to $1,950 next fall. This means a four year course costs more than $15,000.

At Oakland University, a local student can graduate as a senior for a total cost around $2,500 or $3,000. Further, the local institution is the most modern top ranking college or university in the country. We're tied down by no time-honored "traditions" that conflict with the progressive spirit of "this changing world." We're cast in the highest type mold of today.

Think—just think—of the tremendous, breathless and wonderful God-sent gift in education that lies at your door. This may well be the greatest bargain in America in any line anywhere.

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

A New Yorker tells me the only saving grace in the big blackout was old Mother Nature. She came up with a bright, brilliant moon. Overheard: "In this day, the man who says something can't be done is likely to be interrupted by someone doing it." Air traffic is so great in London, a third gigantic airfield is on the drawing boards. It will be 20 miles from the heart of town and all residents in the area will be swept away. Peoples of all countries are similarly caught.

Trusted scouts advise me LYNNE Brockman deserves mention as one of the attractive girls in the area. China gives her population as 656 million but 750 million is believed to be right. Overheard: "She's doing wonderfully in college in everything except her studies." Geologists now believe we had life on this planet three billion years ago.

The most baffling sign of an office location in the world is in the Pontiac Medical Building on Johnson. They designate some offices as "O.A." I've been in some of the biggest office buildings and some of the smallest and I never heard a designation as wierd as that. On inquiry, I find others haven't either. Overheard: "I get along real good with my mother-in-law We can't afford a baby sitter yet." Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: The C's—MARIE JENKS who plays 27 holes a day all summer with her golf cart. MARIE's 85 years old; her J's—this CLAY-PATTERSON fiasco.

—HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Gets Shortchanged in U. N.

WASHINGTON — Maybe it's time to "reapportion" the votes in the United Nations General Assembly.

If the voting system were arranged on the basis of only one vote for every million dollars donated by a member state to sustain that organization, the United States would have enough votes to counterbalance the votes controlled directly or indirectly by the Communist bloc.

Certainly when any group of individuals puts the largest amount of capital in a corporation, they are usually given the biggest share of the stock and the voting power.

In the 20 years since the U.N. was organized, the United States has contributed $24 billion out of the total of $5.37 billion collected, which includes all assessments and voluntary payments. Thus America's share of the expense has been 45 per cent.

Yet the Soviet Union in the same period paid only $233 million or less than 5 per cent of the total.

PECULIAR VOTE

What brings up this question is the peculiar vote recorded in the United Nations General Assembly last week when 47 members voted to admit Red China and 47 voted against the admission, while 20 abstained.

An examination of the way the votes were cast reveals that the group of 47 for Red China was made up almost entirely of countries in Africa, Eastern Europe and Asia which are engaged in trade with the Communists.

How long is the United States going to be subjected to the menace of a voting combination whereby the Soviet Union, though sometimes quarreling with Red China outwardly, manages nevertheless to work with the Peking regime against the United States?

Fifteen different systems of "weighted voting" in the U.N. have been studied in vain by the Department of State.

NONE ADVOCATED

Some are based on population, some on financial contributions to the U.N. and some on comparisons of Gross National Product. But none of these plans has as yet been formally advocated by the United States.

The United States in 1965 is paying 27 per cent of the total assessments of the U.N. This is much larger than any other nation's contribution.

In fact, more than four-fifths of the 117 members are assessed at less than 1 per cent each. Indeed, more than one-third of all the members pay the minimum assessment of less than four-tenths of 1 per cent.

The realistic fact is that the money contributions to the U.N. are heaviest on the United States. Sooner or later the American people are going to be urged to withdraw from an organization that is controlled by many small nations which happen to be influenced by imperialistic regimes. The problem will ultimately have to be settled on a practical basis—that the policies of the nation which puts up the most money and furnishes the largest amount of economic aid to the other nations of the world should not be subjected to a majority vote by a bloc of members whose votes are manipulated or intimidated by Communist imperialism.

Bob Considine Says:

Might Have Benefited All if Rusk Had Belted Spitter

NEW YORK — Asked for a comment after he had been spit upon by some jerk student in Montevideo,

Dean Rusk said that his trip there had been "extremely hospitable.... with the exception of one young individual whose welcome seemed to be a little unconventional."

All very stiff upper lip and in the best tradition of the State Department. But I wonder if it might not have been a lot better for everyone concerned, including the jerkola, if Rusk had flattened him on the spot?

The State Department manual has nothing that would condone that kind of reaction. I know. I used to work there. Times change, and sometimes even manuals are rewritten, even State Department manuals.

Just suppose Rusk, who was an Army officer during World War II, sprang back at that pinhead and said, "why you miserable so and so, nobody can do that to me!" And decked him.

Do you suppose all those who witnessed the event—which probably would have been carried to the other side of the world by Early Bird—might have said, "Say, maybe you can't fool around with those American palsies any more."

ROUGHED UP

Sen. Robert Kennedy was roughed up in Concepcion, Chile, pelted with overripe vegetables and called (of all things, what with the imminence of Nov. 22) an "assassin."

Left to his own resources, he could have handled any three bums in the joint.

We have borne these senseless insults with great tolerance and have established several enviable AAU records for check-tolerance. But every time we fail to react as an ordinary human being would react to unwarranted affront, every time we have neglected to grab the host nation's chancellery by the lapels and demanded an explanation, we have lost something.

We have encouraged the senseless to take more chances with us. We have made the neutral worldier if perhaps what he has been told by Peking and

Moscow and Havana might very well have some basis in fact.

The burn who spit on Dean Rusk "was seized" by Uruguayan cops. Splendid. Probably got two days in the clink, was back in class by midweek, and a hero whose deeds will be emulated in bigger and better ways by others the next time one of our people venture in there on a mission of peace and aid.

How did the student get close enough to Rusk in the first place? What kind of security do we ask for our consuls?

Or do we dare ask at all? Even St. Bernards sometimes growl. Let's now and then hear one from our gut.

Bride Prices

The Nairobi Reporter

A few months ago there was a controversy in East Africa over whether the modern African miss should adopt Western ways, wear Western-style dresses and use face make-up. With some reservations on the use of make-up, and such refinements as hair-straightening, the modernists came out on top. There is no doubt that shaven heads and bare feet are on their way out.

Now another controversy is raging. This concerns the ancient bride price custom, and here, tradition is going to make a stand. In East Africa today the size of the bride price is getting all out of proportion to income while more and more women are objecting to being sold like cattle. Enlightened parents are having increasing doubts about the ethics of demanding exorbitant bride prices; it remains a fact that marriage is one field in which the Western world has little in the way of example to offer Africa.

While many greedy men are prepared to bully their daughters into accepting the highest bidder, our inquiries have shown that the majority of women look upon the custom as a kind of marriage insurance, i.e., present custom does not permit a man; or women to enter into marriage lightly, and therefore the union is more likely to endure. Nevertheless, it is high time that a ceiling was

'Disagree With Comment on Area Nursing Homes'

I'd like for some of the people who know nothing about nursing homes to get a job in one of them to see and understand the dedicated people who work there. Many of these employees are overworked and underpaid but they don't seem to mind working their days off or double shifts to see that the patients get the best of care. The doors are always open for volunteers who would like to come in and do something instead of staying on the outside complaining.

JOHNNIE JOHNSON
216 GOING

In answer to Mrs. Thomason's recent letter on the condition of nursing homes and patient care, I have worked as an aide in nursing homes and hospitals for many years and resent very much that anyone should vent family-guilt feelings on the personnel who take over the job some relatives shirk.

Where I have worked patients needing assistance or feeding get it. Housekeepers work daily to keep the rooms clean. It is impossible to have incontinent patients clean and dry at all times even with private nursing care. Diets are followed according to doctors' orders, not the families'.

DEBORAH DAVENPORT
201 VOORHEIS

A recent Voice of the People letter about rest homes was certainly misleading. I have been in a rest home since January and have had the best of care. I have never had to sleep in a soiled bed and have never seen one that was soiled or unclean. Bed patients are fed and well cared for. Those who can go by wheelchair are taken to the dining room for meals.

Hopes Our Next Congress Has a Backbone

Can anyone tell me how many people have a key to the White House other than the President? Luther King and James Farmer seem to be the only people who can contact our President any time, make a request and have it sent to Congress with a request from the President to pass it. I hope the next Congress will have a backbone.

I have observed that in some southern states the schools used by the colored people are the best looking schools. I've talked with some colored people in the South and they were well-satisfied. Some own farms and are doing as well or better than the white people. It would be well if our officials would take a firsthand look instead of listening to some rabble-rouser.

placed on the bride price. We young man to work out his to suggest that it should be a maximum of $1,680, a figure not too low to be considered trivial, nor too high to be prohibitive to the ambitious, hard-working young man.

Having paid his $84 to his father-in-law, during a suitable ceremony, the bridegroom should be enabled to rest assured that the financial obligation to his wife's family has been fully met. And at the same ceremony, all the parties concerned should sign a marriage certificate, to be forwarded immediately afterwards to the local administrative body so that the marriage may be duly registered.

It is wishful thinking to argue, that the answer is to concentrate on converting everybody to Christianity, or Islam so that the problem will solve itself. The best that could happen would be for the government to formulate sound recommendations and advise tribal authorities accordingly. This would remove from price discussions the element of blackmail and enable the struggling

As matters stand, all post offices of the first, second, and third class (those with revenues exceeding $1,500 a year, on a graduated scale) have postmasters recommended by the local congressman (if of the same political party as the administration in power), nominated by the President, and approved by the Senate.

If the local congressman is of the "wrong" party, the senator of the "right" party does the nominating. The name is chosen from a civil service list of three men. In fourth class post offices, the same procedure is followed, but the postmaster general makes the choice. Thus the least qualified man with the proper political backing can be chosen over a more qualified man who belongs to the "out" party.

This is a bad way to run an efficient post office and a hangover from the pork barrel days of politics that ought to be abolished. More luck to Sen. Bennett in his efforts.

Freshman Senators—6

Oklahoman Readying Probe of U.S. Research Mill

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the sixth in a 10-part series on freshmen senators. The subject is Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma.)

By JOHN GOLDSMITH
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Fred R. Harris, the model of a self-effacing freshman lawmaker, is quietly preparing for a congressional inquiry which could spotlight him as a top member of the class.

The 35-year-old Oklahoma Democrat, whose election victory over popular football coach Bud Wilkinson was one of last year's major upsets, will head a study of the federal government's role in research. It is a $16-billion-a-year hunting ground for the new subcommittee which Harris heads.

What are the repercussions of government-financed research in colleges and universities? Does the government's right hand know what the left is discovering — what it is paying to discover?

These are some of the questions to be considered by the new senator's government operations subcommittee on government research.

Few senators achieve status as a subcommittee chairman during their freshman year. But Harris accomplished it and, in the process, stamped himself as a quiet but resourceful legislative technician—the sort of senator who survives.

SECOND YOUNGEST
For the Senate's second youngest member (Only Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., is younger, by a year) the future appears to be bright. Harris is taking it all in stride, however.

"It has been an easy transition," he said in an interview, recalling that he spent eight years in the Oklahoma Senate where Thomas Jefferson's manual is the source of the operating rules, just as it is in the Senate.

"Legislation is pretty much the same anywhere," he said.

"very few great victories, more a series of little bitty battles. I haven't had to learn, through frustration, that the process is generally unromantic and undramatic."

Harris frequently has pinched his nose for vice president Hubert H. Humphrey as the Senate's presiding officer. The chore always falls heavily on first-year senators, and Harris has been much in demand as an experienced legislator well grounded in Senate procedure.

100 HOURS
Weeks ago, Humphrey participated in ceremonies at which Harris was given a gavel as a memento of 100 hours in the presiding officer's chair. Harris has been "Mr. President" more than any senator during the present session.

Other mementos of the first year in Washington include three of those pens President Johnson hands out to lawmakers and others who have helped to fashion the bills he signs. They reflect the Harris' activities as a member of the Senate Government Operations and Public Works committees.

One pen marked the enactment of the Economic Development and Public Works Act — the bill which applies the principle of the administration's Appalachia program to other economically disadvantaged regions.

Other pens were acquired at the signing of the administration's bill creating a department of housing and urban development and the water pollution bill.

AGAINST MEDICARE
But Harris voted against the Medicare-Social Security bill partly because he felt that the opposition to Medicare voiced by his predecessor, the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr, was something of a commitment. Harris also opposed the administration on some aspects of the foreign aid program.

Harris supported President Johnson's policies in the Dominican Republic and Vietnam.

However, he opposed the President on what he says was "the most actively lobbied Senate vote in the present session."

That came on a move — narrowly defeated — to eliminate the discretionary authority for billboard control in the highway beautification bill — a special concern of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Reds Put U.S. Tourist on Trial

Charge Is Crossing Border Without Visa

MURMANSK, USSR (UPI) — A young American went on trial in this dark arctic city today on charges he entered the Soviet Union illegally.

The pale winter dawn was just breaking at 10 a.m. when Newcomb Mott, 27, of Sheffield, Mass., entered the Murmansk Regional Court to answer charges which could bring a maximum sentence of three years on conviction.

Mott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Mott, who were in the courtroom when the trial began, said they had learned that the Soviet prosecutor plans to present evidence that Mott ignored written warnings against entering the Soviet Union without a visa.

Murmansk citizens hurried around their cold, snow-covered city, unaware that it was the scene of the first trial in Soviet history of an American citizen on border-crossing charges.

No Soviet newspaper has reported Mott's arrest or trial so far, a sign the Kremlin does not consider the affair serious.

HELD FOR TRIAL

Mott was arrested near the Soviet-Norwegian border Sept. 4 and has been held here since that date.

The trial began with the reading of the indictment, which charged that Mott, a tourist, crossed the border from Kirkenes, Norway, to Boris Gleb, Russia, without a visa.

He was stopped by Soviet officials and asked for identification. When he produced his American passport, he was arrested.

Mott was expected to admit the crossing, but to plead that he crossed with good intent, not knowing that the visa-free border crossing permitted to Scandinavians at that point did not extend to other foreigners.

WARNING EVIDENCE

But Mott's parents said they learned that Soviet authorities have possession of a Norwegian document warning non-Scandinavians against crossing the border, and plan to introduce it as evidence.

Such evidence could damage Mott's plea of innocent intent, American officials admitted.

Ike to Be Taken to D.C. Hospital Today

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower heads for Washington late today aboard a special train.

The 75-year-old general is recovering from his second heart attack, and doctors report they are pleased with his progress. He has been hospitalized at the Army hospital here since Nov. 9.

An Army ambulance will take Eisenhower to the railroad siding where he will be placed in his special compartment aboard the Army-ordered eight-car train. Another Army ambulance will meet the train about 14 hours later somewhere in the Washington area to move him to the Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Eisenhower's 8- by 11-foot compartment in the train's third car has been equipped with a hospital bed and assorted emergency and heart monitoring equipment.

The rest of the car will be occupied by doctors and nurses.

Mrs. Eisenhower and members of the general's staff will travel in the fourth car — a private car belonging to an official of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

The train will make only one stop en route for equipment servicing. The location of the stop is classified information.

Saturday afternoon, Eisenhower made his first public appearance since suffering his heart attack. He was wheeled onto the porch of his hospital suite to talk briefly with newsmen and have his picture taken.

"I am really feeling ready to go," he told the reporters.

"Would he play golf again? Eisenhower said he was willing to obey his doctors' orders, but added with a grin: "If they order me not to play golf, then there'll be an argument."

LBJ Contab to Stress Plight of Negro Male

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR.,
Executive Director, National Urban League

The White House has indicated that its forthcoming conference on race relations will emphasize the tragic plight of the Negro male.

Stirred by the recent U. S. Labor Department study of widespread disorganization among the Negro poor, President Johnson has asked his brain trust to plumb beneath the surface and to produce some far-reaching solutions.

"There will be no social peace in the United States for generations" (unless the Negro male has the same opportunities as his white counterparts), the report warns. His lot is regarded as the key to the future of the Negro poor — and that of every second family of color in this country.

The Urban League movement, of course, has long been trying to focus public opinion on this question. In fact, the federal report cites these paragraphs from my "To Be Equal" book (McGraw-Hill):

"Both as husband and as a father, the Negro male is made to feel inadequate, not because he is unlovable or unaffectionate, lacks intelligence or even a gray flannel suit. But in a society that measures a man by the size of his pay check, he doesn't stand very tall in comparison with his white counterpart."

"To this situation he may react with withdrawal, bitterness toward society, aggression both within the family and racial group, self-hatred, or crime. Or he may escape through a number of avenues that help him to lose himself in fantasy or to compensate for his low status through a variety of exploits."

As I read these words again I can imagine the fresh batch of letters I will receive accusing me of "making excuses for Negro criminals" and the like.

MUST DO MORE
But just as I tell Negro citizens that "we must do more than deplore injustice by whites" I say it is not enough for white citizens to "deplore" crime among Negroes.

This is a time for understanding — and for action.

Regarding the former, I found my recent trip to Africa of immense usefulness.

On that continent I was deeply impressed by the heads-high attitude of ordinary Africans. The colonialism which they endured for centuries has not marked them as deeply as slavery did their American brothers.

FEELS HIS WORTH

In African society, the African male — whether he is a pilot or ditch-digger — feels his worth as an individual. His job is as steady as the next man's, and his family unit is as stable. (This is true for middle-class American Negroes, by the way.) He possesses a spirit of confidence in himself, his daily role, and his future.

The difference lies in the fact that European colonialism thrust to exploit the land and its resources — whereas slavery sought to exploit the human person.

Moreover, because of our Judeo-Christian heritage, the slave owners had to convince the Negro that slavery was holy writ, and moral, in keeping with the servant mentality they forced the slave to assume.

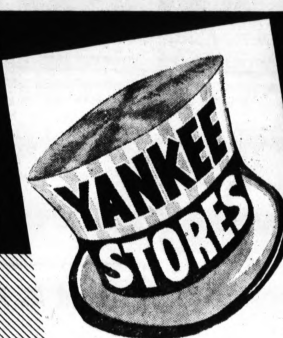

At the same time, they fed the vanity of unthinking white people with the pipe dream of a superior race — to justify slaveholding. Only in America has the Negro male been so deeply injured.

TO HIT HARD

My understanding is that President Johnson intends to hit hard the disease of the Negro male.

Hopefully, his solutions will include far-reaching meat-and-potato programs to encourage Negro youth, to rehabilitate their poverty-stricken fathers, and to improve their housing and economic prospects.

Most of the signs of overt discrimination ("white" and "colored") have been taken down. Now the unwritten sign over our ghettos must be removed. For too long it has read: "Abandon hope, all ye who enter here."

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Luck and strategy were the key words Saturday and adequately summed up the fortunes of the Ohio State and Michigan football teams this season.

Ohio State coach Woody Hayes called his Buckeyes the luckiest team he has ever coached. "We won all the close ones," Hayes said after Ohio State defeated the Wolverines, 9-7, on Bob Funk's 36-yard field goal with 7:20 left in the fourth quarter.

The Buckeyes finished with a 2-2 over-all mark and were 1-1 in the Big Ten, good enough for a second place finish behind Michigan State.

CLOSE WINS

Three of the OSU victories were by a total of five points, bearing out Hayes' observation that his team won some close ones.

This was another troubling gain in what was a frustrating season for Michigan coach Bump Elliott.

The key play in the drive, which started on the Ohio State nine, came when Willard Sanders bulled his way for two yards on fourth down, giving the Buckeyes a first down on their own line.

"I was a little off on that one," Hayes admitted. "I didn't realize they were that far away. I thought it was a lot closer than that."

★ EAST LANSING — The Michigan State Rose Bowl plans, as announced by coach Duffy Daugherty, are simple:

“Our first objective will be to win the game,” he explained. “But some fun and games will be allowed first as the team will be allowed to visit Disneyland, movie studios and other West Coast tourist attractions.”

Then, after a week of fun and games, the team will be a week longer before MSU in the bowl — will be the opponent again. The Bruins came back after trailing Saturday to pass 20-10 to victory 20-16 over Southern Paul D’Eranno attempted one from the OSU 44 in the dying seconds but also fell short.

“If I would have had any idea that this game was going to be this close I would have called for a field goal try the first time we got close,” said Elliott.

Instead, quarterback Wallis Gabler was thrown for a four-yard loss.

“Frustrating,” Elliott repeated.

Daugherty said only three or four practice days will be used up on home grounds and the rest will be saved for the West Coast. The players, meanwhile, will be asked to work out on their own, and will be expected to stay in shape.

Meanwhile, the partying starts this week for the Spartans. The team dinner will be held tonight on the MSU campus. No captain or co-captains will be named at this point, but the governor of "misdeedion," and "most valuable player" awards will be announced.

Losing Streak Ended

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The Des Moines, last in the International Hockey League and nine games without a victory, broke out of the rut Sunday with a 4-3 defeat of Port Huron.

It was the Oak Leafs' third victory of the season and ended a four-game Port Huron winning streak.

DETROIT (AP)—The University of Toronto Blues met the Colorado College and Michigan "chickens" on Boston University in the opening games of the first annual Great Lakes Invitational College Hockey Tournament Dec. 21-22 at Detroit's Olympia stadium.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Floyd Patterson, who made fighting history several times in his erratic career, gets what has to be his last chance at boxing's most prized crown when he takes on heavyweight champion Cassius Clay tonight.

The onetime boy wonder of the ring, knocked out by Sonny Liston in the first round here 21 months ago, is a 3-1 underdog to the all-conquering 23-year-old Clay at Convention Center in a 15-rounder that very few believe will go more than a few rounds. Patterson, two-time holder of the title and the youngest ever to win at 21, will be pitting the dynamite of his leaping left hook against the speed and power of the taller and heavier defender.

The consensus is that if the 30-year-old 6-foot New Yorker doesn't nail the 6-foot-3 Clay early with a jarring hook, he will crumble from the jolting jabs and flashing, two-handed combinations of the Louisville Lip.

Clay, cocky and confident as a Las Vegas night club comic with a 10-year contract, had a couple of parting words to news men Sunday:

"Come early," he said. Previously the bold, brash champion had said he was undecided whether he would knock out "The Rabbit" — as he called Patterson — in a few rounds or punish him for seven or eight before belting him out for the count.

 "If I take him out in one round, people will say it's a fix," said Clay, or Muhammad Ali, as he prefers to be called. "If I give him a hard beating and knock him out in the seventh or eighth round, people gonna say I'm cruel."

The betting is 5-6 and take your pick — even money in man to man odds — that the fight won't go more than five rounds. It will be broadcast by ABC radio and telecast by closed circuit to more than 200 outlets in the United States and Canada. It also will be beamed via early bird satellite to early morning viewers in theaters in the British Isles.

Stating time for the title fight will be about 7:30 p.m. or 10:30 p.m. EST.

The fans will come early. Most remember that three of the last four heavyweight fights — two of them involving Patterson — ended in the first round.

The lively Boston Bruins upset Montreal's National Hockey League leaders 3-2 Sunday on the third period goal by Johnny Bucyk and the brilliant goal bending of rookie Pierre Paré.

Montreal, defending Stanley Cup champions, outskated the Bruins all the way. However, Paré kicked out 40 shots, many from close up. Canadian goalie Charlie Hodge had only 24 saves.

Bucky took a passout from Ed Westall in the corner and drilled a shot to Hodge's left. It was Bucky's second tally in 11 games and enabled the Montreal Canadiens to take the mark for only the second time. They defeated the Canadiens in Montreal 3-1 earlier.

Will Aid 60,000 State Needy

Detroit (UPI)—An estimated 60,000 elderly Michigan residents soon will have all or part of their dental bills paid by a fund set up by the state and federal government.

Dr. Joseph Cabot, Detroit, president of the Michigan Dental Service Corp., announced the plan to provide Michigan residents over 65 years of age.

The money will come from a $300,000 state-federal matching fund set up under the medical assistance to the aged program.

Dr. Cabot said that the program will be administered by Michigan Dental Service Corp., through funds allocated in and cooperation with the Michigan Department of Social Services.

Under the program in Michigan, persons seeking aid must be at least 65 years of age, have no more than $1,500 of liquid assets and receive no more than $1,500 a year in wages or pension benefits, including Social Security.

By SAM DAWSON
AP New York—Uncle Sam is finding the going harder again in his effort to hold down the outflow of dollars.

His business critics say one reason that more dollars are leaving the country than are returning is that Uncle Sam is pinching off their opportunities to make money abroad.

Government officials reply that unless overseas investing is cut back still more now and the dollar outflow curbed so that the dollar is stronger, future opportunities in other lands will be 10 times harder for business to come by.

Both sides agree that the deficit captured a radio station at Tamboril, a small community south of Santiago, the nation's second largest city. The town is about 70 miles north of Santo Domingo.

They held it for about two hours, then gave up without a fight, a government source said. While in the radio station, the rebels played a tape recording proclaiming themselves the "democratic revolutionary government."

IDENTITY LEADER
The broadcast identified the movement's leader as Alcibiades Espinoza, a member of the conservative National Civic Union. It proclaimed him president.

Whether Espinoza actually was involved could not be determined. He could not be reached at his home in Santo Domingo.

Third Suspect Surrenders in Tacoma Teen Kidnaping

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—The third man sought in connection with the kidnaping of Charles Hyde III surrendered here early today.

He is James Edward Evans, a 31-year-old father named as an accomplice in the kidnaping by its admitted mastermind.

Sheriff's officers said Evans turned himself in to Chief Criminal Deputy George Janovich. He was immediately whisked into an interrogation session with officers.

They would not say where Evans had been. They reported, however, he had just driven into Tacoma.

TELEPHONE CALL
Detective Capt. Ernest Keck of the Pierce County sheriff's office disclosed Sunday he had received a telephone call Saturday night, presumably from Keck said Evans told him he understood he was wanted and was returning to Tacoma, where he has a wife and several small children.

He was released unharmed nine hours later after his father, president of a wholesale grocery firm, paid $45,000 ransom.

All but $5,000 of the money was recovered over the weekend. The big break in the case came early Saturday when Tilford Baker, 34, a lanky Tacoma carpenter, turned himself in at the Pierce County sheriff's office.

"Baker said he did the planning, he masterminded the thing," said George J. Janovich, chief criminal deputy.

NEEDED MONEY
"He said he needed the money. He hadn't been getting too much work and was pressed on bills."

Baker is married and has two children.

He identified Dean Allen Bromley, 20, also of Tacoma, as the driver of the kidnap car and said the ransom money was divided at Evans' home. All three were charged with first-degree kidnaping.

Baker led deputies to a bowling alley at Federal, Wash., between Tacoma and Seattle, where $34,300 was found in a plain bowling ball bag in a lock of car.

A. I'm afraid I do not, unless your equity is dangerously thin. In another round of inflation, which seems already to have begun, your mortgage debt should ultimately be paid off with cheaper dollars.

To get ready for your son's education, I believe you should hold strong growth stocks. I would retain General Motors and sell Ford, Chrysler and Eaton to reduce dependence on industry. To replace these, I suggest Holiday Inns, Jonathan Logan and FMC Corp.
