Jury Remains Deadlocked

Sheppard Panel in Fourth Day of Deliberations

Recesses for Lunch With No Sign of Being Near Verdict

CLEVELAND (AP) — Still deadlocked, jurors in the Sheppard murder trial ended the morning session today and went to lunch with no sign they are near a verdict.

It was the fourth day since they began deliberating. When they were excused at 12:08 p. m., they had more than 27 hours of conferences behind them, having been sequestered 74 hours since last Friday morning.

Judge Edward Blythin made no effort to determine, by asking the foreman, whether there is now any possibility of agreement. He merely made his usual set speech, cautioning them not to discuss the case while they are out of the courtroom.

The judge said he will confer with lawyers on both sides today if the jury still fails to reach a verdict. He said he had not made up his mind, beyond that, what to do.

"We will talk with counsel on both sides and see where we go from there," the judge said.

He denied quoted reports that he expected "something today."

Dr. Samuel Sheppard, the accused man, was brought into court at 12 noon. He looked rested, but the signs of strain were still apparent in his face. The state contends the 30-year-old osteopath killed his wife, Marilyn, 31.

His two brothers, Richard and Stephen, and their wives were in court as usual.

A false alarm, caused by a short circuit, made a buzzer sound at about 11:30 a.m. This is a signal the jury is ready to return.

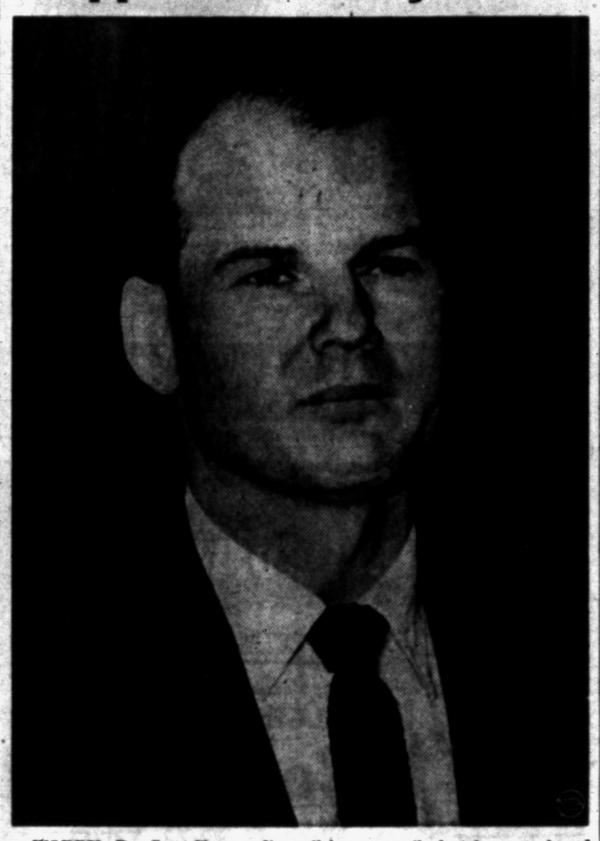

"Oh, no!" ejaculated Dr. Stephen Sheppard when a court officer said, "false alarm, false alarm," and explained the cause.

As the possibility grew larger of a "hung jury," one unable to reach a verdict, Asst. Prosecutor Thomas Parrino said there is no doubt that Sheppard will be tried a second time.

He said the date could not be scheduled until after Jan. 3 at the

Sheppard Awaiting Verdict

WORRY—Dr. Sam Sheppard's well known smile has been replaced by a worried look in the Cleveland courtroom as the jury's continued deliberations make an acquittal verdict more remote. His trial for the slaying of his wife lasted nine weeks, and the jury received the case Friday forenoon.

Mendes-France Receives Vote of Confidence

Assembly Clears Way for Four-Day Debate on Rearming Bonn

PARIS (AP) — The French National Assembly today gave Premier Pierre Mendes-France a vote of confidence—310 to 172—on his Indochina policies, thus clearing the way for a four-day debate on German rearmament.

The number of the Premier's supporters was sharply reduced, however, from his total on previous votes of confidence since he took office six months ago.

On Aug. 10, he won a confidence vote on large special economic powers, 361 to 90, with 143 abstentions.

On Oct. 12, he was again voted confidence on the conclusion of the London accords by a count of 350 to 113, with 153 abstentions.

In another vote, on Nov. 9, Mendes-France said he would consider the result an expression of confidence but did not make it a formal vote to that effect. That was on a minor budget question, refusing wage increases to postal workers. He won the 321 to 207, with 100 abstentions.

Paul-Henri Teitgen, speaking today for the Popular Republican movement, said his party was abstaining. He said the MRP was taking this attitude "so that the great debate on foreign policy should not be delayed." He pointedly said the decision to abstain "signifies defiance."

Mendes-France told the Assembly today that the United States will contribute about 400 million dollars in 1955 to the economic and military buildup of South Viet Nam.

Pleading with the deputies to support him in the vote of confidence, the Premier said that in his talks here last weekend with U. S. Secretary of State Dulles he had ironed out many details of the two countries cooperation in the Far Eastern territory.

The French government, he continued, believes the Southeast Asia Defense Treaty signed at Manila is a guarantee against a new outbreak of hostilities in Indochina. The South Viet Nam army, he said, is being trained to take over the job of maintaining internal security.

He said the French expeditionary corps in South Viet Nam will be withdrawn gradually, leaving only enough French soldiers to protect French citizens and interests there.

Yule Party Sets Attendance Mark

Coldest Blasts of Season Hit Ahead of Winter

Official End of Fall Will Occur at 4:25 Wednesday Morning

Although winter doesn't arrive officially until Wednesday, Oakland County residents got a preview today as the mercury plunged to a bone-chilling two degrees above zero, stranding about 5,500 Waterford Township school students and leaving hundreds of work-bound motorists with balky automobiles.

The temperature drop, which began early Saturday morning, plunged the mercury to its lowest point for the season. Winter will arrive at 4:25 a. m. Wednesday.

Officials at Waterford Township schools said students were left stranded when school buses failed to start. The balance of the township's 8,000 students walked to classes.

Superintendent William Shunck, who said the buses are stored outside, reported only two of the system's 23 coaches started. Waiting students took shelter in nearby homes and garages until notified that they would be excused from classes. Each bus makes three trips daily.

A spot check of towing services revealed hundreds of city and suburban motorists were unable to start their cars.

The immediate forecast, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau, predicts partly cloudy skies tonight and tomorrow with light snow likely Tuesday. The cold weather will continue with a low tonight of 12 to 16 degrees and a high tomorrow of 24 to 28.

Tomorrow night will be cloudy with light snow flurries and not so cold. Wednesday there will be more snow flurries and higher temperatures.

By 2 p.m. today the mercury had risen to 17 degrees.

Beginning shortly after midnight, Saturday, the thermometer registered 36 degrees, dropping until it reached 22 just before midnight. Early Sunday morning, it continued dropping until it hit 7 degrees by midnight. Today at 8 a. m. the temperature had reached three degrees above zero and dropped to 2 about 8:30.

The previous low for the fall season was 14, set Dec. 7. The all-time low for that period was six below in 1932.

In 1953, the coldest day of fall fell on the 17th of December, when the thermometer registered eight degrees. The entire Fall season was colder and wetter this year, with 31 days of freezing tempera-

Michigan Counts 21 Dead in Pre-Christmas Traffic

By UNITED PRESS

Michigan counted 21 persons killed in traffic during the first weekend following Safe Driving Day.

Although only one multiple-death crash was reported, a rash of collisions, pedestrian accidents and other highway mishaps marred the busy pre-Christmas weekend in the Wolverine State.

Nearly half of the victims were killed in pedestrian mishaps. Several of the other fatal accidents were blamed on slippery roads.

Killed in the only multiple-death mishap were Tom Cook Sr., 63, and Arthur Miles, 76, both of Farwell.

State Police said a car driven by Cook skidded on icy pavement into the path of a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train at a crossing at Farwell late Saturday.

The pedestrian toll included Melvin R. Kluiter, 29, Grand Rapids; Theodore Swiercan, 32, Flint; Genevieve Keils, 60, Detroit; Glen Shattuck, 58, Lansing; William C. Hercliff, 23, Pontiac; Frank W. Noel, 76, Trenton, Henry H. Carlson, 56, Ecorse Township, Herman Deo, 19, Dearborn, and Mrs. Lizzie Daniel, 70, Fullman, Ark.

Swiercan and Carlson were listed as hit-run victims.

A 70-year-old Jackson man, Theodore W. Wiesenmayer, died Sunday shortly after the ambulance which was taking him to University Hospital, Ann Arbor, collided with a car near Jackson.

Soviet-British Pact Menaced

Russia Vows to Scrap Assistance Treaty If Germany Is Rearmed

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia today threatened to scrap the British-Soviet Mutual Assistance Treaty if the Paris agreements to rearm West Germany are ratified.

This warning was in a note handed to British Ambassador Sir William Hayter by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko at the Foreign Ministry.

The text of the note was not immediately available but it was understood to be similar to a note given France last Thursday threatening abrogation of the French-Soviet treaty.

The Soviet Foreign Ministry called a news conference for this evening and it was believed the text of the note would be made public then.

Ambassador Hayter returned to his post here on Saturday after several weeks in Paris and London for consultations.

Dulles Says NATO Meeting Successful

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles arrived back in Washington today from the North Atlantic Treaty Council meeting at Paris, which he said has made "very important decisions unanimously and in good spirit."

With Dulles aboard a Military Air Transport Service Constellation were Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Foreign Aid Chief Harold Stassen.

Dulles, in an off-the-cuff statement, said he was glad he had had the opportunity in Paris to talk with British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Mendes-France.

Goodfellows Collect $3,200 for Yule Fund

Unless private contributions help the Pontiac Metropolitan Club's Old Newsboys meet the Goodfellows goal of $6,000, some of the city's needy children may not be visited by Santa on Christmas eve, said Sgt. Walter Baerwolf, chairman.

The Goodfellows collected $3,200 during the sale of Goodfellow editions of the Press Saturday.

According to Baerwolf, some 500 needy families have been reported to the Goodfellows for aid.

"Either Santa's gifts will be spread pretty thin or some youngsters may not have a 'white' Christmas," explained Baerwolf.

Baerwolf said that anyone wishing to make contributions may call him at FEderal 2-0171, or Fireman Arthur Carson at FEderal 2-9271.

Gleason Reveals Buick Division as New Sponsor

NEW YORK (UP) — Television comedian Jackie Gleason said today he has "as good as signed" a three-year contract with the Columbia Broadcasting System and the Buick Division of General Motors which would pay him $11,000,000.

The deal, described as "the biggest financial deal in TV history," actually involves a total cost to his new sponsor of $17,000,000, Gleason said. Buick now sponsors rival comic Milton Berle on the National Broadcasting Company.

"My company (Gleason Enterprises) will get $11,000,000," Gleason said. "But the total deal is for $17,000,000. The rest goes to CBS for the time."

The contract calls for 39 filmed half-hour shows of "The Honeymooner," a comedy sketch also featuring Audrey Meadows and Art Carney, which began as a small part of the Gleason show. Thirteen of these shows are scheduled during each summer.

He said he thought the program would be on at 8:30 p.m. Saturday nights, and added that "it's practically set to do another show" for his present sponsors, Shaeffer Pen Co., Nescafe and Schick.

Part of Airliner Salvaged Today

Forward End of Plane Raised From Waters of Jamaica Bay

NEW YORK, (AP)—A large section of the forward end of the Italian airliner that crashed Saturday with a loss of 26 lives was hauled to the surface of Jamaica Bay by salvage workers today, and immediately began to break apart.

It is believed that the unrecovered bodies of 17 of the victims were trapped in the craft. Nine bodies have been found and six persons of the 32 aboard the Rome-New York liner survived.

Working with a 35-ton floating crane, Navy divers snaked lift line beneath the wreckage which had sunk in four or five feet of mud at the bottom of the 30-foot deep bay.

The salvage plan called for the wreckage to be eased across 1,500 feet of water and onto the shore of Idlewild Airport. The plane was heading for Idlewild when it hit a navigational pier and broke apart.

Wreckage of the four-engine DC6B airliner was located yesterday by Navy divers, who reported it appeared to be in three main pieces.

The six survivors were in the rear of the plane and got out or were thrown clear when the tail cracked off. Two young students returning from Italy were uninjured and able to go home. The others were taken to hospitals.

Investigators said the plane apparently struck the end of a 2,000-foot pier with its tail as it approached the airport through rain and mist. Officials said the pilot, Capt. Guglielmo Algarotti, 52, who had missed three earlier radar-guided approaches to the field, was warned he was coming too low.

A veteran transatlantic flier, he was among the victims.

Hammarskjold Will Leave for Peiping 'After Dec. 26'

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold announced last night after a meeting with Communist China's ambassador to Sweden that he still plans to leave for Peiping sometime after Dec. 26, but the exact date has not been set.

As Hammarskjold conferred at a luncheon with the envoy, Gen. Keng Piao, Peiping radio broadcast further legal arguments against the release of the 11 U. S. fliers China is holding as spies.

The radio quoted a brief by a Chinese judge that the Korean armistice applied only to the North Koreans and the Chinese "volunteers" in Korea, not to the Chinese peasants and police the broadcast said had captured the airmen.

An official announcement from Hammarskjold said his 2½-hour discussion with Keng was on practical matters concerning his mission to China. The secretary general will seek the release of the American airmen and all other U.N. personnel still held by the Chinese since the Korean War.

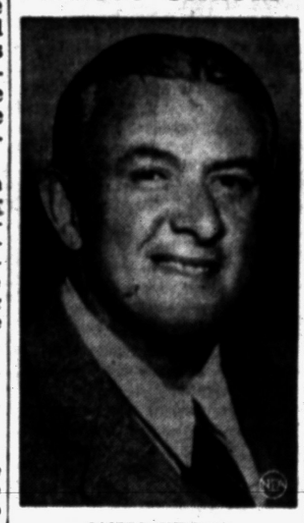

U. N. Press Chief Wilder Foote said all details of Hammarskjold's China trip would be announced as soon as they have been settled.

He said no further meetings were planned with the Chinese before the secretary general's return to New York tomorrow.

The Peiping Broadcast yesterday quoted Mei Ju-ao, a Chinese justice

Illness Critical

JAMES HILTON

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The condition of 54-year-old James Hilton, the noted novelist, was described as "very poor" today at Seaside Memorial Hospital.

Hilton, author of such novels as "Lost Horizon" and "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," entered the hospital Nov. 21. His physician has declined to disclose the nature of his illness other than to say he is suffering from an infection.

The doctor said yesterday that he is getting "progressively worse."

Sheppard Judge Hearing Another Murder Today

CLEVELAND (AP) — Starting today, Judge Edward Blythin is serving in two murder trials at once.

One, of course, is the trial of osteopath Samuel H. Sheppard, charged with first degree murder in the bludgeon-death of his pregnant wife last July 4. Jurors in that trial try for the fourth straight day to reach a verdict.

The other is the trial of Curtis Chaney, also charged with first degree murder in the fatal shooting of another man last Aug. 23. Curtis has waived a jury, and Judge Blythin is on the three-judge panel which starts hearing the case today.

Red China Will Draft More Men for Military

HONG KONG (UP)—Communist China will conscript new recruits for its 4,000,000-strong armed forces, Hong Kong's Communist newspaper reported today.

Under the new law all able-bodied men between the ages of 18 and 24 must serve in the armed forces for periods ranging from three to five years.

Foundations Deny Charge

Tax-Free Groups Called Worse Threat Than Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spokesmen for several foundations have hit back with such terms as "biased" and "flimsy" at a House committee report accusing the giant taxfree groups of promoting a socialism of "far greater menace" at home than communism.

The report was issued last night over the signatures of the three Republicans on a special five-member committee headed by Rep. Reece (R-Tenn).

One of them, Rep. Goodwin of Massachusetts, dissented from many of the conclusions, including the one that the foundations promote socialism.

Representatives Wayne L. Hays of Ohio and Pfost of Idaho, the two Democratic members, filed a blistering dissent attacking the 416-page report as a "crackpot" view by persons suffering from "fear sickness." They put primary blame on the committee staff.

The report signed by the GOP members pictured the nation's big foundations as comprising an "interlock" and "an intellectual cartel" which, it declared, wields tremendous left-wing power over the nation's thought and policies.

However, it declared foundations generally are desirable and it said particular benefits have come from foundations in medicine, public health and science.

Foundation influence has crept into foreign policy matters, the report said, declaring that in one instance more "alertness" by

Claim Mindzenty Release Story From Eyewitness

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Kathpress, a Roman Catholic press service in Austria, today claimed support for its report of last week that Josef Cardinal Mindszenty had been freed.

It also spoke of "relief measures . . . practically equal to a discharge."

There has been no confirmation from Budapest, nor at the Vatican, for the recurrent report of freedom for the cardinal, Roman Catholic primate of Hungary who was sentenced in 1948 to serve a life term on treason charges denounced by churchmen and governments outside the Iron Curtain. He is 62.

Kathpress said last week its original report was based on information from a French business man who had come from Budapest and had heard the rumors. Today Kathpress said:

"The release of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, as reported by Kathpress last Thursday, was confirmed by an eyewitness from Budapest this morning.

"According to the information, the cardinal is believed to be presently at the archbishop's palace or in the parish of St. Mathias, both in Buda (part of Budapest). This would confirm the statement made by the official residence at Esztergom according to which the cardinal, while not in Esztergom, could possibly be in his diocese. Esztergom is the site of the archdiocese, to which also Budapest belongs."

The Day in Birmingham

City to Consider Financing Off-Street Parking, Drains

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — On tonight's City Commission agenda is the bond ordinance which would allow up to $400,000 in revenue bonds for off-street parking facilities.

With it is a resolution calling for the sale of $260,000 in bonds for construction of Municipal Parking Lot No. 1 on Pierce between Merrill and Brown streets.

Special assessment districts set up to defray construction costs for an alley south of Maple running east of Bates, and for Municipal Parking Lot No. 2 at the southeast corner of Bates and Martin, will be outlined by City Manager Donald U. Egbert.

The commission will be asked to advance $3,000 to the Oakland County drain commissioner for engineering studies in connection with the Evergreen interceptor sewer project.

Two zoning requests will be studied. One is for rezoning lots 30 to 33, Birmingham Crestview subdivision, from single family residence to Business A classification. The other asks rezoning from business to residential, property at the corner of Maple and Larchlea.

Jury Starts 4th Day; Deadlock Possible

next term of the Criminal Court. Because of a crowded calendar, Parrino said it might not be possible to start the retrial until the early spring.

* * *

If the jurors remain deadlocked today, Judge Blythin can ask the foreman how the jurors stand. And if he is told there is no hope of agreement, he can discharge them. This would necessitate another long and expensive trial.

Courtroom veterans were unable to remember any jury going so many hours without a verdict, or being held so long by a judge.

The jurors took the case at 10:13 a.m. last Friday. When they were excused last night — there was no after-dinner session—they had been together nearly 56 hours, and actually deliberating in the jury room just over 24 hours.

Sheppard himself looks pale, drawn and unutterably weary.

The state alleges that he killed his wife last July 4. His relations with other women, the prosecution argued, prompted the crime. Thus, the charge is first degree murder. Conviction of the charge would carry a mandatory death sentence unless the jury recommended mercy.

Sheppard steadfastly denies any guilt. He says a prowler broke into his home while he was asleep and beat Marilyn Sheppard to death. She was pregnant at the time.

Under Ohio law, a prisoner must be brought from his cell to the courtroom every time the jury recesses for meals or for the night. Thus, Sheppard has confronted them eight times since they began deliberating his fate. They went to dinner last night shortly after 6 o'clock, and were excused from the usual night session.

U. S. Prisons May Be Probed

Rep. Celler Indicates Investigation May Stem From Remington Death

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) said today the recent slaying of William W. Remington may result in a congressional investigation of the federal prison system.

Celler will become chairman of the House Judiciary Committee when the Democratic 84th Congress convenes Jan. 5.

The congressman said the brutal slaying of Remington, a former government economist serving a three-year term for perjury, might indicate existence of conditions in federal prisons which require correction.

He stated: "I am not yet prepared to say that an investigation is needed. However, the brutal slaying of Remington may bear looking into.

"I will probably take the matter up with James V. Bennett, director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons. Possibly the committee may want to call him for questioning."

Celler added that he had the highest personal regard for Bennett. He praised the federal prison director "for having done an excellent job over the years."

Bennett has been under attack in some congressional quarters, and previous demands have been made for a general investigation. These requests have increased since the slaying of Remington by fellow prisoners.

Season's Coldest Hits Pontiac Area

tures recorded, compared to 25 last year.

The record high last year was 84 degrees, recorded on the 19th of October, with 80 degrees the highest reading for fall 1954. Pontiac was hit by the first frost Oct. 17.

As for rainfall, October broke all existing records. The previous record for the month was 6.76 inches recorded in 1890, and the all-time high was 6.86 in April 1947.

Both records were surpassed before the month was half gone, with 3.72 inches falling on the 3rd alone. By the end of the month, Pontiac was drenched by 10.44 inches of rain.

Several times during the month roads were flooded and damage to homes was reported.

Snowfall this year has failed to equal that of 1953. An estimated 3.91 inches were recorded so far this year as compared to 4.42 last year. But neither compare to 1951, when 30 inches fell on Pontiac during the week of Dec. 14 to 21.

And the weather picture today in this area reflects the situation throughout the state. Pellston was the nation's coldest spot as a temperature reading of minus 15 degrees was reported.

Flint reported five degrees below zero while Saginaw shivered in -2 degree weather.

Cadillac, known as the state's "ice box," reported a "comfortable" six degrees.

The Michigan Auto Club said highways in southwestern Michigan are slippery but local officials said arteries in this area are relatively dry.

Nationally, the nippy weather extended over the eastern third of the country, with freezing weather penetrating as far south as Florida.

The long range forecast for this area says that temperatures during the next 30 days will average below normal and snowfall will be about average.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Franklin A. Farr

Mrs. Franklin A. (Millie Mary) Farr, 85, 43 Dakota Dr., died yesterday after a long illness.

A resident of Pontiac for 30 years, she was born in Brown City and was the daughter of James and Hanna Wallace.

A member of Bethany Baptist Church, she attended schools in Brown City and Lakeville.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Verta Underwood and Mrs. Erving Zuehlk, both of Pontiac, five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral service Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. will be from Farmer-Snover Funeral Home, the Rev. Fred R. Tiffany officiating. Burial will follow in Hart Cemetery, Macomb County.

William C. Hercliff

Service from the Sparks-Griffin Chapel Tuesday for William C. Hercliff will be observed at 10 a.m., with burial in Caseville.

Hercliff died Saturday in Pontiac General Hospital of injuries which he suffered early that day when struck by a truck on Pontiac road.

Born in Pigeon, he was the son of Harry Hercliff and Mrs. Martha Ver Helle of East Detroit. He was married to Margaret Shelton July 8, 1950.

Hercliff was an employe of the Oakland County Road Commission, a veteran of the Korean War and a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving besides his mother and widow are a sister, Mrs. Fred Empke of Port Austin, and two brothers, Richard and Earl, both of Pigeon.

Frank E. Wagner

Service for Frank E. Wagner, 69, who died at a local hospital after an illness of several months, will be from the Sparks-Griffin Chapel Tuesday at 2 p.m., with burial in Oakland Hills Cemetery.

A retired Pontiac Motor Division employe, Wagner had been a resident of Pontiac for 38 years. He was a member of Roosevelt Lodge 510, which will take charge of a grave-side service.

Wagner was born in LeRay, Minn., to Frank and Anna Wagner. His wife, Nellie died in 1952.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Wendell O. Hill of Oxford, Mrs. Clair V. Kelley of Drayton Plains, Mrs. A. James McKim of Waterford, eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Fred Winegar

Mrs. Fred (Loretta Matilda) Winegar, 66, 16 Union Ct., died Saturday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after an illness of one week.

The daughter of Wendlen and Effie Matilda Densmore Wagner, she was born in Marine City and was married there June 2, 1908. A member of St. Vincent de Paul Church, she came to Pontiac from Port Huron in 1911.

Surviving besides her husband are two sons, Leslie Frederick of Pontiac and William John of Garden City, Calif.

Also surviving are two brothers, Charles of Port Huron and Wendlen of Los Angeles, and a grandson.

Funeral service will be Tuesday at 10 a.m. from St. Vincent de Paul Church. Rosary will be said tonight at 8:30 in the Melvin A. Schutt Funeral Home. Burial will be in Mt. Hope Cemetery, Port Huron.

Mrs. Peter M. Wakefield

Mrs. Peter M. (Della) Wakefield, 70, 486 First St., died yesterday in her home after a three-month illness.

Born in Jackson, Ala., she was the daughter of Robert and Hannah Lanham Reed. She was married in Huntland, Tenn., June 13, 1907.

A resident of Pontiac for 22 years, she came here from Winchester, Tenn.

Surviving besides her husband are a daughter, Mrs. Carroll Ellis of Pontiac, and two brothers, John and Ben Reed, both of Oakland Park, Fla.

Service from Voorhees - Siple Chapel will be Wednesday at 2 p.m., the Rev. Edmond I. Watkins of Joslyn Avenue Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial will follow in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Negotiate for Return of Black Legionnaire

JACKSON (AP)—Moves were under way today to return Edgar Baldwin, "Black Legionnaire" serving life at Southern Michigan Prison for murder.

Baldwin, 44, fled from a trusty block Sept. 4 with two other prisoners in a prison car. He was captured Saturday in St. Louis.

The FBI said Baldwin had been working as a taxicab driver in St. Louis and was armed with a .32 caliber revolver when he was arrested.

Baldwin was sentenced to life in Detroit Oct. 9, 1936, after he and nine other "Black Legionnaires" were convicted of the kidnap slaying of Charles A. Poole. Members of the "Black Legion," a terrorist group, claimed that Poole had beaten his wife.

Trade Up, Income Down

TOKYO (AP) — Japan dramatically increased her exports of iron and steel this year, but many of the products were sold abroad below cost, Kyodo news service reported today.

Hammarskjold Plans Trip 'After Dec. 26'

at the Japanese war crimes trials after World War II, as saying the case of the American fliers had nothing to do with the Korean armistice because the truce applied on the Communist side only to prisoners captured by the North Koreans and Chinese "volunteers." This fitted in with China's contention that she officially was not involved in the Korean War.

The radio declared the fliers "were captured by Chinese peasants within Chinese territory west of Antung in Liaoning province (Manchuria)." The United States maintains they were downed in North Korea and taken to China after their capture.

Countering the U.S. argument that spies would not be sent out in uniforms, Mei said:

"In determining whether a criminal is a spy, the court obviously does not make its judgment on what he was wearing but what he was doing and the motives and purposes behind his actions."

Foundations Called Menace to Country

trustees of some foundations which provided funds for the Institute of Pacific Relations "might have saved China from the Communists and prevented the war in Korea." The institute has frequently been criticized by congressional groups.

The lengthy document ticked off a long list of names of organizations and individuals in connection with the alleged foundation-influenced "network."

Mentioned most often were the country's big three among fund groups: the Ford Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation, several Carnegie groups, and what it called "offshoots" of the big three. Among Carnegie organizations named were the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and the Carnegie Corp. of New York.

The GOP report also assailed the New York Times, the New York Herald Tribune and the Washington Post and Times Herald, which it said had connections with foundations and had criticized the investigation. The latter two newspapers said statements made in the report were not true.

Plenty of Time to Think

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Col. Wyndham Manning, state prison superintendent, has coined a name for a $200,000 maximum security building planned at the penitentiary here.

He has named it a "meditation building" because, he says, "That's about all a prisoner will be able to do" while confined there.

Radio Station Getting News Via Pigeons

BOWLING Green, Ohio (AP) — Radio station WWBG goes on the air today—with news delivered by carrier pigeon.

A dispute with the Northern Ohio Telephone Co. left Howard R. Ward, head of the newly constructed station, temporarily without lines to bring in Associated Press service. Ward's FCC construction permit, says he has to be on the air by tomorrow.

So he arranged to have his AP teletype machines installed in a department store at Toledo, some 20 air miles distant, and got the loan of about 30 pigeons from the American Homing and Racing Pigeon Union.

Male gorillas may weigh more than 400 pounds.

Cosmetics Always Welcome as Yule Remembrances

For presents that say, "I love you," to daughter, sweetheart or wife, there is nothing that quite can equal dainty perfumes and cosmetics.

Fresh and appealing fragrances have ranked as traditional Yuletide gifts since the time of the very first Christmas, when frankincense and myrrh were offered to Infant Christ.

Special, sweet-smelling Yuletide packages can be had in a wide range of prices—and in hundreds of fine containers, ranging from gold flagons to copies of antique sewing boxes.

Famous cosmetics houses, such as Charles of the Ritz, Yardley and Shulton, have packaged their finest products—colognes, lipsticks, bath salts, toiletries, etc. — in scores of combinations. There's one or more to fit every taste.

An excellent little stocking gift is a pretty box of eye cosmetics. Included is Blue Royale, a new color in creme mascara developed by Aziza. A similar type of present is a new body lotion called Bounce!

Set of toilet water and perfume in beautiful wraping is traditional gift for women from men.

Regals scents come in small packages. Pick perfume you like. She wears it for your pleasure.

Beautiful shapes of fragrance bottles make them ideal stocking gifts for mother and sister.

Block-printed playing cards were used all over Europe half a century before books were printed there.

Royal Oak Girls Known to Police

Pair Were Questioned in Sept. 12 Slaying of Gas Attendant

BIRMINGHAM — Two Royal Oak girls among six youths being held for questioning by Tucumcari, N. M. police on the Sept. 12 shotgun slaying of Doyle Howe here have previously been questioned in the gas station murder, Det. Lt. Merlin Holmquist of the Birmingham police department said today.

He said Rosemary Anderson, 17, of 2425 Kenneth St., who Tucumcari police said was carrying newspaper clippings of the Howe shooting and other Detroit area crimes, had dated Howe and so might understandably have saved news reports. The other girl, Delores Voch, of 4226 Berkshire, also knew Howe, Holmquist said.

The two girls were arrested with four men near Tumcucari Saturday night on investigation of gasoline theft. The six had stopped for gasoline at a station on U.S. 66, 22 miles east of Tucumcari and left without paying.

The others arrested were Robert Isaacs, 18, of 426 E. Kenneth St. and Richard L. Hartage, 23 of 585 Hudson St., both of Royal Oak Township, Clifford Moreland, 18, of 603 Waterfront Dr., Waterford Township and Clifford Gardner, 23, of Bloomington, Ill.

Holmquist said the men had not previously been implicated in the slaying.

Howe, 24-year-old gas station attendant, was robbed of $60 and killed in the washroom of the gas station at Woodward and Chaplin.

Looting of Parked Car Reported in Waterford

Mrs. Dorothy Wright of 1060 Durant Ave. told Oakland County sheriff's deputies Saturday that someone took about $25 worth of valuables and clothes from her car while it was parked near the Dixie Bar, 2592 Dixie Hwy., Waterford Township.

According to Mrs. Wright, thieves took a waitress' uniform and shoes, white hat and gloves and a ruby necklace and earring set from her unlocked auto.

What Soviets Call Circus Is Variety Show in U.S.

MOSCOW (INS)—Russians don't seem to mind one bit that their circuses don't have lion tamers, elephants and pretty girls.

A Soviet circus is more like a Saturday night TV variety show than an old-fashioned, thrills and chills American tent show.

The one-ring state "Tsirk" performs in its own brick theater not far from downtown Moscow. The lobby is all lined with marble.

But close your eyes and sniff and you know where you are, all right. It certainly smells like a circus.

Soviet circuses operate under plaster "big tops." They have no canvas, squads of roustabouts or painted wagons.

Permanent buildings in major Soviet cities house year-around circus theaters.

The Russian circus circuit apparently hasn't enough lion tamers, elephants or pretty girls to go around, because the current show at the Moscow arena stands short on all three items.

And a troupe of melancholy gypsies doesn't nearly take up the slack. But even second-rate circuses can be fun.

Clowns wear ordinary stage makeup and normal Soviet street clothes — trousers broad enough to put on over snowshoes and double-breasted jackets.

This costume seems pretty funny to a westerner who hasn't been in the U. S. S. R. long enough to get used to men's trouser styles.

But what strikes the Russians about these clown suits are the maroon, light blue and tan jackets and odd pants.

These colors are pretty gay for these parts and the well-dressed Soviet man doesn't wear coats and trousers that don't match.

The circus troupes are under the colors of the Ministry of Culture. This means the foolery must be educational as well as funny.

The crowds roared when the clowns and singers lampooned buck-passing bureaucrats and the current scarcity of meat.

And a ballad about "American imperialists" and the Korean War set off guffaws when a guitar-strumming pair sang irreverently about "beez-ness," "dollari," and "Vall Streetza."

The program included a series of fair to good acts — wire-walking, tumblers, balancing, sleight-of-hand, trained dogs and horses, and a team of Chinese jugglers—all accompanied by the 30-piece Order of Lenin Circus Orchestra.

A gray bear and his trainer grunted and groaned through a wrestling exhibition.

The bear wasn't nearly as ferocious in the fur as he had appeared on the circus posters around town, but with a little polishing he might go far in Stateside TV wrasling.

Top billing went to an expert aerial clown. Muscovites roared when he lost his baggy sailor suit in mid-air, revealing a snazzy pair of striped tights.

Then a terrible thing happened. The clown lost his grip and plunged toward the ring.

But springs attached to his safety line shot him back up to his perch under the plaster dome. The crowd recovered its breath and cried with laughter.

It would be a great act in anybody's circus.

Shopper's Wallet Stolen

BIRMINGHAM — Mrs. Loma Dorsey of 1443 S. Bates St. reported the theft of her wallet containing $25 to $30 on Saturday. She told police she left the billfold on a counter at Himelhoch Bros. & Co., 168 W. Maple St., for a moment and returned to find it gone.

Gets Probation, Fine for Taking Car Wheels

Halmuth Kruger, 18, of 258 Angola, Walled Lake, today was placed on two years probation and assessed $100 court costs by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty after pleading guilty Dec. 13 to larceny from an auto.

He was charged with taking four wheels Sept. 20 from a new car belonging to the L. B. Miles Auto Sales of Commerce.

Felonious Driving Nets Youth Probation, Fine

Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty today placed Gerald L. Bullock, 20, of 7615 Easton, Clarkston, on three years probation and assessed $250 court costs after Bullock pleaded guilty to felonious driving Dec. 13.

Bullock was charged with causing an accident on Clarkston-Orion road Aug. 15 in which a woman was injured.

Knowland Hits Payment of 'Blackmail' to Free 11

WASHINGTON, (UP) — Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) said today the United States will invite World War III if it pays any "blackmail" to free the 11 American airmen imprisoned in Red China.

He declared the stern measures he has urged — including a blockade of the China mainland — are less likely to plunge the world into atomic war than a new sign of Allied weakness or a peace-at-any-price policy.

Knowland conceded Russian subs might try to break up a blockade and sink U. S. ships but said he is "prepared to accept that risk." A major war is another possibility, he said, but a remote one.

The real danger, he asserted, is that the Allies in their desire to achieve peace will be weak in the face of Communist advances.

"Any time you pay blackmail you increase the demands and I think the more that is paid the greater the demands will be," he said, referring to proposals that 35 Chinese students in this country be swapped for the airmen.

"I think weakness invites war . . .," he said. "The best chance of keeping out of war is maintaining a position of strength and dealing with (the Communists) on a basis of strength." For this reason, he said, "I don't think this is a war policy which I am suggesting."

Knowland's views were contained in a copyrighted interview with the U. S. News & World Report magazine.

Knowland said the United Nations should be given a chance to try to free the airmen. But if it doesn't succeed by Jan. 5, he said, Congress should consider what to do and he personally recommended a blockade.

Some have suggested this would be ineffective. But Knowland said he believes it would cause "very serious dislocations" in the Chinese Communist economy and put heavy new stress on the Soviet supply lines to its eastern satellite. This, he argued, would be more than Peiping would be willing to pay to keep the airmen.

Four Christmas Trees Arrive at White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A big truck delivered four large Christmas trees to the White House today.

The trees were cut at Ft. Belvoir in nearby Virginia.

The largest of the four is being set up in the White House East Room. Another will be placed in the Blue Room, and two will stand outdoors on the White House north portico.

Parke, Davis Official Honored by Academy

NEW YORK (UP) — The New York Academy of Sciences announced today that Dr. Leon A. Sweet, 45, Detroit, has been elected as a "fellow of the academy."

The academy said Sweet, vice president and director of research and products development for Parke, Davis & Co., was chosen because of his "achievements in science."

Detroiter Sentenced for Home Breakin

Thomas S. Murray, 30, of 210 Chandler, Detroit, today was sentenced to a maximum of four years in Jackson state prison by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Murray admitted Dec. 14 breaking into a home Dec. 8 at 21007 Reimensville, Royal Oak Township, and taking a suit plus a pair of shoes.

'Suspect'---Chapter 13

—by Hugh Lawrence Nelson

THE STORY: Mrs. Angelica Jones, sister-in-law of Jim Dunn's client, is dead and the facts point to murder at the Colorado mountain lodge where Jim and his bride Nancy are posing as caretakers in order to do detective work for Mrs. Kit Carlson. Jim has just found the body in the basement, lying on an elevator used to bring up wood for the upstairs fireplace.

Nancy had on her blue jeans, her trim boots and fitted jacket. Jim put his arm around her, pulled her up for a kiss.

He told her about the body, and went on, "The phone's dead, honey. I guess it's up to you to get to a phone. The one that gatekeeper's shack might be working. Or you might have to go clear into Creek Junction. Get the sheriff. Tell him what's happened. I'll stay here to make certain nothing is disturbed."

Nancy Dunn's face was white and drawn. She said, "Our—our client?"

"Yes. One dead man beside a California swimming pool. A dead woman in a wood elevator in Colorado. But both with crushed skulls. Both found when Mrs. Kit and her faithful retainer were alone in the house. You think the local sheriff is going to write that off as a coincidence?"

"What are you going to do, Jim?"

"Find out some things," Dunn said grimly.

Jim watched his car climb up the road toward the plateau. He looked beyond Miss Wister's coupe, looked at the moving water of the lake. He knew it was only his imagination, but that body of water did not appear so beautiful now.

He heard Mrs. Kit screaming as soon as he was inside the kitchen door.

"No no no no! Not again! Please not again!"

He moved quickly through the kitchen, toward the hall and bedroom. He could hear the lower answering whine of Mrs. Gelstrap's voice, heard the relaxation of Kit's hysteria into violent sobbing. He pushed open the bedroom door without knocking.

Mrs. Gelstrap held the nearly empty glass of water she had just taken from the younger woman. There was no sign of the black coffee Jim had prescribed. Mrs. Gelstrap soothed, "You rest and sleep now. It'll be all right."

Kit Carlson saw Jim, broke into accusations. "You didn't help! You didn't keep this from happening. It's happened again!"

"What have you given her now?" Jim demanded of the cook.

"Just another little capsule or so." There was defiance in Sue Gelstrap's whine. "Poor thing. She has to rest. She's been through so much."

Already Kit's eyelids were getting heavy. Jim demanded, "Listen to me. Don't go to sleep again. What did you hear during the night?"

"Hear? I didn't hear anything but the water. And the moaning of the wind. Who is doing this to me? That's the question you should be trying to answer."

"Don't think about it, dearie," Mrs. Gelstrap said.

Mrs. Gelstrap put a tiny hand across the younger woman's lips. When she removed the gentle pressure, Mrs. Kit was asleep.

Back in the kitchen, Mrs. Gelstrap retrieved her bottle.

"Hysterics and hangovers," Jim said.

Jim began a hasty yet thorough search of the whole house. He finished the upstairs with no evidence of Miss Wister's presence, walked down and around for another survey of the basement just as Nancy drove up in the jeep. "The phone at the gatehouse worked," Nancy said. "I had to break in, Jim. It—well, it was strange the way the operator acted. She rang a Toby Argyle. That's where we stopped for the keys, wasn't it?"

"Yes. I guess Toby Argyle runs the town of Creek Junction."

"Maybe. At any rate I told him and he promised to send the sheriff out. He acted funny, Jim. Odd, startled, upset. Oh, I don't know how to tell you. Is—is there anythig new here? Miss Wister?"

"Nothing. No trace."

"What can I do?"

He rubbed his forehead, smiled. "Breakfast, honey."

He watched her walk around the bend in the trail before he unlocked the basement door. Even this more careful search showed no signs of an intruder.

Outside, Jim began a methodical quartering of the immediate grounds. He found no trace of any struggle.

He completed a wide circle, came out again on the turn-around. A pickup truck was just stopping. He had heard no motor sound and checked that fact again.

The right-hand door of the truck popped open and Miss Wister stepped out. "Am I glad to see you!" Miss Wister said.

Jim looked past Miss Wister, saw the tall, angular woman who had got out the truck's other door and walked around.

Jim Dunn felt an uneasy stirring in the pit of his stomach. "Who are you?"

"Agnes Argyle," she said. The lips of her wide mouth thinned out into a pale line. "Heard you needed the sheriff."

"Yes."

"All right," Mrs. Argyle said. "That's me. Duly elected sheriff of this county. Had a phone report of a dead woman here." She looked quickly at Miss Wister. "Hear you found the body of Angelica Jones?"

"Not Angelica!" moaned Miss Wister.

Coed Dog Raiser Finds Neighbors Bit Difficult

CALDWELL, N. J. (AP) — Working your way through college by raising thoroughbred collies and rare Norwegian elk hounds isn't easy. Especially when your neighbors don't like dogs. But Edith Smith, 18-year-old Montclair Teachers college student is making a go of her $3,000 kennel. And so far she's been upheld by local authorities.

The blonde student, who's been raising dogs since she was 11 and lived on a farm, says "there were complaints that our kennel was dirty, complaints that we were starving our dogs, complaints that the dogs kept the neighborhood awake. Every time we disproved one complaint there would be another."

Thoughtful

Screaming brakes and a dog's whining bring immediate anxiety to a household where two young girls have just released their dog for a run before dinner.

★ ★ ★

Racing to the door anxious youngsters and parents strain to see what has happened to the family pet. Stunned by the fact that he may have been killed they peer from the porch across the lawn to the street corner where a car is stopped.

Eyes covered and expecting the worst the children see a man with arms outstretched carrying their canine friend toward the house. His apologies and thoughtfulness as he puts the little fellow down bring immediate assurance that the dog will recover.

Human kindness is something we all have.

But taking the time to practice it like Merton J. Bell hurrying home after a busy day is a lesson to all of us. Lending a hand and a few kind words often lessen the shock and give assurance that after all most human beings do have a kind heart.

$26,000,000 for Streets

The report on Pontiac street needs is a sobering document.

City Engineer Wrenn and City Planner Smith have conducted a survey. This shows that if our streets are to be adequate to handle the traffic in 1964, $26,000,000 will have to be spent on them in the next 10 years.

This, of course, raises the question of where the City would find that kind of money. As City Manager Willman has pointed out, Pontiac isn't able to devote more than $1,200,000 a year to its street program and still provide other necessary public facilities.

In other words, if our streets are to be adequate by 1964, Pontiac will have to have some outside financial aid. That aid, the City Manager points out, could come from a statewide bond issue providing money for cities and increases in gas and weight taxes.

★ ★ ★

There isn't any doubt about the need as motorists and pedestrians are well aware. City Engineer Wrenn emphasized it when he said, "we can't handle the traffic now and I don't know what we'll do five years from now unless a lot of work can somehow be financed."

★ ★ ★

This newspaper is solidly behind a program to give to cities the additional highway funds needed. We also believe our City administration is to be commended for its planning to meet future street needs.

We hope this advance planning not only will be continued but expanded, if necessary, so it will be possible to meet any additional need which might arise.

Guatemala Needs Help

Greatly increased and apparently justifiable concern is being felt in Washington over conditions in Guatemala.

Latest information is that the situation in that Central American country, recently snatched from Communist domination, grows more critical daily.

★ ★ ★

Root of the trouble, reportedly, is the fact that the $3,200,000 in U.S. aid voted by Congress has been tied up in red tape. The result is that the new anti-Communist Armas government has received only the money voted to it for our share of the Guatemala section of the inter-American highway.

★ ★ ★

Because of the unfavorable climate created by the ousted Communist regime, foreign investments in Guatemala have dried up. There is wide unemployment and much unrest. What the country needs urgently and immediately is technical aid and advice on problems of finance, education and agriculture.

One encouraging aspect of this grim situation is the news that aid soon will be on its way as a result of President Castillo Armas's recent urgent appeal.

★ ★ ★

However, this shouldn't blind anyone to the fact that there can be no economic stability for that hard pressed country without a fair settlement with the United States Fruit Company. Much of the company's valuable fruit property was confiscated by the Communists.

Guatemala needs the right kind of help now. We would be damaging our own national interests if our tardiness were to let the Communists regain a footing.

From year to year many improvements are made in automobiles, and we still hope that some day the manufacturers will learn how to make a windshield wiper that will operate when the car is climbing a steep grade.

Those working on plans for interplanetary transportation may soon make a lie out of the saying, "You'll never get out of this world alive."

"The horse will soon be extinct," says a zoologist. And it's beginning to seem that so will horse sense.

Public Water Supply Shouldn't Be Agent for Mass Medication, Says Helen Nord

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Regarding the enlightening of the public about fluoridation, these facts may be of interest. Peekskill, N. Y., just threw out fluoridation after a stormy legal battle. Greenwich, Conn., recently voted out fluoridation by a 1,000 majority. Northampton, Mass., threw out fluoridation after having used it awhile, etc.

In Worcester, Mass., city solicitor, H. J. Maleski and Commissioner Dr. Alex Whitkow have ruled "Fluoridation is illegal. The city is charged with the care, control, protection and preservation of a pure water supply."

This regulation permits the city to chlorinate in order to purify water but rules out the use of fluorides because it is a therapeutic agent or a caries prophylaxis.

Physicians prescribe medication on an individual basis for a specific need with regard to age, condition of health and individual tolerance to that specific medication. A public water supply should not be the vehicle for mass medication.

Why are visiting American experts pushing fluoridation in Germany, Chile, Canada, South Africa, New Zealand, Australia and elsewhere in the free world? The Australia P.T.A. voted solidly against the measure. Cardiff City, Norwick and Liverpool, England have rejected fluoridation.

Mass dosing debases humans to the status of the beasts of the fields. Morally it is wrong. It is unconstitutional as it violates the rights of the person. Who is "oiling the palms of whom?"

Says Mail Delivered to Wrong Street

I have read different letters in the Press about the way the mail is handled in the post office, and have been wondering if its Mr. Dean or whose fault it is the way the mail is delivered at wrong street addresses.

We have to carry mail to 192 Wilson three or four times a week or they have to bring mail to us. Why can't the carrier look at the name of the street and not just the number? I have called the post office several times, but it doesn't do any good.

We've had the same mailbox for over four years and all of a sudden it's just impossible to put the mail in it. But one day there was a Life magazine, three daily papers, a teamster's magazine all put together. Of course, the mailman couldn't put that through the mailbox so simply put it on the step.

Won't someone please do something so we can get our mail the correct way. My next complaint sure won't be made to the Pontiac Post Office.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Friendly Rivalry Basic Force in Life; Churches Should Use It When Needed

Read about the experiment which was conducted with the choir at Dr. Brooks' big church in Indianapolis. Then harness this natural desire for rivalry and get some contests going in your own church. Competition is a very wholesome church influence.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-301: Dr. A. Cleon Brooks, aged about 50, is the famous pastor of the Third Christian Church in Indianapolis.

Before my address in his great church, he and Mrs. Brooks entertained Mrs. Crane and me at a delicious luncheon in their home.

Since clergymen are usually expert applied psychologists, our conversation drifted around to methods for increasing attendance at Sunday school and church.

We discussed the value of contests and wholesome rivalry as methods for stimulating young people.

"Dr. Crane, many of the modern religious education experts frown upon contests as a method for increasing attendance," Dr. Brooks said

"But I agree with you that we should use any reasonable method to get people to church for 'nothing is more dignified than a corpse.'

"Last year we struggled with our children's choir and seemed to get nowhere.

"We tried all sorts of different methods, but they seemed fruitless. We debated whether we should even attempt to have a choir this year since so many of our children live a great distance from the church and the community children showed little interest.

"However, early in the fall our director of youth music decided to start a contest.

"She divided the small group into two sections, with a leader over each. Points were given for new members, attendance of regular members, etc.

"The attendance soon began to increase. It jumped from the previous year's average attendance of half a dozen, to our present attendance of 40.

"The choir is now bubbling with enthusiasm and interest. They work hard to appear in the church service each month. So I am for contests which will produce this desirable result.

"Indeed, the greatest contribution to this revived enthusiasm is the addition to church membership.

"We had 15 children unite with the church in the first three months and others are planning to do so. We are thrilled over these results."

What better proof can any religious educational leader wish than the actual evidence cited by Dr. Brooks.

And this experiment is not an isolated example. Whenever a church leader initiates a live-wire contest, that church begins to generate enthusiasm, which soon increases attendance.

Jesus believed in employing psychological methods to stimulate larger crowds. That's why he sent the 70 ahead of him, two by two, as press agents to publicize his speaking engagements.

For Jesus always tried to reach the maximum number of people. And that is the true ideal for all missionary activity, since religion is not supposed to be limited to a select few.

Good natured rivalry is a basic drive or motovating force in life. It generates the great crowds for football, basketball, baseball and other sports.

Why not utilize this motiviating force in the interest of larger Sunday school attendance or greater turn-out for choir practice?

Jesus indicted the man who hid his talent and refused to put it into action.

So Christ would doubtless indict anybody nowadays who refused to employ sound psychological talents which will bring out greater crowds.

(Copyright, Hopkins Syndicate Inc.)

Aunt Het

Pa is havin' a dignified spell now. That's what he calls it, anyway; but when the younguns acted that way, it was poutin'.

James Marlow Says:

How to Invest in Security Baffles U. S. Economists

WASHINGTON (AP)—Many an old man, tossed out on the street because he couldn't pay his rent, has spent the rest of his days reflecting mournfully on his folly with money in his early years.

Looking for dividends to keep him in his old age, he had invested his money long ago. Wisely, he thought. He learned too late his judgment was bad. He had put too much into one stock, not enough in another.

* * *

This country is still young, as nations go, with a lot of money. The Eisenhower administration, present custodian of it, is trying to avoid for the American future the fate which overtook the old man.

It is trying to economize to save money and at the same time invest where it thinks there will be dividends in the long run. Both the saving and the investment are a guess and a risk.

* * *

In the 1952 presidential campaign the Republicans talked of balancing the budget. They promised economy and they've practiced it in many areas. But they still haven't been able to hit a balance.

The country is 278 billion dollars in debt now, most of it money borrowed to fight World War II and communism afterwards. Balancing the budget would not wipe out the debt. It would only mean the administration had found a way to keep the debt from getting bigger.

* * *

Some presidential advisers — particularly Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Joseph M. Dodge, former budget director —are pictured as stern partisans for more economy and a balanced budget, and for this reason:

That if the United States is to retain its power in the long fight against communism it must be economically sound by living within its means and meeting its responsibilities within a balanced budget.

* * *

But there is another side to this tortured problem for the Eisenhower administration:

What does it profit to balance the budget if, in the end, the Communists win because this country, in its desire for economy, doesn't spend enough money in the right places, in the right ways, and at the right times?

* * *

This dilemma is illustrated in the decisions the administration is trying to make on military manpower and foreign aid, particularly aid for Asia.

The administration apparently doesn't think war likely, at least soon. President Eisenhower himself talks of the cold war lasting 50 years. Throughout that time the United States must be strong enough to deter aggression.

* * *

How can it be done? The government could try to maintain a huge military force, but the budget couldn't be balanced, and if no war came the money spent would be, perhaps, money wasted.

The government could economize by putting more reliance on strategic bombers which can carry atomic weapons and reducing the size of the land forces while building up the reserves in case of emergency.

That involves a risk since in an emergency this country might not be able to mobilize fast enough. It's a risk the administration seems willing to take for the sake of economy over the long pull.

* * *

In Asia the Communists have had major success. They may try further military force or internal subversion.

Meanwhile, they are using the other means at hand: propaganda, political maneuvering, infiltration, and, where they think it worthwhile, economic aid.

If the United States refuses to give economic help to Asia, that would leave the field to the Communists. The administration, again for the sake of economy, is trying to decide how little aid it can get by with successfully.

The Communists may take over Asia anyway, no matter how much help this country provides. But if this country gives too little aid, it may be just as ineffective as no aid at all.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

All their wickedness is in Gilgal: for there I hated them: for the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house, I will love them no more: all their princes are revolters.—Hosea 9:15.

* * *

Hatred itself may be a praiseworthy emotion if provoked in us by a lively love of good.—Joubert.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

Democrats are launching an indoors Christmas week with a majority on earth and good will to themselves.

Did or did not Sam Rayburn say Prexy Eisenhower didn't know his business? Even if the coat fits Sam made the pants too long.

For a guy who doesn't know his business Ike sure has a fine store.

And he's a quicker study than a panhandler on his second plate of alphabetical soup.

National Chairman Butler states nobody criticizes Ike personally. They just insinuate his political feet don't track, he gets bone bruises trying to think and he was educated on wall maps.

The Republicans respond by saying they're stacking Ike up for a second term sure as Aunt Ella had a cat.

Ike doesn't want the second term, he didn't want the first and Truman's architects made a porch-climber out of him.

Ike is a soldier, a statesman and a scholar. What do they want, card tricks too?

We feel he has gotten a rougher workout than a drummer's cuffs.

But he's met each problem face to face like a glazier puttying wrinkles in a beauty parlor.

We discount any partisan statement from either camp one hundred per cent. And you can get better odds in the cigar store around the corner. Since Jim Farley's days when Jim was throwing strikes with the crystal ball, the national chairman has been as biased as a yell from a dentist's office.

We concede Sam's claim he was misquoted. And probably chairman Butler exceeded his mis-quota too. Anyway, this is Christmas week. So let's forget politics for five minutes.

Women Who Suffer During Menopause Often Find Calcium Increase Is Helpful

I have enjoyed and benefited greatly from reading your column for many years. Swear by The Iodin Ration and calcium A and D. For years I had frozen summer and winter, also had begun to get stiff in the joints. Now at 48 I feel wonderful. While my women friends go to the doctor each week for shots for their hot flashes I have gone so far without any menopause discomfort . . . (Mrs. C. R.).

The ninnies don't give a—they don't care what medicine it is, if any, as long as it is administered by injection. That way they imagine it goes right to the seat of the trouble, instead of traversing the alimentary tract and taking the roundabout way to get there. Besides, if the stuff costs $3.75 to $7 a shot it must be pretty powerful, what?

In the pamphlet The Menopause (send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for it in writing) I say:

Relief of distressingly frequent hot flashes, from which some women suffer for years, has been obtained with remarkable celerity in many instances from improving calcium metabolism.

That means primarily including in the everyday diet several foods of high calcium content—milk, cheese, egg (yolks), peas, beans, greens, peanuts, nuts—and supplementing the diet with calcium and vitamin D.

Some readers may have noticed that I recommend calcium and D for many different complaints. That is so—but, heck, if you want to know Ca and D is really good for, slip me a clean, negotiable quarter with stamped, self-addressed envelop for Little Lesson No. 26, "The Calcium Shortage." By the time you get half way through the booklet you'll probably sit back, wipe your spectacles and murmur: "It's just as I thought—Ol' Doc is completely off his rocker."

But as a faithful follower of Hippocrates I must tell you what I believe is true even if I get committed for it. I believe Sherman was right—H. C. Sherman about the deficiency of calcium in modern refined American food. And I believe that a great many common complaints in Yankeeland are the manifestations of malnutrition from insufficient daily intake of calcium.

If you wonder why I include vitamin D with calcium, it is because sunshine vitamin D promotes assimilation and utilization, if it is not essential for assimilation and utilization of calcium and phosphorus. And I call it sunshine vitamin because you can manufacture your own by exposing your skin to direct sunshine or to diffused daylight (in the shade).

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

2 Sailors Held in Rape-Slaying

Young Bible Teacher Is Strangled to Death in Rear of Moving Car

MIDDLETOWN, R.I. (AP)—Pretty Margaret Louise Blanchette, 16-year-old Sunday school teacher, was raped and strangled in the rear seat of a moving automobile yesterday — a deed for which two sailors were held today.

Frederick B. Zimmer, 25, of Rochester, N.Y., a metalsmith 1.C., was charged with murder

Seaman Clyde D. Brunfield, 18, also of Rochester, N.Y., was charged with being accessory before the fact of murder.

* * *

State Police Capt. Andrew Casey said Zimmer admitted he struck and strangled the Portsmouth, R.I. girl "when she began to scream" during the attack.

Casey said the two sailors had volunteered to drive the girl home from a pre-Christmas dance at the enlisted men's club at the big naval base in Newport.

Zimmer and Brunfield were arrested after a chase by Middletown police, who were unaware that anything was amiss in the car.

Sgt. Francis Vierra and Patrolman Lewis Perry chased the car into Newport because the sailors failed to stop at their signal as they passed at high speed.

Swedish Captain Sinks With Ship Off Scottish Coast

TOBERMORY, Scotland (AP)—Ivan Dahn, a 57-year-old Swedish ship captain, went down with his damaged freighter yesterday after his crew of 20 took to lifeboats. The crewmen all survived without injuries.

The ship, the 1,337-ton Hispania, was en route from Liverpool to Sweden with a cargo of steel when it hit a reef half a mile off Scotland's west coast during a storm. When the freighter was backed off the reef, it took a 25-degree list to port.

The crew abandoned ship in two liveboats. They circled the ship pleading for the captain to join them, but he stuck to the bridge.

"The skipper could have come off with us, but perhaps he thought he had more time," said First Officer Walter Einersson. "A bulkhead must have broken, and the ship went down like a stone."

Veteran of Truman Unit in World War I Dies

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Charles P. Rowley, 57 who was gassed and shell-shocked in France during World War I while fighting under former President Truman his company commander died at his home here yesterday.

Rowley's family said he had not been in contact with Truman since leaving the Army and seldom spoke of his Army life. He was a private in Company D. 129th Field Artillery 35th Division then commanded by Capt. Harry S Truman.

Ford Education Fund Spends $16 Million Total

NEW YORK (AP)—The Ford Foundation's Fund for the Advancement of Education reported yesterday it had granted $16,879,535 to educational institutions and agencies between 1952 and 1954.

The fund established in 1951, was set up to alleviate the "critical shortage" of elementary and high school teachers in the United States and for the purpose of "fostering, encouraging and improving formal education."

Steelworkers' Chief Plugs Union Merger

DETROIT (AP)—CIO United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald told a district steelworkers conference yesterday that all unions can expect to gain from a CIO-AFL merger.

"Organic unity" between the unions said McDonald is "entirely possible" in 1955. He said the steelworkers have everything to gain and nothing to lose under such a merger.

McDonald speaking at a news conference declined to say whether his union will seek a guaranteed annual wage when new contracts come up for negotiation in 1956. He said his group probably will seek "some form of supplementary unemployment conpemsation."

Beaver Hat Really Lasts

JACKSONVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Edgar Spires says his black beaver hat is as good as new despite its 82 years. He has attracted considerable attention about town by wearing it.

First bought in 1872, it has been in the family for four generations.

63 Injured in Rioting Over Cyprus Question

NICOSIA, Cyprus (INS) Britsh authorities announced today that 63 persons were injured and 82 arrested in weekend riots by Greek demonstrators protesting last week's U. N. decision to delay any action on self-determination for the inhabitants of Cyprus.

Steel-helmeted police are guarding British and American buildings in Nicosia after attacks by stone-throwing mobs. Police riot squads used tear gas to break up a crowd in Metaxas square yesterday.

Sir Robert Armitage, governor of the British colony, broadcast a warning last night that all necessary measures would be taken to keep order.

Archers Also Fail in Timber Wolf Hunt

PLANO, Tex. (AP)—Well, they're after those sheep-killing wolves with bows and arrows now—and still no luck.

Timber wolves have been preying on sheep around here. A week ago yesterday 275 hunters with guns staged a mass hunt and nary a wolf.

This past weekend six members of the Dallas Field and Archers Assn. tried it. They used a "hurt rabbit" call that goes "wayeh, whayeh" to lure the prey but returned yesterday empty-handed.

More May Be Idle in '54 Despite Higher Output

WASHINGTON (AP) — Population gains and the rising output per worker may cause an increase in unemployment next year despite an expected higher production, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce reported.

Basing its figures on a survey of 13 affiliated industry associations, the Chamber said in a weekend report that production next year should run 2 to 5 per cent over that of 1954. A 5 per cent gain would set a new record, surpassing the 365 billion dollar value of all goods and services in 1953.

Brothers at Top Together

BEAVER CROSSING, Neb. (AP) —The brothers Eberspacher, Bob, 17; Wes, 15; and Richard, 13, are presidents of the senior, junior and freshman classes at Beaver Crossing High School. Bob also was president of his class when a junior and Wes president of his class when a freshman. All are sports stars, too.

Flood Prophecy Doesn't Hold Water With Chicago

CHICAGO (UP) — Dr. Charles Laughead stuck to his prediction today that a tidal wave will engulf Chicago tomorrow. But the frightful prophecy didn't seem to hold water with the city's unimpressed residents.

Laughead, interviewed at the suburban Oak Park home of Mrs. Dorothy Martin where he is a houseguest, replied, "Certainly" when asked if he still expected the tidal wave to show up Tuesday.

The 44-year-old physician, who was fired from his post at Michigan State College because of his gloomy predictions, said he was "not permited to reveal" where and how he expected to spend Tuesday.

But Chicagoans were displaying a magnificent unconcern. Incoming commuter trains were as crowded as ever.

And final-week shoppers who jammed the stores and carted home Christmas trees seemed confident of being here and being dry come Saturday.

One near north side bar even scheduled an "end of the world" party to start tonight and end when "the world ends" or when the tidal wave arrives. Spohsors were sure it would b e a marathon party.

When told the city was generally skeptical of his prediction, Laughead said, "Naturally. But they'll find out."

He said he and Mrs. Martin, who says she receives "extra-sensory" messages from creatures in outer space, had been commissioned to "alert Chicago" to the tidal wave.

The wave, Laughead said, was to serve as a "warning to people who have taken Christ out of Christmas."

When a reporter suggested that a tidal wave would leave no one to be warned, Laughead said the wave was going to be " a local thing. It will warn the rest of the country."

However, Laughead said earlier that "cataclysmic" events will accompany the wave elsewhere in the country.

He said the information on which his predictions are based comes, directly or indirectly, from "connoiters," outer space creatures with whom Mrs. Martin says she is in contact.

"Confirmation of the existence of flying saucers and creatures in outer space is constantly coming in," the doctor said. "Most people don't recognize the evidence, but they'll find out."

Mrs. Martin confirmed the existence of these "higher intelligences" in space and warned reporters, "Don't think they're not watching you right now."

Man's Real Identity Revealed at Funeral

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Charlie Summers worked for one firm 59 years but it wasn't until his funeral that fellow employes found out that name was fictitious.

Thomas J. Dempsey gave himself the name on the spur of the moment when he came here from Quincy, Ill., before the turn of the century and got a job as a porter with the Luyties Pharmacal Co. He climbed to head the firm's shipping department.

Dempsey's identity leaked out at his funeral last week. Company employes who attended the rites also met his wife, whom he hadn't mentioned.

Mrs. Dempsey said yesterday "we never cared to take the trouble to straighten things out."

British Navy Group Killed Climbing Peak

FORT WILLIAM, Scotland (UP)—Five members of a Royal Navy recreation party attempting to scale Mt. Ben Nevis fell to their deaths from an icy 900-foot precipice yesterday.

The victims included three petty officers, a midshipman and a member of the Wrens, the women's service. Other Navy climbers located the bodies but were unable to recover them from a deep, rocky gully.

Whose Best Friend?

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP) — Edgar Muemink, 43, was shot yesterday when his dog leaped into the back seat of his car, discharging a rifle that lay there. Muemink, who had been standing beside the car, was hospitalized with wounds in the right hand and hip.

Next: Try No. 3001

TOKYO (UP) — Three amateur inventors turned on the power on Japan's first jet helicopter yesterday, but the machine refused again to leave the ground. The inventors, who have made 3,000 attempts to fly the machine, say they haven't given up.

Hit-Run Accident Spoils Christmas Junket for Sailor

BOSTON (UP)—James Cahill, 24, a sailor from Winthrop, came all the way from the West Coast to spend Christmas at home for the first time in four years.

As he headed for a subway station for the last four miles to his home, he was struck by a motorist, who failed to stop after the accident.

Cahill, attached to the USS Rendova, an aircraft carrier, was taken to City Hospital with internal injuries and a fractured left leg.

Later, he was transferred to the naval hospital in Chelsea, where doctors said they didn't think he could be released to be home for Christmas.

Thrift Fails to Pay Off in Hike to Grocery Store

BALTIMORE (UP)—Charles Luckhart is a thrifty man, so he walked 16 blocks to a grocery story yesterday to get some cut-rate goods.

Walking the 16 blocks back home to save the bus fare, the 43-year-old man was set upon by three youths. He told police he was robbed of the bag of groceries and a wallet containing $40.

Christmas Week Is Time to Be Honest About Gifts

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS)—"Oh I forgot Aunt Hannah!" If that doesn't ring a bell, you're a real lucky Christmas shopper and about as unusual a phenomenon as that meteor that fell out of the sky the other day and bruised a lady's thigh.

For this is the week of "Oh, I forgot."

If its not Aunt Hannah, it's Uncle Herbie, and no matter how thorough and conscientious a listmaker you are in November, it's a sure thing you are going to find a gap here and there in December.

And when you do, that's when you gasp in dismay, that's when you feel stony-hearted, that's when you feel guilty over your own thoughtlessness at having to say "Oh, I forgot."

It's a national chorus, however, so don't feel dismayed or stony-hearted, don't feel freakish or all out of step with the crowd.

We all have at least one dear good soul in our lives that we just can't help forgetting. Or one business associate we overlook, or one distant relative who sent us something last year and who slipped right out of our minds until shopping day before Christmas.

They're the "duty" names on our lists, poor souls.

They're the duty people in our mind and hearts.

And this is the week, all right, all right, for separating the sheep from the goats, if Aunt Hannah and Uncle Herbie will pardon the expression. This is the time when the "duty" of life sifts away from the love and warmth in it, and perhaps that is a good thing to have happen at least once a year.

I don't mean that clarity need bring coolness, nor that we need wound the feelings of those we nearly forgot. Quite the opposite—for they may be the poor unfortunates that need the reassurance and lift of a small gift far more than the loved and popular folks we know.

But I do think that when we stop lumping our duty feelings with our spontaneous ones, we then achieve a new honesty and maturity that can add lots to our peace of mind.

Once you have them, you can't possibly act out the sort of scene I just witnessed in the negligee department of a big Fifth avenue store.

There was a gorgeously furred customer asking about "lounging pajamas for an older woman," and plainly vexed with the saleslgirl for showing her tapered velvet slacks.

"She's too fat for those skinny pants," the gorgeous one said impatiently. "And she's one of those cranks that won't change with the times—it's got to be just what Theda Bara wore in the silent movies."

The salesgirl brought out more stock and the customer's voice a notch about "just having to give my aunt something."

"I'll take that pair there," she finally said irritably, pointing to some of the tapered slacks. "If she brings them back to exchange them, at least the refund will make a good showing, you know what I mean?"

If the salesgirl didn't, I sure did. I moved out of earshot, but the gorgeous gift-giver didn't move out of my mind.

What else but black hate was in that description she'd given of her old aunt, pure and unadorned hate, not tapered a bit?

What kind of Christmas cheer or happiness could possibly come out of a present bought in such resentment about "having to give something?"

Darling Aunt Hannah, now, and Uncle Herbie — they're different! If I did forget for a minute, I certainly came to in plenty of time!

Mississippi to Vote on Segregation Issue

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi will vote tomorrow on a proposed constitutional amendment designed to continue public school segregation and called by opponents "the most crucial issue to confront us in this century."

It would give the Legislature standby authority to abolish public schools if necessary to continue segregation.

• • •

The amendment, authored by the Legal Educational Advisory Committee and approved by the Legislature in special session, is an attempt to bypass the U.S. Supreme Court ruling banning public school segregation.

Burglars Take $12,000

DETROIT (AP)—Thieves broke in through a side door Saturday night, pried open a safe and fled with more than $12,000 in cash, furs, jewelry and liquor from the home of Oscar Rappoport, 42, a Detroit grocery retailer. Rappoport and his family, out for the evening, discovered the theft when they returned home shortly before midnight.

Helpful Intentions Flop

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — The secretary to the business manager of Roanoke city schools addressed and stamped a large number of envelopes preparatory to inserting the necessary letters. She went on an errand and returned to find that the building custodian had mailed the empty envelopes in her absence.

Wool Processors Eye South as Ideal Spot

CLEMSON, S. C. (AP) — One factor in the shift of the cotton textile industry from New England to the south has been the lower cost of getting the raw product to the mills. An experiment here may have a similar effect on wool processing.

A shipment of 105 Australian polwarth sheep has been imported for Clemson (S.C.) college. Their new home is near a new wool processing plant at Johnsonville.

Animal husbandry experts from Clemson will set up facilities for the test flock. There are thousands of acres of similar land in the state that could be devoted to sheep raising. Clemson professors report there are fewer than 150 farms in the state with any sheep.

Giraffes have very poor vocal equipment and students believe they communicate with each other by switching their tails.

Clash With Circus Goose Results in Fractured Hip

ADA, Okla. (AP) — Bernard Baranaski, 54, is in a hospital with a fractured hip, but he hates to admit he was injured by a goose. A circus worker, he is quick to add it was a big goose—a 15-foot model.

He was driving a six hitch team of ponies pulling the Mother Goose float. He turned the team suddenly to avoid hitting a woman and the float struck a bale of hay. The goose fell on him.

Santa Claus Gets Letter From Behind Iron Curtain

SANTA CLAUS, Ind. (INS) — A child's faith in Christmas has penetrated the Iron.

One of the many letters received at the Santa Claus, Ind., post office this Christmas season is from an eighth grade pupil in Barsod Megye, Hungary.

The child's name is Hiday Yanka Hgnes, whose father is a minister.

The letter was the first received at Santa Claus from any Soviet-dominated country since 1951, although letters from many other foreign nations are received each year at this post office with the Christmas name.

Unlike many other children, the missive from behind the Iron Curtain contained no list of toys which little Yanka hopes to get, but said only:

"We hope you won't forget us."

Children in Hungary and other central European countries observe St. Nicholas Day Dec. 19 and they view the Red-clad equivalent of our Santa Claus as being a person who opens the gate for Christmas to come on Dec. 25.

While Santa Claus, St. Nicholas or Father Christmas is omnilingual, his helpers in southern Indiana are not so gifted and the letter from Hiday Yanka created a problem in translation.

An appeal to the foreign department of the American National Bank in Indianapolis produced Hungarian-born Leo Hollaner, who translated the letter, as follows:

"Dear Uncle Nicholas:

"We are thinking of you with love and kisses. We are Protestant Hungarian children anxiously awaiting St. Nicholas and Christmas.

"There are seven of us brothers and sisters and all of us are good students. Our father is a Protestant minister. I am in the eighth grade and Zsolti is in the third grade.

"Dear Uncle Nicholas, we hope you won't forget about us on Christmas.

"With sincere wishes for a Merry Christmas.

"Hiday Yanka Hgnes."

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness estimates that 100,000 American children have eye accidents every year.

Car Lock Is Frozen; but on Wrong Car

PARK RIDGE, Ill. (AP) — The car was borrowed, the night was cold and dark, and the lock was frozen. The situation had Earl Aykroid sweating.

After two hours of failure to unlock with help of passersby who used fire on the keyhole, wire through the ventilating window and a by-pass for the ignition, he saw it was the wrong car.

The borrowed car was parked one car behind and the key unlocked it and started it with hardly no effort at all.

Asks Continuing Housing Probe

But Sparkman Claims He Will Oppose Senate 'Carcass' Hunt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) proposed today a "continuing and objective study" of the operation of government housing programs but said he would oppose any probe designed to "drag out a lot of dead carcasses."

Sparkman, a senior Democrat on the Senate Banking Committee, spoke out in an interview after release of a 140-page committee report which accused the construction industry of consistently misrepresenting to Congress "the existence of wrongdoing" in the huge postwar rental housing program.

* * *

The report, issued last night, assailed "a few greedy and sometimes dishonest builders . . . and incompetent, lax and sometimes dishonest FHA officials" as responsible for what it called multi million-dollar "windfall" profits "at the expense of the American people."

The committee report summed up an eight-month probe of Federal Housing Administration programs.

Sparkman was primarily responsible for having deleted from a preliminary draft of the report an accusation that housing irregularities were the "worst scandal" in history and that "windfall" profits would total one billion dollars if all projects were examined.

Instead, it reported finding 76 million dollars of such profits in 437 of the 543 projects it investigated.

These profits resulted from FHA-insured mortgages in some cases far greater than actual construction costs.

Corral Stray Pups for Christmas Party

PINELLAS PARK, Fla. (AP) — A dog's life around here is a pup's idea of paradise—this week anyway.

Three women are out rounding up all the stray dogs in this community, collecting doog food for Christmas Week feasts and for weeks to come.

Peggy Davis, policewoman here, and Mrs. George England and Mrs Joe Borders even plan a Christmas tree for homeless pups and if they are real good, like youngsters should be at this time of the year, the dogs will be put up for adoption.

Commissioner Wants School Buses Yellow

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — School buses, says Connecticut Motor Vehicles Commissioner Charles F. Kelley, should be painted yellow and plainly identified so that they are "made to look like school buses."

"We have a conglomeration of vehicles used as school buses that often make it difficult for motorists to spot a school bus easily and drive accordingly," he says.

Steer Can Take It

WINTRY SCENES—Old Man Winter and snow transformed this country road into a Christmas card scene (top photo). The scene was photographed Sunday on Scripps road near Lake Orion. Says Dems Can Defeat Ike

YARD CLOSES—Pontiac residents who formerly carried burnable rubbish to the grounds near the sewage disposal plant will now have to take the material to the new city sanitary fill on Kennett road, near the western city limits. Sen. Sparkman Counsels Party

Cooperation Is Keystone to Ouster of President in '56, Southerner Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said today Democrats can defeat President Eisenhower in 1956 if they write a "responsible record" on domestic issues in the 84th Congress.

Sparkman, the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee, said in an interview he expects that Democratic cooperation with the President on foreign policy and national defense will largely eliminate them as campaign issues.

"We Democrats can defeat Eisenhower or any other Republican nominee by writing a responsible record on domestic problems, by showing what a Democratic Congress can do," he declared.

* * *

"When the people vote their natural instincts, the Democrats always win. The Republicans win only when they can upset this natural inclination, as they were able to do in 1952.

"Since then, the Republicans have been destroying the confidence which the people temporarily transferred to them. They have destroyed it by not being able to carry out the promises they made in the campaign, promises which they knew they couldn't carry out.

"The Republicans promised to balance the budget and to cut spending, among other things. Instead, they are spending 2½ billion more than President Truman did in his biggest year and the budget remains out of balance.

* * *

"I don't condemn the Republicans for this spending because I think it is necessary to build up our defenses and to join in mutual security aid to other free countries, but they had no business making promises they knew they couldn't keep."

Sparkman predicted a rerun of the 1952 contest which pitted Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson against Eisenhower.

Sparkman said that so far as he personally is concerned, he isn't a candidate for second place on the ticket.

U.S. Probing Soviet Espionage in Iceland

WASHINGTON (INS)—U.S. military intelligence agencies are reported investigating today accounts of apparently accurate and speedy Soviet espionage on American Armed Forces activities in Iceland.

Workmen on construction projects in Iceland are said to have told government sources that information about what is being done on the bases bounces back with amazing speed from a Soviet woman propaganda broadcaster.

Agents are also said to be looking into whether Russian gasoline, traded for Iceland fish, is being relied upon by power plants or other local utilities serving U.S. air bases on the northern island.

On the Soviet broadcasts, an informed source said a workman recounted how the Russian woman, whose program is carried in English and is apparently beamed at the workers in Iceland, once reported that a light was out at a U.S. base.

The workman, he is quoted as having reported to their amazement, found that the Russian propaganda Broadcast was correct. They speculated that the information must have been sent from a secret Communist radio station and probably was relayed to Moscow from a Soviet ship at sea.

The American workers have told also about uncanny accuracy in the propaganda broadcast about ships leaving U.S. ports for Iceland. Details are reportedly given out regarding what is in the ships' cargoes, and when the vessels will arrive.

On the reported use of Russian oil, Air Forces and Navy spokesmen said their services do not procure any oil on Iceland, so that the bases would not be dependent on Russian oil shipped to the island under a petroleum-for-fish arrangement.

The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, however, has heard testimony that while the Russian fuel is not used at actual bases, it does supply Icelandic power stations, a shut-down of which would at least inconvenience U.S. armed forces.

Samuel Nakasian of the Washington board of trade, testifying before the subcommittee, said technical experts told him that sabotage could be achieved at any time through adulteration of the oil.

He said: "I am advised by technical people that this could be done very easily, and it would be rather difficult to detect unless you established an elaborate testing mechanism."

Nakasian declared: "There is danger that in the event of a catastrophe, at a time the Soviets could pick, that oil could be doctored in such a way as to sabotage equipment and facilities."

Nakasian was certain that the oil supply could have an effect on armed force bases.

He declared: "Whether they (the armed forces) dip into any local stocks at all, I don't know. But I am sure there are many ancillary facets, such as power stations and so on, which would be served by these Soviet imports."

Despite Weather, Town Puts Bikinis Up for Vote

NANTUCKET, Mass. (AP)—Selectmen say they don't like the idea of Bikini bathing suits on Nantucket streets—in the summer.

Even as the blustery winter winds blew, the selectmen yesterday approved a proposed town by-law which says everyone over 12 must be covered "to a point midway the hip and knees" if they wander from the beaches.

Royal Family Plans Holidays in Country

LONDON (AP) — Britain's royal family will spend the Christmas holidays at Sandringham.

Queen Elizabeth II, the Duke of Edinburgh, the children, Charles and Anne, Queen Mother Elizabeth and Princess Margaret will take a train to their country home Wednesday.

The Queen will make her annual broadcast to the British Commonwealth Christmas Day from the study at Sandringham House.

Hammarskjold Admitted to Academy of Literature

STOCKHOLM (INS)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammerskjold, who has been busy with plans for his "mission to Peiping," was admitte dto the Swedish Academy of Literature today.

The unprecedented action saw him take the chair left vacant by his father, the late Hjalmar Hammarskjold, who was prime minister of Sweden from 1914 to 1917.

Social Security to Expand

(Editor's note: New social security laws go into effect Jan. 1 extending coverage to millions of Americans who previously did not come under the federal old age and survivors insurance system. The following is the first of two stories explaining some of the changes.)

WASHINGTON (UP) — The federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance System will undergo a big change Jan. 1 when some 10,000,000 additional persons start paying social security taxes.

Payment of these taxes for the first time will entitle farmers, clergymen, architects, engineers, and thousands of others gainfully employed to social security retirement benefits when they reach age 65.

Generally speaking, persons coming under the system Jan. 1 will have to continue to work and pay social security taxes for at least 18 months before becoming eligible for retirement benefits.

In addition to expanding coverage, the new social security law approved by the last congress calls for substantially higher benefit payments, for collection of more social security tax money, and for more liberal methods of computing benefit payments.

The expanded coverage under the new law means that about 58,000,000 persons out of a potential 63,200,000 are on the social security tax rolls.

The notable exceptions are physicians, lawyers, dentists, federal civil service workers, members of the armed forces, policemen and firemen.

The largest single group getting coverage under the new law consists of 3,600,000 self-employed farmers who make as much as $400 profit a year. About 3,50,000 employes of state and local governments also become eligible for coverage for the first time.

Other groups newly covered are funeral directors, many household workers and farm laborers not peviously covered, citizens employed outside the United States, federal employes not covered by other federal retirement plans, fishing industry employes, and persons who work for business firms but do their work at home, such as sewing, telephoning or addressing envelopes.

Self-employed farmers, clergymen, architects, engineers and funeral directors must pay the three per cent social security tax rate that applies to other self-employed already covered. This rate will continue until 1960 when it is scheduled to go up to 3¾ per cent.

Farm workers and others who come under the category of employe will pay a two per cent social security tax. This will be matched by a two per cent contribution from employers.

To get himself enrolled under social security, here's what a self-employed person, including a farmer, should do:

First, get a social security card from the nearest social security office.

Then, in 1956, when filling out his federal income tax return on 1955 earnings, this newly covered person should show his social security account number on his return. Benefits ultimately are figured from this social security account.

The amount to be reported corresponds to net earnings, or profit. If a farmer's total receipts are $1,800 or less, he has a choice between reporting his net earnings, or reporting half of his total receipts.

If his total receipts are more than $1,800, he must figure his actual net earnings. If these net earnings are less than $900, the farmer may report either his net earnings or $900.

A clergyman has the option of deciding whether he wants to be included under the social security system. The law gives him two years to make his decision. Once he is included, he must remain in the system.

Hired farm workers are covered by the new law if they earn as much as $100 or more cash wages in a year from a single farm operator. Heretofore they had to be paid at least $50 in a single quarter by a single employer by whom they were regularly employed.

Domestic employes will get social security credit for work done for any household employer who pays the employe $50 or more in cash wages in a calendar quarter.

A calendar quarter is a three-month period beginning Jan. 1, April 1, July 1, and Oct. 1.

Under the old law a domestic servant had to work for the same person at least 4 days during a calendar quarter to be covered.

The farm or domestic worker covered for the first time should get himself a social security card from his nearest social security office. When he goes to work for an employer, he shows his card to the employer so that the employer can copy the name and account number.

The employer will keep back two per cent of the employe's cash pay for social security. Then the employer will add the same amount as his share of the social security tax and send it to the director of internal revenue.

Woman Hospitalized in Car-Truck Crash

Mrs. Lucienne Huff, 41, of 60 Douglas St., is reported in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a possible skull fracture suffered early today in a car-truck crash at Perry and Mount Clemens streets.

She was a passenger with Eugene F. Campbell, 30, of 1042 Oxford Rd. Campbell told Pontiac Police he thought he had the green light at the intersection.

A witness and the truck driver, Ferman E. Dufort, 43, of 7049 Miles, Detroit, told police that the truck, driving north on Perry, had the green signal. Dufort and Campbell were not injured.

An African elephant grows to be as much as 11 feet tall and 8 tons in weight, or six inches taller and a ton heavier than most Indian elephants.

French Yuletide Commercialized

Once Largely Religious, Christmas Now Festive Holiday

PARIS (AP) — Christmas, which used to be largely a religious occasion in France, is turning more and more into the festive, tree-decorating and gift-exchanging holiday celebrated in the United States.

The traditional practice of leaving gifts for children on New Year's Eve has become almost as rare, at least in the cities, as the wooden shoes in which the gifts used to be placed. Christmas cards and tree ornaments, once available only in special shops patronized largely by foreigners, are now sold everywhere in Paris.

* * *

Some bewail all this as part of the "Americanization" of France. The younger set doesn't seem to mind, especially since there's a chance of collecting gifts on Christmas and New Year's too.

World War II had something to do with the change. Most means of celebrating were scarce and expensive during the German occupation, particularly the food for a good "reveillon" — the big meal that is supposed to follow Christmas midnight Mass — but trees were available. Many Frenchmen were impressed with the big ones the Germans put up in their barracks.

The French have added some gimmicks of their own. This year, there are Christmas trees made entirely of sugarcandy, edible during and after the season. There are also chocolate tree ornaments, wrapped in gaily colored paper.

* * *

Department stores put out a big spread of toys, with elaborate moving displays in their windows that jam sidewalk traffic. One even has a big sign stretched across its facade "Santa Claus official Headquarters.' Like the British, the French call Santa Claus "Father Christmas" (Pere Noel)

What Religion Means to Our Family

Jewish Faith Breeds Understanding, Respect, Affection, Says H. S. Goldberg

By LULA B. OGDEN

As today is the second day of Chanukah the Jewish feast of dedication two candles have been lighted on the Menorah in the home of the Harold S. Goldbergs at 1070 James K. Blvd.

Each day another candle will be lighted using the Shamash or servant candle. All of the candles will be lighted at the close of the eight-day festival.

"Our religion defines a basis for family relationship which breeds understanding, respect and affection" said Goldberg.

"This, we trust, reflects from the intimacy of our family group to our relations with members of the larger community of which we are a part" he said.

The spacious grounds of the Goldberg home located on Sylvan Lake affords the opportunity for garden planning and the well-planned landscaping is an evidence of this.

The lake at the door yard is always an invitation to use the rod and line, and the family also enjoys this sport.

Goldberg, who is a native of Detroit, came to Pontiac to live when he married Esther Kovinsky. He established his business here at that time.

Joel, the eldest child, is a senior at Pontiac High School and at the present time is deciding which college he will enter next fall. Rhoda is in the ninth grade at Washington Junior High School.

Goldberg, who has been president of Temple Beth Jacob for six years, was one of the persons instrumental in plans for the new temple located on Elizabeth Lake avenue.

Of course, he has been extremely busy during the construction of the edifice and with current plans for the dedication. He also has served as vice president of the board of directors.

Mrs. Goldberg was president of the Temple Sisterhood for two years and during the years has been vice president, secretary, treasurer and trustee.

Joel is vice president of Temple Beth Jacob Youth Group.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form under the name of Preparation H.® Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guarantee. ®Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

CAREER TOYS — New career toys figure prominently in Santa's collection this year as well as handicraft kits for creative play. This youngster is making his own antique locomotive (upper left). For a little girl, nothing could be more fun than a kit to make her own party hats (upper right). There's one for making miniature leather handbags and pearl jewelry, too. The boy who chases fire engines can do it with ease on his own fire-chief bicycle (lower left). For the small girl who's outgrowing her clothes quickly, there's a new doll and carriage (lower right) with an adjustable handle that's sure to see her through several seasons. The rag doll has a big-eyed plastic face.

Santa's Spotlight on Creative Toys as He Prepares for Christmas Trip

Christmas morning this year will find the spotlight thrown on toys that will more than satisfy Junior's creative play interests. Scientists-in-the-making will be thrilled to work with chemistry sets that include real uranium samples. Pint-sized admirals will have the time of their lives building miniature atomic submarines.

New career toys figure prominently in this season's new toys, too. New machinery truck-steam shovels, road scrapers and bucket loaders will inspire junior to a professional job of road-building in the back yard.

Little sister isn't neglected in the toy field at all. For her, there's a new crop of handicraft sets which provide materials for making copies of Mother's leather handbags and pearl jewelry. Finger-paint sets are fun (as well as budget aids) and even a very small girl can do an excellent job of decorating wrapping paper for special occasions.

You can abolish wall-scribbling forever with a fingerpaint set, the small fry can spend their free-lance paint - time redecorating wastebaskets and household boxes with "abstract" designs.

Creative play and a kit containing miniature cans of real soup and story-telling place mats will give youngsters a head start on good table manners and the essentials of place setting.

Toyland hasn't forgotten about the child who favors antiquarian projects, either. An early-American locomotive model kit features an assembly sheet that any six-year-old can follow with ease.

With this kit, he'll be able to make, among other models, a miniature Civil War "General" locomotive and a 48-piece Porter switch engine. The plastic parts contain numbers for quicker and easier assembly.

For family fun, games are most popular. A new board game, called "Pathfinder," is played with geometric angle tiles. Another is a quiz game called "Swayze," which is played on a 2½-foot world map with clocks indicating international time zones. Certain to encourage the whole family's knowledge of current events, this game includes a news almanac listing 500 news items.

The "can't-read-or-write" school of young tots will enjoy playing games like "Candyland," which features a large playing board decorated with a peppermint-stick forest, a gingerbread plum tree and a gumdrop mountain.

This game is designed especially for the preschool set—there's nothing to read, the players draw cards and move by matching colors to objects. Two-to-four-year-old tots who love animals will love a game called "Uncle Wiggily," concerning a rabbit who wants to be cured of rheumatism.

The object of the game is to get the rabbit safely to the doctor, overcoming obstacles on the play-board. The first one to do so wins.

Your home-grooming course for tiny ladies is aided and abetted by dolls with smart accessories and hairdos. Toyland has raised the sanitary level of stuffed animal toys, too, by presenting a new line of Teddy bears that can be tossed right into the washing machine.

Cab Brings Driver for Inebriate's Car

ALTANTA (AP)—A special safety cab plan for Atlantans who celebrate well but not wisely will go into effect Thursday and continue through the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

The plan works very simply.

If you acquire a "glow" at a party, phone for a safety cab. The cab will arrive with two drivers, one to take you home and the other to drive your car.

Sponsors are the Greater Atlanta Traffic and Safety Council and the Yellow Cab Co.

5 Patients at Home for Aged Die in Fire

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Flames raced through a home for the aged last night and burned five patients to death.

Fifteen others scampered out of the one-story frame building, with the physically able dragging the infirm with them. Two patients were taken to Charity Hospital.

Cause of the fire was not determined but Sidney Chase, the 14-year-old boy who discovered the smoke, said it started near the burning gas heaters in the patients' section. The boy is the cousin of the manager, Mrs. Charlene Chalk.

Ex-Principal Succumbs

MUSKEGON (AP) — Cornelius F. Bolt, retired principal of Muskegon Heights High School, died Saturday night of a heart attack at his Muskegon Heights home. He was 65. Bolt was principal at the school for 31 years, retiring because of illness in 1952.

1st International Press Ball to Be a Gastronomic Orgy

NEW YORK (INS)—A pox on diets. I'm tired of reading about non-hunger pills, stewed ferns and dry pumpernickel. It's a genuine pleasure to plug a gastronomic orgy that will be committed at the Waldorf-Astoria next Thursday.

The important thing about the upcoming event is that it is the First International Press Ball. Several notable charities, including the New York Journal - American Christmas Veterans Fund and the Milk Fund will be served. But, if you don't mind, let's look beyond the facade of sweet charity and the struggling industry of the sponsoring body, the Foreign Press Association.

Let's look to the food to be served, as described by a fine publicity person with the arresting name of Agnethe Tryde. M. Mme., or Mlle. Agnethe writes with disarming indifference to the waistline and the strange tongue of the Anglo-Saxons:

Gastronomic specialties are steadily flown in from south an north, east and west, to bring the ultimate in luxurian appointments, in Lucullan food. The cosmopolitan dinner is a delightful trip around the globe, and the guests will be guided from country to country in an international spirit of epicurisme.

"Monsieur Joseph Donon, the richest and most famous private chief in the world, is personally supervising the menu. As president of Les Amis D'Escoffier, and famed $25,000 a year chef for Mrs. Hamilton McKay Twombley and her daughter Mrs. Ruth Vanderbilt Twombley through thirty-eight years, Mr. Donon has donated his time to compose the fabulous menu in cooperation with Waldorf-Astoria's celebrated chef, Ernest Treyvaud.

"The two masters of culinary art have combined their efforts in a banquet flavored with delicacies, so even the great philosopher and gourmet Jean-Jacques Rousseau would have been enthused."

Well, the fancy will start off with "Gin on the Rocks," described by Agnethe as "the bravissimo from Italy.' 'But plainly this isn't enough. Immediately after this announcement there is raised a question which may have you turning and twisting at nights for weeks to come:

What is an international evening without France in the picture? When Mr. Donon chooses Les Delices de Foie Gras de Strasbourg for an entree, everybody is convinced. It will be truffed, glazed with port wine jelly and placed on toasted slices of brioche.

Some other dishes: La Tortue Verte Ancora (green an crystal clear), and Les Truites du Danemark Groenlandaise (Danish brook trout served in their own cooking liquor, with "tiny, wheeny crevettes from Greenland's ice-cold fiords") and LaGrouse' D'Ecosse au Genievre ("Five hundred grouse from the Scottish highlands will go on the wings for the last time.") The wild rice will be from India, natch.

Les Petites Pois will be "simmered with sweet butter, sliced hearts of lettuce, small white oignons, sprig of parsley ..." The Fonds d'Archauts Italienne bottoms will be stuffed with a mushroom duxelle. La Salade des Americas features "coeurs de palmiers from South America resting on crisp lettuce leaves," presumably from South Jersey. Bread for the abundance of cheeses will be Norwegian and Swedish.

Les Corbeilles de Fruits Exotique includes "richi con mandorli"—figs filled with sno-white almonds. The coffee will come in from Arabia and Guatemala" ... and shall be served with the douce bols from the Netherlands, the oldest golden cognac from France and the deep red sherry heering from Denmark."

Also Victor Borge.

One study of 1,183 polio victims showed that 1,165 of them had brown or black eyes and brown or black hair while only one had blue eyes, blond hair and fair skin and only 17 had brown eyes combined with blond hair.

57-Year-Old Vet Flier Now Studying Mines

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP)—After nearly 40 years as an airplane pilot, Bart Stevenson, 57, is enrolled as a freshman at Colorado School of Mines.

With 11,500 flying hours behind him, the father of three grown sons is carrying 21 hours a week at the engineering school.

His aviation career started during World War I when he became a navy flier. Later he demonstrated the comfort of early cabin planes by wearing a business suit, derby and spats. During World War II he was a Lockheed test pilot at Burbank, Calif.

Choruses Sing Tribute to Prince of Peace

By DONNA ANDERSON

Have you ever stopped to listen to Christmas? Listening to Christmas in Pontiac has, for many years, meant a couple hours spent with Pontiac High School's vocal department, Pontiac Women's Chorus and MacDowell Chorus at the annual Community Christmas Concert.

Sunday's concert was the same as always—as the spirit of Christmas is always the same.

Each group has added composers and their works to their repertoires but Bach and the "Christmas Oratorio" and Handle and "The Messiah" will always be there to leave a big lump in your throat.

There's something about singing together that shows the deepest tribute to the King whose birth is celebrated. Audience participation, along with music of praise from those who are trained by experts makes this concert one of the most beautiful sounds of Christmas.

You tend to forget differences of opinion, and barriers between denominations are broken down. You smile at the fellow next to you who has come to see his son who is in the glee club—and when someone invites you to stand up and sing "Joy to the World" you just feel good all over.

Pontiac Women's Chorus, under the direction of Charles Hutton, took on a special polish for its part in Sunday's program. The work of its soloists, Helen Tom, Dorothy Eastham and Elaine Keinert was very commendable.

MacDowell Chorus was its usual wonderful self—especially with its presentation of Handel's "Hallelujah, Amen" (Judas Maccabeus).

It has been said before, but it is worth repeating that Randall Thompson's "Alleluia" gets remarkable treatment by George Putnam and the A-Cappella choir and the traditional "T'was the Night Before Christmas" was just as delightful as ever.

Jeanette Weston and Eleanor Bryan must take a bow with their girls' glee clubs for the performance which included a selection from Gaul's "The Holy City." The boys' glee clubs included an excellent interpretation of "Dona Nobis Pacem" among their offerings.

The senior girls' ensemble gave us all something to think about with "One Little Candle."

Organ accompaniments for the program were provided by Oscar Schmidt, accompanist for MacDowell Chorus, and by Henry Elling. Nativity scenes and holiday decorations were made by the high school art classes of John Allshouse. Mrs. Dorothy McKibben is accompanist for Pontiac Women's Chorus. William Coffing directed audience participation.

Donald Pinkston Claims Bride in Ypsilanti Rite

Donald E. Pinskton, son of Mrs. Aneta F. Pinkston of Mohawk road, claimed Maria Nora Riesco as his bride, Saturday evening. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eulogio Riesco of Lima, Peru, S. A.

Two hundred guests were invited to the eight o'clock ceremony which was performed in Stony Creek Methodist Church of Ypsilanti by the Rev. Clive Dickens.

White poinsettias graced the altar for the candlelight ceremony and white satin bows marked the pews.

The bride was given in marriage by Robert C. Hollowell of Milan. She was gowned in a waltz length gown of satin brocade which was made by her mother in Peru.

The gown was fashioned with a mandarin collar, long pointed sleeves and buttoned back. She carried an arrangement of white carnations and chrysanthemums with white satin streamers and her earrings were family heirlooms.

Marjorie Myers of Battle Creek attended the bride as maid of honor wearing a three-quarter length gown of royal blue velvet with matching hat.

Her flowers were an arrangement of pale blue baby chrysnathemums. Joanne Young of Albion was a bridesmaid wearing a gown of orchid velvet fashioned like the maid of honor's gown. She also wore a matching hat and carried an arrangement of orchid baby chrysnathemums.

Alvin W. Pinkston served as his brother's best man, and Charles B. Pinkston, also a brother of the bridegroom, and Sanford Burr of Plymouth seated the guests.

Mrs. Robert C. Hollowell greeted the guests at a reception held in the church parlors wearing a street length blue dress with pink accessories and matching corsage.

Mrs. Pinkston wore a peacock blue crepe dress in street length with a corsage of pink and white flowers.

For a honeymoon in Michigan the new Mrs. Pinkston changed to a red knit dress and a single strand of pearls. The couple will reside in Albion where he is a junior at Albion College.

The bride is a graduate of Albion College, and has a teaching fellowship at the College where she will receive a Masters Degree in Spanish literature in June.

Homemakers Club Holds Holiday Party

Mrs. Kenneth Anderson opened her home on Wenonah drive for an annual Christmas party of the Modern Homemakers Club. Artificial flower making was taught by Mrs. H. L. Stein at the recent gathering and gifts were exchanged.

The dining table was centered with an arrangement of candles and evergreens. A pair of holiday earrings were presented to those who attended the meeting by Mrs. Harold McAllister, Mrs. Roy Kline and Mrs. James Alexander.

JOAN REYNOLDS COOPER

Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Cooper of Chippewa road announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan Reynolds (Joby), to Ian Glenn Lamont. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lamont of Nelson street. Joby attended the University of Arizona and was graduated from the University of Michigan, school of dental hygiene. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Ian is a sophomore in the school of dentistry at the University of Michigan, where he is a member of Alpha Tau Omega and Delta Sigma Delta fraternities.

GM Girls Hold Tea at Hotel Waldron

Members of the General Motors Girls Club held their annual Christmas tea at Hotel Waldon Sunday afternoon. Robert Lawson provided appropriate music at the piano and accompanied the group in the sing of Christmas carols, under the direction of Ruby Brusha.

Gifts were exchanged by those attending. Maxine Miller was chairman of the tea, assisted by several members of the club. Mrs. Harry Dernberger, president, and Mrs. Henry Recksgers presided at the tea table.

Peggy Carter Says Vows in Home Rite

Taffeta and Lace Is Worn by Bride on Saturday

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — At a wedding Saturday evening in the Lone Pine road home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Allen Carter, their daughter, Peggy, was married to John Kemper Cannon whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cannon of Suffield road, Birmingham.

The Rev. W. Glen Harris of the First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham read the service.

The bride came down the stairway on her father's arm wearing a gown of white lace and taffeta, the molded bodice was edged at the neckline with pearls and sequins and the full lace skirt fell in a sweep train.

Folds of taffeta held a sheer illusion veil and she carried white orchids.

Jerady Ann Carter was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a polonaise frock of red taffeta draped over a full white tulle skirt and carried red carnations.

The bride's small cousin Jeri Palmer was flower girl in a frock of red velveteen. She also carried red carnations. Tommy Carter, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

John Kemper Cannon was his brother's best man and the bride's brothers Robert and Richard Carter were ushers.

Mrs. Carter wore a long gown of emerald peau de soie and a corsage of cypripedium orchids. Mrs. Cannon's gown was of garnet Barathea silk and her flowers were gloriosa orchids.

For her wedding trip to Chicago the bride wore an oxford gray suit under a champagne otter coat. Her hat was winter white.

The couple will live in Ann Arbor where Mr. Cannon will resume his law studies.

PTAs Give Yule Programs

Christmas parties continue to highlight PTA meetings.

Owen School will present a program entitled, "Christmas in Many Lands" for its Wednesday meeting. the entire student body will have a part in the presentation which will feature Christmas customs, manners of dress, music and traditions of celebration. The program will be held at 1:15 in the school gymnasium.

Homeroom mothers, teacher and executive board members of the school were honored at a Christmas party recently.

Mrs. John Maxwell and Mrs. Gordon Allison were co-chairmen for the event. Mrs. Henry Sibary and Mrs. Phillip Frank assisted in distributing favors.

Mrs. Theodore Fauble and Mrs. Leah Herveat won prizes during the entertainment hour. Presiding at the tea table during the social hour were Mrs. Russell Homes and Mrs. Joseph W. Fouts.

Sunset Club Holds Christmas Dinner

A cooperative dinner was held by Sunset Club recently at Wilson School as a part of its Christmas celebration.

Songs were presented by pupils in the Wilson School kindergarten. Also providing entertainment was the Rev. C. L. Leavens of Clarkston who attended the party as a guest. Mrs. Hugh Watson was accompanist for him.

Mrs. Anna Bone and Mrs. Bertha Luke read Bible selections and Mrs. William Holthusen sang. Mrs. Pearl Kauffman was another guest of the group.

Sorority Gathers for Holiday Party

Iota Eta Chapter of Pi Omicrom Sorority held its annual Christmas dinner at Colonial Manor in Royal Oak Friday evening. A party followed the dinner at the Orchard Lake avenue home of Mrs. Gerald Kirkby.

Gifts were exchanged and the pledge service was given by Mrs. Buhl Burt, president, to Mrs. Paul Hoskins, Mrs. Dudley Moore of Auburn Heights, and Noreen Van Cleave of Birmingham. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Leon R. Skelley of Woodland avenue.

Employes Feted

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moote were hosts at a dinner at Old Mill Tavern Saturday evening in honor of employes of Fred Moote Electrical Service and their wives.

Toynbee Says History Restores Our Vision of God's Creative Activity

Invitation Can Be Answer to Problem

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I was 14 last summer when I first met Jim, and I couldn't go out on dates then, so I guess he got the impression I was a mama's girl. But I can go out on dates now, yet I can't go right up and tell him that!

Lately he hasn't been paying much attention to me (he seems to be quite a flirt), and I'm at the point where I can't sleep at night for thinking about him. Should I try to revive the romance?

No, you can't go straight up to him and tell him you're ready, willing and able to have dates with him now. But a straight line isn't always the shortest distance to a given point. There is a roundabout way of attracting his attention. And I'd give it a whirl before trying to forget him.

An invitation is the answer. The best way to break the ice and make him realize that times have changed. Surely there's some sort of party going on to which you could take him. Or you could have the party yourself and invite him along with some other friends.

In order for a girl to get a good night's sleep she sometimes has to take the bull by the horns. Making the first move in his direction might start the ball rolling in yours.

"Dear Miss Woodward: We're two 16-year-old girls who are together quite a bit. We go out twice or three times a week. It's not our boy friends but our parents who give us the trouble. They're very old-fashioned and don't seem to realize that times have changed considerably.

They seem to get the wrong ideas about everything we do. Our steadies are the most wonderful guys in the world. But how can we convince our parents of that and the fact that we're not living back in the 1920s?"

You want to convince them that you should have complete liberty to come and go as you please? Convince them that dates and fun and parties and boy friends are the most important things in life? Convince them that these two boys are utterly perfect, without fault, reliable, responsible, mature individuals? It's a large order.

Arguing won't do it—nor will one or two discussions on the subject. Being completely frank and open with them, always, will help them to understand what you want to do and why.

Being always reliable yourself will win you more and more liberty. Recognizing "first things" and putting them first will give them respect for your values and confidence in your judgment. Acting reasonably mature when you're crossed, thwarted and disappointed will make them see that you really are growing up.

Nothing is more fun to open on Christmas day than a gayly decorated metal container filled to the brim with goodies. That's just a sly way of saying that this is one of the last minute gift suggestions that anybody can take advantage of.

Halves of Almonds Top Cookies

Mrs. Cyril Pelican Makes Rich Drops for Holiday Treat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

It's not too late to make another batch of cookies. Maybe your family has already eaten all the early ones. Try this almond cookie sent in to us, by Mrs. Cyril M. Pelican Jr. of Auburn Heights.

Mrs. Pelican is a secretary-homemaker. She is active in her church, especially in the choir. An accomplished seamstress, she makes many of her own clothes—also enjoys knitting. Another favorite hobby is cooking, with baking and bread making her specialty.

ALMOND COOKIES
By Mrs. Cyril M. Pelican Jr.

½ cup shortening (part butter)
2-3 cup white sugar
2-3 cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon almond extract
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons milk
1 tablespoon vinegar
2 cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped almonds
1-3 cup almond halves

Mix first 7 ingredients together thoroughly. Blend in sifted dry ingredients and chopped almonds. Shape dough into 1-inch balls and place on ungreased baking sheet. Flatten each cookie slightly with bottom of floured glass. Brush cookies with slightly beaten egg white. Press a half almond in center of each cookie. Bake in 375-degree oven 10-12 minutes. Makes 5 dozen.

Even Today She Gets Stagefright

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

About two weeks ago, one of my favorite people, Edward R. Murrow, came to call at my house. Though the visit proper lasted less than 15 minutes—and most of that time I just sat comfortably talking to the intelligent, understanding Mr. Murrow—I couldn't have been more keyed up nor my home in more of a whirl if I'd been entertaining the Queen Mother for the weekend.

Preparations for a Murrow telecast began (as preparations undoubtedly do when royalty is expected) a month or more before the event. This is how it went. Somebody telephoned. An appointment was arranged. Four fine-looking men arrived to keep it. One carried a camera and snapped pictures of me and my apartment from all angles. Another investigated every corner of the place for electric outlets.

A third carried on a more or less searching conversation with me. A fourth (I found out he's the director, Charles Hill—the producer is John Aaron) just watched everything and brooded. I decided that this was purely a scouting expedition: I wondered nervously what they would decide when they gathered around a big table and considered the various reports.

It was about a week before I found out. Evidently I'd passed for David Moore telephoned to ask if it would be convenient for Mr. Murrow and troupe to drop in Dec. 3, also for David to come before that and interview me some more.

It was then that I began to fret about the prospective call which was to be televised from one end of the country to the other on "Person to Person." What should I say: Should I have my hair re-stlyed? What should I wear? Ought I to have the house redecorated? I started canvassing friends who had already entertained Mr. Murrow.

Fannie Hurst said I must wear my Chinese robe because "they strap you into batteries with a floating antenna in back and a microphone in front." Mary Martin volunteered that 75 men came to her house to do the show. Poppy Cannon said "Don't worry, they'll tell you what to do." I did worry though. So did Myra, who house-cleaned as though Judgment Day were in the offing.

Then they came, more even than 75 I thought wildly. (There were really about 15, including one girl, all delightful too.)

They made a control room of my bedroom, draped it with cables, switchboards, monitors. They rolled in cameras upstairs and down. They used every inch of space except one little cubbyhole which they told me I might stay in. At 6 p.m. they remembered I was there. David came to "talk through" the program. Then I "walked through" it three or four times so the cameras would know where to find me.

By that time I was wired for sound and on my own, practiced walking down stairs in an effort to be graceful with the antenna. Before I was through I broke two antennae and did something serious to a battery. Luckily they had spares.

They changed their minds several times about what I was to wear. The robe they finally picked was discovered a few minutes before air time to have two rips in it and Myra frantically sewed them up. At 10:30 EST, Mr. Murrow went to call on Bing Crosby in Hollywood. Hours passed, or so it seemed to me. I sat in a stiff-backed chair in my upstairs living room in a coma. Suddenly out of a little black box I heard Ed Murrow's voice asking me a question. I was being gestured at by people in the room and somehow I plunged into action.

Then it was over and the telephone rang and rang. Everybody, except me, ate sandwiches and said how smoothly it had gone. I was back in the coma.

Since then I've been thinking. Millions watching that telecast saw only Ed Murrow and me. But the others are all there—every week. It's interesting — television. Fun, too, to think about, afterwards.

Special Gift Table Eases Yule Clutter Confusion

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

It's a big help to set up a card table a day or two before Christmas, right in the center of the base of operations.

Just before the Big Day it can hold everything ready for the wrapping of the last gifts—even for Dad's offerings, which he never worries about until Christmas Eve. It can hold gifts that are to be given to callers, and those to be taken to the neighbors on Christmas morning.

And after all, the gifts are opened, the gift table can provide an extra place of honor for the special gifts, where they can be gloated over for days and shown to everyone before they are put away.

Make it a gay gift table, with a red or green or fuchsia or lime cheesecloth cover cut in harlequin points and trimmed with tinsel like this. Or pin ornaments on a colorful small tablecloth, or trim a white cloth with red and green ribbon.

Hanging Pockets Help in Kitchen

Add to handy helpers in the kitchen the hanging pockets that somewhat resemble a shoe-bag. Into this one accessory, hung conveniently on the wall, can go those little items you're always needing — needle and thread, pad and pencil, matches, keys, and so forth.

These hanging pockets come ready-made with matching pot-holders, all in sturdy washable cotton with gay rickrack trim.

Man Must Often Look at Limits of His Power

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

An airplane pilot flying high over a river does not see the slum and rich men's street that border its banks. His perspective erases the details, showing him only the eternally flowing river.

An historian gets something of the same perspective. The other day our century's most distinguished one said to me: "Religion holds the solution to all problems of human relationship, whether they are between parents and children or nation and nation."

He is Britain's Arnold Toynbee, the biographer of many civilizations. Like the airplane pilot, he sees, not the details that agitate us as the children of this civilization, but what has been eternal realty to the human race.

I said: "I shall report what you said. As Americans, as well as parents, it may help us to reconsider the sense of helplessness that we've accepted. We fear our parenthood because we aren't psychologists. We fear the atom bomb because there's no refuge from it. If we weary enough of helplessness, we may turn to the spiritual solution."

Dr. Toynbee smiled. "Were never allowed to evade it long," he said. "Sooner or later, man has always had to decide whether he worships his own power or the power of God. When threats force him to look at the limitations of his human power, he's often one."

"We used to trust ours," I said.

Dr. Toynbee nodded. "Yes, your original colonies had spiritual conviction. It was the momentum of this conviction that founded your United States out of what otherwise might have been just an obscure military skirmish. That's the good thing about history. It restores our vision of God's creative activity in the affairs of man."

"There are those who will say that your spiritual solution is the answer of despair," I said.

Dr. Tlynbee laughed. "So we should despair of human power," he said. "Its victories are never permanent, you see. The conquests of Buddha, for example, have outlasted those of Genghis Khan and the empire of Jesus, those of Napoleon and the Roman emperors. That is the lesson of history—anything but spiritual conquest is not worth the time of any conqueror."

He paused before he added, "What we need now is patience and awe of God's plan in human history."

Buckingham Babyhood Is Bombshell

Four Year Old Princess Has Poise

LONDON (INS)—Princess Anne, 4-year-old "blonde bombshell" of Buckingham Palace, is growing up fast.

The roar of the crowds, the imposing cavalcade of horseguards and the boom of gun salutes for her royal parents on ceremonial occasions are now taken in her stride by this poised, golden - haired youngster.

Babyhood for British royal children is brief. For the cherubic but determined "Miss-I-can-do-it" princess it seems to have been particularly so.

Already she can dress and undress herself, rides horseback exceedingly well for her age, faces the news cameras calmly and does not have to be told to wave occasionally to the crowds.

An instance of the careful training of a royal youngster was seen recently when the Queen Mother, Queen Elizabeth, departed for her American visit.

Anne was present with her parents and young brother, Prince Charles. When the crowds began to cheer farewell, Anne promptly took out her handkerchief and waved as vigorously as the rest.

The youngster carefully and deliberately folded the handkerchief again in a small bundle and tucked it carefully into her pocket.

Elizabeth's efforts to bring up her children in a natural and happy way are being aided by a tall, slim, 52-year-old Harley Street specialist, Dr. Wilfred Sheldon.

Sheldon is in charge of the children's department in two big London hospitals and is described as the "man with the magic touch." He was appointed doctor to the royal children in 1952.

His supreme advice, that training in good habits cannot start too early, is echoed by Elizabeth and Philip.

Anne does not have to be awakened in the morning and usually is washed, dressed and ready long before 8:15 breakfast. Her table manners are perfect and nurse Helen Lightbody says she is no trouble.

The breakfast is simple, cereal, egg and bacon and milky tea. Lunch is at 12:30 and consists of two courses, a light meal of fish, cutlet or chicken, with a sweet to follow. Both Anne and Charles love spinach and carrots and most green vegetables.

Tea is at 4:30 and usually includes stuffed cream buns, homemade cakes, toast and milky tea. Bath and bedtime at 6:30 is never varied.

Elizabeth has been reviving the old English family - party visiting custom to enable her children to widen their circle of friends.

Many weekends have been particularly planned with young married friends at Windsor. Several of the Queen's friends have children the right age to play with Anne and Charles.

Although "nicknames" are frowned upon in Buckingham Palace many of the household staff refer to Anne as "Quicksilver," when chasing the youngster from up trees or fences. She is unafraid of heights.

Elizabeth is already teaching her young daughter the alphabet and simple counting. This is probably the best part of the day's function for the little Princess.

Since Charles started regular lessons at Buckingham Palace Anne has been disconsolate. Young Charles had explained to her in a lordly manner "you are too young" as he marched into the palace schoolroom and left his sister outside.

Mrs. Ludmilla Trapp, 29-year old Polish refugee artist, painted Princess Anne this Summer.

All Saints Guild Holds Election

Officers for the coming year were elected by Guild Five of All Saints Episcopal Church when members gathered for an annual Christmas party and meeting at the Sylvan Shores home of Mrs. James Hampton.

Mrs. Raymond Reeves was elected president, Mrs. Layton L. LaBlair, vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Whiting, recording secretary; and Mrs. P. Grier Chambers, treasurer.

Christmas devotions were presented by Mrs. Whiting. Guests included Mrs. Robert Tricker, Mrs. Raymond Cole, Mrs. Franklin Read, Mrs. Howard Harper, Mrs. Elmer Quine, Mrs. Hollis Stephenson, Mrs. Donald Fuller and Dorothea Morrill. Mrs. Bond Beasley was welcomed as a new member. Mrs. Alfred Fitzgibbon assisted the hostess at the recent gathering.

Barbara Faulkner Is Wed to Lawrence David Peck

BIRMINGHAM — Barbara Carol Faulkner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Faulkner of Yorkshire road, was married Saturday evening in Christ Church Cranbrook to Lawrence David Peck, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Peck of Birmingham Blvd.

The bride wore a blush taffeta gown. Wide lace edged the round neckline and long sleeves, and the full skirt fell in a short train. A lace cap held a finger-tip veil of Brussels lace and she carried white roses with lilies of the valley and ivy.

Her sister Mrs. Robert E. Esch was matron of honor, and Barbara Lee Gibson was honor maid. Bridesmaids were Beverly Watkins, Connie Vandeveer and Elaine Smith.

They were gowned alike in ballerina length frocks, Mrs. Esch wearing champagne color and the others fantasy green taffeta. They all carried Talisman roses with ivy.

Both mothers wore blue with small matching hats and purse corsages of sweetheart roses.

A reception was given in the church house.

For her wedding trip the bride wore a charcoal suit with a pink hat.

The couple will live in Ann Arbor where they both attend the University of Michigan.

Delicately drawn liberty patterns chosen by Digby Morton are tailored into a lawn blouse featured in the Lady Hathaway shirt collection. In colors of blues, greens, beiges on white background, the blouse has a round collar and three-quarter length sleeves.

Santa Visits Square Dance

Bert Denham donned a Santa suit for the entertainment of Elks Sashay Quadrille Club members who held their annual Christmas dance at Elks Temple.

Those who had a hand in the holiday decorations were the Norman Underwoods, the William Moores, the Bert Denhams, the Oscar Denhams, the Marcus Scotts and the William Schmiels. Mrs. Schmiel planned the table decorations.

Mr. Schmiel was master of ceremonies for the evening and welcomed guest callers, Sam Joan and John Streit. They joined regular callers, John DePauw, William Spalding, Mr. Moore and Mr. Schmiel. Mrs. Spalding was in charge of novelties.

Lynn McCallum conducted a Christmas candlelight ceremony and the social hour was planned by the Kenneth Goffs, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Schmiel. The Bert Denhams were in charge of registration.

Guests for the Friday evening event were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brookes, the Ernest Faters, the Arthur Stewarts, the Streits, the Joans, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Schultz, Miss McCallum, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cooper and the Russell Dodds.

Mary Moore Installed by Bethel 5

Job's Daughters Bethel Five held its 40th semi-annual installation of officers Saturday evening in the presence of 125 guests.

Mary Moore was installed as honored queen for the ensuing term. Assisting her will be Elizabeth Rockefeller, senior princess; Patricia Zielke, junior princess; Marjorie Seelye, guide, and Sue Elwell, marshal.

Virginia Sheehan, chaplain; Vivian Lewis, treasurer; Linda Schellenberg, musician; Wanda Welch, librarian and Judith Smith, recorder were others.

Janet Kneal will serve as inner guard; KiKi Sekles, outer guard; Sara Stewart, senior custodian and Marjorie Moran, junior custodian.

The five messengers' positions will be filled by Karen Bowman, first messenger; Janet Wilson, second messenger; Alice Reed, third messenger; Carolyn Driscoll, fourth messenger and Barbara LeCornu, fifth messenger.

Barbara Kline was installing queen for the evening, assisted by Margaret Levely, installing guide; Nila Tompkins, installing marshal; Carol A. Sapp, installing recorder; and Mrs. Leo Morrison, installing chaplain.

Mrs. Meta McIlroy served as installing musician; Mrs. Stuart M. Allan, installing senior custodian and Mrs. Bill Wiseheart, installing junior custodian.

MARY MOORE

The invocation was given by the Rev. John W. Mulder, who also sang two solos. He was accompanied by Mrs. Mulder. Bonnie Allan read the Book of Gold and the angel was portrayed by Cheryl Ann Moore.

Honored guests for the evening were Roy Hockett, of Owosso, associate grand guardian of the state of Michigan; and Yvonne Shipman, grand bethel senior princess, from Walled Lake. Other visitors were present from the Detroit and Rochester bethels.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening with Elizabeth Rockefeller and Patricia Zielke presiding at the refreshment table.

Add Holiday Look

Add more grated lemon rind, not lemon juice, if you want a stronger flavor in your lemon pie; the juice would only make the mixture thinner.

Cobb Gives Advice on Home Care

By HUBBARD COBB

About eight months ago a friend of ours bought himself a new car and followed it up a few weeks later with a new house. He broke the car in gently according to the directions of the maker and he took it to his garage every week or so for a checkup.

If the engine or something did not sound just right, back went the car to the garage for a little more tinkering. Our friend took all this with pretty good grace because almost everyone knows that it takes a little time for a car to get broken in.

His new house, unfortunately, did not get any breaking in. This in spite of the fact that it was more complex than the car and had a good many more parts.

He and his family just moved in and started living. A few months after they had been there a crack appeared in the foundation wall, a small crack appeared in the kitchen plaster ceiling and one of the doors began to stick a little. Our friend blew his top. He said that the house was no good, that the builder was a crook and lots of other unpleasant things of this nature.

Now our friend should have realized that a new house is a lot like a new car except that it is more complicated, is made of many different materials and is a good deal bigger. A new house goes through a breaking in period just the same as a car and during these first few months many small little flaws may show up.

This doesn't mean that the house is no good or was poorly constructed. It just means that when man puts together many materials exposes them to varying temperatures and sets them on earth which may give a little here or there, something is bound to get out of order now and then.

Christmas Skimping Out as Hobbyist Makes Good

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I have a spare-time activity which I do at home," Mrs. J. J. writes, "and this year has enabled me to put aside enough money to give us the most wonderful Christmas we've ever had.

"I have plenty to buy a huge tree, all the trimmings, marvelous presents for the three children, the woodworking tools my husband has longed for, plus nice presents for all our friends.

"Always before, Christmas has meant scrimping, not having as nice presents — not as many— as we have wanted, and then afterwards the nagging debts. And to think that this has been made possible by work which has given me such pleasure!

"It began, as a matter of fact, last Christmas. Because we were pretty broke, I did all our Christmas wreaths and decorations myself. I have always been a frustrated florist, and I love arranging flowers and greens.

"Many of our friends commented on how lovely our greens were, and asked if I would do theirs the next year. Also, one woman asked me to join the Woman's Club, and do all the floral arrangements for them.

"Well, I had never thought I had time for the Woman's Club but I found that I did. And I had great fun doing the floral centerpieces for their big meetings. Then one of the members, who was having a large party for her husband's business friends, asked if I would handle the flowers for her at a fee. I did, and put the money into our 'Christmas club.'

"In the Spring, another club member asked me to decorate her house for her daughter's wedding, at a nice fee. One of the wedding guests loved my work, and asked me to do the same for her niece's wedding.

"Things just simply snowballed. You see, I am very good at simple arrangements which are not nearly as expensive as they look, and which, if I do say so myself, have great charm. So my fees are not too large, and that gives me many customers who are not rich. At home, I kept experimenting, and all summer long I worked with our own garden flowers, developing my skill.

"Now I handle weddings, parties, Easter arrangements, Christmas arrangements, and even did a charming Halloween job, where I decorated a whole hall with Japanese lanterns and bittersweet —and got paid plenty!

"Every penny went into our private 'Christmas club,' and that's how we are able, this year, to have a dream Christmas!"

Is Prestige Lowered by First Name?

Post Advises Hint That Dropped Title Belittles Position

By EMILY POST

A doctor's wife writes me: "We live in a small community. My husband is the only doctor here. When we first arrived, he, of course, was addressed as Doctor and I as Mrs. This is a very informal community where everybody calls everybody else by first name and as we became better acquainted I asked my new friends to call me by first name. However, nothing was mentioned about my husband.

But several of them have taken to calling him by first name. I do not want to appear snobbish but I think calling him by first name is lowering to his prestige. Is there any way I can get it across to them, without hurting their feelings, that I would like them to call him Doctor?"

This is a difficult question to answer and I would suggest that when speaking of him to others you always refer to him as "The Doctor" and by and by they might get the idea that that is what you would like them to call him.

Also you might explain to those of your neighbors whom you know best that it isn't because you mind their calling him by first name, but if they do it before others all of them may very well follow their example and the result would be belittling to his position.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it cheap for a girl to invite a boy into the house when he brings her home from a dance? The hour would be about one o'clock or so. Mother says it would be too late and I think it would be rude to expect the boy to start across town without letting him have a breathing spell and a snack.

Your mother is right—unless she herself is sitting up. In which case you could, of course, invite him in.

Dear Mrs. Post: My father is a judge, and I would like to know how his name should appear on my wedding invitations. Should it be Judge and Mrs. John Jones, or Mr. and Mrs. John Jones?

Judge and Mrs. John Jones is correct.

Water Spots Leave Suede

Suede that gets water-spotted won't be a problem much longer. There is a new process to be used by leather tanners which will make suede garments both water resistant and dry cleanable.

The process, which involves a substitute for the traditional lubricating agents, will anchor the microscopic fibers of leather so that they do not spread out in dry cleaning. This also means that only the surface of the garment will get wet, enabling it to dry in a few minutes.

SALLY LOU SMITH

Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Smith of East Ann Arbor avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Sally Lou, to James R. Womack. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Womack of Williams, Okla. An April wedding is planned.

Tender Scalps Won't Tolerate Stiff Brush

Women with tender scalps often find that getting in their hundred brush strokes a night is a form of torture they prefer to defer.

They try a brush with baby bristles and they can't get it through their hair enough to get the luster and circulation the daily hundred is supposed to promote. Stiff bristles leave them wishing they'd never thought of the idea.

Brushing is needed to keep the blood circulating to the scalp, but this is not interpreted to mean that the bristles should scratch the skin of the head. The gentle tugging a good brush gives the hair is enough stimulation.

Women with sensitive scalps should use care in putting the brush into the hair. Start close to the head, but not on the scalp.

A new product that may be an aid to women who postpone their brushing is a flexible hairbrush. You can start brushing a distance from the scalp and as you draw the brush through your hair, the five-part back will spread and open. This way, the hair near the head gets its brushing and the scalp escapes.

An investment more than a run-of-the-mill brush, but it should last a good long time and might be worth a lot to the gal with the fragile scalp.

Use your empty butter cartons as cookie dough molds; they're handy for the kind of dough that is to be stored in a refrigerator and chilled.

Congo Market Not for U.S. Shopper

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (INS)—The Congo housewife would look with scorn on the American supermarket—no dried caterpillars, no leopard skins and no properly-aged fish.

The native "supermarket" in Leopoldville may not be the largest in the world, but it probably is the noisiest. And if there were any way to record smells on movie film it could be the scene of a documentary picture which would drive the audience out of the theater in five minutes.

Thousands of Congalese, the general term for Congo natives, crowd every day into a muddy area on the edge of the city to buy and sell, to swap gossip and perhaps to enjoy a good rousing argument with no hard feelings on either side.

The selection is large, ranging from manufactured products from Europe and America to native foods from deep in the bush which the white visitor cannot, and would rather not, identify.

Every street is crowded with Bantu women, draped in brilliantly colored calico and carrying their purchases in baskets or big tin washbasins balanced on their heads.

On one side of the market's main gate is a huge blackboard, the Colonial Administration's equivalent of the OPA. On the board are listed most of the products commonly offered for sale and the maximum prices which may be charged.

To the right of the main gate is the dry goods section, several streets crammed with gaudy calico, bright-colored sandals and every variety of household goods. Men's trousers, jackets and hats—the Bantu men, unlike their wives, have adopted the European style of dress—tin wash basins, knives, padlocks, shiny glass jewelry, religious pictures, frying pans, wrapped cakes of factory-made soap and long bars of mottled white and green native-made soap, looking like roquefort cheese, these and a thousand other items are spread out on the ground for sale.

Nearby one can buy such beauty aids as bits of lead ore to color the eyelids blue, red and yellow clay for rouge, fish bones to use as hair curlers and lumps of sulphur to rub on the body (it discourages lice).

For that psychological boost there are several types of good luck charms, patches of leopard and snake skin and little iron rings to be worn on the wrist. And, of course, such every-day medicine cabinet necessities as dried feathers, shells and assorted roots.

Next comes the meat and fish department.

On one side is a favorite native delicacy, fish that has been smoked until it is jet black. On the other side are slabs of khaki-colored sundried fish. The natives are very fond of blackened fish, with dried caterpillars as an hors d'oeuvre.

There are hundreds of other sections in the market; the baked goods department with big tin ovens propped over open fires, the vegetable area with huge benches of leafy plants of red peppers, the grain department with mounds of grain and beans, topped by a drinking glass for measuring purposes.

Board Won't Slip

Your meat or bread board won't slide around if you put rubber tacks on the bottom of it.

A handy pin cushion at the sewing machine can be made simply by wrapping a piece of heavy flannel around the head of the machine and stitching it in place.

Wife, 3 Children Hacked to Death

Rug Merchant Booked in Ax Slaying of Family After Suicide Try

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Harold R. Oilar's wife and three children sang Christmas carols and went to bed. A few hours later, say police, Oilar killed them — with a Boy Scout hatchet.

Police and a neighbor early yesterday found the 39-year-old rug merchant unconscious from gas fumes, in an apparent suicide attempt, in a bathroom of his $25,000 home.

He was booked on suspicion of murder in the prison ward at the County General Hospital, where attendants said he is expected to survive. Detectives said that during questioning he muttered: "It can't be real. I've had a bad dream."

* * *

A neighbor's child who spent the night with the Oilars was spared. So was their cocker spaniel, found playing near the family swimming pool.

Police Lt. Wayne Bornhoft said Oilar apparently carried sleeping Bronwyn Rayburn, 7, from the room where she was staying with his daughters Janet, 10, and Martha, 7, a cripple, before he killed them.

They were found with blankets over their heads, as was the son Randolph, 12, who was killed in his own room. Oilar's wife Grace Elizabeth, 39, a Sunday school teacher at Pasadena Presbyterian Church, was found dead in the master bedroom. Police said all had apparently died without a struggle, possibly in their sleep.

Warfare Continues Off Coast of China

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Antiaircraft and artillery fire sounded again yesterday at the northern end of Chiang Kai-shek's 350-mile chain of offshore island bases, the Defense Ministry reported today.

Nationalist Chinese antiaircraft opened fire when two Chinese Red Mig15s roared over tiny Yikiangshan Island, eight miles northwest of Formosa. The Reds apparently escaped without damage.

On the ground, the Communists fired 33 artillery shells at Yikiangshan from Toumen Island, Red outpost five miles to the northwest. All the shells fell harmlessly into the sea, the ministry said.

SANTA AND THE MARS KING

By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

Chapter 15

THE KINGS OF MARS

Tom and the Mars King started down the mountain. Suddenly Tom halted.

"I hear a strange sound—like men crying!"

They looked al about but could see nothing. They continued on their way. The moaning grew louder.

"It's the mountain!" cried Tom.

The King threw himself to the ground and tried to listen. But the space helmet he wore kept him from putting his ear to the ground.

"Take it off!" urged Tom.

"I dare not. It's the first time I ever felt like a king. If I take it off I shall be weak and not able to act like a king."

Tom laid down and pressed his ear to the golden mountain. "It is true. The mountain itself is crying!"

"No, no," said Majesty. "It is the crying of kings. They are shut up in the mountain!"

* * *

They searched for an opening to the mountain. At last, on the side facing away from the palaces, they came to a pile of golden rocks. Here the moaning was loudest of all.

Tom and the King hurled away the rocks.

They uncovered a hole large enough to crawl through.

"Come out! Come out!" cried Majesty.

The moaning stopped. There was a long wait and then, one by one, the kings of Mars crawled out.

They did not look like kings—certainly not like kings of a golden planet. Majesty talked with them and told them who he was. They remembered him well. They groped their way to him and told him the sad tale of what had happened to them since he left.

They spoke in their Mars language. Tom was glad he had come to understand it almost as well as his own.

The children of Mars had grown angry, said the Kings, because the invention of the flying saucers did not bring more light to the planet. They had grown tired, too, of spinning the kings off into space as flying saucers. So the children had imprisoned them all in the mountain and there it seemed likely they would remain forever.

"And you, too!" they cried. "Ah, you should never have come back!"

"Be of good cheer," said Majesty. "I have a friend named Santa Claus. He will save us all."

Then he told of his flight to the Earth planet and his visit to Santa Land. Of the wonderful spectacles Santa had given him so that he could see as well as ever. And of the space suit he wore which made him feel strong and brave and kingly.

"Now," he finished, "all we have to do is get the flying saucers out of the sky and then Santa Claus will bring us all spectacles and space suits and we shall all be happy as kings."

* * *

The Mars kings marveled to hear this strange news. They went back in their mountain and sought for a way to recall the flying saucers.

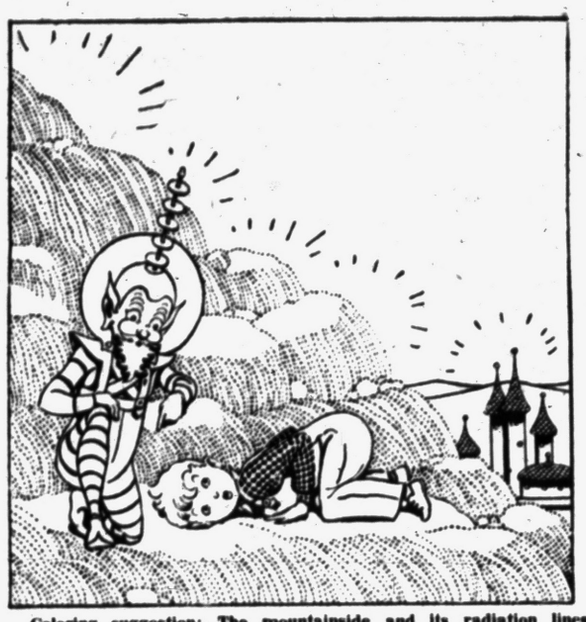

"If we invented the machine to send our kings whirling through space, surely we can invent one that will bring them home again," said Majesty.

And he was right. In a very short time the kings had planned a fabulous affair. It was a huge vacuum cleaner that could suck particles from the air—even particles as large as flying saucers and as far away as the Earth.

Tom and Majesty set about getting the materials and the kings labored to put it together. At last it was ready. But as they prepared to take it out of the mountain there was a sudden clamor from without.

"The children!" quavered the tired old kings. "The children are coming!"

(Tomorrow: The Children's Plan)

Coloring suggestion: The mountainside and its radiation lines streaked with yellow. Buildings green with red roofs. Sky blue. Mars King and boy as usual.

School Life Brimful; No Room for Reading

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Edwin E. Smith, Springfield, Mass., English teacher, told the New England Association of Teachers of English that most high school students don't read outside the classroom because:

"During November, December and January there are football games. Then the students paint scenery, play the piano, stand up on the stage and shimmy and shake and sing "Ricochet Romance"; and it's all wonderful. Then they must watch television and they tell me they have jobs in the afternoon and evenings. It's no wonder they don't read."

Fights for Life After Surgery by Pocket Knife

CHICAGO (AP)—An X-ray technician whose heartbeat was restored after emergency pocket knife surgery Friday still faced a fight for life today.

Lutheran Deaconness Hospital reported 24-year-old Stanley Wisniewski is still in critical condition. He collapsed to the X-ray darkroom floor three days ago and heart massage and other procedures kept him alive until his heart resumed normal beating 2 hours and 15 minutes later.

* * *

When Wisniewski suffered a heart attack, a hastily summoned surgeon made an incision with a pocket knife and began massaging his heart.

Other staff members and equipment were assembled; oxygen was administered; and the patient was moved to an operating room where therapy and forced breathing supplemented heart massage.

Doctors who took part asked that their names not be used.

There is a chapel high in the Bavarian Alps in which services are held each Sunday for mountain climbers and skiers.

Patient Lights Up Pipe; Bandages Catch Fire, Too

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP)—A man slipped and fell while at work, was knocked unconscious, broke his glasses, sprained his shoulder and wrist, and got a bump on his head.

He hobbled to a doctor, who wrapped him up, told him to be careful and sent him home. There, his wife saturated the bandages on his arm with alcohol in an effort to relieve the pain of the sprains.

He then sat down in an easy chair and started to smoke his pipe but when he lit the pipe he also lit his alcohol-soaked bandages.

The resulting burns required hospital treatment.

Woman Gets Action; but Wrong Patient

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — A woman, stout and easy - going, called at the city health department for information. Directed to the charity hospitalization division, she was subjected to intensive quizzing.

From there she was directed to the maternity section and more questioning. Yes, she could pay some of the expense herself.

Then to the department clinics for x-ray examinations and routine tests. Came the final stage, and she was placed on a table for pelvic examination. As a physician started probing, the woman pushed aside the white sheet and announced: "I didn't know you had to go through with all this to get your little boy's teeth fixed."

Elevator Does Excellent Job of Removing Peanut

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — An emergency dash from south Virginia via Roanoke Rapids, N. C., came to a happy ending with a rush of tears in a hospital elevator here.

C. C. Jones Jr., 3, choked on a peanut and was rushed to Roanoke Rapids. At a hospital there the peanut was spotted in the boy's lung. C. C. was sped to Richmond where there was better equipment to remove it.

As the hospital elevator moved up, the child recoiled in terror. With his fright came tears. With the crying came coughing. And with the coughing—the peanut.

Bus Driver Says Women Drivers Unpredictable

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Retiring after 47 years of bus driving William N. Wall, 68, says, "On the whole, people are very good."

* * *

Wall has a specially good word for the early morning commuter, but not for the woman automobile driver.

* * *

"I always preferred riding with people going to work to those who were shopping or going to a show," he says.

* * *

As for drivers — he considers men far superior.

"You're never sure," says Wall, "what most women will do."

His starting pay was 20 cents an hour for a nine hour day, seven days a week, but he raised a family of nine children.

Formosa Attracts 1600

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Overseas Chinese have sent 1,600 of their children to Formosa to school this year, a record number. School authorities say many still go back to the mainland because of the scarcity of schools in Asia for overseas Chinese.

Most of the students coming here said they were approached by Communist agents who offered them various inducements to go to Red China.

Show Business

Avid Fan of Eddie Cantor Told to Go to Al Jolson for Free Recordings

By EDDIE CANTOR

The word "fan" actually comes from the word "fanatic." There are baseball fans—football fans—basketball fans—but the fans I know most about are those that go for show business personalities.

This is a story of a certain "fan" who waited for Al Jolson at the Winter Garden stage door back in 1924—a sweet old lady, about 70. She held Jolson's hand and wept as she told him, "Oh, Mr. Jolson, you are my idol—I love you so much. I'm just a poor old lady, and have nothing in the world, but when I hear you sing, you bring happiness to my heart.

"I save my pennies and nickles and when I get enough to buy a balcony seat, I come here to the Winter Garden to hear you. Mr. Jolson, if I only had all of your records, I could sit at home and play them and I'd be so contented."

Jolson handed her a fifty dollar bill and said, "Why, bless your heart, you go out and buy all my records." She kissed his hand, and thanked him profusely.

That night, after my performance in Ziegfeld's "Kid Boots," I met Jolson at Reuben's famous restaurant. "Jolie," I bragged to him, "I met the hottest fan a performer can possibly have.

"After the matinee today, a little old lady, with tears in her eyes, told me she loved me so much that just hearing my voice made her happy. Why, would you believe it, Al, she saves her pennies and nickles and when she gets enough, she spends the whole business on a balcony seat just to see me. If she only had all of my records, she could sit at home, and her life would be brighter."

Jolson started to chuckle. "I suppose," Al said, "you gave her some money to buy your records."

"No," I answered, "I told her to go and see you—that your records were so much better than mine."

Edison Investigating Power Plant Blast

CHICAGO (INS)—Commonwealth Edison Co. officials today were investigating an explosion which rocked a huge electric generating plant in suburban Stickney, killing two men, injuring five, and causing damage estimated at 10 million dollars.

The tremendous explosion in a turbine electric generator six stories high occurred last night in the 100-million-dollar plant's main room, where four other generators are located.

The blast demolished one unit and damaged others to the extent that the entire plant was knocked out of commission.

However, company officials, said service was not interrupted and that the power loss in Chicago and suburbs could be made up from other plants.

New Highway Mail to Be Started Dec. 26

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Postmaster H. Wayne Parker has announced first - trip cancellation stamps will be issued Dec. 26 as highway post office service opens between Grand Rapids and Fort Wayne, Ind.

The special stamps also will be issued for service between Fort Wayne and Cincinnati, Parker said.

Parker said collectors desiring the first-trip cancellations should have their covers prepared and ready for mailing with postage prepaid at first class rate. The covers should be sent to postmasters of the three cities inaugurating the new service.

The highway post office service will replace Pennsylvania Railroad mail service, Parker said. The railroad has discontinued through train service between Grand Rapids and Cincinnati.

Santa Claus Kidnaped

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Police searched for a Santa Claus here today. George Fisher reported thieves stole a nearly life-size figure of the jolly old saint from his lawn when he wasn't looking.

Scotland Yard got its name from the building in which the London police were housed until 1890.

Geisha Girls Feeling Pinch Now in Japan

TOKYO (INS) — The world-famous Japanese "geisha" is on her way out.

The familiar, kimono-clad entertainer who became one of Japan's best - known international trademarks has tried her best to buck the surge of Western customs. But today there are definite signs that she has lost.

At present there are only 28,000 geisha in Japan, or one-sixth of the number in prewar days when they were at the height of their popularity.

The most recent blow came last week when Japan's new Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama announced an austerity program drastically cutting down New Year entertainment expenses of government officials at public restaurants—the very heart of the geisha's livelihood.

Williamsburg, Va., was a little village known as Middle Plantation when the College of William and Mary, oldest college after Harvard in the English colonies, was founded there in 1693.

Nutrition Test Backfires When Best Fed Dies

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The fifth grade at Tuckahoe school here was studying nutrition. They fed one mouse on milk and bread after naming him Frisky. The other, Peepsqueak, lived on water and bread. Soon Frisky weighed 128 grams, Peepsqueak only 82. But Frisky died.

Experts called in said Frisky died of pneumonia. The kids shifted Peepsqueak to a milk-bread died. He quickly shot up to 188 grams. So far, no pneumonia.

GROCERY STORE ARTIST—Pausing before his creation here is Louis Shovels, 16, an Avondale High School student who made this large cardboard replica of a church decorated for the yule season. It occupies a prominent place in his father's store at 16392 Squirrel Rd., Auburn Heights. Working on his project since Thanksgiving, he used straight pins, scraps of paper, cellophane, and topped it off with tissue paper for imitation stone, and soap flakes for winter snow.

Backs Demand for Milk Probe

Call for Investigation of Detroit 'Monopoly' Gets Consumer Support

DETROIT (INS) — The Greater Detroit Consumer's Council today threw its weight behind Senator-elect Patrick V. McNamara's call for a probe of the milk distributing industry.

Charles C. Lockwood, president of the council, told McNamara in a letter that an investigation is so imperative the government must step in.

The call for the probe came on the heels of charges by dairy farmers in Romeo that a milk monopoly was driving them into bankruptcy.

The senator-elect said an investigation would have as its chief goal the uncovering of any "collusion and conspiracy which damage the interests of consumers and producers."

Lockwood wrote in part:

"For years a giant distributor's combine has fastened its tentacles more and more tightly on the milk industry in Michigan.

"I believe a conspiracy exists in Michigan in the milk industry which has resulted in the systematic and shocking exploitation of both dairy farmers and milk consumers.

"If an investigation is ordered I shall ask to testify."

MR. AND MRS. W. B. CUNNINGHAM

Clarkston Girl Marries Man From Pennsylvania

CLARKSTON — Ann Barrows of Clarkston and Walter B. Cunningham III of Kittaning, Pa., spoke their nuptial vows Saturday in a double-ring ceremony at First Baptist Church, Lake Orion.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Barrows of 6100 Overlook Dr. are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Cunningham Jr. of 392 N. McKean St., Kittaning.

For the noon event the bride wore a street-length gown of antique white brocade fashioned in princess style with full skirt. Her bouquet was of orchids and white carnations.

Judy O'Dell of Clarkston was the bride's attendant, and best man was Thomas P. Cunningham, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception for 150 guests was held at Clarkston Community Center in the late afternoon.

Following a honeymoon in the Cumberland Mountains the couple will live at 424 N. Superior St., Angola.

Thieves Fail to Open Romeo School Safe

ROMEO —Thieves were unsuccessful in an attempt to open a safe in the Romeo High School Saturday night. They entered the school by prying open a window in the girls' locker room and succeeded in opening an outer door which led to a steel cabinet containing student council funds, police said.

Janitors discovered the breakin Sunday morning. Marks of tools on the cabinet indicated an attempt had been made to open its door. An envelope containing $35 of student council funds in a drawer near the locker was overlooked by thieves.

Local police and troopers from the Romeo State Police post are still investigating.

County Infirmary Patients Treated to Yule Party

Patients at the Oakland County Infirmary were treated to a Christmas party Friday night by members of five Eagle Lodges from Oakland County.

The fraternal organization had representatives present from Pontiac, Hazel Park, Royal Oak, Rochester and Huron Gardens, according to Howard Estes, infirmary manager.

Auxiliaries of the lodges served refreshments to patients, and an orchestra provided musical entertainment.

"More patients participated at the party than at any previous Christmas party," Estes said. The Eagle fraternity stages a Christmas party every year for the infirmary patients.

255-Home Project Given Initial Go-Ahead in Avon

ROCHESTER—Possibly the largest and most expensive ranch home development ever proposed for Avon Township has been submitted to the Rochester-Avon-Oakland Area Planning Commission and approved.

W. S. McAlpine of the McAlpine Engineering Co. of Birmingham has presented a preliminary plat of the project which would be known as Christian Hills.

Some 255 all-brick homes in price ranges of $17,000 to $23,000 would be placed on a 365-acre site on Adams at Crooks roads. The land recently was purchased from the Alfred G. Wilson estate and part of the acreage is known locally as the old Edward Tucker farm on Crooks road.

The project would be developed by Ranch Homes Inc. of Birmingham who also developed Charwood Hills. Plans announced call for the construction of several model homes this winter.

Company officials said that a community center was planned, utilizing some of the buildings on the site.

• • •

McAlpine stated that the development will feature large lots with widths from 175-200 feet and depths of 160-200 feet.

Percolation tests have proved very satisfactory in this area planning commission members stated.

The planning commission also recommended the project for the approval of the Avon Township Zoning Board.

'Messiah' to Be Sung at Roosevelt School

KEEGO HARBOR—Portions of "The Messiah" will be sung at the Roosevelt School Christmas program at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the school auditorium.

The combined Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs will also be heard in carols and other Christmas favorites, together with duets and solos.

The a capella choir will present yuletide songs, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Seavey, vocal director of the school's music department.

Youth Nights Get Big Attendance in Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Attendance is running high at the "Youth Nite" recreation program which got under way this month, according to Thomas Belton, Waterford Township superintendent of recreation.

The Thursday night sessions, held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. each week at the Community Activities Center on Williams Lake road, feature fun without charge for hundreds of teenagers.

Dancing, games, table tennis and shuffleboard are featured. High school talent is spotlighted in piano selections and popular band music several times monthly.

All high school students are welcome to attend this activity, Belton said.

Civil Defense Head Named in Marlette

MARLETTE—Mayor Eber Harrison has appointed Earl Long as Civil Defense Director of the area.

Long is also a lieutnenant in the Civil Air Patrol, and defense coordinator of the Thumb area CAP. He will take over the duties of Civil Defense Director at once, a post which has not been filled since last year.

The defense program in the Marlette area is co-ordinated with a hospital disaster plan set up by Oran Hudson of the Marlette Community Hospital.

Farm Bureau, Benson Clash on Plan to Drop U.S. Curbs on Diverted Acres

WASHINGTON (INS) — The question of how farmers shall use millions of acres taken out of production of cotton, wheat and other crops may come up for a thorough airing in the new Congress.

• • •

This possibility developed, at least in part, as the result of a resolution adopted by the American Farm Bureau Federation at its annual convention in New York last week.

As the largest farm organization in the U.S., the farm bureau naturally carries considerable weight with legislators who chart the path of legislation on the agricultural front.

For the most part, AFBF has been in thorough accord with the policies of the Eisenhower administration and agriculture secretary Ezra Taft Benson.

• • •

In fact, the organization is credited with a major role in the drafting of the Agricultural Act of 1954 which makes flexible price supports effective on Jan. 1.

• • •

Now, for the first time, the farm bureau and Benson appear to be in serious disagreement.

The AFBF resolution was sharply critical of Benson's announcement early last week that all federal controls over use of the so-called diverted acres will be scrapped.

What the farm bureau fears is that cotton and wheat farmers will now use the acres taken out of those crops to overplant some other crops.

AFBF contends that this would be grossly unfair to those farmers who already are in large-scale production of the substitute crops.

Benson himself has admitted that there are some risks involved in taking all controls off use of the diverted acres. But, on balance, he contends that the good results will outweigh the bad.

If Congress is brought into the act, any regulations it might lay down for controlling the use of diverted acres must be written speedily. Otherwise, a large part of the acreage involved would already be sown to crops of the farmers' own choice.

Obviously, any spadework on the necessary legislation would have to be done between now and early January when the new Democratic-controlled Congress meets for the first time.

After the formal opening, any bill or bills proposed would be subject to hearings by the agriculture committees of both Senate and House, usually a time-consuming procedure.

Moreover, the committees already have a heavy work load in prospect. One of the hottest issues—one which is likely to take precedence over all other farm matters—is what Congress should do about dairy price supports.

A large body of opinion also favors killing off flexible price support provisions for 1955. These and other battles may well shove the diverted acres issue into the background, if it ever comes up.

Waterford Students Tell of Yule Customs Abroad

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Three foreign students held the attention of the Waterford Township Child Study Group I at their Christmas meeting recently, explaining the yuletide traditions and customs in their native lands.

Barbara Hutchings, a sophomore at Waterford Township High School, is from England, coming here with her mother and sister in 1949.

She informed members that Christmas is celebrated for two days in England, the second day being "Boxing Day." This day belongs to domestic and public servants and boxes of lunches, gifts, and goodies are given them.

Another Waterford High student is Botand Diragh, a 15-year-old Hungarian youth who left his country ten years ago.

He remembers the Hungarian children being more fortunate at Christmas time than ours, because they receive gifts twice.

On Dec. 6, if polished shoes are left in the window, Santa Claus brings the children presents. Then on Dec. 24, the Baby Jesus also brings gifts.

Jurgen Moritiz, a senior at Pontiac High School and one of 300 exchange students who came to America almost a year ago, described a German yule.

The celebration there begins with the first of December, and "Christmas men" bring gifts on Dec. 6 also, if polished shoes are exhibited.

Christmas Eve is the first time the children there see the Christmas tree, and additional gifts are opened then.

Fingerprinting Unpopular

Which 'Great Deception' Would Alger Hiss Dispel?

By MARGARET LATROBE

Alger Hiss will never "confess." From his pen will come no book, no story of high treason. Should he go before further senatorial committees, neither will any unfolding of espionage on high levels be uttered there.

Such testimony would be contrary to Hiss's basic character. One little scene is the tip-off. This occurred in executive session before his first trial during questioning by the senators.

Hiss was playing to the hilt his role of the intelligent Harvard man, president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and former advisor to presidents to this nation. Not only was the interrogation a big fat bore to this "intellectual," but the politicians were making him late for an appointment.

Intolerable, really, old man! Asking if he might interrupt the session, he said, "Would it be possble for one of the members of the committee to call the Harvard Club and leave word that I won't be there for a six o'clock appointment?"

Hiss belongs to the "intelligentsia" which was so well described by Bishop Sheen as a group "educated beyond their intelligence." Hiss's contempt for such "oversimplifications" as patriotism, loyalty, moral integrity is excelled only by his haughty conviction that his "intellect" will win the final argument.

He will dispel the great deception." (Which one, Mr. Hiss?) He will resolve "the myth," send the "fantastic inventions" of witness Chambers into their proper focus. He will relieve "the harassment of himself and his family," returning one day to his former place in government.

To accomplish this, he will rely on dialicts, which as every good Harvard lad knows, is logical development of pure sweet reason. Cold, sometimes fickle, reason. Hiss has based his life on the supremacy of the "intellect" and has assumed that his was superior to most. I am convinced that he sees no treason in his actions. I am sure he considers himself justified and right in his "well reasoned" political beliefs.

There will be no humility evident in Alger Hiss. There will be no contrite—"Gentlemen, I was wrong. I'm sorry. Let me do what I can to make amends."

Don't figure on it. We'll get a four-dollar batch of vocabulary without a single error in grammar. Nary a comma out of line. Nary a line out of context. Nary a context with any semblance of honesty. Why? Because it just isn't in the man to admit error.

Poor zombi, poor Alger. What a curse to have brain without heart, to have country without love, to have sinned without confession. And worst of all—not to know it.

Ike Names Native of Flint to Head Contract Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank L. Roberts, a native of Flint, but a resident of this city for many years, was named by President Eisenhower as chairman of the Renegotiation Board, which checks defense contracts to see that the government gets a fair deal.

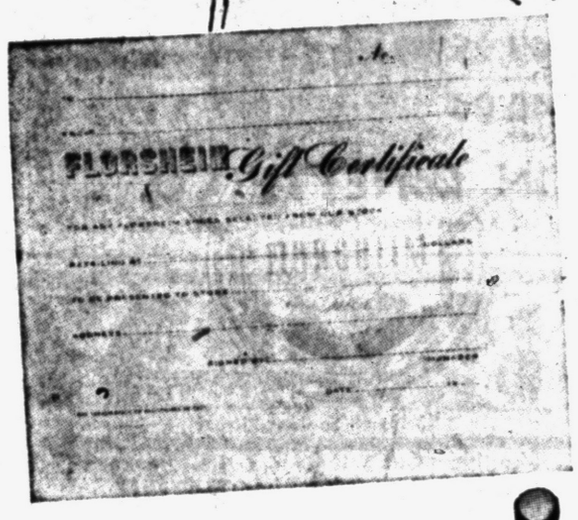

Roberts has been a member of the board since 1951. As chairman he succeeds George C. McGonnaughy, who was designated chairman of the Federal Communications Commission last September.

New Laws Needed

Michigan Will Try to Oil Election Gears Next Year

LANSING (UP) — Voters in Michigan under present state election laws could be forced to wait until two weeks after the election some year before they get a single vote return.

But an attempt is going to be made in the Legislature, which meets in January, to change that. In the process an attempt is going to be made to speed up Michigan's slow vote count.

Voters in New York, Illinois, Wisconsin and many other states knew before midnight election night who they had elected to office. They were able to turn off the lights and go to bed.

But in Michigan, the voters still weren't sure when they got up for breakfast.

It wasn't the close vote which made the difference. Other states like New York had much closer contests. Rather it was Michigan's "slow" count. At fault to a big extent are state election laws.

Actually it wasn't as bad as it could have been. Conceivably voters in the state might have to wait two weeks after election day to get the unofficial count which newspapers, radio and television stations make.

If officials wished, they could choke off every return in the state until official canvasses. The only provision for returns is that county canvasses must be completed for the state canvassing board in Lansing two weeks after the election.

The 1955 Legislature is going to be asked to write a definite procedure into state law giving "unofficial" returns a legal place in the state's election machinery.

One of the new proposals would make it mandatory for county clerks to keep their offices open election day and election night. It would require them to open the now-secret statement books as soon as they are received and start making an unofficial county tally. The tally figures would be open for use by newsmen.

Other laws also will be proposed aimed at speeding the Michigan count. One would limit the size of precincts to make for a quicker count.

Ferry Service Company May Build New Tunnel

AOMORI, Japan (AP) — Japan may build a tunnel between Honshu and Hokkaido, where a ferry capsized in a September typhoon with a loss of 1,000 lives. The National Railway Corporation, which operates a ferry service between the two big Japanese islands, has set aside funds for a thorough survey. The tunnel would be about 22 miles long.

Church Collection Stolen

DETROIT (AP) — Police said a man slipped into the rectory of St. Catherine's Catholic Church Sunday afternoon and stole $981 from the day's collection. A caretaker, Mrs. Alice Gills, 65, told police she saw a man she did not recognize as a parishioner leave the room.

General Douglas MacArthur was the youngest man ever to serve as head of the United States military academy.

Youth Admits Club Murder

19-Year-Old Confesses Slaying Arkansas Wife With Cordwood

BRINKLEY, Ark. (AP) — A 19-year-old Alabama youth who has admitted he swung the club which crushed the skull of pretty Mrs. Milton Fuller is in an undisclosed Arkansas jail today, waiting to be charged with first-degree murder.

Prosecutor J. B. Reed told newsmen yesterday he would file the information against Billy Ray Willingham here today.

* * *

The youth, who left a 16-year-old wife in Alabama, said hunger drove him into the unpretentious Fuller home, and that a weird sex urge spurred him into killing the young mother.

Mrs. Fuller was found dying early Dec. 12 in her blood-spatterd bedroom. She had been hit once with a four-foot stick of firewood. The blow crushed her skull. She died nearly five hours later at a hospital without regaining consciousness.

* * *

Prosecutor Reed told newsmen that Willingham Friday admitted striking Mrs. Fuller. However, he said, he and officers first suspected the man might be mentally unbalanced, rather than guilty. Willingham underwent a 12-hour psychiatric examination in Little Rock which convinced Reed he was sane. When the youth told officers that he took two of five biscuits from the Fuller kitchen — and a hurried check reveald only three biscuits remaining — Reed said he accepted Willingham's story as true.

Kaiser Steel Plant Closed by Dispute

FONTANA, Calif. (AP) — The big Kaiser Steel Corp. mill has been idled by a dispute over the discharge of a workman.

The company fired the man—identified only as an officer of CIO United Steelworkers Local 2869—for what was described as "failure to perform his work satisfactorily."

Members of the local struck Saturday in protest, and the plant, employing 5,000 persons, was shut down. The company termed the walkout a wildcat strike, saying the local went out without obtaining authorization from the steelworkers international.

6 Injured as Grand Piano Plunges Down Staircase

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Archie Logan got eight friends to help him carry a grand piano he had bought his family for Christmas up to his third-floor apartment.

Just below the third landing the stairs collapsed. Two men jumped clear. Logan, the other six men and the 500-pound piano plunged 40 feet. Four of the seven men were trapped under the piano. Falling masonry hit the other three. All but one were in the hospital in serious condition.

Muffs Used to Shut Out TV Sound for Reader

DES MOINES (AP) — Miss Nina Neal has a pair of felt earmuffs for use when she settles down for an evening of television.

When a program doesn't interest her, she dones the ear muffs and reads a book until something comes along that she wants to watch.

She says the ear muffs keep the television sound from distracting her from her book.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

A SANTA CLAUS STAR

Santa Claus wasn't always a legendary figure living at the North Pole. Once upon a time, many years ago, he was a very good man who lived in the hot region around the Mediterranean Sea and went around doing nice things for people. Today he is such a symbol of the spirit of giving that he fits in most any place at Christmas time. Here he fits right into a star-shaped decoration for your tree or for a light pull. Make the decoration this way:

1. Color the big drawing. Santa has pink hands and face and a jolly red nose. The top of his cap, his suit and his mittens are red too. The belt and shoes remain black. The spaces inside the dots remain white.
2. Paste the picture down on red construction paper.
3. Cut out the big figure. Be sure you do not cut off the spaces that are edged wtih dots and that project beyond the star,
4. White absorbent cotton provides the fur around the cap, the wrists and shoe tops as well as the beard. To put it on, apply library paste to one white space at a time and gently press down bits of cotton. It can be trimmed with scissors.
5. Punch a small hole at the top of the star for a loop of string with which to hang up Santa.

Friends' Speedy Work Has House Up Rapidly

ATCO, N.J. (AP) — Friends of James Gauker, 70, a broommaker, worked so fast after fire destroyed his tiny home that he had a new one before the embers were cold.

One company donated a 10 by 12 tool shed. Another hauled it to the site. Volunteer firemen, in a canvass of the town, collected heating and cooking stoves, bed, table, chairs, shades, curtains, blankets, bed linen and towels.

A volunteer work crew put on a new roof, repaired the floor, replaced broken windows and painted the place. As the grateful Gauker prepared to go to bed in his new home, firemen were still wetting down the embers of the old.

Average annual snowfall in some areas just south of Lakes Erie and Ontario is 150 inches a year.

40 Deportees Return to Communist China

HONG KONG (INS)—Forty Chinese repatriated from the United States crossed the border from Hong Kong and entered Communist China today.

The party included some deportees but most of its members were Chinese students who had completed their studies in America.

It was understood that return of the Chinese by America was not part of any pre-arranged exchange involving Americans held prisoner by the Peiping regime.

However, observers in Hong Kong regarded the action as significant in view of U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's forthcoming visit to Peiping to try to secure freedom for 11 U. S. airmen held by the Reds.

Discovers It Isn't Easy to Give Money Away

CHICAGO (INS)—A man who has been trying to give money away for seven years maintains that it isn't easy.

Leonard Anderson, 78, as head of the Unclaimed Equities Department of a Chicago insurance company, has the job of tracking down people who have money coming from the firm and don't know it.

When Anderson took over in 1947, there were 500 such persons. He has turned up all but 35. Anderson said only about 5 per cent of those who have received money through his efforts have thanked him.

Jury May Get Case of Ex-Marine Today

DETROIT (AP)—A jury today is expected to receive the trial of Denny Craddock a 29-year-old ex-Marine accused of killing his wife's lover.

Craddock is charged with murder in the fatal shooting of Ernest Trullard, 29, of Detroit last July 1.

Craddock's wife Julia, 27, has testified at the recorder's court trial that she lived with Trullard while her husband was in the service. Both are of Detroit.

Attorneys for Craddock have pleaded temporary insanity at the time of the shooting and that Trullard had reached in his pocket before the shooting for what Craddock thought was a weapon.

Highland Park Couple Held in Soldier's Death

DETROIT (AP)—Two suburban Detroiters were held by police yesterday on a fugitive warrant in connection with the death of a Detroit soldier in North Carolina.

Held were Edsel Heslip 30 and Mrs. Dorothy Long 19 both of Highland Park. Homicide detectives said Mrs. Long told them Heslip shot her husband 20-year-old PFC. Samuel S. Long on a country road near Fayetteville N. C. He was stationed at Ft. Bragg N. C.

Officers said Mrs. Long told them she and Heslip visited her husband on the post to ask Long for a divorce so she could marry Heslip.

There are only about 60 California condors left.

Sees Atomic Power Supplying Half of U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A private consultant says atomic energy will be providing 45 per cent of the nation's electric power by the year 2000.

H. Dewayne Kreager, executive officer of the Office of Defense Mobilization until mid-1953, surveyed the A-power possibilities in a study prepared for the use of investor groups. He said his information came from nonsecret government and private industry sources.

From 1975 to 2000, he forecast, 40 per cent of the new generating capacity installed will be A-powered, but that using coal and oil also will continue to grow.

Headon Crash Hurts 2 Waterford Drivers

Two motorists were injured when their autos collided head-on at U.S. 10 and Williams Lake Rd. in Waterford Township Saturday.

Treated at Pontiac General Hospital was Gilbert Knaggs, 20, of Gaylord, for forehead cuts, and Mrs. Helen Cowles, 32, of 6015 Rolton Ct., Waterford Township, for cuts and bruises.

Waterford Township Police Chief Frank Van Atta said Mrs. Cowles was attempting to turn left from U. S. 10 and apparently edged into southbound traffic and the two cars crashed together.

A few years ago, swans were highly valued for human food.

Fight Movie of Barney Ross Won't Be Sordid

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—When Edward Small puts "The Barney Ross Story" into production in January, it will be, I'm glad to say, a prize fight story with an upbeat and not a shabby yarn of ring racketeers.

Although Barney, former holder of both the light and welterweight championships, became a victim of dope soon after his discharge from the service in World War II, Clarence Greene and Russell Rouse are secripting his story as that of a hero, a man awarded the Silver Star for personally accounting for 22 of the enemy on one mission.

Ross voluntarily underwent the cure for narcotics and it is to his great credit that he has become an artist of note and recently he has been very successful as an agent. He is now acting as disc jockey contact for the teenagers' dream, Eddie Fisher.

Very quietly, Suzan Ball and Dick Long have gone to Phoenix, Ariz., where they will open their night club act at the Westward Ho.

A few months ago, Suzan and Dick arranged to open at the Chi Chi in Palm Springs, but I can tell you now that it was impossible at that time for Suzan to perfect the muscular movements necessary to their act.

Now she is so much better and has learned to manager her artificial limb so efficiently that they will go from Phoenix to the Chi Chi and eventually to the Pot of Gold in Las Vegas. They have some other entertainers with them.

A neighbor of Anna Magnani at the Beverly Hills Hotel was amazed to receive a note from Magnani's maid saying, please be careful of the plumbing. Everytime you use the bathroom in the early morning it awakens the greatest dramatic actress in the world!"

The lady to whom the note was sent happens to be one of the town's top socialites and charity workers. Another bathroom was used, and later, Magnani, herself, took up her pen and wrote a letter saying, "Dear, sweet lady, thank you for letting me sleep."

No one dared use the plumbing after Magnani's maid sounded off!

The story that Cole Porter is marrying Jean Howard Feldman has been so widely circulated that many people have taken it for the truth.

Jean was one of the late Linda Porter's best friends, and Linda left Jean some beautiful jewels. Cole has always been a good friend of both Jean and Charlie Feldman.

I suppose when Jean leaves for Europe with Howard Sturges and Cole joins them later, there will be more talk. Cole has engaged a yacht, and Jean, Sturges and some other friends will go to the Greek islands for a holiday.

Apparently Edmond Purdom isn't the only admirer in the life of Linda Christian Power. Bob Schlesinger, son of Mrs. Harrison Williams of social fame, is visiting the much publicized Mrs. Tyrone Power.

He brought with him her Christmas present, which, 'tis said, is a gorgeous diamond necklace. From someone close to the situation, I'm told he has fallen hard for Linda, which probably doesn't make Mr. Purdom too happy.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Whoops! Where was Bing Crosby, and where was Mamie Van Doren? Ray Anthony took Mona Freeman to dinner at the Luau!

The Christmas spirit, I am glad to say, has struck Art Stander, head writer of the Jimmy Durante TV show, and his wife who have reconciled.

Ricardo Montalban is recovering in St. John's Hospital from minor surgery performed immediately after his return from Rome.

Dan Dailey and Jean Coyne, here and there, finally ended up at The Band Box. This is an every night date.

Patti and Jerry Lewis walking across Hollywood Blvd. Christmas shopping and having the time of their lives. Jerry says no one knew him. That I can't believe. Well, they recognized them in the Brown Derby.

Elaine Stritch and Gig Young spend Christmas with her family in Chicago. And from there they'll go to North Carolina to visit his family.

Canada to Petition Release of Convict

WINDSOR, Ontario (UP)—Attorney Jean Reycraft was preparing to circulate petitions today in an effort to obtain 5,000 signatures asking Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan to free Bernard McCann, who has served 20 years of a life sentence for a murder he denies committing.

The petitions will ask for a pardon or a new trial for the 51-year-old McCann, who escaped to Canada last February but was captured after 17 days. After vainly fighting extradition, he was sent back to prison last Tuesday.

McCann said he was convicted on perjured testimony of a woman who identified him as the killer of a Michigan roadhouse operator. He said six years ago the woman admitted she couldn't identify anyone.

Reycraft tried to find the woman and get a record of her testimony but was unsuccessful. Michigan authoritjes told him McCann's records were destroyed in a fire at the state capitol.

M 59 Crash Hurts Farmington Couple

A Farmington couple was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for cuts and bruises which they received Saturday when their auto and another collided at M59 near Elizabeth Lake road in Waterford Township.

Richard V. Kefgen, 30, of 2234 Tuck Rd., Farmington, and his wife, Shirley, 24, were both injured when their car crashed into one driven by Lorin Snow, 40, of 8300 Pontiac Lake Rd.

Michigan State Police of the Pontiac Post said Kefgen, who was attempting to make a left turn on Elizabeth Lake road, did not see Snow's west bound car. Kefgen was issued a summons for failing to yield right-of-way, and Snow was ticketed for not having an operator's license in his possession.

Pontiac Traffic Club to Hear Customs Broker

At its annual Christmas meeting at 6:30 p.m. today in the Hotel Waldron, the Pontiac Traffic Club will hear R. B. Marr, customs broker of Detroit, speak on "Customs and Duties on Export Shipments."

Presiding at the meeting, which is expected to be attended by 75 members, will be C. E. Coonfiled, club president.

Water use in the United States is variously estimated to have increased four to six times since the turn of the century and the rate increase is increasing far faster than the population.

Cash, Cigarettes Taken in Commerce Breakin

Michigan State Police of the Pontiac Post said today that thieves broke into the Westacre Store at 7321 Commerce Rd., Commerce Township, Saturday night and took $65 in change and assorted cartons of cigarettes.

The owner, John Dillon, reported the breakin Sunday morning. He told police that thieves had forced a door open for entry.

Municipal Yule Gift

Crusader Asking for Law to Ban Michigan Nudists

FORT SMITH, Ark. (UP) — The Rev. Braxton B. Sawyer who was ejected from a Battle Creek nudist colosy last summer, announced yesterday that he will return to Michigan some time next week.

Sawyer said he would visit Michigan at the request of Peter J. Kelly of Detroit to outline plans for clothing alleged nudists in Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas an dMissouri. He claimed to have the support of legislators in the four states and said he would introduce such legislation in Michigan.

The one-man nudist chaser earlier announced he would make an air-hopping tour of the four southwestern states in January to present proof of nudist activities.

His evidence consists of magazines, photographs, tape recordings and films he said.

Sawyer was tossed out of the Battle Creek nudist colony by sun lovers who objected to his movie-making activities. He said he was invited to the conclave but was asked to follow the no-clothing rule and upon refusal was rudely ejected.

Now Minks for Dolls

DALLAS (UP) — A toy store here has for sale a plastic doll complete with silver blue mink coat, but the manager reports Christmas crowds haven't bought any yet. The doll can be had for $10.95—but if you want the mink along with it, you have to put up another $295, plus tax.

India Defending Socialist Policies

Nehru Government Airs Two Moves Designed to Upset Enterprise

By EUGENE LEVIN

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru's government today launched a defense of its economic policy—aimed at creating a Socialist state. The government sought to assure those favoring more state enterprise while quieting the fears of those seeking a greater role for private investors.

As the Lower House of Parliament started to debate economic affairs, the government took two steps likely to upset private financial groups:

* * *

1. Nehru introduced a constitutional amendment designed to facilitate the government's powers to acquire, requisition, regulate and reform private, industrial, agricultural and other holdings.

2. Finance Minister C. D. Deshmukh, opening the parliamentary debate, announced that the government plans to nationalize the Imperial Bank of India in order to create banking credit facilities in rural areas.

* * *

Deshmukh emphasized the government "stands by" its six-year-old economic policy reserving control of certain basic industries to the state. The chief objective, he declared is to create employment —"at least two million new jobs every year."

Los Angeles News Sold Out Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Approximately 450 Los Angeles newspaper workers were looking for new jobs today following suspension of publication by the Daily News, a morning paper.

Operations at the Daily News building came to a halt Saturday with the announcement by publisher Clinton D. McKinnon that the paper, undergoing financial difficulties, has sold its name, good will, circulation lists and features to the Times-Mirror Co., which publishes the morning Times and afternoon Mirror.

The suspension of the Daily News reduces the number of metropolitan papers in Los Angeles from five to four. The Daily News was the only Democratic newspaper in this field.

Norman Chandler, president of the Times-Mirror Co., said the land, equipment, building and other assets of the Daily News were not included in the sale. The sale price was not disclosed.

Waterford Gift Shop Broken Into Saturday

Thieves kicked out glass in the front door of the Fleming Gift Shop at 2536 Dixie Hwy., Waterford Township, Saturday night and took $35.90 from the cash register, according to Waterford Township Police Chief Frank J. Van Atta.

Missing, owners told police, were some bills and about 90 cents in change. The burglars left about $7 in silver in the register, Van Atta said.

Agatha Christie Has Four Plays Running at Once

LONDON (AP) — At 63, Agatha Christie is the first woman in history to have three dramas running simultaneously in London's West End. For good measure, she has one of them running in New York too.

For many years this gray-haired Englishwoman has been more or less a "queen of crime," but even for her this is a great year.

* * *

Her three stage hits are:

"Witness for the Prosecution," showing both in New York and London.

"The Mousetrap," in its 25th month here.

"Spider's Web," which opened in London last week.

* * *

In all, she has written more than 50 mysteries. Her production has slowed down a bit lately. She produces only one mystery book a year—in addition to dramas, that is.

She insists she writes exclusively for money. But she takes great pride in technique. To any reader who cries "foul" when the surprise murderer is identified at the end of her tale, Agatha Christie cites chapter and verse in the early pages.

"I just say things that can be taken two ways," she mildly protests. "I don't cheat."

100,000 Germans Will Leave Poland

BERLIN (AP)—The West German Red Cross has launched plans to move more than 100,000 Germans from Communist-ruled Poland to West Germany.

Polish sources here said yesterday the project, worked out between Warsaw and the German Red Cross, aims to reunite divided families, rid Poland of many elderly and otherwise unemployable persons and eliminate a source of unrest. It was added that the Polish government suspects the Germans also might be the nucleus of an anti - Polish, anti-Communist fifth column.

Crazy, Mixed-Up Bird Flies Into Psycho Ward

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Police captured a red-tailed falcon which had somehow flown into the psychiatry ward of the Salt Lake General Hospital. It was placed in the local zoo for safekeeping.

Yesterday, Zoo Director Robert H. Mattlin said a local newspaper story on the falcon had turned up five men who claimed to be its owners. He said he planned a "showup" today.

Hitchhiker Returns $700

DALLAS (AP)—Grady Wilson, 41, found $700 in rolled-up bills by a boulevard and brought it to police headquarters to turn it in. He flagged a ride to the station with a patrolman. Then Wilson, farm hand and laborer from Phoenix, Ariz., continued his hitchhiking to Florida.

HOLD FEMININE INTEREST — Perfume and beauty preparations, beautifully packaged, are among the gifts designed this year to capture feminine interest. For the woman who's a globe-trotter, there's a travel kit containing luxurious lather soap and a four-ounce plastic bottle of bath lotion.

The case is plastic, is a clever imitation of real lace (upper left). For a mother and small daughter, there's this lace-trimmed satin chair (upper right) holding a small bottle of perfume. Mother will enjoy the scent and her daughter will love adding the chair to her doll house furniture.

The teenager will like a pretty double-drawer package (lower left) containing cologne and bubble bath. When empty, it can be used to hold bobby pins or trinkets.

There's a gold metal perfume purse-atomizer that's leakproof, spillproof and easy to handle (lower center), and holds one-quarter ounce of perfume. Tiny fountain (lower right) has small perfume bottle for dual dainty gift.

Captures Holiday Spirit

Perfume Wafts a Glamorous Yuletide

Perhaps because it is a basic part of all feminine loveliness, perfume is the Christmas gift women cherish and appreciate most.

And during the Yuletide season, perfume is even more appealing in exquisite, delicately pretty settings and gift packages.

In addition to perfume, most cosmetic houses are offering bath accessories—salts, bath oil, after-bath lotion, in gala packages that capture the Christmas mood. These are perfect gift items for the impeccably groomed woman.

One perfume house had a mother and daughter in mind when they packaged a small perfume bottle.

They placed it on a satin, lace-trimmed miniature chair. Mother will enjoy the flowery scent of the perfume, and daughter will have the chair to add to her doll-house furniture.

The teen-ager will love a delightful double drawer package containing a bottle of cologne in one drawer and a bottle of bubble bath in the other. The box is in soft pastel shades, decorated with Christmas motifs, and after the holidays, can be used to hold bobby pins or trinkets.

If you've someone on your list who's a knickknack collector, she might enjoy receiving her bottle of perfume in a miniature fountain, complete with two snowwhite birds perched on the rim.

The woman who does a great deal of traveling probably knows from her own sad experiences the necessity of a travel kit containing bath-size soap and after-bath lotion.

Just for her, there's a new travel kit containing a four-ounce plastic refillable bottle of bath lotion and a scent-matched cake of luxurious lather soap.

The soap has its own individual, waterproof, plastic case, which is black lace-patterned on one side and clear plastic on the other. The outside case is a clever imitation of a real lace design and has a snap-button cover. And of course, being plastic, it can be washed off and kept clean easily. This glamorous case can be used as a make-up case, too, as well as being refilled with the original bath items for the next trip.

For the first time this Christmas, one firm has introduced a perfume purse-atomizer.

One-quarter ounce of perfume fills this exquisite gold metal flacon that's leakproof, spillproof, and easy to handle. This is a "natural" for the woman who wouldn't be without her favorite perfume during the day.

A legend says Martin Luther was the first to decorate a Christmas tree.

In January, 1949, a temperature of 27.9 was recorded in Los Angeles, the lowest on record up to that time.

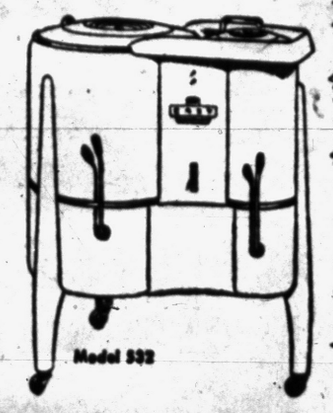

Records indicated that average temperatures in the world are about two degrees warmer than they were 100 years ago.

Last Minute Drive Gives Lions 14-10 Victory

CLEVELAND (AP) — Buddy Parker's Detroit Lions defeated the Cleveland Browns for the seventh time in eight tries Sunday, and after the blizzard-bowl game the rival coaches said:

* * *

Paul E. Brown — "We'd have liked a victory in that one, but we didn't get it."

* * *

Parker—"I wish that were the score of next Sunday's game."

The score was 14-10, and the Lions hit the airways for the come-from-behind touchdown in the last 50 seconds after it appeared the Browns had it wrapped up.

The game, except for the prestige involved, meant nothing, since each team had already clinched its division championship. It was a make-up tilt, postponed from Oct. 3, and served as a practice swing for next Sunday's clash between the same clubs for the world championship.

This marks the third straight year the Lions and Browns have tangled for the big prize, Detroit winning 17-7 in 1952 and 17-16 a year ago.

* * *

The outcome of Sunday's game gave the National League scoring title to the Lions by a single point, 337 to 336 for the Browns, but the Clevelanders clung to the best defensive mark with 162 points allowed against 180 for Detroit.

Most astounding thing about the game, played in deep snow which fell for hours before and during the game, was that Cleveland's vaunted passing attack, its most dangerous weapon, gained only four yards. Otto Graham completed only one of six tries.

* * *

But Detroit's Bobby Layne connected on 18 of 37 and 183 yards and both touchdowns. The first came on a 26-yarder to end Dorne Dibble to deadlock the game at 7-7 in the third quarter. Then Layne completed six of seven tries—four to Jug Girard for 56 yards — in the eight-play 74-yard drive which won in the final minute. The payoff was an 11-yarder to Girard.

* * *

Early in the fourth session Doak Walker, who had successfully booted 11 of 16 tries this season, missed a field goal from the 16 and things looked up for the Browns who l[illegible]7. But they had to kick [illegible] ree minutes to go, and Detroit used two minutes and 10 seconds to get into the end zone for the winning counter.

* * *

Snow covered the yardlines, and the temperature was in the low 20's, but 34,168 fans stayed to the finish. The Browns made only 6 first downs and 109 yards on the ground—while the Lions piled up 15 first downs and added 90 rushing yards to their 183 through the air.

* * *

The Browns, who lost two of their first three and then ran up eight straight victories, wound up the regular season with a 9-3 record and their fifth straight Eastern Division title — a league re[illegible] The Lions finished with a [illegible] record.

HERE COME 6 POINTS — End Dorne Dibble of the Detroit Lions is shown here just about to grab a touchdown pass yesterday from Bobby Layne on the Cleveland Browns' goal line. The 26-yard pass early in the 3rd quarter tied the score at 7-7 when Doak Walker added the conversion boot. Lions won the game, 14-10.

North Coach Promises South 'Good Game'

Ivy Williamson Singles Out UCLA Ends for Praise

MIAMA, Fla. (AP) — Wisconsin's Ivy Williamson, head coach of the North squad in the Christmas night North-South Shrine All-Star Football Game, today promised the "Rebels a good game."

He was all smiles as he watched his 25-man squad go through another lengthy workout.

"All the players have a lot of hustle and seem anxious to play football," he said. He singled out UCLA ends Bob Long and Bob Heydenfeldt for praise on their receiving.

"They can certainly catch that football. All our quarterbacks have to do is just get in somewhere near them," he said.

Meanwhile, the Southern team buckled down to practice with demonstrations of great speed.

The South team went through a 90-minute workout on offensive formations Sunday and scheduled two workouts Monday.

Missouri Valley 5s Feared in All-College Test

Wichita, Aggies, Tulsa, Entered in Tourney at Oklahoma City

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It's the Missouri Valley against the field tonight at Oklahoma City as the All-College tournamest unfolds and a tall, towering field it is, with three once-beaten powers.

Wichita's dead-eye shooters, the pick of the valley, run into San Francisco (4-1) Powered by 6-foot-9 Bill Russell, the Dons clipped UCLA 56-44 Saturday to avenge their only defeat.

Oklahoma A & M will have a problem with George Washington (3-1) Steel Bowl winners over Duquesne. The Colonials return with 6-6 Joe Holup and 6-5 Walt (Corky) Devlin, who led them to the Southern Conference championship last year.

Wyoming (5-1) victimized Oklahoma A & M 50-43 and St. Louis 74-68 last week on its home court and holds a height edge on Tulsa.

But the Hurricane deserves a toss-up rating—Wyoming wasn't fearsome away from its home court, losing to Kansas State by 20 points and nosing weak Creighton.

Seven-foot Don Boldebuck, Houston's proudest possession, gives the Cougars the backboard advantage over Oklahoma City (1-3), which will be playing on its home boards.

Houston will make it six games in seven days Thursday, meeting powerful Missouri at Houston. Detroit is host to Oregon Wednesday.

St. Louis looks for at least a split against Washington Tuesday and Wednesday at Seattle.

Detroit managed a split 69 - 77 and 83-80, against Houston in the first two games of the valley race at Detroit. Boldebuck outscored Guy Sparrow, Titan hotshot, 32-28 and 26-18 in the two games but Sparrow had a lot of help the second time, with little Ralph Goldstein scoring 20.

Cards' Moon Given Rookie Honors in NL

Young Outfielder Hit .304 After Replacing Veteran Slaughter

NEW YORK (AP) — Wally Moon, the kid who filled a man's job for the St. Louis Cardinals, is the National League "Rookie of the Year."

* * *

The 24-year-old outfielder was put on the spot from the start by the Cards, who, two days before the season opened, decided the time had come to replace their long-time right fielder, Enos Slaughter. Moon was the lad they picked to take over.

* * *

He rose to the occasion from the start, slamming a home run as leadoff man in the opening game. He kept up that kind of performance all season, finishing with 293 hits, scoring 106 runs and batting at a respectable .304 clip.

Moon collected 17 of 24 first-place votes in the balloting by the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America. The other seven votes were distributed among three other yearlings with Ernie Banks Chicago Cubs' shortstop the runner-up with four of them.

* * *

Two Milwaukee first-year men, pitcher Gene Conley and outfielder Hank Aaron, finishing three, four.

Benefit to Aid Pro After Loss in Fire

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — They're going to have a benefit golf tourney here for a pro who lost $4,500 worth of golf equipment when his shop burned.

The West Texas Pro-Amateur Golf Assn. will hold the one-day tournament Wednesday to help Harold Smith, pro at Lamesa, Tex., whose loss in the fire last week was not insured.

Pros will not be charged an entry fee but, instead, will contribute golf merchandise to replenish Smith's shop. Amateurs will pay an entry fee, net proceeds of which will go to Smith.

California Replaces NY as Racing's 'Big Apple'

NEW YORK (INS) — The New York State Harness Racing commission noted today that California has surpassed New York as the "big apple" of thoroughbred racing.

In its annual report the commission said that New York lost the lead "due to the inability of its licensed associations to meet increasing purse distributions which racing associations in other states can afford by virtue of their greater share of the 'take.'"

Vessels Leads Army to Victory Over AF

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Army's Ft. Sill, Okla., football team was led to a 27-6 Poinsettia Bowl victory over Bolling Air Force Base, Washington, D. C., here Sunday by Billy Vessels, who evened an old score with Tommy O'Connell.

Vessels, former University of Oklahoma player, was the offensive star for Fort Sill and also contributed to breaking up of O'Connell's pass threat with four interceptions, two in the end zone. O'Connell is a former University of Illinois passing ace.

Utah Team Bumps Into Kentucky After Knocking LaSalle From Unbeaten Ranks

The Associated Press

If there are any better outfits than Utah in the college basketball ranks at present, they better stand up and be counted.

The Utes brought a 6-0 mark into Madison Square Garden Saturday night and to everyone's surprise proceeded to score a 79-69 victory over LaSalle, erstwhile NCAA champion and the nation's No. 1 team in last week's Associated Press poll.

Utah showed a relaxed, confident team, well coached and unawed by the Explorers. They were in command for the greater share of the final half after trailing 41-38 at the intermission.

The Utes, though expertly coached by Jack Gardner, the former Kansas State mentor, were by no means a great team against LaSalle. But they'll do until a better one comes along.

* * *

Whether Utah is actually as good as it looked should show up tomorrow night at Lexington, Ky., when Utah runs up against Kentucky, No. 2 in the nation, in the first round of the Kentucky Invitational Tournament.

By coincidence, LaSalle is in the same get-together, opposing Southern California in the first round.

Kentucky stayed among the unbeaten last week with a 79-61 lacing of Temple, the club that upended St. John's of Brooklyn last week. It was the Wildcats' 28th consecutive victory.

Southern Cal won its fifth decision is six over the weekend, mauling New Mexico 103-39.

* * *

One other top-ranked team followed the pattern of LaSalle and UCLA over the weekend as Indiana (No. 7) looked anything but a repeater in the Big Ten in a 97-65 loss to Cincinnati. It was the Hoosiers' third setback.

With only sixth-ranked Missouri idle, the rest of the top 10 survived the weekend. Illinois (No. 3) added further proof that this isn't Notre Dame's year with its fourth straight victory, 66-57; North Carolina State (No. 4) made it 8-0 with an 85-74 whipping of Texas Tech; Dayton (No. 5) handed College of Pacific its third defeat on an Eastern tour, 73-66; and Niagara (No. 10) bopped Toledo 80-61.

Duquesne, rated No. 9, smothered the Peoria Cats, NAAU champs and world amateur titlists, 82-63 in an exhibition.

MSC's Loss Mars State Teams' Record Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While the University of Michigan and several of the state's smaller colleges rolled merrily along the basketball victory road Saturday night, Michigan State stubbed its toe to mar an otherwise perfect state night.

The Wolverines, playing Washington University at St. Louis, were held to 25 points in the 1st half, and were one point behind midway, but bounced back to smother Washington, 73-58.

The victory maintained a Big Ten jinx over the Bears, who haven't beaten a Big Ten school in 22 games. Michigan's football flash, Ron Kramer, found his basketball form in the game, dropping in 21 points. Junior Tom Jorgenson was high scorer for Wolverines with 23.

Michigan State, playing Penn in a Big Ten-Ivy League doubleheader at Philadelphia's Palestra, was whipped, 73-67.

University of Detroit, playing Houston at home, snapped the Texans' 5-game winning streak, 83-80, in a Missouri Valley Conference victory. The triumph evened up Detroit's 77-69 defeat by Houston Friday night and gave both teams a 1-1 conference record.

The score was tied six times in the nip-and-tuck game. Houston's 7-foot center, Don Boldebuck, led the scoring with 26 points while guard Ralph Goldstein led Detroit's attack with 20.

Wayne University, playing in Detroit, won its 1st home game of the season by beating Western Ontario, 68-61.

Western Michigan, working hard in a tight one at Kalamazoo, broke ahead in the 2nd half to beat Miami University of Ohio, 77-68.

Lawrence Tech of Detroit reached the .500 mark in its season by beating Colorado State College, 72-58, at home.

Zarza First All-Star

Lou Zarza, Wayne head football coach, was the first Michigan State football player to play in the College All-Star game in Chicago. Zarza played in 1936 in the fall classic.

Ed Furgol Edges Burkemo in Havana Invitation Test

HAVANA (AP) — Ed Furgol was off for a Florida rest cure for his ailing right arm today, packing along a $2,000 first prize check from the Havana Invitation Golf Tournament and his first victory since he won the National Open last June.

* * *

The Clayton, Mo., splinter, who has carried a withered left arm since a childhood accident, didn't seem to notice the injured right arm in the tourney windup yesterday. He shot a 67 over the par-72 Havana Country Club course, a 6,377-yard layout, for a 72-hole total of 273—15 strokes under par.

It wasn't the best round of the tourney for Furgol (he shot a 66 for runner-up honors opening day), but it brought him up from the field for a one-stroke edge over Walt Burkemo, Franklin, Mich.

Burkemo had putter trouble on the final green and watched a six-footer go astray. It gave him a 68 and $1,400.

Furgol never led in the four-day event until the final round and was playing despite intense pain in his right arm, injured during an Australian tour two months ago. But he licked his wobbly putting yesterday and displayed what he termed his best form of the year.

Al Besselink, who had a three-stroke lead going into the final round, and Shelley Mayfield, the first-round leader with Tommy Bolt on a 65, tied for third with a 275 total. Besselink, Grossingers, N. Y., played his best since injurying his right hand in a charity event a year ago, but blew up with a 73 on the final round.

Mayfield, of Chicopee, Mass., finished with a 70 while Bolt, of Houston, Tex., came home with a 71 for fourth place on a 276 total. Doug Ford, Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., was fifth with 277 while Harmon Barron, White Plains, N. Y., had to match Furgol's 67 to finish sixth at 278.

Bob Toski, the defending champ, was tied for last.

Saddler Faces Perez Jan. 17

Percentage of Profits From Fight Will Go to Ed Sanders' Widow

BOSTON (AP)—Sandy Saddler, no longer recognized as the world featherweight champion by the NBA, will fight Lulu Perez of Brooklyn at Boston Garden Jan. 17 in a 10-round non-title bout.

The Callahan A. C. Sunday announced the top event of the card in an Ed Sanders Memorial program. Sanders died Dec. 12 after being knocked out in a New England heavyweight title scrap with Willie James.

Ten per cent of the gross and a percentage of the profits are to go to Sanders' widow.

Saddler reportedly was signed for approximately 30 per cent of the gate.

Recently the NBA decided not to recognize Saddler as featherweight king because he did not defend his crown within a 6-months period. Saddler got his discharge from the service eight months ago.

There is a possibility of a match in New York between Saddler and Red Top Davis, a leading challenger, in February.

3 Divisions Change Lead in Pin Test

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Three new leaders bowled their way into 1st positions in the Central States Bowling Assn. tournament over the weekend as 16 changes were made in the top 40 positions.

John Clement of Detroit, took over the lead in the handicap singles with a 689 series added to a 20-pin handicap for 709.

In the other two places, Joe Norris and Art Butler, a Chicago team, took over first place in both the actual and handicap doubles division. They shot 1307 in actual doubles competition and tacked on a 26-pin spot for 1333 to lead the handicap doubles.

Better Form Brings Art Devlin Ski Jumping Title

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y. (AP)—Art Devlin, 31-year-old Lake Placid motel operator, capitalized on form for four-tenths of a point to win the 10th annual Torger Tokle Memorial ski jumping championship yesterday.

Devlin was outjumped by Arthur Tokle, brother of the late champion and a member of Chicago's Norge Ski Club, but Devlin got the nod on form. Arthur Tokle's leaps were 133 and 153 while Devlin's were 130 and 146.

Devlin, representing the Sno-Birds of Lake Placid, had 206.4 points, while Tokle had [illegible]6. Bern Blikstad of the Bear Mountain Sports Assn. was 3rd with jumps of 128 and 146 for 204.7 points, fourth was Joe Nowak of the Duluth, Minn., Ski Club with 124-145—201.5.

Norway Ski Club's Dean Shambuck won Class B with 136 and 134 for 200.2 points. Ola Hirth of the Racine Ski Club was 2nd with 122 and 139 for 192.4 points.

* * *

Harold Jones of the Salisbury Winter Sports Assn., Salisbury, Conn., won the Class C crown. Jones jumped 116 and 127 for 177.3.

Sno-Birds's John Viscome took the veterans' division with distances of 121 and 131 for 180.6. Fifty-one-year-old Kyrre Tokle, another brother of the late Torger, was 2nd with 114 and 125 for 180.4.

Stack Wins Second Wayne Grid Letter

Maurice Stack of Pontiac was awarded his second Wayne University football letter at a special meeting of the Tartar squad last week. Other area athletes winning awards were Gerald Heaton of Northville, Joe Trepiak of Birmingham and Dougles Greenhill of Van Dyke.

Star halfback Vic Zucco of Renton, Pa., was selected for the second straight year as most valuable player, while tackle Walt Jenkins of Detroit was picked as most valuable lineman.

Berkley and Cranbrook Wrestlers Win in State Test at Lansing

LANSING (AP) — Lansing proved again over the weekend that the capital city is the center of youthful wrestling in the state.

Lansing wrestlers took 7 of the 11 high school championships and 6 of 7 titles in the open class in the finals of the State AAU wrestling meet that started with more than 200 entries.

Ann Arbor won two of the high school finals, Berkley took one and Cranbrook one. Lansing Eastern had five titlists and Lansing Sexton and East Lansing one each.

Battle Creek had four entries knocked out in the finals, three of them in the three lightest classes. There was no team championship.

Pontiac area winners:

95-pound class — Bud Snyder, (Cranbrook) won on disqualification over Bill Schoonard (Battle Creek).

128-pound class — Tom Gasco (Berkley) pinned Paul Sinadinos (Lansing Eastern), 1:43.

Few Boxing Matches Set During Holidays

NEW YORK (AP)—The Christmas week lull hits the boxing business Monday with only a few promoters who have television contracts opening their doors.

* * *

Those two hardy Monday night rivals, Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway and New York's St. Nicholas Arena, continue on a normal basis but most of the others are closing up for the holidays.

* * *

Even Madison Square Garden will pass up the Friday shows both this week and next on Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve. The Saturday night fights are featuring amateurs.

* * *

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner had to look around for a sub at Eastern Parkway Monday when Walter Cartier came down with a virus infection. He finally settled on Paul Peuder, the ex-Marine from Boston, as an opponent for Ted Olla of Milwaukee in a 10-round middleweight match (ABC-TV).

St. Nicholas Arena also has a sub in the main event in Pete Adams of Newark, N. J. against Jimmy Martinez of Phoenix, Ariz. in the 10-round welter match.

Harold Johnson, the Philadelphia light heavy who fought Archie Moore for the title last summer, takes on Marty Marshall, the knockout conqueror of Bob Satterfield in the Wednesday show (CBS-TV) from Detroit.

Unseeded Nashville Five Wins NAIA Tipoff Test

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Tennessee A & I Tigers came to the NAIA eight-team, Tipoff tournament unseeded but they went home with the championship.

The Nashville team breezed past Rockhurst College 94-72 in Saturday night's final game. The Tigers sank 47.1 per cent of their shots.

A sturgeon weighing 277½ pounds and 8 feet 5 inches was caught by Catalino Diangson after an hour and 20 minute fight off the California coast.

Skaters Hold Ddnce Contest, Opening Races

Last of the roller-skate dance contests of the period at Rolladium rink was held Sunday, with a Detroit team the top winners.

The weekend also marked the start of elimination races for the 2nd period at Rolladium.

In Sunday's finals of the dance contest James Miller and Carol Pittenger emerged the victors. They skated the "Blues" dance.

Opening races were won by Sandy MacAbee (juvenile A) one race for boys; Karen Swanson and Carl Gasse (juvenile B); and Joan Gray and Gary Perkins (juvenile C).

Canada Open Date Set

TORONTO (AP) — The 1955 Canadian Open golf championship will be held at Weston Golf and Country Club Aug. 17-20, the Royal Canadian Golf Assn. announced yesterday.

The date has been ratified by the United States Professional Golfers' Assn.

Lew Hoad Reported Back in Form for Aussies, Jack Kramer to Assist in Training U. S. Team

SYDNEY (AP) — Australia's Lew Hoad got out from under the fabled "load" on his back and professional Jack Kramer was conscripted to work with the Americans today as the rival teams settled down to the hard final week of preparation for the Davis Cup challenge round.

* * *

In an apparent psychological counterblow to the Americans' booming confidence, Harry Hopman, the Aussies' team captain, announced his No. 1 player and problem child had regained his top form—which had disappeared mysteriously during the warmup tournaments.

"I am quite pleased with Hoad's showing," said Hopman, who added:

"I rate the Australian team more powerful than it was at this time last year."

* * *

Spectators watching practice at White City, scene of the Dec. 27-29 challenge round play, were impressed by the zip in the game of the 20-year-old blond ace from Sydney. It was only recently that Hoad complained he was fed up with tennis because "everyone is on my back."

* * *

The Sydney Morning Herald reported "Hoad's power service was working faultlessly and he showed his best form since winning the Queensland singles championship in November."

The American squad held light morning and afternoon workouts under the eye of non-playing Captain Bill Talbert.

* * *

Talbert announced that Jack Kramer, one of America's outstanding players of recent times, would assist the U. S. players in practice.

Kramer is here for clinics and to write and broadcast descriptions of the cup matches.

"Jack is not being brought in as a coach," said Talbert. "As an American he also is interested in recovering the Davis Cup and he volunteered his services.

Montreal Trips Red Wings to Boost NHL Lead

Canadiens Move Into 5-Point Margin Over Detroit, Toronto

DETROIT (AP)— Montreal's Canadiens, victory hungry when they get near the Detroit Red Wings, had a feast last night while the Wings fasted, 5-0, in their National Hockey League game.

Canadiens increased their league lead by 5 points. Detroit's string of seven games without defeat was broken as goalie Jacques Plante scored his 1st shutout since returning from five weeks on the injury list.

Detroit, meeting the Boston Bruins Saturday night, easily took the 7th victory by beating the Bruins, 4-1. That game was delayed 48 minutes in starting when Boston's equipment failed to arrive on time.

Ken Mosdell of the Canadiens scored twice last night — his 15th and 16th goals of the season. Floyd Curry got his 6th, Dickie Moore his 5th and Bernie Geoffrion his 22nd.

Montreal's victory was its 5th over the NHL's defending champions.

The Wings were only in the game for 10 minutes, fading badly as Montreal took over rest of the way.

Curry, a dependable veteran, began the scoring with a slick backhander at 10:54 of the 1st period.

Heavy Practices for Blue-Gray

Both Yanks and Rebels to Run From Split-T in Annual Game

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—After ironing out post-season kinks for the first two practice sessions, rival training camps are expected to start heavy work today in preparation for the Blue-Gray football game here Christmas Day.

Coach Frank Moseley of VPI, head mentor of the Rebels, put his charges through offensive drills off the split-T Sunday and then outlined his defensive strategy for the 17th renewal of the intersectional rivalry.

Yank Coach Don Faurot of Missouri is also concentrating on a split-T to give the Northerners their first victory in the annual grid battle since 1948.

Groza Most Valuable; 3 Lions on All-Stars

ST. LOUIS (INS) — The sporting news has named Lou Groza, Cleevland Browns place kicker, the most valuable player in the National Football League.

The publicaton also announced yesterday's 1954 pro all-star team:

Pete Pihos, Philadelphia Eagles, and Harlon Hill, Chicago Bears, ends; Groza and Lou Creekmur, Detroit Lions, tackles; Les Bingaman, Detroit, and Bruno Banducci, San Francisco 49ers, guards; Chuck Bednarik, Philadelphia, center, and Doak Walker, Detroit. Joe Perry, San Francisco, Otto Graham, Cleveland and Ollie Matson, Chicago Cardinals, backs.

Illini, Purdue, Buckeyes Loom as Contenders

Pre-Season Choices, Iowa, Indiana, Have Been Disappointing

CHICAGO (AP)—With the opening of the Big Ten title chase but a couple of holidays away, Illinois, stamped themselves as title contenders.

Illinois, fated No. 3 in the Associated Press poll last week, and Ohio State are the only undefeated teams in the conference while Purdue has but one loss in six games.

The Boilermakers lost 69-68 to Penn, a team which has since bowled over Iowa and Michigan State.

The high-ranked, pre-season contenders, Iowa and Indiana, have been disapointing to say the least. Indiana, the defending champion, has been beaten three times, the final being a 97-65 humiliation at the hands of Cincinnati Saturday.

Iowa, meanwhile, has been beaten by Missouri in addition to Penn.

While the Hawkeyes could be experimenting to find a perfect combination for the conference race, the Hoosiers seem unable to make up the loss of three key players—Bob Leonard, Dick Farley and Chuck Kraak.

At present, Illinois seems to warrant top billing, despite Ohio State's high-scoring machine.

The Illini have won five straight. Among their opponents were Missour, 77-49, Oklahoma A&M, 59-53, and Notre Dame, 66-57.

While the Buckeyes have yet to score less than 90 points in four victories, they also have yet to limit the opposition to less than 80 points.

Even Butler, victimized by four big Ten teams, managed 80 points on the offensive-minded Bucks. Illinois wallped Butler 88-34.

Aside from Purdue, only Northwestern and Wisconsin have less than two losses. Both teams looked good Saturday. Wildcats beat Tulane 77-63 in a nationally-televised game and Wisconsin blasted Louisiana State, 107-68.

Leafs and Rangers Tie, 3-3; Hawks Dump Bruins, 6-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The high-flying Montreal Canadiens just keep rolling along on top of the pack in the National Hockey League and there's no telling when they'll slow up.

* * *

Last season the Frenchmen finished second to Detroit but Monday night they blanked the defending champions 5-0 to widen their lead over the Red Wings to five points.

* * *

In other league games, the Toronto Maple Leafs and New York Rangers played to a 3-3 tie and the Chicago Blackhawks trounced the Boston Bruins 6-1.

* * *

The Canadiens' victory snapped Detroit's string of seven games without defeat and marked the fifth time in seven meetings that Montreal has defeated Detroit.

* * *

Danny Lewicki's 18th goal of the year, with only six seconds to play in the third period enabled the Rangers to deadlock Toronto and moved the Maple Leafs into a tie with Detroit for second place.

* * *

Goalie Hank Bassen starred in his first NHL game as rookie Ed Litzenberger picked up two goals and one assist in Chicago's romp. The victory was the Black Hawks' second at home in 14 showings, and first over Boston in five games.

Tech Aide Broyles After Houston Job

HOUSTON (AP) — Georgia Tech Backfield Coach Frank Broyles and University of Houston officials huddle again today over the vacant Houston head football coaching job.

Broyles was believed the "hottest" prospect yet to succeed Clyde Lee, who resigned. Broyles has been here over the weekend, staying at the Shamrock Hotel.

Houston Athletic Director Harry Fouke said, "We are definitely interested in Frank Broyles, and we think he is interested in us."

Pensacola 11 Wins Shrine Service Tilt

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Pensacola Naval Air Station halfback Billy Oliver went over tackle from the six to break a 7-7 deadlock in the final period and hand the Ft. Carson Football team a 14-7 defeat in the first annual Pueblo Shrine Service Game Sunday.

Renshaws Take 10 Firsts in Skating Test

DETROIT (AP)—The fabulous Renshaw clan of Saginaw—all five of them helped Saginaw cart off nine firsts and a tie in 12 events of the season's 1st ice skating event in Detroit yesterday.

It was Wally, Jean, Ken and Nancy Renshaw — all brothers and sisters—plus cousin Detta who were class winners as only Wyandotte and Bay City were able to break into the winning circle besides Saginaw.

The speed meet was sponsored by the Michigan Skating Assn.

Midland and Detroit also competed. State champion Barbara Marchetti de Schepper was absent due to a death in her family.

Hal Boyle Asks:

What Kind of an Animal Would You Like to Be

NEW YORK (AP)—In some parts of the world millions of people believe that after death they return to earth in the form of an animal.

This idea has always fascinated me, particularly if one had a choice in the kind of animal he'd be in a future life.

Over the years I have given it a great deal of thought, usually on Mondays. Rainy Mondays are best, I find, for problems of this kind.

"If you had to be an animal, what animal would you prefer to be?"

* * *

It is a question that always will stir lagging conversation at a tired cocktail party, and arouses a suspicion in me that most people present secretly have a deep-seated desire to be something besides a human being—if only so they can avoid going to more cocktail parties.

The martini devotees all say they either want to be (a) a shaggy dog, or (b) a talking horse. These seem to be the only kinds of animals they know anything about. Mention the possibility of becoming a talking rhinoceros and they clam up and walk away from you. You're out of their groove.

Most ladies coyly demur at giving their real views. They say, "Oh, a beautiful tiger," or "oh, a lovely spotted leopard." But when pressed to the point of honesty, they generally admit they'd really like to be a genteel thoroughbred cat in a fine old well-kept home free of mice and run by people who didn't want any kittens.

Why become a cat?

"It's very simple," one lady said grimly. "The average woman has to struggle half her life to get a fur coat. It would be pleasant to be born with one on—and one that wouldn't go out of style."

(Editors Note: Then why didn't she want to become a mink? All women are after mink coats.)

(Boyle's Note: Well, that's the trouble with being born in a mink coat. You rarely get to wear it long yourself.)

Some men at cocktail parties say the only animal they would consider being is a lion. But a surprising number of fat fellows express an urge to be an elephant. I pondered this for a long time before coming up with what I feel is the right answer: They merely have become fond of munching peanuts on the cocktail circuit, and don't want to lose the habit.

It took me years of mulling to make a decision in my own case. A roaring lion? No. Roaring of any kind frightens me, and I can't see myself doing it for my own pleasure. I hate raw meat, too. And can you imagine a bold lion, after dragging home the bacon, meekly asking his lioness, "Please, if you don't know how to cook pork, can't you at least hold a match under it for a while?"

* * *

Being a mongrel dog, loved by a lonely child, does appeal to me. But it would be just my luck to come back as a trick-performing poodle, living in a penthouse on Park avenue and walked every day at the end of a leash held by some dippy blonde. No, thank you. One life on a leash in a doghouse off Park avenue is enough for me, fun though it's been. I want change.

A milk cow is a wonderfully useful creature, a strolling factory in a leather cover. Switching from cigar - chomping to cud - chewing wouldn't be too much of a change, but there are other requirements and—well, to tell you the full truth, I was born ticklish. Yep, even on the soles of my feet.

Right now I'm in the mood to become a wild horse, galloping free on the open range, trailed by a herd of admiring fillies, and feeling the fresh breeze tossing my mane. Oh, that wind in my long proud mane.

Don't expect me to tell you why I made this choice. When you are middle-aged, growing bald, and feel your arches falling, then you'll remember and understand.

What kind of an animal would you choose to be in a future existence? Make up your own mind. Don't ask your wife, or you might get the reply I did:

"Never mind the next-life. What kind of animal do you think you've been acting like up till now?"

Kindness draws a curtain.

Soy, Rye Lag in Active Trade

CHICAGO, Dec. 20 (AP) — In a fairly active market all grains except soybeans and rye advanced on the Board of Trade today. Commission houses weer quite aggressive buyers at the start.

Gains were limited to fractions for the most part, although they ran to more than that in December wheat and December oats. The latter contract had a very wide opening spread and at one time was ahead more than three cents.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to ⅝ higher, December $2.29⅜; corn ⅛ to ½ higher, December $1.55⅝; oats ⅝-1¼ higher, December 82½; rye ¼-¾ lower, December $1.13; soybeans 1 cent lower to ¾ higher, January $2.80¼; and lard 8 to 23 cents a hundred pounds higher, December $13.60.

Buick, Olds Reveal New Hardtop Models

DETROIT Dec. 20 —(UP) — The automobile industry's newest innovation the first "four-door hardtop," was introduced today by Buick division of General Motors.

Buick general manager Ival L. Wiles said the new model will be unveiled for the public at the Chicago automobile show in January. First deliveries will be made in March.

Wiles called the "four-door hardtop" the "greatest advancement in automobile styling since the introduction of the two-door hardtop" by Buick in 1949.

Meanwhile Oldsmobile Division announced unveiling of a similar model which will be available early next spring.

Both cars will be shown at the Chicago Auto Show Jan. 8-16.

The Oldsmobile Holiday will be offered in all three series, the 88, Super 88 and 98. Rear doors of the new models are hinged on solidly reinforced window-level center posts.

Two Cottages Invaded by Youths in Partying

Minor damage and missing food was reported at two Union Lake cottages taken over by youths during the past few days for partymaking, according to Michigan State Police of the Pontiac Post.

Troopers said the youths broke into a cottage at 7001 Locklin St., Union Lake, owned by Detroiter James Slavik, and a cottage at 7015 Locklin, owned by Albert Culter of Detroit. The entries were discovered Sunday.

Motorists Now Plagued by Increased Radar Use

WASHINGTON (INS) — Times are getting tough for American motorists. The American Automobile Assn. reported today that the number of radar sets used by speed cops has increased by 46.8 per cent since last April 14.

The figure isn't quite as bad as it sounds, though, since there are only 834 of the "eyes" in operation all over the nation.

Thieves Take TV Set in Apartment Breakin

A 17-inch television set was taken from the apartment of Margaret Miller of 426 S. Saginaw St. Saturday, according to Pontiac Police.

The apartment owner said the thieves broke a padlock off her apartment door to gain entry and ransack the home.

Radar is a contraction of terms meaning "radio detecting and ranging", which also describes its purpose in the location of unseen objects at various distance ranges.

Treasurer Likes Checks but Not Double Payment

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — You've heard about the folks who hate to pay taxes, but how about those who pay taxes twice?

M. L. Carnifax, deputy treasurer of Norfolk county, says many people send in a check when they get their tax bill, then when they get the receipt they attach another check and send it back to the treasurer. And the treasurer doesn't like it. He has to return the second check.

Market Higher 4th Straight Day

NEW YORK (UP) — For the fourth straight day, the stock market swung higher today with good gains in early trading.

Motors were outstanding on the higher side. Chrysler opened on 7,000 shares up ½ at 69⅞ and then pushed its gain to a point.

New Home Aid Plan Revealed

Will Be Available for Owners Refused Help on 1st Attempts

WASHINGTON (UP) — The government announced today that a new program designed to help prospective homeowners obtain federally insured loans will get under way early next year in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

The assistance, called the voluntary home mortgage credit program, will be available to persons who have been refused an FHA or a Veterans Administration-backed loan by at least two lending agencies in their locality.

The program, already operating in some parts of the country, will also work to see that such loans are available to members of minority groups on the same terms and conditions as apply generally in an area.

The Housing and Home Finance Agency today named 20 men to a regional subcommittee which will handle the program in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. The members will meet in Cleveland next Monday to elect a chairman and start of the operation will be announced in a few weeks.

Applications accepted by the committee will be circulated among all lending institutions participating in the program in the particular community, if still turned down, they will go to all participating lenders in the particular state and, if necessary, to banks in other states.

Ford Hopes to Begin Building New Michigan Proving Grounds in Spring

The Ford Motor Co. annouced today that it hopes to begin construction of its huge new, multi-million dollar proving ground in northwest Macomb County next spring.

An aerial survey of the site has just been completed and engineers are studying photographs and making soil tests to determine the most advantageous location for roads and buildings.

To be known officially as the Ford Engineering Staff's Michigan Proving Grounds the 4,000-acre area is ten times larger than the company's test site in Dearborn.

When completed it will be the third proving ground operated by Ford. The others are located at Dearborn and Arizona.

In addition to offices, maintenance and storage garages and a fueling structure the proving ground will have a network of test roads with special obstacles such as bumps, ruts and potholes.

Included in the road network will be a five-mile high-speed test track with a straightaway 13,200 feet long. The company is also planning to construct a series of paved grades running from seven to 60 per cent.

Earle S. MacPherson Ford engineering vice president said the new proving ground will provide "added facilities for testing present products plus the study of experimental and advanced vehicle design."

It is estimated that more than 100 employes will be needed when the proving ground begins operations.

Robert W. Gains, who has been with Ford since 1946, will be manager of the testing site. His technical assistant will be William A. McConnell and James H. Hough will be superintendent of facilities.

Business Notes

Allison Division of General Motors Corp. at Indianapolis said today it will start delivering 3,750-horsepower turbo-prop engines for the new Hercules military cargo planes early next year, ahead of schedule. The Hercules, designed to carry a 20-ton load is the first military cargo plane designed for turbo-prop engines, which use a jet turbine to drive the propeller. Older jets use the thrust of the jet exhaust to push planes through the air. The engines will be delivered to Lockheed Aviation Corp. for installation in the Hercules planes.

General Motors Corp. announced yesterday it has completed one-half of 30 training centers it is building in the U. S. for the instruction of mechanics with GM car and truck dealerships.

The company said a training center at Charlotte, N. C., is the 15th center opened and predicted the remainder would be completed by the middle of next year.

Higbe Manufacturing Co. of Rochester has announced a quarterly dividend of 15 cents per share on $1 par value common stock to be paid Feb. 1, 1955 to stockholders of record Jan. 15, 1955. The Board of Directors also approved payment of the regular quarterly dividend of 12½ cents per share of the 5 per cent preferred stock. The dividend will be paid April 1, 1955 to stock of record March 15, 1955.

BELLS, Tex. (UP) — George Dugan still drives his Model T—But he hasn't driven in nearby Sherman since he ran a stop sign 18 years ago.

That time he made a deal with a traffic cop.

"Well, sir," he said, "just let me turn around and go back to Bells and I won't bother you any more."

Dugan has kept his promise. Recently the Sherman police chief heard about it. He sent word to Dugan that the cop has long since retired and Dugan can drive his Model T in Sherman any time he wants.

Dugan declined. He said he still doesn't want to go back on his word—and, besides, the model T is getting too old to be cutting up in that city traffic.

Last Trolley Car Run Ends Era for Scranton

SCRANTON, Pa. (UP) — Busses ran over the Scranton Transit Co.'s Green Ridge suburban line today, marking the passing of an era.

On Saturday night, electric trolleys ceased to operate over the line, the last trolley line in the city where the trolleys started in 1886. Scranton was one of the first cities in the nation to boast the electric operated cars.

Kiwanis Picks Officers

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Thomas H. Myers is the president of the Kiwanis Club, following recent elections. Glenn Schoenhals is first vie-president; Albert Geerart, second vice-president; and William F. Lowan, treasurer.

FLIES TO SICK SON—S/Sgt. Eugene P. Keenan embraces his son, Genie, who is dying of leukemia in a Cincinnati hospital. Sgt. Keenan flew from his Air Force base at Hamm, Germany, after his wife notified him of the illness. Genie, 22 months, was in good health when his father went overseas two months ago.

RCA Sees 1954 Sales Hitting $930 Million

NEW YORK (UP)—Radio Corp. of America reported today that sales for 1954 will reach a record 930 million dollars with a net profit of about 40 million dollars after taxes.

RCA netted 35 million dollars, equivalent to $2.27 a common share, last year on sales of 848 million dollars.

David Sarnoff, RCA board chairman, predicted 1955 sales for the electronics industry would be 10 per cent higher than the more than 10 billion dollars estimated for this year.

Sarnoff said about six million television receivers would be produced in 1955, bringing the nationwide total to approximately 38 million by the end of the year.

RCA's 1954 dividends amounted to $18,898,000 on common shares, Sarnoff said.

Community Choir at Oxford to Give Sacred Oratorio

OXFORD—A new 35-voice community choir will be heard for the first time in Oxford at 8 p.m. today when members combine with the high school vocal department to present "The 'Messiah," in the school auditorium.

The first part of the program will feature the high school chorus, girls' glee club and girls' ensemble. The second half will be devoted to Handel's oratorio with the following soloists: Mrs. Lyle Bartlett, Judy Stewart, Loretta Earp, Robert Woolcox, Robert Quayle, and Robert Shoemaker.

Mrs. Lee Valentine is director with Kay Jean LaDouceur as accompanist. There is no admission charge.

Alert Police Chief Nabs Theft Suspect

Alertness on the part of Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley accounted for the arrest of a Brighton man who is suspected of stealing building equipment from new homesites in Pontiac.

Straley, while driving Sunday night on Berwick Blvd. near Avon Rd., noticed a panel truck parked in the road without lights, and stopped to observe the truck driver bringing a package from between two homes under construction.

Straley arrested the panel truck driver, John J. Clark, 36, of 9285 Hilton Rd., Brighton, on a charge of grand larceny of lumber and building material.

Police said the package, which proved to be asphalt shingles, which Clark was loading into his truck, and new lumber already on the truck, were taken from stacks of material near the new homes.

Roseville Pair Injured in Car-Truck Crash

A head-on crash Saturday on 15 Mile road just west of Dequindre road resulted in injury to a Roseville man and his wife.

Treated at Pontiac General Hospital for cuts and bruises were Gaspare J. Madonia, 36, of 26275 Patton, Roseville, and his wife, Virginia, 34.

Madonia's pick-up truck, eastbound on 15 Mile road, collided with a car driven by David O. Burr, 26, of 323 Rochester Rd., Clawson. Burr told Oakland County sheriff's deputies he was passing a vehicle and did not see Madonia's truck until too late to avoid a collision.

Widow of Trucker Gets $600 Yule Gift

MT. JEWETT, Pa. (INS)—The widowed Mt. Jewett mother of four has received a $600 pre-Christmas check from some Orchard Park, N. Y., residents who think her late husband did something pretty wonderful.

Mrs. Olin Lobaugh's husband crashed to his death in a snowbank last March 29 so that his tractor-trailer would not hit a school bus carrying 30 Orchard Park children.

Residents of the Buffalo suburb had previously presented Mrs. Lobaugh with $5,000. She also received $325 from a fund created by the Mt. Jewett Echo and more than $300 from persons throughout the nation.

Ordered to Pay $250 for Illegal Liquor Sale

Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty today ordered McKinley Osby, 40, of 19900 Mendota, Detroit, to pay $250 or spend 90 days in Oakland County Jail after Osby pleaded guilty Dec. 13 to selling liquor without a license.

Osby was charged with selling homemade liquor at a Royal Oak township home Dec. 13.

FOR MEN ONLY — To make him happy on Christmas morning, there's this brand new cotton knit shirt (upper left) that can be worn as turtle neck or club collar. Zipper provides perfect fit. Watch (left center) has fine 18-jewel movement, comes in natural gold case with 18K gold numerals on sterling silver dial and luminous dots at five-minute positions. Strap is alligator. Slim attache case (lower) left is in smooth, rugged suntan leather. Oversized rigid-frame cigarette case and lighter are both in pigskin. Gloves are buff suede leather. Robe (upper right) is washable dacron in fine, soft foulard. Ideal all-around camera (lower right) takes both color slides and black-and-white as well as action shots, indoors or out. This is a 35mm. camera with built-in flash synchronizer.

Unusual Christmas Presents Suggested for Man Who Already Has Everything

Every woman knows that it's practically impossible to find a Christmas gift for a man.

He has everything already. Or he's fussy. Or he thinks Christmas is for kids. Or he has extra long arms and an unusually short neck and no shirt size known to mankind fits him.

But you have to give it the old college try, anyway. If you can't stand the robe he's been wearing for the last ten years, buy him a new one and give your eyes a rest.

Pick a practical foulard in dacron, one that's washable and has good shape retention.

He'll probably like the shawl collar version with three pockets into which he can stuff everything he owns. (This is where the shape retention is challenged.)

Year around, he'll find use for one of the new turtle-neck cotton knit sports shirts. Try a zipper front one with turtle neck that converts easily to a club collar. Washable, of course.

If you feel like spending a little money on him, put it into a new watch. There's a new one with natural gold case that features 18-carat gold numerals on a sterling silver dial. There are luminous dots at five-minute positions. And an alligator strap.

In leather gifts, you can find almost anything the man in your life needs or wants, whether practical or purely luxurious.

Nothing could be smarter than an oversized rigid-framed cigaret case in pigskin with matching lighter.

For practicality, put a pair of buff suede leather gloves under his tree or hand him a slim attache case in suntan leather on Christmas morning.

If his hobby is snapping pictures, he'll welcome a 35mm camera that contains everything a photographer could want.

It takes color slides, black-and-white, action shots.

And all of these either indoors or out. It's the only American-made camera offering interchangeable telephoto and wide-angle lenses that couple to the range-finder.

There's a color-corrected f:3.5 cintar lens, geared-controlled shutter with speeds up to 1-300 of a second and a built-in flash synchronizer. He can just plug the flash gun right into the camera. Nicest surprise of all is that this is not high-priced.

Ex-German Official Escapes Kidnapers

BERLIN (UP)—West Berlin police reported today that Wilhelm Heinz, former security chief in the West German defense office, was kidnaped by the soviets but escaped after 24 hours detention.

Heinz, a former Wehrmacht colonel who built up the counter-intelligence section in the embryo defense ministry of Thedor Blank, told police he escaped from a closely guarded Soviet compound in the East Berlin district of Karlshorst.

He told police he used a line to lower himself from a window in a compound home and scaled a barbed wire fence enclosing the compound.

Heinz said he was lured into East Berlin Thursday by Jakob Kolb, formerly of the Blank office in West Berlin and Heinz' adjutant in World War II. Police said orders had been issued to arrest Kolb and his wife.

Heinz resigned his post late last year. In March 1954 he was arrested on charges of "financial irregularities" involving government funds.

Enters Innocent Plea in Car Mishap Death

David F. Bratton, 19, of 5435 Savoy, Waterford Township, today pleaded innocent to negligent homicide before Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty and will be tried in the current court term.

He is charged in the death of George R. Horsley, 52, of 100 Marquette St. Horsley died shortly after his auto collided with Bratton's Nov. 8 on Elizabeth Lake road a mile west of Pontiac.

At the time of the accident, Bratton told police he swerved into Horsley's path while trying to avoid a truck which turned in front of him. He is held in Oakland County Jail under $300 bond.

Pontiac Police Report $302 Theft From Home

Checks and cash, totalling $302.15, were taken from the home of Carmen L. Green at 363 Mt. Clemens St., Sunday, according to a report made to Pontiac Police.

Green, owner of Green Cleaners at 8 N. Sanford St., said he left about $170 in bills and silver and two checks worth about $132, in a pair of soiled pants which he discarded in the basement of his home Saturday night. The money was missed Sunday.

About 800,000 Americans die each year from heart disease.

You're SAFE when you buy by reliable trademarks

Your investment in a product is protected by the manufacturer's own stake in it. Here's how:

Manufacturers know that if their wares don't please you they'll go out of business . . . that it's faith in their trademarks that keeps you buying their goods. So they compete with each other all the time to make theirs the best in the field. That's how they keep you buying their brands.

So learn the facts back of trademarks and brand names. Watch this newspaper for news of improved products, new items, and where to find them.

Masau's Snakes Frighten Truth Out of Mau Maus

NAIROBI, Kenya (NEA) — Anywhere else, Masau and his hundred snakes would hardly be neighborhood heroes. For Masau is a simple savage, with strange, unpolished manners and teeth filed down to the roots. And his snakes bear lingering death.

But here in the terror of Mau Mau land, 20,000 white - hating killers have left no room for queasy stomachs or snobbish class distinctions. Prayers for Masau and his snakes are said every night.

Week after week, Masau collects needed evidence, unveiling up secret caches of arms, ammunition and food, and locating missing bodies at secret execution grounds.

He's the most successful one-man intellignce unit that the Mau Mau battle has known.

His weapons are his lethal snakes. Africans, in general, hate a snake, but Masau has always loved them. He never ventures away from his hut without a cobra or mamba in his pocket, and at night they share his bed.

Last week he came to the house to show me one of his catches.

"Are you going to sell it?" I asked.

Masau showed his toothless grin. "This one will help a lot, bwana. He is a very good bad one. I think I will use it to see if Njunguna took the oath last Friday."

Off he went through the coffee fields to the spot where Njuguna was working. "Who gave you the Mau Mau oath?" he asked. "And how many others took it?"

The young native rolled his eyes and tried to manage a grin. But his temples were beaded with sweat and he licked his lips in undisguised fear.

"I know of no Mau Mau," he said. "What is it? Me take an oath? No — never."

Then from the depths of his shirt, Masau brought out the snake and began to repeat his question, idly at first and then insistently. The snake came closer and closer to Njuguna's frightened face.

To break the oath meant death — and even by admitting he'd taken it, Njuguna knew he would break it.

But not to tell would be worse: the marks of fangs in his cheek and the gradual death of poison.

As dozens before him had done, he made his decision quickly. He admitted taking the oath and, more mportant than that, named the man who had given it.

The system is crude — and infallible. Masu's ingenious "snake degree" constantly adds to police files in many an outlying station. And the vast, perplexing jigsaw puzzle of finding the Mau Mau's strength is nearer to final solution.

Meanwhile, despite two squadrons of bombers, 5,000 hand-picked troops and 10,000 armed police, the dirty little war goes on.

A few weeks ago, the skull of the kindly old doctor was crushed to pulp with a club. Then young Andrew, a neighbor's child, was found in his yard with his head chopped off, lying beside his tricycle.

When the dreaded nightfall comes, the whites in the old stone houses padlock iron grills to their windows and double-bolt the doors. Then they load their guns and prop them beside their beds.

The only fortress for Masau is a skimpy, grass-thatched hut on the fringe of a deep Kenya forest, where savages with razor-edged pangas have vowed they will slice his throat. But the stocky m'Kamba hero sleeps the sleep of the calm.

Ontside in the night slither dozens of guards — ready to spit their venom at the limbs of any intruder.

Gets Prison Term for Dec. 2 Breakin

In Oakland County Circuit Court today, Robert F. McKee, 31, of 1773 Lombard, Detroit, received from 2 to 15 years in Jackson state prison after pleading guilty Dec. 13 to breaking and entering.

McKee told Judge Frank L. Doty he had never been in trouble before and asked for clemency saying, "I want to prove to you and society that I could be somebody."

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said he understood that McKee had escaped from a Georgia prison.

The Detroiter had previously admitted breaking into the Lewis Inn at Farmington, Dec. 2, with an accomplice, and taking a television set, liquor and small change.

Ill Wind Blows Away Chicago Man's Cash

CHICAGO (UP) — It was an ill wind that blew for Larry Klairmont over the weekend.

While he grappled with another motorist after an auto accident, a pocket in his coat tore and a stiff breeze swept $500 in small bills down the street. When the money had been picked up and returned by an assembled crowd, Klairmont complained he got back only $430.

Pontiac Jaycees Show Nativity Scene Here

The Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce has erected a life-size, 15-piece nativity scene in front of the First Baptist Church at Oakland Ave. and N. Saginaw St., according to John A. Benson, president.

"We hope the scene depicting the visit of the Three Wise Men to the Manger will help call to mind the true spirit of Christmas," he explained.

Goats are the most destructive of all livestock kept by man, says the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization.

Train Group to Convert Station to Rail Museum

RAVENNA, O. (UP) — Plans are underway to turn the long-abandoned Pennsylvania Railroad station here into a national museum for "iron horse" enthusiasts.

The Midwest Chapter of the National Railroad Historical Society is behind the project and has arranged to buy the deserted station, not used since 1905, from the Pennsylvania for $1 and to lease the land for a corresponding nominal fee.

Clarke Lord, Akron, president of the chapter, has sold interested parties in the community on the idea and has obtained promises from the railroad to furnish some 2,000 bricks and slates to repair the walls and roof of the 79-year-old structure.

Lord already has obtained such items of railroad lore as old telegraph keys and a 100 - year - old whale oil lamp. He also hopes to get an old railroad coach.

Besides the Pennsylvania, the Erie and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroads have agreed to rummage through their warehouses to find appropriate antiques to add to the museum.

The Chamber of Commerce plans to contribute labor to clean and repair the sturdy old structure, and Lord says the chapter's 150 members throughout this area will serve as attendants.

Members of the organization, few of whom are railroad men, have pitched in already to renovate the station and hope to have it ready for the public next year. Displays of model trains also are planned to show the history of railroading in the United States.

WEEPS FOR HERO SON—Leon C. Gilliland of Yellville, Ark., wipes tears from his eyes as he holds the Medal of Honor awarded to his 18-year-old son, Cpl. Charles L. Gilliland, for heroism in Korea which cost him his life. The father received the medal in a Pentagon ceremony this week. The son was killed defending his position despite a savage attack by Chinese Communists in April, 1951.

'Gabby' Gary Cooper Shoots on All Syllables

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Gabby Gary Cooper was expounding about Bing Crosby.

Gary the Garrulous wasn't popping off but he was showing—that he's a two-syllable as well as a two-gun man.

"Damned old Groaner!" He lifted one foot on top the other foot. Both were on top of a coffee table.

★ ★ ★ ★

"Never know what he's gonna do!" Bing'd just listed him as a very close friend on TV. Coop was pleased. "Remember 'um before he was in pictures.

"Made a little short. Yosemite, about '32 or '33. Sittin' on a rock in the pine trees, singin.' Remember fellow at the studio likin' it.

"After that, he named the boy for me. First boy. Gary."

★ ★ ★

"Wanna belt?" Gabby Cooper stared at both feet. "Think I'll have one." He loped out to the kitchen and poured.

SARITA & GARY

"Bing takes them kids out to that ranch. Makes 'em work. Gives 'em hay-hand wages. Nice buncha kids!".

After that, the conversation poured. He was looking for a picture to follow "Vera Cruz," which he made in Mexico with Denise Darcel, Sarita and Burt Lancaster.

★ ★ ★ ★

I asked him if he was in good health.

"Purty good for only bein' sewed up four times. That comes from actin' like a 24-year-old. Jumpin' off buildings and so on . . .

"Got a great surgeon. Sews me up with plain No. 4 quilting cotton thread. Got 200 on one side of me . . ."

★ ★ ★ ★

"How about TV?" I shot the conversational works.

HOPE LANGE

"Maybe, if they find something I could do as well as everybody else. For a couple years everybody looked like their their face'd been run over by a truck.

Remembering he was a cowboy, I asked him about horses.

"Well, I'd like to have a Rolls or a Bentley, but nobody can afford one in our business"—so I knew he'd thought I said horsepower instead of horses.

"S'long now," said Gabby Cooper at the door. "Come up some time and we'll talk . . ."

★ ★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Jackie Gleason got that big Buick offer for Tuesday-at-8 because they consider him "the hottest thing in show business" and the public "satiated" with other comics. The $8,500,000 offer to Jackie and his troupe is for 3 years, not 2, and calls for 52 shows a year, including summer reruns. This figures out to $55,000 a show, not unreasonable by today's standards.

Attempts to reunite Caesar-and-Coca have started . . . Gene Rayburn's pretty sidekick on "Sky's the Limit" is Hope Lange.

★ ★ ★ ★

Lou Walters in jail? Claims he's willing to go, that Yvonne Menard, the Paris nude, may bare positively all when she opens in his Miami spot . . . Ed Murrow's "Person-to-Person" show cracked Trendex's Big Ten.

★ ★ ★ ★

Johnnie Ray busted into Dan Dailey's birthday party at the Little Club, dropped his crutches, flung his arms around Ethel Merman and shouted "Momma!" That's what she is to him in "Show Business." Monroe won't be here for the premiere, but will be for "7-Year Itch," in which she's the big star.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A girl should always wait for the right man to come along. But it's a good idea to get married in the meantime, if you can."—P. K. Sidelner.

Radio to Feature Oppenheimmer

One TV Comic Fires Manager for Another With More Class

NEW YORK (INS)—Any suspicion that the shift in story line of "Lucy" might ease Bill Frawley and Vivian Vance from the plot now can be scotched: The Mertzes and Ricardos will shuffle off to H'wood, where from now on, Lucy will "get into the act" more . . . Johnnie Ray's jokes in the character of the priest in "No Biz Like Show Biz" were taken verbatim from Bishop Sheen's lighter lines on TV.

A TV comic skyrocket has decided to fire the manager who literally retrieved him from Broadway's trash heap. Says he wants to surround himself with "people with class."

Chronic ingratitude is not too classy a quality, even on Broadway.

Dumont's Christmas gift to Roscoe Karns — the pink slip for "Rocky King," in its modest manner a mighty pleasant series . . . Dan Dailey now can proceed to eat his patronizing words about TV: He signed for "Burlesque" Jan. 22 on CBS . . . Betty Grable's two $40,000 TV paychecks went straight to Uncle Sam.

NBC's announcement that Arlene Dahl would make her "live TV debut" on next Thursday's Video Theater must mean NBC doesn't consider Uncle Miltie's hosting of the redhead—with Fernando Lamas, no less—to have been very lively.

British Broadcasting hasn't too much to admire but their ban against Christmas Carols until two weeks before the Holy Day would have been welcome here in the overdone-too-early custom of caroling from Nov. 15 on.

The Columbia Broadcasting System selects the day after Christmas to spotlight Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer to discuss "prospects in the arts and sciences." He will be introduced on the radiocast by Dr. Grayson Kirk, President of Columbia University.

Actors Equity, through its president, Ralph Bellamy, now officially is solidly in favor of subscription-TV . . . "Danger" moves Jan. 4 to 10 p.m. (EST) Tuesdays . . . leaving room for the new Red Skelton series starting the same night.

We now have eight full-hour network TV dramas per week, many of them good . . . while comedy, variety, chattercasts and other pioneer forms of television have slipped somewhat through the seasons, TV dramaturgy has made slow, comfortable strides ahead.

For the Mamboniks, Eartha Kitt's last-season serenade has been given a new beat to become the "Santa Baby Mambo," . . . and for kiddies, who understandably shouldn't be allowed too near such hot lyrics, there's a switch called "Uncle Santa."

Police Hustle on Trail of Busy Teenage Bandit

HOWELL (UP)—Police said today they had to step lively to track down a 17-year-old confessed burglar.

Officers said they followed Robert Griffin's footprints in the snow yesterday before arresting him at his home. The tracks led into two restaurants, a service station, a laundry, a dry cleaning shop and a flower shop.

Police said the youth staged all six burglaries in 90 minutes.

Japan Premier Now OKs Arms

Had Criticized Yoshida on Military Forces Said Banned by Constitution

TOKYO (UP)—Japan's new government ruled today that this country's tiny army, navy and air force are legal under the new constitution which renounces war and the power to wage war.

Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama's Cabinet and the ruling Democratic party agreed that the token defense forces created by former Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's government are below war potential and thus not in conflict with the post World War II constitution.

Yoshida himself used the same argument in mobilizing the defense forces.

But until Hatoyama took office, the new Prime Minister had criticized such an explanation as being dishonest. He suggested changing the constitution to permit outright rearming against communism.

The policymakers, led by Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu, said today they still want to revise the constitution because as it now stands it is unclear whether and where the armed forces can be used. They emphasized, however, there was no thought of sending troops outside Japan.

Boss Names Secretary as Sole Heir to $86,497

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Mrs. Grace Thayer was named sole heir to the $86,497 estate left by the man for whom she served as secretary for 30 years.

The information was reported in an inheritance tax appraisers report filed in Probate Court Saturday for the will of Edward L. Plattner, 79-year-old head of the foreign trade bureau of the Edwin F. Guth Co., a St. Louis electrical equipment firm. He died last May.

Families of Lost Sailors Ask Renewed Search

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UP)—Relatives of two sailors on the missing freighter Southern Districts have asked President Eisenhower to renew the search for the ship.

The Southern Districts disappeared with 24 men aboard on a voyage from Port Sulphur, La., to Buckport, Maine. Last radio contact was on Dec. 4. A Coast guard search was abandoned Friday.

In Australia, failure to vote without good reason can be punished by a $4.50 fine.

Pearl Bailey Will Try to Go On Again Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Pearl Bailey rested today, trying to recover sufficiently from a case of fatigue to play her starring role tonight in the new musical, "House of Flowers."

The show's general manager said the singer was near nervous collapse. She appeared only briefly in the Friday night performance and missed two shows Saturday.

A doctor advised her to stay off the stage at least until tonight.

Low Cards Count Here

BRIDGEPORT, W. Va. (UP)—Joe Low, of Bridgeport, is having his Christmas cards mailed this year from Jolo, W. Va., by Postmaster Frank Lowe.

Formosa Paper Hits U. S. Release of 35

TAIPEH, Formosa (UP)—Another Chinese Nationalist newspaper lashed out bitterly today at reports the United States might be willing to exchange 35 Chinese students for 11 U.S. airmen imprisoned in Red China on spy charges.

The English-language China News said that to exchange the students, all of whom are being detained in the United States, would display "weakness in moral and ethical principles."

The newspaper's comments are the latest in an increasingly bitter editorial storm, touched off by U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's projected trip to Peiping, to seek the release of the airmen.
