Ex-Con Cracks, Reveals Grave in Commerce

Leads Officers to Companion's Riddled Body

Shooting Is Believed to Have Taken Place in Oakland County

A cocky Detroit ex-convict, tight-lipped through 14 days of police questioning, cracked under the pleas of a slain pal's mother today.

Gerald R. McKay, 23, led Detroit and state police to the spot in Commerce Township where he and Richard Shirk, 29, also of Detroit, buried the bullet-riddled body of burglary suspect Carlo Vitale.

Investigators revealed this afternoon that they believe the shooting took place in Oakland County.

McKay was confronted by Mrs. Mary Vitale at Detroit Police Headquarters late last night. Officers said that when she fell to her knees and cried, McKay blurted:

"All right, I've been lying. I'll take you out and show you."

Vitale, 22, had been the object of a widespread search since the arrest of McKay and Shirk, on Jan. 5.

Detroit homicide detectives said McKay told them they shot Vitale last Nov. 28 on 15-Mile road in Macomb County near the Oakland line, kept his body in the trunk of McKay's car for a few days and then buried Vitale on or around Dec. 6.

BODY FOUND TODAY

His partially decomposed body was found at about 1:15 a.m. today in a shallow grave in Proud Lake Recreation Area.

McKay, who had previously said he and Shirk buried Vitale somewhere in the Utica area, led detectives straight to the grave "after we gave him a little talking to," said Sgt. John Ware of the Detroit Homicide Bureau.

Vitale's body was clad only in shorts. His arms and legs were trussed up with rubber insulated electrical cord.

"He was under about three feet of sand," said Detectives Charles Schlachter and John Morin.

The grave was about 100 yards off Glengary road along a foot trail, about a half-mile west of Benstein road.

Detective Charles Leaf of the Pontiac State Police Post said Vitale had been shot at least five times.

An autopsy performed by Dr. Richard E. Olsen, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, this morning disclosed that there were about nine bullet wounds in Vitale's head, neck, and right arm.

Detectives said they recovered three slugs still in his body.

Dr. Olsen said in a preliminary report that it appeared Vitale had been shot once in the neck and arm, once in the bike of the Light Snow, Colder Two-Day Forecast

Scattered light snow flurries are predicted, again for the Pontiac area tonight, Wednesday and Thursday with temperatures somewhat colder.

Tonight's low is expected to hit 20 degrees and tomorrow's high may reach 28.

Main roads in Oakland County are in fairly good condition with some slippery spots but gravel roads are still slippery, the road commission reported this morning.

With up to 15 inches of snow being dumped on some parts of Michigan yesterday, highways throughout the state are slippery, the State Highway Department said today.

Winds, northwesterly at 12 miles an hour at 10:15 a.m., will register 15 to 25 miles Wednesday.

Twenty-two was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury rose to 28 degrees at 2 p.m.

Doctor Off for Hospital After Fire

Dr. Neil A. Sullenberger, who burned his wife's clothing in the living room of his Pontiac home Sunday morning, was to be transferred from an Oakland County Jail cell to a Veteran's Administration hospital today.

The 43-year-old doctor, ousted from Pontiac General Hospital in 1958, was entering the hospital "voluntarily" for rest and medical care, said Prosecutor George F. Taylor and Sullenberger's attorney Carlton S. Roeser.

He will be taken either to Battle Creek or the VA facility in Ann Arbor, whichever of the two hospitals has bed space.

Sullenberger has agreed to remain in the hospital until discharged by the medical staff. If he doesn't, said Taylor, he will immediately be charged with arson.

Because he is seeking treatment "voluntarily," Sullenberger will be able to leave the hospital whenever he chooses.

Detectives persuaded his wife, Merthadene, 29, who is in Texas, to speak with him. She left Sullenberger a week ago, she told police, because he threatened her and she feared he'd shoot her. His wife agreed to return to care for the three children the doctor adopted during a previous marriage.

Last Michigan GOP Appointee to Leave Post

LANSING (UPI) — Duane H. Mosier, last Republican appointee in state government, has agreed to accept retirement, Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams said Tuesday.

Mosier earlier indicated he would contest a decision by Adams that Mosier could no longer exercise powers and duties of a member of the Michigan Employment Security Commission Appeal Board because he had reached his 70th birthday.

Circles in Virginia Fog; Tag Seats to Identify Charred Bodies

HOLDCROFT, Va. (AP) — A Norfolk-bound Capital Airlines plane, groping confusedly at house-top level in heavy fog, crashed on the side of a marshland ravine near here Monday night. Fifty persons died in the flaming wreckage.

Early this morning, rescuers who had been held back for nearly eight hours by the searing heat finally were able to enter a portion of the hulk to begin removing the bodies of the victims — 46 passengers and a crew of four.

The first charred body was removed from the plane at 7:50 a.m. It appeared that few would be identifiable. Police indicated a

Three Michigan men were among the 50 persons killed when a Capital Airlines Viscount crashed last night near Holdcroft, Va.

They were the pilot, Capt. James B. Farnsworth, 50, of Muskegon; James L. Girard, of near Mount Clemens, a seaman stationed at the Norfolk, Va. Naval base; and H. R. Draper, formerly of Holland.

Also killed were two Ford Motor Co. executives Albert W. Rueff, 52, and Charles A. Truhn Jr., 42 who were traveling together to visit a Ford assembly plant in Norfolk, Va. Rueff was production manager for passenger cars at the Louisville plant. Truhn was resident product engineer for passenger cars.

Williams Backs Convention Call

Agrees to Sign Petition Formulated by Women Voters, Jaycees

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today came out in favor of the constitutional convention plan jointly backed by the League of Women Voters and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He "gladly" agreed to become the first citizen to sign a petition to get the proposal before voters in November.

The governor also announced he will recommend action by the Legislature to make it unnecessary to carry the petition drive to completion. The questions could be submitted by legislative resolution.

Although he parried questions on the point, Williams' new con-con stand appeared to cut the ground out from under a move in the Democratic Party for a statewide vote on a one-house system in the Legislature.

The recommendation of a study group for a unicameral legislature, like Nebraska's, now is being weighed by the Democratic State Central Committee, which proposed to take a position on Feb. 28.

In explaining his opposition to various con-con proposals in the past, the Democratic governor explained:

"We have consistently favored a constitutional convention, but we have stood firmly against a convention based on the present gerrymandered and unrepresentative State Senate."

The complicated plan of League of Women Voters and the Junior Chamber calls for apportionment in a special convention based on one delegate for each present seat in the Legislature.

TWO VOTES NEEDED

Voters in November would be asked to approve this basis for convention make-up, and, in addition, to approve a referendum in April 1961 on the question of

Schedule Talks on Bus Walkout

Kalamazoo Settlement Raises Local Hopes for Thursday Meeting

Hopes of ending Pontiac's long bus strike rose today following the settlement of a similar strike in Kalamazoo.

The 42-day walkout in Kalamazoo ended Monday with the signing of a new two-year contract. Similar strikes here and in Saginaw remain unsettled.

Leonard Bennett, a state labor mediator, said efforts to settle the two strikes would be made Thursday at a negotiating session in Pontiac.

He said the settlement of the Kalamazoo strike brightened prospects of a rapid end to the other two strikes.

National City Lines, Inc. operates bus lines in all three cities. Drivers and mechanics had been trying for a three-city settlement.

The new Kalamazoo contract provides a 14-cent hourly package, an increase now of 8 cents, of which 6 cents is retroactive to last April 1, and another six-cent increase Jan. 19, 1961.

Mechanics will get an additional increase of 8 cents an hour over the two-year period. The pact expires Jan. 19, 1962.

6 Will Map Plans to Boost Griffin for Senate Seat

Six backers of Congressman Robert P. Griffin (R-Traverse City) for U.S. senator will huddle secretly tomorrow night to start the pendulum swinging for what they say is the first official draft "Griffin-for-Senator" movement in Michigan.

Among the six are George W. Kuhn, Berkley mayor, and Joseph P. Bianco Jr., a Pontiac Motor Division personnel worker and past chairman of the Oakland County Young Republicans.

They and the others are hopeful that Griffin, 36, will accept the GOP nomination for Democratic Sen. Patrick V. McNamara's seat.

Griffin, a former resident of Pontiac, so far has not revealed his plans.

One of the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce's 10 "Outstanding Young Men" this year, Griffin made a big name for himself last year when he co-authored the first labor reform bill in the country since 1947.

The second-term congressman, whose parents live in the city, will be featured speaker at the 70th annual Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club banquet Feb. 8 in Pontiac.

Billie S. Farnum Named to High Democratic Post

Michigan Democrats have smoothly completed a lines straightening maneuver in preparation for the 1960 political campaign.

Its main result was to land Billie E. Farnum, 43-year-old former Waterford Township resident and member of the Oakland County Democratic Committee, in the new $15,000 a year post of deputy chairman of the Democratic Party.

Farnum, who has served as a delegate-at-large at recent Oakland conventions, is highly regarded in Democratic circles as an organizer and administrator.

For the last 30 months, he has been deputy Secretary of State.

The new party office was authorized by the State Central Committee to take some of the burdens off Chairman Neil Staebler and to provide better management of party affairs.

There has been speculation that Staebler, long very closely associated politically with Gov. G. Mennen Williams, may resign after

3 Men From Michigan in Plane Crash; 50 Dead

Sixth VICTIM A BABY

The airline resolved a question as to exactly how many persons were aboard the four-engine plane. It confirmed the presence of another infant, the 50th victim.

Aside from the weather there was no immediate hint as to why the plane had crashed.

The big jet-prop Viscount, Capital Flight 20 from Chicago to Norfolk via Washington, plunged to earth like a leaden pancake shortly after 10:30 p.m.—the time she was due in Norfolk.

Only a few hundred yards away was an open field where the plane might have made a safe emergency landing—had the pilot been able to see the field.

She seemed to come down like somebody pulled a rug out from under her," said Robert H. Tench, whose farmhouse is only about 300 yards from the crash scene near the Chickahominy River. "She came straight down."

Tench said the plane, which had left Washington for Norfolk at 9:48 p.m., was perilously low and circling, apparently lost in the heavy fog and light rain, shortly before the crash.

"It came pretty near hitting my house twice," Tench said. "The second time it went over it was so low that when I went outside, my whole yard was full of smoke from the engines.

"I went back in the house, and all of a sudden I didn't hear anything. I didn't hear an explosion and I didn't feel a jar.

"All of a sudden, everything was quiet."

CALLED POLICE

Tench went upstairs then, saw the beginning of the fire that subsequently swept the plane, and summoned police.

All of the plane except its tail assembly and a part of a wing, which were torn off by the crash, burned for hours.

The charred trunks of trees protruded upward through the flaming fuselage in which passengers and crew were cremated.

The plane lay in a pit which it had dug when it fell. Several times during the night as rescuers stood vigil, there were small explosions. Police kept hundreds of curious sightseers at a safe distance and blocked roads to the scene.

FOG WAS THICK

The crash was the second commercial airliner disaster of the year and Virginia's second in less than three months.

Thirty-four persons died in the mysterious crash of a National Airlines plane near Bolivia, N.C., Jan. 6. Last Oct. 30, a Piedmont Airlines plane crashed on a Blue Ridge mountainside near Waynesboro, Va., with the death of 28 of the 27 persons aboard.

Fog was general throughout eastern and central Virginia when the Viscount crashed. Airports in Richmond and a number of other cities were closed, but not the airport at Norfolk.

Find Bullet-Riddled Body in Commerce

skull, and three times in the face.

He was identified by his father, Phillip, 48, of 2585 Anderdon, where he lived, and an uncle, Sam Palazzola, also 48, of Detroit.

The doctor told police it was possible that Vitale's body "could have been lying around for some time before he was buried."

Detectives said he appeared to have powder burns on one cheek. The weapon was a .25 caliber automatic pistol.

Vitale, father of a 2½-year-old daughter, had been wanted since the $3,500 holdup Nov. 20 of a Detroit credit union.

McKay had insisted that Vitale had been shot accidentally as he was being taken to a hideout near Utica last November.

But today detective Sgt. John Ware said McKay admitted that he and a third man, Richard Shirk, 30, took Vitale's life because he was "too hot to handle."

With the aid of a map he drew himself, McKay led officers to the grave.

Police said both McKay and Shirk will be charged with first degree murder.

Sgt. Ware said McKay told officers that in the car on the way to a hideout Vitale was shot while a gun was being exchanged and that he and Shirk then each took turns firing at him.

Prosecutor George F. Taylor said shortly after a noontime telephone conversation with Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel Olsen that "the statements of McKay and Shirk seem to indicate the shooting took place in Oakland."

"We won't know for sure until the statements are completed later today," Olsen told Taylor.

Parts of the statements taken today "indicate Vitale was shot on the 15-mile road at the other side of Oakland County somewhere in the Walled Lake area," Olson was quoted as saying.

Olsen and Taylor are expected to hold a conference later today or tomorrow. Should murder charges be pressed, the two will be tried in Oakland if evidence shows the crime was committed here, Taylor said.

If Detroit authorities prefer to hold the two on robbery charges, they will be tried in Wayne County.

BURGLAR'S GRAVE — This was the shallow grave of Carlo Vitale, located in the Proud Lake Recreation Area near Walled Lake. Vitale, 22, had been sought by police for several weeks. A "pal," Gerald R. McKay, 23, led detectives early this morning to the spot where he and another ex-convict buried Vitale last fall. Detectives found Vitale's body after digging through three feet of frozen sand and clay.

Welfare Cases Unexpectedly Low

County Purse Filling Up

Oakland County's financial setting looked a lot rosier today, thanks to a huge drop in the number of persons drawing social welfare relief payments.

Supervisors at their meeting yesterday learned that almost overnight the county had gone from what loomed as "a very desperate situation" to "a generally improved picture."

Gone, too, was what county auditors early last year feared to be a million dollar deficit brought on by a soaring welfare caseload. Last year ended without a deficit, declared John C. Austin, vice chairman of the Board of Auditors.

So this once gloomy picture was much brighter yesterday when supervisors voted 62-6 to pay back $228,170 in borrowed county funds and put $500,000 in the county's new courthouse building fund.

All this was possible, auditors said, because non-tax receipt collections for last year were some $389,392 more than anticipated. These collections, according to Robert Y. Moore, chief auditor, come from the clerk's office, register of deeds, probate court, treasurer, and other county offices.

Voting against the transfer of the funds were Duane Hursfall (Independence Township), Hugh Charteris (Ferndale), Fred W. Hildebrandt and Robert J. Huber (Troy), Herbert R. Sinclair (South Lyon), and William K. Smith (Lyon Township).

Hursfall was defeated in his move to postpone the transfer until he had more time to study it.

Another $100,000 in surplus funds from these non-tax receipt collections, which was slated to go for certain emergency work on township roads, was left alone after Ferndale Supervisor Roy F. Goodspeed criticized the move in a letter.

It was referred to the Ways and Means Committee for further consideration.

Besides the welfare drop, which resulted in 1959 welfare expenditures for the last six months being $450,000 less than the same period in 1958, county financial officials credited a decline in welfare hospitalization costs and the county's austerity program in not hiring new employes for the brighter picture.

"Had the relief load continued in 1959 at the same rate as it did in the last six months of 1958 we would now be facing a deficit instead of a surplus," declared David Levinson, chairman of the W-M Committee.

As the county sought to build a new courthouse several years ago, opponents charged auditors and supervisors had purposely underestimated receipts so that resulting surpluses could be plowed into the building fund.

Yesterday Moore again denied any such "padded budget" charges.

"We padded no budgets, we were just fortunate," Moore said.

Levinson told supervisors "the picture of general relief appeared to be very bad" last March when the number of cases reached 5,300.

"We were facing what could be a very desperate situation," Levinson said in analyzing the situation.

"However, later during the year 1959, and even when there were still prospects of a prolonged steel strike, we were very pleasantly surprised to find that the general relief load began to drop."

In hospitalization costs alone, Levinson said, there was a saving of $60,000.

"This has brought about a generally improved picture with respect to non-tax receipt collections and will permit the county to meet certain obligations previously incurred," he added.

Commission to Study Rezoning Proposal

A hearing will be held at 8 p.m. today at the weekly City Commission meeting on rezoning to commercial an area bounded by Perry street on the east and Centerline street and Giddings road on the west.

A hearing also will be conducted on the 1960 budget, which must be adopted this month.

Also on the agenda is a resolution for a special assessment roll for a combined sewer on the north side of Walton boulevard from New York to Carlisle.

Not-So-Good Omen

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)— A Mr. High married a Miss Price in Fort Worth the other day.

Sees Only Slight Edge in Missiles for Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. has told Congress Russia will have more long-range missiles than the United States during the next three years but not enough more to make a "rational decision" to attack this country.

Gates said new intelligence data had enabled the United States "for the first time" to estimate the production and performance of Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBM's).

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the military Joint Chiefs of Staff, seconded Gates' appraisal. He said no nation "possesses the capability to destroy us or attack us without receiving unacceptable damage in return."

Gates and Twining testified behind closed doors last week before the House defense appropriations subcommittee, giving a preview of the 1961 $40,985,000,000 defense budget. A censored version of the testimony was made public today.

Chairman George H. Mahon (D-Tex) called the report "the most enthusiastic and rosy and reassuring presentation that we have ever heard."

On the basis of the new intelligence information, Gates and his top aides gave Congress a revised, and more optimistic, picture of how U. S. forces stack up against those of the Soviets.

"The impression in some quarters that the Soviet Union has overtaken, or even outdistanced, the United States in military power is simply not supported by the facts," Gates declared.

Gates said this country still enjoyed a "marked advantage" in its force of manned continent-spanning bombers, the primary means of delivering heavy nuclear weapons in volume and with accuracy. He said that so far as missiles are concerned, studies indicate Soviet accuracy "will be inferior to ours."

Gov. Williams Backs Call for Convention

If the April referendum carried, then convention delegates would be chosen at a special election within the next four months and the convention would be convened at Lansing in October 1961.

As it now stands, the 1908 constitution provides that any rewrite convention must be made up of three delegates apiece elected from the existing 34 senatorial districts.

Republicans control the Senate 22 to 12. Accordingly, Democrats contend that any convention determined along these lines would be heavily stacked with Republican delegates.

Williams called the new plan a "compromise" that is far from a perfect solution but a "substantial step in the right direction."

In the 1958 campaign, Republican Paul D. Bagwell campaigned vigorously for a constitutional convention under the machinery now provided even though some elements in his party were lukewarm.

The proposition attracted 821,282 favorable votes and 608,365 to voted against it. The state canvassing board held it was rejected for failure to receive 1,170,315 votes, a majority of all those cast at the election.

Williams said he "understood" that responsible Republican leaders have accepted the compromise plan. He declined an invitation to name them.

General Claims U.S. Astronaut One in a Million

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Project Mercury astronaut is literally one in a million.

That means only one in a million American men between the ages of 25 and 35 can shape up to Project Mercury's stern physical, mental and emotional standards.

So Brig. Gen. Don R. Flickinger, Air Force bio-astronaut, reported to the American Astronautical Society Monday night.

The Day in Birmingham

Redding Road Repaving Approved by Commission

BIRMINGHAM — Approval to repave Redding road from Woodward avenue to Lake Park road was given last night by the City Commission.

At the same time commissioners approved the construction of a storm sewer from Lake Park road to the Rouge River.

It also was decided that the repaving of Redding road from Lake Park road to Chesterfield road was not necessary at this time.

Estimated cost to repave Redding road is $43,200. Construction of the storm sewer was estimated at $5,710.

The city will pay 15 per cent of the cost of both projects and the balance will be assessed property owners affected by the improvements.

The Commission directed the city engineer to submit more detailed drawings of the projects so they could have a more specific cost estimate on the proposed project.

In his report to the Commission, Gare said the pavement from Woodward avenue to Lake Park road was constructed 35 years ago.

"Since then the pavement has badly deteriorated," Gare said.

Action was started in 1946 to rebuild the road, Gare said, however, the project was never started.

In 1958, a hearing of necessity was held for the construction of a 29 foot concrete pavement with storm sewers and drainage. The Commission determined that there was no need for such an improvement.

The poor condition of the road resulted from a complete lack of drainage facilities, according to City Engineer G. R. Serenbetz.

"The installation of the storm sewer will be an integral part of the repaving of this portion of the road," he said.

Angle parking along Woodward avenue between Ravine and Oak streets will be continued until it has been definitely determined whether or not the parking facility behind the Reid Building will be constructed.

Angle parking was permitted along this stretch of Woodward avenue last June by the Commission with the understanding that plans would be made as soon as possible for a more permanent solution.

At that time the Commission passed a resolution providing for the unmetered temporary parking on a trial basis, not to exceed six months.

The action to continue the parking in front of the Reid Building was made on the recommendation of City Manager Gare, who told the Commission that it is anticipated negotiations with property owners for the acquisition of the necessary property behind the Reid Building can be started in the near future.

"However, until that time we should continue the angle parking in the area," he said.

Billie Farnum Gets High Party Post

the August primary if Williams declines to seek a seventh term.

TO START SOON

Farnum will take over his new duties about Feb. 1.

Although Farnum has held key posts under Secretary of State James M. Hare for five years, he has the reputation of being a "party" man.

This factor was weighed by the State Central Committee in the light of a possible primary contest for the governor's nomination between Hare and Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson.

Farnum's first task will be to direct a paid membership drive to enlist 100,000 dues-paying members in the Democratic Party.

In the 1940s, he served for a while as an international representative of the United Auto Workers union. He was named by Gov. Williams in 1951 to the State Fair Commission.

In 1952, he was appointed an administrative assistant to the late U.S. Sen. Blair Moody, and continued with Moody until the senator's death in 1954.

The $12,500-a-year deputy secretary of state post being relinquished by Farnum will be filled by John F. Dodge, now $10,000-a-year assistant secretary in charge of the Detroit office.

The assistant secretary's job goes to Gordon Traye, 43, of Dearborn, long active in union work and now captain in charge of the juvenile division in the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

Jaycees Extend Deadline for Award Nominations

The deadline for nominations for the Distinguished Service Award of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce has been extended to Jan. 25, it was announced today.

The "DSA" is presented annually to the "Outstanding Young Man of the Year."

Chairman Charles Lewis said any person or group may submit the name of a young man between the ages of 21 and 35 who has been of community service.

The candidate need not be a member of the Pontiac Jaycees, nor must he necessarily be a resident of Pontiac, but his services must have been performed for the benefit of the city. Applications can be submitted by letter and must include name, address and age of the nominee.

Chairman Richard Fitzgerald of the Bosses Award Committee also announced the deadline has been extended to Jan. 25 for nominations by Jaycees of their bosses for the "Boss of the Year Award."

This award is given to the employer of a Jaycee who has assisted the Jaycee during the year in addition to his personal contribution of community service.

'Sno Use Griping

By The Associated Press

A far-ranging snowstorm that developed over the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle over the weekend, hammered the Northeast today, dumping heavy falls in many areas.

Northerly winds, trailing the storm, powered cold Canadian air southward from the Rockies across broad areas eastward. It was far below zero in sections of the Rockies.

The Weather Bureau in Boston warned of heavy snow in southern New Hampshire and southern and central Maine, with falls of 4 to 8 inches in most areas and up to 10 inches along the Maine coast. Fairly heavy snow was reported in eastern New York.

Sleet and freezing rain pelted southern New England, making driving hazardous.

2 TO 6 INCHES

A fast moving coastal storm centered near southern Cape Cod during the early morning dumped 2 to 6 inches of snow from Massachusetts northward into southern Vermont and New Hampshire and southwestern Maine.

The snow belt extended from Michigan but westward the snow diminished considerably, with light falls in the upper and middle Mississippi Valley. Snow flurries continued in the Ohio Valley, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia. Light showers sprinkled areas from Virginia. Some fog also is reported.

Appreciation Blooms, They Give Flowers

MSUO Faculty Well-Loved by Students

It's more than just a case of an apple for the teacher.

A certified love affair is in full bloom between students and faculty of Michigan State University Oakland.

When half a dozen or more freshmen surprised their instructors with bouquets of flowers, cookies and other gifts at the close of the fall quarter, that was explainable.

For one thing, it was in the Christmas season. For another, MSUO, as a new university, has no upperclassmen to make freshmen either self-conscious or blase.

But the evidences of affection continue and grow into the cold days of January.

At registration for the new quarter, one coed broke into tears because her schedule prevented her from once again having refugee Dr. Helen Kovach for Russian.

When Dr. Kovach offered to review grammer between classes last semester, so many of her pupils showed up at the designated time she had to take over a classroom.

Both she and Mrs. Nadine Popluiko, instructors in French and Russian, were surprised when a delivery boy knocked at the door of their classroom and presented them with bouquets of carnations and roses.

Notes said the students "were most grateful." Both teachers had spent hours transcribing Russian lessons on tape for the students to drink in during "leisure" hours.

Foreign language students presented Mme. Helene Desparmet, instructor in French and wife of the French consul general in Detroit, with a bouquet of American Beauty roses and heather during the holidays.

"I am deeply touched," she murmured when she received the tribute. She spends three hours a day in travel from her home in Grosse Pointe to the MSUO campus where she teaches five days a week.

At the beginning of her assignment, she planned to remain at the university until this quarter when a replacement was expected from Paris. Very much behind the desk now, she explains: "I will stay until June. I cannot leave my students now."

Dr. Paul Tombouliian and Dr. William Hammerle announced they will hold voluntary "review" classes in chemistry once a week this quarter by popular request.

Last quarter extra sessions before exams began about 7:30 in the evening and broke up about 11.

As many as 60 students turned out for the "open end" discussions. They took turns bringing tea in a thermos to the teachers for that break between problems.

Dr. William Klubach, assistant professor of philosophy, said his "favorite" Christmas gift was a theme written about him by one of his students following the assignment of an English teacher to write up a personality. The theme was called, "No Dry Biscuits."

The same faculty member attracted so many students — 125 —when he offered a dinner-meeting, review class in history that the event had to be switched from a small restaurant in Rochester to a large one in Birmingham.

Dr. Mary Ann Cusack found colorfully decorated cookies in various sizes and shapes turned in with her final themes. The note read; "In appreciation of your many kindnesses." Among the themes was an "unassigned" poem to the teacher.

Thomas Fitzsimmons, assistant professor of English, was requested by his students to register each of them personally.

They said they were afraid of losing the opportunity to remain in his English classes this semester, which might occur if "just anyone" were left to assign them to sections.

Stricken Boston Mayor Honored for Courage

NEW YORK (AP)—Ten days before Boston's 1955 primary election, city council candidate John F. Collins was stricken by polio.

The disease paralyzed his throat, arms, abdomen and legs. Three of his four children were also stricken.

Collins' political career seemed finished.

"Shall I tell them you will withdraw from the race?" asked his wife, Mary.

Collins looked up from his hospital bed and answered: "Under no circumstances will I get out of the campaign. We'll have to work harder."

They did. Mrs. Collins toured Boston's 22 wards in a tireless campaign. Her husband was victorious in the primary and went on to win a council seat. Last fall, an underdog candidate, he was elected mayor after campaigning from a wheelchair.

A new honor was awarded today to the family.

For courage in "meeting the crisis of disease" and coping "with the threat of disaster," the Collinses were named the 1960 March of Dimes Family of the Year.

It is the first time an entire family has been named, said Basil O'Connor, National Foundation president, at the award presentation ceremony.

Blaze in Press Plant Causes $50 Damage

A fire in the stereotype department of The Pontiac Press yesterday afternoon caused an estimated $50 damage.

The fire was located in an overheated air vent over a large metal melting pot in the rear of the building. Firemen said soot clogged the vent, setting a fan motor afire.

No one was injured and the small blaze was extinguished immediately by firemen and Press employes.

Tammany Head DeSapio Out?

N.Y. Paper Says That Mayor Wagner May Lead Warring Party

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner is apparently replacing Tammany leader Carmine G. DeSapio as top man of the Democratic party in New York state in matters of national politics, the New York Times said Monday.

The article said Wagner had conversed with leading contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination or their representatives concerning the state's 114 delegates to the party's national convention in Los Angeles next July.

Among possibilities raised by Wagner's new role, the paper said, is that Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts may get the bulk of New York's convention votes as long as he appears to have a chance of winning the presidential nomination.

Former President Harry S. Truman apparently urged Wagner to assume the lead role, warning that unless the mayor directed Democratic strategy and policy within the state, New York would be almost without influence at the convention.

The Democratic party in New York City has been split in a clash between Tammany Hall, the bellwether New York County organization, and a group led by former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman and Mrs Franklin D. Roosevelt.

DeSapio, who also is national committeeman for New York State, seemingly has agreed to Wagner's activities, the article added.

State Fair Produces 4th Profit in 5 Years

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan State Fair reported today that it had a profit of $10,119 for 1959 — making four years out of the past five that it has operated in the black.

General Manager Donald Swanson made his report to the Michigan State Fair Commission which opened a two-day session today.

He said the 1959 state fair revenue at Detroit Fairgrounds was $766,125.77 against an expenditure of $756,006.12. He said the net operating profit for the past five years was $106,236.62 or an annual profit of $21,247.32 for the five-year period.

Uncle Sam Hurt by Lack of Taxes on Jet Fuel

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The airlines' shift to jet planes is costing Uncle Sam a pretty tax penny.

The reason: Piston engines burn gasoline which Uncle Sam taxes at two cents a gallon. Jet fuels are tax-free.

President Eisenhower noted this in his budget message Monday, telling Congress that the conversion from piston engines to jets is causing "serious revenue losses" to the government.

The Chief Executive asked Congress to boost the aviation fuel tax to 4½ cents a gallon — and to make it apply to jet fuels as well as to gasoline.

The extra money, he said, would partly offset the growing costs incurred by the Federal Aviation traffic and enforcing safety standards.

To Enter Adlai Slate in D.C.

He Had Asked Friends Not to Do So, but They Seek Mass Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supporters of Adlai Stevenson have announced plans to enter a full slate of delegates in the District of Columbia's Democratic presidential primary May 3.

Stevenson, the party's nominee in 1952 and 1956, had asked his supporters not to enter a slate pledged to him.

But Seymour M. Chase, president of the Stevenson-for-President Draft Committee of the District, announced Sunday that the slate would be entered to allow expression by "thousands upon thousands of people in the District who prefer Stevenson for president."

The Stevenson slate would be the third entered in the race for the District's nine votes at the Democratic National Convention. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) and Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) have announced they will enter the primary.

Mexican Labor Import Program Pays Own Way

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Mexican farm labor import program is more than paying its own way and American employers are paying a lower fee for the recruitment of braceros.

The status of the program is set forth in the budget figures and supporting statements submitted to Congress Monday by President Eisenhower.

Some 440,000 Mexican aliens are expected to be legally admitted into the United States in the fiscal year ending June 30 to work on farms and ranches, as compared with 447,750 in the 1960-39 12-month period. The estimate for the year beginning July 1 is 425,000.

The Mexicans are recruited by their own government and transported to five reception centers in this country, where they are contracted for by American employers.

Notwithstanding an estimated reduction in revenues next fiscal year, a drop from $6,605,699 to $4,586,800, the recruitment part of the program is expected to still pay its own way, the budget report stated.

DAILY NEWSPAPERS SELL TOBACCO FROM MAKER TO SMOKER

CIGARETTES, CIGARS AND PIPE TOBACCOS have built the 350-year-old tobacco industry into one of the nation's largest businesses. Its steady growth over the years has been due in great part to imaginative advertising, notably in daily newspapers which it has used to gain consumer acceptance of its many brands. In 1958, consumer expenditures for all kinds of tobacco products in the United States and Canada exceeded $7 billion.

National tobacco companies use daily newspapers for a variety of reasons. For example, they use newspaper advertising to reach the greatest number of prospective customers; to implement selling strategy as potential varies, and to counteract competitive moves quickly. That is why the tobacco industry in 1958 increased its investment in daily newspapers 23.4% over 1957.

Tobacco distributors and retailers know the daily newspaper as the action medium on the local scene. They aggressively tie-in with national campaigns by stocking, displaying and selling the tobacco products advertised in the daily newspaper.

With a record 58,605,000 circulation, daily newspapers can smoke out more sales because they reach more people than any other medium; because they sell products all the way from manufacturer to consumer.

THE TOTAL SELLING MEDIUM IS THE DAILY NEWSPAPER

Voroshilov Flies Off for a Visit to India

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet President Klementi Voroshilov flew off in a Moscow blizzard today for an official visit to the sunny climes of New Delhi.

The 75-member party included Ekaterina Furtseva, only woman member of the Soviet Communist party's Presidium, and Frol Kozlov, a first deputy premier.

Voroshilov's two-week visit will be the first trip to India by a Soviet leader since 1955, when Nikita Khrushchev and then-Premier Nikolai Bulganin toured the country, drawing vast crowds.

Gives Shoes to Young Cleric Warms Soles

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Brother Bill Harrod held his annual shoe party Sunday, marred near the end when the supply of shoes for barefooted youngsters was depleted in some sizes.

About 1,500 children sought shoes in the wooden mission in West Dallas, a segment of the city consisting mainly of shanties and tar-paper shacks.

Most of the children received shoes, but in the late afternoon, the supplies for children 8 years and older became depleted.

The Rev. Mr. Harrod, a Baptist minister, said, "We've had more shoes and kids today than the last three years combined."

Most of the children walked from their homes on bare feet or in shoes so badly worn they provided little protection. The temperature was about 45 degrees. All needed warmer clothing.

Brother Bill, as West Dallasites address him, has been giving shoe parties for 12 years. The shoes are donated by merchants or purchased with donations.

But not all the children could be made happy. The three Collins brothers were among the few who reached the mission too late to find their sizes.

Jimmy, 12, Jack, 10, and Arthur, 8, waited in line two hours until the announcement that the stock of larger shoes was depleted.

The faces of the trio showed no emotion when the announcement was made. They appeared numb.

Their blond hair was long, down over their ears. Two coats, both mackinaws, had to be shared by the three.

Alaska's Dem Delegation Will Reman Unpledged

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (AP)—Alaska's nine votes in the Democratic national convention will not be pledged to any candidate for the presidential nomination.

The state convention voted Monday to send an unpledged delegation to Los Angeles next summer. The convention also decided to bind the 18 delegates by unit rule. This means the state's nine votes will be cast in a bloc.

Russia Critical of U.S. Budget

Moscow Radio Claims It Lacks Definite Cuts of Military Funds

LONDON (AP) — A Soviet broadcast today called President Eisenhower's new budget a disappointment because it made no cut in military allocations.

"This comes at a time when the Soviet Union once again slashes its military spending," said Moscow radio.

Despite the widely trumpeted Soviet claims, the demobilization announced by Premier Nikita Khrushchev last week will bring the Soviet armed forces down to only a little less than America's.

Khrushchev further assured the Supreme Soviet that the Soviet Union has the strongest arsenal.

Moscow radio's English-language commentary, beamed to North America, claimed the new U.S. budget showed no tendency to "clear the world's climate." It said:

"What is needed is concrete deeds and reducing armaments, armed forces and military spending as the Soviet Union has done."

Name 16th District Chief Asst. State Secretary

LANSING (AP) — Gordon Trave, 16th District Democratic chairman and a captain in the Wayne County Road Patrol, Monday was named assistant secretary of state, effective Feb. 1.

Trave's appointment, by Secretary James M. Hare, is a part of a reshuffle that moves Billie S. Farnum, Hare's present deputy, to a top level Democratic Party job, and John Dodge, Hare's No. 1 man in Detroit, to Lansing as Farnum's successor.

President's Budget Runs 952 Pages – It Figures

WASHINGTON (AP)—Just to look at President Eisenhower's budget is a sobering experience.

It's something like a metropolitan phone book, although not so exhilarating. It weighs four pounds, has 952 pages (plus a 78-page introduction), cost $5.50 and presents statistics scampering everywhere, in tiny print.

Eisenhower sent this budget to Congress Monday, and two observations can be made immediately:

(A) Any—well, almost any—college trained economist could understand it, and (B) probably no more formidable book will be published this year.

Even its first sentence is discouraging to one who loves and would like to protect the English language from governmental harm.

"Pursuant to the provisions of the Budget and Account Act (31 U.S. C. 1-24 and other applicable laws," it begins gaily, "the budget for the fiscal year 1961 contains the President's recommendations for the work program and financial program of the government for the 12 months beginning July 1, 1960, and ending June 30, 1961."

Open the big book anywhere. Here's page 369, and news from the general counsel's office at the Agriculture Department.

It will cost $3,358,845 to give legal advice to this one department. By contrast, our first attorney general worked parttime, since in all the departments of government there wasn't enough work to keep one lawyer occupied.

Press Wants to Hash Out Problems With Castro

NEW YORK (AP) — The Inter-American Press Assn. wants a meeting with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro to try to iron out problems of North American newsmen in Cuba.

The executive committee of the association voted Monday to instruct the president of the organization, W. H. Cowles, president and publisher of the Spokane, Wash., Spokesman-Review, to appoint a special committee to meet with Castro.

John S. Knight, president of the Knight Newspapers, had suggested such action be taken.

Confab on Cyprus Decides to Delay

LONDON (AP) — Turkish Foreign Minister Fatin Rustu Zorlu expressed hope today that snags delaying independence for Cyprus will be overcome within the next two months.

"We hope that everything will be all right, and that they will make the necessary progress in due time," said Zorlu who represented Turkey at a three-day conference on the Mediterranean island's future.

The conference wound up Monday after putting off birth of the Cypriot republic from Feb. 19 to March 19.

The delay was suggested by Archbishop Makarios, president elect of Cyprus, after the negotiators failed to agree on the size of the military bases Britain would retain on Cyprus.

James Roosevelt Irate Over Religious Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif) Monday voiced "dismay and indignation" over published accounts that Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La) faces religious obstacles to his selection as chairman of the Democratic National Convention next July.

Roosevelt, in a statement, said the impression was being created that Boggs, as a Catholic, "would make rulings unduly favorable to a Catholic presidential candidate."

If any Democrats believe that, "they should be deprived of party leadership," Roosevelt said.

Canada Will Insist on Warhead Control

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker says his government will insist on controlling the use of any American nuclear warheads stored in Canada.

The prime minister gave this assurance to Parliament Monday night after opposition leader Lester B. Pearson declared the United States should not have special custody over any weapons in possession of Canada's armed forces.

Diefenbaker said negotiations are under way with the United States to arm Canadian forces with American nuclear weapons. He said the United States will retain ownership of the nuclear warheads but Canada will control their use in Canada.

A recent survey in Connecticut found that of 44,000 applicants for new driver's licenses, 20,000 were visually below par but only 4,400 were using corrective glasses.

Paris Meeting Hears U.S.-Canadian Views

The present conference in Paris between two competing economic groups, the Common Market and the Free Trade Association, was called to consider ways of "pursuing trade policies directed to furthering the development of less developed countries and to maintenance of harmonious international relations."

Previous to the conference officials of the United States and Canada met in Washington to discuss possible trade discriminations by the European trade groups. Despite Commonwealth ties and trade preferences, Canada, the next most prosperous country in the world after the U.S., is worried and this country also is keeping a wary eye on the evolving European trade patterns.

Common concern of these two neighbors has overshadowed minor economic frictions and is somewhat of a departure from Prime Minister Diefenbaker's enunciated ideas of orienting Canada more toward Britain. As is the case in this country, high wages make Canadian goods hard to sell abroad and the European trade groups could force Canada to rely more heavily on U. S. markets and vice versa.

American and Canadian views have been presented at the Paris meeting. They are a perfectly legitimate desire to see that the gains from regional economic cooperation in Europe will not injure the interests of freer world trade.

Dale Harris' Name Will Not Be Forgotten

The name of Dale C. Harris will rank high in Michigan band circles for many years, undiminished by his impending retirement from the Pontiac school system post of band director.

It was under his leadership that Pontiac became a real power in band competition, ranking at the top year after year.

His leadership was also felt on the state level, at which he formed a state band organization and participated in several other groups. The attainments of such a man are not easily forgotten.

New Talks Will Test Khrushchev's Sincerity

Although Russia's Deputy Prime Minister Mikoyan on his visit here last year contended that the Soviet Union had no obligation to pay for World War II lend lease, negotiations are being held in Washington looking toward settlement.

Following the war the United States asked all countries which had received lend lease from us to make partial repayment for civilian-use goods then in their possession. This was in line with previously signed agreements that "such transferred defense articles . . . as shall not have been destroyed, lost or consumed," be returned as well as articles determined by the President to be useful to the U. S. Russia is the only holdout.

In World War II the United States furnished the Soviet Union with 585 ships and materials valued at $11 billion. This country had reduced its claim from $2.5 billion to $800 million. Russia offered first, $200 million and then $300 million and there the discussion ended in 1951. These figures do not include the 84 merchant ships for which the State Department still holds Russia accountable.

This debt is said to have been discussed at Camp David by President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev. Soviet willingness to renew the discussions may be due to a hope for the easing of U.S. trade restrictions. The importance this country attaches to the talks is indicated by the assignment of Charles E. Bohlen, our top Russian expert, to the job of negotiating.

In any event the talks will show just how sincere the Russians are in wanting to ease East-West tensions.

There are so many things a person can do or fail to do which will affect his health adversely that sooner or later he's bound to die.

Friends of Foxes

Animals Have Plenty of Very Ardent Supporters

Baby sitter: A crying need.

Following the recent story in this column about the bounty on foxes, there has been a deluge of protests about continuing this method of dealing with this animal. In plain words, Mr. Reynard has a legion of friends.

The most strenuous of these is of Drayton Plains, who had a pet fox many years, and extols the intelligence and high value of these animals.

In company with many others, she says the benefits done by the wild fox far exceeds any damage it may cause. It is an arch enemy of mice, rats and other small animals that do millions of dollars in damage every year.

Letters from sportsmen, scientists, tree growers, farmers and many others all say that the bounty should be discontinued. They contend that it is worse than a waste of money.

Weather watcher for many years, of Pontiac Trail says that in every winter we always have at least one bad spell of icy roads, but that it may come in any one of the six different months. A few years ago it was just after Thanksgiving, and we had no further trouble all winter. One season it did not take place until early in April. Such is Michigan.

Pierce Flewelling

Chopping through the ice on Pontiac Lake, states that it is in five layers, with a strata of snow or mushy ice between them. This is what renders it quite unsafe, regardless of its thickness.

In spite of the efforts of Detroit papers to send people several times as far to find much less, our own Mount Holly continues to draw the biggest ski crowds in Michigan.

A pair of robins are spending their third winter near the home of

Mr. and Mrs. George Selsby

at Williams Lake. She feeds them twice daily and they roost at night in a spruce tree.

That topmost friend of our feathered friends, of Lake Oakland, urges everybody to now get out their bird feeding boards. Most of the weeds, grass and other foraging places are covered with snow, and you can soon accumulate a happy gang if you put out just an ordinary menu. And they'll sing thankfulness.

Mrs. Grace Fein

This column still sticks to its prediction of several months ago that the Republican ticket will be

although the names may not appear in that order. Our forecast that will be the Democratic nominees still maintains. And in that order.

Well, They at Least Made the First Plateau

David Lawrence Says:

Budget Criticism Shortsighted

WASHINGTON — The average man will not take the time or the trouble to analyze the President's budget. He will read instead the comments of the partisan critics—those who say the proposed expenditures aren't high enough and those who say that the very idea of using a surplus to wipe out some of the public debt is impractical and that the money should be spent for all sorts of projects — and, besides, who believes there will be a surplus anyhow." There certainly will not be if the "spenders" have their way.

LAWRENCE

When the budget comes to Congress, the problem is too often viewed from the standpoint of partisan gain or loss. When the President declares that he expects a budget surplus of $4.2 billion and that this should be applied to a reduction of the public debt, the skeptics immediately say there will be no such surplus.

Others think it is a mistake to cut down the debt and that more money should be spent on either defense or public welfare.

But a federal budget is at best a compromise. Someone has to exercise an over-all judgment. Members of Congress represent particular districts or states, and many of these legislators do not look at a budget from the national standpoint. Only the chief executive seems to express that viewpoint.

The best way to describe the new proposal for the coming fiscal year, which begins July 1, is to call it a hold-the-line budget. It is amazing that the proposed budget of expenditures has been held down to $79.8 billion as compared with $78.6 billion for the current fiscal year that ends June 30.

It will be recalled that the 1959 budget was for $80.7 billion, so that actually there is something of a reduction to be noted in the course of the two fiscal years.

The 1959 budget, moreover, had to take care of a deficit due to the recession. Eisenhower feels that, now that business has recovered, the excess of tax receipts over expenses should be applied to the public debt. He says:

"Unless some amounts are applied to the reduction of debt in prosperous periods, we can expect an ever larger public debt if future emergencies or recessions again produce deficits.

'SURPLUS REQUIRED'

"In times of prosperity, such as we anticipate in the coming year, sound fiscal and economic policy requires a budget surplus to help counteract inflationary pressures, to ease conditions in capital and credit markets, and to increase the supply of savings available for the productive investment so essential to continued economic growth."

Nowhere in the President's message is there a detailed discussion of the effects of inflation on government costs, but the steady increase over the last several years in the annual budgets is due to the fact that the prices of the same quantity of articles bought by the government now are substantially higher than ever before.

In national defense, the new budget is just a small amount higher than last year. Yet the increased costs to the government due to inflation constitute a sizable amount. This means that the government must cut down on what it buys in order to keep within the same limits of expenditures.

The defense budget is around $41 billion. There are critics who think the military budget should have no limits. But if budget limitations were disregarded, the net result of such a course would be to weaken the whole economic structure not only of this country but of the free world.

The budget doesn't contain all that Congress may want to see spent but, unless limits placed by the President are respected, the result can be more inflation and a consequent rise in prices not only for the general public but for the government's own purchases. That's why the hold-the-line philosophy has been adopted by the administration as the best possible course under the circumstances.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Tonsillectomy Death Rate Negligible? Ask Survivors

In a letter to the editor of an Eastern paper, a doctor-reader tells the world:

DR. BRADY

Negligible, perhaps, to doctors who perpetrate the atrocity, but not to the parents, grandparents, uncles, aunts, brothers, sisters and schoolmates of the victims.

In the last 10 years, adds the doctor-reader: "A total of approximately 20,000 tonsillectomies were performed in the two hospitals in which I work and the record shows only one death among these."

Having established scientifically that tonsillectomy is really a jolly little adventure — and thereby showing that my fat file of tragic newspaper stories about it is fictional—the eminent reader turned his attention to electro-coagulation and gave the world his opinion of it:

"Electro-coagulation as a substitute for surgical removal was promoted by the manufacturers of diathermy machines about 25 years ago. It was given a fair trial and abandoned by most ethical practitioners as being near useless."

To the best of my knowledge no one who is skilled in diathermy treatment of infected tonsils regards it as a "substitute for surgical removal." Obviously the doctor is misinformed about electrocoagulation.

EFFECTIVE TREATMENT

The proper purpose of diathermy treatment (electro-coagulation and electro-desiccation) is to sterilize, pasteurize, disinfect, destroy or drain septic foci in the tonsil — which is the ideal and, I believe, the most effective treatment for infected tonsils.

Young children's large tonsils are seldom infected.

Anyway diathermy treatment is seldom applicable to children under eight years of age, because no general anesthesia is used and young children usually cannot cooperate with the physician, as the patient must, for this method of treatment.

Young children, that is children under 13 or 14, probably (note I say probably, because it is a matter of opinion or belief) need their tonsils (1) for maintaining defense against the C R I (common respiratory infections) and (2) for normal general development.

So, notwithstanding the wild-eyed insistence on "getting every bit of tonsil," I will vote for tonsillotomy.

"I hate to add one iota to the sorrow or remorse of anyone whose child has been sacrificed to the moloch of tonsillectomy, but I am bound to say that if tonsillotomy were employed today I'd have no use for that file of mine, for tonsillotomy (instantaneous removal of the obstructing portion of tonsil) was and is more dangerous or fatal than extraction of a tooth.

Police Situation Stirs Protests

I read in the Pontiac Press that our efficiency expert can't find the Chief's badge. It's about time City officials called in a Mr. Westman to check on Mr. Eastman.

I've watched this Straley thing from the beginning. The farther it goes the worse it gets. Our politicians tell us when there's a law passed we must abide by it. It doesn't make any difference if we like it or not.

Now Circuit Court passed a ruling that charges brought against Straley were not worth the paper they were drawn upon. Still no one seems to accept that fact. The City Manager and City Commission just gave Straley back to Eastman.

In my opinion, Eastman isn't qualified to work with Straley, let alone work over him. He has cost us dollars and cents and a million words of bad publicity that we didn't deserve.

Just a Voter

100 W. Brooklyn

Of all the silly situations I've heard, this Straley-Eastman is the worst. I've received some crackpot telephone calls, saying "This is Mrs. So-and-So." They're all too silly to talk about. I can always take the telephone off the hook, but it seems the entire City can't get the police chiefs to declare peace.

All you teen-agers and so-called hoodlums, be good until these boys get things settled. Juvenile delinquency is real expensive, but this situation in the police department is expensive and ridiculous. Will they begin to grow up?

Silly Listener of the News

To the man who waits light shed on Straley, he surely needs it. The court didn't find Straley right, as he puts it. The judge only found that the Civil Service decision couldn't hold up because of a legal technicality regarding the date. This was caused by Willman shilly-shallying around until the correct date for filing charges had passed.

The court didn't say Straley was innocent. They only ruled on the legal technicality. We in Pontiac know the Civil Service Commissioners did their best to help rid the City of a man who couldn't even get to the rank of sergeant on the Flint police department. How could Willman have considered such a man capable of this important job?

Crane Tells Damage of Smoking

Al H., is a smart athletic coach. His teams are always top contenders because he mixes sound medical and psychological strategy with his coaching. In tribute to his state coaching association, I'm offering specific facts to explain why smokers get short of wind. Scrapbook this case and also tomorrow's follow-up for heart victims.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE D - 456: Al H., aged 29, is the athletic coach of a city high school.

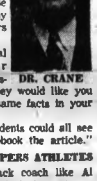
"Dr. Crane," he began, "I wish you'd repeat your advice about the specific medical reasons why smokers are short-winded.



DR. CRANE

"Last year you spoke at our high school assembly and outlined those reasons why smoking hampers athletes.

I told several coaches in our state athletic association and they would like you to give us the same facts in your column.

"Then our students could all see them and scrapbook the article."

TOBACCO HAMPERS ATHLETES

Suppose a track coach like Al is facing a crucial track meet.

Would it be smart for him to let his runners donate a pint of blood a piece just before their race?

Certainly not, for the lack of a pint of red blood corpuscles will lower the oxygen carrying power of the blood.

Well, the same thing occurs when athletes smoke. For they inhale a lot of carbon monoxide in the incomplete combustion of the tobacco and cigaret paper.

Carbon monoxide kills the oxygen-carrying power of the red blood corpuscles.

Oh, the corpuscles are still flowing along in the blood. But they are now "fixed" so they cannot pick up oxygen as they pass through the lungs.

They are thus no more helpful to the athlete than the red blood cells that he might donate via a blood transfusion.

Heavy smoking can even produce a 10 per cent saturation of hemoglobin with dangerous carbon monoxide.

DRIVING HAZARDS

Actually, tests have shown that only three per cent carbon monoxide in the blood will also reduce your acuteness of vision and your depth perception, so eye experts warn against the hazard of tobacco for auto drivers.

Imagine how much more dangerous the effects are on the runner or swimmer whose heart demands every bit of oxygen possible.

You athletes are thus penalizing your hearts when you smoke, so be fair to that wonderful "motor" of your human chassis.

Furthermore, smoke irritates the lining of the windpipe and lungs. With irritation, more fluid occurs, as you may recall when you got blisters on your palms from unfamiliar hard work.

The same excess secretion of fluid occurs in the lungs. But oxygen must pass across those lung membranes!

If a thicker layer of fluid separates the blood capillaries from the air spaces of the lungs, obviously, the transfer of oxygen is slowed down.

This thickening of fluids also explains why smokers have chronic coughs until they often think they have chest tuberculosis.

And if you are in a crisis, as during a heart attack, and your blood needs a lot of oxygen quickly, then this thicker fluid layer may even tip the scales in favor of the Grim Reaper.

You coaches might profitably send your players to the school library to study chapter eight of my book "How to Cash-in On Your Worries," for it offers charts and a fuller explanation of why tobacco hampers athletes.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 10 stamped, self-addressed envelope and 30¢ to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Dems to Fight Ike's '60 Budget

Call Foreign Aid Bid Primary Objective of Their Paring Knife

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic Congress signaled its intention today of recasting President Eisenhower's budget along the lines of its own political ideas.

Prime target in a drive to pare down the over-all $79,800,000,000 spending total forecast for the year beginning July 1 seemed likely to be the President's request for $4,175,000,000 in new money for foreign aid. This included two billion for military outlays.

Although Eisenhower estimated the amount of actual aid spending at $3,450,000,000, he asked for more appropriations to stretch the program out into the future. The quick consensus was that he will get less new money than he expects to spend.

On the other hand, Democrats laid the groundwork to reshuffle and increase the $40,985,000,000 defense program. They showed immediate irritation and disappointment that Eisenhower's space recommendations were not more comprehensive.

In other comment, they balked at increasing postal rates or gasoline rates, as Eisenhower asked. They criticized his housing proposals. They raked his proposal to raise the interest ceiling on government bonds.

By way of action, they called a Senate Democratic caucus Wednesday to take the first steps toward passage of a billion-dollar school construction bill there is every indication the President will veto.

Outnumbered Republicans announced they will fight not only to keep the budget balanced but to assure the $4,184,000,000 surplus Eisenhower forecast.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) said Eisenhower, in making this prediction, was trying to commit his successor, since he will leave office nearly six months before the fiscal year ends.

BIG BLOWHARD — A surplus jet engine, a modified caboose, plus a little technical knowhow have been combined to form a weapon that gives Old Man Winter a run for his money. By harnessing and aiming the powerful exhaust of a B36 bomber engine, New York Central scientists have produced a snow blower, shown being tested above, which can blast yard tracks and switches completely free of snow and ice for a distance of 100 feet. Guiding the 1,000-m.p.h. blast of the jet engine with a movement of his hand, an operator can clear the tracks ahead and on either side and right out from under stalled cars. The blower in full operation this winter, will save thousands of dollars.

76 Letter Carriers to Be Feted Tonight

Local government, civic, post office and school officials tonight will fete 76 Pontiac letter carriers who have earned safe driver awards in 1959, presented annually by the National Safety Council.

A presentation ceremony will be held 7:15 p.m. in the Little Theater of Pontiac Northern High School.

Pontiac Postmaster Robert C. Miller is cohost of the affair with the city's public school system.

The evening's chairman is George H. Stewart, chairman of the Department of Driver Education in the Pontiac Public Schools.

Tull Lasswell, assistant manager of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be master of ceremonies.

Mayor Philip E. Rowdon will give the city's welcome and will be followed by guest speaker Dr. William A. Maas, director of the Highway Traffic Safety Center of Michigan State University.

The awards will be presented by Harvey W. Johnson of Chicago, regional safety officer for the Post Office Department.

Also on the program will be Mrs. Maude A. Spurgeon, a member of the National Executive Board of the Ladies Auxiliary of the National Association of Letter Carriers; Harold Wright, local letter carrier and state secretary of the National Association of Letter Carriers; and Robert W. Jockwig, foreman of carriers in Pontiac.

The letter carriers receiving the safe driving awards are professional drivers on mounted routes, parcel post or special delivery. Their safety program has been carried out in the Pontiac Post Office under the supervision of William Spadafore, general staff assistant and safety officer.

Six of the carriers will receive awards for more than 20 years of safe driving.

They are Manley Walmsley, 27 years; Ira Barton, 23 years; Charles Moore, 22 years; Irving Quackenbush, 21 years; J. E. Smith, 21 years; and George Tremper, 21 years.

After the main program, there will be a demonstration of driver education facilities by the staff and students of the Pontiac High Schools. Refreshments will be served by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

3 Plead Guilty in Burglaries

Hampton Brothers and VanLuven Youth to Be Sentenced Feb. 1

Three members of a Pontiac burglary ring, who police said confessed to a string of 28 burglaries in Oakland County over the past three months pleaded guilty at their arraignments before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Samuel S. Hampton Jr., 22, of 584 Casemere St., Orion Twp., his brother, Donald E., 19, same address, and James C. VanLuven, 17, of 1000 Durant St., Pontiac Twp., will be sentenced Feb. 1.

Both Hamptons this morning pleaded guilty to second counts of breaking and entering during the nighttime. Other charges of safe robbery are pending until sentence. The Hampton brothers were released on $1,000 bonds.

VanLuven pleaded guilty to both counts yesterday. He was held in jail, unable to post a bond.

Standing mute to both charges was Gerald C. MacIntosh, 22, of 547 Valencia St. Judge Holland entered pleas of innocent for him and ordered trial for the next jury term. He was released on bond.

The four, along with a juvenile who has been turned over to juvenile authorities, were arrested Jan. 10 as a railroad detective spotted them leaving the Pontiac Lumber Co., 831 Oakland Ave.

Delinquency Laid to Coddling

Local Juvenile Court Workers Hear Cause of Gang Problem

An internationally-known social worker yesterday said parents, who 50 years ago held their children to a rigid environment, have today "gone over to the opposite extreme" in being too permissive and overly passive.

The result, according to Dr. Walter Friedlander, is today's delinquency problem.

Speaking at an in-service training program at the Oakland County Juvenile Court yesterday, the Michigan State University professor said this county was fortunate in not having the rash of juvenile gangs which are plaguing larger cities.

He said contrary to popular belief, juvenile gangs have few gogis other than the search for excitement. "Invariably, however, they are headed by sick leaders," Dr. Friedlander said.

He added that most youths today are lacking in consideration for others, and that they primarily are interested in obtaining pleasure for themselves.

In-roads against delinquency, he said, should start with trying to reduce this constant craving for sensation. Cultural kinds of programs should be substituted for the "who-done-its" on television, the speaker suggested.

Buy Land to Up Rambler Output

Aim for Million-a-Year Production Rate; Would Create 'Big Four'

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK — With Rambler production capacity bursting its seams, American Motors Corp. announced Monday that it has bought land in Kenosha and Milwaukee, Wis., for facilities to jump output to more than a million Ramblers a year.

That total would exceed the 737,000 cars produced by Chrysler Corp. in 1959 and would, in effect, expand the Big Three into a Big Four.

More than 50 per cent of all autos sold by 1963 will be compact cars, predicted George Romney, president of American Motors Corp. as he made the expansion announcement.

But, Romney said yesterday before the New York Society of Security Analysts, "this prediction is based on two premises.

"First, that the big three (General Motors, Ford and Chrysler) will permit customer demand to decide the expansion of their compact car programs and, second, the continuation of economic prosperity. If we encounter a recession or bad economic conditions, compact car sales could reach 50 per cent earlier than 1963.

"As to the big three compact car expansion, much will depend on their willingness to see compact car sales eat into their big car market position."

Romney also discussed his firm's earnings and production.

He said AMC's pre-tax earnings in the three months ended Dec. 31 were considerably higher than during the same 1958 period and that production capacity still was climbing with property purchased to allow expansion to a capacity of a million cars a year. AMC produced 401,446 cars last year.

REPORTS RISES

Romney said that during the three month period, which is the first quarter of the firm's fiscal year, wholesale auto sales were up 36 per cent and appliance sales up 25 per cent.

In the similar 1958 period, he said, AMC earned $21 million, equal to $3.56 a share on sales of $193,788,000 for a net income to sales ratio of nearly 10.9 per cent. The firm paid no income tax for that period but has paid it since.

Despite higher costs, Romney said, pre-tax profits as a per cent of net sales for the first quarter will be within ½ of 1 per cent of the ratio a year earlier.

He said AMC will be able to produce 625,000 cars by fall and with full overtime operations will have a capacity of more than 700,000 cars annually. He did not say when any additional facilities would be built.

Romney said production in the company's first quarter rose 35 per cent to 113,652 cars from 84,279 a year earlier. Retail sales rose 23 per cent to 92,940 cars from 75,793 and dealer orders and dealer projections for January, February and March exceed 60,000 cars a month.

Writers, Actors Talking Contracts

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Top movie executives, who heard some of their biggest stars in the role of union negotiators yesterday, turn today to contract talks with screen writers.

Nearly 600 writers went on strike over the last weekend against both movie studios and TV managements. Eighty of them were screen writers on assignment to the film studios.

Principally at issue is a demand by the writers and actors for fees (residuals) when post-1948 motion pictures are shown on television.

The actors' contract with the movie studios expires Jan. 31. So far no strike plans have been announced.

Convict-Composer Faces New Charges

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A convicted Negro rapist and hit song writer, on parole after serving time for raping six Negro women, was back in jail today on complaints of several white women.

Charges against Johnny Bragg, the singer who co-authored "Just Walking in the Rain," include the attempted rape of a college dean's secretary and a pregnant housewife, and robbery.

The husband of one of the women threatened to shoot Bragg in a police lineup last night.

Solon Shocked at Post Office 'Spy System'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Ken Hechler (D-W Va) says the Post Office practice of spying on employes through hidden peepholes is "vicious, unAmerican and insulting."

A Post Office Department spokesman said the inspection galleries, as they are called, are used only when tampering with the mails is suspected.

Hechler said Monday he was shocked to learn that a new post office at Ravenswood, W. Va., has such a system of peepholes.

Brutal Owner of Scamp Gets Month in Jail

BOSTON (AP)—It was jail today for the owner who broke the hind legs of Scamp, a little sad eyed black puppy, and a better life lay ahead for Scamp.

Owner Wilbur C. Winfield, 35, restaurant worker, went to jail for a month after a guilty plea yesterday to cruelty charges brought by the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The Angell Memorial Hospital, world's largest animal hospital, took in the whimpering, abandoned mongrel Dec. 31 and mended his legs. The pathetic picture of Scamp in casts was flashed across the country. Hundreds whose hearts were touched asked to adopt him. One will win a drawing later this week and become Scamp's new owner.

Suggest Chief Auditor Be Top County Administrator

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

The idea of making the chairman of the Board of Auditors top county administrator to strengthen Oakland government — a proposal long mentioned but never acted on — awaited reaction today from county supervisors.

It was the major recommendation among five modernization steps suggested by a special county government study committee

"It is the finding of your committee that the most practical, feasible, and immediate solution to increasing the effectiveness of administration in the county is to utilize the chairman of the board of auditors as the administrative coordinator of the county," said John L. Carey, Springfield Township supervisor and committee chairman.

The proposal, although it stirred not a word of discussion at yesterday's Board of Supervisors meeting, was expected by some Board members to become an issue as supervisors consider the possible re-appointment of present Chairman of the Board of Auditors Robert Y. Moore.

Moore, an auditor since 1930, has his foes among some supervisors.

Renaming the white-haired, 78-year-old Moore, or naming his successor, is expected to be weighed heavily in the light of the committee suggestion.

It and four other recommendations of reform were referred without comment to the Board's Ways and Means and Legislative Committee for further action.

One member of the committee said one recommendation "could get immediate attention." This was a plan of Huntington Woods Supervisor Fred L. Yockey that the county's several boards and commissions be either policy-making bodies or administrative, but not both.

To be singled out for study first, according to William F. Kalwitz, committee member, will be the Board of Road Commissioners. This was Yockey's idea when he raised the question of a possible conflict of policy-administrative business of the boards.

Other recommendations from Carey's study were:

1. Elect the Board of Supervisors chairman strictly on ability and qualifications and discontinue rotating the chairman between township and city supervisors.

2. Continue legislative efforts to consolidate the Drain Commission Office and Department of Public Works.

3. Seek again a constitutional amendment authorizing county home rule.

4 Thrown Out, 1 Tabled Waterford Weeds Laws

The Waterford Township Board last night repealed four outdated ordinances and tabled another for further action by the state at a meeting that lasted until after midnight.

For some time, the Board has been reviewing outdated regulations, and has abolished a police ordinance. The Board is expected to provide a modern one soon.

Other ordinances, controlling commercial parking lots, disorderly persons and sanitation, have been eliminated since these areas are controlled by the state.

They are more or less "excess baggage" in township operation, according to Clerk James Seeterlin.

An ordinance on the abandonment of ice boxes was tabled. State enforcement to go into effect March 12 makes it unnecessary for township laws.

In other business, a public hearing for the blacktopping of two blocks on Meigs street in Drayton Plains produced no objectors and was approved by the Board. Several residents from the Meigs street area were present to be sure the project was passed.

A formerly approved project for blacktopping one block on LaSalle street will be combined with the Meigs street plan, and bids for both streets will be opened Feb. 8. The estimated cost of the two projects is $18,000.

Township Attorney Paul Mandel has been authorized to study the establishment of Civil Service for the police and fire departments. He also was asked to check into the establishment of a police and fire board. The question of rezoning from residential to commercial use lots at the corner of Tilden and LaSalle streets was referred back to the zoning board because of improper descriptions of the property.

A discussion on the use of liquid or gas for chlorination of Lake Oakland Heights subdivision wells resulted in authorization of township engineers Johnson & Anderson to present a report. They will advise the Board on which system would be more feasible.

Township water department foreman Kenneth Squiers presented a detailed report on the $3,085 cost of treatment to the Watkins Hills water system.

Squiers said that before the treatment, the township averaged three service calls a week for low pressure, rusty water and faulty meters. Since the installations it has had no complaint calls.

He recommended that a similar treatment system be installed in the Lake Oakland subdivision where residents are having the same trouble.

Probing Report Joining Crashes

See Possibility Frank Knew Man in Nov. 16 Gulf Plane Disaster

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Authorities are investigating a report that Julian A. Frank, suspect in the Jan. 6 airliner bombing, knew a man under suspicion in a Nov. 16 crash.

The crashes, both of National Airlines planes, took a total of 76 lives.

Charles S. Collar, Civil Aeronautics Board examiner in Miami, called the acquaintanceship of Frank and Dr. Robert Spears of Dallas, Tex., "a little too strong to be called just a coincidence." He said "We will certainly look into the connection."

Collar commented after Los Angeles Asst. Dist. Atty. Julian Blodgett told of a statement by Dr. Donald A. Loomis, a Los Angeles chiropractor.

Loomis was quoted as saying Dr. Spears, 64, wanted Loomis to agree to hiring Frank, 32, of New York, as their council in an abortion conspiracy case.

Spears obstensibly died in the Nov. 16 crash in the Gulf of Mexico. Frank presumably died in the Jan. 6 crash at Bolivia, N.C.

Loomis was quoted as saying he wouldn't be surprised if Spears or Frank still live and had a connection with both crashes. Loomis faces sentencing today in the abortion case.

A recent government survey found that among American workers 25 years old and over, unmarried women are just as likely to hold two or more jobs as single men.

No Outstanding Problems

Kishi Signs Equality Pact at White House Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi arranged to visit the White House today to sign an historic treaty and to invite President Eisenhower to visit Japan.

The treaty would raise Japan, once a U.S.-occupied nation, to the status of equal partner in U.S.-Japanese relations and officially place her in the free world camp.

The invitation for an Eisenhower visit was carried by Kishi from Emperor Hirohito. This year marks the 100th anniversary of the arrival of the first diplomatic envoys from Japan to this country.

The White House has not yet said whether Eisenhower will travel to the Far East this year. The President plans to go to South America next month and to the Soviet Union in June.

Kishi, who arrived in Washington Sunday night for a 3½-day visit, had a 1¼ hour morning meeting scheduled with Eisenhower. The arrangements called for lunch at the White House, to be followed by the treaty signing in the East Room of the Executive Mansion—the room where President James Buchanan received the first Japanese mission in 1860.

NO PROBLEMS

U.S. diplomats knew of no outstanding problems between America and Japan that Kishi might want to take up with Eisenhower. This contrasted with mid-1957 when Kishi was last here and U.S.-Japanese relations were at a low ebb.

One of the problems then was Japanese distaste for the 1951 U.S.-Japanese treaty, which was negotiated while Japan was a defeated, disarmed and occupied enemy of World War II. That treaty provided for U.S. defense of Japan but gave Japan no say in how to carry this out.

Under the new treaty, similar to that America has with other free world friends, Japan becomes a full-fledged ally and wins a voice in U.S. activities that might involve her in the Far East.

United States agrees to help defend Japan against attack. It promises to consult Tokyo before making any major changes in men or weapons based in Japan.

TO HELP DEFEND U.S.

Japan pledges to help defend America, but this pledge is limited to Japanese territory because Japan's constitutional renunciation of war is interpreted as banning the sending of Japanese forces outside of Japan.

The treaty, to last at least 10 years and indefinitely thereafter, is welcomed by Washington as a free choice by Japan to join the West instead of adopting a neutral or pro-Communist stance in the cold war.

Indians in the United States own 53 million acres of land, according to the National Geographic Society.

Ex-Williams Aide Under Civil Service

DETROIT (UP) — The Michigan Civil Service Commission voted Monday to place under Civil Service protection the $13,500-a-year Retirement Board job now held by Gov. G. Mennen Williams' former executive secretary, Lawrence L. (Larry) Farrell.

And on hand to discuss his future privately with the commission was Williams' press secretary, Paul Weber.

Weber told newsmen he was on hand at the commission's meeting "to ask some questions and offer some suggestions" regarding a $13,000-a-year job which the commission reportedly has offered Weber on its own staff.

Both commission members and Weber said they anticipated no immediate action on the post, which would combine public relations and administrative work.

Under the commission's action in the job as executive secretary to the Michigan State Employes Retirement Board, Farrell now will only have to pass an examination to continue his tenure. The seven-member board requested that the job of its executive secretary be put under Civil Service.

Says GM Feathers Its Nest on Sales

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — The chairman of the Federal Trade Commission Monday criticized General Motors Corp. for backing legislation he claimed would eliminate free competition in selling automobiles.

FTC Chief Earl W. Kintner said a General Motors vice president told a congressional hearing last June that GM favored the principle of "franchised dealer territorial security" legislation.

Such legislation, now before Congress, Kintner said, would restrict free competition. He said the common purpose of the proposals is to "make it lawful to allocate consumers among dealers and to enforce such allocations by economic sanctions upon the dealers."

Long K. of C. Strike Flares Up Briefly

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—Pickets massed for 45 minutes in front of the Supreme Headquarters of the Knights of Columbus here Monday as a strike against the fraternal organization entered its 12th week.

Last week the supreme council sought a superior court injunction banning mass picketing. The case was set aside when the union agreed to withdraw the massed pickets.

Luke E. Hart, supreme Knight, announced in New York, where he attended the quarterly meeting of the Roman Catholic fraternal order's board of directors, that he would not submit the issues to arbitration.

This had been suggested by Local 329 of the Office Employes International Union, which represents the 350 strikers. The union proposed that the strikers go back to work during the arbitration.

THE LADY AND THE GIANT

By Clarence Budington Kelland

© 1959 by Clarence Budington Kelland © 1959 by The Curtis Publishing Company Distributed by NEA Service

THE STORY: Madam Cissie Janeway, rich and mysterious American in structure, is honored at a reception in the home of Banker Watts Orrin. Appleagle, a young lawyer retained by Madam Janeway and Lossie Pitt, are among the guests. Lossie who had received judgment on the older woman now seems to adore her.

VIII

Lossie seemed wholly unaware of me, as she was the center of an eager group — a group, if truth must be told, that was as large as that surrounding Madam Janeway, I joined the circle paying homage to the older woman, and she smiled at me graciously.

"I've great confidence in Mr. Appleagle," she said so that all might hear. "He is to handle my legal affairs. I find him very astute in such matters."

That changed the attitude of the group materially, and more than one of them eyed me with some envy, for it is a very desirable thing to be a legal advisor to so wealthy and highly connected a person as Madam Janeway.

Mr. Watts pushed his way to her side, accompanied by a stranger, a man with lofty forehead, shrewd eyes, hair that covered the upper half of his ears. He was wearing a black stock with a jeweled pin, and his manner seemed a bit pompous, though not disagreeably so.

MEET BARNUM

"Madam Janeway," Mr. Watts said, "may I present a gentleman newly arrived from New York whose name may not be wholly unknown to you—Mr. Phineas T. Barnum?"

"Indeed I know the name of Mr. Barnum. We are grateful to him for bringing to us the exquisite voice of Jenny Lind," she exclaimed.

"And the less exquisite voice of Gen. Tom Thumb," the great showman answered with a broad grin.

"And what, sir, brings you to our little city?" Madam asked.

"Curiosity, ma'am. A hint of the strange and marvelous. Where the seemingly miraculous manifests itself, there you will find P. T. Barnum. If it is something people will pay to see — then, ma'am, I must be the one to exhibit it. I suffer no rivals, ma'am. If the world wants to see or hear or to admire a thing, then it must come to my museum to marvel at it."

"Of course," she said agreeably. "Naturally, you will have come to investigate the Cardiff Giant."

"That is indeed so. Have you seen the monster, ma'am?"

"In all its mysterious glory," she smiled.

"In the morning," Mr. Barnum said in his pompous way, "I shall proceed to the spot to see with my own eyes."

"Sir," said Madam simply, "it will pleasure me to drive you to the spot. My attorney, Mr. Appleagle, will, I'm quite sure, accompany us." She raised her brows at me inquiringly.

"I shall be delighted," I assured her.

I went presently to see if I could extricate Lossie from her admirers. As I wormed my way across the room I espied to displace a handsomely bound small Bible from its place on a marble-topped table. It fell face downward and open.

A gentleman at my side stooped to pick it up, and as he did so he examined it, and then he emitted a low whistle.

"Cast an eye over this," he said to me, and showed me the blank page at the front of the book. On it was an inscription in crabbed handwriting.

"To my little Cissie, with the affection of Uncle Daniel Drew."

After breakfast the next morning I stood under Lossie's window and called "Yoo-hoo," and she flung up the sash and scolded me for it, pointing out that I was a jobbledehoy and had no manners, and that a gentleman did not stand under a window and yoo-hoo for a lady.

"I've put-honed for you since you were a year old," I answered, "and I don't propose to stop."

She leaned over the window sill, lovely as a flower. "Please, please, Orrin," she said softly, "never stop calling. Never. Never."

She came down shortly and we crossed the street to Madam's and sat in her cool parlor until she came down, stately and beautiful and smiling with anticipation. We got into her carriage and drove to the hotel for the great man, and then headed out the avenue toward Cardiff.

There was no need for us to talk; Mr. Barnum did that. Nothing was ordinary; everything was "prodigious" or "beyond belief" or "awesome." His famous elephant, Jumbo, was not an elephant; it was a "ponderous, paint-eared, pea-eyed pachyderm." I could feel Lossie, on the seat beside me, quivering with suppressed merriment, and every second I apprehended some irreverent outburst from her.

He told us of the triumphs of Jenny Lind, the Swedish Nightingale, and of Gen. Tom Thumb and his dainty little wife, Lavinia, and how he had bamboozled with his mermaid, and how he had emptied his crowded museum on a busy day to make room for more patrons by exhibiting a flaring sign over a door which read, "This Way to the Egress!" He was a mountebank, but on a majestic scale, and he awed while he amused.

We drew up with a flourish near the ticket booth on Stubby Newell's farm and paid our $4 for admission. Though it was not yet noon, there was a considerable patronage, and I could see Mr. Barnum counting and calculating. We entered the tent and stood gazing down at the huge stone effigy.

Rogers Reveals Thinking on GM

Appealed the Court's Decision Because He Feels Remedy's Poor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said Monday the government appealed the Du Pont-General Motors stock divestiture case because it felt the lower court degree offered an inadequate remedy for an antitrust violation.

Rogers at the same time renewed a request of last year that Congress complete action on pending bills to lighten taxes on forced divestitures of stock under antitrust judgments.

The attorney general made this appeal in a letter to Sen. J. Allen Frear Jr. (D-Del), who sharply criticized the Justice Department in the Senate last Thursday for further prolonging the 11-year-old Du Pont-G. M. litigation.

Frear described as "fair and equitable" a judgment entered in the case in the Federal District Court at Chicago in November. This judgment would permit the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Co. to retain its three billion dollars worth of G. M. stock for dividend purposes but would require transfer of the voting rights to individual Du Pont stockholders.

The Chicago court said any forced sale of the stock would be unnecessarily harsh and punitive under existing tax laws and might have adverse stock market effects.

The government appealed from the District Court decision in a further effort to require Du Pont to sell a portion of the G. M. stock over a 10-year period and to distribute the remainder to individual Du Pont stockholders as a stock dividend.

General Tire Opens Test Track in Texas

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—General Tire & Rubber Co. announced opening Monday of an 8½ mile tire test track near Uvalde, Tex.

Company Vice President L. A. McQueen said the track, largest in the world for testing tires, was necessary because of the growing congestion on public roads.

General Tire previously tested tires on public roads in California and Texas.

He said the Uvalde site was chosen for the track because it affords year-around testing and provides hot weather which puts tires to their most severe test.

Mc Queen said the track, with its one-mile radius curves, permits testing of cars at speeds up to 200 miles an hour.

Two obstacles have been encountered at the track—deer and rattlesnakes. Test drivers have been killing an average of 30 rattlers a night.

Following panel discussions by prominent educators on the subjects: Educational Programs in Michigan, Teaching Staff in Michigan, Financing Public Education in Michigan and Higher Education in Michigan, group discussions will be organized.

Delores Dills, Jack Claus Exchange Nuptial Vows

Beneath an archway of pink, blue and white carnations, lighted by candelabra, Delores Yvonne Dills exchanged vows with Jack Carl Claus, Friday evening in the First Social Brethren Church. The Rev. Thomas Guest read the double-ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Clarence Dills of Oakland avenue, and the late Mr. Dills. Mr. and Mrs. Bismark Claus of South Andersen street are parents of the bridegroom.

Five tiers of Chantilly lace over nylon fashioned the floor-length bridal gown. The sweetheart neckline of the fitted bodice was embroidered with sequins and seed pearls. Attached to a pearl crown was the fingertip veil of lace-edged tulle.

The bridal cascade of pink, blue and white carnations complemented the archway in the chancel.

Peach nylon fashioned the ballerina - length gown for honor matron Mrs. Lawrence Ray England, sister of the bridegroom. Peach netting was attached to a pearl headband. Her flowers were pink and blue carnations.

Other attendants included the bride's sister Geneva and a niece, Linda Pyle, in identical dresses of blue nylon and veiled blue headpieces. They carried pink and white carnations.

In the esquire corps was best man Lawrence Ray England, with the bridegroom's brother Donald, Robert Burgess, Jerry Burgess and David Chambers, seating the guests.

MRS. JACK CARL CLAUS

At the church reception, the bride's mother appeared in a gray suit with pink accessories. Mrs. Claus chose iridescent taffeta with pink accents. Both were pink and white carnations.

For traveling to northern Michigan, the new Mrs. Claus changed to a gray suit. They will reside on Pinegrove street.

It Depends on the Way You Ask

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: When I ask a friend to lunch with me (not as my guest) how can I get her to pay her share of the bill? When the waiter hands me the check very often this friend takes it for granted that I am the hostess and makes no attempt to offer her share of the bill. This can be very embarrassing. Is there a tactful way to get around this?

Answer: If you say, "Will you lunch with me?" you are definitely the hostess and must pay the check. "Let's lunch together" means that you each pay your share, and if the check is brought to you, it is entirely proper to tell your friend how much it is and ask her for her share.

Dear Mrs. Post: My brother and his wife are having their 25th wedding anniversary soon and are going to take all the family out to dinner. My sister may have a house guest at that time and she insists it is only proper to invite her guest. As the party is strictly a family gathering, I do not think it is necessary to ask her house guest, who is practically a stranger to the rest of the family, to this party. Am I not right?

Answer: A stranger would indeed be out of place at your family gathering and if possible your sister should put off the visit of her friend until after the anniversary. If she cannot do this, she will have to find something for her house guest to do the evening of the dinner as it would be most inhospitable to leave her alone.

Dear Mrs. Post: We have received a wedding invitation (including reception) from out-of-town friends. We are not going, and wondered in that case if sending a wedding present is required. Will you please advise us as we have had many conflicting opinions.

Answer: A gift should not be prompted by the invitation to a wedding but because of your personal friendship for the bride or bridegroom or their families.

Pair Weds at Union Lake

White lace over silk taffeta fashioned the floor-length gown chosen by Sharon Ann Johnson for her marriage to Frank Alexander Rivard in Cedar Crest Lutheran Church, Union Lake.

MRS. FRANK A. RIVARD

A shoulder-length veil attached to a Juliet cap studded with seed pearls and elbow-length gauntlets completed her ensemble. She held a colonial nosegay of white rosebuds.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Johnson of Overton street. The Donald Rivards of Leona drive, Oxbow Lake, are parents of the bridegroom.

Honor maid Sandra Eicick of Pontiac and the bridegroom's sister Judy, as bridesmaid, were ballerina - length peach organza over taffeta. Their flowers were white baby chrysanthemums.

William Parker was best man and Robert Erkie seated the guests. Both are from Oxbow Lake.

NO BIZ LIKE SHOW BIZ

Only one thing's more fun than looking at your own color slides. And that's showing them to friends with a brilliant running commentary.

Of course, friends are a wary breed and have to be approached casually. A good way to do this is with a Pocket Viewer tucked in a coat pocket. You can have your viewer out, unfolded with the first slide in place, quicker than your friend can run for cover.

Or, you can be more subtle. You can leave a folded illuminated Pocket Viewer on your desk at the office or your coffee table at home. Wait till said friend is settled deeply into his chair — then flip open the viewer and on with the show!

Of course, when you're lucky enough to have a roomful of friends cornered, that's the time to trot out a slide projector. These slim, trim, ultra-portable projectors can treat your audience to a slide show they can't help but enjoy. The new projectors show your slides big-as-life, sparkling-bright, sharp and clear.

P.S. Drop in soon. We'll be happy to look at your slides —anytime.

County Board Gets Holly Annexation Petition

Set City-School Talk on Sewage

Aim to Keep Building Program on Schedule in Troy Area

TROY — A joint meeting of the Troy City Commission and Board of Education has been set for 8:30 p.m. Jan. 27 to discuss the sewage disposal problem in the city.

The meeting was arranged after the school officials drafted a resolution asking for a commitment on carrying out a sewer project so plans for school construction could proceed on schedule.

The sale of bonds, amounting to $2,300,000 for building and also projects as approved by the voters, is planned for 8 the same night.

Construction work is slated to begin in March or April. The start of the building program, members emphasized depends on prior approval of sewage disposal plans and specifications by the State Health Department, which in turn, is waiting for action by the City Commission.

School officials claim that the City Commission will not get approval from the State Health Department until it has formally adopted a proposed time schedule for construction of sewage disposal facilities and estimates of their availability to schools and proposed schools in the district.

The educators say when this move is made they can plan adequate temporary measures for disposal of sewage at each school.

They are urging quick action because they say they believe the health and education of nearly all the 3,500 children in the city's schools will be affected "adversely by any delays in carrying out the school building program."

Board members are requesting the commissioners to prepare a statement outlining a project to construct main and lateral sewer lines in the district, together with approximate dates when the sewer service will be available to the individual schools.

Commission members also are asked to notify the Oakland County Department of Health and State Department of Health of such a time-table statement of sewer construction and the official commitment of its implementation.

Copies of the Boards resolution were sent to both health departments.

Man Shot in Wild Spree

Macomb Deputy Is Held

PORT HURON (UPI)—A Macomb County deputy sheriff was being held for investigation of attempted murder today after a wild spree in which he allegedly shot and wounded a man, wrecked a car and broke into a beer store.

Port Huron City Police identified the deputy as James W. Wootten, 34, of 6040 Waldo St., Sterling Township.

They said he apparently had been "out on the town" last night with Sally Adams, also of the Utica area.

Scott E. Haggard, 54, of Lexington first noticed the couple when he was driving to work on the midnight shift as a plant protection guard at the Mueller Brass Co.

Haggard said that Wootten was driving along, weaving from side to side of the road.

As Haggard turned off to enter the plant, he said, Wootten began firing wildly from his car. One of the several pistol shots pierced the back window of Haggard's car and struck him in the jaw. He was being treated at Port Huron General Hospital.

Wootten drove on for a short distance and then smashed his car into a utility pole. He and Miss Adams got out of the car, and she left.

Wootten then, according to police, broke into a beer store where he was found and arrested by city police and sheriff's deputies.

Officers said Wootten used his .38 caliber service revolver in the spree.

At Mount Clemens the Macomb County sheriff's office said Wootten was married only about six months ago and had "always been a fine officer. We can't understand what got into him."

He has been a deputy for about five years.

Haggard was reported in good condition at the hospital.

Six File for Two Vacancies on Troy City Commission

TROY — Six men, including one incumbent, filed nominating petitions by the deadline yesterday for the two positions open on the Troy City Commission.

The incumbent is Clifford F. Sutermeister Jr.

Challenging him for re-election will be the two candidates sponsored by the Troy Independent Voters' Council, John C. Czarnowski of 3881 Fernleigh St., and Robert J. Bargert of 118 Lovell St., and three others.

They are Roy L. Duncan of 1081 Wheaton St.; Thomas Stamps of 1180 E. Wattles Rd.; and Thomas D. Bennett of 2078 Alfred St.

Because more than four filed petitions for the two vacancies, there will be a primary election Feb. 15, the city clerk said today.

The other incumbent whose term expires this spring, George Yeakum, did not file for re-election.

Seek Tenfold Size Increase

Planners Say Limits Should Be Expanded to Benefit Industry

HOLLY — A petition asking that this village of two square miles be increased almost 10 times was received yesterday by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors' Cities and Villages Boundaries Committee.

The boundaries of the proposed 18-square mile annexation would be Eddy Lake road on the west, Rattalee Lake road on the south, Tucker road on the east, and Shield, Lahring and Tinsman roads on the north.

The annexation would include five square miles of the north portion of Rose Township.

The petition was submitted by the village on the recommendation of the Planning Commission after it completed a study of the community with regard to its future development.

FOR INDUSTRIAL GROWTH

"The Planning Commission recommended that the village limits be extended to allow for industrial expansion," said Village Manager Norman E. Tufford.

According to Tufford, there is no area in the village at present suitable for new industry.

Holly is building water, sewer and drain facilities that would be sufficient to serve much industrial expansion as well as residential and commercial expansion within the village boundaries, according to Tufford.

Should the proposed area be annexed, village taxes could be reduced, fire insurance rates for those living in the proposed extension would be lowered and police protection from the village would be added, Tufford said.

Water and sewer lines would also be extended, he added.

150 FAMILIES INVOLVED

Approximately 150 families would be involved in the annexation, Tufford noted.

Only two industries are located in the proposed extension area, he said. They are the Consumers Power Pipe Wrapping plant and the Experimental Products Co.

Another problem to be overcome by annexation, according to Tufford, is the inability to improve certain streets which lie partially in the village and partially in the township.

Holly Township Supervisor Seeley Tinsman said he didn't think it "would pay to be annexed by the village."

"I just don't fell that the village can provide additional services any better than those persons living outside the village are getting now," he said.

Speakers to Answer Farmers During 'Week' at MSU Feb. 1-5

The question whether the United States or the Soviet Union will lead the way in agriculture in the future will be discussed by Lauren Soth, editorial writer for the Des Moines Register and Tribune, during Farmers' Week at Michigan State University Feb. 1-5.

Another guest speaker on the program, which is expected to draw farmers from Ohio and Indiana as well as from Michigan, will be U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Michigan). He is a member of the Senate Agricultural Committee.

State milk legislation and price bargaining also will be considered during the five-day seminar.

In commenting on the various programs, General Chairman Charles Beer, MSU agricultural economist, said that price bargaining in agriculture is a growing issue in which farmers have had limited experience through cooperatives and marketing orders.

"We've set this program up to answer some questions that farmers are raising," pointed out Beer. "For instance, does bargaining power through group action hold promise for agriculture? If so, what form will it take? Will government help be necessary."

"State milk control legislation is another topic that's controversial right now," continued the economist. "Although several bills have been introduced into the legislature, none have passed for various reasons."

"It may seem a little strange for a farm program to talk about international power struggles," the economist admitted, "but the farmer can no longer avoid world problems.

"Three important phases of this contest for power are raising agricultural production, raising non-agricultural production, and raising production in under-developed countries. Our speakers will deal with these points."

Of special interest to dairymen is the Thursday afternoon program on dairy farming adjustments, pointed out Beer.

"A major question is 'Should I expand my operation,'" he said. "The program will deal with this question, along with others on price outlook, management of costs and organizing the dairy farm cropping program."

Another Thursday program, in the morning, is expected to interest dairymen as well as other livestock farmers, said Beer. Mechanizing feeding operations in on the mind of many Michigan farmers as a way to reduce labor and handle more animals.

"We'll try to answer some questions that farmers are asking about what size of operation is needed to make mechanization pay, how to select equipment and how to manage such an operation for top returns," he said.

Race to Preserve Town From Volcano

KAPOHO, Hawaii (UPI) — Workmen began building two giant dikes early today in a grim race to keep a river of molten lava from destroying Kapoho.

Giant bulldozers went to work in the eerie glow of Puna's lava fountains shortly after Gov. William Quinn declared the district a "major disaster area" and cabled President Eisenhower for federal emergency funds.

The dike-building project was under the supervision of Dr. Gordon MacDonald, who directed the valiant but futile effort to save nearby Warm Springs Resort.

Oakland DPW Adds 2 More Communities

The Oakland County Department of Public Works has added two more community systems to the number of water and sewer systems it operates when smaller areas cannot cope with the projects.

Approved by the Board of Supervisors yesterday was the turning over to the county department of a water and sewer system in the Kimberly Subdivision in Farmington Township and the water system in Knollwood Heights Subdivision in West Bloomfield Township.

Both townships, under a 1957 law setting up the countywide DPW, requested the county to maintain and operate the two systems "in the best interests of the citizens."

R. J. Alexander, DPW director, said the number of systems now operated by the department number close to 30. They are operated without any costs to county taxpayers as costs are borne by users of the individual systems, he said.

The Boys' Club activities at present include a Saturday morning sports program in the Avondale High School gymnasium with professional supervision paid for from club funds. It is open to all boys in the Auburn Heights area.

LANSING (UPI) — A building given to Lansing in 1916 on the condition that it never be destroyed will crumble before demolition crews.

Mayor Ralph Crego announced last night that bids will be taken March 7 for the destruction of the Prudden Auditorium, a local landmark. The building has been virtually vacant since opening of facilities at the civic center.

The extent of the project has not yet been determined, according to Supt. Donald C. Baldwin.

He added that the Board expects the "citizen-faculty planning committee will complete its recommendations by the middle of February. The committee is headed by Dr. Robert Chandler and Mrs. Robert Allured.

Dr. Chandler and three of his subcommittee chairmen made progress reports to the Board last Wednesday night.

Mrs. Clair Magoon told of the curriculum committee's survey of other junior high schools on their courses of study as compared to Rochester's. Clifford W. Holferty reported for the facilities committee and James Ludwick on the finance committee's findings.

Also present at the Board meeting was Dr. John Terry, chairman of a similar study committee for the new Howard L. McGregor Elementary School.

Baldwin praised the committeemen for the "phenomenal amount of work accomplished in two months' time."

The next move by the Board will be drafting preliminary specifications in line with the recommendations so that the architects can start the first drawings, Baldwin said.

In other action, Board members approved the purchase of $6,250 worth of audio-visual equipment for the schools.

Sellout Expected Tonight at U-D

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit's Titans, unbeaten in 10 games on their home floor this season and ranked 20th in national collegiate basketball standings, seek vengeance tonight when they play host to the Irish of Notre Dame.

The South Bend, Ind., team boasts one of two defeats pinned on Detroit in 14 games this year. Notre Dame turned the trick on its home court Jan. 9, beating the Titans 75-63.

The only other Detroit loss this season was an early season defeat by Indiana.

A sellout crowd of more than 9,000 was expected to jam Detroit's Memorial Building.

The Irish, 11-3 on the season, have posted 21 victories to Detroit's lone triumph since the series began.

Chiefs vs. Huskies in Wrestling Tonight

The long-awaited rematch of the Pontiac Northern - Central wrestling teams comes up tonight at the Huskie gymnasium.

Coach Steve Szabo's Chiefs scored a 25-21 home victory in December and went on to establish a winning streak of five before bowing to Lansing Sexton.

Northern has been going good following a slow start and should be stronger than when the city foes met before with star Winfred Miracle ready to go. He was injured and missed the previous match. PNH boss Bill Willson will have heavyweight Earl Hewitt as another new starter.

Northern Goes After Revenge at Keego Gym

Maples Have Key Tilt; Clarkston vs. Ortonville, Rochester at Troy

By CHUCK ABAIR

Things will likely get worse before they get better for the Waterford Skippers in basketball.

Jolted with two successive Inter-Lakes beatings after sharing the lead, the locals step outside the league tonight to take on 6th ranked power Highland Park at the Waterford gym.

Pontiac Northern will also be back in action traveling to Keego Harbor for a revenge battle with West Bloomfield.

The Huskies and Skippers clash Friday in a big I-L battle that could determine whether PNH has the stuff to go all the way.

Loop play on two fronts will have a hand in making it an interesting Tuesday schedule.

The big one will be at the Birmingham Seaholm gym where the Maples host Ferndale attempting to stay unbeaten in the Eastern Michigan race. Fort Huron goes to Hazel Park in the other game.

A tightened Southern Thumb title run is down for a full slate. Brown City visits Anchor Bay, Almont plays at Memphis, Dryden vs Armada and Capac is at New Haven. Memphis has dropped its four games by a total of nine points.

Other big attractions on the non-loop level will include Clarkston at Ortonville, Rochester at Troy and Saginaw at home against Bay City Handy.

Rounding out the schedule will be Royal Oak Shrine at River Rouge Lourdes, Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows at Benedictine, Madison host to Lamphere, Oak Park vs Thurston and Roseville at home to meet Inkster Cherry Hill.

Waterford should get some lift returning to its home court after having little success on the road. The Skippers could gain state-wide prestige by just giving the Parkers a close battle. The chances of upsetting Longworth Mapp, Bill Sarver & Co. seem very slim.

Northern has not forgotten a 53-51 setback to the Keego boys. The Huskies have won three in a row since to head the Inter-Lakes while the Lakers have dropped three of four.

Seaholm is 3-0 in the EML and 4-1 over-all, Ferndale has won its last two after dividing four and appears ready to live up to pre-season expectations.

Improved Clarkston, a very surprising member of the second ten in the AP ratings with a 2-4 record, will be trying to avenge a December defeat. Unbeaten Ortonville is among the state's "C" powers. Rochester has bowed five straight times. Troy is smarting from an upset by Lake Orion.

A Wrong Turn, More Trouble for John Henry

OAKLAND, Calif. (UP) — A turn into the wrong traffic lane has resulted in more trouble for Detroit Lion halfback John Henry Johnson.

Johnson was to appear in Municipal Court today on charges of failure to support his ex-wife and five children.

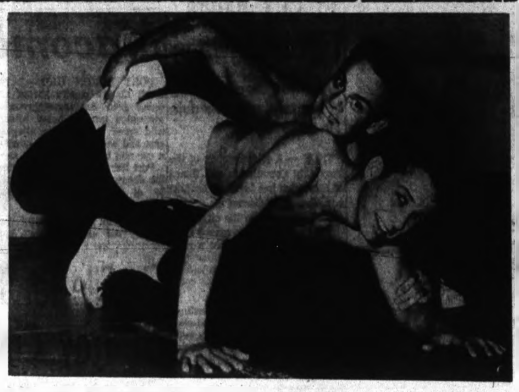
The big football player was stopped by a Berkeley policeman yesterday for making the wrong turn. He was cited for driving with an outdated California drivers license and then arrested on non-support charges.

Barber's Birdie Putt Wins at Yorba Linda

YORBA LINDA, Calif. (UP) — Plucky Jerry Barber of Los Angeles shook off the pressure of an eagle-3 fired at him by Billy Maxwell on the final hole Monday and won the $20,000 Yorba Linda Open Golf Tournament.

Barber settled for a par 72 and a 72-hole score of 278 and $2,800 top money, but had to sink a 13-foot putt for a birdie to escape a tie with Maxwell in a thrill-packed windup before a crowd of thousands around the 18th green.

SPORTS



LOOKING FOR REVENGE — Stan Hertel, above, and Ralph Clauson will be looking for revenge along with their Pontiac Northern teammates tonight when they entertain strong Pontiac Central. They hope to be wearing these same smiles after the varsity match which starts at 7:30. PCH won a close one in December.

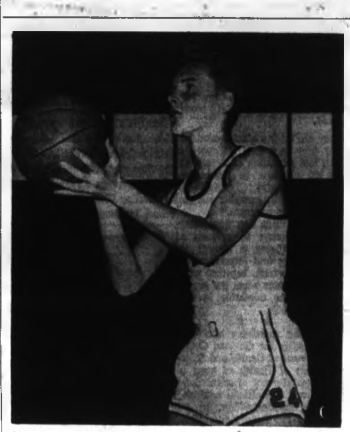
Gunsel May Keep NFL Post



NORTHERN BOMBER — Pontiac Northern followers will be looking for another big night from Bruce Norton as he leads the Huskies into action at West Bloomfield tonight. PNH is seeking sweet revenge and its 4th straight triumph. Norton tops the scorers with a 14.1 average.

Acting Leader Appears Sure of Holding Job

Three Possible Future Additions Represented at Expansion Hearing

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — National Football League owners took time out today to sharpen their vocal weapons in preparation for the opening of what looms as a hot meeting tomorrow, but one of the major issues appears to have settled itself without a shot being fired.

The naming of a commissioner to succeed the late Bert Bell was expected to be a major item of business. It still is, but the controversy over candidates apparently has been eliminated with Acting Commissioner Austin H. Gunsel due to get the job without opposition.

This became apparent last night when Attorney Marshall Leahy of San Francisco said he would not move from that city. He and Gunsel were the only two mentioned seriously, and it was reported the West Coast lawyer had the support of five owners, and Gunsel seven.

However, even Leahy's backers had said they would not approve of a commissioner with headquarters in the far West, as 10 of the 12 league teams are east of the Mississippi, so his refusal to come to the East or Midwest because of family ties — he has five teenage daughters — apparently eliminated him from consideration.

So unless a dark-horse candidate suddenly "emerges, or Leahy changes his mind, the new commissioner will be Gunsel.

Leahy left a loophole to the effect he would "listen to talk of my being commissioner if they will let me establish headquarters in San Francisco," but there appeared small chance of such a concession.

At an informal "hearing" last night representatives of three of the four cities being considered as members should the league vote to expand were given an opportunity to give their chamber of commerce talks boosting the merits of their bids for berths.

Father-Son Banquet Thursday

Oosterbaan Guest Speaker

Plans have been completed for the 22nd annual Father and Son banquet to be held Thursday evening at the Elks Temple.

In a last minute change, Bennie G. Oosterbaan, former University of Michigan football coach and Wolverine All-America, was announced as guest speaker in place of Nick Kerbawy.

Kerbawy, general manager of the Detroit Pistons, found it necessary to attend the National Basketball Association meeting in Philadelphia from Thursday to Saturday.

BENNIE OOSTERBAAN

Oosterbaan, who served as head football coach at U. of M. for 11 seasons before retiring Jan. 1, 1960, has been associated with the Ann Arbor institution of learning for 34 years.

During his years as head coach after succeeding Fritz Crisler, Oosterbaan's team compiled a record of 63-33-4.

The Wolverines won or shared the Big Ten title three times and were national and Rose Bowl champions once.

Presently, Oosterbaan is serving the University in the field of public and alumni relations.

He was the only Michigan player ever to be named on the All-America team three times — in 1925, '26 and '27.

The banquet, annually one of the top sports-social events in the county, drew a near capacity crowd of 700 last year and is expected to do so again Thursday.

Entertainment will be provided by the Rochester Lions Club clowns, along with Frederick the Magician and Tony Hoang with his French poodle "Minnie Mouse."

With Oosterbaan as the program of speakers will be Aldo Forte, assistant coach of the Detroit Lions, and Mort Neff of Michigan Outdoors Fame.

Toastmaster for the event is Bill Flemming, popular Detroit sportscaster.

Numerous celebrities and members of the Detroit pro teams, including the Pistons, Tigers and Lions, along with boxing and bowling guests will be in attendance.

Tickets are still available at the Elks Lodge and dinner is scheduled for 7:00 p.m.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Dear Sir:

I read the letters concerning what our names will be called when Waterford High School's name is changed. You have a wonderful sense of humor and I go along with the silliness of changing our name after 10 years. I hope the school board will realize this January 19th when representatives of Student Council meet with them.

Judy Warra
Waterford

Dear Judy:

I sympathize with you. I doubt if your pleas will be heard anymore than the pleas of Royal Oak students when their school became Dondero High School. School boards in other districts have done it quickly and quietly often without concern for public opinion.

Dear Sir:

When the Waterford school board decides to pull the switch on the high school name, maybe they will call our teams the Edison Flashers. Don't you think that's a pretty good nickname? The writers ought to get a "charge" out of it.

Against the Change
Tom
Waterford

Dear Tom:

It would be something different — if you want to be that different.

Dear Sir:

When they change the name of Waterford High School and kill the nickname of the athletic teams, this school board will probably go down in history known as the "Skipper Sinkers." When I get old enough to vote in a few years, I hope to remember some of the names and maybe pull a few plugs myself.

William S.
WTHS

Dear William:

When you're old enough, vote whichever way you wish, but be sure to vote.

Dear Sir:

I'm against changing the name of Waterford High School and especially the nickname of our teams. "Skippers" is a pretty unique name. We could make the second Waterford, Eastern Sailors or Commodores and keep our water touch to it. Or how about Waterford Lakes High School?

Janice
Waterford Township

Dear Janice:

How about putting an ant hill under the cornerstone and calling it Waterford Hills HS, or Waterford Heights HS? Aren't we just having fun looking for a name?

SCL's Unbeatens Meet in Title Test at OLSM

The chips are down today in the Suburban Catholic League basketball race. The circuit's only unbeaten clubs collide at Orchard Lake tonight, and the result of this battle between the defending champion OL. St. Mary club and the other claimant to this year's leadership, St. Benedict, may well determine the 1960 titlist.

Both have won all loop tests handily, with the Eaglets, however, having played one less tilt because of the squad's holiday absence until the first weekend of the new year.

Both clubs were hopeful today, but neither would claim superiority, although Coach Art Massucci of the Ravens commented this morning, "St. Mary's has more height and seems a bit stronger. But we'll be in there all the way."

Varsity game time is 8:15 p.m.

In a postponed game (from last week) St. Rita Monday outlasted a stubborn St. Clement crew 54-50 at Center Line. It was a see-saw battle, with frequent changes in the lead until a late Viking rally clinched the victory.

Comparison of the two top squads tends to give the Eaglets an all-around advantage except in the matter of defense. Ravens have held opponents to 194 points for six games, against Eaglets' 206 for fives games. St. Benedict has kept its opposition to an average of just over 22 points a game. Eaglets have allowed an average of 41 for opponents.

However, OLSM's point production has averaged 84½, compared to Ravens' 48. Eaglets have failed to exceed 50 points only once, a 48-39 count against St. Clement which also held the Ravens to a 42-38 score, one of four Benedict totals in the 40s.

The starting lineups; alternates:

All-Star Pin Points

THE TWO-FINGER GRIP

By ED LUBANSKI

The only other bowler on the tournament circuit besides myself who uses a two-finger ball is the famous Ed Kawolics.

Ed is a hold-over from another era when most bowling balls had only two holes.

I started bowling as a youngster in 1949 with a two-finger ball, switched to the conventional three-finger because everyone else used it, but went back to the type I began with. I've stuck with it and been lucky enough to win some big tournaments.

The two-finger grip allows me to control the ball better. I not only can get my middle finger out of the ball easier, but only have to worry about one finger when "lifting," or putting side spin on the ball.

I get a more accurate "feel" of the ball as I release it. Most bowlers must make certain that their index and middle fingers come out of the ball at the same time with the exact amount of upward pull on the ball.

Using only two fingers in the ball prevents me from exercising my natural inclination of trying to roll the ball too hard.

Although I suggest some bowlers give the two-finger model a try, I'd say don't use it unless your fingers are constructed somewhat along the lines of mine—short and very thick.

A long, bony finger won't properly support the weight of a two-hole bowling ball.

Gophers Dump Illini

Minnesota's improving Gophers avenged their only Big Ten loss of the season last night and took over third place in the conference race with a 77-70 triumph over Illinois.

Hawks Face Loss of Litzenberger for Part of '60

CHICAGO (AP) — Ed Litzenberger, captain of the Chicago Black Hawks hockey team, who was seriously injured in an auto accident in which his wife was killed, apparently will be lost for the last half of the National Hockey League schedule.

The 27-year-old Hawk wing who has led the team in scoring for the last three years, was removed from the critical list yesterday by physicians at Swedish Covenant hospital. But they said it was still too early to tell how long he would be hospitalized. He suffered head and possible internal injuries.

Litzenberger's wife, Doreen, 26, was fatally injured when their car, driven by Mrs. Litzenberger, skidded on the ice-slicked Edens expressway and crashed into a concrete abutment early Monday morning. Mrs. Litzenberger was hurled 20 feet from the car.

Green, Appleton Pace Preps

Top Scorers Unchanged

Prep scoring leaders Sonny Green of Emmanuel for Oakland County and Brighton's Don Appleton for the surrounding area continue to head their divisions despite strong opposition.

Green held his ground by being idle and has a 24.8 mark for four games. Royal Oak Dondero rebound specialist has taken over 2nd place with 23.3 with Ron Morlan of Holly and Bud Acton all even at 22. Fourth is Booker Hurner of unbeaten Pontiac Central with 19.1.

Morlan and Acton share the lead for total points each having 186 in nine outings.

Ortonville, out of action since winning its first five, still has three players among the top 20. No other school has more than one.

On the area level, big Appleton is the No. 1 man in both average and total with 269 digits in 11 starts for 24.5. Terry Wills was idle Friday so he remains at 22.6 followed by big Jim Black of Romeo with 20.1.

Almost and Armada each have a pair among the best ten on the area list.

The amazing shooting display put on by Bruce Norton for Pontiac Northern stole the show in county ranks during the past weeks. Despite his 34-point night, the little junior is still short of the top 20 with a 14.1 average.

Here is the finest reason for RADIO FREE EUROPE to remain on the air—a truly moving letter from a woman in Poland: "My late son and I wrote to you twice before." Letters the Reds stopped from reaching RFE: "To us, disinherited from freedom, your broadcasts gave us many a moment of joy and faith in a better future. I remember how my son would listen to your broadcasts hour after hour—how happy they made him. . . . Then he returned from the Urals with a wounded head—a ghost, not a man. He had to lie in bed for 8 months before the wound healed, and all that time he listened to your broadcasts on the radio. Before he died, on a Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, and even though he was in terrible pain, he asked that the radio be brought to him. Then he heard the Holy Mass for the last time over RADIO FREE EUROPE. May God bless you for all the happy moments you gave this poor man who suffered so much, and may the Lord let you continue."

Held in County Jail for Embezzling Trial

To a charge of embezzling $40,000 from a Royal Oak auto agency William W. Murray, 51, of Detroit, yesterday stood mute in Circuit Court.

Murray of 16216 Whitcomb St., is charged with embezzling the money between June 1957 and last month when he was arrested. Bookkeeper for Scribner-Bohm firm, 1430 S. Woodward Ave., Murray told arresting officers he squandered all the money betting on horse races.

Arraigned before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland, Murray heard a plea of innocent entered for him. The judge returned him to the county jail pending his trial, to be held sometime next month.

He said he was "without funds" and wanted the court to appoint an attorney to represent him.

Girl-Fearing Bandits Get Prison Sentences

MOUNT CLEMENS (UP) — Two would-be bandits who were driven from the Hillcrest Country Club by a woman receptionist have been sentenced to prison.

Robert D. Crayton, 20, of Mount Clemens, was given 5-15 years yesterday, and Willie L. Johnson, 20, of Port Huron, got 2-15 years. Both had pleaded guilty to unarmed robbery charges.

Police said the two tried to hold up the club Nov. 24, but were driven away by Pamela Stetson, 25, a club receptionist, who grabbed a shotgun from one of the men.

Recorded Report on State Roads Too Good to Last

LANSING (UPI)—The Highway Department had to discontinue a telephone recorded report on road conditions to Lansing-area people because the Rera was just too popular.

The telephone service, available by dialing a Lansing number, told of conditions for driving throughout the state. A monitor on the number in one hour last Friday showed more than 400 busy signals.

Otis Hardy, public information chief for the department, asked that the number be discontinued. The heavy volume was interfering with calls to other customers on the same telephone number prefix.

Equipment which can handle many calls simultaneously is not immediately available but it may be used in the future.

Troy Man Facing Trial Next Month

Trial of a 28-year-old Troy man, charged with negligent homicide in the New Year's Eve traffic death of a Royal Oak man, will probably be held sometime next month.

Standing mute to the charge when arraigned yesterday before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland was Junior J. Kadrovach, of 980 Hart St. A plea of innocent was entered for Kadrovach by the judge.

Killed in the crash was Carl F. Stenzhorn of 202 S. Maple Rd. The accident happened on Rochester road south of Maple road in Troy.

Kardovach remains free on a $500 bond.

Mrs. McDonough was suing for divorce from her industrialist husband.

Mackie, Stahlin in Feud Again Over Road Probe

LANSING (UP)—Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie and Sen. John H. Stahlin (R-Belding) have resumed their battle over the Democratic official's administration of the road building agency.

The latest skirmish involves the question of reviving the committee which has been probing the department under Stahlin's chairmanship.

The probe group went out of business when the 1960 Legislature convened last week, but the Belding Republican has promised to try to revive it.

Mackie sent Stahlin a letter yesterday in which he maintained that putting the committee back in operation would be "a waste of money, time and effort."

From Belding, Stahlin replied: "I can appreciate the fact that he doesn't want the probe to go any further. If I was in his post, I'd be complaining, too."

There are 451,000 persons confined to hospitals in the U. S. on an average day, says the Health Insurance Institute.

Pay of Judges Sparks Debate

Legality of Action to Maintain Level Is Questioned

Circuit judges pay was a brief subject of debate again at yesterday's Board of Supervisors meeting.

Northville Supervisor Sydney Frid questioned the legality of the Board's Dec. 14 action of taking $5,000 from the county's contingent fund to keep the five judges' pay at $22,500 without referring the question back to the Salaries Committee.

"This Board had the right to take up the question of the judges salary and pass upon it," said Norman R. Barnard, county corporation counsel.

At the end of the meeting, however, Frazer W. Staman, Novi Township supervisor, agreed with Barnard, but added that "it does appear to the committee that rule 17 of the Board was violated in this matter."

The rule says that any expenditure of money request cannot receive final action until it is referred to the appropriate committee.

Staman urged the rule be followed in the future.

By a vote of 54 to 23 last month supervisors decided to transfer the money. This overruled Staman committee's decision that judges pay should be cut $1,000 to comply with a controversial state law beginning this year.

Humphrey Asks Old-Type Debate With Dick Nixon

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Democratic Presidential hopeful Sen. Hubert Humphrey today awaited a reply from Vice President Richard M. Nixon on a challenge to debate campaign issues in "native form."

The Minnesota senator last night urged Nixon to engage in a series of "Lincoln-Douglas type debates" with him and other candidates for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

"I propose that we draw issues out of a hat," Humphrey told newsmen prior to a television address. "A panel of newsmen can write down 10 to 25 issues which would be put into the hat. This way we could discuss the issues without the fanfare and the stooges."

Hart Calls Budget 'Improved' but . . .

LANSING (UP)—Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) says President Eisenhower's new budget "shows improved recognition for the country's needs."

But, the junior senator protested the budget "omits any sense of a national goal — there are no big targets to shoot at."

Noting that the budget has spurred talk of a surplus and a tax cut, Hart said:

"I would oppose talk of a surplus until we do something about cutting the debt and meeting the public needs."

To Vote on Ithaca City

Among those stricken was actress Marilyn Monroe who was confined to her bed. More than half a million persons have been stricken in the epidemic.

The Robesons came here on the invitation of the Soviet Peace Committee, Tass said. It said they were welcomed at the airport by the committee and "leading Soviet artists and working people."

Brother Fails to Convince Her
Heiress Spurns Pleas to Forsake Her Lover

PARIS (AP) — Runaway heiress Gamble Benedict told her brother Monday night she will never go home without her married lover, Romanian-born Andre Porumbeanu.

The 19-year-old New York debutante met her brother Douglas, who had flown from New York to remonstrate with her, in the deanery of the American Episcopal Church in Paris. Porumbeanu, 35, paced outside the church.

"Are you going home?" Porumbeanu asked the girl as she emerged from the church.

"Are you kidding?" she replied and threw her arms around him in a warm embrace.

Sources close to the girl said she had made Porumbeanu the sole heir of any fortune she might someday acquire. Although her grandmother controls most of the family fortune, Gamble is to come into a $500,000 trust fund on her own when she is 21 or when she marries.

Miss Benedict's brother arrived in Paris Monday for the avowed purpose of talking his sister into coming home. He refused to make any statements to newsmen and remained under the wing of attorney Robert Hoffman, who also came here from New York to see what could be done about getting the girl back to the United States.

Links Many Ills With Cigarettes

Cancer Society Doctor Also Puts Blame on Air Pollution

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Cigarette smoking increases the death rate resulting from a wide variety of diseases, according to Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, chief of statistical research for the American Cancer Society.

Dr. Hammond spoke yesterday at the closing session of a three-day international meet on "The Air We Breathe."

He said his thesis did not represent a retreat from the society's position that smoking and lung cancer are linked, but put lung cancer and smoking into a fresh perspective.

He cited a study that traced the deaths of regular smokers as compared to nonsmokers. Hammond said coronary artery disease was found to be the cause of more than 50 per cent of all the cigarette-linked increase in the death rate.

Lung cancer accounted for 11.5 per cent of the added deaths and other cancers, lung ailments and various strokes, ulcers and even cirrhosis of the liver, according to Dr. Hammond.

He said, however, that smoking was only one source of dangerous air contamination. Without exposure to air contaminated by smoke or other pollutants, "I doubt that the disease ever occurs."

Dr. Joseph Berkson, medical statistician from the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., told the symposium that most of the recent warnings about cigarette smokings alleged relationship to lung cancer are propaganda.

He likened statistics on the subject, including those of Dr. Hammond, to a "bikini. It reveals what is interesting, while concealing what is vital."

"The vital discovery in these findings is that the smokers in these studies are found to have a relatively high general death rate and that an examination of the specific causes of death discloses that all classes of disease are involved," he said.

Arrest 3 From Yale in Dorm Sex Parties

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)— New Haven police have arrested three Yale students—and plan to pick up more—in an investigation of dormitory sex parties involving a 14-year-old girl.

The arrests were the first since city police moved into the investigation Friday. Yale officials had learned of the case earlier. Twelve undergraduates resigned as students before the arrests.

Police Chief Francis V. McManus said about 15 students would be questioned. Asst. City Attorney Gilbert Winnick said a warrant would be issued for "every student we think we have a case against."

2 Stand Mute to Bad Check Charges Here

Pleas of innocent were entered for Robert M. and Edward F. Delaney in Circuit Court yesterday when they stood mute to charges of conspiracy to obtain money by false pretenses.

The two brothers, formerly of Birmingham and now of Toledo, are accused of cashing an estimated $15,000 in bad checks, money from which they hoped could keep their father's water softener business from folding up, police said.

The father, Emmett F. Delaney, is serving a prison term for selling another company's softeners to help his dwindling business.

The sons probably will be tried during the February jury term of court. Judge H. Russel Holland allowed them to remain free on bond.

'Twelve Angry Men' Liked Best in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Leading Japanese critics today named the American movie "Twelve Angry Men" the best foreign film shown in Japan in 1959.

For the best Japanese film of 1959, the critics chose "Kiku and Isamu," a story of Japanese orphans fathered by GIs during the occupation and abandoned by their mothers.

Unions Take Over Paper

Press Fights in Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Havana newspaper publishers critical of Fidel Castro's government and pro-Castro newspaper unions appeared headed for a showdown today on the question of press freedom.

Employes of the independent newspaper Avance took over publication of Monday's edition after the management refused to attach union disclaimers to articles and editorials the unions considered unfavorable to the Castro regime.

Avance publisher Jorge Zayas declared the seizure demonstrates that "in this country there now are no guarantees for free expression of thought." Zayas, an outspoken critic of the government, is Caribbean representative for the Inter-American Press Assn.'s Freedom of the Press Committee.

TO GIVE UP PAPER

A spokesman said the publisher has decided to give up the paper rather than bow to the unions. Zayas' whereabouts were not known.

The pro-Castro National College of Journalists and the National Federation of Graphic Arts Workers precipitated the press crisis when they demanded that "clarifying notes" be placed at the bottom of all news stories and editorials they considered objectionable after Jan. 15. The form note said that "the foregoing article does not conform to the truth or to the most elemental journalistic ethic."

Castro Monday rejected appeals from independent publishers to settle the dispute. Other independent Cuban newspapers are El Mundo, Diario de la Marina, Excelsior, Prensa Libre, El Pais and El Criaol. All are publish in Havana.

Louisville, Vancouver Honored for Fire Safety

BOSTON (UPI) — The National Fire Protection Assn. today named Louisville, Ky., and Vancouver, B. C., grand award winners in its annual fire prevention contest for 1959.

The awards, for which 1,541 entrants from the United States and Canada competed, are based on year-round efforts to reduce fires and educate citizens in fire safety.

Teamster Agent Gets Conditional License

Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland yesterday restored Frank A. Orsini's driver's license to a one-year probationary period during which the license can be revoked again for any traffic violation.

Orsini, 42-year-old business agent for Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, lost his license for driving under the influence of liquor in 1956. Judge Holland earlier upheld his lower court conviction on the charge.

Orsini, of 2200 Coe Ct., Pontiac Township, then petitioned in Circuit Court for restoration of his license claiming he needed it for driving some 7,000 miles a month in his job as business agent.

Grain Futures Stick in One Groove Today

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices scarcely budged today in meager early dealings on the board of trade.

Despite a good volume of export business in wheat overnight, that and other grains shifted only minor fractions during the first several minutes. Soybeans showed a sign of firmness.

Pakistan, as expected, bought 1,680,000 bushels of hard wheat. The trade also had a report that Turkey has been authorized to buy 100,000 tons and Israel 50,000 tons.

Commercial activity otherwise was negligible.

Egypt Accepts Red Dam Aid

To Get Help on Second Stage of Aswan Project; Termed Arab Victory

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt has accepted Soviet help to build the second stage of its billion-dollar Aswan dam. The Kremlin already is helping with the first stage of construction.

The official Middle East News Agency said the second stage—including actual building of the dam—will cost $273,100,000; of which $258,300,000 would be needed in foreign exchange to pay for equipment, material and technical personnel from abroad. Apparently the Soviet Union will supply the goods or the exchange on a long-term loan basis.

The agency hailed the new agreement between the Soviet Union and the United Arab Republic as an "admirable victory" for the Arab nation. As a result, it declared, President Abdel Gamal Nasser's cherished project—long a cold war pawn—will be built as one unit with no separation between stages.

The U.S.S.R. already has put up about 100 million dollars in financial aid, machinery and technical assistance to build the coffer dams and diversion can necessary before construction can begin on the high dam to harness the Nile.

Passports were available to Americans as a means of identification before World War I, but they weren't required for traveling abroad.

Stocks Decline as Rally Fails

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to decline early this afternoon amid scattered resistance to the lower trend. Trading was fairly active.

The top four steelmakers showed plus signs and a few of the motor stocks rose moderately.

Some specialty-situated stocks made gains going from fractions to about 2 points. The general run of pivotal stocks, however, remained under selling pressure and showed losses running from fractions to a point or two.

Wall street remained in a cautious mood and some of the big institutional investors were said to be more on the "sell" than the "buy" side of the market. Nevertheless, no attempt at a rally at the end of the first hour brought an increase in volume and a late ticker tape. When prices eased again, trading dried up — a favorable sign for the bulls.

U.S. Steel and Bethlehem were ahead by fractions. Jones & Laughlin was firm. Republic Steel advanced well over a point. While the rise by steels was described as technical, it was noted that U.S. Steel Board chairman Roger M. Blough has hinted that steel prices may be raised before the end of 1960.

American Motors and Studebaker-Packard gained slightly, Ford rose about a point while General Motors and Chrysler dipped.

Brunswick-Balke, after easing at the start, touched a new high and held a gain of about 2. American Machine & Foundry rose more than a point. Both stocks were helped by prospects for increasing use of bowling equipment.

Coca Cola, up about 2, continued to respond to a better dividend. Armour rose more than a point. A subsidiary has developed a new drug.

Losses of about 2 points were shown by Westinghouse Electric and Eastman Kodak. Down roughly a point were U.S. Gypsum, General Electric, Union Carbide and DuPont.

Would Hike City's Representatives

Seek Change in Supervisors

A proposal changing the formula controlling the number of city representatives on the Board of Supervisors, giving Royal Oak and Southfield one new member each, squeaked by on a nine-vote margin yesterday.

Discussion on the new formula brought an objection from Thomas C. Tiley, Commerce Township supervisor, that "townships are getting the small end of the stick" in representation on the Board.

Each of Oakland's 24 townships have but one elected supervisor on the present 83-member board, while the 22 cities have appointed delegations based on population.

Yesterday's proposal that necessary state legislative changes be sought to put the new formula in use passed 41 to 32. Voting did not necessarily follow township-city lines.

Pontiac's seven-member delegation, the largest on the board, split with four supervisors opposing the new formula and three voting in favor of it.

DISLIKES REMARK

One of the dissenters, Maurice J. Croteau, objected to Legislative Committee Chairman John G. Semann's comment that the new formula was "pulled out of a hat."

It would provide the following number of supervisors for these population ranges: Less than 7,500—1; 7,501 to 15,000—2. 15,001 to 22,500—3; 22,501 to 32,500—4; 32,501 to 50,000—5; 50,501 to 75,000—6; plus one each for an additional 25,000 or fraction.

Semann, who sought the change as part of the county's 1960 legislative program, said of the present 1935 formula were maintained after this year's federal census Oakland County would have a 91-member board.

It has been said by some that even the current size board is unwieldy.

Saying he wasn't protesting the proposal, Tiley said, however it is divided, it's not an equitable or democratic process.

A representative of Berkley, Semann told Tiley, who later said townships were being denied full representation, that complaining townships should incorporate as cities.

Another supervisor, Charles F. Cardon of Oak Park, said the present formula should be kept in hopes that a constitutional convention might take care of any such changes. This got nowhere.

Semann urged immediate action so that the new formula could be applied to the new census.

Stories Conflict in Area Knifing

Victim Stabbed in Back After Quarrel in Home With Boarder

LAKE ORION — Police Chief Neal Leonard yesterday questioned participants in an argument which climaxed in a stabbing here early Sunday and found the stories of the victim, his wife and the alleged attacker varied on one important point.

Was the victim facing his assailant or did he have his back turned?

Chief Leonard talked to the victim, Kenneth M. Ferguson, 50, who is in Pontiac General Hospital with stab wounds in the back and right arm.

He also questioned Ferguson's wife, Agnes; and the boarder in the Ferguson home, Tom Tomasella, 64, who is being held in Oakland County jail on investigation of felonious assault.

The argument started, the Fergusons said, when Tomasella complained that Ferguson's car was blocking his in the driveway and he wanted to get out.

According to the police chief, the Fergusons said they did not want Tomasella to leave because he had been drinking.

Tomasella told Leonard that Ferguson stepped him. The chief said it was impossible that Tomasella was facing the victim when the stabbing occurred because Ferguson was stabbed in the back. A large butcher knife was used, Leonard said.

Ferguson, after taking a turn for the worse last night, was reported improved today.

Mrs. Ferguson was to make a statement to the Oakland County prosecutor today.

The Ferguson home is at 54 Elizabeth St.

Personal Income Hits Record High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Personal income hit a record high in December as factory production surged ahead to recoup steel strike losses.

The Commerce Department said yesterday incomes advanced about 1 per cent last month. The gain, large for one month, lifted total personal income to an annual rate of $390,700,000,000.

For all of 1959, incomes—wages, salaries, rents, profits, dividends and other payments to individuals—totaled a record $380,100,000,000.

The appointment of Jack Vitou as manager of the W. T. Grant Co. Miracle Mile Store was announced today.

A Grant Co. store manager for five years in Akron, Ohio, Vitou, 37, will relocate shortly with his wife and four children in the Pontiac area. He has been with the company for 12 years.

Originally from Cleveland, Ohio, Vitou is a U.S. Air Force veteran and a business school graduate of John Carroll University in 1948.

Sets Zoning Hearing on Southfield Strip

SOUTHFIELD — A public hearing on the rezoning of nine acres of land on Northwestern highway near 10½-Mile road from residential to commercial will be held at 8 p.m. Feb. 8 in the city hall, City Administrator Robert J. McNutt announced today.

The Eaton Manufacturing Co. of Cleveland has an option on the land at $1,500 an acre. The firm, which produces automotive parts, plans to construct a million-dollar research and office building if the land is rezoned.

In other business the Planning Commission will hold a public hearing Feb. 10 to consider adding to the city master plan the controversial two-mile section of the proposed east-west expressway at 11½-Mile road between Inkster road and Northwestern highway.

A minor planet discovered by Dr. S. Arend of Belgium's Royal Observatory in 1954 was named "Brunonia" in honor of Brown University, Providence, R.I., one of the first colleges in the U.S. to teach astronomy.

Change in Welfare Costs Opposed by Supervisor

A protest yesterday from Arthur G. Elliott Jr., Oakland County Republican chairman and Pleasant Ridge supervisor, has temporarily sidetracked a county proposal that the state assume more of social welfare costs.

"I have some very grave reservations as to the advantage of our county advocating to the state further welfare responsibility," Elliott said at Monday's Board of Supervisors meeting.

The Board's Legislative committee was urging that the state take over general relief costs after a county had spent one mill of its tax equalized valuation for them. The ceiling now is 1½ mills.

Legislative planners said the new limitation would be nearer what the county has expended each year.

Supervisors didn't touch their previously approved plan to ask the state again to reconsider changing back to the old 50-50 split with counties on welfare costs. It now is 70-30 with the counties paying the larger share.

WHO PAYS?

But on the question of lowering the millage ceiling a half mill, Elliott asked: "Who do you think is going to pay for these additional funds?"

"You and I," Elliott answered.

"It doesn't make much difference whether we pay these taxes through the state or locally," he added.

He also cited the possibility that there might be "less attention or scrutiny" paid locally to investigating welfare recipients with the state assuming more of the costs.

Elliott's suggestion that the ceiling change be deleted from the county's proposed legislative program was voided when David Levinson, chairman of the Board's Ways and Means Committee, moved the matter be referred to his committee for further study. There were several faint "no's" opposing the referral.

Elliott was the only supervisor to criticize the plan from the floor.

Bells for the world's largest carillon, to be installed in the 187-foot tower of Kirk-in-the-Hills in Bloomfield Hills, have arrived in this country and are now en route to the church.

The shipment of 76 bells, weighing more than 60 tons, landed in New York Monday from The Netherlands where they were cast during the past 14 months.

The superstructure from which the bells will be suspended within the tower already is at the church. It will be assembled as soon as weather permits, said the Rev. Dr. Harold De Windt, pastor.

The complete carillon is the gift of an anonymous officer of the church. It will replace an electronic carillon that the church has donated to Alma College. Philip Steinhaus is carillonneur at the Kirk.

Dedication of the new carillon is being planned for just prior to Easter, Rev. De Windt said.

Africa to Hear Graham Preach

Pontiac Press to Carry Special Articles on His Evangelistic Tour

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham is on his way to Africa to preach Christianity.

"God loves the 200 million Africans as much as he loves Americans or Europeans or Asians," said the tall, blonde evangelist from North Carolina.

Graham left here by plane Monday. He will visit 16 major cities in Ghana, Nigeria, Southern and Northern Rhodesia, Tanganyika, Ruanda-Urundi and Ethiopia.

Before leaving here, Graham discussed his hopes for the tour with Tom McMahan, religion editor of the Columbia, S.C., State, who is accompanying him.

(Editor's Note: McMahan will write two articles a week on the Graham trip which will appear in The Pontiac Press as a special service.)

In a bylined Associated Press story, as told to McMahan, Graham said in part: "The year 1960 may be the most important period in Africa's history. We believe God directed the launching of this undertaking at the opening of Africa's year of destiny. We hope to be able to make some contribution to Africa's hour of decision.

"Many forces are battling for the mind and soul of Africa today. It is my prayer that Africa will turn wholeheartedly to Christianity. If Africa turns its back on the faith that made Western culture great, I fear that the former 'Dark Continent' will be plunged back into a period of darkness and chaos without precedent in modern history."

CHAMPIONS CHESSMAN — Sitting in front of his placard pleas to Gov. Brown of California, Bruce Bloomfield, 24, of Portland, Ore., vows to spend 11 days on the Capitol steps living on bread and water. Bloomfield is a University of California mathematics teaching assistant. He hopes his actions will aid author Caryl Chessman in his last-ditch stand for another delay in execution. He sits on a chest containing blankets and bread. The jug is filled with water.

Williams to Appear on 'Today' TV Show

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams will appear before a nationwide television audience Thursday morning on Dave Garroway's "Today" show, the governor's office said.

Garroway probably will query the governor on Michigan's financial problems and his ambitions for the Democratic presidential nomination, an aide said.

The show will be put on tape Wednesday on a New York-to-Detroit hookup.

Williams also is scheduled to appear Saturday with six other presidential hopefuls at a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Washington, D. C.

John Nance Garner Backs Johnson at 91

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — Former Vice President John Nance Garner, who has had little to say publicly about politics since he left Washington in 1940, Monday joined the Lyndon Johnson for President drive.

Garner, 91, who in recent years has given his endorsement to only a few candidates, accepted appointment as honorary chairman of the Uvalde County Johnson-for-President club.

Beverly Aadland Support Increase Appealed by Dad

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The father of Beverly Aadland, 17-year-old traveling companion of the late Errol Flynn, has appealed a demand that he pay higher child support.

Herbert S. Adland, 45, (he uses one A) an industrial chemist in Long Island City, N.Y., wrote Superior Court Judge Elmer D. Doyle for help and advice "in this mess."

Doyle was the judge who granted Florence Adland a divorce last May. Mrs. Adland, 45, asked that her $80 monthly alimony be increased to $150 plus $150 child support.

The letter said Beverly has a lead in a movie playing on Broadway and has written stories of her two-year romance with Flynn. It said she sold Flynn's love letters to a London syndicate for $17,000.

Mrs. Adland's attorney said she probably will drop her request for child support since the girl is training now for a show.

Courtroom Full of 'Wolves' for Divorce Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Glynn Wolfe, 46, a Hollywood hotel man who has had 12 wives, appeared in court with three of them Monday.

They were there to testify, if needed, for another of his former mates, Shirley Lou Wolfe Espy, 23.

Shirley, Wolfe's 10th wife, won a divorce from William D. Espy on default.

On hand but not needed as witnesses: Peggy Lou Wolfe Spencer, 29, Wolfe's wife No. 8; Sherry Wolfe, 19, No. 11; and Kathy Wolfe, 19, No. 12.

Pegler, Wed 8 Months, Sues Wife for Divorce

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Westbrook J. Pegler, syndicated newspaper columnist, is suing his wife of only eight months for divorce.

Pegler, 65, and the former Pearl E. Doane, 47, were married May 11 in New York City.

Introduced Him to Carole?

Witness in Finch Case Tells of 'Shady' Person

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A childhood playmate of pretty Carole Tregoff says he introduced her to a "shady character" and—

"She wanted to know his capabilities, from murder or any activity like that."

With this testimony by Donald S. Williams, 21, the prosecution opened its attempt Monday to tie Dr. R. Bernard Finch's red-haired mistress into an alleged plot to kill Finch's estranged wife.

Barbara Jean Finch, 36, was shot to death last July 18 outside their fashionable home in suburban West Covina. The rich surgeon, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, an ex-model and once his receptionist, are accused of murdering her to clear the way for their own marriage without having to give her a share of the Finch estate.

* * *

Miss Tregoff' attorneys lost a spirited fight to prevent testimony — given the county grand jury earlier — about an asserted deal to kill Mrs. Finch for $1,400 offered by Miss Tregoff.

In other developments:

Three apartment house managers said Finch and Miss Tregoff shared apartments—two in suburban Monterey Park and one in Las Vegas, Nev.

Actor Mark Stevens was quoted as saying he had offered Mrs. Finch a revolver shortly before her death.

He told the Mirror News: "I was so shocked at what she told me about her husband's attacks that I felt she should have some protection. When she refused to take the gun, I got a jackhandle out of the car and made her take it. I told her to wallop him with it."

Little Debbie's Become Very High Priced Star

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Little Miss Debbie Reynolds has become in the space of a year about the highest-priced young star.

The other morning, while she was dancing with Walter Trout man, I asked her: "Is it true that ABC-TV is paying you more than it's paying Frank Sinatra?" Debbie replied: "Who ever gets more than Frank Sinatra? No, my deal is the same as his and Bing's." (That's bad?)

WILSON

I then asked if maybe she'd do her TV special in a Zsa Zsa Gabor accent. "Vy, no, dolling," she said. "Zahm pipples might not like Ongarian oxsent."

The prettiest girl in town, Linda Darnell, was a little worried at the Russian New Year's party at the Astor (where Serge Obolensky did the flaming sword dance) that folks might think she's separated from her airlines pilot, Robbie Robertson. "Only by distance," said Linda. "He's due in town tomorrow." Linda, a long-time fly girl, added, "I don't like my husband being a fly-boy. I'd like to ground him."

The Edd (Kookie) Byrnes Fan Clubs are all kookied up into a wave of anger against "77 Sunset Strip" because their idol's been placed on suspension. Kookie of the combs not only is off salary; he can't work anywhere else in TV or movie until he makes peace with Warner Bros.

Kookie, who was getting $600-a-wk, was offered $750-a-wk, with $250 yearly raises — but he would have to sign a new seven-year exclusive contract which would have meant that in 1967, at the age of 33, he would be making about $2250-a-wk tops, providing his option was snapped up each year.

Kookie's managers felt this was putting a brake on his potentialities and asked for a shorter contract or more outside picture rights. Then the deal broke down. The Kookie fan clubs will probably quit watching if Kookie doesn't come back.

Quality Television Fare Can Pull Big Response

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Today, I'd like to stop neglecting my duty to readers beyond the New York area. I'd like to tell them the happy story about TV's best program.

The series, "The Play of the Week," consists of taped two-hour productions of literate, adult plays, starring distinguished performers (working for scale; top pay is $800).

Each play—the list includes "Medea," "Waltz of the Toreadors," "The Power and the Glory" and "The White Steed"—is seen seven times a week on local station WNTA-TV.

It all began last fall when the station owner, National Telefilm Associates, realized it could not compete for mass audiences by copying network programming patterns. It was decided, instead, to go after that portion of the adult audience that has become disenchanted with standard nighttime network fare.

The series, supervised by David Susskind, producers Henry Weinstein and Lewis Freedman, has gone on to earn the highest praise from viewers and critics. Unfortunately, it also has gone on to lose much money for NTA, for sponsors, by nature, tended to shy away from numerically small TV audiences.

Then came a series of exciting developments.

When it appeared that "The Play" was about to be dropped, TV critic Jack Gould of the New York Times urged viewers to send post cards to NTA in support of the series. Nearly 30,000 cards were received, nearly all from adults promising to support sponsors of the series.

Now, sponsors, by nature, also tend to perk up when confronted by 30,000 such letters and cards. It remained for Standard Oil of New Jersey to buy this rich, untapped oil field. Starting Feb. 8, Standard Oil will sponsor "The Play" for 13 weeks. The new sponsor also volunteered the remarkable news that he would not tell the producers how to put on a TV show. (The producers, of course, won't tell the sponsor how to dig for oil.)

Suddenly, "The Play" became an attractive TV buy. I'm told a fine is forming for spot commercials between now and Feb. 8. Can it be that the small-TV audience finally is becoming a factor in commercial TV? Will such small audiences form a bedrock foundation for station and sponsors who dare to be different?

COULD SPREAD

If this is the case in one part of the country, there's really no reason why it can't be done in other areas, too. If "The Play" can achieve national circulation through syndication, our TV viewing habits may be in for significant changes. Certainly, we all would share in some mighty TV experiences.

Commerce Twp. Man Faces Trial in Splashing Tiff

A Pontiac factory worker, accused of beating up a 63-year-old man who objected to having mud splashed on him, stood mute yesterday when arraigned before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Released on a $1,000 bond after the judge entered a plea of innocent for him was Thomas L. Cummings, 33, of 271 Vinona St., Commerce Township.

Trial has been tentatively scheduled for the next Circuit Court jury term, which begins next month.

Cummings is accused of attacking George Haus, of 298 Havana St., Commerce Township, last November while Haus was walking home after his car stalled. Haus told police he followed Cummings car to object to being splashed and that Cummings began hitting and kicking him.

Cummings told police Haus hit him first.

400 Ministers Meet, Hear Harold Stassen

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The United States will get a chance to "seek a mutual victory for mankind" at the summit meeting in May, says Harold E. Stassen, former disarmament adviser to President Eisenhower.

Stassen spoke last night to some 400 ministers and laymen attending the 21st annual Michigan Pastors Conference.

The three-day meeting opened yesterday with a business session at which Methodist Bishop Marshall E. Reed of Detroit was re-elected president of the Michigan Council of Churches.

Progress reports were given by the council's three program divisions and the establishment of a fourth division to coordinate social welfare work throughout the state was announced.

The council is made up of 17 denominations with 2,800 churches which minister to some two million Michigan residents.

Boy, 9, 'Fixes' Tax Figures; Pleads for Jail

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Don't send my Daddy and Mom to jail," pleaded nine-year-old Jim, a rheumatic fever shut-in. "I will go to jail for them."

This written appeal was directed to President Eisenhower recently by a Midwestern young ster who feared his parents would be jailed as income tax cheats.

The boy had a special reason for offering to serve any jail term that might be required. To occupy his idle hours, he had juggled the figures in his father's account books, much to the dismay of tax agents.

The White House sent the letter to the Internal Revenue Service, which dispatched an "understanding agent" to call on Jim and assure him no one will be jailed.

Wife of Pollster on Wrecked Plane

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Eugene Gilbert, 25, a passenger on the Capital airliner which crashed in Virginia Monday night, was a partner with her husband in youth research work.

Gilbert's brother-in-law, Morgan Kaplan, said today that Gilbert had personally seen his wife aboard the ill-fated plane at Washington, D.C.

Gilbert then boarded another plane for New York City. He landed at Idlewild Airport and was driving into Manhattan when he heard of the crash in his auto radio.

Gilbert, who operates a private research firm, writes a column, "What Young People Think," for The Associated Press.

(Editor's Note: It appears weekly in the women's section of The Pontiac Press.)

Kaplan said Mrs. Gilbert was a native New Yorker and attended Bennington College, Bennington, Vt. The Gilberts were married seven years ago. There is one child, a three-month-old girl.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — "West Germany is overrun with Nazis," says author Harry Golden.

"I have no patience with those who blame Communists for anti-Semitic demonstrations," Golden said Monday night in an interview. "The Communists have enough to answer for. It just absolves the Nazis, and that is a very dangerous thing."

'I'm Serious,' Sen. Morse Says of His Candidacy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) says he's a serious candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

If he doesn't get it, Morse said Monday, his first choice for the nomination would be Adlai E. Stevenson. Twice defeated, Stevenson has said he's not running again.

Morse has entered presidential primaries in Oregon and the District of Columbia. He said he would be "a candidate in any state — North, East, South or West — whenever the people of that state call me. And I can assure them there'll be no evasions, no sidestepping, no doubletalk. I shall discuss the issues as a factually know them."

Detroit Attorney Named Traffic Court Referee

DETROIT (AP)—Ernest E. Ostrow, a Detroit attorney, was chosen Monday from 30 applicants to be a referee of traffic court. The half-time job pays $11,296 a year.

Ostrow fills a vacancy created Jan. 1 when John M. Wise, formerly a referee, began serving as a Circuit Court judge. Ostrow was wise's campaign manager in the judicial election last April.

Isle Royale Park Funds Okayed by Government

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government Monday proposed $378,000 worth of construction and improvements at Isle Royale, Mich., in its national parks budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

President Eisenhower's message to Congress said that $297,500 was recommended for a project involving construction of a national parks employe dormitory, tugboat and campground at Isle Royale and $81,000 for construction of trails and roads at the area.

Ike Requests Funds for Fight on Lamprey

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was asked Monday by President Eisenhower to provide $946,287 to continue the program for eradication from the Great Lakes of the eel-like sea lamprey.

The creatures suck the blood from game fish. Most Lake Michigan lake trout and whitefish have been killed by the sea lampreys. The lampreys also are doing much damage in Lakes Superior and Huron.

About six million dollars has been provided by Congress to date for the lamprey program. The new money requested by the President would go to the Great Lakes Fishery Commission, which cooperates with a similar Canadian commission.

The control efforts include erection of barriers in spawning streams and use of a poison that kills the lamprey but has little effect on fish.

Russia Promises Not to Flood Diamond Market

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union has agreed not to upset the stability of the world diamond market. All Soviet diamond exports to the West will be through the central selling organization of the giant De Beers Corporation.

Announcement of the agreement in London Monday by De Beers President Harry Oppenheimer ended worries the U.S.S.R. might flood the market with cut-price diamonds. De Beers controls most of the sources of diamonds produced outside the Soviet Union and regulates supplies on the market to keep prices stable.

While Soviet diamond resources have not been disclosed, the Soviets claimed three years ago to have discovered several hundred millions of carats in Siberia. Recently they reported another rich deposit in the northern Urals.

Driver Says Brakes of Death Bus Failed

FACKLER, Ala. (AP) — The driver of a school bus which was cut in two by a freight train Monday says the brakes gave out.

The train, traveling about 55 miles an hour, ripped through the bus, killing four children and injuring eight others and the driver.

Charlie Beavers, 50, the driver, and three children were listed in critical condition today.

Two other children are in satisfactory condition. Three more are hospitalized in fair condition.

The 12 children and Beavers were the only occupants of the bus.

"I never saw the train and it wouldn't have made any difference if I had," Beavers said at a hospital.

The train dragged the rear portion of the wreckage three quarters of a mile.

90 M.P.H. Ship Will Be Built With U.S. Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government Monday awarded a preliminary contract for a five-million-dollar hydrofoil ship designed to carry 100 passengers at speeds up to 90 miles an hour.

The Maritime Administration said the vessel will be able to travel between New York and Bermuda in eight hours. Most cruise liners now take about two days for the trip.

High Court Rules Against Court-Martial of Civilians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has ruled out peacetime court-martial trials for civilians abroad, but has gone out of its way to offer suggestions how the military might handle the resulting situation.

In divided decisions Monday, the high tribunal overturned military convictions of three civilian employes and a civilian dependent who accompanied armed forces overseas.

Justice Tom C. Clark, author of three majority opinions, said such military trials violated the constitutional right to trial by jury. This right applies to everyone except members of the armed forces.

Clark recalled that in 1957 the court declared unconstitutional the military trial convictions of two women accused of killing their servicemen husbands abroad. These were capital cases involving possible death penalties.

Monday's decisions broadened the 1957 legal holding to include civilian dependents of servicemen and employes of the military regardless of the nature of the offenses.

The decisions were shockers to Pentagon officials. They said they could not comment pending a thorough study of Clark's opinions.

But one Army official said it was certain that military authorities abroad would now avoid, whenever possible, asking foreign governments for jurisdiction cases involving American employes and relatives of servicemen.

The size of the problem was emphasized by the official, who said the number of civilian dependents and employes abroad equals or is greater than the number of men in uniform. The Justice Department, during argument of the cases, told the Supreme Court the civilians abroad commit a substantial number of offenses and create serious disciplinary problems.

Clark said one plan to meet the problem would be to incorporate civilian employes directly into the armed services, either by compulsory induction or by voluntary enlistment.

In the 1957 case, the Supreme Court suggested one solution might be legislation giving federal civil courts in this country jurisdiction to try civilian dependents in capital cases arising overseas. Laws already exist for such handling of cases of treason.

Plane Crashes in Heavy Fog; 50 Dead

Slain Pal Buried in Commerce

Ex-Con Reveals Grave

A cocky Detroit ex-convict, tight-lipped through 14 days of police questioning, cracked under the pleas of a slain pal's mother today.

Gerald R. McKay, 23, led Detroit and state police to the spot in Commerce Township where he and Richard Shirk, 29, also of Detroit, buried the bullet-riddled body of burglary suspect Carlo Vitale.

McKay was confronted by Mrs. Mary Vitale at Detroit Police Headquarters late last night. Officers said that when she fell to her knees and cried, McKay blurted:

"All right, I've been lying. I'll take you out and show you."

Vitale had been the object of a widespread search since the arrest of McKay and Shirk, on Jan. 5.

Detroit homicide detectives said the two shot Vitale last Nov. 28.

BODY FOUND TODAY

His partially decomposed body was found at about 1:15 a.m. today in a shallow grave in Proud Lake Recreation Area.

McKay, who had previously said he and Shirk buried Vitale somewhere in the Utica area, led detectives straight to the grave "after we gave him a little talking to," said Sgt. John Ware of the Detroit Homicide Bureau.

Vitale's body was clad only in shorts. His arms and legs were trussed up with rubber insulated electrical cord.

"He was under about three feet of sand," said Detectives Charles Schlachter and John Morin.

The grave was about 100 yards off Glengary road along a foot trail, about a half-mile west of Benstein road.

Detective Charles Leaf of the Pontiac State Police Post said Vitale had been shot at least five times.

An autopsy performed by Dr. Richard E. Olsen, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, this morning disclosed that there were about nine bullet wounds in Vitale's head, neck, and right arm.

Detectives said they recovered three slugs still in his body.

Dr. Olsen said in a preliminary report that it appeared Vitale had been shot once in the neck and arm, once in the base of the skull, and three times in the face.

He was identified by his father, Phillip, 48, of 2585 Anderdon, where he lived, and an uncle, Sam Palazzola, also 48, of Detroit.

The doctor told police it was possible that Vitale's body "could have been lying around for some time before he was buried."

Detectives said he appeared to have powder burns on one cheek. The weapon was a .25 caliber automatic pistol.

Vitale, father of a 2½-year-old daughter, had been wanted since the $3,500 holdup Nov. 20 of a Detroit credit union.

McKay had insisted that Vitale had been shot accidentally as he was being taken to a hideout near Utica last November.

But today detective Sgt. John Ware said McKay admitted that he and a third man, Richard Shirk, 29, took Vitale's life because he was "too hot to handle."

With the aid of a map he drew himself, McKay led officers to the grave.

Police said both McKay and Shirk will be charged with first degree murder.

Sgt. Ware said McKay told officers that in the car on the way to a hideout Vitale was shot while a gun was being exchanged and that he and Shirk then each took turns firing at him.

Buy Land to Up Rambler Output

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK — With Rambler production capacity bursting its seams, American Motors Corp. announced Monday that it has bought land in Kenosha and Milwaukee, Wis., for facilities to jump output to more than a million Ramblers a year.

That total would exceed the 737,000 cars produced by Chrysler Corp. in 1959 and would, in effect, expand the Big Three into a Big Four.

More than 50 per cent of all autos sold by 1965 will be compact cars, predicted George Romney, president of American Motors Corp. as he made the expansion announcement.

But, Romney said yesterday before the New York Society of Security Analysts, "this prediction is based on two premises.

"First, that the big three (General Motors, Ford and Chrysler) will permit customer demand to decide the expansion of their compact car programs and, second, the continuation of economic prosperity. If we encounter a recession or bad economic conditions, compact car sales could reach 50 per cent earlier than 1965.

"As to the big three compact car expansion, much will depend on their willingness to see compact car sales eat into their big car market positions."

Romney also discussed his firm's earnings and production.

He said AMC's pre-tax earnings in the three months ended Dec. 31 were considerably higher than during the same 1958 period and that production capacity still was climbing with property purchased to allow expansion to a capacity

Kirk-in-the-Hills Carillon Bells Arrive in N.Y.

Bells for the world's largest carillon, to be installed in the 187-foot tower of Kirk-in-the-Hills in Bloomfield Hills, have arrived in this country and are now en route to the church.

The shipment of 76 bells, weighing more than 60 tons, landed in New York Monday from The Netherlands where they were cast during the past 14 months.

The superstructure from which the bells will be suspended within the tower already is at the church. It will be assembled as soon as weather permits, said the Rev. Dr. Harold De Windt, pastor.

The complete carillon is the gift of an anonymous officer of the church. It will replace an electronic carillon that the church has donated to Alma College. Philip Steinhaus is carilloneur at the Kirk.

Dedication of the new carillon is being planned for just prior to Easter, Rev. De Windt said.

Dems Out to Cut Ike's '60 Budget to Own Views

Foreign Aid Boost Said Prime Target; Other Provisions Blasted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Congress signaled its intention today of recasting President Eisenhower's budget along the lines of its own political ideas.

Prime target in a drive to pare down the over-all $79,800,000,000 spending total forecast for the year beginning July 1 seemed likely to be the President's request for $4,175,000,000 in new money for foreign aid. This included two billion for military outlays.

Although Eisenhower estimated the amount of actual aid spending at $3,450,000,000, he asked for more appropriations to stretch the program out into the future. The quick consensus was that he will get less new money than he expects to spend.

On the other hand, Democrats laid the groundwork to rebuild and increase the $40,895,000,000 defense program. They showed immediate irritation and disappointment that Eisenhower's space recommendations were not more comprehensive.

In other comment, they balked at increasing postal rates or gasoline rates, as Eisenhower asked. They criticized his housing proposals. They raked his proposal to raise the interest ceiling on government bonds.

By way of action, they called a Senate Democratic caucus Wednesday to take the first steps toward passage of a billion-dollar school construction bill there is every indication the President will veto.

Outnumbered Republicans announced they will fight not only to keep the budget balanced but to assure the $4,184,000,000 surplus Eisenhower forecast.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) said Eisenhower, in making this prediction, was trying to commit his successor, since he will leave office nearly six months before the fiscal year ends.

ELECTION NOTE

Most of the Republicans sounded the election year note that Eisenhower was providing sufficient funds to maintain the essential economic growth of the country.

Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, the House GOP leader, said the Republicans' biggest challenge will come "in holding the line against added spending which would wreck all hope for a balanced budget, let alone a surplus."

THE SCENE IS DEATH — This is part of the wreckage of a Capital Airlines Viscount after it crashed on a marshland hillside near Holdcroft, Va., Monday night. Fifty persons are believed to have burned to death in the wreck. The crash occurred during a blinding fog.

Tag Seats to Identify Charred Bodies in Ruin of Norfolk Viscount

HOLDCROFT, Va. (AP) — A Norfolk-bound Capital Airlines plane, groping confusedly at house-top level in heavy fog, crashed on the side of a marshland ravine near here Monday night. Fifty persons died in the flaming wreckage.

Early this morning, rescuers who had been held back for nearly eight hours by the searing heat finally were able to enter a portion of the hulk to begin removing the bodies of the victims — 46 passengers and a crew of four.

The first charred body was removed from the plane at 7:50 a.m. It appeared that few would be identifiable. Police indicated a seat plan of the flight would be used to discover which passenger was in each seat and that the seats would then be tagged to assist in identification.

From Our News Wires

Three Michigan men were among the 50 persons killed when a Capital Airlines Viscount crashed fog bound near Holdcroft, Va.

They were the pilot, Capt. James B. Farnsworth, 38, of Muskegon; James L. Girard, of near Mount Clemens, a seaman stationed at the Norfolk, Va., Naval base; and H. R. Draper, formerly of Holland.

Also killed were two Ford Motor Co. executives, Albert W. Rueff, 52, and Charles A. Truha Jr., 42, who were traveling together to visit a Ford assembly plant in Norfolk, Va. Rueff was production manager for passenger cars at the Louisville plant. Truha was resident product engineer for passenger cars.

A crash truck parked near the still smoldering ruins and ambulances stood by to carry bodies to a hospital in Richmond, where the more difficult aspects of identification would be turned over to a medical examiner.

The airline resolved a question as to exactly how many persons were aboard the four-engine plane. It confirmed the presence of another infant, the 50th victim.

Aside from the weather there was no immediate hint as to why the plane had crashed.

The big jet-prop Viscount, Capital Flight 20 from Chicago to Norfolk via Washington, plunged to earth like a leaden pancake shortly after 10:30 p.m.—the time she was due in Norfolk.

Only a few hundred yards away was an open field where the plane might have made a safe emergency landing—had the pilot been able to see the field.

Doctor Off for Hospital After Fire

Dr. Neil A. Sullenberger, who burned his wife's clothing in the living room of his Pontiac home Sunday morning, was to be transferred from an Oakland County Jail cell to a Veteran's Administration hospital today.

The 45-year-old doctor, ousted from Pontiac General Hospital in 1958, was entering the hospital "voluntarily" for rest and medical care, said Prosecutor George F. Taylor and Sullenberger's attorney, Carlton S. Roeser.

He will be taken either to Battle Creek or the VA facility in Ann Arbor, whichever of the two hospitals has bed space.

Sullenberger has agreed to remain in the hospital until discharged by the medical staff. If he doesn't said Taylor, he will immediately be charged with arson.

Because he is seeking treatment "voluntarily," Sullenberger will be able to leave the hospital whenever he chooses.

Detectives persuaded his wife, Merthadene, 29, who is in Texas, to speak with him." She left Sullenberger a week ago, she told police, because he threatened her and she feared he'd shoot her. His wife agreed to return to care for the three children the doctor adopted during a previous marriage.

Schedule Talks on Bus Walkout

Kalamazoo Settlement Raises Local Hopes for Thursday Meeting

Hopes of ending Pontiac's long bus strike rose today following the settlement of a similar strike in Kalamazoo.

The 42-day walkout in Kalamazoo ended Monday with the signing of a new two-year contract. Similar strikes here and in Saginaw remain unsettled.

Leonard Bennett, a state labor mediator, said efforts to settle the two strikes would be made Thursday at a negotiating session in Pontiac.

He said the settlement of the Kalamazoo strike brightened prospects of a rapid end to the other two strikes.

National City Lines, Inc. operates bus lines in all three cities. Drivers and mechanics had been trying for a three-city settlement.

The new Kalamazoo contract provides a 14-cent hourly package, an increase now of 8 cents, of which 6 cents is retroactive to last April 1, and another six-cent increase Jan. 19, 1961.

Mechanics will get an additional increase of 8 cents an hour over the two-year period. The pact expires Jan. 19, 1962.

Drivers formerly earned $1.72 an hour and mechanics $1.87.

Billie S. Farnum Named to High Democratic Post

Michigan Democrats have smoothly completed a lines straightening maneuver in preparation for the 1960 political campaign.

Its main result was to land Billie E. Farnum, 43-year-old former Waterford Township resident and member of the Oakland County Democratic Committee, in the new $15,000 a year post of deputy chairman of the Democratic Party.

Farnum, who has served as a delegate-at-large at recent Oakland conventions, is highly regarded in Democratic circles as an organizer and administrator.

For the last 30 months, he has been deputy Secretary of State.

The new party office was authorized by the State Central Committee to take some of the burdens off Chairman Neil Staebler and to provide better management of party affairs.

There has been speculation that Staebler, long very closely associated politically with Gov. G. Mennen Williams, may resign after whose farmhouse is only about 300 yards from the crash scene near the Chickahominy River. "She came straight down."

Tench said the plane, which had left Washington for Norfolk at 9:40 p.m., was perilously low and circling, apparently lost in the heavy fog and light rain, shortly before the crash.

"It came pretty near hitting my house twice," Tench said. "The second time it went over it was so low that when I went outside, my whole yard was full of smoke from the engines.

* * *

"I went back in the house, and all of a sudden I didn't hear anything. I didn't hear an explosion and I didn't feel a jar.

"All of a sudden, everything was quiet."

Tench went upstairs then, saw the beginning of the fire that subsequently swept the plane, and summoned police.

All of the plane except its tail assembly and a part of a wing, which were torn off by the crash, burned for hours.

The charred trunks of trees protruded upward through the flaming fuselage in which passengers and crew were cremated.

The plane lay in a pit which it had dug when it fell. Several times during the night as rescuers stood vigil, there were small explosions. Police kept hundreds of curious sightseers at a safe distance and blocked roads to the scene.

The crash site was about 30 miles southeast of Richmond on a tributary of the Chickahominy called Sandy Gut. Marshland broken occasionally by small wooded hills stretches from the river for several miles.

The crash was the second commuter and Virginia's second in less than three months.

Egypt Accepts Red Dam Aid

To Get Help on Second Stage of Aswan Project; Termed Arab Victory

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt has accepted Soviet help to build the second stage of its billion-dollar Aswan dam. The Kremlin already is helping with the first stage of construction.

The official Middle East News Agency said the second stage—including actual building of the dam—will cost $373,100,000; of which $258,300,000 would be needed in foreign exchange to pay for equipment, material and technical personnel from abroad. Apparently the Soviet Union will supply the goods or the exchange on a long-term loan basis.

The agency hailed the new agreement between the Soviet Union and the United Arab Republic as an "admirable victory" for the Arab nation. As a result, it declared, President Abdel Gamal Nasser's cherished project —long a cold war pawn—will be built as one unit with no separation between stages.

The U.S.S.R. already has put up about 100 million dollars in financial aid, machinery and technical assistance to build the coffer dams and diversion can necessary before construction can begin on the high dam to harness the Nile.

Nasser launched this first stage Jan. 9, yanking a switch which set off 10 tons of dynamite and shattered a rocky bluff on the east bank of the Nile near Aswan, in southern Egypt. Before thousands, Nasser thanked the Soviet Union for financing the first stage after the United States and Britain withdrew an offer of help in 1956.

Cancellation of the U.S. offer—a slap at Nasser—was widely blamed for triggering the Suez crisis later that year.

On July 17, 1956, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles withdrew the U.S. offer on grounds Nasser had mortgaged Egypt's cotton crops for purchase of Soviet arms and the Aswan deal thus was a a poor financial risk. Nine days later Nasser seized the Suez Canal, up to then an international operation, saying he would use canal revenue to build the high dam.

Billie Farnum Gets High Party Post

the August primary if Williams declines to seek a seventh term.

TO START SOON

Farnum will take over his new duties about Feb. 1.

Although Farnum has held key posts under Secretary of State James M. Hare for five years, he bore the reputation of being a "party" man.

This factor was weighed by the State Central Committee in the light of a possible primary contest for the governor's nomination between Hare and Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson.

Farnum's first task will be to direct a paid membership drive to enlist 100,000 dues-paying members in the Democratic Party.

In the 1940s, he served for a while as an international representative of the United Auto Workers union. He was named by Gov. Williams in 1951 to the State Fair Commission.

In 1952, he was appointed an administrative assistant to the late U.S. Sen. Blair Moody, and continued with Moody until the senator's death in 1954.

The $12,500-a-year deputy secretary of state post being relinquished by Farnum will be filled by John F. Dodge, now $10,000-a-year assistant secretary in charge of the Detroit office.

The assistant secretary's job goes to Gordon Trayer, 43, of Dearborn, long active in union work and now captain in charge of the juvenile division in the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

BURGLAR'S GRAVE — This was the shallow grave of Carlo Vitale, located in the Proud Lake Recreation Area near Walled Lake. Vitale, 22, had been sought by police for several weeks. A "pal," Gerald R. Detectives found Vitale's body after digging through three feet of frozen sand and clay.

Welfare Cases Unexpectedly Low

County Purse Filling Up

Oakland County's financial setting looked a lot rosier today, thanks to a huge drop in the number of persons drawing social welfare relief payments.

Supervisors at their meeting yesterday learned that almost overnight the county had gone from what loomed as "a very desperate situation" to "a generally improved picture."

Gone, too, was what county auditors early last year feared to be a million dollar deficit brought on by a soaring welfare case load. Last year ended without a deficit, declared John C. Austin, vice chairman of the Board of Auditors.

So this once gloomy picture was much brighter yesterday when supervisors voted 61-4 to pay back $225,470 in borrowed county funds and put $500,000 in the county's new courthouse building fund.

All this was possible, auditors said, because non-tax receipt collections for last year were some $289,392 more than anticipated. These collections, according to Robert Y. Moore, chief auditor, come from the clerk's office, register of deeds, probate court, treasurer, and other county offices.

Voting against the transfer of the funds were Duane Hurstfall (Independence Township), Hugh Chartersy (Ferndale), Fred W. Hildebrandt and Robert J. Huber (Troy), Herbert R. Sinclair (South Lyon), and William K. Smith (Lyon Township).

Hurstfall was defeated in his move to postpone the transfer until he had more time to study it.

Another $100,000 in surplus funds from these non-tax receipt collections, which was slated to go for certain emergency work on township roads, was left alone after Ferndale Supervisor Roy F. Goodspeed criticized the move in a letter.

It was referred to the Ways and Means Committee for further consideration.

Besides the welfare drop, which resulted in 1959 welfare expenditures for the last six months being $460,000 less than the same period in 1958, county financial officials credited a decline in welfare hospitalization costs and the county's austerity program in not hiring new employees for the brighter picture.

"Had the relief load continued in 1959 at the same rate as it did in the last six months of 1958, we would now be facing a deficit instead of a surplus," declared David Levinson, chairman of the W-M Committee.

As the county sought to build a new courthouse several years ago, opponents charged auditors and supervisors had purposely under-estimated receipts so that resulting surpluses could be plowed into the building fund.

Yesterday Moore again denied any such "padded budget" charges.

"We padded no budgets, we were just fortunate," Moore said.

Levinson told supervisors "the picture of general relief appeared to be very bad" last March when the number of cases reached 3,300.

"We were facing what could be a very desperate situation," Levinson said in analyzing the situation.

"However, later during the year 1959, and even when there were still prospects of a prolonged steel strike, we were very pleasantly surprised to find that the general relief load began to drop."

In hospitalization costs alone, Levinson said, there was a saving of $60,000.

"This has brought about a generally improved picture with respect to non-tax receipt collections and will permit the county to meet certain obligations previously incurred," he added.

Sees Only Slight Edge in Missiles for Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. has told Congress Russia will have more long-range missiles than the United States during the next three years but not enough more to make a "rational decision" to attack this country.

Gates said new intelligence data had enabled the United States "for the first time" to estimate the production and performance of Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBM's).

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the military Joint Chiefs of Staff, seconded Gates' appraisal. He said no nation "possesses the capability to destroy us or attack us without receiving unacceptable damage in return."

Gates and Twining testified behind closed doors last week before the House defense appropriations subcommittee, giving a preview of the 1961 $40,995,000,000 defense budget. A censored version of the testimony was made public today.

* * *

Chairman George H. Mahon (D-Tex.) called the report "the most enthusiastic and rosy and reassuring presentation that we have ever heard."

On the basis of the new intelligence information, Gates and his top aides gave Congress a revised, and more optimistic, picture of how U. S. forces stack up against those of the Soviets.

"The impression in some quarters that the Soviet Union has overtaken, or even outdistanced, the United States in military power is simply not supported by the facts," Gates declared.

Gates said this country still enjoyed a "marked advantage" in its force of manned continent-spanning bombers, the primary means of delivering heavy nuclear weapons in volume and with accuracy. He said that so far as missiles are concerned, studies indicate Soviet accuracy "will be inferior to ours."

Kind-Hearted Landlord

NEW YORK (UPI) — Manuel Viga, taken into court by his landlord for refusing to pay his rent, told the judge a woman and eight children also occupied his apartment and that he would like to wed the woman. Viga and the woman were married in court yesterday by the presiding judge in the rent case. Viga's landlord was best man. The landlord's attorney provided the ring for the ceremony. Wedding gifts included $25 from the judge and $10 rent money returned by the landlord.

* * *

Chairman Richard Fitzgerald of the Boases Award Committee also announced the deadline has been extended to Jan. 25 for nominations by Jaycees of their bosses for the "Boss of the Year Award."

Probing Report Joining Crashes

See Possibility Frank Knew Man in Nov. 16 Gulf Plane Disaster

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Authorities are investigating a report that Julian A. Frank, suspect in the Jan. 6 airliner bombing, knew a man under suspicion in a Nov. 16 crash.

The crashes, both of National Airlines planes, took a total of 76 lives.

Charles S. Collar, Civil Aeronautics Board examiner in Miami, called the acquaintanceship of Frank and Dr. Robert Spears of Dallas, Tex., "a little too strong to be called just a coincidence." He said "We will certainly look into the connection."

Collar commented after Los Angeles Asst. Dist. Atty. Julian Biodgett told of a statement by Dr. Donald A. Loomis, a Los Angeles chiropractor.

Loomis was quoted as saying Dr. Spears, 64, wanted Loomis to agree to hiring Frank, 32, of New York, as their council in an abortion conspiracy case.

Spears obstensibly died in the Nov. 16 crash in the Gulf of Mexico. Frank presumably died in the Jan. 6 crash at Bolivia, N.C.

Loomis was quoted as saying he wouldn't be surprised if Spears or Frank still live and had a connection with both crashes. Loomis faces sentencing today in the abortion case.

That means only one in a million American men between the ages of 25 and 35 can shape up to Project Mercury's stern physical, mental and emotional standards.

So Brig. Gen. Don R. Flickinger, Air Force bio-astronaut, reported to the American Astronautical Society Monday night.

The Day in Birmingham

Redding Road Repaving Approved by Commission

BIRMINGHAM — Approval to repave Redding road from Woodward avenue to Lake Park road was given last night by the City Commission.

At the same time commissioners approved the construction of a storm sewer from Lake Park road to the Rouge River.

It also was decided that the repaving of Redding road from Lake Park road to Chesterfield road was not necessary at this time.

Estimated cost to repave Redding road is $43,300. Construction of the storm sewer was estimated at $5,710.

The city will pay 15 per cent of the cost of both projects and the balance will be assessed property owners affected by the improvements.

The Commission directed the city engineer to submit more detailed drawings of the projects so they could have a more specific cost estimate on the proposed project.

In his report to the Commission, Gare said the pavement from Woodward avenue to Lake Park road was constructed 22 years ago.

"Since then the pavement has badly deteriorated," Gare said.

Action was started in 1946 to rebuild the road, Gare said, however, the project was never started.

In 1958, a hearing of necessity was held for the construction of a 29 foot concrete pavement with storm sewers and drainage. The Commission determined that there was no need for such an improvement.

The poor condition of the road resulted from a complete lack of drainage facilities, according to G. R. Seresbets.

"The installation of the storm sewer will be an integral part of the repaving of this portion of the road," he said.

Angle parking along Woodward avenue between Ravino and Oak streets will be continued until it has been definitely determined whether or not the parking facility behind the Reid Building will be constructed.

Angle parking was permitted along this stretch of Woodward avenue last June by the Commission with the understanding that plans would be made as soon as possible for a more permanent solution.

At that time the Commission passed a resolution providing for the unmetered temporary parking on a trial basis, not to exceed six months.

The action to continue the parking in front of the Reid Building was made on the recommendation of City Manager Gare, who told the Commission that it is anticipated negotiations with property owners for the acquisition of the necessary property behind the Reid Building can be started in the near future.

"However, until that time we should continue the angle parking in the area," he said.

of a million cars a year. AMC produced 401,446 cars last year.

REPORTS RISES

Romney said that during the three month period, which is the first quarter of the firm's fiscal year, wholesale auto sales were up 36 per cent and appliance sales up 25 per cent.

In the similar 1958 period, he said, AMC earned $21 million, equal to $1.56 a share on sales of $193,700,000 for a net income to sales ratio of nearly 10.9 per cent. The firm paid an income tax for that period but has paid it since.

Despite higher costs, Romney said, pre-tax profits as a per cent of net sales for the first quarter will be within ½ of 1 per cent of the ratio a year earlier.

He said AMC will be able to produce 62,000 cars by fall and with full -overtime operations will have a capacity of more than 700,000 cars annually. He did not say when any additional facilities would be built.

* * *

Romney said production in the company's first quarter rose 35 per cent to 113,652 cars from 84,279 a year earlier. Retail sales rose 23 per cent to 92,940 cars from 75,793 and dealer orders and dealer projections for January, February and March exceed 60,000 cars a month.

Appreciation Blooms, They Give Flowers

MSUO Faculty Well-Loved by Students

It's more than just a case of "an apple for the teacher."

A certified love affair is in full bloom between students and faculty of Michigan State University Oakland.

When half a dozen or more freshmen surprised their instructors with bouquets of flowers, cookies and other gifts at the close of the fall quarter, that was explainable.

For one thing, it was in the Christmas season. For another, MSUO, as a new university, has no upperclassmen to make freshmen either self-conscious or blase.

But the evidences of affection continue and grow into the cold days of January.

At registration for the new quarter, one coed broke into tears because her schedule prevented her from once again having refugee Dr. Helen Kovach for Russian.

When Dr. Kovach offered to review grammer between classes last semester, so many of her pupils showed up at the designated time she had to take over a classroom.

Both she and Mrs. Nadine Popluiko, instructors in French and Russian, were surprised when a delivery boy knocked at the door of their classroom and presented them with bouquets of carnations and roses.

Notes said the students "were most grateful." Both teachers had spent hours transcribing Russian lessons on tape for the students to drink in during "leisure" hours.

Foreign language students presented Mme. Helene Desparmet, instructor in French and wife of the French consul general in Detroit, with a bouquet of American Beauty roses and heather during the holidays.

"I am deeply touched," she murmured when she received the tribute. She spends three hours a day in travel from her home in Grosse Pointe to the MSUO campus where she teaches five days a week.

At the beginning of her assignment, she planned to remain at the university until this quarter when a replacement was expected from Paris. Very much behind the desk now, she explains: "I will stay until June. I cannot leave my students now."

Dr. Paul Tomboulian and Dr. William Hammerle announced they will hold voluntary "review" classes in chemistry once a week this quarter by popular request.

Last quarter extra sessions before exams began about 7:30 in the evening and broke up about 11.

As many as 60 students turned out for the "open end" discussions. They took turns bringing tea in a thermos to the teachers for that break between problems.

Dr. William Klubach, assistant professor of philosophy, said his "favorite" Christmas gift was a theme written about him by one of his students following the assignment of an English teacher to write up a personality. The theme was called, "No Dry Biscuits."

The same faculty member attracted so many students — 125 —when he offered a dinner-meeting, review class in history that the event had to be switched from a small restaurant in Rochester to a large one in Birmingham.

Dr. Mary Ann Cusack found colorfully decorated cookies in various sizes and shapes turned in with her final themes. The note read: "In appreciation of your many kindnesses." Among the themes was an "unassigned" poem to the teacher.

Thomas Fitzsimmons, assistant professor of English, was requested by his students to register each of them personally.

They said they were afraid of losing the opportunity to remain in his English classes this semester, which might occur if "just anyone" were left to assign them to sections.

Stricken Boston Mayor Honored for Courage

NEW YORK (AP)—Ten days before Boston's 1955 primary election, city council candidate John F. Collins was stricken by polio.

The disease paralyzed his throat, arms, abdomen and legs. Three of his four children were also stricken.

Collins' political career seemed finished.

"Shall I tell them you will withdraw from the race?" asked his wife, Mary.

Collins looked up from his hospital bed and answered: "Under no circumstances will I get out of the campaign. We'll have to work harder."

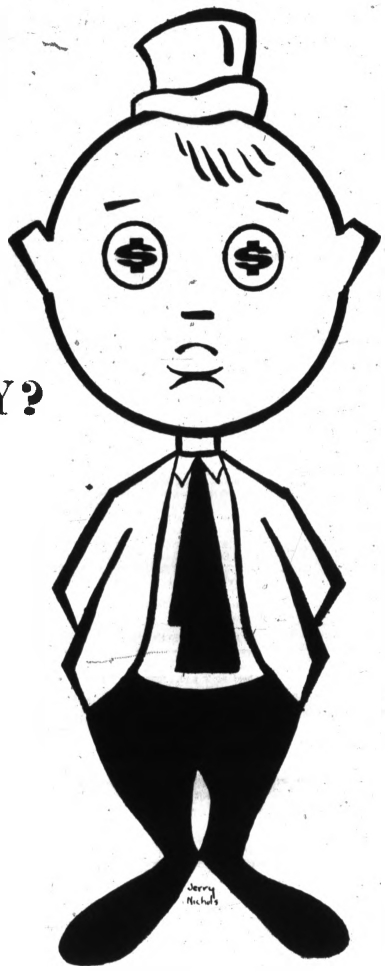
They did. Mrs. Collins toured Boston's 22 wards in a tireless campaign. Her husband was victorious in the primary and went on to win a council seat. Last fall, an underdog candidate, he was elected mayor after campaigning from a wheelchair.

A new honor was awarded today to the family.

For courage in "meeting the crisis of disease" and coping "with the threat of disaster," the Collinses were named the 1960 March of Dimes Family of the Year.

It is the first time an entire family has been named, said Basil O'Connor, National Foundation president, at the award presentation ceremony.

THINKING OF EARNING SOME EXTRA MONEY?



A good way to earn some extra money for any occasion is by selling something you don't need. . . . How about that old zither you don't play anymore? (She married you in spite of it and not because of it). And how about that spinning wheel you bought when wool was hard to get and you were going to show them? Then there's that antique something-or-other that just never seems to fit in anywhere but you've been thinking it might some day. The mayors of the Algiers region, meeting today at Algiers City Hall, issued a communique after rumors spread that De Gaulle would enlarge his peace offer to the Algerian rebels.

"Gen. de Gaulle is planning to take grave decisions," it said. "He must be told that the people of Algeria want to remain French. It (Algeria) is prepared to show its will by any and every means, even by rising in arms if need be."

Chevy Reports Record Production Last Week

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet said today it smashed its own weekly production record last week.

The General Motors division reported it built 80,856 cars and trucks in six days. Its previous mark of 56,007 was set in the third week of December 1958.

General Manager Ed Cole said the past week's production included 43,182 standard Chevrolets, 5,823 compact Corvairs and 16,193 trucks.

Stocks Continue in Downtrend

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to move downward in active early trading today. Losses were moderate. Steels resisted in downtrend.

Pivotal stocks were down by fractions mainly. Here and there a decline went to a point or so.

The three top steelmakers, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic were ahead by minor fractions. The chairman of U. S. Steel, Roger M. Blough, has hinted that steel prices may be raised before the end of 1960.

Westinghouse Electric, General Electric and Eastman Kodak dropped a point or more.

Prospects of somewhat bigger spending on space age efforts brought no immediate stimulus to the electronics - missile - rocket group. Most of the leaders in this field were off fractionally. Radio Corp. dropped about a point.

Motors showed scant change. General Motors was off a fraction. American Motors edged ahead.

Tight money and better yields available from high grade fixed income securities were said to remain as basic market factors.

Opening blocks included: Standard Oil (New Jersey) off ⅜ at 47¼ on 5,000 shares; Avco unchanged at 14 on 4,000; and Brunswick-Balke up ⅛ at 54⅞ on 4,700.

Turn the Tables

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—W. C. Jack, whom his fellow workers said was a harmless practical joker around the office, had all his teeth pulled by a dental surgeon. His co-workers yesterday sent him: A pound of peanut brittle, six packages of corn chips, corn on the cob, salted peanuts, chewing tobacco, tooth picks and small sheets of sandpaper marked "gum massage tissues."

Would Hike City's Representatives

Seek Change in Supervisors

A proposal changing the formula controlling the number of city representatives on the Board of Supervisors, giving Royal Oak and Southfield one new member each, squeaked by on a nine-vote margin yesterday.

Discussion on the new formula brought an objection from Thomas C. Tiley, Commerce Township supervisor, that "townships are getting the small end of the stick" in representation on the Board.

Each of Oakland's 24 townships have but one elected supervisor on the present 83-member board, while the 22 cities have appointed delegations based on population.

Yesterday's proposal that necessary state legislative changes be sought to put the new formula in use passed 41 to 32. Voting did not necessarily follow township-city lines.

Pontiac's seven-member delegation, the largest on the board, split with four supervisors opposing the new formula and three voting in favor of it.

DISLIKES REMARK

One of the dissenters, Maurice J. Croteau, objected to Legislative Committee Chairman John G. Semann's comment that the new formula was "pulled out of a hat."

It would provide the following number of supervisors for these population ranges: Less than 7,500—1; 7,501 to 15,000—2, 15,001 to 22,500—3; 22,501 to 32,500—4; 32,501 to 50,000—5; 50,501 to 75,000—6; plus one each for an additional 25,000 or fraction.

Semann, who sought the change as part of the county's 1960 legislative program, said of the present 1955 formula were maintained after this year's federal census Oakland County would have a 91-member board.

It has been said by some that even the current size board is unwieldy.

Saying he wasn't protesting the proposal, Tiley said, however it is divided, it's not an equitable or democratic process.

A representative of Berkley, Semann told Tiley, who later said townships were being denied full representation, that complaining townships should incorporate as cities.

Another supervisor, Charles E. Cardon of Oak Park, said the present formula should be kept in hopes that a constitutional convention might take care of any such changes. This got nowhere.

Semann urged immediate action so that the new formula could be applied to the new census.

Victim Stabbed in Back After Quarrel in Home With Boarder

LAKE ORION — Police Chief Neal Leonard yesterday questioned participants in an argument which climaxed in a stabbing here early at Sunday and found the stories of the victim, his wife and the alleged attacker varied on one important point.

Was the victim facing his assailant or did he have his back turned?

Chief Leonard talked to the victim, Kenneth M. Ferguson, 50, who is in Pontiac General Hospital with stab wounds in the back and right arm.

He also questioned Ferguson's wife, Agnes; and the boarder in the Ferguson home, Tom Tomasella, 64, who is being held in Oakland County jail on investigation of felonious assault.

The argument started, the Fergusons said, when Tomasella complained that Ferguson's car was blocking his in the driveway and he wanted to get out.

According to the police chief, the Fergusons said they did not want Tomasella to leave because he had been drinking.

Tomasella told Leonard that Ferguson slapped him. The chief said it was impossible that Tomasella was facing the victim when the stabbing occurred because Ferguson was stabbed in the back. A large butcher knife was used, Leonard said.

Ferguson, after taking a turn for the worse last night, was reported improved today.

Mrs. Ferguson was to make a statement to the Oakland County prosecutor today.

The Ferguson home is at 54 Elizabeth St.

Personal Income Hits Record High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Personal income hit a record high in December as factory production surged ahead to recoup steel strike losses.

The Commerce Department said yesterday incomes advanced about 1 per cent last month. The gain, large for one month, lifted total personal income to an annual rate of $390,700,000,000.

For all of 1959, incomes—wages, salaries, rents, profits, dividends and other payments to individuals—totaled a record $380,100,000,000.

Sets Zoning Hearing on Southfield Strip

SOUTHFIELD — A public hearing on the rezoning of nine acres of land on Northwestern highway near 10½-Mile road from residential to commercial will be held at 8 p.m. Feb. 8 in the city hall. City Administrator Robert J. McNutt announced today.

The Eaton Manufacturing Co. of Cleveland has an option on the land at $1,500 an acre. The firm, which produces automotive parts, plans to construct a million-dollar research and office building if the land is rezoned.

In other business the Planning Commission will hold a public hearing Feb. 10 to consider adding to the city master plan the controversial two-mile section of the proposed east-expressway at 11½-Mile road between Inkster road and Northwestern highway.

No Outstanding Problems

Kishi Signs Equality Pact at White House Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi arrived to visit the White House today to sign an historic treaty and to invite President Eisenhower to visit Japan.

The treaty would raise Japan, once a U.S.-occupied nation, to the status of equal partner in U.S.-Japanese relations and officially place her in the free world camp.

The invitation for an Eisenhower visit was carried by Kishi from Emperor Hirohito. This year marks the 100th anniversary of the arrival of the first diplomatic envoys from Japan to this country.

The White House has not yet said whether Eisenhower will travel to the Far East this year. The President plans to go to South America next month and to the Soviet Union in June.

Kishi, who arrived in Washington Sunday night for a 3½-day visit, had a 1¼ hour morning meeting scheduled with Eisenhower. The arrangements called for lunch at the White House, to be followed by the treaty signing in the East Room of the Executive Mansion—the room where President James Buchanan received the first Japanese mission in 1860.

NO PROBLEMS

U.S. diplomats knew of no outstanding problems between America and Japan that Kishi might want to take up with Eisenhower. This contrasted with mid-1957 when Kishi was last here and U.S.-Japanese relations were at a low ebb.

One of the problems then was Japanese distaste for the 1951 U.S.-Japanese treaty, which was negotiated while Japan was a defeated, disarmed and occupied enemy of World War II. That treaty provided for U.S. defense of Japan but gave Japan no say in how to carry this out.

Under the new treaty, similar to that American has with other free world friends, Japan becomes a full-fledged ally and wins a voice in U.S. activities that might involve her in the Far East.

United States agrees to help defend Japan against attack. It promises to consult Tokyo before making any major changes in men or weapons based in Japan.

TO HELP DEFEND U.S.

Japan pledges to help defend America, but this pledge is limited to Japanese territory because Japan's constitutional renunciation of war is interpreted as banning the sending of Japanese forces outside of Japan.

The treaty, to last at least 10 years and indefinitely thereafter, is welcomed by Washington as a free choice by Japan to join the West instead of adopting a neutral or pro-Communist stance in the cold war.

Indians in the United States now 53 million acres of land, according to the National Geographic Society.

Change in Welfare Costs Opposed by Supervisor

A protest yesterday from Arthur G. Elliott Jr., Oakland County Republican chairman and Pleasant Ridge supervisor, has temporarily sidetracked a county proposal that the state assume more of social welfare costs.

"I have some very grave reservations as to the advantage of our county advocating to the state further welfare responsibility," Elliott said at Monday's Board of Supervisors meeting.

The Board's Legislative committee was urging that the state take over general relief costs after a county had spent one mill of its tax equalized valuation for them. The ceiling now is 1½ mills.

Legislative planners said the new limitation would be nearer what the county has expended each year.

Supervisors didn't touch their previously approved plan to ask the state again to reconsider changing back to the old 50-50 split with counties on welfare costs. It now is 70-30 with the counties paying the larger share.

WHO PAYS?

But on the question of lowering the millage ceiling a half mill, Elliott asked: "Who do you think is going to pay for these additional funds?"

"You and I," Elliott answered.

"It doesn't make much difference whether we pay these taxes through the state or locally," he added.

He also cited the possibility that there might be "less attention or scrutiny" paid locally to investigating welfare recipients with the state assuming more of the costs.

Elliott's suggestion that the ceiling change be deleted from the county's proposed legislative program was voided when David Levinson, chairman of the Board's Ways and Means Committee, moved the matter be referred to his committee for further study. There were several faint "no's" opposing the referral.

Elliott was the only supervisor to criticize the plan from the floor.
