Solons Withhold Funds to Build AF's Academy

Appropriations Group Spurns Ike's Plea for Atom Peace Ship

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House Appropriations Committee today withheld approval of funds for the new Air Force Academy and spurned President Eisenhower's "atomic peace ship" plea.

At the same time, the committee charged that money from the President's global emergency fund has been spent on "very questionable projects" and voted a million dollar cut in the six million dollars asked.

The $79,527,000 requested for the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs was denied pending new cited "adverse criticism" of existing designs, including architect Frank Lloyd Wright's charge they are "utterly without soul or spirit."

The committee rejected the administration's request of $33,650,000 for the nuclear-powered merchant ship. It said: "The design and construction of an atomic-powered prototype cargo ship, to be used in regular commercial transportation, would represent much more effective use of the funds than would the President's proposal."

The appropriations unit approved a total of $1,648,876,128 in supplemental funds for the 1956 fiscal year, including a million dollars to defray U. S. expenses at the Big Four meeting in Geneva.

* * *

MAKES CHARGES

In assailing handling of the special fund used by the President to meet emergencies in international affairs, the committee charged:

"This fund has not been properly administered during the past year in that funds were expended on some very questionable projects, some audits on expenditures were inadquate, and control over certain funds was relinquished by the Department of State without proper safeguard."

The committee also:

1. Refused approval of the 30 million dollars asked to supply free Salk anti-polio shots for needy children, pending enactment of legislation authorizing the funds.

2. Prohibited any government spending for transmission facilities for the Dixon-Yates power plant at West Memphis, Ark., in view of Eisenhower's order yesterday to kill the controversial private power contract.

3. Approved $1,402,329,000 for military construction, a reduction of $77,671,000 in the amount requested.

Examining Fire-Razed Bloomfield Hills Home

Fire Hits Home of R. W. Budd

$95,000 Blaze Guts Bloomfield Hills House, Suspect Short Circuit

Fire destroyed the three story-18 room home of Robert W. Budd, Vaughan Road, Bloomfield Hills yesterday as more than 50 volunteer firemen from three neighboring companies fought a five and one-half hour battle against the $95,000 fire.

According to Bloomfield Hills Fire Chief Burton B. Bartholomew, who directed the firefighters from Bloomfield Township, Cranbrook and his company, the fire may have been caused by a short circuit in attic wiring.

He said heat from the short circuit flare-up set off the automatic warning system and alerted a maid at 3:42 p.m. She notified Chief Bartholomew who, on arrival, immediately asked for help from Bloomfield Township and Cranbrook.

Tank trucks poured gallons of water into the house booster pump while lines were run to a nearby lagoon.

Fireman were driven back when the roof and second story collapsed. Bloomfield Hills Fireman James Dunne, who was handling a hose in the house narrowly escaped death or serious injury as he ran from the blazing building seconds before the collapse.

Budd, owner of the home, is vacationing with his wife. He is president of the Great Lakes Greyhound Bus Lines. Chief Bartholomew said he is expected to return today.

Utica Waiting for Poison to Disappear From River

Officials in Utica today waited hopefully for the chromium-tainted waters of the Clinton River to clear after warning residents last night that drinking the water might prove fatal.

The chromium compound contaminating the river, from which 700 Utica-area homes get water, has been traced to Pontiac.

Officials here said a large "slug" of a chromium salt, such as used in electroplating baths, was dumped into Pontiac sewers Saturday morning. It was estimated more than a ton of the deadly chemical was put into the system, which empties into the Clinton.

After conferring with state health representatives, Utica city officials ordered all water drinking from the municipal system stopped early last night. They also warned that cooking with it would be dangerous

No illnesses have been reported.

Frank B. Gibbing, superintendent of water and sewage for Utica, said the contamination would continue at least another two days. "It's coming through plenty strong yet, although it has gone down somewhat since this morning," he said.

It took about 36 hours for the full impact of the chromium poisoning to be felt in Utica. City em-

Ike Orders End to Dixon-Yates

Memphis Mayor Gives Assurance City Plans to Build Own Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Dixon-Yates contract was virtually a dead letter today. But triumphant foes in Congress indicated they planned to keep the issue alive—into the 1956 presidential compaign, if possible.

President Eisenhower ordered the contract canceled yesterday after Mayor Frank Tobey of Memphis convinced him in a conference that the city intends to build its own power plant.

Coming out of that meeting, Atty. Gen. Brownell announced the government "will immediately take steps to terminate" the private power contract.

But Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn), who heads an antitrust subcommittee which has been investigating negotiations which led to the contract, announced the cancellation "will have no effect on our hearings."

"We expect to get to the bottom of this entire matter," he said.

Brownell described Eisenhower as "very happy" about the outcome. He said the President all along had wanted Memphis to build its own plant, but had been advised previously the city would not do so.

Sgt. Friday Tickets Davy for Red Light

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"I'm Sgt. Friday," said the motorcycle officer to the motorist.

They were too! Sgt. Lester Friday and David W. Crockett, 20.

"We sure have it rough, don't we?" sighed Crockett.

Sgt. Friday nodded and sighed too, but just the same he wrote out the ticket for running a red light.

Dondero to Push Demands for Oakland Road Funds

Belief that Oakland County will get a just share of road money for highway improvement is expressed by Congressman George A. Dondero. In a letter to C. N. Church, Pontiac Press editor, Dondero said he has written to State Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler regarding the problem. In his letter to the Press Mr. Dondero said:

"I doubt very much if Oakland County is to be sidetracked and not receive its just share of the road money to improve our highways.

"Naturally, I shall do everything I can to assist so that we in Oakland County will in no way be bypassed or overlooked when it comes to better roads for our people.

"I do appreciate the two editorials which the Press used on the subject. Thought I would let you know that I am interested in this matter.

"We are buried in an attempt to bring out a road bill following the Clay Committee report. I am sending you a copy of the bill which I introduced on behalf of the Administration, H.R. 4261."

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP)—A chubby 2-year-old girl, plucked from her crib by an apparent sex degenerate, was found raped and slain in a farm field yesterday.

Police said they were without clues in the abduction-slaying of curly haired Donna Sue Davis, described by neighbors as "the darling of the neighborhood."

The pajama-clad daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis was lifted from her crib within minutes after her mother had tucked her in for the night Sunday.

About this time neighbors reported seeing a young man prowling about the Davis' modest duplex home.

The crumpled body, savagely beaten about the head, was found alongside a ditch at the edge of a cornfield on the Ernest Oehlerking farm near South Sioux City, Neb., just across the Missouri River from here.

The child's pink pajama tops were wound around her neck. Her diaper, rubber pants and pajama bottoms were picked up by Oehlerking three-fourths of a mile down the country road.

Police said her clothing was bloodstained and she "definitely had been raped."

Dr. Thomas L. Coriden, coroner, said the girl was killed by a severe blow on the head. He confirmed she had been sexually assaulted. She had been dead 10 to 12 hours when found, he said.

5 Youths Dead After Avalanche

Two of Outing Group From Philadelphia Still Missing in Canada

BANFF, Alta. (AP) — Four boys from Philadelphia and one from St. Louis are known dead in a snow avalanche that caught them 9,500 feet up on Mt. Temple yesterday afternoon.

Two other boys were still missing today. Two are in Banff Hospital suffering from head injuries, shock and exposure and two escaped injury.

The dead are:

William Watts, 16, of Philadelphia.

Luther Seddon, 13, St. Louis. Still missing this morning were: Miles Marble, 12, Philadelphia. David Chapin, 15, Philadelphia. In Banff Hospital are Frederick Ballard, 13, and Jerry Clattenburg, 14, both of Philadelphia.

Peter Smith, 13, and Tony Woodfield, 16, escaped injury.

The 11 boys, all members of the Wilderness Club of Philadelphia, were part of a group of about 30 boys which had been in the area three days. O. D. Dickenson and W. H. Oeser, both of Philadelphia, are camp leaders.

Banff is a town of slightly over 2,000 population in the southern part of the Banff National Park, which includes some of the highest peaks in the Canadian Rockies. It is a famed Canadian resort area.

Schimmel Heads School Board

Local Man Is Elected to Lead City System for Third Term

Louis E. Schimmel stepped to the helm of the Pontiac Board of Education Monday night by unanimous vote of his six fellow board trustees. A veteran of 20 years of service with the local public schools, Schimmel has served two previous terms as president.

Named vice president was Mrs. Harry E. King. Monroe Osmun, newly elected member this year, will serve as secretary.

Renamed to the treasurership was Vernon Schiller.

Retiring president Glenn H. Griffin, who has presided for the past two years, commended Maurice Croteau and Fred Thiefels (members whose terms expired this year) for the fine job they had done for the Pontiac schools.

New members, Osmun and Rev. J. Allen Parker, were welcomed at the meeting which was for reorganizational purposes. Osmun previously served on the board and announced his candidacy again this year after a term in retirement.

Regular meeting of the board will be held Thursday night in the Board of Education offices at 40 Patterson St.

Korea Veterans Will Get Bonus by Christmas

LANSING (AP) — Most eligible veterans of the Korean war will have their Michigan bonus checks by Christmas, the Adjutant General of Michigan said today.

Maj. Gen. George C. Moran said that if his agency can maintain its present pace and if veterans apply promptly the process should be completed by the end of the year.

Last Friday, the office had received applications from 164,252 of the estimated 250,000 veterans eligible.

On that date, the office had processed 90,849 claims worth $25,965,675. The average claim is for $286.

Gen. Moran reported the flow of applications has slowed substantially.

Cargo Carriers, Parts Included in Big Project for Armed Forces

Military contracts totaling more than $10,500,000 for new-model 2½-ton trucks and replacement parts were announced today by P. J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division.

Called 6x6s (six wheels, all-power-driven), the vehicles were developed by GMC Truck after extensive study of World War II experiences as to the requirements of a modern tactical vehicle. They were first brought out in 1951.

The replacement-part order is to refit older-model 6x6 trucks supplied the armed services by the local plant during World War II, Monaghan explained.

This is the second order for the new 6x6s and the second military contract GMC has received since the vehicles were made available in 1951. The first contract was completed in 1954.

Although the number of units involved was not announced by the Army for security reasons, the dollar volume indicates that more than 1,000 vehicles will be manufactured.

COST $5,600

The per-unit cost was publicized by the Army two years ago as $5,600. It was not revealed what individual units will cost under the new contract.

The 6x6s were used as cargo trucks during the Korean fighting and found to be very rugged.

The 302-cubic inch, 155-horsepower engine can be made water tight and equipped with a snorkel for river crossings. The truck can cross a stream with the water up to a driver's neck.

In tests, GMC has had the truck completely submerged, with the operator using an oxygen mask. The truck has a hydramatic transmission.

Prison Farm's Pigs Eating High on Hog

A recent load of foodstuff was seized by Food and Drug Administration agents as improperly marked or not up to standard.

Sent to the prison farm for hog food were:

East-Siders Reassured on Zoning of Subdivision

Convincing a trio of east siders that Herrington Hills Subdivision on Featherstone road will have no two-family homes took over an hour of City Commission time last night.

At a public hearing, the three men demanded assurance that the builder would not construct duplexes in the residential 2 portion. (Another section is zoned residential 1, the single-family classification.)

The developer, Richard A. Coleman, of Detroit, said he would include single-family deed restrictions when registering the homes. He said these could not be broken because of FHA and Veteran's Administration loan commitments.

Following the lengthy hearing, the commission passed the ordinance making the land in question R-2.

APPROVE PLAT

The commission concurred with the City Plan Commission approving a proposed plat for Chambers Bowen Subdivision, with the provision the streets will be kept up during construction.

Concurrance was also voted for a plan board report approving a proposed plat for Pontiac Knolls Subdivision. A report approving an un-named plat of the area north of Michigan avenue bisected by Sanford street was deferred one week.

The plan commission was ordered to study street layout and possible extension of an existing street in connection with a request to rezone from R-1 to manufacturing 1 the north side of Walton boulevard between Joslyn and Highwood.

READ PETITION

Referred to the city attorney were a petition from a real estate firm to vacate a portion of the Judson Bradway Washington Park plat, and a letter from an attorney concerning personal injuries received by a client on a city street.

Resolutions honoring recently retired Murray M. Ashbaugh and William F. Maybury were passed. Ashbaugh was city treasurer for five years and Maybury was head of the Pontiac General Hospital board of trustees for three years.

Engineer's estimates were presented and public hearings set for next Tuesday for curb, gutter and drainage work on Edward street from Myra to Orchard Lake; on Hazel street from Telegraph to Starr; Elm street from Marshall to a point east of Going, and on Nebraska avenue from Bagley to Franklin road.

AMEND ORDER

A resolution was passed amending a previous resolution declaring public necessity for a water main in Kenneth Gardens. An estimate was presented showing assessed cost for the project would be $35,433. The city would pay $21,176.

A public hearing was held on intention to construct sidewalk on both sides of East boulevard from Perry to the west line of Green and Sarko and Eastview subdivisions. The city assessor was authorized to prepare assessment rolls.

A similar hearing for curb, gutter and drainage on Ivy street from Perry to Kennett was held, but action on the assessing resolution was delayed two weeks.

A public hearing was set for Tuesday on special assessment rolls for sidewalks in the following locations:

North side of Voorheis road from Ottawa to west line of Seminole Hills Subdivision.

Confirmed were assessment rolls for blacktop pavement on:

Tennyson avenue from Baldwin to University.
St. Clair street from Montcalm to Kennett.
Wing street from Montcalm to Kennett.
Young street from Montcalm to Kennett.
Summit street from Hudson to Montcalm.

Confirmed were rolls for curb, gutter and drainage on: Peggy avenue from Voorheis to Hazel and on Ypsilanti avenue from Carlisle to Stanley, plus a combined sewer in Second avenue from Ivy to Laurel, Laurel avenue from Second to Third and Third avenue from Joslyn to Highwood.

Crash Injuries Fatal to Boy, 3

Child Dies Today; Both Parents Killed Monday in Telegraph Mishap

Three-year-old Curt Johansen, critically injured in a car-truck crash yesterday on Telegraph road which killed his parents, died this morning in Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital.

The boy and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johansen, of Detroit, were traveling south on Telegraph near 10½ Mile road when a steel-laden truck, trying to avoid a smaller truck, crossed the center line and rammed their car into the ditch.

Johansen, 28-year-old building contractor, was pinned behind the wheel when the truck's heavy cab smashed down on the car. His wife Betty Ann, 31, was thrown to the pavement. Both were killed instantly. Their son was riding in the back seat.

The truck driver, Kenneth Roberts, 24, of Dearborn, was hospitalized with chest injuries. Howard Givens Jr., of Detroit, driver of a panel truck which Roberts said cut sharply in front of him, also was involved in the crash but escaped unhurt.

State Police of the Redford Post said they are withholding charges pending further investigation.

Water Survey Planned Here

County to Cooperate in Long-Range Study of Detroit Area

The Oakland County Plan Commission is preparing to survey county water needs and forward resulting data to the Detroit Area Regional Planning Commission as part of a six-county project, according to George N. Skrubb, director.

Planning groups in Wayne, Washtenaw, Monroe, St. Clair and Macomb Counties will submit similar information to the Detroit commission as first step in an effort to solve the combined area's long-range water problem.

The Detroit commission hopes to compile all submitted material and report to the Supervisors Inter-County Water Committee by Aug. 1. The inter-county group has members from all six counties.

The inter-county committee and regional plan commission have joined in the project to seek a permanent water source from the Great Lakes since it was started by delegates from Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties meeting as a tri-county water committee.

Utica Water Supply Periled by Plant

USE TANK TRUCKS

Meanwhile, residents are getting water from tank trucks which are hauling it in from wells in adjoining areas. Gibbing said the system, which has been drawing water from the Clinton since 1926, serves 500 homes in Utica and 200 in Shelby and Sterling Townships.

He said some contamination was first noticed about six months ago.

Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman said the chromium is causing a problem at the local sewage treatment plant as well as in Utica.

"The toxic waste kills off the digestive process and then things become highly odoriferous. Our plant is getting in terrible shape because of this stuff."

SEEK SOURCE

"We don't know what the sources are," Willman said, "but we hope to find out."

"We've known for a long time toxic wastes have been getting in, but just lately has there been enough to cause trouble."

He said technicians have been taking samples around the clock for the last several weeks trying to determine the source.

"We drove it down after two meetings with industrial engineering staffs and thought we were making progress. Then Saturday we got that big snort."

Willman pointed out the dumping of toxic wastes has to be controlled at the source, since the sewage treatment plant cannot neutralize the deadly chemicals.

Gravel Trailer Crushes Child

SOUTH LYON—A five-year-old South Lyon child, Sally McNulty of 29420 Dixboro Rd., was killed yesterday when crushed beneath the wheels of a gravel truck at Silver Lake and Dixboro Rds.

State Police of Brighton Post said the child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren McNulty, was crossing Silver Lake road in the path of the truck, which was pulling an empty semi-trailer and a second four-wheel trailer.

The driver swerved to miss the child, but the second four-wheel trailer struck and ran over her.

The truck was driven by Willard J. Gorsline, 38, of Detroit and owned by the Livonia Ready Mix Co. Gorsline told Livingston County Prosecutor Wilfred Erwin he was unable to avoid the child. He was not held.

Funeral service will be held Thursday at 1 p. m. from Richardson-Bird Funeral Home.

Alligator Poor Comparison to Lake Orion's Monster

The Lower-Long Lake alligator remained hidden from human view again yesterday, but reports of it have stimulated memories of the "sea serpent" which terrorized Lake Orion residents before the turn of the century.

In fact, some older Lake Orionites probably consider the four-to-seven-foot alligator as commonplace and dull.

They can recall stories of the 80-foot "monster" that once was said to have called their lake home.

The Lake-Orion science-fiction-type animal was first reported in 1894 by two young ladies fishing from a dock. Their exciting story of a serpent was pooh-poohed as only a weeping-willow root.

A few weeks later, however, another citizen sighted the "thing" swimming like a dog with a slimy head about the size of a duck's.

The serpent seemed to grow rapidly in the next few weeks as more and more glimpses were reported.

It was finally described as being black with a head as large as a yearling calf, sprouting jet-black horns. The body supposedly measured 30 to 40 feet in length, although some claimed it was 80.

WATER ADVISED

Those who reported sightings were generally advise to drink more well water in the future.

Then one day a woman and two small girls rushed home to report an encounter with the monster. They said they were fishing when suddenly the huge snake appeared.

The woman related how she seized a strip of board and whacked the serpent on the head, then rowed rapidly to shore. A week later six persons claimed the monster tipped over their boat.

Whenever a calf or cow was missing, the loss was blamed on the alleged prehistoric leftover. Hunting parties were sent out to erase the menace, but had no luck.

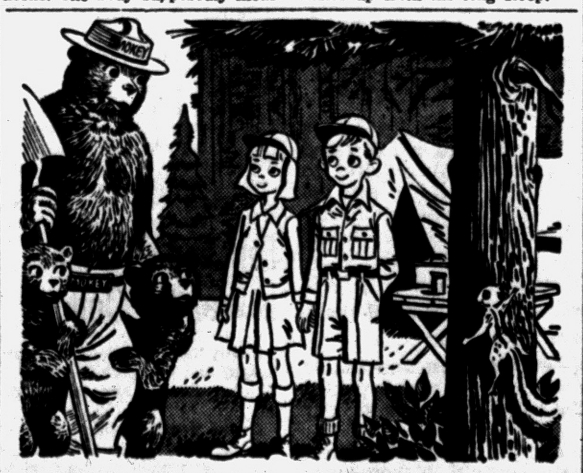
A Lake Orion journalist, who reviewed the story in 1931, said, "If he is still in the lake, he must be a regular leviathan now, and what a story we will have if he ever wakes up from his long sleep."



Camping's lots of fun, but be sure your daddy is real careful with his campfire and cigarettes because last year carelessness caused 177,000 forest fires in the U.S.! Make sure every fire is out—dead out—when you leave it. Remember—only you can prevent forest fires.

Duchess Is Home Again Despite 46 Day Ordeal

BIRMINGHAM—The Robert F. Isbell family couldn't be any happier if they had a new baby in the household—and they have—Duchess was found Sunday—after being lost 46 days.

Duchess, a shadow of her former self, had been given up for dead or stolen. The Isbells remember that their fawn-colored, pedigreed boxer disappeared May 25.

But a picnic outing for Frank Bowers Jr., 12, and his parents, of Detroit, proved to be one of the luckiest for the Isbells, of 25524 Southfield road.

When Frank's dad stopped their car two miles north of Birmingham, just off Woodward, the curious youngster began to explore the area and was drawn to an abandoned basement when he heard the sound of whining.

He called his father who climbed into the deep opening and found Duchess — a starving, 30-pounds-lighter pup.

When they returned home, the Bowers family checked the license on Duchess' choke collar which now hung limply at her shoulders and located her owners through the aid of police.

The Isbell family, which also includes Bob Jr., 17, Phil, 13, Mac, 7 and Tom, 4 weeks, all piled into the car for the reunion. As soon as they saw Duchess, they took her to a Birmingham veterinarian.

Mrs. Isbell said Dr. Carl J. Fox told her that the dog's excellent health had saved her life.

Duchess had had no food, but had lived on rain water in her place of cover, he said.

"We searched and searched for her," said Mrs. Isbell, "but the new baby helped us get over her loss."

Probably the most excited was young Mac, who told his mother he was so happy to have Duchess back, he'd "never let her go away again."

They hope Duchess will be home with them in a week.

Pontiac Promotes Sales Executive

The appointment of R. E. Thompson as assistant general sales manager for Pontiac Motor Division has been announced by H. E. Crawford, general sales manager.

Thompson, who has been with General Motors since 1930, joined the Pontiac organization as office manager in the Kansas City zone in 1935. In January of 1947 he became assistant zone manager in Kansas City for Pontiac and in August of the same year, went to Oklahoma City as zone manager. He had also served as a zone manager for Pontiac in the Houston zone. Prior to his present promotion, he was regional manager for Pontiac in the western sales region with headquarters in Kansas City.

A realignment of territories covered by assistant general sales managers was also announced by Mr. Crawford. J. C. Jamieson will be responsible for sales in the eastern and central regions; E. J. Chapman the southern and western regions; and, R. E. Thompson the midwest and Pacific regions.

Until the body was found, police called Donna's disappearance a "motiveless kidnaping" since Davis, a railroad clerk, is of modest means.

* * *

Laif Fjeldos pursued the man down an alley but didn't catch him. The Fjeldos dog's barking warned of the intruder.

* * *

The body was found by Mrs. Ernest Oehlerking, her sister-in-law, Mrs. William Oehlerking, and their children. Stalks of the waist-high corn were broken, indicating the body had been thrown into the field.

The grief-stricken Davises, parents of an older son and daughter, planned funeral services for Donna at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Commission Plans Attack on Dutch Elm Tree Killer

BIRMINGHAM—A killer took the spotlight at last night's City Commission meeting, but continues to elude its would-be capturers.

The deadly Dutch Elm disease is stalking Birmingham's 15,000 to 20,000 elm trees at a rate which may double last year's losses, City Forester William R. Lebold told the lawmakers, who took no immediate action.

City Commissioner William Roberts said the city may have to revise its attack on the beetle which last year infected 163 trees, in reconsidering an ordinance which would enforce spraying of private trees.

Birmingham's elms are about equally divided on public and private property.

Lebold, who said the sap stream invader may wipe out as many as 300-400 of Birmingham's elms this season, quoted statistics showing that twice-a-year DDT sprayings are a deterrent to the army of beetles which swept down on Birmingham only three summers ago.

MUST SPRAY ELMS

Lebold said figures show that of last year's cases, 30 infected trees were on city property and 133 on private, bearing out his contention that all of Birmingham's elm must be sprayed if the battle is to be won. His department sprays all public elms.

The disease killed one tree in 1953 and has been on the rampage since.

The bark-boring insect lives and breeds on dead and decaying elmwood, spreading its fungus disease through sap streams. Since there is no known cure, infected trees must be removed within ten days, under state law. Symptoms of the malignacy include wilting or yellowing leaves.

CONFIRM APPOINTMENTS

Appointments of Norman Berry and City Commissioner Harry F. Denyes, Jr., to the Planning Board were confirmed, in time for a joint Planning Board-City Commission meeting on Thursday.

At that time, approximate acquisition and construction costs for a possible second city parking lot on the north half of the block south of Shain Park, will be presented.

It is expected that this will aid the commission in outlining an assessment district for Municipal Parking Lot No. 1.

* * *

The outing will get under way at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Gilbert Lake home of W. Carleton Scott. A long list of activities includes swimming, fishing and boating.

* * *

Franklin Cemetery Auxiliary will hold its regular meeting on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Floyd Beardslee, East Square Lake road, Bloomfield Township. A potluck luncheon will be served at 1 p.m. A new slate of officers will be elected at the August meeting.

* * *

A program written, prepared, rehearsed and publicized by the youngsters themselves is the Torry School playground recreation program being sponsored by the Recreation Board.

The festivities each Friday at 3:15 p.m. climax a week of handicrafts, tether tennis, checker tournaments and other activities which are supervised by Kay Bronson and Carol Dorman.

Geraldine, Gloria and Donny McKay and Barbara Wichman turned out the first presentation, singing solos, duets and in a group. "The Seven Top Hits of the Week" was the theme of last week's program, with "Davy Crockett" heading the list. A specialty number featured fancy baton twirling.

Gable Marries for Fifth Time

MINDEN, Nev. (AP)—Clark Gable, 54-year-old screen veteran, and Kay Williams Spreckels, 37, actress and former wife of California sugar heir Adolph Spreckels II, were married yesterday in a surprise double-ring ceremony.

It was Gable's fifth marriage, Miss Williams' third.

* * *

The ceremony in the home of Justice of the Peace G. Walter Fisher climaxed an on-again, off-again romance that has linked their names in gossip columns for about 10 years. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Menasco, of St. Helena, Calif., and Mrs. Elizabeth Nessar, of Los Angeles.

Gable, appearing very formal in a dark blue suit, and his bride, wearing a chic tan suit, were uncommunicative before and after the ceremony. Fisher said the actor said only "I do" and both were unusually quiet.

"Afterwards, Mr. Gable took her in his arms and kissed her," he said. "I don't know for how long, but pretty long. Maybe two or three seconds. A good kiss."

There was speculation that the couple might have gone for their honeymoon to Glenbrook, a small resort community on Lake Tahoe where Gable has a cottage.

Bloomfield Hills OKs School Bond Issue

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—A small contingent of voters turned out yesterday to push through an $800,000 school bond issue. The school district tallied 437 votes, or approximately 20 per cent of its electorate, of which 388 persons approved the issue.

Forty-two people turned down the bonds, which will allow for construction of a $275,000 elementary school on one of six elementary school sites the funds will also purchase.

This first step of five in a proposed fifteen-year building program, will raise school taxes less than one mill.

Would Let Mounties Marry Much Sooner

OTTAWA July 11 (AP)—Some balm for the love life of the Mountie was urged in the House of Commons by William Bryce who said young fellows joining the Royal Canadian Mounted Police should have an opportunity to marry earlier than now allowed by regulations.

Bryce said it is a shame RCMP recruits are prevented from marrying until they've been in the force five years. Justice Minister Stuart Garson said the rule provides men readily movable to outlying areas where it would be difficult to take a wife.

Church Holds Services in Drive-In Theater

ELMSFORD, N.Y., July 11 (AP)—To make worship "more convenient and comfortable," St. Mark's Evangelical Lutheran church is holding services in a drive-in theater.

Ushers at the ticket gate give out programs, and prayers and sermons are heard over the theater's amplifiers. Parishioners are urged to dress informally.

Cadillac

Second Car He Ever Owned!

Time was when a man wouldn't have considered a Cadillac until he had owned four—or five—or even six different motor cars.

There are, we think, two basic reasons for this wonderful change.

To begin with, the temptation to make the move to Cadillac has never been greater than it is today.

The car's arresting grace and beauty . . . its captivating luxury and graciousness . . . and its heart-winning performance have all been brought to new peaks of perfection for 1955.

And secondly, the path that leads to Cadillac has never before been so clearly marked or so easily traveled.

Take original cost, for instance. The lowest-priced Cadillac costs little more than many models in the medium-price field.

And then consider Cadillac's gasoline economy and upkeep expense. Few automobiles of any size or make will travel farther on a gallon of gasoline . . . and the car is so soundly built and engineered that it is all but free from any save the most routine costs of maintenance.

And, finally, there is the car's resale value. Year after year, Cadillac cars return their owners a higher percentage of their investments than any other automobiles in the land.

So if you want a Cadillac—don't feel that you have to advance gradually to the car of cars.

If you are ready to make the move to Cadillac, the automobile you now own is the perfect stepping-stone.

Why not stop in soon and see for yourself? You'll find that we have some very pleasant news for you about cost and delivery.

AF Academy Welcomes First Class of 306 Cadets

DENVER (AP) — The U. S. Air Force Academy opened its doors to the first class of 306 cadets yesterday amid salutes from roaring jet bombers, the snap of martial music and inspirational words of Air Force leaders.

* * *

Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott told the cadets and 3,000 invited guests at Lowry Air Base that "it is to the human element that the Air Force Academy is dedicated, and especially, to the leadership we must have if our country is to survive."

The air cadets were dressed in khaki trousers and shirts with Air Force blue caps and epaulets. They marched with precision into the dedication area on a taxi-way at Lowry, temporary headquarters of the academy until its permanent home is ready at Colorado Springs in 1957.

* * *

"You cadets face a challenge given to few men," Talbott said, "that of preparing yourselves to lead the most powerful war machine on the face of the globe, yet one which is dedicated solely to the prevention of war."

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chief of staff of the Air Force, told the cadets that "one man in one bomber today can deliver more explosive force" than all of the Air Force could in 1945.

* * *

A message from President Eisenhower, read by Talbot, satid, "In taking its place beside West Point and Annapolis, the Air Force Academy joins a proud company. The honored histories of the two older institutions provide a standard against which, in future years, the excellence of the new academy will be measured. I know it will be found worthy. The American people, I know, wish the Air Force Academy brilliant success."

The 15th Air Force paraded its might through the skies to signal opening of the dedication. Included were seven B36s, 18 B47s and 24 F84F Thunderstreak jet fighter-bombers.

British Banning Teddy Boy Togs

Off-Duty Tommies Get Orders Not to Wear Edwardian Getup

LONDON (INS) — The British Army wants conservative Tommies—not Edwardian teddy boys.

The Army has expressed itself in no uncertain terms in the opening salvo of a war on teddy boy clothes at Bicester, Oxfordshire.

"Certain military personnel when in Bicester on off duty hours are unsatisfactorily dressed in 'Edwardian' cut and style of dress."

The order announced that a civilian clothes parade would be held every month and leave passes issued only to men producing suitable clothes—that is, of the non-Edwardian style.

The orders added: "Soldiers whether on or off duty are required to have a turn-out of the highest order."

During recent weeks, gangs of youths dressed in velvet collared costs and "drainpipe" trousers roamed through quiet Bicester streets scaring the inhabitants and manhandling girls.

One officer said: "We looked into complaints and found that eight out of ten culprits wore teddy suits."

The orders, issued by Lt. Col. Michael Keeling, commander of the Bicester garrison, caused muttering among the teddy boy troopers.

One said: "Us chaps are pretty annoyed. We should have the right to wear our own choice of clothes off duty."

But unless they discard Edwardian dress for modern clothing, they will be confined to their barracks for an indefinite period. And what good is a teddy boy suit in the closet?

FAMOUS CHILDREN'S PAINTINGS—2

Little Miss Copley

The little girl in today's picture was sketched from one of the famous works of art by an early American painter, John Singleton Copley. It is the second of this week's series on famous paintings of children.

Miss Copley's father was born in Boston about 1737, and became interested in art while still a boy. He became known as a fine portrait painter, and most of his works still hang in homes and galleries around Boston.

You can color today's picture and add it to your collection of famous paintings of children. If you wish, you also can mount the picture on cardboard and then cut out Miss Copley on the dark outline around her dress and doll. Then fold back on dotted lines, and she will stand on your dresser.

Both Manufacturing and Farming Prosper Here

Oakland County's foundation was laid on agriculture, a foundation that has been an eminently substantial one for what was to endure and follow.

Clearing away the primeval forests, which covered 90 odd per cent of its area, was more a means to accumulate farming land than for the lumber which it could produce.

Lumber material then was so plentiful that thousands of large trees were felled and burned without any part of them going through a saw mill. Rotting stumps dotted every wheat and corn field until the years' decay made possible their removal.

Through over one-half the time that has lapsed since the county was organized in 1820, agriculture was the predominant occupation.

The federal census of 1870 gave the county a population of 40,867, of whom 8,389 were adult males. Of these 7,174 were farmers, leaving only 1,215 in other occupations.

Pontiac's population then was 4,867, about the same as that of Rochester Village today. Of this 4,867 in Pontiac, only 794 were employed in its factories.

As the county's greatest industrial development has taken place, over one-half of its farm lands has been taken over for other purposes. But in its total area of 326,000 acres, it still has some large farms, some running over 3,000 acres.

While manufacturing has driven Oakland County agriculture into second place among its industries, farming still is a dominant factor in its life.

The county's population growth and decreased farming acreage have so changed conditions that, where we formerly raised practically all of our own food and had far more than that to sell to outside sources, we now do not produce enough of any crop for own own needs.

The percentage of farmers and other workers has more than reversed since that 1870 census. But the greatly lessened number of men employed and the decreased acreage under cultivation are largely offset by more intensive farming.

Better methods, improved machinery, crop rotation, soil conservation and fertilization, during the period that it became one of the world's greatest industrial centers, are keeping Oakland County among the top agricultural counties in Michigan.

Heat Unbalances Folks Near Old Pacific Ocean

How silly can we get?

Two San Francisco garage and auto painting unions have just negotiated a contract that makes each employes' birthday a "paid holiday."

Glory be.

★ ★ ★

Of course, there's always a wedding anniversary as an additional "holiday" and we musn't forget each succeeding anniversary of the day old Uncle Tobias froze his feet. Then there's that momentous day when the doctor declared little junior had the mumps. That ought to call for a day off or quadruple time plus a magnum of champagne.

★ ★ ★

Employers who connive against common sense with gimmicks like these ought to be deported to Russia where their mental aberrations would be accepted as par for the course instead of kindergarten maneuvers at the adult level.

Coal Prices Rise

The National Coal Board, which runs Great Britain's mines, has announced an eighteen per cent increase in coal prices. A news dispatch from London states that this is the seventh and biggest price boost since the industry was nationalized in 1945.

It ought to open the eyes of a few million more Englishmen. This latest increase will cost consumers $330,000,000 a year.

★ ★ ★

That isn't exactly what British Labor Party leaders told the public would happen if they would turn the coal mines over to the government.

That was to be a happy day.

Now the hard facts of life are coming out. It is lessons like these that have opened the eyes of Englishmen. They have learned the hard way that government can't do things more cheaply than can private industry.

That is one of the reasons why the Labor party took a beating in the recent English elections. Their promises had sounded fine. But they simply couldn't make them good.

Only two years ago, he asserts that the hottest weather of the summer was in early September, when for several days the mercury ran higher than on any day last week. Among the recent hot weather injury victims was

Speaking From the Summit

David Lawrence Says:

Reds Must Give Evidence of Good Faith at Big 4

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower said the other day that the kind of peace "that will allow people to be really tranquil and confident in their daily pursuits" will achieve only when nations have achieved "mutual trust."

It's no state secret. That's the core of the problem at the Big Four conference to be held next week at Geneva. How, therefore, does any nation, any government, any head of a state set about to "achieve mutual trust?"

The answer is to be found in applying the dilemma to the affairs of individual human beings. For, in their relations, they do not differ materially from those of nations. If an individual has repeatedly violated his word, if he has broken contract after contract, if he has schemed behind his partner's back to undermine him, if he has entered an association designed for specific objects and then has deliberately plotted against all the other members of that association, what can such a person do to regain the trust and confidence of his neighbors and his fellow men?

Usually an individual who commits a crime confesses it and repents. He tells why he has done wrong and asks the rest of the community to forgive him and restore to him a place in the esteem of his fellow citizens.

ADMIT ERRORS?

Can governments ever admit they were wrong? Can they repent of their sins? Isn't that difficult, it will be asked, for them to do if they have pride? The oft-used expression of diplomacy—"saving face"—is invoked and it is usually suggested that some method of glossing over the wrongdoing be accepted as a substitute. Hence public confession by a government is politically difficult even in a totalitarian country.

An alternative method would be performance—actual deeds that show retribution this could be accomplished by undoing the wrongs which the Soviet Union has committed since 1945.

Thus the Moscow government pledged itself to permit free elections in Poland and Czechoslovakia and in the other satellite countries. It was a pledge given first in the Atlantic Charter signed by Stalin.

FREE CAPTIVES

Another step would be to release all the prisoners of war the Soviets have retained in their custody since 1945. There is not the semblance of right behind those acts and it would be a sign of regeneration if the captives were allowed to go to their respective countries. Then there are the prisoners held by Red China in violation of the Panmunjom armistice agreement. If there were given their freedom, the world would understand that a new era had arisen and that sincere efforts were being made to establish "mutual trust."

Red China, too, should permit free elections uncoerced by military force. There would be no question of admission to the Security Council of the U. N. for a representative of a unified China if the Chinese on Formosa and the Chinese on the mainland could pick their own parliament and their own rulers, and if the new China government were to achieve and practice complete independence of the Moscow yoke.

Another step would be the unification of Korea. This can be achieved if the Communists would permit the United Nations to hold free elections so that a new government might emerge to govern all of Korea as a country independent of Red Chinese or Soviet coercion.

FREE ELECTIONS

The key to "mutual trust" is to be found in free elections everywhere so that the people can rule. There would be no fear of war if dictatorships were not in power in countries that have the military might and the resources to menace the peace of the world.

All this will seem difficult to accomplish but only because evil men do not choose to reform or repent. Maybe that's because they no longer believe in God, and worship instead the false gods of their own fallacious authority. Men who have learned to surrender to the will and guidance of a supreme being have not been troubled about "saving face" and admitting wrong.

If the Soviet rulers mean to win trust and to be themselves trustful they have only to undo the many things they have done since 1945 which have brought on the "cold war." Then, indeed, will a conference of the heads of states mean something. If there's no "mutual trust" only an uneasy truce can ensue—a postponement of the crisis until the aggressor feels strong enough to start a war. Meantime, spiritual power and moral force mobilized by free peoples can seek to reach the oppressed peoples and encourage them to get rid of their evil rulers—it may be the only way to prevent a catastrophe from happening.

Last week I drove many miles in the northern part of the state. There were times when I drove as much as a mile without passing more than two or three cars. Here in Oakland County in a mile you can pass more than a hundred cars. The Road officials should spend the money where the people are doing their driving.

We have done a fine job taking care of the sparsely settled counties in the northern part of the state. They have more good roads than they really deserve, considering the usage made of them and the usage in Oakland County.

Our Oakland County authorities should press our case vigorously. They owe this to the tax payers around here who contribute so much of the money.

Hal Boyle Says:

Don't Feed Bears in Park; They May Get Too Palsy

By HAL BOYLE

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP)—Bears are having trouble with people here in the heart of the Great Smoky mountains.

To begin with, the number of bears and tourists has increased enormously in the last century.

Fifty years ago no one knew for sure how many black bears there were in this area. In those distant times even the fugitive tourist was a matter of guess.

But now they do know about the tourists. They figure 2½ million will come here this season, folks hungry for nature.

A park ranger who has spent his life in the hills estimates there will be 1,200 bears here who could say "Hello!"

* * *

The cold truth, naturally, is that many of these 1,200 bears have no desire to associate with the visitors, and of course the feeling could be mutual.

However, a park ranger finds this hard to believe. He worries that every visitor will find a bear and get himself in trouble.

As of last week the Smoky National bears had been accused of muscling 14 tourists so far this year.

The disturbing thought to those of us with reflective minds is: "Why should these bears seek out tourists and annoy them?"

Why are these bears unhappy?

Basically, I think they boil down to two types.

A. The bad bear. He stands at the picnic site, and is lonely and hungry. He leers and demands his helping, and generally gets it, too.

B. The confused bear. He tries to be helpful. He stands at roadside during the height of the tourist season and tries to direct them to the wild life they are seeking. This gets him mixed up.

They feel a responsibility toward both bears and people. They know that people are also fascinated by bears.

* * *

So many tourists don't realize this. Because they are in a national park and perhaps have seen a bear in a zoo at home they think a bear in the woods is a potential buddy.

He isn't. A bear is an animal that even here can go up to 600 pounds and merely by patting you goodbye keep you in stitches.

So far no tourists has been killed by a bear in this tremendous park that spreads from North Carolina into Tennessee, but many have been cruelly mauled. It is almost without exception the result of violating a park rule against feeding the bears.

* * *

The trouble with feeding a bear is that after you give him all the food you have — or all you feel you can spare — he may not be satisfied.

Then he may keep coming right after you.

"Actually a bear doesn't mean any personal harm when he paws you over," said a mountain man drily. "He may merely be searching you to be sure you aren't holding out a sandwich on him."

Wear False Teeth All Day, Every Day and You'll Soon Forget You Have Them

Marguerite hasn't played fair with her dentist. You patients must do your share or eyeglasses, false teeth and hearing aids will not do theirs. And even when you wear such aids steadily, your eyes and gums will change during the years, so don't think one pair of glasses or false teeth should last a lifetime.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-380: Marguerite S., aged 55, has a set of false teeth.

"But, Dr. Crane, they bother me. I can't get used to them," she protested.

"So I just wear them a few minutes at meal time and then I take them out of my mouth.

"At breakfast I may not use them at all, for I can chew oatmeal and soft boiled eggs without them.

"Do you think my dentist didn't do a good job in fitting me with these new dentures?"

DON'T BLAME DENTIST

* * *

But you should wear your teeth constantly. Then your gums adapt to them and you soon become so accustomed to them that they no longer call attention to themselves.

If, however, you chew food without your false teeth, your gums change their contours so the best fitted false teeth may no longer operate efficiently on those rare occasions when you do finally put them back in your mouth.

* * *

Marguerite thus has never become accustomed to her false teeth, since she has never worn them steadily.

She is like the bifocal patient who doesn't wear his glasses long enough to forget about them.

WATCH FOR LINE

If you are constantly looking at the fog line that separates the two lenses in your bifocal glasses, you are so preoccupied that you can't enjoy the beauties of the world out in front.

You must wear glasses until you forget you have them on. Then, and only then, will you be able to see the world with pleasure.

God Almighty created us with a wonderful brain by which we were to improve on shortcomings in our physical body.

That's why he didn't cover us with fur or feathers, for God knew we'd not be able to shed them in 5 minutes during a premature hot spell, nor put them on in 5 minutes when a sudden zero blast hits our town in winter.

And our soft foot is obviously untitted for sharp stones or freezing weather, so we have invented a wide variety of shoes. Indeed, we have had to help the horse, too, by making iron shoes for him or he'd have his hoof cut to shreds by sharp stones and rocks.

2 SETS OF TEETH

Well, God gave us two sets of teeth, but after that he expected us to use his allies, namely, modern scientific dentists and get our 3rd or 4th or 5th sets from them.

* * *

Most of us ultimately need eyeglasses and hearing aids, if we live long enough, so God figured our scientific brains would enable us to create aids for our eyes and ears, as we have supplemented our feet.

But people who need glasses, hearing aids, or false teeth simply must do their part and wear them until they get so used to these aids that they project their attention beyond them, and outward upon external reality.

Then your attention is focussed on the food, not on the false teeth, or on the conversation, not upon your buzzing ears, or the flowers and people, not on the glass lens in front of your eye.

People who focus on the false teeth, simply haven't worn them steadily enough to forget they are in place. So never blame a dentist or physician or optometrist till you have done your part in giving such aids a prolonged and proper test.

Eyes and gums also change with the years, so one set of false teeth or one fitting of eye glasses is not supposed to last for life.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Reader Scorches Brady for Emphasis on 'Nudity'

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

A Kansan who says she is 54 asks for advice on sun bathing and how to get a good tan in the summer—if tan is beneficial to health.

The query will probably scandalize the New England lady who wrote regarding a statement in this column May 6th:

"Your piece on nudity was the most abominable thing I've ever known you to get off. . . . If Benjamin Franklin had any such ideas" (I said Franklin used to sit nude at this writing for an hour or so before breakfast) "or did such a thing as you say he must have had the grace to be ashamed of it, for I have his autobiography and he never once mentions any such thing and I think it is too bad to besmirch the name of so fine a man . . . you ought to be ashamed . . . it certainly sets you down as a . . ."

A San Francisco columnist commented brightly on The 7 Keys to Vite (No. 16 Little Lesson, for which send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope—though the San Francisco man didn't procure his copy that way), demolished three of the seven keys in less time than it takes to tell what they are, thus:

Temperance—"one man's opinion."

Belly Breathing—"if we were intended to breathe with our stomachs why did we get lungs?"

Nudity — "you take off your clothes and walk around in mixed company. That's what I thought nudity was. Also nudism."

DIFFERENCE EXPLAINED

If the San Francisco comic and the New England lady will consult Webster some time when nobody's looking they'll learn that nudity means nakedness and nudism is a cult.

And further research in a textbook on anatomy or physiology, if this is not too abominal, would reveal that the stomach is an organ in the abdomen and the belly is the front wall of the abdomen.

A few readers may recall a dozen pieces in this column in 1937-38 about Odd House, a project disrupted by the threat of World War II. We were eliminating door knobs, faucet handles and the like when we were so rudely interrupted. This San Francisco commentator says mine "seems like a mighty odd household. People running around bare, somersaulting and breathing with their stomachs."

To the best of my knowledge only one member this household actually does these silly things and he does 'em in privacy, except now and then when he shows some poor old stiff how to roll.

Maybe you erudite laymen, who (think you) know more than I do about hygiene, health, physiology, pathology and therepeutics, agree with the commentator that these and the other four keys to vite are unworthy of serious consideration.

To me they are—well, the only medicine I'm willing to take. If proper care of the teeth, temperance, natural breathing, sun or air bathing, daily exercise and a basic health diet seem silly to you, let me say that the aspirin, acetanilide, barbiturate, benzedrine or alcohol which so many misguided persons use on one pretext or another don't seem silly to me. They sem dangerous.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Bob Considine Says:

Deal Me In as Chow-Sampler at Geneva

NEW YORK (INS) — If Ike hasn't already selected a food taster—maybe Civil Service has such a category, it's got everything else—I'd like to apply for the job. The secret Service has announced that such a person will be a part of the Eisenhower chalet staff during the Big Four conference.

Credentials? I've dined from greasy chopstick dives in Kunming to the Chambord, where they charge for a peeled grape by the carat. I've lived through everything from 500 year old eggs and skewered octopi to home cooking, which, of course, is one of the more dangerous ways to eat. Whenever I heard anybody say, "I love onions but they don't love me," I think of my own slogan: "Cucumbers love me but I'll have nothing to do with them."

I can eat three squares in any language, and ad lib at the ice box between meals. Matter of fact, so can a friend of mine who is going to cover the Big Four meeting, too. Frank Conniff of the New York Journal-American. And the most amazing thing of all is that no matter how much we eat we stay lean and hard like thin Gary Coopers. Say, ten of them.

ALL 'EN FRANCAIS'

It should be a pretty thrilling job. Suppose some night the President of the United States, famished by a long day of palaver with Bulganin, sits down at his table, tucks his napkin in his collar, and says. "Mamie, tonight I'm shooting the works. I want to start off with "mousse de foie de Volaille," then move on to "truite saumonee a la gelee de porto au gratin de Homard Nantua," polish off a "poularde de bresse braisee a L'Estragon," gnaw away at a slab of "fromages de Vavoie;" and knock it off with a "framboise bise" and six or seven demi-tasses instead of a large coffee."

I can see myself now, standing at his side, slightly bloated and glassy-eyed from having previewed everything ordered. There is a tense moment after his final order. All eyes turn to me.

I shake my head from east to west Ike settles for milk and crackers.

What is the role of a food taster when the boss is eating out? Does he sit on the President's lap and take a whack at the forkful as it goes by? Doesn't seem likely that he could get in Bulganin's kitchen, which will be bossed by a Commissar. Will he stand in the wings and pass notes to the President that read:

"Watch that "Jambon de bayonne," boss, but the "oeuf a la Gelee" is okay for starters. Go slow on the "petite marmite Henri IV." It made my geiger counter click. Hold out for the "potage cultivateur'."

'A LA DUROCHER

Or maybe a simple system of signals could be worked out. Ike once played and coached football and should fall into step quite easily. The food taster could tug at his belt, like a Durocher, which could mean "We haven't yet had a loyalty test report on the "entrecote a la moelle sauce Marchand de vin" so give it the brush. Stick with "noisette D'Agneau bonne bouche."

Or the clapping of hands could steer Ike off the "macedoine de fruits Rafraichis aux liqueurs" which turned an assistant taster chartreuse and put him on to "delice de Paris Helene" or the "souffle Arlequin."

The President also is taking a drink taster along. Any red-blooded American boy would be happy to volunteer for this work. Unfortunately, I don't drink or I'd be there in the front rank. However, some good friends of mine imbibe and I'd like to recommend one of them, as non-drinking captain of the American booze team in the next Olympics.

"FOOTS BORE"

I've got a fellow named Foots Bore drinking clean-up who can knock off a dozen martinis before lunch, hit the right wines through the various courses, and taper off from brandies to stingers as the afternoon wanes. He comes back at night with 15 or 20 dreadful things called scotch mists, maybe takes a bottle of champagne or two with the meal, and slips right back into the scotch—like a non-swimmer grasping for a lifebelt—as the meal nears its end. He hasn't been to bed since 1913, when he was named Mr. Rheingold.

This fellow could serve a double purpose. He could taste and he could stand in as a deputy drinker. There are bound to be a lot of toasts at Geneva. He could stand up and say, "Thank you, Comrade Bulganin, I'll drink this fine vintage Freezone for the President. Bottoms up."

Anyway, sounds pretty exciting. Even if Ike doesn't get a deputy drinker, he'll be able to take care of himself. He had a drinking session with Stalin, once upon a time. He drank the first toast in vodka, then said to Joe, "I always drink the first toast of the evening in the native wine or whisky or whatever it is. Thereafter, I drink only white wine." Stalin looked at him with great interest.

* * *

"That's a wonderful idea," he said, with relief, and turning to a butler he ordered a bottle of innocous white wine for the General and one for himself.

It's bigger, smarter and more powerful than any other car at anything like the price!

A sales success like Pontiac's starts on the drawing boards—with engineers and designers who have been schooled for years in the Pontiac idea of giving more people more car for less money.

Look at all the new Pontiacs on the road for an idea of how well they've succeeded. And for your final, personal confirmation, compare Pontiac feature by feature, with any car in its field:

Take the matter of size. With its long 122" or 124" wheelbase and extra, big-car heft, Pontiac provides road-hugging comfort and a safe, secure feeling you get in no other car near it in price!

Now take this big, roomy car and surround it with the unmatched distinction of Twin-Streak styling and Vogue Two-Toning—beauty that obviously is calling the turn on the future—and you have another reason for Pontiac's phenomenal sales success.

That alone would be enough for most cars—but not for Pontiac!

Pontiac corners the market on value with the most powerful engine within hundreds of dollars of its price.

The sensational 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor* is the newest, most modern power you can buy. In acceleration and in passing power you're on even terms with anything on the road. And still more in your favor is the fact that today's Pontiac is bettering even its own enviable reputation for dependability and economy!

If by now you're thinking "This is what I've wanted all along!", we suggest you stop in and talk dollars and cents. That's when you'll get the final reason for Pontiac's record popularity—the fact that you can fit a big, powerful, future-fashioned Pontiac into any new-car budget!

You'll never find it easier to get into the fine-car class than right now! *Low extra cost option

Death Has 3 Lives

by Brett Halliday

Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Lucy Hamilton, attractive secretary of private detective Michael Shayne, has been kidnapped by a murderer. Shayne, already deeply involved in the case, meets Miami Police Chief Will Gentry at the morgue where they are both examining the latest victim.

XXV

"You bet, Chief. Like I said, I've had two customers before Shayne and Rourke. Albert Jenkins, 1126 12th Street, Miami. And then there was a young lady. Came in just as I was bringing him back up. No luck for him. Or, maybe it was luck for him. He'd feared it was his daughter. Didn't get the young lady's name. Friend of Mr. Jenkins, I gathered, and come here for the same reason. She was standing here waiting to register, and soon's he saw her he went to her fast and grabbed her arm and said something like: 'No need for you to go through the ordeal of looking at her, my dear. Thank God, it isn't Helen. 'Or something like that. Then he just hurried her out the door an' that's the last I saw of them."

Shayne leaned forward with his palms flat on the desk and said harshly, "Describe the young lady."

"Well, I. ... She was right pretty, I noticed. Pert-lookin'. Maybe 25. Brown hair, I guess. She wasn't wearing any hat. Brown eyes, maybe. You know how it is." He extended both his palms. "Just saw her that one little minute before she went out."

"What was she wearing?" demanded Shayne hoarsely.

He held his breath while the attendant haltingly described the dark wool suit Shayne had last seen Lucy wearing, and a light wrap which he immediately recognized as hers.

"This Jenkins! What did he look like?"

"Nothing particular. Sort of heavy-built and fiftyish. Wearing a gray suit and gray hat pulled down so you couldn't see his face so good. Almighty worried, he was, about seeing whether she was his girl or not."

DEMANDS REPORT

"Wait a minute, Will," Shayne's voice was like a whiplash as he prevented the chief from speaking again. "Tell me this one thing. Any report from Miami Beach tonight about a man that might have been picked up on the Causeway after the car went over the edge?"

Will Gentry studied him curiously for a moment. "You mean the car that had the woman in the trunk? The one where you and Lucy just happened to be rowing out on the bay nearby when it occurred? The one that showed signs of some sort of explosive having gone off in the front seat? Just about the same amount of damage that might have been caused by that gas bomb you got Pete Fairwell to make up for you this evening?"

"All right," agreed Shayne grimly. "That one. Though I didn't know about the signs of an explosion."

"Why, yes," said Gentry, rocking back on his heels and taking a thick black cigar from his pocket while he studied the redhead intently. "My men did get a report that some passing motorist maybe picked up the driver and took him away from the scene before they got there. No one has come forward to verify the story. Can you?" He shot the two final words out like two rocks.

"Not personally. Tim Rourke got the story from his paper. I want to know one more thing, Will. Any slugging or anything like that reported on the Beach in the last hour?"

Will Gentry rolled the cigar slowly back and forth from one corner of his mouth to the other, his shrewd eyes hooded by wrinkled brows.

"As a matter-of-fact a man was picked up unconscious just beyond the end of the Causeway about 15 minutes after the sedan went over. Apparently slugged over the head and tossed out of a moving car. He was a citizen of Miami Beach who is supposed to have been driving home from Miami about that time. Any more questions you feel like asking right now, Mike? Or, is it my turn?" His voice was deceptively even and calm, but there was a note of iron in it that warned of thinning patience.

WILL PULLS GUN

"I don't think I need to ask any more questions," said Shayne. He started out of the morgue fast.

Will Gentry jerked his coat open and drew a .38 from his shoulder holster. His voice was like ice as he ordered: "Halt, Shayne, I'll shoot if you go through that door."

The door remained steady in Gentry's hand. He jerked his head in a curt negative. "You're going to headquarters with me, Shayne. You and Tim Rourke both. When you've told me everything you know about this, the police will take over. Mike, I mean it."

"But Lucy. . . ."

"Lucy Hamilton is a woman exactly like the one downstairs. Exactly like the one strangled on 18th Street tonight. We'll do exactly the same to protect her as we did to protect them."

"If you think I'm going to sit on my hands until Lucy's corpse turns up, you're crazy."

"You'll sit behind bars if you want it that way." Will Gentry's voice was inflexible and he made no move to holster his gun. "It's my own hunch that one or both of those other women would still be alive if you hadn't tried to play God tonight. If you hold out on us now, it'll be Lucy you're holding out on. I'm chief of police in Miami, and I'm still running my department the best I can with all the interference I get from smart private dicks."

Alleged Gun Threat Marks Carver Voting

School board elections in Oakland County and area communities were held yesterday, with extra excitement added in Royal Oak Township's Carver School District where alleged gun threats marked the balloting.

Otis Eaton was taken to the Royal Oak Township police station and searched for a gun he reportedly brandished at Mrs. John Campbell who was campaigning for two nominees, Lonnie Cash and Sidney Thomas. No gun was found on Eaton.

Lt. William Ware of the Royal Oak Township police said the matter was referred to the prosecutor's office. However, the Oakland County prosecutor's office said today it had no report on the incident.

Willie Young drew 292 votes against 196 for Lonnie Cash. A total of 296 votes were cast for Mrs. Annabell Etheridge against 193 for Thomas. There were two vacancies.

Eaton, leader of a citizens' improvement committee was accused by Alice Garrison and John Campbell who said they saw him brandishing a gun at Mrs. Campbell.

Brandon Township

A write-in candidate, Leslie (Bill) Wright, won the single vacancy for school board post at the Brandon Township school election, held at Ortonville High School yesterday. Wright beat incumbent R. D. Boschma, 27 to 25. He will hold office three years.

Boschma had been a member of the school board since July, 1949. He was president of the board during the past year.

Lake Orion

Only 90 electors cast ballots in Monday's school election to re-elect Harold Ingram to the board and to approve the sale of a small parcel of land owned by the district. Incumbent treasurer of the board, Ingram, was unopposed in the election.

Voters approved, 84 to 6, the sale of approximately 7½ acres on South Broadway (M-24) just south of village limits. This was originally purchased as a site for an elementary school but was twice rejected by the voters prior to selection of the present Blanche Sims site.

Sale of this property will enable the board to secure suitable sites for necessary elementary buildings in the southwest section of the district, officials said.

North Branch

Of the five candidates for election to two positions on the board of Education in North Branch Township Schools, Walter Marion and Francis Fike were re-elected to three-year terms.

Out of a total of 274 votes cast, the 272 legal ballots were voted as follows: Walter Marion, 185; Francis Fike, 174; Mrs. Margaret Seelye, 82; Mrs. Maude Downer, 59; Mrs. Tell Stella Schlaud, 40. One write-in candidate Byrl Locklin received 1 vote.

At the annual meeting following the election, school board members re-elected John E. Simmons president of the board; Stewart Butterfield, secretary; Francis Fike, treasurer.

Leonard

Cecil Leistman was elected trustee for three years in the Leonard School elections. He defeated Robert Bancroft.

White Lake Township

N. S. Lup was elected president of the Board of Education at the reorganizational meeting which followed. Carl Richmond is secretary and C. F. Coffey, treasurer.

Hickory Grove School District

Elected for three-year terms to the Hickory Grove School Board in Bloomfield Township were Dr. James A. Read and L. C. Burch Jr. Richard Graves was elected for one year to fill the unexpired term of Floyd Levely who resigned.

At the annual meeting which followed, it was voted to change the annual meeting date to the second Monday in June.

Keego Council OKs 2 Officers

Also Approves 9-Man Advisory City Planning Committee

KEEGO HARBOR — The City Council approved the hiring of two additional police officers at its recent meeting. They are Garth Derk of Keego Harbor as a full-time officer and Richard Hurtubise, 34450 14-Mile Rd., as a part-time officer.

* * *

Police Chief Clavin Baxter said the men have been assisting him recently without pay and will begin their regular duties Friday.

Other business at the meeting was the approval of a nine-man advisory planning committee. Members are William Hollibaugh, Charles Leaf and Clayton Bozung for three years; Clarence Godhardt, Lewis Doyle and Lewis Simoneau for two years and Marjorie Billingsley, Lyla Ross and Ralph Odell for a one-year period.

Mayor Jack Loveland submitted the names and they were approved by a 3-2 vote. The group is scheduled to act in an advisory capacity, with zoning as the No. 1 consideration.

* * *

City Clerk Edward Hermoyian has sent a letter to the West Bloomfield School Board asking for the use of the Community School as a city hall.

Royal Oak Teacher Freed in Slaying

FERNDALE—Mrs. Doris Nolan, 24-year-old Royal Oak school teacher beaten seriously with a pistol by her husband George, 25, just before he committed suicide Sunday, was freed by Ferndale police yesterday.

She is still in Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, recovering from head lacerations and multiple bruises.

Detectives said paraffin tests on the hands of both husband and wife showed Nolan had killed himself after a domestic quarrel.

Drayton Plains Extension Club Meets Tomorrow

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The Drayton Plains Home Extension Club will meet at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Charles Williams, 1532 Eason Dr., Watkins Lake, with Mrs. Glenn O'Berry as co-hostess.

Topic for the meeting will be "The Study and Life of Customs in Ceylon."

Members will continue working on trays and knitting. The hostess will serve drinks and members will bring their own box lunches.

Waterford Petitions State for Purchase of Park Site

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The Waterford Township Board applied to the State Conservation Department for the purchase of land between Pontiac Lake and Elizabeth Lake roads as a future park site. The property was formerly Dodge Park.

* * *

Protesting the proposed expansion of the Robbins Trailer Park at Elizabeth Lake road and M-59 were Hillcliff street residents who attended the meeting. They were advised by Supervisor Floyd Anderson to be present when the trailer owner appears before the Township Board of Appeals.

Frendes street residents also appeared before the board and were granted the right to circulate petitions for the spreading of a special assessment roll for blacktopping their street.

Other matters decided at the meeting included the granting of a hawker and peddler's license to Effie Lindman, and fireworks permits to Henry and Eloise Hanson, Jack Sights, Thelma Elwood and Dr. D. F. Hoyt.

* * *

Concluding board business was the transfer of the Kiddieland license from Howard Blakemore to Henrietta Marshall.

Building permits issued during the week of June 24 included the Pontiac Shopping Center at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake Rds., 12 homes, 5 additions to homes, 7 garages and one church addition.

Oxford Residents Wake and Find No Water Supply

OXFORD — More than 2,000 Oxford residents awoke this morning to the realization that there was no water for the everyday necessities.

A water main which burst at the Oxford Pump House at 3 a.m. today deprived the entire village of its water supply.

The main was repaired early this morning.

Pair Plead Guilty to Holly Safe Theft

Two Lake Orion men pleaded guilty yesterday to stealing a safe from a Holly auto agency July 6 and Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland set sentencing for July 19.

Robert P. Jackson, 22, and Jack V. Young, 24, also admitted taking safes from auto agencies in Lake Orion, Oxford, Rochester, Lapeer and Davison, according to police. In each case, police said, the pair admitted moving the safes in cars or trucks stolen from the dealerships.

Bad Check Record Down During First Half of Year

Some $20,249 in bad checks were acted on by the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office during the first half of this year, according to Chief Investigator Robert C. Miller.

Of checks reported so far in 1955, $15,395 were processed through the prosecutor's Pontiac office and $4,864 through the Royal Oak headquarters.

Of these, 26 were for issuing checks without sufficient funds to cover them, 24 against persons who wrote checks on bank accounts which didn't exist and 30 were uttering and publishing charges.

Uttering and publishing can be charged when a person issues or accepts a check with knowledge it is false, forged, altered or counterfeit, Miller explained. It carries a 14-year maximum prison term, he added.

State to Spend $800,000 for Work on Parks

LANSING (AP) — An $800,000 improvement program for state parks has been ordered by the State Conservation Commission.

Using funds allocated by the 1955 Legislature, the commission will use $330,000 to continue the long-range, multi-million dollar development of Sterling State Park on Lake Erie.

Other allocations include $92,800 for Yankee Springs Recreation Area, $30,000 for Holland State Park, $28,000 for Hayes State Park, $26,000 for Bay City State Park, $26,000 for Holly Recreation Area, $25,000 for Ortonville Recreation Area and $20,000 each for Proud Lake and Waterloo recreation areas.

Others include $14,000 for Island Lake Recreation Area, $12,500 for Sleeper State Park, $10,000 for Lakeport State Park, $8,000 for Wilson State Park, $7,500 for Muskegon State Park, $6,500 for Wilderness State Park, $5,000 for each of the McLain, Dodge Four, Indian Lake and Straits state Parks and Highland Recreation Area, $4,000 for Primley State Park, $3,000 for Fort Wilkins State Park and $2,000 for Silver Lake State Park.

Circus Advance Man Waives Examination

Irwin H. Fisher, circus advance man charged with embezzlement, waived examination on the charge when he was arraigned yesterday in Municipal Court.

Judge Maurice E. Finnegan ordered Fisher, 28, held on $2,000 bond pending arraignment in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Fisher, extradited here from Miami, Fla., last week, is charged with embezzling $1,055 from Pontiac businessman John A. Benson.

Benson charges that Fisher secured the money from him in a loan to pay off the balance on a car. The loan company was to convert the car title to Benson as security.

Authorities state that Fisher apparently told the loan firm to put the title in his name instead of Benson's, then left for Florida where he sold the car.

Arraign Youth, 17, on Breakin Charge

A 17-year-old youth, who attempted to flee police by diving through a filling station plate glass window, pleaded guilty when he was arraigned on a breaking and entering charge yesterday.

The boy, Gerald Gravlin, of 2770 Hartline, Avon Township, was ordered held on $2,000 bond by Southfield Township Justice Edward A. Elsarelli pending arraignment in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Gravlin was arrested early Sunday morning as he fled from the gas station at 15 Mile and Greenfield roads. Patrolmen Charles Durbin and Stanley Stienke said he and another youth who escaped smashed through the large plate glass window at the front of the building. Gravlin was unhurt.

The officers said they noticed the pair in the building while making a routine check of business places in the area.

Dr. Sheppard Loses in Try for Freedom

CLEVELAND (INS) — Convicted wife-killer Dr. Sam Sheppard lost a major decision in his battle for freedom today when the Cuyahoga County Court of Appeals upheld his Dec. 21 second degree murder conviction.

A three-judge panel unanimously ruled that the young osteopath, who was found guilty of the murder of his wife, Marilyn, on July 4, 1954, received a "fair and impartial" trial in common pleas court. The jurists said there was no "prejudicial error" in the trial.

The 31-year-old suburban Bay Village doctor, who was sentenced to life imprisonment, has been held in county jail pending the outcome of his appeals.

In 1954 there were 2,285,000 gas fired water heaters sold in the United States.

FRED V. HAGGARD

Fred V. Haggard Elected CIO Head

Fred V. Haggard last night was elected to his fourth term as president of the Oakland County CIO Council by representatives of 90 affiliated locals in four counties.

The electors represented 43,000 CIO members who live in Oakland County. They work in Macomb, Wayne and Washtenaw counties, as well as Oakland.

Other officers re-elected for two-year terms were: Matthew Hammond, vice president; Bill Lindsey, recording secretary; Hugh Ritter, financial secretary; Eugene Sutherland, guide; Otis Lawrence and Seymour Bitner, trustees.

August Scholle, president of the Michigan CIO Council, installed the officers. The election was held at the CIO hall on East Lawrence St.

Camp Oakland Picnic Planned by Area Kiwanis

The 13 Kiwanis Clubs in Division 5 (all the clubs in Oakland County) are sponsoring a mammoth picnic Wednesday, July 13 at Camp Oakland for the county's underprivileged children near Lake Orion.

The program, which will include refreshments, boat races and various picnic games is being co-chairmaned by Horace Hatfield, President of Pontiac North Kiwanis Club and Fred Gibson, President of Pontiac West Kiwanis Club.

About 150 Kiwanians are expected to be present as well as Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore and some of the other founders of the camp. Mort Neff, television star will provide entertainment.

One of the highlights of the day's festivities will be the dedication of a cottage which has been built recently by the West Side Kiwanis club.

Camp Oakland has been in operation for the past year and a half. It has 20 permanent boy-residents and alternate groups of boys and girls use its facilities during the summer months. Supervision of the camp is mostly voluntary and one of the projects the boys have undertaken is reforestration.

ALCOA Feels Pressure of United Rival Unions

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Rival CIO and AFL unions have teamed up in precedent-setting joint bargaining strategy aimed at winning a pay boost for some 25,000 employes of the Aluminum Co. of America.

The CIO United Steelworkers scheduled its first bargaining session today.

* * *

The AFL aluminum workers will start wage talks Thursday.

The USW and the aluminum workers have been working out joint strategy for some time, spokesmen revealed yesterday.

The move is regarded as significant in labor circles. The CIO and AFL are scheduled to vote on a merger proposal at separate conventions in New York next December.

UNION LEADER

David J. McDonald, president of the steelworkers, who recently led a successful fight for a wage increase from the basic steel industry, has been a strong advocate of a CIO-AFL merger.

Alcoa says the USW represents about 15,000 of its employes and the AFL aluminum workers another 10,000.

The two unions are seeking a pay increase under reopening clauses in contracts signed last year. They haven't revealed how much they will ask.

McDonald and Eddie R. Stahl, president of the AFL aluminum workers, said the alliance "will greatly enhance the position of each union at the bargaining table," adding:

"It will dash any faint hopes that may be entertained in the industry of playing one union against the other, to the detriment of both."

Missing Boy's Parents Arrive in Muskegon

MUSKEGON (AP)—The parents of missing Peter Gorham of Evanston, Ill., were in the Muskegon area today to aid police in the search of the boy.

The 12-year-old Boy Scout vanished a week ago from Camp Wabiningo 12 miles north of here. No trace of the boy has been found.

Frederick A. Gorham, the father, said he feared the boy had been kidnapped.

"Anything could have happened," Gorham said. "But I don't think he ran away."

An air search of Lake Michigan's shoreline from Whitehall to Michigan City, Ind., yesterday failed to turn up a lead.

Hollywood Headlines

Madge Meredith Regains Normal Life After Prison

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Today Madge Meredith has almost everything she could want—a husband, a baby, her acting career and peace of mind.

The only thing lacking is a pardon for a crime which she swears she didn't commit.

Miss Meredith served two and a half years in prison after being convicted of conspiring to kidnap and beat up her former manager, Nick Gianaclis. Former Gov. Earl Warren commuted the 10-year sentence in 1951, calling her case "one of the most bizarre I've ever seen."

After the trial, flaws were found in Gianaclis' testimony. Later his petition for citizenship was blocked by an immigration officer who said the manager was "so devoid of good moral character that he would willingly commit another to prison through false testimony."

* * *

Says Miss Meredith: "Goodwin Knight said in his campaign speeches for governor that one of his first acts would be to pardon me. That was two years ago, and he hasn't done anything about it since. I was hoping it would happen before my baby was born, but it didn't. I am very disappointed."

Two years ago, the actress was married to Dr. Charles L. Corley. She gave birth to a daughter May 11. Except for the lack of a pardon, which denies her the right to vote or be a guardian, her life is complete. She acts in occasional TV dramas and films, her latest being "The Ten Commandments."

She looks back on her prison years without any bitterness.

"Oh, I felt very discouraged and sorry for myself for about three months. But I couldn't feel that way for long, not when I had people on the outside pulling for me."

* * *

She added that if she hadn't gone to prison she would not have known "such wonderful friends." Like Zasu Pitts who appeared at the county jail and burst into tears saying, "I don't know if you know who I am, but I think you're innocent and I want to help you."

Or Joe Ledlie, a newspaperman who visited her at Tehachapi prison and said: "I wrote some damaging headlines about you during the first three days your case broke. After watching the trial, I was convinced you were being wronged. Now I want to undo the damage I helped cause."

"They believed in me and kept working for me," Miss Meredith said. "I couldn't lose hope."

She added that she found faith in prison.

* * *

"There was a Catholic priest there, a Basque," she said. "I had been raised in another faith, but it had never meant too much to me. This priest was concerned with all the girls—Catholic, Protestant and Jewish. I was so impressed by him that I figured there must be something to his religion.

"I asked for instructions as a Catholic, and he gave them to me. But he wouldn't baptize me. He said I would have to wait until I got outside. When I was released, I became a Catholic."

Virginia Lawyer Named Exalted Ruler of Elks

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—John L. Walker, 49-year-old Roanoke, Va., attorney, has been elected Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at the group's 91st Grand Lodge convention in Philadelphia.

Delegates representing 1,150,000 Elks elected Walker unanimously, and he will be installed at the closing session Thursday. He will succeed William J. Jernick, of Nutley, N. J.

Iced Tea Habit Helps Industry

Hot Weather Drinkers Swell Import Trade to 116 Million Pounds

NEW YORK (AP)—The American habit of reaching for a glass of iced-tea when the weather's hot is helping the tea industry achieve a long-sought goal: a more important place at the American table.

* * *

The industry has been fighting for years for a larger share of the market in this nation of coffee drinkers. The figures indicate the battle is being won. Imports of tea last year came to nearly 116 million pounds — a gain of some 30 million pounds since the end of World War II.

A good part of this increase may be attributed to iced tea. Restaurant sales of iced tea have soared 250 per cent in the last five years, and the nation's total iced tea consumption has risen to some 10 billion glasses a year.

But consumption of hot tea is on the upswing, too. The Tea Council of the U.S.A. Inc., set up by India, Ceylon and Indonesia and the tea trade in the United States, says one important reason is price. Tea is one of the most economical beverages on the market.

* * *

Part of the growing U.S. tea habit, it's suggested, may be due to World War II and the Korean War. Tea is the national drink of England, Japan and Korea, all places of familiar memory to millions of ex-servicemen. So it is likely that many servicemen became tea drinkers overseas.

Huge Colgate Clock Stops After 31 Years

NEW YORK, July 11 (AP)—The big Colgate clock in Jersey City, N.J., visible to Manhattan's millions across the Hudson River, has stopped for the first time since it started ticking in 1924.

Over the years, the huge wooden hands of this largest timepiece in the world have become porous—on muggy days they absorb moisture and throw the clock out of kilter.

The clock was stopped so the hands could be replaced with steel and aluminum ones.

Length of Hair Tells Difference in Researchers

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP)—Simon Klosky explained to Congress the difference between a short-haired and a long-haired researchman.

Testifying before the House Appropriations Committee, Klosky, acting chief of the Oil Shale Branch of the Bureau of Mines said:

"We have at Laramie, Wyo., a station, a research station. I can say this because my hair is short. We have at that station what we called the long-haired researchmen."

"What is the difference between a long-haired and a short-haired researchman?" Rep. Jensen (R-Iowa) inquired.

"The long-haired man is working on the frontier, of anything, while the short-haired man is working behind, trying to develop what has been discovered," Klosky replied.

Mercury, with a diameter of about 3,000 miles is the smallest of the major planets.

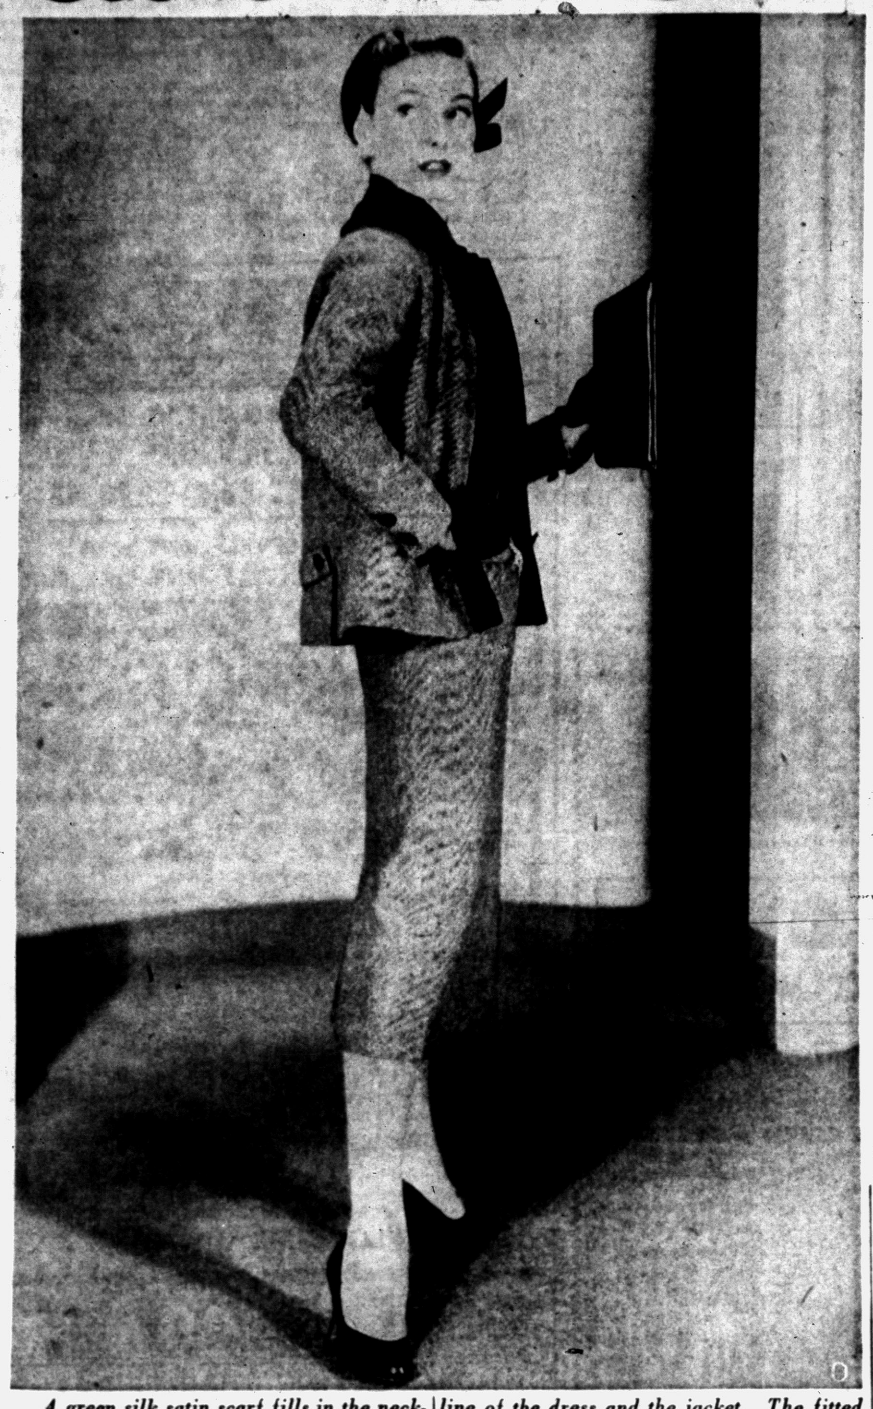
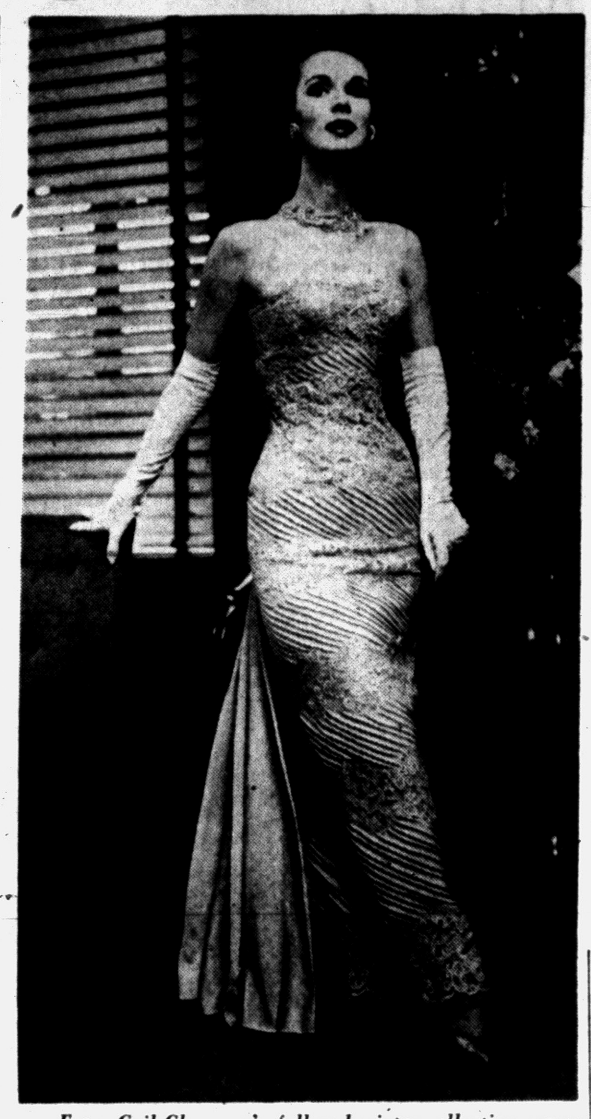
Castle Walk Skirt Creates Press Week Sensation



A green silk satin scarf fills in the neckline of this Herbert Sondheim costume of black and white tweed. There is black rib knit sweater banding on both the V neckline of the dress and the jacket. The fitted waistline is beltless and sleeves are three-quarter length. The jacket is collared with the knit and low-belted in the back.



From Ceil Chapman's fall and winter collection comes this body-molding evening dress of tucked beige peau de soie and re-embroidered matching lace.

Ceil Chapman Dramatizes '18 Mode

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—A 1955 version of the hobble skirt, designed by Ceil Chapman and named the Castle Walk, is the sensation of New York's current week of fall fashion showings.

* * *

The astute Ceil, known for strictly fabulous cocktail and evening gowns beloved by all female television stars, dramatizes this return to the modes of World War I in spectacular fuchsia, lemon, mauve and gold lame satins and brocades. The skirt is draped pegtop fashion about the hips, hugs the ankles in back and is slit to the knee in front. This makes it possible to walk or dance with ease, and yet preserves the hobble skirt look.

Gasps and applause greeted these sensational styles when they were presented to members of the visiting fashion press, plunging into a week of hectic fall showings by New York designers.

* * *

Similar but less spectacular is Mrs. Chapman's Juliet silhouette, consisting of a curving petal-like overskirt on a lush satin or lame sheath—this street length.

In the mood of new formality, this designer also shows a group of long, slinky sheath evening gowns, sometimes accompanied by elegant fur - trimmed matching coats.

But the gowns dedicated to Irene Castle steal the show, and are slated for wide distribution this fall. You'll be seeing the Castle Walk hobble skirts all over the country this fall, since these were the pets of buyers who already have placed their orders, figuring American women are yearning for a change from the multi-petticoat evening silhouette. It's doubtful if you wear any petticoat at all with the New Castle Walk gowns.

Another star of the opening day of showings was Claire McCardell, who always can be depended upon to make fashion headlines.

* * *

In direct contrast to the polished and sophisticated gowns shown by Ceil Chapman, the casual Claire outdoes even herself in immortalizing the fashionably careless look with a costume that might have been designed for space travel and certainly should provide insulation at subzero temperatures. In bulky black, beige and brown checkered tweed, it consists of a loose fingertip-length coat lined in fur and fastened with leather straps, plus a matching jumper dress. The coat has a huge cape collar which can be worn as a parka, and the whole should have wide appeal for college girls and Eskimos.

Red silk satin with red and black imported tweed make up this fall theatre costume from Pattullo-Jo Copeland's collection. The long sleeved dress, like the coat, has a jet-embroidered collar. It fastens down an elongated panel past the waistline. The coat, tied at the neckline, is shaped to flare like the dress and lined to match.

Sondheim, Parnes Stress Molded Sheaths for Fall

By OLGA CURTIS
INS Women's Editor

NEW YORK—The molded sheath, sticking as close to the body as adhesive tape, was picked by two big name dress manufacturers today as the silhouette for next season's fashions.

Herbert Sondheim and Paul Parnes, leading off the semiannual showing of new U. S. styles, both chose the sheath as the prop of their new collections.

At Sondheim, the sheath is slim and very snug, accenting the entire torso. Some Sondheim sheaths have a wrapped midriff; others accent the bolero line just below the bosom with detailing. Wool jersey is this maker's favorite for daytime sheaths, especially with inserts of rib knit wool as "dickeys" or "cuffs" for contrast.

Parnes also likes sheath costumes — in which jackets cover up sheaths that are skin-tight.

Both manufacturers pay some attention to tunics.

* * *

Sondheim likes the flat double-decker tunic dress, where one skirt fits over another like a cap. Parnes gives his tunics a slight lampshade outline, and adds lace for decoration.

Both houses also offer a novelty. At Parnes, it's ensembles with fur trimmings—including dresses with their own matching fur boleros, like a nutria bolero over a coffee-colored wool dress.

Sondheim revives the lace cuff, but uses it on dresses without any other touch of white and puts the cuff on sleeves cut just below the elbow.

Try Short Nighties

If you don't like nightgowns and pajamas to get twisted around your legs, there's a happy solution. Try one of the very short, pleated gowns worn with matching panties. Modest and pretty.

Luncheon Given for Bride-to-Be Melka Kerensky

* * *

Melka is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kerensky of Auburn Heights. She will exchange nuptial vows on Aug. 27 with James Hulen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hulen of Auburn Heights.

Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church will be the setting for the 5 o'clock wedding ceremony.

Miniature white bridal bells marked the places at the luncheon table which was centered with a bride doll, flanked by white tapers trimmed with lily-of-the-valley.

* * *

Other guests were Mrs. Vasil Kerensky, Mrs. Douglas Collins, Mrs. John Erznoznik, Roberta Palmer, Pat Devereaux, Peggy Nelson, Frances Bohlman, Marge Skosich, Theira Cooper and Mrs. William McQuerry.

Dorothy J. Reid to Become Bride

Mrs. Laura Reid of North Hollywood, Calif., is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Dorothy June, to James Richard Ballantyne. The bride-elect's father is the late Lyle Reid, formerly of Pontiac.

James is the son of Mrs. Alvin Ballantyne of Lamoni, Iowa. No date has been set for the wedding.

'Fashion Tune-up' Slated

Wednesday is the day Oakland Hills Country Club will stage a "Fashion Tune-up for Teens and Up."

* * *

The fashion show, sponsored by the Village Store in Birmingham, will feature teenage members of the club as models and will highlight the July bridge luncheon at the club.

Entertainment at intermission time will include the music of "The Brooks Brothers," a Cranbrook jazz combo, and the Applequist sisters, Barbara, Judy and Lynn, will entertain as a vocal trio.

Arrangements for the party are being made by both the senior and junior committees. The senior committee is composed of Mrs. Frank W. Lynch, chairman, Mrs. Louis Bauer, Mrs. Joseph Baldez, Mrs. Edward Murray and Mrs. Carl Sundberg.

The juniors, headed by Pattie Palmer, are Jeanne Pedder, Pat O'Connell, Maureen McGinnis and Jane McKinzie.

SERVING AS MODELS

* * *

Modeling a new line of mother-daughter outfits will be Mrs. Robert Drummond and daughter, Debbie, Mrs. Gib Berstrom and her daughter, Debbie, and Susie Bauer and Wendy Sundberg.

Claire McCardell's fall and winter dress shirt and coat costume is in beige jacquard silk twill and putty-colored fleece. The slim dress is sashed with green taffeta and fastened all the way down the front with pearl buttons. Matching buttons fasten the cardigan coat which is lined with the dress fabric.

Beverly Mathews Feted at Linen Bridal Shower

Beverly Mathews of Royal Oak, bride-elect of William H. Morrell, was honored Sunday afternoon at a linen shower given by Mrs. Robert Earl of Maycrest drive, Watkins Lake.

* * *

The bride-elect is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson of Royal Oak and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Morrell of South Roselawn drive.

The couple will be married Saturday at St. Vincent de Paul Church and will make their home in Dearborn.

Miss Mathews announced that Mrs. Earl will serve as her matron of honor, and other attendants will be Mrs. Ruth Williams and Betty Phillips, both of Royal Oak.

GUESTS FROM FLINT

Arriving from Flint for the shower were Mrs. John L. Weller, Mrs. Waldo Weller, Mrs. Roy Sullivan, Lou Ann Mc Pherson, Mrs. Harlow McPherson and Mrs. Harlan McPherson.

* * *

Guests from Royal Oak were Mrs. Ruth Williams, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Wilford Roy, Mrs. Frank Hilman and Betty Phillips, Mrs. George Melia of Defiance, Ohio, was also among the out-of-town guests.

Attending from Pontiac were Mrs. Richard Lasho, Mrs. Gilbert McCallum, Mrs. John Salitsky, Mrs. Lester Pitts, Mrs. Charles Steeber and Mrs. Charles Lemon.

Keep the hang tags that come with your new fashions for the life of the garment. Make the right notation as to garment and then follow procedure for cleaning always.

Mrs. Dodge Fetes August Bride-Elect

Mrs. Stephen Dodge opened her home on Silver Lake road Saturday for a bridal shower honoring Jeanne Dodge of Farmington. Miss Dodge will become the bride of Richard Coolman of Northville on Aug. 20 at the Northville Presbyterian Church.

Couples Feted by Berean Class

After a picnic supper at the home of the Omar MacNutts on Durnham drive, the Berean Fellowship Class of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church honored Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Levely on their 25th wedding anniversary and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Koch on their 30th.

Robert Mahan, class president, presented gifts to both couples. The "Teen Toppers", a boy's quartet from Pontiac High School sang several selections and Orval Robb led devotions. Mrs. Andrew S. Creswell, who is here visiting the Ernal Lloyds of Summit avenue, was a guest of the group.

Girl Should Contribute Ideas for Date Fun

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

When a girl and boy see each other a lot (as in going steady) each must contribute initiative and imagination to their dating. It's too much to hope that he will have crackerjack ideas all the time. It's too easy to get into a rut of the same old doings.

Transportation is always the same old problem; there's just so much dating money available; and the same old places to go and things to do.

* * *

The girl has to suggest some variations on the main themes. Ideas that aren't extravagant or unreasonable. Ideas that she thinks he'll like. And there's no point in being shy about it either. As this girl is.

"Dear Miss Woodward: We've been going steady for two years and my boy friend will often ask me what I'd like to do on a date. But I'm afraid to suggest anything because I'm not sure he would like to do it.

"I know I shouldn't be backward at suggesting things after going with him so long. So what's the matter with me?"

Answer: You're just devoid of ideas, that's all. And a bit leery of putting the ones you do have into words.

* * *

When he asks you what you'd like to do, speak up. On the basis of past performances, you know what's reasonable to expect for an evening's entertainment.

You could produce the proper mood for any one of a number of things. So suggest a couple that appeal to you, and let him choose the one that appeals to him most.

Now and then come up with one that won't cost anything—like just taking a walk or dropping over to see another couple. That will save up date dough for a big splurge that you'd like for special celebrations.

* * *

But don't wait to be asked every time. Talk up things that would be fun to do just as casual conversation. The lad needs inspiration—so you supply it.

This girl's usually smooth-running dating arrangements are about to be disrupted by her summer plans. To her utter horror. But she needn't be scared—not if she'll speak for herself. She writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: I have a babysitting job for the summer and will be going away soon—not far—but just far enough so that I'll only be home on weekends and perhaps one day a week.

"I'm afraid that since I won't be around my boy friend will break up with me, and that's the last thing I want. What could I do about such a situation?"

Answer: Talk over your plans with him openly and frankly. Tell him when you'll be home and he'll know how much of your time he can count on.

It should be enough to hold him—particularly if you write in between visits home and let him know that you count on his being around.

Hooking ten yards of carpeting for her stairs is Mrs. Leslie R. Tripp of Illinois road. The background of the center panel is a deep cedar rose, and the side panels are a lighter shade of the rose with the oriental design accented by maroon and aqua. Behind the frame is 9 year old Laurie Lee Lewin of Rye, N. Y. who loves watching her grandmother at her favorite hobby. Mrs. Tripp has hooked more than 10 rugs.

Mrs. Oliver to Entertain at Summer Home

Hooked Rug Exhibit and Tea Are Planned Thursday

The shaded lawn of Mrs. Robert B. Oliver's summer home on Motorway drive, Elizabeth Lake, will be the setting for a hooked rug exhibit and tea Thursday.

* * *

The exhibition will open at 11 o'clock in the morning and will continue through the evening.

Rugs are being loaned by many people from Clarkston, Birmingham, Davisburg, Pontiac and other communities.

Some rugs will be in the process of hooking and will give visitors an idea of the intricate patterns and colors needed to produce the artistic and realistic effects. Floral, geometric and Oriental designs will be on display.

Hookers report that the making of a rug is not too difficult, is very satisfying and fascinating. The process, they say, is simple. Narrow strips of colored woolen material is pulled through burlap mesh and a flower, bud or leaf is created.

* * *

The few tools needed to make a rug are: A frame (an easel frame is preferred), a good pattern, a small, fine hook and some clean, colored woolen rags.

FORMS CLOSE NAP

The rags are cut with a straight edge about one-eighth of an inch wide. The loops are hooked close together and low. This forms a close nap and prevents grit getting between the loops and cutting the burlap. Most hookers leave the loops unclipped.

Since a flower requires three to seven shades of a color to perfect it, hookers usually dye their own material.

Hooking a rug appeals to all members and ages of a family. Men are especially good hookers.

The committee in charge of the exhibit and tea consists of Mrs. John Keller of Clarkston, Mrs. Leslie R. Tripp of Illinois avenue, Mrs. Carroll Osmun of Woodland avenue and Mrs. Oliver.

The affair is sponsored by the July-August Group of the First Presbyterian Church.

Cookies Go With Milk for Snacks

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

When the children come in clamoring for something to eat, give them old-fashioned molasses cookies with big glasses of cold milk. Their active little bodies need the iron they get from molasses.

Mrs. V. R. Spencer, today's cook, is an active club woman. We met her at the Westside Extension group. She belongs to the WSCS unit of her church and to the Better Home and Garden club.

MOLASSES COOKIES
By Mrs. V. R. Spencer

½ cup brown sugar
¾ cup shortening
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup buttermilk
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup molasses
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Flour

Mix ingredients in order given, adding enough flour to make a dough you can roll out easily. Roll out on floured board and cut with cookie cutters. Bake in a 375-degree oven for 15 minutes.

Platform Shoes Not For Shorties

The hostess is perfectly dressed. She has on a becoming dress with an obviously well-fitted girdle underneath. Her hair is crisp from the salon. Her jewelry goes with her coloring and costume.

But her face! When no one is looking, it contorts into an expression of great discomfort. The reason is obvious. Her feet are crammed into a pair of platform sandals that are about as comfortable for her as would be wooden sabots three sizes too small.

Sandals are not for feet that have been tortured out of shape by years of childhood's ill-fitted shoes. Platform soles add height only to women who are already very tall, they make shorter, heavier women totter miserably.

Coming Events

Royal Neighbors of America will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in Grotto Hall, 128 W. Pike St.

Neighbors' Borrowing Is Nuisance

Sufferers Advised to Turn the Tables on These Pests

By EMILY POST

I wish I knew the answer to the following question because it is one that comes up in almost every household: "Will you please tell me how I can politely refuse to lend things to neighbors of ours who are constantly borrowing one thing or another.

"I can see people being forced to borrow something occasionally, but these neighbors do it all the time and frankly I am getting very fed up with it. I would like your advice as to what I can do about this without causing unpleasantness."

Answer: The only solution I can give is for you to start borrowing from them until they realize what a trial a constant borrower can be to others.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a person makes a wrong play at the card table, is it necessary to apologize to your partner, or is it best to ignore it and say nothing?"

Answer: It is best to keep your mind on the game and say nothing until after the hand when you might well say, "I'm sorry, partner, I shouldn't have played the 10."

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are going to a seaside summer resort for two weeks and I would like to know the proper amount to tip the chambermaid and the waitress.

"Also, is it necessary to tip the head waitress who assigns us to a table when we arrive but who renders no special service after that?"

Answer: If you are staying in an American plan hotel, you give the waiter or waitress at the end of each week about 10 per cent of the week's board. The chambermaid in a first-class hotel is given about one dollar a week a room.

Repairman Killed by Roller Coaster

NEW YORK (AP)—For 23 years Edward C. Santo, 43, had been a roller coaster repair man at Coney Island, nimbly stepping from the tracks to the safety of a catwalk when the thrill-ride cars approached.

Yesterday he apparently failed to hear a three-car train coming. It struck him as he was examining tracks about 35 feet above ground and knocked him 10 feet over to the catwalk.

At the end of the ride horror-stricken passengers reported the accident to Santo's son Edward Jr., 17, who was handling fares and sending out the trains at the roller coaster entrance.

Georgia Moves to Bar 'Mixed Class' Teachers

ATLANTA (AP)—The Georgia Board of Education has voted to revoke for life the license of any schoolteacher who instructs both Negro and white pupils in the same classroom.

In a move aimed at strengthening its position on segregation, the board passed the resolution yesterday.

The resolution also stipulates that any teacher "required by superior authority" to teach nonsegregated classes and who refuses to do so will receive his salary for the full term of his contract.

Quemoy Inspected

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Maj. Gen. George W. Smythe, chief of the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group, made his third inspection of the defenses of Quemoy yesterday. The official Central News Agency said he was satisfied with what he saw.

House Predicts Polio Prevention for Indigent Kids

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Priest (D-Tenn) said today "we ought to get some action this session" on legislation to authorize federal help in vaccinating the nation's needy children against polio.

Priest spoke in an interview as his House Commerce Committee arranged for what may be its final closed session on his 38-million-dollar measure to aid states in inoculating youngsters.

* * *

He said he did not know of any arrangements yet for a House vote on the measure. But he added: "I don't think there's any opposition of any material nature."

* * *

The bill would authorize direct grants to the states for antipolio shots to children whose parents can't afford to pay for the vaccine. It would cover an estimated 25 per cent of the nation's children under age 20.

In addition, it would provide further federal grants, on a 50-50 matching basis, to states which wanted to go beyond vaccinating only the needy children for free.

Will Widen Railway

ALBERTVILLE, Belgian Congo, July 11 (AP)—Engineers in September will start widening the 500-mile long railway from the Upper Congo Valley to Lake Tanganyika to standard African gauge. The operation will permit through traffic with the new Kamina-Congo Railway which links the Tanganyika system with the rail network covering the Union of South Africa, the Rhodesias, Mozambique and Angola.

Leo, Lopez Going 'All Out' for All-Star Win

MILWAUKEE (AP)—"To win is the thing . . . no matter whose feelings are hurt.

* * *

"I'd like to get everybody into the game," added Leo Durocher, the National League's manager in today's 22nd annual All-Star clash, "but if it will weaken my team, I won't do it."

Durocher's sentiments were echoed by Al Lopez, although the American League pilot did not utter them so emphatically.

"I'll play the best men I've got and substitute only when I think it will help us win," he said.

* * *

Neither pilot would venture any prediction on the outcome although each declared his squad represented "the greatest collection of stars any manager has ever been blessed with."

* * *

Durocher, who earlier had bypassed Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn, then the National League's leading hitter, "because I need more righthanded hitting strength," surprisingly said he may not even use Willie Mays, his own center field ace.

* * *

"Remember what they called Joe McCarthy?" he asked. "A push button manager, wasn't it? Well, that's what I'll be—a push button manager. Can you imagine, sending out your first team and then looking down and seeing two powerhouses like Stan Musial and Mays on the bench?

* * *

"I'll get Musial in there as soon as the rules permit me (after three innings)," Leo added. "I'll have him in left field. But I may not use Willie at all if I don't have to, I don't know. It all depends on how the game goes."

Although he professed an utter disdain for sentiment, Durocher was swayed by sentiment alone when he nominated Robin (13-7) Roberts, Philadelphia's ace righthander, as his opening pitcher. His original choice was Don Newcombe, Brooklyn's 14-1 righthander, but he switched to Roberts when he was informed that it would be Roberts' fifth start, tying him with Lefty Gomez for the All-Star record.

* * *

Lopez, too, exercised the last-minute switch privilege when he decided to open up with Billy Pierce, Chicago's fine lefthander, after first deciding upon Early (11-4) Wynn, his own right-handed ace.

"I know that Pierce's record (5-6) does not look good on paper," Lopez said, "but it's misleading. Three of his defeats were by 1-0 scores, two by Cleveland.

* * *

"What made me certain about Pierce as my starter was when I realized that the other guys would start a lineup loaded with left-handed strength (Ted Kluszewski, Snider, Ed Mathews, Don Mueller, switch hitting Red Schoendienst and possibly catcher Smoky Burgess). Roberts will be facing six southpaw swingers, Nellie Fox, Ted Williams, Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Mickey Vernon and Pierce."

* * *

Lopez indicated strongly Pierce would be followed on the mound by Wynn for the middle three innings and Whitey (10-4) Ford, New York Yankee southpaw, for the final three, unless circumstances dictated otherwise.

Durocher said he planned to follow Roberts with Newcombe and righthander Sam Jones of the Chicago Cubs. Leo explained the choice of Jones this way:

"First of all," he said, "I think Jones is a real good pitcher. I think he can be a problem to the American Leaguers because of his sharp curve and strange motion."

* * *

The fans apparently were as enthusiastic about the game as the managers. A sellout crowd of nearly 45,000 was a virtual certainty. All the tickets, priced from $1.50 to $7 were long gone with speculators asking and getting anywheres from $25 to $75 a pair from desperate latecomers.

The odds still favored the National Leaguers who have won but eight of the previous 21 games, despite four of the last five. The game, slated for a 2 p.m. local time (3 p.m. EST) start, was to be heard and seen by millions throughout the country via radio and television (WWJ-TV channel 4.)

Latin Hurlers Top ERA Lists

NEW WYORK (AP) —Sandy Consuegra, the craftly righthander from Cuba, is in a good position to become the first relief pitcher ever to win the American League's earned run title.

* * *

Figures compiled by The Associated Press revealed today that Consuegra, a Chicago White Sox mainstay, leads the American League in the earned run competition with a brilliant 1.95 mark. He has given up only 18 earned runs in 83 innings while winning 5 games and losing 4.

Luis Arroyo of the St. Louis Cards, another Latin, is the National League's pace-setter with a 2.43 earned run average. The little lefty from Puerto Rico has given up 30 untainted tallies in 111 innings. He has won 10 games and lost three.

The only relief expert to capture a major league earned run crown was Hoyt Wilhelm of the New York Giants, who finished with 2.43 in 1952. Wilhelm worked 159 innings, all in relief. Before 1952, 10 complete games was used as the basis for earned run supremacy, so no bullpenner was eligible.

Consuegra, although he started five games earlier in the campaign, has been used almost exclusively in relief the last two months, getting the "call", 22 times.

* * *

Billy Pierce, also of the White Sox, is second to Consuegra in the American League. He has permitted 22 earned runs in 94 innings for a 2.11 ERA. Pierce is followed by teammate Dick Donovan with 2.29, Jim Wilson of Baltimore with 2.51 and Whitey Ford of the Yankees with 2.69.

* * *

Bob Rush of the Chicago Cubs is runner-up to Arroyo in the National. He has an unimpressive 5-5 won-lost record, but has given up only 41 earned runs in 130 frames for an earned run mark of 2.84.

Robin Roberts of Philadelphia, a 13-game winner, is third with 2.88. The durable righthander has allowed 54 earned runs in 169 innings. Roberts has worked the most innings and has pitched the most complete games, 15.

Don Newcombe of Brooklyn, who boasts a fine 14-1 record, is fourth with 2.93. Then come Warren Hacker of Chicago with 3.02 and Sal Maglie of the New York Giants with 3.03.

A 5-run rally in the 5th inning gave Cass Ponts a 7-5 upset victory over Boys Club in Class E Monday to feature the day's action in Pontiac's Junior Baseball Leagues.

The loss was Boys Club's 1st of the season and pulled Cass into a 1st place tie in Class E., In the other E game, St. George nipped Vivian's Beauty Shop, 4-3.

Griff's defeated one of its stiffest challengers to remain unbeaten in Class D as Clarkston's Merchants were downed, 3-1. It was the Grill nine's 5th straight success.

Boys Club's Class F leaders kept their winning stride in Class F in a 1st place battle by drubbing East Siders, 13-2. It was the 5th straight win for BC and the 1st loss in 5 games for the East Siders.

Also in F, Dick & Wes downed the City Janitors, 10-4. In the wild and wooly Knothole loop, the Orioles clipped Lytell-Colegrove, 27-8; Wing Lake routed Earl's Market, 30-4; the Senators topped the White Sox, 8-2; and the Red Sox took a forfeit from North Side Aces.

Bob Morris, Bob Newman and Keith Smith all hit home runs in the Orioles' victory. The highlight of Class F play was the 3rd no-hitter of the year for Boys Club's Dave Jones. Lynn Carson homered for the City Janitors, but Dick & Wes "walked" to victory on 15 bases on balls.

Cass Ponts got off to a poor start against Boys Club in E as Dean Perkio tripled and a walk was followed by Jim Skinner's home run as BC took a 3-0 lead. Jerry Orr's 4-bagger made it 4-2 in the 4th, before Cass came up with its winning rally in the 5th.

A walk, hit batsman, doubles by Chuck McIlrath and Gary Wylie, plus an error did the job. St. George had a close call with Vivian's despite 4-hit pitching and 17 strikeouts by Chuck Kirken.

St. George had a 2-1 lead in the 7th and added a pair on Kirken's homer. The runs were needed as Vivian's rallied for 2 in its half, but with the tying run on 3rd, Kirken retired the side on a strike-out and a fly ball.

Jim Jones hurled a 2-hitter and struck out 15 to give Griff's its edge on Clarkston. Ted Wharry singled home a run for the Grillmen in the 1st, Gil Trevino did it in the 2nd for the deciding margin.

Dick-Wes Take Township Lead

Herr Posts Shutout Over Drug to Push Sports 9 Ahead

Don Herr shut out Drayton Drug Monday night to give Dick & Wes Sports a 6-0 victory and push them, momentarily at least, into sole possession of 1st place in the Waterford Township Softball League.

Herr set the Drug club down with 5 hits, while his mates collected 7 in sending Bill Goulet down to defeat. D&W's league leading record is 11-2. Waterford Lions are a half game back at 10-2, while Monday's loss dropped Drug into 3rd place on 10-3.

The winners got one run in the 3rd inning on Dick Cooper's single and a 3-base error, then added 2 more in the 4th when Gordie Nelson tripled after Herr's single and a hit batsman.

World's Record Claimed for Big Kentucky Bass

CELINA, Tenn. (AP) — A world's record smallmouth bass catch of 11 pounds and 15 ounces has been reported at Dale Hollow reservoir near here on the Tennessee-Kentucky line.

D. L. Hayes of Leitchfield, Ky., checked in the 27-inch monster at a fishing camp here Saturday. It measured 21 and two-thirds inches in girth.

"It looked like a box car," said Roberts.

The prize is en route to Louisville for mounting.

Dr. Morman G. Benson of the state game and fish commission, at Dale Hollow on a research project, gave official identification as a smallmouth to the world's record claimant.

Calls It 'Mother's Decision'

DeMarco Hollers for Rematch After Losing to Ralph Dupas in N'Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Bloodied Brooklyn Billygoat Paddy DeMarco today bellowed for a rematch with top - ranked Ralph Dupas and claimed he was the victim of a "mother's decision" in a 10-round loss to the French Quarter speedster.

The former lightweight champion dropped a decision last night to the New Orleans nifty, rated No. 1 challenger for Bud Smith's lightweight crown.

* * *

"What do I think of him?" DeMarco fumed in his dressing room. "I think he's nothing, that's what I think. He misses a jab and the crowd goes crazy. What kind of a shake is that?"

* * *

"Talk about your hometown decisions, this was a mother's decision. I beat him easier than I did last time," the stubby battler said, referring to his 10-ound decision over Dupas in January, 1954.

"I was more afraid of his head than his hands," the 19-year-old Dupas said. He contended a DeMarco butt caused a slight cut on the bridge of his nose.

* * *

"This guy's the roughest fighter I've ever met," said the youthful veteran of 66 professional fights, 56 of them victories. "You don't have to be rough to be a good fighter, but this guy is the roughest," he said, setting the stage for a possible rematch.

The judges and the crowd of 6,500 were in unanimous disagreement with DeMarco. Referee Francis Kercheval had Dupas in front, 4-3-3, while Judge Lucian Joubert tabbed it five rounds for Dupas, three for DeMarco and two even and Judge Phil Gaffney saw it for Dupas, 7-2-1. The AP card had Dupas in front, 6-4.

Facing Trabert in Tourney Gives Thrill to Georgian

ATLANTA (AP) — A lot of folks would suffer a siege of the shakes at the prospect of tangling with Tony Trabert on the tennis court, but not Willis Irvin, a twice-wounded combat infantryman of World War II.

* * *

"Playing Trabert will be the biggest thrill of my life," said the 30 - year - old Augusta, Ga., real estate dealer before his second-round match with the Wimbledon champion today in the National Clay Courts Tournament.

"Of course, I don't expect to win but I'll sure give it all I've got," Irvin said with a wide grin. "I usually just play weekends and in tournaments around home. This is the biggest tournament I've ever played in — and I got Trabert. Boy!"

Willis said he had been playing tennis since he was 6, but began concentrating on it after the war on a doctor's advice.

"He recommended it as a means of getting over combat neurosis, and it sure was a big help," Irvin related. The Augustan was in a combat infantry unit of the 2nd Armored Division and went through five major battle campaigns.

Trabert, favored over defending champion Bernard Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., in the clay courts championships, drew a bye in the first round. Irvin defeated Elijah Brown of Atlanta 6-0, 6-2 in yesterday's opening play.

Bartzen breezed through his first two matches, losing a total of only three games. In a match interrupted by rain, the lefthander ousted Howard McCall of Atlanta 6-1, 6-0 and immediately began carving out a 6-1, 6-1 victory over another Atlantan, Ralph Bridges.

Morning Star Leading Race

HONOLULU (AP) — The ketch Morning Star led in the 50-boat transpacific yacht race late last night in "warm, clear and good racing weather."

Richard S. Rheem's 96-foot craft regained the lead over the 100-foot schooner Ramona early yesterday. The Ramona made a tack due north, presumably to get a better run before the wind to the Diamond Head finish line less than 700 miles away.

* * *

Bad atmospherics cut off communication with the race fleet for several hours. The Coast Guard cuter finally broke through the barriers and reported Morning Star still leading.

The Morning Star has until 7:13 a.m. Thursday to break her own elapsed time record of 10 days, 10 hours and 13 minutes, set in 1949.

No word was received on the progress of the twin-hulled catamaran Waikiki Surf, making an unofficial run against the conventional yachts. Many yachtsmen expect the Waikiki Surf to cross the finish line well ahead.

Burkemo Ties Course Record

New State PGA King Cards 65 for Forest Lake Layout

Cooper, of Knollwood paired with Mrs. S. A. Cohen of Knollwood for a 63; with Mrs. J. G. Israel, and Mrs. John Isaacs for 64s.

Burkemo of Franklin Hills, fired 64 with Mrs. Gersh Levy, 65 with Mrs. M. D. Stein and 65 with Mrs. J. Schwartz.

Wally's card included seven birdies and 11 pars for 31-34. Par is 35-37—72. Burkemo Sunday won his 1st Michigan PGA title in a terrific finish, including a playoff against John Barnum of Grand Rapids.

Cooper, Joe Belfore of Detroit, and Al Kocsis had 66s, six under par for the layout. Pete had 8 birdies, but two bogies spoiled his chance for a course record.

Drug, Pete's Victors

Jim Green's 2-run single in the 6th inning drove in the winning runs as Drayton Durg defeated Huntoon Lake, 5-3, in a Waterford Township Junior League softball game Monday. In Little League play, Murray Snow won his 3rd straight game as Pete's Service edged Union Lake Lumber, 11-10.

'Farmhand' Won't Take Demotion in Cub System

DENISON, Tex. (AP)—Les Peden, who says he will quit baseball before he'll play for the Chicago Cubs again, isn't going anywhere right now anyway. He's recovering from an appendectomy in a Denison hospital.

When the Cubs wanted to transfer him from Des Moines to Macon, with Pepper Martin replacing him at Des Moines, Les hit out for Forth Worth where he has a new home.

"Not much I could do at Macon," said Peden of the lowly Sally League club. "Another good year at Des Moines and I was headed for Los Angeles as player-manager. Macon wouldn't help me."

Coach Advertises for Gridders, Still Waiting

CHICAGO (INS) —Coach Tracy Borah of Northwestern College at Sterling, Colo., believes in the direct approach. He needs some football players, so he advertised for them.

The qualifications are simple. Borah, reached at his Sterlings, Colo., home, said applications must be high school graduates (grades immaterial) and . . . . have varsity - quality athletic ability.

Borah, who has coached football and wrestling at Northeastern for a year, said he knows of nothing in conference rules prohibiting his public plea.

He observed: "the big shots all go out after players, but they do it underhanded. We just came out in the open."

The enterprising coach said Northeastern has scholarships for 33 football players, 12 wrestlers, 15 track men, 15 baseball players and 15 basketball players.

Borah said the school's president, Ervin French, "wasn't so hot" about his recruiting idea because he was afraid "we might get a lot of bums."

But, Borah pointed out, the scholarships require grades of A "C" average or better in addition to athletic ability. He added:

So far, Borah said he has not received any applications.

Jets Administer 7-1 Spanking to Merchant Club

Defeat Dumps Auburn Nine Two Full Games Back of Leaders

Auburn Merchants fell another game off the pace in the Class A City Baseball League when they were soundly spanked by the L. C. Anderson Jets, 7-1, at Wisner Field, Monday night.

It was a defeat the Merchants could not easily afford. Merchants now are two full games behind league-leading General Motors with Amateur Day (July 31) rapidly approaching. GMC now has the inside track for that occasion and the league title as well.

Anderson nine left little doubt as to its intentions last night. Jets pounced on starter Ken Campbell for three runs in the 1st inning, driving him from the box and bringing in Don Stone. Jets made four hits in the opening stanza, including doubles by Don Russell and Tony Lothery.

Jets added two more runs in the 5th on singles by Eugene Cox, Roy Beasly, Lothery and Bill Myers. Singles by Russell and Judge Booker plus a brace of errors brought home two more in the 6th to complete Jets scoring. In all, the Anderson club collected 11 hits.

Jim Williams hurled for Jets and gave up three blows, two in the 6th when Auburn tallied its lone run. Wade Stallion and Rod Beckett poked out the safeties, Stallion scoring on an infield miscue.

Ward Services Slated Today

Editor and Promoter Buried on Anniversary of His All-Star Game

CHICAGO (AP) — Funeral services with solemn requiem mass will be held today for Arch Ward, Chicago Tribune sports editor who died Saturday at the age of 58.

Mass will be said by Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, founder of the Catholic Youth Organization, at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church on the North Side.

* * *

The Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, president of the University of Notre Dame, will deliver the sermon. Burial will be in All Saints Cemetery.

Ward's funeral will take place the same day of the All-Star Baseball Game, originated by Ward 22 years ago.

* * *

Ward worked for the Tribune for 30 years beginning as a copy writer in the sports department and was sports editor for 25 years. In addition to the All-Star Baseball game he was also the originator of the All-Star Football game. The 22nd All-Star Game will be played Aug. 12 at Soldier Field.

State Delegation to Publinx Cut in Half Monday

Kocsis, Gregory, Heyn, Ex-Tiger Cullenbine Still Retain Hopes

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Michigan golfers faced tough opposition in the opening round of the 30th annual National Publinx tourney, but half of the contingent were still around for the second round today.

* * *

Other members of the Michigan group ousted in the opening round included Hans Schultz, Farmington; Sherry Wellons, Detroit; and Richard Preston, Detroit.

Preston was eliminated by Don Sckrubulis, Kewanee, Ill., the only par shooter in Saturday's team competition, 5-and-4. Wellons was defeated by William Scarborough, Jr., Jacksonville, Fla., 3-and-2.

Four members of the Michigan contingent remained in the running. They were former Detroit Tiger baseball player Roy Cullenbine of Detroit, Sam Kocsis of Detroit, Jack Gregory of Detroit and William Heyn of Roseville.

Cullenbine drew a bye yesterday while Kocsis defeated P. F. Patsue of Indianapolis, 5 and 4. Gregory defeated A. Gonzales of New Orleans, 2 and 1, and Heyn eliminated Robert Hickey of Franklin Park, Ill., 7 and 6.

* * *

Andrews and Sckrubulis were considered as close to favorites as there were in the tourney.

Andrews and Smith, both shooting two-over-par 72 for the 1st 18 provided the best 1st round golf. Smith, a radio operator for the Royal Oak police, had a one-over par 37 at the turn, Andrews 38.

* * *

Then Andrews parred No. 18 and Smith missed a short putt for a bogey five to tie it up. Smith three putted No. 19 for a bogey six and Andrews copped the match with a par five.

Downfall of Chisox Shortstop Chico Carrasquel Recalls One Pilot's Comments Prior to Season

NEW YORK (AP)—The relegation of Chico Carrasquel to second-string shortstop for the Chicago White Sox and the charge of "indifferent play" lodged against the graceful Venezuelan recalls some interesting off-the-record remarks made by an American League manager in Florida the past spring.

* * *

"I'd have to give the Sox a real good chance to win it," he said, "if there was some way of knowing that Carrasquel was going to feel like playing his best ball in every game. He could give the Sox that little lift they need. But I'm beginning to wonder if Chico will ever play that way again.

"When he first came up in 1950, and for a year or two after that, he was as great a fielding shortstop as I ever saw. He was a real marvel with that glove. Just when you thought you had a rally started, he'd kill you with an impossible play. He could hit too.

* * *

"But even in those years I seemed to notice that Chico made his most miraculous plays when the opposing shortstop was Phil Rizzuto of the Yankees, or Lou Boudreau, who was just finishing up at Cleveland and Boston, or Marty Marion, whom he saw some of with the St. Louis Browns. He recognized them as great shortstops, and he was determined to prove that he was even better. He made it mighty close.

* * *

"But then, as they began to play out, it seemed to me that Chico started to lose interest. He had no one left quite in his class, no one to offer him the challenge he needed. From what I heard, about the only time he showed flashes of his greatest form last year was when he was up against Rizzuto. Now that Phil is just about through and can't be counted upon at all this season, I don't think you'll see him helping the Sox too much."

Pointing out that Carrasquel was only 27 and should be approaching his prime, the manager said he believed we would see more and more cases of players from the Carribbean countries going "over the hill" much earlier than is usual for athletes born in this country.

* * *

"One reason is, I suppose, that they play all year—all summer up here and all winter down home," he said. They never have a chance to sit around and wish for the season to start again. The game just becomes a job of work to do each day and to forget when the last out is made. They don't sit around and play a game over in the clubhouse. They want to get dressed and start out to enjoy themselves."

Major Leaguers Would Limit 'Bonus Babies'

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Major league baseball players want to clamp down on bonus babies, but their suggestion of a limit of two to a club appears doomed.

The player representatives of the American and National Leagues huddle yesterday and agreed that a pair of bonus players, carried beyond the usual 25-player limit, was the way to solve a perplexing big league problem.

But although club owners concede the bonus policy is something of a bear they have caught by the tail, the sentiment is against such a restriction as advanced by the players.

The present rule requires any bonus player—one signed for more than $4,000 yearly salary—to remain with the parent club for two years before minor league assignment.

* * *

Baseball authorities agree generally that compelling a bonus youngster to ride a major league bench for two years with little chance of competition is unfair both to the player and to the club.

Robin Roberts, star Philadelphia Phils' pitcher who started today's All-Star Game, expressed the view as National League player representative that the bonus system also was unfair to veteran players.

"The players feel that the bonus setup is shoving too many veteran players out of jobs without actually replacing them," said Roberts, who yesterday was re-elected to a two-year term as his loop's player representative.

However, National League President Warren Giles and Frank Lane, White Sox general manager, said in rebuttal hat the player proposal took the teeth out of the present bonus restriction.

* * *

"The idea is to discourage promiscuous signing of bonus players, and putting even two in the same category as returning servicemen beyond the 25-player limit defeats the purpose of the bonus rule," said Lane.

* * *

At present, the Baltimore Orioles lead the bonus parade with five such players, while the Detroit Tigers have four. In several instances, veteran players have been released to mak room for the untested phenoms.

Giles also contended the proposal would defeat the purpose of the rule which is to penalize a lavish-spending club which seeks to corner the market of young talent.

Roberts said the subject would come up for owner action next October.

Campy, Mantle Make Changes in Batting Race

Roy 'Backs' Into NL Lead as Ashburn Drops; Mickey Boosts Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn's Roy Campanella, who hasn't held a bat in his hands since June 28, and the Yankees' Mickey Mantle, who has been swinging a hot one, produced the most notable changes in the major league batting race last week.

* * *

Campanella's idle .335 batting average was tops in the National League when league-leader Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia slipped 17 points to .327 last week. In the junior circuit, Mantle picked up 15 points, the highest increase in both leagues, to move up three places to fourth with a .318 mark.

* * *

The AL batting lead, however, still belonged to Detroit's Al Kaline. The outfielder's five-point decline to .371 was hardly noticeable in the midst of a six-point drop to .322 by runner-up Nellie Fox of Chicago in activity up to the All-Star break.

* * *

Ashburn, who was passed up in the All - Star selections, not only lost the top spot in the senior circuit but is in danger of being displaced by trailers Hank Aaron of Milwaukee, Duke Snider of Brooklyn and Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati. Snider jumped from eighth to fourth with an eight-point pickup to .319. Aaron slipped to .322 and Kluszewski to .317.

* * *

Aside from Mantle, Detroit's Harvey Kuenn was the only player to show an increase in the American League. He moved ahead one notch to third on the wings of a three-point increase to .320.

Champ Leads Again in Boston-Halifax Race

MANCHESTER, Mass. (AP)—Eighteen yachts began sailing in the 360-mile Boston to Halifax, N. S., race yesterday with Arthur B. Homer's 54-foot yawl Salmagal II, the defending champion, in the lead.

The vessels—nine in Class A and nine in Class B—got off to a rare windward start with an easterly breeze crossing the east by south course for Cape Sable.

Golfers Cut Average at Hole-In-One Test

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)— The first 14 years of the Worcester Telegram and Evening Gazette hole-in-one tournament saw a total of two aces—an average of one in every 70,000 tries.

Yesterday, in the 15th annual event, Mike Katz and Fred Grimley, both of Worcester, each sank tee shots on the 140-yard special hole at Green Hill Golf Club. That figures to one for each 2,950 attempts.

In 1944 there were only 35 postponed games in the American League, an average of fewer than five a team.

Approval Given Charity Racing

Inglis Puts OK on DRC Meet Starting July 25

DETROIT — After extensive delay, this season's six-day charity horse racing meet at the Detroit Race Course starting July 25 has received racing commissioner James H. Inglis' approval.

Inglis, finding the meet "entirely legal and proper" and "most worthy of public support," gave his approval yesterday.

The commissioner had delayed approval pending investigation in view of the legislature's outlawing of all charity racing, effective next November. Charity racing became a subject of controversy after the attempt of a non-Michigan group to buy the Detroit course for charity races. Church groups and others protested.

Inglis announced his approval of the six days of charity racing in a letter to Michigan Racing Charities, Inc., a beneficiary of the meet.

Expect 40 to Play in Jaycee Tourney

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's young golfers will compete July 18 and 19 at the Walnut Hills Country Club in the 10th annual Michigan Jaycee Junior Tourney.

Winner of the 36 holes medal play will represent Michigan at Columbus, Ga., Aug. 15-20 in the International Tourney sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

About 40 golfers under 18 are expected for the tourney. The field will be wide open as last year's winner, Arnold Nedelman of East Lansing, is unable to defend his title after passing the 18-year mark.

Sam Snead's Golf School

It's that old bonehead play of

The wrists must remain fully cocked until the hands get down to about hip level. If they don't, the "oomph" is all gone from the swing before the clubhead gets anywhere near the ball.

* * *

If the wrists remain properly cocked, then the club at this point of the downswing is still back over the right shoulder, as indicated by the dotted line, instead of perpendicular as shown by the solid line.

Other than this one flaw (which causes slices and robs the stroke of power), the form shown is good. I like the straight left arm and the way the player's hip turn and body pivot are leading the shoulder and arm action.

* * *

Note also the slightly flexed position of both knees, giving him kind of a "sitting down" posture at this stage. This is correct form.

Handicap System Altered for U.S. Amateur

NEW YORK (AP) — Golfers who want to play in the 1955 National Amateur Championship at Richmond, Va., Sept. 12-17, will have to study up on a new handicapping system as well as practice their golf shots.

For the first time this year, the handicaps of the entrants must be computed under the new U. S. Golf Assn. handicap system for men. It's explained on the entry blanks sent out today by the USGA. Entries are limited to amateurs with handicaps not greater than four, computed under this system.

* * *

The big difference between the new system and the old is that each course must be rated by a committee according to its difficulty and the golfer's scores are compared with the course rating to establish a handicap differential. A golfer may use either a "basic" or a "current" handicap for his tournament entry.

* * *

The qualifying sections for the 55th amateur have been reduced to 31—six fewer than last year, the USGA revealed. But just about as many courses will be used. In six of the sections qualifying play will be over two courses.

* * *

The sectional rounds will cut the big field — there were 1,278 entries last year—to 200 for the championship proper, an all-match play tournament over the James River Course of the Country Club of Virginia. Exemptions are granted only to former U.S. and British Amateur champions, the 1954 Canadian Amateur champion—Harvie Ward of San Francisco — and the 1955 USGA junior and public links champions.

* * *

Tuesday, Aug. 29 — Montgomery, Ala.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Los Angeles, Modesto, Calif.; Denver, Jacksonville, Fla.; Atlanta, Chicago, Des Moines, Iowa; New Orleans, Baltimore, Boston, Detroit, Minneapolis, Kansas City, St. Louis, Mamaroneck, N.Y.; Rochester, N.Y.; Rochester, N.Y.; Greensboro, N.C.; Cincinnati, Cleveland Oklahoma City., Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Memphis, Nashville, Tenn.; Dallas, Houston, Richmond, Va., and Huntington, W.Va.

Jewelers Nip GM, Avenge Defeat Early in Season

Shaw's avenged its only loss of the season Monday night, but not without a fight. The Jewelers struck early, then staved off a 6th-inning threat to nip GMC, 4-3, in last night's feature Men's City Softball League game at North Side Park.

Shaw's jumped on starting pitcher Lynus Grant for three runs in the 1st inning on three singles, a walk and a lusty triple by Stan Hester. Winners scored their last run in the 3rd on Bill Mason's double and an outfield error.

General Motors narrowed the margin in its half of the 3rd on Gerry Dennis' round-tripper. Singles by Grant, Hall and Ron Jennings and two mistakes afield sent two runners home in the 6th, but an outfield fly cut short the rally.

Glenn (Wimpy) Johnson pitched for Shaw's and was touched for seven hits. He struck out four and walked none. Grant was tagged with the loss.

Singles by Don Hill, Tinson and Osta scored the winning run in the bottom of the 7th to give Elks 810 club a 3-2 decision over Bicmar Inn at Beaudette. Winning pitcher was Al Emsley, who gave up eight safeties. Elks collected nine hits.

Lombardo Won't Try to Set New Record

He said a minimum of three miles straight run would be needed for an attempt on the record but he could find only two on Lake Fanshaw.

Competition will be held in Junior and Senior divisions. Entry blanks are available at recreation centers where local tournaments are scheduled. Local tourney qualifiers will enter the finals at Detroit's Palmer Park July 27-31.

Browns Trade Pair for Bear Draft Pick

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns today announced they have traded Doug Atkins, an end, and Ken Gorgal, defensive back, to the Chicago Bears for an undisclosed draft choice.

Atkins, a 6-8 former Tennessee star was the Browns' No. 1 draft choice in 1953. He never became a regular.

Gorgal, signed by the Browns in 1950 from Purdue, was No. 1 safety man for a year, then spent two years in the Army.

Ex-Buckeye Signs Again

CHICAGO (AP)—Center Jack Jennings, former star tackle at Ohio State, has signed for his sixth season in the National Football League with the Chicago Cardinals, Managing Director Walter Wolfner has announced. Another veteran, halfback-end George Kinek, ex-Tulane star, also has rejoined the Cardinals.

Puleo Looms as Boxing Hope

Brooklyn Ringman Gets Decisive Win Against Manzo in TV Bout

* * *

The rangy 22-year-old Brooklynite, a pro only 13 months, whacked out a decisive 10-round victory over Libby Manzo of New York in a television fight at St. Nicks Arena last night.

Tony impressed both by his winning margin and by the smart manner in which he whipped a more experienced rival.

* * *

* * *

* * *

From then on it was all Puleo. The recent Golden Gloves graduate rocked Manzo in the seventh, eighth, ninth and 10 rounds to win breezing. Manzo was penalized the last round for butting.

Tonight's Bout May Offer Linscott, Andrews Parallel

Boxing fans may be able to draw a parallel between Pontiac's Gene Linscott and Al Andrews following the Pontiac postman's bout with Jerry Fowler tonight at Motor City Arena.

Fowler, a Chicagoan, calls a victory over George James his best of the year. James earlier had gone the distance with Andrews. Linscott has his eyes on an Aug. 4 shot at Andrews in Wisner Stadium here if he can successfully hurdle Fowler.

Fowler, a last-minute substitute, was lined up when Guido Picone of Canton, O., withdrew Sunday, claiming an ankle injury. Since it was the 3rd time he has used the same excuse for pulling out of a Motor City Arena bout, promoter Julius Piazza has asked a suspension of the Ohioan.

Picone and his manager have been ordered to appear before the state boxing commission today for an examination.

Fowler has a 15-8 record, but among the defeats were split-decision losses to a pair of highly-rated opponents, Alan Kennedy of Bay City and John L. Perry.

The Linscott-Fowler bout, an 8-rounder, will be televised over WWJ-TV (channel 4) as will a 4-round return bout between Don Jasper of Duluth and Andy Bond of Detroit. The TV program starts at 10 p.m.

Andrews also will be in action tonight in his home town of Superior, Wis. He is slated to meet Don Jones of Detroit.

Ex-Eli Athlete Gets Norwich Coaching Spot

NORTHFIELD, Vt. (AP) — Arthur J. Fitzgerald of Ridgefield Park, N.H., a football-basketball-baseball star at Yale in the late 1940's, has been appointed head basketball coach at Norwich University.

Fitzgerald, who succeeds Joe Mullaney, now at Providence College, coached basketball in Cuba for the Vedado Tennis Club last winter. He also will serve as assistant coach in other sports at the Vermont military school.

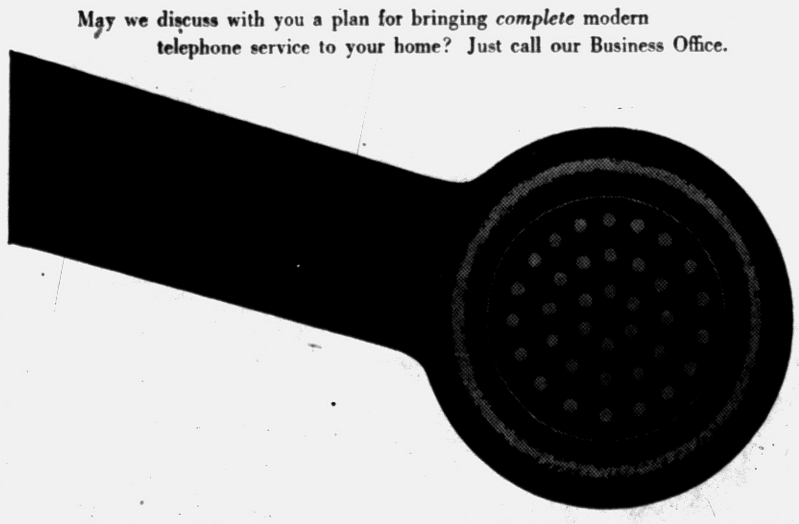
Do you still run up or down stairs when the telephone rings? Or miss telephone calls when you work in the basement or the garden?
Life around the house is so much more enjoyable when there's a telephone close by, wherever you happen to be—in the kitchen, the bedroom, the den, the basement. Extra telephones cost about 3¢ a day each.
And, for a moderate additional installation charge, you can choose your additional telephones from eight striking two-tone color combinations or three solid colors in the "Continental" model. The cost of an outside telephone bell, a volume control telephone, or a Speakerphone which you can use without lifting the receiver, is nominal, too.
And there are a dozen other modern telephone accessories that add to your ease of living and to the attractiveness of your home.
May we discuss with you a plan for bringing complete modern telephone service to your home? Just call our Business Office.



"Hands-free" Speakerphone
No need to hold the receiver. You can use this phone even while you're bathing a baby.

Automatic Answering Set

Volume Control Telephone

Illegal Adoption Racket Hearings Set by Senate

WASHINGTON (INS)—A Senate Subcommittee will hold hearings in Chicago this Thursday, Friday and Saturday as part of a nation-wide investigation into "black market babies."

* * *

Subcommittee Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said there will be witnesses from California, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Oklahoma, Texas and Canada.

In announcing the hearings, Kefauver, whose subcommittee was set up to investigate juvenile delinquency, reported "a growing number of young, unmarried mothers . . . involved in what appears to be a racket in the placing of babies for adoption."

He said that in the past 10 years "the demand" for foster children "has far exceeded the number of babies available for adoption" and that "this disparity has resulted in gross abuses by certain individuals who have exploited this situation commercially."

Hire Retired General

HOLLAND (AP) — The Donnelly-Kelley Glass Co. has appointed Lt. Gen. Daniel Noce (Ret.), former Army inspector general, as its director of engineering and research for the firm's specialties division. Noce was chief of staff, European Command, from 1949 to 1952 and was Army inspector general from 1953 until he retired last year.

Boss Khrushchev 'Corny' in Moscow

WASHINGTON (INS)—Nikita S. Khrushchev, Soviet "strong man" to most Americans, is just a "corn man" to the Russians.

According to Nikolai E. Khokhlov, Soviet intelligence officer who quit the Reds in 1954, "corn man" is the approximate translation of the Russian word "kukuruxnik," which he said is what they're calling Khrushchev in Moscow these days.

In a copyrighted interview with U. S. News and World Report, Khokhlov explained th nickname as a reference to the fact that the "corn man" came to power promising to improve Soviet agriculture.

He added: "Probably the people are not afraid to call him so because he is not popular at all now."

Forecast Spurs Grains Selling

Feed grains were hardest hit by the selling. Wheat drew support from mills, but nevertheless declined with the rest of the market.

July soybeans were independently firm, gaining a small fraction on short covering, while other months eased.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to ⅞ lower, July $2.03¾; corn ⅛ to ¾ lower, July $1.40¾ oats ⅜ to ¾ lower, July 62⅝; rye ¾ to 1 cent lower, July $1.00½; soybeans ½ lower to ¾ higher, July $1.41, and lard unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $11.90.

Stock Market Moves Higher

Prices were up around 2 points at the best, and there were many gains of a point.

Steels, motors, and railroads were the most active of the higher groups. Airlines alone displayed a slightly backward tendency.

General motors opened on a block of 2,000 shares unchanged at 124¾ and then it added a fraction.

The market started fast and higher. Then it simmered down to a moderate pace.

It was higher yesterday all around with a good list of individual issues leading the parade ahead in a selective fashion.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.30 at $175.30 with the railroad component showing the most bounce.

Gains today went into the major fractions. Losses were small. Among opening blocks were Bethlehem Steel 1,000 up ¾ at 152, American Airlines 1,500 off ⅛ at 27½, Pennsylvania Railroad 2,500 up ⅜ at 28⅞, Alleghany Corp. 5,000 up ¼ at 10¾, U. S. Steel 2,000 off ⅛ at 54⅞, Westinghouse Electric 1,500 up ¾ at 67, Chrysler 4,500 up ½ at 88, New York Central 6,000 up ¼ at 48¼, and Anaconda 1,200 up ⅝ at 71⅜.

American Motors-UAW Resume Agreement Talks

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers union resume negotiations today on a new national agreement.

Talks have been in recess since June 23 while the company bargained with three unions on local working agreements at plants in Detroit, Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., Grand Rapids, and El Segundo, Calif.

To Attend School

Chief Investigator for Oakland County Prosecutor's Office Robert C. Miller and Pontiac Police Detective Thomas Mitchell will attend a school on bad-check detection methods tomorrow at East Lansing sponsored by the Michigan State University schol pts police administration.

Business Notes

C. H. Hutchins, president of Pontiac Varnish Co., manufacturers of protective coatings for the automotive industry and for general industrial use, has announced the appointment of Harold A. Muehlbeck, as industrial sales manager of the firm.

Muehlbeck

Muehlbeck has been associated with Berry Brothers of Detroit for the past 34 years. During that time he served as assistant industrial sales manager, and field representative in the Michigan-Ohio area.

A. B. Curtis, 18630 Warwick Road, Birmingham has been appointed manager of a new Johns-Manville organization to be known as the Johns-Manville Automotive Equipment Sales Department with headquarters in the Fisher Building, Detroit.

CURTIS

Curtis has been promoted to his new position from the post of Assistant Cleveland District Manager which he has held since 1952.

A native of Jennings, Michigan, Curtis was graduated from the University of Michigan with a mechanical engineering degree. He majored in Automobile Engine Design.

Since joining Johns-Manville in 1925, Mr. Curtis has held many positions of sales responsibility in the company and has helped plan many of Johns-Manville's developments for the automotive industry.

Election of Walter J. Beme of Bloomfied Hills as vife president in charge of customer relations of Aluminum Industries, Inc., Cincinatti, Ohio, is annouced by Harrison O. Ash, president. His headquarters will be in the Fisher Building, Detroit.

Beame has been continuously identified with the automotive industry since his employment with the William E. Metzger Co., one of the prominent, early automobile dealers in Detroit.

Beme was the original branch manager for the Ford Motor Company and ater the assistant sales manager of the Hudson Motor Car Company.

Lee Anderson Dead: Ad Agency Pioneer

DETROIT (AP)—Lee Anderson, who invented the slogan "Body by Fisher" died Saturday in Nantucket, Mass. He will be buried there tomorrow.

Anderson was born in Laingsburg in 1883. He was a sports writer for the Detroit News from 1903 until 1909. Later he wrote short stories for popular magazines and entered the advertising business.

He was advertising manager of the Chalmers Motor Co. and in 1915 became vice president in charge of sales for the Hupp Motor Car. Co. Four years later he became vice president of the Theodore F. MacManus advertising agency, now MacManus, John and Adams Inc., and directed many automotive accounts.

In 1928 he formed his own agency Advertisers' Inc., which later became Lee Anderson Advertising Co., and handled the advertising for the Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp. He retired in 1941.

Riviera Auto Parker Sneers at Volkswagon

By EARL WILSON

MONTE CARLO — Outside the swanky Hotel de Paris, just across from the famous gambling casino, is parked my simple little Volkswagen.

"Isn't is chic?" I said to the car-parker with the gold epaulets before he could look down his nose at me.

Valentina has just arrived from New York in a swirl of beige and dark glasses, and the Balabans are coming.

E. W. & BEETLE

I don't know what they'd think of little me in my Volkswagen, which in German means "People's Car."

Mine is beige, has four speeds, an engine in back, and you can put luggage under the hood atop the gas tank. It looks like a brown beetle.

My first trip was memorable.

At 3:20 p.m. we were in a garage, towed there from a steep hill where I'd stalled in traffic.

"Poompa," explained an Italian mechanic.

The gas pump was clogged, probably by bad gas. After that, we shot along beautifully.

I started driving in Ohio at 14. In N.Y., I don't like to fight the taxi traffic, but on the roads in California or Texas or elsewhere, it's a big kick.

Finally the Volkswagen was delivered to me in Portofino, Italy, by a young man who gave me a 5-minute driving lesson—in German.

"It's my first time driving it," I told him, through an interpreter, a desk clerk.

You do very well for driving the first time," he said.

The gear shift—especially the fourth speed—puzzled me as we drove up and down the mountains along the Mediterranean. The wife was back-seat driving from the front seat. Slugger was back-seat driving from the rear, his head just sticking out above the luggage.

We're very voksy, anyway. And, going to dinner at the famous La Bonne Auberge, we decided not to stop and call on Aly Kahn whose celebrated villa rises above the sea nearby. Maybe we'd have looked out of place in our little brown beetle.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Debbie Reynolds rented a Malibu beach house for Eddie Fisher, due in L.A. this week . . . Liberace's mother has a walk-on role in his film, "Sincerely Yours" . . . Bill Kenny of the Inkspots accidently severed his thumb in a home workshop. (But he'll do his cafe dates).

ABBE LANE

Howard Hughes offered Gina Lollobrigida a multi-million dollar seven-year contract . . . The casts of several shows — including "Ankles Aweigh"— took salary slashes to keep them open during the hot weather . . . Abbe Lane, who plays a gun moll in "Chicago Syndicate," is sleek and sophisticated with husband Xavier Cugat at the Waldorf.

Jack Webb will get a whopping 30 G's for his NBC-TV Variety Hour stint July 17 . . . Serge Rubenstein's estate is refusing information to would-be biographers and threatens suit . . . Joe DiMaggio's becoming one of B'way's most regular theatergoers.

Peggy King missed her closing night at La Vie—laryngitis . . . Tony Curtis was uneasy about letting Janet Leigh drive his new car from the Sahara Hotel across town to the Sand Hotel in Las Vegas. When she got there, minutes later, she wired him, "Darling . . . arrived safely."

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

It's all right to live it up — if you can live it down.

Detroit to Sell 186 Trolleys to Mexico

DETROIT (AP) — A four-man delegation has been authorized by Mayor Albert E. Cobo to go to Mexico City in an effort to sell 100 Detroit streetcars south of the border.

Detroit expects to have 186 idle streetcars as soon as two lines are converted to busses. City officials say that the director general of the Mexico City Transit Service has been authorized to negotiate for 100 of them.

In the Detroit delegation that will leave for Mexico City July 25 are Rodney Baxter and Samuel T. Angott, members of the department of street railways commission; Leo J. Nowicki, the Detroit system's general manager, and William B. Fitzgerald, commission secretary.

Nowicki said two other cities also have expressed an interest in the streetcars—Vienna, Austria, and Alexandria, Egypt.

Contestant Ready for Biblical Quiz

* * *

And big money it is too. The 54-year-old grandmother from nearby Camp Hill, Pa., has won $32,000 on a CBS television program.

Tonight, she'll tell viewers whether she'll keep her $32,000 or try for The $64,000 Question, which is the name of the program.

The jackpot question, as have all other questions answered by the woman on the program, will be based on the Bible.

* * *

"I have always turned to it for guidance," Mrs. Kreitzer said. And she'll do the same tonight, she said, when she must make the big decision. She said she won't make that decision until she steps out on the stage.

Japanese Launch First Postwar Battleship

TOKYO (AP) — Japan today launched the first warship built in this country since the once-mighty Imperial Navy dissolved in flame and explosion some 10 years ago.

The 630-ton minelayer Erimo is the first of seven ships to be constructed under a 34-million-dollar budget.

TV Sets Blow Fuses

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Blue and red flames suddenly flashed from many TV sets in West Long Beach last night. It was a good show until viewers discovered their sets had blown out, along with all their fuses. A short circuit in two 11,000-volt power lines caused the electrical fireworks.

Explosion Kills Five

First of TV Series Airs Disturbing Mood in Sly Attack

NEW YORK (INS)—The Columbia Broadcasting System knocked the spots, and perhaps a few stars and stripes, off a great many decent details of the American way during the premiere of a new series of summer dramas taking the place of Edward R. Murrow's "Person-to-Person."

Most of all, war. The kids claimed the parents—all parents—jabber about wars but do nothing to stop them.

A more localized and immediate problem carried a subtly broader significance and sly artistic attack on American institutions such as free enterprise.

Seems there also was a playground to be built in the community, which somehow went by the wayside as the adult community instead leaped at the chance of luring a new factory to the same location. Between their worries of wars, it seems, the children had started brooding over parental intentions around that playground. The result was a fairly horrifying, completely secret massing of children in revolt against the grown-ups. They simply marched off, as if to a picnic.

This little communal gang decided only children between five and 16 could belong to the strangely dedicated dissidents. After weeding out the older youths—apparently classifying them as too close to adulthood and therefore eligible for do-nothingness about wars, playgrounds and such—they sent word back via an older boy that some would march in to talk it over with the parents, and "maybe" would stay if dreams of pacifism and playgrounds for all could be promised, positively. Otherwise they would disappear again.

AVARICE DETAILED

There was one whole half hour of this—details of avarice such as the local hardware man and town father, greedy for the factory instead of a playground for the children, because he would sell it lots of hardware; of bland and almost idiotic ineffectiveness of the police and other shallow yearnings toward lunacy plainly stated as fact and not even allegation, stooping so low as to have the adults confess their parental sins and promise to do better.

Pud Flanagan played Kent Smith's son-with-a-message. It was written for CBS-TV by Shirley Peterson, from a story by Julia Savarese.

It received one of the most careful and technically perfect production possible. Its mystery was not why or how children might take to any such imitation-of-totalitarianism, or what strange psychology could portray five-to-sixteen year-old minds as superior in consideration of foreign and domestic affairs to their mothers and fathers.

Its mystery, in our mind, was how this sort of dirty dramatic pool ever got into the TV air.

Buffalo Startled by Sonic Explosion

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — An Air Force jet pilot cracked the sound barrier high over Lake Ontario yesterday and caused a sonic explosion that startled residents in Buffalo and its northern suburbs.

The pilot of the aircraft, an F86D Sabrejet, was unable to say whether he had broken the sound barrier. However, spokesmen at the Niagara Falls Air Force Base said it was possible to do so without the pilot being aware of it.

Capt. Lester T. Hansen, public information officer at the air base, said the airplane apparently broke the sound barrier after rolling into a 700-mile-an-hour dive from high altitude.

Chrisler Mistaken

LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP)—An error is graven on stone in Lynchburg's new courthouse. The man who did the chiseling spelled "its" as used possessively "it's." A newspaper proofreader — who else — who knew that "it's is a contraction of "it is" spotted the error.

U.S. Fighting to Revoke Colossal Rental Bargain

CLEVELAND (AP)—The lease the government gave Alexander J. Brady in 1949 proved a colossal bargain. Too colossal, the government says.

The government leased Brady a three-story, eight-bedroom, four-fireplace mansion for a total rental of $1—until such time as the property was needed for a Veterans Administration hospital.

The VA long since canceled plans to build the hospital and Brady figures the lease entitles him to continue living rent-free in the house with 2½ baths, sun room, library, maid's suite, living room, dining room, kitchen, breakfast room, pantry, refrigerator room, basement recreation room, laundry, storerooms and two furnaces.

* * *

The government brought suit yesterday to evict Brady, contending the lease "does not express the true intent of the parties as to its legal effect," and that the VA officer who approved it "exceeded his authority."

The lease gives Brady "the right and privilege to occupy all of the said premises until Jan. 1, 1950, and thereafter on a month-to-month basis until such time as the premises are, in the opinion of the United States of America or any agency thereof, actually needed for the purpose for which purchased. . . ." The purpose was the hospital. It also said $1 "shall be in full payment of all rental during the term of occupancy."

* * *

The government had purchased the house from Brady, a retired Erie Railroad Co. official, for about $31,000. It was one of 14 large houses purchased for the hospital site. Only Brady's contract contained the lease clause. The others are rented to the highest bidder.

The house, on a 91-by-270-foot lot, has been appraised at $67,857.

In its suit the government said it "has requested that the premises be vacated but has been refused."

Bulgar-Turkish Border Incident Arouses Anger

LONDON (AP) — Communist Bulgaria accused Turkey today of wounding a Bulgarian frontier guard in a "shooting affray."

A Sofia radio broadcast charged Turkey with provoking the incident and endangering peace in the Balkans. It did not say when the incident occurred.

Turkish police announced the arrest July 4 of Bulgarian Vice Consul Georgi Barkanoff Tcholakoff on spy charges and said a Bulgarian spy ring was being rounded up. Bulgaria charged the arrest was a frameup and demanded the immediate release of the vice consul.

Hospitals Will Evict Recovered Old People

NEW YORK, July 11 (AP)—The city has found 1,200 aged patients in its hospitals whom it considers well enough to be rehabilitated and returned to society.

The elderly persons will be sent to two new hospitals where they will be trained to take care of themselves.

Worst '55 Typhoon Fails to Hit Okinawa

TOKYO (AP)—The biggest typhoon of the season smacked right into the southern half of the Ryukyu Archipelago but spared the mighty U.S. island base on Okinawa.

U.S. Air Force weather spotters said the typhoon, the seventh of the season, was just off the coast of Ishigaki Island, some 220 miles southwest of Okinawa, and was weakening.

Handy Hints for Heat Wave Blues

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

Humidity and humility have more in common than six mutual letters. Both conditions leave a body cowed and beaten.

* * *

Nuns must be blessed, indeed. They remain serene of eye and dry of forehead under three times as much garb as a chic woman.

Despite the ramblings of gin 'n tonic and beer devotees, the most effective fire-quencher is water, and the best summer pick-up, iced tea.

AVOID SUNBURN

However, mad dogs, Englishmen and vain young women take to it regularly at midday.

* * *

In steam rooms, there is a technique to help you breathe. Take a hunk of ice, cupped in a towel, and put your nose to it. The chilled oxygen is revivifying. Try this on the back porch when sizzlophobia sets in.

Dogs dig holes in the ground under trees and lie in them, but people have too much pride and civilized stupidity.

Wish that I had my teen-age capacity for sitting through three runs of a double feature. I would inhabit a loge seat in the coldest theater in town and eat tuna fish sandwiches.

Never bet on a race horse or a delicate woman in hot weather. Neither one runs true to form.

MOVE TO KEEP COOL

Why doesn't someone invent cold thermos bracelets and anklets and necklaces, to keep the veins refrigerated?

* * *

They should draw up laws against restaurants which make laws barring men from entering without coats and ties. Lawsie, lawsie, this is a violation of nature. Women and animals shed their coats in summer. Why not men?

I doubt if even pregnant women get excessive food yearnings when it's 90 in the shade. I am tiring of jellied consomme and sliced cucumbers, but nothing else appeals.

* * *

Children can stroll barefoot in the gutters after a rain, can sprint half-naked through the garden sprinkler, can drink 10 lemonades without getting sick, can go immediately to sleep on the hottest night of the year.

Prison Director Urges Study of Sex Deviation

WASHINGTON (INS)—The U. S. Director of Prisons urged the government today to launch an intensive study of sex problems encountered in federal penitentiaries.

Prison Director James V. Bennett emphasized that the sex offender and the sex deviate pose "a perplexing problem, whether in prison or in the community."

He added: "This group of sex deviates offers an unusually good opportunity for intensive study into the causes, diagnoses, treatment and possible prevention of homosexuality."

Bennett also proposed that federal convicts be granted special emergency "home leaves" in the event of family illness or death.

He made the recommendations in an annual report which noted that the federal government's prison population has reached a record high of more than 20,800 convicts.

Tahiti Mountain Area Has Temperate Climate

PAPEETE, Tahiti (AP)—This French equatorial island has discovered that it has some temperate climate.

High on the plateaus of the inland mountain mass the air is cool and bracing. Authorities are planning to build roads to the plateaus so health resorts can be established far from the coastal heat.
