UF Drive Passes 85 Per Cent With One Day to Go

More than 85 per cent of the "most ambitious" Pontiac Area United Fund goal has been reached, it was reported today, with less than a day remaining in the campaign.

A total of $550,543 has been collected to date, according to Robert R. Eldred, general campaign chairman. The goal of the three-week drive, which ends tomorrow, is $647,698.

"It's really touch and go," says Eldred. "Our victory luncheon at noon tomorrow will tell us whether we've surpassed this city's most ambitious United Fund goal. We won't know the exact figures until a few minutes before the luncheon."

Eldred said "very favorable" reports have been received from the Women's Division and the Industrial Division.

"Our four affiliated townships also are showing promising results to date," he said.

Independence Township, headed by Merle Bennett, topped its $5,800 goal for the first time in its history.

★ ★ ★

"We are all very happy," said Bennett, "that our people have shown the spirit and enthusiasm to make this the best United Fund Drive this township has seen in a long time."

Mrs. Harry Fahrner, Independence Residential Chairman, said the 169 door-to-door canvassers "did a marvelous job."

The United Fund has received its quota of $21,899 from the Birmingham and Bloomfield areas, according to Eldred.

$376,345 IN INDUSTRIAL

Industrial Division Chairman Thomas F. Wiethorn reports that $376,345 has been collected as of early today.

This figure includes employe gifts totaling $200,000. Wiethorn said there still are several industrial areas to report.

The final Industrial report will be announced at tomorrow's luncheon.

Mrs. Noel Buckner, chairman of the Women's Division, said returns continue to pour in past their deadline putting the women 8 per cent over their $25,157 quota.

Only the Commercial Division is lagging, according to its chairman, Fred Poole. The unit has reached $110,431 of the $179,000 goal.

"We've really got a lot of work before us in our Division," said Poole.

'KEEP HARD AT WORK'

"The Women's Division topped its goal and all signs point to the Industrial Division reaching its goal. Somehow it seems we will not be able to have similar success, at least at the present time.

"We've all got to keep hard at work to surpass our goal. I want to be able to stand up and report that the Commercial Division has topped its goal.

"We are going to make a concentrated effort in the next 18 hours to make this possible."

Eldred added: "I'm personally asking every Commercial Division solicitor to see to it that all re-

Chessman Gets Execution Stay

Convict-Author to File Appeal by Nov. 3 but It Could Be Denied.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today granted a stay of execution for Caryl Chessman, under sentence to die Friday in California's gas chamber.

The stay was granted to permit the convict-author to file a new appeal. The appeal must be filed by Nov. 3.

★ ★ ★

Counsel for Chessman had asked Justice Douglas to grant a stay, but Douglas referred the request to the full court.

In granting the stay, the court noted that Chief Justice Warren had disqualified himself from the case. Warren is a former governor of California. The decision to grant a stay thus was made by eight justices.

After the filing of a new appeal on behalf of Chessman, the State of California may file a reply in opposition to further Supreme Court consideration of the case.

REFUSAL IMPORTANT

The eight justices then will decide in closed conference whether they will grant a hearing on the new appeal. A refusal to do so would mean that Chessman's conviction with the penalty would stand.

★ ★ ★

George T. Davis, San Francisco attorney for Chessman, had asked Douglas to extend to Nov. 18 the time for filing a new appeal. This was rejected in the court's order, giving Davis only until Nov. 3 to file.

Friday's death date — now voided — was the seventh that had been set for Chessman who has spent 11½ years in San Quentin Prison's death row. A series of appeals kept him from execution.

Now 38, Chessman was accused of a variety of crimes as a Los Angeles lovers' lane bandit who robbed and engaged in sexual assaults.

The death sentence was on conviction of kidnap-robbery.

When Davis filed last week his petition for a stay of execution, the attorney told newsmen that a new appeal would emphasize a contention that the record of Chessman's trial was not accurate, and thus state courts did not have a proper basis to reach judgment on appeals filed on behalf of Chessman.

Davis had with him last Friday the first draft of an appeal. It was more than an inch thick and contained about 275 typewritten pages.

Five Days of Normal Weather Promised

Temperatures will be back to near normal during the next five days, the weatherman says. Partly cloudy and a low of 38 is tonight's forecast.

Mostly cloudy and a little warmer with a high of 55 is the prediction for Thursday. High temperatures will range in the upper 50s and the low about 41 for a few days.

Friday will be mostly fair and warmer except for increasing cloudiness in Upper Michigan.

About a half-inch of rain is expected Saturday or Sunday.

At 1:15 p.m. easterly winds were at eight miles an hour.

Teller Says He Slipped Pal $2,500 From Cage

By MAX E. SIMON

The weird plot of a 22-year-old bank teller and his pal to steal $3,000 from the downtown Community National Bank was foiled early today.

The teller, Robert L. Crandall, 34 Murphy St., said he slipped $2,500 to his friend through the teller's window, late yesterday afternoon. The admission came after hours of questioning by FBI agents and Pontiac police detectives.

Crandall at first told officers the money was taken from his cash drawer by an unidentified customer when he left his cage to check an account.

Eventually he admitted that this "customer" was his accomplice, Paul J. Carry, 21, of 114 E. Howard St.

Crandall faces trial on a charge of misapplication of bank funds—a violation of the Federal Reserve Act. Carry faces sentencing on a charge of aiding and assisting the misapplication.

Conviction on each count carries a maximum penalty of $5,000 in fines and five years in the penitentiary.

Both men were arraigned today by Federal Judge Ralph M. Freeman in Detroit, with Crandall standing mute to the charge against him and Carry pleading guilty to his.

Further charges against Crandall may be developed on the basis of simple embezzlement.

★ ★ ★

Crandall was quoted as admitting he stuffed another $330 from his cash drawer into a shirt pocket a few seconds before the ill-fated hoax began.

Authorities said Crandall admitted stealing small bills since his marriage in June to a Pontiac kindergarten school teacher.

They said Crandall may have embezzled between $700 to $1,000 in bank funds.

Police theorized that Crandall may have staged the phony robbery to cover up shortages in his accounts.

Any missing funds would be covered completely by insurance, according to William E. Cashin Jr., a vice president of the bank.

Crandall at first told officers a customer came to his window—

Hunter Toll: 5 Are Dead, 24 Injured

Five hunters died, two from gunshot wounds and three by heart attacks, and at least 24 others were injured on the opening day of Michigan's pheasant season yesterday.

Among those seriously hurt in a hunting mishap was a 33-year-old Detroit man who was struck in the chest and face by shotgun pellets in Imlay Township.

Injured was Harold Cochrum, 33, of 12749 E. Warren Ave. He was treated at Yale Hospital before being transferred to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Detroit, where he was reported in fair condition today.

The shot that injured Cochrum was fired by Lawrence E. Oldenburg, 22, of 638 N. Perry St., Pontiac.

Romeo State police said the two men were not members of the same hunting party and that Oldenburg was turning to shoot at a pheasant and did not see Cochrum before he fired.

NO CHARGE FILED

Oldenburg made a statement to the Lapeer County prosecutor. No charges have been placed against him yet.

Less seriously hurt was Grady Cronk, 49, of 71410 Romeo Plank Rd., Armada Township. He was a member of a hunting party of six which was stalking birds in low scrub brush field near his home.

Suddenly a pheasant flew up out of the undergrowth and three shots were heard. One pellet went through Cronk's lip. He was treated by a local physician and released.

★ ★ ★

It was not determined who fired the shot.

High Court to Confer on Tax Tomorrow

LANSING (AP) — Acting Chief Justice Leland W. Carr said today the State Supreme Court will hold a conference at 10 a.m. tomorrow to consider the important use (sales) tax case.

Carr, standing in for hospitalized Justice John R. Dethmers, did not promise that a final decision will be reached at the conference. On this point he said:

"I suppose the matter will come up in the usual way. An opinion or opinions may come down or may not."

The announcement came five hours before the Legislature, anxiously awaiting a court pronouncement on its tax handiwork, was to return to session after four weeks away from the capitol.

Girl, 9, Is Killed in Hayride Fall

Oxford Victim's Father Was Pulling Wagon for Orion Church Outing

A nine-year-old Oxford Township girl was fatally injured last night when she fell from a hayride wagon. It was pulled by a tractor driven by her father.

Frances Catherine Schalau, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Schalau, 1939 Hummer Lake Rd., was pronounced dead at the office of Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. H. F. Stahl of Oxford.

She suffered a broken neck.

The hayride was sponsored by the Zion League, a Lake Orion church group. There were about 25 to 30 children and four adults on the outing.

The grief-stricken father told sheriff's deputies he was pulling the two-wheel trailer south on Hurd road, less than two miles from the Schalau home, when the accident occurred shortly before 8 p.m.

★ ★ ★

"I was going slowly enough so that the kids were getting off and on the trailer as we moved along," he said.

His daughter evidently slipped and fell to the dirt road, striking her head. A wheel ran over her left ankle, said deputies.

County GOP Chief Backs Lindemer

Republican State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer, reportedly on Postmaster General Summerfield's chopping block, received a pat on the back today from Arthur G. Elliott Jr., chairman of the Republican Committee of Oakland County.

"Under the leadership of Larry Lindemer," Elliott said in a prepared statement, "our party throughout the state has made tremendous progress in broadening the base of party participation."

Summerfield, former Michigan GOP national committeeman, yesterday was reported leading a new faction ready to give the 38-year-old Lindemer the ax in order to bring peace to the Republican party in the state.

Today Summerfield said much of the published reports were "without fact or foundation."

Paul D. Bagwell, titular head of the Michigan GOP and his party's unsuccessful candidate for governor last year, also was reported

Union Appeals to Block T-H Injunction

Judge Orders Steelmen Back on Jobs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A federal judge today issued a Taft-Hartley injunction temporarily halting the record 99-day steel strike.

The United Steelworkers Union said it would file an immediate appeal with the U. S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia.

★ ★ ★

Arthur J. Goldberg, USW general counsel, asked Judge Sorg to stay the injunction order pending the Philadelphia appeal.

The injunction issued by Judge Herbert P. Sorg in U.S. District Court prohibits the United Steelworkers Union from continuing its strike against the nation's basic steel industry.

The government sought the injunction on orders from President Eisenhower. The President said the strike was endangering the nation's economic health and safety.

Judge Sorg denied the union's request for a stay of execution of the injunction.

Judge Sorg told Goldberg his motion "would best be presented to the circuit court in Philadelphia.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Resumption of a federal court hearing to determine if a Taft - Hartley law injunction will be used to end the 99-day steel strike was delayed today as the presiding judge studied law books and conferred with attorneys.

"He got up at the crack of dawn," said an aide of U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert P. Sorg. "He's been studying law books, affidavits in the case and other legal papers."

The hearing, which began Tuesday, was to have resumed at 10 a.m. Shortly before 11 a.m. Judge Sorg was still in his chambers conferring with government attorneys and counsel for the United Steelworkers Union.

Even if an injunction is granted an end of the strike could be delayed by an appeal. The court could—but would not have to—stay the injunction while an appeal was acted upon.

★ ★ ★

The government argued Tuesday that lost steel production was threatening the nation's health and safety. The striking United Steelworkers Union said the strike was creating hardships but was not endangering the national economy.

Last of Toylike Quintuplets Dies at Dawn

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Baby D, last survivor of the five toylike girls born to the wife of an Air Force lieutenant Tuesday, died at 6:40 a. m. today.

The grieving father said he and his wife "are confident that all is for the best and God has a better place for them."

The parents, Lt. and Mrs. Charles G. Hannan, were asleep when Baby D succumbed. Both had been in near shock during the night after the deaths of the other four quints within 9½ hours of their birth.

"Oh, my God. They were just like baby dolls," sobbed a technician when the word spread rapidly through the hospital.

★ ★ ★

A Lackland Air Force Base spokesman said neither of the parents was physically able to be interviewed or have their pictures taken immediately, but Hannan authorized a statement.

LT. CHARLES HANNAN

MRS. CHARLES HANNAN

"My wife and I were terribly sorry to learn of the death of our babies and are stricken with grief. However, we are confident that all is for the best and God has a better place for them," the statement said.

★ ★ ★

"We know the hospital and the staff here at Lackland did everything they could to save our babies. They were just too immature. The best medical facilities were available.

HOPE FOR PEACE

"We hope we can get a little peace and quiet now."

Baby D was the fourth born. She weighed 1 pound 13 ounces.

Pretty, blonde Mrs. Hannan, 27, turned to her crewcut husband, 29, shortly after the babies were born and said, "You wanted a girl. Now you have five." The Hannans are the parents of two boys.

Making a desperate effort to save the last survivor was Capt. William D. Munroe. He worked almost constantly with the one child throughout the night at Lackland AFB Hospital, called the largest and finest Air Force hospital.

Baby B, so designated to indicate order of birth, died at 5:40 p. m. Tuesday. Baby A died at 6:10 p. m. Baby E died at 9:25 p. m. and Baby C at 10 p. m.

★ ★ ★

The five toylike girls, crying lustily, were born permaturely here Tuesday to the wife of an Air Force lieutenant. Four died within 9½ hours as doctors fought for the life of the fifth.

★ ★ ★

The births, a 42-million to one medical rarity, represented the third set of quintuplets in United States medical history and only the 47th in all recorded annals. They were three months premature.

Car-Theft Sleuth Will Be Feted on Retiring

The name of Albert W. Foster is well known to car thieves who have had to reckon with him through the years.

For Sgt. Foster of the Pontiac Police Dept. has made a specialty of putting them behind bars during his more than 29 years as a city police officer.

A specialist in auto theft cases, he will be honored at a farewell party in the Public Safety Building today, his last active duty day.

His retirement becomes official Jan. 9.

Foster is well known in law enforcement agencies of America. He recently received a letter from J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

ALBERT W. FOSTER SR.

THE LETTER

It said, in part:

"After more than 29 years of dedicated service to the law enforcement profession, I am sure you must realize a profound and deep feeling of accomplishment upon this . . . milestone. The outstanding contributions you have made in the field of auto theft detection are a tribute to the highest ideals of public service."

Among his more sensational cases was one in 1948. Five persons were convicted in Federal Court and $200,000 in stolen cars recovered. For his work in cracking the case, Foster received a department citation.

Born in 1905 in Sawdust Valley, Tenn., Foster joined the Pontiac force on Nov. 15, 1929. He was promoted to sergeant Sept. 4, 1948.

Car thieves, however, haven't heard the last of Albert Foster.

The new auto theft specialist will be Detective Albert W. Foster Jr., his 28-year-old son.

Should Baby Be Six Months Old for Polio Shot?

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Waiting until babies are about 6 months old could be the best time to give antipolio shots, a new study suggests.

Otherwise, the vaccine might fail to protect many babies.

The reason is that the vaccine curiously seems to be nullified by natural protection which many babies temporarily inherit from their mothers, the research finds. When they are 5 or 6 months old they lose this natural protection.

The findings based on detailed blood studies were presented to the American Public Health Assn. meeting here by Drs. Gordon Brown and Pearl L. Kendrick of the University of Michigan.

County GOP Chief Backing Lindemer

FORD BACKS BAGWELL

Bagwell, however, surprisingly discovered Ford Motor Co. president Henry Ford II backing him.

★ ★ ★

Bagwell, director of scholarships at Michigan State University, and Lindemer "have consistently fought for and are constructively building a Republican Party based on majority participation and majority decision," Elliott said.

★ ★ ★

Oakland's 140-member delegation cinched Lindemer's re-election as state chairman at the state convention in Detroit in February when it cast 138 votes for the Stockbridge attorney and two for his opponent, Sen. John F. Smeekens (R-Coldwater), supposedly backed by the more conservative Summerfield.

Lindemer came out on top at the convention, 1,333 to 163.

Elliott, a Pleasant Ridge realtor, urged Summerfield to "join" with the present element of the Republican Party to produce "a team victory in 1960."

"Mr. Summerfield is a fine public servant and has much to offer our state and our party," Elliott said. "I hope he will join with the druggist in Pontiac, the tool and die maker in Flint and the housewife in Petoskey in a team effort and a team victory in 1960."

"Party government must be based on team efforts and team decisions," he said.

'MAJORITY HAVE DUTY'

"It is the majority who have the moral and rightful duty to make party decisions by due process of elected delegates in convention."

★ ★ ★

Bagwell said today he had full confidence in Lindemer. "I will not be a party to any move to dump anybody elected at an open convention," he said.

The Oakland chairman said the work of the Lindemer-Bagwell team has brought about "the tremendous enthusiasm and organization now apparent in all parts of this state."

Lindemer declined to jump into the dispute.

"I thought that the issue of Republican Party leadership was fought and settled at the state convention last spring," he said.

"Right now I'm too busy with the one dollar a month contribution program, our statewide series of campaign kickoff meetings, with 50 more scheduled in the next six weeks, and our women's division program of 27 political schools to worry about whether someone wants to oust me as state chairman."

From his Washington office, Summerfield, a former Flint auto dealer, named postmaster general in 1953 by President Eisenhower said he might clarify his position on what took place last Thursday among the higher Republican echelon at a private Detroit club.

"I believe that some of the prominent Detroiters who were present at the meeting and who urged me to attend will probably issue a factual statement which should separate fact from fiction," Summerfield said.

Mute on Charge of Destruction

Sidney B. Narrin, 21, of 1043 Lakeview Dr., Waterford Township, stood mute on a charge of malicious destruction to personal property yesterday in Justice Patrick Daly's court.

Narrin was arrested Oct. 19 and charged with damaging a car parked in the Schoolcraft School parking lot. The owner of the car, Cleland Charboneau, 109 Josephine St., obtained a warrant for Narrin's arrest after witnesses identified the man.

Narrin was released on $100 personal bond pending trial Oct. 28 in Daly's court.

Circuit Judges Pension Eyed

Supervisors Will Vote on Granting the Jurists County Payments

Revision of the Oakland County Employes' Retirement System to bring Circuit Court judges under it for the first time comes up for a vote Monday by the Board of Supervisors.

Supervisors are being asked to pass on the amendment at this time so that retiring Judge Frank L. Doty will become eligible.

The plan, which now covers some 1,300 present and past members, is being changed whereby judges, who draw their salary partially from the state and county, will receive a monthly pension based on their county share.

They now are eligible for only a state pension on their state pay.

DOTY NOT COVERED

However, the 79-year-old Doty will not draw a pension check from Lansing because he decided to serve past the 70-year-old pension age limit.

Although the county system revision is designed primarily to include Doty and other judges, it will in the future aid other employes who might be paid on a state-county split basis, said Robert E. Lilly, executive secretary of the Retirement Commission.

He said Judge Doty's monthly pension check from the county — provided the revision is approved Monday — would be based on the judge's pay prior to 1950 when he reached the county's age limit of 70.

Payments are made from retirement funds accrued from payroll deductions from all county employes' checks.

Adding the judges will cost $4,200 a year beginning in 1961, Lilly said.

Today's system says an employe must draw 50 per cent or more of his pay from the county to qualify.

$750 UNDER HALF

This made judges ineligible because they receive $11,000 a year from the county or $750 less than half to come under the plan. The state pays $12,500.

★ ★ ★

Lilly said the proposed amendment would reduce the requirement to 40 per cent received from Oakland County.

Bridges Laughs at Data Request

Tells Sec. Mitchell He Won't List Reds in His Dock Union

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Harry Bridges has declined to comply with Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell's request for a report on Communists and ex-convicts in his union.

★ ★ ★

Mitchell cited Section 504 of the new labor law in requests for information from the International Longshoremen & Warehousemen's Union, the Teamsters Union and two other labor organizations.

★ ★ ★

Bridges' attorneys replied: Section 504 "violates the provisions of at least the First and Fifth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States."

★ ★ ★

"We are unable to find anything in Section 504 which gives you the authority to make the request you have made, or which requires Mr. Bridges to respond thereto," the attorneys said.

"As we read it, Section 504 is so vague and indefinite as to be meaningless."

★ ★ ★

"To which 'Communist party' does the act refer? The Stalinists? The Trotskyists? The Workers party? Or what?" they asked.

★ ★ ★

"Are you requesting Mr. Bridges to examine the Criminal Court records throughout the United States so that he may advise you of the status of an indeterminate number of officers and employes?"

TELLER'S CAGE — A Pontiac police officer is shown taking fingerprints at Community National Bank teller's cage from which an employe admitted handing over $2,500 last night to a pal. The teller, Robert L. Crandall, first told authorities the money had been taken while he was checking an account.

Two Held in Bank Robbery

MAN, MONEY GONE

When he returned, he said, the man had disappeared and $3,500 was missing from the cage.

The only other person on the bank's main floor was a guard, Claude Evans, a former Pontiac police lieutenant.

Evans said he saw Carry casually stroll out the front door but saw nothing to arouse suspicion.

Seconds later Crandall tripped the alarm system. Apparently shaken, he told the guard, "My God, I think I've been robbed."

Most of the bank's employes had left at 3 p.m. and only a skeleton force was on duty. The bank closes Tuesday at 6 p.m.

PUZZLED BY 'JUMP'

They were puzzled as to how anyone could jump over the five-foot counter, reach into the cash drawer and leave in the short time Crandall was out of his cage.

Armed with Crandall's description of the thief, officers checked the account the teller had pulled.

The son of the person with the account said the description fitted Carry, whom he called "a casual acquaintance."

Carry was taken into custody at 6:30 p.m.

Officers said Crandall gave a perfect description of Carry. He had told them the suspect was five-foot-nine, dark complexioned and was wearing a tan car coat.

When the two men were brought together, Crandall said Carry was not the right man.

WIFE FINDS MONEY

The case was broken when Carry's wife, Betty Jane, 20, phoned the police department at midnight and told them she had found $2,170 under a pile of clothes she was ironing.

She said she suspected it was money from the bank job.

Her husband immediately admitted his role in the scheme. He said his wife was not involved.

Crandall admitted the plot later, authorities said.

Carry's wife told officers her husband earlier in the evening had given her $150 which he said he obtained by cashing an insurance check.

Police also found $90 in Carry's wallet which he left at home when taken to the station.

DROPPED IN STREET

He told officers he dropped some loose bills into the street as he was being taken to the station.

Carry said his wife knew nothing of the robbery.

Yet in a statement to authorities, Mrs. Carry said she knew of the robbery but hesitated to call authorities for fear of becoming involved.

A woman friend of Mrs. Carry, in a statement to police, said the arrested man's wife told her of the robbery and she helped Mrs. Carry hide the money in a bathroom drain pipe. The women were not held.

Carry and Crandall said they had been planning the theft the past 10 days.

Carry said he saw Crandall in the bank at 1 p.m. and told him he'd return for money later.

He went back at 3 p.m. but the theft was put off until 5 p.m. because the bank was busy.

Crandall has been at the bank the past three years, except for one brief period in which he held another job.

Carry is on three years probation for a burglary conviction in November 1957.

Crandall refused to talk to reporters shortly after the theft.

"Leave me alone," he said.

"Can't you see I'm in deep enough trouble?"

More than a dozen Detroit FBI agents cooperated with Pontiac police in cracking the case.

Morton Arrives in State Today

GOP Chairman Will Speak Tomorrow Noon at Oakland Event

Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, chairman of the Republican National Committee, arrives in Michigan today to recruit party workers and raise funds for the 1960 campaign.

Morton will speak in Berkley tomorrow noon at a $50-a-plate luncheon staged by the Republican Committee of Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

He'll talk to local Republican women at a tea Thursday afternoon at Devon Gables.

The Kentucky lawmaker was scheduled to fly into Grand Rapids from Fargo, N.D. at 2:30 p.m. today.

Then for 43 hours and five minutes before departing for Pittsburgh Friday morning, Morton's itinerary carries him into a mixture of strong and weak Republican areas in the southern half of Michigan.

Morton, who is past the midway point on his 30,000-mile nationwide tour that began Sept. 16 and ends next month, will address a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in Grand Rapids tonight.

It is being sponsored by the Kent County Republicans.

STRONG ASSISTANCE

He said in an advance statement that he wants to give every possible assistance to local GOP leaders in "capitalizing on the dramatic resurgence of Republican confidence which 1959 has brought."

The senator hopes to add a number of Michigan Republicans to the party's national goal of two million new GOP volunteer precinct workers for the 1960 election, which he calls "crucial."

Morton said Michigan was one of the 30 states he is visiting which hold a majority of the 100 or so "marginal" congressional districts.

★ ★ ★

These in the Republican Party's opinion form the battleground for control of the next House of Representatives, he said.

The GOP's basic strategy for 1960 should be concentrating on the congressional districts in which Republicans appear to have the best chance, he said.

His schedule embraces 77 of the 100 districts in question, he said.

Police Reserve Question Erupts at City Meeting

The reorganization of the Pontiac Police Reserves suffered blistering criticism last night before it even got under way.

★ ★ ★

City Commissioners Robert A. Landry and Milton R. Henry fired salvos at attempts by Public Safety Director George D. Eastman to screen membership in the volunteer force.

Both claimed Eastman was misinterpreting the new reserve policy set by the Commission over their objections last month.

The five other commissioners and City Manager Walter K. Willman said he wasn't.

★ ★ ★

Two top reserve leaders in the audience — John Graham, reserve chief, and Winfield Bottom, president of the Police Reserve Assn. — leaped to their feet after Commissioner William W. Donaldson hurled the word "vigilante" in their direction.

Complaining of "veiled threats," Donaldson asked rhetorically, "Are the reserves an organization of vigilantes?"

"We're willing to cooperate with anyone who wants to cooperate with us," snapped back Bottom. Then he attacked the Commission bloc which last month shunted the reserve question from the Commission table to Eastman's desk.

★ ★ ★

"Maybe this city needs five new commissioners," Bottom said.

Landry touched off the 30-minute hassle holding in his hands a copy of a letter from Eastman to the reservists.

It asked reservists to indicate whether they wanted to be in the new reserve program. "You shall be informed as to the next step in the procedure based on your decision," the letter read.

"I can't believe it," said Landry. "The reservists never resigned. Now they are being asked if they want to 'join.'"

Willman had an explanation in which he referred to last month's hotly debated resolution giving the reserves simple recognition for the first time and ordering Eastman to work out details of the reserve program.

Willman said the resolution authorized the "formation" of a reserve and that, in fact, was what Eastman was doing.

★ ★ ★

"I approved the letters before they went out," the manager said.

Landry and Henry complained that they had not been informed of the wide scope of the intended reorganization. They said that they thought the reserves were being recognized in their present status.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston had last month's resolution read aloud by City Clerk Ada R. Evans. She stressed the passage by which the City Commission approved "the formation" of a reserve.

Rowston called Eastman's letter "the first step" in reorganization.

Bottom said that reservists had unanimously indicated their desire to serve in the new reserve.

"Then it's time to get your letters in," advised Commissioner John A. Dugan. "If you don't want to serve in the new program, then don't turn in any letter."

Reservists have not worked since early this year, when they threatened to resign in protest against new policies in the police department with which they disagreed.

A negotiating team headed by Rowston subsequently brought about peace on most issues, but at least one stumbling block remains.

Reservists say they don't want to go back to work unless they wear uniforms similar to those of the regulars. Eastman has asked them to wear their old uniforms while the request for new ones is being considered further.

Look Down on Proposal

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—The City Council refused yesterday to rezone a fashionable residential area for a nine-story apartment building proposed by wealthy society matron Mrs. Ada Belle Lykes. The council acted after neighbors of the proposed apartment house said they didn't want anyone looking down on them.

HARVEST BEAUTY — Milford Township's beauty queen Jeannie Walker has a hard time choosing the right pumpkin for Halloween. She is seated on a pile of more than 200 of them in the yard of the old Long farm on Commerce road. Farmers in the area report a bumper crop of pumpkins, squash and melons this year. Jeannie reigned over the township hall dedication ceremonies last summer.

The Day in Birmingham

New Golf Course Building to Be Finished End of Year

BIRMINGHAM — Planned for use when the golf season begins next spring, the $20,000 service building under construction at Springdale Golf course is to be completed in early December.

The 60 by 35 foot contemporary-style building, designed by Carl B. Marr, a resident of Birmingham, will be the office for the golf course. It also will have refreshment facilities, and modern restrooms.

The building, located near the first tee, also will be available to picnickers at bordering Springdale Park.

Marr said the building will have a covered terrace overlooking the course. He said this would be particularly useful in bad weather.

The building will replace an old frame structure located near the new site.

As the building will be used only about five months of the year, heavy gauge steel rolling shutters are being installed as protection against the weather and vandalism.

The Birmingham American Legion Auxiliary will hold its annual rummage sale tomorrow and Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the American Legion Post home, 267 Ferndale St., Birmingham.

MRS. ARLEY M. BURNHAM

Service for Mrs. Arley M. Burnham, 53, of 19040 Glenwood, Lathrup Village, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham. Burial will be at Acacia Park Cemetery, Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Burnham died Tuesday at the Wayne County General Hospital from injuries received in an automobile accident Oct. 15.

She was a member of the United Church Women of Michigan, the Women's Assn. of the First Presbyterian Church, the Nellie Clizbe Guild and the Lathrup Village Woman's Club.

She also was director of the Proestant Foundation, Ann Arbor; secretary of the American Assn. for the United Nations, Oakland County Council, and state chairman for the International Students Project of the United Church Women of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

She is survived by her husband, George A., her mother, Mrs. Frank A. Hull, Lathrup Village, and a brother, Wesley Irwin, Lake Worth, Fla.

William H. J. McPharlin

A Requiem Mass for William H. J. McPharlin, 87, 155 Wimbleton Rd., Birmingham, will be offered Saturday at 9:30 a.m. at Holy Name Catholic Church, Birmingham. Burial will be in Mt. Elliott Cemetery, Detroit.

The Rosary will be said at 8 p.m. Friday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Funeral Home, Birmingham.

Mr. McPharlin died Tuesday at his home after a long illness.

A resident of the area for 30 years, he was a retired executive of R. L. Polk and Co., Detroit.

He is survived by several nieces and nephews.

ARTHUR H. GILLESPIE

Service for Arthur H. Gillespie, 81, will be held Friday at 1 p.m. in the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Funeral Home, Birmingham. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Mr. Gillespie died Tuesday at the Waldron Hotel where he had been a resident for five years.

District manager for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. in this area for 26 years, he was also the state representative for the Columbia Southern Chemical Co., a subsidiary of the glass company.

Surviving are three daughters, Miss Adeline W. Gillespie of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Robert W. Richards of East Lansing, and Mrs. James K. Hess of Pittsburgh; and two sisters, Mrs. Gerald J. McMechan, of Birmingham, and Elizabeth Gillespie, of Dayton, Ohio.

5 Die, 24 Are Hurt First Hunting Day

hurt yesterday was a 12-year-old youth and a man, 39, from Marlette.

The boy, James Younger, was hit on the hand by a shot he said was fired by an unknown hunter.

The man, Donald Lambert, was struck in the back of the head and the hand when another group of hunters blasted away at a pheasant.

A Clawson youth, Paul Gencur, 17, of 726 Selfridge St., was the most seriously hurt of four hunters struck by shotgun pellets in Lapeer County.

HUNTER STUMBLES

He was climbing a fence when a member of his hunting party following behind him stumbled discharging his gun as he fell. The youth was hit in the left arm and shoulder.

He is listed in satisfactory condition today in the Community Hospital near Almont.

Ronald Tanis, 27, received a cheek wound from a shotgun pellet while driving a tractor on his farm in Goodlands Township.

Gail Bracken, 32, of 818 Joslyn Rd., Orion Township, was hit in the neck while hunting in Sanilac County. He was treated in Lapeer County.

Another hunter, Morris Gibson, 46, of Lapeer, was hunting on a farm in Oregon Township when stray pellets struck him in the arm, ear, chest and face. He was treated at Lapeer County General Hospital and released.

A 12-year-old Clio boy, Michael Panek, who was not carrying a gun was nearly decapitated by a teenage hunting companion in a field in Genesee County yesterday.

The other gunshot fatality was Glenn E. Razor, 31, of Garden City, who was found shot to death 21 minutes after the small game season started at 10 a.m.

Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Panek, died in Hurley Hospital, Flint about an hour after he was hit in the face with bird shot from a 20-gauge shotgun.

FOUND DEAD

Michael was shot by his companion, Burt Banks, 15, who was walking ahead of him and another boy, 12-year-old George Shaw. Shaw was not hit.

Razor was found dead in high grass in Western Wayne County by his two hunting partners. They said they heard a shot, ran over to see what happened, and found the young man dead. It was not determined if he accidentally shot himself or was hit by an unknown hunter.

Three Detroit hunters died opening day of heart attacks in the Thumb area.

They were Stanley J. Somers, 45; Robert Hanvey, 41, and Louis A. Musetti, 47, all of Detroit.

Sidewalks of New York

NEW YORK (UPI)—A baby born to Mrs. Lottie Graves last night will be able to say when grown that he was born on the sidewalks of New York. Mrs. Graves left her hotel on Broadway for the hospital, but the elevator gave a lurch as it stopped at the lobby. The baby was delivered on the hotel stoop by an ambulance doctor because that was as far as Mrs. Graves got.

Brucker Hints at Missile Fate

Army Secretary Refuses to Tell Confab Decision at White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker hinted today that the fate of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, deeply involved in the space race with the Soviet Union, was settled at a White House conference today.

Brucker was a late—and not previously announced — participant in a meeting between President Eisenhower and his top space advisers. The session was set up to solve the problem of how to push the United States into stronger competition with the Soviets in the outer reaches.

Emerging from the talks some time after the others had left, Brucker was asked if there had been a decision on the missile agency and its crack team of space experts headed by Wernher von Braun.

He first replied that was a matter in the province of the President.

Asked if that meant there had been no decision, Brucker answered: "I didn't say that."

About the same time the White House said Eisenhower probably will make a statement about the meeting after he arrives in Augusta, Ga. The President left directly after his space conference for a five-day golfing vacation.

AGENCY IN DOUBT

Specific questions before the White House conferees included the disposition of the agency and specifically what to do about the Huntsville, Ala., project for development of the Saturn booster, a huge cluster of eight rockets with 1½ million pounds of thrust.

That is half again as much thrust as anything the Soviet Union is known to have and would hurl bigger payloads farther into space.

But the Pentagon does not need that much push for military rockets, and has been pulling back on supporting the program.

There has been talk that Saturn support might be shifted to the civilian National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and NASA at one time made a direct bid for the whole Huntsville operation.

The Saturn program has been suffering from malnutrition. Word has come down that its funds have been cut from 135 million dollars to 70 million. Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, who has headed this effort, has just resigned, although he says his resignation was not a protest action.

The problem is that Saturn has no immediate and direct military application. Its huge thrust is five times more than is needed to fling atomic warheads between continents. Its value is in the exploration of space.

Medaris, in a New York speech Tuesday night, said the Saturn program "is our best present bid for parity" with the Soviets in this field

Von Braun also spoke out on the problem Tuesday, saying "instead of wasting time and energy in ponderous re-appraisals and re-examinations, we ought to pitch in to get the show on the road and get it into space."

Von Braun said he had no intention of resigning from his key job as head of the Huntsville scientific team even if the project was shifted from the Army to scientists need a "pleasant atmosphere" to work in.

Rockefeller Establishes Midwest Beachhead

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York wound up his Chicago visit today after establishing a beachhead from which he could battle Vice President Richard M. Nixon for midwestern support for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rocefeller made no sweeping inroads during a two-day stay here on the strong support Nixon commands in the Midwest.

But the New York governor gained a little ground in meetings with newspaper executives and Republican leaders. Several conceded that, while they were not sold on Rockefeller, they were impressed by him and would not rush into any final decision on a presidential candidate.

★ ★ ★

The Rockefeller forces hope this foot in the door will expand into a full-fledged Rockefeller for president boom in the Midwest.

The Chicago visit was the first of a series Rockefeller plans into politically-strategic areas throughout the country.

He will visit California, Oregon, New England and probably Wisconsin next month. His approach probably will be the same it was in Chicago—speeches on top national issues before large groups and emphasis on personality and charm in meetings with small ones.

While the Nixon-Rockefeller contest grows increasingly more prominent on the national political scene, Rockefeller insists "I am not now a candidate."

But Chicago treated him as a candidate.

State Rates High in Tax Collection

Takes $181 Per Person Against $169 National Average in 1957

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's local and state tax collections amounted to $181.22 per person in 1957, compared with a national average of $169.22, the Bureau of Census reported today.

Michigan, however, was ranked 12th in per capita amount of state and local taxes collected in 1957, and was 31st in taxes per $1,000 of personal income.

Property taxes per capita amounted to $83.60 and others to $97.62 in Michigan for 1957.

Michigan's taxes per $1,000 of $83.58, against a national average of $83.46.

The state's average of $181.22 in local and state taxes compared with California's high of $238.57 and Arkansas' low of $100.33.

Including $18.56 from federal grants and $35.08 from miscellaneous non-tax sources, Michigan's general revenue amounted to $234.81 per person, compared with a national average of $224.

STATE AVERAGE

At the same time, the Census Bureau reported that 1957 expenditures by state and local governments in Michigan averaged $262.43 per person, against a Nevada high of $367.07 and an Arkansas low of $148.03.

Michigan expenditures per capita were broken down thus:

Education, $105.70; highways, 47.33; public welfare, $16.36; health and hospitals, $24.17; all other general government functions (police, fire, sanitation, debt interest, etc.), $68.87.

Michigan's state and local long-term debts totaled $235.84 on a per capita basis in 1957, compared with a national average of $298.58.

Per capita Michigan debts broke down thus: local schools, $64.49; local utilities, $27.18, and all other, $144.17. The national average was $73.33; $54.21 and $171.04, respectively.

Rock 'n' Roller Lane Pleads Innocent in Theft

WEST ORANGE, N.J. (UPI) — Rock 'n' roll singer Rusty Lane pleaded innocent today at his arraignment on charges of robbing 29 homes of cash and assorted items, including a piggy bank.

Lane, 20, of Livingston, N.J., was held without bail for grand jury action after he appeared before Municipal Court Judge James Degnan.

Lane previously told police he burglarized to raise money for a new car and a bride. His real name is Karl Zeeb Jr.

Summit Topic for Ike, Herter?

De Gaulle's Go-Slow Approach Is Probable Discussion Subject

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower met with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter today apparently to consider France's go-slow approach to an East-West summit meeting.

★ ★ ★

In a 40-minute conference at the White House the two were believed to have talked over ways to settle the backstage Allied dispute on the timing of a meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Afterward, Herter declined to say anything about their talk, leaving all that to the President.

While the two were in conference, the French government announced its approval in principle for an East-West summit meeting, but approached it as business for next spring.

Eisenhower is understood to have proposed a summit session of the Western powers early next month in Paris, preliminary to a possible session with Khrushchev in the first 10 days of December.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West German Chancelor Konrad Adenauer were reported ready to accept Eisenhower's plan but the Paris announcement in effect reaffirmed French President Charles de Gaulle's reluctance to hurry the matter.

Ex-Woman Cager Heads Livonia Police, Firemen

LIVONIA (UPI) — A tall, blue-eyed blonde, who once played on the U.S. Women's Olympic basketball team, has been named head of Livonia's police and fire departments.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Loree Maiwurm, who played basketball in the Olympic Games in London 12 years ago, was named to the post Tuesday by Mayor William Brashear.

★ ★ ★

He said the appointment was made after examining 25 candidates and that "we found she had all the qualifications of our male candidates."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Maiwurm will succeed Douglas J. Campbell, a sales executive for Detroit radio station WXYZ who is being transferred to Los Angeles.

Says Pensions Fixed for Hoffa

Senate Prober Claims Teamsters Juggle Plan to Aid Chief

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A former Senate prober says the Teamsters Union altered its pension plan to benefit President James R. Hoffa and his aides at the expense of veteran union organizers.

The union denied the accusation by Robert F. Kennedy, ex-counsel for the Senate committee investigating rackets.

Kennedy told the American Trucking Assn. Tuesday that the new plan would pay Hoffa $20,000 a year for life "even if he were ousted tomorrow." He said it guarantees Hoffa and his associates large pensions regardless of their length of service.

He said the changes would be financed by cutting back the pensions of veteran organizers and making the new pension retroactive for 15 years.

A Teamsters spokesman in Washington said Kennedy was in error.

"No one will take a beating," he said. "When the program is finally formulated, it will be published."

Button-Operated Vehicle Window Strangles Child

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Little Susan Kirk, 2½, was playing in the family station wagon. A button which sends a window glass up and down caught her interest. She leaned out the window and pushed the button. The window rose, forced her neck against the top of the door and she strangled.

That is the way police reconstructed her death Tuesday.

Two Boy Scouts found her wedged in the window.

Susan was the youngest of the Rev. Jon W. Kirk's five children.

Heads Children's Unit

LANSING (AP) — Michael C. Kreider of Lansing, executive director of the Michigan Assn. for Retarded Children, has been elected chairman of the Assn. of Executives—a division of the National Assn. for Retarded Children. The state association said Kreider's election took place at a meeting of the national group in Cincinnati.

Missing Priest Seen in Detroit Area?

DETROIT (UPI) — State police today were following up two reports from persons who said they had seen the Rev. John Sheridan, 40, a Roman Catholic priest who has been missing since Saturday.

Mrs. Stella Uholic, 44, told authorities she saw the priest Monday in a Detroit suburb, standing near his car thumbing through a black book.

She said she saw the priest's picture in a newspaper Tuesday and knew it was the man she had seen.

Kenneth Phelps earlier reported he had a minor car collision with a man dressed in black Saturday and that the man fitted the missing priest's description. Phelps said he talked briefly with the man and that he seemed dazed.

Rev. Sheridan suffers from a malarial-type disease contracted as a missionary in the Far East which causes him to black out periodically.

He is a member of a mission band quartered at the University of Notre Dame.

But U.S. Folks Are So Naive

Red Embassy Often a Spy Base

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Kremlin claims a U.S. diplomat in Moscow was caught paying a bundle of rubles to a Russian citizen hired to spy for the West.

Citizens of the West can only hope that the Russian citizen was a good spy — if the story be true, at all — and that the bundle of rubles bought a bundle of useful information. Good spies are hard to come by.

The practice of directing espionage activity out of an embassy should not be shocking to the Russian Communists. It may be shocking to U.S. citizens. U.S. citizens are notoriously naive about such as that.

As a group or individually, U.S. citizens who read about the U.S. diplomat in Moscow probably were not conditioned by knowledge to accept the news as not all bad.

Directing espionage from the shelter of an embassy is something at which the Russian Communists are very handy, although they did not invent it. They consistently have offended in this respect in the Western capitals. Moreover, the record is public and will prove that to be true.

PLAY COPS AND ROBBERS

There are two blockbusters in the public record of the Kremlin's embassy spies. The first was published in 1946, a report by a Canadian royal commission set up to investigate some cops and robbers goings on when a code clerk in the Soviet embassy in Ottawa went over the fence to freedom.

This clerk was Igor Gouzenko who delivered himself, his family and a satchel full of papers to the Canadian government. He delivered them after a strong arm squad from the Soviet Embassy had failed to break down his apartment door and drag all concerned back to the embassy compound.

The papers and Gouzenko's own story illuminated the manner in which the Soviets use their embassies as bases for espionage.

At last reports, Gouzenko and his family were living comfortably and happily in Canada. Under an assumed name, of course.

Gouzenko's story was remarkably supported by an Australian royal commission which reported in 1955. This report was a 483-page book of restrained and documented revelations of spying by Russian diplomatic officers.

The Australian commissioners named 14 Soviet Embassy diplomats who were known to have engaged in espionage in the 11 years, 1943-54, and three newsmen accredited to Australia as representatives of the Russian news agency, Tass.

The commission was set up in May 1954, after the Communist chief of espionage in Australia switched sides, as Gouzenko previously had done in Canada. The master spy in Australia was Vladimir M. Petrov, a member of the Soviet diplomatic mission to Australia.

Petrov produced secret embassy papers and was joined by his wife in switching allegiance. The commission reported:

"All Petrov papers are authentic documents. From these documents alone it plainly appears that for many years the Soviet Union had been using its embassy in Canberra as a cloak under which to control and operate espionage organizations in Australia."

Embassy spying in Australia ceased soon after when diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union were broken off. The record emphatically demonstrates, however, that Soviet embassies then — and presumably now — were spy centers in all Western capitals including Washington, D.C.

GM to Close Down Oshawa, Ont., Plant

OSHAWA, Ont. (UP) — General Motors of Canada Limited announced Tuesday passenger car and truck assembly operations at its plant here will be suspended Nov. 4 because of a steel shortage.

The company's statement said operations at GMC's engine plant in Windsor probably could be maintained for a week after the Oshawa shutdown.

The steel shortage is a direct result of the United States steel strike.

About 3,000 hourly-rated employes at Oshawa will be retained after the partial shutdown, the company said. The Oshawa plant has about 10,000 employes.

Says Highway Plan Will Hit Dead End

By United Press International

An Indiana highway official predicted today a proposal by Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) for a nationwide clearinghouse to exchange traffic information would travel a bumpy road to failure.

"Senator Case's proposal should go no farther than the pencilled notes on his cuff," said Lucien Bever, director of the Indiana Traffic Safety Division.

Bever said one isolated but very tragic accident in Case's state was not justification for establishing "another sprawling federal bureau."

Case cited the deaths of nine college coeds and a professor in a New Jersey bus-truck collision as an example for the need to have the government act to improve highway safety.

Waterford Twp. Plans

Three PTA Programs Set

Programs have been scheduled tomorrow night by three Waterford Township Parent-Teacher Associations.

A film, "They Voted Yes," will be the highlight of the 7:30 program at the Donelson School. Filmed in Waterford Township by the Michigan Educational Association, it is a summary of the growth and subsquent changes of Waterford Township's school system from 1946.

A talk on the proposed township library will be presented at 7:30 by Mrs. Donald Adams, Board of Education member, at the Waterford Village School.

After the program, parents will be invited to visit their child's room where teachers will explain his school work. There will be two 25-minute sessions with a 10-minute break to allow parents with more than one child a visiting period.

Final plans will be made for the school's PTA bake sale to be held Oct. 30 at the S. S. Kresge store, Drayton Plains.

Assistant school superintendent in charge of curriculum, Dr. Chandos Reid, will conduct a question and answer period regarding the teacher's workshop at the 8 p.m. meeting at the Leggett School.

The McVittie School PTA in Drayton Plains has announced a public pancake supper from 5 to 7 p.m. Saturday.

Proceeds will provide books for the school library, according to Mrs. Richard C. Largent, chairman of the supper.

Steelworkers? 'They'll Go Back but Not Happily'

MORRISVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Take it from bartender Tom Kane, most of his steelworker customers aren't too happy about the prospects of going back to work under Taft-Hartley injunction. And they're 100 per cent behind United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald.

"It's like a hammer over their head," Kane declared today. "They're eager to go back to work but not under the Taft-Hartley law. They'll follow their leader, McDonald, and if he says go back to work they'll go back."

WASHINGTON—The Library of Congress has more than seven million bound volumes and 15 million manuscripts.

Province Commander Hides as Fidel Tries to Rally Assault

CAMAGUEY, Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro's military commander in Camaguey Province took refuge in his military headquarters today after being accused of treason against the Cuban revolution. Castro himself flew here to ead an assault on the headquarters.

★ ★ ★

The bearded leader of the Cuban revolutionary government paced up and down the main street of this provincial capital while his radios appealed to workers and farmers to join him in the assault.

Two of Castro's military commanders have accused Maj. Hubert Matos of treason against the revolution.

Matos, who had been one of Castro's most respected field commanders, had resigned as provincial military commander in protest, apparently, against the appointment of Castro's 29-year-old brother, Raul, as the new minister of the Cuban armed forces. The appointment abolished the defense ministry and gave the young man complete control over all the armed forces.

★ ★ ★

A number of Matos' staff members joined him in the protest. The group took refuge in the military headquarters of Camaguey Province.

Ike Says Exchange Bad for Dictators, Only Way to Make Progress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower said Monday that "people to people" contacts among the nations of the world eventually will prove to be bad for foreign dictators.

The President made the comment in chatting with more than 20 chairmen of national committees established to promote the "people to people" program, which the President set up three years ago to advance international understanding.

The chairmen of the national committees are here to plan their activities for the coming year. The President talked with them informally at the White House.

Members said the President called the committees' voluntary work "wonderful" and said that people-to-people contacts are "the only way we are going to get anywhere" in the field of international understanding.

★ ★ ★

"The people-to-people program in the long run is not good for the dictators," he was quoted as saying.

He told the chairmen it was a source of satisfaction to him that their work was prompted by their deep personal convictions and not solely from his request that Americans help the program.

Pontiac Woman, Royal Oak Man Hurt in Crash

A Royal Oak man and Pontiac woman were injured in accidents in Pontiac yesterday, according to Pontiac police.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Nannie Smith, 26, of 37 N. Sanford St., was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with minor injuries.

She told police she suffered a "dizzy spell" which caused her to lose control of her car and strike a utility pole at Michigan avenue and North Edith street.

Fred E. Wyatt, 40, of 2705 N. Campbell, Royal Oak, was taken to Pontiac General Hospital with injuries suffered when his auto was struck from behind by a car driven by Eleanor C. Plyman, 47, of 10520 Bigelow St., Davisburg.

★ ★ ★

Police said he was waiting for a light to change at South Saginaw street and Orchard Lake avenue when the accident occurred. Both injured were treated and released.

Report De Gaulle Invited Khrushchev to Paris

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Columbia Broadcasting System reported from Paris today that President Charles de Gaulle has invited Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to visit Paris.

Gullet May Ask Hearing on Job

Ex-Deputy Treasurer Ousted After Arrest in Gambling Raid

Former deputy city treasurer LaRue F. Gullett may demand a hearing by the City Commission in order to get his job back.

The hearing, Gullett's privilege under the state Veterans' Preference Act, would air charges against the former official. He was suspended 14 months ago after his arrest by state police as a member of an alleged million-dollar-a-year bookmaking ring.

Criminal charges against Gullett and four others picked up in the raid subsequently were dismissed.

Gullett claims his suspension was illegal, said his attorney, Howard I. Bond.

Bond asked the city administration to rehire Gullett or place official charges against him by Thursday.

City commissioners last night asked City Attorney William A. Ewart to prepare for possible legal entanglements.

In July, Gullett appeared before the Commission and demanded pay for the time he was suspended. It was estimated at $4,500 then.

Keep 40 Children Home From School

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Forty elementary school children from the Cloverdale School have been kept home from school the past 3 days by their parents who feel a pedestrian bridge the children cross is unsafe.

Mrs. Elaine Jensen, 21526 Mayfield, spokesman for the parents, said "until the pedestrian bridge was completed last week, our children were bused to school."

"Last Saturday parents were told by the school authorities that children living within a mile of the school would have to walk, using the bridge," she added.

When the parents inspected the bridge, she said, they found it unsafe for small children. The bridge is located on Power road.

"The bridge was to be fenced in at the top as well as on the sides, but only the sides are fenced," Mrs. Jensen said.

★ ★ ★

A meeting of school, township and Farmington city officials with the parents will be held tonight at the school board offices.

Intervention Unwanted but Ike Had No Choice

The steel strike may be temporarily halted today by President EISENHOWER's ordering the Justice Department to seek a Taft-Hartley injunction requesting a back-to-work order against the 500,000 steelworkers.

★ ★ ★

We feel that it is unfortunate that an agreement could not be reached without Federal intervention. Animosities are bound to run high between both labor and management. However, the President was left with no alternative.

Just what the outcome will be is hard to predict, but we do know the nation is weary of an overlong strike and its disruptive effect on the whole economy. The facts are disillusioning in that little or no progress apparently has been made.

Our economy is helpless and can only sit back and suffer. Many thousands of innocent people will be out of work this fall through no fault of their own.

The injunction will not bring an immediate easing of the bind in steel. It cannot stave off the complete chaos in the steel market. That, of course, means further layoffs and plant shutdowns.

The future is not bright since Steelworkers' President David J. MacDonald's notice that he will fight the injunction in higher courts. The steel companies are haunted with the fear of slowdowns, which will only increase the hard feelings toward labor and management since last April.

It appears that both the companies and the union have little or no regard for the public. Congressional talk is already hinting at some type of compulsory arbitration which would be a new Governmental control.

★ ★ ★

We feel that the public can best be served without any more Federal control. It is to be hoped that the union and companies can reach an agreement before the public is aroused to the point of forcing some type of government legislation.

Nixon-Rockefeller Fight Has Interesting Future

The under cover and out-in-the-open battle between supporters of RICHARD NIXON and NELSON ROCKEFELLER continues to wage in all sections of the country.

The Hillsdale Daily News sums up the situation to date as follows:

"In a month or so it will be time for Gov. NELSON ROCKEFELLER of New York to make the decision he says now he cannot make. That will bring him to the deadline he set as the moment either to move or drop away from the Republican presidential race.

"The choice could be an agonizing one for him.

"Ideally, he would jump into the fight if he found party leaders around the country growing dubious about Vice President Nixon's chances of beating the principal Democratic prospects. But he may not encounter any such clear-cut situation.

"NIXON seems to be riding high. His opinion poll showings suggest he would give any Democrat a rough time. So long as top Republicans think NIXON can win, they seem unlikely to turn to ROCKEFELLER. Thus far NIXON has not done the faltering that would make ROCKEFELLER's decision easy.

★ ★ ★

"On the other hand, neither has the New York governor sold himself to party politicians across the nation as the irresistible alternative to NIXON.

★ ★ ★

"The whole argument for Rockefeller is that he can get more Democratic votes than the controversial vice president. But to the politicians this argument is not yet proved on the governor's side. Polls do not show him doing as well as Nixon against Democrats. The Rockefeller name, as such, is known widely. But Rockefeller the man is not. Many leaders have never seen him or talked with him.

★ ★ ★

"Not to combat NIXON in 1960 may be to decide, in fact, never to run. For no one can be sure the loud knock will ever be heard a second time."

THE first photo of the earth taken from an enormous distance in outer space shows that there is at least one marked exception to the saying that distance lends enchantment to the view.

Buck: What many people pass freely, even to the collection plate.

With a positively uncanny sense of self protection, several harems of pheasants in the weeds and underbrush cover across Cass Ave. from Wisner Stadium didn't wait for the first gun of the hunting season.

Undaunted by paving operations next door to their habitat, they were quite in evidence until Tuesday. Then, according to

A Close Observer of the Political Scene

David Lawrence Says:

Industrywide Bargaining Unwieldy

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — A high official familiar with much of what happened in the collective-bargaining negotiations between the steel unions and the companies was asked what was the real obstacle to a settlement. He replied:

"One side was talking Chinese, and the other side was talking Russian — they never did understand each other."

Throughout the country today there are varying comments now as to which side was to blame for the impasse. But the truth is that, even if a board of inquiry were appointed by the President to fix the responsibility for the breakdown of the steel negotiations, it would take weeks to get an answer to that single question.

What the nation is witnessing really is the far-reaching impact on one another of two big forces—management and labor—and when they try to negotiate an agreement, the scope of their controversy is so broad, and involves so many technical details affecting the main issues, that even with the best of intentions an agreement would take weeks to consummate.

In truth, industrywide bargaining, which has grown up gradually in the last few decades, at last has become its own Frankenstein monster. All the companies are ranged on one side, though they have differing problems and economic factors to deal with, while on the other side is a strong labor union with power over workers in virtually all plants.

Were it not for the fact that labor unions have been allowed to organize on a national scale, irrespective of the plants in which their members work, the companies would not be lined up together. One form of monopolistic power begets other forms.

Thus do a small number of individual citizens operate in their own way to deprive the nation of needed goods. This is "restraint of trade" in every sense in which the term could be used to describe what the original antitrust laws were designed to prevent.

WORKERS HAVE RIGHTS

The individual worker has an inalienable right to work or to quit work, but does he have a right to conspire with others to prevent other citizens from working?

Whether the influence is exerted by withholding certain privileges in employment or whether it is by some other form of organization, the labor unions with their nationwide power today are as much a form of monopoly as are rival corporations when acting together to fix prices or diminish competition.

The federal government, under laws passed by Congress, can proceed against monopolies created by corporations but not against a labor union monopoly.

The specious argument has been used that labor is not a "commodity" and hence should be immune from antitrust laws. But while this is true of an individual's labor, it is not true when it takes the form of an organized conspiracy with powers over individuals that can cause loss of jobs and pay. No group of citizens should be permitted to deprive any other citizens of their earnings—their property.

★ ★ ★

The labor union monopoly enjoys the privilege today of requiring in many instances that a worker who doesn't join a union must be fired by the employer.

Also a citizen who wants to work and crosses a picket line is subjected to harassment. The labor unions have abandoned a reliance on persuasive tactics and in many cases use outright coercion.

While state laws might in certain cases protect against violence, it is the fear of such violence which prevents citizens from exercising their right to work. "Picketing" [illegible] unfortunately, is permitted under federal and state laws. Yet it is usually only another form of coercion.

The labor union monopoly today is much stronger than any monopoly ever exercised by a group of corporations. It can reach into the plant of one company and injure it as against a competitor.

Industrywide bargaining, indeed, has been tolerated by management largely because it prevents a picking-off of one employer against another and justifies the management side in lining up all the employers together.

But, even so, the power of the two sides is unequal. The management of one company or group of companies has no control over the management of any other company. The labor union monopoly's power, however, is complete. It usually controls the work of every employe in all plants, irrespective of who owns them.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Perverse disputings of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, supposing that again is godliness: from such withdraw thyself. — I Timothy 6:5.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Don't Become Worried by Your Blood Pressure

In my opinion the need for the sphygmomanometer (instrument for measuring blood pressure) varies inversely with the knowledge and skill of the doctor. That is to say, a physician who knows the patient learns more about blood pressure and the state of the circulation through preliminary and subsequent physical examinations than one can possibly learn from measuring blood pressure.

The way a real doctor gets to know the patient is by careful physical examination at the first consultation and comparing the findings of repeated or periodic examinations as noted in the patient's record card.

I say, in the booklet on heart and artery trouble, titled CVD (for which send me 35 cents and a stamped self-addressed envelope):

"The blood pressure is too high or too low in consequence of what ails you or your way of living. You will never get anywhere if your blood pressure has somehow gotten out of kilter when you weren't watching it carefully enough.

No matter what ails a person or what fault or error of hygiene may impair his or her health and happiness, such a person is to be pitied if some charlatan has got the poor soul obsessed about blood pressure.

The only advice I'd give such persons in any circumstances is: Never mind your blood pressure. High or low pressure is a technical matter, like a murmur, rales, dullness, crepitation, which may be of concern to the doctor but is none of your business.

Yahbut?

Well, I'm sorry, but I still say that a doctor who gets a patient morbidly concerned about blood pressure is not a good doctor.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"You don't reform a man by getting him to be as good as you are . . . but by striving with him to both be better.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

This Moral Climate May Ruin Us

Diane works for a large Cincinnati firm, but what do you think of the psychological "climate" in her office? It is moral "dry rot" that will ultimately ruin this grat Republic and not Russian Reds. Unless you are a real missionary, you better try to mingle with good people, as the Chinese proverb urges.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case C-475: Diane D., aged 24, works in a Cincinnati office.

Recently she came to see me because of a radical change in the psychological "climate" of her office.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," she began, "my employer is about 35 and married, with his family in a neighboring state. But for a year he has tried to date me. He has also coaxed me many times to share his apartment with him.

"But I don't like the idea of going out with a married man. Meanwhile, the other girls in the office keep telling coarse tales and saying they spend their vacations with men at various motels.

"So when I spent two weeks in Florida recently, they pestered me on my return to find out what man I went with and where we spent our nights.

"Because this seemed to be a mark of prestige with them, I just went along with the general trend and let them think I had spent two weeks with a man at a Florida hotel, even though that was not true.

"Now my boss no longer pays any attention to me but has shifted his interest to a divorcee who recently got a job with our firm.

"And the other girls are no longer friendly, either, so I am left alone. It is very hard to be left out of things and to be ignored, so what should I do, Dr. Crane?"

PAGANS IN AMERICA

While we attack Communism as atheistic and devote billions to national defense, maybe we should focus on the moral rot that is infecting America here at home.

★ ★ ★

When an office staff grows so depraved that the women employes tell risque stories and consider it a mark of distinction to brag about "sleeping with any stray man" they can pick up at a bar, as Diane further informed me was the rule at her company, why should we feel so superior to Russia?

Paganism will be the ultimate destroyer of our great Republic but that paganism will not consist of foreign armies of Vandals or Goths or Reds, but the moral degeneracy that infects homes and offices within the continental United States.

Diane might stand her ground and try to be a missionary of a new moral order in her decadent office.

★ ★ ★

Or she could transfer to some other department or firm where the cultural tone was more in keeping with what she desires.

In the first case, she could start out by admitting that her sexual escapade was not true but fabricated to match the tales of her women colleagues.

That might make her boss revive his erotic interest in her, but if he is constantly trying to proposition his female employes and doublecross his wife, then Diane would be jumping back from the frying pan into the fire.

★ ★ ★

We psychologists usually suggest that the best way to control our emotions and morality, is to alter our surroundings.

★ ★ ★

"Look not on the wine when it is red," said Jesus, which means "Don't associate with moral degenerates, but pick cultured friends."

Good people tend to pick their own sort for friends, so I advised Diane to change jobs.

Then become active in the church of your choice, for church folks are not likely to be boasting about "sleeping with stray paramours," whereas the bars and cocktail lounges are the gateway to sexual dissipation.

"Keep company with good men," says a Chinese proverb, "and good men you'll learn to be."

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Opinions of Readers Vary on New Library Proposal

Are we going to miss the boat? Are we going to let that $50,000 property in the heart of Waterford slip through our fingers? True we need sewers, a central water supply, sidewalks and many other things, but this offer is too good to miss.

★ ★ ★

Almost everyone agrees a library is nice to have, but it will become a necessity as our population increases and MSUO grows. Waterford Township is the largest school district in Michigan without a public library. Everyone has a right to read, and in a public library the finest books are available for rich and poor. It's a real democratic institution.

★ ★ ★

In the coming election I hope Waterford Township has the foresight to approve the library issue.

Mrs. Norman Cheal

Drayton Plains

In regard to the library vote, look before you leap. Sheep follow a leader over a steep cliff to death. Large taxes, with loss of a job, may mean death to your hopes of owning your own home. You can't keep it if you slip on these taxes.

★ ★ ★

Once a year the tax sale is held on property, not only for your back taxes, but penalties, etc., are added. A tax once on is seldom removed.

This land is said to be a gift, but there are so many restrictions with it — a guarantee of a $200,000 building plus the same amount for upkeep every year — that it would be cheaper to buy land and be free to spend as you found necessary. This is a very expensive proposal and taxes in Waterford (largely for schools) are too high now.

Victim of Taxation

I'm just another taxpayer in Waterford who'd like to see better libraries but not at the rate of one and a half mills for the next ten years. Average taxpayers in the Township aren't rich; we're hard working people trying to make a decent living for our families and already having trouble meeting our present taxes.

★ ★ ★

Why can't we stock our school libraries better with several sets of reference books of the kind most frequently used and also the library at the CAI building? Why wouldn't a set fee of $1.50 or $2.00 per taxpayer, once and be done with it, raise enough money for this purpose? Or why not put on a drive for funds for buying books and making improvements?

★ ★ ★

This is food for thought. Now, taxpayers, start thinking for yourselves and get out and vote Oct. 27.

'Union Strangles Us and I Should Know'

Reuther called the President a strike breaker because he invoked a law passed by represntatives of all the people to protect the economy, health and welfare of all U.S. citizens. Anything that threatens Mr. Reuther's strangle hold on his dictatorship over union members sends him into a verbal dither.

★ ★ ★

Anyone who for a single minute thinks the rank and file union members have anything to say in the election of a union president is just too naive to argue with or has never belonged to the UAW-CIO.

★ ★ ★

Just to show I know what I'm talking about, I was one of the first union members for years. I saw what big union bosses and their mobster henchmen can do to a legitimate, democratic union. Twenty years of Democrats in the White House fostered much corruption, including corrupt unionism, and allowed it to get a near stranglehold on this country.

Toll of Steel, Other Strikes

U. S. Treasury Worries Over Incomes, Savings

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The toll of strikes in steel and other industries is showing up in a very personal way. The total of individual incomes is falling and the total of personal debts continues to rise.

This is embarrassing to the individuals whose incomes have tumbled. It's disturbing to the merchants and manufacturers who want to sell them consumer products.

★ ★ ★

And it just makes that much more troublesome the pressing problems of the U. S. Treasury now trying to make up its mind about how to handle the billions of outstanding U. S. securities about to come due.

★ ★ ★

The Commerce Department now figures that personal incomes hit their peak in June, before the steel, glass, copper, and meat industry strikes started.

A few weeks ago it had estimated that the peak was reached in July. Now it finds that its first guesses on July and August incomes were too high. And it finds incomes in September down from June about 4½ billion dollars at an annual rate. The drop is largely in the wage and salary category.

★ ★ ★

The Securities and Exchange Commission puts individual debts at a record total of 158 billion dollars. It reports that this year has seen a record rise in residential mortgage debt and a near record jump in consumer debt.

Most economists insist that personal incomes, rising this year until June, are high enough to sustain the gains in, and the total of, individual debts.

The embarrassment to the Treasury is along two fronts.

First, it is trying to balance a federal budget where the line between income and outgo is very slight at best. A falling personal income total can mean a lower tax collection than the Treasury first counted upon.

Second, falling incomes can lead to less total savings. And savings are what government and business tap when they need new funds for operations or expansion.

Grand Haven Delays Jail Contract Award

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — A postponement of about 20 days faces the awarding of $359,933 in contracts to build the new Ottawa County jail.

The County Board of Supervisors upheld the scheduled contract awards upon learning the jail will be in a part residential zone instead of a commercial zone.

Meeting informally with the City Board of Zoning Appeals, the supervisors learned a request for a zoning variance probably would be granted but routine procedures may require up to 20 days.

Edson Sessions Named Ambassador to Finland

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Tuesday picked Edson O. Sessions, now deputy postmaster general, to be ambassador to Finland.

Eisenhower gave Sessions, 56, a recess appointment. A formal nomination will go to the Senate when Congress reconvenes in January.

Sessions was named to succeed John D. Hickerson, recently appointed ambassador to the Philippines.

Tuesday Worse Than Weekend

Michigan Traffic Kills Seven, While Six Died in Two-Day Period

By The Associated Press

Seven persons died Tuesday and Tuesday night in Michigan traffic compared with six over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

The lives of three men were snuffed out outside Grand Rapids when a car driven by one of the victim's brother collided with another. Three were seriously hurt.

The dead were Jacob J. Mooren, 63, Byron Center; Charles Van Vleet, 20, Grand Rapids, and Bernard Hoffman, 40, Byron Center.

Injured were John Mooren, 21, son of Jacob Mooren; Roger Van Vleet, 24, brother of Charles Van Vleet; and Henry Buete, 49, of rural Byron Center.

Two Northern Michigan College students were killed and a third injured when their car went off a road in Marquette and flipped end-over-end.

Nine-year-old Francis Schalau was killed on a church hayride in Oxford Township.

★ ★ ★

Sharon Kelly, 15, of rural Port Huron died when a car, driven by Gerald Thompson, 19, of Goodell, swerved to avoid a fallen tree, went out of control and crashed into several trees on the other side of the road, police said.

Thompson and another passenger, Charles Calhoun, 17, of Port Huron, were reported in serious condition.

Northern Michigan College students killed were Richard Sundquist, 24, of Crystal Falls and Richard Caron, 23, of Marquette.

★ ★ ★

Police said the car carrying the victims went through a guard rail inside the city limits and turned end-over-end down a steep incline. Officers said the car was traveling at a high speed.

The auto landed on one victim and the other was thrown out.

John R. Forton, 23, of Menominee, suffered back injuries.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FUNNY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Bob Considine Agrees Public Should Know

Gag Book on Survival...but Why?

NEW YORK — The Defense Departments gagging of the almost - about - to - be - published book, "Design for Survival," by Gen. Thomas S. Power, commander in chief of the Strategic Air Command, looks less defensible all the time.

Air Force magazine prints excerpts from what would have been the preface of the Random House book.

The public is the poorer for the book's having been shelved on orders of Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy. To wit:

". . . I maintain that our citizens have not only the right but the urgent need to know the full truth about the problems that are of such vital importance to them. Indeed, I am more concerned about any attempt to keep unpleasant facts from the people than about their reaction to these facts.

"It has been my experience that the average American is not easily frightened nor discouraged and that, once he knows what is expected of him, no one and nothing can stop him.

". . . . None of the dangers we have faced in the past can compare to the formidable threat of nuclear aggression which we are facing today. Nor will we ever again have the time to plan, to rally, and to act after the aggressor has struck. If he were to strike today, he would find us ready to strike back but ill prepared to ward his blow."

Editorially, the magazine, which is published by the Air Force Association, blasts the Defense Department's declaration that the book would have been "inappropriate." It adds:

"Why it is inappropriate for a military man to face such a responsibility has not been made clear. It has, however, been made clear that the administration disagrees sharply with General Power's conviction that the public has become aware that military problems no longer are the 'sole concern of men in uniform and their civilian superiors.'"

Addendum note; (From "Radiation, Genes and Man," by Cornell's Bruce Wallace and Columbia's Th. Dobzhansky, to be published by Henry Holt and Co. early next month)—

"Perhaps men living 25,000 years hence will view us tolerantly — a primitive people not wholly responsible for (atomic) deeds committed in ignorance . . . but —

"As far as genetic damage is concerned, mankind is, in the long run a single population. The mutants induced in the survivors of Hiroshima and Nagasaki will not be confined to future populations of these cities. Because of the mobility of people, some of these mutants have undoubtedly diffused throughout Japan and, since there will always be some migration from country to country, may find their way to populations of all parts of the world.

". . . Attempts have been made to detect genetic radiation damage in human populations. By far the most extensive, careful and costly work of this sort has been carried out under the leadership of J. V. Neel and W. J. Schull on the survivors of the atomic blast at Hiroshima and Nagasaki. In all, the newborn children of 20,000 women and 14,000 men who were sufficiently close to the blast to receive anywhere from eight to 200 roentgens of radiation were examined. Among 33,181 parturitions in which at least one parent was irradiated, there were 546 stillborn infants (as opposed to 408 among a similar number of non-irradiated parents.)"

Boys Must Be Bad Enough

Gang Uses Point System

HINGHAM, Mass. (AP)—A boys' gang in this Boston suburb has set up a point system—just to be sure applicants are bad enough to qualify for membership, Police Chief Oscar P. Beck reported today.

Beck said seven members of the group which used the name "Rabble Rousers," will be brought into court as soon as he has completed his investigation.

Prospective members must win most of the hundred points they need by committing acts of vandalism, Beck said. The point system sets up a one-point credit for breaking a street light; 10 for stealing an automobile hub cap; 5 for breaking a school window; 3 for breaking a window in a private residence and 5 for skipping Sunday school.

The investigation began during the last weekend when 25 windows in the town's South School were smashed.

Beck said the club members are all of junior high school or high school age.

FOR MERITORIOUS SERVICE—White Lake Township volunteer policeman Joseph M. Montreuil is given a citation for saving the life of a heart attack victim earlier this year by Edward Cheyz, township supervisor. Montreuil, 33, has been a policeman since the department was started in 1955.

Meritorious Award Recognizes Policeman's Lifesaving Efforts

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The stricken woman was gasping out her life when volunteer policeman Joseph M. Montreuil arrived at the house. He kept his head and managed to pull Mrs. Betty McAuliffe through her heart attack with the expert use of a resuscitator.

Montreuil was presented with a citation for his "meritorious service" by Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz last night. It is the first such award to be given here.

When Montreuil answered the plea for help July 22 at the home of Mrs. Daniel T. Berry, 4786 Allingham Rd., he learned that her mother, victim of the attack, had a mortal fear of anything being placed over her face.

Mrs. Berry told Montreuil that the mask on the resuscitator would be of no use.

★ ★ ★

Montreuil began talking quietly to Mrs. McAuliffe, explaining to her what he was going to do. He was able to calm her and she relaxed.

He then held the oxygen mask several inches above her mouth. By this process, Mrs. Berry was able to catch her breath and recovered.

Shortly after the incident, Cheyz received a letter from the daughter expressing her "sincerest gratitude" for the work Montreuil had done in saving her mother's life.

Cheyz agreed that it was a risky job well done, and, along with other township officials, decided to present the citation.

★ ★ ★

The citation read: "White Lake Township citation for meritorious service is awarded to Joseph M. Montreuil for his courtesy, consideration for the individual, sense of responsibility and dedication to duty."

Montreuil lives at 7515 Highland Rd. with his wife, Jaunita, and three children.

Keego Adopts Program to Prevent Delinquency

KEEGO HARBOR—A resolution providing for a "stop delinquency before it starts" program was adopted unanimously by the City Council at last night's meeting.

Presented by Keego Harbor Police Officer Arthur R. Holmes, it calls for the creation of two committees to aid socially maladjusted families, children and youths at a local level.

Keego Harbor is the 10th county community to accept the program set up by Juvenile Court Judge Arthur E. Moore.

Holmes said a meeting will be held next Wednesday to elect committee members.

Holmes, who has been working to establish this Keego Harbor program for the past seven months, told the council it would cost the city very little to being operations.

He said the only thing needed from the city would be "paper, pencils and a filing cabinet." The county, he said, would furnish a case worker to aid the committees from the beginning.

The resolution calls for the creation of a citizens committee of residents and a case work committee.

The 10-member citizens committee would not do case work, as outlined in Judge Moore's program, nor would it contact any child or family. Its job would be to screen individual cases and pass them to the case work committee.

The 5-member case work committee would be made up of professional people trained in child guidance.

In another action, the council formally entered into an agreement with the county to build a $530,000 internal sewage disposal system in Keego Harbor.

The county, which will do the work, has set no date for construction of the laterals.

When the system is completed, it will tie in with the Farmington interceptor sewer.

Harvest Dinner Friday

DAVISBURG — Davisburg Methodist Church will sponsor a harvest dinner at 5:30 p.m. Friday in the church. The menu will feature turkey.

Lapeer Audubon Society to Hear State Official

LAPEER—The Lapeer County Audubon Society will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the Imlay City Town Hall.

Guest speaker will be Clarence J. Messner of the Michigan State Conservation Commission, past president of the Detroit and state Audubon societies and a school administrator in Detroit for many years. He will speak on conservation practices.

The public is invited.

Major Step Toward Acceptance

Hear MSUO Area Development Plan

A major step was taken last night toward final acceptance of a guide plan for orderly development of the 22-square mile area surrounding Michigan State University Oakland.

It was a presentation of the proposed, flexible land use program to officials of both Pontiac and Avon townships.

Some 35 members of the two township Boards, their Zoning Boards and the Avon Township Advisory Planning Commission heard the plan described by Robert H. Hotaling, urban planning specialist from MSU.

The plan represents nearly a year's work on the part of the Avon - Pontiac townships Regional Planning Commission which sponsored last night's special, joint meeting.

★ ★ ★

Welcoming the group, MSUO Chancellor Durward B. Varner cited the commission's work as having "more real significance now that MSUO is off the ground."

Commission Chairman Rex Bebout said the organization's aim is to "mold the future development of the university community to suit the best interests of all concerned."

Hotaling's opening remarks were devoted to an explanation of how the natural conditions of the area were investigated and these elements protected as the plan was evolved.

EFFECT OF TRAFFIC

He pointed out where the major access points would be located at the east, west and south boundaries of the university community, showing how the anticipated traffic pattern could affect the future development of the two townships.

Hotaling outlined the basic structure of the roads showing how Featherstone could be continued through to Adams road with a Squirrel road tie-in at the south end of the university property.

Additionally, he described where the proposed industrial sites, green belts, commercial, residential and multi-dwelling areas would be located under the proposed plan.

★ ★ ★

Hotaling said that commercial developments might well be located on the southwest corner of Walton and Squirrel roads, on Featherstone west of Opdyke and north on Walton boulevard where the new highway would intersect.

SPOT FOR SHOPS

He also stated that a shopping facility of the "small, neighborhood type" might be located at the intersection of Adams road and Walton boulevard. No mention was made of multiple housing at that location.

The urban planner said the commission would like to see minimum requirements set up in subdivisions in both townships to further promote unit rather than parcel development of the entire area.

Asserting that last night's meeting was a "critical" one, Hotaling said the commission, acting solely as an advisory group, had offered what it believed to be a "sound, solid approach to a flexible land use program."

It was the fifth in a series of presentations to groups concerned with expansion of the area. Next the guide plan will be shown to Oakland County officials interested in the program as it affects their present and future planning.

Orion Men to Hear of Jaycee Activities

LAKE ORION — The purposes and activities of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be explained to Lake Orion men between 21 and 35 years of age at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the room above the fire hall here.

★ ★ ★

"It will be a short, snappy and informative session with Jaycees from the City of Pontiac present to answer all questions about this young men's action organization," said Ozzie Watchpocket of the Pontiac Jaycees.

He urged all local young men with an interest in their community to attend.

The Jaycees have chapters in over 3,000 communities in the United States and 60 nations throughout the world with over 200,000 members.

PTA Meeting Postponed

TROY — The October meeting of the George P. Morse School PTA has been postponed to Nov. 11. It was originally scheduled for Oct. 27 but canceled because of conflicting parent-teacher conferences. The meeting will be at 8 p.m. at the school.

Island Meeting Is Step

De Gaulle Will Help Spain Move Closer to the West

PARIS (UPI)—A river island on the Franco-Spanish frontier will become a stepping stone this week in President Charles de Gaulle's quiet campaign to help Spain regain a place in the western family of nations.

De Gaulle and Spain's Francisco Franco are sending their foreign ministers to tiny Pheasants' Island for meetings Oct. 24 and 25.

The official reason is the 300th anniversary of international status for the Bidossoa River island.

But the island meeting will also be another step in the political exchanges that have developed since De Gaulle's advisors let it be known last April that he favors Spain's entry into NATO.

Diplomatic quarters here believe that the increased contact that has grown up between the two countries may have another aim: to draw Spain from its years of isolation back into cooperation with its neighbors.

NEW FRIENDSHIP

The island anniversary marks another age of Franco-Spanish friendship. In 1659, King Louis XIV of France and Philip IV of Spain declared it neutral ground after centuries of border warfare. This and other parts of the pact ended a long feud between the two countries.

Now France seeks to end another bitter period dating from the Spanish civil war, these diplomatic quarters believe. France is understood to be supported in this aim by the United States.

Since De Gaulle's views on NATO membership were made known, Spain has become a member of the organization for European Economic Cooperation, and has received OEEC aid for its economic plan.

In addition to the island ceremonies, French foreign minister Maurice Couve de Murville and his Spanish counterpart, Fernando Maria Castiella, are expected to hold talks on these themes:

—Economic relations between the two countries.

—Spain's new role in Africa, where colonial holdings of both countries have gained independence.

—The latest Soviet and western diplomatic moves.

—Western defense plans. France, as a NATO and Big Four member, informs her smaller neighbors about military thinking of the large powers.

Votes Parking Bonds

ADRIAN (UPI) — The Adrian Ctiy Commission approved a $260,000 bond issue Monday to provide the city with 231 additional offstreet parking spaces in four lots. The bond issue still must be approved by the Municipal Finance Commission.

Flint State Policeman to Head Gladstone Post

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Cpl. Robert R. Vesey of Flint will take over command of the Gladstone state police post Nov. 8, State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said Tuesday.

Vesey, who will be promoted to sergeant, will succeed Sgt. Edward C. Goldsworthy, who will retire Oct. 25 after more than 28 years on the force.

Also promoted were Tpr. William H. Lanphear, who will be raised to Detective and transferred from Ypsilanti to Jonesville, and Tpr. Edward P. Paruch, who will become a corporal and move from Paw Paw to Flint.

Det. Charles F. Long will shift from Jonesville to South Haven.

Nebraska Shunned

LINCOLN—The original measure to admit Nebraska as a state in the Union was vetoed twice by the President before it finally gained official approval.

Fraser Voters Okay School Bond Issue

FRASER (UPI) — Voters approved a $1,100,000 bond issue Monday providing funds for construction of three new elementary schools, improvements to existing buildings and purchase of new school sites. The balloting was 692-390 in an election which saw the largest vote ever cast in a school poll.

★ ★ ★

The school board had previously warned students would be in half-day sessions within three years if the bond issue was defeated. The board also said there was little likelihood of an increase in taxes to retire the bonds.

Bonds Carry; Vote Tight

HOLLAND (UPI)—Property owners here voted Monday in favor of a $2,900,000 sewer bond issue. The sewage improvement program is expected to start early next year. The vote was 1,592 to 1,391.

Can Hear Signal 250,000 Miles Away

British Famed 'Ear' Tracks Everything

JODRELL BANK, England (UPI) — Problem: To pick up signals from a hearing-aid-sized radio transmitter with hi-fi accuracy from 250,000 miles away.

* * *

One solution: Build a gigantic "ear," accurate enough and sensitive enough to hear the faint radio whispers across the yawning gulf of space.

The problem exists today. So does the solution.

The solution stands in a cow pasture in this country corner of England. It is almost unspeakably remote from the problem — the tiny radio transmitters whooshing around the earth and moon in Russian and American satellites.

This is Manchester University's Jodrell Bank radio telescope, a device almost impossible to describe without superlatives and staggering figures:

— It is mankind's biggest "ear;" the "largest single instrument ever made for scientific research:" the greatest tool yet made for exploring the outermost fringes of the universe; the world's largest radio-telescope.

— It is capable of hearing a noise made so far away that light, traveling at 186,000 miles per second, would take two billion years to get there.

It is also another instance of a scientific tool leaping into the world's consciousness under the push of the space age. There can be few civilized people who have not heard of it. Yet few have any idea of what it looks like and even fewer a hint of how it works or what it was designed to do.

The Jodrell Bank radio-telescope looks like nothing else on earth.

Take a steel salad bowl 250 feet across; mount it on a 1,000-ton base of steel-lace girders; put the whole thing on a circular railroad track and add a few buildings around it; plunk the whole thing in the midst of grazing cows and botanical research on a flat country field.

* * *

The way it works is simple to understand.

The 250-foot "salad bowl" is a radio antenna, like the one sticking straight up from your car. It collects radio waves, concentrates them and reflects them to a receiver, just as an ordinary telescope collects, concentrates and reflects light waves.

The radio-telescope is also equipped with transmitters of its own to convert the whole machine into a gigantic radar set.

Used in this way, it already has explored the surface of the moon more thoroughly than any other instrument had ever done. It discovered that the moon bounces radio waves well, and proved it by bouncing the voices of its staff from here to the United States by way of the moon.

* * *

Some day it may transmit television programs the same way.

Used as a simple radio receiver, it can listen to any point in the visible sky with pin-point accuracy.

These are the qualities which, almost by accident, make it "invaluable" (to quote a U. S. congressional committee) in tracking earth satellites and moon probes.

The radio-telescope was not designed for such purposes, but it works as if it had been designed for nothing else.

* * *

When Russia's Lunik II hit the moon, Jodrell Bank's receiver heard the space missile's transmitter cut off abruptly. When Lunik III went beyond the moon, the super-sensitive receiver here picked up its signals from about 240,000 miles away. The telescope's scientists think they can hear such signals over about 1,000,000 miles of space.

Acting as a radar set, the instrument can track satellites which have lost their voices — whose transmitters have stopped.

When the first Sputnik went up, the telescope, with workmen still painting it, searched where Moscow told it to, found nothing, and finally located the satellite 1,000 miles away over the Arctic. It told the Russians where their wandering Sputnik was.

It has tracked every satellite and moon probe yet launched, both American and Russian.

"If communications with a future lunar probe in outer space were to fail," said the U. S. House Astronautics and Space Exploration Committee, "Jodrell Bank could well be the only facility in the world able to continue tracking the space vehicle."

The radio-telescope's main purpose is the study of stars and the exploration of space.

It is, first and foremost, a tool in the infant science of radio-astronomy.

Unfair Labor Charges Leveled by Musicians

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The Musicians Guild of America has filed unfair labor charges against its opponent for industry representation, the American Federation of Musicians, and several recording companies.

The complaint filed Monday charged the recording companies with signing wage agreements with the federation before the outcome of jurisdictional elections.

The guild further claimed the union and the companies agreed that wage increases would not go into effect unless and until the federation wins the forthcoming election.

An election has been ordered within 90 days by the National Labor Relations Board to determine which of the unions shall legally represent the musicians in the industry.

Guild Chairman Cecil Read said the agreements constituted "a violation of the musicians' right to select a bargaining representative of their own."

The companies named in the complaint were RCA Victor, Columbia Records, Decca Records, Coral Records and Am-Par Record Corp.

Success Disqualified

SALEM, Conn. (UPI) — A man who can't read nearly qualified as a voter here anyway. He memorized a paragraph frequently used to test reading ability and recited it perfectly. A registration official said, "That's fine — now read it right side up."

Seek Probe of Top Scrap Steel Company

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Small Business Committee has asked the Justice Department to investigate Luria Brothers, the world's largest scrap steel company, to determine if it is a monopoly that should be broken up.

★ ★ ★

The committee also asked the Justice Department to investigate the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel for possible anti-trust law violations.

In a statement issued later the Institute replied that it "operates strictly within the legal limits set for trade associations." The institute denied that it was dominated by Luria.

The committee said it felt that Federal Trade Commission proceedings against Luria for unfair business practices would take too long and that criminal proceedings under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act were needed to break up Luria.

The committee said Luria used "a wide range of unhealthy practices designed to monopolize the industry."

Dogs Put Bite on Them, 'Stop,' Say Mailmen

LANSING (AP) — Lansing letter carriers complained of dogs putting the bite on them to the City Council Monday night.

John Bos, president of the local letter carriers association, presented a unanimous resolution asking for a year-around dog quarantine.

Mailmen are slowed in making their appointed rounds by an average of a dozen dog bites a year, Bos said. Garbage collectors have the same trouble, the council was told.

★ ★ ★

American Ideal: Free Arbitration

But Time May Come When Vital Strikes Will Not Be Allowed

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two dirtiest words—for big unions and big management—are "compulsory arbitration." But that's what they may be headed for. In time, at least. The steel strike shows why.

Under a compulsory arbitration law the government would step in—when union and management failed to agree on wages and working conditions—and dictate a settlement which both sides would have to accept.

The ideal in labor - management relations in a free society is for both sides to have complete freedom from government interference in settling disputes. Freedom includes freedom to shut down a plant or strike it.

This ideal is shared by the Eisenhower administration and perhaps by most Americans. Nevertheless, it is a limited ideal: It begins to lose its appeal when a labor dispute begins to cause broad damage.

PROBLEM GROWS

There wasn't much of a national problem when American society was more primitive and injury from a strike or shutdown was pretty much limited to the union or company or companies involved. This is no longer the case.

In this present complex society, with its various parts growing more interdependent, a prolonged strike in one vital industry can throw millions out of jobs in other industries and start an economic tailspin.

And this nation's complexities and interdependencies of today are only a shadow of what they will be in the years ahead as the population increases and industries interlock in their needs.

It is possible—and this writer strongly believes it is likely—that the time is coming when the government, for the sake of the nation, will not permit strikes in vital industries.

Wears Out Too Many Pants Pockets

Says British Penny Too Heavy

LONDON (AP) — The royal mint finally came round Tuesday to a view Britons have held for years—British pennies are too big, too heavy and cause to many holes in trouser pockets.

J. H. James, deputy master and comptroller of the royal mint, suggests in his annual report that the farthing — or quarter penny—be withdrawn and the half penny be reduced in size and weight.

France, Germany, Spain and Greece all once had bronze coins of the size and value of the British penny (about one cent). But they disappeared long ago.

The British penny is now the largest coin of its value in Europe — possibly in the world. It measures nearly 1¼ inches across and weighs ⅓ of an ounce.

Because of rising prices, about the only thing the penny will buy in Britain these days is entrance to what is politely known as a public convenience. And some local authorities who operate such conveniences are thinking of charging two pence.

★ ★ ★

Newspapers that once cost a penny now cost three pence. A telephone call, once two pence, is now four pence.

This means people are carrying more and more pennies around and making more and more holes in their pockets from the sheer weight of coinage.

It has become so bad that stores are now selling ready-made pants pockets to replace those that are worn out. Cleaning firms do a boom business replacing worn pockets.

Some British men who seem to walk with a list, as if a strong cross wind were blowing, are merely weighted down on one side by the pennies in their pockets.

James plans to end all that. But he will need treasury and parliamentary approval first. Even then it will be a big job.

There are 1,500,000,000 pennies — weighing nearly 14,000 tons — in circulation.

James contends the farthing has finished its useful life. None has been minted since 1956. And although more than 750 million have been struck since 1860 and few have been withdrawn, few circulate. James thinks uncounted thousands of them must be lying around unused and unwanted in drawers and old vases.

Withdrawing the farthing from circulation would make way for a smaller half penny, which would clear the way for a smaller penny, he says, which would be of weight off everybody's mind—and pocket.

British Ballerina Takes Yule Comeback Role

LONDON (AP)—Ballerina Anne Heaton, whose brilliant career was cut short by arthritis, plans to make a comeback in a Christmas pantomime.

She announced Tuesday she has accepted the prima ballerina role in The Pantomime, a traditional musical show which Britons regard as part of their Christmas season.

She will be directed by dancer Robert Helpmann. He told newsmen:

"Miss Heaton is one of this country's finest dancers. I was determined she should not be lost to the theater."

The 27-year-old ballerina retired from the Royal Ballet Co. last month because an arthritic foot prevented her taking full length classical roles.

She commented on her pantomime venture: "It will be thrilling to try a new branch of the theater."

Testify Avis Bought Out Schafer Bakery

DETROIT (UPI) — An attorney for former "drive-a-car" executive Warren E. Avis disclosed Monday that Avis recently bought all stock of the Schafer-Detroit Bakery Co.

Attorney Frank W. Donovan testified at Avis' alimony hearing in circuit court that Avis bought the stock for $320,000.

Mrs. Susan Packer Avis is seeking $4,000 a month temporary alimony from her estranged husband and the friend of the court has recommended she receive $2,500 a month support for herself and her three children.

A certified public accountant has testified that Avis cleared only $12,284 after taxes in 1958.

Donovan said Avis borrowed on other stock to make a $50,000 down payment on the bakery last August.

Avis, through his attorneys, has maintained that the $4,000 a month alimony being sought by his wife would lead to his financial ruination.

Adenauer, Mac to Talk Nov. 17

Chancellor Will Spend Three Days in London for Better Relations

COLOGNE, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today he will go to London Nov. 17 for a three-day visit with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The Chancellor made public the date in a speech to the German Industrial Assn. in Cologne.

★ ★ ★

The Adenauer-Macmillan talks in London have been planned for nearly a year, but have been put off again and again for various reasons.

Both Adenauer and Macmillan have said they hope their conversations will lead to an improvement in relations between the two allies.

★ ★ ★

Adenauer has frequently criticized the British press for attacking him and the German people.

A London newspaper, the Daily Sketch, launched a new attack on Adenauer today. It called him an "evil man bent on personal glorification and the domination of Germany."

Industry Workshops Begin This Week

LANSING (UPI) — A fall series of industrial workshops for officials and various groups interested in industrial development starts this week in much of Lower Michigan and all of the Upper Peninsula.

★ ★ ★

Don Weeks, director of the Economics Development Department, said one-day workshops were held in Adrian Tuesday and will be held in Kalamazoo Thursday.

Other meetings will be at Sandusky, Oct. 28, Sault Ste. Marie Nov. 3, Marquette Nov. 4, and Ironwood Nov. 5.

★ ★ ★

"These meetings are the latest in the Department's continuing program designed to assist community leaders in establishing sound and effective industrial development programs," Weeks said.

America Seeks to Shift Aid Load

Primary Emphasis to Be Placed on Loans for Spending in U. S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has announced a major policy change designed to force other industrialized nations to shoulder a bigger share of the foreign aid burden.

The action also is intended to help check the flow of gold and dollars out of the United States, now running about $4,500,000,000 a year.

Under the new policy, the Development Loan Fund, which handles most U.S. economic aid, will place "primary emphasis" on loans which will be spent in the United States.

Officials said this generally would block underdeveloped nations from getting DLF loans and then using them to buy cut-rate goods from other industrialized nations such as Germany and Japan.

DLF director Vance Brand said the new policy was reached after a careful review. He noted that there has been "growth in the steady economic strength of the industrialized countries of the free world" and that they have shown "steadily increasing ability to assist the less developed countries."

* * *

"There is now a fair presumption that other industrialized countries which export capital goods to the less developed countries are in a financial position to provide long-term loans on reasonable terms to assist such countries in their development programs," Brand said in a statement.

Abhors Clamor Ushering Heart Victim to Hospital

ATLANTIC CITY, N J. (UPI)— The "noisy emergency manner" in which heart attack patients are taken to the hospital was criticized yesterday by Dr. Robert Straus of the University of Kentucky.

"Frequently, persons stricken with a heart attack are made more seriously ill by the emergency transportation to the hospital," Strauss told the 87th annual meeting of the American Public Health Assn.

Strauss, chairman of the department of behavioral science and professor of sociology at the university, said there are many heart patients for whom the "emotional impact of an emergency ride will be more harmful than quiet transportation in private auto."

He noted that police, fire department or ambulances often are summoned to transport heart attack patients to the hospital.

"Invariably they arrive with sirens ringing and often the manner of emergency personnel bubbles with crisis," Strauss said.

Wendell Anderson, 58, of Bundy Tubing Dies

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—Wendell W. Anderson, 58, president of Bundy Tubing Co. of Detroit, died at Temple University hospital here Tuesday.

Anderson recently had undergone an operation for cancer of the larynx at the hospital.

Anderson, a former U. S. Ambassador to NATO, was a widely known industrialist, yachtsman and socialite. He also had been active in Michigan politics.

Cost of Dying Grows Increasingly Mournful

ST LOUIS (UPI) — The cost of dying is rising nearly as fast as the cost of living, a business counselor told the National Funeral Directors Association yesterday.

He said the cost of an adult funeral increased by 2.3 per cent last year to $661 while the national cost of living index rose 2.7 per cent.

Museum (Monstrosity or Masterpiece) to Open

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Guggenheim Museum, the nation's newest and most unique art institute, will be dedicated today by Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare.

Flemming will preside at noon ceremonies which will open the ultra modern building, designed by the late architectural genius, Frank Lloyd Wright, to the public. Mayor Robert F. Wagner will cut the ribbon at the Fifth avenue entrance.

The cylindrical, spiralling museum of 20th Century art facing Central Park is the realization of a dream of the late mining tycoon, Solomon R. Guggenheim, who commissioned Wright for the design in 1943.

Construction was delayed for several years by the reluctance of city officials to grant a construction permit for a building of such unorthodox structure.

The buff concrete museum, only building of Wright design in New York, looks like a Martian flying saucer parked among stately mansions and apartments of the smart upper east side. The exterior still is the subject of criticism, but the interior has evoked only raves from preview visitors.

The gleaming white exhibition area is like the interior of a chambered Nautilus. A ramp rises gently around the interior walls of the six-story cylinder, leaving an unobstructed center well covered by a huge glass dome 92 feet above the museum floor.

Paintings are exhibited along the ramp. The unframed canvasses have been "floated" four feet from the exhibition walls by means of invisible armature supports. Ribbon skylights and ingenious artificial lighting devices provide a sea of light around each work, eliminating all distractions for the eye.

★ ★ ★

There are numerous architectural surprises—a sculpture gallery tucked away in an arched corner, a miniature gravel Japanese garden, a handsome small auditorium in the basement, a semi-circular elevator, an azure fountain shaped like an eye, and a cafeteria with porthole windows. The circle motif has been used throughout and there is hardly a broken line in the building.

For the first time since the establishment of the Guggenheim Foundation in 1937, the public is able to get an idea of the scope of the 2,500-work collection.

The opening show consists of 134 masterworks that trace the development of modern art from Cezanne and Maillol through Kandinsky, Braque, Klee, Delaunay, Chagall and Leger to Lipchitz, Dubuffet, DeKooning, Pollock and Francis.

★ ★ ★

The collection was begun about 50 years ago by Guggenheim, who died in 1949, and it has been expanded by the foundation under the presidencies of Guggenheim's son-in-law, the Earl of Castle Stewart, and his nephew, Harry F. Guggenheim, and the directorship of James Johnson Sweeney.

Pakistan's Capital Is Moved 700 Miles

KARACHI, Pakistan (UP) — The government Tuesday began moving its capital from this Arabian Sea port to Rawalpindi, 700 miles to the northeast near the foothills of the Himalayas.

While 22 turbaned members of the frontier force regiment bagpipe band played Auld Lange Syne a train pulled out of Karachi station carrying the first group of government employes to Rawalpindi.

★ ★ ★

About 250 members of the president's secretariat and families on the train are the vanguard of 1,500 government servants who are expected to be in Rawalpindi by next Tuesday with some of their files.

On that day celebration will mark the first anniversary of Gen. Mohammad Ayub Khan's takeover of the presidency after ousting the parliamentary government.

The government will use temporary quarters in Rawalpindi until a new capital is built on a plateau nearby.

PONTIAC AREA

from R. H. Storm, District Mgr.

The Pontiac Area United Fund is about to close its campaign for this year. Remember, the annual campaign must raise enough money to support 52 vitally important health, welfare and recreation services that serve our community. You are the key to victory or defeat. The success of this campaign depends on you. If you have not already contributed through your place of employment or to a solicitor in your neighborhood, contact the Pontiac Area United Fund Office and either pledge or give your "Fair Share" to support this worthwhile organization.

THE TIME: Evening
THE PLACE: A bedroom
SOUND: A telephone ringing from a distance.

"George! George, wake up! The telephone is ringing... George!" Still half asleep, the husband struggles out of bed and dashes to answer the telephone before it stops ringing...

Has this ever happened in your home? If it has, then you already know the best reason for installing a convenient, colorful bedroom extension. It will cost about a quarter a week, but it's worth lots more than that in pleasure and security. For more information about bedroom extensions, call the Business Office.

FIRE! FIRE! Volunteers everywhere drop what they're doing and rush to the scene of the emergency. Before long, the community whose volunteers arrive fastest will probably be equipped with one of Michigan Bell's Alerting and Dispatching Systems. These systems were developed by telephone company engineers at the request of volunteer fire departments all over the country. Because they use regular telephone exchange equipment to warn volunteers, these Alerting Systems are both faster and more accurate than old-fashioned sirens or fire whistles. All in all, they are a great improvement in public safety for small towns.

Finds Oral Cure to Do Away With Athlete's Foot

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—Bothered with itching athlete's foot? You may be able to cure it without removing your shoes.

Dr. L. A. Owens, a dermatologist, Monday described a medicine which may kill the prickly disease without harm to the patient. The medicine is taken through the mouth.

Dr. Owens told the Oklahoma Chiropody Assn. the drug, Griseofulvin, has cured fungus growths of 20-years duration.

He said the drug had been tested by doctors for about a year.

But there's a catch. It won't cure skin ailments which appear to be athlete's foot, but are not, he said.

Catholic Talks 1st Time in 400 Years at St. Paul's

LONDON (UPI)—A Roman Catholic priest will preach in St. Paul's Cathedral in London for what is believed to be the first time since the Protestant Reformation 400 years ago.

The Rev. Thomas Corbishley, director of a London mission, will speak this week on "The Christian and This World" in a series of lectures in memory of Sir Stafford Cripps, a former chancellor of the exchequer.

Hollywood Headlines:

'Drunkard' Star Believes God Will Care for Him

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If Neely Edwards seems bereft today, there's good reason. He has just finished what must be by far the longest run of any actor in American show business.

"The Drunkard" finished its historic run at the Theater Mart last weekend. The Victorian melodrama first produced by P. T. Barnum, began its run in 1933, when the nation was engaged in New Deal alphabetics.

THOMAS

Through earthquake, flood, recession, war and prosperity, the show continued its light-hearted preachment against demon rum. Rising costs and dwindling business finally caught up with "The Drunkard," putting Neely Edwards out of a job for the first time in 26 years. But he isn't worried.

★ ★ ★

"I never had to look for a job in my life," said Neely, now a spry 76. "Even when it looked like a catastrophe for me, something always came up. I'll let God take His course."

The entertainer fell into the job by chance. He had started his professional career in New York in 1904, worked his way up through burlesque to bigtime vaudeville as partner with Ed Flanagan, sire of Dennis O'Keefe, and also Bunny Granville, Bonita's father.

COMEDY BACKGROUND

"I had made comedies at Universal for six years," Neely recalled, "and then I went East to appear with Ed in the last 10 or 12 weeks of bigtime vaudeville. I came back to free-lance in pictures when they offered me the job in 'The Drunkard.'"

He started on New Year's eve in 1934, a few months after the show opened. There he remained, playing the comic bartender and singing and hoofing in the afterpiece.

★ ★ ★

His life fell int oan amazingly steady pattern for an actor. At 7 each evening, he left his home, a 35-foot trailer in a Santa Monica park. He drove 35 minutes to the theater, did his stint and was home by 11:45 p.m.

Now it is all over, and I asked him how he felt.

"I managed to keep up my enthusiasm all those years," he said, "but I started getting tired when the closing was first announced. It's hard to analyze your feelings about something that has been your life. I have some fond recollections, but I'm just as happy it's all over now."

SAD FAREWELL

Mildred Ilse, producer of "The Drunkard," said she was deluged with letters of protest when the end was announced. Attendance jumped, since many Angelenos wanted a farewell visit with the show that has been close to their lives.

"We are considering two or three possibilities of continuing the show on a different basis," Mrs. Ilse said. "It is not unlikely that one of them will eventuate. But not before we've had a rest."

Neely's plans?

"I'm not worried. I get social security—after 72 you can collect it and still earn as much as you can. I'll be getting state unemployment insurance for 26 weeks and I've got some money in the bank. If the show goes on the road, I might tour with it. I believe in treating problems the way a churchman told me: Let go and let God."

TAKES TOLL — Gate tender at Boston's Sumner Tunnel, Amedeo Testa, had to tax his mind for a second but quickly decided that this aerocar was just another passenger vehicle and he charged the regular 20 cent toll. The inventor, Moulton Taylor of Longview, Wash., landed the craft at a nearby airport, hung the wings behind and drove through the tunnel on his way to a sports car show in Boston.

Blondes Come Into Their Awn Again

Gals Back in Movies

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Here's good news, men—girls are coming back! To movies, that is.

During the past decade Hollywood has been a man's world. The big pictures, the fat roles, the razzle-dazzle publicity campaigns all were written for leading men.

Adventure dramas, westerns and detective stories—with occasional Biblical epics—were the order of the day. Actresses had a difficult time of it, becoming almost extinct in the lists of box office attractions.

But the cycle is moving again, and nice, round, sexy, beautiful women are coming back—and one such luscious creature knows the reason why.

PLAYS TOP ROLE

She's Angie Dickinson, a dazzling blonde, playing her first leading role in a new movie—taking top billing away from co-star Peter Finch. Five years ago this event could never have taken place.

"The answer is simple," Angie said, a twinkle in her dark brown eyes. "Television has come to the rescue of movie actresses.

"All the westerns and detective thrillers have moved to TV, and the men who make movies realize they can't compete with the television versions of adventure dramas. So they're returning to what used to be called 'women's pictures.'"

★ ★ ★

Angie's theory holds up. New titles are reflecting the change — "The Nun's Story," "It Happened to Jane," "Cleopatra," and Angie's new Warner Brothers picture, "Rachel Cade."

"I'm very lucky this counter-revolution is taking place right now," the curvesome beauty went on.

"The poor girls who were 25 years old 10 years ago didn't have a chance. I'm 25 now and feminine roles are getting better and more important every day. Until now there were so few good leading lady roles available they went only to the top stars."

Angie named Elizabeth Taylor, Natalie Wood, Joanne Woodward, Hope Lange and Audrey Hepburn among other young actresses who are riding the new crest of opportunity.

"As a movie-goer I much prefer seeing relationships between people to action stories," Angie concluded. "I think people who want action can watch TV. Those who want good stories and acting will go to movies."

Woman Is Dead After 66 Years Without Friends

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — In 1893, while Grover Cleveland was president, Miss Emma McDaniel, then 32, was admitted to a mental institution.

★ ★ ★

Last week she died there after 66 years without receiving a single visitor or letter.

★ ★ ★

Records show she was committed for "simple melancholia." Staff doctors in 1941 described Miss McDaniel as a "very nice, quiet, agreeable old lady."

U. S. Military Transport Sets Low Accident Rate

SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (UPI)—The Military Air Transport Service (MATS) Tuesday claimed the lowest flying accident rate in its 11-year history.

MATS officials said it had 1.9 accidents per 100,000 flying hours so far this year, compared with a 3.6 rate for the same period in 1958.

The 1958 MATS over-all rate was 3.05, compared to the Air Force-wide figure of 11.8.

Authorities said the rate included accidents where no one was hurt, such as damage to an aircraft while taxiing.

But Now They're on Supreme Bench

State Judges Once Knew Politics

By GEORGE WEEKS

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's eight Supreme Court justices are robed men who wear the cloak of politicians only long enough to get elected.

These men, who took on a hot political issue when they agreed to test legality of the use (sales) tax, insulate themselves from political pressures on deliberations.

RAN FOR ELECTION

They ran for election as "non partisans."

But all were hands at political activity before they were elected.

They were nominated at party conventions and for practical purposes were part of a partisan campaign team. Most knew what it meant to be popular at the polls even before they were nominated.

Four once served at the top level of the executive branch.

Justice Harry F. Kelly, 69, is a veteran of political scraps.

Kelly twice was elected Republican governor of Michigan. He announced his retirement in 1946 but came back in 1950 to run against Gov. G. Mennen Williams. Williams won by a razor-thin plurality of 1,154 and Kelly found a niche on the Supreme bench a year later.

Chief Justice John R. Dethmers, 56, once was GOP state chairman and served as Kelly's attorney general.

Dethmers was appointed to the Supreme Court in 1946 and then waged a successful campaign for election.

Justice Leland W. Carr, 76, is the only other Republican on the eight-member court.

BLACK ON BOTH SIDES

Carr was appointed Ingham circuit judge in 1921 by Gov. Alex W. Grosebeck and has been a judge or justice ever since. He was appointed to the Supreme Court by Kelly in 1945.

Justice Eugene F. Black, 56, has been on both sides of politics.

Black, nominated for his present seat in 1955 by Democrats, once was Republican attorney general. He's the most outspoken of the justices, his favorite target of late being the "surly old dogs" in the Legislature.

Justice George Edwards, 45, is going places and may someday be governor, according to Democratic boosters.

Edwards has been through more elections than other justices, having served on the Wayne County probate and circuit benches and the Detroit city council. He was appointed to the court by Williams and then was elected.

John D. Voelker, 56, has the shortest biography in the court section of the state manual but by far the most personal followers. He's author of the best seller "Anatomy of a Murder."

Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh, 50, has been through three statewide election campaigns.

Kavanagh was twice elected attorney general and was elected to the Supreme Court in 1957, which makes him the newest member of the court.

Justice Talbot Smith, 60, has the least experience among politicians but one of the best reputations among lawyers.

Smith, once counsel for the Democratic State Central Committee, caught Williams' eye as a member of the corrections commission and was appointed to the court in 1955. He passed two election tests since.

Columbia to Throw Out Most of Canned Applause

NEW YORK (UPI) — Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, said Tuesday the network would eliminate canned applause and laughter and other misrepresentations which deceive television viewers.

* * *

Stanton, who announced last Friday that CBS was eliminating all of its remaining big-money quizzes, said also that henceworth supposedly spontaneous interview programs that actually have been rehearsed will be announced as rehearsed shows.

This new policy, Stanton said, will take effect immediately.

However, since many shows are prepared weeks in advance, the practice of using canned laughter and applause — sounds tape-recorded on one show and dubbed in another—would continue temporarily in some instances, the CBS president said.

Both the National Broadcasting Company and the American Broadcasting Company declined to comment on whether they planned to follow suit with CBS.

Stanton said CBS was eliminating programming deceits because, in addition to deceiving viewers, they tended to jeopardize TV's integrity.

He acknowledged that on several of the network's shows, such as "Person to Person," guests knew in advance the questions they were to be asked. Henceforth this practice, where followed, will be disclosed at the program's outset, Stanton said.

* * *

The CBS executive said that in cases where guests on news programs were supplied in advance with questions, the viewers would be informed of this procedure.

Stanton announced last week that the network was canceling its remaining big-money quizzes because of recent disclosures that several quiz shows were rigged.

Sheriff Barnes' Trial Adjourned Until Oct. 27

WILLIAMSTON (UPI) — The drunk driving trial of Ingham County Sheriff Willard Barnes opened Tuesday and was quickly adjourned until Oct. 27 to allow the sheriff's attorney more time to prepare his case.

Justice of the Peace W. Robert Wood ordered the adjournment after Atty. Benjamin F. Watson said he wanted to question more witnesses and track down some leads. Watson said he had been hired by the sheriff only a week ago.

ALL-IN-A-PIE BREAKFAST — Pie for breakfast? Certainly, when it's made with a shredded wheat crust and a bacon, egg and cheese filling. It is a dish you can serve as a late evening supper too. Your guests will be delighted with the new taste in pies.

Soft and Crisp Textures Mix

Out of the cereal bowl into a delicious pie! That's what happened to our favorite cereal—shredded wheat biscuits. And such a tasty pie it is—sharp cheddar cheese, crisp bacon and a delicate custard baked to perfection in a crunchy, golden shredded wheat crumb crust. Serve it for a hot, hearty breakfast or late supper—it's sure to become a prized recipe.

Shredded Wheat Crumb Crust

Roll 4 shredded wheat biscuits, or 32 shredded wheat juniors to fine crumbs. Thoroughly blend crumbs with 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine and ½ teaspoon salt. Turn into a 9-inch pie plate and firmly press against bottom and sides of plate.

Filling: Grate 8 ounces sharp cheddar cheese. Fry to a crisp golden 6 slices of bacon and drain. Combine 3 eggs, 1½ cups light cream, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper and ½ teaspoon curry powder, if you like the flavor of curry. Stir just enough to blend.

Crumble half the bacon on bottom of crumb crust. Lay on half the cheese. Gently pour in the egg mixture. Top with remaining bacon and cheese. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 40 minutes or until knife inserted comes out clean.

★ ★ ★

Serve with fruit, milk for the children and coffee for the grown-ups. Add a green salad or vegetable and you have a delightful supper meal.

Molasses Sweetens Hot Spicy Drink

A delightful way to vary and dress up cider is with whole cloves, sticks of cinnamon and unsulphured molasses. The cider, served warm, is a delightful beverage of a brisk autumn night.

Molasses Spiced Cider

4 slices lemon, cut in halves
12 whole cloves
2 quarts cider
¾ cup unsulphured molasses
2 2-inch sticks cinnamon
⅓ cup lemon juice

Stud lemon slices with cloves. Combine cider, unsulphured molasses, cinnamon and lemon slices in a large saucepan. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer 15 minutes. Remove cinnamon sticks. Add lemon juice. Serve hot in mugs. Yield: 8 servings.

Stuff and Bake Sliced Eggplant

The tangy accent of cheese and real Italian-style sauce are combined in a richly flavored new main dish that costs just pennies per person: "Stuffed Eggplant Siciliana," with its stuffing of crumbled inch-square cheese crackers to add both extra good taste and bulk, offers six hearty servings from just one medium-size eggplant. Make it soon, this easy way:

"Stuffed Eggplant Siciliana"

2 cups coarsely crumbled cheese crackers
1 8-oz. can spaghetti sauce with mushrooms
1 medium-size eggplant (about 1½ lbs.)
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup olive oil
1 clove garlic, minced

Heat oven to 400 degrees (moderately hot oven). Combine cracker crumbs and half of spaghetti sauce. Blend to make stuffing.

★ ★ ★

Peel and slice eggplant into ¾-inch-thick slices. Combine flour and salt. Heat olive oil and minced garlic in large skillet. Dip eggplant in flour mixture, coating well on both sides.

Saute slices in hot olive oil, over low heat, turning to brown lightly on each side. Spread each slice evenly on one side with cracker stuffing. "Thread" slices on to skewer and press together firmly.

Place in shallow baking pan. Pour on remaining sauce; bake at 400 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes, or until very tender. Makes 6 servings.

Choosing Good Grapes

If you want the ripest, sweetest white seedless grapes, choose bunches in which the color has turned white, rather than bright green, and the individual grapes tend to be long, rather than round. If any of the grapes have developed a brownish color, they're very ripe and should be used quickly.

Cream of tartar is sometimes added to egg whites that are being beaten stiff because it increases their stability.

Sandwich-Less Lunches Go to Work

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Priscilla Allen of Pontiac wrote to the Press for help in planning sandwich-less lunches to carry to work. Her letter set us to thinking about such menus. We hope these suggestions will help. Won't you let us know?

★ ★ ★

First of all, do invest in a wide mouth vacuum bottle. That will enable you to take chili, baked beans, spaghetti and stew, as well as all kinds of soup. There are so many good looking lunch bags that you won't feel self-conscious about carrying one with your vacuum bottle in it. Don't forget a spoon!

Hunt through the housewares department of a variety store and pick up a number of tight-lidded plastic containers, choosing several sizes and shapes.

If you are not solely dependent on leftovers in the refrigerator, plan your lunches for the entire week. That means you can do your shopping all at once. Perhaps you can prepare some of the food ahead of time and freeze it. For instance, a plastic container of frozen fruit will keep a salad cool as it thaws.

Miss Allen mentioned fried chicken and potato salad in her letter so we are ignoring them in our week's menu. We would remind her that she needs a protein dish, fruit or vegetables and milk, if possible, in every lunch. Add to the basic list other favorite foods.

MONDAY: Take a small container of cottage cheese and a larger container of mixed fruit (frozen ahead of time, if desired). Put in a sandwich bag filled with pretzel sticks or the little salty rye sticks. Some cake from your Sunday dinner will round out this menu. Beverage may be milk, coffee or tea.

TUESDAY: Fill your vacuum bottle with tomato soup made with milk. Take along saltine or rey krisp or buttery crackers and some slices of cheese. Slip a baked apple into a deep plastic container.

WEDNESDAY: Make a regular tossed salad with greens, cucumbers, radishes, carrots and celery —tomato if desired. Add thin strips of cooked ham or chicken, bits of tuna fish or salmon or cooked shrimp to the salad. We like to put just vinegar on this salad, but you may want french dressing or mayonnaise.

We suggest you take the dressing in a separate container and put it on the salad when you eat it. With this salad have potato or corn chips and a dish of pudding or tapioca or cup custard.

THURSDAY: If you like sauerkraut, heat some with a couple of frankfurters cut up in it and take the combination in your vacuum bottle. Or heat the frankfurters with some baked beans. You may have to add a little water to either of these for easy pouring at noon time.

Or just put two hot dogs in a vacuum bottle full of hot water and eat them at noon with potato salad. Take along crisp cabbage salad with a vinegar dressing, unless you have sauerkraut. We'll leave the dessert up to you this day. Perhaps you'll want a piece of pie.

FRIDAY: Macaroni salad or egg salad. Wrap pickles, carrot sticks and celery in foil for easy carrying. For dessert have a fruit cup and cookies.

There you are, Miss Allen You can ring in many changes on these five menus. After all, lunch needn't be just one sandwich after another, need it?

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Sirloin Steak.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It comes from the sirloin section and contains a portion of backbone and hipbone. Muscles include top sirloin and knuckle and head of tenderloin interspersed with fat.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. Depending on the thickness, it can be broiled, panbroiled or panfried. Steaks cut between 1 and 2 inches thick are best broiled; thinner steaks are best prepared by panbroiling or panfrying.

Your youngsters will enjoy putting a marshmallow into each cup before cocoa is poured out.

Butter Will Prevent Soggy Sandwiches

Moist fillings make the most palatable sandwiches. Yet they are the very ones many homemakers tend to avoid when making sandwiches for school lunch boxes. Reason, of course, is that they become soggy unless special care is taken to protect them.

When making sandwiches of this type, butter the bread slices generously from corner to corner, advise home economists. Butter helps prevent soft fillings from soaking through the bread.

Wrap such sandwiches carefully in waxed paper and pack them on edge in the lunch pail, rather than flat. This way, the filling is less likely to ooze out.

Here's a new sandwich filling that is so tasty and simple, you may well find yourself making it frequently for the children's lunches.

Lunch Box Special Sandwiches

Combine ¾ cup chunk-style peanut butter, ¼ cup applesauce, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise and 1/3 cup grated natural cheddar cheese. Spread between slices of well buttered bread. Cut each sandwich into four triangles. Makes 4 sandwiches.

American families use an average of 940 cans of foods, beverages and other products a year, American Can Company reports.

Suspect Sabotage to USS Nautilus

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (UPI) — The Portsmouth Herald said today it has learned of a series of incidents involving "sabotage-type" damage to the USS Nautilus.

The boat, pride of the Navy's nuclear powered submarine fleet, is now being overhauled in the Portsmouth naval shipyard.

Although there was no official Navy confirmation of the incidents, Capt. Carl A. Johnson, acting commander of the Portsmouth Naval Base, said he could not deny them, the Herald said.

One quart of milk weighs 2.5 pounds.

Hope College Is Given Funds for Prisoner Aid

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—A project by Hope College to rehabilitate Kent County Jail prisoners will be continued until next spring with an appropriation approved by the Board of Supervisors.

Despite arguments that the program was not to have cost the county any money and questions about the legality of making such a payment to a private institution from public funds the supervisors voted $1,200 to carry on the work.

The Hope College psychology department is conducting the rehabilitation work and case workers have reported that so far first offenders contacted in the program have not been returned to jail.

Balks at Privy Edict

WELLS, Nev. (UPI) — The Union Pacific Railroad told town officials it couldn't replace the outdoor privy with inside plumbing at its station because of the steel shortage. The City Council warned the railroad it would face a misdemeanor charge if it didn't, regardless of the steel strike.

The group held a Family Care Party Tuesday with Mrs. S. J. McIsaac, Mrs. Webster and Mrs. Floyd Zielinski in charge.

Let Couple Announce Marriage

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our son has been engaged for over a year and he plans to be married shortly. We approve of the girl and the marriage. However, her parents are opposed to the marriage because of religious differences and will not attend the wedding.

"Would it be permissible for us, the parents of the bridegroom to send out the wedding announcements. We have numerous friends and relatives and would like them to know of the marriage."

Answer: Under the circumstances, I think it will be best for your son and his bride to announce their own marriage.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have just returned from a bus tour. It was a seven day trip and the first one I had ever taken of this kind. On our way home, one of the men in the group approached each passenger and asked them to contribute toward a tip for the tour director.

"I was very much surprised at this and saw no reason why he should be given a tip. He was very courteous and pleasant, but was only doing his job for which I am sure he is well paid. I refused to give anything as I thought this was going a little too far.

"The person taking up the collection seemed rather put out with me and I am sure thought me a terrible "cheapskate." Is such a tip customary, and was I wrong not to contribute?"

Answer: It is quite customary to present the tour director with a tip at the end of a tour and you should not have refused to contribute toward it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My son is planning to give his fiance a hope chest for her birthday, which is next month. We have been told that it would be improper for him to give her such a present and that the hope chest should be given by her family. Will you please advise us?"

Answer: It should be given to her by her family.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it would be proper for the conductor of an orchestra to wear a tuxedo at an afternoon recital? Is it possible that since he is part of a show, this might be an exception to the rule of "tuxedo only after six o'clock?"

Answer: The conductor of an orchestra may certainly wear evening clothes even at an afternoon concert.

County Nurses Hear Discussion on Hypnosis

The Oakland County District Nurses' Assn. met Tuesday evening at Beaumont Hospital.

Dr. Maurice E. Willis opened the panel discussion on uses of hypnosis in psychiatry, obstetrics and dentistry by reviewing history and development of hypnosis.

★ ★ ★

He described indications and contraindications for its use, particularly in the field of psychiatry.

W. D. Hackett, D.O., related his experiences with hypnosis in obstetrics.

Carl L. Rasak, D.D.S., told of the helpfulness of hypnosis in dental practice.

The panel agreed that patients with whom they will use hypnosis must be selected carefully and that it should be used only by professionally trained persons.

Hostesses were Mrs. William Lawrence, Mrs. William Whitehead, Mrs. Elmer Miller and Mrs. Buddy Carie.

More Daddies Can Afford Big Weddings Now

Who said the American way of life is strictly toward informality? Turns out that brides at least are getting more formal.

So reports the Bridal Fashion Council, an organization of manufacturers of bridal fashions, retailers and textile people. The council said that of the 1.7 million U. S. brides in 1959, 49 per cent will purchase formal gowns for their big day. This represents an increase of three per cent over the number of formal weddings five years ago.

★ ★ ★

One Philadelphia bridal firm said the ratio of formal weddings will continue to grow, because they provide a "psychological antidote for the creeping boredom of everyday functions and fashions."

One New York resident buyer told the council the trend is "very normal." Formal weddings are a "status symbol" for the American girl. And with national income at an all-time high, more parents now can afford the fancy wedding ceremonies for their daughters.

Suede Washes

A new nylon fabric looks like suede yet is a wash-and-wear material. Production is under way in solid colors, and soon patterns including plaids, will be available. Look for the fabric first in toppers and coats for women and girls.

WYNETTE ELWELL

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Elwell of Berwick boulevard announce the engagement of their daughter Wynette to Lawrence Moore, son of Mrs. Wilbur Crump and the late Norman Moore of Oxford. A March wedding is planned.

University Women Meet

Speaks on U. N. Units

Mrs. Angus McLay of Birmingham spoke on the "U.N. Initials for Peace: UNICEF and WHO" at the Monday evening meeting of the American Assn. for University Women at the Community Services Building.

Mrs. McLay illustrated her talk with slides of a Mexican U.N. educational center visited on her recent Mexican trip.

Social committee for the evening was Mrs. S. M. Velkoff, chairman; Mrs. George Snyder, Mrs. Tom T. Reese, Mrs. Donald McMillen, Mrs. Olin Thomas and Mrs. Kenneth Ollis.

In observation of United Nations Week, desserts from Brazil, Russia, France, Greece and Denmark were served.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Donald Knapp, Mrs. Michael Schwanitz, Mrs. Donald Gause, Laura Belz and Lulu McGregor.

The next meeting will be Nov. 16 at the Community Services Building at 8 p.m.

Correct Error for Blue Star

The Pontiac Press regrets an error in the information accompanying a picture yesterday of the Blue Star Mothers of America, chapter 4.

The chapter's benefit card party will be held Saturday evening at 8 p.m. at the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Mrs. Alma Cowley is president and Mrs. Frank Schmidt is party chairman.

Plan Dinner, Dance at Church

A family fellowship dinner followed by square dancing is the program Friday evening at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Drayton Plains.

Dinner is at 6:30 p.m. Reservations are being accepted at the church office. A free will offering will be taken.

Sisterhood Has Luncheon

The Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob met for luncheon Tuesday at the Temple.

Mrs. Alfred J. Simmons was chairman of luncheon arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Melvin Eller, Mrs. Bernard Horowitz and Mrs. Gerald Walker.

Mrs. Philip Gentile described her experience as a United Nations observer.

Honor Local Volunteer for Service Since 1953

Mrs. Frank D. Sloan is the Central Volunteer Bureau's Volunteer of the Month.

The bureau, a relatively new agency of the Community Chest, has developed rapidly and now supplies volunteers in many areas of service throughout Oakland County.

Mrs. Sloan, known to her friends as Gerrie, has contributed many hours of volunteer service for United Fund since 1953. She became interested in working with the agency after reading in The Pontiac Press that office volunteers were needed.

Sailing, golf and music are among Mrs. Sloan's hobbies.

Those interested in United Fund or other types of volunteer work are urged to call or visit the Central Volunteer Bureau in the Community Services Building.

Little Furs Out Style Long Ones

It's no longer fashionable to go about dripping in mink, says designer Dein Bacher. There's no law that says you have to have a stole long enough to reach your knees.

"The important thing is for a woman to have a fur that is exactly right for her type and needs," says Bacher. "It may be a cape, bolero, jacket or stole, but it should be properly proportioned and designed so that it stays put and doesn't have to be clutched in a death grip across the stomach."

★ ★ ★

There's more variety in the popular "little furs" this season than in many years, says Bacher. A few years ago the goal of practically every woman was to have a mink stole exactly like that of her next-door neighbor or best friend. The epidemic of identical stoles was almost frightening.

Today the brief cape, the little shrug, the bolero and the jacket in varied lengths give variety to the picture.

"The petite woman should wear a small fur, proportioned to her size," says Bacher. "The tall woman can get away with a long stole, if that's what she wants. But there's nothing worse than to see a little woman completely eclipsed by a big fur."

★ ★ ★

New mutations also give greater variety to the fur lineup. There's a mink color to suit every taste and type these days, from palest beige and silvery tones to the deepest browns and blacks.

The little fur wrap nowadays has become a year-round necessity, what with air-conditioned restaurants and theaters in summer, heated cars and buildings in winter. A woman needs a light wrap at any time of year.

Faith Subject of Lutherans' Panel Confab

Miriam Group of St. John's Lutheran Church met Tuesday evening at the Seminole avenue home of Mrs. Gene Erickson.

Mrs. Harry T. Hahn led devotions. A panel discussion on faith was led by Mrs. Adolph Hornblad.

★ ★ ★

Guests were Mrs. Ole Knudson and Mrs. Winifred Vought.

Progress was made on the doll project for the Oakland County Children's Home. Plans were completed for a harvest dinner at the church Oct. 29 at 6 p.m.

Stay Aware of the Trivial

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Anyone who is so involved with problems that he or she has lost the habit of awareness in daily life, misses so much! What a thrill the changing seasons are if you watch them, smell them and have the "feel" of them.

This day was sent straight from the gods and should lift the cloud from any troubled heart—at least for a few moments. The air is—UMMM! It has just a hint of fall in it and the sun is sparkling. The flowers still are blooming but I fear the many buds I counted on the rose bushes this morning may not have the exciting experience of full maturity.

The hydrangeas are gorgeous, some of them 10 inches long, and they are just beginning to turn from white to delicate greens and pinks. Yes, there are definite, subtle signs everywhere that summer is almost gone as I write this.

I always hate to see a season or a period in life end because I love both so much, but there is always more beauty ahead. Soon the trees will be flaming with unbelievable colors and then will come the first frost making a bed of diamonds out of the lawn. The first snowfall will follow and I anticipate it with the same awe and expectancy I had as a child. Then the whole world will be a new and magic and entirely different place.

We live on a lake and every year I look forward to the first time the lake steams. It happened this morning. When the first cool snap arrives after a hot spell, mists rise from the lake like steam from some great unknown cauldron. It is a beautiful sight and full of mystery. Tonight the moon will glow a path across the water which could lead straight to heaven.

There is healing and stimulation in nature and her moods if you will stay close to her. So many folks take the panorama she provides for granted. They are not even aware of what she delivers to their very doorsteps.

Tomorrow: "To Be Overweight Is Danger to Health."

What a thrill the changing of seasons are if you watch them, smell them and have the "feel" of them.

Oysters, Not Diamonds

Tells Girl's Best Friend

A girl's best friend is the oyster, according to a pearl syndicate.

"Women wear diamonds to impress others, pearls because they love them," said Lee Barnett, culture pearl expert for the syndicate, which showed fabulous gems at the recent convention of the Retail Jewelers of America.

There was a $250,000 tiara of Oriental pearls and diamonds set in platinum. It was made "to show everything an oyster can do," Barnet said.

* * *

Gems in the tiara range from the dome-shaped "Star of the Celebes" in the center, to perfectly shaped milk-white, gray, blue ("black"), and golden pearls. South American customers demand the golden which Barnett said are a drug on the market in the United States.

A 300-carat pearl was valused at $100,000. The Dowager Empress Tzu-Hsi of the Chiang Dynasty wore it on a slender chain around her neck as a good luck amulet, Barnett said.

* * *

Culture pearls also were displayed. It takes an X ray to tell the difference between these and Oriental pearls, Barnett said, but the Orientals are almost 10 times more expensive.

The oyster forms an Oriental pearl by spinning layers of lacquer over a grain of sand which accidentally slips beneath its shell. In culture pearls men inject a bead beneath the oyster's shell.

Describes Arranging, Art Link

"A Garden Club's Correlation of Art and Arranging" was the title of Mrs. Malcolm Sweezey's program at the recent meeting of the Pine Lake Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Assn.

Mrs. Dale Bartholomew opened her Middle Belt road home to the group with Mrs. Clarence Suhr assisting.

Mrs. Sweezey illustrated her talk with several of her own paintings for which accompanying floral arrangements had been designed by Mrs. Russell Kock, Mrs. Harold Schneider, Mrs. A. J. Lindemann, Mrs. Suhr and Mrs. Edna Keller.

* * *

The November meeting at the home of Mrs. Schneider will be an all-day workshop on Christmas decorations.

The club also will sponsor a card party in November.

Sunset Club Has Dinner, Dances

The Sunset Club, sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept., held its weekly meeting at the Boys' Club recently.

Thirty-four members and three guests, Mrs. Bessie Walker, Mrs. Elizabeth Souriells and Tony Sirmeyos, enjoyed a cooperative dinner and dancing and cards which followed.

All persons over 60 are invited to these meetings.

Duplicate Bridge Winners Listed

The Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club met Monday evening at the Elks Temple with 14 tables in play.

Winners were David Utley and Robert Spero, Mrs. Louis Jelsch and Mrs. Gordon Doule, Dr. Robert Segula and Donald Bowen.

* * *

Others were Allen Rososky and Donald Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Ericson Lewis, and Joe Nouse and Al Wallace.

To Discuss Reviews

Mrs. James Bower of Birmingham will open her Witherbee road home to the Stephens College Alumnae Club Tuesday at 8 p. m. "Book Reviews" will be the discussion topic.

Why Do Folks Backslide Once Weight's Off?

It's astonishing that people who have gone on a diet successfully often tend to backslide once the weight is off. But they do, and presently the pounds come back.

A diet is more than just habits. If you're to keep your weight where you want it from then on, you must remember that you're going to have to be calorie-conscious.

This may not be fun but who said it should be? And the rewards are more energy, a better figure, a younger looking you. Bear in mind that when dessert comes around, your answer must be "No, thank you," unless dessert happens to be fresh fruit or cheese.

It may be a help if you look at it this way: you can't possibly begin to eat all of the sweets and rich foods there are, so why be concerned about them at all?

Detroit Catholics to Host Meeting

The Detroit League of Catholics will be hostess to the Archdiocesan League of Catholics Thursday morning. The archdiocese includes Pontiac, Bloomfield Hills, Ann Arbor, Wyandotte, Detroit and Port Huron.

Following Mass at 9:30 a.m. there will be a meeting and a luncheon at 12:30 p.m.

Sister Mary Lucille, R.S.M., president of Mercy College, will discuss "Television — Bane or Blessing?"

Homeroom Mothers Discuss Conference

Twenty-four homeroom mothers of Baldwin School met last week at the school to discuss plans for a teacher and parent conference.

Mrs. Ray Ritter, Baldwin School PTA president, appointed Mrs. Conrad Burlison as chairman of the apron sale to be held during the open house Nov. 11 and at the monthly PTA meeting Nov. 19.

Programs for the year were outlined by the mothers.

When choosing flooring materials for the home, consider comfort after a day's work in the kitchen or laundry room. A resilient floor offers more long run comfort than a cheaper, unyielding floor. A rubber tile floor also muffles kitchen clatter.

Be Ready to Boost Daughter-in-Law

By RUTH MILLETT

Do you really want to be friends with your daughter-in-law? If so here are a few tips that should make it easy:

Accept the fact that it is right and natural for your son's wife to be the most important person in his life and graciously take a back seat.

Don't look for reasons to criticize your daughter-in-law. Look for qualities and abilities you can admire and praise to your son, to your husband, and to your friends.

Don't feel free to ask your daughter-in-law how much she paid for a dress or for her living room curtains. If she wants to tell you what something costs she will. If she doesn't want to, remember that it really isn't any of your business.

Even if you don't especially approve of all your son's and daughter's friends, don't criticize them. If they are old enough to be married they are old enough to choose their own companions.

Don't resent the fact that your daughter-in-law feels closer to her own mother than she does to you. That is only natural and should be no cause for jealousy.

If you give your daughter-in-law gifts for her house, either let her select what she wants, or make sure you know exactly what she wants before you buy it.

If your daughter-in-law lives in the same town with you, don't make a habit of dropping in unexpectedly.

Don't expect your daughter-in-law to be as expert at housekeeping as you are. After all, you've had years more experience.

If your son is happy with the girl he married, no matter what her shortcomings are in your estimation, be thankful that he married the right girl for him and make sure you aren't the one who ever gives him the idea that she is less than perfect.

Dear Abby:

Blimey, America's as Great as the Serviceman Bragged

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for telling off that woman who didn't like the bragging done by the foreigners." I would like to add one more thoing. If she thinks we're bad (I am a "foreigner") she should have been in Europe during World War II. Your GIs did some first-class bragging over there. In fact, one of them so impressed me with his stories that I married him just to find out if they were true. (They were.) So now we are the parents of five nice (well-behaved) American children.

Cheerio!

"DEVONSHIRE"

+ + +

DEAR ABBY: I am a refined, reliable grandmother who has been babysitting for some time. Parents tell me they are at ease when they leave their children in my care. But why are the young mothers so inconsiderate? When they leave, they never think to give you permission to make a cup of tea. I have sat until 4 a. m. without so much as a pretzel to nibble on.

We older women do not raid the refrigerator, nor do we touch anything without permission. Also, we stay awake. When I start at 5 p. m. I have to bring a sandwich from home for my supper. Other older sitters I have talked to say they've had the same experience. What is your opinion of this?

OLDER SITTER

DEAR SITTER: "Sitters" who come to sit at 5 p. m. should certainly be offered a substantial dinner. If it isn't offered—the sitter is perfectly justified in asking for it. Ditto for the "permission" to make tea during the evening. In your case, the meek will inherit only hunger pangs. Speak up!

+ + +

DEAR ABBY: I have a wonderful woman who has helped me with my laundry and housework for years. But the longer she helps me, the more she steals. She started with little thing like a package of powder puffs from the dime store. But she graduated to nylon hose, a slip, a bottle of wine now and then and a place mat set. She has even taken some of my husband's socks and underwear.

I pay her well and have given her things for her children. It hurts me to know she steals from me, but no one else could be taking these things. Should I fire her and tell her why? Or should I let it go because I need her?

TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: Don't let it go. Have a heart-to-heart talk with this woman. Give her a chance to return or pay for the articles she has stolen. If she denies taking them and you are certain she has, replace her. A clean house is nice, but the help shouldn't be allowed to take you to the cleaners.

Youth Maturity to Be Discussed

Dr. Guy Hill of Michigan State University will be guest speaker at the Mark Twain School public PTA meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Members will meet in the kindergarten room.

Dr. Hill's subject will be "Helping Our Child Toward Maturity."

To Hear Official

Prosecuting Attorney George F. Taylor will speak at the Wednesday meeting of Owen Elementary School PTA. Members will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the school's multipurpose room.

A woman with excessively oily skin looks her best after using soap and water. Women who work make it a point to rinse their faces at lunchtime. Powdering over old make-up and accumulated grease merely highlights the oily skin problem.

A true shirtwaist dress in luxurious peau de soie, this is from the Casino Classics Holiday collection. The softly pleated skirt with a self belt is worn below a classic shirt with an open neckline, jewel buttons and french-cuffed sleeves with jewel cuff links.

In Case of Rain Give Children Creative Ideas

Young children can be especially bored and especially annoying when forced to play indoors on rainy afternoons. But an activity which will occupy them when even television loses its fascination is easy to arrange.

Cut colored construction paper into odd-shaped pieces and furnish your youngster with a large sheet of white paper (even newspaper will do), a blunt-edged scissors (safe for small fingers), and a metal squeeze-tube of adhesive. Children can paste shapes onto the large sheet for hours, busily creating designs to please their own imaginations.

And fold-up metal tubes of adhesive are practical for children as well as adults, since there is no paste-spreader to lose or stick to clothes, no jar to break, and even the smallest hand can manage to squeeze one.

Cleaning Hint

Dirty collars and cuffs come clean with less work and less wear-and-tear on fabric from abrasion of rubbing, if the homemaker uses one of the new, spot-cleaning solutions for such soiled areas.

Brush for Skin

Your skin health depends upon the care you give it. Stimulate circulation, which revitalizes your skin, with a brush while bathing.

Shelley Winters Changed; Actress Is a Lady Now

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Shelley Winters, the actress, once remarked, "I get bursts of being a lady, but it doesn't last long."

That comment was made seven years ago. Today, Miss Winters of the traditionally explosive temper and affinity for newsprint was being a lady—at least for the hour and one-half I chatted with her at her spacious apartment overlooking Central Park.

"I've changed," said the St. Louis-born actress. "I think all I needed was a little happiness."

The actress said several factors actually shape the new Shelley—the former waitress and model whose motion pictures twice won her nominations for Hollywood's Academy Award.

"I am trying psychoanalysis," she said. "I have been since 1956.

"And I think my child has helped."

The child is Vittoria, an elfin brunette of six years, daughter by Miss Winters' first marriage to the Italian-born actor and director, Vittorio Gassman.

She now is wed to Anthony Franciosa, also an actor, whom she met during the run of her recent Broadway show, "A Hatful of Rain." The two divide their time between New York and Hollywood.

The actress said that today she has enough confidence in herself as an actress to be herself in real life. "I used to care so much about what others thought of me, I'd use the shock technique," she said. "Sort of get there first.

HAD NO FAITH IN SELF

"At one time I had absolutely no faith in my ability . . . I actually believed what the studios preached at me . . . that I was just the result of their publicity department. I did some things unfeminine . . . sometimes degrading. I was angry . . . and even when I was right about something, I was just not mature enough to get back in a well-mannered, organized way."

She said she turned to psychoanalysis shortly after she opened in "Hatful." "I am the most protective mother in the world," she said. "I was out teaching my daughter how to roller skate . . . I was on two skates . . . she was on one. I fell and broke an ankle.

"And I thought, why does this have to happen, just as I'm finally achieving what I want? I thought I'd be out of the play. I called the producer and you know what he said? He said, 'Shelley, we'll just restage some scenes, and let you play it in a cast.' "

★ ★ ★

"Well," said the actress, "I started to cry. And then I asked myself, why tears? Obviously, all I was doing in life was defeating myself. Then I called my physician and asked him to recommend a psychoanalyst.

"I used to hate being alone . . . once I had a house in Hollywood, and every night I had to have people in. Now, I have found the difference between being alone and being lonely.

"I think I get along better with people. I know I'm happier.

"Now I'd like to do a comedy, I think," she laughed, "that I have been a heavy long enough."

Miss Winters' latest movie role gives her at least some break from the star-crossed women she usually plays. In "Odds Against Tomorrow," released by United Artists, she is a beauty shop operator out to marry Robert Ryan. She doesn't get her man, she said, but at least there is enough levity for some laughs.

Encourage Him to Ask for Teacher's Help

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Three days after her teacher started teaching fractions, Carol's parents tried to help her with her arithmetic homework.

First her mother explained why the common denominator of 3-116, ⅝ and 7.32 was 32. But Carol couldn't see why it was. The more her mother explained the more upset she got. Finally, when her mother said:

★ ★ ★

"Why can't you see that you just divide the 8 into this 32, multiply the 5 by the 4 and . . ."

Carol burst into tears. So her father took over. But all that resulted from his struggle to clarify Carol's homework examples was the desperate cry:

"But that's not how she said to do it, Daddy! It's not how Miss Brown said to do it!"

So her father, a sensible man, said:

"Then the thing to do is to ask her to tell you how to do it again so that you can understand it."

At once, like countless other children in her state of mind, Carol felt relief. Though she protested that Miss Brown might object to re-explaining common denominators, there was no doubt that she found the prospect of Miss Brown's clarification the help she had really needed.

When youngsters ask for our help with homework, I do not believe that they want help with the homework at all. I think what they want is help with their fear of asking their teachers for it. And that this is why our attempts to help them with homework so often end in irritation with us.

BLAMES SELF

A youngster who has failed to understand his teacher's teaching always blames himself. Because adults are such powerful, all-perfect creatures to him, it can't occur to him that there may have been a flaw in his teacher's teaching. His self-doubt is increased by his belief that the other kids all seemed to understand her, that he alone is stupid.

Though the other kids may be struggling as hard as he is, shame over his unique stupidity makes it as impossible for him to conceive this as it is to conceive a possible flaw in Miss Brown's explanation of common denominators.

★ ★ ★

By advising him to ask her for another explanation, we accept the possibility of flaw in Miss Brown's first one. Because we suggest her imperfection to him, he loses some of his fear of her as an unapproachable deity. And that's as pleasant for her as it is for him.

County Nurses' Group Offers Refresher Series

The Oakland County District Nurses' Assn. announces a refresher course beginning Oct. 26. The series of seven lecture-demonstrations has been set up with the assistance of Wayne University faculty.

The schedule includes The New Drugs, Oct. 26; Equipment, Nov. 2 and 9; Nursing Procedures, Nov. 16; Burns and Emergency Care, Nov. 23; Cardiac Care, Nov. 30, and Role of the Registered Nurse in Relation to Auxiliary Workers, Dec. 7. Instructors will be specialists in nursing, pharmacy and medicine.

Meetings are 7:30 p.m. in the Nurses' Home of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Nurses may arrange to attend individual sessions. Inactive nurses who desire hospital experience concurrently with the series and those wishing further information should contact Mrs. Ralph J. Sherrod.

Moderately-full skirts are the choice of homemakers who have a physical handicap. Home economists report the wider skirts are comfortable for sitting and getting about, and they help conceal braces.

Add bleach to the laundry after the detergent has had a few minutes to work on the clothes. This gives the whitening agent in the detergent a chance to work, say home economists.

Discover Violations for Lake-Land Law

LANSING (UPI) — A legislative committee found several violations of Michigan's new submerged lands law during an aerial inspection along East Michigan shores. Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski (D-Detroit) said today.

★ ★ ★

"We know for sure we will need more enforcement and some amendments to the law," Kowalski said in reporting on an inspection made Monday.

He said areas were discovered along Lake St. Clair and Lake Huron where fills were made without state permission.

The Detroit lawmaker said recommendations would not be made until other areas were inspected.

"We want to check some of the fills made by mining companies along Lake Superior," he said. "We also have some real problems with marinas in West Michigan where inland lakes come into Lake Michigan."

★ ★ ★

Kowalski said the committee had not decided whether to complete its inspection this fall or wait until next spring.

Kills Wife Who Kept Him Out of Mental Institutions

HARTFORD (UPI)—A Hartford woman was shot to death last night by her husband who she had helped to keep out of mental institutions.

★ ★ ★

State Police said Marvin Terry, 53-year-old restaurant operator, attempted to take his own life with a .22 caliber rifle after slaying his wife Fanny, 50.

Terry was in fair condition in Lakeview Hospital in Paw Paw with two .22 bullet wounds in his chest.

★ ★ ★

He shot himself in a field behind their diner on U.S. 12, two miles east of here.

Live Wires Trap Bus Passengers After Fist Fight

DETROIT (AP)—Live electrical wires trapped a dozen passengers inside a city bus for 20 minutes Tuesday. Driver David M. Murdock blamed the whole thing on a dispute over a transfer.

★ ★ ★

Murdock, 55, told police the bus rammed a utility pole when he leaned over to take a swing with his fist at passenger Oscar Horton, 54. Murdock said Horton struck him first when the driver questioned the validity of a transfer.

Overhoul Times Differ

CHICAGO — A railway locomotive is overhauled every 60,000 miles. A motor truck requires an overhaul at about 20,000 miles, and an aircraft engine is scheduled for a checkup after 30,000 miles.

Organizer of 'White Rose'

Ex-Castro Relative Fighting Regime

NEW YORK (AP)—A former brother-in-law of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro says he heads a movement called the "White Rose" with thousands of guerrillas fighting the Castro regime in Cuba.

Dr. Rafael Diaz-Balart, 33, said Tuesday night his movement "respects everyone that works against Castro but is working with absolute independence from every other group."

CLAIMS UNDERGROUND

Diaz-Balart, who said he has known Castro since both were students at the University of Havana in 1945, said the White Rose movement was organized in cells with an underground in every neighborhood of Cuba. He said guerrilla fighting was going on in Oriente, Pinar del Rio and Las Villas provinces.

His sister, Mirta, was married to Castro in 1948 and is the mother of a son, Fidel Jr. They were divorced in 1955.

★ ★ ★

Diaz-Balart said his movement is independent of former Cuban President Fulgencio Batista, now living on the Portuguese island of Madeira; and the Dominican Republic regime of Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo.

Diaz-Balart, who served under Batista as minister of transport but was out of the country when Castro took over the government, denied that he was recruiting here.

Diaz-Balart charged that Castro spies are working in a chain of espionage that is coordinated with embassies of Hungary, oromania and the Soviet Union "not only in the United States but in other countries of America, especially in Argentina."

Book on Nikita Visit Announced by Tass

NEW YORK (AP)—Tass today announced a rush publication job, a book on Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit last month to the United States.

The Soviet news agency said the book, which apparently went on sale today, is titled "To Live in Peace and Friendship!—The United States Visit of Nikita Khrushchev, Chairman of the USSR Council of Ministers, Sept. 15-27, 1959."

Photographs of the visit are also included.

He Would Keep 'Retarded' in Public Schools

CINCINNATI (AP) — The executive director of the Michigan Assn. for Retarded Children says public schools can best educate retarded youngsters.

Michael C. Kreider of Lansing told a group of colleagues last night:

"Let us be ceaseless in our efforts and constantly keep before our respective communities that it is the public schools' job and not that of private parent groups or local units."

★ ★ ★

Kreider spoke at a gathering before the start tomorrow of the annual conference of the National Assn. of Retarded Children.

He said he thinks large buildings labeled "state home and training school" or "institution for the feeble minded" have helped paralyze public understanding of the retarded child.

"The cause of retardation is too vast to place on the shoulders of a few the upkeep and financing of what can become a 'retarded children's society agency' or a 'retarded children association's institution,'" Kreide robserved.

"We must follow policies which produce the greatest reward in the long run for our children."

Directs No Cause Verdict in Lawsuits

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland yesterday directed a jury to hand down a verdict of no cause for action in two lawsuits which sought $200,000 damages from a Bloomfield Hills police officer and two other men.

★ ★ ★

A private car driven by Sgt. James W. Fowler on Nov. 22, 1956 collided with another on U.S. 10 at White Lake road in Independence Township, resulting in the death of Pauline O'Malley, a passenger in the second car.

Noisy Jetliners Disturb Peace of German Night

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI)—Hamburg civic officials cleared the way for flights by Boeing 707 jet airliners into this city today. But elsewhere in Germany a battle raged over the giant planes.

The Hamburg City Senate granted permission for Pan American World Airways to fly Boeing 707s into and from Fuhlsbuettel Airport starting Oct. 26.

But it laid down weight restrictions for flights starting at night. Object of the restrictions which would prevent the planes taking off at night with loads of more than 95 tons is to ensure that they gain height quickly.

★ ★ ★

Residents of other cities where Pan American plans to fly Boeings already have protested about the noise the planes make, complaining that the roar of the engines makes sleep impossible.

Consider Extending Social Security Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — All persons 72 and older would be covered by old age and survivors insurance under one of several possible changes in the social security program now being discussed in government circles.

As now being considered, informed sources said today, such persons who have not earned social security monthly benefits through covered employment would be paid $33 a month. The cost would be met through appropriations of general revenues. The minimum for a person who has earned wage credits is now $33.

Such a change could be expected to reduce the cost of some of the federal-state public assistance programs. It also would help provide for what is becoming known as "independent living" without the recipients being carried on the assistance, or relief, rolls.

Compact Cars From U.S. Still Look Big Abroad

LONDON (AP) — The new U.S. compact cars were unveiled in London yesterday but they still looked big compared to Europe's economy cars.

★ ★ ★

The annual London Auto Show's press preview of 350 shiny new cars from 10 nations provided the comparison.

★ ★ ★

Some auto correspondents predicted that the American compacts would offer little direct competition to booming British and European exports for people who want small small cars.

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP)—Lt. Gov. George Nigh didn't get mad when he fell while water skiing in nearby Lake Murray. Nigh stunned—and caught—a 3½ pound bass.

Who Cashes In on Trading Stamps?

LANSING (AP) — Does Madam Housewife give the heave-ho to lots of trading stamps, or does she hoard nearly every last one and cash them all in?

Conflicting testimony on this point was heard by a legislative study committee yesterday. The committee decided to seek its own answer.

Frederic B. Besmer of Detroit, representing the Sperry and Hutchinson Co., distributor of Green Stamps, said that 95 per cent of stamps issued by his firm were redeemed for cash or merchandise.

"If this isn't true, certainly the federal government would be back on our doorstep to collect more (income) tax," he said. Unredeemed stamps played a part in the company's tax liability, he said.

A different view came from T. N. Spouse of Royal Oak, field director for the Michigan Retail Gasoline Dealers Assn. with an estimated 2,500 to 3,000 members.

Spouse guessed that 30 per cent of stamps went unredeemed. He urged legislation to treat them as currency and siphon their value into the state treasury.

He was vigorous in denouncing trading stamps as "economically unsound" and an appeal to the base delusion of "getting something for nothing."

★ ★ ★

Spouse said unredeemed stamps represented a "terrific and unjustified windfall" to the issuing companies.

TIGER BY THE TAIL?

He said half his members passed them out—unwillingly. They felt they had a "tiger by the tail" and were fearful of letting go lest a competitor profit by weaning away business.

Rep. Willard I. Bowerman Jr. (R-Lansing) advanced a possible explanation.

"People must like these stamps, the women—they get some purchasing power their husbands pay little attention to. Isn't that right?" he asked.

"Maybe that's true," Spouse replied.

Besmer said S. and H., operating in 62 of Michigan's 83 counties, in 1957 bought $1,667,000 in premiums, employed 300 persons at over $600,000 and paid out $121,805 in rent and $61,855 in state and local taxes.

He said he saw only a need for legislation to require the 22 stamp companies doing business in the state to disclose assets and post bond to guarantee stamp redemption in the event of failure.

He said two had failed in the last two years.

Besmer said a merchant offering stamps paid 2½ to 3 per cent of his gross for them.

Rep. Allison Green, Kingston Republican and committee chairman, instructed a committee aide to compile available information on stamp redemptions.

Membership Gains 4 Pct. for 7th Day Adventists

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Seventh Day Adventist Church reports that its worldwide membership rose to 1,149,256 last year, a gain of 4 per cent over the previous year.

★ ★ ★

Adventist giving, traditionally the highest of any major religious body, rose to a new record of $216 per capita. The average for all Protestant bodies, according to the yearbook of American churches, was about $63.

Bans Wheat Barter With Six Nations

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States yesterday banned exports of wheat and wheat flour for barter to six western European nations on grounds they can pay dollars for the products.

The six nations involved are Belgium, West Germany, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Switzerland and Britain.

A brief announcement said "The change was viewed as necessary to safeguard usual wheat and wheat flour marketings of the United States, to avoid replacement of cash sales for dollars and to preserve normal patterns of commercial trade in wheat and wheat flour."

Have Wide Discretion

BATON ROUGE — Louisiana local governments may levy taxes on property value fractions, ranging from 25 to 100 per cent.

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Hockey fans in the Detroit-Pontiac area have organized their own version of a quarterback club.

No official name has been given the club which has 200 men in the Detroit area enlisted as members, including general manager of the Red Wings Jack Adams and his staff.

Father Bernard Regan, hockey-minded priest at St. Basil's Novitiate on Giddings Road in Pontiac, is the key figure behind the organization which holds periodical evening social meetings with Red Wing officials and players as guests.

By its own rules, the club right now isn't prospering financially. You see, membership fees are governed by the Red Wing won and lost record. Each time the Wings fail to win, that is when they lose or tie, each member puts a buck in the pot.

As it stands right now, the Wings have cost each member only one dollar for that tie against Montreal in the season opener, as they have won every game to date.

Interested Pontiac members can contact Father Regan at FE 8-4551 or Art Bogue at FE 8-5105. Enough interest may bring about a few meetings of the club in Pontiac. The club will pick the No. 1 Red Wing fan at the season's end.

NORTHERN WANTS ADOPTED "ALUMNI"

Homecoming is usually the period when loyal alumni get together to talk over old times and cheer on the undergrad football team of their Alma Mater.

This Friday Pontiac Northern has scheduled its homecoming game at Wisner against Southfield, but the new school on North Perry is a little shy of alumni.

The alumni of the Red and White totals about 180, which made up the charter graduating class last June. So, the Huskies would like about 5,000 fans to be their "adopted" alumni for Friday night's homecoming activities.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Speaking of alumni, ex-Pontiac cager Harrison Munson an all "A" student during his four prep years, has been called by U. of D. freshman coach Brendan McNamara as "The best prospect on frosh cage team." Holly's George McDaniel also received high praise.

★ ★ ★

Art Mann, the physical director at the Pontiac YMCA, is leaving next month for Rochester, N.Y. where he will assume similar duties. He has been here three years and has done a very commendable job. We'll be sorry to see Art leave Pontiac.

Look of MSU Chosen as AP's Back-of-the-Week

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State quarterback Dean Look's selection as back of the week in the Associated Press poll made a sometimes painful, and always exasperating experiment suddenly very fruitful.

It paid off last Saturday in a 19-0 victory over Notre Dame before a national television audience that probably thought the Lansing senior had been a quarterback all his life. He engineered the Spartans' victory all along the line, chipping in with a 52-yard scoring pass to Fred Arbanas for MSU's second TD.

After the game Coach Duffy Daugherty was quick to praise the 5-foot 10-inch star who last year led all Spartan runners from his halfback spot.

BACK-OF-WEEK — Quarterback Dean Look of Michigan State received this week's honors as the Associated Press Back-of-the-Week for his play against Notre Dame last Saturday. Look set up one TD on a 41 yard run and passed 52 yards for another as MSU won, 19-0.

Colts, 49ers Favored to Win

By United Press International

The Baltimore Colts, San Francisco Forty-Niners and New York Giants are favored to retain their grips on first place in three of Sunday's National Football League features.

The Colts are heavy, 13-point choices to whip the Green Bay Packers at Baltimore although they share the Western Division lead with the Packers and Forty-Niners. The Forty-Niners entertain the Chicago Bears (1-3) and are slim, one-point favorites. The Western leaders have 3-1 records.

The oddsmakers also made New York (3-1) a one-point choice to retain its one-game Eastern Division lead by defeating the Steelers at Pittsburgh. The Steelers, Cleveland Browns, Washington Redskins and Philadelphia Eagles (each 2-2) are tied for second behind the Giants.

Cleveland plays host to the crippled Redskins and is a 9½-point favorite. Philadelphia is favored over the Chicago Cardinals (1-3) at Minneapolis. The Cardinals scheduled two of their six home games at Minneapolis this year. They will play the Giants there Nov. 22.

The Rams (2-2) are two-point choices to defeat the Detroit Lions (0-4) at Los Angeles in Sunday's other game.

Green Bay swept its games against the Bears, Lions and Forty-Niners but has been weakened by injuries and took a 45-6 whipping from the Rams last Sunday. The Colts appeared sluggish in their early games but showed the form that carried them to the 1958 championship during last Sunday's 21-7 triumph over the Bears. Ray Berry and Lenny Moore, two of Baltimore's top pass receivers, have recovered from injuries.

The Giants may spend a rugged afternoon at Forbes Field. The Steelers have been especially effective against the Giants at Pittsburgh. They were the only team that ran amok against the New York defense in 1958, hammering out a 31-10 victory in Pittsburgh.

San Francisco will throw a well-balanced club against the Bears. The Forty-Niners have scored 112 points, more than any other club. They have allowed 48, a defensive mark bettered only by the Browns, who have allowed 41.

★ ★ ★

The Redskins invade Cleveland with a club that fumbled seven times while dropping a 27-6 decision to Pittsburgh last Sunday. Coach Paul Brown appears to have developed another of the strong defensive units that have helped make his Browns so successful. But his offense has produced only 64 points in four games.

★ ★ ★

The Cardinals may have a quarterback problem when they face the Eagles. King Hill and M. C. Reynolds, the Cardinal signal-callers, were injured in last Sunday's 17-7 loss to the Browns. The Lions, only team without victory, face a formidable task at Los Angeles. The Rams always are hard to beat at home and scored road victories over the Bears and Packers in their last two starts.

NO. 76 IS BACK — Big Lou Creekmur who retired after last season, is back with the Detroit Lions getting in shape to play the rest of the 1959 season. Creekmur and Gil "The Horse" Mains throw a few shoulders at each other to warm up.

White Sox Sell Doby

Larry Doby's long and illustrious major league baseball career probably has come to an end. Doby, former American League slugging champion, was one of four players sold to San Diego by the Chicago White Sox yesterday. The Sox sent Doby to San Diego on Aug. 1. He broke his ankle at San Diego and missed the rest of the season.

Wilson Lures Creekmur Out of Retirement

Big Lou Will Attempt to Reinforce Sagging Detroit Line

DETROIT — Something "old" has been added to the Detroit Lions in an effort to make them a new team.

At 32, big Lou Creekmur is coming out of professional football retirement to help shake up the Lions' line which sagged badly in the club's 34-13 loss to the San Francisco 49ers Sunday.

Creekmur, who starts working out with the Lions today, doesn't expect too much difficulty in conditioning himself again for the rugged football the pros play.

The 6-foot-4 tackle who quit pro football last December after a brilliant career with the Lions, allowed himself to get soft in his job as Detroit Manager of Saginaw Transfer Co.

Creekmur said he now weighs 247 pounds and that's eight pounds under what he weighed at the close of the 1959 season.

"I know it will be tough at first," Creekmur said. "It will be just like those first scrimmages in camp — you're sore as a boil the next day."

Creekmur is expected to get into a few plays in the winless Lions' game with the Los Angeles Rams at Los Angeles Sunday and then see fulltime action as offensive left tackle for the remaing seven games.

Creekmur played pro football nine years following his graduation from William & Mary. He played on three championship Lion teams and became known as the iron man for playing in 168 straight games.

As an offensive tackle, he is adept at keeping opponents off balance.

The Lions made room for Creekmur's return by placing Ken Russell, a third-year tackle from Bowling Green State University (Ohio) on waivers.

John Gordy will move from left tackle to right guard, replacing rookies Mike Rabold and Bob Grottkau who were unable to slow the 49ers' hardcharging Leo Nomellini.

Lions' coach George Wilson got the idea of persuading Creekmur to return for a comeback when he spotted him at the Lions' fan club Monday. He said, "I went over and told him, 'we sure could have used you against the 49ers.' Then I sat down and the thought hit me 'why not'?"

It took a bit of talking for Wilson to persuade Creekmur and his boss, William T. Brown, president of Saginaw Transfer. They agreed yesterday. Creekmur will keep his job with the trucking firm while playing football for the Lions.

Creekmur's salary with the Lions last season was about $12,000.

Wilson was believed to have had to give Creekmur a raise to persuade him to return.

Pistons to Play at PNH Tonight

Five Clubs Opposed to Move

NEW YORK (AP)—It became quite clear Tuesday why Calvin Griffith did not move his Washington Senators to Minneapolis.

Five of the six clubs polled by the Senators' president advised him they would vote against the move.

Griffith received the blessings of only one club—the Boston Red Sox. He didn't contact the Kansas City club because its president, Arnold Johnson, had not yet returned from a European vacation.

The five negative voice votes came from New York, Baltimore, Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago.

"Every one of the clubs," an informant told The Associated Press, "told Griffith they felt Washington was a good franchise. One club owner told Calvin he should either go all out in an effort to make it a paying proposition in Washington or let somebody else operate it.

"I know that five clubs are against the move. Actually, I'm not even sure he had one vote although I believe Boston gave its consent."

PCH, W.L. Seek Harrier Titles in League Tests

After last week's fine victory over hitherto unbeaten Flint Northern cross-country squad, Dean Wilson's PCH distance runners today were rated along with Flint Central and the Northern teams as top contenders for the Saginaw Valley title, tomorrow. The SVC harriers meet at Swartz Creek Country Club at 4 p.m.

In another league harrier title meet Thursday at Hickory Hills Golf Club, Walled Lake's defending champions shoot for their 8th straight Inter-Lakes crown at 4:15 p.m. The I-L field includes Pontiac Northern, in its first title meet, and four other schools.

Leading opposition for PCH is expected to come from Indians' Bob Deneen and Bob Faulding, and from the Vikings' Jim Cooper, Fred Gross, Larry Ervin and Levi March.

★ ★ ★

However, the Valley title race is complicated this time by the first appearance in league competition for two new schools. Both Flint Southwestern and Midland have strong squads. It will be the first official SVC competition for the schools.

★ ★ ★

PCH tuned up for the SVC test, yesterday, at Edsel Ford's course, with a 20-37 win, led by Joe Anderson's 7th victory, without a defeat. Joe turned in a record 9:12 for the short layout. Chiefs finished six in the top 10, including Maurice Johnson, as runnerup; Jim Nelson 4th, Kenneth R. Byrd 6th, Ken L. Byrd 7th and Bill Campbell 9th.

Pontiac will pin its hopes on Anderson, who has set course records in four of the seven meets, on improved Maurice Johnson, Jim Nelson, Kenneth R. Byrd and Ken L. Byrd. All four have been under 11:35, while Anderson has hit 10:19 for the two miles.

A hot, 3-way individual battle is seen for the I-L meet. Berkley's Steve Myers, defending champion, will have to beat a fine pair in PNH's speedy Eddie Murray and Walled Lake's ace, George Beeman. Waterford, Berkley, Farmington and Southfield also have some good boys.

A reserve meet follows the varsity I-L event.

Robbins Rated 'Man to Beat'

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Long Tom Robbins of Pinehurst loomed as the man to beat in the North and South seniors golf tournament which moved into its second round today.

★ ★ ★

The 66-year-old missed by only three strokes shooting his age as he won a brilliantly played first round match Tuesday from James McAlvin of Lake Forest, Ill., 3 and 1.

★ ★ ★

Robbins, 1956 winner of the tournament and the 1958 U.S. Golf Assn. senior champion, weathered a late birdie flurry to close out McAlvin on the 17th hole.

That performance and the 1 up defeat of medalist Allen Rankin of Columbus, Ohio, by Paul Dunkel of Hackensack, N.J., were the first day features.

★ ★ ★

There was only one runaway, Ray Roberson of Indianapolis winning from Dr. R. M. Bowles of Sarasota, Fla., 7 and 5. The 15 other matches all carried at least to the 15th green.

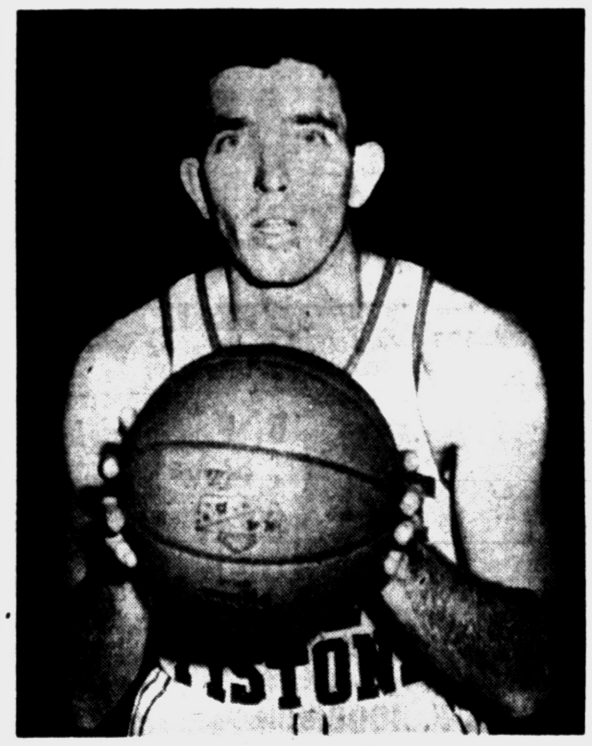
Iowa vs. Purdue in TV Feature

CHICAGO (UPI)—Iowa's offense, second best in the nation, and Purdue's defense, fifth best nationally, will be the show for television football fans this Saturday.

Iowa's No.'s 22 and 20 could furnish an early clue on the Hawkeye plans on every play. No. 22 is Olen Treadway, the first string quarterback, and if he gets the ball from center, the chances are the Hawkeyes will pass. If it's No. 20, it'll be Wilburn Hollis calling signals, and he usually runs.

Treadway last week set Big Ten records for most passes in a game, 41, and most passes completed, 26, against Wisconsin. But when he doesn't throw, and when Hollis chooses to handoff, watch Bob Jeter (11), Ray Jauch (46), and John Brown (43).

Iowa has standout receivers in Don Norton (83), the Big Ten's best pass catcher so far, Curt Merz (82) and Jeff Langston, but Treadway and Hollis also throw to the halfbacks as well as fullback Don Horn (30).



HERE TONIGHT — Gene Shue, one of the top players on the Detroit Pistons' basketball team, will be in action tonight at Pontiac Northern where the Pistons play an exhibition game against the Minneapolis Lakers, whom they defeated in the regular season opener last Sunday.

Pro Cage Star Elgin Baylor Is Laker Kingpin

NBA's 'Rookie of Year' Hit 52 Against Detroit Last Sunday

Professional basketball makes its first appearance in Pontiac tonight when the Detroit Pistons tangle with the Minneapolis Lakers at Pontiac Northern in an exhibition contest which is sandwiched between regular season games.

★ ★ ★

Last Sunday, in a nationwide telecast, the Pistons defeated the Lakers, 106-105 in a thrilling season opener for both teams.

The Pistons won despite a 52 point effort by Elgin Baylor the senational "rookie-of-the-year" who led Minneapolis into the NBA finals last season.

Detroit got a superb balanced attack in the Sunday game led by Gene Shue's 22 points and followed by Earl Lloyd and Archie Dees with 18 each, Bailey Howell with 14 and Chuck Noble with 13.

★ ★ ★

The Pistons may have come up with a rookie star of their own in Howell, the All-America from Mississippi State who was their No. 1 draft choice.

Howell helped with nine rebounds to go with his 14 points.

Baylor's 52 point spree came on 22 field goals and eight free throws.

★ ★ ★

Tonight's game is being sponsored by the Pontiac Jaycees and at 7:00 p.m. the coaches of both pro teams, Red Rocha of Detroit and John Castelanni of Minneapolis, will put on a short clinic.

★ ★ ★

The NBA teams get back to regular season play this weekend with the Pistons playing at Cincinnati and the Lakers traveling to St. Louis.

Rocha is hoping that Howell will be a good replacement for Baylor in this year's "rookie" honors, however the Piston coach says that "Baylor is in a class all by himself, there are very few players who can do everything as well as he can. He is truly one of the few-triple-threat men ever to play basketball."

Game time is 8:00 p.m. with adult tickets selling at $1.50 and students for $1.00.

★ ★ ★

There will be no standing room allowed at PNH tonight. Seating will be limited to the 1,800 capacity.

No. 5 for W.L. Reserves

Walled Lake High School's junior varsity football team boosted its season record to 5-0 yesterday with a 33-13 victory over Southfield on the Walled Lake gridiron.

Wrestlers Here Tonight

Professional wrestling resumes tonight at the Pontiac City Armory on Water St. Jim Bernard faces Raoul Romero in the feature match with Louie Klein meeting Don Duffy in the opening bout. Sandwiched between the two bouts will be an Australian tag team match sending Johnny Gates and Ali Bey against Dick Garza and Marcel Chevalier. The program starts at 8:30 p.m.

Fraser, Bueno Top Netters

NEW YORK (AP)—Neale Fraser of Australia and Maria Bueno of Brazil head the unofficial world amateur tennis rankings compiled by Edward C. Potter.

Potter, tennis historian and U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn. official, has been compiling the rankings for years and his lists are widely accepted.

Fraser drew the No. 1 spot in the men's rankings over Peruvian Alex Olmedo, whose game collapsed after he won Wimbledon. Miss Bueno won both the Wimbledon and U. S. crowns.

Four U. S. players were ranked in the men's top 10, with Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, placed 10th behind Bernard Bartzen of Dallas (4), Earl Buchholz Jr. of St. Louis (7) and Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn (8).

The rankings:

MEN

1. Neale Fraser, Australia. 2. Alex Olmedo, Peru. 3. Ramanathan Krishnan, India. 4. Bernard Bartzen, Dallas. 5. Luis Ayala, Chile. 6. Nicola Pietrangeli, Italy. 7. Earl Buchholz Jr., St. Louis. 8. Ron Holmberg, Brooklyn. 9. Rod Laver, Australia. 10. Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio.

WOMEN

1. Maria Bueno, Brazil. 2. Christine Truman, Britain. 3. Beverly Fleitz, Long Beach, Calif. 4. Sandra Reynolds, S. Africa. 5. Angela Mortimer, Britain. 6. Darlene Hard, Montebello, Calif. 7. Ann Haydon, Britain. 8. Renee Schuurman, S. Africa. 9. Yola Ramirez, Mexico. 10. Dorothy Knode, Forest Hills, N. Y.

Hope, Hillsdale Show Strong Defenses

Two Unbeatens in State College Ranks

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Despite the fact that his Hope College team is one of the state's two unbeaten football clubs, Coach Russ DeVette can't find any of his Dutchmen among the leaders in individual offense.

"We're a second division club—and a poor one at that—when it comes to offense," DeVette explained. "But we try to make up for it on defense."

Hope has a 5-0 record, like Hillsdale, and has yielded only 33 points. Hope has had one of the state's strongest defenses in recent seasons.

DeVette talked about his defensive success yesterday at the meeting of the Michigan Football Writers at Western Michigan University.

"We have been fortunate in having the type of kids who make good football students," said DeVette. "In recent years our strongest players have been linemen with good speed and agility. We try to impress upon them that preventing a touchdown is almost as good as scoring one yourself.

"We have the type of defense that emphasizes pursuit. Our kids are blessed with great desire and they have just somehow made good defensive players and made up for our lack of a powerful offense."

Tom Miller, Indiana sports publicity Jerry Planutis, now an assistant coach at the Hoosier school, scouted Michigan State against Notre Dame and reported that "the Spartans look like the Spartans of old."

Miller talked down Indiana's 3-1 record, saying "we've been playing in the kiddie league up to now." Indiana, which plays at Michigan State Saturday, has beaten Illinois, Marquette and Nebraska and lost to Minnesota.

★ ★ ★

MSU Coach Duffy Daugherty spoke to the writers via tape recording. His main concern this week, he said, is that some members of his club might suffer a mild letdown after such a good effort against Notre Dame.

★ ★ ★

The briefest scouting report of the week came from Dobbie Drake, coach at Kalamazoo Central High School. Drake scouted Hillsdale College for Rolla Anderson, the Kalamazoo College coach. He came back with a one-word report: "Wow!"

Merle Schlosser of Western Michigan said his Broncos are getting more in line with the rest of the Mid-American Conference.

★ ★ ★

"Right now, we're with Marshall and Toledo and the three of us are chasing Bolling Green, Miami, Ohio University and Kent State," the coach said. "But I think Western is catching up little by little. We're a young club and 24 of our first 33 men will be back next year and I hope we can catch up a little faster then."

TIMING COMES AFTER PRACTICE

By JIM SPALDING

When my bowling scores start falling I look first at my timing. Over the years I've found that lack of timing is one of the primary bowling faults. Of course, timing is essential to almost every sport.

Timing is the smooth coordination of all the separate actions you go through to deliver a bowling ball—pushaway, steps, arm swing, slide and release of the ball at the foul line. One body motion has got to flow into another in smooth, uninterrupted sequence.

Practice builds timing. As you go through the motions in practice, you gradually build muscular habits so that each action feels natural. Then the total bowling motion that puts all these actions together also becomes habit that does not require thought.

There is absolutely no substitute for practice—and more practice—to gain timing.

It is very puzzling, however, when your timing goes awry after you once have perfected it. The most frequent cause for this is unconsciously making some little change in your bowling style. Perhaps your backswing is a trifle higher. That means you've got to readjust the backswing's coordination with your steps to perfect your timing. If you push the ball away just a little more or a little less, the relationship of all your arm motions to your steps must be readjusted or your timing will be off.

Sometimes you may find yourself dropping the ball behind the foul line instead of getting it out on the alley 6 to 12 inches beyond the foul line. There's one way you can discover this fault for yourself. Put a hand towel on the foul line. If you're dropping the ball short of the foul line, the ball will take the towel with it.

However, the little thing that has thrown you off may be difficult to find. Practice is the only way to look at it.

It's usually best to have someone else observe you during practice to point out the change in your style. And, of course, the best person to check you over is the instructor at your local bowling establishment.

When bowling becomes work, suspect your timing. When timing is right, it takes very little effort to bowl; you're letting your ball do the work.

PNH 'Homecoming' Heads Prep Football Slate

By BILL CORNWELL

There's been only one graduating class in the history of Pontiac Northern High School, but the Northsiders are undaunted.

They're going to stage their first annual "Homecoming" football game this Friday evening at Wisner Stadium, even though the collection of "old grads" will be a small one.

Winless Southfield is the invader for the benefit of Northern's numerically thin alumni as the scrappy Huskies try to keep their Inter-Lakes Conference title hopes alive in their first year of gridiron competition.

The Huskies were able to land just three home games this fall and if Friday's outing with Southfield is as successful as their opener at Wisner, the grads are bound to be pleased.

You will recall that in the home opener the Huskies upset defending champion Farmington, 25-20.

Pontiac Central, which has played four of its first five games on friendly Wisner soil, takes to the road Friday night for an important Saginaw Valley Conference tussle with Flint Northern in Flint's Atwood Stadium.

The Chiefs will be underdogs against the Flint Vikings, pre-season favorites to win the Valley crown. Coach Jesse MacLeay's warriors stand 1-1 in the SVC after last week's 9-6 win over Saginaw here and their overall record is 4-1.

Although still without a victory in five tries, Southfield must be respected by coach Ed Heikkinen and his Northern gridders. The Jays have lost all three I-L starts by a combined total of 17 points, a one-touchdown difference in each game.

The luckless Jays look ready to explode against somebody and the Huskies are the most likely target at the moment. Northern has a 2-1 league mark and still holds ambitions of catching pace-setting Walled Lake in the race for 1959 honors.

Undefeated Walled Lake has its hands full Friday night. The Vikings clash with Farmington on the Walled Lake turf and the Falcons are certain to be set for this one.

★ ★ ★

Farmington also has a 2-1 conference record and its hopes of repeating as loop champ or at least sharing the laurels are by no means dead.

Waterford and Berkley will collide in a battle of also-rans at Waterford to complete the Inter-Lakes schedule.

Northern's struggle with Southfield and Central's visit to Flint Northern are the feature attractions of a jam-packed Friday slate for prep gridders in the Oakland County area.

West Bloomfield, buried by bulldozing Northville last week in a Wayne-Oakland showdown, tries to keep its flickering title chances alive in a duel at Clarkston. Northville tackles dangerous Brighton on the Brighton gridiron while Holly goes to Bloomfield Hills and Milford entertains Clarenceville.

Ferndale can just about sew up the Eastern Michigan League crown by defeating visiting Port Huron. The Dales are unbeaten in five contests. Pre-season favorite Birmingham, now out of title contention, travels to Mt. Clemens.

Avondale, defending Oakland B king, faces an unpredictable Lake Orion team at Avon. The improving Dragons pose a distinct threat to Avon, which has a showdown fight with unbeaten Fitzgerald looming on the horizon. Fitzgerald plays host to Madison and the annual Troy-Clawson feud resumes at Clawson to round out the card.

★ ★ ★

Rochester, one step away from the Tri-County League championship, battles Howell in a non-conference scrap at Howell.

Oxford goes to Millington and Ortonville invades North Branch in South Central action while front-running Imlay City visits Marlette for a non-league contest. The Southern Thumb has a four-game program, featuring Almont at Armada, Anchor Bay at Dryden, Capac at Memphis and Brown City at New Haven.

EXPLAIN THIS — There is an explanation as to why a football official is in a cornfield with the ball. The Wapsie High team in northeast Iowa is in its first year of football and every time there's a kick for an extra point the official has to retrieve the ball from among the cornstalks. Wapsie defeated New Hartford 34-14 last week and six trips were made to the cornfield to retrieve the ball.

Bay City Still No. 1
Latest Prep Ratings

Bay City Central continues to hold on to the top spot in this week's class A ratings in both the Associated Press and the United Press International polls.

Grand Rapids Catholic continued to push Bay City by sticking close in second place, while Benton Harbor fell a few notches because of its loss to Kalamazoo Central.

Ferndale, with a 10-7 win over Birmingham last week, grabbed 6th place in the UPI and 11th spot in AP.

Imlay City held on to second place in class C after bouncing Oxford last week.

West Bloomfield exited in Class B after a thumping from Northville and the Albion pasting cost Lakeview a spot in the rankings.

'Jug' Classic Lacks Old-Time Glamor

Old Opponents Try It Again This Weekend

Both Michigan, Gophers Have Fallen on Evil Days on Gridiron

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Little Brown Jug is dry.

Bad times have siphoned off the glamor from the storied piece of crockery that once gurgled at the sight of football powers clashing over it.

The ancient antagonists, Michigan and Minnesota, go at it again here Saturday. But, sad to say, it is hard to see how either one can win.

How far have the mighty fallen?

Michigan, the onetime champion of the west, has lost nine of its last 11 games. It is now suffering the indignity of being last in the Big Ten, and if it doesn't win Saturday it may never get higher this year.

★ ★ ★

Minnesota's Gophers, who used to be called the giants of the north, have won only three times in their last 19 games. In the Big Ten they are tied for ninth.

Both teams are 1-3 this year.

The Jug has witnessed battles between some of the great teams in football history. It has seen some games between powerhouses and pushovers but rarely has it presided over a game that compounds as much misfortune as this one.

★ ★ ★

Michigan hasn't beaten a Big Ten team since it defeated Minnesota 20-19 a year ago. Young and experimenting under new coach Bump Elliott it showed signs of strength by playing Northwestern almost even last week before faltering in the late going and losing 20-7.

Elliott is one of the few college coaches going all out with the platooning system. In addition to a No. 1 unit that plays either way Michigan has a defensive unit and an offensive team. Elliott figures to stay with the system against a Minnesota team that will confront him with a big weight advantage.

The Gophers, young too, ran into a wretched stretch of luck against Northwestern and Illinois, losing to both by a touchdown after playing superbly on defense.

As strong as most teams in the Big Ten defensively, Minnesota has been unable to move the ball. Its sophomore quarterback, Sandy Stephens, is an exciting and dangerous runner but a wild thrower.

College Football

by "RED" BLAIK

NEW YORK (AP)—The entire country it watching the development of the Syracuse powerhouse. The Orange now has won four out of four impressively and appears to have a line to match Southern California's, Auburn's or any you mention. Coach Ben Schwartzwalder also has some fine backs in versatile Gedhard Schwedes, veteran Art Baker, sophomore passer Dave Sarette and his clever and hard-running classmate, Ernie Davis.

The forthcoming round-robin among Syracuse and those two other well-muscled Eastern independents, Penn State and Pittsburgh, will produce savage-hitting football. Penn State, led by all-purpose quarterback Richie Lucas, now has won five out of five, including Missouri and Army. Pitt, somewhat uneven in its play, as the upset by West Virginia emphasized, can nevertheless be relied on to provide a ferocious test for both the Orange and Nittany Lions.

Out of this round-robin should emerge the Eastern champion, a very respectable ranking nationally for two if not all three, and participation by one or perhaps two in the Cotton, Orange or 'Gator Bowls.

Despite their solid football setups, Syracuse, Penn State and Pitt would like to be members of a conference, specifically a part of the proposed and much discussed transcontinental conference or jet league.

The transcontinental is a dramatic and not impractical concept and represents the progressive thinking college football needs. It is a mistake, however, to contemplate Army, Navy and the Air Force in the plan. They feel that as national institutions belonging to the people everywhere, they should not become formally allied with any conference. Anyhow, I doubt they are indispensable to the idea.

Why not plan toward a ten-team conference of two five-team divisions, one West, one East? The West would be the already existent Athletic Assn. of Western Universities: UCLA, Southern California, California Stanford and Washington. The Eastern group would have Notre Dame, Pittsburgh, Duke, Syracuse and Penn State.

A six-game minimum would be required for championship participation, with each team playing four divisional and two intersectional opponents, the latter on an alternating basis.

The AAWU will be, in fact, the Western Rose Bowl representative beginning in 1961. And Big Ten friends who should know advise me it will drop out of the Pasadena classic after the 1960 game, thus opening the way to other Eastern participation.

Seven of the schools I've mentioned already are warm to the plan. The other three — Notre Dame, Stanford and Duke — could well be won over to it. With few exceptions, the 10 schools already have future games with one another. They all share reasonably common grounds in recruiting, aid and academic screening. By forming a conference, they would gain, at least psychologically, a position in schedule-making they now lack.

Buddy Blattner Admits Personal Rift With Dean

ST. LOUIS (AP)— Sportscaster Buddy Blattner confirmed reports Tuesday that a personal difference with Dizzy Dean prompted him to resign from a contract said to call for $75,000 a year.

The 40-year-old former major league infielder said he had asked for and received his releaee because he no longer wantd to work with Dean, former pitching great.

★ ★ ★

Blattner said Dean insisted that their sponsor withdraw approval for him to work the National League playoff games between Milwaukee and Los Angeles.

"Diz can be charming," Blattner said, "but he likes to push people around. I had made up my mind he'd do it only once to me."

Bunning, Foytack 1-2 in AL

Burdette Major League Gopher Ball Champion

NEW YORK (AP) —Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves gave up 38 home runs in 1959, the most allowed by any major league pitcher. This was 20 more than he yielded in 1958.

Jim Bunning of the Detroit Tigers paced the American League in gopher balls the past season with 37.

Burdette's chief tormentors were the Chicago Cubs, figures released by The Associated Press showed today. The Cubs slammed 11 homers off the right-handed veteran. Ernie Banks of the Cubs and Orlanda Cepeda of San Francisco tagged Burdette for four homers each.

★ ★ ★

Burdette worked 290 innings, winning 21 games and losing 15. In 1958, he pitched 275 innings, allowing only 18 homers with a 20-10 record.

★ ★ ★

Bunning, also a right-hander pitched 250 innings the past year and had a 17-13 record. The Cleveland Indians hit him for nine homers and Kansas City for seven. He had the most trouble with Harmon Killebrew of Washington and Minnie Minoso of Cleveland, giving up three home runs to each. Bunning allowed 28 homers in 1958.

★ ★ ★

Paul Foytack of Detroit was second to Bunning in the American. He gave up 34 homers. Pedro Ramos of Washington was third with 30. Ramos, the leader in 1958 with 38, established the American League record with 43 in 1957.

★ ★ ★

Early Wynn of the Chicago White Sox, who led the majors with 22 victories yielded 19 homers.

Maverick Race Favorite Today on Lake Mead

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A crowd of 20,000 to 30,000 is expected to line the shores of Lake Mead today for the first annual hydroplane cup race.

Maverick, the 1959 national champion unlimited hydroplane, is favored to win, although it was damaged somewhat yesterday when lifted from the lake. A crane fell over and the $100,000 boat dropped into gravel and mud.

Placed back in the water, it broke a propeller blade and had to be towed ashore. W. T. Waggoner of Phoenix, Ariz., owner of Maverick, said it should be ready for the test, nevertheless.

★ ★ ★

A field of 10 of the finest unlimited hydroplanes in the world are all set for the race.

Orioles Buy Hurler

BALTIMORE (AP) — Pitcher John Anderson, who had a brief trial with the National League Phillies, was bought today by the Baltimore Orioles from Miami.

The past season, the 27-year-old native of St. Paul, Minn., won 12 and lost nine. He had a respectable earned run average of 2.70 and exhibited excellent control by walking only 40 batters in 203 innings.

Spartans Have 19 Fumbles in Four Contests

Ball Carriers Commit Nine Miscues Against Irish Last Week

EAST LANSING (AP)—Coach Duffy Daugherty is trying this week to cue the attack of dropsy that hit ball-carriers in the Notre Dame game.

The Spartans have lost 13 of 19 fumbles in four games this season. The fit of fumblitis was particularly bad against the Irish with five of nine fumbles lost.

The ball-handing was smooth in the backfield and it was more a case of the carrier losing the ball on the tackle. The Notre Dame defensemen were playing the ball—clawing it away as they tackled.

This still wasn't the worst example of a game of drop the football. The MSU record was set in the Kansas State game of 1957 when the Spartans committed 13 fumbles.

Daugherty is trying to teach his backs to guard the ball as they would their wallets.

"It's the same thing as if you were jostled in a subway crowd," he said. "First thing you do is grab your wallet."

He also advised that since a football hasn't got a handle, it's a good idea to grab ahold on both ends on being tackled.

"I've never yet seen a touchdown made without the football," he added.

Tactics on the point after touchdown try also were getting a good going over this week.

Art Brandstatter's second point kick was blocked last Saturday when a Notre Dame defenseman knifed through the MSU line to deflect the ball—the first time it happened this year.

The pass from center was bad on the third try and Brandstatter improvised a lefthanded pass that went wide.

The regulars were spared from hitting in the workout yesterday to allow them to recover from bumps and bruises picked up against Notre Dame.

Carl Charon, sophomore fullback from Boyne City, was doing some stand-in duty with the varsity for Blanche Martin. Martin has been bothered by rib and leg bruises but is expected to be ready to start against Indiana Saturday.

By CHUCK ABAIR

Mike Figa was riding on a cloud a couple weeks ago after bowling a 300 in that memorable battle for a sandwich but the ball he used for the perfect effort is now at the bottom of Orchard Lake.

It seems Mike threw it there Sunday evening.

Topnotch keglers have been known to discard a ball after a bad day hoping for a change of luck but this guy really went all out. Didn't even want to keep it as a souvenir of his 300.

The heave into the water was the climax to a miserable day on the alleys for the likeable Mike.

He had finished far down the list in the final Bowlerama qualifying round due mainly to a 159 game at Westside—his 2nd failure in the meet this year.

Mike left right after his squad finished with a group of 700 Bowling Chapter members for a three-city battle with Ann Arbor and Flint. The local team did a great job but not because of any help from Figa. He totaled 416 for the lowest series in the tourney.

On the trip home, Mike ordered the driver to stop the car while going by the lake. He calmly hopped out, wound up and fired his best fastball into the water. It was his best hit of the day.

This may ease the minds of any skin divers in that sector who have been staying away from a round, black object with some holes in it.

The town is still buzzing about the big Bowlerama scores at Westside Sunday as no less than 99 men totaled 601 or better with their handicaps.

There were a lot of surprises but Frank Spadafore's 710 was not one of them. He has been burning up the Orchard Lake Avenue alleys like he owned them lately.

Frank hit 300, 299, 290, 223 and 205 within one short span in warming up for the tourney.

Speaking of big showings, how about the job Monroe Moore turned in in the National All-Star qualifying at Detroit. He had to beat the best to make the January finals and did so despite not feeling in top shape physically.

Brazilian Rider Wins Double Entry Victory

HARRISBURG (AP)—Maj. Renyido Ferreira gave Brazil its second winner's trophy Tuesday night riding a double entry in the Pennsylvania national horse show's international jumping competition.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Ferreira took his mounts, Marengo and Pai Passo, cleanly over the eight-obstacle course in separate rides. He was the only rider in teams from five nations to make the circuit without a fence knockdown.

Second place went to Canada's James Elder. Argentina's Lt. Carlos Marcelli was awarded third pace.

William Steinkraus of the United States team took fourth pace on Ksar d'Esprit and Trail Guide.

Argentina retained its lead in team standing with 40 points. Brazil is second only two points behind. The Mexican team is in third place with 26 points.

Pontiac Area Hunters Early Contest Leaders

Pheasant 'Derby' Entries Rolling In Today

By The Press Outdoor Editor

After a slow opening day listing, entries began to roll in today, for the 1959 Pontiac Press "Big Pheasant Derby."

Fewer birds were taken, apparently, than during last year's pheasant season's first day. The Tuesday start, and the 10 o'clock time may have militated somewhat to the slow action. But today's shooting and the coming weekend are sure to boost the take sharply.

Most area hunters reported seeing "lots of birds," promising good early-season sport.

First leaders for the "Derby" were two Pontiac area shotgunners, both operating in the eastern part of the county.

SCHOOLBOY FIRST TO REPORT SUCCESS

First successful hunter to report a ringneck was 14-year-old schoolboy Terry Stein, son of James Stein, 3369 Coseyburn, Drayton Plains. Terry bagged his 37½-inch rooster near Ortonville. He borrowed his mother's 20-gauge, Mrs. Stein being shelved for the opener by an injury. Terry was proud of this, his first pheasant.

Here are the early leaders:

Heaviest—Frank Graf, 4327 W. Walton, Pontiac with a 3-pound, 2-ounce bird. Longest—Lester Schoonover, 2069 Knollwood rd. Pontiac Township, a 32-inch (tip of beak to tip of tail feather).

Graf's beautifully colored, several year old prize was downed near the county line at Clyde, while the hunter was working a field alone. It was his only bird. "Kinda like a weding anniversary gift," says Graf, who celebrated his golden wedding date with his wife and a big party, on Sunday.

Schoonover and his pal, Mel Zuehlk, each bagged two nice birds, with the former's 2nd rooster taking the contest lead. They were hunting near Utica, at Dequindre and Ryan roads, saw "lots of birds, and even more hunters." Two others in their party downed a rooster apiece.

Schoonover, a hardware merchant on Woodward ave., just below Birmingham, has been an ardent hunter since he was 8 years old. "I'm 44 now, and I still am just as interested in the sport," he said.

DISCHARGED AIRMAN 'GETS THE BIRD'

Other successful hunters included Floyd Chancy, 59 Poplar, Pontiac, who bagged two ringnecks off Perry, north of Walton while hunting with a friend, Jim Stanley. Chancy has just been discharged from the Kinross Air Force Base.

A possible new leader was reported early today by Joe Tersigni, 3460 Mt. Vernon, Pontiac, who shot a fat rooster on his dad's farm near Clarkston. He was expected to bring it in today for checking.

★ ★ ★

Another "pat" hunter who reports good shooting in the Gladwin district is Fred Baucom, Lapeer, who says his party of six took 16, and could have downed even more.

RAVENS HILL DANES ADD MORE LAURELS

Mary Jane and Hank Roberts' Ravens Hill great Danes, sired by their fine Motor City show stud dog winner of a year ago, big Caeser, continue to add to their show honors. "Shine" (Ravens Hill Harvest Moon) went 1st female for puppies 6-9 months and best pup (Dane) at the Lincoln Park match. Match was held by the Companion Dog Training all-breed club.

RH's Glorious Leader (Tiger) was first in the breed's open class. He is 14-months old. Sugarfoot and Suzy will go to the Motor City show in the 9-12 months class. Both will be 9 months old day before the show.

★ ★ ★

Despite all the warnings and advice to hunters to stress gun safety at all times, there continues to be unstable individuals who ignore every precaution, and wind up shooting someone else. Like the fellow who "thought he heard a pheasant rising," turned and let go a blast—at his companion. He certainly didn't heed one of the commandments of a sane and safe man with a gun—"be sure of your target, and don't pull the trigger unless you are certain you want to shoot what is in your line of fire."

Pontiac Press Photos

LEADERS — First leaders for The Press' annual "Big Pheasant Derby" were on the books today, after a rather slow opening day's shooting. The longest bird was the 43-incher (left) shot by Lester Schoonover, Pontiac township, and heaviest, a 3-pound 2-ouncer, taken by Frank Graf, 4327 W. Walton.

Farmer-Hunter Relations Up Again

Hunting's Biggest Problem

LANSING (UPI) — The problem of hunter-farmer relations makes itself felt the most during these few days between opening of pheasant season and the end of the season's first weekend.

This is the time about 75 per cent of the total hunters through the season will be in the fields. After the first weekend, the volume of hunters takes a sharp drop.

"After that, there's little problem of hunter-farmer relations," said Everett Tucker, assistant chief of the field administration division of the Conservation Department.

Tucker said the steady hunter, the one who is out through nearly all of the season, generally has a place to hunt and has established good relations with the farmer.

The problem comes with the bulk of hunters who swarm into the country opening day and opening weekend. The farmer often gets a bad taste of hunters' action during this time when fences are damaged and farm animals frightened.

"A guy may be a perfect gentleman at home," Tucker said, "but give him a gun and put him with four or five buddies early in the season and he sometimes becomes a different person.

"He would expect courtesy from the farmer visiting the city. He'd probably call the police right away if someone parked across his driveway but many hunters do just this kind of thing at a farm."

Conservation director Gerald Eddy said the guiding principle in these situations should be "appreciation and understanding of the other person's rights."

"The farmer is naturally cautious of a large group," he said. "There is more chance for accidents than if one, two or three hunt together."

★ ★ ★

Tucker said the trouble erupting from hunter and farmer squabbles has been lessening in recent years because organized sportsmen and farm groups have been working on the problems.

65 Dogs Run in Highland Pointer Trial

Pointers and setters from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Canada comprised a very fast field for the annual fall field trial held by Michigan Pointer and Setter Club.

Sixty-five dogs ran in the half dozen events at Highland Recreation Area. One test, the open all-age, was canceled because of lack of entries.

Birds sat tight mostly, and in a number of instances dogs came up with multiple points that included several at a time.

Top dogs included:

Michigan-owned Warhoop Apache, 1st open shooting dog; 2. Palamonium Best (Fran Lucki, Dearborn); 3. Pamela Santee Babe (Paul Patterson, Flint).

Open derby—1. Farmer's Bob (E. A. Carroll, agent); 2. Canada Express (Harvey Vandelinder, Elmsburg, Ont.); 3. Sexton's Bob (Len Sexton, Detroit).

Open puppy stake—3rd, Satilla Wahoo Reb (Dave Grubb, Pontiac).

Amateur shooting dog—1. Sorcerer (Frank Stacey, Dearborn); 2. Drifter (Bob Baker, Detroit); 3. Drum (Dearborn).

Amateur puppy—2nd, Wahoo Reb (Grubb), which has won two seconds and a third in the last two weekends.

Two New Ranges at Proud Lake Park

Area riflemen and shotgunners are invited to make use of the two new ranges in Proud Lake Recreation Area.

"We have just completed a 100-yard high-power rifle range out here," says park manager Alfred Masini, who added that the range will accommodate 19 riflemen at the same time. It is located in the southwest corner of the park's grounds.

There is also a new bluerock shotgun field. Scattergunners will have to take their own traps for tossing out the clay "birds." It's the first shotgun range in area parks, Masini believes. Pontiac Lake has a popular "sighting-in" rifle range.

Million Dollar Hatchery for Restoring Lake Trout

LANSING—U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service officials aired their plans for a $1,000,000-$1,500,000 fish hatchery in the Jordon River Valley during an informal public hearing at the proposed site.

As outlined, approximately 2,000,000 yearling lake trout would be produced annually at the federal hatchery. This stock would be used in the 10-year restoration program for lake trout in the upper Great Lakes, comprising the bulk of Michigan's annual planting quota.

Approximately 300 acres in the Pigeon River state forest are sought as the hatchery site by the federal agency. Half of this land would be used to establish buildings and facilities while the remainder would provide vegetative cover for for the site's watershed. The land borders the Jordan River in Antrim County north of Alba.

Should negotiations to acquire the land and construction funds receive favorable action, the hatchery would begin trout production in 1962.

Eagles Sign Cothren

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles announced Tuesday signing fullback Paige Cothren, second high scorer in the National Football League last year but released before the 1959 season started by Los Angeles.

Vince McNally, general manager, also disclosed that Ken McAfee, veteran pro end, was being released to make way for Cothren, a field goal and extra point kicking specialist.

Few Limits Opening Day

Both Hunters, Birds Down

By JERRY CHIAPPETTA
United Press International

Michigan's biggest and noisiest opening day of the 1959 hunting season was a beautiful day for a walk in the fields but wasn't as productive as previous seasons.

★ ★ ★

A survey found that the army of small game hunters had dwindled some from last year.

One hunter said, "there wasn't that boom, boom, boom we are used to hearing in Genesee County."

The Thumb area, usually the best for pheasant hunting, was doing a booming business opening day in certain spots, according to Imlay City conservation supervisor Herman Haedicke.

Certain areas had few hunters per square mile, while others had too many gunners.

Theer was too much foliage to suit most shotgunners who reported the birds had too much cover to hide in. This plus the reduced pheasant population contributed to the generally light bag.

Similar conditions were reported in Macomb County. Sanilac County reported that the number of hunters, compared to last year, was very light.

★ ★ ★

Tuscola County also had fewer hunters and a lower kill.

Conservation Department officers in the field said they expected another big wave of gunners this weekend when school-age youngsters have their first chance at small game.

Uses Good Therapy in Climb Back to Health

Lovely Gene Tierney Well Again

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — The news that lovely Gene Tierney is now clerking in a Topeka dress shop, as therapy in her long climb back to emotional stability, reminds me of a hopeful morning nearly a year ago.

I met Miss Tierney in a coffee shop off Broadway.

The day was soft, shiny and exceptionally beautiful for New York. And so was she. The actress had just been released from the Menninger Clinic, pronounced cured of the breakdown which had kept her in mental hospitals for 26 months.

At the age of 37 she was stunning; her black hair touched with white, her patrician face as delicately flawless as ever, her figure an ideal showcase for the black sheath dress designed by her ex-husband Oleg Cassini.

Without evident nervousness, in fact with uncommon frankness, Miss Tierney answered all questions about her illness. She prefaced the interview by saying "I'll answer your questions about my illness, but I don't want to capitalize on it. It is not right to capitalize on a tragic thing in my life—and being mentally ill is a great tragedy."

★ ★ ★

In talking about it, Miss Tierney was still going through therapy. During those two hours and many cups of coffee, I often felt as much an analyst as a reporter.

TALKED OF TROUBLES

She talked of the events in her life that led to her collapse more than four years ago—of her "tremendous disillusionment" with her father, whom she had idolized; of her squabbles with Cassini, whom she married twice and still admires ("I think temperament is very attractive in a man . . . but I can't bear dissension"); of the ironic twist of fate which led her to contract German measles during her first pregnancy, resulting in the birth of a mentally retarded child who must be institutionalized for life.

There were many more minor tragedies, and Gene Tierney blamed no one for them. She put the blame entirely on her own basic optimistic nature.

"I was so stalwart," she said. "I bore up so beautifully. I never cried. I always held it in. What a terrible mistake!"

When her nervous state became acute, "it was like being on cloud 9," she remembered. "I didn't talk. I simply couldn't communicate. Someone would say something to me, and I would take what they said and turn it over, and pull it apart, and weigh it. It was like a thought from another world. . . ."

Throughout all these revelations, Miss Tierney had been smiling and warm. Then, as she began to talk of her experiences at the Menninger Clinic, the first small shade of doubt sneaked into my reporter's mind.

Maybe it was the tentative way she worded it:

"Now I am considered cured," she said. "The doctors have given me carte blanche to do as much as I like. They never expect me to be ill again.

"But I have a safety valve. If I ever should feel nervous again, I can go to Topeka for a week or 10 days and talk to them. This is good to know."

Wistfully, then, she described a memorable day at Menninger's, when a girl walked into her room wearing pink and yellow. "An odd combination, but pretty," she mused. "You can't imagine how very sensitive you are to beauty when you're sick. Pink and yellow made me happy all day."

★ ★ ★

I hope the Topeka dress shop where Miss Tierney is clerking is good and gay and sells pretty things. I hope its clientele are more kind than curious. And most of all I hope the gentle new saleslady is once again, and permanently, certain of the feeling she had briefly a year ago—that "everything's going to come to me now. There will be compensations for my illness."

May Yet Reverse Marijuana Sentence

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Dist Atty. Henry Wade said Monday that stripper Candy Barr has won another chance at reversing her 15-year sentence for possession of marijuana.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. Supreme Court informed Wade's office that Candy's lawyers will be given 20 days to file a motion for a rehearing. The court recently denied her plea to review the Texas conviction.

The second chance means the blonde, baby-faced strip-tease artist will stay away from jail at least until the court acts again.

★ ★ ★

Candy is free now on $15,000 bond and is sitting out her appeal in Los Angeles. Her arrest cannot be ordered until the court finally turns down the appeal and sends its mandate to Dist. Court Judge Joe Brown's court here.

Photographers to Meet

DETROIT (AP)—More than a dozen top photographers will demonstrate the latest in photographic equipment at a meeting open to all Michigan photographers at the Detroit Press Club, Nov. 12-13. The session is sponsored by the National Press Photographers Assn.

Steels Slide Off Awaiting Ruling

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels declined while electronics and selected motors advanced in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

★ ★ ★

The market awaited a court ruling on the government's application for an 80-day cooling-off period in the steel strike. Whether it is granted or not, however, the outlook regarding steel shortages was a discouraging factor.

Steels were virtually at a standstill in early trading but slipped as the session wore on, some taking losses of more than a point.

Gains and losses of fractions to a point prevailed among pivotal issues throughout the list.

★ ★ ★

Aircrafts and oils declined. Airlines and tobaccos moved slightly ahead. Chemicals, rubbers and farm implements were irregular.

Losses of more than a point were taken by Republic Steel and Youngstown Sheet. Bethlehem was down about a point while U.S. Steel yielded a fraction.

Both American Motors and Studebaker-Packard resumed their strong showing of yesterday but American Motors erased a gain of about a point and showed a fractional net loss after the company decided against an October meeting and said dividend action will not be considered until Nov. 30. Studebaker-Packard reduced an early gain of about a point.

Texas Instruments and Varian Associates highlighted the electronics with gains of more than 2 apiece. Raytheon rose well over a point.

March Wheat at New High

CHICAGO (AP) — March wheat climbed to a new season high today as demand for all grains increased on the Board of Trade.

March wheat advanced to $2.03¼ around the opening of trade as commission houses and professional traders pushed the nearby contracts up as much as a cent a bushel. Some of the demand for the bread grain was said to be in anticipation of a bullish government report on the amount of wheat placed under government support.

Soybean advances ranged up to more than a cent a bushel in early transactions. Demand reportedly came principally from processors and speculative interests.

Corn was in fair demand, as were oats and rye early in the trade.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅛ to 1 cent higher, December $1.99⅛; corn ⅛ to ⅜ higher, December $1.09¾; oats ¼ to ⅜ higher, December 74½; rye ⅜ to ⅝ higher, December $1.35½; and soybeans ¾ to ⅞ higher, November $2.13¾.

3 Hurt, 1 Critically, in Lapeer Crash

LAPEER — Three persons were injured, one critically, in a two-car accident last night in Lapeer Township.

★ ★ ★

Moses Graham, 54, of Grosse Isle suffered multiple fractures in the mishap and is listed in critical condition today at Lapeer County General Hospital.

A passenger in Graham's car, Oak Park attorney Dean Robb of 24071 Norwood St., and the driver of the other car, Charles Moore, 62, of 2565 Bowers Rd., Lapeer Township, were treated for lacerations and bruises at Lapeer County General Hospital and released.

★ ★ ★

Witnesses told Lapeer County sheriff's deputies that Graham drove on the wrong side of the road and struck the left front of Moore's car. Investigation of the accident was to be continued today.

Wildcat Strike Idles 4,500 at Chrysler

DETROIT (UPI) -- A wildcat strike by members of United Auto Workers union Local 7 at Chrysler Corp.'s East Jefferson Plant has about 4,500 workers idle today.

★ ★ ★

Company officials said they could not foresee when the walkout might end but pickets kept about 2,500 production workers on the first shift from their jobs this morning.

The walkout, by about 60 employes on the panel instrument line in the assembly plant, began yesterday in protest over reassignment of a woman worker.

Sub Sabotage? Navy Is Probing Nautilus Damage

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (AP) — Damage, "apparently intentional," to the nuclear submarine Nautilus is under investigation today at the Portsmouth naval shipyard where the world's first atomic-powered vessel is being overhauled.

★ ★ ★

Capt. Carl A. Johnson, acting shipyard commandant, who so described the damage, said it appeared limited to electrical cables.

The Navy in Washington said the damage "does not extend to the nuclear reactor plant."

★ ★ ★

The Nautilus came to Portsmouth July 26 for an extensive overhaul. The damage was discovered Oct. 15.

Says Reuther Found Guiltless

Robert Kennedy Tells UCLA Students, Profs of Rackets Probe

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Robert Kennedy disclosed last night that Republican members of the anti-rackets committee gave labor leader Walter Reuther a clean bill of health after a full investigation.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy, a former counsel of the committee, made the statement before a group of 500 UCLA students and professors in answer to charges that Democratic members of the group had "whitewashed" Reuther.

"We spent just as much time investigating Mr. Reuther as other labor leaders and couldn't find a single thing out of line," he said. "The investigation was conducted by Republican members of the committee."

Kennedy, younger brother of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), told the group that "not only unions themselves but management and members of the Bar Assn." are responsible for preventing malpractices in labor.

Lincoln and Continental Advertising Is Shifted

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co.'s Mercury-Edsel-Lincoln division has assigned its advertising account for Lincoln and Continental cars to Kenyon & Eckhardt, Inc.

The account had been handled by Foote, Cone & Belding since last December.

It is estimated Americans consumed 32 billion bottles of soft drinks in 1958, or 184 bottles per person.

Claim New Offer From Red China

Ready to Accept Idea of Negotiations, Says Note From Khrushchev

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Sun-Times, in a dispatch from Washington, said today that a letter from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to President Eisenhower "is said to contain a new offer from Red China to the United States."

★ ★ ★

"The charge d'affaires of the Soviet Embassy in Washington, Mikhail Smirnovsky, delivered the Soviet Prime Minister's message to Undersecretary Robert Murphy at the State Department last week," the Sun-Times said.

"It is a report on certain aspects of Khrushchev's conversations with Chinese Communist leaders in Peiping. Khrushchev is reported to have written Mr. Eisenhower that Communist China is ready to accept the principle that international problems should be settled by peaceful negotiation and not by force. This is the formula Mr. Eisenhower and Khrushchev adopted in their Sept. 27 Camp David communique."

★ ★ ★

The dispatch, by Frederick Kuh, said that according to a version which it has not been possible to corroborate, the Chinese would even extend the no-force principle to the Formosa problem on certain conditions.

"Without asking U. S. diplomatic recognition of the Communist regime in China," the Sun-Times said, "the Khrushchev letter is alleged to include a Chinese suggestion that Washington and Peiping discuss some measures toward normalizing their relations.

"If it is true, as rumored, that Red China is willing to proffer a nonaggression promise on Formosa, this would denote a fundamental policy change."

Parke, Davis Earnings, Sales Up Over 1958

DETROIT (AP) — Parke, Davis & Co. reported earnings for the first nine months this year totaled $22,214,780, or $1.50 per share. This compared with $18,580,996, or $1.26 a share, in the first nine months of 1958.

The drug firm said net sales for the first nine months of 1959 totaled $141,639,979 compared with $125,212,798 in the same period a year ago.

Princess Shifts Her Hair Style to Flapper '20s

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret has suddenly changed her hair style to a look suggestive of the flapperish 1920s.

No longer is she almost a double for Marie-Luce Jamagne, the Belgian girl Group Capt. Peter Townsend is going to marry.

She showed up smiling in the new style last night on a visit to youth clubs in London's somewhat seamy Bermondsey district.

Did the princess have her dark brown locks redone to avoid obvious comparisons between herself and the future wife of the divorced ex-flier she loved but refused to wed?

The royal household isn't saying.

But a source close to royal circles said one thing is certain — the new hairdo has nothing to do with any romance with John Turner, the handsome Canadian lawyer the princess met on her 1958 tour of Canada.

Gossip columnists have repeatedly connected the name of Turner, 30, with that of the princess, 29.

U.S. and Reds Agree on Peace in Antarctic

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States and Russia have agreed with 10 other nations that the Antarctic should be used only for peaceful purposes.

The 12-nation Antarctic conference announced yesterday that its committee considering political and legal matters had agreed that Antarctica "should be used for peaceful purposes only and that all measures of a military nature should be prohibited."

A communique said the agreement was expected to become Article I of an Antarctic Treaty barring military activity in the south Polar regions.

The conference began work last week on a U.S.-proposed treaty to keep the area out of the cold war and any hot ones.

Most Valuable Hurler

MONTREAL (AP) — Rookie Bill Short, 21, a southpaw who had a 17-6 record with Richmond, Tuesday was named the International League's most valuable pitcher for 1959.

Al Jackson, another left-hander, with a 15-4 record for Columbus, was second, one point behind in the voting by baseball writers in the league's eight cities.

Layoffs in Auto Industry Soar Over 77,000 Today

DETROIT (UPI) — Layoffs in the auto industry soared to more than 77,000 today as the industry waited for a federal judge in Pittsburgh to order striking steel workers back to the mills.

A Taft-Hartley injunction sending the Steelworkers back to work already was too late to prevent at least a brief interruption of production of new cars but the auto industry hoped to be able to turn out at least 1,650,000 of them during an 80-day cooling off period in the steel walkout.

While it was waiting for the injunction, General Motors was forced to send home 2,257 workers at its Chevrolet engine plant at Buffalo, N. Y., boosting the total unemployed in the auto industry because of steel shortages to 77,483.

Almost one-third of the plants turning out 1960 model Chevrolets already were shut down by steel shortages and other assembly lines were expected to follow suit before additional steel can be made available to the auto industry.

Even with the return of the Steel Workers to the mills, it will take about three weeks to get steel to auto plants throughout the nation. Then the pipelines which have been drained dry will have to be refilled before parts reach the final assembly lines again.

★ ★ ★

Most of the workers laid off to date, 1,400 of them Chrysler Corp. employes and the rest General Motors employes, were parts plant workers.

Most assembly lines have been able to continue but the parts the laid off workers failed to turn out eventually will be missed on the final assembly lines.

This means shutdowns ranging from one to four weeks for the major car builders.

Once the industry is able to get the steel it needs, however, it could produce cars at a rate of about 150,000 a week. During the 7½ weeks of cooling off in the steel industry, this would mean production of more than 1,650,000 cars.

Negroes Out to End Bias in Trade Unions

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Negro union leaders are waging a self-styled "moral revolution" against racial discrimination in the labor movement.

★ ★ ★

A. Philip Randolph, head of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and the only Negro vice president of the AFL-CIO, is leading a drive to eliminate all traces of bias from the federation.

AFL-CIO President George Meany has said he shares this goal but differs on the methods to be used in reaching it. He prefers a more deliberate approach in contrast to Randolph's demand for quick expulsion of any union which maintains racial barriers.

Randolph is now advocating creation of a national Negro Trade Union Council (NNTUC) to put pressure on the AFL-CIO and its affiliates to crack down on "Jim Crow" practices.

PARTICIPATION SOUGHT

It also would encourage rank-and-file Negroes to seek office and become more active in union affairs.

★ ★ ★

According to present plans the council would recruit members of an estimated 1,600,000 Negroes who belong to unions in the United States. Those from Communist-dominated organizations would be barred.

The NNTUC would support the AFL-CIO, its Committee on Political Education (COPE) and other liberal groups, Randolph said. An organizational meeting is set for early November in Detroit and a big founding convention may take place next April.

"The massive struggel, now under way, of Negro trade unionists within the AFL-CIO against discrimination and segregation in all of its forms constitutes a revolution — a major moral revolution," Randolph said.

AMC Eyes Building Cars Abroad for Europe

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The treasurer of American Motors reported last night that his company is considering producing automobiles overseas for the European common market area.

Richard T. Purdy of Detroit said, however, that explorations of the idea were preliminary and that no firm plans for the move have been made.

Forgets 2 Broken Legs

Saves Drowning Man

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — In spite of two broken legs, Alphonso Woodall swam into Lake Erie's rough waters to save a drowning man Tuesday night.

Woodall's legs were broken last March while he was in California stunting for motion pictures with a man-carrying kite. He was hobbling along on crutches at Gordon Park beach Tuesday night when out of the darkness came cries for help:

"God, somebody help me! I'm going under!"

The cries came from a man clinging to an overturned motorboat about 20 yards offshore.

Woodall, 36, a Negro, grabbed a rope at a boathouse and took a life jacket from his car. He fastened the rope around his waist, gave the end to a passerby, then dived into the lake.

Swimming to the capsized craft, he tied the rope around the boatman. Men on shore pulled them to safety.

Woodall reinjured his left leg when waves threw him against the seawall. The rescued man, Louis Fabri, 30, was in fair condition, suffering from shock and exposure.

Fabri's companion on a duck-hunting trip, Eugene Marsh, 29, was swept away when the boat overturned. The body was not found.

Pontiac Dem Club to Hear Meagher

Leo P. Meagher, Democratic candidate for state senator from Oakland County last year, will be guest speaker Sunday at the monthly meeting of the Pontiac Democratic Club, it was announced today.

The meeting will begin at 2 p.m. at the Fisher Body Division UAW Local 596 hall, 821 Baldwin Ave.

He will show slides of the club's recent picnic. The public is invited.

Huge Playland Is Being Built in the Bronx

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 65 million dollar playland, hailed by its builders as the world's largest outdoor family entertainment center, is being built on 205 acres in the Bronx that formerly was swampland.

To be called Freedomland, U. S. A., the project is scheduled to open next July. C. V. Wood Jr., head of Marco Engineering Co., which is building the center, says all attractions will be on an historical theme.

Wood has built Magic Mountain center in Denver, Pleasure Island near Boston, Magic Harbor in Houston, Fiestaland in San Antonio, Gold Rush in Sacramento and Discoveryland in Miami. His Great Southwest project in Dallas is under construction.

State Waterways Group to View Petoskey Docks

PETOSKEY (UPI)—The Michigan Waterways Commission began a three-day meeting here today that will include an inspection of the Petoskey waterfront.

City Manager Ernest Neumann said the commission also will consider his proposal to put in boat slips along the Petoskey dock. A commission field man has inspected the harbor and will report on it.

Neumann has proposed five slips for large vessels along one side of the municipal dock which Petoskey hopes will be eligible for state matching funds for transient boaters. He also has a plan for small boat slips.

Final Arguments Due in Cross Strike Suit

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Final arguments are scheduled tomorrow in Macomb County Circuit Court on whether United Auto Workers Local 155 has violated a picket-limiting injunction and fostered violence at the struck Cross Co. plant in nearby Fraser.

Circuit Judge Alton H. Noe completed 10 days of testimony-taking yesterday. The company wants contempt of court action against the local and its officers.

The Cross Co., a maker of automation machinery, has accused the union of violating an injunction by fostering mass picketing and violence. The union denies it is responsible.

Cross, until it lost a U. S. Court of Appeals case, had refused to bargain with the union for more than a year, contending the UAW did not represent a majority of Cross workers.

The company has been cited on an unfair labor practice charge by the National Labor Relations Board, which conducted two elections among Cross workers that the union won.

★ ★ ★

Company and union negotiators met Monday, but the company reported it was not then ready to make a contract offer. Cross spokesmen said they would meet the union again within a week.

Water Safety Group to Discuss Licenses

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)— Possible legislative controls on small craft operation in Michigan waters provide the subject for a regional meeting of the Governor's Water Safety Committee tonight in Grand Rapids.

Secretary of State James M. Hare is scheduled principal speaker.

Among subjects for discussion are proposed minimum age limits for boat operators, operators licenses similar to those for motorists, speed limits and requirements that skier-towing boats be manned by two persons.

Gordon, who played "Curly" in "Oklahoma," said he didn't mind the picture, which did so much for him, "except that 115 nights that we were making the picture, I had to put my hair up in curlers."

Tom Poston, such a warm and real actor, has a line I adored in "Golden Fleecing." Lovely Suzanne Pleshette says, "I think I may marry you." He says: "Darn, and just when we were getting along so well, too!"

Mae West, who was Charles Collingwood's first guest on Person to Person, until the network canceled it, asked him before the taping how her gown looked. "It looks chaste, simple and enormously becoming," said Collingwood. Mae wiggled a hip and demanded, "WODDYA MEAN—'ENORMOUSLY'?"

Dry Weather Aiding Harvest

Late State Crops Had Been Slowed by Rain and Wet Fields

LANSING (AP) — Dry weather the first of the week stepped up the harvest of late crops, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

Rain and wet fields had slowed down the harvest of sugar beets, soybeans, dry beans, potatoes and apples.

★ ★ ★

Sugar beet factories were reopened as farmers were able to get back into fields. About one-fourth of the crop has been harvested.

Limited progress also was made in the potato, apple, corn and soybean harvests. The late potato crop was about 60 per cent harvested.

Substantial potato losses from rot caused by heavy rain was reported from the Upper Peninsula.

STALK ROT ARISES

Stalk rot in corn was showing up in many areas. Much of the corn acreage was ready for cribbing and any further delay was expected to result in heavy losses.

Heavy losses were expected in the 10 per cent of the dry bean crop yet to be harvested. Some of the acreage is expected to be abandoned and quality will be down in the remainder.

Damage to soybeans was reported light.

★ ★ ★

Wet fields kept farmers from planting all intended winter wheat acreage and water damage was showing up in some early plantings.

The apple harvest was being stretched out because of bad picking weather.

Some migratory labor left the state because of the delay and this resulted in a shortage of pickers.

TV News and Reviews

Screw Turns Right Way in NBC 'Adult Ghostern'

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — Henry James' novella, "The Turn of the Screw," received a chilling, skillful and memorable interpretation last night as NBC-TV's Startime 90-minute presentation.

In this TV age, the James story can probably be called an "adult ghostern," for it deals with an English governess who sees—or does she?—ghosts at the 19th Century country estate to which she goes to care for two youngsters.

★ ★ ★

Do the apparitions actually fight for the souls of the children or is it all in the warped, lonely, frustrated mind of the governess?

This is the question that leaves the reader's imagination buzzing long after the final sentence is read.

The story has a multilevel impact and I especially like the meaning that Heywood Broun once gave it:

"We can do anything," he said. "We must do anything, rather than try to go it alone, with our helpless and terrified loneliness clutching at us in the night."

★ ★ ★

The TV version, a magnificently staged color production, was not as subtle as the book.

Where the book built slowly but relentlessly toward its climax, the three acts in the teleplay each generated their own chills.

Director-producer John Frankenheimer used thunderstorms, mists, mirrored reflections, shadows and winding staircases to punctuate his story.

★ ★ ★

The James story is more matter-of-fact than this in raising gooseburnps, but in the TV play there were goosebumps aplenty when the apparitions of Peter Quint and Miss Jessel appeared.

In the starring role as the tortured governess, Ingrid Bergman was majestic. Completely in command of her difficult role, her portrayal imparted proper degrees of hysteria, courage and devotion.

Her debut in a TV drama was a rouser.

★ ★ ★

Heywood Morse, 11 years old, was superb as young Miles but Alexandra Wager, age 9, had difficulty as his sister. Had her part remained true to the original, she no doubt would have managed much better.

As "ghosts," Laurinda Barrett and Paul Stevens were blood-curdling.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Alan Jay Lerner, who created the book and lyrics for "My Fair Lady," is producing two comedy adventure half-hour shows for MGM-TV. One, Me and My Gals, is about a song-and-dance man touring Europe with a showgirl troupe. The other is called P.S. From Paris and is based on the exploits of Art Buchwald, a newspaper columnist. Eleven other new properties also are being developed by MGM-TV for the 1960-61 season.

Harry Belafonte's Dec. 10 CBS-TV special will feature Odetta, popular among folk song aficionados. . . . Eileen Farrell stars on NBC-TV's Easter Sunday Bell Telephone special next April. . . . Comedian George Burns goes dramatic in a GE Theater play, "Platinum on the Rocks," being filmed this week in Hollywood.

Father Hysterical at Sight of Body of Mario Lanza

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mario Lanza's father cried out over the tenor's body Tuesday night: "Say something to me, Freddy."

Alfredo was the singer's real name.

★ ★ ★

The father, Antonio Cocozza of Philadelphia, had to be gently assisted away after a final look at Lanza's body Tuesday night after recitation of the Rosary in Blessed Sacrament church. He screamed hysterically in Italian.

The singer's mother, Maria, bent low over his body and cried over and over: "My baby, my baby."

Lanza died of a heart attack Oct. 7 in Rome, Italy.

More than 1,500 persons attended the Rosary.

Lanza's widow, Betty, wearing a black mantilla, knelt in a front pew throughout the recitation by the Rev. John E. Hopkins.

With her were the Lanza children, Colleen, 10; Elissa, 8; Damon, 6; and Marc, 4.

The casket was draped with the American flag in recognition of Lanza's World War II Army service.

Solemn Requiem Mass will be celebrated today in the same church, entombment following at Calvary Mausoleum in East Los Angeles.

Singer Rusty Lane to Be Arraigned in Burglaries

WEST ORANGE, N.J. (UPI) — Rock 'n roll singer Rusty Lane, 20, faces arraignment today on charges of robbing 29 homes to finance a new car and a bride.

★ ★ ★

Lane, who has appeared on the Alan Freed and Dick Clark television shows, told police his arrest will probably ruin him but added "I'm very happy you caught up with me."

He told police he committed the burglaries because he wanted a new car and a bride.

★ ★ ★

Lane, whose real name is Karl Zeeb Jr., was arrested Sunday when police picked him up near the scene of a recent burglary. His car, they said, contained stolen television sets, record players and a piggy-bank with $81.

Michigan Schools End Surge of Borrowing

LANSING (AP) — A flood of school district borrowings for operating expenses against anticipated taxes finally dried up yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The State Municipal Finance Commission reported that for the first time in more than 18 months there were no school borrowings of this type to be processed.

★ ★ ★

Most school districts now are borrowing in anticipation of state aid. These applications are handled by the State Department of Public Instruction.

Woman Reveals Her FBI Work

Was Undercover Agent 15 Years; Left Because She's 'Had It'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A housewife says she served in the Communist party for 15 years as an undercover agent for the FBI.

"My principal job was to infiltrate the Douglas Aircraft Plant in Santa Monica," Moiselle Clinger, 42, told the House Un-American Activities Committee Tuesday. "I was asked to supply the names of engineers and technicians whom I considered to be 'liberal.'"

She said she left the Communist party three years ago.

★ ★ ★

"I reported to the FBI at least once a week," Mrs. Clinger told the committee. "I decided to quit when, after 15 years, I became sick of it all. I thought I had done all I could do, physically. In other words, I'd had it."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Clinger said the Communist Party's biggest headache was its difficulty in raising money.

"We were always holding parties in an effort to get money," she said. "One of our chief duties was to convince people who weren't Communists to give us money so we could keep going."

She said one of the fund-raising parties was held at the home of poet Lawrence Lipton.

"Mr. Lipton's wife at the time was the late Craig Rice, writer of detective stories," said Mrs. Clinger. "We used her name to get people to come to the party, but she had nothing to do with us."

Playwright Shows Promise, Not Play

By JACK GAVER
UPI Drama Editor

NEW YORK — Joe Masteroff is a new playwright of some promise who deserves more encouragement than he is likely to be able to extract from this review of his "The Warm Peninsula" which opened at the Helen Hayes Theater last night.

Even with Julie Harris and June Havoc as the talented and loveable costars of the play, the effort comes off as a lukewarm affair that, despite several brightly written and acted scenes, gives the impression of starting for nowhere in particular and getting there.

Nevertheless it is obvious that Masteroff has a talent for wryly humorous dialogue and situation, and it is to be hoped that next time he will apply it in the interest with something meatier.

Aged Farmer, Wife Killed in Home Blaze

BELDING (AP) — Earl Wilson, 81-year-old retired fruit farmer, and his wife Nell, 68, died today in a fire that swept their 20-room home here.

★ ★ ★

Police Chief A. Merrill Dorey said the fire resulted from "an electric heater or careless smoking." It started on a rear sun porch and ate its way into the house.

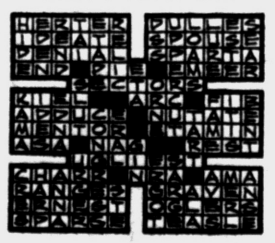
Answer to Previous Puzzle



Becoming a Halloween Habit

Trick or Treat Benefits UNICEF

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chances are good, and getting better every year, that you will find at your door on Halloween a benevolent hobgoblin clutching a small cardboard can.

He will accept candy if you press it on him. But his main mission is to obtain a few coins for that can.

If you contribute — and you'd better unless you want to risk dire depredations against your property — you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have been held up in behalf of one of the world's worthiest causes.

★ ★ ★

Last year American kids raised $1,000,000 with this Robin Hood operation. Every penny, nickel and dime of it went to the United Nations Children's Fund, better known as UNICEF.

★ ★ ★

UNICEF (the initials date back to the time when its full name was United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) is a self-governing adjunct of the U.N. founded in 1946.

Its program is breathtakingly simple: To relieve suffering of children all over the word.

Today some 50,000,000 needy youngsters in 116 countries are being helped through UNICEF programs. Some of them are getting daily rations of milk, protein foods and vitamins to supplement their near-starvation diets.

★ ★ ★

Others receive medicine, vaccines and the attention of nurses and doctors. Many benefit indirectly from UNICEF-sponsored campaigns against diseases like yaws, malaria and trachoma that are endemic among children over wide areas of the world.

NOT DEDUCTIBLE

The U.S. Internal Revenue Service, with its eyes riveted on the small print of the regulations, has ruled that UNICEF is an intergovernmental agency rather than a charitable enterprise. This means that American citizens cannot claim tax deductions for contributions to UNICEF.

This ruling has made it very difficult for UNICEF to obtain large private donations in this country.

It is compelled to rely on numerous small gifts — the coins and small bills that people are willing to give away without tax credit.

JUST HAPPENED

The Halloween collection seems like a clever answer to this problem. But it wasn't consciously planned in that way. It just happened.

The idea of turning Halloween into "trick or treat for UNICEF" night apparently originated several years ago with a Sunday School class in Philadelphia.

Perhaps it developed spontaneously in several communities at once. Anyway, it spread very rapidly. By 1957, UNICEF cans were being toted around in 8,000 communities. Last year, more than 2,250,000 kids in 9,500 communities took part.

This year, UNICEF will share the Halloween loot in well over 10,000 cities and towns from coast to coast.

Takes Big Lead in Primary Vote at Salt Lake City

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) Former Utah Gov. J. Bracken Lee received more than 50 per cent of the votes Tuesday in leading a six-man primary field in the race for mayor of Salt Lake City.

Lee will face Democratic State Sen. Bruce S. Jenkins in the runoff general election Nov. 3.

With all districts reporting, Lee had 22,872 to 9,788 for Jenkins.

City elections ballots do not carry party designation.

Lee was a Republican while governor but bolted the party when it refused to nominate him for re-election in 1955. As an independent, Lee lost the race for the governorship that year and for the U.S. Senate last year.

He is president of "For America, Inc.," an organization which is trying to abolish the federal income tax.

Chosen Alumni Chief

EAST LANSING (AP)— Walter Lueck of Flint has been elected chairman of Michigan State University's alumni council. Other new officers include Harold Rockwell, Grand Rapids, vice chairman, and Jack Spelman, St. Joseph, secretary.

Ike Homesick for Georgia Air

Feels Fine but Decides to Get Augusta Sun; Be Back Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Yielding to a spur of the moment impulse, President Eisenhower flies today to Augusta, Ga., for five days of golf and sunshine.

★ ★ ★

The White House said Eisenhower still has lingering traces of the cold he caught early last month. But Press Secretary James C. Hagerty added that the President's general health is excellent and that the cold was not a factor in his sudden decision to go to Georgia.

Eisenhower arranged to leave by plane about mid-morning. The flight takes about two and a quarter hours. The President plans to return to Washington Sunday evening or early Monday morning.

Hagerty announced late Tuesday that in mid-afternoon Eisenhower had made up his mind "just like that"—and the press secretary snapped his fingers—to pay his 23rd visit to the Augusta National Golf Club since his election in 1952. The famed course—shut down each year from May until mid-November — is being opened about three weeks early to receive the President.

★ ★ ★

Hagerty said Eisenhower's decision to go was prompted by forecasts the Augusta weather will be warm and sunny the rest of the week.

★ ★ ★

In order to make the trip the President canceled a news conference he had scheduled for this morning in Washington. He did arrange separate White House meetings, just ahead of departure, with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and leaders of the government's space and missiles programs.

★ ★ ★

In response to a question, Hagerty said the White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, had not urged Eisenhower to go to Augusta.

Motorist Goes From One Mess to Another

An explanation?

A Pontiac motorist had one ready for Patrolman Lon Peters after his auto struck the rear of another car which was stopped for a traffic light.

He blamed the accident on a fly.

Herbert Ray, 54, of 45 E. Sheffield St., was driving west on N. Paddock street. As he approached the Elwood street intersection, he struck the car of John T. Howell, 20, of 56 Moreland Ave.

"I'll be truthful," he told the officer. I was trying to get this fly out of my hair.

"Look what I got into instead!"

Bell Rate Hike Fight Continues in Court

LANSING (AP) — Testimony droned on today in the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. rate case as utility attorneys sought to crack Public Service Commission staff opposition to their bid for steeply increased revenues.

Michigan Bell is asking up to 25 million dollars a year in higher rates. Its case is in the concluding phases.

Philip R. Potter, commission chief accountant, was on the witness stand all day yesterday, holding over from Monday. Robert Demorest, PSC public utility accountant, was to follow him to the stand.

Under cross examination, Potter defended his advocacy of a 543 million dollar rate base rather than a 588 million dollar figure urged by the company.
