CLUB GETS CHARTER — Michigan Sen. Patrick V. McNamara (center) was guest speaker last night at the Kingsley Inn in Bloomfield Hills as Carlos G. Richardson, chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Committee, presented Mrs. William A. Clemmons, chairman of the Bloomfield Democratic Club, with the club's official charter into the party. The club was formed last December.

Addresses Bloomfield Dems

McNamara Fires 1st Shots

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Bloomfield Democrats — and there are some — heard Michigan's senior Sen. Patrick V. McNamara explode his first salvo last night as he wasted no time in firing off his campaign shot for re-election in 1960.

With only enough time for a change of clothes in Detroit, McNamara hurried to Bloomfield Hills directly from Washington, where Congress had adjourned Tuesday, and let go his blasts at the Republican - dominated State Legislature and coalition - bound Republicans in Congress.

The silver-haired 64-year-old former union official's bid for another six years was under way.

Recipients of McNamara's first campaign flourish were some 100 members and friends of the Bloomfield Democratic Club, which received its charter into what its chairman nervously termed the "Bloomacratic" party.

RECEIVES CHARTER

The charter, making the club a full-fledged member of the real Democratic Party, was presented to Chairman Mrs. William A. Clemmons of Bloomfield Township by Carlos G. Richardson, Oakland County Democratic Committee chairman.

McNamara praised the club for being able to penetrate the "hard-core" Republican territory of Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township.

The club, formed last December, claims 350 members, 75 of whom are dues paying, Mrs. Clemmons said.

The senator reported to his constituents that a coalition between Republicans in the 86th Congress and Dixiecrats (Southern Democrats) was why "the Democratic Congress failed to achieve the record that voters had every right to expect."

"This coalition isn't some shady figment of the imagination," the speaker said. "It is very real. All too real for my liking. You can see it appear in vote after vote."

To beat this coalition, which,

Nikita's Hands Drip Blood, Mac Says at Bloomfield

Senator Patrick V. McNamara described Nikita Khrushchev as "probably the worst human being on earth."

In a press conference in Bloomfield Hills last evening, the senior Democratic Michigan senator said he would have been "among the missing" had the Soviet premier been invited to speak to Congress adjourned just hours before Mr. K's arrival in Washington Tuesday.

"He comes here not only with dirty hands and bloody hands, but his hands dripping with blood in my estimation," McNamara told newsmen gathered at the Kingsley Inn.

"I don't want to be near such a human being," he added.

He said it was a "misconception" that Congress rushed to adjourn so Khrushchev would have no opportunity to speak. He said it was an extra-long session and lawmakers wanted to wrap up their work and get home.

McNamara said he would have been willing to let Mr. K speak to the House and Senate if President Eisenhower and the State Department wanted him to.

He predicted that Khrushchev's talks with Eisenhower might lead to a summit meeting.

Most of the members of the Bloomfield Democratic Club, which recevied its charter last evening before McNamara's talk, favored the historic visit. Others favored it but said he was being given too much of the red carpet treatment.

Arthur J. Law, Pontiac's state representative, said it depended on what he had to do whether he'd listen to Khrushchev speak if he had come to Detroit or Pontiac.

"With Khrushchev in New York, Eisenhower in a fog, and chaos in Lansing, I'm glad to be back in Pontiac," Law said.

Another Oakland state representative, John C. Hitchcock (D-Hazel Park), said he would have liked to hear Khrushchev's "theories on things."

State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown agreed.

McNamara, questioned after his talk, said mail opposing Acting Pontiac Postmaster Robert C. Miller's full postmastership is still holding up his confirmation.

"In the meantime," he added, "he goes along just as though he were a regular postmaster and with the same pay."

Agreeing that such appointments were political footballs, he accused Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield of "stirring up a big rhubarb."

He said he'd have to study Miller's file further before acting on the appointment.

City Hospital Finances Bright

'We're Not Out of Dark Says Euler, but Picture Best He's Seen

Pontiac General Hospital Administrator Harold E. Euler told the hospital's Board of Trustees last night that "we're not out of the dark yet, but our financial picture is the best since I've been administrator."

In a report at the Board's monthly meeting he disclosed that at the end of the ninth accounting period, which ended Sept. 12, the hospital was operating at 95.75 per cent of capacity.

"Our occupancy is excellent," he said. "For the same period the average for the past two years was 80.68 per cent."

He reported that the hospital had $172,000 in cash on hand. Although final tabulations haven't been completed, the hospital had an estimated income of between $10,000 and $15,000 over expenses during the last 28-day period.

BRADFORD RESIGNS

The sad note at the meeting was the resignation of T. W. Bradford, treasurer of the Board.

Bradford, retired Pontiac Motor Division executive, yesterday submitted his resignation — "due to increased business pressures" — to Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

The Board regretfully accepted his resignation and named board member Robert A. Armstrong to the vacant treasurer's office. The City Commission will fill the opening on the 11-man Board at a later date.

Bradford was named a trustee in July, 1958.

In his financial report to the Board Euler said that the period just closed was the sixth of nine accounting periods this year that the hospital has operated in the black.

Vanguard Moon Goes Into Orbit; 3rd in 11 Tries

100-Pound Satellite Is Successor to 2 Flops; Helps Regain Prestige

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Vanguard III satellite soared into orbit today and revived sagging U.S. prestige in the space exploration field.

The 100-pound satellite was boosted aloft by the last of the Vanguard rockets. The Vanguard once the scapegoat for American space failures, thus ended its hard luck history on a triumphant note.

The success followed two straight American space flops. Just 14 hours before, a Thor-Able rocket fizzled in an attempt to place a 265 - pound navigation satellite in orbit. On Wednesday, a Jupiter missile carrying mice and frogs on a space flight exploded 1,000 feet above its launching pad.

The flops came while Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev visited this country, basking in the limelight of Sunday's successful Soviet moon strike.

Also, on Thursday at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., the Bomarc interceptor missile passed its second test against a Regulus II jet drone target.

The satellite was the third put up in 11 tries by the Vanguard. It includes the 50-pound payload and the 50-pound third-stage rocket, which remained attached.

Its job was to measure the earth's magnetic field, solar X rays, micrometeorite bombardment and temperatures inside and outside the satellite.

Soviet Premier Rushes Through Hyde Park Tour

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev made a brief, 57-minute tour today of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's estate here, on a pilgrimage to visit the grave of the Soviet Union's strong wartime ally.

But pushed for time, Khrushchev hurried back toward New York to keep an important speaking date before the United Nations. The Soviet premier was said to be carrying a surprise disarmament proposal for the world organization.

The Hyde Park tour started out more than a half hour behind schedule and the lost time cut into Khrushchev's plans for a sightseeing tour, which had promised to be another whirlwind event, in advance of his U. N. appearance.

Accompanied by his wife, Nina, he laid a wreath of roses on the grave, and then, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, made a quick tour of the Roosevelt ancestral home and the Roosevelt Memorial Library.

Khrushchev didn't even have time for the cup of coffee that awaited him at the cottage. He did manage to grab a seed roll before he stepped into the limousine and headed toward New York at 12:06 p.m.

By then the rain had ceased and the cavalcade roared away in sunshine.

"He enjoyed nothing," commented his hostess at Hyde Park, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. "A man behind him all the time kept whispering 'seven minutes — seven minutes.'"

BULLETIN

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev proposed today that every nation in the world dismantle its armed forces within four years, leaving only police units for internal control.

His plan was contained in a speech prepared for delivery to a session of the United Nations.

The appearance of the Communist leader before a packed and heavily guarded U.N. headquarters marked the first time a Soviet head of government ever had addressed the world body.

Khrushchev also proposed:

1. Establishment of a non-nuclear zone in Central Europe.

2. Removal of all foreign troops and liquidation of bases on foreign territories.

3. A nonaggression pact between members of NATO and the Warsaw pact.

Prisoners Say: Watch That Nikita

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—The prison newspaper polled convicts at the South Carolina Penitentiary for their reaction to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States.

"It's okay for him to come and talk peace," said one inmate, "but keep an eye on him."

Nina Petrovna Khrushchev, wife of the Kremlin leader, studies English as a hobby. The gray-haired, motherly-looking woman doesn't pretend that it's perfect English, but it has been sufficient for most occasions.

"I want to greet the women in New York and greet all New Yorkers," she said.

She added: "I don't say so very well, the English."

Move Expected to Pace Entire Auto Industry

New Pontiacs to Go on Sale Oct. 1; Major Changes in Styling

Additional features and improvements in the Pontiac automobile and other General Motors Corporation passenger car products will not raise the price line in the 1960 models, it was announced today.

The "stand pat" policy adopted on car prices marks the end of a year-by-year price increase during the past four years.

It was expected to set the pace for the entire industry. Ford and Chrysler were not expected to announce their prices until just before public introduction of their cars during the first two weeks of next month. But they were expected to follow suit.

GM disclosed factory list prices on its five models, Pontiac, Cadillac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Chevrolet will not be increased over 1959.

S. E. Knudsen, general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division and General Motors vice president, said:

"Pontiac prices have not been increased over 1959 levels even though important styling and engineering improvements have been incorporated.

"The 1960 factory list prices of the heater and radio and other optional equipment have been reduced, also."

With these reductions, according to Knudsen, the price of a 1960 model passenger car equipped with "popular options" can be as much as $32 lower than that of the corresponding 1959 model similarly equipped.

An "extra" last year, an oil filter has been added as standard equipment on all 1960 models at no extra cost. The oil filter was available on 1959 models at a list price of $9.

Knudsen also announced that the "Ventura," a new series addition to the 1960 line, will go on sale with other Pontiacs at dealers' showrooms across the country Oct. 1.

"The series will be on a 122 wheelbase and will be priced between comparable body types of the Catalina and Star Chief series," Knudsen said.

The "factory list price," it was explained by a GM spokesman, is the price of the car as delivered to the dealer. It does not include extra charges or taxes.

GM list prices range from $2,056 for the lowest-priced Chevrolet to $8,950 for the top Cadillac luxury car.

Studebaker - Packard, one of the "little two" of the industry, however, countered the trend and announced price increases ranging from $8 to $37 in its Lark models.

Hundreds of Pickets Mass at Cross Plant

Reportedly no one, including nonstrikers, was allowed to enter the factory.

One unofficial estimate said there were from 800 to 1,000 pickets of the United Auto Workers at the scene.

The newly taut situation arose on the heels of a company court petition for an order restraining all picketing.

Lawyers also asked Macomb County Circuit Court yesterday for contempt-of-court citations against striking United Auto Workers Local 155 and three of its members.

The union struck the automation firm 46 days ago to back up its demands for a new contract.

45 Men Trapped in Flaming Mine

Short in Ventilator Fan Starts Fire in Scotland; Only Six Rescued

CHRYSTON, Scotland (UPI) — Forty-five men trapped by an electric explosion in a mile-deep flaming coal mine were given no chance of survival today.

"There is no hope," a national coal board spokesman said.

A rescue worker said, "It is pure hell down there."

Altogether, 52 men were trapped when wires to a ventilating fan short-circuited early this morning, sending flames and smoke billowing through the mine corridors. Six men were brought out alive by rescue teams. Another man was found dead.

At first, officials were confident most of the men would be saved. But rescue workers taking a breather on the surface said operations underground had been severely hampered by several falls of coal and rock.

The fire was extinguished by early afternoon but officials said it would be several hours, perhaps even nightfall, before rescue squads got to the trapped men or their bodies.

Bottom Bulgy? Television at Seat of New Ailment

It comes from watching television slouched down in a chair.

The condition can also arise from long rides but these come to an end, he said, while television viewing goes on endlessly, often with bad posture.

Cooper, chief of proctology in two Lexington, Ky., hospitals, said a program to teach people to sit up straight also would help.

Milk Price Hike Due in Detroit Monday

John H. Stewart, president of Twin Pines Farm Dairies, said the increase "is all according to a government formula," explaining:

"Every time the retail price of butter goes up one cent, the price we pay for raw milk goes up 4.2 cents a hundredweight. There have been recent butter increases."

He said that under the government formula the price paid farmers for milk has risen to $4.97 per hundred pounds from $4.33 paid last June.

Two Injured in Crash at Perry and Kennett

Three persons were injured in a two-car collision at Whittemore and S. Sanford streets shortly after 8 a.m. today.

Pontiac police identified the drivers as Edward Justin, 47, of 275 S. Sanford St., and Paul Van Bibber, 20, of 319 Prospect St.

Justin and his wife, Della, 44, were admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with head, arm and back injuries. Both were reported in fair condition.

Van Bibber was held for observation. He suffered head cuts. Police said Van Bibber ran a stop sign at the intersection, traveling east on Whittemore.

Riding With Tourist in Southfield

Hitchhiker Pulls Out Gun

SOUTHFIELD — A Peoria, Ill. man on his way to visit a friend in Warren decided early this morning that he didn't like the reception he received when he got as far as Southfield.

He was held up in his car by a gunman in a quiet residential section here, but managed to flee, leaving his car.

When he returned later with Southfield police, he found his assailant had taken an expensive record player and amplifier system from the car. James V. Fletcher, 23, decided then that he didn't like Michigan and headed for home.

Fletcher told police that he had picked up a hitchhiker in a Navy uniform last night on the Pennsylvania turnpike.

The sailor told him he was going to his home in Southfield. As they neared the city at about 3 a.m. this morning, Fletcher offered to drive the sailor directly to his home.

When they came to the intersection of Rouge court and Shiawassee street, the hitchhiker stuck a gun into Fletcher's ribs and demanded his wallet.

Fletcher said he got panicky, grabbed the keys from the ignition and ran to a nearby home. Residents there called police.

cation, said a holding of the price line of last year would be the car industry's answer to inflation.

Knudsen said many of Pontiac's models in 1960 will be lower in price compared to last year. Prices in the Pontiac line range from $2,390 to $3,175.

Ward's also speculated that the industry's new pricing policy "could spur a noninflationary-type settlement of the steel strike."

According to Ward's, the entire U.S. economy is headed for one of its best years in 1960.

Hummingbird Gets Airline Lift From Cold North

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A hummingbird which forgot to migrate is getting an airliner lift from the chilly north to Florida.

Audubon Society officials in Miami have prepared a warm reception for the tiny bird, due today by plane. Its $4 fare was paid by Mrs. Eugenia M. Moody 75, vice president of the North Woodstock, Vt., Humane Society. The $4 represented shipping charges on the bird and its cage.

Typhoon Sarah Kills 64 South Koreans

The Korean dead raised the toll to 87 killed, 116 missing and 124 injured in the storm's four-day, 3,000-mile sweep up the East China and Japan seas.

Stickup Is Slinky

LONDON (UPI) — Strip tease artist Thelma Smith, 18, is exotic even when executing a crime. Thelma, who is billed as Silma Ahmet the Turkish Delight, was jailed for three months yesterday for holding up a friend's rich uncle, using a long, bamboo cigerette holder as a make-believe gun.

'Please, Stop My Son!'

Youth Out to Shoot Boys

"Please stop my son. He's got a gun and is going to shoot three boys."

The plea was phoned to Walled Lake Police yesterday by Mrs. George Speese of 1211 Pontiac Trail.

Police rushed to the house, but the boy was gone. They began an immediate search for 20-year-old John Speese, but were unable to find him.

Nobody knew the names of the three boys marked as victims.

Mrs. Speese told officers her son ran into the house in anger, grabbed an unloaded shotgun and said he was going to "get" the three boys who killed his dog.

He dashed out before police arrived and returned later in the day. He then told Patrolman Earl Howie that he had intended to pepper his victims with rock salt but couldn't find any.

Police confiscated the 12-gauge shotgun, a 22-caliber rifle and an air pellet pistol belonging to the youth. No charges were made against Speese and he was not held.

Nikita's Son Having a Ball

Takes Helicopter Flight and Visits a Museum; Daughters Hang Back

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sergei Khrushchev, the Russian premier's unsmiling, purposeful son, seems to be getting more out of his visit to New York than his seemingly bewildered sisters.

On his first day in the big city, 25-year-old Sergei took off on his own for a helicopter tour of the metropolitan area and a visit to the Museum of Natural History. His choice of activities was prompted by his hobbies—photography and butterfly collecting.

His sisters, Rada, 29, and Yulia, about 40, were content to remain in the shadow of their unaffectedly charming stepmother, Mrs. Nina Khrushchev. They followed the lead of their American chaperones and admitted they had no ideas of their own for sightseeing.

"We don't even know yet what we are supposed to do," said Rada. "Things happen so quickly."

Sergei got plenty of footage out of his movie camera on his swish around the city in a huge H-21 Army copter piloted by Capt. James Nolan of Kent, Wash. He had a gull's-eye view of the George Washington Bridge, the United Nations, LaGuardia and Idlewild Airports, Coney Island, and the Statue of Liberty.

Later he popped into the Museum of Natural History and asked Director James A. Oliver to take him directly to the world-famous butterfly collection. Sergei confided that he had a large personal collection of butterflies and Oliver jokingly suggested that he might like to swap a few specimens. The grave, bespectacled Sergei said that "possibly something might be done about it."

He showed particular interest in the museum's collection of North American mammals mounted in cases that reproduce their natural habitat. When he left, he told Oliver that the museum had been "the high point" of his visit so far and said he hoped to return to see other collections.

None of the Khrushchev children seem to have inherited their father's irrepressible personality and his renowned gift of gab. The girls are unusually quiet. Rada and Yulia are either bewildered by all the attention they are getting or they feel it isn't cricket to monopolize the spotlight.

McNamara Fires 1st Campaign Shot

he said, gives Southern Democrats chairmanships of the most important committees, McNamara put in his first pitch for re-election.

'NEED RIGHT KIND'

"We need the right kind of Democrats — and here in Michigan we've got them — in Washington." He earlier announced he'd be a candidate at a press conference at the Kingsley Inn.

Bloomfield Democrats heard McNamara praise former area resident Sen. Philip A. Hart as among a "new class of freshman who is already making his mark."

Reading from a prepared 15-minute speech, McNamara continued to heap criticism on Democrats — not by name — in Congress who, he said, "really aren't Democrats at all."

"If it weren't for regional attitudes," he said, "they would be sitting with the Republicans where they belong."

The coalition works most frequently on public housing, urban renewal, federal airport aid, assistance to education, area redevelopment and unemployment compensation, McNamara said.

"The coalition vote stands out like a sore thumb on any progressive issue," he said. "Some times it provides the slim margin of victory that the conservatives need.

HEARTSICK ABOUT MICHIGAN

"When we tried to override the President's veto on one of the housing bills," the senator related, "we failed by five votes. Ten Democrats had voted with the Republicans."

But the one-time plumber and president of a Detroit pipefitters union saved his Sunday punch for the situation back home.

"I have seen what has been done to Michigan's good name," he said. "As a senator from a truly great state I have been heartsick over the slanders and lies cast at Michigan."

Not only did the gravel-voiced senator blame this on "a few selfish persons in the Legislature," but newspapers came in for some criticism as well.

"And that sickness turns into real anger when I consider that this situation has been caused by a few selfish persons in the Legislature — and some newspapers that will do anything to get at the Democrats."

Earlier, C. Allan Harlan of Bloomfield Township, member of the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, accused the press of being "dictators of democracy" by "distorting the truth about the great state of ours." Harlan introduced McNamara.

"The Republican State Legislature has driven the state almost to financial ruin," the senator said. "And with the help of some newspapers they have blackened Michigan's name all across the country."

Sitting near McNamara was State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, who said the new use tax, if proven constitutional, will "just about keep us current." Others there were State Reps. Arthur J. Law (D-Pontiac) and John C. Hitchcock (D-Hazel Park).

Oakland County's other Democratic state representative, James Clarkson of Southfield, on the carpet with his party for his stands on taxes in Lansing, sent his regrets for being unable to attend.

McNamara, who said he would travel the state plenty before Congress goes back into session in January, urged Democrats to push for a reapportionment of the 22-Republican State Senate.

GOP ATTITUDE 'NEGATIVE'

Back on the national picture, the senator said the "negative attitude" of Republicans, besides their coalition with Dixiecrats, "put the brakes to the entire economy" and kept Congress from solving the needs in housing, education, slum clearance and social security — long known as the Democratic programs.

"At the beginning of the session it appeared nothing needed to be done, and that the administration believed the 1958 recession to be over with," he went on.

"And at the end of the session it was evident that the Republicans still had a complete lack of interest in the future."

Recover 150 Bodies From Flooded City

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Latest official reports said today 150 bodies have been recovered from the flooded Indian city of Surat. Flood waters from the River Tapti swirled into the city Thursday after a restraining wall collapsed.

The ancient walled city is cut off by road and rail from the rest of the country. A special train from Bombay — about 160 miles away — brought disaster squads and motor-boats for rescue work. The train had to stop five miles from Surat.

Dawdler Donates

DUNMANWAY, Ireland (AP) — The will of Dnis Delea, who worked for 67 years in a local store, left 30 pounds—$84—to the firm "to compensate for any time I have wasted in their employment." Delea collapsed at his desk recently and died at the age of 80.

The Day in Birmingham

No August Traffic Deaths, but Accidents Expensive

BIRMINGHAM — Traffic accidents in Birmingham last month didn't claim any lives, keeping the city's slate clean on that score, but they were expensive, according to Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley's monthly report issued yesterday.

He estimated property damage here for August as the result of motor vehicle accidents at $10,530. This is an increase of $3,655 over the same period last year.

It is a drop of only slightly less than a $1,000 from last month's total property damage due to accidents.

Following vehicles too closely and right-of-way violations were factors in a total of 28 of the 49 collisions investigated by Birmingham Police last month, according to the report.

Eleven persons were injured in nine of the accidents.

Chief Moxley has ordered his men to clamp down on drivers not allowing a proper distance between them and the vehicle ahead and those failing to observe right-of-way laws.

Jaycees will be out in force tomorrow on Birmingham's downtown streets. They will be conducting a pedestrian survey from 10 a.m. until noon to determine where shoppers are from.

The survey is intended for information about shoppers' needs, desires and habits. Results will be turned over to the Birmingham Planning Board and the Downtown Merchants Assn. for consideration in planning future development of the downtown shopping district.

Dr. James A. Morton

Service for Dr. James A. Morton, 42, of 316 Waddington Rd., will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow from Christ Church Cranbrook. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Dr. Morton died Wednesday of a heart attack at his home.

He was physician on the staff of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac and had his private practice in Birmingham.

Surviving besides his wife, Elizabeth, are a daughter, Lora, and five sons, Cary, Jefferey, Thomas, Christopher and James A. III, all at home. Also surviving are two brothers and Dr. Morton's mother, Mrs. James A. Morton Sr.

Khrushchev Visits Roosevelt's Grave

speaking in the United States, seemed "terribly anxious" about getting to New York in time to deliver his U. N. speech, Mrs. Roosevelt said.

The Soviet Premier, after three full and rugged days of speaking and touring, lost his temper momentarily in public Thursday night. But he quickly recovered his usual aplomb.

His appearance before the U.N will be the highlight of another busy day.

BELIEVES HIS IDEA BEST

Khrushchev has centered much of his attention in the Communist-Western debate on the idea that the Soviet system inevitably will overwhelm the Western way. It was in a question-and-answer discussion of the two systems that the stocky, 5-foot-5 Russian suddenly snapped back at his audience.

He even threatened to walk out of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel's grand ballroom, where he was addressing the New York Economic Club. His audience was made up of about 2,000 of the country's top industrial and business leaders.

He had been answering questions with the same show of joviality he had displayed earlier in the day. Then a guest asked him: Why, if he was so intent upon mutual Soviet-American understanding, were not the Soviet people allowed to listen to U.S. broadcasts? Why weren't American newspapers and periodicals allowed to circulate freely? Why were American newsmen's dispatches censored

Khrushchev parried: He and President Eisenhower had agreed their discussions would not involve interference in each other's internal affairs.

"Answer the question!" somebody shouted, amid groans from the audience. The Premier blew up. His face reddened.

"I have come here not to beg of anything; I come here as a representative of a great country, a great people, who have made a great revolution, and no cries can deafen, can do away with the great achievement of our people."

East Germans Admit Dearth of Physicians

BERLIN (UPI) — The East German Communists admitted Wednesday that so many doctors have fled to the West it is now necessary to import physicians from other Soviet bloc nations.

Health Minister Max Sefrin blamed the mass flight of doctors to the West on a West German government campaign in which he said doctors are systematically induced to flee. He said the West Germans want to disrupt East German life in this way.

The West has long known there is a serious doctor shortage in the east German zone, but Sefrin revealed the shortage is the main health problem there. It was the first time the East Germans admitted the problem.

In West Germany, there is one doctor for every 700 persons. In the Communist East Zone, the proportion is one doctor for every 1,700 persons.

Bachelors Incensed by Column

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Bachelors are such sensitive people!

A large group of them are incensed by a column of last week in which I compared them with neurotic children seeking the eternal road to the circus. They do not say that I am wrong in this analogy—they only say it hurts.

A group called "The Generous Gentlemen of Gotham" writes in to wish me a future life which is sans white ties, sans champagne cocktails, sans winter violets, sans buggy rides through Central Park, sans even wolf whistles.

"And see how you feel when the bachelors stop whistling at you occasionally," they sneer. "You'll feel old and weary and desolate and wish for the days when those 'neurotic children' used to give you the sweep-off-feet treatment.

"A husband can give a girl dirty dishes and security," they conclude, "but only a bachelor—confident in his confirmation—can give her all the above privileges to remember wistfully the rest of her life."

A New Jersey Benedict writes to lament his new role as husband of a girl 20 years his junior. "For 46 years I was a G.D. Gay dog, that is. Now how the G.D. has come down . . . now it means 'garbage disposer'."

The most plaintive complaint, however, is from a gentleman named David Yarnell, who writes in on the stationery of Radio Station WCBS.

Mr. Yarnell insists that "four out of five bachelors are ready and able to provide the good life for some sensible young lady."

But sense is something young ladies are short on. "In a private survey of bachelor friends," he continues, "I have found that the premise that bachelors are reluctant and that gals are anxious to get married is totally false.

"Instead, what do we come up against? The young lady who has been unduly influenced by glamor magazines, movies, etc., and wants to LIVE before she gives up her freedom.

"Occasionally we do meet a young lady who is anxious to become a wife, but with this type there is no hope of finding a reasonable courtship arrangement; when they want to get married, they pursue the subject at jet speed—and the third date is your deadline for decision. Either you get married, or you stop 'toying' with her affections. This is the bachelor life, and honey, it's no circus!"

Mr. Yarnell continues by saying that in the bachelors' world, most guys on modest incomes feel like "tattered issues of playboy magazines. Like me. My wines are never the right year, I feel as though I'm in the middle of a cliche if I stack my hi-fi set with Sinatra and mood music. And I don't mind admitting I still have an awkward moment when I adjust the lights for a more romantic mood.

"So why do I do it? Because, Miss Battelle, I am forced into such nonsense by young ladies who are not looking for marriage, but want instead a vague image of glamorous romance."

The bachelor's problems are compounded by the fact that modern society says the woman is supposed to be the stronger partner in a love affair. She's the one who's supposed to needle the reluctant male into the marital noose. If the man does the proposing these days, he's looked upon—by the girl, as well as his friends—as a square. And she loses interest if he's too easy to get.

"It's all a phoney, unfulfilling game that the modern girl and the up-to-date bachelor play," Yarnell writes. "If we could all relax again and insist on normal, even Victorian, courting procedures, love would work out more efficiently. Must close now. I have a few chores to perform—restocking the liquor supply, and I understand there's a great new album out called 'Music to Win a Woman's Heart But Not Her Hand By' . . ."

Fire Hospital Chief, Says Wayne Auditor

DETROIT (UP)—Removal of the superintendent of Wayne County General Hospital and five members of its governing board because of alleged "administrative chaos" at the institution was urged Thursday by County Aduitor Thursday by County Auditor Charles F. Edgecomb.

Edgecomb made the recommendation in a report to the county board of auditors after a nine-month investigation of the hospital.

He charged a "shocking lack of administration" under Dr. S. C. Jacobson, superintendent since 1953. He also charged Dr. Jacobson with "inability and lack of interest and dedication to the job."

Dr. Jacobson declined comment. As superintendent of the big hospital he is paid $23,000 a year.

Hopes Husband First Man to Go to Outer Space

NEW YORK (UPI)—The wife of one of the seven Astronauts being trained to explore space said today she hoped her husband would be the first to go.

"I hope Don is the first to go," said Marjorie Slayton, "because that is what he wants."

Mrs. Slayton, wife of Capt. Donald Slayton, of the U.S. Air Force, summed up the feelings of the other six wives in this statement. They all acknowledged that they were aware of the dangers, but the excitement and importance of the space assignment were foremost in their minds.

Frozen Climate Healthful

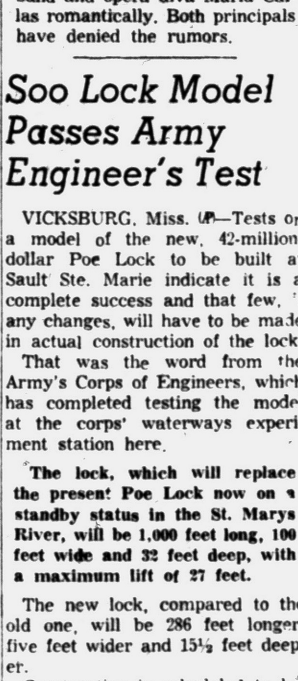

CHICAGO (UPI)—Capt. E. E. Hedblom, fresh from the Navy's Operation Deep Freeze headquarters near the South Pole, said today people don't catch cold as often, drink as much, or suffer as many mental troubles in the Antarctic as they do in normal climates.

Soo Lock Model Passes Army Engineer's Test

VICKSBURG, Miss. (UP)—Tests on a model of the new, 42-million-dollar Poe Lock to be built at Sault Ste. Marie indicate it is a complete success and that few, if any changes, will have to be made in actual construction of the lock.

That was the word from the Army's Corps of Engineers, which has completed testing the model at the corps' waterways experiment station here.

The lock, which will replace the present Poe Lock now on a standby status in the St. Marys River, will be 1,000 feet long, 100 feet wide and 32 feet deep, with a maximum lift of 27 feet.

The new lock, compared to the old one, will be 286 feet longer, five feet wider and 15½ feet deeper.

Construction is scheduled to begin in April of 1960 and be completed in June of 1964.

The existing Poe Lock was authorized by Congress in 1886 with construction getting under way in 1887. It was completed in 1896.

Auto Output Hitting 5-Week High Record

DETROIT (UP)—Auto production will reach a five-week high this week with all manufacturers except Chrysler on its Valiant compact model getting into operation on 1960 cars, Automotive News said.

It predicted an output this week of 24,354 passenger cars for an increase of 160.5 per cent over last week and 70.8 per cent over the same week last year.

The trade paper said truck production also will be increased heavily.

Less than 700 motor trucks were registered in the U. S. in 1904.

Language Requirements Will Improve Relations

The Foreign Relations Committee has given notice that it will enforce provisions of a Senate passed bill requiring ambassadors and foreign service officers to have a working knowledge of the language of the countries to which they are assigned.

About 70 per cent of those entering this field are without knowledge of any foreign tongue. It seems to us that this knowledge should be a foreign service entrance requirement.

The new law is flexible enough to make exceptions when the officer is otherwise competent. It is almost impossible, for instance, for an adult Westerner to learn the difficult Oriental languages no matter how desirable that might be.

In the past we have not made the best use of some of our representatives who do speak foreign languages. For instance, WILLIAM I. GIVENS, who learned French, was sent to Tokyo; WALTER G. WALCAVICH studied Russian so he was assigned to Cardiff, Wales; the State Department's language school in Frankfort taught German to RICHARD W. WHITE. He was assigned to Dublin. At a time when we needed to learn more about Russia, our top Russian expert CHARLES BOHLEN, was banished to the Philippines.

Money Thrown Away in Needless Speeches

Recently the House of Representatives met in a session devoted entirely to the voicing of memorials. One member paid a long tribute to ARTHUR FIEDLER for 30 years conductor of the Boston Symphony.

Speaker SAM RAYBURN took exception on the ground that the memorial hadn't been cleared with him and that they all are wasteful of the taxpayer's money. Memorials are published in the Congressional Record which costs $85 a page to print.

Mr. Rayburn pointed out that the bill mounts up as "we continue to congratulate everybody in the United States" and that it was time to stop issuing a "memorial every time someone has done a good deed or lived a good life." To show their hang-the-expense attitude Congressmen devoted 95 minutes more memorializing credit unions.

Cost of printing in the Congressional Record is only the beginning. In addition to the several thousands an hour just to have the House meet, there are the extra copies sent by the speechmakers to their constituents under the franking privilege.

The average member of Congress last year sent out 131,137 pieces of franked mail or about 118 pieces each working day. Handling ordinary mail costs the Post Office Department 4.583 cents and the franked mail would be almost as much. Some of the printing and mailing no doubt is necessary but, as we all know, a lot of it is wasteful of the taxpayer's money.

World Court Ineffective Because of Reservation

In his State of the Union message President EISENHOWER suggested that the United States examine its relations with the World Court "to the end that the rule of law may replace the rule of force in the affairs of nations."

Unfortunately it is our own position which makes the International Court of Justice at The Hague as ineffectual as it is. This country does suggest that many international disputes be settled by the court. But it is an empty gesture.

By the 1946 Connolly amendment the Senate asserted the right to keep any dispute out of the World Court on the ground that it is a domestic affair. This gives every other country a similar right regardless of what may be involved.

Vice President NIXON and CHARLES S. RYHNE, past president of the American Bar Association, have stirred up new interest on the subject. Attorney General ROGERS told the Bar Association that it is time for us to renounce this reservation. He pointed out that so long as we insist on this privilege "other nations will not believe we are sincere in our support of the rule of law."

No court can function effectively under this condition. As a matter of fact no nation need fear injustice since the World Court can invoke only limited sanctions against a sovereign government. But the advantages of an independent court for judgment according to law in disputes growing out of international agreements is obvious.

A Feather in His Hat

David Lawrence Says:

Relations Group Blocks Newsmen

WASHINGTON — The "right to know" — a noble cause long espoused by the press and championed, too, by many so-called "liberals" in Congress — got a body blow during the Khrushchev visit here. It was dealt by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's chairman, Senator Fulbright, Democrat, of Arkansas, and by a section of the press itself, as well as by the Soviet embassy.

For the Senate Foreign Relations Committee excluded every member of the American press from its meeting with Nikita Khrushchev, but, allowed three newspapermen from the Soviet Union who were accompanying the Soviet premier to attend the secret hour-and-a-half session with the Senators.

LAWRENCE

It wasn't surprising, on the other hand, that the Soviet officials — on the occasion of the dinner Wednesday night for President Eisenhower, permitted the Russian newsmen and photographers to enter the Soviet embassy but didn't let any American newsmen or photographers come in—they waited outside in the rain. Yet Soviet photographers were given the same privileges as Americans just before the dinner President Eisenhower gave the Soviet premier at the White House Tuesday night.

American newsmen themselves handled the luncheon at the National Press Club for Mr. Khrushchev, and, curiously enough, certain important interrogations didn't materialize. One would have supposed that, being interested in the "right to know" and the freedom of the press everywhere — particularly the right of American newsmen to go into the Soviet Union — they would have offered some question on these matters.

It is well known, for instance, that only hand-picked correspondents from the United States can remain in the Soviet Union and that, if they write what the Communists don't like, they will be expelled — in fact, several already have been sent out of that country for that reason.

The Moscow correspondent of the Columbia Broadcasting System was expelled recently because the Soviet government disliked an American television broadcast originating in this country, even though the correspondent had nothing to do with it.

Why does the Soviet premier permit such things to happen? Why is there censorship of news dispatches from Moscow? Why have the radio broadcasts of the "Voice of America" emanating from this country been "jammed" by the Soviet government for the last 10 years? Mr. Khrushchev should have been asked these questions above all others.

It remained for a United States senator to ask, at the "tea" given by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee later in the day, a question about censorship, pointing out that America has a free press while Russia suppresses the news at will. The Soviet premier replied:

"Well, we have two different systems — you call it censorship. We don't let people publish untruths. They are free to publish anything that is true."

Incidentally, the Soviet premier is himself getting away with a good deal of factual error. He told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, for instance, that the United States has cut back on the cultural exchange program. But President Eisenhower told his press conference the next day that America is trying to expand the program and is not cutting it down. The Soviet premier nevertheless repeated the same charge two hours later in New York.

Again, Mr. Khrushchev told the senators he and the President had agreed not to discuss "third countries." But Mr. Eisenhower the next day said, rather charitably, that "there must be some kind of misunderstanding brought about, possibly, by faulty interpreting." Anyway, the President said he doesn't see how there could be any talks unless discussion of third countries occurred, as he added: "Well, if we don't discuss Berlin, for example, I would have difficulty in seeing why we got together. No, of course, we have to talk about them."

WORST BONER?

Probably the worst boner Mr. Khrushchev pulled was in his attempt to deny what happened before the Soviet rocket to the moon was fired last week.

The Country Parson

"The difference between harmless fun and sinful behavior is whether we're doing it or someone else is."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Here Is How You Test for Excessive Sugar

In a recent piece, I told what I think every one should know about diabetes and nothing that I think might do any harm. I quoted, for instance, the signals the American Diabetes Association, Inc., says point to the possible existence of diabetes, namely:

DR. BRADY

Excessive thirst, excessive urination, loss of weight, intense itching, excessive hunger, changes in vision, easy tiring, pain in the extremeties and slow healing of cuts and bruises.

As I expected, some readers found the piece disappointing for one reason or another, mostly because I did not tell how to test the urine for sugar.

I beg to ask what would you do if you tested the urine for sugar and found sugar present? Or more to the point, what could you do except consult a physician?

In the same piece I said people in whose family there are diabetics, people past 40, people who are overweight and people who are women are most likely to have diabetes. Now I, at one time or another, have noticed one or two of the signals pointing to the possible existence of diabetes.

Yet I haven't bothered to tear off a piece of Testape and make the simple sugar test.

In the booklet Training for Diabetes (for a copy send me 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope) I describe two other methods of testing the urine for sugar (other than the very simple Testape method). One method is that suggested by Dr. Don H. Duffie, author of the famous manual "A Book for Us Diabetics" (now out of print):

"Twenty drops of Benedict's solution with one drop of urine, or a teaspoonful with six drops —the same except the cost."

It is well to remember that presence of sugar (glucose) in the urine does not necessarily signify diabetes. Measurement of the amount of sugar in the blood is necessary too.

If more than 0.14 per cent of sugar is present in the blood of a person who has not taken food within an hour or two, it means diabetes usually or potential diabetes, even if there is little or no sugar in the urine.

The blood of a healthy person always contains from 0.07 to 0.12 per cent sugar. If for any reason the sugar falls below 0.07 per cent (hypoglycemia) the person is in a dangerous condition.

OBESITY WORST

Obesity is the foremost cause of diabetes.

Two miles of oxygen on the hoof BRISKLY three times a day is the best anti-diabetic remedy in our therapeutic armamentarium.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

School Board Should Have Independent Committee

I would like to state clearly to the many friends that have questioned if I have reversed myself with regard to our public schools, that I definitely have not. I have fought for better schools, better teachers and better pay for teachers for the past 35 years. The district that I live in gave such an overwhelming vote for the 8.75 mill school tax that it carried.

I have not always agreed with the Board of Education with regard to their building program, but if everyone would take an active interest in our schools, I believe our Board could do a better job for all of us.

I would like to make a public recommendation to the School Board that they ask for a Citizens Advisory Committee as Detroit did and let this committee have access to the facts and figures available. This committee could give an independent report to citizens of Pontiac. Pontiac has many fine men who would do this very thing and I am positive some of the Board members would welcome such a committee.

Write Lansing to Save Foxes

Despite the fact that government funds were used for biological research that proved foxes were not predators and that tree growers and farmers call them "the best friend we have," the fox is still a $5 bounty animal.

The fox is the trappers "bread" and from a conservation officer I learned that trappers leave some of the females, taking all puppies and adult males to propagate. What a deal for trappers.

Need I say that the State of Michigan and the Conservation Department suffer for lack of funds? The department is prepared to pay $225,000 for bounties this year. What a sweet deal for trappers.

A letter from the conservation editor of a national magazine says "The Conservation Dept. of Michigan has no authority to discontinue payments. Only the legislature can discontinue funds, which they have refused to do." So write your protests to Representatives of the House Peltz and Rasmussen in Lansing.

Kick-Off Section Receives Praise

Three cheers for the sports department of The Pontiac Press. The 1959 Kick-off section of Tuesday's Press was by far the most interesting and complete sports report I have ever read. Naturally everyone is partial to their own Alma Mater, but it's nice to be informed about all your neighboring schools too. May I add that the sports section is always excellent.

'Let's Show Reds Where We Stand'

With Russia on the grab for tiny little Laos, I think it's high time we put a stop to their high handed manners. Why all the fanfare about Mr. Khrushchev's trip when he's just taking one country after another? He should be knocked down a peg or two and Dick Nixon is just the man to do it. Ike and the rest are too soft. Someone must stand up and lay the cards on the table like Nixon did. Let's show some of our military might that our tax dollars have gone for.

'Stories Not True' Says Mother of 7

To "Interested Taxpayer": What have my children and I ever done to you that you have to spread such vicious stories? Do you know the eighth commandment? If you have anything more to say be big enough to say it to my face. I pay taxes including school taxes, and my children go to the Catholic school. I'm not complaining.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Tells How to Develop Romance

Peggy's case could easily have been tragic. For many boys and girls who SHOULD fall in love, are prevented by this invisible "Sibling Halo" that holds them at a platonic distance. But notice how Donald shattered the "halo". It is wise to do so when your family want you to marry a congenial girl but you lack the "spark".

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE C-447: Peggy M., aged 23, is the charming girl who has lived next to Donald all his life.

Yesterday I mentioned Donald's problem, for he can't seem to grow romantic about Peggy, though he would like to do so.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," Peggy later informed me, "I have looked up to Donald like an older brother.

"He was my chaperone when I first started to kindergarten. And he has protected me against bullies and been my ideal all through the years.

"Yet when we are on a date, he acts rather distant. He seems ill at ease. What can I do, for I really love him?"

MOVIE KISSES

"Go through the proper motions," I later advised Donald.

"Tonight after you bring Peggy home from your date, kiss her goodnight.

"But don't give her a courteous little peck on the cheek or even a casual lip kiss.

"It may seem mechanical to you, but take her in your arms and kiss her as they do in the movies.

"For the first 5 to 10 seconds, you may feel very self-conscious and ill at ease. But hold her tightly and prolong that kiss.

"You may then be surprised at what will happen, for this is a standard psychological strategy for breaking that 'Sister Halo' I mentioned earlier."

HALO SHATTERED

Donald solemnly promised he would do so, though I saw he felt a bit embarrassed even at contemplating his new romantic role.

That night he took Peggy to a movie. Enroute home they chatted pleasantly, like brother and sister.

When he drove up in front of her house, he began to feel that invisible barrier slip between them. But let's hear him tell it:

"Dr. Crane, I decided I couldn't do it. I felt foolish about crushing her to me and giving her that movie type of kiss. Maybe the fact I was parked in front of her house and mine was next door, might have made it harder.

"Anyway, I sat and talked for another half an hour, trying to work up my resolution. And I'd never have done it, except I remembered I had vowed to you I'd follow through on your suggestion.

"Finally, and without any special romantic prelude, I just decided if I had to take my medicine, I might as well get it over with.

"So I seized her, rather roughly. Peggy looked startled at my sudden action.

"But I didn't give her time to think, for I just crushed her lips against mine, as they do in the movies. Maybe she was shocked at my rudeness, for she tried to push me away, but I maintained the kiss, even though I felt like a dunce.

"But after a few seconds, something happened. My mechanical acting began to shift into the real thing.

"For the very first time in all my life, I began to react to Peggy as a sweetheart instead of a pal.

"It shook me. After that prolonged kiss, I still held her in my arms but I now looked at her through new eyes. And it was as if I had never seen her before.

"So I kissed her again to see if I was dreaming. Suddenly I found that I was madly in love with her. We are going to be married in six weeks."

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

But Crowned Ruler Likely to Succeed Franco

Spain: Monarchy Without a King

A THRONE IN HIS FUTURE?—Prince Juan Carlos, 21, is among those prominently mentioned as possible king of Spain when that nation's 66-year-old Francisco Franco no longer reigns. Juan Carlos' father, Don Juan of Bourbon, has also been linked to a reappearance of the monarchy in Spain.

(This is the final dispatch in a four-part series on Spain today.)

By HENRY F. SCHULTE

MADRID (UPI) — The Spain which Francisco Franco has ruled for more than 20 years is a monarchy by tradition and by law, but a monarchy without a king.

Some day, Franco has said, a king will return to the Spanish throne. But when that will happen and who the king will be is still known only to the 66-year-old Franco.

There seem to be two candidates.

The most likely is Don Juan of Bourbon, 45, legal heir to the throne vacated by his father, King Alfonso XIII in 1931.

Also a likely possibility, but one whose claim lies farther in the future, is Prince Juan Carlos, Don Juan's 21-year-old son.

LOGICAL CHOICES

And although there are monarchist factions in Spain which back other, less likely claimants to the throne, Don Juan and Juan Carlos seem to be overwhelmingly the logical choices to follow Franco.

The Spanish throne has been vacant since Alfonso fled the country without renouncing his rights 28 years ago. He died in Rome in 1941.

And 10 years later, his right-hand man, Adm. Luis Carrero Blanco, minister subsecretary for the presidency, told the Spanish parliament:

"When the Caudillo (Franco) is gone, a monarchy, neither absolute nor liberal, but traditional . . . will be that which rules Spain."

Though no one doubted that Carrero Blanco was voicing Franco's thoughts, the statement became even more significant last year when Franco himself reiterated it.

ANOTHER HINT

And early this year, Carrero Blanco dropped another hint.

In an open letter to a top Spanish monarchist, Carrero Blanco wrote:

"In the order of rights, within the Spanish dynasty, for me it is undeniable that his Royal Highness, the Count of Barcelona (Don Juan), is the prince with the best right to the crown of Spain . . ."

That fell far short of indicating that Franco planned to install Don Juan on his father's throne, but it did strengthen speculation that Juan was the likeliest candidate.

However, it is generally agreed that there have been misunderstandings between the prince and the Caudillo.

That may be an influencing factor when Franco decides to name a successor, political observers say.

Indeed, Franco has been grooming the younger Juan Carlos in a manner apparently aimed at preparing him for eventual rule.

ENTERING UNIVERSITY

He spent two years at the army school at Zaragoza, a year at the naval academy at Marin and last year studied at the air academy at San Javier.

This fall, the tall blond prince will enter the University of Madrid for some nonmilitary education.

But Spanish law says a monarch must be at least 30 years old, which rules out Juan Carlos until the late 1960s.

The law also requires that a king must be of royal blood, a Catholic, married to royalty and must accept the country's basic laws, which were introduced under Franco beginning in 1936.

Don Juan lives up to all but one of the requirements. The exiled pretender has never given his approval to the national laws, one of the points of disagreement between him and Franco.

No one knows if Don Juan could be reconciled to the laws or if the laws could be changed to suit him.

Almost all political groups in Spain, with the exception of the nation's small, well-organized and outlawed Communist Party, agree that a monarchy would be the best answer to the question of "after Franco, what?"

There is disagreement on the type of monarchy and on whether it should be permanent or temporary.

RANGE OF OPINIONS

Opinions range from die-hard traditionalists who would welcome an absolute monarchy to the socialists who would look upon a king as a stop-gap measure in the march toward some form of democracy.

Horse Thief Hideout

Horse Thief Basin, now a park about 90 miles outside Phoenix, Ariz., got its name from the fact that once it was a hideout for horse thieves and other shady characters.

Post Signatures Vary in Count

Hare Sends Out Figure Needed by Nominee to Run for State Job

LANSING (AP) — If you want to run for governor of Michigan in 1960, you'll have to have at least 12,708 signatures on your nomination papers if you are a Democrat. You'll need 9,672 if you are a Republican.

The figures were announced Thursday by Secretary of State James M. Hare for the general primary election to be held Aug. 2, 1960. Hare noted that the deadline for filing nomination papers is June 14, 1960 at 4 p.m. (EST).

All county clerks and members of the Legislature have been sent a table showing the minimum number of signatures for governor and lieutenant governor, U.S. and state senator, and U.S. and state representative.

The minimum figures for governor also apply to lieutenant governor and U.S. Senator. In addition, the petitions for these three posts must be signed by at least 100 registered voters in each of at least 20 counties. No more than the 25 per cent of the minimum may be registered voters of any one county.

The highest number of signatures needed by a U.S. representative hopeful is 1,469 by any Democratic candidate for the 16th District. A Republican candidate in the first district needs only 86.

A Democratic candidate for state senator from the 21st district must have at least 1,098 signatures. A Republican candidate for the post in the 32nd District needs only 92 signatures.

Eight State Officials on Efficiency Board

LANSING (AP) — Eight state officials versed in efficiency and economy procedures have been named by Gov. Williams to a new state board charged with ensuring that essential state services are provided at the lowest possible cost.

The new agency is called the Efficiency Board of Review.

Williams said its function is to coordinate the skills of all state departments, agencies, boards and commissions.

The board includes state controller, James W. Miller, insurance commissioner, Frank Blackford and Billie S. Farnum, deputy secretary of state.

And Courageous Host

Khrushchev Hails Ike as 'Great Man'

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev hailed President Eisenhower Thursday afternoon as a "great man" who had the courage and wisdom to invite the leader of world communism to the United States.

"I am aware some politicians in this country are displeased by this step taken by the President of this country, but it needed a great man to look further ahead instead of those who are unable to see any further than their noses," the Soviet leader said.

"It is a man's greatness to be able to see today and to be also able to see future prospects and that the prospects should be clear for his nation."

Khrushchev made the remarks at a luncheon in his honor at the Commodore Hotel, given by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, on behalf of the city of New York. The city welcomed the Soviet leader quietly and without particular enthusiasm on the second leg of his tour.

Mostly it was a massive, polite silence, punctuated by a few cheers and by some shouts of "murderer" and placards reading:

"Nikie, got to the moon—leave New York for us."

Eighty thousand persons watched as Khrushchev rode from Pennsylvania Station to the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria and then to the Hotel Commodore for the official city reception.

Concerning Eisenhower, the Russian leader said:

"I have always esteemed your President and I do so to an even greater degree now. To have invited Khrushchev to the United States needed wisdom and will power and understanding of the need to place the relations between our countries on a sound basis."

Khrushchev drew a loud laugh from the audience at the luncheon when he said of course there were other reasons why he was invited.

"You wanted to see what kind of a man Khrushchev was," he said. "Well, here I am."

Laughingly, Khrushchev referred to the U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, Henry Cabot Lodge, for the "burden" he will have in accompanying Khrushchev on his tour as official escort.

Ambassador Lodge, outspoken antagonist of Soviet policies in the United Nations, was deadly serious as he lectured the visiting premier on the United States and its ways, on the situation of American Negroes, on the determination of Americans to end legal segregation.

Be Kind to Khrushchev, Orders Frisco Mayor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Anti-Khrushchev demonstrators will get a chance to blow off steam here Saturday but after that it will be the silent treatment for the Soviet Premier.

Mayor George Christopher asked San Francisco to be carefully courteous when Nikita Khrushchev visits here Sunday and Monday.

Police Chief Thomas Cahill met with leaders of anti-Communist groups and told them that 500 picked policemen—nearly a third of the local force—will be assigned to guard Khrushchev.

Khrushchev Charges:

State Department Fears Exchange of Delegations

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia's Premier Khrushchev charged Thursday that the State Department has become "somewhat afraid" of exchanging scientific, cultural and technical delegations with Russia.

The Soviet leader, speaking before a nationwide television audience, said Russia has tried unsuccessfully to win State Department approval to more such exchanges.

"But the State Department is hindering this," he said.

"Do you want them (the State Department) to revert back to the status of the Iron Curtain?" Khrushchev asked.

Khrushchev dropped his unexpected criticism of the State Department into a speech he made at a big welcoming luncheon given in his honor by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Khrushchev spoke out at a time when Soviet-American diplomats have begun preliminary talks which would extend the current two-year exchange agreement for another two years.

The State Department has proposed that such talks be held in Washington but the Soviets are reported insisting they begin in Moscow.

"Let us have more and more ties with each other," Khrushchev said speaking from the head table.

Khrushchev did not spell out the kind of person-to-person swaps he had in mind. But at one point, he said this exchange should also include sending scientific literature from one country to the other.

Over Teamster Funds

Hoffa May Face Removal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A legal Sword of Damocles was poised this week over Jimmy Hoffa's neck.

If it falls, the little man with big ideas could be ousted as provisional president of the [redacted] teamsters union and face possible oblivion as a labor leader.

The sword was swung into place by court-appointed union clean-up monitors who charged the 46-year-old Hoffa had consistentaly defied their anti-corruption directives.

Specifically, two of the three monitors—the labor member did not join in—claimed before Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts that Hoffa misused $675,000 of [redacted] Florida banking [redacted]ctions. They [redacted]ed to Team- [redacted]troit, which [redacted]manded a full [redacted]

They [redacted]ified that unless Hoffa provides satisfactory answers he be expelled from the union—a fate that also could befall many of his front-line lieutenants.

Judge Letts gave Hoffa 20 days to respond. Hoffa, whose hold on the nation's truckers gives him life-and-death power over a big slice of the national economy, said through associates that he would fight the accusations every step of the way—through the Supreme Court if need be.

FAILED TWICE

But he has twice failed in court attempts to shed the monitors and gain unfettered control of the union through a convention that would confirm him as president. He has been serving provisionally since 1957, pending another convention which the monitors have blocked.

Letts originally set up the monitors in January, 1958, in a "consent" settlement of a suit by dissident teamsters who charged Hoffa was hand-picked in a "rigged" election to succeed much-indicted union president Dave Beck.

This was also after the Senate rackets committee branded Hoffa the "fountainhead of labor corruption" and cleared the way for recent enactment of drastic union reform legislation.

This development led AFL-CIO president George Meany to label Hoffa "labor's No. 1 enemy." Meany said that Hoffa, whose 1,600,000-man union was ousted from the AFL-CIO for alleged corruption, was responsible for passage of the legislation.

Hoffa now appears to be in a legal squeeze. The monitors have no punitive power. They merely can recommend. But the three-judge federal court of appeals here said in rejecting a Hoffa appeal of monitor directives that the monitors have the right to ask Letts to enforce their edicts if Hoffa remains defiant. Letts is backing them up.

School Bonds Faring Well

Four of 5 Pass Voters as Tightfisted Reports Appear Exaggerated

Those reports you probably have heard about irate taxpayers turning down school bond issues right and left appear to be somewhat exaggerated.

The best figures available show that four out of five such issues are being approved. This is ahead of last year's record and about on a par with 1957.

These figures are incomplete, and they don't tell the whole story. Even so, they seem to demonstrate pretty well that the U.S. taxpayer isn't yet in open revolt when it comes to putting up the money for more schools.

46 Appointed to New State Study Groups

LANSING (UP) — The appointment of 46 representatives to 10 special study committees has been announced by House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan).

Included in the studies will be a complete survey of the state's social welfare aid setup, an appraisal of the Michigan probate code with emphasis on state and local approaches to juvenile delinquency, and a review of annexation and consolidation problems of municipalities.

Other study areas will cover methods of permitting local government units to encourage industrial growth; trading stamp systems; election procedures in school districts.

Self-liquidating project at state universities and colleges; unpatented submerged and unsubmerged lands and the construction of marinas over submerged lands; and changes in state liquor laws.

Missing Tycoon Back Unharmed

Oilman Harold Martin Disappeared 24 Hours Because of Pressure

CHICAGO (UPI) — Missing millionaire oil tycoon Harold T. Martin returned to his offices late Thursday after almost 24 hours' absence and refused to say where he had been.

Martin, the owner of 80 Martin gasoline stations across the country, said only that the "pressure of business" had led him to drop out of sight.

Police Lt. Otto Kruzer said Martin told him "the pressure was so great he wanted to get rid of it all and take a 24-hour vacation."

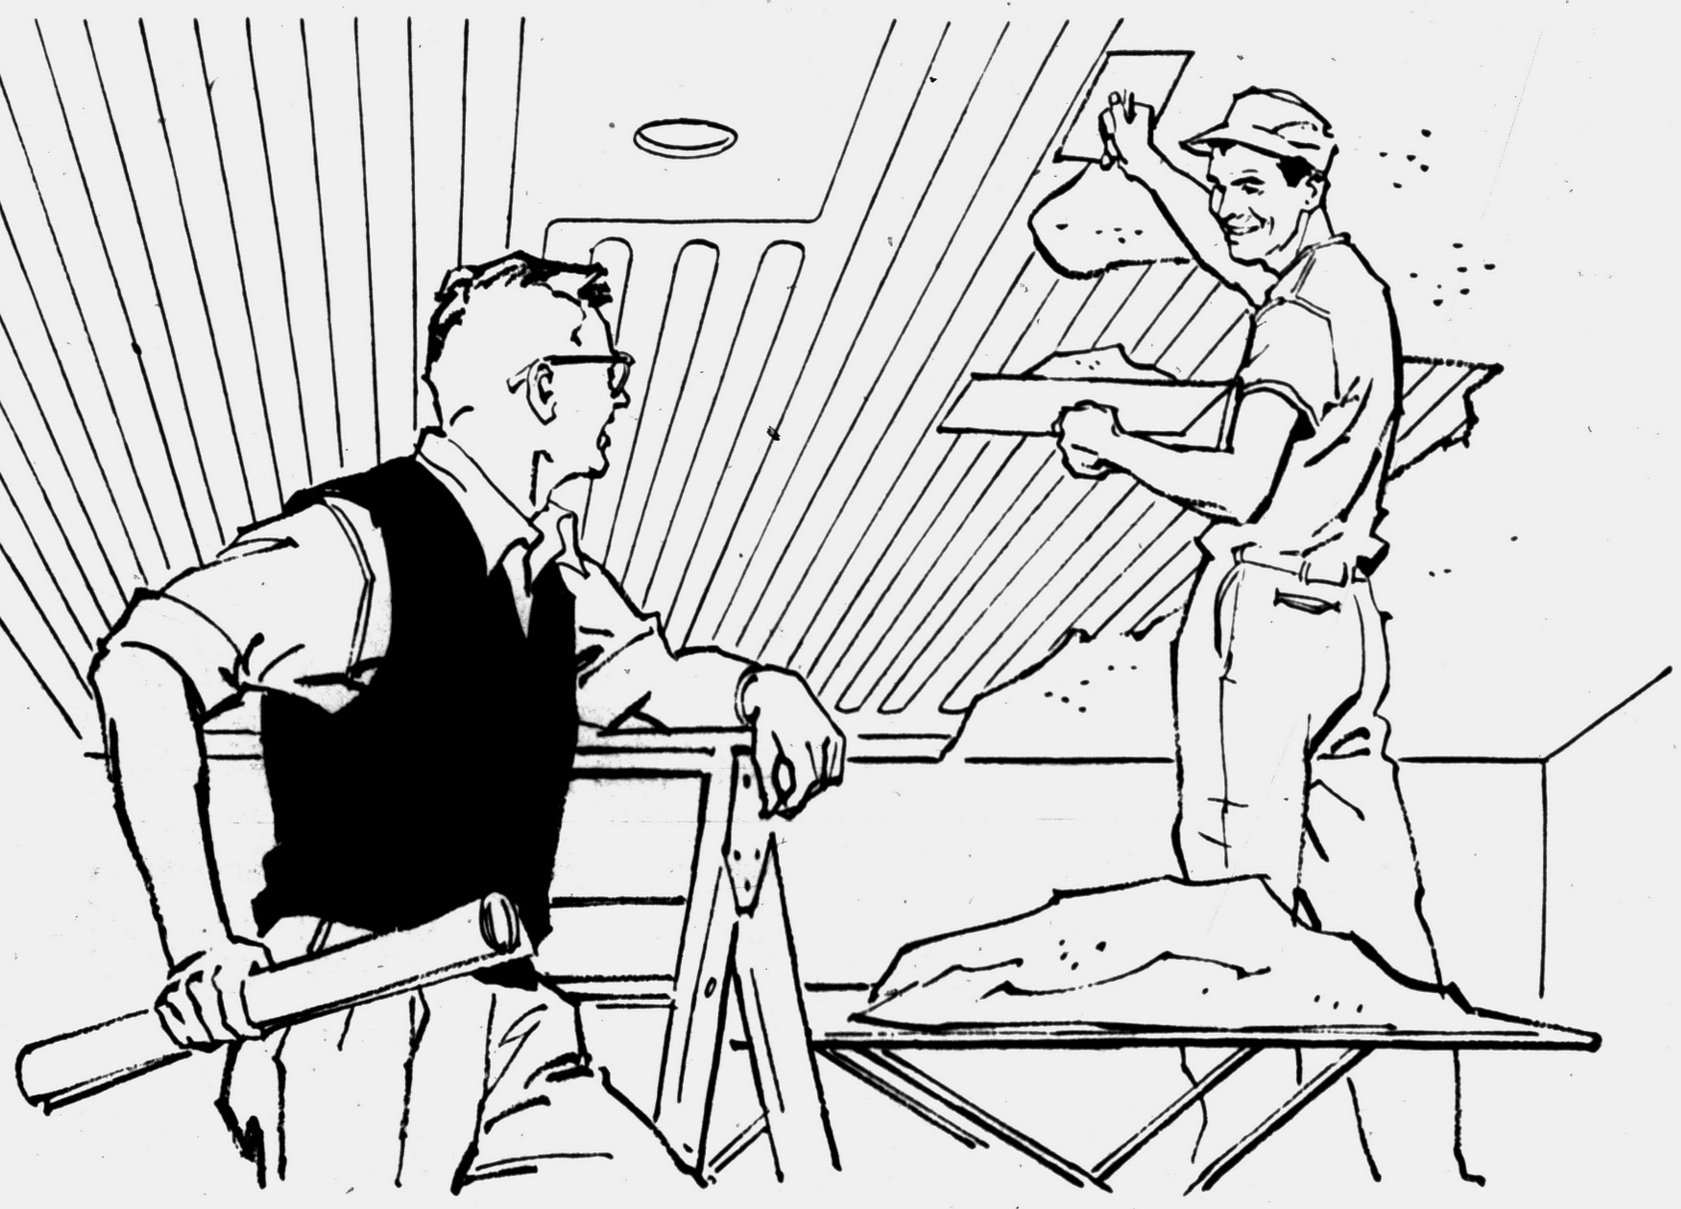

Until Martin turned up at his Chicago Loop headquarters, police had feared he had been kidnaped for the second time in his life. Six years ago, thugs abducted Martin and another oil executive, beat them and robbed them.

DES MOINES—The farm silo is said to have originated in central Europe in 1875 and introduced into the United States a year later.

ELECTRIC HEAT

Whether you build or buy, you can be sure your new home is as modern as it can be when it's heated by a built-in electric system—the ceiling cable above, for example. Every type of electric heat makes it possible for you to control the temperature in any room without affecting temperatures elsewhere in the house. That's really dialing comfort to match individual needs.

The new home with electric heat has more usable space in it too. You get the benefit of the areas usually taken up by furnace and chimney. Compact, simple and safe, electric heat has many points of superiority over other systems. And because it practically never wears out, your home will require less upkeep. That's not all—electric heat should give it greater resale value too.

SAFETY . . . Electric heating systems are designed to distribute heat safely, gently. Concentrations of super-heated air are eliminated. There is no combustion process.

EXTRA SPACE . . . Electric heating units are completely built in. You can put to better use the space otherwise needed for chimney, fuel storage, piping, furnace or boiler.

CARES FOR ITSELF . . . Set a thermostat, then forget it. Electric heating systems are long-lived because there is little to wear out, need adjustment or replacement.

REDUCED RATE . . . Residential customers can now take advantage of a new, lower rate—2c per kilowatt-hour when monthly electrical use is over 750 kilowatt-hours. Electricity remains one of your biggest bargains.

CUSTOM-COMFORT . . . Keep one room at 72, another at 65. The temperature can be up in one room, down or completely off in another.

FLEXIBILITY . . . Electric heat can replace baseboards—or be built into walls, floors or ceilings.

CLEANLINESS . . . Walls, draperies, carpets and furniture stay cleaner longer—for air is free from combustion products.

you can choose from several types of units

Your choice will be influenced by whether you are building, remodeling or simply adding on or finishing off an extra room. Electric heating units can be installed almost anywhere: can be embedded in plaster ceilings, set into floors, built into walls or used to replace baseboards.

The electric heat pump works on an entirely different principle from the units described above. It is a year-round climate control system which heats in winter and cools in summer—automatically.

Regardless of the heating system used, be sure your home has good insulation, properly installed. Good insulation is needed for maximum comfort and economy.

This sign assures you of dependable installation. It is displayed by electrical contractors who have pledged to meet voluntary industry standards.

Problems Await Small Businesses

WASHINGTON (NEA)—If it's a small business you're in — and you watch your step — you should do quite well in the economic boom period just ahead.

But you might as well face it: You're going to have more problems.

Your problems will be tougher to solve than the problems of large firms.

New small business will be formed at a record rate — probably between 8,000 and 9,000 a week — this fall and winter.

But the way it looks now, 86 per cent of all the small firms started in the next nine months, will go out of business even before the next recession.

Small business is going to be especially hard hit by labor in the six months to a year ahead. Labor unions, spearheaded by the Teamsters, are beginning a drive to organize small companies.

Most small businesses can't afford strikes which can quickly bankrupt them. They can't afford either the expenses of featherbedding or the rigid working rules unions impose on large firms.

The larger companies will be able in the months ahead to offset these labor pressures by a step up in automation and heavier mechanization generally. These improvements usually require big-volume production to be effective. They often don't pay off in small businesses.

PROFIT SQUEEZE

The growing boom is bringing more competition and narrowing the gap between income and expenses, squeezing the margin of profit.

Big businesses are beating this partly by a heavy investment in research on new products, on better marketing and on improved production methods. Most small firms can't afford this research investment.

The economists predict a somewhat erratic consumer demand in the months ahead — high, but varying.

Large firms producing standardized products can ride out these changes. Small firms, which concentrate more on specialities, can get caught easily and burned. And many will be caught in the next six months to a year, say the economic forecasters.

MONEY TIGHT

Money is going to be even more difficult for the small firm to get than it will be for his larger brother, despite the Government's special loan programs. Money is tight all around.

Even in the field of Government contracts where the small businessman is protected by laws and by the energetic Small Business Administration, small firms are gradually losing out — despite temporary gains.

As military requirements become more complicated, more of the major prime contracts are going, inevitably, to the larger contractors.

Despite these handicaps, hundreds of thousands of small business firms are going to see their best days in the nine months ahead.

Should Man Be Tried for Murder of Wife in 1915?

Gov. Edmund Brown, who must decide the question, scheduled a hearing for Friday.

20, 1915, of stab wounds. He was arrested in Fresno, Calif., after police saw an ad he inserted in a Pittsburgh Serbian language newspaper trying to find a son.

Novich denies the murder. He claims it was committed by a former friend of his wife. He says [illegible] threatened to kill him [illegible] leave Pittsburgh.

Novich's second wife died Jan.

Dow Chemical Elects 2 New Vice Presidents

MIDLAND (AP) — Dow Chemical Co. elected two new vice presidents and reshuffled some other management echelons Wednesday.

Directors elevated Donald K. Ballman and C. B. Branch to vice presidencies. Ballman has been director of sales since 1957 and Branch, manager of overseas operations since last January. Both are directors.

Robert B. Bennett was promoted from assistant treasurer to treasurer and Fred H. Brown from assistant treasurer to the new post of controller. Both will be responsible to vice president Carl A. Gerstacker, who also had been treasurer since 1949.

Gerstacker was elected chairman of the finance committee, succeeding E. W. Bennett, who continues as chairman of the board of directors.

E. W. Bennett is the father of the new treasurer.

Going Into Business?

WASHINGTON (NEA)—In the immediate future, here's how top economists rate:

THE BEST BETS FOR SMALL BUSINESS—electronics, service industries, repairing of all kinds, insurance, real estate, recreation and vacation business—even motels—wholesaling, construction and remodeling. Also, "brain" industires—engineering, economic, scientific and technical consulting and research firms with first class talent; small metal working firms with craftsmen possessing specialized skills; specialty firms catering to specialized needs in food, clothing, hobby and sports equipment, things for babies and children of the types too specialized for mass production or mass distribution. Also, almost any industry where the personality or ingenuity of the owner or a small select staff can provide the specialized services that a big business can't give.

THE WORST BETS FOR SMALL BUSINESS—grocery stores—gradually being eased out by the big food chains; eating and drinking places; manufacturing, except in specialties. Manufacturing of standard goods is more and more being taken over by the big firms with big machinery and therefore lower unit labor costs.

Miss Colorado Wins Freedom for Her Father

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—A four-year battle to win commutation of her father's 30-year prison sentence has ended successfully for pretty Jo Ann London—Miss Colorado of 1951.

The Montana Pardons and Parole Board, accepting results of a lie detector test long sought by Miss London, 27, recommended he be freed. Gov. J. Hugo Aronson has signed the commutation order.

Only processing of parole papers remains. That could come this week.

Floyd London, 53, was sentenced in 1955 after a jury at Circle, Mont., convicted him and his son Billy of second-degree murder in the death of Clement Myszka, 17, of Edgar, Wis.

Billy was sentenced to 10 years. Another judge, however, suspended the sentence, contending the jury was prejudiced.

Effigy-Burning Pep Rally Held

School Officials Throw Dummy to Flames for Season Opener Tonight

By ED SANTALA

An effigy-burning pep rally was the first social event of the season at Pontiac Northern High School last Friday.

It was designed, but not necessary to keep students in an explosive pins and needles mood for the opening football game tonight.

Into a huge bonfire built especially for the purpose, Philip Wargelin and Victor Lindquist, principal and assistant principal, respectively, tossed a dummy which symbolized the Lake Orion Dragons.

A host of "firsts" marks the progress of the new school.

All Northern students and outside supporters are invited to join in a car caravan for the first time in a show of spirit for the first school football team in its first varsity competition.

RED AND WHITE

All cars will be decorated in Northern's red and white and will be filled with enthusiastic red and white clad fans. The only requirement is a strong and loud cheering larynx.

The cheerleaders for the 1959-60 sports season are Sharon Nichols, captain; Lynn Thompson, Carole Mihay, Pat Lund and Ruth Benner. They have been writing and perfecting new cheers. Two of them are "Fight, Team, Fight" and "Beat 'Em, Bust 'Em."

The enrollment at Northern for 1959-60 is about the same as it was last year, though some classes are larger because of the loss of a teacher who has not yet been replaced.

The total enrollment thus far is 1,054.

Upon our return to school this fall we saw the landscaping job nearing completion. All the shrubs and trees provide an effective trim. The many flowers make this a truly colorful school.

Mother Maura Is Principal

St. Michael Pupils Welcome New Faculty

By BARBARA ARDELAN

As faithful writer's cramp started making the rounds of the classrooms, bright-eyed seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen returned to St. Michael High School this week.

The 8 o'clock Mass celebrated by our pastor, Father Leonard Kennedy, formally opened the 1959-60 school session.

We would like to extend our welcome to the new members of the faculty. Heading the list is our new principal, Mother M. Maura.

LEAD CHEERS

Varsity cheerleaders, Diana Adams, Marie Cronan, Sue Kinney, Kitty Daugherty and Tonya Hurst elected a new senior captain. She is Marilyn Biallas, who will lead the cheers during many spirited football and basketball victories.

With a record turnout in the offing, football coaches Jim Neibauer and Mike Slavinsky, are assured of a number of victories this season. This year many of our veteran seniors returned.

A few promising freshmen will get their first taste of organized football, Saturday at 8 p. m. When St. Michael's Shamrocks clash with West Bloomfield at Wisner Stadium.

Cheerleaders Kick Off Social Whirl

Central Has Postgame Dance

By ADRIENNE RESSLER

The cheerleaders are presenting a "Kick-Off Dance" after the Waterford game tonight from 10 to 12 in the boys' gym.

Disc jockeys will spin the records. As an added attraction to highlight the evening, the Lonely Knights, a local singing group consisting of Gary May, Garland Shearer, Gary Lessel and Lyn Nelson will provide entertainment.

Sharon Young is in charge of decorations and publicity for the dance. Other committees are headed by Judy Hinkley, refreshments; Carole Hughes, tickets; and Darlene Woodhull, entertainment.

CAMP ALL-AMERICAN

This summer six PCHS cheerleaders attended Camp All-American, a cheerleading camp in Hartland. Those who went were Mary Aughenbaugh, Fran Austin, Judy Hinkley, Carole Hughes, Diane Pickford and Sharon Young. The cheerleaders were observed during their practice classes and chosen for outstanding leadership, ability, fitness and cooperation. Pontiac's Judy Hinkley placed fourth out of ninety-two girls at the camp.

The representative squad as a whole was given second place. The trophies were presented to the cheerleaders at the pep assembly after school today.

Officers are Karen Oxley, captain, and Mary Aughenbaugh, secretary.

The Senior Girls Ensemble has selected Marilyn Vernon as its president. Other officers are Mary Ann Waring, vice president; Vicki Annas, secretary, and Kay Jerome, treasurer.

The girls have decided on new costumes for the coming year. They will wear black and white full dress matching accessories. The new accompanist for the group will be Diane Williams.

The PCHS Playcrafters held its first official meeting Wednesday after school and this year's officers took over. Leading the organization as president is Marilyn Vernon. Vice president is Marilyn Tompkins; Jim Baker is treasurer; and Vicki Annas will serve as secretary.

School Page Starts Again

What's going on over at that other high school? Who's coming to visit next week? How are we doing in that speech competition. Coming up Friday night, a dance maybe?

For the answers to these and other questions like them and to keep abreast of the news, The Press today begins another Friday high school page series.

This is the first school page of the 1959-60 year. It is written by student correspondents from each of the schools participating.

We trust this school page will continue to be of interest, informative and oftentimes enlightening to its readers.

One Twenty One Group Changes Meeting Date

New chairman of the One Twenty One Extension group of Lake Orion, Rochester and Mount Vernon is Mrs. Raymond White of Lake Orion.

Vice chairman is Mrs. Harold Chamberlain of Lake Orion and secretary, Mrs. Dale Andrews of Rochester. Treasurer is Mrs. Charles Horger of Rochester.

Project leader for the coming year is Mrs. Donald Koza of Rochester. Community chairman is Mrs. Fred Williamson of Mount Vernon.

Mrs. Chamberlain also will serve as news reporter and historian.

The meeting date has been changed from third Tuesday to the second Thursday of each month, Mrs. Chamberlain said.

Mother Melaney Gives 1st Address at St. Frederick

By PATRICIA VILLELLA

Students at St. Frederick High School have been introduced to the new principal, Mother Melanie, a former teacher at St. Patrick High School in Wyandotte.

Mother Melanie spoke to the student body on policies and regulations to be inaugurated. She was warmly welcomed by the entire student body.

Also introduced to "St. Fred's" this year was a French foreign exchange student, Beatrice Deschamps. We feel that Beatrice is a notable addition.

Students received their second view of the new look during this afternoon's assembly at which many extra-curricular activities were introduced. General chairman of the assembly was Michael Zimmer.

The chairman introduced student representatives and guest speakers who addressed the student body on what can be accomplished by their individual clubs and organizations.

Junior Achievement was presented by a local representative. Mike Zimmer explained the complete over-hauling Student Council will undergo this year.

INTRODUCTORY TALKS

Dianne Landry on sodality; Glee Club by director Edward Higbee; Debating Club by Pat Villella and Linda LaLonde; Publications by Kirby Meagher; Library Club by Dianne Palopoli; Future Teachers Club by Sue Shorrey; Future Social Workers by Rosemary Pierce; Teen Club by Father Weber; Great Books Club by Mary Kay Ermel; Sacristans by Mary Kay Jenkinson, president; C.C.D. work by James Zanoni.

To conclude this informative afternoon, athletic director Father Sheehan and coaches, Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Wright, lined up hopes for the coming football season. This was followed by cheers led by the varsity cheerladers.

Slated for tomorrow night is a bonfire and dance in the parking lot behind the school. This will be from 7 to 10 p.m. as a kickoff for the football season.

600 Turn Out for Walled Lake Event

By KARON GAMMEL

Student Council sponsor Oliver Rose said it was one of the largest crowds ever to attend such a function.

Representatives from each home room this week were elected to the Student Council, while class executive boards were chosen. The Pep Club also reorganized for the coming year.

Cheerleading sponsor Lucy Parker today was given a sterling engraved megaphone on a chain by the varsity and reserve cheer leaders at a pep assembly. Karen Tuttle, a varsiy captain, presented the gift.

Avondale Students Become Acquainted

By IRVIN GINGRICH

The time of year has once again rolled around when summer activities have come to an end and another school year has presented itself to the students of Avondale Senior High School.

To start the social phase of school, the Student Council sponsored a "Get Acquainted Dance" last Friday night. This gave everyone an opportunity to meet the many new students who have enrolled.

One very special student who enrolled this year at Avondale is Marjatta Eskelinen of Kuopio, Finland. She is an exchange student sponsored by the local American Field Service program. Her American sister, Barbara Tallman, is a senior and her brother, Jerry, is a sophomore.

Individual student pictures were taken on Wednesday and senior pictures will be taken this coming week.

The first student body assembly of the year was held on Monday morning of this week. It was both very interesting and quite unique, as the Principal Rosco V. Crowell introduced first the faculty members and then the Superintendent Leroy Watt, who made a few comments on what is expected of the students. The assembly helped in starting the new school year off right.

JA Plans Recruiting

Plans for a schedule of high school assemblies to give teenagers the opportunity to participate in Junior Achievement were announced by the president of Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan, James M. Roche.

Roche said school assembly programs to be conducted by JA staff personnel will be held for high school juniors and seniors.

The story of the 'learn by doing' organization will be presented to high school students and those eligible to participate (minimum age requirement is 15) may apply for JA membership at the conclusion of the planned presentation.

Awards, travelships and special incentive prizes for outstanding work are available to both members and companies in the Junior Achievement program.

Teenagers in Junior Achievement actually manage the entire business affairs of small JA manufacturing and service companies which is southeastern Michigan alone this past school year sold over $153,000 worth of products and services to the general public. They operate under guidance from adult advisers from counseling firms.

JA's eleventh program year in southeastern Michigan starts durthe first two weeks of October.

For Pontiac special JA presentations will be made at the following high schools during September: Pontiac Northern High School, Pontiac Central High School, St. Frederick, St. Michael, Avondale.

Clarkston High Band Will Wow Halftime Crowds

By PAULETTE KIMBALL

The Clarkston High School Band, under the direction of Barton Connors, is practicing new high-stepping precision drills and march formations to dazzle the crowds at halftime.

The Clarkston band will take part in the University of Michigan's "Band Day" and also in the Fire Prevention Parade in Pontiac. Both will be held this fall.

This year a new system is being tried to elect Student Council representatives. Grades 9-11 will pick one representative from each class and the seniors from their government classes.

It is hoped a better representation can be found in this manner. The growing student population necessitated the method change.

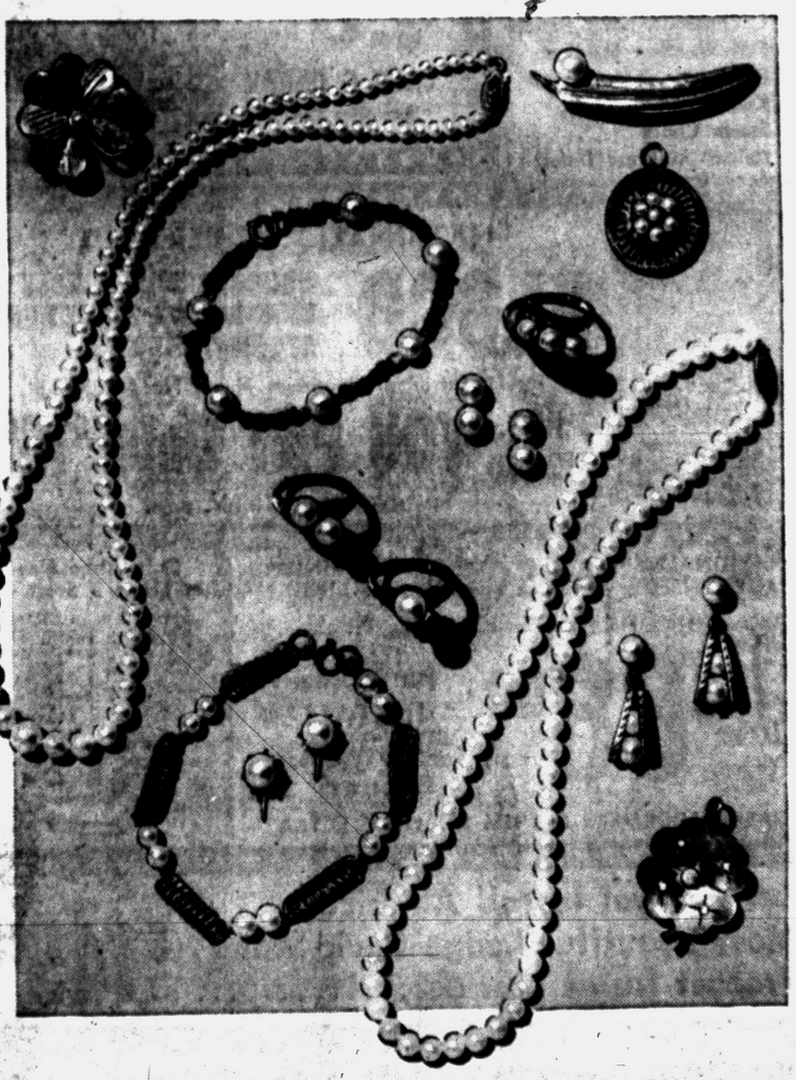

To promote a better citizenship in Clarkston, the Student Council is discussing a plan for the presentation of a "Citizen of the Month" award regularly.

Unions to Aid Steel Strikers

Expect AFL-CIO to OK $25-30 Million Fund; All Must Contribute

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—AFL-CIO unions are expected to approve a fund today of some 25 to 30 million dollars per month to aid striking steelworkers.

The federation's 135 unions were due to commit their full treasuries, plus a pledge of outright grants, to aid the half-million steelworkers in their 66-day strike.

The strike fund is supposed to guarantee that no steel striker or his family goes hungry and the steel union will have to weaken its demands because of financial shortage.

Already the steel union has been pledged a total of over 2½ million dollars from fellow unions.

Under the proposal due for adoption today everyone of the 12½ million AFL-CIO members is being asked to contribute an hour's pay per week to the steel strike fund.

Should an 80-day court injunction stop the strike temporarily, the union fund would accumulate to help a strike later on.

Buffalo Hunting Legal in Canada for Six Weeks

BANFF, Alta. (AP) — Buffalo hunting has returned to Canada.

The government lifted the ban on shooting the animals. The ban was imposed in 1893 when the herd became in danger of being wiped out.

The estimated 500 buffaloes which survived the mass slaughter of the 19th Century have grown to nearly 16,000, overcrowding a sanctuary straddling the Alberta-Northwest Territories border.

The first open shooting season is for six weeks, closing Nov. 30, and is restricted to 30 hunters at a time.

Each hunter is given only five days to bag his quota of one buffalo. License fees are $50 for Canadians, $200 for Americans.

Wayne County Judge Collapses at Confab

GAYLORD (UPI)—Wayne County Circuit Judge Robert M. Toms was reported in good condition at Otsego County Memorial Hospital today.

The 72-year-old jurist collapsed Wednesday while attending a conference of Michigan judges at Hidden Valley Lodge. Doctors said he suffered a circulatory collapse and a "possible" heart attack.

Soviets Learn Today K Will Visit Red China

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet citizens learned for the first time today that Premier Nikita Khrushchev will visit Communist China after his return from the United States.

The news came from questions submitted to the Premier in Washington Wednesday.

Mr. Sam Doesn't Want to Preside at Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn says he doesn't want to be chairman of the 1960 Democratic National Convention. He wants to be free to do more active politicking.

Rayburn said Thursday he would like to "enjoy one convention" and "be in the meeting rooms and cloackrooms, circulating among the delegates, trying to get them to do what I might want done."

He presided over the preceding three Democratic conventions.

Carnegie Hall Jammed by Anti-Nikita Rally

Police estimated 2,500 persons attended the rally. It was sponsored by National Review, a conservative weekly, and Crusade for America, an organization with the aim of "exposing Communists and Communist fronts."

Dr. Clarence E. Manion, former law dean of Notre Dame University, said the purpose of the rally was to "underscore our continuing active, open support and sympathy for more than 20 captive nations."

U.S. Immigration to Canada Forces 2 New Offices

OTTAWA (UPI) — So many Americans are immigrating to Canada that two new immigration offices will be opened in Minneapolis and Los Angeles, the Canadian government has announced.

The department of immigration said the temporary offices will "deal with the increasing number of enquiries from businessmen, farmers and others who are thinking of establishing themselves in Canada."

The flow of Americans across the border has increased some 20 times in the last decade. Immigration offices in the U. S. first were established two years ago in New York and Chicago.

3 More Negroes Go to Little Rock High

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Token integration at Central High School expands today. Three more Negroes are scheduled to begin classes there.

Two Negroes have attended since Aug. 12, the day school opened and the only time any incidents have occurred. Segregationists marched on Central then but were turned back by police and firemen.

Drill Firm Gives Land for School

Donation of Ten Acres by National Twist Will Serve Rochester Area

ROCHESTER—The chairman of the board and president of National Twist Drill and Tool Co., Howard L. McGregor, and Howard L. McGregor Jr., have given the Rochester Community School District 10 acres of property to be used as a new elementary school site.

The land is on the edge of the village limits at the west end of First street and has been a part of the Great Oaks Stock Farms.

Henry L. Purdy, Board of Education president, said the gift of land will enable the board to begin immediate planning of an elementary school in which to house the children from the Harrison-Central school.

He added that the Harrison-Central school building will be remodeled to satisfy state fire safety requirements and will be used entirely for junior high grades.

"Definite plans will be developed in the immediate future to be presented to the voters," Purdy stated.

This is the second large piece of property to be given to the school district. The North Hill Elementary School site was given to the school in 1954 by National Twist Drill.

Scares Wild Ducks, Pays $123 in Fines,

CLAWSON — Racing a swamp buggy through flocks of ducks on Conger Bay, Lake St. Clair, cost a Clawson man a total of $123 in fines.

Howard W. Edwards Jr., 26, of 239 Broadacre St., was fined $63 for reckless operation of a "motorboat" on complaint of Macomb County sheriff's deputies and $60 for "worrying, pursuing, maiming and attempting to kill" wildfowl on complaint of a state conservation officer.

Edwards' swamp buggy is driven by an airplane propeller and is capable of navigating on land, water or bog.

Mushroom Barbecue at Utica on Sunday

UTICA — A ton of choice beef and 1,000 pounds of hothouse mushrooms will be served during the Utica Kiwanis "Mushroom Bar-B-Q" from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday at Utica Community High School.

The barbecue is the major Kiwanis project of the year with some 3,000 people expected to attend. Proceeds are used to support club activities, mainly assistance to underprivileged children, said Keith Ernst, club president.

Free musical entertainment will be offered in the gymnasium, and in the home economics room, wives of mushroom growers will put on cooking demonstrations and answer questions about mushroom preparation.

The growers themselves also will show a movie of the industry.

Highpoint of the program will be the coronation of Hothouse Mushroom Queen Carol Sue Kirkindall, 18, of Roseville, and her two maids of honor. They are Ardis Dickerson, 17, of Mount Clemens, and Lu Ann Schlussler, 18, of Utica.

Congressman James G. O'Hara (D-Macomb County) will do the honors at the ceremony to take place at 1 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The barbecue serves a double purpose in that it promotes a local industry in addition to providing funds for charitable projects of the local Kiwanis Club.

The Utica area is one of the two mushroom-growing areas in the State of Michigan. The other is at Niles.

The annual hothouse mushroom crop now has reached 1,600,000 pounds, valued at $800,000, according to the Detroit Hothouse Mushroom Growers Cooperative.

The mushroom plants are located in a belt, mainly in Shelby and Sterling townships, extending from the vicinity of Brooklands to the City of Warren.

Raceways Forbidden to Build Drag Strip

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A court injunction has been issued against Raceways, Inc., of Detroit, prohibiting the firm from adding a drag strip adjacent to its race track site north of M59 between Maple Heights and Fisk roads. It was issued yesterday by Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

The township filed suit requesting the restraining order, claiming the project violated a 1955 ordinance zoning the area where the drag strip was to go as agriculture.

"Operation of a race track and or race course are not allowable uses" under the ordinance, the suit said.

Ousted Utica Commissioner Faces 7 Charges

Board of 3 Reviews Novak Case

UTICA — Was suspended Utica Street Commissioner Sreten Novak, 41, "over-efficient or inefficient" in his job?

The question is being weighed by Utica's three-man Civil Service Commission which reviewed the case at a hearing Wednesday night.

Mayor Edward R. Church listed seven charges in his letter of complaint against Novak, who was suspended from the $4,260-a-year job last month.

The street commissioner is charged with taking several railroad ties without the knowledge of the railroad or the city and transporting them to the city barn.

Novak testified that he had the permission of the railroad gang foreman to take the used ties. He allegedly took several from behind the ball park in Rochester and also from the pumping station at 19½ Mile and Mound roads in Sterling Township, according to Church's letter.

Novak said he had taken the ties to construct bins to hold chemicals, sand and other materials used in street work for the city.

Another charge was that he tore down and removed a furnace from the city barn and transported it to his mother's place of business on Auburn road in Brooklands with city equipment.

His answer was that the furnace was inadequate and that its removal had been approved, but no mention had been made of its disposal.

He told the Commission that he had stored it behind the store so that scrap collectors wouldn't pick it up at the city yards which are adjacent to the city dump.

He added that the furnace is available at any time.

CANNOT AGREE

The four city officials at the hearing could not agree as to whether Novak was authorized to make certain purchases. A number of them occurred when Street Committee Chairman Frank Chapoton was in Japan this summer.

Other charges were that Novak borrowed a pick-up truck without permission, that he depleted department funds, that he used city equipment to grade personal property and that he could not get along with local businessmen or city employes.

Novak presented six letters of backing from prominent Utica businessmen, one from former Mayor Howard Crissman. One city employe against him, 19-year-old Richard Thompson, had been fired for being accident-prone, Novak said.

In each case, the suspended official had an explanation. In summing up, his attorney, John B. Osgood, a former Royal Oak City Commissioner himself, said, "He tried to do everything. He was over-efficient—not inefficient."

Osgood recommended Novak's reinstatement and dismissal of the suspension.

Summing up the city's case, Attorney Hugh Neale said Novak had not realized the limitations of his authority and had shown that he was not fit to be a city employe. He asked the commission to confirm the order of suspension.

The commission, composed of Frank Dean, chairman, Dr. Lloyd Hirth and attorney Henry Gage, said all factors and charges would be evaluated and an early decision made.

$9,000 Fire Razes Barn Near Davisburg

DAVISBURG — A $9,000 fire destroyed the main barn on the Albert J. Schultz farm, 2865 Davisburg Rd., early last night.

Schultz managed to save all of his stock and equipment, but estimated a loss of $4,000 worth of hag and grain stored in the demolished barn.

Firemen from Springfield and Independence townships fought the flames in a high wind. They extinguished several fires that started on the roofs of outbuildings across the road, belonging to Ferris Walker, but had to watch the Schultz barn burn to the ground.

Dentist to Speak to Fall Roundup of Organic Clubs

The seventh annual fall roundup of the Federated Organic Clubs of Michigan will be held at the Reo Club House at Lansing Saturday and Sunday.

A Birmingham dentist, Dr. R.L. Girardot of 240 Manor Rd., Bloomfield Township, will be the main speaker Sunday. His topic is "Electro-biodynamic Phenomena Exhibited in Horticulture."

John R. Snell, consulting engineer at East Lansing, also will speak Sunday on "Composting Across the United States."

Irwin Erkfitz, the man who walked across the United States — a stroll of over 3,000 miles — will also give a talk, titled "Exercises — Contributions to our Health."

Lester A. Swan of 530 Mt. Vernon Rd., Royal Oak, will be moderator for a round table discussion Saturday.

Wolverine Lake Picks President

Oscar Fritz Appointed by Council to Replace James P. Farley

WOLVERINE LAKE — Oscar Fritz has been appointed by the village council as the new village president. He replaces James P. Farley, 42, who resigned earlier this week to take up other village duties.

Fritz, 56, a resident of area for the past 26 years, was elected to his second term as a councilman earlier this year.

He is the only one of the original council members to have remained in office since Wolverine Lake became a village in 1954.

Farm Conservation Deadline Is Sept. 30

LANSING (UP) — Farmers have been reminded Sept. 30 is the deadline for applying for 1960 payment rates under the conservation reserve phase of the soil bank program.

County committees of the agricultural stabilization and conservation organization will establish rates and farmers must bid under these prices by Oct. 16.

Farmers accepted for the program are assisted through soil bank payments and cost-sharing in establishing practices for erosion control and wildlife habitat improvements.

My Head Is Spinning'

Mrs. K's in a Whirl

NEW YORK (AP)—The grey-haired wife of Russian Premier Khrushchev admitted Thursday that after only three days of their American visit the pace of receptions and entertainment had her in a whirl.

"How do you say I am dizzy?" she asked her interpreter in halting English.

Shifting to Russian, she told a group of women reporters in a 90 second interview, "Please make it very short. I am very tired. My head is spinning."

Mrs. Khrushchev was guest at a luncheon given at the Waldorf-Astoria by Mrs. Robert F. Wagner, wife of New York's mayor.

Photographers stood on chairs amid floodlights and clamor in a small room adjoining the Louis XVI suite where the luncheon was held. The session got out of hand as reporters shouting questions surrounded Mrs. Khrushchev and her two step-daughters, Rada and Julia. Radio interviewers pressed microphones in front of them, trying to get comment.

Tall, blonde, Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller, wife of New York's governor, tried to steer them through the crush, and at one point told Rada to say "You don't understand."

She was given a pin, symbolic of the key to the city, by Mrs. Wagner, and posed with her and Mrs. Rockefeller.

In the brief interview after the picture-taking, she expressed her thanks for "the cordial greeting" accorded her, and explained she couldn't give her impressions of New York because "we hardly saw it."

Tass Prints Nikita's Press Club Replies

By The Associated Press

The official Soviet news agency Tass Thursday night published questions and answers that followed Premier Nikita Khrushchev's speech Wednesday before the National Press Club in Washington.

The text of his speech had been published and broadcast in Moscow Wednesday but the questions and answers were not reported by Soviet organs at that time.

The agency quoted Khrushchev's replies somewhat different but of substantially the same meaning as the Soviet translation heard at the press club and on American TV.

Automation Fails, Elevator Stalls; Nikita Gloats

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's private elevator in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel stalled Thursday as it was taking him up to the Presidential Suite on the 35th floor.

The operator fussed with the controls but couldn't get the elevator to budge beyond the 30th floor.

Khrushchev waited patiently for several minutes, then strode up five flights of stairs.

Grinning, he turned to his escort, Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. ambassador to the United States, and said: "A capitalistic malfunction."

Travelers Market Shaping Up

Products of Many Lands to Be Offered Tomorrow

Workers were busy yesterday at the Greek Theater in Cranbrook. The booths for the International Travelers Market that will be held Saturday are rapidly taking shape. Mrs. Robert C. VanderKloot and Mrs. Edward S. Wellock, co-chairmen of the benefit for the Save the Children Federation, were on hand to supervise as a miniature market sprang up around the pool at the theater.

VOLUNTEERS WORK HARD

Volunteers worked hard on their individual booths, most of them dressed in slacks or daytime dresses and low heels.

The first view of the Market is a booth with striped awning set off in the trees by itself just before you get to the theater. This is the Thieves Market. Here you will find a little bit of everything, with prices that range from one penny to thirty dollars. Toys and games for children are a specialty. Mrs. Robert H. Taylor and Mrs. Harvey A. Kresge are co-chairmen of this booth.

Booths with bright colored awnings are lined up on each side of the pool, each displaying a large flag of the country represented. Germany and France are in the foreground, the latter featuring a sidewalk cafe atmosphere.

ANTIQUES AT END

The Oriental booth is in the shape of a pagoda and will have Japanese lanterns and a background of gold screen embossed with cherry blossoms.

The Swiss booth will feature toys, chocolate, cheese and hand-made, gaily painted articles that are perfect for a summer home or cottage. Mrs. Percy K. Loud is chairman.

The Belgian booth, sponsored by Mrs. Wellock and in charge of Mrs. W. D. Singleton, will feature delicate laces and beaded bags.

ENTHUSIASM HIGH

Scores of enthusiastic volunteers have worked hard, and efficiently to make the benefit a success. Mrs. Theodore O. Yntema even had carefully mimeographed rules for her Antiques booth, covering every situation and outlining the entire procedure for her assistants, from carrying cartons from cars to the Antique Shop to procedure for sales slips.

The chairman of the SCF board, E. C. Kip Finch, will be on hand too, with his wife.

Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Drukker are coming from Berea College in Kentucky to lend their assistance to the Southern Mountains Region booth. Dr. Drukker is executive vice president of Berea College.

Secretaries Association Meets Here

The first fall dinner and business meeting of Pontioak Chapter, National Secretaries Association was held last Wednesday at the Hotel Waldron.

Mrs. Roberta Trayer, president, named the following committee chairmen for the year. They are: Mrs. Kay Rector, program and education; Mrs. Warren Trevethan, achievement; Mrs. Hope Scott, audit; Mrs. Michael Kerensky, public relations and birthday; Mrs. Albert Birch, bulletin and Mrs. Charles Benwick, bylaws.

Others were: Mrs. Charles Woody, employment; Mrs. John Duncan, membership and National Secretaries Week; Eleanor Lockman, parliamentarian; Edythe Perry, public works and welfare, and Mrs. William Robinson, publicity.

Concluding the list are: Mary Johnson, workshop; Mrs. Garland Woody, ways and means, and Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Woody, and Mrs. Robinson, scholarship.

A membership tea will be held Oct. 22. Mrs. Kay Rector was hostess for the evening.

Mrs. Merritt D. Hill, chairman of the Oriental booth for the International Travelers Market, discusses Japanese flower arrangements with Mrs. Yosh Morita of Troy. Mrs. Morita is one of the volunteer workers at the Oriental booth and will wear this costume Saturday when the market opens. It is her own native costume, navy blue with a white floral print. It is worn with an obi of gold silk and green sandals.

Mrs. Alfred J. LaBelle, left, of Southfield Township, and Mrs. Frederick Warner of Bloomfield Township look on as Mrs. Robert H. Taylor of Bloomfield Hills shows them the assortment of articles she has collected for sale at the Thieves Market booth Saturday. Mrs. Taylor is chairman of this special booth and Mrs. LaBelle and Mrs. Warner will assist her.

To Founding of Church, 122 Years Ago

300 All Saints Women Gaze Back

By MARY ANGLEMIER

Some 300 women of All Saints Episcopal Church paused Thursday night—to look back 122 years—to the founding of the church and the first women's organization, the Ladies' Aid Society, in 1837.

The occasion was a dinner and program in Stevens Hall with the men of All Saints serving.

Mrs. Frederick Cockle, president of the women's organization now known as Episcopal Churchwomen, gave the welcome and introduced Mrs. James Hampton, toastmistress.

Mrs. John C. Spaulding, diocesan historian for the state, gave a brief talk as did Mrs. Royce Howes, state communications chairman.

HIGHLIGHT

"The General Guild," a playlet in one act presented in 1920, was given as the evening highlight.

Directed by Don Weston and staged by Jerry Guinan, the play included in the cast, Margaret Long, Maude Coleman, Mrs. Arnold Thingstad, DeNise Campbell, Grace Hinckley, Janet Evans and Mrs. Horace Hall.

Others were Mrs. Merrill Rasmussen, Jane Danton, Emma Reeves, Amy Harper, Mary Smith, Helen Harrison and Mr. Weston.

Addresses Sisterhood

Mrs. Joseph Markle, president of the Michigan Branch of the National Woman's League, was guest speaker at the annual Silver Tea given Tuesday by Congregation B'nai Israel Sisterhood. The group met at the synagogue on Oneida road.

Mrs. Jack Gamburd introduced the speaker following the welcoming address given by Rabbi Israel Goodman.

Announcement was made that a conference for National Women's League members will be held Sunday through Tuesday in Grand Rapids.

Guests attending were Mrs. Jack Pearl of Windsor, Ontario, Canada; Mrs. Lena Alexander and Mrs. Frank Alexander, both of Flint, and Mrs. Renata Lipshaw.

Assisting with the program were Mrs. Harold Blumeno, tea chairman, assisted by Mrs. Morris Blumeno, cochairman, and Mrs. Morris Kampner and Mrs. Edward Avadenka.

Mrs. Marshall Smith, in charge of compiling the data, was assisted in the project by Mrs. Robert E. Nienstedt and Mrs. Hampton.

"The coming years will find the women of All Saints exactly where they have always been—desirous of being part of the army of the Lord, of serving God and His church to the best of their abilities, but not always sure of how that can best be done," Mrs. Hampton said in her closing remarks.

"There will be frustration, friction, and grumbling but there also will be satisfaction, fellowship and cheerful cooperation," she said.

"And regardless of the situation, the theme song still will be 'Come, Labor On.'

"Moreover, quietly in the background, there will be many good deeds anonymously performed and many generous gifts anonymously given."

Rite Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Oberlee of Drayton Plains announce the marriage of their daughter, Kay Marie, to Robert A. Shell Sept. 3 at St. Andrews Episcopal Church. The Rev. Waldo R. Hunt officiated at the ceremony. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Elden Shell of Drayton Plains.

Homemade Gifts May Be Given

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Can you help me? I've been married almost two years and am practically at my wits end because I find the problem of gift-giving ever increasing. My husband's family is extremely large and growing.

"It is their custom to give presents on birthdays, wedding anniversaries, Mother's Day, Father's Day, new arrivals, etc. It seems every time I turn around it's a gift for someone. We, who are the least well off have been trying to conform and it is getting beyond us.

"We have been giving less and less expensive presents but still the expense mounts up. Is there a solution to this problem. Would it be possible for me an "outsider" to break with this family tradition?"

Answer: If you can't become expert with your fingers (or haven't the time) to make little gifts instead of buying them, then it is really up to your husband to explain the situation to his own family.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am a teetotaler and when invited to a wedding and a toast is proposed, would it be proper to raise my water glass and drink from this instead of standing by empty-handed? I have been told that it is bad luck to drink a toast in water."

Answer: Drinking a toast in water, while not unlucky, has always been considered very "thin" and it would be better to raise a partly filled champagne glass to your lips without actually drinking any.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My engagement has just recently been announced and I received a very beautiful engagement ring from my fiance. Will you please tell me whether I should show it to people without their asking, or whether I should wait for them to ask to see it?"

Answer: You should show it only to your intimate friends and others who ask to see it.

Dr. Harold Bussey, volunteer member of the Pontiac Area United Fund's speaker bureau, explained the agencies benefits to the group and Mrs. Harry King, district chairman of the United Fund, spoke on the individual's benefits from UF services.

Guests from the organization were Mrs. Roderick Taylor, Mrs. Ben Hawkins, Mrs. Fred Liming, and Howard Sutton.

Brushing Helps

Hair Spray No Villain

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Question Box)

Q. "Please tell me if hair sprays decrease the growth of the hair. Also can anything be done to increase the length of the hair?"

A. So far as I know the sprays do not decrease the growth of the hair. General good health and fine nutrition may make the hair lovelier. Also scalp massage and daily brushing will be helpful.

Q. "I have red hair and would like to know what color lipstick would look best on me."

A. Usually a color which has just a tinge of orange in it is most flattering. Experiment with these shades.

Q. "I have been told that wearing padded bras all the time will make the bust become smaller. Is this correct?"

A. I do not see how this could have any effect on the bust. Of course if a brassiere is too tight it can flatten the bust by breaking down the tissues or if the inserted falsies add undue pressure you might have the same result. The important thing is to be well fitted. There are falsies of all weights and materials, some being very light.

Q. "I am tired of having legs as big as my neck! I will appreciate any help you can give me. My calves are too large. I swim quite often and also ride a bike a lot. Could these have this effect on my legs?"

A. Both swimming and bike riding will firm the leg muscles. If bicycle riding is indulged in strenuously and regularly, the leg muscles may become overdeveloped. However, you would have to do a lot of riding. I do not feel that swimming will have this effect.

Q. "I am 13 years old. Some of my friends say I am overweight and others say I am just right. I would like to know if I should lose weight. I am 5 feet 3½ inches tall and weigh 122 pounds. I do not have a large frame, but just medium."

A. You are a bit on the heavy side. Leave off some of the in-between meal snacks and lose from five to eight pounds.

Q. "I am 13½ years old, 5 feet ½ inch tall and weigh 100 pounds. My friends say that I am not overweights but I think I am. What do you think?"

A. You are the correct weight.

Malkim School PTA to Meet

Malkim School PTA held its first meeting of the season at 6 p.m. Tuesday evening. Hostesses for the cooperative dinner were Mrs. Glenn Hoisington, chairman and members of the executive board.

Lillian Davidson, principal, will introduce the teaching staff during the get-acquainted period following the dinner. Officers and committee chairmen were introduced by the president.

Plans for the coming year were presented by the finnance committee and the hospitality committee planned a surprise entertainment.

Auxiliaries Give Reservation Date

Sept. 20 is the reservation deadline for the fall meeting of the Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries. The group will convene Oct. 6-7 at Hidden Valley Club, Gaylord.

Reports, panel discussions, and talks by outstanding personalities in the hospital field will be on the agenda. The program is open to all members.

Mrs. P. Eugene Miller, past president, and Mrs. William Dean will represent the Pontiac General Hospital Auxiliary.

The bride, who made her home on South Marshall street, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Mapes. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Collins Jr. of Birmingham.

Marilyn Miller of Oak Park, Ill. was maid of honor. Bridesmaid was JoAnne Endres of Milford. Both wore toast colored chiffon dresses with matching underskirts and scoop necklines. They wore felt leaf head bands accented with pearls and carried bouquets of bronze and gold chrysanthemums.

Lee Boelin of Birmingham was best man. Ushers were William Hutchinson of Royal Oak and George Collins, the bridegroom's brother.

A reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Following a honeymoon in Chicago, the couple will live in East Lansing where the bridegroom is attending Michigan State University. The bride is a graduate of MSU. For her going away outfit, the bride wore an olive, black and brown print silk shirtwaist dress with brown accessories.

Mrs. Collins was dressed in a beige linen sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of bronze baby chrysanthemums.

The finance drive is being sponsored by the Women's Division of the Oakland County Republican Finance Committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Howard J. Liverance of Birmingham and Mrs. William R. McKenzie of Bloomfield Hills.

He'll Say: Who's Brigitte Bardot?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband isn't what you'd call "handsome." He is middle-aged. He is a bus driver and, Abby, I don't think you know how crazy over bus drivers some women are.

ABBY

Just because bus drivers wear uniforms women fall all over them like they were soldiers or something. My husband says half of the women on his run are mental cases. They have tried to tip him, hand him little bits of paper with their telephone numbers on them, and one woman even pinched him.

I am plain looking, Abby. Should I beg my husband to take another job or should I let him stay on that bus with all those crazy women?

BUS DRIVER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Men who meet the public (in uniform or out) will be tipped, tempted and pinched occasionally. Give him lots of love and trust him. When a man is happy at home, he doesn't know Brigitte Bardot from Ma Kettle.

DEAR ABBY: I am 50, but nobody takes me for a day over 40. After 24 years of marriage, my husband decided he wanted to change wives. So I didn't stand in his way. It was hard to take with two children, but I lived through it. Babies love me and there never was a dog who wouldn't lick my hand. Old men adore me. Any man over 70 can get interested in me in a minute, but I can't seem to attract a man near my own age. I have money in the bank, nice clothes, a good steady income and my children are married. In plane words, Abby, I want a man.

YOUNG YET

DEAR YOUNG: The only trouble with a woman who "wants a man" is that everybody knows it. Especially the men. If you live North—go South. If you live East — go West. Change your base of operation and broaden your contacts and you might change your luck.

DEAR ABBY: Would you tell me if I'm right or wrong. If a couple is having a baby, when the time comes for the woman to go to the hospital should she ask her husband who is sleeping right beside her to take her? Or should she call up her mother and ask her mother to take her?

This is our first baby, Abby, and I have always been a good husband. But I was never so hurt in all my life as I was when my wife said she'd rather have her mother go with her to have her baby.

That isn't all yet. When it came time for my wife and baby to come home, my wife called her mother and had her bring her home. What can I do about this situation?

LEFT OUT

DEAR LEFT: You married a "Mamma's girl" and there is nothing you can do about it. Just bear your burden in silence and pray that your wife grows up before she grows old.

DEAR ABBY: I am the 12-year-old girl who wrote you about my problem over a month ago. I didn't think you'd answer my letter, but you did.

My mother opened your letter because she thought she ought to know what is going on in my life. When she read your letter she asked me why I wrote to you instead of asking her to help me with my problems.

I started to cry and told her I didn't feel like telling her anything because she couldn't keep a secret from my aunts or anybody.

Right then and there, Abby, my mother promised me she would never tell anything I told her. And she has kept her promise, too. Thank you, Dear Abby. I will remember you in my prayers. Love.

Palate-Teasing Relish Starts With Tomatoes

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

It's canning time and we are using it to good advantage by giving you pickle and relish recipes. Today's recipe for chili sauce comes from a man, Gail C. Winter.

Mr. Winter likes to cook and does a lot of it for his family which includes five children. His chili sauce recipe may have some ingredients in it new to you.

CHILI SAUCE
By Gail C. Winter

½ bushel ripe tomatoes
6 Spanish onions
1 bunch celery
6-8 sweet green peppers
Several hot peppers
3 cups vinegar
4 teaspoons salt
Pepper
2 cups sugar

Peel and cut up tomatoes and put in large pan. Start cooking. Add vinegar, salt, pepper and sugar. When tomatoes are about ¾ cooked up, add chopped vegetables. Continue cooking until mixture is as thick as desired. Seal in hot sterilized jars.

Use both red and yellow hot peppers for color.

New Hope for Hope Emerson

Men Are Measuring Up to Hollywood Heavy

By JOE FINNIGAN
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Hope Emerson, one of the screen's all time "heavies," standing 6 foot 2 and weighing 190 pounds, says she's looking more boyfriends in the eye these days as the human race grows taller.

"Generations change you know," the crusty actress said. "By the year 2,000 we might have a new tall race. I'll have a field day then," she said with a twinkle in her eye. "That is, if I'm alive."

Whacking away at a steak in the Hollywood Brown Derby driveway, used for dining while the restaurant's interior is being redecorated, Miss Emerson said she never heeds the anguished cries of tall women who can't get a man.

"Most tall girls are sensitive about their size," Hope said. "Heck, I went to a dance with a midget once! I'm up to my eyes in men.

"In fact, I've had lots of proposals of marriage. If I'd taken them all I'd have been a busy girl.

"After all, Grace Kelly is taller than Prince Rainier," she explained loftily. "So, they just sit down when they get photographed."

Hope lived a "bachelor girl" existence for years, taking care of her aged mother who died recently.

"I'm available for marriage now," the 30-year veteran of stage and screen said peevishly. "You never can tell, I might hear from somebody in Texas. I understand they have some pretty big men down there."

Hope plays "Sarge," the garrulous housekeeper on "The Dennis O'Keefe Show." Before that she was "Mother" in the "Peter Gunn" series. In movies, Hope had a long series of roles portraying her as a bit of a stinker.

DID COMEDY

"For 20 years, before I came to Hollywood I did comedy," she said.

"Then I got into the worst rut on the screen, killing, choking people and playing jail matrons.

"I even received an Academy Award nomination for playing a jail matron in 'Caged'."

Hope admits that her height and bulk have been professional assets.

"I got my first stage role because of my size," she recalled. "The director wanted an Amazon.

"I've made a career out of being tall and got good money for it," she added, glancing fondly across the street at a midget doorman for an offbeat restaurant.

Soviets Seek Radiation-Free Route to Moon

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet scientists are looking for a new spaceship route to the moon to avoid charged particles.

EGAD!

Another year has gone by and it is again time for Hoople's Football Forecast

Dear Sports Fans—

Alas! How swift the moments fly!
How Flash the years along!
Scarce here, yet gone already by . . .

Egad! How right was John Quincy Adams when he set down those immortal lines! And like a zooming comet, another year has flown by and once again it is time to heed the call of my zillions of readers and give them the results of football games not yet played.

Who said it couldn't be done? Egad, I've been doing it for years. And this year, with the aid of a new assistant, Dr. I. M. Inorbit, of Spinning U., I intend to enhance my record as the Upset Champion of the world. Compared with my achievements, Johansson's spectacular triumph over Patterson was an accomplishment of minuscule proportions.

Also around to bolster the authenticity of my choices is my long-time assistant, Prof. Quentin Zlobotny. The professor had a so-so record last year, but he lays it to the then new-fangled point-after-touchdown options.

This should be an interesting season. We can expect special emphasis on passing and the belly series (no cracks, please) which I introduced to undo the heroic defense of Harvard in the Crimson's memorable clash with the Old Blue in '08.

It is of course not necessary to acquaint you with my prowess as a player and prognosticator. My fame is legendary, but I knew you would want to know that Hoople's Sure Hits (heh-heh) will be available starting with the games to be played on Saturday, September 19.

Modestly yours, Major Amos Barnaby Hoople

It's Kickoff Time for County Prep Gridders

Northern-Orion, PCH-Waterford Games Featured

Tonight's Big Schedule Also Pairs Birmingham With Cranbrook

By BILL CORNWELL

It's kickoff time!

Today, from one end of the state of Michigan to the other, the referee's whistle is sounding the call for that opening boot and the 1959 high school football season officially gets under way.

With the exception of the Upper Peninsula where play always starts two or three weeks sooner, today is the day for Michigan's schoolboy gridders to begin the long, hard fight for touchdowns and glory.

Pontiac, Oakland County and area will make their contribution to the state's annual autumn madness with a crowded schedule of opening games at various sites throughout the vicinity.

League play will take a back seat for at least one week and, in most cases, two weeks. Traditional non-league openers between long-standing rivals are, for the most part, the order of the day.

A couple of heated local rivalries, one old and the other young, and the advent of a new football era in the city of Pontiac grab the spotlight on opening night in this area.

The neighborhood feuds involve Pontiac Central-Waterford and Birmingham-Cranbrook. The new gridiron era is represented by Pontiac Northern, which plays the first prep varsity football game in the school's history.

Pontiac Central and Waterford clash under the lights at Wisner Stadium in the resumption of a rivalry apparently doomed to die early. Central's Saginaw Valley Conference scheduling obligations plus the addition of crosstown foe Northern to the slate will end the Waterford series after next year.

Waterford and the Chiefs have met three times previously and the Skippers are still looking for that 1st victory. Tonight's game starts at 8 o'clock.

Nothern leaves the city for its grid debut. The Huskies invade Lake Orion this evening to meet an Orion squad which won the Oakland B loop title two years ago, then tumbled all the way to the bottom last fall.

Fullback George Graves and halfback Stan Hertel are the only members of the Northern team with any previous varsity experience and it may take a little time for the Huskies to get their feet on the ground. Game time at Orion is 8 p.m.

Cranbrook's underdog outfit goes to Birmingham for an 8 o'clock struggle to renew a neighborhood feud dating back to 1932. Although the Cranes usually give the Maples a whale of a battle, they have not tasted victory in their last eight tries.

Birmingham Seaholm, the school's official name now that the new Groves High School has opened its doors, is expected to have too much speed and power for the Cranes to handle.

Two other games of great local interest this evening will be Avondale at Milford and Clarkston at Oxford.

Clarkston and Milford of the Wayne-Oakland Conference and Oxford of the South Central loop all have hopes of making loud noises in their respective circuits this season. Avondale is defending Oakland B champion.

Walled Lake, harboring notions of making a big splash in the Inter-Lakes circuit, visits Redford Union for another traditional curtain-raiser and Rochester lifts the lid at home against Davison.

Holly always has a hard time with Grand Blanc, but the Broncos will try again tonight on the enemy's field. Bloomfield Hills entertains Oak Park while Romeo moves into Richmond and Ortonville plays host to Goodrich.

Almont and Imlay City will resume their intense rivalry at Almont in another top-notch attraction. Other games of general area interest include Southfield at Royal Oak Kimball, East Detroit at Royal Oak Dondero, Ferndale at Berkley, Livonia Bentley at Farmington and Orchard Lake St. Mary at Hamtramck.

LOOK OUT CHIEFS! — Three husky Waterford linemen bear down on The Press cameraman just as they hope to bear down on the Pontiac Central football team tonight in the 1959 season opener for both schools at Wisner Stadium at 8 p. m. From left are tackle Bob Nestor, guard Jim Johnson and tackle Bruce Marti.

SKIPPERS BEWARE — Isaac Jones will be just one of the fast-stepping backs carrying the ball for Pontiac Central tonight when the Chiefs face Waterford at Wisner Stadium in the first game of the 1959 football season for each school. A senior, Jones will start at right halfback. Kickoff time is 8 p. m.

All-Star Pin Points

ONE WAY TO RELEASE
By Ed Lubanski

There are many points to bowling that are disagreed on. For example, I'd have a bowler concentrate on putting the ball on the board holding the third arrow marker from the right. But you'll find a dozen top names who say aiming directly for the 1-3 pocket is easier.

One thing all agree on is that there is only one way to release a ball — by finger lift and follow through.

The finger lift gives the ball spin —and prevents bouncing it so that the ball rolls just about where it pleases.

A good follow through is necessary for accuracy. If you release the ball properly, but then pull up short with the follow through the ball will do the same. It will pass inside that third arrow I advocate and you can't get the job done that way.

From the pushaway and first step to the end of the follow through you have to keep a constant, consistent motion.

Jackson Seeks Record

JACKSON — Jackson Harness Raceway will be shooting for an all-time wagering record when it opens its 36-night pari-mutuel meeting here Sept. 21. The all-time wagering high was established in 1956 with $4,096,040 being wagered in 36 nights of racing.

SIDE VIEW — Here is an excellent shot of Ed Lubanski's lift and follow through. It's the finishing touch of smooth delivery.

Michigan Colt Wins Brown Jug Trial

DETROIT (AP) — Vicki's Jet, a 41-1 shot, won the Brown Jug Trial at Wolverine Harness Raceway last night when she covered the 1 1/16 mile distance in the stake equalling time of 2:11 1/5.

Dykes Expects to Stay

Ferrell Is Tight-Lipped About Gordon to Tigers

CHICAGO (UPI)—The future of Tiger manager Jimmie Dykes was still somewhat uncertain today as he prepared his forlorn Detroit club for tonight's opener of a three-game series with the pennant-hungry Chicago White Sox.

There were rumors that the jaunty little Tiger skipper would be officially rehired today, but general manager Rick Ferrell says now that it is "indefinite" when he will disclose the selection of Detroit's manager for 1960.

Ferrell said there was "no foundation" to a report that Gordon was taking over as manager of the Tigers and Dykes was returning as a coach for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Contacted in Chicago where the Tigers opened a series with the White Sox, manager Dykes said he knows nothing about returning to Pittsburgh.

"I'll probably be in Detroit next year," he said.

"We're considering a number of guys for the job," Ferrell said ealy today. "Dykes is high on the list and when we decide we'll announce it."

As far as the Gordon-to-Detroit move is concerned, Ferrell said, "I haven't talked to anyone in Cleveland about it. Gordon is still under contract despite his troubles with Cleveland general manager Frank Lane . . ."

Bill Norman was officially picked as manager long before the 1958 season was completed, but he was fired early this year after a long losing streak in May.

Gordon was a Detroit coach in 1956 but quit late in the season after Spike Briggs, who owned the club at that time, criticized Manager Bucky Harris and his coaching staff.

Ferrell said he has not decided what to do about 1960. "I haven't asked Cleveland for permission to talk to Gordon," he said. But Ferrell did not say that he would not ask permission, if Lane fires his manager.

Leo Quits Job on TV to Get Into Baseball

Ex-National Leaguer Expected to Replace Joe Gordon

NEW YORK (UPI) — Leo Durocher, finally assured the "stock deal" he has held out for since 1955, will be named manager of the Cleveland Indians between now and World Series time, it was learned today from an authoritative American League source.

Durocher's hiring by the Indians will set off a chain of events that will include:

—Jimmie Dykes, present Detroit pilot, returning to the job he left as coach of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

—And the strong possibility of Chuck Dressen coming to Cleveland next year from Los Angeles to serve as coach under Durocher just as he did for many years with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"There's a better than even chance I will be back in uniform for the 1960 season."

Ever since he left the Giants in 1955, Durocher has insisted the only way he would consider coming back into baseball would be under a stock arrangement whereby he would manage the club and be permitted to hold stock in it.

The Indians have okayed a stock deal for Durocher, according to UPI's source, but it is a bit different than Leo had sought. Instead of being given stock in the Cleveland baseball club, Durocher is being given shares of other blue-chip stocks now held by the owners of the Indians.

As far back as last July 6, Durocher said in Pittsburgh that there "is a good possibility I'll be back in baseball with an American League club next year" but he insisted it would only be under an arrangement where he could hold stock.

There were some indications then that he might return with the White Sox, but the present owners, Bill Veeck and Hank Greenberg, insisted otherwise.

Since that time, Durocher was sounded out by Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane about managing the Indians in 1960 and the final obstacle was removed with the inclusion of the stock deal.

Durocher left his $65,000-a-year job with NBC-TV yesterday and admitted he was "in the midst of negotiations" for a baseball job. He also indicated it was possible the announcement of his new job would be made "before the World Series."

While there have been reports that Durocher's new contract might call for as high as $150,000, it is far more likely to be in the neighborhood of $50,000 per year with an opportunity to make an additional $25,000 on the stock he will receive.

From The PRESS BOX

Dr. Fritz Adams of Birmingham won the low score trophy for the 2nd consecutive year at Knollwood Country Club in the annual golf outing held by the medical staff of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Team honors went to Dr. Sidney Miller and Dr. Kenneth Vandenberg, marking the 2nd straight time that Miller has shared the award.

The annual fall meeting of the Michigan Section of the Professional Golfers Association of America is scheduled next Monday at the Fort Shelby Hotel in Detroit, Harold Sargent, National PGA president, will be the guest speaker.

Joe Graboski, who averaged 14.7 points per game last season, has signed his 1959-60 contract with the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association. Grabowski's signing left Woody Sauldsberry as the lone Warrior holdout.

Berkley Wins, 21-40; W. L. Trips Skippers

PNH Drops League Debut

Two Pontiac area cross-country squads made their 1959 season debuts, yesterday, on a losing note.

The Huskies from Pontiac Northern were making their Inter-Lakes harrier start. Their Ed Murray, a good miler, was edged by the conference defending champion, Steve Meyers, who led the Bears' 21-40 victory.

Waterford and Walled Lake also tangled in an I-L contest, with the Skippers finishing in the loser's spot, 18-39. George Beeman, WL team captain, hit 10:51 for the two miles, to finish well in front of the field.

Walled Lake stretched its dual victory string to eight with the win over Skippers. The run at Walled Lake opened the season for Don Smith's crew, and pointed the fact it will again be tough in defense of its Inter-Lakes crown. Meet was a league test.

In Northern's league test Murray was edged by Meyers in a hot finish dual. The pair had battled closely together practically all the way over the new PNH course, a rugged test. Meyers time was 11:48, which is the first record for the near-two-mile circuit. Northern's Murray was timed at 11:51.5.

In order back of the leaders were Berkley's Lee Roumps, and Dale Perry, then PNH's Gary Holtz, Tom Asher (B), with Dennis Vincent, Lynn Lockler and Bob Kuhn for the Huskies.

Buffalo Seeking Berth in New Major League

NEW YORK (AP)—Buffalo, International League pennant winner which led all minor leagues in attendance with 405,478, is a strong candidate for one of the three remaining franchises in the new Continental Baseball League.

A committee of three, headed by President John C. Stiglmeier of the Buffalo Bisons, held a 3½-hour conference late yesterday with Branch Rickey, president of the Continental League and Bill Shea, head of Mayor Wagner's New York committee and chairman of the founders' group.

The Buffalo group told Continental officials that the city's common council had approved a plan to turn the new Civic Stadium into a park suitable for major league baseball with a seating capacity of 42,000 and adequate parking. It would be ready by April, 1960.

Phils Sign Boring

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies announced today that Jim Boring, former Mississippi State football and baseball star, has signed a 1960 contract. Boring, a 21-year-old outfielder, from Elizabethtown, Tenn., will report to Des Moines, of the Three-I League.

Wysong, Who's Wysong? He Ousts Tom Draper

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI) — A fuzzy-cheeked Texas kid who can't make up his mind about college but knows exactly what he's doing on a golf course, takes on defending champion Charlie Coe today in the semifinals of the National Amateur Tournament.

These four made it into the semifinals with a pair of victories each yesterday amid the cold winds, rain and fog which covered the mile-high Broadmoor Club course throughout most of the day.

Wysong reached the round-of-four by beating Tom Draper of Royal Oak, Mich., 1 up, and 50-year-old David Goldman of Dallas, 3 and 1. Goldman, a beaten finalist in the 1934 National Amateur tournament by Lawson Little, had sprung one of the biggest upsets in this year's tournament by eliminating two-time champion Harvie Ward, 3 and 1, in the morning.

Nichlaus, who has been on a sub-par streak throughout the tournament, defeated David Smith Jr., of Gastonia, N.C., 1 up, and Dick Yost of Portland, Ore., 2 and 1.

Andrews, a 46-year-old insurance man who is strictly an outsider in this tournament, advanced with a pair of 1 up victories over Dee Replogle of Oklahoma City and Charlie Harrison of Atlanta, Ga.

Wysong, who already has attended Southern Methodist and the University of Houston, plans to enroll at North Texas State this year, although it may not be until the second term.

The youngster's reputation until now was so remote that when Coe was told at the end of yesterday's two matches who his semifinal opponent would be, he asked quizzically:

"Wysong, who's Wysong?

FIFTH ROUND SCORES

QUARTER-FINALS SCORES

Grand American 5 Wins Trap Honors

Bill Harrington, American No. 1 shooter, also won high gun honors with a 49-50, missing only one at the 16-yard mark, to spoil a perfect card. Other members of the team were Irwin Scherbing, Harry Goodell, Harold Davenport and Dave Bryner. Milton Moore of the Blunderbusters was high gun runnerup.

Impactors, with 219-250 actual were 2nd; Walt Asher's team was 3rd with 211-250, and last three years' champs, the Sureshots, finished 4th, with 201x250.

Kelly, Morrison Last to Sign

Wings' Roster Filled Up

DETROIT (UPI) — The signing of defensemen Red Kelly and Jim Morrison brought the number of those under contract at the Detroit Red Wings pre-season training camp to the 100 per cent total.

Manager Jack Adams said both Kelly and Morrison agreed to terms after brief conferences with him yesterday.

The 32-year-old Kelly, second only to Gordie Howe in point of service with the Red Wings, is preparing for his 13th season in Detroit. Last season he scored eight goals and 13 assists for 21 points.

Morrison, 27, is an eight-year veteran of the National Hockey League. He was traded to Detroit by the Boston Bruins last month in exchange for Nick Mickoski.

Morrison, who also played for the Toronto Maple Leafs, had his best season last year, scoring eight goals and 17 assists.

Pontiac Midget Ace Seeks Title

Midget car point leader Ross Jacobson of Pontiac will head the field into the Central Michigan All-Star championships Sunday afternoon at the Detroit Metropolitan Speedway in Mt. Clemens.

Jacobson, who has big lead in the standings, will be battling such area standouts as John White of Warren and Al Miller of Roseville.

Dearborn Wins Way to Divisional Final

Both teams have qualified for the four-team national finals opening here Saturday. They will compete with Seattle, Wash., winner of the Northwestern tournament at Pierre, S.D., and San Antonio, Tex., winner of the Southwest tournament at Cushing, Okla.

The Eastern division, because of its size, has two entries in the national competition.

Glendale eliminated Florida's Tyndall Air Force Base 8-3 in the semifinal last night. Dearborn advanced to the finals with a 2-1 decision over Fort Wayne, Ind.

Chicago Could End It All in Detroit Series

Lopez to Pitch Three Aces Against Bengals This Weekend

By The Associated Press

How long is 40 years? It's nothing compared to the next 48 or so hours ahead for the Chicago White Sox. That could be all that remains in their long wait for their first American League pennant since 1919.

Going into tonight's opener of a three-game series with Detroit at Comiskey Park, the White Sox' magic number is "3"-any-combination of Chicago victories and Cleveland defeats totaling three and the Sox clinch the pennant with the Indians second.

The White Sox could do it tomorrow, at the earliest, with the help of the Kansas City A's, who are home for a three-game set with the Injuns beginning tonight. Or the Sox could nail it Sunday with a sweep of the Detroit series, no matter what the Indians do.

Manager Al Lopez, who figures he's "the only man who's tense on the club," picked Bob Shaw 16-6 to face the Tigers tonight. Detroit, 6-10 against the White Sox for the season, is the only club Shaw hasn't managed to beat in his brief major league career.

Either Frank Lary 17-10 or Jim Bunning 16-12 will work for the Tigers, struggling to finish in the first division in a three-way battle with New York and Baltimore.

Lopez will decide among Barry Latman, Dick Donovan and Billy Pierce for tomorrow's game with the big man Early Wynn a possible choice for Sunday.

Two Share Atlanta Women's Open Lead

ATLANTA (AP)—Beverly Hanson and Kathy Cornelius tied for the first round lead Thursday in the $7,500 Atlanta women's open golf tournament after Miss Hanson ran into trouble on the last two holes.

Mrs. Cornelius, from Lakeland, Fla., carded a 35-36—71, Miss Hanson, of Indio, Calif., a 34-37—71. Par for the 6,265-yard Continental Colony Club course is 35-36—71.

The co-leaders held a three-stroke margin over their nearest pursuers — Marilynn Smith of French Lick, Ind., Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., and Gloria Fecht of Southern Pines, N.C.

Mexican Knocks Out Ryff in 1st Round

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mexican lightweight sensation Raymundo (Battling) Torres didn't waste any time with New York's Frankie Ryff last night.

Selfridge Tourney Led by 145 After 36 Holes

MT. CLEMENS (UPI)—Lou Culley of Central Air Defense Force has a precarious one-stroke lead today going into the third round of open competition in the Air Defense Command golf tournament at Selfridge Air Force Base.

Trailing Culley with a 146 after 36 holes of play is Mike Hill of Eastern Defense Command. Culley was runner-up in last year's tourney while defending open champion Dick Pardino is now in fourth place with 149.

Fred Mosely and Warren McCullough are tied for third at 146.

Open Series Tonight After Slamming Braves

Giants Go After Dodgers

From Our Wire Services

Eager to do it themselves, the Giants open a three-game week-end series with the Dodgers at San Francisco tonight with a two-game lead and only eight games left to play. They'll practically eliminate the Dodgers and put themselves on the high road to San Francisco's first world series if they can win two out of three games from the Dodgers.

A sellout for weeks, the game drew top importance since the third team in the race, Milwaukee, got a day off after losing to the Giants 13-6 yesterday at what San Francisco Manager Bill Rigney termed "the one we just had to win."

The Dodgers beat Cincinnati 4-3 last night to move into a second-place tie with the Braves, two games behind the Giants.

Victory for the Braves would have put them dead even with the Giants and would have put all the pressure on the locals, going into the three-game set with a Los Angeles team that has beaten them 11 times in 19 meets this campaign.

Star center fielder Willie Mays declared, "That was one of the most important of the entire year for us. Now if we win two against Los Angeles, we'll be in good shape."

Willie knocked in five runs on four hits including a homer.

"Remember," observed Milwaukee's Hank Aaron, "they've still got to play Los Angeles, Chicago and St. Louis."

Milwaukee had won 9 of their last 11 until yesterday. Rigney said after the game, "I felt this was the one we just had to win. If they had won it, they'd have the momentum and they're gone."

Manager Fred Haney of Milwaukee started ace lefty Warren Spahn who didn't retire a man and left after throwing 18 pitches with three runs charged against him.

Five more Milwaukee hurlers couldn't stem the Giants' batting attack. Eddie Bressoud and Jimmy Davenport contributed home runs and some great fielding in the clutch triumph.

Jack Sanford collected his 15th victory although he tired after seven innings and left for a pinch batter. Who came in? None other than Sam Available Jones, the 20-game winner who just the day before had pitched eight innings.

The Philadelphia Phillies beat the Chicago Cubs, 5-2, and the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-0, in the other National League games Thursday.

Robin Roberts yielded homers to Ernie Banks and Irv Noren but won his 15th game of the year with a six-hitter for the Phillies. Richie Ashburn had three singles to bring his 11-year total to 2,211 and equal a club record set by Ed Delehanty in 1901. Banks' homer gave him 137 runs batted in for the season.

Harvey Haddix pitched a four-hitter for his 12th win for the pirates behind a nine-hit attack double by Bill Virdon and two hits each by Dick Groat and smoky Burgess.

HAPPY DAY — Chuck Comiskey, 33, executive vice-president of the Chicago White Sox, hopes to see a family dream come true. It has been 40 years, seven years before Chuck was born, since the Chisox have won an American League pennant.

Big Battle Features College Openers Tonight

Purdue, UCLA Play in Possible Bowl Preview

1958 Champion LSU vs. Rice Saturday in TV Tilt

By United Press International

College football muscles in on baseball for national attention tonight when Purdue and U.C.L.A. clash at Los Angeles in what has been billed as a possible preview of the next Rose Bowl game.

Purdue, favored in most quarters to win the Big Ten conference title and its accompanying bid to the Rose Bowl, is a 12-point choice for the season's first major intersectional clash, which is expected to attract a crowd of about 40,000 to the Coliseum.

The Boilermakers, appearing on the West Coast for the first time since they lost to Santa Clara at San Francisco in 1939, have 24 lettermen back from their 1958 squad. Their attack is built around fullback Bob Jarus, who led the team in scoring last year although he missed the final two games because of a back injury.

U.C.L.A. could wind up in the Rose Bowl next Jan. 1 because the top-ranked coast team, Southern California, is ineligible for post-season competition.

In tonight's other major openers, Detroit is a 10-point favorite over George Washington and Florida is a seven-point choice over Tulane.

Television viewers will get an early peek at Louisiana State, last year's national champion, when the Tigers entertain Rice in Saturday's feature attraction. L.S.U. is a 13½-point favorite for its opener, which will be televised nationally (N.B.C.) starting at 4:45 p.m. EDT.

There will be several other interesting openers in the southland in addition to the L.S.U.-Rice conflict.

The Atlantic Coast Conference schedule opens with a bang with North Carolina entertaining Clemson, the defending champion, while Maryland hosts West Virginia, perennial kingpin of the Southern Conference.

Elsewhere Duke takes on South Carolina, Georgia meets Alabama, Kentucky runs into Georgia Tech, Virginia plays William and Mary, Wake Forest meets Florida State, and North Carolina State opens against Virginia Tech.

Navy, Penn State and Pittsburgh get a jump on most Eastern teams who don't start their head-knocking until next week. The Middies make their debut under new coach Wayne Hardin by playing dangerous Boston College, Pittsburgh visits Marquette, and Penn State plays Missouri.

'M' May Get Needed Help From Sophomores

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A scrappy hustling bunch of promising sophomores may provide the shot in the arm the Michigan football team needs to launch a comeback this season.

While experience continues to pay off in the battle for starting positions, 17 newcomers may make this a "sophomore year" for the Wolverines?

Bump Elliott, in his first year as head coach, is banking strongly on the first year men to bolster the starting lineup of eight seniors and three juniors.

"They'll have to come through or we're in trouble," he said.

Elliott now has five sophomores holding down regular positions on the second team, with six more firmly entrenched on the third unit. But it's the five second string sophomores who carry the biggest hopes now.

Halfback Bennie McRae, a nimble-footed 170-pound halfback, is rated the fastest man on the team and is a constant breakaway threat. If his defensive work and blocking improve, he still could jump into the starting lineup.

The No. 2 fullback post has gone to Ken Tureaud, a crashing runner who moved into contention when John Walker underwent surgery on his left knee. Tureaud's size and speed make him a strong replacement for first stringer Tony Rio.

Injuries at MSU Light

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State's football forces, fortunate so far in the injury department, were hurting at left halfback today.

None of the injuries were crippling and the Spartans hope to have full strength at the position by the opener against Texas A.&M. a week from Saturday.

Herb Adderley, junior from Philadelphia and top man at the spot, pulled a leg muscle and was kept out of the general workout yesterday. Coaches hoped Adderley would be able to run in the all-out scrimmage planned for Saturday.

Ed (Rocky) Ryan, sophomore from Chicago who has been running third, also was down with a pulled leg muscle.

Bob Bercich, senior from Summit, Ill., currently rated fourth, was running in the slot for the varsity. Bercich just reported back after a bout with the flu.

The first two teams were withheld from scrimmage yesterday. But coach Duffy Daugherty had a hitting season for the reserves who didn't see too much action in a midweek intersquad game.

The team will hold a shakedown scrimmage Saturday in Spartan Stadium—the last rough workout before the play starts before paying customers.

Moss in U.S. 'Prix'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sterling Moss of England, rated among the world's great sports car drivers, Thursday signed to compete in the $20,000-added United States Grand Prix at Riverside Raceway.

Rademacher Has Easy Time in TKO

Schneider, fat and slow, didn't land a punch until the third, a right to Rademacher's shoulder, probably the punch that caused the injury.

Rademacher weighed 199.

The victory was Rademacher's second in four professional bouts.

PITTSBURGH—The Pirates have had five straight seasons in which attendance has topped the million mark.

Jay Hook, 22-year-old Cincinnati rookie, fanned 105 in 140 innings for Seattle this season and was recalled by the Reds.

JACKSON — Jackson Harness Raceway has long been cited as one of Michigan's finest all-weather tracks. The trim half-mile plant west of Detroit had an excellent opportunity to prove its rating last year when on two particular nights a severe thunderstorm and driving rains failed to wash out the nine-race programs. College Football

by "RED" BLAIK

NEW YORK (AP)—Coaches criticize forecasters for overrating teams and thus sowing the seeds of discord among alumni. Forecasters blame coaches for beclouding the true picture with tear-provoking smog.

These normal professional antipathies, however, are suspended, at least briefly. Like a premature Halloween hobgoblin, the first major weekend suddenly confronts coaches and forecasters alike.

They feel a temporary kinship because they realize that within a few hours neither will any longer be batting 1.000.

It is nothing new for this third September weekend to list significant games in all sections, some with bearing on ultimate conferential and national rankings.

It is not an eve to be sure of anything. But I'm reasonably certain of two things. No major team will go through without at least a tie. Many teams of championship caliber will still lose two or even three times. For years it has been that kind of game and getting more so all the time.

Louisiana State - Rice: Jess Neely's Rice teams usually start slow. Jess, however, will be trying for the big upset. Failing that, he'll try to prevent the kind of LSU victory that might hurt his team psychologically. Any LSU mediocrity could be the first storm signal of "senioritis" in a veteran, gifted but vulnerable team. The Bengals must be even better than a year ago or else fall back. They will not stand still. The choice—Louisiana State.

Navy - Boston College: Good wishes to a new Navy coach Wayne Hardin. The Midshipmen have too much speed and passing for the promising Eagles.

North Carolina-Clemson: To beat the Tar Heels, Clemson will have to match its Sugar Bowl defense against LSU. Can Clemson do this? It might. Clemson.

Purdue-UCLA: Purdue is better from tackle to tackle, but must show a real attack to begin justifying its early high rank. Purdue.

Alabama - Georgia: 'Bama coach Paul "Bear" Bryant doesn't want to ride the Southeastern Conference darkhorse. But he may have to saddle up pronto. Alabama.

Mississippi - Houston: The swift Rebels will find Hal Lahar's Cougars tougher than a year ago. Ole Miss.

California-Washington State: The Pullman boys will ride the lower berth. Washington State.

Duke-South Carolina: Both have lonely ends. Duke's may be lonelier. South Carolina.

In other top games around the country I lean toward the first team mentioned in each of the games: Texas Christian-Kansas, Texas - Nebraska, Detroit - George Washington, Oklahamo State-Cincinnati, Arkansas-Tulsa, Texas A&M-Texas Tech, Oregon-Stanford, Washington-Colorado, Arizona State and VPI - North Carolina State.

Tigers May Drop Charleston as Farm

General Manager Rick Ferrell will confer Monday with Mayor John Shanklin in Detroit.

Ferrell said a group of citizens have been conducting a drive to keep Triple-A baseball in Charleston. They have indicated they would like the Tigers to continue ownership there.

"We have operated our club there four years, and have lost money every year," said Ferrell. "Of course, we don't expect to make money but our losses have been a little higher than we anticipated."

Eyler, Booth Golf Winners

Gene Eyler and Pete Booth compiled a 36-hole total of 132 on a pair of 66s to win Pine Lake Country Club's annual Jock Inkster best ball golf tournament.

Eyler and Booth were 12 under par for the distance to win the event by two strokes. Booth provided the victory margin by sinking a long putt for a birdie three from the back edge of the 18th green.

Prizes were awarded through the first four places. Chuck Stinson and Armand Freda took 2nd place with a score of 64-70—134. Eric Goullaud and Dick Griffith came next with 68-68—136, followed by Kevin Whiting and Bill Osgood at 72-65—137.

Thirty teams competed in the tourney which honors the late Jock Inkster, Pine Lake pro from 1932 to 1952. Golfers are allowed to use two-thirds of their handicap.

Detroit Will Stage 1961 'Links' Tourney

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The U.S. Golf Assn. announced Thursday the Walker Cup match will be played Sept. 1-2, 1961 at the Seattle, Wash., Golf Club.

The USGA said it also has accepted an invitation for the U.S. Amateur golf tournament at Del Monte Golf and Country Club, Pebble Beach, Calif., Sept. 11-16, 1961.

The 1961 national public links tournament will be held at Rackham Golf Course, Detroit, Mich., in July on dates to be fixed later.

Jackson Opens Track Monday

JACKSON—A Canadian harness horseman who will be making his debut on the Michigan circuit may prove to be a tough contender for the driving championship at Jackson Harness Raceway which opens its 36-night pari-mutuel meeting Monday, Sept. 21.

Levi McFadden, who would rather be called just plain Jiggs, will ship in six horses from Woodbine Raceway in Toronto where he finished high among the standings again this year.

The Wheatley, Ontario driver-trainer won the Woodbine championship last year with 22 victories, 22 seconds and 12 third-place.

McFadden is the kind of driver who quickly captures the imagination of the public with his come-from-behind finishes and Jackson sulky fans should prove to be no exception.

Like his other racing rivals, McFadden's target will probably be Herman Foist of Scipio, Ind., who won the 1958 driving championship with 18 victories.

Pontiac Golfers on State Team Against Detroiters

Four Pontiac public course golfers are members of the Michigan Publinx Golf Association's 16-man team which will battle the Detroit District Golf Association squad Saturday and Sunday at the Country Club of Jackson in their annual 36-hole challenge match.

Pontiac players named to the Publinx squad by the MPGA's executive board of directors include Mike Andonian, Wally Smith, Roy Iceberg and Charley Barker. Barker is one of four alternates selected by the MPGA board.

Michigan Amateur and DDGA champion Bud Stevens from Western Golf Club heads the District team which, needless to say, consists of 16 of the state's best private club golfers.

Competition is conducted on a match play, total point basis with one point going to each individual or team winner. A tie match is scored as a zero on each side.

Tomorrow's opening 18-hole round will be played in Scotch foursomes for two-man team match points. Sunday they play in twosomes over an 18-hole route in head-to-head combat for individual match points. Starting time each day is 10:30 a.m.

The public links and private course teams have met 13 times previously with the District swingers holding a 9-4 lead in the series. Here are the teams:

MICHIGAN PUBLINX

Maher Titan 'Mr. Everything'

DETROIT (AP)—The University of Detroit, a team of big linemen and fast backs, opens its 1959 football season tonight against George Washington of the Southern Conference.

The Detroit club is a one-touchdown favorite to whip the club it defeated in last year's opener 21-6.

Tony Hanley, a skinny 150-pounder, will be running the Titans' offense behind a massive line that will average about 225 pounds. But the man the Colonials will be watching most is Bruce Maher, Detroit's Mr. Everything.

Maher can run inside, outside and can catch passes. He led the club in about every offensive department last season as the Titans compiled a 4-4-1 record in Wally Fromhart's final season.

The 187 pound halfback has already been drafted by the Detroit Lions. As "Mr. Everything" he carried the ball 127 times last year. He lost only 27 and had a net gain of 576. He also gained 295 as pass receiver and he passed for 51 to account for 922 of Detroit's 2,198 total.

Jim Miller, former assistant coach at Purdue, is Detroit's new coach. The Detroit schedule includes such teams as Tulane, Kentucky, Boston College and Marquette but Miller is making no predictions.

"By late Friday night, we hope we will have a 1-10 record," he said. "Then we'll start thinking about the Marquette game. We're not trying to point our club for a season, rather for one game."

Miller is doing just what the University of Detroit people have not done in recent seasons. Instead of carelessly tossing about the glowing forecasts, Miller is trying to put down all talk of a winning season.

"I figure we have a pretty good first unit and we'd like to use two units if we can," he said. "We really don't know how good we are. We hope to have a versatile offense and a strong defense."

A heavy supply of optimism and a limited amount of football talent has brought much disappointment in the Detroit camp over the past few seasons. That's what brought all the pressure on the university, and on Fromhart, causing his dismissal after his club's .500 showing last year.

Miller is guarding against the same type of thing, at least until he has seen his club through a season against teams he had had no real opportunity to scout.

Please — Coaches and Fans

It's that time of the year again!

Every Friday night the sports department of The Press will be jammed with phone calls.

Thus, we ask the cooperation of high school coaches and football fans.

We would appreciate it if all area coaches or their correspondents would call The Press sports department with results between 9:30 and 11:30 p. m. But don't stop trying because we are here all night.

Only if we get your results by 11:30 however can your score be relayed for the state wire football scoreboard. And if possible, please use the form sheets supplied to you by The Press for giving statistical data so that our writers can get the information more uniformly and quickly.

For football fans, we will be happy to supply you with scores, but please help us by calling as late as possible so that our lines can remain open to get the results from around the county.

The sports night number is FE 2-0104.

Broncos Name Romeo Soph to Starting Spot

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Three sophomores will be in the starting lineup for Western Michigan when the Broncos open their 1959 season tomorrow against Central Michigan.

598 See Cubs-Phillies

CHICAGO (UPI) — It hardly was worth the effort to open the gates yesterday when the Chicago Cubs played the Philadelphia Phillies.

There were only 598 fans who couldn't find anything else to do in the stands at Wrigley Field. It was the smallest crowd at the park in 14 years.

Space Score Two to One

X15 Makes First Flight, Atlas Launching OK, but Thor-Able Fails

By The Associated Press

The United States counted two successes and one failure Thursday in its far-flung space programs.

On the plus side were the first powered flight of the rocket plane X15 and the successful launching of an operational type Atlas missile. But a Thor-Able rocket failed to put a navigational satellite into orbit.

The tubby winged rocket plane, being readied to carry man to the edge of space, made its maiden flight over the California desert after being carried into the air by a big bomber from Edwards Air Force Base.

Test pilot Scott Crossfield cut loose at 38,000 feet and skimmed in for a landing after a 10-minute flight. It is hoped that later this year the X15 will fly 100 miles high and hit a top speed of 4,000 mph.

The Air Force announcement of the Atlas firing from Cape Canaveral said only that the intercontinental missile performed as planned, covering nearly the full distance of the 6,300-mile missile range.

Hopes for putting into orbit a satellite that would serve as a space navigational aid were dashed when the final stage of the three-stage Thor-Able rocket vehicle failed to work. The 90-foot rocket successfully cleared the Cape Canaveral launching site and its second stage ignited as planned. But no further signals were received from it and the advanced research projects administration announced the attempt had failed.

The test was designed to explore the possibility of using satellites as navigation stations in space.

Phantom Arsonist Sets Hotel Blazes

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—A phantom arsonist flitted through the north wing of the Continental Hotel setting fires Thursday night after cutting the electric cable to the passenger elevator.

Damage was not extensive, but the 500 guests of the plush downtown hotel were evacuated as the smoke became heavy on the upper floors. Three-fourths of the guests are permanent residents, many of them elderly and some bedfast.

Police Inspector Noel Jones said there was not much doubt that the fires were arson.

State House Members Balk at Expense Lids

LANSING (AP)—House members don't want anybody clamping a $7 ceiling on hotel room charges while they're on state business, and that goes for state senators.

Neither do they want a $5.35 daily limit on meals.

For that reason, a dozen or more proposals to set special interim legislative studies in motion are snarled in the Legislature.

The Senate won't approve them without the expense lids, and the House steadfastly refuses to knuckle under.

"It's idiotic," snorted Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron) yesterday. Rep. E. D. O'Brien (D-Detroit) said "principle" was involved.

"Others of you may be willing to be subversive to the Senate, but I'm going to stand my ground," said Rep. Emil Peltz (R-Rogers City).

Frat Suspended for Hazing Stunt

Pledge Chokes to Death Swallowing Liver Hunk During Initiation

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The University of Southern California has suspended a fraternity and put its members on probation after a student choked to death during an initiation hazing.

A policeman said: "The other boys began slapping him on the back. One stuck his finger down Swanson's throat. Then they held him upside down and tried to shake it out. Then, being kids, they just went to pieces. Some cried. Some prayed. Others became downright hysterical. One called an ambulance."

Ambulanceman Nathan Rubin said: "I asked if the boy had eaten anything. They told me no. I got practically no cooperation. If I'd only known he had eaten something I might have saved him. I was prepared for such an emergency."

Court Will Get Gambling Case

Groveland Twp. Man Is Bound Over; Wife's Charge Is Dropped

A Groveland Township man was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday on charges of maintaining and operating an illegal gambling place.

Appearing for examination before Independence Township Justice William H. Stamp, Edward M. House, 50, owner of Green Acres Farm, 13269 Dixie Hwy., where he lives, was bound over for arraignment Sept. 28.

The establishment was raided by Oakland County sheriff's deputies Aug. 30 and 36 persons were arrested. The three demanded examination Aug. 31 when brought before Stamp.

Charges were dropped against Mrs. House yesterday and she was released. Anderson's charge of maintaining and operating was reduced to loitering in an illegal gambling place. He paid a fine of $25 plus $10 costs.

Thirty of 33 persons fined $40 plus costs for loitering have appealed their fine to Circuit Court.

Dr. Roy Alexander Is Dean at MSUO

The Board of Trustees of Michigan State University today named Roy J. Alexander as dean of students at Michigan State University Oakland. Alexander has been MSUO's director of student affairs.

"I am very fortunate to be in a position to watch a second university grow from the ground floor," Alexander said.

Alexander returned from his post as chief of the Michigan State University advisory mission to the Ryukyu University on Okinawa to join MSUO.

Until 1951 Okinawa had no university of its own. The U.S. Civil Administration wanted an institution for training teachers here at this time since 60 per cent had been killed during World War II.

In 1952 the American Council on Education selected Michigan State University, the first land grant institution, as advisor to Ryukyu University on philosophy of teaching and research.

After two years Alexander returned to East Lansing to become assistant to Vice President D. B. Varner, present chancellor of MSUO.

His next assignment returned him to Okinawa for two years as chief of the U.S. advisory mission at Ryukyu University.

SCHOOL MUSHROOMED

While he was there the university mushroomed from 200 students, a faculty of 10 and a few wooden buildings to a student body of 2,000, a faculty of 365 and a $10,500,000 plant.

Six other persons were added to the MSUO staff today.

They were D. T. Wilder, librarian; Dr. Orrin E. Taulbee, associate professor of mathematics; Dr. Helen E. Kovach, foreign lanugage instructor; Dr. Audrey Norris, assistant librarian, and Dr. Mary Ann Kusack, English instructor and public relations assistant for Loren B. Pope, assistant to the chancellor.

General Loses Iceland Post

Commander at Base Where 2 Local Officials Had to Lie in Mud

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brig. Gen. Gilbert Pritchard has been relieved of his command in Iceland in the wake of an airport incident that raised Icelandic feelings against American forces there.

Pritchard was commander of the air base at Reykjavik where two Icelandic officials were reported to have been forced by guards to lie in mud puddles.

The action was taken at the request of the Icelandic government, an Air Force spokesman said in answer to questioning.

The contention of the guard was that the two officials had entered a restricted area.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Seamen debarking at San Francisco's Embarcadero are greeted by a sign announcing the "First Chance Saloon." Returning to their ships, they pass the "Last Chance Saloon"—the other side of the same sign.

A genuine seal skin is so supple that the entire pelt can pass through an ordinary napkin ring.

Two Jet Airliners Set Marks to Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—American Airlines claimed two jet airliner records from the West Coast to Detroit today.

Company officials said one of its Boeing 707 liners flew from San Francisco in three hours, 49 minutes, 10 seconds. Another flew from Los Angeles to Detroit in three hours, 27 minutes and 50 seconds while a third made the Los Angeles-Detroit run slightly slower.

All three planes carried Ford dealers to view the company's 1960 line. It was the first time jets had made the non-stop trip to Detroit from either city on the coast.

Police Quiet Electricians' Union Trouble

Pontiac police last night were called to quiet a disturbance created when 10 members of a Detroit electricians union allegedly sought to stop a meeting of the Oakland County Electricians Association at 761 W. Huron St.

A spokesman for the association, which has petitioned the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, for a local charter of their own in the county, said members of Local 58 of the International had partially blocked the driveways at the Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Assn. with their cars. The ten then started taking license numbers from members' cars arriving for the meeting.

Edwin Johnson, of 3977 Lakewood Dr., Drayton Plains, association secretary-treasurer, called the police when it looked like real trouble might erupt. However, it didn't and the association held its meeting and moved ahead with steps to gain a local, the spokesman said.

Aided by Congress

The United Spanish War Veterans was incorporated by United States Congress and approved by the President in 1940.

Renouncer of U.S. Will Come Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nicholas Petrulli, who renounced his U.S. citizenship to stay in Russia and then changed his mind, has been declared an American national and given a one-way passport back to the United States.

The State Department ruled that Petrulli's attempted renunciation of U.S. nationality on Sept. 3 in Moscow was not a legally competent act.

The decision climaxed intense study by government lawyers of an affair some said was unique in the history of citizenship cases.

North Central College Expects 100 Freshmen

PETOSKEY (UPI) — Dean Alfred D. Shankland of North Central Michigan College said freshman registration for the 1959-60 term, which began today, was expected to reach 100, about 25 more students than originally estimated.

The new college had its formal opening earlier this week.

There is no written language among the natives of French, British and what was Italian Somaliland. The Somalians speak a thousand and one native dialects.

Morris Was Warned to Diet, Lose Weight

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Wayne Morris ignored a doctor's warning to shed 40 pounds six months ago with the remark: "If I drop dead, I drop dead."

A close friend of the actor disclosed the heretofore unknown medical warning. Morris, who died Monday of a heart attack, had no publicly known history of heart disease.

"The doctor told Wayne that he would have to cut down on eating and drinking and do more exercise, else he could expect a heart attack," the friend said.

"Wayne ignored the advice completely and told no one but me. Not even his wife knew of it. He kept up his old way of life and made a soothsayer of the doctor."

DOUGLAS ALSO

Morris' death Monday and that of Paul Douglas last Friday point up an important health lesson. The lives and deaths of the two men were astonishingly similar.

In youth, both were physically vigorous athletes. Morris was a star fullback with Los Angeles City College. Douglas once was a pro football player.

During the war, Morris exemplified the rugged life as a heroic Navy pilot. Douglas was overseas with OWI and OSS.

After the war, Morris went into a career slump and spent much of his time on an avocado ranch in nearby San Diego County.

"But Wayne's idea of ranching," the friend said, "was to sit on the front porch and watch the laborers pick the avocados."

As his weight increased, the demand for him as a romantic leading man decreased. He had a career upsurge about three years ago when he turned to character acting. The switch in type got him TV roles but also destroyed a strong incentive to keep the waistline down.

Douglas became a Broadway star overnight as the paunchy jun': tycoon of "Born Yesterday." Because he never was the Adonis type, weight didn't hurt his career.

But he constantly fought a losing battle of the waistline bulge. Both he and Morris lived with little, if any, exercise.

A Beverly Hills heart specialist told me two weeks ago that the prime rule of health is to keep weight down, exercise a little each day and live — and think—moderately.

The sudden deaths of the two actors on the heels of this advice accent the rule of health.

Douglas was 52, which his doctor called the danger age for heart attacks. A 6-footer, he weighed 200 pounds. Morris was 6 feet 2 and weighed 220. He was 45.

Settlers Against De Gaulle Plan

Seeking Army Support to Halt Algeria Vote; No Disturbance Seen

ALGIERS (AP) — Right-wing French settlers today made a bid for army support to block Gen. Charles de Gaulle's plan to put Algeria's future up to a vote that could bring independence from France.

But the right-wingers appeal fell far short of rousing the enthusiasm of last year's May 13 revolt which brought down the Fourth French Republic and paved the way for De Gaulle's return to power.

De Gaulle as president of France has offered Algeria three choices once the five-year rebellion is squashed—independence, full integration with France, or internal autonomy.

ISSUES WARNING

But he warned that independence would lead to a throat-cutting civil war in Algeria and eventual Communist dictatorship.

De Gaulle's program brought a favorable response in Allied capitals where the Algerian rebellion has tended to undermine the North Atlantic Alliance.

In Washington, President Eisenhower called the plan a statesmanlike move. Britain welcomed it as "a statement of policy of the highest importance." The West German government saw a "possibility that the tragic Algerian conflict will eventually be solved."

Jewish Center in West Berlin Almost Finished

BERLIN (AP)—A new Jewish community center is nearing completion in West Berlin to replace the synagogue burned by Hitler's storm troopers.

Mayor Willy Brandt will turn over the new center to the city's Jewish community Sept. 27. The consecration of the synagogue is scheduled for Oct. 1.

The two - story, modernistic structure has been built on the site of the old Fasenenstrasse synagogue, Germany's most famous and largest until "Crystal Night" Nov. 9, 1938.

"Crystal Night," so named because of the smashed Jewish shop windows that littered the streets of German cities, marked the start of the Nazis' all-out assault on the Jews.

Macmillan Tops Pre-Election Polls

LONDON (NEA) — This will be the gayest general election Britain has known in half a century, with Prime Minister Macmillan's Conservative Party the odds-on favorite to win.

With the election less than one month off, Britons have never been in a happier mood. Industrial boom has made pay packets bulge. For the first time in his life the average Briton can afford an automobile.

Added to this, the relaxation of international tension has vastly enhanced the electoral chances of the Tories in the opinion of most observers.

The finest summer in 80 years has brought bumper crops to the farmers and caused some commentators to speak of this as the "Suntan Election."

The latest Gallup poll shows the Conservatives maintaining a five per cent lead over the Labor Party, which would be enough to return Macmillan's government to office with a comfortable majority in Parliament.

The poll also shows Macmillan's popularity at its highest. Two out of three Britons regard him as a good prime minister.

This is a dramatic reversal in Tory fortunes. This time last year the Labor Party had a slight edge on the Conservatives, judging from the results of by-elections to fill vacant seats in the House of Commons.

A year ago Macmillan was largely a question mark as a political personality. Adroit stage-managements, plus a winning television manner, have since turned him into a bland father figure whom most Britons associate with prosperity.

Whatever other lines the general election is fought along bread lines will not be among them. There is no doubt the average Briton has "never had it so good"—to use a Tory slogan.

In July, production was six per cent higher than last year. Last month, the gold reserves rose by $28 million, the first time they have climbed in August in 10 years.

Equally impressive in the eyes of voters is the government's record in international relations.

Macmillan's visit to Khrushchev earlier this year and his persistent pluggings for a Summit conference have earned him nothing but praise, even from Laborites. His initiative is credited for getting the Eisenhower-Khrushchev exchanges under way.

The frantic search for an alternative foreign policy even sent the Labor Party leaders, Hugh Gaitskell and Aneurin Bevan, scurrying to Moscow for an audience with Khrushchev. They were caught there when Macmillan announced the election date.

The Gaitskell-Bevan mission to Moscow is viewed here as a prime example of political "me tooism."

Everything has played into Macmillan's hands. Certainly President Eisenhower's visit and his television appearance with Macmillan did the prime minister no harm.

On the other hand, the British Labor Party is finding that its intimate connections with trade unions are hurting its chances with the independent voter.

Thanks to wildcat strikes and work stoppages, trade union popularity has hit a five-year low, according to the latest Gallup poll.

Public hostility is concentrated on the figure of the union shop steward, who has become more arrogant in his exercise of power.

Nor does the public want to see more British industries nationalized, as Labor's leaders plan to do if elected. More than two-thirds of those polled in a recent survey are opposed to further nationalization. They included a small majority of the Labor supporters polled.

The picture of the 1945-50 austerity, which is the image the Labor Party conjures up in the average voter's mind, is out of keeping with today's mood.

The average Briton does not want to be told to tighten his belt, to be lectured to by Socialist prophets whatever the merit of their views.

He is out for a bit of fun. He wants to have a flutter on the horse races, to put five bob on the football pools, to buy a sports car on the installment plan. He will give his vote to the party that promises the gayest future.

The two major political parties have been quick to sense the new mood. The Labor Party has rushed into print with a plan calling for a comprehensive sports and recreation program, to be financed by levying a tax of a penny per week per capita.

The Conservatives are promising to spend from $21 to $30 million a year more than at present on leisure-time activities.

To most observers, it looks as though the election may be won by the party that can promise more cakes with the ale, more beer with the skittles.

'ME-TOOISM' IN MOSCOW — Laborite leaders Aneurin Bevan and Hugh Gaitskell were modeling Russian hats when Prime Minister Macmillan called the general election back home.

ODDS-ON FAVORITE — Prime Minister Macmillan gazes serenely into the future as everything from the weather to the Queen's baby seems to favor Conservative Party victory in the Oct. 8 British election.

Ike Rests at Gettysburg Between Nikita Rounds

A new 11,500-foot airstrip, the longest in the Pacific, will be completed in June 1961, in Papeete, Tahiti's capital.

Copters to Stay Away From Nikita's Plane

An order published Thursday by the Federal Aviation Agency bans any aircraft from approaching within one mile horizontally or 3,000 vertically of the Khrushchev party. That includes motorcades or any spot the party is visiting.

Designer Tells Latest Word

Architectural Plants Are in Style

NEW YORK (UPI) — Now that you've up-dated your fall wardrobe, take a look at the plants around the house. They may be as out of style as a chemise.

So says Joseph McDonal, an interior landscape designer and florist.

The "in" plants this year are more "architectural looking," McDonnal said. He listed palm trees, Podocarpus, (a type of evergreen of the yew family) Ligustrum (a small irregular-shaped tree), jade trees, orange trees — with real oranges — and Dracena (a cactus-like plant ranging in size from four feet to ceiling height).

In the flower line, there is a swing back to simple garden varieties like garnet rose bushes, geraniums, small ivy and begonias.

"Things almost too common 10 years ago now are considered fashionable, particularly whimsical and amusing plants," McDonnal said.

OUT OF DATE

Out of date are chrysanthemums, cut-leaf philodendron, and the regular florist-shop type of roses. Huge built-in planters also are behind-times, the designer said.

The designer dabbled in retail flower and nursery work while in his 'teens, studied design at the University of Washington, and took up theater design, display work and architecture.

He has designed decorations for West Coast debutante balls and society parties, interior plantings for a New York race track, and interiors for the Kabuki Theater in Tokyo.

McDonnal came to New York from Seattle, and, in addition to continuing interior landscaping, will open a unique florist shop handling only old-fashioned summer flowers — Sweet William, zinnias, English roses, and wild and field flowers.

He also will rent plants — complete with re - conditioning and maintenance — for commercial and possibly retail use.

Because the designer is a firm believer in the unusual, his plantings have included banana trees in a race track building lobby and 125-year-old bay trees in a clubhouse dining room.

His most unusual job was an engagement party at a country estate near Seattle. The work took two years to plan, required a crew of 100 to set up, and cost more than $40,000.

RENTED TRAIN

Facts About Fall Bulb Planting

Nature Can't Be Licked on Matter of Seasons

By HENRY PREE
Written for NEA Service

Nature can be licked at times, but not when it comes to seasons and planting schedules.

Another time of falling leaves in a golden autumn is with us and the business of getting next spring's garden in shape.

In most of our country, the period from mid-September till the first frost has been reserved by nature for such essential tasks as making a new lawn, setting in shrubs and planting spring flowering bulbs.

The first two aren't absolute musts, but with tulips, daffodils, hyacinths and the other bulbs there's no choice; either plant in fall or have a flowerless spring.

For best results, especially with daffodils and tulips, avoid the mistake, made by many, of waiting too long before buying. If bulbs are purchased by mail, early ordering is all the more important.

ORDERS FILLED

Orders are filled in the order in which they are received, so if placed in plenty of time there is no danger that choice varieties may be exhausted. And if your bulbs are delivered in good time, you can get them in early and have the job off your mind.

Daffodils are best planted in September and October because then they become more firmly established. Strong root systems developed during the autumn mean finer spring flowers.

As for the minor bulbs, such as grape hyacinths, snowdrops and scillas, these small fellows are in danger of drying out if left lying about, and several of them bloom so very early in the spring that they should have time to make root growth in the autumn.

They should, therefore, be put into the ground as quickly as possible after delivery.

Avoid "bargain bulbs." Usually they're not large enough to bloom properly the first year they're planted. Top quality Dutch tulip bulbs sell for as little as $1.25-$1.50 a dozen, daffodils about $1.50-$2.50 a dozen, and hyacinths, once rare and expensive, now can be had for as little as $3 or $4 a dozen.

After your spring - flowering bulbs are once planted, they should give you bloom for a good many years without further care except an occasional feeding and watering. If possible, dig up your beds before the bulbs are delivered.

Then it is easy enough to make holes in the soil with a long-bladed trowel and plant the bulbs each firmly in the bottom of its hole before covering.

INFORMAL GROUPS

For informal groups in beds or borders, be careful to avoid even spacing and uniform designs. Drop bulbs from the hand onto the ground and plant them roughly where they fall, leaving about eight inches between daffodils, and somewhat less between tulips.

This method will avoid a geometric pattern such as is apt to appear if bulbs are set out in rows or if each is deliberately placed by hand. Leave a foot or more of space between each group, and mark each plainly with a permanent label bearing the variety named and date of planting.

Depth of planting varies with the bulb—three inches for crocus and grape hyacinth, six for narcissus, daffodils, hyacinths and late tulips, and five for early tulips.

Tennessee University Registers 1st Negroes

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The first Negro students in Memphis State history join the 4,500 who have registered for opening day classes at the university today.

Police Chief J. C. Macdonald said his force was at full strength to deal with any event. But he expected no trouble.

Eight Negroes were registered at a special session Sept. 10 and advised to avoid the school's social centers for the present.

Test Your Garden Sense

Q—A lawn planted in mid-July is now full of crab grass. We believe the dealer sold us weed-infested seed. Where can we send a sample to be tested?

A—While cheap lawn seed mixtures contain some weed seed, I doubt if any crab grass seed was present. The crab grass seed was either present in your soil or in the topsoil you purchased. Seed may be tested by your local county agricultural agent.

Q—Will peach and plum trees that came up where I scattered seed from canning be true to type?

A—Fruits grown from seed seldom resemble their parents, and more often than not are decidedly inferior. For that reason commercial growers graft or bud the wanted variety onto vigorous understock.

Q—Have been advised to lime the soil in the lawn prior to seeding. Why lime?

A—The three main objectives of liming are: to reduce soil acidity, to supply calcium which is an essential nutrient for plant growth as are nitrogen, phosphorous and potash, and to make soil nutrients, especially phosphorous, more readily available.

Q—Do you recommend using aero cyanamid to enrich the soil of a new lawn?

A—No, because it supplies only nitrogen. A balanced fertilizer —one containg the three essential nutrients, nitrogen, phosphorus and potash — should be used. One with a 16-6-4, 6-10-4 or similar analysis is advised.

Q—Bought and planted a three-foot blue spruce last spring. It is now all brown and I am not sure if it is dead or alive. What can I do to make it green again? I put lots of water on it all summer so it is not that. Could it be the dog?

A—Seldom can we blame dogs for other than spot browning. My opinion is overwatering, too deep planting or both. One good soaking of the soil every 10-14 days would have been sufficient watering.

PRODUCTIVE VINE — This soaring, creeping vine of the squash-cucuzzi plant (Italian edible gourd) is as productive as it is tall. The owner, Sam Felice, 5939 Andersonville Rd., Waterford Township, holds an example of the fruit which reaches two to three feet in length at maturity. The gourd is delicious when sliced and fried, steamed or simmered.

If Johnny Skips a Grade Will He Be Sorry Later?

By DR. BENJAMIN FINE and LILLIAN FINE

If you are the parent of a gifted child you are probably wondering whether that is a blessing or a curse. Too often the talented child is the forgotten child in school.

We have special programs for the emotionally disturbed, for the mentally retarded, and for the physically handicapped. Unfortunately, the gifted pupils are almost certain to be asked to shift for themselves.

For parents, the waste of talent often is a personal tragedy. Prof. Harold Benjamin, of George Peabody College for Teachers, notes: "About 50 per cent of United States High School graduates who are 'mentally elite' do not go to college now."

Experts find the individual intelligence test, if given by a competent psychologist, to be the most reliable single tool for identifying the gifted. Several tests should be given at several times. Standardized tests of achievement in several subjects are also useful in identifying the gifted. School marks are less reliable.

One thing psychologists, pediatricians, and teachers agree on is the importance of identifying the gifted child as early as possible. The highly endowed youngster who drifts through elementary school unrecognized is likely to develop poor habits of work and of thinking.

TO SKIP OR NOT?

If your young child showns signs of unusual ability, it is wise for uation with a member of the staff. you to visit a guidance clinic or testing center and discuss the sit. For a reasonable fee a series of tests will be given and the results analyzed.

What are very superior and gifted children like?

On the whole, they tend to be better developed physically than average youngsters of the same age.

They like to read. They are interested in a great many things; they particularly like games and plays. They have many hobbies. They are less inclined to boast than are average children. They are more trustworthy and act more mature than their age. Their character and social attitudes are more wholesome than the average.

As a parent of a gifted child you constantly face this problem: To skip or not to skip? About a quarter of a century ago bright children were pushed ahead at a rapid pace.

Then many parents found that indiscriminate skipping proved harmful. It is not enough for a child to have a high IQ. His emotional quotient must also be high.

Now the cycle has come all the way around. Acceleration is once again popular — with this difference: the child's emotional maturity is taken into consideration.

Should classes for bright children be established? Why not? It is not undemocratic to give each child education to his fullest capacity. That will prove, in the long run, the best way to train our talented youth.

You may worry at this point and ask, "Won't special classes for the bright create snobs? Won't the children think too much of themselves?"

We do not believe that experience has borne that criticism out. If you accept his talent and do not make a special fuss over it, your child will undoubtedly accept his superiority in the classroom without much ado.

THEY NEED LOVE

A third method of providing opportunities for children with superior mental ability is to keep them in the same class with average and dull-normal pupils but to supply "enrichment" for them. They are excused from some of the more elementary work and are encouraged to engage in projects or to read more advanced material on the subject being studied.

This sounds good, but in practice it is apt to mean merely extra homework. It is a strong temptation for the teacher to tell the bright ones to read a book or "answer all the questions on page 200."

Gifted children may have real difficulty finding congenial friends of their own age. Their interests are different from those of average children. To some extent this difficulty continues throughout life.

An awareness of and sensitivity to the world's injustices and tragic situations is probably the source of another problem of the gifted. Fortunately, most gifted people have a strong sense of humor.

What can you do to help your gifted youngster avoid strains and problems which are mostly not of his own making? Even more than the average child, the gifted need love, understanding, encouragement, and a relaxed atmosphere in the home. And in most cases they are likely to give a great deal in return.

The American Association for Gifted Children (15 Gramercy Park, New York 3, N. Y.) is a useful source of information about ways to help gifted children.

Far more than the average child, the gifted youngster is likely to respond to parental efforts to enrich his education. Books, records, family discussions of cultural matters, excursions to places of historical interest are all recommended.

DON'T WASTE TIME

The development of hobbies can be both educationally and emotionally beneficial. And learning a trade is not only valuable from the vocational point of view; it also helps give a person self-confidence.

When the talented boy or girl finds the public school hostile or, at best, a prison of boredom, you may want to investigate the offerings of private schools.

The question that remains to be solved is how the schools can develop the best program for your talented child. You can help find the answer by supporting whatever efforts are being made in your community. The gifted can, with profit, take such "tough" courses as advanced mathematics, foreign languages, physics and chemistry.

According to Dr. Conant of Harvard, a talented pupil would take a program of five solid subjects each semester in high school, spend 15 to 20 hours a week on homework, and be held to high standards of achievement.

"He would also have time for courses in such fields as art, music and industrial arts which would enrich his program and whole cultural background," Dr. Conant reports.

Whatever the final answer, the problem must be solved now. A child is in the first grade only once. If that year is wasted, it can never be reclaimed.

Next: What about textbooks?

Will Eden Spill British Secrets?

Hurries His Memoirs to Answer Charges of Randolph Churchill

LONDON (NEA)—Is Sir Anthony Eden about to join the exclusive "Publish and Be Damned" club of memoir-writing British generals and politicians?

Is the former British prime minister about to join company with Field Marshal Montgomery, Lord Alanbrooke and Major General Sir John Kennedy, who have been titillating the public with their "now it can be told" stories?

The feud flared into the open when Randolph Churchill allowed chapters of his forthcoming biography, "The Rise and Fall of Sir Anthony Eden," to be serialized in the London Daily Express.

In the published portions, young Churchill has unflattering things to say about Eden and the Suez invasion of 1956, which he describes as "ill-planned, ill-timed and abortive."

As a result, Eden has now moved the deadline for completion of his own memoirs ahead in order to provide a definitive answer to Sir Winston's son.

Finding himself unable to work in his Wiltshire country home, where he is subject to constant interruptions from visitors, Eden decided to go to Mexico.

Two British newspaper giants, The Times and Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express, waged a furious battle over serial rights to Eden's autobiography.

The Times of London finally won out, reputedly offering Eden $300,000 for the exclusive rights to his story, whereupon Beaverbrook signed up Randolph Churchill, who began his biography of Eden in 1956.

Meanwhile, the state of Eden's health is causing concern to his friends here. At 61, Eden is bronzed and still handsome, but he is gaunt to the point where his clothes flap on his frame.

Elwyn T. Gardner of the class of 1885 will receive a plaque from the university and be guest of honor at a picnic in Colorado Springs, Colo.

State Shows Decrease in Forest Fire Scars

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's forest fire damage area this year is running about one-third less than the acreage burned over in the same period last year.

The State Conservation Department reported that the toll stands at 3,594 acres against 9,800 acres at this time last year.

Bicycle Tourist Home; Reports on 11,000 Miles

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Robert Perez has arrived in Columbia—seven worn-out tires and 11,000 miles from Sante Fe, Argentina, where he started his bicycle tour 19 months ago.

Perez, 23, says he pedaled all the way, except for a one-day boat trip around headhunters in Central America. He plans to go on to New York, stopping in Washington "to shake hands with Mr. Eisenhower."

Diesel Fuel Use Jumps

LANSING (AP) — Consumption of Diesel fuel in Michigan in the first eight months of the year jumped 37 per cent over the like period last year, Secretary of State James M. Hare reports.

Khrushchev to Talk Over TV Sept. 27

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will wind up his American tour with a nationwide television speech a few hours before he takes off for his return trip to the Soviet Union Sept. 27.

A news conference will precede the speech.

The Premier will spend 42 hours with President Eisenhower at the President's Camp David retreat in the Catoctin Mountains of Maryland during Khrushchev's last weekend in the United States. The two are expected to have intensive talks on cold war problems.

Gets Five Years for Bombing

Truck Driver, 4 Others Linked to Labor Day Blasts in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)— A truck driver was sentenced to five years in prison and fined $550 today for a bombing linked to Little Rock's school integration dispute.

Four other men charged with dynamiting public property in three Labor Day bombings pleaded innocent.

The truck driver, J.D. Sims, 35, was offered counsel by Circuit Judge William J. Kirby. Sims refused and pleaded guilty to a charge of dynamiting the Little Rock School Board building.

The judge imposed the maximum sentence.

Two-Car Collision Hurts 3 Persons

Two drivers were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital last night with injuries suffered when their cars collided at N. Perry street and Kennett road, according to Pontiac police.

John W. Forester, 39, of 567 Westbrook St., was admitted with fractured ribs. He was in fair condition today. Samuel C. Mason, 46, of 1315 Indian Lake Rd., Orion Township, was treated and released.

Soybeans Ease, Grains Yawn

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures eased but grain prices hardly stirred in light early transactions today on the board of trade.

Hedging and scattered liquidation set soybeans back major fractions of a cent during the first few minutes. The Quaker Oats Co. said a recent survey showed the crop still in excellent condition in spots but that yields in some major producing regions are down sharply from a year ago. Some localities were turning out only about 10 bushels an acre.

The report added, however, that over-all production probably will be just slightly under a 24-bushel average.

Wheat was ⅛ cent a bushel lower to ¼ higher after about an hour. September $1.90¼; corn ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, September $1.14⅜; oats ⅛ to ¼ higher, September new type contract 66¼; rye ¾ lower to ⅛ higher, September $1.29¼; soybeans ½ to ⅞ lower, September $2.06½.

Stock Market Dip Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued its slow decline early today.

Key stocks were off from fractions to about a point. A few special situations took wider losses. Scattered gains were islands in the downtrend.

Litton Industries dropped a couple of points as traders sold on the overnight news of a 2-for-1 stock split proposal. The stock rose vigorously earlier in the week.

Underwood dropped a point as rumors failed to materialize of an acquisition of that firm by Litton.

Chrysler steadied, reviving a fraction of its more than 2-point loss of yesterday on forecasts of a third quarter loss by a company official.

'Woman!' Proves Nothing With Study of Femininity

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — I stopped washing the dishes long enough to watch yesterday's CBS-TV daytime special — the one that asked, "Is the American Woman Losing Her Femininity?"

This program, second in a series titled "Woman!," dabbled for an hour with that needless question, repeating itself with great persistence and very little substance.

I say the question is needless because this is, after all, the land where a gal like Marilyn Monroe embodies femininity on-camera and worries about the tax bite off-camera.

Or where a gal like Esther Williams can rise out of a swimming pool to become head of a large manufacturing corporation.

By sheer coincidence, Miss Williams was the hostess on yesterday's show; the feminine portion of her, that is.

The question, "Is the American woman losing her etc?" seemed to be borrowed from the high calorie Sunday afternoon TV ovens, but the presentation was sauteed, buttered and sugar-coated to meet tastes that are presumed to be sophisticated.

As a result, the needed spice was lacking. Nothing happened to perk up our senses. Because the answer was so obvious from the start, we were left with a curiously ineffective, almost vacuous program.

A repetitious hash of brief filmed interviews and carefully prepared "ad lib" discussions didn't help. And there was no humor.

Maybe that should be another topic some day: "Is the American woman losing her sense of humor?"

The women on the show — all from the San Francisco area — either were sorry to see femininity decline or were pleased about it. None saw fit to ask, "So what?"

I think this was because the women interviewed appeared to have some choice: They could choose between careers or home, intellectual "fulfillment" vs. domestic "stagnation."

The views of women without a choice in the mater — those who must work to pay the bills — would have been worthwhile.

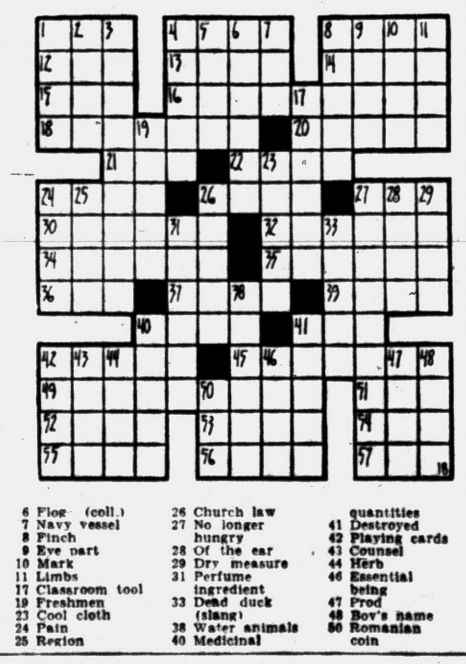

How important is femininity to them? To their husbands? Do their children put a high value on femininity?

The aimlessness of the program was exemplified by Miss William's summation. It seems the question about loss of femininity can be answered yes and no.

Yes, if you mean in terms of Victorian era concepts; no, if you mean modern woman's fulfillment as a human being. Uh huh. And so what?

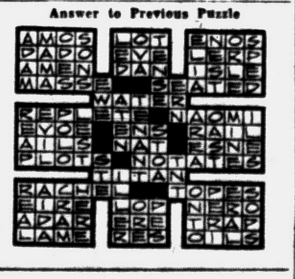

The province of Quebec is equal to almost one-third of the total area of the entire Dominion of Canada.

State Group Honors Two County Doctors

Two Oakland County doctors will be among 17 honored at the 94th annual convention of the Michigan State Medical Society, in Grand Rapids, Sept. 27-Oct. 2, it was announced today.

Drs. Samuel A. Butler of Pontiac and John S. Lambie of Birmingham will be among those honored for having practiced medicine 50 years or more.

Madison Heights Post Office Dedication Set

Main speakers will be Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) and Arnold C. Petersen, director of the Postmasters Division at Washington, D. C.

Madison Heights' former mayor, George Horkey, will be honored at an open house reception from 8 to 10 p. m. Saturday in the Madison Heights Recreation Center. Horkey resigned last month.

Williams in Washington to Discuss 'Turnabout'

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams is in Washington today for a parley at which Democratic state chairmen will study the election techniques that transformed Michigan from a Republican to a Democratic stronghold.

The Democratic chiefs will also map plans for the party's national convention next July during the three-day conference. They were called to Washington at the request of the party's committee on political organization headed by Neil Staebler, Michigan State chairman.

On Sunday the Governor will be in Hartford, Conn., to speak to the Polish National Alliance. He will return to Lansing Monday.

Says He Was Lookout for Anastasia Murder

PORT HURON (AP) — An Ontario Indian, arrested here on a drunkenness charge, was held in the county jail today for further questioning about his story that he was a $5,000 lookout for two assassins in the slaying of Albert Anastasia.

Chrysler Offers 93 Models in '60

Keeps Fins; Stresses New 6-Cylinder Engine for Fuel Economy

WILSON

MIAMI BEACH [illegible] Chrysler Corporation [illegible] en lines of cars [illegible] effort to meet the [illegible] demands of the motoring [illegible] Byron J. Nichols, Chrysler president said today.

The corporation gave newsmen a preview of its new Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto, Chrysler, Imperial and the Dodge Dart line, which was added this year.

Newsmen were scheduled to see Chrysler's new small car, the Valiant, later today.

Nichols said a total of 93 different models will be offered by the corporation this year, the widest choice offered in the history of the company.

Many of the new [illegible] offer an entirely new designed six-cylinder [illegible] those seeking greater economy.

Each of the new Chrysler has its own distinguishing characteristics, but they all [illegible] the Chrysler theme of sweep-back styling with fins.

All of the cars have unitized construction — a system of making the body and frame as one unit — and Chrysler claims it has achieved a structural design which cancels out vibrations before they reach the passenger compartment.

The corporation is placing heavy emphasis on quality of its 1960 lines, especially in the areas of reduced noise and greater passenger comfort.

It revised the seating angles, increased the leg room in the new cars and made exit and entry easier by elimination of the windshield protrusion in the front door openings.

The company's swivel seats have been changed so that they swing out automatically when the door is opened and return to the driving position when it is closed.

She'd Prefer to Zoom in Good Woman Roles

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Constance Towers, beautiful young Hollywood actress (and bride) is unhappy—because friends, agents and advisers tell her, "If you could play a 'bad woman' role, or get in some scandal, your career would ZOOM!"

"Why shouldn't it zoom instead from playing a good woman?" demands Connie, who just finished "Captain Buffalo" for John Ford.

Nor will the Lana-Turner-Liz Taylor box office appeal induce her to have any scandal involving her bridegroom, Eugene McGrath, ex-husband of Terry Moore.

Fact is, she's trying to make the career zoom from a happy marriage. They're off to Panama, where he has a home, for a month.

When they departed, arm-in-arm, they said, "There's no family on the way yet, but when it happens we'll send up a rocket."

It appears that Khrushchev will achieve another "first"—he'll be the first visiting VIP who'll have more bodyguards than audience.

Special Session Not to Be Called

Ike Will Await Regular Meeting, Then Hit Hard for Aid and Interest

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower plans to hit Congress in January with strong demands for an increase in foreign aid funds and for action to lift long-term bond interest ceilings.

Republican leaders said Eisenhower had been dissuaded from calling a special session of Congress to act on these subjects partly because the next regular session opens in a little more than three months.

Eisenhower is expected to sign the $3,225,813,000 foreign aid bill with some pointed references to the $704,182,000 Congress cut the amount below his estimates.

The President was reported particularly concerned with the reduction of 300 million dollars Congress made in his $1,600,000,000 request for military assistance funds.

Eisenhower told his news conference Thursday he hopes the Democratic - dominated Congress will "feel the heat of truth" and act next year to raise the present 4¼ per cent interest ceiling on long-term bonds.

Reshuffle May Add Toughness in China

TOKYO (AP)—The military reshuffle in Red China places Mao Tze-tung's army under the direct control of a policeman. It may mean a tougher domestic policy.

COMMUNE TROUBLE

They speculated the shuffle was connected with army opposition to the revolutionary commune system and the industrial "leap forward" program.

Nikita Meets an Enigma

Standing on Park Avenue, one man clapped as the closed black limousine swept past. Another booed as hard as he could. And a woman said, "I wouldn't have stayed if I'd known you couldn't see him."

The blood-red Soviet flag with its hammer and sickle floated beside the Stars and Stripes on one hotel and a man said, "That's a good sign."

Outside another hotel, hostile pickets held up placards that said, "Welcome Khrushchev, why not Heil Hitler?" and "You can reach the moon but you can't reach America." One, bearing Khrushchev's photograph said, "Wanted for murder."

So it went all day, wherever Khrushchev went.

Asks Law to Govern Trading Stamp Firms

LANSING (AP) — A Senate study committee has called for a law to govern the operation of trading stamp companies in Michigan.

The committee headed by Sen. John Minnema (R-Traverse City) said such a law would "insure that only responsible persons and companies engage in the trading stamp business and protect the public against default in the redemption of their stamps."

The group said, however, that it would not back any law aimed at hampering or limiting the use of trading stamps or the operation of responsible trading stamp companies.

The Senate and House have approved separate special committees to continue surveys of the trading stamp field when the current legislature adjourns.
