

Survivors of Ship Disaster Hunted

HARBOR BEACH (AP) — Searchers today prowled the storm-lashed grave of the Daniel J. Morrell which sank in Lake Huron with a feared loss of 23 lives and only one survivor. It was the worst Great Lakes disaster in eight years.

Eleven bodies were recovered yesterday. The Coast Guard spotted a 12th body next to an empty life raft but said gale-force winds and huge waves prevented it from recovering the corpse.

Three Coast Guard cutters braved gale winds of 30 to 40 knots and a snow squall during the night to crisscross the area south of Harbor Beach and a small area west of Point Aux Barques at the tip of the Michigan thumb.

The search turned up a life raft with underclothing frozen to its deck, an oil can and a board, all bearing Morrell markings. A search plane and two helicopters remained aloft most of the night but were forced down before dawn when snow cut visibility at about a half a mile.

See Related Stories, Pictures, Pages A-2, D-9, D-12

Time—more than two days—snow squalls and subfreezing temperatures cut down hopes that the freighter's other 16 crewmen somehow survived by launching lifeboats and riding out the gale.

His fate concealed by the storm for 34 hours, the 603-foot Morrell snapped in two Tuesday morning and sank in 145 feet of water 20 miles northeast of Harbor Beach, a town in the northern half of Michigan's Thumb district.

Twenty-nine crewmen were aboard, said John Hanninen, a legal representative of Bethlehem Steel Co. which had leased the 60-year-old ship.

"I saw two lifeboats launched before the ship sank," said deck watchman Dennis Hale, the survivor. Plucked from a life raft by a helicopter, Hale was clad in undershorts, pajamas and a pea jacket when found lying beneath the bodies of three crew mates who died from exposure.

An empty life raft bobbed on waves near the coast and a life ring and debris from the Morrell washed up on the snow-covered shore at the northern tip of the Thumb district.

The wreckage was found by a 100-man search party that scoured the shoreline during heavy snowfall.

But the blinding snow hampered the search by three Coast Guard cutters over a 400-square-mile area of Lake Huron. The storm grounded Coast Guard aircraft during most of the hunt.

'HEARD HARD THUMP'

Any crewman not in lifeboats would have died within three hours in the 36-degree water, the Coast Guard said.

Hale, 26, of Ashtabula, Ohio, was sleeping when he "heard a hard thump."

"I thought the anchor was dropping," he said. Books tumbled off a shelf in his room and he jumped out of bed.

"I heard the emergency alarm. The ship was breaking in half," Hale said. He launched a raft with three other crew members.

'BUCKLED, SANK'

"As we were floating out on this raft I could see the two halves hitting each other," he said. "He had separated and the back part still had power and kept ramming the front part."

"She buckled and sank," Hale said.

Hale was reported in good condition at a hospital.

"The wierd thing" about the 12,500-ton Morrell, said a Coast Guard spokesman, was "There was no distress signal."

NO SOS
Winds up to 60 miles an hour and waves 25 feet high lashed the Morrell and she apparently sank without radiating an SOS.

Not since the freighter Carl D. Bradley sank Nov. 18, 1959, have as many crewmen of a freighter died on the Great Lakes.

The Bradley lost 33 of its 35 crewmen when it plunged to the bottom of Lake Michigan during a similar storm. Like the Morrell, the Bradley was as long as two football fields.

WORST TRAGEDY

But the worst in a long history of Great Lakes tragedies was 53 years ago when 19 ships plunged to the bottom in a five-day November storm. An estimated 250 sailors died.

The last time anybody reported hearing from the Morrell was at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday when she transmitted a routine message giving her position as 25 miles north of Harbor Beach.

The Morrell was bound north for Taconite Harbor, Minn., from Cleveland, Ohio. The freighter had only ballast in her holds.

Two hours before she sank, the freighter G. A. Tomlinson passed the Morrell and saw nothing wrong.

Snow Forecast Next 2 Days

Skiers will welcome the fresh new snow forecast for the Pontiac area for the next two days.

The weatherman predicts colder with occasional snow flurries through Saturday. Temperatures will become much colder falling to 5 to 12 tonight.

West to northwesterly winds at 12 to 22 miles per hour this morning will become 15 to 20 miles late today then diminish a little tonight.

Temperatures dropped from 32 at midnight to 18 at 8 a.m., a new low for the season. At 1 p.m. the mercury stood at 14.

Kiesinger New Chancellor

BONN, West Germany (AP) — The Bundestag today elected Christian Democrat Kurt Georg Kiesinger West Germany's third chancellor and head of the 17-year-old republic's first Christian Democratic-Socialist coalition government.

The vote in the 496-member lower house of the West German Parliament was 340-109, with 23 blank ballots. This indicated that a large number of the 202 Social Democrats (Socialists), perhaps as many as 50, had voted against the 62-year-old ex-Nazi.

West Berlin's 22 members cast 16 votes for Kiesinger, 3 against and 3 blank ballots.

Their votes were counted separately because as members from territory still under military occupation, their votes on substantive matters have no weight.

Kiesinger's election was assured during the night when the Bundestag members of the two major parties agreed to support a coalition Cabinet headed by him to end the 34-day government crisis.

Together the two parties hold

447 seats, not counting those for West Berlin.

The two parties have been rivals since the republic's birth in 1949.

Their coalition was generally considered a temporary expedient until the general elections in 1969, if it holds together that long.

Kiesinger succeeds Christian Democrat Ludwig Erhard, 69, whose coalition with West Germany's third party, the Free Democrats, fell apart Oct. 27 in a budget dispute over raising taxes to pay for U.S. arms.

PREDECESSORS

Both Erhard and his predecessor as chancellor, 30-year-old Konrad Adenauer, took part in the vote as members of the Bundestag.

Mayor Willy Brandt, leader of the Socialist party, will be vice chancellor and foreign minister.

TO LOOK AT SCHOOLS — Discussing intergroup relations in Pontiac schools are (from left) John T. Rogers, chairman of the citizens committee that will investigate equality of educational opportunity in the district; Monroe M. Osmon, school board chairman; and Julian Cook, committee vice chairman. The three were among school officials and citizens who attended the committee's organizational meeting last night.

Deep Analysis Urged on School Equality

By PAT McCARTY

Citizens committed to investigating the equality of educational opportunity in Pontiac schools last night were challenged to make their study both broad and deep.

They received a pledge of full cooperation from school officials and were told their study is to be more intensive than any previous review of intergroup relations in the district.

"What we're really delving into is the question of honesty — the honesty of the school board and administrators," chairman John T. Rogers said. "How do the facts square with their pronouncements?"

The organizational meeting of the Pontiac School District Citizens' Study Committee of Equality of Educational Opportunity was attended by 23 persons appointed by the board.

Committee membership, including additional representatives of groups which have not yet submitted nominees, is expected to number about 50.

GREATER SCOPE
Its scope is "far more intensive, covering a far greater area" than that of the school district's human relations committee, Rogers said in answer to the questions of several persons.

Rogers, an attorney, also serves as chairman of the human relations committee established by the board 2½ years ago.

Warren Tells of Fiscal Status

Police Pay Hearing to Resume Dec. 15

More than two hours of testimony by City Manager Joseph A. Warren yesterday brought to an end the formal presentation of evidence in the police-city fact-finding hearing.

Following Warren's discussion of the city's financial picture, State Labor Mediation Board-appointed examiner Harry N. Casselman set Dec. 15 as the next meeting date for the two groups.

In the interim, Casselman said, he would study the city's preliminary budget along with other exhibits introduced by both city and police representatives.

Yesterday's session, the third since Casselman initiated the hearings Nov. 9, followed the pattern of the two previous meetings.

Attorneys for the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA) again sought to establish existence of unappropriated surplus monies in the city treasury.

Warren admitted to a surplus of roughly $650,000 in the sewage collection and disposal fund.

Transfer of the monies, however, Warren said, would involve a "considerable" policy change on the part of the City Commission.

"It would be extremely hard for me to recommend (such a transfer)," Warren told the hearing.

The city manager had previously cited city budget policy in opposing sale of city-owned land to finance a police pay raise.

the bodies of three shipmates who died from exposure. With Hale and his wife Bertha, 28, is their son Billy, 10, and their daughters (from left) Cathy, 4, Cindy, 6, and Debbie, 8.

FUTILE SEARCH — A Coast Guard helicopter comes alongside a raft in Lake Huron yesterday in a vain effort to locate the missing freighter Daniel J. Morrell, that broke in half and sank Tuesday morning. Several bodies and a lone survivor were found, however, and the search is continuing today for more survivors.

Ferry Ordeal Ends

Area Voyagers Hit Land

By JEAN SAILE

An Oxford Township couple and their 5-year-old son are reported safe and on their way home today following a three-day ordeal as passengers on the stranded car ferry, City of Midland 41.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hickmott and son, Mark, were allowed to disembark at 6 p.m. yesterday in Ludington. They had been aboard the ferry since 12:30 p.m. Sunday along with 178 other passengers.

Mrs. Donald Hickmott, 38½, sister-in-law to Hickmott, told this morning of having received a phone call from the passengers last night.

She said they had become tired of their confinement on the ferry, but that everything was fine. They'd had plenty of food, played a lot of cards and Mark had enjoyed the experience tremendously.

The voyagers were more interested in what was happening in Oxford Township, according to Mrs. Hickmott, and wanted to talk to their 15-year-old son, Paul, who had remained at home to take care of the farm and to attend school.

HOLIDAY TRIP
The Hickmotts left for Milwaukee, the Wednesday before Thanksgiving, to spend the holiday with former Oxford residents, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Cemke, who now live 11 miles from the ferry dock there.

The home folk were told last night of how the City of Midland, driven by high winds, had careened apparently out of control onto a channel due at the entrance to Ludington Harbor.

That occurred at 5 p.m. Sunday after passengers had already been aboard the ferry four hours longer than the normal crossing takes.

They told of the arrival of a tug early yesterday morning for the purpose of freeing the ferry, the necessity of sending for more, and eventual release from the dune at 6 p.m. yesterday.

Bud Hickmott is an auctioneer in the area. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hickmott Sr., 26 Mechanic, Oxford.

Only One Crewman Is Found Alive

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (AP) — When Dennis Hale signed on the freighter Daniel J. Morrell, it was reluctantly and with a fear of Great Lakes storms.

"He was awful scared about storms," said his wife, Bertha. "He was always afraid."

But Hale was the lucky one — he survived.

At least 12 of his sailing mates perished when the Morrell split during a raging storm and plunged to the bottom of Lake Huron.

Sixteen other crewmen were missing.

THE WHEELSMAN
One of the dead recovered by the Coast Guard was Charles H. Foesbender, 42, wheelsman on the Morrell.

Only a few hours earlier, Foesbender's wife, Jan, of St. Clair, had received a letter from him.

With the coming end of the shipping season, he wrote: "If our luck holds with us, it will be our last trip."

Arthur I. Crawley, 47, of Rocky River, Ohio, the bachelor captain of the Morrell, had held a similar view.

CALLED RELATIVES
The vessel had completed its voyage to Buffalo, N.Y., when Crawley telephoned relatives in Rocky River.

"He had thought that was his last trip," said Crawley's brother, John. "But he told us they were going up again for another load."

Hale was rescued 34 hours after the Morrell went down in freezing temperatures. A Coast Guard helicopter found him huddled under three bodies on a raft eight miles northeast of here.

He was suffering from exposure. A priest administered last rites.

DOCTORS HOPEFUL
Doctors said they expected the deck watchman, hospitalized here, to pull through.

Mrs. Hale said her husband had been reluctant to join the crew of the Morrell, a onetime Ashtabula hotel chef, three years ago because of the dangers. But he signed on anyway.

Record Defections in Viet Cong Ranks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam—U.S. officials today reported a new peak in defections from the ranks of the Viet Cong. They said 2,566 returnees came over to the Allied side in November for the highest monthly total since the chieu hoi — open arms — program was launched nearly four years ago. The previous high was 2,062 last February.

At the same time, the U.S. Command reported a rise in American and enemy war casualties last week, while Vietnam-North Viet Nam continued at a low pace as it has for the last three weeks because of rainstorms and generally foul weather. The U.S. Command reported American troop strength in Viet Nam reached 361,000 by last Saturday, an increase of 1,000 men over the previous week. The record number of Viet Cong defectors reported for November also exceeded a five-week high of 2,336 in March, U.S. officials said.

City Manager Testifies at Pay Hearing

In the city's general fund has several times been defended by Warren and City Attorney Philip A. Rowston as needed for "payroll and operating expenses."

Casselman yesterday questioned, however, whether the city would be able to transfer funds "for a short period" to meet police wage demands.

The PPQA is asking for a $1,276 annual raise in addition to longevity benefits.

City representatives, in the course of the hearing, also have cited the Pontiac Finance Study Committee as seeking a long-range solution to Pontiac's budget problems.

The committee, composed of civic and agency representatives as well as businessmen, is reported to be considering recommendation of an increase in the city's current property tax rate of 10 mills on the general fund.

Mostly Unpleasant

November Held Surprises

Like Pandora's box, November held many surprises for Oakland County residents.

From an innocuous beginning of sunshine Nov. 1, a late afternoon drizzle turned into the season's first snowstorm of the year dumping nearly seven inches of the white stuff in the next 48 hours.

Another storm blew in from the north Nov. 28 with winds of 25 to 40 miles per hour and a total snowfall of six inches in 48 hours.

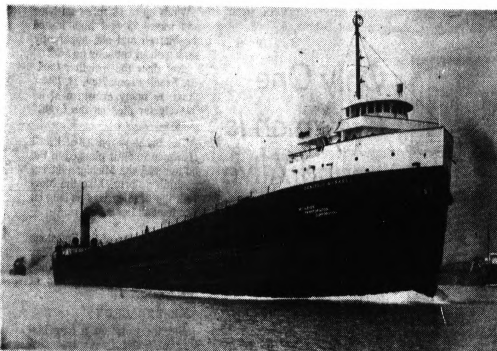

Only eight days of sunshine were sprinkled through the month which brought a total rainfall of 2.57 inches and a total snowfall of 13 inches.

This compares to a total rain and snowfall of 3.40 inches chalked up for November 1965.

TEMPERATURES

Temperature high for the month was 60 degrees on Nov. 8 and 9. The mercury slid to the month's low of 21 degrees Nov. 28. High and low for November 1965 were 39.2 and 24.

The monthly mean of 39.55 was slightly lower than the area's expected normal mean of 40.4.

Broad School Study Is Urged

direct suggestion of the (Michigan) Civil Rights Commission because of the previous lack of investigation of racial problems.

Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said the Civil Rights Commission had investigated a number of complaints in Pontiac and had proposed establishment of the committee shortly after a parent-pupil demonstration at Eastern Junior High School last spring.

Charges of discriminatory discipline practices toward Negro pupils were dramatized when parents and pupils picketed the school briefly last June.

In retaliation, two-thirds of the school's faculty did not go to work for two days.

The school board managed to come to terms with both parents and teachers.

Rogers noted that the human relations committee is an on-going organization while the study committee will be dissolved after it presents a detailed, written report to the school board.

He admitted that the human relations committee's "follow-through on recommendations has been very bad, very sluggish."

The group's materials are to be made available to the study committee.

School board member Dr. Robert Turpin, president of the Civil Rights Commission and State Board of Education also could be called upon for resources, along with other agencies.

STUDY COORDINATORS

The school board has named John F. Perdue, its community-school and human relations director, coordinator of the study.

Perdue said he has held several meetings with Civil Rights Commission representatives and that they were involved in the selection of study committee members, who represent a cross section of organizations and interests.

He emphasized that the purpose of the study is twofold. The committee is to report to the board on the strengths and weaknesses it discovers in the system, making proposals for improvements.

However, its report also is to be made public so that other citizens are informed of the situation, Perdue noted.

In answer to a question from Lawrence Beamer, president of the Pontiac Education Association, Perdue said the committee was not organized to "cap an explosive situation but to look at the system before there is an explosion."

Rogers has appointed attorney Julian Cook to serve as his vice chairman.

He also announced that he had named acting chairmen for four subcommittees.

They are George Googasian, pupil distribution and characteristics; Charles Harrison Jr., employment distribution and personnel policies; Thomas Fowler Jr., school organization, curriculum and special services; and William Belaney, climate of relationships in the school and community.

The group's second meeting was scheduled for 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday at Lincoln Junior High School.

Opening Statements Due in Cheyz Bribery Trial

A jury of nine men and five women today began hearing the case against White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz, accused of conspiring to bribe and bribery by the Oakland County Grand Jury.

Members of the jury panel were selected late yesterday afternoon, and then sent home until 10 a.m. today when opening statements were to be made.

Asst. Prosecutor James J. Roberts had no preemptory challenges of the jurors, while Cheyz' attorney, Joseph Louis, requested that only two be excused.

Before deliberation begins on a verdict, the 14-member jury will be reduced to the normal 12 through the drawing of lots.

The two additional jurors act as a safeguard from delays if one of the members are absent because of sickness.

Probe Resumes

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County's one-man grand jury continued its probe Wednesday into the Detroit suburb of Hamtramck. George E. Bowles, the grand juror, called John Krykowski, a Hamtramck school board member, to testify. Krykowski said he understood other board members have been subpoenaed. Earlier, Bowles heard testimony from Hamtramck policemen.

Irish Were Gunning for No. 1--Parseghian

DETROIT (AP)—Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian said his team was trying for the national championship and points to the latest Associated Press poll as proof that he used the right strategy in the final minutes of the Michigan State game.

Notre Dame was ranked No. 1 nationally and MSU No. 2 going into the game Nov. 19. With the score tied 10-10, Notre Dame ran out the clock rather than go for the long pass.

"Notre Dame plays in no conference," Parseghian told a football dinner audience here Wednesday night. "We play no postseason games. The national polls mean everything to us, and those who vote in the polls put a premium on being undefeated."

BAD POSITION

"We had bad field position. Another big factor is that for Mike it was all over with that game. At the end of that game, they hang up the pads. There is no more," Parseghian said.

"But we had an overtime. We could control our own destiny. For us, there is another game. Southern California. So we didn't try for the bomb."

"If you say this is wrong, then look at the national polls today," he concluded.

Notre Dame smashed South Cal in the final game and increased its poll margin over MSU.

"Actually," the Notre Dame coach joked, "it was an easy decision to make. When I first became coach at Notre Dame, I got a telegram from an alumni group telling me, 'We're with you, win or tie.'"

"But," Parseghian concluded, "judging from the mail I got after the MSU tie, I guess that word 'tie' can be dropped."

'M' Quintet Makes Debut

Wolverines Rebuild After Russell Era

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—What will the University of Michigan basketball team be like without Cazzie Russell?

U-M fans will find out tonight as the Wolverines open the 1966-67 season here against Tennessee. Saturday Michigan plays Duke at Durham, N. C., then returns to Ann Arbor for the home opener.

That comes Monday night against University of Houston. But not only is two-time All-America Russell gone from the Michigan squad, so are such men as John Thompson, Jim Myers, Oliver Darden and John Clawson.

Only three lettermen return from the defending Big Ten championship team: Craig Dill, Dennis Bankey and Jim Pitts.

Head Fencing Squad

DETROIT (AP)—Louis Pox and Andy Haliv have been elected captains of the Wayne State fencing squad.

Major Hoople Boosts of Hot 'Grid' Hand

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

Football's Foremost Forecaster Egad, friends, seldom has the Hoople System functioned more beautifully than it did last week. There were upsets galore and the Hoople Plan had most of them analyzed perfectly, including the upset of the year.

On Saturday we had a brilliant record of 16 winners, 4 losers, for an 800 batting average—kaff-kaff!

To refresh your memories, in my Turkey Day forecast I wrote, "Watch for the Oklahoma Sooners to treat a national TV audience to the upset of the year as they 'feast' on Nebraska's Cornhuskers!"

And—ahem—just as I predicted they would, the Sooners, with a spine-tingling display of dogged determination, prevailed 19-9 on a last-minute field goal to knock Sugar Bowl nominee Nebraska from the ranks of the unbeaten—har-rumph—

But as gratifying as the Oklahoma prediction was it was on Saturday the Hoople System excelled!

On the last big day of the regular 1966 season your favorite forecaster correctly 1 a b b e d Army's "fourth quarter" upset of Navy, the Miami Hurricanes' upset of Orange Bowl bound Florida, and the Georgia Bulldogs' triumph over previously undefeated Georgia Tech, who will face Florida in the New Year's classic!

The Hoople System gave you the Hoople X to upend neighbor Boston College, Florida State to triumph over Maryland, and Notre Dame to trim Southern California—hak-kaff!

Notre Dame's 51-0 thrashing of the Trojans gives the Irish undisputed possession of first place in my personal ratings!

It also makes the South Bend lads the unofficial Rose Bowl champion by virtue of their early season conquest of Purdue's Boilermakers, who will meet Southern California on New Year's Day—umkumph!

For a rundown on the results on Saturday's card, see my selections reproduced here alongside the actual results of the day's proceedings. And now, dear readers, your peripatetic prognosticator will repair to his laboratory to prepare his annual bowl games forecast. Watch for my selections in this newspaper.

Canadians Take U. of D. Trophies

DETROIT (AP)—Fourteen University of Windsor students walked into the University of Detroit athletic center Tuesday and walked out with 11 drill team and marching trophies.

No one noticed the loss until leaders of the Windsor raiders, Jim Cunningham and Nick Menican, called to report their haul. The two schools meet in a basketball game Thursday night.

Spartan Five Duels Broncos in Lid-Lifter

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten basketball season opens Thursday night with Michigan State, a prime pre-season title favorite, one of four conference teams in action.

The Spartans entertain Western Michigan, coached by the first time by Sonny Means, who was assistant to MSU coach, John Bennington, last season.

Michigan's depleted champions visit Tennessee, Minnesota is at Kansas State and Ohio State is host to Butler.

All Big Ten teams are on the firing line Saturday. Butler is at Illinois and Houston at Minnesota for afternoon engagements. At night, DePaul is at Indiana, Miami Ohio at MSU, Ohio U. at Northwestern, Cincinnati at Wisconsin, Iowa at Washington, Michigan at Duke, Ohio State at Iowa State and Purdue at Virginia Tech.

Lions Need Room

Gilmer Looking for Daylight

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Lion Coach Harry Gilmer heads toward the setting sun this week, looking for a little daylight.

Not much. Just enough for some of the Lion ball carriers to run through.

The Lions, their running attack showing little or nothing last week, face the Rams at Los Angeles Sunday.

"They're a tough bunch to run against," Gilmer said. Last week the Rams limited

Baltimore to just 33 yards rushing. That's less than the Lions got losing to the San Francisco 49ers. The 49ers held the Lions to 47 yards rushing and quarter-back Karl Sweetan, who twice called himself on running plays with long yardage needed, led the Detroit runners with 19 yards on three carries.

The Lion defense last week gave up 486 yards, 214 rushing. "We're stressing running in practice," Gilmer said Wednesday. "You have to have a little running attack or they just see what he's going to do with the darn thing."

He said the trouble with the Detroit ground attack was "they just don't block anyone. I don't care who your back is, they have to have a little daylight to run in. Of course, the backs have to do their share of blocking, too."

Sweetan, the rookie who took over when Milt Plum was injured Oct. 16, has thrown 228 passes and clicked on 115 of them for 1,389 yards. He faced a heavy rush by the 49ers last week and expects another this week.

"Let's face it," Sweetan said. "There's nothing dull for a quarterback any time he grabs the football and a bunch of big guys from the other team rush in to see what he's going to do with the darn thing."

Detroit, now 4-7-1, faces a team that is 7-5.

Spartan Team in Semifinals

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Michigan State, just as powerful in soccer this season as in football, puts its undefeated record on the line today against once-beaten Long Island University in the opening game of the NCAA soccer championship semifinals.

The undefeated University of San Francisco face twice-beaten Army in the second contest. Finals are slated for Saturday.

Kimball Swimmers Win Opener, 58-47

Royal Oak Kimball may have a better outlook in swimming this season than expected.

The Knights defeated Warren Fitzgerald, 58-47 in the opener for both teams. Fitzgerald was expected to be the class of county area teams this year.

Read McCarthy, the Kimball All-American, won the 200 freestyle and 100 freestyle while teammate Gary Gotchling won in the 100 butterfly and 400 freestyle.

Les McCormick was the other double winner.
