Rain Dampens Pep of Khrushchev's Hecklers

A chartered cruise boat which headed out to meet the Soviet ship Baltika carried only 114 passengers.

Capt. William V. Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, was enthusiastic as he boarded the ship at 5:30 a.m., but he was sodden and disappointed when he returned four hours later.

★ ★ ★

"The fog kept our signs from being seen and the harbor police and Coast Guard stuck their noses in to make it even worse."

Khrushchev displayed his jolly look as he walked down the Baltika's gangplank, but a few minutes earlier appeared impatient at the time it took to get the ship tied up and the gangplank lowered.

He paced back and forth, occasionally stopping to talk to the crew on deck. Actually, the docking was handled rapidly. It was 15 minutes from the time two tugs nudged the ship into the pier until she was secure and the gangplank down.

The pier and the general area, at 25th St., and East River Drive, swarmed with police and security agents.

The drive was closed to traffic to facilitate movement of Khrushchev's motorcade uptown to the Soviet delegation's headquarters on Park Avenue.

Normally the drive carries thousands of motorists to their jobs in the financial district of lower Manhattan, and to bridges leading to Brooklyn.

Even subway trains were halted on the nearby Manhattan and Williamsburgh Bridges while the Baltika moved up the river. Some trains were delayed, others rerouted through the Montague St. tunnel.

Best view of the docking—and one of the driest—was afforded nurses at Bellvue Hospital's nursing residence opposite the dock. The windows were filled with peering nurses in starched white uniforms.

Among those not on the pier when the Baltika pulled in was Cuban Premier Fidel Castro. He stayed in his room at the Hotel Shelbunre, where he checked in Sunday night after a flight from Havana. Greeting him as he awoke this morning was a sign attached to a fire escape directly across the street—written in ink on brown paper. It said: "Fidel Commie go home."

There was one lone picket when the Baltika reached quarantine at Staten Island en route to Manhattan. She identified herself as Mrs. Norman Craig, wife of a boarding officer, whose home is in the quarantine area.

She had to leave to take her son Norman Jr. to school, but returned just in time to get in a healthy boo.

Alleges Mistreatment in Handling on Arrival for U.N. Session

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK — An angry Fidel Castro was reported today to be planning a protest to the United Nations against alleged mistreatment by New York police assigned to guard him.

Aides to the bearded Cuban premier attributed his wrath to the action of a New York policeman in "pushing" him back into his car late Sunday when he tried to step out to greet admirers.

"How do you think (President) Eisenhower would have felt if he were pushed in Havana as Castro was pushed in New York?", Carlos Franqui editor of Castro's leftist newspaper Revolucion said.

The Cuban government radio propagandist Jose Pardo Llada added: "In Havana everybody would have treated (President) Eisenhower with respect.

SLEEPS LATE

Only a homemade sign, hung on a fire escape across the street from his suite, was calculated to disturb him. Drawn in ink on brown wrapping paper, it read: "Fidel Commie go home."

High Officials Boycott Soggy Premier; He's Showered With Abuse

From Our News Wires

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio gave a speedy, favorable report today on arrival in New York of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, saying a lot of people gathered to meet him despite heavy rain. The broadcast said the pier where Khrushchev's ship docked was decorated with Soviet flags and those of East bloc countries.

bly and said his own purpose was to spare no effort until "even the thick-skulled" realize the necessity of general disarmament.

Khrushchev arrived amid boos of anti-Communist demonstrators and said he would welcome "serious negotiations" with Eisenhower at the United Nations on the East-West disarmament deadlock.

He encountered an official chill—no top United States or other Western dignitaries were on hand—as he stepped from the Baltika. Pelting rain and lowering skies darkened the scene.

The only Americans of any prominence present were Cyrus Eaton, the Cleveland industrialist who was the Lenin Peace Prize last year, and his wife.

About 150 officials of Communist nations were at the dilapidated East River pier where the Baltika

E. Reich Claims Traffic Control

Threatens Action Over Berlin to Make Claim Stick; Russ Watching

BERLIN (UPI) — The East German Communists today claimed full sovereignty over all traffic to West Berlin and threatened to take action against the isolated city to make good their claim.

★ ★ ★

The official Communist Party newspaper Neues Deutschland said the East German-Soviet agreement of Sept. 20, 1955, "transferred to the German Democratic Republic full sovereignty on land, water and in the air." The statement was taken as a claim to control western allied traffic into West Berlin.

★ ★ ★

The newspaper further threatened that East Germany would not stand by idly and watch West Berlin misused for "war and revenge agitation."

The newspaper did not say how the threat would be implemented.

The 1955 agreement gave East Germany control of East German traffic "to and from West Berlin" but it specifically exempted all allied traffic. The Russians said that "for the time being" they would continue to be responsible for western allied traffic through East Germany into the divided city.

Ignore Draft to Back Him

Reds Pin All Blame on Dag

★ ★ ★

Zorin said the Asian-African resolution failed to pinpoint any blame on Hammerskjold or "colonial power" for recent actions in the Congo.

Zorin introduced a Soviet resolution that would amount to a virtual indictment of Hammerskjold.

The Soviet resolution declared that nonimplementation of Security Council resolutions by Hammarskjold, "particularly regarding non interference in the domestic affairs of the Congo . . . has led to increasing economic difficulties aggravating the political situation leading to the overthrow of the government and of parliament."

The Security Council had refused previously to approve a Soviet resolution critical of Hammarskjold, and it was unlikely Zorin would find any substantial support in the assembly.

Ethiopia was added to the list of countries sponsoring the Asian-African resolution, making 17 in all.

Zorin spoke after Sir Patrick Dean, the British delegate, called on the Assembly to demonstrate by a decisive vote its confidence in Hammarskjold and its determination to keep the Congo from becoming involved in the Cold War.

The Assembly held a morning session, and planned both afternoon and night meetings on the Congo issue.

There were prospects it might adopt the resolution tonight, within hours after the arrival of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for the regular session opening Tuesday.

Clearing and Cooling Weather Predicted

Clearing and cooler weather is predicted tonight with an expected low of 52 degrees.

Tuesday will be generally fair and a little warmer with a high of 78 says the weatherman.

Morning southwesterly winds at 8 miles per hour will become northwesterly 15 to 20 miles tonight.

Rainfall from 10 a.m. Saturday to 10 a.m. this morning registered .5 inch.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 58 degrees. At 2 p.m. the reading was 70.

Donna Takes Florida Home; Thieves Get $30,000 in Loot Here

Notified that his home at Lower Matecumbe Key had been blown away by the storm, Fred Gollaach of 30945 Wendbrook Road, went to investigate Friday.

Not only had his home been destroyed by the heavy winds but also a guest house. He estimated the loss at $75,000.

On his return to his Beverly Hills home yesterday, his wife told him that while he was gone thieves broke into the house and stole a fur and jewelry valued at $30,000.

He told police that a coin collection belonging to his son and valued at $2,500 was also stolen.

The thieves broke into the home Friday while Mrs. Gollaach was out and only a few hours after Gollaach left for Florida to inspect his damaged property.

Mrs. Gollaach said on her return home Friday night she heard a door slam.

"I know now that it must have been the thieves," she said.

While Gollaach said he had little insurance on his Florida property, all the goods stolen from his home were insured.

Gollaach owns the Mark Twain Tool Manufacturing Co., Detroit, The Arrow Fleet Co. at Willow Run and the Blue Danube Inn, Detroit.

Festival a Big Success — Downtown Dazed

Not even a brief shower could dampen Downtown Festival Days in its waning hours Saturday evening.

The three-day marathon of merriment, sponsored by the Downtown Merchants Association, was a big success, bringing thousands of people to downtown Pontiac.

"There were more people downtown during the three days than we ever expected," said Norman L. Pattison, festival chairman.

"A big crowd turned out for the Saturday night shows, even though it rained briefly and more showers threatened.

"There were people here that said they hadn't been downtown for a year—even some who had never been downtown," Pattison explained today.

And what was the biggest single drawing card? Pattison and others agreed it was the free breakfast.

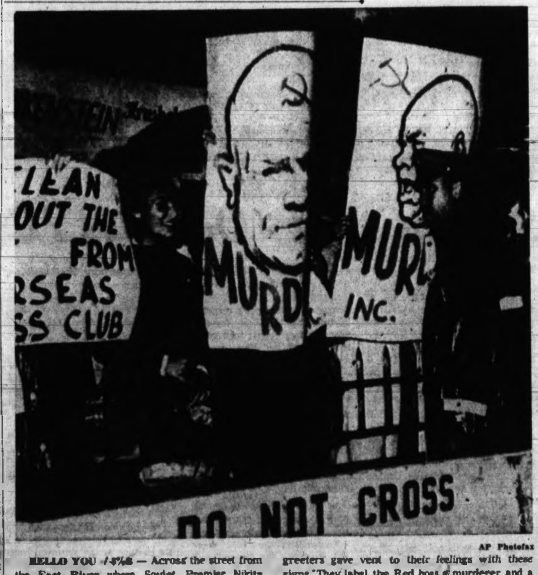

"We had an estimated 2,300 for breakfast Thursday, about 2,500 Friday and more than that on Saturday."

"People who came to festival days the last two years brought friends and relatives this year," said George Richman.

"It gave us all a wonderful chance to see Pontiac area talent and it clearly demonstrated that people still love to come downtown."

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — The White House declined today to comment on remarks made by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev upon his arrival in New York to attend the U.N. General Assembly.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty was asked if he had anything to say about Khrushchev's comments. Hagerty smiled and said simply, "No."

But President Eisenhower himself used the word "troublemakers" in what seemed to be a reference to Khrushchev, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and Communist officials attending the U.N. meeting.

The Chief Executive did not mention any foreign leaders by name, but his meaning seemed clear to an audience in the White House rose garden.

The President called for national unity "in these especially troublous times — at least there seem to be troublemakers trying to come to our country."

The President used the "troublemakers" remark in a joking way.

Britain's new foreign secretary, the Earl of Home, said at the White House the most serious problem before the United Nations is the "attempt to bring independent African Nations into the cold war."

Lord Home, talking with newsmen after paying his respects to Eisenhower, did not specifically mention Russian intervention in the Congo crisis.

WOULD BE DISASTROUS

But he said, "It would be disastrous to the African countries if an external power tries to use the situation to promote ideological warfare in Africa.

"It could lead to a situation such as we had in Korea. It could be a dangerous and explosive situation in the world."

The foreign secretary said without elaboration, however, that he hoped the U.N. General Assembly "could get the Congo business out of the way."

Laos Calls for Help Against Reds

Commies Invade North Outposts

U.S. Carrier, Marines in South China Sea May Be Called

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI)—Rival military factions in Laos announced today that the country had been invaded by Communists. One side called on the free world for help.

★ ★ ★

The Red threat increased the possibility that the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) would send aid to the tiny land-locked kingdom.

A U.S. aircraft carrier and combat-ready Marines are on maneuvers in the South China Sea and presumably would be available in an emergency.

News of the invasion was broadcast by the "neutralist" government of Prince Souvanna Phouma for Vientiane — the country's administrative capital — and by a pro-Western revolutionary regime established in Savannakhet by Prince Boun Oum and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

"Now is the time to be united," the broadcast said.

Phouma was reported to have sent word to Boon Oum asking him to fly to the royal capital in Luang Prabang to discuss the situation with King Savang Vathana.

★ ★ ★

Boon Oum, who returned Sunday from Sam Neua Province,a which borders on Communist North Viet Nam, said Laotian army outposts had been attacked by Communist Viet Minh Lao and Viet Minh troops.

"Our country has been invaded by Communists but we have not surrendered," Boon Oum said in a broadcast over Radio Savannakhet.

"Supported by Viet Minh battalions, the enemy is speeding its advance and has joined with subversive elements in the interior of Laos. Other Viet Minh battalions are continuing their march north of our frontier."

★ ★ ★

In the face of this grave menace to the peace of Southeast Asia we make a solemn appeal to all free peoples to help us in our fight against Communist hordes," Boon Oum said.

World Adventure Series Also to Run in Afternoon

BIRMINGHAM — Due to a sell-out, the Birmingham Community House today announced that the Saturday series of World Adventure programs, scheduled originally for evenings only will also be held in the afternoon.

In order to accommodate those unable to get tickets for the evening performance a second series featuring the same speakers and the same films will be held at 3 p.m.

"The afternoon programs will also provide an opportunity for children, especially those 10 years of age and older, to see the travel films and hear noted travelers," said director of the series George Pierrot.

Both the 8 p.m. and 3 p.m. programs at the Community House will be in addition to the regular Sunday afternoon series of World Adventure presented at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The first meeting of the Democratic Club of Birmingham will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Community House.

Local candidates have been invited to the meeting. The public is invited.

Seek More Warrants Against Missing Ritters

While the search continued on many fronts for the missing William B. Ritter family of West Bloomfield Township, authorities were pressing for further warrants against the owners of a Royal Oak nursing home who fled leaving behind a reported $250,000 in debts.

★ ★ ★

Prosecutor George F. Taylor said he planned to confer with an unemployed Royal Oak man, Robert Adsit, tomorrow about signing a warrant against the Ritters charging them with obtaining money under false pretenses.

Taylor said Adsit told him he gave $5,600 to the Ritters after they told him it would be used to purchase equipment for a "new" nursing home, and that if he loaned the money they would give him a job at the home.

★ ★ ★

The FBI, Taylor said, will move against the Ritters on the theory that they fled the state to avoid prosecution.

Missing is Ritter, 45, of 2361 Midpine road, his wife, 44, and their two small children, Byran, 6, and Linda, 5.

The prosecutor believes the Ritters bilked many persons out of a quarter of a million dollars under the pretenses that they were buying a share of the Tower Park Nursing Home, 1607 S. Lafayette St., or the new home the Ritters said they were planning to build.

PART OF THE HOAX

Taylor now believes that a letter Mrs. Ritter wrote their family attorney, saying they were leaving because Ritter had lost some $60,000 gambling, was "all part of a well-calculated hoax."

"They were trying to vindicate their actions," Taylor theorized. "Why would Mrs. Ritter get into it and help fleece these people if she knew her husband was gambling it all away?"

The prosecutor said he was still trying to reach as many persons as possible "who had been taken" by the Ritters.

Meanwhile, the search concentrated in the Baltimore area since Ritter had his bank draft a certified check payable at a Baltimore bank shortly before his disappearance.

However, Royal Canadian Mounted Police were asked to join in the search after officers found copies of a newspaper from Charlottetown, Prince Edward Islands, in the Ritter garage.

Police said it was believed the Ritters have relatives at Charlottetown, in the Canadian Maritime Provinces.

Plane Kills 77 in Guam Crash

Flight Home to U. S. Smashes Into Hill; 17 Survive, 1 Dies Later

AGANA, Guam (AP)—At least 77 persons, most of them American military personnel and their wives and children homeward bound, died today in the thundering explosion and crash of a World Airways transport plane on a jungle-matted hill of this western Pacific island.

Seventeen persons were alive when rescuers got to the twisted shell of the plane but one of them died a few hours later.

The wings were ripped off the giant plane as it plowed a 100-yard path through dense growth on the side of a 640-foot hill called Mt. Barrigada.

There were conflicting theories on what occurred. Some military sources said an explosion blew apart one of the four engines just before the crash. Others said the explosion came on the impact.

Their ovation could not drown out the hoos and cries of "Murderer!" from demonstrators held back by police at some distance from the pier.

Khrushchev smiled and waved from the deck as the ship docked but appeared impatient at the time it took to moor and set up the gangplank.

Scarcely was he ashore than he whipped out a typewritten statement and began to read.

"I am not sure," said Khrushchev, "whether or not I understood correctly the latest decision of the United States government with regard to Mr. Eisenhower, the United States president, taking part in the work of the General Assembly."

The President is scheduled to address the United Nations on Thursday.

"If this does not mean a fancy speech but really constructive participation the work of the assembly, we would welcome such a decision," Khrushchev said.

"The United States have perhaps reappraised their attitude on the assembly meeting and have also come to the conclusion that serious negotiation can be undertaken in the U.N. to reach a disarmament agreement."

Khrushchev said the Soviet delegation was coming to the United States "in the name of consolidating peace and solving complicated international issues."

He termed "the problem of general and complete disarmament under the appropriate strict international control" as the cardinal question of international relationship.

CITES 'EVIL FORCES'

He said "the evil forces who want to poison the atmosphere in relations between our countries will invariably sustain a defeat."

Khrushchev spoke into a public address microphone. He paused after each sentence or two for a translator into English. The complete procedure took 35 minutes.

Other Communist officials also addressed the gathering on the pier.

After the speeches, Khrushchev was sped in a limousine, surrounded by police car escort, to the headquarters of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations, at Park Ave. and 68th St.

The only American officials on hand were members of the State Department staff and security agents. On her way up the harbor, the Baltika did not receive the usual 21-gun salute, accorded craft carrying visiting heads of state, from Army headquarters on Governors Island.

New York longshoremen had chartered an excursion vessel so they could deliver a raucous "unwelcome" to Khrushchev as the Baltika steamed up the harbor, but all except official craft were kept at a distance of 500 feet.

Dry Midwest Gets Welcome Soaking Rainfall

By The Associated Press

After weeks of practically no rain, parched fields over large portions of the Midwest received a dousing Sunday night and early today.

Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin generally received inches of one-half to three-quarters of an inch.

★ ★ ★

At Rockford, Ill., 2.53 inches fell during a six-hour period, and Milwaukee recorded 1.39 inches. Just over the Illinois line at Janesville, Wis., a thunderstorm flooded streets up to the hubcaps of autos and a large section of the city was without electric power.

★ ★ ★

Beloit, Wis., also had a power failure. Considerable thunderstorm damage was reported at Oregon in northern Illinois. Thunderbursts also ranged over southwest Missouri. Amounts of up to nearly an inch fell in the Chicago area.

★ ★ ★

In the East, drizzle and showers were reported from northern Virginia to southeast New York. Showers also fell over New Mexico and Washington.

Nixon to Whip Across Thumb Tuesday

By United Press International

The focus of state politics shifts to the Republican column Tuesday as Vice President Richard M. Nixon stumps across the base of Michigan's thumb in a one-day campaign tour.

The GOP presidential nominee will arrive by air (at 11:45 a.m.) at Selfridge Air Force Base and proceed by motorcade to the new Mount Clemens city offices.

All schools and business in the city will be closed during the visit and the day has been proclaimed "Nixon Day" by Mount Clemens Mayor Harry Fiehl and Clinton Township Supervisor Kenneth Sanborn.

After two noon addresses, Nixon will then proceed to Flint, and make a brief appearance at the Flint School for the Deaf, then deliver a campaign address at the Flint city parking lot.

A motor caravan will take the vice president to the Saginaw-Bay City area in the late afternoon. Mrs. Nixon has scheduled a news conference in Bay City (at 6:30 p.m.) with the women of the press.

She will rejoin her husband in time to hear him deliver an address later that evening at the Bay City Central Stadium.

Nixon will leave the state Wednesday for Fort Wayne, Ind.

Tonight Bagwell will address the "working women for Bagwell" in Detroit's Ford Auditorium. Movie star George Murphy, who handled TV arrangements at the past two Republican conventions, will instruct the women on how to engage in a "talkathon."

The "talkathon" consists of a campaign to have the women talk about Bagwell "to small groups in her own home, to those in her place of employment, to people on buses, and in stores and markets."

Waterford Twp. Board to Consider Two Plats

The only business scheduled for tonight's Waterford Township Board meeting is the reviewing of two subdivision plats, according to Township Clerk James E. Seeterlin.

A request to approve the Lotus Lake Subdivision plat and the Jayno Heights Subdivision plat No. 3 will be considered.

Express Executive Slated as Speaker

The Pontiac Traffic Club will hold its monthly meeting at 6:30 this evening at the Waldron Hotel.

Police Swarm All Over NYC

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Police Department has mobilized its entire 24,000-man force and placed 8,000 men on special bodyguard duty to meet what Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy calls the greatest security challenge in New York's history.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, Hungarian Communist boss Janos Kadar, Yugoslav President Josep Broz Tito, United Arab Republic President Gamal Nasser and a host of other major world figures will all be in New York for the United Nations General Assembly session. Most will be here by tonight.

Any incident would reverberate around the world and the consequences could not be predicted.

To prevent such an incident, Kennedy has issued these orders:

The entire force, equal to two military divisions, has been placed on a 60-hour week instead of the usual 42 for the duration Kennedy said. No one knows how long that will be.

—Eight thousand men, including the cream of the city's riot squads, have been formed into the special security force to guard the delegation headquarters, the hotels where the national leaders will stay, the still-secret routes they will take on trips to and from the United Nations, and any area they visit.

Reinforcements will be ready to rush to any trouble spot.

—High - ranking department officers are on 24-hour call. Kennedy plans to sleep on a cot in his office.

—Extra men have been brought into Manhattan, to which Khrushchev, Kadar, Castro and Albanian Premier Mehmet Shehu have been restricted. At the danger spots—in front of the U.N. building, around the Soviet delegation headquarters on Park Avenue, around Castro's midtown hotel —patrolmen stood through the rainy night in groups, watching every pedestrian.

Forty patrolmen were spread out along the 16 empty blocks fronting the U.N. in the post-midnight hours, but the captain in charge said the U.N. guard detail would be "more like 500" during the day.

In addition there are special State Department guards. The force that normally assumes responsibility for U.N. delegates outside the international territory of the U.N. has been reinforced.

Within the confines of United Nations territory, the safety of Khrushchev and the others is in the hands of U.N. security personnel. This force also has been increased, but the U.N. took a simple expedient to cut down the danger.

No visitors will be allowed inside the glass-walled U.N. headquarters building or anywhere on U.N. property.

Blowout Delays Doctor

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Police said Dr. Richard Rasmussen was delayed on an emergency call when a firecracker exploded under his car, blowing out a front tire. A patrol car took the doctor to the hospital.

HOW IT WORKS — Electro Lane, a device to warn motorists when they're too close to pavement edge or centerline, is undergoing full-scale tests at General Motors Proving Ground, Milford. Developed by GM Research Laboratories, experimental device (top) is mounted over instrument panel in front of driver who can receive visible, audible — or both — warnings if car veers off electrical "path" of wire in pavement. Lower right photo shows ferrite core coils on front bumper which pick up electrical signals from wire in center of lane. Lower left photo shows compact transistorized receiver package that goes in car (left) and oscillator unit which sends out low frequency (2 kilocycle) signals from road (right).

Averts 'Walkout' at Southern Michigan Prison

JACKSON (AP) — A strike by convict auto license plates makers was threatened momentarily at Southern Michigan State Prison today.

However, officials reported that Warden William H. Bannan took firm charge and trouble was averted. The big prison has about 4,000 inmates behind its walls.

About 120 convicts assigned to the license plate manufacture in the stamping plant, a prison industry, refused to work when they appeared at their jobs.

Highway Warning Developed by GM

MILFORD — Electro Lane, an experimental device that visibly or audibly warns a motorist when he's too close to the pavement edge or centerline, will be put to practical use at General Motors Proving Grounds at Milford.

Somewhat comparable to the "beam" by which aircraft pilots keep course from one airport to another, Electro Lane was developed by Electronics and Instrumentation Department of GM Research Laboratories. Jan. 13, GM Research demonstrated it to the Highway Research Board, Washington, D.C.

This will be its first realistic test on vehicles using GM Proving Grounds' 4-mile ride and handling loop which resembles a conventional two-lane highway. In the center of each lane is a wire in the pavement radiating low frequency (two kilocycle) power.

Intensity of the light is proportional to deviation toward that side. In addition, the signal from either side or pickup coil is applied to a network that feeds a speaker only after a preset level is reached. Thus, a driver will be alerted by light or sound, or both, if he is too far toward the right pavement edge or toward the left roadway centerline.

Louis C. Lundstrom, director of GM Proving Grounds, wants to determine the success of the device in warning his drivers of fatigue or drowsiness. This is a problem even with some experienced, expert test drivers, just as it is with many motorists on public highways.

Albert F. Welch, head of GM research Laboratories Electronics and Instrumentation Department, said the proving grounds installation will give engineers valuable experience with the device similar to a public road system.

★ ★ ★

If Electro Lane proves successful on the 4-mile ride and handling loop, which consists of assorted road surfaces, it will be considered for other roads of the Proving Grounds' 65-mile system.

Shouldn't Allow K Out of U.N.—Wiley

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., today called Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev an "unwelcome guest" and said if he had his way, the Russian would not be allowed outside the United Nations building.

★ ★ ★

Wiley, top Republican member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, predicted that the U. N. General Assembly session opening tomorrow could well be "one of the most explosive" in its 15-year history.

★ ★ ★

The senator speculated that Khrushchev could have several "motives" for desiring to attend the session.

Oldster's Answer to Car License Refusal? Attack

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Carl W. Bright, 74, admits he got mad when the state drivers license bureau denied him a license after he had driven cars since 1920.

★ ★ ★

But officers decided that was no excuse for his three subsequent visits to the bureau's parking lot where he scattered hundreds of carpet tacks that punctured tires on many cars.

★ ★ ★

The retired railroad fireman was booked for malicious mischief.

★ ★ ★

It has been estimated that 400,000 persons heard an address by President Grover Cleveland when he officially opened the World's fair exposition in Chicago in May 1893.

Trans-Canada Stretch Part of Long Highway

WAWA, Ont. (AP)—A major link in the Trans-Canada Highway opened Saturday. And this tiny northern iron-mining community grinned proudly at an accidental honor.

The community, about 105 miles northwest of Sault Ste. Marie, was host to Ontario and federal government officials and guests from Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

The 165-mile section of Trans-Canada Highway 17—built under standards set by a 1956 federal-provincial agreement—was the work of 3,000 men and 83 contractors.

The $40 million Agawa River-Marathon Highway section is a link in Ontario's $214 million part of the countrywide project that eventually will form 5,000 miles of continuous highway, the world's longest.

★ ★ ★

Survey crews and engineers faced almost inaccessible country along the northern shore of Lake Superior. In the early stages some crews had to get to working areas by boat up the lake shore.

★ ★ ★

Aircraft and boats were used to take supplies to field camps.

Gargantuan tasks faced crews from the initial clearing. North of the Agawa River for five miles as much as 70,000 cubic yards of rock were blown from single cuts.

Some cuts were 300 to 600 feet long and 55 to 60 feet deep. One hillside has a 75-foot drilled face. Twenty-five bridges were built.

The new road is a double-lane and asphalt-paved with a maximum grade of 7 per cent despite elevations reaching 15,538 feet above sea level.

Which Would You Be: Liberal, Conservative?

Some of our citizens seem to have the impression that to be a "liberal" is all the rage and that to be a "conservative" is obsolete. Politicians are prone to shy away from the "conservative" tag, even though they may think it, because of the poor image it would create in the voter's mind.

One recent example to the contrary is Barry Goldwater, Senator from Arizona who is very proud of the tag. In fact, he used it to be elected in Arizona against all the opposition Walter Reuther could muster.

Needless to say, the two terms do bring forth some interesting facts. Such as the Gallup Poll in which voters were asked which they would consider themselves "liberals" or "conservatives" if we had parties by those names.

It's hard to believe but 56 per cent didn't know what a liberal or conservative was. Where have they been?

The brighter 44 per cent were tabulated: Of these 51 per cent said they were conservatives and 49 per cent liberals. The breakdown geographically was interesting. Only in the Northwest did the liberals outnumber the conservatives, 58 per cent to 42.

The booming South was "conservative," 55 per cent to 45 per cent. The growing Midwest was 58 per cent conservative. And the rapidly expanding far West was evenly divided.

This pretty well disposes of the notion that the liberals are found among the active, up-to-the-minute citizens and that the conservatives are the mossbacks.

Why haven't these figures been reflected lately in the elections? Perhaps it is because both parties have overestimated the popularity of the liberal label and too often the choice has been between a liberal Republican and a liberal Democrat, in which case the voters had to make up their minds on the basis of other factors.

New Power for France Planned by De Gaulle

That Gen. DE GAULLE is an expert heckler of his Allies is all too well known. Just when Western unity is most vital, DE GAULLE is stepping up his campaign to revamp the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

The President of France complains that "everything is commanded by Americans" and he hopes that the alliance will be reorganized on a more nationalistic basis. While he urges united action, he wants it with a minimum sacrifice of national sovereignty for France. But how can there be more unity and more nationalism at the same time?

★ ★ ★

In withdrawing French forces from NATO command and demanding withdrawal of atomic arms from French soil unless under French control, the General emphasizes not Western unity but separate national forces under separate commands. Pressured by DE GAULLE, the atomic arms were transferred to Britain.

★ ★ ★

Referring to the six nation European Common Market Gen. DE GAULLE also stressed nationalism while advocating greater economic unity. He envisages a confederation of a "Europe of Nations" preserving national sovereignties but insuring cooperation in the fields of politics, defense, economics and culture.

Pres. DE GAULLE's proposals are predicated on French-German collaboration in establishing a cooperative Europe which would have a voice in the NATO directorate equal to that of the United States and would rival what he loftily terms the "so-called United Nations."

Neither the U.S. nor Britain is likely to be keen on the idea of downgrading the U.N. nor of building up a more influential France out of all proportion to its actual strength.

"THE best things in life are free"—but not much enjoyment can be derived from them without mixing a lot of expensive things with them.

"THE next President should be a chess player," says a columnist. But in the tough world of today, wouldn't it be better for him to be expert in playing la crosse and ice hockey?

Going After Oil

But May Have to Settle for Salt in Operations

Procrastination: What can beat you out of $300 in our football contest.

Drilling continues at two points in Oakland County, where efforts are being made to strike oil or gas. One is between Lakeville and Leonard, the other near Holly.

At the former named site, on the Elmer Young farm, the pipe has reached a depth of around 4,500 feet. Hopes there are accented because the "black gold" has recently been found in paying quantities only a few miles away, in an adjoining county.

Near Holly, on the farm of Milton Nelson, the drilling is close to the 4,800-foot mark, but with no signs of profitable oil.

If the "geological slant" gets deeper, as the experts claim, as it approaches the east side of the state, no gushers are anticipated until the pipe goes far below the 6,000-foot mark.

That was the depth reached when the last attempt at finding oil in the Pontiac area was abandoned a few years go. This was in Springfield Township, much nearer to Pontiac than either of the present projects.

At that time a strata of salt brine a few hundred feet thick was encountered around the 3,000-foot level. It has been proposed, if the oil attempts fail, it may be possible to utilize these salt deposits as those which underlie Detroit.

All entries in our football contest must be received by Friday noon of THIS week. Your whole family is eligible to compete. Better attend to it now, and not lose your chance on that prize of $300. Good pay for a minute's time, isn't it? Or would you rather see your neighbor win it? It's all up to YOU.

Pleads for Help to Restore Oakland County Landmark

The Oakland County Historical Society has an opportunity to be of constructive service to the circular Shenandoah barn in West Bloomfield Township.

It is hoped that the society will actively help in preserving and putting to effective use this unusual and interesting structure before another of our historic landmarks is lost to posterity. In a monotonous world of ranch houses and acres of concrete it behooves us to maintain evidences of days when life was less hectic.

Oakland County has considerable historical material worthy of preservation for the encouragement of tourism and the enjoyment and edification of our citizens. These things will not be preserved, however, unless the County Historical Society awakes out of a prolonged nap, takes its job seriously and encourages the people of Oakland County to adequately support a worthwhile program.

If this statement sounds harsh, it is because the county society is unknown to the public and apparently does nothing to warrant its attention or that of the State Historical Society. Furthermore, as a member of the Architectural Committee of the state organization, I have attempted to be helpful to our county society, but have never succeeded in even rippling the surface enough to get a reply. Consequently this letter is being made public.

Let us preserve the Shenandoah barn along with other things of historic interest and architectural worth; let Oakland County not be outdone by many of Michigan's "lesser" counties in recognizing the value of our local history.

Ask Observance of 'Constitution Week'

The week of September 17th to the 23rd marks the 173rd anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States by Constitutional Convention.

★ ★ ★

As this nation has prospered for nearly a century and three-quarters under this unique and magnificent document, this week has been proclaimed by Mayor Philip E. Rowden as "Constitution Week," and its observance is urged by the study of the rights and benefits guaranteed citizens by the Constitution; the display of flags; and other patriotic activities.

Governor Williams and President Eisenhower have also issued similar proclamations on state and national level.

David Lawrence Says:

Let's Refuse K a Network Soapbox

WASHINGTON — Impressed by what television and radio did for him on his last visit to the United States, Nikita Khrushchev is anxious to use America's broadcasting facilities again to try to put over his propaganda to millions of listeners in this country. Will he succeed?

LAWRENCE

There are indications he will fail. (The three major television networks indicated Sunday that he will be blacked out of their main interview programs. The Mutual Broadcasting System, however, has issued an invitation to the Russian chief of state for a radio broadcast.)

The Moscow government has published in English a book that has just reached Washington which exults over the propaganda gains the Communists achieved while Khrushchev was here a year ago.

After going through the usual tirades and distortions about the "warmongering" and the "befogging of men's minds" that allegedly goes on over the television and radio in this country, the book says:

"And yet in the history of American television there will always remain 13 bright days when the intent blue eyes of television cameras with their electronic power of vision tirelessly followed Khrushchev's tour of the United States.

"Americans have to thank television for the fact that not just a few dozen fortunate journalists out of the hundreds who accompanied Khrushchev on his tour were able to keep in close touch with him, but also tens of millions of Americans sitting in front of their television sets.

"To the specific nature of television Americans owe the fact that the great ideas of Khrushchev's tour reached them in their true shape and not distorted in the crooked mirror of the tendentious press. . . .

"It would be naive to suspect America's television bosses of being exceptionally objective. They simply could not ignore the demands of millions of American viewers.

'SOUGHT PROFITS'

"Their desire to outrun and outshoot their competitors, and to make money, often forced other considerations into the background. But, of course, they did not fully foresee what they had committed themselves to. . . .

"Khrushchev's speeches in America may be said to have given birth to an entirely new form of publicistic activity based on the techniques of the atomic age, and as different from the traditions of publicistic writing as it is from those of political speeches.

"We have in mind free television debates in which many millions of viewers can watch ideological clashes between the main forces of the Communist ideology and the main forces of the ideology of capitalism. . . .

"By the magic of television it came about that for 13 days nearly every American home had a Communist guest who did not hide his views and intentions in the face of all America, and of the whole world. . . .

"For tens of millions of Americans, television became in those days a school of social thought, an unforgettable university."

The Soviet ruler tricked the United States President into receiving him as a guest by giving a false promise that President Eisenhower would be able to go to the Soviet Union and speak on television and radio to the Soviet people.

But when the time came to make good on that promise the Soviet dictator welched on it. He trumped up an excuse about U2 flights which he admitted later he had known about for four years.

Dr. William Brady Says:

It Takes a Long Time to Undo Likker Poison

A frequent query in the mail: How long does it take to get the alcohol, the nicotine, the heroin or the barbiturate out of the system?

It is not significant, but probably all of the alcohol, nicotine (if any), heroin (diacetylmorphine) or barbiturate is out of the system within 24 hours after the last dose was taken. But it may take 24 days, weeks or months to repair the damage the poison has done — if the damage is repairable.

So getting the poison out of the system is the least essential part of the treatment of poisoning by or addiction to a narcotic.

In a news magazine a month or two ago, a science writer described the extraordinarily successful method of treatment employed by a specialist for alcoholism.

The important part of it is the administration of an optimal daily ration of vitamins and minerals — that is two or three times as much as a healthy person requires and the alcoholic generally does not get in his or her narrow diet.

From the language of the science writer, one might infer that this was a novel idea.

In a book titled Nutrition and Alcoholism, by Roger J. Williams, the author, a distinguished biological chemist, the discoverer of one of the B vitamins (pantothenic acid) and codiscoverer of another (folic acid), reports that physicians in eight different localities in the United States have found treatment of alcoholics along this line most satisfactory.

The author makes another observation which reminds me of the writings of Dr. Brady: "It is obviously necessary for the person being treated to avoid deficiency continuously throughout life. It will do no good to recover temporarily from the tendency toward alcoholism and then slip back to the deficient state."

Here I must drag in once more the periodic drinker I first introduced in a booklet Dipsomania which I prepared some time ago for distribution to readers but was compelled to withdraw.

Said the periodic drinker, in a sober interval: "At times I drink to excess because I feel the need of a stimulant, or rather I just want to feel better . . ."

Of course alcohol in any dose is not a stimulant, but a narcotic. The victim craves it not because it will make him feel better but because for half an hour or so it will make him less conscious of how he feels, less aware of his inferiority.

A stimulant increases or improves bodily function. Alcohol depresses every function, from the first to the last. No physiologist or physician of standing will dispute this.

Although the periodic drinker expressed it as "need of a stimulant," what he meant, obviously, was that he wanted to be unaware of his weakness or failure, unconscious of his poor health, unpoliced by his conscience or unashamed of his wretched conduct. A shot of liquor or several shots will do it any time — though of course only for an hour or less.

Signed letters and more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

'Reasons' Are Often 'Excuses'

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE F-473: Lena J., aged 29, has been married for 7 years.

"Dr. Crane, my husband is growing irritable because we don't have any children," she began.

"But with missiles and rockets and threats of more wars, I think the world is too unsettled, so I hesitate to bring a baby into existence.

"I don't think DR. CRANE I'd consider it a favor, if I were a baby, to be born into this world under present conditions."

STALLING

In "Business Phychology" we distinguish between a customer's "excuses" versus his "reasons" or logical objections.

The latter should be carefully answered during the sales transaction, whereas it is better to ignore the excuses.

Lena's so-called objections to bearing babies are simply excuses. She is trying to rationalize. She is just stalling.

Her real objections are either the fear that she might die in child birth, or that she will lose her girlish figure.

Or maybe she thinks her husband will divert a large portion of his attention and affection to the baby, or that she will be tied down to her home after she becomes a mother.

She doubtless dislikes the thought of childbirth and the nine months of pregnancy, as any normal woman might.

A PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE

But all desirable things in life have a price. I am fond of designating such charges as "tuition" for that's what students pay to obtain a college education.

★ ★ ★

This planet Earth is simply an experimental laboratory or huge schoolroom.

We have our holidays and good times, but there are fundamental lessons that we must learn and home work problems we should solve.

Wives, like Lena, however, simply want the holidays to become permanent. They wish to avoid the hard problems. They are juvenile in their attitude.

In weak moments, we all might wish we could have perfect teeth without the trouble of brushing them regularly.

Or that we might become great pianists or violinists without the long hours of tedious practice.

But there is no royal road to learning or to happiness. Every reward in life demands a price. So we might as well develop the proper philosophy.

BABIES ARE DESIRABLE

If a young married couple are not sterile, or eugenically defective, they should certainly have some children.

Babies extrovert the attention of their parents and make them far more unselfish.

The parents thus become better citizens, interested in schools, civic affairs and other worthy projects.

Children also give their parents more education than you'd receive in four years of college.

And they are excellent divorce insurance, for they broaden your perspective and stabilize your emotional life.

Childbirth isn't a very painful process any more and is not fraught with great danger.

Send for my bulletin, "Facts About Pregnancy," enclosing 20 cents, (non-prepaid) and a stamped return envelope.

Set your goal at 2 children as a minimum and start your family by the 2nd year of marriage.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing and send 25c for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Maybe, Say Moonwatchers

Another Red Satellite?

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Trinity University's moonwatch team reported sighting what it said may be a new Soviet stellite Sunday night.

★ ★ ★

A university spokesman said the object was spotted north of San Antonio moving from south-southwest to north-northeast—a course much the same as other Soviet sattelites.

★ ★ ★

Members of the San Antonio team speculated the Soivets may have sent up another space vehicle to coincide with Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United Nations.

Abducts, Beats Girl Who Rejected Love

DETROIT (UPI) — An ex-convict, rejected by his former girl friend, was held today on charges of abducting her, beating her with a pistol and wrench and leaving her in a hospital driveway early Sunday.

Carl Emmet Prichard, 28, was arrested at his Dearborn home and held in Wayne County Jail for investigation of kidnaping and attempted murder.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said Prichard told them: "I tried to kill her because she broke up with me."

Q. Do you think it is right and humane for stray dogs to be killed? R.S.M. of Beloit, Ohio.

A. It is impossible to give a direct yes or no to this question. When children are injured, or worse, by wild packs of dogs that cannot be apprehended, you know the answer. Thoughtless humans who abandon puppies in our outlying districts should be apprehended too.

* * *

Our humane societies are more than willing to seek homes for abandoned or lost dogs. When homeless animals are forced to revert to their original wild state of killing for food, and battling the elements for survival, the stray dog menace is understandable.

The temperament of the average house-dog compared to his wild brother is often unrecognizable. There are times when it is necessary to kill a stray dog in self-defense, but there are others who wander to our back doors and become lifelong friends.

Wild dogs that travel in packs are often mean, unhealthy and high strung. Rather than subject our children to injury, or prolong the suffering of these animals who are too aggressive to be caught, it is far wiser to eliminate them.

Promiscuous killing of the lonely, stray dog is certainly not humane. Unless an emergency demands such action, the decision should be made only by your local humane society or dog catchers.

Bernstein Builds $100 Backstop for His Music

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Leonard Bernstein decided not to wait for a projected $750,000 remodeling job—he paid for a new top on the stage of Memorial Auditorium here.

The famed director of the New York Philharmonic, in town for a concert with the orchestra, heard that music usually disappeared into the high reaches of backstage.

"Let's go out and build a baffle," said Bernstein Friday. "All it takes is a little canvas and plywood. I'll pay for it myself."

He estimated it cost $100. The music went out to the audience instead of up.

State Guardsmen Celebrate Call of 20 Years Ago

LANSING (AP)—Michigan National Guardsmen this week celebrate the 20th anniversary of their call to arms shortly before they entered World War II.

Within a few months of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's order to mobilize, 8,026 Michigan soldiers were sent into federal service.

Michigan units in the 32nd Division were among the first to contact the enemy in the South Pacific. The division later was cited by Gen. Douglas MacArthur for its performance there.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style salts and mineralocs may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs wrench and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new Colonaid gives you its special 1-2-3 relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) Colonaid moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) Colonaid's unequalled rebuilding action helps restore flabby colon muscles. (3) And Colonaid acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

Colonaid relieves even chronic constipation overnight, is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And Colonaid won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get Colonaid today! Introductory size 49¢.

You can't vote if you're not registered

When you have a telephone installed, they put your name in the telephone book.

But you and only you—can get your name in the most important book of all—the roll of Registered Voters of your precinct—the "Election Book."

And if you're not in the book, you ought to be.

You don't even have the right to complain —unless you're registered and vote.

So don't cut yourself out of this year's key elections. Get your name in the book. A lot of your friends and neighbors are already listed there. If you know of one who isn't, take him with you when you go to register on this "Roll of Honor" of Americans. And then—we'll see you at the polls!

IF YOU'VE MARRIED, MOVED, OR COME OF AGE SINCE THE LAST ELECTION... read this

BRIDES! Even if you had previously registered under your maiden name, you have to register again under your "new" name. Be sure your "married name" is in the book!

MOVERS! If you have moved from the precinct where you were previously registered, you have to register again. Make sure your new address is in the book!

FIRST VOTERS! If you have celebrated your 21st birthday since the last election (or if you will be 21 by Election Day), get your name in the book.

Friendship Tea Held by Business Women

Pontiac Press Photos

American Business Woman's Association members observed their Hand of Friendship Tea at the Pontiac Country Club Sunday. Gathered at the refreshment table (from left), Mrs. Donald Lunsford, association Vice President Ruth Cramer, Mrs. John House and Mrs. Cyril Borst were photographed happily chatting about the day's festivities.

The Pontiac Country Club opened its doors to American Business Women's Association members for their Hand of Friendship Tea Sunday. Mrs. Carroll Welch and Mrs. Ben Eibling were cochairmen for the annual affair.

Mrs. D. Richard Veazey was commentator for a "Facts and Fashions" style show which presented benefits, aims and purposes of ABWA. Mrs. Earl Atkinson presented fashions from her shop correlating to various events of the past year. Models were Mrs. Walter Bendig Jr., Joanne Callahan, Miss Cramer, Maxine Davison, Mrs. Stephen Gibbs, Mrs. John House and Mrs. Charles Irish.

Highlighting the afternoon was announcement of the 1960 "Woman of the Year" title. Mrs. LeRoy Weston presented the award to Julie O'Brien. Active in the General Motors Girls Club and The Pontiac Symphony, Miss O'Brien is also a former member of Pontiac Women's Chorus. While employed at Pontiac Central High School, she served as president of the Pontiac Educational Secretaries Association. She has done volunteer work at Pontiac General Hospital and recently was elected queen of the Pontiac Motor Division engineering department where she is employed as a secretary.

As Tipacon Chapter's "Woman of the Year," Miss O'Brien has become a candidate for the national title American Business Woman of the Year, to be announced at the national convention Oct. 21-23 at Indianapolis.

ABWA was founded in Kansas City, Mo., in 1949 and has 230 chapters in 45 states with a membership of over 13,000. The organization is an educational association which encourages increased opportunities for business women.

Approximately $40,000 was provided by the association for scholarships to deserving women throughout the country this past year. Tipacon Chapter currently sponsors a scholarship for Mary Welsh who attends Michigan State University Oakland.

Guests were Gloria Buck, Mrs. Joseph Casey, Gladys Dixon, Sue Eckley, Mrs. Donald Gerber, Mrs. Arthur Kinney, Mrs. Edward Komoroski, Mrs. James Luttman, Mrs. M. J. McGrath and Mrs. Earl Nye.

Also attending as guests were Mrs. Ward O'Brien, Mrs. Eddie O'Brien, Tina Palmer, Mrs. R. Heath Reeves, Jacqueline Robinson, Mrs. W. H. Russell and Marjorie Salisbury.

Completing the list were Peggy Schons, Ruby Shelton, Mrs. Frank Syron, Mrs. Percy Thompson, Mrs. Maud Vackaro and Lois Tucker.

Named Woman of the Year by the Tipacon Chapter, American Business Women's Association, at Sunday's tea was Julie O'Brien (right) who accepted the award from Mrs. LeRoy Weston.

Mrs. Weston is pictured congratulating Miss O'Brien who is now a candidate for the national title, American Business Woman of the Year.

Hadassah Chooses 1st Foreign-Born

NEW YORK (AP)—A trim, attractive grandmother who has spent a good part of her life helping victims of oppression is the new president of Hadassah, the first woman not reared in this country to hold the high office.

The Women's Zionist Organization of America, which has a membership of 318,000, elected Lola Kramarsky on Sept. 14.

She says: 'I can never forget this date. It was on Sept. 14, in 1923, that my husband, my little girl and I left Germany for The Netherlands. That was 10 years before Hitler came to power, but my husband felt what was coming — that Germany would no longer be any place for Jews to live."

Her husband, Siegfried, is a banker, now retired.

Mrs. Kramarsky was born in Hamburg, Germany, and very early fell under the influence of the Zionist movement. She was a friend of Dr. Chaim Weizmann, Zionist leader and later Israel's first president.

Her father, a well-to-do importer, disapproved of the whole thing. "He thought I was keeping company with subversive people," she recalls with a smile.

DREAM REALIZED

She says she never thought in those days that Israel would become a reality in her lifetime. Certainly it seemed very far away in The Netherlands where she and her husband, after 1933, worked day and night with the refugees flooding across the border from Nazi Germany.

★ ★ ★

Shortly before The Netherlands was invaded in 1939 they got permits to go to Canada. The family spent six weeks in Lisbon before they were able to get both ship passage and a transit visa through the United States to Canada. Dr. Weizmann left Portugal with them.

By 1940 the Kramarskys were able to enter the United States. And within a year a friend on Hadassah's board had interested her in the organization. "I have worked for Hadassah every day since," she says.

She and her husband live in a Manhattan apartment.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Lynne Benter will return Wednesday to Michigan State University for her junior year. She has been appointed resident adviser at East Landon Dormitory. Her sorority is Alpha Gamma Delta.

★ ★ ★

David Tarr, formerly of Pontiac, now of Ann Arbor, will be returning to the Univeristy of Michigan as a graduate student in journalism.

Lock Up Personal Matters

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I would very much appreciate your telling me how to handle the following situation: About six months ago an elderly aunt of my husband came to live with us. We have gotten on very well together and she has been wonderful about staying with the children when my husband and I go out.

However, I have good proof that she is "curious" while we are out and has looked through private matters, such as bank statements, bills, letters, etc.

I am sure it is just harmless curiosity, but nevertheless I do not like her prying into our personal things. Is there a tactful way to handle this situation without causing hurt feelings?

Answer: You could put all the personal things that you do not wish her to pry into in a drawer that you can lock, and keep it locked at all times.

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter underwent a very serious operation and because she could not attend school for several months, the board of education sent a tutor to help her with her studies. She did a wonderful job in teaching her and through her efforts my daughter will be able to graduate with her classmates.

I would like to know in what manner I can show my appreciation to her. I thought of giving her a check. Would this be proper?

Answer: Although she most surely could use a check, your giving her one might offend her. It will be better to ask her if there is something she would especially like to have that you can give her to show your appreciation of her helpfulness to your daughter.

Dear Mrs. Post: When eating at a lunch counter, is it proper to ask a person who is sitting with an empty seat on either side of him to move over so that two friends may sit together?

Answer: If he has not yet been served you may ask him if he would mind moving over to the next seat, but not if he has his lunch in front of him.

Ex-Resident Is Librarian for Ingham

Former Pontiac resident Mrs. David Donaldson has been appointed Ingham County librarian at Mason where she resides with her husband and son Stuart on North Edgar Road.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fleming of Cottage Street, Mrs. Donaldson is a Western Michigan University graduate and worked at the Pontiac City Library under Miss Adah Shelly, former city librarian.

Mrs. Donaldson has served on the staff of the Birmingham Public Library, was assistant librarian in Van Buren County and was director of the bookmobile division of the Kalamazoo County Library before going to Ingham County.

Group 4 Feted at Luncheon

Seventeen members of Group 4, Order of the Eastern Star, were luncheon guests of Mrs. Ethel Holdridge in Flint on Thursday. Mrs. Ralph Six was cohostess. Mrs. H. B. Dickie joined the group as a guest.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Cecil Diehl was elected president; Mrs. John Bailey, vice president; Mrs. Ray Haerter, secretary; Mrs. Bryce Rockwell, treasurer; and Mrs. William Coleman, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Thomas Webb is flower and card chairman.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Maud Hooper of Cooley Lake Road.

Chorus to Gather

The Waterford Civic Chorus will meet this evening in the music room of the high school at 7:30. Auditions will be held for new members.

Sorority Plans Auction

Members of Xi Beta Beta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority were introduced to the 'Festival of Life' by program chairman, Mrs. Martain Barnhart, at the September social meeting in Hotel Waldron.

The miracle of the senses of hearing, sight, smell and touch was explained.

A delegation will attend the state convention in Detroit in October and plan a trip to the Detroit Institute of Art.

"It won't be long now!" The George Scheppelmanns of Mt. Clemens Street look over the airline tickets they will use Wednesday on the first leg of a trip to Germany where they'll visit for a month with two sisters Mr. Scheppelmann has not seen for 37 years.

Couple to See Kin in Germany After 37 Years

Wednesday, Sept. 21 — the 4:30 p.m. flight of an airliner from Detroit's Metropolitan Airport en route to Germany, sounds pretty routine.

Mr. and Mrs. George Scheppelmann of Mt. Clemens Street will be on board the European-bound craft to be reunited with two sisters Mr. Scheppelmann has not seen since 1923: Mrs. Fritz Feuerhack of Arenfelde-Holst and Mrs. Erwin Wareh of Wetter Ruhr, both in the British zone.

★ ★ ★

The 37 lonely years separating the Pontiac Motor Division maintenance department employe and his sisters at one time were fraught with fear when for nearly four years during turbulent World War II days contact with the family abroad was completely lost. Six months after the war Mr. Scheppelmann received word that his mother had died, but the rest of the family was in good health.

★ ★ ★

An active couple with many interests, the Scheppelmanns are members of the city's German Club, located on Auburn Avenue, and St. Luke Methodist Church. Mrs. Scheppelmann spends her leisure hours weaving rugs and collecting china. Her husband is engrossed with a fascinating antique gun collection which includes cavalry rifles, an 1864 cavalry carbine and a near 100-year-old German Schutzen rifle.

During their month-long visit Mr. and Mrs. Scheppelmann also will spend time in Denmark, Switzerland and Austria.

Abby Says: Have Patience

Son's Wife Should Pray

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law won't call me "Ma" like my son does. She made it clear to me that she already has a mother.

(I also have a mother but I call my mother-in-law "Ma" and I don't love my own mother any the less for it.)

ABBY

My daughter-in-law never misses Sunday morning Mass, and she calls herself a good Christian, but she tells my son that "old country" people make her nervous, and she doesn't want their kiddies spending too much time around us because they might pick up our foreign accent.

How can you knock the chip off the shoulder of a girl like that? "MA"

DEAR "MA": You can't—but maybe when she kneels to pray one day it will fall off by itself.

DEAR ABBY: We five children are planning a big party to celebrate our parents' 30th wedding anniversary. We rented a hall, hired the musicians and sold quite a few tickets. This is our problem. Our grandfather died yesterday and we had to tell our parents about this party we were planning.

As it would be a great loss of money to us, they told us to go ahead with our plans. Now the family says it wouldn't be proper for them to attend such a party so soon after grandpa's death. Should we call it off or go ahead with our plans?

THE CHILDREN

DEAR CHILDREN: Call off the party.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: A young lady is going steady with a young man. He has invited her to visit his parents out of state for a week. They plan to drive alone. The trip will require an overnight stop. I say it doesn't look right and may start gossip. Perhaps I am old-fashioned, but it would be helpful to hear your opinion.

"OLD-FASHIONED"

DEAR "OLD-FASHIONED": A young couple "going steady" shouldn't take an overnight trip together unchaperoned.

DEAR ABBY: I have a few words for "Sick of Shoes":

You think you have something to complain about? My husband swears like a parrot, smokes like a furnace and lies like a rug. He never picks up his dirty clothes, drops ashes all over the house and I don't even know how much money he makes. He leaves his shoes in the living room, too. You should get down on your knees and thank the Lord for a man like yours. SICK OF MEN

Garden Group Opens Season, Plans Projects

Sylvan Manor Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, opened its second season Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. William Frankenfield. Mrs. Fred Rider assisted the hostess.

Mrs. John Gibson, first vice president, conducted the meeting, at which a planting in the new Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church was approved and Christmas projects were discussed.

Mrs. H. Maynard of Royal Oak, speaking on "Iris and Day Lilies" brought samples of iris roots and demonstrated planting, separating and crossbreeding.

At the next meeting, Mrs. Clark McPhail will report suggestions from convalescent or orphanage homes as to how the club can best serve them.

Don't Brush Fur

(UPI) — Never use a brush or a comb on your furs. To freshen their appearance, just fluff them by shaking them vigorously.

To Open Fall

Pine Lake Art Club members will open the fall season at a luncheon Wednesday in the Rotunda Inn.

Mrs. Elmer Janes will instruct classes beginning Oct. 14 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the basement of the West Bloomfield Township Hall.

Omega Alpha Plans Fashion, Card Evening

The Alicia Bridal Shop and the De 'Cor Shop will show "Fascinating Fashions" at the event.

Wed at Waterford

Trip East on Honeymoon

Touring the Adirondack Mountains this week are Theodore Luzenske Jr. of Saginaw, and his bride, the former Sally Ann Purcell of Drayton Plains, who were wed Saturday evening in Waterford Community Church.

★ ★ ★

Tall candelabra and potted palms formed a background for baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli where the Rev. Robert Winne read the service.

Attendants in moss green peau de soie wore matching Dior head bows and held crescents of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums, wood roses and wheat.

Flowers for honor maid Myrna Frizzle of Drayton Plains featured gold Fuji chrysanthemums. Mrs. Charles Rachor and Katherine Woodbury of Flint, served as bridesmaids with Mrs. Donald Tobias of Cleveland.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Luzenske of Saginaw, the bridegroom was attended by John Otter, best man. Albert David, John Bales and Richard Bell ushered. All are of Saginaw.

MRS. T. LUZENSKE JR.

also attended Central Michigan University where her husband received his degree. His fraternity is Delta Sigma Phi.

★ ★ ★

Some Helpful Tips

Preserve That Bouquet

This is the season of flowers. Gardens are lit up with bright blooms and if you're lucky enough to have your own garden or have friends who do, vases around the house are filled with its colorful harvest. Unfortunately, once in the house, their lives are all too short. Here are a few tips that should help keep your picked posies fresh and blooming longer.

DON'T TEAR IT

Never tear a flower from a plant. Make a clean cut with a good stout pair of shears. Never leave the stems out of water for more than a few minutes. It's best if you have a pail of cold water in the garden with you and plunge the blooms in as soon as they're picked. More flowers wilt as a result of the first few minutes of neglect than one would expect.

Cutting should be done early in the morning or late in the afternoon, never at midday nor in the wind. Don't submerge any more leaves than necessary for they soon decay and induce wilting. Each day, cut the ends of the flower stalks and do the cutting under water. The old ends tend to heal and cut off water entrance.

A clean vase is another must. Simply giving flowers fresh water each day isn't enough. You can either fill vase with water, add some soda bicarbonate and let soak while you're clipping the stems, or you can wipe out the interior of the vase with dry soda applied with a damp sponge.

The soda not only cleans thoroughly . . . removing that slithery film from around the sides of the vase . . . but it removes all traces of odor. And don't overlook the frogs, if you use them. The simplest method here is, to apply soda dry with a long, stiff-bristled brush.

Karen Anne Clark Weds Navy Man in Birmingham

Dr. Glenn Harris officiated at the nuptials of Birmingham residents Karen Anne Clark and Fireman Appren. David A. York, USN, Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

The Orrin Clarks of Birmingham, parents of the bride were hosts at a reception in the URW Hall, Pontiac, following the double-ring ceremony.

Fashioned of bouquet taffeta, the bridal gown featured an embroidered plastron on the ballerina-length skirt. Petals of a self-embroidered lily extended over the scoop neckline of the tightly fitted bodice which extended into wrist-point sleeves.

Imported silk illusion veiling fell from a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones. Ivy foliage and white carnations were arranged in the bride's cascade.

Honor maid Patricia Pare of Birmingham and the bride's sister Sharon, appeared in light blue satin styled with scoop necklines and bell skirts. Sharon carried pink carnations. Pink roses were included in the honor attendant's bouquet.

Robert York stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Archie York of Birmingham. Daniel Folkrod of Grosse Pointe Shores and Michael Morrissey of Pontiac ushered.

Mother of the bride appeared in Royal blue chiffon to which she pinned white carnations and red miniature roses. Mrs. York, in old rose Chantilly lace sheath dress, wore white cymbidium orchids.

After a Northern Michigan honeymoon, the couple will live in Norfolk, Va.

The Rev. Robert Moreland of Eastminster Presbyterian Church in East Lansing performed the ceremony.

Parents of the couple, the Harold Porters of Lansing and the Ferd Andersons of Milwaukee,

MRS. RONALD A. ANDERSON

Wis., received some 200 guests at the church reception.

The bride's ballerina-length dress of white Alencon lace over taffeta was styled with scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and sat in bustle bow. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a pearl tiara.

Mrs. Thomas Surato was her sister's honor matron, with bridesmaids Alice Riemenschneider and Beverley A. June. Their frocks of cotillion blue silk organza over taffeta featured matching satin bustle bows.

After a honeymoon in the Upper Peninsula, the couple will be at home in Pontiac.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State University School of Nursing. Her husband, an alumnus of Wisconsin State University, will teach in the Pontiac area. He is working on his master's degree at Colorado State University.

Mao and Chou Missing Reds at U.N.

By PIERRE J. HUSS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The "Red Summit" collecting at U. N. for the 15th annual Assembly, led by portly Soviet Premier Khrushchev and tailed by dissident Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, represents only a partial pinnacle of Communist power in the world.

★ ★ ★

The missing part of that power sits in Peiping, and it is accurate to say that the absence of Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai narrows the "Red summit" down to the Moscow-controlled faction behing tthe European Iron Curtain.

Nobody in his right mind is going to dispute the fact that the Red crew from Hungary, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Albania, Poland and Romania are at U. N. as the obedient jumping jacks of Kremlin boss Khrushchev.

Some of us like to believe that the hard-headed man from Poland, Premier Wladislaw Gomulka, has the courage and the political strength to speak his mind.

Perhaps so on individual issues specifically affecting lesser Polish domestic policies, but there is no doubt among those who know the Communist system that he must toe the mark on the broad Red front.

U. N. experts who have had close contact with Kremlin politics are of the opinion that Khrushchev will run the show with an iron hand, summoning his cohorts from captive lands to him each day to instruct them in strategy at Assembly meetings and to give orders as to what he wants each

CAN DROP MASK

Thus I am told that Khrushchev, who has openly ridiculed his own foreign minister Andrei Gromyko as an underling who would sit on a cake of ice without question if told to do so, can drop the smiling mask in a flash and treat with insolence anyone who crosses his path at the wrong moment.

Much of the public booing is going to be directed at Janos Kadar, the "Red butcher" of Budapest.

But this will not necessarily gain him sympathy from Khrushchev, who during the Hungarian freedom revolt is said to have driven Kadar to extreme terror measures against the Budapest patriots with curses and threats.

Kadar, Gomulka and the other puppets have been dyed-in-the-wool Communists too long to even think of challenging the big shot from the Kremlin, even if some times they must cringe before him.

An exception to the rule is the political relationship between Khrushchev and Tito. Not so many years ago, the mighty Stalin treated Tito as just another Red Vassal.

When the Yugoslav Red liquidated the anti-Communist leader Mihailovich after the war and found himself in a strong position in Balkan Europe, he defied Stalin and broke away from the rigid Moscow brand of Marxism.

Tito successfully withstood all Stalin attempts to smash him, or to lure him back into the fold. Khrushchev failed, too. But now there are hints that he and Tito have an understanding to see if in New York they can patch up their differences. So one consequence of the "Red summit" could be a truce between the Communist deviationist from Belgrade and the global lord of Moscow communism.

★ ★ ★

There are those at U. N. who also see in the Khrushchev-Tito presence in the same town the possibility of failure to heal old wounds, thus widening the rift.

★ ★ ★

But it is said that President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, a close ally of Tito and a kingpin in the Arab world with whom Khrushchev must keep on good terms has among his objectives in coming to New York the role of mediator in the risky Khrushchev-Tito reconciliation moves. He would gain much stature from it in the Middle East.

All this forecast on "Red Summit" activities does not minimize the equally important "absentee" factor Khrushchev must keep in mind — that is, the pressure and power of Red China.

Mark Landing of St. Paul

Malta Isle Celebrates 1900th Anniversary of Apostle's Shipwreck

WASHINGTON — The diminutive island of Malta this year is celebrating the 1900th anniversary of the landing of St. Paul.

Among Maltese it is a matter of intense pride that in about A. D. 60 the Apostle found refuge on the island when a Rome-bound ship in which he was traveling as prisoner wrecked in fierce winter storms.

As recorded in Acts, "The barbarous people shewed us no little kindness: For they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and because of the cold."

St. Paul remained three months, healing the sick and converting the islanders to Christianity. When taken away on a ship that had wintered at Malta, he left an indelible imprint on the island.

CHURCH PRESERVES RELIC

Even today, half of Malta's men and boys seemingly are named Paul, the National Geographic Society says. Church after church bears his name. Mosaics, frescoes, statues, and paintings portray his life.

The richly decorated Church of St. Paul Shipwrecked in Valletta, the capital, preserves a relic venerated as a bone from his right arm.

The Maltese also venerate St. Paul's Island, a rocky islet off the northeast coast, as the place where the Roman ship ran aground and spilled its illustrious prisoner into the churning surf.

Malta, which has been a British Crown Colony since 1814, has a historical significance out of proportion to its size.

Though many people think of Malta as a single compact island, it actually consists of the main island, 94.9 square miles; two much smaller islands, Gozo and Comino; and a few uninhabited islets.

In prehistoric times, Malta was inhabited by a mysterious people who erected huge megalithic temples and carved catacombs from stone. It knew days of prosperity under Phoenician, Carthaginian, and Roman overlords.

But Malta's golden age developed under the Knights of Malta, a religious, militant order that checked the advance of the so-called Turkish infidels in the Mediterranean.

The order was formed in Jerusalem during the first Crusade, to give shelter, medical aid, and protection to pilgrims visiting the holy city. Organized in a hospital dedicated to John the Baptist, the order was originally known as the Knights of the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem and also as the Knights Hospitallers.

Driven successively from Jerusalem, Acre, Cyprus, and Rhodes, the Knights finally established a headquarters on Malta in 1530. There they remained for more than 250 years, fighting for the faith, building hospitals, growing in reputation, wealth, and power. The order had enormous prestige in Europe for it was comprised of Roman Catholics of noble blood.

Malta's finest hour came in 1565 when Suleiman the Magnificent resolved to chase the order, now known as the Knights of Malta, out of the Mediterranean. Suleiman's siege of the tiny island lasted four months and stirred all of Europe. When the Turks gave up, they had lost more than 29,000 men.

More than 1,700,000 persons own stock in motor vehicle and automotive equipment manufacturing companies.

Sultan Sets Example

ADEN, Aden Protectorate (UPI) —To overcome resistance against anything new among the local fishermen, Sultan Abdulla bin Othman el Fadhli himself went fishing with a blue-gray nylon net that was practically invisible in the water.

The result was that he caught 19 sharks at one time. The local fishermen were impressed.

Lady of Sorrows Church Rising on Farmington Hill

NEW FARMINGTON CHURCH — Being built at a cost of $670,000 is the new Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church and rectory at Powers and Shiawassee roads in Farmington. The hilltop structure is scheduled for completion in December. Two metal crosses, designed by sculptor Marshall Fredericks will grace the new church. A 13-foot cross will be placed on the roof tower, the other, 52-feet-high, will be erected at the church entrance.

By JIM LONG

Being built atop a hill so that it will be visible from many locations in the city and the surrounding area is Our Lady of Sorrows Church. It is located at Shiawassee and Powers roads.

While the two-level building is not scheduled for completion until December, this week will see the erection of a 14-foot metal cross on the sanctuary roof.

* * *

Rising 100 feet above ground level, the slender cross will probably be placed in position, by a huge crane later this week, according to the architect of the church, Charles D. Hannan, A.I.A., of Farmington.

The other cross, which is 52 feet high, and will be a memorial to "Our Lady of Sorrows" will be placed at the front of the church in a triangular-shaped patio. It will be enclosed by tall stone columns with the roof open to the sky.

At the base of the "great" cross, which is not expected to be raised for several weeks, will be figures depicting a scene from the crucifixion.

* * *

Because of its hill-top location, Hannan said it was possible to plan a two-level building, with the lower floor opening at ground level in the rear.

The main floor, he said, will accommodate nearly 1,300 persons. The lower floor will have a seating capacity of 900 with overflow seating in two large meeting rooms on the side.

Beneath the sanctuary will be a stage with rooms on each side for storage and kitchen facilities.

Cost of the church, according to the pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas Beahan, is $525,000, plus an additional $145,000 for the rectory.

* * *

Msgr. Beahan said the new facilities will serve 2,200 families in the area.

For the past 10 years, an auditorium at the school has served the parish for religious services, he said.

Hannan said the layout of the church pews will not be straight but rather in a curve on a radius with the center point at the altar.

* * *

The aisles, as well as the side walls, taper to focus all attention on the tabernacle, and the church, instead of being long and narrow, is wide and shallow.

The last pew, he noted, is only 64 feet from the sanctuary, allowing a clear view of the altar for everyone.

The lines of the roof also will help lead the eye to the altar, Hannan explained. The sides will be flat, but as they meet in the center, the ceiling will start to rise with a gentle slope, increasing until it reaches the sanctuary.

* * *

It will terminate with a very steep roof over the altar which will have a large stained glass window facing the east to catch the light of the rising sun, reflecting it on the sloping side walls behind the altar.

The interior will be beautified by shrines and stained glass windows which will lend themselves to memorials.

Carved stone sculpture groups and landscape shrines will be used outside the church.

Elect 45 From Area to ASC Committee

Forty-five area representatives were elected to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, it was announced today by the Oakland County ASC office.

The voting, which was conducted by mail from Aug. 31 to Sept. 12, showed an increase of 92 ballots over last year's election.

There were 668 votes cast by farm owners, operators and tenants in Oakland County this year. According to Walter R. Cook, office manager of the county ASC.

Newly elected chairmen and vice chairmen of the community committees will serve as delegates and alternate delegates at the county ASC convention Sept. 30.

Petitioners at Oak Park Against Carver Tie-Up

OAK PARK — The circulation of petitions aimed to stave off possible annexation to this city of the Carver School District of Royal Oak Township is gaining momentum today.

The petitioners, who claim that they are not an organized group, are supported by the Oak Park Citizens Advisory Committee on Schools.

Mrs. Thelma Shardell, OPCAC spokesman said the issue is "not a racial one but one of economics."

The signers of the petitions are opposed to annexation because Oak Park schools are overcrowded with some pupils on halfday sessions and because the financial responsibility for educating Carver students will create an additional tax burden on Oak Park's homeowners.

The petitions, when completed, will be turned over to William J. Emerson, Oakland County superintendent of schools. Emerson is seeking to dissolve the Carver district in order to provide classrooms for 44 ninth grade students.

HAD NO SPACE

Carver, which provides only elementary classes, was unable to find space for the students after Detroit refused to take them on a tuition basis.

If a new school board is not elected Oct. 25 to replace board members who resigned last Monday, Emerson will be free to dissolve the district. He has not indicated whether adjacent Oak Park or Ferndale would absorb Carver, but Oak Park is considered a logical choice.

Oak Park's school board is seeking a meeting with the County Board of Education to "clarify several problems annexation would create."

* * *

The questions raised included who will assume the Carver debts? Carver owes Detroit $125,000 in tuition fees, also a debt of over $100,000 to the Detroit City Bank.

Others are:

Will the 350 Carver High School students, attending Detroit schools be sent to Oak Park?

What will be done about Carver teachers, all of whose are protected by the State Tenure Act?

The Oak Park School Board has financial troubles of its own. It owes a bonded debt of $11 million for school construction.

The Oak Park Citizens Advisory Committee declared in a resolution that "there should be continued emphasis on both sides of the problem.

* * *

"It must allow the opportunity to assure the equitable funds, gradual transition of any merger and the sharing of responsibility inherent to the problems of the Carver District," it further provides.

The committee also pledged its support to "any litigation which may be necessary to reach an equitable solution."

Did This Suitor Carry a Torch?

Armada Man in Court on Arson Charge Over Plank Road House

ROMEO — A jilted suitor who apparently failed to light a flame in the heart of his former girl friend succeeded in burning her house down instead, according to Romeo State Police.

Police say that Strong set a fire which leveled a house at 72860 Tobacco Plank Road Friday night. The home, located about four miles northeast of here, is owned by Mrs. Shirley Lilly of 31061 Dodge St., Warren.

It was vacant when the fire was discovered.

Strong and Mrs. Lilly, a widow, had been keeping company until just recently, police said.

* * *

When Mrs. Lilly wanted to end their friendship, Strong became angry and set fire to her home, police reported. No damage estimates were available, but the 1½-story frame home was burned to the ground.

* * *

Strong waived examination in an arraignment Saturday before Macomb County Justice of the Peace Francis Castellucci. He is being held in Macomb County Jail, Mount Clemens, after failing to post $2,500 bond.

No date was set for his Circuit Court arraignment.

Good Losers on the Scales to Meet Again

CLARKSTON — The Good Losers Club will resume its weekly meetings at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the junior high school, according to new president Mrs. Robert Rothbarth.

All women interested in weight control and in scientific exercise are invited to join the group for evenings of fun while shedding pounds.

Each week a prize is awarded to the member who loses the most weight during that week. Various other contests held throughout the year help keep the enthusiasm up for weight control, Mrs. Rothbarth said.

ALICE BONIN

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bonin of 230 E. Avon Road, Avon Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Alice T. to Bruce Harbron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harbron of 171 W. Auburn Road, Avon Township. No date has been set for the wedding.

Accidents Kill 2 From County

Southfield Woman and Royal Oak Man Die in Car Mishaps

Two area residents were dead today as the result of separate traffic accidents which occurred within four hours of each other.

Frank R. Hanson Jr., 32, of 3102 N. Vermont St., Royal Oak, was killed early today when his car overturned on North River Road near Selfridge Air Force Base.

Hanson was thrown from the vehicle and crushed to death when his car overturned on him.

Macomb County sheriff's deputies reported the accident took place at 12:44 a.m.

* * *

Dead on arrival at Redford General Hospital last night was Mrs. Elsie C. Durnow, 65, of 25825 Lahser Road, Southfield.

Police said Mrs. Durnow drove into the back of a truck as it was making a left turn from Lahser Road on to Trojan Street in Detroit.

Walled Lakers Outsquirt Squad of Rochester

WALLED LAKE — The Walled Lake Fire Department yesterday defeated the Rochester Fire Department in the semifinal round for the Water Battle Championship of Oakland County.

The battle, which won a trophy for the Walled Lake department, was held at Avon Park.

The fight is waged by directing water hoses against a barrel suspended from a cable. The team knocking the barrel against the other team's goal by sliding it along the cable with water power wins a point.

The final battle, Oct. 15, will match Walled Lake with the Waterford Fire Department.

Married at Orchard Lake

Geney Weimer Is Bride

KEEGO HARBOR — Geney Marie Weimer became the bride of Alvin C. DuBois recently in a ceremony performed by the Rev. John Wigle in the Church of the Advent, Orchard Lake.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Weimer of 2315 Pine Lake Ave. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Duane D. DuBois of 2305 Pine Lake Ave.

Serving as best man was Kenneth Armstrong, and seating the guests were Neal Weimer, brother of the bride, and Kenneth Young.

* * *

Expect Wixom to Let Contracts

Action Due Tonight on Bids for Building of New City Offices

WIXOM — Contract awards for the construction of new municipal offices here are expected to be made tonight at a special meeting of the City Council.

Nearly a dozen bids for construction and electrical work were opened at the council meeting Thursday, but officials delayed any action until the bids could be thoroughly studied.

The 8 p.m. meeting will deal only with letting the bids on the estimated $56,000 building.

City officials hope that the new city hall will be ready for occupancy before Christmas providing construction is started in the next couple weeks.

Enrollment More Than Doubles at NCC College

AVON TOWNSHIP — North Central Christian College opened today with enrollment more than doubled over last year, according to Otis Gatewood, college president.

One hundred freshmen and 25 sophomores have registered as boarding and day students. They come from 14 states and four foreign countries.

Five foreign students will be attending classes at NCCC this year. Two brothers, Ivan and Victor Kolesnikow are from Montreal, Canada, and Eike Nordhausen of Berlin, Germany, who is a sophomore transferred from York College, York, Neb.

Victor Joseph of Jerusalem, Palestine, will be coming to NCCC from Florida Christian College in Tampa, Fla. Monika Steiniger of Port Elizabeth, South Africa, will be returning here to college for her second year.

A liberal arts college with Christian ideals, North Central Christian College is embarking on its second year of operation. The campus encompasses a 37-acre estate formerly owned by Lou Mason, Detroit advertising executive.

The first year a three-story multipurpose building was built and open for student use. This year a new one-story boys' dormitory was ready for occupancy.

Another dormitory is slated to be built in the near future, school officials said.

Avondale Band Boosters to Hold Open Meeting

"Getting to Know You" will be the theme of the Avondale Band Boosters meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the high school.

New band directors, William J. Campbell, teaching at the high school, and Ronald Salow, in charge of the junior high music program, will be introduced.

School district residents, whether they have students in band or not, are invited to attend the meeting. Refreshments will be served at the close of the session.

Johnson Niles PTA to Hear Director

TROY — Mrs. W. U. Porter, director of the District 7 Congress of Parent-Teacher Associations, will be guest speaker at the Johnson Niles School PTA meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Porter will explain the newly organized Troy PTA Council at the meeting.

Glasses Save Her Life

BEMBRIDGE, England (AP) — Fishermen, spotting from afar the reflection of the sun off her eyeglasses, found Betty Trimmer, 33, unconscious and lashed to an overturned boat. They took her ashore and learned that her husband and two other men had been lost in heavy seas off the isle of Wight.

Women to Meet in Troy

Healing Church Topic

TROY—A panel discussion of the relation between religious and physical healing is slated for tomorrow's meeting of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church.

The association will hold a business meeting at 10 a.m. and a pot luck luncheon at noon.

* * *

Following the luncheon, the panel discussion will be led by Dr. Karl F. Kearner, M.D., and the Rev. W. Donald Pendell, pastor.

* * *

A baby-sitting service will be available for mothers who wish to attend, according to Mrs. A. S. Baigler, publicity chairman.

Detroit Firm Buys Clarenceville Bonds

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — A Detroit firm has been awarded the purchase of $850,000 in general obligation bonds for new school construction in the Clarenceville School District, Supt. Louis E. Schmidt announced today.

The bonds were sold to the lowest of three bidders, Braun Bosworth and Co., at an average interest rate of 4.467%.

Money from the sale of the bonds, approved by voters in March, will be used to construct a 14-room addition to the elementary school and a three-room addition to the high school, Schmidt said.

London's Fog Returns

LONDON (AP) — The season's first fog hit London today. It was a comparatively light one, but two big jet airliners, one from San Francisco and the other from New York, had to be diverted to Paris.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY — A Mass of Thanksgiving at 9 a. m. tomorrow in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Imlay City, will be said in observance of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Weingartz of 5880 Newark Road, Imlay City. An open house will be held from 7 to 9 p. m. to honor the Weingartzes, who have six sons, eight daughters, fifty grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

ORGANIZING ART GROUP — Because of increased interest in works of art, Clarkston residents are organizing the Village Friends of Arts Club. Making final plans for a 7:30 p. m. meeting tomorrow and viewing an abstract at the Conservatory of Music are (from left) Mrs. Henry J. Storer, chairman; Mrs. J. S. Willford, and Mrs. Robert Bushrig. Any area people can participate.

Weekend Sweep Hikes Lead From One Percentage Point to Four Games

Yankees Knock Down Baltimore Challenge

By The Associated Press

Suddenly the New York Yankees are in a position for "magic number" talk about pennant clinching instead of a nail-biting percentage lead.

The Yanks rose to the occasion to put down the Baltimore challenge over the weekend, sweeping all four games to break the American League race wide open.

Friday afternoon they led the Orioles by one percentage point. Today they sport a four-game lead over both Baltimore and Chicago.

The Yanks have 11 games to play, Baltimore and Chicago each have nine. Any combination of seven Yank victories or Oriole and White Sox defeats would nail it down. Any combination of six would clinch a tie.

There still is danger ahead for manager Casey Stengel whose Yanks have found Washington their most troublesome rival. Five of their last 11 games are with the Senators, the other six with always tough Boston.

After beating Baltimore 7-3 with a slashing 12-hit attack in yesterday's opener, the Yanks came up with a gilt-edged pitching job by Ralph Terry in the 2-0 second game.

Terry had a perfect game going until he walked Brooks Robinson on a 3-2 count with two out in the seventh. Ronnie Hansen broke the no-hit spell by driving Terry's first pitch in the eighth over third base for a single. Jackie Brandt collected the other hit, a single with two out in the ninth.

Chicago missed a chance to take over second place all by itself. The White Sox whipped up a 15-hit attack, drubbing Detroit in the first game 8-4 with Nellie Fox chipping in three singles. The Tigers came back with two in the seventh inning — the winning run scoring on a two-out rundown play — and eked out a 7-6 margin.

Boston trimmed Washington 3-1 on a five-hit job by Bill Monbouquette and Mike Fornieles. Despite two-hit pitching by Cleveland's Bobby Locke and Don Newcombe, Kansas City edged the tribe in the first game 3-2. Cleveland won the second 9-2 behind Barry Latman.

A crowd of 53,876 waited 53 minutes for the rain to let up at Yankee Stadium and then sat through a drizzle most of the afternoon. They saw the Yanks score a third-inning knockout of Jack Fisher who shut them out in their last meeting. They thrilled with Terry's perfect game bid in the second game in which both Yank runs were driven in by sacrifice flys.

A three-man collision on a fly ball by Bobby Richardson that fell in for a double set up the first score.

Dick Williams' two-run homer nullified Cleveland's two-hit pitching in the first game but Walt Bond knocked in three runs with a homer and double as the Tribe squared matters with the A's in the second game.

Whistling in the Dark?

'We Haven't Given Up,' Claims Paul Richards

NEW YORK (AP)—"They outpitched us, they outhit us, they outfielded us and they got all the breaks. How are you going to beat that?"

It sounded like the astute Baltimore manager was whistling in the dark, which it was when Sunday's doubleheader between Baltimore and New York ended, with the Yankees winning both, 7-3 and 2-0, for a sweep of the four-game series.

Three days ago, the Orioles were in a virtual first place tie with the Yankees. Sunday night—the final out was made at exactly 7 p.m. (EST) — the Orioles were four full games behind and tied with Chicago for second place.

Richards had seen his four fledgling pitchers all fail. Only Milt Pappas, in the fourth game, went the distance but it was his misfortune to be pitted against Ralph Terry, who hurled a two-hit shutout. Steve Barber, Chuck Estrada and Jack Fisher all needed relief help.

"It wasn't our pitching that beat us," said Richards. "It was our hitting — the lack of it — with men on bases. Or maybe I'm not giving the Yankee pitchers much credit. Maybe their pitching was just too good for us.

"We had several chances and didn't take advantage of, them. Any one of the four games, except one (the first game of Sunday's 'doubleheader) could have gone either way."

The Orioles were held to 27 hits in the four games. Gene Woodling went 2 for 11, Brooks Robinson 4 for 12, Gus Triandos 4 for 13, Ronnie Hansen 3 for 14, Jackie Brandt 2 for 9 and Jim Gentile 3 for 11. They hit only two home runs to five for the Yankees.

All the Yankees need now is to win six of their remaining eleven games and the worst they could do is tie for the flag, even if Baltimore and Chicago win all their remaining games.

Richards bristled when it was suggested that the Baltimore kids were finally beginning to feel the pressure of the tense pennant race.

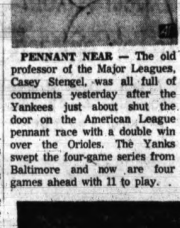

"How do you know?" he demanded. "I've been with them all year and I don't know that. They've come back before when everybody's counted them out. I won't be surprised if they do it again."

"This was the big payoff, of course," he admitted, "but I don't think anything is over. We've got to keep winning. If we don't keep winning, how can we win?

"I got to watch out that my guys don't go dead on me now. If they do, you'll really see something flying around.

PENNANT NEAR — The old professor of the Major Leagues, Casey Stengel, was all full of comments yesterday after the Yankees just about shut the door on the American League pennant race with a double win over the Orioles. The Yanks swept the four-game series from Baltimore and now are four games ahead with 11 to play.

Tigers Scuttle Chisox Flag Hopes

Unlike '59, 1-Run Wins Evade White Sox at Crucial Times

DETROIT (AP) — Those one-run games that carried the Chicago White Sox to the 1959 American League pennant have turned the 1960 season into a nightmarish finish for the Chicago club.

A 7-6 loss to the Detroit Tigers in a three-hour and 28-minute struggle yesterday virtually killed off the Sox' hopes of repeating as champions. The Sox won the opener 8-4.

The White Sox rattled out 27 hits in splitting a doubleheader with the lowly Tigers but couldn't get one when they needed it most — with two on and one out in the eighth inning, or with two on and none out in the ninth inning of the second game.

As a result, the Sox were tied with Baltimore today for second place — four games behind the league-leading New York Yankees, each club five games back in the vital loss column.

The champion Sox of 1959 won 35 games by one run, losing only 15. The current Chicago team has done no better than split in 42 games decided by a single run.

Al Lopez, White Sox manager, is too nice a guy to pick out the goats of the 1959 collapse — but he could cite catcher Sherm Lollar for slipping under .250 in batting, hitting only seven home runs and driving in fewer than 50 runs; or Jim Landis for not hitting, Bob Shaw for poor pitching in the clutch, or Dick Donovan, or Herb Score, or any number of other pitchers for varying degrees of inefficiency, when solid pitching was required.

As for the defeat in yesterday's crucial finale, Shaw failed to hold a 4-3 lead, Turk Lown failed to hold another and the heart of the batting order—Nelson Fox, Landis, Gene Freese, Jim Rivera and Lollar — failed to get the ball out of the infield when the Sox scoundered two opportunities to tie or win the game in the late innings.

A pivotal play came in the seventh inning, when the Tigers finally won the game despite some shoddy fielding and shaky pitching of their own. The Tigers loaded the bases with one out. Pinch batter Sandy Amoros scored a run with a fly ball to left field. The other runners advanced to second and third base.

Chico Fernandes sent a high bouncer to Freese at third base. It wasn't questionable if Freese could have retired Fernandes at first base.

He could have cut down Cash between third and home, but instead went after Eddie Yost, who was coming to third. Before Freese could tag Yost for the third out of the inning, Norm Cash crossed the plate with the run that likely sealed the Sox doom for 1960.

★ ★ ★

Lopez sent six pitchers into the game and used four pinch batters. His club led three times, the Tigers led twice and the game was tied once.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers collected 15 hits and used four pitchers. Hank Aguirre getting the win for one and one-third innings of hitless relief work. Ted Kluszewski accounted for two of Chicago's runs with a first-inning home run off starter Bob Bruce. Errors by third baseman Ozzie Virgil and first baseman Neil Chrisley led to two-run innings by the Sox in the third and sixth.

DECLARED THE WINNER — Chuck Thompson is at the wheel as Miss Detroit throws up a shower of spray during the final heat of the President's Cup Regatta yesterday on the Potomac River at Washington. Although Miss Detroit trailed Seattle's Miss Thriftway, piloted by Bill Muncey, across the finish line in the final heat Thompson was awarded the trophy because his elapsed time for the three 15-mile heats bettered Muncey's clocking.

Protest Filed Against Driver Thompson

Miss Detroit Claims Cup Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chuck Thompson claimed his fourth president's cup today, but rival hydroplane drivers vigorously disputed the ruling that awarded the Detroit veteran his latest Potomac River triumph.

Their protest, officially filed last night, charged that Thompson jumped the gun in his Miss Detroit at the start of the final heat.

Thompson had contentedly left the judge's tower when Bill Muncey, pilot of Seattle's Miss Thriftway, drew up the complaint and signed it in company with fellow entries in Sunday's deciding race of the two-day regatta. The governing body of unlimited hydroplanes could take weeks to judge the appeal.

A crowd of nearly 40,000, dampened by an intermittent drizzle, saw Thompson finish third in the final 15-mile test but many had gone home before regatta officials announced, two hours later, that Miss Detroit was allotted the trophy.

First they had ruled that both Norm Evans in Samuel Dupont's Nitrogen of Wilmington, Del., and Bill Brow in Ole Bardahl's Miss Bardahl of Seattle had jumped the gun. Nitrogen was first to complete the scheduled five laps, almost a half-mile ahead of Miss Thriftway, but she and Miss Bardahl were required to run a penalty lap for the apparent false start.

After studying a photo of the start and deliberating with other officials, referee E. M. Peatross eventually decreed the evidence was clear only that Miss Bardahl had beaten the gun. That restored the original order of finish — Nitrogen, Miss Thriftway, Miss Detroit and Miss Bardahl. Coupled with a first and second in previous heats, it also credited Thompson with the same number of points as Muncey earned with his first, third and second.

Thompson, who won the cup piloting the retired Miss Pepsi in 1950-51-52, was placed first in the regatta standings because his total elapsed time for the three 15-mile heats, 26:45.9, was 19.7 seconds shorter than Muncey's clocking.

Muncey still increased Miss Thriftway's lead in the season's competition for big hydros. With three more regattas on the program, owner Willard Rhodes' persimmon-striped boat now has 2,325 points to Nitrogen's 1,296. Only Nitrogen and her sister challenger, Nitrogen Too, are in position to overtake Miss Thriftway.

Robertson's a Royal Now

'Big O' Inks 3-Year Pact With Cincinnati of NBA

CINCINNATI (AP) — All-America Oscar Robertson says he's glad to be with the pro basketball Cincinnati Royals. And the Royals say they're glad too.

This two-way admiration came Sunday after Oscar signed a three year agreement with the Royals, ending vague reports he was considering other offers.

Robertson, three times a major college scoring record leader for the University of Cincinnati, flew back from the Olympic Games Saturday but wouldn't commit himself then about future plans.

Robertson was the No. 1 target of the Royals after the team's two disappointing past seasons. He's expected to perk up team play and attendance.

★ ★ ★

Protest Complicates Sail-Off of WLYA

A protest of a Sunday race must be settled before sailors of the Watkins Lake Yachting Association move into the final race of a sail-off program this weekend.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Karl Kreitz had a 1st and 2nd in the thistle class for the day. Don Zannoth won in the morning and later was 3rd. Harm Gillen was 3rd and 2nd.

Bruce and Fred Beede were morning snipe victors beating Lyle Morris was 3rd.

Detroit Needs Two Wins

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) — Detroit was hoping for a double win today to wrap up the national playoffs of the American Amateur Baseball Congress here.

The unbeaten Detroit squad faces Birmingham, Ala., in an afternoon contest. If they win that game, they will face Seattle, Wash., in a night game.

Posey 181 Pound Champ

'Y' Lifter Retains Title

Posey's dead-lift was 535 pounds to go with his 745 pound total in the bodyweight, (171), bench press (320) and deep knee bend (425). He had 1280 total points.

Detroit lifters dominated most of the other divisions. G. Giedler of Detroit won the 123 pound class; R. Balderama of Detroit the 148 pound class; R. McGarry of Flint the 165 pound class and J. Pisacreta of Detroit the heavyweight class.

D. Hills, second in the 198 pound class had a dead lift of 675 total in the other lifts for 1175 total.

The meet, sanctioned by the Michigan State Association of the AAU, was sponsored by the Pontiac YMCA, with Jim Templeton and Cal Rhoades of the Y as meet directors.

Waterford Golfer Shares in Victory

The former star Skipper athlete, veteran professional Emerick Kocsis, Captain Ron Fendrick and Major John Pacura were partners yesterday in the annual Selfridge Air Force Base invitational best ball golf tournament.

They won the tourney with a 13-under-par 59 on nines of 30 and 29. Kocsis shot 71 with his own ball.

Joy Fair Is Second in Sandusky Feature

SANDUSKY, Ohio — Jack Conely of Brighton, Mich., set a new Sandusky auto track record for super modified racing last night when he drove his Chevrolet powered auto a half mile in 19.26 seconds.

Oil pan troubles prevented Conely, who set the record in a qualifying heat, from racing last night's feature race. Nelson Ward of Battle Creek, driving a Chrysler powered car, won it. Second was Joy Fair of Pontiac, in a Pontiac powered auto.

Back Ailment May Sideline Bill Skowron

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Skowron, New York Yankee first-baseman, said Sunday night his back was bothering him and he didn't know if he'd be able to play against Washington Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

Skowron, who has a long history of back ailments, underwent diathermy treatments after Sunday's first game of a doubleheader against Baltimore. He will wear a brace until the pain disappears.

★ ★ ★

He said he thinks he was hurt during the third inning of the first game while reaching for a throw.

"I can bend, but I can't straighten up," he moaned.

Two Weeks Left for Lions to Build a Winner

Detroit Opens Regular Slate at Green Bay

Same Problems Remain Following 14-10 Loss to Cleveland

The Lions finished the exhibition season Saturday with a 14-10 loss to the Cleveland Browns. That left the once-mighty Lions with a 2-3-1 record in practice games.

Detroit opens the regular season at Green Bay.

* * *

The primary problems facing coach George Wilson for this year were to rebuild the offensive line and pick a quarterback.

Saturday's game didn't show any great improvement. Jim Ninowski, the apparent starting quarterback, had the Lions inside the Brown 16 three times and the best he could do was a field goal by Jim Martin.

The Lion touchdown came after a pass interception by Wayne Walker which he returned to the 14. Earl Morrall, the Lions' alternate quarterback, hit Dave Middleton for the touchdown.

Ninowski has been thrown for about 250 yards in losses in less than four full games of action.

* * *

Cleveland beat the Lions twice in exhibitions and the Philadelphia Eagles smashed the Lions 40 - 10. The New York Giants, apparently the third top team in the Eastern Division of the NFL, tied Detroit 16-16.

The Lions return to work tomorrow. Two players will be cut to make the 38-man limit.

Walt Kowalczyk, who threatened to quit the NFL after the Lions traded him to the Dallas Cowboys, decided yesterday to join the Texas Club. The former Michigan State fullback star said he would join the Cowboys this week.

The Lions obtained Kowalczyk in a trade with the Philadelphia Eagles this summer, giving up quarterback Jerry Reichow. Kowalczyk then bought a home in Detroit and balked at the trade.

Mickey Posts LPGA Record

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — San Diego's Mickey Wright set a LPGA record with the four-par rounds that snagged top money in the $8,250 Memphis women's open golf tournament.

Her 72-hole total over the 6,380-yard, 36-38—74 Ridgeway Country Club course, was an 18-under-par 278. Her margin of victory after Sunday's final birdie was 12 strokes.

"It's wonderful when you can put four eighteens together like this," said Miss Wright as she collected her $1,247. The four were 66-71-70-71.

On her way to the Ladies Professional Golfers Association record, Wright hung up two course records. The first was her marvelous opening round 66. Then came a 31 on the front nine during the third round.

Louise Suggs of Cincinnati tied with Ruth Jessen of Seattle for second place. They finished with 290s which were worth $860 each.

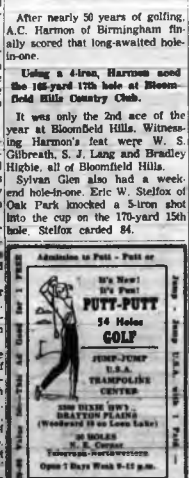

After Nearly 50 Years—an Ace for A. C. Harmon

After nearly 50 years of golfing, A.C. Harmon of Birmingham finally scored that long-awaited hole-in-one.

Using a 4-iron, Harmon sank the 165-yard 17th hole at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

It was only the 2nd ace of the year at Bloomfield Hills. Witnessing Harmon's feat were W. S. Gilbreath, S. J. Lang and Bradley Higbie, all of Bloomfield Hills.

Sylvan Glen also had a weekend hole-in-one. Eric W. Stelfox of Oak Park knocked a 5-iron shot into the cup on the 170-yard 15th hole. Stelfox carded 84.

Packers Finish Unbeaten in Exhibitions

Denver Gains AFL Lead

By The Associated Press

Patient Frank Filchock, a builder of champions at 43, has molded the unheralded Denver Broncos into a potent pro football aggregation with title aspirations in the Western division of the American League.

Undaunted while his charges were pushed around in losing all five pre-season exhibitions, Filchock concentrated on providing the Denver club with a semblance of cohesion and balance by deftly analyzing his personnel, making the proper shifts and teaching his wing T offense.

* * *

Now with two games gone in the young AFL season, Filchock's Broncos have moved into first place in the West with a 2-0 record after a 27-21 come-from-behind triumph over the Buffalo Bills Sunday.

Johnny Pyeatt's 33-yard run with an intercepted pass for a fourth quarter touchdown won it for Denver and Filchock, who brewed his coaching formula in the Canadian leagues where his teams finished in the playoffs eight of nine years.

* * *

A native of Grindstone Gulch, Pa., Filchock played pro ball for the Washington Redskins and New York Giants, and now has placed his future with the AFL which drew increased attendance in its second week of operation.

Over 15,000 turned out to see the Broncos and Bills and 20,156 were on hand as Houston's Oilers riddled the vaunted Los Angeles Chargers 38-28. Another 19,200 saw the Boston Patriots edge the New York Titans 28-24 on the final play of a Saturday night thriller.

Meanwhile, the National League set to inaugurate its 41st season Friday night—wound up the exhibition season with the Green Bay Packers completing a 6-0 slate by walloping winless Washington 41-7 as Bart Starr passed for three touchdowns.

* * *

In other pre-season windups, Norm Van Brocklin pitched Philadelphia to a 35-21 victory over defending champion Baltimore; Bobby Mitchell went 10 yards for the deciding TD in Cleveland's 14-10 triumph over Detroit and St. Louis beat San Francisco 24-17.

Denver trailed Buffalo 13-6 at halftime before quarterback Frank Tripucka passed the Broncos into the lead with touchdown tosses of 8 and 3 yards to J. W. Brodnax and Dave Rolle. A 56-yard heave from Tom O'Connell to Elbert Dubenion put the Bills back in front before Pyeatt pilfered an errant O'Connell pass for the clincher.

* * *

Veteran quarterback George Blanda personally put the Oilers into first place in the East, setting up three touchdowns with his passes and scoring them on 1-yard plunges while adding a field goal and five conversions for 26 points. He was ably supported by a running attack led by Billy Cannon that overcame four TD strikes by Los Angeles' Jack Kemp.

* * *

Chuck Shonta, formerly of Eastern Michigan, Boston defensive specialist, scooped up a loose ball that eluded a New York punter and scampered 25 yards for the winning score as time ran out. Al Dorow had passed the Titans into the lead with TD flips of 8, 16 and 38 yards and it stood up until the fatal kick play began with only 12 seconds left.

Canadian Rules Don't Hurt Wolves

Bay City, pre-season favorite to win the Saginaw Valley Conference title, handed the Ontario prep squad a 60-0 pasting in the 1960 season opener for both schools.

It was an experimental game from the standpoint of rules, but it made no difference to the touchdown-happy Wolves.

The two teams played under Canadian rules in the 1st half, then switched to American rules following intermission.

When Sarnia had the ball, each team used 12 players. When the Wolfpack went on the offense, 11 gridders saw action.

In the 1st half, the two squads had three downs to go 10 yards. In the 2nd half, the U.S. rule of four downs to make 10 yards was in effect.

No matter what rules were being used, the Wolves really moved. They scored nine touchdowns with seven different boys doing the scoring.

Jerry Gwizdala tallied twice on rushes and Tim Pete caught two passes for TDs. The Wolves completed seven of 13 passes, four for touchdowns. One TD aerial was thrown by starting quarterback Bob Crampton.

Halfback Bob Unks scored both Farmington touchdowns, a 30-yard run in the 2nd period for the 1st TD of the game and a one-foot plunge in the 3rd stanza following a fumble recovery.

The score was 7-7 at halftime. Leo Lange tallied for Utica and Bob Rosenau placekicked the extra point.

* * *

Farmington iced the decision in the 4th quarter with a safety when Rick Barth tackled Utica's quarterback in the end zone. Jim Barth booted Our Lady's 1st extra point and passed to Tom Clark for the other.

In other parochial games yesterday, Ferndale St. James defeated St. Rose, 20-13; Royal Oak Shrine whipped St. Patrick, 13-0; and Lourdes downed Highland Park St. Benedict, 14-6.

Basset Hound Is 'Best'

Ch. Ring's Banshee, a Basset Hound owned by Chris G. Teeter won the Best-in-Show award Sunday at the Livonia Kennel Club's all-breed show.

Other group winners were: Ch. Gourmet Sardar in the sporting group; Ch. Alemap's Checkmate, a Doberman Pinscher owned by W. T. Haines of Southfield in the working group.

Whip Publinx Team, 13-8

DDGA Golfers Keep Trophy

The Atlas Cup still belongs to the Detroit District Golf Association in its annual duel with the Michigan Publinx Golf Association.

Winning the last five matches Sunday, the DDGA's 16-man golf squad handed the MPGA's 16-man team a 13-8 licking over the weekend at Saginaw Country Club to retain possession of the traveling trophy.

It was the DDGA's 4th consecutive victory over the Publinx golfers. The District players now have won the award 11 times compared to five triumphs for the MPGA.

The DDGA took a 5-2 lead Saturday in Scotch foursome play, then rallied yesterday in singles competition to win going away after losing the first three matches.

* * *

Tony Skover of Meadowbrook stopped the Publinx surge by tying Jay Law of Harper Woods and the Dearborn team of Ralph Ellstrom and Roy Nelson initiated the District's winning push.

Skover was really sizzling in his singles match with Law. Skover birdied seven of the first 12 holes before Law rallied to win three of the last five holes for a tie.

Ellstrom, DDGA captain, defeated Ken Parkins, 1 up, and Nelson conquered George Greenhalgh, 3-2. Lansing's Lou Wendrow and Stan Sabat of Birmingham battled to a draw to aid the DDGA cause.

Pontiac's Wally Smith and Ray Cane of Detroit defeated Art Olix Jr. of Lansing and Vic Calus of Jackson, 6-5, for one of the two MPGA Scotch foursome wins Saturday.

The MPGA's other Scotch foursome win was a 4-3 decision by Dick Preston and Parkins over Tom Cross and Roy Burgin.

Don Mossi Sent Home for Rest of '60 Season

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have sent ailing Don Mossi home for the rest of the season while his old comrade-in-arms, injured Ray Narleski, is back in town to visit his teammates.

* * *

Mossi returned to Redwood City, Calif., to rest up for next season. The southpaw has won only one game since July 15 and hasn't worked since Aug. 28 because of a sore pitching arm and shoulder. Mossi record for the season was 9-8.

Narleski, who has been sidelined all season with a bad back, arrived from his Haddonfield, N.J., home. He said he has been throwing a bit in his backyard at home and feels better after a long rest. The Tigers have no plans now of putting Narleski on the active roster until next spring.

Chadwick Quits, New Hope Enters Channel

PORTPATRICK, Scotland (AP) —Florence Chadwick has failed again to swim the North Channel from the Scottish to the Irish coast.

The long distance swimmer from San Diego, Calif., had covered about 8 miles of the 13-mile swim when heavy seas and winds forced her to give up on Sunday. She was taken from the water after eight hours. Rough weather forced her to give up her first attempt on Friday.

Beman Never Doubted Chances in Amateur

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Maryland's Deane Beman, the new U.S. amateur golf champion, has enough poise, confidence and competitive fire for two players—but he insists there's no such thing as overconfidence.

The chesebic 22-year-old Maryland University senior took dead aim at the 60th American amateur title at the start of the week-long marathon tournament and never let up. Beman seldom played a hole safe—he usually defied traps and shot for the pin.

He never had any doubt he would win. But no one mistook his confidence for cockiness. He was a man with a purpose and nothing in the way of bad shots or freak bad breaks bothered him.

Beman also displayed a killer instinct in his spectacular 6 and 4 victory over calm, modest Bob Gardner, a 39-year-old public relations man making his ninth bid for the American amateur title.

The 5-foot 7 165-pounder from Bethesda, Md., became the ninth amateur in history to win both the U.S. and British amateur crowns. He won the British amateur in 1959, didn't defend it this year because of the press of studies.

"It was by far the most satisfying tournament I've won," Deane said. "I'm playing better now than I ever have and I'm going to keep working."

* * *

He was five under par for 32 holes on the sunny par 35-36—71 6,616-yard St. Louis Country Club course, in beating Gardner. The loser felt he played much better than the score showed.

"Every time I made a good shot, he cancelled it with a better one," Gardner lamented.

* * *

Gardner was three down after 18 and needed three long putts to even stay in contention. Twice during the match he chipped close to the hole, only to have Beman respond with long putts.

* * *

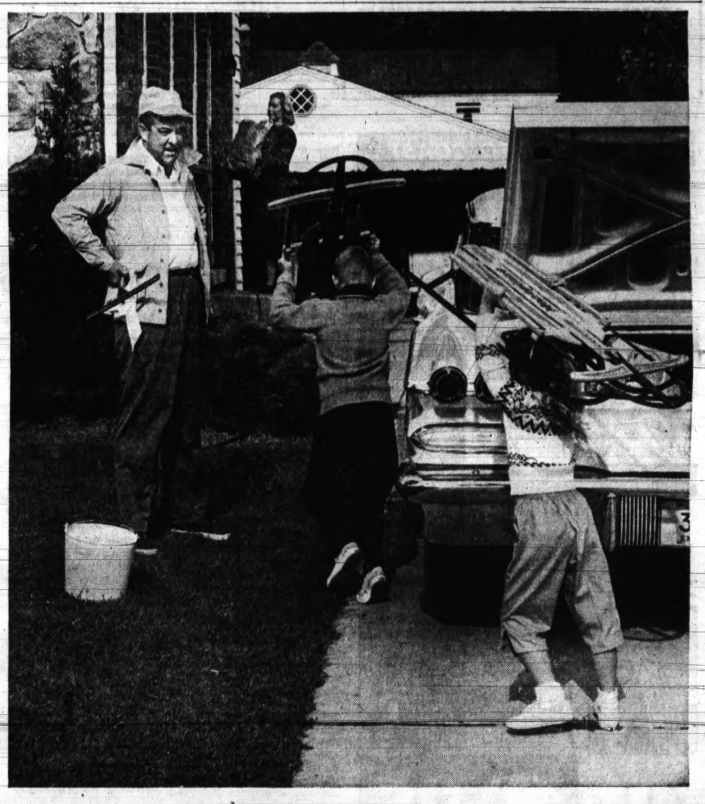

The New Yorker tapped in a 22-footer on No. 18 and Beman, unruffled by a black cocker spaniel which romped onto the course as he lined up the putt, promptly tapped in an 18-footer to match Gardner's birdie.

His quarter-final victory over veteran Bill Hyndman III of Philadelphia—1 up in 19 holes—was an emotion-packed thriller loaded with birdies.

Beman saved his best putts for the times he needed them most. He explained: "I welcome pressure because then I always seem to shoot better."

Beman and three others were selected Sunday by the U.S. Golf Association to represent this country in the world amateur team tourney at Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 28-Oct. 1. The others are Gardner, Hyndman, and Jack Nicklaus of Ohio State, 1959 amateur champ.

"I think the university will let me cut some classes to make it," Deane said. "It's a great honor to be selected."

Diabetic Golfer Near Collapse in Tourney Win

FREDERICTON, N.B. (AP)—Veteran professional Archie Skinner, a diabetic who delayed his insulin shot and was near collapse on the final three holes, won the Maritime Open Golf Championship Sunday.

* * *

Skinner went without his insulin in the afternoon round when play stretched out longer than he anticipated and he did not want to hold up other entrants.

20th GAME — Ernie Broglio won his 20th game of the season yesterday as he pitched a four hitter to give his St. Louis Cardinals a 4-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants, who swapped him to the Cards last season.

Those Pirates Are Practically 'In' for 1960

7 Is 'Magic Number' for Bucs in NL Race After Twin Victory

By The Associated Press

Roll out the barrel you Pirate fans. The fighting Bucs are practically in. Only another baseball miracle can rob Pittsburgh of its first National League pennant since 1927.

With 11 games to go, Danny Murtaugh's Pirates lead by six full games over St. Louis and 6½ games over Milwaukee. The Cardinals have 13 to play, the Braves only 10. The "magic number" is seven.

* * *

Vern Law and Vinegar Bend Mizell did the strong arm jobs Sunday that gave the Pirates a doubleheader sweep over Cincinnati 5-3 and 1-0. For Law it was victory No. 20 on the fourth try. He won No. 19 on Aug. 29. Mizell, the ex-Cardinal, chimed in with a neat three-hit shutout for his 12th triumph.

The Cards also won, edging San Francisco 4-3 as Ernie Broglio joined Law and Milwaukee's Warren Spahn as 20-game winners. Milwaukee thumped Philadelphia 7-1 on Joey Jay's four-hitter and homers by Bill Bruton and Joe Adcock. The game was called in the bottom of the eighth by rain.

* * *

Chicago hit three homers in a five-run sixth inning and hung a 5-2 defeat on Los Angeles. The defeat left the defending champion Dodgers mathematically eliminated from anything better than a tie.

Don Hoak was the big man for the Pirates at Cincinnati. The fiery third baseman drove in two decisive runs in the opener and scored the only run of the second game on Dick Schofield's double after doubling off Bob Purkey. Since taking over the regular shortstop job for the injured Dick Groat, the supposedly weak-hitting Schofield had been hitting better than .400.

* * *

Dick Stuart and Hoak hit home runs in the first game in which Law became a 20-game winner for the first time. The only Cincy runs were homers by Willie Jones and Frank Robinson.

Mizell, acquired from St. Louis with a 1-3 record, boosted his season performance to 12-8 with the three-hitter. Old Vinegar Bend had his stormy moments in the eighth when umpire Stan Landes called a ball for a 3-2 count on Roy McMillan. Mizell threw his glove on the ground and jawed with the ump. On the next pitch he got McMillan on a fly ball.

* * *

Broglio had beaten every other club in the league but the Giants who traded him to St. Louis last year. He became the Cards' first 20-game winner since Harvey Haddix in 1953. Stan Musial drove in two Card runs and Ken Boyer and Daryl Spencer each knocked in one to beat Mike McCormick.

Milwaukee knocked out rookie Art Mahaffey in the second inning. It was his third straight defeat after winning his first five. Only 10,361, smallest ever for a Sunday game, turned out at County Stadium in Milwaukee.

Souchak's 139 Tops Australian Tourney

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—Mike Souchak of Mamaroneck, N.Y., shot a 71 for a 139 Sunday to hold the lead at the 36-hole mark of the 162-hole golf tournament being played by four leading pros from as many countries.

* * *

Australia's Peter Thomson is second with 141, South Africa's Gary Player third at 142 and Canada's Stan Leonard fourth with 146. Player shot the day's best round, a 3-under-par 69.

* * *

The $14,280 tournament is being played in different courses with the third round scheduled for Orange in New South Wales.

Big in Size

Wayne Small in Numbers

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of articles on Michigan's college football prospects for 1960.)

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne State, a member of the soon-to-be-vest Presidents' Conference, opens its football schedule two weeks later than the other Michigan colleges and coach Hal Willard isn't unhappy about the delay.

Willard was rushed into the job when head coach Herb Smith was sidelined by an illness.

Wayne State has only a dozen lettermen back. Missing are three linemen and a back from the 1959 club that won four of seven games. But of the dozen returnees, only four were regulars.

The Tartars received a big setback when quarterback Joe Eusebio and end Tom Barry decided not to play football. Ineligibility took out Dick Laskowski, the team's top ground gainer and passer.

Willard is trying to rebuild the line around ends Dan Vervlack and Gus Mackenzie, tackles Johnson McKinney, Ario Bonfiglio and Bill Kosteckl and center Don Kaump. Kaump is a 245-pounder who played tackle last year.

The Wayne State squad is hoping for a good performance out of Jim Proctor, a lineman who transferred from Michigan State. Jack Kaump, brother of Don, was expected to start at right halfback but has been put out for the entire season because of a trick knee.

"We have 17 or 18 good football players," Willard said frankly. "The others are candidates."

He said the Tartars will be "thick in size but thin in numbers."

The Wayne State starting line may average more than 225 pounds per man. The backfield, when he whipped Yoshio Shirai in headed by quarterback Mike Soluki and fullback Jim Morse, will be bigger than in 1959 without losing speed.

Spartans Await Scouting Report on Pittsburgh

EAST LANSING (AP)—Just as on the wagon trains of the Pioneer era, the western scout was the most important figure on the Michigan State football staff today.

* * *

Assistant backfield coach Vince Carillot was sent to the West Coast to scout Pittsburgh, the opponent in the Spartan opener Saturday. His reports on the UCLA 8-7 victory over Pittsburgh was eagerly awaited.

"I don't know whether that's good or bad news," observed head coach Duffy Daugherty of the score. "We want to make a complete analysis of the game."

Michigan State's first three teams ran up a 68-6 margin over the reserves in an all-out scrimmage here Saturday.

Flyweight Rematch Carded for Thursday

By The Associated Press

Pone Kingpetch, the 24-year-old Thailand boxer who won the world flyweight championship in April, will give ex-champ Pascual Perez another chance Thursday night at Los Angeles' Olympic Auditorium.

* * *

The decision in favor of Kingpetch April 16 at Bangkok was split and hotly disputed. Perez, 34, had held the crown since 1954 Tokyo.

HIGH HURDLE — Quarterback Dave Kraus (10) of the Pittsburgh Panthers makes like a hurdler trying to avoid UCLA tackler Earl Smith in their Saturday night football game on the coast. Smith made a shoestring tackle and the Bruins scored in the final minutes to beat Pitt, 8-7, in the season opener for both teams as the college football scene got started.

Northern Michigan Stuns Dales, 29-6

State College Grid Year Has Wacky Start

By The Associated Press

If the trend established on the first weekend means anything, this looks like a wacky season on Michigan College gridirons.

The opening games Saturday produced these shockers:

Hillsdale, year in, year out MIAA champion and annual leader of one of the best records in the state, dropped its first opener since 1952. Northern Michigan turned in the upset, 29-6. The Dales now have a three-game losing streak extending to 1959.

Olivet, annually a doormat and rarely a victor, won its first outing. The comets rocketed to a 21-14 triumph over Franklin (Ind).

* * *

Western Michigan broke its Central Michigan jinx—no surprise here. But the score was astounding, 21-0. It was only the second time in eight years for Western to beat Central.

* * *

Ferris Institute, usually an in-and-outer, pulverized Wisconsin's Milwaukee Branch 38-7. Bill McNally scored four touchdowns for Ferris, one on a 98-yard kickoff return.

* * *

Kalamazoo, another eleven with a perennial mediocre record, surprised by beating Wabash (Ind) 19-7. Carl Bolofaka scored all three Hornet touchdowns.

In other openers, Albion came from behind to beat Eastern Michigan 21-7; Alma licked Indiana Central 20-6; Adrian tied Defiance (Ohio) 6-6; Michigan Tech blanked Superior (Wis) State 21-0; and Hope impressed with a 21-10 victory over DePauw.

* * *

Northern Michigan stunned Hillsdale with a razzle-dazzle offense, a stingy defense and a 50-yard punting average. Len St. Jean got Northern going in the first quarter by running 30 yards to the end zone after blocking a punt. Hilladale couldn't score until the fourth period and by that time Northern led 22-0.

* * *

Olivet fought from a 14-6 deficit in the final quarter by scoring twice in the final minutes. Tom Nesbitt scored the winner with a 1-yard plunge.

* * *

Central Michigan never was able to pass Western's 23-yard line in losing to the Broncos. Five players scored Western's five TDS.

Freshman quarterback Ralph Abata and senior end Bill Willianen combined forces in Michigan Tech's triumph. Abata passed for two touchdowns after coming off the bench in the second quarter. Willanen scored twice on a pass and blocked kick recovery.

U.S. Golfers Set for 'World'

NEW YORK (AP)—Deane Beman, newly crowned national champion from Silver Spring, Md., and three other players Sunday were named to represent the United States in the World Amateur Golf Championship Tournament at the Merion Golf Club in Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 28-Oct.1.

* * *

The others selected by the USGA are, Robert Gardner of New York, runner-up to Beman in the National Amateur Saturday; William Hyndman III of Philadelphia, who went to the quarter-finals and Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, 1950 Amateur champion and second in the U.S. Open.

* * *

Vancouver, Honolulu Site of PCL Meetings

SEATTLE (AP) — Meetings in Vancouver, B.C., and Honolulu tonight will mark the start of a busy week of groundwork for the 1961 Pacific Coast League baseball season.

* * *

Shareholders of the Vancouver Mounties, meeting in the Canadian city, are expected to consider an offer by the Milwaukee Braves of the National League to buy their PCL franchise.

The board of directors of the Honolulu stadium will be handed a plan by two Salt Lake City men for remodeling the stadium to accommodate a proposed PCL team.

* * *

All three matters are expected to come up at a meeting of league directors in Portland, Ore., Wednesday and Thursday.

American Thinclads Star in Finland Meet

TURKKU, Finland (AP)—Touring American Olympic track and field stars won five events Sunday, with two going to Earl Young of San Fernando, Calif.

* * *

Young won the 100-meter dash in 10.7 seconds and took the 400-meter run in :47.2.

* * *

Bill Dellinger of Springfield, Ore., won the 3,000-meter race in 8:04.4. John Thomas, world record-holder in the high jump, cleared the bar at 6 feet 10 inches for victory in his specialty and Bill Alley of Short Hills, N. J., who holds the world record in javelin, tossed the spear 236 feet 9 inches for the fifth triumph.

Wings Beat Barons, 7-2

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (AP) — The National Hockey League Detroit Red Wings whipped the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League 7-2 Saturday in an exhibition game here.

U. S. DOUBLES WIN — Team of Chuck McKinley, about to hit the ball, and Earl Buchholz, holding racket behind his back, won the United States an American Zone title yesterday against Venezuela, 6-4, 6-1, and 7-5. Buchholz is getting out of the way of a smash that McKinley managed to return.

'Patsies' Spring Surprises in Weekend Grid Action

By United Press International

Mississippi and Washington needed only one game to prove they are well-equipped to challenge Syracuse for college football's national championship this year.

However, it was such perennial "patsies" as Oregon State, Nebraska, Kansas and Tulane who produced the biggest shockers during the first weekend of the new season.

Oregon State, an 18-point underdog, launched the string of upsetting upsets by cutting highly-touted Southern California, 14-8, Friday night. Nebraska also laughed at the odds by edging Texas, 14-13; Kansas topped favored Texas Christian, 21-7, and Tulane ground out a 7-3 victory over California to emerge as Saturday's biggest heroes.

Mississippi's Sugar Bowl champions, meanwhile, rolled to a 42-0 triumph over Houston and Washington picked up where it left off in the Rose Bowl last season by overpowering College of the Pacific, 55-6.

Both Oregon State and Nebraska square off against Big Ten conference representatives next weekend. The Beavers visit Iowa while Nebraska entertains Minnesota. Kansas will be at Kansas State and Tulane hosts Alabama, which opened its season by spanking Georgia's Orange Bowl champions, 21-6, in Saturday's nationally-televised game.

Mississippi and Washington can look ahead to comparative breathers, with Ole Miss traveling to Kentucky and the Huskies entertaining Idaho.

Syracuse opens the defense of its National championship by hosting Boston University, a 20-0 loser.

Quarterback Pat Fischer was the whole show in Nebraska's victory over Texas, scoring both touchdowns and then passing to Bill Thornton in the end zone for the vital two points after the Cornhuskers' second score.

A pair of touchdowns by quarterback John Hadl helped Kansas surprise T.C.U., while Tulane edged California on a seven-yard scoring pass from Phil Nugent to Tommy Mason.

Mississippi got off to a slow start against a hefty Houston line that averaged 226 pounds per man and had to settle for a 7-0 lead at intermission. But the Rebels broke loose in the second half as end Willis Dabbs grabbed three touchdown passes.

Quarterback Bob Schloredt scored two touchdowns and set up another as Washington overwhelmed C.O.P. It was the seventh straight victory for the Huskies, who limited their rivals to 24 yards rushing.

Army, although riddled by injuries, opened its season with a 27-0 victory over Buffalo as Dick Eckert and Glen Adams ran back punt returns for 75 and 71-yard touchdowns. Joe Bellino scored twice and passed for another T.D. to give Navy a 22-7 triumph over Boston College.

In other major openers, Missouri blanked S.M.U., 20-0; U.C.L.A. came from behind in the final minutes of play to edge Pittsburgh, 8-7; Lance Alworth sparked Arkansas to a 9-0 triumph over Oklahoma State; Chick Granning registered all three Georgia Tech touchdowns in a 23-13 victory over Kentucky; Iowa State routed Drake, 46-0, as sophomore Dave Hoppmann scored two touchdowns and passed for two others; Maryland crushed West Virginia, 31-3; and Wendell Harris accounted for all the points with a touchdown and a field goal as L.S.U. downed Texas A.&M., 9-0.

Vossler Wins at Tacoma

Vossler, a pro at Midland, Tex., and he fattened his bank account by chopping 12 strokes off par to score 272 in four 18-hole rounds at the par-71, 6,980-yard Fircrest golf course.

It was his first tourney victory since he won the Panama Open in February.

Vossler didn't have a round poorer than 69 and when he came romping in with a 68 Sunday, it gave him a one-stroke edge over Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass. Two strokes farther back at 275 were Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif., and Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La.

That $25,000 was divided among 35 golfers and the worst score in the crowd was 294—even par. The pre-tourney favorite, Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., was far down the list with a 281.

Needing first-place money to break the record for single-season earnings, Palmer trailed Harney by six strokes going into the final round. Vossler by five. He made up three of them with a 33 on the par-36 front nine and "then," he said, "I quit thinking."

Darlene Master of Maria? Tennis Queen Thinks Not

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Darlene Hard, the new U. S. women's tennis champion, gasped in horror today when it was suggested that she was the master of Maria Bueno.

In the 10 times the two have met, Darlene, a bouncy pre-medical student from Montebello, Calif., has scored eight victories including a 6-3, 10-12, 6-4 decision in the final of the National championships last Saturday.

"That's true," said Darlene, "but most of my victories over Maria were scored when she was just a beginner. She has most of the big ones."

Maria, a 20-year-old Brazilian with a poker-face that rarely lights up, did win two big ones. She beat Darlene in the Wimbledon final last year, then a couple of months later eliminated her in the semifinal of the nationals.

"Still," Darlene mused, "I did beat her in the French championships this year. Anyhow, it's about time I did win the championship. I've been trying long enough."

This was Darlene's seventh try at the big one. She reached the final against Althea Gibson two years ago, but that was as close as she came.

The 6,000-odd spectators at the West Side Tennis Club were astounded at the ease that Darlene tucked the title away. Only in the second set did Maria make a real fight of it, and although she won it, her back was to the wall all the time.

"I would say it was my service that was the big reason I won," said Darlene. "I had it under pretty good control. It was dropping in there and behaving."

The men's final ran true to form with defending champion Neale Fraser crushing Rod Laver, his Australian Davis Cup teammate, 6-4, 6-4, 10-8.

Fraser was seeded No. 1, but his record had been spotty since beating Laver in the Wimbledon final, Laver, on the other hand, had won all four U. S. grass court tournaments during the summer.

It marked the fourth year in the last five that two Aussies have fought it out for the U. S. title. But it was the first time ever that two left-handers got to the final.

Winder Wins Two Dashes in Germany

HANOVER, Germany (AP) — Paul Winder of Pleasantville, N.J., won 100-meter and 200-meter invitation sprint races Sunday in :10.5 and :21.4 at a track and field meet.

Max Truex of Warsaw, Ind., won the 5,000-meter race in 14:06, beating Germany's Ludwig Mueller, who was clocked in 14:20.2.

Dave Clark, of Dallas, Tex., cleared 14 feet 3 4-10 inches to win the pole vault against German Klaus Lehnertz, who went over 14-2¾ for second place.

Hockey League Meets

MUSKEGON (AP) — The International Hockey League met here last weekend to consider applications for new franchises. The applicants included Windsor, Ont.; Columbus and Cincinnati, Ohio, and Louisville, Ky., in the eastern division, and Green Bay, Wis., St. Louis, Knoxville, Tenn., and Des Moines, Iowa, in the Western division. Muskegon acquired its franchise last year from Louisville.

Injury Ends Career of Standout Horse

NEW YORK (AP) —Trainer Alfred Jacobs said Sunday that Hail to Reason, a leading contender for the 2-year-old colt championship, was injured in a workout at Aqueduct race course and would be retired to stud.

★ ★ ★

The brown son of Turn-To—Nothirdchance raced in the silks of the trainer's daughter, Patrice, and won nine of 18 starts this year and $338,434.

Badger Sailing Champ

WHITEHALL (AP) — Gordon Lindemann of Pine Lake, Wis. won the national E-boat sailing championship Sunday after a collision knocked the leader, defending champion Harry Melges of Lake Geneva, Wis., out of the final race. Nate Robbins of Minnetonka, Wis., placed second followed by Runyan Colle of Manoloking, N. J. Fifty-seven E-boats were entered in the two-day event on White Lake in Western Michigan.

Gresham Fights Friday

DETROIT (AP) — Gene Gresham of Detroit will meet Lhassni Godth of Algeria in a 10-round lightweight bout Friday at Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

Kowalczyk Will Join Cowboys After All

DETROIT (AP)—Walt Kowalczyk, who threatened to quit the National Football League after the Detroit Lions traded him to the Dallas Cowboys, Sunday decided to join his new club.

The fullback, star of Michigan State's 1955 Rose Bowl champions as a sophomore, said he'd report to the NFL's newest entry this week.

Kowalczyk appealed to Commissioner Pete Rozelle, asking the deal be nullified, but was turned down.

STEVE THOMPSON
Purdue Northern's versatile senior who plays end but also can play quarterback.

3 Casts Bring Half Dozen Fish, Two at a Time

ALEXANDRIA, Minn. (AP)—Ray Shipwash, veteran Alexandria angler, has a fish story that's hard to top, and he has a witness to back him up.

Shipwash caught his limit — six bass—in three casts on Long Lake near here. He fished for quite a while without any action, then moved to a weedy area and got a sharp strike. He reeled in and found two bass hooked to the plug.

Several casts later the same thing happened. On the very next cast, Shipwash said, he got another bass duo, giving him the limit. Two of the fish weighed over three pounds.

Fox Hunters Set Field Trial Dates

Michigan State Fox Hunters Association will hold their 14th annual Field Trial and Bench Show September 22, 23, 24, 25 at Lapeer, Michigan.

Entries of dogs will start at 7 p.m., Thursday, September 22.

Derby Hounds will be run two days and all age hounds three days. They will run together and scored separately under national rules. Trophies and ribbons will be awarded.

Australia 2 Steps Away From U.S. Davis Cuppers

CLEVELAND (AP) — With a victory over Venezuela safely tucked away, America's Davis Cup youngsters were only two matches away today from a crack at Australia's champions.

The Philippines, Eastern zone champions, and Italy's European victors still stand in America's path—but the U. S. and Australia have reached the challenge round every year since 1925 and are favored to meet again.

Australia, winner over the U. S. eight of the last 10 years, holds a 9-7 edge over the Americans since they started their exclusive matches 22 years ago. None were held during the war.

Ernie Buchholz and Chuck McKinley, both of St. Louis, wrapped up the American zone title Sunday as they defeated Venezuela's Ilyo Pimentel and Marcos Gambus in the doubles, 6-4, 6-1, 7-5.

America had swept the opening singles earlier as Barry MacKay of Dayton defeated Gambus 6-1, 6-1, 6-0, and Bernard (Tut) Bartzen, Dallas southpaw, smothered Pimentel 6-0, 6-1, 6-1. They changed opponents for today's meaningless singles.

Date and site of the meeting with the Philippines are undetermined, but Capt. Dave Freed of the U. S. netters said it may be in Australia, on grass courts, in November. The winner meets Italy for the right to challenge Australia.

The colorful Venezuela pair was no match for the Americans who won 55 of the 69 games in the doubles and opening singles with a point edge of 274 to 160. Only three times were the invaders able to break the Americans' service, all against Buchholz in Sunday's doubles.

Buchholz celebrated his 20th birthday last Friday. McKinley is 19, and MacKay 25—and the youth movement appears to be paying off. McKinley blanked the Venezuelans in four of the six games he served in the doubles, and allowed them only a total of five points as his cannonball efforts almost blasted them off the court.

★ ★ ★

K Apparently Doesn't Want Dag Fired—Now

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

The Soviet Union is extremely annoyed with United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's handling of the Congo crises, but Communist diplomats do not imply they want him fired—at least for the time being.

When Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev makes his U.N. appearance, it will be to level sharp attacks at U.N. Congo policy but at the same time to stress the growing importance of the world body.

Red harassment:

No matter what actions the Communist bloc may take at the U.N., they have plenty of opportunities to stir up trouble elsewhere.

Western diplomats fear the Soviets may be considering harassing actions in the three 20-mile-wide air corridors to West Berlin.

The stage for Soviet interference could have been set by the Soviet charge the Big Three are using the corridors illegally to transport militarists to the city.

The Soviets have increased their patrol activity in the vicinity of the corridors, and on Friday scored a "near miss" when one of their fighters nearly collided with a British air transport.

AND LAOS AGAIN

Another trouble spot is Laos. Unconfirmed reports that Communist-led military units have infiltrated the jungle borders of Laos from Communist North Viet Nam suggest that Red Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung might be trying to make his "invisible presence" felt at the U.N. General Assembly.

Mao started the 1958 Quemoy crisis because he wanted to resume negotiations with the United States in Poland.

A Laotian crisis now would create attention for China by shifting the world news scene away from the Congo which Russia had dominated.

Red strategy:

The Bonn West German government has its own ideas of Soviet strategy. The Germans expected Khrushchev to reveal sensational disarmament proposals to impress representatives of new African and Asian nations, also Latin America. Bonn feels that analysis of the Khrushchev proposals will show, as before, that what he really wants first of all is the removal of U.S. bases in West Germany.

France will boycott any General Assembly debate on Algeria and already has warned it will ignore any U.N. decision which might favor the Algerian rebels. But there might be additional trouble for France over Morocco's claims to the African French Community of Mauritania and over the Mali Federation from which Senegal walked a few days ago. As a last resort, France might threaten to quit the U.N.

Huks Rampage in Philippines

Red Group Still Tries to Overthrow Present Government

MANILA (UPI)—The Huks are on the rampage again in the Philippines.

The Huks, the military arm of the Communist Party in the Philippines, have undertaken a rash of killings and kidnapings in recent weeks.

They have demonstrated that although their number has dwindled to only about two per cent of their peak manpower in the late 1940s, they are still intent on overthrowing the Philippines government.

Top military leaders here, who had earlier shrugged off the killings as "scattered incidents," now admit they add up to a definite resurgence of the terrorist campaign of the Huks.

An army drive against the Communists has been ordered. The army moved in heavy artillery and began bombarding suspected Huk lairs on Mount Arayat in the province of Pampanga, some 50 miles north of Manila. The sprawling headquarters of the U.S. 13th Air Force, Clark Air Force Base, is nearby.

★ ★ ★

Immigrant to Test Nikita's Kindness in 2nd Request

CHICAGO (UPI)—A Lithuanian immigrant headed for New York today confident that a personal meeting with Nikita Khrushchev—the tactic that brought his two children to America—also will produce a visa for his daughter's fiance.

"Everything will depend on Mr. Khrushchev himself," Paulius Leonas said. "The question is if we get to see him. If we do, I see no reason why he would deny the request.

Leonas' daughter Regina, 20, and son Thomas, 18, were granted visas to leave Lithuania after Leonas appealed to Khrushchev last year during the Soviet leader's United States tour.

Now Regina has told her father she will return to Lithuania to marry Stasys Bikulcious if the 23-year-old music student is not permitted to come to America.

Asserts Integration in North Past Crisis

NEW YORK (AP)—A report by the Fund for the Republic says Northern cities may have passed their most explosive period for integrating Negroes in their neighborhoods.

★ ★ ★

The survey, released Sunday, also reported that Negroes are becoming less subject to economic discrimination when they seek to buy a home—either in purchase price or in obtaining financing.

★ ★ ★

A large number of whites also are buying houses in racially mixed neighborhoods in Northern cities regardless of whether they prefer white or Negro neighbors, the report said.

Bar Pope's Envoy From East Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist regime of East Germany has barred the Pope's envoy from East Berlin.

Archbishop Corrado Bafile says he was prevented from attending a prayer service in a Roman Catholic church in East Berlin Saturday night. The archbishop is an Italian national with ambassadorial rank as the papal nuncio to West Germany.

★ ★ ★

This was the first known case of a foreigner being barred from the Soviet sector of the divided city since the Communist authorities began restricting visits by West Germans three weeks ago.

Yeggs Almost Caught

Safe robbers barely escaped capture this morning when they returned to a Farmington Township supermarket a second time, according to sheriff's deputies.

When they went into investigate, they found two fire extinguishers on the floor near the store's safe as if they had been dropped there in a hurry.

The deputies said they realized then that they probably had surprised the burglars as they prepared to break open the safe.

The officers were unable to find any trace of the burglars, however, and believed they had sneaked out after the officers walked in.

Police said one of the thieves apparently crawled through a small air vent on the roof and then opened the door for his accomplice, who must have been too large to squeeze through the 18-by-24-inch opening.

The store had been entered the same way two weeks ago when $2,300 was stolen from the safe. This time the thieves got nothing.

Charlotte Area Tests Buzzers

Civil Defense Office to Do Series; Planning for Oct. 11 Trial

CHARLOTTE (UPI) — About 1,700 little black boxes began buzzing simultaneously with a sound resembling loud electric shavers Sunday night as this community tested a new device to give warning of an enemy attack.

The test was the first in a series planned here by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization (OCDM).

"It went pretty well," said Sheriff Elwin Smith. "We've got one here in the office and I've got one in my house and they both buzzed off right on schedule at 9:30 p.m."

★ ★ ★

However, the sheriff added, "we had a few calls from people who said their buzzers didn't work, and they're going to have a repair crew in here all day today fixing them up for the next test," scheduled for Tuesday.

A policeman, who seemed embarrassed about it and didn't want his name mentioned, said his buzzer was one of those that failed to work right.

"I didn't hear it because I didn't have it plugged in," the policeman said. "It buzzes constantly every time I plug it in so I didn't have it plugged in for the test Sunday night. I have to get it fixed."

The little black boxes, about twice the size of a package of cigarettes, have been installed in about half the houses in this community of about 7,000 persons. Others have been installed in offices, factories, schools and other buildings.

They will be tested periodically between now and Oct. 11 and on Oct. 11 there will be a citywide test attended by top government and Civil Defense officials.

The boxes can be plugged into electric wall sockets. They use very little electricity and they cost only about $5.

Anti-Castro Pickets Faint From Hunger

NEW YORK (AP)—Six demonstrators picketing near the United Nations building collapsed while marching today, police reported.

★ ★ ★

The six were said to be on a hunger strike to protest the appearance here of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

★ ★ ★

A leader of the marchers, Regino Roig, 30, said the group of about a dozen had not eaten since 6 p.m. Saturday.

The six were taken to Grand Central Hospital, where their condition was reported not serious.

Stalls Move to Lop Off Guidance Clinic Funds

The Oakland Child Guidance Clinic stayed off a move by the county today to chop it out of 1962 appropriations entirely as the board of supervisors approved next year's operating budget of $13,600,732.

The vote on the budget was 84 to 1 with the only dissenting vote coming from Supervisor Charles B. Edwards Jr. of Madison Heights. He said he opposed the million-dollar increase over the 1960 budget.

Next year's budget calls for a salary schedule totaling $6,152,763, including 74 new employes, costing the county $355, 112 and located in 16 of the county's 21 departments.

Present and new county employes are also scheduled to receive pay raises ranging from $100 a year for the majority and up to $500 for technical and administrative positions.

The budget is based on a 5.48 county tax rate for each $1,000 of state equalized property valuation.

The 1961 budget appeared headed for routine acceptance by the 23 township and city supervisors when Paul W. McGovern, Oak Park supervisor, rose to protest a section of the resolution which would have cut the clinic from any county funds two years hence.

The clinic, which treats emotionally disturbed young children, however, still found itself with only $32,500 for next year. Officials had pleaded for $67,000.

'NO LEGAL RIGHT'

Claiming it had no legal right to give the private agency county tax funds, the ways and means committee recommended today making the 1961 appropriation the last.

McGovern said this was unwise, believing that "preventive action is a lot better than corrective action."

"I don't ask you to go beyond what you've allocated for next year," McGovern said. "But I do ask your consideration of having to face some preventive maintenance of our troubled youth or even greater costs when they end up in our courts."

Only supervisor to speak in opposition to McGovern was Harry W. Horton of Royal Oak. A member of the money-allocating ways and means committee, Horton said that if the clinic was to continue as a county function it should be placed under some departmental control, such as the health department.

No officials of the clinic, with offices in Pontiac, Royal Oak and Birmingham, spoke on the proposed deletion. A handful, however, sat quietly in the audience listening to McGovern's sympathetic plea in their behalf.

Chairman Delos Hamlin declared a voice vote backed McGovern's stand. The clinic had won, at least for the time being.

Another point of discussion on the salary schedule of the budget came up when Pleasant Ridge Supervisor Arthur G. Elliott Jr. questioned a proposed hike from $6,000 to $10,000 for a member of the Board of Road Commissioners to be appointed next month.

After considerable discussion for and against the increase, Fred L. Yockey, Huntington Woods supervisor who strongly opposed the $4,000 salary boost, moved that the question be tabled until the board's Oct. 3 meeting. The appointment is expected to be made then, too.

Yockey several times repeated his opposition to the increase. He said he wanted first the report he requested several months ago to study the feasibility of making the three commissioners strictly policy-making members and not administrative officers also.

Floods Strangle Italy Railroads

Many Towns Isolated by 10-Foot-Deep Water —Death Toll High

ROME (AP) — Railway traffic in the tourist-crowded Italian peninsula was almost at a standstill today as nearly every main line was flooded or blocked by landslides.

★ ★ ★

At least 25 were known dead in villages on the southern slopes of the Alps where scores of communities were isolated by flood waters up to 10 feet deep.

★ ★ ★

Two hundred persons were in hospitals, most of them injured in the collapse of buildings. At least 3,000 were evacuated from flooded rural areas. More than 50 square miles of fertile valley was under water as a result of three days of rain.

Khrushchev 2-Faced, Warns Richard Nixon

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will try to pose during the United Nations session as the advocate of policies which the Russian leader actually opposes.

The Republican presidential candidate said Khrushchev will talk about "peace, freedom, independence, anticolonialism and all the other things the Communists really oppose."

KENNEDY TALKS

At Atlantic City, N.J., Sen. John F. Kennedy today proposed giving the next president an arsenal of new weapons for what he called fairer dealing with national emergency labor disputes. He cited the 1958-60 marathon steel strike as an example.

Kennedy, Democratic candidate for the White House, also said the Communist challenge confronting the United States rules out any thought of cutting the steel industry work week to 32 hours in an effort to reduce unemployment in that field.

He thus rejected a suggestion which had been made by David J. McDonald, president of the Steelworkers Union.

Nixon spoke at a meeting of 250 members of the American Nationalities for Nixon-Lodge Committee which will wage a campaign for support among 20 million Americans of foreign origin. Later in the day, he will start off on a 4,000-mile campaign swing.

The Republican presidential candidate told the nationalities group that "one of the insidious appeals of the Communists is that they do not come as dictators or conquerors, but as partisans of anything the people want."

"They talk in one way very effectively and act in another," he said.

Kennedy made his appeal in a speech to the United Steelworkers' Convention. He also planned to speak before the Chemical Workers' Union in Atlantic City before flying to Charleston, W.Va., tonight for a conference on distressed areas.

Kennedy, who spent Sunday in Washington with his wife and young daughter, told reporters he was encouraged by the public reaction to his first 15 days of campaigning. But he conceded he was in a "very close" race with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Many Sue S. Africa

PRETORIA, South Africa, (AP) —The South African government has been served with more than 200 claims for damages totaling more than $1,120,000 arising out of the Sharpeville shootings March 21 when police fired on Negro demonstrators. Sixty-nine Africans were killed 180 wounded.

School Bus Crash Kills One, Hurts 20

EASTON, Pa. (AP) — A school bus carrying about 30 children collided today with a tractor-trailer at a rural intersection near Nazareth. The bus driver was killed and 20 children were injured, none seriously.

★ ★ ★

The crash occurred as the bus was near the Leibert Elementary School in Upper Nazareth Township, about eight miles north of here.

★ ★ ★

The bus driver, Paul Remaly, of Easton, was thrown from his vehicle and a wheel of the big rig rolled over him. He died about two hours later in Easton Hospital.

False Alarm Panics Congo

Mobutu Reinforcements Mistaken for Lumumba Supporters

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Momentary panic hit Leopoldville today when 400 recruits arrived to join the forces of Congolese strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu and were mistaken for reinforcements for ousted pro-Soviet Premier Patrice Lumumba.

A spokesman for Premier Joseph Ileo, who replaced Lumumba, said the new government was ready to offer Lumumba a cabinet post in order to "prevent a bloodbath."

There was no immediate reaction from Lumumba.

The recruits from the Equatorial Province appeared off the waterfront in a barge. Dock workers left their jobs and fled through the streets. Panic heightened when a Congolese soldier fired a shot in the direction of the khaki-clad recruits.

But an hour later all was quiet. Loudspeakers announced that the new arrivals were unarmed men coming down river to join up with Mobutu's forces.

The bespectacled Mobutu shut himself in his Camp Leopold villa and refused to see reporters.

Earlier, he moved to set up a "public safety committee" to run the Congo after foiling an attempt on his life by a supporter of Lumumba.

Lumumba himself was reported to have spent the night in his troop-guarded house. Reliable sources said he was still there this morning.

A meeting he had scheduled for a parliamentary session today to hear of his "common declaration of reconciliation" did not come off.

Lumumba showed up at his official residence Sunday firing off communiques and saying he would deal with Mobutu, who seized power last week and announced he would "neutralize" all politicians until the end of the year.

★ ★ ★

Lumumba also said he and President Joseph Kasavubu had signed a common declaration of reconciliation, but Kasavubu denied this.

TV Stations Set to Ignore Nikita

Tell State Department No Propaganda Will Be Permitted by Them

NEW YORK (AP) — The three major television networks indicate they will go along with the State Department and not permit Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to use the networks for propaganda during his stay here.

However, the Mutual Broadcasting System says it has invited the Soviet chief, Cuba's Fidel Castro and nine other heads of state to appear on its radio network.

The major TV networks—the National Broadcasting Co., the American Broadcasting Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting System—said Sunday they would cover Khrushchev's actions and speeches as head of the Soviet Union's U.N. delegation only.

The State Department said last week that anything more than straight news coverage of the Soviet leader would give him a chance to spread propaganda.

Mutual said it had received "favorable replies" from Indian Prime Minister Nehru and Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia to appear on a radio news panel program with other heads of state.

The Canadian capital city of Ottawa did not acquire its present name until 1854. Previously it was known as Bytown, after a British officer who was known as Colonel John By.

Stocks Plunge Through '60 Low

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market fell through the 1960 closing low in the Dow Jones industrial average in active trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks dropped from fractions to more than 2 points.

The Dow Industrials pierced the so-called "600 level" in the first hour then plunged deeper below it in heavier turnover as the session wore on.

The ticker tape ran late as selling snowballed in the afternoon.

The so-called "triple bottom," formed around 600 in the Dow Industrials, had formed a support area on three "tests" in March, May and July when prices rebounded from it.

Last week the average sank close to it again but failed to rally, moving indecisively. The action today was a vigorous penetration which, according to Wall Street theory, should cause the list to drop further and find a lower support.

Trading sentiment also was dampened by the United Nations meeting which some traders feared could have unsettling results.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 9.80 to 592.39. This year's closing low was 599.10 on March 8.

Shirley Show Wins Out; Goodby, Dennis, Old Pal

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Oh, fudge.

"The Shirley Temple Show" made its debut in rich, living color on NBC-TV Sunday night and turned in a smoothly-blended, winning production of Frank Baum's children's classic, "The Land of Oz."

Frankly, I was rooting against it. Why? Well, we—the two youngsters, mamma and myself—used to enjoy "Dennis the Menace" together on CBS-TV.

After we enjoyed Miss Temple's rival show, I broke the sad news to the kids: They'll have to choose between Shirley and Dennis. This is the time for sacrifice and in NBC's program strategy for the new season, Shirley Temple is pitted against "Lassie" and "Dennis the Menace."

The kids went to bed with a difficult decision to make for next week. I think they'll resolve it in favor of Miss Temple — because it's in color—but I think it's a shame they can't have both. So long, Dennis, old pal.

The "Land of Oz" gave the cast a chance for rousing portrayals of no-goodniks, goodniks and Old Lord Nikidik. Jonathan Winters was wicked as Nikidik; Agnes Moorehead cackled affectionately as Mombi the witch; Sterling Holloway wore a magnificent pumpkin for a head; Ben Blue did the scarecrow bit; Gil Lamb croaked and shone as the tin woodman; Arthur Treacher was a buttery butler; Frances Bergen glowed as Glinda the good.

The "magical" stage effects were acceptably produced. Miss Temple starred in a dual role, as Princess Ozma and Tip, the blonde boy. She seemed to enjoy the latter part more. Let's say because it gave her an opportunity to attempt a dramatic role.

The hour moved along with eye-popping attractiveness and spirit.

NATIONAL VELVET

In keeping with its family approach to Sunday viewing, NBC-TV also brought in its new "National Velvet" series Sunday night.

It's "Lassie" all over again if you substitute a horse for the dog, a girl for the boy.

The acting, the characterizations and production standards are reminiscent of the "Lassie" operation. That is, lots of glop. Velvet isn't allowed to whip the horse while driving down to the wire in a horse race. And the horse isn't allowed to perspire after his exertions.

TAB HUNTER

Doble tells the viewer of his troubles in getting dates. The new NBC-TV series, which also made its debut Sunday night, has Tab telling viewers of his troubles in getting rid of the chicks. Personally, I think Tab is bragging, not complaining.

He's a bachelor who lives in a splendid beach house that seems to be besieged by lovely, sexy, innocent girls.

The setting swings but the plot and dialogue in the opener betrayed lots of rust. Only a bit in which one of Tab's girls turned his car, toaster and power mower into miniature hot rods offered any freshness.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: "The Gershwin Years," a 90-minute CBS-TV special, will reflect the flowering of American culture between 1918 and 1937 against a background of Gershwin music. Air date: Sunday, Jan. 8. Producer: Leland Hayward; sponsor: General Electric.

Mitch Miller and NBC-TV are expected to reach agreement on a series of "singalong" specials for the 1960-61 season . . .

Richard Nixon and John Kennedy have agreed to appear, separately, on "Eleanor Roosevelt's Diamond Jubilee Plus One," the NBC-TV special for Friday, Oct. 7.

Jordan Denies Attacks on Syrian Territory

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — King Hussein of Jordan Sunday night denied U.A.R. charges that Jordan infiltrators bombed railroad installations and attacked military posts in Syria recently.

★ ★ ★

In an interview in his hilltop palace overlooking the Jordan capital, Hussein said Jordan would take to the United Nations its dispute with the U.A.R. over the assassination of Premier Hazza Majali.

Majali and 10 other persons died when two time bombs exploded in the foreign ministry here three weeks ago.

Pope John Speaks Up About Upward Looking

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—We heard a new story about Pope John while we were in a luxurious supper club.

Gogi, host at the Pierre Cotillion Room, was in an audience given by the Pope the other day. Besides the Pope was Monsignor O'Brien, interpreter and tutor in languages, 6 feet 3. And beside Monsignor O'Brien was Monsignor English of California, 6 feet 8½.

WILSON

Turning to Monsignor O'Brien, 6 feet 3, who was talking upward at Monsignor English, 6 foot 8½, the Pope said in Finech: "Now you can see, Monsignor O'Brien, how I feel when I talk to you."

Oriental Beauty 'Hey Girl' Joins the Paladin Cast

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — An oriental beauty with the unexotic name of "Hey Girl" has been added to the cast of "Have Gun, Will Travel," replacing Chinese actor Kam Tong who played "Hey Boy."

Born in China, educated in Honolulu and a veteran of 36 video roles, Lisa provides romantic interest for Richard (Paladin) Boone in the top rated horse opera.

Her role, however, is not exactly made clear. She hangs around the San Francisco Hotel where Paladin makes his headquarters, as did "Hey Boy."

Because she is too pretty to be dismissed with brief appearances, Lisa will be seen more than was Kam.

"So far my job in the hotel has not been specified," the almond-eyed actress said in a low smoky voice.

"Mainly I take care of Paladin. I bring him drinks, serve him dinner and pack for him when he leaves on trips. I also read his telegrams before he does and chide him when he behaves badly with girls."

It's difficult to understand why Paladin would be misbehaving with other girls when Lisa is around.

Lisa wears form-fitting, Chinese-style gowns both on and off screen. She speaks excellent English and her eyes hint at all manner of Far East mystery.

Still a citizen of China, Lisa hopes to become an American citizen in two years.

"Until I appeared in 'Have Gun,' I played Japanese girls," she smiled. "Their mannerisms and appearance are entirely different from Chinese, but I learned how to imitate them.

Lisa is married to Sterling Hwong, who owns a Chinese restaurant in Los Angeles. He also is a Chinese citizen.

"I would like very much to visit my home in Shanghai," Lisa said. "But that will be impossible as long as the international situation continues as it is. I last visited China in 1947.

"Even if I did go back to my homeland I'm not sure the United States would allow me to come back to this country — or that the Chinese Communists would let me return."

"I'd like to get out of that hotel so I can take part in more of the action," she said. "And I like the romantic element of the stories.

THE SILVER SHIELD —
Your Guarantee of Heating Comfort!

SILVER SHIELD Certified AIR CONDITIONING SYSTEM

INTEGRITY
Key to Heating
VALUE and COMFORT

SILVER SHIELD PROTECTS YOU!

A heating system is actually built into your home. The fuel and the furnace are just the start of the job.

For example, someone must decide how many registers or diffusers and how many return grilles to install, and where to put them. The size of the furnace and ducts, and their placement is important to your comfort. So are the automatic controls . . . filters . . . humidifying equipment.

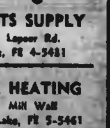

Few buyers are qualified to make such decisions. Speaking frankly, many people are interested only in the cheapest installation available. But a cheap job costs heavily in the long run. Fuel is wasted. Repair bills can be high. And most important, the family is cheated of the years of pleasant, healthful indoor comfort it would otherwise enjoy.

This is why leading dealer-contractors have united and introduced the SILVER SHIELD SYSTEM here . . . putting their integrity to work for you. You merely ask for a contract that guarantees you a SILVER SHIELD SYSTEM, built to rigid, modern comfort standards. It is inspected by qualified men, and must meet the test of quality before the SILVER SHIELD label is attached.

SILVER SHIELD systems are available for all residential comfort needs . . . heating, cooling, or a combination of both.

Dawson Analyzes Industry Troubles

A Few Orders Cheer Steelmen

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A slight pickup in steel orders is bringing some cheer to the much beset metals industries.

Copper, lead and zinc markets are plagued with worldwide over supplies and price weakness. Aluminum has a cost squeeze on profits.

Steelmen, though thankful for the belated gain in orders reported in recent days, still are mostly reconciled to only a moderate increase in tonnage output until at least November. The Federal Reserve Board has made the prediction of a less than normal advance in September official, after reporting a disappointing August.

The metals industries tend to be up-and-down propositions, closely tied to business cycles. Now their situation is complicated by overseas political and labor uncertainties.

Long-range considerations include technical and mechanical advancements that magnify their current capacity to produce well in excess of demand. Most observers think this could last for a few years longer.

There is also growing competition, not only with each other, but with the steadily increasing number and volume of substitutes to which their customers can turn when metal prices seem too high.

Slackness of demand for steel is most noticeable in the United States. In West Europe it still finds a prime market.

But American steelmen have one consolation. After a period of our steel imports topping exports, American steel once more is flowing overseas in greater volume than European and Japanese steel is coming here.

The best domestic customers for steel are still not ordering in old-time volume.

Auto makers either are using less steel for smaller cars or still living to some extent off their stockpiles. Appliance makers are ordering a little better, but not much.

The construction industry has slowed down a bit, and also has taken a fancy to other materials —concrete, aluminum, glass, plastics. The oil industry has its own excess capacity problem and isn't buying steel for new wells, pipe lines and refineries the way it once did.

Copper shares some of these problems with steel. It usually moves up and down in much the same way with the business cycle.

★ ★ ★

But copper's problems involve, in addition to worldwide over-capacity to produce, the uncertainties of political upheavals in Africa and Latin America.

The Congo, for example, has copper which Russia could use to advantage. You might remember that during Khrushchev's visit to Manhattan Island.

Labor stoppages are also fairly frequent in African and Latin American metal mines. So nonferrous metalmen learn to swing with the punches and are never too surprised at changes in world prices.

Fluctuations in the costs of producing and finishing metals—with mechanical advances constantly sparring with rising wage scales —add to the zest of the competition with other materials.

★ ★ ★

During the present slow demand for steel, the zest is unappreciated. This is particularly true since the steel companies would like to raise prices when wages go up in December. Competition with other materials, and with each other, will probably force most companies to make any price hikes small.

★ ★ ★

This won't help steel earnings. Wall Street has taken note of that and last week bid down prices of some steel company stocks to new lows for 1960 and some others to hailing distance of their lows.

Unwise, Though Right in Stand, Peale Believes

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale says it may have been unwise for him to align himself with a group of conservative Protestants, but he doesn't feel he did anything wrong.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Peale said in a sermon Sunday at Marble Collegiate (Reformed) Church, of which he is pastor, that his association with the group known as Citizens for Religious Freedom "might be questionable from the standpoint of wisdom."

"I've never been too bright anyway," he said wryly. His congregation laughed sympathetically.

The group of 150 Protestants, most of whose names have been withheld by the organization, met recently in Washington. One session, led part of the time by Dr. Peale, released a statement which expressed doubt that a Roman Catholic president could resist pressures from the Vatican.

16 African and Asian Countries Back Dag, Slap Russ on Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Sixteen African and Asian countries urged the General Assembly today to back Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's mission to the Congo.

They pushed their resolution in the face of the Soviet Union's campaign against Hammarskjold and its expressed determination to send the Congo help outside U.N. channels whenever it pleased.

The 82-nation Assembly, in emergency session on the Congo since Saturday, scheduled morning, afternoon and evening meetings today.

There were prospects it might adopt the resolution tonight, within hours after the arrival of UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union called on the General Assembly today to approve a resolution denouncing Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold for the overthrow of the Congolese government headed by Patrice Lumumba.

Assembly President Victor Andres Belaunde of Peru was ready to call another meeting Tuesday morning if necessary to finish with the issue in time to open the regular session on schedule at 3 p. m.

Besides Khrushchev, Presidents Gamal Abdel Nasser of the U. A. R., Tito of Yugoslavia and Sukarno of Indonesia, Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba and seven satellite and Soviet republic leaders will attend the regular session. President Eisenhower will speak Thursday.

En route to New York aboard the Soviet liner Baltika, Khrushchev said in a ship-to-shore interview — Hammarskjold was backing the Belgian colonialists in the Congo. He also said, "The Soviet Union has helped and will help the Congolese people in their struggle for independence."

★ ★ ★

The Asian-African resolution, introduced Sunday night, asked Hammarskjold "to continue to take vigorous action" to help the Congolese government keep law and order.

★ ★ ★

Hammarskjold has put an 18,000 man U.N. force in the Congo for that purpose. Without mentioning the force, the proposal called on all countries to refrain from sending war materials and military personnel to the Congo at this time "except upon the request of the United Nations through the secretary-general."

★ ★ ★

This appeal, the resolution said was "without prejudice to the sovereign rights of the Republic of the Congo"—whose sometime Premier Patrice Lumumba has accepted Soviet planes and trucks in his fight against secession movements and has insisted he is entitled to get aid outside the U.N.

False Alarm Panics Congo

Mobutu Reinforcements Mistaken for Lumumba Supporters

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Momentary panic hit Leopoldville today when 400 recruits arrived to join the forces of Congolese strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu and were mistaken for reinforcements for ousted pro-Soviet Premier Patrice Lumumba.

★ ★ ★

The recruits from the Equatorial Province appeared off the waterfront in a barge. Dock workers left their jobs and fled through the streets. Panic heightened when a Congolese soldier fired a shot in the direction of the khaki-clad recruits.

But an hour later all was quiet. Loudspeakers announced that the new arrivals were unarmed men coming down river to join up with Mobutu's forces.

The bespectacled Mobutu shut himself in his Camp Leopold villa and refused to see reporters.

Earlier, he moved to set up a "public safety committee" to run the Congo after foiling an attempt on his life by a supporter of Lumumba.

Lumumba himself was reported to have spent the night in his troop-guarded house. Reliable sources said he was still there this morning.

A meeting he had scheduled for a parliamentary session today to hear of his "common declaration of reconciliation" did not come off.

Lumumba showed up at his official residence Sunday firing off communiques and saying he would deal with Mobutu, who seized power last week and announced he would "neutralize" all politicians until the end of the year.

★ ★ ★

Lumumba also said he and President Joseph Kasavubu had signed a common declaration of reconciliation, but Kasavubu denied this.

Picture Capsule Put Into Space by U.S. Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States launched an 83.6 pound instrument package high into space over the Pacific Ocean today to get information on radiation zones which may imperil manned space flight.

★ ★ ★

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said a four-stage solid fuel sounding rocket was launched at 11:36 a. m. EDT from the Pacific missile range facility at Point Arguello, Calif.

The instrument package contained layers of emulsion, similar to photographic film, to capture pictures of high energy particles in the inner radiation belt surrounding the earth.

The intention was to send the payload to an altitude of about 1,200 miles away in the Pacific.

Castro to Save His Words for United Nations

Cheered and Booed on NY Arrival; Slated to Speak Next Monday

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK—Garrulous Fidel Castro says he will keep quiet until he addresses the United Nations General Assembly.

boos and catcalls from his

He smiled and waved as he left the plane and said hoarsely: "I want to salute the people of the United States."

He added: "My English, the same as the last time, is not so good. All I have to say I will say to the United Nations."

A crowd of 3,000 at Idlewild Airport was waiting to greet the strapping, 34-year-old lawyer. Police kept all but a few hundred at the main gate, nearly two miles from where his plane stopped.

★ ★ ★

They carried banners reading "Welcome Fidel, give them hell," "With Castro until I die — Cuba free," and the like.

As a 50-car motorcade left the airport, Castro tried to stop his car to greet those at the gate, but police hustled it along.

Raul Roa Jr., son of Cuba's foreign minister, said Castro will hold no news conferences before he addresses the United Nations.

TO JOIN REDS?

"He will explain everything when he speaks on the 26th," Roa said. Castro is expected to join in Soviet denunciations of alleged U. S. aggression in Cuba and other Latin-American nations, and to urge admission of Communist China to the U. N.

★ ★ ★

Along the route to the Shelburne Hotel, Castro was greeted by boos and catcalls as well as more cheers. One man shouted in the lobby: "You ought to drop dead, you bum." Castro ignored the taunts and went straight to his room.

At least two anti-Castro demonstrators were arrested by police. More than 200 officers were assigned around, within and on the WELCOMES KHRUSHCHEV — The United States wasn't welcoming Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today as it did on his visit here last year. The traditional little girl with the flowers was on hand as he arrived in New York, nevertheless. Another U. S. defector. No, she's the daughter of a member of the Russian legation. Khrushchev was rain-spattered but smiling as he stepped ashore from his ship, the Baltika.

Plane Kills 77 in Guam Crash

Flight Home to U. S. Smashes Into Hill; 17 Survive, 1 Dies Later

AGANA, Guam (AP)—At least 77 persons, most of them American military personnel and their wives and children homeward bound, died today in the thundering explosion and crash of a World Airways transport plane on a jungle-matted hill of this western Pacific island.

Seventeen persons were alive when rescuers got to the twisted shell of the plane but one of them died a few hours later.

The wings were ripped off the giant plane as it plowed a 100-yard path through dense growth on the side of a 640-foot hill called Mt. Barrigada.

There were conflicting theories on what occurred. Some military sources said an explosion blew apart one of the four engines just before the crash. Others said the explosion came on the impact.

The 17 survivors were rushed to the U.S. Naval Air Station hospital in Agana. Three were reported in critical condition and 14 seriously hurt.

Waiting for Baltika

Showers Spoil Boo Plans

A chartered cruise boat which headed out to meet the Soviet ship Baltika carried only 114 passengers.

★ ★ ★

Capt. William V. Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, was enthusiastic as he boarded the ship at 5:30 a.m., but he was sodden and disappointed when he returned four hours later.

★ ★ ★

"The fog kept our signs from being seen and the harbor police and Coast Guard stuck their noses in to make it even worse."

Khrushchev displayed his jolly look as he walked down the Baltika's gangplank, but a few minutes earlier appeared impatient at the time it took to get the ship tied up and the gangplank lowered.

He paced back and forth, occasionally stopping to talk to the crew on deck. Actually, the docking was handled rapidly. It was 15 minutes from the time two tugs nudged the ship into the pier until the was secure and the gangplank down.

The pier and the general area, at 25th St., and East River Drive, swarmed with police and security agents. The drive was closed to traffic to facilitate movement of Khrushchev's motorcade uptown to the Soviet delegation's headquarters on Park Avenue. Normally the drive carries thousands of motorists to their jobs in the financial district of lower Manhattan, and to bridges leading to Brooklyn.

★ ★ ★

Even subway trains were halted on the nearby Manhattan and Williamsburgh Bridges while the Baltika moved up the river. Some trains were delayed, others rerouted through the Montague St., tunnel.

Best view of the docking—and one of the driest—was afforded nurses at Bellvue Hospital's nursing residence opposite the dock. The windows were filled with peering nurses in starched white uniforms.

Among those not on the pier when the Baltika pulled in was Cuban Premier Fidel Castro. He stayed in his room at the Hotel Shelbourne, where he checked in Sunday night after a flight from Havana. Greeting him as he awoke this morning was a sign attached to a fire escape directly across the street—written in ink on brown paper. It said: "Fidel Commie go home."

There was one lone picket when the Baltika reached quarantine at Staten Island en route to Manhattan. She identified herself as Mrs. Norman Craig, wife of a boarding officer, whose home is in the quarantine area.

She had to leave to take her son Norman Jr. to school, but returned just in time to get in a healthy boo.

Festival Days Huge Success

Merchant Says Crowds Proved People Like to 'Go Downtown'

Not even a brief shower could dampen Downtown Festival Days in its waning hours Saturday evening.

★ ★ ★

The three-day marathon of merriment, sponsored by the Downtown Mechants Association, was a big success, bringing thousands of people to downtown Pontiac.

"There were more people downtown during the three days than we ever expected," said Norman L. Pattison, festival chairman.

"A big chowd turned out for the Saturday night shows, even though it rained briefly and more showers threatened.

"There were people here that said they hadn't been downtown for a year—even some who had never been downtown," Pattison explained today.

And what was the biggest single drawing card? Pattison and others agreed it was the free breakfast.

"We had an estimated 2,300 for breakfast Thursday, about 2,500 Friday and more than that on Saturday."

"People who came to festival days the last two years brought friends and relatives this year," said George Richman.

"It gave us all a wonderful chance to see Pontiac area talent and it clearly demonstrated that people still love to come downtown."

Clearing and Cooling Weather Predicted

Clearing and cooler weather is predicted tonight with an expected low of 52 degrees.

Tuesday will be generally fair and a little warmer with a high of 78 says the weatherman.

Precipitation will total near one-half inch, mostly as showers on Thursday and Saturday.

Morning southwesterly winds at 8 miles per hour will become northwesterly 15 to 20 miles tonight.

Rainfall from 10 a.m. Saturday to 10 a.m. this morning registered .5 inches.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 58 degrees. At 1 p.m. the reading was 65.

Indirectly Says President Has a Thick Skull

Docking Is Boycotted by High Officials; Red Envoys, Eatons on Hand

From Our News Wires

Khrushchev said he hoped Eisenhower would make more than a "fancy speech" at the U.N. Assembly, and said his own purpose was to spare no effort until "even the thick-skulled" realize the necessity of general disarmament.

Khrushchev arrived amid boos of anti-Communist demonstrators and said he would welcome "serious negotiations" with Eisenhower at the United Nations on The East-West disarmament deadlock.

He encountered an official chill—no top United States or other Western dignitaries were on hand—as he stepped from the Baltika. Pelting rain and lowering skies darkened the scene.

The only Americans of any prominence present were Cyrus Eaton, the Cleveland industrialist who won the Lenin Peace Prize last year, and his wife.

CRIES OF 'MURDERER'

Their ovation could not drown out the boos and cries of "Murderer" from demonstrators held back by police at some distance from the pier.

Khrushchev smiled and waved from the deck as the ship docked but appeared impatient at the time it took to moor and set up the gangplank.

Scarcecly was he ashore than he whipped out a typewritten statement and began to read.

★ ★ ★

Three leaders of Russian satellite nations who arrived with him made speeches also. They were Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej of Romania, Todor Zhikov of Bulgaria, and Janos Kadar of Hungary. All spoke on peace themes.

"I am not sure," said Khrus-

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — The White House declined today to comment on remarks made by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev upon his arrival in New York to attend the U.N. General Assembly.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty was asked if he had anything to say about Khrushchev's comments. Hagerty smiled and said simply, "No."

But President Eisenhower himself used the word "troublemakers" in what semed to be a reference to Khrushchev, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and Communist officials attending the U.N. meeting.

The Chief Executive did not mention any foreign leaders by name, but his meaning seemed clear to an audience in the White House rose garden.

The President called for national unity "in these especially troublous times — at least there seem to be troublemakers trying to come to our country."

The President used the "troublemakers" remark in a joking way.

Britain's new foreign secretary, the Earl of Home, said after the White House the most serious problem before the United Nations is the "attempt to bring independent African Nations into the cold war."

Lord Home, talking with newsmen after paying his respects to Eisenhower, did not specifically mention Russian intervention in the Congo crisis.

WOULD BE DISASTROUS

But he said, "It would be disastrous to the African countries if an external power tries to use the situation to promote ideological warfare in Africa.

"It could lead to a situation such as we had in Korea. It could be a dangerous and explosive situation in the world."

★ ★ ★

The foreign secretary said without elaboration, however, that he hoped the U.N. General Assembly could get the Congo business out of the way."

U.S. Carrier, Marines on South China Sea May Be Called

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI)—Rival military factions in Laos announced today that the country had been invaded by Communists. One side called on the free world for help.

★ ★ ★

"The Red threat increased the possibility that the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) would send aid to the tiny landlocked kingdom.

A U.S. aircraft carrier and combat-ready Marines are on maneuvers in the South China Sea and presumably would be available in an emergency.

News of the invasion was broadcast by the "neutralist" government of Prince Souvanna Phouma for Vientiane — the country's administrative capital — and by a pro-Western revolutionary regime established in Savannakhet by Prince Boon Oum and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

"Radio Vientiane appealed to Boon Oum and Phoumi to join forces with Phouma to combat the Red invasion.

"Now is the time to be united," the broadcast said.

Phouma was reported to have sent word to Boon Oum asking him to fly to the royal capital in Luang Prabang to discuss the situation with King Savang Vathana.

★ ★ ★

Boon Oum, who returned Sunday from Sam Neua Province, which considers the Communist North Viet Nam, said Laotian army outposts have been attacked by Communist Pathet Lao and Viet Minh troops.

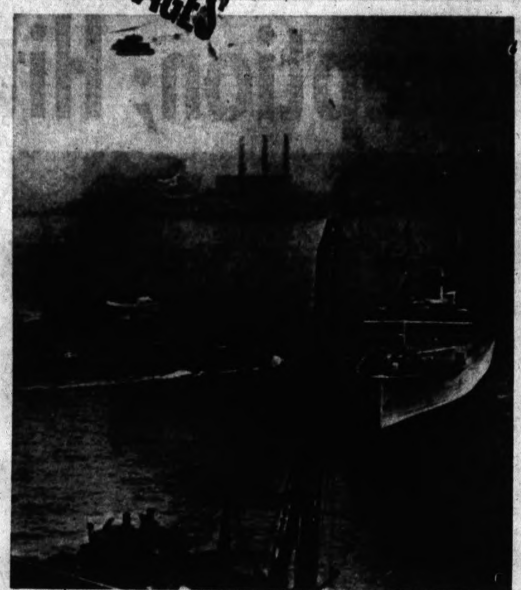

★ ★ ★

"Our country has been invaded by Communists but we have not surrendered," Boon Oum said in a broadcast over Radio Savannakhet.

"Supported by Viet Minh battalions, the enemy is speeding its advance and has joined with subversive elements in the interior of Laos. Other Viet Minh battalions are continuing their march north of our frontier."

"In the face of this grave situation to the peace of Southeast Asia we make a solemn appeal to all free peoples to help us in this fight against Communist tyranny," Boon Oum said.

Castro's mixed reception was in marked contrast to his visit in April 1959 when he received a rousing welcome from Cuba's New York colony of about 100,000 persons.

This time he is restricted to Manhattan Island, a move which prompted the Cuban government to impose travel restrictions on American Ambassador Philip Bonsal in Havana.

Castro has never met Khrushchev face to face although the Cuban leader has openly courted the Russians and welcomed their aid in violent anti-American tirades on television.

"He is here as the head of state," Rao said.

It was not certain when the two would get together.

Castro was wearing pistols when he left Havana, to the cheers of about 1,000 backers, but they had disappeared when he alighted here, clad in his green army fatigues. Sidearms are not allowed, he had been told, even on chiefs of state.

Hurricane Flo Follows Donna

Latest Storm Traces Same Path, but Not as Destructive Yet

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florence has lost her punch and is no longer a tropical storm, the Miami Weather Bureau reported today.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tropical storm Florence followed her destructive sister's path westward through the Atlantic today, but she has not yet built up to Donna's dangerous proportions.

A morning bulletin from the Miami Weather Bureau placed the storm about 540 miles southeast of Miami and near Great Inagua Island in the Bahamas.

★ ★ ★

Florence's highest winds are estimated at 50 to 55 m.p.h. in a few squalls near and north of the center. Winds of 30 to 45 m.p.h. whirled out about 175 miles in the northeast semicircle.

A gradual turn to the north from the westerly course is expected to take the center near the northeast coast of Cuba.

World Adventure Series Also to Run in Afternoon

BIRMINGHAM — Due to a sell-out, the Birmingham Community House today announced that the Saturday series of World Adventure programs, scheduled originally for evenings only will also be held in the afternoon.

In order to accommodate those unable to get tickets for the evening performance a second series featuring the same speakers and the same films will be held at 3 p.m.

"The afternoon programs will also provide an opportunity for children, especially those 10 years of age and older, to see the travel films and hear noted travelers," said director of the series George Pierrot.

Both the 8 p.m. and 3 p.m. programs at the Community House will be in addition to the regular Sunday afternoon series of World Adventure presented at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The first meeting of the Democratic Club of Birmingham will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Community House.

Local candidates have been invited to the meeting. The public is invited.

Service for George G. Thurman, 70, of 223 E. Frank St., will be Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Roselawn Park Cemetery.

The Lodge of Sorrow, under the auspices of the Pontiac Elks, will hold a service at the funeral home tomorrow, at 8 p.m.

Mr. Thurman died today at his home.

A retired salesman, he was one-time owner of the Thurman Market in Birmingham.

He was a member of Birmingham F&AM 44, a life member and chaplain of the BPOE 810, and a past president of the Mens Chorus of Birmingham.

Surviving are his wife Dorothea; three daughters, Mrs. Albert Vasu and Mrs. Jack Gerrard, both of Clawson and Mrs. H. William Button of Berkley; a son, Eugene of Abelene, Texas; a sister, Mrs. B. A. Tepoorten of Sylvan Lake; a brother, Eugene of Pontiac; 10 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Blowout Delays Doctor

To Attend State C. of C. Parley

Pontiac Area Members Will Go to Lansing for 1st Meeting Tomorrow

Members of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce will travel to Lansing tomorrow for the first annual meeting of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce in Lansing's Civic Center.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac group will consist of Bruce Annett, a director of the state chamber; Harry J. Whitman, president of the Pontiac chamber; L. Clare Utley; James Clarkson; and John Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac chamber.

Gubernatorial candidates Paul D. Bagwell and John B. Swainson will open the day's activities at 10:30 a.m. with a discussion of their plans for the economic growth of Michigan.

Other key speakers during the day will be Dr. John A. Hannah, president, Michigan State University; Robert E. Pickup, executive director, Citizens Research Council of Michigan; and Robert W. French, president, Tax Foundation, Inc.

Rain, Iciness Greet Khrushchev in U.S.

shchev, "whether or not I understood correctly the latest decision of the United States government with regard to Mr. Eisenhower, the United States president, taking part in the work of the General Assembly."

The President is scheduled to address the United Nations on Thursday.

"If this does not mean a fancy speech but really constructive participation the work of the assembly, we would welcome such a decision," Khrushchev said.

"The United States have perhaps reappraised their attitude on the assembly meeting and have also come to the conclusion that serious negotiation can be undertaken in the U.N. to reach a disarmament agreement."

Khrushchev said the Soviet delegation was coming to the United States "in the name of consolidating peace and solving complicated international issues."

He termed "the problem of general and complete disarmament under the appropriate strict International control" as the cardinal question of international relationship.

CITES 'EVIL FORCES'

He said "the evil forces who want to poison the atmosphere in relations between our countries will invariably sustain a defeat."

Khrushchev spoke into a public address microphone. He paused after each sentence or two for a translator into English. The complete procedure took 35 minutes.

Other Communist officials also addressed the gathering on the pier.

After the speeches, Khrushchev was sped in a limousine, surrounded by police car escort, to the headquarters of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations, at Park Ave. and 68th St.

The only American officials on hand were members of the State Department staff and security agents. On her way up the harbor, the Baltika did not receive the usual 21-gun salute, accorded craft carrying visiting heads of state, from Army headquarters on Governors Island.

New York Folk Leave Soviets' Nikita Khrushed

LONDON (UPI)—"New York gives him the Khrush-off" said London's Evening Standard today in headlines reporting the arrival of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in New York.

★ ★ ★

Other London papers also bannered the story.

★ ★ ★

"K's ship sails in — gray skies reflect the mood," said the Evening News. "Here comes the cosmonaut — and New York is tense."

Forest fires consume 14 per cent of the wood growth in southern forests each year, exceeding the total amount which is cut for pulpwood.

McNamara, Kellis to Say Hello Here

U.S. Sen. Patrick V. McNamara will spend tomorrow in Pontiac with James Kellis, Democratic congressional candidate, drumming up votes at factory gates and the Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

★ ★ ★

In the evening, Sen. McNamara will appear before the Bloomfield Democratic Club meeting at the county headquarters, 17 Water St.

In the morning McNamara will station himself outside the Fisher Body Division plant shaking hands with workers as they enter and leave.

In the afternoon he and Kellis will do the same at the Pontiac Motor Division plant.

From 4 to 6 p.m. the Senator and Kellis will park the Kellis campaign trailer at the shopping center to help kick off the Frontier Days celebration there. Both will make brief addresses at 6 p.m. to shoppers.

Wedding Day Put Off as Germs Take Over

ATLANTIC, Iowa (UPI) — Larry P. Johnson and Marietta Harmsen will make another try at getting married next Sunday.

Arrangements had been completed for the ceremony this Sunday but it was postponed when Johnson was stricken with acute appendicitis and rushed to the hospital for surgery, the minister became ill with a virus infection and the matron of honor was confined to her home with pneumonia.

Seek More Warrants Against Missing Ritters

While the search continued on many fronts for the missing William B. Ritter family of West Bloomfield Township, authorities were pressing for further warrants against the owners of a Royal Oak nursing home who fled, leaving behind a reported $250,000 in debts.

★ ★ ★

Prosecutor George F. Taylor said he planned to confer with an unemployed Royal Oak man, Robert Adsit, tomorrow about signing a warrant against the Ritters charging them with obtaining money under false pretenses.

Taylor said Adsit told him he gave $5,600 to the Ritters after they told him it would be used to purchase equipment for a "new" nursing home, and that if he loaned the money they would give him a job at the home.

★ ★ ★

The FBI, Taylor said, will move against the Ritters on the theory that they fled the state to avoid prosecution.

Missing in Ritter, 45, of 2361 Midpine road, his wife, 44, and their two small children, Byran, 8, and Linda, 5.

The prosecutor believes the Ritters bilked many persons out of a quarter of a million dollars under the pretenses that they were buying a share of the Tower Park Nursing Home, 1807 S. Lafayette St. or the new home the Ritters said they were planning to build.

PART OF THE HOAX

Taylor now believes that a letter Mrs. Ritter wrote their family attorney, saying they were leaving because Ritter had lost some $60,000 gambling, was "all part of a well-calculated hoax."

"They were trying to vindicate their actions," Taylor theorized. "Why would Mrs. Ritter get into it and help finance these people if she knew her husband was gambling it all away?"

The prosecutor said he was still trying to reach as many persons as possible "who had been taken" by the Ritters.

Meanwhile, the search, concentrated in the Baltimore area since Ritter had his bank draft a certified check payable at a Baltimore bank shortly before his disappearance.

However, Royal Canadian Mounted Police were asked to join in the search after officers found copies of a newspaper from Charlottetown, Prince Edward Islands, in the Ritter garage.

★ ★ ★

Police said it was believed he Ritters have relatives at Charlottetown, in the Canadian Maritime Provinces.

Dry Midwest Gets Welcome Soaking Rainfall

By The Associated Press

After weeks of practically no rain, parched fields over large portions of the Midwest received a drenching Sunday night and early today.

Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin generally received amounts of one-half to three-quarters of an inch.

Rockford, Ill., 2.53 inches fell during a six-hour period, and Milwaukee recorded 1.39 inches. Just over the Illinois line at Janesville, Wis., a thunderstorm flooded streets up to the hubcaps of autos and a large section of the city was without electric power.

★

Beloit, Wis., also had a power failure. Considerable thunderstorm damage was reported at Oregon in northern Illinois. Thunderstorms also ranged over southwest Missouri. Amounts of up to nearly two inch fell in the Chicago area.

★ ★ ★

In the East, drizzle and showers were reported from northern Virginia to southeast New York. Showers also fell over New Mexico and Washington.

Checks, Cash Taken From Kramer Safe

More than $5,000 in checks and cash were stolen over the weekend from a trucking company in Bloomfield Township, police said today.

★ ★ ★

Missing from the Kramer-Trucking Co., 1410 Franklin Road, were $4,885 in checks and $385 in cash.

★ ★ ★

Nixon to Whip Across Thumb Tuesday

By United Press International

The focus of state politics shifts to the Republican column Tuesday as Vice President Richard M. Nixon stumps across the base of Michigan's thumb in a one-day campaign tour.

The GOP presidential nominee will arrive by air (at 11:45 a.m.) at Selfridge Air Force Base and proceed by motorcade to the new Mount Clemens city offices.

All schools and business in the city will be closed during the visit and the day has been proclaimed "Nixon Day" by Mount Clemens Mayor Harry Fiehl and Clinton Township Supervisor Kenneth Sanders.

After two noon addresses, Nixon will then proceed to Flint, and make a brief appearance at the Flint School for the Deaf, then deliver a campaign address at the Flint city parking lot.

A motor caravan will take the vice president to the Saginaw-Bay City area in the late afternoon. Mrs. Nixon has scheduled a news conference in Bay City (at 6:30 p.m.) with the women of the press.

She will rejoin her husband in time to hear him deliver an address later that evening at the Bay City Central Stadium.

Nixon will leave the state Wednesday for Fort Wayne, Ind.

Tonight Bagwell will address the "working women for Bagwell" in Detroit's Ford Auditorium. Movie star George Murphy, who handled TV arrangements at the past two Republican conventions, will instruct the women on how to engage in a "talkathon."

The "talkathon" consists of a campaign to have the women talk about Bagwell "to small groups in her own home, to those in her place of employment, to people on buses, and in stores and markets."

Police Swarm All Over NYC

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Police Department has mobilized its entire 24,000-man force and placed 9,000 men on special bodyguard duty to meet what Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy calls the greatest security challenge in New York's history.

Soivet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, Hungarian Communist boss Janos Kadar, Yugoslav President Josep Broz Tito, United Arab Republic President Gamal Nasser and a host of other major world figures will all be in New York for the United Nations General Assembly session. Most will be here by tonight.

Any bodied would reverberate around the world and the consequences could not be predicted.

To prevent such an incident, Kennedy has issued these orders:

two military divisions, has been placed on a 40-hour week instead of the usual 42 for the duration Kennedy said. No one knows how long that will be.

—Eight thousand men, including the cream of the city's riot squads, have been formed into the special security force to guard the delegation headquarters, the hotels where the national leaders will stay, the still-secret routes they will take on trips to and from the United Nations, and any area they visit.

Reinforcements will be ready to rush to any trouble spot.

—High - ranking department officers are on 24-hour call. Kennedy plans to sleep on a cot in his office.

—Extra men have been brought into Manhattan, to which Khrushchev, Kadar, Castro and Albanian Premier Mehmet Shehu have been restricted. At the danger spots—in front of the U.N. building, around the Soivet delegation headquarters on Park Avenue, around Castro's midtown hotel—patrolmen stood through the rainy night in groups, watching every pedestrian.

Forty patrolmen were spread out along the 16 empty blocks fronting the U.N. in the post-midnight hours, but the captain in charge said the U.N. guard detail would be "more like 500" during the day.

In addition there are special State Department guards. The force that normally assumes responsibility for U.N. delegates outside the international territory of the U.N. has been reinforced.

Within the confines of United Nations territory, the safety of Khrushchev and the others is in the hands of U.N. security personnel. This force also has been increased, but the U.N. took a simple expedient to cut down the danger.

No visitors will be allowed inside the glass-walled U.N. headquarters building or anywhere on U.N. property.

Express Executive Slated as Speaker

The Pontiac Traffic Club will hold its monthly meeting at 6:30 this evening at the Waldron Hotel.

Waterford Twp. Board to Consider Two Plats

The only business scheduled for tonight's Waterford Township Board meeting is the reviewing of two subdivision plats, according to Township Clerk James. E. Sesterhin.

A request to approve the Lotus Lake Subdivision plat and the Jayno Heights Subdivision plat No. 3 will be considered.

GOP Charges Kennedy With Ineptness, Failure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Republican campaign magazine Battle Line has charged that the congressional career of Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy is "studded with ineptitude and failure."

★ ★ ★

In its lead editorial, the second edition of the GOP magazine said "There is no evidence in the public domain or anywhere else that Jack Kennedy . . . can furnish even one iota of the type of experienced leadership required to safeguard the future of 180 million Americans."

Want a Silver Dollar? Ask the Treasury

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you're disgusted with inflation and would like to have a really "hard" dollar, the Treasury can oblige.

Dollar for dollar, it will trade you shiny, never used, clanging hard silver dollars for those paper "silver certificates" called one dollar bills. One is worth just as much as the other.

Don't all rush at once. The Treasury stopped making silver dollars in 1935 and now has left only 167 million of them. Maybe with those out in the Federal Reserve and commercial banks there would be one for each 180 million Americans.

Of course if some people would haul their silver dollars out of hiding there would be lots more of them in circulation — maybe. It seems people like to hoard silver dollars — carry one in a pocket or purse or just lay it on top of the bedroom dresser, for luck.

★ ★ ★

About the only part of the country to use silver dollars in everyday trade is the Rocky Mountain area.

"In the winter when only the natives are trading you won't see paper money," says Leland (Doc) Howard, assistant director of the mint.

By now it is almost legend that the silver dollar is the coin of the Las Vegas gambling tables. But Howard says it is not the gambling itself which causes the desert city's continuing demand for more of the cart-wheels.

"People come through there traveling or on vacation and carry a few out," he said. "They carry them as pocket pieces or oddities. Their use back here in the East is nil."

—The supply was far ahead of the demand. In 1937 in San Francisco, for example, when the mint was moved to a new building, guards lifting sacks of silver dollars found the bags had rotted out from age.

—The Silver Purchase Act of 1934 relieved the Treasury of the obligation to back up every new dollar bill (technically a "silver certificate") with a silver dollar. Having the silver in bullion form was good enough, Congress said.

Demand for silver dollars has been creeping up. In the 12 months ended last June 30 the Treasury disbursed 19.6 million of them. What happens when the present supply is exhausted?

"We meet the demand and that's what we'll continue to do," Howard said. He explained that the mint still has the dies for the coin and that it is not much harder to make than the next largest coin now minted, the half-dollar.

Need Meat Rise of 20 Pct. by '70

It'll Climb Next Year; U. S. Consumption Is 164 Pounds a Person

CHICAGO (UPI)—The nation's total meat production must be increased by 20 per cent in the next decade if consumption is to be maintained at present levels, a market analyst said.

J. Russel Ives, director of marketing for the American Meat Institute (AMI), said meat production next year could total 29 billion pounds, one billion more than is expected to be produced this year. He said the 1961 increase would be mainly in beef production.

Ives placed this year's meat consumption in the United States at 160 pounds per capita, a near record.

Hog production, contrary to claims, has not moved out of the corn belt, Ives said. He noted that last year the five main corn belt states raised 53 per cent of the total pig crop, compared with 46 per cent in 1939.

Friendship Tea Held by Business Women

The Pontiac Country Club opened its doors to American Business Women's Association members for their Hand of Friendship Tea Sunday. Mrs. Carroll Welch and Mrs. Ben Elbling were cochairmen for the annual affair.

Mrs. D. Richard Veazey was commentator for a "Facts and Fashions" style show which presented benefits, aims and purposes of ABWA. Mrs. Earl Atkinson presented fashions from her shop correlating to various events of the past year. Models were Mrs. Walter Bendig Jr., Joanne Callahan, Miss Cramer, Maxine Davison, Mrs. Stephen Gibbs, Mrs. John House and Mrs. Charles Irish.

Highlighting the afternoon was announcement of the 1960 "Woman of the Year" title. Mrs. LeRoy Weston presented the award to Julie O'Brien. Active in the General Motors Girls Club and The Pontiac Symphony, Miss O'Brien is also a former member of Pontiac Women's Chorus. While employed at Pontiac Central High School, she served as president of the Pontiac Educational Secretaries Association. She has done volunteer work at Pontiac General Hospital and recently was elected queen of the Pontiac Motor Division engineering department where she is employed as a secretary.

As Tipacon Chapter's "Woman of the Year," Miss O'Brien has become a candidate for the national title American Business Woman of the Year, to be announced at the national convention Oct. 21-23 at Indianapolis.

ABWA was founded in Kansas City, Mo., in 1949 and has 230 chapters in 45 states with a membership of over 13,000. The organization is an educational association which encourages increased opportunities for business women.

Approximately $40,000 was provided by the association for scholarships to deserving women throughout the country this past year. Tipacon Chapter currently sponsors a scholarship for Mary Welsh who attends Michigan State University Oakland.

Guests were Gloria Buck, Mrs. Joseph Casey, Gladys Dixon, Sue Eckley, Mrs. Donald Gerber, Mrs. Arthur Kinney, Mrs. Edward Komoroski, Mrs. James Luttman, Mrs. M. J. McGrath and Mrs. Earl Nye.

Also attending as guests were Mrs. Ward O'Brien, Mrs. Eddie O'Brien, Tina Palmer, Mrs. R. Heath Reeves, Jacqueline Robinson, Mrs. W. H. Russell and Marjorie Salisbury.

Completing the list were Peggy Schons, Ruby Shelton, Mrs. Frank Syron, Mrs. Percy Thompson, Mrs. Maud Vackaro and Lois Tucker.

Named Woman of the Year by the Tipacon Chapter, American Business Women's Association, at Sunday's tea was Julie O'Brien (right) who accepted the award from Mrs. LeRoy Weston.

Hadassah Chooses 1st Foreign-Born

NEW YORK (AP)—A trim, attractive grandmother who has spent a good part of her life helping victims of oppression is the new president of Hadassah, the first woman not reared in this country to hold the high office.

The Women's Zionist Organization of America, which has a membership of 318,000, elected Lola Kramarsky on Sept. 14.

She says: "I can never forget this date. It was on Sept. 14, in 1925, that my husband, my little girl and I left Germany for The Netherlands. That was 10 years before Hitler came to power, but my husband felt what was coming — that Germany would no longer be any place for Jews to live."

Her husband, Siegfried, is a banker, now retired.

Mrs. Kramarsky was born in Hamburg, Germany, and very early fell under the influence of the Zionist movement. She was a friend of Dr. Chaim Weizmann, Zionist leader and later Israel's first president.

Her father, a well-to-do importer, disapproved of the whole thing. "He thought I was keeping company with subversive people," she recalls with a smile.

DREAM REALIZED

She says she never thought in those days that Israel would become a reality in her lifetime. Certainly it seemed very far away in The Netherlands where she and her husband, after 1933, worked day and night with the refugees flooding across the border from Nazi Germany.

★ ★ ★

Shortly before The Netherlands was invaded in 1939 they got permits to go to Canada. The family spent six weeks in Lisbon before they were able to get both ship passage and a transit visa through the United States to Canada. Dr. Weizmann left Portugal with them.

By 1940 the Kramarskys were able to enter the United States. And within a year a friend on Hadassah's board had interested her in the organization. "I have worked for Hadassah every day since," she says.

She and her husband live in a Manhattan apartment.

Lock Up Personal Matters

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I would very much appreciate your telling me how to handle the following situation: About six months ago an elderly aunt of my husband came to live with us. We have gotten on very well together and she has been wonderful about staying with the children when my husband and I go out.

However, I have good proof that she is "curious" while we are out and has looked through private matters, such as bank statements, bills, letters, etc.

I am sure it is just harmless curiosity, but nevertheless I do not like her prying into our personal things. Is there a tactful way to handle this situation without causing hurt feelings?

Answer: You could put all the personal things that you do not wish her to pry into in a drawer that you can lock, and keep it locked at all times.

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter underwent a very serious operation and because she could not attend school for several months, the board of education sent a tutor to help her with her studies. She did a wonderful job in teaching her and through her efforts my daughter will be able to graduate with her classmates.

I would like to know in what manner I can show my appreciation to her. I thought of giving her a check. Would this be proper?

Answer: Although she most surely could use a check, your giving her one might offend her. It will be better to ask her if there is something she would especially like to have that you can give her to show your appreciation of her helpfulness to your daughter.

Dear Mrs. Post: When eating at a lunch counter, is it proper to ask a person who is sitting with an empty seat on either side of him to move over so that two friends may sit together?

Answer: If he has not yet been served you may ask him if he would mind moving over to the next seat, but not if he has his lunch in front of him.

Ex-Resident Is Librarian for Ingham

Former Pontiac resident Mrs. David Donaldson has been appointed Ingham County librarian at Mason where she resides with her husband and son Stuart on North Edgar Road.

"It won't be long now!" The George Scheppelmanns of Mt. Clemens Street look over the airline tickets they will use Wednesday on the first leg of a trip to Germany where they'll visit for a month with two sisters Mr. Scheppelmann has not seen for 37 years.

Couple to See Kin in Germany After 37 Years

Wednesday, Sept. 21 — the 4:30 p.m. flight of an airliner from Detroit's Metropolitan Airport en route to Germany sounds pretty routine.

Mr. and Mrs. George Scheppelmann of Mt. Clemens Street will be on board the European-bound craft to be reunited with two sisters Mr. Scheppelmann has not seen since 1923: Mrs. Fritz Feuerhack of Arenfelde-Holst and Mrs. Erwin Wareh of Wetter Ruhr, both in the British zone.

★ ★ ★

The 37 lonely years separating the Pontiac Motor Division maintenance department employe and his sisters at one time were fraught with fear when for nearly four years during turbulent World War II days contact with the family abroad was completely lost. Six months after the war Mr. Scheppelmann received word that his mother had died, but the rest of the family was in good health.

★ ★ ★

An active couple with many interests, the Scheppelmanns are members of the city's German Club, located on Auburn Avenue, and St. Luke Methodist Church. Mrs. Scheppelmann spends her leisure hours weaving rugs and collecting china. Her husband is engrossed with a fascinating antique gun collection which includes cavalry rifles, an 1864 cavalry carbine and a near 100-year-old German Schutzen rifle.

During their month-long visit Mr. and Mrs. Scheppelmann also will spend time in Denmark, Switzerland and Austria.

Abby Says: Have Patience

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law won't call me "Ma" like my son does. She made it clear to me that she already has a mother.

(I also have a mother but I call my mother-in-law "Ma" and I don't love my own mother any the less for it.)

My daughter-in-law never misses Sunday morning Mass, and she calls herself a good Christian, but she tells my son that "old country" people make her nervous, and she doesn't want their kiddies spending too much time around us because they might pick up our foreign accent.

ABBY

How can you knock the chip off the shoulder of a girl like that? "MA"

DEAR "MA": You can't—but maybe when she kneels to pray one day it will fall off by itself.

DEAR ABBY: We five children are planning a big party to celebrate our parents' 30th wedding anniversary. We rented a hall, hired the musicians and sold quite a few tickets. This is our problem. Our grandfather died yesterday and we had to tell our parents about this party we were planning.

As it would be a great loss of money to us, they told us to go ahead with our plans. Now the family says it wouldn't be proper for them to attend such a party so soon after grandpa's death. Should we call it off or go ahead with our plans?

THE CHILDREN

DEAR CHILDREN: Call off the party.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: A young lady is going steady with a young man. He has invited her to visit his parents out of state for a week. They plan to drive alone. The trip will require an overnight stop. I say it doesn't look right and may start gossip. Perhaps I am old-fashioned, but it would be helpful to hear your opinion.

"OLD-FASHIONED"

DEAR "OLD-FASHIONED": A young couple "going steady" shouldn't take an overnight trip together unchaperoned.

DEAR ABBY: I have a few words for "Sick of Shoes":

You think you have something to complain about? My husband swears like a parrot, smokes like a furnace and lies like a rug. He never picks up his dirty clothes, drops ashes all over the house and I don't even know how much money he makes. He leaves his shoes in the living room, too. You should get down on your knees and thank the Lord for a man like yours. SICK OF MEN

Garden Group Opens Season, Plans Projects

Sylvan Manor Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, opened its second season Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. William Frankenfield. Mrs. Fred Rider assisted the hostess.

Mrs. John Gibson, first vice president, conducted the meeting, at which a planting in the new Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church was approved and Christmas projects were discussed.

Mrs. H. Maynard of Royal Oak, speaking on "Iris and Day Lilies" brought samples of iris roots and demonstrated planting, separating and crossbreeding.

At the next meeting, Mrs. Clark McPhail will report suggestions from convalescent or orphanage homes as to how the club can best serve them.

Don't Brush Fur

(UPI) — Never use a brush or a comb on your furs. To freshen their appearance, just fluff them by shaking them vigorously.

To Open Fall

Pine Lake Art Club members will open the fall season at a luncheon Wednesday in the Rotunda Inn.

Mrs. Elmer Janes will instruct classes beginning Oct. 14 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the basement of the West Bloomfield Township Hall.

Omega Alpha Plans Fashion, Card Evening

The Alicia Bridal Shop and the De 'Cor Shop will show "Fascinating Fashions" at the event.

Lady of Sorrows Church Rising on Farmington Hill

NEW FARMINGTON CHURCH — Being built at a cost of $670,000 is the new Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church and rectory at Powers and Shiawassee roads in Farmington. The hilltop structure is scheduled for completion in December. Two metal crosses, designed by sculptor Marshall Fredericks will grace the new church. A 13-foot cross will be placed on the roof tower, the other, 52-feet-high, will be erected at the church entrance.

By JIM LONG

Being built atop a hill so that it will be visible from many locations in the city and the surrounding area is Our Lady of Sorrows Church. It is located at Shiawassee and Powers roads.

While the two-level building is and scheduled for completion until December, this week will see the erection of a 13-foot metal cross on the sanctuary roof.

* * *

Rising 100 feet above ground level, the slender cross will probably be placed in position by a huge crane later this week, according to the architect of the church, Charles D. Hannan, A.I.A., of Farmington.

The other cross, which is 52 feet high, and will be a memorial to "Our Lady of Sorrows" will be placed at the front of the church in a triangular-shaped patio. It will be enclosed by tall stone columns with the roof open to the sky.

At the base of the "great" cross, which is not expected to be raised for several weeks, will be figures depicting a scene from the crucifixion.

* * *

Because of its hill-top location, Hannan said it was possible to plan a two-level building, with the lower floor opening at ground level in the rear.

The main floor, he said, will accommodate nearly 1,300 persons. The lower floor will have a seating capacity of 800 with overflow seating in two large meeting rooms on the side.

Beneath the sanctuary will be a stage with rooms on each side for storage and kitchen facilities.

Cost of the church, according to the pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas Beahan, is $525,000; plus an additional $145,000 for the rectory.

* * *

Msgr. Beahan said the new facilities will serve 2,200 families in the area.

For the past 16 years, an auditorium at the school has served the parish for religious services, he said.

Hannan said the layout of the church pews will not be straight but rather in a curve on a radius with the center point at the altar.

* * *

The aisles, as well as the side walls, taper to focus all attention on the tabernacle, and the church, instead of being long and narrow, is wide and shallow.

The last pew, he noted, is only 44 feet from the sanctuary, allowing a clear view of the altar for everyone.

The lines of the roof also will help lead the eye to the altar, Hannan explained. The sides will be flat, but as they meet in the center, the ceiling will start to rise with a gentle slope, increasing until it reaches the sanctuary.

* * *

It will terminate with a very steep roof over the altar which will have a large stained-glass window facing the east to catch the light of the rising sun, reflecting it on the sloping side walls behind the altar.

The interior will be beautified by shrines and stained glass windows which will lend themselves to memorials.

Carved stone sculpture groups and landscape shrines will be used outside the church.

Elect 45 From Area to ASC Committee

Forty-five area representatives were elected to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, it was announced today by the Oakland County ASC office.

The voting, which was conducted by mail from Aug. 31 to Sept. 12, showed an increase of 92 ballots over last year's election.

There were 668 votes cast by farm owners, operators and tenants in Oakland County this year, according to Walter R. Cook, office manager of the county ASC.

Newly elected chairmen and vice chairmen of the community committees will serve as delegates and alternate delegates at the county ASC convention Sept. 30.

Petitioners at Oak Park Against Carver Tie-Up

OAK PARK — The circulation of petitions aimed to stave off possible annexation to this city of the Carver School District of Royal Oak Township is gaining momentum today.

The petitioners, who claim that they are not an organized group, are supported by the Oak Park Citizens Advisory Committee on Schools.

The petitions, when completed, will be turned over to William J. Emerson, Oakland County superintendent of schools. Emerson is seeking to dissolve the Carver district in order to provide classrooms for, 44 ninth grade students.

HAD NO SPACE

Carver, which provides only elementary classes, was unable to find space for the students after Detroit refused to take them on a tuition basis.

If a new school board is not elected Oct. 26 to replace board members who resigned last Monday, Emerson will be free to dissolve the district. He has not indicated whether adjacent Oak Park or Ferndale would absorb Carver, but Oak Park is considered a logical choice.

Oak Park's school board is seeking a meeting with the County Board of Education to "clarify several problems annexation would create."

* * *

The questions raised included who will assume the Carver debts? Carver owes Detroit $125,000 in tuition fees, also a debt of over $100,000 to the Detroit City Bank.

Others are:

Will the 350 Carver High School students, attending Detroit schools, be sent to Oak Park?.

What will be done about Carver teachers, all of whom are protected by the State Tenure Act?

The Oak Park School Board has financial troubles of its own. It owes a bonded debt of $11 million for school construction.

The Oak Park Citizens Advisory Committee declared in a resolution that "there should be continued emphasis on both sides of the problem.

* * *

"It must allow the opportunity to assure the equitable funds, gradual transition of any merger and the sharing of responsibility inherent to the problems of the Carver District," it further provides.

The committee also pledged its support to "any litigation which may be necessary to reach an equitable solution."

Accidents Kill 2 From County

Southfield Woman and Royal Oak Man Die in Car Mishaps

Two area residents were dead today as the result of separate traffic accidents which occurred within four hours of each other.

Frank R. Hasson Jr., 32, of 3102 N. Vermont St., Royal Oak, was killed early today when his car overturned on North River Road near Selfridge Air Force Base.

Hasson was thrown from the vehicle and crushed to death when his car overturned on him.

Macomb County sheriff's deputies reported the accident took place at 12:44 a.m.

* * *

Dead on arrival at Redford General Hospital last night was Mrs. Elsie C. Durnow, 65, of 25825 Lahser Road, Southfield.

Police said Mrs. Durnow drove into the back of a truck as it was making a left turn from Lahser Road on to Trojan Street in Detroit.

Did This Suitor Carry a Torch?

Armada Man in Court on Arson Charge Over Plank Road House

ROMEO — A jilted suitor who, apparently failed to light a flame in the heart of his former girl friend succeeded in burning her house down instead, according to Romeo State Police.

Police say that Strong set a fire which leveled a house at 72000 Romeo Plank Road Friday night. The home, located about four miles northeast of here, is owned by Mrs. Shirley Lilly of 11051 Dodge St., Warren.

It was vacant when the fire was discovered.

Strong and Mrs. Lilly, a widow, had been keeping company until just recently, police said.

* * *

When Mrs. Lilly wanted to end their friendship, Strong became angry and set fire to her home, police reported. No damage estimates were available, but the 1½-story frame home was burned to the ground.

* * *

Strong waived examination in an arraignment Saturday before Macomb County Justice of the Peace Francis Castellucci. He is being held in Macomb County Jail, Mount Clemens, after failing to post a $2,500 bond.

No date was set for his Circuit Court arraignment.

Good Losers on the Scales to Meet Again

CLARKSTON — The Good Losers Club will resume its weekly meetings at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the junior high school, according to new president Mrs. Robert Rothbarth.

All women interested in weight control and in scientific exercise are invited to join the group for evenings of fun while shedding pounds.

Each week a prize is awarded to the member who loses the most weight during that week. Various other contests held throughout the year help keep the enthusiasm up for weight control, Mrs. Rothbarth said.

ALICE BONIN

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bonin of 230 E. Avon Road, Avon Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Alice T. to Bruce Harbron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harbron of 371 W. Auburn Road, Avon Township. No date has been set for the wedding.

Walled Lakers Outsquirt Squad of Rochester

WALLED LAKE — The Walled Lake Fire Department yesterday defeated the Rochester Fire Department in the semifinal round for the Water Battle Championship of Oakland County.

The fight is waged by directing water hoses against a barrel suspended from a cable. The team knocking the barrel against the other team's goal by sliding it along the cable with water power wins a point.

The final battle, Oct. 15, will match Walled Lake with the Waterford Fire Department.

Women to Meet in Troy

Healing Church Topic

TROY—A panel discussion of the relation between religious and physical healing is slated for tomorrow's meeting of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church.

The association will hold a business meeting at 10 a.m. and a pot luck luncheon at noon.

* * *

Following the luncheon, the panel discussion will be led by Dr. Karl F. Kaerner, M.D., and the Rev. W. Donald Fendell, pastor.

* * *

A baby-sitting service will be available for mothers who wish to attend, according to Mrs. A. S. Baigler, publicity chairman.

Johnson-Niles PTA to Hear Director

TROY — Mrs. W. U. Porter, director of the District 7 Congress of Parent-Teacher Associations, will be guest speaker at the Johnson Niles School PTA meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Porter will explain the newly organized Troy PTA Council at the meeting.

Glasses Save Her Life

BEMBRIDGE, England (AP)— Fishermen, spotting from afar the reflection of the sun off her eyeglasses, found Betty Trimmer, 23, unconscious and lashed to an overturned boat. They took her ashore and learned that her husband and two other men had been lost in heavy seas off the Isle of Wight.

Detroit Firm Buys Clarenceville Bonds

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — A Detroit firm has been awarded the purchase of $850,000 in general obligation bonds for new school construction in the Clarenceville School District, Supt. Louis E. Schmidt announced today.

The bonds were sold to the lowest of three bidders, Braun Bosworth and Co., at an average interest rate of 4.467%.

Money from the sale of the bonds, approved by voters in March, will be used to construct a 14-room addition to the elementary school and a three-room addition to the high school, Schmidt said.

Geney Weimar Is Bride

KEEGO HARBOR — Geney Marie Weimer became the bride of Alvin C. DuBois recently in a ceremony performed by the Rev. John Wigle in the Church of the Advent, Orchard Lake.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Weimer of 2315 Pine Lake Ave. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Duane D. DuBois of 2305 Pine Lake Ave.

Serving as best man was Kenneth Armstrong, and seating the guests were Neal Weimer, brother of the bride, and Kenneth Young.

* * *

Enrollment More Than Doubles at NCC College

AVON TOWNSHIP — North Central Christian College opened today with enrollment more than doubled over last year, according to Otis Gatewood, college president.

One hundred freshmen and 25 sophomores have registered as boarding and day students. They come from 14 states and four foreign countries.

Five foreign students will be attending classes at NCCC this year. Two brothers, Ivan and Victor Kolesnikow are from Montreal, Canada, and Eike Nordhausen of Berlin, Germany, who is a sophomore transferred from York College, York, Neb.

Victor Joseph of Jerusalem, Palestine, will be coming to NCCC from Florida Christian College in Tampa, Fla. Monika Steiniger of Port Elizabeth, South Africa, will be returning here to college for her second year.

The first year a three-story multipurpose building was built and open for student use. This year a new one-story boys' dormitory was ready for occupancy.

Another dormitory is slated to be built in the near future, school officials said.

Expect Wixom to Let Contracts

Action Due Tonight on Bids for Building of New City Offices

WIXOM — Contract awards for the construction of new municipal offices here are expected to be made tonight at a special meeting of the City Council.

Nearly a dozen bids for construction and electrical work were opened at the council meeting Thursday, but officials delayed any action until the bids could be thoroughly studied.

The 8 p.m. meeting will deal only with letting the bids on the estimated $30,000 building.

City officials hope that the new city hall will be ready for occupancy before Christmas providing construction is started in the next couple weeks.

Avondale Band Boosters to Hold Open Meeting

"Getting to Know You" will be the theme of the Avondale Band Boosters meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the high school.

New band directors, William J. Campbell, teaching at the high school, and Ronald Salow, in charge of the junior high music program, will be introduced.

School district residents, whether they have students in band or not, are invited to attend the meeting. Refreshments will be served at the close of the session.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY — A Mass of Thanksgiving at 9 a. m. tomorrow in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Imlay City, will be said in observance of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Weingartz of 5880 Newark Road, Imlay City. An open house will be held from 7 to 9 p. m. to honor the Weingartzes, who have six sons, eight daughters, fifty grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Yankees Knock Down Baltimore Challenge

By The Associated Press

Suddenly the New York Yankees are in a position for "magic number" talk about pennant clinching instead of a nail-biting percentage lead.

The Yanks rose to the occasion to put down the Baltimore challenge over the weekend, sweeping all four games to break the American League race wide open.

Friday afternoon they led the Orioles by one percentage point. Today they sport a four-game lead over both Baltimore and Chicago.

The Yanks have 11 games to play, Baltimore and Chicago each have nine. Any combination of seven Yank victories or Oriole and White Sox defeats would nail it down. Any combination of six would clinch a tie.

There still is danger ahead for manager Casey Stengel whose Yanks have found Washington their most troublesome rival. Five of their last 11 games are with the Senators, the other six with always tough Boston.

After beating Baltimore 7-3 with a slashing 12-hit attack in yesterday's opener, the Yanks came up with a gilt-edged pitching job by Ralph Terry in the 2-0 second game.

Terry had a perfect game going until he walked Brooks Robinson on a 3-2 count with two out in the seventh. Ronnie Hansen broke the no-hit spell by driving Terry's first pitch in the eighth over third base for a single. Jackie Brandt collected the other hit, a single with two out in the ninth.

Chicago missed a chance to take over second place all by itself. The White Sox whipped up a 15-hit attack, drubbing Detroit in the first game 8-4 with Nellie Fox chipping in three singles. The Tigers came back with two in the seventh inning— the winning run scoring on a two-out rundown play — and eked out a 7-6 margin.

Boston trimmed Washington 3-1 on a five-hit job by Bill Monbouquette and Mike Fornieles. Despite two-hit pitching by Cleveland's Bobby Locke and Don Newcombe, Kansas City edged the tribe in the first game 3-2. Cleveland won the second 9-2 behind Barry Latman.

A crowd of 53,876 waited 53 minutes for the rain to let up at Yankee Stadium and then sat through a drizzle most of the afternoon. They saw the Yanks score a third-inning knockout of Jack Fisher who shut them out in their last meeting. They thrilled with Terry's perfect game bid in the second game in which both Yank runs were driven in by sacrifice flys.

Dick Williams' two-run homer nullified Cleveland's two-hit pitching in the first game but Walt Bond knocked in three runs with a homer and double as the Tribe squared matters with the A's in the second game.

Tigers Scuttle Chisox Flag Hopes

AP Photofax

Chicago Loses Chance to Get Second Place

Unlike '59, 1-Run Wins Evade White Sox at Crucial Times

DETROIT (AP) — Those one-run games that carried the Chicago White Sox to the 1959 American League pennant have turned the 1960 season into a nightmarish finish for the Chicago club.

A 7-6 loss to the Detroit Tigers in a three-hour and 28-minute struggle yesterday virtually killed off the Sox' hopes of repeating as champions. The Sox won the opener 8-4.

The White Sox rallied out 27 hits in splitting a doubleheader with the lowly Tigers but couldn't get one when they needed it most — with two on and one out in the eighth inning, or with two on and none out in the ninth inning of the second game.

As a result, the Sox were tied with Baltimore today for second place — four games behind the league-leading New York Yankees, each club five games back in the vital loss column.

★ ★ ★

The champion Sox of 1959 won 35 games by one run, losing only 15. The current Chicago team has done no better than split in 42 games decided by a single run.

Al Lopez, White Sox manager, is too nice a guy to pick out the goats of the 1959 collapse — but he could cite catcher Sherm Lollar for slipping under .250 in batting, hitting only seven home runs and driving in fewer than 50 runs; or Jim Landis for not hitting. Bob Shaw for poor pitching in the clutch, or Dick Donovan, or Herb Score, or any number of other pitchers for varying degrees of inefficiency when solid pitching was required.

As for the defeat in yesterday's crucial finale, Shaw failed to hold a 4-3 lead, Turk Lown failed to hold another and the heart of the batting order—Nelson Fox, Landis, Gene Freese, Jim Rivera and Lollar — failed to get the ball out of the infield when the Sox squandered two opportunities to tie or win the game in the late innings.

A pivotal play came in the seventh inning, when the Tigers finally won the game despite some shoddy fielding and shaky pitching of their own. The Tigers loaded the bases with one out. Pinch batter Sandy Amoros scored a run with a fly ball to left field. The other runners advanced to second and third base.

Chico Fernandez sent a high bouncer to Freese at third base. It was questionable if Freese could have retired Fernandez at first base.

He could have cut down Cash between third and home, but instead went after Eddie Yost, who was coming to third. Before Freese could tag Yost for the third out of the inning, Norm Cash crossed the plate with the run that likely sealed the Sox doom for 1960.

Lopez sent six pitchers into the game and used four pinch hitters. His club led three times, the Tigers led twice and the game was tied once.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers collected 15 hits and used four pitchers, Hank Aguirre getting the win for one and one-third innings of hitless relief work. Ted Kazanowski accounted for two of Chicago's runs with a first-inning home run off starter Bob Bruce. Errors by third baseman Ossie Virgil and first baseman Neil Chrisley led to two-run innings by the Sox in the third and sixth.

Whistling in the Dark?

'We Haven't Given Up,' Claims Paul Richards

NEW YORK (AP)—"They outpitched us, they outhit us, they outfielded us and they got all the breaks. How are you going to beat that?"

It sounded like the astute Baltimore manager was whistling in the dark, which it was when Sunday's doubleheader between Baltimore and New York ended, with the Yankees winning both, 7-3 and 2-0, for a sweep of the four-game series.

Three days ago, the Orioles were in a virtual first place tie with the Yankees, Sunday night—the final out was made at exactly 7 p.m. (EST) — the Orioles were four full games behind and tied with Chicago for second place.

Richards had seen his four fledgling pitchers all fail. Only Milt Pappas, in the fourth game, went the distance but it was his misfortune to be, pitted against Ralph Terry, who hurled a two-hit shutout. Steve Barber, Chuck Estrada and Jack Fisher all needed relief help.

"It wasn't our pitching that beat us," said Richards, "It was our hitting — the lack of it — with men on bases. Or maybe I'm not giving the Yankee pitchers much credit. Maybe their pitching was just too good for us.

"We had several chances and didn't take advantage of them. Any one of the four games, except one (the first game of Sunday's doubleheadgr) could have gone either way."

The Orioles were held to 27 hits in the four games. Gene Woodling went 2 for 11, Brooks Robinson 4 for 12, Gus Triandos 4 for 13, Ronnie Hansen 3 for 14, Jackie Brandt 2 for 9 and Jim Gentile 3 for 11. They hit only two home runs to five for the Yankees.

All the Yankees need now is to win six of their remaining eleven games and the worst they could do is tie for the flag, even if Baltimore and Chicago win all their remaining games.

Richards bristled when it was suggested that the Baltimore kids were finally beginning to feel the pressure of the tense pennant race.

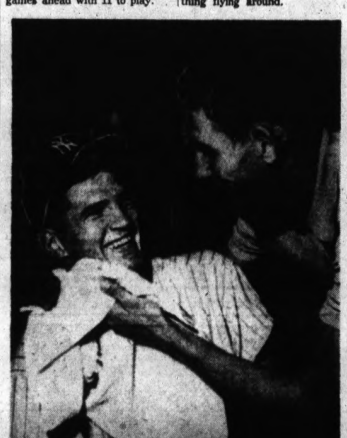

"How do you know?" he demanded. "I've been with them all year and I don't know that. They've come back before when everybody's counted them out. I won't be surprised if they do it again."

"This was the big payoff, of course," he admitted, "but I don't think anything is over. We've got to keep winning. If we don't keep winning, how can we win?

"I got to watch out that my guys don't go dead on me now. If they do, you'll really see something flying around.

PENNANT NEAR — The old professor of the Major Leagues, Casey Stengel, was all full of comments yesterday after the Yankees just about shut the door on the American League pennant race with a double win over the Orioles. The Yanks swept the four-game series from Baltimore and now are four games ahead with 11 to play.

Robertson's a Royal Now

'Big O' Inks 3-Year Pact With Cincinnati of NBA

CINCINNATI (AP) — All-America Oscar Robertson says he's glad to be with the pro basketball Cincinnati Royals. And the Royals say they're glad too.

This two-way admiration came Sunday after Oscar signed a three year agreement with the Royals, ending vague reports he was considering other offers.

Robertson, three times a major college scoring record leader for the University of Cincinnati, flew back from the Olympic Games Saturday but wouldn't commit himself then about future plans.

Robertson was the No. 1 target of the Royals after the team's two disappointing past seasons. He's expected to perk up team play and attendance.

★ ★ ★

Protest Filed Against Driver Thompson

Miss Detroit Claims Cup Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chuck Thompson claimed his fourth president's cup today, but rival hydroplane drivers vigorously disputed the ruling that awarded the Detroit veteran his latest Potomac River triumph.

Their protest, officially filed last night, charged that Thompson jumped the gun in his Miss Detroit at the start of the final heat.

Thompson had contentedly left the judge's tower when Bill Muncey, pilot of Seattle's Miss Thriftway, drew up the complaint and signed it in company with fellow entries in Sunday's deciding race of the two-day regatta. The governing body of unlimited hydroplanes could take weeks to judge the appeal.

A crowd of nearly 40,000 dampened by an intermittent drizzle saw Thompson finish third in the final 15-mile test but many had gone home before regatta officials announced, two hours later, that Miss Detroit was allotted the trophy.

First they had ruled that both Norm Evans in Samuel Dupont's Nitrogen of Wilmington, Del., and Bill Brow in Ole Bardahl's Miss Bardahl of Seattle had jumped the gun. Nitrogen was first to complete the scheduled five laps, almost a half-mile ahead of Miss Thriftway, but she and Miss Bardahl were required to run a penalty lap for the apparent false start.

After studying a photo of the start and deliberating with other officials, referee E. M. Pentrose eventually decreed the evidence was clear only that Miss Bardahl had beaten the gun. That restored the original order of finish — Nitrogen, Miss Thriftway, Miss Detroit and Miss Bardahl. Coupled with a first and second in previous heats, it also credited Thompson with the same number of points as Muncey earned with his first, third and second.

Thompson, who won the cup piloting the retired Miss Pepsi in 1950-51-52, was placed first in the regatta standings because his total elapsed time for the three 15-mile heats, 26:05.9, was 19.7 seconds shorter than Muncey's clocking.

Muncey still increased Miss Thriftway's lead in the season's competition for big hydros. With three more regattas on the program, owner Willard Rhodes' persimmon-striped boat now has 2,325 points to Nitrogen's 1,296. Only Nitrogen and her sister challenger, Nitrogen Too, are in position to overtake Miss Thriftway.

Posey 181 Pound Champ

'Y' Lifter Retains Title

Posey's dead-lift was 535 pounds to go with his 745 pound total in the bodyweight, (1711), bench press (320) and deep knee bend (825). He had 1280 total points.

Detroit lifters dominated most of the other divisions. G. Giedier of Detroit won the 132 pound class; R. Balderama of Detroit the 148 pound class; R. McGarry of Flint the 165 pound class and J. Pinacreta of Detroit the heavyweight class.

Pontiac lifters who placed were Gerry O'Neil, 2nd in the 165 pound class with 500 pound dead lift and 545 sub-total of weights.

D. Hills, second in the 198 pound class had a dead lift of 675 total in the other lifts for 1175 total.

The meet, sanctioned by the Michigan State Association of the AAU, was sponsored by the Pontiac YMCA, with Jim Templeton and Cal Rhoades of the Y as meet directors.

Waterford Golfer Shares in Victory

The former star Skipper athlete veteran professional Emerick Kocsis, Captain Ron Fendrick and Major John Pacura were partners yesterday in the annual Selfridge Air Force Base invitational best ball golf tournament.

They won the tourney with a 13-under-par 59 on nines of 29 and 30. Kocsis shot 71 with his own ball.

Joy Fair Is Second in Sandusky Feature

SANDUSKY, Ohio — Jack Conely of Brighton, Mich., set a new Sandusky auto track record for supermodified racing last night when he drove his Chevrolet powered auto a half mile in 19.36 seconds.

Back Ailment May Sideline Bill Skowron

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Skowron, New York Yankee first baseman, said Sunday night his back was bothering him and he didn't know if he'd be able to play against Washington Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

Skowron, who has a long history of back ailments, underwent diathermy treatments after Sunday's first game of a doubleheader against Baltimore. He will wear a brace until the pain disappears.

★ ★ ★

He said he thinks he was hurt during the third inning of the first game while reaching for a throw.

"I was hurt, but I can't straighten up," he moaned.

Two Weeks Left for Lions to Build a Winner

Detroit Opens Regular Slate at Green Bay

Same Problems Remain Following 14-10 Loss to Cleveland

Detroit opens the regular season at Green Bay.

* * *

The primary problems facing coach George Wilson for this year were to rebuild the offensive line and pick a quarterback.

Saturday's game didn't show any great improvement. Jim Ninowski, the apparent starting quarterback, had the Lions inside the Brown 16 three times and the best he could do was a field goal by Jim Martin.

The Lion touchdown came after a pass interception by Wayne Walker which he returned to the 14. Earl Morrall, the Lions' alternate quarterback, hit Dave Middleton for the touchdown.

Ninowski has been thrown for about 250 yards in losses in less than four full games of action.

* * *

Cleveland beat the Lions twice in exhibitions and the Philadelphia Eagles smashed the Lions 40-10. The New York Giants, apparently the third top team in the Eastern Division of the NFL, tied Detroit 16-16.

The Lions return to work tomorrow. Two players will be cut to make the 33-man limit.

Walt Kowalczyk, who threatened to quit the NFL after the Lions traded him to the Dallas Cowboys, decided yesterday to join the Texas Club. The former Michigan State fullback star said he would join the Cowboys this week.

The Lions obtained Kowalczyk in a trade with the Philadelphia Eagles this summer, giving up quarterback Jerry Reichow. Kowalczyk then bought a home in Detroit and balked at the trade.

Mickey Posts LPGA Record

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — San Diego's Mickey Wright set a LPGA record with the four sub-par rounds that snagged top money in the $8,250 Memphis women's open golf tournament.

Her 72-hole total over the 6,386-yard, 36-36—74 Ridgeway Country Club course, was an 18-under-par 278. Her margin of victory after Sunday's final birdie was 12 strokes.

"It's wonderful when you can put four eighteens together like this," said Miss Wright as she collected her $1,247. The four were 66-71-70-71.

On her way to the Ladies Professional Golfers Association record, Wright hung up two course records. The first was her marvelous opening round 66. Then came a 31 on the front nine during the third round.

Packers Finish Unbeaten in Exhibitions

Denver Gains AFL Lead

By The Associated Press

Patient Frank Filchock, a builder of champions at 43, has molded the unheralded Denver Broncos into a potent pro football aggregation with title aspirations in the Western division of the American League.

Undaunted while his charges were pushed around in losing all five pre-season exhibitions, Filchock concentrated on providing the Denver club with a semblance of cohesion and balance by deftly analyzing his personnel, making the proper shifts and teaching his wing T offense.

* * *

Now with two games gone in the young AFL season, Filchock's Broncos have moved into first place in the West with a 2-0 record after a 27-21 come-from-behind triumph over the Buffalo Bills Sunday.

Johnny Pyeatt's 33-yard run with an intercepted pass for a fourth quarter touchdown won it for Denver and Filchock, who brewed his coaching formula in the Canadian leagues where his teams finished in the playoffs eight of nine years.

* * *

A native of Grindstone Gulch, Pa., Filchock played pro ball for the Washington Redskins and New York Giants, and now has placed his future with the AFL which drew increased attendance in its second week of operation.

Over 15,000 turned out to see the Broncos and Bills and 20,156 were on hand as Houston's Oilers riddled the vaunted Los Angeles Chargers 38-28. Another 19,200 saw the Boston Patriots edge the New York Titans 28-24 on the final play of a Saturday night thriller.

Meanwhile, the National League—set to inaugurate its 41st season Friday night—wound up the exhibition season with the Green Bay Packers completing a 6-0 slate by walloping winless Washington 41-7 as Bart Starr passed for three touchdowns.

* * *

In other pre-season windups, Norm Van Brocklin pitched Philadelphia to a 35-21 victory over defending champion Baltimore; Bobby Mitchell went 10 yards for the deciding TD in Cleveland's 14-10 triumph over Detroit and St. Louis beat San Francisco 24-17.

Denver trailed Buffalo 13-6 at halftime before quarterback Frank Tripucka passed the Broncos into the lead with touchdown tosses of 8 and 3 yards to J. W. Brodnax and Dave Rolle. A 56-yard heave from Tom O'Connell to Elbert Dubenion put the Bills back in front before Pyeatt pilfered an errant O'Connell pass for the clincher.

* * *

Veteran quarterback George Blanda personally put the Oilers into first place in the East, setting up three touchdowns with his passes and scoring them on 1-yard plunges while adding a field goal and five conversions for 26 points. He was ably supported by a running attack led by Billy Cannon that overcame four TD strikes by Los Angeles' Jack Kemp.

* * *

Chuck Shonta, formerly of Eastern Michigan, Boston defensive specialist, scooped up a loose ball that eluded a New York punter and scampered 25 yards for the winning score as time ran out. Al Dorow had passed the Titans into the lead with TD flips of 8, 16 and 38 yards and it stood up until the fatal kick play began with only 12 seconds left.

Bald Eagle Is Next

Canadian Rules Don't Hurt Wolves

Bay City, pre-season favorite to win the Saginaw Valley Conference title, handed the Ontario powerhouse squad a 60-0 pasting in the 1960 season opener for both schools.

It was an experimental game from the standpoint of rules, but it made no difference to the touchdown-happy Wolves.

The two teams played under Canadian rules in the 1st half, then switched to American rules following intermission.

When Sarnia had the ball, each team used 12 players. When the Wolfpack went on the offense, 11 gridders saw action.

In the 1st half, the two squads had three downs to go 10 yards. In the 2nd half, the U.S. rule of four downs to make 10 yards was in effect.

No matter what rules were being used, the Wolves really moved. They scored nine touchdowns with seven different boys doing the scoring.

Jerry Gwizdala tallied twice on rushes and Tim Pete caught two passes for TDs. The Wolves completed seven of 13 passes, four for touchdowns. One TD aerial was thrown by starting quarterback Bob Crampton.

Halfback Bob Unks scored both Farmington touchdowns, a 38-yard run in the 2nd period for the 1st TD of the game and a one-foot plunge in the 3rd stanza following a fumble recovery.

The score was 7-7 at halftime. Leo Lange tallied for Utica and Bob Roseneau placekicked the extra point.

Farmington iced the decision in the 4th quarter with a safety when Rick Barth tackled Utica's quarterback in the end zone. Jim Barth booted Our Lady's 1st extra point and passed to Tom Clark for the other.

In other parochial games yesterday, Ferndale St. James defeated St. Rose, 20-13; Royal Oak Shrine whipped St. Patrick, 13-0; and Lourdes downed Highland Park St. Benedict, 14-6.

Basset Hound Is 'Best'

Other group winners were: Ch. Gourmet Sardar in the sporting group; Ch. Alemap's Checkmate, a Doberman Pinscher owned by W. T. Haines of Southfield in the working group.

Whip Publinx Team, 13-8

DDGA Golfers Keep Trophy

The Atlas Cup still belongs to the Detroit District Golf Association in its annual duel with the Michigan Publinx Golf Association.

Winning the last five matches Sunday, the DDGA's 16-man golf squad handed the MPGA's 16-man team a 13-8 licking over the week-end at Saginaw Country Club to retain possession of the traveling trophy.

It was the DDGA's 4th consecutive victory over the Publinx golfers. The District players now have won the award 11 times compared to five triumphs for the MPGA.

The DDGA took a 5-2 lead Saturday in Scotch foursome play, then rallied yesterday in singles competition to win going away after losing the first three matches.

* * *

Tony Skover of Meadowbrook stopped the Publinx surge by tying Jay Law of Harper Woods and the Dearborn team of Ralph Ellstrom and Roy Nelson initiated the District's winning push.

Skover was really sizzling in his singles match with Law. Skover birdied seven of the first 12 holes before Law rallied to win three of the last five holes for a tie.

Ellstrom, DDGA captain, defeated Ken Parkins, 1 up, and Nelson conquered George Greenhalgh, 3-2. Lansing's Lou Wendrow and Stan Sabat of Birmingham battled to a draw to aid the DDGA cause.

Pontiac's Wally Smith and Ray Cane of Detroit defeated Art Olfs Jr. of Lansing and Vic Caine of Jackson, 6-5, for one of the two MPGA Scotch foursome wins Saturday.

The MPGA's other Scotch foursome win was a 4-3 decision by Dick Preston and Parkins over Tom Cross and Roy Burgin.

Don Mossi Sent Home for Rest of '60 Season

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have sent ailing Don Mossi home for the rest of the season while his old comrade-in-arms, injured Ray Narleski, is back in town to visit his teammates.

* * *

Mossi returned to Redwood City, Calif., to rest up for next season. The southpaw has won only one game since July 15 and hasn't worked since Aug. 28 because of a sore pitching arm and shoulder. Mossi record for the season was 9-8.

Narleski, who has been sidelined all season with a bad back, arrived from his Haddonfield, N.J., home. He said he has been throwing a bit in his backyard at home and feels better after a long rest. The Tigers have no plans now of putting Narleski on the active roster until next spring.

Chadwick Quits, New Hope Enters Channel

PORTPATRICK, Scotland (AP)—Florence Chadwick has failed again to swim the North Channel from the Scottish to the Irish coast.

The long distance swimmer from San Diego, Calif., had covered about 8 miles of the 19-mile swim when heavy seas and winds forced her to give up on Sunday. She was taken from the water after eight hours. Rough weather forced her to give up her first attempt on Friday.

Beman Never Doubted Chances in Amateur

ST. Louis (AP) — Maryland's Deane Beman, the new U.S. amateur golf champion, has enough poise, confidence and competitive fire for two players—but he insists there's no such thing as overconfidence.

The cheeubic 22-year-old Maryland University senior took dead aim at the 60th American amateur title at the start of the week-long marathon tournament and never let up. Beman seldom played a hole safe—he usually defied traps and shot for the pin.

He never had any doubt he would win. But no one mistook his confidence for cockiness. He was a man with a purpose and nothing in the way of bad shots or freak bad breaks bothered him.

Beman also displayed a killer instinct in his spectacular 6 and 5 victory over calm, modest Bob Gardner, a 39-year-old public relations man making his ninth bid for the American amateur title.

The 5-foot 7 145-pounder from Bethesda, Md., became the ninth amateur in history to win both the U.S. and British amateur crowns. He won the British amateur in 1959, didn't defend it this year because of the press of studies.

"It was by far the most satisfying tournament I've won," Deane said. "I'm playing better now than I ever have and I'm going to keep working."

* * *

He was five under par for 32 holes on the sunny par 35-36—71, 6,615-yard St. Louis Country Club course, in beating Gardner. The loser felt he played much better than the score showed.

"Every time I made a good shot, he cancelled it with a better one," Gardner lamented.

* * *

Gardner was three down after 18 and needed three long putts to even stay in contention. Twice during the match he chipped close to the hole, only to have Beman respond with long putts.

* * *

The New Yorker tapped in a 22-footer on No. 18 and Beman, unruffled by a bleak cocker spaniel which romped onto the course as he lined up the putt, promptly tapped in an 18-footer to match Gardner's birdie.

His quarter-final victory over veteran Bill Hyndman III of Philadelphia—1 up in 19 holes—was an emotion-packed thriller loaded with birdies.

Beman saved his best putts for the times he needed them most. He explained: "I welcome pressure because then I always seem to shoot better."

Beman and three others were selected Sunday by the U.S. Golf Association to represent this country in the world amateur team tourney at Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 28-Oct. 1. The others are Gardner, Hyndman, and Jack Nicklaus of Ohio State, 1959 amateur champ.

"I think the university will let me cut some classes to make it," Deane said. "It's a great honor to be selected."

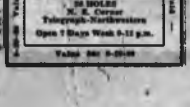

After Nearly 50 Years—an Ace for A. C. Harmon

After nearly 50 years of golfing, A.C. Harmon of Birmingham finally scored that long-awaited hole-in-one.

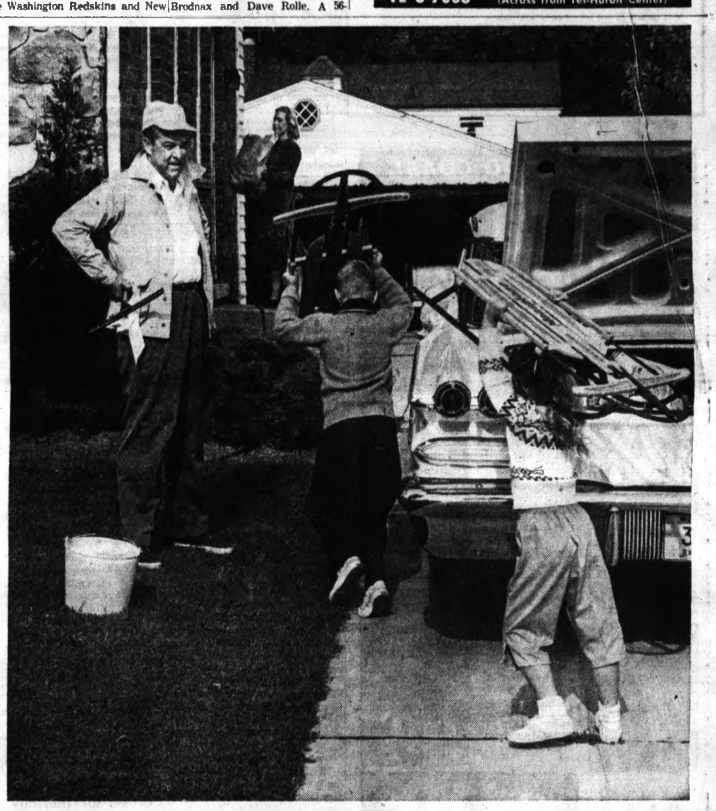

Using a 4-iron, Harmon aced the 165-yard 17th hole at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

It was only the 2nd ace of the year at Bloomfield Hills. Witnessing Harmon's feat were W. S. Gilbreath, S. J. Lang and Bradley Higble, all of Bloomfield Hills.

Sylvan Glen also had a weekend hole-in-one. Eric W. Stelfox of Oak Park knocked a 5-iron shot into the cup on the 170-yard 15th hole. Stelfox carded 84.

'Patsies' Spring Surprises in Weekend Grid Action

By United Press International

Mississippi and Washington needed only one game to prove they are well-equipped to challenge Syracuse for college football's national championship this year.

However, it was such perennial "patsies" as Oregon State, Nebraska, Kansas and Tulane who produced the biggest shockers during the first weekend of the new season.

Oregon State, an 18-point underdog, launched the string of opening upsets by ruffing highly-touted Southern California, 14-8, Friday night. Nebraska also laughed at the odds by edging Texas, 14-13; Kansas topped favored Texas Christian, 21-7, and Tulane ground out a 7-6 victory over California to emerge as Saturday's biggest heroes.

Mississippi's Sugar Bowl champions, meanwhile, rolled to a 42-0 triumph over Houston and Washington picked up where it left off in the Rose Bowl last season by overpowering College of the Pacific, 35-6.

Both Oregon State and Nebraska square off against Big Ten conference representatives next weekend. The Beavers visit Iowa while Nebraska entertains Minnesota. Kansas will be at Kansas State and Tulane hosts Alabama, which opened its season by spanking Georgia's Orange Bowl champions, 21-6, in Saturday's nationally-televised game.

Mississippi and Washington can look ahead to comparative breathers, with Ole Miss traveling to Kentucky and the Huskies entertaining Idaho.

Syracuse opens the defense of its National championship by hosting Boston University, a 20-0 loser to Penn State. Illinois, another strong contender for national honors, opens at home against Indiana, while Michigan entertains Oregon, Northwestern is at Oklahoma, Wisconsin at Stanford, Southern Methodist at Ohio State, California at Notre Dame, and Michigan State at Pittsburgh in a nationally-televised brawl.

* * *

Quarterback Pat Fischer was the whole show in Nebraska's victory over Texas, scoring both touchdowns and then passing to Bill Thornton in the end zone for the vital two points after the Cornhuskers' second score.

A pair of touchdowns by quarterback John Hadl helped Kansas surprise T.C.U., while Tulane edged California on a seven-yard scoring pass from Phil Nugent to Tommy Mason.

Mississippi got off to a slow start against a hefty Houston line that averaged 226 pounds per man and had to settle for a 7-0 lead at intermission. But the Rebels broke loose in the second half as end Willis Dabbs grabbed three touchdown passes.

Quarterback Bob Schloredt scored two touchdowns and set up another as Washington overwhelmed C.O.P. It was the seventh straight victory for the Huskies, who limited their rivals to 24 yards rushing.

Army, although riddled by injuries, opened its season with a 37-0 victory over Buffalo as Dick Eckert and Glen Adams ran back punt returns for 75 and 71-yard touchdowns. Joe Bellino scored twice and passed for another T.D. to give Navy a 22-7 triumph over Boston College.

In other major openers, Missouri blanked S.M.U., 20-0; U.C.L.A. came from behind in the final minute of play to edge Pittsburgh, 8-7; Lance Alworth sparked Arkansas to a 9-0 triumph over Oklahoma State; Chick Granning registered all three Georgia Tech touchdowns in a 23-13 victory over Kentucky; Iowa State routed Drake, 48-6, as sophomore Dave Hoppmann scored two touchdowns and passed for two others; Maryland crushed West Virginia, 31-8; and Wendell Harris accounted for all the points with a touchdown and a field goal as L.S.U. downed Texas A.&M., 9-0.

Vossler Wins in Tacoma

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—A young man disgusted with his game a week ago and ready to take a vacation from golf was out of the doldrums and $3,500 richer today after winning the $25,000 Tacoma Open tournament.

He is Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., and he fattened his bank account by chopping 12 strokes off par to score 272 in four 18-hole rounds at the par-71, 4,980-yard Fircrest golf course.

* * *

It was his first tourney victory since he won the Panama Open in February.

Vossler didn't have a round poorer than 68 and when he came romping in with a 68 Sunday, it gave him a one-stroke edge over Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass. Two strokes farther back at 275 were Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif., and Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La.

That $25,000 was divided among 35 golfers and the worst score in the crowd was 284—even par. The pre-tourney favorite, Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., was far down the list with a 281.

Needing first-round birdie to break the record for prize earnings, Palmer trailed Harney by six strokes going into the final round. Vossler by five. He made up three of them with a 33 on the par-36 front nine and "then," he said, "I quit thinking."

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Final scores in the $25,000 Tacoma Open golf tournament:

Ernie Vossler, Midland, Tex.	68-68-68-68	272
Paul Harney, Worcester, Mass.	71-65-69-70	275
Ken Venturi, Palo Alto, Calif.	69-67-73-67	276
Lionel Hebert, Lafayette, La.	67-69-69-71	276
Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.	70-67-69-70	276
Bill Casper Jr., Minneapolis, Minn.	67-70-68-71	276
Bob Rosburg, Dallas, Tex.	68-68-69-72	277
Tommy Jacobs, Portland, Ore.	68-69-68-72	277

U. S. DOUBLES WIN — Team of Chuck McKinley, about to hit the ball, and Earl Buchholz, holding racket behind his back, won the United States an American Zone title yesterday against Venezuela, 6-4, 6-1, and 7-5. Buchholz is getting out of the way of a smash that McKinley managed to return.

Darlene Master of Maria? Tennis Queen Thinks Not

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Darlene Hard, the new U. S. women's tennis champion, gasped in horror today when it was suggested that she was the master of Maria Bueno.

In the 10 times the two have met, Darlene, a bouncy pre-medical student from Montebello, Calif., has scored eight victories including a 6-3, 10-12, 6-4 decision in the final of the National championships last Saturday.

* * *

"That's true," said Darlene, "but most of my victories over Maria were scored when she was just a beginner. She has most of the big ones."

Maria, a 20-year-old Brazilian with a poker-face that rarely lights up, did win two big ones. She beat Darlene in the Wimbledon final last year, then a couple of months later eliminated her in the semifinal of the nationals.

"Still," Darlene mused, "I did beat her in the French championships this year. Anyhow, it's about time I did win the championship. I've been trying long enough."

This was Darlene's seventh try at the big one. She reached the final against Althea Gibson two years ago, but that was as close as she came.

The 6,000-odd spectators at the West Side Tennis Club were astounded at the ease that Darlene tucked the title away. Only in the second set did Maria make a real fight of it, and although she won it, her back was to the wall all the time.

"I would say it was my service that was the big reason I won," said Darlene. "I had it under pretty good control. It was dropping in there and behaving."

The men's final ran true to form with defending champion Neale Fraser crushing Rod Laver, his Australian Davis Cup teammate, 6-4, 6-4, 10-8.

Fraser was seeded No. 1, but his record had been spotty since beating Laver in the Wimbledon final. Laver, on the other hand, had won all four U. S. grass court tournaments during the summer.

It marked the fourth year in the last five that two Aussies have fought it out for the U. S. title. But it was the first time ever that two left-handers got to the final.

Winder Wins Two Dashes in Germany

HANOVER, Germany (AP) — Paul Winder of Pleasantville, N.J., won 100-meter and 200-meter invitation sprint races Sunday in :10.5 and :21.4 at a track and field meet.

Armin Hary, Olympic gold medal 100-meter sprinter from Germany, won the second 100-meter dash in :10.4.

* * *

Max Truex of Warsaw, Ind., won the 5,000-meter race in 14:08, beating Germany's Ludwig Mueller, who was clocked in 14:20.2.

Dave Clark, of Dallas, Tex., cleared 14 feet 3 4-10 inches to win the pole vault against German Klaus Lehnertz, who went over 14-2¾ for second place.

Hockey League Meets

MUSKEGON (AP) — The International Hockey League met here last weekend to consider applications for new franchises. The applicants included Windsor, Ont.; Columbus and Cincinnati, Ohio, and Louisville, Ky., in the eastern division, and Green Bay, Wis., St. Louis, Knoxville, Tenn., and Des Moines, Iowa, in the Western division. Muskegon acquired its franchise last year from Louisville.

Injury Ends Career of Standout Horse

NEW YORK (AP) —Trainer Hirsch Jacobs said Sunday that Hail to Reason, a leading contender for the 2-year-old colt championship, was injured in a workout at Aqueduct race course and would be retired to stud.

Badger Sailing Champ

WHITEHALL (AP) — Gordon Lindermann of Pine Lake, Wis., won the national E-boot sailing championship Sunday after a collision knocked the leader, defending champion Harry Melges of Lake Geneva, Wis., out of the final race. Nate Robbins of Minnetonka, Wis., placed second followed by Sawyer Colte of Maplelocking, N. J. Fifty-seven E-boats were entered in the two-day event on White Lake in Western Michigan.

DETROIT (AP) — Gene Gresham of Detroit will meet Lhassani Cheik of Algeria in a 10-round lightweight bout Friday at Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

Kowalczyk Will Join Cowboys After All

DETROIT (AP)—Walt Kowalczyk, who threatened to quit the National Football League after the Detroit Lions traded him to the Dallas Cowboys, Sunday decided to join his new club.

The fullback, star of Michigan State's 1955 Rose Bowl champions as a sophomore, said he'd report to the NFL's newest entry this week.

Kowalczyk appealed to Commissioner Pete Rozelle, asking the deal be nullified, but was turned down.

Australia 2 Steps Away From U.S. Davis Cuppers

CLEVELAND (AP) — With a victory over Venezuela safely tucked away, America's Davis Cup youngsters were only two matches away today from a crack at Australia's champions.

The Philippines, Eastern zone champions, and Italy's European victors still stand in America's path—but the U. S. and Australia have reached the challenge round every year since 1938 and are favored to meet again.

Australia, winner over the U. S. eight of the last 10 years, holds a 9-7 edge over the Americans since they started their exclusive matches 22 years ago. None were held during the war.

* * *

Ernie Buchholz and Chuck McKinley, both of St. Louis, wrapped up the American zone title Sunday as they defeated Venezuela's Ivo Pimentel and Marcos Gambus in the doubles, 6-4, 6-1, 7-5.

America had swept the opening singles earlier as Barry MacKay of Dayton defeated Gambus 6-1, 6-1, 6-0, and Bernard (Tut) Bartzen, Dallas southpaw, smothered Pimentel 6-0, 6-1, 6-1. They changed opponents for today's meaningless singles.

Date and site of the meeting with the Philippines are undetermined, but Capt. Dave Freed of the U. S. netters said it may be in Australia, on grass courts, in November. The winner meets Italy for the right to challenge Australia.

* * *

The colorful Venezuela pair was no match for the Americans who won 55 of the 68 games in the doubles and opening singles, with a point edge of 274 to 160. Only three were the invaders able to break the Americans' service, all against Buchholz in Sunday's doubles.

Buchholz celebrated his 20th birthday last Friday. McKinley is 19, and MacKay 25—and the youth movement appears to be paying off. McKinley blanked the Venezuelans in four of the six games he served in the doubles, and allowed them only a total of five points as his cannonball efforts almost blasted them off the court.

* * *

In the three early matches the Americans blanked the Venezuelans in 12 games, but the U. S. hopefuls failed to score in only one—left-handed Pimentel shutting out 32-year-old Bartzen in one of the two games he won.

3 Casts Bring Half Dozen Fish, Two at a Time

ALEXANDRIA, Minn. (AP)—Ray Sripwash, veteran Alexandria angler, has a fish story that's hard to top, and he has a witness to back him up.

Shipwash caught his limit — six bass—in three casts on Long Lake near here. He fished for quite a while without any action, then moved to a weedy area and got a sharp strike. He reeled in and found two bass hooked to the plug.

Several casts later the same thing happened. On the very next cast, Shipwash said, he got another bass duo, giving him the limit. Two of the fish weighed over three pounds.

Princessed Eyed Baudouin

Sorrow at Kingly Catch

LONDON (UPI) — As far as Europe's unmarried princesses are concerned, King Baudouin of the Belgians is the big fish that got away.

And in many royal circles, there is considerable moaning because an unknown Spanish señorita secretly grabbed off the last eligible reigning king in Europe.

Baudouin went to the United States last year after palace gossips hinted that he might become a Trappist monk. He danced with movie stars and said, "I've never had so much fun in my life."

When he returned to Belgium, he held his first press conference and banned striped pants.

LINKED TO MONT

The 30-year-old king, whose engagement to Dona Fabiola de Mora y Aragon was announced Friday in Brussels, had been romantically linked at one time or another to almost every princess in Europe.

Ever since Baudouin took his father's place on the Belgian throne in 1951, eligible royal beauties had been paraded before him, but no serious romances cropped up.

During the past nine years, Baudouin's name was linked with Princess Maria Gabriella of Savoy, Princess Astrid of Norway, Princess Desiree of Sweden, Princess Fedora Sax-Meiningen, Crown Princess Beatrix of Holland and Princess Marie Therese of Bourbon-Parma.

* * *

Two years ago, at the glittering ball Baudouin tossed to celebrate the opening of the Brussels World Fair, no less than 11 princesses were present. But none of them was able to make Baudouin give up the joys of bachelorhood.

Now that Fabiola has succeeded where so many others had failed, it appears that the only major eligible royal catches left in Europe are the Duke of Kent, Prince Constantine of Greece, Prince Harald of Norway and Prince Carl Gustav of Sweden.

Hard to Convince Others Our Riches Not Pie in Sky

By J. M. ROBERTS
AP News Analyst

One of the problems of the United States in selling her idea of a free economic system to newly developing nations is, ironically, her great success.

When President Sukarno of Indonesia visited here he said, in effect, "It is wonderful but it is beyond our reach."

This idea that the pie just fell out of the sky for Americans sets them apart from other peoples, and lets the Communists say "When you have to slave for all you get, when you can't get rich, then it's best to slave our way."

But is it a fact that the natural resources of the United States are so much greater than Eurasia's, or Africa's, or South America's? Or is it that the major factor has been vision, and the willingness to invest blood and sweat?

Certainly the early settlers found only hardship and disappointment. Many of them did not have even the religious freedom or the escape from bondage for which they had fled Europe.

But they raised a crop of most unusual sons, pulled together in the vortex of an historic vision. Educated men in a wild environment. Urgent men seeking a lodestar which had never until those days been discovered.

They found it, called it freedom, fought a long and bitterly hopeless but finally successful war for it. They set up a system of government never tried before in the world, based on the aspirations of men worn by adversity into a new people, it has stood.

They might have stopped there, hardly beyond the beaches. Many wanted to do just that (the Federalists). But Thomas Jefferson said there must be no Europe in North America, with all of its prejudices and divisions.

France, Spain, Britain and even Russia were vying for dominions in the West. Jefferson sent Lewis and Clark, with a handful of men, up the uncharted Missouri and down the Columbia, through Indian tribes stirred up by the British, and they returned with their maps, their descriptions, and without losing a man.

Soon the wagon trains captured the American Northwest. Traveling communes, they were. Circling their wagons at night against the savages, voting which way to go next morning. The pioneers voted a lot more than they fought.

As civilizations spread into the Southwest, the extension of slavery became an issue, and the nation fought to see whether it should be one or two. Out of the blood came unity. The continent would be one in peace from sea to sea.

Men stole and plundered and built, and went to church. Men formed companies, and then people of smaller profit pooled their means to do the same.

In blood, in vision, in tears and sweat, in mutual trust and an all-pervading faith, the people dug a nation out of the earth.

Has to Be Social Consensus

Mental Health Hard to Define

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—No one should blame science because it can't say precisely what mental health is, or mental illness either. Nor should science be blamed for its inability to draw sharp lines between normal and abnormal.

Dr. Martin Hoffman was consoling his fellow psychological scientists on a matter of some embarrassment to them. For many years now they've been trying to draw up a scientific definition of mental health.

One which everyone could accept, you understand, and one which could be used to separate the sheep from the goats, in a manner of speaking. A really scientific definition of mental health would be mightily useful.

You could make rules for it and all anyone would have to do to achieve mental health would be to follow the rules. It's a goal worth striving for.

Recently two books have been published on all the past scientific efforts to reach the goal. They list the definitions which have been made and point out why each one is no good. Each urges "more research."

* * *

With that urging, Dr. Hoffman agreed. "To expect a scientific definition of mental health as an outcome of such research is to expect the logically impossible," he added.

* * *

It is impossible because mental health (and mental illness, too) represents a "value judgment." A value judgment occurs when anyone compares anything with his own idea of what it should be and then accepts or rejects it on the basis of the comparison.

The self discipline of science prevents it from making these value judgments, Hoffman said. Science cannot assume, in the absence of proof, that there has to be a "purpose" in any natural activity, including the activities of people; "science cannot set goals and cannot tell us what is 'good' or what is 'bad'."

People at large determine what mental health is and what mental illness is. It's a majority and unscientific decision in that it is "a social consensus" of what is good and bad in the wide range of human behavior.

* * *

For instance, they think of making "advances" in "applied psychiatry" and applying them where they have no clear-cut application, he said. There is "the criminal act," and he of course meant any violation of law since it puts the violator in conflict with society.

* * *

"The very existence of a criminal act on the part of any individual could, under someone's definition of mental illness, be enough criterion to diagnose him as sick," Hoffman continued. "Therefore, all criminal acts would really be symptoms of illness."

"Criminal jurisprudence would emerge as a sub-specialty of medicine, and (to carry the argument to its logical conclusion) criminal lawyers, judges, and law enforcement officers would be required to go to medical school as part of their training."

Hoffman is a faculty member of the state university of New York, Syracuse. He aired his views in the technical journal of the American Psychiatric Association.

House of Future May Well Be a Steel; Magazine Reports Many Advantages

Putting in a claim for the "house of tomorrow," a steel industry magazine says it will be made of, naturally, steel.

Tomorrow's house "is suddenly arriving, and in two economic and attractive versions: Steel frame and all steel," reports Steelways in its September issue.

What does a steel house have that others lack? For one thing, writer Hannibal Coons emphasizes, "steel doesn't burn."

While that may have a certain emotional appeal for families with youngsters and oldsters, who would be at least able to take care of themselves in case of fire, it is not steel's only advantage, Coons reports.

"Steel has made unusable lots usable," he says. This would be of special value where there is no more level ground vacant and new houses must be built on sharply graded ground. With steel you can build right on the grade, according to Coons, avoiding the costly job of leveling or putting in a foundation and retaining wall.

"A San Francisco family recently found a dandy view lot having a 50- to 70-degree slope, covered with rocks and scrub oak, with a drainage gully," Coons illustrated. The family had an architect design a steel frame house and "the hillside's natural grade, drainage and vegetation is undisturbed."

* * *

Also gaining acceptance, in addition to the steel frame house, is the all-steel house, Coons said. He listed among its advantages: "Steel doesn't swell and shrink with humidity variations. It doesn't warp and crack the plaster. Steel beams don't sag. Steel stairs don't squeak. Steel is not subject to fungus growth or termites."

But steel also has some disadvantages, according to officials of the American Institute of Architects. It expands and contracts with changes in temperature if not humidity. Some steel skins dent and must be repaired.

Steel may also facilitate factory assembly of houses, according to Coons. "A major stumbling block," he says, "has been that houses are made up of too many little pieces —thousands of them." Steel may make it possible to combine many little pieces into fewer big pieces.

Also favorable to the use of steel is the development of new finishes, the article stated. Steel now can be wallpapered, vinyl coated or covered with stucco-like material.

Market Unlikely to Break 600

Wall Street Concern Doubts Stock to Plunge Under Dow Mark

NEW YORK (UPI)—Goodbody & Co. says that in all likelihood the stock market will not violate the Dow-Jones 600 industrial level, a level which has now attained an importance far beyond anything it merits.

* * *

According to accepted technical theory, Goodbody says, violation of the triple bottom (the level has already been "tested" three times this year) would indicate a further substantial decline.

They're are enough people watching this level so that a breakthrough would bring on a substantial wave of selling, the firm says, but it doubts that the stock market as a whole would decline very far.

Scattered among the rather dreary statistic-based business forecasts is plenty of evidence that businessmen do not actually feel as pessimistic as the commonly used figure yardsticks would have them, according to Thomson & McKinnon.

* * *

Bache & Co. says that if this week's U.N. meeting produces more international tension, it seems entirely possible, market attention may turn again to the defense group. Bache's favorites in this industry continue to be Martin Co., North American Aviation, Republic Aviation, and Newport News Shipbuilding.

* * *

G. M. Loeb of E. F. Hutton & Co., disagrees with the popular impression that we are in for a national hurricane stock market-wise. He thinks it much more important to consider the trends of individual issues than to worry over whether we are in a bull or bear market.

State Truckers Appoint Birmingham Man VP

* * *

Kipp, who lives at 6728 Valley Spring Court, is president of Kramer Bros. Freight Lines Inc. in Detroit. He has been with the firm since 1940.

* * *

Grain Mart Weakens in Sluggish Trading

CHICAGO (AP) — Moderate selling weakened the grain futures market today in unusually slow early dealings on the board of trade.

* * *

Soybeans led the setbacks with losses running to major fractions while the grains were off small fractions generally. Both offerings and buying orders were light.

A number of contracts had not traded during the first 10 minutes or so after the opening gong.

Brokers said market influences over the weekend were rather meager and that commercial demand apparently had been limited to a small export business in corn and soybeans.

* * *

Lapeer Woman Hurt in Collision on Huron Street

* * *

Carrie Hiiter, 112 Park St., was in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital this morning.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Gladys E. Heath, 60, of the same address. Their car, traveling west on West Huron Street, collided with one driven by Harry J. Dunigan, 20, of 270 Voorheis Road.

Dunigan told police he was approaching from the opposite direction and the collision occurred when his brakes failed.

GM Device Keeps Traffic in Line

Develops Highway Warning

MILFORD — Electro Lane, an experimental device that visibly or audibly warns a motorist when he's too close to the pavement edge or centerline, will be put to practical use at General Motors Proving Grounds at Milford.

* * *

Somewhat comparable to the "beam" by which aircraft pilots keep course from one airport to another, Electro Lane was developed by Electronics and Instrumentation Department of GM Research Laboratories. Jan. 13, GM Research demonstrated it to the Highway Research Board, Washington, D.C.

This will be its first realistic test on vehicles using GM Proving Grounds' 4-mile ride and handling loop which resembles a conventional two-lane highway. In the center of each lane is a wire in the pavement radiating low frequency (two kilocycle) power.

* * *

Intensity of the light is proportional to deviation toward that side. In addition, the signal from either side or pickup coil is applied to a network that feeds a speaker only after a preset level is reached. Thus, a driver will be alerted by light or sound, or both, if he is too far toward the right pavement edge or toward the left roadway centerline.

Louis C. Lundstrom, director of GM Proving Grounds, wants to determine the success of the device in warning his drivers of fatigue or drowsiness. This is a problem even with some experienced, expert test drivers, just as it is with many motorists on public highways.

Albert F. Welch, head of GM research Laboratories Electronics and Instrumentation Department, said the proving grounds installation will give engineers valuable experience with the device similar to a public road system.

* * *

* * *

If Electro Lane proves successful on the 4-mile ride and handling loop, which consists of assorted road surfaces, it will be considered for other roads of the Proving Grounds' 65-mile system.
