Manhunt Pressed for NY Man Who Killed 3, Shot 4th

NEW YORK (AP) — Police today pressed a massive manhunt for a Bronx gunman who killed three persons and wounded a fourth with a hail of fire from an automatic carbine.

Bronx Asst. Dist. Atty. Burton Roberts said a 15-state alarm was issued for one Bobby Rogers, alias Bobby Pugh, 31, who was superintendent of the building in front of which the shootings occurred last evening.

* * *

The rapid-fire shooting brought more than 200 policemen armed with rifles, revolvers, shotguns and tear-gas guns and wearing bullet-proof vests to the dingy orange tenement into which the gunman fled.

As thousands of spectators swarmed to watch, police searched the five-story building but failed to find the man. They concluded he had escaped through a basement connecting three buildings on the block.

DEAD IDENTIFIED

The dead were identified as Manuel Angel Figueroa, 19, Efrain Castro, 21, and Jose Rivera, 18. Roberts said preliminary evidence indicated the man being sought knew all three.

Police said Figueroa was dead on arrival at Lincoln Hosptial and that Castro and Rivera died at the hospital.

The violence began at about 6:27 p.m. when the gunman appeared near the stoop of the tenement on East 138th Street and started firing a 30-caliber automatic carbine which had been sawed off at both the stock and barrel, police said.

Roland Ronan, 35, walking on the opposite side of the street was hit in the shoulder. He fell to the sidewalk bleeding and saw "a man in a green shirt and little hat on his head" firing the gun.

"He was still shooting the people lying on the ground," Ronan recalled. "He was sweeping this gun back and forth like a broom across them."

When police forced their way into the four-room apartment that had been the sought man's, they found sparsely furnished quarters containing only a bed and a few chairs for furniture.

His elder daughter, Mrs. Lynda Robb, walks on ahead of him, smiling and unknowing. Johnson had been at a reception at the home last evening in honor of the Corps' generals, who are holding an annual meeting at the Barracks. He was waving to a crowd gathered outside when he slipped on the bottom step. Johnson jumped up, brushed back his hair and got into his limousine. He waved and smiled as it drove off.

In Model Cities Program

Pontiac Urged: Seek Grant

By BOB WISLER

A top administrator of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) who administers the federally sponsored model cities program in five Midwestern states yesterday encouraged Pontiac to apply for a model cities grant.

Ray Hruschka, assistant to the regional director of HEW, two other officials of the department and the Michigan supervisor of the Office of Economic Opportunity met yesterday with some 30 representatives of social agencies, civic organizations and city government.

The meeting was arranged by Clarence E. Barnes, executive director of the Pontiac Area Urban League, and Dr. Joseph Grayson, vice president of the league.

Grayson said the purpose of the meeting was to get federal aid and technical assistance in attempting to design a program which could galvanize and correlate all the efforts of the many social agencies in this area.

It became apparent during the discussion that many of the problems that the agency representatives said they wanted to solve could best be met by a model cities program.

Hruschka, who said he is empowered to speak for the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, asked:

* * *

"Any city that hasn't put in an application for a grant and has the problems that this city has, all we can ask is, 'Why not?'" he said.

Hruschka advised the group to do all that it could to get the city to apply for a model cities planning grant.

SOME RESERVATION

James L. Bates, director of planning and urban renewal, who attended the meeting, said there had been some reservation in the past by city officials in applying for a grant.

Bates endorsed the idea, though. "The basic concept of mobilizing all the resources of the federal government to attack the problems of certain areas is probably one of the best opportunities available to the city," he said.

* * *

The group assembled yesterday could probably meet the requirement of "community involvement" necessitated before the government will participate locally in such a program, Hruschka said.

With this in mind, Charles M. Tucker Jr. and Dr. Grayson were elected chairmen of the then-formed committee to pursue the idea of applying for a planning grant.

'GOOD CHANCE FOR OK'

Hruschka said that Pontiac would stand a good chance of being approved for a planning grant to tackle the multiple problems in deteriorating neighborhoods if a flexible plan can be devised.

He said the regional office has looked at 26 applications and approved between 10 and 15 of these.

Although there are reports frequently circulated that the program will be cut

Dorm Fees Go Up, Too

OU Boosts Tuition

Oakland University full-time students will pay from $15 to $45 more per semester for tuition for the 1968-69 school year, officials announced today. Dormitory fees also will go up.

The hikes were instituted yesterday by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

* * *

The board set OU's 1968-69 budget at $7,448,749, an increase of approximately $1.3 million over the budget for the past school year.

In May, the State Legislature appropriated some $5.04 million for OU, an increase of $661,600 over the past year. However, this fell about $1.2 million short of the appropriation the university had requested.

Harris noted that the per-student appropriation for OU in 1968-69 declined about $45 from last year, while the average per-student appropriation for Michigan's 13 four-year colleges rose by approximately $62.

* * *

The board set Michigan State University's 1968-69 budget at $74.96 million.

It also ordered a $5 to $15 per quarter tuition hike on the sliding-scale plan for resident undergraduates students at MSU. A $4 to $20 increase would apply to graduate and nonresident students, at MSU.

ABILITY TO PAY

Tuition at OU and MSU for Michigan residents is geared to ability to pay with the amount determined by the income of a student's parents.

The new scale determines that tuition fees for resident undergraduates will go from a minimum last year of $177 to a 1968-69 figure of $192. The maximum fees go from $250 to $295.

* * *

Resident graduates fees go from the minimum last year of $215 to $230 and from the maximum of $285 to $310.

Nonresident students will pay a flat $45 more each semester in tuition payments.

FOR OUT-OF-STATERS

Weekend Outlook: Warm and Humid

Water sports and air-conditioners will rate high in popularity polls this weekend as temperature and humidity readings soar.

The official U.S. Weather Bureau day-by-day forecast is as follows:

TONIGHT — Partly cloudy and warm. Lows will be 60 to 64 with southeast to south winds 10 to 15 miles.

TOMORROW — Partly cloudy, quite warm and humid with a 20 per cent chance of rain.

Widen China Contacts—VP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey proposed today wider contacts with Red China and said the United States should "make it clear that we are prepared to replace conflict with cooperation whenever the Chinese are."

Prospects for improved relations in the coming decade "are not good" but the U.S. stance should be to "continue to seek more normalized relations with the mainland," the vice president said.

* * *

Humphrey's remarks were to be made in a speech in San Francisco but instead were released as a foreign policy position paper when he was grounded in Washington on doctor's advice. His physician sent the vice president to bed yesterday to recover from what was described as a light case of grippe.

Humphrey's rival for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, accused the administration yesterday of failing to see that the nation's poor were properly fed.

'ADMINISTRATION INEPTITUDE'

And Republican contender Nelson A. Rockefeller, speaking at a street rally in the heart of New York City's financial district, charged the administration with ineptitude in maintaining stable prices and steady economic growth. If the job were done right, Rockefeller said, the Gross National Product would move from the present $800-plus billion a year to $1.5 trillion.

Big Write-Off in Store if Dems Change Sites

CHICAGO (AP) — More than $1.3 million has been spent so far in Chicago for the Democratic National Convention, which may be moved out of the city unless a strike affecting preparations is settled.

Earlier this week, John M. Bailey, chairman of the Democratic National Committee which runs the quadrennial nominating conventions, said, "I don't rule out the possibility we might move if the labor difficulties are not resolved by the end of next week."

* * *

Joseph O'Brien, spokesman for the struck Illinois Bell Telephone Co., said the longer the strike by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers continues "the less facilities for news coverage there will be."

He said Bell has spent $400,000 of the $1.5 million it expects to spend on installations. This would be lost if the convention moved to another city.

The city of Chicago will have to write off more than $400,000 if the convention falls through officials said.

Gary Player of South Africa finished with a tremendous shot from the rough, almost stiff, to the 18th pin for a birdie and a 37-34—71 which put him on 216, level par for the route.

Delay Urged on New School Site

The Pontiac Area Planning Council Board of Governors last night recommended that any decision on location of a new Pontiac high school be delayed until a site study can be made.

The board of education at its meeting next Wednesday is scheduled to discuss the possibility of definitely fixing a site on the Pontiac State Hospital grounds as the planned location for a new 3,000-to-4,500-student high school.

* * *

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, school superintendent, told the governors last night that it was possible the board would vote to acquire the hospital ground site at its Wednesday meeting.

Dr. Robert R. Turpin, school board vice president, was one of the governors who voted last night for a delay in the site selection. Also speaking in favor of the delay was school board member Russell L. Brown.

'DRASTIC ADDITION'

Brown said a study of all aspects of the site selection could probably be completed in six months.

State Rep. Loren D. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, said that with rising construction costs even a slight delay can add drastically to the cost of the school and to the burden of taxpayers.

Charles M. Tucker, one of the governors who led the argument for delay of the selection, said the site selection does not take into account the recommendations of the report recently submitted to the board on the equality of educational opportunities.

Francis Webster, chairman of the school district's finance study committee, argued against any delay. He said the finance study council, a 90-member body, was unanimous in the opinion that the school should be located at the hospital grounds.

LOW COST CITED

Whitmer told the governors that the board is making a site selection based on a number of points but said no real study has been made to determine its feasibility.

The low cost of the site is a major factor in its favor, he said.

* * *

Whitmer also said that two months ago he recommended to the board of governors that any study to determine the best site of the high school should be a sweeping comprehensive study of the city.

Pontiac Area Planners Act to End Bias by Employers

The Pontiac Area Planning Council Board of Governors last night took steps to encourage an end to discriminatory practices in employment in the Pontiac area.

The governors unanimously approved a resolution obliging all firms doing business with the council to be a nondiscriminatory employer and voted to recommend to the City Commission and the Pontiac School Board that those governmental bodies pass the same type of resolution.

They also approved a resolution calling for the council to secure pledges from Pontiac area employers that they are nondiscriminatory.

The action provides that the council will publish and distribute semiannually a "comprehensive list of agencies, corporate businesses, groups, individuals and organizations in the Pontiac area" which subscribe to the nondiscriminatory policies.

The recommendation to the City Commission could affect a major new policy for the city, if the recommendation is followed.

★ ★ ★

The resolution is based almost verbatim on a Detroit ordinance used by that city to ensure that firms, contractors and businesses doing any business with Detroit actively seek minority group employes.

Detroit has actually stopped payment on million-dollar projects to ensure compliance.

★ ★ ★

Such a measure in Pontiac and the school district would give those bodies authority to reject contractors or bidders who do not comply with the intent of the resolution.

★ ★ ★

According to the planning council resolution, "all contractors doing business with the planning council shall take affirmative action to ensure that applicants are employed and treated without regard to sex, race, creed, color or national origin."

The resolution defines affirmative action as:

- Issuing a statement of policy regarding equal-employment opportunity.
- Notifying all employment sources of such policy.
- Recruiting for minority group employes and establishment of an internal system for reporting results of equal-opportunity recruiting, hiring, training and upgrading.
- Labeling the company in all advertising as an equal-opportunity employer.

The resolution not only obliges the main contractor to have an affirmative policy but requires the contractor to include similar provision in all subcontracts.

RATES A SALUTE—Army Chief of Staff Gen. William Westmoreland maintains his military posture while getting a salute from Edgardo Rubio, 4, during a White House ceremony yesterday. The boy's father, Army Capt. Euripides Rubio Jr., posthumously was awarded the Medal of Honor at the ceremony. Capt. Rubio died a hero in a battle in Vietnam in 1966. Westmoreland was commander of U.S. military forces there at the time. He was back at the White House today for another ceremony, in which he was awarded a second Oak Leaf Cluster to his Distinguished Service Medal.

Cong Terrorist Wounds GI

Saigon Braces for Attack

SAIGON (AP) — A terrorist shot and seriously wounded a U.S. soldier in downtown Saigon today amid reports that Vietcong suicide commandos are expected to raid the South Vietnamese capital at any time.

Extra guards were posted at the U.S. Embassy and other key installations, and police were put on 100 per cent alert. The raids, if they come, likely would open the third Vietcong offensive of the year against Saigon, an attack that has been expected for weeks.

★ ★ ★

High-ranking Vietnamese officers said they had received reports the American Embassy would be attacked again and the national police headquarters would be another target.

One South Vietnamese source said the Vietcong "have to make a noise" before July 29; the 14th anniversary of the Geneva agreements which divided Vietnam.

IN STRIKING DISTANCE

Intelligence sources say about 11,000 enemy troops are within quick striking distance of the capital, and more are reported on the way.

Heavy American bombing raids on North Vietnam's southern panhandle have significantly reduced traffic in the area in the last few days, and presumably the flow of arms and supplies to Vietcong and North Vietnamese forces in South Vietnam, the U.S. Command said today.

★ ★ ★

In Saigon, a military court today condemned 10 prominent doctors, lawyers, educators and politicians to death in absentia for leading an organization that advocates overthrow of the Saigon government and formation of a coalition government including the Vietcong.

After a 23-minute trial, the court also ordered the property of the defendants confiscated.

The defendants were convicted of treason for being leaders of the Alliance of National, Democratic and Peace Forces of Vietnam, labeled a Communist front by both the South Vietnamese government and the U.S. Embassy. They disappeared from their homes shortly before formation of the alliance was announced in March by the Vietcong's Liberation Radio.

City, Employes Gain Accord

After daylong negotiations yesterday representatives of the city and the Pontiac Municipal Employes Association (PMEA) reached tentative agreement on contract terms for the 1968 fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

State labor mediator Leonard D. Bennett said the employes will vote on ratification of the contract Monday. Terms of the one-year agreement are being withheld subject to ratification, Bennett said.

Negotiators indicated that the contract terms will likely be approved by the city employes in the association — nonsupervisory office and clerical employes.

Representing the employes yesterday were PMEA President John Gusman and Detroit attorney Winston L. Livingston, who also represented the city fire fighters and police officers in their contract negotiations. City Personnel Director Nicholas Santiwan represented the city.

END TO BARGAINING?

Tentative agreement between the employees' group and the city apparently ends the labor bargaining between the city and its employe groups for this fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

Policemen and firemen reached agreement with the city over economic terms early this year and in the past two weeks, with the help of the mediator, have settled noneconomic matters.

The new dormitory fees at Oakland University will go up to $961 for a full school year as compared with $920 last year. About one-third of OU's students are expected to live in dormitories this year.

Harris said the total tuition increase will amount to an estimated $598,940.

Oakland University is expecting a student enrollment this year of about 4,920, an increase of about 820 students over last year's enrollment.

UNFULFILLED NEEDS CITED

Harris said that the budget "is one that we can live with, although many needs will go unfilled."

A number of cutbacks have been planned, he said. The student-teacher ratio will rise, he said, because the university will not be able to add as many faculty as will be needed to handle the increase in student enrollment.

There will be little or no equipment money for some of the science departments, Harris said, and there will be practically no expansion money for the library.

The budget increase, he said, will be exhausted by increases in current faculty and staff salaries, fringe benefits, Social Security and retirements and inflationary costs and operation of a new engineering building.

Hamlin Throws Support to Rocky

In making the announcement, Hamlin said, "Republicans must bear in mind that, nationwide, independent voters as well as Democratic voters outnumber Republicans and that the Republican candidate for president must not only have excellent Republican credentials, but he must have the greatest appeal to Democrats and independent voters."

Hamlin, who has chaired the board for 13 years, said he would be writing to the other Republican county officials in Michigan, urging their support of the governor.

Chorus Gives Mass Concert at Cranbrook

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The 400-voice chorus of the American Union of Swedish Singers presented a concert yesterday afternoon on the grounds of Cranbrook Institute, near the Art Academy.

The group, in Detroit for its annual convention, will perform again at a public concert tonight at 8 at Ford Auditorium, Detroit.

Marshall Fredricks, prominent area sculptor who had been an instructor at Cranbrook for 10 years, was honorary cochairman.

Members of the troupe came to Detroit from all over the country. They had a picnic on the Cranbrook grounds prior to the performance.

BIRMINGHAM — Leaders of the Birmingham Branch YMCA finance drive recently met at the Y, 400 E. Lincoln, and heard that more than $135,000 was pledged or contributed for building activities in the first phase of the drive.

"One down and one to go—we have the health club, now we're going for the swimming pool," said Dr. Harry Lichtwardt, chairman of the board of management for Birmingham YMCA.

2ND STAGE GOAL

The group has planned the second stage goal, an additional $350,000.

"It will take at least an additional $350,000 to build an indoor, Olympic-size swimming pool," Lichtwardt said, "especially when the rising costs of construction are considered."

"We still have about 65 per cent of our pledge cards out," he continued, "and if the enthusiasm of our canvassers for getting the swimming pool is any indication of our chances for second stage success, we ought to make it."

Of the $135,000 pledged or contributed thus far, $90,000 is earmarked for completing a health club, Lichtwardt said.

UNFINISHED ROOM

The money will go toward finishing the room and equipping it with a sauna bath, equipment for ultra-violet and infra-red treatments, an exercise room, lockers, showers and lounges for men and women.

The remaining $45,000 will go toward construction of the pool in a building adjoining the gym, according to Lichtwardt.

YMCA officials believe they can easily double or quadruple enrollment in their swimming program if they get the new pool.

DRIVE UNDER WAY

The local Y is conducting an active outdoor swimming program for 222 family members in more than 20 private pools made available by their owners for 45 minutes of supervised swimming twice each week in each pool.

Last school year, the Y had 466 persons enrolled in supervised sessions conducted in the Barnum and Covington junior high school pools. But school pool use was restricted to 11½ hours each week and only after 7 p.m. on school days.

Birmingham schools rejected YMCA requests for additional pool use and time because of their own needs.

in funds, Hruschka said, he advised that the reported availability of funds should not be a criteria in making application.

Hruschka advised that a planning grant would provide funds for one year of study of problems and formulation of a plan for attacking the problems in the city.

A grant for implementation of such a program could then be approved, he said. The administrator said the model cities act then allows five years for implementation of the plan.

He said this legislation, as practically all federal aid legislation of the past two years, stresses community involvement of the people to be helped, in the planning stages and in the implementation stages.

"His singular lack of interest in feeding the hungry during this eight-year period, a part of which he spent on the Senate Agriculture Committee," said Thomas R. Hughes, executive assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, "lends little credence to his sudden zeal."

Meanwhile, Gov. Ronald Reagan of California denied a published report that he will announce his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination during a nationwide television broadcast July 21. "There's nothing to it," he said.

The theme of Humphrey's position paper was that America's foreign policy is largely geared to conditions that arose 20 or more years ago and could stand updating in the decade ahead.

Of prime importance, he said, is improvement of the relationships between the United States and the Soviet Union.

He urged initiatives to bring about a freeze and eventually a cutback of strategic weaponry on both sides, a reduction of armed forces in Europe, increased technological and economic interchange and cooperation in space exploration.

Those candidates seeking nomination who have not sent biographical material and a photograph to The Pontiac Press, 48 W. Huron, are urged to do so before Wednesday.

Strict Security Prepared for Ray Trial

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Officials preparing for what promises to be the biggest Tennessee trial since the famous "monkey trial" of 1925 are making strict security arrangements.

Officials said Thursday that plans are being made to make a voice and picture tape of every person attending the trial of James Earl Ray, charged with assassinating Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. here on April 4.

This would be the first trial anywhere that such a security precaution has been required, Charles Holmes, public relations aide to Sheriff William N. Morris, said.

Newsmen accredited to cover the trial, expected to be held in late fall, will be given identification cards bearing their photographs.

The trial is scheduled to be held in one of the Shelby County Criminal Court courtrooms so Ray can be brought directly into the court through an underground corridor without being seen by the outside public.

A secondary security line is expected to be established to keep everyone without pressing business out of the Criminal Courts building.

* * *

NO CARNIVAL'

"There will be no carnival air here," Morris said. "The sheriff, the judges and the attorney general have been conferring at intervals for several weeks to assure a fair and orderly trial in a dignified atmosphere."

The trail will be conducted in strict keeping with established standards of dignity and justice," said Dist. Atty. Gen. Phil M. Canale, who will head the prosecution team.

Inspector Warren Cargill has been placed in charge of physical arrangements for the trial, which Ray would be housed if and he is supervising the remodeling of the interior cell in returned from London.

The largest Criminal Courts courtroom can seat slightly over 100 spectators, and a large number of the seats will be assigned to news media representatives covering the trial. Morris said, however, seats would be reserved for relatives of both Ray and King, and some would be kept for the general public.

'66 Conviction of Powell OK'd

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1966 conviction of former Rep. Adam Clayton Powell on a charge of criminal contempt of court, which led to a 30-day jail sentence and a $500 fine, has been upheld by a three-to-two vote of the Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court.

The ousted congressman's lawyer, Henry R. Williams, said after the ruling Thursday that no decision had been made yet on whether to take the case to the Court of Appeals, New York State's highest tribunal.

The 59-year-old Powell, who has been elected as a Democratic congressman from Harlem for more than 20 years, was reported to be on Bimini, his favorite island retreat in the Bahamas.

Thursday's ruling came after eight years of litigation over Powell's failure to pay a defamation judgment won by a 71-year-old Harlem widow who Powell called a "bagwoman" — collector of graft for policemen — on a 1960 television program.

Talks to Avert Hospital Strike Continuing

Dr. William H. Anderson, Department of Mental Health director, was to continue to meet with Pontiac State Hospital union representatives and Dr. Daniel Kruger today in an attempt to settle a labor dispute.

Local 49 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes has threatened to strike at Pontiac State Hospital on Monday if their demands are not met.

* * *

Kruger, a professor in the Michigan State University School of Labor and Industrial Relations, was scheduled to present his fact-finding report to both sides at the meeting.

The dispute centers around personal grievances, working conditions and assignments, and alleged violations of established grievance procedures.

LETTER SENT OUT

State Personnel Director Franklin K. DeWald has sent each hospital employe a letter explaining that employes who strike are subject to suspension or dismissal.

A spokesman for the Mental Health Department said progress was made at Thursday's meeting, but declined to be specific.

The State Has Banned Private Horses From The Pontiac Lake Stables

State Evicts Private Horses From Recreation Area Stable

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Michigan's Department of Conservation has given an eviction notice to the 14 privately owned horses boarded at the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area stables.

"Boarding is a private enterprise. It is not the state's responsibility nor do we intend to make it our responsibility to board private horses," said Alfred Masini, district parks supervisor.

* * *

The conservation department has given no definite deadline for the elimination of the service.

Chuch Taeger, stable concessionaire, has been boarding the privately owned horses for five years in addition to those rented for riding to the public. Also, Taeger has records of receipts from the boarders in his monthly statements to the state.

BOARDERS COMPLAIN

The stable, on Maceday Road, houses 25 horses for use by the public on the bridle trails of the Pontiac Lake State Park Recreation Area. In addition to those 25, Taeger boards 14 privately owned horses for use by the owners, though his contract does not allow for this.

A number of boarders have complained about the restricting of Taeger's service saying that it allowed children recreation off the streets, was quite reasonably priced, and was one of the few such services in the area.

* * *

Taeger's daughter, Karen Jones, said she could see no reason for restricting boarders. "The state is even profiting by us because they got 10 cents out of every dollar we make."

Miss Jones insisted that the private boarding service "in no way obstructs the renting of horses because the boarders have their own hitching rail and always remain outside."

"There are no horses taking up stall space and it costs the state nothing," she added.

* * *

According to Masini, Taeger didn't include the number of private horses he houses on his monthly statements. "It became evident to us that it was getting way out of proportion. Taeger is more interested in boarding than general services for the public."

Masini pointed out that Taeger's contract specifically states that a stable concessionaire's duties consist only in operating a public riding stable with 25 horses, maintaining bridle paths, and providing hay rides if the public demands.

"We don't like to compete with private enterprise," Masini said. "We are trying to protect the individual in this business."

"Taeger's service is not fair. If we allowed it to continue we would be a boarding agency," Masini added.

Taeger declined to comment when asked about the private boarding service and the state's action.

Hallman Quits Council Post in Clarkston

CLARKSTON — Village Council has accepted "with regret" the resignation of Councilman Keith Hallman. He was a councilman four years.

Council President Frank Russell explained that Hallman felt his business could have conflicted with future council action. Hallman owns O'Dell's Drug Store on S. Main.

* * *

Council also discussed annexation at it recent meeting. It decided the planning commission within the council would meet to consider persons willing to serve on a boundary study committee.

Annexation was voted down by council at one time, according to Russell.

OVERRIDE SUPPORTED

In other action the council voiced approval of a request from Sen. George Kuhn of West Bloomfield Township asking support in an effort to get the legislature to override a veto by Governor George Romney.

Romney vetoed a bill giving local officials authority to call a curfew and limit the sale of gas, guns and ammunition.

* * *

McCall said his new business, the Dura-Plate Co. on Ortonville Road, would not allow him sufficient time for police work.

NO ACTION

Troy Schools Superintendent Looking for Job

TROY — Dr. Rex B. Smith, superintendent of schools here for the past 10 years, admitted this week he is looking for a new job.

He confirmed reports that the "harassment and criticism" he has received recently as head of the district is one of the reasons he is looking elsewhere.

* * *

But he also was somewhat surprised that the fact he is job hunting is such a big issue. "After 30 years in education, and 19 years as a superintendent it is not peculiar, but rather logical, that I would be looking for a change," he said.

Smith said that his troubles began 14 months ago before an unsuccessful Troy millage vote. Since that defeat, the district has voted three more times, finally passing a four-mill increase June 10.

'TOO MUCH'

"Four elections in a year was too much," said Smith, who served as president of the Oakland County School Superintendents Association for the past school year.

He noted that any complaints about a district's schools eventually get placed in the lap of the superintendent, just as they would in ony other leadership role.

But he denied reports that the Board of Education had asked for his resignation. "I've never received any official complaints from the Board," he explained.

Much of the district's problems stem from financial matters. Harold Janes, a board trustee elected during the millage defeat in June 1967, has clashed with Smith a number of times over school spending.

Birch-Linked Group to Fight U.S. Policy

A Milford-based ad hoc committee of the John Birch Society will launch its public assault on U.S. policy in Vietnam next week.

The recently organized North Huron Valley TRAIN group has invited a former combat helicopter pilot with Vietnam experience to speak on the alleged imprudence of present administration foreign policy.

TRAIN (To Restore American Independence Now) will sponsor retired Chief Warrant Officer Olin Staton's address at Milford High School next Friday at 8 p.m.

THE ONLY GOAL

Staton has said that victory is the only goal for which a serviceman should be sent to face death, according to Mrs. James N. Bailey, TRAIN publicity director. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, both members of the group, reside at 5172 Driftwood, Milford.

Mrs. Bailey said the 60-member area group is part of a national ad hoc committee originated by the John Birch Society. North Huron Valley's TRAIN committee has been organizing in the Milford area for the past year, she said.

* *

"Our main emphasis is a demand that the United States must win the war in Vietnam and stop all aid to our Communist enemies," Chairman Heslip explained.

TRAIN is circulating petitions to Congress asking all senators and representatives to exert their authority and use their influence "to have this administration stop, promptly and completely, giving aid in any form, directly or indirectly, to our Communist enemies."

Chairman Heslip and his TRAIN colleagues claim that "at least 80 per cent of the sinews of war are being provided North Vietnam by Soviet Russia and its Communist allies. This help has been made possible by our help to the Soviet Union and its satellites."

Mrs. Bailey denied charges of right-wing extremism, but she admitted that the local group had been experiencing difficulty recruiting sponsors because of its Birch affiliation.

* * *

"Many people agree with us right down the line, but they just don't want their names associated with the group," she said.

* * *

Heslip said the group hopes to organize study clubs and discussion groups after Staton's address. The speech will be its first public effort to win support since TRAIN's local inception.

CAREER SERVICEMAN

Staton, a career serviceman, went to Vietnam in 1966. He logged more than 1,000 hours of combat flight time there transporting troops, ferrying supplies and evacuating wounded men, according to Heslip.

* * *

The retired helicopter pilot and former intelligence officer, born and raised in Indiana, is outspokenly at odds with U.S. foreign policy in Southeast Asia. He opposes U.S. military tactics being employed there now and accuses the government of "handcuffing" the fighting effort, Mrs. Dailey noted.

* * *

"Playing politics with an army doesn't happen to be in the servicemen's manual," Staton charges.

Chairman Heslip said tickets for Staton's address will be available to the public at the door the night of the speech.

Road Engineer to View Needs

MILFORD — A county highway engineer will speak here Thursday on projected major road needs in Oakland County for the next 10 years.

Paul VanRoekel will explore the future of the County Road Commission at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Muir Junior High School, 425 George.

* * *

Van Roekel's responsibilities include the direction of an employe work force of 475 engaged in maintenance and construction of 2,450 miles of county roads and maintenance of more than 200 miles of state trunk lines.

* * *

* * *

The purpose of the presentation is to inform area citizens of road conditions prior to Aug. 6, when a millage proposal (1 mill for five years) for the financing of roads will appear on the ballot.

Health Check Center Is Computerized

By ED BLUNDEN

A Waterford Township doctor is using advanced ideas in medicine to create a new facility for this area.

It's a diagnostic center that sends patients through a battery of tests and comes up with a computerized health report.

* * *

Dr. Jack Kevorkian of 498 Beverly Island has located the center in Southfield at 23725 Northwestern, a point near the center of the Detroit Metropolitan area. He named it Check-Up, Medical Diagnostic Center, Inc.

Dr. Kevorkian was on the staff of Pontiac General Hospital until about three years ago.

Even then he was concerned with advanced ideas in medicine. His interest was in use of corpses as a supply of blood for transfusions. Dr. Kevorkian and his associates conducted experiments at the hospital which indicated the procedure was feasible.

Sudden-death victims, dead less than six hours, could be used as a blood supply, it was proved. Other medical authorities said this procedure is still being studied by the Army and other groups, and Russian doctors are using it. However it has not yet gained widespread acceptance, he indicated.

Dr. Kevorkian's new interest — also potentially controversial — entails use of related techniques in medicine and electronics. After a person undergoes a battery of tests, all the information on his health comes out of the computer on a continuous printed sheet. The computer also stores the information for comparison with subsequent health checks.

In explaining his service, Dr. Kevorkian said, "This is an innovation that will reduce costs and lessen the load of our overworked physicians.

NEW DIRECTION

The Check-Up firm is charging about one-fourth the amount a similar health screening procedure would cost at a regular hospital, Dr. Kevorkian estimated. Also important is that it only takes between two and three hours, compared to several days, he added.

* * *

A similar health-screening test program was initiated by the Oakland County Health Department this spring. It is offered at the South Oakland Center, 27725 Greenfield, Southfield.

It is free to county residents. However the county does not offer as wide a range of testing as does the Check-Up center.

THOROUGH TEST

Primarily, the service will be offered to individuals who wish to follow the advice of medical authorities and have a thorough yearly examination, Dr. Kevorkian explained.

His facilities can accommodate 70 to 80 persons per day and are available for group-type programs of area firms. Ultimately Dr. Kevorkian sees the service as fitting in with the existing pattern of medical practice. That is, doctors and hospitals will send patients to the center for examination and use the computerized report in subsequent diagnoses and treatment.

* * *

Though few such private clinics are in existence in the U.S., Dr. Kevorkian thinks this service will become increasingly important as case loads grow and the demand for medical services increases.

According to other medical authorities contacted concerning the Check-Up operation, such a facility is not in accord with traditional practices. They feel the use of computers would tend to break down the personal doctor-patient relationship considered important in medical treatment.

IT'S INEVITABLE

In general the computerized health testing center is conceded to be an inevitable development.

Dr. Kevorkian insists his procedure will allow the general practitioners to do a better job. He points out that few of them have the range of testing equipment he does at his center.

* * *

He also points out that all test reports are turned over to a private physician and no treatment is initiated by the Check-Up staff. He sees the computerized test report as a tool which will, in the long run, mean better health care.

Check-Up is in a large new building on the I-696 marginal road, near the Southfield interchange, reached via the 10 Mile-Evergreen exit ramp.

ASSOCIATES

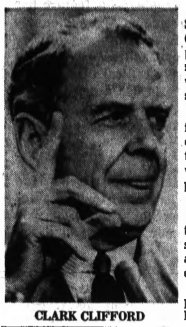
Attack Force Expansion Hinted

U.S. OKs Superfast Navy Sub



CLARK CLIFFORD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford has set the stage for a possible expansion of the U. S. nuclear attack submarine force with his approval of a new superfast model.

Clifford told a news conference Thursday he has ordered the top scientific and technical brains to work on the vessel, understood to carry a price tag of around $185 million.

This is $100 million more than the latest Sturgeon class atomic sub, whose mission is to hunt and kill enemy underwater craft.

The authorization was a partial victory for Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the Navy's nuclear expert, who was pushing the Pentagon for advanced American submarines to meet the growing Soviet undersea force.

SUPERQUIET SUB

But as Clifford announced he had authorized the new sub which Rickover helped design, the defense secretary left open the possibility that another Rickover favorite — a superquiet sub — may get the ax.

This submarine, which could track enemy vessels with great stealth, was approved last year, but the Pentagon has been threatening to abandon it to save money.

Rickover, a congressional favorite, has been arguing through Capitol Hill committees for the quiet sub, but the outlook has dimmed. Clifford said a decision on its fate will be forthcoming in the next few weeks.

The approved sub — Clifford didn't say how much faster it would be than present 30-knot vessels — is slated for full budgeting in 1970, defense officials said. Long-lead-time parts are sought under the fiscal 1969 budget now before Congress.

69-SUB FORCE

The authorized nuclear attack force stands at 69 submarines, about half of which have been built, with the other half either under construction or approved.

Work on the last four is scheduled to begin in 1969 and 1970, and defense officials said the high-speed version will be one of the last two models.

California Teen Drops Dead After Sniffing Hair Spray Can

Minutes later Warnock collapsed in the white sand, overcome by fumes he inhaled from a hair spray can to get "high." He was pronounced dead in a hospital emergency room.

David, the son of a former San Francisco Chamber of Commerce executive, was the third young person to die this week in northern California from a dose of narcotics or chemicals. The Monterey County Coroner's Office said Thursday he died seconds after breathing the fumes.

OVERDOSE KILLS TEEN

Nancy Anne Christiansen, 16, Palo Alto, a long-haired blonde with the figure of a beauty queen, died Monday morning from an overdose of cocaine. Police said she paid $20 for the injection.

Both Warnock and Nancy were students at Palo Alto High School in the middle and upper-middle class city of Palo Alto, 30 miles south of San Francisco.

Phyllis Newman, 23, died on the front step of her Oakland apartment building early Monday, and police are searching for a man who told another resident, "Something's happened to Phyllis. She's had an overdose." Laboratory tests still have not determined why the young woman died.

Warnock was not acquainted with the group of 40-50 youths sitting around the beach fire Wednesday night, police said. He just happened by. But he casually accepted an invitation to join in breathing the fumes from the can of dry hair shampoo. It was labeled: "Keep out of the hands of children."

COLLAPSES ON SAND

Then Warnock stood up, police were told by the others. "God, this stuff hits you' fast," he said, and he bolted and ran 150 yards before falling.

His new friends tried to revive him by sprinkling his face with seawater before calling an ambulance.

"We don't know how many of the others tried the hair spray, but as far as we can tell the Warnock boy was the only one to suffer any lasting ill effects," said Police Capt. William Ellis.

He said the spray contained ether, which "like glue sniffing, apparently produces hallucinations but deprives the blood, and therefore the brain, of oxygen."

Strike on Seaway Reaches 21st Day

OTTAWA (UPI) — The costly St. Lawrence Seaway strike is in its 21st day with both sides waiting for the other to make the first move and the government maintaining its strict hands-off policy.

Some 80 ships are anchored in the St. Lawrence River near Montreal waiting to get through the seaway into the Great Lakes, and another 70 ships are trapped inside the waterway, waiting to get out.

Two hundred Great Lakes vessels have been idled by the walkwout of 1,300 Seaway workers and an estimated 5,000 sailors thrown out of work.

Help Sought for Biafra Refugees

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The chief of a British mercy mission sought a meeting today with Nigerian government chief Yakubu Gowon as he tried to arrange delivery of more relief supplies to millions of starving war refugees in secessionist Biafra.

Lord Hunt was rebuffed by a Nigerian army commander Thursday when he asked that Port Harcourt, the closest port to the Biafran area, be designated a forwarding point for tons of food piling up outside the war-torn country.

He reported that Col. Benjamin Adekunle, commanding the federal government's forces along the eastern coast, reserved the port facilities for military needs. Lord Hunt said the Colonel was a single-minded soldier who puts winning the war ahead of the refugee problem.

Adekunle told newsmen he did not favor foreigners entering war areas and "disturbing" the fighting. He was reported angered by Lord Hunt's visit.

REBEL ATTACK

Lord Hunt also visited the town of Ikot Ekpene, in a refugee-choked area 50 miles northeast of Port Harcourt. As he was leaving, the town was attacked by rebel Biafran troops, but they were driven back by Nigerian federal forces.

An estimated 4.5 million refugees are crammed into the 10,000 square miles still held by the Biafran government in eastern Nigeria. The Lagos government, which has the territory under blockade, has offered to let relief convoys through a road corridor controlled by federal forces, but the Biafrans refuse to accept this because of the political implications of such Lagos control and because they fear Lagos will poison the food.

At present only a few planeloads of food are reaching the stricken area, on hazardous night flights which elude the Nigerian air force of Soviet MIGs and Czech Delfins.

University Head Minces No Words

Straight talk is always welcome and occasionally there comes along a college administrator with the temerity to tell it to his students like it really is.

One such man is Vice Chancellor William B. Boyd of the University of California, and it so happens that he is moving along to the presidency of another university, so he could afford to lay it on the line in bidding his goodbye to the "most famous—or infamous" class in the history of Berkeley.

★ ★ ★

He said in part, "Berkeley was once the crown jewel of California, a source of affection and pride of this state. Now our very name is shorthand for trouble, our budgets are inadequate, our lagging salary schedules make faculty recruitment ever more difficult and the public holds us in varying degrees of distrust or disgust."

★ ★ ★

This is an object lesson which students entering freshmen classes throughout the Nation would do well to keep in mind in the event the minority among them might be inclined to extremes of campus revolt.

The taxpayers that are footing the bills might well turn the tables and do a little revolting themselves. We may be in a period of revolutionary change, but the tyranny of power that has arrogated itself so frequently of late may well backfire.

★ ★ ★

There are still quite a few conservatives around. Many are willing to accept some change and go along with gradual revamping of some of our outdated programs. But they don't like to be bullied.

★ ★ ★

Recent sad experience shows that students can go far to destroy great universities; there is little on record to indicate that students can as readily build them.

LSD Use Declines After Effects Are Revealed

If throwing a scare into the public hasn't made much of a dent in the Nation's tobacco habit as yet, the tactic appears to have had sudden and dramatic effect in another area of considerable concern in health quarters.

The U.S. Bureau of Narcotics reports a sharp decline in LSD usage in the wake of revelations during the past year of the mind-bending drug's effect on human reproduction, which probably says something about survival of the race being a more telling argument than personal survival.

★ ★ ★

The bureau says the turning point came with evidence that LSD can disrupt the arrangement of chromosomes, the tiny rods in cells containing the multitudes of genes determining human development from sex to hair color and number of fingers.

★ ★ ★

The reports of medical researchers and of actual abnormal birth "scared the pants off" of many taking LSD for kicks or to be in, the bureau believes, with a resulting substantial usage decline in recent months.

Victory is not total. There are still many hard-core addicts, and many former users, primarily the collegiate set, may simply have turned to marijuana. But every little bit helps.

Who says there isn't good news to report—or that reporting bad news can't have beneficial results?

Bathing Cap Rules New Threat to Male Image

With beads and long hair already threatening our traditional concepts of masculinity, a new item has been added to the male "fashion" picture in Philadelphia.

★ ★ ★

Boys with long hair will have to wear bathing caps if they want to swim in the pools at Philadelphia recreation centers. The recreation supervisor in charge of municipal pools in that city recently announced that a city regulation required all girls to wear caps, no matter how long their hair, and some of them wear it shorter than the boys.

He admitted there was no written rule covering long-haired boys, but he will enforce such a rule anyway because long hair has a tendency to shed, and this clogs a pool's filtration system.

★ ★ ★

While this may appear to be another nail in the coffin of MANkind, there's one bright aspect remaining. Caps or no caps, bathing suit styles have remained such that poolside is one place where there's still no problem in telling the girls from the boys.

Hockey Buff Calls Baseball 'Bore'

By DICK SAUNDERS

I am a sports fan of sorts. In my book, you have two kinds of sports.

One kind is ice hockey.

SAUNDERS

The other kind is football, baseball, basketball, golf, soccer, etc.

I don't often write about sports because we have a stellar staff of sportswriters here to keep you informed on happenings in the athletic world.

★ ★ ★

But I think a word of explanation is in order for those fellow hockey buffs who happened to turn on the TV Tuesday night and saw all those men standing around in a domed, air-conditioned stadium.

If you had any doubts, I want you to know it was NOT a Sunday School picnic.

My sport writing friends tell me it was a game called baseball. Admittedly, it was a bore.

The score was only 1 to 0. But it wasn't the score that made it so boring. It was how the score got to be 1 to 0 that made this clash of athletes so dull.

You and I know that a hockey game can feature 60 minutes of flashing action and dozens of fantastic saves by goaltenders and still end up 1 to 0.

We know a hockey game can be highlighted by brilliant stick handling, or a host of crushing body checks or a string of major penalties for brawling, and still result in a 1 to 0 score.

★ ★ ★

We hockey buffs know we've come away from many a 1 to 0 game hoarse from cheering. Even when our team loses, we come away knowing we've seen a great game.

And we don't need fancy $2 million scoreboards to keep us entertained during the course of a hockey game

Watching that needlework social in the Astrodome Tuesday did produce a few thoughts in between yawns.

First, slow-motion TV showed what appeared to be a couple bad calls by first base umpires, and a new innovation — an overhead camera — produced some unusual shots of the batter's box and home plate.

★ ★ ★

I wouldn't be surprised if someday in the future this sport will reach a point where balls and strikes are "called" by similar overhead computerized cameras. I expect to live to see the day when base runners are even ruled safe or out electronically on the basepaths.

We leave no room for human error in horse racing. The photo finish is a long accepted factor in that sport.

★ ★ ★

With instant, slow-motion playback possible on TV, why not utilize it for close plays in baseball?

In any case, I urge my hockey-loving brothers to have faith. This thing called baseball can't be all bad. Let's give it a chance.

Maybe, if we give it time, it will improve.

'Get This. We Aren't FOR Anything—We're AGAINST!'

David Lawrence Says:

Significance of Poll Is Missed

WASHINGTON — Public-opinion polls have certain useful purposes, but they can unintentionally give misleading impressions if they are not adequately explained. Thus, one prominent newspaper has a headline this week which reads: "Gallup finds Nixon Trails Humphrey and Rockefeller Runs Even With Him."

LAWRENCE

The reader could get the idea that such a poll indicates Humphrey is close to victory, when the survey really reveals something entirely different.

Actually, the pollsters asked the voters two separate questions. How would they choose between Humphrey, Nixon and Wallace? How would they vote as between Humphrey, Rockefeller and Wallace?

There was only a single percentage point of difference between the potential Republican nominees — 36 per cent for Rockefeller and 35 per cent for Nixon. But the significant factor disclosed by the same tabulation is that the Wallace vote went up five points — from 16 per cent to 21 per cent — when the choice had to be between Humphrey, Rockefeller and Wallace.

It is clear, therefore, that if Rockefeller should be nominated, the Wallace vote would rise substantially. This would increase the chances of the election being thrown into the House of Representatives — which happens in the absence of an electoral-vote majority for any candidate.

VOTE DROPS

When the suggested choice is between Humphrey, Rockefeller and Wallace, the Humphrey vote drops to 36 per cent from the 40 per cent he polls when Nixon is designated as his opponent.

To put it another way, the Wallace vote gets noticeably larger when Rockefeller is included, but is reduced considerably when the choice is between Humphrey, Nixon and Wallace.

★ ★ ★

The real question that will confront his supporters on Nov. 5 is whether Wallace supporters want to throw the election into the House of Representatives. They will have to decide finally whether they want to see Humphrey or Nixon elected.

TAKE A CHANCE

In the South particularly, where Wallace is strong, many voters will have to make up their minds whether they want to vote for Wallace and take a chance of throwing the election to Humphrey or give their assistance to the Nixon candidacy.

Time Ripe in United States for Total Ban on Violence

By DAVID POLING
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

With a sudden, dramatic rush, the moral climate of the United States is ripe for, even demanding, a total restraint on violence. The murders of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. have caused a deep revulsion and regret among thinking people of this country.

A sense of shame and guilt and grieving has given way to a tone of absolute urgency. It is touching everything from new gun laws in Congress to removal of terror, killing and brutality on television.

In foreign affairs this means the end of the Vietnam war. In domestic politics, programs of reform and renewal are gaining sudden interest from a wide coalition of church groups, private business and public officials who want to help the poor and remodel an urban society in the process.

An amazing example of this is the surge of interest to aid children and young people in our ghetto areas. There is a deep anguish in the soul of this country and people are not content to slip back into a moral immunity.

The restraint of violence has to involve much more than gun control laws but that is a good practical start. Actually, it is a long-term, quite massive reshaping of attitudes and vocabulary.

TV EMPIRES SHUDDER

Television empires have already begun to shudder as producers and network executives take a hard look at the ghastly programs which have featured murder, rape and war as normal "entertainment" for children and youth.

The Hollywood film makers are already in minor convulsions over the release, right after Kennedy's death, of "The Green Berets." Too many citizens no longer accept John Wayne and his machine gun view of patriotism.

We have so saturated our culture with brutality — and blandly accepted the scenario — that we cannot comprehend the extent of our inhumanity and cruelty.

If anything can be any more shocking than what we have done to Vietnam, it is to the animal kingdom in the United States. Mel Morse, president of the Humane Society of the United States, has written a scathing indictment of how our nation brutally abuses animals.

I don't know when I have read a more horrifying story of the callous treatment that we have dished out to the animal world.

What Morse is doing, in a most timely manner, is showing the world how violent we are in our relationships — man to beast.

We are not saying that compassion has suddenly overcome conflict or that kindness will surpass killing. But we are seeing a hopeful signal — a yearning, a desire, a reaching for a much better way of life. It's a long way to Christmas but we are ready for an epidemic of good will, peace on earth.

Voice of the People:

Press Rules Are Outlined for Writing VOP Letters

Here again are the simple rules covering letters to the Voice of the People. This feature has very high readership as residents are anxious to know what their neighbors are thinking. Every letter must have a name and address. When the communication is not sharply critical of a private individual or firm, writers can use a pen name if they wish. However, if you want to assail someone, it isn't fair to your victim to hide behind an anonymous name.

★ ★ ★

Many letters contain statements which would subject the writers (and The Press) to libel suits. We recognize most of these but when we are in doubt we refer them to our attorneys and are guided accordingly.

★ ★ ★

We can't run letters that are purely personal matters between an individual and his favorite enemy or an individual and a firm at which he's "mad." Try and keep your letters within 200 words or less. Even then, to conserve space most letters will be edited.

We cannot publish letters of personal thanks or poetry, due to space limitations. Matters concerning race and religion must be signed. All subjects must be of genuine, communitywide interest.

Send in your thoughts.

They're welcomed.

'Grateful for Reminder to Display Our Flag'

I must tell you how pleased I was that you reminded us to display our flag on the Fourth of July and made one available to those who had none. It gives me hope that America will survive yet if our papers and magazines will uphold the Country and its morals.

MRS. S. COMBS

'Concerned About Nomination of Candidate'

As Republican chairman of a rural county in upstate New York, I am concerned that the Miami delegates nominate a candidate who has a realistic chance of winning in November. We cannot win by nominating a candidate who has not held a public office in eight years and has not won a general election on his own for 17 years. We cannot win by a negative campaign that presumes that all disturbed Democrats and Independents will automatically vote for any Republican candidate. We cannot win by nominating a candidate who would have to ride on the coattails of the local tickets.

'Show Our Boys We Care by Displaying Flag'

Do people of the United States know what the colors of our flag represent? Blue is for justice, red for courage and white for purity. While our boys are fighting, let's display our flag. Show them that we care about them and the wonderful country for which they are fighting. I have a son protecting us, as many others do. I do not want war. Maybe displaying our flag could help end war.

I'm retired on total disability and haven't worked for 10 years. My son paid $6,000 in income tax this year, my daughter about that much. Can they help me out and deduct it from their income tax?

Poll . . .

Baltimore Sun

Czechoslovakia's official Communist party newspaper Rude Pravo invited its readers to answer 20 some questions keyed to political issues. They were pretty bold and touchy questions, too, especially to be asked in a Communist state. Rude Pravo got answers from 38,000 people—a fairly impressive showing. The tally of the answers is impressive, too.

★ ★ ★

Thus, 90 per cent of non-Communist readers favored creation of opposition political parties—but so did more than 50 per cent of the Communist readers. And to a question as to whether the Communist party is a "necessary condition" for the development of a "socialist democracy," about 75 said no, it wasn't—and so did 38 per cent of those Communist party members who had at least a secondary school education.

★ ★ ★

One must admire the courage of the people who thus openly took a position that must be painful to the Communist leadership, just as one must admire the courage of Rude Pravo that didn't hesitate to publish the results. If nothing else, the outcome shows that a lot of Czechs, even when they are Communists, have managed to keep a good deal of independence of judgment.

It's unlikely that the new government in Prague will be greatly influenced by the poll; in fact, the reformist leaders may be troubled by it, wondering what conclusions the watchful men in Moscow, East Germany, Poland, and Hungary will draw. The idea that many citizens of a Communist country, including quite a few Communist party members, would welcome the formation of opposition parties is certainly something surprising in the history of Communist nations.

The Non-Rioters

Grand Haven Tribune

Our personal experience with the Tri-Cities Educational Foundation long ago convinced us that a very large percentage of college students want no part of the riots, protests and violence.

Scores of young men and women have received loans and a few grants after careful screening by the local area non-profit foundation, initiated by Grand Haven Rotary and expanded to serve the entire community.

A surprising number of these students have been superior not only at college but in specialized fields of work. Not all of them were superior in high school, but their basic attitudes and abilities convinced the trustees they could make good.

Students applying for foundation support usually needed every cent they could muster. Without it they may not have been able to attend college at all. When parents could help them, this was encouraged. In every case someone has had to sacrifice, because loans eventually must be paid back.

★ ★ ★

Hence some of the unrest on our campuses must have shocked these students as well as all parents with youngsters in college. While so many are sacrificing so much, why should a handful of troublemakers be permitted to stay in school?

As Dr. Roben Fleming of the University of Michigan declared recently, "All reasonable discussions of student problems deserve to be heard, but when the so-called demands or protests become unreasonable, even violent, we can't shy away from a showdown."

Garrison: Got Foreign Data on Plot

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison said that his office has exchanged information with the intelligence agency of a foreign country "that successfully penetrated the assassination operation" against President John F. Kennedy, the Times-Picayune reported today.

According to the newspaper report, Garrison said that "the great amount of detailed information" he received from the foreign country verifies his statements that Kennedy was assassinated "by elements of the Central Intelligence Agency."

* * *

Garrison declined to identify the country but he did say that it is in Europe and is "a foreign power that militarily is on friendly terms with the United States," the newspaper reported.

The district attorney said, according to the newspaper report, that he was making the disclosure about the contact with the foreign intelligence agency because of indications of another "CIA-inspired" campaign in magazines to discredit his investigation.

ARTICLE CITED

The paper said Garrison referred specifically to an article in the New Yorker magazine dated July 13. The article by Edward Jay Epstein, a critic of the Warren Commission, attacks Garrison's investigation of the assassination of Kennedy in Dallas in November 1963.

Epstein said in the 25,000-word piece, "In the years I have been studying Garrison's investigation and have had access to his office, the only evidence I have seen or heard about that could connect Clay Shaw with the assassination has been fraudulent — some devised by Garrison himself and some cynically called from criminals or the emotionally unstable."

* * *

The Times-Picayune story gave this account:

Garrison said a representative of his office spent about a month with "the top men of their (the foreign country's) intelligence agency" and returned bout a month ago. He did not dentify the representative.

CONTACT REPORTED

He also said that an "intermediary" from another foreign country contacted his office about three or four months ago.

They arranged to make contact and exchange information, but Garrison did not elaborate on that development.

* * *

He described the information he obtained as containing "more specifics" than his office had gotten. Garrison said that because of the foreign country having a larger, more professional operation, its agents were able to follow up more details, especially in Dallas.

Garrison asserted that the foreign country had penetrated "some of the preexisting forces used in the assassination" while its men were on another intelligence mission in this country.

Party for Wallace to Oust Area Chief

The chairman of the American Independent party in Oakland County will be removed from office for "trash statements" concerning his plans for protecting George Wallace when he campaigns for the presidency in Michigan.

"Oakland County will have a new chairman by tomorrow," said James E. Hall, vice chairman of the party in Michigan, in refuting Benny Burnett's claim that he has organized 100 men to guard the former Alabama governor if Gov. Romney refuses to provide state protection.

Burnett's statements, said Hall were "irresponsible and without authority."

"George Wallace is a gentleman who is opposed to violence, vigilantes and Minutemen," he added. "He wouldn't condone it."

Wallace is expected to visit Detroit, Lansing and other Michigan cities some time in late August. Like all other major presidential candidates, he is accompanied by a contingent of Secret Service guards.

Burnett operates an office for the American Independent party, which is supporting Wallace, at 544 E. Beverly in Pontiac.

Hall, a resident of Warren, said that he was the one that appointed Burnett. "Apparently I made a mistake," he said.

He said that he has contacted the chairman of the party in Michigan, Harold Synder of Watervliet, "and he is in complete agreement with me."

Don't Cash Our Checks, Says Firm

Hubert Distributors, Inc., of 125 E. Columbia has asked Pontiac area merchants and bankers not to cash the company's payroll checks.

A company spokesman said that the firm's offices were broken into last week and several boxes of blank payroll checks were stolen.

* * *

Employes of the company have been asked to cash their checks either at the company office or at the Pontiac State Bank, the company's depository.

The bank has been informed of the situation and is prepared to distinguish between false and legitimate checks.

Tourists Told to Avoid British Flood Areas

LONDON (AP) — Vacationers were warned to stay out of England's flood-stricken West Country today after angry villagers clashed with tourists they took for sightseers.

"Flood victims are in no mood for visitors," said a police spokesman in Somerset. "There is a lot of work to do. Sightseers should remember how they would feel in similar circumstances."

Ruined bridges left only one main road open to the resorts of Devon and Cornwall, on England's southwest toe. Thousands on vacation left for home early, causing some of the worst traffic jams seen in the area as they tried to make their way on secondary roads. The army lifted troops by air to make emergency repairs and help clear the destruction.

At least seven persons died in the raging waters fed by two days of torrential rain. The floods were receding in the West Country, but in the Midlands, the Trent and the Nene were rising, threatening Leicester and Northampton.

Thousands of acres were under water around Leicester. Police and troops worked to reinforce the banks of the Nene, flowing through low-lying farmland.

On the east coast, the counties of Norfolk, Essex and Kent reported heavy crop damage after winds gusting up to 60 miles an hour lashed them.

Merchants, City Join

Sidewalk Repairs Due

Merchants and the city government have worked out a plan to replace some 10,000 square feet of deteriorating sidewalk in the downtown area, Jack Simon, president of the Downtown Pontiac Business Association, reported last night to the Pontiac Area Planning Council board of governors.

Simon said this one of a number of positive steps being taken by the merchants, who have organized into a planning council task force, obstensibly under the direction of the governors.

* * *

Simon reported that the businessmen are working with the police department on an educational program to curb shoplifting. Merchants will be taught how to spot and prosecute shoplifters and how to discourage pilfering.

The DPBA president said the group is enthustastic about the plan for redeveloping Pontiac's downtown urban renewal area presented recently by architect C. Don Davidson.

* * *

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. asked the downtown task force to undertake an economic feasibility study of the plan and to present its findings to the board of governors.

Aid Proposal Debate Seen by McDonald

McDONALD

"The concern over the nation's foreign policy is bipartisan and, I feel, merited," said McDonald. "The proposition of evaluating our position abroad is vast and indeed ambitious, but one that is needed."

★ ★ ★

Many members of Congress believe that the job can begin by reviewing the U.S. foreign aid program, he said. Some are asking for a one-year moratorium on the program.

McDonald said that impressive figures are cited to back this position, and its supporters point out that a one-year-old halt would not mean a sudden and complete stop to all avenues of aid.

AID BREAKDOWN

"There presently is an estimated $4.5 billion in the foreign aid 'pipeline'," said McDonald. "It breaks down this way: The world bank has $2.2 billion available for lending; The Export-Import Bank, $13.5 billion; The Inter-American Development Bank has $175 million yearly under the International Development Bank and is expected to have $1.2 billion in the fund for special operations; the International Development Association has $1.2 billion; and the Asian Bank has $188.5 million.

If the plan to invoke a one-year moratorium is successful, Congress can give the entire program a thorough examination "and better determine what position would be in the best interest of the nation," Mc-Donald said.

He said that the foreign aid bill will be brought before the House in the near future.

London Bridge Pieces Coming In Free

The U.S. Bureau of Customs made a declaration to that effect when the first section of the bridge arrived at Los Angeles for shipment to the new site.

It seems there's a law on the books which exempts from customs duty any item over 100 year old. Despite the nursery rhyme's report, London Bridge had been holding up for 137 years.

★ ★ ★

It's just a well for the developers of Lake Havasu City that they won't have to pay duty on the old bridge. It already has cost them $2,460,000.

Junior Editors Quiz on VOYAGE OF COLUMBUS

QUESTION: When Columbus sailed around the world, were there other important men along?

* * *

ANSWER: Columbus did NOT sail around the world; he discovered the West Indian Island of the New World in 1492. Thinking these were the long-sought islands of the East, he sailed back in triumph to Spain.

The commander-in-chief of the expedition which first sailed around the world was Ferdinand Magellan, a Portuguese who sailed from Spain in 1519 (see picture and map). Magellan's plan was to reach the Spice Islands of the East, load his ships with spices and sail home the way he came.

After much difficulty, he sailed around Cape Horn and across the Pacific. Arriving at the island of Cebu in the Phillippines, a dispute with natives arose which cost Magellan his life.

All but one of the original five ships had been wrecked or burnt, but the commander of the last ship, Sebastian Del Cano, kept on sailing west and eventually reached Spain.

Since Del Cano was actually the first to circumnavigate the globe, he is extremely important in world history. Yet, since Magellan initiated the voyage, he receives most of the credit for its success. It was a great achievement, for it definitely proved that the earth was round.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize).

Harlem's Young Find Welcome in Vermont

RIPTON, Vt. (AP) — More than 500 Negro youngsters from New York are spending the summer with white Vermont children.

The Negro children, who have almost doubled the Negro population of Vermont for the summer, are staying at a dozen schools, colleges and camps with an equal number of Vermont children from 13 to 16 years of age, who also are participating in a creative arts program.

* * *

The project is being underwritten by about $250,000 in private donations, business contributions and some state money.

Although the youngsters, almost all from New York's Harlem, arrived in the Green Mountain State less than a week ago, they are already enthralled by the program.

THEY LOVE IT

"I love the mountains and the trees and all the grass," said one youngster. "And you can run around without getting hit by a car."

About 100 of the children are housed in a former Office of Economic Opportunity Youth Corps camp at Ripton, and are deeply involved in various creative projects.

* * *

"I have to throw them out to end the class in pottery," said instructor Wayne Filan.

But the white and Negro children are not so buried in culture that they forget to be children. Pottery, ceramics, ballet and painting are forgotten during swimming time in Lake Dunmore.

LAUNCHED PROJECT

One of the counselors at Ripton is Susan Hoff, 18, daughter of Gov. Philip H. Hoff, who launched the project in cooperation with Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City.

Hoff, first Democratic governor of Vermont in more than a century and in the last of an unprecedented three terms, says he thought of the idea after reading the report by the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders.

* * *

"Maybe Vermont can be the leader in conquering the guts of the problem, white racism," he said.

Wagner Directs Joint Concert

Roger Wagner, one of America's best-known directors of choral groups, will direct the Meadow Brook Chorus and Orchestra in concert Tuesday, at Oakland University.

The joint chorus-orchestra performance will be followed by a Meadow Brook Orchestra concert Wednesday with James Levine conducting.

Both performances will be at 8:30 p.m. at the Baldwin Pavilion. Meadow Brook Festival subscribers will be admitted free. Admission for others is $1.

* * *

Wagner, head of the choral institute of Meadow Brook School of Music, is music director of the Southern California Choral Music Association and also has his own orchestra and 100-voice professional chorus. He holds a doctorate cum laude in musicology and was knighted by Pope Paul VI for his contributions to sacred music throughout the world.

Tuesday he will conduct the performances of "Requiem," Opus 9 by Duruflé; "Christmas Cantata" (Sinfonia Sacra) by Pinkham; and "La Danse des Morts" by Honegger.

Internationally-known baritone Pierre Bernac, who appeared in the premiere of the Honegger work, is the featured narrator. M. Bernac came from Paris to Meadow Brook to be a faculty member at the six-week summer program.

CHORUS MEMBERS

Levine, director of the orchestral institute at the School of Music, will conduct the Meadow Brook Orchestra Wednesday in "Symphony No. 3 in E Flat," Opus 55 ("Eroica") by Beethoven; "Symphonies of Wind Instruments," by Stravinsky, and "Images Pour Orchestre," by Debussy.

Levine is assistant conductor of the Cleveland Orchestra, a faculty member of Cleveland Institute of Music, a concert pianist and chamber music artist.

Parade, Rodeos, Ball Close Cherry Festival

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Parades, fireworks, a dance and rodeos bring the 42nd annual National Cherry Festival to a close this weekend at Traverse City.

Thousands were expected today for the Grand Cherry Royale parade featuring National Cherry Queen, Julie Anne Hamilton, of Cedar Springs and her court, escorted by Marines.

* * *

Three long distance walkers from Grand Rapids who completed a 160-mile hike to Traverse City Wednesday were expected to take part in the parade. They were Fred LaVene, 70, and Marion Pearson and Earl Robson, both 69.

HAVING A BALL

A parade of horses with actor Edward Everett Horton as grand marshall, rodeos, a square dance and a fireworks display over Grand Traverse Bay highlight Saturday's events. A rodeo also is planned Sunday.

Dear Mrs. Post: My stepson came to Florida for a few weeks with his family, and as I invited them for dinner at one time, they gave us a large square tablecloth. My dining table is round and I had no use for the tablecloth.

* * *

Before they left for home I asked my stepson's wife if she would care to exchange it for a blanket cover, or for some sheets. She agreed to do that, since she bought it in a department store.

* * *

After several months my husband, while writing to them, mentioned the tablecloth. My stepson's wife said that she decided to use it herself, and she regretted the incident. Some time later my husband's son wrote that it is not etiquette to return a gift and ask to have it exchanged.

Should I have kept it? — Marge

* * *

Dear Marge: Two wrongs don't make a right. While one has every right to exchange a gift himself, it is not considerate to ask the giver to take the trouble of returning it and finding something else. Having agreed to do so, however, your daughter-in-law had no business keeping the gift herself and not sending another in its place.

* * *

Neither of you acted in the best of taste, so start all over again. Have a laugh at the series of errors, and don't let it ruin your friendship.

A Green-Eyed Beauty From Brazil Sleepiest Miss Universe Contestant

Sleep might be a better word than relax for the spare minutes of 20-year-old Martha Vasconcellos, an auburn-haired lovely from Salvador in the Brazilian state of Bahia.

Martha stretches out her shapely 5-foot-8 frame backstage whenever she gets a break from rehearsals. She flops on the floor, on chairs, on another contestant's knee, any place, and closes her exotic green eyes.

JUST LAZY

"I'm lazy anyway," said Miss Brazil during a waking moment at the hairdresser. "There is no time to sleep here. We got to bed at 1 a.m. and they had us up again at 6 a.m.

"When we're up, it's work, work, work, so when they say rest, I snore," said Martha, who was among 15 swimsuit competition winners Wednesday night.

Miss Brazil won over 28 girls in her state contest, then topped a field of 35 to win the trip to Miami Beach where Miss Universe 1968 will be chosen from a field of 65 Saturday night.

* * *

There is at least one distant cheerleader for Miss Brazil who thinks she is Miss Universe material — her fiance, Reynaldo Loureiro, an engineer in Salvador.

"He sends me a telegram every day saying he is happy that I am here," Martha said. "He always tells me I am the most beautiful girl in the world, even before the contest, so if I don't win I think he would still believe it."

Even the show's producers looked to Brazil — the opening song is "The Girl from Ipanema." Ipanema is a section of Brazil's largest city, Rio de Janeiro.

"I would like not to disappoint my people so I try hard to represent my country the best way," said Miss Brazil as she sat patiently while the man rolled her long, silky hair onto curlers.

The 131-pound girl with the 36-25-36 figure would not say she might win: "It's diffiult for the judges to choose one girl because all are so beautiful.

They've Been Ribbing Us Since Eve

So . . . What Else Is New?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: When I married Lou I knocked five years off my true age because he was a couple of years younger than I was. We have been married 28 years and have married children now, and Lou still doesn't know my real age.

ABBY

My husband and I are planning our first trip abroad this summer, and in order to get passports I sent away for our birth certificates — mine to be sent to a post office box number which I got especially for this purpose. My husband frequently sees the mail before I do, and he would be flabbergasted if he opened the mail and saw the date on my birth certificate.

I suppose I am acting childish about this, but Lou is the kind of person who would rib me the rest of my life if he found out.

Is there some way I can doctor up my birth certificate, or the passport so my husband won't find out how old I am? I have heard that it can be done. What is your advice?

OLDER THAN HE

* * *

DEAR OLDER: Don't "doctor" up anything. Be nonchalant and maybe Lou won't even notice the year of birth on your passport. Or tell him in advance. If he ribs you, he ribs you. Women have been getting the rib ever since Eve.

DEAR ABBY: I have just discovered that my husband has a new girl friend. He doesn't know I know about this one. We had a terrible scene over the last one, and he promised if I forgave him it would never happen again. (If I had $100 for everytime he said this, I'd be rich.)

In the past I've always let him know that I knew about his extra-marital affairs, but this time I am not going to say one word about it. I am completely drained of energy and emotion and I don't want to "talk it over" with him; I am sick of his lies and promises. I just want to be left alone.

I've lost all confidence and faith in him and any "love" I once had for him is dead.

He knows I've cooled off, but he does not know why. I offered him his freedom in the past. He doesn't want it. (He says he "loves" me. Ha!) He provides very well for the children and me, but I have had it. What would you do?

IN A QUANDARY

DEAR IN: I'd give him two choices. See a marriage counselor or see a lawyer.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: When I was young I had an illegitimate baby. I gave him up for adoption on the advice of those who cared for me. I later married a man who knows all about my past. We now have a 16-year-old daughter.

Should I tell my daughter about my illegitimate son as an example of what a foolish girl can do when she yields to temptation and doesn't heed the warning of her mother?

My daughter is a quiet girl who does not have a boy friend yet, but I am so worried about what might happen to her when she starts going out with boys.

Should I confess my sin to her or not?

SINNED

DEAR SINNED: Warn your daughter without using your personal experience as the horrible example.

Can it be that you still feel guilty and have an unconscious desire to punish yourself for your "sin?" If I were you, Mother, I would skip the confession.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: The other day a letter came addressed to my husband. Thinking it was an advertisement, I opened it and found several pictures of nude women with a letter saying, "If you want more, send money."

I suppose I am naive, but I was shocked. I don't know whether my husband sent for these pictures or not. If he didn't shouldn't these people be reported for sending this kind of stuff through the mails?

My problem is this: I'm afraid if I show this stuff to my husband and question him, he'll start having all his mail sent to his office and I won't see any of it. He is sometimes a little careless with money, and charges things he doesn't want me to know about. I recently quit working, and now I see all the mail before he does, and I like it this way. What do you suggest?

HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Your biggest problem, as I see it, is the obvious lack of communication and mutual trust between you two.

* * *

For openers, ask him how he came to be recipient of the girlie gallery. (He may be innocent.) Then present the material (in its original envelope) to your postmaster, who will add it to his bulging file on pornographic abuse of the United States mails. If your husband sent for the stuff, you have still another problem. You are married to a "little boy" who still likes to look at dirty pictures.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: The people of this country (and I blush to admit that I am no exception) have absolutely NO GUTS when it comes to refusing to tip waiters, cab drivers, and others who do only their job (for which they are paid) and nothing more.

* * *

There is no more reason to tip a cab driver for driving you from one place to another than the bus driver who does the same thing — unless, of course, he handles your luggage or does something extra for you. Most cab drivers don't even bother to open the door of a cab anymore. And when you DO tip them, they don't even say, "Thank You."

I HAVE HAD IT

* * *

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ice Cubes Close Pores

When sticky, sweltering summer days are at hand, try a refreshing soap and washcloth on the rocks, morning and afternoon! Start with a two minute facial with dense soapsuds and fingertip massage. Apply lather also to the back of the neck, underarms, and inner elbows and knees.

Use of an antibacterial soap will inhibit odor-causing bacteria and build up an invisible deodorant shield. Then add the rocks! Wrap some ice cubes in a washcloth and gently rub it over face, neck, elbows, knees and wrists. A cool feeling is the reward.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

You can turn your housework into figure-molding exercises if you wish to. This is a great idea for those women who are pushed for time. It's a great idea, anyway.

Actually, good posture is an excellent exercise in itself. Try to remember to hold yourself correctly when walking about the house doing your chores. Keep your spine straight and your tummy pulled in.

* * *

When you reach up on a shelf for something, rise high on your toes and stretch upward, feeling the pull all through your waistline. When you make the beds, keep your back straight, pull your abdomen in, bend at the waist and reach across the bed. Don't slump over it!

* * *

When you are going to get something off of the floor or a low shelf, go down into a deep knee bend, keeping your trunk erect.

* * *

When you are going up and down stairs keep your back erect and let your thigh and hip and leg muscles do their work efficiently.

When you sweep, pull your tummy in, keep your back straight and make long, smooth strokes with the broom.

* * *

When Do You Report Pension as Income?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant
in Money Management

MARY FEELEY

Dear Miss Feeley:

A friend of mine was recently widowed, and I have been trying to help her with her affairs. One thing she needs to know is whether the widow of a company employe must pay federal and state income tax on the pension payments which she receives?

Thank you for any information you can give.

Mrs. T. D., New York City

Dear Mrs. D.:

If your friend's pension is from Social Security—or if any part of it is—there's no obligation to report it as income. Tax on retirement pay from pensions or annuities is usually handled so that the portion her husband contributed to it isn't taxable. But the rest is—whether it be from a union or employer.

Usually a company explains all such details to the recipient when the pension goes into effect. However, your friend can still ask the personnel department of the company concerned to help clarify the type of pension arrangements that were made.

Some people can cut tax on their retirement income through a retirement income credit. Whether this applies to your friend depends on her age. Schedule B, Part V, of the income tax form should be referred to.

* * *

Dear Mary Feeley:

I've heard of people losing an accumulation of savings bonds and having to wait quite a while before they were replaced. As I'm starting to keep a record of the bonds I buy, I'm wondering what information I should put down on this list.

M.R., Astoria, Long Island, N.Y.

Dear M.R.:

The Treasury Department advises that you list date of purchase, serial numbers, and denomination of all savings bonds. And keep the record in a safe place—separate from where you keep the bonds.

There's a handy little folder which you can get for free from any bank, "Personal Record of United States Savings Bonds." It has space for listing all the pertinent information, and tells you where to write if any of the bonds are lost, stolen, mutilated, or destroyed.

Dear Mary Feeley:

I am a young working girl who needs help with a budget. I have a job that requires me to be well dressed, and I like to buy clothes.

My salary is $250 a month before deductions. I pay my parents $40 a month for room, board, and transportation, and I give 10 per cent of my earnings to the church. I'd like to start a Christmas savings of $8 a month.

Would you please work out a plan so I'll have an idea of how much I should have for clothes, lunches, etc.

P. A., Canton, Ohio

Dear P. A.:

Since you actually have only your net income to work with, I'm setting up this budget of $211 a month which allows for deductions:

Room, board, transportation, $40; church, $21; Christmas savings, $8; clothing, $30; personal allowance, including lunches and grooming expenses, $43; miscellaneous, gifts, $15; medical, $10; recreation and entertainment, $14; regular savings and insurance, $30. Total, $211.

* * *

I'm sympathetic with your approach to clothes, and suggest that you might even lift a few dollars from your personal wardrobe when you find it feasible. Especially since your transportation costs are covered by that $40 monthly you give your parents. But do try to keep up regular savings and insurance, in addition to your Christmas Club.

* * *

Dear Miss Feeley:

We've accumulated many books over the past few years, and many of them are textbooks. They're stacked up all over the house. I'd like to get rid of a few hundred pounds of them! Though there are no first editions or anything especially valuable among them, I wonder if there's a market for books in quantity?

Mrs. H.E.T., New York City

Dear Mrs. T.:

It's conceivable that a second hand dealer might give you up to one-third the selling price for a college text book especially if it still has a likely sale. Interesting cook books, too, can command a price. If you want to sell in quantity, then, of course, you have to accept a less lucrative price for the total shipment.

Aid to Ironing

To do a really good job of pressing, many suit and dress sleeves require a sleeve board. If you do not already have one, improvise one by wrapping a rolling pin of the large size with clean turkish towels. Pad in this way until you get it the right size.

The towels will give you a nice firm, padded surface, which can be slipped into the sleeve and ironed over.

The booming popularity of the Nehru suit will continue this fall, says the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. Here it's done for autumn in rich, brown corduroy. Worn with matching all-silk ascot shirt, it has the identifying characteristics of shaped styling, flap pockets, fly-front, and deep center vent.

Iowa Farm Foster Home

OTTUMWA, Iowa (AP) — The five children of Mr. and Mrs. John Winston are all grown and living away from the family farm, but the Winstons stay busy raising another family of 10 foster children, ranging in age from 2 to 15.

Winston, who owns 200 acres, also works 40 hours a week on the assembly line in a local factory.

"My grandfather was born a slave in Virginia, came to Iowa before the turn of the century and settled on five acres in this area," recalls the 53-year-old Winston, who started to farm 40 acres in 1938, adding to his holdings bit by bit.

The midiskirt is fast gaining popularity in coats and may eventually replace the mini. The midi, which is worn halfway between the knee and ankle, proves not only to be practical (especially when those bitter winter winds blow) but also quite flattering to almost any figure.

Cleanliness Goes Along on Vacation

It's that time of the year when everything's packed, the dog's at the kennel, and the family's ready to get away from it all. An African safari? New York sight-seeing? Or, maybe family camping. Whatever the destination, every family needs its well-deserved escape from daily routine.

* * *

However, one daily routine — cleanliness — shouldn't be left behind. It will help keep everyone in the family cool and comfortable and reduce the possibility of infection. It's also important that the children's soap 'n water habits remain intact.

* * *

Here are some common-sense cleanliness suggestions from the makers of Dial soap to help keep the family summer vacation comfortable and carefree:

- Bathing as often as possible in hot weather is refreshing. In addition, use of an antibacterial soap reduces the level of bacteria which cause perspiration odor.
- Regular handwashing, preferably with a germ-fighting anti-bacterial soap, is a good idea, especially for children who seem to touch everything and then put their fingers in their mouth.
- Soaking feet, tired from sight-seeing or biking, in a basin of warm, sudsy water proves comforting, and an antibacterial soap helps prevent infections.
- A good cleansing with an anti-bacterial soap can be one of the best first aid measures on vacations since it inhibits the growth of infection-causing germs on the skin.

Economy Order Threatens Postal Services

From Our Wire Services

WASHINGTON — Of postmen, it is said, "Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds."

But what the elements cannot stop, Congress can. And has, according to Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson.

Watson went to Capitol Hill yesterday to reemphasize that unless Congress comes up with more money, his department will have to drastically cut back services.

He told the House Ways and Means Committee that the Post Office will begin cutting back service, under a congressional economy order. Mentioned were Saturday home deliveries and window service.

However, a Post Office Department spokesman said yesterday that service on Saturdays will continue for the time being. "We have not made any announcement and no instructions have been given to curtail service."

Watson has ordered an immediate freeze on employment despite increasing mail loads.

Unless relief is coming, he said he would have to impose a ban on extension of delivery service to new communities, even though they might be adjacent to routes already served, and a delay in handling of second-, third- and fourth-class mail to facilitate first-class movement.

Watson testified for the second day before the committee which is considering legislation to exempt the Post Office from a governmentwide employment cutback ordered by Congress, along with a spending reduction, as its price for approving President Johnson's 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

"I realize this committee requires some time for consideration of the department's problem," Watson said. "However, the law is already in effect, and my problem started July 1 (the start of the current fiscal year). I must take these actions now — immediately — unless I get some indication that Congress intends to give us relief."

After Watson's testimony in closed session, some committee members said it appeared the committee would have to act to exempt the Post Office from the employment curb before the end of the current congressional session.

Griffin Raises New Issue on Judge Choices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The leading opponent of President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations say the two appointees may have been part of "a flagrant disregard of the constitutional doctrine of separation of powers."

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., made the remark Thursday on the Senate floor in a preview of his testimony today before the Senate Judiciary Committee as it continued hearings into the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice and Homer Thornberry as associate justice.

★ ★ ★

The judiciary committee opened hearings into the nominations Thursday, but put off questioning of Fortas until next week.

POINTS OF ROLE

Griffin said he wanted to know how big a role Abe Fortas, nominated to succeed Earl Warren as chief justice, played in White House decisions while serving on the court since 1965. Fortas is a long-time Johnson friend and adviser.

And, Griffin said, he also wants to know why Thornberry, another old friend of the President, served an extra five months in Congress in 1963 after being named a federal judge in Texas.

★ ★ ★

Griffin cited "reports that the arrangement was designed to insure Mr. Thornberry's vote on legislative issues during the interim."

The senator added: "This situation again suggests a flagrant disregard of the constitutional doctrine of separation of powers."

SHOULD FIND OUT

Griffin said the committee should find out "how many times Mr. Fortas has been consulted, or the extent to which he has been involved, if at all, in actions and decisions of the White House while he has been a member of the court."

"If the doctrine of separate powers is important," Griffin said, "what justification could be offered in the event a member of the judicial branch should actively participate on a regular, undisclosed basis in decisions of the executive branch while serving on the bench?"

★ ★ ★

Shortly after the committee opened its hearing it agreed to a request by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., that direct questioning of Fortas be delayed until next Tuesday.

The senator, a former justice of the North Carolina Supreme Court, said he wanted to do more research before quizzing Fortas about his "judicial philosophy."

STILL ON BENCH

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, the day's only witness, tried to quiet doubts about the legality of the way Warren conditioned his retirement on the qualification of a successor by the Senate.

He said scores of federal judges have been nominated, as Johnson nominated Fortas, while their predecessors were still on the bench.

★ ★ ★

Ervin insisted, though, that Johnson was without legal authority to nominate Fortas and the Senate to confirm him until Warren makes his retirement "irrevocable."

Town Claims Credit for Coffee Break Start

Now a grassy suburb of Madison, Stoughton once was a bustling tobacco and wagon-producing center. It traces the coffee break habit to about 1880 when Norwegian immigrant mother who worked in then booming industries started it.

* * *

Rolfe H. Hanson, a retired columnist and vice president of the Stoughton Historical Society, said the city's claim to the coffee break originated several years ago in his column.

He had been told by a coffee salesman that Stoughton consumes more coffee per capita than any community in the nation.

IN WAREHOUSES

Hanson said the wagon industry run by Targe G. Mandt, which produced 33,000 wagons a year at the turn of the century, employed many of the men in the city—about 1,000. That left the women to work in the tobacco warehouse.

"There were a lot of tobacco warehouses in town, and it was pretty common for the women to work in them," Hanson said.

* * *

Most of the women lived nearby on "Coffee Street." They went home once a day to check their children, the home and how the next meal was coming along.

"It was called Coffee Street because every house had a pot of coffee on the stove," Hanson said.

This became the time-out for what became a national custom, he said. And it was spread to the rest of the nation "by young men going from Stoughton to other places" when the wagon industry closed in the 1920s.

Hillside Avenue never was officially named "Coffee Street," Hanson said, but "A lot of people still call it that."

* * *

"The city council did consider changing the name back to Coffee Street," he said. "But resident objected because they would have to change the addresses on all their records, like Social Security."

Hanson conceded that Stoughton's claim as birthplace of the coffee break is not unimpeachable, "But no one's ever challenged it." It is something to discuss—on the next coffee break.

Vatican to Get Antarctic Water

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Water from Antarctica snow and ice dating back to the time Jesus Christ was born is going to be sent to the Vatican.

Ice taken from McMurdo Sound in Operation Deep Freeze and analyzed by scientists of the National Science Foundation was melted Wednesday at the U.S. Naval Academy science laboratory.

Three blocks of ice in five-foot sections weighed 130 pounds and yielded 15 gallons of water. A portion of the water will be sent to the Vatican while another portion will be placed in the Naval Academy Chapel. Another portion of the water is to be mixed with water from the seven seas at the academy which is used during a ring dipping ceremony by midshipmen.

As the ice melted, Rear Adm. James W. Kelly, chief of naval chaplains, prayed, "Lord, we are grateful for all You have given us as we watch the melting of snow that fell the year our Lord was born. We know that was a joyful year."

SINCE 1966

Rear Adm. James L. Abbot, chief of the Navy task force which supports the National Science Foundation project, explained how the ice was extracted.

The ice was pulled out in a 15-foot section which later was cut into three sections. Abbot said scientists dated the ice by counting layers formed during summer thaws and by radiation measuring methods.

Scientists found that one layer was formed the year Jesus was born, according to Dr. T. O. Jones, an Antarctic scientist.

The ice was shipped to Baltimore aboard the U.S. Coast Guard icebreaker West Wind, stored in Washington and taken to Annapolis by car to be melted.

Refugee Girl Is Deaf, but She's a Linguist

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — She's never heard a word of English, yet Cuban-born Victoria Rivero has learned to speak it nearly perfectly. Also French and, of course, her native Spanish. Now she's tackling German and Chinese.

Vicky, an 18-year-old exile, has been deaf since she was 4. She learns languages by reading lips.

"It's hard to explain how I do it," she said in sometimes overly precise English.

"You see an O on a person's lips and you know how to pronounce it, and you go on from there," she said.

WHOOPING COUGH

"When I returned to school, it was hard to keep up with the others, because I couldn't hear," she related. "I had to find a way to understand people again. So I taught myself to read lips. I learned it all by myself. When you are a child, nothing is hard."

After a time there was an English class, and Vicky was bewildered.

"I didn't know there was any language other than Spanish," she said.

In 1961 Vicky's mother, discontented with the Fidel Castro regime, sent her into exile. The mother and the father followed later.

Vicky got help here with her lip-reading. "I learned more every day, but even now I still make mistakes," she said.

Her teachers have expressed amazement over her ability to learn even difficult shadings of French pronunciation from lip formations.

Last spring, Vicky finished high school. She plans to attend Barry College in Miami and study languages and hopes to get a job with the State Department some day.

'Monkee' Welcomes Demise of TV Series

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Where do the Monkees go next—or do you care?

There are a few million teenagers and subteeners who maintain an intense concern about the clutch of singing idols who starred on the NBC network for two seasons.

The foursome made a distinct impression on the younger set and even on the more mature voters of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences who named "The Monkees" the best comedy show of the 1966-67 season.

THOMAS

To many critics, the zany half-hour seemed nothing more or less than a corbon copy of the Beatles movies. But imitation is no drawback to television success, and "The Monkees" prevailed in their first season.

The second year was less successful, and the show will not be back in 1968-69.

JUST A REHASH

"The second season was just the first season rehashed," explained chief Monkee Mike Nesmith. "We felt that we had become more proficient, but we were only give the same stuff to do.

* * *

"Most people thought that we were canceled. The fact is that we told NBC that we didn't want to do the same old thing. And so the series came to an end. I can't really say that I'm sorry."

* * *

Financially, the demise of the series is a good thing, said Nesmith, a tall, intense 25-year-old.

He pointed out that he and his mates were earning a fast $1,250 per segment of the series, a mere pittance of what they can collect elsewhere. Such are the rewards of instant fame that the lads made between four and five million dollars last year.

Nesmith himself collected about 2½ million since he originated much of the musical material used by the Monkees on their shows and albums. The returns will come to him in future years because of deferred payments, hence his fortune look secure.

GOOD PLAY

But he is concerned about the future, and has sunk $75,000 of his own money into a non-Monkee record album called "The Wichita Train Whistle Sings." The Dot album is getting a good play and it appears that the Nesmith investment is going to pay off.

His single venture doesn't mean that he is cutting out from the Monkees. But he is realistic about the future of the team.

* * *

"In terms of 'now,' the Monkees are just about over," he commented. "By that I mean that we had just about done everything they would allow us to do on the series. There was nowhere else we could go.

"But I think the feature movie we just finished—we still don't have a title for it—will open up whole new avenues for us. I think that is where our future lies; in features and in television specials — we are signing with NBC for two next season."

* * *

And the Monkees will also be hitting the road this summer to collect the tidy fortunes that can be gained from concerts. This despite the fact that audiences hear little or nothing of their performances. "We have the best amplifying systems possible, but we still can't be heard over the crowd noise," said Nesmith.

New GM Technique Measures Pressure of Impact in Crashes

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first in a series. The following is based on "A Technique for Measuring the Magnitude and Distribution of Maximum Pressures During an Impact" by William K. Miller and Seymour Katz of General Motors Research Laboratories.)

A new technique that uses a thin sheet of metal foam to record impact pressure in a simulated automobile collision was described recently by two General Motors researchers at the GM Proving Ground near Milford.

In a paper presented at the General Motors Safety Seminar held at the proving ground, William K. Miller and Seymour Katz of GM Research Laboratories reported that the open pore metal foam — called MetNet — was developed by the metallurgical engineering department of the laboratories and is now being tested by GM.

The researchers explained that the experimental pressure measuring technique involves the use of a thin sheet of MetNet which, prior to the impact, is placed between the impacting object and target.

During the impact, this crushable material experiences the same pressures as the colliding objects, and crushes by an amount proportional to the magnitude of these pressures.

MEASUREMENT

"Where local pressures are the highest, the dents formed in the crushable material are the greatest; and examination of the crushable material after an impact allows immediate determination of the high-pressure areas. In addition, when the crushable material is calibrated so that the pressure which is required to produce a certain amount of crush is known, a quantitative measurement of the peak local pressure at any point can be made with the potential accuracy of 10 per cent," the GM researchers said.

The advantage of the GM pressure measuring technique is that no "averaging" is involved. Conventional techniques do not directly measure pressure but rather infer pressure by dividing a measured load by the area over which the load is distributed, which results in an average pressure, Miller and Katz said.

* * *

MetNet is a high porosity, open-cell metal foam that can be made in a wide range of thicknesses, pore sizes and metal content. It is the only material known to have the properties required for the pressure measurement technique.

* * *

Although this measurement technique is quite simple in principle, the requirements which have to be placed on the crushable material are quite severe, Miller and Katz reported.

REQUIREMENTS

Such requirements include uniformity and reproducibility of crush properties; insensitivity to the rate of strain; inelasticity; flexibility; and a compressive strength in a useful range for automotive safety testing.

* * *

The GM researchers illustrated the manner in which measurements are made by describing the crush of MetNet patches attached to a test dummy's chest prior to impact with a steering wheel.

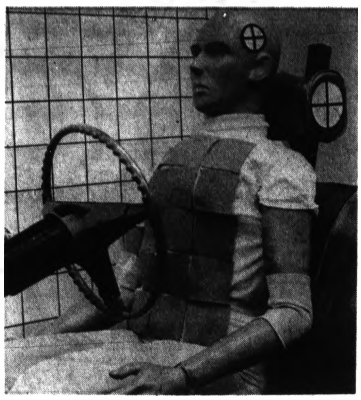
* * *

In a typical area, the thickness of a patch of MetNet was reduced from 0.100 inches to 0.040 inches. The calibration curve was then used to equate the 0.060 inches of crush to a maximum pressure of 250 pounds per square inch.

The new measurement technique shows promise and its application to crash injury research is being explored by the Automotive Safety Group at Research Laboratories. The National Highway Safety Bureau also has expressed an interest in having a means of specifying allowable impact severity in terms of impact pressure.

* * *

The GM researchers cautioned that a great deal of human tolerance work needs to be accomplished before the exact significance of pressure data will be understood. They pointed out, however, that even without exact biomechanical data, this pressure measuring technique can be useful in vehicle interior design and development.



MODELS PATCHES — A test dummy models patches of a new material designed to measure the amount of pressure distributed in a simulated automobile collision. The material is a metal foam called MetNet and was developed by the Metallurgical Engineering Department of General Motors Research Laboratories.

Prosecutor Named in Road Dept. Probe

LANSING (AP) — Former Ingham County prosecuting attorney Leo Farhat has been named special prosecutor for the one-man grand jury investigation of the State Highway Department.

Grand Juror Marvin J. Salmon, an Ingham County Circuit Judge, announced Farhat's appointment, effective Monday.

* * *

Salmon said the two would spend several days, at least reviewing in depth the material for the investigation requested by Gov. George Romney and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

A site for the investigation still has not been selected, Salmon said, adding he didn't think it will be Lansing City Hall, where Circuit Court offices are situated.

'NO STRONG-ARMING'

Farhat, 42, who has practiced law in Ingham County for 16 years, said he and Salmon "hope that there will be no implication of politics, whether it be either pro or con" in the probe.

There will be "no strong-arming of any witnesses," he added.

* * *

Judge Salmon and the special prosecutor "will work together and I hope protect the rights and respective dignity of every witness," Farhat said.

* * *

Citing the extreme secrecy of a grand jury investigation, Salmon repeated a request that the press "would not remain outside the grand jury room and photograph or disclose that some particular person has come into the grand jury room."

"This person may be entirely innocent of any wrongdoing," he said.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has passed a bill which could force car thieves to go back to local sources for some tools of their trade.

Passed and sent ot the House was a bill banning the shipment of car ignition master keys in the mail. Mail order master keys have been blamed in part for an upsurge in car theft, particularly among juveniles.

2 Area Men Hurt in Blast at Troy Plant

Two Birmingham men were injured Monday, one critically, in an explosion which occurred at Space-Defense Corp., Troy.

Company officials, who announced the mishap yesterday, identified the men as Robert N. Clayton, 39, of 1508 Cole and Lenord Williams, 44, of 715 Chapin, both of Birmingham.

* * *

The two were injured while preparing a Navy meterological ocean buoy for trailer transport to the Keweenaw peninsula in northern Michigan.

Clayton suffered severe multiple head and body injuries and is still in critical condition in the intensive care unit of William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, the company said.

SUFFERS HEAD INJURIES

Williams received head injuries in the accident and is due to be released today.

Three other Space-Defense employes received minor injuries and were treated and released.

The accident, which occurred from an unknown origin, is now being investigated by the Navy along with the Defense Contracts Administrative Services Region of Detroit, the company said.

* * *

Space-Defense Corp. does large research and development work, both for the federal government and private industry, a company spokesman said.

Shelby Twp. Tot Is Critical After Mishap

According to Shelby Township police, Thomas John Sabata, 18 months, of 5151 Estella, was discovered by his mother around 3:30 p.m. floating with his head down in a next door neighbor's eight-foot-wide, 16-inch deep children's swimming pool.

* * *

Police rushed him to Crittenton Hospital, Avon Township, where he was transferred to the pediatrics intensive care unit of Pontiac's St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Police were told the child had been playing in his back yard while his mother, Mrs. Clarence Sabata, watched from her kitchen. Mrs. Sabata had turned away for a minute, and when she looked again she saw her son in the pool, police said.

2 Arraigned in Flint Holdup

3rd City Man Shot in Chase After Robbery

Two of the three Pontiac men accused in the $15,000 robbery of a Flint jewelry store stood mute yesterday at their arraignment before Flint Municipal Judge Basil Baker.

The third suspect, identified by police as Oscar Rowls of 197 Crystal Lake will be arraigned on his release from a Flint hospital, where he is recovering from a gunshot wound received during his capture.

* * *

Police said Fred Dowell, 24, of 189 E. Wilson and Kenneth Ray Marshall, 29, of 412 Central stood mute during arraignment on a charge of armed robbery.

Their examination was set for next Friday.

* * *

Dowell and Marshall were found in a baystack in a field east of Flint several hours after three men walked into the Irvin Hirsch jewelry store, pulled guns and demanded money and jewelry.

Rowls is reported in satisfactory condition with a wound received after a high-speed police chase through Flint by car and on foot.

Miniboard? It's Like Wow

Surfers call the seven-to-eight-foot surfboards a third-stage development in the sea sport which took its great leap forward in the 1950s with the foam-fiberglass replacements for the wood boards. The new ones are three to four feet shorter than the old boards.

Family's Sole Survivor Awaits Homecoming

WHEATRIDGE, Colo. (AP) — Six-year-old Rae Anne Wood, her legs plastered in casts to mend broken bones and crushed ankles, smiled as she looked at the money she received from an unknown admirer.

* * *

"Some presents for my brothers for when I go home," Rae Anne said as she clutched the coins.

But her brothers — Jamie, Stephen, and Gered — are dead. So are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wood. They died when their single-engine airplane crashed into the side of a Colorado mountain, just west of Denver late in June. Rae Anne was the only survivor.

'THINKING OF THEM'

"I haven't told her in so many words that her family is dead," Miss Sheridan said. "She wanted those presents for her brothers—just little things. But she was thinking of them."

The girl may never know how her father fought to keep the overloaded, four-passenger craft airborne by flying through valleys rather than over the mountains.

* * *

Rae Anne knows the doctors plan to take the casts off her legs today. She also knows she might be on her way home within a week.

"I've told her that her parents and brothers won't be there. That she won't be able to see them anymore," Miss Sheridan said.

Romney Acts to End I-696 Controversy

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney today put into motion machinery to settle the long-standing controversy over the route of I-696 in Oakland County by submitting it to binding arbitration.

Romney ordered six Oakland County communities to select a three-man arbitration board to make a final determination of the route and bring an end to 4½ years of bickering that has delayed completion of the 26-mile freeway for nearly 10 years.

Romney ordered binding arbitration when two of the communities — Lathrup Village and Huntington Woods — failed by a Thursday deadline to approve the route recommended by the State Highway Commission or agree voluntarily to arbitration.

The governing bodies of Southfield, Oak Park and Pleasant Ridge approved the proposed route while Royal Oak agreed to arbitration. Macomb County municipalities also have agreed to the route.

PROCEEDINGS ON

The State Highway Commission started the binding arbitration proceedings June 12 by giving the communities in Oakland County 30 days to approve the route recommended by the Highway Commission or agree to arbitration.

Spock Appeal Faces Delay Until March

BOSTON (AP) — The appeal of the antidraft conspiracy convictions of Dr. Benjamin Spock and three others cannot be heard until January and may be delayed until March, says the clerk of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Roger Stinchfield said Thursday it will take a minimum of 157 days for the filings provided for in the appeals machinery.

* * *

If delays are granted, he said, the appeal probably would not be heard until March because the three judges expected to consider the case must be in Puerto Rico in February.

The four were convicted in U.S. District Court June 14 of conspiring to counsel, aid and abet young men to avoid the draft. They were sentenced to two years in prison and fined.

ALSO CONVICTED

Spock, Coffin and Goodman each were fined $5,000. Ferber was fined $1,000.

* * *

60 Fowls Gained With Loss of One

GRANITE FALLS, Minn. (AP) — The illegal shooting of one rooster pheasant by three boys in Yellow Medicine County will result in the area having 60 more pheasants.

When a state conservation officer brought the three lads before Judge Frederick Osatensoe, he ordered each boy to buy 20 pheasants from a game farm and raise them until they are old enough to be released. They then must be released in the area where they killed the bird.

TRAFFIC STOPPER—If you were in Hazelton, Pa., the other day, you'd have seen this 160-foot, 50-ton slab of cement, which slipped off a truck at the city's busiest intersection—Routes 309-93—at high noon. Traffic was rerouted for hours. The truck was en route from Cressona, Pa., to Wayne County, Pennsylvania. The cement was to be part of a highway bridge.

Furnace to Cut Pontiac Div. Pollution

Pontiac Motor Division is "well along" on construction of a new electric furnace for its foundry — a project designed to further reduce industrial air pollution, plant officials report.

Structural steel has been completed and the arc furnace as well as dust collector are currently being installed. The furnace is expected to be completed late this year.

* * *

This is the first phase of a project to replace the six existing coke-fired cupolas at the Pontiac iron foundry, built in 1927. Plans call for four more electric furnaces to be installed by 1973.

The new facility is being built next to the present foundry in Pontiac, just off Montcalm Street between the Saginaw and Glenwood entrances to the division's manufacturing complex.

INTRICATE PROJECT

"It's a very intricate project because we have to keep the existing foundry in operation while we are building the new facility," said Russ Weil, plant engineer at Pontiac.

"Phase one," he said, "will give us a good check on our engineering design, allowing us to evaluate the arc furnace and the dust collection system."

But, he hastened to add, "we're not worried about the feasbility of it because this type of furnace has been in use in the steel industry for more than 10 years, and more than 50 already are in operation."

Weil says the new furnace, and the ones to follow, will be more efficient than the present cupolas and will be easier to maintain the required quality control.

TO ELINIATE POLLUTANTS

Weil said when the system is completed, it will virtually eliminate all air pollutants from Pontiac's foundry operations.

The cupolas now in use operate in the melt zone at temperatures close to 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit. The effluent from the top of the cupola will vary between 500 degrees and 2,000 through dilution and varying operating conditions.

* * *

On top of each cupola is a "wet cap." This "wet cap" consists essentially of a large cone. Approximately 700 gallons of water per minute will be pumped over this cone forming a water curtain to collect and cool hot gases. All of the cupola effluent must pass through this water curtain.

Although the new arc furnaces will operate at the same temperatures as the cupola, the fume collection methods and other characteristics of the arc furnace will make it possible to reduce and control the effluent gas temperature to the collector at 250 degrees.

'BAG HOUSE' COLLECTOR

By controlling the temperature of the gases at this point, Pontiac will be able to use a high-efficiency "bag house" collector. In it, suspended vertically, will be 2880 Fiberglas bags each five inches in diameter and 14 feet high.

The fine mesh bags will let the gas through, but, acting like a filter, will trap the dust and dirt. This type of collector will satisfy all existing air pollution control codes.

To get ready for the new furnaces, Consumers Power Co. is increasing its electrical transformer capacity by approximately 50 per cent at the Pontiac manufacturing complex. Pontiac now uses about 40-million kilowatt hours of electricity per month.

Across the street from the new foundry, Consumers Power has built a new and appropriately named Catalina substation which will provide another 23-million kilowatt hours of electricity when all five furnaces are in use.

BUILT ON 99 CAISSONS

The 23-million kilowatt increase is approximately equivalent to the electrical service required for a residential area of 67,000 homes.

The new furnace is being built on 99 caissons sunk 65 feet into the earth. The foundations require approximately 7,000 cubic-yards of concrete.

* * *

While the steel supporting structure rises 94 feet into the air, the actual furnace will be 12 feet high and 18 feet in diameter and will have three electrodes 20 inches in diameter.

The furnace will be filled with charge materials and the arc between it and the carbon electrodes will produce molten iron. The furnace will be able to melt approximately 22 tons an hour.

And, most important of all, Pontiac will maintain its role of being "a good citizen" in the community by eventually eliminating virtually all foundry air pollution.

ROOKIE BRIGADE—Head coach Joe Schmidt (extreme right) watches some of the Detroit Lions' rookies go through the obstacle ropes at Cranbrook where early camp opened yesterday in light of a threatened players' strike. There were 14 free agents and 11 draftees in camp for the twice-daily drills.

'Private Tutoring' for Lions' Rookies

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Talk about private tutoring!

Twenty-five Detroit Lions' rookies who opened football camp at Cranbrook yesterday had everything to themselves including more personal instructions from head coach Joe Schmidt and his five assistants.

With all of the veterans and redshirted players who had been signed under previous contracts missing from camp because of the NFL players' dispute with the owners, 11 draftees and 14 free agents, barely enough to make up offensive and defensive units were present for the opening of drills.

COACH WORKS OUT

There were just enough players, 11, to make up the defensive unit but former defensive back Jim David, now coaching the position, had only two defensive backs available for the initial drills and had to see action himself.

* * *

Joe Hoskins, a free agent from Lem Barney's alma mater, Jackson State, and Tom Sims, a free agent from Brigham Young, covered the defensive corners while David himself, about 20 pounds heavier than his playing days, found himself handling some of the safety chores.

* * *

The Lions' 12th draft choice, defensive back Ed Caruthers, a speedster from Arizona, is an Olympic track candidate and along with Earl McCullouch from Southern Cal, is undecided whether he will sign a foootball contract now or wait until after the '68 games in October in Mexico City.

Defensive line coach Jim Martin had five defensive linemen for his special tutored unit, while three linebackers were the only other defensive players available.

Offensive line coach Chuck Knox had four interior linemen in his unit, while backfield and end coaches Bill McPeak and John North had the remaining 10 players in their "over-abundant" units.

Carew's Single Brings 5-4 Win for Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Rod Carew watched the home run hitters divide four homers early in the game, then the All-Star second baseman poked a pair of late innings singles to settle the score 5-4 in favor of his Minnesota Twins as the Detroit Tigers lost a rare close one.

Carew, who feels "like I'm in the groove pretty good," laced a two-run single to tie it in the seventh and came back in the ninth to win it when he drove in the deciding run with another base hit.

The Tigers, however, managed to hold onto their 9½-game lead over Cleveland as the Indians bowed to Oakland 4-2. But Cleveland now shares the second spot with Baltimore after the Orioles stopped Washington 2-0.

Relief pitcher John Hiller walked Rich Reese with one out in the ninth and Cesar Tovar singled him to second. Carew then sliced a single to left scoring Reese.

BATTLE OF HOMERS

Until Carew's seventh-inning single the game was a battle of home runs. Tovar cracked his fourth in the first inning and rookie shortstop Rick Renick connected in the second to become the 36th player to hit a homer on his first at-bat in the major leagues.

But the Tigers went ahead in the third when Mickey Stanley socked a three-run homer, his seventh, and Dick McAuliffe hit his 10th in the fifth.

"I didn't even hit it," said Stanley. "It was a windblown job. As everyone knows, I'm not a home run hitter. I just wait for the wind to blow and get one up in the air."

After Renick's homer, Detroit starter Mickey Lolich settled down until the seventh. Frank Quilici singled and when Bruce Look walked with one out, Pat Dobson replaced Lolich.

SHALLOW FLY

"I can't remember when we last lost one in the late innings," said McAuliffe. "We haven't lost too many I'll guarantee you."

The defeat was in fact only their third in the last 15 games.

County Tennis Meet Jammed

A jam-packed schedule of tennis matches is slated for the Oakland University courts Saturday and Sunday in the 9th annual County Open tournament.

The huge field which has a record of 172 entries necessitated the matches to be started this afternoon with juniors and singles play.

Men's singles and doubles, and all divisions will start taking the courts at 8:30 a.m. Saturday and Sunday and play will continue through 7:30 p.m.

WEEKDAY MATCHES

Because of the large field, several second and third round matches will be played Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday eveings next week in order to reach the quarter-finals by next Saturday, July 20.

All players should check their playing times carefully and register at the OU courts at least 20 minutes before their scheduled times. Default time will be 10 minutes after the scheduled starting time listed or arranged at the courts due to delayed matches.

* * *

Each player or team will supply one new ball for each match. Balls will be available at the courts for purchase. From the semifinals all balls will be supplied to the players.

Trophies will be awarded to winners and runners-up in each division.

Texas Netter Richey in Western Semifinals

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Texan Cliff Richey won easily but Patricio Cornejo of Chile had to battle from behind as both advanced Thursday to the men's semifinals of the Western Tennis Tournament at Woodstock club.

Richey, the San Angelo player who won the Western in 1965 and 1966, jumped to a 4-0 lead and ousted Mexico's Joaquin Loyo-Mayo 6-4, 6-4.

City Class A 9's Boost Firebirds

Baseball and football join forces in Pontiac next Saturday, July 20 with the opening of the Pontiac Firebirds' two-game exhibition slate.

Members of the city class A recreation league are selling tickets for the Firebirds game with the Flint Wildcats at Wisner Stadium. Proceeds will be used for sending the city champion to Battle Creek for the state championships in August.

SET SCRIMMAGE

The Firebirds who have been working out for the past two weeks on the Wisner Stadium Practice field each evening, will hold a full scale scrimmage Sunday at 1 p.m.

Next week, drills have been set for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and the game scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

* * *

The following week, Saturday July 27, the Firebirds will meet the new Hamtramck Chargers in the Crittenton Hospital charity game sponsored by the Rochester Rotary Club at Rochester High School field.

Coach Tom Tracy has been pleased with the early drills especially with the defensive unit which averages 284 pounds up front and has a wealth of defensive backs and linebackers.

* * *

The Firebirds are expected to be strong contenders in the Midwest Football League which includes new members Fort Wayne, Ind., Lackawanna, N.Y. and Hamtramck this year.

Season and individual game tickets can be obtained at Griff's, Osman's and VFW Post No. 1370.

Casper: Everything Peachy

CARNOUSIE Scotland (AP) — Want to be the biggest money winner on the American golf circuit?

Want to win the British Open Golf Championship?

* * *

Eat fish, cold sliced peaches, duck and grapefruit.

What this has to do with golf happens to be Billy Casper, 37, of San Diego, Calif.

He moved into the third round of the British Open this morning, four shots ahead of the field over Carnoustie's murderous 7,252-yard, par-72 links.

Casper, leading money winner in the United States at around $130,000 oozed his way through his first two rounds of 72 and 68 and he confided:

SMOKED SALMON

"My non-allergy diet now which took me down from 220 pounds to 185 consists of smoked salmon, whole duck, salad, grapefruit and cold sliced peaches."

Behind Casper at 144 were Britain's Tony Jacklin and Brian Barnes, plus Bob Charles of New Zealand.

* * *

Before nightfall, this lot of 70 survivors from an original field of 130 will be reduced to the low 45 and ties for Saturday's 18-hole final.

Nicklaus, the 1966 British Open winner at Murifield, and 4 to 1 favorite here in the pre-tournament betting, has his own diet as well. He's drinking milk by the quart and the way he charged home in Thursday's round gave cause for thought.

LA Releases Rocky Colavito

TEMPLE, Pa. (AP) — Will Rocky Colavito, one of baseball's great home run hitters, call it a career at age 35? Don't bother to ask.

"I feel I can play ball every day," Colavito said Thursday after learning the Los Angeles Dodgers had given him his unconditional release.

* * *

The Rock, a handsome, darkhaired outfielder who slammed most of his lifetime 369 home runs with the Cleveland Indians, was used primarily as a pinch hitter this year with the Dodgers.

"I saw the handwriting on the wall," he said, "when I got to bat only three times in four weeks. I assumed the Dodgers would sell me or release me.

"But I feel I can still play."

Orioles Thrive on 'Aid' Program

By the Associated Press

Washington is in the midst of another aid program—and Baltimore isn't even a foreign country.

Perhaps charity begins at home, but for the Washington Senators it bursts into full bloom in Baltimore, where they helped make Earl Weaver's debut as manager of the Orioles a success Thursday night by losing a 2-0 squeaker.

* * *

The Orioles and Senators have met 10 times this season with the same outcome—a Baltimore victory. Since the Birds are only seven games above .500 with a 44-37 record, it's not hard to see why they're in second place in the American League.

Elsewhere, Minnesota edged league-leading Detroit 5-4, Oakland nipped Cleveland 4-3, California ended Boston's eight-game winning streak 3-2 and the New York Yankees beat the Chicago White Sox 5-4.

Baltimore's victory behind Dave McNally's two-hit pitching moved the Orioles into second, place 9½ games behind Detroit and three percentage points ahead of Cleveland.

OUIJA BOARD

And Weaver, who replaced Hank Bauer Thursday as resident genius in the Baltimore dugout, looked like he had inherited Casey Stengel's ouija board.

The 37-year-old skipper put Don Buford, an infielder, in center field and moved weak-hitting Mark Belanger from eighth to second in the batting order. The results were astonishing, to say the least.

* * *

Buford led off the first inning with a walk, buzzed to third on Belanger's single and scored the Orioles' first run. He homered in the fifth for an insurance tally.

"Playing Buford in center is an offensive move," Weaver said. "It might hurt us defensively, but that's the gamble I have to take if I want more offense."

Reggie Jackson's 14th homer with one out in the eighth gave Oakland and Chuck Dobson their triumph over Cleveland. Dobson hurled hitless ball through five innings and the A's took a 3-0 lead in the fourth. But the Indians got one back in the sixth and tied it on Larry Brown's two-run homer in the seventh.

Triple, Bobble Bring Victory

Marv Caswell tripled and raced across the plate on an error in the bottom of the seventh inning last night to give Lighthouse Lanes (5-9) a 3-2 victory over Midget Bar (2-13) in Waterford Township fast pitch softball.

Caswell had a single earlier to go with the triple in pacing the Lighthouse attack. Karl Durnell and John Strong checked in with two hits apiece for Midget Bar.

* * *

Bud Thomason rapped out three hits and knocked in three runs while teammate Roger Nosek smacked a pair of doubles and sent home three runs to pace Day's Sanitary (12-3) to a 12-3 win over Clarkston Appliance (5-11).

Area Golfer Makes Grade in Tournament

Special to The Press

DALLAS, Tex. — Jay Law of Birmingham and Rayme Martin of Berkley were among the qualifiers as the U.S. Public Links tournament entered the third round today over the tree-choked Tenison East course.

* * *

Holding the lead at the halfway mark of the 43rd championship was Gene Towry of Dallas with a 145. Defending champion Verne Callison of Sacramento, Calif., was three strokes off the pace.

The 157 cutoff eliminated several Michigan golfers.

Pontiac's Gary Balliet, hampered by the 90-degree heat, posted a 78 after an opening 81 and failed to make the cut. Roy Iceberg of Southfield had a 173, Allan Thompson of Pleasant Ridge was in at 163.

Hill Trails at Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Mike Hill of Jackson, who last week finished second in the Buick Open, was four off the pace going into today's second round of the $200,000 Greater Milwaukee Open golf tournament.

Playing in only his sixth tournament since joining the Professional Golfers of America tour, Hill shot a 34-36—70 in the first round to tie with 11 other golfers.

SLEDGE SLED — Defensive line coach Jim Martin wields a big sledgehammer as five Detroit Lions' rookie defensive linemen await their turn to bump the one man sled on which Martin stands. With all of the veterans missing from camp because of the threatened players' strike, these five were the only defensive linemen in camp at Cranbrook. The sledgehammer was used for stakes in the obstacle course for leg conditioning.

About Law of Averages

Golfer Is Worried

Chuck Byrne of Birmingham is worried about the law of averages and with good reason.

With two invitational golf championships to his credit already this season — each with different partners — Byrne and his partner, Joe Brisson, launched their bid for the 22nd Birmingham Country Club crown yesterday with a 1-up win over Tom Crews and William Nettle.

It marked the ninth straight victory for Byrne and his partners. "How much longer can it go on," mused Byrne as he wiped the perspiration from his forehead after playing near par golf over the steamy 6,480-yard layout.

He won the Red Run title earlier this season with Glenn Johnson and two weeks ago took the Pine Lake crown with Dave Fett. He and Brisson won the Birmingham event in 1966.

Sackett's Double Key Blow

Late Inning Rally Earns Tie for 2nd

The Teamsters pulled out a late-inning victory over CIO Local 594 last night to move in to a tie for second in the city men's recreation baseball league.

A two-run sixth enabled the Teamsters to post a 7-5 triumph, which raised their record to 8-3. The share the No. 2 spot with the Clippers, two games back of league-leading M.G. Collision.

RBI DOUBLE

Don Sackett's two-out double in the top of the sixth sent home the two runs that brought victory for the Teamsters.

* * *

After falling behind 2-0 and 5-3, CIO came up with three runs in the second and two more in the third to deadlock the game at 5-5 and set the stage for Sackett's blow in the sixth.

All of the signal-calling duties in camp have been relegated to former Tulsa University quarterback Greg Barton, the 9th draft choice who is considered an outstanding passer.

"I guess you'd call this highly specialized" training," said one coach, in view of the attention the rookies are getting with the absence of the veterans.

"It's a break for the rookies, they get more opportunity to show their stuff," he added, "but it hurts the young second year men the most."

The Lions have several outstanding second and third year players who would normally be in early camp but are missing because of the players' pension dispute with the owners and they will find the rookies giving them a tough battle for positions.

COACH CONCERNED

Coach Schmidt did not express any opinions as to the players-owners dispute, but he was overly concerned with physical problems which would arise by the absence of veterans.

Players from many other teams have started training sessions on their own in various NFL cities.

"I hope this situation clears up soon, but in the meantime I hope our guys are seriously doing something about their own physical conditioning," said Schmidt.

The planned press photo day for Monday has been postponed and with the first exhibition game scheduled for Monday, August 5, in Buffalo, Schmidt indicated it would be impossible to play an exhibition game with less than three weeks of workouts.

TEEING OFF

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Last week at the Buick Open when fellows like Tom Weiskopf, Lee Trevino and many of the other big hitters would step to the tee, fans were lined up three and four deep for 100 yards along both sides of the fairway.

When the pros play a course those fairways aren't very wide, so it's obvious those folks with the good view of the action have a lot of faith in the ability of Weiskopf and Trevino. Faith that they won't duck-hook or slice one badly.

And while the fans seem to be sticking their necks out, so to speak, to get a glimpse of the play, few are ever hit by a ball.

More than 90,000 fans made their way to the course for the four days of competition last week, and from that number, and from the number of golf shots made during the tournament, one might suspect many folks would get nicked. Fortunately, such wasn't the case.

TEN HITS

"We had only 10 reports of persons being hit," said Frank Cronin of Buick's public relations staff. "None was serious. I suppose there may have been a number of minor ones which were not reported at all," he added.

★ ★ ★

Weiskopf, the eventual winner of the tourney, saw one of his shots hit a fan and it upset Weiskopf visibly. "I saw him a little while later and he said he was alright," Weiskopf told newsmen following his victory.

John Z. DeLorean has been named to the board of governors of the Augusta National Golf Club in Augusta, Ga. The announcement came from Robert T. Jones, Jr., president of the club which is the site of the Masters' Tournament.

DeLOREAN

Roy E. Iceberg of Southfield had a trying day in the opening round of the National Public Links tournament now in progress in Dallas, Tex.

Playing the first round Wednesday over the Tenison Memorial Golf Club, Iceberg carded an 86, a round that included 12 penalty shots. Gary Balliet of Pontiac also had his troubles in that opening round. He carded an 81, picking up two penalty shots along with four three-putt greens.

FLURRY OF ACES

The hole-in-one crowd hit Bald Mountain Golf Club this past week.

Joe Strzelecki of Pontiac and G. A. MacArthur of Canada started the hole-in-one parade July 3 by beating the No. 8 hole.

Sunday, Ron Featherstone of Rochester turned the trick on No. 8 and yesterday, David Maguire bagged an ace on the 17th.

Few Protests Heard

Commission Ready to Set Deer Quotas

HIGGINS LAKE (UPI) — The Michigan Conservation Commission today was prepared to set an anterless deer kill of 46,000 for the fall seasons, about the same as last year.

The commission, meeting at the Higgins Lake Conservation School, Thursday heard few complaints about the proposed quota that had been recommended by game experts of the Conservation Department.

Based on department surveys, the anterless deer herd is believed to be up from last year when 45,000 were killed. An additional 56,110 antlered deer were killed in 1967 and that harvest was expected to be up slightly this year.

The firearm season on deer is scheduled to open Nov. 15 and close Nov. 30. A bow and arrow season is scheduled for Oct. 1-Nov. 4 and another for Dec. 1-31.

An "any deer" season for both bow and rifle hunters will be held Nov. 15-30 in all hunting regions.

While approving the general outlines of the 1968 season, the commission was expected to make some allowances to satisfy local complaints.

Rep. Joseph P. Swallow, R-Alpena, told the commission Thursday that there is enough food to support the deer population in the North Point area northeast of Alpena and that resident think it should be closed. The commission said it would take this into consideration.

★ ★ ★

Murray Rossiter of Oceana County opposed opening the Pentwater area where the department recommended a quota of 150 deer. Gamemen say there is orchard damage caused by the deer in that area and a harvest is necessary.

★ ★ ★

In other action today, the commission was to approve seasons for bear, Cottontail and Snowshoe rabbits, muskrats, wild turkeys, Prairie chicken, sharp-tailed grouse and Bob white quail.

Strong Pitching Efforts

Carl Black spun a two-hitter as Alger Black downed Auburn Heights, 2-1, and Felice's Tom Ashbaup scattered six hits in a 2-1 decision over Pontiac Police Officers Association.

* * *

In both games, the winners scored the deciding run in the last of the seventh.

Second baseman Charles McPahil walked, stole second and third and romped home on a fielder's choice to give Alger Black the win. For Felice, Craig Medlin made it to first on an error, moved to second on a passed ball and scampered in on a single by Steve Lyons.

Cards Have Trouble With 'Patsies'

By The Associated Press

A not too funny thing happened to St. Louis' Cardinals when they ran up against the National League's patsies. They were beaten.

And, it took a late rescue effort by Lou Brock and Roger Maris to prevent the rampaging front-runners from being victimized twice by Houston's cellar-dwellers Thursday night.

The Astros, who've had a virtual monopoly on last for a month, used a two-run triple by Denis Menke in the 10th inning to snap the Cards' seven-game victory string, 5-4, in the opener of a doubleheader.

They were on the road to repeating that feat, despite a club record six errors, when Maris' single and Brock's double each accounted for a run in the eighth that let St. Louis escape 8-7 in a bizarre nightcap.

HALF TRIM

However, the loss didn't do much to dim St. Louis' chances of turning the league race into a farce. The Cards' lead was trimmed only half a game—to 9½.

In other senior circuit games, Atlanta nipped Los Angeles 1-0 on Phil Niekro's four-hitter; San Francisco blasted Cincinnati 7-1; Philadelphia extended Pittsburgh's losing streak to six with a doubleheader sweep, 5-0 and 4-1, and New York edged Chicago 1-0, before dropping the nightcap of a doubleheader 2-0.

* * *

Niekro baffled Los Angeles with his dazzling knuckleball and a speeded-up delivery.

"I'm putting just a little more pop in my pitches, and it seems to be paying off," said Niekro, who retired the first 13 batters before yielding a fifth-inning single to Jim Lefebvre.

The Giants rode a single, and two run-scoring singles by Ron Hunt in their rout of Cincinnati. Gaylord Perry, 8-6, scattered six hits as San Francisco backed him with an all-hit attack.

PAST COBB

Willie Mays' double in the first inning moved him past Ty Cobb into fourth place on the all-time extra base hit list. It was May's 1,140th extra base hit of his career.

Pittsburgh has played three straight doubleheaders—and lost all three.

* * *

The Phils stopped them in the opener on Larry Jackson's six-hitter, then Cookie Rojas' doubled in a run and tallied himself on Tony Gonzalez' single to snap a 1-1 deadlock in the eighth.

City Softball Team Records 1-0 Victory

A four-hitter by Gene Coon carried Ray's Sunoco (7-8) to a 1-0 victory over Union Lake Merchants (1-14) last night in Pontiac fastpitch softball.

Coon kept the four hits well spaced and walked only one batter. Ray's came up with the only run in the fifth on an error, a fielder's choice and a double by Bob Moore.

In other games, league-leading Town & Country (14-1) rolled past Timberlanes (5-9), 7-3; Local 594 (12-2) stayed close to the top by downing J. A. Fredmah (4-11), 12-3; and Ron's Roost (10-5) handed Milbur Industry (6-9) an 11-3 setback.

* * *

Town & Country broke away with three runs in the first, added single markers in the fourth and closed it with two in the seventh. Don Moorhead paced the attack with a triple and a pair of singles and he knocked in four runs.

Ron's Roost turned a relatively close game into a rout with five runs in the top of the seventh. Mouse Beers picked up three hits for the winners, while teammate Bob Marshbanks limited the Industry nine to only one hit, a first-inning homer by Charles Robinson.

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

If you want to find where a horse has strayed try to think like a horse. If you want to learn to bid like an expert learn to think like an expert.

JACOBY

Now for a little expert thinking with the East hand. Your heart bid is quite sound and you are delighted when your partner takes you right to game. You expect you will make your contract easily. You aren't worried about South's one spade overcall but you don't like the way North is thinking and you like it even less when North bids four spades.

★ ★ ★

Your first thought is to double. Your second is that it would be far better to double five spades. Maybe you can bring home five hearts anyway. Even if you can't, isn't it likely that a five bid will push South to five spades?

★ ★ ★

So your second thought is to bid five hearts. However, if you really are an expert you will have a third thought which is that maybe a club lead will be more effective against spades than hearts.

★ ★ ★

Now you have finished thinking like an expert and you proceed to bid five clubs just as an expert would.

★ ★ ★

Your partner will take you back to hearts if South passes but South bids five spades. It comes around to you and you double. Your partner leads a club and you manage to beat the contract but you should be mighty happy about the whole thing. If you hadn't bid clubs and your partner had opened a heart declarer would have romped home with his five spades.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♦		Pass	2 ♥
Pass	2 N.T.	Pass	3 ♦
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	4 N.T.
Pass	5 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ A 4 ♥ K Q 10 9 8 ♦ K J 6 5 ♣ K 8

What do you do now?

A—Bid five no-trump. This asks for kings and suggests seven in any event.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You do bid five no-trump and your partner bids six clubs to show no kings. What do you do now?

Geraniums Brighten Summer Garden

Deep-City Dwellers Can Have Garden

Do you long for a flower garden, but find you lack the one precious element necessary for its cultivation: a plot of earth? There are ways to solve this problem.

Even deep-city dwellers can transform bare and barren outdoor corners into places of dramatic, flower-filled beauty.

* * *

With maximum ingenuity and at minimum cost, a bald cement wall, a bare fence or a tiny balcony can become the focal point for a setting almost as lovely as a miniature English country garden.

How? With a flower fall.

GROUPING

Visualize a grouping of five long plant boxes neatly attached — one above the other — to an outdoor trellised framework, to a fence or a cement wall. In the highest box there are red trailing geraniums, in the next white petunias, in the third — just below eye-level — blue ageratums, in the fourth red petunias, and in the planter closest to the ground, pink wax begonias. This colorful cascade of fragrant blossoms is a flower fall.

* * *

The size of each flower box depends, of course, upon the dimensions of the area the entire grouping will cover. They might be from three to five or six feet long. For the most dramatic, flowing effect, be certain that all are of uniform size. Front boards are tapered, or angled so that plant boxes are narrow at the bottom and wider at the top.

* * *

This allows the flowers abundant sun and light. Box construction must be strong. If made of redwood or rot-proofed pine and provided with drain holes, they will last for at least five to six years. But, so much for the containers, and on to the flowers themselves.

* * *

Breathtakingly lovely beauty is available at the florist shop—and at modest cost. For the price of a family evening out on the town, a large grouping of potted flowers can be purchased, placed in the planters and enjoyed all summer long.

Trailing red geraniums are the ideal choice for the top box of your flower fall. Long a favorite potted flower in this country, the geranium is most often thought of as a fairly heavy, upright plant.

MANY VARIETIES

But, there are many different varieties, and one of the loveliest is the trailing geranium which grows rapidly in cascades and falls.

Blue ageratum, incidentally, is an ideal choice for the eye-level box. Not only because of its beautiful color, but also because in contrast to the trailing blossoms the growth of its flowers is full and compact.

* * *

The lazy man's way to create a flower fall is to leave the flowers in their pots and place directly into the tiered plant boxes. This method will suffice, providing flowers receive sunlight and normal watering care.

But, there is a better way if you have just a little extra time. Put a mixture of one-half soil and one-half peat in the plants boxes. Then unpot your geraniums, petunias, ageratum and begonias and plant the flowers in this mixture.

Your flowers will be grateful for this freedom and comfort, for you have allowed greater space for their roots to grow.

New Powder for Arrangers

The flower arranger has a new assistant, a reusable powder that provides more freedom in floral design.

The powder (Sta-Set) is mixed with water to form a material with the consistency of putty. Dark when wet, the mixture firms and becomes a beige color as it dries.

While wet, the material may be shaped easily to resemble artificial stone, a piece of wood or a smooth base.

* * *

USED IN DESIGN

Because of the pliability, the material may be used to design miniature rock gardens with foliage decorations. Or you can utilize it as a simple base within a vase.

* * *

The firm material will hold the display in position without need for an anchor.

Because the base is prepared with water, it makes a good medium for holding cut flowers.

* * *

The base also is a boon to those who like to arrange plastic or dried flowers.

For such use, the base should be permitted to set firmly before the decorative material is inserted.

Healthy Plants Are More Resistant to Common Diseases

Whether your shrubs and trees will be healthy and beautiful depends largely on whether the roots are sturdy.

Fertilizer should be applied in a way that will permit plant roots to absorb it rapidly and easily.

If you apply fertilizer to the soil surface, some of it may not reach the roots.

The food elements first must dissolve in water before the feeder roots can take them into the plant.

UPGRADE HEALTH

By supplying water, plant food and good drainage, you guard against dangers from drought, starvation and suffocation.

And remember, a healthy plant not only is more attractive, but it is more resistant to trouble from insects and disease.

One way to feed roots is to bore deep holes around the plant, partially fill them with water to dissolve the fertilizer, or wait for rain.

* * *

Another way is to use plant-food cartridges.

One root feeder device (Ross) connects to the garden hose, and has a transparent chamber for plant food, a water valve and a 27-inch pointed tube.

LOAD CHAMBER

Plant food cartridges are loaded into the chamber and the tube is pushed into the ground under the drip branches (outer-branches) of the plant.

When the water is turned on, it dissolves the food cartridges and carries the solution to the feeder roots.

* *

Feeder roots are beneath and a little beyond the outside branches of a plant, 15 to 30 inches under the soil surface.

Improper watering by hose may encourage roots to develop close to the surface where they will dry out in summer sun and wind.

Seed Pods for Bouquets

Interesting forms are found in many seed pods — the boon of dried flower arrangers. The pods are gathered long before they are open, then transported to florist shops for fall and winter arrangements.

There are the spearlype Catalpa, otherwise called the Indian cigar plant; the round-formed iris and roseacacia; pods; honesty pods, globe-thistle, poppy and Chinese lantern pods; tulip tree, sumac, milkweed, eucalyptus, and lotus pods.

Wild Flower Is Now Cultivated

Queen Anne's Lace, picked when dry, is now used in dried flower bouquets. Once a wild flower only, the lovely blossom is now cultivated for commercial use.

Other residents of field and forest now available at the florist shop include white thistles and red sumac.

Start Collecting for Fall Bouquets

Now is the time to collect specimens for next winter's dried arrangements.

Strawflower, globe amaranth, celosia, static and salvia may be dried by simply hanging them upside down in a warm darkened area that has a free circulation of air.

Pick strawflowers just as the outer row of petals are unfolding. They will open as they dry. The others may be picked in full bloom.

The New England Wild Flower Preservation Society has a new building in its Garden in the Woods at Framingham, Mass., and is moving its Boston headquarters there for the summer.

Shade Lover Is Spring Bloomer

The leaves of bishop's cap (Mitella diphylla) are heartshaped, lobed and toothed. The small white flowers make their appearance in April and May.

Ginseng Features Bright Red Berries

★ ★ ★

Bright red berries follow the greenish white blossoms which appear in July and August.

★ ★ ★

A medicinal plant, it is much in demand in China in normal times.

★ ★ ★

TV Ratings: a Way to Screen Candidates

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Political polls apparently are more important than ever this year, if such a thing is possible.

Both Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Sen. Eugene McCarthy are said to be relying heavily on the polls to help them win presidential nominations next month.

WEST

This is a fairly new function of public opinion surveys. Where once they only indicated which candidates were leading, they now may have a role in determining the winners.

Some of us may live to see the day when the U.S. Constitution will be amended to abolish the Electoral College and replace it with the Gallup poll.

SIMILAR SITUATION

At any rate, it appears that polls can have much the same impact on politics that audience ratings have on television.

For instance, the Lyndon Johnson program already has been canceled for next season, largely because of low ratings.

* * *

This started me to thinking that perhaps the two rating systems could be combines. It would save a lot of time and money if people who participate in public opinion samplings could designate their favorite candidates and favorite video shows simultaneously.

With that in mind, I have set about forming a new rating service to be known as the West Electronic and Electoral Poll (WEEP). It will operate on the premise that a person's political preferences can be determined by television shows he likes best.

CRISSCROSS SECTION

What I plan to do is survey a cross-section of voters and a cross-section of televiewers. This will give me a crisscross-section survey. No other poll-taker can make that statement.

Let us say that 5 per cent of the crisscross-section list their favorite program as either "Mission Impossible" or "Dream House." I mark them down as Harold Stassen supporters.

* * *

Twenty per cent prefer "No Time for Sergeants." They obviously belong in the McCarthy camp.

Twenty-five per cent for "Dark Shadows." Meaning, according to the WEEP analysis, that they love Dick Nixon even when he doesn't shave twice a day.

NEEDN'T SAY

I hardly need say who gets the votes of the 15 per cent who watch "The Hollywood Squares."

The WEEP survey also will make scientific television correlations for Humphrey, Rockefeller, Wallace and the other presidential hopefuls.

* * *

The 10 per cent who go for "Suspense Theater" or "Twilight Zone" will be placed in the undecided column.

Candidates Endorsed by AFL-CIO Unit

A slate of candidates endorsed by the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council for nomination in the Aug. 6 primary was announced today by Jack Douglas, president of the labor organization. All those supported are Democrats.

* * *

In the race for county prosecutor, the endorsement went to Thomas G. Plunkett.

The candidates receiving the backing of the council for state representatives are Earl F. St. Aubin in the 60th District; Aldo Vagnozzi in the 64th; Monte R. Geralds in the 66th; incumbent Albert A. Kramer in the 67th; and incumbent Daniel S. Cooper in the 69th.

* * *

"If a candidate wanted endorsement, he had to request it in writing before the council would even consider it," said Douglas. "It's a policy of the council."

Douglas said that the endorsements for the posts of county board of supervisors and district judges will be made public next Thursday.

Contraceptive Tests on Animals Planned

By Science Service

Tests in dogs and monkeys to determine any long-term harmful effects of two experimental oral contraceptives will begin soon.

The Food and Drug Administration has awarded a contract to the International Research and Development Corp. of Mattawan, Mich., to conduct the initial phase of the research. The studies in dogs are expected to last seven years; in monkeys they are to run 10 years.

* * *

Separate groups of dogs and monkeys will receive three dosage levels of MK 665 and WY 4355 as well as mestranol, the estrogen component of the two experimental drugs.

Tests of MK665 and mestranol were stopped in humans about two and a half years ago when breast changes appeared in some test monkeys.

Nonfarm Employment Shows a Rise in State

DETROIT (UPI) — Nonfarm employment in Michigan increased by about 22,000 jobs in the 30 days ending June 15, the Michigan Employment Security Commission said today.

"All the gains were made in private nonmaufacturing, which increased by 19,500, and self-employment, where an increase of 1,700 was recorded," said Malcolm R. Lovell Jr., director of the commission.

He said unemployment for the period was 190,000, up 45,000 from the previous 30-day period. He said the increase reflected the influx of high school graduates into the labor market.

Toe Replaces Girl's Severed Index Finger

This week, she leaves Methodist Hospital with one of medical science's best repair jobs yet — replacing the finger with a toe.

* * *

Cynthia's thumb was rebuilt by attaching the detached portion but the index finger was not repairable.

* * *

On May 28, Cynthia entered the hospital for the complicated process of attaching a toe as a finger.

CUT PART OF TOE

* * *

* * *

For six weeks, Cynthia had her hand in a cast attached to her toe. When the blood supply was established, the rest of the toe was severed and stitched on to the hand. Tuesday, the cast was removed and the finger bandaged.

The surgeon said nerves will grow down into the finger to reestablish sensation in it. He has replaced 12 missing thumbs and four index fingers with toes and says the replacements work well.

He said toes are not used for replacements for the other three fingers.

Success to Barbra Streisand Is Like Bittersweet Lollipop

By HAL BOYLE

GARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Success is bittersweet lollipop.

It has brought fame, fortune and acclaim to Barbra Streisand in every major branch of show business. But Brooklyn's onetime homely duckling is annoyed by reports that she is imperious, temperamental and sometimes difficult to work with.

BOYLE

"It annoys me to be judged by people who don't even know me," she remarked during a midday break in location shooting here of scenes from her forth coming $20-million costume film, "Hello Dolly!"

"They go by hearsay. It confuses me."

But she is disturbed at the thought the public may get a distorted idea of the kind of person she is.

A MONSTER

"I'm afraid they may think I'm some kind of monster," she said, cutting off a small piece of steak to feed her 10-month-old son, Jason Emanuel.

"I don't want people to think I am a terrible human being. I'm not. If I were, it would show through on the screen. You can't really fool anybody on the screen.

* * *

"But when you are a star, you are an open target — and the bigger the star the bigger the target.

"You can't win. If you're bitchy and pompous, they don't like you. If you're normal and unassuming, they say you're uninteresting.

HOTSY-TOTSY

"If you ride in a chauffeur-driven limousine, they think you're acting hotsy-totsy—showing off. But if you drive the limousine yourself, they don't like that, either. So" — she laughed and made a grimace — "maybe you'd better just walk to work."

* * *

Analyzing her own personality, Barbra said:

"You have to be yourself, no matter what. I have always wanted to excel in anything I tried — to be the very best.

"I feel that self-doubt is both my biggest virtue and my worst fault.

SELF DOUBT

"Self-doubt is a virtue because it never lets me assume anything. I feel it's better to be open and vulnerable to hurt in doing one's work.

"But self-doubt can be a fault also. In everyday life people can take advantage of it — and wound you."

* * *

"I'm afraid of myself on a personal basis," she replied. "But not about my career or work. That's where I have courage."

KEYS TO CHARACTER

"Gardenias — Victorian furniture — small, flutty white dogs — sea smells and country sounds — Oriental philosophy and Chinese food — being in the middle of reading 10 books at a time — soft drinks — all kinds of hats — art nouveau — antiques — Indian music, because it has the sound of the soul — early morning — big, soft, floppy beds — working hard and being sometimes lazy, too — muted, subtle colors — people who really care about what they do — and tall, dark, handsome men who have a sense of themselves and feel their own worth."

* * *

Barbra has a shorter list of dislikes: "Eggs — hospitals — bright red colors — liquor — the smell of ammonia — vulgarity — flat notes — and people who assume too much familiarity too quickly."

Summing herself up, Barbra smiled and said:

"I'm really a conglomerate of contradictions. But how can you appreciate the summer if you never have the winter?"

On the market is a 19-pound wireless, fully portable telephone. It costs somewhat over $2,000 and requires a license from the Federal Communications Commission.

The Gourmet Adventures of Jayson's

Traditional Japanese cuisine places equal emphasis on both the taste and appearance of each dish. A good example of this is oriental beefstew, adapted to American tastes and utilizing ordinary supermarket ingredients. This exotic dish is usually made with such expensive cuts as sirloin or tenderloin, but if you use a meat tenderizer, it makes it possible to use less expensive cuts of meat, always welcome to the budget. Then, too, it will reduce the stew's cooking time and the vegetables will stay crisp — the way they are served in the finest oriental restaurants.

We also put special emphasis on both the taste and the appearance of each dish we serve. Dine in our pleasant, comfortable and intimate atmosphere. Enjoy courteous friendly service. Bricklayer Units OK New Pact

DETROIT (UPI) — The Associated General Contractors of Detroit today announced a contract agreement with four bricklayers unions in the metropolitan area in another break-through in the construction strike that began May 31.

Stanley E. Veighey, manager of labor relations for the contractors association, said the new pact covers more than 8,000 workers in the three-county area. He said it was not subject to ratification and would go into effect immediately.

* * *

The AGC previously has reached agreements with the laborers, cement finishers and operating engineers but some of those contracts have not yet been ratified.

The AGC is still negotiating with the carpenters union, which has reached agreements with other contractors groups in the area.

* * *

In Saginaw, the Saginaw Valley Carpenters District Council and the AGC announced a tentative agreement had been reached. The pact will be voted on by Locals 1373 of Flint, 334 of Saginaw, 116 of Bay City and 1654 of Midland on Monday.

Man Given Probation in Killing of Teen

A Waterford Township man was placed on three years probation yesterday when he appeared for sentencing in Oakland County Circuit Court in the killing of a teen-age boy more than a year ago.

Leo Placencia, 48, of 1030 Menominee had been charged with second-degree murder. Last month he was allowed to plead guilty to a lesser count of manslaughter in the shooting of John Turton, 18, of 844 Fairfax, Bloomfield Township.

Turton was shot June 24 and died from a stomach wound June 28 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

He was wounded as he raised the hood of his mother's car, parked outside of Placencia's home where she was visiting, according to police.

Judges Bar Selves in Marijuana Case

Birmingham's two municipal judges have disqualified themselves from a marijuana case involving a grandson of the late Charles E. Wilson, former U.S. Secretary of Defense and president of General Motors Corp.

In removing themselves from the case, the judges, brothers John and Edward Emery, forced the postponement of the court examinations of Edward E. Wilson, 22, of 711 Maple Hill Lane, Birmingham, and Timothy S. Lodish, 22, of Detroit.

* * *

The judges said they were unable to conduct the court hearing, originally scheduled for yesterday, because they know the family.

TWO MEN ARRESTED

Birmingham Police Detective Richard Chambers said that the two men were arrested at Wilson's home after police had been summoned to help revive a girl.

The girl, who was not identified by police, has not been charged.

* * *

Chambers said the girl had suffered an overdose of narcotics and had to be revived by Birmingham firemen with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and closed-heart massage. She was later treated at a hospital and released.

Over eight grams of marijuana were seized by police. Chambers described it as a small amount.

PERSONAL BOND

Wilson and Lodish have been released on $1,000 personal bond each pending their examination, which will have to be rescheduled for another court by the prosecutor's office.

The Better Vision Institute states that more than 25 per cent of all licensed drivers have never had an official eye test and that two-thirds of the states do not require eye examinations for a license renewal.

'Communication Units on Wrists by Year 2000'

ELGIN, Ill. (AP) — In the year 2000, people will be wearing wrist-watches that are "total communications centers," containing devices not only for accurate timing but also for voice and vision.

They'll even contain recorders and simple miniature computers, said Harry B. Aronson, president of the Waltham Watch Co., in Elgin to dedicate the firm's new facility.

He said increasing skills in miniaturizing devices will increase Elgin's importance as one of the major watch producing centers of the world.

Mart Sags After Advances

Prices Slide Off Irregularly

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .5 at 349.5, with industrials down .2, rails off 1.3, and utilities up .5.

* * *

Trading was active, and the ticker tape lagged at times, but volume was nowhere near the amount which resulted in Thursday's 20.29 million shares, third-largest in history.

Profit taking on the previous rise, accompanied by a normal dose of preweekend caution, accounted for softness in many recent leaders, analysts said.

* * *

The downtrend was so slight it would take very little to boost either the averages or the statistics into plus territory.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Cinerama was the volume leader, dropping a fraction. It was closely followed in turnover by Reeves Industries, which advanced fractionally. Connelly Container, American Safety Equipment, and Empire Financial were up about 2. Gains of a point or so were made by H&B American, Bloom Building, and Puritan Fashions.

* * *

A new vaccine against influenza indicates that it causes fewer side effects than previous agents. Standard flu vaccines in use presently cause side reactions such as chills and fever in about one third of people immunized.

State Mails Form for Tax Estimating

The MI1040 quarterly state income tax forms are on their way to taxpayers who estimated their state taxes for 1968 at the beginning of the year. The form details payment for the second quarter of 1968.

"The forms have not been lost. We've been late billing," explained Lawrence Cole, district manager for the State of Michigan Department of the Treasury.

* * *

"These returns are on their way out now. Persons using them are being allowed 10 days after receipt to pay without being penalized," Cole added.

* * *

The forms were originally due to be filed by June 15.

* * *

Cole explained that the delay in mailing the form occurred because the treasury department's data-processing equipment for mailing has been tied up handling refunds.

This form is used by taxpayers for whom there is no withholding tax — as possibly a man in his own business — and by those who are going to owe an excess of $100 in state tax.

Gold Standard End Foreseen

PEORIA, Ill (AP) — Gold may be an outmoded medium of exchange, a Bradley University economics professor said. He predicts an end to the international gold standard.

"I think we're beginning to see the end of the international gold standard," said Willim R. Belmont, assistant professor of economics at the school.

* * *

"And it'll be good riddance," he added.

He said another "gold crisis" could be avoided if a more realistic international finance structure were established in view of increasing world trade which has grown 7 per cent in 10 years.

RESERVES OF MONIES

In contrast, the reserves of international monies have increased at less than 3 per cent, and gold at less than 2 per cent.

"A quickly available medium of exchange, in sufficient quantities, is needed to satisfy the growing needs of trade in the world economy," he said. "Gold isn't filling the bill."

Collision Kills 2 From Grant

BAILEY (Ill — A father and son from Grant were killed Thursday in a two-car head-on collision on M37 about 1.5 miles south of this Muskegon County community.

Driver of the second car, John Lee Cook, 41, of Newaygo, was admitted to Grant Community Hospital with broken ribs and was in satisfactory condition.

Strikers to Vote on Offer at Lear

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Striking skilled trades workers at Lear Siegler, Inc., represented by United Auto Workers Local 330, have been called to a contract ratification meeting Saturday. Bob Russell, a member of the local's bargaining committee, said the company submitted a written offer for skilled workers only, details of which were not disclosed.

The 200 skilled tradesmen hold veto power in a contract vote. On June 7, they rejected the company's latest offer while the majority of the 2,200 production workers accepted the offer to return to work. The strike began April 1 after the old pact expired.

She died a short time later.

Ballot Printers Have Work Cut Out for Them

LANSING (UPI) — Primary ballot printers will be keeping late hours the next few weeks trying to meet ballot printing deadlines and making up for lost time.

Normally, ballot printing is well under way at this time during primary election years, but printers were held up until one week before the absentee ballot deadline because of court litigation. The Michigan Supreme Court had to decide whether or not incumbent officeholders could be listed first on all ballots.

* * *

Wednesday, the Supreme Court said no—names must be rotated on the ballots.

The State Board of Canvassers immediately sent off telegrams to county clerks telling them of the decision, and the printing machinery shifted into gear.

TOO LATE"

But, despite the immediate contact with clerks, some county officials questioned if they could meet printing deadlines. The absentee ballot deadline is July 17. July 29 is the deadline for all other ballots printed for the Aug. 6 primary.

Bernard Apol, state elections director, said he has gotten calls from county clerks saying it would be a tight squeeze on the absentee ballots.

"Some officials have indicated they might not make it," he said. However, he quickly added, "Most of them said they would do everything humanly possible to have all ballots printed by the deadlines. As far as I know, all districts will have their ballots printed by the primary."

The county most unlikely to meet the absentee deadline, and possibly the primary ballot deadline, is Ingham.

* * *

The county has been ordered to hold up all election preparations by the U. S. District Court in Grand Rapids because of apportionment problems. The restraining order holds until Monday when the court will hold a hearing on the apportionment issue.

* * *

"We won't be able to deliver the absentee ballots," Clerk C. Ross Hilliard flatly said. "I really don't think we can make the deadline. We'll be lucky if we have the ballots printed by the primary. We just can't move that fast."

* * *

Jack Bromkena Kenty County Clerk, said his county was in pretty good shape.

"We have our presses all cocked and primed and ready to roll. We have the work split up among three printers and the absentee ballots will be first consideration," he said.

NOT SURPRISED

Wayne County Clerk Edgar M. Branigin said both Detroit and Wayne County voters will have ballots in time for the primary. He said county officials were not taken by surprise at the court decision and already had plans to print the rotation ballot.

* * *

"We, the members of the election commission, were more or less convinced that the Supreme Court was going to require rotation of names," he said. "In view of that, we made our plans for rotation."

* * *

Mrs. June Ormsby, Saginaw County clerk, said the printers in her county were putting on more help to meet the deadlines.

Backing Urged for Gun Curbs

DETROIT (AP) — The new Detroit Committee said Thursday it has urged Gov. George Romney and Michigan Sens. Philip Hart and Robert Griffin to support strict gun controls.

The committee issued a consensus statement, reflecting divergent opinions for further study of so-called "stop-and-frisk" laws such as one recently approved by Detroit's Common Council.

Committee Chairman J. L. Hudson Jr. declined to specify whether the committee or members of it believe such a law would heighten tension and worsen police-citizen relations.

He said the committee statement was neither a rejection nor a recommendation.

Hospital in Detroit Closed by Trustees

DETROIT (UPI) — A second hospital operated by the Samaritan Hospital Association of Michigan has closed its doors —a victim of economics.

The East Side General Hospital in Detroit was closed by action of its board Thursday. A sister hospital, the Clinton Valley Hospital in Mount Clemens, was closed Monday.

* * *

Both actions followed action by the City National Bank of Detroit in calling for payment of a series of loans made to the two hospitals.

Patients at East Side General were transferred to other local hospitals following the announcement the hospital would close its doors.

Ecuador Beauty to Visit Midland

MIDLAND (AP) — The 1968 beauty queen of Riobamba, Ecuador, will visit Midland in September as part of the "sister city" agreement between the South American and North American communities. Miss Susana Guevara Davalos of Riobamba is scheduled to visit Midland during the second and third weeks of September. The visit is being arranged by the People-to-People Program in both cities.

A Look at TV

Media Respond on Race

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Representatives of the communications field appeared Thursday night in an ABC-TV hour, "Bias and the Mass Media — Part II," responding to views of Negroes on a previous program. It was the second broadcast of the network's six-part series, "Time for Americans," about the race issue.

On the first broadcast, two weeks ago, the all-Negro panel consisted of entertainers Harry Belafonte and Lena Horne; poet-critic-essayist Larence Neal and Dr. Alvin Poussaint, assistant psychiatry professor at Tufts University Medical School. And that hour was billed by ABC-TV as "an indictment of racism as it exists in the media in America — radio and television, advertising, newspapers and magazines."

* * *

Thursday night's panel consisted of Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review; Herbert Kamm, editorial consultant of the Scripps-Howard newspapers; Elmer Lower, president of ABC News; Edward P. Morgan, chief correspondent of the Public Broadcast Laboratory; Dan Seymour, president of the J. Walter Thompson Advertising Agency; and James C. Hagerty, ABC vice president in charge of corporate relations.

Forget, for a moment, the specific content and particular quality of the two broadcasts to date. What is really important is that they have been done, and in prime time, and are a sort of beginning. And how much more reassuring the whole project would seem if only such a meaty series were on the television schedule when the main season starts in September. At present, not a single commercial network has a weekly prime time series along these lines on the fall schedule.

DEFIED EXPLANATION

What defied explanation on the Thursday hour was the fact that not a single representative was on hand from the two visual communications areas with the most massive influence — television and movie entertainment. The incredible result was that this over-all field escaped with barely a mention. And despite Mr. Seymour's presence, advertising got off easily too.

A consequence of all this, and of the composition of the panel, was that the news media — certainly the most responsible, constructive and well-intentioned area of communications — found themselves the central subject most of the time. Of course the news media are not perfect, and surely there is a need for such discussion, constantly. But the idea of letting some truly crass, offending areas of communications get off scot free of self-criticism was appalling and dismaying.

* * *

Particularly sharp, after Mr. Seymour's comments about how the advertising situation was improving, was Mr. Kamm's observation that the first broadcast of this very series went unsponsored. And concerning tokenism Mr. Cousins was delightfully deadly in noting how an executive, seeking a Negro secretary will look for a combination of Lena Horne and Marian Anderson — and, failing to get that, will hire a white girl, comforting himself with the thought that at least he tried.

MORE LACKS

There was agreement by all of the panel that more black workers should be trained, employed and given responsibility in the various media. Along these lines, moderator Frank Reynolds was effective in posing the black viewpoint that Negroes do not merely want to be fitted into the white structure, but wish to have positions of authority right away in order to put forth their own outlook on equal terms.

The third broadcast of the series, "Newark: Anatomy of a Riot," will be presented on ABC-TV Sunday at 4 p.m.

Question on Beauty Arises From Streisand Controversy

By EARL WILSON

MIAMI BEACH—Some of my alleged friends who have taken exception to my writings about Barbra Streisand being one of the most beautiful girls in the world have been kidding me about my qualifications to be a judge at the Miss Universe contest.

Suggestions that I come here accompanied by my seeing-eye dog have been made in a not-too-subtle manner.

This brings up the question of whether there is a new kind beauty in the world today that we must all recognize. Are Barbra Streisand, Mia Farrow and Twiggy great beauties? Evidently some of the magazine beauty editors think that they have a special sort of look that appeals to many.

WILSON

* * *

In an interview she gave me in Hollywood, she made the suggestion that some girls might have their nose jobs undone and get their old noses back.

Should a beauty judge now pay more attention to noses than to bosoms, legs and general carriage? I'm kidding, I think. And even though some friends tell me I should cover the Tournament of Noses and give a nosegay to Barbra Streisand when I see her, I'm going to ignore all this foolery and try to vote for the most beautiful girl I spot in the crowd.

I predict that the girl selected by the judges will be beautiful in the tradition of beauty that we have known in the past and will not be beautiful by some recent dictum of the fashion experts.

What I'm getting at is this: I see scores of long, straggly-haired girls with fat posteriors on the streets of New York with adoring boyfriends. They're not beautiful to me. Are they beautiful to their boyfriends? If they are, then beauty is changing.

* * *

A former Miss Universe, Anna Khistina Hillevi, tells me—back to Barbra Streisand—that she has seen her entertain "when she gave her whole soul" to her performance, and was in that moment, undeniably beautiful.

Well, there you go. Maybe it's a beautiful soul that we're talking about. Let's just hope all the judges please all of you on the final count. Not that we can ever achieve that!

Heat Beats Smog

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sweltering Los Angeles basin residents can thank the heat for averting a smog alert. The temperature reached 92 Thursday, and the heat joined a low pressure system to help break up a dense cover of smog.

Rains Raise Lake Levels

DETROIT (UPI) — The rain of the past few weeks in Michigan is showing up in the lakes surrounding the state's Upper and Lower peninsulas.

The U. S. Lake Survey today reported a rise in all the lakes with Lake St. Clair showing the greatest increase in the last month — 6 inches above this date in June. Lake Superior was up 4 inches while Lakes Huron and Michigan showed an increase of 3 inches.

Mascot Missing at S. Illinois U. After 2 Months

Two months ago, Sarra, a Saluki dog, jumped from a convertible on her way to the spring festival. In a chase, the lean and graceful hound, an ancient Egyptian breed, outdistanced the convertible.

* * *

A local veterinarian said Sarra could exist "almost indefinitely" in the country because of her stamina and hunting prowess. Sarra, who arrived on the campus in February, has been seen twice in Carbondale since she skipped out on the festival.

But the university still has four other Salukis at its kennels. One, Yembo, is a sister of Sarra.

Constrictor Found 25 Miles Away

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — An 11-foot-long boa constrictor that disappeared two weeks ago from the Cripps Institution of Oceanography turned up 25 miles away — at Grossmont High School.

A groundskeeper found the snake Thursday curled under a bush near the science building. Somebody must have removed it from a Scripps laboratory, police say.

Student Driver Hits Police Car

OELWIN, Iowa (AP) — Mary O'Brien, 16, a student, approached an intersection with a yield-right-of-way sign. She didn't stop the Oelwin High School driver education car. It collided with a car driven by Police Chief E. J. Fortsch.

There was only minor damage to the cars, and Fortsch did not issue a citation.

Philbin Walks Out; Bishop Keeps Calm

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Everything is going to be fine," says television host Joey Bishop about the walkout of his announcer, Regis Philbin.

Philbin left a taping session of the program for Thursday night saying he felt the American Broadcasting Co. was "trying to get rid of me."

ABC issued a statement later saying it was "surprised" at Philbin's action and that "his statements were unwarranted and have no basis in fact."

NY Manhunt Pressed for Gunman Who Killed 3, Shot 4th

NEW YORK (AP) — Police today pressed a massive manhunt for a Bronx gunman who killed three persons and wounded a fourth with a hail of fire from an automatic carbine.

Bronx Asst. Dist. Atty. Burton Roberts said a 15-state alarm was issued for one Bobby Rogers, alias Bobby Pugh, 31, who was superintendent of the building in front of which the shootings occurred last evening.

* * *

The rapid-fire shooting brought more than 200 policemen armed with rifles, revolvers, shotguns and tear-gas guns and wearing bullet-proof vests to the dingy orange tenement into which the gunman fled.

As thousands of spectators swarmed to watch, police searched the five-story building but failed to find the man. They concluded he had escaped through a basement connecting three buildings on the block.

DEAD IDENTIFIED

The dead were identified as Manuel Angel Figueroa, 19, Efrain Castro, 21, and Jose Rivera, 18. Roberts said preliminary evidence indicated the man being sought knew all three.

Police said Figueroa was dead on arrival at Lincoln Hospital and that Castro and Rivera died at the hospital.

The violence began at about 6:27 p.m. when the gunman appeared near the stoop of the tenement on East 138th Street and started firing a .30-caliber automatic carbine which had been sawed off at both the stock and barrel, police said.

Roland Ronan, 35, walking on the opposite side of the street was hit in the shoulder. He fell to the sidewalk bleeding and saw "a man in a green shirt and little hat on his head" firing the gun.

[illegible] stiff [illegible] lying on the ground," Ronan recalled. "He was sweeping this gun back and forth like a broom across them."

In Model Cities Program

By BOB WISLER

A top administrator of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) who administers the federally sponsored model cities program in five Midwestern states yesterday encouraged Pontiac to apply for a model cities grant.

Ray Hruschka, assistant to the regional director of HEW, two other officials of the department and the Michigan supervisor of the Office of Economic Opportunity met yesterday with some 30 representatives of social agencies, civic organizations and city government.

The meeting was arranged by Clarence E. Barnes, executive director of the Pontiac Area Urban League, and Dr. Joseph Grayson, vice president of the league.

Grayson said the purpose of the meeting was to get federal aid and technical assistance in attempting to design a program which could galvanize and correlate all the efforts of the many social agencies in this area.

It became apparent during the discussion that many of the problems that the agency representatives said they wanted to solve could best be met by a model cities program.

Hruschka, who said he is empowered to speak for the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, asked:

"Why hasn't Pontiac applied for a model cities grant?

* * *

"Any city that hasn't put in an application for a grant and has the problems that this city has, all we can ask is, 'Why not?'" he said.

Hruschka advised the group to do all that it could to get the city to apply for a model cities planning grant.

SOME RESERVATION

James L. Bates, director of planning and urban renewal, who attended the meeting, said there had been some reservation in the past by city officials in applying for a grant.

Bates endorsed the idea, though. "The basic concept of mobilizing all the resources of the federal government to attack the problems of certain areas is probably one of the best opportunities available to the city," he said.

* * *

The group assembled yesterday could probably meet the requirement of "community involvement" necessitated before the government will participate locally in such a program, Hruschka said.

With this in mind, Charles M. Tucker Jr. and Dr. Grayson were elected chairmen of the then-formed committee to pursue the idea of applying for a planning grant.

'GOOD CHANCE FOR OK'

Hruschka said that Pontiac would stand a good chance of being approved for a planning grant to tackle the multiple problems in deteriorating neighborhoods if a flexible plan can be devised.

He said the regional office has looked at 26 applications and approved between 10 and 15 of these.

Although there are reports frequently circulated that the program will be cut

Big Write-Off in Store if Dems Change Sites

CHICAGO (AP) — More than $1.3 million has been spent so far in Chicago for the Democratic National Convention, which may be moved out of the city unless a strike affecting preparations is settled.

OUT

Earlier this week, John M. Bailey, chairman of the Democratic National Committee which runs the quadrennial nominating conventions, said, "I don't rule out the possibility we might move if the labor difficulties are not resolved by the end of next week."

* * *

Joseph O'Brien, spokesman for the struck Illinois Bell Telephone Co., said the longer the strike by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers continues "the less facilities for news coverage there will be."

He said Bell has spent $400,000 of the $1.5 million it expects to spend on installations. This would be lost if the convention moved to another city.

BIG WRITE-OFF

The city of Chicago will have to write off more than $400,000 if the convention falls through officials said.

Charles Newlin, chairman of the Chicago Nonpartisan Committee — 1968 National Political Convention, said the pledge "consists of $400,000 in business donations and the balance from the city's hotel pack." Newlin said the business share has been paid in full.

Widen China Contacts—VP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey proposed today wider contacts with Red China and said the United States should "make it clear that we are prepared to replace conflict with cooperation whenever the Chinese are."

Prospects for improved relations in the coming decade "are not good" but the U.S. stance should be to "continue to seek more normalized relations with the mainland," the vice president said.

* * *

Humphrey's remarks were to be made in a speech in San Francisco but instead were released as a foreign policy position paper when he was grounded in Washington on doctor's advice. His physician sent the vice president to bed yesterday to recover from what was described as a light case of grippe.

Humphrey's rival for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, accused the administration yesterday of failing to see that the nation's poor were properly fed.

'ADMINISTRATION INEPTITUDE'

And Republican contender Nelson A. Rockefeller, speaking at a street rally in the heart of New York City's financial district, charged the administration with ineptitude in maintaining stable prices and steady economic growth. If the job were done right, Rockefeller said, the Gross National Product would move from the present $800-plus billion a year to $1.5 trillion.

Dorm Fees Go Up, Too

OU Boosts Tuition

Oakland University full-time students will pay from $15 to $45 more per semester for tuition for the 1968-69 school year, officials announced today. Dormitory fees also will go up.

The hikes were instituted yesterday by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

* * *

The board set OU's 1968-69 budget at $7,448,749, an increase of approximately $1.3 million over the budget for the past school year.

In May, the State Legislature appropriated some $5.64 million for OU, an increase of $661,600 over the past year. However, this fell about $1.2 million short of the appropriation the university had requested.

Harris noted that the per-student appropriation for OU in 1968-69 declined about $45 from last year, while the average per-student appropriation for Michigan's 13 four-year colleges rose by approximately $62.

* * *

The board set Michigan State University 1968-69 budget at $74.96 million.

It also ordered a $5 to $15 per quarter tuition hike on the sliding-scale plan for resident undergraduates students at MSU. A $4 to $20 increase would apply to graduate and nonresident students, at MSU.

ABILITY TO PAY

Tuition at OU and MSU for Michigan residents is geared to ability to pay with the amount determined by the income of a student's parents.

The new scale determines that tuition fees for resident undergraduates will go from a minimum last year of $177 to a 1968-69 figure of $192. The maximum fees go from $250 to $295.

* * *

Nonresident students will pay a flat $45 more each semester in tuition payments.

FOR OUT-OF-STATERS

Course Gets Tricky at the British Open

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP) — Early starters in the third round of the 1968 British Open Golf Championship fell victim to fickle Carnoustie, which completely changed face overnight.

The winds from the east shifted to the south and brought along the cold bite of

* * *

As a result most of the early field struggled the front nine with the winds in their faces and scores ranged from even par 36 all the way up to the 40s.

The first solidly good round in, came from Alex Caygill, 27-year-old English professional, who fired 37-34—71, one under Carnoustie's 7,252-yard par-72.

CHALLENGE UNLIKELY

This gave him 226 for 54 holes, hardly likely to be a challenge to Billy Casper of San Diego, Calif., the halfway leader at four-under-par 140.

* * *

Today's field of 70 will be cut at nightfall to the low 45 and ties for Saturday's final 18 holes.

Delay Urged on New School Site

The Pontiac Area Planning Council Board of Governors last night recommended that any decision on location of a new Pontiac high school be delayed until a site study can be made.

The board of education at its meeting next Wednesday is scheduled to discuss the possibility of definitely fixing a site on the Pontiac State Hospital grounds as the planned location for a new 3,000-to-4,500-student high school.

* * *

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, school superintendent, told the governors last night that it was possible the board would vote to acquire the hospital ground site at its Wednesday meeting.

Dr. Robert R. Turpin, school board vice president, was one of the governors who voted last night for a delay in the site selection. Also speaking in favor of the delay was school board member Russell L. Brown.

'DRASTIC ADDITION'

Brown said a study of all aspects of the site selection could probably be completed in six months.

State Rep. Loren D. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, said that with rising construction costs even a slight delay can add drastically to the cost of the school and to the burden of taxpayers.

Charles M. Tucker, one of the governors who led the argument for delay of the selection, said the site selection does not take into account the recommendations of the report recently submitted to the board on the equality of educational opportunities.

Francis Webster, chairman of the school district's finance study committee, argued against any delay. He said the finance study committee, a 30-member body, was unanimous in the opinion that the school should be located at the hospital grounds.

LOW COST CITED

Whitmer told the governors that the board is making a site selection based on a number of points but said no real study has been made to determine its feasibility.

The low cost of the site is a major factor in its favor, he said.

* * *

Whitmer also said that two months ago he recommended to the board of governors that any study to determine the best site of the high school should be a sweeping comprehensive study of the city.

RATES A SALUTE—Army Chief of Staff Gen. William Westmoreland maintains his military posture while getting a salute from Edgardo Rubio, 4, during a White House ceremony yesterday. The boy's father, Army Capt. Euripides Rubio Jr., posthumously was awarded the Medal of Honor at the ceremony. Capt. Rubio died a hero in a battle in Vietnam in 1966. Westmoreland was commander of U.S. military forces there at the time. He was back at the White House today for another ceremony, in which he was awarded a second Oak Leaf Cluster to his Distinguished Service Medal.

Pontiac Area Planners Act to End Bias by Employers

The Pontiac Area Planning Council Board of Governors last night took steps to encourage an end to discriminatory practices in employment in the Pontiac area.

The governors unanimously approved a resolution obliging all firms doing business with the council to be a nondiscriminatory employer and voted to recommend to the City Commission and the Pontiac School Board that those governmental bodies pass the same type of resolution.

They also approved a resolution calling for the council to secure pledges from Pontiac area employers that they are nondiscriminatory.

The action provides that the council will publish and distribute semiannually a "comprehensive list of agencies, corporate businesses, groups, individuals and organizations in the Pontiac area" which subscribe to the nondiscriminatory policies.

The recommendation to the City Commission could affect a major new policy for the city, if the recommendation is followed.

★ ★ ★

The resolution is based almost verbatim on a Detroit ordinance used by that city to ensure that firms, contractors and businesses doing any business with Detroit actively seek minority group employes.

Detroit has actually stopped payment on million-dollar projects to ensure compliance.

★ ★ ★

Such a measure in Pontiac and the school district would give those bodies authority to reject contractors or bidders who do not comply with the intent of the resolution.

★ ★ ★

According to the planning council resolution, "all contractors doing business with the planning council shall take affirmative action to ensure that applicants are employed and treated without regard to sex, race, creed, color or national origin."

The resolution defines affirmative action as:

- Issuing a statement of policy regarding equal-employment opportunity.
- Notifying all employment sources of such policy.
- Recruiting for minority group employes and establishment of an internal system for reporting results of equal-opportunity recruiting, hiring, training and upgrading.
- Labeling the company in all advertising as an equal-opportunity employer.

The resolution not only obliges the main contractor to have an affirmative policy but requires the subcontractor to include similar provision in all subcontracts.

Cong Terrorist Wounds GI

Saigon Braces for Attack

SAIGON (AP) — A terrorist shot and seriously wounded a U.S. soldier in downtown Saigon today amid reports that Vietcong suicide commandos are expected to raid the South Vietnamese capital at any time.

Extra guards were posted at the U.S. Embassy and other key installations, and police were put on 100 per cent alert. The raids, if they come, likely would open the third Vietcong offensive of the year against Saigon, an attack that has been expected for weeks.

★ ★ ★

High-ranking Vietnamese officers said they had received reports the American Embassy would be attacked again and the national police headquarters would be another target.

One South Vietnamese source said the Vietcong "have to make a noise" before July 20; the 14th anniversary of the Geneva agreements which divided Vietnam.

IN STRIKING DISTANCE

Intelligence sources say about 11,000 enemy troops are within quick striking distance of the capital, and more are reported on the way.

Heavy American bombing raids on North Vietnam's southern panhandle have significantly reduced traffic in the area in the last few days, and presumably the flow of arms and supplies to Vietcong and North Vietnamese forces in South Vietnam, the U.S. Command said today.

★ ★ ★

In Saigon, a military court today condemned 10 prominent doctors, lawyers, educators and politicians to death in absentia for leading an organization that advocates overthrow of the Saigon government and formation of a coalition government including the Vietcong.

After a 23-minute trial, the court also ordered the property of the defendants confiscated.

The defendants were convicted of treason for being leaders of the Alliance of National, Democratic and Peace Forces of Vietnam, labeled a Communist front by both the South Vietnamese government and the U.S. Embassy. They disappeared from their homes shortly before formation of the alliance was announced in March by the Vietcong's Liberation Radio.

City, Employes Gain Accord

After daylong negotiations yesterday representatives of the city and the Pontiac Municipal Employes Association (PMEA) reached tentative agreement on contract terms for the 1968 fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

State labor mediator Leonard D. Bennett said the employes will vote on ratification of the contract Monday. Terms of the one-year agreement are being withheld subject to ratification, Bennett said.

Negotiators indicated that the contract terms will likely be approved by the city employes in the association — nonsupervisory office and clerical employes.

Representing the employes yesterday were PMEA President John Gusman and Detroit attorney Winston L. Livingston, who also represented the city fire fighters and police officers in their contract negotiations. City Personnel Director Nicholas Santiwan represented the city.

END TO BARGAINING?

Tentative agreement between the employes' group and the city apparently ends the labor bargaining between the city and its employe groups for this fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

Policemen and firemen reached agreement with the city over economic terms early this year and in the past two weeks, with the help of the mediator, have settled noneconomic matters.

OU's Tuition, Dorm Fees Up

The new dormitory fees at Oakland University will go up to $961 for a full school year as compared with $920 last year. About one-third of OU's students are expected to live in dormitories this year.

★ ★ ★

Harris said the total tuition increase will amount to an estimated $598,940.

Oakland University is expecting a student enrollment this year of about 4,920, an increase of about 820 students over last year's enrollment.

UNFULFILLED NEEDS CITED

Harris said that the budget "is one that we can live with, although many needs will go unfilled."

A number of cutbacks have been planned, he said. The student-teacher ratio will rise, he said, because the university will not be able to add as many faculty as will be needed to handle the increase in student enrollment.

There will be little or no equipment money for some of the science departments, Harris said, and there will be practically no expansion money for the library.

The budget increase, he said, will be exhausted by increases in current faculty and staff salaries, fringe benefits, Social Security and retirements and inflationary costs and operation of a new engineering building.

Hamlin Throws Support to Rocky

In making the announcement, Hamlin said, "Republicans must bear in mind that, nationwide, independent voters as well as Democratic voters outnumber Republicans and that the Republican candidate for president must not only have excellent Republican credentials, but he must have the greatest appeal to Democrats and independent voters."

★ ★ ★

Hamlin, who has chaired the board for 13 years, said he would be writing to the other Republican county officials in Michigan urging their support of the governor.

A Pontiac Motor Division public relations man, Solon E. Phinney, has been named publicity and promotion chairman of the 1968 Pontiac Area United Fund (PAUF) campaign.

Phinney succeeds William L. Belaney, who held the position last year, said General Chairman Alger V. Conner.

Chorus Gives Mass Concert at Cranbrook

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The 400-voice chorus of the American Union of Swedish Singers presented a concert yesterday afternoon on the grounds of Cranbrook Institute, near the Art Academy.

The group, in Detroit for its annual convention, will perform again at a public concert tonight at 8 at Ford Auditorium, Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Marshall Fredricks, prominent area sculptor who had been an instructor at Cranbrook for 10 years, was honorary cochairman.

Members of the troupe came to Detroit from all over the country. They had a picnic on the Cranbrook grounds prior to the performance.

BIRMINGHAM — Leaders of the Birmingham Branch YMCA finance drive recently met at the Y, 400 E. Lincoln, and heard that more than $135,000 was pledged or contributed for building activities in the first phase of the drive.

"One down and one to go—we have the health club, now we're going for the swimming pool," said Dr. Harry Lichtwardt, chairman of the board of management for Birmingham YMCA.

2ND STAGE GOAL

The group has planned the second stage goal, an additional $350,000.

"It will take at least an additional $350,000 to build an indoor, Olympic-size swimming pool," Lichtwardt said, "especially when the rising costs of construction are considered."

★ ★ ★

"We still have about 65 per cent of our pledge cards out," he continued, "and if the enthusiasm of our canvassers for getting the swimming pool is any indication of our chances for second stage success, we ought to make it."

Of the $135,000 pledged or contributed thus far, $90,000 is earmarked for completing a health club, Lichtwardt said.

UNFINISHED ROOM

The money will go toward finishing the room and equipping it with a sauna bath, equipment for ultra-violet and infra-red treatments, an exercise room, lockers, showers and lounges for men and women.

★ ★ ★

The remaining $45,000 will go toward construction of the pool in a building adjoining the gym, according to Lichtwardt.

YMCA officials believe they can easily double or quadruple enrollment in their swimming program if they get the new pool.

DRIVE UNDER WAY

The local Y is conducting an active outdoor swimming program for 222 family members in more than 20 private pools made available by their owners for 45 minutes of supervised swimming twice each week in each pool.

Last school year, the Y had 466 persons enrolled in supervised sessions conducted in the Barnum and Covington junior high school pools. But school pool use was restricted to 11½ hours each week and only after 7 p.m. on school days.

Birmingham schools rejected YMCA requests for additional pool use and time because of their own needs.

Pontiac Urged: Seek Grant

in funds, Hruschka said, he advised that the reported availability of funds should not be a criteria in making application.

Hruschka advised that a planning grant would provide funds for one year of study of problems and formulation of a plan for attacking the problems in the city.

A grant for implementation of such a program could then be approved, he said. The administrator said the model cities act then allows five years for implementation of the plan.

He said this legislation, as practically all federal aid legislation of the past two years, stresses community involvement of the people to be helped, in the planning stages and in the implementation stages.

hunger," a department spokesman said that in the nearly eight years of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations McCarthy had never even made an inquiry to the department about feeding programs.

"His singular lack of interest in feeding the hungry during this eight-year period, a part of which he spent on the Senate Agriculture Committee," said Thomas R. Hughes, executive assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, "lends little credence to his sudden zeal."

Meanwhile, Gov. Ronald Reagan of California denied a published report that he will announce his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination during a nationwide television broadcast July 21. "There's nothing to it," he said.

The theme of Humphrey's position paper was that America's foreign policy is largely geared to conditions that arose 20 or more years ago and could stand updating in the decade ahead.

Of prime importance, he said, is improvement of the relationships between the United States and the Soviet Union.

He urged initiatives to bring about a freeze and eventually a cutback of strategic weaponry on both sides, a reduction of armed forces in Europe, increased technological and economic interchange and cooperation in space exploration.

The Pontiac Press will publish a special election section prior to the Aug. 6 primary containing voter information on candidates for all major offices.

Those candidates seeking nomination who have not sent biographical material and a photograph to The Pontiac Press, 48 W. Huron, are urged to do so before Wednesday.

The special section will cover races for Congress, the State House of Representatives, Oakland County offices, district judgeships, the County Board of Supervisors and the Michigan Court of Appeals.

Strict Security Prepared for Ray Trial

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Officials preparing for what promises to be the biggest Tennessee trial since the famous "monkey trial" of 1925 are making strict security arrangements.

Officials said Thursday that plans are being made to make a voice and picture tape of every person attending the trial of James Earl Ray, charged with assassinating Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. here on April 4.

This would be the first trial anywhere that such a security precaution has been required, Charles Holmes, public relations aide to Sheriff William N. Morris, said.

Newsmen accredited to cover the trial, expected to be held in late fall, will be given identification cards bearing their photographs.

The trial is scheduled to be held in one of the Shelby County Criminal Court courtrooms so Ray can be brought directly into the court through an underground corridor without being seen by the outside public.

A secondary security line is expected to be established to keep everyone without pressing business out of the Criminal Courts building.

'NO CARNIVAL'

"There will be no carnival air here," Morris said. "The sheriff, the judges and the attorney general have been conferring at intervals for several weeks to assure a fair and orderly trial in a dignified atmosphere."

The trail will be conducted in strict keeping with established standards of dignity and justice," said Dist. Atty. Gen. Phil M. Canale, who will head the prosecution team.

Inspector Warren Cargill has been placed in charge of physical arrangements for the trial, which Ray would be housed if ber of the seats will be assigned and he is supervising the re- to news media representatives modeling of the interior cell in covering the trial. '66 Conviction of Powell OK'd

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1966 conviction of former Rep. Adam Clayton Powell on a charge of criminal contempt of court, which led to a 30-day jail sentence and a $500 fine, has been upheld by a three-to-two vote of the Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court.

The ousted congressman's lawyer, Henry R. Williams, said after the ruling Thursday that no decision had been made yet on whether to take the case to the Court of Appeals, New York State's highest tribunal.

The 59-year-old Powell, who has been elected as a Democratic congressman from Harlem for more than 20 years, was reported to be on Bimini, his favorite island retreat in the Bahamas.

Thursday's ruling came after eight years of litigation over Powell's failure to pay a defamation judgment won by a 71-year-old Harlem widow who Powell called a "bagwoman" — collector of graft for policemen — on a 1960 television program.

Talks to Avert Hospital Strike Continuing

Dr. William H. Anderson, Department of Mental Health director, was to continue to meet with Pontiac State Hospital union representatives and Dr. Daniel Kruger today in an attempt to settle a labor dispute.

Local 49 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes has threatened to strike at Pontiac State Hospital on Monday if their demands are not met.

* * *

Kruger, a professor in the Michigan State University School of Labor and Industrial Relations, was scheduled to present his fact-finding report to both sides at the meeting.

The dispute centers around personal grievances, working conditions and assignments, and alleged violations of established grievance procedures.

LETTER SENT OUT

State Personnel Director Franklin K. DeWald has sent each hospital employe a letter explaining that employes who strike are subject to suspension or dismissal.

A spokesman for the Mental Health Department said progress was made at Thursday's meeting, but declined to be specific.

The State Has Banned Private Horses From The Pontiac Lake Stables

State Evicts Private Horses From Recreation Area Stable

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Michigan's Department of Conservation has given an eviction notice to the 14 privately owned horses boarded at the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area stables.

"Boarding is a private enterprise. It is not the state's responsibility nor do we intend to make it our responsibility to board private horses," said Alfred Masini, district parks supervisor.

* * *

The conservation department has given no definite deadline for the elimination of the service.

Chuch Taeger, stable concessionaire, has been boarding the privately owned horses for five years in addition to those rented for riding to the public. Also, Taeger has records of receipts from the boarders in his monthly statements to the state.

BOARDERS COMPLAIN

The stable, on Maceday Road, houses 25 horses for use by the public on the bridle trails of the Pontiac Lake State Park Recreation Area. In addition to those 25, Taeger boards 14 privately owned horses for use by the owners, though his contract does not allow for this.

A number of boarders have complained about the restricting of Taeger's service saying that it allowed children recreation off the streets, was quite reasonably priced, and was one of the few such services in the area.

* * *

Taeger's daughter, Karen Jones, said she could see no reason for restricting boarders. "The state is even profiting by us because they got 10 cents out of every dollar we make."

Miss Jones insisted that the private boarding service "in no way obstructs the renting of horses because the boarders have their own hitching rail and always remain outside."

"There are no horses taking up stall space and it costs the state nothing," she added.

Masini said that the conservation department had received a complaint about Taeger's service from a private stable owner.

* * *

According to Masini, Taeger didn't include the number of private horses he houses on his monthly statements. "It became evident to us that it was getting way out of proportion. Taeger is more interested in boarding than general services for the public."

Masini pointed out that Taeger's contract specifically states that a stable concessionaire's duties consist only in operating a public riding stable with 25 horses, maintaining bridle paths, and providing hay rides if the public demands.

"We don't like to compete with private enterprise," Masini said. "We are trying to protect the individual in this business."

"Taeger's service is not fair. If we allowed it to continue we would be a boarding agency," Masini added.

Taeger declined to comment when asked about the private boarding service and the state's action.

Hallman Quits Council Post in Clarkston

CLARKSTON — Village Council has accepted "with regret" the resignation of Councilman Keith Hallman. He was a councilman four years.

Council President Frank Russell explained that Hallman felt his business could have conflicted with future council action. Hallman owns O'Dell's Drug Store on S. Main.

* * *

Council also discussed annexation at it recent meeting. It decided the planning commission within the council would meet to consider persons willing to serve on a boundary study committee.

Annexation was voted down by council at one time, according to Russell.

OVERRIDE SUPPORTED

In other action the council voiced approval of a request from Sen. George Kuhn of West Bloomfield Township asking support in an effort to get the legislature to override a veto by Governor George Romney.

Romney vetoed a bill giving local officials authority to call a curfew and limit the sale of gas, guns and ammunition.

* * *

McCall said his new business, the Dura-Plate Co. on Ortonville Road, would not allow him sufficient time for police work.

NO ACTION

Troy Schools Superintendent Looking for Job

TROY — Dr. Rex B. Smith, superintendent of schools here for the past 10 years, admitted this week he is looking for a new job.

He confirmed reports that the "harassment and criticism" he has received recently as head of the district is one of the reasons he is looking elsewhere.

But he also was somewhat surprised that the fact he is job hunting is such a big issue. "After 30 years in education, and 19 years as a superintendent it is not peculiar, but rather logical, that I would be looking for a change," he said.

Smith said that his troubles began 14 months ago before an unsuccessful Troy millage vote. Since that defeat, the district has voted three more times, finally passing a four-mill increase June 10.

'TOO MUCH'

"Four elections in a year was too much," said Smith, who served as president of the Oakland County School Superintendents Association for the past school year.

He noted that any complaints about a district's schools eventually get placed in the lap of the superintendent, just as they would in ony other leadership role.

But he denied reports that the Board of Education had asked for his resignation. "I've never received any official complaints from the Board," he explained.

Much of the district's problems stem from financial matters. Harold Janes, a board trustee elected during the millage defeat in June 1967, has clashed with Smith a number of times over school spending.

Birch-Linked Group to Fight U.S. Policy

A Milford-based ad hoc committee of the John Birch Society will launch its public assault on U.S. policy in Vietnam next week.

The recently organized North Huron Valley TRAIN group has invited a former combat helicopter pilot with Vietnam experience to speak on the alleged imprudence of present administration foreign policy.

TRAIN (To Restore American Independence Now) will sponsor retired Chief Warrant Officer Olin Staton's address at Milford High School next Friday at 8 p.m.

THE ONLY GOAL

Staton has said that victory is the only goal for which a serviceman should be sent to face death, according to Mrs. James N. Bailey, TRAIN publicity director. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, both members of the group, reside at 5172 Driftwood, Milford.

Mrs. Bailey said the 60-member area group is part of a national ad hoc committee originated by the John Birch Society. North Huron Valley's TRAIN committee has been organizing in the Milford area for the past year, she said.

* * *

"Our main emphasis is a demand that the United States must win the war in Vietnam and stop all aid to our Communist enemies," Chairman Heslip explained.

TRAIN is circulating petitions to Congress asking all senators and representatives to exert their authority and use their influence "to have this administration stop, promptly and completely, giving aid in any form, directly or indirectly, to our Communist enemies."

Chairman Heslip and his TRAIN colleagues claim that "at least 80 per cent of the sinews of war are being provided North Vietnam by Soviet Russia and its Communist allies. This help has been made possible by our help to the Soviet Union and its satellites."

Mrs. Bailey denied charges of right-wing extremism, but she admitted that the local group had been experiencing difficulty recruiting sponsors because of its Birch affiliation.

* * *

"Many people agree with us right down the line, but they just don't want their names associated with the group," she said.

* * *

Heslip said the group hopes to organize study clubs and discussion groups after Staton's address. The speech will be its first public effort to win support since TRAIN's local inception.

CAREER SERVICEMAN

Staton, a career serviceman, went to Vietnam in 1966. He logged more than 1,000 hours of combat flight time there transporting troops, ferrying supplies and evacuating wounded men, according to Heslip.

* * *

The retired helicopter pilot and former intelligence officer, born and raised in Indiana, is outspokenly at odds with U.S. foreign policy in Southeast Asia. He opposes U.S. military tactics being employed there now and accuses the government of "handcuffing" the fighting effort, Mrs. Dailey noted.

* * *

"Playing politics with an army doesn't happen to be in the servicemen's manual," Staton charges.

Chairman Heslip said tickets for Staton's address will be available to the public at the door the night of the speech.

Road Engineer to View Needs

MILFORD — A county highway engineer will speak here Thursday on projected major road needs in Oakland County for the next 10 years.

Paul VanRoekel will explore the future of the County Road Commission at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Muir Junior High School, 425 George.

* * *

Van Roekel's responsibilities include the direction of an employe work force of 475 engaged in maintenance and construction of 2,450 miles of county roads and maintenance of more than 200 miles of state trunk lines.

* * *

* * *

The purpose of the presentation is to inform area citizens of road conditions prior to Aug. 6, when a millage proposal (1 mill for five years) for the financing of roads will appear on the ballot.

Health Check Center Is Computerized

By ED BLUNDEN

A Waterford Township doctor is using advanced ideas in medicine to create a new facility for this area.

It's a diagnostic center that sends patients through a battery of tests and comes up with a computerized health report.

* * *

Dr. Jack Kevorkian of 498 Beverly Island has located the center in Southfield at 23725 Northwestern, a point near the center of the Detroit Metropolitan area. He named it Check-Up, Medical Diagnostic Center, Inc.

Dr. Kevorkian was on the staff of Pontiac General Hospital until about three years ago.

Even then he was concerned with advanced ideas in medicine. His interest was in use of corpses as a supply of blood for transfusions. Dr. Kevorkian and his associates conducted experiments at the hospital which indicated the procedure was feasible.

Sudden-death victims, dead less than six hours, could be used as a blood supply, it was proved. Other medical authorities said this procedure is still being studied by the Army and other groups, and Russian doctors are using it. However it has not yet gained widespread acceptance, he indicated.

Dr. Kevorkian's new interest — also potentially controversial — entails use of related techniques in medicine and electronics. After a person undergoes a battery of tests, all the information on his health comes out of the computer on a continuous printed sheet. The computer also stores the information for comparison with subsequent health checks.

In explaining his service, Dr. Kevorkian said, "This is an innovation that will reduce costs and lessen the load of our overworked physicians.

NEW DIRECTION

The Check-Up firm is charging about one-fourth the amount a similar health screening procedure would cost at a regular hospital, Dr. Kevorkian estimated. Also important is that it only takes between two and three hours, compared to several days, he added.

* * *

A similar health-screening test program was initiated by the Oakland County Health Department this spring. It is offered at the South Oakland Center, 27725 Greenfield, Southfield.

It is free to county residents. However the county does not offer as wide a range of testing as does the Check-Up center.

THOROUGH TEST

Primarily, the service will be offered to individuals who wish to follow the advice of medical authorities and have a thorough yearly examination, Dr. Kevorkian explained.

His facilities can accommodate 70 to 80 persons per day and are available for group-type programs of area firms. Ultimately Dr. Kevorkian sees the service as fitting in with the existing pattern of medical practice. That is, doctors and hospitals will send patients to the center for examination and use the computerized report in subsequent diagnoses and treatment.

* * *

Though few such private clinics are in existence in the U.S., Dr. Kevorkian thinks this service will become increasingly important as case loads grow and the demand for medical services increases.

According to other medical authorities contacted concerning the Check-Up operation, such a facility is not in accord with traditional practices. They feel the use of computers would tend to break down the personal doctor-patient relationship considered important in medical treatment.

IT'S INEVITABLE

In general the computerized health testing center is conceded to be an inevitable development.

Dr. Kevorkian insists his procedure will allow the general practitioners to do a better job. He points out that few of them have the range of testing equipment he does at his center.

* * *

He also points out that all test reports are turned over to a private physician and no treatment is initiated by the Check-Up staff. He sees the computerized test report as a tool which will, in the long run, mean better health care.

Check-Up is in a large new building on the I-696 marginal road, near the Southfield interchange, reached via the 10 Mile-Evergreen exit ramp.

ASSOCIATES

Associated with Dr. Kevorkian are Dr. Michael C. Kozonis of Pontiac, president of the Michigan Heart Association; Dr. Alfred Touma of Huntington Woods, ophthalmologist; and Dr. William F. Wangner of Royal Oak, radiologist.

When sticky, sweltering summer days are at hand, try a refreshing soap and washcloth on the rocks, morning and afternoon! Start with a two minute facial with dense soapsuds and fingertip massage. Apply lather also to the back of the neck, underarms, and inner elbows and knees.

Use of an antibacterial soap will inhibit odor-causing bacteria and build up an invisible deodorant shield. Then add the rocks! Wrap some ice cubes in a washcloth and gently rub it over face, neck, elbows, knees and wrists. A cool feeling is the reward.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

You can turn your housework into figure-molding exercises if you wish to. This is a great idea for those women who are pushed for time. It's a great idea, anyway.

Actually, good posture is an excellent exercise in itself. Try to remember to hold yourself correctly when walking about the house doing your chores. Keep your spine straight and your tummy pulled in.

* * *

When you reach up on a shelf for something, rise high on your toes and stretch upward, feeling the pull all through your waistline. When you make the beds, keep your back straight, pull your abdomen in, bend at the waist and reach across the bed. Don't slump over it!

* * *

When you are going to get something off of the floor or a low shelf, go down into a deep knee bend, keeping your trunk erect.

* * *

When you are going up and down stairs keep your back erect and let your thigh and hip and leg muscles do their work efficiently.

When you sweep, pull your tummy in, keep your back straight and make long, smooth strokes with the broom.

* * *

Economy Order Threatens Postal Services

From Our Wire Services

WASHINGTON — Of postmen, it is said, "Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds."

But what the elements cannot stop, Congress can. And has, according to Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson.

Watson went to Capitol Hill yesterday to reemphasize that unless Congress comes up with more money, his department will have to drastically cut back services.

He told the House Ways and Means Committee that the Post Office will begin cutting back service, under a congressional economy order. Mentioned were Saturday home deliveries and window service.

However, a Post Office Department spokesman said yesterday that service on Saturdays will continue for the time being. "We have not made any announcement and no instructions have been given to curtail service."

Watson has ordered an immediate freeze on employment despite increasing mail loads.

Unless relief is coming, he said he would have to impose a ban on extension of delivery service to new communities, even though they might be adjacent to routes already served, and a delay in handling of second-, third- and fourth-class mail to facilitate first-class movement.

Watson testified for the second day before the committee which is considering legislation to exempt the Post Office from a governmentwide employment cutback ordered by Congress, along with a spending reduction, as its price for approving President Johnson's 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

"I realize this committee requires some time for consideration of the department's problem," Watson said. "However, the law is already in effect, and my problem started July 1 (the start of the current fiscal year). I must take these actions now — immediately — unless I get some indication that Congress intends to give us relief."

After Watson's testimony in closed session, some committee members said it appeared the committee would have to act to exempt the Post Office from the employment curb before the end of the current congressional session.

Griffin Raises New Issue on Judge Choices

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The leading opponent of President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations say the two appointees may have been part of "a flagrant disregard of the constitutional doctrine of separation of powers."

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., made the remark Thursday on the Senate floor in a preview of his testimony today before the Senate Judiciary Committee as it continued hearings into the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice and Homer Thornberry as associate justice.

* * *

The judiciary committee opened hearings into the nominations Thursday, but put off questioning of Fortas until next week.

POINTS OF ROLE

Griffin said he wanted to know how big a role Abe Fortas, nominated to succeed Earl Warren as chief justice, played in White House decisions while serving on the court since 1965. Fortas is a long-time Johnson friend and adviser.

And, Griffin said, he also wants to know why Thornberry, another old friend of the President, served an extra five months in Congress in 1963 after being named a federal judge in Texas.

* * *

Griffin cited "reports that the arrangement was designed to insure Mr. Thornberry's vote on legislative issues during the interim."

SHOULD FIND OUT

Griffin said the committee should find out "how many times Mr. Fortas has been consulted, or the extent to which he has been involved, if at all, in actions and decisions of the White House while he has been a member of the court."

"If the doctrine of separate powers is important," Griffin said, "what justification could be offered in the event a member of the judicial branch should actively participate on a regular, undisclosed basis in decisions of the executive branch while serving on the bench?"

* * *

Shortly after the committee opened its hearing it agreed to a request by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., that direct questioning of Fortas be delayed until next Tuesday.

The senator, a former justice of the North Carolina Supreme Court, said he wanted to do more research before quizzing Fortas about his "judicial philosophy."

STILL ON BENCH

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, the day's only witness, tried to quiet doubts about the legality of the way Warren conditioned his retirement on the qualification of a successor by the Senate.

He said scores of federal judges have been nominated, as Johnson nominated Fortas, while their predecessors were still on the bench.

* * *

Ervin insisted, though, that Johnson was without legal authority to nominate Fortas and the Senate to confirm him until Warren makes his retirement "irrevocable."

Company officials, who announced the mishap yesterday, identified the men as Robert N. Clayton, 39, of 1508 Cole and Lenord Williams, 44, of 715 Chapin, both of Birmingham.

* * *

The two were injured while preparing a Navy meterological ocean buoy for trailer transport to the Keweenaw peninsula in northern Michigan.

Shelby Twp. Tot Is Critical After Mishap

According to Shelby Township police, Thomas John Sabata, 18 months, of 5151 Estella, was discovered by his mother around 3:30 p.m. floating with his head down in a next door neighbor's eight-foot-wide, 16-inch deep children's swimming pool.

* * *

Police rushed him to Crittenton Hospital, Avon Township, where he was transferred to the pediatrics intensive care unit of Pontiac's St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Police were told the child had been playing in his back yard while his mother, Mrs. Clarence Sabata, watched from her kitchen. Mrs. Sabata had turned away for a minute, and when she looked again she saw her son in the pool, police said.

2 Arraigned in Flint Holdup

3rd City Man Shot in Chase After Robbery

Two of the three Pontiac men accused in the $15,000 robbery of a Flint jewelry store stood mute yesterday at their arraignment before Flint Municipal Judge Basil Baker.

The third suspect, identified by police as Oscar Rowls of 197 Crystal Lake will be arraigned on his release from a Flint hospital, where he is recovering from a gunshot wound received during his capture.

* * *

Police said Fred Dowell, 24, of 189 E. Wilson and Kenneth Ray Marshall, 29, of 412 Central stood mute during arraignment on a charge of armed robbery.

Their examination was set for next Friday.

* * *

Dowell and Marshall were found in a haystack in a field east of Flint several hours after three men walked into the Irvin Hirsch jewelry store, pulled guns and demanded money and jewelry.

Rowls is reported in satisfactory condition with a wound received after a high-speed police chase through Flint by car and on foot.

Miniboard? It's Like Wow

Surfers call the seven-to-eight-foot surfboards a third-stage development in the sea sport which took its great leap forward in the 1950s with the foam-fiberglass replacements for the wood boards. The new ones are three to four feet shorter than the old boards.

Family's Sole Survivor Awaits Homecoming

WHEATRIDGE, Colo. (AP) — Six-year-old Rae Anne Wood, her legs plastered in casts to mend broken bones and crushed ankles, smiled as she looked at the money she received from an unknown admirer.

"What would you like to buy?" asked her aunt, Miss Milchaeline Sheridan of Sacramento, Calif.

* * *

"Some presents for my brothers for when I go home," Rae Anne said as she clutched the coins.

But her brothers — Jamie, Stephen, and Gered — are dead. So are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wood. They died when their single-engine airplane crashed into the side of a Colorado mountain, just west of Denver late in June. Rae Anne was the only survivor.

'THINKING OF THEM'

"I haven't told her in so many words that her family is dead," Miss Sheridan said. "She wanted those presents for her brothers—just little things. But she was thinking of them."

The girl may never know how her father fought to keep the overloaded, four-passenger craft airborne by flying through valleys rather than over the mountains.

* * *

Rae Anne knows the doctors plan to take the casts off her legs today. She also knows she might be on her way home within a week.

"I've told her that her parents and brothers won't be there. That she won't be able to see them anymore," Miss Sheridan said.

Romney Acts to End I-696 Controversy

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney today put into motion machinery to settle the long-standing controversy over the route of I-696 in Oakland County by submitting it to binding arbitration.

Romney ordered six Oakland County communities to select a three-man arbitration board to make a final determination of the route and bring an end to 4½ years of bickering that has delayed completion of the 26-mile freeway for nearly 10 years.

Romney ordered binding arbitration when two of the communites — Lathrup Village and Huntington Woods — failed by a Thursday deadline to approve the route recommended by the State Highway Commission or agree voluntarily to arbitration.

The governing bodies of Southfield, Oak Park and Pleasant Ridge approved the proposed route while Royal Oak agreed to arbitration. Macomb County municipalities also have agreed to the route.

PROCEEDINGS ON

The State Highway Commission started the binding arbitration proceedings June 12 by giving the communities in Oakland County 30 days to approve the route recommended by the Highway Commission or agree to arbitration.

Spock Appeal Faces Delay Until March

BOSTON (AP) — The appeal of the antidraft conspiracy convictions of Dr. Benjamin Spock and three others cannot be heard until January and may be delayed until March, says the clerk of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Roger Stinchfield said Thursday it will take a minimum of 157 days for the filings provided for in the appeals machinery.

* * *

If delays are granted, he said, the appeal probably would not be heard until March because the three judges expected to consider the case must be in Puerto Rico in February.

The four were convicted in U.S. District Court June 14 of conspiring to counsel, aid and abet young men to avoid the draft. They were sentenced to two years in prison and fined.

ALSO CONVICTED

Spock, Coffin and Goodman each were fined $5,000. Ferber was fined $1,000.

* * *

60 Fowls Gained With Loss of One

GRANITE FALLS, Minn. (UPI) — The illegal shooting of one rooster pheasant by three boys in Yellow Medicine County will result in the area having 60 more pheasants.

When a state conservation officer brought the three lads before Judge Frederick Osatensoe, he ordered each boy to buy 20 pheasants from a game farm and raise them until they are old enough to be released. They then must be released in the area where they killed the bird.

Nonfarm Employment Shows a Rise in State

DETROIT (UPI) — Nonfarm employment in Michigan increased by about 22,000 jobs in the 30 days ending June 15, the Michigan Employment Security Commission said today.

"All the gains were made in private nonmaufacturing, which increased by 19,500, and self-employment, where an increase of 1,700 was recorded," said Malcolm R. Lovell Jr., director of the commission.

He said unemployment for the period was 190,000, up 45,000 from the previous 30-day period. He said the increase reflected the influx of high school graduates into the labor market.

Toe Replaces Girl's Severed Index Finger

This week, she leaves Methodist Hospital with one of medical science's best repair jobs yet — replacing the finger with a toe.

* * *

Cynthia's thumb was rebuilt by attaching the detached portion but the index finger was not repairable.

* * *

On May 28, Cynthia entered the hospital for the complicated process of attaching a toe as a finger.

CUT PART OF TOE

* * *

* * *

For six weeks, Cynthia had her hand in a cast attached to her toe. When the blood supply was established, the rest of the toe was severed and stitched on to the hand. Tuesday, the cast was removed and the finger bandaged.

The surgeon said nerves will grow down into the finger to reestablish sensation in it. He has replaced 12 missing thumbs and four index fingers with toes and says the replacements work well.

He said toes are not used for replacements for the other three fingers.

Success to Barbra Streisand Is Like Bittersweet Lollipop

By HAL BOYLE

It has brought fame, fortune and acclaim to Barbra Streisand in every major branch of show business. But Brooklyn's onetime homely duckling is annoyed by reports that she is imperious, temperamental and sometimes difficult to work with.

BOYLE

"It annoys me to be judged by people who don't even know me," she remarked during a midday break in location shooting here of scenes from her forth coming $20-million costume film, "Hello Dolly!"

"They go by hearsay. It confuses me."

But she is disturbed at the thought the public may get a distorted idea of the kind of person she is.

A MONSTER

"I'm afraid they may think I'm some kind of monster," she said, cutting off a small piece of steak to feed her 10-month-old son, Jason Emanuel.

"I don't want people to think I am a terrible human being. I'm not. If I were, it would show through on the screen. You can't really fool anybody on the screen.

* * *

"But when you are a star, you are an open target — and the bigger the star the bigger the target.

"You can't win. If you're bitchy and pompous, they don't like you. If you're normal and unassuming, they say you're uninteresting.

HOTSY-TOTSY

"If you ride in a chauffeur-driven limousine, they think you're acting hotsy-totsy—showing off. But if you drive the limousine yourself, they don't like that, either. So" — she laughed and made a grimace — "maybe you'd better just walk to work."

* * *

Analyzing her own personality, Barbra said:

"You have to be yourself, no matter what. I have always wanted to excel in anything I tried — to be the very best.

"I feel that self-doubt is both my biggest virtue and my worst fault.

SELF DOUBT

"Self-doubt is a virtue because it never lets me assume anything. I feel it's better to be open and vulnerable to hurt in doing one's work.

"But self-doubt can be a fault also. In everyday life, people can take advantage of it — and wound you."

* * *

"I'm afraid of myself on a personal basis," she replied. "But not about my career or work. That's where I have courage."

KEYS TO CHARACTER

"Gardenias — Victorian furniture — small, flutty white dogs — sea smells and country sounds — Oriental philosophy and Chinese food — being in the middle of reading 10 books at a time — soft drinks — all kinds of hats — art nouveau — antiques — Indian music, because it has the sound of the soul — early morning — big, soft, floppy beds — working hard and being sometimes lazy, too — muted, subtle colors — people who really care about what they do — and tall, dark, handsome men who have a sense of themselves and feel their own worth."

* * *

Barbra has a shorter list of dislikes: "Eggs — hospitals — bright red colors — liquor — the smell of ammonia — vulgarity — flat notes — and people who assume too much familiarity too quickly."

Summing herself up, Barbra smiled and said:

"I'm really a conglomerate of contradictions. But how can you appreciate the summer if you never have the winter?"

On the market is a 19-pound wireless, fully portable telephone. It costs somewhat over $2,000 and requires a license from the Federal Communications Commission.

The Gourmet Adventures of Jayson's

Traditional Japanese cuisine places equal emphasis on both the taste and appearance of each dish. A good example of this is oriental beef-stew, adapted to American tastes and utilizing ordinary supermarket ingredients. This exotic dish is usually made with such expensive cuts as sirloin or tenderloin, but if you use a meat tenderizer, it makes it possible to use less expensive cuts of meat, always welcome to the budget. Then, too, it will reduce the stew's cooking time and the vegetables will stay crisp — the way they are served in the finest oriental restaurants.

We also put special emphasis on both the taste and the appearance of each dish we serve. Dine in our pleasant, comfortable and intimate atmosphere. Enjoy courteous friendly service. Bricklayer Units OK New Pact

DETROIT (UPI) — The Associated General Contractors of Detroit today announced a contract agreement with four bricklayers unions in the metropolitan area in another break-through in the construction strike that began May 31.

Stanley E. Veighey, manager of labor relations for the contractors association, said the new pact covers more than 8,000 workers in the three-county area. He said it was not subject to ratification and would go into effect immediately.

* * *

The AGC previously has reached agreements with the laborers, cement finishers and operating engineers but some of those contracts have not yet been ratified.

The AGC is still negotiating with the carpenters union, which has reached agreements with other contractors groups in the area.

* * *

In Saginaw, the Saginaw Valley Carpenters District Council and the AGC announced a tchtative agreement had been reached. The pact will be voted on by Locals 1373 of Flint, 334 of Saginaw, 116 of Bay City and 1654 of Midland on Monday.

Man Given Probation in Killing of Teen

A Waterford Township man was placed on three years probation yesterday when he appeared for sentencing In Oakland County Circuit Court in the killing of a teen-age boy more than a year ago.

Leo Placencia, 48, of 1030 Menominee had been charged with second-degree murder. Last month he was allowed to plead guilty to a lesser count of manslaughter in the shooting of John Turton, 18, of 844 Fairfax, Bloomfield Township.

Turton was shot June 24 and died from a stomach wound June 28 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

He was wounded as he raised the hood of his mother's car, parked outside of Placencia's home where she was visiting, according to police.

'Communication Units on Wrists by Year 2000'

ELGIN, Ill. (AP) — In the year 2000, people will be wearing wrist-watches that are "total communications centers," containing devices not only for accurate timing but also for voice and vision.

They'll even contain recorders and simple miniature computers, said Harry B. Aronson, president of the Waltham Watch Co., in Elgin to dedicate the firm's new facility.

He said increasing skills in miniaturizing devices will increase Elgin's importance as one of the major watch producing centers of the world.

Judges Bar Selves in Marijuana Case

Birmingham's two municipal judges have disqualified themselves from a marijuana case involving a grandson of the late Charles E. Wilson, former U.S. Secretary of Defense and president of General Motors Corp.

In removing themselves from the case, the judges, brothers John and Edward Emery, forced the postponement of the court examinations of Edward E. Wilson, 22, of 711 Maple Hill Lane, Birmingham, and Timothy S. Lodish, 22, of Detroit.

* * *

The judges said they were unable to conduct the court hearing, originally scheduled for yesterday, because they know the family.

TWO MEN ARRESTED

Birmingham Police Detective Richard Chambers said that the two men were arrested at Wilson's home after police had been summoned to help revive a girl.

The girl, who was not identified by police, has not been charged.

* * *

Chambers said the girl had suffered an overdose of narcotics and had to be revived by Birmingham firemen with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and closed-heart massage. She was later treated at a hospital and released.

Over eight grams of marijuana were seized by police. Chambers described it as a small amount.

PERSONAL BOND

Wilson and Lodish have been released on $1,000 personal bond each pending their examination, which will have to be rescheduled for another court by the prosecutor's office.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly in active trading early today.

Electronics, airlines and oils were generally higher, with most changes fractional. On the downside were mail order-retails, nonferrous metals and rails.

Analysts saw Thursday's late decline as having an after-effect early today. There were technical reasons for expecting a pause in the advance, which had carried through five sessions.

Among the reasons was the approach of the weekend. Also were the mixed earnings of larger corporations.

* * *

The general economic background, however, was regarded as more encouraging than not. Opening blocks included:

* * *

Schenley, off ⅜ at 47½ on 22,700 shares; Chadbourn-Gotham, up ¼ at 15 on 20,000; American Telephone, unchanged, at 51⅜ on 11,400; Ford, off ⅞ at 54½ on 15,900; and California Financial, unchanged at 10⅛ on 14,000.

Auto Firms Plan for Changeover

Four Lines Complete Production for 1968

DETROIT (AP) — The U.S. auto industry, buoyed by strong new car sales reports for the first half of 1968, was busy today with plans to switch over to 1969 model production with a minimum of fuss.

Four auto lines — Toronado, Riviera, Chrysler and Imperial —already have finished their 1968 model production and a dozen more plants are slated to go down this weekend.

* * *

All four domestic manufacturers—General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors —reported their half year sales ran ahead of the 1967 pace. For the domestic industry as a whole, sales of over 4.3 million cars were up 9.1 per cent over a year ago.

Imports also hit the sales jackpot in the past six months as the foreign auto makers sold an estimated 396,000 cars, compared with 305,000 a year ago.

ROCHE PREDICTION

The strength of the sales market for domestic cars and imports led General Motors' No. 1 man, board chairman James M. Roche, Wednesday to reaffirm his prediction of last December that new sales this year would exceed nine million units.

"I expect that the automobile market will continue to show substantial strength for the balance of the year," Roche told a news conference.

* * *

	1968	1967
GM	2,230,124	2,083,174
Ford	1,172,836	1,099,782
Chrysler	800,414	705,353
AMC	138,212	118,421

In the past three years first-half sales have accounted for between 52 and 53 per cent of the calendar-year total. If this year's first-half sales by the four domestic producers account for 52 per cent of their yearly take, they will put 8.5 million new cars on the road.

While this total and a good showing by imports would put auto sales over the nine million mark for the third time in history, at least one analyst thinks automakers could be doing better.

Dance Floor Is City Hall

CLAY CENTER, Kan. (AP) — They are moving the pool tables, pinball machines, ping pong tables and vending machines out of City Hall, but the dancing will continue.

City Hall, in addition to serving as the center for conducting the business of this town of nearly 5,000 in northeastern Kansas, also has been the home of the youth center.

The youth center has acquired a lease on another building which is undergoing a cleanup, paint-up, fix-up. It will serve for general recreation activities, but City Hall will remain host for the young peoples' dances.

Many Must Go Jobless

Teens Clog Economy

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — One of the main problems of the American economy is that is to contend with too many teenagers. This is not meant to convey the idea that we should do away with them. It is meant merely as a fact.

CUNNIFF

The fact is that the American economy as it is structured today cannot provide the jobs needed by poor teen-agers to earn "get-ahead" money, help their parents, learn a skill, keep out of trouble. In that sense there are too many of them.

The effects of this situation are bound to be damaging to everyone involved: to teen-agers themselves, to those who would like to see the welfare rolls cut, to society, to the companies that in the future will be denied skilled workers, to peace and prosperity.

The most recent government figures tell a sad story. In June 1.3 million jobs were added to the economy. However, 2.9 million potential workers entered the labor force, leaving 1.3 million more jobless than a month earlier.

MOST TEENS

Of this 1.3 million, fully one million were teen-agers, and most of these were Negroes from the very poorest level of the economy, where money is most needed and training in job skills affords the only real hope of breaking the poverty cycle.

The situation, incendiary as a pile of discarded rags, already is smoldering, but there is no easy or quick way of heading off an explosion. The problem is too complex, too long overlooked.

Among its causes:

* * *

● Discrimination. Often it would be difficult to prove in a legal sense, but discrimination is quite obvious to anyone with an appreciation of morality.

● The exodus of unskilled workers from farm to city, where the premium is on brain rather than brawn. Coinciding with this population shift has been another movement . . .

* * *

● The movement of business from the core city to the suburbs, or away from the unskilled population.

● The swift growth rate of the Negro teen-age population. About one-half the Negro population is under 21 years of age.

● Poor education. Or education that, no matter how fine in theory, has failed to prepare young men and women to find and hold the available jobs.

● The elimination of unskilled jobs because of automation.

● Social maladjustments. Habits that clash with the business world's needs. They might range from an inability to appreciate punctuality to dope addiction. In some instances the failure is simply a lack of goals, for a poverty society often is a goalless society.

● The increase in the minimum wage laws to $1.60 an hour, which has made some small-business men — who, incidentally, often offer the opportunity for the new worker to acquire a skill—reluctant to hire help.

● The apparent failure of federal and local assistance programs.

OTHER CAUSES

There are many other causes, also, but however varied the reasons, the result is economic and social damage.

* * *

The irony of it all is that with just a little more direction and training, many of these job seekers could find not just any kind of work, but semiskilled jobs at that, for a shortage exists in that category.

Split With AFL-CIO Formalized by UAW

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union has formally disaffiliated from the AFL-CIO, a UAW vice president says, to "avoid further confusion."

* * *

The auto workers, headed by Walter Reuther, were suspended from the labor federation May 15 for failure to pay dues. If Reuther's union had resumed paying annual dues of $1 million, its membership would have been automatic.

UAW leaders reportedly are working with officers of the Teamsters union to form an alliance. The Teamsters executive board begins three days of meetings Tuesday at La Costa, near San Diego.

* * *

Some Surprises

Jagged 6 Months for Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—The sawtooth stock market of 1968's first half brought some surprising winners and losers.

Sunasco Inc. rose 284 per cent, taking the honors in a survey of 1,202 New York Stock Exchange common stocks by Hornblower & Weeks-Hemphill, Noyes.

* * *

Sunasco rose 15⅞ to close the half-year at 24½, drawing little attention to itself at that modest price—but the percentage gain was the best.

The company deals in mortgage and home-improvement loans and also is a real estate developer and gas and oil producer.

SECOND BIGGEST

In the losing column, according to the Hornblower firm, "Automatic" Sprinkler, a diversified manufacturer, was the biggest percentage loser dropping 57 per cent or 41¾ points to close the half-year at 31.

* * *

It was a churning, up-and-down market in the first half. At the end of 1967 the Dow Jones Industrial Average was 905.11. It was down to 897.80 by the end of the half, losing 8.31.

* * *

Dividend Listed for Consumers

JACKSON (UPI) — The owners of 22,638,070 shares of Consumers Power Co. common stock will receive a quarterly dividend of 47½ cents per share on Aug. 20.

The quarterly dividend, declared Thursday by the company's board of directors, will go to stockholders a record July 22.

Dividend at Ford

DETROIT (AP) — Directors of Ford Motor Co. yesterday declared a regular third-quarter dividend of 60 cents a share, payable Sept. 3 to stockholders of record July 31.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — We were left $3,000 plus 100 Jersey Standard and 50 Bethlehem Steel. We already owned 25 each of Am. Telephone, Atlas Corp. and Scantlin Electronics. At age 46, I want growth stocks. Please advise. — J.S.

A — You're quite right about your investment objective and you should therefore retain Am. Telephone and 50 Jersey Standard. They will be solid backlogs for the portfolio you have in mind. They may never be spectacular swingers but each possesses growth potential.

I'd switch Bethlehem Steel to Am. Hospital Supply as the steels are facing industry problems. Sell Atlas Corp., which lacks established growth and is too speculative for your goal. Add the proceeds to your cash fund.

Scantlin Electronics is worth holding as a long-term speculation broadly identified with growth in communications. Revenues have advanced steadily for a decade, and share earnings, now out of the red, are likewise pushing ahead as this company gradually opens up new channels for distributing business and financial data.

Your cash legacy should be used to diversify your holdings. For the same reason I advise selling half your Jersey Standard. Then you could buy equal-dollar amounts of Skil Corp., specializing in portable power tools; Jewel Cos., an aggressive retail operator in food, drugs and general merchandise; Ionics, prominent in desalination.

* * *

Q — To meet college expenses for two sons, I bought 140 Curtiss-Wright common between 16 and 19. I know it's speculative but I'm watching it closely. Shall I hold or switch? — J.P.

A — If your close following of Curtiss-Wright can be maintained — perhaps even beyond watching for news releases — I recommend holding. Rising sales and earnings generated by increasing demand for its products should bring another boost in 1968 share net. Favorable also are management's recent moves to use some of C-W's large cash reserves to acquire shares of other corporations that might lead to mergers and more broadly diversified operations. Future progress is closely related to an aggressive acquisition program.
