President Arrives in Bermuda Today

Churchill, Laniel, Crowd of 1,000 Welcome Him

Big Three to Confer Over Allied Unity and Peace for the World

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (AP) — President Eisenhower arrived in Bermuda today for the start of a history-making Big Three conference with Prime Minister Churchill and French Premier Laniel.

The Presidential plane Columbine landed at American-leased Kindley Field at 11:12 a. m. (EST) Waiting to greet Eisenhower as he stepped from the plane were Churchill and Laniel, together with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault.

A crowd of about 1,000 was on hand to welcome Eisenhower. Also present was a colorful honor guard made up of Royal Welsh Fusiliers, Bermuda militia and U.S. airmen.

Churchill and Laniel, already in Bermuda, reached the airport about five minutes before the Columbine landed.

The British Prime Minister wore a light gray suit with a white handkerchief protruding from his pocket. He had on the same gray homburg he wore on his arrival here from England Wednesday.

Eisenhower stepped off the plane promptly at 11:15 a.m. and was greeted by Bermuda Gov. Sir Alexander Hood and Mrs. Hood, followed by the commanders of the military units drawn up to receive him.

The President then walked a few steps and was met by Churchill, who gave him a hearty handshake. The crowd of Bermudians and Big Three conference officials cheered.

Like Churchill, Eisenhower wore a soft gray suit and gray hat.

In the Presidential party were Secretary of State Dulles and Lewis Strauss, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission. Strauss was added to the party at the last minute this morning.

The flight from Washington took 3 hours 10 minutes.

The colorful reception ceremonies contrasted sharply with the somber questions facing the conference.

Churchill earlier had been believed eager to press his pet scheme for a quick meeting with Russian Premier Georgi Malenkov. By today, however, it seemed obvious that the American desire to give priority to pressuring the

Forgotten GI Remembered— Gets Promotion

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Raymond L. Cote, a U.S. infantryman who was forgotten on guard duty but stuck to his post for a week, was promoted today to private first class.

Cote, of Saco, Maine, was assigned to guard pontoons near a small Hessian village during a U.S. Army exercise last October. Through a mistake, he was not relieved and stayed on guard for seven days until members of his unit came for him. German villagers fed him sandwiches but he rejected suggestions that he leave his post because the maneuver was over.

Kim Sigler Being Buried Today

U. S. Air Force Officers Pallbearers for State's Former Governor

LANSING (AP) — Amid the old stone buildings where he rose to fame, Kim Sigler was carried today to his last rest and anonymity.

Across one corner was the grey old capitol where Sigler was governor in 1947 and 1948.

On the other corner was the grimy Lansing city hall where Sigler stalked evil-doers in government as special prosecutor of a graft grand jury which sent him on his way to the political heights.

The former governor, casualty of a plane crash Monday evening, was memorialized in a brief, simple service in Central Methodist Church here as the great and small of state government watched.

Many were there who knew Sigler at his peak, from Gov. Williams to his doorman of the Hotel Olds, where Sigler made his Lansing home.

The altar was decorated with massed mums and roses. A state police guard stood at either end of the closed bronze casket.

Sigler's daughters, Mrs. Richard Gossett of Tulsa, Okla.; Mrs. Byron Slattery of Carmel, Cal., sat facing the bier. The widow, Mrs. Mae Sigler, attended in a separate chapel. An invalid for years, she was in a wheel chair.

Eight Air Force officers — flying friends of Sigler — bore the casket from the church.

Midwest Snow, Fall's Biggest, Turns to Drizzle

7 Towns in Louisiana Clean Up Rubble Left by Tornado

By UNITED PRESS

The season's biggest snowstorm subsided to freezing drizzle today as seven Louisiana towns cleaned up rubble left by a late autumn tornado.

The midwestern snowstorm, which dumped up to a foot of new snow on the prairies, blocked roads and snapped communications in wide areas, abated last night and early today.

Winds, which had reached velocities of up to 50 miles per hour, dropped but some drifting was still reported.

Nine persons were killed in the southern tornado, seven of them at Leander, La., and two at Tullos. Of Leander's 10 homes and two stores, only two homes were worth repairing.

The twister also hit Lecamp, Kingsville, Hineston, Dry Prong and Paradise.

The midwestern storm reached blizzard conditions in scattered areas, but, in general, it was not intense enough to be classified as such.

Snow fell in South Dakota, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa and Wisconsin.

In central Nebraska, which was blitzed by 8 to 10 inches of snow, roads were closed and telephone lines were down.

Twelve inches fell in sections of South Dakota, nine inches at Norton, Kan., and up to six inches in southwestern Minnesota. Superior, Wis., had seven inches.

Early today the storm front released rain from western Missouri north and northeastward through Iowa, Minnesota, Winconsin and lower Michigan.

55-Mile Winds Buffet Pontiac

Rainstorms Dump Over Two-Tenths of Inch of Rain on City

Rainstorms whipped by winds reaching a velocity of 55 miles an hour swept into the Pontiac area today in the vanguard of a fast-moving cold front.

Two cloudbursts dumped over two-tenths of an inch of rain on the area within three hours.

The first struck about mid-morning with the highest winds. The second sent the mercury skidding from 57 to 49 degrees in 15 minutes when rain and hail pounded the city at noon.

The mercury rose to 58 dergrees at 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac.

Cloudy, gusty and cool weather is forecast by the U. S. Weather Bureau for tonight and tomorrow.

The thermometer is expected to drop to a low of 34 to 38 tonight and rise to a high of 42 to 46 degrees Saturday. Continued cool weather is due Sunday.

Today's temperature in downtown Pontiac was 53 degrees at 8 a.m. A temperature range from 38 to 54 degrees was recorded here Thursday.

Briefing for a Dash to Pontiac Saturday Morning

"GET READY"—Santa Claus is making the rounds of his North Pole reindeer runs today spreading the word of his trip to Pontiac Saturday morning. Listening is Prancer, one of Santa's eight-deer team. The arrival of Santa and four of his antlered steeds will climax tomorrow's Christmas Parade, scheduled to start at 9:30 a. m.

Four Reindeer to Bring Santa

Saturday Parade Starts 9:30 A. M., Will Move North on Saginaw

Santa Claus will ride into Pontiac Saturday behind four of his reindeer — real, prancing North Pole reindeer.

Santa's arrival will climax Pontiac's Christmas parade, scheduled to start at 9:30 a.m.

Sponsored by Pontiac Retail Merchants Association, a division of Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, the lineup of floats, bands, giant balloons and marching units promises a colorful Christmas show for spectators along Saginaw street.

The parade will form on South Saginaw street near Osmun street, moving north on Saginaw to Oakland Avenue and down Oakland to Sanderson street.

The floats will then parade through Pontiac State Hospital grounds so that patients and staff may watch.

Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley today warned motorists to use great care while driving in the downtown area Saturday morning. A heavy volume of traffic will be rerouted he said, because of the parade.

A five-hour parking ban from 7 a.m. until noon will keep curbs clear of cars along the parade route.

The temporary "no parking" order will be for Elm street from Paddock to Saginaw; Saginaw from Elm to Oakland avenue; Oaklnad from Saginaw to Baldwin avenue; Sanderson from Oakland to Cass avenue; and Cass from Sanderson to Florence.

After the hour-long parade, Santa and his four reindeer will stop beside Oakland County Health Department at Wayne and West Huron streets.

Youngsters will be invited to step up and meet Santa and his reindeer.

Santa said he hasn't yet decided whether to bring Dasher, Dancer, Prancer and Vixen or Comet, Cupid, Donder and Blitzen along on the Pontiac junket.

That, he said, will be settled tonight.

McCarthy Gets Crate of Northern Spies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) yesterday received a gift of a crate of Canadian apples — of the Northern Spy variety — with a note attached which read:

"Here's something you and your committee can get your teeth into. The woods up here are full of them." It was signed "news staff of the Toronto Globe and Mail."

McCarthy posed for photographers as the box was opened and said he was grateful for the newsmen's gift.

'Jenny' Is Coy in Surprise; Baby Is Only 50 Lb. Hippo

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

A two-ton hippopotamus too shy to show off her child. That's "Jenny," the five-year-old hippo at Detroit Zoological Park, who became a mother Nov. 27.

"Jenny" kept her youngster hidden in rocks at the back of her pen yesterday, refusing to display her pride-and-joy to several photographers and newsmen.

Her aloofness was puzzling. Perhaps she felt some shame because her offspring weighs a measly 50 pounds, while the average newborn hippo is between 80 and 90.

Then again, perhaps she was secretly smiling because she pulled a fast one on zoo officials.

"Jenny arrived here Sept. 12 from Nairobi, Kenya Colony, Africa, without the slightest hint that she was pregnant," said Frank G. McInnis, zoo director. "We were completely surprised when we found the baby."

Jenny's flashbulb shyness, though, might be attributed to her indignation over her keepers' failure to identify her child as male or female. Once its sex is established, the newcomer will be named Henry, or Henrietta, after the agent who sold Jenny to the zoo.

"It's the least we can do for him after he gave us two for the price of one," said McInnis. Jenny cost $4,200.

Despite Jenny's retiring manner, the gathered newsmen did obtain pictures snapped previously by a zoo official. And Jenny

Probers Weigh Spy Evidence

May Question Truman Cabinet About Actions on FBI Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators left the way open today for inviting some Truman administration Cabinet members to explain what they did about FBI reports on spy suspects in government.

But first the Senate internal security subcommittee went ahead with efforts to accumulate more evidence about the dates these FBI reports were compiled and distributed among top officials of the Truman administration.

* * *

Robert Morris, subcommittee counsel, told newsmen the Justice Department has been asked to supply such information about five former federal employes — Alger Hiss, Irving Kaplan, Harry Magdoff, Edward J. Fitzgerald and Maurice Halperin.

They are among nine former employes whose cases are receiving special scrutiny. Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) said there is evidence the nine kept their jobs and in some instances were promoted despite derogatory security information.

The four others are Harry Dexter White and three subordinates when he was assistant secretary of the Treasury: Harold Glasser, Victor Perlo and V. Frank Coe.

Jenner, meanwhile, was making plans for—or had already arranged—a secret interview with Igor Gouzenko, the onetime code clerk at the Russian embassy in Ottawa who exposed a Soviet spy ring in Canada in 1945.

Jenner's group has agreed to Canada's stipulation that Canada decide what part, if any, of the interview can be made public.

McCarthy Talk Gets 900 Wires

Sent to Ike After Appeal to Stop Aid to Nations Trading With Red China

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said today approximately 900 telegrams had been received in response to the public appeal from Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) that citizens let President Eisenhower know how they feel about the senator's criticism of Allies who trade with Red China.

Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary, said the messages totaled for the first 24 hours since the senator's appeal, had not been broken down as to favorable and unfavorable.

He did say, however, that all of the messages were telegrams and all related to McCarthy's statement of yesterday urging those who agree with him to urge the stopping of aid to Western nations continuing to trade with Red China.

McCarthy yesterday disclaimed any intention to challenge Eisenhower's leadership of the Republican party but he reserved the right to criticize the administration "when I think it is making mistakes."

This was a reply to statements earlier in the week by the President and Secretary of State Dulles rejecting McCarthy's demands for drastic revision of some phases of administration foreign policy.

Charged With Falsely Denying Red Affiliation

Val Lorwin Accused of Lying at Loyalty Quiz Three Years Ago

WASHINGTON (AP)—Val R. Lorwin, a former State Department official, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges that he falsely denied Communist Party membership during a loyalty hearing in December 1950.

The indictment, returned under the false statements statute, accused Lorwin of falsely stating under oath at the loyalty hearing that:

1. He never was a Communist Party member.
2. He never carried a Communist Party card.
3. He never held a Communist Party meeting in his home.

Lorwin, 46, and no longer with the government, is a native of New York City. The Justice Department said it was unable to supply his present address.

Lorwin was onetime chief of the European section, division of international labor, social and health affairs in the State Department.

Lorwin was indicted under a statute which punishes the making of a false statement to a government representative. The offense is punishable by $10,000 fine or five years imprisonment.

The former State Department official is a graduate of Cornell University and Ohio State University, and once served as tutor in history at Brooklyn College.

He entered government service in 1935 as an economist with the old National Recovery Administration (NRA), and became a labor standards analyst in 1939.

Later, he was with the War Production Board. He entered the Army in 1943 and served as a lieutenant overseas. He was connected with the Office of Strategic Services in 1944-45 and transferred to the State Department Oct. 1, 1945.

The indictment charges that Lorwin made false statements to a State Department loyalty board. All government departments set up such boards for a general check on

NEW YORK (AP)—Television comedian Milton Berle, 46, and publicist Ruth Cosgrove, 32, took out a marriage license yesterday and plan to be married next Wednesday.

It will be the third matrimonial venture for both.

Starting to pay the $3 license fee, Berle produced $2 and turned to his fiancee.

"Ruth, give me a dollar," he said. "This is forever, so pay your share."

Miss Cosgrove just smiled. Berle ponied up the third dollar.

As the couple left, City Clerk Murray Stand called out: "See you again."

Berle turned and seriously replied: "Oh, no, this is the last time. I won't be here any more."

Birmingham City Manager Urges Strong Measures to Solve Sewage Problem

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—Expressing concern over possible growth in Bloomfield Township adjacent to Birmingham with attendant sewage disposal problems, Birmingham City Manager Donald C. Egbert yesterday said the problem must not be considered only in the light of the present developments near Maple and Cranbrook roads.

The city is seeking an injunction to halt further developments on the site, bordering the city charging improper drain arrangements will allow sewage to flow into the Birmingham sewers for treatment.

"The township must proceed to determine what they can do in the way of providing some answer to the pollution problem, and just what avenues are open to them in financing either a share of the proposed interceptor sewer up the Rouge River, or some other project," Egbert said.

Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, and Bloomfield and Southfield townships have been ordered to abate pollution of the Rouge River by the State Water Resources Commission, and the four have advanced the possibility of an interceptor sewer up the Rouge valley, which would funnel the sewage to Detroit for treatment.

"If there aren't measures to allow the township to raise the money needed, the necessary legislation should be in the State Legislature's hopper in January," Egbert added.

"As far as the people of the community are concerned, the problem is awakening and educating them to the facts of this problem, and perhaps shaking their feelings of security somewhat," the manager said.

Meanwhile, building at the southwest corner of Maple and Cranbrook continued to grow, with two homes finished, four being built, and excavations for three more being dug.

Three more building permits for the area were secured yesterday, raising the count to 16. Nine are for the Oak Park firm of Kopman and Hassin, four were issued to the Cranbrook Construction Co., of Detroit, and three to the Robert Building Co. of Detroit.

According to Bloomfield Township Supervisor David Anderson, all the building is on a subdivided 39 acre sections for the former Mercier farm, which stretches some 400 acres.

"Permits can only be issued for this platted area," Anderson said, explaining that building permits for the remainder of the land would have to wait until the Township Board and Zoning Board had approved any plat submitted, a lengthy procedure.

Announced plans of Kopman and Hassin are 100 homes in the area.

Anderson said the township is checking its legal right to accept money to be kept in escrow to help finance either an interceptor sewer plan, or necessary enlargement of Birmingham facilities.

Commenting on possible payment by developers of money to help solve the sewage disposal problem, Egbert said the real need is for assured revenue which can be pledged for bonds to finance the solution.

"Township residents must learn to meet the obligations of a growing community," he added.

Birmingham City Attorney Forbes Hascall said today he was working on the details of securing a temporary injunction against additional construction, which would probably be granted when the petition was filed.

City's Action on Plans for Northwest Section Awaits Study

BIRMINGHAM — The Residential Protective Association which voiced opposition to the proposed off-street parking plans of the Wabeek-Jacobson group for the northwest quadrant of the city will air their recommendations on the problem in the near future.

No definite date has been set for any meeting for this purpose, although the city commission previously considered Dec. 7 as a possibility.

The recommendations of the Wabeek-Jacobson group were turned over to the association five weeks ago by the city commission, which agreed not to take any positive action on the proposals until they studied the situation.

According to John A. Gilray Jr., 1691 Yosemite, a lawyer representing the Association, George Devlin, of National Garages of Detroit, has been called in to study the Wabeek-Jacobson plan and other possible solutions to the parking problem of the city.

The Residential Protective Association is composed largely of residents from the Bonnie Briar-Tooting Lane area across the Rouge River from the area proposed by the Wabeek-Jacobson sponsoring group, with additional members from other sections of the city and surrounding areas.

Gilray said Devlin is studying the feasibility of the plan proposed, whether a parking solution should be financed by private or public capital, and also other possible sites for parking lots or structures.

did allow a few fleeting glimpses of Henry, or Henrietta.

The zoo's two other hippos, Barney and Alice, were ready and willing to be photographed. They even blew water through their snouts and wiggled their ears. But when no pictures were forthcoming, they too became indignant and submerged.

Amid this hippopotamal indifference, the poor reporter was left with no choice but to retreat and ply McInnis with questions.

Henry, or Henrietta, was born in the water as all hippos are, McInnis explained. Jenny must also descend into the pool to nurse her offspring.

The male or female question mark won't be weaned for a year and will take about 10 years to grow to its adult weight of two tons.

Zoo officials are primarily concerned with keeping Henry, or Henrietta, alive. The only other hippo born at the zoo, Pepie II, died in December 1949 when six months old.

Average life span for a hippo is 35 years. Barney is about 5, while Alice is an old dowager of 35.

If the baby continues in good health it will be exhibited to the public in May when the zoo opens, said McInnis.

By then zoo keepers will have a name for the little one.

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—Engineer Charles Scharenwewer was taken to a hospital this morning after accidentally swallowing his toothbrush.

Three Ancient Coins Submitted for Auction

Three coins over 2,000 years old were submitted for auction at the Pontiac Coin Club meeting Tuesday night by John Clemons of Birmingham, who also spoke on ancient Grecian money.

Persons interested in coin collecting are invited to attend the meetings held on the first Tuesday and third Thursday of each month at the Knights of Malta Hall on Perkins street.

the loyalty of employes under an order from President Truman.

A State Department spokesman declined to say when asked by reporters what finding the department board had made as to Lorwin. Under Truman's order, there was a high degree of secrecy about such hearings.

The spokesman said Lorwin resigned from the department June 17, 1952, but that he could not say whether the resignation was voluntary or requested.

He said Lorwin was suspended Feb. 5, 1951 but was returned to his State Department duties in April of 1952, only to resign two months later.

Lorwin's employment by the State Department began Oct. 1, 1945 when the wartime Office of Strategic Services was absorbed by the department. He was listed as a "research analyst." Less than a year later, on Aug. 11, 1946, he was made chief of the division of international labor, social and health affairs.

Man Wounded by Knife in City Factory Fight

Frederick H. Berendt, 40, of 3675 Joslyn Rd., was reported in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital today after he suffered a knife wound in the abdomen during a scuffle last night in a Pontiac factory.

A fellow worker, Oscar Easley, 25, of 6728 Roosevelt St., Detroit, is being held by Pontiac Police for questioning. Detective Allen Noble, who will question six others, said witnesses reported the fight was preceded by an argument.

Big Three Meeting Today in Bermuda

French for ratification of the European army treaty now dominates.

Laniel, who arrived yesterday, let it be known through aides that he is just as eager as Eisenhower to tackle this problem in the hopes of gaining from Britain and the United States assurances of protection from the rearmed German units which the projected international army would include.

The exact form of the promises the French want was not made public. Reliable reports earlier this week said Eisenhower was prepared to offer France his strongest personal assurance that the United States would maintain the "combat effectiveness" of its forces in Europe, if not the total number of American troops there.

British sources pointed to repeated statements by Eden to the House of Commons outlining Britain's intention to keep her troops on the continent.

Bidault and Eden had a hush-hush two-hour meeting last night during which, it was reliably reported, they discussed a new joint approach to Italy and Yugoslavia on the question of disputed Trieste.

The French also let it be known they intend to tell Eisenhower and Churchill that Britain and the United States must approve the French economic union with the Saar Basin. The French say they will not ratify the EDC Pact without prior agreement on the Saar. This coal-steel area, now autonomous but closely tied economically to France, is also claimed by Germany.

Leaun Harrelson Jr. Mute at Arraignment

Leaun Harrelson Jr., 18, stood mute when arraigned before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty today on a negligent homicide charge.

A plea of not guilty was entered by the court and Harrelson's bond was continued. No trial date was set.

Harrelson, of 26 Delaware Dr., is charged in the death of Mrs. Veda H. Coon, 37, of 49 Dwight Ave., who was struck down by the youth's car Oct. 9 on W. Huron St. at Dwight Ave.

Propose to Keep U. N. at 'Ready'

Seeks Recess Instead of Adjournment to Permit Quick Reconvention

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States and its 15 Korean War allies in the United Nations were reported lining up support today for a plan to keep the U. N. Assembly on tap after it closes shop next week. It then could be recalled quickly if new trouble arises over Korea.

Observers predicted the projected call for an indefinite recess rather than outright adjournment would meet opposition on two counts:

1. The scheme, springing from Allied feeling that Korea should not be debated while Special Ambassador Arthur Dean is negotiating with the Reds at Panmunjom, is expected to run into Soviet bloc objections. A source close to the Russians said they want the Korean issue discussed here and now on grounds that it is the most vital question before the U. N.

2. The proposal reportedly would provide that the Assembly could be reconvened whenever a majority of the 60 U. N. members deems it necessary. This would collide with a resolution put up by India last night proposing that the Assembly recess until February subject to the call of its president—India's Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit—if the Korean situation warrants.

The Indians are said to oppose the idea of reconvening on the motion of 31 of the U. N.'s 60 members. Some of the Arab-Asian bloc are said to support the Indian stand.

Western sources expressed confidence that the 16-power plan would win approval of the U.N.'s Political Committee, pointing out that most of the 20 Latin American member nations have indicated they would support it.

The recess question is slated to come before the committee as soon as it winds up discussion of the evacuation of Nationalist Chinese forces from Burma, in debate today.

Delgaetes favoring a recess pointed out that it would avoid the time loss and red tape that would be required if the Assembly were adjourned and a special session had to be called to act on Korea or some other major problem.

Observers viewed the plan as a compromise by the United States, Britain and other powers. They formerly were reported in favor of adjournment, fearing a recess might inspire the Reds to stir things up in Korea for the purpose of forcing the Assembly to reconvene.

FRANCIS M. MAHAFFY

Brotherhood Lodge 561, AF&AM, has elected Francis M. Mahaffy of Pontiac worshipful master. He will serve a one-year term.

Mahaffy will be installed Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Roosevelt Masonic Temple in Pontiac. Dr. Morgan J. Smead of Rochester, past grand master and present grand lecturer, will install officers.

Other lodge officials taking office at the same time will be Paul Kemp, senior warden; Clarence D. Curry, junior warden; D. R. Lazelle, treasurer; Wayne G. Santala, secretary; and Walter A. Herald, chaplain.

Others will be Floyd N. Mortenson, senior deacon; Joshua P. Hebenton, junior deacon; Raymond A. Boatright, Royal Clark, Earl M. Guertler and George C. McGlone, stewards; Joseph F. Culkins, marshal; and Waldo A. Schram, tiler.

Past Worshipful Master Roy H. Burling has been named trustee for a three-year term and Floyd N. Mortenson is new grand lodge alternate.

Dollar Worth 55.6 Cents During Past September

LANSING (AP) — The purchasing power of the dollar declined to 55.6 cents in September, the State Labor Department reported today.

Using September, 1941, as a base, the department said the September figure compared with 56.4 cents in September, 1952.

The department said the purchasing power of the dollar declined 11.5 per cent in the three years ending last September. At the same time, the price index of consumer goods rose 13 per cent.

Business Tax Hearing Slated

Representatives of Four Corporations to Meet With Committee

LANSING (AP)—The Senate taxation committee, father of Michigan's new business receipts tax, will conduct a hearing next month into the controversial formula under which multi-state businesses are taxed.

Sen. George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale), the chairman, said he had promised a hearing to the Packard Motor Co., which objects that the formula is unfair.

Higgins said, however, that he would invite in also representatives of Chrysler Corp., reportedly also opposed to the formula, and of General Motors and the Ford Motor Co. which reportedly favor the formula.

Under the present formula, firms doing business outside of Michigan, are taxed on a so-called "sales destination" formula.

Some taxpayers want to be taxed on a formula which includes sales, payrolls and physical property in Michigan.

Clarence W. Lock, deputy state revenue commissioner, said the three-factor formula might penalize industrial expansion in Michigan since it already weighs heavily on industry through its application in the corporation franchise tax.

The committee, planning a meeting Dec. 11 to go over proposed revisions of the new tax, indicated it wanted a better definition of public utilities, which are exempt from all but one-mill of the four-mill levy.

Start Nursery Service for Jackson Shoppers

JACKSON (AP)—Mom and pop can park junior and sis while they Christmas shop in Jackson, beginning Monday and until Chirstmas Eve.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring a nursery for tots of Christmas shoppers at the downtown First Baptist Church, said trained personnel would be on hand—presumably with adequate stories and tear-ending sweets.

Union Leaders to Meet

MT. PLEASANT (AP)—College and university union directors and students from Ohio and Michigan will meet at Central Michigan College Dec. 4-5. The conference will discuss problems in student union management.

EARLY CHRISTMAS CARD—This one shows Santa Claus and his reindeer-drawn sleigh in 15 colors and fiinished off with a rich silk fringe. This one was designed by an American, Louis Prang, in 1885 and sold for about $3.00.

3 Yule Trees Won't See Light of Christmas Day

LANSING (AP) — This seems a poor time of the year to be burning up Christmas trees — but the State Health Department is going to do it anyway.

The destruction of the trees is in a good cause, however, the department said.

A spokesman reported the State Fire Marshal and Lansing Fire Department asked the department to test vials of carbon tetrachloride which reportedly are being sold in Michigan as Christmas tree fire extinguishers. The idea seems to be that the vials, hung on trees or ornaments, will explode in case of fire and douse the blaze.

So Donald Van Farowe, chief chemist of the Health Laboratories, will burn three trees this afternoon in an open field to determine:

1—Whether the little extinguishers work; and

2—Whether they release so much carbon tetrachloride fumes as to be dangerous in a home.

Engineers Believe They Could Fly Barn Door

HAWTHORNE, Calif. (UP) — Aircraft engineers figure the old saw, "I could fly a barn door if it had engines," may not have been too idle a boast.

Engineers at Northrop aircraft report that airplane bodies do not need to be very airworthy — just have the right control apparatus. In fact, they conclude, the right system can give airframes fine flight characteristics with saving on weight and drag from design simplification.

Tests at Northrop, where the Air Force's F-89 Scorpion jet fighter is made, indicate even slight change in control systems may have radical effects on a plane's performance.

AFL Conference Slated

LANSING (UP) — A quarterly state conference of AFL building trades councils will be held here Dec. 12, it was announced today.

Tariff, Subsidy Effects Argued

Methods of Fostering War Materials Output Are Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Mid-Century Conference on Resources for the Future today pondered whether high tariffs or peacetime subsidies would be the best way to foster production of strategic war materials.

The subsidy proposal, as an alternative to suggested tariff protection for the lead and zinc industry, came from Charles P. Taft, brother of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio).

* * *

In a prepared statement, Taft told the conference, which is closing today:

"Any tariff is government intervention not quite in harmony with the position of the supporters of the free enterprise system. It is a concealed subsidy, which no doubt is why it is preferred."

Andrew Fletcher, president of the St. Joseph Lead Co., last night called for a tariff, adjustable to the rise and fall of foreign lead and zinc prices, to protect domestic mines from low cost foreign competition.

* * *

Taft argued such a tariff "would produce immediate reprisals, and justifiably—it is one more piece of economic warfare on Canada, our best friend and ally."

But Fletcher contended:

"The major portion of our lead and zinc mining industry will be shut down unless some constructive action is taken.

"We must not jettison the safety of our nation, and possibly even of the free world, by shutting down our mines."

Taft said the government should subsidize mining exploration and operation of "truly marginal higher cost mines."

Taft is president of the privately formed committee for a national trade policy.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1953

Judge Webster

Few men are privileged to serve their home communities in as many capacities over as long a period as Municipal Judge Charles P. Webster.

A native of Pontiac and graduate of Pontiac High School, Judge Webster got his pre-law education in the Universities of Detroit and Chattanooga and his law degree from the Detroit Law School. Following his admission to the bar, he entered practice with his father, the late Elmer R. Webster, in whose honor the Webster School was named.

★ ★ ★

From that time on he took an active interest in public affairs. A lifelong Democrat, he served his party several times as county chairman. At different times he held office as Chief Assistant County Prosecutor, Assistant State Attorney General and member of the State Public Trust Commission.

In his 12 years on the Municipal Court Bench, Judge Webster acquired a reputation for fairness and diligence. In his view law was made to serve men's needs and he never reached a decision without first carefully weighing both the law and the circumstances — the human as well as the legal values.

Genial and kindly, Judge Webster had the priceless gift of ability to make friends wherever he went. His sudden death will be mourned not only by those who knew him intimately, but by many others in all walks of life.

Reward for MIG Paid

An Air Force announcement in Tokyo reveals that the $100,000 reward promised any pilot who would fly a MIG 15 to South Korea has been paid to Lieut. No Kum Sok, a North Korean.

At the time General Clark offered the cash award and political asylum, there was considerable discussion of its wisdom and propaganda value. All signs now indicate, however, that the money will be put to good use by the daring young man who had had his fill of Communism.

Before receiving the check he had asked American aid in establishing a trust fund to pay for his education in the United States and for the support of his mother in South Korea.

Meanwhile he is learning English on Okinawa where he is employed as an Air Force research specialist and where his MIG has undergone exhaustive flight tests.

★ ★ ★

Thus time yet may prove that this $100,000 was a worthwhile investment from the psychological warfare point of view.

Gouzenko Writing Novel

Igor Gouzenko's decision against testifying before a U. S. Senate committee on the ground that it would endanger his security, was completely logical.

But one can't help wonder how that security will withstand the publicity attendant on the publication next Fall of his novel, "The Fall of a Titan."

Information in Washington is that Gouzenko has become an increasingly difficult problem for the Canadian government due to his reported desire to be another Louis Budenz.

Ever since he fled the Russian embassy at Ottawa in 1945, Gouzenko and his family have lived under assumed names and have been guarded constantly by Canada's famed Mounted Police. In order to safeguard them against Russian reprisals, the family has been moved by the government to six different unrevealed locations.

Whether another move will be necessary because of the attention focused on Gouzenko in recent days isn't known. But it is known that he has signed a contract with a New York firm for the publication of his book, on which he has spent the last four years.

According to reports its 300,000 words portray the life and murder of a "People's Writer" whose career was much like that of Maxim Gorki. Though presumably fiction, characters are said to include Stalin, Malenkov and other well known Communist leaders.

The free world is indebted to Gouzenko for his exposure of the Russian spy ring. We are grateful to him for whatever information he has been able to furnish our FBI, which at all times has had and still has access to him.

But when Gouzenko, who can lay no claim to statesmanship, begins voicing opinions on foreign affairs, he runs the risk of ceasing to be taken seriously.

The American sense of humor is improving — slowly. At a recent wedding reception not a single person greeted the newlyweds with, "May all your troubles be little ones."

"The modern woman is fast learning to give and take," asserts a sociologist. If so, she must be taking an elementary course in giving, and a post-graduate course in taking.

"The function of the sinuses is to lighten the skull and give facility and volume to the voice," says a physician. This no doubt explains why the lighter a person's head is, the more and louder he talks.

John Hillman Says We Need True Spirit of Christmas in Our Strife-Torn World

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Christmas again is at the door. Christmas . . . the birthday of the King and Prince of Peace and good will among men, as God's messenger proclaimed it to the shepherds of the hills near Bethlehem.

What do we see today? Has this wonderful promise of God ever been put into practice here on earth? No, not even among so-called Christian nations. Here in America there is strife and back biting among the parties, among labor and industries. Yes, even among church going people. Yet, we call ourselves a Christian nation.

Christmas in the last 30 years has lost its true meaning. We took Christ out of it and put money and lust into it. Christmas today, instead of being the birthday of Christ, has become a feast of eating, drinking and spending money.

In short, this holy day has become a day of commercialization. To prove it visit any business store in any city during the weeks preceding Christmas. The world has replaced God with money as their god.

A Thinker Says Women Have Had to Step In

As I look at it, a few years ago there were so few dollars that men felt destitute and with good intentions followed a new course.

They had to fight and contribute to obtain it. Now they have paid with two wars, and all manner of corruption they dislike. I cannot see where wars are gains.

I am glad we have some who want men to think and do for themselves instead of someone else doing it for them. Every man dreams of success but a country can't stand with a few men.

When men have to rely on someone else they usually have nothing in the end. Women have had to step in, not by choice, but of necessity.

Many Russian Migs Being Stockpiled on New Bases Close to Korean Lines

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — While the bigwigs gather in Bermuda, more than 250 MIGs of the Russian jet-fighter type are violating the armistice agreement in Korea.

This fact has been transmitted to the United Nations Command from reliable sources behind the Communist lines.

Responsible officers of the U. S. Army in Korea are much concerned about the enemy's build-up of air strength. For it means that, any moment the Communists care to launch an attack, they can do so without running the risk of immediate interception.

The distances from the many new airfields that have been built to the American encampments south of the 38th parallel are so short that it would take only a matter of minutes for the Communist MIGs to reach the American and South Korean lines.

Prior to the signing of the Korean armistice not a single MIG was based in North Korea. They operated during the entire course of the Korean War from bases in Manchuria.

Even if the Reds had desired to base their planes in North Korea, the bases would have been destroyed by American bombers.

But now six airfields have been built in the northwestern sector and MIGs, with a speed of 650 miles per hour, could now harass the United Nations lines. They are already causing a reign of terror in the South Korean population.

The new airfield which is farthest from Seoul, the capital of the South Korean government, is only 195 miles, which means a matter of 10 or 15 minutes to reach American troops.

But the other airfields that have been constructed since the armistice are even closer. Some are only 55 to 60 miles away, so that it is possible for a sudden attack to be launched in a few minutes and catch the Republic of Korea's army unawares.

It has been argued that the U. S. bombers based in Okinawa and Japan would instantly retaliate but, unless the MIGs could be pursued to their bases north of the Yalu — to which they certainly would fly after the first attacks — the American bombers would not be able to do any more than pound away at the new bases.

Presumably there would be many a dogfight by rival fighter planes before air supremacy could be established again over the whole of North Korea, especially if the launching of an attack should take place in a season of bad flying weather.

The American government has been advised of what is happening in North Korea and apparently is regarding it as a "calculated risk."

Military men don't like the fact that military power beyond that which the armistice was supposed to permit is being built up by the enemy in Korea because, if hostilities are resumed, American troops would be at a disadvantage. This certainly was never intended under the armistice terms.

The present truce agreement in Korea isn't, however, a pact in which the U. N. is the victor, but one in which the enemy can disregard armistice terms at will and feel quite sure nothing will be done about it.

The Allied governments which have had forces in Korea signed an agreement threatening to extend the zone of hostilities if an attack was made by the Communists on U. N. forces during the armistice.

But, with the attitude taken by the British government — that it will decide for itself, after perhaps lengthy parliamentary debate, whether an "attack" should be repulsed — it is unlikely that the U. N. commander in chief will be able to do any more than he did before the armistice.

This means a fight against odds solely within the confines of Korean territory.

Meanwhile, there is no "peace conference" in sight, and the Communists of China and Soviet Russia are entrenching themselves militarily for all time in Korea. The present line near the 38th parallel is the new frontier for the Red Chinese-Soviet alliance.

Case Records of a Psychologist

States Tact Is Learned by Dealing With People

Many a boss scares his subordinates by his gruffness and bluntly phrased orders. He usually doesn't intend to be harsh, but he hasn't studied the technique of getting cordial cooperation instead of angry or fearful obedience. Send this case record to your employer.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-359: Victor K., aged 47, is a factory superintendent.

"Dr. Crane, last week I was asked to write a letter of recommendation for one of my men who is moving elsewhere to take a new job," he spoke gloomily.

"But now I find that this man I recommended is irate at me. He thinks my letter wasn't much of a boost for him.

"Maybe he is correct, I don't know. For I never was very skilful in saying things. I blurt out what I think. I tend to speak sharply. My sentences are few and short.

"Perhaps my letters don't sound very cordial or friendly. What would you suggest, Dr. Crane?"

Men who deal with machines and other objects which can't talk back, are often very direct in their thinking and blunt in speech. For tact is learned by dealing with people, not with machines.

Such a boss barks his orders with a minimum of words. He is terse. Ideas are what count with him, so he uses little finesse. He seldom even thinks about the effect of his words on others.

But when dealing with men, it is almost impossible to use the bluntless that is O. K. with machines. A harsh tone or bluntly phrased sentence may cause fear or anger in an employe.

Many business executives don't realize the terror and inefficiency created by their "barking" tones and terse commands.

Their gruffness is understood by members of the family, who have had to grow used to it through the years.

But new employes or strangers may misunderstand and resent such tactics. Or they quiver inwardly and develop peptic ulcers, high blood pressure and numerous other unpleasant medical reactions.

Dealing with people is vastly different from dealing with chemicals or ledger sheets, bricks or other inanimate objects which don't have feelings.

Part of the strategy in motivating people consists in an attractive "packaging" of one's ideas. Tact may involve a few more words than bluntness, but it promotes better employer-employe relations.

"Get me that letter from Brown & Company!" the introvertive boss barks, and the new secretary then quakes with fear.

"I wonder if you could find that letter from Brown & Company" smiles the extrovertive boss, and the girl isn't so terrified.

For his smile takes the ugly harshness out of his tone and gives his words a more friendly, cordial sound.

Radio performers long ago learned this knack of smiling, whether they feel like it or not, just because of the more pleasing tonal qualities that will then issue from their lips.

That smiling extrovertive boss mentioned above, used 12 words instead of 8, but the extra four words don't involve two seconds of time. Yet they do wonders toward building better morale among the office workers.

In writing a letter of recommendation, try to incorporate that same genial tone and cordial atmosphere even though you say a few more words to soften your otherwise blunt impression.

Be specific with your praise. Avoid generalities and "soft soap." Send for my "Test for Employes & Employers," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

It makes an excellent check-list which you can employ with your letter of recommendation, and is used by many industrial concerns today to serve as a blueprint for proper employer-employe relations.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Mr. Eisenhower says he will run the red ants out of the Washington woodwork by next election time. That brings up more things than an auctioneer's assistant.

It means the end of the termite farming in Washington. The Commies will join Lot's wife in the cruise up Salt Creek.

Most important is the argument propounded by this Guttenburg slagheap that anybody who hid behind the Fifth Amendment was as pink as granulated eyelids.

The amended ambush is the line, "Nor shall he be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself."

This rider was a postscript to the preamble. It was adopted four years after the original seven articles were ratified in 1787. It proved to be a recipe for treason, a synopsis for chicanery and blueprints for evasion.

Why shouldn't you be compelled to be a witness against yourself? In the second of the seven ages of man you do it when you bring your school report home. Wow!

You're a witness against yourself when you get caught with your hand in the cookie jar. When the doctor makes you stick out your tongue you are waving the white flag.

Dr. Brady Offers Some Free Advice: Calcium, Vitamins B, D for Leg Cramps

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Yesterday, I recommended to medical practitioners the reading of three books, namely Bicknell's & Prescott's The Vitamins in Medicine, published by Grune & Stratton, price $12; Duncan's Diseases of Metabolism, published by Saunders, price $15; and Brady's The Calcium Shortage, published by the author, price 25 cents if you pay your own freight.

Let's not be silly—no one can or should really read these books, or any medical or health books.

What one should do is just dip into them here and there, to get the author's ideas or suggestions, if any, in relation to the particular question in which one may be interested.

Perhaps the case presented by Mrs. Somebody will show what I mean. She writes:

Dear Dr. Brady:

When I get up of a morning and put my feet to the floor, I get a shock at the soles of my feet as if I stepped on something electrical. My arms and feet go to sleep.

I have cramps so bad in my feet that I am afraid to move a toe when I go to bed. This has been going on for years. I tell the doctor but he doesn't seem to pay any attention, except to say jokingly, "Oh, that's just old age." I am 57.

Sincerely,

(Signed) ....

If Mrs. Somebody's doctor would cultivate the habit of dipping into such books as I have named, at least the first two, he or she might come across a bit of new knowledge which would redound to the advantage of many patients like Mrs. Somebody and his or her reputation as a resourceful physician.

Since Mrs. Somebody hesitated to change doctors even when her present doctor laughs at her complaints, and Hippocrates doesn't forbid, I'll offer Mrs. Somebody a suggestion or some advice.

The advice may be right or it may be wrong — after all, it is not likely that a personal examination of Mrs. Somebody would enable me to form a better opinion or make a better guess as to what ails her and what to do about it.

But this I can assure her and any medical readers who may frown upon such quackery — the advice I offer can do no harm.

Gazing into my crystal ball I see Mrs. Somebody ailing with American beri-beri and adult tetany.

She gives no information about her everyday diet, but even though it is not a toast and tea, or cake and coffee diet, the chances are that she subsists largely on cheat-food.

Anyway I earnestly advise her to supplement her diet with an optimal daily ration of vitamin B complex for at least six months.

This, I expect, will in a reasonable period terminate the "electrical shock" at the soles and the going to sleep of arms and feet.

Also Mrs. Somebody should supplement her diet with an optimal daily ration of calcium and vitamin D, to cure the tetany which is manifest by painful cramps she has in feet or legs at night.

By "optimal daily ration" I mean two or three times as much of the vitamin, mineral or other nutritional element or elements as nutrition authorities deem necessary to maintain fair health.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed.

Lapeer Eviction Trial Set Dec. 14

Jury Selection Already Begun

Charge Men Incited Action to Prevent Sheriff From Ousting Widow

LAPEER — The conspiracy trial of four men charged in obstructing the 1952 eviction of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens, is scheduled to open here Dec. 14.

Empaneling of a jury began yesterday.

Charged in the case are Clayton C. Gilliland of Detroit, Howard Abbott, 45, of Columbiaville; Howard Jarvis, 36, of Lapeer; and Floyd Schrieber, 60, of Almont.

The defendants were charged with inciting resistance of Sheriff Clark Gregory's attempts to evict Mrs. Stevens, a widow, from her Clifford farm. The farm had been sold at public auction for nonpayment of an assessment against the defunct Lapeer Farmer's Mutual Fire Insurance Assn.

Gilliland, a self termed "investigator," is chairman of a group which has fought the bankruptcy assesments for several years. He is the only one of the four accused not charged with obstructing justice.

Ten Lapeer area farmers were accused of obstruction. Two have been convicted. The remaining eight still face trial.

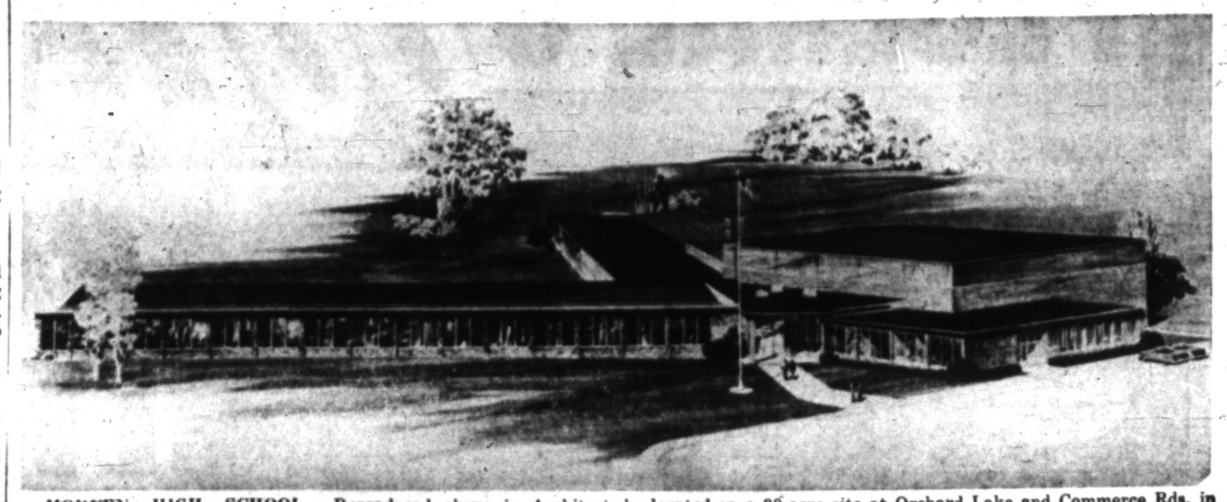

Schreiber, one of the two convicted, Monday filed a motion for a new trial. He charged a juror, Harry Dodds, with bias. The motion contained an affadavit charging that Dodds told Douglas Bennett, Lapeer farmer,: "All of these farmers should be behind bars."

Circuit Court Judge Anthony Quinn yesterday set Dec. 18 as the date for final disposition of the case.

Schreiber was sentenced Oct. 19 to a term of 1½ to two years imprisonment, but his sentence was delayed pending birth of his ninth child and to harvest crops on his large farm.

Another of the 10 defendants, Erwin C. Russell, 60, was convicted June 18 and is serving an 18-month term in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson. The Michigan Supreme Court refused him an appeal.

The eight other men awaiting trial include Lawrence Weston, 62, of North Branch; John Donovan, 61, and Henry Trainor, of Imlay City; Lee Matthews, 59, of Burlington Township; Ray Warner, 70, of Almont; William Howard, 76, of Clifford; Jarvis and Abbott.

West Bloomfield to Open Bids on New High School

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Bids for construction of West Bloomfield High School will be opened at a special School Board meeting here Wednesday, it was announced here this week.

Approval of final plans came Tuesday night following several months study by School Board members, the Chamber of Commerce, and interested citizens.

Construction is expected to begin in January if bids received do not exceed $650,000, the amount left from the bond issue passed by voters in October, 1952.

Part of the funds were used for improvements at Scotch and Roosevelt schools, and to purchase a site for the new building.

Contained in the new 18-room, 48,000-square-foot building will be a homemaking room, gym with permanent stage, dressing and storage rooms, library, drafting room and administrative rooms.

Cost of furnishings has been estimated at about $50,000.

Exterior construction of the building will be of brick veneer.

Stereotypers Close Long Island Paper

NEW YORK (AP)—The Long Island Star-Journal halted publication today when stereotypers refused to handle advertisements from struck papers in Manhatan.

Stephen Rogers, editor of the Queens afternoon paper, said in a statement, the sterotypers, who make casts for the advertisements, refused to handle the ads, contending it was "struck work."

"This action by the stereotypers union, in violation of our contract, destroys a vital link in the newspaper's production line, preventing us from placing printed pages on the presses," Rogers said in a statement.

"Under the circumstances, the Long Island Star-Journal could no longer publish and regretfully announces it must suspend until the controversy is settled."

Electricians' Head Wants Union Poll

BOSTON (AP) — The Communist-dominated United Electrical Workers Union has been challenged to a "winner take all" union election in all of the nation's General Electric Co., plants.

The challenge came last night from James B. Carney, president of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers in an address before the state convention of the Massachusetts CIO.

The UE was tossed out of the CIO as Communist-dominated and Carey charged the union's leadership "from top to bottom is rotten with communism, totally corrupted with totalitarianism."

Carey said that he has already asked the National Labor Relations Board for a company-wide representation election and "we challenge the UE's leaders to consent to the election."

Best Time to Fish Finally Established

WICHITA, Kan. (UP)—Two local fishermen, Charles W. Capell and John L. Rucker, have a definite answer to the angling question: When's the best time to fish?

They chorus emphatically, "Saturday night at 7:55!"

A surprising coincidence occurred for the men when they landed a 30-pound flathead catfish while fishing from a boat in the Little Arkansas River. It was 7:55 p. m., Saturday.

Checking their watches, they recalled that a precisely 7:55 p. m., Saturday, three weeks earlier, they had landed a 30-pound catfish.

Both fish were caught at the same spot with the same kind of bait—small live carp.

Mock 3-Day War Ends on U. N. Korean Front

SEOUL (AP)—A make-believe war has been going on in Korea 3½ days to test the preparedness of United Nations soldiers.

The Army said the simulated battle ended today but did not say who won or how well the test came off—for security reasons.

The test involved the headquarters of the 8th Army and every U.N. and Republic of Korea division command post across the Army front.

The exercise was largely a paper drill but the Army said some headquarters in the field had to pack up and move.

Crazy, Mixed-up Snake Swallows Own Mate

BOMBAY (UP) — Pythons are stupid.

That was the explanation given by zoo authorities here for the action of an 11-foot python that swallowed its 8-foot mate. Here is how it happened.

Two guinea pigs were released in the reptile house for the dinner of the two pythons, the larger python swallowed its dinner in a hurry. Then, not satisfied, it went for the other guinea pig. But this one had already been half swallowed by the smaller python.

But that didn't occur to the large python. It opened its jaws and began swallowing the other half, and continued until it had swallowed its mate.

Egyptians Fire on U. S. Ship

Report Shore Batteries Shoot at Freighter With Wheat for Jordan

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The American Embassy announced today that the 7,255-ton American freighter Albion had reported Egyptian shore batteries fired on her as she tried to deliver 9,600 tons of wheat to Jordan for Arab refugees from Palestine.

The attack reportedly occurred yesterday in the Gulf of Aqaba, east of Egypt's Sinai Peninsula. The Albion was bound for the Jordan port of Aqaba, at the head of the gulf.

The ship's first report made no mention of casualties or damage to the vessel.

* * *

It appeared likely that the Egyptian gunners had believed the ship was destined for Elath, an Israeli port also at the head of the gulf to which considerable traffic is routed to circumvent Arab Egypt's ban on Israel-bound shipping passing through the Suez Canal.

The Albion reported she had pulled out of the firing area but was making another attempt today to reach Aqaba.

The embassy said it had made "urgent representations" to the Egyptian government and that President Mohammed Naguib's regime had given "assurances that action would be taken to facilitate the ship's passage through Aqaba Gulf."

The Egyptians also promised an immediate investigation into the reported shooting.

1954 Auto Tags Bring Comments and Complaints

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's 1954 automobile license plates are causing a lot of comment. Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary thought they would, but the kind of comment he's getting is surprising him.

The new plates are maize and blue, the colors of the University of Michigan, and break up a long chain of black-and-white and white-and-black tags. And they have "Water Wonderland" printed across the bottom.

What's the matter with that?

Well, auto owners are complaining that the new tags don't fit frames which the old ones did and they have single quarter-inch holes where the old ones had elongated slots for screws. Even when they fit, frames usually cover part of the new state motto.

And Lee Frederick of Mt. Clemens, a 1923 football end at Illinois, has raised a cry that "I'm not wearing any University of Michigan colors, even on my auto tags."

P. S.: Michigan State College precincts apparently are too busy with Rose Bowl reservations to notice. Besides, tags will be of Spartan green and white next year.

Irishman Gets Job March 17

Has Been on 'Big Town' Four Years, a Record in TV Competition

NEW YORK—Patrick McVey is an Irishman born on St. Patrick's Day, or as Pat puts it: "How lucky can you get?"

He points out that it was on that day, one March 17, that he learned he was being considered for the starring role—Steve Wilson of the Illustrated Press—on the TV series, "Big Town."

Patrick grew up in Ft. Wayne, Ind. He starred in football and basketball at North Side High School and attended Indiana University.

After receiving a law degree and passing the bar examination, Pat practiced for two years in his home town. But his eye was on the theater.

Amateur theatricals, plus a spear-carrying routine in a professional production of "Julius Caesar," had given him the "bug." He took to spending more and more time with the local civic theater.

The Irishman took the plunge when Margery Sutter, Patrick's high school dramatic teacher who was also active with the local theater group, urged him to devote all his time to the stage. The would-be thespian departed for Hollywood in 1939.

After appearing in a number of motion pictures, starting with "Sergeant York," McVey joined the Army and became an infantry sergeant in Alaska. He was later transferred to the Army's first motion picture unit, which made training films.

More movies followed his discharge from the service. Interested in television, he volunteered to act in a number of test plays in the early experimental days in Hollywood and New York.

In 1947 Pat married actress Courteen Landis, niece of the late baseball czar, Judge Kenesaw Landis.

Succeeding years brought parts in several Broadway productions, including "Crime and Punishment," "Hold It," and the Ben Hecht-Charles MacArthur farce, "Twentieth Century," in which he earned his most prized review: "Pat McVey gave perhaps the finest performance as the bored, witty and drunken press agent."

This was writen by a notedly tough New York drama critic.

Preparation for the newspaper role on "Big Town" came with the part of newshawk Spike McManus in Lindsay and Crouse's "State of the Union," and actual newspaper work on the Los Angeles Times.

He's been at it now for four years, a healthy recommendation in this highly competitive medium.

Slusher Says Pair Rehearsed Escape

ROME, Ga. (AP)—An escape plot that brought death to U.S. Deputy Marshal Sam Vaughn was rehearsed in advance by Herbert Juelich and Lewis Larson, witnesses have testified.

A long session in U. S. district court last night brought testimony from Harmon Slusher of Pontiac, Mich., that he witnessed the rehearsal in the Davidson County Jail at Nashville, Tenn.

Slusher said he was confined there with Juelich and Larson before they left for the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary in custody of Vaughn who was slain en route.

Juelich and Larson, both residents of St. Paul, Minn., are on trial charged with the first degree murder of the veteran deputy marshal from Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Slusher testified that he saw the defendants seated side by side on benches in the Nashville Jail, each with an arm on a table between them as though they were handcuffed together.

Then, the witness added, they made lunges at two other prisoners seated side by side in front of them.

Prosecution counsel contended this testimony proved that Vaughn was slain in accordance with a plan plotted and "practiced" by Juelich and Larson in jail.

Pedestrian, 65, Killed on Road Near Nunica

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Anthony Siksna, about 65, a Round Lake farm worker, was struck and killed last night while walking on a county road near Nunica.

Police said Siksna was struck by a car driven by Stanley Brokus, 26, of Allegan.

FRED WARING AT WORK—Under the baton of the incomparable Fred Waring, memorable music lives again. Often called one of the greatest promoters of popular music, Fred has made many appearances on TV and previously had his own video show. His now famous "Pennsylvanians" have helped make his name synonymous with fine music.

Deputy Finds Chuckhole, Then Radios for Help

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The Alameda County sheriff's office last night instructed Deputy Leroy Pierson to "check Cherry Road near Central avenue for a hole in the road."

He found it, all right, three feet deep and water-filled, and radioed headquarters:

"Please send two trucks to get me out."

The people of Puerto Rico have been U.S. citizens since 1917 when the island attained territorial status.

Court Upholds Church Merger

Says Lower Tribunal Without Jurisdiction in Factional Dispute

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The State Court of Appeals today cleared the way for the proposed merger of the Congregational Christian Churches with the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

In a 4-2 decision, New York State's highest tribunal upheld an Appellate Division decision that civil courts were without jurisdiction in a controversy between factions for and against the merger.

Some Congregational churches, including the Cadman Memorial Society of Brooklyn and the Cadman Memorial Church, opposed the plan.

It would create a United Church of Christ, with a total membership of 1,850,000.

Associate Judges Charles W. Froessel and Albert Conway dissented.

* * *

Associate Judge John Van Voorhis took no part.

Justice Meier Steinbrink of State Supreme Court ruled in 1950 that the General Council of the Congregational Church had no powers or authority to merge or unite itself with any other body.

But the Appellate Division on April 15, 1952, reversed Steinbrink in a 4-1 decision.

It held that the Cadman Society and the Cadman Church had failed to establish "any right or interest in, or to, the funds and other assets" of the general council.

"In controversies such as this," the Appellate Division said in a majority opinion, "ecclesiastical or doctrinal questions may be inquired into only in so far as it may be necessary to do so to determine the civil or property rights of the parties."

Barber's Tale of 13 Proves Figure Lucky

STARKVILLE, Miss. (UP)—No. 13 may be considered unlucky by some, but not by Joe Palmer.

Palmer has been manager of the barber shop in Mississippi State College's YMCA for 13 years. He lives in a house supported by 13 foundations and with 13 doors and 13 windows. His living room, dining room, bedrooms and garage are each 13 feet wide; his porch, 13 feet long.

He has 13 nephews and nieces. He has been an officer in the local Masonic orders 13 times. Thirteen doctors have advised him to take it easy because of heart trouble but he still works 13 hours a day.

Thirteen apprentice barbers trained by him have graduated from State and 13 part-time assistants have been graduated.

Textbook Work Pays Off for 2 AF Jet Pilots

MT. CLEMENS (UP)—Two Air Force pilots credited their textbook studies today with saving their lives when their Sabre jets collided at high speed over St. Clair County.

The pilots, Capt. Henry W. Jones, 31, Phoenix City, Ala., and Lt. Robert L. Buss, 23, Laurel, Neb., parachuted to safety from about 20,000 feet while their planes crashed and burned.

The airmen, stationed at nearby Selfridge Air Force Base, were on a routine combat maneuver Thursday when their planes came together.

"When I knew the ship wasn't going to fly any more I went through the motions just like we learned them from pictures and textbooks," Jones said. "First the canopy ejector switch, then the cord that drops the seat and opens the chute."

Jones said it was a "wonderful sight" when he looked up and saw that Buss' parachute also had opened. The men were returned by helicopter to the base hospital, where doctors reported that neither was injured.

Personality Pipes Carved by Sailors

LIVINGSTON, Mont. (AP)—M. J. (Blackie) Felsten, a Navy veteran whose ships have touched almost every port in the world, carves personalized pipes—to resemble the faces of famous people.

He sells a few pipes at Christmas time, but the remainder of his 250 to 300 a year output is given away to friends, or to the famous people they resemble.

"I watch for pictures of celebrities who smoke pipes," he explains.

He sends the completed pipe to the celebrity, and asks only one of the person's old pipes in return. No one has yet declined the exchange. Felsten pipes are owned by such well known pipe smokers as J. Edgar Hoover, Bing Crosby, Gov. Dan Thornton, of Colrado, Art Baker, Bennett Cerf and Glen McCarthy.

Homemaker Gets Blame for Nasty Taste of Water

OMAHA (AP)—Sioux City, Ia., housewives are being blamed for a bad taste in Omaha's water. The taste actually was the result of oil poured into the Missouri River from a pipeline break upstream from Omaha.

Normally that wouldn't have affected Omaha's water supply, since oil would have floated on the river surface. Omaha pumping station intakes are on the river bottom.

However, Metropolitan Utilities District Chemist Joseph F. Erdei said detergents used by housewives at Sioux City, also upstream, mix with the oil and cause it to emulsify. The result, said Erdei, is that the oil is mixed with the water instead of floating on top.

Harvard to Rush Daily Papers to Aid New York

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Editors of the Harvard University Crimson prepared to send "a few thousand" copies of their undergraduate daily newspaper to New York today to help fill the strike-caused news void there.

Crimson Managing Editor George S. Abrams said:

"The thought of a great city like New York without a newspaper can cause only unrest among those interested in the intellectual well-being of the United States. The Crimson, in its small way, could not sit by and see such a situation continue to exist."

Crimson President Michael MacCoby of Mount Vernon, N. Y., said today's edition will feature Associated Press news and "analyses of world and national news by Harvard professors and newspapermen attending Harvard under Nieman Fellowships."

Not Even Colds Sway POWs Against Reds

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Twenty-three Communists with bad colds and no handkerchiefs all but surrounded me at today's interviews with South Korean war prisoners.

And it's a wonder everyone here doesn't have a cold.

The interviews were conducted in five shacks built by the Communists. They bragged that the job was done in 24 hours, but it shouldn't have taken that long.

The interiors are rough and unpainted. The windows and doors don't fit. The furniture is crude.

Newsmen and observers sat on benches just seven inches wide. The benches had no backs.

* * *

Temperatures inside the shack were well below freezing. The tiny coal stoves might heat a telephone booth—if they had worked—but they didn't work.

Periodically someone would toss some kindling and coal into a stove and throw in a match. But at that point the Indian chairman of the repatriation team would say to the prisoner:

"If you want to be repatriated you go out that door and if you do not wish to be repatriated you go out the other door."

At this point, Indian soldiers would leap to both doors and fling them wide open.

The resulting gale of frigid wind invariably blew out the match.

All of the 30 prisoners chose the door which led back to Communist rule.

A North Korean Communist is surly at best, and with a cold he is more disagreeable.

This correspondent had trouble with two of them today.

One Korean Red mistook me for an Allied officer—the first time in three years anyone has done that. He complained that too many Allied officers were in the shack, but that was quickly straightened out.

Another Communist officer with a cold complained that I had usurped his place on the narrow bench.

He motioned rudely for me to move elsewhere and I shook my head he signalled a Communist interpreter.

After consulting for some moments the interpreter angrily told me to move because I had the "chair of the officer."

I refused and the matter was put before the Indian chairman who said politely:

"I am fraid I must ask you to let the officer have the seat."

I moved to another spot on the bench.

How Well Do You Rate as a Teenager?

GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

(Copyright 1953)

Your score on this test is based on your "usual" or typical behavior; not on an isolated example. Thus, a person who says "Darn it" when he strikes his thumb with a hammer, is not necessarily addicted to an excessive use of slang.

Check off all those items under the MERITS heading which apply to you. Then add the total score. Each item counts one point unless given greater value, as in the parentheses, where it might be listed at 5 points or more.

Next, tally all the items under the DEMERITS headings which apply to you. Subtract your total DEMERITS score from the MERITS total. The remainder is your raw score and can be interpreted by the following norms:

0 - 20 . . . . . Kindergartner, emotionally
30 - 46 . . . . . Junior High, emotionally.
47 - 68 . . . . . Senior High, emotionally
69 - 94 . . . . . College level, emotionally

Abandoned Cars to Be Auctioned

Challenges Reds to Punish Own

Committee Hears GIs Tell of Criminal and Brutal Treatment

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman Charles E. Potter of a Senate task-force investigating Korean War prison atrocities today challenged the Communists to punish their own war criminals.

"If they have a government with a conscience, they themselves will punish the war criminals," the Michigan Republican declared.

He described the brutalities, being aired before his Senate investigating subcommittee in conjunction with U. S. atrocity charges in the United Nations, as "crimes against man."

"Even in a Communist country," he said, "I believe crimes against man are punished."

Potter made the statement as 10 more witnesses were summoned today to testify in what was expected to be final hearings in the present phase of the investigation.

The first witness was to be Col. James M. Hanley, a war crimes officer in Korea.

Other witnesses scheduled included Lt. Col. John W. Gorn of Ann Arbor, Mich.

Potter challenged Andrei Vishinsky, Russian delegate to the United Nations, to accept an American proposal to appoint an impartial commission to investigate the atrocity charges. Vishinsky has branded them a lie.

"It would be the best propaganda in the world for them if they can prove that they are false," Potter said.

Thursday, Roy P. Manring Jr., of Chicago, a honeymooning ex-GI, broke down and wept as he told how North Koreans shot 41 Americans in cold blood after tying their hands behind their backs with bootlaces.

Manring said his unit was captured by North Koreans and was being marched along by the Reds, tied together in groups of 10 when he suddenly heard shots.

Manring said he was hit by several bullets in the arm and leg and was topped by his falling neighbor. He managed to wiggle under his dead companion.

But the Reds came along kicking the bodies and "I made a grunting sound. That's when I caught in the gut."

"I got shot in the gut," he said again and broke into tears.

"Then they left again," he stammered, groping for a handkerchief.

Potter quickly ordered a recess but a few moments later Manring stood before a large photograph of the horror scene and said: "I'm OK now." He pointed to a spot on the picture and said, "That's where I was laying." He managed to crawl away and was one of three men who lived to tell the story.

Sgt. Wendell H. Treffery, 25, of Terryville, Conn., testified that Red Chinese brutality in a prison camp forced him to "snap off" his frozen big toes to escape hospitalization in a pest-ridden "death house."

He said that some months later a Chinese nurse "crunched" off eight of his decaying toes with hedge clippers. He said he believes he saved his life by removing the two big toes so that he would not be sent to a hospital, from which most of the patients never emerged alive.

He said he saw his old sergeant in the hospital once and "while I was there, the maggots was coming out of his eyes, his ears, his rectum and everything else."

County Offering 80 Old Wrecks

Have to Be Hauled Off Highways and Clutter Up Parking Lots

About 80 cars abandoned in Oakland County will be offered at public auction this month and authorities will be glad to get rid of them.

Most of them were towed in by garages and police departments to keep the highways free of the "dangerous wrecks."

Authorities said the majority of the problem cars simply "gave out" and were abandoned on the spot by motorists.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Sgt. Donald Francis said about 80 abandoned cars will go on the sheriff's auction block Dec. 15, 16, and 17, at various collection points. Thirty similar cars were auctioned off in October.

"By the time the 80 are disposed of," said Sgt. Francis, "we will have accumulated 50 or 60 more old cars."

"People who abandon these wrecks on the highway should be penalized," according to Edward Holmes, who owns the Holmes and Son Garage at 980 Commerce Rd., Commerce.

Holmes, who is expecting a lot of abandoned car business this winter, estimates that his garage has brought in about 10 old wrecks so far this year.

"A lot of people get mad when we go out and pick up these cars," said Holmes, "even though the cars are sitting in the middle of the road. But we have to get rid of the hazards. There is too much chance of someone driving into one of them and getting killed."

Oakdale Gardens Police Department in Royal Oak Township has about 30 of these almost valueless wrecks, some of which have cluttered up their parking area for almost a year, according to Patrolman Delbert Hunt, who said that the bulk of these autos are never claimed.

A chief complaint of Leon Vandevelde of Will-o-Way Service, 4009 Telgeraph Rd., Bloomfield Hills, is that the cars build up storage charges. "I don't have any trouble with storage, otherwise, because I have a big lot, but some garage owners with a small parking lot would have trouble."

Most garage owners, if they have two or three of these cars in their lot at the same time, are stumbling over them trying to get their customers' cars serviced, according to Deputy William Smith.

The Michigan Vehicle Code states that an abandoned car will be held for 45 days after a registered letter of notice is sent to the owner. If the owner fails to claim the auto it is sold at public sheriff's auction to the highest bidder, who usually is the garage owner who handled the abandoned car.

Anyone else may buy the car but by the time they paid the towing and storage charges and costs of fixing the car, they would have more money invested than the car was worth, Francis said.

Another garage which has had its share of these cast-offs is Harold and Ed's Collision Service at 23957 Eight Mile Rd., Southfield Township.

Last week this garage had 16 of these autos on their hands, according to Sgt. Francis.

"If something isn't done about getting rid of these cars faster," said Deputy Smith, "garage owners will begin to ask us when we call them whether we want them for collision service or for hauling in old cars."

Wet Hanky Air Program Sometimes Is a Laugh

By BILLY ROSE

Television, that great servant of the people, is currently presenting a series of "give-away" shows in which the biggest prizes are awarded to the contestants who are burdened with the biggest loads of grief.

BILLY ROSE

As near as I can make it out, the purpose of these programs is to prove that life in these United States is one wet handkerchief after another.

This premise, of course, is open to argument, but I'm afraid neither side of the argument would interest me very much.

But some months back, a taxi driver named Jerry Kelly appeared on a give-away show, and told of his longing to go back to Ireland and see his old father before—well, before it was too late.

"What with the high cost of things," he said, "I haven't been able to save enough for the trip, and besides, an unfortunate incident last month took what little money I had."

Actually, every word Mr. Kelly spoke was true. What he failed to mention—out of delicacy, no doubt—was (a) that the "unfortunate incident" was a deuce when he needed a jack for an inside straight, and (b) his old father in Dublin was a falling-down drunk who, 35 years ago, had walked out on his wife and kid, leaving nothing behind but a note saying, "Try and find me."

The studio audience was in tears when Jerry had finished his spiel about the old sod, and at the end of the program the announcer put his arm around the taxi driver and said, "Our sponsor has been watching the show and just phoned from Connecticut to say that Mr. Kelly's story has touched him so deeply that he has decided to make his dream come true.

"So, instead of the all-purpose vacuum cleaner, our first prize tonight, Jerry will receive a round-trip ticket to Dublin, all expenses paid, and, if humanly possible, our sponsor's branch office in Ireland will locate his dad and have him on hand when the boat docks . . . .

Two weeks and 3,000 miles later, as flashbulbs popped, Jerry arrived in Dublin and, sure enough, his father was there to welcome him.

The old man had been cleaned up for the occasion, but he looked as mean as ever, and Jerry felt like punching him in the nose when he remembered how he had treated his mother.

When reporters interviewed the pair, the elder Kelly wistfully let drop that his fondest wish was to go to New York and spend his remaining few years with his beloved son.

This item was wire-serviced back to New York, and the sponsor, as publicity-minded as he was tenderhearted, appeared on the program himself the following week and announced he was cabling the father his passage money to America.

Three weeks later when the liner docked in New York, again the flashbulbs popped . . .

As might be expected, the old coot moved into his son's West Side flat, and right from the start was a roaring nuisance.

He complained about his bedroom, his spending money and the low percentage of alcohol in American spirits, and when his son asked him to pipe down—that he had never had it so good—his invariable reply was to charge another bottle of Jamieson's whisky to Jerry's account.

A month later, after seeing several give-away shows on television, Kelly Senior, unbeknownst to his son, went to Radio City and appeared on one of them.

This time the prize was a trip to Bermuda, and the wife-deserter won it easily when, in an accent as thick as a slab of Irish bacon, he told how the cold of New York had gotten into his aged bones, and how he yearned to go south and soak up some life-giving sun.

When the old rumdum returned from Bermuda, he was surprised to find Jerry wasn't at the pier to meet him.

What's more, when he got to the flat the furniture was gone, and the only thing he could find was a sheet of paper thumbtacked to the bathroom door.

It read: "Have moved to South America. This time, YOU try to find ME."

Diver Is Lost in Gulf Stream

Find No Trace of Body of Attorney Who Tried to Set Depth Record

MIAMI (AP)—The choppy blue waters of the Gulf Stream today held the body of Hope Root and brought a tragic end to the 52-year-old Miami attorney's attempt to break the world's free-swimming diving record.

Root went overboard from the charter boat Arabalette two miles off Miami Beach at 12:27 p.m. yesterday, plunging to a depth of 500 feet.

Patrolling boats and a Coast Guard helicopter searched for hours but found no trace of the body.

Root had planned to descend to 410 feet for a new free-swimming diving record. In such dives, a face mask, foot fins and a compressed air tank are used but the diver swims free.

Jordan Klein, skipper of the Arabalette, said Root expected to complete the dive in 20 minutes.

"He descended to 80 feet and stopped again to equalize the pressure. Then he went down like a shot to 400 feet.

"We had a cable over with painted tags at various depths. Root expected to bring back the tag from the 410-foot level, which would have given him a world's record dive.

"Our deepest tag was at 450 feet and I thought perhaps he was going for that one. But something happened. He went down again, this time to 500 feet.

"He was tracked by sonar equipment on a University of Miami research boat to these various depths. The water there was about 620 feet deep. That was the end. He wasn't seen again."

Klein said his 38-foot boat "took an awful licking" from the waves in winds up to 26 miles an hour that stirred the sea and caused strong currents.

Root said he had been as deep as 370 feet in unofficial dives. The official record held by a living man is 306 feet set in the Mediterranean Sea. A Frenchman descended to 396 feet but was hauled up dead.

Scorched Reader Finds Textbooks Hot Enough to Burn

Morrie Ryskind, an unreconstructed Beverly Hills Republican, screen-writer and co-author with George S. Kaufman of the Pulitzer prize-winning musical, "Of Thee I Sing," ask: "What about books that burn people?"

By MORRIE RYSKIND

I don't believe in people burning books, but how about books that burn people?

RYSKIND

If any witch-hunter demands to know one person who has been burned by books, I hereby offer myself as Exhibit A.

I am literally a mass of burns from head to foot as a direct result of some of the books I've read. Indeed, it is one of the wonders of the medical profession that I have managed to survive.

True, I burn easily — but up to 1939, most of my burns were the ordinary first- and second-degree stuff. They came mainly from books whose titles began with the intriguing phrase, "How to —." There was "How to Paint Your House," "How to Reduce," "How to Shoot Golf Under Par," "How to Play the Piano in Ten Easy Lessons and Eighty Easy Payments," etc.

After gaining ten pounds, adding ten strokes to my golf score, falling off the roof of my house and, in an inspired moment of frenzy, chopping the piano to bits, I was burned almost to a crisp. After the doctors got through with me, they forbade all such reading.

I then turned to the Higher Literature — and that's where I made my mistake. In 1939, I suffered my first third-degree burn when I bought "Europe on the Eve" by Frederick L. Schuman, Professor of Government at Williams College. After I finished this highly inflammatory volume, I was found to be smoking all over. I was rushed to the hospital and placed in a tank of tannic acid, where I spent three years, coming out of the tank only for the necessary skin grafting and blood transfusions. Even today I find it advisable to wear asbestos gloves when glancing through the volume. Let me quote one or two of the less combustible sentences to give you an idea:

"Russia alone displays a constant increase in productivity, not based upon theft or magic or militarism gone mad, but upon a steady advance in technology and upon a diffusion of increased purchasing power among wide masses. . . Since its expansion is not a product of robbery, conquest or preparation for war, the Soviet Union will never in any presently visible future take the sword against non-Socialist states."

I read that shortly after Russia invaded Finland. Had I come across the book for the first time in 1953, the result might have been fatal. Even then, however, the consequences were so dire that from 1939 to 1953 I took no chances and read nothing but comic books.

This summer, however, I was lured again by a college text-book my son brought home: "Roots of Political Behavior," by Richard Carleton Snyder and H. Hubert Wilson, Professors of History at Princeton. I opened it gingerly to make sure there was nothing by Prof. Schuman. Reassured, I began to read a chapter on "Ideology." This told how the great men always had been abused because their ideas were far ahead of their time. And then it named some of the great men, "From Socrates down through John Locke to Henry Wallace. . ."

(Editor's note: We regret sincerely that Mr. Ryskind was unable to complete this article. He is at present confined in an institution for the permanently insane and the doctors offer little hope of his recovery. His talk is mainly gibberish, and consists of phrases like "Tinker to Evers to Wallace," "Wynken, Blinken and Wallace," "Socrates, Locke and Wallace," all of which he concludes with a fit of maniacal screaming. In the one lucid moment he has had, he seemed to realize the seriousness of his condition and asked that he be cremated together with a copy of Owen Lattimore's "Ordeal by Slander.")

Phone Course Given Workers at Hospital

About 400 employes of Pontiac General Hospital are taking a short course in telephone technique this week, according to Hospital Director Lauretta Paul.

"The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. is conducting seven classes demonstrating both good and bad telephone habits, and how to develop good human relations over the phone," said Miss Paul.

The project is part of a new policy of emphasizing a certain phase of hospital or related work each week, she explained, in an attempt to increase overall efficiency.

The phone company's program includes a movie, discussion and the chance for employes to record their voices and hear how they actually sound over the phone.

It is hoped that both inter-hospital communication and exchanges between hospital personnel and the community at large will run more smoothly as result of the week's study, said Miss Paul.

Be Sure to Hang Socks

Even if you don't have a fireplace, hang up the youngsters' Christmas stockings. Your offspring will be heartbroken if stockings and sugar plums are absent on Christmas morn. If you can't afford to fill them with little gifts and sweets, apples, oranges, nuts and hard candies are budget stuffers.

In 1900 in Mexico 2 per cent of the people owned 70 per cent of the land.

Gift for Even Casual Date

Even the casual date in your life should have a little something if you plan to see him during the Christmas season. An attractive handkerchief or tie are in excellent taste and will be well appreciated by the average man. Furthermore your thoughtfulness will boost your stock with him.

Although Negroes formed 20 per cent of the U.S. population about 1800, they now form less than 10 per cent of the U.S. population.

For His Evenings

Gold cummerbund and evening tie are being introduced for gentlemen just in time for Santa's sack. Guaranteed to make the dullest beau scintillating.

Hal Boyle Says:

U.S. Politics Could Use Professional Court Jester

NEW YOR Kup—Politics always has produced some of the nation's greatest unconscious comedians.

But Henry Youngman, "The Comic's Comic" has a new idea. On the theory that a good pro can always beat an amateur, he thinks it's time to bring a few conscious career comedians into government.

"The people can't help but benefit," he said. "And they'll at least get something new to laugh at.

"What I have in mind is that these comedians will be something like the King's jester in the old days. When the regular government jokers—or the appointed diplomats—get their skulls all heated up in debate, you call a 15-minute break and bring in a professional comic to cool both sides off.

"Any comic who can't make a crowd laugh in 15 minutes is in the wrong business—or maybe needs a couple of new writers. Anyway, the diplomats get a few laughs while they are resting their brains during this time out, and maybe when they start arguing again they'll make more sense because they've got less steam in their heads."

Youngman, who has originated so many jokes that even Milton Berle can't remember them all, feels that staff government comedians would be particularly useful right now in the United Nations and to settle major labor disputes.

"Look how many strikes you might prevent," he said, "if the guys barking at each other across a table would stop and share a belly laugh."

Henn, who says he hasn't bothered to copyright his idea, offered to guinea pig the experiment himself and become the first U.S. federal government comedian, "provided the pay is right, and naturally I get a free hand in picking my staff—and top billing, of course.

"I even got a few hundred jokes ready. No, I won't give you any samples. I don't want to tip my mitt."

Like most professional comedians today, Youngman, Brooklyn's gift to the world of japery, feels the nation has let a lot of moss cover its funnybone in recent years.

"People are hungry for a chance to laugh," he said, "but now they feel they have to have a reason. That's why practical jokes are coming back. People got so they resented them. Now they enjoy a practical joke again—as long as it is really funny, and not cruel."

Are practical jokes ever anything but cruel?

"Why, sure," said Henny. "If you want to cobweb a guy, really mix him up, you just send him a telegram saying, 'Ignore first wire.'

"Or, take another example. Suppose you go through a toll bridge. Well, you pay for the guy in the car behind you. He'll drive 50 miles trying to find out who you are and why you paid for him."

Henny said that in his vaudeville days a prank was to sneak into another performer's room, fill his bathtub with hot water and pour in several packages of Jello.

It'd take him days to get all that Jello out of the tub," recalled Henny, and added reflectively: "If times were tough, he might even decide to eat it."

Henny's other favorite gag was to have a friend at a nearby restaurant table summoned to the phone and then put by his plate a printed card saying, "the management requests that you please leave quietly."

Well, fellow voters, it's up to you. If you want a paid practical joker in government, just wire your Congressman. But will he want any professional competition?

Where Do Babies Come From? Senator Will Tell

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah's Legislature is holding a special session to consider a number of school matters, and one of the items up for action is a revision of the state's annual census of school-age children.

"I don't know where all those kids come from, but there sure are a lot of them," said Sen. Luke Clegg during the debate.

Sen. Jaren L. Jones interrupted: "If Sen. Clegg doesn't know where all the kids are coming from, I'll be glad to tell him if he'll step outside for a few minutes."

JERUSALEM, Jordan Section (AP) —A "holy war" against Israel was threatened yesterday at the opening of a Moslem "Conference for Palestine's Salvation From Israeli Occupation."

Thirty-four leading Moslem personalities from all Arab countries, as well as from Pakistan, Afghanistan and Indonesia, took part.

Mohammad Mahmad Elsawaf, secretary general of the Iraqi Salvation Committee, said in a speech that "the day will come when we are going to declare a jihad (holy war) for the salvation of Palestine."

Red Rulers Seize Bulgaria's Books in Mass Raids

VIENNA (AP)— Bulgaria's Red rulers, raiding the nation's private bookshelves and public libraries for "waste paper," have destroyed all pre-Communist literature, a Bulgarian newspaper reveals.

The toll includes many valuable old books once the pride of Bulgarian libraries.

The magazine Literaturen Front, for example, announced the waste paper drive was so thorough "the whole contents of the 100-year-old public library in Lom were sent to the paper mill and rammed into bins."

Communist functionaries did a similar job all over the country, according to Literaturen Front. The books and manuscripts collected were shipped to Sofia and sorted by color before being carted to paper mills.

Bulgarian news organs indicate the waste paper drive is only one small part of a bigger movement to regiment the minds of seven million Bulgarians, most of whom are anti-Communist peasants.

Details of the ever-increasing Russification of literature also have been disclosed by Bulgarian newspapers. They show that more than 60 per cent of Bulgaria's literary production now is "of Soviet Bolshevik origin."

In 1944, only 3.4 per cent of books published in Bulgaria were original Soviet works or translations. In 1950, that figure has risen to 35 per cent.

New 6-Part Pill to Treat Ulcers

Combines 4 Anti-Acids; Relieved Pain in a Few Days for 250 Patients

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A six part pill was described as a new and promising treatment for stomach ulcers in an exhibit shown today to the American Medical Assn.

It combines four different anti-acids to counteract excess stomach acids causing or worsening the ulcers. The fifth element is an oatmeal extract which binds the acid-fighters together and releases them slowly for about two hours. The sixth ingredient is a gummy material which forms a protective coating over the lining of the stomach or the duodenum, the first part of the intestine.

These new pills, not yet on the market, have relieved pain within a few days in most of more than 250 patients treated so far, according to the exhibit.

The exhibit is staged by Doctors Leo L. Hardt and Frederick Steigmann, Stritch School of Medicine of Loyola University and Cook County Graduate School of Medicine, and Clarence A. Maaske and Robert Grover of the University of Colorado School of Medicine, Denver.

* * *

The pills are known to have helped the healing-over of ulcers in the stomach, Dr. Hardt said. And X-rays of many patients show no ulcer scars in the duodenum, an area which can't be seen by the gastroscope, a tube which takes pictures within the stomach.

The pills combine four anti-acids commonly used for ulcers—calcium carbonate, aluminum hydroxide, magnesium trisilicate and magnesium carbonate.

Used separately, some of these produce undesirable effects, such as constipation or diarrhea, Dr. Hardt said. But the combination so far shows no bad effects. Patients take about 24 pills a day, usually before and after meals, and before bedtime.

Treatment usually is continued for at least a year, with fewer pills in the second six months.

Egypt to Be Neutral Until Action on Canal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Egypt has served notice it will adopt a policy of neutrality in the cold war unless the Western Big Three find a formula at Bermuda to meet Egyptian demands for control of the Suez Canal.

6 Reds Seeking to Air FBI Files

Defense in Detroit Trial Says Records Would Show Baldwin Error

DETROIT (AP)—Six Michigan Communists on trial for conspiracy renewed today their attempts to delve into secret files of the FBI.

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard turned down temporarily a request yesterday that FBI records be subpoenaed, commenting: "I'm not going to allow a fishing expedition about matters that may or may not exist."

Ernest Goodman, attorney for three of the six defendants, was permitted, however, to present arguments for introduction of the FBI records today.

Goodman insisted thay would show discrepancies in the testimony of Mrs. Bereniece Baldwin a key government witness who claims to have been an FBI undercover agent within the party for nine years.

Goodman argued that the FBI should be required to make available memoranda and reports which Mrs. Baldwin claims to have submitted regarding several Communist meetings about which she has testified in the current trial.

The defense also has indicated that Mrs. Baldwin's personal life will be a target.

Thus far it has attempted to discredit her recollection of names, places and dates in her testimony here. Comparisons have been drawn between it and her testimony before the Subversive Activities Control Board in Washington.

Women Are Larger Now in Waists and Shoulders

ST. LOUIS (UP)—They're planning to put 150 years of St. Louis styles on review next February but original dresses can't be used because women now are larger—in some places.

Miss Marjory Douglas, curator of the "Cavalcade of Fashion," says it's the waists and shoulders that have spread the most through the years. The costumes in most cases will be authentic reproductions.

Cotton Program Back in Capitol

Benson Tosses Crop Control Issue in Lap of Congress Again

WASHINGTON (UP)—Congress had a controversial cotton crop control program back in its lap today—tossed there for the second time in recent weeks by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

This time Benson wrote to Rep. Whitten (D-Miss) disputing the latter's contention that the secretary could allow farmers to plant more cotton in 1954 than they would be permitted to do under a control program Benson announced in October.

Because of a big surplus, Benson proclaimed marketing quotas on the 1954 crop and announced a national planting allotment of 17,910,000 acres—a reduction of about 26 per cent from this year's plantings.

The GOP farm chief said at the time that such a sharp cut would have serious effects on the economy of the South, but added that he was without legal authority to allow a larger acreage. He did state, however, that he would urge Congress to authorize a reasonable increase.

* * *

Two weeks ago Whitten told Benson that farm law did give him authority to set a larger allotment. The secretary said he would re-examine the law and the situation. Several other Southern lawmakers publicly agreed with Whitten.

* * *

He wrote Whitten yesterday that the lawmaker was wrong. Furthermore, Benson said, "widespread publicity" given Whitten's argument had resulted in "misunderstanding" of the secretary's authority.

Benson did agree that farm law gave him authority to boost allotments in case of a national emergency. But there is nothing in the cotton supply and demand situation in this country or abroad, the secretary said, which would justify action under these emergency provisions.

Benson said he could foresee no possible situation that would find this country short of cotton.

Phone Tip Saved Life

HAMMOND, Ind. (UP)—A telephone operator, Mrs. Irene Holland, won a medal for "effective use of telephone facilities" in an emergency. She instructed a telephone subscriber who was gasping for breath in his gas-filled home to "throw the phone through the window," the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. reported.

SKELETON SHORTAGE—Since the abolition of capital punishment in Germany, there's been a shortage of anatomical material for schools and hospitals. To ease the problem, a small factory near Baden-Baden started a rapidly growing business making bones and skeletons out of plastic. Here a factory worker puts the finishing touch on one of the models.

Rescue of 300-Lb. Man Takes Hunters 2 Hours

GRAYLING, Mich. (UP)—It took two companions two hours to get William Howe, 33, out of a swamp after he was accidentally shot in the leg while deer hunting. Howe is 6 feet 3 and weighs 300 pounds. He's recuperating in a hospital.

Mitchum to Answer Speeding Charge

WEST LOS ANGELES, Calif. (UP)—Actor Robert Mitchum is scheduled to appear in court today to answer a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in the city limits.

After his attorney posted $250 bail yesterday, a warrant charging escape and evading arrest was withdrawn.

Motorcycle officer J. N. Ryan said Mitchum suddenly drove off while he was writing out a ticket for speeding Wednesday night.

Ryan said the actor later phoned the police station and explained, "I wasn't sure you were a cop, Dad; I thought you were a bandit, so I went home."

Man Lights Cigarette, Dies in Grass Fire

DAYTON, Ohio (UP)—David Hale, 36, told police before he died that he sat down in a field, lit a cigarette and dozed off.

He was found in the middle of a grass fire yesterday and died in a hospital of burns hours later. Deputy Coroner George Y. Markus listed the death as "probably accidental."

Parley Held by Deanery in Roseville

Quarterly Meeting Staged Thursday by Catholic Women

The Rev. William J. Rademacher was moderator of the third quarterly meeting of Northwestern Deanery of National Council of Catholic Women at Sacred Heart Parish, Roseville, Thurday afternoon.

The Rev. Raymond Clancy, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, gave the welcoming address, and speaker of the day was the Rev. John Trese, director of the Catholic Family Center for Oakland County.

Father Trese spoke on social and religious work done by the Center, and he urged members to volunteer services to the program. Mass kit and vestments, a gift from the deanery, were displayed by Father Trese.

Annual reports from parish contacts and deanery chairmen were heard. Mrs. Charles McCarthy announced a parent education class at St. Mary Magdelene Parish, Hazel Park, to begin in January.

Actresses Posé for Mannequins

Dummies Look Familiar?

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

NEW YORK (UP)—A face that resembles Rosalind Russell's stares back with plastic calm at Fifth Avenue window shoppers now, the latest product of the fascinating mannequin industry.

Every now and then someone checks into the vital statistics of window dummies, called mannequins, also spelled manikins, by the people who buy and sell them for as much as $220 per horsehair-covered head.

Somewhere, mused a man who produces them, there must be a mannequin graveyard. They grow old, even as flesh and blood, and newer, fresher paper and plastic girls take their places.

Like Rosalind Russell, as we were saying. She modeled for the clay-sculptured head that inspired the newest batch of mannequins at Bonwit Teller's Fifth Avenue Store.

It is unusual, but not unprecedented, for a famous actress to model for a mannequin. Gene Moore, the display director responsible for Miss Russell's likeness in his store windows, used Vivien Leigh as a model seven years ago and, more recently, Audrey Hepburn.

"They can't exactly look like them because we have to think about window lighting," Moore said. "Certain features must be softened or accented or they would be distorted by display lighting.

"We get new sets of manhequins twice a year. Most people have to be trained to notice a new face in the window. It's awful, but the average window shopper just doesn't pay any attention."

Figures are another matter. A mannequin's figure can't be copied from any girl's not even the slim, long-legged Miss Russell.

"You just can't use a tape measure on a mannequin," explained Edgar Rosenthal, president of the Greneker Corp., which turns out the most expensive mannequins in the business.

"There are posture changes," he continued, "but measurements rarely change. Along about 1947 women lost their military stance, and so did mannequins.

"Women seemed to adopt a more relaxed position when the war was over. So mannequins' shoulders became more drooping, but there hasn't been a major change since."

Incidentally, it is extremely rare for one of those window figures to measure larger than a size 14, no matter what kind of clothes are shown on it.

This, even the experts admit, explains why a dress often looks better on a figure in the window than it does on the shopper.

Rep. Dondero Assures Republican Women That Taxes Will Decline

Special Guests Are Introduced County Federation Holds Yule Party

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE

County Republican women got a heartening indication Thursday that they will have some extra money to put in the family budget next year when Rep. George A. Dondero assured them that they will not be burdened with excessive taxes in 1954.

Sponsored by the Republican Women's Federation of Oakland County, the affair was held at the Birmingham Community House.

Continuing, Rep. Dondero said more than 100,000 government workers have been released from useless jobs, which in turn saves the American people's money.

Under the Republican administration, Rep. Dondero said, all unnecessary government expenses are being done away with, and he added that once more private enterprise has been encouraged.

The federal budget has been reduced about 14 billion dollars over what it was last year, he reported, and Congress is watching closely the purse strings of the nation.

Mrs. William A. Kennedy, president of the federation, introduced Mrs. Bert Norton, program chairman for the annual Christmas party and the first president of the Oakland County group.

Mrs. Norton presented Oriel Endelman, executive secretary of the Michigan Children's Aid Society, who spoke briefly on the work of the agency. All proceeds from the party were turned over to Miss Endelman to be used for the society.

Also speaking briefly was Mrs. John B. Martin Jr. who is a member of the state board of the Michigan Children's Aid Society and who is active in PTA and youth groups.

Mrs. Charles A. Dean Jr. of Grosse Pointe, national finance chairman from Michigan, told of the need for campaign funds and revealed that the Oakland County finance drive netted $4,447 and that the recent "Grand Old Party" dance held at Sheraton-Cadillac grossed $33,000.

Mrs. Kennedy is chairman of the Oakland County finance drives and Mrs. Charles Carey of Bloomfield Hills is cochairman.

Special guests introduced were Mrs. Rae E. Hooker, national committeewoman from Michigan, Rep. Fred Beardslee and Mrs. Beardslee, Mrs. Dondero and Mrs. Clare Fuller of the State Central Committee.

Mrs. Ralph Cook, Mrs. Helen Reese, Postmaster Leslie Dean, Mrs. Herman Luhrs, Mrs. William Donner, Mrs. George A. Brown, Mrs. Charles J. Barrett and Mrs. Sadie Williams were others introduced.

David Redwood led community singing and sang two solos. Mrs. Donner was chairman of the luncheon and Mrs. Luhrs had charge of the yuletide decorations.

Mrs. Brown gave the invocation and Mrs. Everett Reese led the salute to the Flag.

The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of blue iridescent taffeta with a tiara of pearls to hold her short veil. Baby red rosebuds and cymbidium orchids formed her corsage.

Mrs. William Albut attended her sister and Clayton McPherson was best man.

After a reception at Moose Lodge the couple left for a northern Michigan honeymoon. They also visited Edison, Neb., and Chicago.

Silly Season is Sparkling this Year

That's No Yule Tree, It's Only a Girl

Artificial snow is outdoing nature this year, with nearly a dozen vivid colors being added to the traditional white to provide the homeowner or shopkeeper with a handy push-button spray for creating unusual Christmas decorations.

There's even a variety of fluorescent snows that offer new, richer, more vibrant colors under ordinary light and, when exposed to "black light," glow with a shimmering radiance that imparts a third-dimension effect to the flattest surface on which they're sprayed. They come in fire orange, saturn red, signal green, neon red and arc yellow.

Packed in easy-to-use containers that spray simulated snowflakes at the touch of a finger, aerosol snows first appeared on the market in large quantity last Christmas and achieved popularity quickly. This year they're not only available in a wider range of colors, but the quality is much improved.

The size of particles in the spray, particularly in the colored snow, has been increased so the sprayed snow simulates more closely the delicate, fluffy flakes that nature often neglects to provide for Christmas.

Practically all the current season's snows also show better adhesion, yet are more easily removed at the end of the holiday. Most of them can be simply brushed off with a dry cloth, or a slightly damp cloth, when it's time to take down the Christmas decorations.

Housewife Teaches Herself to Do Mechanical Repair Work at Home

She Learns How to Mend Appliances and Even Plans to Make Clock-Radio

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"You once said that you always like to hear from women who have worked out interesting projects," a reader wrote the other day. "Well, I have one, even if it does sound a little weird!"

"I'm really very happy," she said, "but I do sort of miss my old job. I was one of the women who worked on an assembly line during the last war, and loved every minute of it.

"Mechanical things fascinate me, and always have. For a while I even wanted to be an engineer."

Well, after the children were in kindergarten, this mother had a little free time.

"I decided to start right at home," she said, "and really learn how to be a home mechanic. I got hold of a very good book called 'Guide to Home Repairs.'

"My husband kidded me, but I told him that he was not to touch one single repair job around the house from then on. I was going to learn how to do them myself.

"I started with easy things like broken plugs. I repaired a lamp. Then I made a lamp out of a vase.

"Well, I worked my way up until I could fix simple things that went wrong with the radio, the electric clock and the vacuum cleaner. My husband stopped kidding me. The kids thought I was a positive genius.

"I kept studying the book," she went on, "and got a very good understanding of most mechanisms. Right now, I'm about to install our new door chimes, and after that I'm going to experiment with making a clock-radio.

"We've saved enough on repair bills to buy the equipment I need, and everything runs so much more smoothly now.

"My husband always used to mean to get around to fixing things, but never had time. Now that I have such skill, I find the time.

"The best thing is, I'm really learning and improving every day, and it makes life much more interesting. Some day, when the kids are grown, I bet I can get a real mechanic's job!"

The home, in addition to all the other things it is, can be a woman's workshop, where she experiments with the skills and subjects that interest her — and at the same time, builds up a nice social security for the future.

Freshness Restful

It's a pity we don't always appreciate the benefits of sleepwear fresh from the soapsuds. Like fresh clean sheets, a fresh nightie or pajama helps induce soothing sleep and makes one feel far more relaxed in the morning.

A gorgeous arrangement, bright with the colors of Christmas, is this combination of carnations, evergreens and shiny ornaments.

Mirror Decorating

The newer mirrors with wrought iron frames make Christmas decorating easy. Sprigs of laurel, holly, pine or spruce can easily be inserted in the frame all around the borders of the mirror.

Fold, Store Knits

Knitted apparel tends to stretch out of shape when hung for long periods. Hand-knit dresses should be folded no more than twice and stored in a drawer rather than hung in the closet.

Bed Tray Inspired by Airline Service

Something new for TV viewers or breakfast-in-bedders — a neat little tray of the type used on the airlines, fitted with two ivory colored plates, dessert bowl, coffee cup, salt and pepper shakers, two tumblers.

This type of tray is easy to balance when balance is important and easy as possible o keep shining and sanitary with warm soapsuds.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Middy Blouses Banished From Halls of Congress

Meredith Shafer of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, read the nostalgic about my mother's cooking and writes that she and her four sisters, column about my mother's cooking and writes that she and her four sisters, now scattered around Missouri, Nebraska and Ohio, are about to hold their first family reunion in seven years and will "have all the things you mentioned, even homemade ice cream so that we can scramble for a lick at the dasher."

MISS McBRIDE

Meredith went on to say that she'd heard about me from her cousin, the late Douglas Meng& who, like herself, came originally from Missouri.

"You will recall that he tipped the scales at about 400 pounds. I can still hear my mother back in Lexington, Mo., say when she saw him coming to call, 'Hurry, children, and hide my little rocker. Here is your Cousin Doug.'"

Meredith Shafer, your letter brought me a moment of what I believe is known as total recall. Reading your words I found myself back in Washington, D. C., on a hot summer day 30 years ago and there was your Cousin Doug, mopping his kind perspiring face desperately as he tried to pass on to me tactfully a message from the sergeant-at-arms of the United States Senate.

The reason the sergeant-at-arms was sending a message to me was that he was my boss. He was your Cousin Doug's boss, too, for Douglas was assistant sergeant-at-arms and when I finished college he found me a job as folder in the office.

I never did know exactly what a folder was supposed to do, but what I did was make gasoline bills for senators and once, when a lawmaker died, I pecked out on a typewriter a voucher for his funeral expenses.

Aside from that, I stood at attention when a senator came to visit us, handed him glasses of water, telephoned his home to say he'd be late, and generally made him feel master of all he surveyed.

It was a very interesting job, particularly the salary because I never knew from month to month what it would be. That was because I automatically became the employe of whatever senator had a vacancy on his patronage list. Some months were therefore a good deal better for me than others.

Poor Douglas Meng felt responsible for me, which was why he'd been given the uncomfortable chore of telling me something very personal. He stammered and stumbled over his words but I gathered at length that he was talking about my clothes.

My wardrobe at the time consisted entirely of middy blouses and skirts with a couple of cotton and gingham dresses such as I'd worn back in Missouri. And I had no money to buy anything else. So I began to cry when I finally got the gist of what Doug was saying.

"You mean," I sobbed, "that you don't want me to wear middy blouses to the office any more?"

Yes, you designed this kitchen charmer! You told us just what you wanted — complete coverage against sizzling sauces! Plus wide straps that never, ever slip off. Plus pockets for hanky, incidentals. Half-apron, too (for serving).

Pattern 4505: Misses' sizes small (14, 16); medium (18, 20); large (40, 42). Small takes 1⅞ yards 35-inch fabric.

This pattern easy to use, simple to sew, is tested for fit.

Easy Recipe Will Make Two Things

Use 'Ginger Gems' for Making Muffins or Quick Bread

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Here's a recipe that will make muffins or a loaf of quick bread. Ginger Gems should be excellent with baked beans, or slices of the loaf will make delicious tea sandwiches. The recipe was given to us by Mrs. Floyd A. Campbell.

Children and music are two of the interests that claim Mrs. Campbell's time. During World War II she was a beloved nursery school teacher. For several years recently she has been a primary grade substitute teacher.

Tuesday Musicale counts her among its membership, as does the Pioneer Hooked Rug Club and Entre Nous.

GINGER GEMS

By Mrs. Floyd A. Campbell

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup molasses
1 beaten egg
¼ cup sour milk
1 cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon soda

Mix all ingredients together and bake in greased muffin tins for 14 to 16 minutes at 375 degrees. If you wish to make the loaf, bake at 375 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes.

Girl Goes Steady for Over Two Years and Then Dad Suddenly Disapproves

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I went with Joe for two years, six months and three weeks without any trouble at home. My parents never objected.

"But now my father is having fits. He says I'm too young to go steady. Why didn't he tell me that before this?

"Joe is supposed to go into service before too long, and after he goes I am not going out—so my father might just as well get used to that. Can you help me?"

Perhaps I can help you understand your father's attitude. After two years, six months and three weeks of having Joe around, his point of view about your dating together has changed. Out of the clear dozen ideas he has in his mind, he has chosen the simplest and most concise to express to you. He says you're too young to go steady.

He doesn't say that, on longer acquaintance, Joe isn't exactly the boy he'd pick for you. He doesn't say that he doesn't like your absorption in a boy—even Joe—at your age. He doesn't say that Joe's impending departure for the service suddenly makes him aware of the fact that Joe is getting pretty grown up.

He doesn't say that he doesn't like the prospect of your wanting to get married early. He doesn't say any of these things—the things that may be troubling him sorely.

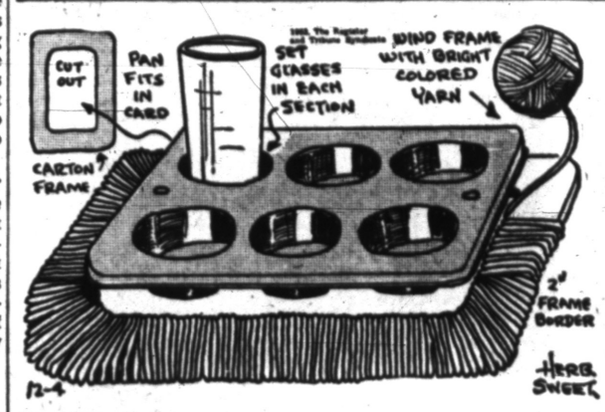

He says the obvious—you're too young to be thinking so seriously of any boy, without having had a wide acquaintance with lots of boys.

In asking you to ease the stranglehold Joe has at the moment, he's asking you to take your time, to look around a bit more, to do some growing up before you drift into a more serious relationship with Joe.

His going away is just what the doctor ordered, actually. Separation from him will give you a chance to stand on your feet as an individual apart from Joe. It will prove to you both whether or not your affection for each other can stand the strain of distance, time and the normal changes in your dispositions.

Your father doesn't want you to make any mistakes about Joe. A cooling-off period is all he asks. Time to meet other boys whom you may or may not find attractive—but whom you will compare with Joe.

Time to catch up on all the things you've no time for with Joe hovering around. Time to find out whether Joe is just habit.

Try It

Make Beverage Trays

I am sure that many of you Try-Iteers are looking for a present for Mother or Dad for this Christmas. How about making this handy pan tray?

Parents and grandparents like to receive a present which you make. They know that you have spent time to make it, and this gives them a good feeling.

You will need a six-cup muffin tin, that is a pan with six little cups which are used to make muffins or cupcakes. You will find that these are quite inexpensive at the dime stores.

Give this one or two coats of enamel paint. Some paints may cover in one coat, others may take two coats. Let the pan dry completely.

Put the pan down on a piece of cardboard and measure off 2 inches all around the tin. Cut this out. Put the tin down again and draw around the pan, then cut this inside part out. The pan will now fit in the cardboard frame.

Wrap the frame completely with heavy yarn. This will make a frame which will fit snugly around the pan.

You can now set the glasses in the little cups, and they will not slide around as refreshments are served. Make several of these for gifts.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

What you wear to a party isn't nearly as important as the frame of mind you're in when you start out. Go feeling sure that the evening is going to be a dud and you wish you could have stayed at home—and your hostess hasn't much of a chance to make you have a good time. But go with your mind made up to have a good time—and you probably will.

BISHOP-BRACKEN

A touch of color at the neckline if your coat is dark; or a solid dark color dress if your coat is a brilliant color.

Miss D. E.—Jewelry is impressive because it is elaborate and decidedly dressy in character. The simplified sheath dress with the emphasis above the waist, is the perfect background for this luxury and elegance in jewelry.

Cards on Mirror

Tape some of your more attractive Christmas cards around the edges of a large mirror in the foyer, living room or dining room. A few sprigs of holly or pine branches inserted between the cards and the mirror face provide an effective treatment.

Flowered Silks '54 Fabric Trend

Flower-strewn silks will be the most important fabric trend of 1954, according to top designers.

From tiny rosebuds scattered over white silk surah to massed bouquets of brilliant orange and yellows woven into warp taffeta, the silken surface and lush flower colors will inspire fashions for everything from bathing suits to evening gowns.

Tailored clothes will use flowered silks as linings and facings on lapels, and many a sober wool coat will breeze back to show off an ultra-feminine flowered dress beneath.

Airbase Develops New Kite of Plastic

Something for the kids has come out of Langley Field, Va., where military aircraft are developed and tested. This is a new type kite made of laminated plastic scrim with plastic seams replacing the old-style wooden rims.

Sturdy enough to take any gale, this kite can be washed with soapsuds, rolled up, and stored away when not in use.

Lighted Trees Outdoors Tops in Yule Display

A lighted outdoor Christmas tree is probably the most popular among home decorations for the holiday season, but many other striking ideas can be worked out with a little thought and planning.

Lighted windows, decorated doorways, cutout figures of Santa Claus and carol singers in the yard, on the porch, on the chimney or on the roof, lighted stars and wreaths, giant candles, festoons of colored lights under the eaves or along gable ends are some of the keys you can use to exercise your own ingenuity.

Modern weatherproof lighting equipment makes it possible to place spotlights and floodlights beneath shrubbery and other places where the lamp itself will be hidden while only the beam is visible.

Colored caps for such lights clamp over the lens.

Lighting engineers have worked out many practical "do-it-yourself" ideas for the home owner who plans temporary outdoor Christmas decorations. And these experts suggest a minimum of rules and "don'ts."

Concerning floodlighting, about the only common sense rule laid down is when lamps are aimed at a decorated doorway place them off to one side to avoid "blinding" persons going in or out of the door.

First painted rooftop and highway markers for air travel were set up between Indianapolis, Ind. and Dayton, Ohio.

Auto Plant in China

HONGKONG (UP)—The cornerstone for China's first automobile plant was laid July 15 in Northeast China, according to a New China News Agency report published here. The exact site was not disclosed. The agency said the plant had been planned by Soviet experts and would be equipped with Soviet machinery.

Production of honey is the least important of the bee's services to man, polination of food and other crops being far more important.

Scientists Study Sound to Relieve Jet Workers

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (UP)—Scientists at the Los Angeles campus of the University of California are studying high intensity sounds in an effort to bring relief for the eardrums of people who work with jet engines.

Drs. Leo Delasso and Glenn Werth, are making studies of the sounds to determine what actions are harmful to the ears of people who work around such sound sources. The study is being made under an office research contract.

FRED A. THAYER

Capt. David M. Kimball Camp 51, United Spanish War Veterans, held its annual election at the American Legion Home on Auburn avenue recently. They elected Fred A. Thayer of Pontiac, commander; William White of Hadley, senior vice commander; and Sylvester Dust of Pontiac, junior vice commander. Other offices are appointive. All of the department officers were present for the annual inspection.

4-H Girl Sells Prize Protege for $20 a Pound

CHICAGO (UP)—A steer that a 4-H Club girl bought as a calf for $189 a year ago was sold for a record price of $20 a pound today at the International Livestock Exposition.

The sale of the Hereford, "Lone Star," will put $20,100 in the purse of Miss Sue White, 18, of Big Spring, Tex., and enable her to continue her college education.

The steer's selling weight was recorded officially at 1,005 pounds. It weighed 140 pounds when she bought it in September 1952.

Albert Pick, president of the American Hotel Assn., paid the highest price ever offered for a grand champion of the International. He also bought the previous record high-priced steer for $12 a pound in 1950.

* * *

Both "Lone Star" and "Big Spring Special," the 1950 grand champion owned by Lloyd Robinson, then 19, also of Big Spring, were Herefords from Howard county, Tex.

The $20 a pound paid for "Lone Star" was more than four times that paid for last year's winner. That was a shorthorn shown by Ohio State University which went for $4.55 a pound, lowest price since 1948.

* * *

The lowest price in the 54-year history of the International was recorded in 1909. The grand champion, an Aberdeen Angus weighing 1,750 pounds, sold for 18 cents a pound. It was shown by Kansas State College.

Nattily attired in a woman's Western costume, Miss White was a colorful figure in the auction ring outside the big amphitheater, scene of the week-long show of farmland's bluebloods.

She led her steer around the ring in the glare of floodlights set up for photographers and smiled happily as vigorous bidding shot up the price to where she could see her longed-for college future assured.

Victim of Fire in Livonia Dead

Mrs. Evelyn Hoffmeyer Held Secret of Cause; Case Called Murder

DETROIT (AP)—The one person who police said held "the whole secret of what happened" in the suburban Livonia fire that claimed the life of 4-year-old Elaine Hoffmeyer is dead today.

She was Elaine's mother, Mrs. Evelyn Hoffmeyer, 33, who died yesterday of pneumonia after having been rescued unconscious with a 4-weeks-old son from their smoke-filled home last week.

Mrs. Hoffmeyer died last night. In brief questioning after her rescue police said she told them she llas asleep and awoke to find the home filled with smoke.

State Police Lt. William Newstead said yesterday that "this is definitely a murder case now," adding: "We have eliminated all possible causes of the fire except the human element. . . . Mrs. Hoffmeyer holds the whole secret of what happened."

A preliminary report from state laboratories showed there was an ounce of kerosene in a can found in a burned-out bedroom of the Hoffmeyer home, and Newstead said flames broke out in four different parts of the house simultaneously.

Newstead said Elaine's father, Lester, 38, wasn't at home at the time of the fire.

Missing Farmer Found Dead of Heart Attack

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—Sheriff's deputies last night found the body of a 73-year-old Indian Lake farmer who had been missing for several hours Thursday.

Deputies found the body of Irving Goodrich near a barn on his Cass County farm. Aided by volunteers, deputies began a search for Goodrich after his sister notified police that he was missing.

Coroner Adam Greenwald ruled Goodrich suffered a fatal heart attack.

Teeners Urge State Push Driver Training

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Better qualified driving instructors and driver training for every student above 15 years of age are recommendations which 200 high school students had left with state authorities today.

The teenagers, meeting at Western Michigan College, also recommended that equal publicity be given accidents of teenagers and adults, that stiffer exams be given for license renewals, that school zone speed limits be more rigidly enforced in adults, and that driver safety clubs be organized in all schools.

M. R. Darlington Jr., managing director of the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee, Washington, D. C., told the students that driver education in high schools is the best hope for reducing the nation's traffic toll.

Wife of Detroit Lions Star Dies in Hospital

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Mary Lou Torgeson, wife of Detroit Lions star Lavern (Torgy) Torgeson, died today at Woman's Hospital.

Mrs. Torgeson, 24, was hospitalized Wednesday with a liver infection. She was given several blood transfusions yesterday.

Her husband and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve O. Pease of South Tacoma, Wash., were at her bedside when she died.

Torgeson is a veteran linebacker in his third year with the Lions.

Pre-Christmas Activities Engage High Schoolers

High school students returned from a fun-filled Thanksgiving holiday and plunged into pre-Christmas activities.

Senior activities at PHS got into high gear as Prom plans and National Honors stole the spotlight at the old brick teepee.

St. Mike students looked forward to Christmas, with activities which ranged from collecting clothes, to garnering money for a new church.

Upperclassmen at St. Fred dug into their past; and basketball rivalry reached a new peak at the high school.

Busy students looked ahead to a whole new holiday season, of dances, confabs and pre-graduation events.

ST. FREDERICK

"Pint-sized seniors" was the theme of the senior class bulletin board this week at St. Fred's.

MARY

Upperclassmen revealed their pasts and brought their favorite baby pictures for display.

Mary Drake, school scribe, writes that intramural games are keeping the girls basketball team "on the ball."

Jean McHugh and her team of juniors still remain undefeated although the competition still hopes to unseat them.

American history classes currently are intent on "getting the facts, just the facts" on our own state of Michigan.

Maurice Yarnold a senior class member and participant on the varsity basketball team is busy covering the sport's scene this year for St. Fred's. Maurice reports all high school sporting events.

PONTIAC HIGH

Vicky Micu, PHS newshound, tracked down some bits of school data following the leisurely 5-day Thanksgiving respite.

VICKY

Things were almost back to normal in the brick teepee, as senior chiefs scanned National Honor Society lists, and honor speakers rehearsed those all important lines.

Senior prom planners whirled in a daze of activities as chairmen pored over suggestions and advice for the gala event.

On Dec. 1, Student Union members were treated to an assembly featuring two table tennis champions. PHS students also were allowed to show their prowess and participated in the exhibition.

ST. MICHAEL

Christmas projects were the topic of the day at St. Michael as sophomore sodalists collected clothes for the leper colonies. Freshmen workers also did their bit, by raising funds to aid a Japanese priest in his plans for a new church.

MARGARET

Margaret Martin, Michaelite newshound, reports that junior classmen not to be outdone, added to the charitable side of school life too. Clansmen prepared Thanksgiving baskets for needy families.

The second edition of the "Michaelite," St. Michael's newssheet, also came off the presses this week.

Teachers' Conference

HONOR SPEAKERS—Taking part in the traditional National Honor Assembly Dec. 9 at Pontiac High School will be these four students chosen from the graduating class. Representing character will be Tom Metzdorf (left) of 165 N. Johnson Ave., while Peggy Thompson (second from left), of 250 Draper St., will offer the pledge to the flag. Lighting new candle is Pat Mann of 127 Washington St., who will exemplify service and Monroe (Bud) Osmun of 83 Spokane Dr., who will speak for leadership. Pat Spehar, representing scholarship in the assembly, is not pictured.

Seniors to Join Honor Society

Mann, Spehar, Osmun and Metzdorf to Speak in Assembly Dec. 9

Eighteen Pontiac High School students have been elected to the National Honor Society, one of the highest honors bestowed on senior classmen.

The seniors who were elected by the faculty, will be rewarded for three years of outstanding work at a school assembly slated for Dec. 9. Friends, relatives, classmates and freshmen will attend.

Honor students, upon receiving gold pins and membership cards, will sign their names to the society's ledger.

The eighteen, all prospective January graduates, were granted membership on the basis of character, service, leadership and scholarship. Exemplifying these attributes will be four principal speakers chosen from the senior class.

Representing character will be Tom Metzdorf; service, Patricia Mann; scholarship, Patricia Spehar, and leadership, Monroe Osmun.

Peggy Thompson will offer the pledge to the flag.

Entering into the society will be Gerald Christopherson, Shirley Clancy, Joyce Carger, Gretchen Horton, Patricia Mann, Carl Mapley and Tom Metzdorf.

Other seniors joining are Carol Opland, Monroe Osmun, Laura Pearson, Diana Pierson, Gwen Polk, David Richards, and Carol Sapp.

Completing the list of honor grads is Patricia Spehar, Carl Theorin, Peggy Thompson, and Mary Tsekery.

Says Many Avoid Draft in School

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A draft board chairman here says he thinks too many young men go to college just to keep out of the armed services.

Milton Bowers, president of the Memphis Board of Education and head of Draft Board 86, outlined his views yesterday at a meeting of high school principals attending the Southern Assn. of Colleges and Secondary Schools convention.

Bowers added he believes many colleges and universities dangle military deferment promises before high school seniors in drives to build up maximum enrollment.

The convention, with about 1,500 delegates from 11 states attending, ends tomorrow. The association covers about 1,800 high schools and 300 colleges.

Allies Set Date to Free POWs

Unrepatriated Troops to Be Released Jan. 22; 30 Reject Pleas

PANMUNJOM (AP)—U. S. envoy Arthur H. Dean told the Communists today that unrepatriated war prisoners will be freed Jan. 22 unless a peace conference decides some other course "and no human hand or mind or debate change it."

"We are never going to agree, under any circumstances, to a change in that date," he declared.

Dean and Communist diplomats huddled for almost three hours on plans for a peace conference while a few miles away 30 more South Korean war prisoners unanimously rejected pleas to return home.

Allied persuaders in three days have talked to 90 South Koreans who chose life under the Communists and not one has changed his mind.

* * *

ROK officers whisked through 30 interviews before noon today. The U.N. Command asked to interview 40 prisoners Saturday. The repatriation commission said the request for an extra 10 was filed too late, but tonight the commission approved it.

The preliminary peace talks are in recess until Monday. Dean asked that a Saturday session be called off because he will be in Seoul for conferences with South Korea's President Syngman Rhee.

He refused to divulge the subject of the talks and would not comment on rumored differences between the U. N. Command the South Korean government over plans for a peace conference.

* * *

The spokesman for 17 Allied nations which fought in Korea spelled out their position on unrepatriated prisoners after the Communists heatedly insisted that the POWs could "never be released" until a peace conference decides their fate.

Dean said the Reds appeared to be trying to block a peace conference in an attempt to hold in indefinite captivity 22,600 Korean and Chinese war prisoners who have refused to go back to Communist rule.

At Least It's Collegiate

LOGAN, Utah (UP)—Dr. E. G. Peterson, former president of Utah State Agricultural College, said in a dinner speech shortly before he retired after many years of service: "I am what some people lovingly call the president of a college, but it's janitorial work really."

Alarming Moth

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UP)—Fire Marshal Walter Zimmer found no fire when he investigated the cause of an alarm, but he theorized that a moth found inside a vault protected by the fire alarm system had fluttered across the system's electronic beam, setting off the alarm.

SOUND OFF—The photographer got this straight from the camel's mouth as he moved in for this picture at the London, England, zoo. Although too close for comfort as far as the photographer was concerned, George is a favorite of children who visit the zoo.

Man Uses Wrong Name 30 Years; Asks Change

ERIE, Pa. (UP) — An Erie man discovered when he applied for an overseas job with an oil company that he wasn't who he thought he was.

His birth certificate, he found, carried his name as Daniel Dalewski. For the 30 years of his life, he'd been spelling his last name without the "W."

He asked the Erie County Court to make the Daleski spelling legal to avoid confusion.

THE LITTLE TREE THAT TALKED — By WALT SCOTT

Late Opening Means School in Any Weather

WINTHROP, Mass. (AP) — Come rain, hail, snow or sleet school will keep open this year in Winthrop.

School Supt. Orrin C. Davis said he will not sound the "no school" signal this year because schools opened late and the time must be made up. Parents may use their own discretion in keeping primary graders home on stormy days.

Proper English Spoken by Malayan Populace

IPOH, Malaya (AP) — Malayans speak better English than most English people, in the opinion of British author Alastair Alpin MacGregor, writer of more than 20 books on history, travel and biography.

"Nothing amazes me so much as the ease and facility with which Malayans and other Eastern people have mastered the intricate English language," said MacGregor, who is here gathering material for a 10,000-word article on Malaya.

Builders Urged to Back Product

Start to Give Warranty Against Defective Work on Homes

WASHINGTON (INS)—A two-year-old campaign to persuade home builders to stand behind their product by issuing warranties against defective workmanship is hitting pay dirt.

But the National Association of Home Builders, which has been conducting the drive, says there still is a long hard pull ahead before the practice becomes standard in the industry.

There are no accurate figures on the number of builders now providing written or verbal protection to home buyers against construction flaws.

But spokesmen say there must be at least several thousand, many of whom willingly repair new homes which for some reason are sold unknowingly in a defective condition.

Actually, the practice of issuing warranties has existed on a voluntary basis in the industry for many years but only recently has there been any national concern over the matter.

In the wake of the greatest building boom in history, there have been complaints over defective housing. This has aroused some congressmen to demand a warranty on houses insured by the Federal Housing Administration or bought under the G.I. Bill.

In an effort to meet the complaints, NAHB, has urged its 26,000 builder members to make an attempt at issuing warranties on all the new homes they sell.

NAHB officials and many government experts feel that a government-enforced warranty would create more trouble than good and might result in buyers getting less service than under present conditions.

If federal warranties were imposed, builders would be expected to do only what is required by the government. And NAHB says this definitely would affect the amount of service provided buyers.

Moreover, there are numerous enforcement and legal problems implicit in such a program that might result in untold costs to the government besides weakening operations under the G.I. and the FHA housing programs.

To get the industry behind the warranties on a voluntary basis, NAHB has devised a sample one-year warranty which could be used by most builders. It has advised its members to issue booklets to home buyers telling them how to care for their new home.

Laurent Men Down Nonconfidence Vote

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent's Liberal forces smashed down a Progressive Conservative motion of nonconfidence in Canada's government last night.

The House of Commons vote was 153-56.

The ballot came after a three-week debate on the government-prepared throne speech which opened Parliament and outlined the Cabinet's program. The House action cleared the way for immediate consideration of government legislation.

The defeated motion stated that Canada's welfare depends on free competition and urged action to "restore" markets and promote world trade.

Cadillac

Come In and Order One ... Today!

Of course, any day is a good day for stepping up to Cadillac.

When the magic moment arrives in a man's life when he feels entitled to the Standard of the World, he should make the move without a second's hesitation—regardless of year, or season, or any other consideration.

But we do feel, in all honesty, that the motorist who finds himself in that happy circumstance this fall is particularly fortunate.

For the Cadillac car has never before offered so many, many wonderful things, in such abundant measure, as it does today.

It is supremely beautiful—with grace and dignity and majesty that set it instantly apart from the rest of the world's motor cars.

Its performance is simply breath-taking—even when measured against Cadillac's own past standards. And it is luxurious and distinctive and pride-inspiring far beyond its illustrious predecessors.

In addition to all this, the current Cadillac creation is unbelievably practical to own and operate. The lowest-priced Cadillac now costs less than twenty-two different models of other makes of American motor cars.

And you can ride out a normal, full day's journey on a single tankful of gasoline.

As if this were not sufficient to set it apart, a Cadillac car—according to an authoritative study of used car prices—may be expected to return a greater percentage of its owner's original investment at the time of resale than any other motor car in the land!

So—if you are considering a Cadillac for yourself and your family—come in and order one today!

It is the right thing to do—and the right time to do it.

Pontiac to Hire Tree Trimmer

Two Experienced Men Needed in City Program to Curb Elm Disease

As an aid in curbing the spread of Dutch Elm disease, the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation plans to hire additional experienced tree trimmers.

David R. Ewalt, parks and recreation director, said, "One of the best ways to combat the elm killing disease is by santitation pruning. This involves cutting dead wood out of elms and removing dead and dying trees."

Two positive cases of Dutch Elm disease were found here last summer.

"If nothing is done to check its spread, there is a possibility of losing many elm trees, both on private and city property," said Ewalt.

Many local residents, according to Ewalt, don't realize the city employs men to care for its shade trees. Currently, he said, stumps are being removed along with dead and dying trees of all kinds.

Some 150 stumps will be removed within the next two or three years, Ewalt explained.

Positions are open for two trimmers, Ewalt said, and other qualified applicants will be placed on a waiting list for future employment.

HE GROWS ON YOU—A whole generation has grown up that never saw the inside of a vaudeville theater—and that's why 70-year-old Clarence Willard is still amusin' and amazin' folk by "growing" right before their eyes. Pictures above tell the story. Willard started in show business with famed Phineas T. Barnum. He's been doing his "growing" act for 50 years. Back in 1912 he was a big vaudeville headliner and played long runs in New York. He lives in San Francisco now and just plays in service hospitals now and then and sometimes entertains patrons at Tonypandy, a small bistro in which he has an interest. In first photo, he stands at his normal height of five feet, 11 inches, alongside a coat rack for comparison. In second picture he has passed six feet and finishes off at a height of six feet, three inches.

Merman Misses Stage, Prefers Denver

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's a long way from the bright lights of Broadway and Hollywood to the crisp air of mile-high Denver. But Ethel Merman has made the transition and she's never been happier.

The veteran musical star is a proud resident of the Coloradio capital since her marriage to Bob Six, airlines boss whose headquarters are there. No chamber of commerce ever had a louder voice to sing praises.

"I love Denver," she said emphatically. "I don't think I've ever been happier in my life. The air is simply wonderful; it's the mile-high city, you know. I was in New York last week, and oh, it was terrible. The smaze or smog or whatever you call it. You can hardly breathe.

"Yes, I miss the theater a little, but happiness is more important. My kids, Ethel, who is 11, and Bobby, who is eight, love Denver. They're going to to public schools now, instead of the private schools they went to in New York, Ethel likes that much better, because she's in school with boys now."

Like Bette Davis and Gary Merrill, who have moved to Portland, Me., Miss Merman said she will commute to the entertainment capitals.

"I'll do some TV in New York or Hollywood and come here for a picture now and then," she explained. "I'll spend the rest of the time with my family in Denver."

What about doing a Broadway show?

"Never again," she replied. This may be a blow to Broadway, where she starred in an amazing succession of hits. But she added: "Nobody is indispensable."

Some of her old stage pals find it hard to believe this. Some time ago, producer Leland Hayward cautioned her to read a book called "The Last Resorts" as a future stage possibility. Irving Berlin was to do the score and Lindsay and Crouse the book, the same crew who turned out "Call Me Madam." Berlin even pitched a couple of the songs at her when she visited New York.

But Miss Merman turned the deal down with a smile. "My family is more important," she explained.

The lusty songstress is here to renew an old acquaintance with Jimmy Durante. She'll appear on his TV show tomorrow night, and he'll return the favor on one of the two hour-long shows she will do here after the first of the year.

His appearance with Merman will mark the first time The Schnoz has guested with another star. Their association goes 'way back to 1929. Ethel got her first New York break singing in a night club with Clayton, Jackson and Durante.

She recalls that it broke her heart when she had to drop out of the show for a tonsillectomy. But a few months later she landed her first Broadway show, "Girl Crazy," and was on her way to fabulous success.

The flourishing anew of La Merman's film career has something to do with her abandonment of the stage. She makes no secret of her happiness with her screen return in "Call Me Madam."

"I never was happy with the things I did in pictures before," she commented. "When I was here before, they always told me I was too brassy and loud for movies. I had to hold myself back, and I didn't like that. The last picture I did was a featufed role in 'Alexander's Ragtime Band' in 1938. I didn't think I'd come back after that.

"But I loved Walter Lang, who directed 'Call Me Madam.' He told me to let myself go. He reasoned that people would be expecting the Ethel Merman of the stage and that's what we should give them."

She was slated to do another film, "There's No Business Like Show Business," last summer, but postponed it due to Lang's serious illness. He is recovering and the movie will go in March, co-starring Merman with Dan Dailey and Donald O'Connor.

Walkers Are Blind With Arms Full

The human mind is a funny thing. It is apt to get preoccupied with one problem and forget all about another. A good example is a person carrying a bunch of packages and crossing the street.

Maybe they are groceries—too many piled into bags that are tall and awkward to carry. Perhaps they are Christmas packages carefully gift wrapped.

Keeping them properly balanced and not dropping them in the street seems important—more important than the fact that you can't see over them and that you are walking in the traffic stream.

When you see a shopper crossing the street keep this in mind. Do that person's traffic thinking for them. Be prepared to make an emergency stop or turn.

Musicians Fear Zere Is No More Zip in Zee Zither

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP) — Things are not going too well for lovers of zither music.

Alberta Kraeder of Los Angeles, who recently played a zither concert in Milwaukee, claims she is the only zither teacher left in the United States.

Not only that, but the last firm in the country to make zithers has gone out of business. The Schwarzer Zither Co., of Washington, Mo., recently folded after making zithers for 83 years.

Officials of the Milwaukee Zither Club, one of the last two such organizations in America, say the Schwarzer firm made about 11,000 zithers and that thousands of others have been brought into this country from Europe. They say most of them are still around, probably buried in trunks in attics all across the country.

The last outpost on the zither frontier hopes for a revival of interest in the strange instrument, and the Milwaukee zither orchestra gives periodic concerts, although there doesn't seem to be much public enthusiasm for the orchestra's high-pitched efforts any more.

Gifts for Sportsmen

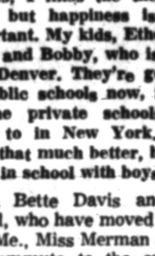

You'll make a hit with the sportsman at Christmas if you give him a gift that is close to his heart. Hand-tied flies, tins of tennis balls, golf balls, an order for golf shoes, new fishing line, a special fishing rod, ski wax, ice skates are just a few of the possibilities for his stocking.

Pacific Coast Man President of NAM

NEW YORK (AP) — A minister's son, who developed a broken-down paint factory into a flourishing enterprise, is the new president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers—the first Pacific Coast man to head the organization.

Harold C. McClellan, president of the Old Colony Paint & Chemical Co., Los Angeles, was elected last night at the 58th annual Congress of American Industry. He succeeds Charles R. Sligh Jr., president of the Sligh Furniture Companies, Grand Rapids, Mich., who becomes chairman of the Board of Directors of the association.

McClellan bought a run-down paint factory, employing four workers, in 1927 for $10,000. He built up the business from a $900-a-month gross to a company now totaling annual sales of between two million and three million dollars. The plant now employs 150 persons.

The National Geographic Society estimates that 215 million dollars in gold has been taken from the Klondike Valley.

Teachers See Double

BALDWIN, Miss. (AP)—At Wheeler School there are nine sets of twins among the 375 pupils. One teacher, Miss Glady Milton, has four sets in her first grade.

SANTA and the FLYING PUP

By LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: Henrietta is a little girl who lives in a teeny tiny house with her parents, grandparents, two uncles and two aunts. They are very poor, with barely enough food for themselves, much less the little puppy Henrietta found one day and wants to keep for Christmas. Her father doesn't see how Willie can live with them, but Henrietta pleads.

Chapter Two

LIFE WITH WILLIE

Henrietta wept when her father said she could not keep Willie.

"He won't cost anything!" she cried. "You will never know he is here."

The father said, "Keep him, then, and you will see."

So Henrietta kept Willie and this is the way things went in the tiny crowded house where the family was so poor.

Willie ate.

Each mealtime he ate half of everything on Henrietta's plate and begged for more. He drank all her milk. He cried for more.

When grandmama left a loaf of bread on a shelf Willie pawed it down and devoured it. When grandpapa left a little bag of groceries on a chair Willie fished out a soup bone—meant to feed the family for two days. Willie hid under the house and stripped the bone clean.

When uncle went in the ice box for a bit of jam Willie went in too and knocked out the bowl holding the week's supply of eggs. Happily Willie licked up the mess.

Besides, eating, Willie chewed. He chewed out the linings of the father's shoes when he took them off at night. He shredded a blanket hanging from a bed. He gnawed the edges of the one rug in the house. He jumped in the bath tub and chewed a hole in the spray. He went in the pantry and chewed the straws off the broom.

* * *

Besides eating and chewing, Willie frolicked.

In pure joy he raced through the house. He tripped up the father who came in with a heavy load of wood. He twirled between the feet of grandmama as she dusted the table. He played merry-go-round the mother as she scrubbed the kitchen floor.

He played merry-go-round the mother as she scrubbed the kitchen floor.

As he romped the tattered rug was tossed into a heap behind his flying feet. Curtains were pulled from windows, lamps broken, scrub buckets knocked over, torn wall paper stripped from the walls.

Besides eating and chewing and frolicking, Willie cried.

When they put him outdoors to save the house, Willie cried so loud and so sorrowfully the police complained. When they shut him up in the kitchen, he cried so brokenheartedly the neighbors complained. When they shut him in the basement the whole family complained because he cried so dreadfully that no one in the house could sleep at all.

But Henrietta never noticed the awful bother and expense of Willie.

"You are all the Christmas we need at our house," she whispered to Willie as he snuggled beside her in bed. The puppy chewed absently at Henrietta's tattered night dress. He paused now and then to lick her face.

"You are my only friend," murmured the girl. "I'll never be lonesome again."

After a while Henrietta and Willie fell asleep. They were happy.

* * *

But out in the kitchen the father talked to the rest of the family.

"You can see how it is," he said. "We can't afford a dog in this house."

The mother who had scrubbed and scrubbed behind Willie had to agree. The uncles and aunts who had had their poor clothing ripped by Willie had to agree. Grandmama and grandpapa who had been tripped up again and again by Willie had to agree.

Then they all thought of the precious food that had been poured into Willie and they all sighed and said, "Yes, the dog must go."

So the father tiptoed into the room where Henrietta lay asleep on her little cot with the dog beside her. The father stood looking down at the girl and the puppy for a long time. He hated what he had to do.

At last he reached down and gently picked up the sleepy pup. Willie woke and dreamily licked the father's cheek. Then he went back to sleep.

The father put on his hat and carried Willie out of the house.

Prophecy Backfires for Fortune Teller

KENOSHA, Wis. (UP)—A "black eight" prophecy proved true for a card-reading fortune teller but in a left-handed manner.

"Madam Lattimorelle" told Beulah Hartwig that she would make a court appearance soon. She assured her that she would "win out."

Sgt. Beulah Hartwig of the Kenosha policewoman's division appeared in court with "Madam Lattimorelle," who was just plain Margaret Lattimore to Judge Edward J. Reutz. He fined her $25 and costs for her card-shuffling activities.

The sergeant said she lost all faith in the oracle of the pasteboards after they "told" the madam that the sergeant would marry "again" and have two children. Miss Hartwig has never been married.

New Pamphlet Gives Home Appliance Tips

CHICAGO (UP)—A consumer finance organization has started where engineers left off in eliminating household drudgery.

Technicians dreamed up the push-button equipment for today's homemaker, but it's taken Household Finance to help her decide which appliances she needs and how she is to pay for them.

The organization has written another in its series on money management — this publication called, "Your Equipment Dollar."

The booklet covers the basic equipment used in food preparation and storage, laundry and home cleaning. It gives shopping tips, the pros and cons of the electric range over the gas, and vice versa, and advice on whether to buy a washer or a combination washer and dryer, or whether a food freezer fits your needs.

It also gives tips on care and use, once equipment has been purchased.

Laborer and President Have an Equal Right

NEW PORT (AP)—A court here holds that a city laborer has just as much right as a President of the United States to change his name. City officials fired "Joseph Porgie," a city employe for 45 years, when they learned his originial name was Nicholas Lana. They accused him of deception in his job application.

State Supreme Court Justice Samuel M. Gold ruled that Porgie, or Lana, was in illustrious company and ordered him reinstated. Gold said Presidents Cleveland, Grant and Wilson all used variations of their original names.

How they save money on cars

Sure, the prices of cars are up. But they'd probably be higher if it weren't for advertising. Both the dealer and the manufacturer use advertising as their low-cost way to get across news about their products.

Selling more goods this way makes mass production possible—which means lower production costs, lower selling costs, lower prices than would otherwise occur.

Yes, advertising is a low-cost selling method that helps keep your living costs down.

Texas Loses High Peak Argument to South Dakota

PIERE, S. D. (UP)—All "true Texans" will have to revise one of their claims and bow to South Dakota.

A dispute over which state had the highest peak east of the Rocky Mountains erupted this summer after a Dallas travel editor wrote that "no true Texan" could let go unchallenged South Dakota's claim that its 7,242-foot-high Harney Peak was the highest east of the Rockies.

The editor laid claim to the title for Texas' 8,751-foot-high Guadalupe Peak, and offered as her authorities the Texas Highway Department and the World Almanac.

South Dakota then asked an impartial referee, the National Geographic Society, to settle the dispute.

Guadalupe Peak is not the highest mountain east of the Rockies, the society ruled, for the simple reason that it is "right in the heart" of the Rockies.

Air Conditioner Year-Long Gift

Careful Survey Urged Before Buying to Get Proper Equipment

A family Christmas present of a room air conditioner is not like selling ice cubes to Eskimos, especially if you recall the summer rush and long delays of the last two years.

Close to a million room air conditioners have been sold and installed this year.

According to Cloud Wampler, president of the largest single producer of air conditioning equipment (Carrier), 800,000 room units were sold in the first nine months of the year and 75 per cent of them were installed in homes—only 25 per cent in offices, stores and elsewhere.

"Don't be misled into thinking that even the smaller room air conditioners are simply bought and plugged in like electric toasters," advises Wampler.

"The truth is the best results are only obtained when you do some careful planning before you buy.

"It's one of those things you first talk over carefully with the family. Next, and just as important, you want to decide how you are going to install it. Thirdly, and this takes an expert, you should check the size needed and electrical requirements. One other point—don't forget to talk the matter over with your landlord, if you have one."

Reputable dealers make estimates on the minimum size room air conditioner needed for the space you select.

You never gain anything by using a unit too large and it might save you $100 or more to have the dealer make a survey.

There are new units designed on the "installation-can-be-fun" idea. They fit almost flush with the windowsill. And you can utilize a lot of that home workshop talent in making a permanent installation.

Attend Yule Service

If the true spirit of Christmas is observed all members of the family will go to church. What is the point of celebrating the day if church services are skipped? After all if you do not recognize that this day commemorates the birth of Christ, then why should the day be celebrated as a holiday?

Too Much Safety Is Bad

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—W. L. Daniel Jr., was bopped on the head with a five-pound safety award plaque which suddenly fell from a wall while he sat in a conference room listening to a talk on safety at the Consolidated Vultee aircraft plant.

Children Enjoy Making Holiday Decorations

Let children make Christmas decorations and they'll delight you with their ingeniousness. It will help keep them occupied, too, while Mom goes about her Yuletide chores.

Snow-topped Christmas greetings are among the gayest items your offspring can produce. Just cover a working space with brown paper and let the children trace and cut large cardboard Merry Christmas letters or other Yuletide greetings and messages of their own choosing.

The letters are then coated with drifts of thickly beaten soapsuds—using a spoon or rubber plate scraper.

To make the "snow" combine soap with a small amount of water and whip with a rotary beater or electric mixer until it reaches a thick, meringue-like consistency. The beating may be done in a pitcher or deep bowl. When applied this mixture dries to a nice texture, although for greater depth, a second layer can be spread over the first after an hour of two.

Old buttons, sequins, or bugle beads may be used to decorate this handiwork.

After the letters harden, they may be hung with tiny clothespins from a line strung along a wall, over an archway or above the fireplace.

This same soapsuds may be spread on the branches of a Christmas tree for a pretty effect, too.

Pencils Can Mark Clearly on Cloth, Jars for Canning

NEW YORK (UP)—Makers of the ordinary wooden lead pencil have come up with some new tricks that are helpful to housewives.

Women who sew at home now have available pencils that will make a clear mark on cloth. The marks wash out without leaving a trace after cutting and sewing chores have been finished.

In gardening, a new moisture-resistant marking pencil has been created to replace the old method of identifying flowers and vegetables with the seed packet. A tag marked with this new pencil will retain visibility even after long exposure to rain or wind.

There are new pencils for writing on glazed surfaces such as glass or cellophane. These make it unnecessary to spend time pasting identifying labels on home-canned products, for example.

The housewife who has a bit of leisure to indulge a hobby now has available 70-odd colors in pencils that can be used for painting. The leads of many coloring pencils are soluble and thus provide greater control and detail than convention water-color brush methods.

Give Associate Gift Slip

If you don't know what to buy that business associate who has been especially kind, why not give him a gift certificate to a local department store?

A new type of seismograph, which records waves moving through the earth's mantle as many as seven times around the globe, indicates the North American continent once may have extended a lot closer to the North Pole than it does at present.

Lattner, Giel Only 'Repeaters' on All-America

AP'S 1953 ALL-AMERICA TEAM—Above are players on The Associated Press 1953 All-America football team chosen by The AP in consultation with a nation-wide board of experts representing all sections of the United States. The lineup: ENDS—Dohoney, Michigan State, and Morley, Stanford; TACKLES—Jones, Maryland, and Shanafelt, Pennsylvania; GUARDS—Roberts, Oklahoma, and Mims, Mississippi; CENTER—Morris, Georgia Tech; BACKS—Lattner, Notre Dame; Giel, Minnesota; Cameron, U. C. L. A., and Johnson, Rice.

Spartan Captain Dohoney Named on AP Annual List

By BOB HOBBING

NEW YORK (AP) — Notre Dame's John Lattner and Minnesota's Paul Giel, a pair of halfbacks who proved as outstanding in one-platoon football as in the two-platoon era, are the only repeaters on the 1953 Associated Press All America team announced today.

Recommendation by regional boards of newspaper and radio experts covering the entire nation formed the basis for the selections. the first-team backfield.

The line is composed of Capt. Don Dohney of Michigan State and Sam Morley of Stanford at ends, Stanley Jones of Maryland and Jack Shanfelt of Penn at tackles, J. D. Roberts of Oklahoma and Crawford Mims of Mississippi at guards and Larry Morris of Georgia Tech at center.

The return of limited substitutions, which also brought back the naming of a single first team rather than a 22-man unit by the Associated Press, put added emphasis on the capable all-around players.

* * *

Lattner, who played both ways even in the days of specialists, was the "bread and butter" performer for the Irish. A tireless worker and team inspirational leader, he was a driving runner, excellent tackler and a good punter.

"The finest I ever have coached," says Minnesota's Wes Fesler of Giel.

Cameron, UCLA's workhorse at tailback in the Bruin single wing, rushed for 672 yards and scored 72 points to lead the Pacific Coast Conference in both departments.

* * *

The lightest man on the team at 178 pounds, Johnson combined speed and power at fullback for Rice.

The all America line, which averages 203.5 pounds per man, is flanked on one side by Dohoney, a 193-pounder who excels on defense. He personally checked Giel and threw back a Wolverine threat in Michigan State victories over Minnesota and Michigan.

Morley, who caught 45 passes for 594 yards and six touchdowns, was exceptional in his first year of playing defense.

* * *

Mims, who stood out in every game, and Roberts, the kingpin of one of the finest lines in the nation, were excellent 200-pound guards.

Jones, top-weighted man on the squad at 235, was the bulwark of a defense that held Maryland's opponents to a mere 31 points. Shanafelt was the principal reason Penn made as good a showing as it did on its "suicide" schedule.

Bianchi Sparks Bowling Green With 25 Points, Sparrow Hits 16

By UNITED PRESS

Detroit's Titans flunked their first big basketball test of the season Thursday night when they fell before Bowling Green's tall Falcons 78-53.

The Ohio team, playing before home fans, jumped to a quick 7-0 lead and never was headed. Al Bianchi, who hit consistently with his "falling away" shot, paced the winners with 25 points. It was Detroit's first loss in two starts.

In other games, Michigan Normal opened its 1953-54 season with a 74-46 rout of Western Ontario, Lawrence Tech smamped Adrian 64-45 and Ferris Institute pulled out a narrow 69-63 victory over Muskegon Junior College.

Detroit scorers were led by Pontiac's Guy Sparrow. The former Pontiac High School ace bagged six field goals and four foul shots for 16 points.

Haas, Burkemo, Toski Are Tied in Havana Test

Top Trio Leading Field of 31 Pros in 3-Day International Meet

HAVANA (AP)—Freddie Haas Jr., one of three players tied for the lead was mighty happy today as he entered the Havana country club international golf tournament. But for a while he "didn't expect to make it."

Haas, victim of a virus infection, shot a healthy 65 as did Bob Toski of Northampton, Mass., and Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., in yesterday's opening round.

"All I could eat was baby food," the New Orleans pro explained. "I felt weak and I doubted whether I could get here for the tournament."

The top trio led a field of 31 professionals in the three-day pro-amateur event. Behind them came Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., with a 66 and defending champion Dutch Harrison of Ardmore, Okla., with a 67.

Harrison, however, was disappointed with his showing.

"I did pretty well," he said. "But it ought to have been better."

In the running with 68's were Tommy Bolt of Maplewood, N. J., and Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y. Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., had a 69.

Each pro played with two amateurs from the Havana Country Club yesterday and after three days' play, prizes will be awarded on the low best ball scores. Then on Sunday the pros will play an additional 18 holes.

Sub Being Groomed for Faloney's Place

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—With first-string Bernie Faloney still an indefinite starter in the Orange Bowl, substitute quarterback Charley Boxold is getting special attention from the University of Maryland football coaching staff.

Trainer Duke Wyre said Faloney, key operative of the nation's No. 1 team, "still limps slightly" from a knee injury suffered against Alabama.

"Some of the swelling and soreness have gone out of the knee," said Wyre, "but until the swelling is gone entirely we won't be able to tell much."

During the 1953 National League season Richie Asburn of the Phillies hit 169 singles.

Pass Play From Fake Run Is Big ND Gainer

By FRANK LEAHY
Notre Dame Football Coach

For the first time this fall, TV fans outside of South Bend will have an opportunity to see a live telecast of a Notre Dame football game. Two of our earlier games which were sellouts were televised locally, but Saturday's clash with Southern Methodist will be seen from coast to coast.

Naturally, it would be unwise to divulge our scouting information and explain a play from the Southern Methodist attack, but we have set up one of our own which has been a key play in our system for quite some time.

It is the type of play which has to be "set up" by a particular sequence and when it is run properly the chances of getting six points are very good. We call it our "29 H pass special." This means our number 2 back, the left halfback, going for the 9 hole, which is outside right end and then throwing a pass. The "H" means that the other halfback is faking a run.

Play sets up best when our right halfback, John Lattner is having a good day. As he starts toward the line of scrimmage and the quarterback hands the ball out to him, the defense naturally has to close in.

The quarterback then pulls the ball back and pitches it out to Joe Heap, who has been "bellied" back and is heading for the sidelines. Heap puts the ball under his arm and starts to run wide. As the defense comes in he stops and passes to one of two targets.

His No. 1 receiver is the left end who has gone down and across in front of the defensive left halfback. In the event that his halfback comes up in front of the end, then Heap has the option of throwing to Lattner who has gone straight down and then veered toward the sidelines.

Fans who have seen our team play this fall know that we also have the exact opposite of this play in which Heap fakes into the line and the ball is pitched out to Lattner who as he runs to his left passes to our right end.

Minor Leagues Hope for Best on Video Plan

Majors Asked to Bar Radio, TV if Teams Are Playing

By JACK HAND

ATLANTA (AP)—Baseball's minor leagues close their annual convention today, hopeful that majors will act favorably next week on their petition for new controls of radio and television broadcasts.

* * *

A carefully worded resolution was adopted unanimously at yesterday's closed session.

Sen. Edwin Johnson (D-Colo), president of the Western League, drew up the new plan, and Allen Russell, president of the Beaumont club of the Texas League, added amendments.

Big league commercial radio-TV broadcasts would be barred in minor league cities on the date when the minor club is playing home or away unless consent is given by the minor league club.

* * *

Noncommercial or sustaining broadcasts and TV, however, would be permited without restrictions.

All restrictions on baseball radio-TV were dropped in 1951 under pressure from the Justice Department.

The senator claimed the favorable Supreme Court decision that baseball was not interstate commerce continued the "responsibility of baseball to do its own legislating."

* * *

There was considerable doubt about the majors' reaction to this plan. Many clubs have chain radio broadcasts of their games. The St. Louis Cards, for instance, beamed their games over more than 100 radio stations last year. There also was a "Game of the Week" telecast stretching into many minor league cities each Saturday afternoon from Cleveland, Chicago or Philadelphia.

In the works is a proposed "Game of the Week" telecast for 1954 that would span the nation with all clubs participating, bringing in close to two million dollers. If this should become definite the minors might be cut in on some of the money.

Pontiac Press' Deer Contest Ends at Noon

Pontiac Press' 1953 deer contest closed at noon today, and winners of the three $100 U. S. bonds will be announced early next week.

Latest entry was a 6-pointer entered in the best rack division by Clarence L. Borst of 100 Dennison street, Oxford. Borst downed the buck in Houghton County.

Other successful hunters include Glenn Jones Jr. of Clarkston, 8-pointer; Everett Monroe, 2389 Silver Circle, 9-pointer; and Clayton Tibbals of 1326 Florence street, Watkins Lake, 10-pointer. None of the three was a contest entry.

Canadian football, somewhat similar to the American game, technically is know as "Rouge."

Sawchuk Posts 5th Shutout

DETROIT (AP)—Goalie Terry Sawchuk of the Detroit Red Wings, a self-admitted "flop" in last spring's hockey playoffs, is compiling an amazing comeback record.

The 23-year-old netminder has given up only 29 goals in 20 games—an average of 1.45 goals-per-game. He has turned in five shutouts but most important, he has regained his confidence.

After the Wings were upset by the Boston Bruins in the playoffs last April, Sawchuk,said: "I've been a flop all year but I'll be back—and I'll be the best."

Sawchuk is back — and he's the best.

He posted his 3rd straight shutout at home last night, blanking the New York Rangers, 4-0. He made 27 saves, at least a half dozen robbing the Rangers of "sure" goals.

Sawchuk, who hasn't been scored upon in Olympia Stadium in 211 minutes and 24 seconds, is at a loss to explain his comeback.

"It's the finest start I've ever had," he said last night, "but I'll be darned if I know why. Maybe it's my weight. I weigh 177 now compared to 165 last season."

Weight or no weight, Sawchuk has been a more relaxed goalie this season.

In the playoffs he was nervous and fidgety and looked uncertain in the goal. There were rumors that he would be traded.

Terry showed up at practice in September and played with a new determination.

Slashed across the knee, he missed three games earlier in the season. His replacement, Dave Gatherum, gave up only three goals in three games.

This gives the Red Wings 32 goals-against in 23 games and puts Sawchuk into the lead for the Vezina Trophy.

Wings clinched last night's victory with four goals in the 2nd period. They were made by Alex Delvechhio, Gordie Howe, Vic Stasiuk and Johnny Wilson.

Victory kept Detroit one point ahead of Montreal in the tight National Hockey League race. Montreal whipped Toronto, 5-1, as Maurice Richard scored twice.

In another game, Bruins defeated the lowly Chicago Black Hawks, 3-1.

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Australia's second-string team of Rex Hartwig and Mervyn Rose upset heavily favored Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad today to win the Victorian doubles tennis championship. The scores were 3-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4.

Meanwhile, at Perth, Belgium won the right to play the United States in the Davis Cup interzone finally by beating India in the doubles match of their interzone match today.

Belgium and the United States will play at Brisbane Dec. 18 for the right to oppose Australia in the Challenge Round starting Dec. 28.

Bevo 'Flops' in Big City, Rio Grande Team Beaten

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—It's hard to think of a basketball player as a flop when he scores 32 points in his New York debut but Bevo Francis, the scoring sensation from Rio Grande College, is mighty unhappy about his first game at Madison Square Garden.

* * *

"I don't blame anybody, I just had an off night," he said dejectedly in his dressing room last night after Rio Grande had suffered its first loss in 41 games, 83-76 to Adelphi College of Garden City, N. Y.

"We played our worst game," agreed Coach Newt Oliver, who has guided Bevo and the tiny Ohio school to national basketball prominence. "I don't know why we had to pick this one to play so poorly."

* * *

Francis, a gangling 6-9 sophomore, averaged 50.1 points per game last season against a mixture of small colleges, business schools and junior colleges. Last night was his biggest test.

He had been averaging 50 to 60 shots a game but against a collapsing zone defense which literally put him in a cage during the second half he managed just 26 attempts. He connected on 10.

In the other half of the Gardens' first college double-header of the season, St. John's of Brooklyn outlasted Lafayette 66-61.

Elsewhere, the biggest upset of the night was the 67-64 defeat of Texas Christian by Midwestern of Texas. TCU is the two-time Southwest Conference champion.

In the Midwest, Notre Dame, a quarter-finalist in the NCAA tournaments last spring, breezed past Ball State 84-63, Bowling Green defeated Detroit 78-53, and Oklahoma City was extended before turning back Hardin - Simmons 64-52.

State Supreme Court Won't Support Inglis

LANSING (AP) — State supreme court refused yesterday to back up state racing commissioner James H. Inglis' attempted suspension of a driver-trainer accused of participation in a race horse stimulation case.

The court refused Inglis' plea to mandamus Circuit Judge George B. Murphy of Wayne County to lift an injunction placed against the suspension order. The court also refused to order Judge Murph, to dismiss the appeal filed by the suspended race track man, Thurman W. Smart.

Inglis suspended Smart for one year after an investigation late last summer into the reported stimulation of a trotter, "Abbasong," at the Wolverine Raceway track.

Emergency Fund Set Up for Students on Coast

EAST LANSING (UP) — Michigan State College's student congress has set up a $600 emergency fund for loans to students caught short of cash while in Pasadena, Calif., for the Rose Bowl game.

The congress said it plans to set up a desk in a Pasadena hotel and will make small loans to MSC students who need money while on the West Coast.

Hunter Finds 'Lucky Spot' for Hunting

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Jim Ramsdell of nearby Hartsburg has deer hunting down to a fine art.

For the past three years he has donned his red clothing during the Missouri deer season, picked up his rifle and headed for a particular spot in Gasconade county.

He plots himself down on the same weathered stump and waits patiently with understandable confidence.

During the last three years he has killed his deer, aiming at approximately the same spot.

Proud Horse Trainer

MIAMI (AP) — Most horse trainers are proud to have one stakes winner during a year. But Harry Trotsek is extra-proud. He developed nine different stakes winners during 1953 and five of them were $100,000 races. Trotsek handles the Hasty House Farm horses who will race in Hialeah this winter.

State Coaches Approve Single Platoon System

However, Bennie, Biggie Differ Sharply in Their Football Opinions

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—Football's limited substitution rule — the "one platoon" system—is an improvement over the outlawed "two-platoon" system.

That's the majority opinion of college football caoches in Michigan in a survey conducted by the Associated Press. Five coaches favored one-platoon football, one of them with modification. Three were against it.

One coach said he didn't know which system was better since he had never coached under the two-platoon rule.

Michigan's two coaches who are never troubled with a paucity of players — Bennie Oosterbaan of Michigan and Biggie Munn of Michigan State—are sharply divided on the issue.

"It's the worst thing that's ever happened to football," said Munn.

Oosterbaan, on the other hand, favored the new rule, saying:

"The old system led to overspecialization. A football player is a football player now in every sense of the wprd."

Eddie Bridges Wins Pro Debut at Motor City

Pontiac lightweight Eddie Bridges won his professional debut Thursday night, scoring a technical knockout over Bob Rideout of Windsor, Ont., in the 4th round of a preliminary bout at Motor City Arena. Bridges weighed 132, Rideout 131.

In the feature match, Detroit welterweight Harold Lyons won a TKO over Tommy Matthews, also of Detroit.

Writer Defends Commissioner

Another Scores Frick for Refusing to Meet With Players' Lawyer Lewis

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The first man we asked said he thought maybe Commissioner Ford Frick had made a mistake in refusing to meet with the 16 baseball player representatives at Atlanta if they insisted upon bringing along their new lawyer, J. Norman Lewis.

* * *

"After all," our man said, "it is customary these days to have your lawyer present if you are going to discuss something that is important to you, such as a contract. The players feel the pension plan is important to them. Why should Frick deny them the right of legal advice?"

* * *

Well, we said, this seems to be a little different. It always has been understood that the commissioner has the right to order any player or club official to appear before him instanter, with him the judge and jury both. Frick's predecessors, Judge Landis and Happy Chandler, exercised this prerogative up to the hilt, and no lawyer ever darkened their respective doors.

"True," our man assented, "but the players didn't have a lawyer then. Now they have one, as Frick found out. Times are changing."

Look, we said, this wasn't even an order. Frick just invited these fellows to meet with him informally so he could put them straight on what was going on. He wanted them to know that the owners were sore and that if they didn't take it easy they were going to wake up one cold morning and find they didn't have a pension plan at all. He paid their expenses down there.

* * *

"Maybe the players think they're just being threatened because they hired Lewis without consulting the owners. You'll admit they don't like Lewis."

* * *

That could be, but the ones we've talked with are a whole lot madder about the demands the players are making, $150 a month at 45, fewer night games and such, than they are at Lewis. They feel it has gotten clear out of hand and they intend to have a showdown.

Mohawks Sink Rockets

CINCINNATI (AP) — Grand Rapids scored twice in the first 10 minutes and was blanked for the rest of the way as the Cincinnati Mohawks sank seven goals to increase their International Hockey League lead.

A sparse crowd of 2,052 fans saw the Rockets take the 7-2 shellacking.

Wilkinson, Ex-Assistant to Jim Tatum, Matches Wits With Former Boss as Sooners, Terps Tangle

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK — The Orange Bowl party will not only feature two fine teams but two of the game's best coaches who are part of an interesting story.

* * *

The two coaches are Jim Tatum who came from North Carolina and Bud Wilkinson of Minnesota. In order named, they handle Maryland, untied and unbeaten, and Oklahoma, beaten only in the first game and tied in its second.

* * *

When you figure that Oklahoma had lost its three star backs from the year before you can see what this record means. The point is that some years back Tatum was head coach at Oklahoma. Bud Wilkinson was his assistant.

* * *

Jim was called back East again—to Maryland—so Bud was named head coach of the famous Sooners. Tatum began building fine teams at Maryland and Wilkinson began building just as fine teams at Oklahoma.

I have been interested in the careers of both men as they have been good friends of mine through a great many years. They have been in bowl games before—and have won. But this is the first time they have been pitted against each other. Both happen to head two of the best teams in the United States.

* * *

A day or two ago, I ran into Bernie Bierman, former able coach at Minnesota. I recall when Bernie suddenly transferred a big guard to quarterback at Minnesota. Bierman had many great guards. He had few good quarterbacks.

* * *

"I figured, Bernie," I said to him recently, "you just reached out and picked the smartest man on your squad for quarterback." Bernie smiled. Bud was a pretty smart man," he said. "One of the smartest I have ever coached."

* * *

This Orange Bowl game will be outstanding in many ways. It will help to prove whether the national ranking was right or wrong. Maryland, Oklahoma and Notre Dame deserved high places.

Bears Seeking Upset Victory Over Detroit

Proud Chicagoans Hope to Salvage Final Bit of Glory Sunday

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—Only three times in their colorful 32-year history have the Chicago Bears finished the season with more losses than victories.

It happened in 1929. It happened in 1945. And it has happened this year.

One of the proudest teams in any sport, Bears will seek to salvage a final bit of glory Sunday when they try to wreck Detroit Lions' hopes for another pro football championship.

These two teams meet in Briggs stadium before a crowd expected to pass 50,000.

A victory over the Lions could be a face-saver for the Bears, who have won only three times, lost six and tied once. Two weeks ago they almost upset the Lions but lost out 20-16 on a pass interception in the final quarter.

* * *

A victory by the Lions will clinch at least a share of the Western Division championship in the National Football League. And a victory coupled with a San Francisco loss against Green Bay, would send the Lions into the title game against Cleveland here two days after Christmas.

Bears got off to their worst start in history this season, winning only one of their first seven games. One was a tie.

* * *

Refusing to quit, Bears, guided by the deft passing quarterback George Blanda, whipped Washington, lost that close decision to Detroit and upset Los Angeles. All this happened in the last three weeks.

Blanda is the player the Lions will be watching.

Blanda has tried 288 passes this season—two less than Pittsburgh's Jim Finks—and has completed 136 of them for a completion percentage of 47.2. A dozen of his tosses have gone for touchdowns.

Bobby Layne, Lions' quarterback and passer, will be ready for full-time duty.

Michigan Forwards Tallest in History

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan will start the tallest forward line in its history Saturday night when the Wolverines open their 1953-54 basketball season at University of Pittsburgh.

Harvey Williams, six-foot, eight-inch center from Louisville, Ky., will be flanked by forwards Paul Groffsky, six-four and Milt Mead, six-seven. Williams is a sophomore. Mead and Groffsky are veterans of last year's combine, Mead a senior and Groffsky a junior.

Wolverine Hockey Team Opens Schedule Tonight

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan jumps right into the thick of its 1953-54 hockey schedule here tonight in a game with McGill University.

In McGill, Wolverines of coach Vic Heyliger will be meeting the 1st of a dozen opponents who will provide 23 contests over the next three months.

Michigan will play McGill a 2nd game Saturday night.

Wolverines, national collegiate champions the past three years, open their schedule without, the tested scoring of other years.

Graduation of such competent players as John McKennell, Earl Keyes and Johnny Matchefts puts the load on a quartet of sophomores.

Expected to take up the slack after they gain a little experience are Bill MacFarland, a 195-pound center from Toronto, Ont.; Jay Goold, Kirkland Lake, Ont.; Yves Herbert, Montreal, Que., and Don MacArthur, Shawanigan Falls, Ont. Goold, Herbert and MacArthur are forwards.

Michigan's one veteran line will combine Doug Mullen, center and wings Pat Cooney and George Chin.

After the McGill encounter, Michigan will host Toronto University Dec. 11 and 12 and then open its 16-game Midwest Hockey League slate Dec. 18-19 at University of North Dakota.

It was the second resignation at TU within two weeks. Claire Dunn, head football coach quit on Nov. 21.

Uncertainties Mark Season's Final TV Tilt

Weather, Heap's Knee, SMU Attack All Worry Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Undefeated but one-tied Notre Dame has been installed a three-touchdown favorite over Southern Methodist tomorrow in a football game of uncertainties.

The weather is one uncertainty, with rain or snow possible. The playing field, however, has been covered all week and footing should be firm.

Typical early December weather has kept the Notre Dame practice field soggy, preventing the Irish from going all out in the final week of drills.

Another uncertainty is halfback Joe Heap's knee. He twisted it in Notre Dame's 48-14 rout of Southern California last Saturday. Heap may see only limited service, being replaced by sophomore Dick Fitzgerald.

Heap's handicap has been a matter of great concern for coach Frank Leahy this week, for the 180-pound junior left half from Abita Springs, La., is Notre Dame's best pass catcher with 21 receptions for 325 yeards and five touchdowns and leading punt returner.

Another uncertainty that looms for this nationally-televised season windup is the type of attack that can be expected from the Mustangs, who have a mediocre 5-4 record and who have everything to gain and nothing to lose in this finale.

SMU has six or seven backs who can run or pass. Although concentrating on a ground attack this season, Mustangs may have something special cooked up for Notre Dame in the way of spread formations, or some new combination tricks off the split T.

Leahy, aiming for his first unbeaten season since 1949, can't see how Notre Dame can be rated a three-touchdown favorite. He adds up all the uncertainties and then points to the previous four games between Notre Dame and SMU.

Television audience should become familiar with Notre Dame player No. 14. He's Johnny Lattner, All-America halfback and winner of the Heisman trophy and Maxwell award.

A capacity turnout at Notre Dame stadium of 55,000 is nearly assured, giving Notre Dame a total season attendance at home and on the road of 610,000. This is a high in the school's 65 years of football.

Game time is 2 p. m. EST.

CASE—Three Way Choice.

Spot, Board or Pins—Picking a method of delivering the ball calls for trial and, usually, adjustment. I know many topflighters who use the spot, the board and the eye-on-the-pins systems alternately to fit alley conditions.

Some change from time to time. Ned Day is one, for instance, who developed spot bowling first (see sketch); then took up board-targeting. Comparatively few stars use the spot and eye-on-pins methods.

Majority draw an imaginary line along a board to the object pin, because this lends itself most effectively to control with follow-through. Anyway, give all three ways a try. Spot bowling might be what you need.

Wide-Open Title Races in 2 Area Loops

By JACK SAYLOR

Championships in both the Class A Eastern Michigan League and the Class C South Central are up for grabs this season without a true favorite in either loop. In addition, four teams are capable of challenging in the Bi-County and three are considered contenders in the Southern Thumb.

Graduation of East Detroit's Ron Kramer throws the EML wide open. Four of the six members also lose key performers at mid-year so the season will be played in two distinct halves.

John Petrakis at Birmingham has six lettermen back, including regulars Howard Christie (6-2), Mike Groves (6-1) and Cap Don Dorough, John Hubert (6-2), Bill Watkinson (6-1) and Dick Muller (6-3) add height to the Maples.

Ferndale's 6-2 forward, Tom Turner, will pace the 'Dales, who for the 1st time in several years will not be hurt by mid-year graduation. Hazel Park will be strong for a half season until Darwyn Helper, J. Lee McTeer and Bob Staley finish.

Port Huron and Mt. Clemens also suffer mid-season losses, while the

BERRY PETRAKIS

Kramer-less East Detroit five loses Tom O'Hara and Bruce Kherer after the 1st semester.

In the South Central, defending champion Imlay City has Dick Campbell and Owen Whitkopf returning, but Ortonville, Mayville and North Branch should provide close competition.

Despite the loss of high-scoring Pete Paishan, Max Berry's Ortonville club will be tall. Six-footer Chuck Paishan is the only regular back, but Berry can choose from Darin Saunders (6-2) Lou Giddings (6), Ken Harrison (6-1), Leon Mozarowsky (6-4) and Bob Mills (6).

Warren rates a nod in the Bi-County, but last year's three co-champs, Utica, Lake Shore and Eastland figure in the running. Bi-C coaches always fear Barney Swinehart's fast-moving Uticans, who will be built around 6-3 center Gordon Rogers.

Brown City is favored to make it three straight titles in the Southern Thumb, with chief opposition coming from Almont and New Haven.

No coaching changes were made in the EML or South Central, but there are four new pilots in the Southern Thumb and the Bi-County has almost a complete turnover.

Eastern Michigan leaders are still Petrakis, Roy Burkart (Ferndale), Dan Lutkus (Hazel Park), Reed Laughlin (Port Huron) Fred Lee (E. Det.) and Bob Lockwood (MC).

Besides Berry, SCC mentors are Lyle Powers (Imlay), Jack Vincent (N. Branch), Bill Seltz (Millington) and Bill Lamiman (Mayville).

Swinehart is the lone holdover in the Bi-C. Others are Bill McElreath (Lakeview), Don Pounder (South Lake), George Crellin (Lake Shore), Ken Hulslander (Eastland), Bill Chemlko (Center Line) and Cosmo Plotts, who moved from Eastland to Warren.

Champion Hope Places 4 Men on All-MIAA 11

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—Conference champion Hope placed four players on the MIAA all-conference team announced today by Degay Ernst, MIAA athletic commissioner.

Albion, runner-up and 1952 champion, and Hillsdale, each placed three men on mythical squad selected by coaches and athletic directors.

Representing Hope, were end Jim Van Hoeven, tackle Bill Hayforn, and backs John Adams and Frank Talarico.

Fritz Shurmur, center, end John Walker, and quarterback Bob Friberg, were named from Albion. Hillsdale players were: Roger Davis, guard, Andy Kincannon, end, and Nate Clark, back. Fred Wood, Alma guard, also was named to the first team.

Second team choices were:

ENDS—John Brannock, Hope, and Ron Downer, Albion; TACKLES—Dick Fabian, Albion, and Les Greene, Kalamazoo; GUARDS—Russ McGinnis and Paul Forgey, both of Adrian, and Jack Doyle, Kalamazoo; CENTER—Jack Carleton, Alma; BACKS—Marvin Raab and Bruce Depue, both of Alma, Lavern Spotts, Adrian, and Roy Strieker, Kalamazoo.

Godfrey in Horse Racing Now With Colt and Filly

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (UP)—Arthur Godfrey, whose name is almost synonymous with radio and television, is hopeful that before many years roll around he will be as well known in horse racing.

And the redhead is basing his immediate hopes on two well-bred horses—a colt and a filly—purchased at the Saratoga yearling sales last August. The colt, a son of Case Ace out of Dutch Cut, cost him $38,500. He paid $9,500 for the filly, a daughter of Pavot.

* * *

To the colt he has given the name of Lord Willin', which Godfrey fans will recognize as the signoff on his radio and television shows. Fraulein is the filly's name. Godfrey admits she got it because he got the breeding of the two yearlings mixed up and thought the filly's dam had the Dutch connection.

* * *

Godfrey talked of his horses and ambitions last night before the annual dinner of the Thoroughbred Racing Assn., at which he was master of ceremonies.

Lord Willin' and Fraulein have been turned over to trainer Morris Dixon and are receiving their early racing lessons at Dixon's farm near Philadelphia. Both are bays.

Rabb of Scots Heads Scorers

Alma's Back Compiles Total of 84 Points; Kline Offense Tops

DETROIT (UP) — A sophomore halfback brought Michigan's individual scoring crown back to Alma College after a one-year's absence.

Marvin Raab of Alma captured the scoring title by tallying 14 touchdowns for 84 points. That gave him a seven-point edge over runnerup Chuck Miller of Central Michigan, who scored 77 points.

Davey Kline, University of Detroit quarterback, (former Pontiac St. Frederick) won the total offense honor. He passed for 777 yards (a top mark) and rushed for 186 yards. That gave him 963 yards.

Top pass receiver was Michigan Normal's Nick Maynch, who made 18 catches for 448 yards.

Trout Prove Expensive in West Virginia Stream

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UP)—Each trout hooked in a West Virginia stream this year is worth 41 cents.

That's what the conservation commission estimates it cost the state to rear, transport and place "Little Brother Finny" within casting distance of the Izaak Waltons.

Nearly 51 tons of fish were grown in four West Virginia hatcheries for the stocking program at a cost of $132,735.66 — or an average of $1.21 a pound.

Probation for 33

EAST LANSING (UP) — Michigan State College today placed 33 students, including 21 coeds, on probation for taking part in an unauthorized "victory" celebration Nov. 14 after Michigan State defeated Michigan in their annual football game.

Ten of the 21 girls will spend their evenings in dormitories during the next term under provisions of the probation. The party was held at nearby Haslett.

Giambra Is Favored Over Herring in Bout on TV

NEW YORK (UP)—He ought to be in pictures is what the girls say when either Joey Giambra or Jimmy Herring steps into the ring.

* * *

Tonight the gals will get a double thrill when blond Jimmy and dark-haired Joey try to mess each other up in the middleweight main event at Madison Square Garden.

They're two of the best-looking fighters in the game.

They'll be seen on coast-to-coast TV (NBC). The 10-rounder also will be broadcast.

* * *

Starting time is 10 p.m., EST.

Giambra, a better puncher and boxer, is a 3-1 favorite. The Buffalo N. Y., 22-year-old is ranked fifth among the 160-pound contenders, has won nine in a row and has a 34-2-1 record. He has scored 20 knockouts and never has been stopped.

* * *

Herring, 21, has won five of six fights this year against minor opposition. He was beaten by Ralph (Tiger) Jones. His record is 54-13-2 with 22 kayos. He has been stopped six times. He is not ranked in the first 10.

* * *

Giambra is aiming for a title shot at middleweight king Bobo Olson. Herring, a pro since he was 17, is wondering whether he should stay in the fight game. Giambra is the test. If Jimmy can beat him or make it reasonably close, he'll keep on fighting. If he takes a bad beating, he may call it quits.

Pontiac High basketball coach Art Van Ryzin will take the wraps off his 1953-54 Chiefs tonight, when Royal Oak comes here to open the season.

Royal Oak, boasting a starting lineup that averages over 6-feet 2-inches, will have a height advantage. Chiefs, however, will hold a big edge in speed and experience. Pontiac's starters will average slightly over six feet.

Van Ryzin will start 6-foot 3-inch John James and 6-foot 1-inch Marv Caswell at forwards, Leroy Moore (6-2) at center, and Bob Johnston (5-11) and Walt Poe (5-10) at guards. Moore is the only senior. Johnston, Poe and Caswell are juniors and James is a 2nd-semester sophomore. All are lettermen.

Also slated to see action tonight are 1952-53 letter-winners Bill Rose and Jimmy Williams at guards and Dick Ayling and Homer Harrison at forwards. Ayling, a regular in the latter part of last season, has been hampered by an elbow injury from football and isn't ready for full-time action yet.

Additional bench strength is provided by Walter King, highly-promising sophomore forward; Dave Ballard and Dick Blacklaw, a pair of 6-foot 3-inch newcomers; speedster Albert Hatchett and senior guard Paul Bersche.

Acorn coach Don Bray will start an all-lettermen quintet comprised of forwards Hubert White and Roger Sides, center Don Rowe and guards Ben Lewis and Bob Grundeman. Big man in the Royal Oak lineup is Rowe, 6-foot 5½-inch 212-pound pivot man. White is 6-4, Sides stands 6-3 and Lewis and Grudeman are close to the 6-foot mark.

Neither team had a particularly impressive record last year. Pontiac won four of 19 games, while Royal Oak won an equal number of victories in 16 starts.

Only One U. S. Hockey Player on Wolverine 6

ANN ARBOR—(UP)—They'll be playing the Star Spangled Banner for only one player tonight when the University of Michigan hockey team hosts McGill of Toronto.

He's goalie Willard Ikola of Eveleth, Minn., only American on either team.

All the McGill players are Canadians. So are all the Wolverines except Ikola and George Chin, who hailed as the only Chinese player in American collegiate hockey.

Chin has been Michigan's top scorer during the past two seasons.

Mann Starting His Final Year as 'M' Coach

Veteran Tank Mentor to Retire Affer End of This Season

ANN ARBOR (UP)—Matt Mann, Michigan's reknowned swimming coach, starts the last of 29 years here Saturday with the annual running of the Michigan AAU swimming meet.

Mann, native of Yorkshire, England, is in his 69th year and will retire after this season.

Behind him he will leave a record of at least 16 Western Conference swimming championships and 13 NCAA titles and the affectionate regard of a host of former athletes and friends.

And there are those who are convinced his last year will be one of his best, with a possible Big Ten title and NCAA crown as a going-away present.

All this overshadows the AAU meet, which will be run in two sections: 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. Swimmers from many sections of the state will compete.

Also on tap is an exhibition by several members of the squad which Mann hopes will make his final year a good one. The squad, built around a strong collection of veteran talent, features the highly-touted Scotch twins, Bert and Jack Wardrop. The two sophomores are strong in the free-style at practically all distances as well as several other events.

Mann's Wolverines get down to conference business here Jan. 16 in a dual meet with Northwestern University. After six league meets, Michigan swimmers will entertain the conference meet here March 4-5-6.

By then, Michigan is expected to be right up at the top.

'Jeopardize Pension Plan'

Dixie Walker, Johnny Murphy Blast Action of Current Representatives

By JOE REICHLER

ATLANTA (AP) — Major league player representatives today defended themselves against charges of trying to wreck the pension plan as lines were forming on both sides of the player-owner dispute.

American League player representative Allie Reynolds, accused by Johnny Murphy and Dixie Walker, baseball's first player delegates, as being one of the ringleaders of a group that was "trying to jeopardize the pension plan," heatedly denied any such intentions.

"We have no kick as to the operation of the pension plan," Reynolds said last night. "We simply are trying to improve. All the players certainly are proud of the plan and in no way want to jeopardize its standing."

Murphy and Walker, who helped set up the pension plan in 1946, accused the player representatives of the 16 major league clubs of violating the trust of their fellow athletes by walking out of a meeting with commissioner Ford Frick Wednesday.

Murphy also charged Reynolds and Kiner with not having informed the players at large of a Sept. 26 resolution passed by the owners to consider the termination of the pension fund.

Murphy is farm director of the Boston Red Sox, Walker is manager of the St. Louis Cardinals' Houston club.

"We haven't done anything that wasn't first approved by the players themselves," Reynolds replied. "No rebuff was intended to Mr. Frick. We hold the commissioner and his office in highest esteem but we felt it was absolutely necessary to have our attorney present."

Most of the club officials, who are scheduled to discuss the possibility of dissolving the pension plan at their meeting in New York next week, were bitter. Only Frank Lane, general manager of the Chicago White Sox, would be quoted.

"The players have shot Santa Claus," he said.

Murphy urged the players to throw their full support behind the commissioner in an effort for a peaceful solution and demanded a full apology from the delegates for their action.

Hoosiers Favored to Keep National Basketball Title

By NORMAN MILLER

NEW YORK (UP) — Indiana's hurryin' Hoosiers, with 10 players back from the team which won the national college basketball championship last year, were picked today by the United Press board of coaches to do it again this season.

Twenty-nine of the 35 leading coaches who will rate the teams for the United Press during the 1953-54 season predicted Indiana will finish on top for the second year in a row. Kentucky, returning to basketball after abandoning competition for one season, was chosen No. 2 and Duquesne third.

Coach Branch McCracken's team will be made up of the top 10 scorers from last year's squad which compiled a 19-3 regular season record, went on to win the NCAA championship in four games away from home, and attracted overwhelming acclaim from the coaches as the nation's No. 1 team.

McCracken's first five undoubtedly will consist of Don Schlundt, 6 foot 9 center who set an all-time Big Ten scoring record last season; backcourt star Bob Leonard, Dick Farley, Charles Kraak and Burke Scott.

Hoosiers will have to survive a tough 22-game schedule in order to fulfill their mission, including a 16-game Big Ten schedule.

Jewelers Face House of David

Benefit Game Slated Saturday at Waterford High Gymnasium

Shaw's Jewelers will take on the famed House of David quintet Saturday night in a benefit game at Waterford High School's gymnasium.

Feature game, at 8 p.m., will be preceded by a contest between the Waterford faculty and a Waterford Township League team at 6:45 p.m.

Proceeds from the affair, sponsored by Waterford's Varsity Club, will go to the school athletic fund.

Ronzani 'Embarrasses' Former Packer Bosses

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gene Ronzani, who was permited to resign as coach of the Green Bay Packers last week, still is traveling with the team — as a vacationing fan.

Arriving yesterday, Ronzani was told the Green Bay executive committee was embarrassed by his presence on the same train as the Packers, who had a 2-7-1 record with him.

"Maybe the brass was embarrassed but I wasn't and neither were the kids I coached," he said.

Ronzani said he'd watch the Packers play the San Francisco 49ers here Sunday and the Rams in Los Angeles a week later in their National Football League windup.

Dohoney in Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) —All-America Don Dohoney, captain and end of the Rose Bowl-bound Michigan State Spartans, will play for the North in the Senior Bowl football game here Jan. 9.

His was the first selection announced by the North team. Paul Brown, of the Cleveland Browns, will coach the squad.

Veeck Asking California to Consider Major Ball

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Bill Veeck, the big idea man of baseball, wants the state of California to go into the sport—to the extent of building a stadium or two large enough to accommodate major league teams.

Veeck unfolded his latest idea to Gov. Goodwin J. Knight yesterday.

The chief executive said he's interested, and invited Veeck to return when he has something definite to offer.

Both San Francisco and Los Angeles recently have been proposed as major league teams, either as replacements for financially faltering clubs, or in an expansion to 10 or 12-team circuits.

Veeck said private capital in the state can't finance a big ball park. He promised a plan — after the facts are collected—which he and the governor "will go over in detail."

But right now, Veeck said he was fact-finding—"trying to find out as much as I can about public financing on the coast."

Veeck is employed by baseball magnate Phil K. Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs. He formerly owned the ex-St. Louis Browns.

He said publicly owned parks are successful in Cleveland, where he once was president of the American League Indians, and in Milwaukee.

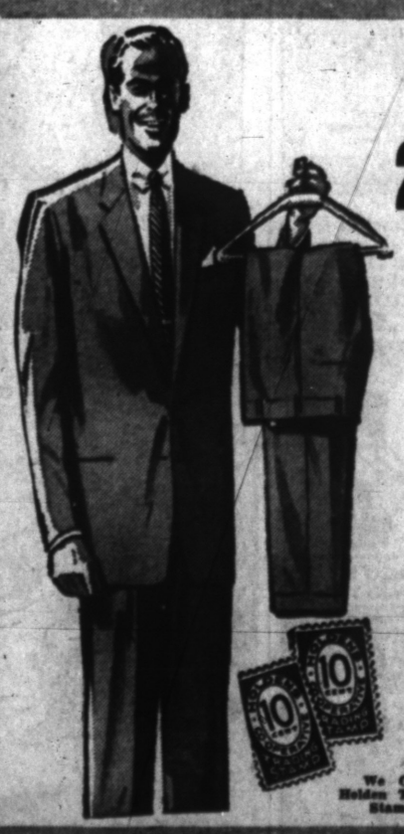

He suggested the state or some other public agency could finance a new or enlarged stadium with revenue bonds and retire them from rent paid by the club.

Friendly Powers Watch Suspiciously Over Big 3

By PHIL NEWSONE
United Press Foreign News Editor

Nowhere will there be greater interest in the Big Three Bermuda meeting than in the Far East, and nowhere, except perhaps in Moscow, will it be viewed with greater suspicion.

The interesting thing about it is that the suspicions are held by persons normally friendly to the participating powers — the United States, Britain and France.

Among the things they fear is a sell-out to Communists.

Most outspoken have been the Nationalist Chinese on Formosa and President Syngman Rhee of South Korea.

But there are others such as the anti-Communist Viet Namese in Indochina who fear French pressure for a one-sided deal to get out of the seven-year-old Indochina war, and the Indonesians who suspect the Western powers of trying to force them into the East-West conflict.

Rhee sniffed at the Bermuda meeting as a "waste of time and energy."

"We're too busy fighting Communists," he said.

Newspapers in Taipeh talk about an "Asian Munich."

Foreign Minister George Yeh wished the conference "every success" but warned thaht Nationalist China would not recognize "any decision made at Bermuda pertaining to the Far East" unless Asian governments were consulted first.

Indonesia reacted violently to suggestions that the Big Three might take up recent rebellious activities there as a further Communist threat to Free Asia.

In so many words, Indonesians told the Big Three to mind their own business.

They said they would stick to their "independent foreign policy" even if they appeared in Western eyes to lean toward Communist China.

India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru also has indicated repeatedly he believes any Big Three meeting a waste of time which could be better spent in a Big Four or Big Five meeting which would include Russia and Red China.

Nehru regards Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek as unimportant.

Generally speaking, Oriental suspicions of the West spring from two sources. A Southeast Asia diplomat in Singapore summed it up this way:

"Maybe it's hard for America and the rest of the West to understand, but most Free Asians view communism only as the second greatest enemy to their independence.

"The first and greatest threat is still considered to be colonialism by every Asian who ever had to bow his head to a Westerner."

He spoke for Nehru, Indonesia and Burma.

Nehru views every Western act in the suspicious light that Westerners again are trying to subject Asia to colonialism.

A cabinet fell in Indonesia a couple of years ago over the issue of U. S. military aid. Opponents viewed it practically as U. S. bribe.

Colonialism is not an issue with the Nationalist Chinese, but they have a bitter memory of the meeting at Yalta which gave the Russians entry to China, and they fear a surrender now of the Red Chinese.

Meanwhile, a resurgent Japan prepares to rearm under the auspices of the United States. The Nationalist Chinese and Syngman Rhee are suspicious of that, and so are the Philippines.

Blind Man Puts Out Fire in Own Home

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 61-year-old blind man was credited by the Los Angeles Fire Department with putting out a fire which threatened to destroy his home.

M. J. Kaleel smelled smoke in his bungalow, rushed outside for a garden hose and pushed it through an open window. After he located the hottest part of the room he directed a water stream toward that area until the heat subsided.

When firemen arrived, Kaleel was nonchalantly rolling up the hose. Damage to the home was estimated at $600.

Kaleel lost the sight of both eyes in a college football game in 1912.

Drink Milk, Drink Water

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP)—Clarence L. Drinkwater, 24, was fined $100 for drunken driving when he was arrested for speeding while returning from a milk truck drivers' picnic. District Judge Frank Gregorski advised Drinkwater to "stick to milk from now on, or even water."

Grains Slow Up, Wheat the Most

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains hovered within narrow price limits on the board of trade today. Dealings were less active than in other sessions this week.

Most cereals sold off at the opening, the nearby contracts of wheat falling most. Selling pressure soon dried up and the market rebounded to around yesterday's closing levels.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ cent lower to ⅛ higher, December $2.03¼, corn ¼-⅜ lower, December $1.53½, oats ⅛-⅜ lower, December 78⅝, soybeans ¾ lower to 2¼ higher, January $3.09¾, and lard 10 to 25 cents a hundred pounds lower, December $16.70.

Stocks Moving Only in Zigzags

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was normally mixed today in early trading.

The indecision follows a week of generally rising prices. Yesterday, however, the market started ahead early in the day and then ran into moderate selling that caused it to turn mixed with a slightly higher leaning.

4 Walled Lake Students Hurt

Car Crashes Into Tree on Pontiac Trail While Youths Drive to School

Four Walled Lake High school students on their way to school this morning were injured when their car went out of control on Pontiac Trail in Walled Lake and hit a tree, according to Michigan State police of the Pontiac post.

Alton Taylor, 19, of 115 Poplar St., Walled Lake, driver of the car, told Trooper Charles V. Frank that he applied his brakes as he came around a curve and lost control. Frank said, a film of dew on the pavement caused the youth's car to skid.

Taylor was treated at Pontiac General Hospital, for bruised ribs and knee and face cuts.

His sister, Virginia, 17, was admitted to the hospital with deep face cuts. Her condition is good.

Two passengers in the back seat, Michael Beebe, 14, of 1929 Bentley, Walled Lake, and Joseph Cristensen, 16, of 1939 Bentley, Walled Lake, were treated for bruises.

Week's Motor Output Due to Bounce Back

DETROIT (AP)—Motor vehicle production in the United States this week will bounce back sharply from last week's low point.

Automotive News estimated today that the week's total will consist of 99,745 cars and 23,418 trucks. Last week 52,277 cars and 19,454 trucks were built in United States factories.

The increase results from the return of Chevrolet and Pontiac to production after model changeover preparations and the fact more plants will operate a full five days this week.

The trade paper said that by this weekend U. S. plants this year will have produced 5,816,091 cars and 1,129,584 trucks.

Bells for Cats Statute Is Proposed by Official

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Bells for cats?

Yes, said Marin County Supervisor George Whiteley, who declared he would propose an ordinance requiring cats to wear bells.

"I know I'm leting myself open to attack from all cat owners," Whiteley said. "But I think we'll have more quail and wild life in Marin if the cats are not allowed to raom around uncontrolled.

"They're worse than dogs. They just roam around and eat everything."

Judge Commends Dad for Disciplining Son

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Police Court Judge S. Burr Leikind commended a father who disciplined his 17-year-old son for staying out all night.

"I take my hat off to you," Judge Leikind told the parent. "Perhaps if we had more fathers taking an interest in their sons we would not have so many young fellows getting into trouble these days."

Hudge Leikind told the son:

"Twenty years from now you will thank your father for what he did. At 17 we all thought we knew it all. Remember, he was just thinking of you."

Two Dogs Make Life Miserable for Human

WICHITA, Kan. (UP) — Teamwork by a couple of "man's best friends"—a big dog and a little one—cost George Montgomery 16 square inches of trousers seat.

A sanitarian with the city-county health department, Montgomery was at work in a residential area when he became a party to unwilling combat. Rounding a corner of a house, he spotted and kept an eye on one of the largest dogs he ever had seen.

It wasn't until he felt a draft and heard snapping teeth that he realized he had been duped. The big dog acted as a decoy and held his attention while the little one made the most of the diversion.

A Natural Reaction

GLASTONBURY, Conn. (UP)—State Policeman Charles Page, summoned by a young mother to give medical treatment to her two-year-old son, soon got at the seat of the trouble. He told her that that part of a child's anatomy always turns red after spanking.
