Soviets Renew Promise to Withdraw Cuba Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has renewed its promise that between now and next weekend several thousand Russian troops will be sailing home from Cuba.

Soviet Ambassador Antoly S. Dobrynin put the pledge publicly on the record late Friday.

"I have already mentioned to Secretary Rusk that we will withdraw several thousand troops... We will do what we promised we will do," he told newsmen at the State Department.

Syria Opens Border After Army Coup

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Syria's Revolutionary Council eased border controls today. The country moved back toward normalcy under a new 30-man cabinet in the wake of a military coup staged by officers friendly to Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The new premier is Salah Bitar, a veteran politician who heads the moderate wing of the Arab Ba'ath Socialist party.

Little more than 24 hours after the uprising, airports and seaports were ordered reopened. Automobile traffic was allowed to move again and approved food trucks were permitted to enter and leave the country.

Frontiers were opened to diplomats and to other foreigners approved by Syria's internal security forces.

NASSAR APPROVES

Nasser extended diplomatic recognition to the revolutionary regime, thus formally accepting the separate status of Syria for the first time since it revolted and broke away from the United Arab Republic in 1961.

The Egyptian leader said the previous union was "a pioneer movement from which we benefited much, and these benefits are resources for the Arab future and Arab unity."

Jordan and Algeria also extended recognition.

Premier Wafsi of Jordan, which is often at odds with Nasser's regime, offered to assist the new Syrian government in "every possible way."

The Jordanian leader expressed confidence that the events in Syria and Iraq "... will undoubtedly lead to a general improvement in inter-Arab affairs."

Bitar was a cabinet minister in the United Arab Republic cabinet when Syria and Egypt were joined as one nation. He quit, however, before the final split two years ago and has maintained his support for Syrian independence.

The new rulers claimed complete control of the turbulent country and proclaimed today a national holiday. They said the coup took place without bloodshed.

Wrecker Driver Leaped to Safety

Car Smacks Truck at Roadside, 2 Die

By JIM LONG

Traffic accidents in Pontiac and western Oakland County took the lives of four persons last night and early this morning, two of them in one crash.

A fifth is in serious condition.

Charles R. Medaris, 42, of 1340 Commerce Road, Milford.

Mrs. Maude M. Pond, 73, of 226 Franklin St., Milford.

Walter K. Copeman, 52, of 462 E. Tennyson Ave.

Medaris and Mrs. Pond were killed when the car Medaris was driving smashed into a wrecker that was parked alongside the shoulder of Milford Road in Highland Township.

Another passenger, Mrs. Mabel Durham, 69, also of 226 Franklin St., is in serious condition at Pontiac General Hospital with leg injuries and face and scalp lacerations.

The accident occurred at 8:50 p.m. just north of Rowe Road.

The wrecker, owned by Pontiac Towing Service, 681 E. Blvd. and driven by John T. Howells, 24, was backed up to the rear of a 2½-ton dairy truck when Medaris' car hit it head on.

Howells, 46 Seneca St., and the driver of the National Dairy Products truck, John L. Flock, 43, 922 Sarena St., said they saw the car come over a hill at a high rate of speed and ran for safety when it became apparent that the car would collide with the wrecker.

There was no sign of any attempt to stop the car, according to Sheriff deputies, who estimated the speed of the car on impact at 45 miles per hour.

The truck has been on the road since about 3:30 p.m., according to Sheriff's Deputy Edward W. Filhart who had been sent to the scene at 5:30 p.m. to investigate a report of a road hazard.

USED FLARES

Road flare were given to Flock by Filhart and placed around the stalled vehicle and at the top of the hill.

Deputy Worth Hitchcock, who took the accident report, said flares were still burning when he arrived.

Talbert was killed at 10:22 p.m. when he walked in front of a car on South Sanford Street.

The driver, Jeltion Major, 29, of 344 S. Edith St., told Pontiac police he was traveling north on Sanford when Talbert appeared in front of his car.

Major said he slammed on his brakes but could not avoid hitting Talbert and did not have time to swerve his car.

Major was traveling about 35 miles an hour, according to police.

DRIVES INTO TRAIN

Copeman was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital after he drove his car into the side of a Grand Trunk Western Railroad switch engine at the Columbia Street crossing.

Engineer Carl Niemi, 43, 5864 Loch Leven Drive, Waterford Township, said he was traveling only 4 miles an hour as he crossed the street at 1:45 a.m.

The train traveled about 20 feet after Niemi applied the brakes.

Police said the flashing signals at the crossing were operating.

A witness said he saw the car's brake lights go on only at the moment of impact but police said the car skidded about 20 feet.

An autopsy was ordered today since Copeman had a history of heart trouble, police said.

Service for Mrs. Pond will be 3 p.m. Monday in Richardson-Bird Funeral Home in Milford with burial in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Mrs. Medaris' body is at the same funeral home.

Surviving are a son William Baker of Milford; two grandchildren; six great-grandchildren; and two sisters, Mrs. Survina Motley of Milford and Mrs. Bessie Tyrrell of Hazel Park.

Edwards Considered as Federal Judge?

DETROIT (AP) — Published reports that Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards was in line for an appointment to the 6th Federal Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati drew considerable attention today.

The Detroit Free Press said in its story it had learned that Ray Girardin, former Detroit Times reporter and now executive secretary to Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, would be named police commissioner.

Sen. McNamara, D-Mich., who as senior senator from Michigan has the final say on federal patronage for the state, commented that there has been no selection yet and no name sent to the White House.

But McNamara added, "but certainly George Edwards is very well qualified and one who would have to be given serious consideration."

Sen. Hart, D-Mich., the state's junior senator, was unavailable for comment on the report last night but an aide expressed doubts any recommendations would be made until after the April 1 election.

Commissioner Edwards, who left the State Supreme Court over a year ago to become Detroit's No. 1 policeman, declined direct comment on the report.

"HAPPY NOW"

He said only that he was "happy in his present job."

Girardin, formerly chief probation officer for Wayne County, commented that the reports of Edwards' judgeship and his own promotion are "rumors which keep popping up."

Edwards' name is among the most frequently mentioned in Michigan political circles. A year ago, and again two months ago, there were rumors he was being considered as a successor to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI.

Edwards and Mayor Cavanagh held an hour-long conference late yesterday but there was no announcement of what they had discussed.

The Free Press story said Edwards would be nominated to succeed Judge Thomas McCallister of Grand Rapids who retired in January.

Others who have been mentioned as possibilities for the Cincinnati appellate post are Federal Judges Wade McCree, Thomas Thornton and Talbot Smith of Detroit.

China Warns of Land Grab

May Attempt Recovery Along Russian Border

LONDON (UPI) — British experts said today Red China has served notice on the Kremlin that it may try eventually to recover vast reaches of land Russia wrested from the latter Chinese empire.

The experts noted that Russia was specifically included in the list of "imperialist and colonialist powers" which the Peking Communist "People's Daily" said yesterday had imposed "unequal treaties" on China.

"By virtue of these unequal treaties, they annexed Chinese territory in the north, south, east and west, and held leased territories on the seaboard and in the hinterland," the editorial said.

"Unequal treaties" was a war cry of Chinese nationalism years before the Communists conquered the country.

While there appeared to be no prospect of an early Chinese attempt to seize the Russian-held territory, British experts said editorial had the effect of moving Red China's dispute with the Kremlin from the vague area of ideology into the specifics of politics and border disputes.

Some experts have believed for some time that Red China was eyeing some of the Soviet-held territories once were part of the old Chinese empire.

They also have suggested that Red China's land-hungry eyes might turn one day towards the vast and empty spaces of Russia, notably Siberia.

Among the treaties "forced" on China, the People's Daily specifically listed three agreements with Tsarist Russia — the Treaty of Aigun of 1858, the Treaty of Peking in 1860 and the Treaty of Il'ius of 1881.

Seek Safe Pass for Mindszenty

Honor Roll Swells to New High at OU

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican is reportedly trying to get a safe conduct pass from Hungary for Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Hungarian Catholic primate who has said that he will never leave his country, even if staying means life in confinement.

Three weeks short of 71, Mindszenty has been given haven in the U.S. Legation in Budapest since the Russians crushed the 1956 Hungarian revolt.

The government has threatened to imprison him again if he sets foot outside the legation.

Sources here said yesterday the Vatican is trying to get Mindszenty a safe conduct pass to Rome, where a permanent post would be provided for him.

Each of the students will receive a certificate citing him for distinguished academic achievement.

Speaker at the banquet will be Dr. John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp. and former professor of Stanford Universities.

Special awards will go to the 18 students with the best academic records in their respective classes.

Each of the students will receive a certificate citing him for distinguished academic achievement.

More than one-fourth of Oakland University's student body will get citations at the annual honors banquet Thursday.

Three hundred-twenty of Oakland's 1,150 students have earned invitations by making the dean's list in one of the last three semesters. This is the largest number ever.

Last semester alone, 238 students made the dean's list with averages of B or better, also a record. The honors function will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Oakland Center.

FIGHT SCHOOL FIRE — Firemen pour water on still-burning Belmont (N.Y.) High School yesterday where a flash fire injured more than 50 of the school's 900 students as they fled the flames. No fatalities were reported. Some students escaped through windows.

Light Snow Likely for Pontiac Tonight

Think winter's gone? — Don't be fooled. The "mild" temperatures are just Mr. Winter's way of tantalizing the area.

He's even planned snow with a low of 30 for tonight, to remind us that his official departure isn't until March 21.

The weather tomorrow will be partly cloudy with little temperature change. A high of 34 is predicted.

The outlook for Monday is mostly cloudy with a chance of light snow.

Today's variable winds will be come southerly at 10-20 m.p.h. this afternoon and early tonight. They've expected to shift to northerly Sunday.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 17. Thirty-one was the reading at 2 p.m.

Russ Charge of Poison Gas Denied in U.S.

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The commander of the Rocky Mountain Arsenal, an Army chemical center, denied today a Soviet charge that poisonous gas produced at the arsenal was being used against civilians in South Vietnam.

Col. Charles H. McNary said, "To my knowledge, we haven't used the gas on any humans. We've only used it for laboratory tests. That's the extent to which it was used."

McNary said GB, the gas which the Soviets claimed the U.S. was using against civilians in South Vietnam, was currently not in production at the arsenal but was being stored there.

16 Die, 40 Hurt in Explosions

By The Associated Press
Explosions at widely separated points around the world last night and today killed at least 16 persons and injured 40 or more others.

At least 15 died and 40 were hurt today when an explosion ripped through a forging plant at Belec, Germany, near Arnberg in eastern Westphalia.

Police said the blast apparently was caused by the bursting of a pipe carrying compressed air.

Rescue teams made up of fire and voluntary helpers worked feverishly to remove the debris. Red Cross ambulances carried the injured to hospitals nearby.

Thousands of people watched at the gates of the sprawling plant. All the victims were believed to be workers of the plant, which belongs to the Stepman Works.

ROCK DYNAMITE PLANT

Four violent explosions rocked the world's largest dynamite factory today at Modderfontein, 16 miles from Johannesburg, South Africa.

Hours after the explosions, officials listed one white worker definitely dead and four Africans probably killed. This superseded first reports from the South African Press Association that had indicated 35 to 45 persons were killed.

Officials said there was no evidence of sabotage, but they did not know what caused the explosions, which destroyed four buildings and damaged others.

Explosions at three Kroger Co. food stores in the St. Louis metropolitan area occurred after the stores closed last night. No one was injured.

Police said the blasts were set at stores in three communities and occurred within a five-minute period. Every available policeman was pressed into service for an investigation.

Silent Satellite Gets New Life

WASHINGTON (AP)—Space scientists have successfully brought a solar radiation satellite back to life after 22 months of silent orbiting around the earth.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Friday that the Navy-developed satellite is once again transmitting information about solar flares. It shows no signs of deterioration, "proving the satellite has successfully withstood high radiation bombardment," a NASA official said.

The 42-pound satellite was launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., in June 1960 and transmitted data on solar flares until April 1961, when it was turned off by radio signal from the earth because magnetic drag had reduced its rotation rate. On Feb. 25 NASA trackers turned the satellite's transmitters on again.

At Fremont, Ohio, a state of emergency remained in effect as an ice jam above Ballville Dam on the Sandusky River threatened to send torrents of water into the town. Nearly 500 families fled their homes.

The Red Cross was ready to aid flood-stricken citizens of Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and West Virginia today from an emergency disaster headquarters established at Columbus, Ohio.

The Red Cross estimated at least 18,500 persons have been affected by rampaging rivers in those states.

The worst flooding in 11 years was predicted for South Carolina in lowlands between Columbia and Lake Marion. Residents along the lower Susquehanna River were warned to be ready to flee should ice pile up on its way to Chesapeake Bay.

Flood threats in central Pennsylvania eased as the Susquehanna and Juniata rivers began a slow drop to normal levels. But four Pennsylvania counties — Allegheny, Fayette, Greene and Washington — remained designated flood disaster areas.

The Ohio River crested at Portsmouth, Ohio, where about 100 persons had to leave their homes Thursday. A crest was expected at Cincinnati today.

Accidental Launch of Missile Probed

BAUMHOLDER, Germany (UPI) — U.S. Army investigators tried today to determine the cause of Tuesday's accidental launching of a Nike-Ajax anti-aircraft missile at the training grounds here.

The missile's sustainer motor check, hurling it 66 feet into a blast wall surrounding the emplacement. Its high-explosive warhead did not explode, and no one was injured.

Informal observers discounted panicky speculation that such an accidental launching might start a nuclear war.

Ajax missiles have a maximum range of only about 25 miles, and they are not fitted to carry nuclear warheads.

Hart Cautions IRS Hopefuls

Data Center Location Still Not Decided

DETROIT (UPI) — U. S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said yesterday only "crystal ball gazers" can tell whether Michigan will get the $2-million tax data processing center once promised by the Internal Revenue Service.

Hart said he did not have a commitment from President Kennedy, contrary to rumors out of Washington.

IRS officials also denied that any decision has been made to reverse an earlier announcement that the center would be awarded to Cincinnati instead of Port Huron or Detroit.

The two Michigan cities have been fighting to land the center, which would have an annual payroll estimated at $7 million. State congressmen have been pressuring the administration to reverse its decision.

"I do not know what the eventual outcome will be," Hart said.

"We have talked to the White House and we will continue to express our belief that a promise was made to Michigan and that the center should be in southeastern Michigan."

Armed Bandit Robs Cleaners

A man armed with a small nickel-plated revolver held up a man cleaning a car at 361 E. Maple Road, Birmingham, and escaped with about $80 yesterday.

An employee, Romaine Streby, was the only person in the store when the man walked in at about 3:35 p. m.

He told Birmingham Police he ordered her to empty the cash register at gun point, then escaped on foot.

Approve Special Class for Near-Genius Children

BIRMINGHAM — A proposed experimental class for extremely gifted or near-genius children has been given tentative approval by the Birmingham Hills Board of Education.

Tentative plans are for the class to open this year with 12 students from grades one to six.

Superintendent Eugene L. Johnson noted that an outside specialist will be assigned to select the students.

Johnson explained that the class will be limited in size so that each student can get personal attention.

William Schrot, who has done some experimental work in this field, has been assigned to teach the class. He is currently a teacher in the Bloomfield Hills school system.

PARENTS MUST APPROVE
Parental approval is required before a child can be assigned to this experimental program.

Johnson said he is impressed with the Board's "willingness to experiment."

In addition to the class for gifted children, Johnson noted that the board approved employment of a school psychologist.

This, he said, will pull together the district's counseling services, testing and reading programs, and enlarge work undertaken in behalf of the emotionally disturbed.

Thomas Fogarty, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Fogarty of 3836 Wedgewood Drive, has received the Bausch & Lomb Award at Detroit Country Day School.

Kennedy Asks Defender Setup

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy asked Congress yesterday to set up a system for appointment of public defenders to represent people who can't afford lawyers to defend them in federal criminal cases.

"Whenever the lack of money prevents a defendant from securing an experienced lawyer, trained investigator or technical expert, an unjust conviction may follow," the President said.

Kennedy sent the House and Senate a draft of legislation which he said would "diminish the role which poverty plays in our federal system of criminal justice."

In a letter to the presiding officers of the Senate and House, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Speaker John W. McCormack, the President said the bill would "insure effective legal representation for every man whose limited means would otherwise deprive him of an adequate defense" against criminal charges.

Only 34 Still in Alcatraz

DARTS OF ART — Two youngsters play beneath Watts Towers that have been declared a work of art by a Los Angeles municipal ruling. The controversial spires were built by immigrant tilesetter Sam Rodia to brighten up the bleak suburban area in which he lived. They will now be permanently preserved.

'Piles of Junk' a Monument

LA Suburban Towers Saved

By DIAL TORGERSON — LOS ANGELES (AP) — In Watts considered by some the city's suburb least likely to succeed, there stand seven towers.

Amid the bleak landscape of Los Angeles Industrial South Side, they rise glistening into the sky, frameworks of welded steel inlaid with anything that will reflect light: broken pottery, beer bottles, sea shells, bottle caps, bits of tile, chunks of junk.

They call them the Watts towers. What are they?

That very question has stirred a lotter tower—that of Los Angeles City Hall—for four years.

And today, thanks to a municipal ruling, we know what they are: A work of art. A historic cultural monument.

The ruling means they will be permanently preserved.

The towers were built by an Italian immigrant in a protest against the ugliness of the new world in which he made his home. His name is Sam Rodia. Today, in his 80s, he lives in Martins, Calif., caring little of the fate of the soaring spires he built.

"Let's face it," said Kenneth Ross, general manager of the Municipal Art Department. "Watts is a terrible neighborhood. And it wasn't much better when Rodia moved there."

A tilesetter, Rodia started building the towers in 1921. One reached 104 feet, another 55. Shorter ones nestle at their base.

"The towers rose, year by year, set in concrete, the steel framework welded together, a mosaic of shattered brick-a-brac shining on its sides."

'SPLENDID' A few experts in folk art described them as a splendid piece of primitive sculpture as early as 1950. But they didn't really become famous until four years ago, when the Building and Safety Department decided they should come down.

Art lovers banded together to save the towers. Two Hollywood men bought them—for about $2,000—and decided them to a nonprofit group dedicated to their preservation.

Oct. 10, 1959, city building inspectors tested them for safety—by attempting to pull them over with a cable on a big truck.

The cable snapped. The tallest tower moved a fraction of an inch. The city left them alone.

Thursday, the city's Cultural Heritage Board, which rules on which landmarks should be saved, officially declared the towers a cultural monument.

"It is quite a victory," said Ross. "These towers, I believe, are the only beautiful things in Watts."

Watts, an area where social scientists go to make studies of gang warfare and slum conditions, can use a bit of beauty.

Said Bernard Yeskin, who sells furniture in a shop there: "Why it's a famous landmark. It's famous all over the world. Imagine! And it's in Watts!"

Long Terms in Prison for Benton Harbor Men

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Two Benton Harbor men who, police said, wounded a pair of Berrien County sheriff's deputies last Nov. 5, were sentenced to long prison terms yesterday.

Leroy Page, 23, was sentenced to 19 to 20 years in Southern Michigan Prison after pleading guilty earlier to a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Lionel Bradford, 36, convicted on a similar charge by a Berrien County Circuit Court jury, drew 20 to 40 years.

Partisan Battle Brewing on Unemployment Bills

LANSING (U) — A new partisan battle is brewing in the House over a package of Republican-sponsored proposals to revamp the state's unemployment compensation laws.

They were branded as "dangerous legislation" by Democrats when they came up for debate yesterday and were put over until Tuesday under a "gentlemen's agreement" between Democratic and GOP leaders.

The agreement was made, they said, because the bills deserve full debate and because Democrats wanted a series of proposed amendments to be printed before the issue goes to a show-down.

Rep. Riemer Van Til, R-Holland, chairman of the House Labor Committee and chief sponsor of the seven-bill package, said it is designed to restore original legislative intent to language of the laws.

He told House members earlier that the language had been "eroded, corroded and corrupted" over the years by appeal board and court interpretations in compensation cases.

BILL PROVISIONS

The bills would:

—Prohibit payment of both unemployment compensation and workers' compensation to disabled workers, with unemployment payable if greater.

—Provide that persons who lose jobs because they are in jail are not entitled to unemployment compensation benefits.

—Stiffen requirements for proof of legal dependents and force the Employment Security Commission to set down regulations on such proof.

—Revise provisions for determining "suitability of work" made available to jobless benefit recipients, and terms under which they are considered "available."

—Provide that referees have jurisdiction over all matters involved in an appeal case.

—Stipulate that employers need not pay both unemployment compensation and retirement benefits to employees who retire while laid off and drawing compensation.

The bills are similar to measures introduced in recent years by Republicans. Some passed both houses and were vetoed in the governor's office, others failed to muster enough votes to pass.

Month to Fight Cancer

Pianist Nixon Talks on TV About Cuba, K

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former Vice President Richard Nixon last night made his first U.S. television appearance since losing the race for governor in California in November.

Nixon played the piano and commented on matters ranging from the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev during his taped appearance on the Jack Paar Show (over NBC). Reacting to Nixon's views, the Soviet news agency Tass said he "continued to grind out the same old tune for which he was blackballed at the last elections."

Note Less Foreign Cars

LANSING (U) — The secretary of state's office says foreign car registrations in Michigan last month were 954, the first time in several years they have dropped below 1,000 for one month. Leading among foreign registrations were Volkswagens, with 653, Renault with 86 and Triumph with 33.

Flying Future Offered America's Youth

The U. S. Army is about to start a drive to draw teen-age youths into careers as pilots for its growing fleet of helicopters and planes.

Minimum age for such trainees has been dropped from 20½ years to 18. The upper limit remains at 30 years.

A young man, in addition to enlisting in the regular Army for two years, would have to meet rigid physical and mental standards for acceptance into the air arm.

After basic training, he would undergo preflight and flight training varying from 36 weeks for helicopter fliers to 42 weeks for pilots of fixed wing airplanes.

If the course were completed, the trainee would be obligated to serve on active duty for at least 36 months. If he failed the course, he would be returned to the regular Army to serve out the balance of his two-year enlistment.

With military and civilian outlook trending toward air and space orientation it would seem that young men in considering their required military service would have everything to gain and nothing to lose by taking advantage of the opportunity offered by the Government.

Washington Cover-Up Has Gone Far Enough

The finest indication that we still have a serious mental health problem in this nation is the pickets around the White House who want clothes on animals.

It's reasonable to expect the movement will last as long as the $400,000 left for its promotion.

There are enough "cover-up" operations going on in Washington already, without trying to cloak some of the jackasses in clothes, or even respectability.

Tax Reduction a Myth Without Spending Cut

It seems that the burdened taxpayer just can't win.

Already the Administration's $10.3-billion tax reduction plan—even were it to eventuate—has shrunk to less than half a dollar by the time it reaches the taxpayer's pocket.

This year's boosts in Social Security taxes and postal rates have drained away more than a quarter of the proposed savings—about $2.7 billion—and the states and cities are casting eyes at another allee.

State tax increases totaling perhaps $2.5-billion are being studied in most of the 47 legislatures meeting this year.

But that doesn't take into consideration all the city and local governments which must wrestle with looming deficits arising from the steady growth of population and rising school, transit and traffic emergencies.

All this would eat up half the Kennedy tax-reduction proposals for 1963 and 1964. What of 1965?

That is the year that the Administration plans to make effective its program for medical care for the aged. It would take an estimated $2.1 billion annually from employers and employees, beginning the first of that year.

And in 1966 would come the next regularly scheduled hike in Social Security payment, subtracting another $2 billion or more from paychecks and employers' payroll accounts, along with whatever new state and local taxes have been enacted in the meantime.

In light of all this, the Kennedy panacea for stimulating the economy by channeling present revenue funds into trade is an illusion of the highest order. A taxpayer will find that while one government hand is putting a tax dollar into one pocket, another hand is extracting a like amount from another.

The only realistic panacea for the darkening aspect of our country's fiscal situation is some real, old-fashioned thrift and economy in all levels of government.

Famous Lady Takes Off But Her Smile Stays On

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

The end of the 26-day U.S. visit of Mona Lisa adds another million or so to those who have wondered what Lisa is smiling about.

According to a pretty complete roundup in the old song "There Are Smiles," there are five different species of smiles. But Lisa's defies classification. For 69 years she apparently has been smiling just because . . . a standard feminine reason for anything.

When Leonardo da Vinci put brush to canvas, he came up with the longest and most valuable built-in smile of all time. The portrait is estimated to be insured for $100 million.

But if no one knows the precise meaning of the enigmatic smile, it is this married man's opinion that there is nothing uncommon about it.

Every working husband has seen it on his wife's face on occasions too numerous to mention. It shows up after he:

- (a) Has answered her question about how he came out in the poker game with the boys the night before;
- (b) Has related how he told off the boss that morning;
- (c) Has explained the business reason for lunching with the cute creature when observed by wife's girl friend;
- (d) Has inquired about contents of the mountain of packages spouse returned with after a shopping spree.

Well, male connoisseurs can be thankful for one thing—that Lisa has been smiling all these years . . . not giggling.

An interesting letter comes from Mrs. Charles Byrd of Milford. The Rochester High School graduation class of 1936 celebrates its Silver Anniversary in June, and the first class reunion is planned.

Only two of the original 98 members are uncontacted, and the sponsors of the get-together would appreciate information regarding and Geraldine Warren.

The MAT hopes this notice will turn up the two missing, and extends best wishes for an enjoyable and rewarding assembly.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

"... Thy faith made thee whole." Matthew 9:22

Sister Anna Hunt knew that she wanted to be a Lutheran deaconess when she was confirmed at the age of 13 in her native Germany. It was another 18 years and 3,000 miles before she was invested as a sister in the Mother House in Philadelphia. Sister Anna studied nursing and entered The Lankenau Hospital in Philadelphia. She typifies the 600 and more Lutheran deaconesses who are dedicated to the physical and spiritual healing of the ill and maimed.

In 1965, Sister Anna retired as a supervisor at the Lankenau Hospital, but has continued to live there as a visiting nurse. Each day she visits the newly admitted patients and the most seriously ill, giving them courage, praying with them, and assuring them that through modern medicine their faith will make them whole. Time and again she has been the instrument through which a patient has found a new life. The hundreds of letters she has received from former patients give witness to the power of her faith. "I not only found my health, I also found my Lord," is typical of the quotes from the many letters. And to this Sister Anna replies, "I have a great sense of gratefulness."

Days of All Faiths:

How Do We Get Great Leaders?

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

There are two main theories about how great leaders appear. One is that any culture or any situation just naturally pushes to the top the kind of man who is best fitted to represent the culture or handle the situation. The other is that God raises up the right man at the right time.

Take your choice, but you would find it difficult to say that the age he lived in produced St. Gregory the Great, whose memory is honored March 12 in the Christian calendar. Gregory was certainly the man for his time, but what made him "the Great" was that he was definitely not of his time.

Born in the middle of the fifth century, Gregory had wealth, social position, and government status at a time when the Roman Empire was falling apart. It was a time of panic.

Rome had been mistress of the world for so many centuries that no one could imagine what life would be without her legions, her power for law and order, and her peace. But in 509, when Gregory became Pope, the Eternal City had been through floods, invasions by the barbarian hordes from the north, and was now caught in the midst of a deadly plague. "The glory that was Rome" was gone forever.

POLITICIAN TO POPE

Into this hopeless situation the people of Rome called Gregory to be their bishop. They had known him before as a civic leader. Trained as a lawyer, he had gone into politics and in his early thirties had become Prefect of Rome, which is to say, bluntly, the head man.

When he was 35, something (we don't know what) caused him to renounce his prestige and become a monk. He exchanged his purple robe for the monastic sackcloth. But he was so well known to be able to escape his former prominence. When the Papacy became vacant, the chance for Gregory was unanimous. He tried to run away, but he was overtaken, carried back to Rome, consecrated a bishop, and presented to the papacy as Pope.

When all around was chaos and fear, God provided a man of courage and incisive ability, a combination of statesman and priest fitted not only to deal with present troubles but to set the Church on its way to domination of the dark centuries to come.

Gregory was a tremendously versatile man—administrator, executive, preacher, writer, musician, and theologian.

Because of the changes, reformations, and reforms Gregory made, the Church was able to move with dignity and clarity into and through the disorder of the Middle Ages. Gregory is rightly called the founder of medieval Europe. It was his church that preserved the only permanent values that survived through the medieval darkness.

THE MAN HIMSELF

As to the man himself, Gregory is one of the few examples of humility combined with greatness in one personality. He was the first to use the expression "the servant of the servants of God" by which all Popes now describe themselves.

A strange fact about him, impossible in this day of clericalism in the Roman church, is that he was the great-grandfather of a Pope. It was Gregory, incidentally, who instituted clerical celibacy as a rule in the Roman church.

He was also the son of a saint, St. Sylvia.

As Pope, he engaged in enormous charities, so great as to be almost a state relief program. When one man died of starvation in Rome, Gregory held himself personally responsible and did penance for his sin of neglect. (Copyright 1963)

Washington Notebook:

Early Starter in Election Gags

WASHINGTON (NEA)—If the Republicans nominate New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for the presidency in 1964, with

Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio as his vice-presidential running mate, the ticket then would read "R o c k e t t Rhodes."

Recalling that President Kennedy promised Cuba's released

Bay of Pigs invaders their flag would again fly over Havana, Rep. William Cramer, R-Fla., asks:

"How does the President propose to do this? Mail it to Castro and hope he will change his color?"

New Washington bumper stickers:

"THEY'RE STILL 90 MILES AWAY!"

There's a sign in one of the offices in the Pentagon that everybody can't help but see before entering a particular colonel's office. It reads:

DO YOU HAVE A SOLUTION? OR ARE YOU PART OF THE PROBLEM?

On the White House press room bulletin board recently was this testy interchange:

First, a news item saying the Indiana senate had passed a bill making it a misdemeanor knowingly to give false information to newspapers or broadcasting stations.

Beneath this was typed:

"We the undersigned favor still punishment for those who knowingly or otherwise give out false news."

There followed the signatures of several prominent White House correspondents, with space for more.

Next, a handwritten note:

'Latin American Nations Depending Upon U.S.'

Unless the U.S. takes the initiative and recovers the leadership that it relinquished after the Cuban crisis, no nation in Latin America is going to lift a finger against Castro's powerful military establishment. No one is going to speak up against Red Cuba. They simply lack the wherewithal to back up their words.

It is due to Washington's hesitation and indecision that the Communists have confidently stepped up their subversive activities in Latin American countries. And that vacillation is the reason Ambassador Gonzalo Facio stated: "It's not up to us; it's up to the U.S. to lead."

And so, by cracky, it is.

'Waterford Schools Have Fine System'

I'm sorry to read Miss Mary Harding's letter in The Press stating that she is getting lower marks in her junior year at the University of Michigan than she did at Waterford High School.

I cannot see how she could blame the school for this. Such an accusation is unfair to the Waterford School System. This system is good and in some specialized areas, better than any in the country.

In recent state math exams, Waterford students rated high. I have two children attending and from their assignments, projects and schedules, they have quite a heavy load. Some of the math and science they have now I did not have until I was at the University of Michigan (this was in the 30s).

'Quick Sentencing Does Curb Crime'

The reason why Wisconsin, Michigan and some other states have fewer killings than Illinois is not because they have no death penalty but because they quickly punish every person who commits a crime.

In Chicago and throughout Illinois, too many criminals escape prison terms because of soft-headed judges and lawyers. They'd simply congregate somewhere else. They must be completely exterminated. (I don't want them around my downtown location.)

'Church Donations Should Be in Budget'

Press columnist Mary Feeley often has not given church donations a place in her budgets.

I agree where she says "Give something, of course." She mentioned a consistent giving plan. We are told God loves a cheerful giver and those that really give do not complain as it is a privilege and joy to give, not to try and fill an obligation. Could one ever fulfill an obligation to one who gave His life for us?

'Let's All Fight to Save Our Nation'

We have had some fine editorials on the deplorable Cuban situation. Let's back our editor up with a shower of cards on Washington. If each subscriber would buy ten cards and send one a day, we should make ourselves heard. Sen. Keating seems to be fighting a losing battle—let's give him a hand.

This is your country and it's in danger. Help fight for it!

It won't do any good merely to drive those pigeons away from the corner where they roost. They'd simply congregate somewhere else. They must be completely exterminated. (I don't want them around my downtown location.)

Neither does anybody else," said Kennedy.

"But how about all these political debts you have to pay?" asked Shriver. "Why don't you give this job to a politician you owe something to and square yourself with him?"

"Listen," replied Kennedy, "everybody thinks this Peace Corps is going to be the biggest fiasco that ever was. If it is, the director will get blamed for it, and it will be a lot easier to fire a relative than a politician."

Though he was born and grew up in what is now Tanganyika, West Germany's new Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel's first name is not of African origin. He was asked about this frequently during his just-concluded visit to Washington. He came to assure President Kennedy, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that the new Faris-Bon Hassenal was really two names, both of German origin. Her von Hassel's parents don't agree on which one to use, so they used them both.

Economics Prof. Paul Samuelson, longtime Kennedy adviser, lectured an American Bankers Assn. meeting here on way-out, ultraliberal fiscal policies. He told his audience he was speaking only for himself, not for White House planners and insiders.

It was the president-elect insisting, "You've got to come to Washington and run the Peace Corps."

Shriver stalled repeatedly, "I don't know anything about running a Peace Corps," he said.

On Judging Mergers

Public Interest Guides

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK — The public interest as the government's chief yardstick for judging mergers is given added emphasis today. This comes as the yen for corporate marriages grows—and as fears about the trend increase in Congress where the motives are suspect as against the public interest. And in labor circles mergers often seem synonymous with loss of jobs.

The newest federal guidelines are proposed for the railroads and the airlines. These are under considerably more regulation than are industrial corporations.

But the federal government has been taking keen interest in industrial and banking mergers. In some cases it has gone to court to try to prevent them. In others it has sued under the antitrust laws to dissolve them. The chief government argument has been that the merger tended to create a monopoly or that it hurt the public interest in other ways.

DAWSON

That somewhat vaguely defined thing, the public interest, also is advanced as the government's guidelines for wage or price increases.

PRIME GUIDE

In the case of the rails and airlines, a presidential committee sets as the prime guide—a merger is okay if the public benefits through lower fares or freight rates or through better service. The committee rejects the pleas generally put forth by the companies seeking to merge, such as avoiding bankruptcy, cutting duplicated costs or service, strengthening their financial structure in general.

Business mergers last year set a record of 1,260, the Federal Trade Commission reports. In 1961 there were 1,234, a gain of 22 percent over the 1,012 in 1960.

The reasons given for merging were to add to total capacity or capacity in specific areas, to diversify products, to gain a source of supply, to move into a new consumer market, to get a tax loss to offset the big earnings of the healthier partner, to acquire management whizzes or engineers, or to survive.

By growing larger in this fashion, companies also can get more bank credit, afford expensive automation, and cut costs better than can smaller firms.

The wave of mergers since World War II is the third major one in this country.

TO DOMINATE MARKETS

The first, from 1890 to 1904, was to build vertical and integrated monsters. The object was to dominate markets. Such mergers mostly were put together by bankers. The end of this movement came with the antitrust laws which the monopolies inspired.

The second, from the end of World War I through the 1920s, also was sparked by bankers. But the motive wasn't to set up the kind of trust that had been outlawed but to furnish glamorous stock issues to feed the speculation that gripped the public. The depression put an end to this—and to many of the stock issues and the rickety companies.

Since World War II the merger movement has been guided largely by corporate management rather than bankers. The motives have been diversification, ending cut-throat competition, growing big enough to afford the high cost of doing business these days.

The present administration is bringing forth a different question: How does the public fare when companies marry? Just what constitutes the public interest will be debated more and more in business and government circles.

Claims JFK Kept Planes From Cuba

CHICAGO (AP) — Albert C. Persons, who identifies himself as one of 18 Americans hired for aerial duty in the abortive 1961 invasion of Cuba, said President Kennedy denied the invaders the support of their own aircraft.

Persons, 47, managing editor of the weekly Birmingham (Ala.) Examiner, set forth his views in Chicago's American.

"In the original plan there was no provision for United States military air support," he wrote.

"The group of 18 experienced aviators was to have provided air support for the invasion troops. B-26s were scheduled for attacks against vital targets prior to the landings and for air support missions for the troops after the landing."

"It was not United States air support the President withheld. The President denied the invasion forces the support of their own aircraft during this crucial period."

Persons wrote that the first air strike against Cuban targets on April 15, 1961, was followed by a 48-hour period of inactivity.

"The 48-hour standdown between the first strike on Saturday morning and the second on Tuesday morning was, of course, not a part of the operational plan. The delay was ordered from Washington."

"It has never been revealed whose orders these were, nor what purpose was expected to be accomplished. The results, of course, were disastrous," through 180 centers.

Claim First TV Picture Seen in Russian Tube

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union observed the 25th anniversary of its television Friday and claimed the world's first TV transmission was made by a Russian scientist in 1911.

The Tass news agency said the Soviet Union has 100 television centers and reaches 80 million people; that by 1965 Soviet TV will reach 120 million viewers through 180 centers.

The principal sponsor of the measure, Sen. Harold Hughes, R-Clare, said he made the proposal simply because he felt the government should make the appointments.

A motion to send the bill back to committee failed, but further consideration was postponed until Tuesday.

In other action, the Senate passed six minor bills and sent them to the House. Five other bills were adopted and sent to the House yesterday, and four went to the governor for his signature.

Performance Interpreted Differently by Auto Companies

By BEN PHELAGAN
Associated Press Automotive Writer

DETROIT — The automobile industry is convinced, either publicly or privately, that performance sells cars.

This holds true for each of the five passenger car companies, whether they market small cars or big cars, sedate chariots or drag strip demons.

But for at least one company the term performance has become so blurred in the public mind as to have become synonymous with racing. And, says American Motors in effect, "This is not for us."

AMC, which grew profitable on

George Romney's crusade against the gas-guzzling dinosaurs of its major competitors, has undertaken a full-scale assault on what it chooses to call the glamorizing of raw horsepower and high speed to promote the sale of cars. This, says AMC, "is not in the public interest, and is not in the public interest, and is not in the public interest."

Jobless Rate Jumps in Midmonth Count

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's unemployment went above 200,000 as of mid-February, the Employment Security Commission reported yesterday.

The MESCC gave a figure of 205,000, an increase of 21,000 over mid-January. The 205,000 was described as 7.1 per cent of the total work force.

The number of jobless in the Detroit area rose to 93,000, an increase of 11,000 and 6.7 per cent of the work force.

CAN BE DANGEROUS

It becomes another case of who sets the limits. American Motors says cars with inadequate horsepower can be dangerous; cars with excessive horsepower can be dangerous and needlessly extravagant.

Ford has gone all out for performance and is the only one of the five companies fully and openly sanctioning stock car competition.

"Our policy is that where there is a wheel turning in competition, Ford cars should be there and be at their best," said a spokesman for Ford division.

General Motors insists that despite lapses by some divisions it took its stand against speed in 1957. Yet President John Gordon says that when it comes to performance it is hard to overlook GM.

Just Couldn't Get Drift of Yankee Bank Draft

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP)—

businessman instructed his secretary to write a letter to a South American branch, explaining a bank draft was being enclosed.

The secretary then was to translate the letter to Spanish.

She looked up the Spanish word for draft and got "corriente de aire," or a breeze. The letter came back from South America, asking for a clarification.

Chrysler says the AMA stand became imperative when Ford withdrew from the ban last summer. Dodge and Plymouth have both gone as open handedly as Ford.

Their stand has been more to encourage drivers and independent owners to use Plymouth and Dodges.

Studebaker says it will provide all of the excessive horsepower anybody wants. But it is not involved in stock car racing.

DO VICTORIES HELP?

Do race victories sell cars?

"We are not in racing for the benefits of immediate sales," Ford says, "but in the Southeast racing definitely has an influence."

Ford Is Known to Believe

4 Children Burn to Death in Apartment House Fire

CHICAGO (AP)—Four children burned to death in an apartment building fire Friday night on the South Side.

Officials at Michael Reese Hospital said the victims were Martha Jean Kohn, 5, her brother, Linell, 3, and Jesse, 1, and a sister, Dianne, 2 weeks.

Chevrolet and Pontiac gained sales in the stock car racing hotbeds, such as the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida, with victories in races the last few years.

E. M. (Pete) Estes, general manager of Pontiac, told a reporter "We don't know" how much racing may influence sales. "Our sales were up in the Southeast," he said, "but they were up everywhere. We have had a hot selling car the last couple years."

A Chevrolet man said he assumes Ford believes racing will sell cars "because they are spending so much time and money on it." He added his own view is that the question can't be answered accurately.

CAB Uses Truth Serum to Probe Air Crash Cause

By ROBERT J. SERLING
UPI Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON — The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) yesterday disclosed the first use of a "truth serum" to help solve an air crash.

The accident involved a Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) Constellation which crashed while landing on the island of Canton in the Pacific last April 28. All four FAA crew members and one of the two passengers aboard were killed.

The lone survivor, FAA resident physician Dr. John B. Miller, voluntarily submitted to a medically supervised interview under narcoanalysis — a technique to help patients release suppressed or forgotten information.

State's '62 Milk Output Up From 1961 Figures

LANSING (U-P) — Total milk output in Michigan in 1962 was nearly 5.5 billion pounds, up 3.7 percent from 1961, according to the Federal State Crop Reporting Service.

Annual production per cow for the state in 1962 was 8,620 pounds, on the average, a record level.

sodium amylal, a drug which prompts memory recall.

The CAB said that during questioning while under influence of the drug, he brought up many details of the flight — including significant commands from the captain which led to solution of the accident.

Miller remembered that the commanding pilot, Capt. Julius J. Terranova, shouted "controls frozen!" and "ailerons frozen!" as the plane veered to the right while landing.

The doctor also recalled that the captain then disconnected the hydraulic boost system (like power steering on a car) because he obviously thought the system had failed.

The CAB said an examination of the wreckage disclosed that the swerve was caused by an undetected reversal of a propeller in flight.

It said Terranova's action to change from hydraulic to manual control worsened the control difficulties stemming from the reversed propeller and made the crash inevitable.

4 Successfully Flee Across Berlin's Wall

BERLIN (AP) — Three men and a woman fled from East Berlin across the Communist-built wall to West Berlin during the night, West Berlin police reported.

Police did not disclose any details of the escapes but said all were made at different points.

SW Historian Killed in Auto

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Walter Prescott Webb, 75, perhaps the Southwest's leading historian, was killed last night in an automobile accident.

Webb's wife was in critical condition today at Brackenridge Hospital. Police said the Webb automobile overturned near Austin on Interstate Highway 35.

Webb, a rustic-mannered professor at the University of Texas since 1918, concentrated on the frontier of mid-America in his chronicles of history.

He also was internationally known as an author and some of his most widely read books were "The Great Plains" and the "Texas Rangers," considered the bible of Texas Range history.

Board to Get Fund Requests

Waterford Township board members will consider expenditure requests from both the police and fire departments Monday night.

Authorization to rent teletype equipment at a cost of $80 monthly is sought by the police department. The township department has been using sheriff's department equipment.

The fire department is seeking approval to purchase 1000 feet of all-Dacron fire hose at a cost of $1,650.

In other business, the board will review an application from The Mall shopping center for an amusement park license from May 6 through 20 to coincide with the center's first anniversary celebration.

Waterford Township Friends of the Library will appear at the meeting to hear a progress report on a request that the township establish a public library.

Also slated is the presentation of citations to two area high school students and a registered nurse who saved the life of Cynthia Marie Markoe, 7, of 4111 Baybrook St., Jan. 22.

Proclaims 25th Year

LANSING (U-P) — Gov. George Romney has proclaimed the year 1963 as United Jewish Appeal 25th anniversary year and urged citizens of all faiths to "give proper recognition to the important contributions made by this most worthy organization."

Anonymous Tip Leads to Arrest of Killer Suspect

DETROIT (UPI) — A tip by an anonymous caller to Hazel Park police yesterday led to the arrest of Kenneth Wayne Light, who is wanted in Kingsport, Tenn., for the slayings of two gas station attendants.

Police arrested Light just as he was about to drive away from the home of his wife's aunt.

Detective Edward Ryberg of the Hazel Park Police Department said Light had just loaded luggage into the trunk of the car when he was arrested.

Light told police he had intended to drive his wife home to Kingsport when he was arrested. Police said he was unarmed and offered no resistance.

Planning in Waterford

GOP Gals to Tea Off for Spring

Plans for the annual Waterford Republican Club dessert card party March 18 at the Waterford Community Center were outlined recently at a tea at the home of Mrs. Byron Cole, Sylvan Shores Drive. Card party committee members are (from left) Mrs. Fred L. Morningstar, Major Street; Mrs. John E. McGrath, Edgebrook Drive; Mrs. Leo F. Kampen, Baybrook Drive; and Mrs. Elmer R. Johnson, Seebaldt Street. Mrs. Cole is general chairman for the party. John McGrath will be master of ceremonies.

Three Sorority Chapters Meet in Area

The Michigan State president of Pi Omicron National Sorority, Mrs. Charles McCormick, was a guest at the Thursday meeting of Phi Kappa Tau Chapter in the Breaker Road home of Mrs. Robert Hausman.

Other guests were Mary Howko and Pat Jeffries.

Plans were made for the April 11 card party and fashion show to be given at First Federal Savings of Oakland.

Members of Alpha Alpha Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, were guests of Mrs. Albert Anselmi of Deer Run Drive Thursday evening. Grace Sutton was cohostess.

The Anselmi home will be the setting for a cooperative dinner and social evening next Saturday and an annual card party on April 25.

Delegates will attend the state board meeting March 24 in the Pantlind Hotel, Grand Rapids.

Vice president Mrs. Elmer O. Johnson announced that Mrs. A. J. Latozas, Miss Sutton and Mrs. Harry Watkins will receive membership pins at the May 1 jewel pin dinner in Pine Knob Ski Lodge, Clarkston.

Election of officers will be held at the Thursday meeting of North Suburban Chi Omega Alumnae. Mrs. Alan Bikson will host the meeting at her Birmingham home.

Speaker will be Dr. Irwin Small, who will talk on his visit to Peru as a member of Project Hope.

Cohostesses who are taking reservations are Mrs. Charles Walter and Mrs. Donald Morrow of Birmingham and Mrs. William New of Southfield.

To Break Date Takes Good Alibi

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: May a boy, having made a date with a girl, ever break it?

A: Not unless he has a very good reason for doing so. To break a date because something more interesting has come up, is inexcusable.

However, should it be necessary for a valid reason, to break a date, he should notify the girl concerned immediately, explaining why he cannot keep the appointment and, if possible, at that time make another date.

Q: I am a Protestant and have been invited to the wedding of a Jewish friend of mine. I have never before been to a Jewish wedding but have been told that it is customary for the men to keep their heads covered during the ceremony. I would like to know if I am also expected to follow this custom.

A: At a Jewish wedding ceremony, all the men (including non-Jews wear a skull cap. When one is in a church or temple of a faith other than one's own, one should do what those of that faith do insofar as such action does not break any rule of one's own faith. Any Christian, for instance, would remove his (or her) shoes before entering a mosque.

Q: I have a very poor memory for names and on several occasions when I have had to introduce acquaintances to friends of mine I couldn't for the life of me think of their names.

This can be very embarrassing, especially when they are people whose names I should know. Is there a way of getting around this without having to ask the person his (or her) name?

A: Try saying to the one whose name you have forgotten, "Oh, you know Mrs. Brown, don't you?" and hope that Mrs. Brown will be tactful enough not to say, "You didn't tell me your friend's name."

Details concerning the announcement of an engagement are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Announcing the Engagement." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

For Pete's Sake Get You to the Church Next Time

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am half out of my mind keeping this inside me, and I need an answer. My wife belongs to a church on the edge of town. I am not a member. We are both in our early 30s and have four children.

So someone picks her up in a car at 6 Sunday morning and she doesn't get home until noon on Monday.

I ask her what kind of church lasts all night and she tells me that they pray in church all day, and afterwards they go to the preacher's house for special prayers and supper. Then they go outside and commune with nature and pray some more.

After that they go to someone's house for coffee and doughnuts. Then someone drives her home. I went along with her story on Sundays, but now she has started to go on Wednesdays.

—WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Don't just sit there — get a sitter, or park the kids with friends and go to "church" with your wife next Sunday. Seeing is believing.

DEAR ABBY: I have been unhappy for 37 years because the man I married never gave me a wedding ring. I didn't know I wasn't getting one until the minister asked for the ring. My husband said, "No ring."

When people ask me why I don't wear a wedding ring I make excuses because I'm ashamed to tell them the truth.

Several years ago I gave my husband a man's gold wedding ring, thinking he would then understand how much I wanted one, but he wore it only a few times and never took the hint. Am I wrong to feel cheated?

DEAR CHEATED: Why "hint"? Perhaps your spouse of 37 years never realized how much his failure to give you a wedding ring has hurt you. Don't suffer in silence any more. Tell him you WANT one.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please give me some information? I have $10 riding on your answer and it has to be printed in your column or

I can't collect. My friend says that unless a letter is signed, you will not use it in your column. I say that you use letters in your column whether they are signed or not.

BALTIMORE: DEAR BALTIMORE: Congratulations, you have just won $10.

NANCY RUTH ROSE

But Maintain Quality

Eat Less as You Age

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many people have the mistaken idea that the diet should be changed drastically as a person grows older. This is not true. The quality of the diet should remain the same—just the quantity should be changed.

Less food is needed as the years pass. The daily caloric requirement decreases with age.

The National Research Council's food and nutrition board recommends a reduction of 3 per cent in caloric intake per decade between the ages of 30 and 50, of 7½ per cent between the ages of 50 to 70 and of 10 per cent between 70 and 80.

Yet how many people think in terms of reducing their food intake as they grow older? Often just the opposite happens because there is often more money for food and more time to cook in later years.

This is why average weight chart show a gain in the older age groups. Fats do not cut down on the amount of food they eat but their physical activity does slow down.

From middle age on, people have the same nutrient requirements, and there is little change in the digestive system because of age. Habits in eating do change, but only because of circumstances of life change.

Food habits are influenced by the society in which we move, by the money we have to spend on food, by health, by physical activity and by early habits.

PSYCHOLOGICAL IMPACTS

Psychological as well as physical conditions have an impact on what and how much we eat. Happiness aids appetite and digestion. If we are unhappy or tense we are not hungry.

We often cannot even swallow. When a woman or a man eats alone it is a temptation to eat carelessly. It may seem too much trouble to prepare an adequate meal for oneself.

Then, too, many older people neglect their teeth. They may have lost many of them and failed to have them replaced so that they cannot eat many of the foods they enjoy and need.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Hold That Line," listing menus for six days to help you return to the "world of eating" after you have lost weight on a reducing diet, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 71. Address: Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Fill Rich Yeast Dough With Meringue, Nuts

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor Start this coffee cake today and have two large fragrant cakes to eat or give away tomorrow. This is an easy-yeast bread recipe. No kneading is required.

Mrs. Philip Francis is our cook today. She is an active worker in the Michigan Cancer Foundation and the Needlework Guild. She enjoys playing bridge.

DANISH COFFEE CAKE

By Mrs. Philip Francis

1 cup margarine
4 cups sifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 package yeast
¼ cup warm water
1 cup cold milk
3 eggs, separated

Sift flour with sugar and salt. Cut in margarine as for pie crust.

Dissolve yeast in water and add to beaten egg yolks. Add with the milk to first mixture. Cover and let stand overnight in refrigerator.

Next day divide dough into two parts and roll each to ¼-inch thickness. Fill with nut filling and roll like a jelly roll. Let rise one hour on greased pan.

Bake 40 minutes at 325 degrees. Frost while warm with a confectioner's sugar icing. Top with chopped nuts. Makes 2 large coffee cakes.

Filling: 3 egg whites, beaten stiff 1 cup sugar 1 cup chopped nuts Add sugar gradually to beaten egg whites and beat until stiff. Spread on dough and add chopped nuts.

China Says India Stirring New Trouble

TOKYO (UPI) — Red China accused India today of "provocative and provocative" along the disputed border violated by the Communists in last year's invasion.

"The Indian government has failed to respond as it should to Chinese conciliatory actions (meaning the withdrawal of Red troops from some invaded areas of India)," the Peking radio said.

"What is more, it has sent military personnel and aircraft to carry out harassment and provocations on the borders."

The broadcast assailed India for insisting that both sides accept neutralist proposals for a settlement unconditionally.

FRAMED IN COLOMBO — The neutralist plan was framed at a conference in Colombo, Ceylon.

"This actually amounts to accepting the (neutralist) camps participating in the Colombo Conference as arbitrators and turning the conference proposals as interpreted by India into a sort of verdict," said the Red radio, quoting what it said was an editorial in Kwang-ming Daily.

The broadcast said the Reds are "willing to wait patiently" if India is not yet prepared to negotiate.

Glenn Predicts End of Mercury Setup

HOUSTON (UPI) — Astronaut John Glenn told an Astro-naut newsman via America's Relay communications satellite last night that Gordon Cooper's upcoming flight might be the end of the Mercury program.

Ronnie Bedford, science writer for the London Daily Mirror, and Glenn chatted for 15½ minutes. They discussed space and pleasures as Bedford sat in his London office and Glenn related in the kitchen of his home near Clear Lake and the permanent site of the manned spacecraft center.

Glenn said the decision on whether to end the Mercury program would be made after Cooper's planned 18-22 orbit flight.

"He said if another flight was made in the Mercury program it would be longer than Cooper's."

TV Reception Improves With Aerial in Tree

Hope to Print Soon in NY

Minor Issues Still Must Be Worked Out

NEW YORK (UPI) — With a formula reached for ending the city's three-month newspaper blackout, the eight closed dailies hoped to get back into publication sometime next week.

Contract language and the resolving of minor issues were all that remained to be worked out between the New York Publishers Association and Local 6, AFL-CIO International Typographical Union. It was the strike by the printers last Dec. 8 that triggered the blackout of New York's nine major newspapers.

PRINTING ALREADY

The New York Post, bolting from the Publishers Association, resumed publication last Monday. Eight other newspaper craft unions still must come to contract terms with the publishers, including the mailers and stereotypes, who recently joined the printers' strike.

Early Friday the publishers and printers accepted a formula proposed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, after federal and state mediation efforts failed. Wagner, who stepped into the dispute Feb. 22 at the suggestion of President Kennedy, offered his formula after many days and hours of negotiations failed to get agreement from both sides.

The formula, according to Eugene Buttrill, New York Herald Tribune vice president, calls for a $12.50 a week package over two years. He said $4 each of the two years would be in wages, while the additional $4.50 will be applied to fringe benefits.

6 Money Bills Are Introduced

Outlays Roughly in Line With Romney Budget

LANSHING (UPI) — Six appropriation bills calling for spending roughly in line with Gov. Romney's proposed 1963-64 budget were introduced yesterday in the House.

Five of the bills call for outlays of some $182.5 million for general government, welfare, public safety and defense, regulatory functions and conservation-recreation-agriculture.

The sixth would provide for spending some $246.4 million in restricted, or earmarked, funds from revenues to be taken in by the State Highway Department and other agencies.

Also included in appropriations dropped into the hopper yesterday by the House Ways and Means Committee is a fixed $157.7 million figure for debt service for which no bill is required.

"Our bills closely follow the governor's recommendations in his $447 million budget," said Ways and Means Chairman Arne Carlson, R-Traverse City. "There are some changes and there are some figures held out until certain legislation is passed."

Among changes from Romney's spending plan is an increase of $2 million in welfare outlays, chiefly the result of climbing costs of the Kerr-Mills medical care to aged program, which is difficult to estimate.

Ted 'Sorry' for Breaking Camera

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., apologized by letter yesterday to a Vermont news photographer for allegedly exposing a roll of film and damaging a camera at Stowe Feb. 23.

Kennedy, youngest brother of the president, offered his apologies to Philip N. Lawson, 21, of St. Albans, a photographer for the Vermont Sunday News of Burlington.

"... My wife and I are truly sorry about last month's misunderstanding and hope that this letter will serve as a sincere apology for my difficulty. It may have caused," Kennedy said.

The letter was postmarked from Washington Wednesday. A copy was sent to Lawson's attorney, former Republican Gov. F. Ray Keyser Jr. of Chelsea who had promised court action if the senator did not apologize.

Lawson said he accepted Kennedy's apology. However, he added that he also expects the 31-year-old senator to pay for the cost of damage to his camera, flash attachment and leather carrying case.

According to Lawson, Kennedy took the camera from him outside a cocktail lounge at The Lodge after Lawson snapped his picture. Kennedy then reportedly damaged the camera while taking the film out and exposing it to light.

Morse Raps Journalism as Failure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said yesterday American journalism "has failed in its responsibilities" to report events truthfully and to the public knows it.

"The people of the country know that American journalism, by and large, has failed in its responsibilities under the First Amendment (freedom of speech) to tell the truth," Morse told the Senate.

His remarks on the Senate floor were sparked by an editorial in the Washington Evening Star about Morse entitled: "Our Verbose Correspondent."

Morse said that the American press has, with "some notable exceptions, succumbed to the powerful interests which own American journalism."

"Let me say," he added, "that I happen to be one politician who for 18 years in the Senate has not hesitated to 'take on' the press, because I do not recognize the members of the press as particularly superior men."

He said journalists don't read enough to keep themselves informed because they are so engrossed in reading only what they write.

Pair Beats Man, Steals $152 at Area Night Spot

A Pontiac man was beaten and robbed of $152 shortly after midnight as he left Club Tahoe, 4709 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township.

Frank Hicks told Sheriff deputies that he had just got in his car when a man opened the door and hit him in the face.

A moment later, Hicks said the man was joined by another man and they began beating him from both sides.

Hicks said he tried to get away by crawling under the car and when he did the pair tore off his pant leg containing his wallet.

Asks Caution on Visit of Red Churchmen

WHEATON, Ill. (CNS) — The president of the National Council of Evangelicals said here recently that Americans need to take an objective look at the visit of 16 leading Russian churchmen to the United States in March.

"so that their presence among us will not cause us to think subconsciously that the Soviet government has relaxed its opposition to religion."

The Russian church leaders will

Probes Idea for NATO Polaris-Armed Fleet

BONN (UPI) — U.S. envoy Livingston Merchant, investigating the idea of a North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) nuclear force of surface vessels carrying Polaris missiles, left for London today.

Talks with West German officials apparently convinced the special U.S. envoy that such a force could be operational in four years.

Merchant met with Italian authorities prior to his talks in Bonn.

Merchant's three days of talks here ended last night with a meeting with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Informed sources said it was still too early to estimate the chances of a NATO nuclear force of Polaris-carrying surface vessels being developed. But it could be sailing in four years if agreement is reached.

The sources said a treaty providing for creation of the force could be signed in well under two years — in perhaps one year — provided Washington's European allies genuinely desire to develop and finance it.

It would then take another three years after the signing of a treaty for the force to become operational, they said.

The sources said the U.S. Congress would also without doubt enact new legislation permitting American Polaris missiles to be used in a multilateral nuclear fleet.

But the United States firmly believes the best system of control would be unanimity, whereby each participating nation veto the firing of the missiles.

3 Rebels-Plead Guilty

MIRI, Sarawak (UPI) — Three local rebel leaders pleaded guilty yesterday to taking part in the abortive December Northern Borneo revolt. They were sentenced to prison terms of up to six years.

Court OKs Pay for Nonstrikers

Collect Unemployment if Picketed From Job

LANSHING (AP) — The Threat of violence from a picket line has earned two workers the right to receive unemployment compensation.

This unanimous ruling was handed down by the State Supreme Court Thursday in a case involving a 1960 labor dispute at the Dynamic Manufacturers Co., in Troy.

Involved were two employees, Vernon Mason and Harold Sutherby, who had been laid off about a week before the plant was involved in the strike, but were asked by letter to report back for work the day after the strike began.

Both claimed they were prevented from crossing the picket line by threats of violence and fear of personal harm.

Some workers did cross the picket line, however, and the plant operated at about 45 per cent of capacity. Meanwhile, the company started injunction proceedings to limit the number of pickets and prevent violence.

Mason and Sutherby filed for unemployment benefits on grounds that they had been laid off, and the hearing referee and appeal board agreed.

Oakland County Circuit Judge William Beer reversed the decision, but the Supreme Court overruled him.

"The slow, even if sure, enforcement of injunctive process will not replace broken teeth," wrote Justice Eugene Beck in one of two separate opinions. "Neither will it cure the pain or effect of a kidney punch."

5 Fire Units Battle Blaze on Novi Road

Firemen from five departments battled a blaze that gutted a Novi restaurant and garage this morning.

Destroyed were Ruby's restaurant, 1820 Novi Road, and a small adjacent auto service garage, according to Novi firemen.

Damage estimates on the one-story frame building are not yet available.

The restaurant, about a block from the Wallaced Lake Casino, was closed when two unidentified passers-by noticed smoke pouring from the rear end about 1:15 and called the fire department.

Firemen were hampered by the cold and had to drill through nearly two-foot-thick ice to pull water from nearby Wall Lake.

Assisting Novi firemen were units from Wallaced Lake, Wixom, Northville and Commerce Township.

Jimmy Invites Bobby

'Come Picketing With Me'

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Day after Tomorrow host Jimmy Hoffa yesterday invited Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy to walk a four-mile picket line.

Hoffa said if Kennedy joined a picket line "he would understand the fight for better working conditions."

He also said the attorney general "believes he is above the law." He said Kennedy "should be investigated" for his role in the "ransom" of Cuban invasion prisoners.

Hoffa made the remarks at a spirited news conference after the dedication of a new Teamster building.

He said he was "in love" with union work and has turned down many offers from private industry, including one for $9 per cent of a company's stock and a $150,000 annual salary.

"If I didn't like this job, and didn't believe in what I'm doing, I would have quit a long time ago," Hoffa said.

He told one reporter he has had more offers for jobs in industry "than you have hair."

CHARGES NEWSPAPERS

Hoffa charged newspapers with "slanting news" about Teamsters, and said reporters who telephoned in their stories "don't recognize them in print."

"Everyone here knows it," Hoffa said.

Hoffa was quick to return to his favorite subject — the attorney general.

of Teamsters suit against Kennedy and television performer Jack Paar in connection with an interview on Paar's program about Hoffa.

"He (Kennedy) had no immunity when he appeared on the Paar show," Hoffa said.

He said Kennedy will be subpoenaed to cite "chapter and verse under oath about all the statements he made about our union and me."

"I'm betting he'll take the fifth amendment," Hoffa said.

Hoffa estimated government expenditures of $50 million "in taxpayer money" to investigate Teamsters. He said there were 32 grand juries now in the process of investigations.

"You'd think after nine years they'd have plenty of time to find something," he said.

Young People Study, Serve

Pastors Give Girls Awards

Ministers, Girl Scout workers and leaders in youth groups are stressing service to God and the community in weekly meetings. Christian leaders believe a better tomorrow begins with youth of today.

Several girls will read the 121st birthday girls of the Auburn Heights area Scout troops will sit together during worship hour in the United Presbyterian Church in Auburn Heights at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Several girls will read the Scripture, offer prayer and assist with the ushering.

Charlotte Dancy and Cynthia Hebel will receive the Celtic Cross Award from their pastor, Rev. F. William Palmer.

Each has put in more than 50 hours of service caring for the bulletin, doing clerical work assisting with Vacation Bible School and singing in the choir.

They have studied the history of the Presbyterian Church as well as the Sacraments of the church and symbols of Christianity. Scripture was memorized and studied thoroughly, and the relationship of the Girl Scout promise and laws interpreted in the Christian faith.

The Constitution of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. states: "We believe that the motivating force in Girl Scouting is a spiritual one."

Pastor Palmer will preach on "The Apostles' Creed." The Cub Scout committee will meet for a planning session at 7:30 Monday evening.

The Martha Circle recently organized for younger women will get together at 8 p.m. Monday in the home of Sharon King, 231 N. Squirrel Road.

Confab Set at St. Clair

Nazarene church pastors and their wives from this area are scheduled to take part in the annual Eastern Michigan district
Nazarene Preachers' conference to be held at the St. Clair Inn,
St. Clair, on March 18-19.

Nearly all of the 75 Nazarene churches on the Eastern Michigan district will be represented.

Guest speaker will be Dr. E.
S. Phillips, Bethany, Okla., who is pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene in Bethany. This is one of the 10 largest churches in the denomination.

The conference will be in charge of the district superintendent, Dr. E. W. Martin of Pontiac.

The annual program is planned for inspiration and fellowship, and to bring a challenge to Christian workers, Dr.
Martin said.

The Eastern Michigan district is one of 78 districts into which the church has been divided for administrative purposes in the United States, Canada and the British Isles.

The Church of the Nazarene is one of the larger Protestant denominations that stands for scriptural holiness in the Wesleyan tradition. It has a world membership of 394,000 in more than 5,000 churches.

Jews Mark Feast of Lots

'Dead Sea Scrolls,' Subject of Address

The Feast of Lots is being observed by Jews this weekend.

It commemorates the liberation of the Jewish people through Persia from the impending death sentence imposed upon it by the evil Haman, prime minister of King Xerxes, who refused to tolerate a group who would not pay him divine honors.

The events underlying this feast are told in the biblical book of Esther which is recited as part of the evening and morning services.

The festival will be observed in B'Nai Israel Synagogue tonight at 7, when the entire congregation family will worship together. Rabbi Israel Goodman will conduct the service.

At Temple Beth Jacob the festival was included in the regular Sabbath Eve service last night.

"The Meaning of the Dead Sea Scrolls" is the title of an address to be given, under the auspices of Congregation B'Nai Israel and Temple Beth Jacob, tomorrow at 8:30 p.m., at the Temple on 78 Elizabeth Lake Road.

The lecturer will be Dr. Samuel Iwry, a member of the faculty of the Semitics department of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore and a professor at the Baltimore Hebrew College.

Dr. Iwry was one of the first scholars to analyze and interpret these scrolls, when they were discovered in the Caves of Wadi Qumran in 1947.

A discussion will follow the lecture, and refreshments will be served.

Congregation Plans Dinner March 16

Congressman Charles C. Diggs Jr. will speak at the fund raising banquet to be held at 6:30 p.m. next Saturday in Jefferson Junior High School.

Planning the affair are the Pastor's Aid Board and the Here Am I Club of Newman AME Church. Born in Detroit, Diggs attended the University of Michigan and Fisk University prior to serving in World War II. He was graduated from Wayne State University.

Before his election to the U.S. Congress he served as first Negro to the House of Representatives in Michigan.

7th Day Adventists Hear Missionary

The Young Peoples Society of the Riverside Seventh-day Adventist Church have Robert Greve, who has spent the last three years in Guam, as their guest speaker at 5 p.m. today.

Mr. Greve will show slides of his mission work and relate experiences.

During his one-year furlough he is attending Michigan State University.

He will return with his wife, Nancy, and their three children to Guam next June.

Before entering the mission field Mr. Greve was a school teacher in Holly.

Lutheran Church Eyes 75 New Mission Fields

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United Lutheran Church in America plans to enter 75 new mission fields in the United States and Canada this year.

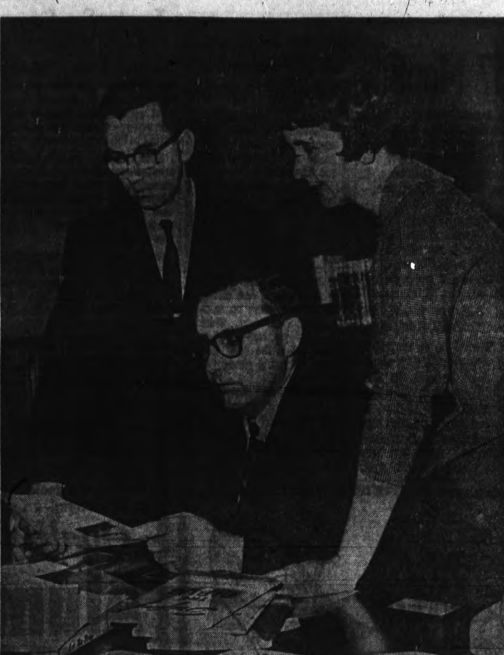

The Rev. Dr. Donald L. Houser, executive secretary of the denomination's Board of American Missions, reported the ULCA organized a new congregation every five days in 1961 and broke ground for a new building every four days. Between 100 and 115 new churches will be started this year, Houser said.

Members of St. Stephen Lutheran Church in Drayton Plains will join together for a cooperative Mission Night dinner at 6 p.m. tomorrow.

Rev. Bernard J. Pankow, pastor at Northville and former missionary to Mexico, will show color slides of his work in Mexico City. He will also present pictures of his present ministry among the Mexican migratory workers in Michigan. The public is invited, Rev. Guy Smith, said.

Lenten services are held each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in St. Stephen Church. The general theme of the pastor's sermons is "He Carried Our Sins."

Beginning Thursday at 8 p.m. the Pastor will teach an adult information class to acquaint men and women with the teachings of the Lutheran Church and the Bible.

At the conclusion of the 12-week course, members of the class may become communicant members of the church if they so desire, the pastor said. Classes are open to everyone.

Near Top of Wage Scale

Broomfield Pays Aide $1,067 Monthly

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roy A. Gass, top aide to U. S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, draws a salary of $1,067 a month.

Gass, one of nine members on Broomfield's staff, was one of 134 aides on the office payroll of Michigan's 19 congressmen in January.

Salaries of the 134 ranged from $1,279 to $74 a month. The January records of the House Disbursing Office also showed that four of the Michigan House members employed relatives.

Rep. Charles C. Diggs, Democrat, paid his wife, Anna J. Diggs, $883 for the month.

Rep. John Lesinski, Democrat, had his wife, Margaret Lesinski, on his staff for $785.

Rep. Harold M. Ryan, Democrat, employed his sister, Mildred Ryan, at $383.

Rep. George Meader, Republican, had a daughter, Katherine E. Meader, on his payroll for $167.

Meader said his daughter, a nursing student at the University of Florida, did various types of office work and earns the money she receives.

One of her jobs is to mail congratulatory notes to new parents in her father's district.

Mrs. Diggs, an attorney, has been manager of Diggs' Detroit office for the last two years.

Mrs. Lesinski has been manager of Lesinski's Dearborn office for several years.

Ryan's office said the congressman's sister, Mildred Ryan, was employed only during the month of January, working from his Detroit office. His office said Ryan has employed seven persons for a month at a time in a similar capacity in his Detroit office.

Here is a list of the other top aides and monthly salaries, and the number of persons employed in January on the staffs of Michigan members of the House:

Rep. Lucien N. Nedzi, D: James G. Pyroos, $1,114; nine.

Rep. George Meader, R: Barbara L. Bullard, $983; seven.

Rep. August E. Johansen, R: Selma S. Meadows, $1,279; eight.

Rep. Edward Hutchinson, R: Helen M. Boyer, $1,193; three.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R: Frank Meyer, $1,279; six.

Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain, R: Ann F. Comm, $962; 10.

Rep. James G. O'Hara, D: Ronald M. Baker, $1,248; nine.

Rep. James Harvey, R: James M. Sparring, $1,279; seven.

Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R: Raymond C. Anderson, $1,279; five.

Rep. Elford A. Cederberg, R: William Hackett, $1,279; five.

Rep. Victor A. Knox, R: Margaret J. Martin, $1,200; five.

Rep. John A. Bennett, R: Helen M. Dufino, $1,203; six.

Rep. Charles E. Diggs, D: Dorothy E. Quarker, $1,102; seven.

Rep. John P. Dingell, D: Jeanette Cantwell, $1,092; eight.

Rep. Harold M. Ryan, D: Joseph S. Brzostowski, $916; nine.

Rep. John Lesinski, D: Margaret A. Matus, $928; eight.

Rep. Martha W. Griffiths, D: Ann Cooper Penning, $1,279; nine.

Rep. Neil Staebler, D: Bernard J. McGuigan, $1,193; and Raymond L. Courage, $1,170; four.

Show Goes On: Drops Stitch but Pins Up Dignity

LINCOLN, England (AP) — Something — a man — has nightmares about what happened to Maurice Jacobson Thursday.

His pants fell down as he conducted a choir before a packed house.

Jacobson, a dignified 47, was conducting 400 children at a Methodist Church festival.

He went on beating time with one hand and slowly inched his pants up to a respectable height. Then he sat down, still conducting. When the song was over, he put a safety pin in his pants.

The audience cheered. "It was a magnificent performance," said one Methodist matron. "Mr. Jacobson's, I mean."

Try to Confirm French N-Tests

GENEVA (UPI) — Western disarmament negotiators waited today for confirmation of unofficial reports that France may soon resume underground nuclear testing in the Sahara Desert.

Disarmament conference sources predicted that the resumption of French tests would inspire renewed Soviet charges that France will never honor a nuclear test ban treaty — if one is ever achieved.

The Russians often charge that France served as a secret cover for tests by the United States and Britain during the two-year moratorium that was broken by Russia in September, 1961.

Dems Disagree on Chances of Constitution

LANSING (AP) — Two Democratic state officials disagree today over chances for adoption of the proposed new state constitution.

Highway Commissioner John Mackie said he cannot go along with a prediction by Secretary of State James Hare that the document will be approved at the April 1 election.

Both Hare and Mackie, along with other Democratic officials, are opposed to the new constitution.

Most Republican leaders are supporting its adoption.

Mackie said that more people are finding out what's in the document.

"I think a groundswell of public opinion is now beginning to rise against it," Mackie observed.

He said he and other Democratic members of the administrative board plan to step up their campaign against the new document in the next three weeks.

Convict Couple of Dual Murder

Cripple, Wife Victims in California Killing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A jury of eight women and four men last night found Iva and Ralph Kroeger guilty of first degree murder in the strangulation deaths of a crippled Santa Rosa motel owner and his wife.

The jury deliberated a total of five hours and 12 minutes before reaching its verdict.

Jurors received the case at 2:31 p.m. and 15 minutes later asked for all 189 exhibits, including a 94-pound bag of cement, which the defense had used to show the 44-year-old Iva was incapable of lifting a heavy weight.

The jury was admonished by Superior Judge Harry Neubarth not to speak of its decision until the other two phases of the prolonged murder trial — determination of sanity for Iva, and the couple's penalty hearing — are completed.

Iva's sanity trial will begin Wednesday.

The San Francisco couple was charged with the murder of Jay and Mildred Arneson, then burying the bodies beneath a cement slab in the basement of their home.

The state charged the murders were committed as the Kroegers could gain possession of the motel property, which Arneson, a victim of Parkinson's disease, owned in Santa Rosa, Calif.

Newer House Fits With Old

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Sprinkled among some of Pontiac's older and more stately homes on Ottawa Drive are newer houses that blend with the dignified atmosphere.

For instance, there's the Vere Hodges residence. There is one of those "surprising" homes. The outside is like hundreds of other two-story brick colonials, but what individuality inside!

In the front hallway, where first impressions are made, there is a welcome feeling.

Something different in piano arrangement (which is always a problem) was achieved by placing the sofa and piano back to back. The keyboard faces the front window and the sofa invites occupancy beside the marble fireplace.

It wasn't long after the Hodges moved into their home that they decided more space was needed for entertaining. So, an entire brick wall on the west side of the house was torn out and one of the most beautiful rooms in the county added.

A draped glass wall with sliding doors is the exciting entrance to this room. Two extra wide steps lead down into the thick carpeted room.

A beautifully constructed cut-stone fireplace dominates the opposite end of the room, and it is here that the Hodges enjoy thick barbecued steaks and chops.

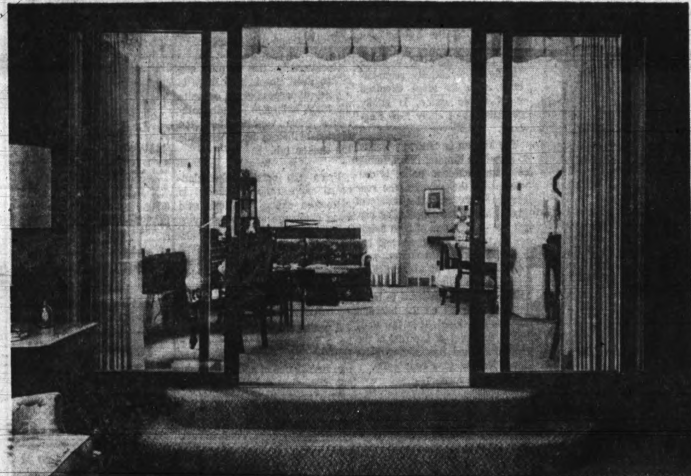

A low round table and four matching chairs in the tiny bay window area look out on a well landscaped side yard. Actually, this furniture seems to be pushing out through the wall to make more room.

There's a certain place for everything in the charming home, and the new fun room THAT certain place is definitely the family's favorite.

COLONIAL LIVING — The Vere Hodges find city living very comfortable in their lovely colonial house at 224 Ottawa Drive. Their pride and joy is the big sunken family room that extends into the scenic back yard. The bay window gives just the right touch of formality both inside and out. There is a full-wall cut-stone fireplace at the end of the new addition.

FROM NEW ROOM — This view is seen from the new recreation room into the formal living room of the Hodges' lovely home. The piano sets back to back with the quilted sofa.

The dining el is to the right of the draped-sliding-glass wall. Off-white draperies and a scalloped valance were installed on this dramatic-glass partition to take away the "bare" look.

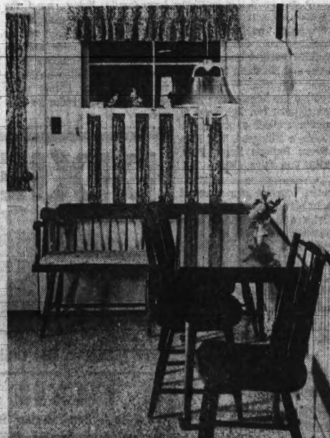

ROOM FOR MORE — The Hodges 3-year-old nephew David Purkiss and the poodle seem lost in the oversized lounge chair in the new recreation room. Curtains on the bay windows in background are made of varicolored linen and slide up and down like a regular curtain. Soft wood paneling, thick gold tweed carpeting and individual accents makes this one of the most beautiful playrooms in the country.

GOLDEN BATH — The medicine cabinet in this golden room is below the counter top. The oval sink with its golden colonial dancing figures was imported from California. Old lights dripping with prisms glow on either side of the gold-framed mirror that held an old oil painting. Golden vines weave up and down on a white background of Chinese silk wallpaper.

FOR FORMAL DINING — This oval table can stretch out to seat 10 people comfortably and although the Hodges prefer smorgasbord-style serving, they occasionally entertain formally. The dining room set is a soft fruitwood color with off-white chair seats that match the walls and draperies.

KITCHEN'S CHERY — The daffodil-colored walls, the deacon's bench, Hitchcock chairs and harvest table are all complemented by a unique window arrangement. Mrs. Hodges had special constructed shutters made, then filled the inside opening with an Early American print. The same treatment was created on the window over the sink.

FOR EASY LIVING — The Hodges have incorporated one of the newest ideas in having their recreation room table and chairs lower. The table is only 25 inches from the floor, and the chairs 15 inches. The custom-designed cut-stone fireplace is shown off to more advantage by three recessed lights playing on the stone. The built-in off-center barbecue pit keeps fuss and bother at a minimum.

EASY CONSTRUCTION — It won't be long before thousands of outdoor lovers will "hit the road" for picnics, camping or long hikes. The above carry-all is a far cry from the old-fashioned picnic basket, and is simple to make. To obtain the camper's kitchen pattern number 213, send $1 by currency, check or money order to Steve Ellington, Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P.O. 289 Van Nys, Calif.

Make Yourself a Camp Kitchen

Despite civilization's inroads, all of the items used daily in a U. S. still offers some of the world's great spectacles of nature, and campers know it.

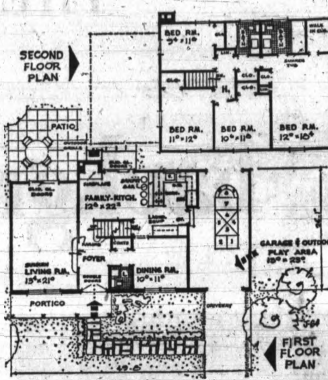

Last summer, more than 20 million people spent their vacations in one of the 6,000 campsites provided by 29 national parks and 152 national forests.

This year, the number will be even greater. People want to get away from the daily routine and have their children see something of America.

Besides that, camping out is the most inexpensive kind of a vacation; it costs very little more than staying right at home. And what is more, camping is fun. Now is the time to get ready.

The one item that makes camping a pleasure for everyone is a der to Steve Ellington, The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 283, Van Nys, Calif.

A spring touch to your screened porch or patio would be a love those used many years ago when people crossed the country in a and foam rubber seat and back covered wagon. It contains, in a cushions done in plump bluish well planned space, practically turtling.

FLOOR PLANS—The lower level contains 860 square feet of living area and the upstairs 525 square feet. Overall width is 40 feet, 8 inches and overall depth 30 feet. The living room is two steps below the first floor level.

It's Early American, With Modern Touch

BY JULES LOH

When a real estate ad specifies "two-story house with attached garage" it usually means a house with a box-like structure stuck perfunctorily onto the side without architectural sympathy.

In today's House of the Week, however, the garage is subordinated and in its customary side position is the living room—not "attached," but blended smoothly into a handsome colonial facade.

An arched portico, which adds to the early American flavor, further draws attention away from the garage door and provides a horizontal line which contributes to the appearance of length.

The house was designed by architect Herman H. York, whose eye for external beauty is only one facet of his craftsmanship. The interior layout likewise reflects awareness of the problems of modern living and the architectural know-how needed to solve them.

To illustrate, the emphasis in the living area of this house is clearly on the kitchen, the place that always draws a crowd, especially in a large family. This family room-kitchen, with its large fireplace and a small space, is mildly reminiscent of early New England.

The kitchen is centrally located to serve the dining room, family room and outdoor patio, is convenient to the garage, the rear service entry and the basement stairs. It has its own breakfast bar, affords supervision of both indoor and outdoor play areas, and has a stepsaving U-shaped work zone completely free of all traffic.

The formal living room, stretching 21 feet from front to back, is as glamorous as the informal area is functional. It is two steps below the level of the rest of the first floor and has sliding glass doors leading to a rear patio.

ROOMY BEDROOMS

Upstairs, four roomy bedrooms and two full baths are arranged with a minimum of hall space, a maximum of closet space and excellent ventilation.

Overall width of the house is 40 feet 8 inches and its depth, including the portico, is 30 feet. The first floor contains 860 square feet. It is design number J-64 in the House of the Week series.

The accent throughout is on large-family living, and the garage is a good example. It has a second overhead door at the rear which adds measurably to its convenience as a storage area—and with its 23 foot length and 12-foot width there is plenty of room for storage.

York says that at his own house the garage seems to be used for everything except the car, so he designed this one to double as a sheltered play area, complete with bag scotch layout painted on the floor.

The main entry features paneled double doors, and both the dining room and living room have mullioned double-hung windows. The foyer is roomy, with the coat closet removed from front-door congestion.

An attractive open railing separates the foyer from the living room, and a powder room lavatory is on the other side of the foyer, centrally located for the entire downstairs.

The rear patio is designed as a part of the house itself, with a built-in barbecue grille sharing the fireplace chimney. Don't overlook the front porch as a second outdoor area.

An open rail stair with a curved lower tread leads to the upstairs level where the eye-catching feature is the luxurious master bedroom, more than 18 feet long with an enormous walk-in closet, a wall closet and a linen closet.

(Incidentally, this is only one of two linen closets, and there is a third all-purpose closet opposite the main bathroom.) Both bedrooms have vanities, and the master bedroom has a ceramic tile sunken tub.

From the outside, the clapboard appearance actually is aluminum siding but York says wood clapboard or sawn shingles would be substituted. He also suggests local brick on the lower story in front, but "in areas where stone is readily available at attractive cost it would be an acceptable substitute."

A peeled or cracked ceiling can be a blessing in disguise for homeowners seeking quieter living. Installation of acoustical ceiling tile can reduce a normal room's noises by 40 per cent as well as eliminate the need for replastering or repainting.

IRONING BOARD
PATTERN 391

SLEEVE BOARD
PATTERN 392

FOLD AWAY BOARD and cupboard for equipment are included in Pattern 201. There is a rack on the door for freshly ironed garments. The board requires no unusual hardware. Pattern 392 for a sleeve board and pressing cushions a tailor uses is a boon to Mom, Dad and Young Sons. Patterns are 35 cents each. Both are in the Pressing and Sewing Corner Packet No. 16 for $1. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

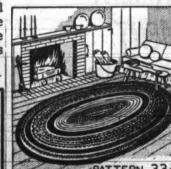

PILGRIM BENCH
PATTERN 218

Here's an extra seat or a coffee table. The early New Englanders used pine or maple for these benches. Fronts and ends were cut in simple curves. A drawer was often added. You may copy this bench exactly with Pattern 218 which gives actual - size cutting guides and illustrated directions. Price 35 cents. This pattern also is one of four in the Early American Packet No. 19, all for $1. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York

"There will be no middleman prices in our home deals," Goodman pointed out. "We deal directly with the customer, giving a rich man's luxury for a poor man's pocketbook," he added.

One feature of the subdivision is that all the lots are priced the same, so it's first come, first served as far as the choice of land sites is concerned. The houses are open from 1-8 p. m. daily.

To spruce up your closet shelves for spring, get a set of sturdy storage boxes; glue on an outside padding of foam rubber sheeting, and cover with a striped or floral fabric. Give your hatboxes the same treatment and you'll have a closet as handsome as it is neat.

PATTERN 334

RUG MAKING is a wonderful hobby. Pattern 334, which gives directions for braided rugs—oval, round and novelty types, is 35 cents. How to estimate material, dyeing, blending colors, sewing for a reversible rug included. This pattern also is in The Rug Packet 21 which includes directions and full-size designs for hooked rugs—all for $1. A tremendous value. The Pontiac Press, Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

105 Aboard Flight From Red Cuba

MIAMI (UPI) — A group of 105 Cuban refugees arrived on a mercy flight yesterday and reported that life under Premier Fidel Castro is one big headache and 89-cent aspirin is selling for $3.

The Cubans and Cuban-Americans told substantially the same stories heard so often from exiles from the Communist island — hardships, government rationing and food shortages.

The new arrivals said the Castro government has put a few items of medicines received as part of the $33-million ransom payment for invasion prisoners on sale to the public at inflated prices.

Robert E. Otero, 23, who said he worked in the government's urban reform office, reported that bottles of American-made aspirin, plainly marked 49 cents, are being sold in Cuba for $3.

He said a U.S. brand of anti-acid tablet (Alka-Seltzer) sells for 10 cents a tablet — and that customers are limited to two tablets.

Other refugees reported seeing a few cold medicines and a few vitamins on store shelves recently. One woman reported that a bottle of 150 vitamin pills had a $92 price tag on it.

Said one woman: "It would be better to go live in hell than to continue living in Cuba today. Many people have neared the end of their rope. Everybody is looking to the United States for help."

Then she became hysterical and fainted.

Truck-Train Crash Kills 1

CASSPOLIS — Lloyd Vaughn, 60, of Cassopolis, was killed yesterday when the Cass County Road Commission truck he was driving collided with a Grand Trunk & Western passenger train at a rural crossing 4½ miles northeast of here. Ferris Miltonberg of Battle Creek, engineer of the eastbound train, said Vaughn tried to stop but skidded onto the tracks.

Illinois to Start Control of Birth

Controversial Program Effective April 1

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Free contraceptives and birth control information become available April 1 for approximately 75,000 mothers on Illinois relief rolls.

The Illinois Public Aid Commission, plagued by money problems and controversy, voted 7-3 Friday against a move to delay the start of the statewide plan.

The effect of the vote was to direct the IPAC staff to start a program based on recommendations of an advisory committee of physicians.

ASTONISHED
When a physician announced a meeting would be held March 17 to plan additional details, State Auditor Michael J. Howlett asked in astonishment, "You mean you're going to make plans for birth control on St. Patrick's Day?"

Harold O. Swank, the commission's administrative officer, estimated earlier the cost of the program could run as high as $60 a year per mother. This includes the cost of visits to a doctor and contraceptive pills or other devices.

The plan approved by the IPAC guarantees privacy of the physician-patient relationship. It also provides a complete pelvic examination and early cancer detection tests when indicated; a limit of two to four visits a year to a doctor; instructions in one of three birth control methods—rhythm, local appliances or oral medication; and development of a manual for physicians on the program.

To Draft 10,000 in May

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department Friday issued a draft call for 10,000 men in May. All will serve in the Army. The May quota is the same as that announced for April and compares with 9,000 for March.

'Recession Unlikely Till '64'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's economists do not foresee another recession before 1964 or 1965, even if Congress fails to cut taxes this year.

They do believe, however, that the decision on the proposed 1963 tax reduction might make the difference between an upturn and a downturn when the economy finally moves off its present high "plateau."

The President caused a ripple of alarm among businessmen last month when he began selling his $10 billion tax reduction plan as a recession-preventative. Until then, his argument was that it would supply a needed spur to economic growth.

UNEASINESS
The uneasiness was heightened this week when the February employment report showed joblessness had climbed from an unsatisfactory 5.8 per cent of the labor force to an even more unsatisfactory 6.1 per cent, highest in 14 months.

Other indexes have charted so-so winter record, with strong demand for new cars offsetting some distinct weak spots. Industrial output has slogged along almost unchanged since last spring. Exceptionally bitter winter weather there apparently explained part of the February rise in outdoor unemployment.

But there's enough possibility of a recession this year, most economists agree, to justify the threat of a downturn, as an argument for early tax reduction. Kennedy made the most of it in telling a recent news conference that failure to cut taxes "substantially increases the chance of a recession."

But he has stated more recently, "I am not predicting a recession for 1963," and reliable sources say this is definitely the view of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

ADVANCE SUGGESTED

profits and sign of some pickup, sooner or later we have to break out on one side or another," said a source close to the council.

"We think the tax cut would make a difference—that it would bring us off the plateau on the upside. In the absence of a tax cut, a recession in 1964 or 1965 would be more natural than not."

"Experience suggests we cannot stay on a plateau indefinitely, to have a recession in 1964 or even a slightly uptilted plateau, 1965."

Active Week Brings Writer Fee of $13,597

NEW YORK (AP)—A single week of theatrical activity earned playwright Jean Kerr $13,597. Mrs. Kerr received the royalties on three current productions of her comedy, "Mary, Mary."

A touring version starring Julia Meade, Scott McKay and Tom Helmore yielded authorship dividends of $6,550; a bus-truck company playing smaller communities netted $3,370; and the Broadway original brought in $3,668.

Basketball Season Comes to Abrupt Halt for Rams, Mikemen

Chiefs, PNH to Open Up Tonight

Third Meeting Between Teams Set for 8 P.M.

District 'A' Crown Fitted for Winner; Both Clubs Ready

There will be no holding back tonight when Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern attempt to outdo each other at 8 p.m. on the PNH basketball court for an attractive district Class A championship trophy.

The game will mark the third meeting between the two teams and, since the first two resulted in home court victories for each, this one will also decide the mythical city high school basketball championship.

Also at stake is a berth in the Class A regional tournament starting at PNH next Tuesday night.

When Pontiac Central invaded PNH just after Christmas for the first game this season, it wasn't fully concentrating on whipping the Huskies. The Chiefs were having their trouble and coach Art VanVynin still hadn't ironed out all the wrinkles.

ROUGH SPOTS

There were still quite a few rough spots evident that night as the Huskies made off with a 62-59 decision. It marked PNH's fourth loss in five starts and the first ever to a Northern team.

For the Huskies life was beautiful at that time. They were in the midst of a nine-game winning streak and they were chewing improvement every game.

When PNH moved over to Huron Street for the Lincoln's Birthday rematch, the tables were turned. Coach Dick Hall had seen the Huskies lose their first in ten games the previous Friday and a prospective Inter-Lakes crown was not as close as it had seemed shortly before.

The Huskies weren't the same basketball club, and neither was PCH.

The Chiefs had a six-game streak of successes going for them and they weren't in any mood to let PNH snap it on their court. Central won, 63-53, in another close battle that wasn't clearly decided until the latter stages.

NO DISTRACTIONS

But there can be no distracting interests when the two take the floor this evening at Northern.

The Huskies have clinched their league title; the Chiefs have arranged things in the teepee to the extent that they have won 11 of their last 12 games.

PNH has won five in a row since losing to Central.

Gary Hayward is scoring extremely well for the Huskies as is Lester Hardman for the Chiefs, although the latter has had the opportunities to hit the high figures Hayward, has reached.

PCH is relying on defense and rebounding power to offset Northern's fine running attack led by the sharp shooting backcourt pair of Mike Burklow and Jerry Reese.

No. 1 Class D Quintet Ousted From State Play

By The Associated Press

Two of the state's top-ranked high school teams were just about getting used to their respected positions. Then they were rudely bounced out of the state district basketball tournaments last night.

Gallen, rated No. 1 in Class D by the Associated Press pollsters, last Tuesday after placing behind Champion all season, ran into a tough St. Joseph Catholic squad and was dumped 73-66.

The victory gave St. Joseph the district title at Niles.

Cheboygan Catholic Central, which had raced to a 14-4 record while playing most of its games against Class D schools, found the going rough at Gaylord and lost in the Class C final to Gaylord, 54-45. Cheboygan C. C. was ranked third along with Grasse Pointe St. Paul in the final pool.

St. Joseph Catholic had four players in double figures to more than offset a 39-point performance by Richard Schrupp. Dave Thomas' 22 points paced the winners.

Gaylord, which now has a 12-6 record for the season, was led by 6-foot-3 sophomore center Tom Lick who had only 16 points but picked off 30 rebounds.

POWERS WIN

Four other clubs which placed high in the final pool continued their tourney march with victories.

Britton, No. 3 in Class D, clubbed Hanover - Horton 75-46. Seaboard, which shared the No. 6 spot in Class C with Addison, made its first tourney appearance and won the district title at Pigeon with a 70-55 victory over Maryville. Kalamazoo Christian, eighth-ranked in Class C, edged Galesburg - Augusta 27-26.

Traverse St. Paul, fourth in Class D, dumped New Luthrup St. Michael, 52-47.

Sweden Sweeps Russia; U.S. Player Suspended

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UP) — The world ice-hockey championships were wide open today — thanks to Sweden's upset 3-1 victory over powerful Russia.

The Swedes beat the Russians before a sellout crowd of 1,000 last night in a match watched by millions of television viewers in 18 countries. The match was televised to both East and West Europe.

Now Sweden leads the Group A standings with a maximum of 4 points from two games. The Czechs and Canadians have a maximum of two points from one game each.

The Russians and the Finns have two points from 1-1 records. West Germany, East Germany and the United States are point-less.

Worse yet the United States, beaten 11-3 by Finland yesterday, lost the services of Jack Kirrane of Brookline, Mass., for today's game against Czechoslovakia.

MATCH PENALTY

Kirrane was slapped with a match penalty yesterday after arguing with the referee and was ordered off the ice. Late last night the International Federation suspended Kirrane for one game.

PNH Swimmer Sets Pool Mark at Loop Meet

Pontiac Northern's Skip Irvin set a Southfield pool record last night to lead qualifiers in the 400 freestyle for the Northwest Suburban Swimming Championships. Irvin was clocked in 4:34.4. Alex Hillier of PNH was third in the diving preliminaries.

Final events will be held tonight in the Southfield pool starting at 8:00.

Three-Way Tie in Golf Open

One-Time Pro Returns to Leaders' Circle

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Three pro golfers—one on the comeback trail, one youngster on the tour, and one tussling with flu—led the Pensacola Open Golf Tournament today.

A one-time pro regular with the tour, 42-year-old Jimmy Clark, of Huntington Beach, Calif., fired a 7-under-par 65 in Friday's second round of the $25,000 tournament to pull from the pack into the three-way tie.

Grouped with Clark at 136 were Johnny Pott of Gulf Hills, Miss., and Bobby Nichols of Midland, Tex., pro, matched a 66 Friday with an opening day 70 to enter the leaders' circle.

The cutoff point was given per 144, which left some veteran golfers on the sidelines.

Among those failing to make the cutoff were Don Fairfield, winner in Pensacola in the 1952 inaugural tournament, Doug Ford, 1952 titleholder, Rex Baxter Jr., Jim Turnesa, Ken Baxter Jr., Al Geibeger, Tommy Aaron and Joe Campbell.

Dangerous Julius Borjas, Arnold Palmer and Gary Brewer Jr., remained one stroke off the pace at 137.

U.S. Junior Ski Finals Set at Snow King Mt.

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP)—Fully recovered from one of the worst snow droughts in years, this bustling western community today was welcoming some 250 youngsters—the cream of the nation's junior ski crop.

The young competitors are in town for the week long running of the national junior ski championships and they're here a few days early to get in some practice licks on Snow King Mountain, which only a few weeks ago was nearly bare.

The races will officially start Tuesday and run through Saturday.

Pistons Still Try for NBA Playoff Berth

Cagers Win Showdown Game in Overtime on Ohl's 41 Points

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Detroit Pistons have just about clinched the last spot open in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

They whipped the San Francisco Warriors in what amounted to a showdown game Friday at Fort Wayne, Ind., 121-123, in overtime. They now hold a two-game lead over the Warriors with three regular games left to play. The Warriors have five left.

This is the situation at a glance:

Detroit has a 32-45 .416 record with games still to play against Los Angeles, New York and St. Louis before the regular season ends March 17. San Francisco has a 28-48 .367 record with one game left against Syracuse and two each against St. Louis and Los Angeles. The Warriors finish on March 16.

In Friday's other NBA games Chicago beat Boston 118-109 and St. Louis downed New York 129-124.

Detroit scored eight straight points in the overtime to break a 114-114 tie and saw up their victory over the Warriors. Don Ohl led the Pistons with 41 points, including five baskets in the extra period. Wilt Chamberlain scored 51 points for the Warriors, including the basket that tied the regulation game at 112 in the last minute. In contrast to their last meeting in New York on Tuesday there was no flare-up among the players.

Chicago, led by Walt Bellamy's 39 points, broke an 82-82 tie, then lost to the Celtics. Bill Russell got 22 for Boston with Bob Cousy, honored before the game, adding 15.

A seven-point spurt in the closing minutes on points by Cliff Hagan, Zelmo Beatty and Len Wilkens gave St. Louis its edge over New York at Madison Square Garden. Bob Pettit was high for the Hawks with 40 points. Richie Guerin scored 34 for the Knicks.

Lumber Yard Owner Is Snipe Sailing Winner

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—A Clearwater lumber yard owner has won the International Midwinter Snipe Sailing Championships.

Francis Seavey came from behind in third position Friday to pick up a pair of victories and 7,611 points for the championship.

Jerry Jenkins of Detroit, the leader through the first five heats, finished up in second position with 7,546 points. Alan Levinson of Indianapolis, Ind., finished third with 6,934.

Players Swing, Fans Pour Out to Start Riot

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A fist fight that started between two basketball players over a foul erupted into a full-scale riot last night as more than 1,000 fans poured onto the floor and halted the game.

Lennie Hughey, center for Fresno City College, was attacked and beaten by fans about the head and face. Doctors will decide today whether Hughey will play again tonight when Fresno meets San Diego City College in the finals of the California state junior college championship game.

The Fresno-Vallejo Junior College game was in its last 40 seconds of play when Vallejo's Bill Hines fouled Ken Kilday of Fresno.

After the foul was called the two started trading punches. Two Vallejo players who had fouled out, Jerry Causey and Frank Nixon, joined the melee. Then the rest of both teams joined in.

Referee whistles and screams from coaches didn't stop the fight. Then the fans began to pour onto the floor.

The fight moved off the end of the American River Junior College gymnasium court into a pocket of Vallejo fans. Hughey, who had scored 22 points, went into the middle of the fight and was overwhelmed.

Pick '64 Ski Jump Team in Suicide Hill Runs

ISHPEMING (U)—Some 40 of the nation's best ski jumpers take off at Suicide Hill today in open trials to select a team for the 1964 Olympic winter games at Innsbruck, Austria.

Five judges will award points on form and distance, with four jumpers qualifying for the U.S. squad by tomorrow night.

Two of the best three jumpers each day by the contestants will count in the scoring.

Already named to the team by coach Art Tolkie are a pair of 22-year-old stars who are considered the best prospects for an Olympic gold medal ever produced by the United States.

They are John Balfanz of Minneapolis, who finished fourth against competitors from 11 nations in the Austrian-German series this winter, and Gene Kotlarek, a senior in the University of Minnesota, Duluth branch.

Kotlarek, who headed the 1960 U.S. Olympic team but fell and ruined his chances in the winter games that year at Squaw Valley, Calif., set an American distance record of 322 feet while winning the national title at Steamboat Springs, Colo., last month.

Bengals Won Only 5 From Minnesota, Plan Spring Study of Foe

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
LAKELAND, Fla. — The difference between the New York Yankees and the Detroit Tigers last year was the Minnesota Twins, a team that found the Bengals easy pickings in 1962.

It might be for this reason that the Tigers have scheduled the Twins six times for the exhibition season, more than any other team. They will have to find out what they should do to beat the Twins, winners of 13 of 18 games between the two teams last year.

Minnesota was more games than any other team in Tiger Stadium last year and Twins thrived on Tiger pitching to the tune of 25 homes.

Even the Yanks hit only 17 against Tiger pitching.

The Twins and Tigers open the Grapefruit series today with a home-and-home season today and tomorrow, and after a couple games later in March, they close out the exhibition tour on the way north with games in Charlotte, N.C. and Knoxville, Tenn.

DOUBLE WINNERS

Not a single Tiger was able to hit .300 against Minnesota pitching last year as Camilo Pascual, Jim Kaat, Jack Kralick, Dick Sigman, Lee Stange, and Ray Moore all won twice against Detroit.

The Twin's righthanded power has especially been rough on the Tigers' top lefthanders, Hank Aguirre and Don Mossi.

Aguirre was the earned run average champion of the American League last year with a 2.21 era, however the Twins had a 6.6 mark against him.

Not only do the Twins have batting power, but strong southpaw pitching and the second best defense in the league, having led in double plays with 173.

Zolo Versalles and Bernie Allen were the best double play combination in the circuit. Allen is the former Purdue University quarterback who received strong "rookie of the year" mention.

Rich Rollins, who led the American League in batting for nearly two months last year, and Vic Power, a leftfielder corner combination at third and first.

With Power's big bat, the Twins have Harmon Killebrew and Bob Allison for the long ball and this year Jim Lemon is expected to be in top shape again after a shoulder condition sidelined him last year.

Lemon had an outstanding season in 1960 when he slammed 38 homers and in top shape could make the Twin-strong contenders again this year.

By starting Bob Anderson today in Orlando against the Twins, Bob Scheffing will be trying to find another right-hander to check the Minnesota Power.

Sunday Aguirre, a southpaw, and Phil Regan and Bill Paul, righthanders, will do the pitching. Monday, against the White Sox in Lakeland, Frank Lary will give his shoulder a test, only if the weather permits however.

COMING THROUGH — Shrine's Mike Haggerty sets sail between two Lake Orion defenders. The Knights will play Romeo tonight at Rochester for the Class B district championship.

Captain and Kid Lead Princeton 5

By The Associated Press
Princeton's lead-serious version of the comic book type is the reason the Tigers today hold the Ivy League championship and a spot in the NCAA tournament.

The Captain is the Tiger team leader, soft-spoken basketball ace Hyland. The kid is 19-year-old sophomore whiz Bill Bradley. Together they contributed 41 points in Princeton's 65-53 victory over Yale Friday night in a playoff game for the Ivy League title.

Tennessee Tech also gained the NCAA, beating Morehead, Ky., 80-63 in a playoff at Bowling Green, Ky. The two teams shared the Ohio Valley regular season title.

Stanford, however, was turned back in its bid to wrap up the Big Six title, dropping a 64-54 decision at UCLA. Stanford now holds a one game lead over the Bruins, with each scheduled to close its regular season tonight.

The three other spots in the 25-team NCAA tournament field also are scheduled to be decided Saturday when champions are picked in the Coast Athletic Conference.

Tourney action opens the same night with a doubleheader at Lubbock, Tex. Texas, 18-6, plays Texas Western, 18-4, and Colorado State, 18-4, goes against Oklahoma City, 17-9, with the winners advancing to the Midwest semifinals in Lawrence, Kan. next weekend.

Xavier of Ohio and St. Bonaventure advanced to the finals of the National Catholic college tournament at Louisville, with first round victories Friday. Xavier blasted Creighton 60-67 and St. Bonaventure edged Regis 76-75.

The Ivy League playoff, the 11th in the league's history, was forced at the neutral court at Fordham when Princeton and defending champion Yale finished regular season play with identical 11-3 league marks.

The score was tied 10 times before Bradley broke open the tight game midway through the second half. With Princeton leading only 37-35, he scored 11 of the next 13 Tiger points and sent Hyland alone on a breakaway for the other two. That gave Princeton a 50-41 lead and Yale didn't get close again.

BIG STALL
Hyland closed it out with a stalling act in the last four minutes, scoring nine points on free throws as the frantic Elite fouled in attempts to get the ball. He finished with 22 points, Bradley with 25.

Morehead, which shared the Ohio Valley regular season title with Tennessee Tech, each with an 8-4 record, had to work the playoff without star sophomore Harold Sergeant. Sergeant, the league's leading scorer, has the flu.

With him out, Morehead was ice cold, hitting only 24 of 92 field goal attempts. Tennessee Tech, 18-6, was 44 of 88 from the field and never headed.

Increased Sports Seen by Big Ten
CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten is peering into a future that may bring year-around varsity competition within the decade as result of mushrooming college enrollment.

As conference athletic directors and faculty representatives closed their two-day March business meeting Friday, Commissioner William R. Reed disclosed the next conference parley, May 17-18 in Minneapolis, will study the extent of the problem relating to possible full summer athletic competition.

"We are set to pose an interpretation of the trend towards a year-around academic program which may be inevitable in view of estimates that the present national college enrollment of 4,200,000 may reach no less than 6 million by 1970," Reed said.

Michigan next school year undertakes a new calendar opening Sept. 3 in effect shaping up a tri-semester term including a full summer semester. Other schools may drop the standard two-semester school year to fully utilize facilities year-round.

Reed envisioned a switch of spring varsity sports into summer duration.

Bowling
Pitxley's leads the Hilltop High schoolers League by a game at Hilltop Bowling, Larry Dailley's 215-225 650 lopper the Junior House League at Maple Lakes Monday, and at Collier Lakes Tuesday Pender had a 262-637 in the Wednesday night loop and Maxine Werbach a 202-201-600 in the Oxford Friday Nites.

A match between the North Hill Ladies Juniors and the Shelly Lane Juniors ended with the Rochester group winning a 2,618-2,390 verdict from Shelly, George Ellman's 539 for North Hill led all competitors.

At Timberlans Chuck Ratcliffe had a 344-602 due in the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital League.

Art Hebdet set a new season high series mark in the Senior House loop at Cooley with a 672 while George Kinkenbergert tied Gary Tinner's high game score with a 220 actual.

A Farmington bowler, Harold Koenig, won the men's title in the Game of Dimes state tournament at Battle Creek last week-end. Kathie Sheehan of Tawas was the women's winner.

Hayes Beats Willie Again Over 60 Yards in 7.2 Seconds

From Our News Wires
CHICAGO — Hayes Jones of Pontiac romped to his 44th straight hurdles victory last night in the Chicago Relays.

Michigan State's Bob Moreland also took first in the 50-yard dash. The Big Ten indoor sprint champion won by a eyelash over Fred Mc Coy of Chicago in :06.6.

Jones won the 60-yard high hurdles in :07.2, the sixth time he has won the event here. Willie May was second.

Little Jim Beatty, a guy in a hurry who gets places in record time, wasn't a bit surprised after he added the world indoor two-mile record to his still fresh one-mile mark.

"I just made up my mind to get that two-mile record," he said.

Beatty zoomed around Chicago Stadium's board oval 22 sizzling times to reward a screaming crowd of 16,759 with a new two-mile record of 8:30.7 seconds.

The effort by the 130-pound insurance claim adjuster from Los Angeles, who Feb. 15 set an indoor mile mark of 3:58.6 in New York, shaved almost four seconds from New Zealand Murray Halset in 1961.

STOLE SHOW
It was a show-stealing stunt by the 23-year-old Beatty only minutes after Chicago Loyola's spinster Tom O'Hara had broken Beatty's one-year-old Bankers' Mile record with a 3:59.5 clocking.

Two other meet records were set Friday night — by Dave Tork, who broke the 20-year-old pole vault record of Cornelius Warren, 1941, with a 16-foot leap, and by defending champion Bill Crothers of Toronto, Can., with a 2:06.4 victory in the 1,000-yard run.

A meet record also was tied by L. Lila Cassella, who won the 600-yard sprint in 1:08.7.

Michigan State took the University Mile Relay, third season. The winning teammates were Chester Harris, Walker Beverly, Ronald Horning and a John Parker, Iowa was second in the event. Western Michigan ran but was disqualified.

Legal Woes Halt Flight to Australia

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Betty Miller vows that legal difficulties won't stop her from making a solo flight to Australia. Mrs. Miller, 36, plans to deliver a twin-engine plane to a purchaser in Australia, passing over the area in which Amelia Earhart disappeared on a flight in 1937.

But her husband, Charles, said Friday that the Australian government has temporarily blocked the venture because she does not have a navigator's permit from that country.

Northville Edges South Lyon

Fenton Slips Past Holly, 47-46

By DICK BUCK
The scores were nearly identical. The two games which produced them definitely weren't.

Fenton prolonged a basketball jinx over Holly last night with a thrilling 47-46 win in the first game of a Class B district tournament doubleheader at Northville.

Then Northville, playing on its home court, outlasted a surprising South Lyon quintet, 46-46. Nearly as close as the other contest at the end, this tilt didn't have nearly as much excitement.

Last night's two winners battle for the Northville regional trophy tonight at 7:30. The winner will advance to the tournament regionals next week at Clarkston.

LeRoy Decker, Fenton's coach, guided Holly's case destined until 1960 when he transferred to Fenton. In three district tournament meetings since then, the Broncos have been unable to beat the Tigers.

This has led to some hard-fought, close, dramatic contests. Last night's was no exception. The score was tied no less than 14 times. The biggest point difference at anytime was five, which Holly had on a 23-23 count in the third quarter.

VERY CLOSE
Most of the time, when the score wasn't knotted, the separation was just one or two points.

It was a battle of defenses as much as offenses. The score did not go higher mainly because good scoring chances were hard to come by.

Both sides were content with moving the ball around until a momentary hole developed in the defense rather than taking reckless shots. Fenton finally went in front to stay at the 2:39 mark of the last period on Jeri Heffer's free throw. That made it 41-40. Dick Bachtel's field goal 10 seconds later jumped the advantage to 43-40.

It was too much for the Broncos. They fought for the tying point right to the last second but ran out of time.

Bachtel, who pumped in eight valuable points in the decisive final quarter, was Fenton's best scorer with 18. Heffer had 12. Jack Bennett's 15 made him the only Holly man in double figures.

Northville had been expected to trip past South Lyon with little trouble. But the Mustangs played inconsistently and the Lions surprised them with a reasonably strong performance.

Overall, this game offered a sharp contrast to the Fenton-Holly match. Play for the most part was sloppy in the second game. Floor violations, bad passes and wild shots were abundant. Defenses were spotty. The winners never trailed. In fact, they never were tied. But as soon as Northville would start to build a lead, the attack would falter. South Lyon would close in.

The Mustangs' biggest lead was 37-25 midway through the third quarter. They couldn't hold it. Northville's Tom Swiss bucketed 18 points to lead both teams. Jim Sprinkles notched 15 to pace the losers.

Welu Tops Pack in Mobile Pro Bowling Tourney

MOBILE, Ala. (UP)—Billy Welu of St. Louis led a field of 16 to day into the quarterfinals of the Mobile Professional Bowling Association $25,000 open tournament.

The finals of the tournament will be carried over national television this afternoon.

Welu rolled 1,331 in the final qualifying round last night to vault into the lead by 64 pins over Ed Bourdale, Fresno, Calif. Welu had a total of 5,180 to 5,116 for Bourdale, who bowled 1,240 in the final qualifying round.

Dan Carter, of St. Louis, despite a poor start, was third with a 5,169 total after a fine 1,212 score last night.

Molterer Wins Race at Boyne Mountain

BOYNE FALLS (R)—Two Aspen, Colo. skiers finished 1-2 in the 11th and season-closing race of the International Professional Ski Racers Association yesterday on Boyne Mountain.

Andrei Molterer collected $750 for his first place finish and Adrien Davidoff got $600 for runner-up honors.

Christian Pravda of Sun Valley, Idaho, celebrated his 30th birthday with a third-place finish worth $500.

The racers, performing before an estimated 1,500 spectators, competed in four slalom events run two each over two different courses.

Duvillard was the top money winner on the pros' 11-race circuit with a total of 47,028. Molterer was next with $6,028.

Cliff's Being Called 'Jack' Since Playing JFK, in Film

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Cliff Robertson, who plays John F. Kennedy in "PT Boat-109," is suddenly making a big name for himself—and the name is "Jack."

"Some of my close friends have taken to calling me 'Jack' since I did the picture," he admitted not too happily one recent afternoon. "They say things like, 'Jack, what are you going to do about the tax situation? What about Cuba, Jack?'"

Cliff, a quiet, sober chap who had an unspectacular career as a newspaperman and as a writer before making it as an actor, is frequently confused with Dale Robertson of TV's "Wells-Fargo."

He shouldn't be confused with Dale after millions see him in the picture and note the resemblance to JFK. I have been trying to draw him out on well authenticated reports that President Kennedy, despite busy goings-on at the White House, had taken time to look at screen tests made by several important actors who were up for the role in "PT Boat-109" and had preferred him.

And I quizzed him on another point that JFK has seen the finished movie and likes it. Cliff said he didn't know. "If I go by my usual practice, I won't see it till it's been out about a year," he said.

Soviets Renew Promise to Withdraw Cuba Troops

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has renewed its promise that between now and next weekend several thousand Russian troops will be sailing home from Cuba.

Soviet Ambassador Antoly S. Dobrynin put the pledge publicly on the record late Friday.

Syria Opens Border After Army Coup

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Syria's Revolutionary Council eased border controls today. The country moved back toward normalcy under a new 20-man cabinet in the wake of a military coup staged by officers friendly to Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The new premier is Salah Bitar, a veteran politician who heads the moderate wing of the Arab Ba'ath Socialist party.

Little more than 24 hours after the uprising, airports and seaports were ordered reopened. Automobile traffic was allowed to move again and approved food trucks were permitted to enter and leave the country.

Frontiers were opened to diplomats and to other foreigners approved by Syria's internal security forces.

NASSAR APPROVES

Nasser extended diplomatic recognition to the revolutionary regime, this formally accepting the separate status of Syria for the first time since it revolted and broke away from the United Arab Republic in 1961.

The Egyptian leader said the previous union was "a pioneer movement from which we benefited much, and these benefits are resources for the Arab future and Arab unity."

Jordan and Algeria also extended recognition.

Bitar was a cabinet minister in the United Arab Republic cabinet when Syria and Egypt were joined as one nation. He quit, however, before the final split two years ago and has maintained his support for Syrian independence.

The new rulers claimed complete control of the turbulent country and proclaimed today a national holiday. They said the coup took place without bloodshed.

There were reports of scattered resistance within Syria, but the country's borders were sealed and it was impossible to check them.

Israel sent troops to the Syrian border and said it would fight to prevent any interference with the new government.

"I have already mentioned to Secretary Rusk that we will withdraw several thousand troops... We will do what we promised we will do," he told newsmen at the State Department.

Earlier in the day the secretary of state had told a news conference that the outflow of Russian soldiers from Cuba was already under way and enough Russian ships are moving to Cuba to carry out the several thousand military men.

How many is "several thousand"? Neither Rusk nor Dobrynin would be more specific.

Washington first got word from the Kremlin last month that it intended to withdraw several thousand troops by mid-March.

Moscow, according to a Feb. 21 White House announcement, identified the personnel to be withdrawn as the troops who had guarded offensive weapons, plus some specialists who have been training Cubans.

PULL-OUTS SLOW

Since then there have been reports of Russians leaving Cuba and some government sources said it appeared that a few troops were leaving each day. But on Wednesday President Kennedy said at a news conference the withdrawal was moving too slowly to please him.

U.S. authorities have estimated there were 22,000 Russian military personnel—including technicians—in Cuba at the peak of the crisis last fall.

Edwards Considered as Federal Judge?

DETROIT (AP)—Published reports that Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards was in line for an appointment to the 6th Federal Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati drew considerable attention today.

The Detroit Free Press said in its story it had learned that Ray Girardin, former Detroit Times reporter and now executive secretary to Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, would be named police commissioner.

Sen. McNamara, D-Mich., who as senior senator from Michigan has the final say on federal patronage for the state, commented that there has been no selection yet and no name sent to the White House.

But McNamara added, "but certainly George Edwards is very well qualified and one who would have to be given serious consideration."

Commits Sniper for Mental Help

Will Await Opening in State Institution

Oakland County Probate Judge Donald E. Adams yesterday committed 15-year-old slayer Douglas Godfrey to Pontiac State Hospital for psychiatric treatment.

Young Godfrey, who admitted the Jan. 25 murder of his 38-year-old mother Mary because "she bugged me too much," will remain in the county's Children's Center until an opening is available at the hospital.

Judge Adams said he could get no indication from the hospital of the length of the waiting period.

Patients awaiting admittance to state mental hospitals have waited six months to a year for an opening in the past.

Pontiac State Hospital has "one of the better recognized adolescent wards," the judge said.

Judge Adams signed the commitment order this morning following a mental health hearing in Probate Court on a petition filed Wednesday by the boy's father, Donald H. Godfrey, 44, of 983 Dursley Road, Bloomfield Twp.

Godfrey filed the petition following Judge Adams' ruling that the youth would not be tried as an adult for first-degree murder but would remain under Juvenile Court jurisdiction for confinement and treatment for mental illness.

The judge's decision came after a hearing Wednesday at which three psychiatrists testified Douglas was seriously mentally ill.

Young Godfrey, who will be 16 years old March 16, has admitted killing his mother with a 22-caliber bullet fired from a stolen pistol from outside the kitchen window of the $40,000 Godfrey home.

Car Smacks Truck at Roadside, 2 Die

By JIM LONG

Traffic accidents in Pontiac and western Oakland County took the lives of four persons last night and early this morning, two of them in one crash.

A fifth is in serious condition.

Charles R. Madaris, 42, of 1349 Commerce Road, Milford.

Mrs. Maud M. Pond, 78, of 238 Franklin St., Milford.

Dewitt Talbert, 51, of 352 Central Ave.

Walter K. Copeman, 52, of 461 E. Tenneyson Ave.

Madaris and Mrs. Pond were killed when the car Medaris was driving smashed into a wrecker that was parked alongside the shoulder of Milford Road in Highland Township.

Another passenger, Mrs. Mabel Durham, 69, also of 238 Franklin St., is in serious condition at Pontiac General Hospital with leg injuries and face and scalp lacerations.

The accident occurred at 8:50 p.m. just north of Howe Road. The wrecker, owned by Pontiac Towing Service, 684 E. Blvd. and driven by John T. Howells, 24, was backed up to the rear of a 2½-ton dairy truck when Medaris' car hit it head on.

Howells, of 45 Seneca St., the driver of the National Dairy Products truck, John L. Flock, 43, of 923 Sarena St., said they saw the car come over a hill at a high rate of speed and ran for safety when it became apparent that the car would collide with the wrecker.

There was no sign of any attempt to stop the car, according to Sheriff deputies, who estimated the speed of the car on impact at 65 miles per hour.

The truck has been on the road since about 3:30 p.m., according to Sheriff's Deputy Edward W. Filhart, who had been sent to the scene at 5:30 p.m. to investigate a report of a road hazard.

USED FLARES

Road flare were given to Flock by Filhart and placed around the stalled vehicle and at the top of the hill.

Deputy Worth Hitchcock, who took the accident report, said flares were still burning when he arrived.

Talbert was killed at 10:22 p.m. when he walked in front of a car on South Sanford Street.

The driver, Jelon Major, 29, of 344 S. Edith St., told Pontiac police he was traveling north on Sanford when Talbert appeared in front of his car.

Major said he slammed on his brakes but could not avoid hitting Talbert and did not have time to swerve his car.

Seek Safe Pass for Mindszenty Honor Roll Swells to New High at OU

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican is reportedly trying to get a safe conduct pass from Hungary for Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Hungarian Catholic primate who has said that he will never leave his country, even if staying means life in confinement.

Three weeks short of 71, Mindszenty has been given haven in the U.S. Legation in Budapest since the Russians crushed the 1956 Hungarian revolt.

The government has threatened to imprison him again if he sets foot outside the legation.

Sources here said yesterday the Vatican is trying to get Mindszenty a safe conduct pass to Rome, where a permanent post would be provided for him.

Frank, Cardinal Koenig, archbishop of Vienna, confirmed Friday night he hopes to see Mindszenty in Budapest. He made no comment on reports he would try to persuade Mindszenty to leave Hungary.

More than one-fourth of Oakland University's student body will get citations at the annual honors banquet Thursday.

Three-hundred-twenty of Oakland's 1,150 students have earned invitations by making the dean's list in one of the last three semesters. This is the largest number ever.

Last semester alone, 238 students made the dean's list with averages of B or better, also a record. The honors function will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Oakland Center.

Special awards will go to the 18 students with the best academic records in their respective classes.

Each of the students will receive a certificate citing him for distinguished academic achievement.

Speaker at the banquet will be Dr. John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp. and former professor of psychology at Princeton and Stanford Universities.

Light Snow Likely for Pontiac Tonight

Think winter's gone? — Don't be fooled. The "mild" temperatures are just Mr. Winter's way of tantalizing the area.

He's even planned snow with a few of 20 for tonight, to remind us that his official departure isn't until March 21.

The weather tomorrow will be partly cloudy with little temperature change. A high of 34 is predicted.

The outlook for Monday is mostly cloudy with a chance of light snow.

Today's variable winds will be come southerly at 10:20 m.p.h. this afternoon and early tonight. They're expected to shift to northerly Sunday.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 17. Thirty-one was the reading at 1 p.m.

Russ Charge U.S. With Use of Poison Gas

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union charged today that the United States was using poison gas against civilians in South Vietnam.

The charge appeared in the official newspaper of the Soviet defense ministry, Krasnaya Zvezda Red Star.

It called the alleged American action "cannibalistic steps" and said Americans were "chucking with satisfaction" at what it called "painful agonies of South Vietnamese women and children."

The newspaper said that so far the use of chemical weapons "is limited to one colonial war, but who can guarantee that the peoples of other countries will not suffer from them too?"

FIGHT SCHOOL FIRE — Firemen pour water on still-burning Bellport (N.Y.) High School yesterday where a flash fire injured more than 50 of the school's 900 students as they fled the flames. No fatalities were reported. Some students escaped through windows.

16 Die, 40 Hurt in Explosions

By The Associated Press
Explosions at widely separated points around the world last night and today killed at least 16 persons and injured 40 or more others.

At least 15 died and another 40 were hurt today when an explosion ripped through a forging plant at Belcke, Germany, near Arnberg in eastern Westphalia.

Police said the blast apparently was caused by the bursting of a pipe carrying compressed air.

2 Cars Collide, 4 Persons Hurt

Four persons were injured in a two-car collision on Elizabeth Lake Road at Scott Lake Road in Waterford Township at 11:40 last night.

Injured in one car were the driver, Sonja J. Wennsten, 23, of 944 LaSalle St., Waterford Township, and Audrey Van Horn, 29, of 4 E. Colgate St.

The other driver was Lerville G. Drake, 28, of 1199 N. Eddy St., Walled Lake. A passenger in the car, Anthony E. Clem, 24, of 1122 Delta St., Walled Lake, also was hurt.

Clem is reported in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital. He suffered multiple face cuts and a knee injury.

The others were treated and released. Witnesses told Waterford Township Police that the Wennsten car made a left turn into the path of the other car.

Pontiac Men Injured When Car Overturns

Two Pontiac men were injured early this morning when their car went out of control and overturned on Franklin Road in Bloomfield Township.

William Bell, 35, of 47 Walnut St., the driver, and James Lawrence, 39, of 89 Stout St., were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, according to township police.

Lawrence was reported in fair condition today with rib and chest injuries. Bell was treated and released.

The accident occurred north of Long Lake Road at about 12:35.

Organize Rochester Group

Two young women in the Rochester area feel strongly that there should be more information available to the public about the United Nations.

With that purpose in mind they have organized a Rochester chapter of the American Association for the United Nations (AAUN).

The Weather

Full U.S. Weather Bureau Report
PONTIAC AND VICINITY — Partly sunny and colder today. High 32. Light snow likely by evening and continuing tonight. Low 20. Partly cloudy with little temperature change Sunday. High 34. Variable winds becoming southerly at 10-50 miles per hour this afternoon and early tonight. Winds will shift to northerly Sunday.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Light snow or flurries should fall tonight from the Ohio Valley to the northern Appalachians with a mixture of rain and snow over the central Appalachians. Scattered showers will extend through the Tennessee Valley and western south Atlantic states to the Gulf. There will be some light snow in the northern Plains and showers in the southern Rockies. It will be a little warmer through the southern and central Plateau and Plains and cooler in the Northeast and lower Mississippi Valley.

AQUACAR? — This automobile was parked in what normally is a dry parking lot in Louisville, Ky., yesterday. The section is now under water from rising water of the Ohio River and the car appears to be floating.

Silent Satellite Gets New Life

WASHINGTON (AP)—Space scientists have successfully brought a solar radiation satellite back to life after 22 months of silent orbiting around the earth.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Friday that the Navy-developed satellite is once again transmitting information about solar flares. It shows no signs of deterioration, "proving the satellite has successfully withstood high radiation bombardment," a NASA official said.

Ohio Valley Floods Recede

Ohio Valley residents sloshed through receding flood waters today, but rivers in at least two areas threatened to spill over their banks.

A slow push of arctic air brought below-zero temperatures to the upper Mississippi Valley and upper Great Lakes regions and spread light rain and snow from the Dakotas to Maine.

At Fremont, Ohio, a state of emergency remained in effect as an ice jam above Ballville Dam on the Sandusky River threatened to send torrents of water into the town. Nearly 500 families fled their homes.

The Red Cross was ready to aid flood-stricken citizens of Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and West Virginia today from an emergency disaster headquarters established at Columbus, Ohio.

Accidental Launch of Missile Probed

BAUMHOLTER, Germany (UPI) — U.S. Army investigators tried today to determine the cause of Tuesday's accidental launching of a Nike-Ajax anti-aircraft missile at the training grounds here.

The missile's sustainer motor check, hurling it 65 feet into a blast wall surrounding the emplacement. Its high-explosive warhead did not explode, and no one was injured.

Informed observers discounted panicky speculation that such an accidental launching might start a nuclear war.

Ajax missiles have a maximum range of only about 25 miles, and they are not fitted to carry nuclear warheads.

OU Slates Seminar on Alumni Problems

The rapidly developing concept of an "alumni university" to guide education of college graduates until retirement age, will be the topic of a seminar at Oakland University Tuesday.

The university's seminar in alumni education will be taking place one month before O.U. graduates its first senior class.

A program whereby professional counselors will work with university graduates to help them plan their professional goals and decide what education they will need to achieve these goals, has long been the vision of Dr. Lowell Eklund, associate dean for continuing education.

The program is being initiated this year by a pilot project financed by a Kellogg Foundation grant.

The project will apply to business administration and engineering science graduates.

Gary A. Woditsch has been named to the new post of director of alumni education. The program is believed to be the only of its kind in the world.

Woditsch, a graduate of University of Detroit, formerly was with the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers (ASTME) in Detroit.

Woditsch was manager of international operations and director of the ASTME leadership conference.

Eklund, Woditsch and other university officials will be on hand Tuesday to greet nationwide leaders in the extension and alumni education fields as well as industrial executives.

Major participants will include Dr. Ernest McMahon, of Rutgers University; Dr. Julius Nolta of the University of Minnesota; and Dr. Thurman White, of the University of Oklahoma.

ALL ARE DEANS
All three are deans of extension education at their respective universities. Dr. Nolta is senior dean of extension education in the nation.

May Attempt Recovery Along Russian Border

LONDON (UPI) — British experts said today Red China has served notice on the Kremlin that it may try eventually to recover vast reaches of lost Tsarist Russia wrested from the tottering Chinese empire.

The experts noted that Russia was specifically included in the list of "imperialist and colonialist powers" which the Peking Communist "People's Daily" said yesterday had imposed "unequal treaties" on China.

"By virtue of these unequal treaties, they annexed Chinese territory in the north, south, east and west, and held leased territories on the seaboard and in the hinterland," the editorial said.

Other Areas Still in Danger

"Unequal treaties" was a war cry of Chinese nationalism years before the Communists conquered the country.

While there appeared to be no prospect of an early Chinese attempt to seize the Russian-held territory, British experts said the editorial had the effect of moving Red China's dispute with the Kremlin from the vague area of ideology into the specifics of politics and border disputes.

Armed Bandit Robs Cleaners

A man armed with a small nickel-plated revolver held up the Maple Cleaners, 361 E. Maple Road, Birmingham, and escaped with about $80 yesterday.

An employe, Romaine Streby, was the only person in the store when the man walked in at about 3:35 p. m.

She told Birmingham Police he ordered her to empty the cash register at gun point, then escaped on foot.

Birmingham Area News: Approve Special Class for Near-Genius Children

BIRMINGHAM — A proposed experimental class for extremely gifted or near-genius children has been given tentative approval by the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education.

Tentative plans are for the class to open this year with 12 students from grades one to six.

Superintendent Eugene L. Johnson noted that an outside specialist will be assigned to select the students.

Johnson explained that the class will be limited in size so that each student can get personal attention.

William Schrot, who has done some experimental work in this field, has been assigned to teach the class. He is currently a teacher in the Bloomfield Hills school system.

The U.S. position is that there should be no Russian military personnel in Cuba. But for now, Washington is concentrating on the current withdrawal.

Rusk said the U.S. government would make an assessment "somewhat later" as to just what the current withdrawal amounts to.

Meanwhile, words were still flying in Congress over Cuba past, present and future. And Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield tried to stem some of them. He urged Senators yesterday to weigh their words and judge whether they might "help drive the people and the President toward war."

Morris Martin Displays Painting, "Indian Boy."

Young Pontiac Artist Will Be Honored

Tomorrow, a soft-spoken Pontiac youth will walk up on the Ford Auditorium stage with nine others and be honored for his work as one of Michigan's outstanding young artists.

For 17-year-old Morris Martin of 823 Galing St., this will be the reward for long hours of work under the direction of Glen Michaels at Cranbrook.

Martin's artistic ability was brought to the attention of the Pontiac Citizens' Committee through the Youth Association program at city hall, and the YMCA who are his sponsors. The boy's ability in oil portraits and still life won him a two-year scholarship so he might continue at Cranbrook.

Michael, one of Morris' most enthusiastic supporters, is supervisor and instructor of the Young People's Art Center. He predicts that within a year or so the youth will present his own private art show.

Morris was one of the top 10 artists chosen to display his works at Ford Auditorium and the Detroit Art Museum from a group of more than 100 entries.

He will receive a citation and trophy for his works as well as a scholarship to continue his studies at Cranbrook. Six of his portraits have been sold to area residents.

New "Rancher" in Villa Vista.

New Activity at Villa Vista

After being idle for several years, the Villa Vista subdivision on Crescent Lake Road near M59 in Waterford Township is again being developed into one of the county's newest real estate projects.

Homes in the $13,000 and $14,000 range will be built on the 88 FHA-approved lots, according to veteran realtor and sales director C. Schmitt.

Four models are open for viewing with one completely furnished. All of the three-bedroom houses will be brick and wood construction situated on nearly a half acre of ground.

A choice of either the "rancher" or a two-story colonial will be available.

Black-topped roads wind up and over the hilly subdivision area and a substantial water system is planned. A 12-foot tree will be planted in front of each home. That's a new FHA requirement.

OWNERS, DEVELOPERS
The Goodman Brothers of Detroit, who have been in the building business for more than 50 years, are the owner-developers.

"There will be no middleman prices in our home deals," Goodman pointed out. "We deal directly with the customer, giving a rich man's luxury for a poor man's pocketbook," he added.

One feature of the subdivision is that all the lots are priced the same, so it's first come, first served as far as the choice of land sites is concerned. The houses are open from 1-8 p. m. daily.

To spruce up your closet shelves for spring, get a set of sturdy storage boxes, glue on an outside padding of foam rubber sheeting, and cover with a striped or floral fabric. Give your hatboxes the same treatment and you'll have a closet as handsome as it is neat.

IRONING BOARD PATTERN 391

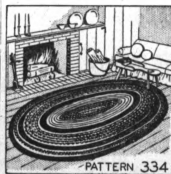

SLEEVE BOARD PATTERN 392

FOLD AWAY BOARD and cupboard for equipment are included in Pattern 391. There is a rack on the door for freshly ironed garments. The board requires no unusual hardware. Pattern 392 for a sleeve board and pressing cushions a tailor uses is a boon to Mom, Dad and Young Sons. Patterns are 35 cents each. Both are in the Pressing and Sewing Corner Packet No. 16 for $1. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

PILGRIM BENCH PATTERN 218

Here's an extra seat or a coffee table. The early New Englanders used pine or maple for these benches. Fronts and ends were cut in simple curves. A drawer was often added. You may copy this bench exactly with Pattern 218 which gives actual-size cutting guides and illustrated directions. Price 35 cents. This pattern also is one of four in the Early American Packet No. 19, all for $1. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York

RUG MAKING is a wonderful hobby. Pattern 334, which gives directions for braided rugs—oval, round and novelty types, is 35 cents. How to estimate material, dyeing, blending colors, sewing for a reversible rug included. This pattern also is in The Rug Packet 21 which includes directions and full-size designs for hooked rugs—all for $1. A tremendous value. The Pontiac Press, Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

105 Aboard Flight From Red Cuba

MIAMI (UPI) — A group of 105 Cuban refugees arrived on a mercy flight yesterday and reported that life under Premier Fidel Castro is one big headache and 89-cent aspirin is selling for $3.

The Cubans and Cuban-Americans told substantially the same stories heard so often from exiles from the Communist island — hardships, government rationing and food shortages.

The new arrivals said the Castro government has put a few items of medicines received as part of the $53-million ransom payment for invasion prisoners on sale to the public at inflated prices.

Robert E. Otero, 23, who said he worked in the government's urban reform office, reported that bottles of American-made aspirin, plainly marked 89 cents, are being sold in Cuba for $3.

He said a U.S. brand of anti-colic tablet (Alka-Seltzer) sells for 19 cents a tablet — and that customers are limited to two tablets.

Other refugees reported seeing a few cold medicines and a few vitamins on store shelves recently. One woman reported that a bottle of 150 vitamin pills had a $92 price tag on it.

Said one woman: "It would be better to go live in hell than to continue living in Cuba today. Many people have heard the end of their rope. Everybody is looking to the United States for help." Then she became hysterical and fainted.

CASSOPOLIS (AP) — Lloyd Vaughn, 60, of Cassopolis, was killed yesterday when the Cass County Road Commission truck he was driving collided with a Grand Trunk & Western passenger train at a rural crossing 4 1/2 miles northeast of here. Ferris Miltonberg of Battle Creek, engineer of the eastbound train, said Vaughn tried to stop but skidded onto the tracks.
