5 Die in Crash Near Ann Arbor, Survivor Critical

UM Students En Route to Dance; Detroit Pair Going to Tulip Festival

From Associated Press

Three University of Michigan students and a Detroit couple were killed in the head-on smashup of two automobiles on U. S. 12 eight miles east of Ann Arbor last night.

A fourth student was injured and physicians at University Hospital expressed doubt he would live.

The students, all in formal dress and a gay mood, were en route to dinner at an outlying restaurant prior to a college dance.

And they were riding in a new car, given one of them by his father only the day before.

D. Howard Saltzer, 63, and his wife, Lena, 58, of Detroit; Keith Ryan, 21, of Toledo, Ohio; William B. McKean Jr., 23, of Parris Island, S. C., and Nancy Robson, 19, of Pompano, Fla.

Miss Robson was a freshman. She was the daughter of Mrs. Gordon Jonas of Pompano, but made her Michigan home with an aunt, Mrs. Howard Snyder of 330 Cranbrook Cross, Birmingham.

Thomas Bernaky, 24, of East Cleveland, Ohio, was the student critically injured. He is a UM senior.

Deputy Sheriff Roy Tice said Ryan was driving the students' car, which his father, Joseph Ryan, had given him Thursday. The father is research director for Libby-Owens-Ford Glass Co., of Toledo.

Saltzer, the other driver, was a steamfitter; his wife a registered nurse. Both were natives of Decatur, Mich.

McKean was a son of Col. William B. McKean Sr., a Marine who formerly commanded the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps at University of Michigan and who now is stationed at Parris Island, S. C.

Nike Operators Help Observe Armed Forces Day

HERE THEY COME—Sixty men of Bravo and Delta Batteries of the 516th AAA Missile Battalion stationed in Utica and Auburn Heights, took part today in the Armed Forces Day parade in the city. They led a truck bearing the deadly "Nike" missile which is on exhibit this afternoon in the city on West Huron. The marching unit, clad in red scarfs, was commanded by Capt. Harold E. Strong, commander of Delta Battery.

Spectators Line Route of March During Morning

Procession Touches Off Armed Forces Day Event in Pontiac Area

More than 2,000 Pontiac area residents took advantage of a sunny morning and flag-lined Saginaw street to watch more than 200 men and women of military units, veterans organizations, and scout groups march in the Armed Forces Day Parade.

Included in the 30-minute parade to celebrate "Armed Forces Day in Pontiac," were tons of military equipment exhibited by army reserve, the National Guard and local "Nike" antiaircraft units.

Stepping off to the music of the black and orange clad Pontiac High School Band was a color guard consisting of representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine, and Air Force.

Following behind the guard was a jeep bearing Mayor William W. Donaldson. The mayor later joined city commissioners and military officers on the reviewing stand in front of the courthouse.

Drawing the whistles of many men in the crowd was "Miss U. S. Naval Reserve of 1956," Miss Suzanne Danner, 17, of 408 Alberta St. The pretty queen, chosen from among 11 finalists last night, was riding in an open car with one member of her court, Marcee Hill, 19, of 47 Chamberlain St.

Preceding the truck and trailer bearing the missile was a 60-member marching unit of Bravo and Delta Batteries of the 516th AAA Missile Bn.

Clad in red scarfs and shiny helmet liners, the battery was led by Capt. Harold E. Strong of Pontiac, commander of Battery D of the 516th stationed at Auburn Heights.

Holding a guidon of their unit, were five members of the Spanish American War Veteran's organization. Included in the quintet was Perry Pattison, 78, and A. C. Tanner, 77, both of Pontiac.

The four services also provided recruiting cars along the long march.

The symbol, "Power For Peace," was emphasized by National Guard jeeps of Company M, 125th Inf. Reg., bearing machine guns and

Baptist Leader Says Sect Enjoys Freedom Behind Iron Curtain

"We have full freedom of religion and we are using it," said Dr. Jakov Zhidkov yesterday. "We have the freedom to do missionary activity. Every year 12,000 to 15,000 new converts are brought into the Baptist churches."

Zhidkov, 70-year-old churchman with a rust-red beard, heads a talkative team of five Russian Baptist leaders who arrived here yesterday from the Soviet Union. The five—four men and a woman—will spend a month visiting U.S. Baptist churches.

Zhidkov told newsmen that Russian churches are crowded. Baptist membership, he added, has grown from about 100,000 at the time of the Communist revolution to 560,000 at present.

He said Communists cannot be church members and must resign from the party when they become Baptists.

The Russians were invited to the United States by the nation's major Baptist bodies. Five American Baptists visited Russia last year.

They Say:

WASHINGTON (INS) — Presidential Aide Harold Stassen: "No known scientific instrument yet developed could locate H and A-bombs already produced."

DETROIT — Dr. Lawrence Hafstad, director of the new GM Technical Center: "Our choice is brutally clear; as a society, we can either learn mathematics and science—or Russian."

UNITED NATIONS—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge: "The U.S. position remains as always. It is opposed to Red China's admission (to the U.N.)"

WASHINGTON—Sen. Walter F. George: "I think there will be a move for some tax cuts before we leave."

WASHINGTON — Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt): "We have as good a farm bill as it is possible to get at this session. I will recommend the President to sign it unless something is discovered that I don't know about."

QUEBEC (INS) — Mrs. Paul-Emile Tremblay, 33, last night gave birth to her seventh set of twins, believed to be a world record.

PHS Off to Fast Clip in State Track Finals

By H. GUY MOATS
Special Writer, Pontiac Press

FERRY FIELD, ANN ARBOR—Pontiac High School's defending Class A prep champions got off to a fast start this morning. Chiefs have so far qualified four men for the final events this afternoon.

Hayes Jones set the ball rolling with a brilliant 14.2 120-yd. high hurdle heat victory, which broke the state record. It was disallowed because of a 4.6 mile wind. Jones also qualified in the 180-yd. low hurdles with a 19.8 clip. Jimmy Taylor also won his heat in the high sticks at 15.1.

Jones also led the broad jump with a 22-ft. 8-in. leap. Bill Douglas was still in the broad jump with a 20-ft 11½ in try. Pontiac's champion high jumpers, Hud Ray and Alex Barge, were expected to retain their title this afternoon.

County Eyes Successor to Fill Register's Post

By LAWRENCE S. MARTZ JR.

Three county officials who will name a replacement for Oakland County Register of Deeds Orrin McQuaid, who died of a heart attack Tuesday night, are expected to announce their decision early next week.

The new official will be picked from more than 15 announced applicants by Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem and Clerk Lynn D. Allen.

The first of the 15 applications and recommendations reportedly was received by the three officials about 10 a.m. Wednesday. McQuaid's funeral yesterday was attended by local, county and state officials from communities throughout southern Michigan.

Mrs. Helen Hoskins, chief deputy Register of Deeds, has temporarily assumed management of the office.

Ziem said names of candidates for McQuaid's office were discussed at a meeting of the committee yesterday, but no decisions were reached Informed Republicans emphasize the committee is seeking a "capable" man who will devote full time to the office.

Democratic interest in the post is expected to rise sharply with the death of McQuaid, who had held the office for 17 years and was regarded as a sure candidate.

The committee probably will be looking for a strong candidate who has proved he can win votes.

Names most often mentioned for the appointment are Waterford Township Clerk Louis Barry and former court clerk Daniel Murphy.

Barry, twice elected with a Republican slate after a 20-year Democratic reign in Waterford Township, is held to be a proven vote-getter and a capable administrator.

Barry has also been mentioned as a candidate to replace Supervisor Lloyd D. Anderson, who is retiring from office this fall to seek a seat in the Legislature.

Murphy also is active in Republican circles, but has never held elective office. He is now a customer relations executive and salesman with a local contracting firm.

Bullies Prepare for Combat

Panther Snarls, Accepts Gator's Challenge to Duel

An intrepid Pontiac Press reporter plunged through the trackless hinterlands of Oakland County yesterday afternoon.

He was delivering yesterday's written challenge from the Lower Long Lake alligator to the Leonard Panther—the opening gun in what is easily the most bizarre wildlife duel east of Hollywood.

The reporter has not been recovered, but the following epistle was found this morning in our letter box:

Wartface:

Your challenge is accepted, you saurian slob. It'll be a pleasure to get rid of an upstart, part-time pest like you.

I don't like for other mobs to muscle in on my territory, see? I been here for eight long years. I was the menace of the swamps. I terrorize Oakland County. This is my joint.

You, Lizard, weren't even a leathery little egg when I started operating here. So you think you're another Capone, just because some Florida cracker sells you to a tourist for a measly two bucks? Go write a book about the slave trade.

I would have ignored you, reptile, except you insulted me and I don't take insults from nobody. Especially overgrown salamanders.

So say your prayers, chum. You are gonna graduate and be a suitcase.

Plane Crashes in H-Bomb Area

Pilot of B57 Bomber Rescued by Destroyer; Other Airman Missing

USS MT. MCKINLEY, Off Bikini (AP)—Ships and planes from Task Force 7 searched today for an Air Force observer missing from a B57 bomber that crashed on a futile H-bomb mission.

The test had been postponed because of bad weather just three minutes after the plane took off.

The missing man was Capt. Paul M. Crumley whose wife lives at Albuquerque, N.M.

Capt. James Edward Hill, the pilot and the only other man aboard the small bomber, said it went out of control of 24,000 feet.

Hill said he had ordered Crumley to leave the plane and then had left himself, working an ejection mechanism. Hill parachuted to the ocean, got into a one-man life raft and was picked up by a destroyer.

He said he noticed icing at 20,000 feet and had received permission to go to 24,000.

Task Force 7 held up news of the accident for 30 hours.

Hospital Staff Hit by Aid Cut

Mental Health Grant Falls Short of Request to Increase Personnel

Pontiac State Hospital will remain "definitely understaffed" in spite of the $59,273,893 appropriated for mental health in bills signed yesterday by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, according to Supt. Dr. Ivan A. LaCore.

The appropriation was some $6 million greater than the amount appropriated for the current fiscal year, but about $3 million less than the sum recommended by the Governor.

Dr. LaCore said that as a result, some 124 positions—mostly attendant nurses — will be trimmed from his recommendation of 1,022 additional staff members for Pontiac.

"The appropriation will make the situation a little bit better," he said, "but it's certainly far from good.

"We still won't have full coverage of our wards 24 hours a day as far as attendant nurses are concerned."

Williams said that a total of 560 recommended positions were cut from the staffs at Pontiac, Lapeer, Caro, Coldwater, Kalamazoo, Newberry, Northville, Traverse City and Ypsilanti Hospitals.

The Governor also signed a bill allowing him to call up state civil defense forces during disasters, and another giving authority to the Conservation Commission to set special seasons for deer hunting, subject to approval of a legislative committee.

The bills were among those passed in the last legislative session of the season.

Honking Italians Trail Trumans on Tour of Rome

ROME (INS) — Harry S. Truman the tourist turned on his best political charm today to the cheers and horn-blowing of a very impressed Roman populace.

"If he ran for election in Rome, he would win hands down," was the judgment of at least one of the citizens who watched the former President as he toured the Eternal City in the company of Mrs. Truman, publisher Henry Luce and one-time Ambassador to Canada Stanley Woodward and his wife.

Truman noted; "This is where Marc Antony was supposed to have made his 'friends, Romans and countrymen' speech but it was really Shakespeare ghost-writing."

The ex-president's party drove through the narrow, crooked streets of Rome festooned with colored election posters reading "Vote Communist" to the city's heights.

Rushing to keep an appointment, Truman made a quick visit to the Pantheon where he noted, "This is the biggest one-minute look in the world."

Portland Mayor to Visit Pontiac

Charles Gilden Guest of City During Annual Exchange Day

Pontiac will play host to Portland's Mayor Charles F. Gilden Monday on "Mayor Exchange Day" a feature of Michigan Week, May 20-26.

Pontiac's Mayor William W. Donaldson will journey to Portland, midway between Lansing and Grand Rapids, along with his wife to tour the town of almost 3,000 population.

Mayor Gilden will be given a tour of Pontiac by City Engineer Lewis Wrenn and Parks and Recreation Director Dave Ewalt. It will include one of the Pontiac automobile factories.

Other Michigan mayors and village presidents will be "exchanged" for the day. Names of nearly 500 were drawn in pairs in March by Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Birmingham's Mayor James Allen will take a long jaunt up to L'Anse in the Upper Peninsula while Royal Oak Mayor Howard K. Kelley will travel 195 miles to Buckley, south of Traverse Bay.

Newberry in the UP will be the destination of James A. Beresford, mayor of Bloomfield Hills.

Southern Michigan Cities Warned of Floods

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A University of Michigan hydrologist warned today that many Southern Michigan cities are ripe for flooding that could bring "terrible tragedy."

Prof. Ernest F. Brater said, "Michigan can expect floods on major rivers that are three or four times larger than any that have occurred in the last 10 or 15 years."

This would increase the discharge rate somewhat less than three or four times, he said.

DANGER IMMINENT

The danger, he said, is imminent, but at the same time entirely left to chance: "It might occur next week; it might not occur in the next 100 years.

The fact remains, he said, that possible rainfall during any 24-hour period this month could swell many streams in Southern Michigan to the flood stage and beyond.

Weather Bureau information released recently showed that Michigan might expect rain up to 13½ inches during any 24-hour period in May.

Most Southern Michigan cities where there are major rivers are already jittery over the fact that the streams are full, in some cases at the brink of overflow.

"In some areas," Brater said, "the devastation would be almost unbelieveable."

Most of these areas, he said, have clay soil which does not permit water to permeate or sink in.

Most of the rain water becomes run-off, while in most areas in Northern Michigan, sandy soil decreases the possibility of flooding somewhat because it absorbs the water and moves in underground.

In the future, he said, cities should take steps to insure against flood dangers. Among these steps are these:

Residents and builders should be discouraged from erecting homes in low, flat areas near rivers, including such areas which were filled in.

INDUSTRIES WARNED

Industries should be warned about encroaching on the river channel. "Many industries," Brater said, "unwittingly have built their plants in these river areas."

In an effort to be near water for industrial use, he said, they may have gotten too near.

Low areas near a river and along the bank should be made into non-residential, non-industrial facilities such as parks.

The high water danger extends to the great lakes, Brater said. Variations in lake level average about six feet.

Rains can be expected, he said, which would up stream levels appreciably and perhaps only in certain localities. But the increasing population in Southern Michigan and expanding suburbs and towns are also increasing the possibility that areas where there were only harmless floods before may become danger areas.

Weather Bureau figures, he said, indicate that of the some 31 inches of rain a year in Southern Michigan, 10 inches becomes usable by evaporation plants and human uses, while 20 inches becomes run-off.

The 31 inches is an average too, he said, while some years average below this figure, other years provide ample flood dangers by producing more rain.

This year, he said, has produced some heavy spring rains.

Hospital to Launch Fund Raising Drive

Some 225 guests have been invited to attend St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's kick-off dinner Wednesday night for the opening of the hospital's fund-raising campaign for a proposed $6 million addition.

The dinner will be held at the Nurses' Home Auditorium, 126 Fulton Ave., beginning at 7 p.m.

Principal speaker will be author and attorney Clarence Manion, of South Bend, Ind. He will speak on "Charity Begins At Home."

League Guild Hears Granger

National Leader Talks at 5th Annual Dinner Here Friday Night

Dr. Lester B. Granger, president of the National Urban League, spoke on "Progress in a Changing World" at the fifth annual dinner of the Urban League Guild here last night. The dinner was held in the First Congregational Church.

* * *

Mrs. Harry L. Riggs, retiring president of the League, presented the officers who have served with her and called for the report of the nominating chairman, Mrs. Charles Williams.

Those who will serve the League during the next year are: Mrs. James Taylor, president; Mrs. J. A. Rammes, first vice president; Mrs. Daisy Neal, second vice president; Mrs. Warren Fowler, treasurer; Mrs. Irving Gillies, recording secretary; Mrs. William Essery, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lucetta Baker, chaplain.

Mrs. Riggs gave a short resume of work accomplished during the year. A $25 scholarship was awarded to a student at University of Michigan, members assisted with the T. B. chest X-Ray and gave Christmas gifts to girls at the Oakland County Children's Home.

* * *

Dr. Granger was introduced by Mrs. Arthur W. Selden. He urged Urban League and Guild members to become an informed membership. He urged each to adopt a purpose and follow it through even at the expense of great sacrifice.

"The trouble is that when we declare ourselves allies of a cause we automatically also select our enemies. Often we lose courage in the face of opposition.

"Emotions are commendable, but unless they are guided by intelligence and control they can do great harm in a situation.

"Pontiac is a favorite town of mine, because I feel that here you have made marked progress in race relations. Here we have industry integrating all its peoples with mutual benefit to both management and labor."

Invocation was given by the Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, pastor of the church. A vocal solo was given by Phyllis Smith.

Amvets Unit to Pick 1956 Beauty Queen

Final preparations are being made for the Bemis-Olsen Amvets Post 113 beauty contest and dance to be held Saturday, May 26, at the post home at 510 Oakland Avenue.

* * *

The contest will decide the post representative in the state contest to be held at the convention in Grand Rapids in June.

Unmarried women between the ages of 17 and 26 are eligible for the local contest if they have lived in this state since Aug. 28, 1955. Girls under 21 are required to have written consent of their parents or guardian. Deadline for entries is May 23.

Dancing to the music of the Russell Roach orchestra will follow the selection of "Miss Amvet." A dancing exhibition will be staged by a group of instructors from the Arthur Murray School during the judging.

3 Receive Injuries as Car Leaves Road

A two-year-old boy, his father and another passenger were slightly injured yesterday when their auto was forced off Roselawn drive south of Michigan avenue and into a utility pole.

BOUND FOR ANN ARBOR—Pontiac High School's defending state championship track team departed early this morning for Ann Arbor where the Chiefs are aiming for their second straight state title this afternoon. A fleet of four-door Pontiacs donated by the Pontiac Motor Division carried the 21-man party of players, coaches and managers to Ann Arbor. There were 16 runners, who qualified for the state meet in the regionals last week at Ypsilanti, in the group. Pontiac is a heavy favorite to retain the state crown.

Oregon Voters Like Stevenson

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Democrats gave Adlai Stevenson a boost toward the presidential nomination and Republicans put up a lusty cheer for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket in returns today from Oregon's primary election.

* * *

Stevenson, pointing toward bigger game in Florida and California stayed a consistent pace in front of Sen. Estes Kefauver in their write-in contest for 16 Democratic delegates in yesterday's balloting. More than half of the party's voters penciled in their presidential choice.

But Oregon Democrats appeared lazy compared with Republicans who showered unopposed President Eisenhower with a high popularity vote.

* * *

What's more, with only a minimum of pre-election prodding, nearly 20 per cent of the Republicans took the extra trouble to write in Vice President Nixon for re-nomination.

The primary turned up what could be only construed as a protest vote against Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse, former Republican.

Compromise Hassle Seen on Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (INS)—A second farm bill, safely by both the House and Senate, faces still more delay today before becoming law.

House leaders said they will not agree to Senate changes in the bill approved earlier in the House and will force a conference to work out a compromise.

The Senate passed the measure last night by a voice vote. It contains the soil bank plan requested by President Eisenhower but without the authority to pay farmers this year on what they wiuld do next year.

Rep. W. R. Poage, Tex., second-ranking Democrat on the House Agriculture Committee, said he will insist on a conference.

Poage said he wants the soil grain compromise and to a provision which would put the soil bank into effect this year only to the extent Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson deems "practical."

Shopping Center Planned for Erection in Lakes Area

Construction of a 7-8 store shopping center along Elizabeth Lake Road is scheduled to get underway July 1, according to the area's developer, Louis "Tug" Borst, president of the Lakewood Realty Co.

To be known as the "Lizz-Lake Shopping Center," the site will be located on the south side of Elizabeth Lake Road at the throughfare's intersection with Huron Street and Cass Lake Road. Completion is expected by late fall.

Borst said today that a lease has already been executed with National Food Stores which plans to occupy a 15,000 square foot supermarket.

Other negotiations are underway to a large drug store, cleaning establishment and some retail stores, Borst stated.

Besides the stores, the center will contain a paved parking lot having over 100,000 square feet of space, the developer added.

The site was selected because of the high rate of expansion in the area and the fact that it will be accessible from six directions via the three converging roads, Borst said.

School Bus, Autos Collide; 6 Injured

Six persons, three of them children, suffered shock and minor injuries in an accident involving a school bus and two cars Friday afternoon at Maple and Lahser roads, Bloomfield Township.

Shaken up but with no apparent injuries were Mrs. Marcella Kurz, 44, and her children, Stephen, 5, and Carol, 11, of Mt. Clemens. The injured included: Mrs. Kate Pullar, 64, of Birmingham, bruised shoulder; Charlotte Kelly, 11, of Mt. Clemens, abrasions of right leg; and Marjorie Dillon, 28, of Birmingham, bruised neck.

All were treated and released by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The Troy Township police investigated the three-vehicle collision.

Police Officers to Stage Annual Benefit Dance

The third annual benefit dance of the Pontiac Police Officer's Assn. will be held at 9:30 p.m. tonight in the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Sgt. James Carr, chairman, said that tickets at the door will cost 25 cents per couple.

Funds will go to support charity programs and sports teams sponsored by the association, he said.

He doesn't like milk.

"I'm one of the few with whom it disagrees," said Turner, adding:

"I'll take coffee."

Firemen last night extinguished a 20-minute blaze which caused $200 damage to a two-story frame boarding house at 13 Carter St. No one was injured.

Careless smoking caused the fire, firemen said.

Hilton to Take Over New Detroit Hotel

DETROIT (AP)—Conrad N. Hilton, head of the worldwide hotel chain bearing his name, says he plans to take over operation of a 24-million-dollar, 1,000-room hotel to be built in downtown Detroit.

Hilton and other high executives in his organization met yesterday with 45 Detroit business and civic leaders, who agreed to raise 15 million dollars to finance the project.

The 23-story structure, Detroit's first major hotel in 30 years, will rise on a block-square site adjoining the lavish Civic Center, now a building on the Detroit riverfront. A spokesman for the group financing the project said the site had been purchased for two million dollars.

Hilton, who also operates the Statler Hotel here, said he was "ready to go" on the construction as soon as details of the transaction could be completed. It is expected the hotel will open late in 1958 or early 1959.

Besides a thousand rooms, the hotel will have 50 deluxe penthouse apartments and underground parking for 1,500 automobiles.

Retail Price Boost Seen for Cigarettes

NEW YORK (AP)—A price boost of a cent a package at retail for cigarettes probably by next week is predicted by a spokesman for United Cigars-Whelan Stores Inc. following a raise in the wholesale price by Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

* * *

Liggett & Myers has announced that effective yesterday the wholesale price of Chesterfield regular and kingsize cigarettes would be increased 45 cents on all shipments—a boost of nine cents a carton, roughly a penny a pack.

The United Cigar spokesman said he expected notice of a similar price increase within a few days from other cigarette manufacturers.

The audience, consisting of many children, couldn't mistake the approach of a roaring M47 tank from the 703rd Army Reserve Tank Bn., and mounting a 90 mm weapon.

The tank was led by some 50 marching men of the tank battalion, a local reserve unit in the city.

Ground Observer Corps posts in the area had five recruiting cars entered in the march.

The crowd watched the Waterford High School band march up Saginaw led by two high-stepping majorettes. The band picked up the "Stars and Stripes Forever" as it passed the reviewing stand.

There were also other members of Boy and Cub Scout organizations taking part along with the other units, such as Blue Star Mothers and the Amvets Post from Keego Harbor.

A huge ordinance wrecker from the 107th Ordinance Company of the National Guard moved up behind five big ordinance vans.

the same fraternity, Phi Sigma Kappa.

The two cars smashed together at terrific speed on US12 between Dixboro and Frain's Lake Roads, about 8:30 p.m.

Summoned by telephone from his Toledo home, Joseph Ryan walked into the Washtenaw County sheriff's office, and said: "I'm Dr. Ryan. Was my boy in an accident tonight?"

"Yes," said the deputy on duty.

"Was he with some other students?"

"Yes."

"Well, how is he?"

"It was a fatal," the deputy said simply.

The father dropped his head on a desk and sobbed. Then he recovered to ask how many were in the accident. With the answer he broke down again.

Arrest Woman on Drug Count

A Flint woman, 17, yesterday was arrested at her home and brought here to face possible charges in an alleged drug conspiracy revealed Thursday.

Tina Bailey is being held for investigation in Oakland County Jail. Lt. William F. Nesbitt said there is a "Mary Roe" warrant for her arrest.

Thirteen others, including two women, also are held in jail under $10,000 bonds each, pending examination May 21 before Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Miss Bailey may be arraigned before Finnegan today or Monday, Nesbitt said. He added that her arrest had no connection with a drug investigation currently under way in Flint.

Law agencies throughout the state have been alerted to apprehend eight others named in the conspiracy to violate state narcotics laws, Nesbitt said.

Pontiac Deaths

Kenneth Dale Fisher

Prayer service will be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday in the Huntoon Funeral Home for Kenneth Dale Fisher, infant son of Edward and Nancy Proffitt Fisher of 213 Parkdale Ave. Burial will be in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery.

Besides his mother and father, Kenneth is survived by a brother, Duane at home.

He was born Thursday afternoon in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and died there Thursday night.

Frederick W. Stockman

Frederick W. Stockman, 81, of 177 S. Jessie St. died early this morning in Pontiac General Hospital after several months of illness.

Born in Illinois Sept. 15, 1874, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stockman. On April 7, 1907, he was married in Illinois to Carrie E. Cox.

Mr. Stockman, a carpenter, came to Pontiac two years ago from Oxford where he had made his home for 31 years. He was a member of St. Trinity Lutheran Church of Pontiac.

Other survivors are three sisters, Mrs. Mary Morrison of Oxford, Mrs. Minnie Reckman and Mrs. Emma Langendorf, both of Illinois.

Service will be at 11 a.m. Monday from the Bossardet-Mabley Funeral Chapel with the Rev. G. E. Behnke of Holy Cross Church officiating. Burial will be in Oxford Cemetery.

Brady Wainwright

Brady Wainwright, 52, of 197 Sanderson St. died yesterday morning in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He had been in ill health one year.

He was born in Senath, Mo. Feb. 11, 1904, the son of Ervin and Bertha L. Wainwright.

An employe of Pontiac Motor Division, he had been a resident of Pontiac seven years, coming here from Senath.

Besides his mother, Mrs. Bertha Stone of Concord, Ark., he is survived by four children, Nola Jean, Joe Wayne, Carl James and Kenneth Wainwright, all at home.

Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Spears of Flint, Mrs. Syble Waldron and Mrs. Eramae Kebschull, both of Benton Harbor.

A prayer service will be held at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in the Pursley Funeral Home with the Rev. George D. Murphy of the First United Missionary Church officiating. Mr. Wainwright's body will then be taken to the McDaniel Funeral Home in Senath for service and burial in the Lulu Cemetery in Dunklin County, Mo.

The Day in Birmingham

Medical, Dental Building Rises on Cranbrook Road

BIRMINGHAM—A new medical, dental and professional building is being erected at the northeast corner of Cranbrook and West Maple Roads in Bloomfield Township.

Dr. Cora B. Crego, a Detroit dentist, is listed as owner of the building. Contracting firm is the A. N. Hixon, Inc., of Detroit, and architect is Detroiter Carl Habermas.

A Colonial exterior of red brick with white wood trim and aluminum windows is planned for the three story structure. A circular driveway will provide access to the building's front entrance from both Maple and Cranbrook.

Ample parking will be at the north and east and depressed so that entrance will be to the lower level offices.

Plans are incomplete for certain mechanical plans, but the cost will be about one half million dollars, a contracting firm spokesman said.

Completion is expected in November. Ground was broken for the project last week.

DR. FRANK D. SLUTZ

Dr. Frank D. Slutz of Dayton, Ohio, will be speaker at a joint meeting of the Bloomfield Hills Parent-Teacher Organizations at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday at Bloomfield Hills High School auditorium. An 8 p.m. reception will precede the program.

Speaking on "The Child's Bill of Rights," Dr. Slutz, educator and author, is appearing in the Birmingham area for the third time this year.

Supt. of Schools Eugene L. Johnson and Board of Education Chairman Merrill O. Bates will talk of future plans in the school district.

Nancy M. Robson

Nancy M. Robson, 19, 330 Cranbrook Cross Rd., a sophomore at the University of Michigan, was dead on arrival at the U. of M. Hospital last night after being involved in a collision on U.S. 12, near Ann Arbor.

She was the daughter of Mrs. Gordon Jonas and the late Donald Robson, the niece of Margaret Robson of Bowling Green, Ohio, and Mrs. Roy McCornack of Rochester, also Howard V. Snyder of Birmingham.

Group Seeks to Establish Goodwill Factory in Area

A movement to provide employment opportunities for the area's physically - handicapped through Goodwill Industries was launched this week by a civic study committee of the Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council.

Headed by Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, the group will seek to establish a plant in Pontiac which will employ the handicapped in the reconditioning and sale of used household items contributed by area residents.

First step in the drive will be to set up a retail outlet store in the city at which Goodwill materials processed in Detroit will be sold. The group will later add a collecting station and ultimately a factory, Dr. LaCore said.

The store is expected to be in operation by fall, provided the committee is able to obtain a store, either through rent or donation, Dr. LaCore added.

More than 200 physically-handicapped persons in the area have already been listed by the committee as potential employes, the chairman said, and many others would be likewise eligible.

The local plant would be similar to Detroit's whose 591 employes recondition and sell used clothing, furniture, toys and household appliances. Goodwill Industries is entirely self-supporting.

Members of the study committee, besides Dr. LaCore, include Dr. Erwin E. Gordon, James Spence, Wayne Gabert, Ralph Norvell, Leslie Dean, Sr., Lawrence Payne, Mrs. Anita Wright, Rabbi Sanford Saperstein, John Riley, Fred Haggard, Theodore Wiersma, James Dudley and Fred Hansas.

Subcommittees comprising up to 100 area residents will be invited to join subcommittees, Dr. LaCore said.

A GAME AMONG THE STARS — 6
Trip Into Outer Space

Probably the best known star is Polaris, or the North Star, at the end of the Little Bear's tail. For many ages sailors have used it to help guide their ships.

Now that you know something of the constellations and the stars in them, here is a game to send you cruising around on a tour among the stars and back to earth again.

Color the picture and paste it on firm cardboard. Make the sky deep blue, and the stars a clear yellow with orange centers in the numbered ones. Leave the small stars white, or color them light blue or pink.

Two persons can play. Each should have a small button or bead, preferably of differing colors for use as a marker. Toss a penny for moves. Heads means two moves, tails means one. Move your marker from earth through 1 to 39 in order, stopping at the orange stars. Your toss must carry you exactly onto any star you plan to visit, otherwise you must wait out in space for your next turn. The first space traveler back to earth is the winner.

Remnants of Coral Reefs Dot Michigan Shorelines

The following story, describing a little known aspect of Michigan's geography, was written for the Associated Press by Olbert Goodwin of the Michigan State University geology department staff.)

* * *

Northern Michigan has a reputation for short cool summers and long icy winters.

Yet remnants of extensive coral reefs are found in several areas of northern Michigan — giving geologists an intriguing phenomenon to think about.

"It's quite obvious that Michigan once held shallow salt waters which were warmed enough by the sun to allow the formation of coral reefs," said Dr. William A. Kelly, professor of geology at Michigan State University. "Corals will not grow unless these conditions are present."

STILL PRESENT IN STATE

Old coral reefs and biostromes (blanket formations) are known to be present in many areas of Michigan, but they are particularly evident in such areas as De Tour near Drummond Island and near Alpena, where vacationers can pick up handsful of coral. They have been uncovered in mounds of up to 15 feet.

* * *

"The reefs are porous jumbles of the remains of organisms," Dr. Kelly pointed out, "with a low center of gravity. Both salt water and oil can collect in them because they are so porous."

Dr. Bennett T. Sandefur, acting head of the MSU geology department, relates an interesting theory about the formation of northern coral reefs—some of them found as far north as Iceland.

"During the Silurian period—300 to 400 million years ago when reef building began—world water levels were up from their present beaches," he said.

"It's possible that the warm waters of the gulf stream were diverted from their present channels and flowed right up the middle of eastern United States through Michigan and surrounding areas. That would have resulted in the right reef-building conditions."

Tax Jury Finds Guilty Verdict

Mrs. Dodson Sentence Due June 4 for Income Report Evasion

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Hattie Freeman Dodson, 46, congressional secretary for Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY), yesterday was convicted of income tax evasion.

* * *

sentencing for June 4. Mrs. Dodson faces a maximum of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine on each of the counts. Pending sentencing, Mrs. Dodson was freed in $500 bail.

DID NOT TESTIFY

She was accused of cheating the government out of $5,000 in income taes from 1948 to 1952, of collecting $2,000 in illegal refunds and of claiming nonexistent dependents on her tax returns.

Joseph E. Ford, tax consultant and former campaign manager for Powell, testified Mrs. Dodson told him she kicked back her congressional salary to Powell.

* * *

Mrs. Dodson, who did not testify during the two-week trial, is business secretary at the Abyssinian Baptist Church in Harlem, where Powell is pastor. Both are Negoes.

Customs Blocks Shipment of Army Trucks to Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. customs officers have blocked shipment of 21 military vehicles to Israel on grounds they were not covered by an export license issued for spare parts.

State Department press officer Lincoln White disclosed yesterday the half tracks were taken off an Israeli freighter in New York Harbor a week ago Thursday. He said theship sailed the next day.

* * *

According to White, customs officials found there was no valid export license covering the vehicles. He said Israel purchasing authorities had an export license for half track spare parts, not for whole vehicles. White said he saw nothing dishonest in the situation, but he declined to express any opinion when asked whether it was "illegal" or involved "attempted smuggling."

EMBASSY ISSUES REPORT

The Israeli Embassy issued a statement late last night saying that "On May 11 shippers commissioned by the Israel government loaded certain surplus vehicles destined to be used in Israel as spare parts."

The embassy said the shipment was made against a license from the State Department's munitions control division "for spare parts in the amount of $150,000."

The Israeli statement said that when the embassy learned the customs officials held the license "could not technically apply" to the half tracks "instructions were immediately issued to the shippers to comply with the ruling and to unload the stores in question."

* * *

"The shippers have been instructed to apply the license to other articles which the customs recognize as spare parts," the statement added.

White said Israel has applied for licenses to ship fully assembled half tracks. He said this request has not been acted on.

Difficulty in collecting taxes on radio sets in use has led Syria to raise its import duty.

City's Police Join War on Dangerous Drivers

Safety conscious citizens will applaud Police Chief Straley's action in joining the statewide campaign to clear Michigan roads of dangerous drivers.

The crusade was launched against the background of our alarming and ever mounting traffic toll. For this purpose participating Police and Sheriff's departments have been supplied with special forms on which to report all such offenders.

Habitual speeders and reckless drivers will be cited on these forms. Most of them, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare, will be called to his Lansing office for license re-examination. He expects many of them will lose their licenses for 30 days or longer.

Chief Straley is to be commended for the promptness with which he ordered his department to participate in this crusade. We believe there will be general agreement with his statement that "it is time all drivers recognized that a license to drive is not a license to kill."

★ ★ ★

That, in fact, is one of the objectives of the crackdown — to impress all motorists with the true value of a driving license. Be sure you so conduct yourself that you won't lose yours.

Soviet Workers Regain Right to Give Up Jobs

Russian workers who have few rights at best have just regained one they lost 16 years ago—the right to quit their jobs.

Undeniably this is a step forward in a land which long has proclaimed itself a dictatorship of the proletariat, but which actually is a ruthless police state. The government's decree annuls a law adopted in 1940 as a stern war measure.

The effect of that law was to take from workers in the USSR a right enjoyed by employes in all free lands. Under it Russians who left their jobs without their employers' permission could be sentenced to prison.

No statistics are available as to how many Russians were imprisoned. It is worth noting, however, that the repeal decree provides for release of those now imprisoned for this offense.

★ ★ ★

Restoration of this basic right, however, falls far short of making the USSR a worker's paradise. Russian unions are company unions whose principal task is to speed up production. Members can't strike and have no collective bargaining rights. Wages, working conditions and other issues are fixed by the government alone.

★ ★ ★

For years Communists in this country have been denouncing America for exploitation of workers. As far as we know, however, there is no record of any home front Reds protesting this 16 year old law or any other violation of Soviet workers' basic rights.

Raab's Coalition Wins

One of the results of this conservative victory was to increase the margin of Raab's People's Party over the Socialists, the other party in the coalition, from one to seven seats. The extreme Rightist Freedom Party lost ground, its 14 seats being reduced to five. The Communists emerged from the election with only three seats, the fewest since World War II.

The overwhelming extent of the coalition victory is indicated by the fact that it polled 88 per cent of the total vote. The Nazi Freedom Party which favored a new Anchluss to Germany, got only six per cent and the Communists, four per cent.

It is worth noting that the major issues before the voters actually had little to do with ideologies. The coalition parties are moderate and have been divided principally on domestic affairs.

The Socialists wanted to nationalize the oil fields, the second largest of Europe, and certain other industries. The People's Party favored a plan which would give the state a controlling interest while preserving a role for private enterprise.

Clearly the voters have rejected the Russian "new look" propaganda for a "united front" of Socialists and Communists. At the same time they voted against nationalization of industry and in favor of private enterprise in the form of capitalism on the American model.

Soon we'll have planes that will have disappeared in the west by time we hear them approaching in the east.

Williams Picks Vigorous Political 'Comers'

By ROGER LANE

LANSING — The continuing vitality of the Williams dynasty in Michigan was demonstrated this week in a round of appointments made by the governor to key governmental positions.

The appointees all were comparatively young, vigorous and rising stars in the Democratic firmament.

Whatever might be said about them, they clearly were not in the class of political "retreads" of the sort that often are trotted out in such cases by a regime in uninterrupted power for nearly eight years.

Although Circuit Judge George Edwards, elevated Tuesday from the Wayne County circuit bench to the State Supreme Court, was beaten for Detroit mayor in 1949, none of the three can be classed as the hack, or defeated candidate type.

★ ★ ★

Edwards four times won election to the Common Council in Detroit, twice leading the ticket — including one occasion when he was elected in absentia while serving with the armed forces.

OK'D BY VOTERS

And although in the first instance he owed all three of his judicial posts to appointments by the governor, Edwards successfully faced the voters to hold on, initially as probate and then as circuit judge.

★ ★ ★

Edwards is 41. At this age, he will be the youngest man ever to occupy a place on the state's highest court.

Aud. Gen. Victor Targonski, named to replace him on the Circuit Court, is 42. Frank S. Szymanski, picked to take up the reigns Targonski will relinquish, is only 33.

Of the elected members of the Williams team, Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart is 43, Secretary of State James H. Hare, 45; Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, 46; and State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, 47. Williams himself recently observed his 45th birthday.

BEST ILLUSTRATION

The governor's willingness to reach out and tap a younger man was best illustrated in this week's appointment of Szymanski.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps thought of by many persons as an ex-football star for the University of Notre Dame and the Detroit Lions, Szymanski nevertheless has other important claims to recognition.

For five years now, he has been acquiring experience as an attorney. In addition, he is active in two businesses and in local political, religious and civic groups. In short, he looks like a "comer" in politics.

Respecting the judicial appointments, it should not be overlooked that their influence might be felt long after Williams has left the Michigan political scene.

To some extent, then, the impress of the Williams philosophy may be felt for a long time, whatever the fortunes of the governor may turn out to be.

Days of All Faiths

It Was on Jewish Feast of Pentecost That Christian Church Had Beginning

BY DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

It was on the Jewish Feast of Pentecost, the 50th day after Passover, that the Christian Church began. Most Christian bodies still call the day by its ancient Jewish name, although Angelicans (Episcopalians) have their own name for it: Whitsunday.

What happened on this day is recorded by St. Luke in the second chapter of the Book of Acts. The Holy Spirit came upon the Apostles with fire and the sound of a rushing mighty wind, and they immediately hurried to the Temple and began to preach about the Risen Christ. Three thousand persons clamored for Baptism, and the Christian Church had become a reality. This was the birthday of organized Christianity.

St. Luke, throughout the rest of the Acts, makes this day the key to the whole story of how the Gospel spread across the world. And it was indeed the turning point, for whatever we may mean by "the coming of the Holy Ghost" (and there are various interpretations) there can be no doubt that it changed the Apostles from a frightened little group, huddled in an upstairs room in Jerusalem, into a bold company who recklessly charged out at the risk of their lives and carried the Christian message boldly—even defiantly—to all within earshot.

BIRTHDAY OF JUDAISM

There is a significance, often overlooked, in the fact that this new beginning took place on the day of Pentecost, for it was also on this day, centuries earlier, that the Jewish religious community had its formal foundation. This was the day on which Moses, standing on the smoky top of the volcano, Mt. Sinai, had received the Law, and Israel had become a nation apart to carry out a divine mission.

St. Luke saw here that the Old Covenant, given in the wind and fire of the volcanic mountain top, was now superseded by a New Covenant, given amdist the same awe-inspiring display of flame and the wind's ghostly, invisible power.

Here, too, was the fulfillment of the Baptist's prediction, recorded in Luke, chapter 3, verse 16, that the One who would come after John would baptize with the Holy Ghost and with fire.

From a purely practical standpoint, this was an excellent time to get wide circulation for anything one might have to say in Jerusalem. The city was full of pilgrims who were in town for the Pentecost holiday. Any new idea presented to them would be sure to spread with them as they returned to their home territories.

The British name for this day, Whit or White Sunday, comes from the white garments that were worn on Pentecost by the newly baptized. The day before Easter was traditionally the time for many new Christians arrayed in white robes to be baptized, but in England's northern climate it was much too cold for such a ceremony at Easter. They therefore waited until the weather was mild-er and held their baptismal services on Pentecost.

EMBER DAYS

Four times a year, at the beginning of each of the natural seasons, come the Ember Days. These are three days of fasting, always the Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday of the weeks following respectively the first Sunday in Lent, the day of Pentecost, September 14, and December 13.

The name Ember is a shortening of the Latin Quattmor Tempora, which means "the four seasons." The origin of these days is quite obscure and much debated. Some scholars connect them with the old pagan purification rites that always took place at the seasons of planting, harvest and vintage. Others see in them the old Jewish custom of holding four fasts each year.

The Ember Days have come to be associated, particularly in the Roman Catholic church, with ordinations to the sacred ministry.

Each of the four weeks in which the Ember Days fall is called an Ember Week.

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Every day around here is a Brady day—somersaults, calcium, iodin ration, whole wheat flour ground every morning. I'm a new girl! You bet it works. Many thanks. . . . (D. K. C.)

Answer—Thank you, Ma'am. For the pamphlet Wheat to Eat, send stamped, self-addressed envelope, and expect no reply if you do not sign your request.

Several years ago an article on injection treatment of hernia in your column gave me the first inkling of the possibility of cure without a major operation. I wrote you and you recommended Dr. ———. He treated me and I have had no recurrence. (L. B. C.)

Answer—Your doctor has had great success with the ambulant treatment, although it fails in some cases, though not so often as the radical operation fails. I believe, Pamphlet on "Hernia" available on request — enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

What food value has escarole? (Miss K. K. A.)

Answer—It is also called endives, French endives, and chicory greens. It is one of the richest sources of carotene (provitamin A) which is the vegetable form of the substance the animal body converts into vitamin A. Escarole is also a good source of vitamin C, calcium, and iron. Besides, it is appetizing as a salad.

Two years ago you gave a recipe for a corn remedy, which I had made up and used—it was terrific, removed my corns as nothing else ever had — but I've misplaced the recipe . . . (T. C.)

Answer—Paint corn or callus (never bunion) once daily for a week or so with salicylated collodon—solution of thirty grains of salicylic acid in one-half fluid ounce of flexible collodion. The prevention of corns and calluses is given in Little Lesson No. 11, Care of the Feet, for which send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

I am 80 and would like to prolong my life, if you will let me know how to roll my own. (G. M.)

Answer—Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for invitation to the Somersaulttaqua. The pamphlet tells how and why everyone not cripple or infirm should do half a dozen forward rolls every morning — somersaults, as I called 'em for many years. But remember, if you do roll 'em it is at your own peril.

We have 3 children, 4, 2 and 8 months, all delivered naturally, following Grantly Dick Read method, rooming-in and breast feeding. My husband and I are looking forward to more children . . . (Mrs. A. E. P., Jr.)

Answer—Thank you. Rooming-in means that the husband not only remains with his wife during the birth of their baby but spends many hours with her after the baby is born, helping in care of the baby and learning how to keep the baby happy when they take the baby home. If your home is not fit to have a baby in, or if the doctors in your community are exclusively nineteenth century, the rooming-in is infinitely preferable to being regimented, patronized, and pushed around in an institution with star chamber delivery room and plate glass covered window effects. Send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson 4, Preparing for Maternity, a primer for husband and wife to study together.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Says You Can Separate Leader From Group by Campus Cigarette Test

Would you classify Iren's parents as of the "domineering" or the "persuasive" type? Many teenagers kick over the traces at college because their previous moral behavior was a reflection of parental dictation rather than their own personal decision. So try the new "cigaret test" on college youth. It soon weeds out leaders from sheeplike followers.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-360: Irene L., aged 18 is a college freshman.

"Dr. Crane, Irene has gone wild since she entered college," her faculty adviser informed me.

"I understand she came from a splendid family where morals were stressed and liquor was taboo.

★ ★ ★

"But here on the campus she has kicked over the traces alarmingly. Why do teenagers from good homes often violate the precepts which their parents have taught them?"

WILD OATS

Many factors are involved, but one basic question to ask is this:

"Was the college student intimidated at home by dominant parents who forced sobriety upon her?

"Or did she shun liquor, tobacco and wild parties in high school because she herself logically disapproved them?"

When you see girls smoking cigarettes on campus, it often means their parental training was of the "domineering" instead of the "persuasive" sort.

If, however, your children refrain from liquor and tobacco on the campus, it generally means they were self-reliant personalities even at high school.

★ ★ ★

CIGARETTE TEST

Employ this new cigarette test, therefore, and you can make shrewd guesses as to the family background of young folks.

Repressed, overly dominated teenagers kick over the traces

There is also a tremendous amount of unwise advertising pressure exerted on college youth to stampede them for commercial purposes into smoking and drinking.

The advertisers have long tried to make it seem "smart" and sophisticated to suck on cigarettes.

So teenagers who come from small towns and villages are often afflicted with a "small town" inferiority complex.

They thing it is a disgrace to confess a village background. So they avidly guzzle liquor and suck on cigarettes in the mistaken notion that this makes people think they are from New York City, Chicago, or some other big city.

Besides, the power of mob psychology is tremendous. If 10 men or women accept cigarettes or liquor at a party and you are No. 11, when they are finally offered to you, the tendency is to follow the crowd.

It takes a very self-reliant, independent type of personality to resist such group pressure.

So discuss this situation in Sunday school. Ask the students what they think they will do when confronted by the dilemma just described where the first 10 accept cigarettes and they are No. 11.

Will they decline with a shake of the head? Or will they react like timid sheep and follow the leader?

There are two types of personality—the leaders and the followers.

The campus cigarette test will weed them out fast. Followers are sheeplike. They adopt stupid, medically unwise habits, because they are afraid to stand out.

Leaders stand out anywhere. But you must prepare youth for these crucial dilemmas, and strengthen them psychologically far in advance.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'Economic System Should Benefit All Its Members'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

This is not an attack on Mr. Curtice. He is a victim of what our age and times have done to him.

In spite of the great increase during the last few years of General Motors capital structure and efficiency, he is forced to come up with the puny boast that "this year will be the third best production year." This at a time when it has been conservatively estimated that the economy should expand four per cent a year.

It appears much print is misused in idolizing and accentuating the vaunted intellects of our "great men. However, is such fully the case?

Granting these men are not idiots, even their greatness; it is a valid assumption that the existing economic organization (capital) is subservient to a private interest—private profit, in the service of which the full fruition of their powers and talents in behalf of society is blocked.

In a society of potential abundance, the criterion of its worth in human terms is not to be guaged by the "success" of an ever dwindling number of "recognized" men, as formerly in an age of scarcity, but by what it can contribute toward the economic equality, moral well-being and general happiness of all its members.

Republicans Ready to Rip Dem-Controlled Congress

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) —This 84th Congress, run by the Democrats, is setting no speed record. Unless it gets a move on, you'll hear a lot about it from the Republicans in the campaign.

Republicans still smart from President Truman's attacks on what he called the 80th "do-nothing" Congress in 1948. They were running it then. They'll be happy to reply in kind this year if the Democrats give them a chance.

As a sign of things to look for: President Eisenhower was critical of this 84th Congress when it finished its first session last summer. It's done less so far in this session. It still has a couple of months to go.

In this session Congress has passed only four pieces of major legislation and Eisenhower vetoed two of them: the farm bill and a bill to take direct federal control off the prices natural gas producers could charge.

The other two: present corporation and excise tax levels were continued for another year; construction of a 760-million-dollar system of power dams and irrigation projects in the upper Colorado River area was authorized.

HIGHWAY BILL OK'D

The Senate last year, and the House this year, have approved highway program bills. But they differ. There can be no final action till both houses agree.

Last year the 84th Congress passed a lot of legislation which the Democrats said was good, no matter how Eisenhower felt about it.

This was the record in 1955:

The reciprocal trade program was continued another three years; the small business administration was continued for two years; the military draft law was extended; corporation and excise taxes were continued a year.

★ ★ ★

The first session also gave Eisenhower a free hand in defending Formosa, passed a new military reserve program he wanted, boosted the national debt limit, raised the minimum wage for workers in interstate commerce from 75 cents to $1 an hour, and raised the pay of most people working for the government, including judges and members of Congress.

TREATIES RATIFIED

The Senate last year ratified three major treaties; mutual assistance for the defense of Formosa, bringing West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and Austrian independence.

Nuptial Rite Held Today at St. Luke Church, Flint

MRS. RAYMOND MOORMAN

A gown of imported Duopioni silk was worn by Priscilla Latendresse for her marriage to Raymond Moorman. The 10 o'clock Nuptial Mass was read today in St. Luke Church of Flint by the Rev. John Sullivan.

* * *

Priscilla, of South Jessie street, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Latendresse of Balsam Lake, Wis. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Moorman of Flint.

Her headpiece was a small cap of Alencon lace accented with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

* * *

The evening reception was held in the Flint American Legion Hall. Mrs. Latendress greeted her guests wearing a blue nylon lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Moorman wore a blue linen sheath dress with powder blue accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

For their wedding trip to the midwest, the new Mrs. Moorman changed to a blue cotton knit dress with beige accessories. She wore the corsage of pink roses from her bridal bouquet. The couple will reside in Flint on their return.

* * *

Ask Son's Ex-Fiancee for Present

Girl Should Return Valued Tablecloth and Napkins

By EMILY POST

A mother writes me as follows: "My son's fiancee has recently broken their engagement and I am told she is going to marry another man. About a year ago I gave her a very beautiful hand-embroidered tablecloth and matching napkins that are really a work of art.

"This naturally was to be used in their future home. She has made no attempt to return this gift and I would like very much to have it back since it is of considerable value. Would it be proper to write her a note asking her to return it?"

Answer: It would be entirely proper for you to write her a note and ask for the return of this particular present, because you gave it to her for use in your son's future home.

"Dear Mrs. Post: We are expecting our first baby soon. Three very dear friends of ours have hinted that they would like to be the baby's godparents. So that there won't be any hard feelings, would it be proper to have three godparents for our expected baby?"

Answer: I can't answer for all denominations, but in some churches it is quite usual to have three godparents—two godmothers and one godfather for a girl and two godfathers and one godmother for a boy.

'Dear Mrs. Post: Recently one of the girls in our office was married and four other young women and myself chipped in and bought her a very nice wedding present. In return she wrote a blanket thank-you note addressed to one of the girls.

"My own reaction to this was she thought the present too insignificant to send us each a note and I feel very slighted over it. Don't you think she should have written us each a note?"

Answer: I think five notes for one present is expecting too much. One note thanking all of you was sufficient.

Neighbors Gather

The Loyal Neighbors Club of Going Street met Thursday evening with Mrs. Albert Brewster. Assisting her were Mrs. James Binning and Mrs. Esther Seaton. The birthdays of Mrs. George Thompson and Mrs. Earl Peterson were celebrated.

Husband Objects to Bulging Calves

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Please help me take something off of my calves. They bulge a bit. I am a farm housewife and I think my calves have been overdeveloped by pushing lawnmowers, wheelbarrows and so forth. Some of it, of course, is fat. Please help me since the head of the house doesn't like it!"

A. Well, if the head of the house doesn't like it we must do something about it. From the history you give me I guess that at least a large part of your overlarge calves comes from muscular development.

However, you did not give me your height and weight, which makes me suspicious. Are you overweight? If you are you must know that a general loss of weight will lessen the measurement of your calves.

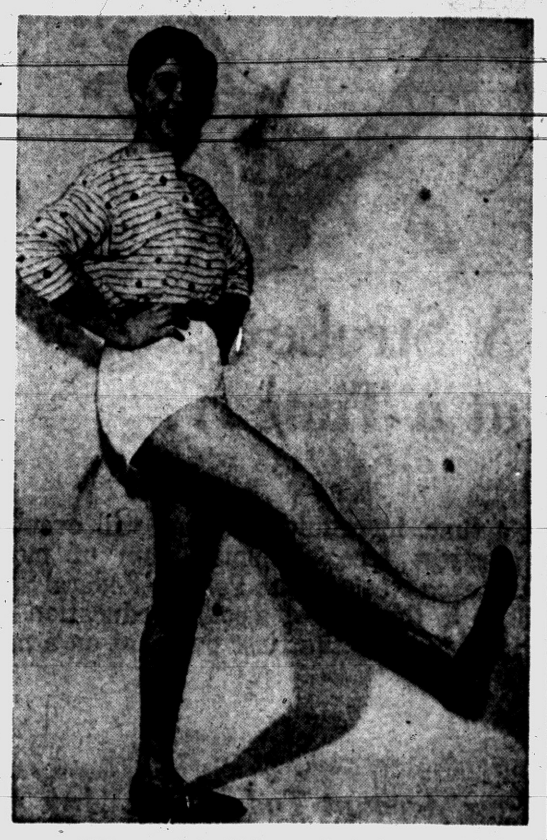

Here is an exercise which will be helpful in any case. Stand tall. Swing your right leg forward-upward as far as comfortable. As you do so pull the toe of the right foot back toward you. Swing leg back to place and return foot to floor. Continue. After a while do the same thing with your left leg and foot.

* * *

Q. "I hope you can help me. I have become so tense lately. I have heard that there is such a thing as relaxing exercises. Is this true?"

A. When we are tense we actually have residual tenseness in our muscles. Exercise is a great help, especially the stretching exercises. Lie on your bed and stretch in every direction, from your toes to your fingertips, sideways and back. Do this very slowly and lazily. A big yawn or two will help you do this correctly.

Then stand erect with your feet separated. Let your trunk and head drop downward as you bend your trunk forward.

This exercise will lessen the measurement of your calves.

Slowly lift the trunk and raise your arms sideward, shoulder height, palms facing forward. Pull back a little with your arms. Continue.

Now add this: Exhale as you lower your trunk forward and inhale deeply as you raise your trunk. Do all of this very slowly, in a relaxed manner.

* * *

Q. "I have a faint mustache and was wondering if I could use a hair remover on it. Would that make it grow back heavier, or would it grow back the same way?"

A. There are several depilatories designed especially for facial hair. They will not make the hair grow back heavier but just as it was.

Princess Creation Voted 'Most Likely to Succeed'

This interpretation of the princess silhouette by Margot McClintock is slated for success whether it comes off your sewing machine in white pique, sharkskin, linen or dobby weave cotton as one of the prettiest graduation dresses ever, or in a variety of other fabrics and colors as a dress to live in all summer long.

* * *

Based on long gores with the side ones shaped to form the tiny shoulder caps, it features a set-in yoke, notched just above the false pocket welts.

Buttoned to below the hipbone, it is as easy to step in as it is to make, particularly since the pattern is cut with retail sizing measurements and open perforations that preserve the tissue for future use.

Other suggestions for material are: Gingham, chambray, shantung, taffeta, seersucker, novelty widths in either silk or cotton.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
10	34	24	35	16½
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼
18	40	30	41	17½

To order Pattern 1363, state size, enclose $1. Airmail handling requires 25 cents extra. Address American Designer Patterns, P. O Box 535, G.P.O. Dept. P-6, New York 1, N.Y.

The 144 page Pattern Booklet XII costs 50 cents. If paid by check add four cents.

Reflections

Scores of Friends Were Found

J. E. VOORHEES

Though we think we're far removed from disaster, and I hope we are, the fact remains there are more people killed in the United States from wind, hail and lightning than were killed in Korea. It is comforting to know there are men in Pontiac (we call them Radio Hams) who would function at a moment's notice to bring relief.

M. E. SIPLE

Recently, hundreds of these amateurs set up their instruments in fields and on hilltops, and carried on in the great catastrophe around us. It is amazing the number of men who talked from the far corners of the country, who in time of need, would relay our distress to the outside when relief would have to come quickly and surely.

Members of the Radio Club have a hobby—short wave. That hobby would be the bridge to friends, succor, and materials to rebuild the city we love.

Army Planning Cut in Manpower Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army told Congress today it plans to cut its manpower strength by about 5 per cent in the next fiscal year.

* * *

Maj. Gen. William S. Lawton, chief of the Army comptroller's office budget division, said this will mean an average strength of 1,034,100 in the yea r beginning July 1.

* * *

The committee is considering the Army's request for $3,600,000,000 in fiscal 1957.

Degrading Stalin Article Released for Young Reds

MOSCOW (AP) — Komsomol Pravda published today "A Children's Guide to Stalinism," one of the frankest articles yet in the campaign to downgrade the dead Soviet boss. It included mention that V. I. Lenin warned the Communist party just before his death against Stalin.

* * *

The paper, organ of the Communist Youth League, said:

"Lenin, in the last year of his life, pointed out that such negative features of Stalin's character as rudeness, lack of respect for working comrades, capriciousness and inclination toward abuse of power could lead to a violation of the rules of collective leadership. Unfortunately it happened so."

* * *

(Lenin's judgments of Stalin were first published in Pravda, organ of the Communist party, in 1927, during a hot fight between Stalin and Leon Trotsky, his old foe, who was chopped down by an assassin in Mexico years later. Today's publication, of course, will be new to most Soviet readers since Lenin's anti-Stalin statements were not published, in the Soviet Union during the last decades of Stalin's dictatorship.)

Komsomol Pravda said today's guide was published in response to letters from children asking what was the harm in the Stalin cult of personality.

EXPLAINS BLUNDERS

It explained that Stalin had done much during the revolution, during the struggle against Nikolai Bukharin and Trotsky to win "popularity with the people and support of the party but gradually this trust and respect was transformed into adoration of Stalin and the cult of his personality . . . all the greatest victories were achieved owing to the persistence, labor and heroism of millions of the Soviet people, but in our propaganda—papers, magazines and films—all were explained by his personal merits. Stalin himself did not object but on the contrary supported and encouraged this glorification in every possible way. Many books, films and paintings were made which praised J. V. Stalin to the skies."

* * *

It appeared the article had to be strong since the children at whom it was aimed have been that section of society most thoroughly indoctrinated with Stalinism.

Soviets to Set Up Tourist Agency in United States

NEW YORK (AP) — Russia has made its first move toward setting up an official travel agency to promote touring to the Soviet Union.

* * *

Valentin Spiridonov, of Intourist the Russian tourist agency, arrived by plane yesterday — the first agency official to enter the United States since 1939.

* * *

Through an interpreter, Spiridonov said he hopes to set up an Intourist office here and to arrange "package" tours in Russia for groups.

* * *

The Rev. William H. Bell of New Bethel Baptist will speak Thursday with his congregation coming as guests.

The Mt. Zion Baptists of Ecorse will be present Friday evening with their pastor, the Rev. E. I. Todd preaching the sermon.

Choirs and ushers of each visiting church will serve on the night when their pastor is conducting the service. Evening meetings will begin at 8 p.m. The Rev. T. Walter Harris is the minister at Providence.

'Season of Fruits' Is Sermon Subject

The Unity Center of Oakland County announces the regular Sunday morning service will be held in the church rooms at 71½ N. Saginaw St.

Mrs. Blanche Joki of Algonac will speak at 11 o'clock on "The Season of Fruits." Sunday School for children under 12 will be held at the same time.

On Monday evening at 7:30, the third in a series of five lessons on "Pathway of Prayer" will be conducted by Mrs. Joki.

Bible Society Reaching Peak in Distribution

NEW YORK — The total number of volumes of Scriptures distributed throughout the years by the American Bible Society is rapidly approaching the half-billion mark and will be passed early in the Spring of 1957, the society's annual report revealed today.

The society, the most-widely supported Protestant organization in the country, held its 140th annual meeting at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church.

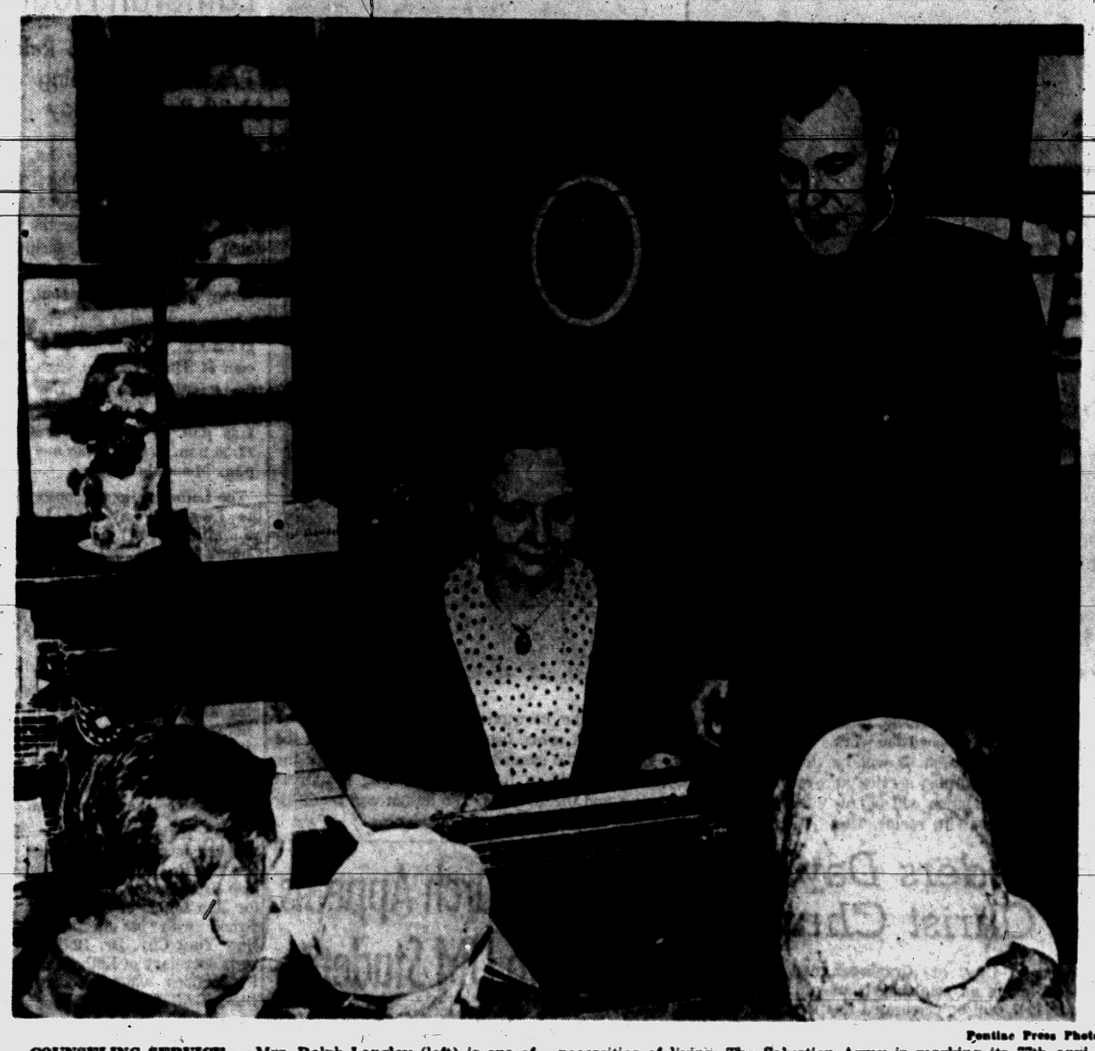

Distribution of Scriptures during 1955 totaled 14,918,353 volumes in the United States and abroad. This, when added to 466,231,012 distributed since 1816, brings the 140-year total to 481,149,365.

Contrasting sharply with the first year, when only 6,410 volumes were distributed, the past six years have never dipped below the ten million mark and have totaled more than 81 millions by themselves.

COUNSELING SERVICE — Mrs. Ralph Langley (left) is one of the many workers who assist Captain Magnus A. Michalsen in the Salvation Army's Family Service Bureau. Counseling and helpful understanding is given anyone who finds himself facing domestic or other troubles. Spiritual help and guidance is given first with the necessities of living. The Salvation Army is marking its 77th anniversary in the United States May 20-27. William Booth, a Methodist minister, founded the organization in England about 1865. The Army was started in the United States in 1879 and in Pontiac in September of 1892.

Salvation Army Marks 77th Year in United States

The drum, a cornet, and the preaching of God's Word on the street corner are familiar symbols of the Salvation Army's evangelistic ministry.

Early in its history, Army leaders discovered that it is necessary to do more than just talk to people about their salvation.

Many who come to the Army bring not only spiritual needs but mental and physical problems.

From the very beginning the persistant purpose of the Salvation Army has been primary emphasis on the Word of God through song, word and deed.

To see the needs of men and women and to do something to meet these needs where and when they occur is still a cardinal principle in their ministry.

The sick, the poverty-stricken, the hungry, the bereaved, the youngster from a broken home, the aged and lonely, the seeker after God, the victim of fire, flood or hurricane—all these are represented in the host of those receiving spiritual and material help the Salvation Army year after year.

To help meet some of those needs, the Salvation Army has established projects around the world.

In Indonesia, Salvation Army officers and workers staff a leper colony. They make close contact with the victims not just to aid their physical suffering, but to tell them of Jesus Christ, their Savior.

In Africa, native teachers are trained in Salvation Army Schools. General hospitals and homes are operated for delinquent children in 85 countries.

Harbor Light Centers of the Army have become beacons of hope for alcoholics of the Skid Rows all across the United States.

The largest home of its kind in the world, the Palais de la Femme, in Paris provides a home away from home at moderate cost to 750 working girls. This is similar to our YWCAs. There are 13 of these homes in the United States but smaller.

In proclaiming the period of May 20-27 as Salvation Army Week, William W. Donaldson, mayor, urged all citizens to give full support and active cooperation that our community may learn of the Salvation Army and its services.

Commissioner Donald McMillan announced that no matter how many people inhabit a city, state or nation and regardless of the size of welfare organizations, the heart of the problem is always the individual.

"That is why, in celebrating National Salvation Army Week this year, we have summarized our work with the pharse, Helping Millions—One by One," he said.

President Asks Nation to Pray for World Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has called on all Americans to join in prayer on Memorial Day, May 30, for "an enduring peace founded on mercy and justice."

* * *

In a proclamation, the President noted that Congress in 1950 passed a resolution providing that Memorial Day annually should be observed as a day of nationwide prayer for permanent peace.

* * *

The President desginated the hour beginning in each locality at 11 a.m. on May 30 "as a period in which we maybe united in humble petition" for divine help in achieving a permanent peace.

Father and Son Banquet Arranged for Tuesday

The Men's Club of the Oakland Park Methodist Church will hold a Father and Son Banquet at 6:30 Tuesday.

Jack Horton, master of ceremonies, will present Ford Everett who will give a toast to the sons and Dave Everett, his son, who is slated to respond with a toast to the fathers.

Howard Shelly, manager of the Oakland County Sportsman's Club, will show the colored picture, "Pine Portage Holiday." The film depicts a father and son trip into northern Canada.

The 400 Salvation Army institutions in the U. S. A. include hospitals, work shops, businesswomen's residences, men's hostelries, children's homes and camps.

Plea for Unity of Nations Set

World Church Council Designates Pentecost for Same Message

The presidents of the World Council of Churches have called upon member churches to "speak to the nations now" in an effort to alleviate world tensions and conflicts.

The plea is made to the organization's 162 communions in the annual message issued for Pentecost Sunday, May 20.

"On this anniversary of the first Pentecost, believers and unbelievers alike are everythere asking 'What shall we do?" the message states. "The nations are divided into hostilt camps. There is no ultimate authority which aal will accept, superior to the interests of the individual state."

The message recommends that the churches remind the nations that "conflicts must be resolved by reason, not by violence . . . that it is neitherby words of anger, nor by insistence on rights, that settlements can be achieved but by spreading of justice and by combining to meet one another's needs, and by relying fon our salvation upon the grace and mercy of God."

Finally, it suggest the churches should recall to the nations "with a greater passion than ever before, that the whole world cries for peace,that they are all members of one family, and the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ is the Father of all."

To Head Mission Group

BROWN CITY (AP)—The United Missionary Society of the United Missionary Church has elected Q. J. Everest of South Bend, Ind., as president. The Evangelical denomination of 13,000 members in the United States and Canada held a three-day board meeting here this week.

The Salvation Army served almost 14,000,000 meals to the hungry during 1955, and gave shelter to 2,473,000 homeless people.

Confident Living

It Is He Who Brings Out the Best That's Within You

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A friend of mine was once lunching with the late Henry Ford. The great automobile manufacturer asked him, "Who's your best friend?"

* * *

My friend started to name some people. But Ford just shook his head and reached into his pocket for a pen.

"No," Ford said, "I'll tell you who your best friend is." And then he took the pen and wrote these words on the tablecloth, "Your best friend is the person who brings out of you the best that is within you."

DR. PEALE

I heard the other day of a charming compliment a man gave his wife on their wedding anniversary. I wish I had thought of it and said it to my own wife. This man told his wife, "I not only love you for what you are, I love you for what I want to be when I am with you."

PEOPLE CAUSE INTERACTION

People can have a great creative effect on each other. We interact with other people and this causes things to happen to us. The great figures of history — Jesus, Moses, Gandhi — possessed to a higher degree this quality of being able to lift people out of themselves and make something better of them.

They did not give people something they did not have before, but their example and their ability to inspire and to appeal to human nature brought out of people the best they had within them.

The times, too, can often bring out the best in us. The more they demand of us, the more we seem able to give. During the darkest days of the American Revolution, Thomas Paine wrote: "These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of their country; but he that stands it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman."

TYRANNY HARD TO CONQUER

Paine said tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph . . .

Each of us is a mixture of good and bad. These forces are often engaged in conflict within us, and indeed we are involved in this struggle throughout our lives. When we employ right thinking, faith, and character to bring out the tremendous potential of good that is within us, we are then filled with pure joy because we have mastered ourselves, and scarcely any happiness equals that.

But, when we settle for our worst, or less than our best, we begin to feel vaguely unworthy and unhappy. Inevitably, we must explain to ourselves why we are not living at our best. We try to justify this fact to ourselves unconsciously by a process called rationalization. By this we mean the impossible effort to make the irrational into a rational concept and to make black appear to be white.

WE LIE TO OURSELVES

In other words, we lie to ourselves. And such lying to oneself causes inner conflict, leaving one pathetically mixed up. Nevertheless, we all try this unhappy process at one time or another.

Fortunately, there is a power which is the best friend of each of us. That power is God.

It is amazing what His creative force can do in bringing the best out of people. God can take a person who is mixed up, in conflict, overcome by his weaknesses, and make him into a well integrated, strong, and effective person. Through a process of personality change, the best in an individual becomes uppermost. Perhaps this is the ultimate meaning of life on earth, to bring out the best within us.

Pontiac Knights to Attend Affair

Cardinal Mercier, Host to Assemblies at Park Shelton Hotel, Detroit

Knights of Columbus Fourth Degree Assemblies comprising the Southern Michigan Hennepin Province district will meet this weekend to further the cause of Catholic action.

* * *

Cardinal Mercier of Hamtramck will be host to this annual affair. All activities will be held at the Park Shelton Hotel, Woodward at Shelton. The session began this afternoon at 2 p.m. A dinner is scheduled for 6:30 this evening.

At 7:30 tomorrow morning, Knights are asked to assemble at the Cardinal Mercier Council Clubrooms in Hamtramck. From there they will march in parade formation to St. Florian Church, Florian and Latham where they will assist at 8:30 Mass and receive Corporate Communion.

Following the service, they will go to the St. Florian Education Center for breakfast.

* * *

Those attending the annual Round-Up from the Pontiac area will be Mr. and Mrs. Tom Yazek, Mr. and Mrs. Amber Gable, John Brownstein, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Landry and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gilson.

Others included in the group will be Mr. and Mrs. Joseph William Donahue, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Perry, the Fred Huots, the Roy Yackleys and Patrick Glynn.

U. S. Clerics to Attend Arab Refugee Parley

An 11-member delegation of the National Council of Churches will meet with church representatives of Great Britain, France and Middle East countries at the international conference on Arab refugee problems May 21-25 at Beriut, Lebanon.

* * *

The conference, jointly sponsored by the International Missionary and the World Council of Churches will be the second of its kind. A similar meeting was held at Beriut in 1951. Since then Church World Service, international relief wing of the National Council, has sent 8,641,564 pounds of emergency food, clothing and other supplies valued at more than $3,680,000 to the Near East and established rehabilitation and self-projects in the area.

Rev. Fred R. Tiffany Presents Subjects

Starting Sunday, the Rev. Fred R. Tiffany will give a series of sermons on "Spiritual Hygiene," in Bethany Baptist Church.

* * *

The following will be his topics: "Natural Laws in a Spiritual World," "What You Think Determines How You Feel," "What You Believe Determines How You Live," "What You Will Determines What You Hear" and "What You Are Today Will be Changed Tomorrow."

The Senior High Group left this morning with Mr. and Mrs. Turris McCully for Algonac State Park for a two-day camp-out.

* * *

The menu and program were planned by members of the group, and they will do their own cooking. Campfire and devotions are listed for tonight.

Following breakfast Sunday, a worship hour will be attended at 10:30.

"God's Long Arm Reached Down to Help Me!"

For almost a lifetime, the woman had stood on the threshold of the Catholic Church—uncertain whether to come in or stay out.

"Seemingly," she says, "I was born loving the Catholic Church." This she attributes to a "small miracle," inasmuch as her parents were not Catholic, or even religious; and "our relatives and friends were none of them Catholics."

As a child, she loved to visit Catholic churches, to light candles and pray the rosary. But as she grew older . . . and tried to evaluate Catholic beliefs on her own limited knowledge, or upon the mistaken opinions of others . . . a "wall of obstacles" kept getting in the way.

In the midst of her confusion and uncertainty, she enrolled for the Knights of Columbus course of Catholic instruction which is given free by mail. And now a Catholic, she says: "I am filled with wonder and gratitude that God's long arm reached down to lift me up so tenderly."

It is unfortunate, but true, that many people seeking knowledge of the Catholic Church encounter a "wall of obstacles" as this woman did. The reason is, usually, that so many of the "facts" they hear about the Catholic Church are not facts at all, but misrepresentations or the fruits of misunderstanding. Even those who admire and respect the Church . . . and who wish to hold for it only sentiments of tolerance and good-will . . . are often confused and deceived.

There is, of course, only one fair and proper way to understand and evaluate Catholic teachings and worship. That is by getting the facts about them from an authentic Catholic source. And that is why the Catholic Church says again and again . . . "INVESTIGATE!"

Maybe, after investigating, you still won't want to share the Catholic reverence for Mary. But you WILL understand it. You will know why and how Catholics obey the Pope. You will understand the Catholic attitude on salvation outside the Church . . . why Catholics use statues and holy water . . . why Catholics say the Mass is truly a Holy Sacrifice.

And now it is so easy to investigate . . . so easy to get the facts . . . without cost, trouble or embarrassment. Just fill out the coupon below and MAIL IT today, and a highly interesting pamphlet will come to you by return mail . . . under plain cover—and nobody will call on you. Just ask for our Free Pamphlet No. KC-7.

CRANBROOK'S CHIEF STONE MASON — Albert Leipold, chief stone mason for 31 years, was photographed as he finished the work on the tympanum over the west door of Christ Church. It will be unveiled tomorrow, Founders Day, following the morning service at 11:15. The six institutions of the Cranbrook Foundation will be rededicated in the service by the Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, rector. The top symbol carved around the inscription is Christianity; at left center is Christ Church coat of arms, two pine cones taken from the coat of arms of the Diocese. The symbols across the bottom are the arts, Buddism; Judaism; American Indian, symbolizing the Great Spirit; Mohammedanism and the sciences. The design was made by Henry S. Booth, youngest son of Cranbrook's founder.

Malay Nurses Visit Villages in Borneo

Three young Chinese Christian nurses, two of them from the Malay Peninsula, are now at work traveling from village to village (or, more correctly, "from longhouse to longhouse"—a whole village of related families living in one vast house) in the Kapit district of Sarawak, Borneo.

Serving there under the Methodist Church they are ministering to the physical needs of the Ibans, or Sea Dyaks, a primitive people who a few decades ago were the famed and the feared head-hunting "wild men of Borneo."

Miss Pearl Lee is nurse at Nanga Mujung, where she is in charge of the Methodist Clinic and itinerates among the longhouse. Miss Wong Yu Tian, Malaya, has recently arrived in Sarawak and is also stationed at Nanga Mujong.

Almost 2,000 released prisoners are paroled annually to The Salvation Army.

Founders Day Will Begin in Christ Church at 11:15

Founders Day at Cranbrook, which became an established custom in 1947, will be celebrated this year on Sunday, May 20.

Day-long observances begin in Christ Church Cranbrook at 11:15 with a Founders Day service conducted by the Rev. Robert L. DeWitt.

Invitational affairs on May 20 include a one o'clock luncheon for officers and board members, with their husbands and wives, at Cranbrook Academy of Art.

At 3 p.m. in Cranbrook House, the posthumus award of a Founders Medal will be given to the Rev. Samuel S. Marquis, associate of the Founders, first Rector of Christ Church, and Rector Emeritus from 1938 until his death in 1948.

* * *

The medal will be accepted by granddaughter of Dr. Marquis and George G. Booth.

Following the Founders custom of honoring the graduating groups of the four schools — Kingswood, Cranbrook, Brookside and the Academy of Art — a Founders Tea will be held at Cranbrook House from three until six, with board members and trustees of the six institutions attending.

Fosdick Writes Hymn for Family Strength

A new hymn, emphasizing the importance of the Christian home and family in the making of a better America and world, has been written by Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, minister-emeritus of Riverside Church, New York.

This is the first hymn from Dr. Fosdick's pen in several years. His earlier texts are in the hymnals of most Protestant churches.

The new hymn, "O God, Who to a Loyal Home," was especially written by Dr. Fosdick for the Hymn Society of America (297 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y.), by which it is copyrighted.

It was designed especially for use in National Family Week—this year May 6 to 13. The society's president, the Rev. Deane Edwards, says that local churches may reproduce the hymn in bulletins, orders of worship, etc., if the hymn is not shortened or changed, and if the society's copyright is noted."

Religion Leaders Attend CD Course in Washington

Religious leaders from throughout the nation will attend a special Civil Defense Staff College course at Federal Civil Defense Administration headquarters May 29 through June 1.

* * *

The four-day Religious Affairs course, first of its kind ever given at FCDA headquarters, will provide clergymen with information on civil defense, and give FCDA an opportunity to receive their advice on the role of the church and synagogue in civil defense.

Among the subjects scheduled for the special course are: Organization for Self-Help in Churches and Institutions, The Church and Civil Defense Education, Christianity and Communism Contrasted, Security for Congregations and Institutions, The Church and Emergency Mass Care, and Spiritual Ministrations in Disaster Situations.

The course will be given a second time this summer, August 7-10, and a third time in the fall, November 27-30.

Church Appeals to UM Students

Response Greater Now Than of Earlier Times, Survey Indicates

ANN ARBOR (AP) — University of Michigan students respond to religion today far more than they did in earlier generations.

* * *

"It is hard to give percentages or figures," Baldwin said, "but we do know from a religious census taken at the beginning of each semester that some 85 per cent of the students indicate a religious preference."

Further, he said, "there is every evidence to support the estimate that between 4,000-5,000 students attend at least one religious service a week."

VALUES RECOGNIZED TODAY

"There have been times," Baldwin said, "when students were antagonistic or indifferent. But today the value of religion is recognized by students and they grant it a real place in life."

* * *

This is not an emotional response to religion, he said. Instead, he felt most students recognize a need for faith through religion.

"The students are aware of feelings of insecurity and they are looking into various areas of study to resolve this feeling," he said. "Science for instance is one area. But it is becoming more and more evident that science does not have all the answers."

There are more than 15 courses available in religion on campus, Baldwin said, and 22 organized religious foundations with their own centers of worship and fellowship.

U.S. Railroads Unique

CHICAGO — More than half the world's railway mileage is Government-owned. The United States is the only country where almost the entire rail network is owned and operated by private companies.

NBC Will Carry 'Lutheran Hour'

Mutual Will Also Relay Program Beginning at 1:30 P. M. Sunday

NEW YORK—On July 1st, the Lutheran Hour, radio's oldest and largest sponsored religious program, will be heard over the National Broadcasting Co. facilities, in addition to its schedule on the Muhual Broadcasting System.

It is anticipated that the program will be cleared on 75 per cent of NBC's stations, excluding the Pacific Ctast leg. The program will be aired on Sundays at 1:30 p.m. in the Eastern Zone, 12:30 p.m. Central Zone and 4:30 p.m. Mountain Zone.

The Lutheran Hour, sponsored by the Lutheran Laymen's League, an affiliate of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, is in its 26th year of broadcasting. Initiated in 1930, the program's first speaker was the Rev. Dr. Walter A. Maier who served in this capacity for twenty years.

The Lutheran Hour now has a world-wide international listening audience. In addition to the networks and independent stations in the United States, the program is heard in 56 languages more than 1250 radio stations in 65 countries and territories.

The regular Lutheran Hour speaker is currently the Rev. Dr. Oswald C. J. Hoffmann, who is also Director of Public Relations for The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod with his headquartes in New York City. Dr. Hoffmann also is secretary of Lutheran Church Productions which produced the film, MARTIN LUTHER.

Youth Advisors Slate Sessions

Workshop, Conference to Be Held at Haven Hill Lodge May 23-24

Haven Hill Lodge in the Highland Recreation Area will be the scene of a Workshop and Conference of Youth Advisers to youth groups of Temples in Michigan and surrounding states.

The sessions will be held on May 23rd and May 24th, and are sponsored by the Michigan State Temple Sisterhoods.

Plans include time for Evening and Morning Devotions, led by the Sisterhood women; free time for individual conferences, and recreation.

The conference was organized by Mrs. Herman Dickstein of Pontiac and Mrs. Marcus Lebster of Flint, State Youth Chairman and Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein, Religious Advisor to Michigan State Temple Youth. Thirty participants from Temples in this area are expected to attend.

Included are the following sessions:

"What Makes Teen-Agers Tick?" led by Dr. Joseph Fishoff, Detroit Psychiatrist who is consultant to the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic.

"Youth Speaks Its Mind", introduced by a panel of young people who are active in Temple Youth work on the State and National level; Rose Ellen Cohan, Lester Lunsky, and Judith Dickstein.

"What's My Problem?", a discussion of typical youth group problems, led by Miss Eleanor Swartz, Associate Director, National Federation of Temple Youth.

There will also be sessions on "Planning A Conclave", led by Mrs. Dickstein and Mrs. Lebster, and "The Basic Goals of a Youth Group" led by Rabbi Saperstein and Miss Schwartz.

Religious Class Always Moving

Sunday School Group Features Traveling for Americans in Jordan

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Americans here belong to a mobile Sunday school class. Each Sabbath morning, 25 to 30 form a convoy of automobiles and travel to the site of the Bible lesson being studied on that particular day. The recently cross the Jordan to visit the remote site of an Essene monastery, where the famous Dead Sea Scrolls were discovered a few years ago.

* * *

Jordan's antiquities director, G. L. Harding, said the Americans represented the biggest foreign invasion of that remote site since Roman legions attacked it 2,000 years ago.

MOUNTAINS SCALED

Some biblical lessons involve strenuous expeditions. To scale the Mount of Temptation—where Satan offered Jesus "all the cities of the earth"—the group had to leave their cars at the foot of the mountain and climb almost 2,000 feet.

At times the trip gets dangerous. The Jordanian rural population generally is friendly and hospitable, but last month the Sunday schoolers nearly got mobbed.

* * *

They went to visit Mt. Nebo, a peak on the desert plateau from where Moses looked across at the Promised Land. On the way to the mountain, the convoy had to pass through Madaba, a town which the day before had been a battleground between two feuding Bedouin tribes. When the Sunday school convoy started back, the road was blocked by a bad-tempered gang of Bedouins armed with clubs and stones.

Churchmen Study Economy of World

PITTSBURGH—The Third National Study Conference on the Church and Economic Life, convened here by the National Council of Churches, proclaimed that American Christians have an impelling duty in this present age of abundance to see that people everywhere share in the fruits of plenty.

* * *

The theme of the four-day meeting was "The Christian Conscience and an Economy of Abundance."

* * *

In a final message, endorsed by the more than four hundred leaders in labor, agriculture, education, the professions, and the churches who attended the conference, Christians were warned that "to the shallow expression 'we never had it so good,' the Christian must reply 'we never had such heavy demand upon the Christian conscience.'"

Episcopalians Name Negro as Archdeacon

BOSTON, Mass. — For the first time in the history of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts, a Negro has been named Archdeacon of Boston. He is the Rev. John M. Burgess, Canon of the National Cathedral in Washington, D. C., and Episcopal chaplain at Howard University since 1946.

* * *

Canon Burgess, who will assume his new duties in June, succeeds the Rt. Rev. Raymond Adams Heron, Suffragan Bishop of Massachusetts from 1938-54, who recently retired.

In his new post, Canon Burgess will supervise the thirteen Episcopal mission churches in the Boston area and administer the work of the Episcopal City Mission there.

Layman Requesting Refugee Safeguards

An official of Church World Service has called for strong safeguards to prevent recurrence of Soviet seamen.

Roland Elliott, New York, refugee immigration director of the National Council of Churches agency, warned that pressures similar to those that led to the seamen's return to Russia one month ago are "already actively in effect in many other case."

He said it was hoped that "very son our Government may make a firm statement of future procedures in such cases in order that thousands of refugees resettled in this country in recent yeras, who feel subject to the same sort of Soviet pressure . . . will be reassured of the full protection of the U. S. Government."

A General Increase

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — More than 100 United States Army generals were on hand for ceremonials honoring the retirement from active service of Lt. Gen. Floyd L. Parks' after 38 years in uniform. In 1930, according to a historian present, there were exactly 65 generals in the entire United States Army.

REV. ALFRED HOLMAN

Men Will Meet for Club Dinner

Detroit Pastor to Show Pictures Taken Recently in Africa

The Rev. Alfred Holman, pastor of Knox Presbyterian Church Detroit, will be guest speaker at the Men's Club dinner at 6:30 Wednesday in the First Presbyterian Church.

He has just recently returned from an extended trip to Africa where he traveled in the Mau Mau country of Kenya Colony, Uganda, Nigeria and the French Cameroons.

In the Carmerouns area, he visited the mission work of the Presbyterian Church U. S. A. which is now in the process of being organized into a national Presbyterian Church.

* * *

The Rev. Mr. Holman will show pictures entitled "Animals of Africa" and "The Congo Doctor."

Sunday evening, Dr. William H. Marbach will speak to the Tuxis Society, young people of senior high age. Richard Mann will lead devotions and Karen Beem will provide refreshments.

The Pioneer Society under the direction of the Rev. Galen Hershey will make plans for the Autumn Retreat planned for the junior high age young people.

Faithful to the Nth

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — After 43 years as a federal court reporter, Tom Irby kept right on working during an unusual turn of events in Judge T. Whitfield Davidson's court. Irby was put on the stand to testify about the accuracy of his reporting of a contested trial. As he testified he recorded his own testimony.

Methodists Give Changes Approved at Conference

Race: The Methodist Church condemned racial segregation, "By any method or practice"—and laid down new laws to put the principle into action.

In a fervent display of unanimity, the big denomination's policy-making general conference swept through a measure opening the door to full integration of the church.

"God has been with us," declared the Rev. C. Cooper Bell, of Lynchburg, Va. "We stand united, neither North nor South nor East nor West, as servants of God."

QUADRENNIAL PROGRAM:—The four-year program calls for, "A Local Church Emphasis" and "Higher Education Emphasis." The Study Commission recommends that the goal of 1,200 theological school graduates annually be accepted by the church.

Two new theological schools are recommended to be built. One in the Ohio Area the other in the Kansas-Missouri-Nebraska Area. Four and one-half millions to be raised for theological training in the quadrennial emphasis.

PUBLICATIONS: The Christian Advocate, 135 year old Methodist weekly publication is to be replaced in October with two new magazines. Together, a great family magazine to be circulated among the Methodist families. The other The New Christian Advocate, which is to take the place of the Pastor. It is a magazine beamed toward preachers.

SPECIAL DAYS: Some 15 special days were recommended for each year for the new quadrennium. Commitment Sunday was placedon the calendar for the 1st Sunday of December. The Methodist Church reasserts its long established conviction that intoxicating liquor cannot be legalized without sin.

MICHIGAN DELEGATES

Michigan delegates have been present in all sessions of the conference. Ten ministerial delegates and ten lay delegates represent Michigan Methodists.

Over 100 other Michigan ministers and laymen have been in attendance. Two Michigan ministers have been working with Radio and press releases.

With television's Ralph Edwards, a staunch Methodist, as master of ceremonies, a company of celebrities appeared as witnesses to answer the questions of youth in "The Church in Our Lives." Other celebrities present were Jackie Robinson, star of the 1955 world champion Dodgers, Minnie Pearl (Mrs. Henry Cannon) star of the famous radio and TV program, The Grand Ole Opry, both are active workers in the Methodist church.

Philippine Units Attend Methodist Annual Session

Methodism's newest conference in the Philippine Islands, the year-old Mindanao Provisional Annual Conference on the southern island of Mindanao, has reported a 44 per cent increase in membership this year over last.

* * *

Holding its second annual session in a church of hand-split boards, with a dirt floor, set amidst a tropical rain forest, the conference heard reports that membership had risen from 1,045 in 1954 to 1,630 in 1955, and that 258 of the new members had been received on profession of faith. The conference, which was in process of organization through 1954, held its first session in April, 1955.

* * *

Advances in other phases of church life were reported including the organization of 10 new churches, an increase of 30 per cent, a rise of 39 per cent in the average attendance at church services from 952 to 1,33 and a 61 per cent jump in the number of church schools (from 26 to 42). Seven young men were reported as having volunteered for the ministry.

Methodists Appoint Mission Recruit Head

In an effort to interest a larger number of young adults in becoming home and foreign missionaries, the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church has appointed for the first time a full-time field worker for young adult recruitment.

* * *

The new worker is Anita Harris of Elmira, N. Y., a former missionary to Brazil and president of a Methodist college there. She will work for the Office of Missionary Personnel, which is the Board's agency for missionary recruitment.

For several years the Board has had field secretaries for college, university and seminary recruitment, but the young adults are a new field of concentration.

The personnel office said a variety of vocational fields is open to lay men and women in both home and overseas missions, including teaching (from kindergarten to college level), agriculture, medicine, nursing, medical technology, social work, business administration, accounting, secretarial work, engineering, architecture, journalism, dietetics, library science, and audito-visual work.

ACP Reaches 11 Million

TORONTO, Ont. — Member papers of the Associated Church Press have a total circulation exceeding 11,000,000 and reached an estimated thirty million readers, Dr. William P. Lipphard of New York, executive secretary of the group, reported at its 37th annual meeting here. The ACP comprises editors of some 142 Protestant publications in the U.S. and Canada.

Pastor John S. Angle Will Speak at Grace

Pastor John S. Angle of Detroit, director of Institutional Chaplaincy Service for Lutheran Churches of Michigan, will speak tomorrow and May 27th at the Grace Lutheran Church for both the 9 and 11 a.m. services. His subject tomorrow will be "Pentecost."

* * *

Celebrating the 63rd birthday of their young people's society, the Walther League, members of the group will entertain their parents at a "Birthday Banquet" at 6 o'clock Sunday evening.

* * *

Henry Elling, organist and choirmaster, is serving as chairman of the affair with the president of the League, Gwen Gallo, working with him.

Vote Monday on $1,200,000 Bond Issue at Milford

Special Election for New School

Ask New Amount for Completion of Structure to Accommodate 900

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD — A special election will be held next Monday in three precincts in the Huron Valley school district for the purpose of approving a new school bond issue of $1,200,000.

Last year, a bond issue of $1,250,000 was approved by voters for the purpose of building a new Milford high school. However, the amount did not prove sufficient to accommodate the building program, officials said, due to an increase in labor and construction costs.

The sharp increase in the school district's population during the last year and the expected increase in the near future, also was a determining factor in the school board's decision to call the special election.

Situated on a 60-acre tract of land, the school will face North Milford road, and already, outside educators and builders are watching its progress with interest. The school will provide space for 900 students.

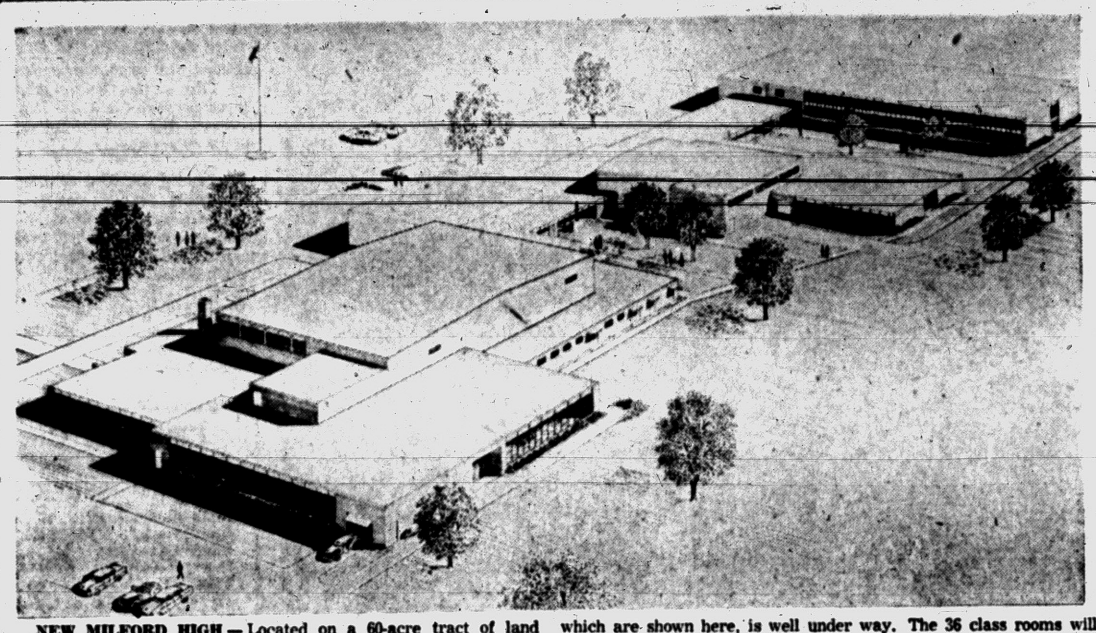

Construction work on 36-class rooms, auditorium and office space is well under way. A wide boulevard-type road which leads from Milford road, back 84 feet is partially completed. The road is 20 feet wide on either side of the islands and leads directly to the front entrance of the school.

Board members feel that this building will be one of the most outstanding schools of its kind in Michigan and President, Dr. Ben Bragg said, "If people will approve this new school bond issue, taxes will decrease instead of increase. The plan is spread over a 17-year period and with the hundreds of new families coming into this area, we absolutely need the additional educational facilities."

A question and answer program will take place tonight (Monday) at the regular meeting of the Brooks elementary school's PTA. Harold Hansen, Superintendent, will be on hand to present the proposed building plan, and answer any questions that may be asked.

* * *

Voting Monday will take place at the following places: Precinct 1, Baker at Milford; Precinct 2, Highland Elementary and Precinct 3 will be in the White Lake Township Hall. Polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

NEW MILFORD HIGH — Located on a 60-acre tract of land facing North Milford road, the new Milford High School, plans for which are shown here, is well under way. The 36 class rooms will provide space for 900 students.

Forced to Curb Woman Is Robbed

OAK PARK — Rosalee J. Keen, 37, of 26707 Alger Blvd., Royal Oak, was robbed of her watch and an unknown amount of cash early this morning.

According to Oak Park Police, Miss Keen was driving on Eight Mile road near Wyoming when she was forced over to the curb by two men driving a convertible. They were both armed with knives. She was released unharmed.

Break Ground for St. Andrew

Sunday Slated for Rite on New Church Site; to Start Building at Once

DRAYTON PLAINS—Tomorrow's Whitsunday Services will be celebrating the birth of the Christian church in churches throughout the world. To parishioners of St. Andrew Episcopal Church it will have double signifance.

They have planned ground-breaking cermonies on their new church site, located on Hatchery road just west of Crescent Lake road. Rain or shine, the first shovelsful of earth are going to be dug, according to the Rev. Waldo R. Hunt, Vicar.

The services will start at 3 p.m. The Rev. Dean William C. Norvell, presiding clergyman of the Lakland Convocation of Episcopal Parishes and Missions, and the Rev. C. George Widdifield of All Saints Parish, Pontiac, will officiate with the Rev. Mr. Hunt during the ceremonies.

Also participating will be representatives of the guilds, choirs, church school, the Women's Auxiliary and Women's Service Corps, the chapel committee, the Young People's Fellowship, and the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's.

The new church is to be situated near the crest of the hill on the four-acre site. This first unit will be of block and face brick structure, costing approximately $90,000. It was designed by the architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlitt and Luckenbach.

On Wednesday of this week, final contracts were signed with low bidder, H. Kerner & Son, of Utica. Work is to begin immediately and the church is expected to be ready for occupancy September 1.

Church to Launch Drive to Build $40,000 Addition

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — White Lake Presbyterian Church will launch a campaign Sunday to build a $40,000 religious educational unit as an addition to its church, the pastor, the Rev. Robert VonOeyen, has announced.

Directing the campaign will be the Rev. W. Donald Kramer. He will preach at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday.

Following the service, there will be a dinner for campaign workers, in the church basement, after which a house to house canvass will be made in the parish.

Tickets Ready for Style Show

Countryside Assn. to Hold Benefit Thursday at Pine Lake

WEST BLOOMFIELD — On Thursday, at 12 noon, a benefit luncheon and style show will be sponsored by the Countryside Improvement Assn. of West Bloomfield Township.

It will be held at Rotunda Inn, Pine Lake, and the Bloomfield Fashion Shop will present the newest in summer styles.

Tickets and reservations are available through Mrs. Ernest Fuller, Chairman, EMpire 3-4182.

This group was organized in 1911 by Mrs. E. W. Stoddard of Pine Lake, who was also its first president. At that time its sole purpose was to improve the roads and roadsides. Since then it has become a philanthrophic organization, and has taken active part in various charities in the township.

Nevertheless it has continued to show a great deal of interest in maintaining the beauty of the countryside, and encouraging the effort put forth to keep our roadsides clean and attractive.

MEMORABLE SCENES FROM "I'LL CRY TOMORROW"

Millions wept unashamedly when they read Lillian Roth's frank revelations in the best-selling autobiography "I'll Cry Tomorrow." Now, in intimate detail, the story of her life is told on the screen—and it is a story of indomitable faith and courage you'll not soon forget. M-G-M has made it into a distinguished and inspiring motion picture!

Her first love, whose tragic ending caused her to seek solace in drink. Jo Van Fleet, as Lillian's Mother, Susan Hayward, as Lillian Roth, Ray Danton, as David, the boy she loved and lost.

The consolation of other men, the refuge in drink give only temporary forgetfulness for the broken heart.

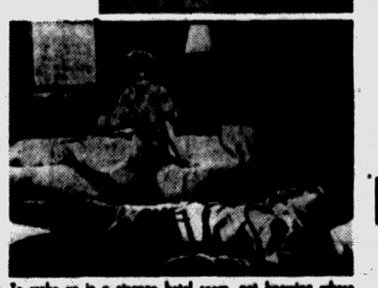

To sink so low, she who had been the sought-after beauty, the glittering star.

The crucial telephone call that sends her frantically to the bedside of her sweetheart, while a cheering audience and her restraining mother beg her to return to the stage.

"Live it up! Fall in Love! I'll Cry Tomorrow!"

To wake up in a strange hotel room, not knowing where you've been or whom you've married.

Royal Oak Resident Faces Killing Count

Cecil Edgil, 31, of Royal Oak, was bound over to circuit court yesterday afternoon for arraignment on charges of the murder April 14 of a Royal Oak barber shop porter.

Royal Oak Municipal Judge Fletcher R. Renton told Edgil to appear June 11 before Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

Edgil allegedly killed Lenver Norris, 51, of Royal Oak, with a baseball bat after an argument over racial matters. Norris died in William Beaumont Hospital 11 days after the alleged attack.

Edgil told police April 14 he had hit Norris with the bat in self-defense after Norris Threatened him with a knife.

Byrd Pushing Highway Bill

Senate Finance Group to Approve Tax Method Passed by House

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said today his Senate Finance Committee probably will approve the taxes to pay for a big highway construction program largely as they were voted by the House.

* * *

The committee closed two days of hastily staged public hearings on the tax features of the bill yesterday. Byrd has called a closed committee se ssion Monday for votes on these sections.

He told a reporter it was possible the bill could be called up on the Senate floor later next week.

QUESTIONS TAXES

Sen. Long (D-La), a finance member, questioned whether any new taxes were necessary for the roadbuilding program. He said that motorists and truck operators now pay 2½ billion dollars annually in various taxes. This would pay even for the greatly stepped up construction program envisaged in pending legislation, he added.

Byrd said much of the present revenue is used for other purposes and would have to be replaced through other taxes if all of it were earmarked for roads.

The House voted for $14,800,000,000 of additional revenues over a 16-year period to help finance the federal share of the program. Byrd said he expects his committee to approve about the same amount.

Byrd noted that the bulk of the new money would come from raising the federal gasoline tax from 2 to 3 cents a gallon, and said there appeared to be no controversy over this.

* * *

Most opposition to the House levies, Byrd said, appeared to come from truckers fighting a $1.50 per 1,000 pounds annual tax on trucks weighing 26,000 pounds or more.

Success Didn't Change Hal March Very Much

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Hal March took his pretty bride Candy Toxton to Washington.

Texas' Sam Rayburn kissed her hand and said, "What part of Texas you from, honey?"

"Several Senators went for Candy," the $64,000 Question master of ceremonies says. Candy, whose mother once took in washings in St. Louis to raise a big family, was impressed with her husband's fame.

Success apparently hasn't changed Hal much. On a recent Tuesday when we met, I found he had a haircut date at 3 p.m., and I wondered if he had a set date every Tuesday to get barbered and perfumed for the program.

"My life's not that well regulated." Hal rubbed the back of his neck as men do when their hair is long. "I've gone about two and a half weeks without a haircut . . ."

"Why should it change me?" asked Hal. "I didn't answer any questions—I just asked them."

Actually, it's brought him many opportunities. On July 15, he's starring in an NBC spectacular, "The Bachelor." He'll star in a Broadway show, "The Brass Section," in the fall. He's just turned down a role in a spectacular based on the play, "A Bell for Adano."

Hal—who was tieless and wearing a sports shirt under his jacket the day we lunched at the Warwick Raleigh Room—has one little problem about m c.ing the big quiz show.

"I want them all to win," he said. "I give the contestants too much time and I unconsciously coach them. But how can I help it? Money is a very dramatic thing. I'm sure if you had a $64,000 hunk thrown at you, you'd find it exciting."

Hal feels the program can run for seven or eight years. The cost to sponsors, including time, is averaging $85,000 a week, which is comparatively little. Hal says the race horse and stock market experts on the program have never given him any tips, but Gino Prato, "Just made me a beautiful pair of black shoes. The second week he was on the show he said he would. They just came—after all, since that time, he's been pretty busy."

THE WEEK-END WINDUP . . .

You think YOU got ticket troubles? The "Most Happy Fella" producers, who sold the May 22 performance to a theater party, have to try to buy back 15 seats for the President of Indonesia . . . A new version of the Bloody Mary's called the Blondie Mary—clam and vodka.

The Maureens have landed: Maureen O'Hara's ex, Will Price, dated TV writer Maureen Toomey . . . John Wayne's son Pat is being set for movie starring roles . . . Ed Wynne sent trays of hors d'oeuvres to the "sidewalk superintendents" watching the Seagram Bldg. going up nearby.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "The most disillusioned girls are those who married because they were tired of working."—F. G. Kernan.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Someone mentioned the actor who was cured of insomnia, and got so excited about it he couldn't sleep all night.

Phil Foster tells of a swank restaurant where the food preparation is so involved that even the ice water is made according to a secret recipe. That's earl, brother.

Colorado Asks Court to Decide on Graham

DENVER (AP)—For the first time in Colorado history, the State Supreme Court has been asked to decide if a convicted murderer should be allowed to die without review of his conviction.

* * *

Graham, 24, has been sentenced to die in the gas chamber the week of Aug. 26 for murdering his mother in an airliner explosion that took 43 other lives. Graham, married and the father of two children, has spurned his lawyers' efforts to appeal.

* * *

The petition was filed by L. Paul Weadick and Charles S. Vigil, two of Graham's three lawyers. It asks the high court to determine "as promptly as possible" whether an appeal of the case shall be required.

TV Glitter Isn't All Gold, According to Jim Backus

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The TV channels are not as golden as they seem, says Jim Backus, who ought to know.

* * *

This was Backus Week on television screens. He starred on NBC's hour dramatic show, Matinee Theater. Then he appeared in "I Married Joan," kicking off the NBC reruns that will be on five times a week. On Sunday evening, he was on with another rerun of the Joan Davis comedy show.

COMMERCIALS TOO

In addition, he was on TV with 30 one-minute commercials as the voice of Mr. Magoo, plugging a beer. And if that wasn't enough—you could also hear him on every channel as the guy who says "It's a Fo-o-ord."

* * *

"I know," Backus sighed, "everybody thinks I'm rolling in dough. Why, whenever I go to my agent's office on Rodeo Drive in Beverly Hills, I have to drive in the back way. If I walk down the street in front of the shops, it's like going through a bazaar. They pull me inside and try to sell me the most expensive thing in the joint.

* * *

"Sure, I'm making good dough, but it's nothing fabulous. I have one of those stone age contracts. I think Neville Chamberlain musta been my agent on it.

VERY HONEST

Nor is the pay fabulous from the commercials, he added. "Every once in a while a check comes in," he remarked. "I must say, the people are remarkably honest."

* * *

Even without the TV coin (which I suspect supplies a mighty comfortable living), Jim should have no worries. He is developing into one of the screen's most able character actors, both in comedy and serious roles. He made a real impression as James Dean's father in "Rebel Without a Cause" and left this week for Monterey, Calif., to play an army officer in "The Girl He Left Behind."

NOTHING FABULOUS—Jim Backus, who stars with Joan Davis in "I Married Joan" on Sundays at 10 p. m. and Monday through Friday at 4 p. m., declares that television performing is not as lucrative as it's cracked up to be.

Cypriots Threaten British Legislators

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard assigned special security guards to British Cabinet members today. The Yard said threats had been made on their lives in reprisal for British execution of two Greek Cypriots.

Detectives began a detailed check on London's Cypriot population in an effort to run up any members of EOKA, the Cypriot underground organization conducting a campaign of violence for union of Cyprus with Greece.

A police guard also was set up outside the Turkish Embassy.

Cemetery Man Survives Deadly Driving

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Cemetery worker John W. Newton today began serving 55 days in jail for drunken driving and amazed county medical authorities can hardly believe he's alive to serve the term.

* * *

Municipal Judge James S. Blaine noted that a blood test given Newton after his arrest showed up as .480 on the scale. The judge observed that a scale reading of .150 is regarded as drunkenness.

County medical authorities testified that an alcoholic content of more than .400 is considered deadly.

Daughter of Japanese Publisher Enters College

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Miss Fumi Murayama, daughter of a leading Japanese publisher, has enrolled in Whittier College to study journalism.

Miss Murayama is the daughter of Nagataka Murayama, publisher of the Asahi Shimbun, a Tokyo newspaper with a circulation of five million.

Mis Murayama said her ambition is to enter newspaper work as a reporter on her father's paper.

Interpreting the News

Embargo List Checking British, Red Trade Deals

By J. M. ROBERTS
AP News Analyst

No real assessment of Britain's unilateral decision to expand her trade with Red China can be made until it is clear what type of shipments she intends to make and what benefits she gets in return.

A fairly good guess is that the British government, although under great pressure from business interests, has no intention of going far enough to stir up a hornets' nest in the United States.

Britain has been pressing for months for relaxation of the American embargo list. Anthony Eden was promised a review when he visited Washington in February. It has been slow.

LONDON SEEKS EXCEPTION

Now London plans to take advantage of an agreement of the China committee, composed of NATO nations plus Japan, which permits a country to take exception to the embargo list provided the committee is notified.

The United States maintains a complete embargo on trade with Red China. In addition, she has maintained a list of materials which may not be shipped by nations which accept mutual aid funds from her.

Several nations have been trying to get this list whittled down at least to the point where restrictions will be no greater than against Russia and her European satellites.

Because of the Battle Act, which authorizes the President to withdraw aid from any violator, most of the countries cannot act unilaterally. Britain, no longer an aid recipient, is not subject to that restraint.

Allocation Bill to Boost U. S. Sugar Production

States will produce a larger share of the sugar it consumes under an allocation bill passed by Congress yesterday.

Subject only to President Eisenhower's expected approval, the compromise legislation adds immediately 85,000 tons of beet sugar and 80,000 tons of cane sugar to marketing quotas provided for this country's producers.

READY FOR THE QUALIFIERS — Mike Dietz, pro at Indianwood Country Club and his wife Helen do some last minute checking in the pro shop in preparation for the PGA Qualifying rounds which will be held at the club Monday in 36 holes of medal play. The Michigan Section of the PGA has been allotted four places to the PGA championship. The pros who enter qualifying rounds will be permitted to turn in their cards for National Golf Day which will be held June 9th.

Tigers Win on 9th Inning Rally, 3-2

It was Hoeft's steady pitching and the belated, but timely hitting of a trio of veterans that gave the Detroit Tigers a 3-2 win over the Baltimore Orioles in Briggs Stadium yesterday.

Hoeft scattered seven hits and was brilliant except for a bad spot in the 2nd inning when he allowed both Baltimore runs. A walk, two singles and an error produced the tallies.

The Bengal bats were still until the 9th, with one out. That's when they ruined the masterful pitching of another southpaw, Don Ferrarese. Until then, he had limited the Tigers to four hits and no runs.

Then a single by Ray Boone, another single by Bob Kennedy and a double by reserve first baseman Jack Phillips and the game was tied up.

George Zuverink, an ex-Tiger, came in from the bullpen and purposely passed the first Detroit pinch hitter, Wayne Belardi, the second one, Charlie Maxwell, sent a bounder between first and second that Gus Triandos picked up nicely but threw past second. That was the ball game and Hoeft's 3rd victory against one defeat.

* * *

"Well, it's time we won a game like that," said Harris later. "We have lost our share of the tough ones."

The Detroit pilot said Hoeft's gritty pitching, and the base hits when they were needed "just might have been a tonic of some sort for the whole team. I hope it indicates something."

Hoeft, while he struck out only three men and walked three, said he felt "as strong as I ever have."

"It was just one of those days," said the big lefthander, who celebrated his 24th birthday on Thursday. "I was fast enough, but the curve and the change up—both off the fast ball and the curve—were hitting the strike zone."

Hoeft admitted he has had a lot of trouble with his changeup. "I just couldn't seem to get it over," said Billy. "But I can't say that one pitch was better than any other out there—they all worked real well."

Arm trouble plagued Hoeft most of the spring, and he still has a bit of trouble with a pinched nerve in his pitching elbow.

Harris was asked if planned to continue platooning Ear Torgeson and Phillips at first base and Maxwell and Kennedy in left field.

"I can't argue with the way Phillips and Kennedy have been playing," the manager answered. "Both of them certainly came through today—you couldn't ask any more.

* * *

"It's something you can't pinpoint and put down for keeps—it has to be worked out as times goes on. As long as it's working this way, that's the way we'll keep it. If things are better by platooning, then we'll platoon. If they're not, then we'll have to try something else."

Robinson KO's Olson

* * *

Olson, the former champion from San Francisco, lasted just six minutes longer against the dancing dandy from New York's Harlem last night than he did in Chicago last Dec. 9.

* * *

A left hook put him to sleep for the full count and more at 2:51 of the fourth round in their title bout scheduled for 15 at Wrigley Field. The last previous time they met the end came at exactly the same time in round two.

Robinson, 35, apologized jokingly for not having had time in the bout to prove his legs still were in shape to go a full distance.

Pay days for both the winner and the loser were forestalled by legal action. Olson's estranged wife obtained a court order to tie up his share, and Uncle Sam slapped an income tax lien against the champion's share.

* * *

A crowd of approximately 20,000 paid an estimated gross gate of $200,000 or more for a California record. The previous high was $196,720 for the heavyweight title bout last year between Rocky Marciano and Don Cockell in San Francisco.

* * *

Each fighter was guaranteed 30 per cent or $75,000 of the net receipts.

Following last night's televised twilight affair, comanager Joe Gasser declared Sugar Ray will now go after the light heavyweight title. It was the general understanding he might do so if the current title holder, Archie Moore, graduates fully to the heavyweight division.

There's also talk of a bout here with the local boxoffice magnet, welterweight Art Aragon, and another prospect is that ex-welterweight champ Carmen Basilio would be next. Probably Robinson will cash in quickly on personal appearances.

* * *

Bobo Olson no longer was mentioned. He still doesn't remember what hit him.

Sugar Ray weighed 159½ for the outdoor title fight in the home of the Los Angeles baseball club. Olson barely made the 160-pound limit—he had to take off his boxing trunks to do it.

* * *

Nashua After Money Record

Win at Garden Park Would Make Him Top Earning Horse

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — Nashua attempts to become the leading money-winning horse of all-time today in the $30,000-added Camden Handicap at Garden State Park.

The famed 4-year-old Nasrullah colt runs a mile and a furlong against four rivals over the course where he suffered his first defeat two years ago. The weatherman predicts cloudy weather with a chance of scattered showers for the 5:30 p.m. EDT post time.

Should Nashua win he'll earn $22,750, more than enough to pass the $1,085,760 earnings of Citation, the current world money-winning leader of horse racing. Nashua has earned $1,077,615, just $8,146 short of Citation. Thus he'll have to win today to pass the great Calumet Stable thoroughbred, since second place is worth only $6,000.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro, who guided Citation to more than half of his earnings, will be aboard Nashua in the important race. Arcaro, America's premier jockey, rode Citation to 14 of his victories worth $594,395. He has ridden Nashua to 13 of his 18 wins, with a total value of $956,315.

Nine Entries in 80th Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—The dice will be cast near sundown today on whether a strong-willed colt named Needles will be the first in three years to come away with a Preakness triumph and have a shot at racing's triple crown which hasn't been worn since 1948.

Calumet Farm's Citation was the last to annex the first two legs and he went on eight years ago to sweep the Belmont. Dark Star in 1953 was the most recent Kentucky Derby winner to come up to Maryland only to finish out of the money in the subsequent Preakness and it was his last race.

Needles is the life of the 80th Preakness, overshadowing the eight other entries with his sensational running in the afternoons of races after showing distinct dislike for morning work.

In fact, only Calumet's Fabius, incidentally a son of Citation, is being considered as a serious strong upset possibility. Ranked as outsiders are D. G. Arnstein's Eiffel Blue, Helen Kellogg's Come On Red, W. E. Britt's No Regrets, Winding Way Farm's Golf Ace, Dino Lozzi's Count Chic, and H. C. Fruehauf's pair of Ratheram and Fleet Peet.

Most of the backing for Fabius is based on his loss by only three quarters of a length to Needles in the Kentucky Derby. However, Fabius also lost twice to Needles in his home state of Florida.

Chick Lang, agent for jockey Will Hartack on Fabius, seemed to be aware of this. As he entered Fabius yesterday Lang remarked "Keep your fingers crossed and hope something happens to Needles."

Come On Red and Count Chic are coming back for their second straight crack at Needles after finishing third and fourth in the Derby. Mrs. Kellogg thought it was worth $7,500 to try by making Come On Red a supplementary entry two days after the Derby.

* * *

It cost the same premium eligibility fee for Golf Ace whose main claim to fame was a first place in the Wood Memorial only to be disqualified.

So if either Come On Red or Golf Ace wins, their net profit out of the gross prize of $132,800 will be $76,800. It will be $84,250 to any of the others and make Needles half a millionaire in 15 races. He has won nine times, the last three $100,000 events, and never has been worse than fourth.

* * *

Most of the field, including Needles and his owners Bonnie Heath and Jack Dudley, are strangers to the Preakness. Only jockey Doug Dodson on No Regrets rode a past winner and it was Calumet's Faultless in 1947.

* * *

The contest is at equal weights of 126 pounds. It is scheduled to start at 4:45 p.m. (EST) with CBS television and radio sending throughout the country.

Pontiac 9 Splits Twinbill

Eight unearned runs in the second game of a doubleheader enabled Saginaw Eastern to split a twin bill with Pontiac High School on the Chief diamond yesterday.

The Chiefs shutout Saginaw 8-0 on a one-hit performance by Arnold Larson in the first game and then lost 8-2, although Jim Jones gave up only four hits in the nightcap.

The lone hit in the opener was a scratch single in the second inning by Ken Haggert for Saginaw. Charles Johnson, Bud Hayword and Dave Simmons each had two hits for Pontiac.

Jones got little support from the field in the second game as the Chiefs were guilty of eight errors.

Pontiac is now 6-5 for the season and 3-2 in SVC play.

The Associated Press

You can love those New York Yankees or hate 'em, but you've got to look upon Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra as the best one-two punch in baseball—the bread-and-butter guys for Ol' Casey Stengel.

The Mick and Yogi have the look of the old Yankee window-busters, the nearest thing yet, perhaps, to the Babe Ruth-Lou Gehrig punch that chilled the American League in the '20s and early '30s.

Mantle, coming of age, leads the AL with 15 homers, 45 hits and a .409 batting average at the moment. The only big department he doesn't lead is runs batted in. Yogi has the edge in that one with 33 to Mantle's 32. Berra's also the AL runner-up in hits (40) and home runs (12) with a .357 batting average.

The power-partners put those statistics to work again last night as the Yankees, scotting into a 2½-game lead in the AL, outlasted the Chicago White Sox 8-7 in 10 innings. Second-place Cleveland, meanwhile, dropped an 11-inning hassle with Washington 5-4. The Boston Red Sox, handing Kansas City a fifth straight defeat 5-4, took over third place from Chicago by a half game.

In the National, free-swinging Cincinnati put an end to Brooklyn's six-game winning streak 7-6 in 10 innings. Philadelphia, behind Curt Simmons' three-hitter, sidetracked the St. Louis Cardinals 4-2.

Joan's Victory Wins Feature

DETROIT (AP) — Joan's Victory, third choice in the betting, scored an impressive one-length victory in the feature trot at the Wolverine Harness Raceway last night.

Joan's Victory overtook the favorite, Victory Lynn, who dropped to third behind Vickie Dean.

* * *

Imlay scored five runs in the 1st and 2nd innings and collected 19 hits, while Ortonville was making eight errors.

Wininger's 133 Still Top Card

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Bo Wininger led the pack at 64-69—133 heading into the third round of the $22,000 Kansas City Open Golf Tournament today.

Bunched four strokes behind at 137 were nine other professionals. Jackie Burke of Kiamesha, N.Y., this year's Masters champion, was alone at 138.

Jimmy English of Topeka, Kan., the only amateur within shooting distance of first place, shared 139 with Norman Goodman of Kansas City and Wally Ulrich of Rochester, Minn., the 1954 winner.

* * *

Trials Begin for "500"

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Four accidents on the eve of today's Indianapolis Motor Speedway time trials created an atmosphere even more tense than usual for the qualification runs for the 40th 500-mile race May 30.

* * *

Len Sutton, 30-year-old newcomer from Portland, Ore., amazingly escaped serious injury late yesterday when his Wolcott Special spun on the northeast turn and rolled into the infield.

Sutton was reported in fair condition at Methodist Hospital. He had a badly lacerated hand and track burns.

He also had been involved in the first of 11 mishaps during the three weeks of practice, but escaped injury when his car spun out of control May 3.

* * *

Other accidents yesterday, in which drivers escaped injury, involved Don Freeland of Redondo Beach, Calif., veteran of three Speedway starts; Eddie Russo, Hammond, Ind., and Mike Magill, Haddenfield, N. J.

* * *

Marvin Pifer of Adrian, Mich., a new Speedway driver, is still hospitalized as a result of a wreck May 10.

A new paving job on most of the 2½-mile track apparently hadn't made it safer, just faster.

Thirty drivers were clocked over 140 m.p.h. in practice runs. The track record was under that until two years ago.

The 10-mile qualifying record up for grabs in today's trials was 142.84 set in 1954 by Bill Vukovich, whose death in last year's race was the 46th at the track since 1909.

Bloomfield Hills' Bud Badger Takes Medalist Honors

This was 14 strokes less than runnerup Milford which had 380.

Holly took third place in the meet with 382 and Brighton followed with 383. Other scores were Bloomfield Hills 393, Clarkston 416, Clarenceville 439 and Northville 474.

Medalist honors went to Bud Badger of Bloomfield Hills with an 82, followed by Ed Tokarski of Milford with 84 and Tom McLannan of West Bloomfield also with 84.

Eaglets End Year With 10-1 Victory

St. Mary's High School (OL) Baseball Club closed out its 1956 schedule yesterday afternoon with a 10-1 win over a hapless Warren St. Clements Club at Orchard Lake.

Eaglets finished it off in the 1st frame with a 4-run barrage when Lennie Mallat, Ted Kopacki, Art Golsdzinski and Stan Smilinski scored on a combination of a walk and three hits.

Clarkston Scores 5-3 Win From Holly

Clarkston defeated Holly 5-3 in a Wayne-Oakland game yesterday by scoring two runs in the top of the 10th on Charles Passage's two-run single.

Seeded Win at Kingswood

Seeded players all won their opening round matches Friday in the Michigan State Girls' Open Tennis Tournament being held at the Kingswood Courts in Bloomfield Hills.

Judy Peoples, top-seeded from Gary, Indiana, easily defeated Marjorie Davis of Birmingham, 6-1, 6-0.

Second-seeded Sue Hodgman of Kalamazoo eliminated Claudia Wasik of Pontiac, 6-1, 6-2, and third-seeded Virginia Hess of Hamtramck ousted Marilyn McKenzie of Kingswood, 6-0, 6-0.

The other three seeded players, Darnella Everson, Phyllis Saganski and Sue Mezger moved into the quarterfinals without opening round competition. Saganski drew a bye and the other two players won on default.

In matches involving other area players, Carolyn Wolf of Bloomfield Hills took a three set match from Jo Ann Dearing of Pontiac, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4 and Heather Rayburn of Kingswood defeated Jane Collister of Birmingham 6-4, 10-8.

Nancy Butson of Rochester lost to Jane Wert of Kingswood 6-0, 6-1, and Mary Heinrick of Kingswood took a 6-2, 6-0 match from Sharon Gray of Birmingham.

The quarter finals and semis will be played today with the finals slated for Sunday.

Eastern, Jeff Juniors Win

Eastern and Jefferson emerged victorious in a double dual meet between Pontiac's four junior high schools yesterday. Eastern defeated Lincoln 43-34 and the Jeffs turned back Washington 48⅔ to 28⅓.

Tom O'Brien of Lincoln was the day's top performer with 15 points in three 1sts. He won the 100 yard dash, the shot put and broad jump.

Eastern's Willie White had 7¼ points. C. Brown of Jefferson had 9¼ and J. Watkins of Washington got 10 points in winning the 100 yard and broad jump.

John Bandy cleared 9 feet 6 for the top pole vault performance, Sammy Cole hit the 50 yard high hurdles in 7:33 and Watkins hit 18 feet 6 in the broad jump.

Skipper Game Called

NO SORE SPOT — Dr. Charles Lacks, trainer of the Milwaukee Braves examines the right shoulder of pitcher Gene Conley when he rejoined the team in New York yesterday. Sidelined with tendonitis of the shoulder since the exhibition season he expects to be back in action May 25th upon removal from the disabled list.

Bathers in Front

Pace Regional Net Tourney

Mt. Clemens' steady net squad today went into semifinals and final series at Cranbrook, shooting for places in the coming MHSAA title rounds. The Bathers were leading a field of six Class A teams with an earned match total of 12 and ¾ points (8¼ on doubles and 4½ on singles).

Other Class A teams:

Royal Oak 7½ (6 on doubles, 1½ singles)

Birmingham 6¼ (5½ singles, ¾ doubles)

Pontiac 2½ (1 singles, 1½ doubles)

Cranbrook's host squad paced the Class B field with 14½ points (7¼ singles, 6¼ dougles). St. Clair was 2nd with 2 and ¾; Van Dyke Fitzgerald, 2 and ¾ Northville 1¼ and Clarenceville and PH St. Stephens each with half point.

Class A singles semifinals pairings; Bill Swaney (BHM) vs Steve Lecine (MC) and Bob Hader (Mt. C) vs Toby Sells (BHM). Doubles semifinals (A)—Hancoc-Weimer (Berkley) vs Brice-Grimes (MC); Dadier-Osterlund (RO) vs Hammond-Ehrke (MC).

* * *

Cranbrook's Jerry Dobson (defending state champ) moved to final and plays winner of the Robert Klein—Dave Dine match in an all-Crane windup for Class B. In "B" doubles Beam-Isbell (C) vs Beach-Jacobson (C) and Farland-Osbon (St. Clair) vs Alex and Barry Smith (C) comprise the semifinal pairings.

PHS Thinclads Title Favorites

Face State's Best in Big MHSAA Test Today at Ann Arbor

Pontiac High School's all-winning track team today will be the target for the finest young athletes of Michigan, in the state's biggest track and field event, the annual MHSAA championships. Chiefs won the 1955 top event at East Lansing with a record-breaking margin of 52 points to Flint Northern's 17 as runnerup.

Today's meet for Class A-C is under way on Ferry Field, Ann Arbor, where Pontiac is again a top-heavy favorite to win its 2nd straight title. Chiefs' team includes 16 who qualified at the recent Ypsi regionals.

Vikings are again rated biggest team threat, but stiff opposition looms for some of the PHS champions. Hayes Jones is expected to retain his high hurdle and broad jump titles, and is a top threat for the low hurdles.

Two Softball Tilts Slated for Sunday

An exhibition between Royal Bar (AL) and Louie's Tavern (NL) is set for 7 p.m. At 8:30 Walled Lake Merchants face Richards Tavern in a National League rainoff game of May 15.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Moving to Pontiac from Flint, the Walton Adams set out to find a lake home. They didn't see any house that exactly filled their requirements. But they did find a lot they liked. The next step was to build.

They were not complete beginners in this house-building game. Already, they had one house to their credit. It must be habit-forming, for they have ideas now about what they would like to do in a third house.

In Sylvan Shores they found a lake lot. It has only 45 feet of lake frontage, but widens to 60 feet on the road side. It is 169 feet long.

The Adams' designed and let the contracts for their house themselves. Mrs. Adams did all the decorating. As a couple they worked on the paneling in the living room and the family room.

The size and shape of their lot determined to a great extent the kind of house the Adams' could build. The result is a house 101 feet long, from garage doors to front porch. It is two rooms wide, with a hall in the middle.

The front door is located about halfway down its length. There's a small sheltered porch. The front door is painted turquoise with panel decorations in white.

The walls in the living room are sandalwood, the ceiling cream. Brown cotton carpeting is laid over all the floors in the house, with the exception of the kitchen and the family room.

All the windows at the front of the house have the same curtains. They are made of semi-sheer cotton and rayon material, sandalwood in color, with a gold thread. Mrs. Adams says that sandalwood is a wonderfully versatile color to use in decorating.

On the inside walls of the living room there's a fireplace. The entire wall around the fireplace is made of yellow Roman brick. Blue tago stone caps the hearth and the mantel.

One armchair in tweed, a second in leather and a third overstuffed one give plenty of seating space in the room. There are flourishing plants and copper accessories for the little homey touches.

This house has a brown and yellow kitchen. The walls are painted a deeper tone than those in the living room. Floor and ceiling are yellow. The curtains over the sink are yellow and brown.

The end of the room farthest from the dining room houses the laundry equipment. There are lots of birch storage cabinets overhead, on all the walls. These have attractive copper handles. Around the corner is a small aqua and yellow lavatory.

The full bath is large, with a double sink vanity and a glassed-in shower. The tile is brown and beige, the walls and vanity base turquoise.

One corner has built-in storage for linens. Drawers and cupboards are painted turquoise. Fixtures are tan, rugs are brown. The little vanity stool is cushioned in turquoise.

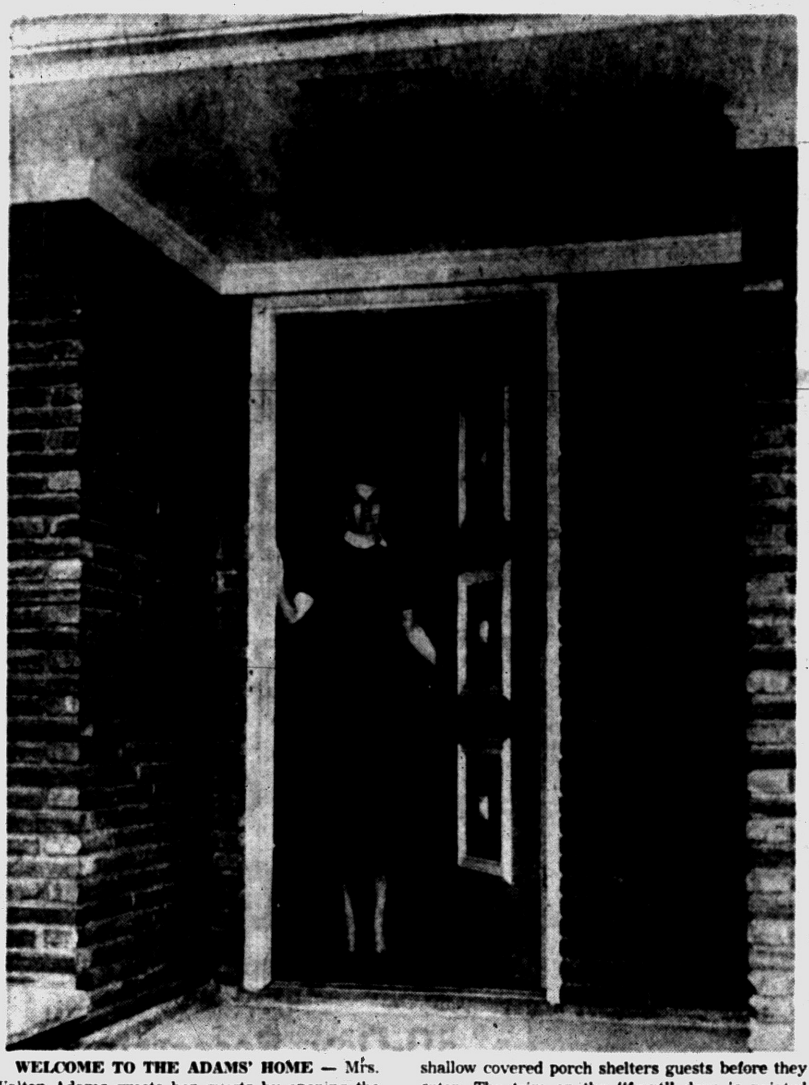

Diane and Linda Adams are 12 and 5 years old, respectively. They have identical bedrooms, 9x12 feet in size. Each room has modern furniture and a bed with a leather headboard. Diane's room is pale blue, Linda's pale yellow.

The master bedroom is pink. There's a pink checked taffeta spread on the bed. All the bedroom closets are the same, with storage cupboards above the double doors.

Between the garage and the bedrooms there is an activities or family room. Three of the walls in this room are paneled in Philippine mahogany. There is a small bar of the same material.

In the corner, at the end of one wall, the Adams' have a second fireplace. Around the opening the walls are made of red Roman brick. The asphalt tile floor is WELCOME TO THE ADAMS' HOME — Mrs. Walton Adams greets her guests by opening the turquoise door that is on the side of the house. A shallow covered porch shelters guests before they enter. The trim on the "front" door is painted white to match the rest of the exterior trim.

LONG CORRIDOR — Three bedrooms and the bathroom open off this long carpeted hallway. At the far end is the activities room, and beyond that the garage. There is also a broom and a linen closet in the hall.

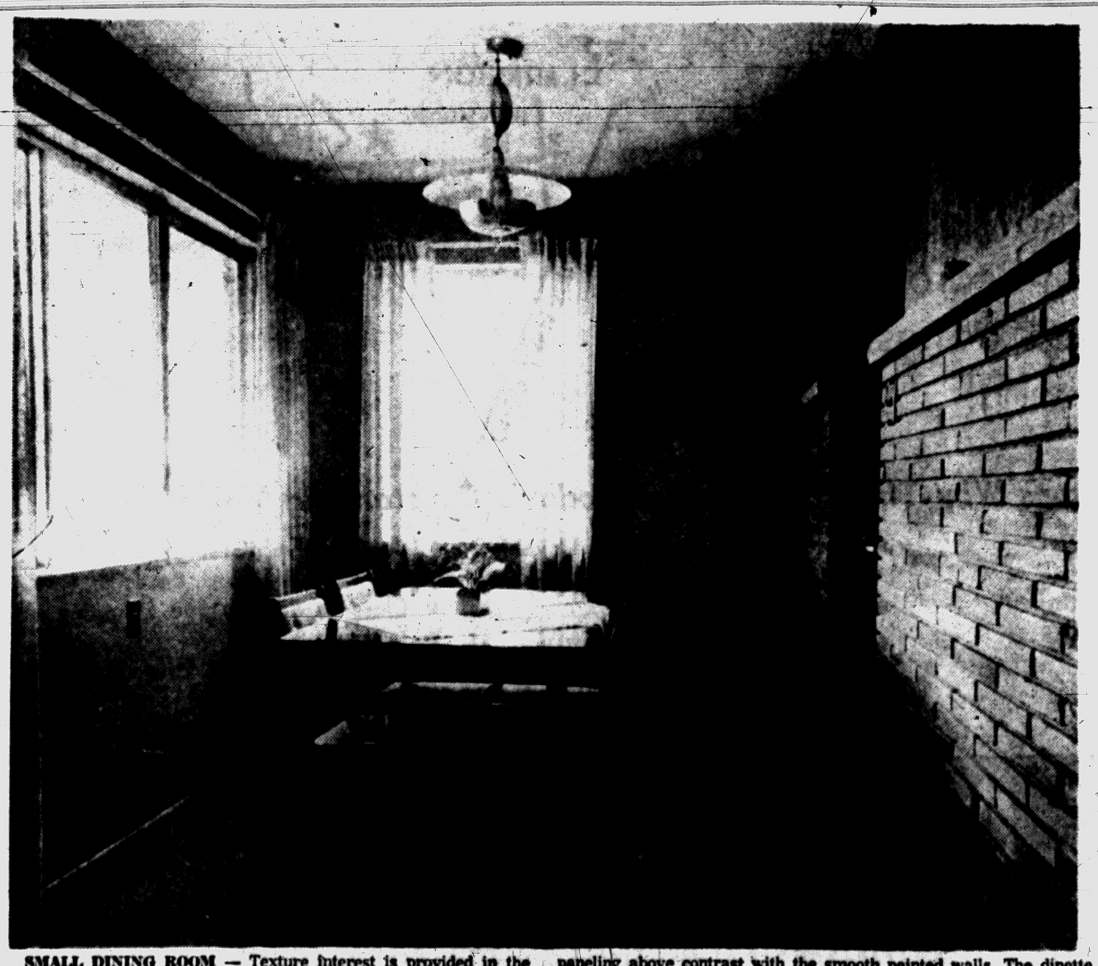

PALS — Five-year-old Linda Adams wore a blue dress that exactly matched her black-lashed blue eyes. She persuaded the family collie, Laddie, to lie down long enough to have both their pictures taken. They're sitting in front of the little fireplace in the activities room. This is also a favorite spot for watching television.

SYLVAN SHORES HOME — Taken from the neighbor's front yard, this view of the Walton Adams' home on Sylvan Shores drive shows how long the house is. From the front porch to the back of the garage it is 101 feet. The exterior is red Roman brick with white trim. There is a wide overhang all around. On the opposite side of the house there is an entrance to the kitchen.

BROWN AND GREEN ROOM — Mrs. Adams chose the popular sandalwood tone for painting the walls in the living room and dining room. Carpeting to match and pale green upholstery on two of the pieces of furniture complete the color scheme. The sheer curtains have a thread of gold running through. The poles in the left foreground are a partial room divider for the hall.

FREE-STANDING ROOM DIVIDER—A free-standing room divider of western pine is a flexible way to solve space problems in the modern home. Unit helps define relation of one area to another, yet retains a feeling of openness. Storage potential in the form of cabinets and shelves is an added bonus.

Partitions Are the Answer

Like "grandstand quarterbacks" after a football game, most of us find changes we want to make in our houses after we move in. Sometimes it's right away; sometimes it's after we have lived in the house for a while.

Probably the most frequent cases of "second guessing" occur in connection with entry halls, partitions, and walls. Maybe it's the lack of an entry way off the living room, a too-long room that calls for a partitioned nook at one end, or the need for a divided between living and dining areas. Whatever the problem, it can usually be solved by the imaginative use of free-standing units which serve the dual role of partition and storage area.

In addition to their greater flexibility over solid walls, units such as these can be designed and built by anyone handy with a hammer and saw. Because of their easy workability, ability to accept any type of finish, and choice of ten different species, the woods of the western pine region are recommended for such "home handy-man" projects. With the choice of light, medium, or dark colored woods in knotty or clear grades, you can accomplish any desired effect.

The standing storage partition can take many forms. It might be a waist-high unit with a planter on top and shelves or cabinets below. It can extend from floor to ceiling to serve as an actual wall, or within a foot or so of the ceiling to give a feeling of openness, yet still enclose an area. Matching louvered doors or shutters of western pine can be installed between two adjacent units for added privacy.

What use is made of the storage space will depend on individual needs. Possibly the need is for a coat closet for guests. If so, hinged doors and a clothes pole will accomplish your purpose. For storing china the unit can be designed with upper cabinets with doors which open from both sides. It can be a bookshelf, the shell for hi-fi equipment and record player, or a concealed writing desk with a top which folds up when not in use.

• • •

Whatever its purpose, the free-standing partition will do double duty, adding greatly to the overall appearance of a room while serving a useful function.

WANT GAS HEAT?

If you are one of the thousands who want Gas Heat in your home, but hesitate to find out what it will cost because of the uncertainty of your Gas Permit — We offer this suggestion—Call O'Brien Heating for a free estimate. brown and beige, the cotton draperies flowered.

In a room off the 2½ car garage is the furnace and the water heater. Two other small rooms are yet to be finished for swimmers' dressing rooms.

The exterior of the house is red Roman brick, with white trim and wide overhang. The garage doors are painted turquise to match the front door.

A wide planter box extends around the outside wall of the living room. Opening from the living room is the large, square porch that will be screened this summer.

Visitors at night are welcomed by a cheerful glow from two lanterns set on low pillars on either side of the drive. There are walks along both sides of the house, with a door into the kitchen.

Planning, partitioning and equipping are the secrets of good storage facilities in the home.

Acoustical Aids Do Work Better in a Tight House

• • •

Acoustical materials won't prevent the passage of outside noises into the home. Homever, a few precautions will help cut down the noise of traffic and other street noises from invading the home.

Most important is a tight house. Weather stripping and the use of sealed double glass windows are the best methods of preventing noise from entering the home. Trees and shrubbery will shut off some street noise, and a high tight fence shielding the home from a busy thoroughfare is an effective sound barrier.

When planning the construction of a new home, it's a good idea to discuss the problem of sound conditioning with the builder and architect who can advise on methods of home design for quite living.

• • •

In summertime, of course, you're out of luck as far as shutting out noises by closing the windows tightly. Still, there may come a day when air conditioning is so widespread that homes will be sealed units where heat and humidity as welll as out-of-door sounds will no longer bother us.

Vets Urged To Hasten Home Deals

BY ROBERT E. HOYT
Washington Bureau Staff

WASHINGTON — If you're a World War II veteran, and you want to buy a home, do it now, says the House Veterans' Affairs Committee.

About 13 million veterans are eligible for GI home insurance benefits. Only 3½ million have used them.

• • •

THE DEADLINE for qualifying is July, 1957. The committee has been told that a last-minute rush would overwhelm the nation's builders and cause a "terrific inflation" of building costs.

Albert M. Cole, housing and home finance administrator, told the committee the building industry could only be counted on for 1,200,000 building "starts" in a year.

In 1955, the industry extended itself to 1,300,000, he said, but it's going at capacity and couldn't absorb a "boom."

There has been some committee discussion of extending the deadline but, as one member pointed out, "It's entirely problematical—and I'm afraid some vets who have been waiting around for a 'good buy' will be left holding the bag."

Under the GI home provisions a veteran can buy a home with little or no down payment and with up to 30 years to pay off the mortgage.

These Houses Have to Be Seen to Be Appreciated

SPLIT-LEVEL DESIGN — Smart styling gives this split-level house unity in design. The wide sweeping roof is covered with marble chips. Heavy butt shingles and vertical siding with panels of flush plywood distinguish the facade. Note vine trellis in front.

UPPER LEVELS — The floor plan for the upper levels shows the front entrance at grade with balcony dining room, living room and kitchen four steps up from foyer. Bedroom level is nine steps up from living room. Three fireplaces and garden terrace are among features.

LOWER LEVELS — The lower levels include a large recreation room with sliding glass doors to lower garden terrace. This room is one step down from foyer. Optional basement is seven steps lower.

Press House of the Week Emphasizes Split-Levels

A home that demonstrates economic advantages of split-level planning, as well as the glamor which this style adds to interiors is shown in Design HW-1 for The House of The Week.

In every community, the split-level house is proving to be the most popular type of dwelling since one-story ranch styles stole the show from two-story homes. this plan combines advantages of both one-story and two-story arrangements. When properly laid out, it adds three bonus features that its predecessors usually lack:

1. Extra high ceilings in living and dining rooms, rising nearly two stories high.
2. A sun-lighted and dry recreation room at grade level.
3. A garage in the house with a short driveway to the road—boons to be appreciated in bad weather.

Herman H. York, an authority on home architecture, prepared Design HW-1 partly as an answer to critics of the split-level. He calls this plan a logical answer to the way people live.

THIRD ZONE

"We automatically divide our homes into day and night zones," York says. "Lately a third zone has developed. A lot of factors—television, hi-fi, increasing parental concern over adolescents, family hobbies, more home conveniences, traffic congestion and high prices for public amusement—all have combined to center new interest in the home.

"This trend has created the third zone—a multi-purpose zone. The family room, recreation room, hobby or game room—whatever you choose to call it—is now highly important.

One of the best ways to fit these three zones into a house on a modest piece of land is to use three levels for the three major uses."

For good looks, Architect York has used an unbroken roof line over this split level house. This, he says is his answer to critics who have contended that split level structures "look like two separate houses locked in mortal combat."

This plan comprises a unity throughout. From its front entrance foyer, where you find a convenient coat closet, you can go down one step into a big recreation room which has sliding glass doors to a rear garden terrace.

This big room has space in a corner for a soda bar for the youngsters. There also is access to the garage and to a private lavatory. If you build this house with a basement under the living room, there are only seven steps down to an open cellar of 796 square feet.

From the foyer, you look up to a balcony dining room on the living room and kitchen level which is just four steps up from the entrance. The living room, measuring 23 by 15 feet, has a glass wall facing an upper garden terrace. The living room ceiling rises nearly two stories high at the fireplace wall. Here you can look up to a balcony den which is easily curtained off to form a studio bedroom for a guest.

You can have three or more fireplaces. In addition to the main fireplace in the living room, the big chimney can accommodate flues for a barbecue fireplace on the terrace, a fireplace in the balcony den, and there is a good space for a fireplace in the recreation room.

Big enough for a family needing three or four bedrooms, this house has two complete bathrooms in addition to its extra lavatory. One bathroom serves the master bedroom and has a stall shower. The other is a divided bathroom with a spare lavatory in its entrance alcove, separated from the other facilities by a sliding door.

This May Help

Statistics of use in obtaining rough estimates for building costs for Design HW-1 in each locality includes:

Beware of Rust

It's a wise policy always to use aluminum nails in all places exposed to the weather. Galvanizing is not permanent insurance against rust. Stains bleeding through paint from oxidizing nailheads can give any house a case of rust measles.

Plastic Pipe Is Solution to Gardener's Sprinkling Woes

Plastic pipe of the semi-flexible polyethylene type, which does not burst if water freezes in it, has opened new fields of garden improvements for the do-it-yourself home handyman.

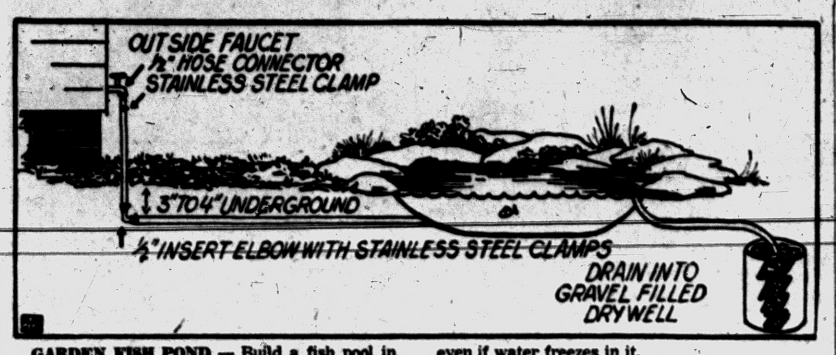

* * *

Because this pipe can be laid just under the sod at a depth of no more than 3 to 4 inches, and calls for no complicated draining system, outdoor plumbing projects are made easy for the amateur.

POOLS AND WATERFALLS

Goldfish ponds for the garden can be kept constantly supplied with fresh water, miniature fountains and waterfalls can be constructed, underground lawn sprinkling systems can be laid, bird baths can be erected and convenient hose outlets can be provided in far corners of a property.

Deep trenching of 2 feet or more is eliminated in the use of plastic pipe. The material is handled similarly to regular garden hose. Lengths of this material can be joined with plastic couplings and stainless steel clamps. A screwdriver and a sharp knife are the only tools required.

GARDEN FISH POND — Build a fish pool in your garden, using plastic pipe which won't burst, even if water freezes in it.

An easy way to build a garden fish pool is to run plastic pipe from a nearby hose bib to the selected location for the little pond. Excavate and shape a depression for the pond. No concrete form is needed. The soil will give you a shaping that will be even enough

READY-MIX IS HANDY

The quickest way to line this pool is use ready-mixed dry concrete available in hardware stores and building supply houses. This mixture of cement and sand needs only the addition of enough water to make it workable. If you prefer to mix your own concrete, a mixture of 3½ parts sand to one of Portland cement should be adequate.

* * *

Line the hole with about 2 inches of concrete, sloping the bottom toward a drain hole. Connect the drain with a dry-well or other disposal with a length of plastic pipe. Use another length, connected to the dry-well for an overflow to keep the water in the pool at a desired depth.

* * *

Use Those Cans!

Empty coffee cans are handy when you tackle a paint job. After mixing paint you can pour a convenient amount into such a tin and find it is wide enough to accommodate your brush. A quart can of paint will fit inside a coffee can in which overside drippings will fall. A clean can is handy for cleaning brushes in turps or spirits.

Here's How to Refinish That Outdoor Furniture

Wooden furniture will require different treatment from rattan or wicker furniture. Where replacement of parts is necessary, use the piece to be replaced as a pattern for the new piece. This is an easy way to make several duplicates of an old favorite piece of furniture.

To refinish old furniture, clean the surface with water and detergent and let the piece dry thoroughly. If the paint is worn or chipped, brush with a wire brush, sand smooth, and feather the edges. Touch up these spots with an enamel undercoater. Fill cracks or holes with wood putty, let dry, sand, and touch up with enamel undercoater.

If any metal parts or fasteners are rusting, sand them clean and apply a metal undercoat such as red lead. If the furniture has been waxed, it will be necessary to remove the wax with wax remover before applying an undercoat to the entire surface. If it is desired to remove all the old finish, use a paint or varnish remover. Apply on a small area at a time, allowing the old finish to soften before scraping it with a putty knife.

Sand the entire surface and apply a primer or undercoat. To apply the final coat, flow on the enamel evenly, being careful not to let it collect on the edges. If it should be necessary to apply a second coat of enamel, sand the first coat lightly to roughen the surface to provide anchorage for the second coat. Be sure the piece to be painted is dust free before applying enamel or undercoater.

* * *

Most rattan furniture has a clear finish and needs only a coat of spar varnish to freshen it up. If enamel is preferred, use it in the same way as on wooden furniture. On wicker furniture, spraying is preferable to brushing in applying a finish. Watch carefully to prevent accumulations of the finish at wicker intersections because these may become tacky and present a hazard to clothes.

Extra Bathroom Gives Tiny Home That 'Big' Feeling

Adding an extra bathroom gives a small home that big-home feeling. A second or third bath helps relieve the pressure of a growing family, gives the family room to spread out.

Chances are you already know where to locate the extra bath. If not, hold a family consultation. Decide whether the attic or basement will do. Perhaps the porch can be closed off. Maybe part of the garage or carport can be used.

Other desirable locations for a second or third bath are near the bedrooms, the recreation area or off the laundry room.

The cost of installing an extra bathroom can be held down considerably by locating it near the existing plumbing system. In many cases, the new fixtures can be connected to the present piping.

For the utmost comfort and convenience, a three bedroom house should have a minimum of two bathrooms. A four bedroom house should have at least two and a half bathrooms.

Ask Your Nurseryman About Best Area Trees

Among flowering trees which better withstand the fumes, smoke and heavier shade common in the cities are certain kinds of flowering crabapples, magnolias, dogwood, hawthorns and flowering cherries. Your local nurseryman can suggest trees best suited to the conditions prevailing in your city.

Ancients Used Cedar

The use of cedar—oiled and fragrant—was universal in the great temples of ancient Greece, Rome and Jerusalem. King Hiram of Tyre, who furnished much of the wood for the temple of King Solomon, is generally regarded as the first great lumber merchant.

Landlords Beware! You Can Get Stuck

If you plan to rent or lease your house, it is not wise to give the tenant permission to repair or remodel the house. Failure of the tenant to pay the contractor could result in a mechanic's lien against the property, which would involve the owner.

George F. Anderson, legal expert for the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards, says that even an agreement in a lease cannot deprive a contractor of his lien. "He alone can waive the right to a lien," says Anderson.

Get That Rust!

Most water heaters should be drained monthly to remove dirt and rust which may discolor your plumbing fixtures. The average water heater can be cleaned simply by attaching your garden hose to the drain cock and letting the water run until it is clear.

Outside the house, use the vacuum cleaner to spray insecticides, to paint-spray fences, trellises and arbors, to apply disinfectants, to curry horses and to dry and "fluff" dogs after their bath.

Plenty of Storage Space Needed for Ideal Kitchen

An abundance of storage space is a necessity if one is to be completely satisfied with a kitchen—particularly with today's pantryless kitchen.

A newly designed kitchen may contain the latest in time-saving appliances, it may have them arranged in step-saving sequences, yet if the storage space is inadequate, the kitchen will be unhandy, kitchen planners tell us. And you won't be wholly happy with it, despite its attractiveness!

The amount of storage space to allow in a remodeled or new kitchen installation depends upon size of the floor area to a great extent. It depends, also, on the kind of cooking the homemaker does, how much cooking she does, and how large her family is. These influence the amount of food, utensils, and dishes to be stored.

BIG INVESTMENT

Since most kitchens are a long-service investment, particularly steel kitchens which are built to last a housetime, wise planners should allow for as much varied storage as the kitchen can conveniently hold. Even though all of the steel units are not installed at once, if they are included in the plans, they can easily be added as storage requirements grow.

It isn't only the number of storage cabinets that assures satisfaction with a kitchen. The kind of interior features developed for various base and wall units are important too. The right interior design can double the convenience of the storage cabinets. Planning experts suggest that you fit the storage units to the type of supplies that logically will be stored in them. Producers of steel kitchen cabinets offer a host of intriguing and helpful interior stylings to meet today's food and small equipment storage problems.

There are deep steel base cabinet drawers, for example, which are equipped with a wire rack to hold pot and pan lids upright. A narrow base unit for placement near the range contains a sliding peg board banded in steel which glides out to expose large sized cooking utensils which are hung on it.

If you are a frequent baker, you can keep flour handy for sifting directly into a bowl, by means of a flour-sifter unit which attaches to the underneath of a shelf in a wall cabinet. And you can keep your electric mixer handy in a special mixer-shelf cabinet.

All of these and many more special features are available in today's steel cabinets. Thus the matter of choosing the right kind of storage cabinets for a steel kitchen is largely a question of knowing the general quantity of food and cooking equipment you will be storing in the cabinets.

Slipcover Time's Here With Bright New Color

The "slippery" season has ended for the homemaker—at least in her living room. Upholstery fabrics, even when neatly fitted to chairs or couches at the time of making, usually "slip and slide" at seat and pillow corners, and arms.

This is especially true when youngsters are around to give furniture maximum usage. A light rubber backing for slipcover fabrics has eliminated this slipping. Colors, patterns, textures and easy working qualities of the firm's high quality fabrics have been retained.

Here Are the Widths

Broadloom carpets and rugs are usually woven nine, twelve, fifteen and eighteen feet wide. Chenille can be woven thirty feet wide, patterned or plain. Narrow carpetings are woven in 27 inch and 36 inch widths. Rugs cut from rolls can be any length wished and seaming makes any width possible.

Noise Is Home Wrecker Especially in Ranch Type

Noise can be an invisible home wrecker. It can make a shambles of the traditional concept of the "peace and quiet" of the home, spawn short tempers, nervous tension and cause actual physical discomfort.

* * *

Families in ground level ranch-type homes, where there is open planning construction with living areas grouped together on the same floor, are usually harder hit by home noise than those living in conventional two-story houses.

In the one-story home, members are by necessity in closer contact and their activities inevitably create noise. For instance, children playing in a living room may create noise that disturbs the head of the household who is trying to snooze in a nearby bedroom.

But noise is by no means entirely the product of the one-story dwelling. Ironically, a lo tof noise is the fault of modern equipment in the home and the use of smooth, polished interior surfaces.

NOISY KITCHENS

Take the kitchen. The wonderful mechanical labor-saving devices are the noise-makers there. The concert of noise in the kitchen is composed of the drone from the refrigerator, whir of clothes washers, dish washers and electric driers, and the buzz of juicers and mixers. All this racket is supported by a cacophony of sound effects generated by clattering dishes and pots and pans at mealtimes.

But home noise isn't confined to the kitchen. There's more noise in other rooms from jangling telephones, slamming doors, flushing toilets, gurgling pipes and blaring TV, radio and phonograph sets. Smooth surfaces—enamel and hard surface walls and ceilings, polished tile and glass picture windows so popular in today's interiors — all these too reflect sound and create noise.

The homeowner can take heart in the assurance that something can be done to check home din.

REFLECT LIGHT

Acoustical materials have been developed to help lick the problem of noise. Ceilings of acoustical tiles check noise by trapping it in fissures or in hundreds of little holes scattered across the face of the tile. Instead of bouncing off smooth ceilings and walls and returning as noise, sounds take a one-way trip to acoustical tiles, which absorb up to 80 per cent of the sounds that strike them.

Besides absorbing noise, acoustical tiles reflect light and fit in with almost any decorative scheme, traditional or modern. One type is made of wood fiber and is drilled with scattered holes in an interesting allover random effect.

Low in cost, fibrous materials are a natural for installation by the home mechanic. He'll find it an easy job to cement the material to any hard, smooth surface. Or, he can nail or screw the tiles to a solid wood base or to wood furring strips. Corner holes are shallower than others to give extra fixing strength when nailing or screwing the tile in place.

Tile can also be applied to suspended lath and gypsum sheathing bases by cementing, or they can be screwed to suspended gypsum sheathing.

Homemakers needn't worry about the tiny holes serving as dust catchers. Since there's no air circulation within the perforations, they won't attract dust and dirt. Dust won't readily sling to the painted white surface of the tiles either.

Use Special Paints When Doing Screens

The frames of screens should be painted so as to match the color of their companion window and door frames. This may mean, of course, that the inside colors differ from the outer ones.

The screen wire should also be painted—on both sides—and before the frame is coated. Steel or galvanized screens need the protective coating to prevent their rusting. While copper and bronze wire screens do not rust, they also should have a protective coating because a corrosive wash develops that stains and disfigures any light-colored areas below them.

Spar varnish or special screen paint should be used. Both types of coatings can be applied with a spray, brush, short-napped roller or an inexpensive screen-painting tool, made from a block of wood and covered with carpet on one side. If any of the mesh have become filled with paint, it's wise to jar the screen or go over it with a dry brush, before the paint sets, to keep the openings in the mesh from becoming clogged.

Central Heating in Lake Houses

"Operation Home Improvement" applies to the summer cottage as well as the home in the city or suburbs.

With more and more summer cottages being used in the early spring and late fall, the installation of some form of central automatic heating is desirable.

Until a few years ago, many owners of summer cottages could not enjoy the advantages of oil heating because delivery service by tank truck was not available.

In recent years, however, there has been a steady extension of the territory served by fuel oil dealers. Most summer cottages are now within the delivery range of one or more fuel oil dealers.

CAREFREE HEAT

One of the types of central automatic heating that can be installed with the minimum of cutting into walls and joists is an oil-fired hot water heating system using baseboards as heat distributors.

Modern hot water boilers are so compact that room for the boiler can usually be found in the kitchen or utility room, if there is no basement. The installation of automatic heating can be financed on the deferred payment plan with monthly payments spread over three years.

Tip on Asphalt Tile

Asphalt tile is a tough floor covering. It will wear almost forever in average household use. But remember it will disintegrate quickly if oil, grease or turpentine is spilled on it. Wipe up such substances quickly.

DIVIDER-BUFFET — This divider buffet can be used in a number of ways. It can go against a wall or be used to separate room areas for certain purposes. Its removable divider units rest on felt pads and can be built up to whatever height you choose. These units may also be used as bookcases or to back up sofas. The divider-buffet has four drawers, one of which is sectioned for silver. There is more spacious storage space behind a hinged door. This piece of furniture comes in natural maple or dark walnut.

New Color 'Nomad' Is a Greyish-Yellow

PORTLAND, Ore (INS)—A new color in home furnishings that goes equally well with pinks, blues and yellows has been introduced by a major paint company in Portland.

* * *

The color is described as a "new neutral" that not only provides a good background for popular home furnishing colors, but also "changes character" according to the colors around it.

Use Catch-All Pail

Use a pail as a catch-all when going about those household minor repair jobs. The pail will keep the hammer, pails, screwdriver, pliers and other tools handy and prevent fumbling for them, and will also serve as a waste basket for shavings, sawdust, broken glass or other scraps, thus keeping the floor neat.

Chameleon-Like Furniture Fits Any Style Period

NEW YORK (INS)—The latest furniture has a chameleon-like quality—it changes period depending on what company it keeps.

* * *

Fewer blond woods, for example, are being shown now—instead tables and cabinets are being shown in dark teak and walnut shades. Combine the darker color with simple lines and you have a piece of furniture that fits in equally well with both colonial and modern settings.

Hutch tops to fit on top of dining room chests and sideboards are being made of black metal tubing. This gives you an open back effect that is suitable for wrought-iron type modern, but when decorated with traditional China becomes colonial looking.

Of course, the conventional hutch tops, complete with spice drawers which are handy for storing everyday items where you won't have to bend down for them, are still popular.

* * *

The bench is another type of furniture that won't make up its mind what it's going to be. In maple wood with an openwork backrest, benches can fit any period, depending on whether the rest of the furniture highlights or detracts from the detailing.

Arrange Your Rooms to Tie-In Features

Don't ignore architectural features of a room as you place furniture. Take note of high windows or a tall mantle, and balance these with furniture. Opposite walls should appear evenly balanced in quantity and arrangement. Place chairs and couches so that they make conversation groups. In a long room, one end shouldn't appear crowded, while another has too little furniture.

Distribution should be fairly even. Don't give the effect of under-furnishing or over-furnishing a room. As long as you're moving, move the excess pieces into another place.

Keep furniture away from natural passageways and doorways. People living in a room should be able to circulate freely without stumbling, tripping, and darting to avoid chairs and tables which are in the way. Watch the swing of doors, openings of windows, electrical or heating devices, and keep furniture out of their way. Be practical in placing furniture.

Incidentally, serve everybody a cup of coffee before moving and a good lunch afterwards. Everybody will end up smiling, as they view the room's new look.

Put Fence on Line

Don't guess about your boundary line in putting up a fence. Have a survey made and put the fence exactly on the line. If a fence is set in from your property line and no correction is made for 15 or 30 years, the land outside of the fence may be forfeited and may cause title trouble in any future sale.

Transformation of House Siding Creates Complete

Houses will vie with apparel for the spotlight when fashion news is reported this spring and for the remainder of 1956, modernization experts predict.

* * *

Heeding the appeal of Operation Home Improvement, a nationwide movement, thousands of families are expected to give their homes modern smartness and weather protection through the re-siding of exterior walls.

Transformations of this kind have been made practical through the development of siding materials which can be applied right over old walls.

First in the field—and still the most widely used — are asbestos-cement siding shingles, which have been a remodeling favorite for nearly 25 years.

NEW 'LUXURY LOOK'

Home owners who are making "'56 the year to fix" will find asbestos siding shingles have been given a new luxury appearance through smart new styling and decorator - approved color treatments.

At the same time, the shingles retain the qualities of fire-safety, permanence and low upkeep which won them their early widespread acceptance.

The new texture treatments and colors of asbestos siding shingles, home stylists report, are completely pleasing to modern taste. The rich new colors include greens, blues, coral, browns, ivory, grays and white. Pastel shades are popular. The color often is applied to give a two-tone effect.

* * *

For dramatic change which it brings to an old house, asbestos siding has a top spot among modernization and remodeling materials. They bring new and striking beauty, plus a new life of practically maintenance-free service.

OVER OLD WALLS

Asbestos siding can be applied directly over old wood walls. It also can be applied over stucco walls, if the stucco is in reasonably good condition.

If the stucco wall has deteriorated, the best practice is to remove the stucco and then apply the new siding to the old sheathing.

Accentuated shadow lines between horizontal shingle courses, which help to bring out the full beauty of the asbestos siding, can be obtained in any of several ways. One is to use wood nailing strips. Another is to employ fiber board shingle backers made for that purpose.

HAVE YOU A PLACE TO GO ... IF A DEADLY Tornado Strikes?
This is not meant as "Scare Advertising" ...
but safety council figures show that persons who have a basement or a storm cellar to retreat to in case of a tornado have a far better chance of surviving.
Therefore, we urge you to give serious thought to constructing a storm cellar of your own ... a place where you and your family can go for protection. Either built underground, adjacent to your house ... or maybe even better yet, a small storage basement in your home.
You can do this job yourself for a surprisingly small amount of money ... using Tru-Built Concrete Blocks. Visit us TODAY ... for estimates!

STAIRWAY SAFETY — Worn stairs are best protected in this manner: fill depressions in stairs with a rubber-based mastic and cap with an extruded aluminum, nonslip safety tread. This tread has ribs of abrasive material set in a heat-treated aluminum base which will remain non-slip for years.

Stairway Repair Can Save Your Life, or Your Money

Growing awareness of safety in the mind of John G. Public focuses greater attention on the hazards inherent in stairways.

* * *

"It is well that people became keenly aware of the dangers of unsafe stairways since falls, many of them on stairways, account for more accidental deaths than any other single cause, not counting automobile accidents," a safety spokesman explains.

One of the principal danger areas is the heavy traffic-volume stairways: those used by a large number of people in commercial, industrial and public buildings. These stairs are subject to a tremendous amount of continual wear. Even the hardest stone or concrete steps gradually become cupped and slippery, it was reported.

The worn steps must be refinished, made level and non-slip, but there are other things to take into consideration. The stairs should have sufficient light. A rule of thumb is that if a newspaper can be read anywhere on the stairs then there is ample light.

SHOULD HAVE RAILS

All stairs should have handrails. They should run the full length of the stairs for handrails any shorter lead to accident. The rails should also be capable of supporting 200 pounds anywhere. Stairs of course should be free of obstruction, color should be used to full advantage in making the treads and risers stand out.

Treads shoud be also protected by a safety tread. One of the best is a new extruded aluminum tread with ridges of diamond - hard abrasive set into them. These treads are not subject to the usual deterioration because the non-slip, abrasive ribs, supported in a sturdy heat-treated aluminum base, are constructed of the same material used for the manufacture of grinding wheels.

When installing safety treads, the worn steps must be filled in and leveled. This is accomplished through the use of a recently developed rubber-based mastic leveling compound which is troweled into worn depressions.

* * *

Giving stairs in building where traffic is heavy this full treatment of lighting, handrails, paint, and safety treads will not only make them as safe as possible for public use, but will also give the step treads many more years of useful life than is normally possible.

Home Dental Lavatory

Dental lavatories are becoming a popular bathroom feature in new homes. They help relieve congestion by providing special facilities for brushing your teeth. When in use, water flows from the flushing rim to keep the dental lavatory clean and sanitary.

Dreary Kitchens Things of Past

Color, in fact, is so important in adding distinction to today's kitchen that it really should be given the most careful thought before engaging in extensive remodeling of old workrooms.

This doesn't mean white is all but forgotten. It simply means that white is being used now as a color, both as an accent tone and as a soft, overall background shade against which brighter colors are set.

If you are planning on using the new colored steel cabinets and appliances in order to have the strength and permanence of steel along with the bright new colors, be sure to investigate the many tones that are available.

You'll find that none of them is just an ordinary color that may wear out its welcome rapidly. Because of the durability of the baked enamel finish on steel cabinets, each color is carefully blended and mixed by paint specialists and re-tested many times over until just the right tones are achieved.

Most of them are untiring, easy-to-live-with shades and are wonderfully easy to blend with other colors too.

These factors are important in the remodeling of a kitchen today. For regardless of the emphasis being given to the decorative scheme, you expect a steel kitchen to give you many years of service without costly maintenance.

Vapor Barriers Needed in Hollow Core Masonry

When the wall of a building is constructed of hollow-core masonry units, the walls should be sealed with vapor berriers at both the top and bottom of the wall. If this is not done, it's possible for moisture to make its way up through the hollow core to the attic space. While it is much easier to install such vapor barriers while a house is being constructed, a reasonably good job can be obtained with vapor barrier paper and mastic, even after the house is completed.

Mechanical Brain Now

The thermostatically top burner heat control, first introduced last year in connection with built-in griddles is now adopted for wider top-of-the-range use. This mechanical "brain" is now available with one or two top burners and two manufacturers offer a convertor grid so that a thermostatically heat controlled griddle may be converted to an extra large top burner, also thermostatically heat controlled.

There Are 1027 Kinds of Trees in U.S., Alaska

There are 1027 different species of trees in the United States and Alaska, yet one half of the nation's annual softwood requirements are manufactured from a single species—Douglas fir.

This species is unique in that it is very strong for its weight, and thus one of the most popular kinds of lumber for framing, floor joists, rafters and structural timbers, yet it has remarkable beauty which makes it most attractive for interior finish and exterior siding.

Separate Entry Solves Many Gardening Woes

If you are planning to improve your basement with recreation room, workshop, laundry area or other rooms, it may pay you to start by creating a separate entrance to the basement from the outdoors, suggests the Institute of Home Designers.

The entrance will simplify bringing construction materials into the basement. It may also save much time by enabling you to use larger pieces of material like wallboard —than would be possible otherwise.

The separate entrance will simplify carrying of furnishings into the finished basement, and will permanently enhance the value of your house.

To estimate the surface of lattice work for figuring the amount of paint needed, measure the front area and multiply by 4.

Building? — Buy Enduring Materials

Many home buyers are faced with the selection of a baffling array of materials when building a new house. One item can do such and such compared to another. Its cost is higher or lower. It may be made of a newly developed material or of one that's been in use for many years. How to decide on the right one for you?

Generally, a good guide is how well it will stand up over a long period of time. A home is the biggest purchase most of us make in our lifetimes. It should last at least that long. Permanent materials not only make a home more enjoyable but they are more economical in the long run.

How can you judge whether a material can take it? One hint may be the manufacturer's own instructions for installing the product. If it must be handled with kid gloves during construction, find out why. For example, certain types of non-metallic house sewer pipe require elaborate precautions when installed.

Some of these precautions are: Keep pipe trench free of stones and debris; if trench bed is wet or soft, add selected dry fill tamping down until firm and smooth; in assembling pipe, tap couplings lightly or they will split; in burying the pipe, cover with special, stone-free backfill to a depth of six inches before covering with regular earth available at building site; avoid using heavy grading equipment during this operation or pipe may be crushed; in storing, don't pile pipe to high or bottom pipe lengths may be deformed.

Such elaborate instructions may indicate that the home buyer is better off spepding a few more dollars for a rugged house sewer material like cast iron soil pipe, which requires no special handling and has an established reputation for long, troublefree service. The same rule of thumb applies to other building materials used in a home.

A flexible rubber ladder, says the magazine "new product digest," has been designed for use on the roof where it will mold to the contour and won't slip, even when wet.

Own a Summer Cottage? Then, This May Help You

Summer cottages often are more dangerous than year-around dwellings, fire officials say, because most cottages are not properly protected against fire.

* * *

Most fires in summer homes are caused, like anywhere else, by carelessness. When filled with the spirit of vacationtime, many people become more careless, with a resulting increase in destructive fires.

The lake or mountain cottage should be thoroughly cleaned and inspected for dangerous, fire-breeding conditions.

Rubbish, which is allowed to accumulate in places where a carelessly discarded match or cigarette may reach it, is a fire hazard. Galvanized steel refuse cans may be used to eliminate this hazard. These cans are made of fireproof steel and are equipped with sturdy covers to confine any blaze which may result from spontaneous combustion.

WATCH SPARKS

When burning rubbish, take care that flying sparks don't spoil holiday happiness by landing on a dry roof and starting a costly and dangerous fire. Burn the rubbish in a steel rubbish burner, equipped with a cover, and designed to permit free air circulation while confining fiery fragments to the interior of the burner.

Safety officials also recommend that electrical wiring be carefully examined for short circuits which can result in fire. Whenever possible, they say, avoid the use of candles and kerosene lamps, and store fuel for power mowers and outboard motors well away from buildings in safe, steel fuel cans.

Since most summer cottages are not near organized fire departments, the cottage should be equipped with fire fighting apparatus. A fire extinguisher and several fire pails, filled with sand or water, may be placed at strategic spots around the cottage.

* * *

New Furniture Polish Squirts From Its Can

A pepped-up new furniture polish squirts out of its red topped can as a foamy white cream. This is a silicone base polish which is packed under pressure into a small, non-spillable can (a factor when you have a toddler "helping").

Only a tiny dab of foam, dispensed through a spout, is needed to polish an entire table top.

Grandma Chair Highlights Room

Its Fine Wood Makes Refinishing Work Well Worthwhile

NEW YORK (INS)—You can add a beautiful touch to a room if you've got a good piece of furniture in the attic.

* * *

There's nothing quite so beautiful as fine wood, and you can make your Aunt Tilly's heirloom table or chair a main attraction in your home.

"Invariably fine old furniture needs refinishing," claims designer Leonard Haber. "Just repolishing it won't do. You must attack the veneers and insure they are solidly attached to the core.

"You can have it refinished with shellac-based French polish or the more modern method of clear lacquer finish and a hand rub, but this must be done by a trained finisher. Unlike most of today's trends, this is not a home craft job."

If it's a chair you are dealing with, or any upholstered piece, Haber advises that "the fabric should be chosen to heighten the character of the frame.

"Warm woods are set off by cool colors, and cool finishes can be heightened by warmer fabrics," he continued. "It's a matter of contrast. Your artistic judgment will tell you how much color and contrast is desired."

* * *

He also advised to keep in mind when selecting fabrics whether you want the chair to be comfortable or a show piece that won't get much wear.

Living With TV Gives Birth to Different Design

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS)—TV has stepped up the demand for well designed, better quality living room furniture.

* * *

With more traffic in the living room, people are looking for furniture that shows thought in design, choice of wood and good workmanship, and they want attractive and sturdy fabrics in upholstering, according to Elwood Powell, west coast merchandiser.

Another result of TV as the focal point for home recreation has been the demand for larger davenports, more occasional chairs, more end tables and coffee tables, and for additional storage space, either in chests or in drawers in occasional tables.

Pacific northwesterners, says Powell, are conservative in their choice of home furnishings and look for quality and designs that will live rather than extreme or ultramodern furnishings. As an example, they prefer heavy, bulky davenports instead of the long, lean lines of some modern designers.

* * *

And between 40 and 50 per cent of the buyers in the Pacific Northwest select sectional divans, because they offer more versatility in room arrangement.

RIDING MOWER — This riding mower marketed by Meade takes either a reel-type or a rotary cutter or can be used with a grass catcher. This compact unit moves either forward or in reverse, cuts a swath 24-30 inches wide, and is powered by a Kohler air-cooled engine.

Babylonians Bathed in Own Tubs at Home

Historical records reveal bathing was popular in ancient Babylonia where a 15 by 15 foot bathroom was installed in King Urninmar's palace at Ashunnak. Since bathtubs were unknown in those days, the King stood in the middle of a room while servants doused him with cold water which was drained through clay pipes set in the floor.

* * *

Years later, about 1300 B. C., Egyptians and Persians built a rough, clay pipe system through which water was carried to private and public baths. Still later, Roman engineers discovered that warm water could be supplied by placing copper vessels beside a furnace.

* * *

With the advent of a warm-water system, bathing became extremely popular. Roman emperors used state revenues to erect huge buildings containing public baths with hot and cold vapor rooms. Many wealthy Romans had gigantic rooms solely for bathing purposes.

* * *

Many of the rooms had sunken floors under which lead and bronze pipes ran across open fires to provide hot water. Bathtubs were made of marble and embellished with silver and gold decorations.

Glass Block Is Easy to Use When Building

For the do-it-yourself enthusiast, glass block is a comparatively simple material with which to work and achieve end results which can match the efforts of the professional builder.

Exterior panels are set in mortar in much the same manner as other masonry materials. Interior panels which will not be exposed to moisture or severe condensation conditions can be built with a "set-in-wood" method which involves the use of a system of wood strips and wedges to create a firm, lasting panel.

Panels and partitions built with this method can easily be dismantled and relocated, using the same materials.

Well Sealed Wallboard Will Take Decorations

The increasingly popular dry-wall construction is not at all difficult to decorate attractively. The various types of wallboard are, however, very absorbent and need to be well sealed with a good coat of primer. Before applying the primer, fill the joints between the panels with spackling and cover with tape that is especially designed for the purpose. Also fill all nail-head holes with a spackling material and sand them even with the surface.

Postwar Bldgs. Now on Display

Pictures of the most significant examples of architecture in the United States since 1945 are on display at Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries. Henry-Russell Hitchcock, leading historian of modern architecture in the country, selected 43 buildings as outstanding in the post-war era.

In addition to the large photographs, there are descriptive texts and plans and stereo color slides. The pictures are on display throu May 27.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For the Home

MAKE OWN FILE HANDLES

Two methods of making handles for files are suggested by Popular Mechanics, the famous do-it-yourself magazine. Illustrated at the top is a handle made from part of a wooden coat hanger. Drill a hole in one end to receive a file tang; then file the opposite end and edges smooth.

Blasts GI Home Deadline

WASHINGTON — Asserting that termination of the GI home loan program in July, 1957, would be a "step backward in the task of providing good housing opportunities for all Americans," the President of the National Association of Home Builders today urged that Congress extend the benefits to 1960.

* * *

"To permit this highly essential program to die, an act which Congress now is considering, would be a move in precisely the opposite direction from the trends of housing legislation in recent years," declared Joseph B. Haverstick, Dayton, Ohio, top spokesman for the home building industry.

The home builders and major veterans groups have recommended that Congress extend the program, due to expire on July 25, 1957, for three more years. The program enables an eligible veteran to obtain a 30-year government guaranteed home loan at an interest rate of 4½ per cent.

Haverstick said the recent action of the House of Representatives to permit a 12-month grace period for the completion of contract-supported GI loan applications still in process on July 25, 1957, falls far short of the actual requirement. He added:

NOT NECESSARY

"The house action, which has yet to be approved by the Senate, wouldn't change the expiration date of the program at all. This measure merely gives the Veterans Administration an additional year to process applications made before deadline.

"To allow the GI home loan program to die before 1960 would add immeasurably to the already difficult task of providing good private housing for lower and middle income families. The vast majority of veterans still are in age brackets well below those of maximum earning capacity and need the housing aids which the GI program makes available to them. Termination of the program in 1957 would be a step backward in providing good housing opportunities for all Americans."

The Dayton builder took sharp issue with the argument that the existing Federal Housing Administration program could take care of much of the present GI volume, which in 1955 accounted for more than 30 per cent of the tital starts.

* * *

He pointed out that present FHA down payment terms, calling for a minimum of 7 per cent in cash, plus closing costs, would prevent many thousands of otherwise-eligible veterans from purchasing homes.

Long Paint Brush Best for Painting Radiators

Before painting a radiator, be sure to clean it thoroughly. To protect the floor while you are painting, slide stiff paper under it. Use a long-handled 1½-inch brush and paint the insides of the flutings first. Unless you detach the radiator, there'll be areas you'll have to skip.

To estimate the amount of paint you'll need for the surfaces of a radiator, measure the front area and multiply by seven. If, for example, your radiator is 3 feet high and 4 feet long, you multiply the 12 square feet by 7—or figure on the same amount of paint as is needed for 84 square feet.

Wax Leather Tables

Your leather table tops will be much handsomer if you treat them to a coat of liquid furniture wax that needs no rubbing. The wax, which will also serve as a protective coating, is applied with a cloth, allowed to dry and the resultant haze wiped off.

Village of Mesick Awaits Hunters for Mushrooms

MESICK (AP)—The little village of Mesick, 30 miles southwest of Traverse City, literally has mushroomed into prominence for visitors from Indiana, Ohio and Illinois.

Numbers of autos from those three states have increased greatly in the past few weeks with the outstaters seeking the morel mushrooms growing profusely near eMsick.

* * *

"They come in so many different costumes," says one native. "Sometimes, on a warm day they trudge off into the woods dressed in deer hunting togs.. Then, as they get oo warm, they shed garments along the way. I've seen folks spend most of a day trying to backtrack to pick up clothes."

The picker takes a basket or cardboard box and heads for the picking area—away from the beaten path. Locating a patch of morels, he drops the container and pick away from it—first marking its location.

A small container—even a hat—holds the mushrooms freshly picked and is emptied into the large box. The process is repeated, moving the large container only when the area around it has been completely covered.

Two classes are designated by an open cap mushroom. Four are identified as closed cap and may be noted to have round tops or pointed tops.

Morels with the cap open at the bottom are less popular than the closed cap type. Called "stinkhorn" in most communities, the open cap has a pungent odor in cooking and contains more moisture—but is termed delicious on the table.

Guest mushroomers near Mesick are offered a good deal of advice about the rules of the woods.

It began to flow freely when some visiting pickers brought back bushels of morels which were pulled up rather than pinched off. Debate still rages whether pulling the mushrooms up damages futurue harvests, but—pro or con—pulling mushrooms is frowned on in Mesick.

Father Admits Killing of Infant

Sobbing Dad Confesses Choking of 9-Month-Old Son Last April 21

ALHAMBRA, Calif. (AP) — A conscience-stricken father says he killed his 9-month-old son in a fit of anger by choking him with a wad of bathroom tissue.

Police Chief Ray Buhman said Donald Bradshaw of Alhambra, a brokerage clerk in nearby Los Angeles, sobbed last night:

"I couldn't eat or sleep. I'm glad it's over now. Why did I do it? I loved him. I didn't want to hurt him. I don't know what came over me."

* * *

Buhman said the baby, Timothy Mark, was killed last April 21 while Bradshaw's wife, Adrienne, 20, was out shopping. He said Bradshaw gave this account:

Bradshaw was watching baseball on television when the infant started crying. The father went to the kitchen and got him a glass of water. Some of it spilled on the floor and Bradshaw wiped it up with the tissue.

* * *

The baby started to cry again and his father stuffed the paper into his mouth to quiet the child. The baby choked and was dead before arriving at a receiving hospital.

Buhman said police had been "satisfied" with the original explanation of the baby's death. Bradshaw first said the child scooped up the tissue and stuck it into his mouth while the father was out of the room.

* * *

Mrs. Bradshaw told police she would stand by her husband. They have been married a year and a half. Timothy was their only child. Bradshaw was booked on suspicion of murder.

Mountain Horse Still Wandering

Searchers to Plan Trip Up the Colorado Range for Snow-Bound Animal

BUENA VISTA, Colo. (AP)—Remember Elijah, Colorado's snowbound horse?

He's still wandering somewhere on the Collegiate range west of here and two Buena Vista brothers, Al and Bill Turner, set out early today in an effort to locate him.

* * *

Elijah disappeared from his mountain fastness 12,800 feet high on the Continental Divide a couple of weeks ago, presumably to forage for fresh grass at lower levels as the spring sun melted deep snow.

Two Gunnison, Colo., fliers, Wallace Powell and Gordon Warren, had been dropping hay and oats to Elijah since they spotted him in February, snow-trapped above timberline.

PLAN SEARCH

Now that spring has set in, the Turners planned to ride horseback up Cottonwood Trail in search of the big horse, named after the Biblical prophet who was fed by ravens.

Actually, the brothers said, Elijah is Bugs, one of their pack horses that apparently fled to the great outdoors to get away from women and automobiles.

A rescue party tramped through deep snow April 11-12 to Elijah's lofty perch and found him fat and frisky. But they left him there when Gunnson Mayor Ben Jorgensen had a pilot drop a note advising them Elijah was a ward of the State Humane Society and no effort should be made to remove him.

* * *

Although Elijah cannot be seen from the air, the Turners believe he is not far from where he was first spotted and they hope to get him back to civilization by Tuesday.

Vote on Bond Issue Thursday at Imlay

IMLAY CITY — The special village election will be held Thursday, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the Imlay City town hall.

The vote will be on the question of issuance of $200,000 in bonds to pay for the construction of a sewage treatment plant. Passage of this bond proposal will not mean an increase in taxes officials stated.

Construction of the plant and its operation will be paid for by those who use it by a sewage use charge.

City Man Hospitalized in Parking Lot Fight

A fight in a downtown parking lot yesterday afternoon sent one man to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment of knife wounds and another to jail, for investigation of felonious assault.

Ray Guy, 40, of 152 Mill St., who was released after treatment for flesh wounds on his shoulder and leg, will be asked to sign a complaint against Charles M. Shedd, 32, of 32 W. Chicago Ave., Det., Robert Wachal said.

Wachal alleged that the two men were still grappling when police officers arrived at the lot, 117 N. Perry St.

Government OKs State Aid for Jobless Wage Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government yesterday gave a qualified okay for states to help major auto producers put their new supplemental unemployment benefit plans into effect as scheduled on June 1.

Robert C. Goodwin, director of the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security, ruled that states may use administrative funds provided by the federal government to supply private employers with certain data necessary to process the payments.

However, Goodwin ruled the states can provide this information only to the extent that its issuance "will improve the effectiveness" of the state unemployment compensation system.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler are all due to start making payments on June 1. Under these plans, negotiated with the United Auto Workers union last year, the companies will pay from trust funds weekly sums supplementing state jobless benefits.

The combined state and private payments are to equal 65 per cent of an employe's regular take-home pay for the first four weeks of unemployment, and 60 per cent for the next 22 weeks.

GM, Ford and Chrysler have been contributing to the trust funds at the rate of 5 cents an hour worked by each employe for the past year. At their maximum level, the funds will aggregate about $250 million.

Under the SUB plans, a worker must qualify for state benefits to be eligible for the supplementary payments. Goodwin said that identification cards and written notices of state eligibility furnished employes by state offices should help establish entitlement to private benefits.

Earnings

The Higbie Manufacturing Co of Rochester reports earnings of $233,378.27 (after taxes) for the three quarters ended April 30. The firm cites sales figures of $4,416,741.65 for the same period, compared with $4,194,530 for the like nine months of 1955.

Net earnings of $26,976,021 have been reported by the Detroit Edison Co. for the 12 months ended April 30. The figure equals $2.43 a share and compared with a total of $23,889,284, or $2.21 a share, for the previous year. Gross revenues April 30 stood at $227,219,435, against $202,954,309 for the corresponding period a year ago. Total output by the company's power plants increased by 16 per cent over the 1954-55 period.

Spearing Big Carp Provides Real Sport

Royal Ottmar, West Bloomfield high student, is an avid angler for big carp—with a spear. The 16-year-old was pictured in a Pontiac Press photo holding a 29 pounder. "I've taken a lot of big ones, up there in west end of Pine Lake. Some were 26, 25, 20, 16 and 12 pounds."

Royal uses a 6-prong spear, sometimes gets into water that goes waist-deep, over his boots. "It's a lot of sport," he says. "I give away all the fish."

England's Duke of Kent returned from a French Riviera vacation to enter military training at the Royal Armoured Training School at Bovington, England.

Weeks Chides Credit Checks

Commerce Chief Says Clampdown May Cut Business Prospects

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks said today the Federal Reserve Board's latest clampdown on credit may depress business prospects somewhat.

* * *

Weeks, meeting here with his 165 - member Business Advisory Council, told reporters that because of its possible effect on business expansion, he disagrees with the reserve board's action last month in increasing discount rates. Such action tends to reduce borrowings by increasing interest rates.

The secretary thus agreed with Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, who told a congressional committee in Washington Thursday that if the decision had been his to make, he would not have acted as the board did.

MONEY, CREDIT DISCUSSED

Money and credit problems and the economic outlook were to be discussed in BAC's closed session today.

Business leaders attending the meeting said yesterday that they saw no need for a government-subsidized crash program for developing atomic power plants if Congress will write new rules for atomic patents and insurance.

* * *

They said private utilities are moving rapidly toward commercial nuclear power, and could go faster if what they called "obstacles" were removed. Eugene Holman, chairman of Standard Oil Co. and head of BAC, summarized the closed-door discussions for newsmen.

Business Notes

Harlow E. Willis, vice president of the Michigan Life Insurance Co. and superintendent of agencies, will be the main speaker May 24 during a luncheon meeting of the South Oakland County Life Underwriters Assn. in Royal Oak.

Some 40 insurance agents from Oakland County are expected to attend.

Willis will review topics discussed at the recent Michigan Sales Congress conducted by the Detroit Life Underwriters Assn. and the Michigan State Assn. of Life Underwriters.

News in Brief

A Ferndale man reported to have been driving 110 miles per hour began a 30-day sentence for reckless driving in Oakland County Jail Friday. Paul R. Wenz, 24, was arrested by West Bloomfield Township police after being clocked at 110, that department said. He was jailed after pleading guilty to the charge before Township Justice Alva J. Richardson.

Pleading guilty to a charge of a minor in possession of beer, James Crook, 19, of 58343 Pontiac Trail, New Hudson, was fined $45 and costs of $15 in Justice Court Friday. He was arraigned before Milford Township Justice James VanLeuven.

A $55 power lawn mower was reported stolen yesterday afternoon from a front yard at 60 Second Ave., Pontiac police said.

Driver Suffers Injuries as Car Runs Into Tree

Johnny M. Burgess, 21, of 565 S. Paddock St., was in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital today following an early morning accident on US10 in Groveland Township.

He suffered a fractured left leg and bruises when the car which he was driving went off the road and struck a tree.

Bogus Check Writer Ends Up on Police Desk

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Robert W. Paig, 62, lost his job last July, couldn't find another one and ended up in city jail, sentenced to three-months terms on each of six worthless check counts.

Paig's jail term ended this week but he's still at the jail—on the city payroll as clerk and a deputy city sergeant.

"He has done an exceptionally good job," said city Sgt. Frank A. Cavedo, who noted Paig has made several improvements in the record system.

NO CHANGE, SAYS JEANNE—Actress Jeanne Crain studiously avoids looking at her husband, Paul Brinkman, as he walks behind her to take his place at the counsel table in the Children's Court of Conciliation in Los Angeles. He requested the hearing to discuss the future of their four children after Miss Crain sued him for divorce. After the hearing she said there is "no change" in her decision to divorce him. Miss Crain, who accuses Brinkman of beating her, said before the conference she thought it over two years before deciding to divorce Brinkman.

See Good Supply of Salk Vaccine

Five Firms to Produce Enough for 80 Million Children, Adults

Enough Salk polio vaccine to provide at least two doses each for over 80 million American children and expectant mothers will be produced this year by five pharmaceutical manufacturers licensed to make the vaccine under strict governmental controls.

Parke, Davis and Company, of Detroit, reports that it hopes to get release of 10 million doses by the end of June and an additional 20 million between July 1 and Dec. 31.

Since it is estimated that only about 52 million persons are available in the first priority for vaccination this year, supplies should be ample unless necessary local controls slow up distribution.

The production schedules were obtained, as the polio season approaches, in a spot check by the Health News Institute, 342 Madison Ave., New York, an organization set up Feb. 1 to disseminate news of activities of the health team.

Armory to Be Site of Products Display

Selection of Detroit's huge Artillery Armory on Eight Mile Road as the site for a national exposition of new industrial products, methods and ideas in October was announced yesterday by Walter L. Cisler, president of the Detroit Edison Co. and chairman of preparations.

The U. S. Department of Defense will be among the sponsors of the event.

Cisler will head a committee of industrial, labor and government leaders whose responsibility it will be to select leading industrialists, each representing a specific industry, to serve on the exposition's National Advisory Council.

Name GM Staffmen Conference Aides

Two members of local General Motors staffs, Fred A. Hall and Robert G. Campbell, have been named to committees planning the 11th Annual Technical Convention at Detroit's Rackman Memorial Bldg. in October.

Hall, who is associated with the GMC Truck & Coach Division, has been named assistant publicity chairman, while Campbell, a member of the staff at Pontiac Motor Division, will serve as assistant chairman of the exhibits committee.

Sponsored by the American Society of Body Engineers, the conference will be devoted to mechanical aspects of hardtop sedans, foreign car structure, safety, gas turbine and "dream" cars.

Deputies Probe Reports of Two Area Larcenies

Detectives of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department were investigating into two reports of larceny in the area today.

Investigators Don Francis and Jack Davis said there had been no apparent breakin in either theft.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held by the Pontiac City Commission in the Commission Chamber, City Hall, 35 S. Parke Street on Tuesday, the 5th day of June 1956 for the purpose of amending Section 12 of Ordinance No. 944 the "Building Zone Ordinance" to read as follows:

Section 12—Regulations for Non-Conforming Uses.

(a)—The lawful use of land existing at the date of enactment of this ordinance, although such use does not conform to the provisions of this Ordinance, may be continued, but if such land is not used for such non-conforming use for a period of 12 consecutive calendar months it shall not thereafter be resumed and any future use of such land shall be in conformity with the provisions of this Ordinance. The use of land, if changed from a non-conforming use, shall be in conformity with the provisions of this Ordinance.

(b) The lawful use of a structure existing at the date of enactment of this Ordinance, although such use does not conform to the provisions thereof, may be continued, and such use may be extended throughout the building and may be changed to another non-conforming use of the same or more restricted classification, provided no structural alterations except those required by law, and no additions or enlargements are to be made to such buildings. Whenever the non-conforming use of a structure is changed to a use of a more restricted classification such use shall not thereafter be changed to a use of a less restricted classification.

(c) A non-conforming structure destroyed or damaged by fire, flood, wind, earthquake, explosion or other casualty or by the public enemy to the extent where the cost of restoration would amount to less than 50 percentum of the 100 per cent insurable value as determined by established insurance appraisers or appraisers appointed as provided in the Insurance Laws of Michigan for arbitration of fire, damage, losses, may be restored, provided however, that where a structure is destroyed or damaged to such an extent that its total demolition is required by existing or hereafter adopted law or ordinance, or is required to protect the public health or safety, any future structure or use shall conform to the provisions of this Ordinance.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held by the Pontiac City Commission in the Commission Chamber, City Hall, 35 S. Parke Street on Tuesday, the 5th day of June 1956 for the purpose of amending Section 15 of Ordinance No. 944 the "Building Zone Ordinance" to read as follows:

Section 15. BOARD OF APPEALS.

An administrative Board is hereby created and such Board to be known as the Board of Appeals. The word "Board" when used in this section shall be construed to mean the Board of Appeals.

The Board may act upon all questions arising under the Zoning Ordinance and in such event the Board may fix rules and regulations to govern its procedure. The Board shall consist of seven members, each shall be a Pontiac City Freeholder and shall have resided in Pontiac for not less than ten (10) consecutive years prior to appointment. Each member shall be appointed by the City Commission for three (3) years; provided that first appointments shall be two members for one year, two members for two years and three members for three years and that subsequent appointments shall be for the full three year terms. The Board shall hear and decide appeals from and review any order, requirements, decision or determination made by the Building Inspector.

The Board shall also hear and decide all matters referred to it or upon which it is required to pass under the Ordinance. The concurring vote of four members of the Board shall be necessary to reverse any order, requirements, decision or determination of the Ordinance or to effect any variation in the Ordinance.

APPEALS WHEN TAKEN.

Such appeals shall be taken by filing simultaneously with the Building Inspector and the Board a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof. The Building Inspector shall forthwith transmit to the Board all papers constituting the record upon which the action appealed from was taken.

STAY:

An appeal stays all proceedings in furtherance of the action appealed from unless the Building Inspector certified to the Board after notice of appeal shall have been filed with him that by reason of facts stated in certificate, a stay would, in his opinion, cause imminent peril to life or property. In this case proceedings shall not be stayed except by a Restraining Order which may be granted by the Board or by the Circuit Court on application, provided, notice of Restraining Order is furnished to Building Inspector showing due cause.

HEARING AND DECISION UPON APPEAL:

The Board shall fix a time for hearing for the appeal within 35 days from date of receipt of said appeal except that such time for hearing may be adjourned from time to time with consent of appellant and the Board shall give fifteen (15) days notice to appellant and other owners of record of property within 300 feet of the premises in question which notices, if by mail, shall be addressed to the respective property owners of record at the address given in the last assessment roll. Decision to be made within two weeks from date of final hearing.

Upon the hearing, any party may appear in person or by agent or by attorney. The Board may reverse, or affirm, wholly or partly or may modify the order, requirements, decision or determination appealed from and shall make such order, requirements, decision or determination as in its opinion ought to be made in the premises, and to that end shall have all the powers of the Building Inspector. Where there are practical difficulties of unnecessary hardship in the way of carrying out the strict letter of the Ordinance the Board shall have the power in passing upon appeals to vary or modify any of its rules, regulations or provisions relating to the construction, structural changes in equipment, or alteration of buildings or structures, so that the spirit of the Ordinance shall be observed, public safety secured and substantial justice done. The decision of Board shall be final so far as it involves discretion or the finding of facts.

The Board of Appeals shall have power to permit exceptions to and variations from the regulations as follows:

(1). Grant a Variance Permit in hardship cases in order to carry out the spirit and intent of said Bulding Zone Ordinance and to avoid unreasonable applications of Zoning restrictions where the public interest requires such variance and where the public peace, health, welfare and safety will not be subverted.

(2). Grant a permit for an automobile parking lot in R-1, R-2 or R-3 zones when required for a nearby commercial or industrial use for storage of vehicles of owners, tenants, employees or customers, subject to the following conditions:

(a) A minimum surfacing of six inches of gravel and roadmix oil treatment should be provided.
(b) A fee may not be charged for the storage facility.
(c) No advertising sign or sales, dead storage, repair work, dismantling or servicing of any kind shall be permitted on said parking area.
(d) The street side of the lots must be protected by erection of suitable barriers to prevent bumpers from projecting over sidewalks or pedestrian right-of-way and driving over sidewalks and curbs. Abutting property not used for parking shall also be protected by the erection of barriers. Plot plans showing legal description, lot dimensions, entrance and exit locations, parking arrangements, surface treatment, type of barriers shall be submitted with the request for parking use.
(e) A certificate of occupancy shall be issued for one year and renewal for parking shall be contingent upon satisfactory maintenance and upkeep of surface and barricades.

(3). Permit the erection, alteration, enlargement and/or use in any district of a public building, or public utility building or structure if the Board shall find such building or structure and its use, height, area and bulk reasonably necessary for public convenience and service and provided such building or structure is designed, erected, maintained and landscaped to conform harmoniously with the general architecture and plan of such district.

UM Marks Centennial

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan will celebrate the centennial of its beginning religious work next year. Dewitt C. Baldwin, coordinator of religious affairs, says it was almost 100 years ago when the university became one of the first in the nation to incorporate a student YMCA and a student Christian movement.

'Don Juan in Hell' Sought for TV With Stage Stars

By JACK O'BRIAN

Not only do we get ancient movies in TV but we're getting "live" versions of even older ones: "Indiscreet," May 31 on Lux Theater, a 1931 Gloria Swanson-Ben Lyon-Arthur Lake museum piece.

Jack Slattery subs for Art Linkletter during Art's five-week trek to Europe and Africa. Both start Monday.

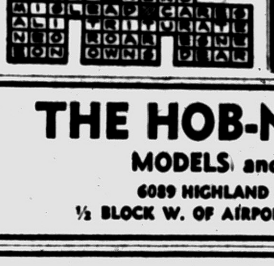

SUB FOR KUKLA

Rhee's Cabinet May Quit Office

Published Reports Say Large Opposition Vote Blamed for Move

SEOUL (AP)—Government leaders denied today published reports that the entire Rhee Cabinet and many administration Liberal party leaders would resign because of the large opposition vote in Tuesday's election.

"Although I cannot officially announce the outcome, I think Chang Myun has been elected," Rhee said in a statement. "Since the will of the people has been reflected in the election, I will carry out my duty in accordance with the people's will."

Two Seoul newspapers, which have been critical of Rhee's administration but are not considered opposition, carried the reports of en masse resignations. The English language Korean Times and Korean language Hangkook Ilbo said the decision was made yesterday at a secret Cabinet meeting.

* * *

Hangkook Ilbo said party leaders were embarrassed that Rhee had polled only 52 per cent of the presidential vote when they had predicted 80 per cent.

One spokesman said that while the Cabinet would not resign immediately, it probably would submit resignations when Rhee begins his third term to give him "a free hand to form a new administration." He pointed out that such action "is a custom everywhere."
