Backers Scurry for Senate Votes on Tax Package

LANSING (AP) — Under pressure of a midnight deadline, fiscal reform backers worked feverishly today to put together the necessary 20 Senate votes to approve Michigan's first state income tax.

The Senate deferred action last night when it became apparent that it lacked votes to pass the House-approved tax program designed to raise $269 million a year.

Senate majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, said, however that he believed that by midnight tonight "we will pass an income tax with a combination of votes from both parties."

Related Stories, Related Stories, Page D-9

The plan, approved by the House 62-44 Wednesday night, would levy a 2.6 per cent personal income tax, a 5.6 per cent corporate income tax and a 7 per cent tax on financial institutions.

The tax deferral followed earlier Senate approval of House spending bills making up some $264 million of a proposed $1.002 billion budget for fiscal 1967-68.

WILL BE NECESSARY

Republican Gov. George Romney has warned that an "austerity" budget will be necessary if a revenue - increasing fiscal reform plan is not approved by the Legislature by midnight — the end of the fiscal year.

Lockwood emerged from a two-hour GOP caucus last night and announced that a vote would be delayed until today because the votes were lacking and Democratic tax supporters desired further talks.

"We're going to vote as soon as we have 20 votes and not a minute after," Lockwood told newsmen.

Lockwood indicated that the bipartisan Senate taxation Committee had met, found few objections to the House plan embodied in amendments to an earlier Senate-approved bill and agreed to act by midnight tonight.

The original Senate bill passed on May 18 with six Democratic senators joining 16 Republicans in the 22-16 vote.

Romney Says Austerity Plan Ready to Roll

LANSING (AP)—Painting a bleak picture of state operations under an austerity budget, a grim Gov. George Romney today promised such a budget will go into effect tomorrow morning if tax reform is not approved by tonight.

"If we don't get tax reform by midnight tonight, the austerity budget goes into effect tomorrow morning," Romney told a news conference today.

The people of Michigan would begin to feel the effects of such a budget in state services "in a matter of days or weeks," Romney said.

However, he added that if tax reform is approved by the midnight deadline, the state will continue on the current level of spending until appropriations for fiscal 1967-68 can be implemented.

★ ★ ★

Romney said tomorrow—the first day of the new fiscal year — would be the deadline for passage of appropriations bills.

AVAILABLE REVENUE

Romney said that under an austerity budget the state would be able to continue operation on the basis of available revenue.

The governor said he wished to clarify the situation "because there are those who are trying to fuzz things up."

He pointed to a news story in which members of the Senate Appropriations Committee were quoted as saying a $1.002 billion budget proposed by the committee would meet current levels of spending with no increases and no new programs.

Romney said "it is absolutely false" that budget bills passed by the Senate and sent to the House "will permit continuation of current programs."

May Have Hit Red Ship---U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon conceded today American bombers may have hit a Soviet ship moored nearby as they attacked Haiphong harbor oil installations.

The statement from the Defense Department followed quickly on the heels of an announcement from Moscow that a "resolute protest" had been lodged over such an incident.

The U.S. statement:

"During an attack on the Haiphong petroleum storage facilities located in the dock area in Haiphong two U.S. aircraft assigned to protect the bombing planes from ground air defenses attacked an air defense site approximately 500 yards from the location of the ship which the Soviets state was damaged.

"Although pilots are under instructions to avoid Soviet shipping, it is possible that certain of the ordnance directed at the antiaircraft site fell on the ship.

"Commanders have been asked to examine flight paths and poststrike photography to obtain all possible information on the incident."

U.N. Is Nearing Showdown on Mideast Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly approached a showdown today on whether any call for Israeli troops to leave captured Arab lands should depend on the Arabs finally declaring peace with Israel.

Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon have held that, despite their armistice agreements with Israel in 1949, the year the Jewish nation was formed by war, they remain in a state of war with her. Egypt has used this to justify keeping Israeli shipping out of the Suez Canal.

The showdown involves two rival resolutions. One introduced by 15 nonaligned nations calls for an immediate Israeli withdrawal from Egypt, Jordan and Syria, and asks that only after withdrawal should the Security Council consider "questions pertaining to the situation in the area."

Latin-American and Western delegations intended to submit a resolution today to have the assembly call for the withdrawal of troops and the renunciation of Arab belligerency, provide for a U.N. representative or mediator to help with a settlement and ask the Security Council to work on further problems.

Each side claimed privately that its resolution could receive the two-thirds vote needed for adoption.

Local Renewal Probe Asked

The Citizens Committee for Pontiac's Positive Progress (CCPPP) and various business and civic leaders yesterday heard a top Housing and Urban Development (HUD) official say that he had asked for an "informal investigation" of the city's downtown urban renewal program.

A. Dean Swartzel, assistant regional administrator of HUD, responsible for the progress of 480 urban renewal projects in 10 Midwestern states, appeared at a meeting called by the CCPPP to protest the city's handling of downtown redevelopment.

He cautioned city officials and civic leaders that some action must be forthcoming on the renewal program and that, prompted by a number of protests and charges, he had asked for the Washington office of HUD to conduct an inquiry.

Listening to nearly four hours of charges, countercharges, defenses and bitter personality slurs, Swartzel, often quipping and speaking informally, said the local conflict over the Taubman plan must be solved by the city itself.

He said he would take CCPPP requests to invalidate the city's agreement with shopping center developer A. Alfred Taubman "under advisement," but declared that the local differences of opinion were largely "procedural issues."

COOPERATION

Swartzel urged a spirit of cooperation and declared that the "success, efficacy and fruits of urban renewal only come from local leadership and innovation."

'The Silencers' 'Shoot' It Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—It may have been the quietest gunfight on record.

When a pistol - waving bandit walked in the jewelry store yesterday and demanded money, owner James Bowen pulled a 32 - caliber revolver from under the counter, aimed and fired.

Bowen said the click was deafening.

Then, Bowen told police, the bandit aimed and pulled the trigger.

Click.

Their nonshots exchanged, Bowen and the bandit stared a moment at each other.

Then the gunman raced from the store and disappeared, in the sidewalk crowds — before Bowen even had time to aim a few more clicks in his direction.

Inquiries Back Warren Report

NEW YORK (AP) — The Warren Report and the critics who threw its findings into doubt have come under the searching inquiry of three major news organizations within the past two weeks.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press and the Columbia Broadcasting System examined in detail the report and its critics, and reached similar conclusions:

That despite shortcomings of the Warren Report nothing has been uncovered to refute its finding that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone — in view of no evidence to the contrary — in killing President John F. Kennedy.

The AP's findings were contained in a 20,000-word report released last Sunday. The CBS inquiry was broadcast this week in four one-hour parts Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

In addition, the National Broadcasting Co. said in a one-hour program June 19 that the conspiracy case of New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison was based on testimony that did not rison's staff had threatened and offered inducements to potential witnesses. Garrison denied any threats or inducements.

DOUBTS GREW

Not long after the seven members of pass a lie detector test and that Garthe Warren Commission issued their report Sept. 24, 1964, doubts began to overtake it. A barrage of books and articles hammered away at it until polls showed most Americans had come to suspect its conclusion.

But in its study the AP said the "critics have produced little in the way of new evidence. What they have done is use what the commission provides in its 26 volumes of testimony and exhibits — but to different conclusions. The critics' case rests on the same bedrock as the commission's — the Warren Report.

"They have sat in judgment of the Warren Commission and found it wanting," the AP said. "But they are not judges. They have been prosecutors, making a case. Where fact has served, they have used it. Where it has not, they have not."

The AP also cited examples of conclusions reached by the critics that contradict the testimony on which they are based.

24 Are Killed in Hong Kong Airliner Crash

HONG KONG (AP) — A Thai International Airways Caravelle jet crashed in a squall in Hong Kong harbor today, and 24 of the 80 aboard were reported dead. The airline reported 58 of the passengers were Americans.

Airport officials said their count listed six known dead, 18 missing and presumed dead, and 56 survivors.

Several of the survivors were reported in serious to critical condition.

The 73 passengers listed had boarded at Tokyo, Osaka and Taipei. Thai Airways withheld the passenger list but airport officials said there were 66 adults, six children, and a baby in arms aboard, plus seven crew members.

Thai Airways said in Bangkok that 58 Americans were among the passengers. It gave no names. It reported all members of the crew were safe.

FALLS INTO HARBOR

The pilot was a Dane, the other crew members Thais.

Airport officials who saw the crash and passengers interviewed later said the four-jet plane appeared to be coming in for a normal landing at Hong Kong's Kai Tak Airport when it suddenly plummeted into the harbor about 250 yards from the end of the runway.

The runway extends about a mile into Kowloon Bay, a part of the harbor.

One airport official said a sudden, fierce rain squall may have caused the crash. He commented: "The plane appeared to be making a good approach when a very heavy rain squall suddenly hit. The plane just seemed to drop into the bay."

★ ★ ★

A passenger, Dr. Stanley Spector of St. Louis, said, "Everything seemed to be normal, a routine landing, and then suddenly there were three very heavy bumps and water began pouring into the cabin."

RIVALS JOIN FORCES — South Vietnamese Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu (left) and Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky, shown together in Saigon last year, have joined forces to run on the same ticket in September's presidential election. Indications were that Thieu would run for the presidency with Ky going for the vice presidential spot. The two were rivals for the presidency. (See story, page A-2.)

Showers Forecast Today or Tonight

Scattered brief showers or thundershowers will freshen the atmosphere again late today or tonight if showers headed this way don't get sidetracked.

There's a chance of showers throughout the state over the weekend.

Here is the day-by-day official forecast of the U.S. Weather Bureau:

TODAY — Variable cloudiness with chance of showers or thundershowers this afternoon and tonight. Warmer today. High 76 to 82. Low tonight 56 to 62.

TOMORROW — Partly cloudy and a little cooler with a chance of showers in the morning.

SUNDAY — Mostly sunny but a little cooler.

Measurable precipitation probabilities in per cent: Today 30, tonight 50, tomorrow 40.

The low in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 61. The mercury had skipped up to 77 by 1 p.m.

Ky Quits Vietnam Race, Will Seek No. 2 Position

SAIGON (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who has led South Vietnam's military government for two years, withdrew from the race for the presidency today to seek the number two spot on a ticket headed by Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu.

The decision came after three days of tense meetings of the powerful Armed Forces Council during which the competition between Ky and Thieu, who both had been running for the presidency, reached a climax.

Ky has gone from being the No. 1 presidential candidate to No. 2 man on someone else's ticket, making it apparent he lost a great deal of power in the last three days.

Thieu, on the other hand, has now gained the top spot. The fact that he and Ky will no longer be competing for the 600,000 votes of the armed forces makes him virtually unbeatable.

ELIMINATES PROBLEM

The Thieu-Ky combination also eliminates the possibility that their competition would split the military, a fear the United States has been expressing since Ky and Thieu both decided to run for president.

★ ★ ★

The Thieu-Ky ticket was expected to register by midnight tonight, the registration deadline.

★ ★ ★

Reports said the Armed Forces Council had heated discussions of the Ky and Thieu candidacies. Sources said the council had decided to name a caretaker government to run South Vietnam while Ky and Thieu campaigned.

★ ★ ★

But now that the two men are on the same ticket, it was not clear if there would still be a caretaker government. The decision to run together came after the decision to form a caretaker government.

To add to the confusion, former Premier Duong Van Minh now in exile in Thailand, registered today for the Sept. 3 presidential election. Minh, a major general who ran South Vietnam for several months after the downfall of Ngo Dinh Diem in late 1963, was made ambassador at large in 1964 after other generals turned him out of office.

Minh's vice presidential running mate, lawyer Tran Ngoc Lieng, a former minister of welfare under Ky, said Minh would return to South Vietnam Saturday or Sunday.

★ ★ ★

So far, all indications are that the Armed Forces Council would not permit Minh to reenter South Vietnam. It issued a statement Thursday night saying he could not come back for security reasons.

Ky is a Buddhist from North Vietnam and Thieu is a Roman Catholic from central Vietnam in a country where religion and regional differences figure importantly in politics.

In the former lineup, Ky had selected as his vice presidential running mate a lawyer, Nguyen Van Loc. Thieu's running mate had been Trinh Quoc Khanh, a farmer.

Pontiac UAW Local Slates Runoff Vote

A three-day election that ended yesterday at UAW Local 653, Pontiac Motor Division, featured four slates of candidates and left several results undecided due to the need for a runoff vote and recount petitions.

Incumbent "blue slate" president John B. Maye received 2,531 votes to 2,476 for "white slate" candidate Wayne Anable and 374 to Tom Geraci, running on the "independent slate."

A runoff vote for the presidency is scheduled for July 11 and 12 because a candidate must have a majority to win.

Runoffs also are scheduled for recording secretary, shop committee chairman and the three trustee positions due to a lack of majority vote-getters.

★ ★ ★

Reelected on the blue slate were Bert E. Henson, financial secretary; Carl Morgan, sergeant-at-arms; Paul Derryberry, zone 5 shop committee; and Raleigh Comer, zone 10 shop committee.

OTHER WINNERS

White slate victors were Joe Murphy, vice president; Oscar Shelton, guide; and shop committee members Ben Walker in zone 1, Douglas H. Gravelle, zone 4; Jerry Hunt, zone 6; Edward R. McMorris, zone 7; and Bentley Dalton, zone 10.

Recounts for the two-year term offices are slated in zones 2, 3 and 9.

Negro May Be New Astronaut

EL SEGUNDO, Calif. (AP) — Air Force spokesmen said they would disclose information this morning about Maj. Robert H. Lawrence Jr., reported to be named as the nation's first Negro astronaut.

★ ★ ★

The Chicago Sun-Times reported today that Lawrence, 30, would be among four military astronauts named to join 12 others in training. Lawrence, from Chicago, is stationed at Edwards Air Force Base, in southern California.

Spokesmen at the base said a news conference was planned but did not disclose a time.

Another Negro, Capt. Edward Dwight Jr. of the Air Force, was recommended in 1965 for astronaut training but was not selected by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for the civilian program.

★ ★ ★

The Pentagon said then that the Air Force recommendation for further training for Dwight was made without qualification and made a point of the percentage of aspirants for astronaut assignments who did not get past the selection processes of NASA.

12 Wounded in Buffalo Riot

100 Arrested in 3rd Night of Violence

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Twelve persons were wounded with shotgun pellets, 18 others injured and more than 100 arrested as roaming Negro youths rioted in this city's shabby East Side for a third successive night.

Four hundred helmeted police, armed with shotguns and tear gas moved in quickly to disperse crowds. Again and again, clusters collected and were broken up. Each time a police van carted defiant Negroes to headquarters for bookings on mostly minor charges.

★ ★ ★

Newsmen described Thursday night's disorders as sporadic, despite the violence; more subdued than Wednesday when large gangs rampaged through the predominantly Negro area, looting, smashing and burning.

The subtle difference was in the attitude of the police, newsmen said. "They were on the offensive," a veteran reporter added.

★ ★ ★

The neighboring city of Niagara Falls also was affected for a second successive night. At least four persons were arrested and a policeman was struck by a thrown rock.

Police moved quickly into the troubled area, however, and quelled the disturbance by 3 a.m. today.

Trio Cleared in the Theft of Auto Chrome

Three Pontiac - area men charged with interstate transportation of stolen goods in connection with the theft of some $20,000 worth of automobile chrome from the Fisher Body plant here have been found not guilty by a California jury.

Cleared were Lee Roy Kelley, 26, of 2651 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township; Wallace J. McGuigan, 26, of 37 Edwards; and Daniel S. Margosian, 27, of 48 Florence.

The trio had been arrested by Long Beach, Calif., police March 17 and subsequently turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for prosecution on the federal charge.

More than a dozen cartons of stolen chrome were traced to the Pontiac plant in March after police became suspicious when the material was being sold in California at prices well below market prices.

★ ★ ★

The trial took place in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles.

Fisher Body personnel officials said Margosian has never been employed at the plant, as was previously reported.

Huge Backlog of Work Waits for Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is off today on its third formal recess of the year, leaving the Capitol empty except for the usual hordes of tourists — and a massive backlog of unfinished work.

When Congress reassembles after a 10-day July 4th vacation, it will face enough problems to keep it busy for several months — and the likelihood of attempts to sidetrack some controversial issues until the next session beginning in January.

★ ★ ★

Among unfinished business is legislation dealing with rioting, Social Security, a possible railroad strike, poverty, crime, education, civil rights, foreign aid, appropriations, congressional redistricting, election law reforms and possibly taxes.

Some of them are well along on the road to final action. Others haven't even taken their first legislative step.

DRAFT LAW

Action has been completed on a new military draft law, extension of the Teachers Corps and some other higher education programs, a $12.2-billion emergency appropriation to finance the Vietnam war and Senate ratification of the Soviet consular and outer space treaties.

Two nonlegislative acts, one in each branch, highlighted the first six months of the session.

The Senate censured Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., for converting campaign funds to his personal use. The House refused to seat Adam Clayton Powell, a Harlem Democrat, after a special committee accused him of misusing public funds.

As usual, party leaders in the House, where most of the action has been to date, disagreed on the showing of Congress.

SUMMARY OF ACTIONS

Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said, "We have made a number of excellent accomplishments" and "a lot of important bills will be acted upon in the next few months."

Fund Switch Annoys Hare

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State James Hare today expressed concern over the possibility of future insolvency in the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund.

"The Senate in committee action is requiring the recapture of unexpended monies from the accident claims fund to the general fund," Hare said. "The principle of recapture in the future years will create a strong possibility of fiscal unsoundness in the fund."

Hare asked for a ruling from Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley on the question of whether money in the accident claims fund should revert to the state general fund at the end of the fiscal year.

Informal Renewal Probe Asked by HUD Official

C. Don Davidson, professor of architecture at the University of Detroit, at the close of the meeting said he believed the community can get together, otherwise, he warned that matters would be taken to Oakland County Circuit Court.

A CCPPP board member, Wallace D. McLay, declared the committee believes the city's agreement with Taubman was not binding on the city, was not a legal contract and had not been approved by HUD.

AGREEMENT TO AGREE

Speaking in defense of the agreement, Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson said the document was "an agreement to agree" and that it afforded Taubman some protection.

He said the city commission would honor it up to Sept. 27 in hopes that Taubman's proposals to major tenants would be accepted.

If Taubman cannot deliver the tenants at that time, Hudson said, "we will open the doors wide again as we did before the agreement with Mr. Taubman."

★ ★ ★

REITERATE CHARGES

The CCPPP yesterday reiterated charges that the city had failed to follow HUD regulations in drawing up an agreement with Taubman, that the Taubman plan was "diametrically opposed" to the first urban renewal plan approved by HUD, and that there was no citizen involvement in urban renewal decisions as prescribed by regulations.

In effect, the committee repeated charges filed with HUD Feb. 28. Other representatives spoke out against the Taubman plan and the city commission's handling of the program, most notably, Ken Morris, UAW leader, and James Dyer, of the Oakland County NAACP.

Swartzel said a decision had not been reached on the earlier protest. He indicated that an order earlier this year forbidding conveyance of urban renewal lands did not prevent the city from negotiating for the sale of land.

★ ★ ★

He also said that the only plan approved by HUD is the original plan okayed in 1961. Any new plan, Taubman's or others, would require public hearings and new HUD approval.

★ ★ ★

He said this is not necessary until the city is definite about desiring substantive changes in the urban renewal plan.

School Budget Hearing Held

A public hearing was held last night on the proposed 1967-68 budget of $9,937,235 for Waterford Township Schools but no questions were directed to the school board.

Formal action on the budget will be taken by the board when the school district's state aid allowance is known and when negotiations on teacher salaries are completed.

The proposed new budget compares with one of $8,854,315 submitted for a public hearing a year ago.

Like other school districts which depend on a state aid commitment before adopting a firm spending plan, Waterford will enter the new fiscal year Saturday with budget uncertainties.

★ ★ ★

In other business last night, the board awarded contracts for improvements at Crary and Pierce junior high schools and Pontiac Lake Elementary School.

Auto Club's Lower Rates Start Saturday

Cost of driving is expected to drop $398,886 a year beginning tomorrow for the 20 per cent of Pontiac-area motorists insured by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

It is the first major break in a 10-year trend of rising auto insurance and other motoring costs, according to a club spokesman.

"The amount comes from what Pontiac area residents should realize from a $1-million rate reduction and a refund of 10 per cent of the cost of their 1966-67 auto insurance policies," he said.

Total savings in Michigan should amount to $10 million a year. Reason for the refund is fewer and less serious claims recently the spokesman added.

★ ★ ★

Michigan's 19 per cent cut in traffic fatalities so far this year is credited by Auto Club Executive Vice President Richard R. Dann to a better job of driving by Michiganites, partly because of the "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" campaign.

Metro Council Gets Fund for Operations

By JOE MULLEN

After some intercounty skirmishing yesterday on bylaws proposals governing the function of its executive committee, the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (COG) established a $250,000 budget to carry the operation through 1968.

A total of 84 delegates from the 142 governmental units now participating in the six-county COG attended the body's second organization meeting at Southfield High School.

William L. Mainland, Milford Township supervisor and chairman of the COG bylaws committee, presented the 10-page document prepared by his committee to the delegates and moved for adoption of the bylaws.

Then a move was launched to trim the power of a yet-to-be elected 35-member COG executive committee with Birmingham Councilman and former Mayor Robert Page leading the charge.

★ ★ ★

Southfield's fiery Mayor S. James Clarkson picked up where Page left off and said that if Page hadn't called for an amendment to the bylaws on the scope of the executive committee function, he would have called for an amendment abolishing the executive committee.

WANTS CHANGE

"I want the bylaws changed to read that the general assembly has the power to 'approve' action of the executive committee not 'review' the action," Clarkson said.

He won support of a group of Oakland County delegates and some from the smaller counties but a stand-up vote defeated Clarkson's amendment proposal by a wide margin.

Mel Ravitz, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, then told the delegates that, if COG is to be a successful venture, it must utilize the committee system.

While Ravitz deplored any bylaws adjustments that would delay COG business by limiting the committee function, undertones of fear that Wayne County would control the COG were evident.

SEATS UNFILLED

Another fear mentioned by a few of the delegates was that many seats were unfilled at the session.

COG has a potential membership of 345 cities, villages, counties, townships and school districts in the area of Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw, St. Clair and Monroe counties.

The budget, proposed by Richard H. Austin who is chairman of the COG finance committee, would be sufficient to conduct operations from the time the organization is activated later this year until the end of 1968.

Austin, a certified public accountant and member of the Wayne County Board of Auditors, noted that original fee schedules for participating units of government other than counties have been trimmed by 20 per cent after a review of fiscal needs.

Tests Ordered for Pair in Death of Youngster, 2

Psychiatric tests were ordered yesterday for a Royal Oak man and woman who have pleaded guilty to a lesser count of cruelty to children in connection with the death of the woman's 2-year-old son.

Dr. Jerome Fink was appointed to examine Lynn Holback, 21, and Charlene Kowalcik, 20.

Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore made the appointment after reading presentence reports on the pair.

Holback and Mrs. Kowalcik were charged with second-degree murder in the death of her son Kevin last November.

The prosecutor's office said the boy died of internal injuries suffered as a result of a blow to the stomach.

SENTENCE DELAY

In delaying sentence for two weeks, Judge Moore said, "there is some evidence that either or both parties are mentally ill."

The couple were allowed to enter pleas of guilty to the reduced charge earlier this month.

Cosmic rays will soon be used by scientists attempting to find new areas for archeological excavations in the area of the tombs of Egypt.

The Result of Students' Planning and Working

'A Place for Teens to Go' Opens in Rochester

ROCHESTER — Months of planning and fund raising on the part of secondary school students here produced their first fruits this week with the opening of the new Rochester Teen Center.

★ ★ ★

The center, located in the Lions Club Skating Shelter at the rear of City Hall, is intended to be a place for teenagers to gather for informal activities as well as a facility for such planned events as dances, parties and concerts.

The teens themselves have financed the project with about $500 raised since February through school dances, paper sales, car washes and a donation drive.

This last effort involved making plastic piggy banks and placing them in downtown business places for a week in early May.

★ ★ ★

The fund raising work of groups at Rochester secondary schools has been coordinated by adults who have formed a nonprofit corporation known as Rochester Community House, Inc.

ADULTS EFFORT

Purpose of the adult effort is the construction of a permanent community house in the city, of which the teen club would be a part.

Money raised by the youngsters has been used to hire a director for the facility, Richard Cromie, a teacher and counselor at West Junior High School, to provide for special events and to defray general operating expenses.

Present plans call for the center to be open on Wednesday from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. through the summer months, filling at least partially a vacuum left annually by the closing of community schools and the cessation of organized school activities.

★ ★ ★

LACK MOBILITY

Cromie said there is more need in the city for a center for the younger teen-agers since they do not have the mobility of high school students who have access to cars and can travel to other areas for recreation.

"There are things to do in other areas but most are too far away for teens without cars," said Janet Westphal, 15, of 525 First. "We decided we needed a place here in town."

"Kids have nothing to do after school is out," added Randy Hinds, of 1123 Michelson, "This will give them a place to come to."

★ ★ ★

Cromie said experience with the center over the summer will help in planning for the permanent center envisioned by Community House, Inc.

Rec Program Grant Okayed by Pontiac UF

LAKE ORION — The Pontiac Area United Fund has approved a grant of $2,610 for the Orion Area Youth Guidance Committee to conduct a summer recreation program.

The program, as proposed by the committee, is to run for eight weeks and will be designed for all residents of the area.

James Hunt, associate director of planning for the fund, said the money has been approved with the understanding that the youth committee organize a recreation planning committee composed of representatives of at least the Orion School Board, the Village Council, the Lake Orion Youth Center and the Township Board by Sept. 1.

The stipulation is being made, according to Hunt, to avoid a loss of support and enthusiasm for a recreation program once the summer is over.

"We'd like our money to be used as seed money toward development of a year-around recreation program for the area," he said.

DEMAND SEEN

Hunt said the United Fund Planning Committee believes there is "quite a demand" for extension of the recreation program beyond the summer months and that the grant's condition that a planning body be formed is in line with current efforts being made in the Lake Orion area toward total planning.

Financial support from the United Fund after Sept. 1, will be contingent on receipt of satisfactory evidence that the proposed recreation planning group has been formed and that appropriate steps are being taken to develop a year-around program of recreation services for all citizens of the village and township, according to Hunt.

The fund, according to Hunt, has promised financial support for the Lake Orion program for a maximum of two years, assuming that complete financial responsibility for the program will be absorbed by governmental units in the area.

Mrs. Harold Fields, of the youth guidance committee in the village, said that this summer's program will be a pilot program upon which a more complete and extended program will be built.

She said the guidance committee is hoping the village and township will take over the project eventually.

Groveland Twp. Awards Contract for $19,500 Hall

GROVELAND TOWNSHIP — A contract has been awarded for a new township hall to replace the 91-year-old present one that stands like a reminder of the past on Barron Road near Grange Hall.

★ ★ ★

The new one will be nearby on Grange Hall near the road crossing. It is to cost about $19,500 and will have enough space to provide for such things as storing township records, now kept at the homes of officials.

What will happen to the old building is uncertain. It is a ruggedly constructed affair and, though time-worn, looks usable — for something.

It is one-story, one-room with a high peaked roof. Many similarly designed buildings used to dot the landscape. They were used as fire halls, one-room schoolhouses, or township halls in the latter part of the 19th Century.

The Groveland hall was built in 1876 at a cost of $400, according to the History of Oakland.

WOODEN BARRIER

It can seat about 40 persons. A wooden fence barrier divides the room in the old manner to separate the township officials from the voters or perhaps the other way around.

An outhouse still faithfully serves voters and officials using the hall.

On both sides of the building, which sits in the shelter of a grove of trees, are small bogs.

★ ★ ★

From the bogs rises the croaking of numerous frogs, which sound must have blended over the years with the sounds of political discussion within.

3 Officials Put Themselves in 'Hot Seat'

Lake Orion JCs' Carnival Starts Sunday

LAKE ORION — Citizens with scores to settle with the village fathers will have a chance to get their licks in Sunday when the Lake Orion Jaycee Carnival opens in downtown Lake Orion.

Council President Wallace C. Crane, along with Councilmen Lawrence Giddings and Fred Cole, will serve as targets at the dunk tank for several hours starting at 2 p.m.

The carnival is part of three days of 4th of July activities in the village.

A Venetian Parade of floats on Lake Orion will open the celebration at 1 p.m. Sunday. A water fight between the fire departments of Orion, Oxford, Addison, Gingellville and Holly will follow at 2 p.m. in the Village Park across from the post office.

★ ★ ★

The three-day carnival also will begin at 2 and will last until 10 p.m. Booths, rides and refreshments will be available.

SOFTBALL GAME

An adult softball game will start at 3 p.m. at Atwater Park.

Monday's schedule leads off with the carnival at 11 a. m. It will close at 10 p. m.

At 7 p.m. the Independence Day parade will leave the parking lot of the Lake Orion Intermediate School. It will proceed down Broadway to Front and return to the school via Lapeer St.

Participants in the parade will include the Oxford High Band, Rochester Highlanders, Orion Twirlers, Jaycee Auxiliary Clowns, Orion and Oxford Legion color guards, and the Edison Calliope as well as local queens and floats.

Parade prizes have been donated by the East Orion 4H Club and the Lake Orion Rotary.

A street dance has been set for 8 p.m. on Lapeer St. between Flint and Front. Lighting of the Rotary flares around Lake Orion is planned for 10 p.m.

Tuesday's activities will feature a tug of war between the Lion's Club and the Jaycees over Paint Creek at 1 p.m. Firemen will be hosing each other down again starting at 2 p.m. in the water fight finals.

A fireworks display at the gravel pit north of Oxford will kick off at 10 p.m. The carnival on Tuesday will follow Monday's hours.

Little League ball games will run from noon to about 4:30 p.m. at Atwater Park on Tuesday.

Park Entrance Open

The main entrance (along I-96 Expressway) to Kensington Metropolitan Park was reopened this week following completion of certain access road improvements.

Governing Boards Reschedule Meetings Because of Holidays

Several city commissions, township boards and boards of education, scheduled to meet Monday and Tuesday, have rescheduled their meetings because of the July 4th holiday.

The Birmingham Board of Education was moved up to Monday at 8 p.m. but the City Commission will meet as scheduled on Monday.

Holly Township Board changed its meeting from Monday to 7:30 p.m. Thursday, and Independence Township changed from Tuesday to July 11.

Troy City Commission will not meet until July 10. Groveland Township Board will meet as scheduled on Monday.

★ ★ ★

The Addison Township Board has postponed its regular Monday meeting to 7:30 p.m., July 11, at Rowland Hall.

LAPEER CITY

The Lapeer City Commission will meet July 10 at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall.

The regular meeting of the Avondale Community School Board will be held as scheduled at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the board office.

July 10 has been set as the next meeting date for the Rochester School Board. The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. at the Board of Education building.

Tuesday meetings rescheduled include that of the Shelby Township Board. The meeting date has been set back to Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. at the Township Hall.

IMLAY CITY

The Imlay City Village Council meeting has been postponed to 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Village Office.

Huron Valley Board of Education meeting has been changed from Tuesday to Monday at 9:15 p.m.

The Walled Lake City Council, which also would normally meet on Tuesday, will meet Monday at 8 p.m.

Farmington's city council has changed its meeting from Monday to Wednesday at 8 p.m. as did the West Bloomfield Board of Education.

The date and times for the South Lyon City Council and Novi Village Council meetings are unchanged. Both will meet on Monday at 7:30 and 8 p.m., respectively.

Youth Is Charged in Fatal Accident

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—A Bloomfield Township youth was charged with negligent homicide in the auto-accident death of a Troy girl yesterday.

Arraigned in the Justice Court of Alice Gilbert was John M. Dirnbauer, 20, of 2840 Amberly.

★ ★ ★

Cheryl A. Roddy, 20, of 3043 Kingley, a passenger in the suspect's car, died after an auto crash at Big Beaver and Woodward, Saturday.

Hearing was set for 10:30 a.m., July 20 and Dirnbauer was released without bond.

Avondale Slates Picnic for 'Fourth'

An old-fashioned family-style community picnic has been planned for the 4th of July by Avondale Community Schools. Races, ballgames, eating and entertainment are planned for the program which will begin at 10:30 a.m. on the grounds of the Elmwood Elementary School on Auburn Road.

★ ★ ★

The public is invited, however, picnickers are reminded to bring their own food and blankets.

A watermelon feast, a checker tournament and a tootsie roll hunt for tots are also on the agenda.

Would Serve as Field and Barn

Skyscraper Farm 'Imagineered'

EAST LANSING (AP) — Big red barns and sprawling farm lands may fall under the concrete of skyscraper complexes housing everything from potatoes to pigs if Dr. Merle Esmay's predictions come true.

★ ★ ★

"In 20 years it may well be possible that we will have multistory farms with controlled environment and controlled feeding — possibly computerized," says the Michigan State University agricultural engineer.

Toward that end, Esmay has taken to his engineering drawing board for what he termed "imagineering."

Here's a basic outline of what's on that drawing board:

Picture a high-rise building—say 10 stories high—that serves as both field and barn for one or more farmers.

HOGS GRUNT

In the basement are potato fields and mushrooms. Hogs grunt all over the ground floor. Cows chew their cud on the third. Chickens lay eggs on the fourth.

On the other floors are the usual other farm crops ranging from wheat and afalfa to beans and barley.

Each floor is individually temperature-controlled with just the right humidity, light and other conditions suited to maximum growth.

★ ★ ★

"Feed will be metered out to animals in response to their needs as determined by load cells," Esmay explains. "production goals and dates for marketing by load cells," Esmay explains. "Program will be followed automatically over a long period to bring the animals up to the predetermined goals."

AIR PURIFIED

Wastes will be taken care of automatically.

Water and air will be purified and recirculated.

How's that for "imagineering?"

Bid to Delay 1 Man, 1 Vote Rulings Fails

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Legislation to delay for four years further "one man, one vote" court rulings as applied to congressional districts appeared today to have finally collapsed.

One man, one vote supporters said they hoped to salvage from the wreckage a bill that would not dilute but implement the Supreme Court's mandate that districts must be substantially equal in population.

Sen Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., hailed as a "temporary victory" House rejection this week of a compromise bill to require equal districting after the 1970 census but to eliminate redistricting requirements in the meantime.

He said this opened the way for further action by a House-Senate conference committee after a 10-day Fourth of July recess to draft a bill that would reflect a "true compromise" between differing bills previously passed by the two chambers.

★ ★ ★

He suggested that a fair interim standard, pending results of the next decennial census, might be to allow a variation under which a state's biggest district could not exceed its smallest by more than 20 per cent.

Both House and Senate bills provided that districts from which members will run for Congress in 1972 would have to be drawn that a state's biggest could not exceed its smallest by more than 10 per cent.

That point was not in controversy and presumably that permanent standard will remain in any new compromise bill.

The rejected bill grew out of congressional unrest at a recent round of court orders — all based on the 1964 one man, one vote doctrine of Wesberry vs. Sanders — requiring state legislatures to bring congressional districts into reasonable balance under pain of seeing them redrawn by the courts.

The bill's aim originally was to provide guidelines for the required reapportionment. The belief of the bill's managers was that if Congress set up reasonable standards, and the states complied with them, the courts would not go further into the field.

MEASURE CONVERTED

Along the way, however, the measure was converted into what Kennedy called an attempt "to delay, dilute and obstruct" the one man, one vote doctrine as applied to congressional districts.

He and some others called it unworkable and unconstitutional and said the courts would not buy it.

What wrecked the bill finally, however, was not so much Kennedy's objections as a discovery by its handlers that it might force scores of House members into running "at large," where courts found current districts unconstitutional but were precluded from ordering redistricting between now and the next census.

★ ★ ★

The prospect of statewide campaigns sent House members running for cover.

Riegle Bill Aimed at Tax Inequities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Donald W. Riegle, R-Mich., proposed Thursday legislation to correct what he said were present inequities of the federal tax system by redistributing the burden of taxation.

The proposed changes, he told a news conference, would result in first year net loss of $13 billion in tax revenues but this would be much more than made up later in extra revenue resulting from the increased Gross National Product (GNP).

Under the bill, changes would include:

- An increase in income tax personal exemptions from $600 to $1,000.
- Exclusion from taxable income of certain reimbursed moving expenses.

★ ★ ★

- An education tax credit of up to $215 in the case of an individual paying $1,500 annually for tuition, fees and such.
- A tax credit for homeowners for a percentage of local property taxes and similar credit for tenants who pay rent.
- Extension of the head of household benefits to certain single persons.
- Repeal of the manufacturers' excise tax on cars, trucks, buses and trailers.
- Reduction of the oil and gas depletion allowance from 27½ to 15 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Riegle said the administration's 1969 GNP estimate is $849 billion. Under the tax reform he is proposing, he said, it would be $915.9 billion.

Two 'Stones' Are Sentenced

CHICHESTER, England (UPI) — The Rolling Stones lead guitarist, Keith Richard, was sentenced to one year in jail yesterday and singer Mick Jagger to three months imprisonment on narcotics charges.

Richard, 2? was convicted on a charge of allowing marijuana to be smoked at a party at his house Feb. 12. Jagger, also 23, was found guilty Tuesday of possessing four pep pills at the party.

Both had pleaded innocent.

Robert Hugh Fraser, a London art gallery director who pleaded guilty to possession 24 heroin tablets, was sentenced to six months in jail.

Cranbrook Science Director Retires

Retiring today after 32 years as Director of Cranbrook Institute of Science, Dr. ROBERT T. HATT may review with gratification the progress of the Institute during his administration. He saw its physical dimensions expand from a 5,600 square-foot area to one of 63,000, the staff increase from six to 37 members, and the scope of scientific exploration broaden appreciably.

HATT

A native of Indiana and an alumnus of Purdue, Michigan and Columbia universities, Dr. HATT served on the staff of New York's American Museum of Natural History and as Instructor in Biology at New York University before assuming his post at Cranbrook in 1935.

His research and literary studies of the many facets of his fascinating field of science have been extensive, embracing expeditions to many parts of the world while authoring two books —"Island Life in Lake Michigan" and "Mammals of Iraq" — and some 250 scientific papers dealing with mammals.

Dr. HATT has long enjoyed international recognition as an authority in his profession and his outstanding administrative capacity has played a large part in establishing the Cranbrook Institute of Science among the Nation's foremost.

★ ★ ★

In handing over the reins of office to his successor, the retiree can take pride in his life's record of accomplishment. We congratulate him upon it, with best wishes for many well-earned years of leisure and rewarding indulgence in personal pursuits.

Ground Rules Needed for Politicos' Dinners

In a recent hearing before the Armed Services Committee, ENDICOTT PEABODY testified that funds from a scheduled testimonial dinner would be used solely to pay off campaign deficits. PEABODY, a Democrat, was defeated last November for the U.S. Senate by Republican EDWARD W. BROOKE.

The question came up in connection with PEABODY's bid for the post of assistant director of the Office of Emergency Planning, which the committee subsequently approved.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (Maine), ranking Republican member of the committee, told Peabody at the open hearing that she was opposed to testimonial dinners and particularly disapproved of those held after an election. Peabody said he would have nothing to do with handling the money and said none of it would be deposited in his personal bank account.

Airing of the PEABODY testimonial dinner arrangements preceded recent Senate action censuring Sen. THOMAS J. DODD, D-Conn., for misuse of campaign funds for personal expenses.

★ ★ ★

This whole muddy area of fund-raising dinners eventually will have to be resolved. A straightforward statement of ethical principles by the Senate—or the Congress as a whole—would assuredly clear the air and provide badly needed guidelines for raising campaign funds by candidates for public office.

Do Deluxe Playthings Cramp Children's Style?

Conspicuous appeal has reached down to the junior level. The annual model change syndrome has invaded the children's world.

The manufacturer of a popular doll is currently advertising an improved version of his product and offering it to kids at half price if they will trade in their copy of the old one. The new doll is much better—it has a pliable body, "real" eyelashes, is more glamorous in every way. Any child would want it.

We wonder, though, just how many little girls will want to get rid of their old dolls, and we're sentimental enough to hope it isn't very many. The love a child lavishes on her doll doesn't seem to be something that can be traded in every year for a "better" model.

It may surprise some adults, but a child's imagination is so rich that it can endow even the crudest kind of thing with life—a shapeless, stuffed object; a chipped one-legged doll that somebody else discarded; even a stick.

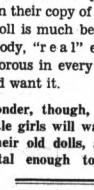
★ ★ ★

The same is true with boys, who can have more fun with odds and ends of junk than with the most sophisticated devices—if adults would only let them.

U Thant Still Stings From Criticism

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — U Thant, secretary general of the United Nations, is a mild Burmese who likes bacon and eggs and can get in a jam by saying too much or too little.



MARLOW

Five years ago what he said wasn't much but it turned out to be too much. He was trying to reunify the Congo at the time and got angry at the leaders of the secessionist Katanga government. He called them a "bunch of clowns."

He was criticized for that. This year, and he still stings from it, he was criticized for saying too little, or nothing at all, instead of consulting the U.N. General Assembly or the Security Council when Egypt told him to pull his U.N. peace-keeping troops out of Egypt immediately.

He did so promptly. And from that point relations between Israel and the Arabs headed straight for the short war which started this month and lasted less than a week, with the Arabs winding up on the short end.

★ ★ ★

Protests piled up on him. The climax came last week in the United Nations when Israel's foreign minister, Abba Eban, said Thant had acted, "disastrously swift" in yielding to the demands of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

'NO CHOICE'

This really irritated Thant who quickly issued a statement that explained he had no choice, that Nasser had voluntarily allowed the U.N. force to stand on the Egyptian side of the border with Israel and could therefore order them out when he wished.

In the course of this, Thant implied Israel was in a poor position to complain that the U.N. troops had been pulled out of Egypt since Israel never permitted them inside Israel at all.

The Eban attack must have been a sore harpoon for this week Thant fired back again in his own defense, this time with such a detailed and lengthy statement that it took up almost three full newspaper pages.

Thant pointed out that when Israel's delegate to the United Nations went to him to protest the U.N. withdrawal, on Nasser's demand, the complaint was that Nasser alone should not be permitted to demand and get the withdrawal.

'ENTIRELY UNACCEPTABLE'

But since Israel didn't want the U.N. force removed from Egypt, but Egypt did, Thant said he asked the Israeli delegate if Israel would permit the U.N. troops to move over and take up their peace-keeping role on the Israeli side of the border.

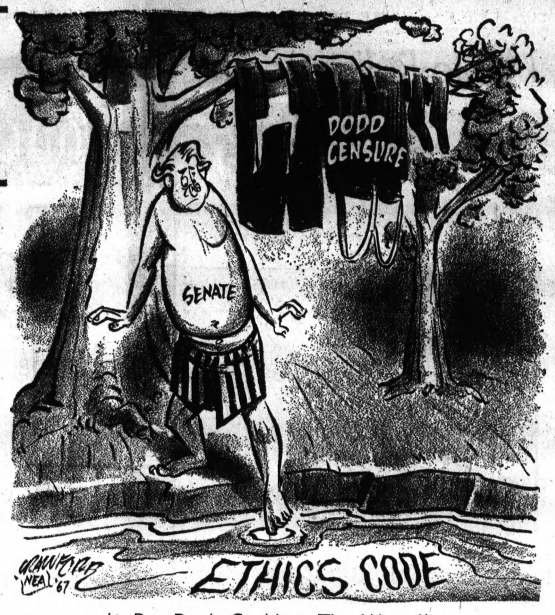
Thant said the Israeli delegate said such an idea was "entirely unacceptable to his government."

Last year, when his first full term as secretary-general was expiring, Thant, who had been an educator and a newspaperman, said he had had enough and wanted to retire.

★ ★ ★

But, if he did, it seemed to mean a long struggle between the United States and Soviet Union before they could agree on a successor. They could both accept Thant, so he was persuaded to stay.

Now he probably wishes he hadn't.



'—But The Water Don't Go Near!'

David Lawrence Says:

Jerusalem Annexation Logical

WASHINGTON — Was the annexation of the city of Jerusalem by the Israeli government an error in tactics or a shrewd move designed to give the Israelis a better bargaining position when peace negotiations are eventually begun?

LAWRENCE

The answer to that question depends on what is meant by a "cease-fire."

★ ★ ★

There were no hostilities involved in rearranging the governmental structure of the city of Jerusalem by transferring it from military to civilian rule. Certainly there was no violation of the "cease fire" resolution, which itself did not provide for any withdrawal from territory seized in the war.

The making of peace in the Middle East will take a long time, and Israel naturally isn't going to wait for treaties before starting to supervise and govern the areas taken by its troops, especially if Moscow's military buildup of Egypt indicates a threat of possible resumption of warfare.

Under such circumstances, it is logical for the Israeli government to argue that it must exercise its authority over the territory it has taken from the Arabs until permanent changes are agreed upon.

★ ★ ★

It is not unusual for a victorious army to set up effective administration and protection of areas acquired in battle so that no sudden resumption of the war can take away what has been gained.

PUBLIC STATEMENT

President Johnson, of course, was obliged to state publicly that there should be "appropriate consultation" between religious groups before a final decision is made on the status of the historic city.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union are bound to play an influential role when peace negotiations do start between the Arabs and the Israeli government.

While the two adversaries ultimately will be talking to each other and trying to reach a settlement, Moscow and Washington will be giving advice that is not likely to be rejected.

★ ★ ★

The chances are that economic factors will play an important part finally in influencing the settlement on territorial questions. At the moment there is a disposition here to emphasize the importance of giving priority to measures of relief for the persons displaced in the war.

It is recognized also that steps must be taken to clarify the legal status of both the Gulf of Aqaba and the Suez Canal. This is a subject that will require lots of study.

★ ★ ★

There will have to be agreement by the major powers of the world before either the Arab or Israeli governments will be asked to concur.

U.S. Viet Policy Battered as Ky Forced Out of Race

By JOHN T. WHEELER

SAIGON (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's forced withdrawal today as a presidential candidate leaves U.S. policy in this country badly battered.

But Ky's decision, following a three-day meeting of the ruling military junta, may have averted a dangerous split in the military.

Coup rumors had spread through the capital for days as Ky, an air vice marshal and Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, the chief of state, fought a bitter, behind-the-scenes battle for the military's stamp of approval in the September presidential election.

Whether the junta decision that Thieu run for president and Ky for vice president really will solve the issue is uncertain.

What is certain is that U.S. policy was badly hurt and the United States is faced with the virtual certainty that the president of Vietnam will be nursing deep grudges against the U.S. diplomatic mission here, and by extension, Washington as well.

★ ★ ★

For American diplomats long have been pushing Ky for president when the country is returned to popular control in September.

BEHIND SCENES

The maneuvering has been behind scenes and officially the United States has taken a hands off policy toward the election.

But senior U.S. officials, reportedly including Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, have urged Thieu to abandon his bid for the presidency.

The U.S. mission reasoned that the extrovert Ky would be far better able to rally the country to Saigon's cause than would Thieu, the austere, behind - the - scenes dealer.

Earlier U.S. diplomats were almost disdainful in discussing Thieu's candidacy, and until a week or so ago Ky, a flamboyant 36-year-old fighter pilot turned politician, seemed to be in firm control.

Then he began losing ground inside the military directorate. He was forced to strip his right hand man and national security chief of nearly all his power.

TERROR CHARGED

The aide had been accused of terrorizing opposition candidates and of using political strong arm tactics in areas that generals on the directorate clearly thought was their territory.

The windup came for Ky after he lost a vote of confidence among his fellow generals. He stubbornly refused to step aside for some time after that and although he has agreed to run for the ceremonial post of vice president, his hopes for the top spot may not be dead. Startling upheavals are not uncommon in Vietnamese politics. And political deals sometimes are broken as fast as they are made.

'We Need Stronger Laws to Handle Sex Deviates'

This letter is Senator L. Harvey Lodge's reply to my letter regarding sex deviates:

"Dear Mrs. Clark: I appreciated receiving your letter regarding the danger posed to our women and children by sex deviates. I want you to know I share in your concern.

"Dr. V. A. Stehman, Acting Director of the Mental Health Department, has now suggested that we treat these individuals under the regular felony statute for criminal confinement rather than having them hospitalized as mentally ill persons. Actually, according to Dr. Stehman, criminal sexual psychopaths are not mentally ill and there is no pattern of treatment by which they can be adjudged cured.

"This matter is being studied very carefully and you may rest assured that I will use my best judgment to do that which I feel is best for the people of the State of Michigan and the people of my district. I shall continue to devote my efforts toward strengthening our laws to make certain that these mad dogs of society are not allowed to terrorize our women and children as they have in recent months. I'm working on legislation to handle these 'mad dogs of society.' "

Well, we don't know about the hot sun, but your friend's almost right. Two men, Norwegians Harbo and Samuelsen, rowed from Manhattan to England in 1896. It took them 55 days.

Sophistication

Columbus Evening Dispatch

Although the automotive industry has been unable thus far to comply fully with the federal government's first automobile safety standards the Washington safety planners are undaunted and are going ahead with a sophistication of their requirements that reads like science fiction.

★ ★ ★

According to the Wall St. Journal, we can expect to drive a car before too long that comes with a speed limiting mechanism as standard equipment.

★ ★ ★

The cutoff point at which the machine takes over from the driver is said to be at 80 m.p.h. which is beyond the limit at which common sense really should take over unless there is an emergency situation on the road.

★ ★ ★

Stick shifts so dear to the hearts of sports car people appear to be doomed as a built-in hazard capable of spitting a passenger on their handsome chromed shafts.

The wave of the future in safety design gets close to the fanciful in the demand for a "unitized" seat that is expected when the new standards are announced.

★ ★ ★

This would be a cradling seat inspired by the contoured equipment in space vehicles.

★ ★ ★

This sounds dandy if there is design skill enough in Detroit to make a universal fitting.

The big problem is adapting the highly variable human sitting equipment to the limited adaptability of commercially feasible automotive seating equipment.

Falls Visitor . . .

Buffalo Evening News

Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin's surprise visit to Niagara Falls is the latest reminder of the deep fascination which this matchless natural wonder holds for people everywhere—from prime ministers to wide-eyed tourists.

It reminds the world that the United States is more than just New York and Washington, and more even than Glassboro, N.J.

★ ★ ★

Pundits are unlikely to read mysterious political significance into Mr. Kosygin's upstate excursion.

Presumably the Soviet leader, having taken in the sights of Manhattan, just wanted to have a look at the Falls, too.

★ ★ ★

We are glad he came. He could not have chosen a better spot to spend some of the hours between the summitry sessions at Glassboro.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the larger perspectives fostered by the timeless grandeur of the cataract, situated proudly along the border, will contribute in some small measure to constructive results from the current historic talks.

$40.7 Million for State Roads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Highway Administration has released $1.6 billion in federal highway aid funds, $40.7 million of which will go to Michigan.

Included in the nationwide total was $515 million in highway aid which was deferred last November as an anti-inflationary move.

★ ★ ★

The $515 million is the remainder of more than $1 billion in highway funds which President Johnson ordered withheld in November. The rest was released early this year.

The other $1.1 billion released Wednesday is the regular first-quarter apportionment of highway funds for fiscal year 1968, which starts Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Michigan will receive a total of $40,705,565, $7,238,565 of which comes from funds frozen last year and $33,467,000 as part of its 1968 portion.

Horace Dodge Estate Can't Cover Claims

DETROIT (AP)—Creditors of playboy Horace E. Dodge Jr., including three of his five former wives, stand to collect only about four cents on the dollar from his estate.

This is disclosed in an accounting showing that liquidation of his estate produced only $718,278 with which to pay $12,313,923 in court-approved claims against it.

The accounting was filed Thursday before Probate Judge Ernest C. Boehm by the executor, Douglas Leo Paterson, an attorney and longtime confidant of Dodge, who died Dec. 22, 1963, at the age of 66.

Paterson is asking $110,000 as an extraordinary attorney fee on top of the $14,394 he will get as executor. Such a fee is chargeable when an executor acts as his own attorney. Boehm said if the accounting survives a hearing July 31 the fee will be paid ahead of other claims.

REDUCED BY AWARDS

Dodge's estate originally was estimated at $1.8 million, Paterson said, but was reduced by court awards of more than $500,000 to the playboy's mother Mrs. Anna Thompson Dodge, who will be 100 years old Aug. 7.

Dodge often borrowed from his mother, the widow of a multimillionaire pioneer of the auto industry, to support his life in international society and her court-approved claims against the estate total $10.4 million.

★ ★ ★

Former showgirl Greg Sherwood, to whom Dodge was married when he died, got $1 million through a prenuptial contract with Dodge, Paterson said.

Claims were filed for three former wives, two of them living. Mrs. Muriel Dodge Neeman asked $262,769; Mrs. Lois V. Knowlson, $76,666, and the estate of Mrs. Clara Tinsley Dodge, $520,187. Another former wife, Mrs. Martha Devine, filed no claim.

Possibility of Conspiracy Is Explored

Did Officer J.D. Tippitt, Jack Ruby Know Each Other?

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fifth article in a six-part series on the Warren Commission Report, the body of men that compiled the data, and the critics of both. The fourth article in the series explored the reporting of some of the Warren report critics and the continuing controversy over whether Lee Harvey Oswald acted as a lone assassin or was part of a conspiracy.)

Two witnesses said that on Nov. 14, the night of the meeting, Weissman was in their home trying to sell them carpeting until 9:30 or 10 p.m. Mrs. Tippitt said her husband was a homebody devoted to his family. Lane, nonetheless, says the commission should have asked her what Tippitt was doing the night of Nov. 14 and asked Weissman what he did after 10 p.m. that same evening.

Lane says the question to Weissman was "never even posed." It may not have been posed to his liking, but Weissman was asked by commission counsel: "Did you at any time while you were in Dallas ever have a meeting with or sit in the Carousel Club with Officer Tippitt?"

★ ★ ★

"No," he answered. He said he had never been in Ruby's club and didn't know him.

Mrs. Tippitt was less exact. She said she had never heard her husband mention being in Ruby's club.

The point is not so much whether such a meeting could have taken place. The point here is that Lane, who presented the rumor to the commission, did not present all the evidence to his readers. For instance, neither Mrs. Tippitt's nor Weissman's denial and-or lack of knowledge of the meeting—is presented in his book.

NO PURPOSE

But what if, evidence to the contrary, such a meeting did take place? What was its purpose? Lane doesn't suggest one. Neither does any evidence in the Warren volumes.

Nor is there evidence in the volumes to indicate a conspiracy in New Orleans. The commission and the FBI investigated several of the people that have figured in Garrison's case. They found no conspiracy.

★ ★ ★

This is not to deny the possibility of one. It should be mentioned, however, that the indictment against Clay Shaw, a New Orleans businessman, says he conspired with Oswald to assassinate Kennedy. But it does NOT say the assassination was the one that took place Nov. 22, 1963, in Dallas. Nor does it say it wasn't. Garrison has said he doesn't want to get involved in "semantics" over wording.

★ ★ ★

It should be mentioned that the chief witness against Shaw so far is a man who first contacted Garrison two days AFTER the district attorney said the case was solved. The witness testified after being given "truth serum" and undergoing hypnosis.

BRIBE ATTEMPT

It should be mentioned another witness reportedly said he was offered a bribe by the district attorney's office to give favorable testimony. The witness' lawyer said a lie detector test verified the bribe attempt.

Garrison has said he has evidence that Oswald was working for the Central Intelligence Agency. Others have said Oswald was working for the FBI after his return from the Soviet Union for a fee of $200 a month.

★ ★ ★

That rumor apparently came from a Houston reporter Alonzo Hudkins. Hudkins has since told Charles Roberts of Newsweek that he believes J. Edgar Hoover's denials that Oswald was an FBI informant. But Epstein takes the commission to task for relying solely on the word of an agency investigating itself.

★ ★ ★

Why, he asks in "Inquest," didn't the commission on its own interrogate Hudkins and his reported source for the story, Dallas Deputy Sheriff Allan Sweatt? It is a legitimate question.

'NO EFFORTS'

But it is also legitimate to ask how Epstein can state "no efforts were made by the commission or its staff to investigate the rumor itself." That simply isn't true.

The commission, itself, DID investigate in some detail reports of money orders Oswald reportedly had received while in Dallas. (It turned out to be baseless. The commission, itself, DID inquire why FBI agent James Hosty's name was in Oswald's address book. (Oswald told his wife to take it down after Hosty had visited her at Ruth Paine's where she was living). The commission DID investigate through the Internal Revenue Service Oswald's finances after his return from the Soviet Union. (His known and assumed outgo remarkably approximated his income down to the cash balance he had when arrested.)

★ ★ ★

The commission did NOT take at face value the denials of the FBI. And Epstein did NOT mention the foregoing in claiming the commission "relied entirely on the FBI to disprove the rumor" of Oswald's FBI connection.

★ ★ ★

Another conspiracy rumor: Ruby entered the Dallas police headquarters to shoot Oswald not by accident but by design. In accord with some superplot, the assassin had to be assassinated. One incontestable fact of time, however, must be considered.

★ ★ ★

The exact time of Oswald's transfer depended on when police were done questioning him. At the time that was decided, Ruby was driving downtown to send a money order to one of his strippers. The time he handed the money order across the Western Union counter was punched by a time clock: 11:17 a.m. Oswald was shot at 11:21 a.m. It takes several minutes to walk from Western Union to the police basement where Oswald was slain.

A commuter catching a train would scarcely cut his corners so finely. Would a man engaged in a superplot do so? Particularly if he knew in some unexplained way his only chance would come at 11:21?

★ ★ ★

The superplot elsewhere was running a very tight schedule. When Oswald dashed in and out of his rooming house a half-hour after the assassination, Lane says a "rather mysterious" incident occurred. A Dallas police car stopped and honked twice and drove off, said Earlene Roberts, the housekeeper.

★ ★ ★

Dallas police said there was no patrol car in the vicinity at the time. Lane says the 'investigation' consisted of nothing more than the statements of police regarding car and officer assignments. (One might ask who would know better than police the whereabouts of a police car.

CAR 207

Lane notes commission evidence that a patrolman had driven Car 207 to the depository "just after 12:45 p.m.," gave the keys to a sergeant and remained in the building several hours.

★ ★ ★

A log of the travels of Car 207 should, however, have this information which the report provides—and Lane does not.

1—Police Car 170, driven by acquaintances of hers, often honked outside the house, Mrs. Roberts said. When she saw the car was 207, she told the FBI she went back to looking at television.

2—Patrolman Jimmy Valentine had Car 207 that afternoon. He had been at headquarters when he heard of the assassination at about 12:45 p.m. He drove to the depository all the way across town through heavy traffic. This would put him at the building close to the moments Oswald dashed into the rooming house several miles away. Valentine turned the keys over to a sergeant.

OTHER OFFICERS

This does not mean, Lane argues, that the car itself couldn't have been driven by some other officers. (Mrs. Roberts saw two in the car). But the men would have had to get the keys from the sergeant (who said he didn't release them until 3:30 p.m.), drive through heavy traffic around the depository to the rooming house in suburban Oak Cliff, honk twice and drive away again.

★ ★ ★

And for what purpose? Lane doesn't suggest one.

Lane also notes testimony of Deputy Sheriff Roger D. Craig. He said that 15 minutes after the assassination he saw a young man he later identified as Oswald run from near the depository and get into a light colored Rambler station wagon driven by a Negro. Later that afternoon Craig said he recognized Oswald in the office of homicide Capt. Will Fritz.

Craig said Oswald stood up and said: "That station wagon belongs to Mrs. Paine, don't try to tie her into this. . .Everybody will know who I am now."

The commission, as Lane notes, decided it "could not accept important elements of Craig's testimony." Lane does not note the reasons why.

One is an affidavit from Fritz. He recalled a man telling a story similar to Craig's. This, however, occurred in his outer office. Oswald was in his inner office.

"Had I brought this man into my inner office I feel sure I would have remembered it," Fritz said. He didn't remember Oswald jumping up and saying what Craig said he said. Neither did any one else there.

Furthermore, Mrs. Paine owned a two-tone Chevrolet station wagon, not a light-colored Rambler.

Man to Challenge Small-Boat Record

MAYVILLE (AP)—A 20-year-old Mayville truck driver plans to take his 12-foot sailboat "The Spirit of Petoskey," across Lake Huron in an effort to set what he says would be a record for small craft sailing.

★ ★ ★

The attempt will be made by Tom Wilkinson, who said the starting point will be Pine Tree Harbor, Ont., and the destination will be Alpena on the Michigan shore.

★ ★ ★

Wilkinson says the record was established 13 years ago by a 26-foot boat, 14 feet longer than his craft. He plans to set out Sunday morning, and says under good weather conditions the trip should take about two days.

Arson Alarming

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Fire fighters had no trouble locating the fire recently when an alarm was sounded on Franklintown Road. Someone had stuffed paper into the alarm box and set it afire.

CASS LAKE LEVEL CONTROL

Notice of Letting of Lake Level Control Contract and Review of Assessments

Notice is hereby given that I, Daniel W. Barry, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Oakland, State of Michigan, acting as Agent for the County of Oakland, will, on Thursday, the 6th day of July, 1967, at the office of the County Drain Commissioner, 550 South Telegraph Road, Pontiac, Michigan, receive sealed bids until 2:00 o'clock p.m., (Eastern Daylight Time) at which time said bids will be opened and publicly announced for the construction of a certain project known and designated as the "Cass Lake Level Control" to be located and established in the City of Keego Harbor, West Bloomfield Township and the Township of Waterford in said County.

The quantities involved in said project consist principally of the following:

576 lin. ft. Timber Piles
4108 sq. ft. Steel Sheet Piling
72 cu. yds. Reinforced Concrete
4 each Wood gates and Controls and related items

Said job will be let in one section with the date of completion and terms of payment all in accordance with the plans and specifications now on file with the other documents pertaining to said project in the office of the County Drain Commissioner of the County of Oakland to which reference may be had by all parties interested and bids will be made and received accordingly. Contracts will be made with the lowest responsible bidder giving adequate security for the performance of the work in the sum then and there to be fixed by me, reserving to myself the right to reject any and all bids and to adjourn such letting to such time and place as I shall publicly announce.

Any person desiring to bid on the above mentioned work will be required to deposit with the Drain Commissioner a certified check or cashier's check in the amount of Five Percent (5%) of the bid price, as a guarantee that he will enter into contract and furnish the required bonds as prescribed by law.

Notice is hereby further given that on Friday, the 21st day of July, 1967, at the Drain Commissioner's Office, 550 South Telegraph Road, in the City of Pontiac, County of Oakland, or at such other time and place thereafter to which I, the County Drain Commissioner aforesaid, may adjourn the same, the apportionments for benefits and the lands comprised within the Cass Lake Level Control Special Assessment District will be subject to review for one day from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon. At said review the computation of costs for said project will be open for inspection by any parties interested.

INSTALLMENT No. 17

WHAT HAS HAPPENED

Reno Davis, a prize-fighter who was in Paris with aspirations as a writer, was employed as tutor and bodyguard for Claude de Gonde's nephew, Paul. The boy was the son of the widowed Anne de Villemont. In living at the de Villemont mansion, Davis came to know Gabrielle de Gonde and Edmond and Matilde Vosiers, the sisters-in-law and brother-in-law of Anne, and Bernard Bourdon, de Gonde's private secretary. With all these around, Anne professed fears for Paul's life and gave Davis a gun to protect the boy and made him promise to help her get Paul secretly to the United States. Davis was mulling over the development and newly acquired knowledge that Paul's former tutor, Sidney Scott, died under questionable circumstances, when he met an editor, Charles Leschenhaut, who promised to look at his writings and he had a disturbing encounter with Dr. Hubert Morillon, Anne's physician. Davis wondered if the doctor could have had anything to do with Scott's death.

The next day the gun Anne had given Davis was missing. Then Leschenhaut called Davis and asked him to spend a few days from the de Villemont mansion going over Davis' manuscripts. Waiting up to tell Anne of Leschenhaut's call, Davis saw her returning with Morillon. Half accepting Anne's explanation, Davis agreed to go ahead with Paul's escape. His friend, Louis le Buc, sought to get him to leave the de Villemonts's employ.

CHAPTER 17

THE Paris Fair is the exhibition put together now and then by French trades and industries, and if one is in a mood to be entertained by a display of electronic eggbeaters and jerry-built model homes, it can be entertaining.

I arrived at the Place de la Versailles with Paul de Villemont and Louis le Buc, who was waiting there for us. At his insistence we walked along the avenue leading to the electric train display which was our reason for being there.

The model railroad, our destination, lived up to its advertisements. It was laid out on a Lilliputian countryside a hundred feet long where an intricate web of rails wove through hills and fields and small towns and where a dozen tiny trains raced busily along on a schedule which miraculously kept them from colliding at switchpoints.

A metal railing kept the public at a safe distance from the display, and it was just the right height for Paul to drape himself over it and suspend himself there by the armpits. Time went on and still he hung there, eyes glazed with wonder.

After a while he stirred from his trance and looked up at me. "Reno, do you think Grandmother would mind very much if I didn't go to Saint-Cyr and become a soldier?"

"I have a feeling she would."

"But if I told her I want to be the engineer of a train like that?"

"It's a lot easier getting into Saint-Cyr than the railroad union," Louis remarked. He dug an elbow sharply into my ribs. "There's the pickpocket type again," he muttered. "Only he's no pickpocket, that one. He's watching you like a hawk, and no pro would give himself away to stupidly twice in a row. Turn around fast and you'll see what I mean."

I wheeled around and at the far end of the railing, near the exit of the pavilion, I saw a youthful face, eyes fixed avidly on me. The next instant it was gone, but not before I had recognized the features of the boy who had once escorted me at gunpoint from the conference room in the mansion to Bernard Bourdon's presence.

Albert, Bourdon had called him, and I remembered with foreboding the pistol thrust into his belt.

"You and Paul wait here," I ordered Louis, and sprinted to the exit. The promenade outside was filling up with sightseers now, but was still not so crowded that it offered ready concealment to the fugitive. Yet Albert seemed to have disappeared.

I gave up at last near the entrance to the Alimentation Building, which seemed to cover at least an acre of ground and where I knew there was no use continuing any pursuit. Then it struck me that I might have been lured into doing just what I had done, follow a false lead intended to separate me from Paul.

That was enough to send me racing back full speed to the pavilion where I had left Paul and Louis. I twisted and dodged through the gathering crowd, recklessly jostling aside anyone who barred the way, learning at first hand how a sun-filled carnival atmosphere could make a nightmare taking place in it that much more nightmarish.

I could have hugged Louis when I saw him standing with an arm around Paul, both of them exactly where I had left them, both absorbed in the workings of a toy world whose inhabitants were only the size of matchsticks and never dangerous.

"No luck?" said Louis.

"No, but I know where to find him as soon as I get back to the house. He's a guard hired to keep people away from the meetings they have there. Bourdon seems to be his immediate boss, and he might be able to explain what this is all about. In any case he'll know where I can look up Albert, by the way, and the last time I saw him he was packing a gun."

Louis frowned at me. "If this Bourdon is his boss, how do you know he wasn't the one who set him on your tail?"

"Because he has no reason to. Morillon's the one behind this.

"And you've got some imagination, working up a sweat because we happen to run into a little squirt I once saw carrying a gun. If it wasn't just coincidence—"

"One bump is coincidence," Louis said. "Two could mean business. Also, when I got my first look at this Albert over by the wine booths he was with another type I'd hate to meet up with in a dark alley. Even bigger than you, shoulders like a barn door, arms like meat hooks on him. One of those animals spends all his time lifting weights. Did you see anyone like that standing around when you ran outside?"

"No."

"Anyone like that ever show himself around the rue de Courcelles?"

"Not that I know."

"Oh, you'd know it all right, if you once got a look at him."

I was in no position to remain on the scene and invite trouble with Albert and his muscular friend while I had Paul in charge. So I explained to Paul that the time had come for our departure, that we would return next day to see the rest of the fair, and steered him, obedient but plaintively arguing the point, out of the pavilion and along the promenade leading toward the Place de la Versailles gate, Louis trailing close behind as a sort of rear guard.

I saw the big man before Louis did, recognized him at once from his description. Immense arms and shoulders bulging under a too-tight jacket. Hands in pockets, he was leaning against a pillar, sleepily scanning the passing crowd. Then he caught sight of me and came wide awake. He turned to signal someone farther up the promenade and started breasting his way through the crowd in my direction. The man he had signaled, young, hard-faced, fell in step with the crowd and sauntered toward me. Then I thought to glance behind me and saw Albert moving in. Three of them, all intent on the business at hand.

The unholy threesome closing in around us had stopped in their tracks when we did and remained poised at a distance, the passing throngs eddying around them. We were not far from the graveled walk leading to a row of model homes, and just inside the walk was a phone booth.

I said to Louis, "That phone is our best bet. I figure the trouble is supposed to start before we can make it to the gate, but if I call de Gonde and tell him what's going on, he can be down here in no time. After all, our friend Albert is supposed to be on his payroll. The main thing is for one of them to get the kid out of here."

House OKs A-Smasher Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved authorization of $7.3 million to start the design of a giant atom smasher at Weston, Ill., overriding complaints that the government has been given no assurance that housing will be available on a nondiscriminatory basis in the area.

An attempt by Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., to strike the design funds from the $2.5 billion atomic energy projects bill was defeated, 104-7, Thursday.

* * *

In view of the lack of state or local legislation to bar housing discrimination, the federal government should insist on assurances of open housing for Negro employes at the atom smasher, Conyers said.

Backers of the authorization accused Conyers and civil rights groups of trying to pressure the state of Illinois and of seeking to set a precedent for withholding federal projects from 30 states without open housing laws.

OPEN HOUSING

Chicago civil rights leaders urged congressmen this week to move the accelerator to a state with open housing. Conyers said he wanted only to delay a decision on the authorization until housing assurances were received.

Backers of authorizing the project at Weston said open housing guarantees were never a formal criterion in selection of the site.

* * *

The bill now goes to the Senate where Illinois congressmen were confident it will be passed despite significant opposition.

Ann Arbor, Mich., was considered as a site for the atom smasher before Weston was chosen.

Ann Arbor Man Takes U.S. Post

DETROIT (AP) — George G. Newman, an Ann Arbor attorney, has been appointed an assistant to Lawrence Gubow, U.S. attorney for the eastern district of Michigan.

W. Europe Faces Growing Oil Shortage Threat

NEW YORK (AP) — Western Europe faces a growing threat of an oil shortage as production remains curtailed in the troubled Middle East and tankers cannot use the Suez Canal.

The situation is not yet critical because Western Europe had a three-month supply of oil on hand or in transit when the war between Israel and the Arab nations broke out early this month.

★ ★ ★

An oil industry source here said although production of oil by Arab countries is less than half of normal, the biggest problem is a tanker shortage.

With the Suez Canal closed by vessels sunk during the brief war, tankers have to make the much longer trip around the southern tip of Africa.

30 PCT. OF NORMAL

J. Cordell Moore, assistant secretary of the interior, estimated this week that oil shipments from the Middle East to Europe are running less than 30 per cent of normal.

Britain is likely to feel the pinch more sharply than other European countries because the Arab nations have banned shipments to it. Britain normally gets about two-thirds of its crude oil from Arab countries.

★ ★ ★

Britain, the United States and West Germany were accused by the Arab countries of aiding Israel in the war.

Western Europe in 1966 consumed 8.5 million barrels of oil daily, about 80 per cent of it obtained from the Middle East and North Africa.

TANKER SHORTAGE

Production of oil has been resumed in Kuwait and Suadi Arabia, the biggest producers in the Middle East, since the end of hostilities. But because of unavailability of tankers Kuwait is producing only about 1 million barrels daily, down from a normal 2.4 million, and Saudi Arabia less than 2 million barrels daily, off from a normal 2.7 million.

The Iraq Petroleum Co. resumed exports from its Mediterranean terminal at Beirut, Lebanon, Wednesday. Deliveries were restricted to France and Turkey.

Libya, whose normal production of 1.4 million barrels daily went directly to Europe, continued to be shut down.

The Arab ban on oil shipments to the United States poses no supply problem for this country. Only 400,000 barrels of the normal U.S. daily consumption of 12 million barrels came from the Middle East.

MAY INCREASE EXPORTS

It was estimated that the United States and Venezuela could increase their oil exports by 1.5 million barrels a day to replace Middle East supplies partially.

Texas and Louisiana already have increased their allowable production by 764,551 barrels a day.

★ ★ ★

The Interior Department approved Wednesday an emergency oil lift plan to help Europe. The plan drawn up by the government and 21 American oil companies with foreign operations must be acted on by the Justice Department and the Office of Emergency Planning.

It would permit the oil companies to cooperate in helping meet European oil needs without laying themselves open to antitrust prosecution.

POOL FACILITIES

The companies would be permitted to pool shipping facilities and, if necessary, increase production and divert supplies from this hemisphere.

California has a century-old tradition of making free college education available to every young person.

Air Force Base Closes Saturday

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — Walker Air Force Base, once a missile and B52 stronghold, closes Saturday.

Phasing out of the B52 bombers is given as one reason for closing the base, which once was home for crews that dropped the World War II atomic bombs on Japan.

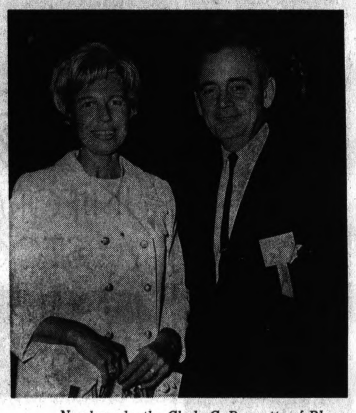
WOMEN'S SECTION

Two generations apart, Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, first lady of Oakland University, and Sue Varner, daughter of Chancellor and Mrs. Varner, pause for a word before the opening of the Meadow Brook Music Festival Thursday evening.



Newlyweds, the Clyde C. Bennetts of Bloomfield Village, have returned from their wedding trip. Mrs. Bennett is the former June Matthews, director, Oakland Foundation.

Concertgoers have an imposing entrance to go through now on the grounds of the Meadow Brook Music Festival. A new gatehouse, box office and ticket lanes lend dignity to the scene.

Surroundings Idyllic

1967 Festival Opens

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Even the weatherman acknowledged the magic of Meadow Brook and produced a clear quiet evening for the opening of the fourth musical season Thursday.

Picnickers came early and filled the tables which number more than were available last year.

★ ★ ★

In contrast to opening night three years ago, when the paint on the stair railings was still wet and the sod so new it "gave" underfoot, the physical surroundings are approaching perfection.

This includes additions to the facilities at Trumbull Terrace.

The George Trumbulls were there, of course. Former chairmen, Rinehart S. Bright and his pretty wife, and Ben D. Mills were on hand. Mrs. Mills was home with an infected foot.

★ ★ ★

After the concert, Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson held open house at Meadow Brook Hall. In the receiving line with her, the D. B. Varners and the James O. Wrights, was Mrs. Sixten Ehrling, wife of the conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, in a striking red chiffon gown.

In the time of roses, Meadow Brook Hall takes on new beauty. Bouquets of roses were everywhere and the rose garden was a mass of color, even in the dim light of Chinese lanterns.

Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Vanderworp

The D. B. Varners (left) and the James O. Wrights have cause for mutual congratulations on the successful start of the fourth season of the Meadow Brook Music Festival. The Wrights are this year's cochairmen.

This group of picnickers from Pontiac is always on hand for the Thursday evening concerts. From the left are Dr. Harold A. Furlong; Mrs. Angie Mae Dellinger, Searcy, Ark.; Mrs. Furlong; Mrs. Stuart Whitfield; Mrs. Arthur Young and Dr. Young. Standing in the rear is Stuart Whitfield. Mrs. Dellinger, Mrs. Young's mother, always comes to visit during the Festival season.

He's Just 'Playing'

Mate's Other Life Only a Dream

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: After 12 years of marriage and two children, I learned that my husband had a girlfriend. She's a divorcee and nothing special by anybody's standards. He admitted that it had been going on for two years, Abby, we had a good marriage and a good sex life, so that wasn't it.

ABBY

I divorced him, loving him and hating him at the same time. Our divorce has been final for over a year, and he has not married the other woman. What's stopping him? He's free now.

My question: Why would a married man fool around and risk losing a wife who loved him, and children who idolized him, and then not jump at the chance to marry the woman who caused it all?

NO NAME

DEAR NO NAME: Probably because he didn't ever really want her for a steady diet. Only an appetizer. Some married men are fascinated with "playing house." They enjoy dreaming, planning, and verbalizing with somebody else, secure in the knowledge that it will never materialize, since they're safely married. But when circumstances change, and the fantasies become a reality, the "dream" suddenly loses its appeal.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who is going to marry a man who has some Negro blood in him. (One of his grandparents was a Negro.) I have seen him and his color is not very dark. My friend is very blonde, being of Swedish and German descent.

She claims their children will be no darker than her husband. I say there is always a chance of a throwback to one of his darker ancestors and she could have a coal-black baby.

I know I'm right, but she's the type you can't tell anything to, so please put your answer in the paper so I can show it to her.

HER FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: I hope you will show this to her even though you're wrong, because you are. When two individuals marry, only if there is Negro ancestry on BOTH sides, is the kind of "throwback" you describe possible. The rule is: A child will be no darker than his darkest parent.

DEAR ABBY: Last month my brother married a girl I'll call Yetta. I was one of six bridesmaids. Yetta picked out all the bridesmaid's gowns without asking any of the bridesmaids about style or color. All she asked me was what size I wore.

I told her a 14, but my dress came in 12, and even with the seams let out it was so tight I couldn't sit down in it. Besides, it was green and I can't wear green.

The bridesmaids' hats were like baby bonnets, and I looked like a monkey with my short hair and that thing on my head.

Now comes a bill for $19.95 for my gown. Abby, I had nothing to do with selecting it. I'll never wear it again, and I really did Yetta a favor by wearing it. Should I pay it?

I don't want a family fight, but I was under the impression that if the bride selects the gowns without consulting the bridesmaids, she should pay for them.

LOOKED LIKE A MONKEY

DEAR LOOKED: You shouldn't be expected to pay for the gown, but in the interest of family harmony — pay it.

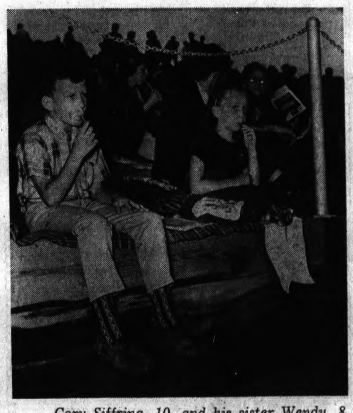
From Stockholm, Sweden, to Oakland University is a long way; but love of music draws people. Visiting professor at the University of Michigan, Dr. Gunnar Geijerstam (right) and his wife (far left), arrived at the concert with Dr. and Mrs. John Ylvisaker of Canterbury Crescent.



Cory Siffring, 10, and his sister Wendy, 8, are second-time-around concertgoers. They are the children of the Loren W. Siffrings of Avon Township.

Mario Di Fiore, cellist with the Detroit Symphony, grills steaks for himself and five other musicians before the concert.

There are 35 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Couple Wed in Memphis

Saturday afternooon vows at the Methodist Church, Memphis, Tenn., united Doris Jennings and Emil D. Frisch.

The bride wore a street length gown of white silk organza with lace bodice. She carried a bouquet centered by a white orchid.

Mrs. Dennis Crisco attended the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jennings of Sero Gardo, Tenn.

Dennis Crisco performed best man duties for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Frisch of Peacock Street.

Music Festival Is Greater Than Ever

By BERNICE ROSENTHAL

The fourth season of Meadow Brook concerts opened officially last night at the Baldwin Pavilion.

There were the same beautiful physical surroundings, the same huge and enthusiastic audience, the same orchestra and conductor, but there was one significant difference.

Each of these important factors had grown greatly in scope.

* * *

New additions to the Baldwin Pavilion and surrounding areas make it even more beautiful and convenient. The audience has become more selective and aware.

The orchestra, under the baton of Sixten Ehrling, has new depth of tone, new precision, and new balance to make it one of the leading orchestras of the country.

In a program of standard works, Mr. Ehrling was less flamboyant than in previous years. The orchestra, to a man, responded to each nuance with disciplined control and gave to the conductor exactly what he wanted.

* * *

The strings have greater richness and depth, the brasses are more mellow, the woodwinds more solid, and the percussion section in greater balance than ever before.

Even for the most critical musician, it was a great evening.

YOUNG SOLOIST

The soloist, the young pianist Misha Dichter, plunged into the difficult Rachmanioff "Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini" with courage, confidence and skill.

He took advantage of the infinite variety of this demanding work to show his masterful technique, subtle dynamics and adventuresome spirit.

What he lacked in depth of tone was compensated for by the orchestra which handled the complicated score with imagination and color.

He was particularly effective in the poetic and romantic waltz variation.

To the Overture to "Der Freischutz," as familiar as the back of one's hand, the orchestra brought a freshness, a new meaning to the inner parts, a new verve, a razor-like precision which were a surprise and a delight to hear.

LIGHTNESS LOST

Debussy's "Afternoon of a Faun" was given a classical, literal reading, with great attention to detail and perfect performance. But, in so doing, the gossamer, tenuous quality was lost.

The diaphanous, transparent mood of the music did not come through, and the faun was more business-like than the composer would have wished.

* * *

The most impressive performance of the evening was Beethoven's Sixth symphony, a magnificient tribute to the orchestra's growth under Mr. Ehrling's baton.

Seldom, if ever, has this symphony been performed with greater understanding of its pastoral tranquility, its changing introspective moods, its fiery development of the thunderstorm scene, its tranquil musings in the closing shepherd's song.

The 'cello passage in this closing movement was played poignantly and with loving care.

With such an outstanding beginning, great music will be heard at Meadow Brook this summer.

The same program will be repeated this evening.

On Saturday, Dichter will be heard in Beethoven's First Concerto, and the orchestra will play Liadov's "Enchanted Lake," Moussorgyky's "Pictures at an Exhibition," and "The American Festical Overture" by William Schuman.

GREENLEES-SHELBY

Glenda Alvalee Shelby and Donald Greenlees are honeymooning in northern Michigan following their recent wedding in Emmanuel Baptist Church. Their parents are Mrs. Glendola Shelby of Oakwood Avenue and the Harold Greenlees of Margaret Street, Pontiac Township. The bride was gowned in silk bombazine with triple-tiered chantilly lace skirt and full cathedral train. Honor attendants were the bride's sister, Gayle, and the bridegroom's brother, James. Bridesmaids were Mesdames Michael Montgomery, James Greenlees, and Charles Young with Maria Tamara. The bride's brothers, Eddie and Michael ushered, with Jack and Thomas Greenlees.

KAY-HUNGERFORD

Candlelit rites at Our Lady of the Lakes Church marked the Friday evening marriage of Frances Ellen Hungerford and Daryl L. Kay. The bride wore white silk organza appliqued with Alencon lace. Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Michael Stevens of Clarkston with bridesmaids Cynthia James and Mrs. Ingo Zietlow of Clarkston, the bride's aunt. Jill Barensfeld was flower girl. Michael Stevens performed best man duties, with ushers Michael Crowley and Barry Fortin of Clarkston. Parents of the couple are the Bert S. Hungerfords of Warbler Street and the Kenneth V. Kays of Waldon Road, both in Independence Township.

STICKNEY-MICKELSON

Evening vows were said by Sandra Lucille Mickelson and Richard Elwin Stickney Saturday at First United Missionary Church. The bride wore a gown of silk organza trimmed with Alencon lace with a chapel train. She carried white roses and carnations. Attending the bride were maid of honor Sue DeButts of Cadillac and bridesmaids Sandra Ettinger of Pontiac and Linda Lefevre of Ann Arbor. Fred Cooper of Clio was best man, assisted by ushers Patrick Dolan of Clio and Daniel Cox of Ypsilanti. Parents of the couple are the Melvin Mickelsons of Northfield Street and the Elwin Stickneys of Clio.

A Clean Skin Best Base for All Cosmetics

Vanity is not confined to the young. Many older women spend as much time at the dressing table as do their granddaughters — and often with even more attractive results.

However, for them — as for women of all ages — make-up should start with a well-washed skin, including neck and ears. Unless these areas are meticulously scrubbed, they can appear dirty by contrast with even the most skillfully applied make-up.

★ ★ ★

Sometimes this seeming carelessness below the chin is due to poor vision. Anyone who wears glasses for reading should put them on for a close inspection of the face and all adjacent territory! Using a magnifying mirror is another way to detect areas which the sudsy washcloth may have missed.

The Ideal Age for Motherhood Between 20-30

NEW YORK (UPI) — The ideal age for becoming a mother appears to be between 20 and 30 years. A physician so concludes from study of published literature on survival of the baby in relation to pregnancy spreading and the age of parents.

★ ★ ★

And, says Dr. Richard L. Day of New York, an interval of about two years between the end of one pregnancy and the beginning of another is associated with the lowest rate of stillbirths, deaths of newborns, and prematurity.

Survival through childhood is more likely if pregnancy intervals are three years or longer, he reported in the American Journal of Diseases of Children.

'Up' Strokes Avoid Stress

When washing the face, it is advisable to use an upward motion, spreading the soapy lather in an upward and outward direction to avoid undue stress on fine facial muscles. This also helps prevent sagging.

Care of Oily Skin

Oily skin can be problem skin, often serious, but it needn't be. Regular care can prevent the enlarged pores, blackheads and blossoms so frequently identified with this type of skin.

Why oily skin? It could be perfectly natural, inherited. Or it could be the result of improper diet. This possibility should be checked out first with the dermatologist.

★ ★

Oily skin care starts with cleansing, not the routine soap and water type, but deep, pore-deep cleansing. If soap is used at all it should be medicated, designed especially for oily skin. Grainy cleansers are good. They stimulate the pores to dislodge dirt. An oily skin mask is best of all. As it dries it draws the pores clean. It also stimulates the flow of blood necessary to healthy skin.

An excellent oily skin mask can be made at home. Place two tablespoons of beauty clay (kaolin, obtainable at the drug store) in a saucer. Add good quality witch hazel and stir into a creamy paste. Spread evenly over the face and throat and let dry. When the mask is dry and brittle its work is done and may be removed easily with warm water and a little medicated soap.

★ ★ ★

Always use makeup designed for oily skin. Before applying, close the pores and tone the skin with chilled witch hazel. Let it dry by itself.

Oil Feet for Comfort

Strolling the beach barefoot is supposed to be good for the feet and legs. For comfortable feet, rub the tender soles lightly with petroleum jelly.

'Prohis' Wind Up Convention With Antiliquor Parade

DETROIT (AP)—By all rules of politics, the Prohibition party should have died in 1933, a victim of repeal. But, greatly diminished in ranks, lacking popularity and hamstrung by election laws the party fights on.

★ ★ ★

Party leaders say the country is ripe for a prohibitionist revival, but they say it with little confidence.

Nevertheless, they are dedicated to banning liquor in the United States and one leader, quoting the evangelist Billy Sunday, says they "will continue to fight until Hell freezes over, then buy a pair of ice skates and keep on fighting."

★ ★ ★

The party concluded its 25th national convention in Detroit Thursday in an atmosphere resembling a religious revival more than a political convention.

CHILDREN DEMONSTRATE

There was a demonstration each time a candidate was nominated but the demonstrators were about 10 children and they all demonstrated for every candidate, using the same songs and chants, changing only the names.

There was a roll call of states, but only 10 were represented. There was neither the hoopla associated with major party conventions nor the fierce ideological debate associated with third-party meetings.

★ ★ ★

The 56 delegates took two ballots to nominate E. Harold Munn, 63, of Hillsdale as the party's candidate for President. Although no candidate obtained a majority of the vote on the first ballot, there did not seem to be much disagreement in principle over the candidates.

The Rev. Rolland E. Fisher, 67, of Topeka, Kan., received the vice presidential nod with only one dissenting vote.

HYMN SINGING

The delegates worked up real enthusiasm for the hymn singing that opened the convention session and for an antiliquor demonstration midway through the session.

Following the nomination of Munn, about 50 delegates marched a block to the Botsford Inn, a 19th century hotel and tavern, and marched around the front entrance singing "I'd Rather Be Right Than President" and "Onward Christian Soldiers."

★ ★ ★

One delegate said they were picketing to serve notice on establishments serving liquor that the prohibition sentiment is still alive.

The delegates were invited in for a cup of coffee and a tour of the historic inn, but they declined, saying they had important convention business to get back to.

ELECTION LAWS

The prohibitionists feel their cause has been hurt badly by restrictive election laws which make it very difficult for minor parties to get on the ballot in many states.

★ ★ ★

A blank in the national platform calls for the repeal of such laws. Munn said he believed the party could have received a million votes in 1964 if it had been on the ballot in all 50 states.

★ ★ ★

The Prohibitionists only were on 11 state ballots and polled only 23,267 votes. Munn said he would be happy if the Prohibitionists made it onto the ballot in 15 states.

The Prohibitionists bill themselves as a "Christian-Conservative-American" party. Their platform favors right-to-work laws, state's rights and honest government. They oppose federal aid to education, the farm aid program and deficit financing. They also favor a nuclear arms test ban and oppose compulsory military service.

The Prohis, as they like to call themselves, may never win an election, but they intend to keep on fighting.

House Backs Central Time

LANSING (AP)—A resolution urging the federal government to put all of Michigan in the Central Time Zone moved halfway through the Legislature Thursday.

The House passed the measure 58-37 and sent it to the Senate.

★ ★ ★

Even if approved by the Senate and sent to Washington, the resolution would have no legal status. It would only advise the U.S. Department of Transportation of the Legislature's feelings.

The Legislature tried earlier this session to leave Michigan on Eastern Standard Time the year around, but was stymied by a successful petition drive aimed at putting the state on Daylight Saving Time from May through October.

'THERE NOW'

Thursday's House-passed resolution said most of Lower Michigan is geographically in the Central Time Zone, and that under the 1966 Federal Uniform Time Act, the Upper Peninsula has been placed there already.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Detroit Democratic Rep. James Del Rio threw a momentary scare into House leaders by threatening to hold the income tax bill which the chamber passed early Thursday in the House until after today's session.

Neck X Rays, Abnormal Thyroids Tied

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three scientists found abnormal thyroid glands in 25 out of 105 adults who were given heavy doses of Xrays in the neck when they were infants.

It was the crowning proof of what medical science knows now but didn't know before 1946 — a stream of Xrays into the neck of a baby can implant a "timebomb" in the thyroid set to go off in adulthood.

Adults who got Xrays in the neck when they were infants should undergo periodic medical checks for abnormal thyroids, said the scientists, Drs. Ralph A. Pincus, Seymour Reichlin and L. H. Hempelmann.

Their number is unknown but large.

★ ★ ★

Before 1946 it was accepted medical practice to Xray infants' necks. The purpose was to reduce an apparently enlarged thymus gland which then was considered a useless organ.

HIGHLY SENSITIVE

Medical science has greatly advanced its knowledge since then. It now knows the thyroid glad is highly sensitive to Xrays and it is carefully shielded when Xrays are directed at adjacent targets.

ESSENTIAL ORGAN

It also knows the thymus is an essential organ even though it has wasted away by the time the human being is adult. Its role is to help in establishing his protective immunological chemistry.

Pincus, Reichlin and Hempelmann are members of the faulty of the University of Rochester (N.Y.) School of Medicine.

For some years, out of concern for persons who were Xrayed in the neck when infants, they have been tabulating the "timebomb" effects.

★ ★ ★

They began with 2,878 persons treated in infancy with Xrays for thymus gland enlargement.

HIGHEST DOSES

Forty-one of them had developed thryroid cancer and 20 of these cancers were in the 268 who had received the highest accumulative doeses of Xrays.

From this they calculated a delayed thyroid cancer rate in neck-X-rayed babies of 4.3 per cent which is considerably higher than the general thyroid cancer rate.

Their newest calculations establish a rate for abnormal thyroids which will seem staggering to many thyroid specialists.

★ ★ ★

They examined as many of the 268 as they could find and who would submit — a total of 105. There were no silent thyroid cancers among them — cancer of the thyroid is notorious for developing without symptons for long periods — but 25 had abnormally enlarged thyroids.

NO NECK X-RAYS

At the same time they examined 113 persons "matched" with them as to age and sex and life - long residency in the Rochester vicinity but who had had no neck Xrays when infants. There were only five enlarged thyroids among them.

★ ★ ★

An enlarged thyroid is by definition a goiter but unless greatly enlarged usually goes undetected. Many of them are enlarged by the development of bumps or nodules on the glandular surface. Some of these bumps may contain cellular abnormalties which many authorities consider to be precancerous.

Pincus, Reichlin and Hempelmann reported to the technical organ of the American College of Physicians.

People in the News

By the Associated Press

Joe Ramirez, 19, drove to the courthouse yesterday in New York City to fight a traffic ticket.

As the case was about to be called he realized his parking meter was running out. He asked the judge for time.

Granted. Joe raced out and started across the street when a policeman grabbed him for jaywalking. He gave Joe a ticket and a long, long lecture.

So long was the lecture that a meter maid got to his car before Joe did. She gave him a ticket and ignored his plea.

When he got back to court the judge had gone to lunch. Joe fed the meter diligently until his honor returned.

"With my luck I knew the verdict before the judge pronounced it—'Guilty. $5 or one day in jail,' " Joe said.

Joe went to pay the fine and found only $2 in his wallet. The clerk let him go on his promise to pay.

When Joe got home to Jericho, Long Island, he found a letter.

"Greetings," it said, report for induction in the U.S. Army July 20.

'Surrounded by Hostile Nations'

Singapore: the Israel of Southeast Asia

SINGAPORE (AP) — The island Republic of Singapore is busily building an Israeli-style defense force—and using Israeli officers to train it.

Although this has long been known by some close observers of the Singapore scene and suspected by others, the government did not acknowledge it until this month.

* * *

One day Singapore plans to have the largest readily available supply of trained military men, and women, in Southeast Asia, aside from South Vietnam.

Who is "the enemy" that this force may be expected to fight some day? Singapore leaders do not define it, but 80 per cent of the population is of Chinese extraction, and Singapore is surrounded by Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines, all dominated by Malay peoples who are mostly Moslems.

HOSTILE NATIONS

"We are like Israel," says Culture Minister Othman Wok. "We are surrounded by hostile nations."

Singapore more or less likes to think of itself as "the Israel of Southeast Asia."

* * *

"We have similar populations with similar minority situations and similar problems," Othman says.

The minority group in Singapore is the Malay Moslems, about 120,000 of them. In adjoining Malaysia, Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman says, "Whenever there are Malays, these are our subjects."

Malaysians point out to their Malay cousins living in Singapore that Malays across the causeway joining the two countries enjoy preferential treatment in many ways, some official and some not.

Malay, for instance, is the national language in Malaysia while Singapore has four: Malay, Chinese, English and Indian.

* * *

Anti-Singapore sentiments are frequent in the Malaysian Parliament. Recently it was suggested on the floor that the causeway be severed and Malaysia develop a port in the city of Johore Bahru, across the Johore Strait from Singapore. At one time both Singapore and Malaysia were part of the Federation of Malaysia.

Singapore and Israel early last year signed a secret agreement to employ Israelis as military advisers here.

* * *

The first of the Israeli veterans were installed at the Singapore Armed Forces Training Institute.

Last August Prime Minister Lee Kuwan Yew started talking of a "rugged society," and the following month Parliament passed a national registration bill calling up virtually every able-bodied young person on the island for compulsory military training.

Edison lowers the cost of electric living

Lowered two ways. By free installation of major electric appliances. And by another reduction of electric rates.

Now, when you buy a new electric clothes dryer, Edison pays for installation, exclusive of venting. Your new electric range will be installed free, too, as long as these appliances are installed on Edison lines in homes up to and including four-family residences.

New electric water heaters of approved capacity are also installed free. And you'll get one of the lowest electric water heating rates ever offered. Satisfaction's guaranteed. If your home's heated by electricity, you get added savings. Your rate's been lowered again. This time, 10% under the previous rate; altogether, a 30.5% reduction in eight years. Like to live the good life? Give us a call. We'll show you how to do it with electricity. Costs less than ever.

Trade Agency Braces for Tariff Cut Questions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The presidential Office of Trade Negotiations braced itself today for a rush of industry and farm group representatives seeking details of new U.S. tariff cuts on import goods approaching $8-billion a year in value.

The U.S. cuts, averaging 35 per cent and ranging up to 50 per cent on many industrial products, were part of the reciprocal "Kennedy Round" agreement being signed by 53 nations at Geneva, Switzerland, today.

The new tariff agreements were described officially Thursday as "the most comprehensive assault on barriers to international trade that has ever taken place."

But the massive listing of more than 4,000 pages of concessions, covering about $40-billion of trade worldwide, is not available yet to American foreign traders.

TRADE TALKS

This information will be available in Washington next week and in published form in mid-July, said the office of William M. Roth, the President's special representative for trade negotiations.

Starting today, Roth's staff undertook to supply information on the new rates to those asking about specific items.

A rush was expected because only general information has been available on most categories of trade to date. The difficult negotiations ended in May after running past their scheduled deadline, leaving inadequate time for the translation of general agreements into specific amounts in dollars, francs, pounds and marks for each of thousands of items.

President Johnson executed Thursday the formality of directing W. Michael Blumenthal, Roth's deputy, to sign for the United States in the ceremony at the Geneva headquarters of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade — GATT.

SIMILAR TOTAL

In a 15-page summary issued Thursday, Roth's office said U.S. concessions on between $7.5 billion and $8 billion of import items were balanced by a like total of foreign concessions on American export goods.

The cuts will take effect in five annual, equal stages, starting next Jan. 1 and ending Jan. 1, 1972. Ratification by Congress is not needed for the general agreements; Congress gave the full negotiating authority to the late President John F. Kennedy in the Trade Expansion Act of 1962, and the three-year negotiations that began in 1964 were named for Kennedy.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTS

The duty cuts average over 35 per cent — including reductions of 50 per cent on a broad range of industrial products — among all major negotiating nations on machinery, automobile and other transport equipment, paper and paper products, books, fabricated metal products, lumber and wood products including furniture, and photographic, optical and scientific equipment.

* * *

Reductions in agricultural tariffs were considerably more modest, the summary said, but should open the door to a major expansion of U.S. food and farm exports.

* * *

Agriculture Department officials say they expect criticism of the tariff agreements affecting farmers from U.S. producers of cheese, some processed vegetables, wine and meat.

But officials told a news briefing Thursday that U.S. agriculture made significant gains in the negotiations. Over-all, they said, the pact would grant lower duties on U.S. agricultural items with a total value of $921 million while giving lower duties to only $798 million worth of foreign agricultural imports, based on 1964 figures.

Fighting in Viet Kills 41 Yanks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Defense has listed 41 more U. S. servicemen killed in action in the Vietnam war. Additionally, there were two men listed who have died of wounds, and 12 originally classified as missing who are now known to have been killed.

QUEEN ELIZABETH

Queen Begins Canada Stay

Security Precautions Said Not Too Obvious

OTTAWA (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II, here for Canada's 100th birthday celebration, gets down to the handshaking, wreath-placing part of her tour today, assured she is able to see some Canadians.

The Queen was reported wondering before she arrived if her only view would be of the backs of red-coated mounties.

★ ★ ★

But Elizabeth's press secretary said the Queen was pleased to find that "security precautions aren't being frightfully obvious."

The royal party had been led to believe in London that it would be virtually smuggled from place to place by hundreds of police because of some anti-British sentiment in Canada.

6-DAY TOUR

Arriving here Thursday to begin a six-day tour, Elizabeth was welcomed by some 60,000 subjects along the route of her motorcade.

★ ★ ★

The press secretary said the Queen was unaware that six artillerymen who fired her welcoming salute were slightly injured when their personnel carrier collided with a press bus traveling about five minutes ahead of Elizabeth's closed American limousine.

The Queen is staying at Government House, a mansion where she and her husband, Prince Philip, have a staff of 20 and a suite with two bedrooms, two bathrooms, chandeliers, beige carpets and gray-green walls.

★ ★ ★

Elizabeth, sometimes criticized for her fashion, kept her cized for her fashion kept her British garden party, hem-at-the-knee look. She wore a yellow coat and pink and yellow print dress for traveling.

STATE DINNER

Her schedule today included a morning reception, a wreath-laying ceremony at the Canadian National War Memorial and a state dinner of 120. The menu features lobster pie and saddle of veal.

Elizabeth will stay in Ottawa until Sunday when she goes by royal yacht to Expo 67 in Montreal. She will technically avoid entering French-speaking Quebec Province where her 1964 visit brought an outbreak of anti-British sentiment. Expo, located on man-made islands in the St. Lawrence River, is considered "international" territory.

Sales by the music industry are expected to total $1 billion by 1968 compared with $898 million in 1965, according to a forecast by the American Music Conference.

Ex-Junior College Champ Paces State Amateur

Local Golfer 2nd in Qualifying

By WHITEY SAWYER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHARLEVOIX — Accuracy paid off for Frank Skestone and the Grand Rapids golfer held medalist honors going into the Michigan Amateur Golf Tournament match play today.

Skestone fired a 68 Thursday to go with his 71 for a 139, low score at the end of two days of qualifying over the par 36-36—72 Belvedere Golf Course.

"I never hit the ball out of the fairway off the tee and I hit the irons real well to the green," the dark, tanned golfer said.

OH, NO! — Sandra Haynie of Fort Worth, Tex., looks away as her putt for a birdie failed to drop on the 17th hole during yesterday's opening round of the Women's Open Golf Championship in Hot Springs, Va. She fired an opening 70 to take a one-stroke lead.

Skestone, 32, said he twice won the Michigan Junior College Golf Tournament while attending Grand Rapids Junior College, but he had little luck in six previous tries in the Michigan Amateur.

CLIMBS TO 76

Tad Schmidt of Drayton Plains, who fired a qualifying record 65 Wednesday, climbed to 76 for 141.

"I missed seven putts between three and five feet," he said.

Bill Smith of Sault Ste. Marie shot a 78 Thursday. With the 67 the slim youngster fired Wednesday he had 145.

Under a doctor's care for encephalitis, Smith said he didn't know how he'd stand up in match play, which requires two rounds a day.

"I was tired Wednesday," he said. "Maybe I should stay tired though. I just missed about 10 putts under 10 feet," in Thursday's round.

Bracketed with Schmidt at 141 was Robert Przybylek of Muskegon, 74-67—141.

Bud Stevens of Livonia, with 73-69—142, and Bud Reninger of Lansing, with 75-67—142, were next.

Mark Christenson of Flint fired 74-69—143.

Smith was tied with Tom Balliet of Pontiac, 73-72—145, and Lynn Johnson of East Lansing, 74-71—145.

Defending champion Bob Meyer of East Lansing, who qualified automatically this year, shot practice rounds of 71-79—150, which he said "didn't do much for my confidence."

FIELD TRIMMED

The field was cut to 63 and Meyer for today's match play.

A score of 152 was needed to guarantee that a golfer made the match play. Nineteen shot 153 and played off for 10 spots.

Meyer played Bill Albright of Birmingham in the first round today. Albright qualifed at 150.

Skestone met James McGaffin of Royal Oak, who scored 150. Schmidt played Otto Schubel of Lansing, 150, and Smith tried Lee Edmundson of Ludington, 151.

Dave DeBusschere, Detroit Pistons basketball star failed to make the cut with an 84-82—166.

Better organization needed in city Golf Tournaments!

A rhubarb which took place in the annual city best ball tournament last weekend was bound to happen sooner or later.

As result the city can look for only continued decline in interest in its golf tournament schedule . . . unless there is a fast move to reorganize the entire tournament golf format at Municipal Course.

Before looking back at the history and ailments of city golf play through the years, the confusion at the best ball event should produce a lot of red faces.

As it so happened, the regulation 18-hole tournament ended in a tie between two teams.

One of the tied teams finished before a heavy downpour started.

SOME UNCERTAINTY

The other finished in the rain. Several of the teams on the course during the rain stopped play and were told they could finish on Sunday.

★ ★ ★

One of the teams tied for the lead showed Sunday; the other didn't make it. Thus a forfeit victory. Better planning over-all would have prevented such a situation. A forfeit is like a tie and a tie, to quote Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty, is like kissing your sister."

One reason given for the change of decision of having all play resumed Sunday was the fact that it would have cost the city $500 to wash out Saturday's round and replay it Sunday.

RULES UNSPECIFIC

The other oddity in the rules was the lack of specific playoff information. The rules should specifically state when any playoff shall be attempted and how rained out rounds shall be handled.

Many area golfers are not aware that the Pontiac City Medal Championship, which began in the mid-20's, was considered one of the top local tournaments in the state.

The match play tournament was eliminated and the decline of the other events, Men's Medal Play, Women's Medal Play, Men's Best Ball, Mixed Best Ball, began to decline rapidly in the 50's.

In some recent years, the women's tournament field was known to have less than 10 players. The men's fields were big at 25 or 30 golfers.

About six years ago an emphasis was put on promotion of the city tournaments and the Men's Medal tournament hit a record high of entries around 1961-62.

Better promotion, better supervision, more stringent and exacting rules, more consideration in the use of the course for and during tournament play and a revision of the prize list and awards might be the ingredients for a booster shot.

But, the local golfers will have to be convinced.

Ryan, Browns Agree

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Browns quarterback Frank Ryan signed a three-year contract with the National Football League club Thursday, Browns owner Art Modell announced.

French Lass Sharp

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — Call her Mademoiselle. She is, perhaps, De Gaulle's revenge. Or maybe she cannot keep her cool. But don't make book on it.

Her name is Catherine Lacoste. She turned 22 only last Tuesday, and in the national Women's Open Golf Tournament today they were conceding her a chance to become the youngest player ever to win the title — and the first amateur.

As the 72-hole tournament went into its second round this morning at the Cascades Course, a consistent money-winner among the pros — Sandra Haynie of Ft. Worth, Tex., led the pack after an opening round 70, one under par, Thursday.

But right behind, tied at 71 with two pros — Sue Maxwell and Sybil Griffin — came the dark-eyed, vivacious Miss Locoste of Paris — daughter of one-time tennis star Rene Lacoste and his wife, Simone, herself an accomplished golfer.

City's Micki King in Diving Trials

SANTA CLARA, Calif. — (AP) — Diver Micki King of Pontiac, Mich., already assured of a trip to the Pan-American Games in Winnipeg, Canada, next month, will be trying to qualify in another event in diving trials here Sunday.

Four divers will be chosen in the 10-meter platform competition, two men and two women.

Miss King, a lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force and 1966 indoor champion, has already been selected as one of the four divers in the three-meter event and she'll be battling 15 other girls in the platform competition.

The other three-meter divers heading for Winnipeg along with Miss King are Keith Russell and Bernie Wrighton of Phoenix, Ariz., and Sue Gossick of Tarzana, Calif.

The two will also contend for the 10-meter spots with 12 others, including Rick Gilbert, Bloomington, Ind., outdoor king at three and 10 meters, and Chuck Knorr of Columbus, O., 10-meter indoor champion last year.

BITING THE DUST—Detroit Tiger All-Star catcher Bill Freehan dives for Cleveland Indians second baseman Chico Salmon in applying the tag on this fifth-inning play last night in Detroit. Salmon tried to come in from third on an infield grounder but the toss to Freehan from second baseman Jerry Lumpe arrived in plenty of time. Indians won, 5-3.

New Pros Set Pace

MONTREAL (AP) — It figured. Golf's touring pros took one look at the short, flat, waterless Montreal Municipal Course, rubbed their hands in glee and privately predicted they'd take it apart.

They did. But who would have figured that the chief destroyers would be Laurie Hammer, Roger Ginsberg, Steve Reid and Dave Stockton?

The established pros had difficulties ranging from mild Jack Nicklaus to severe Arnold Palmer and Gary Player while the new breed continued the tradition of domination in the Canadian Open Golf Tournament.

Hammer, 24, a big blond, All-America-boy type from Sarasota, Fla., established the first-round lead with a five-under-par 66. He had five birdies and no bogeys.

Ginsberg, 28, who has yet to win on the tour, and Reid, 30, a part-time performer on the pro circuit, tied for second with veteran Art Wall, all at 67.

HAS ONE WIN

Sharing the next position at 68 were Stockton, 25, who scored his first tournament victory earlier this year, and veteran Gardner Dickinson.

Bengals Retain Second Despite Slump in June

By BILL HALLS
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT — The most amazing thing about the Detroit Tigers' June slump is that they still are in second place.

Going into tonight's opener of a crucial three-game series with the league-leading Chicago White Sox, the Tigers have dropped 15 of their last 21 games.

With their 5-3 loss Thursday night to Cleveland, they stand 10-18 for June and trail Chicago by 5½ games.

After sweeping a Memorial Day doubleheader from the Sox, Detroit was first, a half game ahead of Chicago.

The White Sox have played 17-12 baseball since Memorial Day, a steady record but nothing like a runaway.

STAY IN RACE

Most teams beset by a slump such as Detroit's would have fallen into the second division.

★ ★ ★

"It isn't over yet," says Tiger Manager Mayo Smith, who still thinks the Baltimore Orioles are the team to beat.

"They've got the personnel," says Smith.

★ ★ ★

But Chicago is at hand for the weekend and Detroit must win at least two of the three games to stay in the race.

A White Sox sweep of the series would put Chicago 8½ games in front with the Fourth of July coming up, traditional measuring point of the likely pennant winner.

White Sox Manager Eddie Stanky has said if his club is first on July 4th, it will win the pennant.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers, who have held on to second despite collapse of their starting rotation, which has turned in only three complete games since June 6, has its back against the wall in the White Sox series.

Starter Earl Wilson will miss a turn because of a bruised hip.

All-Star right fielder Al Kaline, who leads the team in hitting (.328), rbi (53) and homers (15), is out for three weeks with a broken bone in his right hand.

Reserve outfielder Gates Brown dislocated a bone in his left wrist while trying to field a ball in the loss to the Indians Thursday night and will be out for two weeks.

★ ★ ★

Brown was filling in for slugger Willie Horton, who has been in and out of the lineup all year because of a chronic pulled muscle in his left leg and a bruised achilles tendon.

NL All Star Pitchers Given Solid Drubbing

By The Associated Press

It wasn't exactly an All Star night for Bob Gibson and Don Drysdale, both of whom were chosen for the National League team shortly before taking their regular pitching turns Thursday night.

Gibson, the overpowering St. Louis right-hander, was manhandled for nine runs in less than one inning as San Francisco scored 11 first inning runs and walloped the Cardinals 12-4.

Drysdale suffered a similar fate against Cincinnati, lasting into the second inning and allowing six runs on seven hits as the Reds bombed Los Angeles 14-0.

BUNNING SHARP

Elsewhere in the National League, Jim Bunning, who wasn't picked for the All Star staff looked more the part, shutting out New York on three hits as Philadelphia nipped the Mets 1-0, and Chicago moved within 1½ games of first place by topping Pittsburgh 4-3. Houston's game at Atlanta was rained out.

★ ★ ★

The first eight Giants to bat against Gibson reached base, and seven of them scored. San Francisco bunched 10 hits in the 11-run inning against Gibson and reliever Nelson Briles with Jim Hart's three-run homer climaxing the assault.

★ ★ ★

Despite the big bulge, San Francisco starter Joe Gibbon failed to retire a batter, allowing four straight hits. Bob Bolin came on and got credit for the victory.

★ ★ ★

It wasn't quite as bad for Drysdale against the Reds. He was charged with six of the runs as the Reds charged to an 11-0 lead in the first three innings.

Tony Perez, Don Pavletich and Deron Johnson each slammed home runs and drove in three runs apiece as Cincinnati raked four Dodger pitchers for 18 hits.

Milt Pappas hurled a five-hitter and breezed to his eighth victory.

Bunning was almost untouchable against the Mets — the team he pitched a perfect game against three years ago this month.

Two of New York's three hits were infield rollers and only five Mets reached base against the Philadelphia ace, who squared his record at 8-8.

Bunning retired the first 10 batters and 14 of the last 15, striking out seven and walking two. He got the only run he needed when the Phillies bunched three hits against loser Jack Fisher in the fourth inning.

Girls Break U.S. Record in 880 Relay

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Four gals from Phoenix, Ariz., smashed the American record for the 880-yard relay by more than three seconds Thursday night in the girls' division final of the AAU women's track and field championships with a time of 1:39.2 seconds.

★ ★ ★

Darlene Green, Lois Drinkwater, Jan Glotzer and Nancy Benson combined in the championship effort, and both Miss Drinkwater and Miss Benson won individual titles for their Valley of the Sun team.

★ ★ ★

During the semifinals, both the Phoenix girls and the Angels team representing Kent, Auburn and Renton, Wash., had each posted 1:41.1.

★ ★ ★

In the night finals, the Arizonans beat the Washington team, which took second in 1:40.7. Five of the first six teams bettered the old record.

Fencers Cut to 8 Finalists

Woman Will Attempt 10th U. S. Foil's Title

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — The men's sabre division of the U. S. Fencing Championships was cut Thursday to eight finalists who will compete Friday to determin the 1967 champion.

★ ★ ★

The sabre finalists will follow the finals of the women's foil division in the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.

★ ★ ★

The men finalists are defending champion Al Moreales, Michael Dasaro, who placed third in 1966; Walter Farber, Jack Keane and Alex Orban, all of New York; Fujio Shimizu, Los Angeles; Thomas Balla, Philadelphia, and Robert Blum, New York.

★ ★ ★

The women's foil finalists are Janice Romary, nine-time U.S. champion from Woodland Hills, Calif.; Maxine Mitchell, five-time U.S. champion from Eagle Rock, Calif.; Bonnie Linkmeyer, Sherman Oaks, Calif.; Harriett King, San Francisco; Veronica Smith, Washington; Sally Techinsky, West Peabody, Mass., and Tilar Roldan and Olga Pareyon, both of Mexico City.

New Wing Is Added to Orioles' Staff

By United Press International

Despite the fact that the Baltimore Oriole pitching staff has come up with several sore wings this season, it has managed to hatch one of the brightest young stars in the American League.

Twenty - five - year - old Tom Phoebus, who has become the mainstay of the crippled Oriole staff, won his seventh game of the year Thursday night by limiting the league-leading Chicago White Sox to just three hits as Baltimore registered a 4-1 victory.

Phoebus, who was born and raised in Baltimore, has not been a complete surprise to the Orioles in 1967.

The rookie righthander came up from the International League last September and shut out the Angels and the A's in his first two major league starts.

PERMISSION REFUSED

With Steve Barber on the disabled list at the time, the Orioles requested permission to use Phoebus in the World Series.

★ ★ ★

But the National League champions, the Los Angeles Dodgers, refused. As it turned out, Moe Drabowsky, Dave McNally, Wally Bunker and Jim Palmer handled the situation with the greatest of ease by knocking off the Dodgers in four straight.

But this season things aren't so rosy for the Birds. Barber has again run into arm trouble and has been erratic in most of his appearances.

Bunker has seen little action because of his sore right shoulder. Palmer, who won the final game of the 1966 Series, has been sent to the minors to cure his arm problem and Dave McNally has recently been put on the disabled list.

Phoebus already has racked up three shutouts, all coming in succession, and has allowed the opposition only one run in three of his wins.

Upset at Yonkers

YONKERS, N.Y: (AP) — Perfect Freight of the United States scored a major upset in the $100,000 United Nations Trot at Yonkers Raceway Thursday night. The 5-year-old colt, driven by James Dennis took over in the stretch when the odds-on favorite Roquepine of France broke stride and finished fifth.

HOMER ANTICS — Cincinnati Reds' trainer Al Wylder gets this 'dugout pitch' from the Reds every time a member of the team clouts a home run. It happened three times yesterday as the Reds pounded the Dodgers, 14-0. Above, Wylder, a lightweight at 110 pounds, is pitched from the dugout by Jim Maloney (left) and Chico Ruiz (19). This one came on Don Pavletich's two-run blow in the third inning.

N. L. Manager Picks Hurlers

2 Dodgers Selected by Walt Alston

CINCINNATI (AP) — Manager Walter Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers named two of his own hurlers today to the eighth-man National League pitching staff for the annual All-Star Game to be played at Anaheim, Calif., July 11.

They were Don Drysdale and Claude Osteen.

In all, Alston, who will manage the National Leaguers, picked five righthanders and three lefthanders. They have a combined won and lost record of 67-40 through games of Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

Besides Drysdale, the righthanders named were Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants, Ferguson Jenkins of the Chicago Cubs, Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals, and rookie Tom Seaver of the New York Mets.

The southpaws, in addition to Osteen, will be Denny Lemaster of the Atlanta Braves and Mike Cuellar of the Houston Astros.

★ ★ ★

The starting lineup, named by a vote of players, except for pitchers, was announced Thursday and Alston's choices for hurlers leaves only the Cincinnati Reds without a man on the squad thus far. The Reds led the league until a recent slump, which came after a rash of injuries sidelined a flock of regulars.

Billiards Final for Coast Pro

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Luther Lassiter of Elizabeth City, N.C., became one of the two finalists in the U. S. open pocket billiards tournament.

Lassiter, a 48-year-old professional, defeated Irving Crane of Rochester, N.Y., 150 to 44. Previously Lassiter had whipped four opponents in the double elimination format. Crane now drops to the losers' bracket.

In the finals Friday Lassiter faces the winner of the losers' bracket. Still in contention in that division are Jimmy Carras of Springfield, Pa., Dallas West, Loves Park, Ill., and Crane.

3 American Crews Battle for International Honors

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England (AP)—Three United States crews battled on for International Honors in Henley Royal Regatta today with Cornell University rated a strong favorite to win the Thames Challenge Cup.

The other U.S. squad, Kent School, Conn., and Tabor Academy, Marion, Mass., both race british oarsmen in the Princess Elizabeth Challenge Cup and will line up for an all-American needle match in the semi-final Saturday—if both pull through.

Cornell faces England's Crowland Rowing club and although both on record appear evenly matched, the Americans have yet to open up full throttle.

Cornell won its race Thursday in 7 minutes 24 seconds, while Crowland was only one second faster.

But Crowland was pushed hard by its opponents, a crew of Irish policemen, and Cornell showed little sign of fatigue.

Tabor meets Nautical College of Pangbourne, and Kent Race Westminster School. Kent won by one-and-one-half lengths in 7 minutes 39 seconds to strong opposition Thursday. Tabor fought a hard race but got a lucky break when one of the oarsmen in the other boat caught a crab.

In the premier event, the Grand Challenge Cup an East German squad from Leipzig was the favorite with Club France, the French national eight, Oxford University—the British varsity champions—and Tideway Scullers, a crack combination of British oarsmen, still very much in the race.

Survey Made on Football Fatalities

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—The men who prepared an annual survey of football fatalities said emphatically Thursday that the practice of spearing or goring must be eliminated from football.

The report said this practice of driving the head directly and with force into the body of an opposing player "is extremely dangerous to the ball carrier. More frequently, however, it is the tackler who is the more severly and seriously injured."

The football fatality survey was prepared by Dr. Carl A. Blyth of the University of North Carolina and David C. Arnold of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Association in Chicago.

The survey for college, professional and sandlot football was prepared by Dr. Blyth and Arnold covered the high school phase.

ENFORCE RULES

They urged coaches and officials to enforce the rules prohibiting spearing.

"The helmet is designed as a protective device and should not be used as a weapon," they said.

★ ★ ★

They pointed to the hazards of spearing after finding that most football fatalities since 1960 resulted from head and neck injuries, and last year 23 of 24 deaths resulted from such injuries.

"Enforcement of the rules prohibiting spearing, properly fitted helmets and excellent physical condition will help reduce fatalities and seroius head and neck injuries in football," the report added.

The 24 deaths resulting directly from football were one less than the year before. Twenty occurred in high school football and four in sandlot play.

★ ★ ★

Deaths from indirect causes—such as heat stroke or heart failure—totaled only eight last year compared with 24 in 1965.

Other findings:

About half the direct fatal injuries in football occur during regular games.

Defensive players have slightly more fatal injuries than offensive players.

Tacklers suffered about 32 per cent of the direct fatalities, ball carriers 14 per cent and blockers 10 per cent.

"Ruined my new outboard ...and what are you going to do about it?" the man wrote. Our laboratory experts discovered the outboard engine had been fueled by an inferior pre-mixed product—not with "GO-MIX"®.

WARNING! There is only one real GO-MIX—it is made by VALVOLINE. Beware of imitations . . . they can foul plugs, clog carburetor and combustion chamber, stall your engine, make it hard to start. Yes, inferior pre-mixed fuel can even ruin your engine.

GO-MIX is a refinery blend of high octane, unleaded Ashland gasoline and Valvoline Super Outboard Motor Oil (not ordinary oil). The gasoline and oil are homogenized, assuring a stable, uniform blend that will not settle out. Clean-burning GO-MIX keeps carburetors gum-free, minimizes spark plug fouling, exhaust port plugging, Motor starts faster, performs better. And there's no messy hand mixing.

Beware of imitations! For longer engine life and carefree boating, use GO-MIX, world's finest outboard fuel.

Won't Risk Boat

My Gypsy Pilot Cools It Qualifying

DETROIT (UPI) — Money isn't everything according to Jim Ranger, scheduled to drive My Gypsy in Sunday's World Championship powerboat race on the Detroit River. Or is it?

Ranger, of Detroit, said he isn't even tempted to go for the $300 prize which goes to the driver of the fastest qualifier during each day of trials.

The prize money went begging Tursday as long, rolling wages kept any hydroplane from getting above the required speed of 90 miles per hour over the three-mile, one-lap course.

BIG RISK

"I'm not about to risk $35,000 worth of equipment for the $300 prize," Ranger said. "They don't bust up their equipment at Indianapolis once they qualify for the 500 mile race. Neither will I."

So the canny Ranger merely put his qualifying time of 110.294 up on the list and let other drivers shoot for the speed marks, and increase their chances for a breakdown.

The race prizes total $45,000 and highest mark so far was the 115.384 m.p.h. speed by Bill Cantrell of Detroit, in Miss Bardahl Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

A dozen boats have qualified so far and five more will attempt to fill out the 15 allowed positions in today's final day of trials.

CLEAN RACE

Officials are hoping for a clean race this year. Last year, in the race on the Detroit River.

★ ★ ★

In the only other race this season, Bill Brow, Seattle, Wash. died on Tampa Bay when his Miss Budweiser flipped and sank. In all, five drivers have been killed in powerboat accidents within the past year.

Among those who failed to qualify Wednesday was Bud Saile, idle as a driver for the past five years.

Saile attempted to qualify Such Crust but was going too fast at the gun. He was given a gun start because he hasn't hit 100 m.p.h. in a hydroplane this year, a requirement of the American Power Boat Association.

★ ★ ★

The referee ordered Saile off the course after his oil line broke, splattering Such Crusts's windshield.

Cranbrook 9 Surges to Win

Rallies Secure Victory in 'A' League

A late-inning surge by Cranbrook carried the team to a 7-2 victory last night over C.I.O. No. 594 in city Class A baseball action.

The triumph boosted Cranbrook's record to 7-3 and lifted the team into a tie with Booth Homes for second place behind M. G. Collision (7-2).

The winners, trailing 1-0 going into the bottom of the fifth, erupted for four runs on only three hits and added three more the following inning to wrap it up.

Ron Murray and Charlie Heavenrich cracked out a couple of hits apiece to spark the winners. Mike Burklow limited C.I.O to four hits, one of them a first-inning homer by Dan Kelly.

Games tomorrow have the Clippers meeting U.A.W. at 6 p.m. and Pass Excavating taking on Talbott Lumber at 8:30.

Pitchers Hurl No-Hitters for Top Softball Teams

A pair of City American League pitchers shared the spotlight last night as they spun no-hitters for the loop's top two squads.

★ ★ ★

Henry Hughes silenced the bats of Bob's Bar as Town & Country (9-4) won the opener at Beaudette Park, 8-0, and Ralph Long turned in a similar performance as league-leading Ron's Roost (11-2) downed Orchard Lanes (3-10) in the night-cap, 4-0.

Hughes fanned six and walked four to keep T&C within two games of the leader. Don Moorhead picked up a couple singles to pace the winners who scored once in the first and pushed three runs across in the third and fifth frames.

Long also struck out six and pitched out of a couple of jams in the second and fifth innings. John Snyder and Mouse Beers paced the attack with two hits apiece.

★ ★ ★

Timberlanes No. 2 ran its National League-leading record to 7-1 with a 5-1 verdict over Huron Bowl, and in another game at Northside, Pontiac Press turned back Hagen's Shell, 11-5, in an International Slow-Pitch contest.

OUTHIT WINNERS

Huron Bowl (4-6) outhit the winners, 10-4, but pitcher Jim Fields kept the safeties well scattered in picking up the decision. Gary Acker backed Fields with two singles. Gary Adam and Bill Davis picked up two hits apiece for the losers.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Press (5-2) sent nine runners across the plate in the third inning and coasted past Hagen's Shell (0-9). The winners collected 16 hits with six players picking up two apiece. Larry Bowles checked in with three hits for the losers.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Randy Erskine of Battle Creek, the only Michigan golfer still alive in the Western Junior Golf Tournament, today met Bill Spannuth, of Anderson, Ind., in the third round of match play on the Purdue north course.

Erskine defeated John Lynch of Lake Forest, Ill., 1-up in 18 holes and took out Don Padgett of Muncie, Ind., 2-up Thursday.

Rocky Pozza of Detroit was eliminated 2-1 by defending champion Ross Elder of Tulsa, Okla., in the first round, but Elder was then knocked out by Spannuth 2-1 in the second.

Clyde Frames Softball Win in Rec Action

Fate and Clydes Frame (8-7) prevailed over the Luckless Waterford Merchants (1-14) by a score of 11-10 in Waterford Men's Softball Action last night.

The Merchants made up two large deficits in the fourth and seventh innings when they tied the score up at 5-5 and 10-10. But Ken Young of Clydes scored on Duane Fornwall's sacrifice fly to end the game in the bottom of the seventh inning.

In ther other game Buckner Finance (5-10) eeked out its third win by defeating McAnnally's Auto Sales (6-9) 3-2.

McAnally's got both its runs in the first inning on a triple by Walt Poe and a homer by Bob Crandall.

TEEING OFF

By FLETCHER SPEARS

There's a future for some imaginative person who can come up with an inexpensive method of covering a golf course with a plastic bubble.

You know what that'd mean. For Michigan players, it'd be golf year around providing some wife didn't let the air out of the entire scheme.

One ready customer for such a golf course cover might be L. C. Barner, manager at Pontiac Municipal, who was put on the hot seat over the weekend by a cool rain.

The genial Barner — 'Crese' to hundreds who play the city links — ran into some difficulty during the city Best-Ball Tournament Saturday, difficulty brought on by heavy rain and a threat of tornadoes.

The weather was such that to continue play would have been dangerous, so Crese brought it to a halt. "We told anyone who was playing the final nine holes that if rain interrupted them they could finish on Sunday," he said.

That was okay for those who were doing badly on the second nine. It gave them a chance to redeem themselves Sunday.

★ ★ ★

For those who played the final nine holes in the rain and didn't score well — partly because of the rain — the decision wasn't favorable. This group would have preferred the entire day be washed out so everyone would have an equal chance another day.

And for those who had already turned in low scores, they preferred to let scores stand as they were rather than take a chance on another round

★ ★ ★

Of course, Crese was in the middle and felt the heat from all angles.

Crese, almost 66, manager at the course for the past 19 years, said it was the first time a tournament had been rained out since he'd been on the job.

As for the way in which the event was handled, Crese was right in stopping the tournament. And each group involved had a valid point, whether it was to have all scores for the day wiped out, and play the tournament in entirety another day; or to keep scores already posted; or to take advantage of rain-interrupted play and finish on Sunday.

★ ★ ★

It should be obvious by now that all of the furor could have been avoided if the city had outlined a plan for staging its tournaments and made the plan known to all entrants.

So it was with Crese, who was working with no previously announced guideline. That's a situation where you're wrong regardless of auctions or intentions.

Then again, folks being what they are, they're inclined to go along with most anything if they know about it in advance.

Convicts Cheer Performance

No 'Lifting' Record for Life Termer

FOLSOM PRISON, Calif. (AP) — The hard bitten life termer grunted, strained and lifted the 620-pound weights above his head.

★ ★ ★

The 100 or so Folsom Prison convicts watching in Iron Alley cheered, for it looked like Bill Wilson had set the national weightlifting record for the deadlift in the light heavyweight division he had worked so hard and long to achieve.

★ ★ ★

The four officials from the Amateur Athletic Union who had journey behind the walls to record the official attempt Saturday marked it all down and left, telling the beaming Wilson he had, indeed, become a national sports record holder.

The letdown for the 38-year-old convicted murderer, who has been behind bars seven years, came last Saturday night.

Ralph Countryman, vice chairman of the AAU's Pacific Association, telephoned that he had just checked the latest records.

★ ★ ★

"I hate to say this," he told a reporter, "but I found out a guy named Gomes of the Staten Island Weightlifting Club lifted 626 pounds last October in a meet in Jersey City. That means Wilson didn't break the record after all."

NOTHING NEW

This kind of bad news wasn't new to Wilson.

Last year, with the AAU officials on hand, Wilson lifted 615 pounds, and everyone assumed he had broken the then-record of 614½.

He learned after that, by letter, that his hopes were wrong — he had to break the current mark by one full pound.

But the AAU men will be back to the state's maximum security prison one of these days, and Bill Wilson — presumably —will still be there, ready for another try at becoming No. 1.

Junior Pair in 'Masters'

Two local golfers are among the leaders in the Future Masters Golf Tournament which ends today at Dotham Country Club in Dotham, Ala.

Chris Skellenger, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Skellenger of Waterford, carded a 44 in the first round to lead the 10-year-old age group.

In the 12-year-old division, Gordon Booker Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Booker of Clarkston, posted a 94 over the 18-hole layout and was among the top 10.

Two Oarsmen Reach Finals in Boat Trials

PELHAM MANOR, N.Y. (AP) — John Van Blom of the Long Beach, Calif., Rowing Association, James Dietz of the New York Athletic Club and Jim Storm of the San Diego, Calif., Rowing Club advanced Thursday to the finals of the Pan-American rowing trials.

★ ★ ★

They won the three heats over the 2,000-meter Olympic course at Orchard Beach lagoon in calm water and variable winds.

The winners automatically moved into Saturday's finals while the losers enter repercharges Friday evening.

The regatta will determine the United States' representatives at the Pan American Games at Winnipeg the first week in August.

Singles Sculls

First heat — 1, John Va Blom, Long Beach (Calif.) Rowing Association, 7:23.8; 2, John Nunn, Long Beach RA, 7:24.9; 3, Richard Schwartz, Potomac Boat Club, Washington, D.C., 7:38.8; 4, Henry Killen, New York Athletic Club, 7:52.3; 5, Jeffrey Kreger, Wyandotte, Mich., 8:04.5.

Second heat — 1, James Dietz, New York AC, 7:50.5; 2 Dave Robinson, Fairmount Rowing Association, Philadelphia, 7:55.5; 3, Robert Arlett, New York AC, 7:56.2; 4, James Raslavsky, Shrewsbury (Mass.) Rowing Association, 8:06; 5, William Willson, Oyster Bay Rowing Association, New York, 8:10.7

Third heat — 1, James Storm, San Diego (Calif.) Rowing Club, 7:54; 2, William Maher, Detroit Boat Club, 7:57; 3, Henry Hamilton, Vesper Boat Club, Philadelphia, 8:07; 4, Capt. Robert Jarvis, Lake Washington Rowing Club, Seattle, Wash., 8:19.5.

Jets Obtain Defender

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Jets announced Thursday they had acquired Solomon Brannan, a defensive back and kickoff specialist from the Kansas City Chiefs in return for center Mike Hudock.

British Net Officials Favor Open Tourney

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) —British tennis officials, battling hard for the right to stage an open Wimbledon, were a game down today with their service to follow.

They admitted they have not yet picked up enough support for their motion for a two-year experimental period of open tennis, to be presented at the annual meeting of the International Lawn Tennis Federation next month.

But they still have two weeks to try to persuade other countries to see their point of view.

HUGE CROWDS

The arguments over open tennis went on as another fantastic crowd packed the All-England club Thursday. In four days 105,000 have watched the tournament.

★ ★ ★

Yet the British are the ones who want to change the structure of Wimbledon and let in the pros.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the All-England club finalized its plans to stage an all-professional tournament on the famed center court at Wimbledon in August.

But, Wimbledon itself is flourishing. Another crowd of 30,300 packed the ivy-clad arena of the center court and the paths around the outer courts Thursday, as the men's singles contenders came down to the last 16.

TWO AMERICANS

Only two Americans survive—Charlie Pasarell, husky 23-year-old star from Santurce, Puerto Rico, and Clark Graebner, the big Davis Cupper from Beachwood, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Pasarell downed Frank Tutvin of Canada—a student at Miami University—6-1, 6-3, 6-1. Pasarell has been going like a bomb ever since he knocked out Manuel Santana of Spain, the reigning champion, in the first round last Monday.

Graebner defeated Edison Mandarino of Brazil 6-3 6-3 11-9.

★ ★ ★

Roy Emerson, twice champion already, is among five Australians still in contention. With them are two Germans, two Britons, and one each from Brazil, South Africa, Russia, Romania and Yugoslavia.

Graebner today faced Australia's John Newcombe, the No. 3 seed. Pasarell will play Tomas Koch, the Brazilian Davis Cup star, Saturday.

Prep Officials in Portland View Setback

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Athletic directors and coaches in Portland's high schools were in a state of bewilderment after the $6.5 million special operating levy was defeated Thursday.

School board officals had said the athletic program would be eliminated if the levy request was turned down for the second time.

★ ★ ★

"This is a shame," said Benson High School athletic director Cliff Wise. "Just think of all those gymnasiums, football fields and baseball fields sitting idle. What a waste!".

More than 10,000 athletes and 150 coaches will be affected.

The city has 12 high schools, three of them parochial.

Last Opportunity for Water Record

GUNTERSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — With only one day remaining on a sanction to break the world's water speed record, Lee Taylor, Downey, Calif., took his Hustler out of the water Thursday for repairs.

★ ★ ★

During a morning run the jet-powered boat reached 237 miles per hour, but damage to the front of the boat halted other attempts to break the 277.33 m.p.h. record.

★ ★ ★

The record was set by the late Donald Campbell.

Taylor achieved 276.170 m.p.h. in a run Tuesday, the fastest time clocked on Lake Guntersville by the 2½-ton boat.

2 Junior Pitchers Notch 1-Hit Games in Class E

A pair of junior hurlers checked in with one-hitters yesterday in city Class E baseball action.

* * *

Craig Medlen yielded only a sixth-inning single as the Auburn Heights Sportsmen (2-0) downed the Pontiac Hawks, 5-0, and Pete Taylor gave up a second-inning single in pitching Felice Market to a 5-1 verdict over HB Yankees.

In a third Class E game, Moose downed Rochester, 9-4.

In Class D, Rochester ran its record to 3-0 to gain a tie for first with Pontiac Police Officers Association by downing the XL's, 10-2. Eagles No. 1230 won its first by trimming Arnold Drugs, 9-4.

Convention Opening in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—The 51st convention of the United States Soccer Football Association opens here today with more than 50 delegates from 22 states attending the three-day meeting.

The association is the American farm of the Federation de Internationale Football Association which governs professional and amateur soccer throughout the world.

* * *

A recommendation by the Connecticut State Soccer Football Association that the USSFA consider granting sanction to the National Professional Soccer League will be among issues to be debated.

Also to be considered by the delegates is a recommendation by the New Jersey State Football (soccer) Association that the USSFA support a merger of the National Professional League and the already-sanctioned United Soccer Association.

Certification of delegates and alternates is on today's agenda, with the first business session scheduled for Saturday morning.

Mexican Champ Ousts Top Foe in Net Tourney

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Top-ranked Loyo-Mayo went through three rough sets Thursday in what he called the "hardest match of my schedule" before gaining a quarter-final berth in the Tennessee Valley Invitational Tennis Tournament.

* * *

Loyo-Mayo, the defending champion from Mexico City, was threatened immediately when unseeded Armistead Neely of Tampa, Fla., took the first set 7-5. Loyo-Mayo bounced back with an easy 6-1 second set but went to 9-7 before taking the final winning set.

A Ribbon for Curly Pink

By JODY HEADLEE
Pontiac Press Garden Editor

Everyone has a favorite in his or her garden. And with the advent of the rose bloom in June, each year I am pleasantly reminded of mine, Curly Pink.

A hybrid tea, Curly Pink is a Sub-Zero rose created by Dr. and Mrs. Charles Brownell of Little Compton, R.I.

It is a bi-colored pink beauty that thrives with very little effort on my part.

When we moved into our home eleven years ago, I was intrigued by the "winter-proof sensations," the Sub-Zero roses. No more fretting about winter protection, these roses would endure our Michigan winters and come up blooming, claimed the advertisements.

It sounded too good to be true but I decided to live dangerously and sent away for a free catalog. The pictures were lovely and I favored two, a yellow pillar rose and Curly Pink.

★ ★ ★

The yellow rose is still living and it is nice but Curly Pink. . . well, there's a rose.

SANDY HOME

Roses favor a clay loam ordinarily but the spot I wanted to plant Curly Pink was pure sand in a retaining wall bed. The bed faces southwest and is open to the searing rays of the sun from mid-morning until sunset.

Roses like sunshine but by times this bed and the deserts or Arizona have much in common.

All indications pointed to finding another home for Curly Pink but I wanted a rose bush right there so shovel in hand, I planted my bare rooted specimen when it arrived.

★ ★ ★

I worked quite a bit of peat moss into the hole before setting the plant to give it a gentle shove in the right direction.

Peat moss is kind of a cure-all for the gardening world. If the soil is too sandy, peat provides body and if it is heavy clay, the peat helps to break it up.

Ringing the plant with fertilizer and watering it in, I set back to await the first blossoms. I wasn't disappointed.

TRUE TO NAME

Curly Pink has so many petals in its crown that even when it is wide open you can't see the stamens. Each petal curls back as if you'd rolled it with an old-fashioned curling iron.

The blooms, measuring from three to four or more inches across, are clustered on the stems almost like those of a floribunda.

Resistant to black spot, Curly Pink doesn't have too many enemies in the garden. An occasional spray with an all-purpose insecticide to control aphids and chewing pests keeps her happy and blooming.

★ ★ ★

Each spring and July, I sprinkle a generous handful of 6-12-12 fertilizer around the base and work it in. Other than that and a deep watering about once a week during periods of drought, Curly Pink is on her own.

I do not protect the plant in any way during the winter and you'll have to admit during the last eleven years, we've had some real winters with sleet, snow and sub-zero temperatures.

Curly Pink is not a show rose. She does not have enough champion points to win a ribbon from the judges.

★ ★ ★

But in my book, she's a winner all the way.

Plant Life Mysteries Revealed

What makes sap rise in plants, even to the tops of tall trees? Is it pushed, or is it pulled?

★ ★ ★

Walter Haldeman of The Pennsylvania State University says you get a good explanation of why say ascends in plants from the school's correspondence course Plant Life.

According to the Penn State course, sap is pulled by a force applied at the tops of plants. As moisture evaporates from plants' leaves, more water is pulled up the plants' tubes to replace that evaporated. Just like ink is absorbed into blotters. Or water is lifted from wells by pumps.

Moisture is lost from leaves by transpiration, a special kind of evaporation. The pull on replacement water is exerted by cohesion of molecules. Have you forgotten your high school science? Cohesion of molecules means attraction between water particles.

★ ★ ★

Water moves inside plants through the vascular systems, which are networks of tubes. The vascular network which carries water upward is mostly in the wood of plants' stems.

To learn more about the basic life processes in plants, study Penn State's correspondence course. Anyone can enroll by sending his name and address with $2.50 to PLANT LIFE, Box 5000, University Park, Pennsylvania 16802. A course copy will come to you by mail.

Fill Fireplace With Greens

When you fill up an unused fireplace with green plants, the entire room will take on a light, airy look. Use clay-potted Boston ferns with their gracefully arched fronds.

★ ★ ★

Varied plant heights can easily be achieved by inverting clay pots of different sizes and using them as bases for the ferns.

Cereal Leaf Beetle Control Now in Hands of Growers

The job of controlling the cereal leaf beetle is now the sole responsibility of growers who have the insects in their fields. But these growers should not treat for the insect unless they have evidence that potential damage to the crops exists, comments Don Juchartz, Wayne County Extension Agricultural Agent.

He points out that the discontinuation of federal and state programs for control of the beetle has made it necessary for growers of cereal crops to determine their own needs for handling the insect.

Drs. Gordon Guyer and Ray Janes, Michigan State University entomologists, told Juchartz that it would be "very unusual for the cereal leaf beetle to be equally damaging on all cereal crops" and that a clear-cut need for control of beetle adults "is not available."

The MSU specialists also pointed out that emergence from over-wintering will vary from one location to another.

★ ★ ★

"The only good reason to consider adult beetle control would be in the case of heavy damage to the foliage of young plants," he indicated, "and control for the larvae (grubs) should be considered when at least one of these larvea is found on each stem of cereal plants.

This intensity of population would be more critical on fields planted to poorer soil or where the plants have been under stress from lack of moisture."

★ ★ ★

Juchartz says information on cereal leaf beetle control is available in Cooperative Extension Bulletin 443. He also urges area farmers to contact the Oakland County Extension Office before treating for the beetle.

Good Crops Under Plastic

Excellent crops are being grown in plastic-covered greenhouses, a Cornell University horticulturist reports.

★ ★ ★

Prof. Raymond Sheldrake Jr. says polyethylene is the most common plastic used for this purpose.

He recommends a four-mil thickness, in two layers with an air space of one to two inches between layers.

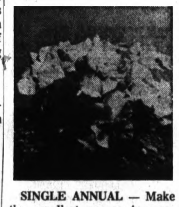
The two layers minimize the condensation of moisture in the air.

★ ★ ★

The crops thus need less frequent watering and hold a more uniform temperature.

Sheldrake says as much light passes through the two layers as through one, because with one thickness, a heavy film of condensation builds up, cutting down on light transmission.

The annual United States apple crop is about 130 million bushels.



SINGLE ANNUAL — Make the smallest spaces in your garden colorful with small plants to bloom all summer long.

Rose Medic Cures Thorny Problems

By MAX JENNINGS
United Press International

At the northern Wyoming town of Lovell, just a few miles from the Montana border, they call him the Rose Doctor of Wyoming. And rightly so.

Dr. W. W. Horsley has practiced medicine for four decades and his second profession for almost as long. His other job is raising roses.

His love for the beautiful plants has made him one of the nation's authorities.

Dr. Horsley often judges at national rose competitions and has written several articles on the winter care of roses.

★ ★ ★

Thirty five years ago, the doctor decided to do something about his town's rather unattractive main street.

PLANTER

He found a friend to help him and planted a sprawling rose garden at the west end of the street.

Horsley carefully nurtured each plant until the area was a beauty showcase.

The next project was the east end of the same street. Greasewood, alkali soil, rocks and rubbish were turned into a rose garden.

★ ★ ★

Today, the Lovell gardens have become test beds for many new breeds of roses introduced by the nation's nurseries.

In the two city gardens there are 150 varieties of roses. Dr. Horsley gives each variety personal study, checking on survival of winter and other characteristics.

Dr. Horsley's love for roses is legendary.

★ ★ ★

When he gives a shot to a child, and the child doesn't cry, his reward is a rose plant instead of a lollipop.

Insects Know Key to Success

Wayne Boyle, Associate Professor of Entomology at The Pennsylvania State University, says insects are phenomenally successful animals. They're worldwide in distribution. The kinds (species) exceed all other animals combined. And each species can become extremely numerous — they reproduce enormously.

Why are insects so successful? According to Professor Boyle, author of a Penn State correspondence course on principles of insect control, their wingedness and the pupa stage of metamorphosis give insects advantage over other animals in the fight for existence.

Wings let insects move about rapidly. Insects are winged only as adults, which is the mating and egg laying stage, Boyle explains.

The pupal stage brings a complete change of body structure from larva to adult. In the larval stage insects can exploit environments and foods completely unsuited to adults. They eat different foods as larvae than as adults.

★ ★ ★

Thus, the larvae are highly efficient for feeding and growing. But adults are reproduction "machines" fitted with wings, able to spread progeny far and wide.

Want to learn more about insects? Study the Penn State correspondence course. To enroll send your name and address with $3.25 to INSECT PRINCIPLES, Box 5000, University Park, Pennsylvania 16802. A course copy will be sent to you by mail.

Scientists Try Weed Control

Weeding strawberry beds is a back-breaking chore. The Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station is working to help establish beds that need no weeding by hand or machine.

★ ★ ★

The major problem with herbicides has been that in addition to controlling weeds, they damage strawberry plants, reducing the number of runner plants produced.

Researchers report that dipping the roots of strawberry plants in activated carbon before transplanting protected them from damage by two effective herbicide combinations.

The plants were set last May 3, and herbicides applied four days later.

★ ★ ★

The broadleaf weed and grass infestation in plots treated with the herbicide combinations was less than 10 per cent of that in untreated plots on Aug. 9.

CARBON DIP

Plants dipped in activated carbon before transplanting produced almost as many runners as did plants grown in untreated plots.

Plants in herbicide-treated plots, not dipped in charcoal, produced only a fourth as many runners as those in the untreated plots.

The station said the herbicide combinations effective against weeds and not against strawberries protected by carbon were sesone and diphenamid and simazine and DCPA.

★ ★ ★

The activated carbon treatment did not protect the strawberry plants from a number of other herbicides or combinations.

Trees Need Space to Reach Maturity

Don't plant trees too close to houses, walks and driveways. Trees require space for crown and root growth as they mature.

Don't move trees with insufficient soil around roots.

★ ★ ★

Always move evergreens, hollies, birches, beeches, oaks, dogwood, sugar maple, sweetgums, sourwood and tulip trees with a ball of earth at least 10 times the diameter of the trunk.

Transplanted trees, no matter how small, should be prevented from drying out. They should be protected from injury to root, bark and crown.

Ways to Get Jump on Garden Time

Indoor planting can speed your plants to an early start. However, a protected beginning is no guarantee the plants will reach early, healthy maturity.

The primary reason for disappointment in growth pattern, is shock from pre-mature transplanting and exposure.

Many gardeners move their plants too soon from the warm, protected climate of indoors. Outdoors even when it is late enough to be safe from frost, the change may still prove too abrupt.

In either case the solution is easy — expose them gradually. If possible, the first step is to move the plants to a cooler room or window for a few days.

Then, if you have a coldframe (a hotbed without heat), set them outdoors in it, keeping the cover closed on very cold days and opening it as necessary on warm days.

Gradually increase the amount of opening as the days pass. The idea is to accustom the plants to the harsher conditions slowly. This is called "hardening off."

REDUCE WATER

At the same time reduce the amount and frequency of watering as the time for hardening off approaches and during it. This guards against over-sappy, hence extra-tender plants.

However, there is also another and less well-known approach to the problem. That is direct seeding. It is rarely realized, even among fairly experienced gardeners that with many plants; even tender ones, it is possible to sow the seeds outdoors extra-early.

By extra-early is meant several weeks before the date of the last "killing" frost.

* * *

This is a method, if not discovered, at least used by one or more of the larger seed companies on their cool-climate test grounds. It avoids all the trouble of growing thousands of plants indoors, hardening them off and transplanting them outdoors.

Even plants like tomatoes, peppers, squash, cucumbers and marigolds are planted outdoors way ahead of season. The seedlings come up slowly, grow slowly and stand frosts they couldn't if started indoors.

Another very important factor is that no matter how carefully one hardens his plants and transplants, the plants always suffer some shock and consequent set-back.

With direct-seeding outdoors there is no such set-back, the head start of indoor-started plants is greatly reduced.

DIFFERENCE SMALL

Many times the difference in reaching maturity is unnoticeable.

As expected, prepare the soil well. Dig deeply and rake in thoroughly 5 pounds of vegetable-type fertilizer per 100 square feet.

Rake the surface smooth, make your seed drills with a small, triangular hoe or the corner of a larger one and sow your seed.

When transplanting dig your holes with a good, strong-shanked trowel or a spade for the larger plants. Firm them in, water and shade from sun and wind, if necessary.

Geranium Time for Blossoms

Geranium time is here and these colorful sun-lovers are most attractive in massed groupings.

If you have a window with full southern exposure, there's nothing as vivid as four or five of these clay-potted plants, with matching saucers, in shades of red and pink, or salmon and white.

TIME FOR A CHANGE — Kerry Harris of 58 Wall displays the snake skin he discovered by a snake hole near Auburn Heights' Motorcycle Hill. He didn't find the snake (a rattler, according to his dad) who had shed his old skin in favor of this year's model. Kerry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wally Harris.

Easy to Grow

Disease Resistant Seeds

When you are buying vegetable seeds and plants, look for varieties resistant to disease.

The New York State Agricultural Experiment Station has some recommendations, including:

The new tomato named New Yorker, resistant to verticillium wilt, earlier ripening than Fireball, with slightly smaller fruit.

An improved resistant strain of Fireball also has been developed. Varieties maturing later with resistance to verticillium wilt are Galaxy, Heinz 1350 and Superman, with the latter two also resistant to Fusarium Wilt.

* * *

The variety Gardener, although not resistant to these diseases, often is less affected by blossem-end rot and blotchy ripening than many varieties.

PLANT WOES

With cucumbers, mosaic and scab are common problems. Mosaic causes vines to yellow and die prematurely, or the fruit may become mottled.

Scab primarily affects the fruit. Resistant varieties recommended include Tablegreen 65 and Marketmore. Tablegreen 65 has vigorous vines and is resistant to powdery mildew. The fruit is dark green.

For a supply of cucumbers steadily through the season, plant a few hills of early maturing Marketmore, or another early variety such as Challenger (resistant to mosaic but not scab) and two or three weeks later a few of Tablegreen 65.

* * *

An early variety of sweet corn suggested is Seneca Star, which matures between extra-early Seneca Explorer and older, early varieties.

It produces uniform ears eight inches long. Silver Queen is a late maturing, white variety of good quality.

Eggplant also is subject to verticillium wilt and the Experiment Station reports there are no resistant varieties. Recommended is Early Beauty Hybrid, which matures about two weeks before other common varieties.

* * *

Some fruits may be harvested before the wilt attacks. Early Beauty Hybrid produces long, slim, purple fruit over a long season.

Good late maturing varieties of eggplant include Black Magic Hybrid, Burpee Hybrid, Black Beauty and Superhybrid.

Treat Lawn for Bug Pests

Did your lawn look like a convention of miniature butterflies late last summer? Did these pests leave patches of dead grass in different areas of your lawn?

* * *

If you had this problem, the odds are you were bothered with the pesty insect, sod webworm. By the time you see the adult moth, he has done most of the damage. You need not put up with this problem this summer.

What you can do is treat your lawn this year with dieldrin. Apply to manufacturer's directions and your lawn will be protected from over 30 pests.

It will also aid in ridding your lawn of moles by killing the food they eat.

* * *

Soil or water having a high acid or alkaline reaction has no effect on dieldrin. This is important in many sections, especially where alkaline soils cause other insecticides to break down. Soils which have been limed can also cause other insecticides to break down and give poor results.

ANT MENACE

Ants are a menace to housewives everywhere. Not only do they leave cone shaped tunnels throughout the lawn, but they find tiny cracks in the foundation of the house to enter and get food.

There is no danger, but, they do create problems.

Many times the home gardener will wonder if a yellowing or chlorotic appearance of the lawn means insect damage.

* * *

This condition may be caused by fungus, drought, or dull mower. Be sure to identify your problem before you try to remedy the unknown.

Scientific Experiments Point to

Earlier Vegetable Harvests

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

The efforts to raise fresh vegetables earlier continues apace. Now we have experiments with plastic tunnels about three feet high, designed to prevent frost in growing vegetables for early harvest.

* * *

As marketmen know, early maturing produce generally commands higher prices, or at least the envy of neighbors.

Results of experiments with tomatoes, cucumbers and muskmelons at the Cornell New York State College of Agriculture were described at a national agricultural plastics conference.

Tomatoes were harvested 15 to 20 days earlier than normal outdoor plantings; cucumbers a month earlier, and muskmelons 20 to 25 days.

* * *

The varieties, all early maturing, included Fireball and Manhattan tomatoes, Triumph cucumbers and Harper Hybrid muskmelons.

AIR CIRCULATION

Ventilation was determined to be the most critical feature in use of plastic row covers. Air was forced slowly through the tubes and the air flow was adjusted as outside climate conditions changed.

Heat was added to the air when there was danger of frost.

Control of insects and disease in the tubes with air movement was simple, the researcher reported, since the materials had only to be placed in front of the fans providing air support.

* * *

But it was a long, hard hand job in wire-supported tubes that had no air circulation.

Some tubes were air-supported. Some had irrigation and some did not.

Experiments compared results with clear and black mulch and no mulch. There was more frost damage on plants with the mulch than on those without mulch. Where heat was added, there was no damage.

The tomatoes, cucumbers and muskmelons all yielded more on clear plastic where there were few weeds.

WEED COUNT HIGH

Where there were many weeds, the black plastic gave the highest yield.

The researchers suggested as the best plan use of clear plastic mulch plus weed-control measures.

They reported that Dinitro (DN) and Pentachlorophenol (PCP) showed promise, as did Dacthal and Trifluralin.

* * *

The herbicides were applied to the soil and the area covered with clear plastic mulch several weeks ahead of the normal planting time.

Rose Is Cupid of Plant World

The rose has been celebrated in song and ballad ever since the beginning of communication between man.

Love has always been considered the stuff from which songs are made, but according to some research carried out by the All-America Rose Selections, love has been greatly aided and abetted by the rose.

The power of its inspiration to songsmiths can be gauged by the fact that it appears in no less than 4,000 published songs.

To add to the prestige of the rose we learn that more than 1,400 rose varieties were considered outstanding enough to have been named for famous women and 900 for men of achievement.

At the present time, there are more than 8,000 known varieties of roses. Of these, only 68 are All-America award winners, but it is interesting to note that these award winners represent more than 33 per cent of the total national rose sales per year.

Weed Society Reports Findings

Yes, there is a weed society of America, and more than 600 persons interested in controls, including university and government experts, attended the annual meeting in Washington recently.

* * *

Speakers reported that total losses due to weeds and the cost of control were higher than for either insect or plant diseases.

And a bit of intelligence worth repeating to all gardeners is that addition of fertilizer without weed control often will cause crop yield reduction because of the tremendous response of weeds to the feeding.

Tip to Remember

The foliage of American holly withers fast indoors, but if you split the stems, let them stand in warmish water overnight and then keep them in a vase with water, they have been known to last indoors from Christmas to Easter.

Elderly Making Extensive Use of It

Medicare Marks First Birthday Saturday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Medicare celebrates its first birthday Saturday, generally blessed by the elderly, acclaimed by administrators, and tolerated by doctors.

Whether the massive new plan of health care for the aged is viewed as an achievement or a mistake, this much is evident: The system is in full operation, and the elderly are making extensive use of it.

★ ★ ★

More than 7 million of the nation's 19 million citizens 65 and over have received Medicare benefits totaling more than $3 billion.

Not all the elderly are entirely pleased with the way the program has worked so far.

SOME DISILLUSIONED

Some have been disillusioned, confused and irritated. Some have suffered financial hardship by having to pay doctors' fees and then wait as much as several months for the Medicare machinery to process their bill and for the insurance carrier to return their money.

One elderly woman wrote her congressman that "Medicare printed books of damn lies and sent them to us. The books said they were going to pay everything or a lot of things, but so far I have got nothing."

★ ★ ★

But many senior citizens—and their families—have expressed deep gratitude for the program.

"I wish I could do some kindness in return to every taxpayer who has made this possible for me and other older citizens," wrote Dora H. Moitoret of Seattle after finding her share of a $934 hospital bill was just $40.

Hospitals and insurance carriers have denounced certain billing requirements as a maddening maze of red tape.

And doctors, while apparently finding they can live with Medicare, oppose expansion and any moves toward a general federal health care program—"socialized medicine."

★ ★ ★

As late as last Monday, the American Medical Association made clear its continuing opposition to the program.

Dr. Milford O. Rouse of Dallas, the new president of the AMA, said his organization recognized Medicare "but does not support or endorse it."

NOT FUNDAMENTAL

Federal officials maintain, however, that none of the complaints is fundamental and that all are being overcome, or will be. And they say some such difficulties are inevitable in any new program of such scope and complexity.

They point with pride to great reductions in payment delays, saying that areas in which 90 per cent of the beneficiaries live now are getting repayment in 21 days or less. They hope ultimately that this can be reduced to 10 days or less.

★ ★ ★

And they propose to eliminate the main paper work problems of hospitals and carriers with a simplified procedure for outpatient hospital billing.

For the present, the administration has proposed no major expansion or basic changes in Medicare. But increased benefits may not be far off. The government has announced a study of the feasibility of adding prescription drugs, one of the big costs of modern medical care.

COST WILL INCREASE

Added benefits or not, no one doubts that the cost of Medicare will increase. Medical costs, on the rise for years, went up spectacularly in 1966. Hospital daily charges rose 16.5 per cent, doctors' fees 7.8 per cent. Studies forecast still more increases.

What has caused the big increases?

The American Medical Association says Medicare was a contributing factor. But federal officials maintain—and hospital officials generally agree—that medicare has been at most a minor influence.

The largest single factor was big wage increases won by nurses and other hospital employes during the year. Wages are about two-thirds of all hospital costs.

SLIGHTLY ABOVE ESTIMATES

Despite much higher medical costs, the Social Security Administrators who run Medicare say the program's costs for the first year exceeded estimates only slightly.

But already they say there may have to be an increase in the flat, $3-a-month premium for the voluntary, supplementary coverage of doctor bills.

Junior Editors Quiz on ENTERTAINMENT

QUESTION: What did ancient Egyptian children do for entertainment?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The wealthier families in ancient Egypt built very attractive houses, often enclosing a pool in which lotus plants grew, as shown in our picture. The children of such families had many things to play with.

They enjoyed cats, which they had domesticated to keep down the mice which overran their granaries.

Graceful, greyhound-like dogs were bred by the Egyptians to hunt antelope. The children must have had much fun with them, like the boy in the back. Notice the peculiar lock of hair on his head and that he is tossing a ball, one of man's most ancient playthings.

The other boy has made a handsome model of one of the large ships which sailed up and down the Nile River at that time.

Egyptian dolls shaped like a boat's paddle (front) are said to be the earliest dolls known to history. The one in the picture is being fitted with a beautiful new wig.

Although children of poorer families would not have had as many playthings, they probably enjoyed themselves too, for the Egyptians were kind to their children.

Quiet Tug-of-War Over Jayne's Rites Emerges

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The once-beautiful body of buxom Jayne Mansfield, victim of a violent highway collision, lay today in the white-tiled morgue here as a quiet tug-of-war over her funeral developed.

Matt Cimber, estranged third husband of the 34-year-old actress, rushed here after her death Thursday and said he would plan the funeral.

* * *

Husband No. 2, movie muscleman Mickey Hargitay, also flew here. He went first to the bedside of their three children — injured when the car carrying Miss Mansfield rammed the rear of a big truck east of the city.

Hargitay said his former wife's mother and stepfather Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Peers of Dallas, Tex., also had come here about Miss Mansfield's funeral.

PRIVATE RITES

He said it would be private but declined to elaborate. One funeral home said: "We're waiting further word from the mother."

Dr. Nicholas Chetta, Orleans Parish coroner, ordered his staff not to release Miss Mansfield's body without his approval.

* * *

Also killed in the 2:25 a.m. wreck 34 miles from the heart of New Orleans were Miss Mansfield's latest love interest, attorney Samuel S. Brody, 48, of Los Angeles, and the chauffeur, of the car, Ronald Harrison, 20, of Mississippi City, Miss.

Mickey Hargitay Jr., 8, was told by his father that his mother "had a date with God."

BOY UNDERSTOOD

"He is a smart boy," said Hargitay, his eyes flooded with tears and his voice choked with emotion. "He understood."

In Hollywood, Hargitay's manager, Ross Christena, said the couple were still in love.

"They had dinner together in New York a week ago," Christena said. "Jayne told Mickey many times he was the only man she really loved."

AP Wirephoto

DEATH CAR—Actress Jayne Mansfield, 34, was sitting in the seat on the left in this picture when the car ploughed into the rear of a trailer truck just east of New Orleans early yesterday. Miss Mansfield and two male companions in the front seat were killed. Her three children in the rear seat of the late model grey automobile were injured. The top half of the car was pushed back by the impact.

She was to return to Biloxi later Thursday and was to entertain Seabees today at the Navy mobile construction battalion training center at Gulfport, Miss.

* * *

The children, Mickey Jr., Zoltan, 6, and Marie, 3, remained today in Ochsner Foundation Hospital.

* * *

Hargitay, their father, said he would take them back to California when they were released from the hospital.

* * *

Miss Mansfield had two other children, a daughter, Jayne Marie Mansfield, 16, from her first marriage, and a 1-year-old son, Antonio Cimber.

Renewal Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Housing and Urban Renewal Thursday approved spending $103,148 for advance planning for a 16-acre urban renewal project in Fenton, Mich.

State Dem Head Readies Return to Law Practice

LANSING (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency plans to resume the private practice of law on a part-time basis next month.

Ferency announced Thursday that final arrangements have been completed in his association with a Flint law firm. He said he did not expect that "practicing law a few hours a week would conflict in any way with my Democratic party responsibilities."

* * *

"If, however, any conflict develops, no matter how minimal, I shall take the problem to the officers and members of the State Central Committee and resolve it immediately," Ferency said.

He said he may relinquish part or all of his party salary "within the very near future."

State Hospital Hazards Cited

DETROIT (AP) — Northville State Hospital poses a health hazard to its patients and employees because of defective and obsolete equipment, including an X ray machine leaking dangerous levels of radioactivity, the superintendent said Thursday.

Supt. E. Gordon Yudashkin called the hazard "very definite." He blamed a lack of funds.

* * *

The X ray machine is broken and some automatic dishwashers are no longer able to sterilize dishes, DKR. Yudashkin told newsmen.

"I'm not out to blame anybody," he said. "I just think the public should know what's happening in the state hospitals."

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Saturday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Be in communication with those who can advise you about money. Cycle continues high. But subtle change has occurred. Be aware. Perceive opportunity.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): You get aid from source which previously was "hidden." Means a new awareness is evident today. Start taking initiative. State your needs. Odds favor you. You get what you request.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Avoid self-deception. Be sure of what is happening—and why. Day accents personal approach to events. Get into rhythm with world around you. Say no to false values.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): New lease on activities indicated. Friend comes up with solid suggestion. Give it a fair hearing. Don't fight with those in authority. Give a little—receive much. Think.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Support views with action. Go to the top. Exhibit confidence. This creates constructive chain reaction. Finish, complete — put final touches on projects. Move ahead.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Breakthrough indicated. Financial problem due to be solved. Make this a day when you put ideas into motion. Stress originality, independence. Say yes to opportunity.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Pressure on area of chart related to marriage, public relations, partnerships. People respond to you. Key is to live up to potential. Highlight good will, popularity.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You are able to elevate your interests, contacts. What you do is brought to attention of wider circle. Be at your best. Others pass judgment. Know this and act like you know it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): What people say and do may be two different things. Be ready to change pace, methods. Be self-reliant. Co-worker, associate appears to be supersensitive. Patience aids cause.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Relief from some restrictions indicated. You gain opportunity for greater freedom of action. Romantic interests also stressed. Day to make up your mind. Decide.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Ideas are tested. Don't comfit yourself to foolish action. Others remember what you say, expect you to back up statements. Weigh words. Message from relative is important.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): If perceptive you save time, money. Don't base judgment on surface indications. Travel shown in form of short journey. Money question is settled by new circumstances.

★

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you can accumulate wealth if inventive abilities are brought to forefront. You are better at leading than following. Pioneer. Invest in your own ideas.

★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for ARIES, TAURUS, GEMINI. Special word to PISCES: opportunity for greater knowledge is present. Take advantage of it.

Opening lead—♠ K

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

Stories of the unlucky expert and the very bad bridge player have appeared in this column before. Usually even the unluckiest of experts comes out all right against a very bad bridge player. This time the bad bridge player's ineptness led to defeat for the expert.

JACOBY

"Look carefully," asked West.

East looked carefully and suddenly discovered the jack of diamonds mixed among his hearts. He played it and won the trick.

South's three no-trump contract was normal enough but the spade lead was slightly embarrasing. He ducked the first spade on general principles but West continued the suit and South was in.

The hand was one of those typical laydowns. As you can see, the club finesse was on and South could take it and bring him his nine tricks.

South was ready to try clubs eventually but he saw an extra chance. East just might happen to hold the singleton king of diamonds so South played out the ace of diamonds.

As far as East knew he did hold the singleton king and he played it. South smiled happily and led a diamond to dummy's 10. East discarded a spade and South was about to lead another diamond when West asked, "No diamonds, partner?"

"No diamonds," replied East.

★ ★ ★

Even then South might have been successful. East was a very bad player and might not have led a spade but, unfortunately for South, East had already exposed a spade and was compelled by rules to lead it.

He did. West did the rest and the unlucky expert was down two on a laydown hand.

You, South, hold:

♠2 ♥A K J 7 ♦K 3 2 ♣A Q 10 5 4

What do you do now?

A—There just aren't that many cards in the deck but you can afford to bid five no-trump anyway. That opening club bid looks most peculiar.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid five no-trump and your partner bids six clubs to show no kings. What do you do now?

Killed in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Pfc. Frederick H. Liminga, the son of Hugh A. Liminga of Houghton, Mich., was killed in action in Vietnam, the Defense Department announced Thursday.

Egypt Loss Near 5,000 in Fighting, Says Editor

CAIRO (UPI) — Egypt's most influential editor today said his nation suffered almost 5,000 men killed in the Arab-Israeli war and warned there may be more bloodshed.

Editor Mohamed Hassanein Heikal of the newspaper Al Ahram, a confident of U.A.R. President Gamal Ebdel Nasser, said, "nearly 5,000 fell while courageously fighting."

He said the Arabs are willing to resume fighting the June 5-10 war rather than negotiate peace with Israel. He said Arabs will surrender no land to Israel no matter how little. Israeli troops occupy great stretches in Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

Heikal said Egyptian soldiers may be asked "to make more sacrifices for their homeland in hope of victory."

★ ★ ★

His report was the first published word in Egypt on war casualties. It brought to 20,000 the reported death toll to the four main adversaries in the war.

WAR REPORT

Israel said it suffered 679 killed. Syria reported 145 killed. Jordan said June 9 as it accepted the cease-fire that 15,000 of its citizens and soldiers perished.

(Israeli military authorities had estimated Egypt lost between 7,000 and 10,000 men killed.)

Heikal's warning of more fighting came as Egyptian sources charged that Israeli troops killed one Egyptian and wounded another seriously in an incident on the Suez Canal.

★ ★ ★

(The Israelis, who hold the land on the east of the canal, denied the charge and said all was quiet in the area.)

SUPPLY LAUNCH

The Egyptian sources said Israeli troops first beckoned and then fired on a four-man Egyptian launch taking supplies to 15 ships stranded in the closed Suez Canal.

The rumbling of reported new fighting came as the cry of a "holy war" against Israel was heard once more in Cairo.

"History will disgrace all who do not take part in the holy fight to regain our usurped land and protect our holy places," said Sheikh Hass Mamouin, rector of the ancient Alazhar Mosque of Islam.

Tax Rate Is Cut for Delta College

BAY CITY (AP) — Delta College's tax rate has been cut 30 cents per $1,000 valuation by the college board of trustees.

The reduction, from $1.30 to $1.00 per $1,000, was attributed to the increase in state equalized property values in the taxing area of Bay, Midland and Saginaw counties.

Preweekend Caution Obvious

Stock Market Rises Slightly

NEW YORK (AP) — Selective improvement by blue chips jogged the stock market slightly into plus territory early Friday afternoon.

In advance of a long weekend, which may be stretched to four days by some Wall Streeters, the usual pre-weekend caution was obvious, but the market seemed to be at a crossroads, anyway.

★ ★ ★

Most gains and losses were fractional, some going to a point or so.

The Exchange will be open for business Monday but closed Tuesday for the July 4 holiday.

To the market's other concerns was added news of sharp import cuts by the Kennedy Round tariff agreement. Some spokesmen for affected businesses were already beginning to voice complaints.

ADD TO HESITANCY

The trend to high interest rates, the question of a tax increase, and difference of opinion on the matter of an economic upturn later this year added to hesitancy in the stock market.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 323.4 with industrials up 1.0, rails off .5 and utilities up .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .35 at 862.29.

★ ★ ★

The trend was a little higher on the Amex; but the big news was that trading volume topped the half-billion-share mark, for the heaviest first half volume in the Exchange's history.

★ ★ ★

Gains of about 2 points were made by Varo Inc. and Detecto Scale. Up a point or so were Gale Industries, Lynch Corp., Banff Oil and Levin-Townsend Computer.

Oil Firms Hit in FTC Report

Crackdown Vowed on 'Costly Ad Practices'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Costly advertising campaigns have deprived U.S. gasoline buyers of savings at the gas pump, according to the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

This was one of the forces the commission described yesterday in a report on how major oil companies use "recurring industrywide anticompetitive practices" to keep prices where they want them, and the FTC plans to stop the practices.

The report dealt at length with the impact of advertising practices of the top 19 companies, which sell 75 per cent of the gasoline in the country and spend 90 per cent of the industry's total advertising outlay.

"Rather than put a penny in the consumer's pocket, the major oil company prefers to put a 'tiger' in the consumer's tank or a raffle ticket in his hand," the FTC said.

The FTC's plan to stop these practices envisions close scrutiny of pricing practices and of the mergers which enhance pricing power in an industry already considered highly concentrated and controlled, in effect, by 19 firms.

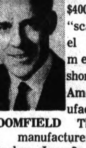
MERGERS PROBED

An FTC spokesman said he interpreted the report to mean that the oil industry had gone as far as it can in merging and major companies would face close scrutiny before any further acquisitions would be allowed.

The FTC report follows two years of study and nine days of hearings in May, 1965. The hearings were prompted by numerous complaints of unfair trade practices from independent refiners and marketers and by bulk and retail dealer associations.

Nickel Export Probe Is Eyed

Republican Congressman William S. Broomfield of Royal Oak said today that he would ask for an investigation into why the U.S. foreign aid office plans to ship India $400,000 of "scarce" nickel while the metal is in short supply to American manufacturers.



BROOMFIELD

The plight of U.S. manufacturers became critical on June 8, said Broomfield, when the Senate Armed Services Committee killed a bill that would have released 60 million pounds of nickel from the national defense stockpile for domestic use.

An identical bill sponsored by Broomfield passed the House in April.

The Senate committee argued, however, that the release of additional nickel would endanger the national defense supply.

"It seems incredible that if this metal is in such critical short supply we can afford to give it away to India," said Broomfield.

1967 Consumer Economy

Future Is Testy for All

(EDITORS NOTE — This is the second of two articles on the consumer economy. The following article explores the outlook for the second half of the year.)

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — The economy is now sailing into the second half of the year escorted by the usual flock of forecasts, many of which will fall like tired ducks, far off course before December.

CUNNIFF

The consensus of these forecasts is for an economic upturn, accompanied by higher income taxes and rising prices. Strikes also may be a part of the picture, especially in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

This will mean a very testy period for administration policies. More so than in the first half of the year, the fiscal decisions made in Washington will dominate the news.

Chief of the economic estimates out of the capital is that a resurgent civilian economy will combine with heavy government spending, especially for Vietnam, to produce a strain on the economy.

INFLATION FEARED

The fear is that we Americans will demand too much from our production facilities, that we will attempt to buy and consume more than we can produce efficiently. This would be inflationary, demand would exceed supply, and prices would rise.

There is another aspect to such an economic picture. By demanding more than we can produce, we are saying, in effect, that we want more than we can pay for.

★ ★ ★

To counter this strain, and to pay the bills, both the Federal Reserve and presidential advisers now share the belief that income taxes will have to be raised.

Not everyone agrees with this analysis, nor does everyone agree on the proposed cure. For at the moment the economy is rather docile; it has not yet begun the feared inflationary expansion. It is not straining.

CAUSE OF PRESSURE

The chief cause of such economic pressure would come from federal spending, some of it for domestic programs which Republicans feel could be cut back. But the costly war in Vietnam is the real culprit.

A tax increase would help pay for this war costing $20 billion a year. It would transfer funds to the military-defense economy, where many of the big bills are. It would lessen the government's need to borrow money in the market place, where interest rates already are very high.

★ ★ ★

And, simultaneously, it would lessen the ability of consumers to make additional demands on the economy by reducing their financial ability to do so.

For the moment, however, the consumer is showing evidence of a bit more daring than had characterized his activities for a year. And there are some clear reasons.

CONSUMER DARING

● Many big-ticket purchases have been postponed as long as possible. Many potential home buyers have delayed as long as they can. There is now an upward trend in housing, autos and some retail sales.

● The automotive industry has put a lot of bad news behind it, although the threat of strikes remains ahead. Midyear sales have been strong. And with an early production start on 1968 autos—with safety features installed — sales are expected to stay strong.

★ ★ ★

● The consumer is fairly well off financially, having banked heavily for several months. His desire for goods is now backed by some solid savings, even though real spendable income has been declining.

Nevertheless, it is impossible to forecast accurately the future pattern of consumer spending. Rising prices, especially for homes, some apparel, medical care and some foods could force the consumer to retrench again.

RISING PRICES

Since wholesale food prices have risen lately, additional increases may soon appear at the retail level. Hospital care costs are now 21.5 per cent higher than a year ago. And though mortgage costs have come down for five straight months now, the prices of homes seem to be rising.

These areas of food, clothing, shelter and medical care are very sensitive ones for the consumer. But how he will react to price increases in these areas — last year it was boycotts and caution — is unclear.

★ ★ ★

What is clear is that administration policies will be in for a big test.

21 GOP Governors Stand Behind Bliss

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — GOP governors have edged around the quagmire of a party split posed by balking Young Republicans striking off on divergent trails toward their choice for the 1968 party presidential nomination.

Asked by National Chairman Ray Bliss to take a stand on the Young Republican National Federation's rejection of his leadership, the GOP governors responded with unanimous approval of a resolution praising Bliss' efforts to unify next year's campaign under his direction.

★ ★ ★

There was strong talk in a closed session of the 21 GOP state executives caucusing here about censoring the Young Republican's summary rejection last week of a series of Bliss' proposals.

The national chairman was cut down in his efforts to regain a measure of control over the youth organization which helped Barry Goldwater gain the GOP presidential nomination in 1964.

WRIST SLAPPING

But the governors wound up with a compromise resolution which did not mention the Young Republicans. By indirection it condemned their independent stance and slapped the wrist of women conservatives who continue to complain about their loss of the presidency of the GOP Women's Federation.

The governors' resolution in effect left to Bliss the final solution of how to curb the diversionary operations.

The chairman himself had no solution at hand except to say in an interview that he regarded the deviations as minor excursions which would yield in time to the recognition that Republicans must mold a party unit they didn't have three years ago if they expect to defeat President Johnson next year.

Bliss told a news conference: "Assuming the present political climate continues, I believe we have an opportunity to win the White House."

The governors praised Bliss' efforts to "unify all elements and auxiliaries of the party under the leadership of the Republican National Committee for maximum effectiveness and participation" in next year's election.

They gave only vague assurances that they would work at the state level to control the Young Republicans.

Involved in this maneuvering was the hope of Bliss and a substantial majority of the GOP governors that the party will come up with a moderate candidate who can give Johnson a run.

Yesterday's State Capital Happenings

Thursday in the Capital
By The Associated Press

THE GOVERNOR

Said he was "very pleased by the affirmative action taken by the House on tax reform."

Announced reappointment of Peter B. Spivak to a six-year term as chairman of the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Announced appointments to the State Liquor Control Commission, State Employes' Retirement Board, the Special Commission on Urban Problems and the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

Approved antipoverty grants totaling $611,559.

THE SENATE

Deferred action on House amendments to a Senate income tax bill levying the state's first income tax.

Passed six bills appropriating $264 million for general fund spending in fiscal 1967-68 and one bill appropriating $218 million in restricted funds. All were given immediate effect.

Passed SB13, Zaagman. Create a state boundary commission and provide for annexation and detachment of territory and incorporation and consolidation of cities and villages.

THE HOUSE

Refused to reconsider the vote by which it passed SB89, DeMaso, levying state income taxes.

Passed: SB723, Bousma, create State Board of Safety Compliance and Appeals.

Adopted conference report on SB630, Cartwright, put all of Wayne County, except for three existing districts, into a single community college district.

HCR145, Sharpe. Ask U.S. Department of Transportation to put all of Michigan in the Central Time Zone.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I am a 56-year-old minister with $18,000 in savings accounts. Because of inflationary pressures, I don't believe this is the wisest form of investment. At retirement my pension and Social Security payments will be insufficient for living expenses. What do you advise?" C. A.

A) It is distressing that so many men, after a lifetime in your vocation, face retirement on inadequate pensions. Your capital at present is thoroughly secure from loss or fluctuation, but it is fixed as to principal. You should have a savings account which is entirely sufficient to take care of future emergency needs. Anything over and above that—for a man in your position—is really gambling that the value of the dollar will remain constant.

I advise you to leave at least $5,000 in your savings account. I would invest the remainder in areas of the economy which have shown strong growth that can be expected to continue. In this way, over a period of the next six years, you will have the opportunity of enhancing your capital at a rate faster than inflation can erode it. I suggest equal dollar amounts of American Hospital Supply, Bristol-Myers, Holiday Inns, Union Oil and General Telephone.

Q) "My problem is whether to keep intact several hundred shares of Texaco, held over the past several years, or sell part and diversify. The stock seems to have slowed down more than some other issues, such as Gulf Oil. What do you advise?" J. R.

A) If you hold a disproportionate amount of Texaco, I would switch part of it to spread the risk which is involved in all stock investment. The shares have slowed down somewhat in the past two years. They have trailed Gulf in performance because they reached a much higher base in 1964. If you diversify, I would do so by industry as well. I suggest exchanging some of your Texaco for Gillette, Calgon and Georgia-Pacific.

'No Collusion by Firms'

Auto Safety Charge Disputed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the automobile industry says each manufacturer presents its own views to the government with respect to safety standards and does not act collusively.

★ ★ ★

Challenging recent statements by industry critic Ralph Nader, the Automobile Manufacturers Association said through its president, Thomas C. Mann Thursday that each company decides for itself what steps it will take to meet or exceed standards set or proposed by the government.

★ ★ ★

Mann wrote to Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., of the Senate Commerce Committee that "it seems desirable to set forth the facts for the record."

In the letter, Mann noted Nader had charged the AMA "strives for a policy of collusion toward the government so as to prevent diversity of viewpoint and to insure that no single company breaks ranks to say that it can do what the other companies do not want to be done."

PRIMARY CHANNEL

"This is not so," said Mann, who wrote that "the primary channel of communication concerning safety standards is between individual companies and the government."

He added it is a matter of written record that with respect to the principal standard in controversy, involving interior protection in cars, the comments and petitions of individual companies show wide diversity.

★ ★ ★

Mann denied also Nader's charge that Mann has been working for an industry-government relationship characterized by informal negotiations "held behind closed doors with no record and no public-interest representatives to contribute to interchange."

★ ★ ★

The AMA spokesman said officials of the Transportation Department "have gone to considerable effort to keep the public informed at all times concerning developments in the safety program."

Denying there was anything "subvisible" about the position of the AMA and its member companies with respect to safety standards, Mann said the industry position is all set forth in detail for public view in the docket of the government proceedings.

★ ★ ★

"In contrast," Mann said, "Mr. Nader has not chosen to participate in any of the formal rule-making proceedings. He has filed no specific proposals. Instead, he has launched a series of hit-and-run attacks on a variety of government and industry targets."

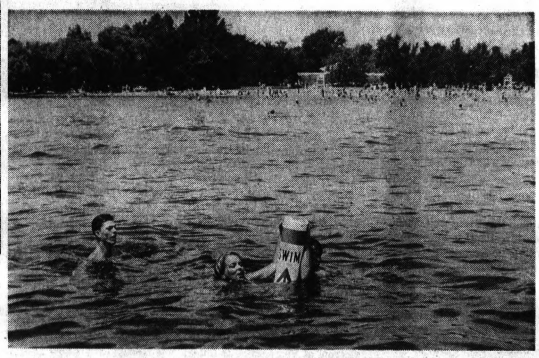
OVER AND OUT—Area teen-agers show what can happen when boaters violate safety rules by standing up in a small craft. They have also apparently forgotten to take lifejackets out in the water with them, another necessary precaution.

Rules Listed for Powerboats

- Powerboats capable of exceeding five miles per hour must stay 100 feet away from any dock, raft, occupied bathing area, anchored boat or boat at mooring.
- Any boat under 11 horsepower must have one white light ready at hand to fend off collision. Any boat over 11 horsepower must be equipped with one white stern light to be visible 500 feet away and also port and starboard red and green bow lights.
- All powerboats, gas or electric, must be registered with the secretary of state's office.



FLOATING LIFESIGN—Swimmers (from left) Craig Wahen of Detroit, Eve Bauer of Birmingham and Bob Bageria of Detroit inspect a buoy marker, described by water safety officials as "signs of life" for swimmers and boaters because of the information they carry.

Safety Suggestions Offered

Holiday Water Dangers Cited

By MEL NEWMAN

The Fourth of July is a time for fun, but it is also a potentially dangerous time.

★ ★ ★

The holiday weekend provides ample opportunity for area residents to head for the water.

Beaches and lakes will be crowded with swimmers and boaters.

It is a dangerous time, warns Lt. Donald Kratt, director of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Safety Division.

★ ★ ★

Kratt pointed out that the heavy load of traffic on lakes will make for prime accident conditions and that lifeguards will have their hands full watching the expected crowd of swimmers.

SAFETY SUGGESTIONS

He offered a number of safety suggestions designed to prevent fun seekers from becoming tragedy victims.

Kratt first cited a state law calling for all boat traffic to travel a counterclockwise course whenever possible to cut down on the chances of a collision.

He added that for passenger safety, all power boats must carry one Coast Guard-approved life jacket for every person aboard and another for any skier in tow.

"Also," he said, "any boat under 26 feet in length of either closed or semienclosed construction must carry one Coast Guard-approved B-1 type, 2¾-pound, dry chemical fire extinguisher."

DEFINITION

He defined "closed or semienclosed" as any type of structure that will enhouse fumes.

Kratt pointed out that marker buoys are vital for boating safety and warned that it is a criminal offense punishable by a $100 fine or 90 days in jail or both to remove, molest or destroy such buoys.

For those who will be traveling on small craft, he repeated the oft-heard principle: "Never stand up in a small boat."

"Should an accident occur," Kratt said, "it is most important that our emergency craft be able to get to the scene of the trouble as fast as possible."

To implement this aim, he has urged that all boat owners post their house numbers in a readable fashion on or near their docks.

"Thus," he said, "our men will know from the information called in precisely when they are at the correct dock. With our radio-dispatched patrols, we can get to the scene in just about every case within one minute.

"The posting of these numbers is of the utmost importance," he said.

★ ★ ★

Kratt cautioned swimmers not to float on rubber rafts near the center of lakes as a protection both for the swimmer and for navigation.

FLIMSY CONSTRUCTION

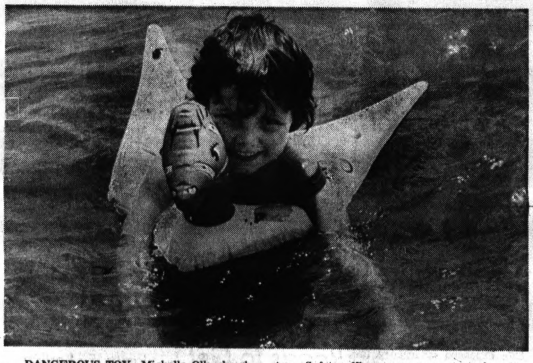
He added that many of these rafts are built to withstand only the slightest abuse.

★ ★ ★

Similarly, he recommended that parents do not purchase for their nonswimmer children any type of water toy or inner tube that might hold the child upside-down should they flip over in the water.

★ ★ ★

"We've had a number of drownings from just this sort of thing," Kratt said.



DANGEROUS TOY—Michelle Olk, daughter of Mrs. Diane Olk of 198 Seminole, stays close to shore while paddling in her floating toy. Safety officers urge parents to keep a close watch on children using these.

LIFESAVERS—Sgt. Tessier (left) and Lt. Kratt display two primary items for any boat safety kit—a Coast Guard-approved lifejacket and fire extinguisher. Both are required by law on certain craft.

RAFT TROUBLES—Linda Plute (left) and Janise Riffenburg, both of Detroit, demonstrate what can happen when a rubber raft is misused. Sheriff's department officials caution against trusting these in the middle of a lake.

Former Trustee Is Sentenced

Prison for Ex-Official in Royal Oak Twp.

A former Royal Oak Township trustee yesterday was sentenced from two to 15 years in the state prison at Jackson for lying when he testified before a grand jury.

Convicted by a circuit court jury of three counts of perjury, Marshall Taylor told Judge Arthur E. Moore that did not get a fair trial.

"The charges were falsely brought," said Taylor. "There were political issues in volved."

"Time after time I saw the officers who brought the charges laughing and joking in the hallways with jurors," Taylor said.

★ ★ ★

Moore said that he would investigate the accustion if any evidence could be presented to him to show any impropriety.

FALSE TESTIMONY

Taylor was found guilty of giving false testimony when he appeared before Circuit Judge Philip Pratt who was conducting an investigation into crime and corruption in Royal Oak Township.

Taylor was not a member of the township board when he was called to testify in October 1965.

Moore set bond at $10,000 while Taylor appeals his conviction.

★ ★ ★

A jury determined that Taylor had lied about an alleged bribe involving a property deal.

BRIBERY CHARGE

Taylor and three other township officials were also charged with bribery by the grand jury in connection with sale of property at Eight Mile and Ithaca. The bribery case is pending.

City Hospital Project Bids Are Received

Pontiac General Hospital received bids yesterday for an estimated $1.2-million construction project, Donald Carros, assistant administrator, reported.

Bids for a new building to include expanded emergency facilities and a Sister Elizabeth Kenney physical therapy department and to bring the existing building up to fire codes are being reviewed.

The Pontiac City Commission will award the contracts after examinations of bids by Board of Trustees, and federal and state agencies.

It is estimated that the new building will cost $900,000 and remodeling of present facilities, $350,000.

★ ★ ★

Bids were received in the following areas: general construction — six bidders whose base bids ranged from $419,000 to $469,400; mechanical — eight bidders, $246,500 to $328,189.

ELEVATOR BIDS

Also, electrical — nine bidders, $98,600 to $131,189 and elevators — five bidders, $11,700 to $14,220.

Construction on the new building south of the present hospital complex at Huron and Johnson is expected to start in August and be finished in about one year, according to the architects, Smith, Hinchman and Grylls Associates Inc. of Detroit.

Short Trip for 3 in Actor's Yacht

MARINA DEL REY, Calif. (UPI) — Actor George Peppard's 55-foot motor yacht, "True Love," was stolen yesterday by two men and a woman and run aground at a launching ramp, sheriff's deputies said.

A harbor patrol boat spotted the $200,000 craft headed for shore. The woman jumped on to the beach and began running while her companions jumped overboard and waded ashore.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff's deputies captured the trio moments later.

Roads to Get Fewer Trees, New Signs

LANSING (AP) — Breakaway signs and fewer trees will appear on Michigan roads during the next year, the State Highway Commission said Thursday.

A safety improvement program now being drafted by department design engineers calls for:

★ ★ ★

● Moving sign posts and light posts, wherever possible, to 30 feet from the edge of the pavement.

● Installing breakaway signs or light posts wherever it is not possible to attain the 30-foot distance.

POST BASES

● Eliminating all concrete post bases projecting above ground level.

● Changing guard-rail installations wherever necessary to make certain these are securely attached to abutting structures and the approach end of the guard-rail is flared away from the road and anchored into the ground.

● Removing trees within 30 feet of the edge of the pavement in rural areas.

The tree removal project began last year when the department removed nearly 10,000 trees from hazardous locations.

Leave Is OK'd for Schools Chief

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Jack Elzay, Ann Arbor schools superintendent, has been granted a one-year leave of absence, starting Sept. 1, school officials said today.

Elzay requested the leave to get relief from the pressures that confront the superintendent, School Board President Stephen B. Withey said.

Man Charged With Murder

Youth's Death Brings 2nd-Degree Warrant

A Waterford Township man is being held in the Oakland County Jail in lieu of $25,000 pending his preliminary court examination on a second degree murder charge.

Leo Placencia, 47, of 1030 Mennominee, is accused of the fatal shooting of John Turton, 18, of 844 Fairfax, Bloomfield Township.

Placencia originally was charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm following the shooting last Saturday, but when the youth died Wednesday the new charge was issued.

Waterford Township police said at the time they would ask that Placencia be charged with manslaughter, but the prosecutor's office decided to issue the more serious second degree murder warrant.

★ ★ ★

Turton was shot as he raised the hood of his mother's car parked outside Placencia's house.

Placencia stood mute to the charge when he was arraigned before Waterford Township Justice Patrick K. Daly. The preliminary hearing is scheduled for July 12.

Summer Schedule for School Board

Pontiac School District Board of Education will hold only one meeting each month in July and August.

The board will meet July 12 and Aug. 23 under its summer schedule. Normally, the board meets twice a month.

★ ★ ★

Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said the board may have to hold one or two study sessions in between to discuss teacher salary negotiations, potential need for additional operating millage, plans for additional senior high school facilities and study of school integration.

Gold Star Wives to Meet in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—The convention of Gold Star Wives of America will be Saturday through Tuesday in Detroit and will include studies of problems faced by young women whose husbands have been killed in the war in Vietnam.

The organization, formed at the end of World War II, seeks to help widows of servicemen in raising families without fathers.

Former Fisher Body Factory Manager Dies

Leonard T. Dalecke, a former general factory manager for Fisher Body Division, General Motors Corp., died Wednesday. He was 74.

★ ★ ★

Services will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Trahan Funeral Home, Bay City. Entombment will be in Oakwood Cemetery, Saginaw. The body will be at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Funeral Home, Birmingham, until 8 p.m. tonight.

★ ★ ★

Dalecke, of 366 N. Glenhurst, Birmingham, joined Fisher Body in 1917. He served as manager of Fisher Body plants in Cleveland, Memphis, Janesville, Atlanta and Flint. He was the divisions's general factory manager when he retired in 1955.

Surviving are his wife, Estelle; a son, James L. of Grand Rapids; a daughter, Gloria Ann at home; and a sister.

Pair Robbed at Gunpoint

Two General Motors Truck and Coach Division employees were robbed at gunpoint after they left work early today, it was reported to Pontiac police.

★ ★ ★

Larry McGeachy, 18, of 2386 Crescent Lake, Waterford Township; and Guillermo Ramos, 25, of 154 Judson told officers they were approached by two men—one wielding a small-caliber pistol — in a parking lot at E. South Blvd. and Bradford about 4 a.m.

★ ★ ★

A $130 check and $15 in cash was stolen from McGeachy and a $158 check was taken from Ramos, police said.

The victims said they were not certain how the bandits fled.

Family Finds Goods Gone

A vacationing Waterford Township family returned home last night to find their home burglarized and more than $900 in goods stolen.

★ ★ ★

The items stolen from the home of Charles Branson, 3500 Coseyburn, according to Waterford Township police, included a television, film projector three watches, a shotgun, two radios, a stereo recorder, vacuum cleaner and a sewing machine.

★ ★ ★

Thieves gained entry by forcing a rear door sometime during the two weeks the Bransons were away, police said.

Child Bitten, Dog Hunted

A 4-year-old Auburn Heights child will have to have rabies shots within three days unless a dog that bit her yesterday is found.

The child, Kimberly Goforth, of 2842 York, was bitten near her home about 2:30 p.m. by a dog described as a yellow-gold cocker spaniel, about 14 inches high, fat and very old.

★ ★ ★

Anyone seeing the dog is asked to call the Oakland County Dog Warden.

Parcel Weight Limit Rises for 1st-Class Post Offices

Mailers will be able to send 25-pound parcels between first class post offices which are 150 miles or more apart starting Saturday, Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson reminded patrons today. The present weight limit is 20 pounds.

This is the first of five increases scheduled to take effect annually until 1971 when a 40-pound, 84-inch maximum size will be authorized between all first class post offices. Size limitations are now 72 inches in combined girth and length.

On July 1, 1968, the weight limit becomes 30 pounds; on July 1, 1969, the weight limit becomes 40 pounds; on July 1, 1970 the size increases to 78 inches; and on July 1, 1971, the size is scheduled to be increased to 84 inches.

Mailers can also send parcels weighing up to 40 pounds between first class post offices less than 150 miles apart.

★ ★ ★

Packages addressed to and from 2nd, 3rd, and 4th, class post offices, Alaska, and Hawaii are not affected by the increase in size and weight provisions of the new law which became effective Jan. 15. Parcel post mailings to and from these offices remain at 70 pounds and 100 inches.

Highland Park Man Sentenced

Draws Prison Term for Area Robbery

One of two men convicted of robbing a Birmingham restaurant was sentenced yesterday to 1-20 years in the state prison at Jackson.

The prison term was ordered for Wayne J. Burton, 36, of Highland Park by Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore.

The sentencing of Burton's accomplice, Richard B. Boler, 22, of Northville, was adjourned two weeks while a presentence report is prepared.

Moore said there was no report because Boler had left the area, forfeiting his bond, before he could be interviewed by probation department officials. Boler, said Moore, returned Wednesday of his own free will.

★ ★ ★

The pair was found guilty June 2 of the Feb. 26 armed robbery of the Pizza Inn, 213 N. Eton.

They were captured by Birmingham policeman Harold Christy minutes after the robbery.

Youth Held in Church Fire

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Edward Loomis, 20, of Long Lake was held in Grand Traverse County Jail Thursday on a charge of arson in a $30,000 fire Monday at Landmark Long Lake Friends Church.

Deputy Sheriff Jack Canfield said Loomis came to sheriff's officers and said he set fire to the church where he once was a member. Deputies said Loomis had reported the fire early Monday while returning from work. Loomis lived near the church.

No date has been set for his examination.

Cadillac Teen Killed by Truck

MESICK (AP) — Peter D. Maddox, 16, of Cadillac was killed Thursday when a truck backed over him on a Wexford County road south of Mesick.

Cadillac State Police said Maddox was riding in the rear of the truck when his hat apparently blew off. As the truck stopped to back up, Maddox jumped off, stumbled and fell beneath the wheels as the vehicle backed over him, officers reported.

ORDINANCE NO. 160

AN ORDINANCE ADOPTING BY REFERENCE THE "RECIPROCAL HEATING CODE" PROMULGATED BY THE RECIPROCAL HEATING COUNCIL, WITH CERTAIN AMENDMENTS AS SET FORTH, TO PROVIDE PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS THEREOF, AND TO REPEAL ALL ORDINANCES INCONSISTENT THEREWITH.

The Township of Bloomfield Ordains:

Section 1.01 Adoption of Code. There is hereby adopted by the Township of Bloomfield that certain Reciprocal Heating Code 1966 edition promulgated and published by the Reciprocal Heating Council, Inc., dated May 25, 1966, a copy of which code copies thereof are filed and maintained in the office of the Township Clerk, and said code, with the exception of the additions and modifications set forth in this ordinance, is hereby adopted and incorporated as fully as if set out at length herein.

Section 2.01. Amendments. (A) Section 3.12 of said Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 3.12. Causes for Suspension or Revocation. The causes for which a contractor's license issued under the provisions of this ordinance can be suspended or revoked shall be:

1. Gross incompetence, including, but not limited to: Habitual performance of any work in an unworkmanlike or defective manner, or other indication of gross incompetence.
2. Gross neglect, including, but not limited to:
   (a) Failure to correct violations consisting of improper, inadequate or unsafe design, the material involved and/or the installation thereof, regulation, adjustment, service or other conditions or situations so interpreted by the Department as being in conflict with this ordinance.
   (b) Failure to perform any contract or agreement for the installation of combustion, heating ventilating or air conditioning equipment or appliances as defined herein, in any unreasonable time. Unreasonable time is hereby defined as any period or lapse of time which is in necessity and need will affect the health or welfare of the persons affected by such failure.
   (c) Failure by a contractor to secure any person or persons unduly affected or jeopardized by the contractor, its agents, employes or to make immediate proper repairs, changes or substitution, such as may be required or made necessary by any act or said contractor, its agents and employees.
   (d) Failure to use funds or property paid or delivered to the contractor, its agents or employees or sales representatives for the purpose agreed upon.
   (e) Repeated violations by a contractor to obtain required permits.
3. Deliberate misrepresentation, including, but not limited to:
   (a) False representation by any contractor, its agents, employees or other sales representatives, that any heating, ventilating or air conditioning equipment manufactured by a competitor is defective or not repairable, or that the continued use of such heating, ventilating or air conditioning equipment will result in explosion, carbon monoxide poisoning, fire, or other damage, or that the parts of such heating equipment or boilers are unobtainable.
   (b) Representation by any contractor, its agents, employees or other sales representatives that heating, ventilating or air conditioning equipment which has been discontinued cannot be reassembled and used without danger of explosions, gas poisoning, fires, or other damage, or for any other reason, without first conducting all reasonable tests to determine the same in the presence of a qualified representative of the Department.
   (c) Misrepresentation of facts by a contractor, its agents, employees or sales representatives which would induce, influence or encourage a person or persons to execute a contract which takes unfair advantage of or causes financial distress disproportionate to the need and the work performed to or for any person or persons.
   (d) False representation by or through the use of employment of scare tactics by the contractor, its agents, employees or other sales representatives of the condition of any heating, ventilating or air conditioning equipment.
   (e) False representation in any manner of the condition of any heating, ventilating or air conditioning equipment.
   (f) False representation, by any contractor, its agents, employees, or other sales representatives, directly or indirectly, that the contractor, its agents, employees or other involved sales representatives are inspectors or are employees or representatives of government or of gas or utility companies.
   (g) False representation by any contractor, its agents, employees or sales representatives, that the contractor, its agents, employees or sales representatives possess skills which qualify them as heating, ventilating or air conditioning engineers.
   (h) False representation by any contractor, its agents, employees or sales representatives directly or indirectly, that the contractor has absorbed, bought out, merged with or in any way taken over the business of another contractor or has assumed another contractor's service or maintenance obligations or functions, contractual or otherwise, in full or in part thereof.
   (i) False representation that the contractor was operating under a license issued by the State of Michigan, Department of Licensing and Regulation, which was in good standing at the time of application for the permit to do work and during the prosecution of the work specified therein.
   (j) False representation by or through any form of advertising media or soliciting whereby the services as rendered are not in accordance with the services as offered or implied in or by said advertising media or soliciting.
   (k) False representation by the applicant of a signature or any material fact in obtaining a license and registration or permit.
4. Willful failure to comply with, but not limited to:
   (a) The plans and specifications governing any installation of equipment or to make a substantial deviation from or to disregard, in any material respect, said plans and specifications governing any installation of combustion, heating, ventilating or air conditioning equipment or appliances without written consent of the Department and the person contracting for such work.
   (b) The request by any person employing a contractor, to reassemble immediately, any combustion, heating, ventilating or air conditioning equipment or appliance, which has been dismantled by the contractor, its agents or employees, without first having requested and secured from the Department, accredited visual inspection in the presence of the interested parties, which may, at the discretion of the Department validate the authenticity of the employer's request for reassembly or the contractor's alleged reason for refusing to reassemble said equipment.
   Reasonably shall...include whatever means or measures are required or necessary to reassemble said equipment in a manner or condition operationally equivalent to or better than that previous to disassembly.
   (c) The request to reassemble any combustion, heating, ventilating or air conditioning equipment or appliances, which have been dismantled by the contractor, its agents, or employees by any person responsible for or subject to the effects of said equipment, before a written release absolving the contractor from liability by negligence has been executed and signed by said responsible or affected person, without first having obtained the express and recorded approval of the Department.

(B) Section 4.5. of said Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 4.5. Fees. The fees for examinations, licenses, registrations, permits, inspections and appeals shall be set by the Township Board by resolution, provided, however, that the fee for a Contractor license and Contractor License Registration shall be at the standard rate set by the Reciprocal Heating Council.

(C) The first paragraph of Article XII of said Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

ARTICLE XII

Floor Furnaces and Under Floor Crawl Space Heating Units.

Floor furnaces and under floor crawl space installations and heat generating units are not approved for installation in this Municipality, except by special written permission from the department. Dire need in extremely unusual circumstances may, when proven to the satisfaction of the Department, receive discretionary consideration as a reason for granting such permission. Permission if any when granted, shall allow the requested installation only as a temporary stop-gap expedient which shall be replaced within one year by proper installation of approved equipment; or shall be removed from the premises, if/or when, in the discretion of the Department, the installation is deemed hazardous, or that the immediate urgency of the circumstances has been lessened or alleviated.

In addition to the other requirements of said ordinance, the regulations as embodied in all of this Article shall apply to floor furnaces; and also in addition to said other requirements, under floor crawl space installations shall specifically comply with the provisions of Section 7.1, 7.3, 7.4 and 7.5 of Article XII and Section 12.1 and 12.5 of Article XII.

(D) Article XIV of said Code is hereby amended by adding Sections 14.17, 14.18, 14.19, 14.20, 14.21, 14.22, 14.23, and 14.24, said added sections to read as follows:

14.17. General Requirements. Except as hereinafter modified herein, the specifications design, layout, construction and workmanship of heating equipment and systems and all related units, fittings, accessories, appliances, appurtenances or connected devices, shall conform to good practice and workmanship and shall be guided by and be in accord with the most generally recognized knowledge, data and procedures as contained in the current issues of the "Ashrae Guide and Data Books" or as outlined and portrayed in the current appropriate manuals of the "National Warm Air Heating and Air-Conditioning Association" or of the "Institute of Boiler and Radiator Manufacturers" or of the "National Electrical Manufacturers Association."

14.18. Comfort Temperature. Completed systems shall perform in a manner which will provide and distribute noiseless, draftless, dustless and healthful comfort at not less than 70°F., with the outdoor temperature drops to and remains at minus 10°F.

14.19. Regulation and Balancing. Systems shall contain or be equipped with approved controls and such balancing devices, whereby, after adjusting and balancing by the installer has been accomplished and completed, each system shall have and be capable of maintaining a normal automatic "on" and "off" re-cycling temperature differential not in excess of 9°F., with the outdoor temperatures in both instances measured at the center of each habitable room except bathrooms, at a point 30 inches above the floor while all doors are closed, and further that the temperature difference between floor and ceiling of said rooms shall not exceed 5°F.

14.20. Bathroom Heating. Provision shall be made for an increase of no less than 10°F. in the temperature of bathrooms and the same be over and above the temperature of adjoining habitable rooms. Where such provision is not an integral part of a balanced heating system, a safely acceptable means for regulating such temperature increase upon demand shall be easily, readily and safely accomplished within each said area.

14.21. Power Supply. A controlled and tempered supply of induced fresh air, in addition to that which may be required for the combustion of fuel shall be available at all times and shall be provided in a manner sufficiently adequate to prevent the possible occurrence of negative air pressure from any source, and to ensure that the health, and/or safety of the occupants of the structure shall not be imperiled, impaired nor in any way adversely affected by an insufficiency of such a supply.

14.22. Humidifiers. Humidifiers shall be of such design as to be capable of automatically providing a minimum of 25% relative humidity uniformly throughout the structure during outdoor temperatures of 0°F., without incurring excessive unit maintenance.

14.23. Summer Cooling. All duct equipment and systems shall be selected, designed and installed in a manner that shall provide for adequate summer season optimum cooling comfort with no additional requirement for air conditional cooling being the installation of the proper evaporator coil in the air supply mechanism and the installation of the related condensing unit and requisite controls.

14.24. Exception. Except, that new systems shall be required, however, at the installation, re-installation, re-connection or alteration and modification of or additions to existing or older systems, while reflecting the intent of good practice and workmanship and adequance of this ordinance, may be permitted to deviate from the literal requirements only to the extent demanded by the practicality of installation in surmounting structural obstacles.

(E) Section 16.5 of said Code is hereby deleted from said Code.

Section 3.01. Any and all ordinances and resolutions inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 4.01. The provisions of this ordinance shall take effect 30 days after the publication thereof according to the statute in such case made and provided.

Made and passed by the Township Board of the Township of Bloomfield this 26th day of June, 1967.

DELORIS V. LITTLE,
Township Clerk

NOTICE
The Waterford Board of Education will accept sealed proposals on the 6th day of July, 1967, at 8:30 p.m., at the Board's administrative offices, 3101 W. Walton Boulevard, Pontiac, Mich. for the purchase of a house it owns at 5471 Crescent Drive, Pontiac. This house contains approximately 1600 sq. ft. and has attached breezeway and garage. It must be removed from the premises to another location of the bidder's choice to make way for a school building to be constructed on the property. The bidder's proposal should state the total offer for the house; the method by which, and time payment will be made. It should state a date when the bidder guarantees the house will be removed from the premises. The Board of Education reserves the right to reject any or all proposals. The successful bidder will be required to present a copy of the house mover's insurance protection which will hold the Board harmless in the event of a liability and security that the amount bid will be paid. Bidders wishing to visit the interior of the house should arrange for this by contacting Mr. John Hills, 673-9521.

Sentiment Exposes Actress to Humiliating Experience

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — This is the city of monumental contrasts . . . an attractive actress named Sharon Farrell who's in a Kirk Douglas picture told me she went back rather sentimentally to a nightclub where she was once a part-time hat-check girl, to pose for publicity pictures.

"There was new management," Sharon said, "and they didn't remember me.

"But was that any reason for treating me like they did? They said 'You get out of here! You never worked here. You're a phony. Get out!'

"I ran out and I stood there crying in the middle of the street. Why didn't they believe me?

WILSON

"I remember even when I worked there they didn't trust anybody. One night a big movie star didn't tip me. The boss said, 'You stole the tip!' He docked 50 cents from my salary. I was broke and the help in the club got together a dollar so I could get home."

Then there's the contrast . . . Big Spender Jolly Joe Levine of Embassy Pictures spending $50,000 or so for a party for 600 at the Lincoln Center Philharmonic Hall terrace saluting Shirley MacLaine and "Woman Times Seven" — and for a similar party in Beverly Hills with some of the same people celebrating.

Shirley's personal guest list totals 80, Joe's is four times that . . . and to get ready for the party, there was a break-in breakfast at El Morocco . . . for Shirley's benefit it was a "late" breakfast, starting at 10:30.

Levine, the Boston Barnum, had, incidentally, flown to London for the weekend, preceding all this partying . . . just to see a movie.

It was a movie he hoped to buy cheap . . . for, oh, maybe a million. Shopping around for goodies that he can distribute and perhaps resell to TV . . . that's how he can peel off $50,000 for a couple of parties.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Talent agent Lee Solomon's pretty wife Holly busted a leg frugging in a discotheque . . . Walter Matthau, sitting in a police car on 86th St. for a scene in the "Odd Couple," saw his mother walk by. He yelled, "Don't worry Ma — it's only a movie!"

Father-and-son time at the Riverboat: Bobby Hackett's son Ernie plays drums with his group, Guy Pastor sings with his dad Tony's band . . . Debbie Reynolds saw "Apple Tree," visited Barbara Harris backstage . . . The Bon Soir, which helped launch Barbra Streisand, Phyllis Diller and Don Adams, switched to discotheque.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Matty Matao come up with a potent martini recipe — three jiggers of gin and two minutes of the Dean Martin show.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Success is the art of making your mistakes when nobody's looking."

EARL'S PEARLS: A producer described today's teen girls: "They're up to their necks in miniskirts."

Choo Choo Collins heard a new approach from a panhandler who knocked at her door and said: "Lady, I got a bottle of red wine here, which I'm supposed to drink with a meal." That's earl, brother.

U.S. Arab Unit Asks Neutrality

FLINT (AP)—A group representing 500,000 Americans of Arabic extraction in 13 midwestern states has urged the United States to take a position of "positive neutrality" in the Middle East crisis.

The group, Midwest Federation of American Syrian-Lebanese Clubs, asked President Johnson to honor the U.S. commitment to "protect the territorial integrity regarding the land the Arabs lost in the recent Middle East war."

Wheat Quotas Are Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced Thursday 1968 crop state wheat planting allotments under a previously announced supply-adjustment program which set the national allotment at 59.3 million acres. This year's allotment was just under 68.2 million acres.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan allotment for 1968 is 1,241,575 acres, compared with 1,429,003 for 1967.

Difference Cited

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Gwen Nelson, director of the South Central Education Laboratory, a Little Rock research group on teaching, told a recent college convocation: "We assume that in teaching children it makes no difference whether they are girls or boys. Yet the majority of behavior problems are boys. Girls get better grades. The fact is that boys are not permitted to achieve on the same level with girls."

State Tax Plan Follows U.S. Code

LANSING (AP) — Your wife and kids are worth just twice as much to you under the state income tax plan the House passed Thursday as they are in the eyes of the federal income tax people.

But otherwise, the state tax program now in the Legislature is closely and carefully patterned after the U.S. government's Internal Revenue Code.

To find out how much of your total annual income would be subject to the 2.6 per cent tax in the House fiscal package, you'd use almost the same exemptions and subtractions as when calculating "adjusted gross income" for your federal income tax bill.

But you could subtract $1,200 each for yourself and your dependents before arriving at taxable income for state purposes. The per - dependent exemption in the federal tax is $600.

OUT OF REACH

For example, a family of five would escape federal taxes on the first $3,000 ($600 times five) of its income, but the first $6,000 (five times $1,200) would be out of reach of the proposed state income tax.

The family of five, if it earned $10,000 a year, would have a state tax bill of $104.

★ ★ ★

The same family, with an income of $15,000, would owe $234. At $20,000, the bill would climb to $364.

But the family wouldn't necessarily pay that much to the state. The amount paid would be lower if the family also paid property or city income taxes.

TAX CREDIT

If it paid $200 a year in ad valorem property taxes, for instance, the House plan would allow substraction of $32.50 from the state income tax owed. If the property tax is $300, the credit is $37.50. At $500, it's $47.50.

If you rent your home, the same scale applies to one-fifth of your annual rent, as defined in the bill.

If you pay $100 rent a month, that's $1,200 a year, and the exemption would apply to one-fifth of that, or $240. You could subtract $34.50 from your state income tax bill — just as if you owned a home and paid $240 a year in property taxes.

The "sliding scale" credit system also applies if the family pays a city income tax—either at the resident rate of 1 per cent or the nonresident 0.5 per cent rate.

HELPS LITTLE GUY

If you pay under $100 a year in a city income tax, divide your payment by five and subtract the result from your state income tax bill. If you pay between $100 and $200, subtract $20 and also subtract 15 per cent of the amount over $100.

Although the State Constitution prohibits graduated income taxes, the House package is designed to help the little guy and put most of the new - tax burden on middle-income taxpayers.

The State Revenue Department estimates an "average" family of five with an income of under $7,300 a year would pay no state income tax at all.

If the family earned $10,000 and paid a $500 property tax (or $2,500 in rent) and a $100 city income tax, it would pay the state $36.50.

SUMMER TV SAFETY
To protect your TV set and you, the following procedures are recommended by your TESA of Oakland County Service Dealer;
1. Disconnect the electric plug and the outside antenna during electrical storms and when leaving the house for extended periods.
2. Operate the set at least a few minutes each day to reduce the amount of moisture build-up from high humidity.
3. Check your outside antenna to be sure that you have either a lightning arrester or an adequate ground for lightning protection.
4. Where TV is operated outside or on concrete floors, use an insulating mat or rug to stand on when operating the set.

Muscle Coordination Big Learning Factor

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
University of Southern California

What does the coordination and control of large muscles have to do with a child's success in school? Plenty!

Muscle control is involved in learning to draw pictures, use crayons, paint and write.

A child who has learned to write with ease has better success in spelling and reading than one who writes with difficulty.

Success in school depends also on a child's happiness, and a child's happiness depends on his ability to play games successfully with the other children.

★ ★ ★

A child entering first grade should be able to throw a ball and perhaps bat a ball and catch a ball.

SOME EXPERIENCE

He should have some experience in skipping, hop-scotch and other games that children play at this age.

As Tom entered the first grade he was afraid to climb jungle gym and had no skill in batting or catching a ball.

In the classroom he seemed just as afraid to try his hand at drawing pictures or copying letters.

★ ★ ★

This fear was not overcome until he discovered after weeks of practice that he could control his body in games.

A CARRY-OVER

There was an immediate carry-over into the writing activity.

One test is whether a child uses smooth flowing free movements in drawing on a chalkboard or large paper. How well can he control his hands in these movements?

Put two dots on the chalkboard or paper about six inches apart. Ask the child to draw a line from the first dot to the second dot and hold his chalk or crayon there until you have placed another dot farther away and in another direction.

When he extends his line to reach the third dot, his control or lack of it will be evident. Keep adding dots.

SMOOTH MOVEMENTS

Encourage the child to experiment with all kinds of movements in his drawings, placing the emphasis on smooth movements.

Finger painting can take the place of chalkboard work in this development.

One good test of a child's large muscle coordination is his ability to walk a crack in the floor with reasonable ease.

Another is his success in learning to skip.

Developing muscular coordination takes time.

Lots of opportunity must be provided for this so that upon entry into the first grade the child has reasonable control of his large muscles.

Barring physical handicap he should be able to climb on a jungle gym and swing on the ladder or the rings of children's play apparatus.

It is best not to delay such training until just before entry into school.

Even before the age of 2 a child could have push-pull toys, rubber balls, nesting blocks and pyramids of wooden rings on a peg.

Two- and 3-year-olds can begin to work with mallets and pegs. They enjoy interlocking blocks and cars and trucks. They can manipulate playhouse materials such as a broom and a dustpan.

The 3- and 4-year-olds should have large sheets of cheap paper so that they can draw large pictures and color them with large crayons.

Percussion musical instruments on which he can beat out simple little tunes help a child develop coordination and at the same time enhance his pleasure.

(Tomorrow: Gaining control of large muscles.)

Backers Scurry for Senate Votes on Tax Package

LANSING (AP) — Under pressure of a midnight deadline, fiscal reform backers worked feverishly today to put together the necessary 20 Senate votes to approve Michigan's first state income tax.

The Senate deferred action last night when it became apparent that it lacked votes to pass the House-approved tax program designed to raise $269 million a year.

Senate majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, said, however that he believed that by midnight tonight "we will pass an income tax with a combination of votes from both parties."

The plan, approved by the House 62-44 Wednesday night, would levy a 2.6 per cent personal income tax, a 5.6 per cent corporate income tax and a 7 per cent tax on financial institutions.

The tax deferral followed earlier Senate approval of House spending bills making up some $264 million of a proposed $1.002 billion budget for fiscal 1967-68.

Republican Gov. George Romney has warned that an "austerity" budget will be necessary if a revenue - increasing fiscal reform plan is not approved by the Legislature by midnight — the end of the fiscal year.

Lockwood emerged from a two-hour GOP caucus last night and announced that a vote would be delayed until today because the votes were lacking and Democratic tax supporters desired further talks.

Related Stories, Pages A-2, D-9

"We're going to vote as soon as we have 20 votes and not a minute after," Lockwood told newsmen.

Lockwood indicated that the bipartisan Senate taxation Committee had met, found few objections to the House plan embodied in amendments to an earlier Senate-approved bill and agreed to act by midnight tonight.

The original Senate bill passed on May 18 with six Democratic senators joining 16 Republicans in the 22-16 vote.

24 Feared Dead in Crash of Jet in Hong Kong Harbor

HONG KONG (AP) — A Thai International Airways Caravelle jet crashed into fog-shrouded, squall-whipped Hong Kong harbor today and it appeared 24 of 80 reported aboard perished.

Airport officials said their count listed six known dead, 18 missing and presumed dead, and 56 survivors.

Several of the survivors were reported in serious to critical condition.

The 73 passengers listed had boarded at Tokyo, Osaka and Taipei. Thai Airways withheld the passenger list but airport officials said there were 66 adults, six children, and a baby in arms aboard, plus seven crew members.

★ ★ ★

At least 11 Americans were reported aboard.

FALLS INTO HARBOR

The pilot was a Dane, the other crew members Thais.

Airport officials who saw the crash and passengers interviewed later said the four-jet plane appeared to be coming in for a normal landing at Hong Kong's Kai Tak Airport when it suddenly plummeted into the harbor about 250 yards from the end of the runway.

The runway extends about a mile into Kowloon Bay, a part of the harbor.

One airport official said a sudden, fierce rain squall may have caused the crash. He commented: "The plane appeared to be making a good approach when a very heavy rain squall suddenly hit. The plane just seemed to drop into the bay."

★ ★ ★

A passenger, Dr. Stanley Spector of St. Louis, said, "Everything seemed to be normal, a routine landing, and then suddenly there were three very heavy bumps and water began pouring into the cabin."

'The Silencers' 'Shoot' It Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—It may have been the quietest gunfight on record.

When a pistol - waving bandit walked in the jewelry store yesterday and demanded money, owner James Bowen pulled a 32 - caliber revolver from under the counter, aimed and fired.

Bowen said the click was deafening.

Then, Bowen told police, the bandit aimed and pulled the trigger.

Their nonshots exchanged, Bowen and the bandit stared a moment at each other.

Then the gunman raced from the store and disappeared, in the sidewalk crowds — before Bowen even had time to aim a few more clicks in his direction.

By HUD Regional Official

Local Renewal Probe Asked

The Citizens Committee for Pontiac's Positive Progress (CCPPP) and various business and civic leaders yesterday heard a top Housing and Urban Development (HUD) official say that he had asked for an "informal investigation" of the city's downtown urban renewal program.

A. Dean Swartzel, assistant regional administrator of HUD, responsible for the progress of 480 urban renewal projects in 10 Midwestern states, appeared at a meeting called by the CCPPP to protest the city's handling of downtown redevelopment.

He cautioned city officials and civic leaders that some action must be forthcoming on the renewal program and that, prompted by a number of protests and charges, he had asked for the Washington office of HUD to conduct an inquiry.

Listening to nearly four hours of charges, countercharges, defenses and bitter personality slurs, Swartzel, often quipping and speaking informally, said the local conflict over the Taubman plan must be solved by the city itself.

He said he would take CCPPP requests to invalidate the city's agreement with shopping center developer A. Alfred Taubman "under advisement", but declared that the local differences of opinion were largely "procedural issues."

COOPERATION

Swartzel urged a spirit of cooperation and declared that the "success, efficacy and fruits of urban renewal only come from local leadership and innovation."

U.N. Showdown Is Looming on Settlement for Middle East

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly approached a showdown today on whether any call for Israeli troops to leave captured Arab lands should depend on the Arabs finally declaring peace with Israel.

Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon have held that, despite their armistice agreements with Israel in 1949, the year the Jewish nation was formed by war, they remain in a state of war with her. Egypt has used this to justify keeping Israeli shipping out of the Suez Canal.

The showdown involves two rival resolutions. One introduced by 15 nonaligned nations calls for an immediate Israeli withdrawal from Egypt, Jordan and Syria, and asks that only after withdrawal should the Security Council consider "questions pertaining to the situation in the area."

Latin-American and Western delegations intended to submit a resolution today to have the assembly call for the withdrawal of troops and the renunciation of Arab belligerency, provide for a U.N. representative or mediator to help with a settlement and ask the Security Council to work on further problems.

Each side claimed privately that its resolution could receive the two-thirds vote needed for adoption.

LATIN-AMERICAN DRAFT

But promotion of the Latin-American draft was considered to have undermined the non-aligned resolution, while Israel's annexation of Jerusalem's Old City, captured from Jordan in the war, appeared to have hurt chances for the Latin-American draft. Some diplomats speculated that neither would pass.

In yesterday's debate, speakers for Peru, Malaysia, Cyprus, Kuwait, Greece and Malta all objected to Israel's merging of the Israeli and Jordanian sectors of Jerusalem. Luis Demetrio Tinoco of Costa Rica called it "an act of arrogance."

Israeli Foreign minister Abba Eban stressed Israel's policy remained "the preservation of the unity of Jerusalem." He said at a news conference, though, that it would keep the holy places open to all faiths and wanted to negotiate with religious leaders about their interest in those places.

Showers Forecast Today or Tonight

Scattered brief showers or thundershowers will freshen the atmosphere again late today or tonight if showers headed this way don't get sidetracked.

There's a chance of showers throughout the state over the weekend.

Here is the day-by-day official forecast of the U.S. Weather Bureau:

TODAY — Variable cloudiness with chance of showers or thundershowers this afternoon and tonight. Warmer today. High 76 to 82. Low tonight 56 to 62.

West to southwest winds 10 to 17 miles becoming west to southwesterly and diminishing tonight.

TOMORROW — Partly cloudy and a little cooler with a chance of showers in the morning.

SUNDAY — Mostly sunny but a little cooler.

Measurable precipitation probabilities in per cent: Today 30, tonight 50, tomorrow 40.

The low in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 61. The mercury had skipped up to 77 by 1 p.m.

May Have Hit Soviet Ship---U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon conceded today American bombers may have hit a Soviet ship moored nearby as they attacked Haiphong harbor oil installations.

The statement from the Defense Department followed quickly on the heels of an announcement from Moscow that a "resolute protest" had been lodged over such an incident.

The U.S. statement:

"During an attack on the Haiphong petroleum storage facilities located in the dock area in Haiphong two U.S. aircraft assigned to protect the bombing planes from ground air defenses attacked an air defense site approximately 500 yards from the location of the ship which the Soviets state was damaged.

"Although pilots are under instructions to avoid Soviet shipping, it is possible that certain of the ordnance directed at the antiaircraft site fell on the ship.

★ ★ ★

"Commanders have been asked to examine flight paths and poststrike photography to obtain all possible information on the incident."

It was the second U.S. admission this month that American bombers may have hit a Soviet vessel in a North Vietnam harbor.

The Russians charged June 2 that American planes had bombed the Soviet ship Turkestan in the North Vietnamese harbor of Cam Pha.

'Decision Needed Now on Missile Defense for U.S.'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top U.S. military officers do not believe Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin has completely slammed the door on an anti-missile limitations pact—but they say the United States has dickered with the Soviets over the issue long enough.

"We can't keep on delaying indefinitely," a ranking general said in an interview. National security requires that the United States begin production of an antimissile defense, he said.

Until now the officer added, the Joint Chiefs of Staff has felt it acceptable and proper that the United States try to persuade the Soviets against continuing a costly defense weapons race.

"Talks were sensible," he said. "But time has marched on and an affirmative decision to deploy antimissiles should be made in the near future."

Inquiries Back Warren Report

NEW YORK (AP) — The Warren Report and the critics who threw its findings into doubt have come under the searching inquiry of three major news organizations within the past two weeks.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press and the Columbia Broadcasting System examined in detail the report and its critics, and reached similar conclusions:

That despite shortcomings of the Warren Report nothing has been uncovered to refute its finding that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone — in view of no evidence to the contrary — in killing President John F. Kennedy.

The AP's findings were contained in a 20,000-word report released last Sunday. The CBS inquiry was broadcast this week in four one-hour parts Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

In addition, the National Broadcasting Co. said in a one-hour program June 19 that the conspiracy case of New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison was based on testimony that did not pass a lie detector test and that Garrison's staff had threatened and offered inducements to potential witnesses. Garrison denied any threats or inducements.

DOUBTS GREW

Not long after the seven members of the Warren Commission issued their report Sept. 24, 1964, doubts began to overtake it. A barrage of books and articles hammered away at it until polls showed most Americans had come to suspect its conclusion.

But in its study the AP said the "critics have produced little in the way of new evidence. What they have done is use what the commission provides in its 26 volumes of testimony and exhibits — but to different conclusions. The critics' case rests on the same bedrock as the commission's — the Warren Report.

"They have sat in judgment of the Warren Commission and found it wanting," the AP said. "But they are not judges. They have been prosecutors, making a case. Where fact has served, they have used it. Where it has not, they have not."

★ ★ ★

The AP also cited examples of conclusions reached by the critics that contradict the testimony on which they are based.

RIVALS JOIN FORCES — South Vietnamese Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu (left) and Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky, shown together in Saigon last year, have joined forces to run on the same ticket in September's presidential election. Indications were that Thieu would run for the presidency with Ky going for the vice presidential spot. The two were rivals for the presidency. (See story, page A-2.)

Ky Quits Vietnam Race, Will Seek No. 2 Position

SAIGON (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who has led South Vietnam's military government for two years, withdrew from the race for the presidency today to seek the number two spot on a ticket headed by Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu.

The decision came after three days of tense meetings of the powerful Armed Forces Council during which the competition between Ky and Thieu, who both had been running for the presidency, reached a climax.

Ky has gone from being the No. 1 presidential candidate to No. 2 man on someone else's ticket, making it apparent he lost a great deal of power in the last three days.

Thieu, on the other hand, has now gained the top spot. The fact that he and Ky will no longer be competing for the 600,000 votes of the armed forces makes him virtually unbeatable.

ELIMINATES PROBLEM

The Thieu-Ky combination also eliminates the possibility that their competition would split the military, a fear the United States has been expressing since Ky and Thieu both decided to run for president.

* * *

The Thieu-Ky ticket was expected to register by midnight tonight, the registration deadline.

* * *

Reports said the Armed Forces Council had heated discussions of the Ky and Thieu candidacies. Sources said the council had decided to name a caretaker government to run South Vietnam while Ky and Thieu campaigned.

* * *

But now that the two men are on the same ticket, it was not clear if there would still be a caretaker government. The decision to run together came after the decision to form a caretaker government.

To add to the confusion, former Premier Duong Van Minh now in exile in Thailand, registered today for the Sept. 3 presidential election. Minh, a major general who ran South Vietnam for several months after the downfall of Ngo Dinh Diem in late 1963, was made ambassador at large in 1964 after other generals turned him out of office.

Minh's vice presidential running mate, lawyer Tran Ngoc Lieng, a former minister of welfare under Ky, said Minh would return to South Vietnam Saturday or Sunday.

* * *

So far, all indications are that the Armed Forces Council would not permit Minh to reenter South Vietnam. It issued a statement Thursday night saying he could not come back for security reasons.

Ky is a Buddhist from North Vietnam and Thieu is a Roman Catholic from central Vietnam in a country where religion and regional differences figure importantly in politics.

In the former lineup, Ky had selected as his vice presidential running mate a lawyer, Nguyen Van Loc. Thieu's running mate had been Trinh Quoc Khanh, a farmer.

Pontiac UAW Local Slates Runoff Vote

A three-day election that ended yesterday at UAW Local 653, Pontiac Motor Division, featured four slates of candidates and left several results undecided due to the need for a runoff vote and recount petitions.

Incumbent "blue slate" president John B. Maye received 2,531 votes to 2,476 for "white slate" candidate Wayne Anable and 374 to Tom Geraci, running on the "independent slate."

A runoff vote for the presidency is scheduled for July 11 and 12 because a candidate must have a majority to win.

Runoffs also are scheduled for recording secretary, shop committee chairman and the three trustee positions due to a lack of majority vote-getters.

* * *

Reelected on the blue slate were Bert E. Henson, financial secretary; Carl Morgan, sergeant-at-arms; Paul Derryberry, zone 5 shop committee; and Raleigh Comer, zone 10 shop committee.

OTHER WINNERS

White slate victors were Joe Murphy, vice president; Oscar Shelton, guide; and shop committee members Ben Walker in zone 1, Douglas H. Gravelle, zone 4; Jerry Hunt, zone 6; Edward R. McMorris, zone 7; and Bentley Dalton, zone 10.

* * *

Recounts for the two-year term offices are slated in zones 2, 3 and 9.

Austerity Plan Set---Romney

LANSING (AP)— Painting a bleak picture of state operations under an austerity budget, a grim Gov. George Romney today promised such a budget will go into effect Saturday morning if tax reform is not approved by tonight.

"If we don't get tax reform by midnight tonight, the austerity budget goes into effect tomorrow morning," Romney told a news conference today.

The people of Michigan would begin to feel the effects of such a budget in state services "in a matter of days or weeks," Romney said.

However, he added that if tax reform is approved by the midnight deadline, the state will continue on the current level of spending until appropriations for fiscal 1967-68 can be implemented.

* * *

Romney said Saturday — the first day of the new fiscal year —would be the deadline for passage of appropriations bills.

Some 30,000 snowmobiles (vehicles described as motorized sleds which travel over snow) were sold last year and it is estimated some 100,000 will be sold this year.

Fireworks Set

There will be a fireworks display celebrating July 4, at the Pontiac Mall at 9:45 p.m. tonight. If there is rain, the performance will be delayed until tomorrow night at the same time.

12 Wounded in Buffalo Riot

100 Arrested in 3rd Night of Violence

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Twelve persons were wounded with shotgun pellets, 18 others injured and more than 100 arrested as roaming Negro youths rioted in this city's shabby East Side for a third successive night.

Four hundred helmeted police, armed with shotguns and tear gas moved in quickly to disperse crowds. Again and again, clusters collected and were broken up. Each time a police van carted defiant Negroes to headquarters for bookings on mostly minor charges.

* * *

Newsmen described Thursday night's disorders as sporadic despite the violence; more subdued than Wednesday when large gangs rampaged through the predominantly Negro area, looting, smashing and burning.

The subtle difference was in the attitude of the police, newsmen said. "They were on the offensive," a veteran reporter added.

* * *

The neighboring city of Niagara Falls also was affected for a second successive night. At least four persons were arrested and a policeman was struck by a thrown rock.

Police moved quickly into the troubled area, however, and quelled the disturbance by 3 a.m. today.

Trio Cleared in the Theft of Auto Chrome

Three Pontiac - area men charged with interstate transportation of stolen goods in connection with the theft of some $20,000 worth of automobile chrome from the Fisher Body plant here have been found not guilty by a California jury.

Cleared were Lee Roy Kelley, 26, of 2651 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township; Wallace J. McGuigan, 26, of 37 Edwards; and Daniel S. Margosian, 27, of 48 Florence.

The trio had been arrested by Long Beach, Calif., police March 17 and subsequently turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for prosecution on the federal charge.

More than a dozen cartons of stolen chrome were traced to the Pontiac plant in March after police became suspicious when the material was being sold in California at prices well below market prices.

* * *

The trial took place in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles.

Fisher Body personnel officials said Margosian has never been employed at the plant, as was previously reported.

Huge Backlog of Work Waits for Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is off today on its third formal recess of the year, leaving the Capitol empty except for the usual hordes of tourists — and a massive backlog of unfinished work.

When Congress reassembles after a 10-day July 4th vacation, it will face enough problems to keep it busy for several months — and the likelihood of attempts to sidetrack some controversial issues until the next session beginning in January.

* * *

Among unfinished business is legislation dealing with rioting, Social Security, a possible railroad strike, poverty, crime, education, civil rights, foreign aid, appropriations, congressional redistricting, election law reforms and possibly taxes.

Some of them are well along on the road to final action. Others haven't even taken their first legislative step.

DRAFT LAW

Action has been completed on a new military draft law, extension of the Teachers Corps and some other higher education programs, a $12.2-billion emergency appropriation to finance the Vietnam war and Senate ratification of the Soviet consular and outer space treaties.

Two nonlegislative acts, one in each branch, highlighted the first six months of the session.

* * *

The Senate censured Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., for converting campaign funds to his personal use. The House refused to seat Adam Clayton Powell, a Harlem Democrat, after a special committee accused him of misusing public funds.

As usual, party leaders in the House, where most of the action has been to date, disagreed on the showing of Congress.

SUMMARY OF ACTIONS

Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said, "We have made a number of excellent accomplishments" and "a lot of important bills will be acted upon in the next few months."

Paris Awaits Soviet Chief

HAVANA (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin heads for Paris today to confer again with French President Charles de Gaulle after talks with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro and a tour of the Cuban countryside.

An unofficial source said Kosygin's talks with Castro had achieved "good results" because both men reached a "plain understanding."

No details of the talks were available, although one topic presumably was Castro's desire for armed revolution in Latin-American countries where the Soviet Union is trying to build influence and trade relations.

Informal Renewal Probe Asked by HUD Official

C. Don Davidson, professor of architecture at the University of Detroit, at the close of the meeting said he believed the community can get together, otherwise, he warned that matters would be taken to Oakland County Circuit Court.

A CCCPP board member, Wallace D. McLay, declared the committee believes the city's agreement with Taubman was not binding on the city, was not a legal contract and had not been approved by HUD.

AGREEMENT TO AGREE

Speaking in defense of the agreement, Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson said the document was "an agreement to agree" and that it afforded Taubman some protection.

He said the city commission would honor it up to Sept. 27 in hopes that Taubman's proposals to major tenants would be accepted.

If Taubman cannot deliver the tenants at that time, Hudson said, "we will open the doors wide again as we did before the agreement with Mr. Taubman."

* * *

REITERATE CHARGES

The CCPPP yesterday reiterated charges that the city had failed to follow HUD regulations in drawing up an agreement with Taubman, that the Taubman plan was "diametrically opposed" to the first urban renewal plan approved by HUD, and that there was no citizen involvement in urban renewal decisions as prescribed by regulations.

In effect, the committee repeated charges filed with HUD Feb. 28. Other representatives spoke out against the Taubman plan and the city commission's handling of the program, most notably, Ken Morris, UAW leader, and James Dyer, of the Oakland County NAACP.

Swartzel said a decision had not been reached on the earlier protest. He indicated that an order earlier this year forbidding conveyance of urban renewal lands did not prevent the city from negotiating for the sale of land.

* * *

He also said that the only plan approved by HUD is the original plan okayed in 1961. Any new plan, Taubman's or others, would require public hearings and new HUD approval.

* * *

He said this is not necessary until the city is definite about desiring substantive changes in the urban renewal plan.

School Budget Hearing Held

A public hearing was held last night on the proposed 1967-68 budget of $9,937,235 for Waterford Township Schools but no questions were directed to the school board.

Formal action on the budget will be taken by the board when the school district's state aid allowance is known and when negotiations on teacher salaries are completed.

The proposed new budget compares with one of $8,854,315 submitted for a public hearing a year ago.

Like other school districts which depend on a state aid commitment before adopting a firm spending plan, Waterford will enter the new fiscal year Saturday with budget uncertainties.

In other business last night, the board awarded contracts for improvements at Crary and Pierce junior high schools and Pontiac Lake Elementary School.

2 Residents Appointed to State Fair Authority

MRS. STROM KAFARSKI

Two Birmingham area residents have been appointed to posts for the Michigan State Fair Authority.

This year's fair at the Seven Mile and Woodward site is August 25 through Sept. 4.

Mrs. Allen A. Strom of 1130 Wakefield, Birmingham, was named chairman of the building and grounds committee and to the service committee.

She has been a member of the authority since 1964 and will serve as liaison member with the community arts department.

Mrs. Strom is active in the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary, Birmingham Junior Women's Club, Methodist Church Circle and other civic groups.

MITCHELL KAFARSKI

Mitchell I. Kafarski of 6790 Telegraph, Bloomfield Township, was named to the development and salary and personnel committees.

He has played a large role in planning of this year's fair.

Kafarski is a company official in Aactron, Inc., and Parkard Plating and other firms. He is listed in the "World's Who's Who in Commerce and Industry."

An accomplished sportsman and mountain climber, Kafarski also serves many civic and professional groups.

Auto Club's Lower Rates Start Saturday

Cost of driving is expected to drop $398,886 a year beginning tomorrow for the 20 per cent of Pontiac-area motorists insured by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

It is the first major break in a 10-year trend of rising auto insurance and other motoring costs, according to a club spokesman.

"The amount comes from what Pontiac area residents should realize from a $1-million rate reduction and a refund of 10 per cent of the cost of their 1966-67 auto insurance policies," he said.

Total savings in Michigan should amount to $10 million a year. Reason for the refund is fewer and less serious claims recently the spokesman added.

* * *

Michigan's 19 per cent cut in traffic fatalities so far this year is credited by Auto Club Executive Vice President Richard R. Dann to a better job of driving by Michiganites, partly because of the "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" campaign.

Metro Council Gets Fund for Operations

By JOE MULLEN

After some intercounty skirmishing yesterday on bylaws proposals governing the function of its executive committee, the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (COG) established a $250,000 budget to carry the operation through 1968.

A total of 84 delegates from the 142 governmental units now participating in the six-county COG attended the body's second organization meeting at Southfield High School.

William L. Mainland, Milford Township supervisor and chairman of the COG bylaws committee, presented the 10-page document prepared by his committee to the delegates and moved for adoption of the bylaws.

Then a move was launched to trim the power of a yet-to-be elected 35-member COG executive committee with Birmingham Councilman and former Mayor Robert Page leading the charge.

★ ★ ★

Southfield's fiery Mayor S. James Clarkson picked up where Page left off and said that if Page hadn't called for an amendment to the bylaws on the scope of the executive committee function, he would have called for an amendment abolishing the executive committee.

WANTS CHANGE

"I want the bylaws changed to read that the general assembly has the power to 'approve' action of the general assembly, not 'review' the action," Clarkson said.

He won support of a group of Oakland County delegates and some from the smaller counties but a stand-up vote defeated Clarkson's amendment proposal by a wide margin.

Mel Ravitz, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, then told the delegates that, if COG is to be a successful venture, it must utilize the committee system.

While Ravitz deplored any bylaws adjustments that would delay COG business by limiting the committee function, undertones of fear that Wayne County would control the COG were evident.

SEATS UNFILLED

Another fear mentioned by a few of the delegates was that many seats were unfilled at the session.

COG has a potential membership of 345 cities, villages, counties, townships and school districts in the area of Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw, St. Clair and Monroe counties.

The budget, proposed by Richard H. Austin who is chairman of the COG finance committee, would be sufficient to conduct operations from the time the organization is activated later this year until the end of 1968.

Austin, a certified public accountant and member of the Wayne County Board of Auditors, noted that original fee schedules for participating units of government other than counties have been trimmed by 20 per cent after a review of fiscal needs.

Tests Ordered for Pair in Death of Youngster, 2

Psychiatric tests were ordered yesterday for a Royal Oak man and woman who have pleaded guilty to a lesser count of cruelty to children in connection with the death of the woman's 2-year-old son.

Dr. Jerome Fink was appointed to examine Lynn Holback, 21, and Charlene Kowalcik, 20.

Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore made the appointment after reading presentence reports on the pair.

Holback and Mrs. Kowalcik were charged with second-degree murder in the death of her son Kevin last November.

The prosecutor's office said the boy died of internal injuries suffered as a result of a blow to the stomach.

SENTENCE DELAY

In delaying sentence for two weeks, Judge Moore said, "there is some evidence that either or both parties are mentally ill."

The couple were allowed to enter pleas of guilty to the reduced charge earlier this month.

Cosmic rays will soon be used by scientists attempting to find new areas for archeological excavations in the area of the tombs of Egypt.

The Result of Students' Planning and Working

'A Place for Teens to Go' Opens in Rochester

ROCHESTER — Months of planning and fund raising on the part of secondary school students here produced their first fruits this week with the opening of the new Rochester Teen Center.

★ ★ ★

The center, located in the Lions Club Skating Shelter at the rear of City Hall, is intended to be a place for teenagers to gather for informal activities as well as a facility for such planned events as dances, parties and concerts.

The teens themselves have financed the project with about $500 raised since February through school dances, paper sales, car washes and a donation drive.

This last effort involved making plastic piggy banks and placing them in downtown business places for a week in early May.

★ ★ ★

The fund raising work of groups at Rochester secondary schools has been coordinated by adults who have formed a nonprofit corporation known as Rochester Community House, Inc.

ADULTS EFFORT

Purpose of the adult effort is the construction of a permanent community house in the city, of which the teen club would be a part.

Money raised by the youngsters has been used to hire a director for the facility, Richard Cromie, a teacher and counselor at West Junior High School, to provide for special events and to defray general operating expenses.

Present plans call for the center to be open on Wednesday from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. through the summer months, filling at least partially a vacuum left annually by the closing of community schools and the cessation of organized school activities.

★ ★ ★

LACK MOBILITY

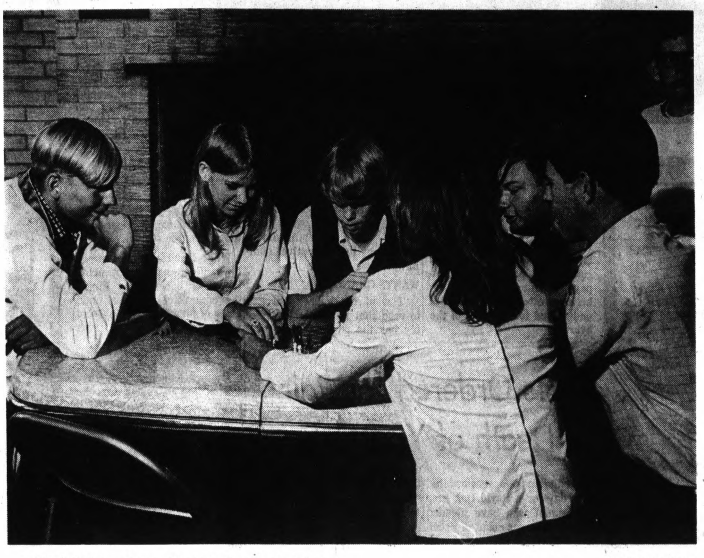
Cromie said there is more need in the city for a center for the younger teen-agers since they do not have the mobility of high school students who have access to cars and can travel to other areas for recreation.

"There are things to do in other areas but most are too far away for teens without cars," said Janet Westphal, 15, of 525 First. "We decided we needed a place here in town."

"Kids have nothing to do after school is out," added Randy Hinds, of 1123 Michelson, "This will give them a place to come to."

★ ★ ★

Cromie said experience with the center over the summer will help in planning for the permanent center envisioned by Community House, Inc.



JUST CASUAL — Informality is the key word at the new Rochester Teen Center. The facility provides a place for the younger set to gather for dancing, games or just casual talk. Pontiac Press Photo

Rec Program Grant Okayed by Pontiac UF

LAKE ORION — The Pontiac Area United Fund has approved a grant of $2,610 for the Orion Area Youth Guidance Committee to conduct a summer recreation program.

The program, as proposed by the committee, is to run for eight weeks and will be designed for all residents of the area.

James Hunt, associate director of planning for the fund, said the money has been approved with the understanding that the youth committee organize a recreation planning committee composed of representatives of at least the Orion School Board, the Village Council, the Lake Orion Youth Center and the Township Board by Sept. 1.

The stipulation is being made, according to Hunt, to avoid a loss of support and enthusiasm for a recreation program once the summer is over.

"We'd like our money to be used as seed money toward development of a year-around recreation program for the area," he said.

DEMAND SEEN

Hunt said the United Fund Planning Committee believes there is "quite a demand" for extension of the recreation program beyond the summer months and that the grant's condition that a planning body be formed is in line with current efforts being made in the Lake Orion area toward total planning.

Financial support from the United Fund after Sept. 1, will be contingent on receipt of satisfactory evidence that the proposed recreation planning group has been formed and that appropriate steps are being taken to develop a year-around program of recreation services for all citizens of the village and township, according to Hunt.

The fund, according to Hunt, has promised financial support for the Lake Orion program for a maximum of two years, assuming that complete financial responsibility for the program will be absorbed by governmental units in the area.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Harold Fields, of the youth guidance committee in the village, said that this summer's program will be a pilot program upon which a more complete and extended program will be built.

She said the guidance committee is hoping the village and township will take over the project eventually.

Groveland Twp. Awards Contract for $19,500 Hall

GROVELAND TOWNSHIP — A contract has been awarded for a new township hall to replace the 91-year-old present one that stands like a reminder of the past on Barron Road near Grange Hall.

★ ★ ★

The new one will be nearby on Grange Hall near the road crossing. It is to cost about $19,500 and will have enough space to provide for such things as storing township records, now kept at the homes of officials.

What will happen to the old building is uncertain. It is a ruggedly constructed affair and, though time-worn, looks usable — for something.

It is one-story, one-room with a high peaked roof. Many similarly designed buildings used to dot the landscape. They were used as fire halls, one-room schoolhouses, or township halls in the latter part of the 19th Century.

The Groveland hall was built in 1876 at a cost of $400, according to the History of Oakland.

WOODEN BARRIER

It can seat about 40 persons. A wooden fence barrier divides the room in the old manner to separate the township officials from the voters or perhaps the other way around.

An outhouse still faithfully serves voters and officials using the hall.

On both sides of the building, which sits in the shelter of a grove of trees, are small bogs.

★ ★ ★

From the bogs rises the croaking of numerous frogs, which sound must have blended over the years with the sounds of political discussion within.

3 Officials Put Themselves in 'Hot Seat'

Lake Orion JCs' Carnival Starts Sunday

LAKE ORION — Citizens with scores to settle with the village fathers will have a chance to get their licks in Sunday when the Lake Orion Jaycee Carnival opens in downtown Lake Orion.

Council President Wallace C. Crane, along with Councilmen Lawrence Giddings and Fred Cole, will serve as targets at the dunk tank for several hours starting at 2 p.m.

The carnival is part of three days of 4th of July activities in the village.

A Venetian Parade of floats on Lake Orion will open the celebration at 1 p.m. Sunday. A water fight between the fire departments of Orion, Oxford, Addison, Gingellville and Holly will follow at 2 p.m. in the Village Park across from the post office.

★ ★ ★

The three-day carnival also will begin at 2 and will last until 10 p.m. Booths, rides and refreshments will be available.

SOFTBALL GAME

An adult softball game will start at 3 p.m. at Atwater Park.

Monday's schedule leads off with the carnival at 11 a.m. It will close at 10 p.m.

At 7 p.m. the Independence Day parade will leave the parking lot of the Lake Orion Intermediate School. It will proceed down Broadway to Front and return to the school via Lapeer St.

Participants in the parade will include the Oxford High Band, Rochester Highlanders, Orion Twirlers, Jaycee Auxiliary Clowns, Orion and Oxford Legion color guards, and the Edison Calliope as well as local queens and floats.

Parade prizes have been donated by the East Orion 4H Club and the Lake Orion Rotary.

A street dance has been set for 8 p.m. on Lapeer St. between Flint and Front. Lighting of the Rotary flares around Lake Orion is planned for 10 p.m.

Tuesday's activities will feature a tug of war between the Lion's Club and the Jaycees over Paint Creek at 1 p.m. Firemen will be hosing each other down again starting at 2 p.m. in the water fight finals.

A fireworks display at the gravel pit north of Oxford will kick off at 10 p.m. The carnival on Tuesday will follow Monday's hours.

Little League ball games will run from noon to about 4:30 p.m. at Atwater Park on Tuesday.

Park Entrance Open

The main entrance (along I-96 Expressway) to Kensington Metropolitan Park was reopened this week following completion of certain access road improvements.

Governing Boards Reschedule Meetings Because of Holidays

Several city commissions, township boards and boards of education, scheduled to meet Monday and Tuesday, have rescheduled their meetings because of the July 4th holiday.

The Birmingham Board of Education was moved up to Monday at 8 p.m. but the City Commission will meet as scheduled on Monday.

Holly Township Board changed its meeting from Monday to 7:30 p.m. Thursday, and Independence Township changed from Tuesday to July 11.

Troy City Commission will not meet until July 10. Groveland Township Board will meet as scheduled on Monday.

★ ★ ★

The Addison Township Board has postponed its regular Monday meeting to 7:30 p.m., July 11, at Rowland Hall.

LAPEER CITY

The Lapeer City Commission will meet July 10 at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall.

The regular meeting of the Avondale Community School Board will be held as scheduled at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the board office.

July 10 has been set as the next meeting date for the Rochester School Board. The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. at the Board of Education building.

Tuesday meetings rescheduled include that of the Shelby Township Board. The meeting date has been set back to Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. at the Township Hall.

IMLAY CITY

The Imlay City Village Council meeting has been postponed to 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Village Office.

Huron Valley Board of Education meeting has been changed from Tuesday to Monday at 9:15 p.m.

The Walled Lake City Council, which also would normally meet on Tuesday, will meet Monday at 8 p.m.

Farmington's city council has changed its meeting from Monday to Wednesday at 8 p.m. as did the West Bloomfield Board of Education.

The date and times for the South Lyon City Council and Novi Village Council meetings are unchanged. Both will meet on Monday at 7:30 and 8 p.m., respectively.

Youth Is Charged in Fatal Accident

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—A Bloomfield Township youth was charged with negligent homicide in the auto-accident death of a Troy girl yesterday.

Arraigned in the Justice Court of Alice Gilbert was John M. Dirnbauer, 20, of 2840 Amberly.

★ ★ ★

Cheryl A. Roddy, 20, of 3043 Kingley, a passenger in the suspect's car, died after an auto crash at Big Beaver and Woodward, Saturday.

Hearing was set for 10:30 a.m., July 20 and Dirnbauer was released without bond.

Avondale Slates Picnic for 'Fourth'

An old-fashioned family-style community picnic has been planned for the 4th of July by Avondale Community Schools. Races, ballgames, eating and entertainment are planned for the program which will begin at 10:30 a.m. on the grounds of the Elmwood Elementary School on Auburn Road.

★ ★ ★

The public is invited, however, picnickers are reminded to bring their own food and blankets.

A watermelon feast, a checker tournament and a tootsie roll hunt for tots are also on the agenda.

Groveland Township's 91-Year-Old Hall Will Soon Be Replaced

Would Serve as Field and Barn

Skyscraper Farm 'Imagineered'

EAST LANSING (AP) — Big red barns and sprawling farm lands may fall under the concrete of skyscraper complexes housing everything from potatoes to pigs if Dr. Merle Esmay's predictions come true.

★ ★ ★

"In 20 years it may well be possible that we will have multistory farms with controlled environment and controlled feeding — possibly computerized," says the Michigan State University agricultural engineer.

Toward that end, Esmay has taken to his engineering drawing board for what he termed "imagineering."

Here's a basic outline of what's on that drawing board:

Picture a high-rise building—say 10 stories high—that serves as both field and barn for one or more farmers.

HOGS GRUNT

In the basement are potato fields and mushrooms. Hogs grunt all over the ground floor. Cows chew their cud on the third. Chickens lay eggs on the fourth.

On the other floors are the usual other farm crops ranging from wheat and afalfa to beans and barley.

Each floor is individually temperature-controlled with just the right humidity, light and other conditions suited to maximum growth.

★ ★ ★

"Feed will be metered out to animals in response to their needs as determined by load cells," Esmay explains. "production goals and dates for marketing by load cells," Esmay explains. "Program will be followed automatically over a long period to bring the animals up to the predetermined goals."

AIR PURIFIED

Wastes will be taken care of automatically.

Water and air will be purified and recirculated.

How's that for "imagineering?"

Possibility of Conspiracy Is Explored

Did Officer J.D. Tippitt, Jack Ruby Know Each Other?

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fifth article in a six-part series on the Warren Commission Report, the body of men that compiled the data, and the critics of both. The fourth article in the series explored the reporting of some of the Warren report critics and the continuing controversy over whether Lee Harvey Oswald acted as a lone assassin or was part of a conspiracy.)

Two witnesses said that on Nov. 14, the night of the meeting, Weissman was in their home trying to sell them carpeting until 9:30 or 10 p.m. Mrs. Tippitt said her husband was a homebody devoted to his family. Lane, nonetheless, says the commission should have asked her what Tippitt was doing the night of Nov. 14 and asked Weissman what he did after 10 p.m. that same evening.

Lane says the question to Weissman was "never even posed." It may not have been posed to his liking, but Weissman was asked by commission counsel: "Did you at any time while you were in Dallas ever have a meeting with or sit in the Carousel Club with Officer Tippitt?"

* * *

"No," he answered. He said he had never been in Ruby's club and didn't know him.

Mrs. Tippitt was less exact. She said she had never heard her husband mention being in Ruby's club.

The point is not so much whether such a meeting could have taken place. The point here is that Lane, who presented the rumor to the commission, did not present all the evidence to his readers. For instance, neither Mrs. Tippitt's nor Weissman's denial and-or lack of knowledge of the meeting—is presented in his book.

NO PURPOSE

But what if, evidence to the contrary, such a meeting did take place? What was its purpose? Lane doesn't suggest one. Neither does any evidence in the Warren volumes.

Nor is there evidence in the volumes to indicate a conspiracy in New Orleans. The commission and the FBI investigated several of the people that have figured in Garrison's case. They found no conspiracy.

* * *

This is not to deny the possibility of one. It should be mentioned, however, that the indictment against Clay Shaw, a New Orleans businessman, says he conspired with Oswald to assassinate Kennedy. But it does NOT say the assassination was the one that took place Nov. 22, 1963, in Dallas. Nor does it say it wasn't. Garrison has said he doesn't want to get involved in "semantics" over wording.

*

It should be mentioned that the chief witness against Shaw so far is a man who first contacted Garrison two days AFTER the district attorney said the case was solved. The witness testified after being given "truth serum" and undergoing hypnosis.

BRIBE ATTEMPT

It should be mentioned another witness reportedly said he was offered a bribe by the district attorney's office to give favorable testimony. The witness' lawyer said a lie detector test verified the bribe attempt.

Garrison has said he has evidence that Oswald was working for the Central Intelligence Agency. Others have said Oswald was working for the FBI after his return from the Soviet Union for a fee of $200 a month.

* * *

That rumor apparently came from a Houston reporter Alonzo Hudkins. Hudkins has since told Charles Roberts of Newsweek that he believes J. Edgar Hoover's denials that Oswald was an FBI informant. But Epstein takes the commission to task for relying solely on the word of an agency investigating itself.

* * *

Why, he asks in "Inquest," didn't the commission on its own interrogate Hudkins and his reported source for the story, Dallas Deputy Sheriff Allan Sweatt? It is a legitimate question.

'NO EFFORTS'

But it is also legitimate to ask how Epstein can state "no efforts were made by the commission or its staff to investigate the rumor itself." That simply isn't true.

The commission, itself, DID investigate in some detail reports of money orders Oswald reportedly had received while in Dallas. (It turned out to be baseless. The commission, itself, DID inquire why FBI agent James Hosty's name was in Oswald's address book. (Oswald told his wife to take it down after Hosty had visited her at Ruth Paine's where she was living). The commission DID investigate through the Internal Revenue Service Oswald's finances after his return from the Soviet Union. (His known and assumed outgo remarkably approximated his income down to the cash balance he had when arrested.)

* * *

The commission did NOT take at face value the denials of the FBI. And Epstein did NOT mention the foregoing in claiming the commission "relied entirely on the FBI to disprove the rumor" of Oswald's FBI connection.

* * *

Another conspiracy rumor: Ruby entered the Dallas police headquarters to shoot Oswald not by accident but by design. In accord with some superplot, the assassin had to be assassinated. One incontestable fact of time, however, must be considered.

* * *

The exact time of Oswald's transfer depended on when police were done questioning him. At the time that was decided, Ruby was driving downtown to send a money order to one of his strippers. The time he handed the money order across the Western Union counter was punched by a time clock: 11:17 a.m. Oswald was shot at 11:21 a.m. It takes several minutes to walk from Western Union to the police basement where Oswald was slain.

A commuter catching a train would scarcely cut his corners so finely. Would a man engaged in a superplot do so? Particularly if he knew in some unexplained way his only chance would come at 11:21?

* * *

The superplot elsewhere was running a very tight schedule. When Oswald dashed in and out of his rooming house a half-hour after the assassination, Lane says a "rather mysterious" incident occurred. A Dallas police car stopped and honked twice and drove off, said Earlene Roberts, the housekeeper.

* * *

Dallas police said there was no patrol car in the vicinity at the time. Lane says the 'investigation' consisted of nothing more than the statements of police regarding car and officer assignments. (One might ask who would know better than police the whereabouts of a police car.

CAR 207

Lane notes commission evidence that a patrolman had driven Car 207 to the depository "just after 12:45 p.m.," gave the keys to a sergeant and remained in the building several hours.

* * *

A log of the travels of Car 207 should, however, have this information which the report provides—and Lane does not.

1—Police Car 170, driven by acquaintances of hers, often honked outside the house, Mrs. Roberts said. When she saw the car was 207, she told the FBI she went back to looking at television.

2—Patrolman Jimmy Valentine had Car 207 that afternoon. He had been at headquarters when he heard of the assassination at about 12:45 p.m. He drove to the depository all the way across town through heavy traffic. This would put him at the building close to the moments Oswald dashed into the rooming house several miles away. Valentine turned the keys over to a sergeant.

OTHER OFFICERS

This does not mean, Lane argues, that the car itself couldn't have been driven by some other officers. (Mrs. Roberts saw two in the car). But the men would have had to get the keys from the sergeant (who said he didn't release them until 3:30 p.m.), drive through heavy traffic around the depository to the rooming house in suburban Oak Cliff, honk twice and drive away again.

* * *

And for what purpose? Lane doesn't suggest one.

Lane also notes testimony of Deputy Sheriff Roger D. Craig. He said that 15 minutes after the assassination he saw a young man he later identified as Oswald run from near the depository and get into a light colored Rambler station wagon driven by a Negro. Later that afternoon Craig said he recognized Oswald in the office of homicide Capt. Will Fritz.

Craig said Oswald stood up and said: "That station wagon belongs to Mrs. Paine, don't try to tie her into this. . .Everybody will know who I am now."

The commission, as Lane notes, decided it "could not accept important elements of Craig's testimony." Lane does not note the reasons why.

One is an affidavit from Fritz. He recalled a man telling a story similar to Craig's. This, however, occurred in his outer office. Oswald was in his inner office.

"Had I brought this man into my inner office I feel sure I would have remembered it," Fritz said. He didn't remember Oswald jumping up and saying what Craig said he said. Neither did any one else there.

Furthermore, Mrs. Paine owned a two-tone Chevrolet station wagon, not a light-colored Rambler.

Cranbrook 9 Surges to Win

Rallies Secure Victory in 'A' League

A late-inning surge by Cranbrook carried the team to a 7-2 victory last night over C.I.O. No. 594 in city Class A baseball action.

The triumph boosted Cranbrook's record to 7-3 and lifted the team into a tie with Booth Homes for second place behind M. G. Collision (7-2).

The winners, trailing 1-0 going into the bottom of the fifth, erupted for four runs on only three hits and added three more the following inning to wrap it up.

Ron Murray and Charlie Heavenrich cracked out a couple of hits apiece to spark the winners. Mike Burklow limited C.I.O to four hits, one of them a first-inning homer by Dan Kelly.

Games tomorrow have the Clippers meeting U.A.W. at 6 p.m. and Pass Excavating taking on Talbott Lumber at 8:30.

Heads Grid League

BLOOMFIELD, N.J. (UPI) — Cosmo Iacovazzi, uncle of the former Princeton star, was elected president of the Atlantic Coast Football League, it was announced Thursday by the league's executive committee.

Won't Risk Boat

My Gypsy Pilot Cools It Qualifying

DETROIT (UPI) — Money isn't everything according to Jim Ranger, scheduled to drive My Gypsy in Sunday's World Championship powerboat race on the Detroit River. Or is it?

Ranger, of Detroit, said he isn't even tempted to go for the $300 prize which goes to the driver of the fastest qualifier during each day of trials.

The prize money went begging Tursday as long, rolling wages kept any hydroplane from getting above the required speed of 90 miles per hour over the three-mile, one-lap course.

BIG RISK

"I'm not about to risk $35,000 worth of equipment for the $300 prize," Ranger said. "They don't bust up their equipment at Indianapolis once they qualify for the 500 mile race. Neither will I."

So the canny Ranger merely put his qualifying time of 110.294 up on the list and let other drivers shoot for the speed marks, and increase their chances for a breakdown.

The race prizes total $45,000 and highest mark so far was the 115.384 m.p.h. speed by Bill Cantrell of Detroit, in Miss Bardahl Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

A dozen boats have qualified so far and five more will attempt to fill out the 15 allowed positions in today's final day of trials.

CLEAN RACE

Officials are hoping for a clean race this year. Last year, in the race on the Detroit River.

★ ★ ★

In the only other race this season, Bill Brow, Seattle, Wash. died on Tampa Bay when his Miss Budweiser flipped and sank. In all, five drivers have been killed in powerboat accidents within the past year.

Among those who failed to qualify Wednesday was Bud Saile, idle as a driver for the past five years.

Saile attempted to qualify Such Crust but was going too fast at the gun. He was given a gun start because he hasn't hit 100 m.p.h. in a hydroplane this year, a requirement of the American Power Boat Association.

★ ★ ★

The referee ordered Saile off the course after his oil line broke, splattering Such Crusts's windshield.

He continued around the course and explained when he came in that he didn't see the flags because of the oil on his windshield.

Pitchers Hurl No-Hitters for Top Softball Teams

A pair of City American League pitchers shared the spotlight last night as they spun no-hitters for the loop's top two squads.

★ ★ ★

Henry Hughes silenced the bats of Bob's Bar as Town & Country (9-4) won the opener at Beaudette Park, 8-0, and Ralph Long turned in a similar performance as league-leading Ron's Roost (11-2) downed Orchard Lanes (3-10) in the night-cap, 4-0.

Hughes fanned six and walked four to keep T&C within two games of the leader. Don Moorhead picked up a couple singles to pace the winners who scored once in the first and pushed three runs across in the third and fifth frames.

Long also struck out six and pitched out of a couple of jams in the second and fifth innings. John Snyder and Mouse Beers paced the attack with two hits apiece.

★ ★ ★

Timberlanes No. 2 ran its National League-leading record to 7-1 with a 5-1 verdict over Huron Bowl, and in another game at Northside, Pontiac Press turned back Hagen's Shell, 11-5, in an International Slow-Pitch contest.

OUTHIT WINNERS

Huron Bowl (4-6) outhit the winners, 10-4, but pitcher Jim Fields kept the safeties well scattered in picking up the decision. Gary Acker backed Fields with two singles. Gary Adam and Bill Davis picked up two hits apiece for the losers.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Press (5-2) sent nine runners across the plate in the third inning and coasted past Hagen's Shell (0-9). The winners collected 16 hits with six players picking up two apiece. Larry Bowles checked in with three hits for the losers.

One State Junior Left in Tournament

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Randy Erskine of Battle Creek, the only Michigan golfer still alive in the Western Junior Golf Tournament, today met Bill Spannuth, of Anderson, Ind., in the third round of match play on the Purdue north course.

Erskine defeated John Lynch of Lake Forest, Ill., 1-up in 18 holes and took out Don Padgett of Muncie, Ind., 2-up Thursday.

Rocky Pozza of Detroit was eliminated 2-1 by defending champion Ross Elder of Tulsa, Okla., in the first round, but Elder was then knocked out by Spannuth 2-1 in the second.

Strong Contenders in Governor's Cup

Sulci is the early favorite in the $12,000 added Governor's Handicap but there are half a dozen strong contenders for that distinction in the $15,000 Mt. Clemens handicap in the big Saturday card at the Hazel Park Race Track.

★ ★ ★

Sulci will carry 124 pounds in the Governor's Handicap, a test at a mile and a sixteenth for three year olds up foaled in Michigan. He will concede from eight to 16 pounds to his nine rivals.

Clyde Frames Softball Win in Rec Action

Fate and Clydes Frame (8-7) prevailed over the Luckless Waterford Merchants (1-14) by a score of 11-10 in Waterford Men's Softball Action last night.

The Merchants made up two large deficits in the fourth and seventh innings when they tied the score up at 5-5 and 10-10. But Ken Young of Clydes scored on Duane Fornwall's sacrifice fly to end the game in the bottom of the seventh inning.

In ther other game Buckner Finance (5-10) eeked out its third win by defeating McAnally's Auto Sales (6-9) 3-2.

McAnally's got both its runs in the first inning on a triple by Walt Poe and a homer by Bob Crandall.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Saturday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Be in communication with those who can advise you about money. Cycle continues high. But subtle change has occurred. Be aware. Perceive opportunity.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): You get aid from source which previously was "hidden." Means a new awareness is evident today. Start taking initiative. State your needs. Odds favor you. You get what you request.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Avoid self-deception. Be sure of what is happening—and why. Day accents personal approach to events. Get into rhythm with world around you. Say no to false values.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): New lease on activities indicated. Friend comes up with solid suggestion. Give it a fair hearing. Don't fight with those in authority. Give a little—receive much. Think.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Support views with action. Go to the top. Exhibit confidence. This creates constructive chain reaction. Finish, complete — put final touches on projects. Move ahead.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Breakthrough indicated. Financial problem due to be solved. Make this a day when you put ideas into motion. Stress originality, independence. Say yes to opportunity.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Pressure on area of chart related to marriage, public relations, partnerships. People respond to you. Key is to live up to potential. Highlight speed will, popularity.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You are able to elevate your interests, contacts. What you do is brought to attention of wider circle. Be at your best. Others pass judgment. Know this and act like you know it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): What people say and do may be two different things. Be ready to change pace, methods. Be self-reliant. Co-worker associate appears to be supersensitive. Patience aids cause.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Relief from some restrictions indicated. You gain opportunity for greater freedom of action. Romantic interests also stressed. Day to make up your mind. Decide.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Ideas are tested. Don't commit yourself to foolish action. Others remember what you say, expect you to back up statements. Weigh words. Message from relative is important.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): If perceptive you save time, money. Don't base judgment on surface indications. Travel shown in form of short journey. Money question is settled by new circumstances.

★

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you can accumulate wealth if inventive abilities are brought to forefront. You are better at leading than following. Pioneer. Invest in your own ideas.

★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for ARIES, TAURUS, GEMINI. Special word to PISCES: opportunity for greater knowledge is present. Take advantage of it.

Opening lead—♠ K

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

Stories of the unlucky expert and the very bad bridge player have appeared in this column before. Usually even the unluckiest of experts comes out all right against a very bad bridge player. This time the bad bridge player's ineptness led to defeat for the expert.

JACOBY

"Look carefully," asked West.

East looked carefully and suddenly discovered the jack of diamonds mixed among his hearts. He played it and won the trick.

South's three no-trump contract was normal enough but the spade lead was slightly embarrassing. He ducked the first spade on general principles but West continued the suit and South was in.

The hand was one of those typical laydowns. As you can see, the club finesse was on and South could take it and bring him his nine tricks.

Even then South might have been successful. East was a very bad player and might not have led a spade but, unfortunately for South, East had already exposed a spade and was compelled by rules to lead it.

He did. West did the rest and the unlucky expert was down two on a laydown hand.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	2 ♦	Pass	2 ♠
3 ♠	4 ♦	Pass	4 N.T.
Pass	5 ♥	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ 2 ♥ A K J 7 ♦ K 3 2 ♣ A Q 10 5 4

What do you do now?

A—There just aren't that many cards in the deck but you can afford to bid five no-trump anyway. That opening club bid looks most peculiar.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid five no-trump and your partner bids six clubs to show no kings. What do you do now?

Killed in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Pfc. Frederick H. Liminga, the son of Hugh A. Liminga of Houghton, Mich., was killed in action in Vietnam, the Defense Department announced Thursday.

Egypt Loss Near 5,000 in Fighting, Says Editor

CAIRO (UPI) — Egypt's most influential editor today said his nation suffered almost 5,000 men killed in the Arab-Israel war and warned there may be more bloodshed.

Editor Mohamed Hassanein Heikal of the newspaper Al Ahram, a confident of U.A.R. President Gamal Ebdel Nasser, said, "nearly 5,000 fell while courageously fighting."

He said the Arabs are willing to resume fighting the June 5-10 war rather than negotiate peace with Israel. He said Arabs will surrender no land to Israel no matter how little. Israeli troops occupy great stretches in Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

Heikal said Egyptian soldiers may be asked "to make more sacrifices for their homeland in hope of victory."

★ ★ ★

His report was the first published word in Egypt on war casualties. It brought to 20,000 the reported death toll to the four main adversaries in the war.

WAR REPORT

Israel said it suffered 679 killed. Syria reported 145 killed. Jordan said June 9 as it accepted the cease-fire that 15,000 of its citizens and soldiers perished.

(Israeli military authorities had estimated Egypt lost between 7,000 and 10,000 men killed.)

Heikal's warning of more fighting came as Egyptian sources charged that Israeli troops killed one Egyptian and wounded another seriously in an incident on the Suez Canal.

★ ★ ★

(The Israelis, who hold the land on the east of the canal, denied the charge and said all was quiet in the area.)

SUPPLY LAUNCH

The Egyptian sources said Israeli troops first beckoned and then fired on a four-man Egyptian launch taking supplies to 15 ships stranded in the closed Suez Canal.

The rumbling of reported new fighting came as the cry of a "holy war" against Israel was heard once more in Cairo.

"History will disgrace all who do not take part in the holy fight to regain our usurped land and protect our holy places," said Sheikh Hass Mamouin, rector of the ancient Alazhar Mosque of Islam.

Tax Rate Is Cut for Delta College

BAY CITY (AP) — Delta College's tax rate has been cut 30 cents per $1,000 valuation by the college board of trustees.

The reduction, from $1.30 to $1.00 per $1,000, was attributed to the increase in state equalized property values in the taxing area of Bay, Midland and Saginaw counties.

Oil Firms Hit in FTC Report

Crackdown Vowed on 'Costly Ad Practices'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Costly advertising campaigns have deprived U.S. gasoline buyers of savings at the gas pump, according to the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

This was one of the forces the commission described yesterday in a report on how major oil companies use "recurring industrywide anticompetitive practices" to keep prices where they want them, and the FTC plans to stop the practices.

The report dealt at length with the impact of advertising practices of the top 19 companies, which sell 75 per cent of the gasoline in the country and spend 90 per cent of the industry's total advertising outlay.

"Rather than put a penny in the consumer's pocket, the major oil company prefers to put a 'tiger' in the consumer's tank or a raffle ticket in his hand," the FTC said.

The FTC's plan to stop these practices envisions close scrutiny of pricing practices and of the mergers which enhance pricing power in an industry already considered highly concentrated and controlled, in effect, by 19 firms.

MERGERS PROBED

An FTC spokesman said he interpreted the report to mean that the oil industry had gone as far as it can in merging and major companies would face close scrutiny before any further acquisitions would be allowed.

The FTC report follows two years of study and nine days of hearings in May, 1965. The hearings were prompted by numerous complaints of unfair trade practices from independent refiners and marketers and by bulk and retail dealer associations.

Nickel Export Probe Is Eyed

Republican Congressman William S. Broomfield of Royal Oak said today that he would ask for an investigation into why the U.S. foreign aid office plans to ship India $400,000 of "scarce" nickel while the metal is in short supply to American manufacturers.

BROOMFIELD

The plight of U.S. manufacturers became critical on June 8, said Broomfield, when the Senate Armed Services Committee killed a bill that would have released 60 million pounds of nickel from the national defense stockpile for domestic use.

An identical bill sponsored by Broomfield passed the House in April.

The Senate committee argued, however, that the release of additional nickel would endanger the national defense supply.

"It seems incredible that if this metal is in such critical short supply we can afford to give it away to India," said Broomfield.

Health Center Grant Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Cap Inc. of Baldwin has been approved for a $942,713 Office of Economic Opportunity grant to finance a comprehensive health center in unoccupied Baldwin High School.

★ ★ ★

The center, which is expected to benefit 4,500 poor persons, will be administered by the State Health Department and the Michigan State University College of Human Medicine—the first OEO-backed health center to be administered by a state health department.

Cadillac Festival

CADILLAC (AP) — Sports Spectacular, an annual all-day festival sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and filled with boat parades, barbeques, fishing contests, canoe races and water shows, is planned for July 29, opening day of the week-long Northern District Fair.

1967 Consumer Economy

Future Is Testy for All

(EDITORS NOTE — This is the second of two articles on the consumer economy. The following article explores the outlook for the second half of the year.)

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — The economy is now sailing into the second half of the year escorted by the usual flock of forecasts, many of which will fall like tired ducks, far off course before December.

CUNNIFF

The consensus of these forecasts is for an economic upturn, accompanied by higher income taxes and rising prices. Strikes also may be a part of the picture, especially in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

This will mean a very testy period for administration policies. More so than in the first half of the year, the fiscal decisions made in Washington will dominate the news.

Chief of the economic estimates out of the capital is that a resurgent civilian economy will combine with heavy government spending, especially for Vietnam, to produce a strain on the economy.

INFLATION FEARED

The fear is that we Americans will demand too much from our production facilities, that we will attempt to buy and consume more than we can produce efficiently. This would be inflationary, demand would exceed supply, and prices would rise.

There is another aspect to such an economic picture. By demanding more than we can produce, we are saying, in effect, that we want more than we can pay for.

★ ★ ★

To counter this strain, and to pay the bills, both the Federal Reserve and presidential advisers now share the belief that income taxes will have to be raised.

Not everyone agrees with this analysis, nor does everyone agree on the proposed cure. For at the moment the economy is rather docile; it has not yet begun the feared inflationary expansion. It is not straining.

CAUSE OF PRESSURE

The chief cause of such economic pressure would come from federal spending, some of it for domestic programs which Republicans feel could be cut back. But the costly war in Vietnam is the real culprit.

A tax increase would help pay for this war costing $20 billion a year. It would transfer funds to the military-defense economy, where many of the big bills are. It would lessen the government's need to borrow money in the market place, where interest rates already are very high.

★ ★ ★

And, simultaneously, it would lessen the ability of consumers to make additional demands on the economy by reducing their financial ability to do so.

For the moment, however, the consumer is showing evidence of a bit more daring than had characterized his activities for a year. And there are some clear reasons.

CONSUMER DARING

- Many big-ticket purchases have been postponed as long as possible. Many potential home buyers have delayed as long as they can. There is now an upward trend in housing, autos and some retail sales.
- The automotive industry has put a lot of bad news behind it, although the threat of strikes remains ahead. Midyear sales have been strong. And with an early production start on 1968 autos—with safety features installed — sales are expected to stay strong.

★ ★ ★

- The consumer is fairly well off financially, having banked heavily for several months. His desire for goods is now backed by some solid savings, even though real spendable income has been declining.

Nevertheless, it is impossible to forecast accurately the future pattern of consumer spending. Rising prices, especially for homes, some apparel, medical care and some foods could force the consumer to retrench again.

RISING PRICES

Since wholesale food prices have risen lately, additional increases may soon appear at the retail level. Hospital care costs are now 21.5 per cent higher than a year ago. And though mortgage costs have come down for five straight months now, the prices of homes seem to be rising.

These areas of food, clothing, shelter and medical care are very sensitive ones for the consumer. But how he will react to price increases in these areas — last year it was boycotts and caution — is unclear.

★ ★ ★

What is clear is that administration policies will be in for a big test.

21 GOP Governors Stand Behind Bliss

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — GOP governors have edged around the quagmire of a party split posed by balking Young Republicans striking off on divergent trails toward their choice for the 1968 party presidential nomination.

Asked by National Chairman Ray Bliss to take a stand on the Young Republican National Federation's rejection of his leadership, the GOP governors responded with unanimous approval of a resolution praising Bliss' efforts to unify next year's campaign under his direction.

★ ★ ★

There was strong talk in a closed session of the 21 GOP state executives caucusing here about censoring the Young Republican's summary rejection last week of a series of Bliss' proposals.

The national chairman was cut down in his efforts to regain a measure of control over the youth organization which helped Barry Goldwater gain the GOP presidential nomination in 1964.

WRIST SLAPPING

But the governors wound up with a compromise resolution which did not mention the Young Republicans. By indirection it condemned their independent stance and slapped the wrist of women conservatives who continue to complain about their loss of the presidency of the GOP Women's Federation.

The governors' resolution in effect left to Bliss the final solution of how to curb the diversionary operations.

The chairman himself had no solution at hand except to say in an interview that he regarded the deviations as minor excursions which would yield in time to the recognition that Republicans must mold a party unit they didn't have three years ago if they expect to defeat President Johnson next year.

Bliss told a news conference: "Assuming the present political climate continues, I believe we have an opportunity to win the White House."

The governors praised Bliss' efforts to "unify all elements and auxiliaries of the party under the leadership of the Republican National Committee for maximum effectiveness and participation" in next year's election.

They gave only vague assurances that they would work at the state level to control the Young Republicans.

Involved in this maneuvering was the hope of Bliss and a substantial majority of the GOP governors that the party will come up with a moderate candidate who can give Johnson a run.

Yesterday's State Capital Happenings

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I am a 56-year-old minister with $18,000 in savings accounts. Because of inflationary pressures, I don't believe this is the wisest form of investment. At retirement my pension and Social Security payments will be insufficient for living expenses. What do you advise?" C. A.

A) It is distressing that so many men, after a lifetime in your vocation, face retirement on inadequate pensions. Your capital at present is thoroughly secure from loss or fluctuation, but it is fixed as to principal. You should have a savings account which is entirely sufficient to take care of future emergency needs. Anything over and above that—for a man in your position—is really gambling that the value of the dollar will remain constant.

I advise you to leave at least $5,000 in your savings account. I would invest the remainder in areas of the economy which have shown strong growth that can be expected to continue. In this way, over a period of the next six years, you will have the opportunity of enhancing your capital at a rate faster than inflation can erode it. I suggest equal dollar amounts of American Hospital Supply, Bristol-Myers, Holiday Inns, Union Oil and General Telephone.

Q) "My problem is whether to keep intact several hundred shares of Texaco, held over the past several years, or sell part and diversify. The stock seems to have slowed down more than some other issues, such as Gulf Oil. What do you advise?" J. R.

A) If you hold a disproportionate amount of Texaco, I would switch part of it to spread the risk which is involved in all stock investment. The shares have slowed down somewhat in the past two years. They have trailed Gulf in performance because they reached a much higher base in 1964. If you diversify, I would do so by industry as well. I suggest exchanging some of your Texaco for Gillette, Calgon and Georgia-Pacific.
