Pilot Credits Safe Flight to 'The Good Lord'

HONOLULU (AP) "I wasn't calling the shots—The Good Lord was."

That's Maj. Samuel Tyson's explanation of how he kept his giant Military Air Transport Service C97 aloft 6½ hours on two engines yesterday for 1,000 miles over the Pacific, with 67 people aboard.

Tyson, a 37-year-old veteran of World War II, the Korean War and the Berlin Airlift, who comes from Council Bluffs, Iowa, piloted the giant plane into Hilo, Hawaii, at 11:25 a.m. yesterday. Two of its engines had quit just beyond the point of no return from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., to Hickam AFB, Oahu.

"It never occurred to me that we would ditch," said Tyson.

"I'm a coward," he grinned. "I can't swim very far. The water's cold."

More seriously he said, "I'd determined to take things as they came. After the first shock of realizing we were in danger, and after the adrenalin shot into me, I thought clearer and acted better. I had confidence in myself.

"After all, I wasn't calling the shots — The Good Lord was."

ALREADY HAS 2

"Did you know you have been recommended for the Distinguished Flying Cross?" asked a newsman.

"Nope," said Tyson.

"He's already got two of them," said a crewman.

MATS headquarters recommended the DFC within minutes after Tyson landed.

Tyson landed his nine crewmen and 57 passengers safely at Hilo after a last minute ordeal when the landing gear didn't lower. Two flight engineers worked the big wheel down by an emergency hand crank. The wheel housing had jammed because the No. 2 engine had been damaged when the No. 1 propeller flew off.

The big plane landed smoothly in spite of the yaw created by the two engines on only one side.

Passengers and crew emerged dripping with sweat. Not only had they been "sweating it out" for nearly seven hours, but all vents had been closed, said Navy Capt. William M. Lowry, Coronado, Calif. one of the passengers. "There was no confusion," he added.

Incongruous flower leis were draped around their necks in the traditional Hawaiian greeting as they babbled their relief at landing and their confidence in Tyson and his crew.

The passengers were taken to Honolulu last night on another plane.

The ordeal began early yesterday.

The No. 1 propeller started running away. Tyson and the flight engineer slowed it, but couldn't feather it. The prop flew off and damaged the No. 2 propeller and engine. A piece dented the fuselage but did not penetrate. Tyson declared an emergency existed and began sending radio messages every 15 minutes.

He took her down to 50 feet and flew at that altitude or slightly above it most of the 1,000 miles.

Passengers were moved forward to help balance the sky giant, flying unevenly on her two engines.

"They were very cooperative. Finest lot of passengers I've ever had," declared Tyson.

Baggage was jettisoned, including 1,500 pounds of Army and Fleet Post Office mail. No one complained.

DETROIT (AP) — The Wayne County Federation of Labor (AFL) and Wayne County CIO Council will resume merger talks here Monday.

Probe Uncovers $35,000 Profit After Union Sale

Former Official of Old AFL-UAW Unit Asks Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former board member of the old AFL United Auto Workers Union testified today the union sold its Milwaukee headquarters building for $80,000 in 1955 only to see it resold a few weeks later for $115,000.

Morris Weintraub, now a South Newport, Ky., attorney, said the union sale was to the Badger Realty Co., Milwaukee, in which he said the union's secretary-treasurer, Anthony Doria, once had an interest.

Testifying before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, Weintraub said that as a board member he never got an explanation of the sale, satisfactory to him.

Weintraub said Doria never consulted the board in advance about the sale but, when questioned by board members about it, got "out charts and a pointer to try to convince us the union made a profit."

"I never could see it," Weintraub said. "But I think when you have Doria up here Monday he'll try to convince you too."

Weintraub said the union received $50,000 plus a $30,000 mortgage. He said he did not know whether the $30,000 mortgage was ever paid off.

The senators got into the story of the building sale in an incidental way while digging for further information on the relations New York labor racketeer Johnny Dio Dioguardia had with the AFL-UAW, since become the Allied Industrial Workers Union.

DIO KEEPS MUM

Dio himself took the Fifth Amendment 140 times yesterday in refusing to discuss it.

Dio likewise declined to discuss his alleged role in the acid-blinding of columnist Victor Riesel, for which he is under indictment.

He was paroled from New York's Tombs Prison, where he is serving a term for extortion, long enough to appear before the committee.

Dio, a man charged by previous witnesses and committee investigators with extortion, hoodlumism, intimidation and bribery, made only one bow in the direction of the traditional New York movie gangster.

He spouted a stream of obscenity and slugged a photographer after causing a sensation by entering the committee room before he was called by the committee.

Work Begun on Largest Lakes Freighter

DETROIT (AP)—The keel of what will become the largest freighter on the Great Lakes was laid yesterday at the Great Lakes Engineering Works in suburban River Rouge.

The 729-foot ore carrier will be 13 feet longer than any Great Lakes Freighter now afloat and, when channels are deepened for the St. Lawrence Seaway, she will carry nearly 27,000 tons. Her hull will be 39 feet deep.

The vessel, as yet unnamed, is being built for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Milwaukee, which will lease it to the Columbia Transportation Co., of Cleveland. It will cost around seven million dollars.

Plans for the ship were announced several months ago.

State's Defense Jobs Take Dive

Broomfield Helps Set Exhibit to Illustrate Available Work

Michigan's "bleak" defense production picture is in part responsible for the drop in industrial employment, Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) and three other Michigan congressmen stated in a report readied this week.

While the state's level of all industrial employment has been "sagging," the report said, "the rate of decline in the number of defense jobs in Michigan during recent years is nothing less than startling."

Besides Broomfield, Reps. Robert P. Griffin, of Traverse City; Charles E. Chamberlain, of Lansing and Robert J. McIntosh, of Port Huron authored the report.

The report indicated that more defense contracts, particularly from the Navy and Air Force, should be attracted to Michigan in an effort to bolster employment.

The Congressmen, with the cooperation of the Defense Department, have proposed an exhibit in Port Huron next month to show opportunities for defense work.

They want to make sure that industry, particularly small business, "is actually made aware of its defense contract potential, and is apprised of every opportunity to bid for defense work."

The report quoted figures from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, including these items showing a decline in Michigan production:

Only two states, Michigan and Rhode Island, had fewer manufacturing jobs in 1956 than in 1950;

Manufacturing employment in Michigan is at about the same level it was in 1948, while in the majority of states it has increased.

During the Korean War, the report pointed out, there were 219,000 workers in the state on defense jobs, while the number now is less than 60,000.

Following Path Torn by Audrey Into Gulf States

Expect Tides to Reach Six Feet in One Area; People Fleeing

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tropical storm Bertha ballooned into a full-fledged hurricane today and aimed its deadly punch at the west Louisiana-upper Texas coast along a 125-mile front.

The Weather Bureau at 10 a.m. located the hurricane, traveling roughly in the same path as its killer predecessor Audrey six weeks ago, about 140 miles southeast of Lake Charles, La.

The storm's highest winds were estimated at 75 m.p.h. within about 30 miles of the center with gales flaring out 100 miles from the center.

Bertha was expected to continue west and northwest at 10 to 13 m.p.h. for the next 12 hours.

The advisory warned that tides would reach five to six feet between Galveston and Sabine, Tex., located on the Louisiana border. Tides of three to five feet were expected along the central Louisiana coast.

Tides in the area normally are about one foot.

The area threatened by the hurricane includes the strip of Louisiana laid waste by Audrey, which claimed more than 500 lives in the Cameron-Grand Chenier area June 27 and caused property damage in the millions.

But despite the threat of Bertha's punishing winds and flooding tides, some hardy residents of the Cameron area refused to leave.

Flight from the low-lying coastal area started late yesterday when the first warnings came.

Offshore oil drilling crews began returning to the mainland at the first warnings.

Civil defense units were alerted from New Orleans westward and headquarters here was on an around-the-clock watch on Bertha's movements.

The Louisiana coastland began to feel Bertha's winds about midnight.

Many areas of the coast are below sea level and roads go under water after heavy rains.

Cmdr. John Cork of Tampa, Fla., pilot on the hurricane hunter plane that made the first flight into both Audrey and Bertha, said: "We made two flights into Audrey and it was the roughest I've flown. It was a full-blown hurricane. This one wasn't in the same category."

No Phone Rate Change Set Yet

Michigan Bell Granted OK to Boost Schedule of Call Costs

How a $2.8 million rate boost granted Michigan Bell Telephone Co. yesterday will affect Pontiac subscribers will not be known for several days, according to Ray Storm, Pontiac area manager.

The Michigan Public Service Commission approved the boost, but has not yet issued its formal order which will state just where the increase will be levied and how much in each exchange.

The telephone company had asked for a $12.5 million rate increase which would have raised the firm's earnings to seven per cent return on investment, but two of the three commissioners decided the lower figure was sufficient.

Chairman Otis Smith said he and Commissioner James H. Lee had settled on the approved figure.

Michigan Bell witnesses testified last December that current earnings represented a 5.7 per cent return on investment, but the company's petition argued the increase was necessary to meet rising wage, material and financing costs.

Will Ask Appeal on Courthouse

Request County Board Take Ruling on Funds to State Supreme Court

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors will be asked Monday to take their courthouse troubles to the State Supreme Court.

The Ways and Means Committee is scheduled to ask approval of an appeal to the high court of the recent legal decision which stymied immediate plans for a new building.

This decision said that almost $1,400,000 earmarked for a new courthouse was accumulated by the county without public approval and must, in effect, be returned to the taxpayers.

The money definitely cannot be spent for capital improvements such as the proposed new courthouse, said Circuit Judge Herman Dehnke, whose judgment last week came after a four-day trial in May on a suit brought by the Oakland County Taxpayers' League.

The Ways and Means' proposal is based on the hope that the Supreme Court will upset Judge Dehnke's opinion, freeing the money for immediate construction on a proposed site in the Telegraph road Service Center.

BLOCKED BY LEAGUE

The Taxpayers League had also sought to block the county's plan to sell the present downtown courthouse site and build elsewhere. Judge Dehnke, however, ruled these changes would be legal.

Supervisors hope to build the first $2.5-$3 million section of the $4.5 million building with the funds on hand and additional money from sale of county lands.

The second section would be built whenever more building funds could be accumulated.

If an appeal is made, legal advisors to the county believe it may not be heard until late this year. Although Judge Dehnke has made his final decision in the case, he has not entered a final decree on the disposition of the disputed funds.

The appeal cannot be made until this decree is completed, it was pointed out.

Begin Trial of Lawyer Accused of Hitting Officer

The trial of Pontiac attorney Milton R. Henry, accused of slugging a police officer, opened yesterday with the patrolman admitting that he "wasn't sure" he was acting within the law when he tried to impound Henry's car.

Henry, 38, of 34 Crawford St., is on trial in Municipal Court on a charge of assault and battery. He was arrested July 23 for allegedly attacking Patrolman Clarence Smith in the alley behind the Oakland County Courthouse, after Smith had ticketed his car and was about to have it towed away.

Henry's attorney and law partner, Emmett J. Traylor, contended that the patrolman's action in trying to impound Henry's auto was a violation of his constitutional rights.

Smith testified that he saw Henry's car illegally parked the morning of July 23 and noted it was on a list of autos on which traffic violations were unpaid. He said the tow truck was about to pull the car away when he was attacked by Henry, who was eventually subdued by two detectives and himself, and handcuffed.

He said he was acting under "orders" to tow Henry's car away, but didn't know if he was acting under a "court order."

Smith later said the car was being impounded under a 1938 city ordinance, which permits police to tow away a car belonging to anyone who has unsettled traffic tickets outstanding and to hold the car until the tickets are paid. Traylor contended this couldn't be done when the driver was sitting in the auto.

The trial will be resumed at 1:30 p.m. next Thursday. Henry is free on personal bond.

One-Way Traffic Slated on Union

Street to Be Northbound Between Pike, Huron Starting Sunday

Union street will be converted to a one-way northbound artery between East Pike and East Huron streets beginning Sunday, city traffic engineer T. M. Vanderstempel announced today.

Vanderstempel said the change was necessitated by an anticipated increase in traffic along East Pike between South Parke and Hill streets because of the soon-to-be-opened Public Safety building.

Converting Union to a one-way street will make it possible to retain parking facilities along the east curb of Union street and will make the east-west crossing of Union less hazardous for pupils of Central school, he said.

Traffic signals will be installed at the intersections of East Pike with South Parke and Hill Sts. as a further safety precaution.

South Parke street will be reopened to two-way traffic between East Pike and Water streets, beginning Sunday, to lessen congestion during rush hours for vehicles turning south off East Pike at Mill and Perry streets.

Cars in the future will be able to turn south on South Parke and Water streets to avoid other busy intersections.

Hometown Friends Rally Around Jimmy

DETROIT (INS) — James R. Hoffa, heir apparent to the presidency of the International Teamsters Union, has plenty of friends in his hometown despite the fact he is a major target of Senate investigators.

This was proven last night when more than 500 supporters — including most of the top political figures in the Detroit area — attended an affair in his honor at Detroit's Sheraton Cadillac Hotel.

His well-wishers included Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo and the man most likely to succeed Cobo, Council President Louis C. Miriani, plus a majority of common council incumbents.

All spoke words of praise for the midwest Teamster boss as, over in a corner of the room, ice-letters two feet high, spelling out "SUCCESS JIMMY HOFFA," slowly melted.

The most succinct words of praise may have been those of Thelma O'Dell, office manager of the Office Employes International Union. She said:

'HARD TO FIND'

"Jimmy's a little man physically but in my book he's six feet tall. A good man nowadays is hard to find."

From Washington, comes word Hoffa's forces are getting ready to take over the operation of the nation's largest union.

Labor circles report that up to now, nothing has happened which threatens the election of Hoffa as Teamster president to replace Dave Beck when the big 1,400,000-member union holds its convention in Miami, starting Sept. 30.

Moreover, there is nothing on the horizon which promises to upset Hoffa in his march to teamster czardom.

The boss of the Teamsters' central states conference has been accused before the Senate Rackets Committee of a tie-up with Johnny Dio, convicted New York labor racketeer whose latest exploit is the slugging of a photographer at the Senate hearing.

But well-informed persons in the labor movement say that anything resembling "guilt by association" will not deter the 1,500 or so delegates at the convention from electing Hoffa president by acclamation.

MUST BE DEFINITE

They say that the Senate committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) will have to nail something really spectacular on the Detroit Teamster leader to slow down the Hoffa bandwagon. They add that it will have to be definite evidence, not mere unconfirmed accusations.

All signs are that the witnesses who will be questioned about matters in which Hoffa is alleged to have been a participant will plead the Fifth Amendment — all except Hoffa, who has said he will not resort to the plea of possible self-incrimination.

Red Boss Woos East Germany

Khrushchev Tours Key Cities, Threatens West With Rocket Strength

BERLIN (AP)—An effort to win friends and influence the people of Communist-run East Germany was taken into the provinces today by Nikita Khrushchev.

The Soviet Communist party boss began a tour of key East German cities with a stop at Leipzig. A torchlight parade greeted him there last night and a rally of 100,000 persons was organized for today.

The Russian leader headed south from Berlin a few hours after a bristling speech threatening the West with possible rocket attacks.

Khrushchev was accompanied by Walter Ulbricht, Stalinist chief of East Germany's Communist Party. Western newsmen were not permitted to go along.

Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, members of the delegation that arrived Wednesday from Moscow, were off on another jaunt.

Girard to Have 24-Hour Guard

Action Follows Report He Left Camp 3 Hours, Went to Bar

CAMP WHITTINGTON, Japan (AP)—The U. S. Army today put a 24-hour-a-day guard on Specialist 3.C. William Girard, who faces a Japanese manslaughter trial later this month, after reports that he disappeared from Camp Whittington three hours Monday night.

The 21-year-old Illinois soldier was reported found by two military policemen in a bar in Mishiri, a village of clapboard buildings outside the camp gates.

Pending investigation, Army spokesmen were unable to say how Girard, center of a legal controversy over his trial, would have been able to get outside the camp.

The Army is responsible for delivering Girard to Maebashi District Court for his trial which opens Aug. 26.

Girard has been confined to the camp 40 miles north of Tokyo since February, a few days after Mrs. Naka Sakai, 46, was shot dead on an Army firing range while collecting scrap.

Girard's wife, who lives near the camp in a rented apartment, said he had never been to see her since his confinement.

Accused of Being Red Spy

Russian Pleads Innocent

NEW YORK (INS) — Rudolph Ivanovich Abel, accused of masterminding the deadliest Soviet spy ring to operate in the U.S., pleaded innocent today and was held without bail.

Abel, 55, who was returned last night from Texas was arraigned in Brooklyn Federal Court before Judge Matthew T. Abruzzo on an indictment charging he stole U.S. military and atomic secrets for Russia.

Abel, who posed as an unkempt artist and photographer, actually was a colonel in the Soviet Secret Police and allegedly acted as a master spy who headed Soviet espionage in the U.S.

He was indicted by a Brooklyn federal grand jury two days ago, and was flown to New York under heavy guard from an alien detention camp in Texas where he had been held since shortly after his arrest in June on charges of entering the country illegally.

Abel, the highest ranking Soviet citizen ever arrested in the U.S. for espionage, is accused in a three-count indictment of plotting to steal top nuclear and military secrets, and enlisting U.S. servicemen as agents.

The government seeks an early trial for the accused man.

FBI agents meantime are reported searching for a "man with a cane" and a woman known only as "Gladys" as possible key agents in the case. Clues to the two were found in his Brooklyn apartment.

Abel was guarded by U.S. marshals when he stepped from the plane last night at Newark airport.

Rayburn Favors New Rights Bill

Could Limit Jury Trial Section to Voting Cases, House Speaker Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Rayburn said today he favors House approval of the Senate-passed civil rights bill including the jury trial provision.

The fate of the bill in the House rests largely with the Republicans, he added.

In order for the House to consider the bill, Rayburn pointed out, the Rules Committee must give its approval and Republicans "will have to get a rule to take up the bill and concur in the Senate amendments."

There are eight Democrats and four Republicans on the Rules Committee and four of the Democrats are opposed to the bill. That means that at least three of the four Republicans would have to favor the measure to provide a majority for clearance of the bill.

Rayburn's willingness to restrict the jury trial provision to voting rights cases strengthened indications, already apparent, that a compromise might be upcoming.

Tries to Avoid Witness Stand

Actor Tab Hunter Files Motion Against Call in Confidential Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The criminal libel trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines and their alleged Hollywood agents resumes today, with actor Tab Hunter trying to avoid being called as a witness.

Hunter, once the subject of a Confidential article, has filed a motion to quash his summons as a defense witness.

Before the prosecution calls more witnesses, Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker will hear arguments on the motion.

Gilbert D. Seton, attorney for Hunter, contends that the article about Hunter is not among those on which the state is basing its charges of conspiracy to publish libelous and obscene matter. Therefore, Seton says, anything Hunter might testify would be immaterial.

Hunter is among more than 100 movie celebrities subpoenaed by the defense.

In addition to Confidential and Whisper, defendants are Publisher's Distributing Corp., and Hollywood Research, Inc., and its operators, Fred and Marjorie Meade.

Issues Warning About Scooters

Age Determines Type of License to Be Given Motor Vehicle Drivers

A warning to drivers of motor scooters and their parents was issued today by Capt. Joseph Koren of the police department.

Capt. Koren pointed out that youngsters between the ages of 14 and 16 must have a special drivers license to operate the scooters or motor-driven bicycles.

Those 16 and older can obtain a regular drivers license if they qualify, he added.

He also stressed that the state law prohibits use of scooters with higher than five horsepower, except by those with a regular drivers license.

Capt. Koren said his attention has been called to certain dealers who are selling scooters with motors of up to 12 horsepower which have been modified by baffle plates to reduce power output.

"We have no way of testing the horsepower of such modified motors," he said, "and consider them in violation of the statute."

To secure a special license, a youngster need only satisfy the examining officer he is qualified. No road test is required. The license costs $3 originally and expires in three years.

Wants Action on 12-Town Drain

Royal Oak Gives Group 3 Months for Settling Storm Relief Issue

Over 50 representatives from the Twelve-Town storm relief drain communities met last night and Royal Oak gave notice that it wants action on the long-delayed project within three months.

If no definite steps have been taken to break the present stalemate by Nov. 15, Royal Oak Mayor Howard K. Kelley said, "we will have no other alternative but to seek other means of alleviating our flood problems."

Kelley's statement, he said, was authorized by the Royal Oak City Commission. He pointed out that Royal Oak is the largest community involved in the giant venture and would bear one-third of the total $39 million cost.

Kelly argued that during the five years in which the drain project has been planned, basement flooding has cost many Royal Oakers as much money in damages as a new storm drain would have cost.

His impatience was matched by that of Ferndale Mayor Bruce D. Garbutt, who called the meeting. Garbutt was selected to head a special committee to take action on snags holding up the project.

LISTS MEETINGS

He said his committee of representatives from each of the 13 communities involved in the project would meet first Aug. 16 and later with county drain and legal officials.

"We want to decide once and for all whether the drain is possible," Garbutt said. "If it isn't, the communities involved will have to go it alone in relieving flooding."

Biggest snag holding up the drain is a law suit brought by two participating communities, Southfield Township and Troy, which claim their apportioned shares of the cost are too high.

Trying of the suit has been held up until the Supreme Court reaches a decision in a similar case. Garbutt, however, believes the local suit should be tried in court anyway, and a settlement reached regardless of the other case.

Athletic Club Construction Plans Now Being Made

BIRMINGHAM — Birmingham will move to Bloomfield Township for the construction of its Birmingham Athletic Club.

With a limit of 300, its charter membership is approximately 35. Planning Committee is headed by Frederick C. Matthaei Jr., with John C. Emery Jr., vice-president. They began organizational planning over a year ago.

A two level contemporary structure housing a lounging-dining area, kitchen, squash courts, and offices would be located on the Maple road side of the property at Maple and Oakhill drive.

Total expenditure is estimated at $275,000. Debenture bonds will be offered for sale to members at an average of $700 each. Additional financing will be through membership fees both annual and monthly and a $50,000 loan.

A manager, squash and tennis professional, chef and other kitchen personnel plus a maintenance man will be hired on a full time basis. Life guards will be employed for summer months.

The club will include space for a future building, swimming pool and tennis courts. Working on the plans with Matthaei and Emery have been W. H. Baldwin, R. L. Burton, H. M. Denyes, P. G. Finn, H. G. Keating Jr., and C. E. Wilson Jr.

No date for construction or occupancy has yet been given.

Edwin F. Kirbert, Birmingham "Y" executive secretary will speak at the Troy Presbyterian Church Monday while the Rev. John Stone is vacationing. Kirbert's subject "The Brotherhood of Man" will deal with the controversial civil rights bill.

John S. French has been named vice-president of Southeastern Michigan Junior Achievement. Another Birmingham man, James M. Roche, has been named to the JA Board of Directors. French is with the Ford Motor Co. while Roche is general manager of the Cadillac Division and a vice-president of General Motors.

The annual family picnic of the Birmingham Hi-Twelve, will be held at Springdale Park on Tuesday, August 20 at 5:30 p.m. Families of members have been invited to take part in the event which will include games and prizes for the children.

Ice-cream, pop, milk and coffee will be furnished by the Club.

Regular meetings of the group will resume at the Community House on September 9.

Boy, 12, Rides Bicycle Into Path of Automobile

Gary T. Freeman, 12, of 1448 Lorraine Dr., was not hit by a car backing from a driveway, as reported yesterday. The Oakland County Sheriff's Department today said it was the boy who was riding down the driveway.

Congress Given Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was presented today with a $3,366,000,000 foreign aid program embodying a first step toward a long-range program of economic help abroad.

President Eisenhower has urged such a program.

Senate and House conferees agreed last night on a compromise foreign aid bill, slashed $498,410,000 below the $3,864,410,000 Eisenhower asked for military, economic and technical assistance abroad. In doing so, the conferees just about split the 500½ million difference between Senate and House totals.

The totals may be cut even deeper in a later appropriations bill to finance the spending for which the foreign aid bill sets ceilings. But the compromise measure represents a partial congressional acceptance of the long-range concept.

House conferees agreed to two-year authority for Eisenhower's proposed fund for making loans to underdeveloped countries for long-range economic development. The original House bill had limited the proposed fund to one year.

Senate conferees, in turn, agreed to drop their insistence on a three-year fund, and to accept the House version on how the fund should be operated.

Federal Pay Hike Approval Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—House leaders predicted passage today of a bill to raise the pay of about a million federal white collar workers. It's a raise President Eisenhower doesn't want at this time.

The bill, calling for an 11 per cent annual pay boost, would cost some 53 million dollars.

If it has time today, the House also is expected to pass a bill to raise postal rates an estimated t27½ million dollars. This is a raise Eisenhower does want.

This would involve a penny increase in regular and air mail letter stamps and in the post card rate. It also would include raises in second and third class mail rates.

The pay raise would affect civil service workers and employes in the legislative and judicial branches of the government.

The House already has passed a measure to grant a $546 a year raise — about 12½ per cent — to some 518,000 postal workers.

Eisenhower has said any pay raises adding to inflationary pressures should be avoided.

Protect Ancient Trees

BUDAPEST (AP) — Three giant oaks, believed to be remnants of the great forests that once covered the Hungarian Plain, have been taken under official protection near Gyulavari (on the Romanian border) of Southeast Hungary.

The trees are estimated to be 500 to 600 years old and their shade covers over an acre of land.

The diamond rattler is the U.S. most deadly snake.

Four Tons of Pearls Will Be Destroyed

TOKYO (AP)—More than four tons of Japanese pearls valued at perhaps $120,000 will be destroyed this fall in a desperate bid to stem plummeting world prices.

The Japan Pearl Export Assn. said 4,135 pounds of pearls originally intended for export and valued at about 25 million yen ($69,450) would be burned Oct. 1. At the same time, pearl cultivators at Shima, 200 miles south of Tokyo, announced 4,000 pounds of cultured pearls would be dumped into the sea.

An association spokesman said the world market price has dropped from an average of $19.80 an ounce in May 1956 to less than $13.

Champagne in Lore of Saints, Miracles

RHEIMS, France — Champagne is involved in the lore of saints and miracles in the Rheims area. Champagne which St. Remy, archbishop of Rheims, reportedly caused to spring from an empty barrel is a miracle that is still celebrated.

And the story of champagne is sculptured into the 13th Century Rheims Cathedral and woven into the tapestries decorating its basilica.

Unusual Indian Name Added to Navy Roster

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—When 18-year-old Carl Two Horses arrived at the naval training center as a recruit from Cannon Ball, N. D., he said his Sioux Indian family name went back to the time his great, great grandfather acquired two horses.

Two Horses followed other Indian recruits with such names as Marcus Two Hatchett, Fred Big Big Horse, Leroy Everybodytalksabout and Sam Tall Bear.

Request Very Clear, but Check Not Signed

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The Rev. Robert W. Sonen, pastor of All Souls Unitarian Church, reported a $20 check turned up in the collection plate.

A notation in the lower left corner instructed the church credit $5 to the operating fund, $5 to the building fund, $5 to the United Unitarian appeal, and $5 to the Unitarian Service Committee.

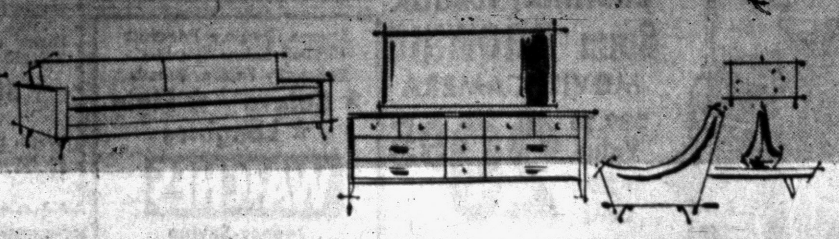

"Everything was just fine," said the pastor, "except that the check was not signed."

Who Can Resist Chance to Win $2,000 in Pot?

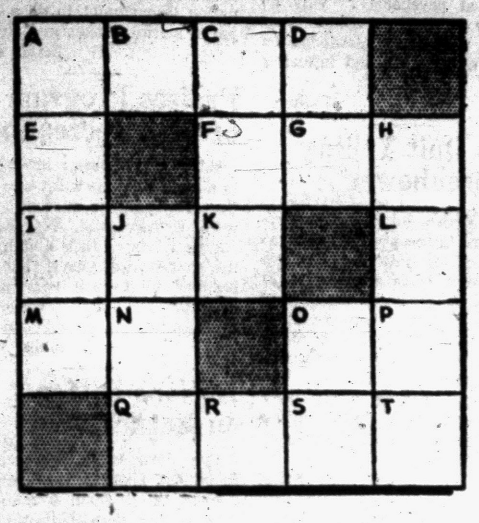

By this time there should be little need for urging anyone to try his luck at Pot-O-Gold. With $2,000 waiting to be hauled away by some crafty contestant, anyone with a minute to spare will surely want to give it a go. Good luck.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

Many Leave Sorrowfully

Servicemen Quit Japan

YOKOHAMA (INS) — More than 1,000 U. S. servicemen sailed from Yokohama today marking the beginning of the end of 12 years of American occupation in Japan.

Many of the servicemen were from the First Cavalry Division and the Ninth Marine Regiment — two ground troop units which have begun moving out of Japan by a process of "attrition."

"Attrition" means that servicemen are sent home without being replaced.

Approximately 30,000 U. S. troops — including soldiers and Marines — are scheduled to be withdrawn from Japan by next Christmas.

The servicemen left today aboard the huge transport General Anderson which is scheduled to arrive in San Francisco Aug. 19.

The ship sailed with a total of 1,512 personnel, including sailors, airmen, dependents and other personnel from the Far East.

A soldier from Charleston, W. Va., specialist 3rd Class Harry Fridley, 22, summed up the feelings of most of the men interviewed at dockside:

"I'm glad to go home but I don't like to leave Japan."

The GI's were for the most part grim-lipped as they stepped up on the boarding ramp after tours of duty ranging from 14 months to five years. A sizable number appeared to be painfully severing surprisingly strong ties with Japan.

Many said they were leaving behind Japanese girl-friends and impressions of the Japanese as "wonderful, courteous people."

Scout Is Killed in Oman Battle

Resistance Being Met 5 Miles From Rebels' Stronghold

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP)—A British spokesman said a Trucial Oman scout was killed today in fighting for the village of Firq in the rebellious Sultanate of Muscat and Oman. Firq is about five miles from the rebel stronghold of Nizwa.

The only other casualties reported were five British troops who were evacuated by air to Bahrain suffering from heat exhaustion.

The spokesman said opposition is being encountered at Firq, but strong British-led fighting patrols are pushing forward to determine the enemy's strength and location.

Royal Air Force Venom jet fighters patrolling the operational area, dislodged a band of rebels from a house between Rada and Firq.

Sultan said bin Taimur's regular Oman infantry, supported by 1,000 loyal tribesmen, advanced through the Wadi Samail toward Nizwa, accepting the surrender of Izki on their way, the spokesman added.

The capture of Izki would appear to complete the encirclement of the rebels in Nizwa, for behind them in the Jebel Akhdar Mountains are tribes which have declared allegiance to the Sultan.

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said today Lt. Gen. Sir John Glubb is leading the military operation aimed at putting down the rebellion against the pro-British Sultan of Muscat and Oman. The general—at his home in the Sussex town of Mayfield—laughed out loud when told of the broadcast.

"Me leading an expedition in Oman?" Glubb said by telephone. "Why how utterly ridiculous!"

Glubb, an almost legendary British commander in the Arab world for more than 30 years, was fired from the command of Jordan's British-created Arab Legion early in 1956. He since has been living in retirement near London.

ALBION (AP)—The City Bank and Trust Co. of Albion says about 1,500 people have enrolled in its free key registration service. The bank keeps a file of the owners and when lost keys are turned in, the bank notifies the owners. In a year 30 sets of keys were lost and returned.

Check Truck License Law

Agencies Believe State Losing Revenue From Outstate Vehicles

LANSING (AP) — Three state agencies groped today for an explanation of a shift in truck-trailer licensing practices that apparently is depriving Michigan of substantial revenues.

Increasingly, Michigan trucking firms are hauling loads into the state on trailers licensed in other states, mainly Illinois.

After a meeting yesterday of which administers reciprocal the State Reciprocity Board, vehicle licensing agreements with other states, Secretary of State James M. Hare disclosed 250 instances of split licensing had been discovered in a 36-hour test check.

Department of state investigators made the check on U. S. 12 near New Buffalo on July 28-29. About 40 trucking firms were involved.

Hare said his department, the Public Service Commission and the attorney general's office were trying to assemble the facts and to determine if there was any violation of Michigan vehicle licensing law.

One official said one important factor in where a trailer had to be licensed was its place of "domicile."

He speculated that Michigan firms hauling trailers with Illinois tags would claim the trailers were "domiciled," or based, at terminals in Chicago.

This source said that a 10,000 pound trailer that would require a $195 annual license fee in Michigan could be licensed in Illinois for $10.

A trailer registered in Michigan and certified by the Public Service Commission for operation in the state would further be assessed on a mileage basis.

New Hampshire Budget Depends on 'Sin' Money

HANCOCK, N. H. (AP)—A state senator said today the success of a new record state budget depends on the amount of revenue New Hampshire gets from "sin taxes" on liquor, tobacco and gambling.

Sen. Robert English (R-Hancock) said a newly enacted 38 million dollar state budget "will work out all right if you, your friends and our summer and winter visitors keep right on having a 'nip' before dinner, smoke plenty of cigarettes and drop in on race meetings at Salem."

Revenue from these three sources bring in more than 12 million dollars a year, more than half the state's general fund revenue.

World's Biggest Fan?

SUDBURY, Ontario—One of the world's largest fans is the 198-inch-diameter, vertical, propeller-driven one that delivers fresh air to part of a nickel mine near here. It is driven by a 650-horsepower motor. The propeller's 12 adjustable-pitch blades can be set to move up to 750,000 cubic feet of air a minute.

"HOW I LOST 15 POUNDS IN THREE WEEKS the CHEWING GUM WAY!"

by LAWRENCE TIBBETT
Star of the Broadway Musical Hit "FANNY"

I would never have thought it possible to lose so much weight...the chewing gum way. It may sound hard to believe, but I lost 15 pounds in 3 weeks by chewing FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71.

You see, I was asked to take the leading role in the Broadway Hit, "Fanny". But I discovered I would have to slim down before going on stage. I really had a problem! Like everyone else who has been overweight, I was anxious to lose, but I had all sorts of prejudices about how to go about it. I had ideas about reducing pills and special diets with calorie counting, that had to be watched all the time, and, personally, I don't work well when I feel hungry. I like to exercise. But when you are busy rehearsing for a play, there is no time for stringent exercise.

Then I heard of FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71... a pleasant tasting special chewing gum for reducing. It sounded impossible, reducing this chewing gum way. Still, I had to lose weight, and quickly...so I gave it a try. Surprisingly, it worked! And, fast, at that! Inside of three weeks, I had lost fifteen pounds! And the amazing part about it... I was not aware I was losing weight. I lived my normal everyday life.

This is how I went about it: Just before each meal, I would chew two pieces of FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71. When I sat down at the table a few minutes later, I had the feeling my appetite was satisfied. I enjoyed my favorite foods as much as ever... but I did not have the urge to overeat, which I usually had in the past. FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71 had curbed my appetite, yet allowed me to feel satisfied. And whenever I became hungry between meals... I would pop a piece of Formula 71 gum in my mouth to discourage snacking.

FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71 has done such a wonderful job in helping me to reduce, that I have recommended it to many friends. Believe me, FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71 is the answer for anyone and everyone with an overweight problem. I know that once you have tried it, you too, will be as pleased with its results as I am.

Administration to Ask Return of Nazi Assets

Under the Paris agreement of January 1946, the United States and 17 Allied nations, excluding Russia and Poland, agreed to retain German and Japanese war assets in lieu of reparations.

The War Claims Act of 1948 directed that these properties be sold. The proceeds were to be used to settle claims of American citizens against our former enemies. So far $225 million has been paid out leaving $541 million in the fund.

The State Department with Administration backing, now proposes to turn this over to former enemy governments for distribution to former owners of the seized assets. Most of the money would go to Germany,—$105 million of it to General Analine and Film Corp. a subsidiary of I.G. Farben.

There are about 18,000 American claims still unsettled. To help out, the State Department proposes to use $100 million in postwar economic aid repayments to meet these claims. Thus the total cost to the taxpayers of this country would be $541 million plus $100 million diverted from foreign aid payments, a grand total of $641 million.

The West German Republic agreed in the Bonn Convention of 1952 that seized assets should not be returned and that the West German Government would compensate its own nationals for their losses. This has not been done.

If the bill to return these assets is passed, it not only would create difficulties for our Allies, it would reverse policies agreed on by both branches of the Government. On the other hand it might be politically helpful to Chancellor ADENAUER in the September elections.

The Treasury, the Department of Justice and the Budget Bureau as well as some members of Congress are strongly opposed to this giveaway. There doesn't appear to be any justification for it.

Too Far Too Fast

In 1949 the United Nations authorized Italy, former ruler of Somaliland as a colony, to prepare that area for independence.

At a recent meeting of the U.N. Trusteeship Council, Italy announced that Somaliland would have the "essential basic institutions of a sovereign state by 1960." Some skeptical council members asked for particulars as to how the former colony would get along after independence.

Then the truth came out. A special survey mission of the International Bank after visiting Somaliland reported that "exceptional assistance" might be needed for as long as 20 years and that loans could not be justified.

Somaliland is one of the poorest areas of the world. On the Indian Ocean in northeast Africa it is arid and hot and only 10 per cent of the land can be cultivated. Its 1.2 million people, of whom 80 per cent are nomads, raise sheep, camels and goats and their agriculture is primitive.

Council members wondered who would provide the "exceptional assistance." Someone suggested that it was Italy's responsibility but the Italian delegate said it was U.N.'s job to see that its own protege didn't go bankrupt. He was told that the U.N. had no authority to give direct assistance to national governments.

It was then proposed, naturally, that the United States in its concern with fighting Communism and spreading democracy, provide funds to keep Somaliland going after 1960. The fact of the matter is that this backward desert country is not ready for the independence and membership in U.N. it will get in 1961.

Growth of nationalist sentiment is a proper development in its place. But the great danger with today's enchantment with nationalism lies in "people wanting to run before they can walk."

IT IS becoming increasingly clear that the world is too big a problem for man to solve.

Our Choice in Bald Head Competition Hasn't Much

Pessimist: Who knows the times are not as bad as they seem to him—he knows they couldn't be.

After "combing" over the numerous entries received in my contest for an Oakland County nomination in the national contest for the

with considerable pride and anticipation that the honor will come here, I have selected

Norman O. Ryden

of 7375 Pontiac Lake Road. He is with

Pontiac Motor Engineering,

and active in civic matters both at his place of employment and in his home community.

In addition to having nothing on his head that would cloud, befog, hamper or hinder his free thinking, he also is a good sport and not afraid of the bald facts in any discussion.

If any other other entries may have an idea that they are more eligible, their names will not be considered unless their entry is accompanied by an affidavit that that they comb their head with a wash rag.

Wondering if ragweed and golden rod are the hay fever criminals that their reputation warrants, of Birmingham reports that he suffers as much here as when both were growing "on every corner," but now are quite rare. He also says that the Northern Michigan town where he goes for relief every year (and gets it) has "whole fields" of both.

Randall Melton

Oakland County deer are not suffering from race suicide. This column has received several reports of tiny fawns in our woodlots, and who lives near the big woods on Waldon Road in Orion Township, is making pets out of a couple less than two feet tall, who look like twins.

Yes, 'twas considered to be a backward spring, but who lives out Pontiac Trail, already has made the usual third cutting of his alfalfa hay, and expects to make one or two more.

Harvest peaches that weigh one-half pound each are being picked from a tree in the yard of

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hinchman of 201 Whittemore St.; ninetieth birthday.

David Lawrence Says:

Civil Rights Pressure Put on GOP

WASHINGTON — The politics of the "civil rights" controversy is a fascinating struggle behind the scenes.

LAWRENCE

The Republicans and Northern "liberals" of the Democratic Party each thought they had a perfect issue in the coming campaigns — an issue which, while causing the Democrats not to lose too much of their strength, would at the same time aid the Republicans in increasing their percentage of the Negro vote. The Democrats have about 60 per cent now and the Republicans about 40 per cent.

But something happened to the scheme. The Southern Democrats—most of them experienced legislators — led by the skillful Senator Russell of Georgia, managed to raise a fuss about Federal coercion through the possible use of the military forces as provided under old statutes.

This scared lots of people even in the North. The famous part III was therefore eliminated.

Then the Southerners started a big debate about the need for jury trials. This, too, stirred the country. Finally, some of the "liberals" inside the Democratic Party did some fancy drafting of legislative language on jury trials and got behind an amendment offered by Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Democrat.

This seemed to be an important concession to the Southern viewpoint. It did do away with the possibility of a prolonged filibuster by the Southerners.

HARMONIOUS DEMOCRATS

It also stimulated a lot of talk about how harmonious the Democratic Party had suddenly become and how the Democrats were finally putting through some "civil rights" legislation after many decades of neglect by both parties.

Meanwhile, the White House strategists, thinking they had a chance to get into the play, came out with the statement that the President was "bitterly disappointed," and hints of a veto were leaked out by Republican leaders in the House.

The moment the Democrats saw this, they changed their tactics. Even so ardent an advocate of "civil rights" as Representative Emanuel Celler, Democrat, of New York, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and an author of the House bill on "civil rights," said the Senate version wasn't so bad after all.

This was the tip-off that the Democratic Party leaders felt they had the Republicans in a hole. For it could now be demonstrated that the Democrats from both the North and the South wanted the legislation to pass.

Under these circumstances, the Democrats lined up almost solidly behind a move to get action on the bill promptly, to make the conference report palatable to the South so as at least to avoid a filibuster, and to send the measure to the White House and dare the President to veto it.

LET THE PEOPLE KNOW

For, if Eisenhower were to kill the bill, the Democrats would be shouting from the housetops that Ike was responsible and that the Republicans were blocking the only constructive measure on voting rights for Negroes to come out of Congress in many decades.

Then the Republicans had to change their tactics and make an effort at least to get the bill changed in the joint conference committee between the House and Senate, where differences are ironed out.

It is a safe bet now that, when the conference report comes out and the two Houses adopt it, the White House will have a change of heart, will forget about a veto and will approve the measure and make it law.

But while the conference committee meetings are going on, the President's lieutenants on Capitol Hill will be threatening a veto and will use every pressure they can to get the bill modified to meet the Administration's wishes. If, on the other hand, any substantial changes are made, a Senate filibuster and the killing of all legislation can be the result.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Tetany Also Can Occur Among Mature Adults

The late pediatrician, L. Emmett Holt, was aware that tetany (not to be confused with tetanus or lockjaw) occurs in mature adults. If so, he refrained from saying so, perhaps lest he be accused of straying outside of his field.

DR. BRADY

He did mention one case where a child aged 7 years, on the night following operation for enlarged tonsils, "cried out with pain in her hands and feet which were found in the typical position of tetany.

"In four or five hours the spasm completely disappeared and did not return. This was the only symptom of tetany that she ever manifested. Carpopedal" (wrist and foot) "spasm may come on spontaneously, but it is more frequently found in the course of some febrile" (feverish) "illness."

The old time authorities, each copying what his predecessors had said, made a point of the characteristic spasm of the wrist and hand — thumb and fingers flexed at knuckle joints but straight at other joints, thumb drawn across palm toward little finger, wrist flexed and straightening it out causes pain; feet strongly extended, sole arched, back or top of foot prominent, standing out like a cushion.

Young children with tetany may have breath-holding spells, brought on by temper or fright, during which the face becomes flushed, then livid, and in twenty or thirty seconds complete relaxation with momentary loss of consciousness.

HAVE CONVULSIONS

Some infants with tetany have convulsions from slight causes, and older children have what doctors call spasmophilia — which means a tendency to spasm. These children generally have croup in early childhood and asthma in their early teens.

The cause of tetany is insufficient daily intake of calcium and vitamin D. The best way to prevent any and all manifestations of tetany is to make sure the infant, child or adult gets an adequate daily ration of vitamin D (sunshine vitamin) and calcium (milk, cheese, peas, beans, nuts, peanuts, greens) every day.

In reference to testimonials I have often said one swallow maketh not summer, but in reference to adult tetany I have received hundreds of letters from persons of mature age who have obtained relief from painful nocturnal leg (or arm) cramps by simply supplementing their regular diet with calcium and vitamin D as directed in the pamphlet on Adult Tetany, for which send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

City Residents Complain About Overgrown Weeds

I'm tired of reading threats by the City and praises from citizens on the weed control problem. I live in a new section. As I look up the street, the unsold homes are weed covered. Why doesn't the City force builders to cut them?

Notions Differ on Barber Pole

I've done some research and found out about barber poles. In ancient times when a man went to a barber shop there would be much bloodshed. This was because barbers hadn't found a safe way to shave. The red stripes stood for the blood and the white was for the bandages. Although barbers now have found a safe way to shave, they still use this pole as a sign of their profession.

In olden times barbers were also surgeons and practiced the art of blood-letting. The red stripe on the pole represents blood, the white stripe is for the bandage placed around the arm and the gilt knob at the top symbolizes the brass basin commonly employed to catch the blood.

Requests Advice on Mown Grass

Science makes us do mental tailspins. All my life I've let the cuttings fall on the grass from my lawnmower. Now I read that they should be collected, in spite of the enrichment that they provide for the soil, because harmful fungi grows on the material while it rots.

Personally, I'm not sure. Who will advise me?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Tells How to Stop Smoking Habit

The average cigarette smoker burns up $100 each year on the ends of his cigarets, so if you wish to break this bad habit, study the psychological rules below. They apply to the liquor habit, too. It is folly to ask God to grant you a long life, and then deliberately try to sabotage your own prayers. Be consistent.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-359: Harold M., aged 32, is a very energetic, high strung salesman.

"Dr. Crane, I am a cigarette fiend," he confessed, ruefully.

"All my life I have been of a very nervous temperament. And I never do anything halfway.

"So when I started smoking during college, I became a chain smoker. And now my family physician tells me I must cut it out or I will probably drop over with a heart attack.

"My blood pressure is also 188-92, although my weight is only 160, and I am six feet tall. I am fairly skinny, so my high blood pressure is not due to obesity.

"When I walk fast, especially in the winter and against a strong wind, I get a pain in the region of my breastbone.

"So I am sure my doctor is correct about tobacco. But I've tried to quit cigarettes three times the past few years and I never could make the grade.

"Can you psychologists offer any shortcuts for getting free from the nicotine habit?"

BREAK BAD HABITS

Yes, one of our first rules is to break off the bad habit entirely, instead of trying to taper off.

And work up your resolution by making a public vow before friends or relatives, so you can't very well back up.

The tobacco habit seems to be chiefly a matter of "muscle hunger" for the old, familiar pattern of waving your hand and arm around in the act of smoking.

The nicotine hunger seems of trivial effect. For during the war, a secret experiment was conducted on a group of cigarette smokers. They didn't know they were thus being used as experimental "guinea pigs."

But their family and co-workers were informed of the test and asked to listen carefully for any evidence that might show the smokers now enjoyed their cigarettes less than formerly.

For what the smokers didn't realize, was that the nicotine had almost entirely been removed from their tobacco. It had been lowered from 100 per cent to about 2 per cent, which was about as low as it was feasible to reduce it.

And of this large group of smokers, only two made any comment at all and they lumped tobacco with other ersatz products during the war, saying manufactured goods were not up to pre-war levels.

But even these two smokers showed no reduction in the number of cigarettes they smoked nor did they seem to enjoy their smoking any less.

So the tobacco habit is largely a muscular pattern that has been utilized to relieve pent up nervous tension.

QUIT TOBACCO

If you wish to stop your cigarettes, do so NOW! Don't even wait until you use up the rest of the fags in the package. Throw them away, AT ONCE!

But your arm and hand will soon grow restless and crave to be put through the old pattern, so carry candy coated gum in the same pocket.

Then, when you feel an urge to reach for the tobacco, reach for the gum. Shake out a piece, and place it in your mouth. Chew it vigorously. Then spit it out or swallow it.

And as soon as you are restless again, repeat the process. Also, carry a wadded up paper napkin in that pocket so you can hold it in your hand and keep squeezing it to drain off muscular tension.

Or carry some rubber bands and tinker with them with that same hand that used to hold the cigarettes. For the more you can employ that hand, the less you will miss your cigarettes.

For further advice on "How to Break the Tobacco & Alcohol Habits," send for the booklet of that name, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

This 20 cents can save you $100 per year and possibly add 5 to 10 years to your life span.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Check Puzzle Answers Here

The following are correct answers and explanations for the Pot-O-Gold puzzle which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

A. (2) WHILE. The clue lies in "casualness, when a boy drops in." Neither the boy nor the girl would be suitably dressed for a Whirl, a round of social activity. Going out for a short time — a WHILE — as to the movies, or out for a soda, is more like it.

B. (3) BEDDING. Bending is hard only if one has stiff or aching joints. BEDDING, however, even for a young wife, is heavy; it requires strong arms to turn a mattress and handle heavy covers.

C. (5) EERIE. Though darkness closes in Early in winter up north, it's the EERIE quality of having it dark in mid-afternoon that strikes an American visitor in Scandinavia. Early is not favored also because in the Arctic Circle area, darkness lasts for three months.

D. (8) WORSHIP. Sunday WORSHIP would include services for all three faiths among the sailors. They would be held ON the Warship.

E. (10) CONNIVE. Gangs of racketeers plot together to fleece their victims. They do not always Contrive or manage to do it.

F. (12) BALANCE. In elaborate draperies, the Valance, or top overhang, is a set piece, tacked to a board, or tailored to measure. It is merely a matter of putting it in place. But the folds of the hanging draperies have to be carefully arranged to achieve BALANCE between one side of the windows and the other.

G. (13) MYSTICAL. MYSTICAL attainments have a spiritual quality which can make for a great man, such as Mahatma Gandhi. The great number of men and women who lived such saintly lives that they were canonized generations later is in keeping with the clue word "immortality." Mythical attainments may be fabulous in the sense of immense, or great, but they do not stir emotions so much as the acts of a saintly person.

H. (16) WHISKERS. Clearly spoken, Whispers can be heard at a surprising distance, but WHISKERS have a tendency to muffle and blur the sound of a man's voice.

I. (17) SPLIT. If a fabric is old, rough handling by children will pull it apart. A slit is a cut, requiring a knife or shears, etc., and nothing in the clue suggests that the children were engaged in that kind of a romp!

J. (19) ARBOR. Foliage - covered lattice would in effect be a real windbreak. A HARBOR is a bay or cove where one would be protected from heavy seas, but if the surrounding land is flat, there is no protection against wind.

K. (21) INDUCTS. Naturally a young man who has other interests may take it hard when he is drafted into the army. Only a grand jury Indicts someone, accused of a criminal offense, so the word is unsuitable in connection with army charges.

L. (24) BAUBLE. Babies are usually attracted by some little trinket that clothes the eye; a Babel would tend to make Baby more nervous and plaintive than ever. Even babies dislike loud, discordant noises.

M. (26) COMFORTS. Friends of the bereaved invariably ask, "How is he taking it?" meaning how is he bearing up under his grief. How he Comforts himself is less apt; he probably is unable to console himself at all.

N. (27) TEPID. If a lecturer's speech is received in a lukewarm manner, it would certainly be disturbing. The audience would hardly be Torpid, sluggish or inactive, in disapproval of his speech. More probably, the audience would be restless and fidgety.

O. (29) SNEEZED. Since a mink coat is the dream of most women, many of them feel that even a second-hand one is not to be SNEEZED at—treated with scorn, or dismissed lightly. Sneered at implies an expression of scorn, rather than scornful treatment.

P. (31) KNAVERY. Villainy is usually the source of suspense in a movie of historical romance, since outwitting the villain or subduing him with the hero's Bravery is the crux of the story. Without KNAVERY, bravery is unnecessary.

Q. (34) GENERATION. Part of the pattern of change in children's views about parents of their GENERATION is whether there should be Veneration (awesome respect) or not. In some periods, strict discipline and unquestioned obedience were called for; now it's companionship and togetherness.

R. (36) POSITION. A protesting group picketing the White House wants the President to know how they stand on a public issue. Frequently there is no formal Petition, or written request, at all.

S. (37) CHEERING. The sight of the sun, after a rainy spell, is certainly CHEERING. It's usually the winds that have brought the Clearing weather, carrying the stormy front elsewhere.

T. (40) SAVING. An impulsive man is given to Saying whatever pops into his head, without thought. For the same reason, hes' likely to spend money on a whim, so that he is not SAVING as much as he'd like to.

Trapped Skunk Freed From Dry Fish Pond

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Angelo Stoulis found a skunk in the dry bottom of his fish pond in nearby Haverford Township.

Police said it was a smelly case but out of their line. The SPCA said dogs wouldn't ride in their wagon any more if they hauled the skunk in. The game warden said it was always open season on skunks.

Finally Stoulis got a board and nailed 11 slats across it. He theorized the skunk would hike out when he got the chance. The skunk took him up on the idea.

Japan-China Trade 'Economic Necessity'

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese Foreign Minister Aiichiro Fujiyama said today Japan is seeking to expand trade with Communist China as a matter of "economic necessity."

"Our government is planning to take the needed measures in this respect,"

He said Japan will not relax its ban on the export of strategic commodities to the Chinese mainland and added:

"I hope there will be no misunderstanding on the part of Americans regarding our trade policy toward Communist China."

Pals Boosting GOP Leaders

Colleagues Laud Nixon and Knowland; May Aid Presidential Chances

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) got a boost from some Republican colleagues for any ambitions they may have for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, and Nixon received warm GOP praise for their activities in connection with Senate passage of the civil rights bill.

Sen. Curtis (R-Neb) started off an obviously planned series of testimonials for Knowland. Curtis described Knowland as an "able, distinguished, devoted and patriotic . . . leader of a group devoted to civil rights. . .

"Other great leaders have served in this body in the past, but never before has been accomplished what we have done this year," Curtis said enthusiastically.

In what sounded at times like a convention nominating speech, Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) praised Knowland's "high courage and leadership." He said Knowland's services in World War II and "as a statesman stamp him as one of the country's outstanding men."

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) praised Vice President Nixon for his part in the civil rights fight. Taking up that cue, Sens. Javits R-NY), Dirksen (R-Ill) and Potter (R-Mich) heaped praise on both Knowland and Nixon.

Javits said "we always knew where Bill Knowland stood" in the controversy over the bill.

Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif) said Knowland acted "not as a Republican, not as a partisan but as an American."

Await $8 Million for Tribal Land

Sarnia Indians Give U. S. Firm 2 Months to Pay

SARNIA, Ont. (AP) — Chippewa Indians of the Sarnia Indian Reserve gave a New York industrial firm two months last night to fulfill its promise to pay eight million dollars for 3,200 acres of tribal lands.

New England Industries, Inc., agreed last March to buy the land and convert 400 acres along the St. Clair River into an Indian Village for the tribe.

It said it planned to use the remaining 2,800 acres for new industry. It promised payment at the time "within three or four weeks." No payment has been made.

Robert Stone, a spokesman for the New York firm, told the Indians at a mass meeting last night "We haven't fallen off on the transaction and intend to continue negotiations."

He said the company had "run into difficulties" but expects to "have them resolved in a short while." He did not say what the difficulties were.

PREMIUM ON MONEY

D. B. White, real estate dealer who handled sale of the land, said one of the main obstacles in concluding the deal was the reluctance on the part of the company to pay the $400,000 premium on Canadian money. White added, however, that he expected the deal to go through.

The Indians, pressed for payment for goods they had bought on the strength of the land purchase, had circulated petitions demanding payment. A copy was sent to the Department of Indian Affairs in Ottawa.

About 450 tribe members are involved.

Chief Lloyd Williams said: "They would not treat white people in this fashion. We are not any different. We did business in good faith with New England Industries and feel that they will still keep their promise."

Girl Injured as Car Leaves Road, Hits Tree

Sharon Marie Rowland, 16, of the Pontiac Coach Trailer Park, Walton boulevard, told officers she did not know what happened when her car ran into a tree yesterday at Walton and Laural.

"I stopped for the intersection and started up again. The next thing I know I was out of control and into the tree." She was treated and released at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Renew Worn Desk With Rubber Tile

It's easy to give a smart look to junior's desk no matter how beat up it may be.

Rubber tile makes a practical covering for this heavy-work area. Spilled ink, paint and glue are easily wiped off with a damp cloth.

First step in making a new desk top is to place available rubber tiles in the desired pattern. Adapt odd tiles for this purpose. They are easy to cut into shapes needed with a rubber flooring knife.

Next, spread rubber flooring adhesive on table top to be covered and place tiles carefully. Roll with an ordinary rolling pin. Allow 24 hours to dry.

Heights Boys' Club Deeded Site for Building

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Wendell and Kenneth Crisp of Auburn Heights deeded three acres of choice land to the Boys Club here, Thursday.

For the past 18 months, the Boys Club has been located in the basement of the American Legion Hall Auburn Heights. These quarters can accommodate only 40 boys.

The donated site, which lies on the Clinton River at the foot of Cross street will enable the Club to go ahead with plans to erect a building to accommodate its more than 200 active members and 1,248 potential members.

An additional one-half acre adjoining the Crisp land was donated by Robert Mutter, also of Auburn Heights.

Douglas Fowler, president of the Club Board of Directors, in accepting the land stated, "This generous donation by the Crisp brothers is typical of the cooperation and help we have received by the people in Auburn Heights and Avon Township."

Charles Cresswell, executive director of the club said, "Now that we have the land, we are going ahead with our plans for a Club House. With the backing of men like the Crisps and Mutter, we should have our proposed building ready for occupancy in the next year."

Cresswell went on to add that "this will be possible only if the parents continue to give the cooperation they have so far displayed. This is just the first step and we still have a long way to go. I am sure that this gift of land has given an added impetus to our hopes and plans," he concluded.

In the bi-monthly board of directors meeting at the club Wednesday night, Alfred G. Wilson, Frederick C. Ziem and Frank W. Irons were unanimously named to the board. Wilson is on the national board of directors of the Boys Club of America. Sheriff Irons and Oakland County Prosecutor Ziem, together with the latter, have long taken an interest in local Boys Club affairs.

Find 3 Clues to Hit-Run Car at Troy Crash

TROY—Troy police are looking for a light colored car, possibly a 1955 Buick, which struck 15-year-old pedestrian, Terence D. Murphy, 140 Bellhaven about 9:20 last night.

The boy suffered compound fractures of the right leg and injuries to his left foot, along with face and chest lacerations.

Police said the accident occurred at Leetonia and Livernois, when the car made an attempt to pass another vehicle on the left as the second car signaled for a right hand turn. Another witness said he was forced to avoid a collision with the speeding car.

Police said they are looking for a car which has had the antenna, a spotlight and side view mirror broken off. These items were found at the scene of the crash.

July Building Permits Compared in Orion Area

ORION TOWNSHIP — Building for the month of July here chalked up exactly the same as in July '56, in regard to industrial, with one permit each year, and alterations and garages, 13 both years.

New house permits however were only 17 per cent of last year's total, due largely to the Avon Investment Co. development at Judah Lake in progress at the time. Last year 23 new home permits were issued in July, while this year only four were issued.

The elementary schools will use the same hours as last year.

Call Descendants of 'Lost City' for Reunion

Sunday is the day set for the annual reunion of the descendants of early settlers of the little lumber town of Damon.

Known to many as the "Lost City," Damon is located in Curwood's Green Timber in Ogemaw County. The reunion will take place there, in Damon Hall, which was built for the purpose of holding the gatherings.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Warner, who run a large lumber mill in the twon, have been responsible for the reunions, which last year had an attendance of 300.

The town once burned almost completely and former Union Laker Clark Davison and his brothers, Frank and Fred, are largely responsible for the rebuilding of of the town.

Robust Pioneer Largely a Myth, Professor Says

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The popular conception of the American pioneer as a hardy specimen of near physical perfection is largely a myth, a Tampa history teacher maintains.

"A formidable number of the pioneers . . . were miserable, sickly creatures," Dr. J. Ryan Beiser of the University of Tampa said.

The vigorous, broadchested men and blossoming women of novels and movies give a far from accurate picture, Beiser said.

"Frequent accidents, the effects of exposure, decaying vegetables, swamps, poor food habits, lack of sanitation and hygiene, and inadequate knowledge for prevent and cure of disease" outweighed the natural health benefits of an active outdoor life, he added.

He expressed his views as a guest columnist for the Tampa Times.

Southfield Deadline Due

14 Posts to Be Open in Change

Decide Incorporation, Charter Members for Westwood Also

By NANCE BELLEFLEUR
South Oakland Correspondent

SOUTHFIELD — Monday at 4 p.m. is the deadline for candidates to file petitions for seats on the charter commissions for the proposed city of Southfield and the new Westwood Village.

The Boundaries Committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has set Sept. 16 for the election for incorporation and the charter commissions for both areas.

Township Clerk Fannie Adams said this morning that 10 candidates had filed petitions at the Oakland County Clerk's office for the city of Southfield and four for the village of Westwood.

There will be nine positions open for Southfield and four for Westwood.

Candidates for the Southfield post are:

Township Supervisor Eugene Swem, Thomas M. Costello, Harry J. Lippman, John J. Hollywood, Samuel A. Garzia; C. Hugh Dohany, Will Oliver, Allan M. Bulloch, Robert F. Duerfel and Donald W. Hanford.

For Westwood Village the following have filed:

Edward M. Shurtleff, Chester F. Guilmet, Marvin B. Cline and Theodore J. Sura.

The new city of Southfield would cover approximately 26½ square miles in the southern section of the present Southfield Township, with a population of about 30,000.

Westwood Village would incorporate East and West Beverly Hills and Berkshire Hills Subdivisions, in the northern section of the township. This covers approximately four and a half square miles, with a population of about 8,000.

Residents of Southfield Township voted in June, 1955 to incorporate as a city. Since then, two city charters have been defeated by strong opposition from the northern section, now wishing to become Westwood Village.

Seeks to Build Road

Cottage Owner Petitions

LAKE ORION — A 15-foot easement from the William Healey cottage in University Subdivision to the road, has councilmen for this village in a quandry.

The group could condemn the stairs and part of a garage built by other residents on the easement to let Healey put a road through, or make an accessible road through the park.

The main drawback to the park road is that it would incline into Belleview street from a very high point, possibly causing a traffic hazzard in the event of rain.

In favor of this move, however, is the fact that only trees and dirt need be moved.

The matter was given to Harry Slater, Village attorney, after the council meeting, for legal advice. He suggests that Healy have a petition signed by all who are in favor of the road.

But Not in Underworld

Dio a Respectable Man to Long Island Neighbors

By IRWIN SAFCHIK
INS Writer

In John Dioguardi, or Johnny Dio, Senate investigators are meeting today a suavely handsome, well-groomed, affable family man whose business happens to be extortion and mayhem.

If, as is likely, Johnny Dio declines to answer the senators' questions on the grounds of possible self-incrimination, chances are the Fifth Amendment will be invoked with quiet courtesy. Johnny Dio has a polite way about him.

Not even the fact that he has lately been running into more than the usual amount of trouble has succeeded in erasing the smooth veneer with which Dio covers himself.

During the recent New York trial that resulted in his conviction on charges of conspiracy to sell labor peace, Dioguardi showed what a true gentleman he really is.

Part of the evidence against him was a wiretapped telephone conversation in which Dio uttered an unprintable obscenity. When court recessed, the defendant went over to two women reporters covering the trial to apologize. He was sorry, he said, for the rude language.

COMFORTABLE HOME

This was the John Dioguardia as he is known to his neighbors in the substantial Long Island community of Point Lookout, where he maintains a comfortable ranch-type home for his wife and two teen-aged children.

As further evidence of his "respectability," Dio has been married to the same woman for 20 years and sends his son and daughter to a parochial school.

"Business" acquaintances, however, know him as a ruthless operator whose ability to carry out a threat, no matter how violent, is part of the secret of his success —a success which authorities estimate has earned him as much as one million dollars a year.

Another success secret is the fact that up to a few months ago, Dio hadn't lost much time away from his job. Frequently a suspect in crimes ranging all the way up to murder, he has been inconvenienced by only two brief jail terms before his recent conviction.

One was for extortion (three years) and the other was for violation of the New York state income tax law (60 days).

Thus, it was a case of pupil surpassing the teacher. Dio's mentors in crime, Louis (Lepke) Buchalter and Jake (Gurrah) Shapiro, both died in Sing Sing.

Today's star witness before the labor rackets committee was born on Manhattan's lower East Side 43 years ago. FBI files indicate his criminal career began during prohibition.

He and his uncle, Jimmy Doyle, were accused in 1937 of shaking down truckers for $500 each a month. Dio pleaded guilty and served his time. On being released, he entered the lucrative field of labor racketeering.

"Paper" or "phantom" locals were his specialty. Control of the 125,000 Teamsters in the New York area was his goal — achieved last February through John J. O'Rourke.

Whether Johnny Dio's career is really nearing an end depends to a large extent on the ability of law-enforcement authorities to cure a disease known as "underworld lockjaw."

Gets 15 Acres Near Army Missile Site

Rancher Can Keep Home

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—Pioneer rancher John Prather has won his months-long battle with the Army.

A federal court order yesterday gave him the right to live on a 15-acre tract which contains his ranch home. But he isn't happy. He wants all 27,000 acres of his ranch back and he wants the title to it.

"I have not gone back on my promise to keep this ranch for my children," the 82-year-old rancher said. "I want this land for them when I die. I shall continue my fight to keep it from military possession."

Asst. U.S. Atty. Joseph R. McNeany said Prather still does not have title even to the 15 acres adjoining a missile range. It would be possible for the military to seek another eviction proceeding through the courts, but the Army has conceded it won't. Instead, it will harness it's missiles so Prather won't be endangered.

Edward A. Bacon, deputy assistant secretary of the Army, wrote Sen. Clinton Anderson (D-NM) the Prather ranch buildings and the 15 acres are still required to obtain maximum use of the McGregor missile range.

Bacon said the Army "will have to reduce the width of the impact area about 1¼ miles" to allow Prather to live out his days in the ranch home he built more than 50 years ago. Bacon told Anderson he hoped "that this humanitarian action . . . will rebound to the best interests of the government."

The aged cattleman offered to settle the dispute in the old Western way. He suggested to one of the three deputy marshals that they each take a gun, step back, draw and fire. None of the marshals accepted Prather's order.

Milk Price Goes Up

JACKSON (AP)—The price of milk went up one cent a quart to 23 cents in Jackson Thursday. The price to farmers for class I milk was increased 35 cents per 100 pounds (about 46 quarts) — from $4.40 to $4.75. The milk price had dropped a penny a quart in March.

The earth's atmosphere weighs an estimated five quadrillion tons.

Capt. Mervin E. Sheriff, 34, of Ashland, Ohio, was taken to a hospital at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio. A hospital spokesman said he suffered two broken vertebrae. His condition was described as satisfactory.

He was found by a ground search party in a wooded area about nine miles from the scene of the crash.

Sheriff was on a routine flight from Phelps Collins Air National Guard Base here, where the Ohio Air Guard is training. It was not known immediately what forced Sheriff to bail out.

Hal Boyle Says:

Top Broadway Role Good Weight Reducer

NEW YORK (AP)—A young fellow named Peter Palmer has a sure-fire recipe for losing weight—get a top part in a Broadway musical.

"I weighed 260 pounds as a college freshman," said Pete, who stands 6 feet 4 and plays the title role in "Li'l Abner."

"I weighed 245 pounds when I was studying music and playing tackle on the University of Illinois football team. But after playing 'Li'l Abner' some 350 times, I'm down to 215 pounds.

"My old coach, Ray Eliot, told me, 'Son, if I could have gotten you in this kind of shape, you'd have made the All-America.'"

The quick rise to fame of this big young singer, who is as likable in real life as the comic strip hero of Dogpatch he portrays, is one of those success sagas that make Broadway folk themselves believe Broadway has a heart.

After leaving the university — Pete played in the 1952 Rose Bowl contest, sang the "Star Spangled Banner" in football uniform before home games—he won a Chicago radio station's singing contest and went to California.

In 1954 he met Miss Jackie Gleason, secretary for actor Mark Stevens (but no relation to the overweight comedian), and they were married. Then Uncle Sam gave him the nod.

It was while he was singing on Ed Sullivan's all GI show in June, 1956, that the producers of "Li'l Abner" spotted him. Three weeks later, parted from the Army, he went into rehearsal.

Pete, who is only 25, remains a bit dazed at the sudden spin of fortune's wheel.

"A year ago," he remarked, "I was a Pfc, making $200 a month. We had an old station wagon and $10 in the bank. We had one kid, and another on the way."

Now Pete is in the $25,000 to $50,000 a year bracket. He has a used Cadillac and a $20,000 home in Closter, N. J., housing development. And he and Jackie have two kids—and another on the way.

Palmer buys government bonds every month and he's paying on annuities to send his kids to college.

"I want to be sure, even if I end up without a cent myself, that the kids get an education."

Pete, who doesn't smoke and drinks only an occasional beer, keeps in rigorous condition.

"I do calisthenics for 20 minutes every morning, and spend another half hour chasing Melissa, our daughter," he said. "I also play a few sports, but they're gentlemanly sports now—handball, golf and swimming.

"But I owe a lot to football. It's been a real inspiration to me. It gives you a lot of hard knocks and disappointments. But it teaches you to give and take."

Pete, who drives home from the theater each night, isn't particularly worried about the future. He figures he has another year in "Li'l Abner," hopes he may get to play the same role in the movie version, feels if he doesn't something else will come along.

"You never worry about the game two weeks from Saturday," he said. "You can only play one game at a time.

"The only thing I ever worry about is my family. Sure, we're having fun now. But I don't have any more fun than I did a year ago in the Army.

"My wife and I get along wherever we are."

'Ys' Offer Programs for Teens Year Around

This is the fourth and final article in a series on the problem of youth recreation activities and facilities in Pontiac. Today, The Press reports a summary of the teenage programs of the Pontiac Young Men's Christian Assn. and the Young Women's Christian Assn.

T. M. Slossen, general secretary of the YMCA, reports three-quarters of the local organizations 3,000 members are youths, ages 9 to 17 years.

Besides the youths that attend the variety of short courses and smaller programs offered throughout the year, there are 161 boy and 80 girl full time members, ages 13 to 17.

The Y sponsors Hi-Y clubs in Pontiac and Waterford high schools and Lincoln and Washington junior high schools. These service organizations meet during the school year.

Over-crowded membership of these school clubs led to the organization of a Phalanx Club. The difference in the two groups is that this one meets at the Y building, Slossen said.

A co-educational teen group, the "Swim and Swing Club," has 76 members and meets Friday nights throughout the year.

BASEBALL LEAGUES

Through the YMCA, Pontiac teens have gymnasium facilities and can participate in intramural and community basketball leagues.

Slossen added the pool is on a rigid schedule since, besides classes, it is used by the individual Y organizations and church groups. Each week swimming is available to girls two evenings and to boys, three evenings.

Open swimming for boys and girls can not be fitted in because of "no spots in the schedule," Slossen added.

Mrs. Dorothy Redmond, YWCA teenage director, reports this organization does not offer any summer program to teenager girls. Summers are devoted to sub-teens, ages 8 to 13, who can not be reached during the school year, she explained.

Mrs. Redmond said the YW, located in a former home, does not have adequate facilities to hold dances and athletic activities as other YW's do.

ALSO IN Y-TEENS CLUBS

Teenage girls from Pontiac, Waterford and Rochester high schools, totaling 350, of the 1,000 membership, belong to Y-Teen Clubs, a service organization.

A coed program was cut in 1955 to include only junior high schools. Mrs. Redmond believes the senior high program was eliminated because of lack of participation due to other school activities.

The present YW has table tennis, shuffleboard and snack bar. It can accommodate 100 girls for a pajama party, she added.

Fashion shows and roller skating parties have been included in the girl's recreation.

9 Bombs Exploded in Capital of Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — At least nine bombs went off in this uneasy Cuban capital last night. Five persons were injured by two explosions in small movie houses.

A Molotov cocktail, a homemade type bomb, caused a fire when thrown against a textile warehouse and injured a woman.

The army said four rebels were killed in a clash with forces of insurgent leader Fidel Castro between Peradero and Cubita on the eastern end of the island. Several other encounters with small groups of rebels in the area were reported.

A communique released last night said more than 100 persons were arrested in connection with sabotage.

Atomic Power Fight Looms

Showdown in House Near on Legislation for Public Works

WASHINGTON (AP) — A public power versus private power fight neared a showdown in the House today over a $389,145,000 Atomic Energy Commission construction bill.

The controversy centers around a provision authorizing the commission to spend 58 million dollars to build three atomic reactors at AEC installations in Idaho and Washington state, and to proceed with construction of atomic power plants for cooperative or public power groups.

Over other provisions in the bill there was little or no controversy.

The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, which wrote the bill, split over its provisions, with a group of GOP members filing a minority report assailing the bill as "public power advocacy run rampant."

Democrats backing the measure contend the 58 million dollars for reactors is necessary to provide impetus for the U.S. atomic power program. The program, they contend, is not making adequate headway and this country "could lose its leadership in the world in this field."

Neither, the Democrats claim, is the commission moving satisfactorily to carry out the program of helping cooperatives and public power companies obtain atomic power.

Under the bill, the AEC would contract for construction of the plants and sell steam for generating purposes to the cooperatives at a rate competitive with the cost of that from conventional fuels.

Thirsty Officer Finds New Taste in Drink of Water

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A policeman, after searching unsuccessfully for illegal whisky in a home, worked up a thirst.

Patrolman Charles Stitt headed for the cold water tap of a laundry tub, poured himself a glassful, raised it to his lips—and the search came to an end.

Stitt and other officers traced the "water" pipe to a buried 25-gallon drum in the back yard. The drum, they said, was about two thirds full of "white whisky."

Willie Cumbo, 33, and his wife Dolores, 28, who live in the house, were arrested on charges of possessing untaxed liquor. They said they didn't know anything about the whisky tap.

New Bookie Parlor

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)— Police say they have run into something new in bookie parlors. They raided a gasoline station and arrested three men they said were taking horse bets at a desk situated in a pit normally used for greasing automobiles.

Postpone Blast Again

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)— The explosion of an atomic device, code-named "Shasta," has been postponed for the 12th time. Unfavorable winds were blamed, the AEC said last night. The blast from a 500-foot tower was rescheduled for tomorrow morning.

Poison Ivy Catches Post Office Burglar

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Detective Edward Pushkarwicz told a Magistrate's Court yesterday how an itch led to an arrest.

Pushkarwicz caught poison ivy from vines around a suburban post office as he was investigating the theft of a pistol and $1,338 in cash and stamps.

Scratching for a solution, the detective reasoned the thief might be similarly blistered and uncomfortable. He went to the home of a suspect, and sure enough, there was a bottle of poison ivy lotion in the bedroom. Pushkarwicz arrested 23-year-old Robert A. Lightkep.

Lightkep told the court he'd caught the itch three weeks before the burglary. He was held without bail.

Junior Editors Quiz on TOADS

QUESTION: Does a toad give people warts?

ANSWER: The toad may not be very handsome, but it is harmless and a useful friend of man.

Toads live in gardens, under porches, in fields and by the roadsides, and they eat insects. Gardeners especially should welcome them.

The toad has a rough skin which looks "warty." It gives off a substance that is disagreeable to some animals and is a defense weapon for the toad, but it can not give warts to a person. If it gets into our eyes, though, it is most unpleasant.

However, the substance doesn't seem to bother the toad's worst enemies, garter snakes and water snakes, who dine on toads regularly. The toad is related to the frog, but is much clumsier.

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can find a toad in the garden. Don't molest him but watch closely for awhile and you may see him catch an insect by flicking out his long tongue.

Man Gets More Than Wisdom in His Old Age

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Owen Miller, 45, of Ann Arbor, didn't realize what would happen to him when he pleaded guilty Wednesday to uttering and publishing a forged $75 check.

Circuit Judge James R. Breakey Jr. threw the book at him.

First he gave him a $250 fine and five years probation on the forgery charge. Then the judge told him to keep out of jail he'd have to:

(1) Attend church every Sunday.

(2) Join Alcoholics Anonymous.

(3) Turn his weekly paycheck over to the adult probation department.

(4) Support his estranged wife and children in Ohio.

(5) Give up his "occupation as God's gift to women."

Miller's record began in 1934 when he was sentenced for stealing a car. Judge Breakey said he'd give Miller a four to six year term in Southern Michigan Prison if he sentenced him again.

"You haven't been in as much trouble in the last five years as you were in the five years before that," the judge told Miller. "Maybe you're getting a little wisdom in your old age."

There are now 53,000 motels throughout the country, compared with 15,000 in 1940.

Envy Berlin, Going Strong at 69--but What of Those Forced Out at 65?

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Commentator

An interesting biproduct of Jim Kilgallen's biography of Irving Berlin was the report that at 69 the famous songwriter is determined to continue to write songs as long as he is able.

This is good news for the American people who benefit from Irving Berlin's creative ability and is excellent therapeutics for keeping Mr. Berlin young and vital.

Free choice in such matters as extending or terminating a career is one of the benefits of being self-employed.

If, on the other hand, Mr. Berlin were employed by a typical corporation in any capacity from porter to chairman of the board, he would have been automatically placed on the personnel scrap heap at 65. In light of the scarcity of engineers, however, General Motors waives the compulsory retirement rule in the case of personalities in this profession.

Right now the shortages extend to all applied scientists in industry, and especially to mathematicians. With the heavy demand for mathematicians by the electronic and other industries, some of the older occupations, such as life and general insurance companies, are faced with a shortage of actuaries.

FOOLISH WASTE

In light of this scarcity, it is little short of a social and economic crime automatically to force the retirement at 65 of competent actuaries who are able and willing to work.

Thomas I. Parkinson, former president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, which pioneered in retirement annuities, told me that client companies misunderstood the significance of the actuarial figures quoting what retirement annuities would pay beginning, for example, at age 65.

Mr. Parkinson said that the selection of age 65 was intended for illustrative purposes only, and was not designed as a device for dictating personnel policies to client corporations with voluntary pension plans.

Obviously, this issue becomes sharper as increased use of antibiotics and better preventive medicine techniques have extended greatly the average age expectancy of Americans. Since the beginning of the century, new-born infants have had 50 per cent added to their life expectancy.

As an incident to the increased longevity, the composition of the population is changing. The ratio of the total in the senior citizen group is greater, and the new popularity of higher education is keeping the younger groups from gainful employment longer.

The net effect of these alterations is to expand the number of consumers in the United States more rapidly than the availability of workers, or producers.

This change occurs at the time of the international crisis of competitive co-existence of the free world with militant Communism, which latter has greater numbers under its control.

IN REALISTIC TERMS:

Put in realistic business terms, this impending situation was thus described by Philip Sporn, president, American Gas & Electric Co.:

"This outlook (for growth in the next 20 years) is re-enforced by a number of other considerations. It is now generally accepted that in this coming 20-year period the population will grow by close to 60 millions

"This 40 per cent increase in the population will be accompanied by an increase in the labor force of only about 20 per cent and in hours of less than 10 per cent.

To house, feed, clothe and educate this additional 60 million people, at the higher standard of living we expect of our economy, will involve increased productivity on the part of our people by more intensive use of raw materials, industrial plant and electrical energy."

In the domestic economy, there is a race between currency depreciation on the one hand and increased capacity to make things on the other.

In the circumstances, it is foolhardy to put a ceiling on the personnel available for productive work through automatic retirement at a fixed age.

The technicians of AT & T, a pioneer in the field of voluntary retirement pensions, who are automatically retired at 65, are in demand for jobs in South America and elsewhere.

Where there is individual freedom of choice, such as enjoyed by Mr. Berlin, you don't, in his words, "just quit." Mr. Berlin adds:

"Not if you're mentally alert and feel right physically."

The subjoined threefold formula is suggested for adjusting the modern corporation to the new life expectancy:

less:

No one is to work after 65 unless:

1. He personally applies for the right to continue, and submits objective evidence of his physical and mental fitness
2. His immediate superior certifies that it would be beneficial to the company to retain the worker.
3. The board of directors, on the recommendation of management, approves the making of an exception in the case of an employer to be retained.

Were Explosions Clean or Dirty?

Chain of Scientific Stations on Ocean Collecting British H-Bomb Fallout

LONDON (AP)—A chain of scientific stations stretching across thousands of miles of ocean may hold the key to Britain's future defenses and either settle or further agitate a worldwide controversy.

The stations consist of fallout collectors and air sampling devices to check for radioactivity. They stretch from Christmas Island to Australia, with Pacific island posts at Penrhyn, Canton, Noumea, Rangiroa, Papeete, Funafuti and Nandi and the cities of Adelaide and Brisbane.

Their purpose: to provide a final verdict as to whether the three hydrogen bombs the British exploded at Christmas Island in May and June were "clean" or "dirty."

If the bombs prove to have been clean—as British scientists hope and believe—the hydrogen bomb can be called something more than an instrument of mass destruction, suitable only for use on distant enemy targets.

It can be termed a tactical weapon, suitable for use even over this nation's own territory against enemy bombers and missiles and on the battlefield.

A verdict of clean could influence a worldwide debate whether the testing of nuclear weapons will affect the health of present and future generations.

And such a verdict could influence the U.N. disarmament talks in London, at which Russia and four Western nations are discussing whether and how a suspension of all nuclear tests could be enforced.

If a clean bomb could be exploded with little or no fallout, any suspension of tests would become infinitely more difficult to enforce.

The final answer on the British tests will not be known for months and possibly years. The products of the three explosions were released into the stratosphere and will come down over wide areas of the world over a long period of time. Already, however, the government and leading British scientists have released a number of what they called encouraging preliminary reports.

After each of the explosions Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told the House of Commons that the fallout had been negligible.

Other reports came from experts on the scene at Christmas Island. Air Commodore Denis Wilson, an eminent radiologist, flew through the mushroom cloud of the second bomb an hour after it was exploded. Wilson said there was no immediate fallout whatever. Dr. W. R. Cook, scientific director of the test expedition, said the fallout was comparatively negligible.

Both said however, that there could be no immediate answer as to whether the bombs were truly clean.

Weaving a rug on one of the looms at the Oakland County Convalescent Hospital is Charles Peacock. Such activity is good exercise for regaining control of muscles, especially in cerebral vascular accident cases where partial loss of muscular control is common.

U.S. Women Dominate Their Men?

Pampered Darlings Are Virtual Tyrants, Says Britisher

LONDON (AP)—A British newsman came up today with the appalled finding that "American womanhood has got American manhood firmly pinned down by the ears."

Edward N. Connor, columnist for the Daily Mirror, said he reached that pained conclusion after close observation of the "formidable darlings" during a recent tour of the United States and from talking with American women tourists in London.

"All this talk about the 'dominant male' just ceases to be true when you sail past the Statue of Liberty," reported Connor.

"The American gal is more pampered, petted and pursued than any other female on earth," the columnist declared. "Not only have they got the poor sucker in a headlock of inextricable moral superiority that will break his neck if he tries to get free, but the Yankee amazon is growing physically bigger every year.

GETTING HEFTIER

"The average American woman gains an inch in height every 10 years and now is a half head taller than she was 50 years ago. Come the year 2,000 the average honey chile will be topping 6 feet 4 inches in her nylons and looking askance at any romeo from Dallas, Denver or Des Moines who weighs less than 250 pounds and can get under a 6-foot door without stooping."

Letting go at the American woman and matters financial, Connor declared:

"She spends eight billion dollars a year on clothing her nakedness and considers that if she hasn't at least one car she is a cripple and that if she hasn't a refrigerator, television set and washing machine, she might as well live in a cave.

HEAVY SPENDER

"She buys four times as much goods as the man who provides her with the money to do so and—the most fatal statistic of all—she outlives her husband by an average of seven years."

Furthermore and moreover, the Britisher deposed:

"She knows exactly what her husband earns and actually strips cash off him when he arrives home on pay day. He exists on an allowance."

"She believes in 'togetherness' which, in her appalling jargon, means that when the old man comes home limp as a plastic spongebag after belting it at the office, he is expected to play with the kids instantly."

"It is a wonder," Connor concluded, "that the race doesn't die out."

Working on projects at the Oakland County Convalescent Hospital are Walter Koch and Pauline Horton. They participate every morning in occupational therapy projects and activities.

Occupational Therapy Helps Old Folk in County Hospital

By GRETTA PORTER

What do the words "Oakland County Convalescent Hospital" mean to you?

Do they present a mental picture of infirm old people sitting idle?

One glance around the occupational therapy room of the hospital is evidence that, although these people may be elderly and even infirm, this is not an old folks' home.

The hospital, working through occupational therapy (OT), tries to cure its patients bodily and at the same time help them adjust to disability. Working with crafts, at bedside or in class, creates new interests and develops mental and physical coordination. Marie Stoychoff, occupational therapist, calls this program "curing by doing."

Although OT has been used for veteran and child rehabilitation since the 1920's, it is relatively new in working with older people.

PROMOTE FRIENDSHIPS

Classes at the Convalescent Hospital give patients opportunity for social contacts in normal activity and help develop group responsibility.

Miss Stoychoff works with two groups, each spending part of the day in planned and supervised activities. She tries to devise projects that will give the patients exercise for their particular needs.

For instance, several sightless patients lace leather coin purses and cerebral vascular accident (CVA) cases hook rugs, which is good exercise in an attempt to regain at least partial muscular control.

The patients make articles for themselves, their friends or families, or for sale. Many articles are made from contributions by interested people. For instance, rugs are hooked from rags that are donated. Groups and individuals contribute supplies and equipment such as weaving looms, library carts, yarns and threads, and current magazines and books.

Volunteer groups play an important part of the Convalescent Hospital OT program. A Horticulture therapy group from Birmingham contributes services once a week to create special interests in arranging flowers and plants. It also gives garden and indoor parties, as well as arranging for special speakers and movies.

But the most impressive part of the OT program at the Oakland County Convalescent Hospital is the spirit and sense of humor of those who have realized the importance of being usefully occupied in spite of any handicap.

Working Wives Accepted Today

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Our thinking about working wives has certainly changed in the past two decades.

Twenty years ago, if a wife worked, it was almost an admission that her husband wasn't doing so well.

RATHER SHEEPISH

The husband was apt to resent it and the wife was apt to feel rather sheepish about it, too.

If she worked because she wanted to, and not because the family needed the money she was either a traitor, an aggressive masculine type or something equally unpleasant.

But, today, the woman whose children are in school or grown up is almost expected to work. Furthermore, her husband is apt to be her biggest booster and ally.

Take this letter about Mr. and Mrs. B.

"Our three teenagers," writes Mrs. B. "are in high school and don't seem to need me as much.

"My husband and I have decided that I should get a job partly to keep busy and interested and partly to make some money for the children's college fund.

SYSTEM NEEDED

"We're trying to work out a system so that the house and family will go smoothly without leaving me exhausted.

"We'd welcome any suggestions you could make."

Then Mr. B. added a postscript, "I already do the dishes!"

First, I think Mrs. B. should get a part-time job. Her field — secretarial work — permits of this. Also, it will make things easier all around.

It's hard for a woman to go from full-time homemaking to full-time office work. There are too many adjustments to make.

But a part-time job, at least at first, usually works out beautifully. It gives her a chance to ease back into the routine.

Second, each member of the family should take the responsibility for certain tasks which they will do without being reminded or nagged.

The children should know that Mother's job will help them get to college and should pitch in willingly.

Each one should be responsible for his own room. Among them, they could handle additional chores.

SEND OUT LAUNDRY

I'm a firm believer in sending out more of the laundry and even having a cleaning woman occasionally rather than risk having the lady of the house overworked. When this happens she gets "nerves" and the whole family pays a price.

Why not relieve her of some of the work so that the family can be happier?

Third, the wife must remember that this role is of her own choosing. She wants a job because domestic drudgery is getting her down and also because she wants to help send the children to college.

So when everything goes wrong and the boss is nasty, she must not become a martyr.

I've known women who, on such days, will tell their husbands, "I'm working my fingers to the bone. If you were successful like the man down the street," etc.

This spoils everything!

Check Child's Health Well Before School

By DORTHY V. WHIPPLE, M. D.

AP Newsfeatures

Even during the long summer holiday it's not a bad idea to look ahead to the opening of school next fall. What can you do during the summer that will give your child a better year in school?

How about your child's health? Don't wait until a week before school to get that pre-school checkup with your doctor. Get it in the summer so that you will have time to correct anything that is not just as it should be — time to use the summer vacation to improve your youngsters health.

BUOYANT HEALTH

Our aim is buoyant health, and nothing short of this should satisfy us. What are the signs of really A-1 health?

A healthy child stands up straight, has good color, plays with vigor and enthusiasm, sleeps with the utter abandon of childhood. Most of the time he is pleasant and agreeable to live with.

A child should have red lips and pink fingernails. Some children will have rosy cheeks, but many healthy children do not have much color in their faces. This is an individual matter and you cannot change it by pouring in vitamins and iron.

A good red color to the mucous membranes is evidence of rich healthy blood. A tanned skin looks well on a child but do not confuse a tan with the rosy look of health. Anemic children sunburn and tan just the same as healthy children.

ASK FOR BLOOD TEST

If your child's color is not as good as it should be, be sure to ask your doctor to do a blood test. Find out how low the hemoglobin is and what should be done to improve it.

It may be that your child needs some improvement in his diet. He may need more protein, more of the foods rich in iron and vitamins. Maybe he needs a tonic for a while. On the other hand it may be that your child needs more sleep and rest or perhaps it's more exercise he needs.

Occasionally a child may be anemic because he has bad tonsils or an infection lurking around in his body somewhere.

Your doctor will determine whether or not your child is in A-1 condition. If the doctor is not satisfied that your child is in the best of health he will determine first why your child is below par.

College Forces Students to Make Own Decisions

(This is the second of two articles by one of Washington's best-known correspondents presenting the expert views of educators on what young men and women entering college—and their parents—should know before the start of freshman year.)

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS) — If you are the parent of one of the million high school graduates who has been accepted for college entrance this fall, consider yourself fortunate.

Your youngster has passed one of the major hurdles to a successful career. In today's highly competitive educational market, the boy or girl who is able to matriculate has already exhibited scholastic ability, a satisfactory range of knowledge, and qualities of leadership or special skills.

But getting into college doesn't mean that he will be able to remain for the succeeding four years. That is up to him. Of the million-odd youngsters who gleefully enroll this fall, nearly 45 per cent will have dropped by the wayside before commencement day rolls around.

College is many things: Proms, house parties, football rallies, midnight bull sessions, card games and cramming for exams. It is also a gateway to a highly rewarding career.

But first, a college student must learn to concentrate, to conserve time, to study without parental supervision, and to make many of his own decisions for the first time in his life.

"MR." OR "MISS"

The freckle-faced boy or girl who has been familiarly addressed for 12 long years by his teachers as "John" or "Jane" will suddenly be called "Mr. Jones" or "Miss Smith." Instead of being told by a principal or student counselor what to study each semester, the college—except for a few required subjects—will leave the choice to him.

Unlike the scheduled study hours in grammar and high school, the college student is expected to budget his own hours of cramming. Written tests are comparatively few and far between.

"Mr. Jones" and "Miss Smith" are supposed to be mature enough to assimilate each day's lecture notes without an instructor brandishing a stick.

But college is not all work! The campus provides unexcelled opportunities for developing personality and greater understanding of life. Lifelong friends and future business associates are often acquired at college, along with the courtships which may spell wedding bells.

Because your youngster will be entering a strange new world away from home, most colleges require him to report to school a week before the upper classmen arrive.

During this period he will meet his new roommate, as well as college officials. He will register, take physical examinations, placement, aptitude and reading tests.

GIRL'S WARDROBE

Along with jeans and Bermuda shorts, your daughter will have packed a suit, a few dresses, at least one formal outfit, plenty of sweaters, blouses and skirts, loafers and dress-up shoes, a raincoat and a sport coat.

Your son will undoubtedly need sport jackets, slacks, shirts and sweaters, sneakers and a suit or two. An alarm clock, a small radio and a good dictionary will help.

Studying may be difficult at first for the youngster whose sympathetic parents have maintained a quiet room for his homework. Without a teacher or mother to prod him, a restless student may find it hard to concentrate in a busy dormitory or fraternity house.

Social activities, bonfires, pep rallies and dances will infringe on his time, but since college is a preparation for life, the student who learns to budget his time has already mastered the secret of a successful career.

Statistics disclose that approximately half of all students today earn some or all of their college expenses. These youngsters may well be the luckier ones, since they early learn the value of money, and are more likely to concentrate on their education than the rich men's sons to whom it comes easily.

PRICES RISE STEADILY

College-going costs money, and the prices are steadily rising. Educators have estimated the expenses of an education at from $2,500 to $9,000, depending on the school and the location.

For those high school graduates who wonder whether it is worth the effort, a recent survey indicates that the 30-year-old with a college degree is earning almost twice as much as a non-graduate. At age 40, he is earning three times the salary of the less educated group.

Parents in moderate circumstances should know that 141,554 scholarships valued at more than 31 million dollars are available to high school graduates. Far from all go to the brilliant students. The scholarships help, but by no means cover the entire cost of a college education.

Youngsters who regard higher education as an opportunity, rather than a lark, are willing to take part-time jobs on or off the campuses, in order to earn as much of their tuition and spending money as possible. And make no mistake about it, they need extra money to join in the college activities.

Many universities and organizations have special loans for students, some of which can be had without interest, and need not be repaid until the graduate begins to earn money in his chosen profession.

But most of all, don't pity the youngster who has to take summer and part-time jobs to stay in college. The experience will probably give him the jump on his "luckier" colleagues, who have yet to try their wings in the workaday world.

Enjoy Helping Mom

Most children enjoy helping Mommy spruce up the house. Teach them how to make beds, wash dishes and run the vacuum cleaner early. And remember to supervise, not nag at them, while they're learning.

Stop Arguing and Win Argument

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

"Our 11-year-old girl gives me an argument for everything I ask her to do," writes Mrs. P.

"Last week when her little brother had a cold, I had to ask her to get some oranges. She argued so long that the store was closed when she finally got there. How do I deal with her? She just gives me more argument if I try to discuss this habit . . ."

Mrs. P. might have said, "All right, you stay here with Brother—and I'll run down to the store."

This action would have achieved three good things. It would have stopped the argument. It would have got the oranges. It would have freed Mrs. P. from the idea that she has to win all arguments with her arguer—and force cooperative action from her.

This idea is usually the cause of the arguing habit in children. It is an enslaving one.

So long as we think we must force our arguer's cooperation, we remain dependent on her. Our self-respect is rooted not in what we do but in what she does. Naturally when she refuses compliance, we resent her.

WRESTLING MATCH

Soon we can't ask her to do anything without the angry expectation that she'll refuse it again—and deny us the reassurance that we're a fine, competent controller of children.

Relationship between us and the child becomes a kind of secret wrestling match to see who's going to beat whom. In this climate of mutual distrust, any cooperative action we wrench from her is worthless.

Morally speaking, her cooperative action is the business of her conscience—and has nothing to do with us.

Once we see this clearly enough to trust it, freedom of action is restored to us.

In this independence of her resistance is based our real control of her.

She immediately senses withdrawal of our pressure. She sees that we're after oranges, not her submission. The energies she's been using for war with us are suddenly available for war within herself.

She herself begins to find fault with her refusal to help us. The argument begins to take place within her own conscience.

That's where it belongs.

To feel more relaxed and ready to face the day, spray yourself generously with a light, fragrant cologne mist. You will find that you can stay fresher if you will repeat this several times during the day. If you are a working girl you might keep a bottle of spray mist in the bottom drawer of your desk for easy access.

Soft Drop Cookies Are Tops

Mrs. Christensen's Easy-to-Do Recipe Uses Cup of Coconut

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

There's never an end to cookie recipes. It must be that they are such an often-served food that cooks keep coming up with new ideas for them. Today's recipe is for a soft drop cookie with coconut in it. We suggest the flake coconut for these cookies.

Mrs. Earl Christensen who got this recipe from her mother is a fairly new homemaker. Her favorite leisure time activity is the oven. Makes about 3 dozen, number painting.

COCONUT JUBILEES
By Mrs. Earl Christensen

½ cup soft shortening (should be half butter)
½ cup sugar
1 egg
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1¼ cups sifted flour
¾ teaspoon soda
1 cup moist coconut

Mix first seven ingredients together well, then work in coconut. Drop with a teaspoon on a greased cookie sheet, two inches apart. Bake in 375-degree oven for 8-10 minutes. Cookies should be soft when you remove them from the oven. Makes about 5 dozen.

Knitted Gift Too Small for Toddler

Should Mom Tell Her Friend or Say Nothing?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: For her first birthday, my daughter received a hand-knit sweater from a friend of mine who is an expert knitter. The sweater is lovely, but unfortunately it is much too small.

"Would it be proper to tell her so, or shall I keep it and say nothing? I'm afraid if she doesn't see the sweater on my daughter she will think I don't like it, and yet I don't want her to have to go to the trouble of knitting another. So what do I do?"

Answer: I think it would be better to be frank and say you are terribly disappointed but her lovely sweater is too small for Mary and that unless it can be made larger you will have to give it back to her to give to a smaller child because it would be a shame not to use it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The girls in my office have been arguing the following problem for some time and I am writing to you to settle the issue for us. This is the problem: A man and woman are married. Both wear wedding rings. The woman dies and after a respectable length of time the man marries again.

I contend it would be in very bad taste for him to wear the same wedding ring he wore during his marriage to his first wife. The other girls say it would be entirely proper for him to wear it. What do you say about this?"

Answer: To me, it would be very shocking to bring such an obvious association with his first marriage into his second, and almost surely would be resented by his second wife.

"Dear Mrs. Post: If a person is in the company of his parents and he unexpectedly meets a friend, which is proper—to present the friend to his parents, or present his parents to the friend?"

Answer: He presents his young friend to his parents.

Make Task Obvious

A bathroom needs scouring more than most rooms at home. If you have guests, keep a sponge and cleanser in view for them to use on the bathtub. It saves you work and keeps them from using a wash cloth to clean up after bathing.

It saves serving dishes to team steamed rice with cooked green peas.

Not Too Young for Self-Improvement

Girl, 12, Should Remove Leg Hair

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I am 12 years old and my problem is that I have a lot of dark and long hairs on my legs. Because of this I dread wearing shorts. My mother and I think that I am too young to shave my legs or use one of the hair-removing lotions. Could you tell me how to hide the ugly hairs with a leg makeup?"

A. The chances are that the hair on your legs will decrease as you grow a little older. However, I disagree with you and your mother. If this is making you self-conscious and unhappy there is no reason in the world why you should not remove it.

If a young girl is self-conscious about this or any handicap, her personality is likely to be injured. It has happened many times.

Q. "What exercise would help eliminate weight on the stomach? I have a roll there which increases with the years and would like to correct this before it is too late. I have tried waist exercises but this doesn't seem to help."

A. The waist and obdominal exercises are quite different. As a general rule, the waist exercises are of the bending type while the most effective abdominal exercises are taken lying on the floor on one's back.

Here is a good one: Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor at your sides. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen. Straighten the legs toward the ceiling. Slowly lower legs to floor (with stiff knees). Continue.

As a general rule, waist exercises are of the bending type.

Q. "I have a wart on one of my fingers. How can I remove it?"

A. Do not try to remove it yourself. A skin specialist can do it very easily.

Q. "I am 15 years old and weigh 126 pounds. I am 5 feet 1 and my measurements are bust 34 inches, waist 26, and hips 38. Am I overweight and where especially?"

A. You are overweight; I would guess at least 10 pounds. Take hip-slimming exercises.

Q. "I am 16 years old, 5 feet 6 inches and weigh 90 pounds. My bust measures 31 inches, waist 22½ and hips 32. I know I should gain some but how much and where?"

A. You really are quite underweight. You should weigh around 125 pounds. I strongly urge you to have a physical checkup and gain weight under a doctor's supervision. Your measurements are in good ratio. You just need to gain all over.

War on Moths Starts

Now is the time for all good homemakers to come to the aid of their woolens. It's time to start the annual war on moths.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that clothes moths and carpet beetles cause damage ranging from 200 to 500 million dollars a year. They recommend the following mothproofing procedure:

1. First be sure woolen garments and blankets are clean and free from spots and stains, as moths prefer dirty woolens. Wash or clean garments before spraying, brush thoroughly inside and out.

2. Spray mothproofing substance freely and uniformly until all exposed surfaces, seams and folds are thoroughly covered and moist. Spray unlined garments inside and out. Pay particular attention to pockets and trouser cuffs.

3. Let garment or blanket hang until thoroughly dry, then put away.

If you choose a modern guaranteed mothproofing product your woolens will be safe from moth damage for a full year.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

FRIDAY, AUGUST 9, 1957 PONTIAC, MICHIGAN, NINETEEN

Typical Busy Day in Life of 4-H Fair Queen

THE 1957 4-H CLUB FAIR QUEEN Sharon Brodie, 15, of Birmingham, may be a city gal but her active participation in the 4-H program won her the presidency of the 63 member Bloomfield 4-H Club three consecutive years. Here, relaxing in her bedroom, Queen Sharon sips a glass of milk as she studies the fair program to make sure not to miss any necessary appearances during her reign.

AWARD WINNING PHOTOGRAPHER Sherri poses her best friend Judy Eastburn, 16, and Jolu, the queen's 5-year-old Mexican Chihuahua. Sherri was the only entry at the fair in the advance photography class who was judged eligible to enter the 4-H state show at Michigan State University this month. Friend Judy was the subject for one of Sharon's five winning portraits.

SWIMMING AT THE DARBY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL a few blocks from the Brodie home is convenient for Sherri, her sister Carole, 13, and brothers Tom, 9, and Ronn, 6. 4-H club work doesn't take up all of her "spare" time. The Birmingham High School student, a junior this fall, is a member of the Future Teachers Club, the Scribblers, a writer's group, and the Girl's Athletic Assn.

THE LUCKY FELLOW with Sharon is her current dating interest Paul Norland, 16, treasurer of Miss President's 4-H group. His mother, the club's leader, reports Paul and Sherri have been working together in 4-H for the past two years.

BEING A COUNTY TEENAGE QUEEN has many glamorous aspects but Queen Sharon still continues those daily duties by drying the dishes as sister Carole washes. Although Sharon intends to go to Michigan State University and hopes to teach mathematics or home economics, her love and motherly instinct for the little ones is evident when one finds our 4-H queen teaching first graders at the First Presbyterian Church's Sunday school weekly.

Pontiac Unit Takes Part in 2-Week Grayling Encampment

Guardsmen to Head North

BY DICK SAUNDERS

Pontiac's Company M, 125th Infantry Regiment, and the 107th Ordnance Company, Michigan National Guard, will leave Saturday morning for their two-week field encampment, Aug. 10-24.

The encampment, to be held at Camp Grayling is expected to be the largest ever held with some 10,000 Guardsmen throughout Michigan taking to the field.

More than 200 men will attend from the Pontiac regiment and company. They are scheduled to leave at 4 a.m. from the National Guard Armory in convoy.

According to a spokesman, they will use no commercial carriers this year. The entire convoy will be made up of Army cargo trucks, jeeps and quarter-ton trucks. They are to reach the camp site by 10 or 10:30 a.m.

If all goes according to plan, they should be met by an advanced detachment which left for the camp Wednesday. The detachment consists of seven men from two divisions.

MESS DETACHMENT

Two of the men acted as precamp mess detachment. They have undergone three days of instruction on mess hall operation and will have food ready for the others.

The others, four enlisted men and one officer, will have secured camp equipment such as tents, cots, sheets and pillow cases for the Saturday morning arrivals.

The men will live in tents and all indoor training will be done in special tents. The only permanent structures will be mess halls and shower rooms.

Once they have arrived, the guardsmen will spend the weekend setting up camp and getting all equipment squared away. Members of the 107th Ordnance Co. will set up three shop areas for maintenance and repair of vehicles and equipment.

Of the three, two will be set up for the tank companies in the field, with one permanent shop tent at the home base.

By Monday the training period should be in full swing. Ordnance men will begin work in the shops and the infantry regiment will begin field maneuvers.

PART IN MANEUVERS

Aside from the usual marksmanship practice on the small arms and crew-served weapons ranges, the units will take part in small unit tactical maneuvers during the two weeks.

Also included in the encampment program will be a field maneuver covering three days and two nights of steady tactical operations.

This three-day maneuver has been planned to involve both offensive and defensive situations.

The goals of the field training session are to increase the preparedness and training rating of the Guard.

Authorities say this year's program is intended to bring the units to a high state of efficiency, capable of functioning effectively as a first line reserve component of the nation's armed forces.

Dog Can Only Delay Traffic Ticket Effort

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Motorcycle Patrolman Eugene Scoville waved Mrs. Lulu Mae Johnson to the curb after clocking her at 34 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

"Let me see your driver's license," he said, reaching in the car window.

The woman's French poodle Billy Echo grabbed the officer's arm and "I thought he never was going to let loose," Mrs. Johnson said.

In the excitement Scoville almost forgot the speeding charge.

City Woman Fined $100

Virginia L. Krause, 42, of 362 E. Tennyson St., pleaded guilty to reckless driving yesterday before Municipal Judge Maurice Finnegan.

She was sentenced to pay $100 or 10 days in jail and paid the fine. Police said she was driving 50 miles and hour in a 30 mile zone when she rammed the rear of a car which had stopped for a light.

Remember Boss: Your Secretary Is Human, Too

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Boss, lend us your lap and get a bit of advice from a couple of secretaries who get a close daily look at their employers.

Handing out "dos" and "don'ts" for executives who may be under consideration for the title "Boss of the Year" are Miss Dorothy Devlin, president of the Los Angeles chapter of the National Secretaries Association, and Mrs. Lily Derderian, secretary to District Attorney William B. McKesson.

Always remember your secretary has your best interests at heart.

Do credit her with brains, even though she may be blonde and bosomy.

Do thank her when she does a good job.

Do compliment her on her new outfit.

Don't shout.

Don't disappear when you have an important appointment.

Don't ask your secretary to work on her day off—she probably needs the rest.

Don't have a shave, haircut or a shine while dictating.

Don't, above all, forget to take her out to lunch occasionally—she can't afford to eat out on her salary.

MAKING BOW TIES FOR DAD, a Birmingham architect, is one of Queen Sherri's favorite sewing projects. She has also made shirts and shorts for her brothers and won a blue ribbon for the blue flannel dress she entered in the fair this week.

Not All Delinquents in New York

Teenagers Help Disabled Mechanic

NEW YORK (INS)—While police were in the midst of a major crackdown on teenage crime in New York city, an unemployed Brooklyn mechanic and his wife today told how they have been "adopted" by a group of 50 neighboring youths.

"If these kids are typical of our teenagers, then the cops have nothing to worry about," said James P. Johnson, 31.

Johnson, father of two children, has been unable to work since June because of an operation on his shoulder. His wife Joyce, 23, is expecting another child soon.

"These kids heard about it, and they've been wonderful," declared Johnson. "They took up a collection among themselves and helped us pay our rent. They also bought groceries, and clothes for the children."

"They help me with all the household chores, too," Mrs. Johnson added. "I don't know what we would have done without them."

OPENED UP HOME

The Johnsons in turn have opened the door of their three-room apartment to the boys and girls. Dancing, group singing, and soft drinks are provided every evening, and the teenagers come and go as they please.

"We feel like we're part of the family," declared Mary Anne Hausen, 15. "And it's much better than hanging out on street corners."

"It makes us feel useful, too," agreed Pat Ellicott, 16. "If more kids had useful projects, like helping needy people, they wouldn't get into trouble."

"They've never abused the privilege by being noisy or boisterous," explained Johnson. "And I think it does them good to know that someone cares enough to provide a place where they can have some recreation."

Johnson, who came from Houston, Texas to Brooklyn last year, will not be able to work for the next six months.

"I don't know what I'll do in the meanwhile," he said. "But there's one thing I'm not worried about. And that's our future citizens. They're okay."

Career, Personal Characteristics

McElroy Wilson's Twin

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Charles E. Wilson's successor as secretary of defense is almost his twin as far as career and personal characteristics are concerned.

He is Neil H. McElroy (pronounced "Mack-El-Roy," with the accent on the first syllable) who, like Wilson, is a big, husky-voiced industrialist.

Both McElroy and the retiring secretary are sons of schoolteachers who began in moderate circumstances and rose to wealth and power from unimportant positions in big companies.

When Wilson entered the government in 1953, he was earning more than a half million dollars a year as president of General Motors Co. McElroy is the $285,000-year president of Proctor and Gamble Soap Company and a director of two other big corporations — General Electric and Chrysler.

McElroy, born Oct. 30, 1904 in Berea, Ohio, worked at odd jobs through four years of high school and saved $1,000, at the same time compiling a scholastic record that earned him a scholarship to Harvard University.

WORKED THROUGH COLLEGE

He worked his way through college, too, but found time to play on the basketball team and in the college band (piccolo) and served as president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Immediately upon graduation he went to work for Proctor and Gamble as a $100 a month clerk. He became advertising and promotion manager in 1940, vice president in 1943 and president, at the age of 44, in 1948.

He is said by associates to be well-equipped for the Pentagon job, particularly in that he can pack authority.

As secretary, he must deal with the Army, Navy and Air Force, organizations which have their own ideas, sometimes get into fights among themselves and are notably ingenious at resisting and evading orders they don't like.

Although McElroy can be relied upon to enforce his decisions, the soap manufacturer is not likely to try to force the military services into one unified organization.

OPPOSE EACH OTHER

He is credited with originating the idea that the various branches of Proctor and Gamble should compete with one another, and even put different trade names and labels on their products.

McElroy makes his home in Cincinnati. He is the father of three grown children — two daughters and a son.

Lets Friends Get Mail but Doesn't Trust Them

DALLAS (AP)—Regional Postal director George Gray had the buck passed to him for the solution to this little problem:

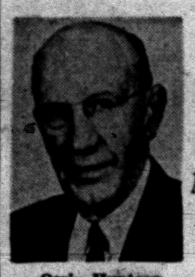

The postmaster of a small West Texas town which uses combination locks on its postal boxes reports that an elderly lady patron has her neighbors pick up her mail. The clerks have to hand them the mail, a time-consuming—and seemingly unnecessary — procedure.

Finally, the postmaster suggested that the elderly woman teach her neighbors the lock combination.

"My Goodness," she replied, "I couldn't possibly do that. I don't trust them."

Bob Considine Says:

Hoover Has Survived Years of Criticism

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS)—For years I went along with the cartoonists' view of Herbert Hoover: High and unrelenting collar, dour dyspepsia quivering about the jowls, the pot belly, and the like.

The man's intrinsic worth and his standing as an American weathered the years of abuse, the claws of tigers and the yaps of barking dogs.

Democrat and Republican, liberal and reactionary, interventionist and isolationist, will pay him homage and see him a bit more clearly as a link between the ages of American progress.

It is rather typical of Hoover, once the archtype Republican who became the whipping boy of every ambitious Democrat, that his 83rd birthday should find him completing his long book on Woodrow Wilson.

He and Bernard Baruch, whose own book is coming out soon, are about the only two men left who were close to Wilson. Hoover's book, on which he labors in longhand each day, will disclose a lot of new material on Wilson and give new focus to the tragedy and triumph of the man.

PLUNGED INTO TRAGEDY

I have heard him say what he tells Newsweek this week: "Woodrow Wilson in those three years (1917 through the Versailles Treaty) rose to the intellectual domination of the world only to be plunged into the greatest tragedy of political history.

"There is no Greek tragedy which marches through the life of a great man with equal poignancy. Contrary to some writers, Woodrow Wilson was at heart a pacifist.

It was in complete agony that he led us into war. But he proved a great war administrator. He He chose heads of war activities without regard to their political affiliations."

The last may be a revealing line.

Hoover is forever grateful to Harry S. Truman for literally pulling him from the storehouse of forgotten American history and placing him in charge of a government streamlining commission which continued its work under Eisenhower and has done some exceptional work.

Hoover, at 83, would work in any other capacity in public service, if called upon. He grumbles occasionally because his friend Douglas MacArthur has faded away. "Why, he's only 77," Hoover said recently.

Today the United Etates leads the world in merchant steamship tonnage, with the United Kingdom second and Norway third.

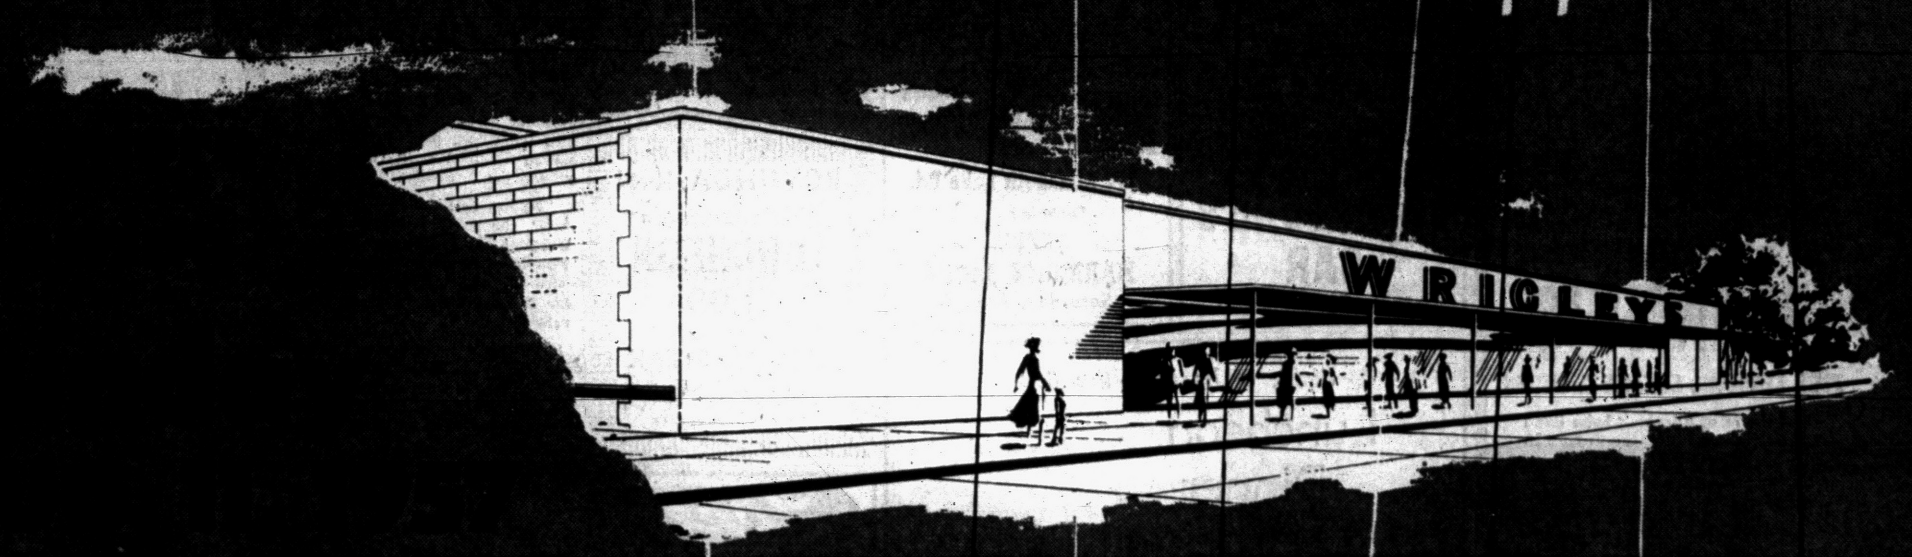

Indonesia's domain consists of about 3,000 islands.

Gets Stuck in Turnstile

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Edward Radley, 14, tried to avoid paying a fare by attempting to enter through an "exit only" turnstile, and got wedged so tightly he could not move either way. Patrolman Paul Marchese rescued the boy by loosening bolts on the turnstile bars. "I'll pay my fare from now on," promised young Radley.

And No Gratitude

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Florence Loverde, 45, placed a wooden table beneath a tree in an effort to rescue a stranded cat squawling in the branches. The table collapsed, Mrs. Loverde suffered a broken left leg and internal injuries. The cat climbed down unassisted and walked away.

Fernando Lamas Reports 'Fabulous' Nightclub Offer

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — You can put it down in your little black book that wherever Fernando Lamas goes, so goes his beautiful, redheaded wife, Arlene Dahl. Come November, when Fernando leaves his Broadway hit, "Happy Hunting" with Ethel Merman, the Lamases go a'travelin'.

Fernando tells me via long distance, "I've had such a fabulous offer for a nightclub tour, including Las Vegas, that I don't see how I can turn it down. I didn't know there was that much money."

I asked him if all this meant Arlene was giving up her own career. "No — it's just that we want to travel and be together for the rest of this year. If something interesting comes up for her later, I'm sure she'll accept."

Barbara Rush returned from Athens, London and Paris just in time to start work Monday morning in "The Young Lions." She told me it was the greatest experience of her life to appear before the Greek people and to see Katina Paxinou in a Greek play outside the Acropolis.

"Katina was at our party later," she said. "Also Florence Eldridge and Fredric March, who have a home there. I am sure a goodly amount of money for the Greek war orphans was raised.

"The party was given by the king and queen, Spyros Skouras an Onasis. I also went on board the Onasis yacht," she said, "and it's just unbelievable, it's to palatial."

This is certainly Mike Todd's lucky year. He wanted a girl, and got one. However, little Liza has a long way to go before she'll be introduced to society.

One of Todd's closest friends looked at her in the incubator, and said even though she's under fighting weight, she's a mighty pretty young lady.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: David Selznick's hair has turned snow white anw he's lost pounds, according to a photograph sent me from the "A Farewell to Arms" location.

The girl who has been on song writer Jimmy Van Heusen's arm lately is Marisa Hesti, a London singer. She's quite a pretty girl.

Well, here's a new combination. Steve Cochran and Denise Darcel at the Slate Brothers Cafe screaming with laughter over the antics of comedian Don Rickles.

Hot Tea in Texas?

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — The commander of the armored school at Taiwan, Formosa, was offered a hot cup of tea yesterday during his visit at Ft. Hood. Maj. Gen. Chao Chi-hua shook his head when the tea was handed him and politely asked, "Do you have any ice water? The tea is very nice, but Ft. Hood in August is too hot for tea."

Governor's Wife Fined

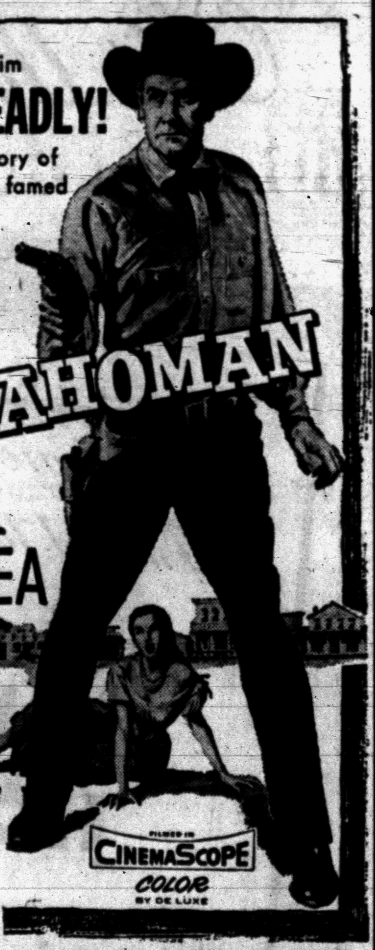

WOODSTOCK, Vt. (AP) — The wife of Gov. Joseph B. Johnson paid a $10 fine and costs in Municipal Court on a charge of operating an uninspected automobile. State's Atty. John Brockway said that few such cases reach the courts, but decided to prosecute because "there was so much publicity" following an accident involving Mrs. Johnson's car July 7.

Accept Invite to Visit China

Delegates at Moscow World Youth Festival Plan Despite U.S. Ban

MOSCOW (AP)—About 40 American delegates to the Communist-sponsored World Youth Festival today accepted an invitation to visit Red China despite a U.S. State Department ban on travel there, a delegation spokesman said.

Fourteen Americans, including seven members of the group's administrative committee, will make the three-week trip as non-paying guests of the Peiping government.

The others will be asked to pay a token $100 each for transportation to and from China and for all expenses of their tour.

They are expected to leave shortly after the windup of the Moscow festival, scheduled for this weekend.

The approximately 150 delegates debated the Chinese offer all night. Frequent questions were asked about the possibilities of State Department action against any who violate provisions on which their passports were issued by entering Red China.

The American Embassy here had no immediate comment on the expedition. The State Department had tried to discourage Americans from coming to the festival by labeling it a Communist propaganda program.

Delegation spokesmen identified six of the committeemen who will go as: Jake Rosen, New York City, delegation leader; Bob Williamson, New York City; Guy Carawan, Los Angeles; Dan O'Connell, Chicago; Earl Williamson, Berkeley, Calif.; and Walker Coppedge, Rosedale, Miss.

The name of the seventh committeeman was not immediately available.

Coppedge said, "I probably will accept the invitation."

The seven delegates named to share the free trip were identified as Noel Carawan, wife of Guy Carawan; the Rev. Warren McKennan, Exeter, N.H.; Joanne Grant, New York City; Lorraine Nocwacki, Detroit; Bob Cohen, Berkeley, Calif.; Susan Kidder, Los Angeles; and Orville Schmidt, a Mennonite now living in Frankfurt, Germany.

NEW HOSE ATTACHMENT — Home gardeners will find raising a garden and caring for lawns much easier this year with revolutionary new concepts that take all the hard work out of lawn care and gardening. Here, a pretty young lady demonstrates a tri-sected chamber which attaches to any hose, sprinkler or nozzle. It is filled with fertilizer, weed killer and insecticide. When the hose is turned on it wipes out soil insects such as ants and mosquitoes, fertilizes the soil and kills weeds and crabgrass.

'Quack' Tree Doctors Bring Bad 'Medicine'

A new breed of medical quack is invading the tree care field. Like the old-time medicine man, his stock in trade is the miracle cure-all.

This warning is sounded by Martin L. Davey Jr., who heads the famous Davey tree experts. Home owners' increased tree mindedness has aroused the cupidity of self-professed tree doctors. Hire today, gone tomorrow is their motto, for they rarely linger long in any one area.

So don't buy glittering claims or phenomenal "bargains," such as a painted band around the trunks of trees that will free them of insects and disease, enhance their vigor and promote greater beauty ...at a cost of $25 per tree. There just isn't any such panacea. Nor is there an all-potent spray or a marvelous capsule that will protect trees from all evils.

Perhaps not quite so unethical are the men who know what to do, but go light on their materials. End result is much the same, however. The trees may, but probably won't respond to treatment.

Best protection for the home owner is some knowledge of tree care practices. If in doubt your city forester, park superintendent, or county agent can give basic tree information.

Before hiring tree men, check on their professional status and responsibility via local nursery groups or Better Business Bureaus.

Then check if they have industrial insurance or property damage insurance coverage. If not, an accident on the home grounds may involve you in personal injury claims or expensive repair bills, or both.

Plant Radishes Through August

Soak Garden Down to Obtain Results With Vegetables

You still have time to plant vegetables according to John Carew, extension specialist in horticulture at Michigan State University.

You can plant winter radishes in early August and store like other root crops for winter use. They grow larger than summer radishes but have a very mild flavor.

Turnips, spinach and both head and leaf lettuce can be planted now. Carew says the salad bowl variety of leaf lettuce would produce the best results.

Green and wax beans can be planted the first week in August and if you have a gambling spirit and some early maturing sweet corn seed left over, Carew says you have a pretty good chance of eating some more home grown sweet corn.

You may have to soak your garden down pretty well to get the seeds to germinate he adds.

CLOSE FOCUS — Denise Titchen, 2, is cross-eyed with awe as she watches a big fat bumblebee satisfy its sweet tooth on a late-blooming crabapple blossom in Claremont, N. H.

Keep Lawn Swept

Sweep the lawn regularly — Grass clippings are heavy at this time of the year: sweep them up after each mowing — and don't let the grass grow too high between mowings. Removing clippings prn sweetharmful matting, reduces fungus activity.

The growing of roses comes nearer to having universal appeal than any other avocation.

Motor Mishaps Injure Trees

By GARDNER ZADE
NEA Service Staff Writer

Thousands of trees are maimed or killed by autos every year. The toll is especially heavy in summer when motoring is at its peak.

Trees can't jaywalk but they're major targets for motorists just the same. Besides being banged, rammed and bruised by cars, the tree which stands near a driveway is often the victim of dripping crankcase oil.

But motor mishaps aren't the only tree troubles in the summer time. Tree experts have listed a few common instances of tree abuse which they are frequently asked to cure once the damage has been done.

These include:

Wrapping wire and rope supports for hammocks and swings and clotheslines directly around trunks and branches instead of attaching them to harmless hooks secured in the wood.

Spraying too close to trees with weed killer or other chemicals detrimental to tree health.

Burning trash or grilling food near a tree so that leaves and branches are scorched.

Bruising the bark by running a lawn mower too close to the trunk.

Best way to avoid such injuries to your trees is to remember they also live, breathe, eat and are hurt by harsh treatment.

The increase use of power mowers has made scarring of trunks a major problem.

All such wounds should be treated with tree surgeon's compound after loose bark has been removed.

A cultivated, grass-free area at the foot of the trunk will allow safer mowing. An inch-thick mulch of peat moss in this area will be beneficial as well as attractive.

Otherwise, use hand shears in close to the trunk.

As with every growing thing, drought causes trouble for trees. Watering, when local ordinances allow it, is the only real answer.

There are a few other considerations. Browning will be most noticeable in trees whose roots are confined to a limited area, grow close to the soil, or where there is a lack of nutrition in the earth.

Pruning may help some. But remove only those branches which are dried out. To make certain a branch is dead, make a small cut into the bark. If the under layer is green, do not remove.

When foliage has dried and dropped, only deciduous trees are likely to revive. Elms, maples and other trees have been known to send forth a complete new set of leaves after a dry spell.

But evergreens seldom renew their foliage. Defoliated evergreens should be removed and replaced with healthy, vigorous trees in late autumn. No transplanting of any trees should take place until the ground has been well soaked by autumn rains.

Plant Asters With Others; Best Results

If planted in the garden among other plants, asters do not seem as susceptible to disease as when planted in solid blocks. Wilt resistant varieties are resistant to most of the wilts that cause the seedlings to sag suddenly and die before they can bloom.

Aster Yellows are somewhat more difficult to control. Spraying with Lindane or DDT to control leaf hoppers helps somewhat. Best preventative is to grow asters inside a screen or cloth house such as is used for dahlias.

Plants in the open garden are subject to constant attack, so persistent, regular spraying is needed to kill the leaf hoppers that carry the disease.

MSU Campus Adds to Flower Collection

EAST LANSING — New additions to the collection of trees, shrubs and vines on the Michigan State University campus totalled 456 during 1955-57. The collection now includes 2,810 different species, one of the largest plantings of its kind in the northern United States.

Some of the additions were placed in newly established geographic collections along the banks adjacent to the new library. In these groupings, soil and drainage conditions are constructed to simulate various areas in the United States, such as the great plains, sand dunes, and southern mountain regions.

New Giant Zinnias Have Unusual Petals

New giant cactus flowered zinnias whose flowers, five inches or more across, have charmingly irregular petal formations and arrangement, becomes increasingly important with the selection of more single colors which come from seed, and have a special soft but brilliant pigmentation.

The petals of these flowers resemble those of dahlias of the cactus and semi-cactus classes. Some petals are attractively quilled, others gracefully curled and all are different from the rather stiff formality prevailing in zinnias of older strains.

Larkspurs Give Spikes of Bloom and Are Hardy

Annual larkspurs give fine spikes of bloom that are exceedingly graceful and attractive. They are perfectly hardy, the seedling plants surviving coldest winter weather.

Sow very early in spring, thin out the seedlings as necessary and give each plant room for development. Seed may also be sown in late fall just before the ground freezes up for the winter for early flowers the following spring.

In the summer germination is improved by chilling the seed several days in the refrigerator.

Reports 4,200 Squash

ORTONVILLE — Mrs. Vernon Hutchings of Hadley road, an avid home gardener, reported this week having 4200 squash plants.

New Type Gaillardia Makes Neat Gardens

Have you, too, quit growing Gaillardia because it spreads all over an otherwise neat perennial garden?

Then, here is the plant you want and once again enjoy the colorful Gaillardia all summer long. It forms a neat, compact mound only six to eight inches high and a foot across, which is constantly in bloom.

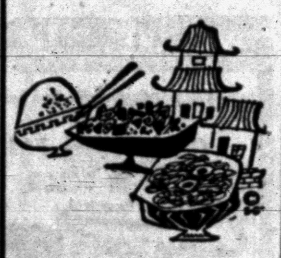

It never sprawls and gets that "ratty" look of the old ones. The name of this amazing new flower is Baby Cole Gaillardia.

Summer, Fall Plants Are Four o'Clocks

Four O'Clocks are showy summer and fall blooming plants that do well everywhere. Flowers open in the afternoon and all day if it cloudy. It is little known that roots may be lifted in the fall and stored like dahlias to be replanted in spring.

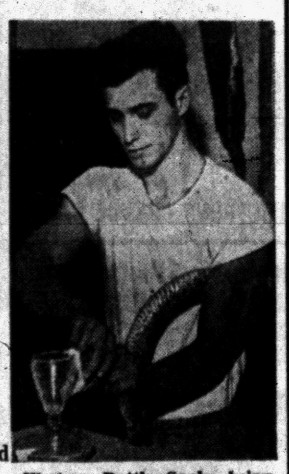

These flowers make an interesting low hedge very rapidly. One of the best for smoky city sections.

Rose gardeners looking for a magnificent yellow everblooming Climber, would do well to choose Golden Shower.

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

CHICAGO — A corps of "private eyes" representing every team in the National Football League has invaded this city for tonight's 24th Annual All-Star classic.

All of these grid detectives will have one thing in common—to look over the draft choices among the All-Stars who have been picked by their respective clubs.

Coach Curley Lambeau has made these private eyes very happy by announcing that every player on the All-Star squad will get a chance to play.

Doing the detective duty for the Lions is "the Hawk" Bob Nussbaumer' the talent scout, game scout and chief cook and bottle washer for the Detroit grid pros.

Nussbaumer is back on his old stamping ground. He is a native of nearby Oak Park, Ill., and played some of his pro football with the Cardinals in this city.

The trio Nussbaumer will be watching are Terry Barr, former University of Michigan star; Steve Junker, 6-3, 220 pound end from Xavier of Cincinnati and John Gordy tackle from the University of Tennessee.

ROOKIES FIGURE IN PLANS

The Lions figure all three will be important to their 1957 plans.

"I figure Barr will do very well in our defensive backfield," said Nussbaumer. "And since we are looking for someone to fill the offensive tackle hole left when Ollie Spencer was traded, Gordy could be it."

Since the addition of Tobin Rote it has been heard often that the Lions would like to pick up another end, and they are hoping it will be Junker.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Dick Modzelewski, whom the Lions got from Washington and gave to New York in a three way deal which brought Ray Krouse to Detroit, says he is "very happy with New York.

He lives near Pittsburgh and started in the pro circuit with the Steelers but it was commonly known that he was not happy there.

The All-Star program has his weight listed at 260. "I'm really 'only' 248," he said.

Incidentally, he is called "Little Moe" and his older brother Ed, now with the Browns is "Big Moe" at 215. They have a 13-year-old brother who weighs 195 and is called "Wee Moe."

CHICAGO — This may be the best aggregation of college football All-Stars assembled in several years, but in picking a favorite for the 24th annual classic tonight at Soldier's Field one can hardly forget that the New York Giants are still the world champions and are picked again to win the eastern division of the NFL.

All-Star coach Curley Lambeau, veteran coach of the pro ranks, told the football writers, however, that he "feels the collegiates have a very good chance of beating the Giants."

The oddsmakers are favoring the pros from 10 to 13 points. All-Stars are depending heavily on their passing strength in aiming for the upset.

"I think this year's All-Star squad is one of the better ones to be assembled. Any one of the 49 players has the ability to play with the pros," said Lambeau.

The Giants arrived in Chicago yesterday morning and went through a closed practice session under the lights of Soldier's Field last night.

With the great passing potential of All-Stars as the big threat. The Giants will throw their huge defensive forward wall into the starting lineup to rush the passers, at which they were most successful last year in winning the title.

Lambeau has not decided who will start at quarterback, and he said he would not decide until kickoff time. Observers feel that it will probably be Jim Brodie, the most accurate thrower of the four which includes Paul Hornung of Notre Dame, Len Dawson of Purdue and Bobby Harris of Oklahoma.

Ron Kramer of Michigan and Joe Walton of Pitt, a pair of All-America terminals, are expected to get the starting end assignments.

Starting backfield for the Stars may include Clarence Peaks from Michigan State, John Arnett of Southern California at the halves, and Don Bossler of Miami (Florida) at fullback.

Halfback Jim Brown of Syracuse and fullback Paige Cothren of Mississippi will be the closest competitors.

The Giants, who have played in one other All-Star game when they took a 9-0 decision in 1939, had one of the best balanced backfield in the NFL last year. With Chuck Conerly at quarterback, the trio of Frank Gifford, Alex Webster and Mel Triplett each picked up over 500 yards on the ground last year.

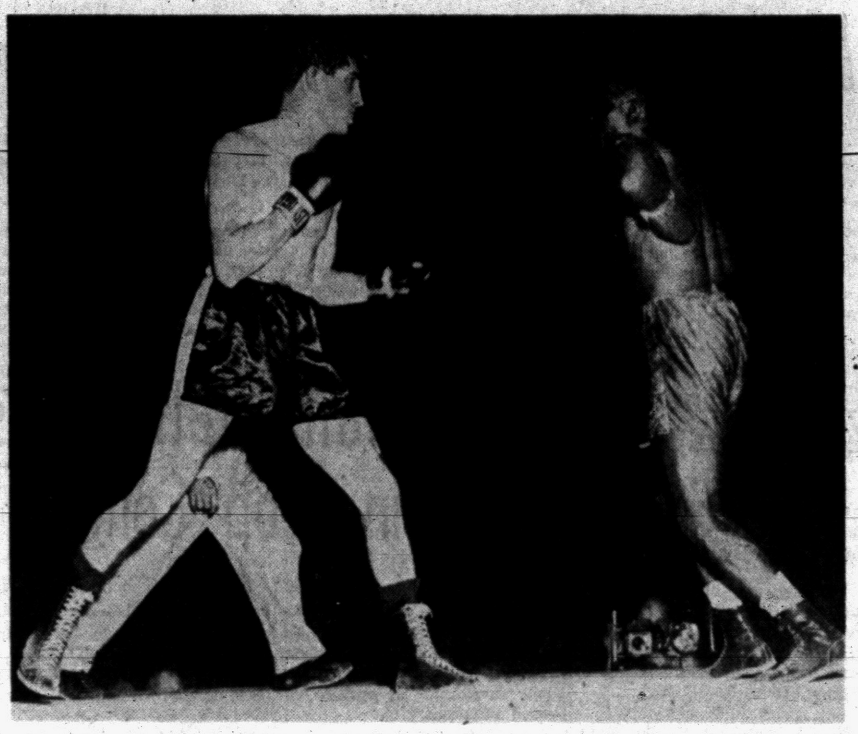

Even with some of the best linemen in 1956 college ranks, the Stars are not expected to match the defensive wall made up of Dick Modzelewski (260) Walt Yowarsky (235) John Bauer (260) Larry Wesley (240) and Charley Toogood (235).

Only one player is missing from the Giant regulars. He is tackle Roosevelt Grier now in the service. The New Yorkers will make it rough on the All-Star runners in view of the fact that in the rushing department they allowed the opponents only 1,443 yards on the ground.

A warm night is predicted and a crowd between 75,000 and 80,000 is expected.

The largest staff of newspaper men in history of the classic, over 400, from every corner of the United States make up the press box force.

The game will be televised at 8:30 p.m. on ABC Channel 7 in Detroit.

'Tug' Wilson Says New Plan Aids Regulation

CHICAGO (AP)—Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Big Ten commissioner, today called the conference's controversial new financial aid plan "an effective answer to the problem of regulating aid to athletes which has plagued colleges for so many years.

"There was a sharp difference within the conference regarding the program," Wilson told a meeting of the Football Writers Assn. of America.

But, the Big Ten administrator, who recently suspended Indiana Coach Phil Dickens for a violation of the code, said:

"There definitely is a growing acceptance and approval of the plan among our people, as administrators and coaches have had a chance to see it in operation."

Walter Byer, executive administrator of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn., also was scheduled to appear before the group to discuss the current status of NCAA code violations.

The new Western Conference financial code was adopted in May by a 6-4 vote from faculty representatives.

The Big Ten plan now provides that member schools can give financial assistance to athletes up to the cost of room, board, tuition, and books on the basis of superior scholarship or demonstrated need.

Wilson today told the writers group a total of 911 tenders of aid on the basis of either factor have been given 776 boys by the conference.

The commissioner said 691 prospective athletes accepted the tender, an 89 per cent acceptance reply.

Minor Manager Shot by Porter

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP) — J.C. Dunn, manager of the Ardmore Cardinals of the Sooner State Baseball League, was shot twice by a Negro hotel porter during a game last night, police said.

James Johnson, about 32, was taken into custody by a patrolman at the ballpark.

Police said the Ardmore team had an argument earlier yesterday with the porter.

Physicians said Dunn's condition was not critical. They said one bullet bounced off a rib and the other was imbedded in his right thigh.

Tom Anderson, trainer for the Ardmore club, said he saw Johnson start shooting into a group of Ardmore players near the dugout.

Medal Golf Tourney This Weekend

City Crown at Stake

Twenty-six of the finest amateurs in the Pontiac area will go in quest of the coveted City Medal Play golf championship Saturday and Sunday at Pontiac Municipal course.

The parade to the 1st tee gets under way tomorrow at 12 o'clock noon for the opening 18-hole round. Sunday firing starts at the same time and by 5 o'clock that afternoon the 1957 city champion will be known.

Four former champs — Ed Wasik, Paul Bada, Mike Andonian and Glenn Harding — and defending titlist Ron Rothbarth are included in the star-studded field, along with Walt Latozas who was last Saturday's top qualifier.

Other players of par-busting reputation who must be considered definite threats are Dick DeWitt, Dick Robertson, Chuck Barker, Joe Burgdorf, Butler Cooper and youthful Jack Reynolds, to name just a few.

This year's most notable absentee is Lloyd Syron, state amateur titleholder who was runner-up in last year's city tournament. Syron is playing golf in Grosse Ile this weekend.

Andonian, state publinx champ for the past two years, and Bada, who always scores well on the Municipal layout, look like the top contenders for Rothbarth's crown.

Harding is always a dangerous competitor, although his game has been erratic this season. The long-hitting Robertson, who blows hot and cold, could be hot this time around while Wasik and Cooper can never be overlooked.

This year's field will have to go some to duplicate last year's dramatic 36-hole tourney. In that one Syron apparently had the title in the bag until Rothbarth came steaming home with a phenomenal 29 to tie Lloyd. Ron went on to beat him in sudden death overtime on the 2nd hole.

Trophies will be awarded to the champion and runner-up while golf balls go to the holders of the next four places. The annual tournament is sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

SATURDAY'S PAIRINGS

12:00—Paul Barnum, John Rogers and Ed Wasik.
12:08—Hud Powers, Chuck Barker and Bill Stolloff.
12:16—Paul Bada, Howard Peterson and Bob Gaines.
12:24—Joe Burgdorf, Walt Latozas and Dick DeWitt.
12:32—Mike Andonian, Bill Pembroke and Andy Lindsay.
12:40—Glenn Harding, Nick Cantor and Harley Hyatt.
12:48—Butler Cooper, Sam Coleman, Dick Robertson and Ron Rothbarth.
12:56—Rube Wideman, Jim Pembroke, Jack Reynolds and Emmanuel Gorams.

Braves Increase NL Lead, Sox Whittle Yankee Edge

NEW YORK (INS) — If Milwaukee ends up playing in the 1957 World Series, Aug. 6-7-8 probably will be commemorated with an annual festival in the beer city.

On Tuesday morning, Milwaukee trailed league-leading St. Louis by a half-game with Brooklyn 2½ behind the Cards in third place.

Today, after the Braves won three in a row and both St. Louis and Brooklyn lost three straight, Milwaukee leads the Cards by 2½ and the Dodgers by five games.

The Milwaukee sweep was against Cincinnati while the seventh-place Chicago Cubs took care of St. Louis. But nobody received more pure pleasure from the three days than the New York Giants who poured it on their Brooklyn rivals.

The sixth-place Giants lost Monday to the Dodgers but then in quick succession they shut our the Brooks, followed that by winning on a five-run ninth inning rally and las night, absolutely routed their cross-river foes.

The Giants scored four times in the first inning, five times in the second and then coasted behind Ruben Gomez' seven-hit pitching to a 12-to-3 victory. Hank Sauer and Willie Mays helped the rout along with homers.

Sal Maglie, the former Giant ace, was the victim of the New York attack, losing his fifth game in ten decisions. Gomez lifted his record to 12-and-9 despite a homer by Bob Kennedy.

The Cubs, behind Moe Drabowsky and reliever Dave Hillman, edged the Cards, 4 to 3, to win their sixth in a row. Red Schoendienst, who was acquired as "pennant insurance" for Milwaukee, singled home the two tie-breaking runs in the eighth as Milwaukee beat Cincinnati, 5 to 3. Granny Hamner's two-run homer gave Phillies a 6-to-3 win over Pittsburgh that lifted the Phils into a fourth-place tie with the Redlegs. Both teams are seven games off the pace.

In the American League, the New York lead dwindled to five games as the Yankees lost again to Washington, 6 to 1, and Russ Kemmerer. Earl Torgeson's two homers sparked the Chicago White Sox to a 7-to-4 victory over Kansas City. Baltimore beat Boston, 3 to 1, as Ken Lehman snuffed out a Red Sox rally.

Layne Leads Single TD Drive in Lion Scrimmage

DETROIT (AP) — Veteran Bobby Layne spearheaded the single scoring drive the offense was able to put together yesterday in the Detroit Lions' first full-scale scrimmage of the season.

In most phases of the 75-minute workout, the defense was far ahead of the offense.

Layne moved 80 yards in 12 plays on the last drive of the afternoon, connecting on two passes to end Jim Doran and one to halfback Don Daley.

John Henry Johnson, acquired by the Lions from the San Francisco 49ers, made the touchdown on a line buck.

The offense had the ball 13 times, about the average number in a regulation ball game.

Layne completed 7 out of 13 passes for 137. Tom Tracy was the leading ball carrier, gaining 46 yards on eight carries. Doran led the receiving with four catches for 83 yards.

Tobin Rote, Gene Gedman, Gil Mains, Bob Gunderman, and Dick Kercher were sidelined with minor injuries.

Coach Buddy Parker today named linebacker Joe Schmidt as the club's team captain for the coming campaign. Joe was the Lion's captain last year.

Giants' Move Expected Soon

NEW YORK (INS)—The question of whether the New York Giants will move to San Francisco probably will be answered within ten days and the odds are strong that the answer will be "yes."

Giants president Horace Stoneham said last night he had received the official San Francisco offer to move to that city. He stated: "It appeals to me as a very reasonable offer."

Stoneham further declared that he will relay details of the proposal along with his recommendation, to the club's board of directors at a meeting to be held "within the next ten days."

Creekmur, the 250-pound veteran who is starting his eighth season with the Lions, and Ane, the 265-pounder starting his fifth campaign, are almost inseparable companies.

Creekmur has played in 130 straight games for the Lions. The string includes pre-season, regular season and championship games.

Stadium Proposal Hit

LANSING (AP) — A dream of a state-financed, 15 million dollar stadium to bring the 1964 Olympics to Detroit was deflated by some hard financial facts dealt out by Gov. Williams here yesterday.

A five-man Detroit Olympic committee headed by chairman Fred C. Matthaei carried the proposal to the governor.

"We need some firm commitment from the state to strengthen our bid for the 1964 Olympics," Matthaei explained. "We want to know how to get the state to finance such a stadium."

Matthaei said something solid was needed to help sell the U. S. site screening committee on Detroit and outweigh the bids of Philadelphia and Los Angeles, which already have stadiums capable of handling the Olympics.

Such a committee probably will be meeting within a month, he said.

Williams said he was heartily in favor of Detroit getting the 1965 Olympics and would do everything he could to work for that end.

"But this is the first I've heard of the state paying for the stadium," he said.

The governor was asked if the Detroit committee could say that he would recommend such an appropriation to the legislature.

"If the screening committee knows their stuff," Williams said, "they'll know the mere fact that I recommend it doesn't mean it's going to be appropriated. This year they didn't even appropriate the money I recommended to build schools and colleges."

Tiger Bats Silenced by Narleski, 3-1

DETROIT (AP) — There is a unique parallel in the sudden emergence of Ray Narleski and Jim Bunning as starting pitchers.

Over the past month, Narleski, the hard-throwing Cleveland Indian righthander, has proved to one and all that he really does have enough stamina to go the nine-inning route.

Narleski did it for the fourth time in seven starts yesterday, spacing six hits as his mates took a 3-1 verdict from the Detroit Tigers.

In recent seasons Narleski has teamed up with southpaw Don Mossi and the Cleveland "relief twins"—as they were known—comprised the most feared bullpen in either major league. An assortment of injuries to Cleveland's regular starters forced manager Kerby Farrell to dig into the bullpen for front-line help.

Mossi and Narleski have provided the help that has kept the Indians in the American League's first division, despite a season-long injury to Herb Score and lesser injuries and inadequate performances by such former standouts as Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia.

Unbeaten as a starter, Narleski got limited assistance for his ninth triumph against a single loss yesterday. But so effective was the 28-year-old hurler that only a minumum of assistance was needed.

Narleski looked like a pitcher who was quite accustomed to a starting role. He was stronger, if anything, as the game wore into the late stages.

Bunning, the tall Detroit righthander, is another pitcher who apparently was doomed to the bullpen because the Tiger bosses were certain he didn't have the stamina to be a starter. Bunning, too, has fooled the experts, winning 13 of 17 decisions and completing 9 of 18 starts.

Narleski yielded only Reno Bertoia's second home run, and it came in the fifth inning with the bases unoccupied. There weren't too many other scoring opportunities.

Bertoia doubled to left center leading off in the seventh but failed to touch first base. The Tigers put two runners on base with one out in the first and didn't score. Harvey Kuenn, who had two hits in four trips, doubled with two out in the sixth and Frank Bolling drew a walk but Red Wilson popped out to end the mild threat.

The Indians scored once off Duke Maas in the first with Vic Wertz bringing in the run with a long fly to center. Catcher Hal Naragon drove in the run that broke a 1-1 deadlock in the eighth. Roger Maris had singled and taken second on a bunt before Naragon, a .188 hitter who had batted in only six rnus before yesterday's contest, came through with a single.

Wertz slammed his 19th home run into the upper right field pavilion in the ninth against Harry Byrd, who pitched the final 1⅓ innings.

Wildness kept Maas in trouble all afternoon as he evened his record at 8-8. He walked six batters and the Indians hit safely off him in every inning except the seventh.

Paul Foytack (12-10) opposed Dick Donovan (12-3) as the Tigers invaded Chicago today to open a weekend series.

Training Camp in Action

Fighters Begin Local Drills

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Training camp has been set up near the scene of action for Tuesday's Wisner Stadium feature bout between Mickey Crawford of Saginaw and Sammy Rodgers of Benton Harbor.

A ring and workout facilities have been erected on the Cass Avenue parking lot near the stadium and the fighters, who are now in the city, will continue their workouts here for the next three days.

Rodgers arrived in Pontiac this morning from Chicago where he has been fighting since turning pro. His home is in Benton Harbor, where he established quite a record for himself in amateur ranks by winning 140 of 144 starts.

Crawford has been working out for the past 10 days at the Motor City arena in Detroit. He was not doing any sparring until this week because of the severely gashed nose which he suffered in the Pat Lowry scrap three weeks ago in Saginaw.

"The nose is in good shape, completely healed," said Crawford's manager Art Greenwald.

The fighters will have a pair of well known visitors watching the workouts today which start at 5:00 p.m. Chuck Davey, former Michigan welterweight and ex-NCAA champ from MSU, along with Chuck Spieser, light heavyweight also an MSU product, are expected to watch the sessions this afternoon.

Davey who stayed around 147 in his heyday would probably be in Spieser's weight class now. The little scrapper is selling insurance in the Pontiac area.

Spieser has not been in the ring since losing by way of a kayo to Tony Anthony in Detroit 3 months ago.

Also a resident of the area, now living in Union Lake, observers say Spieser will be back with a late September bout.

Osee Groom, shooting for his 5th victory since joining the pro ranks after getting national recognition in the Golden Gloves, will also do some sparring today in preparation for his fight against heavyweight Bill Pickett of New York.

The fighters will continue workouts at the Wisner site at 4:00 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Monday they will remain in their hotel rooms, and Tuesday they will be at the commissioner's office in Detroit for the noon weigh-in.

The fights get underway at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday, with the 10-round feature between Crawford and Rodgers set for 8:30.

Other bouts on the card include John Powell, 1956 Golden Gloves champ against Bill Mc Coy, former AAU welterweight champion in a five-rounder.

Unbeaten lightweight scrapper Johnny Palmer of Dayton, O. may face his stiffest competition against Edgar Gregory, recent Golden Gloves champ from Detroit who is now in the pro ranks.

In the light heavyweight feature, handsome Ducky Dietz, a hard purcher from Detroit, will face Huey Rader of Dayton.

Coast Archer, U.S. Champion

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Joe Fries of Los Angeles, who makes his own bows, is still the national men's champion archer.

He broke one of the bows yesterday in the wind-up of the National Archery Assn. tourney, but shot through to an eight-point victory over Sylvester Chessman of Parma, Ohio, 3,333-3,325.

World champion Carole Meinhart of Pittsburgh, Pa., won the women's title which she also took last year.

Mr. Chief Top Pacer for Jackson Feature

JACKSON — Six of the best pacers on the grounds will go postward at Jackson Harness Raceway tonight in the Lansing Handicap Trot at one mile.

Heading this small but talented field is Mr. Chief who now shares the track record with West Amboy for one mile on the pace at 2:04 1-5.

West Amboy, owned by Ralph Barnaby, passes this test but Martin Van Wyk's Holland-owned Mr. Chief has five formidable rivals contesting his right to victory number six this year.

NHL's Campbell Backs Norris in Loop Conduct

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Celler (D-NY) says sports promoter James D. Norris' holdings in more than one team of the National Hockey League might make the public suspicious "of possible untoward situations."

And Rep. Keating (R-NY) echoed that feeling yesterday, saying it seemed the arrangement could create in the public mind the "possibility of agreements" that might not be good.

The remarks came at the closing session of a house subcommittee, headed by Celler, which has been studying the applicability of antitrust laws to professional team sports.

Norris told the group he and his family had an interest in three hockey teams.

Celler asked if partial dual ownership might not violate league rules.

C. S. Campbell, president of the league, said there was no rule violation, and that the league's governors had approved the plan. Campbell added he feels the Norris family's conduct of hockey has always been good.

Norris testified (1) that he and Arthur M. Wirtz hold a little less than 40 per cent of the stock of Madison Square Garden Corp., which operates the New York Rangers hockey team; (2) that he and Wirtz own the Chicago Blackhawks; and (3) that his half brother and half sisters own more than 90 per cent of the Detroit Olympia Stadium and the Red Wings team.

Norris said the ownership plan was well known. Campbell said the league governors had urged Norris to acquire the Blackhawks in the interest of the league.

Two players, Ted Lindsay of the Blackhawks and Doug Harvey of Montreal, said there was no shortage of competition among hockey players.

Hanson Winner of Senior Title

DETROIT (AP)—Jack M. Hanson, a 57-year-old Detroit golfer who narrowly missed winning the Michigan Seniors golf tournament title twice before, captured the crown for the first time Wednesday by one stroke.

Hanson, who was runnerup for the title in 1953 and 1956, shot 34-41 — 75 yesterday at Detroit Golf Club. The 75 was added to the 71 he shot Tuesday for a total 146 and gave Hanson a one stroke victory over Herman C. Arold of Ann Arbor.

Hanson fired his first round 71 on DGC's 5,801 south course and the second round 75 on the tougher 6,749 north course.

Stadium Class A Champion

Stadium Inn, which wallowed in the American division cellar during the regular City League softball season, brought a tournament of upsets to a fitting conclusion last night by winning the city Class A championship.

Behind the sturdy four-hit pitching of Verle Sheldon, Stadium nosed out Bicmar Inn, 2-1, in the finals at Beaudette Park. The win qualifies Stadium to represent Pontiac in the 'A' district tourney here Aug. 15-18.

Bicmar, also a surprise finalist because of its dismal season, gave Stadium all it could handle behind the six-hit hurling of Lynus Grant.

Stadium took a 1-0 lead in the 1st inning on Art Bird's single and a double by Ray White, but Bicmar tied the count with one blow as Jack Ganzel homered in the 3rd. Glenn Wilson's single, followed by Eldon Sharrard's two-bagger, scored the winning run for Stadium in the 6th.

Class B Louie's Tavern, the Pontiac Police in Class C and Stadium comprise this city's entries in the MRA district tournaments. Shaw's Jewelers enter the 'AA' major tournament Aug. 15-18 at Roseville.

North Side Auto Sales tied Commerce Drive-In Theater for 1st place in the girls' league with a 3-0 triumph at North Side Park as Jerry Bender tossed a two hit shutout. Each team now owns a 10-2 record and a playoff for the title will be necessary.

Marilyn Sternberger and Connie Reaver of the West Side Merchants and Gingellville's Nancy Johnson all clouted homers as the Merchants won a 15-7 slugfest.

Hart and Lions Come to Terms

DETROIT (AP)—Veteran Leon Hart has won his contract fight with the Detroit Lions.

The one-time All-American end from Notre Dame came to terms yesterday with club president Edwin J. Anderson, ending a 10-day holdout over salary and a protection clause in his contract.

He was to report for practice today with the National Football League club.

Hart had balked at taking a salary cut from an estimated 14,000 to about $12,000. And he had said he would not sgn without a clause that would keep the Lions from waiving, trading or selling him without a mutually satisfactory financial arrangement.

Hart said this clause had been in his contract over the last four seasons. He insisted it be kept in this year because of family and business ties in the Detroit area.

While neither the Lions nor Hart would disclose terms of the pact, it was understood the 250-pound veteran of seven seasons got the same contract he had last year.

Hart Favored, 7-5 Over Virgil Akins

CLEVELAND (AP) — Although third-ranked Virgil Akins is six notches above Sugar Hart in the most recent Ring Magazine welterweight ratings, Hart has been established as a 7-5 favorite for their televised bout tonight in Cleveland's Public Hall.

Matchmaker Larry Atkins thinks the oddsmakers are going against the experts because of Hart's frequent and impressive TV battles. Tonight's 10-round bout will be on NBC radio-TV at 9 p.m., EST.

Hart's rapid rise was slowed by Walter Byars in a late winter bout. Akins was upset by Franz Szuzina at St. Louis last July 8.

Snead Paces 'World' Test

CHICAGO (AP)—The locker room banter at Tam O'Shanter golf club went this way today as the best 100 pros in the country prepared for the second round of the $101,200 "World" golf championship:

"To have Sam Snead breathing down your back is bad enough. But to have the guy in front—oh, man!"

Snead, 45, is supposed to be the richest golf pro. He swung into the second round of golf's biggest treasure hunt with a one-stroke lead.

Snead fired an opening 7-under-par 65 yesterday to gain the front-running spot which over the years he has been known to maintain through a tournament. This prize is golf's biggest payoff—$50,000 in cash and a $50,000 exhibition contract.

But Snead wasn't away and flying after the frist round. One stroke away at 66 was Jerry Barber, always a contender in this jamboree. There also was a batch of closely grouped par-busters not far behind.

At 67 was Canadian Al Balding. Bracketed at 68, were Shelly Mayfield, Mike Souchak and Dow Finsterwald, who has finished in the money in 58 consecutive tournaments. The 69 shooters included Earl Stewart, Jack Fleck, Tony Holguin, Ken Venturi, Bob Rosburg, Bo Wininger and Ernie Vossler.

Other leaders in the "World" competition were as closely bunched.

Clifford Ann Creed of Opelousas, La., topped the women amateurs with 81. She was two strokes ahead of Lois Drafke, Chicago.

Marilynn Smith, playing one of her finest rounds in two years, notched a 5-under-par 71 to lead the women's pro chase for a $6,000 first prize. Two strokes away was Mary Lena Faulk.

Harry Hacker of Lake Orion

Remember the Sports Stars of Yore?

(This is the 17th of a series of articles about former outstanding athletes from Pontiac and Oakland County and what they are doing today. We feature today Harry Hacker of Lake Orion. Tomorrow we feature Fred Ziem.)

One of Lake Orion's best known athletes of the years gone by who is still well known there as the operator of a shoe store is Harry Hacker.

All Tri-County League in basketball twice and football once and a standout in baseball, he had an impressive career wearing the green and white. Harry missed by only one season of playing varsity ball four years in each of the three sports. He played football three years.

Lake Orion was making a good name in all sports in those days, especially in basketball. The Dragons were district hoop champions twice and regional runnersup once when Hacker was the team's scoring ace at forward.

"It was a much slower game then. I don't remember what my scoring average was but it wasn't anything like they make today," said Harry.

George Lauer, now Dean of Records at Central Michigan College, was coaching all three sports at Orion during those late twenties. Howard Griggs and Charles Kelly were some of the other top performers there in those days.

Hacker's football days as a topnotch quarterback ended after high school but he continued to play sandlot baseball for 10 years. He also kept his hand in basketball and played some softball in local leagues.

"I had wanted to go to college but the depression came about the time I graduated so I went to work," recalled the Lake Orion man.

Hacker confines his sports activities now to attending games as a spectator or following through papers, radio and TV.

The Army veteran of three years in World War II, most of which was spent in the South Pacific, went to work full time for his father, Clyde, after returning from the war and took over the business three years ago when the elderly man retired.

Handling the 43-year-old business, which he started learning when still in school, and following sports keeps Hacker active but he also finds time for some hunting and fishing.

He ranks among the area's strongest boosters for the present day Lake Orion High athletic teams.

HACKER IN 1939

Johnny Kucks led the Yankee pitchers in work during spring exhbitions. He pitched 41 innings. Tom Sturdivant was second with 33 innings.

Marjorie Burns Only American in Tourney

MONTREAL (AP) — Marjorie Burns, tall, bespectacled Greensboro, N.C., lass is fast becoming a favorite to walk off with the Canadian Ladies' Open amateur golf championship.

She is the lone American contender left for the semifinals. Today she meets May Gay of Calgary, while Betty Stanhope of Edmonton and Roma Neundorf of Toronto meet in the lower half.

Dealers Get Deer Tags

LANSING (AP)—The six week long job of distributing 1,700,000 deer and small game licenses to 4,200 license dealers has gotten under way, the state conservation department reported today.

THURSDAY'S STARS

PITCHING — Russ Kemmerer, Senators, shut out Yankees for eight innings on five singles and wound up with a 6-1, seven-hit victory.

BATTING — Earl Torgeson, White Sox, drove in five runs with two home runs, a double and a sacrifice fly in 7-4 victory over Athletics.

Average rainfall at Phoenix, Arizona is 7.7 inches per year.

Britain Has Vaccine to Fight Asian Flu

LONDON (AP)—Britain announced today it has a new vaccine believed capable of fighting Asian flu.

"We are producing the vaccine and we hope that first supplies will be on sale in the shops within a month," said Dr. Freddy Himmelweit, director of research at the Institute of Microbiology, St. Mary's Hospital.

"The vaccine will be taken by injection and it is hoped that about a quarter of a teaspoonful will give immunity for one season."

Dr. Himmelweit said the vaccine had been tested satisfactorily on 120 army and air force volunteers.

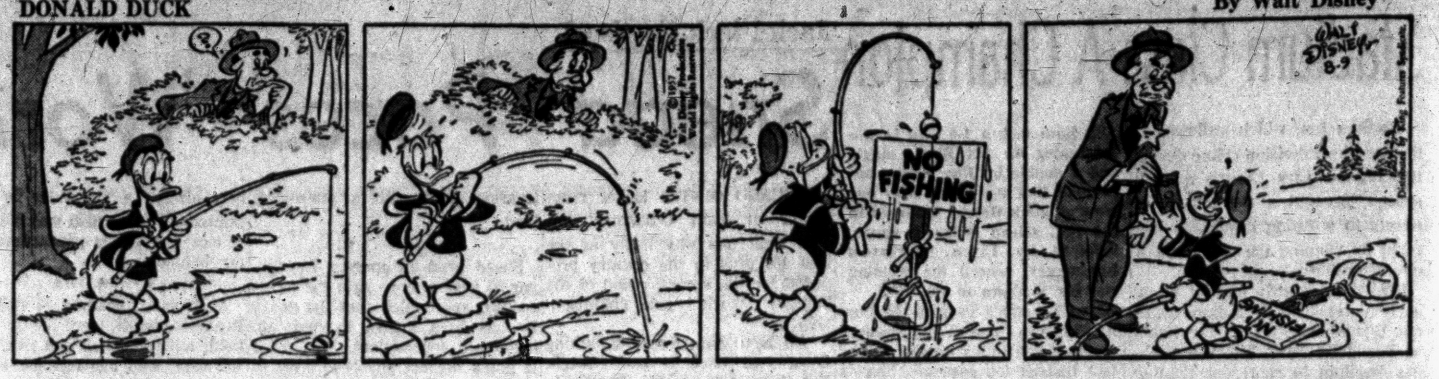

Health experts here have predicted that Britain will be hit by an epidemic in the fall. They have been working since mid-May to devise a vaccine. Samples of the influenza virus were flown to London from the Far East.

Soybeans Only Grain Fireworks

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans provided about the only fireworks in a quiet futures market on the Board of Trade today with a little selling which pushed prices downward.

Traders in most pits were sitting on their hands awaiting a government crop report as of Aug. 1, due to be issued after the close of trading. The figures on soybeans particularly, and also on corn, will be of paramount interest.

A bearish private crop forecast was the chief selling influence in soybeans, but price dips were confined to major fractions most of the time.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was unchanged to ½ lower, Sept. $2.15⅝; corn was unchanged to ¼ off, Sept. $1.31; oats were ⅛ to ¼ lower, Sept. 64⅝; rye was ¼ higher to ¼ lower, Sept. $1.35¾; soybeans were ¼ to 1 cent lower, Sept. $2.46¼; and lard was 10 cents a hundred pounds higher to 7 cents lower, Sept. $12.92.

4 Die as Plane Crashes in Lake

Airport Man Watches Private Craft Nosedive Near Petoskey

PETOSKEY (AP) — Four men — a father and his two sons, one of whom was an Air Force pilot, and a veteran Michigan flier—were killed yesterday when their four-passenger plane nosedived into Lake Michigan.

Only an oil slick marked the spot where the single engine private craft spiraled into the water about a mile off Good Hart in Emmet county some 20 miles north of here.

Witnesses said it appeared the pilot, Donald Watkins, 65, of Boyne City, had suffered some sort of an attack.

Killed along with Watkins were Edward Starback, 57, also of Boyne City, Charlevoix County conservation officer, and his two sons, Maj. Richard Starback, 35, of Washington and Carlton Starback, 26, of Wayne County.

The four were en route from Boyne City to Beaver Island to get a boat the elder Starback left there last night. Beaver Island is a popular summer resort area in Lake Michigan about 30 miles off the mainland.

Richard was on leave from the Air Force and Carlton was on vacation. Both were home for a reunion.

Al Phillips, operator of the Emmet County Airport near Good Hart, said he watched the plane spiral into the water.

He said the pilot apparently had suffered an attack, leaving him unable to control the plane.

The Coast Guard said the plane sank in 200 feet of water. Because of the depth no attempt was made to raise the plane immediately.

Drug Store Break-In Costs Owner $300

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department reported a breakin early this morning at Gelberg's Drug Store, M59 at Williams Lake Rd.

Deputies were attracted by the ringing burglar alarm. They found more than $300 stolen from the store.

Taken from cash registers was $74.45 plus another $48 in rolls of quarters and pennies, deputies reported. $200 cash was taken from a cash drawer.

Also missing were 11 cigarette lighters valued at about $100, and eight or nine cartons of cigarettes.

Hundreds Still Searching for Pikes Peak Climber

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —Parts of Pike's Peak considered too rough for horses will be explored today in the four-day-old search for an 88-year-old woman mountain climber.

Other groups of volunteers and sheriff's deputies planned to track across lower levels of the famed mountain for the first time, and more than 100 searchers will check the upper half of the 14,100-foot peak.

Mrs. Ernestine B. Roberts of Colorado Springs disappeared on her way down from the summit, on foot and alone. She was due at a halfway lodge Monday night.

Motels 44 Years Old

Friendly Lizard Still Missing Near University

EAST LANSING (AP)—Still missing . . . one lizard . . . five feet three inches long . . . orange and black . . . South American by nationality . . . answers to name of Igor . . owners says is affectionate.

The missing lizard report should also mention that the lizard can climb trees, run as fast as a slow dog and is non-poisonous.

Igor the Iguana, a lizard on the loose, was still real gone today. The South American reptile escaped Wednesday from the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity where it was kept as a house pet.

East Lansing police said they have given up any organized search and that there were no lizard reports during the night.

Owner Herb Wendt, a junior from Tawas City, said Igor likes heat and probably will be found basking in the sun someplace.

Despite his frightening appearance—resembling a small dragon —Igor is affectionate, Wendt said, and likes to be scratched on the tummy.

It's pretty hard to hide five feet three inches of lizard. But Igor is doing it.

She was reported in satisfactory condition today by a hospital spokesman.

Aircrafts, Oils Steels Down

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved slightly lower in quiet early trading today.

Steels, aircrafts and oils were off fractions to a point, while most other divisions were mixed.

Steel stocks were lower in fairly large opening blocks. U. S. Steel opened off one on a block of 3,000 shares, then cut the loss to a fraction. Bethlehem began down ¼ on a block of 4,000 shares and held about that level. Youngstown Sheet & Tube declined a major fraction.

In the oils, Amerada lost more than a point. Standard Oil (New Jersey), Sinclair, Texas Co. and Royal Dutch gave up fractions.

Douglas, United Aircraft and Boeing were down fractions. General Dynamics was about steady after announcing a sharp increase in earnings.

Chrysler was up a fraction and General Motors a shade lower in a dull motor division. Rails were showing little trend.

Small gainers included International Paper, General Electric, Westinghouse, Loew's, Air Reduction, Goodyear, Anaconda and Southern Pacific.

Study Political Leaders

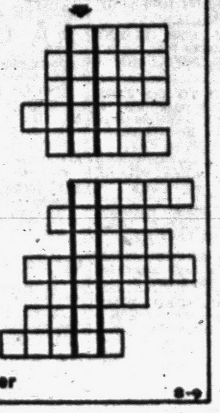

FLORENCE, Italy — Prof. Giovanni Sartori and a number of his colleagues at the University of Florence have undertaken a study of the problem of political representation in terms of the circulation of elite groups of political leaders. They will try to find out the degree to which political leadership in Italy has been marked by change in terms of social classes and economic and political groups by tracing the pattern of leadership over an important part of the last 50 years.

Parcel Delivery Service Starts

State Authorizes Firm for Southern Michigan Pickup Work

LANSING (AP) — United Parcel Service, Inc. is now authorized to inaugurate a pickup and delivery service in the southern half of Michigan.

An order by the state Public Service Commission described the service as unique in the state.

Supporters of the application, mostly small merchants, testified at hearings before the commission there was a need for an expeditious small package delivery service.

They expressed dissatisfaction, the commission order said, with some phases of services in this area provided by Railway Express, motor carriers, bus lines and parcel post.

Railway Express, Greyhound Bus and some common carriers appeared in opposition.

United proposed to make delivery the day following pickup, and to operate on a zone basis within the overall territory, each zone having a central parcel exchange point.

The authorization specifically excluded transportation of commodities sold by department stores and specialty shops between such stores and their customers or warehouses.

The order was signed by Commissioners Maurice J. Hunt and James H. Lee. Otis Smith, newly installed commission chairman, did not take part in the case.

The commission said United has extensive experience in the field in other states.

Board Hikes Discount Rates

Four District Federal Reserve Banks Affected; Expect Order Extended

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board, moving to restrain credit expansion and thus curb inflation, has ordered another one-half per cent increase in the discount rate at four district banks.

The increase to 3½ per cent is effective today in Chicago, Kansas City, Philadelphia and Minneapolis. It brings the discount rate to the highest level in 23 years. The last previous boost came nearly a year ago.

The increase is expected to be extended to eight remaining reserve banks, but there may be some time lag before this happens. These banks are in New York, Boston, San Francisco, Cleveland, Richmond, Atlanta, St. Louis and Dallas.

Announcing the action, the reserve board said yesterday it followed recommendations of directors of the banks in the four affected reserve districts.

The discount rate is the charge levied by the Federal Reserve when member banks borrow from it. The higher rate is intended to discourage such borrowing. This in turn tends to limit the funds available for commercial lending.

Ford's Edsel Cars to Come Out Sept. 4

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co's much-publicized new Edsel line of cars, will be introduced in approximately 1,200 dealer showrooms across the country on Sept. 4.

The company, announcing this today, said more than 20,000 of the new medium-priced cars will be in dealer hands at that time. Production of the new car began in several assembly plants about three weeks ago.

Henry Ford II, president, said more than three years of work and 250 million dollars have gone into the styling, engineering and testing of the new line.

Intended to fill out Ford's line of competitive models, the Edsel will be produced in two series priced between the Ford and Mercury series and two between the Mercury and the Lincoln series. In addition there will be several station wagon models.

New Sports Car on Market Soon

Cleveland Firm to Start Selling the 'Argonaut' in Mid-September

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Cleveland firm plans to put a new sports car on the market in mid-September, and follow with two less expensive cars to compete with small foreign makes.

John S. Parker, vice president and sales director of the new firm, said yesterday he could not disclose the price nor construction details of the new sports car, to be called the "Argonaut." However, he said it will appeal to "the executive sportsman."

The new car will have a low center of gravity, with a two-seat cockpit, tubular frame and adjustable front and rear shock absorbers.

Parker said all but the engine will be built at an undisclosed plant in Cleveland. The special V-8 engine will be built by Chrysler.

He said a prototype has been given a private showing for Detroit engineers.

The company hopes to produce 500 "Argonauts" a year and distribute them through foreign car agencies, Parker said.

Parker declined to name the company or the persons associated with him, although he said it had been organized as a closed corporation.

"We prefer to maintain privacy until all our show cars have been produced," he remarked. Parker declined also to say what the corporation's capitalization was.

He identified his associates only as northern Ohio and Pennsylvania businessmen and industrialists.

Eve Arden's Pen Pals Are Famous Names

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD—Eve Arden, the prankish rancher and TV star, names her livestock after Hollywood's more spectacular celebrities.

"Those poor Gabor sisters," Eve was telling me here. "It's so hot these days—and they have all that fur on them."

"Fur on them?" I asked.

"Yes, Zsa Zsa, Eva and Magda Gabor are the names of our best sheep. And we had to shoot Marilyn Monroe. She was such a lovely heifer, too."

"Why did you have to shoot her?"

"She swallowed some baling wire, I think," replied the "Miss Brooks" of radio and TV.

WILSON

"We have three roosters named Aly Khan, Porfiria Rubirosa and Elvis Presley," Miss Arden went on. "And there's another very old rooster named Tommy Manville."

Eve does her ranching 40 miles out in Hidden Valley, so the celebrities she has honored have never seen their namesakes.

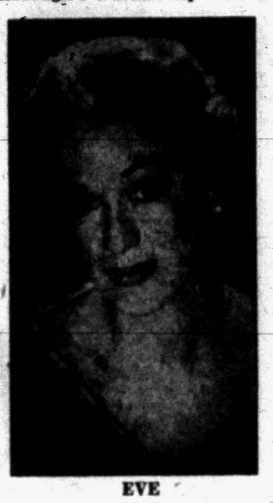

Comes autumn, there'll be a new Eve Arden Show following Phil Silvers, based on Emily Kimbrough's lecture experiences.

"Were you tired of 'Miss Brooks'?" I asked.

"No, but we changed the format, the writing group broke up, and I thought it was better to stop."

Eve and her husband—Brooks West, actor and writer—whom she met long after she'd started "Miss Brooks"—are raising four children and battling forest fires when not doing TV. Some days they hardly have time to think of another celebrity's name to give some animal . . . but just as a warning . . . they're thinking of going in for pigs shortly.

CBS already has sold "The Honeymooners" in syndication deals for $200,000 more than it paid Gleason for them . . .

Hans Conreid is expected to join Hildegarde's "International Show" series, a filmed musical somesuch taking Hildy through all manner of foreign backgrounds. Hans would play her press agent . . .

Harry Revel, who wrote more popular hits than you could shake a baton at ("Dream Walking," "Paris in the Spring," "Stay as Sweet as You Are," "Love Thy Neighbor," ad infinitum) will be musical director and composer . . .

Danny Thomas signed reciprocal deals (meaning appearances on each other's TV shows with no cash exchanged) with Sinatra, Jack Benny, Desi and Lucy . . .

The Bob Cummings Show tries too hard constantly to fill every line with gags. It fails most of the time . . .

Lawrence Welk's entire European junket was paid for by a very grateful TV sponsor . . .

Autopsy Needed to Decide Which Snake Has Died

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Zoologist Frank B. Meacham planned an autopsy on a timber rattlesnake at the North Carolina Museum today.

Meacham, who conducted a write-in poll for names for a pair of the snakes, wants to know which one died yesterday — the male or the female.

The winning names were Smoky for the male and Cherokee for the female. The snakes were captured on the Cherokee Indian reservation in the Great Smoky mountains.

Meacham's contest drew such entries as Ike and Mamie, Adam and Eve, Napoleon and Josephine and Hitler and Stalin.

Only an autopsy will tell which snake died.

22-Month-Old Boy Stabs His Father

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A young father is in critical condition today from a wound police say was given him by a steak knife in the hands of his 22-month-old son.

State Police Cpl. Jonah Reese said the father, Thomas Norris, 20, New Philadelphia, told him he was playing on the living room sofa with his boy when Thomas Jr. plunged the six-inch steak knife three inches into his chest near the heart.

Norris told Reese he had left the knife under the sofa after using it to fix the television set. He said he had no idea the child had found the knife until the youngster stabbed him.

Why, Why Do We Smoke? For Psychological Pleasure

By EDWIN DIAMOND
INS Science Writer

Why do we smoke?

Recent opinion polls indicate as much as 50 per cent of the American public believes cigarettes may be a cause of lung cancer.

Yet current cigarette sales show more Americans are reaching for more cigarettes today after the 1953-1955 dip in cigarette consumption.

This dip was attributed largely to an American Cancer Society study that concluded the lung cancer death rate is directly linked to the number of cigarettes smoked.

Cigarettes were also implicated in the coronary heart disease death rate, according to an ACS study.

These conclusions have been strongly challenged by other scientists, who question the value of the society's evidence.

While the controversy rages, the public continues puffing—and scientists generally cite three reasons why:

Physical pleasure. Dr. John Heller, director of the U.S. National Cancer Institute and one of the nation's top scientists, says the physical pleasures of smoking are due to nicotine and tars.

Heller calls nicotine a "very complex drug," that exerts a pepping up effect on the body. He says it is tasteless but effective in stimulating physical responses.

Specifically, traces of nicotine in cigaret smoke causes a quickening in pulse rate, a slight rise in blood pressure, stimulation of certain muscles in the digestive system and around the blood vessel walls.

Nicotine may also stimulate the adrenal glands, triggering a rise in blood sugar and a feeling of increased energy. This latter idea, however, is still theory rather than proven fact.

Heller specifically absolves nicotine as a possible cancer-causing agent. But he adds there is "reason to believe nicotine may be involved in some coronary ailments."

The second pleasurable ingredient in cigarettes are the tars, according to Heller. The tars are a mass of chemicals known as hydrocarbons. They give smoking its special taste.

If there is a cancer-causing agent in cigarette smoke, it is contained in tars, again according to Heller.

Psychological pleasure is the second reason Heller offers. Smoking gives us "something to do with our hands," particularly if we are restless.

One recent list classed smoking with doodling, pencil-tapping, finger drumming, tie straightening, nail biting, hair tugging and other nervous habits.

In addition, some psychologists think of smoking as a familiar ritual that gives the smoker a certain sense of security.

To those scientists who have reinterpreted Freud, smoking is a source of "sexual satisfaction, similar to the suckling of an infant."

Social status. Smoking at once gives people a common ground and an ice-breaking technique.

The offering of a smoke, one observer says, is "a gesture of friendliness and good will." Smoking also is a sign of adulthood or independence, although this factor is less important than it was a generation or so ago when cigarettes were still considered "daring."

Here's How to Stage an interesting Parade

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — It wasn't easy, but the Rotarians managed to stage their parade.

The rains came and sent two bands and a drill team scurrying for cover.

Others splashed on, led by musicians from another high school band. Half of them got across the railroad tracks but the others had to wait — a train came along.

The stragglers finally caught up and all went well until two horses, frightened by the music, reared and broke their harness. Another delay.

Spectators said it was the most interesting parade ever seen.

Women Sell Insurance

HARTFORD, Conn.—The life-insurance industry reports that more than 275 women in the United States sold $250,000 worth of life insurance apiece in 1956 and that at least 13 women sold $1,000,000 worth.

Times Change Quickly in West Virginia Justice

WAYNE, W. Va. (AP)—Times have changed.

In predominantly rural Wayne County, men have been ruling the roosts for centuries—including the ministering of justice as jurors. But under a recent change in the state constitution women now serve on juries. And the effect here was almost revolutionary. On the first panel drawn were 55 women and 24 men.

Fleets Doubled in Size

WASHINGTON — American steamship companies holding subsidy contracts with the United States Government have virtually doubled the size of their fleets since 1939.
