Early Decision in Girard Case Appears Likely

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev promised Czechoslovakia today that the split in the Communist bloc which "imperialist reaction attempted in Hungary will never happen."

Welcoming the visitors, Czech President Antonin Zapotocky predicted their talks in Prague would "serve to tighten the unity and solidarity" of the entire Communist bloc.

Zapotocky openly endorsed Khrushchev's purge of his rivals in the Kremlin leadership, saying the Soviet party's Central Committee meeting which took the action last month "showed the world how crazy and hopeless are all attempts to weaken our unity or to change our Leninist policies."

Prague radio said the Soviet leaders had come to the Czech capital for "discussions of great political significance," especially since these followed so closely upon the removal of Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov, Lazar Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov.

Recess Called in Hoffa Trial

Counsel of Codefendant Hyman I. Fischbach Suffers Heart Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—A temporary recess was called today in the bribery-conspiracy trial of union leader James R. Hoffa because a defense attorney suffered a heart attack.

Daniel P. Maher, counsel for Hyman I. Fischbach, a codefendant with Hoffa, suffered the attack about midnight last night.

Fischbach informed U.S. Dist. Judge Burnita Matthews of Maher's condition when the trial resumed this morning. The court ordered a recess to determine what should be done.

The trial is in its fourth week. Hoffa and Fischbach are accused of paying a staff investigator on the Senate Rackets Committee to spirit secret file data to Hoffa.

Maher for the past two days had been cross-examining the prosecution's chief witness, John Cye Cheasty.

Cheasty has told the jury that Fischbach recruited him for Hoffa and that he agreed to spy on the Senate committee for Hoffa.

Cheasty has said he let the committee and FBI agents in on the alleged plot from the start. His story has not been shaken in any appreciable respect in lengthy cross-examination. He has been a witness 10 days.

Patrolman Loses Job by 2-1 Vote

Romeos Plans an Appeal to Circuit Court From Board's Action

Suspended Patrolman Louis Romeos was discharged last night by the Police and Fire Civil Service Commission after he was found guilty of insubordination, by a 2 to 1 vote of the three-man commission.

Following the verdict, Romeos stated he intended to appeal his case to Circuit Court.

Under the Civil Service Act, voted for police in April, such an appeal may be taken within 90 days from the commission's final order.

The commissioners voted to remove Romeos after nine hours of testimony from Romeos, Sgts. Telton E. Rogg and Frederick J. Wirth, who filed formal charges against him, and six witnesses.

Commission Chairman Theodore Carlson said it was the feeling of the majority of the three-man commission insubordination was evident when Romeos did not obey an order to return to work.

Carlson said he did not agree with commissioners Gerald Guinan and Stuart Austin.

He felt Romeos was a victim of circumstances created by the two sergeants and "darn poor administration."

The 28-year-old patrolman, who joined the department in August of 1953, was suspended by City Manager Walter Willman two weeks ago after he had been illegally suspended by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and reinstated by Willman within five days.

He was accused of being "loud and boisterous" when corrected for not wearing a complete uniform. He denied this and said he was refused an opportunity to explain why some parts of his uniform were missing.

MYSTERY IS SOLVED — It took 20-year-old alligator wrestler George Koukoulis, from the Animal Kingdom serpentarium at 9860 Dixie Highway, to prove that several Bloomfield Township residents were right. Early this morning he captured this four-foot, nine-inch alligator in a lagoon off Lower Long Lake. Residents for two years stood firm in their claims that the 'gator lurked in the lake.

He Pushed His Luck Too Far

Early Morning Capture Ends Long 'Gator Hunt

By GEORGE TRUMBULL JR.

He (or she) didn't think anything different about this morning. Anyway, his growling stomach was itching for a nice big muskrat.

So he splashed into his Bloomfield Township lagoon in search of breakfast at about 4 a.m.

That was the biggest mistake he ever made, and one that will never be forgotten.

For now the 'gator is a prisoner of the society which he toyed with for more than two years.

Waiting on the opposite side of the lagoon this morning was George Koukoulis, 20, a 'gator wrestler at his brother's Animal Kingdom serpentarium at 9860 Dixie Highway.

He and his brother Andy, 21, had seen in a Press story Monday that the elusive creature, that had been plaguing township residents on-and-off since June 1955, had returned.

Both decided they would see for themselves. "I thought it would be a wasted night," said Andy. But it wasn't.

They began what could have been a two-week vigil on the lagoon bank some 200 feet south of the William D. Singleton home at 1341 Kirkway Dr. The watch began at 11 last night.

It was Mrs. Singleton and her seven-year-old son Danny that sparked what became the biggest alligator safari in Oakland County and the state. They first spotted the scaly thing in the lagoon two years ago.

"I never gave up the idea that he was in there," said Sally Singleton, in her native Tennessee accnt.

"People called me all sorts of things during the years. But this is the greatest vindication I could ask for."

The capture was explained this way by Koukoulis:

"When I heard this thing splash into the water from the bank opposite me, I thought 'Could this be it.'"

"I didn't budge an inch. I was lying flat on my stomach as it swam toward the center of the lagoon, probably in search of muskrat. Then I spotted the glittering eyes and the nose poking through the surface."

"Suddenly the 'gator froze in the middle, probably sensing something or someone was near.

"Neither of us moved for about 15 minutes. Suddenly he came toward my bank. When he was within seven feet of me I leaped in the water on top of him."

"Apparently I caught him by surprise because he didn't have much chance to attack. I pulled him by the hind legs down in the water and came up sliding my hands about his jaws."

"I let out a scream for my brother and made my way wading

Detroit Floods Cost $15 Million

Detroit Pair Await Trial

Income Tax Fraud Called 'Biggest Ever'

DETROIT (AP) — Two brothers, one of them a former internal revenue agent, were free on $25,000 bond each today to await trial on what federal officials describe as "the biggest fraud ever perpetrated against the Treasury Department in an income tax refund scheme."

Edward J. Zacharski, 40, the former revenue man, and his brother, Norman G. Zachary, 28, who changed his name, stood mute at their arraignment yesterday before Federal Court Judge Theodore Levin. Innocent pleas were entered for them.

The brothers, who run a Detroit real estate, accounting and tax service office, were indicted by a grand jury on 139 counts and, if convicted on all counts, could be sentenced to 800 years in jail and fined $1,201,000 each.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Donald F. Welday Jr. said the brothers filed 70 fraudulent income tax returns in 1956, each of which claimed a $3,000 to $5,000 refund.

Welday said the two cashed eight refund checks worth $30,460 before they were caught.

He said the false returns were made out in the names of fictitious persons and had the refund checks mailed to their office by using change-of-address forms.

Welday said the scheme was cracked when a refund check was delivered to a homeowner who turned the check over to postal inspectors.

Zacharski worked for the Internal Revenue Service for 14 years before being fired in 1955 on charges of falsifying his educational background.

GI Still Claims Woman's Death Was Accident

New Wife Candy Hopes He Will Receive Trial in Japanese Court

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court appeared likely today to issue an early decision in the case of GI William S. Girard.

The court itself did not rule out the possibility of a decision sometime today. Neither did it indicate just when it might be announced.

The eight justices listened to four hours of legal arguments Monday, then considered the case for 4 hours and 46 minutes yesterday.

Afterward, the clerk's office told newsmen there would be "no announcement of any kind tonight."

The question the court must decide is whether U. S. authorities may lawfully turn Girard, 21, an Army specialist third class, over to Japan for trial in its courts in connection with the death of a Japanese woman fatally wounded while gathering scrap on an army firing range last Jan. 30.

Japan charges that Girard shot her in the back with an empty cartridge casing fired from the grenade launcher of his rifle. Girard was on guard duty at the time.

Girard declares:

"I did not entice that woman. The shooting was a complete accident.

"I can't change the truth."

Federal Dist. Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy ruled earlier that the attempt by U. S. authorities to let the Japanese try Girard would violate his constitutional rights. The government appealed this ruling directly to the Supreme Court.

In Japan, the Japanese bride of Girard angrily criticized her in-laws in the United States for trying to keep her husband under U. S. Army jurisdiction on the slaying charge.

Diminutive Haru "Candy" Girard, 29, said she hopes the Supreme Court rules in favor of a Japanese trial for Girard.

"It would be much better for Girard if he is tried in a Japanese court. Then maybe he won't go to jail," claimed 'Candy.'

The Supreme Court ruling could be announced during a special court session, or it could merely be filed with the clerk's office for transmittal to attorneys for both sides and newsmen.

The decision could take the form of a brief order, or it could be presented as formal written opinions detailing the views of the majority, and any dissenting or concurring justices.

3-Car Mixup Has Garage in a Spin

LUMBERTON, N. C. (AP) — Wakefield Wilkerson took his automobile (Car No. 1) to a company for repairs. The company loaned him another vehicle (Car No. 2) to drive in the meantime.

★ ★ ★

Then Wilkerson, in Car 2, stopped at another place of business and left the key in the ignition. When he came out Car 2 was gone but across the street sat another car No. 3 of similar appearance, it too with key in ignition.

Seems a complete motor overhaul had been ordered for Car 3 but a mechanic picked up Car 2.

When the mixup was unmixed, Car 1 was getting its repairs, Car 2's motor was out and torn down, and Car 3 still needed a motor overhaul.

Cats Unloved?

GRAND RAPIDS (INS) — Only seven persons have applied for cat licenses, compared with 19,000 for dog licenses, in Grand Rapids. That situation brought this comment from city license officer Rawson Weaver: "Cat owners don't have the consideration for their pets that dog lovers do."

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (INS) — The former Mrs. Florence Norris, 65, married 21-year-old Thomas Henderson and then said: "I sure was tired of living alone."

Orchard Lake-Telegraph Bridge Open for Traffic

NEW SPAN—A new bridge will carry Telegraph Road over the Clinton.

The Orchard Lake road bridge over the Telegraph road underpass was partially opened for traffic yesterday afternoon.

Both east and westbound Orchard Lake traffic have been routed for the first time over the four-lane bridge that will span the eventual relocation of Telegraph road.

Only the southern two lanes are in use at present, since construction is proceeding on the northern side of the project.

The detour on the northern side of the project has to be removed and a street which opened on to the detour has to be relocated, a State Highway Department spokesman said.

He believed the two northern lanes of the bridge would also be open for traffic in about a week.

Approaches to the bridge are still unpaved, although graded. They will be paved later by the contractor in charge of paving the entire project.

This involves the widening of Orchard Lake into a four-lane, divided highway from Berkley avenue in Pontiac to Wellington street in Bloomfield Township, as well as the four-lane, divided relocation of Telegraph from Rockwell avenue to James K. boulevard.

Clearing the Telegraph approaches to the bridge, plus construction of a new Telegraph road bridge over the Clinton river just south of James K. are proceeding on schedule, the spokesman said.

The whole project is scheduled for completion in December.

New Bomber Shown Today

It's a surprisingly small needle-nose, delta-wing craft with four powerful jet engines. It carries a crew of three. The length is 95 feet and wing span 55 feet.

"As of right now the B58 is the fastest jet bomber in the world," said Lt. Gen. C. S. Irvine, Air Force deputy chief of staff for materiel.

"The Hustler represents one of the most significant forward steps in the history of military aviation —and through it we are made aware of some mighty possibilities."

★ ★ ★

Frank W. Davis, chief engineer at Fort Worth for Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp., put it this way: "The magnitude of advance in the B58 is best emphasized by the fact that it provides a greater increment in top speed advantage over the latest operational bomber than that bomber provided over the Wright brothers airplane."

RICHARD B. GOULD

Sheet Metal Plant Promotion Revealed

The appointment of Richard B. Gould as superintendent of Pontiac Motor Division's sheet metal plant has been announced by Buel E. Starr, general manufacturing manager. William L. Kelley, who has been superintendent of that plant since 1948, is on an extended sick leave.

A native of Rockford, and a graduate of General Motors Institute, Gould joined the division in 1934. In 1942, he was named assistant master mechanic of the sheet metal plant and in 1951 was assigned the same position on Pontiac's 40MM Bofors gun project. Two years later he became assistant superintendent of production on that project.

Gould, 41, is married to the former Esther M. Nash of Belding. They have a daughter, Darlyne, and a son, Richard K., and reside at 1040 S. Lake Angelus Shores.

'Helicopter Taxi' Rushes Visitors Into Waterford

A "helicopter taxi" this morning rushed two airline passengers from Detroit's Willow Run Airport to waiting relatives in Waterford Township.

It was the first time a whirly bird has been used as a commercial taxi in this area.

Early today Lloyd J. Cooley and his son, Jamie, flew from Pontiac airport to meet Cooley's cousin, Mrs. M. E. Campbell and her son, John, who arrived on a night flight from Miami.

The 'copter then carried the foursome to the backyard of the H. M. Courtrights, 4001 Saginaw Trail, Drayton Plains. The trip took only 25 minutes each way.

The 'copter is one of three belonging to a Detroit firm which will provide taxi service between Willow Run and the local area.

Woman, Child Injured in Farmington Collision

A woman and girl were injured Tuesday night in an accident at Ten Mile and Middlebelt Rds., Farmington Township, according to Farmington Township Police.

The accident occurred when two cars, driven by Ray Arrington, 54, 29107 W. 10 Mile Rd., Farmington Township, and Mrs. Gladys O'Kennon, 32, of 2728 Glenview Rd. Royal Oak, collided at the intersection.

Arrington's wife, Edna, 52, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with a fractured pelvis and is reported to be in fair condition today. Toni O'Kennon, 5, who was riding with her mother, was treated at the hospital for cuts and bruises, and released.

Lake Orion Youth Injured in Accident

A Lake Orion youth, James Randall, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Randall, 856 Orion Dr., was injured in an accident yesterday at Broadway St. and Smith Ct., in Orion Township.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said that the boy rode his bicycle into the side of a car driven by Muriel D. Ahlborn, 32, of 876 Heights St., Lake Orion. He was treated and released for minor injuries at Pontiac General hospital.

Early Morning Catch Ends 'Gator Hunt

to the bank and handed the 'gator to him."

So the five-hour watch paid off. The Koukoulis' had themselves a four-foot, nine-inch American alligator, and Sally Singleton was saying, "I told you so."

Dr. Harold DeWindt, pastor of nearby Kirk-In-The-Hills church, was called to prove that the Singletons haven't been out of their minds these past two years. Neighbors poured in to see the catch.

Koukoulis theorized that someone had purchased a pet alligator and had tossed it into a lake when it grew to around five feet and 75 pounds in weight. He added that it had "shrunk" to around 40 pounds because of lack of enough food.

Today there were claims that this was not the original Lower Long Lake serpent. "It definitely is not that alligator," said Paul T. Allen, owner of the Springfield Township "Snakes Alive" serpentarium.

But Koukoulis said the creature was about eight years old and had been living in the fairly-secluded lagoon for about three years.

"It probably had a home in one of the mud banks and lived on muskrats, fish, and other prey."

It lived through the long, cold Michigan winters by living off the fat it stored inside him by heavy summer eating, the wrestler claims.

He said hundreds of searchers, including other professional alligator wrestlers and hunters, failed to find the mammal because they searched for him during the day. The Koukoulis brothers participated briefly in a mammoth July 1955 search.

This led many lake residents and animal experts to raise an eyebrow or two to the tales of Alphonse—so named by Mrs. Singleton.

George Koukoulis said this was probably the first alligator captured in Michigan. Most come from Louisiana and Florida, he added.

During the brief bout with Alphonse, Koukoulis didn't receive a scratch. He didn't carry a knife into the water, although his brother had one strapped to his belt.

"We both went out there never thinking we would find him," Andy said. "I was never so surprised in my life when I saw those eyes," brother George gleefully added.

Today Alphonse has a new home at the Koukoulis' serpentarium. "We'll put him among the other 60 'gators and fatten him up a little," the brothers explained.

U.S. Eyes Khrushchev: Power? Dictator? Pawn?

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. experts on Russia were reported split today on their estimates of the amount of real power now exercised by Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev, in the wake of the Kremlin shakeup.

So far they have come up with three estimates covering major possibilities:

1. Khrushchev is well along the way to becoming a virtual dictator. The system of collective rule which was installed upon Stalin's death four years ago is doomed.

2. Khrushchev is still the "first among equals" or the "chairman of the board" of a collective rule system. With his most formidable critics out of the way, however, he can now expect far more support and much less opposition.

3. Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov may be the real strong man. Zhukov represents the military power, and Khrushchev could not have continued as Communist party boss without his support.

SIFT REPORTS

State Department officials have been deeply interested in reports from Communist sources, mainly in Eastern Europe, that Khrushchev's foes in the Presidium precipitated the crisis that resulted in their ouster. They were V. M. Molotov, Lazar Kaganovich, Georgi Malenkov and Dmitri Shepilov.

Khrushchev has accused the four of trying to seize power. They have been denounced for wanting to return to Stalinism, which seems to suggest that they favored a reversion to dictatorship and that Khrushchev and Zhukov were against it.

U.S. officials say privately they are not at all certain what issue focused the dissension or even whether the policy questions were of vital importance in the crisis. Personal ambitions on the part of some of the ousted men, particularly Malenkov and Shepilov, who are both relatively young men, may have provided the real motivations on their side.

KEY TO POLICY

Informants said that what the Khrushchev group now does with the men may indicate how he will develop his power, assuming he is the strong man. Harsh action would probably bring the conclusion that Khrushchev is building himself into a dictator by wiping out opposition.

But if these men are simply consigned to political oblivion, the tendency will be to think that the present Soviet leadership wants to continue to prove that it has really abandoned the ruthless ways of Stalin, that it wants collective leadership to work, and that while it cannot tolerate conspiracy in high places it has some tolerance for the conspirators as individuals.

One of the interesting aspects of the shakeup is that the new men added to the enlarged Presidium generally represent regional interests. They have not heretofore been identified with the national administration of the Soviet Union.

This may be linked with Khrushchev's efforts to decentralize operations of industry in the Soviet Union, but it also may represent a power play on his part to bring into top party positions men who owe him their success.

Everyone seems to agree that Zhukov's support was vital to Khrushchev's survival, but beyond that the marshal's role is highly uncertain.

Khrushchev Claims Unity Won't Crumble

sections. Shops and factories had been given a four-hour holiday. After the leaders passed the crowd dispersed so rapidly that some cars in the official party were halted temporarily.

Prague was primed to give the Soviet Communist party boss and Bulganin full assurance that the purge of top Soviet leadership had not changed the loyalty of Czechoslovakia's Communists.

HALTED 'BLACKSHEEP'

During his leisurely trip across the satellite nation, Khrushchev in one speech described the purge with the pungent remark, "We took the black sheep by the tail and threw him out."

"It's no secret what happened in the Soviet Union recently," he told a cheering crowd of factory workers at Zilina. "We announced it ourselves. We had some black sheep in a good herd. They thought they would take over power, and you know how it ended."

Name Safety Director

Robert J. Stadler, clerk-treasurer of Bloomfield Hills, will assume immediate control of that city's 11-man police force and 5-man fire department. Stadler was appointed to the post of public safety director by the city commission last night. His appointment fills the vacancy left by the retirement of Stanley Kevern as police chief. The appointee also will continue his work as clerk-treasurer, commissioners said.

Pontiac City Affairs

Commissioners Delay Final Rezoning Action

City commissioners delayed a recommended rezoning to Commercial 1 of 15 lots on the south side of Orchard Lake avenue to permit further study of the proposal.

After hearing 10 residents of the area oppose the change, Commissioner Philip E. Rowston moved for a month's postponement of the rezoning to allow the petitioner to present his reasons for request.

The City Planning Commission approved the rezoning when they received a petition signed by 57 per cent of the residents in the Orchard Lake-Walnut-Lull street area.

Residents appearing before the commission last evening said they never signed the petition.

Commissioners in other action tentatively approved a sewer installation project in the Baldwin-Dixie Subdivision if the developers contracted for the work privately.

READY TO BUILD

Allen A. Saltz, the developer, from Detroit, asked permission for sewers to be installed on Stanley and Livingston avenues. "We stand ready to construct homes there," he said, "but we have no sewers."

City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn reported to the commission that the city could not undertake the work in its 1957 public improvement program.

Commissioners approved rezoning to Commercial 1 of two lots on Joslyn upon recommendation of the plan group.

They okayed payment of $25,000 to the Detroit Edison Co. for purchase of property off Pine street which was opened this week as a new municipal parking lot.

A protest against concrete paving of Columbia avenue from Baldwin to Stanley was aired by a citizen, but commissioners over-rode the protest and approved the work.

They tentatively agreed to grant Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, in whose district the work falls, authority to permit those assessed for the paving five years to pay.

HARDSHIP CASES

This followed a statement from a resident that there were several hardship cases in the area.

In other business, the Tel-Huron Merchants Assn. was granted permission to hold a July 15-20 festival in the city.

The Bemis Olsen Post 113 of the Amvets agreed to hold an Aug. 3 circus on a Franklin road site when Miles said residents of district 4 objected to holding the show on a proposed Oakland avenue plat.

Airplane Crash Mystery Ended?

Highway Patrolman Claims Report Really 'Only a Timber Fire'

BARSTOW, Calif. (AP)—The mystery of Clark Mountain—involving an intensive search for the survivors of a plane that was supposed to have crashed yesterday—apparently was solved today by a brief radio message from the scene.

"There was no airplane crash," radioed Officer A. M. Smith of the California Highway Patrol to his headquarters here. "It was only a timber fire."

This was the only immediate word on the strange situation and left unexplained various reports of charred wreckage and flashed messages.

Earlier a helicopter pilot reported by radio that he had sighted wreckage but it was so charred that he could not tell whether there were survivors or what type of plane it was.

One puzzling aspect of the case was the fact that a rescue party struggled to the area during a fierce electric storm and was reported to have messaged with flashlights: "There are survivors . . . Help badly needed."

There has been no further word from this ground party, only the brief message from the highway patrolman.

Two helicopters had been sent to the area from Nellis Air Force Base near Las Vegas, Nev.

Judge Decides on Hildy's Future

MIAMI (INS) — Circuit Judge John Prunty today approved adoption of little Hildy McCoy by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ellis who have cared for the child since she was 10 months old.

Judge Prunty's decision, climaxing a long and bitter battle for custody of the six-year-old girl, stated:

"The child shall be hereafter known as Hildy Ellis."

The child's natural mother, Mrs. Marjorie McCoy Dougherty, had sought to regain custody of Hildy from the Miami Beach Jewish couple. Mrs. Dougherty is a Roman Catholic.

Judge Prunty ruled that the Ellises are fit and proper persons to adopt the said minor . . . the interests of the said minor will be promoted by this adoption."

Southern Senator Reports:

Eisenhower May Accept Civil Rights Bill Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said after a conference with President Eisenhower today that Eisenhower's "mind is not closed to amendments which would clarify" the administration's civil rights bill.

Russell, quarterbacking Southern forces opposed to the legislation in the Senate, told newsmen Eisenhower is against enactment of any "punitive" measure.

Eisenhower and Russell talked over the bill for about 50 minutes at the White House.

Although Russell said Eisenhower has an open mind with respect to the possibility of clarifying amendments, the senator refused to express an opinion as to whether the administration will back such amendments.

In advance of Russell's conference with Eisenhower there were hints at the Senate that sponsors of the administration measure probably will consider compromises.

Integration Trial Evidence Heard

U.S. Attorneys Unveil Information Against 15 Clinton Segregationists

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Federal attorneys set out today to unveil the evidence in the charges against 16 segregationists accused of forcibly interfering with enrollment of Negroes in a small-town Tennessee high school.

The trial, involving integration at Clinton, Tenn., High School, has been heralded as a major test of the U.S. government's power to enforce the Supreme Court order to end segregation in the public schools.

The jury, 10 men and two women, was completed late yesterday.

On trial are 15 Tennesseeans, including a pregnant, teen-age housewife.

The 16th defendant is John Kasper, lanky, owl-eyed native of New Jersey. He is accused of coming to Clinton and stirring up the riots that took place when Negro students entered the high school.

Kasper, like the other 15, is being tried for criminal contempt. All are accused of violating a federal court injunction against interfering with racial integration at the school.

But neither he nor the battery of lawyers defending the Tennesseans concealed their distaste for the joint trial. Kasper is represented solely by J. Benjamin Simmons, Washington, D. C., attorney.

Lawyers for "The 15" — as they describe themselves in court — claim there is so much "mass prejudice" against Kasper that the joint trial works to the disadvantages of their clients.

Quarrel in Boat Almost Fatal

Near-Drowning Follows Argument Over Who Will Row

An argument over who was going to row a boat on Woodhull Lake, in Waterford Township, this morning nearly resulted in the drowning of a Royal Oak man.

Carl W. Smith, 30, of 622 W. 11 Mile Rd., and his companion, Kernell Drake, of 1189 E. Rolland St., Madison Heights, were arguing when Smith fell from the boat, said Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies J. Keith Breckenridge and L. Gillespie.

Drake called for help and two residents of the lake Harry Levinburg and Raymond Gonwich, of 4773 Lakeview Dr., jumped into their boat and came to his rescue.

They pulled Smith, who was floating about 10 to 12 inches below the surface, into the boat, carrying him to shore where they applied artificial resporation.

The Waterford Township Fire Department was called to the scene and succeeded in reviving Smith with oxygen. He was then rushed to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment.

C. of C. to Reply to Senate Report

Nation's Industry Has Big Monopolistic Trend, Committee Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Chamber of Commerce announced it will reply late today to a supposedly secret but widely "leaked" Senate report alleging a monopolistic trend in industry.

The Chamber called a news conference this afternoon. Chamber officials said they would present the findings of a research study which indicates "falsity" of statistical data underlying the still-unpublished report of the Senate Antitrust subcommittee headed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn).

The action was prompted by a story in this morning's Washington Post and Times Herald reporting findings of the 756-page report by the staff of the Kefauver subcommittee. Accounts have appeared earlier in Business Week magazine and other publications.

A chamber official said: "The Kefauver subcommittee has leaked its report, and we're going to leak ours."

The Post and Times Herald said the Kefauver report, understood to have been in print for some time, holds that the country's biggest firms have increased substantially their share of the nation's manufacturing activity in recent years.

Boys Steal Hamburgers, Threaten Customer

Pontiac Police are searching for two teenage boys who escaped after stealing eight hamburgers from a local restaurant last night and threatening a customer at knife-point.

Robert Keller, of 82 N. Johnson Ave., a patron of Cappy's Drive Inn, 157 Auburn Ave., told police his life was threatened by one of the boys when he attempted to apprehend him. The boy escaped on foot and the other drove off in an auto.

The Day in Birmingham

Girardin Explains Reason for Pool Cost to Citizens

BIRMINGHAM — In a joint meeting Monday with the Recreation Board, citizens who have protested what they considered too high costs for swimming pool uses were given a complete explanation and outline of policy of the board regarding pools.

Recreation director, Robert Girardin, told the group that $13,450 had been allocated to the board for pool operational expenses. He said the cost of 35 cents for children and 75 cents for adults had been designated as the probable income amounting to one-third of the overall cost. He added that to date this is running very close to the board's estimate.

"However," Girardin said, "should we find as the warm weather increases that we are making more than our one-third goal, we will reduce admission fees. It is not our policy to make money on the swimming program.

"We arrived at a fee charge because that is the only way we could operate the pools without an overall tax increase. The recreation board, board of education and city commission felt it only fair that those persons using the pools pay for the privilege rather than place it on an overall city tax."

In answer to those persons who objected to the closing of the Barnum Junior High School pool, Girardin explained that the pools at Derby Junior High School and Birmingham Senior High were selected for two reasons. They are newer, better equiped pools and are the indoor-outdoor type.

"When Barnum was the only pool available it was a case of use what we had," Girardin said. "Now with the two excellent pools added to our facility we felt they would be more attractive to the general public."

Girardin said the swimimng program is proving very popular and in some cases, especially beginners classes, enrollment has been so high that groups have been split. He added that the city had obtained the best instructing talent available. Instructors at both pools have been required to get instructor and Red Cross Life Saving certificates before they were signed on.

Juvenile officer, Robert Schaule, said today that he is asking the assistance of gas-stations throughout the city on the police drive to curb hub-cap thefts.

Schaule is getting ready to launch a major "identification" program among local car owners. He is asking attendants at all service stations and garages to mark the inside of hub-caps for their regular patrons without charge.

This step is taken as a measure of identification and to discourage the purchase of stolen hub-caps by questionable dealers.

Birmingham Exchange Club has given a 16 mm movie projector to the local Civil Air Patrol school training program. The exchange sponsor of cadet programs in the schools made the gift after learning that the CAP had access to numerous government films in the field of aeronautics. Among the future activities of the CAP is the forth-coming of 25 British Air Cadets.

Says State Hurt by Budget Cuts

Cutback in Services Caused by GOP Slashes, Hart Claims

LANSING (AP) — Refusal of the Republican-controlled Legislature to go along with Gov. Williams' 1957-58 spending program already has led to cutbacks in state services, says Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart.

"Events of the past few weeks have clearly disproved the claims of Republican Legislators that their chopping up of the state budget wouldn't bring layoffs of state employes and cutbacks in state services," Hart said yesterday.

The Democratic lieutenant governor referred to a May 12 news item quoting Sen. Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma) as saying "It is absolutely untrue for anyone to say that there is any cutback from current programs in the mental health field."

On June 28, however, Hart said, Mental Health Director Charles F. Wagg announced impending layoffs in "at least three mental health institutions" and reduction of the standard of patient care in others.

In a similar retrenchment, Hart added, Michigan State University will have to limit enrollments for the first time this year because of a cut in the school's request for operating funds.

Schools to Teach Civil Defense

Kalamazoo Plan Based on Continuing Need for Disaster Prevention

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Beginning next September, Kalamazoo's public school children, from kindergarten through high school, will be given a thorough instruction in civil defense as a part of the regular curriculum.

The Kalamazoo schools are believed to be the first in the nation to offer such a course. The plan was adopted, a school spokesman said, "because we have grimly accepted the fact that the threat of disaster, whether man-made or natural, has become a traveling companion of people everywhere."

The plan was worked out by a committee headed by D. J. Heathcote, assistant superintendent of schools, and a number of teachers. School officials point to the recent Louisiana hurricane as an example of how the proposed course could help the victims.

Theral T. Herrick, director of curriculum, said:

"Civil Defense officials admit they have made little headway with American adults. Most older folks regard civil defense as something it is good for the other fellow to worry about. But our children are going to grow up in a generation that will accept civil defense as a regular part of people's lives."

Besides a special course in what to do in the event a disaster strikes a school building, the study will cover such subjects as the history of civil defense and the need for it, the national, and local defense organizations, the theory of the "target area" of atomic bombings, various types of man-made and natural disasters, behavior in disasters, first aid, communications, warnings, transportation, evacuation, identification and rehabilitation.

Kansas was first settled in 1827 and became a territory with a part of Colorado in 1854. Thereafter Kansas was admitted to the Union as a state on January 29, 1861.

Students Receive Sky-High Payoff for Top Grades

MANSFIELD, Ohio (INS)—Imagine the pride of a junior high school teacher when only four C's were recorded in one six-week period by his 33 students and all other grades were A's and B's.

But students at Johnny Appleseed Junior High School in Mansfield really had something to work for.

Their teacher, Myron Collier, had promised last September that if 30 of the 33 made the honor roll or honorable mention in any one six-week grading period they would all be given a free plane ride.

In the last grading period 29 of the students made the coveted honor roll, that is had all A's or all B's.

Collier, who is also an aviation instructor, agreed that 29 was close enough and treated every member of the class to a 15-minute flight.

Detroiter Awaits Trial on Bogus Check Charge

Robert V. Schuster, 22, of 13527 Riverview St., Detroit, was arraigned before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle Tuesday on charges of larceny by conversion and passing bad checks.

Schuster waived examination on both charges, was bound over to circuit court, and returned to the Oakland County Jail with bond set at $2,000.

Veteran Ad Man Dies in Pontiac Hospital

Clayton P. Armitage, 58, widely known advertising man, died last night in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. His home was at 3835 North Millerway, Bloomfield Township.

Mr. Armitage, native of Port Hope, was former Michigan sales representative for the Farm Journal.

He was a member of the Aderaft Club, Recess Club, Detroit Athletic Club and the Oakland Hills Country Club. He was secretary-treasurer of the Detroit Advertising Golfing Assn.

Funeral service will be held Friday from the Kinsey Funeral Home, Royal Oak.

State Police Identify Man's Severed Body

MANISTIQUE (AP) — The severed body of a man found in Manistique Harbor June 26 was identified today by Michigan State Police as that of 77-year-old John Dobbass, a woodsman and employe of an Escanaba mink ranch.

★ ★ ★

Police said ranch operators told them Dobbass left two weeks before the upper half of his body was found. Dobbass said he was going to Detroit to visit friends. The rest of the body, except for the left arm, has since been found.

Authorities expressed belief the man had been caught in a ship's propellor. Manistique Harbor is at the top of Lake Michigan. A ferry operates from here to Frankfort.

Dobbass' identity was established through fingerprints. He was registered as an alien in 1941 and reported he was born Sept. 25, 1882, in Russia.

Motor Scooter Crash Injures Two Youths

Two boys were injured near 1410 Franklin Rd. in Bloomfield Township, Tuesday afternoon as their motor scooter collided with a car driven by James P. Daley, 38, of 631 Jeffrey Ct., Inkster.

Injured were David McFarland Jr., 14, of 1567 Island Lane, Bloomfield Hills, and a friend, Clayton Fiaravanti, 12, who is visiting him from Ontario, Canada.

MacFarland suffered possible head injuries while Fiaravanti received a possible broken arm and shoulder plus cuts of the head and face. Both are reported in "satisfactory" condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Life Depends on Pilot's Ability

Must Land, Take Off at 14,000-Foot Peak to Save Climber

KINGS CANYON NATIONAL PARK, Calif. (AP)—The life of a critically injured mountain climber depends today on the ability of a helicopter pilot to land and take off on rugged 14,000-foot Palisade Peak.

A furious Sierra thunderstorm last night—and the usual vagaries of the air currents at that altitude—posed formidable odds.

"It's his only chance," said Dr. Henry Jakes in a terse radio report describing the condition of 23-year-old John Findley Scott, University of California student who suffered internal and other injuries in a 40-foot fall Sunday.

"He could never live through being packed out. He needs immediate hospitalization."

Scott was taken to the camp after his removal from a lofty ledge by six mountaineers Monday. The last portion of the trail to the camp was so steep the doctor and ranger had to leave their horses behind.

The vital question was: Could a helicopter land and take off at that treacherous, high altitude—even in good weather? Helicopter pilots said yes, if it were the right type of craft with a good pilot and went in lightly laden.

Streetcar Ride Would've Been Much Cheaper

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Elinor K. Wolf should have taken the streetcar up to Capitol Hill instead of accepting a ride in a big limousine with her boss, foreign aid chief John B. Hollister.

Hollister asked Mrs. Wolf during the 10-minute drive about her functions as a $30-a-day consultant. The next thing she knew, she was fired.

William J. Caldwell, director of the International Cooperation Administration's Office of Public Reports, gave this account yesterday to House investigators looking into complaints that funds were improperly spent for public opinion polls surveys to buttress the foreign aid program.

Caldwell said he hired Mrs. Wolf in January for a six-month task of putting together detailed information about foreign aid and dispensing it to national organizations actively interested in the program. She was doing a good job, Caldwell said.

Then one day in April Mrs. Wolf happened to be headed for the Capitol at the same time Hollister was. "She hooked a ride," Caldwell said, and the fateful conversation took place.

Caldwell said he speedily heard from Hollister that "such activities are an unnecessary expense to the taxpayer." So about five days later, Caldwell said, Mrs. Wolf was dropped from the payroll.

Iron Curtain Leak: Beria Strangled, Tried After Death

(Howard Handleman roams Europe as chief European correspondent for International News Service. He has been a war reporter and foreign correspondent for more than 15 years, in the Far East and Europe.)

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

LONDON (INS) — An Iron Curtain official of unquestioned authority says the former Soviet Secret Police Boss Lavrenti Beria was strangled in the Kremlin in 1953.

Communist tongues have been loosened so much by the latest Kremlin shakeup that it has become the season to go viewing skeletons in Red closets.

All the stored-up prejudices and annoyances are spilling forth in a torrent now that the iron discipline which held Communists in such tight rein for a decade has been breached.

★ ★ ★

It had been reported that Beria was shot. The Iron Curtain official said that is a fiction. He said that Beria was strangled just hours before he had planned to strike with a coup for power.

TRIAL FOR DEAD MAN

The Beria "trial," he said, was held some days after the secret police boss was dead.

The official Soviet version was that Beria was arrested on the eve of his coup, tried and then executed, but it all was done in secret.

The Iron Curtain informant claimed he did not know who strangled Beria. But he stressed that the assassination was committed inside the offices of the Party Presidium and hinted that members of the Presidium themselves may have done the killing.

Few of the other revelations since the Polish and Hungarian defiance have been as startling as this Beria story, but the harvest of gossip has been juicy.

TALK FREELY

★ ★ ★

As they tell it, shortly after World War II the Soviets decided that since they were the leaders of the "socialist camp" their citizens had to act the part.

Use of the term "comrade" was discouraged. Soviet citizens became arrogant and superior in their personal dealings with citizens of their satellites.

Report Steady Gains by Sonia Horowitz

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Sonia Horowitz, 22, daughter of pianist Vladimir Horowitz and granddaughter of the late Arturo Toscanini, is reported improving steadily from injuries suffered in a motor-scooter accident and pneumonia that followed.

★ ★ ★

"My daughter is well now and has fully recovered consciousness," Wanda Toscanini Horowitz, wife of the pianist, told reporters.

★ ★ ★

But Humphrey Sees Need During War

Dislikes Wage-Price Controls

WASHINGTON (INS) — Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey claims imposition of peacetime wage and price controls to curb inflation would be an "acknowledgment of failure" by the government.

The outgoing treasury secretary told a Senate Finance Committee yesterday he is strongly opposed to such controls except during time of war or other emergency.

President Eisenhower and other officials have indicated controls may have to be established if inflation continues to spiral.

Humphrey said such controls are not necessary. He said there is nothing in the national economy today that would indicate an impending depression the size of the one suffered in the 1930s.

He added, however, that he would favor "immediate controls" should the U.S. become embroiled in war.

COULD BE SMALLER

Humphrey said the government probably would have a small debt today if controls had been imposed immediately during previous wars involving the U. S.

He said he does not believe in fixing prices in peacetime and added: "When you once start, it's a long road."

He declared: "I don't think arbitrary controls will work in peacetime . . . if you put them on broadly enough to work, you would destroy our freedom of choice . . . our basic American heritage."

The secretary, however, repeated his warning of a few months ago. He said: "If we kept on letting expenditures get further and further out of control . . . if we didn't handle fiscal affairs intelligently . . . we'd have a depression that would curl your hair."

Dies Changing Tire

WINNEMUCCA, Nev. (AP) — Edward L. Ralston, 70, Redding, Calif., dropped dead as he was changing a flat tire on his car. Authorities said he apparently suffered a heart attack. Ralston was changing the tire because his companion William Ferguson, 71, suffers from heart trouble.

In Flin Flon, Manitoba, parking meters were removed because the meters couldn't stand the sub-zero cold.

The average guy thinks a middle-aged man is anybody older than he is . . . How about these for fighting words?: "Gee, I'm gonna miss taking you out evenings after we're married!" — Earl Wilson.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — From now on, instructions are for the Coral Gables Fire Department to advise tax assessors when a house burns down.

City Clerk L. W. Robinson said the Fire Department was so advised after the City Council discovered that it owned Mrs. Amanda Gibson a $72.73 refund for taxes paid on a house which burned down in 1949.

There was no explanation as to why she paid the taxes.

Barbers to Keep Present Hours

City Declines to Act on Request for Work After 6 O'Clock

Hearing numerous protests from city barbers, the City Commission last night tabled a request to allow shops to remain open until 8 on Friday and Saturday nights.

The request, in the form of a petition bearing 124 names, four of which are barbers, came from Andrew Culp, operator of a shop at 141 W. South Blvd.

"Fifty licensed barbers, members of the Pontiac Barbers' Association, are in favor of maintaining the ordinance as it is," said Arthur Blankenburg, of Keego Harbor, secretary of the association.

The City Commission in 1947 passed a city ordinance, requested by the association, prohibiting city shops from operating past 6 p.m. any night.

Culp appeared last evening and said the restriction was damaging his business and preventing many workers from getting haircuts on Fridays and Saturdays.

Commissioner Roy V. Cooley led a losing fight to repeal the ordinance and let the association, and not the city, control working hours.

Frank O'Brien, 30 N. Telegraph Rd., and a city barber for 34 years, told commissioners: "We've gone along for these years without any trouble with the ordinance. Why change it."

Blankenburg explained barbers favored the law as it assisted the local health inspectors in inspection of city shops.

Golf Course Sold to Keep Negroes Off

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) —The Fort Lauderdale city commission has voted over the protest of Mayor John V. Russell to sell the municipally owned golf course for a little over half its appraised value to keep Negroes from using it.

The Fort Lauderdale Men's Golf Assn., organized a year ago to operate the course if it were sold, was successful bidder with an offer of $562,400.

Federal Judge Joseph P. Lieb of Miami ruled recently Negroes must be allowed to use the links.

Russell declared the effect of the sale was to allow "a handful of Negro citizens to force the sale of a million dollar facility for $560,000."

Taft-Hartley Act Basically Sound

Ten years after Congress passed the TAFT-HARTLEY Act over President TRUMAN's veto, the labor law is still virtually unchanged.

More correctly known as the Labor-Management Act of 1947, it forbade the closed shop, allowed the union shop if voted for by employes and not outlawed by the states, and made strikes and secondary boycotts illegal. Unions were made legally liable for breach of contract, certain unfair labor practices were banned and a 60-day cooling off period was provided in labor disputes.

The law also brought about a balance between the rights of labor and, in particular, the rights of employers as set forth in the WAGNER Act. It also provided an 80-day injunction against strikes threatening national health and safety and a non-Communist affidavit of union officials.

In 1951 Congress amended the act to validate union shop elections held before union leaders signed non-Communist affidavits. Court rulings virtually nullified a ban on union contributions and expenditures in political campaigns.

Labor unions fought TAFT-HARTLEY legislation and after it was enacted they worked unceasingly to have what they called the "slave law" repealed. Some business leaders believed TAFT-HARTLEY would cripple organized labor.

Contrary to both the law worked well. It enslaved no workers nor did it limit the power of unions to any extent. The law is not perfect but Congress hasn't seen fit to make changes recommended by one of its authors, the late Sen. TAFT, as well as by both Presidents TRUMAN and EISENHOWER. These proposed amendments dealt primarily with secondary boycotts and economic strikes.

It is to be hoped that any revisions will be made without the bitterness and emotionalism attending the law's original approval by Congress.

Althea Gibson Wins

It must have given ALTHEA GIBSON a tremendous thrill to win two Wimbledon tennis championships this year, and to receive one of the trophies from the hand of the Queen of England.

★ ★ ★

The tall Negro girl from New York has clearly established herself as the finest women's tennis player in the world. She not only won the singles championship at Wimbledon, but, coupled with DARLENE HARD of California, she also won the women's doubles title.

Paired with Neale Fraser of Australia, she won her way into the finals of the mixed doubles, only to lose by a narrow margin there, and thus miss the exceedingly rare thrill of winning three titles in the same tournament.

Miss GIBSON is the first Negro to win any Wimbledon championship. She got to the quarter-finals last year, but this year there was no one to challenge her seriously. She dominated the play throughout the finals match on Wimbledon's famous center court. She had won as she pleased in her earlier matches.

★ ★ ★

ALTHEA GIBSON learned to play tennis in Harlem where she grew up. She is twenty-nine years old and a perfectionist in her tennis. Thus she was not satisfied with her service in the finals single match, although she double faulted only twice. But her volleying was so powerful that her opponent never had a chance after ALTHEA swept the first four games in succession.

Our Foreign Trade Up

"Foreign business has provided a major stimulus to domestic production this year," says WALTHER LEDERER of the Commerce Department's Office of Business Economics.

The expansion in this and other areas of rising demands have more than offset some weak spots in our economy, he pointed out. Since 1949 U.S. exports have increased in dollar value by 53.7 per cent and exports have risen in volume by 35.6 per cent. In the same period imports have gone up 89.2 per cent in dollar value and 46.7 per cent in volume.

Acting under provisions of the 1947 General Agreement on Tariff and Trade President EISENHOWER recently raised duties on wool fabrics imported above certain amounts but refused to raise tariffs on imported velveteens. At the present time the oil industry is divided on the question of import quotas.

★ ★ ★

Our export trade is important to U.S. business prosperity. But it does give rise to certain contradictions and inequities which a Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee now is examining.

"We Proved One Thing — We Can't Go That Way"

Civil Rights Filibuster

Weather Forecast—Windy in Senate

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON — Here we go again.

The big blow, or filibuster over civil rights legislation, has begun and soon should hit the Senate full blast.

Although oldtimers have pointed to ominous signs in the legislative sky all this session, the first definite storm warnings went up last week.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) said he doesn't think newspaper readers are getting enough information on what the fuss is all about, and that the only way to get the whole truth is by reading the "Congressional Record."

Now the "Record" has a limited circulation, so, Russell said, "We shall require a long time to get the facts across to the country."

And yesterday, when the bill was called up by Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif), Russell said:

"WE WILL RESIST"—AGAIN

"Mr. President, we will resist."

Well, it won't be the first time.

No one knows who first thought up the idea of killing a bill by talking it to death, but the device probably is as old as man's attempt to govern himself.

"Every endeavor," MacLay said, "was made to waste time."

In 1850 Henry Clay was complaining:

"To postpone, to delay, to impede, to procrastinate, has been the policy of the minority of this body."

President Woodrow Wilson, in one of the most quoted criticisms of all, said:

"HELPLESS, CONTEMPTIBLE"

"The Senate of the United States is the only legislative body in the whole world which cannot act when its majority is ready for action. A little group of willful men, representing no opinion but their own, have rendered the great government of the United States helpless and contemptible."

But none of this has had any effect on the filibuster. As long as the Senate allows unlimited debate, it's a potent weapon in the mouths of any group of determined men.

Now a word of caution: Possibly because Huey Long, king filibuster of them all, occasionally went in for comedy, an impression has got around that a filibuster is a gay thing, with quips falling as freely as in a well rehearsed vaudeville act.

So the Senate has had such thrilling moments as these:

AESOP IN WASHINGTON

Even Long drew on other sources to keep the talk going. He once included a reading of the U.S. Constitution.

During one filibuster Long paused to say to Vice President Garner, who was presiding: "I desire to ask that every Senator be made to stay here and listen to me, unless he has excused himself."

Garner's ruling was prompt and pointed.

The Country Parson

"I like to ignore lots of undesirable things men do—so I'll be more forceful about the vital things."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Garner Wheat, Key to Vite, on Summer Vacation Trip

Mr. T. Walkinshaw, in his presidential address to the British Dental Assn., said that, about the middle of the 19th century, stone grinders for wheat gave place to steel rollers which remove the whole of the germ (the heart or life of the wheat kernel) and almost all of the bran, giving a flour deficient in protein, fat, vitamins A, B, E, and minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron.

DR. BRADY

So what?

Nothing. I just thought some of you poor souls who still have enough teeth to build bridges on might want to get hold of some wheat this summer — you know, make it a project to pursue on your summer vacation.

First find out whether the farmer stores any plain wheat in his bin. If he confesses he does, then dicker with him to sell you a peck.

Whether you take home a peck (quarter of a bushel, 15 pounds) or arrange to have some shipped to you each week or month, the pamphlet Wheat to Eat (available on request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope) not only tells why the original staff of life is so essential for good nutrition and good health, but also suggests numerous ways of using plain wheat in the everyday diet of children and adults—with recipes for tasty products contributed by readers.

CHEW IT RAW

Although I have often advocated carrying a little wheat in pocket or bag and taking a chew occasionally, I had not regarded it as particularly good for the teeth until these English authorities published their findings.

Of course the use of the teeth for chewing wheat and other hard natural foods would favor normal deposition and retention of calcium in the teeth, just as a reasonable amount of general exercise, say two miles of oxygen on the hoof three times a day, favors normal deposition and retention of calcium in the bones, nerves, heart and artery muscle.

Mere confinement to bed or chair, or just laziness and sedentary habit, leads to depletion of your calcium reserve. This makes your bones fragile and your nerves feeble and unsteady and your spirit or temperament peevish.

But when you have studied the wheat pamphlet, you should know how to add sufficient wheat to bring the caloric value of the basic health diet up to your individual requirement.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene; not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Conservation Hints Bring Results

Edith used the strategy mentioned yesterday, plus the additional advice outlined below. And it surprised her. She couldn't believe the results. Her social life changed within a week. But scrapbook this case today and then the final follow-up tomorrow. For success is usually a matter of doing a few simple things in the proper order.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-333: Edith L., age 16, is the shy high schooler who wished she were dead because she had no friends.

★ ★ ★

DR. CRANE

So I told her to remember the magic tattoo on the chest of every human being, namely, "I want to feel important."

Then I urged her to flash a smile every time she met a classmate. And if a boy dropped down in the seat beside her, she was to supplement the smile with a cheery verbal greeting.

"Smart girls don't hesitate to speak first," I added, "so don't spoil your future happiness waiting for the boy to start the conversation.

"Girls are usually more gifted at talking anyway, so help the boy out of his dilemma and open the dialogue.

"Conversation is also like an automobile in cold weather. There is a lot of inertia to overcome before you get both of them to the point where they will roll along without much effort.

"In the case of the automobile, we have low, second and high gear.

CUE YOUR COMPANION

If you end your part of the dialogue with a "period," that kills the conversational machinery. It's like killing the motor of the car.

If you can't think of anything startling with which to open your "ice breaking" statement, just size up your companion and pay him a compiment.

"That's a very pretty tie you are wearing today," you can begin, "so I wonder where you got it?" (Note the question mark).

That is the easiest possible cue to throw your associates. It permits shy folks to enter the dialogue without squirming for something very learned to talk about.

"Oh, my sister gave it to me for my birthday," the boy might modestly reply.

"Is she older or younger than you?" can be Edith's next gay query.

And by this simple device of shooting questions at her boy companion, she can have conversation in high gear and rolling along merrily so it seems effortless.

LIKE TALKING GIRLS

Despite the fact that husbands make jokes about the fact their wives are such chatterboxes, don't let that deceive you younger women.

For men like girls who can start conversations and make it easy for them to converse.

Men are not very deft at launching dialogue, but do they eat it up when you girls start the machinery and then let them monopolize the stage!

And don't think it is only teenagers that like talking girls.

Not long ago I was at a reception for a distinguished fellow psychiatrist. Different celebrities were shaking his hand and making the usual salutations.

But I introduced him to a college coed who smiled and started her salutation with a compliment.

Then she asked him a few discreet questions during the next hour and a half, and he monopolized the conversation throughout.

At the end of the evening, he asked me for more particulars about that young woman, for he said he had never met a smarter, more entertaining person in his life.

Actually, she didn't say possibly 100 words to him all evening. All she did was set the stage with a few discreet questions so he could do most of the talking.

So, girls, it works on scientists as well as teenagers!

Send for my booklet on "Being a Popular Conversationalist," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Urges Readers' Support of Humane Slaughter Bill

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

A bill for humane methods of slaughter of food animals has passed the House committee and is now awaiting action by the full House of Representatives.

The bill, H.R. 8308, states that Congress finds "the use of humane methods in the slaughter of livestock prevent needless suffering, results in safer and better working condition for persons engaged in the slaughtering industry, brings about improvement of products and economies in all slaughtering operations, and produces other benefits for producers, processors and consumers which tend to expedite an orderly flow of livestock products in interstate and foreign commerce."

This legislation would require food animals to be stunned or anesthetized before slaughter. If more people were aware of the need for this humane slaughter legislation and that it is pending in Congress, I'm sure they would give it wholehearted support and urge its immediate passage. I'm writing in hopes more people will become aware of it and write their Congressmen urging its passage this session of Congress.

One of the most maddening things today is the traffic light at the Orchard Lake-Telegraph intersection. There's no allowance made for the north bound traffic on Fridays or the south bound on Sundays. Why can't the weekenders be given a break? Couldn't the light be adjusted to give them more time on the green cycle? It would certainly relieve the congestion and make for a much smoother operation. But I guess like other traffic problems in this state, it is left to fate!

See Zhukov as No. 2 Man on Kremlin Totem Pole

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top U. S. officials, in a new assessment of the shakeup in the Russian high command, have concluded that Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov is now the second most powerful man in the Soviet Union.

They seem inclined now to credit Zhukov with a possibly decisive role in crushing the challenge to Khrushchev's No. 1 position during the stormy Kremlin developments of the past two weeks.

★ ★ ★

Zhukov, as a representative of the Red army, they believe, can be expected to play an increasingly important role, especially now that he has been elevated to full membership in the party Presidium.

KHRUSHCHEV A PAWN?

Zhukov's backing of Khrushchev has set some officials to wondering what this support has cost the Soviet party chief. The question they ask is: Has Khrushchev been forced to become a captive of the Red army in order to survive the struggle for power?

★ ★ ★

The sudden shakeup which resulted in the ouster of six top Kremlin leaders, officials believe, undoubtedly has added to the army influence within the inner circle.

★ ★ ★

Most authorities, while viewing Khrushchev as unchallenged Soviet leader, nevertheless believe he will keep the "collective leadership" which has been built up since Stalin's death. But, an increasingly important number of officials seem to be veering to the idea that Khrushchev has now embarked on a drive to become a Stalin-like dictator whose every word is to be followed.

WATCH SATELLITE

Khrushchev's visit to Czechoslovakia is being carefully watched for signs of how the Moscow shakeup will hit the satellite empire. Nearly all officials believe there will be repercussions.

★ ★ ★

The survival of Czech Communist Party Secretary Antonin Novotny will be watched as a guidepost by many. If Novotny, recognized as somewhat as a Stalinist, is booted out during or after Khrushchev's visit, authorities believe many other satellite Stalinists will be toppled from power also.

Delays Decision on Courthouse

Judge Still Studying Legal Issues Involved in Building Plans

Decision in the court suit holding up a new Oakland County Courthouse is going to be delayed, but just how long the delay will be Circuit Judge Herman Dehnke, of Harrisville was unprepared to say today.

Judge Dehnke, who heard the case in May, is studying four briefs and four day's testimony.

"There are a number of tricky legal issues involved, and I can't make any forecast now just when they will be decided," he said.

The Oakland County Taxpayers' League brought the suit, challenging the Board of Supervisors' method of financing the new building and the legality of moving the courthouse location to a new site in the county service center.

Regardless of the judge's decision, both sides expect an appeal to the State Supreme Court. It is believed at least one constitutional issue is involved.

This concerns the year-end disposal of budgetary surpluses. The county put surplus revenues in a fund for new buildings. The league claims most of these surpluses went into the fund in violation of a constitutional limitation.

The county has agreed to hold up construction of the courthouse until the suit is decided. It has about $1,400,000 on hand now, sufficient to begin construction, supervisors say.

Love for Hot Pizza Costs Student $25

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A 22-year-old University of Michigan graduate's love for hot pizza pie has cost him $25 and a lot of trouble.

James Thurman pleaded guilty yesterday in Kalamazoo Municipal Court to breaking into the nearby Vicksburg police station a week ago in order to telephone a Kalamazoo restaurant to have a hot pizza ready for him when he arrived.

Marshl William Styx said he caught Thurman leaving the station as he was returning from his nightly rounds.

Thurman was fined $25 and also ordered to pay for the repair of a broken lock on the station door.

Whiskey, Skiffle Merged for New Pop Music Style

CHICAGO (INS) — Whiskey and Skiffle are being teamed to beat at Rock 'n' Roll's popularity.

Skiffle is a kind of mucic. Whiskey is the family name of a pert Scotch-born lass who sings it.

FOLK SONG

Nancy sings old favotires like "Green Back Dollar" in a voice that is smooth but potent enough to stand up against one washboard and four guitars — the required musical background.

In one month, Whiskey and skiffle became sensations in London music halls. So an American firm (Chic Records of Thomasville, Ga.) is bringing skiffle records out in the United States.

FLEW TO CHICAGO

Nancy flew to Chicago recently to attend a music convention. And, although she spent more time being interviewed about her family name than her singing, she didn't mind a bit.

A petite, blue-eyed brunette, Nancy dimpled and said:

She laughs along with the gagsters who report that "whiskey is 100 proof and mellow;" comes in a nice container" or chant "Cigareets and Whiskey and Wild, Wild Skiffle."

As for who goes for skiffle, Nancy says her fans include teen-age as well as grownups. She said:

"The kids are getting fed up with rock 'n' roll and having noise thumped at them."

She is coming back to the United States in July to appear on a nationwide television variety show (Ed Sullivan, July 14).

As for how she got her start, the 21-year-old singer entered an amateur talent contest while working for a silver antique shop in London.

Singer, Husband Sail —but on Separate Ships

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia singer Ethel Rider and her husband Jacques Cachot, a French ship's officer, are on their way to his home country for a visit but they aren't travelling together.

He's an officer on the Ile de France and a company rule bars a crew member's wife from sailing on the same ship. Cachot saw his wife off on the Flandre in the morning, then sailed on the Ile de France that afternoon.

Man Nearly Drowns as Boys Ram Boat

WANTAGH, N. Y. (INS)—A 55-year-old Long Island man was nearly drowned yesterday while fishing after his boat was deliberately rammed by three boys in a speedboat and he was left to swim a quarter-mile to shore.

Paul Mathis, of Bellmore, N. Y., noticed the teenagers circling his rowboat and yelling, before he got his line in the water. When they darted in to ram his boat, he dived overboard.

The rowboat was smashed and $250 worth of gear and tackle sank with the wreckage. Still yelling at the top of their lungs, the boys circled him again and then raced away from the scene. Mathis' strength was exhausted several minutes later when he finally touched shore.

He told police that had the incident occurred just a few hundred feet farther out he would have drowned.

Man Stops for Drink; Gets Hit by Own Car

GREENFIELD, Mass. (AP)—John Lenihan, 69, was struck by his own car yesterday.

He had stopped at a soft drink stand on a highway and got out, when his car moved forward and pinned him against a building.

Lenihan suffered internal and back injuries.

2,800,000 in 12 Years Have Fled East Berlin

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — The German who can no longer live under communism in the East and slips across to the West is keeping warm the hope of eventual German reunification.

★ ★ ★

They are not a happy sight: mothers with hastily packed shopping baskets and infants smelling in need of a bath; a middle-aged man who is beginning to have second thoughts about the impulse which sent him fleeing from his family; a thumb-sucking little girl whose hair should be combed.

But they quicken the heartbeat of the prosperous and well-fed West Germans who see them arrive at the airport and get herded into trucks for the ride to the reception center.

"But for the grace of God, there go I," said one West German who watched it. "How long must this go on?"

It has been going on since the Russians clamped an Iron Curtain on their occupation zone in Germany after World War II. In 12 years nearly 2,800,000 Germans have fled the Soviet zone and the Soviet sector of Berlin, settling in the West.

★ ★ ★

Berlin is the easiest place to jump because there is considerable back-and-forth traffic. But it is an island in the Soviet zone of Germany. That is why refugees are flown out.

A visit to Berlin nowadays does not provide the contrast between East and West living conditions that it once did.

The West Berliners, to be sure, are a chic lot by comparison with those of the East. The Westerners laugh a lot more and their sidewalk cafes, like their clothes and cars, are brighter and gayer. But the Easterners, despite their bent heads and grim faces, appear busy and productive.

The reason for the changed look may lie in what happened June 17, 1953. That was the date of the Berlin uprising, when the people threw rocks at Red army tanks years before the Hungarian revolt and the Polish riots. The Reds have since eased their yoke in East Berlin.

★ ★ ★

"The Communists don't want another June 17," a West German official said. "And neither do we."

★ ★ ★

He explained that Germans on both sides of the Iron Curtain know reunification must come without either war or full Soviet domination. Another uprising might provoke West German action to help friends and relatives in the East. And where would that put the North Atlantic Treaty nations? Would they join with Germany in a war against Russia?

It is a catastrophic thought to people rebuilding their country from the rubble of World War II.

And there is the practical side of reunification. What happens to the prosperous West German economy if it suddenly is weighted down with the lagging economy of the East?

Mount Fuji Attracts Japan's Royal Couple

LAKE KAWAGUCHI (AP)—Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako climbed part way up Mt. Fuji today—by car and bus.

The royal couple drove to the third station by car, then changed to a bus for the rough ride to the fifth station, about halfway up the sacred mountain. The stations are small inns catering to the swarms of climbers who ascend Fuji each year.

Penguins Need Money, but 'Gator Holds Out

Money was needed to build a penguin house. So an alligator named Junior was appointed treasurer, and zoo visitors were invited to toss coins into his pool. They did so, to the tune of $331.40 at last count.

The last count was two weeks ago, before Junior's mate laid a nestful of eggs. Since then, she won't let zookeepers in to pick up the contributions.

Tell Discovery of New Element

Researchers Use Ions to Produce Ultra-Heavy Chemical 'Nobelium'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Scientests from three nations have jointly announced the discovery of a new ultra-heavy chemoca. element.

The element is the 10th discovered by nuclear scientists since 1940. It was designated element 102 and named nobelium after the late swedish scientist - philanthropist Alfred Nobel.

Element 102 was found by a joint international research team including scientists from the U.S. Argonne National Laboratory, part of the University of Chicago; the United Kingdom's atomic energy Research establishment at Harwell, and Sweden's Nobel Institute for Physics at stockholm.

The new element was created by bombarding element 96 in the classic periodic table with ions (atomic bullets) produced in the Nobel Institute's cyclotron or atom - smashing machine.

Elements number 1 through 92 on the classic periodic table of the earth's chemical materials are all natural. The table ranges from the lighest element hydrogen to the heaviest, uranium.

★ ★ ★

At present, the creation and discovery of such synthetic elements is of more importance to theoretical physics than it is to applied nuclear engineering.

Voted for Bryan in '96, Just Became Citizen

CHICAGO (AP) — William C. Marchant, 85, who cast his first ballot in a presidential election for William Jennings Bryant in 1896, became a United States citizen yesterday.

Marchant, it was disclosed, voted in many other elections until 1940, when he learned he was not a citizen. He had believed that service in the Illinois National Guard from 1890 to 1893 made him a citizen.

His parents had brought him to Chicago from London as a child in 1879 but his father neglected to have the family naturalized.

Only Open One for Miles

Jet Bomber Crashes in Vacant Los Angeles Lot

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — Luck was with the residents of a heavily populated district of this suburb of Los Angeles when a pilotless Navy jet bomber came streaking out of the skies.

Skimming trees and apartment buildings in a long, perilous arc, the A4D Skyhawk plunged to earth in the only open space for miles around—a vacant lot 50 feet square surrounded by multiunit dwellings.

★ ★ ★

Shortly after the single-engine attack bomber crashed and exploded yesterday, its badly injured pilot came floating down in a parachute a few miles away. The veteran Navy flier, Cmdr. P. C. Durup, 36, Northridge, Calif. was taken from his hilltop landing spot in a litter and placed in Glendale Memorial Hospital.

★ ★ ★

The Civil Aeronautics Administration reported that Durup, who had taken off from Douglas Aircraft Co's El Segundo plant on a production test flight of the swept-wing atom bomber, radioed from 20,000 feet over Los Angeles that he was having engine trouble and bailing out.

The 700 m.p.h.-plane came down in a long glide, then leveled out as it came within a few hundred feet of the ground for a nerve-wracking flight over a thickly settled section of this city of 100,000. The jet crashed near a major intersection.

Bits of burning wreckage set a double garage on fire, but firemen quickly stopped the flames from spreading. Other fragments went through windows of the nearby homes and apartment houses, but no injuries or serious damage were reported.

Cmdr. Durup's injuries were believed caused by his high speed ejection from the stricken plane. He was reported in fair condition. His injuries were diagnosed as possible fractures of the back, shoulders, leg and arm.

Rows Around Lake to Avoid 'Scrap Heap'

Michael G. Corson said he was making the long row to "show the world that a 71-year-old man with a good mind and strong body should not be tossed on the scrap heap."

★ ★ ★

Corson's craft carries a geiger counter, barometer, microscopes and other scientific apparatus with which he plans to check formations along the lake shore for valuable minerals.

Ike Will Be Told Pakistan Story

Leader Arrives Today to Air Country's Views on Dispute With India

KARACHI (INS) — Pakistani Premier Hussain Shaheed Suhrawardy is due to arrive in Washington today to tell President Eisenhower his nation's side of the dispute with India over Kashmir.

The Karachi leader has been itching to place his views before the President since India's Nehru visited Washington last December.

Along with Iran and Turkey, Suhrawardy's Pakistan probably is America's best friend in the turbulent Moslem world; and a vital link between anti-Communist defenses in east and west Asia.

The Pakistanis are enthusiastic members of both the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) and the Baghdad Pact. India is the missing link in the world - wide anti - Communist chain.

Needing the friendship of both, the United States must walk a diplomatic tight-rope through the bitterness, hatred and fear that has grown between India and Pakistan during 10 years of freedom.

KASHMIR IS CENTER

Center of the turmoil is Kashmir, a remote mountain province about the size of Utah. The disputed territory is claimed by Pakistan, but most of the state — including its choice parts — is held by India.

Strategically, backward Kashmir is the control point of high central Asia, surrounded by India, Pakistan, Tibet, China and Afghanistan. A narrow strip of Afghan land separates it from Soviet Russia.

Kashmir has become an emotional crusade on both sides of the artificial Indo-Pakistan border. An undeclared war was stopped by a United Nations truce team in 1947 but shoting "incidents" still are reported along the uneasy cease-fire line.

After the cease-fire, the U.N. recommended a plebiscite. Pakistan supports the idea, because a majority of the Kashmiris are Moslems. India opposed the plebiscite on grounds Pakistan troops remain on Kashmir territory illegally.

Atlantic Coast Gets Its Third Radar Tower

NEW YORK (AP)—The platform for the nation's third Texas tower rose slowly from the sea today as hydraulic jacks lifted it to the top of three huge legs resting on the edge of the Continental Shelf 65 miles southeast of here.

The tower when completed will serve as an offshore radar warning station against enemy air attack. Similar towers have been erected on George's Bank off Boston and on Nantucket Shoals off the southern coast of Cape Cod.

Five ocean-going tugs of the Moran Towing Co. brought this tower's triple legs, platform and miscellaneous parts from Portland, Maine, last Wednesday. Waves and wind prevented placing the legs until Sunday.

With the legs filled with water and resting on rock 180 feet below the surface, tugs spent the rest of the day jockeying slots in the platform into position between the legs. Once locked in place, the platform was slowly prepared for raising to its final position, 65 feet above the ocean.

Japanese Cabinet Resigns on Request

The Cabinet shakeup had been expected for some time. Few changes in the Conservative government's policies were expcted to rsult from the reshuffle, which was done to reconcile rival factions in the ruling Liberal-Democratic party rather for policy reasons.

The Prime Minister, who had been foreign minister in Ishibashi's short-lived government, had kept the previous Cabinet to avoid a factional fight that might have interfered with his trips to Southeast Asia and the United States.

2 School Elections Set

DETROIT (AP) — Special school proposals will be voted on Monday in the Detroit suburbs of Harper Woods and Fraser. Fraser will vote on a teacher tenure agreement and fill two board of education posts.

Hal Boyle Says:

Nature Lover Spurns Civilization

He doesn't buy much. He rarely spends in public. He lives by a personal standard above the changing dollar.

"This is no stunt with me," said Bert Garner, a tall, bent intellectual who at the age of 71 points out he can and does at times exist at the rate of 15 cents a day—or less.

He hand grinds corn and soybeans, puts in a little chocolate or powdered milk, and makes a meal of it and says he is satisfied.

Bert can still climb 25 to 30 miles a day through the Great Smoky Mountains. "I prefer simple ways," he says.

To understand Bert you have to know him a bit. He doesn't fit any pigeonhole you know. He never will. If he found out he did, he would change.

Bert has studied at a number of universities across the country. He worked in all kinds of wandering jobs. He spent about a dozen years with the U. S. immigration people.

He lives now all alone in a woodland building of his choice. It is a two-room cabin he built 37 years ago. It is in the area where his ancestors arrived some 200 years ago—or nearly.

Bert is slender, white-maned, widely read, and cheerfully proud that his way of life isn't for the family man.

He has a major criticism of civilization as most of us know about it—and, on occasion, complain about it.

"They're in a rat race, trying to keep up with the Joneses. Sometimes I feel that it is a good thing some people work so hard.

"Our education system doesn't prepare people for the right kind of leisure. You can work, or you can live, I like to live."

Bert himself, who is interested in such momentous questions as the distribution of snakes in the 50-acre wilderness in which he built his cabin, also knows that to a disciple of nature and considered indolence there can be no spare time.

There are 50 different kinds of trees in his woodland empire, and he has grown 28 different fruits or vegetables in his garden.

So long as a bud burgeons, a bloom flowers, he is alert to the changing moods of nature, which, if nature be not his god, yet often in petaled splendor and bright-winged farewell, is many times his consolation.

"We get along fine," he said. "They come out at the whippoorwill's dusk, and go back at the whippoorwill's dawn. I tell people I live in Paradise, I do."

Bert has worked in New York and Philadelphia, studied on the West Coast. But either a greatness or weakness in his being has always brought him home to his woodland cabin near the hills of his birth. He figures he has held a job only 20 of his 71 years, and some of those 20 years were wasted.

In an era of creeping inflation the area of his desire enlarges none. The berries along the mountain trail red his palate and his path.

His home has no plumbing, no electric lights, no radio, no television, no telephone. His utility bill—two gallons of kerosene to light his lamps—is 38 cents a year.

"No man raising a family could live as I do," he said, and when asked what was the main virtue of his unusual way of life, he replied: "Freedom."

Bert says he has lived in depression times for as little as $15 a year, and today can live comfortably—the woods have their bright free diet adventures—for $100 a year, and spend at least $40 of this amount on books, newspapers, and magazines. Outside of common sense, his major vice is reading.

"Many people don't know what to do with leisure or old age," said Bert.

"I have reduced life to its lowest common denominator. It doesn't cost much to live and think.

"Well maybe it wouldn't be a bad idea to start it all over again from scratch!"

Junior Editors Quiz on HEROES

ANSWER: One of the great captains in the history of the U. S. Navy, John Paul Jones, joined the Russian Navy and became an admiral after the American Revolution.

It was just one more amazing fact about the amazing Capt. Jones. He became a sailor at the age of 12, was captain of his own ship at 21, and offered his services to his nation against England.

He raised the colonists' banner over the first American Man of War and was captain of the first American ship to be saluted by foreign guns. In September of 1779, as captain of the Bon Homme Richard, he met the British man of war Serapis. Though his own ship was sinking, Jones refused to surrender and said, "I have not yet begun to fight." Eventually he won.

When the Revolution ended and there were no more battles to fight, he joined the Russian Navy, became an admiral, and then resigned. He is buried at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

FOR YOU TO DO: Ask your librarian to help you find the complete story of John Paul Jones' battle with the Serapis in a history book. Then sit down and write it like a news story for a newspaper. You can color this picture to illustrate it.

Eire Airport Protests Hints It's Outmoded

DUBLIN—Shannon Airport executives have been riled at suggestions that it has no real future in the jet age. Some commentators have said that Eire's $11,000,000 international airport will diminish in importance as the big jets take over.

A Pan-American spokesman in Dublin declared: "There is so much business to be done at Shannon that no airline with pickup rights will ever ignore it. The big jets represent only part of the total air traffic. Last year 11,237 planes carrying 425,753 passengers landed at Shannon—700 more planes and 4,000 more passengers than in 1955.

Collision Kills Detroiter

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Carrie Houvener, 71, of Detroit, was killed Tuesday when the car in which sh was riding collided with a truck on the city's West Side. Mrs. Houvener's husband, Edward, 74, was hurt seriously.

Governor Happy Over Lower Death Toll

State's Highways Safer

LANSING (AP) — A car-truck crash near Copemish that claimed seven lives, Michigan's Fourth of July traffic toll fell below predictions.

State police forecast 35 persons would die in traffic during the four-day weekend. Actual count was 19.

Gov. Williams commended motorists, law enforcement personnel, newspapers and radio and TV stations for their efforts in holding down the death toll.

"This saving of lives, despite heavy holiday traffic, shows that Michigan motorists are working at the job of driving safely," he said.

Thirty-five persons died in traffic accidents last year from July 4, which fell on a Wednesday, through the following Sunday.

Through Sunday, 707 persons had met death in traffic this year, 165 less than for the same period of 1956. And the death toll for all of 1956, the governor noted, was 12 per cent below 1955.

State Tax Study Still Up in Air

Williams, Legislator Move Further Apart on Conducting Survey

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams and chairman Rollo G. Conlin of the House Taxation Committee appeared near the breaking off point today in their efforts to get together on a study of Michigan's tax structure.

A written exchange of viewpoints yesterday on how to go about conducting such a survey left the two men farther apart then ever on proposals for a joint study.

Mainly, they disagreed on the role to be played in the survey by a "Blue Ribbon" group of citizens to be made up of leaders in various fields.

Conlin, in his memorandum to the governor, restated his contention that it serve as an advisory group to a Legislative Tax Study Committee which he heads.

Williams was just as firm in insisting the citizens committee itself conduct the study, making recommendations to him and to the Legislature.

"There's all the difference in the world between these two concepts," said the governor in a statement from his summer residence at Mackinac Island.

"Where we go from here," he added, "will have to be decided after some further consideration."

Red Buttons Sick

DETROIT (AP) — A sore throat prevented comedian Red Buttons from appearing in the summer stock production of "Petticoat Fever" at a suburban outdoor theater Tuesday night, Dr. Harold Pliskow said Buttons probably would be able to make the Wednesday night performance.

High Redwood Output

SACRAMENTO — A single redwood tree cut in California has been known to produce as much as 100,000 board feet of usable lumber at the sawmill.

Red and Son Optimistic Upon Arrival in Europe

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Richard Skelton, 9, leukemia-stricken son of comedian Red Skelton, arrived in Europe with his family today to begin a tour of the places he especially wants to see in the old world.

The youngster, his sister Valentina, 10, their parents and Bo Roos Sr., the comedian's manager, made a brief stop at Copenhagen Airport before flying on to Stockholm. They came here over the Pole from Los Angeles.

★ ★ ★

Looking anything but doomed, red-haired, Richard fired away with his camera at everything moving in the airport and then played happily in the restaurant during the stopover. The trip of approximately six weeks is being made while the boy's illness is in the so-called remission stage, in which the cancerous blood cells apparently lie dormant.

Skelton said his son would see a leukemia expert in Stockholm.

"I believe," he said, "that we shall, on this trip, receive important advice from competent doctors who know this disease in all its phases and variants. Richard knows that he will have to take good care of himself and that he has a chance if he does so."

★ ★ ★

Skelton said his son is aware that he is not as strong as other boys of his age but declared, "I am optimistic about it and so is Richard."

"He regards it as nonsense when he reads in the newspapers that it is doubtful if he will live to become a grownup man," Skelton said.

★ ★ ★

After Denmark and Sweden, the trip will take the Skeltons to Germany, Switzerland, England, France, Italy, Spain, the island of Majorca and then to the Azores and Mexico City en route home.

"I just want Richard to see some of the great wonders of the world," Skelton said before leaving the United States.

Road Chairman Dies

Flint Man Surrenders

FLINT (AP) — Steve Germani, 35, an alleged Flint gambler, was free on $5,000 bond Wednesday, pending a hearing July 18 on charges of conspiring to violate the state's gambling laws. Germanie, for whose arrest a warrant was issued last April 10 by grand juror Michael Carland, surrendered to police yesterday and told them he did not know he was being sought.

Scouts Pour Into Camp for Jamboree Opening

By the time the encampment officially begins with the "roll call of the regions" more than 55,000 Scouts and their leaders will be living on the campsite made famous by George Washington's Colonial Army.

In a smooth operation, marred by only a few mishaps and schedule delays, more than 18,000 arrived yesterday by plane, train, bus and auto. A similar number moves in today with the final third pitching tents tomorrow after arrival.

The giant state of Texas claimed two distinctions today: it had the first unit to arrive and it also was "lost" on the train for 24 hours. Train 902 pulled in shortly after today's dawn one day late, delayed by flood waters in the west and a last-minute sight-seeing junket in the east.

There was also the element of near tragedy. A bus carrying 37 Boy Scouts and three leaders from Johnstown, Pa., caught fire as it traveled on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. It was destroyed by flames that mushroomed up from the rear engine, but the Scouts and driver escaped safely.

The 52 Scouts and seven leaders of the Salem, Ore., Cascade Area Council got separated from their tents and equipment for nearly two hours.

That didn't faze the tired lads who had been traveling, with a couple of stopovers, since last Wednesday. They tossed their bulging knapsacks on the weedy turf, munched blades of grass in the sun and listened to the Americans beat the Nationals in the All-Star Game.

★ ★ ★

The first casualty of the decorative exhibits erected by the Scouts was the eternal light of the Gettysburg (Pa.) Council. It was snuffed out permanently after it set afire the replica of a memorial that stands on the Civil War battlefield.

Burning 'Midnight Oil' Brings Fire Engines

PATERSON, N. J. (AP) — A tenant burning the midnight oil in his apartment was rudely awakened by the arrival of three fire engines and a hook and ladder truck.

The tenant, Cristno Cepeda, told firemen he was reading by candlelight near the window. A passer-by had called the fire department to report a "blaze" in the Cepeda apartment.

Progress Made in Smog Battle

Los Angeles' 9 Year Fight Has Eliminated All Causes Except Autos

LOS ANGELES (AP)—This metropolitan giant of the West today can claim substantial progress in its nine-year battle against the smog which had threatened to strangle it.

The Los Angeles Air Pollution Control District said the smog-producing elements of industry and rubbish incineration have been largely controlled or will be, upon completion of programs now nearing conclusion.

This, said the annual report of control officer S. Smith Griswold, leaves only the automobile exhaust as a major source of smog. And auto exhaust, said the APCD, will be a critical problem for at least another four years.

Cost of the antismog battle since it was launched in 1948 was estimated at $72,770,000 in the report, issued yesterday. Industry has invested 50 millions in devices to control smoke and fumes. The APCD has spent $10,320,000 on its control program. Research expenditures by other agencies amount to $12,450,000.

Has the amount of smog actually been reduced?

There has not been a smog alert so far this year. At this time last year there had been three. There were 10 alerts in 1956, compared with 15 in 1955.

An alert is called when the amount of ozone in the air reaches .50 part per million parts of air. The ozone content is considered a measure of air pollution.

The APCD said there have been fewer days of heavy eye irritation below alert level this year than in 1956.

Where'd You Take 'Em - - - Central Park?

Pictures From Afar Impress No One

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — You never quite realize how blind you are to the beauties of your life — and how deaf you are to its funnies — until you come home from a trip to a foreign land.

Carefully, tenderly, you unpack the rolls of film you took over there in that rare, exotic clime where, it seemed, every sight was exquisitely scenic or excruciatingly funny.

You stuff them into an old overseas bag and trundle them to the camera shop and ask them to rush the job, please, the neighbors have gotta getta loada THIS.

Then two weeks later you go back to pick up your exciting black and white prints, your fantastic color slides, your pictorial souvenir of the unique country that charmed you so. And the photo shop clerk says —

"They came out good. Where'd you take 'em — Central Park?"

At first, when the numbness of shock wears off, you think this guy is stupid; in your sophisticated status as world traveler, you pity him as one who couldn't know a moor from a mound of city sod — he hasn't been around.

NOT AS BIG, NEW

No son, you say shortly. Most of these pictures were taken in England and Scotland.

Oh, he says unabashed, I wondered what those buildings were behind the trees. They didn't look near as new and big as ours.

It seems unbelievable! For two weeks you were there, loading and unloading film every half-hour, running up an enormous bill in camera upkeep, because every sight was so special and worthy of recording.

Grudgingly, you peel off two weeks' salary and hand it to this dope from the darkroom and take the trophy home.

That night, gathered around the projection screen, are your most discriminating friends and neighbors. You have plied them with cold cuts and iced tea, dazzled them with verbal accounts of the expedition abroad, tickled them with the uproarious story of how this uncosmopolite at the camera store said where had you been — Central Park?

The lights go out, and behold, there is the shot of a Yorkshire countryside . . .

"Beautiful!" says Mrs. Schwartz. "Henry, doesn't that look exactly like — Ohio — over around Pique, where you see all those cows?" Henry says it sure does.

MOST ARTISTIC

Click, change. The picture is the Scottish lowlands, most artistic with tall trees in the foreground, a loch in the rear.

"I swear," says someone named George, "if that isn't a dead ringer for northern Michigan, except the lake isn't as big as the rivers up there."

"Well, who'd have thought, and in England too," observes George's wife. "That's exactly like the house Grandma Barker had in Rhode Island before Grandpa left her all that money. They tore it down and she's got a real nice place now."

It goes on and on that way, through 20 rolls of color film. At the last click and change, you show them the piece de resistance — a tiny, typical English baby toddling through a patch of buttercups in an enormous sunbonnet.

And so it does. And so she's not, of course.

Suddenly you realize a great truth (which you quickly will forget in the return to hectic, non-vacation living), which is: The most unappreciated camera studies in life are free.

Sheffield Cutler Lands With Gift

Brings Sterling for Ike

NEW YORK (AP)—Sir Peter Roberts, master cutler of Sheffield, England, arrived Tuesday on the liner Mauretania with more than 200 pieces of sterling silver cutlery to be given to President Eisenhower.

Sir Peter said the table silver will be given to the President at the White House July 15.

The silver is encased in a mahogany cabinet, on which is an inscription which cites the president for "his courage and leadership when he and the Rt. Hon. Sir Winston Churchill and the United States and British forces fought together as allies against the powers of dictatorship."

Sir Peter said a similar gift was made to Churchill in 1953.

Included in the set are pearl-handled table, butter, fruit and steak knives, fruit and steak forks, spoons, a meat carving set and a game carving knife.

Sir Peter planned to spend three days in Milwaukee, and later will visit Racine, Wis.; Lancaster, Pa. and his farm near Toronto. He plans to fly home from Montreal later this month.

Officials Investigate Israeli-Syrian Crash

JERUSALEM (AP) — Truce officials pressed an investigation today into a 10-hour border clash between Israeli and Syrian forces which finally halted after the U.N. had put out four cease-fire, calls.

★ ★ ★

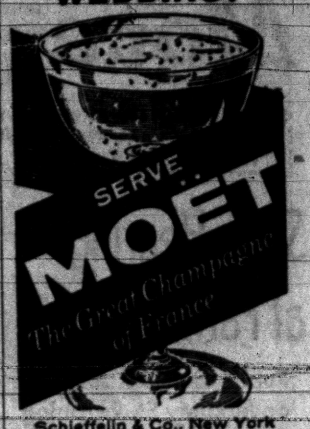

Israeli sources said a shepherd was killed and seven Israeli police wounded in the exchange of rifle, machine-gun and mortar fire. A Syrian army spokesman in Damascus said two Arab women and two children were wounded.

Leary, who put out the repeated cease-fire orders, conferred with Walter Eytan, Israeli Foreign Ministry director general, shortly after the shooting stopped at 10:45 p.m.

Move 116-Year-Old Landmark

COMMERCE — Older residents of Commerce village choked up a little yesterday when the 116-year-old Methodist church was lifted from its foundation.

Now on a truck that is parked near the original location, the church will be transported to the site of the new Methodist church as soon as an electrical crew clears the way.

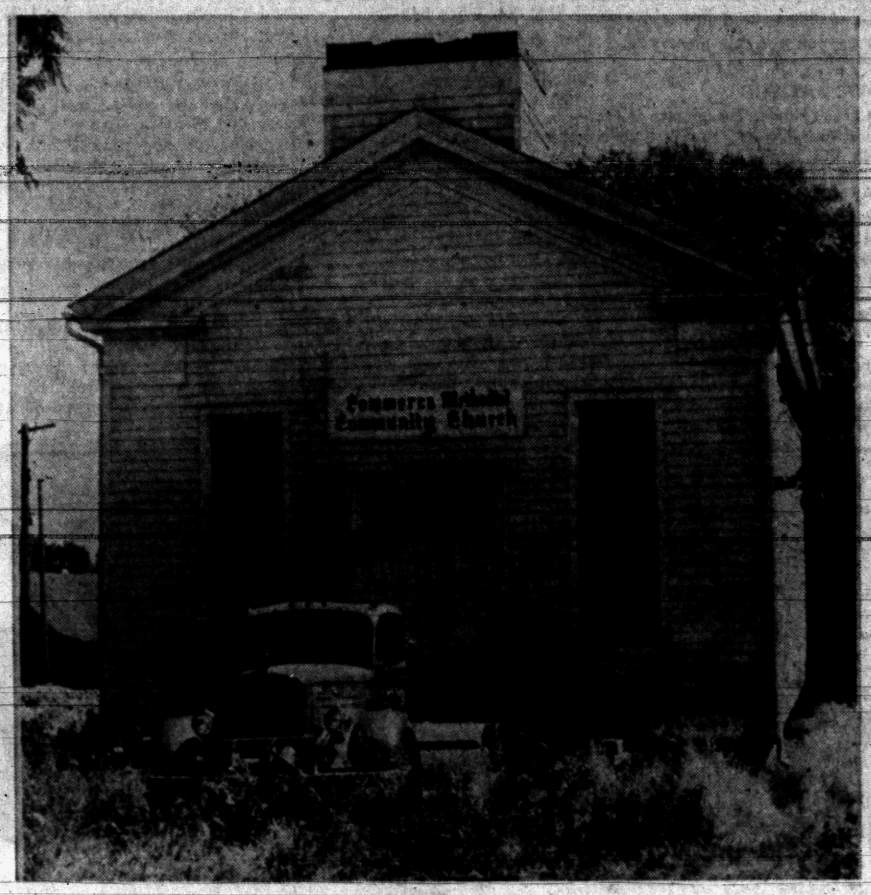

The church stood at the corner of Ponderosa and Commercial streets since 1841. It will be placed on a new foundation in Mount Royal subdivision, immediately west of Commerce village, where the new church now stands.

The original church will be used as a chapel without any structural changes, save for a new steeple.

History of the old church shows membership grew from a handful in 1841 to a total number of 340 today. Before the church was founded, Commerce Methodists formed a society and met in a home, being visited by a minister who travelled the Farmington circuit by horseback.

The church went through strong and weak periods when the membership varied with the population and, for a long time, was combined with the Walled Lake church.

One pastor served both churches for a period which ended in 1946 when Rev. Charles Wright assumed the pastoral duties at Commerce. He was succeeded by the Rev. Perry A. Thomas, who has been pastor of the church since 1949.

LANDMARK BEING RELOCATED — This 116-year-old Methodist Church at Commerce is on its way to a site next to the new church west of Commerce Village. The old structure will be given a new steeple to be used as a chapel.

Slate Hearing at Farmington

Public Session July 11 on Mooney St. Rezoning to Commercial

FARMINGTON — A public hearing is scheduled for Thursday evening on the proposed rezoning, from residential to commercial, of property on both sides of Mooney street between Grand River and Shiawassee.

The proposal involves three parcels of land adjacent to the new Farmington Plaza Shopping Center, now under construction on Mooney at Grand River.

The Planning commission has recommended that the City Council approve the proposed rezoning. It is the opinion of commission members that the area is more suitable for commercial than for residential development.

The council recently turned down a proposal for rezoning of a portion of this property for multiple dwellings.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building.

Farmington Council Okays Subdivision

FARMINGTON — At its regular meeting here, City Council gave final approval to the Twin Valley Subdivision, located between Shiawassee and 10 Mile road along both sides of Farmington road.

A letter of resignation from councilman Harvey E. Chapman was tabled. Chapman stated that he felt that the press of his personal business was too great to allow him to give necessary time to city affairs. All other business on the agenda was tabled until after a public hearing Thursday evening.

State Aid Funds Decrease

Huron Valley Slates Election

MILFORD — A special election for a two mill property tax levy in the Huron Valley School District will be held July 29, according to Superintendent Harold Hansen.

He said that the increased millage is necessary due to additional school operating costs and this year's decrease in state aid funds.

Thus transportation costs rose last year because of the double schedule for Huron Valley School children, Hansen said.

An open meeting will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Highland Elementary School and the Board of Education will be present to answer questions and explain the financial status of the school district.

Hansen said that the two mill levy had nothing to do with the new $2,450,000 building program now going on.

This was approved by the people in an election in 1952 and 1955. The debt retirement on the 1952 bond issue will be paid off this year, Hansen said, which will drop the property tax one mill.

At the present time 8.7 mills has been allocated for school operation by the Oakland County Allocation Board and 10.7 is needed for the next three years for school operation, Hansen concluded.

Farmington Treasurer Tenders Resignation

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Clayton Goers, Township treasurer, last night tendered his resignation to the Township Board, to be effective Sept. 1. Goers, 60, is resigning because of failing health.

Use of 38 Acres Donated

Year of Hard Work Ends--Camp Opens

By BARBARA JOHNSON

SASHABAW PLAINS — Located in an old apple orchard, the first Girl Scout Day Camp open for the Sashabaw neighborhood began yesterday and will be held through Thursday of this week and Tuesday to Thursday of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. K. P. Davidson, 7701 Eston Rd., have given the use of their farm with its serene and rolling countryside for about 75 Brownies and Intermediate Scouts, who are attending the camp.

Completing the setting are isolated barns, a rambling red farm house adjoining the woods, hills and valleys, all located on the 38-acre site.

About 14 trained counselors will have charge of the girls who state, that although they have activities in mind, the main idea is for the scouts to lead themselves.

These women from this area have spent the past year in long preparation for these two weeks. According to Mrs. Ross Woodworth, Sashabaw Neighborhood Chairman, many hours have been taken up with meetings and discussions by interested residents.

One of the main arts that the girls will learn is progressive cooking. They will cook their noon meal over an open fire, beginning with simple menus and progressing each day to something more difficult. At the end of the camping period they will be able to cook and plan a well balanced meal by themselves.

Many of the planned activities will serve to earn proficiency badges for the Intermediate Scouts. The plans include hiking, trail blazing, bird studies, treasure hunts for geological and nature objects, all in the line of education.

Canadian Family Tax Load Lower

OTTAWA — The family man fared better income-tax wise in Canada than in the United States during 1956. The cash bonus paid by the Canadian Government every month to families with children under 16 makes the big difference.

When these baby bonuses are subtracted from the Canadian's tax bill, as a general rule he pays less than his American counterpart.

The Canadian gets a $150 dependent's allowance per child on his tax return compared with the U. S. allowance of $609, but during the year he collects $5 to $8 per child each month from the national Government independent of the income tax.

Clarkston Boy Going

Annual 'On' to Alaska' Tour Beginning Friday

When Frederick Warrick, 13, of Clarkston leaves Detroit Friday morning on an 8,000 mile trip to Alaska, he will be one of nine boys taking the tour with Edward Kuhn, 33, of 2295 N. Lake Angelus road in Waterford Township.

Frederick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick P. Warrick of 8565 Thendara Blvd., Clarkston.

The Alaska trip originated and was promoted by George E. Buchanan of Detroit, 35 years ago, when he organized the "On-To-Alaska-With Buchanan Tours."

FREDERICK WARRICK

All nine youths have earned one-third of their trip money by their own efforts. Purpose of this stipulation was to teach the boys thrift, self-reliance and a definite purpose in the use of money they earned and saved, Kuhn said. Parents pay the balance of the fare.

Kuhn, a Redford high school teacher, traveled in the Buchanan group when he was 11 years old. He is trying to carry on the dream started by the famous explorer, and after studying at the University of Alaska for two years, has returned many times.

The three-week tour will take the boys through the Canadian Rockies, to the Chateau at Lake Louise. On the way a special bus trip to Rainier National Park has been planned, where they will see the largest glacial system in the United States.

Returning home the boys will go through Washington and Oregon, after side trips to Bonneville Dam.

The group will arrive back in Detroit, July 31, Kuhn said. He plans to make this an annual pilgrimage.

Endurable Molotov a Poor Insurance Risk

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Who was the most "tireless fighter for the peace and security of Soviet peoples and workers of all countries?"

He is the same man who tried to "block measures to relax international tension and consolidate world peace."

Who was a "true student and disciple of the great Lenin . . . a great theoretician of the party . . . merciless enemy in his struggle with antiparty elements?"

He is the same man who led an "antiparty group" in "direct opposition to the wise Leninist policy."

The praise for Vyacheslav Mikhailovich Molotov was printed in the 1954 edition of the Soviet Encyclopedia. The denunciation was in the statement last week purging him from communism's top ranks.

Molotov at 67 emerges as a grotesquely tragi-comic figure. Lenin once described him as the "best filing clerk in Russia." He wound up with a super-bookkeeper's job, and has lost even that.

For the most of three violent decades, Molotov was Stalin's voice. He symbolized Russian distrust and suspicion of the outside. For 10 years he waddled through the patterns of the cold war.

The last of the real Old Bolsheviks now finds himself destroyed. He was the one man remaining in the Soviet hierarchy who could say he worked closely with Lenin—but he has become officially "anti-Leninist." The upstarts he watched unconcernedly through years of purge and plotting at last have overwhelmed him.

Winston Churchill once described him as a man of outstanding ability, cold and ruthless, whose "cannonball head, slab face verbal adroitness and imperturbable demeanor" cast a pall over postwar efforts to achieve a real peace.

Himself accustomed to being browbeaten by Stalin, Molotov to his subordinates was a tireless driver.

He considered himself the faithful servant of Stalin, and stood by the dictator through peril and triumph in a succession of frightfully bloody years.

"I have no desire other than to be a real disciple of Lenin," Molotov once said. "I received my schooling under the direct guidance of the best disciple of Lenin, Comrade Stalin. I am proud of this."

He was born the son of a middle class clerk named Scriabin in a Vyatka province village in 1890. At 16 he was a member of the Bolsheviks. By 19 he was a veteran of czarist imprisonments and escapes. A coeditor with Stalin of Pravda before the Revolution of 1917, he was to become one of Stalin's "young men."

At 34 Molotov was in the rarefield atmosphere of the Politburo, helping his boss in the Trotsky purge. By 1930 he was Stalin's choice for premier. In 1939 he took on the added job of foreign commissar.

Molotov's wife Paulina Zemchushchina-Karpovsky, a Ukrainian Jew whom he met in 1912, became commissar of cosmetics and then commissar of the fish industry. The Molotovs have two daughters, Svetlana and Sonya, the latter adopted.

Georgi Malenkov, now in the same boat as Molotov, was instrumental in getting Mrs. Molotov fired from her jobs before the war. Stalin, in his latter days of paranoid suspicion, sent Molotov's wife to a prison camp. She returned after the dictator died.

Though Stalin evidently turned on him, Molotov remained faithful to Stalinism. But in the unending struggle for power, this stony man turned weak. He could not keep pace with the plotting. The last remaining Lenin coworker in the hierarchy, he was humiliated by being forced to confess errors in interpreting Leninism. To assuage Tito to Yugoslavia, he was fired as foreign minister.

They gave him a job as minister of state control — a superbookkeepr presiding over the accounts of government operation. Today he is in Nikita Khrushchev's debit column, and a poor insurance risk.

Armed Guards Used in Ireland

Trouble Spots Watched After Statement From Outlawed Army

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Trouble spots in the North and South of Ireland were under armed guard today after Sinn Fein charges that Prime Minister Eamon de Valera is using "totalitarian methods" in arresting leaders of the outlawed Irish Republican Army.

The statement denouncing 74-year-old De Valera's crackdown on nationalist extremists was sent to newspapers by "deputizing members" of the Sinn Fein, who did not give their names.

De Valera, a former IRA member and Sinn Feiner, now opposes violence in Ireland and favors reunification of British-ruled North Ireland and the independent republic in the South by peaceful means.

The Premier invoked powers giving him the right to intern suspects without trial after a Northern Ireland policeman was killed in a border raid last Thursday. Thirty-eight Irishmen were picked up in a swoop on the Wick Low Mountains and jailed after they failed to account for their movements.

The IRA seeks to unify Ireland by raids across the border into North Ireland.

Senator Strong for Civil Rights

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

If Southern senators engage in a filibuster on the Civil Rights Bill, they will have a respectful but nonetheless determined opponent in William Fife Knowland.

A few years back when a small group was waging a talkathon against a bill the then majority leader was guiding through the Senate, Knowland got up from a few hours sleep on a couch in his office and declared:

"Boy, will we give them a fight today."

That filibuster was broken.

Now, the big, deep-voiced senior senator from California is leading the pro-civil rights forces in the effort to have a White House approved bill made into law.

The 48-year-old present minority leader hasn't always gone down the line for every major piece of legislation proposed by the Eisenhower administration. But he's won the respect—if not the affection—of the White House and his colleagues on both sides of the aisle for his absolute integrity and the vigor with which he defends his views.

IT'S BIRTHRIGHT

Knowland comes by his politics and his Republicanism by birth. He is the third child of J. R. Knowland, five times congressman from California and publisher of the Oakland Tribune.

Bill was elected to the state assembly in 1932, the state Senate two years later.

In 1945, while in Paris as an Army major, he learned his old friend Earl Warren, then governor, had named him to the Senate seat left vacant by the death of Hiram Johnson. He's been there ever since, taking over as GOP leader when Robert Taft died in 1953.

Knowland has announced he will not seek re-election when his term expires in 1958, giving as his reason the need for him to take over management of the Tribune and other family interests from his aging father.

Politicians believe he's also going home for an attempt to win control of the California delegation at the 1960 GOP presidential convention.

Knowland married his childhood sweetheart in 1926. They have two daughters and a son.

I WAS CRIPPLED WITH ARTHRITIS
O-JIB-WA BITTERS

"I could barely walk or raise my arms because of Rheumatism and Arthritis," says Mrs. Frank Gaeman, 611 Wisconsin Avenue, Gladstone, Michigan.

I had been bothered slightly with rheumatism and arthritis for six or seven years, when suddenly two years ago, it became so severe that I was confined to bed for days at a time. My hands were stiff and I couldn't raise my arms to Mrs. Gaeman my head. My legs would get cramped so bad, that I could barely walk. My husband had to do the housework, and wash the dishes, as I was unable to do any of it. Believe me, I was really suffering terribly. Then I read about O-JIB-WA BITTERS in my newspaper and decided to try it. It took about a month before the pains and cramps were gone. Soon I was back doing my own housework and a lot of things that I believed I would never be able to do again. I'm getting around fine now, and just finished washing the walls and ceiling of my kitchen. Why I'm even able to get out and help other people with their housework that are ailing with one thing or another. Last winter I shoveled the snow from my walks, and that's pretty good for a lady going on 72 years old, who just a year ago was in bed, all crippled up with arthritis. I give O-JIB-WA BITTERS full credit for putting me back on my feet. I am always recommending O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and it's helped lots of people around here. I'm sure anyone trying this truly wonderful medicine which contains no pain killing dope, will be as happy with the results as I was."

THE BERRYS — By Carl Grubert

File Objections to Street Work

Herrington Hills Area Residents Are Cool to Featherstone Job

About 30 residents of the east side Herrington Hills Subdivision in Pontiac last night gave city commissioners a cool reception to a proposed widening and paving project of Featherstone road.

Several asked that the asphalt be used instead of concrete to keep heavy trucks and "hot rodders" off it.

Others sought a clarification by city officials as to how many residents of the subdivision fronting on the road will be assessed for the work.

Commissioners agreed to continue a public hearing on the project next Tuesday. They granted the delay so the developer of the subdivision could explain how many residents paid for the proposed paving when they paid for their homes.

* * *

The commission last week gave the green light to the paving on the road between Mt. Clemens and the east city limits. It was learned $92,000 could be saved from the previously - designed eight inches.

Officials several weeks ago scrapped a thought that the street might be asphalted when City Engineer Lewis Wrenn said it would not stand heavy truck traffic.

Missing Widow Turns Up Safe

CHICAGO (INS)—A chipper 73-year-old wealthy widow drove up to her Chicago home early today still expressing indignation over the "excitement" her "disappearance" had caused.

Mrs. Ernest R. Graham, widow of a famed Chicago architect, had started out for her son's home at Vero Beach, Fla., last June 28 but never arrived at her destination.

Delayed by floods and rain in the South, she finally arrived in Lake City, Fla., last July 3 where she registered at a motel. Learning roads were washed out, she decided to return to Chicago because of "pressing business."

She told newsmen that the transmission of her car failed just outside of Terre Haute, Ind., last Saturday night, she said she had to wait until 6 p.m. yesterday when her car finally was repaired to complete her return trip home.

Mrs. Graham said she arrived home at 2:30 a.m., driving slowly all the way.

She said she was very happy to be back and added that it was "too bad her trip caused so much commotion because there was no reason for it."

This is the second in a series of three summer programs for young people.

$1600 Awaits Right Answer for Pot-O-Gold

Old Pot-O-Gold's about ready to burst his sides. It's filled to overflowing and aching for someone to come along with the right answer to this week's puzzle. In that case, the result will be $1,600 in the winner's pocket. How'd you like to have that burning hole in your pocket? If you're interested, try the puzzle below.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Bob Considine Says:

Grace Coolidge Played Role Well

NEW YORK (INS) — The late Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, one of the most beautiful women ever to grace the White House, kept her husband from being lynched maybe—once upon a time.

It was the final game of the 1924 World Series between the Washington Senators and the New York Giants, score tied 3-3 in the ninth inning, the great Walter Johnson, who had gone in an inning before, pitching his old heart out after losing twice previously in one of the great series of all time.

When the final out was made in the last half of the ninth inning, score still tied, the President of the United States stood up in his prim and precise way, smoothed his coattails and beckoned to Grace Goodhue Coolidge.

The crowd was seething with tension as the Senators trotted out on the field to defend against the Giants in the first half of the 10th.

"Where do you think you are going?" Mrs. Coolidge asked, with some of the glacial quality of her husband.

"Home," said the President, surprised. "That was the end of the ninth inning; end of the game."

GRABBED COAT

He started to leave the box, but Mrs. Coolidge grabbed his coat.

"You sit down!" she said sternly.

The President sat . . . and Washington went on to win the game and series in extra innings, the last time any Washington fan really had something to dance for in the streets.

If Cal had ankled out of the park when he chose there would have been no need for him to announce, a bit later in his career, that he did not choose to run. He would have been chased.

Mrs. Coolidge always impressed those who knew her as one who thoroughly understood her man and was amused by the economies of his mind and speech. There were so many pictures of her taken with her face showing a smile somewhere beyond the expression of Mona Lisa and short of an outright guffaw.

★ ★ ★

It was as if she was privy, well in advance, to her husband's reaction to the explosive indignation of a friend who burst into Cal's office at the White House one day with a copy of Rupert Hughes's book on George Washington — a book which dealt quite roughly with the father of the country.

SILENT CAL SILENT

For five minutes the friend quoted chapter and verse about Washington's departures from the Parson Weems concept. Silent Cal was silent through the speech. When it was done he turned in his chair and looked out a window at the tall white shaft not far away.

"The monument's still there," he observed.

And the time Cal made a little speech of welcome (with the help of some cards that Charlie Cook of the State Department had typed out for him) to a man he thought was the editor of the Oxford English Dictionary. It was tired hands-across-the-sea stuff.

Midway through it an aide coughed loudly and said, "Mr. President, there must be some mistake. This is the President of the A and P."

Cal had no prompting cards for this one. He stared bleakly at the man and said the nicest thing he could think of at the moment. He said, "Groceries are a fine thing."

WHAT'S HOLDING IT?

And then the day, after taking over from Warren Harding, when he called in Sen. Charlie Curtis, the old jockey, and asked him what was holding up some legislation Coolidge especially wanted to see passed.

Curtis explained at length that it was all the fault of a certain Arkansas senator whom he described picturesquely as a "no good — — - ——."

Coolidge blandly answered, "Well, senator, I understand there are quite a few of them in this country, and if that's so they certainly deserve representation in the Congress."

Mrs. Coolidge played her role well. She would have been a gracious First Lady at any stage in our history.

Drunk Charge and Suit Loom for Gail Russell

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Gail Russell, 32, has been arraigned on a felony drunk driving charge and sued for $75,000 damages as a result of driving her new car through a cafe window July 4.

The suit was filed yesterday by a janitor, Robert Reynolds, 21, who alleged he was seriously injured when pinned under her car while cleaning up the closed cafe.

Miss Russell's preliminary hearing was set for July 19 on the drunk driving charge. She was released on $1,000 bail. She told newsmen she was "very sorry it happened."

One out of three U. S. women works; one of every three U. S. worers is a woman; and one of every four married women has either full-time or part-time employment.

His Pig Pen's Too Dirty

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Ed Franklin, 60, a hog raiser charged with keeping an unsanitary pig pen, was given 30 days grace to clean up his pen or be fined up to $200 by a justice of the peace.

If you could SEE IT

A very astute businessman recently said, "If people could see automobile protection like they see the automobile they buy, what a difference it might make in their lives."

They would then understand the wide gap between just an automobile insurance policy and the combination of Automobile Club services and the insurance by this Exchange at the Club.

A combination that has changed completely the old conception of car owners' protection; the combination that provides a wide, secure, dependable shelter that is one of the great modern developments of car ownership, and as normal to your motoring as modern tires or modern gas. Automobile protection has grown up. What do you have?

Cunningham's DRUG STORES

Ceil Chapman makes two strong fashion points in this dress which has a circular skirt, bias cut and falling gracefully about the figure. Black fox fur used on sleeves and above the hemline of the black crepe dress is news for fall and winter. The neckline is a low V in front and back.

Trigere Lets You Pick Your Silhouette for Fall

By OLGA CURTIS
INS Women's Editor

NEW YORK (INS) — You can pay your money and take your choice of silhouettes from Pauline Trigere this fall: She's got everything from cossack coats to dog-collar necklines.

SHELL SLEEVE

But all have the "shell sleeve," which is cut with a deep armhole but pouched under the arm to keep the sleeve itself narrow.

Suits are wire-thin by contrast. Trigere likes jackets that slither down almost to the knee, cut like straight tubes, and worn unbelted.

Dresses by Trigere take still another silhouette, the "goblet." This amounts to a hippy tunic over a narrow underskirt, with the tunic dipping in back.

Trigere's evening clothes are equally dramatic and different. You can have the slimmest of sheaths, cut high in front, and slashed right to the waistline in back. Or you can have long sleeves and a "dowager dog-collar" that goes right up to the chin.

★ ★ ★

And just to confirm her individuality, Trigere uses the season's big trimming, fox fur, as flat headpieces or as coat lining.

MAN-CATCHING IDEAS

★ ★ ★

One is a new version of her slashed-to-the-waist "Venus" neckline, the second is a rib-revealing "Cleo" bodice, and the third is the "Etruscan" hip drape.

The "Venus" neckline, which is widely naked to the waist, now has innocent-looking lacing to hold it together. (It's also got the necessary built-in apparatus to keep it decent.)

The "Cleo" bodice is even more eye-popping. It's quite demure in front and back, but completely open at the side of the ribcage, with only a triangle of net to keep it on.

And the "Etruscan" is simply a hip drape that outlines every inch between waist and thigh in horizontal folds of fabric.

Miss Chapman is also making her usual trademark dress: The pretty full-skirted dance frock. But even some of these have hidden weapons, for example wrap-around skirts that suddenly flash a view of dimpled knees.

ALL B's FOR FALL

The fashion alphabet is all "B's" this fall—"B" for brass button, "B" for bow, and "B" for belt.

These three major style points were emphasized by three different designers today.

Huge shawl collars on coats and jackets, big pockets above the waist, and deep dolman sleeves provide the top width. Waistlines can be belted or unbelted as you prefer, but skirts are kept slim.

Big bows are the traffic-stopper in Branell's new collection, designed by Hilda Altmark. Dresses and costumes alike add a big bow at the neckline in front, or a bow at the flounce of a skirt.

PRETTY BODICES

In day costumes, jackets are kept waist-length or dropped easily to the hip, over slim or peg-top skirts.

For cocktails, dresses alternate between full and slim skirts but agree on pretty tops accented with shirring or sewn-on paillettes.

Belts, belts and more belts mark the William Fox designs for fall—at the natural waistline. For daytime, it's the leather belt on wool or jersey dresses and jacket ensembles. For afternoon, it's suede sashes over black crepes. And for evening, it's the stitched silk belt.

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Ceil Chapman, high priestess of all-out glamor, says every woman can be a Cleopatra this winter, and to prove it shows a dazzling collection of cocktail and evening gowns with calculated allure.

Ceil today showed her prize shocker—black crepe cocktail sheath, cunningly fitted and draped, with long, tight sleeves and a neckline slashed to the waist, bordered in discreet jewels and laced, so that, as Ceil explained, "you can let your conscience be your guide."

Laced up tight, the dress can be as demure as a Sunday School costume. With the laces loosened it can provide sensational exposure.

"This has its own built-in bra," explains Mrs. Chapman, "so you don't need to worry about a thing."

On the same theme is a companion piece, also in slithery black crepe, deftly draped, only this one is high in front, low in back, and cut out over the ribs. At first glance it looks discreet. At second glance—oh my!

Here's Ceil Chapman's prescription for the eventide sexy look. The eye-opener cocktail dress is in slithery black silk crepe with jewel-bordered neckline slashed to the waist and laced up, shepherdess style. The side-wrapped slim skirt also is slit.

She will return to the U. S. in August.

When Johnny Goes to the Hospital

Doctor Lists Do's, Don'ts

ANN ARBOR (AP) — There are certain do's and don'ts for parents when Johnny goes to the hospital to have his tonsils out.

Doting moms and dads can save themselves unnecessary trouble if they take a little time to prepare Johnny for his "adventure," says a University of Michigan pediatrician.

Dr. James L. Wilson, chairman of the Pediatrics Department at University Hospital, offers several hints as a guide to parents whose youngsters are about to have an operation.

Be honest with your child, advises Dr. Wilson. Explain the reasons for his going to the hospital in a simple way he can understand.

But don't fib or tell white lies, Wilson recommends. It might create uncertainty or fears in Johnny after he arrives at the hospital, Wilson says.

The doctor urges frequent parental visits to Johnny's bedside.

★ ★ ★

"At least one parent should be with him in the ward when he awakens from anesthesia. It is very reassuring to a young child to have a familiar, friendly face to see when he wakes up."

Mrs. Fairclough—Woman to Watch

OTTAWA (INS) — A slim vivacious housewife whose looks belie her 52 years has made political history by becoming the first woman an member of a Canadian cabinet.

Mrs. Ellen Cook Fairclough of Hamilton, Ont., a member of Parliament since 1950, is secretary of state in the newly formed conservative administration of Prime Minister John Diefenbaker.

The only surprise felt over her appointment is that she did not receive a more important post, such as labor minister or health and welfare minister. Mrs. Fairclough has been active in both fields.

The post she did receive makes her responsible for the administration of the various divisions of the secretary of state's department, including patents, copyrights and trade marks, company incorporations and, more important, the Civil Service Commission. But many observers believe she may be marked for early promotion to another department.

WORKED ACTIVELY

For years, Mrs. Fairclough worked actively with young Conservatives in the party. From 1946 to 1949, she was an alderman in Hamilton. In 1950, she became a controller and deputy mayor.

In the 1949 general election, Mrs. Fairclough ran for a seat in Parliament against Colin Gibson, a cabinet minister of the Liberal government. She was defeated, but the following year made her entrance to the House of Commons after winning a seat in a by-election.

Educated at public and high schools in Hamilton, she left at 16 to begin what has turned out to be a highly successful business career. Today, as a certified public accountant, she is president of Hamilton Office Services Ltd., and head of E. I. Fairclough in Hamilton which does a thriving business.

HUSBAND VISITS

Mrs. Fairclough is married to D. H. G. Fairclough, who is in the printing business in Hamilton and visits Ottawa infrequently, explaining with a smile:

In the past, Mrs. Fairclough has lived in a hotel while in Ottawa and returned to her home in Hamilton on alternate weekends. Although some of her friends have maintained she wouldn't be able to keep up her home in Hamilton now that she is a minister, she is determined to try.

LIKES TO KNIT

The Faircloughs live in a colonial-style red brick six-room house set on good-sized grounds with plenty of trees and bushes. If she had time, she would garden, knit and sew—"I'm a good knitter, and I can read while I knit"—all of which she enjoys doing.

Mrs. Fairclough played the piano and organ on radio programs in her youth, and still likes music. Her son, Howard, 25, conducted a dance band until recently, when he joined his father's printing firm.

Four women were members of the last House of Commons, but one died during her term and one was defeated in the recent election, leaving only two, both Conservatives.

The other is Margaret Aitken, niece of British publisher-peer Lord Beaverbrook and herself an active newspaper columnist.

Valerie Durnen Gives Shower for Mary Keavy

Guests at the Sunday afternoon affair included Nancy Turnbull, Dess Temple, Barbara Kneale, Frances Sekles, Mrs. W. O. Roeser, Mrs. G. B. Keavy, Mrs. Buerl Luscumb, and Mrs. Cal Durnen.

Those from out-of-town were Kathryn McColl of Sarnia; Betty Tanner, Donna Chappell and Gerri Blangy of Detroit, Jean Sullivan and Rose Gargone of Trenton and Ellie Kuhn of Ann Arbor.

Mary is the bride-elect of Waldomar Roeser. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Keavy of Lakeview drive, and Waldomar's parents are Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Roeser of Neome drive. The couple will be married Aug. 31.

St. Vincent de Paul Church was the setting for the Thursday wedding of Janet Carol Korolden and Roger W. Smiley Jr. She is the daughter of Charles J. Korolden, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Smiley.

MR. and MRS. R. W. SMILEY JR.

Janet C. Korolden Weds

Janet Carol Korolden became the bride of Roger W. Smiley Jr., Thursday at 10 a.m. in St. Vincent de Paul Church. The Rev. Thompson L. Marcero performed the ceremony.

Janet is the daughter of Charles J. Korolden of Willard avenue and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Smiley of Venice court.

The bride chose a floor-length gown which featured a bodice of Rose Pointe lace over satin decorated with seed pearls, and lace sleeves that tapered to points at the wrists. The skirt, was net over satin with two panels of lace in the front. The back was accented by a cascade of lace and net ruffles from waist to the floor.

Sharon S. Ostrander, serving as the bridesmaid, wore an identical gown in varying shades of pink. The junior bridesmaid, Barbara A. Lado, wore a white dotted swiss and organdy dress. She carried a basket of rose petals tied with mint green ribbons.

The newlyweds are traveling in northern Michigan and after their return will live on Elizabeth Lake road.

Distinction should become a subtle part of the personality of the tall girl or woman. It does not make her seem older as she so often thinks and so acts coy, hoping to compete with the baby antics of the tiny girl.

Halter-styled bareback dresses in broadcloth and pique are designed to be worn for sunbathing or late day; other dresses arein light-weight cottons, sleeveless, softly tailored at the waistline and very feminine.

Parents Can Never Stop Worrying About Children

Mother and Father Fret Even When Youngsters Have Own Families

By RUTH MILLETT

"The catch to having children," said a grandmother awaiting the arrival of her latest grandchild, "is that never as long as you live can you think 'We won't have to worry about our children any more.' That time just never comes."

★ ★ ★

No, it doesn't. But isn't it nice that we keep thinking it will?

When a baby is small and helpless we think we will worry about him less when he is walking and talking.

But when he starts to walk, we find that he is in ever-increasing danger as he curiously pokes into everything and goes his merry, heedless way.

So we think what a blessing it will be when he can go to school. But school brings more problems for us to worry about.

ALWAYS A PARENT

Teenage brings still more. And we still worry when the time comes for him to marry and start a family. Once a mother or father, always a mother or father.

★ ★ ★

The only trick that can save us from unnecessary worry and fretting is to decide, when we have taught a child all we can, that his life is now his own.

No parental worry is going to help one bit. In fact, an anxious parent is just a problem to the grown child trying to meet life confidently.

But it takes faith and courage to stop worrying that has become a habit. And it can never be achieved completely and for all time.

That is, as the grandmother said, the catch to having children. The time never comes when a parent can say, "Now I have it made."

See Clamp to Identify Newborns

Physicians Shown Latest Invention to Prevent Mixups

CHICAGO (AP)—An identification clamp designed to prevent baby mixups in hospitals was demonstrated to doctors yesterday at the 7th American Congress on Maternal Care.

The disposable metal clamp bears the initials of the mother and doctor. The doctor snaps it on the umbilical cord.

The clamp remains on the baby after the cord is severed. It drops off with the cord section or can be removed when the mother takes the baby home.

Jacobs said in an interview that while baby mixups are extremely rare, the possibility of them occurring is a source of concern to parents, nurses, doctors and hospitals.

In various methods in general use to identify babies, Jacobs pointed out, work is done by a nurse after the baby's birth.

Naughty Boy Hopes Mom Will Act

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Bobby's mother grew up with adults who got very reproachful or angry if she didn't do what they wanted. To keep them in good temper, she learned to give them compliance until compliance became her only solution to conflicts with other people.

Naturally, after Bobby was born she was attracted by the permissive theory of child training. By making a virtue of letting Bobby do as he pleased, it fitted in perfectly with her fear of offending.

On day she and Bobby were crossing a traffic-crowded street. She tried to take his hand. As he jerked it away, he caught the flash of intense irritation on her face. The next moment he'd flung himself down full-length in the middle of the street.

Frightened parents often ask children why they misbehave to postpone dealing with the misbehavior. So Bobby's mother said, "Why do you want to lie down in the street like that, darling?"

Defiantly, Bobby said, "Because I want to see how it feels to get run over and killed."

What he meant was, "Because I want to see if you'll carry your fear of offending me to the point of letting me get run over and killed."

At 5, Bobby often does this kind of thing. Like other children whose parents fear to restrict them, he's always placing himself in precarious positions in the hope of forcing action from his mother in place of talk.

They are not wicked children. They're just trying to stretch their parents' old fear of displeasing people to the breaking point. The problem is their parents' own hatred of control.

In Bobby's mother's childhood, control was so mixed up with hurt, despair and misjudgment that she naturally resented it. She still does. She withholds any control of Bobby lest he feel the same intense dislike of her she felt and still feels for anyone who tells her what to do.

It's unreasonable to hate all control because our first experience of it was mixed up with hurt and injustice. All such unreasonableness produces for us is a confused and confusing child.

She Wears Coveralls for Fishing

Mrs. Summerfield Likes Blue Denim Sports Costume

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Arthur Summerfield, wife of the postmaster general, is one of the best-dressed of Washington's official wives, and probably one of the most properly garbed of the nation's fisherwomen as well.

★ ★ ★

An enthusiastic devotee of the sport, she has ingeniously adapted blue denim coveralls for trout hishing in northern Michigan and a khaki silk costume with long sleeves and button-up collar for fishing in Florida. To avoid too heavy tanning, she always wears a hat and gloves.

"The blue denism coverall makes the nicest little fishing outfit I've ever seen," the attractive Cabinet wife told me.

"It's nicely fitted, zips up the front, is belted, and has big zippered pockets. Marvelous for gardening too, by the way."

Mrs. Summerfield is sticking out the hot weather in the capital until Congress adjourns, when she can accompany her husband to their Michigan vacation retreat, 4,000-acre Blue Lake Ranch, which they own cooperatively with three other couples, all long-time friends.

Each couple owns three rooms fitted up with sleeping bunks in the lodge situated between two lakes, and shares a large lounge and porch.

WONDERFUL FISHING

"It's relaxing and fun to get out in the air and sun," she said. "There's wonderful trout fishing, and we'll have the family with us."

★ ★ ★

Spending the season with the Summerfields will be their son, Arthur Jr., and his wife and three children, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Davison.

The Summerfields are looking forward to the cool peace and quiet after what has been for her husband a hectic go-around with the battle for post office appropriations and for both an "extremely busy spring with an unusually large quota of official and social functions."

COMMUNITY SPIRIT

"We like to see the administration represented at these things and we like to feel we're a part of the community. All of the women I know of do it as they would at home.

★ ★ ★

JUNE MARGARET VOSS

Mr. and Mrs. Merle R. Voss of East Hammond Lake drive announce the engagement of their daughter, June Margaret, to Walter Collon Crowson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Crowson of Pleasant Ridge.

But Others Prefer Discretion

Austrian Beauty Believes in Accenting Fine Figure

NEW YORK (INS) — In the 10 words she knows in English, Hanneri Mericher, 19-year-old Austrian in the Miss Universe contest, says that when a woman has a lovely figure, she should show it.

★ ★ ★

The platinum blonde Viennese Venus not only thinks that Marilyn Monroe, Anita Ekberg and Sophia Loren are entitled to show whatever cleavage they like, they should be proud of their endowments, she insists.

"If it's pretty and it's there, why now show it," said the would-be actress.

All the contestants vieing for the "Miss Universe" title to be decided at Long Beach, Calif., from July 11 through 22, don't exactly feel the same however.

Miss France, 22-year-old Lisa Simon, thinks that it's not bad to show one's bosom, but "I think a woman should be more discreet."

LIKE AUDREY

"I like girls like Audrey Hepburn," declared the 5 foot 7 blonde beauty from Malmo, Sweden. "But maybe the women wear low-cut dresses in America because the climate is warmer here than in my country.

"It gets too cold in Sweden to expose that much of oneself," said the girl of the same nationality as Anita Ekberg.

Bryndis Schram, 19-year-old Miss Iceland, thinks it's all right for Marilyn Monroe to show whatever she likes becuase she has a pretty body.

"As far as I'm concerned, I like being covered up. I think it's much more charming to hide something. Anyway," said the girl from Reykjavik, "it's far more exciting for the man if something is left to his imagination."

Janine Hanotiau, who plays a saxophone in a jazz orchestra in Brussels, thinks it's fine for anyone who's got a body to display it. However, the 35-23-35 Miss Belgium doesn't go in for that sort of thing.

Romanian-born Miss Israel, Atara Barzely, thinks a scooped neckline is just "fine for girls like Marilyn Monroe, but as far as I'm concerned, I don't think I'd wear anything so revealing."

JUST LOVELY

Camelia Perere, the 23-year-old from Ceylon, who never wore a bathing suit before she entered the Miss Universe contest, thinks that Sophia Loren and her ample exposures are just lovely.

"It's quite in order," said the sari-clad Far Eastern beauty.

"Of course, it would be just scandalous if I ever walked about the streets of Colombo like that. But I think a lovely figure is just wonderful and there's nothing wrong in showing it — in America, of course."

Vera Enid Grim Speaks Vows in Ohio Rite

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Elmer Frank Grim of Crestline, Ohio, and the late Mr. Grim. Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hutchinson of Hart.

Mrs. Lawrence Lowe served her cousin as matron of honor for the June 29 ceremony.

The duties of best man were performed by James Hutchinson, brother of the bridegroom. Seating the guests were Edwin Bailey, Carl Jenkins and Edwin Hovey.

25 Minutes Is Enough for Fudgies

Mrs. Batts Likes Nuts and Coconut in Chewy Brownies

By JANET ODELL

Do you like soft fudgy brownie bars? The secret in baking them, you know, is to take them out while they still seem soft to the touch. Mrs. John Batts has an easy recipe for these favorite cookies. She always makes a double batch.

The Batts' have three small children. As a couple they enjoy the West Bloomfield Township Players. Mrs. Batts likes to sew, to swim, to cook and to play bridge.

FUDGIES

By Mrs. John C. Batts Jr.

¼ cup shortening or salad oil
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
2 beaten eggs
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ (scant) cup sifted flour
½ cup chopped nutmeats

Melt chocolate and shortening together. Let cool. Beat eggs until light. Add a dash of salt if butter is not used for the shortening. Beat in sugar and vanilla.

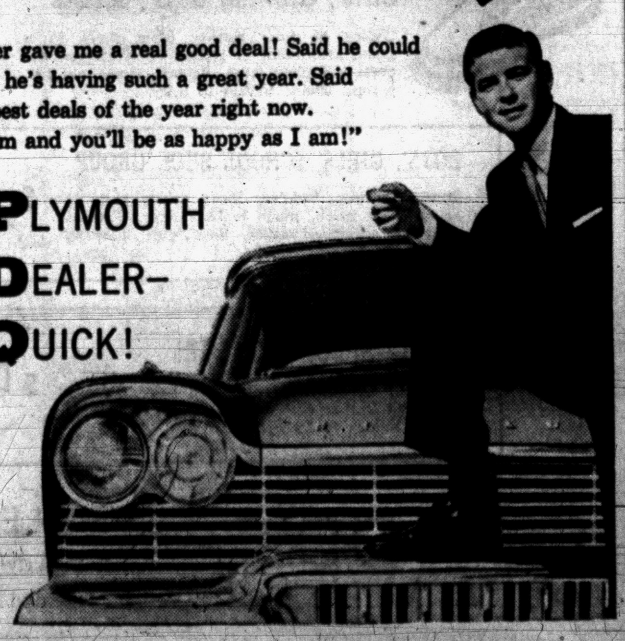

Add melted chocolate and shortening, then sifted flour. Add nutmeats last. If desired, use only ¼ cup nuts and ¼ cup coconut. Pour into greased 9x9 pan. Bake exactly 25 minutes at 350 degrees. Let cool before cutting into squares. Sprinkle with powdered sugar while still warm.

What's New in Flooring?

Care for each varies, so investigate before you buy. Waxing is generally recommended, but find out what kind of wax.

Wood is the old standby, but today it is available in sand and buff tones of oak, red-tinged maples and brown walnut. Patterns include single strip, random-width plank, block, parquet, herringbone or basket-weave arrangements.

Linoleum, also long a favorite, is now available in both roll and tile form, with inlaid patterns if you like them.

Asphalt tile is hard, durable, an inexpensive favorite with do-it-yourselfers. There's a wide variety of colors and patterns, and it can be laid over wood or concrete.

Join Up With Successful Neighbor

BY ANNE HEYWOOD

How do you feel when somebody you know achieves a great success?

* * *

Do you feel happy for them or do you, subconsciously, of course, deeply resent their success? Does it spur you on to greater efforts in your own life or does it make you feel like giving up entirely?

I have found that the woman whose neighbor has accomplished something will often feel stymied and overwhelmed by her own incompetence.

That's why I was so happy to hear about a woman whom I shall call Mrs. C. She thought of a way of profitably cooperating with a neighbor's successful venture instead of unprofitably resenting it!

* * *

VALLEY FARMHOUSE

Mrs. C. lives, with her husband and six children, in a farmhouse in the Mohawk Valley.

* * *

Hoping to find some way to make money at home, she thought of the usual ones — typing envelopes, babysitting, a catering service — but they just weren't suitable.

She couldn't type fast enough to make a profit and there was little need for a typist anyway. Nobody wanted a babysitter except at night, but at night she couldn't leave her own.

* * *

About this time a neighbor, who lived down the road a half-mile, began to have success with her mail-order poultry business. A less stout-hearted woman might have just given up, but not Mrs. C. "I got a good idea," she writes.

FANCY JELLIES

"The Mohawk Valley abounds in fruits. So I decides to use the fruits which are so plentiful on our place and make fancy jellies which would go with fowl.

* * *

"I experimented a lot. I'm pretty good at jelly-making, but I wanted something really exotic.

ANNA MAE FOX

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Fox of Ellwood avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Anna Mae, to Francis B. O'Connor Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. O'Connor of Detroit. Anna Mae is a graduate of Mount Carmel Unit, Mercy School of Nursing,

"I finally came up with a few that are excellent. I sell them to neighbors and to a shop in the city; but, most of all, my neighbor includes them in some of her fancy poultry orders. This keeps me busy — and very profitably!"

If you're trying to drum up a home product, look around and see if there's anybody near you with whom you could cooperate.

* * *

For further pointers, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I'll send you my pamphlet, "How to Market a Home Product."

Plenty New in Pillows — Feather, Foam or Dacron

MADISON, Wis. (INS) — The bride of 1957 has a bigger choice in pillows or cushions for the home than ever before.

There are new fillings, besides down and feathers.

According to U. S. Department of Agriculture textile experts, the different fillings give pillows a distinctive feel.

Waterfowl feathers or down give a soft, buoyant but resilient pillow. Chicken or turkey feathers provide a firmer but springy pillow that is less expensive.

Foam rubber provides a firm support but not too much "give." The newer dacron pillows are soft and resilient, similar in feel to down but it doesn't tend to mat.

GET RIGHT SIZE

In buying a bedroom pillow, advise the textile experts, choose the standard size of 21 x 27 inches so it will fit the standard size pillow case.

Some rubber pillows, for example, are narrower so the government specialists suggest a pillow case be brought along and tried on.

Usually a pillow that is light for its size is the better buy—particularly in feather fillings. To compare weight, lift pillows of the same size and filling.

Other tips: Lay the pillow on a flat surface and press down with both hands. It will spring back into shape when you take the hands off if it is resilient. Feel the pillow carefully to test for lumps or sharp feathers.

* * *

The fabric cover should be closely woven and firm if it is cotton ticking. Some dacron pillows come with a nylon covering that is easily wiped off clean.

Black More Popular

Important news centers in fabrics and colors. Black (alone and in combination with white, pink or blue) is getting a big play . . . red, turquoise, aqua, beige are striking newcomers in the undercover color story . . . tangerine, mint, hyacinth, peach, mauve-pink continue popular, in coordination with lingerie hues.

Wash Leather Bag

Clean your leather bag by smoothing on a thick lather of pure white soap or detergent suds. Rub in thoroughly and let the suds stay on a few moments to dissolve the grease spots, if any. Follow this by rubbing dry with a clean piece of flannel.

Delores Turnbull Honored at Shower

Bride-elect Delores Turnbull was honored at a personal shower. Nancy Turnbull and Joanne King were cohostesses for the affair held in the Turnbull home on Cass Lake road recently.

Delores, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Turnbull of Cass Lake road, will become the bride of Donald Pursley Aug. 9 in First Methodist Church. Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Pursley of Orchard Lake avenue.

Family May Put Address on Invitation

Reply Information Should Be Placed Under R.S.V.P.

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be proper to include our house address underneath the R.s.v.p. on our daughter's wedding invitations? While many people know our address, there are those on the bridegroom's side of the family who do not know it, and it would be a great help to include the address so that they will know where to send their replies.

"I have never seen this included on any of the wedding invitations I have received in the past and often wished it were as I had to go to some lengths on many occasions to find out the bride's address. Is there any reason why this should not be included?"

Answer: It will be quite correct to show the address to which replies are to be sent under the R.s.v.p.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What are we expected to do about welcoming a nephew's new fiancee into our family? I'd thought this was up to his own immediate family but I'm told you have said other relatives are expected to do something too. If this is true, will you tell me how to go about doing whatever it is we are supposed to do?"

Answer: You merely make her feel welcome. Ask her to dinner if you can, or to lunch or to have a cup of tea with you in the afternoon.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What should one do about inviting a divorced couple to the same party? I would like to have both and don't want to ask one rather than the other. Yet, is it proper?"

Answer: To a very large party you would ask both and say nothing about it. It is possible for them to avoid each other if they wish. At a small gathering I think you would have to avoid inviting them at the same time unless you know that they have remained friends.

Gas Cool and Quiet

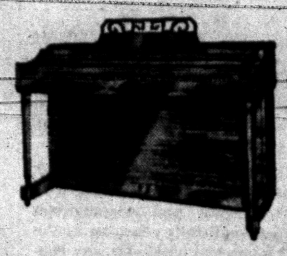

Owners of gas equipment used in conjunction with central cooling cite the fundamentals of cool, quiet comfort—freedom from the noise and dust of outside air as well as its heat and humidity. What this means for particular folks, in particular situations, is even more revealing. Any homemaker is likely to appreciate the extent that whole-house cooling eases the burden of housecleaning.

How to Pick Best Makeup for You

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There are so many different brands of makeup and each manufacturer has so many items that it is difficult to make personal choices. I think I can give you a few suggestions which will be helpful.

★ ★ ★

In the first place, you will find, with a little experimentation, that the products of some companies suit your individual skin and coloring better than those of others. Perhaps the lipsticks of one brand cake on your lips while another spreads or runs after it is applied. Somewhere there is the perfect consistency for you.

Remember, too, that a dry skin does not need astringents any more than an extremely oily one needs creams. This latter requires soap and water and an astringent.

As to powders, a thin, dry skin must have a lighter-weight powder than the thicker, oilier complexion. Beware of wearing a powder which is too light for your skin tone. This gives a pasty, artificial appearance.

Artificial light drains the pink out of your skin and your powder. Therefore, at night, use powder which has more pink in it.

Makeup bases are helpful when your makeup must last for long periods without being redone. However, some of these are drying. Be sure to use one designed for the dry skin. Actually, these will help delay the drying out process.

AVOID CLASHES

Many women are at a loss to know what colors they should use. Care must be taken to avoid clashes between lipstick and costume. For instance, a purple lipstick with a red costume looks terrible.

As a general rule lipsticks come in three classifications. There are the true reds, the blue reds, and those which have a touch of orange. Generally speaking most women can use some variation of the true reds.

Brunettes and redheads will tend toward those with an orange tinge, and blondes and those with quite a bit of pink in their skin tone will be flattered by the blue reds. Then there are the beautiful pink shades which are becoming to many women.

Your makeup should be matched to your complexion. Usually the colors you like to wear in clothes will harmonize with your most becoming shades in lipstick and rouge.

If you would like to have my leaflet "What's Going On?" which gives you tricks in makeup, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 50 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Sandra Cooper Becomes Bride in Evening Service

The Rev. William H. Marbach of the First Presbyterian Church officiated Saturday at the 6 p.m. wedding of Sandra Jean Cooper and William A. Wright.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Bert H. Cooper of West New York avenue are the parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Margaret Gerzin of Argyle avenue.

The bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, fashioned with a fitted bodice and a high neckline with inserts of tulle. An inset of lace banded the bouffant skirt.

The bridesmaid, Margaret Fox, wore a similar gown in pink and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and yellow carnations.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

After a trip to Niagara Falls the couple will live in Boston.

Fashion Hint

When you buy accessories, buy the best you can afford and resist the temptation to overdo it. A scarf, artificial flowers, jewelry and decorated eyeglass frames can—in addition to hat, belt, gloves, handbag and shoes—add up to a cluttered, unattractive appearance.

Nurse-to-Be Should Pick Good School

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS) — Future Florence Nightingales may be inspired by idealistic sentiments, but they should be strictly practical in selecting a college at which to study.

★ ★ ★

The National League for Nursing, headquartered in New York, has some solid suggestions for the approximately 20,000 students that yearly enroll in the nation's 180 collegiate schools of nursing.

Discuss possible schools with nursing school graduates, nursing careers committees and nurses you know. Then check these points.

—Is the program fully approved for accreditation by the accrediting service of the National League for Nursing, and is it approved for beginning positions in public health nursing?

—Is the college approved by its regional accrediting association for higher education: Northwest, Middle States, Southern, New England, North Central or Western?

—Will you get student experience in public health, hospital out-patient, medical, surgical, obstetric, pediatric, psychiatric, communicable disease nursing, etc?

—Does the college have a student health program including initial and periodic examinations, chest X-rays, inoculations?

Soft Look Prevails

The softer, rounder silhouette is artfully treated in short jacket costumes with belted pegged skirts, and tailored sheaths with small pleats and darts at the waistline. Slim belted dresses with tunic hemlines focus on the trouser skirt.

Tip for Sportsman

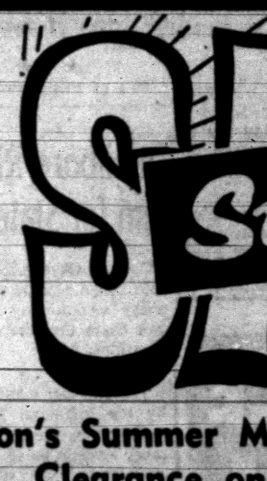

An active sportsman could do worse than follow advice given to soldiers of the Civil War. A small card issued in 1863 said: "To cure or prevent sore feet, rub bar soap on the inside of your stockings."

Tiger All-Stars Singled Out in Win

AP Wirephoto

BUNNING WHIPS 'EM — Detroit Tiger pitcher Jim Bunning, who has a regular season record of 10-2 this year, was one of the heroes of the American League victory yesterday. He was the winning pitcher.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Chicago's Minnie Minoso and Detroit's Jim Bunning and Al Kaline were singled out today as the 1957 All-Star Game heroes, but some critics attributed the American League's 6-5 victory yesterday to good breaks, poor National League base running and Casey Stengel luck.

Each side scored three times in the ninth inning. A fine throw and catch by Minoso preserved the American's second triumph in the last eight years and Stengel's second success in seven All-Star games. Minoso's double in the top of the ninth drove in Kaline with the winning run.

The crowd of 30,693 witnessed splendid pitching by young Bunning, Baltimore's Billy Loes and Milwaukee's Lew Burdette, and fine fielding and timely hitting by Kaline and Minoso. They also saw several plays that will be second-guessed for many weeks.

Why did National League Manager Walter Alston decide to let Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews swing away in the ninth inning? The potential tying runs were on second and first, and with nobody out, strategy cried for a bunt.

Why didn't Cincinnati's Gus Bell stop at second on Chicago Cub Ernie Banks' one-out run-scoring single in the ninth which cut the American's lead to 6-5? Bell tried to advance to third and was an easy out on Minoso's throw to Boston's Frank Malzone.

★ ★ ★

Why didn't Cincinnati's Frank Robinson, who had opened the National's fifth with a single, run to second on Mathews' apparent line drive hit to right field? Instead, Robinson retreated after going halfway and was thrown out at second by Kaline, who made a one-handed stab of the ball on the first bounce.

Alston, who used all but four of his 25 players, defended his own action and that of his players in a forthright manner.

★ ★ ★

"I thought about having Mathews bunt," he said. "But Eddie has good power and is a left-handed pull hitter. With that short right field porch an inviting target I wanted to give him a chance to hit that long one for us."

★ ★ ★

Left-hander Don Mossi of Cleveland, summoned out of the bullpen to relieve Chicago southpaw Billy Pierce, got Mathews on a called third strike. Banks followed with a single which would have tied the score had Eddie advanced the two runners.

"Had I known Eddie would strike out and Banks would hit that single," the skipper of the Brooklyn Dodgers said with a smile, "I would have had Mathews bunt."

Ironically, the best pitcher of the day was Bunning, whom Casey nominated to start only because Cleveland's Early Wynn, his original choice, had been used Sunday.

Bunning hurled three perfect innings, retiring nine batters in succession as Stengel's crew built up a 2-0 lead against Philadelphia's Curt Simmons.

Loes also kept the National League sluggers from scoring during the next three innings while the American Leaguers increased their lead to 3-0 in the sixth—after Burdette had stopped them in the third, fourth and fifth.

It was while Wynn was on the mound that the National Leaguers first scored. Singles by New York's Willie Mays and Cincinnati's Ed Bailey and a pinch hit double by Bell reduced the AL's lead to 3-2 in the seventh.

Pierce halted the rally but he was shelled from the mound in the ninth after the American League had opened up a 6-2 margin with three ninth-inning runs—only one earned — against Clem Labine of Brooklyn. Kaline drove in two and scored the other.

A walk to Stan Musial, May's triple and a wild pitch produced two NL runs with nobody out. When pinch hitter Hank Foiles of Pittsburgh singled and Bell walked, Mossi took over and struck out Mathews.

Banks' run-scoring single, on which Bell was nipped at third for the second out, caused Stengel to call upon his own ace reliefer, righthander Bob Grim, to pitch to pinch hitter Gil Hodges with Banks, representing the tying run, on second. The Dodger first baseman drilled Grim's second pitch on a line to left field but Minoso grabbed it on the run to end the game.

Joe, a well known NY lawyer and close friend of Giant Bobby Thomson, reportedly will drop his clubs and run to the clubhouse if he sees a storm coming. Reason is he saw two caddies and a golfer killed instantly by a lightning bolt on a Long Island course.

Northside Girls Lead Softball Races Tightened

Standings in three different softball leagues were tightened or jumbled around as the result of four games played last night with the return of sunny weather to Pontiac.

Two of the games were in the National League where Louie's Tavern moved into 2nd place by nipping UAW-CIO 3-2 as the front-running Richard's Tavern copped its 10th triumph with an 8-3 verdict over Pontiac Select-A-Drink.

Mike Haines and Hunter combined for a four-hitter for Louie's. Mike Kluesner's clutch single in the 6th clinched the issue. Richard's had little trouble after scoring five times in the 1st two frames.

Franklin Products moved to within percentage points of the 1st place Pontiac Police by walloping winless Dostal Foundry 17-7 in the International League. Six different players had two hits for Franklin. The game was called after five innings because of the 10-run rule.

The only actual change among the leaders occurred in the Women's League as Northside Auto Sales moved into the top slot with a 6-1 record by trouncing Westside Market 10-2 behind Bender's four-hit hurling. A 7-run 3rd decided the issue early.

White Realty Drops Emmanuel From Lead

A clutch single by Dayton Patterson scored Sid Gregory with the winning run in the 8th as the improved White Brothers Realty nine dropped Emmanuel Baptist out of a 1st place tie with Lakeland with a 1-0 triumph.

Gregory tallied the only marker after he singled and advanced on a steal and passed ball. Relief pitcher Jacobs won his 2nd game in as many nights. He entered the game in the 7th and struck out three straight batters after loading the bases. Loser "Fat" Keith had the distinction of fanning four batters in one inning, one of them reaching on a passed ball.

Made Right Moves

Crafty Casey Is Happy

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Crafty old Casey Stengel was a winning All-Star Game manager for the second time in seven tries today, partly because things he didn't want to do turned out so well.

He didn't want to start Detroit's Jim Bunning, who was his No. 2 choice behind Cleveland's Early Wynn, Bunning retired all nine men he faced.

Casey wasn't happy with the fans' choice of Harvey Kuenn of Detroit at short, Vic Wertz of Cleveland at first and Baltimore's George Kell at third, and was determined to replace them after three innings.

That he did, but not before Wertz and Kuenn had batted in the first two runs—Wertz with a single and Kuenn with a bases-loaded walk.

No fault can be found with Stengel's replacements—Moose Skowron at first and shortstop Gil McDougald of his own New York Yankees and Boston's Frank Malzone at third. Moose rapped a double and single.

Minoso doubled home what proved to be the winning run in the ninth, then threw out Cincinnati's Gus Bell at third to help choke off a last-minute National League rally.

Creels Nice Bass

Another of those "one fish days" Tuesday produced a nice largemouth bass for E. G. Hyde, 4017 Athens, Drayton Plains. Hyde was fishing Oakland Lake early in the morning when he hooked into a fighting bronzeback, that hit a hula popper. It was 19½ inches long, weighed four and a half pounds. It was Hyde's only fish, his largest of the season.

Pete Green, 16, also of Birmingham, was the first day leader with 70 but finished in third place when he blew to an 81 yesterday.

Fourth place went to Bill Stacey, 17, of Grand Rapids, in another playoff battle. He earned the right to join the three others on a team representing Michigan at the national junior golf tournament Aug. 19 in Columbus, Ohio.

Waterford entries were unable to overcome first round heavy scores and finished with the pack. Best total scores compiled by John Shaw, Sam Coleman, Charles Canterbury and Terry Kelly gave Waterford a team final of 677 for the 36-hole event.

Harney Heads Canadian Field

KITCHENER, Ont., (AP)—A field of more than 160 golfers, headed by red-hot Paul Harney, tee-off today in the $25,000 Canadian Open at Westmount Golf and Country Club.

Harney has been installed as one of the favorites in this 48th Canadian Open on the strength of his tremendous play over the past few weeks.

The 27 year old long hitter from Bolton, Mass., has earned more than $10,000 in the past three weeks. After copping first prize of $5,700 in the Flint Open just three weeks ago for his first victory in three years of tournament play, Harney won $970 in the Western Open in Detroit and last week captured the Montreal Open, winning $3,500.

George Fazio, of Philadelphia, Pa., Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., Pat Fletcher of Montreal, and Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., are the former champions who will be seeking the $3,500 top prize over the 6,544 yard par 35-36—71 layout.

The veteran Fazio took the Canadian Open in 1946 and hasn't won a major event since. Sanders became the only amateur ever to win the Open when he walked off with first place in last year's tournament at Montreal. Fletcher was the 1954 winner and became the first Canadian to win it since 1914. Palmer, second leading money winner on the tour, was the 1955 champion.

The long hitters — and that means Harney and big George Bayer, who finished second to Harney in last week's Montreal tournament — will have little advantage at Westmount. It is a scenic rolling course whose fairways are lined with trees and for the most part, the small greens are set upon plateaus, and the course demands accurate work with the irons.

Shaw's Win 8-5 to Better Lead

Breaking up a 2-2 battle with six runs in the 6th inning, Shaw's Jewelers held on to gain an 8-5 triumph over the Pontiac Jets in a City Baseball League game at Wisner Field last night.

The Jets, who dropped into 4th place by losing, rallied to score in each of the final two frames before winner Ted Reaver could wrap up the Jewelers' 9th triumph in 11 starts. The victory gave Shaw's a full game lead over the CIO 594 contingent.

Top Seeds Win Easy Victories

Seixas, 33, seemed somewhat rusty when he started against Cuba's Manuel Garcia, but he warmed up and eliminated his opponent, 6-2, 6-3.

Better Hunting in Sight

PELEE ISLAND, Ont. (INS) — the "world's best pheasant country," Pelee Island, a haven billed as the "world's best pheasant country," will offer even better hunting this year.

This was the latest word from the Ontario Lands and Forests officials.

No hens were allowed in the bag last year and it is thought that this will be the case again this fall.

Lands and forest office said:

"In the 1956 shoot, final returns show that, with the bag limit at six cocks only, 972 hunters averaged 5.68 birds each and 89 per cent of the hunters took home their full bag of six.

"Although 89 per cent of the cocks were taken, a good hunter had no difficulty shooting his quota on the second day."

Hunters came home from Pelee "generally pleased," the department said. "They reported that the lack of congestion of shooters was evident and the birds were in ample supply and of good size. The proportion of native birds as to imports in the bag was approximately 62 to 38 per cent."

You may recall that last year the department said the pheasant population would be down to 70 per cent, just before the season opened. The Pelee council imported 1,350 brood hens in March and 3,000 cocks in September. These were banded to supply survival records at the close of the hunt.

We can expect a very much improved season in 1957.

Delay Decision on Grouse

HIGGINS LAKE — Setting of shooting seasons and bag limits on ruffed grouse was delayed for a month Tuesday by the state conservation commission.

The conservation department's game division had recommended a return to the maximum season and bag limits.

The commission voted 4-2 to delay a decision on the matter until the regular meeting next month pending a study of the grouse situation.

Objections to the proposed maximum season and limit came from Thomas Buzzo and Thomas Carnaham of Baldwin and Vern Bowman of Gladwin, all representing the Greater Michigan Conservation League.

Game biologists had reported that grouse populations had apparently passed the low in their cycle and are now on the upward swing.

They proposed an Oct. 1 — Nov. 10 season and bag limits of five grouse a day, 10 in possession and 25 for the season.

Same bag limits were in effect last year in the Upper Peninsula but the season was limited to Oct. 1 — Nov. 11. Northern lower Peninsula had a full Oct. 1 — Nov. 10, season but bag limits were set at 3-6-15. Southern Lower Michigan had the maximum season and bag limit.

Land acquisitions approved included the purchase of 411 acres of park and hunting lands and fishing sites on Peach Lake, Ogemaw county; Intermediate Lake, Antrim county; Beatons Lake, Gogebic county, and Jehnsen Lake, Mecosta county.

Bigger, Heavier Bass

Press 'Derby' Now a Close Contest

By H. GUY MOATS

Early July bass fishing in Oakland county lakes is producing fine, big fish, chiefly largemouths. The condition is reflected in the way entries for The Pontiac Press "big fish derby" have been battling for the leadership of the bronzeback division.

For several weeks after the season opened, June 16, the race for the lead failed to turn up a five-pounder. In contrast in July there have been many reports of area fishermen landing fish going more than five pounds. It is unlikely that even a five and three-quarter pound specimen can hang on to the top spot for very long. One day, some bass addict is going to creel a six pounder, or better, way things are moving at this time.

Just now, the lead is held by brick-mason William (Bill) Giles' (5020 Greer) five-pound nine and a half ounce largemouth. Giles' specimen, taken from Cass Lake, last weekend on a black jitterbug surface bait, is just a half-ounce heavier, an inch longer than one taken July 4 by Pontiac's Tony Salfi. Tony, former St. Michael's school all-around athlete, got his fish on Lacey Lake, near Holly. Tony was fishing for pike with a small chub. It was his biggest bass, like Giles' catch, and also like Giles, it was Tony's only fish. Tony lives at 35 Cherokee road.

Robert Umscheid, 2730 Hartline, Rochester insurance man, was also close to the lead for a time with a five pound, six ounce largemouth. He took his fish, oddly enough, also his only catch of the day, on Pleasant Lake, near Walled Lake. It was 22 inches long.

2 Horse Shows for Metamora

Juniors Start 4-Day Event Thursday; 2-Day Show Aug. 10-11

METAMORA — Instead of one annual Hunter Breeder Horse Show this year, the Metamora Hunt will sponsor two. First show is exclusively for hunters and juniors and begins Thursday and run through Sunday July 14.

Professional Horseman's association will have a two-day show, Aug. 10-11, with a day (Aug. 10) for Junior FEI events, and a full day of 19 hunter events on the second day. A dressage class for area horsemen and open walking horse class are featured events.

Show committee is headed by Mrs. Edward C. Parker, wife of the master of the Metamora Hunt. Her assistant, and director of all show activities is Miss Charlotte Nichols, with Mrs. Dean Bedford Jr. as secretary and Henry Ledyard treasurer.

Mrs. George Mitchell, entertainment chairman, has planned a cocktail party for exhibitors, to be followed by a dinner at the Metamora Club on Friday. A dinner dance will be held Saturday at the club.

Mud Puppies as Pets

Michigan Woman Rises to Defend Ugly Ones

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Want to provoke a challenge on your home grounds?

Try making a few light-hearted but positive statements about wildlife, or about women. If neither works, try both.

Some such ill-advised comments were offered in this space recently about mud puppies — the little watery salamanders with the king-size case of the uglies — and how mere sight of them could vanquish the girls.

The very next day, while the ill-advised commentator was at dinner, a gorgeous blonde lady summoned him to the door.

"Did you write the story about mud puppies?" asked the gorgeous blonde. The commentator acknowledged his guilt. The G. B. delved into a satchel with a graceful manicured hand, pulled out a hideous object and asked sweetly,

If that wasn't enough, along came a letter from Mrs. Oscar Erickson of Bark River, Mich.

Mud puppies, wrote Mrs. Erickson, certainly are nearly as homely as the deponent stated, and she certainly ought to know — She's had one in the house as a pet for two years.

"It's every tame and friendly now," Mrs. Erickson declared. "And homely as it is I wouldn't part with it."

What to Do About Marine Hot-Rods on Area Lakes?

By JACK PATTERSON

Trouble with writing a column like this on a lazy mid-summer day is that it's hard to stay awake. Some readers may find it hard to stay awake long enough to read it, too, but they have the advantage. They don't have to.

PATTERSON

Michigan in mid-summer, beneath the surface pattern of traffic and motorboats, of which more later, is a quiet, sleepy place of great beauty. It offers so many attractive possibilities to the outdoorsman he is hard put to figure out where to start. We've got this one pretty well licked by lying down and thinking the situation over and bye and bye something we gotta do comes along and the problem is solved. There may be better solutions; we doubt if there's an easier one.

Like we say it's a quiet, pleasant time and for the most part we are not mad at anybody. One thing, though, one thing that rouses us out of our summer trance is the increasing number of rootin', tootin' yoots from South of the county border who turn local lakes, on weekends, into a marine version of a poorly conducted hot-rod race.

Something's got to be done about this situation if ugly incidents are to be avoided. We do not give a hoot what happens to the yahoos. What we do not want to see is any of our local homesteaders, goaded beyond endurance, ending their days in the pokey for shooting yahoos out of season.

Most restrictive laws raise a question of constitutionality, but how anyone in this day and age could hazard a guess as to what is and isn't constitutional beats us. Our present Supreme Court must be looking at a different set of house rules than the ones we used to study. So we'd suggest a more positive approach. By the time a decision was reached today's yoots would all be over 40 and sensible. The younger ones, by then, would probably have turned their attention to helicopters.

Meanwhile, our advice to embattled lakeside dwellers is to hold their fire. One way or another something will be done about the situation.

It's been too windy to fish in the daytime, too cold to fish at night which doesn't leave the angler much available time to slay fish.

★ ★ ★

We suggest that while this horrid state of affairs prevails that the fisherman leave his gear in a pile in the basement and take up skeet shooting. Members of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club are invited to an every-Wednesday-after-four shoot especially for beginners. Non-members interested in the deal can join the club for a nominal fee.

State Park Camp Sites Face Bigger Attendances

Last year, more than 380,000 campers pitched their tents or parked their trailers in Michigan state parks and recreation areas. Thousands of others camped in state and federal forests or on other public lands.

Camp site use in state parks during 1957 indicates new attendance records may be set this year. Through early June, the number of campers in state parks had doubled last year's figure for the same period.

Although out-of-state campers—principally from Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Canada—pour into Michigan, resident campers account for about 80 per cent of the state park camp site use. During 1956, almost 300,000 Michigan residents camped in state parks.

Advice for Outboarders

Match Your Boat, Motor

What size boat for what size outboard motor? This is a question asked frequently by persons shopping for a boating outfit. One national boating foundation makes the following suggestions in selecting outboards and boats:

A dinghy or pram from 6 to 10 feet operates most efficiently with a three hp outboard.

A rowboat, flat-bottom, 10 to 14 feet operates best with an outboard in the three to 10 hp range.

The houseboat, fast becoming popular, operates best with twin 18 hp installations or a single 35 hp outboard if the craft is within the 18 to 30 foot category.

Sinatra Bid Hits Snag

Coast Promoters Object

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The fate of a proposed Archie Moore-Tony Anthony fight for the world light heavyweight championship in Los Angeles apparently rested today on a bid by singer-actor Frank Sinatra to promote the bout.

★ ★ ★

They will:

Approve or reject the 15-round match Sept. 11 at Gilmore Field, home of the Hollywood Baseball Club, or approve or reject a request for a promoter's license in the name of Sinatra.

The principals agreed on terms yesterday. Opposition to the fight quickly bubbled to the surface, with at least three established clubs or promoters slated to appear before the commission.

Ready to object, not so much to the fight as to the promoter's license, were matchmaker Jack Leonard and two members of the Hollywood Legion Stadium board of directors.

Jules Covey, attorney and a former chairman of the State Boxing Board, was here to represent Sinatra and his business manager, Henry Sanicola.

"We don't particularly want the fight ourselves," Leonard said before leaving Hollywood. "We might take it if we had to.

"But we object to a rich guy like Sinatra coming in on a one-shot deal. We certainly couldn't afford to make Moore an offer of $100,000. It isn't worth that money

"But a man like Sinatra can, and if he loses, he can just write it off in taxes. We are in this business for our bread and butter. He isn't. We support boxing in California 52 weeks a year, the same as the Olympic Auditorium."

Class F, NL Teams in Scoring Parades

The Auburn Heights Bous' Club Class F team and the Yankees of the Midget National League matched 22-run performances in games halted after three innings as the city baseball leagues finally got a break in the weather yesterday.

The Yank feat stole the show as Gary Thorne allowed no hits and helped in a 15-hit offensive. All the runs in the 22-0 conquest of the Athletics were tallied in two innings. The Boys' Club drubbed Arnold Drugs 22-2.

Pontiac Auto Sales of the 'F' loop won out in the best game of the day scoring twice in the final frame for a 9-8 triumph over the Pontiac Boys' Club No. 2 team.

Other scores were:

CLASS D
Auburn Boys' Club 6, Cranbrook 2.
CLASS E
Red Sox 12, Sluggers 10.
MIDGET (AL)
Little Eagles 13, Auburn Boys' Club 7.

Pitchers Help to Win Own Church Loop Tilts

Two pitchers of the City Church Softball League last night helped win their own games. Chalmer Gidcumb drove in five runs as his team, First Social Brethren defeated Salvation Army 7-0. Floyd Hicks of the First Baptists hit a bases-loaded homer to spark his win over Central Christian, 9-2.

St. Luke's swamped Oakland United Presbyterians 25-9 and First Presbyterians dumped Columbia Ave. Baptists 18-1. Everett Gauthier of First Presbyterians "hit the cycle" with a single, double, triple and homer, to drive in seven tallies.

Drayton, Yankees Win

Drayton Drug slammed Gall Service 16-4 and the Yankees whipped Nicholie Realty 19-9 in a pair of Waterford Junior League softball games yesterday. Yank pitcher John Lamberton paced his own cause with three hits.

Mrs. Marquardt Wins Weekly District Test

Her second district victory for the seaon was chalked up yesterday at Franklin Hills, by Mrs. Rylma Marquardt of Gowanie. She carded birdies on three of the last four holes for a 39-40 — 70 total. There were 121 players in the event.

Tied for runnerup spot were Mrs. J. G. Israel and Mrs. Susie LeClair with identical 39-42 — 81 cards. Helen Grinnell had 82 and Forest Lake's state champion, Sally Sharp, fired 83, including a two stroke penalty. Sally had an extra club in her bag, at start of play.

Ace at Lancaster

Lancaster Hills golf course yesterday reported another hole-in-one Detroiter Ernest Jacklich aced his nine-iron shot on the 120-yard No. 2 hole at the Dixie Highway layout. He had 85 for the round.

Local Tennis Clinics Have Many Openings Available

Numerous openings are still available to join the tennis clinics for adults or children being conducted by the Pontiac Parks & Recreation Department, Supervisor Leonard T. Buzz said today.

"We have the staff to handle many more in both groups," Buzz explained as the classes went into their 3rd week under the instruction of Don Grothe of Birmingham.

Approximately 20 children are regular members at each of the three locations staging the clinic for boys and girls 8 through 16. Fifteen to twenty adults are attending the Tuesday night sessions for grownups only.

Interested applicants may join the classes at any time free of charge but must have their own tennis rackets and shoes. Tournaments are being planned following the clinics. Students must have attended a minimum of four weeks of classes to be eligible for the tourneys.

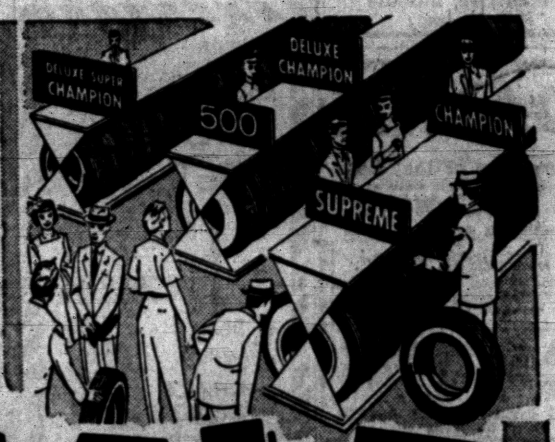

Children's instruction for beginners is held from 9to 10:15 a.m. Mondays and Wednesdays at Murph yPark, Tuesdays and Thursdays at Oakland Park and Fridays at Beaudette. An advanced group takes over the same courts on tho days from 10:15 to 11:30 a.m. Adults play Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m.

NEW YORK — Georges Carpentier, now 63, ex-heavyweight contender from France, was a pro fighter at the age of 13 and by 18 was one of the top middleweights.

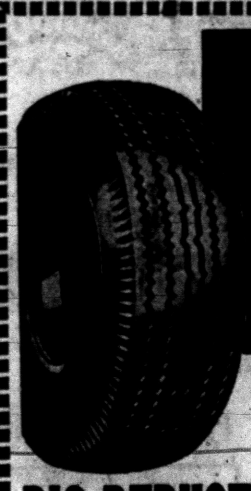

Catcher Mike Hines of the 1883 Boston National League team made nine assists in one game. It is still a major league record.

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Frank Sinatra had no more than returned from his cruise down the coast of California when he was on the telephone to New York. Via long distance he bought the rights to "A Hole in the Head," Paul Douglas' hit Broadway show.

Reports are Frankie paid $200,000 to author Garson Kanin—but they aren't talking. I also learned that Frank will star in "A Hole in the Head" and will make it for his independent company.

Carolyn Jones, the girl who not only looks like a young Bette Davis but is beginning to act like her (and that's plenty of praise for a newcomer), gets the femme lead opposite Mickey Rooney in "Baby Face Nelson."

Although Carolyn was one of the girls fluttering around Frank Sinatra in "Tender Trap" she didn't make her big screen impact until the femme fatale role in "Bachelor Party." For this, she dyed her naturally blonde hair quite dark. For Mickey's movie she'll dye back to her original blonde.

Of course, you know that "Baby Face Nelson" is a saga of the notorious gangster, and producer Al Zimbalist says it starts immediately for UA release.

YOUNG AND HAPPY

"I never knew newspaper people are so nice," she said. "They were so good to me in New York, Cleveland and wherever I visited.

"When I talked to you last I said I didn't have any idea what I was going to do next. Now I have two pictures," she said. "The one you printed, 'Cry Terror' with James Mason and Rod Steiger, and Sol Siegel has also bought a play for me, 'Thank a Fool,' in which I'll star in the fall.

"Both of these are for MGM and I have been borrowed from Paramount who owns my contract."

Inger said she's had 40 new dresses sent out to her by New York designer Bernard Levetz.

The tragic death of Judy Tyler in an auto accident before the release of the Elvis Presley picture, "Jailhouse Rock," will not interfere with the release of the picture because it will be shown in October.

"It hasn't even been sneak-previewed yet," one of the MGM executives told me. "Everyone liked Judy so much, and we were all saddened by her death."

Death came to Jimmy Dean, Jean Harlow and Walter Hampden before the pictures they were appearing in were released. Only in Jean Harlow's case did it affect the box office, and that was because a substitute had to be given the Harlow role as Jean hadn't finished her picture.

DECEMBER BRIDE

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Art Linkletter's son, Jack, and Barbara Hughes will wait until December to marry. Barbara is still in school.

Bob Evans flew in Saturday to keep a date with Lana Turner. He also took a look at himself in "The Sun Also Rises."

Happy birthday today to Jimmy McHugh, Mike Connolly and Hernando Courtright, all born July 10 but in different years. Tonight Helen O'Connell is saluting composer McHugh with a program of his songs on her TV show. Vic Damone is also honoring Jimmy, and ditto disc jockey Johnny Grant.

Harriet Parsons, covering the Carol Channing opening at the Tropicana in Las Vegas, says that Anita Loos is flying to Vegas from Europe next month. She wants Carol, who leaped to fame in Anita's play, "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," for the musical she is writing.

What's in a Name?

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Jesse James, 44, a mail truck driver, has been charged with mail embezzlement. Post office inspectors said he had stolen approximately 300 letters from the mails, removing any cash he found in them.

Leadbetter to Run Again

DETROIT (UP)—Thomas A. Leadbetter said he will file Monday for his eighth term as city clerk. Leadbetter, who says he never spends money on his campaigns, has led the municipal ticket in the last four elections. There are two other candidates so far for the $15,000-a-year post. They are Warren R. Dolan, a city health inspector, and Thomas J. Murphy, a rigger.

Oil Spending to Rise

DALLAS — According to oil industry experts, the industry will make capital expenditures of more than 6.1 billion dollars for new plants and equipment during 1957, an increase of $635,000,000, or 11 per cent, over last year's record spending for such purposes.

Heads Ticket Sales

DETROIT (UP) — Sam Madden has been named director of industrial and business ticket sales for the Detorit Pistons, professional basketball team. He will continue to serve as director of athletics for the Detroit Parochial High School League.

Divorces Crawford for Irresponsibility

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actor Broderick Crawford has been divorced on his wife's testimony that he was "completely irresponsible" as a husband.

Mrs. Katherine Crawford, 39, who charged mental cruelty, told Superior Judge Edward R. Brand Monday: "Many times when parties were planned for mutual friends he would not show up or even telephone. The same was true when events were planned for the children."

The 50-year-old Oscar winner did not contest the divorce. Mrs. Crawford received custody of their two sons, Kim, 9, and Kelly, 5. A property settlement gives her the $75,000 family home in Brentwood and approximately a fourth of Crawford's estimated gross annual earnings of $200,000.

Month Generally Brings Leveling Off

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry is scheduling production of a little more than half a million passenger cars this month. The July volume would be approximately the same as that of June.

★ ★ ★

Generally, July has seen a leveling off in production volume. Last year when the industry was trying to reduce dealer inventories the factories rolled out 448,870 cars. Aside from that, however, there have been only three years since World War II in which July output went above half a million cars.

★ ★ ★

Scheduling of the heavier July volume this year reflects to some degree the auto makers' more optimistic outlook with respect to retail sales. A consideration also is that Ford probably will get some output of its new Edsel model during the current month.

There are varying estimates about June retail deliveries. Put at more than 510,000 for the month, they topped factory output by 10,000 units.

Some sources expect July sales to top factory output again. That means a continuing cut in dealer inventories without the drastic production slashes that marked the final months of the 1956 model year.

CUT IN SEPTEMBER

But September is certain to see a sharp curtailment of assembly line operations. Current guesses are that July - August - September output will come to about 1,200,000 cars. There is a good prospect the factories will build 1,300,000 in the fall quarter.

Barring some interruption to the program, that would assure a 1957 output volume of six million units. Most industry experts have estimated the year's probable production at "almost six million" cars.

For appraising the health of the industry, retail delivery total is much more important than production total. On the basis of present delivery levels sales again could exceed assemblies this year. If that sounds paradoxical it should be noted the industry started the calendar year with more than 512,000 cars in dealer stocks.

Production and sales drives will get considerable stimulus from major styling and engineering advances that will mark the new cars to be introduced for the 1958 model year. Some will be entirely new; others will have design changes almost as broad as though the car were wholly new.

Most industry merchandising experts agree that styling is a major factor in car sales. They are not inclined to belittle the importance of engineering, but say visual appeal gets customers into the salesrooms.

Thus it is that greater effort than ever has been made to present styling advances of major importance for 1958. In some instances these changes involved a dollar outlay greater than that required for a complete model change less than a decade ago.

Exact cost of switching over to 1958 model cars probably will not be officially disclosed by car makers. It is a safe guess, however, that industrywide the investment will run close to 1¼ billion dollars.

Probably more than half that sum will be incurred by General Motors with major design and styling changes throughout its several car divisions.

To Pass Last Quarter Century

Rapid Business Expansion Forecast in Next 25 Years

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The growth of American business in the next 25 years will be greater than in the past 25 years, according to a report issued by the Kiplinger Washington Agency.

The result of a year-long reportorial investigation into the next quarter century, the prediction is based on talks with industrialists, engineers, corporation research departments, others whose jobs require them to plan for the years ahead.

According to the Kiplinger report, the number of businesses in the United States will rise from the present four and a half million to six million in the early '80's. Many of them will be small businesses, nearly all will be prosperous.

Disposable income, after state and federal taxes will rise from the present 300 billion to about 700 billion in current dollars. Prices will rise about two per cent a year, and inflation therefore will have reached another 50 per cent of the present price level.

Great employment expansion is predicted by the Kiplinger organization for these lines: engineering, air transportation, banking, insurance, chemicals, construction, paper and machinery, metals and metal products, health and medicine.

Retail and wholesale trade will grow in direct ration to population growth. In some lines employment will fall behind the population growth curve. Among them: Lumber, furniture, stone, clay and glass products, steel, coal, food processing.

Over all the total national out put will reach 1,000 billions — one trillion dollars in gross national product, the editors say. Factory production will more than double in this 25 year period.

There will be 250 million persons in the United States 25 years from now. The areas of greatest growth will be Florida, California and the South and Southwest. The East Coast area from Boston to Norfolk will be solidly built up, full of expanded industry, one big industrial center.

Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois will also enjoy big industrial growth. The Gulf Coast from Florida to the west will show a substantial growth.

In six or seven years, say the Kiplinger editors, a new housing boom will start having its effect on the economy, and the rate of construction will reach two million homes a year in the 70's.

In reporting the business outlook, the Kiplinger organization has assumed a gradual cut back in defense spending, leaving room for more expansion of normal civilian needs; no world war; some business ups and downs, but no serious depression; and a gradual inflation throughout the period.

Good Weather Drops Grain

CHICAGO (AP) — Fine weather over the Midwest and most of the Southwest was a little too much for the grain futures market on the board of trade today.

Wheat dipped around a cent in some cases at the start, with hedge selling apparently causing some of the downturn. Prices came back somewhat, however, due to strength in wheat at Kansas City, where the bulk of the crop is being received.

Corn, oats and soybeans all dipped because of favorable growing weather and forecasts in the Midwest.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, July $2.13⅞; corn was ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher, July $1.30¾ oats were unchanged to ⅜ higher, July 69⅛; rye was unchanged to 4 cents higher, July $1.34¼; soybeans were ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, July $2.42⅜; and lard was unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $13.70.

Employment Up Over June 1956

Gain as Compared With Last Year Is Offset by Monthly Decline

Employment in the Pontiac area last month was 400 higher than in June of 1956, although a gradual monthly decline was continuing between May 15 and June 15 of this year.

Current employment of 72,000 was 700 less than in May. This resulted from a decrease of 1,200 in manufacturing employment and a 500 increase in non-manufacturing in the area, in the non-farm group.

On a two-year comparison, little change for non-manufacturing employment can be noted, while manufacturing has declined by 9,600 between 1957 and 1955. The major decline, since June 1955, was in motor vehicle plants where a dip of 8,900 was experienced.

Unemployment at mid-June was estimated at 5,700. A year ago, in June 1956, unemployment was estimated at 8,500. Currently, the unemployed make up .7 per cent of the total labor force of 80,900, compared with 6.8 per cent in May and 10.2 per cent in June of 1956.

The Pontiac MESC office reported that the number of unemployment insurance checks issued during June was the highest since last October. There were 13,943 checks totaling $485,874 issued.

In June of 1956, the branch office granted $758,798 in 21,032 unemployment payments.

Claim New Air Fuel Lifts Flying Limits

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—The Olin Mathieson Chemical Co. announced today development of a new high-energy fuel it said could power a B58 jet bomber anywhere in the world and return without refueling.

The company said the new fuel increased the range of jet engines by 40 per cent.

The name of the new chemical fuel is HEF-2. The base of the fuel is borax, a crystalline sodium compound used as a cleansing agent or disinfectant. The United States has huge supplies of borax.

Olin Mathieson announced construction of a 36-million-dollar plant to manufacture HEF-2 at Model City, 10 miles northeast of Niagara Falls. The company said it had already perfected production of the fuel in a pilot plant here.

Awards 2 Contracts

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Shelby, Ohio, Air Force Depot was awarded two contracts worth a total of $114,737 to the Aeroquip Corp. of Jackson, Mich., for hose assemblies, the Department of Commerce field office here announced today.

Selected Stocks Active, Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Selected issues were active and higher in an otherwise mixed stock market early today.

Pivotal stocks generally showed small price changes, running from fractions to a point or so. Wall Street analysts looked at the performance as the second day of reaction from the latest 1957 high reached by the market.

Some said a period of consolidation was desirable if the market is to make a further try for a new historic high.

Olin-Mathieson rose a full point and was in active demand as it announced opening of the first plant producing a new high-energy aviation fuel.

U. S. Borax, producer of Boron, on which the new fuel is based, added another two points or more to its gain of yesterday. The stock also was helped by persisting rumors it will merge with a major chemical firm.

American Telephone was up a fraction following news of its higher earnings. Other fractional gainers included American Can, General Electric, Kennecott Copper, Illinois Central, Texas Co., Johns-Manville and Chrysler.

Among the losers were Caterpillar, Anaconda, International Nickel, New York Central and Royal Dutch.

Finds Movies Less Exciting

Actress Recalls Being Jack-of-All-Trades in Early TV Days

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — Eva Marie Saint went from TV to movie stardom—and now she says she misses "the excitement of TV."

"You have a detached feeling about your work, like you were working in a vacuum. But TV—ah, that's like a first night all the time."

"I did," she says, "gosh, I don't know how many—thousands, I guess. From '47 through '56 I was doing TV all the time. In those 9 or 10 years I only took out unemployment checks five weeks, so you get an idea.

SHE APPLAUDED

"The first thing I did was something called the Borden Variety Show. I got $10. I applauded—and not even on camera.

"After I'd been working for a year, I began to teach TV. I taught a class for models, in case they got on TV. With my one year, I was an expert. I got $5 a week for teaching three classes."

Eva Marie Saint—and the Eva Marie part of her name, she insists, is all a legitimate first name; she has no middle name—is an Albany, N.Y., girl. Her last name—it's Scotch—started her out on the radio acting.

"As a child in school," she says, "the teachers would take one look at the name Saint and decide I was a natural for the part of an angel in the Christmas play. My mother was forever sewing up wings."

★ ★ ★

She always said that she was the first Saint in show business, but now she isn't sure. Out at the Paramount studios in Hollywood, she met a man in the property department named Saint. He came from Iowa; so did Eva Marie's father.

SOMETHING ALIKE

She thinks they look something alike. And she thinks he must be some sort of relative. So now she guesses she's the second Saint in show business.

★ ★ ★

She's just finished two pictures—"A Hatful of Rain" and "Raintree County"—and is taking it easy.

"I don't work too hard any more," she says. "I don't want to do too much in the first place—and I don't want to do anything any more unless it is important."

Hollywood 'Flop' in 1948 Returns as Matinee Idol

NEW YORK (AP)—Rossano Brazzi, Italian actor who said he left Hollywood nine years ago because he was "the biggest flop in America," returned today as a full-fledged matinee idol to take a lead role in the movie version of "South Pacific."

The 39-year-old Brazzi said he finally gave in to Hollywood coaxing to return after attaining stardom and great popularity in American films made abroad.

In the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical to be filmed late this year he will have the role made famous on the stage by the late Ezio Pinza. Brazzi said he apparently was chosen for the part because he loves to sing.

The actor arrived on the liner United States with his wife and his wife's father, Pietro Bertolini. Bertolini said he would go to Byrn Mawr, Pa., to visit a brother, Anthony Bertolini, a sports promoter, whom he has not seen for 48 years.

Brazzi plans to visit Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland, Chicago and Detroit before reporting in Hollywood.

Maureen O'Hara Suing Confidential Magazine

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Maureen O'Hara wants a million dollars damages from Confidential magazine, which printed an article about her in the March 1957 issue.

★ ★ ★

Her attorneys included Confidential's publisher Robert Harrison among the defendants and also named up to 3,000 John Does who sell the magazine at their stands.

Playing for dancing at the Walled Lake Casino Ballroom this Friday and Saturday evenings will be Richard Maltby and his orchestra.

Organize Party for Australians

Irish Aren't Satisfied With Opposing British in Their Country Alone

MELBOURNE (AP)—Not satisfied with their so-far-unsuccessful campaign to take Northern Ireland away from the British, the Irish have organized a party to make Australia a republic.

Richard Mullins, secretary of the new Australian Republican party, held his first press conference today—for one reporter—and announced a platform of "Australia for Australians."

"Today Australia no longer wants to be dominated either by American capitalism or English imperialism," he said.

He said the party is planning an Australian republican anthem and a new flag for this hitherto staunchly loyal member of the British Commonwealth.

The party was organized at a public meeting a week ago attended by two people, Mullins and Irish truck driver John Murray. Murray was elected party president. By today the party membership had swelled to 10, most of them Irish.

Drinking Pastors May Turn Others Into Drunkards

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (AP) — Elbow-bending pastors who take an occasional social cocktail may be responsible for turning some of their parishioners into skid row drunkards.

★ ★ ★

This is the opinion of Dr. Winton H. Beaven of Washington, D.C., who yesterday told the eighth annual Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism: "The minister may be able to hold his liquor, but some saint in the church who follows his example and takes to drink may end up on skid row. . . .

★ ★ ★

Strategy Holds Fate of Hells Canyon Dam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Survival of Hells Canyon Dam legislation—symbol of a great political and power fight—depended today on parliamentary strategy.

★ ★ ★

House Interior Committee Democrats, anxious to get a Senate-passed bill through the House, planned to pit strategy against voting strength in an effort to keep alive chances for a big federal dam in the Snake River at the Idaho-Oregon border.

The proposed federal project would flood the sites of three smaller dams being built by the Idaho Power Co. with the Eisenhower administration's blessing.

High Lightning Loss

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Broadway and Hollywood Comedian, Jack Paar has told me quite an amazing tale of how he got into radio and TV . . . and became so ad glib.

"As a boy living in Canton and Cleveland, O., and Jackson and Detroit, Mich., I was sickly," recalled Jack, "and my father got me a little workbench near my bed.

JACK

"There I made little radio sets . . . but I couldn't hope to be on radio . . . because I stuttered.

"I read somewhere about Demosthenes becoming an orator by talking with pebbles in his mouth.

"I would take the buttons out of my mother's sewing basket, put them in my mouth, and go into the basement and read.

"I learned to speak without stuttering and at 16, I got a job as an announcer."

"And that started you on your way to success?" I asked Jack who's taking over NBC's "Tonight" show shortly.

When Jimmy was making his great reputation as an orator, if he faced a noisy crowd, he didn't speak at all—he just moved his lips.

Soon everybody'd be saying, "Sssh, what's he saying?" Then he had to have something to say. Once when a woman said it must be hard to be Mayor of N.Y., Jimmy replied, "Yes, lady, you can see my light at City Hall burning hours after I've gone." His predecessor, the late Mayor John Hylan, once asked him, "What would you do if you ever had MY day's work to do?" Jimmy retorted, "I'd do it in half a day."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

An excited autograph fan bit singer LaVerne Baker's finger at a N.Y. rock 'n' roll show . . . Victor Borge will sign a whopping $480,000 contract in Las Vegas . . . Mrs. Glenn Miller may sue a film company for alleged "unauthorized use" of his music on records . . . Singer Carol Stevens has a record out soon—"Satin Doll." . . . Walter Slezak's take on his TV series will be $2,000 a week . . . Errol Flynn may hake his next movie in Australia . . . Paul Douglas is a three-way winner with "Hole in the Head" — he collects salary, percentage, and as an investor.

Buffalo Crusade Called Possible by Billy Graham

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham said last night there's a slight chance he will hold a crusade in Buffalo, N.Y., next November if an auditorium becomes available.

His staff confirmed monthlong crusades in San Francisco for April 1958 and in Charlotte, N.C., for October 1958.

Graham told 19,000 persons in Madison Square Garden last night that "heaven would be hell on earth to some of you."

Sinners by their very nature, he said, "would feel out of place in heaven."

★ ★ ★

The evangelist said, "No man can come to the savior until he admits he's a sinner." Everyone, he said, "has a disease the Bible calls sin."

★ ★ ★

Repentance of sin and a spiritual regeneration are the way to heaven," he said.

"You can have a new life . . . from the moment when you let Christ in your life," he said.

At the evangelist's call 568 persons made "decisions for Christ." That brought the over-all total for the crusade to 29,329.

THE TRUTH IS...

DIME TIME

EVER WONDER WHERE THE WORD "DIME" ORIGINATED? IT COMES FROM THE LATIN DECEM (TEN), AND WAS INTRODUCED INTO AMERICAN USAGE BY GOUVERNEUR MORRIS. HE RECOMMENDED A COIN TO BE CALLED A DISME (FRENCH SPELLING), BUT THE U. S. MINT IN 1792 CHANGED THE SPELLING TO DIME.

'Worst in World' Says Traveler

South African Mayor Hits New York Street Signs

Morris Nestadt, five times mayor of Benoni, the seventh largest city in the Union of South Africa, said:

"I have found the street signs better in Los Angeles than in New York. In South America they were much better. But in South Africa they are better than any of them."

Nestadt is on a vacation tour of South America and the United States. He will leave for England in three weeks and return to South America in two months.

Now 60, tall, lean and energetic, the mayor sandwiched his comments on the Big City's street signs between a visit to Madison Square Garden to hear evangelist Billy Graham and an evening at the popular musical, "My Fair Lady."

HARD TO READ

Nestadt said that he found some of New York City's street signs located on only one of four corners at an intersection, and the letters far too small. They are not much help to visitors, he feels.

Except for the street signs, the mayor had only warm words for New York. He noted there is a "tremendous building boom," and many new buildings have been put up since he was last in the United States.

He last visited America six years ago. "I have found since I was here last," he said, "what seems to be a feeling against South Africa in regards to its native problem.

"The people in the United States do not seem to realize the actual position . . . it is not as black as painted in the States. If they knew the true situation they would change their ideas."

Nestadt is a member of the United Party, the chief opposition group to the Nationalist Government. He said, when asked for comment about the situation in South Africa:

"Although I'm in opposition to the government, I'm for South Africa first. I would never criticize my government while in another country."

The mayor noted that American investments are increasing in South Africa, where, he said, industry is becoming more and more important.

The mayor is a self-made man, very much on the American pattern. He was born in Johannesburg and started as an office boy in the large Benoni real estate firm he now owns.

Youth Firmly Believes That West Is Still Wild

Allen has been awarded $450 for injuries suffered in a stage coach run-away last summer. It seems the youth was riding in the coach with friends at a resort when something "spooked" the horses and they ran away.

'Messiah' to Be Sung
