Easter Lineup – Chick, Eggs

AP Wirephoto

WHICH CAME FIRST?—Who was on the scene first, the chicken on the left, or the egg on the right? Well, actually, neither one. Kevin Shea, the Indianapolis, Ind. boy in the middle, came first. He's four years old, the chick is just four days old, and the egg is nest-fresh. Kevin will keep both the egg and chick around for the celebration of Easter.

House OK's Mortgage Plan by 2 Votes

Senate Holds Fate of Veterans Fund

From Our News Wires

LANSING—Fate of a plan to mortgage the 50 million dollar veterans trust fund to meet pressing state debts rested with the Senate today.

The house approved the proposal yesterday with two votes to spare—58-40.

Republicans, apparently trying to escape as much responsibility as possible for the plan, "gave" only 12 votes to support the idea while four Democrats opposed party desires and went against it.

An estimated 100 veterans, far short of the anticipated throng, glumly watched proceedings from the galleries.

The four bills putting the plan into action went to Senate committee. Final action was expected next week in the upper chamber and prospects for passage appeared more on the favorable than unfavorable side.

SEES 50-50 CHANCE

Senate Republican leader Frank Beadle of St. Clair guessed the chances were 50-50 but some observers were flatly predicting passage.

Last week the same measure fell two votes short of approval and six weeks ago, when a borrowing solution to the state's cash emergency appeared possible, it was soundly defeated.

The mortgage plan, introduced early in the session, was designed to ease the state's cash shortage and avert payless paydays due in early May unless quick cash is found.

Williams told the Legislature it must mortgage the fund or face the alternatives of liquidating it or permitting the state to default on its financial obligations.

"We cannot permit school doors to be closed, the universities to lose employes or mental hospitals to face employe problems," said Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) in a floor speech for the mortgage plan.

The Legislature, he said, has become "the laughing stock of every state in the nation" because of its indecision on the state cash crisis.

The latest plan would divide the federal bonds that constitute the fund, giving them primarily to the University of Michigan and Michigan State University to use as collateral for operating loans while the state scrapes up means of replenishing its treasury.

That would have the effect of holding off a 5½-million-dollar monthly treasury drain by higher education and get the over-all deficit down to what Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams terms "managable size."

Senate approval is problematical; the governor's signature is certain.

Both the Senate and House have Republican majorities. Senate Republicans never have seen eye to eye with Williams. They have turned down so far this year all his plans for easing the state's cash crisis. In return, they contend he has refused their offers—all tied to a penny increase in the state's three-cent sales tax.

To quiet protests over the trust fund mortgaging, the House voted to appropriate $1,200,000 annually for needy veterans not eligible for routine relief. That's the approximate yearly income from interest on the trust fund.

The trust fund originated in 1943 when World War II patriotism and state surpluses both were running high. The Legislature put 50 million surplus dollars into a postwar reserve: Converted it in 1946 into what is now the trust fund.

Lodge Labels House Bills 'Useless'

State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland County) today angrily attacked Gov. Williams and House Democrats in Lansing for "passing the buck" to the State Senate.

Criticizing House-approved measures to tap the veterans trust fund, Lodge assailed House failure to include provisions to pay back whatever was borrowed.

"The bills are useless as they stand now," Lodge also complained, "because under them the money wouldn't become available until September.

"But the state needs financial relief right now," he added.

His opposition stems, Lodge said, from the fact that the bills make no provision for the re-establishment of the moneys taken from the $49,070,000 Trust Fund.

"Acceptance of the bills would constitute a violation of the faith veterans placed in elected officials," Lodge said.

The key bill in the governor's plan to mortgage the fund, which would transfer trust fund bonds to the State Treasurer, passed the House by 58-40, with just two votes to spare. Fifty-six votes were needed.

Voting for the bill were Oakland Democrats Arthur J. Law (Pontiac), James Clarkson (Southfield), and John C. Hitchcock (Hazel Park). Joining them was West Bloomfield Republican Farrell E. Roberts.

Roberts' two fellow Republican Oakland representatives, Lloyd L. Anderson (Waterford Township) and William Hayward (Royal Oak) opposed the bill.

Lodge wouldn't predict what might become of the bills, aimed at dumping 38 million dollars into the depleted treasury when they come out of the Senate Appropriations Committee onto the floor, possibly next week.

However, he was not hesitant to blast Williams and Democrats for what he called "irresponsible direction of legislation" by making "no attempt to get immediate effect" for the bills.

Lodge called the mortgaging attempting "a temporary dab" providing $38,000,000 when the state needs $114,000,000 to meet a soaring deficit.

That guy in the front office is trying to put pressure on the Senate because he knows it is standing rigidly against his foolish policies," Lodge said.

"Maybe we (the Senate) should pass these useless bills as they are and thus put the responsibility back where it belongs . . . in the front office," he added.

Williams has said that his mortgaging plan will make cash available in plenty of time to meet the state's critical period in mid-May — if passed by the Senate next week.

Fearful Boost Would Add Fuel to U.S. Inflation

Calls for Statesmanship by Labor, Management in Coming Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower called on labor and management today to settle the steel wage issue on a basis that would not boost the price of steel.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference if the government can do something to prevent a steel strike.

The President replied it is the policy of his administration to keep outside of the business of collective bargaining.

Eisenhower added vigorously, however, that here is the place where action will determine if the United States is to continue to go ahead economically and to avoid inflation.

Here is the place, he said, for labor and management to show their statesmanship and resolve differences without any advance in the price of the commodity.

Eisenhower said that while his administration does not intend to interfere in collective bargaining processes it must never be forgotten that the public has to pay if price increases result from these negotiations.

HE'LL TALK

The President said that because the public is affected he is not going to stand silent and, like Pontius Pilate, wash his hands and ignore the matter.

Eisenhower repeated emphatically that there should be no settlement that compels steel prices to go up.

Here are other comments he made:

At his first news conference in Washington since conferring with Macmillan last weekend, Eisenhower said he is willing to go to a summit meeting if it is justified.

And he spelled out his view of what that means—that an earlier East-West foreign ministers conference should make progress toward easing world tensions.

In an appearance before Parliament in London about the same time, Macmillan was asked what he thought about the prospects for a summit meeting this year regardless of the outcome of the foreign ministers' negotiations.

MEETING LIKELY

He replied, ". . . As regards the likelihood of a summit meeting . . . I would say that everybody seems to think that there will be one."

The emphasis in the two presentations was different. Eisenhower emphasized his requirement for prior progress before a summit conference. Macmillan treated a summit conference as almost if not entirely inevitable.

Eisenhower, like Macmillan, declined to go into details of the formula for moving toward a summit conference—a formula which he and Macmillan agreed on at Camp David, Md.

Both men said that Western notes making the offer will shortly be delivered in Moscow —Macmillan said tomorrow afternoon.

The President agreed with views attributed to Macmillan in recent weeks that Khrushchev is the man who has to make decisions for the Soviet government. Macmillan has used this as an argument for getting Western agreement to a summit meeting.

Police Suits Pass the Cigarette Test

By MAX E. SIMON

A local clothing merchant last night threw cold water on charges that suspended Police Chief Herbert W. Straley ordered flammable material for police uniforms.

Raymond Rapaport, whose store has supplied the police department with overcoats since 1949, brought pieces of the controversial cloth to the Civil Service Commission hearing.

Under cross-examination by prosecution Attorney A. Floyd Blakeslee, Rapaport walked over to Commission Chairman Stuart A. Austin, asked for his lighted cigarette and attempted to burn the material.

"Perhaps that isn't hot enough," Rapaport caustically commented.

He took the cigarette being [illegible] Commissioner Gerald Guinan and again tried to set the cloth on fire.

The cloth suffered no ill effects in either case.

MADE EARLIER

The charge that Straley urged the use of flammable material for new uniforms was made earlier in the hearing by Robert A. Stierer, administrative aide to City Manager Walter K. Willman, and Police Lt. William Hanger.

Stierer had claimed that any spark would have burned a hole two to four inches in diameter before being put out.

RAYMOND RAPAPORT

Rapaport told the Commission, which is considering removal charges against Straley, that one manufacturer of the material had sold half a million yards of the cloth to the U.S. Air Force.

★ ★ ★

"They're very particular about the clothes servicemen wear around flying machines," Rapaport said. "And I feel that if the material can be worn in flying machines, then it's okay for police cars, too."

He said the material had been tested by the Air Force at laboratories at Wright-Patterson AF Base in Dayton, Ohio, before being approved for purchase.

Rapaport told commissioners he had recommended use of the material to Straley.

The merchant said the same material was used in uniforms of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps.

Also questioned about police uniforms was Straley's administrative aide, Theodore T. Villella, a special police officer.

Villella told commissioners he felt that a City Commission resolution authorizing the purchase of police uniforms which was passed in January of 1957 did not call for the furnishing complete uniform issue to each officer.

Many officers had just joined the department, Villella said, and bought uniforms out of their own pockets.

As uniforms wore out, they were to be replaced at the city's expense, Villella testified.

Villella said that when officers complained to their superiors about ill-fitting and worn-out clothing items, new garments were furnished.

He said Straley had never or-

Insanity to Be Defense Stand for Mrs. Gall

Defense attorney for Mrs. Anne D. Gall has given notice that he will use a plea of insanity when the Commerce Township mother is tried for the murder of her 12-year-old daughter.

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry Jr. said he has received a notice from Mrs. Gall's attorney, Raymond D. Munde, that he will put Dr. L. Jerome Fink, a Pontiac psychiatrist, on the stand to testify in Mrs. Gall's defense.

Barry said he now will ask two other local psychiatrists to make a sanity examination of the 35-year-old mother of three, at the county jail.

Dr. Fink, on instructions from Munde, would not reveal findings of his examination of Mrs. Gall. Nor would he even say if he has examined her yet.

Mrs. Gall, of 3080 Royal St., is charged with first-degree murder in the Feb. 16 death of her daughter Judith Anne. The girl died of pneumonia brought on by a series of beatings by her mother, police say.

Mrs. Gall tried to take her own life March 12 by slashing her wrists and arms with pieces of a smashed light bulb in the jail.

Barry said Mrs. Gall probably will stand trial during the April jury term of Circuit Court.

Senate Debates Jobless Pay Bill

OK Likely; Alternate Proposal by McNamara Has Little Chance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today debates extension of the temporary federal jobless pay program, with indications it will adopt the three-month tapering-off bill already passed by the House.

The Senate Finance Committee Monday approved the House bill with only a minor amendment. It rejected a substitute proposed by 18 Democratic senators for a 15-month extension with liberalized provisions.

Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich), chief sponsor of the 15-month proposal, told a reporter it would be offered in today's floor debate. But there appeared to be small chance it would win out.

The House-passed bill, which was endorsed by the Eisenhower administration, would not permit any person who becomes jobless after April 1 to qualify for the temporary benefits.

But it would allow those who have qualified before April 1 to draw their checks up to June 30 this year. About 405,000 persons would benefit at a cost of 78 million dollars.

Meanwhile, a bipartisan House vote for increased spending has given President Eisenhower a major legislative victory but may cost Republicans in Congress some 1960 campaign ammunition.

With heavy Democratic and Republican support, the House late Tuesday shouted approval of a $2,657,402,944 supplemental appropriation bill after handing its Appropriations Committee one of its worst setbacks in years.

The principal victory for Eisenhower lay in inclusion of 100 million dollars for the foreign aid development loan program. He had asked 225 millions but the committee had allowed nothing.

Tourist Potential in State Pegged at $1 Billion Year

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan's tourist business can become a billion dollar a year industry with proper promotion, Gov. Williams said here yesterday.

★ ★ ★

"Not enough people know about Michigan's lakes, streams and forests, its grandeur and beauty," the governor told a Michigan Tourist and Resort Assn. meting at Michigan State University.

The governor said boosting the present 650 million dollar a year tourist business would give the state a more balanced economy.

Orville Reed, Howell advertising man, told the meeting that advertising gimmicks can only do half the job.

Sailor Spends Sunday at Sea With God as His Companion

By DOUGLAS WARDROP
British Merchant Seaman

I suppose we all have fears of the unknown, few of which ever come to pass. Yet on Sunday, June 9, 1957, one fear that had haunted me many times actually happened.

WARDROP

At the time I was second mate on the British Monarch, a freighter, and we were in the Pacific en route to Japan, hundreds of miles from land.

It was 4 a.m. I went to the stern to inspect a faulty log clock. Unable to read the clock standing on the deck, I climbed on top of a solid bulwark. While I was leaning outboard, the ship lurched slightly and I lost my balance. A desperate grab at the bulwark missed and I fell into the ocean.

When I came gasping to the surface, the Monarch's stern lights were disappearing into the darkness. I shouted but no one heard me.

Slowly the awful truth of my situation struck home. My ship was now out of sight; it might be hours before they discovered my disappearance.

Panicky thoughts came. I had only a million-to-one chance of survival. Should I end it quickly? Just let myself go under? Or struggle until complete exhaustion overpowered me?

Suddenly I desperately wanted to live. At 23, life seemed very sweet and desirable. I would fight to keep it with every ounce of strength.

"Well, God, I'm in your hands," I thought. "In You I put my trust for better or worse. But if You don't mind my injecting an idea of my own, I just don't believe my time is up."

★ ★ ★

It was becoming lighter in the Eastern sky now. I was able to fix my bearing. If I moved along at a couple of miles an hour, I might even swim to Japan—in a couple of weeks.

"Poor Captain Coutts," I thought out loud. "I'd hate to be in your shoes about now, debating what to do. Can you find a dot in the ocean, Captain?"

It took surprisingly little effort to keep afloat. Must be a lot of salt in the water—why, I can last for hours! If only I were not so alone.

And then it came to me: "I'm

News Flashes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ailing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will go to Hobe Sound, Fla. next Monday for a period of rest following his month of radiation treatments for cancer at Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Labor Committee today approved the Kennedy Labor Regulation Bill without any change in its major provisions. The vote was 13-2. Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), chief sponsor of the bill, called the committee's product "a strong and effective reform bill" striking heavily at hoodlums and gangsters who have infiltrated some unions.

'April' Showers Expected

Bring Out the Raincoats

A few early April showers may hit Pontiac tonight as the area hesitates on the verge of spring.

It'll be mostly cloudy, the weatherman believed, and colder tonight and tomorrow, with a low tonight of 38 and a high tomorrow of only 42.

There may be occasional rain tomorrow, too.

The weekend won't warm up much, with average highs of 48 and lows of 31 predicted. A half-inch of rain is expected by Sunday.

Chances are, the weatherman said, that Easter Sunday will be chilly and wet.

Thirty-two was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The reading at 2 p.m. was 48.

Her Early Plunge Was a Short One

CLEAR THE ICE—Oakland County had its first swimmer yesterday—even before all the ice has left the lakes. She was 15-year-old Cathy Walsh of 156 Erie Rd. Cathy, a Pontiac Central High School sophomore, got the urge late yesterday afternoon—while the thermometer hovered around the 67-degree mark—and plunged into Sylvan Lake. Her first swim was a brief one, she'll readily admit.

Latreille Rival to Take Stand

Competitor Will Be Questioned on Alleged Visit by Thompson

A Flint man who operated a competing dry cleaning establishment across from the fire-destroyed Latreille Dry Cleaners was awaiting a call to the witness stand today as the Jack D. Thompson arson trial moved into its sixth day.

Herbert L. Harrison, a key prosecution witness, is expected to be quizzed either today or tomorrow by Genesee County Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke about statements that he allegedly asked a friend if he couldn't "get rid" of Latreille.

O'Rourke is also expected to question Harrison about a visit he and his wife had with Flint Teamsters business agent Jack D. Thompson at Thompson's cottage in Grayling a day before Latreille's was set afire.

Thompson, in a statement to detectives Aug. 7, did not reveal Harrison's visit, saying he didn't want to "drag him into the case."

Thompson, 42, is charged with arson in the burning of the small pickup station four miles east of downtown Flint in Burton Township. It was in the fire, police say, that fellow Teamster business agent Frank H. Kierdorf received his fatal burns Aug. 3.

Eleven women and three men are listening to testimony of witnesses before Genesee Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth. The trial opened March 17.

After testimony by 19 witnesses last week, action picked up yesterday as O'Rourke called more than a dozen to the stand.

One of them, Detective Donald Hynes of the State Police Fire Marshal's Office, said he believed gasoline fumes were exploded by a pilot light of a water heater in the pickup station.

Snowstorm Hits Central Rockies, Heads This Way

By The Associated Press

A spring snowstorm developing in the Central Rockies spread south and eastward today behind a belt of scattered showers.

Generally mild weather prevailed in other parts of the country.

The storm in the Rockies dumped from one to three inches of snow in southern Wyoming and northern Colorado. Light falls extended eastward into extreme western sections of South Dakota and Nebraska.

Heavy snow warnings were posted from eastern Colorado and northeastern New Mexico into southwest South Dakota, western Nebraska and northwest Kansas. Gusty northerly winds created hazardous driving conditions in some areas of the storm belt. Temperatures were near 30 degrees in most sections.

Thundershowers and rain were reported in scattered areas from southern Colorado into parts of Kansas and Oklahoma. Wet weather was indicated from southeast Kansas southward through Texas and eastward through the lower and middle Mississippi Valley. Light snow was forecast in the upper Mississippi Valley, with snow flurries in parts of the Great Lakes region.

JAMES P. COLANDO

Pontiac Youth Is Selected

Colando Will Attend Conference on Atom as Award Winner

James P. Colando, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Colando of 150 S. Edith St., has been named a delegate to the National Youth Conference on the Atom in Atlantic City, N. J., April 30 to May 1. He will be among five science students from southeastern Michigan high schools attending the meeting under the sponsorship of Detroit Edison.

James, a sophomore at Pontiac Central High School and an award winner in the physics division of the Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair, was chosen because of his interest and aptitude in nuclear physics, as evidenced by his science fair exhibit—a cloud chamber used by scientists to study the path and speed of invisible radiation produced by radioactive materials.

Prof. A. A. Toppeto of the University of Detroit, Prof. John Wright of Wayne State University and Myron C. Beckman, director of Detroit Edison's Nuclear Power Development Department, made the selection after viewing several hundred Science Fair exhibits.

James, whose father is Pontiac police sergeant and his mother a teacher in the Pontiac Public Schools, won a second-place award for a similar cloud chamber exhibit at the Oakland County Science Fair held earlier this year.

not alone. No one ever really is. For He is with me all the time, unseen, unheard, but very real." And the first pangs of panic subsided.

Ouch! A sharp needle-like pain shot through my leg. An electric eel moved away and began to circle around me.

"Come on," I shouted, "sting me if you will, but don't sneak up from behind. Let's meet face to face."

The eel continued to circle, ugly and sinister. "God, I've been told that everything You make in this world has some purpose to fulfill, but surely nothing as mean and vicious as this creature." After a while the eel disappeared.

It got hot. Hours passed. I began to ramble a bit to myself and a bit to God. He became a Companion with Whom I could talk. Without the assurance that He was there, I would have lost my mind.

More hours passed. Now the beginning of weakness. I tried floating on my back again. A wave passed over my face. I gulped, coughed and sputtered. That wouldn't do: too much loss of strength.

★ ★ ★

Once I saw what looked like an enormous fish coming my way. Sharks! I was surprised they hadn't come before. But I was too weak to do anything but stare. "Lord, if it's Your will for me to go now, make it quick, please." But it wasn't a shark.

★ ★ ★

A little later I saw two masts on the horizon. With all my strength I started swimming toward them. Then I stopped. Swimming was pointless. I tried to wave my arms, but they weighed a ton each.

"Please, God, don't let them come so close and not see me. I'm not afraid to die, but don't add torment to it."

And then they were lowering a boat. It was the Monarch.

Later Captain Coutts was shaking his head in amazement. "I told myself over and over that it was a waste of time to turn around, but something refused to let me give up."

I was in the water nine hours. The Monarch covered 100 miles before she found me.

★ ★ ★

My shipmates kidded me later. "What a way to spend Sunday at sea."

Sunday at sea! I liked that phrase. For isn't Sunday the day you're supposed to feel closest to your Creator?

To Line Saginaw and Huron Street

Downtown Fluorescent Lighting OK'd

New fluorescent street lighting in downtown Pontiac was okayed last night by the City Commission.

The lights, similar to ones in use the past four months on an experimental basis at Oakland avenue and Saginaw street, will line Saginaw from Oakland to Wessen street and Huron street from Cass avenue to Mill street.

City Manager Walter K. Willman was authorized to spend an annual $5,600 to meet the bigger light bill.

Consumers Power Company will install the lights on its own poles by means of extensions placing them higher than the existing lights and centered over the street.

★ ★ ★

The Commission authorized the expansion in hopes that the new lighting will enhance the attractiveness of downtown as a shopping area.

On recommendation of the administration, commissioners authorized a new contract with Geer Associates, the city's planning consultants, to continue work on urban renewal.

The newest contract is for $17,500, covering planning and supervision involved in the final stage of urban renewal preparation, expected to be wrapped up this fall.

A measure was introduced to bring ice vending machines within the scope of the city's ice ordinance, with an annual license fee of $5 a machine.

The machines are now covered by the vending machine ordinance and a $50-a-year fee is required, which the administration felt was out of line.

Carr street, Mt. Clemens to Pontiac Knolls subdivision — assessed cost, $3,716; city cost, $2,130; seven sewer stubs at $72 apiece, $504; cost for a 45-foot lot, $225.

Colgate avenue, Baldwin to Carlisle—assessed cost, $15,020; city cost, $720; sewer stubs, $1,615; cost for a 40-foot lot, $200; cost per sewer stub, $85.

Clothier Extinguishes Charges on Uniforms

dered that any officer be denied clothing he needed.

In 1957 and 1958, Villella testified, the police department issued 300 shirts, 200 trousers and 18 overcoats to members of the force.

He said Straley had been delayed in preparing uniform specifications because of the department's moving from its old quarters on Perry street to the Public Safety Building.

He described Straley as "more than meticulous." The chief, he testified, wasn't content to leave anything to chance. "He was thorough and wanted to be absolutely sure that things were right," Villella said.

He said uniform specifications were "90 per cent complete" when Public Safety Director George D. Eastman arrived in Pontiac Oct. 7.

★ ★ ★

Some money might have been saved by the city if uniforms were purchased on a contract basis rather than on an emergency replacement basis, Villella said.

"By and large," he declared, "police officers were well-clothed."

City Purchasing Agent Frank Reed told commissioners he had never seen specifications submitted by Straley on Oct. 23.

"Someone picked them up and took them back to the police station before I came in the next day," he said.

Straley is accused of having violated an order of Eastman by turning in specifications to the purchasing agent's office.

Reed testified that uniforms and replacements were being purchased regularly for police officers during 1957 and 1958.

Straley's attorney, Clarence L. Smith, also drew out the admission from Reed that it would cost the city nothing to obtain bids on items which the city might not purchase.

It has been charged that in his specifications Straley included uniforms for corporals although the rank is non-existent in the Pontiac department, and breeches for motorcycle officers although the motorcycle section is being eliminated by Eastman.

Reed said specifications submitted by Straley were equal or above those submitted by other department heads.

The first witness last night was Inspector Clark M. Wheaton.

On Eastman's reorganization chart he said, he was dropped to third in command of the department behind Patrol Capt. Oliver H. Lemeaux, despite his higher rank.

The hearing will resume at 7:30 tonight in the City Commission chambers.

Straley's attorneys said that the chief may take the stand tonight.

Area Rotary Picks President for Next Year

The Drayton-Waterford Rotary Club elected Robert Beattie Jr. as its next year's president when it met at noon yesterday at the Community Activities Center.

Vice president will be William E. Jackson, with Col. Frederick Thompson, secretary. Gerald Monroe was re-elected treasurer, and the two board members will be Dr. William Crommett and Richard McCarius.

Guest speaker was George Trout of Livonia, a survivor of the "Bataan Death March." He told of his experiences during his four years imprisonment in Japanese prison camps after his capture.

Press to Probe Subsidy Charge

IAPA Orders Board to Investigate Report on Cuba Regimes

A five-member board to probe charges that past Cuban governments subsidized the press has been ordered by the board of directors of the Inter-American Press Assn., meeting in San Salvador, El Salvador.

Named to the committee was Harold A. Fitzgerald, president and publisher of The Pontiac Press.

The committee is to conduct an investigation and report to IAPA President Alberto Gainza Piaz by June 15. The directors will consider taking action on the report at the October meeting in San Francisco.

The basis for the charges was a report prepared by John T. O'Rourke, editor of the Washington Daily News, and Jules Dubois, Latin American correspondent of the Chicago Tribune and chairman of the IAPA's freedom of the press committee.

The report said government subsidies to the Cuban press—which have been discontinued by Fidel Castro's regime—took three forms:

Payments to publishers.

Payment to editors of sums intended to be divided among members of their staffs.

Direct payments to individual newsmen.

The O'Rourke report noted that the subsidies did not make Cuban publishers subservient to the government. It noted that Batista in particular resorted to censorship.

Mayor to Hold Reception for Justice Edwards

Pontiac Mayor and Attorney Philip E. Rowston will hold an open house tomorrow afternoon for local attorneys and Oakland County Circuit Court judges to meet State Supreme Court Justice George Edwards.

The open house will be from 3 to 6 p.m. at Rowston's office, 605 Community National Bank Building.

A dinner will be given tomorrow evening at 6:30 in the Roosevelt Hotel to honor Edwards, who is seeking re-election April 6.

said it is clear that Khrushchev is the only man who has the authority really to negotiate. With an obvious reference to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and other possible Moscow representatives, he said he thought anyone other than Khrushchev would be able to function in an international conference only by being in constant telephone touch with Moscow.

Therefore, Eisenhower said, he thinks there is some validity to the argument that there should be talks with the Kremlin top man. He's got to be in the picture pretty well, Eisenhower said.

But this does not mean, the President emphatically declared, that anyone can command the heads of government to come to a summit meeting. No one can bluff them or blackmail them into attending a conference.

★ ★ ★

This means that the meeting if it comes will have to have some prior ground-breaking for taking real measures that can be discussed profitably.

The Day in Birmingham

First Methodist Church to Host Tre Ore Services

BIRMINGHAM — First Methodist Church will be host to Tre Ore services beginning at noon Friday for all Protestant churches in Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Following tradition there will be three separate services, each with a different speaker.

This year's basic theme is "The Cross Speaks to Us."

Two newcomers to the local church scene, the Rev. Homer Armstrong, D.D., pastor at First Baptist Church, and the Rev. Raymond Fenner of the Congregational Church of Birmingham, will speak at the noon and 1 p.m. services, respectively.

The Rev. W. Glen Harris, Ph. D., of First Presbyterian Church, will preach the final sermon at 2 p.m.

The three worship hours will be conducted by the Rev. Arnold F. Runkel, D.D., pastor of the host church, the Rev. Robert Graham, assistant pastor at First Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. Barton Lloyd, pastor of St. Stephen Episcopal Church, a mission unit of Christ Church, Cranbrook.

Most of Birmingham's business places will be closed during the church hours.

The annual meeting of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce has been scheduled for April 22 with a dinner at Devon Gables. Roland W. Reese and Thomas T. Monahan are chairmen.

Charles Mortensen, C. of C. manager, also announced the appointment of Harvey A. Kresge as chairman of the Birmingham Arts Festival scheduled for the week of June 6.

West Bloomfield Township Boys Club has received permission from the City Commission to hold the "orchid" sale here Saturday.

Permission also has been granted by the Commission to the several veterans organizations in Birmingham to conduct their annual poppy sale May 21.

Although there is no special program planned, the Senior Mens Club, sponsored jointly by Community House and Birmingham Recreation Dept. will meet at Community House Friday.

Shuffleboard courts are open and ready for play, according to T. A. Henshaw, secretary of the club.

SMEAD'S KWIK-TWST

OFFICE TESTED

1. DRILLS CLEANER HOLES — Smead's Kwik-Twst Drill actually cuts through the paper, boring a clean, sharp, round hole. Paper is drilled, not punched.
2. DRILLS MORE SHEETS — Smead's Kwik-Twst Drill will cut easily and smoothly through a full half-inch of paper. A twist of the wrist and you're through.
3. NO MUSS OR LITTER — The drilled-out paper cuttings travel up into the handle. The handle may be emptied by unscrewing from the drill.
4. NO GUIDES TO ADJUST — With each Kwik-Twst Drill is furnished a celluloid template for drilling holes to fit all standard types of binders.
5. PORTABLE-CONVENIENT — The cutting edge of Smead's Kwik-Twst Paper Drill may be quickly unscrewed, reversed, and inserted within the handle, thus protecting its edge and making it safe to carry.

April is Kitchen Telephone Month. Thousands of housewives all over the country will be pleased as punch this April when their husbands present them with the biggest step saver of all . . . a telephone for your kitchens.

You may have noticed, more and more homes have telephone arrangements planned. That is, the areas in the home where folks do their work, sleep or play, have telephones handy. We've found that the handiest of all, the one the lady of the house appreciates the most, is the kitchen telephone. She can have her choice of any of eight lively colors to fit into her decorating plans and by using our wall type telephone she won't have to use up precious counter space.

Sound like a good idea? Call you Business Office FE 3-9911.

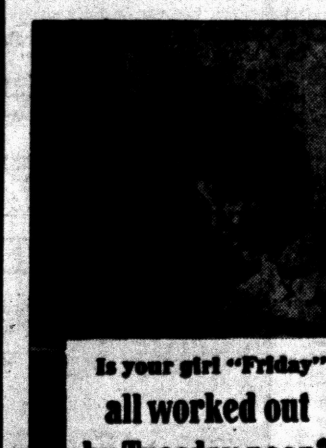

ON THE DIXIE highway, just north of Pontiac, there's an experimental phone booth. It's a test tryout of a new concept in phoning—drive-in or, more exactly, drive-up-to phoning. You drive up to the little booth, stop your car and simply reach out for the telephone. Then you phone away to your heart's content. (Provided you have the dimes, of course.) When the design is perfected, these booths will become general.

HOW WILL YOU spend Easter Sunday? Whatever you decide on, you'll probably do it with your loved ones, for Easter belongs to the family. But perhaps one or two of your family will be out of town—never mind—you can still be with them, by Long Distance. The bargain evening rates apply all day Easter Sunday. Look in your phone book to see how little it costs to make your Easter complete with a Long Distance call.

OUTDOOR LIVING—two words that conjure up the summer ahead. And so do these: garden chairs, sunshades, beach balls, outboard motors, swim suits, tennis rackets, canoes, lawn mowers, yes, and jugs and tall glasses. These are the raw materials of summer pleasure. But where do you find them all? Easy! Look in your Yellow Pages. You'll find the names, addresses and telephone numbers of the dealers nearest you. You'll find the brand names you respect. With the Yellow Pages you'll be able to put your finger on just about all the things that'll help to make the summer ahead something to look back on for a long time afterward.

Prepare U. S. Exhibition

First Fruits of Capitalism Arrive for Moscow Show

MOSCOW (UPI)—Some of capitalism's gaudy doodads have arrived in communism's capital for exhibition before the Russian people.

The makings of the coming American Exhibition in Moscow were packed in crates in the city's railroad station. Shoes, toasters, color television sets, plastic umbrellas and all the other goods stamped "Made in U.S.A." will be held in storage until the two U. S. exhibition halls go up.

Site of the summer show will be wooded, country-like Sokolniky Park — Moscow's central park—in the heart of the city. Only the concrete foundations for the halls have been constructed.

"The steel framework will go up this week and we hope to put on the 200-foot gold-anodized dome around April 1," said the man who will direct the fair for the United States, Commerce Department official Howard Messmore.

The first thing Russians will see when they enter the exhibition grounds will be the gold dome, Messmore said. The dome will house exhibits showing how U. S. public health, medicine, farming, education and labor have gone to make up the "good life."

The seven-million-dollar U. S. government budget for the fair also will pay for a model U. S. home, some American abstract and not so abstract art, but absolutely no abstract American music.

Russians, said Messmore, frown on capitalistic jazz.

However, Russians will be able to eat hot dogs, chew gum and possibly even guzzle the cola drinks once sneered at by the Soviet press as a symbol of American "imperialism."

The things which proceed out of the mouth come forth out of the heart; and they defile the man.

Eastern Easter Date Different

Orthodox Compute Day as Always Following Jewish Passover

By United Press International

Easter comes this year on March 29 — for Roman Catholic and Protestants.

For Eastern Orthodox Christians, Easter is May 3.

Why the difference?

For centuries, the eastern and western branches of the Christain church have used different methods of computing the date of Easter.

In Western churches, it is the first Sunday following the first full moon after the spring equinox. The date varies from year to year, depending on the moon's phases. The earliest it can fall is March 22. The latest is April 25.

In Eastern Orthodox Churches, Easter is celebrated on the first Sunday following the first full moon after the celebration of the Jewish Passover.

This rule was adopted by the Council of Nicea in 325 A.D. to insure that the celebration of Easter and Passover would never occur simultaneously.

It works out so that the Orthodox Easter falls on a date one to six weeks later than the Catholic-Protestant Easter.

May Sell 350,000 Cars This Year

American Motors Booming

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors, whose fortunes have zoomed with the burgeoning smaller car market, may sell 350,000 cars this year.

That would be a unit total topped in 1958 only by Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth. The sales expectations of George Romney, American Motors president, are supported by retail delivery volume of the last six months.

Since American Motors introduced its 1959 line last Oct. 1 its retailers have sold approximately 145,000 units. Still to come is the industry's traditionally best selling period — the April-June quarter.

What the indicated volume means for American Motors, of course, is substantially profitable operations this year. Some industry analysts also say it will mean a resumption of cash dividends for stockholders. On the basis of a 1958 fiscal year profit of $26,085,134 ($4.65 a share) the company paid a 5 per cent stock dividend.

★ ★ ★

American Motors came into the car industry in a 1954 merger of Hudson Motor Car Co. and Nash-Kelvinator Corp. Last year American Motors dropped the Hudson and Nash series of cars. Even before that the dynamic Romney was espousing the smaller car, or, as he identifies the Rambler, the more compact car.

PREDICTION CAME TRUE

What he predicted for the smaller vehicle has materialized. Many of those who agree with his philosophy about the size of automobiles believe he will be able to say "I told you so," too, about American Motors' sales volume this year when the final count is made.

Romney's compact car success undoubtedly pushed General Motors, Ford and Chrysler in their smaller car planning. How much, if any, business the three larger car manufacturers may take from American Motors with their smaller units is yet to be determined.

Certainly some of their market will come at the expense of Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth models. The new smaller cars will be of approximately the same wheelbase as the more popular Rambler model, a 108-inch wheelbase vehicle.

American Motors also makes a smaller, 100-inch wheelbase car, but its sales volume comes chiefly in the 108-inch wheelbase line.

The new competitive threat against American Motors still is six months or more distant. Most sources agree it will take that long before GM, Ford and Chrysler can get their smaller units into production.

Kremlin Theater Opens

MOSCOW (AP) —, The 60-year-old Moscow Art Theater won the honor of opening the new 1,200 seat theater within the Kremlin. It was picked to present N. Pogodin's play "The Kremlin Chimes" there on the eve of the 41st anniversary of the October revolution, Nov. 6. The new air-conditioned theater was rebuilt from the former Sverdlov club and is the first showhouse inside the Kremlin walls.

Tell Need for Funds to Complete Seaway

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army engineers testified yesterday that they expect to complete the Great Lakes connecting channels project in the fiscal year starting July 1, 1964.

This, they said at a hearing before a Senate appropriations subcommittee, is contingent on receiving appropriations for the project in line with their schedule.

The Great Lakes connecting channels project is aimed at deepening the upper Great Lakes connecting channels to 27 feet to accommodate ovean vessels which would enter through the St. Lawrence Seaway.

75,000 Die Needlessly

NEW YORK (AP)—Cancer kills 75,000 Americans each year—needlessly.

★ ★ ★

The American Cancer Society reported Tuesday that 45,000 Americans develop cancer each year.

Last year 150,000 were saved. The report said 75,000 more would have been saved by earlier diagnosis and treatment.

British Envoy to U.S. Gets Expenses Raise

LONDON (AP)—Britain is raising the expense allowance of its ambassador in Washington, Sir Harold Caccia.

★ ★ ★

The foreign service budget, just published, lists Sir Harold's salary at $16,800 a year. But his tax-free expense allowance goes up $9,464 to $94,785.60 a year, due to price and rises in the U.S. capital.

Sir Pierson Dixon, British representative at the United Nations, gets the same salary but his expense allowance is only $41,118 a year.

'The Babe and I'

By MRS. BABE RUTH with Bill Slocum

(Condensed from "The Babe and I". Copyright, 1959, by Mrs. Babe Ruth and published by Prentice Hall, Inc.)

Babe Ruth was a rich man when he died. That must have astonished a lot of people, none more than Mr. Ruth, himself.

Until he was 20 Babe was a pauper. By the time he was 22 he was making the remarkable sum, for 1917, of $10,000 a year.

In 1921 he made perhaps $50,000. From 1922 through 1926, his baseball salary alone was $52,000 a year and his endorsements in the last couple of years probably more than doubled that.

In 1927 and 1928 the Yankees paid him $70,000 a year, plus a winning World Series cut, and he picked up perhaps $75,000 annually in endorsements.

When we were married in the spring of 1929 he was broke. And in debt.

WHERE THE MONEY WENT

Item: Every year from 1920 to 1929 he bought at least one, and usually two or three, Cadillacs.

Item: Just before we were married I separated him from his favorite reading matter with a simple, blunt statement: "You'll have to give up the Racing Form or me."

Item: In a warm and understanding pamphlet he wrote called "Babe Ruth, as I Knew Him," Waite Hoyt wrote:

"Babe never learned to open his mail. Doc Wood, the trainer, opened all the letters that bore business addresses.

★ ★ ★

"It was well known that a year or two before, Babe, in his rush to sample the tasty delights of life, had merely torn up his mail.

"Doc Wood pieced a lot of it together and discovered over $6,000 in checks Ruth had destroyed."

No matter how much the Babe made there was always somebody or something to take it away from him: fast cars, faster women, slow horses, inspired performances by professional moochers and so little interest in money he wouldn't open mail he knew might hold checks.

RICH IN SPITE OF HIMSELF

In time, Christy Walsh, his manager, and I hornswoggled, abused, conned and sweet-talked Babe into letting us make him wealthy.

But we never could get Babe interested in money. I recall Christy coming to the house one day, terribly excited about a proposition. "It means at least $100,000, Babe," he said. The Babe cut him off with:

"Talk to Claire about it, Christy. The Lone Ranger is on."

A rich man poses with wife and daughter Julia during an exhibition trip to Hawaii in 1935.

I was more than happy to discuss the matter. Babe got the $100,000 without missing one episode of his beloved Lone Ranger, although he did have to sign a piece of paper he couldn't be bothered reading.

★ ★ ★

Christy and the Babe had met in the early Twenties when Christy, a syndicate manager, had signed Babe for a series of ghost-written articles.

Babe had many a ghost through the years, including Westbrook Pegler and Ford Frick.

It took three varied skills to make the Babe wealthy. First and foremost, there had to be a demand for Babe's services. Babe more than provided that.

Somebody had to handle the offers and see that Babe got a fair price. Christy handled that. I handled the Babe.

This was not easy, but Babe was not an idiot. He was dimly uneasy about being in debt. He didn't like to hear me say, "There will be a time when all this money will stop pouring in."

CLAIRE WRITES THE CHECKS

I got the Babe to abandon the tiresome chore of signing household checks. Certainly I couldn't be expected to balance check books if the Babe kept forgetting to tell me about his expenditures.

I said that any time he wanted a check I would sign it. But the Babe had to do an awful lot of explaining to pry a check from me for more than $50.

Lord, how that man could eat up $50 checks, though. He was always saying, "Write me a check for $50." and I was always saying, "I just wrote you a check for $50."

★ ★ ★

He would say, "I know, but I had to go to the barber shop. I needed some cigars and some chewing gum."

It was a tiring sort of thing but it did cut down on such Ruthian habits as tipping $100 for a 35-cent ham sandwich.

★ ★ ★

We lived very well. The budget for running the home was $1,500 a month. He paid at least $250 for each of his dozens of suits, and I encouraged him in such extravagances. I wanted Babe Ruth to look like Babe Ruth should look.

SALARY UNTOUCHED

He always wore a camel's hair cap. I objected, at first, but he won that battle. He just bought a hat. He was very funny looking in a hat.

He bought only expensive shirts and was certainly the only customer who turned his own cuffs when they started to fray.

He had learned shirt cutting in St. Mary's and insisted he could make a shirt in 13 minutes.

We had a lot of $200,000 years. In 1930 and in 1931 he was paid $80,000 annually by the Yankees. He also badgered them into giving him $2,500 plus 15 per cent of the gate for exhibition games.

In addition, there were movie shorts, ghosted articles, radio, vaudeville, personal appearances, fall barnstorming and endorsements.

He never touched his salary and we lived from endorsements alone.

He got $5,000 a year from a cigarette firm — an extraordinary sum in view of the fact that every time he was photographed out of uniform he had a big cigar in his face.

In 1927 a barnstorming trip he ran netted him almost $70,000. I think the most money he ever made for playing one game was $10,500, which was his share of a spectacularly successful charity game Marion Davies arranged in Los Angeles.

(Tomorrow: How Babe's battles pioneered salary scales for big league players today.)

Hiding Gives Youth Glimpse of $1,062

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP)—A youth ran into the cellar of a three-story house Tuesday to hide from a companion and discovered a cache of $1,062.

★ ★ ★

Some of the money was moldy and some had been chewed by mice. Bills were scattered on the floor. Other bills — all of small denomination—were found in bags in corners.

★ ★ ★

The mystery was solved by Miss Catherine Matthews, 56, who lives a couple of blocks away.

She said she put the money in the tepement because she was afraid it might be stolen if she kept it home.

Police returned the money with a suggestion she deposit it in a bank.

More Parole, Probation Officers Will Cut Costs

A recent summary of a report on "Costs of Michigan's Corrections Program," published by the Michigan Crime and Delinquency Council points out the staggering costs to the taxpayers of housing prisoners.

★ ★ ★

Study will show that it is practically an established fact that additional probation and parole officers actually will save the taxpayers money, the theory being that it is cheaper to have a man on the outside supporting his family rather than living at State expense in prison, with his family on welfare.

★ ★ ★

From this line of reasoning it becomes quite obvious that by reducing our prison population we can save the taxpayers money.

In order to practically work out this plan, it is necessary to have supervision from probation or parole officers to keep a strict watch on the parolee.

The parolee is only good as long as he gets a job and remains out of trouble. This takes continued and careful surveillance by the probation or parole officers.

In Oakland County RAT MCKENNA, Chief Probation officer of the County, reports that his office handles 846 probationers. This means that MCKENNA and his four assistants each must supervise approximately 170 cases apiece.

Statistics show that 50 probationers are a recommended caseload for an officer. Parole officers are also working under excessive caseloads. It is plain to see that attempting to handle this many cases without additional help is an extremely difficult job. Furthermore, working under these conditions, it is impossible for strict law enforcement.

★ ★ ★

It would seem reasonable to believe that additional probation and parole officers could cut the cost of housing prisoners and in turn save Michigan taxpayers considerable money.

Red China's Growth Menacing the West

When the Communists took over China a decade ago, farm holdings of landlords and rich peasants were redistributed among the less fortunate. It is estimated that two million land owners were executed after public trials where no defense was permitted. Poor peasants, seeing land within their grasp, accused landlords of every kind of crime.

The average peasant received about a half acre. Within two years Communist leaders said that private ownership of land was a barrier to greater production and that communes were the answer.

★ ★ ★

At the present time communes govern every aspect of life. They own the land; houses and implements and control land use, labor, canteens, nurseries, schools, hospitals etc. Men and women alike work long hours for food, shelter and clothing. After the day's toil all must attend classes in Communist training. There is no need for money. Agricultural production is rising and that means much to a people who never had enough to eat.

★ ★ ★

But among the leaders themselves there is some resistance to this complete regimentation. Recognizing this a new decree issued last December, says Editorial Research, made provision for family residential quarters in communes, called for shorter hours of labor and ordered other changes to make communal living somewhat less vigorous.

The attempt to break up the family, China's traditional social unit, was deliberate for the family was considered a possible breeding ground of organized resistance to Communism.

★ ★ ★

With agricultural production up and steel and coal output twice that of 1957 and the population completely regimented, Red China now has launched a foreign aid program in Southeast Asia. Peiping's growing ability to influence that part of the world is of interest to Russia as well as a menace to the West.

HADN'T we better be looking around for something to use for money—in case inflation should get entirely out of control?

Sense of humor: What's much better than a sense of rumor.

The date for the annual Michigan Week has been set for

Oakland County Week,

when our readers will go all out to call attention to what we have within the borders of the best county in the state.

Advance notice is being given so you can arrange for your friends and relatives from outside these borders to visit you and see what we have.

In practically everything that makes Michigan great, whether it be in an industrial, scenic or most any other way, our county either leads them all, or is mighty close to the top — and it's right here at home.

The Pit and the Pendulum

David Lawrence Says:

Moscow Brooding Over Secrecy

WASHINGTON — Everybody is happy, externally at least, over the Macmillan-Eisenhower talks—that is, everybody but Moscow.

LAWRENCE

For, unfortunately for them, the Soviets haven't been told just what the British and American governments will agree to or what formula they would accept that could solve the Berlin question or anything else.

Strange as it may seem to the Russians, the American and British officials do not feel that it is incumbent upon them to furnish Moscow with a transcript of what was said at Camp David.

So what has come out in the open can be regarded as just window dressing for everybody on the Western side, though, with respect to the Soviets, it becomes merely a demonstration of willingness to meet and negotiate.

★ ★ ★

The official Soviet news agency known as "Tass" naively laments that the Russians have not been let in on the secret conferences.

A United Press International dispatch from Moscow says the Soviets have told their press that, while President Eisenhower under "the pressure of world public opinion" did agree tentatively to "summit" talks, he cold-shouldered Macmillan's plan for "balancing" military forces in Europe.

The dispatch quotes "Tass" further as saying:

"Official statements by U. S. and British representatives show that the present talks have not led to the adoption of any definite decisions in almost all the remaining questions."

★ ★ ★

But no negotiator worth his salt would, in advance of a negotiation, shout from the housetops through the press of the world just what he is willing to accept.

Obviously the Prime Minister of Britain and the President of the United States exchanged views and discussed hypothetically all sorts of plans and ideas.

The Moscow government may have the erroneous impression that the foreign ministers' conference at Geneva on May 11 is to be merely a perfunctory meeting to arrange the agenda for the "summit" conference in July or August, but the United States doesn't see it that way.

★ ★ ★

Unless there is some real progress made at Geneva in May, it is just conceivable that there will be no "summit" conference.

This means that something substantial has to be agreed upon at the first meeting. This is important because, even if a stenographer from the Russian foreign office had been present to take down everything said at the Camp David conferences, there still would remain the big unanswered question of the age: Will Soviet Russia keep any written agreement she makes, and can her government be trusted?

There wouldn't be any need of a "summit" conference or any other kind of meeting at high level if there were mutual trust between Moscow and Washington comparable to the mutual trust that prevails between London and Washington.

It seems a hard point to get over to the Russians, but, if they ever made a substantial concession and showed evidence of keeping faith, it would do more to forward the cause of peace in Europe and elsewhere than all the publicity of a "summit" conference could ever accomplish.

The question of reduction of armaments or limitations of the size of armed forces or the policing of areas in central Europe by troops other than those of the local government concerned would yield to easy solution if there were mutual trust.

Conversely, no plan, no matter how brilliantly balanced on paper to give the impression of firmness, will be of any avail so long as distrust persists.

The plain truth is that fear exists on both sides. The Soviets think Allied bases and armed forces near their territory threaten them and that a surprise attack can come at any time from the West.

Similarly, the West is convinced that the behavior of the Soviet armies in the countries they have conquered, including East Germany, is that of a ruthless aggressor with no consideration for the rights of their own peoples or other peoples.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Whole Wheat Rich Source of Vitamins E, B Complex

From what I regard as the most authoritative textbook on the subject, The Vitamins in Medicine, by Franklin Bicknell, D.M., M.R.C.P., and Frederick Prescott, M.Sc., Ph.D., A.R.I.C., M.R.C.S., I quote:

"Whole Wheat Germ. This is undoubtedly the best method of giving vitamin E. All the tocopherols are present and also the vitamin B complex and many other valuable substances. The antioxidants in the germ give considerable protection to vitamin E against destruction by rancid fats during digestion. Further, the germ keeps excellently if a reliable preparation is used; germ obtained from mills, however, may become rancid in a couple of days.

DR. BRADY

"It is difficult to understand why wheat germ oil should ever be given in preference to whole wheat germ. It is certain the oil cannot contain anything not present in the parent germ, and it is equally certain that much of value may be lost—is indeed without doubt lost in as far as the vitamin B complex and minerals are concerned."

What these top authorities mean when they speak of "a reliable preparation" of wheat germ is not a particular product but wheat germ not more than two days old—that is, the wheat germ must be consumed in less than two days after the grinding of the wheat.

Fresh wheat germ is a real heart tonic because of its high content of vitamin B complex. It is the richest food source of vitamin B complex as well as the richest food source of vitamin E.

In the booklet CVD about heart and artery troubles, I recommend a pleasant vitamin B complex preparation as a vehicle for digitalis and then as a substitute for it, for poor souls who have been advised that they must take digitalis every day in order to stay alive.

Fresh (less than 2 days old) wheat germ and green leafy vegetables, particularly lettuce, are the only rich sources of vitamin E. Brown rice and ordinary oatmeal both contain the germ of the grain and so would be good sources of vitamin E if eaten daily.

As I would say, it is difficult to understand why one should bother himself about vitamin E, wheat germ oil or wheat germ as long as he has a peck of plain wheat in his pantry. For further particulars send me a stamped envelope bearing your address and ask for the free pamphlet Wheat to Eat.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"I suppose it is hard for a modern man to put money in the collection plate when all he has in his billfold is a bunch of credit cards."

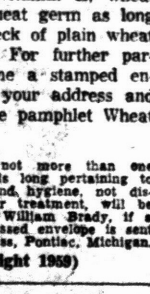

Case Records of a Psychologist:

What Do Your Dreams Mean?

Helene has recurring dreams that involve savages and spears. She wonders what Dr. Freud would say about them. So read this case carefully and scrapbook it with tomorrow's follow-up, for it gives you the facts about such sexual symbolism in dreams.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A-487: Helene D., aged 19, is a college coed who was in one of my psychology classes at Northwestern University.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I often have wild dreams," she confessed during an interview in my office.

"And I understand that Dr. Freud attached a lot of significance to dreams.

"So what do you suppose he would say was the meaning of my dreams. For example, I have one that is often repeated. It starts out with me swimming or lying on the beach in Hawaii or some other exotic place like that.

"Soon some savages rush out and start chasing me. They are bronze-skinned and really athletic types of men.

"I run as fast as I can. The leader has a long spear which he hurls at me.

★ ★ ★

"And it strikes me, but, oddly enough, it never seems to kill me or even hurt.

"Does this kind of dream have any significance, according to Dr. Freud?"

Dr. Freud has been unfairly criticized in America by people who failed to study him thoroughly.

They have said that Freud reduces all problems to sex and tries to read some kind of sexual connotation into everything.

But Dr. Freud admitted that self-preservation, including the desire for food, oxygen, health, etc., was the Number One force in mankind.

"But it doesn't cause many conflicts," he added, "whereas love or sex produces all sorts of neurotic conditions."

★ ★ ★

That's why Dr. Freud focussed primarily on sexual matters.

For example, you readers know that you can get a cup of coffee and a doughnut at any restaurant at almost any hour of the day or night, without a formal chaperone or an official introduction.

But many taboos and regulations have been wrapped around the erotic appetite, so you must obey curfew hours and be introduced and avoid illicit sampling of erotic matters, etc.

The erotic hunger ranks second to self-preservation, but in our modern moral society, we have erected many restrictions around it.

Certain words are thus deemed impolite in social groups and certainly pre-marital sexual affairs are bad and vetoed by all church, PTA and other responsible groups.

Many very virtuous folks, even in their imaginations, thus tend to veer away from contemplation of sexual matters.

But in our dreams there is a tendency for all of us to hark back to a basic unsatisfied hunger.

FOOD DREAMS

If we are starving or dieting rigidly, we may thus dream of Thanksgiving banquets.

★ ★ ★

If we are without water for 24 hours, we may dream of lakes or springs or ice cold beverages.

And we can visualize such desires without camouflaging the facts, for there is no social taboo erected against turkey or chicken or water.

But when a young person with an unsatisfied erotic hunger, dreams of its fulfillment, he (or she) may be conscience-stricken at facing the blunt facts.

★ ★ ★

So he disguises them in a neat symbolical manner to avoid twinges from conscience.

See tomorrow's follow-up of dream symbolism and sexual camouflage.

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Is the Whole World Going Completely to the Dogs?

It's a shame the way dogs run in Waterford. I came home from work and couldn't get out of my car in my own driveway. I have two small children and after working all day don't feel like standing guard outside so my children can get a little fresh air.

★ ★ ★

I'm told I'll be fined if I shoot a dog, but if the dog kills my children, all I can do is bury them. I like dogs but there's a place for them and that's home. The man in back of us has three beautiful dogs, and he's trained them to stay where they belong.

★ ★ ★

Let's get together and keep dogs at home.

Crescent Lake Road

My little four-year-old sister was nearly badly hurt or killed when a dog came up right by the door and jumped on her and started biting. Luckily a friend drove into the yard and ran the dog off. Another time a dog bit my brother while he was playing football and he had to have three shots and now he's scared to death of dogs. We can't even let our children outside without being right there with them. We should do something about this.

Dog Trouble

A pack of 12 dogs romp behind our house. Just this week we lost a young Brittany Spaniel worth $175 because of distemper he caught from another dog.

★ ★ ★

One of our neighbors has been warned to keep her dog confined, but nothing was done when she didn't do it. When her dog had distemper she did nothing, until he went into fits and then she just called the police to pick him up, which they did two days later. Meanwhile all other dogs were exposed.

★ ★ ★

It's my understanding that we can't afford another warden. Our evergreens are black from the strays and our yard is littered with cans, bottles, papers, garbage. Our subdivision is fast becoming a second dump. What are taxes for?

Mrs. Gary Moore

296 W. Hopkins

I'm getting sick of cleaning up after everybody's dogs. We've got a Michigan dog law and there's no reason why it can't be enforced in Waterford. I know many people who have dogs and think enough of them to keep them in their own yards. So if you want your dog, keep him out of my yard. It's for my children to play in, not a pack of dogs.

I read all this stuff about integration and wonder at the honesty of some writers. How about my people? I'm an Indian and my ancestors have had the biggest pushing around anybody ever had in the United States.

We've been herded and shoved around until we are almost professional gypsies at heart, and why not? Who was here first, anyway?

Does this great government grant any right to us at all? Some of my people who live on these wonderful "reservations" call them "concentration camps" and that's about what they are.

'I'd Like to Know Williams' System'

I wish Governor Williams would explain how he kept a $100 million deficit a secret from six million people until after election. I want to use his system. I bet seven bucks on the Lions last fall and lost and my wife found it out in eight days.

Another Clarifies Catholic Stand

The Catholic Church isn't interested in union of church and state. She wants to maintain independence and freedom to teach and preach and she's perfectly willing to cooperate with the state, each in its own sphere.

There's been as much criticism of Kennedy in the Catholic press as the secular. They took issue with his statement that nothing takes precedence over an office-holder's oath. An editorial states man's highest allegiance is to God.

At present we know of nothing in the Constitution which violates moral law, but sometimes Constitutions change. Certainly the present Supreme Court is trying to change it by making laws instead of interpreting them. The archbishop of Boston defended Kennedy, but only to the extent that he feels loyalty of Catholics shouldn't be questioned any more than other faiths.

Baghdad Pulls Out of Alliance

Pact Needs New Name

LONDON (AP) — The Baghdad Pact was in the market for a new name today following Iraq's withdrawal from the U.S.-supported anti-Communist alliance.

Premier Abdel Karim Kassem formally pulled his country out of the alliance Tuesday in a move seemingly designed to please both the pan-Arab followers of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and the Soviet bloc.

The alliance took its name from the Iraqi capital, where the pact was signed in 1955 by Iraq, Iran, Pakistan, Turkey and Britain. The other four governments and the United States already had written off Iraq as a military ally. Kassem had boycotted all pact activities since his revolutionists overthrew the pro-Western monarchy last July, and the alliance's headquarters are now in Ankara, the Turkish capital.

The first reaction from the United Arab Republic was one of disdain. The semi-official Middle East News Agency, repeating the old charge that the pact sought to destroy Arab nationalism, said this also was the aim of "Kassem's policy as well as the penetration of Communist imperialism into Iraq."

"Arabs who opposed the Baghdad Pact ever since its creation will today resist for the same reasons Communist influence and subordination," the U.A.R. agency declared.

Nasser has accused Kassem of joining the Communists in a campaign against the U.A.R. and Arab unity. Kassem, backed by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, has accused Nasser of fomenting the recent abortive army revolt in northern Iraq.

The Iraqi move raised doubt about the future of the British air base at Habaniyah, west of Baghdad. The RAF base of 600 men and a number of planes operated under the Baghdad Pact.

Diplomats said that Kassem, though publicly trying to ignore Nasser's attacks, may be feeling the pressure of the U.A.R. leader's pan-Arab movement. There was speculation that the Iraqi premier hoped to demonstrate to the Arab world that he was free of Western influence. But Kassem's communist backers in Baghdad and Moscow also have assailed the alliance with the West ever since its formation, and his withdrawal from it was certain to please them.

Kassem met Tuesday with Baghdad editors—who had led the criticism of the U.A.R. president—and ordered them to "forget Nasser" and not waste time replying to U.A.R. attacks.

★ ★ ★

"Within three years," he told the editors, "Iraq will be the most powerful nation in the Middle East."

The Iraqi premier insisted his revolutionary government was still adhering to a policy of positive neutrality.

Set Sclerosis Service

DETROIT (AP)—A consulting and diagnostic service for multiple sclerosis patients has been established at Wayne State University by a $20,000 grant from the Michigan chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. Multiple sclerosis is a disease of the central nervous system.

The long-tailed rooster is found only in Japan. It does not molt and its tail attains a length of 9 feet by the time it is 4 years old. Its snowy plumage was produced by years of experimentation in crossbreeding.

Couples Admit Errors, Switch Mates Calmly

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The Ratcliffs and the Muncys—or is it the Muncys and the Ratcliffs—have swapped spouses.

They were matched up wrong before, they decided. Now they hope they have it re-arranged just right.

★ ★ ★

Joe D. Ratcliff, 23, an auto mechanic, has married Gloria Jean Muncy, 25, a secretary. Bill L. Muncy, 25, a construction worker, has married Dolores Lorraine Ratcliff, 23, an office clerk.

The girls worked together in a Long Beach, Calif., office. The couples became acquainted at office parties.

★ ★ ★

"Early this year, we decided we were married to the wrong persons," Ratcliff said Tuesday. "We got together, sat down and worked this thing out."

The mothers got custody of the children in their divorce suits charging cruelty. The Muncys, married in 1951, have a daughter, Deborah, 5. The Ratcliffs, married in 1954, have two children, Jodee, 3, and Jeanne, 18 months.

★ ★ ★

The wives lived together in a Las Vegas motel to meet the six-week residence requirement.

Fifteen minutes after the divorces were granted, the couples—the new ones—bought marriage licenses and went their separate ways to re-marry.

★ ★ ★

They'll go back to Long Beach to live.

Asks Industrial Park Authorities for State

LANSING (AP) — Establishment of industrial park authorities would be permitted under a bill introduced in the House by Rep. Dominic Jacobetti Jr. (D-Negaunee).

The proposal was among those advocated by Gov. Williams in his suggested program to help the state's industrial climate.

The measure would allow municipalities to create industrial park authorities after approval of local voters.

The authorities could buy and develop land for industrial use and lease it to industries.

"The industrial park idea is really not too different from the shopping center idea," Jacobetti said. "The industrialist would find in an industrial park the advantages a housewife finds in a shopping center."

Leonard Jerome, grandfather of Sir Winston Churchill, was once a grocery clerk in Skaneateles, N.Y.

Bridge Tourney Forced Into Playoff for Trophy

SEATTLE (AP)—The team captained by Charles H. Goren, New York, forced a playoff for the Vanderbilt trophy of the National Spring Bridge Tournament today by beating the team headed by B. Jay Becker, New York.

★ ★ ★

The Goren team won the match by three international match points and thus handed the Becker group its first defeat since play for the American Contract Bridge League's top event began last week with 80 teams. The Goren group has also lost once.

★ ★ ★

Ahead by 2 IMPs at the halfway mark, Goren's team picked up another point in the last 18 hands.

★ ★ ★

The first 18 hands of the final round of play will begin at 1 p.m.

Gen. LeMay Praises U.S. Air Power

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gen. Curtis LeMay likens U.S. air power to a trap with many triggers and warns against "unwarranted loss of confidence in this insurance."

LeMay, vice chief of the Air Force, told a civic organization Tuesday night that another crisis will find the Air Force ready with a fleet of more than 1,000 jet bombers loaded with nuclear explosives and "aimed at the heart of the Communist empire from all directions."

Bradley Disaster Attorneys Meet

Six to Pool Efforts in Suits Against U.S. Steel Corp.

DETROIT (UPI) — Plans have been mapped by a proctor committee of attorneys representing survivors of the Bradley ship disaster to fight the U. S. Steel Corp., owners of the limestone carrier that was gulped up by Lake Michigan with a loss of 33 lives.

Six attorneys headed by Victor Hanson of Detroit met yesterday in Detroit. Hanson said he would go to Washington today to press for recovery of the bodies of some of the Bradley crew.

Hanson, Creighton Miller, former football great from Notre Dame, and S. Eldridge Sampliner of Cleveland are admiralty attorneys. Along with James Hathaway of Detroit and Mackinaw City, Donald Gillard of Alpena and Warren Kimmey of Albany, N.Y., they represent 16 claims against U.S. Steel.

"Instead of working separately," Sampliner said, "We're pooling our information and working as a committee similar to the one formed in the Andrea Doria and the S.S. Noronic ship disasters."

As of today, Hanson said more than $8 million in suits have been filed against the company. He said he expected the total would be over $25 million later.

The Federal government now spends more on the purchase of paper towels than it did on the whole Federal budget in George Washington's day.

Cost of Living Stays the Same

February Index to Show No Change as Prices Hover Near Record

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government was expected to report today that living costs in February remained unchanged—slightly below the all-time record high.

The Labor Department's consumer price index, considered one of the most reliable barometers of inflation, registered 123.8 in January.

This means it costs $12.38 to buy the same goods and services which cost $10 about 10 years ago.

The index has moved within a range of two-tenths of one per cent for the past seven months. This is regarded as unusually steady considering the successive monthly increases for more than a year before the price plateau was reached.

★ ★ ★

Last July the index hit its highest point ever — 123.9. It dropped to 123.7 in August and held steady for the next two months. It rose in November to the July level, dropped back to 123.7 in December and crept up one-tenth of one per cent in January.

In the past, weather has played a big part in determining living costs in February. A freezing spell in 1955 sent the price of orange juice soaring and the index moved up one-half of one per cent.

Government experts measure the change in the prices of 300 goods and services in cities and towns across the country to calculate the monthly figure.

The "market basket" figured in the index consists of those items bought by the average city wage-earner and includes articles ranging from baby food to whisky.

That's a Lot of Candy

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Retail Candy Store Institute estimated today that if all the candy eaten by Americans during Easter was laid end to end, it would make 15 round trips from Egg Harbor, Wis., to the Easter Islands — a distance of 149,930.5 miles.

Little Old Lady Stands Right Up to Three Toughs

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Lee Thompson, 72, a little woman barely five feet tall, stood up to three toughs yesterday.

The three robbers were beating up grocery owner Emanuel Mallilia when Mrs. Thompson came in to buy a loaf of bread.

Mrs. Thompson told police later she was "scared to death" but felt something had to be done.

"I grabbed hold of one man's arm," she recounted," and said 'What in the world are you doing to 'Manuel?'

"He just stared at me. Then he heard some other people coming and turned around and ran."

All three fled. The men got no loot. Mallilia was hospitalized for head cuts and a possible skull fracture.

Says Tibetan Revolt Spreads Over Nation

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The Tibetan revolt against Chinese Communist rule has spread throughout the mountain land, an Indian newspaper close to the Nehru government reported today.

Reports persisted fighting had subsided in the capital of Lhasa, with the Reds still in command. But the pro-government Hindustan Times said the rebellion had spread to all corners of Tibet and that the Dalai Lama was "not in Chinese hands."

There was no official confirmation of the Hindustan Times report.

The whereabouts of the 23-year-old Asian monarch, worshipped by Tibetans as the reincarnation of Buddha, and his role in the rebellion still were vague.

Steal Adding Machine From Building Supply Co.

The Friendship Building Supply Co., at 4169 Dixie Hwy., Waterford Township, was broken into sometime last night and a $300 electric adding machine stolen, according to Waterford Township police.

Entrance was gained by breaking a pane of glass in the rear office of the one-story frame building.

The supply company is owned by Donald Huges of Clarkston.

Bill Curbing Gas Signs Criticized

Senators Told to Cut Size of Own Posters Before Bossing Others

LANSING (AP) — If legislators are going to regulate gasoline dealers' price signs, Sen. Harry Litowich says they ought to rule their own political posters out of store windows and off poles and fences.

"Do unto others as you have them do unto you," counseled the Benton Harbor Republican yesterday in Senate debate.

Litowich was opposing a bill to limit the price placards to one foot square size. He said it apparently was aimed at small, independent dealers who sell gas at a discount.

Supporters said the measure, backed by the Michigan Retail Gasoline Dealers Assn., sought to eliminate misleading advertising practices and would help eliminate gasoline price wars.

Opponents succeeded in attaching an amendment to strike out the proposed limitations on the size of price signs that could be displayed. Further discussion was put off until today after haggling that lasted an hour.

Sen. Raymond D. Dzendzel (D-Detroit), a supporter of the bill, said many people are fooled by "gimmick" service station signs. Lured to the gas pump, they find that a 25-cents come-on applied to the price of cigarettes rather than a gallon of gasoline, he said.

Firecrackers Explode, Kill Farmer in Field

PAHOKEE, Fla. (AP)—A farmhand scaring blackbirds from a cornfield with powerful firecrackers was killed Tuesday when a box of "giant salutes" exploded under his arm.

Deputy sheriff Frank O'Connell said Lawson Wilkes lived about five minutes after the blast. A spark from Wilkes' pipe apparently blew into the box, setting off all the explosives at once.

Wilkes was walking down rows of corn ready for harvest. He carried the box of firecrackers under his am, lighting them one by one from his pipe and hurling them around the field.

Roz Russell Sues U.S. for $15,476 Tax Excess

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Rosalind Russell is suing to recover $15,476 which she says the government collected in overpaid taxes.

She contended in her suit, filed Tuesday, that maintaining residences in both California and New York was a legitimate business expense in 1953. She was appearing at the time in the Broadway stage production, "Wonderful Town."

Her taxable income that year was $275,000, she said.

New York City Seeking Statehood

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City is looking into the possibility of seceding from New York and seeking statehood.

The suggestion that the city might become a sovereign state caused the state Senate to rock with laughter. But the city fathers maintained they weren't just whistling "Dixie."

★ ★ ★

Demtnds for separation of the city from the rest of the state go back almost 100 years. The first was made by Mayor Fernando Wood in 1861. Since then bills calling for secession have been introduced into the Legislature many times.

How to do it legally has always been a question.

A move calling for a committee to study the possibility was introduced in the City Council Tuesday, and referred to the Rules Committee for study.

★ ★ ★

The move came in the wake of a bitter fight between the city and the state over money. The city government, which is Democratic, said it must have new taxes this year to balance its budget. Permission was needed from the Legislature, which is Republican.

The city leaders claimed they had to go "hat in hand" to Albany. There, they said, they found New York City treated like an "unwanted stepchild." They didn't get all the taxing power they wanted.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner's immediate response was to lop 32 million dollars off the budget, announcing that the pinch would be felt by 80,000 city employes who would get smaller pay raises, or none at all.

The mayor's austerity program brought a wave of protest from city employes. Some 9,000 of the city's teachers threatened mass resignations. Other city employes scheduled a one-day protest stoppage — 30,000 strong — next Tuesday. Later they hinted they might stay out longer.

★ ★ ★

At Albany, the state Senate howled with laughter when a resolution was introduced to let New York City secede.

The move called for a state constitutional amendment to create "South New York" (New York City) and "North New York" (the rest of the state).

The leading rebel was Joseph Zaretzki, leader of the minority Senate Democrats. He repeated a frequent city complaint, that the city is often short-changed in the matter of state aid.

★ ★ ★

In a voice vote, Republican senators whimsically added their voices to those of their Democratic colleagues in a thunderous "aye." One lone "no" voice was faintly heard.

There was a hush while the body waited for Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson, presiding officer and a Republican, to deal with the situation. He smiled and blandly ruled "The amendment is defeated."

But there was no whimsy in the secession resolution offered in the City Council. It came from Joseph T. Sharkey, Democratic majority leader, and 10 other Democratic councilmen.

★ ★ ★

The resolution calls for a committee to be set up to study "the possibility and legality of New York City seceding from the state of New York for the purpose of becoming a sovereign state."

★ ★ ★

The measure was introduced with much fist-shaking in the direction of Albany. Sharkey, who comes from Brooklyn, denounced what he called the "vicious attitude" of Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and the Legislature in imposing "economic slavery" on the city.

Propose Special Group to Study Michigan Aged

LANSING (AP) — A special committee to study problems of the aging in Michigan has been proposed by Sens. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson) and Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids).

Their resolution asks creation of a five-member Senate committee to recommend to the 1960 Legislature a program to aid the aging.

Another resolution proposed by Greene and Sen. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to approve competitive air service from Michigan to Alaska and the Orient.

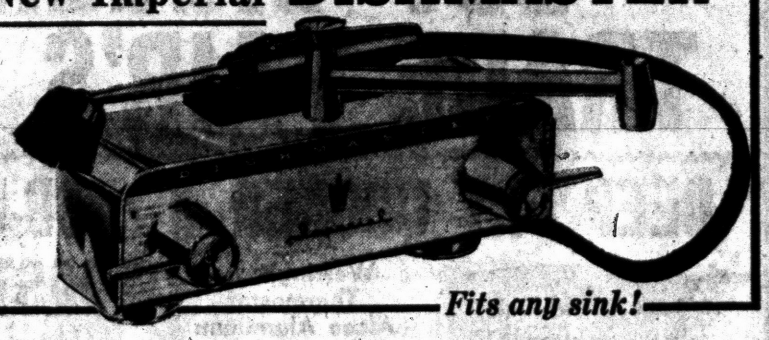

The resolution said Pan American World Airways had applied for permission to institute direct service from Detroit to Alaska and to Japan and the Far East, making Detroit only 14 hours distance from Tokyo.

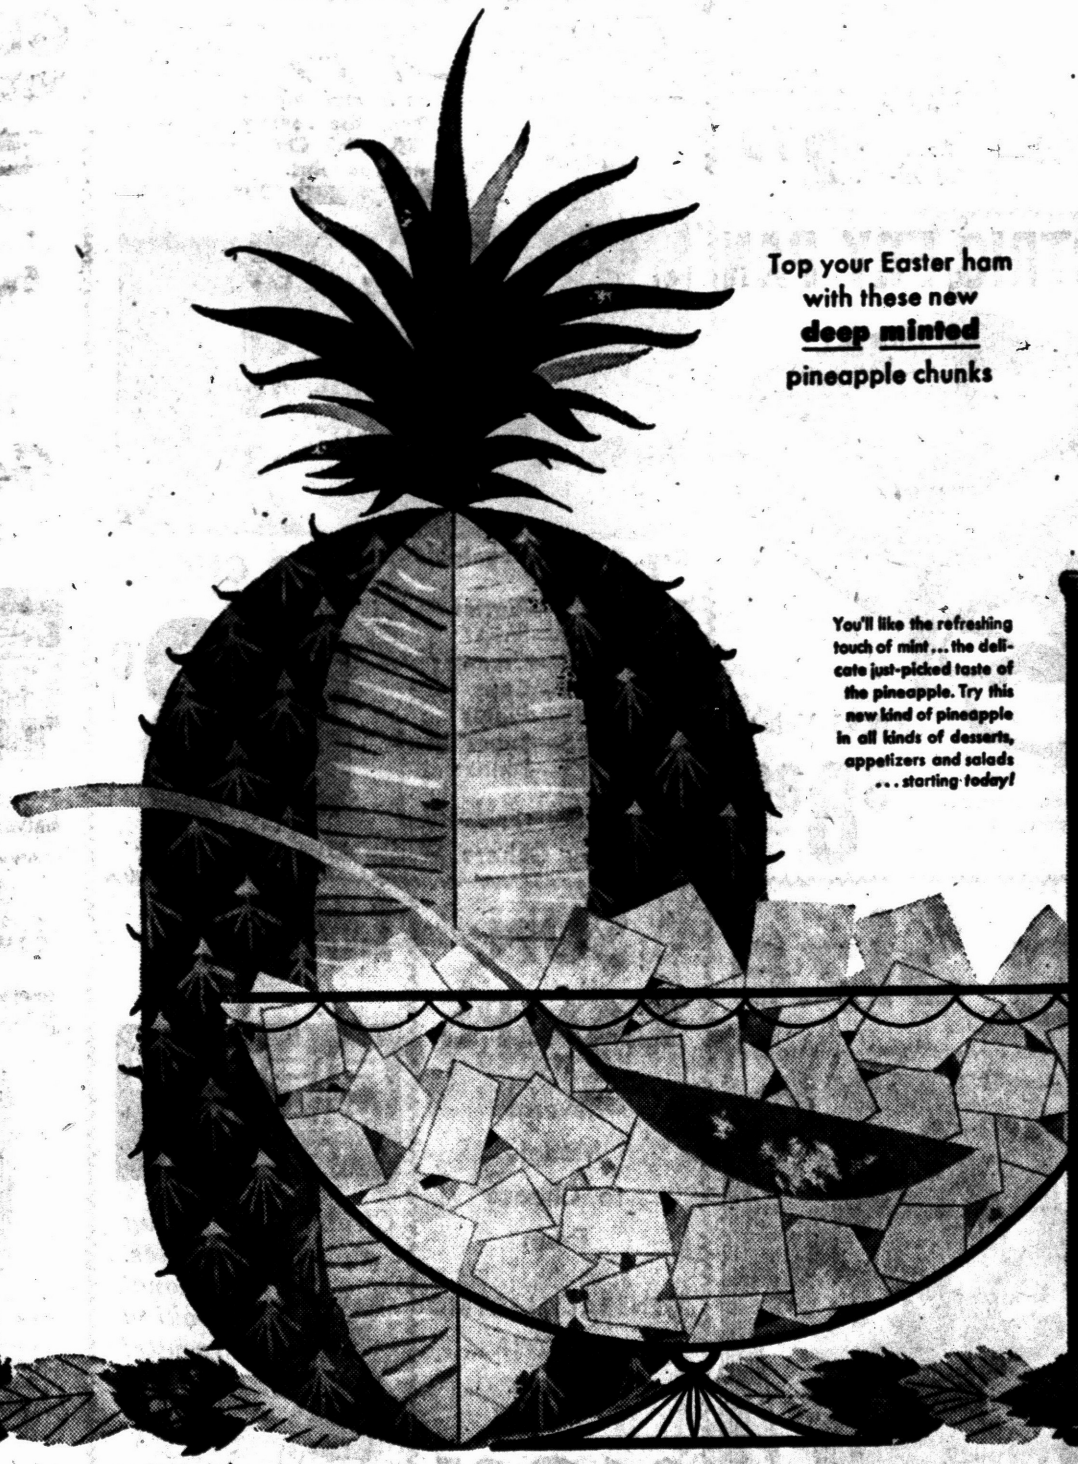

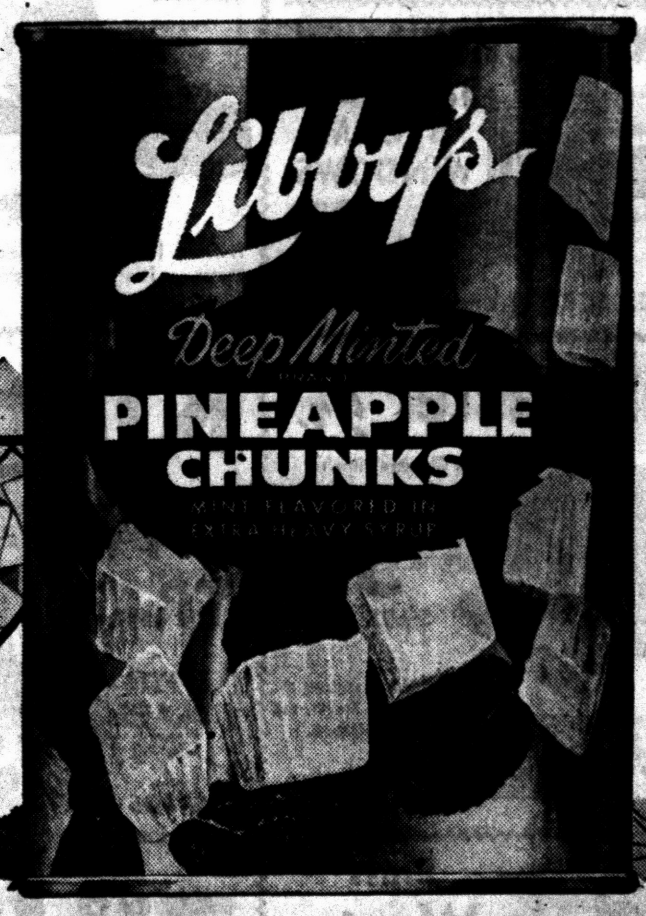

Stinking Example

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — A recent issue of the "Ohio Penitentiary News," publication of the inmates at the state prison here, carried this counsel: "If criticism had any real power, the skunk would be extinct by now."

$100,000 Couldn't Stop His Desire to Pull Burglaries

SEATTLE (AP) — "If I had $100,000, I'd still pull burglaries," a sallow-faced youth said Tuesday as he told how he burgled more than 100 Seattle homes after throwing rocks through the windows.

"It just sort of came natural. I used to like to throw baseballs," Walter E. Kinell, 22, told newsmen and police.

★ ★ ★

"I get a big thrill out of it," he said. "I like the stealth and the dark. It could easy be 160 places."

Kinell was arrested last November and admitted 103 burglaries. Because he had no prior record, sentencing was deferred for three years.

Kinnell was arrested Monday night after a burglary which followed his pattern.

Byrd Urges Ike Veto Dem Bills

Spending Plans Would Unbalance Budget, Up National Debt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) said today he has urged President Eisenhower to veto Democratic-sponsored spending bills and take his fight for a balanced budget to the country.

★ ★ ★

Byrd, who heads the Senate Finance Committee, said he had pledged his active support for an all-out fight to keep income and expenditures in balance in the fiscal year beginning July 1. He conferred with Eisenhower at the White House.

"If the country doesn't support the President's position, I'm afraid we may have a deficit that runs as high as six billion dollars," Byrd said in an interview.

Eisenhower has proposed a 77-billion-dollar budget, precariously balanced on the assumption that Congress will provide about a billion dollars in new revenues by increasing gasoline taxes and postal rates.

★ ★ ★

The Democratic-controlled Congress already has indicated that it will not act to increase these revenues. It has under consideration housing, airport aid and area redevelopment bills that would breach Eisenhower's spending ceiling even if no increase were made in defense outlays.

Byrd said he told Eisenhower he believes vetoes on some, if not all, of these measures would be upheld in the Senate.

Construction to Begin on Monastery in State

PETOSKEY (AP) — A $350,000 Sacramentine monastery will be started at Conway as soon as weather permits, Mother Mary Augustine of the Sacramentine Order said today.

★ ★ ★

The new home will have capacity for 30 sisters and 40 private rooms for retreatants overlooking Crooked Lake. A chapel will be added later.

The Sacramentine Order, established in France in 1639 for perpetual adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, has only two monasteries in the United States—one in Yonkers, N.Y., the other in Petoskey.

Government Aids Can Be Supplemented

What's Your $$ Plan for Old Age?

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—What are you going to live on when you're old?

Even some of the rock 'n' roll generation may think about that once in a while. And the U.S. Supreme Court's decision on variable annuities brings up today all the many—and competing—forms of retirement income that are available to Americans.

A rock 'n' roller is likely to dismiss the question of cash in old age by saying the government will take care of it. He means old age pensions, and all the other benefits that federal and state governments hand out these days.

Workers also either have or hope for some form of retirement pension—a matter for negotiation between themselves and their bosses—and also dependent in some cases on the continuing existence of the company for which they work. Many civil servants have similar pension plans. Some unions have funds for aiding their retired members.

Then you come to the list of income which an individual provides for himself entirely on his own. These forms compete with each other for the individual's savings. This is one reason the variable annuity was brought before the U.S. Supreme Court.

In a 5-4 ruling Monday the court held that the Securities and Exchange Commission should have jurisdiction over variable annuity contracts. In the past they were subject to regulation only by state insurance authorities.

The usual type of annuity as sold by insurance companies provides for a fixed return in dollars, starting at a time and continuing over a period set forth in the contract.

The variable annuity offers payment in dollar amounts that go up and down in line with market value of the corporate stocks into which the insurance company has put the reserve funds involved. The argument is that stock prices will go up when the cost of living rises and that thus the annuity holder will have a fairly stable standard of living.

★ ★ ★

Many insurance officials—who don't like the variable kind—challenge this argument. They say the stock market is no reliable barometer of inflation, nor is continuing inflation as inevitable as some contend. Also they don't like the competition which variable annuities might give the standard kind which these companies propose to sell only.

There are forms of insurance besides annuities that have retirement pay features.

Another competitor is the mutual fund. Holders of this form of security also have their returns tied to the investing skill of the fund's management and to some extent to the rise and fall of the market value of such investments.

Dealers in stocks and bonds, and the exchanges on which they trade, also tend to look upon the variable annuity as a competitor. Many persons buy stocks and bonds with the aim of assuring an income in old age, either through dividends or capital gains.

Dealers and exchange officials naturally prefer that individuals buy stocks through them rather than through insurance companies. And they hold that if insurance companies do enter this field they should be subject to the same regulation—through the Securities and Exchange Commission—as are the security dealers or those floating new securities.

Other ways individuals use to put money away for old age include: U.S. savings bonds, bank accounts, and bank trust funds (which also buy and sell stocks and bonds).

Solons Cautious on Berlin Talks

'Have to Inch Along,' 'Must Allay Suspicions,' Are Among Comments

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Influential senators expressed cautious optimism today that some agreement on Berlin can be reached at forthcoming foreign minister and summit conferences with the Soviets.

There was a general feeling among five veteran members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, however, that negotiations with the Soviets will prove to be an inch-by-inch process and may require many months to produce tangible results.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) said the West ought not to expect any great accomplishments from any single meeting with the Soviets, even at the summit.

"We are going to have to inch along toward better relations and it may take several summit meetings to gain any real agreement," Humphrey said.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) said in a separate interview that Americans ought not to get their hopes too high.

★ ★ ★

"All our problems are not going to be settled by either a foreign minister or summit conference," he said. "It may take years before the suspicions between the East and the West are allayed sufficiently to bring about any really substantial agreements."

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) said that if the West believes it can accept the premise that the Soviets don't want war, then there may be increased hope of a settlement.

★ ★ ★

"We have to take into consideration also the vital question of whether the Kremlin would keep any agreements that might be made," he said. "Any of these are going to have to contain some advantages for both sides to be effective."

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said the success or failure of efforts to reach agreement depends largely on the Soviets.

"If the Soviets are sincere about negotiating, that fact should show up quickly at the foreign ministers meeting," he said.

★ ★ ★

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala) said he thinks Soviet Prime Minister Nikita Khrushchev may be genuinely uneasy about the Soviet position in East Germany and may be willing to make some concessions to get rid of responsibilities there.

Swift, Smooth Jet Ride a Real Travel Luxury

NEW YORK (UPI)—Balance a cigarette on its filter tip on a table in a new jet airline right after takeoff in San Francisco and three hours and 44 minutes later when you whoosh into Chicago it still will be standing on end.

Comparing the Boeing 707 jet to piston-driven airliners in service on most routes today is like matching a Mercedes Benz 300SL with a Model T.

On American Airline's inaugural flight from San Francisco to New York with a stop at Chicago, the 707 with 106 passengers and a crew of nine aboard cruised serenely at speeds up to 615 miles an hour. I was one of the passengers.

On takeoff, the four jet engines scream like a contralto with her toe caught in a wringer—but once she hits 30,000 feet the 707 is incredibly quiet.

The new jets fly so fast that on American's inaugural there was an argument among some passengers whether the plane was flying over the Sierras or the Rockies. At 30,000 feet it is hard to tell whether you're over Reno, Nev., or Grand Junction, Colo.

Although a 707 represents an investment of five million dollars or so, an occasional bug crops up.

In San Francisco, the takeoff was delayed for one hour because a little 25-horsepower water pump refused to function. And when that was fixed, the big bird sat forlornly on the ramp for another 45 minutes because a taillight burned out.

For comfort, it's hard to beat the jet.

Featuring colors like pumpkin, ice blue and soft pastels, it is easy on the eyes. Liberal use of fiber glass insulation blocks out all but the tiniest bit of sound.

The seats are roomy—four across in first class, six across in the tourist section aft. You have all the room you need to stretch out and relax.

The stewardesses probably have the toughest job on the 707s.

Serving cocktails and 106 filet mignons in three hours and a half between San Francisco and Chicago is quite a chore.

And you barely have time to sniff a brandy on the one hour and 25 minutes run from Chicago to Idlewild.

Lauren Bacall to Hire Bodyguard for Children

LONDON (AP) — Theft of her jewels has prompted American actress Lauren Bacall to hire a guard for her two children.

★ ★ ★

The attractive widow of actor Humphrey Bogart became worried about the safety of the youngsters — Stephen, 10, and Lesley, 6 — after her apartment was entered last week and $14,000 worth of jewels stolen.

★ ★ ★

The gems were recovered but no arrests have been made.

"She feels she needs a man about the house," said Miss Bacall's maid.

Airport Shelter Cares for Lions, Snakes, Gorillas

NEW YORK (AP) — A beer-drinking lion, elephants, snakes, gorillas, penguins, skunks (descented), eagles, anteaters, and unruly monkeys.

These are only some of the 22,500 assorted animals that have found a temporary home at the "animalport" at Idlewild Airport since it was established 13 months ago.

★ ★ ★

The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals operates the quarters to shelter animals from overseas until their owners can pick them up.

More than half the animals cared for were monkeys, most of which went to scientific institutions or to the manufacture of Salk vaccine.

★ ★ ★

Second to monkeys were dogs—with 90 per cent of them belonging to American servicemen.

The beer-drinking lion belonged to servicemen. It was the mascot of a U.S. Army unit in Germany.

The $300,000 "animalport" has a clinic and operating table, a dietary kitchen with a freezer and electric stove, kennels, stalls, paddock and exercise runs.

★ ★ ★

Special diet items for the guests include live worms, rolled oats, raw meat, bamboo shoots and raisins.

Rates run from 25 cents a day for a chicken to $7 for a large animal.

U.S. production of acetylsalicylic acid (better known as aspirin) reached an all-time high of 20 million pounds in 1958, according to the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Neck Injuries Common in Rear-End Crashes

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — "Clasp your hands behind your neck and hold tight" is the best way to escape injury in a rear-end auto collision, according to Dr. Earl F. Seeliger, a Minneapolis chiropractor.

Seeliger said statistics show that more than 50 per cent of rear-end collisions result in injuries caused by sudden forward movements which snap the neck back.

Seeliger said injuries of this kind are especially dangerous because the victim often isn't conscious he's been hurt until several hours later.

Medicine Increases Hemophilia Cases

ANN ARBOR (AP) — An increase in the number of hemophilia patients in the future as a by-product of scientific progress has been predicted by a North Carolina pathologist.

★ ★ ★

Dr. John B. Graham of the University of North Carolina said modern medical treatment is able to prolong the life of hemophiliacs so that the occurence of the disease will be increased in the long run.

Hemophiliacs, persons who are afflicted by uncontrolled bleeding, generally have fewer children than average people, Graham said.

★ ★ ★

He told a University of Michigan Medical Center student group that science has produced new information on how hemophilia is inherited and is aiding diagnosis and treatment of the disease.

Unions, Now Major Economic Powers, Plan to Boost Their Influence

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) —Silently and without fanfare, America's labor unions have become a major nationwide economic power.

And union leaders are quietly mapping plans for a widespread expansion of union influence in the money and investment markets of the United States.

The AFL-CIO all for labor representation in the Federal Reserve System is only one aspect of labor's aims.

Major U.S. international unions already control—directly and indirectly—the investment of over five billion dollars. This includes union, pension and welfare funds.

Already, three international unions combined—ladies' garment, clothing and mine workers—have control over the investment of over a billion dollars in funds.

★ ★ ★

Several international unions — with the United Auto Workers in the van—are already moving toward a bigger say in the investment — now total an estimated welfare funds.

Private pension and welfare funds—mostly handled by management — now total an estimated 30 million dollars. They're expected to hit 70 billion dollars in less than six years.

Unions say in how the bulk of these funds are invested could have a tremendous effect on the future of the American economy.

It could give a new shape to the geographical pattern of economic development.

It could determine what type of industries flourish and which lag.

It could affect the ups and downs of American business generally.

★ ★ ★

What exactly these effects would be—good, bad or indifferent —no one yet knows.

There is, however, considerable about the effects of direct or indirect control by men—however well intentioned—who are unused to managing large sums of money.

Some union leaders are already developing pretty definite ideas of how these funds should be invested.

One United Auto Workers official said, "We're going to begin a drive now to get more of the pension money used where it will help our members."

The UAW wants pension funds invested in area redevelopment in communities in which auto union members live. They want more funds loaned for building homes for workers, for establishing new industries in which the three hundred to four hundred thousand permanently unemployed auto workers can find new jobs.

SYMBOLIC OF THE MONEY labor unions have invested in pension funds, stocks and real estate is the handsome Washington headquarters of the AFL-CIO.

The auto pension funds now are controlled by management. UAW men say they want management to keep on handling and investing the funds. They just want to have a say in influencing where this investing is done.

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers has started on a nationwide program to invest 15 million dollars a year in home loans. Their major aim: to help the construction industry keep busy so that more electrical workers will be employed.

The Taft-Hartley Law forbids unions from stepping in now to take over control of funds. A few unions acquired control before Taft-Hartley. Other unions have obtained "real" control because management representatives on the pension boards don't operate forcefully, while labor representatives do.

In still other pension boards the "neutral" or "public" member votes regularly with labor. But as of now, at least 80 per cent of the funds are controlled by management. It is in this 80 per cent that unions, such as the UAW, are looking for more influence.

In general, union influence in the funds will follow the UAW pattern—more money for housing, for construction and for area development generally, some in attracting new industries.

But a few unions are putting union funds, or union-managed pension and welfare funds into common and preferred stocks and bonds of utilities and private industry. Some unions are even dipping their toes into banks. Unions have long owned insurance companies.

John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers owns the National Bank of Washington, D. C., Unions own banks in Chicago, New York, Kansas City and in Newark. Unions recently have been investing in Washington, D. C., office buildings.

The United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers International is in the process of investing $300,000 in a rescue operation that will give it control of the Merrimac Hat Corp., Amesbury, Mass., and save the jobs of 325 union workers.

Some union leaders are worried about this gradual union interest in the investment of large sums of money. They want unions to continue as in the past, investing their funds in government bonds. They fear the change will lead to conflicts of interest.

What happens, for instance, if one union strikes a company in which another union has large investments?

(Next: The boom in new, stiff wage boosts for 1959.)

Handwriting Still Elicits Interest

FORT MADISON, Iowa (UPI)—A booklet on the supposedly lost art of handwriting has proved so popular among parents, teachers and children that it's gone into a sixth printing.

The brochure, entitled "Sure, I Want to be a Better Writer," was developed in 1957 for the Sheaffer Pen Co. by Wesley E. Scott, Leon Rubin and Matthew M. Jasner, Philadelphia educators who designed their city's remedial handwriting program for high schools.

In the past 18 months, more than a million copies have been requested. About 35 per cent of the requests are from teachers, but about 200,000 youngsters of grade and high school age wrote in for the booklet last year.

'Bank Thieves' Taken Seriously

No One Laughs Now

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two little boys, who invaded a branch of the world's largest bank with a holdup note, hoped to be cleared of attempted robbery charges today.

Little Dan McKay, 9, and Big Danny Husk, 13, school boys on Easter vacation, said it was all just a prank to get some play money.

Trouble is, officials of the Bank of America—the world's largest—took them seriously. And a dragnet of 15 policemen and FBI agents took the bank seriously.

So, when the youngsters returned home from a movie, they were arrested and turned over to the San Francisco Youth Guidance Center. The charge: attempted bank robbery.

★ ★ ★

"They cried when we surrounded them," said Inspector William Porter.

Big Dan's mother, Mrs. Wilma Husk, said "The boys meant no harm, although they shouldn't have done it.

"Danny has never been in any trouble," she said. "He hasn't even been absent from school without my knowing of it. I gave him a dollar to go to the movie."

En route to the movie the boys stopped at the Bank of America Mission branch. The bank had issued some play money as a promotion campaign. The boys said they had lost theirs and wanted more.

Little Dan, cleanly dressed in a sweater, jeans and tennis shoes, marched to the teller's window. He solemnly placed a slip of paper on the counter. It said in Big Dan's handwriting "Put $100 in sack or we'll blow up the bank. Dan Husk."

"Who gave you this?" demanded Filamine Miller, the teller.

Little Dan fidgeted and pointed to his buddy. Miss Miller scolded them and said "Get out of here." Big Dan said he told her it was a joke and apologized. The boys left.

Miss Miller reported the incident to J. C. Bonzani, branch manager, who called police. They traced the Husk boy's home address through his school records.

★ ★ ★

"Three policemen barged into the house," said Mrs. Husk. "I was still out shopping and Danny wasn't home yet, but Mrs. Tessie Robbles (a guest) said the officers were very rude. They searched the house, but they didn't show Mrs. Robbles any papers."

"When they got Danny and the McKay boy, the kids were scared stiff. Danny kept telling me: 'Mama, they don't believe me and we're telling the truth'."

Little Dan's father, Rufus McKay, a service station employe, said his 9-year-old—one of six children—is "full of mischief" but hadn't been in any real trouble. He said he planned to discipline the lad regardless of what juvenile authorities do.

Scooter Drivers Must Be 16, Bill Declares

LANSING (AP) — A bill to ban 14- and 15-year-old motor scooter drivers from streets and highways breezed through the House yesterday 83-13.

The measure was steered to the Senate, where it died last year.

If enacted, the bill would restore the minimum 16-year-old age limit on scooter drivers. It also would limit the number of riders to one at a time.

Atlantic City Accepts Casual Wear for Women

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP—Women can wear short shorts, tight-fitting dungarees or toreador pants on the Atlantic City boardwalk, says the City Commission.

The Women's Chamber of Commerce had complained that the dress required on the boardwalk wasn't conservative enough.

The commission ruled Tuesday that casual dress has been accepted throughout the country and the city will just have to go along.

T. Roosevelt, Dewey Began at Columbia U

NEW YORK (UPI) — Columbia University reports proudly that four national figures embarked on their public careers while still students at Columbia.

Theodore Roosevelt was elected to the New York State legislature in the early 1880s while attending the Columbia School of Law.

Municipal planning coordinator Robert Moses was working on his Ph.D. when he entered public service in 1913.

Thomas E. Dewey became a Republican ward captain before graduating from the Law School in 1925.

And James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary, began his journalistic career as a student newspaper correspondent at Columbia.

Describes Future Rockets

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Saturn and Nova, two enormous rockets reportedly in the U.S. space future, were described today in a leading rocket journal.

★ ★ ★

Nova, the most powerful of the two, will weigh some 2,250 tons, reported Astronautics, journal of the American Rocket Society.

The five stages of Nova would churn up a total of 7,600,000 pounds of thrust, compared to only 370,000 for the intercontinental ballistic missile, Atlas.

★ ★ ★

Saturn, called Juno V by the U.S. Army, will use eight current engines clustered in a first stage to turn out 1,200,000 pounds of thrust, the April issue of the journal said.

The second stage of Saturn would use the large engine from the Titan intercontinental ballistic missile. It creates 300,000 pounds of thrust. Smaller engines make up the latter two stages.

Nova's first stage is a cluster of four engines turning out a total of 6 million pounds of thrust. A single engine makes up the second stage of 1½ million pounds of thrust. Smaller engines make up the later stages.

Both of these mammoth space vehicles are reportedly part of a 2-billion-dollar rocket program forecast by T. Keith Glenna, director of the National Space and Aeronautics Administration.

Over 100,000,000 people, 82 per cent of all people 12 years of age and over, read a newspaper on an average day. Only a small number of these people could be reached with any TV, radio or magazine ad.

More Is Spent on Repair Work

Smaller Income Portion Goes for Essentials as Living Standard Rises

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans are spending more to repair their autos and appliances and relatively less on food, clothing, shoes and alcoholic beverages than they have in the past.

Those are some findings in a special analysis of incomes and consumption issued by the Commerce Department.

Economists said the drop in the proportion of each consumption dollar spent on essentials, and the corresponding increase in other outlays reflected a rising standard of living.

Last year, for example, repair and maintenance bills for cars, radios, TV sets, appliances and furnishings came to a national total of more than $5,500,000,000, the department said. This was more than double the corresponding total a decade ago. It also was considerably greater than the rise in incomes.

Compared to take-home pay, expenditures on alcoholic beverages dropped steadily from 4.7 per cent in 1929 to 3 per cent in 1957.

Food outlays dipped from 23.5 cents per dollar to 21.8 while spending for clothing and shoes dropped from 11.3 to 7.9.

In 1958, the study said, outlays for food, clothing and housing took 50 cents of every dollar spent for goods and services. In the 1930s it was about 55 cents and almost 60 cents in the war years when durable goods were in short supply.

Chief Nurse Here Takes Tri-County League Post

Helen Harper, director of nursing service at Pontiac General Hospital, has accepted an interim appointment to the board of directors of the Detroit and Tri-County League for Nursing, filling a vacancy until the end of the year.

The organization is affiliated with the National League for Nursing and helps promote service in southeastern Michigan.

Canada exported nearly 280,000 head of cattle to the United States during the first seven months of this year, more than five times the figure for the like period of 1957.

Doesn't Think She's Too Young to Play Mother of Five

U.N. Diplomat Myrna Loy to Do TV Spectacular

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—"You've seen her in many Vitaphone pictures—this lady known as Loy. . .

"You've seen her as a half-caste charmer of the South Seas, as an East Indian dancing girl, as a desert harem beauty. Her snaky lure is more exotic than a composite of all the imported foreign actresses. This (dear reader) is Myrna Loy of Hollywood, who started life as Myrna Williams in Helena, Mont.

"She is 101 per cent American girl!"

★ ★ ★

This was written in 1929 — a year that few people, besides Miss Loy, can look back on with pleasant nostalgia. Most folks, at the end of that year, had had it. Little 101-per cent Myrna, then 23 years old, was only beginning to have at it.

"I was lucky, really," she recalled wistfully.

"In those days, the so-called leading lady was always a blonde. She had what you'd call 'regular' features, I guess. There was something about my face — I don't know, it was different. So I was playing character parts from the age of 17 on. I was never an ingenue, never in my whole life."

Miss Loy, today, looks more "ingenue" than she did 30 years ago. Her hair is short and fluffy and much the color of pink cotton candy. Her figure is still fashionably skeletal if not snaky. The freckles, which they pai.ed out in her exotic period, have reappeared in areas where other middle-aged women have wrinkles and lines.

Only an intangible reticence in her manner, and a certain gravity of expression, gives away the fact that four unsuccessful marriages have transformed her from glamor girl to sensitive woman.

Miss Loy is in rehearsal currently for a meaty role as the mother of five children in the upcoming (April 26) CBS-TV spectacular "Meet Me in St. Louis." In all honesty, we remarked that she looks too young today to play the mother of twenty-ish aged offspring.

"Thank you," she said quietly, without smiling. "But I think I am old enough."

The two-hour spectacular may seem to some viewers to mark a sort of comeback for Myrna Loy.

"It's an illusion," she said. "For years, since I began to do some work for the United Nations, people have had me 'retired.' Columnists assume that I have gone into the diplomatic world, and left the entertainment world forever.

"That's all wrong. I love working with the U. N., but I never dreamed of retiring from films.

"And it's funny — in the U. N., they get the impression that I am retiring from the diplomatic field every time I make a film. A Chinese delegate, who read that I was taking this role, said, 'Oh, Miss Loy, I hear you're leaving us.' But I never dreamed of retiring from that work, either."

★ ★ ★

As a member of the American Association for the U. N. since its inception, and a diligent worker for UNESCO, Myrna Loy has traveled the world. She has attended five international conferences, and contributed her services whenever needed.

"The United Nations," she says somberly, "is one of those things that, once you become involved with, you never lose a passion for.

"Acting? It gets you and holds you the same way."

State Congressman to Tour in Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain (R-Mich) will be among nine members of the House Armed Services Committee scheduled to take off Thursday on a 10-day tour of Army activities in Europe.

An Army spokesman described the trip as the standard orientation visit arranged at the beginning of each new Congress for newly appointed members of the committee.

The Congressmen are scheduled to arrive in Paris Friday, after a short stop and briefing in Argentia, Newfoundland. After briefings at NATO headquarters near Paris, they continue to Frankfurt, Heidelberg, Stuttgart, Nuernberg, the East German border and finally West Berlin. They are scheduled to return to the United States from Berlin April 5.

Disabling Injuries to State Workers Dip

LANSING (AP) — The state Labor Department reports preliminary figures indicate that disabling injuries suffered by workers in Michigan manufacturing plants last year dipped to the lowest point on record.

In 1958 there were 7.3 disabling injuries for each million employe-hours worked. On a percentage basic, disabling injuries dropped about 5 per cent from 1957.

Highest injury frequency rates were reported in the lumber and basic timber industry (31.4) and leather tanning and finishing (30.6). Fabricated textile products listed the lowest rate (2.0).

While disabling injuries were decreasing, compensable—but not disabling—injuries rose slightly from the 1957 level.

More than 99.8 per cent of General Motors employes in the United States and Canada in 1958 enjoyed a full year without missing work as a result of an on-the-job accident or occupational illness, the National Safety Council announced.

More than 60,000 people come and go each month on the four air lines that serve Las Vegas.

Bypassed Michigan Towns Are Happy Despite Their Earlier Fears

By A. F. MAHAN JR.

MASON (AP) — If the main highways haven't already bypassed your town, chances are they will soon—wherever you live.

All states are sharing in the 37 billion dollars earmarked for rebuilding the nation's interstate highway system. The law says these roads must bypass all towns.

What effect will the bypasses have?

That question has scared a lot of people, especially those running motels, restaurants and gas stations along the old routes. It also has scared main street where the highways used to run.

On the other hand, bypasses have made a lot of people happy—those who want to get somewhere in a hurry, those who have lost the rumbling traffic from their street and those with suddenly valuable land around the super highway interchange.

★ ★ ★

Among the happy ones is Nelson Brown, editor of the Ingham County News, whose town of Mason (pop. 3,514) has been bypassed for four years.

Admittedly he's "a little prejudiced, because U. S. 127 used to come right by my front door and I had trouble keeping plaster from shaking off the walls."

"But," Brown adds, "we haven't lost a single gas station and we've got more restaurants than when we weren't bypassed. I haven't heard one single complaint since it happened although there were a good many fears beforehand.

"Most of our auto dealers were along old U. S. 127. I guess they thought that was a good place to be. But since the highway moved I'm sure they're convinced they didn't sell any cars to folks just driving through.

"Our particular section, here to Lansing (13 miles north) wasn't limited access, like the new interstate highways, when it was built. One grocer moved out there and he says he does more business now in a day than he did in a week back in town. But it was a case of getting to him. He's got parking and acreage now that he didn't have. A couple of restaurants and a new gas station were built out there. But we've still got what we had and they seem to be doing all right."

Brown compared the situation to the Detroit Board of Commerce claims that the Detroit River is the world's busiest waterway.

"What difference does it make," he asked, "if none of the boats stop there?"

South of Mason, U. S. 127 becomes a strictly limited access highway with so-called frontage roads paralleling it between overpasses or major connecting roads. This will be the pattern for all of the interstate system.

★ ★ ★

Leslie, a town of 1,543 population down the road from Mason, is completely bypassed by the new U. S. 127. But most everybody downtown seems happy. "We don't have the truck plague any more."

Business is off in some spots but most of the merchants appear philosophical about it.

Leonard Robinson estimates his drug store did 7 to 8 per cent less business last year than in 1957. But he quickly points out factors other than the bypass could be responsible. For instance, 1958 was a recession year.

"The only place where it is obvious," Robinson said, "is in my sales of camera film and picnic supplies. I used to sell worlds of film."

Russell Eckert, a Leslie restaurant owner, reported "business actually was better last year because we have kept up with the times, given them a nice place and good food and get a lot of repeat tourist business. What traffic we do get in Leslie now stops. It comes for a purpose."

Leslie has a complaint common to most bypass towns: Signs permitted within interstate rights-of-way aren't big enough and don't tell enough what's outside.

Dr. Frank Suggitt, head of Michigan State University's Resources Development Department, says that in a study of almost two dozen by-passed Michigan cities and towns: "I have yet to observe a business that closed because of the diversion of through traffic to a by-pass."

That, too, is the story of Mason and Leslie.

YUMA, Ariz. (AP)—Border patrolmen seized Fermin Rodriguez Hernandez, 28, a Mexican national, shortly after he climbed over the international fence south of Yuma.

Hernandez said it was his 26th illegal entry into this country. He said he had been deported five times through court action and had departed voluntarily 20 times.

Local Red Cross Offers Training Here

Set Water Safety Instructor Course

A 10-day water safety instructor course will be offered next month at the Pontiac Northern High School pool by the Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross in cooperation with the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept.

Dates for the course will be April 1, 6, 8, 13 and 15, and April 20-24 inclusive. Instructions will be given from 7 to 10 each night.

The course will be open to any persons holding a current Red Cross senior life saving certificate or its equivalent, according to Mrs. Mildred E. Bennett, chapter executive secretary.

The first five days will be taught by P. Mark Smith, of Birmingham, chairman of the chapter program, and Mrs. Helen Adams, instructor.

Evan Thompson, water safety field representative from National Red Cross headquarters in St. Louis, will come to Pontiac to instruct the second week.

★ ★ ★

There will be no expense to those taking the course, Mrs. Bennett pointed out. Besides, she added it would provide an excellent opportunity for those planning to take life saving jobs at camps this summer to brush up on techniques.

The first week will be devoted to reviewing these techniques, Mrs. Bennett said, while the second week classes will teach pupils how to become instructors in these techniques.

Those signing up for the course will be required to attend all 10 nights of instructions to earn certificates as water safety instructors.

The course is the first such to be offered in Pontiac in about eight years, Mrs. Bennett said.

Lisbon Readies Port Facilities for Superliners

LISBON (UPI) — Lisbon harbor, home port of the tiny ships which helped to open up the sea-lanes of the world 500 years ago, is ready to play host to the 100,000-ton liners of the future.

It will be a tight squeeze coming in over the bar that separates the Tagus Estuary from the Atlantic rollers, and docking also presents a problem.

But the men who run the harbor are confident they can accommodate the giants of future ocean travel.

In places, the estuary has a depth of 125 feet and the biggest ships are not likely to have a draught of more than 43 feet. But the bar is something else.

Jury Needs Skeleton in Court Room Closet

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—Niagara County needs a skeleton in its closet to help jurors understand complicated civil cases involving human anatomy, the Lockport Bar Assn., says.

The association hopes to present a skeleton to the county soon, probably a synthetic one.

'Operation Friendship' Explained

Talk on Travels by City Teacher Also Given

Mrs. Norris Host of Birmingham, state chairman of Operations Friendship in Ann Arbor, was guest speaker at the meeting of University of Michigan Alumnae Club, held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Donald S. Brownlee of East Square Lake road.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Host told about the orientation program planned to be held at Cranbrook in September and asked local club members to help entertain exchange students in their homes during the three days.

TELLS OF TRAVELS

Speaker for the evening was Pontiac teacher Lillian Jacobs. She first told about visiting her relatives while she was on a tour of South America, and of the home life there.

★ ★ ★

She then discussed her experience in the UNESCO-established center in Crefal, Mexico. Miss Jacobs took a leave of absence from Pontiac Central High School to join with a class from U. of M. that attended the school at Crefal.

She showed pictures of the school and of the work being done there to help native Indians improve their living conditons and revive their ancient crafts.

★ ★ ★

A letter was read from Margaret Steward about her week in Johannesburg while on her African travels.

Assisting the hostess for the evening were Dorothy Cummings, Mrs. Clarence Carlson, Mrs. C. Earl Currah, Julia Dalzell and Grace Heitsch.

Nellie Mehta, from Bombay, India, is a scholarship student at the Cranbrook Academy of Art in Bloomfield Hills. Wearing the traditional sari of her native country, she is sitting at her loom working on a new design. Nellie is contributing a modern tapestry woven of bamboo strips and black wool to the Student Scholarship Sale.

April 2-4 Show to Provide Scholarship

Students Plan Art Sale at Cranbrook

Students at the Cranbrook Academy of Art in Bloomfield Hills are holding a sale of their work April 2 through 4 for a most unusual reason—to provide a scholarship for one of their own number.

The idea for the sale grew out of a student council discussion when it was decided that the major social contribution for the year should be to help one or more talented students continue to work at the Academy for another year.

★ ★ ★

Each student has agreed to contribute at least one piece of his own work, unpriced, allowing visitors to contribute their own price in a sealed envelope.

A student-faculty committee will decide after the sale who is to receive the scholarship, making the choice according to talent and need.

STUDENTS ENTHUSIASTIC

Students who are presently receiving scholarship help are especially enthusiastic about the sale.

Among these is Nellie Mehta, of Bombay, India, who at the age of 26 has a remarkable record of achievement behind her. She attended the Sir J. J. School of Art in Bombay and the Regent Polytechnic in London, doing three years' work in two and taking top awards for textile design.

★ ★ ★

She returned to India to head Bombay Dye's design department. When Marianne Strengell, head of Cranbrook's weaving and textile design department was in India last year, she met Nellie, saw her work, and asked her to come to Cranbrook on the Ellen Scripps Booth Memorial Scholarship.

Nellie baby-sits for extra money. She says she has no time for fun, but doesn't mind it, because her work is fun to her. She often works at her loom till 11 at night, and can usually be found there on weekends and holidays.

★ ★ ★

On April 2 and 3, the sale hours will be 7:30 to 10 p. m. April 4 the sale will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries.

Plan to Pick Secretary of the Week

Nominations for Top Business Girl Open in County

Governor G. Mennen Williams has declared April 19-26 as Secretaries Week throughout Michigan, and the National Secretaries Association, Pontioak Chapter, along with members of an office equipment manufacturers institute, are sponsoring a "Secretary of the Week of Oakland County" search.

Any woman living and working in Oakland County is eligible for the title. The sponsors' only requirement is that she be an active secretary and that her employer return the questionnaire which will be sent him.

Purpose of the contest, according to the association, is ". . . to honor the First Lady of Business—The Secretary."

★ ★ ★

The secretary selected from Oakland County will receive gifts from a number of downtown merchants and will be honored at a dinner on April 22, which has been designated Secretaries Day, at Ted's Restaurant. A Secretary of the Year will be selected from the various chapters of the association.

★ ★ ★

Anyone desiring to nominate a friend—or herself—may send her name, address and employer's name to Mrs. Garland Woody at Room 502 of the Pontiac State Bank Building by April 1.

Birthday Party Is Given for Mrs. Merchant

Mrs. Frank Merchant was honored on her birthday with a surprise party held at her home on Elizabeth Lake road by 33 relatives.

Guests were Mr. Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Quick, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Larose, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin West, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. E. Arthur Tatro, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kowaleski and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Diener.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zebra, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tatro, Dale Diener, Paulette and Kristi Zebra, Cari Lynn Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kowaleski of Rochester and Mrs. Edmond Tatro of Alpena.

"Wow, I feel like a new woman!" says "Candy" (right), who has just had a retriever clip from Barbara McCormick. That's "Pierre," who was the guinea pig and inspiration for his owner's poodle-clipping enterprise, having his Royal Dutch clip trimmed up for the Easter holiday.

Patience, Understanding Key to Success

She Trims Poodles for Fun and Profit

By LYDIA ROTHMAN

Patience and kindness are the key to success for an enterprising Pontiac woman who has suddenly found herself launched in a unique and highly specialized part time job.

Lots of love and understanding have won Barbara McCormick of Liberty street a large following of happy customers and happier four-footed friends in her poodle-clipping venture.

★ ★ ★

Poodles, the wonderful clowns of the animal kingdom, never shed and must be trimmed about once a month in order to be kept clean and healthy. However, being highly intelligent and often high-strung and nervous, they cannot be handled by just anyone.

STARTED WITH 'PIERRE'

Miss McCormick started in her poodle trimming business about three years ago when a lifelong dream came true and she found herself the proud owner of "Pierre," a miniature gray poodle.

To save money and to keep her new pet looking chic and well groomed, Miss McCormick learned to trim Pierre herself.

★ ★ ★

Pierre developed an ear infection which meant regular trips to the vets. The vet was so impressed by the progress of Miss McCormick's trims that he asked to send her customers.

So, in between dancing lessons—for she teaches ballroom, tap and ballet—Miss McCormick has a growing poodle trimming business. She can give all types of standard clips and knows how to hide a dog's bad points and play up his good points.

TAKES PATIENCE, SKILL

She seems to have found the secret of successful animal handling which is never-ending patience, gentleness and the realization that each dog is a living creature with no two alike.

Poodles are often frightened about the first clipping and especially afraid of the sound the clippers make. Miss McCormick takes a great deal of time in first befriending her four-footed customers and then showing them all the tools to be used. They are very inquisitive animals and must know the what and wherefore of everything before accepting it.

Being vain creatures at heart, they soon realize what the whole beautifying business is about and really enjoy the routine. Some become so relaxed that they close their eyes and go to sleep.

LIKE NAUGHTY CHILDREN

A standing rule in the basement beauty parlor is no owners allowed. Many of these mischievous creatures play and clown around in front of their owners like naughty children making them difficult to clip.

During her three years of trimming poodles, Miss McCormick (who never uses tranquilizers or other medications to quiet her customers) has had only ont roublesome customer. However, he too, finally agreed that a dog's life is not so bad.

The Golden Rule

Etiquette Based on Single Law

By RHEA E. VIETOR
Women's Editor
The Pontiac Press

Most of us have a book of etiquette in our homes. We have two here on the desk at the Pontiac Press.

MRS. VIETOR

Anyone who can read and has any curiosity about the subject of manners can learn the basic rules.

You can learn how to reply to a formal invitation, which fork to use and whether or not it is correct to pick up fried chicken with your fingers.

You may know the proper ritual to be observed at the launching of a ship, the correct way to make introductions, or every intricate social detail of a wedding.

THERE'S A REASON

But you can fall short of being a true gentleman or lady by overlooking one basic point—the reason for these more or less rigid codes of behavior.

★ ★ ★

Etiquette itself is the outward observance of certain fundamental principles. It is the adherence to a standard of conduct that has evolved through centuries—and for one reason only.

Manners, when you stop to think about them, are the lubricating force of society. They enable us to move smoothly with the least amount of friction.

★ ★ ★

But unless we are conscious of the reasoning behind the rules, our proper observance of social laws is meaningless.

GOLDEN RULE

Quite simply, the basis for etiquette is the Golden Rule.

If you are more concerned with the pleasure, comfort and ease of the other person than with your own, you cannot fail to be a mannerly person.

★ ★ ★

True courtesy springs from the heart. It is based upon consideration for someone else. It will enable you to choke back an unkind remark, avoid embarrassing another and perform a gracious act so simply that it is almost unconscious.

★ ★ ★

It is impossible to know and remember all the rules that govern our complex society, but if we base our actions upon kindness, simplicity and good will, we need never be afraid of having poor manners.

26 Tables in Play at Bridge Session

Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club met at Elks Temple Monday evening for its monthly master-point game. Twenty-six tables were in play.

Winners were Mrs. Al Shambron, Dr. W. H. Barron, Dr. Bruce Hubbard, Dr. John Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Maybaum, Mrs. Arnold Richards, Mrs. A. K. MacKean, Henry Georgia, Edwin V. Clarke, Mrs. Jerry Dillion and Myles Maddox.

150 Turn Out for Local OES Special Dinner

Pontiac OES Chapter 228 honored 15 live, charter, and honorary members at a cooperative dinner Monday evening at the Roosevelt Masonic Temple.

The "Old Time Work" of the chapter, in the year 1867, was exemplified by past matrons, patrons, life and honorary members.

Over 150 members and friends attended the special meeting. Guests from Ovid, Birmingham, Walled Lake, North Branch, Goodrich, Fenton, and Areme Chapters were introduced.

Church Unit Meets

The Elizabeth Circle met at the First Christian Church to sew cancer pads. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Arthur Smith and Mrs. Leona Hunter.

Isabella Unit Marks Birthday

The 30th anniversary of the Daughters of Isabella was celebrated Sunday at St. Michael Hall. Initiation was followed by a dinner served by the Knights of Columbus.

Charter members attending were Mrs. Lovell Pickering of Detroit, Mrs. John Bookie, Mrs. Francis Fairbrother, Mrs. Richard Ashton, Mrs. David Polmear, Mrs. A. J. LaBarge, Mrs. Eli Morgan and Mrs. Rudy Stingle.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. M. J. O'Reilly, chaplain; State Regent Margaret King of Flint and Grand Knight John Lindgren were guests of honor.

Other guests came from Flint, Detroit, Royal Oak and Birmingham.

Child Culture Club Plans Dads Night

The Child Culture Club met at the home of Mrs. Jorma Sarto at Orchard Lake Tuesday evening. Roll call was "Do you set a time limit for dates?"

Make Haste Slowly — Abby

Takes Time to Test Depth of Love's Irresistible Force

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Do you believe in 'love at first sight?' A friend where I work fixed me up with a fellow she had been talking about for ages. On the first date I felt like I'd known him all my life and he said that's the feeling he had about me. Abby, I'm not cheap, but it was the most natural thing in the world for me to kiss him. I have seen him every night this week and I wonder if it's possible for someone to fall in love this fast? I am 21 and he is 24."

IN LOVE

ABBY

DEAR IN: Love is a "miracle" whereby two people become magnetized by each other. This can happen in a matter of minutes, but the true test of its depth and duration can be determined only by time. Make haste slowly.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: What do you think of an old-maid neighbor of mine who is so man-hungry that she still has her mistletoe up over her front door? Whenever a man passes through she makes a big joke of it and grabs for him and kisses him a real good one. She is old enough to know better. Should I tell her that Christmas has passed?"

NEXT-DOOR NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEXT: A woman who is this hungry for kisses doesn't care when Christmas is. Just introduce her to a nice congenial gentleman who wouldn't mind playing Santa Claus.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: Our son has been overseas for two years. He is coming home soon. He was married just before he left. His wife says we are not to meet him. We plan to stay at home and do as she says, but are we doing right by our son? Your advice will be our decision."

ANXIOUS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Stay at home and if your son asks you why you didn't meet him—tell him.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a teenage girl, whose interests have strayed from school activities to "slumber parties" which are poorly chaperoned. These parties are held at a girl's house. There are 10 or 12 girls in the group. They are visited by anywhere from 12 to 30 boys all evening, until the wee hours of the morn.

"A party is planned for this Friday night and I told my daughter 'No!' I am being criticized (and even hated) by my own daughter and her friends for sticking to my decision, but I can see nothing but trouble ahead if I don't. Am I too old-fashioned?"

JUST A MOTHER

DEAR JUST: You may be criticized (or even "hated" now) but you will be thanked and loved later. Stick to your decision, Mother.

★ ★ ★

What's wrong with necking and petting? Get ABBY'S booklet, "What Every Teenager Wants to Know." Send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed envelope to ABBY, care of this newspaper.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Got a News Story?

The women's department of the Pontiac Press would like to ask your cooperation on deadlines and preparation of news.

Copy for publication on any given day must reach the social desk by 8 a.m. that day.

★ ★ ★

If a club meeting or other social event occurs on Monday, the person in charge of publicity should see that the information is typed or written clearly and completely, and placed in the box just outside the front door of the Press building Monday evening or by 8 a.m. Tuesday.

If copy is brought in later than 8 a.m. it should be brought directly to the women's department, on the second floor, before 9 a.m.

★ ★ ★

In all news items, please report what the event was and when and where it was held. Please use a woman's married name or two initials.

Publicity chairmen should also include their own names and phone numbers.

Timely stories will be given preference as to detail and space.

Villa Franciska League to Help Home for Women

A number of Pontiac women are participating in the organization of a new group known as the Villa Franciska League. The league will raise funds for the Villa Francisko, a home for retired women on West Long Lake road.

Although operated by a Catholic order, the Daughters of Divine Charity, the home is non-sectarian, with guests of all faiths represented.

Among Pontiac workers for the league are Mrs. Donald Nicholie and Mrs. Addison Oakley. Bloomfield Township leaguers are Mrs. Anthony Michal and Mrs. Ralph Bearden.

Officers of the group are Mrs. Charles Stewart, president; Mrs. Robert Backstrom, vice president; Mrs. Richard Purdy, secretary; and Maria Purdy, treasurer.

Under the heading "Operation Villa," members have been raising funds for the home through a series of bridge parties, teas, luncheons, coffees, and other activities.

Mrs. Nicholie was hostess for a luncheon Tuesday at her home on East Iroquois road.

Miss McCarthar Honored at Shower

Charlene L. McCarthar, bride-elect of Air Force Lt. Arnold P. Sodergren, was honored at a shower given by Virginia Sherman Friday at her home on Cheltingham road.

Miss McCarthar is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McCarthar of Lincolnshire street and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sodergren of St. Joseph. The couple will be married April 11.

Guests were Mrs. Richard Maloney, Mrs. Robert Terrell, Mrs. Maurice Morey, Mrs. Raymond Dobson, Mrs. Milford Connell, Mrs. Henry Hoyt, Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Mrs. Richard Ryan, Marilyn Niva, Mrs. James Boice, Mrs. Lyle Young, Mrs. Alfred Walker, Mrs. Edward Sherman and Mrs. Dorothy Smith.

Suffers Leg Injury

Dorraine D. Monroe of Forest street is recuperating from a leg injury.

Degree programs in Business Administration, Engineering Science, Liberal Arts and Teacher Education will be offered at Michigan State University Oakland when it opens next fall.

LEG CRAMPS?

When meals, consistently deficient in calcium, are fortified with DYNA-CAL Calcium Tablets, tormenting calcium-deficient muscle cramps can be promptly relieved. But don't confuse DYNA-CAL Tablets with ordinary calcium-phosphorus products. DYNA-CAL Tablets contain no phosphorus which frequently interferes with the absorption of calcium. And DYNA-CAL Tablets contain a special ingredient which helps to put calcium into the blood stream quicker — bringing faster relief to cramping, calcium-starved muscles. Pleasant-to-take DYNA-CAL Tablets with calcium, betaine hydrochloride, and vitamins D and C contain no drugs. They are safe, harmless, calcium food supplements. If you are suffering miserable muscle cramps, and suspect you are not getting enough calcium, ask for DYNA-CAL Tablets, today. Bottles of 90 tablets, $1.00.

*Other causes for muscle cramps as advised by physician definitely.

Mr. Dean discussed the CARE program and showed the film, "To Help Themselves." A question-and-answer period followed.

Desserts served at the meeting carried out the day's international theme by representing four different countries.

Frieda Huggett was committee chairman for the day. Committee members were Aldene French, Marian Chubb, Eva Bigsby and Barbara Penman.

90 Turn Out for Dinner Held at Owen School

Some 90 parents and children were present for a cooperative dinner given Monday by students of Mrs. Norris Smith at Owen School. The group gathered in the school's multi-purpose room.

★ ★ ★

The yougsters presented a play entitled "A Pie for a Billy Goat." Mrs. John Newman showed a film of a trip the class took to a pony farm last fall.

Honor guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Abbott. Mr. Abbott is principal at Owen.

Dinner chairmen were Mrs. John Newman and Mrs. Edward Andrews.

Mothers making costumes and scenery for the play were Mrs. Andrew McSkulin and Mrs. Okley Picklesimer, assisted by Mrs. Donald Sivrais and Mrs. Hubert Walls.

Beware of Extreme Mannerisms

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Our gestures and mannerisms have a terrific effect on the way we seem to others. As a matter of fact they often reflect inner nervousness and insecurity, or calm and poise.

Many mannerisms are just nervous habits. These may have been acquired during some time of strain or may be due to natural temperament. Whatever the cause, it is a good idea to check ourselves every once in a while because they are not attractive.

This is especially important for the underweight woman. She uses up tremendous amounts of energy in this way. A relaxed attitude will not only banish the mannerisms but will help with a gain in weight.

A few easy, graceful or enthusiastic gestures may enhance conversation, but these are far different from the nervous strumming of fingers on chair arms, from twitching about when sitting or exuberant leg swinging or nail biting.

The person who constantly indulges in gestures or extreme mannerisms is tiring and we are likely to be diverted from her conversation by her drawing room gymnastics. We all fall into some such habits unless we are careful.

As women grow older they may accumulate new mannerisms, postures and attitude. The spine is not so flexible as it once was unless you have exercised regularly. The joints may be a little stiffer. You may have a touch of arthritis and your muscular coordination may not be so good. Investigate the mannerisms which these symptoms may produce. You need not give in to them wholeheartedly.

I discussed facial mannerisms not long ago in my column and suggested that they also are tiring. They, too, age prematurely by creating lines in the forehead, between the eyes and at the corners of the eyes.

Eyes alight, a vivacious facial expression and a gallant, graceful carriage are to be coveted, but these can be eclipsed by a nervous screen or meaningless gestures.

If you would like to check yourself you may want my leaflet, "Mannerisms of Age." If so, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 67 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Accessories Count, Too, In Being Well Dressed."

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Eynon of Brookside drive, Bloomfield Township, stop to pose aboard ship in New York harbor just before sailing on a cruise to Bermuda.

Explain How Thank-Yous Were Lost

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I was married seven months ago at which time I received many wedding presents — most of them were checks. I sent personal notes of thanks for each gift immediately upon my return from my wedding trip.

"At this late date I hear tell people have not received my thank-you notes. The only thing I can attribute it to would be the fact that I gave several of these notes to one of our office boys (who is no longer here) to mail and perhaps he never did so.

Answer: The best thing to do is to write a note or telephone each person who may not have received your thanks and explain that if they have not had a letter from you it is because of a neglectful office boy.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What is your opinion of a dinner guest wiping her silver on her napkin before beginning to eat? I was never so insulted in my life when a guest did this in my house."

Answer: I certainly understand your feelings as I can't imagine such rudeness in a private house. Even in a restaurant it would be rude to wipe off the silver unless it is obvious that a certain implement is not clean — and no waiter in sight to bring you another.

Alpha Delta Kappa Unit Initiates 11 New Members

State officers of Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority initiated new members into Rho Chapter at a luncheon meeting held Saturday afternoon at Rotunda Inn.

The state officers were Mrs. E. Cleo Wiley, president, and Mrs. N. G. Polk, corresponding secretary, both of Pontiac; Mrs. Chester Dasher, Mrs. Carol Bushong and Mrs. Walter Maas.

* * *

Initiated were Lois Buckbinder, Mrs. Ronald Carr, Mrs. Rexford Hagood, Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mrs. Byford Laur, Mrs. Harry L. Saunders, Margaret H. Scott, Mrs. Walter Sheffield, Mrs. Henry Visschers, Mrs. Isa Vogel and Mrs. David Walls.

Appointed to committees were Miss Buckbinder, bylaws; Mrs. Laur and Mrs. Saunders, telephone; Mrs. Hagood, ways and means; Mrs. Vogel, altruism; Mrs. Visschers, bonds; Mrs. Walls, program; and Mrs. Sheffield, publicity.

The next meeting will be held May 7 at the home of Wilma Webb, president in Keego Harbor.

WHAT IS CHARM?

Charm is the illusive "something" that can even take the place of beauty in a woman. You can cultivate charm. Practice does make perfect the habit of a smile in your voice and facial expression. The difference between a smile and a charming smile is that it must come from within.

Practice slowing down to appear poised instead of harassed, speaking softly and clearly instead of rushing through your speel and then repeating.

Although face and figure may not represent your fortune, the charming woman senses that it does offer a form of social security.

April 8 in Southfield

Slate Xway Hearing

SOUTHFIELD — April 8 is the date set for a public hearing on the proposed Southfield expressway between Eight and Nine-Mile roads.

The meeting to be held in the Southfield High School gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. has been called for by the State Highway Department.

Southfield and Lathrup Village officials will be invited to a special meeting called by the Oakland County Road Commission April 3 at 10 a.m. in the commission offices on Telegraph road, Pontiac, City Clerk Patrick Flannery said today.

"The purposes of this meeting is to discuss traffic plans for Southfield road beyond the proposed expressway, north of Nine-Mile road," Flannery said.

Flannery said the problem the city is faced with is if the $4,900,000 expressway is built, what will happen to the six lanes of traffic when they reach north of Nine-Mile road where there is only one traffic lane each way.

The City of Southfield has never agreed to the conversion of Southfield road into an expressway.

Hold Avon Youth on Alcoholic Beverage Count

AVON TOWNSHIP—Backing out of a private driveway here without stopping led to the arrest of a 20-year-old Pontiac youth who was later jailed for having six bottles of beer in his car, Romeo State police reported today.

Richard Gibson, of 2761 Vendome St. is in Oakland County Jail today, charged with having alcoholic beverages in his possession. He was arrested on Auburn road here by Romeo State troopers. They said he failed to stop when leaving a driveway and also had some defective equipment on his car. Further investigation revealed the beer in his car.

Gibson was to be arraigned today before Justice Luther C. Green in Rochester.

Examined on Charge of Holdup Attempt

OXFORD — Robert Greenwood, 21, of 177 Broadway St. was examined yesterday before Justice Fred Stevens here on a charge of attempted armed robbery and was bound over to Circuit Court. Oxford Police Chief Al Roberts reported today.

★ ★ ★

Greenwood allegedly tried to hold up gas station owner Rex "Red" Hallock at gun-point on March 17. As Greenwood forced the barrel of his 22 caliber rifle through the door of the station, police said, Hallock grabbed it and his assailant gave up without a struggle.

Greenwood claims he wanted to sell the gun. He will be arraigned at 1 p.m. Monday before Oakland County Circuit Court H. Russel Holland. Unable to post $500 bond, Greenwood remains in jail today, police said.

Teacher Salary Schedule OK'd

Walled Lake's Board Hikes Starting Rates, Adds Increments

WALLED LAKE — A teachers salary schedule for the 1959-60 school year was approved at a special meeting of the Board of Education, Clifford H. Smart, superintendent of schools announced today.

The present starting salary schedule for teachers having bachelors degrees is $4,200. It is to be raised for beginning teachers to $4,300.

For teachers holding masters degrees the starting rate will climb from $4,400 to $4,500.

Annual increments will remain as they are at $200 but one additional step is being added at the top of the schedule, Smart said.

★ ★ ★

Changes will provide a $300 increase for each teacher with a bachelors or masters degree who is presently employed.

Total cost of the increase for the 214 teachers on the staff will be $64,200, according to Smart.

The maximum salary schedule for teachers with bachelors degrees will be raised from $6,000 to $6,300 and for those with masters degrees, from $6,600 to $6,900.

This salary schedule will become effective when contracts are issued this spring, probably in April, said Smart.

Young Drivers Need Hazards Training

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Student drivers, says a safety engineer, should be trained like soldiers, being exposed to hazards repeatedly until they instinctively react correctly.

Dr. Earle Hannaford of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. told a safety conference Tuesday that traffic hazards could be simulated in motion pictures showing traffic rushing toward a driving class.

Through repeated exposures under nonpanic conditions, he said, student drivers can acquire built-in responses for use when the real thing comes along.

RUTHALEE LOCKYEAR

Planning a May wedding are Ruthalee Gilham Lockyear and Calvin Osterkamp whose engagement is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lockyear of Evansville, Ind. The fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Osterkamp of 4902 Algonquin St., Clarkston.

Warn Residents of Fire Hazard

Fire Officials Sound Alert on Grass Blazes in Oakland County

Fire chiefs in communities throughout Oakland County today warned residents to use care in starting rubbish fires this time of year. They said winds are liable to fan the flames and cause grass fires of major proportions.

★ ★ ★

The fire officials asked that homeowners burn their trash in special wire or metal containers rather than in open fields. They also warned people not to leave their rubbish fires unattended.

An added precaution, they said, would be to have a broom, shovel or hose close by to use in case the fire gets out of control and starts to spread in the dry grass.

Older persons were advised not to try to fight the blaze themselves if it should suddenly be fanned by high winds. They are asked to call their fire department immediately while the blaze can still be confined to a small area.

Dairy Princess Contest Slated

Event to Be Held at Annual Farm Bureau Party April 16

An Oakland County Dairy Princess will be selected in a contest this spring, Jay Poffenberger, county agricultural extension agent, announced today.

Contestants will vie for the title at the annual Farm Bureau Party to be held in Davisburg April 16, he said.

In order to qualify for competition, the girls must have dairy farm background. That is their parents or guardians must derive at least part of their income from dairy farming, or the candidate must have lived on a dairy farm during part of her life.

Furthermore, she must be single, never married, at least 16 years of age and have a doctor's certificate of good health.

Entrants must be available for personal appearances during the year commencing with the contest and continuing until the 1960 Princess is selected.

Application blanks can be obtained from Stuart Hutchins, contest chairman, at 2071 John R Rd., Rochester or at the Cooperative Extension Service Office, 1260 West Blvd, Pontiac.

Man From Area Burns to Death on Detroit Job

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — A night watchman from Royal Oak Township burned to death yesterday when a makeshift stove blew up where he was working in Detroit.

The victim, David Wilburn, 42, of 20791 Parkside was pouring fuel oil onto the open flames when the stove exploded. Critically hurt in the blast was his companion Edward J. Steward, 22, of Detroit.

Wilburn was dead within minutes after the explosion; Steward was rushed to Receiving Hospital in Detroit where his condition was reported unchanged today.

Police said the men were warming themselves before the stove in a construction shanty at the site of a sewer project on W. Vernor highway near Woodmere street, Detroit.

Oxford Village Council Elects Allen E. Valentine President

OXFORD — Allen E. Valentine was unanimously elected president of the Oxford Village Council at last night's annual meeting in the Municipal Building here.

★ ★ ★

Before his election, Valentine, acting as president pro tem, presented an inscribed lighter, from the Council to retiring president Ted Pearson Jr. in recognition of his service to the community from 1952 to 1959.

★ ★ ★

A resolution, drafted by Edmond Unger, was later read into the council minutes commending Pearson for his unselfish devotion to duty during his terms of office—one year as councilman and six years as village president.

★ ★ ★

New councilmen Gordon Mathie, Neil Coulter and Unger, re-elected incumbent, were sworn in by Ralph Precious, village manager.

STAYS IN TRIPLE POST

Unger was elected president pro tem of the council, and Precious was named to continue serving as combination village manager, treasurer and clerk. Robert Parenti was reappointed village attorney.

★ ★ ★

Visitors at last night's meeting were William Shoup, Lake Orion village president, and two of his fellow councilmen, Robert Hauxwell and Hugh Galloway.

★ ★ ★

The trio entered into an informal discussion of the proposed sewage disposal system now under consideration for the area. No official action was taken and no specific recommendations were made.

★ ★ ★

Proposed reassessment of all Oxford village property was discussed by the council and Precious was directed to get cost estimates—both with a view to having the village do the job alone and also if it were done in conjunction with the township.

★ ★ ★

The president then was authorized to appoint a six-man advisory committee to study the needs of the village. Members will include Edward J. Bossardet Jr., Gerald Olrich, Stewart Langley and Harry Hall and two others to be named later.

Precious presented the budget for fiscal year 1959-60, and a special council meeting was set for next Tuesday night to discuss it.

Car Drives Self by Radar System

Engineers Devise Plan Using Strip of Foil or Paint Along Highways

NEW YORK (UPI)—A system whereby a car can almost "drive itself" on the highway with no more guidance than a painted line was outlined by two Baltimore engineers.

Dr. Yaohan Chu and P. N. Buford, both employed by the Westinghouse Electric Co., said they soon will begin testing the radar-auto device they developed in spare time research.

The system relies on an auto-installed radar assembly—which they estimate would weigh about 40 pounds and can be manufactured for about $250 per unit—and either a strip of foil or a special metallic paint line on the highway from which it picks up signals, the engineers said in a report to the institute of radio engineers convention.

The system can be installed to steer the car, indicate its distance from other automobiles, "report" the closing rate between the car and another, and give a warning signal if collision appears imminent, the engineers said.

Chu and Buford said the radar set-up also can be set to read coded direction signs implanted in the foil strip or metallic line. They suggested that nationwide agreement could be reached on code symbols for speed and other highway directions to be set on the pavement in the form of small parallel areas of the strip or paint.

The engineers said they believe the program can be in experimental use within two years and in general use within five years.

Meager Spread Drives Home Hunger Theme

HONOLULU (AP)—A bowl of saimin (Japanese noodles) was the only food on the menu at a public dinner here.

The dinner marked the 10th anniversary of the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights and was sponsored by the Honolulu YMCA.

The idea was to show how little food people in many parts of the world have to eat.

Bob Considine Says:

Some Little Things That Count in Big World

NEW YORK—In a world where so much stress is put on bigness—sizes in olives, for example, begin with colossal, or some such word—it is a pleasure to read about V. K. Zworykin's Radio Pill. The Rockefeller Institute scientist is one of 10 winners of the 1958 Miniaturization Awards.

Working with a jeweler's eyepiece, apparently, Dr. Zworykin managed to stuff a complete high-fidelity FM radio broadcasting station into a capsule—including microphone, power oscillator, antenna and battery.

You eat it, of course. Then it broadcasts a lot of interesting facts about you as it meanders through your body. Comes in several flavors.

Not to be out-littled, Peter J. Pijoan and John Buckley of Westinghouse built a gyro motor the size of a dime. The wheel rotates at a speed of 27,000 revolutions per minute, breaking Latin America's old record.

The Sonotone people, or elves, won an award with a hearing aid that is worn entirely in the ear. It is the size of an adult's thumbnail, weighs half an ounce, requires no cords or buttons, amplifies sound 400 times.

This is even lighter than the late Walter Howey's patent-applied-for hearing aid, which consisted of a pearl button for the ear and a little piece of insulated wire running down the cheek and neck to the inner collar of one's coat. There the wire was fastened to the cloth by a small safety pin.

★ ★ ★

"You call that a hearing aid?" the man at the patent office thundered at the versatile editor. "Why, it has no mechanism, no batteries, microphone, nothing!" "Of course, it's a hearing aid," Walter replied icily. "If you wear one, people talk louder."

Keith O. Johnson of Stanford University won a prize (and soon a fortune, one presumes) by building a fine tape-recording machine that is the same size as a kitchen matchbox but records much better.

If he ever has to make an adjustment on it, and needs a proper flashlight, he can call up a fellow winner—Diamond Ordnance Fuse Laboratories—and borrow some pinhead-size electric lights. These are .1 inch in length and .35 inch in diameter. They weigh 5 milligrams.

The jewel of the award list is the Martin Company's 5-pound atomic generator, named SNAP—III. Soon as we learn what it does, and what it could do if dropped on Lhasa, you'll be the first to know. We're submitting all these items to a magazine editor we know, the inventor of the small check.

A lead, rhyming with reed, as you know, is the opening statement or paragraph of a news story. The high incidence of ulcers and disagreeableness among reporters and rewrite men can be traced in part, at least, to their eternal search to find the proper word, the proper thought, the proper alignment of facts in the order of their importance.

Ray Erwin, discussing leads in his Editor and Publisher column, tells a harrowing story about a debate, once upon a time, among Davis J. Walsh of INS, Henry McLemore of UP, and the late great Eddie Neil of AP, who all tried to write a lead for this set of hypothetical facts:

"Last half of ninth inning in deciding game of World Series. Babe Ruth at bat in Yankee Stadium. Three men on and Yankees behind by three runs. Ruth hit a home run out of the park, winning the game and World Series—but the ball struck and killed President Roosevelt, who had left the game early."

I won't sleep for nights.

A foreign firm recently won a contract to supply needed material for the building of the Air Force Academy. The salesman who made the deal was exuberant. After kissing an Air Force general on both cheeks he said, "Now, I must do something good for the academy; I must give it a present. Could I buy you something you could use . . . like a football team?"

Worse luck, the Academy already had one.

New Donors Are Sought by GOP

County Group Issues Bright Red Brochure About Democrats

The Oakland County Republican Finance Committee says it is trying a new approach in hopes of raising $70,000 so Michigan won't "go under in another Democrat tide."

The party's county finance heads are temporarily looking past regular contributors to the party and going after others who haven't been asked to give before.

These untapped sources have in their possession already or can expect to receive a bright red brochure from the committee entitled, "The threat of the Democrat Party to you, your family, and your future!"

It asks that persons "please be in a receptive mood" when a member of the committee calls on them to give and join the GOP.

★ ★ ★

"We're trying to broaden the giving base and get more people interested, both financially and politically," said George Labadie, committee executive secretary.

Funds the committee hopes to raise will be split three ways—some staying in the county, some going to the Republican State Central Committee and the rest to the national party, Labadie said.

Carlos G. Richardson, chairman of the county's Democratic Committee, read over a copy of the handout and offered to donate 46 cents. Richardson was not on the committee's mailing list.

"It's not a new approach," he said. "It's the same old thing. It's awful easy to criticize and condemn the Democrats, but do the Republicans advance in this how they would handle the state's finances?"

Local Republicans seek new sustaining contributors who can give $1 per month or subscription contributors at $5 a year. This is spelled out in 10,000 pamphlets prepared for the committee by a top member of the MacManus John & Adams advertising firm in Bloomfield Hills.

Newspapers reach the same people—practically everyone in every market — day after day. For newspapers offer news and features of special appeal for every member of the family.

State Senator Cuts Quite a Figure

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—A Republican state senator from Westerly, R.I., boasts a wardrobe that would make any U.S. Senator envious.

This Beau Brummel is Antonio C. Trovato, who says he wishes his colleagues weren't so casual toward their attire.

Trovato, who owns 23 suits, a dozen hats (including a fur Yukon cap), and seven fancy vests, says that "being a legislator is a high position and the members of the General Assembly should take greater pride in the way they dress."

He's also critical of newsmen who appear in the chamber "dressed in untasteful sports jackets, store-bought."

The youthful senator can well afford to be critical, however. In private life he's a custom tailor.

Reckless Legislation?

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Legislators had to look twice when a bill was submitted to the General Assembly. They looked, then looked again. The bill stated, "An Act concerning reckless driving, providing for same."

Audrey Meadows Brings Zest to Any Role

NEW YORK (AP) — "I don't want to play Lady MacBeth or be a big fat star," said Audrey Meadows. "I just want to keep working.

"I'm a kind of slap-happy character. I've loved every show I've been on."

★ ★ ★

And titian-haired Audrey, the China-born daughter of an Episcopal missionary — she used to teach Sunday School — has been a standout in practically every branch of the entertainment field.

She started as a concert singer at 16. She sang and danced in Broadway musicals. She became known as television's brightest, breeziest young comedienne.

After a two-year layoff, she resumed her career as a quiz show performer and guest star. This Friday night she tries a new role, pinch-hitting for Edward R. Murrow.

★ ★ ★

"I'm glad they had a sinking spell and hired me for this job," she said, cheerfully. "I've always wanted to be a newspaper gal."

"I've been very fortunate in the shows I've been on and the people I've worked with," said Audrey, who has a nice trait of always speaking well of the other fellow.

She brings a great gusto to living and enjoys a varied life. Because the only musical instrument she can play is the piano—"with one finger"—she plans to take lessons on the guitar.

★ ★ ★

"I suffer from the feling there isn't time to do everything I want to," she said. "But I guess if there were time, that would be complete boredom, wouldn't it? It would be frightening."

Her favorite color is bright red. She says it makes her feel good. She likes to read, water ski, cook and watch baseball and football.

The only thing that bores her is "a closed mind." The thing that attracts her most is "a curious mind."

"So many people today are negative," she said. "I believe in kindness and a faith in something or someone beyond ourselves. If we all practiced kindness on a larger scale, we'd have fewer misunderstandings on all levels.

"I don't believe much in anger or fear.

"The only thing that really makes me angry is the sight of injustice. The only thing that scares me is the elements—hurricanes, lightning, thunder.

★ ★ ★

"I don't have many social fears. If there is a job I know I can't do, I don't take it."

She feels her biggest defect as a person is her tendency to procrastinate.

"I let things pile up, and sometimes when I finally get around to doing them, it's too late. That's a big fault with me.

"I think I was born with a night-time metabolism. I'll stay up all night cleaning closets rather than write letters. I hate writing letters."

Asked what her epitaph would be if she could write it herself, Audrey grinned and said:

★ ★ ★

"She tried—poor soul!"

Small Sugar Plant Run by 17-Year-Old

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Bernard Hynes, a 17-year-old Denver high school student, figures he has the world's smallest beet sugar factory. It is mounted on a 6 by 4 plywood panel.

Hynes cuts up his sugar beets by hand and starts them through the digester for boiling, carbonation, filtration, sulfonation and finally to be evaporated and crystallized.

He's never seen the inside of a real beet sugar factory. He got the idea for his small factory in a chemistry book.

HONORED FOR 25 YEARS SERVICE—Two Pontiac Motor plant superintendents, R. B. Gould (left) and C. L. Stevens (right) were among 114 Pontiac Motor employes attaining the 25-year service marks in March. Presenting the traditional watch awards was H.A.C. Anderson, general superintendent. Gould of 1040 S. Lake Angelus Shores is superintendent of the Pressed Metal Plant. Stevens, who lives at 1340 Eason St., heads Car Assembly. During the first three months of 1959, 319 employes have been similarly honored.

Yale University Told Its Name Not Sacred

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Travelers aren't likely to confuse a motel with a famed university, a suerior court judge ruled.

Both the motel and the university are named Yale, and the latter didn't like the former's use of the name.

Judge Philip R. Pastore Tuesday denied an injunction sought by Yale University to prevent the Yale Motor Inn, located in nearby Wallingford, from using Yale in its title.

The university brought the suit in August 1957, claiming the inn was using Yale reputation for private gain.

Proposal Would Give State a Lift

Economic Group Has 6-Point Plan to Boost Financial Future

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Economic Development Commission today outlined a six-point program designed to brighten Michigan's financial future.

★ ★ ★

The commission's program, announced by William M. Day, commission chairman and president of Michigan Bell Telephone Co., would:

1. Retain and promote expansion of present industry by identifying and furnishing help on specific problems.

2. Aid existing business by making specialized counsel available.

3. Undertake spot studies and research projects.

★ ★ ★

4. Compile a pamphlet containing concrete facts about Michigan to show exactly where the state stands to men of industry here and in other states.

5. Continue work with local communities.

6. Continue efforts to develop new industrial prospects for Michigan by keeping in contact with manufacturers in other states.

Day said the commission will pursue the six objectives. He said they are aimed at cutting through generalities and reaching specific problems and facts concerning business and industry.

Gang of Teens Beats Officer's Son, Friend

DETROIT (AP) — A teenage gang attacked the son of a police lieutenant and a companion last night, cutting the throat of one and inflicting a skull fracture on the other.

★ ★ ★

In critical condition at Highland Park Hospital was Joseph Perfetto, 19, of 276 Cottage Grove, Highland Park with skull injuries. Treated for a cut on his throat and released was Robert Stephens, 17, of 8312 Whitaker, son of Lt. William Stephens, suburban Highland Park detective.

The two boys told police they were standing in front of a candy store when two carloads of teenagers drove up jumped out and attacked them.

Pontiac Man Found Dead in Locked Car

Timothy J. Romeo, 21, of Pontiac, was found dead in his car last night by Oakland County sheriff's deputies at the end o Tackles drive in White Lake Township.

Romeo, who lived at 2290 Jones St., was pronounced dead by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. Leon Cobb, who said the cause of death was carbon monoxide poisoning.

Deputies said the car was locked and a tire inner tube had been attached to the exhaust and run into the trunk of the auto. Romeo's body was removed to Coats Funeral Home, Drayton Plains.

Senate Passes Resolution in Favor of Site

U.S. House Expected to Give Approval to Bill Today

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit is just about ready to launch its sales pitch to attract the 1964 Olympic games here.

The U. S. Senate yesterday passed a resolution inviting the International Olympic Committee (IOC) to stage the athletic games in Detroit. The resolution was sent to the House, which was expected to approve it today before President Eisenhower signs it.

As soon as the President makes the invitation official, Detroit's committee to bring the games to Michigan will go into action.

"Our official brochure with Detroit's invitation for the games will be completed as soon as we get the resolution bearing President Eisenhower's signature," said Fred Matthaei, industrialist and a long-time worker from bringing the Olympics to Detroit.

Matthaei and Richard Cross will represent Detroit at the IOC meeting in Munich April 22-28. The meeting in Germany is expected to decide on the site of the 1964 games, Tokyo and Detroit appear to have the inside track.

★ ★ ★

Matthaei said about 125 copies of the brochure will be mailed to all parts of the globe when it is ready.

"We want the delegates of all nations to have an opportunity to study our proposal before they leave their homes," Matthaei said.

"I feel our chances are brighter than they have been in the 25 years we have been seeking the Olympics. Frankly I do not feel Tokyo has or can construct the facilities to play host to the games. I visited the city some time back and know first hand of its overcrowded conditions."

Matthaei believes European nations will hold the key to which city is awarded the games. Vienna and Brussels are considered to have an outside chance to beat out the American and Japanese entries.

"The European countries hold the balance of power," Matthaei said.

Matthaei said one of Detroit's chief sales points will be the large, sports-minded population within a 500-mile radius of the city. He said there are 85 million potential spectators in that area.

Detroit's Olympic committee plans to build a 100,000-seat stadium and other facilities if its Olympic bid is approved.

Drysdale Pitches Los Angeles to 1-0 Win

Dodgers' Citrus Mark Best

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

By The Associated Press

Don Drysdale's "tired elbow" is wide awake and throwing.

It never took a rest yesterday when the 22-year-old Los Angeles right-hander pitched nine shutout innings as the Dodgers upped their exhibition record to 10-3, best in the majors.

★ ★ ★

The Philadelphia Phils were the victims of Drysdale's 1-0 performance, a five hitter at Sarasota. The Phils got only two runners past first base after the fourth inning. Although the Dodgers got only three hits, a double by Wally Moon and a triple by Jim Gentile in the fourth inning were enough. It was the first complete spring game by a Dodger pitcher in three years.

★ ★ ★

Recently he brushed aside any detailed explanations of his slow '58 start with this statement:

"My arm just wasn't in shape. I used to get tired in the elbow. That's where I feel it when my arm isn't strong. This spring I feel I passed that tired elbow stage early."

Up until yesterday only Bob Anderson of the Chicago Cubs had gone nine innings, but Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and Pittsburgh's Vern Law made the step along with Drysdale. No American Leaguer has gone the route.

Spahn was as sharp as Drysdale, allowing only five hits in a 3-0 victory over St. Louis at St. Petersburg. The Braves, only 4-14 in Florida games, needed a shot in the arm and Spahnie provided it with the help of a first inning lead off homer by Ed Haas. The Braves broke a five-game losing streak.

Baltimore shelled Kansas City 11-3 at West Palm Beach. The Orioles, atop the AL spring standings with a 9-4 record, had 4 hits, including homers by Gus Triandos and Willie Tasby.

Washington hung the seventh straight defeat on Cincinnati, 7-6 at Tampa. Frank Robinson hit a grand slam homer in the Reds' six-run eighth after the Senators had finished scoring.

The Boston Red Sox' nosedive continued at Phoenix where the San Francisco Giants won 10-4. It was Boston's fourth straight loss after winning 10 of their first 11. The pitching-poor Giants got their customary robust hitting, but more important was seven innings of five-hit work by former Phil Jack Sanford.

Ernie Banks doubled home two runs in an eighth inning pinch hitter role as the Chicago Cubs broke a tie and defeated Cleveland 4-2 at Mesa. Rookie Joe Scaffernoth shut out the Indians on four hits for seven innings.

In a night game at Miami, the New York Yankees landed on rookie Rodolpho Arias of the Chicago White Sox for five runs on seven hits in the fifth inning. The Yanks won it 6-4 and ended a string of 10 scoreless innings by Arias.

M. C. Burton Becomes Pro

CHICAGO (AP)—M. C. Burton, Michigan's basketball co-captain and the Big Ten's top scorer last season, has turned professional.

Burton and Tom Hawkins of Notre Dame have agreed to play with the Hawaii 50th Staters against the Harlem Globetrotters Sunday in Chicago Stadium. Each signed a four-game contract with Abe Saperstein, owner of the Globetrotters.

The two ex-college stars will play for locally organized teams against the Globetrotters later in Minneapolis, Green Bay, Wis., and La Crosse, Wis.

★ ★ ★

Burton is expected to be drafted in the early rounds of the National Basketball Assn. selections at Cincinnati later this spring.

In his games against the Trotters, Burton may play against his younger brother, Ed, The younger Burton plays with one of Saperstein's Globetrotter units.

Both Burtons were Michigan high school stars at Muskegon Heights.

Roger Zatkoff Quits Football

Lions Lose Linebacker to Business Pressures and Knee Trouble

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions have lost another member from their once-storied defensive unit.

Linebacker Roger Zatkoff, a former Michigan star from Hamtramck, announced his retirement from professional football yesterday.

Zatkoff, twice an all-National Football League selection, said he is leaving the game because of mounting business pressure and recurring trouble from a knee injury.

The Lions got Zatkoff who wanted to play near his home town, from the Cleveland Browns for halfback Lew Carpenter and a draft choice. The Browns had picked him up earlier from Green Bay.

His retirement left the Lions with three NFL-tested linebackers, Capt. Joe Schmidt, Bob Long and Wayne Walker.

Coach George Wilson said he hopes to replace Zatkoff with either rookie Ron Koes of North Carolina or rookie Ben Donnell of Vanderbilt.

Kuenn Succeeds Eddie Yost as AL Player Head

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Harvey Kuenn, 28-year-old center fielder of the Detroit Tigers, was elected yesterday to succeed the retiring Eddie Yost as the American League player representative.

Yost, who stepped down in order to devote more time toward making a comeback with the Tigers this year, remains as a special pension representative. Yost hit .236 last season.

Kuenn, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, has been with the Tiges since 1952.

Players Dismiss Lewis as Leagues' Attorney

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—J. Norman Lewis became the legal representative for the Major League baseball players six years ago despite the belligerent opposition of the club owners. Today, the New York attorney has lost the job because of his own belligerence toward the owners.

★ ★ ★

Lewis was given the ax here yesterday at a meeting of the 16 player representatives. They announced they now have more need for a public relations representative—an agency man to handle endorsements and similar matters—than an attorney.

The representatives, after a day long meeting, took back to their respective clubs a proposal to set up a central office in New York with Frank Scott to act as their representative. Scott already has served as an agent for numerous players.

Lewis himself made the announcement that his contract, which calls for $20,000 a year and expires March 31, had not been renewed. Seemingly composed as he held a press conference in his hotel room, he told newsmen:

"The players believe that by reason of the achievements they already have accomplished, they no longer need a permanent attorney under contract.

"When or if legal matters come up in the future, they will engage an attorney, either from the firm of Lewis, Durante and Bartel, or some other legal office.

"There was no acrimony in our talk with the players. In fact, they expressed their appreciation and gratitude" for the gains they had made in player-owner relations since he was hired in 1953.

★ ★ ★

"But we felt," said one representative, who declined use of his name "that he had become too belligerent toward the owners."

Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies, the National League's representative, insisted, however, that no pressure had been brought upon the players by the owners.

Two recent moves by Lewis led to his dismissal.

One was an attempt to gain a pension fund for International League players. That plan died aborning when players in the Triple A minor league called off a proposed strike in the face of owner insistence that no money was available for such a fund.

The other was Lewis' threatened court action against baseball as an outgrowth of the International pension plan. Such action would attack the reserve clause which binds a player to one club and a contract requirement repeatedly approved by the players.

Burkemo Fires 73 in Seminole

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Walter Burkemo got off to a slow start with most of the others in the first round of the 36-hole $10,000 Seminole Golf Tournament.

The Franklin Hills, Mich., veteran shot a three-over-par 35-38—73 to tie for 11th place. Only Sam Snead, the first day's leader, was operating from a 34-36—70, two strokes below par on the windy, 6,850-yard seashore course.

A stroke behind him at midpoint were Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., Cary Middlecoff, winner of the St. Petersburg Open Monday, and Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg.

Ben Hogan, starting his limited tournament schedule, was out of the top 20 at 75.

Zatkoff, who was obtained by the Lions from the Cleveland Browns in 1957 in exchange for fullback Lew Carpenter, prepped at Hamtramck High and starred at the University of Michigan. He will devote his time to sales business.

4TH GOAL—Marcel Bonin of the Montreal Canadiens (dark jersey) gets his team's 4th goal past Chicago goalie Glenn Hall as Black Hawk defenseman Al Arbour tries to restrain him. Montreal won the game 4-2 in the first of the best-of-seven games of Stanley Cup playoffs in Montreal.

Bonin's 2 Goals Lead Canadiens Past Hawks, 4-2

Harry Lumley Sparkles as Boston Skaters Top Leafs, 5-1

By The Associated Press

Maurice (Rocket) Richard's gloves and the grit and determination of 32-year-old goalie Harry Lumley were the stories behind victories by Montreal and the Bruins in last night's opening play in the Stanley Cup hockey playoffs.

★ ★ ★

Marcel Bonin sparked the Canadiens to a 4-2 victory over Chicago and Lumley held Toronto at bay in Boston's 5-1 victory. Both were opening games in the best-of-seven semi-final series.

★ ★ ★

Richard, out for the past two months with a fracture, watched the Canadiens from the sidelines. When he went into the dressing room to congratulate the team, Bonin sang out:

"Hey, Rocket, here are your gloves," he said, pointing to a pile of equipment he had just discarded, including Richard's gloves.

★ ★ ★

"You had better take good care of them," Richard admonished, grinning. He is expected to rejoin the team next week.

Bonin's two goals broke open a 2-1 contest in which Montreal never trailed after Claude Provost's opening period goal.

★ ★ ★

Goalie Jacques Plante, back in action after missing the season's final three games because of a neck infection, got magnificent support from his defense, getting only 13 saves. Chicago Goalie Glenn Hall rang up 42 as teammate Tod Sloan scored both the Hawks' goals.

★ ★ ★

Canadien Phil Goyette is a doubtful starter for tomorrow night's game. He needed six stitches to close a deep cut near the Achilles tendon of his left foot after a play during the third period.

★ ★ ★

Lumley had 32 saves in thwarting Toronto's Cinderella hopes of continuing their victory sweep. The Leafs won a playoff berth with five straight victories in their final games to beat out New York by one point.

"You couldn't have gotten the puck by the big guy even if you had a gun," Toronto coach Punch Imlach said afterward.

★ ★ ★

Everyone agreed that the former Detroit goalie's save on Frank Mahovlich's shot that he had to scissor between his legs was the turning point. It came in the second period with the Bruins holding a 2-1 edge on goals by Jerry Toppazinni and Leo Labine.

★ ★ ★

Bruins' Vic Stasiuk and Larry Leach then went out and scored before the period was over and Don McKenney added one in the final period. Gerry Ehman scored for Toronto for a 1-1 tie early in the middle period.

Sessions to Begin April 13

Duffy Sets Spring Football Plans

EAST LANSING (AP)—A late start, a long session and a lot of work.

That's the way spring football practice shapes up at Michigan State this year.

Coach Duffy Daugherty will have three new assistants to break in.

He'll have one of the smallest squads in recent years and one of the thinnest, in terms of experience and proven material, in modern day Spartan football history.

But Michigan State can't very well go anywhere but up this season.

★ ★ ★

The Spartans won only three and lost six—all the losses Big Ten games—last fall and had undisputed hold on last place in the conference.

"At least the forecasters can't very well put us out on a limb this year," Daugherty said.

Daugherty shifted spring football practice dates from April 6-May 2 to April 13-May 18.

Michigan's late spring was the main reason for the switch.

★ ★ ★

Daugherty figures he'll have enough troubles without worrying about practice interruptions caused by bad weather.

The squad will work out for four days a week for five weeks instead of five days for four weeks to make the 20-day total allowed by the Big Ten.

★ ★ ★

The thinking is that this will assure more outdoor workouts. Also it will permit one extra Saturday scrimmage and give players time to recover from the inevitable bumps and bruises.

★ ★ ★

Everett (Sonny) Grandelius, offensive backfield coach, will be missing this year. Grandelius left to assume the head job at the University of Colorado and took Buck Nystrom along as an assistant.

Bill Yeoman will move from defensive to offensive backfield coach. Dan Boisture, hired from Redford St. Mary High in Detroit, will become defensive backfield coach.

★ ★ ★

Hank Bullough, a former MSU guard and Green Bay Packers pro player, will replace Nystrom as an assistant coach.

★ ★ ★

Calvin Stoll, former assistant at the University of Georgia and ex-Minnesota end, will become end coach.

Michigan State hasn't had an end coach as such since Bob Devaney left in 1956, the chores being divided among other assistants.

★ ★ ★

For several years, MSU had a stockpile of talent in the end department. But quality and quantity was scarce last year—in ends as at nearly every other position—forcing coaches to the decision it should be a full time job again.

'Minor' Program Slated

Football at Santa Clara

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP) — Once a major football power, Santa Clara will resume the game next fall with a program described as simple, inexpensive and for fun.

The Broncos will renew their rivalry with the San Francisco Dons who replaced their bigtime teams with a minor program in which they play junior varsity and service teams.

Santa Clara announced its program will be fashioned after that at USF and the high point of the season probably will come when the two teams meet.

The Rev. James E. Sweeters, S.J., vice president for student services for Santa Clara, emphasized, "In no way does this minor return to the game of football imply that Santa Clara will again be playing major football teams."

Named as coach was Pat Malley, co-captain of the last major Santa Clara team in 1952 and for the past three years the grid head man at St. Ignatius High School which won two San Francisco city titles.

HOME AGAIN—Red Schoendienst, infielder of the Milwaukee Braves, is greeted by his daughter Eileen and Mrs. Schoendienst after his arrival home from the hospital in St. Louis where he spent five months for tuberculosis. Doctors say he is cured.

Schoendienst Back Home

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Red Schoendienst, Milwaukee Braves' star second baseman, continued his battle against tuberculosis today but had a better vantage point, his home.

Schoendienst left Mt. St. Rose tubercular hospital yesterday after a four-month stay and went home with high hopes—for the distant future.

"I won't be doing much this year," Schoendienst said, "but next year I'll be out for spring training."

His big project now is to follow the doctor's orders.

"It's up to the doctors from here on," he said.

The redhead learned he had contracted TB last fall after the world series. He went into the hospital Nov. 8 and the infected portion of his right lung was removed Feb. 19. His cheeks and the future have looked rosier ever since.

"When they operated they were careful not to cut any of the shoulder muscles and there's no stiffness in the arm," the 35-year-old infielder said.

"I've done everything the doctors have told me and my tests are negative now."

★ ★ ★

Physicians have assured Schoendienst the part of the lung and the part of the rib which were removed during the operation would grow back in about a year and a half.

Schoendienst, St. Louis Cardinal veteran before he was traded to the New York Giants and finally Milwaukee, went to his favorite team, his wife and four children, yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Red's biggest thrill yesterday was seeing his only son, four-months-old Kevin, who was born shortly after he went into the hospital.

All he could do when he saw his three daughters, Colleen, 7, Cathleen, 6, and Eileen 2, was grin and say, "Boy, did you get big."

Revised Softball Setup Planned

Waterford Recreation Maps 1959 Elementary School Leagues

Plans are being made by the Waterford Township Recreation Department for the 8th annual elementary school softball program for both boys and girls.

An organizational meeting for the boys' league is scheduled for all coaches on Wednesday, April 1 at 7:30 p. m. at the Community Center on Williams Lake road. The girls' league organizational meeting will be held at a later date.

This year's program will operate differently than the one of last year. Instead of having an inter-school league, an effort will be made to organize individual school leagues for each of the 18 elementary schools.

The primary purpose for this change is to make it possible for more children to participate from each school. As a climax to the school league season, a one-game elimination tournament will be held with an all-star team from each school competing against the other schools.

Tentative plans call for the boys program to begin the week of April 13. The girls' season will start the week of April 20. Both programs will run approximately seven weeks.

Swan Quintet Falls in Overtime, 45-43

Johnson & Anderson handed White Swan its first defeat in a double overtime thriller and Drayton Drug eliminated Lytell & Colegrove in last night's Waterford League Class A basketball playoffs at Crary Junior High.

After a scoreless three-minute overtime period, John Newcombe fired a field goal in the first minute of sudden death to bring J&A a 45-43 victory over the Swan cagers. Doug Treais scored 13 points, Ron Guyett 11 and Newcombe 10 for the winners.

Dick Muller tallied 11 points and Ron Woodhull 10 to lead the Druggists to a 45-41 triumph over the L&C quintet. Dick Gilchrist hit 13 in a losing cause. Swan and Drug clash Thursday at 7:30 p.m. on the Crary court with the winner meeting J&A next Tuesday for the Class A title.

Champ, Medalist Both Eliminated

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — The American Seniors Golf Assn. tournament moved into the second round today with the defending champion and the medalist already out of the running.

Leon Sikes of West Palm Beach, Fla., the 1957 winner, upset last year's winner, Ed Randall of Rochester, N. Y., 5 and 4, in the first round yesterday.

The medalist, Walcott Brown of Sea Girt, N.J., bowed to 75-year-old William Diddell of Philadelphia, 2 up.

Chick Evans of Chicago, former National Amateur champion, won a 19-hole match over A. E. Whitting of Detroit.

Vernon Law Stops Tigers, 3-1

Pirate Hurler Goes Distance on Four-Hitter

Nelson, Foiles, Harris Rap Homers; Foytack Is Impressive in Defeat

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI)—Willis Hudlin, the drawling Oklahoman who coaches the Detroit Tiger pitching staff, was saying that the Bengals hadn't seen too much good hurling from the opposition this spring.

Hudlin spoke one day too soon.

Pittsburgh came up with a sparkling four-hitter by Vernon Law yesterday that beat the Tigers, 3-1, and snapped Detroit's four-game winning streak before a slim handful of 895 sunbathed fans.

Not to be overlooked in Law's victory — first time anyone has gone the route this spring — was Paul Foytack's seven-inning stint for Detroit. Bill Norman called it as good as nine innings because of a long seige in the seventh when rookie Howard Goss fouled off nearly a dozen pitches and finally struck out on the 16th pitch.

★ ★ ★

More important was that Foytack continued to show sharp control, unlike past springs when he had been the wildest man on the staff. He walked two and struck out three.

The Tigers came up with their fourth straight errorless game. The infield turned in four double plays, one in each of the last three innings.

But even the tightest defense couldn't stop home runs by Rocky Nelson and Hank Foiles who led the 11-hit Pirate assault with three safeties apiece. Gail Harris homered for Detroit's lone run and it was significant that it was only the fifth by Detroit in 13 spring games compared to 17 off Tiger pitching.

★ ★ ★

In that department the Tigers looked the same as the club that finished fifth last season, yielding 130 home runs while getting only 109.

Law, who won 14 and lost 12 last year, was in mid-season form. He walked two and struck out five, getting Larry Osborne and Foytack twice.

Aside from Harris' homer, the only Tiger to reach second was Frank Bolling who doubled in the fourth with two out. Pittsburgh nicked Foytack for a run in the second when Bill Mazeroski drilled a single to center and went to second on a passed ball. Foytack struck out Goss but Foiles followed with a single to score Mazeroski.

Hawks Lead 2-1 Against Lakers

By The Associated Press

If the home court advantage holds up—and it's batting a perfect 6-for-6 so far—the Syracuse Nationals will square their Eastern division series with the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Assn. playoffs tonight.

The Nats trail 2-1 in the best-of-seven scuffling to determine an Eastern NBA champion. But they're the home team tonight and — East and West—nary a visitor has won a game yet.

The St. Louis Hawks followed the pattern in taking a 2-1 lead over Minneapolis in the Western division finals last night, keeping the home folks happy with a 127-97 romp as Bob Pettit rammed in 39 points. The three games in the West have followed the "home team" trend without a hitch.

FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS*

At the end of the policy year, this Exchange returns in cash to the insured members of the Auto Club that portion of the premium not used in paying claims and carrying on the business.

The sum returned over the years, this month reached the prodigious sum of $50,000,000.

Insurance for members cost them $50,000,000 less than they paid for it.

Boat Exhibits on Display at Pontiac Armory

Skin Divers, Safety Classes Highlighting Demonstrations

Everything for boat and water enthusiasts in the way of exhibits, demonstrations and safety classes can be seen at the Pontiac Armory through Sunday.

The Boat, Sports and Travel Show started yesterday with 50 exhibitors, numerous demonstrations and stage shows on the program.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan Skin Divers' Council headed by president Bob Wisner is giving demonstrations in safe diving practices and equipment.

A glass tank has been installed for the spectators to watch the divers perform.

★ ★ ★

The Oakland County Rescue team is available to explain water safety and rules of good boating and the Oakland County Sportsmen's Road Racing club is also giving an exhibition.

Frances DuBay and her "educated" horse along with Art Mee "professor of junkology" head the stage show program. Beginning tomorrow, Lt. Lester Coykendall of the Michigan State Police will give demonstrations in marksmanship, using pistols and sub-machine guns.

★ ★ ★

The show is open from 4 to 11 p.m. through Friday. Saturday's times are 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. and Sunday the show begins at 1 p.m.

Stage shows today and Thursday are at 7 and 9 p.m. and Friday through Sunday at 4, 7 and 9 p.m.

The Pontiac Armory is located on Water street.

SHOW IS ON—Exhibits such as this and many other boats and equipment can be seen at the Sports, Boat and Travel Show which started yesterday at the Pontiac Armory on Water Street. The show, with over 50 exhibitors, will continue through Sunday. Weekday show hours run from 4:00 p. m. to 11:00 p. m. with stage shows tonight and Thursday at 7:00 and 9:00 p.m.

OCSC Riflemen Defeat Brewster

With Cash Bond and Tom Hiltunen leading the way, the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club rifle team defeated the Brewster Gun Club shooters by a score of 925-901 actual and 997-985 handicap.

Bond fired the high actual gun with 187 while Hiltunen had the leading handicap count of 207. C. Nelson's actual 193 and a handicap 203 by Nelson and A. Sanders were tops for the Brewster gunners.

The top actual and handicap scores for the OCSC riflemen were:

C. Bond, 187-198; M. LaPorte, 186-200; T. Hiltunen, 185-207; D. Postma, 174-192; R. Waggoner, 183-195; B. Beam, 183-197.

Brewster's best scores:

C. Nelson, 193-202; W. McMurtrey Jr., 185-197; W. McMurtrey Sr., 178-194; A. Sanders, 174-202; L. Weatherspoon, 171-190.

Other OCSC results were: M. E. Guy, 175-191; D. Bennett, 172-193; B. Anderson, 159-189; D. Marvel, 158-190.

Outlook Regarded Dim for State Deer Herd

By The Press Outdoors Editor

It probably will not make much difference, right now, whether or not a break in the weather, from rough to soft conditions, comes to the Michigan deer-yarding sections. A heavy thaw, that might expose ground shrubs, might slow the starvation rate, along with freeing deer confined to close areas. However, the outlook for the herd is very dim. The starvation toll looms as the worst in state history.

Last week's brief blizzard that dumped from six to ten inches of snow over the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula aggravated the conditions, to leave the prospect much darker than before.

★ ★ ★

DOGS TAKE HEAVY TOLL

The snow-laden blast from the northwest forced deer above the Straits to remain more closely confined than at any time this winter, say conservation authorities.

★ ★ ★

Reports from several areas in both the Upper and Lower Peninsulas, point to increased starvation losses and addition kills of weakened deer by dogs. All but the Gaylord district have found many deer killed by dogs, department reports state.

BIG STURGEON A RARITY THESE DAYS!

Windup of the state spearing season for sturgeon reminds this observer of the days many years ago when this strange, knob-studded creature was plentiful—and big--ih Michigan waters.

★ ★ ★

Lake Michigan trout and whitefish commercial fisherman frequently found huge specimens of the unusual fish in their nets. At one time Mollhagen Brothers of St. Joe took two sturgeons off Grand Haven that measured close to 12 feet in length, weighed 500 pounds.

Placed alive in two big tanks on the old Graham & Morton Steamship line docks, they attracted big crowds of boat weekend excursionists from Chicago.

St. Joe, by the way, was one of the most important ports of Great Lakes commercial fishermen, who operated a half dozen large fleets of sturdy fishing tugs. The business today, has dwindled to a mere fraction of what it was around the early 1900s.

HOT STUFF — The temperature is in the low 20's but the excitement of having caught a whopping big pickerel fishing through the ice of Lake Hoppatcong, N. J., brings a warm smile to the frozen face of nine-year-old Donnie Arbolino.

Going Through Locks Simple and Can Be Fun

A cruising-minded boatman need not hesitate to use waterways that have locks. Going through locks is a simple affair and can be lots of fun, but an awareness of certain pitfalls is needed.

You will want fenders and a boat hook to fend off your boat from the lock's walls as water rises or falls in the locks.

Carry about 100 feet of mooring line, but don't ever make it fast to a ring or bollard. If you do you will probably break the line or find your boat hanging by it.

Instead, loop the line around the bollard or ring so you can play it out or haul it in as necessary.

17th Annual Sportsman's Show Set for April 4-12

The 17th Annual Sportsman's Holiday Show, sponsored by the Detroit Sportsmen's Congress, will be held April 4 through 12 at the Michigan State Fair Grounds, Woodward and Eight Mile Road.

Richard J. Schehr, General Manager of the Exhibits Division of the Marshal Templeton Organization, producer of the show, said the show visitors will see exhibits and entertainment in both the Coliseum and Agricultural Buildings, as well as outdoor participating activities on the grounds adjoining the buildings.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit Sportsmen's Congress is composed of more than 4,500 members and was formed 23 years ago by a group of conservation-minded sportsmen. In addition to the Detroit group, more than 300 other conservation groups throughout Michigan are cooperating with the show.

Outdoor participating activities include a Sports Car Rally, in which more than 100 teams of sports car owners will participate in specially planned trips through the Detroit area from a starting point on the Fair Grounds.

Another sports car event will be a Gymkhana, or obstacle race, to be held adjacent to the Coliseum. Other outdoor events in which visitors may join are archery and skeet and trap shooting contests, with medals and trophies as prizes. Champions in these sports will demonstrate their skills and also advise contestants.

★ ★ ★

An outstanding highlight of the show will be the appearance for the first time in this country of a group of Mexican Indians performing an ancient Aztec religious rite from the top of a 70-foot pole.

Called "Voladores," the natives imitate birds in the air, from which the ritual got its name, while suspended from hand-braided ropes attached to the top of a fresh-cut Michigan tree.

Other attractions include demonstrations by eight different breeds of hunting dogs in obedience and retrieving; bait and flycasting by national and international experts; gun and boat safety instructions by members of the U.S. Coast Guard and pistol marksmanship demonstrations by members of the U.S. Marine Corps.

BEAVERS, OTTERS BEWARE!—Michigan's beaver and otter trapping seasons opened March 20 in five lower peninsula areas and April 1 in four upper peninsula areas. Season lengths and bag limits are adjusted from year-to-year by the Conservation Department, according to varying populations and trapping conditions in each of the nine areas. This game management program is considered a key to improved trapper success. Trappers enjoyed a record beaver and otter harvest last year.

Indoor Open Tourney This Weekend in Detroit

2-Day Archery Meet Slated

One of Michigan's fastest growing participant sports among men and women alike will be given a big shot in the arm this weekend when the Coliseum at the State Fair Grounds in Detroit is transformed into a huge indoor archery range as the site of the largest indoor tournament ever held.

The $7,000 Ben Pearson Open will get under way at 10:00 a.m. Saturday when the first of 268 entrants from 17 states start shooting the first of the two required "Chicago rounds" each day.

That means the bowmen will be taking aim on a 16-inch target from 60 feet, shooting 96 arrows Saturday and returning Sunday to shoot 96 more. Highest possible score that can be attained each round is 864.

Individual competition will hold sway at three sessions each day, at 10:00 a.m., 1:00 p.m., and 4:00 p.m., with four-man teams swinging into action at 8:00 p.m. each night. The team posting the highest total will walk off with $1,000 as top prize.

Spectator tickets will be $1 each day.

Eleven past and present men's and women's national champions have filed entries. Included are such great archers as George Wright of Detroit, Bob Bitner of Big Rapids, Joe Fries of Burbank, Calif., Lon Stanton of Springfield, Mo., O. K. Smathers of Brevard, N.C., Carole Meinhart of Pittsburgh, Pa., Eleanor Mozzadio of Cleveland, O., and Frances Lozon of Marine City, Mich.

A handicap system will be invoked to determine the 20 prize winners following the top three actual scores posted separately among men and women, thus offering the average bowmen a unique opportunity to compete against the nation's leaders.

The fact that this not only is the largest indoor archery event ever undertaken, but that it also is being sponsored by an Arkansas selection of Detroit as the tournament site an important salute to archery interest hereabouts.

Jack Witt, speaking for the Ben Pearson Co., explained:

"Detroit was chosen over all other possible cities because of the great indoor archery activity in that area during the winter months. There are indoor archery ranges all over the area, going on three for a number of years.

"We believe this is only the beginning. If this tournament is successful, and the amazingly large list of entries from coast to coast shows it definitely will be, then there will be many more such tournaments in large cities all over the country.

"Given that kind of an impetus, we may see the same growth in archery during the next few years that we have witnssed in golf and bowling during the last few."

Some Fire Extinguishers Are No Longer Approved

Toxic vaporizing liquid-type fire extinguishers, including carbon tetrachloride and chlorobromomethane units, have been removed from the U. S. Coast Guard's approved list for use aboard recreational boats and certain commercial vessels.

Approval for use of these extinguishers by the Coast Guard ended Dec. 6, 1958.

However, such extinguishers manufactured prior to that date, and in service at that time, may be used by boat owners until Jan. 1, 1962. After that date their use on most small craft will be prohibited.

Solunar Tables

The schedule of solunar periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's solunar tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

Major periods begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. Minor periods are of somewhat shorter duration.

Election Also on Tonight's Program

Pete Dawkins at OCSC

Several highlighted features mark tonight's general membership session at Oakland County Sportsmen's club, at Waterford, topped by installation of new president, Harry Barnes and other OCSC officers.

It's seldom that an outdoors organization gets an opportunity to rub elbows with All-America football players, but that's what will happen at OCSC tonight. Pete Dawkins, Royal Oak's contribution to the top strata of collegiate football, will be a guest of Erwin (Pat) Metzdorf.

Another feature will be a color film of trouting in Wyoming by Jack Jayleen.

Dawkins, Army's great captain and backfield ace, was everybody's All-America, being named on all major selections. Club members will have an opportunity to meet him, and he may be heard in a brief talk.

Other officers to be installed tonight, include 1st vice president, Warren Neuenschwander; 2nd vice president, John Strasser; secretary, Verne Harcourt; treasurer, Erwin (Pat) Metzdorf, and sergeant-at-arms, George Crater. Lewis Wrenn is the only new trustee.

Slump in Flight Ducks

LANSING — While the wintering waterfowl population is about the same as last year in the Mississippi Flyway of which Michigan is a part, fluctuations have occurred in individual species, according to a recent release of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

The bureau, a branch of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, reported "there are indications of a slump in certain important species, including the mallard, canvasback, and redhead."

It added, "canvasbacks and redheads were given special protection by reducing the bag limit from four to two in 1958, yet the downward trend in the flyway population continued. Wildlife officials feel that this situation, if it proves to be general, may require more drastic action."

On the brighter side, Canada goose populations of the flyway reached a new peak, although certain southern states had moderate decreases.

11th Frame

By CHUCK ABAIR

There have been no new threats to the charmed "300" circle around the Pontiac area but an Orchard Lake kegler recently turned the trick in a Detroit doubles tournament.

Frank Miller went all the way despite off-target hits on the last two balls. Perfect games are few and far between in tournaments of any kind. He had other games of 201 and 203 that day for a sparkling 704 series.

A former Cooley Lanes star where he averaged 183 in the Senior House League, Miller is a counter man at the new Bowlerama alleys in Detroit. Naomi and Fred Wood of Pontiac are 4th in the same tourney.

A stubborn six pin in the 10th frame prevented Jim Bailey of Royal Oak from going the route last Saturday in loop play. He wound up with 299 and a 686 series.

MILLER

A practice 300 was rolled in Hazel Park the other day by Hugo Berns following games of 226 and 192. He carries a strong 194 average. Jim Wallace at South Lyon started with seven strikes but had to be content with a 268 after leaving the 7 pin in the 8th frame despite a good hit. Al Blum hit nine in a row at Farmington but finished with 264.

Speaking of perfect games, Rod Smith, who manages both Birmingham Bowl and Bowlero in Royal Oak, is offering $2,000 to the first bowler to roll a sanctioned 300 in one of the two establishments owned by his family. He will keep the standing offer open indefinitely.

HERE AND THERE

The tourney trail goes on and on much to the delight of the keg clan. The Elks Mixed Doubles is currently the big attraction here. Union Lake's Fire Dept. will hold an annual event Saturday at Cooley Lanes while a two-weekend meet is slated for next month at the same site.

Barb Howe proved she knows her own alleys at Clarkston recently with a 645 handicap series. J. Navarro had a 265 men's single there . . . V. Toombs is the new president of the Pontiac Housewives League . . . Cliff Senter rolled a 200 "dutch" game at Dixie.

Add scores: Little Marion McNair hit 253-606 and Bonnie Berden 231 (Elks Ladies Wed.), Ron Roberts 656, Dave Grattop 683 (Farmington), C. Wideman 676, R. Overmyer 671 and Marty Jensen 181 Triplicate (Cooley Senior House).

Chuck Sunseri of Berkley is only 17 but he owns a 712 series . . . Big night coming for new Pontiac 700 Chapter next week . . . Shirley Pointer was the only repeater as all-events actual champion in the City Women's tourney topping last year's score by 90 pins. Huron Bowl No. 2 bettered the best 1958 actual team series by hitting 2623.

Auditions Held for Skate Show

City Rolladium Artists Bid for Leading Parts in 'Spinning Wheels'

Auditions were held this week for the lead solo parts in the 10th annual Pontiac Rolladium show "Spinning Wheels," which will be held May 3, 4 and 5 at the Rolladium rink.

Parts auditioned were Dance Free-Style, Singles, Pairs and Fours in all divisions. Those winning the lead roles will appear with the National Roller Skating championship team to present their annual program.

Tickets for the show are now on sale from any member of the Rolladium Skating Club or at the rink.

The following skaters passed proficiency tests at the Rolladium this week:

NO. 1 DANCE BAR—Evelyn Petersen, Sue Nichols, Norbert Donnelle, Linda Lewis, Boots Gracy, Linda Isberg, Julie Basch, Glenn Frost, Barbara Jones and Don Nathe.
NO. 2 DANCE BAR—Margaret Doub, Donna Mercer, Hazel Newmarch, Margaret Van Horn, Cheryl Wilborne, John Speck, Darlene Paisley, Carol McLaughlin, Glenn Frost, Rex Smith and Leigh Nathe.

ABC Leaders Can Relax This Week

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Leaders in the American Bowling Congress tournament probably will sleep a little easier the rest of this week.

During the remainder of Holy Week, the ABC schedule has been reduced sharply. Unlike the first 39 days of the event, there will not be five to seven hundred bowlers trying to surpass the leaders' scores every day.

Most of the action this week will be limited to booster division teams, which average less than 850 in league play. A few open division clubs are scattered through the schedule, but few have the potential to challenge the leaders.

Yesterday, not a single threat was made at the top 10 in any division.

Troy Lands 3 on Oakland B All-Star Team

Troy High School, which this year won its 3rd straight Oakland B League basketball championship, landed three boys on the 10-player all-conference squad selected by league coaches and announced today.

Lake Orion and Fitzgerald both placed two cagers on the honor team while Avondale, Clawson and Madison each gained one position. Eight other players were given honorable mention.

OAKLAND B LEAGUE ALL-STAR TEAM
TROY—Don Harned, Rod Harris and Rick McKinnon.
LAKE ORION—Jim Recknagel and Barry Hill.
FITZGERALD—John Massengale and George Ceglarek.
AVONDALE—Walt Arnold.
CLAWSON—Newt Acton.
MADISON—Rick Moos.
Honorable Mention List
Bud Acton, Troy; Bob Shuler, Lake Orion; Phil Morgan, Fitzgerald; Gene Schoolitz and Jerry Mattison, Madison; Bill O'Dell, Clawson; Dick and Gary Acker, Avondale.

Pioneer Coon Hunters in Sunday Field Trial

The pioneer Coon Hunters Association will hold a field trial this Sunday at Grange Hall, 16 miles north of Pontiac on Grange Hall road. Signs will be posted on US-10 and Grange Hall road to indicate the route.

Competition is scheduled in Senior, Junior, Green and $300 Claiming classes and no semifinals are planned. The entry fee is $5 and entries close at 10 a.m. First and second dogs each will run for a $150 purse. John Feldman will be the field marshall.

Stengel Sees Detroit as Most Troublesome

Can Yankees Be Beaten? 'No' Says Casey

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Don't take too much stock in what rival American League managers are saying about the Yankees — that they can be beaten.

Casey Stengel says they can't.

Stengel, who has guided the Yankees to nine pennants in his 10 years as manager, picks Detroit as the club most likely to give his team trouble.

"But what the heck, let's face facts," Stengel said. "We have players on our bench, what the hell we even have players in the minors who would be regulars on any other club but the Yankees.

"They say I've got problems. Well, them who say it should have the same ones. They'd be happy. My problem is to decide which players to keep. We only have Major Leaguers. The other clubs have to decide what minor leaguers they want to carry."

Stengel admits he would like more pitching, but adds "What team doesn't?" He thinks he has enough as it is, but as insurance he would like to pick up Dick Hyde from the Senators in case his relief specialist of last year, Ryne Duren, should not recover completely from his knee operation.

He also has to consider Whitey Ford's sore arm and big Don Larsen's ailing shoulder. Casey, however, isn't worried about either. Bob Turley, the hero of the Yankees come-from-behind world series triumph over the Braves last year, will be his No. 1 pitcher. He had a 21-7 record in 1958 and looks better than ever this spring.

For other starters there are Ford (14-7), rated one of the best clutch pitchers in the business; Larsen (9-6); Johnny Kucks (8-8); Tom Sturdivant (3-6); Duke Maas (11-8) and Art Dittmar (9-8). Backing up Duren (6-4) in the bullpen, he has little Boby Shantz (7-6), who also can be spotted as a starter; Zack Monroe (4-2) and two veterans, Murry Dickson (10-7) and Virgil Trucks (2-2).

Of the Yankee rookie hurlers, Mark Freeman, who won 13 while losing 10 at Denver last season, has the best chance to make it.

Actually no position on the Yankees, outside of centerfield where Mickey Mantle will hold forth, is set. It looks like it will be Hank Bauer in right and Norm Siebern in left with the 43-year-old Enos Slaughter in reserve.

But Stengel has more outfielders than that. Yogi Berra, long the Yankees' No. 1 catcher, can play right field and Elston Howard, who probably will take over for Berra as the top catcher this season, can play left. Any way Stengel wants to shift them, he isn't hurting.

John Blanchard, who hit .291 at Denver last year with 19 homers and 96 runs batted in, also is in the catching picture, as is last year's No. 3 man, Darrell Johnson.

* * *

Until Tony Kubek gets out of service — which will be within a few weeks — Stengel will shuffle his infield around. Moose Skowron figures to start at first but Howard also can play this position. Also there is Marvin Throneberry.

Bobby Richardson probably will be at second, Gil McDougald at short and either Andy Carey or Jerry Lumpe at third. But when Kubek returns, he figures to take over the shortstop post with McDougald taking over second from Richardson.

The Yankees have plenty of other possibilities — so many in fact that Stengel admits he does have "one problem."

"They're all so good, it's going to be hard to decide which players to keep," he explains.

Whichever ones he decides to keep, they figure to make a shambles out of the American League pennant race in 1959 — just as they did last year.

POINT OF VIEW — Harvey Raynor (left), checking greens with a greenskeeper during a rain to see if they are fit for tournament play, thinks American golf is better than ever. The PGA tournament supervisor credits improvement of amateur golf for the fine, new crop of professionals.

Junior Golf Credited for Fine Crop of Pros

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—This nation's golf game is improving all the time, said Harvey Raynor, shepherd of the sport's touring flock of professionals.

Stealing a few moments from the job of directing the Texas Open, the PGA tournament supervisor discussed the present stte of American golf.

There are more new faces on the professional tour this year than ever before, he said, thanks to the vast improvement in amateur golf since World War II.

New interest in junior and college golf is responsible, said Raynor. The junior chamber of commerce and other national organizations have promoted junior golf while the colleges are emphasizing the game more than ever before.

"You don't think there are more good golfers?" asked Raynor. "Well, take the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas. In 1953, when it was started, there were 17 entries. This time 28 already have qualified for it."

To play in the tournament, a golfer must win one of the tournaments on the PGA tour.

"The average scoring for the tournaments is lower," Raynor said. "Records are being set every year."

Kids 15 years old at the end of the war are top players on the tour now, said Raynor. They came up, not through the caddie ranks as formerly, but through high school, college and amateur golf.

Raynor ticked off the names of about 35 professionals who made the grade this way, including Paul Harney, Ken Venturi, Shelley Mayfield, Arnold Palmer, Dow Finsterwald, Art Wall, Jay Herbert, Mike Souchak, Billy Maxwell and Gene Littler.

Final, Tough 1,000 Miles Ahead for Alaska 59ers

TESLIN, Yukon (UPI)—Detroit's pioneering '59ers were about 1,000 miles from their new life on Alaska's Kenai Peninsula today, but they've got a tough route to travel.

After 18 days of traveling from Detroit, the homesteaders covered about 4,300 miles. The next part of their trip may prove the toughest.

Last night the group camped at Whitehorse where the snow is windshield deep along the Alaskan highway.

Probe Charges in Coin Racket

Mobsters May Have Used Unions as Pawns in Miami

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators look today into charges that mobsters used labor unions as pawns in maneuvering for monopoly control of Miami area jukebox operations.

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the Labor-Management Committee hearing will center on Joseph (Joe Scootch) Indellicato and Charles Karpf, whom he described as Miami racketeers, and their relations with jukebox operator Joseph Mangone and others.

Among other things, Kennedy said, the hearing will show that racketeers sought variously to use the Upholsterers Union, the Textile Workers Union, the Electrical Workers and the Teamsters in battling for complete control of Miami's jukebox industry.

Kennedy said the committee has evidence that strong arm violence was used against those who refused to bow to underworld demands.

The hearing marks another chapter in the committee's investigation of charges of a coast-to-coast plot by gangsters and corrupt labor union officials to muscle in on lucrative jukebox and other coin machine operations.

The committee had a brief encounter Tuesday with two old underworld figures, Mickey Cohen and Fred Sica. Both ducked behind Fifth Amendment pleas when questioned about allegations of shakedowns in Los Angeles against George M. Seedman, a cigarette vending machine operator.

Cohen, who insists he is leading an honest life, also refused to tell whether he owes the government more than a half million dollars of income taxes, or to discuss his sources of income. He said answers might incriminate him.

As for the shakedowns alleged by one witness, Cohen refused to say whether he and Sica had collected $11,000 as a price for being neutral in a trade war between Seedman and some business rivals.

Nor would he say whether the alleged payments came after Cohen reportedly told of being offered $50,000 if he would "put Mr. Seedman's lights out."

★ ★ ★

Testimony about that purported threat came from Tom Vaughn, a New Orleans cigarette machine operator. Vaughn said he handed $11,000 of Seedman's money to Cohen and Sica.

But he added that he does not now believe either man was working for the rival Coast Cigarette Vender, Inc.

Coast's Vice President Myer Carr and salesman William Breen testified they had rejected an offer to help from Sica for a $25,000 fee. They said they never had paid a cent to either Cohen or Sica.

"Our company doesn't do business with people like that," Carr said.

Hemisphere Papers Give Newsmen Scholarships

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP)—The Inter-American Press Assn. (IAPA) has announced the winners of five journalism scholarships for exchange study within the hemisphere.

The $2,500 grants allow Latin Americans to study in the United States and North Americans to study in Latin American countries.

Donations to the scholarship fund were announced from the Louisville (Ky.) Times Foundation; El Intransigente of Salta; the New York Times; the Josephine Stedem Scripps Foundation through E. W. Scripps of Atherton, Calif.; the Midland (Mich.) Daily News; The Pontiac (Mich.) Press through Harold A. Fitzgerald; the Wooster (Ohio) Daily Record; the Nassau (West Indies) Daily Tribune; La Prensa of Buenos Aires, and the Copley Charities through James S. Copley.

The U. S. winners are Claude E. Erbsen, New York, scholarship donated by El Tiempo of Bogota, Colombia; James H. Purks, Raleigh, N.C., Reader's Digest scholarship, and Teddy Wallace Roe, Billings, Mont., scholarship donated by El Intransigente of Salta, Argentina.

James de Silva Andrews of the Trinidad Guardian was chosen for a Chicago Sun-Times scholarship, and Guillermo Zavala of El Diario, La Paz, Bolivia, won a New York Times scholarship.

Robert U. Brown, chairman of the fund, said the IAPA expects to grant 11 scholarships this year and has granted 28 during the last 3½ years.

Two Children Found Slain

Mother Said to Confess Murders After Taking Heavy Dose of Drugs

HIBERNIA, N.J. (AP) — Two children were found slain Tuesday, their bodies swathed in a blanket and jammed in a clothes basket. One had been bludgeoned to death.

The victims were Katherine Church, 2, and her brother Kenneth, 6 months, children of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Church. The bodies were found by Robert Brudge, captain of the Hibernia rescue squad.

Police Chief Ernest Powers of Rockaway Township said early today Brudge had given police a sworn statement alleging that Ellen Church, 38, the mother, told him she killed the children and disclosed where she put the bodies.

No charges have been placed against Mrs. Church, who was found by her husband in their home, heavily drugged.

★ ★ ★

Church, a microbiologist for the Warner - Lambert Pharmaceutical Co. in Morris Plains, told police he came home from work to find his wife and two other children, Elizabeth, 14, and Stephen, 9, under the influence of drugs.

The scientist said he spent the next three hours trying to find his two youngest children and trying to keep his wife away from the other two.

At 9:30 p.m. police received a telephone call. They say they think it was from Mrs. Church. The rescue squad found the two dead youngsters in a playhouse some 50 feet from the Churchs' rural home.

Mrs. Church was taken to St. Clare's hospital in Denville and placed under police custody. She told hospital authorities she had taken "some pills."

Katherine was bludgeoned to death by a blunt instrument. An autopsy was scheduled for both children. The other children were nauseated but otherwise unharmed.

Powers said Mrs. Church would be examined by a psychiatrist.

Church was questioned by police and released.

Survival in N-Attack Will Be Lonely Thing

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's Civil Defense chief says individual survival in the event of a nuclear attack will be a personal and lonely thing.

"Because of deadly fallout, two weeks may pass before even local government could help you," Leo A. Hoegh, director of the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization, warned in a talk yesterday.

Hoegh said the head of every hold has a personal and family responsibility to carry out the five civil defense plans for staying alive in a sea of radioactivity:

Know warning signals, learn the community's emergency plan, know the rules for fallout protection, prepare your home for emergencies, and prepare to receive emergency warnings on radio.

Order Murder Trial in Beating of Oldster

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—An unemployed odd jobs worker has been bound over to Macomb Circuit Court in the fatal beating of an 85-year-old Mount Clemens woman.

Joseph R. Troyer, 38, charged with common law murder, waived examination yesterday when he was arraigned before Municipal Judge Malcolm E. Trombley. Common law murder leaves determination of the degree to the jury.

Police Lt. Russ Girard said Troyer told of beating Mrs. Mary Douglas with a steel tape dispenser when she let him into an apartment he sought to rent last week. The woman died two days after the beating.

Roofing Job Too Good, Covers Up Chimney

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — Ernest Johnson put a new roof on his house Tuesday, then fired up his stove and relaxed.

Soon his roof was ablaze and his home full of smoke.

Firefighters saved part of the roof and said the trouble was Johnson built the roof right over the chimney.

Reports of Tibetan Struggle Sound Freedom's Death Knell

KALIMPONG, India (AP)—Fighting in the Tibetan capital of Lhasa represents a desperate attempt—maybe the last—of more than one million Tibetans to avoid being crushed beneath 600 million Chinese.

The Tibetans have little hope.

This estimate was given today by Tibetan sources in Kalimpong at the end of the caravan route to the remote, mysterious land in the Himalayas.

The sources indicate that what for the last three years has been primarily guerrilla warfare against the Chinese Communists by one Tibetan tribal group, the Khampas, has now become a truly national effort to throw off Peiping moves toward absorption of the traditionally independent Tibetans.

★ ★ ★

"Our religion is going, our race is going. We are going to be wiped out by the Chinese," says Jyalo Thondup, brother of the Dalai Lama, Tibet's spiritual leader who is the focal point of the struggle.

Without outside help, Tibetans here do not expect a military victory. And Prime Minister Nehru says Tibet is an internal Chinese matter and India will not intervene.

Apart from days old news coming out along the 310 mile mule-yak route between Lhasa and Kalimpong, the only direct source of information is the India consulate general radio in Lhasa.

However, it is possible to piece together this sequence of recent events:

The Khampa tribesmen in Eastern Tibet and some in China proper have been fighting the Chinese Communists since 1956, five years after the Chinese Communist takeover of Tibet. They are said to be fighting in the name of the Dalai Lama but some consider them traditionally warlike, fighting more from habit and embarrassing the Dalai.

★ ★ ★

The Dalai Lama, under the eyes of the Chinese Communists, has never overtly accepted the Khampa cause. But his public speeches on religious subjects have used parables with nationalistic and patriotic themes generally interpreted as anti-Chinese Communist.

★ ★ ★

The Red China military commander, with an estimated 50,000 to 70,000 troops in the Lhasa area, invited the Dalai Lama March 8 to dinner March 10, specifying he should not bring a bodyguard. The news leaked out, one unverifiable report says, because the Dalai's mother was seen weeping with worry for her son's safety.

Early in the morning of March 10 more than 40,000 of the approximately 100,000 Lhasa population demonstrated. They shouted slogans against Chinese Communist oppression. They said Tibet was independent and would not longer obey Chinese Communist orders.

★ ★ ★

The crowd surged two miles outside Lhasa to Norbulingka, the Dalai's summer palace and demanded that he refuse to attend the dinner. The Dalai appeared and promised over a loudspeaker he would not go.

Feeling was still running high March 11 when more than 5,000 women demonstrated. They carried black flags, symbols of opposition to the Chinese Communists, and repeated the anti-Communist slogans. The Dalai Lama again appeared. This was his last reported public appearance.

The Indian government says the crowd also asked Indian Consul General Major Chibber to intercede for the Dalai Lama but Chibber declined.

An uneasy quiet ensued until about March 15 when fears of Chinese Communist maneuvering combined with a report that a plane had landed at a nearby airfield, presumably to remove the Dalai Lama, caused the people to rush the Tibetan national arsenals.

The Chinese Communists had never seized the weapons of the mostly disbanded Tibetan National Army—reportedly rifles plus half a dozen four-inch cannons. Fighting broke out a few days later.

★ ★ ★

The spark that set it off is not known although one source said a Tibetan National Army commander gave the signal.

A usually reliable source said artillery was used in the fighting and two major monasteries on the outskirts of Lhasa were burning March 21 apparently as a result of the shelling.

Casualties and the outcome of the Lhasa fighting are not known though sources here concede the Chinese Communists were able to employ a superior force.

Fighting was reported at the same time in Gyantse, a major city on the India-Lhasa route. Guerrillas are believed to dominate most of the area between Lhasa and Bhutan plus some territory north of Lhasa and Eastern Tibet. There has been no confirmation that the guerrillas linked up with the Lhasa populace in this outbreak.

Balls Won't Recognize American League Chief

CHICOPEE, Mass. (UPI) — Former Boston Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin may be the American League's new president, but you won't be able to prove it by the 76,000 baseballs that will be batted around in the league this year.

A spokesman for A. G. Spalding and Bros., Inc., of Chicopee, says baseballs bearing the signature of former president William Harridge have been declared official for the 1959 season. Cronin wasn't named to succeed Harridge until last Jan. 29.

May Wheat Hits New High Price

CHICAGO (AP) — The May wheat future continued to attract strong support in early transactions today on the Board of Trade and hit a new high price for the season.

At one time within the first few minutes the contract was ahead almost two cents a bushel but fell back on more liberal offerings at the new peak.

Other grains were steady to firm with rye up major fractions of a cent in most contracts in the initial dealings.

Wheat was ⅜ to 1⅝ cents a bushel higher after about an hour, May $2.07; corn unchanged to ½ higher, May $1.19⅝; oats unchanged to ½ higher, May 66⅞; Rye ¼ to ¾ higher, May $1.31; soybeans ¼ to ½ higher, May $2.25⅞.

Factory Employment Up in Traverse City

TRAVERSE CITY (UPI) —Employment at 12 Traverse City factories increased 20 per cent during February and employment at the end of February was 12 per cent higher than at the same time a year ago, the Chamber of Commerce reported today.

The 12 reporting firms said they had 1,365 persons on their payrolls at the end of February, compared to 1,135 in January and 1,220 during February 1958. The Michigan Employment Security Commission office reported it had 2,000 applications for employment on file in February compared to 2,625 a year ago, a 24 per cent drop. The office services Traverse City and surrounding counties.

About 12 million Americans have moved to the suburbs during the past 10 years — the largest migration in United States history.

Sam's to Open 2nd Drugstore

Auburn Hts. Pharmacy Ready for Business Tomorrow

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Sam's Drugstore is staging the grand opening of its second store tomorrow, Sam Dunsky, proprietor, announced today.

Formerly known as Horst's Drugstore, it has been completely remodeled along latest style lines, with an enlarged liquor department.

★ ★ ★

The new store is located on Auburn road across from the original Sam's Drugstore, and is licensed by the state as a specially designated distributor.

We have a lot of faith in Auburn Heights, and believe that our present expansion will serve our patrons even more effectively," Dunsky said.

★ ★ ★

"Trained cosmetic girls will offer one of the largest selections in the area," Dunsky added. Between 30 and 40 leading brands of cosmetics, colognes and perfumes will be sold in the new store.

Say City Fire Caused by Defective Wiring

Defective wiring was blamed by Pontiac firemen for a blaze which yesterday caused $1,400 damage to a home at 762 W. Huron St.

The fire was confined to a second floor bedroom in the home of Elsie Miller. Firemen said the fire started in a bed and was evidently sparked by a short in the wiring on a lamp attached to the headboard.

Loss to the building was set at $600 and at $800 to the contents. The fire took place at about 4:30 and rush hour traffic was backed up for several blocks for almost 30 minutes.

Rain Insurance Paid

ANDALUSIA, Ala. (UPI)—The local Kiwanis Club purchased a $1,000 rain insurance policy for an outdoor circus which went into effect at 6 p.m. last night. Rain fell at 6:10 o'clock.

Find Vessel Aground

ALGONAC (AP)—A 35-foot fishing vessel which ran aground in the middle channel of Lake St. Clair was found late yesterday by the Coast Guard. The two men aboard were reported in good condition. They were Leonard Grayton and Cecil Turner, both of Port Huron.

Electronics Aid Market to Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — Selective strength among coppers, chemicals and electronics helped the stock market to a moderate gain in active early trading today.

Gains of fractions to about a point outnumbered losers in the same range.

★ ★ ★

The market was following through on yesterday's late improvement which gave the market a slight rise after four reactionary sessions.

Anaconda and Kennecott added more than a point each.

Du Pont advanced about 4 while other leading chemicals showed fractional gains.

Texas Instrument gained about a point following word of its new electronic development. Polaroid recouped more than 2 points. Fractional gains were shown by such electronics as Raytheon, Philco and Radio Corp.

Philadelphia & Reading, continuing its slide, cut an early 3-point loss to about a point.

Brunswick, Balke opened half an hour late, rising 2⅜ to 77¼ on 3,500 shares.

Also delayed in opening, Zenith rose 5 to 266½.

Minute Maid and Ruppert were active and fractionally higher.

Chrysler was firm while other motors showed small minus signs. Most leading steels, oils and airlines were slightly higher. Rails were mixed.

Detroit Edison dropped ½ to 45½ on a block of 13,700 shares.

Ready Permits for Scavenging

City Sets Up License Regulations to Operate at Kennett Dump

The Pontiac Department of Public Works today readied temporary permits for scavenging at the Kennett road dump, following adoption by the City Commission of a limited open-door policy.

The permits, to be issued tomorrow or Friday, will be convertible to an annual basis under terms of a new ordinance which Commissioners asked for last night.

The new policy reverses the recent decision to halt scavenging at the dump altogether. Previously, there had been no controls imposed on scavengers.

The ordinance will set a $50 license fee for each vehicle used in scavenging and $10 a scavenger. It will set up rules of conduct and limit the number of scavengers to two per vehicle.

Commissioners decided to allow scavenging on a limited basis after complaints from about a half-dozen persons who said they made a living by it.

PUBLIC SALE

1957 Chevrolet Station Wagon, Serial No. VB57P243380. Sale to be held 10:30 a.m., March 27, 1959 at 601 Pontiac State Bank Bldg., Pontiac, Michigan.
March 25, 26, '59.

NOTICE OF SALE—$215,000 SCHOOL District of the City of Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan, School District Bonds.

Sealed bids for the purchase of School District Bonds to be issued by the School District of the City of Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan, of the par value of $215,000 will be received by the undersigned, at the Board of Education offices, No. 40 Patterson Street, in the City of Pontiac, Michigan, until 7:30 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on Thursday, the 9th day of April, 1959, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

Said bonds will be dated August 1, 1958, will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $1,000 each or in larger denomination at the option of the original purchaser, will be numbered consecutively in the direct order of their maturities from 1 upwards, and will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding 4% per annum, payable on November 1, 1959, and thereafter semiannually on May 1 and November 1. Each bid shall state the annual interest rate or rates upon which it is submitted, expressed in multiples of ⅛ of 1%. The interest rate for each coupon period on any one bond shall be at one rate only. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

Said bonds will mature serially on the first day of May in each year as follows: $5,000 in each year from 1959 to 1967, and $10,000 in each year from 1968 to 1984, all years inclusive. Bonds maturing in the years 1960 and 1964, both inclusive, are subject to redemption by the school district prior to maturity, in inverse numerical order, on any one or more interest payment dates on and after May 1, 1959, at par and accrued interest. Notice of redemption shall be published not less than 30 days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the City of Detroit, Michigan, which carries as a part of its regular service, notices of the sale of municipal bonds. Both principal and interest will be payable at the Community National Bank of Pontiac, Michigan.

The bonds are to be issued for the purpose of defraying a part of the cost of erecting and equipping a new school buildings and additions to existing school buildings in said school district, and will be the general obligations of the school district which is authorized and required by law to levy upon all the taxable property therein such ad valorem taxes as may be necessary to pay said bonds and the interest thereon, without limitation as to rate or amount.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from May 1, 1959 to their respective maturities and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the school district. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $4,300 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the school district must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Dickinson, Wright, Davis, McKean and Cudlip (Claude H. Stevens, of Counsel), attorneys, Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds. The cost of said legal opinion and of the printing of the bonds will be paid by the school district. Bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

Approved November 7, 1958.

STATE OF MICHIGAN—In the Probate Court for the County of Oakland, Juvenile Division.

In the matter of the petition concerning Wayne Hamlin, minor. Cause No. 16591.

To John Hamlin, father of said child.

Petition having been filed in this Court alleging that the present whereabouts of the father of said minor child are unknown and the said child has violated a law of the State, and that said child should be placed under the jurisdiction of this Court.

In the name of the people of the State of Michigan, you are hereby notified that the hearing on said petition will be held at the Oakland County Service Center, Court House Annex, 1200B West Blvd., in the City of Pontiac in said County, on the 8th day of April, A.D. 1959, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, and you are hereby commanded to appear personally at said hearing.

It being impractical to make personal service hereof, this summons and notice shall be served by publication of a copy one week previous to said hearing in The Pontiac Press, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

Witness, the Honorable Arthur E. Moore, Judge of said Court, in the City of Pontiac in said County, this 23rd day of March A.D. 1959.

Tiddly Tourney Foul Play Is Just Not Cricket

LONDON (UPI) — It wasn't cricket but the Duke of Edinburgh wanted his team to play dirty tiddly winks.

★ ★ ★

Queen Elizabeth's husband so instructed his champions, London's Empress Club. The club met defending world champion Cambridge University for the tiddly winks title last night.

In a cable from the Royal Yacht, Prince Philip ordered his club to play "an even dirtier game than the Goons" from Cambridge.

"I expect the contest to be carried through in the usual thoroughly unsporting manner which befits all great tiddly winks matches," he said. The Empress Club "had better win this time or I shall see to it that their winking license is withdrawn."

★ ★ ★

The Cambridge Goons, recalled they were Philip's champions last year and played their usual dirty game.

★ ★ ★

Last night's game, played for the benefit of the Duke's favorite charity saw the defending Goons rout the Empress Club, 88½ to 25½.

★ ★ ★

Cambridge captain P. J. Downes then challenged the Duke next year to tiddly his own winks personally.

A dirty business, what?

Huge Chained Dog Kills Boy in Shed

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—An 80-pound Siberian husky Tuesday attacked and killed a 5-year-old boy who had climbed through a hole into a shed where the dog was chained.

★ ★ ★

Billy Stillions, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stillions of Tumwater, Wash., died of a slashed jugular vein and other injuries, Thurston County Coroner Hollis Fultz reported.

★ ★ ★

The Stillions family was visiting the Martin J. Sebaska farm.

Tuesday evening, Fultz said, the boy left the house, and failed to answer subsequent calls from his parents. Shortly thereafter, Sebaska went to the shed and discovered the boy's body. Sebaska shot the dog.

Trial Is Postponed

CROWN POINT (AP)—A Crown Point judge has postponed for at least six weeks the trial of two men charged with beating an elderly Michigan man last July. The two, both of Gary, Ind. are accused of attacking Nelson Ellwood, 67, clerk of Comstock Township.

Tragic Death of Son in English Cave Shouldn't Quench Desire

CASTLETON, England (UPI)—Eric Moss, father of the Oxford student who died deep in a North England cave before rescuers could reach him, said today the tragedy should not quench the desire of other youngsters for daring exploration.

★ ★ ★

"Not even something like this will stop young men with the itch for adventure from exploring caves," Moss said. "And that is as it should be."

His son Neil Moss, 20, lay entombed today in the narrow rock passage where he met a nightmare death more than a thousand feet underground.

The words of the elder Moss will help forestall some of the criticism, already being voiced, that cave explorers risk not only their own lives, but the lives of those who go to their rescue if they fall victim to misfortune.

More than 300 police, firemen, coal miners, air force and navy submarine rescue experts as well as cave explorers and volunteers fought for nearly two days to save the university student.

Como's 'Nice' Special Drugs, Doesn't Entertain

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Last night's one-hour Perry Como special for NBC-TV was amiable, agreeable, well-behaved, even-tempered, affable and nice, nice, nice.

★ ★ ★

But that was just the trouble with it. It was nice and that's all. It had no substance, no vitality, no wit, no grit, no grain. It was all milk toast and weak tea.

I don't mean to be disagreeable about this. No, come to think of it, I take that back: I do.

This sort of thing — the elaborately casual show, the friendly puppy dog - gee - whillikers - and-shucks kind of approach to entertainment is not really entertainment at all. It is a narcotic for living room lotus eaters.

★ ★ ★

Last night, there was really only one number in the whole Como special that had any fiber—that, a stylish attack on "Captain Hook's Waltz" by Cyril Ritchard.

The rest of the show was formula stuff: some pleasant Como songs and some infirm chatter that never went anywhere.

"Well, this sort of show is like having friends in," say apologists.

But I say if any of my friends were as unvaryingly bland, as lacking in real stimulation as these TV friends, I would promptly boot them out the door.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: CBS-TV's Du Pont Show of the Month has been renewed for next season—it'll present nine 90-minute dramas starting in September . . . Mike Nichols, Elaine May and Dorothy Loudon will be the panelists on NBC-TV's panel show, Laugh Line, which debuts April 16—the game calls for the panel to ad lib captions for cartoons.

★ ★ ★

NBC-TV's Hallmark of Fame production of "Green Pastures" Monday received a neat Trendex of 24.0—"Green Pastures" pulled a Trendex of only 12.5 its first time out in 1957.

Bridegroom, 19, Bride of 69 Wed for 'Keeps'

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A 19-year-old student and his 69-year-old bride spent their first day at home Tuesday beating off demands of the bride's children that they end their marriage.

★ ★ ★

Paul Dunn and Lola Tipton Dunn said they were wed Monday in Covington, Tenn., by County Judge Stanley Shoaf and intend to stay that way.

"I told them I have already promised before God and witnesses to stand by him always, and I will," said Mrs. Dunn.

★ ★ ★

They met about a year ago when Dunn, studying accounting at a business school, rented a room from his future wife. "I was lost within the world and had no one to care," he said. "She looked to me to be the same."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dunn, a widow of 19 years, said she first felt "very sympathetic to him. And later we fell in love. We tried to fight it. He moved out for a month. And then we gave in."

Mrs. Dunn declined to identify her son and daughter, both of whom are married. She said her son is in his mid-thirties and her daughter about 40.

★ ★ ★

"They told me they're afraid of all the humiliation and he thinks he'll lose his position," Mrs. Dunn said.

Luncheon, Card Party Set at Lady of Lakes Church

Our Lady of the Lakes Church in Waterford Township will have a noon-day luncheon and card party in the parish hall Monday.

★ ★ ★

Some 200 people are expected to attend the annual affair. All proceeds will be donated to the school building fund, according to Chairman Mrs. Richard McCarius.

Life Never Seems Dull for This Popular Lady

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—While the Sinatra's away, the Aly Khan will play.

WILSON

Lady Beatty, Frankie's most recent No. 1 gal, appeared to be Aly Khan's No. 1 date the other a.m. at the big party he gave. Frankie had taken off for Hollywood a few hours before. Lady Beatty, the former Adele Dillingham from Tulsa, was wearing a gold lame dress with a belt around the knees and seemed to be enjoying the Aly's company when they were dancing closely.

She left for England the other day so the romance with Frank seems to be over—for a few days, anyway. "Call me when you get to London," the Lady said evidently sincerely. "I'm one of the few people still in the phone book."

Once when embarrassed by a mistake, she says, "I must go, I've got one of my terrible headaches—in fact, I've got five of them."

Nobody ever really believed Zsa Zsa Gabor and Hal Hayes would get married despite the diamond ring and all the talk—and she admitted at Aly Khan's party that she's broken the engagement, darling." She was with writer Andre Solt. Re marriage: Yes, she'd be glad to marry again, somebody like Conrad Hilton or her ex-husband, George Sanders . . . Tropical Island Paradise Just a Bore to Airmen

GERHALA ISLAND, Sulu Sea (AP)—How would you like to live six months on a tropical island complete with a comfortable cabin, radio and refrigerator and your own white beach at the doorstep?

Four U.S. airmen here aren't exactly overjoyed.

Among the drawbacks are poisonous snakes and giant lizards. An abandoned leper colony is nearby. But the airmen say the worst thing is monotony and loneliness.

"I've come to the conclusion you can take this exotic stuff and give it to somebody else," said S. Sgt. John C. Coleman, 26, of Towanda, Penn. "I've had my fill of just basking in the sun."

"We have a life of boredom and waiting to go home," echoed S. Sgt. H. O. Jones, 27, of Cairo, Ga., dressed in the uniform of the day—a bath towel around the waist.

★ ★ ★

Coleman and Jones are stationed for six months on this British island four miles off Sandakan, North Borneo, with Airman C. David Pair, 32, (Route 1) Double Springs, Ala., and S. Sgt. John R. Overstreet, 29, (Route 1) Durant, Okla.

They belong to the 1370th Aerial Photomapping Group in the Philippines and are not permitted to discuss their mission. Sources in Sandakan say they are manning a ground locator station in a U.S. Air Force project connecting surveys of Borneo and the Philippines to produce the great accuracy needed for missile-age maps.

★ ★ ★

Every few days, the men are called on their radio to operate equipment atop a hill from which they can see both Borneo and the Philippines Sulu Archipelago.

Otherwise, it's a life of playing cards, cooking the food brought in monthly by a Navy ship, boating, swimming and fishing.

"We trawl but haven't caught a thing yet," said Coleman.

The Americans discovered after they arrived Dec. 5 that Berhala is the site of a leoprosarium. In World War II the Japanese had a prison camp here.

★ ★ ★

A few weeks after the airmen got in, authorities burned buildings of the former North Borneo Leoprosarium near their cabin.

Big day of the week is Monday, when the airmen climb aboard a lighthouse keeper's boat for the four-mile journey to Sandakan. They mail letters and buy odds and ends.

Icehouse Fall Takes 5 Lives

Two More Missing as Shed Atop Meat Plant Crashes Building

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Searchers sifted through the ruptured interior of a meat packing plant today looking for two workers believed missing in a freak disaster which claimed five lives.

Five workers died Tuesday when an ice house atop the seven-story brick building collapsed. It ripped huge holes in each floor in its dive to the basement. Sixteen other workers were injured.

Tons of rubble and meat were piled at the base of the building. The stinging aroma of ammonia was prevalent as the searchers continued their task.

Company officials said they are fairly certain the missing men are buried in the debris and presumed dead. They were identified as Claud Wilkinson and James McIntosh.

★ ★ ★

Scores of lives were saved when seconds elapsed before each floor section gave way. Workers said they heard muffled rumbles similar to an earthquake and scurried to safety.

A coffee break may have saved additional lives. Officials said there was no way to determine how many of the plant's 1,100 workers were in the building at the time.

Ironically, one of the victims, Ronnie Porter, was an off-duty fireman working on his day off.

'Go' Signal Doesn't Excuse Caution

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—You apparently stand a better chance of getting killed in Rhode Island by crossing intersections with the traffic light than against it.

According to the Automobile Club of Rhode Island, "10 per cent of all pedestrians killed at intersections in 1957 were crossing with the signal, while 6 per cent were crossing against it.

These figures prove conclusively that it is dangerous to assume that the 'go' signal on the traffic light relieves the pedestrian of the need for alertness."

Beaver, Brother Save Nearly 3rd of TV Earnings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Beaver and his brother are saving almost a third of their television earnings.

The two made their annual court appearance as minors to report on their savings Tuesday. They are Jerry Mathers, 10-year-old star of the "Leave It To Beaver" series, and Tony Dow, his 13-year-old sidekack.

Superior Judge John Gee Clark ordered last year that 5 per cent of their earnings go into a savings account. Tuesday he raised this to 20 per cent.

Tony's mother, Mrs. Muriel D. Dow, and Jerry's father, Norman Mathers, who is head counsellor for the Los Angeles school system, reported they have actually been saving 30 per cent of the boys' earnings.

Jerry makes $550 a week, Tony $500 a week.

Movie Subject Objects to Romance in Film

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Gladys Aylward, whose life as a missionary in China was the basis for Ingrid Bergman's film "The Inn of the Sixth Happiness," left for Hong Kong today on her way to Britain and the United States.

Miss Aylward is a onetime London parlormaid who is now over 60 and a Chinese citizen. Although she has never seen the film version of her life, she has complained bitterly because the producers worked a romance into it.

"There have never been any love scenes in my life—never," she told newsmen.

UP Filming Hits Snag

Extras Threaten Strike

MARQUETTE (AP) — Extras in a motion picture being filmed on location here reportedly have threatened to go out on strike if they aren't paid more for their talents.

Most of the 160 extras appearing in "Anatomy of a Murder" were receiving unemployment compensation before they became temporary movie actors. The film is being adapted from a best-selling novel by Michigan Supreme Court Justice John A. Voelker.

The extras receive $10 a day if they don't drive to the makeshift studios here and at nearby Ishpeming, $15 daily if they do. Extras who have limited speaking parts earn $90. None can collect unemployment compensation while taking part in the movie.

Robert Anderson, an unemployed miner hired as an extra, said most of the extras favor walking off the job if they don't get more money. Anderson said he collected $55 weekly unemployment compensation. He did not say how much more money the extras would like.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the Hollywood company, Carlyle Productions, said the salary rate would not be changed and all who wished to return to work today would be welcome.

The spokesman said only five extras indicated they preferred to stay off the job and collect compensation.

IS "IRON-HUNGRY BLOOD" MAKING YOU ONLY "HALF" A WOMAN?

Are You So Run-Down You Can't Give Your Husband and Family Real Companionship? Then Discover The Wonderful Blood-Strengthening Action of This Special Iron Tonic for Women!

How tragic when a woman feels so tired, so weak and run-down she can't be a real companion! Luckily, it's often due to "Iron-Hungry Blood" ("simple iron deficiency anemia"). Then it's needless for those women to suffer such awful weariness.

Now, a wonderful iron tonic can help relieve this condition... thus renew your vitality! It's Lydia E. Pinkham's Tablets, only iron tonic made especially for women! Rich in iron, Pinkham's Tablets start to strengthen "Iron-Hungry Blood" in one day! Thus quickly help build rich, red blood... to restore strength and energy so you feel fine again fast!

Pinkham's unique formula can also bring blessed relief from functionally-caused monthly cramps and "Hot Flashes" of change-of-life! No wonder so many women use Pinkham's Tablets all through their lives!

If "Iron-Hungry Blood" has left you weak and run-down—only "half" a woman—get Pinkham's Tablets from druggists. Then see if you don't soon feel "all" woman again!

FOR FEMALE AILMENTS! Doctors' tests prove famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound (liquid) also brings quick relief from discomforts of monthly pain and change-of-life.

Simca Plans Sale of Stock

Offers New Issue Here and Abroad to Finance Plant Expansion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Simca Societe Anonyme, French automobile producing company, today notified the Securities and Exchange Commission of a proposed 36½-million-dollar capital stock issue of which a substantial part will be offered in the United States.

Simca registered one million capital shares and two million American shares for offering to present stockholders in the country. The capital shares have a par value of 5,000 francs or $10.32 each. Two American shares represent one capital share.

The company said it will offer holders of its American and capital shares the right to subscribe for one additional American share for each American share held, or one additional capital share for each capital share held, together with an additional subscription privilege. The offering price is to be supplied later.

The company also is offering similar subscription rates to holders of its capital shares outside the United States.

The proceeds will be used, SEC was told, for expansion and improvement at the company's facilities, particularly the plant at Poissy, and possibly for the engineering and styling of passenger cars.

Dwelling Was Unoccupied

Ortonville Cottage Burns

A fire of undetermined origin leveled a cottage at 2498 Allen Rd., Ortonville, early this morning.

The uninhabited two-story frame structure was discovered in flames by an unidentified passerby at about 1 a.m. Brandon Township firemen and Oakland County sheriff's deputies answered the call.

Firemen said the blaze began in the southwest corner of the cottage and had too great a start before they arrived.

No estimate of financial loss will be made until authorities have conferred with the owner, George Rowe of 610 Madge St., Hazel Park.

Deputies said they were "unable to find any reason to establish this as arson," but did not rule out the possibility of vandalism.

State Police fire inspectors may be called in to aid in the investigation, deputies said.

Three Break-Ins, Vandalism Cases Reported in City

Pontiac Police today were investigating three break-ins and 14 cases of vandalism.

Break-ins were reported at the Riverside Seventh Day Adventist Church, 156 Mt. Clemens St.; Gee Coal Co., 91 Lake St.; and Spadafore's Tavern, 922 Oakland Ave.

An estimated $20 was taken from the tavern's cash register. Nothing was reported missing at the other establishments, but the church was thoroughly ransacked, police said.

Of the malicious destruction reports, eight were for tire slashing. All eight took place on Cottage street, police said.

The remaining complaints were for window breaking and careless use of pellet guns.

Plenty of Takers for Treasury Bonds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury announced today that its offering of 500 million dollars of 10-year, 4 per cent bonds was oversubscribed by a margin close to 3 to 1.

The department said investors also oversubscribed its offering of 4 per cent notes maturing in 4 years 1½ months. The margin here was nearly 2 to 1.

Results of the cash borrowing had been awaited with keen interest in financial circles because the Treasury's move to sell a bond at this time came as a surprise. Financing recently had been mostly on a short term basis.

Preliminary reports, the announcement said, indicate that subscriptions for the bonds totaled about $1,400,000,000.

Subscriptions for the notes totaled about $2,900,000,000.

San Bernardino County in California, with 20,131 square miles, is the largest county in the United States.

Mrs. Duncan Will Appeal

Judge Finds Her Sane; She Has Been Sentenced to Gas Chamber Death

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — "I think my chances for an appeal are just fine," says condemned murderess Elizabeth Duncan.

She made that statement Tuesday after being declared sane and subject to the death sentence for hiring the murder of her daughter-in-law.

Earlier she had been convicted of first degree murder and her punishment set at execution in the gas chamber.

Immediately after Superior Court Judge Charles F. Blackstock accepted the conclusions of two psychiatrists that Mrs. Duncan was sane, Defense Atty. S. Ward Sullivan filed a motion for a new trial and asked that Mrs. Duncan's son Frank, 30, a Santa Barbara attorney, be associated with him.

★ ★ ★

Judge Blackstock said he would consider the motion April 3. If he denies it, he is expected to sentence Mrs. Duncan at that time.

Hearse Steals Show

CHATHAM, Va. (AP)—A hearse stole the show at a festive parade here. It was a horse drawn vehicle, vintage of the 1880's, a collector's item of Kenneth Scott. Most citizens had never seen one.
