Plan Radar Fence in Arctic

New Red Jets Prompt Move by U.S., Canada

Far Northern Screen Will Give More Time to Prepare for Attack

WASHINGTON (UP)—Concern over the development of two Russian jet bomber types helped prompt a decision by the United States and Canada to erect a radar fence as far into the Arctic as possible.

"Our security requires it," a joint statement said in announcing yesterday that a distant early warning (DEW) line will be built across "the most northerly practicable part of North America."

The two Russian bombers, which first appeared over Moscow several months ago, have altered a number of defense calculations. Outstanding among them is the amount of time industrial areas might have to prepare for attack after the first warning.

When scientists and airmen were considering a DEW line more casually than they are now, they thought in terms of six hours warning to major cities in the northern United States. That was when Russia's bomber force could be expected to mount 300-mile an hour copies of the American B-29 or B-50 piston-engine Superforts.

Now the Russians presumably are producing their new types—resembling America's medium B-47 and heavy B-52 jets—which caught the Western world by surprise with their estimated 600-mile an hour speeds.

Result: The warning time from, say, the proposed DEW line to Chicago is cut to three hours. And the line won't be installed for quite some time yet. The DEW line will be the third in a North American radar defense system which has gradually been pushed outward from most likely target areas. Detailed planning for its construction across the frigid high north will start at once.

Pinetree, the first line, incorporates radar control units to direct jet interceptors against assaulting bombers after detecting the invaders' approach.

Farther north, along the 55th parallel and above most settled parts of Canada, is the mid-Canada line—which will be financed and operated entirely by the Canadian government.

The DEW line will be the next step.

At the same time, the interception nets are being extended seaward in all directions. These flank defenses are provided by both ships and huge aircraft packed with early warning radar.

Series Hurlers Named

NEW YORK (UP)—Bob Lemon was chosen today by manager Al Lopez to pitch for Cleveland Indians and Sal Maglie was named by Manager Leo Durocher to pitch for the New York Giants in the opening game of the World Series at the Polo Grounds Wednesday.

The poll, which is interpreted in terms of change in party allegiance rather than in total numbers of "straw" ballots, is being conducted on a nationwide scale by Babson's Washington Service.

McCarthy Seems to Face Uphill Struggle in Senate

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. McCarthy appeared today to face an uphill fight in fending off a vote of censure when the Senate meets Nov. 8 to weigh his conduct.

Some of his associates privately conceded as much, but they said the Wisconsin Republican will fight vigorously and that the picture may change before the Senate returns nearly six weeks hence.

Thrown into the balance yesterday was the unanimous report by three Republican and three Democratic senators recommending that their colleagues officially criticize certain of McCarthy's past actions. The six comprise a special committee set up to study the issue.

McCarthy was silent on the course he will pursue, and his chief attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, said McCarthy would have no comment at this time on the committee's report, based on nine days of public hearings.

The Chicago Tribune, however, quoted McCarthy as saying that if the Senate upholds the accusations against him it will have taken a long stride toward "abdication of its constitutional" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

South Koreans Shout Don't Leave, GIs!

SEOUL (UP)—Thousands of South Korean organized laborers and disabled war veterans today staged demonstrations against the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Korea. Some 200 crippled veterans staged a sitdown strike in front of the American embassy while another 100 were shouting anti-withdrawal slogans at the gate of the foreign correspondents' billets. Veterans leaders said 50,000 Korean war veterans joined 200,000 labor unionists demonstrating in major South Korea cities today against the redeployment of U. S. troops.

Babsonpoll Shows Trend Toward Dems but Shift Light in First Six States

WASHINGTON, D. C.—On the basis of scattered and relatively small returns from predominantly agricultural areas, a noticeable switch from the Republicans to the Democrats is shown in the first report of the 1954 Congressional Babsonpoll, in which the Pontiac Press is a co-operative newspaper.

The poll, which is interpreted in terms of change in party allegiance rather than in total numbers of "straw" ballots, is being conducted on a nationwide scale by Babson's Washington Service.

The Babsonpoll, originated in 1952, claims the distinction of being the only national survey to predict unequivocally the 1952 Eisenhower landslide—even to the point of naming the four states the General would take in the South.

The first distribution of Babsonpoll ballots was made about two weeks ago, and tabulation thus far has been concentrated in the Midwestern farm belt. Results covering other areas will also be reported in later articles in this bi-weekly series.

States in which partial returns have been tabulated for this report include Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, North Dakota, and South Dakota.

In all of these states, initial returns indicate that from 7 per cent to 11 per cent of those who voted for Republican congressional cand-

Milo Cross Asks Careful Study on Courthouse

Says Need Is Great but Proposed Site Will Hurt Downtown Business

Milo J. Cross, president of the Pontiac State Bank, today urged careful study before making a final decision as to location of a new courthouse for Oakland County.

The Board of Supervisors has proposed construction of a new courthouse on property the county owns between West Boulevard and Telegraph Road.

This land is a part of the county's building center on which the County Contagious Hospital, Nurses' Home, Children's Home, County Infirmary and other buildings stand.

Financing of a new courthouse on this site will be a special issue on the November ballot. The site already has been annexed to the City of Pontiac at the supervisors' request.

"There can be no question of the need for a new courthouse," said Cross in an interview with the Pontiac Press. "The present building is completely outgrown."

"I am convinced that moving the courthouse to the extreme western edge of the city will hurt business in downtown Pontiac and I agree with Clarence Patterson that there is no property at the proposed site that can be developed for business."

"Many people from this area visit the courts and various county offices each day. They naturally contribute to the shopping volume downtown. So do the many county employees who work in the courthouse."

"I believe moving the courthouse will decrease property values downtown, and I feel this question should be seriously considered, whether a decrease in property values may not result from such a move."

"Another question is, will our attorneys keep their offices downtown or will they move out nearer the courthouse?"

"And who will provide transportation for the general public who will be ready for market by April 1, 1955."

They authorized the J. E. Greiner Co., consulting engineers of Baltimore, to prepare a complete civil engineering report on the project at a cost of $100,000. This will be completed in five months.

The present tentative route of the North-South turnpike runs northward paralleling U. S. 24 crossing U. S. 10 between Birmingham and Pontiac, proceeding east of Pontiac northward to Saginaw.

The sections from Saginaw to Bay City and from Rockwood to Toledo were deemed financially unfeasible at this time but planning would permit them to be added to the project at a later date.

Upon assurance by financing houses that the project was financially feasible, they ordered preparation of a 3 1/2 per cent revenue bond issue of $185,000,000. It is hoped that the bond issue will be ready for marketing by April 1, 1955.

They designated the section between Rockwood just south of Trenton to a point just south-east of Saginaw as the initial construction project of the turnpike. This route is approximately 115 miles long.

Police Force Boasts Double Feature

LOOK-ALIKES—That sums up the philosophy of Fred and Ted Goines, both members of the Pontiac Police force. Better known as the "twins" by their fellow officers, both Fred and Ted were promoted to desk sergeants at the same time last June. "We both graduated from high school together, joined the force at the same time 13 years ago and that's the way it'll always be—double or nothing." The twins, 40 years old, are married and have children. That's Fred on the left. How can you tell? Well, he's 17 minutes older.

Divers Removing Bodies From Sunken Ferry's Hull

HAKODATE, Japan (UP)—Japanese divers today began removing the first of hundreds of bodies in the sunken hull of the ferry Toya Maru which capsized Sunday in a typhoon with the loss of 1,168 lives.

Three divers recovered the bodies of 20 Japanese on the floor of Hakodate harbor. They located the bodies of about 40 of the 60 Americans who perished.

National rural police estimated the overall typhoon death toll at 1,508, most of whom died in northern Japan.

Divers reported 43 rail-cars tore loose from their moorings on the boats' deck when it capsized, crushing bulkheads, equipment and human beings in Japan's worst maritime disaster.

Only 333 bodies have been recovered. The Japan National Railways listed 173 survivors out of 1,341 passengers and crew.

The tides still were washing in bodies.

As a chill drizzle soaked the scene, a U.S. Air Force helicopter dipped low over the wreckage and dropped white flowers into the oily, debris-strewn bay in a salute to the dead.

Hundreds more died in widespread marine accidents, landslides and other mishaps from the typhoon, which veered across northern Japan with winds of 100 miles an hour. Four other ferries also went down with the loss of more than 200 lives.

The Americans who died on the Toya Maru were mainly servicemen—most from the 99th Field Artillery Battalion—and their dependents. Several missionaries also were aboard, including one who survived.

Oct. 4 Is Registration Deadline in County

The Pontiac City Clerk's Office will be open until 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday to accommodate persons wishing to register for the Nov. 2 general election.

The last day to register in clerk's offices in all Oakland County governmental units is Oct. 4. Besides the clerk's office, Pontiac citizens may register at six other locations, according to City Clerk Ada R. Evans.

France's Move to Include Saar Is Trouble Spot

Eden Timetable Calls for Agreement Soon on Bonn Status

LONDON (UP)—The nine-power conference on German rearmament got off to what delegates termed "a good start" at a 90-minute session this morning.

"It started very well but it is too early yet to predict any result," Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak told newsmen as the nine foreign ministers and their aides left the music room of stately Lancaster House for the luncheon recess.

Echoing Spaak, Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester Pearson said the talks "are off to a very good start."

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden was elected chairman of the party, attended by U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, Spaak, Pearson, French Premier Mendes-France, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Gaetano Martino of Italy, Johan Beyens of the Netherlands and Premier Joseph Beck of Luxembourg.

Promising new trouble for them was a last minute French move to ring the troublesome Saar issue into the talks on West German sovereignty and rearmament.

Immediately after his designation as chairman, Eden proposed a streamlined timetable designed to win agreement within 50 days on freeing West Germany from Allied occupation and enlisting her troops in the defense of West Europe.

Eden suggested the occupying powers—France, Britain and the United States—draw up a plan for returning sovereignty to the Bonn republic. The full nine-country conference, meanwhile, would deal with rearmament.

Eden set mid-November—within 50 days—as a target for complete and final agreement, except for the necessary parliamentary ratifications.

The current conference is expected to last four to 10 days. The British foreign secretary proposed that it try to reach only general agreement, and that experts then be instructed to work out details for approval by a second nine-power parley to be held within a month.

Following this second meeting, the nine ministers would report jointly to a special meeting of the NATO council to be held not later than mid-November.

Occasional Showers, Cooler Is Forecast

Cool weather coupled with cloudiness and occasional showers is what the weathermen hold in store for the Pontiac area tonight and tomorrow.

U. S. Weather Bureau forecasters predict a 58-62 degree low tonight with a high Wednesday of between 70 and 74 degrees.

Yesterday, the temperature climbed from a 58-degree low to a sunny high of 80.

In downtown Pontiac today, the mercury stood at 58 degrees at 8 a.m. but climbed to 76 degrees by 2 p.m.

8-Day AFL Meeting Ends; All Officers Are Re-Elected

LOS ANGELES (INS)—More than 700 top officials of the American Federation of Labor began streaming home today from their Los Angeles convention, where they re-elected all their officers, condemned the GOP administration and planned huge expansion.

The eight-day parley came to a close yesterday after George Meany was chosen without opposition to his third term as general president of the 10,200,000 member organization.

The 73rd annual meeting selected Seattle, Wash., for its 1956 gathering. Chicago already had been set as the 1955 convention site.

The delegates adopted a long list of resolutions, headed by one declaring America's economy is in a recession and urging the federal government to encourage new economic activity.

The resolution said that Secretary of Labor James Mitchell had strongly minimized the nation's present economic situation. Mitchell addressed the convention last Monday and accused the AFL of being unfair to the administration. Meany shot back by accusing Mitchell of poor manners while the guest of the federation. Mitchell told the convention that 1954 has seen "the mildest contraction we have ever had in any postwar period."

The Day in Birmingham

City Accepts Report on Fire, Acts on Bloomfield Sewage

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — The city commission last night acknowledged a report from the three-man citizen's committee which absolved the fire and police departments from any negligence in the June 14 fire at 1189 Brookwood court, which cost the lives of Mrs. Couper and her sons Larry and Danny.

In addition to expressing appreciation to James Spencer, Jonathan Ball and Charles Kass for "the excellent manner in which the committee undertook and performed its task," the commission further resolved:

"... that this commission makes known to the people of Birmingham that the report of this committee confirms the well established confidence and respect with which the citizens of this community have always held the fire and police departments of this city."

Copies of the committee report will be forwarded to all those who testified before the investigating board and three copies have been placed on loan at Baldwin Library. Tabulated at last week's meeting, an agreement authorizing Bloomfield Township to receive services of the city's sewage treatment plant until January, 1956, was quickly approved by lawmakers last night.

If the proposed $2.7 million Evergreen interceptor sewer is not contracted for by that date, the agreement provides that the township would then buy into the Birmingham plant.

Already approved by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, the interceptor would send sewage from Birmingham and five other south Oakland County municipalities into the Detroit treatment system.

Immediate construction of the city's major fire station was anticipated after commissioners awarded the construction contract to the Chasius Construction Co. with a low bid of $96,896. To avoid further delay, a separate $3,000 bid of the Beiden-Stark Co. of Detroit was accepted for the purchase of tile to be used.

The $130,000 station to be built at Adams Rd. and Bowers St. will serve the industrial and residential areas on the city's east side, as well as most of the business section.

Sneaked Sunday-morning traffic on Lincoln during church hours should be relieved by next Sunday, when at least the center strip in that portion of West Maple avenue now being repaved and widened is opened up, City Engineer L. R. Gare said yesterday.

The entire street should be opened by the end of next week, Gare said.

Organization of a youth club at Ascension Lutheran Church will get under way at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the church. Counselors who will assist the 17-18 year olds are the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Shipper, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hunt, Louis Laxa and Rodney Smith.

The Kanabans Hi-Y Club of Birmingham High School will start its fall program with a meeting in the youth room of the Community House from 7 to 8:30 tonight.

Addressing the group or program possibilities will be Paul Heins, director of youth activities for the local Y, who will serve as liaison between the YMCA and Hi-Y. President James Reeder will lay plans for an officer and club member training program and a trip to Camp Obiyasa on Oct. 16 and 17.

At Embassy Methodist Church, the Methodist Youth Fellowship will attend the first fall sub-district roller skating party tonight, leaving from the church for the Clawson rink at 7.

A representative of Larro Research will bring Kiwanis Club members up to date on agricultural developments and related problems in Oakland County when the club gathers for a 6:30 dinner tonight at the Community House.

At recent elections, the junior and senior high fellowships of the Congregational Church elected officers. In the junior high group are: Amy Jo Cardon, president; Steve Taylor, vice president; Ed Busch, secretary; and Sue Cooper, treasurer.

Elected by the senior high group are: Dave Allen, president; Bill Watkinson, vice president; Nancy McKenzie, recording secretary; Jane Lindley, corresponding secretary; Jim Taup, treasurer; Charles Suttin, faith chairman; Ed Peters, action chairman; and Tom Beck, fellowship chairman.

Family members of the YMCA are being offered a course in contract bridge. The nine-week course will be held from 1:30 to 3:15 p.m. on Thursdays, starting Oct. 7.

Sessions will cover bidding, scoring and tactics. Paul Heins will be the instructor. Either advanced players or beginners are welcome and may enroll at the Y. A fee will be charged non-members.

A complimentary tea for all guild members is being sponsored by St. Peter's Guild at St. James Episcopal Church at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow. Mrs. David W. Thornberry will report on the Anglican Convention.

Mrs. Rosa Elsborg
Graveside service for Mrs. Rosa Elsborg, 75, of 1723 Maryland Blvd., will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, with arrangements by the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Mrs. Elsborg died yesterday at Bloomington, Ill.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Eugene Hertz, of Birmingham; Mrs. Frieda Burt of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Rolf Elsborg, of Israel; and Mrs. Lucius Gilman, of Lake Hopatcong, N. J.; two brothers, and one sister.

Albert John Charbeneau
Funeral arrangements are pending for Albert J. Charbeneau, 52, of 6 Valleyview, Bloomfield Hills. His body is at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

Mr. Charbeneau, a cabinet maker at Cranbrook School, died yesterday at Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit.

Besides his widow, Virginia, he is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Betty Peacock of Rochester, Mrs. Leona Manigold of Keego Harbor, Mrs. Donna Mae Beamblossom of Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. Marjorie Ann Hotchkiss, and Mrs. Alma June McFarland, both of Pontiac, also three sisters, and two brothers, Mrs. Winona Rolison, Mrs. Ann Rolison, and Melvin Charbeneau, all of Mt. Clemens. Mrs. Mildred Cherry of Union Lake, and Frank Charbeneau, of Detroit.

Also surviving are two sons, Albert J. Jr. and Robert Charles, both at home.

Early Poll Showing

an important double significance. They would tend to indicate:

(1) That, right now the Democratic Congressmen from the states represented — four of whom won in 1952 by margins of less than 3 per cent of the total vote — appear likely to be re-elected by bigger margins; and (2) That such a trend, if extended to other areas around the nation, would give the Democrats control of the House of Representatives by at least 30 seats.

At this point, it is impossible to ascertain whether the attitude of rural voters toward the Administration's farm program has been the dominant factor influencing the shift in voter sentiment thus far noted. If so, the total effect on the national picture would be negligible.

Two weeks from today, this column will report further on the results of the nationwide Babson poll, as additional thousands of ballots are recorded.

Meanwhile, Pontiac Press readers who have not yet participated in the Babson poll are urged to fill in and return the Babson poll ballot printed on page 15. If you have already filled out a Babson poll ballot, please do not fill out another one.

DR. GLENN CUNNINGHAM

Athlete to Talk in Birmingham

Former Track Champion Will Speak Tomorrow at First Baptist Church

BIRMINGHAM — The famed American track star of the early thirties, Dr. Glenn Cunningham, has included Birmingham on his itinerary while on a speaking tour, and will talk at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the First Baptist Church.

Open to the public, his speaking engagement here is being sponsored by the local Council of Churches.

Cunningham spoke at Birmingham High School this afternoon and will address another 50,000 students in the area in the next two weeks.

Cunningham, whose legs were so seriously burned when he was eight years old, that he almost didn't walk again, climaxed his college career at Kansas University by winning the Big Six championship mile with a time of 4 minutes and 14.3 seconds.

Following Cunningham's recent appearance at Detroit's Cooley High School the principal wrote, "As principal of this school for nearly 26 years, I witnessed the greatest audience reception given to any speaker in our history."

Besides a B.S. degree from the University of Kansas, Cunningham holds an M.A. from the University of Iowa and a Ph.D. from New York University. He is nationally known in the field of physical education.

that "the 1954 economic recession shows no sign of abandoning its grip on our economy."

Meany last week also condemned Republicans for giving out fancy slogans, but doing little actually to combat what he called the unemployment problem now facing America.

President Eisenhower addressed the convention last Friday and was warmly welcomed, despite the underlying hostility, after he promised he would again try to get Congress to remove the so-called union-busting provisions of the Taft-Hartley Law.

The delegates rapped Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's Communist investigations by drawing a resolution accusing him of "brazenly flouting traditional democratic procedures" and by calling for a code of ethics for congressional probes.

In other resolutions, the convention adopted a 10-point program to improve the nation's economy, including recommendations for increased public housing, reduction of taxes on low-income groups, more public works projects, broader social security benefits and higher wages.

Tigers Transfer 3 Farm Pitchers

DETROIT — The Detroit Tigers announced today they were transferring three farm pitchers, two of them from Michigan, to Tiger contracts for 1955.

At the same time it said contracts of three other minor leaguers were being assigned to Buffalo.

Pitchers moved from Buffalo to Detroit—contracts for next season are Jim Stump, 22, of Lansing; Duane (Duke) Maas, 24, of Utica, and Bill Froats, 23, of Yonkers, N. Y., only lefthander among the three.

Assigned to Buffalo are 1st baseman Keith Little, outfielder Carl Linhart and pitcher Milo Johnson.

Admits Weapons Charge

Free on $1,000 bond pending sentence Oct. 4 is Willie H. Watkins, 20, of 54 Mt. Vernon, Detroit, after pleading guilty to carrying concealed weapons yesterday before Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland.

Watkins was arrested Sept. 15 in Royal Oak Township with a 38-caliber pistol in his possession.

Wants Hearing on McKeighan

Prosecutor in Macomb Says He Needs More Data Before Trial

MOUNT CLEMENS (INS)—Macomb County Prosecutor Fred Nicholson yesterday petitioned for a preliminary examination of former Flint Mayor William H. McKeighan on eight-year-old gambling conspiracy charges.

Nicholson said he and his staff, which had no part in the original inquiry in 1946, are not acquainted with the personalities and testimony of the 10 available witnesses who remain out of an original 17. He said his only knowledge so far had come from "searching records and files" and that more information was needed.

The petition will come up for hearing next Monday.

McKeighan, a former state Republican leader, eluded prosecution by remaining in Florida until last August, when he returned to Michigan and stood mute at his arraignment. A plea of innocent was entered for him and trial set for Oct. 20.

Laborites OK Arming of Bonn

Attlee Resolution Wins by Slim Margin Over Bevan Opposition

SCARBOROUGH, England (INS)—Former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee's resolution favoring West German rearmament was approved by a narrow margin today at the Labor Party's annual conference.

The resolution, bitterly opposed by the left-wing faction of Aneurin Bevan, won by a majority of only 248,000 votes.

The 1,579 delegates attending the conference repressed a victory for the Attlee forces came shortly after former Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Gaitskill defeated Bevan for party treasurer.

Gaitskill's margin over Bevan, who was left without a seat on the policy-making national executive committee, and over a third candidate, was better than two to one.

His victory means the Labor Party now formally regards Gaitskill as its future leader and potential successor to Attlee.

Amid an uproar of cheers and booing during debate on the rearmament resolution, Laborite MP Desmond Donnelly warned the conference that a negative attitude would result in Germany's going ahead with armaments without controls.

He then pointed a finger directly at Bevan and said: "Some people will bear a heavy responsibility to history."

right to investigate wrongdoing in the executive departments."

"I do not care whether I am censured or not," the Tribune quoted him, "but I will fight against establishing a precedent which will curb investigative power and assist any administration in power to cover up its misdeeds." McCarthy, under treatment for a sinus ailment, was reported in seclusion by Williams and in too much discomfort to do much planning now to meet the censure move.

One McCarthy associate, declining to be quoted by name said he suspects that as of now McCarthy might "lose" the votes of as many as 15 of the Senate's 48 Republican members on a censure test, and that he doubts that many Democrats would rally to McCarthy's cause.

He said the story may be different on the actual showdown in November, however, after the congressional elections and after McCarthy has entered his defense. Williams said yesterday that defense will be "lengthy and vigorous."

And in London the U. S. Senate committee's recommendation that Sen. McCarthy be censured played second fiddle in European papers today to the nine-power conference on Germany.

It received its biggest display in Britain, Denmark and Holland. Elsewhere, papers either printed the story on back pages or ignored it altogether.

British papers were the only ones to comment editorially this morning.

Man Put on Probation

After admitting to an indecent liberties charge last week, William Van Meer, 24, of 77 E. Yale St. was placed on two years probation and assessed $200 court costs yesterday by Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland. He was charged with molesting a 15-year-old girl here July 15.

Officials Believe Child and Sister Stabbed by Deranged Person

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. — Police today began questioning present and former employees of Bernard Goldberg in the hope of turning up a clue in the brutal slaying of Goldberg's young son and his 14-year-old baby sister.

Police also were checking recently discharged mental patients because of the maniacal manner in which 4-year-old Stephen Ross Goldberg and Lynn Ann Smith, a neighbor, were stabbed some 50 times each in the Goldberg home Saturday night.

Goldberg, operator of a wholesale meat concern, his wife and other members of the family attended the funeral yesterday of their young son and several times were near collapse from grief.

Medical Examiner W. A. R. Chapin said "decent people today are bedeviled by folks who are let out of mental hospitals before they are ready."

He said "everyone connected with this case is convinced the slayings were the work of somebody mentally unbalanced."

Dist. Atty. Stephen A. Moynahan urged parents not to become "panic stricken over the safety of their own children," but advised them to "make sure all doors are locked and be very cautious as to the manner in which you answer doorbells."

City Tax Collection Reaches 94 Per Cent

City Treasurer Murray M. Ashbaugh today reported that 94 per cent of city and school taxes have been collected, which, he added, "is almost as good as last year's record."

Ashbaugh said unpaid taxes may be paid until March 1, when uncollected bills are turned over to Oakland County as delinquent.

Although taxpayers have until March 1 to pay, a penalty of one per cent a month will be added, beginning from the Sept. 18 due date, until time of payment.

Royal Oak Man Denies Bad Check Charge Here

Donald Madary, 31, of 615 W. 11 Mile Rd., Royal Oak, yesterday pleaded innocent to a bad check charge and was freed on $2,500 bond by Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland.

Trial will be held during the next term of court. Madary is accused of passing a forged check for $57.20 on Aug. 4 against a Berkley bank.

Nineteen Admit Loitering Count

Seven Others Plead Not Guilty Following Police Vice Raid Here

Nineteen persons, arrested early Sunday during a vice raid at 310 W. Wilson Ave., pleaded guilty to loitering charges and paid fines totaling $665 Monday when they appeared in Municipal Court.

Seven others pleaded innocent on similar charges and were ordered to return to trial Oct. 7. They furnished bonds of $100 each.

Pleading innocent to a charge of illegal sale of liquor and furnishing a $500 bond, Earl C. Cocker, 22, of the Wilson Ave. address, was ordered by Judge Cecil McCallum to return for trial Thursday.

Mrs. Rose Nimmons, 31, also of the Wilson Ave. address, and Emma L. Riley, 28, of 154 Perkins St., both charged with aiding and abetting illegal sale of liquor, pleaded innocent. Posting $300 bonds each, their trial also was set for Thursday.

Mrs. Nimmons was rearrested last night by Detective Sgts. Donny Ashley and Herbert C. Cooley, both of the vice squad, on a warrant charging her with an illegal sale Sept. 16.

Ashley today added that he and Bernice Berger, policewoman, have started proceedings in Probate Court, charging Mrs. Nimmons with neglect of her 3-year-old son, who was placed in custody of the Oakland County Children's home last night by Ashley.

have to do business at the courthouse and who do not drive?

"One of the reasons voiced for moving to the proposed location is the lack of adequate, low priced, short term parking facilities downtown. The city already has made a fine start in this direction. I firmly believe that use of the new city parking area will soon lead to additional city-owned lots, so that the parking problem will be met."

"I would favor building a new courthouse on either the present site and the adjacent county-owned lot, or on the west side of Wayne Street, across from the present jail."

"The county could secure all the land on that block from the Presbyterian Church property north, or as much of it as was required."

"This would keep the courthouse downtown, in the form of a modern office building, leave ample parking room adjacent to it, and still free the present site at Saginaw and Huron for commercial uses."

Man Awaits Sentencing

Robert Hayes, 22, of Chicago, yesterday pleaded guilty to robbery armed and was ordered returned to Oakland County Jail by Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland pending sentence Oct. 4.

Hayes admitted that he and two companions assaulted a man in Ferndale Aug. 21 and took $86.

Theater Invades Land of Movies

Helen Hayes Returns to Hollywood to Launch Heir's Stage Palace

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Hollywood got its first gander at Helen Hayes in 10 years when she returned last night to launch the opening of Huntington Hartford's elegant, new, million-dollar theater.

Miss Hayes' performance as the old maid in J. M. Barrie's "What Every Woman Knows" impressed a star-studded audience of celebrities who also came to see Hollywood's first legitimate theater.

The street in front of the theater was jammed before curtain time with sightseers and tourists who gathered to catch a glimpse of celebrities as they swept into the foyer of the modernistic building.

The opening drew such luminaries as Joan Crawford, Agnes Moorehead, Raymond Massey, Arlene Dahl, Fernando Lamas, Dorothy McGuire, Cyd Charisse and Tony Martin. Even Jack Benny and his specs showed up.

Hartford, heir to A&P millions and well-known philanthropist, said that Helen Hayes was the only person he had considered inviting to open his Hollywood theater.

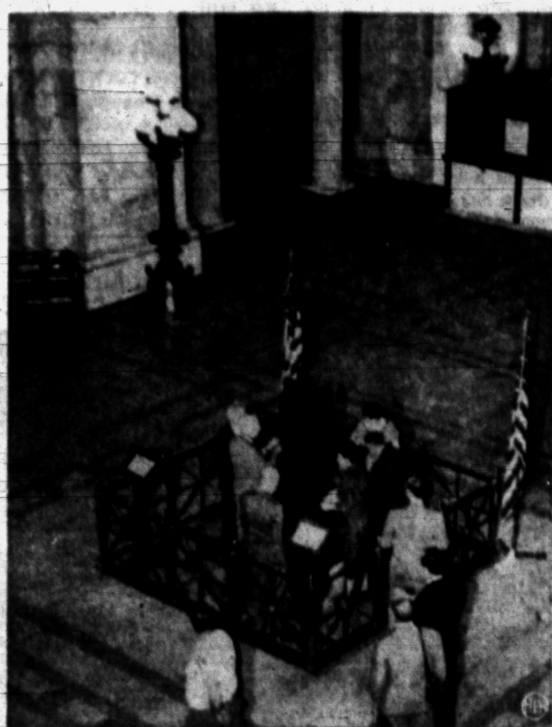

He arrived solo because his wife, Marjorie Steele, is in London starring successfully in the play "Sabrina."

The Huntington Hartford Theater was built on the site of the original Vine Street Theater, which was constructed in 1927.

The first performance at Vine Street Theater was "An American Tragedy," and it played 21 weeks. Later Howard Hughes acquired the theater and operated it for six months as a movie house.

Sumo Wrestlers Run

TOKYO (UP)—Japan's sumo wrestlers, some weighing as much as 300 pounds, held an athletic meet in Tokyo and racked up such respectable marks as 37.9 seconds for the 200-meter run and 10.7 second for the 70-meter sprint.

JURY DRUM—A "wheel of fortune"—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard's fortune spins around in Cleveland's Lakeside Courthouse as 75 prospective jurors are selected by court officials from the jury drum in the courthouse rotunda. Twelve jurors will eventually be chosen to determine the fate of Dr. Sheppard, indicted for the first-degree murder of his wife, Marilyn.

Bullfighter Seeks Schooling, Not Ava

MADRID (INS)—Bullfighter Luis Miguel Dominguez intends to return to the U.S. next year, but for a college education, not marriage.

Dominguez, returning to Madrid after a three-month visit to America, denied reports he might marry screen star Ava Gardner, with whom he has been linked romantically for many months.

The bullfighter said he and Ava are "good friends" and added that "I think her last matrimonial experience will be enough for her."

Ava has established residence in Nevada as part of her announced intention to divorce crooner-actor Frank Sinatra. Dominguez did not say what he intends to study or which school he planned to attend in the United States. He added that he would visit the Philippines in January and then go on to America.

State Doctors Bestow Honor on Physician, 85

DETROIT AP — Dr. Duncan J. McColl, 85, of Port Huron Monday was named "outstanding Michigan Family Physician of 1954" by the House of Delegates of the Michigan State Medical Society.

Dr. McColl was not present when the award was announced. He sent word he had "to see a couple of patients" before he could take off for Detroit.

A native of Elgin County, Ont., Dr. McColl was graduated from the Detroit College of Medicine in 1893 and has practiced at Elkin and Crosswell as well as Port Huron.

A son, Dr. Clarke N. McColl, is on the staff of Detroit's Ford Hospital. Another son, Duncan Jr., died last February shortly after being elected a St. Clair County circuit judge.

Dr. L. Fernald Foster, secretary of the society for the last 18 years, was elected "President for a Day," an honor only twice before bestowed. Dr. Foster is a founder of the Michigan Heart Society.

Enslaved East Germans Warn U.S. Against Trusting Russian Sweet Talk

For the last nine years the Soviets have been working hard to convince East Germans that they are free. These and other vital questions are answered in this second article of a series by International News Service Berlin Bureau Manager Joseph H. Stanger. Just back from a trip deep into the Soviet Zone.

LEIPZIG, East Germany (INS)—"You Americans! Learn your lesson from us here in East Germany. Don't trust the Russians."

A fiftish, graying taxi driver gives you this warning, as you drive toward the fairgrounds in Leipzig.

Bitterly he goes on:

"Peaceful coexistence? Sure, they'll give it to you. Look at us—here in East Germany. We're existing peacefully."

He underlines "existing" with a snarl.

"Is this what you want, to just barely exist like us?"

He and scores of other East Germans you talk to stress that they are not "living"—they are barely "existing." They explain how they spend all their waking hours just keeping alive.

"We were born to live—not just work and exist," they exclaim. "It's work, work, work, always work," a middle-aged man says.

"When we aren't working we have to stand in line and spend hours searching for food. The whole family had to work. And for what? For a pitiful life."

It's true that things have gotten a little better since the June 17, 1953, uprising, they tell you. After the rioting, the Reds announced the "new course" to raise the standard of living throughout East Germany.

"But any change would have been an improvement, even death," a 19-year-old boy quietly says.

Clothing is a bit better and more colorful than it has been since 1945. Material quality is slightly higher. More food is available—but not often enough.

"The Reds haven't changed their plans, despite their new face," an old man tells you.

"They are still planning to take over everything. But for the time being they are going slow and pretending to make things better for us."

Most East Germans you meet during your visit to Leipzig are hungry for the truth. Their heads are weary from the flood of lies fed them since 1945.

They see through Red propaganda which claims people in the West are starving and without work. They can see the truth with their own eyes.

But the average East German finds it difficult to find the answers to more complicated political questions.

He appears to be rather uncertain about the purpose of the European Defense Community, or a substitute for it. He tells you that the French rejection of EDC only makes the picture more confusing to him.

"We want more liberty—but not at the price of a war which will grind us into the ground," one workman says.

The majority of people with whom you talk try to be as unpolitical as possible. It's safer to keep out of the puppet parties if you don't want to join the ruling Socialist Unity Party (Communist Party).

Also, the struggle to keep existing, to find food and the necessities of life, takes all their time.

Yet they somehow find the strength to resist the Reds—passively.

"The state-owned movies used to show only Russian films. So we simply stopped going to those theaters. When the state saw that the plan was going to slip because there were no profits from the movies, they started showing German films," a young widow tells you.

Resistance? Yes, resistance of sorts that at least enables the East German people to hang onto a shred of pride.

Another person tells how a group of travelers in a train prevented a Communist policeman from taking the identification papers of a passenger.

They forced the Red cop to leap off the train as it pulled out of the station.

A small victory? Yes, but nevertheless a victory.

(Next: More about life under the Communists.)

$8 Million AF Base to Be Built at Marquette

MARQUETTE COUNTY (INS)—Sen. Homer Ferguson told audiences during a weekend tour of Marquette County that contracts for the construction of the new $8 million Air Force base at Marquette will be let this fall and that he expects work to be well under way by next summer. When completed, the base will be equipped with fighter planes and have a complement of almost 1,000.

Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and Daniel Webster contributed to the building costs of St. Peter's Episcopal Church at Tecumseh, Mich., the oldest Episcopal church west of the Allegheny Mountains.

Cops Told to Rationalize With New York Drunks

NEW YORK (UP)—New York police are now under orders to use words instead of actions in the treatment of spirit sippers. Patrolmen were issued orders instructing them to advise alcoholics on the pitfalls of drastic drinking. Instead of hauling them to the hoosegow to sleep it off.

This lamp is burning the "DIRTY-BURNING TAIL-END" of gasoline which GULF refines out

This lamp is burning NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX, the cleaner-burning super-fuel

Instead of trying to fight trouble-making deposits with so-called "miracle-additives"—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place. That's why Gulf, in making new Super-Refined NO-NOX, refines out the carbon-forming, "dirty-burning tail-end"—more than a cupful in every gallon. Just look at the plates in the photo above and see what a difference Gulf super refining makes!

New super-refined gasoline solves today's No.1 engine problem!

Now—Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the No. 1 troublemaker in high-compression engines. Result: a cleaner-burning super-fuel that gives you thousands of extra miles of full engine power... free from knock or pre-ignition.

Starting with your first tankful this new super-refined, super-powered fuel will give you these immediate and lasting benefits:

- ▶ More complete engine protection than the so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines. Why? Because Gulf refines out the No. 1 troublemaker in gasoline (the "dirty-burning tail-end") and then treats this new Super-Refined NO-NOX to give it a complete range of protective properties. It protects every part it touches against harmful deposits—carbon, rust, gum.
- ▶ Extra gas mileage. Why? Because new NO-NOX is specially blended for the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most.

- ▶ No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's super-compression engines. Why? Because the anti-knock power of new NO-NOX has been stepped up to an all-time high.
- ▶ Stall-proof smoothness—no more worries about carburetor icing in chilly weather, or vapor lock on warm days. Instant starts, too—and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

That's why new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives you more power-with-protection than you've ever known.

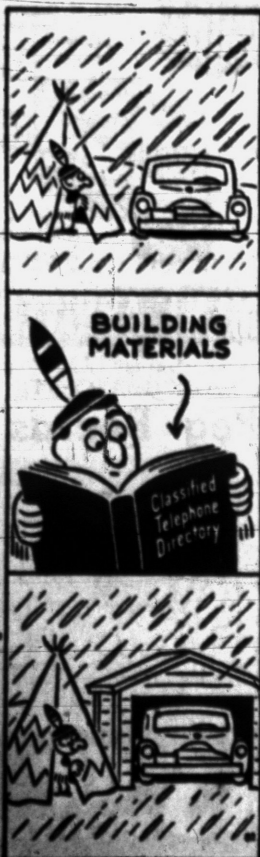

Road tests show: new No-Nox actually makes cars perform better than new... even after 15,000 miles!

TRUE! After 15,000 miles per car—covering all conditions—Gulf test cars showed: Higher-than-new horsepower! Better-than-new on gasoline mileage! And not a single trace of carbon knock or pre-ignition at any time—even on the steepest mountain grades!

COMPLETELY NEW! SUPER-REFINED
THE HIGH-EFFICIENCY GASOLINE

State Declares Insurance War

Martin to Carry Fight Against 'Bootleg' Firms Into Missouri

LANSING (AP) — Aud. Gen. John B. Martin today declared war on solicitation in Michigan of what he called "bootleg" insurance from other states.

Martin said he would go to Jefferson City, Mo., Wednesday to confer with the Missouri state insurance commissioner.

Martin, who is conducting an investigation of the Michigan insurance commissioner's office, said he hoped to stop the "flood of solicitations coming into Michigan by mail from bootleg insurance firms."

He defined a "bootleg" insurance as that written by a company not licensed to do business in Michigan and which has filed no consent of service in Michigan which would permit policyholders to sue in this state for unsettled claims.

Martin said he was "most concerned" about the Automobile Owners Safety Insurance Co. of Kansas City. He said this firm, using lists of auto registrations, has sent "hundreds of thousands" of mail solicitations from Chicago into Michigan to sell a "limited risk policy on loss of life or injury while in an auto accident."

"I see no reason," Martin said, "why we can't get the cooperation of the Missouri commissioner to stop a Missouri company doing in Michigan what we would not want a Michigan company doing in Missouri."

Dallas Republicans Mobilize Support

DALLAS (AP) — Each of the 2,909 persons who voted in the Republican primary July 24 has been asked to help with a door-to-door campaign to get more GOP votes in the November general election.

Republicans say they expect some 2,000 to respond to the party call on behalf of two Dallas candidates. Each will be asked to enlist the support of 12 friends.

Republican Bruce Alger opposes former Mayor Wallace Savage in the race for Congress for the seat now occupied by Rep. J. Frank Wilson. The other Republican candidate, Grover Hartt, seeks a county judgeship.

Dallas County cast about 90,000 votes in the Democratic primary.

'Bouncing Baby' Falls 4 Stories, Bruises Rib

TOKYO (AP) — An 18-month-old baby boy tumbled out of a fourth floor window and became a neighborhood center of attraction, the English-language newspaper Japan News said today.

The baby landed on a thick lawn and suffered only a bruised rib, doctors reported. Now he's called "bouncing baby."

4 MSC Officials Go to Viet Nam to Map U. S. Aid

EAST LANSING (UP) — Four Michigan State College officials leave for Indochina today to map out the first United States "technical assistance" program for South Vietnam.

The visit was requested by Vietnam Premier Ngo Dinh Diem who visited Michigan State's campus in 1932 and has since corresponded frequently with MSC's governmental research bureau.

Diem became premier in June just before the partition of Vietnam at the Geneva conference.

Members of the Michigan State mission are Dr. Edward Weidner, head of the governmental research bureau and the department of political science; James H. Denison, administrative assistant to college President John A. Hannah, Arthur F. Brandstatter, head of the department of police administration, and Dr. Charles C. Killingsworth, head of the department of economics.

Death on Japanese Ferry Reunites Boyhood Friends

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Johnny Zerby and Harry Boob grew up together here in Centre County, Pa.

Sunday they died together thousands of miles away in a ferryboat capsized by a savage typhoon in northern Japan.

In a terse report from the Army yesterday listing American service men known to have died when the ferryboat overturned were:

Pvt. John W. Zerby, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Zerby, Spring Mills, Pa.

Pvt. Harry E. Boob, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair E. Boob, Aaronsburg, R.D., 1, Pa.

Their homes are only seven miles apart.

In Japan they were stationed almost as close for many months yet neither knew the other was there.

Relatives and friends of both soldiers never knew the proximity of the two friends in their overseas assignments—not until the casualty list came through. John was a Gregg Twp. Vocational School graduate. He repaired farm equipment for a hometown company. He entered the service in March 1933 and went overseas in November 1933.

Harry worked on farms near his home. He entered the service in December 1932. Soon after he was sent to Japan.

John had a brother and a sister. Harry had four brothers and four sisters.

In a letter received from Harry last Saturday, the boy told his father he would be home within 40 days. He said he didn't want to miss hunting season.

John also wrote his parents recently saying he would be home very soon.

In their many letters, neither soldier mentioned the other as being stationed nearby.

FHA Sifts Complaints

Though the exact number is uncertain, it appears that some residents of the Walled Lake area are very glad the Senate Banking Committee visited Detroit last week.

The two day hearing directed by Sen. CAPEHART gave JOHN HOBBS, of Van Hoeft Street, Walled Lake, a chance to complain for himself and others about some FHA approved homes they had bought.

In his testimony HOBBS listed what he said were defects in his prefabricated house including faulty operation of the septic tank. He added that others of his neighbors had the same complaint.

Sen. Capehart told W. E. Edwards, Eastern Michigan FHA director, that the committee investigators had found that everything HOBBS said was true. When Edwards told the committee Chairman that he never had heard of HOBBS's complaint, the Senator said "you ought to have a more effective complaint system."

Doubt about the number of dissatisfied purchasers arose after one Detroit newspaper reported that many of HOBBS's neighbors don't share his views. FHA officials also charged that HOBBS had failed to furnish them with file numbers so his purchase could be traced through bank and government records. Moreover, they said his complaint was only two weeks old and that normally FHA is a month behind in this work. As for the septic tanks, that is Oakland County's problem, FHA claims.

Mr. HOBBS nonetheless has rendered a public service by drawing official attention to the Walled Lake situation. The immediate result was the clear FHA statement that properly filled complaints get attention in the normal course of events.

Regents' Door Ajar

Appearance of accredited newsmen at a meeting of University of Michigan Regents for the first time in 100 years has made history at Ann Arbor.

This slightly open door policy was adopted reluctantly. Nonetheless, it was a partial victory for the Michigan Press Association and the people's right to know. MPA began the crusade for open meetings of college governing boards nearly two years ago.

Almost immediately the State Board of Agriculture which controls Michigan State College agreed to admit the press. Only reporters from the college newspaper were barred.

In contrast, the regents held out until now. But in admitting the press on a one year trial basis, they permitted a reporter for the Michigan Daily, campus newspaper, also to attend. The new policy includes reservation of the right to go into executive sessions when it is felt that matters haven't matured sufficiently for open discussion.

During the meeting the regents approved faculty reports furnished to them a week earlier. Their was no discussion of their contents and President Hatcher referred to them only by title. In other words, the regents' door isn't yet wide open.

Realizing that there are cases in which great harm could be done by premature publication, we believe this new policy is a step in the right direction. We also believe, however, that in the trial year the regents will discover that the responsible press can be trusted not to publish things which might hamper them in their work.

U. N.'s New President

Probably no abler or more distinguished figure ever has presided over the United Nations Assembly than Dr. EELCO VAN KLEFFENS.

The Dutch diplomat who was elected on the opening day of the ninth session is now in his 60th year. He first appeared on the international stage in 1922 as assistant director of the legal department of the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Since then he has gained renown for his phenomenal memory and great ability.

A tall, spare man, VAN KLEFFENS got his legal education at Holland's University of Leyden. In addition he holds honorary doctor's degrees from Franklin and Marshall and Hope Colleges and the Universities of Michigan and California.

Holland's Foreign Minister in exile during the war and after liberation, Dr. VAN KLEFFENS headed his country's delegation at San Francisco when the U. N. was organized. Now Netherlands Minister to Portugal and head of his country's U. N. delegation, he served as ambassador to Washington from 1947 to 1950.

With his deep knowledge of international law gained in both the United Nations and League of Nations, Dr. VAN KLEFFENS indeed is a worthy successor to the Assembly's retiring president, India's Madame PANDIT.

Golf: A game that some men move heaven and earth to play.

Tramping through Pontiac on his way to Florida, after visiting his mother at Midland, is Walker Dick Cook, a 45 year old pedestrian who during the past three years has walked 17,600 miles, covering all of the 48 states. He pulls his "house" behind him, a canvas box just long enough for him to sleep in at night, and mounted on four rubber tired wheels. He averages 25 miles per day and sells cards and other souvenirs to cover expenses.

The 2,069 entries in the football contest who picked Pontiac to win and thus who survived the Pontiac-Waterford game now carry over to the Pennsylvania-Princeton game on Oct. 3. The Detroit Lions-Cleveland Browns game originally scheduled for next Sunday has been put over until Dec. 19 on account of the World Series, and will of course not be counted in the contest until then. The 278 contestants who picked Waterford to win and the 36 who predicted a tie game are eliminated from the contest.

Thirty years old this week is the GM Proving Ground near Milford, according to Charles A. Chayne, GM vice president in charge of the engineering staff. He tells me that in those 30 years automobiles, trucks and buses have been driven there in testing a total of 151,674,787 miles, equivalent to more than 6,000 trips around the world at the equator. Currently, up to 40,000 test miles are being driven daily.

Oakland County's next incorporated city may be a close neighbor of Pontiac. Although it has never been incorporated as a village, Keego Harbor is going through the preliminary process of becoming a city. According to William Hollibaugh, chairman of the incorporation committee, the required census count now is under way.

Pontiac Press Commended for Editorial Regarding Utah Indian Termination Bill

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests—unless the letter is critical to the nature.

The Association on American Indian Affairs commends the Pontiac Press for its editorial of September 2 stating the case for a Presidential veto of the Utah Indian Termination Bill.

This bill, authorizing a federal walkout on its responsibilities to these unlettered and destitute, Paute Indians of Utah, was not vetoed and became law and the trend of the national government to abandon its protective relation to the Indian tribes goes on unabated.

Our national responsibility to protect our Indian tribes as long as they need protection is never questioned by a citizen who knows the facts, and the Pontiac Press is to be thanked for making the facts available.

We, for our part, should be glad to send a copy of "The Indian Tribes Speak," a collection of tribal statements, to any of your readers who write the Association on American Indian Affairs, Inc., 48 East 86th Street, New York 28, New York.

Follow Christ's Ways for a Happier World

The ultra scientists, especially the evolutionists, who make a study of the Universe and that part of it called Earth, say that all is the result of cause and effect, an accident and that there was no purpose, plan or mind back of the same.

They deny that there is any God or Divine Reason that planned everything. The Atheist says there is no God. He cannot prove this but because his mental make up is such that he cannot comprehend or understand the Divine Mind, he says there is no God.

The Agnostic says "I don't know," and seems to have no hope for the future. All three seem to believe that when their short span of life terminates this ends all. A rather sad and dreary prospect.

On the other hand, we have had great leaders and teachers in the past who did comprehend and believed that there was a Divine Mind controlling the entire Universe. The greatest was Jesus Christ who believed what the older prophets taught and approved of their teachings and went further and taught the brotherhood of man and laid down rules for right living.

If man would make an effort to follow Christ's teachings, this world would be a grand place in which to live and when life ended here the soul or spirit of man would go on to further heights and we would all be happier.

A. B. Culver Disagrees With Dr. Crane's Idea

I think Dr. Crane's reason why a man gets more kick out of kissing another man's wife is "poor and flat." The reason a man gets a kick out of kissing another man's wife is "I wonder if she will slap me." She should do that very thing.

Another reason, "I wonder if he catches me doing it." The husband might not be justified in shooting but if he did shoot he would only have to plead insanity and he would go free.

The kiss did not count, it was only the thrill he got out of it.

Let's Teach Children to Think Things Over

Why must one wait until he reaches adult life to make mistakes and learn how to solve his problems? What good is all of the education concerning reading, writing, arithmetic and all the other subjects if we are turned loose into the world without any definite knowledge of how to solve our problems.

Teach children to wait for the still, small voice that speaks out of the silence before they act. Teach them to submit whatever counsel they receive to their inner minds and wait for the seasoned verdict that will surely follow.

Show them that there is no need for haste when truth is at stake. Teach the older children to sit quietly in the dim church, to go into the serenity of the woods, to seek the quiet of their rooms and search their hearts for the truth that is in them before telling the world the way it should go.

This is an old world and truth is no stranger to it. Somewhere in the stillness the truth dwells. Never go on hunches but follow the language of the heart which will guide, protect and warn you if you will but listen.

This is a plan worth adoption by our diplomats to get something worth while accomplished.

Bingo Not Necessary if Christians Tithe

The church of our Lord Jesus Christ is not an "organization" but an "organism." Therefore it is not a social club organized for the support of its members or a place of amusement for the whims of its membership and the ungodly.

If these professing Christians who support bingo games, whether in the church or out, would get themselves right with God and filled with His Spirit and turn their tithes and offerings into the church the way they should, they wouldn't need to hold their church up before the world as a "house of merchandise" for sale of indulgences and other commodities through bingo games to raise money to carry on its work.

When churches (if they are preaching the Gospel) turn to the legislature and the ballot with the ungodly to legalize the getting of "filthy lucre" by any means, they not only lose their power with God and man but fail in their efforts in Evangelism and the winning of the souls of men for Christ.

Scripture teaches that Christ is the head of the Church, not the legislature. Has Christ been sought and asked about "petty gambling" in the church? I would suggest that you close your church doors for an all day session of prayer and confession of sin before God and seek His face about these matters.

Brady Says He Would Never Submit to the Pasteur Treatment for Rabies

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
 Several Los Angeles readers asked me how I account for the (they give various numbers) deaths from rabies in the recent outbreak in Chicago, if rabies is a veterinary problem and not a problem for public health administrators?

On the other hand a number of Chicago readers have asked the same rhetorical question with reference to the fatal cases of rabies in the recent Los Angeles "outbreak."

It is beyond even my capacity to diagnose, explain or account for anything on hearsay.

But, for the benefit of the health "authorities" of Chicago and Los Angeles, and for your benefit, if you are confused enough about "hydrophobia" to worry about it in any situation, I'll cite once more the conclusion reached by Drs. Denison and Dowling, health officer and director of health department laboratory in Jefferson County (Birmingham), Alabama, after their ten to seventeen years experience dealing with the rabies problem in what they said it called "the rabies capital of North America."

"Rabies is primarily a veterinary problem. Regardless of its prevalence among dogs, it will probably never cause sufficient morbidity or mortality among human beings in this region to allow its classification as a public health problem of importance."

The main point of all the mad dog publicity appears to be to keep people confused, People fear what they don't know.

Even if rabies occurs in man, which I doubt, the possibility scarcely warrants all the to-do health department politicians, headline hunters and cushy job-holders make of it.

There is no scientific evidence that so-called Pasteur treatment prevents anything, none that I know of, at any rate, and I'll consider courteously any courteous dissent a physician or health officer may make to this statement.

Dr. T. F. Sellers, after thirty years of practical experience with the mad dog problem, for some years of the time as state health commissioner, considered administration of antirabic vaccine (Pasteur treatment) to persons actually bitten or scratched by known or suspected rabid animals relatively simple and justifiable, "but for exposures other than actual bites, the danger of treatment complications far exceeds that of either rabies or rabiphobia."

David Lawrence Says:

Watkins Report Introduces Real Totalitarian Concept

WASHINGTON — Oliver Wendell Holmes—the great liberal who was associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States—once wrote that "freedom of speech is freedom for the thought we hate."

The Senate committee of six has, in effect, just repudiated that doctrine and has introduced instead a totalitarian concept which proposes that a senator be punished hereafter or censured by the United States Senate not for what he has done but because what he has said is disliked.

The two charges on which the Senate committee has recommended censure are based upon views and opinions expressed by the senator from Wisconsin in letters or speeches or public statements.

This means that hereafter an intolerant majority in Congress can intimidate, if not suppress, minority opinion. It can cite the Watkins report as justification. It can threaten to punish dissenters. Conformity of thought alone would be safe.

The Senate of the United States is being asked, moreover, by one of its own committees for the first time in the history of Congress to regard the expression of unpopular or even distasteful opinion as disorderly behavior. That's the only phrase in the Constitution which permits either house of Congress to punish its members.

Up to now, it has been properly applied only to fist fights on the floor of the Senate between senators. Never before has that phrase been construed to apply to language used by a member of Congress, but now it opens up a wide field. If the Senate approves the Watkins Committee report, it will be morally obligated to start immediately censuring proceedings against other senators who have said things equivalent to those expressed by Senator McCarthy.

When the entire Senate begins to discuss the Watkins report on November 8, the American people will get all the facts surrounding the behavior of the Watkins Committee itself, which in some respects deserves censure.

They will learn for the first time from the lips of Senator McCarthy himself what General Lawton told him General Zwicker had said to him about the Wisconsin senator's efforts to rid Ft. Monmouth of spies. The Watkins Committee declined to press General Lawton to reveal the facts and he himself feared he might be punished by the Army—something no congressional committee heretofore has regarded as a valid reason for withholding information vital to Congress. That story will disclose why Senator McCarthy lost patience with General Zwicker.

Most challenging for the future of the Senate itself is the declaration by the Watkins Committee that it disregards the voice of the people in elections and that it is justified in going back as many years as it pleases to dig up whatever a senator may have said before his current term began.

This is the first time that such a usurpation of power has ever been approved by any Senate committee. Unless rejected by the Senate, it means that several senators could be subject to trial hereafter because they have said things equivalent to the comments of the Wisconsin senator which now are formally declared to merit censure.

The Watkins Committee specifically says, moreover, that a senator can be censured for uttering "harsh criticism" or for his "manner of speaking" or for his "denunciatory" language in letters, speeches or public statements.

Nothing of this sort was ever an offense before, but an ex-post-facto judgment has been rendered against the Wisconsin senator alone.

If Senator McCarthy is deserving of formal censure by the Senate, no legal or constitutional grounds have been offered in the new report that conform to any previous precedent in the entire history of the United States Senate from 1789 to date.

In fact, the Watkins Committee concedes there is no precedent for what it has said in its report and that it is blazing a trail. This means that passion and public hysteria can be the governing impulses, just as they were in Nazi Germany when Hitler ordered the judges to decide cases not by the law or the constitution but by public sentiment.

The Watkins report is full of contradictions and inconsistencies in its own rulings which in due time will be analyzed by senators who are opposed to "lynching" McCarthy for his views.

The charge against tornado McCarthy is triplex in its intensity. Using a keyhole for a monocle, plastering walls with ear-wax and ambushing a file-index.

Here's the prescription in parliamentary patois, "conduct unbecoming a senator or a gentleman, wrecker of tradition and carrying a bundle by the string."

That chin gymnasium under the dome specializes in bag-punching and wrist-slapping.

May, '48, Dr. Sellers said that the state health department had furnished Pasteur treatment for 50,000 persons, and among the 33 fatalities following such treatment 4 were caused by the Pasteur treatment.

So, if I may harp on this once more, the treatment I'd want if I were bitten or scratched by animal or fowl, whether presumably rabid or not, is as follows:

1. Immediate surgical disinfection of the wound—which means not only washing with soap and water but, if necessary, surgical removal of any damaged or dead tissue.

2. Ordinary aseptic (sterile) dressing.

3. An immediate dose of tetanus antitoxin or toxoid, and a second dose of it 5 to 7 days later. That's all.

Under no circumstance would I have Pasteur treatment. Under no circumstance would I permit any 19th century charlatan to cauterize the wound with "fuming nitric acid" or any other destructive agent. That's a good way to promote development of lock-jaw (tetanus).

Bob Considine Says:

Best-Dressed Lists Rated as Phonier Than $3 Bills

NEW YORK (INS)—What could be more phony than a $3 bill? Glad you asked that, buster. The Custom Tailors Guild's "10 best-dressed men" list can be phonier, and proves it at least once a year.

So do all other "best-dressed" dodges. They are as suspect as football "all-America teams" published before the season starts.

The Custom Tailors Guild's latest list, which I turned over to Walter Lippman because I felt it was more down his alley, and which he scorned for reasons not yet known, is accompanied by a covering letter containing this remarkable paragraph:

"According to Custom Tailors Guild member Carmen Duro of Chicago, midwesterners, who have always dressed in more rugged fashion than their eastern contemporaries, are swinging gradually towards the eastern 'dresser' look. At the same time, New Yorkers are veering more towards the midwestern casual, more masculine mode of attire."

Is this good or bad for a mid-way point like Pittsburgh? I plan to take the matter up with Ed Becker and Royal Daniel of the Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph at the earliest opportunity.

Once upon a time—I was a young man then — a "best dressed" list claimed me. It was shortly after I moved from Washington, D.C., to New York to work. I had one suit, plus an old gray button-down-front sweater and a pair of slacks.

Overwhelmed by the recognition, which curiously coincided with my assignment to write a column, I went out and bought two more suits. Good ones that fitted. But I was never mentioned again! Apparently, one can overdo these things.

Through the years, however, I've scanned the names of the lucky souls who have made the lists of the 10 best-dressed men and I've come to a conclusion which some may consider cynical or treasonous.

You know what? It helps your chances of getting on the best-dressed list is you happen to be in the public eye at the moment. Even like a cinder in the public eye, already.

For example, guess who is the best-dressed man in America today connected with sports? Leo Durocher! On some of the many best-dressed lists this is the first time Leo has been tapped since 1951. Curiously, he won his last pennant in 1951.

Personally, I thought Leo was the best-dressed man in sports in 1953. But I was a fool. Casey Stengel got the nod, on the best-dressed list I read.

It was a remarkable year for Casey. Imagine winning the American League pennant for the fifth straight year, plus the World Series, plus the best-dressed acclaim, and in the same suit?

Take like, for another example. The President bought some fine suits this year, and some superb sports jackets. But he lost out in the best-dressed list to Tom Dewey.

Dewey won right on the heels of announcing for the front pages that he was forsaking striped pants and the sugar-shovel coat forever. At least until 1956.

Not that the whole Eisenhower family is slipping sartorially. The best-dressed educator of 1954 A. D., in the Custom Tailors Guild of America list, turns out to be Dr. Milton Eisenhower, identified in the proclamation from CTG as "Pres. U. of Penn." Congratulations, Dr. Eisenhower! Always knew you'd outgrow those store-bought styles and Penn State.

A lot of the "best" lists that flood newspaper desks, and line city room wastebaskets, are compiled solely to slip in the name of some poor soul who is paying a publicity man to light up his nose. The publicity man worth his salt will get up a "best" list for any client with more than a sawbuck to spend. It will contain such acclamations as "best President now in White House—Dwight D. Eisenhower," and "best home run hitter of all time—Babe Ruth."

Then it will say, "best maker of odd-sized ribbon goods on 39th street—Joe Blow." And everybody's happy except J. B., because only in desperation is any such list ever printed.

Says Hormel Paid $20 for Marijuana

LOS ANGELES (U)—One of the members of George (Geordie) Hormel's trio has testified that the young millionaire musician paid $20 for marijuana cigarettes the night he was arrested.

Robert Shevak, string bass player, said that Hormel gave him $20 to buy the cigarettes from a night club parking attendant. Shevak gave the testimony yesterday at a preliminary hearing for the defendant, Mark Lamb, 41, who was held for Superior Court action on a charge of selling narcotics.

Hormel is free on $1,500 bond pending a hearing Oct. 8 on a charge of possessing marijuana. Shevak awaits trial the same day on a previous charge of possessing heroin.

Husband, Wife Arrested for Identical Violations

OMAHA, Neb. (U)—Wade A. Pugh, Omaha, was arrested on charges of driving 45 miles an hour in a 15-mile limit zone yesterday.

Shirley Pugh was arrested at just about the same hour in the same vicinity and charged with driving 45 miles an hour in a 15-mile limit zone.

Both were fined $10 and costs. Husband and wife, they were driving separate cars.

Nail Speeders With Film

RALEIGH, N. C. (INS)—Motorists are being "caught" with their accelerators down in North Carolina. The state highway patrol is using special movie cameras, mounted inside the patrol cars, to film speeders and show exactly how fast they are going. It is the first time the equipment has been used by any state.

Cardtable Talk Affects Region

Bridge Chatter Places New England Ahead of Nation Timewise

BOSTON (INS)—Eighty per cent of New Englanders now are ahead of the nation—timewise—and will be until Oct. 31 as the result of a discussion among a group of women at a bridge table in the town of Upton.

Going it alone in daylight saving time, in traditional New England fashion, are Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Maine and parts of Vermont, including four cities.

It all started last fall when Mrs. Gladys Gertrude Crockett succeeded her late physician-husband as a member of the House of Representatives. She was talking about the danger of motoring in fall afternoons when darkness comes all at once.

The "girls" asked her why she didn't do something about it. So last December she filed a daylight extension bill and it passed and became law.

"I just wanted to give folk four weekends when they could drive around looking at the foliage without night coming down on them like an iron curtain," said Rep. Crockett.

With the possibility of another month added to the area's vacation season, other New England states and communities followed the lead of Massachusetts. And the farmers liked the idea.

Confusion was expected but the execution of the plan proved as difficult than anticipated.

Mails were an hour late. Railroads, buses and airlines reported few mixups by passengers, who were told to add an hour when looking at their Eastern Standard timetables.

Television and radio stations said only a few persons called. Outside TV schedules were received an hour late—by the clock—in New England. At 10 a. m. in most of New England it was 9 a. m. in New York, Connecticut, New Jersey or Pennsylvania.

The whole daylight saving plan began with an Englishman named William Willett, whose suggestion first scoffed at, then was put into practice in 1916—a year after his death.

The first art gallery to be connected with a college in the United States was established at Yale in 1831 to receive his paintings of the American Revolution.

New York Gets Most of Its Stars Elsewhere

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I have the craziest hobby—I collect home towns. "Where you from?" is usually about my third question. Because New York, "the biggest, dazlingest, talentedest, sparkliest city on earth," still gets most of its stars from out of town. O. O. McIntyre used to write about small town boys and girls making good in the big city—and it still goes.

Give yourself a gander at the top Broadway stage stars. "Pajama Game" has luscious and well-rounded Janis Paige from Tacoma and John Raitt of Santa Ana, Cal. (pop. 30,332), whereas "Gaine Mutiny" offers you Lloyd Nolan from San Francisco and the crew-cut kid from Pittsburgh, John Hodiak. The town's newest night club sensation—Comedian Paul Gray—is from Pueblo, Colo.

Opening at the Versailles in the brilliant new show, he spoke of a composer whose name is legendary—"you know him, Frank Legendary"—and added that he's always losing his girl. "Finding her," he maintained, "is as hard as finding a picture of Marilyn Monroe with her mouth closed."

A "Ph. D." was described by pretty Louise Hoff (of Spiceland, Ind.) as "a pretty horrible doctor."

I haven't been able to find anybody here from Bangor, Me., or Montgomery, Ala., or Jamestown, N. Y., or Long Beach, Cal.—but I do know that Elliott Nugent's from Dover, Ohio, (pop. 9,716); Peggy Ann Garner and Blanche Thebom from Canton, Ohio; MacDonald Carey from Sioux City; Kitty Carlisle, Mary Healy and Josh Logan from New Orleans; Herb Shriner from Toledo and Fort Wayne, Ind.; Johnny Ray and Donald Cook from Portland, Ore.; Dinah Shore from Nashville; Ava Gardner from the Carolinas; Jackie Cooper from Los Angeles, and Joan Fontaine from away, 'way out of town—Tokyo, in fact!

Of course Tallulah Darling sprang from Huntsville, Ala. (pop. 77,554).

California and Texas seem to have done better in New York than New York did in California and Texas.

Then you have Cole Porter, of Indianapolis; Fred Allen, of Boston; Sunshine Sue, the hillbilly, of Keosauqua, Iowa, (pop. 855); Eddie Fisher, Paul Douglas, Toots Shor and Wilbur Evans of Philadelphia; and Scotty McKay of Pleasantville, Iowa (pop. 757).

New York, you see, has hardly anybody. Merely Shirley Booth, Irving Berlin, Eddie Cantor, George Jessel, Eddie Foy, Alfred Drake, and Rodgers and Hammerstein.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Johnnie Ray was "very surprised" that his ex-wife Marilyn Morrison got on the same plane and came to NY with him from Hollywood. . . . Some sports scribes think Alvin Dark'll get the MVP award (cause he's 30 while Willie Mays has many years more to compete for it).

ELLEN KAMPMAN Cafe Impresario Jack Entratter's talking to Columbia Pictures' Harry Cohn about a producer's berth. . . . Tallulah, posing for pictures for "Dear Charles," told the cameraman, "Show my mouth closed—no one will recognize me." . . . Singer-dancer Ellen Kampman's already signed for next year's Jones Beach Show.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Bill Cullen's description of a Dodge fan: "A guy who'll turn off TV during the World Series to answer the telephone."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Everywhere else," reports George Shearing, "kids bring the teacher apples. In Las Vegas they bring lemons, cherries and oranges."

Jack Paar claims that Hollywood psychiatrists earn their large fees: "After all, look at the size of the heads they have to examine." . . . That's earl, brother. (Copyright 1954)

Indian Student Regains Appetite and Will to Live

EAST LANSING (U)—Sankar Chari's appetite continued to perk up at Michigan State College Hospital today and authorities were hopeful the Indian student's 22-day semi-fast was definitely broken.

Chari, who has been starving himself since undergoing a leg amputation resulting from a laboratory explosion, seems to be revived by the presence of a brother, S. Krishna Chari, who flew here from New Delhi to be at the bedside.

The college authorities reported that Sankar yesterday ate some carrot, lettuce salad, muskmelon, potato and broccoli and drank half a glass of milk.

Sankar refused solid food, the college said, apparently for fear of violating religious tabus and seemed to have given up the will to live.

The brother has persuaded Sankar to eat by sampling his foods first as proof that nothing forbidden is included in the diet.

Sankar was taken outside in a wheelchair Sunday for the first time.

Playmates' Yells Save Boy Trapped in Ash Pit

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (U)—Quick calls from playmates were credited with saving the life of a 7-year-old Charleston boy trapped yesterday in a fly ash fill described as being as dangerous as quicksand.

Witnesses said the frantic calls attracted Norvell Spade, who pulled young Gary Snider from the fill created by deposits from a Charleston chemical plant.

Forest Fire Damage at Record Low Level

LANSING (U)—Four forest fires which burned about five acres of Michigan wildlands in the past week kept the fire loss at record low levels.

The conservation department reported today that the week's total brings the total loss for the year so far to 3,599 acres, well below the total at the same time in 1951, the previous record low year.

LOST 25 POUNDS Busy Owosso Lady Finds Good Tonic In Rennel

"I started to take Rennel Concentrate with the idea of reducing and lost 25 lbs.," writes Mrs. Carl Kregger, 1217 Milwaukee St., Owosso, Mich. "Then I also discovered that it not only made me lose weight but gave me pep and vitality which I didn't have before. Now I am continuing to take Rennel for the good I get out of its tonic qualities. It gives me regularity and keeps me in good health which is so important to me since I work 8 hours a day and have a family of five to care for. I do all that and really feel fine." Thousands have discovered this amazing simple home recipe to be the safe economical no diet way to reduce. Obtain Liquid Rennel at your drug-gist, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you do not lose weight with the very first bottle just return it for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel. Insist on genuine Rennel.

Engineers' Strike Closes 2 Breweries

LOS ANGELES (U)—A strike of 15 engineers has halted production at two Los Angeles breweries.

Officials at the Schlitz and Pabst plants said about 1,100 workers were idled by the walkout yesterday. Only two or three pickets appeared at the Schlitz plant in suburban Van Nuys and the Pabst plant in Los Angeles, but most of the other workers refused to cross the picket lines.

The AFL International Union of Operating Engineers is asking an increase of 27½ cents an hour for 16 members of Local 501. The companies have offered 13 cents. The present base pay for the engineers is $2.72½.

The union allowed one man at each plant to keep refrigeration equipment going to prevent spoilage of beer already made.

Celebrates 60th Birthday With 100th Time in Jail

LONG BEACH, Calif. (U)—Wilson Ray Parkins celebrated his 60th birthday locked up in jail for the 100th time.

Parkins was arrested on suspicion of drunken driving. Officers said it marked the century point for him on a Long Beach police record dating back to 1936. Since then he has been arrested for drunkenness 84 times, plus assorted charges of vagrancy, disorderly conduct, drunk driving, and being fugitive from traffic warrants.

What can equal your telephone?

It's as though your telephone had a changing personality. Now it carries merry sounds to appreciative ears. Then the mood changes—a worried young mother hears a doctor's calm, soothing advice over the telephone. Whether the message is good-natured visiting, or an urgent seeking of help, your telephone is always ready to serve you. That's what makes it worth so much more than it costs.

* An extension gives your telephone added value. It saves you time and steps, is near when you need it, costs only pennies a day. Call your Business Office.

Dr. Cantor's Advice to Insomniacs: Use Mind Over Mattress—Relax

By EDDIE CANTOR

For many years, I've been sleeping just fine, but it wasn't always that way. I remember on trains, and in strange hotels, I just couldn't close my eyes. I tried everything. Someone said, "Cantor, why don't you drink hot milk at night?"

I drank so much of that white stuff that when I opened my mouth, all you could hear was "moo!" I tried taking warm baths. Everything!

I even started counting sheep. I not only counted sheep, but you know how ambitious I am—I sheared their wool—packed it in nice fancy boxes, and shipped the boxes all over the country.

Several people failed to pay their bills. Then I was awake trying to figure out how to get even! I was "Mr. Insomnia" himself!—irritable at home. I blew my top higher than a Jack Benny toupee in a windstorm. Finally, I was recommended to a fine doctor. In one visit I was cured.

Y'know what he said? "Eddie Cantor, I don't know of one person who ever died from insomnia. I've got patients eighty years old who have complained of it for forty years. Probably die at ninety and their last words will be—'Didn't sleep a wink last night!'"

Well, sir, that stopped my worrying, and started me sleeping. If any of you readers have trouble sleeping, take a tip from me. Use a little mind over mattress.

If you don't dose off in the first half-hour, just relax. You'll stand a much better chance of falling asleep, and even if you don't, I guarantee you'll feel better in the morning.

Well, that's Doctor Cantor's prescription for the day! If it doesn't work, better go to a real medico and get a pill!

Village Spared by Forest Fire

But Another Community Imperiled as Fighters Strive to Curb Blaze

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (INS)—Weary, grimy fire-fighters battling a 5,000-acre bush and forest blaze north of San Bernardino expressed hope of bringing it under control some time today.

Fire boss Don Bauer of the U.S. Forest Service said prospects are good for containment today, despite the fact that flames slopped over on the west side into Cable Canyon and burned fiercely in heavy timber.

The newest hot spot is west of the small resort area of Cedar Pines, high on the crest of the San Bernardino Mountains.

Bauer rushed about 200 men to Cable Canyon to fight the outbreak.

Cedar Pines itself was evacuated Sunday and a desperate stand saved buildings in the area from major damage yesterday. Forester Don Lewis said the community was in little danger this morning.

However, there was a threat to the community of Crestline, about three miles east of Cedar Pines. Crestline, of about 2,000 population, is 15 miles north of San Bernardino.

Flames continued to eat northward to Sawpit Canyon, which runs into Miller Canyon. Miller Canyon in turn sweeps back southward toward Crestline.

U.S., France Resume Talks on Indochina Aid

WASHINGTON P — United States and French diplomats got down to fine points today as they resume their discussions on American financial aid for French forces still in Indochina.

The U.S. and French officials met for nearly two hours yesterday, then issued a joint communique saying they had found a considerable "area of agreement."

Straley in New Orleans at Police Chief Parley

Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley will be at New Orleans, La., until Oct. 5 where he will take part in the 61st annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Straley, who left here Sunday, will address police administrators from all over the world on police methods and procedure. Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, Detective Bureau chief, has been designated acting chief in Straley's absence.

Michigan Pays $13,605 in Bounty During August

LANSING (AP) — The state paid out $13,605 in bounties during August, $1,200 more than in August, 1953, the Conservation Department reported today.

The bounties were paid for six wolves, 505 coyotes, 98 bobcats and 841 foxes.

Married Bridegroom Jilted at the Church

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (INS) — An Indian bridegroom was left waiting at the church in Kuala Lumpur recently.

Although polygamy is legal for Indians in Malaysia, his intended bride jilted him when his wife showed up with a newly born baby. The bride-to-be thought he was a bachelor.

First Negro Page Begins Court Job

WASHINGTON UP — The first Negro page boy in the history of the Supreme Court went to work Monday.

He is Charles V. Bush, a blim, 14-year-old boy with an easy grin. He will work for nine months for the justices who last spring banned segregation in the nation's schools.

"I'm looking forward to the job," Charles told a reporter. "The only thing is school is pretty tough."

Charles broke another precedent two weeks ago when he started attending the page school in the Library of Congress.

Most persons with normal eyes can read for six hours without interruption.

Russia Gets the Bird

HONG KONG (INS) — Communist China is now giving the bird to Russia — frozen at that. Press reports reaching Hong Kong say that the Chinese Communists are trading frozen geese for Russian industrial goods.

Cars to Use Alcohol

PARIS (INS) — The French government, which subsidizes all production of industrial alcohol, is cutting down on its tremendous alcohol surplus by mixing petrol (gasoline) with it. French autos should get a kick out of that.

Adults Have Varied Program at 'Y'

The fall program for adults opens this week at the YWCA offering new classes in "do-it-yourself" manner. New this fall will be a camera clinic, instruction in millinery and copper enameling and a film series. Evening classes are open to both men and women and a daytime program is planned for young homemakers.

Millinery classes are held on Tuesday evenings and offers instruction in restyling old hats and the making of new ones. The camera clinic provides constructive criticism of prints and helpful pointers for amateur photographers. A bridge class with instruction in the Goren method is also held on Tuesday evenings.

Informal instruction in arts and crafts will be given Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Copper enameling, metal tooling and etching, ceramics, painting on china, tin and wooden ware, textile painting, nature painting, sketching and painting are among the hobbies offered.

A class in sewing and dressmaking on Thursday evenings gives help with personal problems in cutting, fitting, remodeling and sewing anything from dresses to drapes. Following Thursday night crafts and sewing groups there will be a social coffee hour.

A special program is planned for young homemakers on Wednesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., with a supervised nursery provided for 2½ to 6-year-olds. The program is for all women whether or not they have young children.

Sewing, bridge, knitting and a variety of arts and crafts are offered as well as a noon luncheon program which includes

The Clarence L. Smiths of Windcroft drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Ann, to Joseph R. Swengros, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Swengros of West Huron street. Margaret Ann attends Michigan State Normal College.

MARGARET ANN SMITH

Couple Repeat Their Vows in First Baptist Church

Penny Mendez became the bride of Richard L. Haddad in a ceremony performed Saturday evening in First Baptist Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mendez of Drayton Plains and he is the son of the Jack Haddads of Forest avenue.

For the 8 o'clock ceremony performed by the Rev. H. H. Savage, the bride wore a white satin princess style waist length gown. The bodice featured a deep yoke with tiny buttons down to the waistline and long fitted sleeves.

She carried a white orchid with streamers on a covered testament that the bridegroom carried while in service in Korea. She wore pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Vonnie Whitten was maid of honor wearing a beige strapless tulle gown with a matching velvet jacket and muff. She carried a spray of chrysanthemums in autumn colors held by wicker rings. She wore smaller wicker rings with chrysanthemums on her wrists.

Shirley Dobson and Norma McGlothlin were bridesmaids. Their gowns, styled like the honor maid's were in tan and coffee colors respectively. They carried the sprays of chrysanthemums in wicker rings made like the honor maid's.

The bridegroom and the attendants' costumes were designed by the bride.

Fred Haddad was best man and seating the guests were David Easton of Chicago, Ill., John Kyrtil of Waukegan, Ill., Gene Terbush and Corky Grover.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mike Mendez.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mendez wore a navy blue dress with deep red accessories and a white coat. She wore an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue dress with wine accessories and an orchid corsage.

After a reception held in the church parlors the new Mrs. Haddad exchanged her wedding dress for a beige knit suit and coat with spice colored accessories for a trip to Chicago. The newlyweds will reside on Lynsue Lane.

Program is Held by Fellowship

Women's Fellowship of First Congregational Church held its first fall meeting Friday when they gathered for a luncheon. Colonial Group of the church served the luncheon in the church parlors.

The program for the afternoon was under the direction of Mrs. Stanley Kipp, who presented Mrs. George Gaches of Pontiac, and Mrs. Hardy Korff and Mrs. Norman Deunk of Rochester. They presented the highlights of the conference of Congregational Christian Women which was held at Pilgrim Haven, Lake Michigan, during the summer.

Mrs. Ketha Olsen of Birmingham, president of the Michigan Congregational Women's Fellowship, was a special guest.

Plans were made for a church bazaar to be held Oct. 3 and a smorgasbord to be held Oct. 13.

Coming Events

Pontiac city Penhalliens will meet Monday with Mrs. M. A. Benson Jr., 2955 Old Orchard drive. Girls' Violets of Pontiac Child Guidance Clinic will be guest speaker.

WBCN of Baldwin Methodist Church will meet Wednesday at 8:30 for a friendship breakfast at Mrs. Arthur Lightcap's home at 117 West New York St.

Zonta Clubs Hold 3-Day Conference

Lansing Is Setting for Fifth District Meeting of Clubs

Zonta Clubs of the fifth district of Zonta International closed a three day conference Sunday at Lansing's Hotel Olds. Zonta's Lansing chapter was host for the event.

Attending from the Pontiac chapter were Mrs. Adrian Ish, Lois Ellis, Mrs. Ruth Mills Kennedy, Loretta Paul, Mrs. Homer Tinney, Mrs. Dorothy Brooks and Laura Hunter.

Kenneth Ish of Pontiac, a student at Michigan State College was guest vocalist.

Main speaker for the event was Sam Street Hughes, Lansing attorney and former mayor. "The Third Eight Hours" was the title of his talk.

He pointed out that with eight hours given to work and eight hours given to sleep, we still have eight hours to spend. He challenged the group to think about how these hours are spent.

He suggested their use "in the interest of civilization" and showed how service clubs may well do this by inspiration of culture. He added that women follow through in this way.

Another speaker for the conference was Dr. Charles Anspach, president of Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant, who built his theme "Aerob of Opportunity" around the conference slogan, "grow in understanding, fellowship and service."

"These qualities," he said, "comprise the difference between the progressive and the backward community."

"Growth in fine community life," he continued, "doesn't necessarily go along with size; it stems from the people who live there, those alert to the acres of chances to serve."

Guests Attend Club Meeting

Maple Leaf club held its first fall meeting and luncheon Friday at Hotel Waldron. Guests were Mrs. Ida Crawley of Danville, Va. and Mrs. Pearl Woodcock of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Hostesses were Mrs. Wayne Bridwell and Mrs. Virginia Tubbs. Guests of all members will be welcome at the Oct. 22 meeting.

Sunset Club Meets

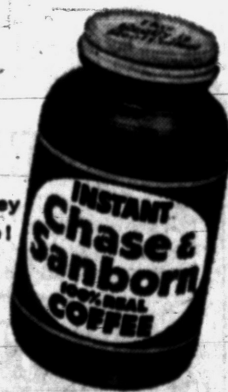

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Estes of the Oakland County Convalescent Home were guest speakers for the recent meeting at Sunset Club held at Wilson School. Mrs. Pearl Kaufman was a guest at the meeting and cooperative dinner.

Retirement Can Harm Marriage If Time Hangs Heavy in Later Years

Reader Asks Advice on Tip Custom Should Not Return Where Service Is Not Worth Extras

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "In a letter reprinted in your column recently from the wife who said the waiter complained because his tip was too small, I would like to say that I, too, have seen this very thing happen in some of the best hotels and restaurants."

What has happened to society, that we are compelled to pay extra for food that is mediocre and service that is deplorable. If I'm not mistaken, the word tip was originated as an abbreviation of the phrase, "to insure promptness." I think the meaning has been lost through the years of 'civilization.'

"Why should waiters and waitresses demand tips, since neither the sales clerk nor the telephone operator get extra compensation for services rendered perhaps better than our friends the waiters and waitresses? I would like to see this discussed in your column."

A tip long ago was often the only money a waiter got and even now in many places their salary is very small and they depend upon their tips for a living wage. Even so, if I were you I would not go back to a restaurant where "the food was mediocre, service deplorable and waiter demanded more tips."

Dear Mrs. Post: If one is served a cup that is filled to the very top so that it is impossible to lift it up to the mouth without spilling it, may one lean over and take a few sips out of the cup? If not, what can be done with the few extra spoonfuls that would have to be removed from the cup so that it could be lifted without spilling over the side?

You don't lean over. You take a sufficient number of spoonfuls out of the cup, and sip these from the spoon until you are able to lift the cup without spilling it.

Dear Mrs. Post: Should one write a thank-you note for a wedding present to Dear Mr. and Mrs. . . . or just to one of them—and in this event I suppose it should be Mrs.? Does it make any difference if the husband is a friend and the wife a stranger?

Answer: You write to the wife and say: "Dear Mrs. Jones (or Mary): Thank you and Mr. Jones (or Jim, if he is an old friend).

A truthful man is one who lies only about his age, his golf score and his salary.

Summer sun and salty surf can rob your tresses grow out. Restore vibrant color brilliance to your hair in one easy home application and a lanolin and lecithin-enriched lasting hair coloring.

New Job Won't Be Like Working for 'an Uncle'

By MARY MARGARET MURPHY

Dear Ernest: I am delighted to hear about the new job. It is, I think, your big chance and I hope for great things from you. You are a fine, young man, ambitious, serious-minded, I am afraid, however, that you are in for some bitter frustrating moments in the chilly world you are about to inhabit five days a week from 9 to 5.

You haven't had much experience with employers and so you may have to learn the hard way that they are more interested in running their businesses successfully than in providing the Ernests of this world with stepping stones to big salaries. To this end, they will make certain demands upon you in the way of effort and self-discipline.

You may have forgotten, but that summer you worked part-time for Uncle George, you were absent a good deal. Uncle George said that while you were working you did very well, but on at least two occasions when you were vitally needed, you failed to report. You were sick, you explained when you showed up without apology two days later.

On several other occasions you quit early, each time explaining that you had some personal affairs to attend to. You may have had them, but the sum total of your cavalier attitude toward the job made you very undesirable.

Recently I read about a survey among 1,000 executives which revealed that the characteristic which most irks them in an employee is unreliability.

Speaking of surveys, I'd also like to tell you about another which brought out among its findings the cause for most firings in business houses. It was not incompetence nor time-wasting, but the inability of an employee to get along well with the people with whom he comes in contact.

Luckily you get on wonderfully with your fellows and, thank goodness, never seem to take pleasure in such popularity-quenching habits as playing practical jokes, loudly enjoying the mishaps of others and egotistically criticizing your elders (even though they must often strike you as old fuddy-duddies).

I hope you won't feel I've been too hard on you, my dear Ernest. There was a time when jobs were so much in excess of applicants that workers could get away with some very shoddy service but that time is past. You will find, I think, that to hold your job with credit you will now need to call upon all the fact, stick-to-it-iveness and self-restraint you can muster.

Your "illness" of last year, I discover, was the result of too late going to bed and over-indulgences; therefore inexcusable. So was your putting private affairs before your job during working hours. I hope and believe you won't make those mistakes again. Good luck!

Plan Event So All May Enjoy It Don't Trust Only Chance to Make a Party Successful

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: We are two teen-age girls who live in a town of around 6000, and there are about 300 of us in our high school. The trouble is that the high school students don't mix.

Whether you go on a hayride or to a formal party, the situation is always the same — girls on one side of the room, the boys on the other. If you go to a party that requires a date, you dance with your escort only, all evening. Even though many of the girls aren't going steady, the boys still won't cut in.

We've met fellows from other towns who mix and mingle on picnics and popcorn parties and seem to enjoy themselves. What's the matter with our local boys? Can you tell us how the fellows and girls in our town can mix and have fun?

Apparently social enterprise in your town consists solely in naming a date, inviting a few people to gather, and leaving the rest to chance. Even that seems to be a great strain. No effort is made to plan fun. Everybody is counted on the make his own.

If there are more girls who feel as you do, the social goings-on aren't much fun. If you're going steady, of course, you don't care about mingling much. But if lots of you are free as birds, small wonder you're dissatisfied with the status quo of your social life.

And what you need is a ring-master. Some slightly older, enthusiastic, authoritative popular leader who can make a few changes for you. You might find that leader in one of your young people's organizations, on the faculty at school, or at Sunday school. Someone with the poise and drive to pull the boys out of their corners and browbeat them good-humoredly into making things fun. With this leader's help you might organize regular square dances for your high school crowd. Have a caller, the right music, the works. Add a bit of swing to those old-fashioned and modern figures, and you'll have everybody hopping together.

At dances, plan a complete program of novelty stunts and "mixers" to spring at intervals through the evening. Coax the boys into the fun by offering really decent prizes for eliminations and lucky numbers dances.

The infectious steam of your leader can change stuffy school parties into exciting and lively whing-dings.

At your private house parties, you two girls are on your own to plan evenings that move from one mixing activity to another. You can't count on the other girls to follow suit, but if they have a particularly good time at your kind of party they might follow the leader.

PETUNIA! What I need is good advice. Look at all The snow-and-ice!

For shame, Petunia! De-frost this minute—and use your hair-dryer to hurry it up. Works fine and fast.

Job Away From Home Is a Solution

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The other day we received an engagingly frank letter from a 34-year-old woman who asked that we answer her through the column, withholding her name, and not through a personal letter. You'll soon see why!

"My husband will be retired in six months," the letter said, "and we are very lucky in some ways because we will be financially comfortable, and able to live in the same house and maintain the same way of life.

"But, fond though I am of my husband, I don't think I'll be able to stand having him around all day long. He'll be underfoot all the time, we'll run out of conversation, and we'll get on each other's nerves terribly.

"Surely there must be some job he could get, since he is in good health, and active. Please don't suggest a little hobby like gardening or woodworking, because that won't take him away from home — and he's got to get away if we're to keep our marriage happy."

You can see how she feels, can't you? In fact, of all the discussions, learned and otherwise, of the problem of job retirement, this most important subject is one which I have never heard dwelt upon. And yet it does involve a tremendous adjustment for most married couples.

For years and years, the home has been her balliwick, and he has appeared only in the evening and weekends. Neither of them is prepared for the day-in, day-out proximity, the every-day lunch at home, the tempers worn thin.

Many times, the answer is a part-time job for the husband, away from home. This is never easy, but more and more companies are raising their age limits, and more and more men are getting some kind of regular job after their retirement.

One of the best books in the field is a new one, called "Jobs After Retirement." It deals with all the problems involved, and while it does cover hobbies and jobs that can be handled at home, it also has good sections on regular outside jobs.

It is directed to women as well as men, so perhaps this lady will find that it might be fun for her, too, to get a parttime outside job! If you would like information about the book, "Jobs After Retirement," send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and I will let you know all details. (Copyright 1934)

Here's a tailored costume with decidedly feminine detail—perfect for the office and afternoon engagements.

Great Square of Pegasus May Be Seen Tonight

By WARREN CHAMPLIN

The Great Square of Pegasus is in the eastern sky, high, at 8 o'clock this evening. If the night is clear and cloudless . . . The moon will have set . . . you might try counting the stars in the Square. The diagram shows the stars you might expect if the stargazing is good tonight. Two stars in the Square are quite easy for good eyes . . . Tau Pegasi and Upsilon Pegasi. From there on, how many stars you can count depends on the keenness of your eye and the clarity of the atmosphere . . . a dozen is a pretty good score unless you're far distant from street lights and unless the air is brilliantly clear. At the end of next week a nearly full moon will be passing the Square . . . it's great light will blot out many of the stars you can see tonight.

Hal Boyle Says:

Britain's Fabian Frowns on Gun-Toting Policemen

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Fabian, Britain's most celebrated detective since Sherlock Holmes, feels it might be a good idea if American cops quit carrying guns.

"The display of firearms is to be deprecated," mildly observed the ex-detective superintendent of Scotland Yard. "It incites the criminal to carry one, too."

"A firearm is not an equalizer—it is an equalizer."

In his 28-year service with "the Yard" Fabian solved a dozen murders, helped send 9 men to the gallows, more than 800 to prison.

"I never carried a gun in my life," he said, "although twice I had to take guns away from men who seemed to want to use them on me. The only weapon I ever needed was my hands."

An expert in ju-jitsu, Fabian began his career as an ordinary constable. He still feels the best way to cut down crime is to put more cops out on beats, swinging a nightstick.

"But I don't go along with this gun carrying," he said. "And it's not because I'm soft either. I'm not vicious, but I do think the pendulum has swung too far the wrong way in our treatment of criminals."

"We pamper both young delinquents and hardened criminals too much."

Fabian believes Britain made a mistake in doing away with the cat o' nine tails in 1948. He is convinced that 10 lashes on a criminal's back with "the cat," or 20 strokes with birch switches on his bare bottom teaches him an unforgettable lesson.

"The physical punishment is not as bad as the degradation," he said. "When you birch a criminal, you treat him like a naughty schoolboy. He never lives down the shame of it—not even with his own class."

Since retiring from Scotland Yard in 1949, Fabian has turned out two best-selling books on his experiences, "Fabian of the Yard" and "London After Dark." He also writes a weekly column on crime for a British newspaper chain and recently completed 39 half-hour TV films, based on his own cases.

Known as "an unorthodox detective," Fabian, now in his 50's rarely employed a disguise himself. He knew thousands of British criminals by sight—and wanted them to know him by sight, too. Some he helped reform. Many became—after business hours—his friends.

"If they wanted a helping hand, I'd give it to them," he said. In 1949 after Fabian risked his life to disarm a bomb planted by Irish extremists, 50 of London's leading crooks struck off a medal in his honor, and threw him a surprise party. Later he was summoned to Buckingham Palace and presented with the King's medal for gallantry—for the same feat.

Here are a few observations on crime by Britain's "detective of the century":

"I don't mind an honest-to-goodness crook myself. But there is too much glamorization of criminals. They don't look glamorous in a cell."

"It has been my experience that most killers do have gray eyes. People with brown eyes are more warm-natured."

"Crime really doesn't pay. A

Red Subs Spy on U. S. California Paper Says

LOS ANGELES (INS)—The Los Angeles Examiner says that Russian long-range submarines have been spying on the West Coast of North America, from Alaska to Mexico, for the last 18 months.

The newspaper quoted a high naval officer, not identified, as explaining that the Red subs, apparently operating from Vladivostok, have been photographing key West Coast centers through their periscopes.

The officer explained: "It would be invaluable to the Russians to have in their possession a set of 'periscope photographs' of West Coast industrial centers."

"These photographs could be used to plot the course of a guided missile launched from a submarine far at sea."

Ike's Nephew Assigned to Berlin Army Force

BERLIN (AP)—Second Lt. Milton S. Eisenhower Jr., nephew of President Eisenhower, has been assigned to the American garrison force in Berlin, the Army announced.

The 23-year-old officer, son of the President of Pennsylvania State College, currently is on one-month field maneuvers with his unit of the Berlin garrison, the 6th Infantry regiment.

Firemen to Ask City for West, North Side Stations

Says Economy May Be Key to State Tax Problems

BRETTON WOODS, N. H. (AP) — Your federal income tax isn't due next year until April 15, but there are those other taxes — "hidden taxes," they're called — and you pay them every day.

Harold L. Henderson, director of the Minnesota Institute of governmental research, today told the National Tax Assn. conference that most state tax departments are raising revenue with taxes on motor oil, motor licenses, liquor, bread, banks, insurance and inheritances.

"And yet," Henderson said, "most states are finding these sources don't furnish enough revenue. These are the states that have turned to the sales tax."

If you don't pay a sales tax then you're one of the fortunate who live in one of the 17 states who to adopt this tax.

"In 1953 some 2½ billion dollars was derived from sales taxes by 31 states," Henderson said.

State income taxes — 33 states have them — provided 17 per cent of the tax revenue of all states. The only thing that keeps state income taxes low, Henderson pointed out, is the competition the federal government gives them in this department.

Henderson said he believes the attitude of the states toward taxation of industry might be the difference of "job today, gone tomorrow."

"Many states definitely shun taxes that tend to hurt industry. New Jersey, Texas, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio are good examples, Henderson said, adding:

"Others keep their general tax burden well below those of neighboring states. Missouri, Kentucky, Mississippi, Nebraska, New Jersey, Illinois, and Ohio are following this procedure."

"The exemption of personal property taxes on manufacturing inventories and equipment would be helpful . . . in retaining and inviting industry in states."

"New York, Pennsylvania, and Delaware exempt all tangible personal property. Exemptions of real property for industry for five or 10 years may be necessary in some states."

"Economists may question this practice but it must be remembered that many states must make some drastic overtures if they expect to obtain new industries."

Henderson said he believes the Southern States, the New England States and the Central Agricultural States should reconsider their tax systems in order to create a more favorable atmosphere for encouraging industrial development.

"Texas, New Jersey, Michigan, Massachusetts, Tennessee, Ohio, North Carolina, Delaware and Pennsylvania are all placing heavy burdens on industry by annual franchise taxes," Henderson said.

Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Kentucky, Oklahoma and Tennessee are in an unfavorable position to compete for new industries, Henderson said, because they impose both annual franchise and corporate income taxes.

These states face trouble, Henderson said, because "well informed industrialists are not going to move into a state that is poorly governed no matter what the picture is."

Henderson summed up the state tax picture with these words:

"There are apparently no new types of taxes on the horizon with the exception of tolls on new super highways. Perhaps the easiest way to solve the tax problem in most states would be a real good dose of economy."

D & C Steamer Under Arrest in Windsor, Ont.

WINDSOR, Ont. (INS) — The former excursion steamer City of Cleveland II, now being dismantled into a St. Lawrence Seaway work barge, was placed under arrest by Windsor, Ont., officials yesterday under a rarely used marine law.

Deputy Sheriff Milton A. Richelleau nailed the warrant to the main mast of the once-proud Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Co. pleasure boat.

The warrant stemmed from a suit brought by Frank Summerfield of La Salle, Ont., who claimed the Carl Ventimiglia Demolition Co., present owners of the vessel, ordered him off the ship "at gunpoint" in Wyandotte after he had performed $4,000 of work.

A gun was confiscated aboard the ship last week by Royal Canadian Mounted Police who said it had been imported illegally when the City of Cleveland was towed across the river.

Two Breakins Reported by Walled Lake Stores

Two Walled Lake stores were broken into by burglars who took a total of $15 in cash and three radios worth about $35 each, according to reports received yesterday by Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

The Lake Automatic Laundry and the Morse Electronics Television and Radio Shop at 132 and 128 W. Main St., were entered sometime Sunday night or Monday morning by thieves who broke out windows to gain admittance, deputies said.

According to Detectives Elmer McQueen and Leo Hazen, $5 in silver was taken from the laundry and $10 in cash and three portable radios were removed from the electronics shop.

Episcopal Publication Attacks Segregation

NEW YORK (AP) — The Episcopal Church News says "segregation in the churches must go."

The current issue of the church publication says segregation in the churches must be ended — not because of any Supreme Court decision — but because it is "a glaring denial of Christianity."

Remembers Bleak Days of His Youth

Auto Dealer Gives Lift to Many Students

On an afternoon in 1931—right in the middle of the Depression—George N. Higgins was busy at his Ferndale Pontiac automobile agency when his telephone rang. The call was from a high school teacher.

"We have a deserving young girl here who badly needs financial aid to finish school, Mr. Higgins," the teacher said, and went on to tell him the girl's father was dead and the mother did part-time janitor work at the school and took in laundry. But her earnings were not enough—the girl would have to leave school unless someone gave her a helping hand.

"She's ambitious, and anxious to become a nurse," the teacher added. "And I thought you or some other businessman might be able to help her."

Higgins promised to think it over. Next day he told the teacher:

"I'll see the girl through high school."

Since that time, the stocky gray-haired automobile dealer has helped more than 75 youngsters get educations which otherwise might have been denied them.

Most of the first 15 years of George Higgins' life were spent on a farm near Sault Ste. Marie in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Money was scarce, and, from the time he was a young boy, he had to work to pay his way.

When he was 19, Higgins struck out for Detroit. During the long, monotonous hours on an assembly line he thought many times about what he might have been doing if he had had a college education.

Finally, when he was 23, Higgins decided to try his hand at selling automobiles.

He saved every cent he could to purchase the Ferndale Pontiac Agency. But he never for-

SILVER LINING — Pontiac National Guardsman lined their pockets last night with silver dollars which the state paid enlisted men for expenses while at Camp Grayling summer encampment last August. First Sgt. Clarence Pizzala (above) of 389 S. Anderson St., "M" Company's "top kick," counts out the cash for 79 men of his company who received an average of $30 each. The pile in front of Pizzala totals $2,500 and weighed about 125 pounds. Ordinance Company which pays its 47 enlisted men tonight, will have a similar, but smaller amount, worth about $1,375.

Students Kept From Classes as Parents Fear Segregation Violence in Delaware

MILFORD, Del. (AP) — The deepening dispute over integration of 11 Negro pupils in Milford's previously all-white high school reached another crossroad today with segregationists appealing again for white pupils to remain away from classes.

Attendance at today's session under the watchful eye of state and local police, could well set a trend for future action in the battle over continuing the 11 Negro pupils in the 10th grade of the Lakeview Ave. School. Yesterday, less than 30 per cent of the enrollment of 1,562 pupils appeared for classes. Ten of the 11 Negroes arrived, went to classes and then were driven home by police escort.

School officials explained the low attendance by pointing to parents' fear of possible violence or opposition to integration. Just which is predominant apparently will be decided this morning, the officials felt.

Meanwhile, in Marion County,

West Virginia, the County Board of Education announced last night that it would "seek relief in the courts" against persons protesting integration in the small coal mining community of four states.

The Annabelle elementary school opened Sept. 7 with 13 Negroes attending classes with 157 white students. County Board Superintendent J. J. Straight said the number of white students subsequently attending classes dwindled to about half that number.

And yesterday, about 16 people warned the principal and teachers of the elementary school there would be "trouble" if they entered the school. Principal Lloyd H. Securo and the five teachers went home and the school was closed.

Last night, pro-segregation forces in the Milford School District, at their third meeting in three days, stepped up their drumfire for a boycott of the school at a mass meeting in nearby Lincoln.

State police said a conservative estimate of the crowd was 750.

The Rev. Manaan Warrington, newly elected president of the Delaware Chapter of The National Assn. for the Advancement of White People, urged the parents to keep their children home in opposition to integration "until the Negroes get out of our school."

He said anti-integrationists would continue their attack "no matter what the consequences."

Yesterday's reopening, after a one-week shutdown, went off without undue incident. The identity of the eleven Negro, a boy, was still unknown today.

Warrington and others were circulating a petition today calling for the ouster of School Superintendent Ramon C. Cobs and high school Principal M. Alexander Glassmire. Warrington said a "criminal investigation bureau is being started to probe the rest of the teaching staff."

Claim Situation at Critical Stage

Lawmakers Also Slated to Renew Operating Permit for Bus Line

Members of the Firemen's Civil Service Commission plan to appear before the City Commission tonight to urge that the city "find some place in its program for fire stations on the west and north sides," the firemen's commission chairman said today.

"The fire control recommendations made by the insurance underwriters have not been paid much attention to and the situation is getting critical," said Chairman Philip R. Sauer.

Sauer said fellow commission member Gerald Guinan plans to appear with him.

Renewal of the operating permit for the Pontiac City Lines, Inc. heads the list of routine business slated for the commission session. The permit is usually renewed yearly.

Commissioners also are to hear reports from City Attorney William A. Ewart on a quit claim deed to Smith Homes, Inc. and regarding the posting of signs on property on Parko street owned by the Slater family.

Ewart is also prepared to make a progress report on complaints against sidewalk builder Rocky Manning.

The commission is set to tabulate bids received for the construction of sidewalks and to open a bid from Milton S. Sodich of Plymouth for the purchase of eight city-owned lots.

Communications are slated to be received from Herbert G. Kohn of Muskegon concerning local parking lot practices, and from Richard Harris of 475 Nevada regarding rezoning of property on the west side of Franklin road, between Luther and Ditmar.

Also on the agenda are resolutions of public necessity and engineer's cost estimates for curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Central avenue, from Saginaw to Paddock; on Edith Court, from Wilson to the Michigan Air Line Railroad, and on Paddock, from Bellevue to Mt. Clemens.

Confirmation of special assessment rolls for such work on Mansfield, from Joslyn to Laurel, James K. from Voorheis to the city limits, and Smith, from Josephine to James K. is also slated.

The commission will also hear a request for transfer of location of package liquor and package beer and wine licenses of Leslie Hudson et al from 1465 to 1461-63 Baldwin Ave.

Completing the agenda are a lease with the Pontiac Press for use of approximately 4½ feet of West Huron street, a resolution to accept a warranty deed from Vashinder, Inc. for a portion of lots 3 to 13 inclusive of East Boulevard subdivision and of lot 242 of Ferry Farm Addition, plus a second reading of an ordinance to amend the city's underground vault ordinance.

Peace Talks Die in Square D Dispute

By International News Service

Negotiations have broken off in the Square D strike in Detroit again and no new talks are scheduled.

Hope for settlement of the 106-day walkout faded after a six-hour session ended last night with the two sides farther apart than before. Negotiators went into the session with federal and state mediators with only one issue unsettled: the discharge by the company of 27 employees accused of picket line violence. Striking local 957 of the United Electrical Workers had offered to accept the company's demand for a no-strike clause providing the dismissed workers return to the job.

Square D officials, however, insisted that the cases of the discharged employees be arbitrated. The union thereupon withdrew its offer to accept the company's no-strike terms.

Meanwhile, contempt hearings growing out of recent wild disorders at the plant will resume this morning before Circuit Judge Frank B. Ferguson. The hearings were put off until today because one of the defendants, Local 957 Business Agent Charles Kelly, was a negotiator.

Apologetic Burglar Robs Bowling Alley of $372

WATERVLIET, N.Y. (AP) — Edward W. James, 70, a night watchman in a bowling alley-grill, told police a burglar beat him up yesterday, then:

1. Apologized. 2. Fed him a quantity of liquor. 3. Robbed the establishment of $372.

James was reported in fair condition in a Troy hospital. The burglar was still at large.

Red Invasion of Formosa Would Result in History's Bloodiest Naval Battle

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
 NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — If the Chinese Communists attempt an invasion of Formosa, as they threaten, it will probably be the bloodiest naval engagement in history.

Bloody for the enemy, that is. Because the U.S. Seventh Fleet which is protecting the Strait of Formosa is one of the most alert and most powerful peacetime fighting forces Uncle Sam has ever maintained on the sea.

The only possible hope of success for Red leaders in such a venture would be to employ their favorite tactic of sacrificing unlimited numbers of men to gain an objective.

Their gamble would be trying to get enough men through the deadly hail of everything the Seventh Fleet can deliver — from atomic bombs to massed machine gun fire—to establish a beach head against the U.S.-trained forces of Chiang Kai-shek.

Reconnaissance by planes of the Seventh Fleet, and other intelligence information, indicates the Chinese Reds have massed an impressive invasion armada of junks, sampans and other small craft on the mainland coast.

Most of them are wooden vessels and have only make-shift armament. They range from small boats which might carry four or five men to big junks which can hold up to 200 soldiers.

The exact size and deployment of the Seventh Fleet arrayed against this junk fleet is a secret. But some fairly close estimates can be made of its minimum size. Four large carriers—the Boxer, Philippine Sea, Hornet and Yorktown—are the vital striking force of the fleet, although one or two are periodically out of the Formosa area.

They launch jets and prop planes which fire rockets, missiles, cannons and can drop A-bombs.

The normal force supporting four carriers is four or five heavy cruisers, 16 to 24 destroyers and a varying assortment of smaller escort craft, mine layers, mine sweepers, seaplane units and smaller gunboat types. The fleet is supplied at sea from Japan.

New commander of the Seventh Fleet is Admiral Alfred M. Pride, a well-decorated veteran of the Pacific in World War II and former head of the Bureau of Aeronautics. He is a quiet, soft-spoken man of sound judgment, not one to make a mistake in any emergency which might develop around Formosa.

The basic mission of the Seventh Fleet is to protect American interests in the Far East and carry out America's defense agreements with the Philippines, Japan and Australia.

At the start of the Korean War, former President Truman ordered the fleet to "neutralize" the waters around Formosa. President Eisenhower amended this to give the Nationalists permission to make any strikes against the mainland, with the U. S. Navy continuing to defend the island against the Reds.

Officers who have been on the staff of the Seventh Fleet recently and have participated in the Formosa patrols have formulated a pretty good picture of the type of action that would take place "when those thousands of junks show up on the horizon."

"We'd use all of our guns and probably even fire mortars. Even the guns of the mine sweepers would be fired. We'd ram the wooden boats and set them afire with incendiary ammunition," one of them says.

"It would be unbelievable slaughter. The planes from the carriers would have two missions. One would be fighting off the MIG's which would probably attack us. The other would be bombing and strafing the invasion boats."

Even if the Reds managed to get a force through that kind of defense and make a beach head on Formosa, the fleet could continue to bombard enemy forces and keep them from getting supplies.

The Navy says the Chinese Reds have no submarines, but that the Russians do have about 100 undersea craft operating in the area. If the Russians used their subs in this effort the Seventh Fleet would be hurt. But it has extensive anti-sub weapons.

The distance across the Strait is about 95 miles—a long trip for an exposed, slow invasion armada. It could be launched from anywhere on a 500-mile strip on the mainland.

Navy experts are skeptical that the action would be worth the use of an A-bomb. But numbers of them would be available in an emergency.

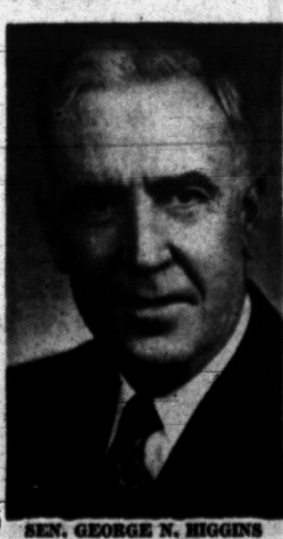

One Navy expert says: "Communist Chinese soldiers might be tough as hell in the jungle or in the mountains of Korea but the minute they get into water over six feet they are over their head both literally and figuratively. They'd find that out fast if they try an invasion of Formosa."

RED INVADERS would have to cross 90-mile Formosa Strait.

THE FLEET BOSS is Admiral Alfred M. Pride, Pacific veteran.

West Coast

DETROIT (INS)—Mrs. Edith Small is reported to have won temporary custody of her three sons and permission to take them to California, over protests from her husband Kenneth, killer of Mrs. Small's boy friend.

The secret hearing is said to have also awarded Mrs. Small $75 a week temporary alimony from the dentist, pending outcome of a suppressed divorce action.

The divorce proceedings were filed early this month after Dr. Small was pronounced sane and freed from the Lonia State Hospital. A jury had found him temporarily insane at the time of the murder of Jules Lack May 28.

Dr. Small, who has resumed his dental practice, started court action two weeks ago to win custody of the boys by obtaining an injunction requiring them to remain in Michigan.

It was reported that this order was amended by Circuit Judge Thomas J. Murphy to permit Mrs. Small to take the children on a trip to the West Coast.

The three children, Steve, 7, Billy, 4, and Clifford, 2, have been living with their mother.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The body of a 25-year-old Michigan Navy enlisted man has been recovered from the wreckage of a plane downed in the Dismal Swamp near Portsmouth, Va.

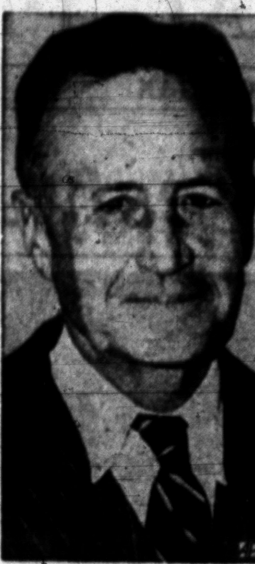

The victim, Wallace Norman Bullock of Lincoln Park, was killed Sunday when a light plane in which he and a companion, Douglas Eric Newell, radioman 3C, also of Lincoln Park, went out of control during a loop and crashed.

Newell parachuted to safety seconds before the plane plowed into trees.

Bullock was attached to Sub Group 1 of the Norfolk Group, Atlantic Fleet Reserve. Newell, 23, is attached to Tactical Air Control Squadron 4, Naval Air Station, Norfolk.

Year for Long Time

DETROIT (INS)—Former Deputy Secretary of Defense Roger M. Kyes has said that the United States will have to spend 33 to 36 billion dollars a year for defense for years to come.

With the current defense program running at 37 and a half billion, Kyes told the Detroit Economic Club yesterday that the country has to keep its defense in order to give the military a chance to do the job that they can do.

The former administration official, now back as a General Motors vice president, also attacked critics who have charged that the Eisenhower plan has been to slash essential defense items from the budget. He said such critics don't know what they are talking about.

Guest speaker at the Economic Club luncheon was Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who said current strategy is to keep the Chinese Reds guessing as to whether the United States will defend the Nationalist island of Quemoy.

Lowest fire losses in seven years were reported for U. S. Army installations in the United States for fiscal 1953.

Adenauer Can Set Price for Helping With Defense

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, "The Old Fox," will be the man to watch in today's conference in London on West German rearmament.

Premier Pierre Mendes-France of France naturally is a key figure also. If there is to be unified European defense, he naturally must be satisfied.

But Adenauer seems to be in position to set his price for the participation of the Bonn Republic in the Allied defense set-up.

During the last few months Adenauer has steadily raised his price.

That there is not more anxiety, even in France, over the strength of Adenauer's position is testimony to the esteem in which he is held.

The fact is that Adenauer has been compelled to up his price. He is doing business not only with the Western Allies but with the 47,500,000 Germans whose leader he is.

When the European Defense Community pact was signed in Paris on May 27, 1952, everything seemed set for West Germany to start raising 12 divisions of troops which would be part of a six-nation European army fitted in with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The pact never was ratified. France, always fearful of renewed German military domination, finally killed it last August 30.

French action has caused the German price-raising. Adenauer lost ground in an important election on Sept. 12, largely because of the killing of the EDC pact.

Now the position is that the United States and Great Britain are ready if the worst comes, to grant West Germany sovereignty, whether France agrees or not, and to start rearming it.

Adenauer's terms at the London conference are reported to be immediate full sovereignty and German rearmament on a basis of equality with the other Allies.

It looks as if he will get them, and thus get even more than was foreseen in the European Defense Community pact.

But Adenauer never fails to emphasize his conviction that Germany and France must work together.

Adenauer was 73, unknown internationally, when he was elected chancellor of the new Bonn Republic in 1949. In the five years of his leadership West Germany has risen from the ashes of defeat to become a prosperous and politically stable community.

He has been a leader of the Christian Democratic Party for many years and had been mayor of Cologne from 1917 to 1933, when the Nazis ousted him. The Gestapo arrested him several times during World War II.

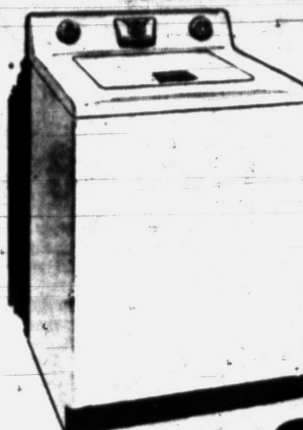

When the Americans freed Cologne, they made Adenauer mayor again. The British, into whose zone Cologne fell, ousted him—they did not like his independent attitude. Now they like him.

"The Old Fox," as Germans call him, is now 78, six feet two, erect, cold-eyed, sharp featured, scholarly and courteous. He is regarded as an indispensable man: An Allied diplomat said of him: "If Adenauer hadn't been here, we'd have had to invent him."

Ara B. Baldwin, 51, of 73 N. Sanford St., was the driver of one of three cars which was involved in a collision Sunday at M 59 and Pontiac Lake Rds., and not his wife Rebecca P., 51, as stated in the Press yesterday. Mrs. Baldwin, treated for head injuries at Pontiac General Hospital, was a passenger in her husband's car.

'Spook Light'
Not So Romantic
When Unveiled

SAND SPRINGS, Okla. (AP)—The mystery of the midnight "spook light" that has drawn free admission crowds numbering as much as 600 persons has been solved. Last night as expensive radio and television equipment was made ready to capture the strange sequence, patrolmen found two boys perched halfway up the cliff with flashlights and towels. Some 500 persons were present at the scene two miles west of here.

The boys, identified by officers as Eugene Anderson, 19, and Jimmy Rose, 17, both of Tulsa, freely admitted the light was their invention. They said they first tried it last Wednesday and repeated it nightly.

Hundreds of persons had visited the area the last five days, some arriving as early as 4 p.m. in order to get a good seat.

Stories came from all sections of the area as residents told of seeing the strange blue-green ball of light for a half century. The mystery was further clouded with an Indian legend that "a young Indian girl had been killed by beheading on the cliff and each year she returned with her dog and lantern to go to the Arkansas River for water."

Being Shot
Again at 20th

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—They were shooting Abe Lincoln again, and I went out to watch it.

The assassination was taking place on a 20th-Fox stage for "Prince of Players," the biography of Edwin Booth. Philip Dunne, a studios type who is directing his first picture, told me the set was an exact replica of Ford's Theater. "Too darned exact," he complained. "I have trouble getting my camera into it."

President Lincoln was being played by a London-born dancer named Stanley Hall. This fellow can boast the most contrasting assignments of the year. His last job was with the Jack Cole dancers in a Marilyn Monroe number for "There's No Business Like Show Business." That's how makeup head Ben Nye happened to see him and admire his Lincolnian facial structure.

All Hall had to do was sit in the box and get shot. But John Wilkes Booth had to do the deed.

Maglie, Lemon Expected to Open World Series

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Barring a surprise selection, the 1954 World Series will open at the Polo Grounds tomorrow with Sal Maglie (14-6) on the mound for the New York Giants opposing the Cleveland Indians (23-7).

Both managers, Leo Durocher of the Giants and Al Lopez of the Indians, promised to make their selections known today. The opening pitchers probably will be announced either during or just after the workouts of the teams.

The Giants were to take the field at 10:30 a.m. (EST) and the Indians about three hours later.

Despite Durocher's known willingness to gamble, it was felt that Leo realizes he must go with his veteran ace, who was his frontman in all of the Giants' clutch series down the stretch. Maglie will be fully rested, having pitched only two warmup innings last Saturday.

Lemon also will be fresh and ready. He has not pitched since

Friday when he went the distance against the Detroit Tigers. Early Wynn, who had been coupled with Lemon by Lopez as a possible first-game starter, may need an extra day of rest. He pitched a "pressure" game against Detroit Saturday, working on a no-hitter until the ninth inning.

The Indians, already a prohibitive 17-10 favorite, were made an even more solid 18 to 10 choice today. The bookmakers undoubtedly will count on Cleveland's deeper pitching staff to bring ultimate victory. The odds-makers also have made the Indians a 6 to 5 favorite to capture the opener, regardless of the pitchers.

The weather man promises nice weather for the opener. He says it'll be slightly cloudy with the temperatures between 65 and 70 degrees when the umpires yell "play ball" at 1 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Reserve tickets for the opener and all other games here and in Cleveland long have been sold. A crowd of close to 55,000 is expected for the opener. The second game also will be played at the Polo Grounds Thursday before the series shifts to Cleveland for the next three, if that many are needed to decide the best-of-seven issue.

Despite the odds, it is this observer's opinion that the Indians will have their hands full and that the series will go the full seven games. It figures to be a keenly fought series, dominated by stand-out pitching by both sides, tight defense and a clutch-hit in the late innings deciding each game.

The Giants can't match the Indians' superlative mound staff headed by Lemon, Wynn (23-11), Mike Garcia (19-8), Bob Feller (13-3) Art Houtteman (15-7) and Don Mossi (6-1), but they have three outstanding hurlers in Maglie, left-hander Johnny Antonelli (21-7) and Ruben Gomez (17-9) and they own two of the best relief pitchers in the business in knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm and screwballer Marv Grissom.

The Giants may come up with a surprise starter, probably for the fourth game, in Don Liddle, their diminutive southpaw. Durocher is inclined to believe the Indians may not like lefties, hence Antonelli and Liddle.

Aside from pitching, the Giants appear to field the stronger club. The infield of Whitey Lockman, Davey Williams, Al Dark and Hank Thompson has a definite defensive edge over the Indians' infield guard of Vic Wertz, Bobby Avila, George Strickland and Al Rosen.

There is little to choose in power. Each club boasts the league-leading batter but Willie Mays' .345 is much more robust than Avila's .341 because it includes 41 homers and 110 runs batted in.

Each club has a standout catcher who is not particularly renowned for his success at the plate. Cleveland's Jim Hegan and New York's Wes Westrum are masters with the mitt but usually draw blanks with the bat.

Purdue II Gunning for Upset of Irish Again

CHICAGO (AP)—If history repeats, Purdue will upset Notre Dame, the nation's No. 1 team, at South Bend Saturday.

It was four years ago that Purdue invaded the home of the fighting Irish and registered a startling 28-14 victory, ending Notre Dame's 39-game undefeated streak.

On that day, a Purdue sophomore quarterback, Dale Samuels, played probably the greatest game of his career. His signal-calling was near perfect. His timely, nine pass completions were good for 115 yards and two touchdowns.

Purdue gave its all in that triumph, for the Boilermakers never won a game the rest of the season until last Saturday when Samuels and his mates collected themselves for a 13-0 decision over another state rival, Indiana, Purdue finished with a 2-7 record.

This Saturday, Samuels' role could be played by another sophomore quarterback, Leonard Dawson. And if the Boilermakers again upset the Irish, they don't figure to slow down the remainder of the campaign like before.

Dawson, a 6-footer from Alliance, Ohio, hit on 11 of 17 passes for 185 yards and four touchdowns as unsung Purdue smashed Missouri 31-0.

It was the first opening-game victory for Purdue in eight years and stamped Coach Stu Holcomb's team as a definite "sleeper" in the Big Ten title chase.

The play was good for 80 yards and the Rams' first touchdown against the Colts.

Bell yesterday labeled the play "unsportsmanlike" and added: "This kind of thing will never happen again if I have anything to say about it."

In the play in question, Ram halfback Skeet Quinlan stayed near the sideline on the Rams' side of the field when the teams lined up for the first play after the kickoff. He sprinted unnoticed downfield to take a pass from Norman van Brocklin. Quinlan went the rest of the way untouched.

Ram Coach Hampton Pool said "no violation" was intended.

"We never thought for a moment that the Colts wouldn't see Quinlan," Pool explained.

"Actually, Van Brocklin's signal called for a pass to Bill Sherman, our left end, but when Van Brocklin saw Quinlan loose he threw to him."

Colts' Coach Weeb Ewbank preferred to blame his team for not being alert, rather than the Rams for using the play. "We went to sleep," he said.

Bell said he would send out a memorandum providing for the unsportsmanlike conduct penalty against any team that sends out a flanker to within five yards of its own sideline.

Both private and public club players will participate. Entries can be obtained from Tex Ellison of the Michigan Publix Golf Association and L. G. Berritt, owner of the course out Rochester Road, just short of Auburn Road.

Anti-Trust Suit to Be Filed Against NFL

Owners Meet to Talk Over Plight of A's

Griffith Is Opposed to Shift to KC; No Showdown Expected

NEW YORK (AP)—American League club owners will learn officially today of the Philadelphia Athletics' dire financial straits but they are not expected to approve any definite relief.

League President Will Harridge called today's session a "clarifying" one and indicated there would be no effort to force a showdown on the A's situation, which has been steadily going from bad to worse the last few years.

Roy Mack, executive vice president of the Athletics, is expected to present two alternatives to his fellow club owners.

One is the sale of the club to Arnold Johnson, Chicago businessman, who wants to transfer the franchise to Kansas City. The other calls for the league to help raise the money necessary to carry on the operation in Philadelphia.

So far Roy has been unable to raise money to retain control of the team himself. And there is known opposition among the club owners to the proposal that the franchise be transferred to Kansas City.

Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, has expressed opposition to Kansas City chiefly because such a move would make Baltimore an Eastern team and require a schedule that would have the Orioles and Senators playing at home at the same time. The two cities are only 30 miles apart. Baltimore became a western club when it took over the St. Louis franchise a year ago.

The elderly Griffith believes Baltimore and Boston, where his son-in-law, Joe Cronin, is general manager, would vote against a transfer of the franchise to Kansas City. Six affirmative votes are necessary to move a club.

Cadets Arrive Early

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The U.S. Corps of Cadets, numbering 474 men, will march into Michigan Stadium at 1 p.m. (EST) Saturday prior to the Army-Michigan football game. The cadets will be accompanied by Army's famous 160-piece marching band. Kickoff time is 2 p.m.

'Blue Monday' Finds MSC Squad Given Stiff Drill

EAST LANSING (AP)—There was a blue Monday in the Michigan State football team following the defeat by Iowa.

Usually, there is some horseplay and a few laughs at the MSC practice.

But after the 14-10 edging by Iowa, coaches were grim and players were serious.

General rule for the Spartans is that Monday is an easy day. Instead, the players scrimmaged in the stadium with the 1st team being driven as hard as any of the substitutes.

When the number one team lined up for the 1st time, there was some noticeable shifts in assignments. These probably won't last, but showed that coach Duffy Daugherty and his assistants want to discipline the players.

Cocky Dressen Shows Bitterness Toward Dodgers in 1st Press Confab as AL Pilot

NEW YORK (AP)—Charlie Dressen, the new Washington manager, is with a new club in a new league, but the former Brooklyn and Cincinnati pilot hasn't changed a bit.

The little 55-year-old peppert signed yesterday to lead the sixth-place Senators for the next two years at an estimated $40,000 per season. Holding a press conference to mark the occasion, Dressen demonstrated his same self-confidence and his same outspoken frankness, and showed that a year had not softened his bitterness against the Brooklyn Dodgers' organization which let him go after he won two straight pennants.

"I'm very happy," Chuck told newsmen, "I got what I wanted.

I won't tell you how much but it's what I wanted and didn't get in Brooklyn."

"I think Washington has the nucleus of a good club and I know we'll do better next year," he continued. "The coaches will be my own guys but, of course I'll coach at third base. I think I'm a pretty good one."

"I regard this as a great challenge but not like the one I faced in Brooklyn. There I had to win and even when I won they said I was a lousy manager."

"No, I'm not going to predict where we'll finish. You can't do that in baseball. Brooklyn proved that. They thought they could win no matter who was the manager, didn't they?"

"Sure, when I was in Brooklyn, they criticized me for not having a pitching coach. Well, they did very good with one this year, didn't they?"

"I knew I'd be back in the majors. It's no disgrace to be sent down to the minors. I've used Oakland and Nashville twice as stepping stones to the majors."

Dressen, a star infielder with Cincinnati, and later with the Giants, went from Nashville to the Reds as manager in 1934. He stayed through 1937 and returned to Nashville, in 1951. After 10 years as coach of Brooklyn and the New York Yankees, and one year as manager at Oakland, Dressen returned to the Dodgers as manager.

Costa, known chiefly as a long range fighter, was forced to change his tactics in the sixth as Smith pressed the bout from in close. In the eighth Costa opened up with both hands and went on to win his 23rd fight in 26 outings. The other three were draws.

You Be the Quarterback

(Answers)

4. Trap. No! Let's stay away from that tough guard for a while.

3. Fullback plunger. Better call. You're hitting the weakest spot from tackle to tackle here.

2. Reverse. Probably best to try running ends since you've had poor luck handling their tackles and guards the first half.

1. In-and-out. A close pick over the reverse. The star tailback should produce better this half. This play is less likely to be molested by those tackles and that guard than is the reverse.

Pontiac Man Wins 50-Mile Auto Race

Pontiac's Bill Boyd set two track records last weekend as he won the 50-mile AAA championship race at Toledo.

Boyd knocked four minutes off the old 50-mile mark, winning in 40 minutes 56.23 seconds. He also set a new 1-lap qualifying record of 21.12 seconds.

He drove a Mergersford Special and nosed out Chuck Roadie of Chicago in the final few laps to win.

Oswald Jacoby Writes on Samba

By OSWALD JACOBY

Many of our readers have asked for a restatement of the rules of samba. This is simple for you to read and understand if you have already played canasta. If you haven't, better watch a game first, or read one of the many good books on canasta or samba. Now for the rules of samba:

Cards and Deal: Use three regular decks of 52 cards each and six jokers, a total of 16 cards. Deal 15 cards to each person.

Draw: When drawing from the stock pile, take two cards. Discard only one card. The effect is to make your hand grow as the deal goes on.

Sequences: You may meld three or more cards of the same suit in sequences. The lowest card possible in a sequence is the four; the highest, the ace. You may add to a sequence from your hand or from a pile that you have picked up and put into your hand.

The top card of the discard pile may be added to a sequence if it fits directly at either end. A seven-card sequence, called a samba, is worth a bonus of 1500 points. No eighth card may be included in a samba. No wild card may ever be used in a sequence. A samba counts as a canasta for the purpose of melding out.

Wild Cards: Wild cards may be used only in melds of cards of the same rank, not in a sequence meld. No more than two wild cards may be used in any meld. When a canasta has been completed you may never add a wild card to it.

Adding to Canastas: You may not take the discard pile to add its top card to a completed canasta.

You may add natural cards (but not wild cards) to a completed canasta.

Duplicate Melds: You may meld two or more melds of the same rank. At your own turn to play you may combine melds of the same rank to make them into a canasta or to build towards a canasta. Likewise you may combine two sequences into a samba, provided that the combined meld is not more than seven cards in length.

Initial Meld: As in canasta, you need 15 points if your score is minus; 50 points from 0 to 1495; 90 points from 1500 to 2995. You need 150 points from 3000 to 4995; 150 points from 5000 up. Game is 10,000 points.

Going Out: You need at least two canastas to go out (a samba is a canasta). You also need two canastas to count your red threes plus; before then they count minus. Bonus for going out is 200 points. There is no bonus for going out "concealed."

Red Threes: Red threes count 100 each. If one side gets all six, they count 1000.

Invents Mail Bag Aid for Work on Railroad

BUFFALO (UP) — A railroad man has invented a device that will reduce handling of mail sacks from four to five times per trainload.

John J. Sullivan, a New York Central conductor, said his "piggy-back swivel jack" is being patented and has been brought to the attention of several railroads.

The invention consists of a crate or basket on wheels that can hold 50 to 100 mail sacks and be "piggy-back" to a second device, a carrier on the standard baggage truck. The loaded crate can be rolled off the baggage truck and right into the train car, eliminating the passing and piling of bags.

Restoration Work on Fort Begins

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (NP) — Restoration work is underway at the site of the famous French fort on nearby Onondaga Lake Parkway. It was built originally in 1656 and known as Fort Ste. Marie de Ganentaha.

Six Jesuits and 50 craftsmen and soldiers traveled by canoe from Quebec to establish the wilderness outpost. It failed to prosper, and two years later the French fled to escape the Indians.

The modern replica, erected more than 20 years ago, will be restored authentically to almost the last detail, authorities said. The one exception will be the stockade posts — they will be treated with creosote and set in concrete foundations to save them from the wear and tear of time.

Beans Dominate Grain Trading

CHICAGO (AP)—Light rain in Illinois and Iowa, plus small receipts of cash soybeans, gave the soybean market a much better tone on the Board of Trade today. Beans advanced about two cents at times.

Other grains held within narrow price limits. Corn opened slightly lower and then rallied.

In contrast, wheat got off to a steady start and then eased. In neither case was there much trading. Most of the activity continued to be concentrated in soybeans.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/2 to 3/4 lower, December $2.14 1/2; corn unchanged to 1/4 higher, December $1.51; oats 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, December 77 1/2; rye 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, December $1.40; soybeans 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 higher, November $2.63 1/4, and unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, October $14.67.

Roberts' In-Laws Show Suspicion

State That Attorney Was Deep In Debt and Might Be Involved

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — James T. Roberts, 43-year-old Baltimore attorney en route to Miami to face trial for the murder of his 7-year-old daughter, apparently will get a cold reception from his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rosenberg.

Roberts contends that his daughter was the victim of a sex fiend; he has discounted the theory—held by some police officers—that the child was kidnapped and that ransom was the motive behind the crime.

His wife, Mrs. Shirley Roberts, expressed belief yesterday in her husband's innocence and pledged that she will "stand by him."

Mrs. Roberts called her parents to tell them that she planned to fly to Miami today with her 3-year-old daughter Betty.

Grandparents discounted theories that the crime was committed for ransom. Mrs. Rosenberg pointed out that Roberts is known to have been deep in debt after an unsuccessful campaign for the Maryland Legislature.

Ahepa Reveals Refugee Drive

Socrates Sekles Outlines Program Before Pontiac Leaders

Pontiac chapter of the Order of Ahepa has announced the opening in Michigan of its drive for the National Refugee Relief program. Object of the Ahepa drive is to afford means of bringing to America 5,000 Greek and Greek ethnic refugees.

Socrates V. Sekles of 185 Ottawa Dr., Supreme Treasurer of Ahepa, introduced the program last night to Pontiac Ahepa leaders.

Sekles told the group that "hundreds . . . are registered with the U. S. Consulate awaiting a good Samaritan to sponsor them."

He pointed out that the refugee program of Ahepa is an integral part of the current national refugee program, and that Ahepa has been declared by the State Department as an approved voluntary agency.

The program will be introduced to the Pontiac chapter soon, Sekles said, and added that the program will be developed nationally after its beginning here in Michigan.

The program has taken on new import and significance because of its direction at "unwanted refugee cases."

Under the program, Ahepa refugee offices in Athens will coordinate the processing of refugee cases with Ahepa chapters throughout the 48 states.

Ahepa is a national Hellenic society, principally for Americans of Greek extraction although anyone may join.

Stephan Amidiades, district governor of Ahepa in Michigan, announced the appointment of Alex Thomas as co-chairman of the local committee.

Thieves Loot Home Damaged by Blaze

Thieves broke into a Lake Orion home which last week was damaged by fire, and took about $75 worth of jewelry and silver, according to a report received yesterday by Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Charles Banket of 960 Lakeview, told deputies that burglars removed boards from a window to gain entry. The Banket family has been staying with friends since the fire.

Deputies said thieves took five necklaces, two bracelets, and part of a silver setting.

Demands Exam in Hit-Run Case

Burton White Returned From Oregon to Face Accident Charge

Burton F. White, 24, yesterday demanded examination when arraigned before Berkley Justice Ralph F. Finley on a charge of leaving the scene of a personal injury accident Aug. 27 which resulted in the death of Leonard W. Jenne, 34, of 1186 Cambridge, Berkley.

Returned from Pendleton, Ore., after his arrest by State police there, White was ordered held under $10,000 bond pending examination next Tuesday.

White admitted his part in the accident in a statement made yesterday, according to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem. White told Ziem that he and three companions riding in the car involved in the collision fled to Chicago in a stolen auto.

"He learned of Jenne's death in Chicago and then continued to Oregon where state police arrested him after he let a hitchhiker drive the car who had no operator's license," Ziem explained.

Lake Orion Couple Injured in Accident

A Lake Orion couple were injured early today on Auburn road at Rochester road when their south-bound auto was struck by a west-bound car which failed to stop for the traffic light, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital is Mrs. Victoria Maki, 58, of 332 Heights Rd., who sustained back and head injuries. She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, William, 60, who was treated for head cuts.

Evelyn James T. Melton, 18, of Selridge Air Force Base, who was not injured, stated the brakes on his car failed. He was ticketed for driving without an operator's license.
