Halting Contraband Big Problem---Irons

By DAVID J. COOK

Jail security—the art of keeping prisoners "in" and contraband "out"—is a 24-hour-a-day problem to Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons, who often has to put 32 men in cells that federal authorities say should hold only eight.

Irons in his 12 years as sheriff has managed to all but eliminate half the problem.

Despite the confusing situation created by crowded 32-man cells, or bullpens, only one prisoner has slipped from behind bars and found his way to freedom.

And that was by assuming the identity of another inmate who was to be released.

The other side of the coin, however, showed itself last week when an investigation ordered by Irons disclosed smuggling of dope — marijuana and barbiturates — to prisoners in the jail.

How to stop the traffic in illegal goods remains a ticklish problem, and, according to Irons, no simple solution exists.

HARMLESS ITEMS

At the present, friends and relatives of inmates are permitted to send in candy, cigarets, certain magazines and other items deemed harmless.

Candy and cigarets are also sold through turnkeys at the jail, who supervise trusties in passing around the items from a cart.

These sales, which are strictly regulated and virtually nonprofit, account for something less than half of the amount sent in.

It was in a carton of cigarets given to an inmate by a friend that barbiturate capsules were allegedly smuggled into the jail two weeks ago.

STATES PROBLEM

Irons has stated the problem of checking inbound goods quite succinctly.

"It's impossible," he said.

"We don't have the time or the manpower to go through every cigaret and every candy bar.

"Check out every cigaret and you'd wind up with a pile of paper shreds," he said.

COMPROMISE SECURITY

"That would not only compromise our security by addition of civilian personnel, but probably end up in some black marketing —as has happened in other places," he said.

An alternative solution, one which could bring many more

State Blocks School Merger

Walled Lake, Dublin Annexation Is Nixed

The proposed annexation of the Dublin School District by the Walled Lake system has been disallowed by the State Reorganization Committee, according to officials in Lansing.

The ruling reversed a recommendation made in December by the Oakland County School Reorganization Committee which favored the merger by a 10-2 margin.

The setback was attributed to a 400-acre area in the Waterford Township School District which would have been transferred to the Walled Lake district, according to the proposal.

The state committee ruled that inclusion of the small White Lake Township area, west of Williams Lake Road and south of Elizabeth Lake Road, in the plan would be illegal.

★ ★ ★

A section of Public Act 289 states "the plan shall not cause an existing school district to be divided between two proposed local districts within the intermediate unit."

REFERRED BACK

The issue was referred back to the county body which will be asked to reconvene by Oakland Schools Supt. Dr. William J. Emerson.

Walled Lake school officials have requested the boundary extension into the Waterford Township district chiefly to unify the Union Lake area, currently divided by the two districts.

The estimated 38 families living in the subdivision have fought to stay in the Waterford Township district and last month gained the support of the board of education and Greater Waterford Community Council.

Reds in North Control Cong, Report Shows

LBJ Gets Analysis of 'Liberation Front' History in Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has before him an analysis that says the National Liberation Front in Viet Nam definitely is a creation of Hanoi and is controlled by it.

Johnson had the analysis prepared after his Honolulu conference with South Vietnamese leaders, where the question of NLF participation in any peace discussions seemed to offer a point of some disagreement.

This developed from the American stand that the Viet Cong's voice could be heard at any conference and the stand of Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky that he would not negotiate with the Viet Cong.

The administration's position is that Hanoi itself speaks for the Viet Cong because it set up the NLF and dictates to it.

Furthermore, the administration view is that Ky, rather than taking a firm stand on his own initiative against talking with the Viet Cong, was maneuvered into declaring he would not get into peace negotiations with them through repeated questioning at a Honolulu news conference.

ASKED REPORT

When Johnson returned to Washington, he asked for a report on how the National Liberation Front came into existence.

Through channels, a report came back that the NLF grew out of a resolution adopted in September 1960 by the third national congress of the Lao Dong, or Communist party meeting in Hanoi.

The resolution urged creation of a "front" to achieve "unity"

Plan 3-Hour 'Walk'

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A spectacular flight plan has been drawn up for America's next Gemini space adventure calling for a "walk in space" of nearly three hours — twice around the world and twice as long as most observers expected.

During his lengthy stroll, Gemini 8 astronaut David R. Scott will cling to the rear of the two-man capsule, looking like a man who almost missed his street car, while command pilot Neil A. Armstrong fires maneuvering rockets on the spacecraft to uncouple and couple with another satellite.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is now in the process of deciding whether the unmanned target will be an Agena rocket or a substitute satellite, called an Alternate Target Docking Adapter.

The space agency wanted to go with the Agena, but an Agena engine failed in a test chamber last Saturday and muddled plans. NASA has suspended further testing until a cause has been determined and corrected.

Whichever target is used, it will be launched by an Atlas rocket from a pad 6,000 feet away from Gemini launch complex 19 at Cape Kennedy. If it achieves a proper orbit, Air Force Maj. Scott and Armstrong, a civilian, will rocket into space about one hour and 40 minutes later.

1 MONTH AWAY

Scott and Armstrong plan to catch up with their target satellite on the fifth or sixth orbit, then slowly push the nose of the Gemini 8 into a docking collar on the target satellite, firmly coupling the capsule to it. Both the Agena and the ATDA have this collar.

On the morning of the second day, Scott is scheduled to get out of the capsule and maneuver his way to the rear. There, he will put on a special backpack with life-supporting oxygen bottles and other equipment inside.

After some maneuvering with a hand-held jet gun, the astronaut will cling to hand and foot grips on the rear of the spacecraft, sources said, while Armstrong fires small rockets on the spacecraft to back Gemini 8 away from its target satellite.

SPACE SWIMMING

The astronauts then plan to fly in formation with the satellite — at a distance of 10 or 15 feet — with Scott "swimming" in space, taking pictures and possibly touching the satellite. The life-line connecting him to Gemini 8 will permit Scott to go 75 to 100 feet away.

Scott is expected to hang onto the rear of Gemini 8 again while Armstrong fires the spacecraft's maneuvering rockets to rendezvous and dock with the target satellite. Altogether, Scott will be outside the capsule about three hours.

Leukemia Victim

Army Unit Adopts Boy, 5

He's Dickie Weber of Lansing, a blue-eyed, crew-cut blond who was awarded a major's Gold Leaf by the 4th Howitzer Battalion of the U.S. Army Reserve's 20th Artillery.

★ ★ ★

Dickie has worn his own Army uniform for more than a year — the product of a military interest spurred by a grandfather, uncle and neighbors in the service.

★ ★ ★

During that year he and doctors at University of Michigan Hospital have waged a groping battle against blood which cannot combat infection.

INCURABLE AILMENT

Seeing Dickie throw sharp salutes at weekend Reserve meetings or wrestle with his father on the couch at home, there is no indication he has a so-far incurable ailment.

★ ★ ★

But effects of the disease are spreading throughout his active body as doctors rotate drugs, trying to skirt dangerous side effects and find a lasting combination in this still-mysterious area of medicine.

★ ★ ★

Sgt. 1-C Samuel Hansel, a Boy Scouting friend of Dickie's dad, Richard Weber, learned about Dickie's red-hot Army interest and mentioned it last week to 4th Howitzer Battalion Commander Maj. Charles Bragg.

Police Pay Up in Waterford

Department Granted Five-Day Workweek

Waterford Township policemen were granted across-the-board salary increases and a five-day workweek last night.

Meanwhile, representatives of other township departments served notice to Township Board members that they too would press for higher wages in the near future.

Cost of the pay raises and salaries for two new patrolmen positions totaled $25,318.

Board approval came by a 6-1 margin, with Clerk Elmer Fangboner the lone dissenter.

The pay boosts came to $13,170, while the pay for the two new posts totaled $12,148.

The increases did not require a change in the police department's current $205,473 budget. They will be paid from a $20,000 salary overtime appropriation and another allocation for court time.

Instead of working six days a week, policemen will be on a five-day schedule. Two new patrolmen recruits will be hired plus a third to fill a vacancy, increasing the force to 22 men.

EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY

Effective immediately, the pay boosts include a hike of from $8,549 to $9,901 annually for Chief William Stokes and $7,030 to $8,154 for Lt. Frank Randolph.

Annual salaries of the three sergeants on the force were increased from $6,698 to $7,384, while the three detectives will now receive $7,030 per year instead of $6,386.

All patrolmen were also granted pay hikes.

3 RECRUITS

However, the three recruits will receive an initial pay of $6,074, in an attempt to attract qualified personnel.

Maximum pay for township patrolmen (sixth step) is $7,384. This compares with Pontiac patrolmen's salaries ranging from $5,785 to $6,768.

Supervisor Dorothy Olson, who devised the pay scale plan, stressed the need for immediate action when it appeared that a vote might be brushed aside for possibly another week.

"This is critical not only on our department," she said, "but on all police departments."

ALL AT ONE TIME

Fangboner, a former township fire chief, and Republican Trustee Frank Richardson said they favored handling all departmental salary increase requests at one time.

"The only thing I'm asking is that we cure the obvious

'Bizarre Mars Life Possible'

Spacemen Should Be Ready, Say Scientists

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of scientists suggested today the possibility that sizable and "unimaginably strange creatures" dwell on Mars.

★ ★ ★

The group advised the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) to equip the first unmanned craft scheduled to land on Mars in 1973 with cameras capable of sending back photographic evidence of such beings.

This recommendation was made in a report by the Space Science Board of the National Academy of Sciences.

The report, titled "Space Research — Directions for the Future," stemmed from a study meeting held at Woods Hole, Mass., last summer.

★ ★ ★

Nobody knows whether life ever evolved on Mars. Some scientists doubt it ever did.

Others think chemical molecules might have developed to a point just short of life. Perhaps, in the view of some, life flowered on Mars but subsequently became extinct.

★ ★ ★

Such guesses are in large part based on such understanding as there is on how life came into existence on earth. But Martian conditions aren't quite the same as those on earth.

Sniping Case Arraignment Set Feb. 23

Oakland County's alleged "phantom sniper," Gary Addison Taylor, will be arraigned Feb. 23 in Circuit Court on a 9-year-old charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Taylor, 29, of Royal Oak was bound over to Circuit Court yesterday by Bloomfield Hills Justice of the Peace Jack Baldwin.

At the same time, Baldwin refused to reduce Taylor's bail set at $50,000 cash or $100,000 in surety bonds and he was returned to the county jail.

Taylor was committed to Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane shortly after being arrested in 1957 and accused of shooting at a number of women in South Oakland County.

He was released from the hospital last month when authorities there said he now is able to assist his defense counsel.

The prosecutor's office has been unable to produce the rifle found in Taylor's car when he was arrested.

Police say it "vanished" some time after it was sent to the State Police Crime Laboratory in East Lansing.

★ ★ ★

ASSIGNED TO CASE

Circuit Judge Philip Pratt has been assigned the case.

Judge Frederick C. Ziem was first assigned the case, but it was necessary to disqualify him because he was prosecutor when Taylor was originally arrested.

Condition Unchanged

Air Cavalry Kills 88 Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen killed 88 Viet Cong today in Operation Eagle's Claw, swelling the known enemy dead in widespread allied strikes over the last 36 hours to 496.

Air and artillery bombardments are estimated to have added 150 others in two sectors, on the central coast and in the Mekong River delta.

This is the base of big maneuvers by American, South Vietnamese and South Korean troops how reported to have accounted for 1,683 Communist dead since Jan. 25.

★ ★ ★

The 3rd Brigade of the U.S. 1st cavalry, Airmobile, Division struck the Viet Cong today in valleys 12 miles southwest of Bong Son. In addition to the 88 killed, they captured seven. One captive identified himself as a battalion commander. He was turned over to U.S. intelligence officers.

ADD OTHERS

The cavalrymen, who seized a truckload of weapons at another base they overran last Friday, added four heavy machine guns and other arms to their collection.

A dispatch from the scene said casualties of the Americans were extremely light.

Crew Rescued as Ship Sinks in the Caribbean

Coast Guard search and rescue headquarters in Miami said no injuries were reported among the motor vessel Pensacola crewmen when a British freighter, the 468-foot Glenpark, took them aboard.

★ ★ ★

The Coast Guard cutter Aurora from San Juan, Puerto Rico, rendezvoused with the Glenpark to transfer the men as soon as 26-knot winds and 10- to 15-foot seas abated.

Rabbi Gunman Writings Eyed

Note Has Mention of McNamara 'Killing'

DETROIT (UPI)—Police today studied books and papers of the man who shot down Rabbi Morris Adler in front of his congregation Saturday. Among the effects was a note mentioning an "assassination" of Defense Secretary Robert McNamara.

Rabbi Adler remained unconscious and in critical condition at Sinai Hospital where doctors said he showed a "slight improvement." They warned, however, that the outlook is "still extremely guarded."

Richard Wishnetsky, 23, who gunned the rabbi down before 1,000 horrified worshipers during a prayer service at Shaary Zedek Synagogue, remained in critical condition, suffering from a head wound he inflicted upon himself after the incident.

Southfield Police Detective Cass Gaska said the letter mentioning McNamara could not be construed as a threat on the Cabinet member's life.

★ ★ ★

He said it was more in the nature of a position statement in which Wishnetsky attempted to denounce government policies.

OBSESSED WRITING

Gaska said many of the brilliant ex-student's scribblings quoted heavily from European and Russian philosophers and were obsessed with the thought of committing "one heroic act" and the power that would be derived from such an act.

Wishnetsky, a former Woodrow Wilson scholar at the University of Michigan, had recently been a psychiatric patient and had been counseled by Rabbi Adler.

Well Ahead of '65

Plate Pace Is Peppy

The prospect of long lines and cold days is apparently sending Pontiac area motorists after 1966 license plates in record numbers, according to the Pontiac branch office manager of the Michigan Secretary of State.

Willis M. Brewer, whose staff has been coordinating licensing at outlets in Waterford and Sylvan Lake as well as Pontiac, reports registration figures are running from 300 to 800 ahead of last year.

"The pressure on Friday and Saturday was terrific," Brewer said.

Noting the increase in cars on the road and a rising population in the area, however, he predicted, "We still have plenty to go."

★ ★ ★

Brewer advised residents the lines could be avoided by motorists obtaining plates during "slack" weekday hours — mid-morning and mid-afternoon.

Weather Outlook: Flurries and Colder

A few snow flurries will fill the air now and then through tomorrow with temperatures turning colder.

Lows will drop to 10 to 18 tonight. Highs tomorrow will register 18 to 25. Mostly fair with no important temperature change is the outlook for Thursday.

Southwesterly morning winds at 8 to 12 miles per hour will shift to west to northwest at 10 to 15 miles tonight and tomorrow.

A frosty 24 was the low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The 2 p.m. reading was 36.

Pontiac, Tempest Sales Hit 20,246

Pontiac Motor Division today announced the sale of 20,246 Pontiacs and Tempests in the Feb. 1-10 sales period.

According to General Sales Manager E. R. Pettengill, this is topped only by the record total of 24,726 units in the same period a year ago.

Ready for Buildup in Viet–McNamara

United Press International

WASHINGTON—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has made preparations to commit still more U. S. troops to the Viet Nam war if necessary, previously secret testimony disclosed today.

He also warned that the Communists have increased their fighting strength and have shown "every intention" of intensifying the conflict.

His statements were made public in a heavily censured version of testimony before the Senate Armed Services Committee and military appropriations subcommittee last month.

The defense secretary said that any final decision to send more American fighting men to Viet Nam must be made by President Johnson.

Asked about the possibility of stepping up the war, he commented: "Well, there are preparations being made . . . for substantially increasing our deployments to South Viet Nam and raising the rate of activity of our units there."

President Johnson told a news conference last week that he stands ready to order more troops to Viet Nam, but added he has no immediate plans to call up the Reserves at this time.

Gen. Earl G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs. of Staff, testified during the same period that U.S. forces in Viet Nam had "reversed the tide of military events to a situation that is favorable to us."

In the testimony, McNamara and Wheeler were joined by the top officers of the Army and Marine Corps in criticizing the concept advanced by retired Gen. James M. Gavin that the United States should concentrate on defense of coastal enclaves in South Viet Nam and restrict its ground and air operations.

★ ★ ★

N. VIET BOMBINGS

McNamara argued vigorously against some suggestions that the United States should expand its bombing of North Viet Nam.

He said the military power of North Viet Nam does not depend on its own industrial resources.

"There is every likelihood that we could take out all of their power systems, all of their oil, all of their harbors, destroy their dams and they could still carry on the infiltration of the men and equipment necessary to support some level of operations in the south," McNamara said, but he argued that such targets were not of fundamental consequence.

He testified that about 20,000 men were infiltrated from North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam in 1965.

EXPECTED WIN?

The Communists fully expected to defeat South Viet Nam during last summer's monsoon season, he said.

They didn't, but he added, "they have not just replaced their losses but increased their strength and given every intention of raising the intensity of the conflict."

Despite an estimated 35,000 Communist casualties in 1965, McNamara said they showed every indication of further increasing their strength in South Viet Nam.

"They have expanded the net of infiltration routes through Laos," McNamara said.

Church Wedding Is Planned for Luci

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's going to be a big church wedding in Washington with a White House reception for the President's daughter, Luci Johnson, and Patrick J. Nugent.

The date — Aug. 6 — a Saturday — at high noon, the White House announced late Monday.

Despite all the speculation about a White House wedding, Luci and Nugent have always wanted to be married in church, a White House spokesman said.

They picked the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, a big Roman Catholic church on the campus of the Catholic University of America.

Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle of Washington will offer the Nuptial Mass.

Mrs. Johnson's press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter, said the young couple wanted the wedding to be a family event, rather than a state occasion.

The church they chose, however, is the seventh largest in the world, according to a church spokesman.

"It seats about 2,000 but can be escalated to where it seats 3,500 in comfort. On occasion up to 6,000 have attended services there," the spokesman said.

The church, built with contributions from Roman Catholics all over the nation, was dedicated in 1959, but Luci's wedding will be the first to be held there.

Some construction is still under way on side altars and scaffolding now blocks the view of the main altar. The spokesman said the scaffolding should be down by August.

Luci will be 19 by then, with Nugent edging close to 23. Their engagement was announced last Christmas Eve.

The date of the wedding was announced while Nugent's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Nugent Sr., were driving back to their Waukegan, Ill., home after a weekend visit at the White House and their first meeting with President and Mrs. Johnson.

The move, informally discussed by Irons and county officials for some time, would conceivably provide increased cell space and better means of prisoner observation.

"But this business two weeks ago never would have happened if these men had been properly housed, if we could isolate prisoners we wanted to and if we had the means to watch inmates throughout the jail."

More Waterford Study Due on Water Extension

Further study was called for last night by Waterford Township Board members in the proposed contract with the Oakland County Department of Public Works (DPW) for constructing and financing a 25-mile extension to the township's water supply system.

Recalling problems encountered when the first water mains were installed, the board directed Township Attorney Paul Mandel, Supervisor Dorothy Olson and Water Department Supervisor Kenneth Squiers to review the agreement.

The objective apparently is to coordinate the relationship between the township and contractor so that the township will have means to provide a more direct response to complaints.

"We should have some measure of control in these areas," said Mandel, "and it should be written in the contract."

During the current $7.35-million project, most of the residents' complaints were directed at township officials because they didn't realize it was a county project.

AREA IN PLAN

The proposed $1.38-million project—to be financed through township water department revenues — includes connections to the Highland Lakes Campus of Oakland Community College and to properties on several private roads.

Plans and specifications for the enlargement, which encompasses areas throughout the township, were drawn up by Johnson and Anderson, Inc., township engineering consultants.

The DPW would lease the mains to the township for a 40-year period or until the project was paid for, hopefully in 26 years.

The extension is earmarked primarily for private roads on which rights-of-way have not been or were not acquired in time to be included in the major project.

★ ★ ★

Squiers has indicated the plan calls for development of another production well in the Oakland Community College area.

Squiers believes it's an opportune time to enlarge the system because of projected rising costs and because it would not conflict with proposed sewer construction in the township.

Police Get Pay Hike in Waterford

inequities in the present township salary plan," said Richardson, who later voted for the police pay boosts.

It was disclosed that the township's share of the state sales tax was much more than anticipated last year, accounting for a $128,000 surplus in excess of the $1,047,267 budget for 1966. The increased funds are attributed to a high economy.

★ ★ ★

Realizing that this amount is available, departmental heads have requested salary and manpower increases. However, some departments would be able to manage it by rejuggling their budgets like the police force did.

Recently accepted as a collective bargaining agent, the Waterford Township Professional Fire Fighters appears ready to make its initial request for more pay.

Trustees Rudy Mansfield and Loren Anderson were in accord that the police department and assessor's office merited first attention, in that order.

Anderson indicated his belief that the unexpected increase in the budget should be channeled elsewhere instead of being used for pay hikes.

"If we have a surplus on our hands," said Anderson, "then let's place it into a revolving fund for a fourth fire station and a road matching maintenance fund with the road commission so people can see their tax dollars are working for them."

At Sunday's closing formation nearly 300 officers and men of the unit heard orders granting Dickie his major's commission. Even a special personnel file was opened for him.

"I don't get kisses anymore," observed his father. "Majors don't kiss their dads. It has to be a salute or handshake."

DONATE BLOOD

Next month the Reserve unit will give blood in Dickie's name. He receives periodic injections and blood transfusions—sometimes under emergency conditions.

Hospitalized several times last spring and summer, Dickie is strong enough now to put in a day at kindergarten. But still the disease spreads.

Bargain Unit Hearing Set

Expected to Set Vote for Sheriff's Employes

An election date to determine the exclusive bargaining agent for Oakland County Sheriff's Department employes is expected to be set at a State Labor Mediation Board hearing Thursday in Detroit.

The 10 a.m. hearing will be held in the Cadillac Square Building.

Seeking to become bargaining agent for sheriff's department employes is the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFSCME), Metropolitan Council 23.

William J. Charron, president and director of Council 23, said some 90 of 108 of sheriff's department employes have expressed support of Council 23 as bargaining agent.

Signatures of only 30 per cent of a unit's employes are needed to petition a State Mediation Board hearing, Charron said.

Other county employe groups are being contacted now, according to Charron.

He said that petitions for future State Mediation Board hearings will be filed whenever the Council receives majority support from a given group.

Birmingham Area News

Street Closing Okayed by City Commissioners

BIRMINGHAM — The closing of Oakland between Worth and Adams was approved by the City Commission last night.

The Birmingham Board of Education had requested the vacating of the block-long stretch in November 1963, but the commission delayed taking action pending traffic studies in the area.

The school board will now obtain all rights to the vacated street, with the exception of a utility easement, since the Adams Elementary School borders on one side and its playground on the other.

TO INSTALL SIGNS

In a related matter, the commission accepted a recommendation from Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley to install "No Right Turns By Through Traffic" signs on southbound Adams at all east-west streets north of Maple.

The signs are intended to reduce through traffic in the residential area west of Adams and between the city limits and Maple.

"Although these signs will be very difficult to enforce," Moxley reported, "they should be helpful in discouraging southbound Adams traffic from cutting through the area."

★ ★ ★

Moxley said that at the present time there seems to be no traffic volume problem on any of the streets in the area.

Oakland, he said, is the only street that averages more than 100 vehicles an hour.

"Some of the streets carry from 300 to 800 cars per day," said Moxley. "These volumes are present on many of our residential streets."

"If a traffic volume problem does develop, the improvement of Adams, the Maple-Adams intersection and 16 Mile Road should reduce the traffic flow through the area.

He said that a study of accidents show only five personal injury accidents and seven property damage accidents in the area last year.

"If accidents within the area become a problem, we would consider the need for installing additional traffic control devices."

Views on China Policy Range

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The war in South Viet Nam may be viewed in terms of a broader, long-range conflict between the United States and Communist China. The following story focuses attention on this conflict based on a symposium on the subject "Containing China.")

By RONALD I. DEUTSCH

NEW YORK (AP) — Is Communist China really a threat to the United States? Should she be contained in Asia, and if so, does a policy of containment require absolute U.S. opposition to Communist regimes in Asia?

These were the questions four speakers sought to answer Monday night at a symposium on "Containing China" in an effort to shed light on U.S. policy in Asia.

A U.S. senator criticized the United States for pursuing what he called a policy to isolate China.

A professor said Washington has become "obsessed" with the idea of containing China but doubted that she was as much of a threat as U.S. policymakers believed.

TOOK ISSUE

A former presidential consultant took issue with this view and said the United States has been more preoccupied with the expansion plans of the Soviet Union than those of Red China.

Another professor said that the problem of Chinese power is still remote but cautioned that the United States should preserve the status quo and "hold the line in Asia."

While the participants were generally critical of U.S. policy in Asia, they differed on what this policy is or should be. Nor was there any firm agreement on how seriously the United States should take the Chinese threat.

The symposium, sponsored by Commentary magazine, a monthly publication, was held at the Institute of Human Relations, and featured Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D.; Bernard B. Fall, author on Viet Nam and professor of international relations at Howard University in Washington, D.C.; John P. Roche, political science professor at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass.; and Richard N. Goodwin, former special consultant to President John F. Kennedy and President Johnson.

'SO SENSITIVE'

The following are excerpts from the symposium:

Goodwin: "The United States does have a China policy, but it's so sensitive we're not able to tell it to anybody.

"Probably it is true that policies like containment of China emerge out of conflict and experience and are not imposed on a situation in advance. There has not been the evolution of a consistent policy towards China in the period we're going through. In the main we do want to keep China from absorbing all of Asia."

McGovern: "I think our greatest interest in Asia today is the prevention of a war with China. A military conflict between the United States and mainland China is the worst possible catastrophe that could develop in the rest of this century. The prevention of such a war ought to be the number one task of American statesmanship. It's desirable to prevent Chinese military power from expanding across the face of Asia. I don't regard that as the principal challenge that China presents to the world today.

'GREATEST DANGER'

"The greatest danger will come from a continuance of a policy that attempts to isolate China diplomatically from contacts either with ourselves or other great powers. I personally think this is a dangerous and ill-advised course...

"The course we're following is one that is calculated to bring out the worst features of the Chinese government. If we decide on a policy of containment it should be a broadly based policy that doesn't rely excessively on military power."

Fall: "Today you have what might be called the capture of Washington by Chinese propaganda. Washington publicly operates on the assumption that the Chinese are very dangerous people likely to overrun all of Asia — (but) the fact is that the Chinese have failed to effectively intervene against the United States in Asia.

"China is afraid of American retaliation. I do not doubt for an instant that the Chinese have, of course, objectives in Southeast Asia. They may beyond a certain point intervene in Viet Nam. But I don't quite think that the Chinese are ready at the moment to do this."

REMOTE POWER

Roche: "I don't know of any serious observer of the war in Viet Nam who has argued that this is a Chinese operation. I know a number of people who believe that what you're dealing with here is an indigenous North Vietnamese Communist imperialism, which would be backed by the Chinese, presumably if the United States expanded the war on the ground.

"At the moment the problem of Chinese power is a remote problem, probably 10 to 15 years away. In the meantime, all kinds of things can happen. The bureaucratic complexion of the Chinese government can change. There are infinite potentialities for the possibility of self-destruction on the part of the Chinese. The Communists are better at making big mistakes than we are, so we should stick to making small mistakes and let them make the big mistakes. We need a policy of playing for time and holding on.

★ ★ ★

"I don't think the possibility of China entering Viet Nam is imminent unless we should invade North Viet Nam, which I think at the moment is about as a remote a contingency as I can conceive."

Between 1820 and 1955, an estimated 34 million Europeans emigrated to the United States.

School Board Okays Merger

Brandon District May Join With Clarkston

CLARKSTON — The Clarkston Board of Education last night gave the green light to a proposed merger with the Brandon School District by a unanimous 7-0 vote.

The annexation request was made last week by the Brandon Board of Education.

Consent now is being sought from the State Department of Education. If approved, the proposed merger will go to a vote of the people in the Brandon district.

Clarkston school officials said they foresee no drastic changes if the merger eventually occurs, stressing it would not affect the present staff of the two districts or attendance areas.

★ ★ ★

Current plans call for Clarkston School Supt. Dr. L. F. Greene to head the proposed 100-square-mile system, with Brandon School Supt. Burl A. Glendenning being retained as an administrative assistant.

BIGGER PROGRAM

Both superintendents have stated that the educational program would be broadened if the districts were combined.

Clarkston presently has a state - equalized valuation of $33,227,562, compared with Brandon's valuation of $8,530,000.

★ ★ ★

Clarkston officials have listed what they feel are 12 distinct advantages to the proposed annexation.

Residency Question Adds to Confusion in Lake Orion

News of the Area

LAKE ORION—The confusion which has characterized the government of this village in the past several months will find a place even in the primary elections scheduled for next Monday.

★ ★ ★

And to further complicate village affairs, his wife's position on the board of canvassers, to which she was appointed by the Village Council last year, will have to be challenged, not only because of her residence but also because of her husband's candidacy.

★ ★ ★

STATE INVESTIGATION

McNeil presented to the council a letter stating that an investigation conducted by the Office of the State Director of Elections "apparently establishes without question that Mr. and Mrs. Dunaskis are not legal residents of the Village of Lake Orion.

"On the basis of the investigation," the letter continued, "we make respectful, formal demand for:

- The removal of the names of Frank and Aldona Dunaskis from the list of registered voters for the Village of Lake Orion.
- The removal of the name of Frank Dunaskis from the ballot for the primary election of Feb. 21, 1966.
- The removal of Aldona Dunaskis as a member of the Lake Orion Board of Canvassers."

★ ★ ★

According to Village Clerk Mary Parkinson, voter registration records show Dunaskis' address to be 52 S. Broadway, the location of a hotel which he owns.

OUTSIDE BOUNDARIES

However, the family also maintains a home at 460 Crescent, outside the village boundaries, which the director of elections concludes is their legal residence.

The conclusion was based on reports furnished by Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Detroit Edison, Consumers Power and Lake Orion school officials and the listing in the Bresser cross-index directory.

Mrs. Parkinson said she questioned the registration of Mr. and Mrs. Dunaskis about three years ago.

★ ★ ★

ALREADY PRINTED

After some discussion of the matter last night, the council concluded that Dunaskis' name will have to remain on the ballot, as sample ballots are already printed and the voting machines are set up in preparation for Monday's primary.

Village Atty. Robert V. Parenti said if Dunaskis should win the primary, his opponent can challenge the nomination and have it set aside.

In other action the council set Feb. 28 as the date for discussion of a home rule city proposal to be voted on later this year.

★ ★ ★

Petitions submitted to the council asking that the proposal be put on the March 21 ballot were filed too late to comply with state election laws, according to Parenti.

A home rule village proposal will be on the spring ballot however.

Fire Strikes 2 Highland Twp. Houses

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — Fires of undetermined origin broke out in two Highland Township houses in less than 45 minutes last night.

★ ★ ★

Flames erupted in the basement of the home shortly before 10 p.m., forcing 18-year-old Phyllis Bell, six children she was tending, Mrs. Mary McClenahan and her two small sons to flee.

The second fire, which started at an empty house under construction on Harvey Lake Road near M59, was reported to Milford police about 10:30 p.m.

The fire was extinguished by township firemen.

'Cinderella' Scheduled at OU Theatre

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Branch of the American Association of University Women will sponsor the play "Cinderella" to be presented by the Meadow Brook Players March 5 at the Little Theatre at Oakland University.

Proceeds from the production will go to the Fellowship Fund for Advanced Degrees for Women.

Tickets will be on sale Feb. 28 in the elementary schools. They may also be obtained by calling Mrs. Michael Myal, 28763 Cunningham, Warren.

The three performances will be held at 10:30 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m.

★ ★ ★

At the group's Feb. 23 meeting, Mrs. James H. Norton will review "Gideon's Trumpet" by Anthony Lewis.

She will develop the theme of the citizen's right to counsel as part of the organization's study of "Law and the Citizen."

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at the Avon Township Library.

Farmington District Eying 1-Mill Property Tax Hike

FARMINGTON — A $7.1-million operating budget which would increase property taxes 1 mill is being considered for the 1966 fiscal year by the Farmington Board of Education.

The budget calls for the board to increase taxes by one of the four mills it was authorized to levy in a special election last November.

Authorized by property owners to add up to 4 mills to the levy, the board promised it would increase operating taxes only to the extent that the debt retirement levy was diminished.

The operating levy last year was 21.5 mills and that for debt retirement 11 mills.

The budget proposed at last night's board meeting would increase expenditures by $814,625 over those for this year.

BUDGET PROVISION

It was noted that the budget includes provision for regular salary increments but not for improvement of the salary schedule, now being discussed with employe groups.

While estimated receipts total some $6,944,500, the board could make up the difference by using surplus funds from this year.

The former figure would jump from $4,803,890 to $5,397,440 and the latter from $679,316 to $781,700.

Other increases are suggested in administration, from $196,700 to $254,670; transportation, $195,805 to $201,006; maintenance, $203,362 to $244,162; and fixed charges, $112,600 to $124,240.

Commission Proposes Meeting of Royal Oak, OCC in March

The Royal Oak City Commission last night proposed a March joint meeting with Oakland Community College officials to discuss the possibility of establishing an OCC campus in Royal Oak.

In calling for the meeting, commission members indicated general agreement that a college campus would be good for Royal Oak.

No meeting date was set, according to City Clerk Mrs. Gladys Fogo.

A month ago the college's board of trustees expressed interest in buying the 45-acre Elks Park in Royal Oak which OCC had appraised at $305,000.

Since then a city official has suggested that the commission consider selling a parcel of downtown property for the campus.

UNDER STUDY

Both matters are under study by city officials.

The city's parks and recreation board last night went on record as opposing the sale of Elks Park to OCC because it felt this recreational area was needed by the city, Mrs. Fogo said.

Adjourn Case in Election Suit

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — A show-cause hearing on a suit challenging a scheduled election on a mobile home park was adjourned yesterday in Circuit Court until Monday at 1:30 p.m.

Attorney Anthony Renne is attempting to prevent the township from holding a special election April 11 on the rezoning of 50 acres he owns on Coats Road north of Seymour Lake Road.

On his request, the property was rezoned Dec. 8 to allow the mobile homes, but a month later petitions were filed by citizens asking that the matter be put to a vote.

Renne claims that the board's action in scheduling the election is in direct violation of the State Constitution and that "petitions are not sufficient basis for the lawful initiation of such an election."

★ ★ ★

The case is being heard by Judge Arthur E. Moore.

Home Owners to Hear Pair Discuss Water

TROY — The Northeast Troy Home Owners Association will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Troy Union School, 1340 E. Square Lake.

Richard Graham, city engineer and Marvin Budd, board of health representative for Oakland County, will be present to answer questions regarding water conditions in this section of the city.

Plans Will Get 90-Day Trial

Rochester Acts on Traffic Snarl

ROCHESTER — The Village Council will try for the next three months to relieve traffic congestion downtown through the use of parking restrictions and one-way traffic patterns.

Following a discussion with about a dozen downtown merchants last night, the Council voted to eliminate parking on the south side of West Third for a half-block from the west alley to Walnut.

It also designated the west alley as a one-way alley going north and the east alley as a one-way alley going south.

Both plans will be given a 90-day trail.

Village Clerk Maxine Ross explained that parking on the south side of West Third was eliminated because the street narrows at that point and parking on both sides creates congestion.

TURNS HALTED

By designating the alleys as one way, traffic-snarling left turns off Main will be eliminated, Miss Ross said.

In other action, the council voted to seek a recommendation from its planning consultants on a request to review the zoning ordinance.

Charles Sibert of 44 W. University asked the Council to review the part of the zoning ordinance which requires at least five acres of land for construction of a rest home.

★ ★ ★

Miss Ross said his property on Ludlow is presently zoned for a rest home, but he only owns three acres of land instead of the required five.

Church Schedules Missionary Panel

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Rev. Frank Longman will address the congregation of Mandon Lake Community Church and direct a missionary panel discussion tomorrow at 7 a.m.

Committee Hears Klanswoman Deny Plot to Assassinate LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional investigators today had the sworn denial of the grand empress of the Ohio Ku Klux Klan that she had plotted the assassination of President Johnson.

The bleached blonde Klanswoman, Mrs. Eloise Witte of Cincinnati, appeared yesterday before the House Committee on Un-American Activities sporting a large button which proclaimed "LBJ for ex-President."

But, she said, she believed her goal could be reached "at the polls or by legal means" and not by assassination as an earlier witness had charged.

"I never plotted to kill anyone," Mrs. Witte said in a high-pitched voice. She did concede, however, that she probably "raises more cain than anybody else in Cincinnati."

★ ★ ★

Sessions of the committee's investigation into Klan activities were expected to be more restrained following Mrs. Witte's appearance.

KLAN PIONEER

The next scheduled witness was James R. Venable of Stone Mountain, Ga., a near-legendary pioneer of the Klan.

Venable, an attorney who joined the Klan in 1915 when it was reborn in Stone Mountain, is imperial wizard of the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and chairman of a national association of Klan groups.

The Georgia lawyer's name has cropped up a number of times since the committee began public hearings last October.

★ ★ ★

It has been mentioned frequently since the panel started looking into Klan activities in Ohio.

OHIO BRANCH

Venable organized the Ohio branch of the National Knights of which Mrs. White is a member.

She admitted before the committee that she belongs to several right-wing groups, but took the 5th amendment to questions about the membership of the National Knights.

One of Mrs. Witte's fellow members, Daniel Wagner, 20, of Columbus, Ohio, charged last week she had discussed not only the slaying of President Johnson but that of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Negro leader Martin Luther King Jr., and her own husband.

In denying these charges yesterday, Mrs. Witte described Wagner as a "psychopath" who was attracted to her by publicity she recieved from her right-wing activities.

She said that Wagner's testimony "would be tragic if it weren't so comic" and that although she thought he was a psychopath, she had not been concerned with what he might do because "people who talk that much don't act."

Congress Stalls Way to Legislative Gains

Last week saw the finalization of two pieces of Federal legislation, neither of which covered Capitol Hill with glory.

The Senate bill to repeal 14(B) of the Taft-Hartley Act that would have embodied mandatory union membership in labor contracts died a second time as Republican Sen. EVERETT DIRKSEN of Illinois and an All-American team of pallbearer colleagues filibustered it to death.

But the proposed repealer was a soggy measure of undemocratic quality, representing as it did the Administration's subservience to Big Labor. It would undoubtedly have passed had proponents been able to muster the two-thirds majority vote needed to break the filibuster.

On another front, a Cold War GI Bill was passed and awaits President JOHNSON's signature. Members of the armed services have been denied service-connected benefits since the end of Korean hostilities.

Since service in "Cold War" is no less exacting and disruptive of personal life than that of "Hot War," the denial of comparable civilian privileges to the Nation's defenders has been callous, to say the least. The solons did, however, partly atone for their neglect by making the new GI Bill retroactive to 1955.

★ ★ ★

But despite the legislative fumbling on one hand and delay on the other, Congress, like the course the British traditionally follow, managed to muddle through.

Vandalism Besmirches the Image of America

VANDAL: A person who, out of malice or ignorance, destroys or spoils, especially that which is beautiful or artistic.

This is a polite, dictionary definition of a hoodlum who unaccountably derives satisfaction from defacing or ruining the property of others. It's always the property of others—never his.

Tragically, society is currently bedeviled with an oversupply of this form of human menace with no instant remedy in sight.

Latest two of a long series of deliberate and wanton assaults on private and public property in the area occurred in Lapeer and Southfield. Both involved school property.

In the Lapeer maliciousness, tires were deflated and valve cores removed on 51 buses, leaving 2,500 school children without customary transportation.

★ ★ ★

The Southfield marauders were more vindictive. Forty-nine of the school system's 55 buses were broken into and the wiring ripped from underneath the dashboards, rendering the vehicles inoperative. This outrage cost 13,000 students a day's school attendance.

★ ★ ★

No effort should be spared to apprehend those guilty of these and other acts of vandalism and maximum punishment meted out. Moreover, financial redress for damage inflicted or expense incurred should be assessed against the culprits or, if they are minors, their parents.

Teacher, Kids Seen Living 'Words Apart'

One of the best remedies for world-weariness is to look at things through the eyes of kids.

In the current issue of the Journal of the National Education Association, RONALD N. WOOD, an author and former biology teacher in a Vermont high school, submits a few reasons why people enjoy having children.

★ ★ ★

"When man eats, his food goes from his stomach into his small intentions."

★ ★ ★

ASPHYXIATION — "When you indulge in too much carbon monoxide."

SMALLPOX — "A disease that was perfected by EDWARD JENNER."

Finally, one that comes uncomfortable close to the truth:

DEGENERATION — "When you resemble your parents."

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, maybe the teacher's kids have a precocious sense of humor and are merely pulling his pedagogical leg.

Congress Argues Viet Resolution

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the speed and unanimity of crisis, Congress voted President Johnson its endorsement of "all necessary measures" to bar aggression in South Viet Nam. And now, 18 months later, it is debating the wisdom of a vastly increased U.S. commitment there.

One Democratic senator has described the current Foreign Relations Committee hearings on Viet Nam as an appeal beyond President Johnson to the people.

Facing congressional criticism, most of it from Democrats, Johnson has declared his decisions on Viet Nam, including that to renew bombing of the north, are guided by a resolution Congress adopted Aug. 7, 1964.

The President, at a Friday news conference, said he did not see much difference between what is being done now and the courses that have been advocated before the committee. Nobody wants to escalate the war, he said, and few people advocate withdrawal.

★ ★ ★

NEAR-UNANIMOUS PASSAGE

The measure swept to near-unanimous passage only two days after the White House sent it to Capitol Hill. It followed U.S. air raids on North Vietnamese naval bases, raids in retaliation for Communist torpedo boat attacks on American warships.

That was long before the start of sustained U.S. air attacks on targets in the Communist north. The massive buildup of U.S. combat troops was 10 months ahead.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said he voted for the resolution with the understanding that the American mission would remain one of supporting and advising South Viet Nam, not of fighting the war.

★ ★ ★

In the resolution, House and Senate declared:

"The Congress approves and supports the determination of the President, as commander in chief, to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression."

'DEMONSTRATION OF UNITY'

"A demonstration to all the world of the unity of all Americans," said Johnson after the Senate approved his resolution 88 to 2 and the House, 414 to 0.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., called the resolution a predated declaration of war and, with Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, voted against it.

Morse now has proposed that the resolution be rescinded.

And Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who heads the Foreign Relations Committee, has said he regrets his role in helping to enact it.

The King Is Dead!

David Lawrence Says:

Viet Dissent Could Prolong War

WASHINGTON — Dissenters in the United States may not realize it, but they may be prolonging the war in Viet Nam. They could be responsible indirectly for the continuing loss of American lives.

LAWRENCE

This is the conclusion which many observers here, including veteran senators, have reached.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, for example, has no right under the rules of the Senate to hold hearings on strictly military matters concerning operations in Viet Nam or elsewhere.

If any committee has jurisdiction on the question of whether a war is being fought effectively, it is the Senate Armed Services Committee and its counterpart in the House of Representatives.

★ ★ ★

When asked by this correspondent about the discussion of American military strategy in public hearings, Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, Democrat, who happens to be chairman of the armed services committee, replied:

"I think it would be a grave mistake for any active U.S. military officer — or civilian official — to testify in open hearings on so delicate a subject as Viet Nam."

'PROLONGS WAR'

"What about the significance of dissent generally?" was the next question.

"Every dissent," the senator replied, "prolongs the war. It makes no difference if some poor, half-baked beatnik — he can do it — or a senator of the United States who is highly critical of the war demands that we get out, or has a different theory than the administration as to the objectives and purposes of the war.

"This undoubtedly confirms Ho Chi Minh in his basic concept that the United States just wouldn't have the patience to wage a very lengthy war there.

"There is, of course, every legal right to dissent. But the fact is that the boys over there in Viet Nam are paying a rather high price for our vaunted right of public dissent.

★ ★ ★

"There's no question about that — many boys will lose their lives as a result of it. For much of the dissent confirms the North Vietnamese in their theory that, if they can just hold on for a while longer, we will get tired and go away."

USUALLY IN PRIVATE

Sen. Russell is not a member of the foreign relations committee, but in his capacity as chairman of the armed services committee he holds hearings, usually in private, at which military men come to testify.

Their testimony in whole or in part is kept secret or made public in accordance with the wishes of the executive branch of the government.

It is important that committees be kept informed in confidence about virtually every significant development in a war that has taken 200,000 American troops to a distant land.

★ ★ ★

During the two world wars, there was frequent communication between the president or his Cabinet officers and the committees of Congress.

This is because, under the Constitution, the obligation is placed on the Senate and the House to make rules for the governing of the armed forces of the nation. Public hearings are not required and usually are not held during a war.

NO SANCTION

What the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, however, is doing nowadays with its public hearings on military matters in the midst of a hot war does not have any sanction in the rules of the Senate. Nor is it liked by the executive branch of the government.

Indeed, around the Capitol, it is said that the foreign relations committee is split up into factions and that the hearings are really an effort on the part of certain senators to get into the spotlight.

When arrangements, moreover, are made for television coverage by the major networks and dissent is emphasized, the hearings witnessed by millions of people take on a different meaning.

Many citizens are led to assume that Congress is at odds with the administration over the conduct of the war.

SERIOUS DISCORD

Certainly the impression created abroad is that serious discord exists in our government. This in itself can encourage the enemy.

★ ★ ★

The psychological effect resulting from the publicizing of a dissent that is not representative of any big segment of public opinion but only looks that way can be damaging to America's interests and lengthen the war.

Bob Considine Says:

Perseverance Paid Off Early for Correspondent

CONSIDINE

It was a revealing word. Seems that when Ackerman was running Columbia's Graduate School of Journalism, he learned from his secretary one morning that a girl named Higgins was in the outer office and wished to become a graduate student.

Ackerman sent word to her that all 11 places allotted women in the graduate school had been filled.

Hours later, as he prepared to go to lunch, his secretary told him that Miss Higgins was still sitting outside, waiting for him to appear.

★ ★ ★

Ackerman patiently explained the rules to her but Marguerite would have none of that.

FORMIDABLE BARRIER

Finally, he sent her to the dean of women at the university with the promise that if she could talk her way past that formidable barrier he'd let her into his famed journalism foundry.

As he was leaving the office late that day, he noticed the women's dean's office door was open. Marguerite was sitting at the lady's desk, typing a story. She had made the grade.

Next day, Ackerman got a call from the burser's office. "Your Miss Higgins has been accepted by the dean of women, by you, by the registrar, by everybody. Now she's here in my office and she says she hasn't any money," the man said. "What am I supposed to do?"

★ ★ ★

A little thing like that never stopped the girl who was to go on to become a great correspondent in World War II and Korea, and die from a bug picked up in Viet Nam.

"The next time I saw the burser he was sending a wire to her people in California, asking for the tuition," Ackerman said.

Discusses Recommendation on Speakers

The Michigan State Senate decision recommending to the president and board of governors of Wayne State University the banning of Communist speakers from their campus is in direct violation of the first amendment of the Federal Constitution guaranteeing freedom of speech and the right of assembly. The decision is a dangerous one, since if it were followed by our university administrations it would deprive the students and faculty of the right of free inquiry.

★ ★ ★

It would enable people to dictate to the students of our universities what kind of knowledge to seek, what type of book to read and what to reject. Obviously, this would defeat the whole purpose of the university as an institution of higher learning. 'Questions Combining of School Districts'

What would be the advantage of the Clarkston Community Schools annexing the Brandon Community Schools? With the assessed valuation per pupil of the Clarkston district greater, if the two districts are combined, wouldn't the valuation per pupil of those now in the Clarkston district be lowered and Brandon increased?

What are the advantages of a larger district with a greater number of children? With the population growth and the projected growth for the future, the present Clarkston district will have all it can financially handle. If there are advantages in largeness, why is Detroit having difficulty keeping the education system competitive with the smaller districts?

If Brandon has the right to vote on annexation then the citizens in the Clarkston district have the same right. The citizens of both districts should vote on the proposal. Both school boards should give full information before taking action.

I was amused by the letter writer who was so disgusted with Pontiac he moved to Clarkston. What did he get there that he didn't have before? And I agree with him about that big sports arena and why doesn't Clarkston provide the ground as land would be so much more economical there. Maybe if he moves back to Pontiac with all his added experience we could run him for the City Commission.

New Weapon Planned in War on Rural Poverty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government hopes to begin a new kind of federal attack on poverty this year. The target is rural America. The initial cost is low and the theme is self-help.

The vehicle for the new government program is the Rural Community Development Service, a planning agency authorized last year. President Johnson has asked Congress for $5-million to give the agency the go-head to begin operations in all 50 states.

The service's main goal is to set up hundreds of rural planning districts and provide the incentive for them to tackle the immediate — and future — problems in their areas on a local level.

Rural America has long withstood the government's antipoverty programs. Statistics show that its poverty rate is nearly twice that of the rest of the nation, its children lag two years behind urban dwellers in education and receive 33 per cent less medical attention. Twenty-five per cent of its nonfarm homes lack even running water.

ACHIEVEMENTS

As envisioned by Robert G. Lewis, administrator of the Rural Community Development Service, the new administration program would provide "a means whereby the rural and city people will be able to plan together and to achieve some things that no individual government unit is able to afford itself."

The proposed districts would be up to about 50 miles in diameter and generally correspond to the usual commercial patterns of a rural trading area — farms interspersed with many small and a few larger cities.

They would include representatives from all counties and city governments in their area. Underlying much of the government's concern for the future of rural america has been the inability of small rural areas to help themselves to the funds available from the Office of Economic Opportunity, the administration's antipoverty agency.

The OEO's community action program has distributed less than 16 per cent of its funds to rural areas. Spokesmen said one reason is the lack of skilled public administrators in rural areas who could apply for the federal funds.

NEW INDUSTRY

But Lewis said today in an interview the proposed program would go far beyond battling poverty.

★ ★ ★

"For one thing, we want to attract new industry," he said. "We're organizing a nationwide campaign to encourage businesses with expansion plans to locate in rural areas and to provide jobs for young people in rural areas without much training."

★ ★ ★

Lewis said some studies indicate as few as 1 of 10 farm boys can expect to make a living on the farm.

To balance the expected influx of industry, the Rural Community Development Service hopes to encourage districts to apply for federally financed vocational training projects.

"We want to keep the rural youths," says A. T. Mace, deputy administrator of the service, "but even if they do leave the area, we want them to be qualified to get a job instead of having them end up as washed-up material in some city."

Detroit Teen Shot at School; 2 Held

DETROIT (UPI)—A 16-year-old high school sophomore was in serious condition today with a gunshot wound he received in the head as he walked down a corridor at Eastern High School yesterday.

Police said Tony Young suffered a grazing wound when he walked past two boys who were examining a 32-caliber revolver.

★ ★ ★

Artis Evans, 17, and Frank Knight, 17, were being held by police for questioning.

Officers said Evans brought his father's gun from home and was showing it to Knight when it went off, striking Young.

AFL-CIO May Air Grievances With LBJ, Congress at Talks

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Labor leaders began gathering today for their annual session in the sun, but seemed more in a mood to get heated up over grievances with the Johnson administration and Congress.

"Our boys are more than a little burned up," said a spokesman for the AFL-CIO Construction and Building Trades Department, opening a series of meetings of the 13-million member labor federation.

The construction unions are angry over being singled out by the Johnson administration for "excessive" wage hikes and a proposal by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz for compulsory contract settlements.

★ ★ ★

Wirtz is scheduled to address the labor leaders next week and a source close to AFL-CIO President George Meany quoted Meany as saying: "I don't know what kind of reception he's going to get, but it's going to be rough."

TO SOUND OFF

The federation's Maritime Trade Department, meeting later this week, is ready to sound off against government policies which union leaders claim will cripple the U.S. Merchant Marine.

At the main show, the AFL-CIO executive council starting next Monday, leaders reportedly will denounce increasing White House pressure to hold down wage demands as a curb against inflation.

★ ★ ★

Labor spokesmen point to soaring business profits in refusing to abide by White House wage guidelines.

The building trades meeting today and Wednesday reportedly will formally reject the secret Wirtz proposal for nationwide compulsory contract settlements in the construction industry.

★ ★ ★

"I won't tell our people not to accept anything they can get from employers," said one of the building union presidents, Hunter P. Wharton of the International Union of Operating Engineers.

Wharton's union was the target of a complaint to the White House by New Jersey contractors over a recent settlement providing a top wage scale of more than $7 per hour for some crane operators.

Manager Is Appointed for State GOP Confab

LANSING (UPI) — William C. Keimig, who worked as an advance man for the Gov. George Romney campaign in 1964, has been appointed manager of the 1966 Michigan Republican party convention.

Keimig, a sales promotion specialist with American Airlines in Detroit, will be responsible for all arrangements for the Aug. 26-27 convention at Detroit.

81 Evacuate Burning Plane

NEW DELHI (UPI) — An Indian Airlines Caravelle, landing in fog early today, crashed and burned at Palam Airport, but all 81 persons aboard survived.

★ ★ ★

Airport officials said the jet struck an approach light as it touched down, swerved to the right and burst into flame in the tail section.

Officials said all 74 passengers and the crew of 7 scrambled out of escape hatches and windows before the flames enveloped the craft, but 18 passengers suffered burns, 8 seriously enough to be hospitalized.

The jetliner was destroyed.

★ ★ ★

Some airport officials said the passengers panicked when the plane hit the ground and burst into flame. "It's a miracle they are all safe," one said.

★ ★ ★

But others said the crew helped the passengers to get out and P. Singvi, a United Nations employe on the flight, told reporters "Women and children were first helped out of the burning aircraft and the others followed."

MRS. DONNA LEWIS

Wife Charged in Capac Death

PORT HURON (AP) — Mrs. Donna Lewis, 23, was charged with murder Monday after, police said, she changed her story about a hitchhiker shooting her husband.

William E. Lewis, 24, was shot Saturday while in bed in the couple's home at nearby Capac. Police said Mrs. Lewis told them a man she knew only as "Kent" had killed her husband. She said the man was an overnight guest and had spent previous nights at the home since meeting the Lewises while hitchhiking.

After further questioning Monday, police said Mrs. Lewis told them she shot her husband accidentally after an argument over family finances.

Man Charged With Murder of Illinois Girl

ROCKFORD, Ill. (UPI) — It was the week before Christmas. Night fell early, and at 5:45 p.m., little Susan Brady, 11, started for home.

The thin, dark-haired schoolgirl had stayed late at school with a friend to clean blackboards and help decorate their classroom for Christmas.

She had nine blocks to go. But she never came home.

* * *

IN INCINERATOR

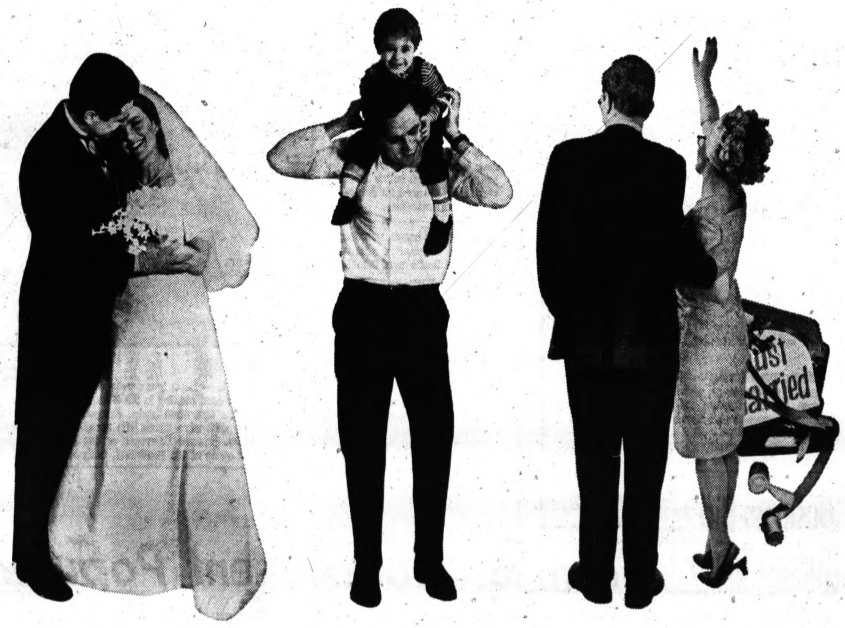
They said Russell C. Dewey, a Rockford landscaper, burned Susan's body in an incinerator, probably only hours after she disappeared on Dec. 20.

* * *

Rockford Police Chief Delbert Peterson said Dewey told California authorities he had struck Susan with his car and when he discovered she was dead, panicked and burned her body in an incinerator in the back yard of his grandparent's home, where he was staying alone.

Peterson said investigators did not believe Dewey.

At last, life insurance you can custom-tailor to your exact needs. New Nationwide plan lets you:



Buy one policy when you first need one...

subtract from it as your needs change.

UNTIL NOW, you had to buy one policy to insure yourself. Another to insure your wife and child. Still another to insure your mortgage. Complicated. And you paid extra to have new policies written.

Now Nationwide's Adjustable Life Plan ends all this. You buy one policy to fit your needs. Then you can change it as your needs change by adding or subtracting nine different benefits. Simple. And it gets rid of those extra costs.

These nine benefits let you:

1. Insure your wife and present children. Each newborn child will be insured automatically after 15 days at no extra cost.

2. Set up an education endowment.

3. Add term insurance on yourself that decreases as your children grow older.

4. Protect your wife and children against large debt in case you die.

5. Guarantee your insurability regardless of health.

6. Apply the dividends on your basic policy to buy more insurance.

7. Double or triple your basic policy in event of accidental death.

8. Arrange for Nationwide to pay your premiums the rest of your life if you are permanently disabled and can't work.

9. Guarantee your right to buy retirement income anytime in the future at today's low prices.

Remember, you can add or subtract any of these benefits to your one policy.

'Friends' Unite for OU Library

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

The heart of a university is its library.

Here, students search and study centuries of accumulated knowledge, seeking the past to understand the present and prepare for their future.

When weaknesses in the form of book shortages develop, this heart begins to falter and the academic reputation of the university may hang in the balance.

Determined to keep Oakland University's heart vital despite economic setbacks, Floyd Cammack, university librarian at the Kresge Library, turned to friends: Friends of the Kresge Library and Friends of Oakland University.

★ ★ ★

He suggested that parents of students, ones who would suffer most from the library's lack, be contacted and invited to give a gift to their child — a book to be added to the library's collection.

BEAR NAMEPLATE

Each gift volume would bear a nameplate including the donors' names and that of their son or daughter.

It would be of a type that would benefit the particular student in his chosen field, whether it be in the school of music, education, liberal arts, engineering or another.

Board members of both groups agreed that since the American Library Association had labeled the university library 57 per cent below national standards, the need for remedial action was immediate.

★ ★ ★

Recruitment began, volunteers rallied to Cammack's plea and Operation Books was launched.

COORDINATOR

An active Friend of the Library member, Mrs. William Poland of 1987 Walton, Avon Township, was named coordinator of volunteers.

Armed with pencils and back issues of "Choice," a magazine listing reference materials that should be in a university library, volunteers tackled the library's card catalog.

Each book listed in the magazines was checked in the Library of Congress reference cards.

★ ★ ★

If the book was in the collection, a check mark was entered in the magazine beside the title; if not, a circle.

CIRCLE WITH LINE

If the title was there in a different edition, a circle with a line under it was recorded.

A tedious and time-consuming task but a necessary one if books to be added to the collection were not to duplicate material on hand.

★ ★ ★

Letters were written and enclosure cards typed up. Each letter was to include two or three cards.

BOOK SUGGESTED

The enclosure cards, one for each of the approximately 7,000 volumes checked out and circled, list the suggested book, its cost and the parents' and student names.

Mrs. William E. Mosher, executive secretary of the Friends of the Kresge Library, contacted Mrs. S. Robinson Foster, chairman of the Junior League of Birmingham's roving committee, for help in preparing envelopes for mailing.

★ ★ ★

With the last mailing set for today, the volunteers can relax but not for long.

There are 7,000 volumes in the library's basement that Cammack wants to see processed and in hands of people who need them.

REGULAR BASIS

Persons interested in volunteering spare time to the library on a regular basis may contact Mrs. Mosher or Cammack at OU for further information.

★ ★

Volunteer time schedules are adaptable to include morning, afternoon or evening hours.

BOOK CHECK — Long hours were spent checking Oakland University's card catalog in the Kresge Library to compile a book list for Operation Books. Frequently volunteering on the morning shift were (from left) Mrs. Walton Lewis of Detroit and Mrs. Edward Lawrence of 283 Lake Park and Mrs. William Lowrie of 548 Southfield, both of Birmingham.

STRIKE THREE — Pointing to her jaw, and holding up three fingers, Mrs. Mary Barker of Pontiac indicates the spot where she grew a tooth recently. After wearing dentures for about 40 years, she began to wonder if she was growing a third set of teeth.

'Granny' Sprouts New Tooth at 84

By JOE MULLEN

Mrs. Mary Barker of 85 N. Anderson will confirm this.

"At first, I thought it was a piece of bone protruding," she said. "I had to discard my dental plate because of the lump."

VISIT TO DENTIST

A visit to her dentist's office resulted in an X ray of the trouble area and the revelation that a new tooth had broken through the gum.

Dr. R. W. Schmieding extracted the tooth last week.

Mrs. Barker said that her mouth began bothering her about three months ago and almost caused her to pass up an opportunity to visit a grandson in Texas, last month.

★ ★ ★

"But, I decided to go and had such an enjoyable three weeks in Dallas that my mouth problem seemed to improve.

TWO FIRSTS

"It was the first time I was out of the state and my first plane ride," said the widow, known to many of the children in her neighborhood as "granny."

Favorite pastime of the keenly alert octogenarian is thumbing through a vast collection of photographs of family members, a daughter, five grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren.

Select any grandchild or great-grandchild at random and Mrs. Barker can give a quick resume of where he's been and where he's going.

★ ★ ★

The family will have to go some to catch up with "granny." She's already working on her third set of teeth.

Business Bid Turned Down

'Spot Zoning' Seen by Waterford Board

A rezoning request for a travel-trailer camper business was turned aside 5-1 last night by Waterford Township Board members.

The proposed rezoning for the 1.9-acre parcel on Williams Lake Road between Hatchery and South Shaker was from public recreation (RA-1) to light industrial (M-1).

Board members concurred that reclassification of the parcel to M-1 would be spot zoning, according to the township comprehensive development plan.

URGED DENIAL

Previously, the request had been recommended for denial by the Township Planning Commission and the Oakland County Coordinating Zoning and Planning Committee.

In other business, the board agreed unanimously to share costs of hat covers and capes for school crossing guards, but voted to discard $21 raincoats recommended by Police Sgt. Raymond Wilhelm.

The board of education previously had voted to share expenses for all three items to equip about 30 crossing guards.

Estimated cost of equipment, including raincoats, was $700.

DUAL PROJECTS

Republican Trustee Loren Anderson warned of increasing expenses involved in dual projects of the Township Board and board of education.

"The way the millage balance is set up," said Anderson, "I think we should start backing away from some of these programs."

GMC Truck and Coach Division submitted the only bids for a new fire truck chassis — $7,268 for a conventional cab and $7,507 for a tilt cab.

Bids were referred to the township vehicle committee.

A street light was approved for the Crescent Lake Road-Tubbs Road intersection. The Detroit Edison Co. will install the light.

The township will be assessed a $3.50-per-month electricity fee.

Pontiac System Heads List

Form of Government Popular

Installed here 46 years ago, Pontiac's form of government is growing in popularity, according to a survey by the International City Managers' Association.

The survey reports that 45 per cent of all cities over 10,000 population have adopted the city commission-manager (i.e. council-manager) form of government.

The mayor-council form is next in popularity with 42.6 per cent of the cities.

★ ★ ★

1861 TO 1911

In 1911, a three-man commission was installed as the city's government. This form lasted until the 1920 election.

The commission-manager form originated in the South. In 1908, Stanton, Va., first adopted the form of government, and in 1912 Sumter, S. Caro., followed suit.

According to the association survey, there are 859 cities in the United States with population over 10,000 with the commission-manager form of government.

The association report claims the commission-manager setup is increasing in popularity.

In 1955, there were 34 cities over 100,000 population with this form of government. Today there are 68 such cities.

The present count of 898 cities over 10,000 population with commission-manager government has climbed from 524 in 1955.

★ ★ ★

However, the association survey did show that the popularity of the commission-manager form was not complete.

SHOWED AN EDGE

When cities with 5,000 population were considered, the mayor-council form showed an edge of 49.7 per cent to 39.3 per cent over the commission-manager form.

The mayor-council and the commission-manager forms of government are similar.

★ ★ ★

Under this form, a mayor may also be selected. In Pontiac the mayor is determined by the commission, but in some cities he is directly elected by the voters.

★ ★ ★

Golden Age Club Plans Card Party

The Waterford Golden Age Club will hold its annual card party at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday in the Communtiy Activities Inc. building, 5640 Williams Lake, Waterford Township.

The event is open to the public. Tickets can be obtained at the Recreation Department office in the CAI building.

Waterford Water Use Shows Big Increase

Roy Brown And His Bridal Biscuit

The 60-year-old GMC Truck & Coach Division field auditor insists his wife, Lucille, is a "top-notch cook," but, he adds with a twinkle in his eye, "she bakes biscuits to last . . . and last . . . and last!"

Brown says his wife baked the biscuit — her first for him — just after their wedding on Sept. 10, 1927, in Ashland, Ky.

"Biscuits were my favorite—and they still are — so my new bride baked up a big batch of them for our very first home-cooked dinner.

HE SAVED IT

"They were a little hard and I kidded her some I guess. But I ate all of 'em but one. Jokingly —or, maybe it's because I'm a sentimentalist at heart — I saved it.

"About 10 years ago a friend of mine made an attractive little stand and cover for it."

Since then the biscuit has been a showpiece in the Brown kitchen.

Compulsory Arbitration Bill Opposed

The legislative committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday went on record as opposing pending legislation calling for compulsory arbitration under the Hutchinson Act.

Legislation seeking compulsory arbitration reportedly will be reconsidered in the legislature after being tabled last June.

The Hutchinson Act, which was amended last year giving public employes the right to organize, now specifies that arbitration is optional.

In other business yesterday, the legislative committee also opposed a pending bill setting salaries of Circuit Court stenographers.

It also opposed, as a matter of policy, any fixing of salaries by the legislature that are not paid by the state.

DR. WILLIAM J. EMERSON

Area Educator Talks in N. J.

Special education was the subject of Oakland Schools Supt. Dr. William J. Emerson yesterday in an address before the American Association of School Administrators (AASA) Convention in Atlantic City, N.J.

★ ★ ★

Speaking to a group of superintendents, Emerson outlined the organization of a special education program on a multi-district basis and described its operation.

★ ★ ★

Emerson suggested that it would be much more economical to consider a handicapped child's learning problem rather than devoting so much time to the medical cause.

★ ★ ★

Students Grouping to Back Senate Bid

LANSING (UPI)—Student organizations are being formed at eight universities and colleges to promote the candidacy of state Sen. Guy VanderJagt, R-Cadillac, for the GOP nomination to the U. S. Senate.

Announcement of the statewide "Students for VanderJagt" organization was made jointly yesterday by Terry Kew, a sophomore at Ferris State College, who is chairman of the organization, and executive secretary Lew Soli, a graduate student in political science at Western Michigan University.

Pontiac Show Cars to Highlight Exhibit

Two specially designed show cars — the Grand Corniche and the Tigerr—will be the center of attraction in the Pontiac Motor Division display at the Chicago Automobile Show opening Saturday at McCormick Place.

Also inside Pontiac's 11,000-square-foot exhibit area will be 17 new 1966 Pontiacs and Tempests including the GTO, 2-Plus 2 and Bonneville Brougham and a cut-away model of the new overhead cam six-cylinder engine.

On one of Pontiac's revolving platforms will be the customized Grand Corniche, which derives its name from the famous Mediterranean coastal highway.

Pontiac's other show car, a GTO convertible labeled the "Tigerr," (with two Rs as in roar) presents a deliberate contrast in exterior and interior styling.

CUSTOM PAINT

The interior is a contrasting black leather washed in gold to give a transparent effect. The seats and doors are accented with a red stripe running throughout. The carpeting is black pouf.

The "Tigerr" features an eye-catching custom-designed convertible boot. The boot is actually an extension of the rear seat backs. The boot is of black leather washed in gold and has pleated panels just like the seats.

All of Pontiac's 1966 models on display, from the Tempest to the Grand Prix offer extensive advancements in styling, engineering, safety and model availability.

Pontiac has increased the number of models from 26 last year to 33 in 1966.

W. Europe Reds Hit Writers' Jail Terms

LONDON (AP) — West European Communists joined literary leaders today in protesting the prison sentences given two Soviet writers in Moscow.

The writers, Andrei Sinyavsky and Yuli Daniel, were sentenced Monday to seven and five years at hard labor respectively for publishing books abroad that depicted Soviet life in an unfavorable light. Their four-day trial was closed to Western newsmen, and only brief accounts of the testimony were published by Soviet news organs.

★ ★ ★

"The handling of this affair has done a greater disservice to the Soviet Union than have the words of Sinyavsky and Daniel," said John Gollan, secretary general of the British Communist party.

"The court has found the accused guilty, but the full evidence for the prosecution and defense which led the court to this conclusion has not been made public."

'VERY SEVERE'

L'Unita, published by Italy's large Communist party, said the prison terms seemed "without doubt very severe."

"In our opinion, it is legitimate to ask whether the trial answered many questions, political and moral, that inevitably spring forth," L'Unita said.

Copenhagen's Country and People, the newspaper of the Danish Communist party, said nothing in the present situation of the Soviet Union warranted such harsh sentences. It called them "incomprehensible."

★ ★ ★

The youth organization of the Swedish Liberal party sent Premier Tage Erlander a cable protesting the visit to Sweden next July of Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Giancarlo Vigorelli, secretary general of the European Community of Writers, said in Rome that his group may break relations with the Soviet Union of Writers because of its attitude toward the trial.

REQUESTS IGNORED

Despite the fact that the two groups have collaborated for seven years, the Soviet group ignored repeated requests to allow Vigorelli to attend the trial and sent two of its members to testify against Sinyavsky and Daniel, Vigorelli said.

★ ★ ★

Valery Tarsis, a Soviet writer who published anti-Soviet works abroad but was allowed to travel to London last week to lecture, said the sentences were "an attempt on the part of the Soviet authorities to return to the Stalinist methods of arbitrariness."

"They are revealing of the fascist extent of the Soviet regime," he said in a statement in London.

"Sinyavsky and Daniel have not broken any Soviet law and the charge is utterly spurious."

Tarsis, 60, was allowed to travel to London after he was denounced as a mental case in the Soviet press. He said 200 eminent scholars and men of letters throughout the world signed an appeal which helped him go abroad.

Says MSU Shy by $8.3 Million

Hannah Hits Romney Budget, U.S. Cutback

EAST LANSING (AP) — John Hannah, Michigan State University president, indicated Monday night that to meet its needs MSU must do about $8.3 million worth of persuading in the Legislature and in Congress.

In his annual state of the University message, Hannah said Gov. George Romney's 1966-67 budget recommendations were $7.5 million short of MSU's request.

★ ★ ★

In addition, he said, MSU has $846,000 at stake in proposed cutbacks in the federal budget.

Hannah also proposed a large scale university attack on the problems of America's large cities.

Noting that MSU has pooled resources with other universities to work in underdeveloped countries abroad, he asked: "Why not in our own country?"

SUSPICIONS

He said many advocates of the antipoverty war "suspect that great plans are based on pitifully scant research."

Hannah said a handicap for MSU in obtaining state money is "that our appropriations have increased substantially in recent years, and the mistaken impression is abroad that Michigan State University has been given generous if not magnificent treatment by the budgetmakers.

"Actually," he added, "as we can document fully, appropriations have both lagged behind enrollment increases and failed to take into account the changing composition of the student body (toward more graduate students)."

The problem in Washington, Hannah said, is a proposal to reduce by $12 million a $14.5-million-a-year federal endowment of the nation's land-grant institutions, including MSU.

'ONLY EXCUSE'

"The only excuse offered for abandoning this policy of continuing endowment is there is now money available for universities in other federal programs," he said. "But the fact is there is no money in other programs available on a grant basis to support instructional programs...."

Hannah said President Johnson's budget also proposed an $8.5 million cut in agricultural research grants for the experiment stations and a $10 million shift from cooperative extension programs to a fund for rural community development and work with low-income families.

These developments, he said, would mean a loss to MSU of $335,949 in instructional programs, $210,000 for its experiment station and $301,000 for its cooperative extension service.

Pontiac Central Debaters Add to Collection of Laurels

By HELEN COLLIAS

Debate, the art of solving a problem intelligently and systematically, has been practiced with success by Pontiac Central High School debaters this past year.

Other schools competing were Flint Northern, Flint Central, Flint Southwestern, Saginaw and Saginaw Arthur Hill.

Central has won the Valley championship a seventh time in the last eight years.

By winning the February district tournament held at Royal Oak, the first string varsity qualified to enter into the regional tournament to be held later this month.

* * *

$600 WINNER

On the varsity team are Ned Barker and Roberta Wine, affirmative; Thomas Hahn and Marjy Rosner, negative.

Walter Smith, debate coach, said he is proud of his debaters and hopes it has given them speech and thinking benefits which will help them throughout life.

* * *

Cranbrook Nearing Its Fund Drive Goal

By RICHARD BOSLEY

At the present, about 90 per cent of the funds have been collected.

If Cranbrook School can raise $1.5 million, the Cranbrook Foundation will match it with an equal sum. Thus, the school will have $3 million to spend on improvements.

The updating includes the renovation of the library and the purchase of 6,000 new volumes; addition of a language laboratory, including tapes, records and films; and the construction of a four-family apartment to relieve the faculty housing shortage.

The money has been collected from 1,147 donors.

YIPPEE-AI-YAY — Excited over the board of education's permission for a dude ranch senior trip, seniors Elaine Ojala (center) of 12225 31 Mile, Washington Township, and Wendy Brunk of 67550 Sisson try water skis over Luke Engel's of 131 Tillson cowboy boots. Wendy and Luke are residents of Romeo. The trip to El Rancho at Gaylord, Mich. will take place in May.

Board OKs Romeo Senior Trip

By TIM WHITING

The senior class at Romeo High School received permission from the board of education to spend its senior trip at the Gay El Rancho resort ranch in Gaylord.

This sets a precedent at Romeo. In the past, the only trip seniors have been allowed to take is a boat trip.

Last year's graduating class's request for the trip was refused but additional information gathered by this year's class officers convinced the board to reconsider its former decision.

Bringing in their deposits this week, seniors will take the trip May 16-18.

Try-outs for the Red and White Revue, a variety show sponsored by the choral department at Romeo High are being held this week.

Raymond Voorhees, choral director said the revue will have many talent acts plus a girls' chorus line. Special feature will include the boys' comedy chorus line.

The show will take the place of the annual school musical and will be held in April.

The team won five out of six debates at the district eliminations with all four debators placing within the top 14 speakers.

Margeret Greene and Donald Campbell, the negative team, lost their first debate, snapping a seven-match winning streak, but came back to win their next two debates.

This is the most successful season the team has had since being placed in the Class A division.

The senior high band had nine soloists and six ensembles participating in the district solo and ensemble festival held Saturday at Waterford Kettering.

Working this year for the Student Council from North Farmington High will be Chairman Sue Worack and from Farmington High, Jim Hosler.

Health of LBJ Said Excellent

Examination Is Held After Honolulu Trip

★ ★ ★

The White House made public yesterday a report on a week-end medical checkup of the President by Dr. James C. Cain of the Mayo Clinic, the Johnson family physician, and Vice Adm. George G. Burkley, the White House physician.

The chief executive last underwent a complete physical examination at his Texas ranch during the Christmas holidays.

He has had periodical check-ups since his Oct. 8 surgery for removal of his gallbladder and a kidney stone.

Cain's statement yesterday said:

"While in Washington for a meeting of the advisory committee to the selective service for the selection of physicians, doctors and allied medical specialists, Dr. Burkley and I had the pleasure of visiting with the President and carrying out a careful and a complete physical examination.

"The findings indicate the President's physical condition to be excellent, both from the standpoint of laboratory findings and our clinical evaluation.

"The President has adhered to a reduction diet and has maintained his weight under 200 pounds."

While the White House did not announce it, other sources disclosed that Johnson had put on a few pounds since his year-end stay at his ranch.

The White House said that X rays, electrocardiogram and blood pressure tests were taken in the examination, and all showed normal readings.

Truck Driver Crashes, Keeps Acid Load Intact

BLOWING ROCK, N. C. (UPI) — The brakes on a tanker truck filled with 49,000 pounds of carbolic acid failed on a mountain road near here yesterday, and its driver steered the crippled vehicle into the side of a cliff.

★ ★ ★

Freddie T. Coley, 29, of Marion, Va., was pinned in the wreckage for more than two hours. A doctor had to amputate his smashed left leg above the knee. No one else was injured, and the truck's tank did not rupture.

Freeman: U.S. to Hike Rice Output for Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said today U.S. rice farmers will increase their acreage so they can ship South Viet Nam as much of its staple food as it needs.

"We do not propose to let the Viet Cong or the speculators dominate the rice situation in Viet Nam," Freeman said at the end of a five-day visit. "We will bring in enough rice to see that this is true."

He said President Johnson already had authorized an increase in the U.S. rice acreage to provide enough to meet demands.

Asked for an estimate of rice imports from the United States, Freeman said this would depend on how the situation develops. South Viet Nam once produced all the rice it needed but because of the war, it must now import millions of tons.

The secretary said he found South Viet Nam's agriculture much more advanced than he had expected. He stressed that fertilizer is just as important as bullets in the war effort.

Freeman said he had found a firm resolve both on the military and civilian side that the "second front" will command "proper priority in the future."

His reference to a second front was to the work of pacification, rural reconstruction, development of the civilian economy and agriculture on which Johnson put chief emphasis at the Honolulu conference with the leaders of South Viet Nam's government.

"I knew this was a principle but I found here that there is real dedication to this principle," Freeman said.

"After all, 85 per cent of the people in Viet Nam are dependent on agriculture. Prime Minister (Nguyen Cao) Ky and the others are aware of its importance to the people. The war cannot be won without a healthy and expanding agriculture."

Freeman said he and the technical experts who accompanied him would submit their report to the President

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS: Check that car registration of yours. CONVICTS FIGHT CRIME — These five long-term Tennessee convicts, who are waging an "Operation Crime Prevention," left yesterday to tell their stories to the Kentucky Legislature. They have spoken to 172,800 schoolchildren, telling them that the habits they form in school will determine their future.

Legislators Will Hear 5 Convicts

The five are participants in Operation Crime Prevention, invited by Gov. Edward T. Breathitt to speak at a joint meeting of the Kentucky Legislature — prior to a House vote on a bill to abolish capital punishment in the state.

Operation Crime Prevention is a program through which the convicts — Louis, Robert, Joe, George and Franklin, aged 21 to 28 — have traveled throughout Tennessee telling their stories of the road to crime to high school and college students.

To eight convicts recently removed from Kentucky's death row and another sentenced last week to die, these talks are most important.

EMOTIONAL DEBATE

The abolition bill has been emotionally debated for several months. Last week, after it was reported out of a House committee, the consensus seemed to be that the bill would be defeated.

"I think we'll probably have a hard time doing anything with John Y. Brown, D-Lexington, after the committee hearings.

Rep. John Hardin, D-Hopkinsville, chairman of the committee, and an abolitionist, said the convicts' testimony would be equal to the impact of the visual evidence submitted by opponents of the bill.

★ ★ ★

One of the Tennessee convicts, Franklin, was within seven hours and 22 steps of the Tennessee chair. His sentence was commuted.

★ ★ ★

"I cannot describe the feelings that went through me when they measured my legs, arms and head for the straps which were to bind me in the chair or the inner torment when they shaved my head," he says, "and told me my funeral arrangements had already been made, and an ambulance with my coffin was waiting to pick up my body."

Red Speakers Debated Again

Resolution Supports University Presidents

LANSING (UPI)—Back again today for debate before the State Legislature was the issue of whether university officials were right in allowing a Communist to speak at their tax-supported schools.

A resolution introduced by state Reps. Daniel S. Cooper, D-Oak Park, and Jack Faxon, D-Detroit, supports university presidents who allowed Dr. Herbert Aptheker, a Communist historian, to speak.

Aptheker talked Thursday and Friday at Wayne State and Michigan State universities despite passage of a Senate resolution, by a 15-14 margin, condemning his appearance at state-supported facilities.

Aptheker left Michigan, but the issue arose again in speeches last night by State Sen. Stanley Novak, D-Detroit, and Farrell E. Roberts, R-Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

"We are dealing with a godless bunch of brutal atheists," Novak said. "Their leaders preach that because their first men in space did not see any angels flying around that this is proof enough that there is no God and religion is only a sop and a refuge for the ignorant.

ONLY WAY

"The only way to treat them is the way God advised Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden — to crush their head."

Roberts told the Senate he regretted his decision to abstain from voting on the resolution passed Friday urging university presidents to ban Aptheker from campus. A negative vote would probably have blocked passage.

"I let political expediency prevail," Roberts said. "As a lawyer, I could not vote for the resolution, and as a lawyer I should have voted against it."

★ ★ ★

He said the resolution was equivalent to asking the universities to break the laws governing free speech when the nation is not at war.

SHOULD BE BARRED

Gov. George Romney said earlier yesterday it was his "personal belief" that any speaker who might be "promoting the Communist party" should be barred from campuses.

Romney emphasized that under the State Constitution, college presidents have the right to determine who may speak on campus, but he added "I don't see why the Senate shouldn't express its attitude as I am doing."

Accused Killer of Boy, 2, Sent to Grand Jury

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)— A 22-year old man accused of slaying a boy and dumping the body in an outhouse on an abandoned farm near Monroe, Mich., has been bound over to the Lucas County Grand Jury.

The grand jury was to meet Wednesday to discuss the case of Alberto Sanchez, charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of Eddie Montalvo, 2, last Nov. 29.

★ ★ ★

Montalvo was the son of a woman with whom Sanchez had been living.

REMAINS IN JAIL

Sanchez, who remains in jail in lieu of $10,000 bond, appeared at the hearing but did not say anything.

Carolina Montalvo, the victim's mother, repeated a story she had told authorities. She said Sanchez fatally beat Eddie and that they wrapped his body in a blanket and took it to the farm north of Toledo.

The boy's frozen body was discovered in January by a rabbit hunter. The body remained unidentified for nearly a week until a Toledo couple, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gonzales, notified authorities the boy might be Eddie.

Exam Is Demanded on Break-In Charge

Commerce Township Justice John C. Weick set examination for Thursday and ordered Bush held at the Oakland County Jail in $2,000 bond.

3 Will Participate in Candidate Quiz

Three candidates have indicated they will participate in "Quiz the Candidates" forums to be held Sunday in Districts 1 and 7.

Sponsored by the Progressive Action Committee for Equality (PACE), the forums are planned to give voters an opportunity to hear and evaluate candidates in the March 7 City Commission primary.

★ ★ ★

Charles Billings, PACE secretary, said District 1 incumbent T. Warren Fowler has indicated he will participate in the forum scheduled for 3 p.m. at the Hayes Jones Community Center.

James B. Davis and Joseph Singleton, District 7 candidates, have said they will take part in the forum for that district at 5:30 p.m. Sunday at McConnell School.

Britain May Order U.S. F111 Bombers

LONDON (UPI) — The government apparently has decided to build its nuclear-age airborne strike force around the "swing wing" F111 supersonic bomber designed in the United States, British service chiefs told their staffs today.

Secretary of Defense Denis Healey will fly to Washington tomorrow for talks that could clinch the order for the F111s unless the Navy comes up with a last-minute reason why the money should be spent on aircraft carriers instead, informed sources said.

Ford Fires Salvos at President

The GOP minority leader made his statements at a news conference and a Lincoln Day speech to Butler County Republicans.

"Numerous decisions have been made hastily," Ford told newsmen. "Because of inadequate preparation in presentations to the United Nations, the United States has not looked as good to the rest of the world as it should have.

"The Honolulu incident was unsuccessful because of this type of hasty action without adequate preparation. If South Korea, Australia and New Zealand had been included in the Hawaii meetings, the results might have been much more effective."

★ ★ ★

"All in all, the administration is acting from its hip pocket, so to speak," Ford remarked in his discussion of last week's conference in Hawaii between the President and South Vietnamese leaders.

In his speech to about 1,000 Ohio Republicans, Ford accused the administration of "drastic mismanagement of the war on poverty" and called the executive branch a bureaucratic jungle.

Nebraskan Sticks State With Car

★ ★ ★

Austin appeared Monday at a State Board of Equalization meeting, told the board taxes on the vehicle were too high, then tossed his title on the car on the desk.

★ ★ ★

When Secretary of State Frank Marsh said the state couldn't accept the car, Austin replied: "I'm going to abandon it on a state lot, yank the plates off and leave it whether you want it or not. You're stuck."

★ ★ ★

The car is a used 1961 taxicab which Austin said he had bought last year for $100. This year, he said, his county assessor valued it at $180 with taxes of $18.

★ ★ ★

The title? It will be turned over to the state attorney general.

By JACOBY & SON

Here we have the unlucky expert with another tale of woe. This time we must admit that his partner did not do right by him but the unlucky expert cooperated beautifully in order to be hurt as much as possible. Here is his story.

JACOBY

"I felt strongly that when I bid four spades over South's four diamonds, I had given my partner all. Surely my partner could have jumped right to six spades. I did need an ace somewhere in order to bid four with a queen-high suit.

Even when he only bid five, if he had just passed North's six diamonds I might have gone on to six spades but his double was a command for me to stop.

"Now look what happened to me in the play. I opened the five of spades. South ruffed in dummy, cashed the ace of diamonds, entered his hand by overtaking the ten of diamonds with his jack, and led the jack of hearts.

"My queen was covered by dummy's king and my partner's ace. Then my partner led a second spade, whereupon South proceeded to make his slam. Everything happens to me!"

We have to agree with the unlucky expert that his partner's bidding left much to be desired. In fact, it was downright bad. We also feel that East might have led a club and set South when he got in with the ace of hearts but we must give our unlucky friend the main charge of letting South steal the slam.

The unlucky expert might well have opened the ace of clubs. His partner had bid that suit to start proceedings. However, he made a far more serious error when he covered the jack of hearts with the queen.

If he had just played low, East could have made the same mistake and led a second spade but it would not matter. South would not be able to get back to his hand without conceding a club trick.

♥♦CARD Sense♠♣

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1 ♣	Dble.	Pass
2 ♥	2 ♠	3 ♥	?

You, South, hold:

♠ 5 4 ♥ K J 5 4 ♦ Q 10 6 5 4 ♣ 5 2

What do you do now?

A—Pass or double are both acceptable bids. Use your own judgment based on your knowledge of the bidding styles of your partner and opponents.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two spades over West's two hearts, your partner jumps to three spades. East passes. What do you do?

Epidemic Threat Has Apparently Ended in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — The threat of a diphtheria epidemic in Detroit apparently has ended, a Health Department official said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Paul Salchow, department epidemiologist, said one of three remaining persons who have been undergoing diphtheria tests at a local hospital have been sent home.

He said tests showed the diphtheria germ carried by Algernon Tanner, 15, "could not possibly infect anyone with an active case of diphtheria."

Another of those hospitalized, Frederick Robbins, 22, also would be released soon, Salchow said.

Robbins was a roomer in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bozy Hill, whose 4-year-old son Lonnie died from the disease Jan. 31. Hill is the third person being tested.

Romney Urges State Strength

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — "As Lincoln cared more than a century ago, Republicans care today," Michigan Gov. George Romney said Monday night at Denver, keying his talk to a plea for strengthening the states.

The Michigan governor, often mentioned as a future GOP presidential nominee, spoke at a Valentine dinner for Colorado Gov. John Love.

Romney visited New Hampshire and Massachusetts over the past weekend for similar Lincoln Day speeches.

"We care about our nation and the fulfillment of its mission in the world," said Romney. "We care about our states and their subdivisions and the place each occupies in our proven democratic system of federalism.

"We care about the people—their rights and responsibilities. We care about our party, the party of Lincoln, and the political system in which it functions."

BASIC CHALLENGE

The basic challenge of this time, Romney said, "is an excess of national government power, lodged in fewer and fewer hands, largely within the executive branch."

States either must meet their responsibilities, he said, "or they will become powerless satellites of Washington, or they will disappear."

"The battle to strengthen states must be a central plank in our Republican blueprint for victory in 1966 and all the years ahead.

"We care enough to fight for constitutional government in the United States, so that the people will remain the masters, not the servants, of their government."

Planned Parenthood League, Inc.

Marks Half-Century of Progress

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

What was taboo yesterday is the subject of casual conversation today. What was illegal 50 years ago is now approved by the state.

1966 is the 50th anniversary of the family planning movement in America. The Planned Parenthood League, Inc. was begun by Margaret Sanger in 1916.

This woman, a public health nurse working in the slum areas of New York City, believed that the poor women should have access to contraceptive information.

STARTED IN 1912

She had launched her crusade for birth control information in 1912 and went to jail several times for her activities.

Detroit's League was founded in 1922; an Oakland county group was organized in the early 1930s; and the two merged in 1960, taking the name Planned Parenthood League, Inc. at that time.

There are now two clinic locations in Oakland county — the Riker Building in Pontiac and William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

PONTIAC CLINIC

The Pontiac Clinic which opened Jan. 6 has just one session a week on Thursday, from noon to 7 p.m. As the demand increases for its services, hours will be extended.

Mrs. Glen Wilson, a registered nurse, is the head of the local clinic.

★ ★ ★

It was less than a year ago that a group of Pontiac area women were invited by Mrs. Basil Brown to discuss the need for a family planning clinic in Pontiac.

Mrs. Merrill O. Bates of Birmingham who is on the board of directors of the Wayne-Oakland league was hostess for this group.

Preliminary discussions were followed by a search for a convenient location. Earlier family planning clinics at the Pontiac Health Center and Lakeside Homes had closed because of transportation difficulties.

A suite in the Riker Building was selected and the volunteer group worked to furnish it.

In addition to Mrs. Brown, others participating were Mrs. Aleck Capsalis, Mrs. John Napley, Mrs. Donald Bos, Mrs. Philip Francis and Mrs. Lewis Harris.

Concluding the list are Mrs. Richard Teague, Mrs. Glenn Sanford, Mrs. Clark Adams, Mrs. Verne Hampton, Mrs. S. V. Sekles, Mrs. Robert Shorey and Mrs. Raymond Rapaport.

Several Pontiac women will be named to the board of directors this spring.

Like all other birth control clinics, the Pontiac one is staffed by a gynecologist-obstetrician and a registered nurse. Volunteers do clerical work.

The clinic offers patients all the medically approved birth control methods, including rhythm.

The Planned Parenthood League is a non-profit agency which receives no federal nor United Fund monies. It is completely dependent upon its own fund raising efforts and patient fees.

In May the group is sponsoring its annual "house tour" as one of its fund-raising projects.

Patient fees are on a sliding scale, according to ability to pay. But no one is ever turned away for lack of funds.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan State Board of Health has gone on record as favoring what PPL has maintained for over 40 years — that birth control is an essential part of any public health program.

The state now approves of using public funds for birth control programs for the medically indigent and has allocated $200,000 for this year. Oakland county's share of this money is about $5000.

Social workers may now initiate discussion about family planning and may refer patients to the clinics.

It is hoped that this new policy will play a part in reducing ADC payments and have a lowering effect on juvenile delinquency, illegitimacy and crime. It will reduce the number of unwanted children.

★ ★ ★

PPL members make it plain that at no time is any patient told how many children she should have nor when. Each patient is free to choose the method of birth control she prefers.

At the time of her first examination she has a "pap" smear, a test that detects early cancer.

OTHER SERVICES

In addition to conception control, the Planned Parenthood League helps childless couples by referring them to special private physicians or to local clinics.

Pre-marital consultation with young couples includes information on the psychological as well as the physical aspects of marriage.

Complete physical examinations and blood tests are part of this program. PPL works with the Detroit Council of Churches in its marriage counseling program.

In connection with well known pharmaceutical companies, PPL also engages in a long term research program.

★ ★ ★

As a means of developing an informed public, the league makes available speakers and films on problems relative to family life.

Its aim is to promote acceptance and use of family planning facilities among all segments of the population.

The Wayne-Oakland group is an active member of the International Planned Parenthood Federation which has headquarters in London. This unites national birth control organizations in 35 countries, many under government sponsorship.

The Victor Fund committee and subscribers were honored. This fund totaling $3.5 million was raised through the initiative of Gen. William H. Draper Jr.

He enlisted the support of 24 U.S. corporations, foundations and individuals for the Victor Fund for International Planned Parenthood.

Begun with a bequest from Alexander F. Victor, the substantial fund will finance a three-year worldwide campaign to cope with the global population crisis.

The luncheon also launched a new $5 million Margaret Sanger 50th Anniversary Fund for Planned Parenthood-World Population.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am not even sure how to put this, but it has been bothering me for a long time and it's come to the point where I have to do something about it.

ABBY

I have a girl-friend. She is 15 (so am I) and we are always over at each other's houses. When I first met her father, I thought he was neat because he was so friendly.

But he got to doing things I knew weren't right. Like putting his hands on me, and trying to kiss me. He never did this in front of anyone else. I tried to avoid him, but he'd send his daughter out of the room to get something for him.

I pretended I thought his actions were all in fun, but deep down I was scared to death. I hate to quit seeing my friend, and if I tell my mother about this she will have his scalp. What should I do?

SCARED

DEAR SCARED: Don't worry about the old man's scalp. Tell your mother. If he's sick, he needs treatment. If he's just a dirty old man, he shouldn't be allowed to run around loose.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: We have belonged to a bridge club composed of married couples for several years and we meet at each other's homes.

When this certain couple has the game, it's as though they didn't know anyone was expected. They are in faded jeans, their children are eating in "shifts," and the house is a mess. They make us feel as though we intruded on them.

Now these are educated people, from the best families. I admit they are both expert bridge players and good company, but what about cleaning up the place and presenting a more gracious picture?

Or isn't this important when you have a diploma from Dartmouth and one from Radcliffe?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Aw, relax. You can go "slumming" now and then, can't you? Your friends may be poor housekeepers, relaxed parents, and casual, non-conforming hosts, but they're friends, aren't they?

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorcee and have been for over a year. I have two children, 5 and 3. I go out with a very nice gentleman once or twice a week, and he always insists on paying my babysitter.

I live on a limited budget and this man makes very good money. A friend of mine told me that allowing my escort to pay my sitter is no different from accepting money from him.

I never looked at it that way. I'd appreciate your views.

YOUNG MOTHER

DEAR YOUNG: I disagree with your friend. Under the circumstances, I see nothing wrong with allowing your escort to pay your sitter.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ONLY LIVES ONCE" IN BEVERLY HILLS: Think that decision over carefully, pal. It's much easier to get rid of a girlfriend than a wife. And cheaper, too.

Hospitality Was Warm

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Scures placed some plastic cups on her electric stove. Though the indicator showed the burners off, there was a faulty switch and one burner was on.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Scures went out and while she was gone, the cups caught on fire. The cupboards nearest the range began to burn, but the fire for some reason went out by itself.

SOOT DAMAGE

Two hours before party time, the hostess returned to a house filled with smoke and damaged by soot.

Steps to Better Memory

Get Clear Picture First

By GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," he began, "how can a fellow improve his memory for names and faces?

"I never was good at recalling names. In fact, within 2 minutes after an introduction, I have usually forgotten the prospect's name.

"So can I ever become even halfway successful at memorizing names and faces?"

Your capacity to remember is probably as good as that of the famous stage experts who astound audiences by their remarkable ability to recall names.

For example, if you and the memory experts sat down, side by side, and pressed a pencil point into the back of your hands for 30 seconds, you'd then see a depression as soon as you removed the pencil.

And this depression would take several minutes to disappear.

If you timed yourself and also the memory experts, you'd generally find that the depression lasted just as long in your skin as in that of the memory experts.

In a similar manner, the impression of your nervous system is also a physiological matter.

It doesn't vary significantly between normal people.

So what permits the memory experts to astound audiences is not their greater nerve retention, but their clearer mental impressions.

So the first step in a good memory is to be sure you obtain a clear-cut imprint of the name.

Visualize it as written on a blackboard. That involves the eye.

Then speak the name, too, for this brings to play the sensations of your throat muscles.

Rossmans Go North After Lapeer Rites

Pvt. and Mrs. Frederick Ray Rossman (Carol Sue Brown) left for a northern honeymoon after recent vows and reception in the Deerfield Church of Christ, Lapeer.

SISTERS

Margaret Brown and Mrs. Judith Smith attended their sister as bridesmaids along with Linda Rossman and Sally Borman. Laura Borman was honor maid.

★ ★ ★

Robin, Smith and Jerry Rossman were flower girl and ring-bearer, respectively.

David Montgomery was best man. Ushers included Edwin Walker and David Sanderson, the bridegroom's cousins, also Charles and Patrick Montgomery.

★ ★ ★

Pvt. Rossman will return to Fort Knox, Ky. pending foreign service. His bride expects to join him in Europe this summer.

Try Paper Towel

DEAR POLLY — I suppose it is the bleach in cleansing powder that played havoc with the sponge I used to scrub my sink. Now I simply use a damp paper towel to scrub up, and throw it away when the job is done.

Now I have a shining sink, longer life for my sponges and no messy cloths or mops hanging around.

Another Pointer concerns savings stamps. Who likes to lick them but who can bear to throw them away? I save three kinds until I have quite a collection and some spare time. Then I spread them, a double-page at a time, upside down on my ironing board and use my spray to dampen them.

A little practice will show you how many squirts you need. Thanks so much, Polly, for all the ideas your correspondents have given me, I hope I have helped someone else with a couple of sticky jobs.—MARY

MARY — I am sure you have helped someone else. You are all so gracious about sharing with each other. I am sure we all feel we have made many friends through sharing our common problems.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — My Pointer is for those who keep picture albums. On the first page I put a tab marked "My Family" and another section goes to "Sisters and Brothers" and one to "Nieces and Nephews" and so on.

I have tabs that mark pictures taken on certain trips, of particular places and friends. When looking for a certain snapshot I know just where to find it.—MRS. L. R.

DEAR POLLY — A friend of mine told me that she once read about "Dancing Moth Balls." It was the combination of some solution and moth balls that made them bounce up and down. Hope someone can tell me what this is.—MRS. R. A.

DEAR POLLY — When you need a shoehorn and none is available, try using that little celluloid calendar you probably carry in your purse. They come in mighty handy when traveling.—BLANCHE

DEAR POLLY—The ties that held the loose cushion pads on my maple dining chairs were always pulling off. To prevent this I attached a one-inch piece of elastic to the pad for a loop and then slipped the tie strings through this elastic and tied them around the chair.

When the pads move about as someone sits on them, the ties do not break away. I may not win a Polly Dollar but I have saved a dollar's worth of work.—MRS. C. O.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a dollar if Polly uses your idea in Polly's Pointers.

LINCOLN, Ill. (AP) — Salvation Army Capt. Herbert Caldwell notes in his annual activities report that "transient styles" apparently are changing. Of the 211 transients who were aided in a year's time, 22 were women. "This is something new," the captain noted.

Mrs. Jack Brophy of St. Clair Shores has invented a new type of thimble. Made of plastic, it will fit any size finger and has a special cut-out design for the longest fingernails to fit outside. At the bottom, Brophy thimble at left with metal and plastic regular thimbles.

S-T-R-E-T-C-H Thimble Is Sew Comfortable

ST. CLAIR SHORES (AP) — What stretch pants were to ski wear and stretch socks to men's hosiery, Mrs. Jack M. Brophy's plastic thimble that stretches to any size and still protects the finger.

The thimble is of plastic and has a cut-out to accommodate fashionably long fingernails.

Mrs. Brophy is the wife of a U.S. Rubber Co. employe who makes most of her own and her three teen-aged daughters' clothing.

A long-time seamstress she says she got the idea for the thimble in 1959.

"I was . . . fixing over a lot of dresses for a friend who was going on a vacation," she recalled.

"I had some kind of an infection in the finger on which I wear a thimble. The thimble, all closed, made the finger hot and sweaty and uncomfortable.

"I was sewing away, my finger was hurting and the idea struck: if this thimble would only expand so there wouldn't be pressure on my aching finger."

* * *

Mrs. Brophy, who used to work as a dental assistant, made an impression of a regular thimble — chiseling out one side and making a tiny cut to permit expansion — fashioned it in dental wax and had a mold cast.

A local plastics firm is tooling up to produce masses of thimbles.

Estimating Cost of Supporting Mother

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

MARY FEELEY

Dear Mary Feeley: In order to apply for a scholarship for one of our children, I must give information on what it costs to have my mother living with us. Should I figure the cost per person — by dividing the cost of maintaining and operating the home by the number of people living in it?

There are five children at home, one now in college, my husband, mother, and myself. Mother is 80, and buys most of the drugs and clothes which she doesn't receive as gifts.

Our total income is about $10,500 a year. We have some savings that have been left to us—but spend all we make on food and clothing.

Can you advise me?

Mrs. R. A., Oradell, N.J.

Dear Mrs. A.: It's practically impossible for you to estimate exactly what you spend on your mother's support — unless you keep a fantastically detailed record. And you aren't really held to such exact information when you're filling out a scholarship form. They just want you to be as near the mark as you can.

Here's a weekly estimate of what an elderly woman's expenses might be in a family of your size — considering that she pays for clothing and drugs:

Share of rent and heat—$4.35
Food—$7.75
Share of utilities, including electricity—75 cents
Personal care items—75 cents
Share of recreation and reading items — $1
Share of transportation — 85 cents.

This makes a total of $15.45—or $803.40 a year.

For the benefit of other readers who are supporting an elderly relative or member of the family in the home, let me point out that the cost of living for any one individual is always less when the family is large.

For instance, with only four in the family, the list of expenses would rise to about $898 a year.

Dear Miss Feeley: My son, a junior in college, has been offered a part-time job. How much can he earn without affecting the Social Security benefits he is now getting? His father died three years ago, and we have been receiving Social Security benefits under the new law.

Mrs. G. G., Portland, Oregon

Dear Mrs. G.: A full - time college student can earn $1500, over and above any benefits he gets through Social Security—up until age 22.

Dear Mary Feeley: I have a few thousand dollars in E bonds which I would like to convert to H bonds.

By bank tells me I have to cash the E bonds and pay tax on the interest in order to convert. Is there any way I can just make the transfer without paying a tax now?

F. W., Bronx, N.Y.

Dear F. W.: You won't have to cash the E bonds — and you won't have to pay a tax right now because this would not be a cash transaction. It's merely a conversion.

Of course you will have to report the interest earned by the H bonds, since you will receive it semi-annually in the form of a check.

Fails to Foil Traffic Cop

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — An attractive 28-year-old woman here was stopped by Patrolman C. A. Daniels charged with driving 37 miles an hour in a 20-mile zone.

When she saw him begin to write out a ticket, she began to scream and to tear her hair. When he continued writing, she fainted. Daniels called firemen, who soon revived the woman and sent her on her way—with a ticket for speeding.

Diapers See Big Changes

* * *

Recent innovations make diapers more comfortable, easier to handle and faster to launder and dry, says Elizabeth K. Easton, extension clothing specialist at South Dakota State College.

No longer are they just cotton squares, but stretch fabrics and pre-folded diapers give baby more freedom with less bulk.

Plastic edge finishes eliminate hems which take longer to dry after laundering. Some of the three-cornered pants are lined with arnel triacetate or polypropylene mesh to prevent skin irritation.

* * *

Teacher Is Beauty Queen

"Wow!"

Danny is one of 23 fourth-graders at Roosevelt Elementary School who five days a week attend class taught by Miss Judy Piorkowski, 22, a green-eyed blonde named Miss Photoflash of 1966 by the Chicago Press Photographers Association.

The pupils all indicated agreement with the photographers' choice when Miss Piorkowski walked into her classroom Monday.

GETS MESSAGE

"Our teacher is beautiful," read a message on the blackboard. It was the work of Cindy Haiz, 9, who had come to school early so she could "do something nice" for her teacher.

A lacy pink valentine from Daphne Morton, 9, read: "To Miss Photoflash. You are are luky (sic) and pretty."

★ ★ ★

Other homemade red hearts proclaimed simply: "I love you."

Mark Zillhart, 9, told a reporter: "She's the prettiest teacher I ever had. She's nice, too. She's always strict but she's nice when she's strict, sort of."

ALL WAY ROUND

All the way around, Miss Piorkowski is 36-24-36, 5-feet-6 and 125 pounds.

A graduate of Marquette University, she began teaching in September and hopes to earn her masters degree in specialized education.

"I intend to make teaching my career — it is rewarding work," she said.

Firm Plans Filmdom's Parties

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Nowadays when film stars want to toss a hoedown or a full-dress ball they are likely to call a unique organization called Party Planners.

One call is all that is needed. Voila! Instant party.

THOMAS

"We handle everything," explains Chief Party Planner Stanley J. Weiler, "from the time the invitations go out to when the last hors d' oeuvre goes down the disposal unit."

Weiler has been in business less than a year, but already the Hollywood social scene has improved. Among his notable productions: a swinging beach party for 300 guests given by Jane Fonda, with the Byrds providing a rocking tempo; a political party for Steve Allen tossed by Marlon Brando at his hilltop pad, entertainment by ethnic dancers from UCLA; an engagement party for Carolyn Jones and Budd Moss, given in the Addams Family manner on Halloween.

★ ★ ★

Weiler calls himself an escapee from the big business rat-race. He spent a dozen years in New York and Chicago producing and promoting beauty products. Overpressured by the big sell, he came home one night and sighed to his wife: "I'm too young to die."

LESS FRANTIC

She encouraged him to seek a less frantic way of life, and his inclination led him to Los Angeles, where he had always wanted to live. He worked for a friend's sign company, then recalled a Chicago concern called Weddings, Inc., which handles all the details for people getting married.

★ ★ ★

Weiler flew to Chicago to learn how the enterprise operated, then returned to set up his own wedding firm. But the thought occurred to him: "For every wedding there must be 10 parties." That was the inception of Party Planners.

★ ★ ★

Weiler acquired a select mailing list. The day after the mailing, he received inquiries from Jane Fonda and race horse owner Elizabeth Falk. Party Planners was in business.

The enterprise operates with a permanent staff of only three: Weiler and two women associates. They subcontract the details to caterers, tentmakers, decorators and entertainers, who pay 10 to 15 per cent of their fees to Party Planners.

LARGEST PARTY

The largest party has been an elegant bash by Mr. and Mrs. Del Webb for which Weiler created a tented Versailles. Smallest affairs have been intimate dinner parties for Inger Stevens and Juliet Prowse.

Does Weiler have any hints for giving a successful party?

★ ★ ★

"The most important element of any party is the guest list," he said. "If you get stimulating people who can talk about a variety of subjects, you'll have a good party. The trouble with most Hollywood parties is that the guests can talk about only two things: the movie business and themselves."

Court Summons Mayor of Dearborn Heights

DEARBORN HEIGHTS (UPI)— Dearborn Heights Mayor John Canfield yesterday was served with a summons to appear in Taylor Justice Court next Monday on charges of distributing pro-annexation pamphlets there last week.

Canfield said he would ask for a temporary injunction to halt any further progress on the citation pending a court fight on the constitutionality of the ordinance.

Market Scrambled Over-All

Aerospace Issues, Rails Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — Aerospace issues and rails were the strong features in a mixed stock market early this afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Rails resumed their climb to record highs on average, based on higher earnings, merger prospects and expectations of increased shipping to the West Coast because of the need for military and civilian supplies across the Pacific.

The over-all market was a scrambled affair.

STEELS SPOTTY

Steels held unchanged for most of the morning and then began to show slight losses here and there.

Most of the leading autos were fractional losers.

★ ★ ★

Prices advanced in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange. Solitron Devices gained 5, Syntex 3, Paterson Parchment Paper, Baker Industries and Computer Sciences more than 2 each.

Acquittal Stirs Court Ruckus

5th Trial for Man in 1960 Detroit Slaying

DETROIT (AP) — The only man to stand trial in Recorder's Criminal Court five times for the same offense was acquitted yesterday of second-degree murder in a verdict which set off a courtroom ruckus.

George Darryl Flatter was charged with the 1960 slaying of Mrs. Elizabeth Moughler of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

ARRESTED IN 1960

Flatter, 26, was arrested in 1960 and was convicted of first-degree murder.

The verdict was set aside when Judge Elvin L. Davenport, who presided at all five trials, learned two jurors obtained information not brought out in testimony.

The second trial ended in a hung jury, and Flatter was sentenced to 35-45 years imprisonment after the third trial.

That conviction was set aside when Davenport determined Flatter had been denied his right to counsel.

Successful $ Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q: "My 65th birthday is creeping up on me. I have no dependents and earn $7,500 a year. On retirement, I will have Social Security and $140 a month from annuities. I have $3,000 savings and own American Telephone; National Distillers and One William Street. Would you advise switching these? As an expensive reminder of the 20s I have a certificate for seven shares of U.S. Electric Power. Although it is said to be worthless, is there any hope or should I throw it out?' J.S.

A. I believe there is no hope whatsoever for U.S. Electric Power, but I wouldn't throw the certificate out. Take it out and look at it whenever you are again tempted to speculate.

You hold three good stocks, offering a reasonable yield, and I would retain them until retirement. At that time, you might wish to switch, for substantially higher income, into Libby-Owens-Ford Glass; Maytag; Puerto Rican Cement. I believe these stocks are secure as to dividends and they would give you an average yield very close to five per cent.

Q. "When I buy stock through a member firm, how long should it take for shares to be delivered to me? When I sell shares and deliver them immediately, how long should it be before I receive my money? W. R.

A. Because of reasons beyond your broker's control it is frequently impossible to live up to the Big Board's delivery rules. After your broker has received delivery of stock you purchased, he must turn it over to the transfer agent — to have it placed in your name. With today's heavy volume, transfer agents are overworked and the delay here makes any general rule on delivery meaningless.

I advise you to be patient. You may get your stock in a week, but two to three weeks is far more likely. When you sell stock, the rule is clear. You will be paid on the fourth business day following the transaction.

Veep Arrives in Pakistan

Vows Continuation of Viet Peace Bid

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — U.S. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived in Pakistan today with a promise that the United States will push its so-far-unsuccessful offensive to bring peace through negotiation to Viet Nam.

Humphrey flew 2,300 miles from Bangkok to Karachi after pledging bigger U.S. military aid to Thailand's leaders to cope with increasing Communist infiltration.

At Karachi airport, Humphrey told an audience: "My government has been, and continues to be, engaged in a most searching and intensive effort to bring about an honorable peace in Southeast Asia."

He hailed the Tashkent agreement last month in which Pakistani President Ayub Khan and the late Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India took a conciliatory approach to Kashmir and other long-standing Indian-Pakistani differences.

'HISTORIC DECLARATION'

'Your government has signed an historic declaration," Humphrey said. "It is an act that holds the promise not only of repairing the ravages of war but also of ushering in a new era in the relations of two great countries in Asia."

Humphrey's 22-hour visit may result in resumption of economic and possibly military aid which the U.S. government cut off last September when Pakistan and India went to war over Kashmir.

As the vice president's car emerged from the airport, about 100 young men unfurled anti-American banners and shouted "Humphrey go back!" Police rounded them up and took them away.

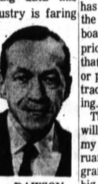
To Mark Five Years of Boom

February Data Eventful

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—The government is busily gathering data this week on how industry is faring in the middle of February and this time the task isn't as dull as you might think.



DAWSON

The findings to be released in about a month will mark an anniversary — and maybe give a clue to what's ahead for both industry and your job.

★ ★ ★

The many statistics that government agencies are collecting and sorting just now will show how business was faring at the end of five years of almost uninterrupted expansion. It was the data gathered in February 1961 that have since proved to have marked the low point of the last recession and the start of the long upswing that has set a record for peacetime.

The pulse-taking this February also may give some clues as to whether the peacetime prosperity is taking on the first tinges of a wartime boom — minor as the Viet Nam war still is in comparison with its predecessors.

HAS BEEN EVIDENT

But the wartime psychology has been evident among some of the traders in stockbrokers' board rooms. Wide swings in the prices of stocks of industries that would be affected by war or peace have shown how many traders are thinking — or guessing.

That the government agencies will find most of the U.S. economy still on the upswing in February is pretty much taken for granted. The momentum of the big spurt in the final weeks of 1965 has carried over into the first weeks of 1966.

And almost daily leaders of one industry after another are issuing predictions that 1966 now looks better even than it did a few months back.

Steel executives are revising upward their guesses on how much their mills will be called upon to produce to keep the business expansion going and to meet the rising demand for consumer durables.

ANOTHER RECORD?

Auto makers also are saying now that sales this year might top last year's record mark of 9.3 million cars, including imports.

February often is a slow month, a low point in production and sales. Government statisticians will take that into account in releasing the figures now being gathered. This is known as making a seasonal adjustment. Allowance is made for the historic trend in each industry in each month, whether it be usually a time for boom or, like February, usually a time for decline.

★ ★ ★

But that U.S. industry will look healthier this February than last is as sure now as anything can be before the figures are taken, adjusted and released. That it will be better than any February in the last five years also is expected.

The questions to be answered: How much better? And is it just enough better as to suggest that the business growth is continuing at a healthy pace? Or will maladjustments be found?

The real test for the economy's health probably will come with the spring months, when consumers will or won't be turning their present intentions into actual purchases.

But the February bench mark will be important — both as marking the fifth year from the low point of recession and as indicating how strong is the upward trend as the sixth year of upswing starts.

Of the many letters, calls and comments made on the sports-center-arena mentioned in this column several times, one of the readers not only writes in favor of the idea but presents his own outline as to its construction, its physical layout and the financing of it.

"Your column struck a nerve with respect to the sports-center-arena. I have listened and read with interest the plans and ideas of prominent citizens for more than 20 years, but alas too many are dreamers instead of doers.

"The do-gooders have been undoubtedly sincere but failed due to poor organization.

"Obviously, those who would criticize any one in their attempt to bring about a complex as you have suggested had better be prepared with some ideas of his own."

"I not only can get your idea into fruition but enlarge on it," he proceeds to say, "and whether the project is financed privately or publicly I know I can get the job done."

This is the financial breakdown offered by Graves:

Land acquisition	$ 175,000
Project development	5,000,000
Equipment	500,000
Preliminary Plans	82,500
Final Plans	165,000
Supervise construction	82,500
Other costs (including operating for 3 years)	254,000
Total	$6,259,000
Federal Grant	3,000,000
Raised by 3% of 30-year bond issue	$3,259,000

What will Graves' plan buy?

A. An auditorium seating 2,500 with stage, elevated orchestra pits and stereophonic sound system for concerts, opera, lectures, meetings, stage plays, etc.

B. An arena seating from 6,000 to 8,000 depending on the event; 6,000 for hockey, 7,000 for basketball and ice shows; 8,000 for conventions, boxing, wrestling, etc.

C. Seven meeting rooms, each soundproofed to accommodate from 50 to 300 persons.

D. Exhibition Hall for trade shows, commercial displays, and various shows.

All of the areas listed, according to Graves, would have food catering service available; would be so separated to allow simultaneous activities and in conclusion he says:

1. The center would be an attraction for all of Oakland County.
2. It would attract 3-4½ millions in new revenue to the city.
3. It would encourage business to re-enter downtown.
4. It would provide an influx of visitors in the thousands to conventions and activities and according to figures each spends $35 a day.
5. Pontiac industry would gain the tremendous exposure to its products.

"Now Mr. Kearns," Graves says in closing, "when are you ready to start doing something instead of dreaming."

★ ★ ★

Well, Mr. Graves, it certainly doesn't cost anything to dream, but even if it did I would venture to say there are thousands with me in dreamer's row who would pay to make these dreams become a reality.

Central Gunning for City Cage Supremacy

Chiefs Meeting Northern Quint for 18th Time

PCH Leading Series 15-2; Huskies Play Role of Host

Pontiac Central takes a brief time out from the hot Saginaw Valley Conference basketball race tomorrow night to make a strong bid for the city public school championship.

Northern will be the host school. And the Huskies will be trying to avenge an earlier, 82-57 setback that gave PCH a 15-2 lead in the city series.

Past performance indicates that the Chiefs should win their 11th game without too much difficulty.

While admitting that the Huskies (4-9) will be definite underdogs, PNH coach Dick Hall is not about to concede.

"If our sophomores and juniors put their minds to it, and the ball starts falling through the basket, we could give Central plenty of trouble," said Hall.

CHIEFS CAUTIOUS

Hall, however, may elect to do some more switching. The exact starting lineup probably won't be known until game time. The junior varsity contest will get under way at 6:30.

PCH coach Fred Zittel, a constant worrier, talks cautiously about the upcoming game.

"This game is extremely important to us, regardless of Northern's record this season. We can't afford to look past it to the game at Midland on Friday."

The Chiefs are tied with Saginaw for first place in the SVC and must win their last two league games to hold the lofty position.

PCH has lost only twice, by a total of three points, and only against Flint Southwestern were the Chiefs not up to par. They lost, 56-54.

Zittle has nothing but praise for his players after they dropped a 60-59 decision to Bay City Central last week. "It was one of our best games, otherwise we would not have led up to the final buzzer."

★ ★ ★

PCH's starters probably will be Jesse Evans and Ross Ludwick at forwards, Larry Platt at center, and Jim McClendon and Eddie Pruitt at guards. Willie Craft and Prentice Hill are the top reserves.

Zittel indicated that Alton Wilson and Julius Stevens will be advanced from the junior varsity this week.

"I don't know whether they will be with the varsity for the Northern game," he said, "but they will be with us at Midland."

If PNH is to stop the Chiefs, the Huskies will have to show a major improvement in rebounding. This has been one of the weak points all season. A poor shooting average has been another problem.

There is a chance that the Huskies and Chiefs will play one more time. They are in the same district tournament which will be played at PNH. Waterford and Kettering are in the same tourney.

Cold Shoulder for Duke Five

By the Associated Press

The Gamecocks, who had stunned second-ranked Duke last December, tried a freeze at Durham, N.C., that must have had Dan Cupid shivering Monday night but the Blue Devils hung on for a 41-38 Atlantic Coast Conference victory.

Duke, with high scorer Bob Verga sitting out his second straight game for disciplinary reasons, shot into a 29-20 lead with a minute gone in the second half when South Carolina put on the stall.

The Gamecocks' slowdown and some erratic shooting by Duke narrowed the lead to 34-31 with 4½ minutes to play. But Steve Vacendak hit two long jumpers and Jack Marin sank three free throws that kept the Blue Devils on top.

ONE CHANCE

South Carolina's slowdown looked like a fast break compared to the iceberg Midwestern and LeTourneau Tech, two small Texas schools, exchanged.

Midwestern scored the first two baskets of the game and it was 4-2 when LeTourneau, which had lost 82-56 the first time the two teams met, went into a stall with 16:50 left in the first half. Midwestern led 7-6 at the half.

The teams each managed one basket in the second half with the first points coming after 13½ minutes of stalling. The final score was Midwestern 9, LeTourneau 8 and the best news came after the final gun.

NO MORE

The two schools decided they won't play each other anymore.

The nation's top six teams in The Associated Press poll all played and won with Duke and third-ranked Texas Western getting the closest calls. The Miners edged Arizona State 69-67 despite 30 points by the losers' Freddie Lewis.

Top-ranked Kentucky won its 20th, walloping Alabama 90-67. Vanderbilt, No. 5, wiped out a 12-point deficit and defeated Auburn 91-76. Sixth-rated Providence got 31 points from Jimmy Walker and downed DePaul 61-57.

Vacendack and Marin were Duke's high scorers with 15 and 11 points. Skip Harlica, South Carolina's only man in double figures, scored 18.

Texas Western had its fourth straight close call. The Miners had beaten Arizona and New Mexico in overtime and edged Colorado State by two points in the last second, before nipping Arizona State at El Paso. David Lattin led the Miners, 19-0, with 19 points.

PCH PIVOTMEN — Sharing the center position for Pontiac Central when the Chiefs move onto the floor against Pontiac Northern tomorrow night will be Larry Platt (top) and Willie Craft (bottom). Both have turned in a strong performance in the rebounding department for the Chiefs.

Formula Is Worked Out to Stock Atlanta Team

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — The new Atlanta Falcons were to find out today which players on the other 14 National Football League NFL teams will be theirs for the asking.

The Falcons, who make their debut this coming season, will get to choose a total of 42 veterans through a formula worked out during a lengthy NFL session Monday.

The rather complicated formula allows each of the 14 teams to freeze 29 of 40 players while the Falcons pick one of the remaining 11; then take back two more before the Falcons get to pick two from the remaining eight.

The formula was far more generous than Falcons' owner Rankin Smith or Coach Norb Hecker had expected.

They had feared that the league might set the freeze level at 32 or even higher, leaving Atlanta few players to choose from.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said the Atlanta formula was more generous than that given either the Dallas Cowboys or the Minnesota Vikings when they entered the league, considering the Falcons' success in the college draft.

Rozelle pointed out that although the other teams froze only 25 of 36 players for Dallas, the Cowboys did not take part in the draft in 1960. The Vikings did take part in the draft, but when it came time to select veterans, the NFL froze 30 of 38.

Earlier in the day, the league signed a two-year contract with CBS television for $2 million a game for broadcast rights to the NFL championship game.

Gophers Start Bid for Title; Indiana Wins

By The Associated Press

Minnesota's Gophers put their Big Ten title hopes on the line at Iowa tonight.

The Gophers, currently in third place with a 5-2 record, will have to do what no other Big Ten team has been able to accomplish this season, defeating the Hawkeyes on their home floor.

★ ★ ★

Iowa (3-4) on the other hand has been unable to win on the road and thereby has been eliminated from title consideration.

If successful at Iowa, the Gophers would climb into a second-place tie with Michigan State, one game behind league-leading Michigan.

Indiana hit 50 per cent of its second-half shots and went on to an 81-61 victory over Ohio State Monday night. The victory lifted the Hoosiers into a sixth place tie with Northwestern and Ohio State.

Career as Player Ends for Guerin

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Irishman Richie Guerin, whose temper rivals that of Boston Celtics' Coach Red Auerbach, said today all he needs is a Bob Pettit or Rick Barry to make life easy as coach of the St. Louis Hawks next season.

The 33-year-old Guerin announced his retirement Monday night as a player in order to concentrate as a Hawks' coach. Guerin said he will finish out the season padding his point scoring which now totals 13,125.

'Patsy Procedure' Charged

Wisconsin Lawyers Take Issue

Circuit Judge Elmer Roller refused Monday night to delay the Feb. 28 starting date for the trial. Baseball lawyers wanted a postponement to July 1.

Wisconsin lawyers predicted the trial could result in a clash between two court orders: one directing the Braves to play in Atlanta next season and one, if the state wins, ordering the Braves to play in Milwaukee.

Willard Stafford, special counsel for Wisconsin in the antitrust suit against the Braves and the National League, said that depending on the trial verdict "there may or may not be a conflict with this patsy proceeding in Georgia."

He referred to the injunction issued last week by Judge Sam Phillips McKenzie in Fulton County Superior Court directing the Braves to meet the terms of their 25-year-contract with the Atlanta Stadium Authority.

★ ★ ★

Stafford disputed the Georgia court's indication that an escape clause in the Braves' Atlanta contract did not mean the team could be released to return to Milwaukee on court order.

★ ★ ★

He charged that particular contract interpretation was "conjured up in a little love match in Georgia."

The contract clause in dispute reads:

"Neither the Authority (the Atlanta Stadium management) nor the club shall be obligated to perform any term or condition of this agreement on its part to be performed, to the extent such performance is prevented: . . .(C) by any decree, judgment, law, regulation or order of any public authority, regulating or restricting the club in conducting baseball operations."

REACHES MILESTONE — Wilt Chamberlain (13) watches as the ball drops through on this history-making free throw which came at 1:32 left in Philadelphia's 149-123 win over Detroit last night in Charleston, W.Va. The point gave Wilt 20,881 and he went on to collect three more for an all-time NBA total of 20,884, four more than the record held by now retired Bob Pettit of St. Louis.

Ace Half-Miler Victim of Video

NEW YORK (UPI) — The world indoor record-holder for the half mile also is the world champion television fan.

Or, rather, he was until a week ago.

That was when Tommy Farrell of St. John's University had the props literally knocked right out from under him while innocently sitting and watching TV at his girl friend's house.

Now television has been blamed for many things, including killing the minors, but this is the first time on record it has ever been responsible for actually putting an athlete out of commission.

It seems Farrell was sitting on the floor at the time of his freak accident and he folded his legs in tailor fashion.

That was his first mistake; remaining in that position for half an hour was his second one.

When he tried to get up, he experienced a sudden spasm in the back of his leg. He says he "never felt anything like it in my life before."

THOUGHT LITTLE MORE

The 21-year-old Farrell, owner of the world indoor record of 1:49.8 in the 880, thought little more about what had happened to him until last Friday's USTFF Invitational in which he was scheduled to run the 600.

He thought so little of his TV episode, in fact, he didn't even bother to tell St. John's head trainer, Jack Gimmler, about it.

No one ever would have guessed anything was wrong before last Friday.

Farrell took his usual warm-up and did his customary stretching exercises. And then it came time for the race.

Trying to get out front early, Farrell sprinted toward the first turn in an effort to beat the rest of the field and suddenly pulled up as the others dashed by him.

Up in the Madison Square Garden press box, there was a great deal of head-scratching when it was merely announced — Farrell had said he suffered a charley-horse watching television.

What?

That was all Farrell said, it was explained. Nothing more, nothing less.

But his St. John's teammates wouldn't let him get off that easily.

Cage Clinic Set April 22

Adolph Rupp, the dean of the college coaching ranks, will head the staff of the Mid America Coaches Clinic to be held in Detroit on April 22-23, at the Statler Hilton Hotel.

The Detroit clinic will include other prominent college coaches.

One of the coaches, John Benington, Michigan State, joined with Ed Macauley, former N. B. A. great and Bob Murrey, St. Louis high school coach, to hold the first Mid America Coaches Clinics last spring.

In St. Louis on April 22-23, John Wooden of U.C.L.A. will head the staff.

Each clinic will feature two days of discussion with nine lectures on the program.

Those wishing further information may write to John Benington, Basketball Coach, Michigan State University.

Cranbrook Six Loses; Now in Third Place

Cranbrook's hockey team suffered a 6-1 setback at the hands of Lakeview yesterday and wound up in third place in the second division of the International (Prep) Hockey League.

★ ★ ★

Eye Repair for Wing Scheduled

DETROIT (UPI) — Defenseman Doug Barkley, out since Jan. 30 with an eye injury suffered in a game against Chicago, will undergo another operation to correct a detached retina, the Detroit Red Wings said Monday.

Barkley has been hospitalized since suffering the injury and may miss the rest of the season. He was accidentally slashed with a hockey stick by Doug Mohns of the Black Hawks.

★ ★ ★

The Red Wings also announced they were recalling veteran left wing Ab McDonald from their Memphis, Tenn. farm club where he was sent Feb. 1 to play himself back into condition after missing several games because of a strained thigh muscle.

Wilt Grabs Point Record as 76ers Bomb Pistons

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — This was the big one Wilt Chamberlain wanted most. And now he's got it — all-time leading scorer in the National Basketball Association.

"Sure, this has to be the big one for me and it is," the 7-foot-1 Philadelphia 76ers ace said Monday night after collecting 41 points to break the career mark set by the now-retired Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks.

Wilt's scoring splurge powered the 76ers past the Detroit Pistons 149-123 and spiraled Chamberlain's seven-year NBA total to 20,884, four over Pettit's standard.

In the only other game played, Dick Barnett scored 32 points in sparking the New York Knicks to a 138-125 victory over the San Francisco Warriors.

Before some 5,000 fans in the Charleston Civic Center he played the role of playmaker in the first half and tallied only 10 points as Philadelphia ran up a 70-51 margin.

"That was the way it was supposed to be," Wilt said. "We looked real bad in our last two games and we wanted to shake the offense loose. This was the best way to do it but it meant I wasn't going to do much scoring.

"Oh, sure! I went after the record when we were 'way out front in the last quarter and the guys started to move the ball to me," Wilt said.

He went into the last 12 minutes with 22 points and then they started to come furiously. He dropped in six field goals and a free throw and the crowd started to chant, "give it to Wilt."

STUFF SHOT

A stuff shot with 2:46 remaining gave him 37 points to tie Pettit's record and a free throw with one minute and 32 seconds left gave him the record.

When Wilt grabbed his fourth rebound early in the game, he swept past Pettit into tht No. 2 spot behind Boston's Bill Russell in career rebounding.

Cager's 50 Points Spurs State Quintet

MARQUETTE (AP) — Gene Summers dropped in 50 points Monday night to set a Northern Michigan University basketball scoring record and lead the Wildcats to a 135-61 nonconference romp over Michigan Tech.

Summers' tally broke the old mark of 47, set in 1961. Northern's 135 points tied the school scoring record.

Northern took a 72-30 lead into the second half and Tech was never close. Frank Sahlman led the Huskies with 15 points.

Wysong's Rally Brings Victory in Phoenix Golf

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — On Monday morning Dudley Wysong's official 1966 professional golf earnings totaled zero. He still was looking for his first pro victory and he was wondering how he'd ever get into the field for the $200,000 Carling Open.

Today he's $9,000 richer, has joined the winner's fraternity and is assured of a trip to England for the big-money Carling event Aug. 27-Sept. 3.

* * *

Wysong, a determined 26-year-old from Casper, Wyo., stormed from six strokes off the pace with a five-under'par 66 Monday to catch veteran Gardner Dickinson Jr. and win the $60,000 Phoenix Open. The victory qualified him for the Carling.

Dickinson, a gutty 130-pounder from Lost Tree Village, Fla., led for the first three rounds, but finally succumbed to an ailing back and Wysong's furious charge.

It's no secret. We make more cigars of one brand than anyone and spend only a fraction for advertising. Still, sometimes we wish we could spend more advertising this fine cigar value. But, we'd have to raise our price or cut our quality. Then, we might not sell as many. What do you think?

Rouge Grabs Lead in 'B' Poll Shakeup

By The Associated Press

A new leader in Class B and major shakeups in Classes A and D marked the sixth week of the Michigan high school prep basketball poll conducted by The Associated Press.

* * *

The AP's statewide panel of sports writers and sportscasters retained East Detroit as the leader in A, Frankenmuth (tied last week with Muskegon Christian) in C and Covert in D.

Detroit Northwestern kept its runner-up spot behind East Detroit but the rest of the standings were jumbled.

MOVES UP

Kalamazoo Central advanced three places to take over third place, Detroit Austin moved into fourth and is followed by Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills, Birmingham Groves, Pontiac Central and Battle Creek Central.

* * *

Muskegon Heights and Jackson Parkside moved in to grab the last two spots, replacing Detroit Pershing and Saginaw.

Grand Rapids South Christian trails River Rouge by two poll points in Class B, while South Haven holds third.

* * *

Allegan, out for a week, moved back into the elite group by grabbing eighth place, and Portland made its first appearance by taking 10th. Royal Oak Shrine and Saginaw Arthur Hill Tech dropped out.

New Leaders in Keg Action

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—New leaders were posted Monday for the 25th annual Michigan Knights of Columbus Bowling Tournament in all categories except singles after the fourth weekend of competition at Grand Rapids.

Miller Sheet Metal of Center Line rolled to the team lead in the handicap scoring event with a total of 3128. N. Klebba and J. Gollob of Detroit took over first place in doubles with 1362.

BOWLING

Calbi Music and Tri-County Vending took advantage of a bad night for Robertson Builders, while the first-half North Hill Lanes Classic League leader also showed signs of life last week.

* * *

Calbi took three points from the builders, dropping them to third place. Tri-County also won three and assumed the lead, one point in front of the musicmen.

Meanwhile, West Side Lanes shook off its second-half slump to sweep four points led by Rick McCotter's 245-233-226—704. It was the best night recently for the first-half pace-setters.

McCotter now is averaging 197 after his third 700. He is the third highest scorer on the youthful West Side squad whose low man, Dave Johnson, is hitting at a 196 clip.

The women also scored well last week at three fronts. Tops for the distaff bowlers was Lorraine Cloutier who produced a 243—603 combine in the Howe's Lanes' Clarkston Women's League.

Doris Boucard rolled 245—592 for her greenhouse team in the Airway Lanes First League; and Ruth Brege hit 240 at Sylvan Lanes for the house team in the Lakeland Ladies League.

CHEVY PICKUPS RIDE SMOOTHLY

...A BIG REASON WHY THEY'RE LIKED BEST!

Smooth ride is one big reason why Chevy is America's most popular pickup. You get true independent front suspension; front wheels that step lightly over bumps. And most models provide big coil springs at all four wheels to soak up the jolts. You get a ride that's ideal for camper duty as well as work . . . a tough suspension proved over the past 5 years on rugged jobs. Try a smooth-riding 1966 pickup at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Junior Editors Quiz on— AMISH PEOPLE

ANSWER: In 1593 a group of Swiss, calling themselves Swiss Brethren, broke away from the established church and started a separate religious movement, which now includes the Mennonites and the Amish, named for the Swiss leader, Jacob Ammann.

Many of these people, unhappy in the Old World, migrated to America, where they found freedom to worship God in their own way.

William Penn, founder of Pennsylvania, was particularly hospitable to them, so many settled in parts of Pennsylvania, becoming known as exceedingly fine farmers and sober, useful citizens.

The Amish and other similar groups, often collectively called the Plain People, try to carry out the teachings of the New Testament according to their own interpretation.

They refuse to take oaths or become soldiers.

They regard changes in fashion as being vain and worldly, inconsistent with Christianity, for this reason have adopted simple and old-fashioned dress.

Even the use of cars seems worldly to many of them, and they prefer the horse and buggy.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: The Amish and other Plain People are very careful and intelligent farmers and are careful to put back into the land the richness their crops have taken out of it. Look up an article on conservation to understand the importance of this to all of us, no matter what our religion.

Lake Levels Are Up; Clear Sailing Ahead

★ ★ ★

All the lakes are up—from a couple of inches to a couple of feet—compared with a year ago, and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' Lake Survey expects them to keep right on rising into July.

OTHERS UP

Michigan and Huron, rebounding from 1964 and 1965 all-time lows, already are up one foot, five inches over mid-February of 1965 and are expected to add almost another two feet by the end of July.

The forecast is that Erie and Ontario will add within fractions of another foot. Erie already is 10 inches and Ontario an even two feet ahead of a year ago.

Superior, on which compensating gates were opened last fall to feed lower lakes, is two inches ahead of a year ago and the forecast is for another half-foot gain there.

The big upsurge is due to heavy precipitation in the fall of 1965, which brought that year's average for the Great Lakes Basin up to 36.89 inches, compared with only 24.92 in 1963, 29.56 in 1964, and a long-term average of 31.02 inches annually.

TAKES TIME

Runoff from thaw or rain takes a considerable time to show in the big lakes. Superior, for instance, is approximately 400 miles long, 50 miles wide and 222 feet deep.

But new precipitation may show a bit quicker this year than in recent below-normal ones.

Smaller inland lakes, whose levels sagged with those of the Great Lakes, now are higher. So are streams which feed the Great Lakes, and the ground water table generally is up.

Lake St. Clair, a major connecting link between Huron and Erie, is one foot, seven inches up from mid-February 1965 and is expected to gain almost this much more by midyear.

FEEDING LAKES

The St. Clair River feeds into Lake St. Clair and the Detroit River flows from it.

July levels are expected to be above average for the last 10 years on all the lakes, and even above the 1860-1965 average on Lake Superior. The Ontario level is expected virtually to be even with the all-time average by next Aug. 1.

★ ★ ★

All currently are above so-called low water datum, an arbitrary line established for each and from which channel depths are measured. Datum lines range from 600.0 feet above sea level on Superior to 242.8 feet on Ontario, measured from sea level at Father Point, Quebec.

Prison Guard Knew Right Way to Sway

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Bank robber Ignacio Orozco, dressed as a woman and carrying a visitor's pass, might have escaped from prison here yesterday if girl-watcher Jose Sandoval had not been on guard.

"He did not walk like a real woman," said Sandoval, as he shepherded Orozco back to his cell. "I always watch that very carefully."

Suspension to Cedarville Skipper Set

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The master of the freighter Cedarville, which sank with a loss of 10 lives following a collision in the Straits of Mackinac last May, has been sentenced to a one-year suspension of his license, the U.S. Coast Guard announced Monday.

★ ★ ★

Coast Guard Examiner Charles J. Carroll Jr. said that in view of Capt. Joppich's long and previously unblemished record, no revocation of his license would be issued.

Carroll ruled that the one-year license suspension started last Aug. 24, when Capt. Joppich pleaded guilty and surrendered his license.

★ ★ ★

ABC, ITT Okay Merger Pact

NEW YORK (UPI) — The directors of American Broadcasting Companies, Inc. (ABC) and International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. (ITT) have approved a contract for the merger of the two communications firms.

The contract, which was acted on yesterday by the directors of ABC and ITT, must be approved by stockholders and the Federal Communications Commission before it becomes final.

The proposal will be put before share owners of both firms late in April, according to an announcement from ITT.

Merger negotiations got under way last year, and on Dec. 7 the president of both firms announced that their directors approved a merger.

★ ★ ★

Under the terms of the agreement, ABC will become an autonomous subsidiary of ITT and will continue operations under its present management.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I broke the news of Sophie Tucker's death to Ethel Merman while Ethel sat in the Plaza Persian Room still exclaiming over the triumph of 19-year-old Liza Minelli, who had just opened there.

WILSON

Then, after a minute, Ethel said: "Isn't it strange, the night one star dies, a new star is born?"

Poor, wonderful, gracious, generous, thoughtful Sophie never knew she had lung cancer. "I never knew arthritis could be so painful," she told a close friend, Mrs. Peggy Bramson.

Shrunken in weight, confined to a wheel chair, Sophie still was working on her charities the last few hours of her life . . she was still coughing, too; she liked to remind people that her cough was so sharp that people living in the hotel room next door would often be forced to move out.

★ ★ ★

Doctors knew then from X rays that she would be dead within two months. But the secret was well-kept. Proudly, Sophie displayed a new tape recorder on which she was going to dictate a book, and her letterhead, "Sophie Tucker . . . Working At Home . . . Not Retired." Her voice was loud and lordly as she pointed out that one wall light bulb in the dining room was dead.

Decision Reached on Site for College

Hart said the site is on Freeland Road in Section 23 of Kochville Township, Saginaw County.

"I think preliminary studies showed this section to be most suitable," said Hart. "It is closest to all utilities and, looking to the future, it should prove most accessible to all three communities (Saginaw, Bay City and Midland)."

3-Hour U.S. 'Walk'

Space Spectacular Set

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A spectacular flight plan has been drawn up for America's next Gemini space adventure calling for a "walk in space" of nearly three hours — twice around the world and twice as long as most observers expected.

During his lengthy stroll, Gemini 8 astronaut David R. Scott will cling to the rear of the two-man capsule, looking like a man who almost missed his street car, while command pilot Neil A. Armstrong fires maneuvering rockets on the spacecraft to uncouple and couple with another satellite.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is now in the process of deciding whether the unmanned target will be an Agena rocket or a substitute satellite, called an Alternate Target Docking Adapter.

The space agency wanted to go with the Agena, but an Agena engine failed in a test chamber last Saturday and muddled plans. NASA has suspended further testing until a cause has been determined and corrected.

Whichever target is used, it will be launched by an Atlas rocket from a pad 6,000 feet away from Gemini launch complex 19 at Cape Kennedy. If it achieves a proper orbit, Air Force Maj. Scott and Armstrong, a civilian, will rocket into space about one hour and 40 minutes later.

1 MONTH AWAY

Scott and Armstrong plan to catch up with their target satellite on the fifth or sixth orbit, then slowly push the nose of the Gemini 8 into a docking collar on the target satellite, firmly coupling the capsule to it. Both the Agena and the ATDA have this collar.

On the morning of the second day, Scott is scheduled to get out of the capsule and maneuver his way to the rear. There, he will put on a special backpack with life-supporting oxygen bottles and other equipment inside.

After some maneuvering with a hand-held jet gun, the astronaut will cling to hand and foot grips on the rear of the spacecraft, sources said, while Armstrong fires small rockets on the spacecraft to back Gemini 8 away from its target satellite.

SPACE SWIMMING

The astronauts then plan to fly in formation with the satellite — at a distance of 10 or 15 feet — with Scott "swimming" in space, taking pictures and possibly touching the satellite. The life-line connecting him to Gemini 8 will permit Scott to go 75 to 100 feet away.

Scott is expected to hang onto the rear of Gemini 8 again while Armstrong fires the spacecraft's maneuvering rockets to rendezvous and dock with the target satellite. Altogether, Scott will be outside the capsule about three hours.

JOINS UP — Five-year-old Dickie Weber of Lansing, who's fighting leukemia, is awarded a major's gold leaf by the 4th Howitzer Battalion of the 20th Artillery Army Reserve. Pinning on the rating is unit commander Maj. Charles Bragg.

Leukemia Victim

Army Unit Adopts Boy, 5

LANSING (AP) — A bouncy 5-year-old who's fighting leukemia is the newest trainee in a fighting man's unit, and he's starting at the top as a major.

He's Dickie Weber of Lansing, a blue-eyed, crew-cut blond who was awarded a major's Gold Leaf by the 4th Howitzer Battalion of the U.S. Army Reserve's 20th Artillery.

★ ★ ★

Dickie has worn his own Army uniform for more than a year — the product of a military interest spurred by a grandfather, uncle and neighbors in the service.

★ ★ ★

During that year he and doctors at University of Michigan Hospital have waged a groping battle against blood which cannot combat infection.

INCURABLE AILMENT

Seeing Dickie throw sharp salutes at weekend Reserve meetings or wrestle with his father on the couch at home, there is no indication he has a so-far incurable ailment.

★ ★ ★

But effects of the disease are spreading throughout his active body as doctors rotate drugs, trying to skirt dangerous side effects and find a lasting combination in this still-mysterious area of medicine.

★ ★ ★

Sgt. 1-C Samuel Hansel, a Boy Scouting friend of Dickie's dad, Richard Weber, learned about Dickie's red-hot Army interest and mentioned it last week to 4th Howitzer Battalion Commander Maj. Charles Bragg.

Report Says Cong Ruled From North

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has before him an analysis that says that the National Liberation Front in Viet Nam definitely is a creation of Hanoi and is controlled by it.

Johnson had the analysis prepared after his Honolulu conference with South Vietnamese leaders, where the qustion of NLF participation in any peace discussions seemed to offer a point of some disagreement.

This developed from the American stand that the Viet Cong's voice could be heard at any conference and the stand of Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky that he would not negotiate with the Viet Cong.

The administration's position is that Hanoi itself speaks for the Viet Cong because it set up the NLF and dictates to it.

Furthermore, the administration view is that Ky, rather than taking a firm stand on his own initiative against talking with the Viet Cong, was maneuvered into declaring he would not get into peace negotiations with them through repeated questioning at a Honolulu news conference.

ASKED REPORT

When Johnson returned to Washington, he asked for a report on how the National Liberation Front came into existence.

Through channels, a report came back that the NLF grew out of a resolution adopted in September 1960 by the third national congress of the Lao Dong, or Communist party meeting in Hanoi.

The resolution urged creation of a "front" to achieve "unity" or Communist control, of all Viet Nam. It said that "our people there in (South Viet Nam) must strive to establish a united block or workers, peasants and soldiers and to bring into being a broad national united front."

★ ★ ★

Thus, the report to the President said, the NLF "obediently made its appearance in December of 1960."

NO EVIDENCE

The report said no evidence could be found that the NLF was created prior to that time although there were repeated assertions that it was.

The memo cited Prof. Bernard Fall, a Frenchman on the faculty of Howard University here who is regarded as an expert on the history of the Viet Cong, as saying the liberation front was wholly artificial in nature from the beginning.

Fall is quoted as supporting this with word that as late as April 1962 it had never disclosed names of its leaders and questioning of Viet Cong prisoners has revealed a continuing unawareness of the names of their so-called leaders.

The report mentioned several names as leaders but said that not a single significant non-Communist leader during the Diem period or since has been willing to associate with the NLF.

Halting Contraband Big Problem---Irons

By DAVID J. COOK

Jail security—the art of keeping prisoners "in" and contraband "out"—is a 24-hour-a-day problem to Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons, who often has to put 32 men in cells that federal authorities say should hold only eight.

Irons' in his 12 years as sheriff, has managed to all but eliminate half the problem.

Despite the confusing situation created by crowded 32-man cells, or bullpens, only one prisoner has slipped from behind bars and found his way to freedom.

And that was by assuming the identity of another inmate who was to be released.

The other side of the coin, however, showed itself last week when an investigation ordered by Irons disclosed smuggling of dope — marijuana and barbiturates — to prisoners in the jail.

★ ★ ★

How to stop the traffic in illegal goods remains a ticklish problem, and, according to Irons, no simple solution exists.

HARMLESS ITEMS

At the present, friends and relatives of inmates are permitted to send in candy, cigarets, certain magazines and other items deemed harmless.

★ ★ ★

It was in a carton of cigarets given to an inmate by a friend that barbituarte capsules were allegedly smuggled into the jail two weeks ago.

STATES PROBLEM

Irons has stated the problem of checking inbound goods quite succinctly.

"It's impossible," he said.

"We don't have the time or the manpower to go through every cigaret and every candy bar.

"Check out every cigaret and you'd wind up with a pile of paper shreds," he said.

★ ★ ★

COMPROMISE SECURITY

"That would not only compromise our security by addition of civilian personnel, but probably end up in some black marketing —as has happened in other places," he said.

An alternative solution, one which could bring many more improvements besides restricting smuggling, would be the construction of a modern jail facility.

The move, informally discussed by Irons and county officials for some time, would conceivably provide increased cell space and better means of prisoner observation.

"But this business two weeks ago never would have happened if these men had been properly housed, if we could isolate prisoners we wanted to and if we had the means to watch inmates throughout the jail."

Police Pay Up in Waterford

Department Granted Five-Day Workweek

Waterford Township policemen were granted across-the-board salary increases and a five-day workweek last night.

Meanwhile, representatives of other township departments served notice to Township Board members that they too would press for higher wages in the near future.

Board members approved the police pay raises—totaling $13,170 and two new positions at $12,148—by a 6-1 vote, with Clerk Elmer Fangboner the lone dissenter.

The increases did not require a change in the police department's current $205,473 budget. They will be paid from a $20,000 salary overtime appropriation and another allocation for court time.

Instead of working six days a week, policemen will be on a five-day schedule. Two new patrolmen recruits will be hired plus a third to fill a vacancy, increasing the force to 22 men.

EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY

Effective immediately, the pay boosts include a hike of from $8,549 to $9,901 annually for Chief William Stokes and $7,030 to $8,154 for Lt. Frank Randolph.

Annual salaries of the three sergeants on the force were

Life of Rabbi Still in Balance

Doctors' Prognosis 'Extremely Guarded'

DETROIT (AP) — Doctors were "extremely guarded" in their prognosis today following Monday's second operation on Rabbi Morris Adler, shot in the head and arm by a member of his congregation.

Rabbi Adler, 59, spiritual leader of 6,000 Detroit - area Jews, was shot Saturday by Richard Wishnetsky, 23, at Shaary Zedek Synagogue in suburban Southfield.

The shooting occurred while Rabbi Adler was conducting sabbath services attended by about 600. Wishnetsky then shot himself in the head with the 42-caliber pistol. He was not expected to live.

Dr. Harvey Gass, chief of neurosurgery at Sinai Hospital, and Dr. Milton Sorock, chief of surgery, said the rabbi remained unconscious after yesterday's operation.

Hospital spokesman said surgeons removed pieces of brain tissue swollen by blood or other fluid and inserted a drain to relieve pressure on the brain.

NORMAL PROCEDURE

A tracheotomy was performed to assist respiration, doctors said. They said this was normal procedure on unconscious patients.

Wishnetsky, a former Woodrow Wilson scholar at the University of Michigan, had recently been a psychiatric patient and had been counseled by Rabbi Adler.

His parents, who had not heard from their son for several days prior to the shooting, were present when Wishnetsky denounced the congregation for alleged "hypocrisy" and started shooting.

★ ★ ★

18 Rescued as Liberian Ship Sinks

Coast Guard search and rescue headquarters in Miami said no injuries were reported among the motor vessel Pensacola crewmen when a British freighter, the 468-foot Glenpark, took them aboard.

The Coast Guard cutter Aurora from San Juan, Puerto Rico, rendezvoused with the Glenpark to transfer the men as soon as 26-knot winds and 10- to 15-foot seas abated.

The Liberian-registered Pensacola, which left Miami Feb. 1 for Trinidad, radioed last night it was filling fast and in danger of sinking in the Mona Passage, 80 miles southwest of Puerto Rico.

★ ★ ★

Shortly after 1 a.m., the crew reported it was abandoning ship.

AN OIL SLICK

Coast Guard planes, which located the lifeboats and directed the Glenpark to the scene, reported no trace remained of the Pensacola by daylight but an oil slick.

'Bizarre Mars Life Possible'

Spacemen Should Be Ready, Say Scientists

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of scientists suggested today the possibility that sizable and "unimaginably strange creatures" dwell on Mars.

The group advised the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) to equip the first unmanned craft scheduled to land on Mars in 1973 with cameras capable of sending back photographic evidence of such beings.

The report, titled "Space Research — Directions for the Future," stemmed from a study meeting held at Woods Hole, Mass., last summer.

Nobody knows whether life ever evolved on Mars. Some scientists doubt it ever did.

Others think chemical molecules might have developed to a point just short of life. Perhaps, in the view of some, life flowered on Mars but subsequently became extinct.

Such guesses are in large part based on such understanding as there is on how life came into existence on earth. But Martian conditions aren't quite the same as those on earth.

Willis M. Brewer, whose staff has been coordinating licensing at outlets in Waterford and Sylvan Lake as well as Pontiac, reports registration figures are running from 300 to 800 ahead of last year.

"The pressure on Friday and Saturday was terrific," Brewer said.

Noting the increase in cars on the road and a rising population in the area, however, he predicted, "We still have plenty to go."

Pontiac, Tempest Sales Hit 20,246

Pontiac Motor Division today announced the sale of 20,246 Pontiacs and Tempests in the Feb. 1-10 sales period.

According to General Sales Manager E. R. Pettengill, this is topped only by the record total of 24,726 units in the same period a year ago.

GARY A. TAYLOR

Sniping Case Arraignment Set Feb. 23

Oakland County's alleged "phantom sniper," Gary Addison Taylor, will be arraigned Feb. 23 in Circuit Court on a 9-year-old charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Taylor, 29, of Royal Oak was bound over to Circuit Court yesterday by Bloomfield Hills Justice of the Peace Jack Baldwin.

At the same time, Baldwin refused to reduce Taylor's bail set at $50,000 cash or $100,000 in surety bonds and he was returned to the county jail.

Taylor was committed to Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane shortly after being arrested in 1957 and accused of shooting at a number of women in South Oakland County.

He was released from the hos-

Acquittal Stirs Court Ruckus

5th Trial for Man in 1960 Detroit Slaying

DETROIT (AP) — The only man to stand trial in Recorder's Criminal Court five times for the same offense was acquitted yesterday of second-degree murder in a verdict which set off a courtroom ruckus.

George Darryl Flatter was charged with the 1960 slaying of Mrs. Elizabeth Moughler of Detroit.

ARRESTED IN 1960

Flatter, 26, was arrested in 1960 and was convicted of first-degree murder.

The verdict was set aside when Judge Elvin L. Davenport, who presided at all five trials, learned two jurors obtained information not brought out in testimony.

That conviction was set aside when Davenport determined Flatter had been denied his right to counsel.

★ ★ ★

Allied Drive Flushes Cong; 316 Are Killed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The allied drive against Viet Cong bastions around Bong Son and the An Lao Valley has driven several more Communist battalions out of hiding and inflicted heavy punishment on them, military spokesmen reported today.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces claimed 316 more Viet Cong killed by infantry, artillery and air action, raising the total enemy dead reported in the big operation 300 miles north of Saigon to 1,611 since mid-January.

Troops of the U. S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division, struck a Viet Cong company 12 miles southwest of Bong Son and killed 16.

Viet War Escalation Seen by McNamara

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said today the Communists have shown "every intention" of intensifying the Viet Nam conflict and that preparations were being made for substantially increasing the U.S. troop commitment if necessary.

McNamara's statements were in the heavily censored transcript of testimony given last month before the Senate Armed Services Committee and Military Appropriations subcommittee.

Gen. Earl G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, testified during the same period that U.S. forces in Viet Nam had "reversed the tide of military events to a situation that is favorable to us."

In the testimony, McNamara and Wheeler were joined by the top officers of the Army and Marine Corps in criticizing the concept advanced by retired Gen. James M. Gavin that the United States should concentrate on defense of coastal enclaves in South Viet Nam and restrict its ground and air operations.

N. VIET BOMBINGS

McNamara argued vigorously against some suggestions that the United States should expand its bombing of North Viet Nam.

He said the military power of North Viet Nam does not depend on its own industrial resources.

"There is every likelihood that we could take out all of their power systems, all of their oil, all of their harbors, destroy their dams and they could still carry on the infiltration of the men and equipment necessary to support some level of operations in the south," McNamara said, but he argued that such targets were not of fundamental consequence.

He testified that about 20,000 men were infiltrated from North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam in 1965.

EXPECTED WIN?

The Communists fully expected to defeat South Viet Nam during last summer's monsoon season, he said.

They didn't, but he added, "they have not just replaced their losses but increased their strength and given every intention of raising the intensity of the conflict."

Despite an estimated 35,000 Communist casualties in 1965, McNamara said they showed every indication of further increasing their strength in South Viet Nam.

"They have expanded the net of infiltration routes through Laos," McNamara said.

"They have camouflaged those routes. They have raised the number of men that they are moving from North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam with every passing month, and I can look forward to nothing more than continuing actions of the kind we have had in the past six months."

Bargain Unit Hearing Set

Expected to Set Vote for Sheriff's Employes

An election date to determine the exclusive bargaining agent for Oakland County Sheriff's Department employes is expected to be set at a State Labor Mediation Board hearing Thursday in Detroit.

The 10 a.m. hearing will be held in the Cadillac Square Building.

Seeking to become bargaining agent for sheriff's department employes is the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFSCME), Metropolitan Council 23.

William J. Charron, president and director of Council 23, said some 90 of 108 of sheriff's department employes have expressed support of Council 23 as bargaining agent.

Signatures of only 30 per cent of a unit's employes are needed to petition a State Mediation Board hearing, Charron said.

Other county employe groups are being contacted now, according to Charron.

Realty Firm President Files for District 1 Race

Birmingham Area News

Street Closing Okayed by City Commissioners

BIRMINGHAM — The closing of Oakland between Worth and Adams was approved by the City Commission last night.

The Birmingham Board of Education had requested the vacating of the block-long stretch in November 1963, but the commission delayed taking action pending traffic studies in the area.

The school board will now obtain all rights to the vacated street, with the exception of a utility easement, since the Adams Elementary School borders on one side and its playground on the other.

TO INSTALL SIGNS

In a related matter, the commission accepted a recommendation from Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley to install "No Right Turns By Through Traffic" signs on southbound Adams at all east-west streets north of Maple.

The signs are intended to reduce through traffic in the residential area west of Adams and between the city limits and Maple.

"Although these signs will be very difficult to enforce," Moxley reported, "they should be helpful in discouraging southbound Adams traffic from cutting through the area."

★ ★ ★

Moxley said that at the present time there seems to be no traffic volume problem on any of the streets in the area.

HIGHEST AVERAGE

Oakland, he said, is the only street that averages more than 100 vehicles an hour.

"Some of the streets carry from 300 to 800 cars per day," said Moxley. "These volumes are present on many of our residential streets."

"If a traffic volume problem does develop, the improvement of Adams, the Maple-Adams intersection and 16 Mile Road should reduce the traffic flow through the area.

He said that a study of accidents show only five personal injury accidents and seven property damage accidents in the area last year.

"If accidents within the area become a problem, we would consider the need for installing additional traffic control devices."

He is a graduate of the University of Detroit and St. Frederick High School.

Finnegan came to Pontiac in 1928, the year he was admitted to the bar.

Church Wedding Is Planned for Luci

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's going to be a big church wedding in Washington with a White House reception for the President's daughter, Luci Johnson, and Patrick J. Nugent.

The date — Aug. 6 — a Saturday — at high noon, the White House announced late Monday.

Despite all the speculation about a White House wedding, Luci and Nugent have always wanted to be married in church, a White House spokesman said.

They picked the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, a big Roman Catholic church on the campus of the Catholic University of America.

TO OFFER MASS

Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle of Washington will offer the Nuptial Mass.

Mrs. Johnson's press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter, said the young couple wanted the wedding to be a family event, rather than a state occasion.

★ ★ ★

The church they chose, however, is the seventh largest in the world, according to a church spokesman.

"It seats about 2,000 but can be escalated to where it seats 3,500 in comfort. On occasion up to 6,000 have attended services there," the spokesman said.

DEDICATED IN 1959

The church, built with contributions from Roman Catholics all over the nation, was dedicated in 1959, but Luci's wedding will be the first to be held there.

Some construction is still under way on side altars and scaffolding now blocks the view of the main altar. The spokesman said the scaffolding should be down by August.

Luci will be 19 by then, with Nugent edging close to 23. Their engagement was announced last Christmas Eve.

The date of the wedding was announced while Nugent's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Nugent Sr., were driving back to their Waukegan, Ill., home after a weekend visit at the White House and their first meeting with President and Mrs. Johnson.

More Waterford Study Due on Water Extension

Further study was called for last night by Waterford Township Board members in the proposed contract with the Oakland County Department of Public Works (DPW) for constructing and financing a 25-mile extension to the township's water supply system.

Recalling problems encountered when the first water mains were installed, the board directed Township Attorney Paul Mandel, Supervisor Dorothy Olson and Water Department Supervisor Kenneth Squiers to review the agreement.

The objective apparently is to coordinate the relationship between the township and contractor so that the township will have means to provide a more direct response to complaints.

"We should have some measure of control in these areas," said Mandel, "and it should be written in the contract."

During the current $7.35-million project, most of the residents' complaints were directed at township officials because they didn't realize it was a county project.

AREA IN PLAN

The proposed $1.38-million project—to be financed through township water department revenues — includes connections to the Highland Lakes Campus of Oakland Community College and to properties on several private roads.

South Vietnamese paratroopers 20 miles north of Bong Son, on one flank of the operation area, hit a Viet Cong strongpoint of tunnels and trenches. U.S. artillery was called in, and a government spokesman said 200 enemy bodies were counted.

HOUR-LONG BATTLE

Government troops launched several operations in the Mekong Delta and claimed 110 Viet Cong killed and 6 captured in an hour-long battle 43 miles southwest of Saigon.

The U. S. Navy lost its first Swift patrol boat to a Viet Cong mine, and several of the six American crewmen were killed or injured.

The speedy patrol boat was sunk 250 yards off the southern coast in the Gulf of Thailand, 145 miles southwest of Saigon. Survivors picked up by a Vietnamese junk said the mine was detonated from the shore.

★ ★

BUILDINGS HIT

U.S. spokesman claimed that U.S. Air Force and Navy pilots operating over South Viet Nam smashed 425 Viet Cong buildings yesterday and early today, hit three gun emplacements, sank 12 sampans and killed an estimated 30 Viet Cong. They reported 10 secondary explosions, presumably ammunition or fuel.

A spokesman said they bombed road, rail and water communications lines yesterday in the southern part of the Communist north, concentrating on the routes to Laos and the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

★ ★ ★

Where pilots could see their targets, they claimed to have hit a storage area five miles south of Vinh, a suspected radar site on Tiger Island and the Dong Ngan shipyard 12 miles north of that city.

Police Get Pay Hike in Waterford

increased from $6,698 to $7,384, while the three detectives will now receive $7,030 per year instead of $6,386.

All patrolmen were also granted pay hikes.

★ ★

3 RECRUITS

However, the three recruits will receive an initial pay of $6,074, in an attempt to attract qualified personnel.

Maximum pay for township patrolmen (sixth step) is $7,384. This compares with Pontiac patrolmen's salaries ranging from $5,785 to $6,708.

Supervisor Dorothy Olson, who devised the pay scale plan, stressed the need for immediate action when it appeared that a vote might be brushed aside for possibly another week.

★ ★ ★

"This is critical not only on our department," she said, "but on all police departments."

ALL AT ONE TIME

Fangboner, a former township fire chief, and Republican Trustee Frank Richardson said they favored handling all departmental salary increase requests at one time.

"The only thing I'm asking is that we cure the obvious inequities in the present township salary plan," said Richardson, who later voted for the police pay boosts.

It was disclosed that the township's share of the state sales tax was much more than anticipated last year, accounting for a $128,000 surplus in excess of the $1,047,267 budget for 1966. The increased funds are attributed to a high economy.

★ ★ ★

Realizing that this amount is available, departmental heads have requested salary and manpower increases. However, some departments would be able to manage it by rejuggling their budgets like the police force did.

Recently accepted as a collective bargaining agent, the Waterford Township Professional Fire Fighters appears ready to make its initial request for more pay.

School Board Okays Merger

Brandon District May Join With Clarkston

CLARKSTON — The Clarkston Board of Education last night gave the green light to a proposed merger with the Brandon School District by a unanimous 7-0 vote.

The annexation request was made last week by the Brandon Board of Education.

Consent now is being sought from the State Department of Education. If approved, the proposed merger will go to a vote of the people in the Brandon district.

Clarkston school officials said they foresee no drastic changes if the merger eventually occurs, stressing it would not affect the present staff of the two districts or attendance areas.

★ ★ ★

Current plans call for Clarkston School Supt. Dr. L. F. Greene to head the proposed 100-square-mile system, with Brandon School Supt. Burl A. Glendenning being retained as an administrative assistant.

BIGGER PROGRAM

Both superintendents have stated that the educational program would be broadened if the districts were combined.

Clarkston presently has a state - equalized valuation of $33,227,562, compared with Brandon's valuation of $8,530,000.

Clarkston officials have listed what they feel are 12 distinct advantages to the proposed annexation.

Residency Question Adds to Confusion in Lake Orion

LAKE ORION—The confusion which has characterized the government of this village in the past several months will find a place even in the primary elections scheduled for next Monday.

★ ★ ★

And to further complicate village affairs, his wife's position on the board of canvassers, to which she was appointed by the Village Council last year, will have to be challenged, not only because of her residence but also because of her husband's candidacy.

★ ★ ★

STATE INVESTIGATION

McNeil presented to the council a letter stating that an investigation conducted by the Office of the State Director of Elections "apparently establishes without question that Mr. and Mrs. Dunaskis are not legal residents of the Village of Lake Orion.

"On the basis of the investigation," the letter continued, "we make respectful, formal demand for:

- The removal of the names of Frank and Aldona Dunaskis from the list of registered voters for the Village of Lake Orion.
- The removal of the name of Frank Dunaskis from the ballot for the primary election of Feb. 21, 1966.
- The removal of Aldona Dunaskis as a member of the Lake Orion Board of Canvassers."

★ ★ ★

According to Village Clerk Mary Parkinson, voter registration records show Dunaskis' address to be 52 S. Broadway, the location of a hotel which he owns.

OUTSIDE BOUNDARIES

However, the family also maintains a home at 460 Crescent, outside the village boundaries, which the director of elections concludes is their legal residence.

The conclusion was based on reports furnished by Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Detroit Edison, Consumers Power and Lake Orion school officials and the listing in the Bresser cross-index directory.

Mrs. Parkinson said she questioned the registration of Mr. and Mrs. Dunaskis about three years ago.

★ ★ ★

She was told by a state elections inspector, since deceased, that their registration in the village was permissible.

ALREADY PRINTED

After some discussion of the matter last night, the council concluded that Dunaskis' name will have to remain on the ballot, as sample ballots are already printed and the voting machines are set up in preparation for Monday's primary.

Village Atty. Robert V. Parenti said if Dunaskis should win the primary, his opponent can challenge the nomination and have it set aside.

In other action the council set Feb. 28 as the date for discussion of a home rule city proposal to be voted on later this year.

★ ★ ★

Petitions submitted to the council asking that the proposal be put on the March 21 ballot were filed too late to comply with state election laws, according to Parenti.

A home rule village proposal will be on the spring ballot however.

Farmington District Eying 1-Mill Property Tax Hike

FARMINGTON — A $7.1-million operating budget which would increase property taxes 1 mill is being considered for the 1966 fiscal year by the Farmington Board of Education.

The budget calls for the board to increase taxes by one of the four mills it was authorized to levy in a special election last November.

Authorized by property owners to add up to 4 mills to the levy, the board promised it would increase operating taxes only to the extent that the debt retirement levy was diminished.

The operating levy last year was 21.5 mills and that for debt retirement 11 mills.

The budget proposed at last night's board meeting would increase expenditures by $814,625 over those for this year.

BUDGET PROVISION

It was noted that the budget includes provision for regular salary increments but not for improvement of the salary schedule, now being discussed with employe groups.

While estimated receipts total some $6,944,500, the board could make up the difference by using surplus funds from this year.

The former figure would jump from $4,803,890 to $5,397,440 and the latter from $679,316 to $781,700.

Other increases are suggested in administration, from $196,700 to $254,670; transportation, $195,805 to $201,006; maintenance, $203,362 to $244,162; and fixed charges, $112,600 to $124,240.

Commission Proposes Meeting of Royal Oak, OCC in March

The Royal Oak City Commission last night proposed a March joint meeting with Oakland Community College officials to discuss the possibility of establishing an OCC campus in Royal Oak.

In calling for the meeting, commission members indicated general agreement that a college campus would be good for Royal Oak.

No meeting date was set, according to City Clerk Mrs. Gladys Fogo.

A month ago the college's board of trustees expressed interest in buying the 45-acre Elks Park in Royal Oak which OCC had appraised at $305,000.

Since then a city official has suggested that the commission consider selling a parcel of downtown property for the campus.

UNDER STUDY

Both matters are under study by city officials.

The city's parks and recreation board last night went on record as opposing the sale of Elks Park to OCC because it felt this recreational area was needed by the city, Mrs. Fogo said.

Adjourn Case in Election Suit

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — A show-cause hearing on a suit challenging a scheduled election on a mobile home park was adjourned yesterday in Circuit Court until Monday at 1:30 p.m.

Attorney Anthony Renne is attempting to prevent the township from holding a special election April 11 on the rezoning of 50 acres he owns on Coats Road north of Seymour Lake Road.

On his request, the property was rezoned Dec. 8 to allow the mobile homes, but a month later petitions were filed by citizens asking that the matter be put to a vote.

Renne claims that the board's action in scheduling the election is in direct violation of the State Constitution and that "petitions are not sufficient basis for the lawful initiation of such an election."

Plans Will Get 90-Day Trial

Rochester Acts on Traffic Snarl

ROCHESTER — The Village Council will try for the next three months to relieve traffic congestion downtown through the use of parking restrictions and one-way traffic patterns.

Following a discussion with about a dozen downtown merchants last night, the Council voted to eliminate parking on the south side of West Third for a half-block from the west alley to Walnut.

It also designated the west alley as a one-way alley going north and the east alley as a one-way alley going south.

Both plans will be given a 90-day trail.

Village Clerk Maxine Ross explained that parking on the south side of West Third was eliminated because the street narrows at that point and parking on both sides creates congestion.

TURNS HALTED

By designating the alleys as one way, traffic-snarling left turns off Main will be eliminated, Miss Ross said.

In other action, the council voted to seek a recommendation from its planning consultants on a request to review the zoning ordinance.

Charles Sibert of 44 W. University asked the Council to review the part of the zoning ordinance which requires at least five acres of land for construction of a rest home.

★ ★ ★

Miss Ross said his property on Ludlow is presently zoned for a rest home, but he only owns three acres of land instead of the required five.

Church Schedules Missionary Panel

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Rev. Frank Longman will address the congregation of Mandon Lake Community Church and direct a missionary panel discussion tomorrow at 7 a.m.

The Ladies' Guild and Joy Missionary Society will cohost a cooperative dinner for all area women Thursday, featuring Miss Minnie Myers of the Bolivian Indian Mission and Mabel Cox as guest speakers.

Miss Meyers will address the nightly missionary service at 7 p.m. and Miss Cox will show slides concerning events on the mission field.

IN NICARAGUA

Rev. Ward Johnson, who has served in Nicaragua for four years, will be the guest speaker Friday at 7 p.m.

The World in Focus Youth Day will be held Saturday at the First Baptist Church of Pontiac, 34 Oakland.

The program for young people will begin at 2:30 p.m. and will continue until 7:15 p.m. A film will be shown and a panel discussion will take place, followed by an open discussion.

Congress Stalls Way to Legislative Gains

Last week saw the finalization of two pieces of Federal legislation, neither of which covered Capitol Hill with glory.

The Senate bill to repeal 14(B) of the Taft-Hartley Act that would have embodied mandatory union membership in labor contracts died a second time as Republican Sen. EVERETT DIRKSEN of Illinois and an All-American team of pallbearer colleagues filibustered it to death.

But the proposed repealer was a soggy measure of undemocratic quality, representing as it did the Administration's subservience to Big Labor. It would undoubtedly have passed had proponents been able to muster the two-thirds majority vote needed to break the filibuster.

On another front, a Cold War GI Bill was passed and awaits President JOHNSON's signature. Members of the armed services have been denied service-connected benefits since the end of Korean hostilities.

Since service in "Cold War" is no less exacting and disruptive of personal life than that of "Hot War," the denial of comparable civilian privileges to the Nation's defenders has been callous, to say the least. The solons did, however, partly atone for their neglect by making the new GI Bill retroactive to 1955.

★ ★ ★

But despite the legislative fumbling on one hand and delay on the other, Congress, like the course the British traditionally follow, managed to muddle through.

Vandalism Besmirches the Image of America

VANDAL: A person who, out of malice or ignorance, destroys or spoils, especially that which is beautiful or artistic.

This is a polite, dictionary definition of a hoodlum who unaccountably derives satisfaction from defacing or ruining the property of others. It's always the property of others—never his.

Tragically, society is currently bedeviled with an oversupply of this form of human menace with no instant remedy in sight.

Latest two of a long series of deliberate and wanton assaults on private and public property in the area occurred in Lapeer and Southfield. Both involved school property.

In the Lapeer maliciousness, tires were deflated and valve cores removed on 51 buses, leaving 2,500 school children without customary transportation.

★ ★ ★

The Southfield marauders were more vindictive. Forty-nine of the school system's 55 buses were broken into and the wiring ripped from underneath the dashboards, rendering the vehicles inoperative. This outrage cost 13,000 students a day's school attendance.

★ ★ ★

No effort should be spared to apprehend those guilty of these and other acts of vandalism and maximum punishment meted out. Moreover, financial redress for damage inflicted or expense incurred should be assessed against the culprits or, if they are minors, their parents.

Teacher, Kids Seen Living 'Words Apart'

In the current issue of the Journal of the National Education Association, RONALD N. WOOD, an author and former biology teacher in a Vermont high school, submits a few reasons why people enjoy having children.

★ ★ ★

"When man eats, his food goes from his stomach into his small intentions."

★ ★ ★

ASPHYXIATION — "When you indulge in too much carbon monoxide."

SMALLPOX — "A disease that was perfected by EDWARD JENNER."

Finally, one that comes uncomfortable close to the truth:

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, maybe the teacher's kids have a precocious sense of humor and are merely pulling his pedagogical leg.

Congress Argues Viet Resolution

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the speed and unanimity of crisis, Congress voted President Johnson its endorsement of "all necessary measures" to bar aggression in South Viet Nam. And now, 18 months later, it is debating the wisdom of a vastly increased U.S. commitment there.

One Democratic senator has described the current Foreign Relations Committee hearings on Viet Nam as an appeal beyond President Johnson to the people.

Facing congressional criticism, most of it from Democrats, Johnson has declared his decisions on Viet Nam, including that to renew bombing of the north, are guided by a resolution Congress adopted Aug. 7, 1964.

The President, at a Friday news conference, said he did not see much difference between what is being done now and the courses that have been advocated before the committee. Nobody wants to escalate the war, he said, and few people advocate withdrawal.

★ ★ ★

NEAR-UNANIMOUS PASSAGE

The measure swept to near-unanimous passage only two days after the White House sent it to Capitol Hill. It followed U.S. air raids on North Vietnamese naval bases, raids in retaliation for Communist torpedo boat attacks on American warships.

That was long before the start of sustained U.S. air attacks on targets in the Communist north. The massive buildup of U.S. combat troops was 10 months ahead.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said he voted for the resolution with the understanding that the American mission would remain one of supporting and advising South Viet Nam, not of fighting the war.

★ ★ ★

In the resolution, House and Senate declared:

"The Congress approves and supports the determination of the President, as commander in chief, to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression."

'DEMONSTRATION OF UNITY'

"A demonstration to all the world of the unity of all Americans," said Johnson after the Senate approved his resolution 88 to 2 and the House, 414 to 0.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., called the resolution a predated declaration of war and, with Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, voted against it.

Morse now has proposed that the resolution be rescinded.

And Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who heads the Foreign Relations Committee, has said he regrets his role in helping to enact it.

The King Is Dead!

David Lawrence Says:

Viet Dissent Could Prolong War

WASHINGTON — Dissenters in the United States may not realize it, but they may be prolonging the war in Viet Nam. They could be responsible indirectly for the continuing loss of American lives.

This is the conclusion which many observers here, including veteran senators, have reached. LAWRENCE

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, for example, has no right under the rules of the Senate to hold hearings on strictly military matters concerning operations in Viet Nam or elsewhere.

If any committee has jurisdiction on the question of whether a war is being fought effectively, it is the Senate Armed Services Committee and its counterpart in the House of Representatives.

★ ★ ★

When asked by this correspondent about the discussion of American military strategy in public hearings, Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, Democrat, who happens to be chairman of the armed services committee, replied:

"I think it would be a grave mistake for any active U.S. military officer — or civilian official — to testify in open hearings on so delicate a subject as Viet Nam."

'PROLONGS WAR'

"What about the significance of dissent generally?" was the next question.

"Every dissent," the senator replied, "prolongs the war. It makes no difference if some poor, half-baked beatnik — he can do it — or a senator of the United States who is highly critical of the war demands that we get out, or has a different theory than the administration as to the objectives and purposes of the war.

"This undoubtedly confirms Ho Chi Minh in his basic concept that the United States just wouldn't have the patience to wage a very lengthy war there.

"There is, of course, every legal right to dissent. But the fact is that the boys over there in Viet Nam are paying a rather high price for our vaunted right of public dissent.

★ ★ ★

"There's no question about that — many boys will lose their lives as a result of it. For much of the dissent confirms the North Vietnamese in their theory that, if they can just hold on for a while longer, we will get tired and go away."

USUALLY IN PRIVATE

Sen. Russell is not a member of the foreign relations committee, but in his capacity as chairman of the armed services committee he holds hearings, usually in private, at which military men come to testify.

Their testimony in whole or in part is kept secret or made public in accordance with the wishes of the executive branch of the government.

It is important that committees be kept informed in confidence about virtually every significant development in a war that has taken 200,000 American troops to a distant land.

★ ★ ★

During the two world wars, there was frequent communication between the president or his Cabinet officers and the committees of Congress.

This is because, under the Constitution, the obligation is placed on the Senate and the House to make rules for the governing of the armed forces of the nation. Public hearings are not required and usually are not held during a war.

NO SANCTION

What the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, however, is doing nowadays with its public hearings on military matters in the midst of a hot war does not have any sanction in the rules of the Senate. Nor is it liked by the executive branch of the government.

Indeed, around the Capitol, it is said that the foreign relations committee is split up into factions and that the hearings are really an effort on the part of certain senators to get into the spotlight.

When arrangements, moreover, are made for television coverage by the major networks and dissent is emphasized, the hearings witnessed by millions of people take on a different meaning.

Many citizens are led to assume that Congress is at odds with the administration over the conduct of the war.

SERIOUS DISCORD

Certainly the impression created abroad is that serious discord exists in our government. This in itself can encourage the enemy.

★ ★ ★

The psychological effect resulting from the publicizing of a dissent that is not representative of any big segment of public opinion but only looks that way can be damaging to America's interests and lengthen the war.

Bob Considine Says:

Perseverance Paid Off Early for Correspondent

CONSIDINE

It was a revealing word. Seems that when Ackerman was running Columbia's Graduate School of Journalism, he learned from his secretary one morning that a girl named Higgins was in the outer office and wished to become a graduate student.

Ackerman sent word to her that all 11 places allotted women in the graduate school had been filled.

Hours later, as he prepared to go to lunch, his secretary told him that Miss Higgins was still sitting outside, waiting for him to appear.

★ ★ ★

Ackerman patiently explained the rules to her but Marguerite would have none of that.

FORMIDABLE BARRIER

Finally, he sent her to the dean of women at the university with the promise that if she could talk her way past that formidable barrier he'd let her into his famed journalism foundry.

As he was leaving the office late that day, he noticed the women's dean's office door was open. Marguerite was sitting at the lady's desk, typing a story. She had made the grade.

Next day, Ackerman got a call from the burser's office. "Your Miss Higgins has been accepted by the dean of women, by you, by the registrar, by everybody. Now she's here in my office and she says she hasn't any money," the man said. "What am I supposed to do?"

★ ★ ★

A little thing like that never stopped the girl who was to go on to become a great correspondent in World War II and Korea, and die from a bug picked up in Viet Nam.

"The next time I saw the burser he was sending a wire to her people in California, asking for the tuition," Ackerman said.

Discusses Recommendation on Speakers

The Michigan State Senate decision recommending to the president and board of governors of Wayne State University the banning of Communist speakers from their campus is in direct violation of the first amendment of the Federal Constitution guaranteeing freedom of speech and the right of assembly. The decision is a dangerous one, since if it were followed by our university administrations it would deprive the students and faculty of the right of free inquiry.

★ ★ ★

It would enable people to dictate to the students of our universities what kind of knowledge to seek, what type of book to read and what to reject. Obviously, this would defeat the whole purpose of the university as an institution of higher learning. Those who advocate infringements of academic freedom do our State of Michigan and our Nation a great disservice.

'Questions Combining of School Districts'

What would be the advantage of the Clarkston Community Schools annexing the Brandon Community Schools? With the assessed valuation per pupil of the Clarkston district greater, if the two districts are combined, wouldn't the valuation per pupil of those now in the Clarkston district be lowered and Brandon increased?

★ ★ ★

What are the advantages of a larger district with a greater number of children? With the population growth and the projected growth for the future, the present Clarkston district will have all it can financially handle. If there are advantages in largeness, why is Detroit having difficulty keeping the education system competitive with the smaller districts?

★ ★ ★

If Brandon has the right to vote on annexation then the citizens in the Clarkston district have the same right. The citizens of both districts should vote on the proposal. Both school boards should give full information before taking action.

A PONTIAC NORTHERN STUDENT

Says MSU Shy by $8.3 Million

Hannah Hits Romney Budget, U.S. Cutback

EAST LANSING (AP) — John Hannah, Michigan State University president, indicated Monday night that to meet its needs MSU must do about $8.3 million worth of persuading in the Legislature and in Congress.

In his annual state of the University message, Hannah said Gov. George Romney's 1966-67 budget recommendations were $7.5 million short of MSU's request.

★ ★ ★

In addition, he said, MSU has $846,000 at stake in proposed cutbacks in the federal budget.

Hannah also proposed a large scale university attack on the problems of America's large cities.

Noting that MSU has pooled resources with other universities to work in underdeveloped countries abroad, he asked: "Why not in our own country?"

SUSPICIONS

He said many advocates of the antipoverty war "suspect that great plans are based on pitifully scant research."

Hannah said a handicap for MSU in obtaining state money is "that our appropriations have increased substantially in recent years, and the mistaken impression is abroad that Michigan State University has been given generous if not magnificent treatment by the budgetmakers.

★ ★ ★

"Actually," he added, "as we can document fully, appropriations have both lagged behind enrollment increases and failed to take into account the changing composition of the student body (toward more graduate students)."

The problem in Washington, Hannah said, is a proposal to reduce by $12 million a $14.5-million-a-year federal endowment of the nation's land-grant institutions, including MSU.

'ONLY EXCUSE'

"The only excuse offered for abandoning this policy of continuing endowment is there is now money available for universities in other federal programs," he said. "But the fact is there is no money in other programs available on a grant basis to support instructional programs..."

Hannah said President Johnson's budget also proposed an $8.5 million cut in agricultural research grants for the experiment stations and a $10 million shift from cooperative extension programs to a fund for rural community development and work with low-income families.

These developments, he said, would mean a loss to MSU of $335,949 in instructional programs, $210,000 for its experiment station and $301,000 for its cooperative extension service.

Wysong's Rally Brings Victory in Phoenix Golf

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — On Monday morning Dudley Wysong's official 1966 professional golf earnings totaled zero. He still was looking for his first pro victory and he was wondering how he'd ever get into the field for the $200,000 Carling Open.

Today he's $9,000 richer, has joined the winner's fraternity and is assured of a trip to England for the big-money Carling event Aug. 27-Sept. 3.

* * *

Wysong, a determined 26-year-old from Casper, Wyo., stormed from six strokes off the pace with a five-under'par 66 Monday to catch veteran Gardner Dickinson Jr. and win the $60,000 Phoenix Open. The victory qualified him for the Carling.

Dickinson, a gutty 130-pounder from Lost Tree Village, Fla., led for the first three rounds, but finally succumbed to an ailing back and Wysong's furious charge.

Rouge Grabs Lead in 'B' Poll Shakeup

By The Associated Press

A new leader in Class B and major shakeups in Classes A and D marked the sixth week of the Michigan high school prep basketball poll conducted by The Associated Press.

* * *

The AP's statewide panel of sports writers and sportscasters retained East Detroit as the leader in A, Frankenmuth (tied last week with Muskegon Christian) in C and Covert in D.

Detroit Northwestern kept its runner-up spot behind East Detroit but the rest of the standings were jumbled.

MOVES UP

Kalamazoo Central advanced three places to take over third place, Detroit Austin moved into fourth and is followed by Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills, Birmingham Groves, Pontiac Central and Battle Creek Central.

* * *

Muskegon Heights and Jackson Parkside moved in to grab the last two spots, replacing Detroit Pershing and Saginaw.

* * *

Allegan, out for a week, moved back into the elite group by grabbing eighth place, and Portland made its first appearance by taking 10th. Royal Oak Shrine and Saginaw Arthur Hill Tech dropped out.

New Leaders in Keg Action

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—New leaders were posted Monday for the 25th annual Michigan Knights of Columbus Bowling Tournament in all categories except singles after the fourth weekend of competition at Grand Rapids.

Miller Sheet Metal of Center Line rolled to the team lead in the handicap scoring event with a total of 3128. N. Klebba and J. Gollob of Detroit took over first place in doubles with 1362.

BOWLING

Calbi Music and Tri-County Vending took advantage of a bad night for Robertson Builders, while the first-half North Hill Lanes Classic League leader also showed signs of life last week.

* * *

Calbi took three points from the builders, dropping them to third place. Tri-County also won three and assumed the lead, one point in front of the musicmen.

Meanwhile, West Side Lanes shook off its second-half slump to sweep four points led by Rick McCotter's 245-233-226—704. It was the best night recently for the first-half pace-setters.

McCotter now is averaging 197 after his third 700. He is the third highest scorer on the youthful West Side squad whose low man, Dave Johnson, is hitting at a 196 clip.

The women also scored well last week at three fronts. Tops for the distaff bowlers was Lorraine Cloutier who produced a 243—603 combine in the Howe's Lanes' Clarkston Women's League.

Doris Boucard rolled 245—592 for her greenhouse team in the Airway Lanes First League; and Ruth Brege hit 240 at Sylvan Lanes for the house team in the Lakeland Ladies League.

It's no secret. We make more cigars of one brand than anyone and spend only a fraction for advertising. Still, sometimes we wish we could spend more advertising this fine cigar value. But, we'd have to raise our price or cut our quality. Then, we might not sell as many. What do you think?
