2 Drown in Boat Mishap Near Lakeville

Another Swims Safely to Shore in Moffatt Lake

Detroiters on Fishing Trip; One Body Found as Search Continues

A day of fun and relaxation ended in tragedy yesterday for three Detroit area youths. Two drowned when their boat capsized in Moffatt Lake, near Lakeville.

Victims were Seaman Robert Golebiewski, 20, of Hamtramck, on leave after completing boat training and George Hunt, 16, East Detroit.

The survivor, Seaman Kenneth Carneal, 18, of Roseville, swam to shore with the help of a leaky rowboat hulk pushed out to him by carpenters working nearby.

Carneal and Golebiewski were home on leave after completing boat training at Great Lakes Naval Training Station. They were to have reported Tuesday to Newport, R. I., for reassignment.

Carneal told sheriff's deputies he and his two companions had been fishing earlier in the day, but were just rowing around the lake when the boat upset at about 12:15 p.m. in about 10 feet of water 125 feet from shore.

Both sailors, who could swim, wore bathing trunks, but Hunt was fully clothed. The survivor believed Golebiewski was drowned trying to save the younger boy.

They were spending the day at the summer cottage of Carneal's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of Oxford, on the shore of the small lake, about a half-mile northeast of Lakeville on Rochester road.

Addison Township volunteer firemen, who arrived at the scene about 15 minutes after the mishap, recovered Hunt's body about 1:15 p.m. They saw the other body momentarily but lost it again.

Dr. H. F. Stahl of Oxford pronounced Hunt dead, and the body was removed to the Flumerfelt Funeral Home in Oxford.

A light plane from Pontiac Municipal Airport was called to fly over the lake, and the pilot reported seeing the body of Golebiewski in a deep hole near where the overturned boat was floating.

Dragging crews once had the body within four feet of the surface, but it was lost again, in an estimated 40 to 60 feet of water.

A diver from Detroit arrived about 6 p.m. and spent about an hour in the cold water. Because of the temperature he could not continue.

Sheriff Frank Irons, who stayed at the scene all day to direct rescue operations, called off the recovery attempts at 7:40 p.m. when darkness made further work almost impossible.

Addison firemen, under the direction of Chief Robert McAllum, continued dragging until 1:30 a.m. this morning using portable lights on their boats.

The plane returned at 8 a.m. today, spotted the body again, and the diver, who had remained on the scene all night, went down again.

He reported the bottom was full of logs, stumps and other debris, and could not locate the body.

SNUG HAVEN — Snug as can be in the warm spring sunlight are three of the five baby rabbits apparently born just outside the pediatrics department at Pontiac General Hospital.

The rabbits, now about nine days old, grew so fast that two of them were bumped right out of the nest and are sleeping beneath a clump of flowers. The quintet was spotted several days ago, but the hospital staff has been taking a strict "hands-off" policy.

Experts say Mama Rabbit will have nothing to do with her youngsters if they have been touched by humans. She has been spotted at the scene once. One wag pointed out it was the hospital's first case of quintuplets.

Detroit Eyes Big Foreign Trade Year as 12 Freighters Steam Toward Lakes

DETROIT (AP) — A dozen small foreign-flag freighters are reported headed for the Great Lakes to open what the Port of Detroit Commission anticipates will be the busiest overseas shipping season in history.

The commission said that three, and perhaps as many as seven lines, will be added this year to the 10 already serving Detroit from overseas ports.

The Norwegian motorship Vestfjell and steamer Hemsefjell and the new German motorship Francisca Sartori were reported approaching Toronto together down the St. Lawrence today.

Nine other vessels were reported not far behind. Congested docking conditions at Toronto will determine how soon some of them get away from there for lake ports.

The Fjell Line ships are scheduled to stop at Cleveland, but the Francisca Sartori is due to come nonstop to Detroit.

The first ship to pass the maritime reporting station near Amherstburg, Ontario, will receive a traditional plaque as the overseas season-opener from the Port of Detroit Commission.

The French Line, one of the world's major shipping lines, is among the three which definitely will ply the Atlantic-Great Lakes waterway this year. Others are the Niagara Line, of Holland, and the Finlake Line, which operates between Finland, Sweden and Denmark and the lake ports.

The commission said they are considered forerunners of other lines which will explore inland trade possibilities of North America prior to completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Small freighters of about 2,500 tons are the only ocean-going vessels that now can traverse the St. Lawrence River's 14-foot channels. Locks now in use limit their length to 253 feet.

With opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway, now anticipated in 1959, vessels of 27-foot draft and 800-foot length can be accommodated as far as Lake Erie, but other Great Lakes channels would have to be deepened to accommodate them.

Rail Strike Cuts Service on 3 More Lines in Dixie

The 41-day old strike by Louisville & Nashville Railroad workers widened today as passenger and freight operations of three additional lines were curtailed at Birmingham, Ala.

Picket lines were set up at the joint yards of the Illinois Central, Frisco Lines and the Central of Georgia. Pickets said the yard has been handling freight from nonstriking crews of the L&N, whose nonoperating crews have been on strike since March 14.

The fresh trouble came as members of the National Mediation Board prepared to make new attempts to settle the long and costly dispute.

The board planned talks with rail and union officials today, which was set recently at a meeting of Southern governors as a deadline for settlement of the strike involving 25,000 workers.

The governors did not disclose what action, if any, they planned if a settlement is not reached. Chief stumbling block is the union's demand for a jointly financed health insurance plan.

Efforts are also planned today to settle the other big strike which has been in progress for 41 days in nine Southern states, involving (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Stock Margins Hiked to 70 Pct. by Government

Federal Reserve Board Crimps Credit Buying in Soaring Market

WASHINGTON (AP) — Starting today, investors must put up at least 70 per cent cash in buying stocks.

The Federal Reserve Board last night boosted margin requirements from 60 per cent in a move designed to check the use of credit on the rising stock market. This was the second such increase in less than four months. On Jan. 5 the board raised margin requirements from 50 to 60 per cent.

The new increase was announced after the stock exchanges had ended trading for the weekend.

First reaction on Wall Street was a forecast that the market probably will decline when it reopens Monday, then recover a few days later. One observer said the increase is "not large enough to change the course of the market."

Many stock brokers had been expecting the increase with the rise in credit buying. Some said they had expected the new requirement to be 75 per cent.

Reserve board figures show that credit in stock purchasing recently hit new highs. At the end of March, customers owed stock brokers and dealers a total of $2,652,000,000 on margin accounts. This was the highest level in the 24 years such records have been kept. On April 20 Federal Reserve member bank loans to brokers and dealers in New York and Chicago stood at $1,957,000,000—the biggest total since 1938 when these records began.

Several witnesses at a recent Senate Banking Committee "friendly study" of the stock market urged that margin requirements be raised to prevent the market boom from busting.

At the close of the inquiry last month, Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark) said he found no signs of serious market abuses.

Tornadoes Hit Missouri Area

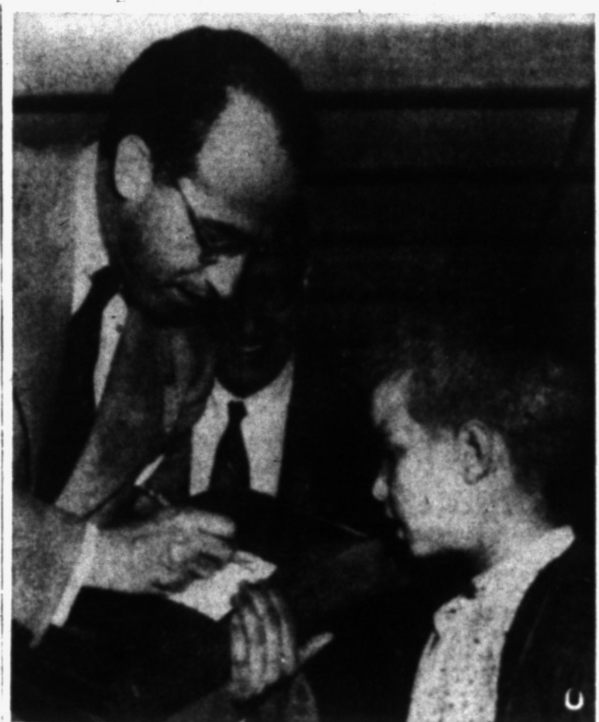

Damage Estimate Set Over Half Million in Sikeston District

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms and rain hit wide areas of the midcontinent today after violent spring storms lashed areas in Southern states yesterday.

Heaviest storm damage was in sections of southeast Missouri, struck by small tornadoes which damaged buildings, uprooted trees and knocked out power lines and telephone wires. Damage estimates ranged from $500,000 to $800,000, most of it in the area of Sikeston. The twister also struck Lutesville.

No serious injuries were reported. Severe wind storms also battered northeast Arkansas, with tornadoic winds at Biggers, Ark., destroying four houses and damaging 12 others. Hail and rain fell in the area.

Montgomery Ward Board Still Remains With Avery

CHICAGO (AP) — How bad a beating Sewell Avery gave Louis Wolfson in the battle for control of Montgomery Ward and Co. was the only question remaining today.

Election inspectors began counting the votes cast at yesterday's annual stockholders meeting.

Sewell Avery won. Louis Wolfson lost. The only point was how many friends Wolfson would have with him at Ward's director meetings.

Wolfson said he took at least three seats, leaving six on the nine-man board for Avery. The Avery forces contended Wolfson took two, leaving seven for Avery.

Actually, neither side could be sure. It would all depend upon how many of the votes cast would be valid. Each side undoubtedly had proxies which were automatically revoked when the same signers sent proxies with a later date to the other.

Ward's meeting was adjourned until May 13. On that date the election inspectors will report on the total number of valid votes cast, and how they were distributed.

The balloting yesterday climaxed an eight-month campaign for Wolfson, a 43-year-old Florida industrialist who has risen rapidly in business circles since the end of World War II. He attacked Avery's conservative policies and said he would expand Ward's activities.

Avery, 51, countered that Wolfson was leading a "raiding party" to grab Ward's "large liquid assets."

He attacked Wolfson's record with other companies he heads, such as Merritt-Chapman & Scott, a construction firm, and Capitol Transit of Washington, D. C.

The climax of the campaign came yesterday when Wolfson and Avery appeared at the same meeting.

Wolfson faced Avery — who didn't look at Wolfson — and said, "I respect you as a man and I respect your age." When Wolfson finished Avery stood up and said:

SEWELL AVERY

"I want to make it clear that I have listened to a jumble of words. I cannot understand it. I haven't heard a thing. I find myself unable to hear."

For several hours Wolfson supporters scattered throughout the assemblage peppered Avery with questions, evidently trying to rattle him. Avery left the rostrum several times, but he was there, waving and smiling, when the meeting adjourned.

So Long, Wolfson

Doctor Thanked by Ike in Person for Polio Work

Secretary Hobby Plans to Name Group to Help in Vaccine Allocation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kings and conquering generals have received less attention than the White House gave yesterday to Dr. Jonas E. Salk and his family as they arrived to receive from President Eisenhower the thanks of a grateful nation.

Stenographers peered through doorways. Presidential aides came out of their offices for a look. Chief Aide Sherman Adams, sometimes said to be harder to reach than the President himself, came into the lobby, crouched down and had a chat with the three Salk youngsters.

In the meantime, the government moved by voluntary means to assure that the Salk polio vaccine goes first to those who need it most.

Secretary of Welfare Hobby said she will name, perhaps today, a national advisory committee of seven or nine members—"small, but as broadly representative as possible"—to suggest allocation by states.

Each state is expected to set up its own system of priorities for handling its share of the vaccine. Allocation and priorities for the vaccine would be based in part on records showing which geographical area normally have the earliest upturn in cases, in part on which age groups have the most cases (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Formosa Wary of U.S. Intention

Nationalists Awaiting Arrival of Americans With Hope, Fear

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist China awaits arrival tomorrow of Adm. Arthur W. Radford and Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson with a mixture of fear and hope.

It is a fear that the head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the State Department's troubleshooter are coming to tell Chiang Kai-shek that the U.S. will not help him defend the offshore islands, Quemoy and Matsu.

The hope rested on a theory they might be coming for one last look around and a final sampling of conditions for a report to President Eisenhower before he decides finally what to do in the Formosa Strait.

Radford and Robertson are due tomorrow.

Chinese sources said they would meet with Chiang Sunday afternoon.

The Nationalists insist repeatedly that they would not give up Quemoy and Matsu, the tiny island chains off the Red China coast at Foochow and Amoy Harbors.

Grandma Makes Youth, 19, Admit Nine Robberies

CHICAGO (AP) — A grandmother took her 17-year-old grandson to a police station yesterday and persuaded him to admit he and another youth robbed nine hotels in the last month.

The grandmother, Mrs. Katherine St. Leger, told police at Hyde Park Station she acted after learning that police were looking for her grandson in connection with the holdups. He is James St. Leger, a high school student. Police later arrested Arthur Erickson, 18.

Police said the youths, who were held without charge, admitted robbing the hotels of $1,058, four of them within one hour April 11.

Chou Offers to Talk Peace on Formosa Situation

BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai of Red China said in a formal statement today his country was ready to negotiate with the United States to relax the tensions in the Far East "and especially in the Taiwan (Formosa) area."

The statement was issued during sessions of the 29-nation Asian-African conference.

Chou was quoted by delegates as saying earlier that "China has no intention of going to war with the United States."

Chou's statement said in part "The Chinese people do not want to have a war with the United States of America. The Chinese government is willing to sit down and enter into negotiations with the United States to discuss the question of relaxing tensions in the Far East, especially the question of relaxing tensions in the Taiwan (Formosa) area."

The Red Chinese premier's statement had been expected since delegates who attended an informal luncheon meeting reported Chou told them his government was ready to negotiate on Formosa.

Sources said then, however, that Chou did not indicate with whom he would talk over the future of the Nationalist Chinese-held stronghold.

Following the luncheon, Chou brushed into the conference meeting place for the afternoon sessions surrounded by his usual bodyguard.

Reporters asked him if he had anything good to say. For the first time at the almost a week old conference the stern faced Chinese smiled.

His bodyguard cut off reporters and Chou went into the meeting room.

Sir John Kotelwala, the prime minister of Ceylon, arrived hurriedly at the meeting place and was asked how things were.

"I am feeling fine," Sir John said, "it is very good." Earlier Pakistan's prime minister, Mohammed Ali, had told correspondents that Chou En-lai had authorized him at the luncheon attended by the leaders of India, Ceylon, Burma, Indonesia, Philippines and Pakistan, to give out a statement before the committee.

"It is a very good statement," Ali said.

At the previous morning session, Chou said:

"China does not want war with the United States."

He also invited any delegates who had any suggestion that would release the tensions to speak up.

Chou made the statements in a 60-minute speech before a closed meeting of the conference's No. 1 political committee. Delegates said the Peiping chief did not specifically mention Formosa, but they quoted him as declaring:

"We want to settle all our disputes with peaceful means. If there are any here who can facilitate settlement of disputes between China and the United States they will be most welcome."

"I respect the political and economic systems of the United States," Chou said, "and China has no intention of going to war with the United States."

Chou Is Ignoring Delegate's Note on POW Fliers

BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP) — Rep. Sam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) said today he has asked Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai for a conference on the 11 U.S. fliers imprisoned by the Peiping regime but has not yet received any answer.

The New York congressman told a news conference he made his request in a written note, clearly marked unofficial, delivered to Chou on Thursday. In it, he said, he offered to meet with the Red Chinese leader anytime within 24 hours after the note was delivered.

Powell said he had not even received an acknowledgment of the note from the Peiping delegation. The New York Negro leader is attending the Asian-African conference here as an unofficial observer.

He said he had not consulted with U.S. diplomatic officials before writing the letter.

down separating the men from the boys."

"The market for red meats is expandable but it takes price concessions to achieve it."

Garper traced the industry's difficulties to government controls which this year will take many acres out of cotton, wheat and other basic crops. He added that another complicating factor is the oversupply of feed grains.

The net result, Garver said, may be much cheaper feed which in turn may encourage overproduction of livestock and poultry, thus depressing prices of these farm commodities.

This is exactly the line of thinking of the Agriculture Department which has been doing what it could to choke off a

Farm Loans Pay Off Debts

Federal Land Bank Advances $143 Million in 6 Months

WASHINGTON (INS) — Officials of the Federal Land Bank System said today that farmers are using a large share of the loans advanced by the bank to pay off old indebtedness.

The chief advantage in this type of credit is that the borrowers usually get the benefit of lower interest rates.

At any rate, business at the banks is booming. During the last six months of 1954 about 24,000 loans totaling $143,000,000 advanced through the 1,100 farm loan associations scattered across the country.

Of this amount, sources in the Agriculture Department's Farm Credit Administration estimate that about half was used to refinance old real estate mortgages.

On top of this, these same sources calculate that another 13 per cent went toward refinancing chattel mortgages, notes and accounts.

Between 18 and 19 million dollars of the credit advanced by the banks in the final six months of 1954 was used to buy farms. This represented a slight increase over the same period in 1953.

Farmers borrowed somewhat more than 14 millions to pay for repairs and improvements to buildings and land they already owned. The remaining 20 millions or so was used to pay for farm machinery, to buy livestock, and for general farm operations.

Economists See Rough Going for Livestock Industry

WASHINGTON (INS) — Leading farm economists have been anything but optimistic in speeches before the 15th annual meeting of the Animal Health Institute in Washington.

The Institute represents firms which manufacture medicines for combating livestock and poultry diseases.

Walter B. Garver, who heads the U. S. Chamber of Commerce's agricultural department, told the gathering that the livestock industry may be headed into very troubled seas.

He declared: "During the next two to five years we may be headed for some challenging adjustments in the livestock industry that may be pretty rough and that may amount to a show-threatening build-up of feed grains.

Carl H. Wilken, an agricultural analyst who has offices in Washington, made a plea for higher farm price supports. He said that until farm prices are restored to parity the economy is teetering on a cliff ready to go over.

Wilken did not specifically recommend 100 per cent of parity price supports, but he indicated that he would favor them.

Even the most enthusiastic farm bloc members in Congress hope for no more than a return to 90 per cent of parity on the basic crops, and the general feeling is that even that hope is very slim.

Wilken told the Institute: Farm prices at parity are a necessity and not a subsidy. They measure

The Institute represents firms which manufacture medicines for combating livestock and poultry diseases.

Walter B. Garver, who heads the U. S. Chamber of Commerce's agricultural department, told the gathering that the livestock industry may be headed into very troubled seas.

He declared: "During the next two to five years we may be headed for some challenging adjustments in the livestock industry that may be pretty rough and that may amount to a show-the production of new wealth and determine the income which all other groups can enjoy."

The economist estimated that 70 per cent of all the raw materials produced in the country come from the farm and he said that 55 per cent of that is in the form of livestock and dairy and poultry products.

Wilken thus concluded that, in large part, any economic expansion for the country as a whole depends on the health of the livestock industry.

Existing surpluses, he said, should not be a bugaboo but instead should be regarded as the best possible investment to assure future economic expansion because they protect the livestock industry.

Wilken told the Institute: Farm prices at parity are a necessity and not a subsidy. They measure

Famous Trichologist Tells Truth About Saving and Improving Hair

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Pontiac, Michigan, Sunday ONLY, April 24, 1955. Private demonstrations will be held at the Pontiac Hotel on Sunday ONLY, April 24, 2 P. M. till 9 P. M.

CHICAGO (Special) — In an interview here today Mr. E. V. Safranski, internationally famous trichologist and director of the Millard and Scalp Specialists said: "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED "The Millard firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding scalps, offer a guarantee."

Once a person avails himself to the Millard treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this we offer this guarantee: "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be returned."

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED First the Millard specialists are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this last category.
