Gemini 10 Nears End

Return Begins at 3:31 P.M.

Recovery Units Ready for Atlantic Landing

Command pilot John W. Young, a Navy commander and space-walker Michael Collins, an Air Force major, planned to trigger the retrorockets on their fuel-short spacecraft at 3:31 p.m. EST to start a fiery descent.

The landing in the Atlantic about 550 miles east southeast of Cape Kennedy was timed for 4:07 p.m.

A recovery force of ships and planes headed by the helicopter aircraft carrier Guadalcanal was stationed in the planned landing zone, where weather conditions were reported good.

Until the reentry, the astronauts were to drift through space, conserving their precious remaining fuel and conducting whatever photographic and scientific experiments they could.

3 DAYS ALOFT

They were ready to come home after three days aloft.

In that period they had had the hatch open three times — twice for Collins' business outside and once to jettison items no longer needed.

Despite problems that forced Collins to cut short two space excursions, the flight of Gemini 10 was rated one of the best U.S. man-in-space trips yet.

'REWARDING MISSION'

"John and Mike performed magnificently."

Lunney said Gemini 10 proved the feasibility of rendezvous with both an active and a passive satellite — the Agena 10 and the Agena 8, that man can survive outside a spacecraft, and that a manned satellite can dock with a fuel tanker in space for long periods and use its engine for maneuvering.

Noted Director Is Appointed to Head Staff

Brings State Its First Professional Resident Repertory Company

Meeting at OU today, the Michigan State University Board of Trustees approved te project and confirmed Fernald's appointment as professor of dramatic art, director of the academy of dramatic art, and the professional resident theater company.

The board's action will mean that OU will have the state's first professional resident repertory company and take a leading position in the cultural expansion of Southeast Michigan.

According to OU Chancellor Durward B. Varner, the academic portion of the program will be a regular part of the university. The professional theater will be the responsibility of the wide area it will serve.

As projected, the performing arts center would provide season-long professional theater, performed by the professional company, some members of the teaching staff and well-known visiting theater performers.

CLASSICAL THEATER

Current plans call for the first production this December.

During his period of guiding the Royal Academy, Fernald, 59, trained a number of now well-known actors and actresses, including Albert Finne, Peter O'Toole and Susannah York.

He recently was described by actor Peter Ustinov as "one of the prime architects of England's impressive array of young actors and actresses who are so much in demand on the stages and screens of the world."

★ ★ ★

In a transatlantic telephone interview last week with The Press, Fernald indicated he would prefer to establish a theater first, with the drama school following as a natural development.

★ ★ ★

"If you have a good theater, then you want to perpetuate it, to train actors to graduate into it," he said.

As outlined by Varner, the drama school would eventually have 100 students, and performances would be given in the Wilson Hall theater, which has a seating capacity of 1,000 to 1,200. Offices of the center would be in the same building.

★ ★ ★

Financing of the performing arts center is expected to come from foundations, federal assistance and interested individuals, Varner said.

COCHAIRMEN OF CENTER

Mrs. George Romney and OU benefactress Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson will be honorary cochairmen of the center, with Charles Adams, executive vice president of MacManus, John and Adams advertising agency, as general chairman.

Violence in Cleveland Leaves Five Wounded

By The Associated Press

Five persons were wounded early today, including a teen-age Negro mother and her two children, as police and troops fired on a car near the scene of a fire which destroyed a dance hall and skating rink in Cleveland, Ohio.

The scene was near a section which has been wracked by rioting since Monday night.

Among those wounded was Capt. James Pletcher. The National Guardsman was struck in the leg by a ricocheting slug.

Diane Towns, 16, identified as the mother of the two children, was wounded in the face and shoulder.

Her son, Emanuel, 7 months, was shot in the leg. Her other child, Christopher Green, 4, was in serious condition with a head wound.

★ ★ ★

RIDING IN AUTO

Police said all were riding in the automobile which was fired on.

The driver, who escaped injury, was not identified.

Union Cancels Vote Call; Airline Strike Talks Go On

WASHINGTON (AP) — The striking Machinists Union canceled today its plans for a vote on the latest offer of five strike-bound airlines and federal mediators said the negotiations will continue until the walkout is settled.

The AFL-CIO International Union of Machinists sent telegrams to strike leaders in some 30 cities calling off scheduled weekend votes among the strikers, who had been almost certain to reject the airlines' offer.

Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds said talks will continue "just as long as there is a fruitful possibility of progress" toward ending the two-week strike tying up some 60 per cent of the nation's air traffic.

Although bowing to heavy pressure from President Johnson and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to cancel their plans to break off negotiations at noon to prepare for a vote, union spokesmen said they would not rule out the possibility of going back to the vote plan later.

Wirtz had said such a vote without a contract agreement between the negotiators would be a pointless farce.

Chief airlines negotiator William J. Curtin had withdrawn all management offers because of the union's plan to take a vote, which would only have served to delay the talks for nearly a week.

Lawyer Says Speck May Not Survive

CHICAGO (UPI) — Richard Speck's lawyer said today the accused slayer of eight nurses is so weak "I'm fraid we might lose him."

★ ★ ★

Public defender Gerald Getty, appointed to defend Speck, said he feared his client might not live to stand trial.

Speck is suffering from a probable heart attack and from an infection stemming from his attempt to commit suicide by gashing himself with a piece of a broken wine bottle Sunday.

★ ★ ★

They spoke for only a few minutes and Getty did not mention the charges against Speck.

IN LOW VOICE

"He spoke in such a low voice I had to lean over very close to hear what he said," Getty said.

Speck was nearly incoherent and "extremely weak," Getty said.

Getty said he knew nothing of a report that Speck murmured constantly "I don't remember . . . I don't remember."

Ideal Weather Follows Area's Long Heat Wave

Poets may acclaim the perfect day in June but what about weather this week? Skies are cloudless, breezes balmy, temperatures warm during the day and cool at night.

★ ★ ★

The weatherman is a pretty good fellow after all. He gives us blustering storms, high winds and sizzling temperatures then favors us with perfect weather.

The mercury will dip to lows of 48 to 57 tonight and climb to 77 to 85 tomorrow. Partly cloudy and slightly warmer is Saturday's forecast.

Variable winds at 5 to 15 miles per hour will continue.

A balmy 56 was the low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury reading was 81 at 2 p.m.

January Grabs Lead in PGA

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Former North Texas State star Don January, playing the monster Firestone Country Club course with methodical finesse, carved a one under par 34-35-69 today and grabbed the early first round lead in the golden anniversary PGA Championship.

The 36-year-old Dallas, Tex., pro birdied the first hole and then put together a string of 17 straight pars for his sub-par round.

January, who has not won a major tournament since 1963, was the only player among the early finishers able to master Firestone's difficult par 70, 7,180-yard layout.

January, who was the PGA championship runnerup in 1961, has done no better than a tie for fourth this year (in the San Diego Open). He finished in a tie for sixth in the Masters.

Five Persons Found Dead in Tenement

NEWARK, N.J. — Five persons were found dead today in a fourth-floor apartment in a Newark tenement.

The dead include a man, a woman, two little boys and a little girl. They were found in a five-story tenement building.

The bodies were discovered when a neighbor saw blood seeping out under the front door of Apartment 405.

He called the superintendent, Emelio Gonzalez, who broke down the door and found the bodies.

The man was found dead on the bedroom floor with his throat slashed from ear to ear. The two boys were found dead in a bed and the girl in another bed in the same room. The woman was found on a living room couch.

Unions Protest Austerity Moves

British 'Pinch' Hurting

LONDON (AP) —Prime Minister Harold Wilson's austerity program strengthened the pound today but brought protests from trade unions, the backbone of his ruling Labor party.

Wilson narrowly averted a major split in his Cabinet over a cutback of nearly $2 billion in Britain's spending, much of it for defense.

Britons were faced with a period of economic hardship unequalled since World War II.

The primary aim of the program is to cut down on spending at home and abroad and promote exports to eliminate the perennial deficit in foreign exchange that has brought the pound close to devaluation.

There have been heavy sales of pounds in recent weeks touched off by fears of devaluation.

EYE REACTIONS

Wilson presided at a Cabinet meeting that studied reactions at home and abroad to the government's emergency moves, including a call for wage-price-dividend standstill, the imposition of higher taxes and tightened controls on consumer credit.

Deputy Prime Minister George Brown attended the meeting after twice offering to resign and then late yesterday decided to stay.

Brown, who directs the nation's over-all economic policy, said he believed expansion, not retrenchment, was the answer to Britain's sick economy.

TOTAL RISE

This represented an improvement of about one-eighth of a cent, bringing the total rise since yesterday's austerity announcement to 11-32 of a cent.

In international monetary terms, this was a big jump. Shares on the London stock market also improved with gilt-edged and securities showing gains.

But on the labor union front, there were ominous signs of rebellion against the wage pause urged by Wilson.

Winnie Files Suit on Ballot

Wants Withdrawn Rival's Name Off

A candidate for the 16th District senate seat filed suit yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court to remove from the Aug. 2 primary ballot the name of a woman who has withdrawn from the race.

The legal action was initiated by Birmingham attorney Dale A. Winnie, who is seeking the Republican nomination over the incumbent, Sen. Robert J. Huber of Troy.

Winnie, 40, of 135 Chewton is asking the court to restrain the Oakland County Election Commission from preparing and delivering any ballots containing the name of Mary Bawden.

WITHDREW LAST WEEK

Mrs. Bawden, 977 Gordon Lane, Birmingham, announced her withdrawal from the campaign last week.

She explained that she believed that the incumbent could be more effectively opposed by one candidate than by two.

At the time, she said she was aware that her name would still appear on the ballot since state law requires candidates to withdraw within 72 hours after the June 14 deadline for filing petitions.

"Our political philosophies are similar, as contrasted to Huber's," said Winnie, "and voters now have a much clearer choice."

DISENFRANCHISED

"Voters who do not know that Mrs. Bawden has withdrawn and unintentionally vote for her will be disenfranchised," said Winnie.

By law only the names of candidates appear on the ballot, said Winnie, "and Mary is no longer a candidate."

Winnie said he filed the suit in his own behalf and for "the voters who are not informed and able to vote for the candidate of their choice."

★ ★ ★

"This will be a close contest," said Winnie. "A four-year term of office is at stake. The votes cast for Mrs. Bawden could make the difference."

BLANK STICKER

County Election Clerk Mabel Child said that if the court rules in Winnie's favor it would be possible to place a blank sticker over the name of Mrs. Bawden.

3 Yank Planes Lost in N. Viet Strikes; More MIGs Sighted

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Viet Nam's antiaircraft defenses shot down three more U.S. Air Force planes — one a radar ship packed with electronic detection and jamming gear — as American pilots ran through another barrage of missiles and sighted more Communist MIGs, the U.S. military command announced today.

The twin-jet RB66 reconnaissance plane with a crew of six was the second of its type reported lost in the war. The other planes brought down in raids Wednesday were both single-seat F105 Thunderchief fighter-bombers, bringing the announced toll of American aircraft over the Communist North to 298.

All eight airmen were listed as missing.

The North Vietnamese fired off nine Soviet-built surface-to-air missiles and American pilots sighted six Communist jet fighters, the U.S. command said. There was no report of any clashes with the enemy planes.

USUAL POLICY

Under the U.S. command's usual reporting policy, there was no announcement whether the planes were lost to missiles or conventional ground fire.

The RB66 was hit about 70 miles north-northwest of Hanoi, while one of the Thunderchiefs went down on a strike 60 miles north-northeast of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman said.

The location of the other loss was not immediately announced.

Seven American planes have been reported shot down in North Viet Nam this week. On Tuesday, a missile knocked down one U.S. plane and a MIG17 got another. American jets encountered a record barrage of 29 SAMs.

LOSSES DECLINE

U.S. combat casualties declined sharply last week, a military spokesman announced. He said 65 Americans were killed, 368 wounded and none were missing in action in the week of July 10-16, compared with 10 killed, 620 wounded and seven missing the previous seven days.

The casualties brought the number of Americans killed this year to an unofficial toll of 2,456 and to 4,304 since the beginning of U.S. involvement in the war on Jan. 1, 1961.

Total allied combat dead for the week were reported as 279, of which 209 were Vietnamese, an increase of 44. Allied forces estimated they killed 1,200 Communists.

The number of government troops reported missing declined to 39 from 106 the week of July 3-9.

Conservative Clubs Battle

Old, New Groups Vie Over Use of Name

Battle lines have been drawn between two organizations with the same name, the Oakland County Conservative Club, one four years old, the other newly formed.

Arthur J. Brandt Jr., president and cofounder of the senior club, said today he will continue using the name despite a request from officers of the other club to stop using the designation because theirs is registered with the county clerk.

An engineer from Bloomfield Township, Brandt said he has no intention of dropping the name because it has been registered with the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing since March 25, 1965.

"We're on safe ground by a year and four months," said Brandt, who established the Oakland County Conservative Club with Robert Olney of Royal Oak, the vice president, in October 1962.

The formation of the new club was announced yesterday by two county Republican leaders, Charles Lyle, chairman of the 18th Congressional District Committee, and G. Doyle Dodge, the organization director for the GOP.

INFORMING BRANDT

In a letter informing Brandt of the new club and requesting that he cease using the name, Lyle said:

"Because of the bad publicity gained by many of the extremist groups, we felt that the honest, genuine, constructive conservative was being tarred unfairly with a situation not of his making, and we think that this condition will now be corrected in the near future."

Brandt termed the letter, which was sent to news media, as a "smear tactic."

ism and repeated throwing of fire bombs — made with bottles of gasoline — in the area, where ruined stores still smoked from fires set Tuesday night.

The death toll in the rioting remained at two.

Guardsmen patrolled in jeeps and on foot, and sealed off the Negro section to traffic.

Nearly 2,000 of the combat-ready troops were called in.

There was continued looting and rock throwing after Mayor Ralph S. Locher's statement that "We are going to restore order."

In Chicago, only 700 of more than 3,000 National Guardsmen, activated after three nights of rioting there last week, remain on duty today.

VANDALISM WANES

Buddhist, 18, Sets Self Afire

In critical Condition; Monk's Fast Goes On

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — An 18-year-old Buddhist monk set himself afire today after South Viet Nam's most militant monk, Thich Tri Quang, told a religious meeting he would continue his 44-day antigovernment fast.

The young monk, identified as Quan Tuong, was rushed to a hospital in a critical condition but was still alive two hours after he had doused himself with gasoline and squatted in the muddy street outside Buddhist Youth Institute headquarters.

It was not immediately known if Quan Tuong heard Tri Quang repeat his demand that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky resign.

People at the scene said Quan Tuong's attempted suicide was thwarted when he fell backward into a puddle of water.

STAYS ON FAST

Tri Quang told the meeting at the Buddhist Youth Institute, outside which Quan Tuong set himself ablaze, that he had been asked to end his fast, but declared he would not do so.

He left a hospital bed to attend the meeting and was escorted into and out of the building on the arms of two monks.

Between May 29 and June 17 this year — when the angry minority of Buddhist dissidents were at the peak of their power — 10 monks and nuns burned themselves to death. Since 1963, there have been 22 such ritual suicides in South Viet Nam.

executive committee will be named later.

Varner said that young leadership in the communities served will be sought to help make the performing arts center a success.

In giving the background which led to the establishment of the center, MSU Board Chairman Warren N. Huff pointed out the growth of the Meadow-Brook Festival series of concerts by the Detroit Symphony.

NATURAL EXTENSIONS

Expanding the festival and then starting a summer music school were natural extensions toward the goal of a performing arts center, he said.

Fernald originally was considering establishing a similar project at Richmond, Va. It is possible that he may conduct a spring and fall drama festival there while on leave from OU, Varner said.

Born in California, Fernald moved to England with his parents as a child. He became a British subject 19 years ago.

Married to actress Jenny Laird, they have a daughter Karin, who is also an actress.

The trustees also approved the appointment of two staffers for the center.

Both are associates of Fernald at the Royal Academy. They are John Broome, who will teach movement, and Robin Ray, who will teach acting technique.

Helen Marie Taylor, who was instrumental in bringing Fernald to America, will be associate producer, and Howard Coffin of the OU staff will handle public relations for the theater.

30 Picketing Motorcar Firm

Some 30 employes of the Motorcar Transport Co., 1280 Joslyn, began picketing the firm's main gate this morning in protest of alleged unfair labor practices.

Joe Bane, president of Teamsters Local 614, declined to describe the union action as a strike, but indicated that drivers employed at Motorcar "don't want to work."

Bane said an unfair labor practice suit was filed with the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) last Friday after the company granted what he called a wage increase, hospitalization and life insurance benefits to clerical workers.

The complaint charges that Motorcar made the move in an attempt to thwart union organization of clerks and secretaries.

Management officials were not available for comment on the suit.

Bane said picketing would continue at the company until the complaint is heard by the NLRB.

"That could be as long as six to eight weeks," he said.

A spokesman for Pontiac Motor Division said a work stoppage at Motorcar would have "no effect" on delivery and transportation of Pontiacs and Tempests.

Dump Owner Given Notice

Health Departments List State Regulations

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — The owner of a land-fill operation on Bald Mountain has been given until Aug. 1 to comply with certain state regulations before "appropriate action" is taken against him.

Representatives of the state and county health departments extended last Tuesday's deadline after an inspection of the dump showed that Charles MacRae was making an attempt to comply with regulations.

The inspections held during the past week were prompted by spontaneous combustion-ig-

MacRae was given a list of seven steps he must take before another inspection on Aug. 1. He must:

- Stop a pond containing chemicals from draining onto adjoining property to the south.
- Order additional equipment, which he claims he has done.
- Adequately cover exposed rubbish on a daily basis.
- Stop water from flowing into the chemical pond creating flooding conditions.
- Place only inert material such as concrete blocks on the open face of the back of the hill.
- File proper applications for a license with the Oakland County Health Department.
- Obtain a bond by Aug. 3.

The recent inspection was made by Fred Kellow of the Michigan State Health Department, Robert Coleman and Oscar Boyea of the Oakland County Health Department and State Representative Robert J. Slingerlend (D-Lake Orion).

School Tax Levy Boosted in Rochester

ROCHESTER — A $7.3 million bond issue and a slight increase in county tax allocation account for the increase in the school tax levy set by the board of education Monday night.

Voters approved the bond issue last April, thereby approving a ½-mill increase in the bonded indebtedness levy.

The ½-mill increase to 7 mills qualifies the district to borrow from the State Bond Loan Fund for building projects.

Street Work Pact Awarded

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has awarded the contract for township road improvements to Fyke & Sons, Inc., of Berkley.

The company's bid of $54,160 was the lowest of four bids received.

Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz said the work on the roads would begin as soon as the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission gives the township permission to issue bonds to cover the cost.

Owners of property fronting on the roads will be assessed $7.49 per foot of frontage. The assessment will be paid over a 10-year period.

Approximately 130 residents will be affected.

Lake Restoration Planned

Fight For Shrinking Orchard Lake Water Line

ORCHARD LAKE — Thanks to a concerned group of lake area property owners, steps will soon be taken to halt the apparent evolution of Orchard Lake into a lily pad-studded mill pond.

Headed by William W. Gotshall, 3081 Walma, the Orchard Lake Conservation Committee hired an engineering firm to make a survey of the problem of the lake's steadily receding shoreline and to offer a plan for its restoration.

According to Gotshall, Orchard Lake is currently about 4½ feet below its normal level of 930.5 feet above sea level.

SPRING-FED

The lack of rain has been especially damaging to Orchard Lake because it is a spring-fed lake and does not have a watershed, said Gotshall.

Most other lakes in the area have watersheds and are not dependent on ground water. Many are fed directly by the Clinton River.

Orchard Lake, however, is entirely dependent on rainfall and the water table. It discharges water into the Clinton River, rather than being fed by it.

More people are moving into the community, using more water and making increased use of sewers.

WATER USAGE

A private well combined with a sewer represents a total loss to the lake area since the water is drawn off of the water table and then diverted away after it has been used, he said.

Homes which have well-septic tank combinations do not seriously affect the lake level since the water is eventually returned to the water table.

Building projects have filled in swamps and other natural water collection areas which normally feed the table.

The engineering survey conducted by the firm of Pate, Hirn and Bogue, Inc., of Detroit, was financed by contributions from about 65 per cent of the lake area residents.

Results of the firm's study and its plan for the lake's restoration have been presented to the County Board of Supervisors and approved by that body.

SET HEARING

The board has yet to set a date for a circuit court hearing on the plans.

If the court endorses the engineering firm's recommendations, the drain commissioner would be assigned the task of establishing and maintaining the designated water level.

The drain commissioner has assumed this responsibility already for 18 lakes in the county.

SPRING HELP

In the spring, with heavy rains and melting snows and a swollen Clinton River feeding Cass, this could be expected to add about a foot to the level of Orchard Lake.

No water rights would be violated, said Gotshall, since only surplus water would be used and the water levels of Cass and the Clinton River would not be diminished.

With the usual rainfall the lake level could be expected to fall to about 929.5 by the end of the summer.

At the earliest, Gotshall said, the plan could be operative by next spring.

Troy Bank Board Elects Architect

TROY — Architect Minoru Yamasaki has been elected to the board of directors of the Troy National Bank, President Edward A. Rusin announced today.

Yamasaki, 3077 Livernois, becomes the 13th member of the board and fills the newly created seat approved recently by the board of directors.

"Because of Troy's rapidly expanding commercial, industrial and residential development, Mr. Yamasaki's wealth of experience in architectural, design and engineering areas will be invaluable to us in the years to come," Rusin said.

Artists booths will cover a three-block section of South University and East University avenues. The fair is open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on the closing Saturday.

Turpentine a Tre(e)at

PORTLAND (AP) — Basil Kinney says he has an American Elm tree which is thriving by guzzling turpentine.

Kinney said he noticed last fall that the tree was showing signs of ill-health —it was losing some of its leaves and several branches near the top were completely bare.

He said he had read of several trees being nursed back to health on a turpentine diet, so he decided to give the tree an occasional nip.

He drilled a hole in the trunk and ran a rubber hose from the hole to a bottle filled with turpentine.

This spring, he resumed the process and so far the tree has consumed five pints of turpentine.

Kinney said the therapeutic cocktail has done wonders for the tree and the bare spots are gone.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — An airliner with 38 persons aboard skidded to a halt in a shower of sparks on a foam-covered runway at Carswell Air Force Base early today after a 300-mile detour with a malfunctioning landing gear.

An official said no one was injured.

There was no fire immediately visible as crash and rescue equipment raced from the edges of the airstrip toward the plane. Just before touching down, the Braniff Electra's landing lights went out.

★ ★ ★

Passengers began alighting from the plane onto the foam-flooded pavement seconds after the landing before about 200 people standing outside base headquarters.

The craft had a crew of five and 33 passengers. It apparently developed hydraulic trouble, a Braniff spokesman in Houston said, after its Oklahoma City stop.

His Plans Took Wing

Flight Is for Birds, He Finds

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Got a minute? Well, spend it contemplating the discoveries of Victor M. Gonzalez, 42, who spent a decade thinking and doing in the dusty attic of the aerospace age.

His study of flight started simply enough. He stood in the middle of the Mojave Desert, two 15-foot fiberglass wings strapped to his arms.

He flapped.

Nothing happened.

CABLE BROKE

When Gonzalez sat down to think it over, a cable connecting the wings broke. "Aha!" He thought as his arms were wrenched to the ground, "The principle of leverage."

And so it went, as Gonzalez devoted himself to determining the principles that keeps birds in flight.

★ ★ ★

His formal education consists of high school in Puerto Rico and a course in watch repair. As a working machinist he knows how to weld.

After the Mojave disappointment, Gonzalez returned to his Los Angeles home. "I studied birds, butterflies, bees, grasshoppers. I even studied flying fish."

PIGEONS

He bought 25 pigeons and clipped their wings in different designs. He removed all the feathers from some birds' wings, replacing them with cloth cut in a bat-wing effect.

Separately, he began work on his aluminum-frame "ornithopter" — two wings mounted on a sulky-type carriage driven by bicycle pedals and chain.

"Then, three years ago," Gonzalez says, "I saw it for the first time. The secret of flight." His 5-foot-3, 110-pound body was stretched on his lawn as he watched a bird.

"I noticed a bird's body moved up and down while the tips of its wings stayed in the same plane. That was it.

OPTICAL ILLUSION

"Birds don't flap their wings. That's an optical illusion. Their bodies move up and down."

He incorporated appropriate changes into his ornithopter, lengthened the wings to a 42-foot span, and added a propeller.

★ ★ ★

Back to the Mojave. A gust of wind collapsed the wings. Back to the shop. Repairs. Back to the desert. He forgot to put a pin in a drive wheel. The gears stripped. He never left the sand.

"I think I accomplished what I set out to do. I have discovered the principle of wing-flapping flight."

With that, Gonzalez gave his machine and plans to the University of California at Los Angeles and turned to other pursuits, poetry and the guitar.

Johnny-on-Spot Was Uninformed

Nobody thought to tell Mike Morio, an attendant at a nearby service station, what the truck was carrying and he calmly sprayed the fire out with a portable extinguisher.

America Gags on Steady Strike Diet

Do you have the feeling that the public is sick and tired of being the whipping boy in management-labor disputes?

The airline strike, for example. Or the New York subway strike.

Or transportation or public utility strikes. Or any work stoppage which poses a threat to public health or security or seriously affects public convenience or economy.

Are you wondering why some way can't be found to put a stop to such nonsense?

This is not to suggest that all strikes be outlawed. Labor has the right to stand up and fight for what it believes it should have. So has management. And the strike is a key element in any such dispute.

The effects of some strikes are largely confined to those directly involved. Other strikes, unfortunately, work real hardships on thousands and even millions of innocent bystanders.

We already have laws which are supposed to prevent this. But they seem to be blandly, even enthusiastically, ignored. They also seem to be unenforceable.

Surely, some way can be found to handle a problem as big as this. How about it, Senators Hart and Griffin and Representatives Farnum and Broomfield? Have you any ideas you'd like to pass on to your constituents?

If It Ain't One Thing, It's Another

Esperanto Disciples Talk It Up in Washington

"Strife between people will never cease until they acquire the habit of putting the name 'human being' above the name of race. In each person I see only a human being and I appraise him only according to his personal value and his deeds."

These thoughtful words are remarkable because, modern as they sound, they were written almost a century ago by Dr. L. L. ZAMENHOF, a Polish physician, father of the "constructed" language of Esperanto.

Since the dawn of history, conquest and commerce at one time or another have made Greek, Latin, and Arabic virtually universal languages. Until the decline of the nation, French was the language of diplomacy.

English was the language of commerce. National pride, however, has prevented universal acceptance and retention of any of these tongues.

The Esperantists, though few in number, are true internationalists. ELNA reports a membership of "only a little more than 500," although more than 2,000 persons are known as American Esperantists, or persons with a capability in the language. The Universal Esperanto Association has more than 25,000 members in more than 60 nations. But even its worldwide estimate of 1 million Esperantists represents only a drop in the language bucket.

★ ★ ★

At any rate, Esperantists are charming if quixotic enthusiasts. Their goal is "reciproka komprenigado inter personoj," or mutual understanding among persons — and who could want to quarrel with that?

Where There's Hope There's Life, Say Doctors

Hope is an attribute of the human soul that defies precise analysis. But it is one of the main forces influencing the destinies of men, indeed of nations.

It is a form of strength that carries the stricken through times of stress or sorrow, through mental or physical suffering.

That hope is the ally of those afflicted with disease is attested to by preliminary studies of its effect on cancer patients, conducted by psychiatrists at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine.

"There is evidence that those patients who have hope of recovery or, failing that, of being well-remembered by family or friends or who have hope of an afterlife live longer than non-hopeful and depressed patients," the researchers declare.

Hopelessness and depression, on the other hand, speed the death of patients struggling with the disease, their investigations show.

Since hope is latent in all mankind and needs only stimulus to spring eternally into being, it is a constant source of mortal strength and an ever-present antidote for despair.

N. Viet Trials Real Concern

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — Though Communist countries have a marked habit of not always following through on bellicose statements, there is real concern here that North Viet Nam may try downed American pilots as war criminals.

The concern is based in part on the effectiveness of the air strikes against oil facilities outside Hanoi and Haiphong and on the fact that U.S. authorities believe North Viet Nam is hard pressed for men and material.

As far back as last September, the North Vietnamese government threatened in a letter to the International Red Cross at Geneva to try captured American pilots as war criminals.

And yet it wasn't until last month or so that official Washington demonstrated deep concern.

There are at least three reasons for the mounting anxiety:

- The parading of dozens of captured American pilots through the main street of Hanoi July 6 before jeering crowds shouting: "Death to the American pirates. Punish the war criminals severely."
- The recent multiplicity of threats in official and semiofficial North Vietnamese quarters that the pilots would be tried.
- The psychological and material losses suffered by North Viet Nam in the devastating oil strikes, leading to the belief that Hanoi—if only for the sake of face—may feel compelled to retaliate in some dramatic way.

What would the Communists hope to accomplish by trying the pilots as war criminals?

There are several theories current here. Among them:

- Uniting the civilian population in the North behind Hanoi's military efforts in the South by hammering home the idea that the North Vietnamese are the victims of criminal action by the United States.
- Rallying world opinion to Hanoi's side via the same theme.
- Getting material help from sympathetic countries and spurring its own people to keep up the war's manpower demands.
- Turning American public opinion against President Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

The last could turn out to be a miscalculation.

Many critics of the war already have joined with administration officials in trying to head off "war crimes" trials.

Last Friday, 18 of the Senate's "doves" urged Hanoi to "refrain from any act of violence" against captured American airmen and said execution "would incite a public demand for retaliation swift and sure."

And on Monday, Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, told the International Red Cross such trials could lead to "disastrous consequences."

(James Marlow is ill.)

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ Ignored Outcry on Rioting

WASHINGTON — President Johnson had an opportunity in his televised news conference yesterday to speak out against the riots and disturbances that have been happening in the big cities and to denounce the instigators of such tragic occurences. But he preferred generalities and exhorted the people to be peaceful.

LAWRENCE

He did not heed the pleas of those members of Congress who think the time has come for the President to recognize that the "demonstrations" have incited violence in many parts of the country and that the civil-rights movement has gone to extremes.

In the President's own Cabinet, the secretary of housing and urban development has excused the riots in Cleveland and said that "if the average white American put himself in the shoes of the average black American, he would be just as angry, just as prone to violence as the Negro is today."

Humphrey defended his comments with a declaration that "intolerable slum conditions are a seedbed for trouble," but he insisted that he had also asserted that "we cannot condone violence, lawlessness and disorder."

The real difficulty is that the administration has not rebutted vehemently the mistaken contention of numerous persons that they may engage in "demonstrations" and that, even when these become riots which the police cannot possibly quell, it all comes under the head of "free speech" or "freedom of assembly."

This idea has been espoused by leaders in the civil-rights movement as well as by many white ministers.

They keep on saying that slum conditions are bad and that this is the cause of it all, but they refuse to demand that the administration adopt stern measures to suppress what really amounts to a rebellion against constituted authority by large segments of the population.

Although not every state has as yet experienced riots and the emergence of the mob spirit, reaction throughout the country is one of growing disapproval of the Democratic party — which is in control of the government — for failure to speak out plainly against those who are engineering the disorders.

★ ★ ★

The voters next November will probably speak their minds on these issues.

★ ★ ★

The administration has not been hesitant to employ its powers to eradicate discrimination in employment and education.

★ ★ ★

But when the lives and property of so many citizens — both white and colored — are endangered, it would seem to be discriminatory to fail to use the federal police power to assure all citizens that they will get "equal protection of the laws."

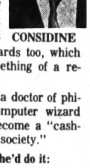
Bob Considine Says:

Computer Wizard Has Idea for Instant Credit

NEW YORK — If Melvin B. Salveson, founder and developer of the Electronic Currency System, has anything to say about it, you'll be carrying even less money in your pocket than you did before the coming of the credit cards. And fewer credit cards too, which should be something of a relief.



CONSIDINE

Here's how he'd do it:

You join the club, the good doctor's organization, and after passing certain health tests — the health of your credit, not the condition of your liver — become the possessor of a Currency Card.

★ ★ ★

Want to cash a check at a hotel or bank in a strange town? Just stick the credit card into a little machine, add the secret "password," known only to the credit card owner and all his own, and the machine okays you.

It tells the hotel cashier or the bank that you're strictly on the up-and-up and comakers are not needed, nor are arms and legs required to be left as collateral.

Dr. Salveson sees no end to the uses of such a card: department stores, grocery shops, parking lots, Rolls Royce showrooms, movies — any place in the land that charges for services rendered or goods deliverable.

It would all be done by quick-thinking, fast-reckoning computers including automated bill rendering each month, just as you can now step up to any airline counter in a major population area and learn in a matter of seconds whether there is a tourist seat available on Flight 1313 to Bombay next Whitsuntide.

Yes, yes, I know you've been saying to yourself, "Suppose I lose my card, and some bum learns my password, and runs up a whale of a bill on me?"

Dr. Salveson's magic box is geared to react violently when informed to be on the lookout for the unwarranted use of a card. It bites the card in half!

★ ★ ★

Later models, it is believed, will bite the offender in half.

Background of an Opposing Candidate Given

If you want a Congressman who is really concerned about the problems of the entire 19th district, nominate and elect Jack McDonald, who was born and raised in Oakland County.

Upon moving to Wayne County, he was elected three times to the office of Supervisor of Redford Township. He was Chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors and was named "Man of the Year" in 1964 by Redford Township Jaycees.

Mr. McDonald's position on the Board of Directors of the Michigan Township Association, and his appointment by Gov. Romney to the Committee on Local Government, have made him aware of the special problems facing local areas of government. Such knowledge as well as his demonstrated qualities of leadership surely would make him a true representative of all the people of his congresstional district.

A New Plan for Compensation of Soldiers

Those who deserve the most, get the least. I am speaking of those who risk their lives in battle on land and sea.

I suggest that all wages or income over $10,000 per year should be divided in two, half of it going to the original earner, the other half into a fund to be divided equally according to days of duty in battle zones or danger zones. The lowest recruit would make as much out of this special fund as the highest general. But each would get his own regular salary as well. This fund would be divided by points—1 point for each day or part thereof in a danger zone, plus five points for each day or part thereof in battle. All this subject to tax schedule already set up.

Anyone making a lot of money who thinks this is not just, let him trade places with one in battle, if he will.

'Balance Off Socialist Influence With Votes'

As a "conservative liberal" I would not have Michael E. Tigar restrained in any of his extreme and occasionally anti-government undertakings as long as he follows legal means. However, to find a young firebrand of his Socialistic fervor selected to fill one of the few and sought-after Supreme Court clerkships, seems to be carrying liberalism too far.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Tigar's rights do not include the right to this position. Such clerkships are high honors, and might be expected to be awarded to those equally bright students whose philosophies are more compatible with the Constitution and Bill of Rights.

★ ★ ★

Question and Answer

Almost any fool knows better than to stand up in small boats. Why didn't George Washington sit down when he crossed the Delaware?

WATER SAFETY INSTRUCTOR

REPLY

We suspect he did, even though the famous painting of his crossing shows otherwise. The artist Emanuel Leutze, undoubtedly painted it that way for effect, just as he did by clearing up the snow and exaggerating the ice in the picture. He made a couple other mistakes, too—he showed them crossing in daylight, though they really went at night, and the flag he painted hadn't even been adopted in 1776.

Medics' Training

Dogs Die So GI Can Live

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — Under anaesthetic, a dog is taken to a ballistics chamber and placed in a sling, 15 feet from a mounted 30-caliber rifle.

The animal then is taken to an operating room where a U.S. Army Special Forces medic begins a three-hour operation on the wound.

LEG AMPUTATED

When fully recovered, the dog is returned to surgery where the medic amputates a leg —again while the animal is under anaesthetic. The dog then is put to death. It has been the medic's "patient" for about three weeks.

The sacrifice of animals has one purpose — to save human lives in places like Viet Nam, says Lt. Col. Richard L. Coppedge, chief of the office of the surgeon branch of the John F. Kennedy Center for Special Warfare at Ft. Bragg.

★ ★ ★

The experiments on the dogs give the medic trainees an opportunity to treat wounds, observe the effects of shock and deal with other medical problems.

★ ★ ★

The training program is considered one of the toughest in the Army. It takes 40 weeks to complete, with training ranging from a basic aid course to a month of surgical instruction.

DUE EXTERMINATION

The dogs, say Special Forces officials, are obtained from county kennels around North Carolina and already have been destined for extermination.

★ ★ ★

But one staff sergeant reflected the general feeling of the students about their dog patients:

★ ★ ★

"Sure I've become attached to him to a certain extent. Yet I don't think I'll flinch at amputation. This has to be done. It's part of the job and that's what I'm here for."

★ ★ ★

One enlisted man put it this way:

"A mother with a son over there — Viet Nam — wants the best medic for him. That's what we provide."

Points Gun Just for Fun

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Patrolman Charles Deery walked up behind a man who was holding several people at bay in a downtown garage with a submachine gun recently and said, "What are you doing with that thing?"

★ ★ ★

"I'm just trying to scare people," was the reply from Richard Belfatti, 30, of nearby Willow Grove, police said.

The gun was not loaded, and its barrel had been plugged. Belfatti was jailed on a charge of illegal possession of a machine gun.

IT'S A DOG'S LIFE — As if things weren't tough enough, sad Sophia, the basset hound, can hardly lift her head to face the world. Why? Well, Sophia was either soft- or dog-talked into appearing as a model for a fur turban and a leather coat. She was introduced to this high standard of living as American pet products manufacturers unveiled their products in New York yesterday.

Effort Gives African Trip to Interlochen

INTERLOCHEN (AP) — It took the cooperative efforts of the Crown Prince of Ethiopia, five Kansas City businessmen and several Peace Corps volunteers to send Arega Ali 8,000 miles to the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

His journey began four years ago when Ronald Bell, a Peace Corps volunteer from Traverse City, was sent to Dessie, Ethiopia, and organized a village band. For three years Ali was a member of the band and took trumpet lessons from Bell.

When Bell left Dessie another Peace Corps worker, Esteban Vega of Puerto Rico, took over Ali's tutoring. Another Traverse City couple, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Strim, heard the Dessie band and told Vega about the Northern Michigan camp.

CONTACTED CAMP

Vega contacted the camp and asked about the possibility of sending a promising young musician to Interlochen.

With the help of a Mott Foundation scholarship, which pays general camp fees, private lesson charges and transportation charges from the student's port of entry, it was possible to select one member of the band to attend the eight-week session.

The only thing lacking was the price of a ticket from Dessie to New York — $1,100 in U.S. funds and about $3,000 in Ethiopian currency.

The student band presented concerts throughout the country, saving the proceeds for the ticket. Vega contacted other Peace Corps workers in the area, asking for help in raising the money.

5 BUSINESSMEN

Through one volunteer, five Kansas City businessmen heard of the project and sent Vega a one-way ticket from Ethiopia to New York.

For several months the village reverberated with the sounds of practice sessions as the young band members practiced to increase their proficiency and be named to attend the camp.

Still short of the required fare, the band received a contribution from the Crown Prince of Ethiopia, Asf Wossen, son of emperor Haile Selassie.

When Ali was chosen to make the trip, red tape and customs regulations posed still another problem — Ali could go to the camp but his trumpet had to stay in Ethiopia.

The setback was overcome when Ali reached Interlochen. A Traverse City music store presented him with a trumpet to use for the summer.

N.Y. Car Crash Kills 6 Men

ELLENVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Six men died today in the head-on crash of two cars near here. Three others were injured.

State police withheld what identifications they had until relatives had been notified.

Police said three Port Jervis, N.Y., men apparently were killed in one car — reportedly traveling south in the northbound lane of Route 209, which has only a white line as a divider.

The other car apparently carried six New York City men — three of whom were killed and three injured.

THREE HURT

Two of the injured were hospitalized in fair condition and one was reported in poor condition at the hospital.

The crash occurred at 2:10 a.m. near this Ulster County community in the foothills of the Catskill Mountains.

In Lonely Hearts Bunco

Bandits Trade Money for Affection

Add a young, sweet-talking man willing to fill her empty life with love and attention — until he can figure how to separate the valuables from her.

There you have the ingredients of an oft-repeated crime nationwide. It's the lonely hearts bunco game. The bandit operates without a gun and he never needs to force entry. Usually, he escapes unmarked. Only about 15 per cent of the victims prosecute.

The sums involved range up to $500,000. But in most cases weepy widows done out of their holdings by the fleeting bunco "lover" are too embarrassed to tell police.

Terry T. Olender, former deputy district attorney in Los Angeles and author of "My Life in Crime" Holloway House, outlined the modus operandi of the bunco lover during an interview.

SOMETHING OF VALUE

"There are 17 million women who live in homes without a husband," she said. "Each, but especially those with something of value, is a potential victim of the bunco lover.

"Almost always, he is younger. He flatters her, he praises her, he repeatedly says he likes the mature woman — and she believes it."

* * *

Some bunco lovers, according to Miss Olender, work on several lonely women at one time. Many, while singing the praises of the mature woman's merits, keep a beautiful young mistress on the side.

Others use the money bilked to buy a youthful, statuesque wife luxuries certain to keep her purring.

Miss Olender said the bunco lover first usually borrows a small amount of money from his victim. To prove his honesty, he pays it back almost immediately.

BORROWS MORE

The next time, he borrows a larger amount, repaying within a short span of time. He borrows more the third time and gives her a note in return — "until the deal I'm working on comes through."

Most of them have "a deal in the works."

"Then he starts to work on her bank account," Miss Olender said. "Most banks are so wary of the bunco possibilities that they investigate before releasing large amounts to older women who, accompanied by a much younger man, want to withdraw hundreds or thousands."

The first woman lawyer to prosecute major felonies in Los Angeles said a woman can tell when a bunco "lover" starts to put the touch on her.

"Right then," she said, "she should seek out the advice of an accountant, an attorney, a clergyman, a doctor. She should tell someone, for her own protection."

'Dutch Treat' Is Oldster's Proposal to Dating Companion

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There are so many people in their sixties alone and lonely for companionship and I know why.

ABBY

I am a man, nearly 65. I am retired and on Social Security. I own an old car and work a few hours to keep it running.

For the past three years I've been trying to find a lady to go steady with, but I've given up. I can't afford it.

I have met a lot of women near my age, and they are wonderful company. But the trouble is, they all expect a man to take them out a couple of nights a week, wine them and dine them, go to drive-in movies, and for drives and lunches.

One of them said, "My company should be worth that much." Well, how about MY company?

I wouldn't expect a woman to share car expenses, but if we both have about the same incomes and stretched a dollar, we could have a wonderful time if we shared expenses. Neither one of us is a prize package anymore. Why act like it?

J. IN SAN DIEGO

DEAR J.: You'd be surprised how many women in their sixties would buy the deal you propose. Why don't you lay all your cards on the table? You could draw a queen.

DEAR ABBY: How much do you think parents should know about their married children's financial affairs? I would appreciate a published reply. The interested parties might recognize themselves and take the hint. Thank you.

"YOUNG MARRIEDS"

DEAR "YOUNG MARRIEDS:" This depends entirely on whether or not the parents of the young marrieds contribute in any way to their support. If they do, they have a right to know where their money goes. If not, the financially independent young people should have the privilege of privacy.

* * *

Pilot Club Hosts Children's Party

The group presented a framed picture of "The Last Supper" to Building A for the dining room. Presentation was made by Mrs. Edgar Arnold, Mrs. Glen Dolan and Susan Coleman.

Following the business meeting, plans were discussed for an annual card party to be held in September.

Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. John Buhr and Mrs. James Campoli will attend the Cleveland, Ohio convention to be held next week.

Do Not Take Roving Tot on Visits

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: What do you think of people who take very little children to places where they should not be?

I am thinking particularly of children who are allowed to run loose in markets or up and down the aisles of movie houses and those who, when taken visiting, make a shambles of your home. —Mrs. R. P.

Dear Mrs. R. P. Although theories about bringing up children have changed radically, there was a certain admirable thought in the old adage that "children should be seen and not heard."

Very young children should not be taken to places where they will annoy other people. Movies are too long for them—they cannot be expected to sit still for two hours or more.

If they must be taken to market, little ones should be kept in the seats of the carts provided for them or, if older, told to walk beside the cart—even to help push.

Children should not be taken when the parents go visiting unless specifically invited. Small babies may be taken in carrying baskets and left to sleep in another room, but toddlers are a perpetual care unless there is a play room or yard where they can be left with the hosts' children.

* * *

The clothes of the bride's and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests, are described in the booklet, "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception."

To get your copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Keep Nails Short

False finger nails can be flattering. However, wear them at a flattering length which is just beyond the tip of the finger. Clawlike nails are far from attractive to the average man.

Polly's Pointers

Tip for Plant

DEAR POLLY — I have an answer for Cleo who wanted to know how to care for her Bird of Paradise or Strelitzia reginae plant. This is a suckering type herb that grows in a clump to a height of about three feet and keeps spreading with age.

More blooms appear if it is grown in a pot or tub. It likes a sunny location and rich fortified soil. A mixture of peat and topsoil is fine and there should be good drainage to the container. It likes to be moist but not wet.

To get prolific blooms the plant should be fed at least every three weeks during the spring, summer and fall with a natural organic liquid plant food. A well-fed plant should remain in bloom most of the year.

When the plant grows too large for its present pot, shift to one a bit larger or, if you prefer smaller containers, divide the plant. This plant is tropical but will stand some cool weather.

It will freeze at about 30 degrees so the tub containers make it easier to move inside when the weather is extremely cold.—ALICE

GIRLS—This answer came from the director of information of the Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association so should be most dependable. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer is for camera fans. When you take your camera and film in the car when going on a vacation, keep them in a small styrofoam ice chest (of course without ice) so they will not get too hot or receive too much sunlight. They are protected in all ways. —SHIRLEY

DEAR POLLY—As a working housewife I find the column heaven-set in order for me to efficiently manage my home, husband and two small children as well as my office job.

I have found that an ordinary gum eraser or a typewriter eraser is ideal for cleaning the scuff marks from my light-colored shoes.—BETTY

Plastic Bags Are Useful on Trips

Plastic bags have taken to the road this summer since homemakers have discovered these versatile household aids are also a boon to the traveling family.

Sandwich-size bags are perfect for packing small, hard to find items such as hairpins, jewelry, make-up, sewing kits, soap and washcloths.

They will also protect stockings from snags and keep stamps and gum-backed labels and envelopes dry until ready for use.

The large food storage-size bag is handy for packing shoes and sweaters.

And if you pack clothing for more than one member of the family in the same suitcase, the clothes can be easily identified by making each bag with the owner's name, particularly if two or more children are nearly the same size.

PROTECTION

Include extra plastic bags for bathing suits and wash clothes that are still wet when it's time to close the suitcase and move on.

An extra bag in the glove compartment will hold a damp cloth for wiping sticky fingers. If you are traveling with one of the diaper-set, sprinkle a little talc in a plastic bag and you'll have a deodorized diaper bag when the need arises.

Clear plastic bags are also handy for litter and for keeping up with crayons and toys, not to mention protection for road maps and guide books.

★ ★ ★

Men may scoff, but it is also practical to slip a couple of plastic bags over your hands to save your manicure if you get stuck and have to open a hood or help change a tire.

Stain Chart Is Available

Many soap and detergent companies make stain charts available. Labels on many laundry products offer sound advice on stain removal. And many neighborhood coin-laundries have stain charts for free distribution. The Laundry Council also distributes them free. Write NALCC, 7 S. Dearborn St., Chicago 60603.

Skin Blooms Again with 2nd Debut

With this non-surgical face lift, lined, prematurely aged faces appear to have suddenly been reborn. Hard to find are even the most fearsome signs of on-coming crows feet and crinkles that inconsiderately shouted your age just a few days ago. Smoother now is your skin to a finger-tip touch with a fresh young feeling of moisture beneath, and roses tinting your cheeks. For 2nd Debut gives a true lift without the surgeon's scalpel—a lift that lasts a long time, an ageless look that's much more intriguing than common youthfulness. The lift comes from underneath as you apply 2nd Debut on the surface. 2nd Debut [with CEF 600] for the woman of no more than 40. 2nd Debut [with CEF 1200] for the impatient lady a few years older—at good department and drug stores.

Alcoholic's Family Also Needs Guidance and Direction for Daily Living

By JEANNE NELSON

With blackened eyes and swollen face the wife of an alcoholic gazes into the mirror Monday morning and sees the results of her husband's week-end drinking binge.

Others who are aware of the situation, wonder why she doesn't leave him. Sometimes she does, but frequently, only to return again.

★ ★ ★

Her worn-out reasoning for remaining is usually the same: the children, financial security; she thinks he'll stop drinking; or she loves him too much.

SHE'S SICK TOO

What she fails to admit is her own sickness which enslaves her. In most cases, the wives of alcoholic husbands have one of two tendencies in common—the need to suffer or the need to inflict suffering upon another.

Police department files are filled with records on calls made in family disturbances.

The same wife who called the police hysterically demanding they come and protect her from a husband's drunken rage, will, when the officers arrive, refuse to sign a complaint against the man.

Where does this leave the police? Law enforcement officials are hesitant to take a man into custody when they may find themselves with a false arrest charge.

The wife would like to have him locked up overnight, or until he sobers up but rarely does she want more than that.

The laws are explicit about protecting a man within his own home. Police have found that the simplest way to handle these cases is to stand by until the wife and children leave the home.

The children are a different story. If, when the police arrive, they find youngsters who have been physically abused, they are allowed to and will take the children from the home and put them under protective custody.

AL-ANON

Just as help is available to the alcoholic through Alcoholics Anonymous, so similar help can be found for the family of the alcoholic through Al-Anon.

While this fellowship is not affiliated with AA, it embraces the AA doctrine.

If the alcoholic mate refuses help or even if he is a sober AA member, the family in most cases needs assistance with their own lives.

By attending Al-Anon meetings, the wife will discover, first, that her problems are not unique.

She will find plenty of company, in the other wives and husbands who have been through many of the same situations she had thought exclusively hers.

The sharing of these experiences at meetings lessens her fear and shame at coming into contact with people once again. Living with the alcoholic means social activities have been greatly curtailed.

Within the fellowship of Al-Anon the non-alcoholic spouse is able to find a pattern for family survival.

There is no way possible for a wife to impose her will upon her husband to make him stop drinking.

But she can learn to separate herself from it. She can reduce the tensions, resentments and hatreds that alcohol has inflicted on her life.

If the family financial picture is bleak, Al-Anon may provide courage and help to restore the woman's confidence enough for her to consider employment.

Living in her unhealthy environment for so long may have led her to believe she is worthless as an individual and lacking in the strength to stand alone.

In the case of a recovering alcoholic husband, the wife soon discovers that the thing she has longed for over the years, her husband's sobriety is now her worst enemy.

Perhaps in the past she had been forced to assume the lead role in the family because of his irresponsibility. Now she must take a back seat to her husband's decisions and let him exercise his role as head of the family.

And what of the time involved in attending AA meetings?

Many wives, when their mates become sober, forget that it will take time away from the family and are sometimes more resentful of the sobriety and what it entails, than the drunkenness.

To understand these confusing feelings is the job of Al-Anon. The most important lesson to be learned is that the problems have not stopped although the drinking has.

There are those women who attend Al-Anon meetings simply for social outlet. This too can be a good thing for it has probably been missing in their lives for a long time.

Their mate's drinking problem caused them to feel an outcast among other non-alcoholics, but in Al-Anon fellowship they receive total acceptance.

With the success of Al-Anon, Ala-Teens was formed. Again, the same sort of fundamental program is now working for the youngsters of alcoholics.

Through this program they are able to discuss their own frustrations and fears on a common ground.

A Beauty Hint

Margaret Merril advises that it is quite simple for every woman to promote an English countryside complexion. Her hint to gain a peaches-and-cream loveliness is to damp a cloth with cold water from your refrigerator and press it over your face for a few minutes once or twice a day. Then, to hold the good of the complexion-beautifying cold water smooth on a little tropical oil of Olay. This oil is rather scarce and expensive but your drug store should be able to get you a small supply.

On Vacation Trips

Children Are Relaxed With Calm Parents

NEW YORK — Many youngsters who relish the idea of rocketing to the moon may be extremely poor earth travelers. The reason rests with their early experiences when on the road with the family.

It doesn't take a $25-an-hour psychoanalyst to explain this phenomenon.

A baby absorbs the attitudes around him and an infant who travels with parents who are relatively calm and well-organized is soon a seasoned traveler.

Trips that become family battling grounds cause more than one upset stomach.

Parents are not Pollyannas when they team up to overcome unpleasant situations when traveling with childr

Before a trip begins, set ground rules on allowances for the youngsters. A good lecture on behavior in restaurants is also an aid to group control when traveling.

Of the approximately 4 million babies born each year in the United States almost all take some trips with parents before they are 3 years old.

The mother who packs a separate kit for baby, takes along baby food or formula and tells the motel or hotel there will be a baby to cater to is doing herself a favor, too.

IRRITATED BABIES

Babies are irritated by new routine. The squalling of tots in railroad, airline or bus terminals lets everyone know when they are upset by this.

Try, as much as possible, to maintain his routine. A tote bag used as baby's traveling case saves scrambling for necessities.

On a planned motor trip, excursions to small communities are fun. But there had better be something on the side of the road for youngsters older than four to see or do.

It is the unusual child who is content to wander through innumerable antique shops with his parents.

Take along a few games for day or overnight stops. Mary Hilt, game editor for a publishing company, suggests a checker set, magic slate, a favorite doll or stuffed toy, soldiers and cars.

When traveling with children, the father who insists on driving through 10 or more hours will find he has a rebellious tribe on his hands upon arrival.

A pleasant stop for lunch and a morning and afternoon break relieve travel boredom.

TAKE POTLUCK

Many families on vacation trips to other states like to take potluck on hotels, motels or camp sites.

However, with the increase in family travel, it is easier on the nerves to phone ahead for reservations.

Maps prove great fun when trip.

Later, the youngsters can mount the maps, post cards and other trip mementos and be ready for their annual "show and tell" when school resumes.

From Hopsack to Gabardine

For fall, a new bonding process permits the creation of doublefaced wool fabrics of a sort that cannot be produced by the double-weaving process. A rather loose hopsack, for example, in a gray or neutral tone can be bonded to a bright, tightly-woven, crisp, gabardine.

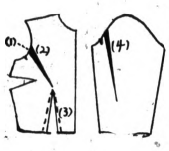
SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Many of you have written about an armhole that has a bulge of fabric in front. I have noticed it usually occurs when a woman has a large bust and is very thin at the armhole. The bulge usually appears just about where the notch in the armhole is marked.



• Draw a line on your pattern from the front armhole notch to the end or point of the dart under the bust. Now cut the center of the bust dart from the waistline to the point.

• Make a small fold in the armhole, using the line as a guide. Make the fold no more than ¼ inch wide at the armhole. Taper to nothing at the point of the dart.

• When you fold your pattern for this adjustment, you will notice the dart under the bust will spread and become larger. This will give you the extra shaping you need for a larger bust.

• Be sure to add a fold in the front part of the sleeve the same size as the fold in the armhole. If you haven't a very thin arm, you will have to add extra width to the sleeve again. If your garment is sleeveless, be sure to take the same fold out of the facing in front. This is a little drafting tip and must be done accurately, so please file away these instructions for future use.

Dear Eunice Farmer:

Is it possible to make our own swimming suits? So many of the suits today are made of cotton anyway. Please give us some hints. A group of my friends want to make them because our parents won't give us so much money for the few inches of material you get in a ready-made suit.

Judy T.

Dear Judy:

Yes, I'm sure you can make your own bathing suits. I have seen some darling ones with the matching jackets made by high school girls. In fact, you can copy some of them for less than $5, where the ready-made ones would cost over $30 for the ensemble.

Usually the fabric is used double, especially for the bra part. It often works out well to actually sew the front part of an old bra right into your suit. It will become easier to get a good fit. Remember to finish all the seams well. Usually this is done in a French seam that won't come apart easily.

Instead of making the jersey pants the patterns suggest, just tack a pair of cotton panties in your suit that you can buy. Depending on how brief the suit is, you may want to reinforce the jersey panties in the back and undersection.

Use a heavy zipper for the closing. There is usually so much strain and pull on a zipper. Also, be sure to use an extension under the zipper and apply the larger grippers to this extension. You can find these used on your ready-made swim suits. When you close the grippers first, there is less strain on the zipper.

Please let me know how you come out.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Mary C. Thomson, Ogdensburg, N.Y., wins a Tailor Trix pressing board for her knitting suggestion.

"Since circular needles are much more comfortable to use than 14 inch knitting needles, I figure the total number of stitches needed for the back and both fronts of a sweater. Knit back and forth on the whole sweater until you reach the armholes. Decrease the armhole stitches and start the sleeves on sock needles the same size.

"When the stitches are up to the armhole, take off the required number, the same as if they were the ends of a long needle. Then the sleeve stitches are put on the circular needle where the armholes are cast off. A small opening is all that is left for sewing when the sweater is finished.

"The sleeve decreases can be done on a raglan sweater by marking with colored markers to keep the place. This turns out so much neater than a sweater knit in 5 separate pieces and then sewed together. You are also always sure that the sleeves are the same length, as well as the fronts and back coming out even. The buttonholes would be made later by machine or hand if desired."

Money Plan Frees All

NEW YORK (UPI) — Successful family money management plans involve the whole family, particularly in discussing family goals and choices, says Blake T. Newton Jr., Institute of Life Insurance president.

"The idea of setting up a family spending and saving plan may first appear to limit a family's spending options," he said.

"But in reality, sound money management opens up such a broad range of options that many families have come to regard their budgets as a kind of declaration of financial independence."

Curtain Rises for Jaycettes

A theater party on Aug. 2 was the subject of discussion for members of the Waterford Jaycettes at a recent meeting.

Mrs. Timothy Patterson and Mrs. Richard Shipman assisted the hostess, Mrs. Richard Schwab of Waterloo Street at the event.

Other activities discussed were a family picnic scheduled for Aug. 14 and an autumn benefit sale.

Mrs. Patterson reported on the story hour program at the Waterford Township Library.

Keeping the outer surfaces of ears clean goes a long way toward preventing inner ear complications. So make sure that your children wash around — and back of — their ears twice daily, using a well-soaped washcloth.

Exercises Are Needed by Wee Tots

MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP) — A shortage of trees in suburban areas prevents children from learning to climb to heights, and constant reprimands from parents keep them from the freedom of jumping and reaching, officials of the Montclair YMCA believe.

★ ★ ★

To correct these lacks an exercise class just for youngsters from two to five has been started at the "Y" under the instruction of Mrs. Donna Light, a specialist in teaching exercises.

The program allows the tots to "improve coordination, balance, and generally to let off overactive steam through running around," Mrs. Light says.

Hemlines Hover at Knee

ROME (UPI) — Italian high fashion designers were having their doubts about the short-short skirts today.

It was a question of inches and the knee was never really covered but international buyers and press had the feeling that the anti-mini-skirt forces were rallying.

BIKI

Biki of Milan presented a collection that was briskly tailored and brightly colored. Hemlines were not quite high enough to completely bare the knee.

This designer highlighted her collection with reversible fabrics — brick and brown, lettuce green and hibiscus, emerald green and beige.

Capes predominated in the Biki collection. They were sleekly tailored and worn over slim little two-piece suits. Biki also fancied knee pants peering out from under slim skirts.

The leader of the anti-mini-skirt forces in Italy seems to be Princess Irene Galitzine. She kept her hemlines hovering around the knee but seldom bared it.

The whole Galitzine line was built on curves and bias cuts to achieve a softly romantic look that did not lend itself to shortening.

Purple was the key color of the Rome collections — in all the shades from lilac to royal. As basic colors go, brown appeared to have ousted black in Italian fashion circles.

Little black dresses are rare enough in the collections to make the fashion experts sit up and take notice.

The purple note was accentuated by designer Forquet, whose evening clothes were an abstract art experiment in the juxtaposition of various shades of purple and red.

For formal evening, the collection stayed on the gold standard. Fabrics looked either plated in gold or silver or were lavishly embellished with jewels and beading.

Psychoanalysis 'Fad' Debunked as a Myth

NEW YORK (UPI) — Remember the "fad" of five or six years ago, with Madame America rushing to her analyst's couch to unburden her soul of the tensions caused by everything from social ostracism to dishpan hands?

Well, it never happened, according to representatives of the "head shrinker set."

Which is not to say that women — and men — are not trudging to their doctor's office in increasing numbers with troubles real and imagined.

Statistics aren't available to show any sort of trend, according to a National Institute of Health spokesman in Washington. "There's just no way to tell, because most of these doctor-patient relationships are quite confidential," he added.

ISN'T ACCURATE

"But the popular concept that rich women with nothing else to do with their money spend it to lie on the couch and tell their trivial troubles just isn't accurate," declared Dr. Moore, an officer in the American Psychoanalystic Association.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Van Buren O. Hammett, chairman of the Department of Psychiatry at Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital in Philadelphia, seems to agree.

He says current statistics show a steady but small increase in the number of psychoanalytically trained psychiatrists, which would seem to indicate a corresponding demand.

★ ★ ★

"There has been a small but definite increase in the relative number of psychoanalysts occurring within the past few years . . . among psychiatrists the theory and method (of analysis) are gaining favor, not losing it," Dr. Hammett said.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Moore says the rash of jokes and conversations about analysis which swept the United States "may have stemmed from a growing popular acceptance."

LONG TREATMENT

"But actually, analysis is suitable for only a very small group of patients," Dr. Moore said. Proper treatment often lasts for years and involves hours weekly of intense sessions between doctor and patient, he added.

★ ★ ★

"In some instances there has been over-enthusiastic promotion, which inevitably leads to disillusionment and hostility," said Dr. Moore.

He said the much-ballyhooed "rush to the couch has resulted in an unfortunate belief that psychoanalysis can be used with everybody."

Cats, Men Both Have Pet Paws

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (UPI) — The research Dr. J. Michael Warren does at Pennsylvania State University is catty.

About half were southpaws, he reports. He learned by tying a bulky glove on the favorite paw of some cats, forcing them to use the other paw to obtain meat or other rewards outside a cage.

After as many as 1,400 gloved-test trials, the cats would revert to using their favorite paw later.

Health Exam Is Beneficial

NEW YORK (UPI) — The periodic physical examination, rapidly becoming a must for many Americans, provides much benefit in personal health information to the patient, the Health Insurance Institute reports.

The Institute, citing reports published by health examination clinics, states that while checkups are by no means foolproof, comprehensive tests can detect any number of diseases or detrimental bodily conditions.

Maj. James H. Kasler

Hottest Pilot Over N. Viet Is Veteran of Three Wars

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. James H. Kasler had a hard time getting into this war. He volunteered five times before the U.S. Air Force transferred him from Germany last March.

Today, Kasler is the hottest jet pilot around.

He has probably inflicted more damage on North Viet Nam than any other individual.

He led the first raid on Hanoi's suburban oil installations. He has flown more than 70 missions against the Communists. Kasler, 40, is quiet, serious, a veteran of both World War II and Korea.

Of the raid he led on oil installations three miles from the heart of Hanoi June 29, Kasler said:

BEAUTIFUL MISSION

"It was really a beautiful mission. It went precisely as planned.

"It was one of those missions when we had clouds all the way. We refueled from aerial tankers in the clouds on the way in. We didn't break through the clouds until we were three minutes from the target. Luckily, I was dead on course in my navigation and my timing was only 10 seconds off of what I had computed it would be. So everything worked out real good.

"As soon as we broke out of the clouds, they opened up on us with their big guns. We were 20 miles from Hanoi and we picked up intense flak. It was the heavy stuff—the 85mm guns. You can tell these because you see a big red ball and then a black puff when it explodes.

"They have flak guns all up and down the Red River Valley. On the way back, we spotted 25 trucks on a mountain road and we shot up 12 of them."

WWII ACTION

Kasler just managed to get into World War II. He was 18 in 1944, and he squeezed in six combat missions as a tail gunner before the war ended in 1945. During the Korean war, he served 10 months in combat, flying 100 missions in F86 Sabre Jets and downing six MIGs.

Sheep Protein Insertion Ups Output of Wool

By Science Service

SYDNEY, Australia — By inserting protein directly into the fourth or last stomach of sheep, Autralian scientists believe wool production could be tripled.

New South Wales researchers found that when sheep were fed only enough grass to keep them alive during severe drought conditions, they produced six and a half pounds of wool annually.

When a small amount of protein was introduced into the sheep's fourth stomach, wool production increased 15 to 20 pounds.

When the same amount of protein was fed to sheep normally so it passed through all stomachs, the increase in wool was negligible.

If protein passes through the first three stomachs, bacteria and protozoa use it to break down foodstuffs, explained Dr. K. Ferguson, assistant chief of the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization's division of animal physiology.

Professor Dies

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. Chester E. Evans, professor of management at Wayne State University, died Tuesday night of a heart attack. Dr. Evans, 51, had been at Wayne since 1956. His widow, two children and his mother survive.

Soviets Hand Hanoi Troop Decision

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

MOSCOW (AP) — To judge by Moscow statements this week, the Soviet Union has put a significant part of its foreign policy in the hands of Hanoi.

* * *

Soviet leaders say Hanoi now has the right to summon armed volunteers from this country to fight in Viet Nam.

Whether the situation is that simple is a subject of diplomatic speculation here.

Premier Alexei N. Kosygin told two visiting prime ministers that this country will not take any initiative toward peace in Viet Nam unless Hanoi asks for it.

* * *

OWN INTERESTS

There are many signs that the Kremlin thinks its own interests lie in an end to the Viet Nam war.

There are indications Soviet leaders want a peaceful world in which they can concentrate on domestic development.

But they cannot do anything toward achieving it without appeasing to be letting down the Communist side.

So Kosygin told Harold Wilson of Britain and Mrs. Indira Gandhi of India that the Kremlin will do nothing on its own in moving toward peace in Viet Nam.

At the same time, Kosygin reiterated that Soviet "volunteers" might go fight in Viet Nam.

OFFERED BEFORE

When volunteers were first offered early last year, there were the qualifications that they might go to North Viet Nam "in case of necessity" and if Hanoi asked for them.

This seemed to leave the Soviet Union some choice in deciding what was necessity.

Now, Kosygin told Mrs. Gandhi, the government will enable volunteers "to go to Viet Nam with the necessary weapons" if Hanoi asks.

No longer is the northern part of Viet Nam specified. But what is causing diplomatic speculation is the lack of the extra qualification about necessity.

It would appear that Hanoi alone has the choice whether volunteers go, whether Soviet citizens are to shoot at Americans in Viet Nam.

WORLD WAR III

Whether, in fact, the war is to take an important new turn that might put it a bit closer to a general international conflict which future historians — if there are any — would call World War III.

There is a possibility, however, that something lies hidden behind this public position on volunteers.

Some diplomats suggest that the Kremlin might have an understanding with President Ho Chi Minh that he would not simply go on Hanoi radio one day and say the time has come for Soviet volunteers to appear.

Foreign Students Chase LBJ in Yard

WASHINGTON (AP) — Running, screaming students from overseas pursued President Johnson around his back yard.

With a cagey detour he outwitted them, then returned for more.

Shrubs were flattened. Cedar limbs were broken. Flowers were smashed.

Johnson strolled to the south lawn of the White House yesterday to greet 3,086 American Field Service students from 59 countries.

The students were ready. Cameras were up, pencils out.

He spoke briefly, urging the young people to seek peace, fight poverty, ignorance and disease and work toward world understanding.

"I have been assured that you are future leaders of your countries—future prime ministers and lawmakers and first ladies," he said. He left the platform amid more cheers.

Ropes holding back the students sagged and secret Servicemen closed in around the President as the future prime ministers surged forward.

MOB PRESIDENT

White House police tried to push the crowd back and student chaperones appealed for order. It was too late.

BEHIND ROPES

Miners Stage Short Strike

End of Hunt for Girl Protested

CALUMET (AP)—Workers at the Calumet Division of Calumet & Hecla, Inc., staged a short strike Wednesday, protesting the end of the search for a 7-year-old girl.

★ ★ ★

The girl, Ruth Ann Miller, fell into one of the company's abandoned mines Saturday. The search was called off Tuesday when it became apparent that the lives of miners trying to find her body were endangered by the deteriorated condition of the mile-deep mine shaft.

★ ★ ★

Hope for the girl's life was abandoned earlier.

Miners walked off their jobs earlier Wednesday, but returned after talking with union and company offials and learning of a letter from the girl's family.

Ruth Ann's stepfather, Eugene Taylor, wrote:

"Mrs. Taylor and I are deeply disturbed by reports of dissatisfaction by some people with the decision to discontinue efforts to recover our daughter. This decision was reached jointly by ourselves and mining company and government safety experts. We are aware and deeply grateful that the rescuers were willing to continue the great personal risk. But fear of an even greater tragedy influenced our decision."

Private funeral service was to be held at the mine today.

Hickory Smoked Turkey Barbecue

You'll need a barbecue with a rotisserie and a hood. Any size turkey may be successfully barbecued, but check your manufacturer's directions for a maximum size limit.

Marinate turkey as directed; sprinkle with MSG.

Insert the spit rod of the rotisserie through the center of the turkey body cavity, parallel to the backbone, running it through the center of the neck skin. Insert one spit fork or skewer firmly into the breast, the other into the tail. Tighten the screws securing these with pliers.

Tie twine around the turkey to hold the wings close to the body. Tie the legs together in back of the spit so that the thighs are not pressed against the body and the dark meat will cook faster.

Test the spit for balance by rotating between palms. The bird must balance on the spit so it will turn smoothly throughout the cooking period.

Insert a roast meat thermometer into the thickest portion of the thigh or breast, being careful not to touch bone.

Place the spit on the rotisserie, with turkey about 6 to 7 inches from the coals.

Sprinkle about ½ cup pre-moistened hickory flakes over the coals every 20 to 30 minutes during cooking.

★ ★ ★

Fasten sheets of heavy-duty aluminum foil over open half of barbecue from edge of hood to the side of the grill to help trap and retain the hickory smoke for maximum flavor. A 12-oz. package of hickory flakes is enough for a 10-pound turkey.

★ ★ ★

Marinate Bird, Then Grill It

At least two but as many as eight hours before barbecue time, lay turkey or turkey pieces on a large sheet of wide, heavy-duty aluminum foil and shape foil slightly up around turkey. Pour marinade over turkey and completely wrap foil around turkey, sealing it securely so marinade is held inside.

Place in a large bowl or pan to catch any escaping marinade and marinate in the refrigerator for 2 to 8 hours, turning the bird in its package frequently so entire turkey is well-flavored with marinade.

Teriyaki Marinade: Blend 1 pint sauterne wine, 1 6-oz. bottle soy sauce, ½ cup salad oil, 1 cup chopped onion, 1 teaspoon Ac'cent, 1 teaspoon garlic powder, and a 1-inch-long piece of ginger root (peeled and grated) OR 1 teaspoon ground ginger.

Lemonade Marinade: Blend 1 pint lemon-flavored carbonated drink, ½ cup soy sauce, ½ cup salad oil, ¼ cup lemon juice, ¾ cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons grated lemon rind, and 1 teaspoon Ac'cent.

Barbecue Long White Potatoes

From California, where outdoor cooking has developed into a fine art, come these ideas, using the State's all-purpose long white potatoes.

Long Whites with butter or margarine and thinly sliced onions, plus cheese wrapped in heavy duty aluminum foil, are barbecued over glowing coals.

Serve with barbecued meats or turkey or with shishkabobs made of hot dogs, mushrooms, tomato wedges, green pepper slices and pineapple cubes.

ONION-POTATO BARBECUE

6 potatoes
¼ pound butter or margarine, softened
3 medium onions, thinly sliced
grated Parmesan or cheddar cheese

Wash potatoes and cut in half lengthwise. Score the flat side of each half two or three times the length of the potato, and four or five times across.

Spread with softened butter or margarine and season with salt and pepper. Cover one-half with thinly sliced onions; sprinkle with grated cheese.

Top with potato half and place on sheet of heavy-duty aluminum foil. Brush potato skins lightly with oil and wrap tightly. Lay potatoes on grill and barbecue 45-60 minutes, turning several times. Potatoes are done if they feel soft when pressed with an asbestos-gloved thumb.

Timetable for Rotisseried Turkey

(Follow manufacturer's directions for rotisserie temperature setting.)

Ready-to-Cook Weight	Total Cooking Time
4 to 6 pounds	1½ to 2 hours
6 to 8 pounds	2 to 2½ hours
8 to 10 pounds	2½ to 3 hours

Spoonoodles Are for Dessert

1 3-ounce can (2 cups) chow mein noodles
1 cup coarsely chopped nuts
½ cup honey
¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter
½ teaspoon vanilla
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch flavored morsels

Combine chow mein noodles and nuts in mixing bowl; set aside. Combine honey, sugar, butter, vanilla and salt in saucepan and bring to full boil over moderate heat, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat; add butterscotch morsels and stir until melted and smooth. Pour over noodles and nuts; mix gently until coated.

Drop by heaping teaspoons onto waxed paper on baking shet. Let stand until set or chill until firm. 32 spoonoodles.

Rolled Turkey Roast Convenient to Serve

The new way to buy turkey is ideally suited to both outdoor cooking and barbecuing on an indoor rotisserie. A turkey roll lends itself to oven barbecuing as well.

★ ★ ★

Allow about ½ pound per serving when selecting your roast. Marinate and barbecue it in the same manner that you would a whole bird.

★ ★ ★

This symmetrical roast is well suited for rotisserie cooking. Insert the spit through the center of the roast. Insert skewers firmly in place in roast and tighten with pliers.

Peach Waffles

Golden brown sour cream waffles topped with fresh or frozen peaches are a refreshing treat. Place 1½ cups of milk, 2 eggs, ½ cup of liquid shortening and ¾ cup of dairy sour cream in a mixing bowl. Add 2 cups of pancake mix. Beat with a rotary beater until batter is fairly smooth. Bake in a hot waffle iron until steaming stops. Serve with softened butter and peach slices.

Tuna, Salmon Are Packed in Various Styles

Most stores sell canned tuna and salmon under two kinds of labels. The private or distributor label is a retail store's own label. The packer label may be available in all stores nationally. Products bearing a packer label often cost a few cents more due to the cost of national advertising and distribution.

Most canned tuna is classified either as 'white' or 'light' although some dark and blended tuna is available. Only one species, Albacore, can be marketed as white tuna.

Light tuna, the biggest seller, is more tan in color and often has pinkish tones. The flesh is generally softer and were fully flavored than the white. White is the most costly; dark and blended the least.

Salmon is usually classified as red, pink and chum. Red salmon is deep red-orange in color and the flesh is very firm. Pink salmon is pale pink, somewhat soft with relatively little natural oil.

SAUCE FOR TURKEY — Combine one tablespoon each of orange juice and dry sherry, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, one-half teaspoon each salt and paprika and one 10-oz. jar red currant jelly. Heat over low heat until jelly is melted and sauce is smooth. Chill. Serve over cold sliced turkey roast. This is Cumberland sauce. Makes about 1⅛ cups.

Two Senators Call for U.S. Restraint if N. Viet Nam Tries Pilots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. J. W. Fulbright and Leverett Saltonstall called today for restraint in any American retaliation if North Viet Nam puts captured U.S. pilots on trial as war criminals.

President Johnson offered at his news conference Wednesday a U.S. meeting with Hanoi officials on the treatment of war prisoners — or to discuss any other subject.

The President denounced threats to put the prisoners on trial as "deplorable." But he carefully avoided saying whether retaliatory measures might be taken.

Amid widespread predictions in Congress that prisoner trials would generate public demands for all-out conventional war against North Viet Nam, Fulbright said this would be a "disastrous course" for the United States to take.

Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said "if we start retaliatory action I'm afraid there would be no end to it."

★ ★ ★

"The history of warfare indicates that retaliatory action leads to barbaric conflict," he said. "I would hope that, at least, there will be no attacks on civilians in any action we might take."

Fulbright is a leading critic of Johnson's Viet Nam war policies.

Saltonstall, senior Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee, said in a separate interview that everything possible must be done to make it clear to the North Vietnamese that they cannot condemn American war prisoners as criminals as trumped-up trials.

"But we must act legally," the Massachusetts senator said. "We cannot engage in indiscriminate slaughter as a retaliatory measure. We don't want to make criminals of ourselves just because they do."

Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, told the Senate Wednesday the South Vietnamese are executing many prisoners of war turned over to them by U.S. forces. He said the United States "in the name of humanity and decency" should stop transferring Viet Cong prisoners to South Vietnamese units.

Public Defender

Speck Gets Top Aide

CHICAGO (AP) — Public Defender Gerald W. Getty, who in hundreds of trials has never lost a defendant to the electric chair, has taken on his biggest case—that of Richard Speck.

Getty, 53, has been appointed to represent Speck, accused of the methodical slayings of eight student nurses.

He said Speck, 24, will get a fair trial and a full and vigorous defense.

His grounds for making that promise are impressive.

NONE EXECUTED

In 402 jury trials in his 20 years in the public defender's office, none of Getty's clients has been executed.

He also believes capital punishment should be eliminated from the American system of justice.

Getty is taking on the case of the roving seaman, charged with one of the most heinous crimes in American history, in the full belief that a fair and impartial jury can be found in Cook County.

"I personally believe," Getty said, "because of the largeness of the county, both in area and population, that you can get a jury that will base its decision only on the evidence they hear in court."

★ ★ ★

"I know we're talking about something everyone is incensed about. But if you've got a defense—if you can show them how things happened and why—they are going to listen," he said.

NO DECISION

Getty has made no decision as to possible defenses in the Speck case: "I've only had a chance to see him for three or four minutes, and the doctors wouldn't let me talk about the case at all."

PLAY ENEMY — Dressed in black pajamas and coolie hats, these young soldiers play enemy and attempt to infiltrate U.S. positions. Unlike the real Viet Nam war, their bullets are fake.

Ugly Realism Is the Theme in Georgia 'POW Camp'

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second in a three-part series.)

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

He is red faced and weary. His clothing is dirty and in disarray. There is a coating of mud over most of his person.

"You are Lieutenant Allen?" the foreigner asks.

"That's right," the soldier replies.

Both sit down. "You are a prisoner of war, lieutenant."

★ ★ ★

"And as a prisoner, I should warn you that you have no rights. I am an officer like yourself and will treat you with respect. But my men outside are not as courteous."

PIECE OF PAPER

"Sorry."

"Sorry."

"I will ask once more, Lieutenant Allen. And if you do not sign you will be severely punished.

★ ★ ★

"Our dogs in this compound are quite vicious as you may have already observed. Sign this paper or I will turn you loose among them."

"Sorry."

RIGHT AT HOME

Such is the tone of war interrogation. But this particular one is not taking place in some Vietnamese mountain hamlet. It is happening here . . . in the U.S.A.

The lieutenant is perfectly safe. He will not be harmed. He knows the foreigner is a U.S. Army officer. Yet, despite this knowledge, he may yet sign that piece of paper.

Why? Because he is thoroughly frightened.

He is both the victim and the beneficiary of the latest mode of Army training: Realism.

★ ★ ★

And so realistic does it get that before a day at the POW compound ends, Lieutenant Allen (and some 14,000 other new officers this year) may forget it is make-believe and, through fear, do anything his captors request.

EASY TO FEEL

Truth is, such fright is understandable.

A favorite trick is to kneel a prisoner on the ground and hold his face so that it is only inches from the animal's hot breath and snarling fangs.

★ ★ ★

The camp guards are hardly happy - go - lucky either. They scream, jump up and down, issue impossible orders and forever flay the air with fierce-looking sticks.

BARBED WIRE

Implements of torture are displayed and used; one example is the "cramp box" where prisoners squat uncomfortably inside while guards beat a closed top with clubs.

"You are American swine," a sentry says.

"That so?"

"Where?"

"There in the mud, you Yankee pig."

★ ★ ★

The objective of this kind of dramatization is to familiarize the soldier with actuality. To indicate what he can expect. What to look for.

HIS ACTIONS

What he can believe and not believe. How he should and should not act . . . if and when.

But the bonus benefit of such training is perhaps more important.

It graphically indicates that combat is something more than statistics, something other than pins on a map, something else than weird sounding land areas.

It brings home some of the horror and hell.

And it brings home the problem of possibility.

For right now, this day, the possibility is that dozens of captured GIs are trying desperately to keep from signing papers for the Viet Cong.

And next week, or next month, somebody reading this may be doing the same.

(NEXT: Overemphasis?)

To Coordinate Safety Training

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Civil Service Department has appointed Edmund Herndon to the new position of safety training coordinator in an effort to reduce job-incurred illness or injury among state employes. The department said benefits for such injuries had tripled in the last 10 years and now cost more than $1 million a year.

Seminar Study

EAST LANSING (AP)—Some 225 teachers and school officials will meet July 25-29 to study how vocational agricultural education should adjust to changes expected in agriculture over the next 15 years.

53 Coroners' Only Requirement: Election

By AL SANDNER

LANSING (AP) — In this age of specialization and regulations, it's still possible for the layman to dabble in medicine — legally.

The layman, however, must first get himself elected.

He is the county coroner.

Fifty-three of Michigan's 83 counties still have elective county coroners who meet the chief requirement for holding elective office — the ability to get votes.

Most of these are funeral directors, says Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkley, sponsor of a bill to abolish the office and replace the coroners with a qualified medical examiner.

But among their ranks, he said, he found one gas station attendant, three salesmen, one photographer and one man who was unemployed.

The state sets standards to protect the general public in cases of unusual death — but in most counties does not set any requirements for the man charged with the responsibility of making the examination, he said.

Gov. George Romney vetoed the bill last week, saying that counties have the option of going to a medical examiner system if they feel it fits their local needs.

In addition, Romney said, in counties with a population of more than 250,000, the coroner must be a doctor — in effect, a medical examiner.

There were hints from Democrats that Romney's action was politically inspired.

There's a NEW LOOK in NEWS PICTURES

- - -and THE PONTIAC PRESS Has It!

The Associated Press
AUTOMATIC WIREPHOTO

This completely automated machine is your new eye on world events. It is the greatest improvement in speed and quality of newsphoto reception since newspapers began receiving pictures by wire more than 30 years ago.

WHAT IT DOES

This is from 10 to 30 minutes faster than the normal time required heretofore to process manually, first a negative, then a glossy photographic print—which is the type of print used for the best newspaper reproduction.

These Automatic Wirephoto pictures are of the highest quality. We don't even have to tear them from a roll. The finished prints drop into a tray you see in front of the machine, ready for reproduction in our newspaper.

IF YOU'RE TECHNICALLY CURIOUS

The AP Automatic Wirephoto receiver uses special paper with photo-developing chemicals built into it. The machine prepares itself for each picture reception. The paper winds around a receiving drum from a huge roll and is automatically trimmed to size.

During the eight minutes it takes to receive a standard-size newsphoto over the AP network, the electronic signal is recorded on this special paper. When the transmission is complete, the machine dips the paper into an activating solution to start the photo development, then into a stabilizing fluid to halt the development at the right instant.

It is quick-dried and in our editor's hands before AP can set the dials to start another picture humming to us over the wires.

PICTURES FROM AROUND THE WORLD

In Viet Nam, in Singapore, in London, Moscow, Rome, Washington and in our own state capital and other cities; indeed, everywhere—cameramen of The Associated Press and its members are taking news pictures day and night. These great pictures reach our editor's desk faster through the new Automatic Wirephoto receiver.

Senate's Ax Hits Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is taking out all kinds of frustrations — from the war in Viet Nam to the price of bread in a supermarket — on the foreign aid bill.

"You can cover it up all you want but the feeling is still there," Mansfield said today in an interview.

Officials of the Agency for International Development solemnly watched from the gallery as the Senate, seemingly in a mutinous mood, took the ax to the $2.4-billion economic assistance bill.

DIRKSEN TALK

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen pointed first to the need for Uncle Sam to save money and then to the spectre of inflation.

Dirksen confided that a loaf of whole wheat bread he likes for sandwiches cost 25 cents last week but when he bought it this week it was 30 cents.

"The people are beginning to get just a little excited, and just a little concerned," he said.

The Senate, he said, couldn't short-change the soldiers in Viet Nam, so he proposed cutting $250 million from the $620 million tagged for development loans.

VOTE FOR CUT

The Senate voted 59 to 34 to make the cut. Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the foreign relations committee — the bill's manager — was among the yeas.

"This has been building up for years," said Mansfield.

Now, he acknowledged, it is complicated by the war, worries about the economy, pinched domestic programs and high interest rates.

Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., used the domestic interest rates in pushing through an amendment to double — to 2 per cent from the present 1 per cent — the interest rate on the first 10 years, the grace period of the development loans.

Fulbright complained that war costs are cutting into domestic projects.

Saturday is the most dangerous day to drive, insurance companies report. Nearly 22 per cent of all fatal traffic accidents occurred on that day in 1965.

House-OK'd Defense Fund Jolts Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has jolted President Johnson's budget by adding $952 million to the biggest defense appropriation bill since World War II.

The $58 million measure cleared the House by a 393-1 vote. The lone dissenter was Rep. George E. Brown Jr., D-Calif., an opponent of Viet Nam policy.

★ ★ ★

The House action came only a day after President Johnson complained that Congress was approving more spending than he asked.

The Senate has not acted on the bill — the first of two measures to finance the nation's fighting forces for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

A supplemental bill expected to be in the neighborhood of $10 billion is due next January.

After the final vote, House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan challenged the President to veto nondefense bills that exceed his budget or to freeze funds provided for domestic programs.

COMMANDS SHIP — Capt. Raymond E. Hill, commanding officer of the Navy carrier Guadalcanal, which is the prime recovery ship for Gemini 10, and his son, Neil, 17, stand on the vessel's signal bridge yesterday in the south Atlantic. The Gemini 10 splashdown is scheduled this afternoon.

Recovery Operation Ready for Gemini 10

ABOARD U.S.S. GUADALCANAL (AP) — Gemini 10's prime recovery ship moved into position east of Cape Kennedy today ready to pick up America's third walk-in-space team.

The Guadalcanal was to take station in the primary landing zone, about 550 miles east of the Cape, shortly before noon. Ship weathermen predict scattered clouds from 1,500 to 2,000 feet with visibility unrestricted, winds of about 15 knots and waves of about four feet.

About the time the Gemini 10 crew fires its retro rockets over Canton Island, 7,000 miles to the west, Guadalcanal recovery operations begin.

Five giant turboprop helicopters of Helicopter Squadron 3 will clatter into the air half an hour before the expected splashdown. Three will be search helicopters that will climb to 8,000 feet, one hovering over the carrier and the other two 20 miles up and down range. Helicopters Swim 1 and 2, carrying Navy physicians and frogmen, will follow the search craft aloft.

Nine fixed-wing aircraft, two with pararescue teams, from Kindley Air Force Base, Bermuda, will be spaced within a 230-mile radius of the Guadalcanal. The pararescue men will parachute to the spacecraft if it lands more than 100 miles from the carrier, beyond quick reach by the helicopters.

Once, Gemini 10 is spotted near the Guadalcanal, Helicopter Swim 1, piloted by Lt. Cmdr. Bruce Fleming, Holyoke, Mass., will speed to the scene. Swim 2, piloted by Lt. Cmdr. John R. Desteiguer, Port Arthur, Tex., will hover nearby.

Bell Will Offer an Alarm Service

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. received state permission Wednesday to offer an alarm system service to warn of such things as flood, heat, cold, vandalism, low fuel or other adverse conditions. The Michigan Public Service Commission said the alarm reporting set would use telephone facilities.

Veep Answers Ford Charge

Clarifies Remarks on Trouble in Slums

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, replying to criticism by House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford, said yesterday that "every responsible American official" should understand that slums are a seedbed for trouble.

Ford had charged that the vice president was "incredibly irresponsible" in remarks he made in New Orleans on racial violence.

Ford said that Humphrey, in asserting that he might "lead a mighty good revolt" himself if he had to live in a slum, seemed to be voicing sympathy for "mob disregard of law and order."

Humphrey replied:

"Intolerable slum conditions are a seedbed for trouble, and every responsible American public official should be aware of this fact.

"This I referred to in my speech at New Orleans to the National Association of County Officials. But I also said that "We cannot condone violence, lawlessness, and disorder."

Africa, Negroes Occupy Attention of Jerry, Soapy

By the Associated Press

Africans and American Negroes occupied the attention of Michigan's two would-be Democratic senators Wednesday.

Williams spoke to a Negro group in Detroit, then left for Washington, where he'll discuss Africa today with Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y. And Jerome Cavanagh was in southeast Michigan criticizing Williams' ideas about Africa.

Cavanagh said the United States refused to pledge to help force an end to segregation policies maintained by the Union of South Africa in the mandate territory of South-West Africa. He said "most experts" believe this U.S. hesitancy caused the International Court of Justice to refuse to order an end to the segregation.

'ANOTHER CASE'

"This is another case of the same gunboat mentality which dictated our African policy when we sent military aid to Portugal, only to see that equipment used to kill innocent Africans....," Cavanagh said.

"Ex-Gov. Williams.... played an important role in all those decisions," the Detroit mayor said.

He said he had sent Williams a telegram asking him to make public his feelings about the court's action, economic sanctions against South Africa, supplying military aid to Portugal and withdrawal of support for rebels in Angola.

Before leaving for Washington, Williams addressed a mostly Negro audience of businessmen in Detroit and said the "ghetto vortex" is the American Negro's basic problem.

'POOR JOBS'

"Poor housing has led to segregated, inferior education," he said. "Inferior education has led to poor jobs and to unemployment, and poor jobs have in turn perpetuated poor housing."

He called for more federal aid to education, a higher priority for construction of low cost housing and a larger job opportunity program.

Zolton Ferency, Democratic gubernatorial aspirant, was in Washington Wednesday, where he conferred with Michigan congressmen about his campaign and took a slap at Republican Gov. George Romney.

He said Romney "does not have the gumption or guts" to propose a state tax program, and he predicted Michigan would be in the red in 1967 unless new taxes are levied.

He said he favored imposing a state income tax and reducing taxes such as those on beer and cigarettes and the business activities tax.

Pennsylvania Search Party Finds 2 Teens

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — Two cold and hungry teen-agers, both "pretty scared" were found today in a cave where they had been missing for part of a day.

Rescue workers came upon the boys, James Mancini and Harold Hartman, both 15, of Youngstown, Ohio, on a ledge just inside one of the mouths of the cave.

"They're not in bad shape," said Chuck Goodwin, one of the men who searched through the night. "They're cold. They are hungry and they're pretty scared."

Goodwin said both boys walked out about 6:15 a.m. with little assistance to a waiting ambulance. It whisked them to a hospital in nearby New Castle.

★ ★ ★

Goodwin said the searchers must have passed the boys repeatedly during the search.

"We must have passed them up a dozen times," he said.

The villagers of Balintubber, County Mayo, Ireland, are making a major effort to restore their historic abbey for 1966 celebrations marking its 750th anniversary.

Romney Choice

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney appointed George Harvey, city manager of Escanaba, to the Municipal Employes' Retirement Board Wednesday. Harvey succeeds Frank Bourke of Escanaba, who resigned, in a term expiring Dec. 31, 1966.

Cooling Air Fans Nation

South Lone Victim of Sultry Weather

By United Press International

Violent weather was reported only in the Gulf states and in northeastern Colorado.

Even Hurricane Celia calmed down. The storm, located 375 miles north of Bermuda and sporting 80-mile-an-hour winds, was not a threat to the U.S. mainland, the weather bureau reported.

STILL HOT

Sultry weather with scattered thundershowers continued to plague only the South. The afternoon mercury was expected to top the 100 mark again.

In the West, an influx of Pacific air moderated high temperatures. Scattered showers were reported in the central Rockies and Dakotas.

Wide-Range China Purge Just Starting, Reds Reveal

TOKYO (UPI) — The Chinese Communist party disclosed this week that the wide-ranging purge of writers, artists, cultural chiefs, party officials and military men has "just begun."

Mao Tze-tung's disciples made clear in two long articles in the Peking People's Daily that the purge — described as "a great proletarian cultural revolution" — is in full cry and far from ended.

The articles, distributed serially for the past four days by the New China News Agency, dealt in depth with the purges of the past and attacked Chou Yang, former dictator of literature and art, as "a black-hearted, nasty character" whose "gang of monsters and devils" plotted to seize power from Mao.

The People's Daily said the present cultural revolution is the sixth — and most profound — stage of a socialist struggle in China that has been continuing since the Communists took control of the country in 1949.

JUST BEGUN

"This great proletarian cultural revolution has in fact just begun," it said, "but it has already shown its great and far-reaching significance."

The 10,000-word article attacking Chou Yang also confirmed that the purge is continuing.

★ ★ ★

It said: "The great proletarian cultural revolution is now surging forward, wave upon wave, sweeping aside all monsters and demons that entrenched themselves in every department of culture, striking directly at their 'underground kingdom,' overthrowing the 'demon kings,' thoroughly breaking the monopoly exerted in culture by a handful of bourgeois 'specialists,' 'celebrities,' 'authorities,' and 'supreme masters' who opposed the party, socialism and Mao Tze-tung's thought, and eradicating all the old thinking, culture, customs and habits by which the exploiting classes poisoned the minds of the people, and thus opening up a brand new epoch."

★ ★ ★

The article disclosed that China's intellectual guidance has for the past decade or more been in the hands of men who freely criticized the system, attacked Mao's ideas, made pleas for freedom and individuality, and fought the rigid structures the ruling regime sought to impose.

Meatcutter on Job With New Hands

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (UPI) — Joseph Weisz slowly opened and closed his electronic hands, then told his fellow meatcutters "I'm going to make these hands do as much as any normal hands do."

The stocky, 47-year-old Romanian native lost both hands last Nov. 18 when he tried to free a piece of meat stuck in a steel meat press.

He had returned to work in March after doctors fitted him with booklike devices.

"At first I was grateful for the hooks, but I got so I couldn't stand the sight of them," he said.

★ ★ ★

NEAREST PLACE

Ten days later, on June 10, he entered the Montreal Institute of Rehabilitation, the nearest place where the hands, made in the Soviet Union, are available.

He returned to his job as a meat-cutting supervisor yesterday.

The hands are made of plastic and are operated by a small motor attached to arm transistors.

★ ★ ★

Morals Charge False--Senator

DETROIT (AP)—Sen. Bernard O'Brien, D-Detroit, said Wednesday that moral charges against him by a Michigan State University coed are "preposterous" and "entirely untrue and without foundation."

★ ★ ★

O'Brien was arrested June 3 after the girl, Marian Lukens, charged he had made indecent proposals to her on the MSU campus May 27. The senator said nine persons would testify he was in the Capitol Building at the time.

O'Brien said he met Miss Lukens only once, on June 2. He said he was with her only five minutes, then "I left her high and dry, and I went home." He said they met on the campus.

★ ★ ★

The senator said he was approached by a "Mr. Angelo" who claimed to be a friend of one of O'Brien's colleagues and who asked that Miss Lukens be considered for a job as O'Brien's secretary.

HIRED SERVICE

He said he had hired "one large investigating service out of Ohio" to probe what he termed an attempt "to smear the good name of O'Brien."

By JACOBY & SON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

After years of research we have finally discovered one rule of play to which there are no exceptions. This ironclad rule is: "All rules should be broken on occasion."

JACOBY

There is nothing exceptional about South's six-heart contract or about the way he got there. West opens with the queen of clubs and South notes that if trumps and spades both break he has a cinch. Otherwise he may have to fall back on the diamond finesse.

He takes his ace of clubs, draws trumps with three leads, and notes that East who dropped the deuce of clubs at trick one discards the three.

Then South goes after spades. On the third spade lead West discards a small diamond so South is now faced with the prospect of a sure club loser.

There is no hurry about the diamond finesse. South plays a club to his king and throws West in with a third club.

West is holding the last club. If he leads it, he will give South a ruff and discard and West is well aware of the rule never to give declarer a ruff and discard.

He is also aware of our ironclad rule as stated above. So he gives declarer the ruff and discard anyway.

He has followed the play and noted that declarer has only one trump left and that either three diamonds or two diamonds and a spade.

The ruff and discard play can't give declarer his contract. A diamond lead can. West leads his fourth club and South is forced to take the diamond finesse after all. And it loses.

ICC Postpones Rail Merger to Study Requests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads was put off another month and a half Wednesday by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The ICC, which approved the merger last spring, postponed the earliest effective date of the merger from Aug. 12 to Sept. 30 in order to have time to study nearly two dozen requests that it reconsider or postpone indefinitely the consolidation of the two eastern rail giants.

Without such a postponement, the ICC said in its brief order, "The commission would not have sufficient time to carefully and properly evaluate all the various issues in the petitions for reconsideration."

Shoreline Pest Could Become Cattle Fodder

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Red tide, a floating mass of tiny, one-celled organisms, is an annual water-born pest along the nation's coasts.

But it possibly could become a useful source of food for cattle, according to a professor of dairy science at Pennsylvania State University.

Dr. Stuart Patton suggests that cattle are especially suited for eating 'red tide' because of their unique forestomachs, which enable them to digest and use almost any material.

Since beef and dairy products make up a large percentage of food in the western world, new feed sources for cattle are of particular importance, Dr. Patton said.

Red tide is plentiful and appears on the shores of southern California as well as the southern coastal waters of the U.S. each June or early July.

It has an unpleasant odor and kills sea life.

One Newcastle man took advantage of the offer and returned a novel by Robert Louis Stevenson. The book was 40 years overdue. If assessed, the overdue fine would have amounted to about $292.

Death of Actress Revives Memory of Mate's Killing

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD—The death this month of actress Anne Nagel revived memories of a 30-year-old mystery: Why did Ross Alexander kill himself?

THOMAS

Back in the 1930s, Ross Alexander was considered one of the screen's most promising young leading men. The tall, darkly handsome actor displayed a light-comedy touch in such films as "Brother Rat" and the all-star "Midsummer Night's Dream." In looks and manner he resembled another new star, Cary Grant.

★ ★ ★

On the day after New Year's, Alexander, 29, seemed in good spirits. He and his wife, Anne Nagel, whom he had married four months before, dismantled the Christmas tree in their Encino home and discussed their plans for the coming year. They decided they would take a trip together.

That afternoon, Alexander went to the barn behind their ranch home and shot himself in the head.

SEEMED HAPPY

Miss Nagel testified at the coroner's inquest that her husband seemed happier on that fatal day than he had been for weeks. He was an expert shot and was accustomed to handling firearms, she added.

He left no notes, although his wife reported he had been writing poetry. "He crumpled the paper up and threw it on the fire," she said.

The actor's death followed a year after the suicide of his first wife, stage actress Aleta Friele. On Dec. 7, 1935, Alexander had found her body in the back yard of their Hollywood home. She had been shot in the temple by a 22-calibre rifle.

Miss Friele had been disappointed in her film career; despite several screen tests, she won no contracts. Meanwhile her husband's career flourished. For weeks she had been threatening to return to her Eastern home.

Alexander told a coroner's jury of a quarrel one night when he finally replied to her threats: "For God's sake, go home!"

A FEW SECONDS

"She jumped off the bed, ran out of the room and slammed the door," said the actor. "I still sat on the bed. It seemed it was just a few seconds later when I heard a shot."

Alexander was morose on the anniversary of his first wife's death. He sat in the bar of his Encino home with a loaded pistol. Ony the persuasion of his father induced him to relinquish the gun. Less than a month later, the actor used it to kill himself.

★ ★ ★

Friends and co-workers theorized that Alexander's lighthearted manner disguised the guilt he felt over his first wife's death. The second Mrs. Alexander seemed also marked for tragedy.

Anne Nagel continued in films for 10 years, most notably as the heroine in horror pctures. Her last movie was "The Spirit of West Point," starring Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard.

In 1957, her second husband, Air Force Lt. Col. James H. Keenan, sued for a divorce decree, charging that she embarrassed him by drinking to excess after being released from a hospital for treatment of alcoholism.

On July 6, Anne Nagel died at 50 in a convalescent home of a lingering illness.

Last Polaris Sub Launched

U.S. Feels 41 Vessels Are Adequate Threat

GROTON, Conn. (UPI) — The ultimate deadly weapon in America's nuclear defense arsenal achieves final maturity today when the USS Will Rogers, the Navy's 41st and last Polaris missile-firing submarine, slides down the launch ramp.

Like its 40 sister subs scattered in waters around the world, the Will Rogers will carry 16 solid fuel nuclear missiles, each capable of destroying an entire city. Together, the 16 missiles contain more explosive power than has been used in all history's wars.

The Will Rogers, named for the late humorist, marks the end of an impenetrable defense dream born a decade ago. The United States government feels there are now enough Polaris subs in action deep in the world's oceans to guarantee maintenance of an invulnerable retaliatory threat.

The Polaris missile, capable of smashing pinpoint targets 2,500 miles away, would be used only as the ultimate retaliatory weapon in full-scale war.

PLANS SEQUEL

The Navy has plans for a sequel to the Polaris program — the Poseidon program — but it is yet unapproved by the Pentagon.

Only nuclear attack submarines, to be used in antisub warfare, convoy protection and surface ship attack, are still in production. The Polaris is strictly an underwater missile station.

'JFK Rated Romney as Tough Foe'

NEW YORK (UPI) — A close friend of John F. Kennedy said today the late president regarded Michigan Gov. George Romney as the one Republican he would not want to run against in a presidential election.

In the current issue of McCall's magazine, Paul B. (Red) Fay Jr., Kennedy's undersecretary of the Navy, wrote that the President felt Romney "could be tough" when the Michigan governor was being mentioned as a possible 1964 GOP presidential candidate.

Romney, who is seeking a third term this fall, is considered a leading candidate for 1968 presidential nomination.

Eye Injunction in Nurse Rift

Many Give Notice in San Francisco Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Negotiators for 33 San Francisco Bay area hospitals may obtain a court injunction to halt the mass resignations of nurses demanding better pay.

The hospitals' chief bargainer, Laurence Corbett, said yesterday individual resignations were being submitted "in concert, and in consequence, constitute a strike."

"The remedy for that, if necessary, is a petition for an injunction to restrain them (the nurses) from carrying out mass resignations," Corbett added.

The total number of resignations could reach 3,000, according to a CNA spokesman.

The hospitals had suggested that the panel be set up by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, U.S. Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz and U.S. Secretary John Gardner of Health, Education and Welfare.

The price of a ton of coal rose from $1 to $6.50 in September of 1900 when 112,000 anthracite miners went on strike.

Part of Diversified Summer Recreation

Varied Playground Program in Waterford

Activities ranging from team sports and sand sculpturing to swimming and tennis lessons are provided for people of various age brackets.

But perhaps the most enlightening, inspiring activity offered is the summer playground program for children six to 14 years old.

Climaxed by special activities events held each Friday between June 27 and Aug. 12, the playground program is also marked by a diversity of activity.

★ ★ ★

Activities originating at the township's 13 organized playgrounds include trips to Belle Isle; Fort Malden, Ont.; Mount Holly; Detroit Zoological Gardens; R. E. Longway Planetarium in Flint; and the Natural Science Museum at the University of Michigan.

FRIDAY ACTIVITIES

Other activities held on Fridays include hobo hikes, bicycle rodeos, pet shows and junior olympic programs for track and field enthusiasts.

The arts and crafts program, under the direction of Virginia Fry, consists of clay sculpture, burlap tapestry, stone mosaics, collages, reed work and basket weaving and paper mache.

Products of the arts and crafts program will be displayed during the Recreation Department's third annual arts and crafts show Aug. 1-5 at Pontiac Mall.

Recreation Department officials said more than 2,200 children were registered in the playground program last year, when total attendance exceeded 20,000.

A greater turnout is expected this summer.

★ ★ ★

Other directors are Linda Elliott, Schoolcraft and Waterford Village schools; Carol Wolfe, Drayton Plains School; Sandra Rachiele, Della Lutes and Cooley schools; and Sandra Newman, Monteith and Williams Lake schools.

Dems Keenly Aware

Farmers May Carry Unrest to Polls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Years of resentment over hard work and low incomes may go to the polls with many farmers in the fall.

The Johnson administration is keenly aware of this situation. Yet administration leaders—particularly Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman—expressed exasperation as they seek from Midwestern party leaders an answer to the question, "Why are farmers so unhappy with the administration after all we have done for them?"

Freeman, himself a product of the Midwest where farm unrest is most apparent, concedes that the administration's stance among producers looms as a serious threat to the Democrats.

BEING FRUSTRATED

The secretary has shown signs of being frustrated and puzzled over slowness of the Midwestern farm belt in getting over a peeve against recent administration action to halt food and farm price advances.

A prominent Midwestern Democratic leader, a onetime state legislator and a long-time friend of Freeman, said recently the farm reaction is an expression of long-time resentment against the way farmers have lagged behind their city cousins.

A year ago the administration appeared to be riding along comfortably in farming areas. Many producers appeared to feel that administration was on the farmer's side even though some of its farm programs were questioned.

Under the administration, farm surpluses were disappearing and farm income was rising.

Then came, earlier this year, administration attacks on farm prices — attacks which were designed, leaders said, to check inflationary trends which they said were showing up in the cost of living. Immediately the cry went up that the administration was saddling responsibility for inflation on farmers when, in the latter's view, they were the major victims.

MANY INFURIATED

Many farm leaders and producers were infuriated.

The Midwestern Democratic leader and Freeman's friend, who requested that he not be identified, told the story of three cousins in a corn belt state in giving his explanation for the farm reaction against the party in power.

The three cousins, he said, started their adult careers about 25 or 30 years ago. One started in a business in a small way in a town serving a farming community. He had been a school dropout and had not gotten a college education. Another cousin, after completing a course in college, became a veterinarian, also serving the farming community.

The third cousin went into farming, starting with a small unit which over the year was increased to about a thousand acres.

DIFFICULT LIFE

"Both the farmer and his wife are stooped and broken, by the difficult life they led," the leader said. "The cousins who lived in town had it much easier. The farmer got interested in politics and became a strong Democrat because he thought that party would do more to help agriculture than the Republicans."

Now all three have sons who have completed high school.

The sons of the merchant and the veterinarian have been entered in large universities where they will have an opportunity to get professional educations.

But, the Democratic leader said, the son of the farmer faces no such prospect. His parents are trying to scrape together enough to send him to a trade school.

The Democratic leader said the farmer and his wife became bitter about the situation and the contrast between their lives and their nonfarm cousins when the administration started out after farm prices.

"The farmer exploded," the political leader said. "He swore he would never vote for another Democrat."

The party leader said this story typifies the economic contrast between farm and nonfarm people in the Midwest. Government reports show for the nation as a whole, the income of farm people is only 65 per cent of the income of nonfarm people.

Must Be 'Representative'

Court Rules on Jury Makeup

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A U.S. Appeals Court, in a landmark decision, holds that both federal grand jury and trial jury lists must be made up from a pool of persons "broadly representative of the community."

★ ★ ★

"A person need only be able to read, write, speak, and understand English. He need not enjoy that degree of excellence found only among the more fortunate classes of our society," the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled yesterday.

And the Appellate Court, in a rare "en banc" decision, said in effect that Negroes must be represented on jury lists at least in their proportion to the population.

The court nullified the convictions in two cases involving civil rights workers at Albany, Ga., in 1963.

The cases were among seven involving the question of the racial makeup of both state and federal juries studied by the court last December in a two-day hearing in which all nine justices took part.

UNANIMOUS

The reversal of the conviction was unanimous. The panel also ruled 5-4 that the indictments against the defendants be dismissed.

One case involved Miss Joni Rabinowitz of New Rochelle, N.Y., who appealed a federal court conviction on a perjury charge which stemmed from her activities in Albany for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

The companion case was an appeal by Eliza Leslye Jackson, Robert Thomas, Samuel B. Wells, Slater Hunter King, and Thomas C. Chatmon, all Negroes. They were also convicted of perjury.

The opinion written by Circuit Judge Richard T. Rives of Montgomery, Ala., now retired from the Appeals Court, said it was Congress' intent when the 1957 Civil Rights Act was passed that Negroes be placed on federal juries even if it meant lowering standards for jurors.

'AVERAGE CITIZEN'

"It (congressional action) constituted an effort to improve the judicial system where it most directly touches the lives of the average citizen," wrote Judge Rives.

The federal government which had prosecuted the two cases, asked for the convictions to be thrown out but argued that the indictments were valid.

Circuit Judge J. P. Coleman, a former governor of Mississippi, strongly dissented to the dismissal of the indictments.

Easy Dessert Has Layers of Crackers

With the sizzling heat of summer, the busy family menu-planner needs a quickly prepared dessert dish. For a dessert-in-a-minute without any baking, try Graham Banana Pudding.

Its delicious base is layered sugar honey graham crackers covered with instant banana cream pudding and pie filling mix, to which you add a few extras, like grated orange rind and nutmeg. The top of the pudding may be garnished with graham cracker rectangles arranged in a pattern.

Serve with a cold drink, like iced tea, and you are all set for a refreshing summertime sweet.

Graham Banana Pudding

19 whole graham crackers (about ⅞ of 10-oz. package)
1 package banana cream pudding and pie filling mix, 5¼-oz.
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

Break crackers into thirds and set aside. Prepare pie filling mix with milk according to package directions. Remove from heat and stir in orange rind and nutmeg.

Pour about 1/5 of filling mixture into a shallow 6-cup casserole; add a layer of 12 pieces of crackers. Repeat until all material is used, garnishing the top with the last 9 pieces of crackers. Cover with waxed paper.

Refrigerate until needed. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Spray Butter Could Be Answer to Problem

MADISON, Misc (AP) — Spray-dried butter, developed by the University of Wisconsin in powder form, may spur more bakers to use butter instead of substitute ingredients, according to the University's dairy scientists.

The powdered butter would be suitable for use by bakeries in dry cake mixes, is said to have good physical stability and to retain its fresh flavor for at least five months when canned and stored at 40 degrees Fahrenheit.

Rafts of Lettuce Topped by Bologna Slices, Fruit

Individual salads are pretty to serve for luncheons, and "Cornucopia Salad" is planned to be the complete meal. It combines cornucopias made of bologna and pineapple atop slices of crisp western iceberg lettuce. Avocado slices are added, and a delectable dressing of mayonnaise and curry powder gives this salad a refreshing flavor.

Serve with crusty hot rolls, or pass bread sticks. A fruit sherbet and sauté fish fillets with this salad.

Cornucopia Luncheon Salad

1 head western iceberg lettuce
¾ cup real mayonnaise
¾ teaspoon curry powder
8 large slices bologna
1 can (14½ oz.) pineapple slices
1 California avocado

Core, rinse and drain lettuce. Place in plastic bag or wrap in saran; chill.

Cut four 1-inch crosswise slices or "rafts" from center of head of lettuce. Refrigerate end pieces in plastic bag for use another time. Place each raft on luncheon plate.

Blend mayonnaise and curry powder; spread about 1 tablespoon mixture on each lettuce raft. Top each with 1 slice bologna.

Drain syrup from pineapple into shallow dish. Place pineapple slices on bologna. Cut remaining bologna slices in half; overlap edges to form cornucopia or cone shapes. Fasten edges with picks if needed. Fill with mayonnaise mixture; place in pineapple rings.

Cut avocado lengthwise into halves; remove seed and skin. Cut each half into 8 lengthwise slices. Dip slices into pineapple syrup. Arrange 4 avocado slices around edge of each lettuce raft. Makes 4 servings.

Spice Booklet Is Informative Text

"A Glossary Of Spices" is the title of a fascinating new booklet just published by the American Spice Trade Association.

The 24-page text includes descriptive sections on all spices, herbs and seasoning products which are nationally marketed today. It is illustrated attractively with antique botannical drawings and there is a world map inside the covers, showing the sources of spices.

Copies are available from the American Spice Trade Association, 76 Beaver Street, New York, New York 10005, at 25c a copy, covering postage and handling. Orders must be accompanied by payment.

Bacon and Cheese Supply Needed Protein in Dish

It's a savory souffle or mousse that's ideal for bridal shower or special luncheon. It is a delicately-seasoned blend of bacon and noodles, leavened with egg white and baked in ring form to serve with a cheese sauce.

Gain time with advance preparations. Your complete menu, table setting and seating arrangement should be planned early in the week; have all food purchased.

Don't lose time with hasty or inaccurate measurements. Perfect planning means using the right ingredients and careful measurements.

Take heed of preparation instructions, carefully separating yolks and whites of eggs to beat them separately. Do line the ring mold with foil and bake it in a larger pan of water.

Minute-by-minute planning will make your entertaining efforts run like clockwork; and Swiss Bacon-Noodle Ring will be your guests' delight.

SWISS BACON-NOODLE RING

2 pounds bacon
¼ cup chopped onion
4 eggs
¼ cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
6 ounces noodles, cooked

Sauce

2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup milk
½ cup (2 oz.) process Swiss cheese, diced

Cook bacon in skillet until crisp; remove, drain and crumble, reserving ¼ cup drippings. Cook onion in 2 tablespoons drippings until tender; drain.

Separate eggs. Beat yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Combine with crumbled bacon, onion, milk and seasonings in large bowl. Add noodles and mix.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into noodle mixture. Spoon into prepared ring mold. (To prepare ring mold, tightly line inside of 1¼ quart mold with 18x18 inch sheet of heavy duty aluminum foil; grease generously.)

Set ring mold in larger pan. Pour water into pan to depth of 1½ inches. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven 40 to 45 minutes, or until knife inserted comes out clean.

To serve, unmold on platter and gently remove foil. Makes 8 servings.

To make sauce: Place 2 tablespoons bacon drippings in saucepan. Blend in flour and seasonings. Add milk. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil 1 minute. Add cheese and stir until melted. Serve over Bacon Noodle Ring. Makes 1 cup.

A well greased 10x6x2 inch casserole may be used instead of a ring mold. Follow directions above to bake it. Do not unmold; cut into squares for serving.

Use Scissors

Cutting up pink or red rhubarb for a pie? Try using the kitchen scissors and making quick clean cuts so that the rhubarb doesn't "string."

Square Crust

When you are making a deep-dish fruit pie in a square (8 by 8 by 2-inch pan), prepare enough pie dough for a 1-crust pie. Roll out the pastry to a 10-inch square and, crimping the edges, seal it to the edge of the pan. Don't forget to cut vents in the top of the dough to allow steam to escape.

Summer Lunch

Flavor Is High in Drippings

To keep drippings in the best condition, pour into small jars so that the bottom layers won't become rancid. Date or number the jars and store them in the refrigerator. Use the oldest fat first.

One pound of bacon will yield anywhere from one to 1½ cups of deliciously flavored drippings.

There are any number of ways in which to use this excellent energy food. It's an ideal seasoning for vegetables. Use it as a basis for soups and white sauces. It adds meat flavor to scalloped dishes, soups and creamed mixtures.

Use bacon drippings for frying eggs, French toast, potatoes, apple slices and meats. Drippings are excellent for "buttering" crumbs for casseroles.

Light muffins, coffee cakes, gingerbread, spice cakes and rich cookies can use bacon drippings to advantage. In baking with drippings, use ¼ less than for other specified shortening because its shortening power is greater than other fats.

Flavor Drinks With Syrups From France

Thirsty days are here again. Rows of familiar soft drinks and concentrates beckon from store shelves and frozen food cabinets. They're all good, but they can be much better with the flavor of France, to perk them up.

Grenadine, a syrup of pomegranates, is an old favorite. Syrop d'Orgeat is delicious in creamy drinks that call for almond flavoring.

Sirop de Cassis breathes the sharp-sweet aroma of black currants. Sirop de Citron is the very essence of lemon, and Sirop de Menthe contributes cool mint, so welcome to a thirsty throat.

The fine mineral waters of France also add much to summer drinks.

You'll find these delicious imported syrups and mineral waters among the specialty foods in many supermarkets, and in almost all fancy food stores.

Bake Blueberry Loaf, Freeze Fresh Berries

Now you see them, now you don't. All of a sudden those big beautiful cultivated blueberries from New Jersey and Michigan's Great Lakes will disappear from the markets.

Make sure that as many as possible have gone into the home freezer. Now is the time to buy at least a crate of 12 pints to put away for off-season use. Cultivated blueberries lend themselves particularly well to freezing.

While you're at it, don't miss the chance to bake up half a dozen loaves of this delightfully delicious Blueberry Freezer Bread. Then for special occasions, perhaps once a month during the winter, a loaf can be brought forward with fanfare and fun.

HOW TO FREEZE BLUEBERRIES

DRY-PACK METHOD: Simply transfer berries from pint boxes into freezer Containers, leaving ½" headspace, seal and freeze. No need even to wash them. To use, just rinse and treat as fresh berries.

SYRUP-PACK METHOD: Prepare medium syrup by dissolving 3 cups sugar in 4 cups hot water to get enough syrup to pack 8 pints. Cool completely. Wash berries and drain thoroughly. Pack berries in containers, leaving ½" headspace. Cover with syrup; seal and freeze.

BLUEBERRY FREEZER BREAD

- 3 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅔ cup vegetable shortening
- 1½ cups granulated sugar
- 4 eggs
- ½ cup milk
- 1½ teaspoons lemon juice
- 1 cup well-drained crushed pineapple
- 2 cups fresh cultivated blueberries, rinsed and drained
- 1 cup chopped nuts
- ½ cup flaked coconut

Sift flour with baking powder, baking soda and salt. Cream shortening until light and fluffy. Gradually beat in sugar. Stir in eggs, milk, lemon juice and pineapple.

Beat in dry ingredients. Fold in blueberries, nuts and coconut. Pour dough into 6 greased and floured 6x3¼x2¼ inch pans.

Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degree) for 40 to 45 minutes. Unmold and cool on a rack. When thoroughly cold wrap breads in freezer wrapping material, excluding as much air as possible. Seal tightly and label with date.

Storage life in a 0 degree freezer — 6 months. Yield: 6 loaves, each 6x3¼x2¼ inches.

To Sweeten Tea

Combine in small sauce pan one cup sugar, three-fourths cup water, one-fourth cup lemon or lime juice and a little grated lemon peel. Cook over low heat, stirring until sugar is dissolved; then cook five minutes without stirring.

* * *

Refrigerate and use for sweetening tea instead of the usual sugar and slice of lemon and orange. Use about one tablespoon per tall glass of tea.

Bread crumbs added to scrambled eggs increase the size of the helpings and add new flavor.

FREEZE SOME — Make the season for fresh cultivated blueberries linger on by stocking the freezer not only with the big luscious blues but with a few loaves of this unusual Blueberry Freezer Bread.

Spice Roll Is Made With Pancake Mix

Beat 4 eggs and ½ teaspoon of salt until thick and lemon colored. Slowly add ¾ cup of sugar, beating constantly. Stir in ¼ teaspoon of nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon of mace and ¾ cup of pancake mix. Spread in pan.

Bake in preheated 400-degree oven 8 to 10 minutes. Immediately loosen edges; turn out on towel sprinkled with granulated sugar. Peel paper from cake; roll cake in towel.

Zippy Catsup Dressing Blends Cabbage and Franks in Slaw

"Hot Dog Cole Slaw" can be served as an extremely low cost main dish or it may be featured as a hearty side dish at a barbecue or patio party.

Whatever its role, family and guests will appreciate the special Italian accent it has, due in part to pizza catsup, ingredient in the hot dressing for this slaw. Pizza catsup is one of the new flavored catsups that educated palates are embracing.

Once tasted, these flavored catsups such as pizza and its flavor cousin, hickory catsup, will educate your taste buds to appreciate more than the humdrum flavor of ordinary catsups.

With "Hot Dog Cole Slaw" serve corn on the cob, an assortment of savory and fruited gelatin salads, chocolate cake and ice cream.

Hot Dog Cole Slaw

- ¼ cup pure vegetable oil
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon sugar
- ½ teaspoon paprika
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ¾ cup pizza flavor catsup
- ¼ cup vinegar
- ½ lb. franks, sliced
- 4 cups shredded green cabbage

In saucepan heat oil with minced onion, salt, sugar, paprika and pepper. Stir in pizza flavor catsup, vinegar and franks. Heat gently. Add cabbage to hot dressing. Cook over low heat until mixture is heated through. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

In the 3rd century B. C. cooks in wealthy Assyrian families were treated with great respect, even though slaves.

Red Wine in Sauce Adds Subtle Flavor to Casserole

Summer is a favorite family reunion time. Inspired one-dish main course is Creole Casserole, offering beef balls, vegetables and noodles in a red wine sauce.

Creole Casserole

1 package (8 oz.) medium egg noodles
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

MEAT SALAD HIDEAWAYS — Have a great time at porch supper or picnic with luncheon meat salad sandwiches made in advance. These can be foil-wrapped for heating in oven or on grill just before serving time.

Meaty Buns Foil Wrapped and Heated

Prepared in advance, these sandwiches can be kept refrigerated until ravenous appetites get the best of the family. It will take only a quick time either in the oven or on the grill to heat these through.

* * *

During the heating, the grated cheese melts and combines with mayonnaise and catchup to hold the mixture together for easy eating.

Meat Salad Hideaways

½ cup grated Cheddar cheese
⅓ cup chopped stuffed olives
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
3 tablespoons catchup
12 frankfurter buns

Combine meat, cheese, olives, onion, eggs, mayonnaise and catchup. Mix well. Split frankfurter buns almost through. Fill each bun with approximately ⅓ cup mixture.

* * *

Wrap in foil and heat over coals or bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 10 minutes, 12 sandwiches.

A tablespoon of New Orleans molasses with a dash of cinnamon in a cup of cold milk makes a delicious beverage rich in iron and calcium.

ROCK LOBSTER KABOBS—Thaw 8 lobster-tails. With scissors cut underside membrane and remove meat carefully from shell in one piece. Thread lengthwise on a skewer with an orange quarter or peach half. Combine 1 stick butter or margarine melted, one-third cup sherry, juice of one lemon and one can frozen concentrated pineapple-orange juice, thawed. Brush kabobs with mixture and cook on rack six inches above coals. Turn kabobs and brush with sauce several times during cooking. Broil until rock lobster meat becomes opaque and lightly browned. Serve with remaining sauce. Makes 8 servings.

Food Costs May Be High, but Per Cent of Income Is Smaller

Food is a bargain and some impressive government figures indicate that food consumers are being subsidized by farmers, according to Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

"If prices received by farmers had increased proportionately to prices of all other products since 1952, American housewives would have spent $7 billion more for food than they did in 1965," Director Ball said. "In fact, prices received by farmers in 1965 were 14 per cent lower on the average than they were in 1952."

Cost of food in relation to average family income is lower this year than five years ago. Only about 18 per cent of the average family's income goes for food today, as compared with 20 per cent five years ago, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture statistics cited by the director.

"We'd be spending even less for food if we bought the same foods as we did five years ago, but we've upgraded our food purchases while spending a smaller share for food."

"In addition to getting a bargain in food, consumers enjoy a huge variety of products processed and packaged to suit their desires in taste and convenience," the director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture added, "and never before has the wholesomeness of food been more rigidly guarded for consumers."

Ike, Romney Avoid '68 Talk

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Two top Republican leaders talked politics at a private conference yesterday, but both insisted they avoided the subject of presidential prospects in 1968.

Both host Dwight Eisenhower and his guest, Michigan Gov. George Romney, told newsmen after a 90-minute conference that they talked about Republican hopes for improving the party's position in 1966, rather than 1968.

Romney's name has been near the top of the speculative list for the GOP presidential nomination for a long time.

But when a newsman asked Eisenhower if he had endorsed Romney for president, both men laughed heartily and the former President said they hadn't "gotten that far."

* * *

STRONG REACTION

"If I were there," said Eisenhower, the five-star general, "there would be strong reaction."

Romney, after two terms of two-years each, is running now for the first four-year gubernatorial term in Michigan's history.

The term was made four years under a change in the state constitution.

Some 100 tourists, of all ages, typically dressed in summer travel clothes and many of them lugging cameras, crowded around Eisenhower so close following the news conference that a Secret Service man obviously was distressed.

* * *

SMALL TOURIST

He was wearing a souvenir Union soldier's hat and carrying a map of the Gettysburg battlefield.

* * *

Romney Begins Checkup Today

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. George Romney was to enter Henry Ford Hospital today for a two-day complete physical checkup.

* *

The 59-year-old governor told a news conference Tuesday it had been four or five years since he had received a complete checkup. But three years ago, he said, a heart checkup showed he had "the circulation of a young man of 20."

Ship Toll Hike Opposed

LANSING (AP) — Boosting shipping tolls on the St. Lawrence Seaway would hurt the nation and the seaway, as well as the Midwest, Gov. George Romney told congressmen Wednesday.

Romney sent a statement to the House Ways and Means Committee in Washington, which is holding hearings on the proposed toll increase.

* * *

"The national interest cannot be served by such a policy of regional discrimination whereby the industrial and agricultural heartland of the country is forced to compete at an arbitrary disadvantage with the coastal areas," Romney said.

"In addition, the resulting losses in the competitive international trade position of the entire country could further aggravate the nation's balance of payment problems," he said.

* * *

Romney urged reduction and eventual elimination of the tolls, to help Midwestern areas in the United States and Canada and to strengthen the nation's international trade position.

Veterans' Benefits—15

Widows and Children Are Eligible for Pension Protection

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 15th of 17 articles on veterans' benefits.)

By RAY CROMLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — Even if a veteran dies a natural death of old age in bed or is killed in an automobile accident on the way to work as a private salesman or catches the flue and dies, his wife and children may be eligible for a Veterans Administration pension.

These pensions are paid to the widows and children of servicemen who die of old age, disease or injury that is in no way connected with their military service.

A veteran's children are eligible for payments, either as part of the family or as indivduals after a widow dies or remarries, if they are unmarried and under 18 — or up to age 23 if attending a VA-approved school.

(However, young men and women receiving aid under the War Orphans Education Program are not entitled to further aid under this VA pension program.)

A husband-veteran must have served 90 days or more of active duty in the Spanish-American War, World War I or II, Korea to make his family eligible.

This length-of-duty qualification is waived if the serviceman-husband was disabled as the result of service.

The veteran must have an honorable type of discharge.

To be eligible when a husband dies, a widow with children must have an income of no more than $3,000 a year. A childless widow or one whose children are gown may have an income of no more than $1,800.

TO RECEIVE AID

To receive this aid, a widow must have been married to the veteran for five years, or have borne his child or have been married to him some time during the Spanish-American War, World War I or II, Korea or Viet Nam.

She must have lived continuously with the veteran from the time of marriage until his death, except where there was a separation due to the misconduct of, or procured by, the veteran without fault on her part.

(A widower of a woman serviceman can claim these benefits if he is, and was at the time of her death, permanently incapable of self-support due to physical or mental disability.)

The widow of a veteran must not have remarried.

In order to be eligible, she and the children must not have an estate "so large" that it is "reasonable" she look to the estate for maintenance.

A dollars-and-cents rule has not been established. The VA says "rules of reasonableness" are used and "each case is judged individually, giving consideration to type of property, amount of income, number of dependents and state of health."

Children who become permanently incapable of self-support because of a mental defect before reaching 19 may receive a pension as long as the condition exists — or until they marry.

An eligible widow without a child of the veteran is entitled to a pension on the following scale:

Income not in excess of $600 per year $64 per month.

With income between $600 and $1,200 per year $48 per month.

With income between $1,200 and $1,800 per year $27 per month.

Income not in excess of $1,000 per year $80 per month.

With income between $1,000 and $2,000 per year $64 per month.

With income between $2,000 and $3,000 per year $43 per month.

No pension payment if income is over $3,000 per year.

If there is more than one child the monthly payment will be increased by $15 for each additional child.

Where there is no widow (or the widow is ineligible) the minor children of the veteran may receive pension payment as follow:

One child $38 per month

Each additional child $15 per month.

Where there is more than one child, the amount payable will be equally divided among them. If the income of the child is greater than $1,800 no pension will be paid, but the child's own earnings are not to be counted as income.

There was another pension system in effect until July 1, 1960. Many widows and children are receiving benefits under that stytem. They may continue to do so.

They have the option of changing to this new system, but there are advantages and disadvantages to shifting, depending on individual cases.

Once they change, they can not change back again.

Lansing Strike Ends

LANSING (AP) — Striking Lansing city workers voted last night to accept a contract including a 3-cent-an-hour wage boost and end their three-day walkout.

About 250 city workers struck Monday, despite a threat of dismissal under the state's no-strike law for public employes.

Jerry Wurf, international president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, said the settlement provided that none of the strikers would be dismissed.

The strikers were to return today to their jobs with the public service, parks, traffic and civic center departments.

Earlier yesterday two Ingham County circuit judges issued an order prohibiting the union and its members from wilfully staying off the job.

CITY EDICT

In addition, the city had declared any worker not on the job today would be dismissed.

Wurf said none of the union officers had received copies of the order.

"We would not have negotiated if we had been served with the papers," he said.

Under the settlement, Wurf said, the city agreed to drop the injunction and a $600,000 damage suit against the union.

* * *

He said the union agreed to drop unfair-labor-practices charges against the city.

ELIMINATE ISSUES

"The basic problem — the refusal of the city to negotiate on gut issues — has been eliminated," Wurf said. "A fair and honorable contract has been worked out."

He said the contract provides an across-the-board pay raise of three cents an hour for about 400 workers currently averaging around $2.50 an hour.

The one-year contract also provided grievance procedures and improved sick-leave, Wurf said.

GOP Plans More Campaign Centers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican Ntaional Chairman Ray C. Bliss, sensing "great dissatisfaction" with the Johnson administration, is planning 90 more campaign workshops to fire up the GOP's troops for the Nov. 8 elections.

Bliss told a news conference yesterday the schedule called for 2 statewide campaign workshops and about 70 others in congressional districts under the sponsorship of the national committee.

* * *

He said the GOP could achieve a great victory if the political climate remained unchanged between remained unchanged between now and November and if the Republican vote turns out.

House Group Near Finish on Car Safety Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee hopes to finish work today on auto safety legislation after watering down a provision to bring used cars under proposed federal standards.

In its 13th closed session on the bill, the committee voted Wednesday to revise language it had adopted last week which would have required used cars to meet the same standards as new cars starting in 1970.

* * *

Instead, the committee voted to require the secretary of commerce to issue standards for "all used motor vehicles sold in interstate commerce" within two years of enactment of the legislation.

But it set no date for such standards to take effect and made no provision for them to conform with new car standards.

NEW STANDARDS

Both the committee's bill and the measure already passed by he Senate would require the secretary to issue new car standards by Jan. 31, 1967, to take effect not sooner than 180 days or later than one year afterwards — during the 1968 model year.

The committee adopted a provision authorizing the secretary to review state vehicle inspection programs and report within one year on the need for additional legislation.

* * *

Twenty states and the District of Columbia now have vehicle inspection programs. The companion highway safety bill approved last week by the House Public Works Committee includes inspection as a major goal in requiring states to set up highway safety programs by 1968.

The commerce committee set up a possible conflict with the public works committee by voting to create the position of national traffic safety administrator under the secretary of commerce to administer the program.

* * *

The administrator would be appointed by the President subject to Senate confirmation under the proposal by Rep. James A. Mackay, D-Ga. The public works committee also voted to establish an administrator but made him subject to appointment by the secretary in accord with the administration's intentions.

Soviet Hits U.S. N-Arm Safeguards

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union challenged today the United States contention that American nuclear weapons are guarded by foolproof electronic locks.

Chief Soviet delegate Alexei A. Roschin contended at the 17-nation disarmament conference that there is no guarantee that such locks "cannot be picked by evildoers."

* * *

"There is no such lock which would be a sufficient or reliable guard against the use of nuclear weapons," he said.

With an obvious reference to West Germany, Roschin said nonnuclear states which had access to nuclear weapons via an alliance with a nuclear power could then use them "for aggressive aspirations and revanchist purposes."

He claimed a military commander or a group of servicemen could arbitrarily use American nuclear weapons because the United States allows such groups in allied countries direct access to them.

Roschin said the U.S. draft treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons has too many loopholes. Relying on a promise by its allies not to use U.S. nuclear weapons on their soil without express American permission is insufficient, he added.

Farm Boy Killed by Own Tractor

THREE RIVERS (AP) — Kenneth A. Norton, 15, died Wednesday of injuries received Tuesday when he was run over by a tractor on his father's farm near Three Rivers. Cass County sheriff's officers said Norton had been driving the tractor and apparently was run over after he left the vehicle parked on a hill.

Saginaw Man Named to Board

LANSING (AP) — John Purcell of Saginaw received Gov. George Romney's appointment Wednesday to the State Board of Law Examiners. He will succeed Joseph Deeb of Grand Rapids for a term expiring June 30, 1971. Purcell was nominated by the Michigan Supreme Court.

Police Lose Case in End

FLINT (AP)—When somebody copped a case of carburetors last February, the cops quickly recovered the loot and stored it for safekeeping.

Then somebody copped the carburetors from the cops.

* * *

331 MISSING

When Buick went to collect them June 3, they discovered 331 carburetors had been stolen again. They filed a claim for $5,148 against the city.

Kay said the incident was "embarrassing."

Junior Editors Quiz on AMAZON RIVER

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The Amazon is a gigantic river, carrying more water than the Mississippi, the Nile and the Yangtze rivers, if these could all be put together.

It does not flow away from the Atlantic Ocean, but into it.

As picture (1) shows, it rises in the Andes Mountains of South America, far to the west, runs generally to the north, then turns to the east and crosses the continent, over 200 branch rivers feeding into it.

The Amazon flows very slowly, which is because there is only a slight drop in the land toward the sea. In the last 400 miles, the drop is only one eighth inch to the mile. When the ocean tides rise, they become higher than the level of the river at its mouth. The ocean water suddenly floods over the river water.

When this happens, a roaring sound is heard, and several big walls of water come traveling in, sometimes 15 feet high.

This creates what is called a "bore," and this is what gives the effect of the Amazon running away from the sea at high tide, even if, further back, the river is flowing steadily toward the Atlantic.

★ ★ ★

3 Awards Received by MSU Editors

EAST LANSING (AP) — Agricultural and home economics editors in Michigan State University's information services department have received three awards from the American Association of Agricultural College Editors.

The other two awards went to Mark Allen for a technical publication on weather and to Allen and Marks for a slide set and script explaining MSU's "Project '80," a look at rural Michigan 14 years from now.

Middle Age Not a Penalty, but Full of Matchless Benefits

By HAL BOYLE

Youth is such a nuisance. It is fortunate that only young people have youth, as only they have the strength to bear up under its burdens.

BOYLE

There is a lot of hypocrisy in today's widespread worship of youth.

People don't appreciate how wonderful life can really be until they realize that middle age, far from being a penalty, has matchless benefits of its own. Why, it enables a man to get away with practicallly anything except murder.

★ ★ ★

What are some of the practical advantages of being middle-aged? Well, for example:

★ ★ ★

Your kids are either well-grown or already flown, and if you and your wife want to go out for the evening you don't have to fawn at the whims of a teen-age babysitter.

★ ★ ★

You don't have to enlist in wars or play on the office softball team.

After giving you your 25-year pin, the boss no longer calls you on the carpet so often, as he no longer has any particular desire to frighten you. He gets more of a thrill out of scaring the young whippersnappers.

GIVE BLOOD

If you don't give blood every time the Red Cross bloodmobile shows up, everyone quietly understands. Yours is too tired to flow.

You adopt a forgiving attitude toward your enemies because it takes too much energy to go on hating them.

New diseases hold few terrors for you. After all, by now your medicine cabinet is so well-stocked with remedies that you can treat yourself successfully for anything but acne or the bubonic plague.

You don't have to listen to nonsensical advice from your friends — "I'm only telling you this for your own good" — as you have heard it all before.

It no longer galls you to make necessary compromises in your daily living. Having probably failed some years before to reform the politics-ridden PTA in your local school, you adjust to the fact that it is a physical impossibility for you to reform the whole world. You decide to let mankind stew in its own juices — and feel better for this decision.

Best of all, time has taught you and everyone else to accept your limitations. They don't expect you to be anyone else, or to do more than you can. And that's a blessed relief.

Law Is Stickler

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The City Council has passed an "anti-glue-sniffing" ordinance. It would prohibit the sale, delivery or gifts of glue and cements containing any of 12 solvents to persons under 21. Offenders could receive up to a $200 fine.

McCord Latest in Salary Squabble

Lions 'Happy Den' Has Money Woes

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Coach Harry Gilmer may hope to have a "happy house" down on the practice field at Cranbrook school, but up at the cottage in Russ Thomas' room of the Detroit Lions' camp problems are mounting.

Veteran end Darris McCord has joined several of his teammates in the $100 per day fine category by leaving camp in a salary dispute.

John Gordy and Ted Karras also haven't joined the head bumping "happy house" down the trail from the salary room.

Tackle Roger Brown this morning agreed to honor his already signed contract.

After the opening day of camp Tuesday Gilmer said he was hoping for a "healthy, happy and fast season," without expecting the current salary problems to mount.

"As I remember, we had a 6-7-1 record last year. There is quite a bit of distance between our offer and the players' demands," he said.

He was to meet again today with Gordy.

Brown and Karras failed to show up Tuesday at camp and Gordy walked out without working out the same day.

"The kind of increases players are asking are as much as 60 and 70 per cent over last year's contract. We have offered raises in each case," said Thomas.

"A lot of players were contacted by the American Football League and big money was talked about. Some of it may have been sincere but much of it was not," he added.

"The bonuses some of the rookies are getting has stirred things up."

Three more Lions however did join Gilmer's side of the Cranbrook camp with guard John Gonzaga, halfback Joe Don Looney and halfback Tommy Watkins signing yesterday.

J. D. Smith, former All-Pro guard with the Philadelphia Eagles, whom the Lions obtained three years ago is still in Texas "harvesting wheat."

Smith is contemplating retirement and Gilmer is hoping he will consider. The big offensive lineman played only 3½ games in two years because of knee injuries.

Baltimore Roughs Up Tiger Hurlers

Orioles Pound Detroiters, 10-7

Birds Shell McLain in Four Innings

BALTIMORE (AP) — Will the real Denny McLain please step forward?

★ ★ ★

The man who took the mound for the Detroit Tigers Wednesday night at Baltimore didn't look like the Denny McLain who started for the American League All-Stars and pitched three flawless innings. He didn't look like the winner who had 13 victories to his credit and only five losses.

TWO RELIEFERS

The man who started for the Tigers Wednesday night gave up 10 hits and 8 earned runs in 4 innings. He was followed by Orlando Pena and Larry Sherry. Between them they gave up six more hits and two runs and Baltimore won, 10-7.

★ ★ ★

Detroit, now 10½ games behind the league leaders, has lost 14 of its last 20 games, the last five in a row. And in those last five, Tiger pitchers have given up 53 runs.

★ ★ ★

Detroit mustered nine hits and seven runs, enough to win most games. Jim Northrup paced the Tigers with a homer and a double, knocking in two runs and scoring three.

Don Wert started the game for the Tigers with a double. Jake Wood walked and Northrup doubled to drive in Wert. Willie Horton tapped a grounder but a wild throw let Wood and Northrup score.

But Baltimore came right back in its half of the first. Russ Snyder singled and Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell walked. Curt Blefary singled in two runs and Dave Johnson singled in another to tie the game.

AL Leaders Show Caution

Flag Fever Checked

BALTIMORE (AP)— Manager Hank Bauer isn't talking, but some of the Baltimore Orioles can't help but be realistic about their bulging 10½-game lead in the American League.

"If we lose now, we ought to be run out of town," is the way coach Gene Woodling analyzed the task confronting the other teams if they hope to prevent a Baltimore runaway.

"We haven't won yet," Woodling said, citing the collapse of the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1951 as they blew a 13½-game advantage after a mid-August.

NOT IMPOSSIBLE

"It's not impossible, but I can't see it happening with the type of club we have," Woodling said. "Everybody does his part, even filling in for guys who get hurt."

Bauer, Woodling's teammate when the New York Yankees weer winning pennants, couldn't be persuaded to make a prediction after the Oroiles whipped the second-place eDtroit Tigers 10-7 Wednesday night.

"I haven't said anything yet, and I'm not going to start now," Bauer said. "Henry learned his lesson a long time ago. You don't get gay when you're flying high."

Most of the players made guarded statements but several wisecracked, "What race?" when questioned about the possibility of other teams closing gound.

The Robinson boys, Brooks and Frank, were as unlike in their responses as they are alike in helping to lift Baltimore to its lofty perch.

"I'm keeping my mouth shut," Brooks said.

Frank quietly observed that the race "is breaking open," and then backed up his statement with imposing statistics.

"Let's see, we're 63-32 now," Frank said. "We only have to play a little better than .500 ball the rest of the way, 37-30, to win 100 games. Detroit would have to win 50 of 72 to match us."

HONING A WAR CLUB — Outfielder Russ Snyder of the Baltimore Orioles, American League's leading batter, hones his bat prior to last night's game against the Detroit Tigers in Baltimore. Snyder collected two hits, upping his average to .338 as the Orioles won, 10-7, and raised their lead over the second place Tigers to 10½ games.

Jack Nicklaus

Nicklaus Watching Timetable

Success Keeps Jack Sharp

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Success hasn't spoiled Jack Nicklaus, who will tee off today in the PGA's Golden Anniversary Tournament seeking his third major title of the year and the ninth of his short, illustrious career.

Success has given the 26-year-old Columbus, Ohio clouter an opportunity to pace himself so that he might remain one of the world's premier golfers for years to come.

"No more than two tournaments in a row, if I can help it," said Nicklaus, who this year completed his grand slam when he captured the recent British Open.

★ ★ ★

USES TIMETABLE

Now Jack is using a timetable which he claims will not only enable him to play better golf, but also to enjoy the game more.

"Nobody likes to do anything he doesn't enjoy," said Nicklaus, "and I can't enjoy playing golf week after week. The cutdown will not be drastic. Instead of 25 tournaments a year, I'll probably play 18, maybe 20.

"When it comes to the major tournaments, I want a week off before and a week off after."

★ ★ ★

On the subject of major tournaments, Nickalus is not only closing in on the record 13 won by Bobby Jones, but he has a chance to equal or better Jones' mark in the matter of time.

Nicklaus has no intentions of an early retirement and has not really set a timetable for passing Jones' record at 28.

"Sure, I've given that record some thought," smiled Nicklaus. "The age doesn't enter into it. I'd go after the record if I were 100.

"I've been asked if I've lost any of my incentive now that I have won all the major tournaments. The answer is no. I want to win 'em all again. And I'd also like to win them all in one year.

★ ★ ★

"Maybe I'd be going for all of them in one year this week," said the man who won his third Masters in addition to the British Open, but fell short in the U.S. Open, won by Billy Casper in a dramatic playoff with Arnold Palmer.

Nicklaus, along with Palmer and Casper, is a heavy favorite in the 50th PGA. The 7,180-yard Firestone course with a par of 35-35—70 is tailored for the big hitters and the rough is so short that most of the golfers are not even considering it a factor.

Teen Golfers Tumble Vets in Tourney

BARRINGTON, Ill. (AP) — A vivacious youth movement swirled into today's quarter-finals of the 66th Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament but defending champion Barbara Fay Boddie remained the gal to beat.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Boddie, 26, seeking a third successive Western title, is the only one of five starting current Curtis Cuppers to avoid humiliating by up and coming youngsters in the week long tourney over Barrington Hills County Club's roller-coaster course.

★ ★ ★

Hagen Award for Northwest Sportsman

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Oregon sportsman Robert A. Hudson was presented Wednesday with the Walter Hagen Award, given annually for distinguished contributions to Anglo-American golf.

The 79-year-old Hudson, known as Mr. Golf of the Pacific Northwest, was selected for the honor by a poll of U.S. and British Golf Writers.

★ ★ ★

Hudson, a self-made millionaire and prominent businessman from Portland, was instrumental in bringing about resumption of the Ryder Cup matches after the war by personally financing the British team's expenses in 1947.

German Golf Final Includes Arkansan

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Bob Moss, 40-year-old gym instructor from Independence, Ark., routed Lawrence Stewart of Phoenix, Ark., 6 and 5, in the semifinals of the German Amateur Golf Championship Wednesday.

Moss will play Friedrick-Karl Janssen of West Germany in the final. Janssen defeated Bob Falkenburg, an American from Los Angeles now living in Brazil, in the other semi, 4 and 3.

Falkenburg reached the round of four by defeating Barry Terjesen of Akron, Ohio on the first extra hole in the quarter-finals. Moss had beaten Helge Rademacher, West Germany, 2 and 1, while Stewart put out Nils Wirich, West Germany, 3 and 2.

Breaks Color Barrier

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Vince Colbert of Washington D.C., who played junior college basketball last season at Eastern Utah, has signed with East Carolina College. Tom Quinn, East Carolina coach, said the 6-foot-4 Colbert is the school's first Negro basketball player.

49ers' Brodie Doesn't Report for Workouts

Viking Coach Happy With Guard Prospect From Southern Cal

MORAGA, Calif. (AP)— Quarterback John Brodie remained in Honolulu as 14 other veterans reported to the San Francisco 49ers training camp.

Brodie was supposed to show up at 10 a.m. Wednesday. When he didn't appear, the deadline was futilely extended to 4 p.m.

"John knows that we opened camp fully today," Coach Jack Christiansen said. "Unless he has a good reason for being late, I will take what I consider appropriate action when he does arrive."

Brodie reportedly is asking for more than $50,000 to play this season. He is said to have received an offer of $750,000 in May to jump to the Houston Oilers of the American Football League. The offer died when the AFL merged into the National Football League.

SLEEPER FOUND

MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings, who in their five-year history never have had an over abundance of depth in the interior of their offensive line, may have found a sleeper at guard in Jim Vellone of Southern Cal.

Vellone came to the Vikings — along with his tackle running mate at USC, Chuck Arrobio — as a free agent.

The 6-foot-2, 255-pounder had a history of knee trouble and reportedly lacked enough speed to play guard and do the pull-out blocking.

★ ★ ★

But Vikings' Coach Norm Van Brocklin said Wednesday that Vellone "has demonstrated that he has the speed, he blocks very well and he apparently has overcome his knee problem. We're very impressed with him so far."

Arrobio quit last Saturday after only three days of practice in the Viking camp, but Wednesday he telephoned Van Brocklin and said he wanted to try it again.

The Vikings picked up on waivers Wednesday linebacker Joe Novogratz, a 6-foot-2, 223-pounder from the University of Pittsburgh who was the Steelers' 14th round draft choice last year. The Steelers cut him.

★ ★ ★

Williams Insists There's No Feud, Says He Retired

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Former Detroit Lions star defensive end Sam Williams says he has no contract squabble with the new Atlanta Falcons—because he has retired.

"I guess Atlanta does not believe that I have retired," Williams said Tuesday.

"Last week I was on a canoe trip with my 8-year-old son, and when I returned I saw a story from Atlanta saying that I was in a contract squabble and had refused to report to the training camp," Williams said.

"I told the Falcons that I was through when they first contacted me and have reaffirmed my position every time they've called," he said.

"I realize I can't play football all of my life. I'm 35 years old now, and it's time to put my family first."

Still Treating 2 Tigers

Detect Food Poisoning

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Detroit Tigers announced Wednesday night that acting manager Bob Swift and shortstop Dick McAuliffe are suffering from bacterial food poisoning.

McAuliffe became ill during the All-Star game last week and was admitted to Ford Hospital Tuesday after spending several days at home.

Swift, filling in for Manager Chuck Dressen who suffered a heart attack earlier in the esason, was admitted to the hospital last Thursday.

A club spokesman said Swift and McAuliffe would be hospitalized indefinitely, with the shortstop not expected to join the Tigers during the current road trip which extends through Aug. 1.

ORIOLES HURTING

The Baltimore Orioles may have to come up with a surprise choice for catcher in tonight's game against the Tigers.

USING HIS HEAD — Baltimore Orioles' Russ Snyder had to use a head-first slide to get back to the bag safely in the first inning last night as the Detroit Tigers tried to pick him off first base in their game in the Baltimore park. Trying to make the tag is Norman Cash. Orioles won, 10-7.

Big Net Field in County Tourney

9-Week Session for Ice Champ

MSU Skater Training Hub

EAST LANSING — At 5-3 and 120 pounds, Gary Visconti looks as if he would be more at home on a race horse than on ice skates.

But the diminutive, personable ice king from Detroit has never been on a horse. The only thing the 21-year-old college student rides, besides the family car, is his skating career.

He already has earned the 1965 United States Championship, the 1966 North American Championship and the Bronze Medal in the 1966 World meet at Davos, Switzerland. In addition, he won the 1964 French Grand Prix and the 1965 German International championship.

YEAR-AROUND WORK

Skating is a year-around activity for Visconti, who is a triple gold medalist. In ten years of skating, Gary has passed the gold test of the United States, Canada and the International Skating Union.

In preparation for the Olympics, Visconti is training this summer on the campus of Michigan State University. He and 157 other amateur skaters are participating in a nine-week session of daily drills at the University's Ice Arena.

"This is the fifth straight year I have trained at Michigan State," says Visconti. "This is the greatest training ground in the country. Carol Heiss, Nancy Heiss, Don Jackson — they all trained here."

Other top figure skaters attending the 19th Summer Ice Session are Patrick Pera of France, Monica Torriani of Switzerland and Maud Dubos, Pam Schneider and Coco Gram of the United States.

However, the center of attention, both on the ice and off, is Visconti. If he takes a break in the arena's snack bar, Gary's table is soon crowded. An extrovert, he is trailed by adults and 12-year olds alike. When he rehearses a routine in the afternoon, most of the skaters are there to watch.

ATTENDS CLASSES

Skating has its glamour, but most of it is hard work. During the winter he attends classes at Macomb Community College and skates six hours per day, six days a week. A graduate of Osborn High School in Detroit, Gary is majoring in advertising.

★ ★ ★

The day opens with a 5 a.m. reveille. Gary is at the ice rink at 6 a.m. and skates until noon. In the early afternoon, Gary attends summer school at Lansing Community College.

At 3:30 Visconti is back on the ice for a free-skating session that lasts until 5 p.m. Frequently he tops off the day with more skating during the evening.

"Hard work, dedication and an unquenchable desire to excel has made Gary America's premier male skater," says Don Stewart. Stewart, who has coached Visconti from the beginning, adds that "Gary has the proper attitude of a champion — always looking for improvement."

His skates have propelled him across much of Europe. In early 1966, Visconti and Peggy Fleming of Colorado Springs were invited to tour Russia by the Soviet government.

The 14-day junket took the pair through Moscow, Kiev and Tbilisi. They performed nightly, often before crowds of 17,000 in indoor ice stadiums. The shows were televised and they were interviewed through an interpreter.

TO DEFEND TITLE

Looking to the future, Gary hopes to defend his North American crown next February. He also is aiming at another National crown in January and a first World crown in the late February competition at Vienna.

Gary sees as his chief competition Emmrich Danzer and Wolfgang Schwarz, the Austrians who finished 1-2 in the Worlds this year. Scott Allen is Visconti's top American challenger.

In the meantime, Visconti will continue his 50-hour a week training grind at Michigan State. A feature of the schedule will be two ice shows at the university's arena. The performances will be held July 27 and August 17.

Visconti, naturally, will be featured.

Seniors Start Action Friday

Oakland U. Is Site of Annual Event

One of the tournaments largest fields will take to the courts at Oakland University this weekend in the 7th annual Oakland County Open Tennis tournament.

The tourney, sponsored by The Press and the Pontiac Recreation Department, will have nearly 100 singles players in juniors, men's and senior divisions starting play Friday and continuing through Saturday.

Doubles action with another 60 players in men's and junior's divisions will take place Sunday.

The Senior's division, included for the first time in the tournament for players 35 years of age and over will start play Friday evening.

BYES ACCORDED

Four byes were accorded to past winners or finalists in the men's division who are now competing as seniors.

Four matches are scheduled to start at 5 p.m.

In the men's division, which starts Saturday morning, two past champions, Ralph Alee and Leon Hibbs, have been seeded.

MUST PLAY

In the men's and junior's divisions, players who have been assigned "open" opponents must expect to play at their scheduled times.

★ ★ ★

The open spots are for entries which were not received when pairings were made.

There are two open spots in the men's division and two in juniors.

Players should register 15 minutes before starting time. A waiting period of 10 minutes will be allowed after which a default will be called against the missing player.

Because of the big field in the opening weekend, a warmup shall not exceed eight minutes.

BALL SUPPLY

Each player or doubles team must supply one new ball for the given match. Balls will be available for purchase at the courts and they will be furnished to the players starting from the semifinals.

Oakland University has extended the players the use of the shower facilities during the tournament.

Teacher Fashions Young Net Games

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. Jean Hoxie of Hamtramck, Mich., is something like a mother but more like a taskmaster to seven youngsters playing this week in the National Boys' and Girls' 14 and 12-under Tennis Championships beside the Tennessee River.

Early each morning she makes them practice. "They must get the errors out of their systems before going into a match," she says.

She watches with a critical eye as they compete in matches — tanned, lean kids not big enough yet to swing a backhand with only one arm.

When the match is over, they must come to her for a thorough critique of their errors. "You have to do it right after the match while it's still fresh in their minds," she explains.

She admits that she "drives them hard." But she feels this is the only way to make champions.

And Mrs. Jean Hoxie has been training champions for a quarter of a century — as director of tennis for the Hamtramck public school system and as head of the Hoxie Tennis House, her private summer clinic which draws budding tennis stars from throughout the world.

The Hamtramck school system has taken tennis players "from the streets," as she puts it, and vaulted them to top rankings in a tennis world which once was the exclusive dominion of the country club set.

It was in the Hamtramck schools that Mrs. Hoxie, who is also principal of an elementary school, developed the talents of Peaches Bartkowicz, current national girls' 18 champion who won the Wimbledon junior trophy recently.

Peaches' sister, Plums, is one of Mrs. Hoxie's charges here this week. Indeed, 11-year-old Plums is favored to win the girls' 12-under championship.

"I gave Peaches her nickname," Mrs. Hoxie recalls. "One day the boys were talking about how that little girl hit a baseball so far and I said, 'Why, she's just a little peach.' "

The nickname stuck, and her sister got her appelation because "peaches and plums kind of go together," Mrs. Hoxie says.

SCHOOL SYSTEM

Of the youngsters with Mrs. Hoxie this week, two are from her Tennis House and the rest are from the Hamtramck school system.

Mrs. Hoxie's itinerary includes 10 to 15 tournaments this summer, while her assistant teachers go to as many or more.

She prefers to go to the tournaments of the younger boys and girls, because she has always stressed training and discipline at an early age. "We start in grade school to teach them strategy, every part of the game."

Mrs. Hoxie teaches more than tennis techniques. "We teach manners, etiquette on the court . . . I'm very proud of these youngsters; they listen and they are very polite."

Virus, Upset Shove Seeded Stars Out

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — The top seed in the girls' 14 division fell prey to the virus and the second-seeded player in the boys' 14 division lost on the courts Wednesday in the first major upsets of the National Boys' and Girls' 14- and 12-Under Tennis Championships.

Nancy Ornstein of Washington, D. C., overcame a disadvantage and won a 7-5, 9-11, 6-4 quarter-final match with Cecilia Rosado of Mexico which was started Tuesday and then called because of darkness.

Union Nine Triumphs

Winner Nears First in City 'A' Baseball

A four-run first inning proved just enough as Teamsters 614 decisioned Evans Equipment, 6-3, last night at Jaycee Park in a Pontiac Class A Baseball League clash.

The Teamsters (11-4) moved within one victory of tying for first place while Evans, despite one of its best showings of the campaign, lost for the 16th straight start.

The first four batters for the unionmen reached base and scored, two of them on Dave Houck's single. It was the extent of the winners' scoring until the sixth when they padded a 4-3 lead with two markers.

Evans plated three runs in the fourth to cut the gap. A fielder's choice and a costly two-run error figured in the scoring as the only hit in the outburst was Darrell Maulding's single.

★ ★ ★

Don Picmann tossed three scoreless innings of relief, although Evans had the tying run at the plate in the seventh with two out, to save the win for Mike Dodge.

★ ★ ★

Franklin in Upset

Junior Nine Shares 2nd

Franklin grabbed a share of second place in the city junior baseball Class D program by surprising Pontiac Boys' Club, 4-2, with a late rally Wednesday night.

Clarkston also came from behind to tie Bloomfield Hills, 10-10.

Terry Villereal (a right-hander) displayed switch-hitting talent by rapping two home runs left-handed to back Victor Quince's 11-strikeout hurling as the FOP Yankees stayed unbeaten with a 12-1 romp over Rochester in Class E American League action.

Ken McLaughlin's two-run homer ignited a five-run winning rally in the sixth for the Auburn Heights Boys' Club Patriots who took over second place in the "E" loop by beating the Met Club, 7-5.

Gary Broadwell singled home the lead run and Paul Lutz stole home for insurance as Franklin broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth. Lee Juett scattered four hits.

George King's two-run, two-out single brought Clarkston a tie with Bloomfield Hills in the seventh. The Hills' nine then loaded the bases but couldn't score in the last of the frame.

Yellow Cab's Bob Teague rapped three hits and pitched a one-hitter, and the Optimist-II's Tom Wyzowski struck out nine while yielding two hits in Widget National League victories.

'Cat' Sailors Point to Stark at Cass Lake

Ed Stark will be a marked man Saturday and Sunday.

He is the North American champion and other catamaran sailors will be out to beat him in an invitational regatta on Cass Lake this weekend.

Stark, a member of the Cass Lake Shearwater Club, won the North American crown last weekend at Hamilton, Ont. Walt Johnson was second and Frank Marriott was third. Both are CLSW members.

★ ★ ★

Canadians took the next seven places, but the performance of the Cass Lake catamaran skippers kept the team championship in the United States.

Saturday's first race will get under way at 10:20 a. m. on a course in the center of the lake. Headquarters and launching will be at the Pontiac Yacht Club.

All catamaran owners are invited to enter. This will be open competition with no classes.

Mrs. Mortimer chipped in a 50-yard wedge shot for an eagle-3 on the par-5, 500-yard first hole and added seven pars the rest of the way to stay in front.

Four players were deadlocked for fourth place with 86s.

The WMGA will move to Pontiac's Arrowhead Golf Course Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for its annual 54-hole medal play tournament.

American Boat Takes Danes' One-Top Cup

The craft, skippered by owner Edward R. Stettinius, son of the late U.S. Secretary of State and now a resident of Holland, won the third and final heat in the sailing regatta Wednesday. She had captured the second heat and finished fifth in the first heat for a total of 95 points.

Semifinals Slated Today in Playoffs

The North Farmington-West Bloomfield National League All Stars tangle with shutout-minded Southfield American in one of today's two District 4, Little League Baseball playoff semifinals.

The Nationals trimmed Novi, 6-2, on Dave Riebe's two-hit pitching Wednesday to reach this afternoon's tilt on the Bond School diamond at North Farmington.

Southfield's Americans blanked the North Farmington-West Bloomfield Americans, 6-0, for their second successive shutout in the single-elimination tournament. Dave Cascil tossed a four-hitter for Southfield.

At Eton Park in Birmingham, defending state champion Birmingham Federal and the Birmingham Americans are paired today after quarter-final wins yesterday.

The Federals dumped Lathrup, 11-1, on four home runs and Steve Gee's hurling. Dan Holden slammed two homers, including a game-deciding grand slam as the Americans blasted Fenton, 10-6.

Softball Race Tightens in City National Loop

The race tightened a little in the city's National League softball scramble last night as Idletime Bar pinned an 11-1 setback on Ray White's Boys and moved within a game of first place Motorcar transport.

Motorcar, idle last night, owns a 12-2 mark, while the victory raised Idletime's record to 10-2.

In a pair of International Slo-Pitch games, MGM-Shalea (9-1) poured it on Sport-O-Rama (7-4), 22-3, and Pontiac Press (2-8) moved into a tie for fourth place with a 25-20 triumph over National Cash Register (2-8).

Idletime used an 11-hit attack in disposing of Ray White's Boys (2-11) in five innings. Nick Niera clouted a homer in the fifth, and teammates Alex Dillashaw, Art Larson and Jerry Strebe picked up two safeties apiece.

★ ★ ★

Bill Waun went five-for-five — home run, two triples, a double and single — in pacing the MGM attack, and teammates Jim Gallagher and Ed Freeman contributed four safeties apiece.

★ ★ ★

MGM pushed across 14 runs in the first three innings and played tight defensive ball in holding Sport-O-Rama to eight hits.

Pontiac Press sprayed 27 hits around the park at Northside in beating NCR for the second time this season.

The teams were deadlocked at 19-all going into the seventh, and the Press squad pushed across six runs to wrap it up.

SPARKS ON SWIMMING

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth in a series of 20 articles in which author and swimming coach Christian B. Sparks offers tips on swimming for beginners and experts.)

By CHRISTIAN B. SPARKS

The swimmer, once he's mastered the prone glide and the kick stroke, will be impatient to begin using his arms.

That's O.K. if he paddles slowly. He's afloat and moving because of the kick, so there's no reason for him to flail his arms as if he were drowning. If he does flail, he should go back to the glide and kick to rebuild confidence.

The arms are just paddles to be used to keep the body moving like paddling a boat.

So far the skills practiced have helped to get proper head and body position. With the face in the water the swimmer has better co-ordination of the entire stroke and is better able to move in a straight line.

However, this means the swimmer can swim only as far as he can travel with one long breath. So, the next step — and the most difficult of all — is to learn to breathe while swimming. It's not easy. Yet millions of other swimmers breathe this way.

MUST LEARN

The swimmer must learn to get his breath from the basic swimming position — head in line with the body — by just turning his head to one side until the mouth is above the water, grab a breath and pivot back.

★ ★ ★

Supplement these instructions and your practice sessions by watching other people swim. When you are concerned about some particular phase (breathing arm strokes, etc.) watching someone else do it will often help you to get the feel for what you are trying to do.

(Next: Rhythmic Breathing.)

Pirates Put Right Foot Forward in Taking NL Lead

By the Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates are like a salesman. Let them get a foot in the door, and you'll wind up buying their product.

The Pirates got good use out of a foot Wednesday night and promptly put their product on display for all to see. The Los Angeles Dodgers didn't care for any, but the Pirates were persuasive and wound up with an 8-5 victory.

The triumph, coupled with San Francisco's 3-2, 10-inning loss to New York, boosted the first-place Pirates one game ahead of the Giants in the National League pennant race.

SELLING TACTICS

The foot belonged to Matty Alou and it, along with the rest of the league's leading hitter, stepped into the batter's box with two out in the seventh inning and the Pirates trailing 5-2.

* * *

Don Drysdale fired a pitch that was inside and low, very low. Alou tried to get away from the ball, and all but his foot was successful. The ball hit the foot, Alou went to first and the Dodgers went to pieces.

Five batters and two pitchers later, the Pirates had six more runs and one of their most enjoyable sales of the season.

* * *

Jose Pagan got in enough of a sales talk to tie the game with a two-run single, and Donn Clendenon closed the sale with a three-run homer into the left-center field bleachers.

In other National League games, St. Louis defeated Atlanta 6-3, Cincinnati swept Chicago 5-4 and 5-1 and Philadelphia outslugged Houston 13-9.

The Mets gained their fifth straight victory when Ron Swoboda led off the 10th inning with a homer against Bill Henry. The Mets had taken a 2-1 lead in the eighth on Boy McMillan's homer, but the Giants tied it in the ninth on a walk to Willie Mays, Jack Fisher's wild pitch and a single by Jim Hart.

* * *

Ray Washburn scattered eight hits and drove in two runs with a fourth-inning single for St. Louis. The Cardinals broke a 3-3 tie in the fifth on Mike Shannon's run-scoring single, his third hit off Atlanta's Ken Johnson.

Ernie Banks' 2,000th hit, a two-run double in the eighth inning, helped Chicago to a 4-1 lead in the opener, but the Reds rallied for four runs in the ninth, the last two on Tommy Harper's triple.

* * *

Cookie Rojas drove in four runs for Philadelphia with two singles and a double while Tony Gonzalez knocked in three with a single and a homer. Dick Groat added three hits to the Phillies' 20-hit attack, including a seventh-inning run-scoring single that snapped an 8-8 deadlock.

Patience Paying Off for Boston Red Sox

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Patience is paying off for the Boston Red Sox as veteran southpaw Dennis Bennett gradually rounds into form. The California Angels hope they're just as fortunate with Ed Newman.

Bennett took another big stride in a comeback from shoulder surgery in early April as he worked a sparkling five innings Wednesday night as the Red Sox and Angels split a doubleheader, Boston winning the opener 6-1 and California taking the nightcap 1-0 in 10 innings.

"He's going to be all right," Manager Billy Herman said after Bennett checked the Angels on a single in the five innings. "As soon as his arm gets stronger, he'll be one of the best pitchers in the league."

California Manager Bill Rigney studied Bennett closely and then named Newman, a right-hander just a few hours off the disabled list, to face the Red Sox today.

Newman, a young right-hander, had a 14-16 record with a 2.93 earned run average with the Angels last season. However, he suffered tendonitis in the shoulder this year and was placed on the disabled list early last month after posting a 1-3 record and a 6.42 ERA in seven starts.

Elsewhere in the American League Wednesday, Minnesota downed Washington 3-1, Chicago beat Cleveland 6-3, New York blanked Kansas City 4-0 and California and Boston split a doubleheader, the Red Sox winning the first game 6-1 and the Angels taking the nightcap, 1-0 in 10 innings.

The Athletics slipped into eighth behind New York when Mel Stottlemyre blanked them on six hits. Horace Clarke and Tom Tresh homered for the Yankees who won their fifth straight.

Don Buford and Jerry Adair drove in two runs apiece as the White Sox downed the Indians. Joe Horlen pitched five hitless innings but needed help from Hoyt Wilhelm to nail down the victory.

10th VICTORY

Dave Boswell's six-hitter gave Minnesota its 10th victory in 12 games this season against Washington. Boswell, 8-5, struck out eight and allowed only two hits after the third inning.

Darrell Brandon, a rookie right-hander, pitched a two-hitter and Don Demeter drove in two runs with a double and two nia in the opener of their twi-night doubleheader.

Bob Rodgers' pinch single in the 10th inning decided the second game as three California pitchers—Dean Chance, Minnie Rojas and Jack Sanford—limited the Red Sox to two hits.

Chance allowed only a second inning single by Tony Conigliaro but walked eight before Rojas came on in the ninth. Sanford pitched the 10th inning and gave up the other Boston hit.

Winds Mar Slalom Course

Breezes Whip Snow From Track Site

FARELLONES, Chile (AP) — Strong north winds whipped four inches of new snow off the practice slopes Wednesday and made doubtful the location of the track for the men's grand slalom on Saturday which will close the practice period for next month's world ski championships.

Coaches of the 19 other teams agreed with Honore Bonnet, coach of the French team, who said sadly "that the weatherman certainly isn't in the mood to help anyone here."

The United States and Canadian teams went 2½ miles higher on the mountain to find conditions which would permit them to work out.

Chuck Ferries of Denver, coach of the U. S. women's team, said he thought the entire team would do well in the world events "although admittedly we still have to put the finishing touches to our training."

* * *

The Angels asked waivers on Pearson for the purpose of granting him an unconditional release. General Manager Fred Haney said Pearson will be given a chance to regain his spot with the Angels next spring.

* * *

Pearson has played little this season going hitless in three pinch hitting assignments. Newman made seven starts before being placed on the disabled list. He had a 1-3 record with a 6.25 earned run average in 33 2-3 innings.

State Women Golfers 'Playing It Straight'

Miss Shook 2-Up Winner

Ex-City Champion Goes to Sidelines

FARMINGTON — The gals are playing the 50th edition of the Women's Michigan Amateur Golf championship straight . . . no surprises, no upsets.

The nearest thing to a surprise came as tournament favorite Patti Shook of Saginaw, three down after 11 holes, rallied to shake off Cathy Henrickson of Atlas Valley, 2 up, over the 6,175-yard Farmington Country Club course.

The victory put Patti, 23, into today's quarter-finals against Cynthia Hill of South Haven, who turned back Lynne Gilbert of Kalamzoo, 1 up.

Mrs. Keith LeClair, chief challenger to Miss Shook for the title, ousted Pontiac's City Champion Mrs. Bobbi Miller of Novi, 2 and 1, and today she was slated to take on Joyce Kazmierski today in the top match.

OTHER MATCHES

In other matches yesterday, Feather Frechette of Indianwood ousted Mrs. Frank Camsie of Grosse Ile 1 up in 22 holes; Emily Gail of Grosse Ile downed Mrs. Anthony Koustas of Dearborn 5 and 4; Sherry Wilder of Grand Rapids defeated Mrs. S. E. Gawne of Bloomfield Hills, 2 and 1; and former champions Mrs. E. O. Reynolds of Lansing ousted another ex-champion Mrs. Harold Marquardt of Gowanie, 1 up.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. LeClair, who captured the title in 1960 and 1962, found herself in the role of the underdog as she took on Miss Kazmierski, 20-year-old senior at Michigan State University.

Miss Frechette and Miss Gail are paired in another of today's quarter-finals, while Miss Wilder meets Mrs. Reynolds in the other match.

Miss Shook, runner-up in 1963 and last year, was a little shaken after the first nine as she watched Miss Hill get down with one putt on the first eight greens.

Two more one-putt greens — Nos. 10 and 11 — put Miss Hill three up, but Miss Shook came back to even the match by winning 12, 13 and 14, and after halving 15 and 16, she took the match by winning 17 and 18.

Miss Frechette, winner of the championship consolation last year, found herself in one of the tightest matches of the day.

★ ★ ★

Miss Gail forced a tie by gaining a par on 18, but Miss Frechette parred the fourth hole of sudden death, while Miss Gail took a bogie after hitting into a sand trap.

Aussie Still Leads Left-Handers' Golf

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — Australia's southpaw champion Bill Wright rocketed to a seven-over-par 77 Wednesday but still held onto the lead in the National Left-handers' Golf Championship.

★ ★ ★

Wright, 35, who scored a three-under-par 67 at Uplands Golf Club Tuesday, ran into most of his grief Wednesday on the back nine of the tougher-rated Colwood course.

★ ★ ★

Flat Rock Speedway's program Saturday night will feature the mid-season Figure Eight competition championship with Mel Murphy of Livonia expected to clinch the laurels.

The late-model drivers will be gunning for the Beau Geste world premiere trophy in their division. Time trials will begin at 7:30 p.m. and the first race will commence at 8:30 p.m.

SANDRA SPUZICH

From Obscurity to Stardom for One Yankee Open Favorite

When the pairings for the Yankee Women's best-ball Open golf tournament at Atlas Valley were determined, it was decided that top players would be paired with the not-so-fortunate.

Sandra Spuzich, a tour member since 1962, fell in the latter class. She hadn't won a tournament and usually was well down the list when it came time to pass out the money.

When the 29-year-old physical education teacher from Indianapolis starts first round play tomorrow in the 54-hole tournament she will find herself among the favorites.

★ ★ ★

The pairings were announced before the U.S. Women's Open three weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

Miss Spuzich promptly went out and won the tournament and joined the likes of Carol Mann, Mickey Wright, Clifford Ann Creed, Sandra Haynie and Ruth Jessen as a major LPGA star.

★ ★ ★

And she is paired with Miss Jessen, who is consistently in the top 10 money winners on the tour. They are expected to make a strong bid for the championship. Miss Jessen won the 1964 medal play Yankee Open.

STRONG TANDEMS

The $20,000 tournament has changed its format from medal play to best-ball (four-ball) this year. It is something new for the LPGA tour.

A pro-am is being played today. The second round will be Saturday and the final 18 on Sunday. Atlas Valley is located on Perry Road between Goodrich and Grand Blanc.

Miss Spuzich took up golf when she was 16. Her father decided it was time she gave up softball (she was a .400 hitter) and concentrate on the links. She also is an accomplished bowler and has rolled a 289 game.

★ ★ ★

Miss Mann, the tallest of the women pros at 6-3, lost to Sandra by one stroke in the U.S. Open. She was the 1965 champion. Miss Creed won last week's Lady Carling Open and is teamed with Margie Masters.

★ ★ ★

Ace Miler Not Unusual

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Jim Ryun's greatness can be measured by a track official's stopwatch but not by medical equipment in a University of Kansas physiology laboratory.

Dr. Ed Elbel, a physical education professor at KU, said Wednesday that Ryun, the world's fastest middle distance runner, differed little in physiological profile from other Jayhawk runners he has tested over the years.

"The most rigid difference between Jim and anyone else is his ability to expend energy when it's necessary," Elbel said.

"I call it explosive power—the ability to go into high gear when he has the desire. It's a matter of perfect timing."

MEASURES FUNCTIONS

Elbel puts the athletes through a 30 minute stint on a treadmill and measures such heart and lung functions as rate and amount of air exchange and pulse rate.

Ryun, whose time of 3:51.3 Sunday shattered Michel Jazy's world mile mark by 2.3 seconds, has a pulse rate while reclining which runs a poor second to that of Bill Dodson, a former KU miler who had a best of only 3:59 in 1962.

Elbel said Ryun's pulse rate on May 21 was 54 to 55 per minute while Dodson was measured at 30 to 32. A low pulse rate often is considered a sign of a well-conditioned athlete.

There is no physiological test available, Elbel said, which explains why one trained distance runner will defeat another.

Ryun's difference from the nonathlete, however, can be measured easily.

"A man not in condition just can't do the work required of Jim or Dodson," said Elbel. "The pulse has a very rapid rise when you begin to exercise, but after four or five minutes, Jim reaches a peak and maintains it.

"It may only go up three or four beats in the next 26 minutes. After 10 minutes at eight miles an hour, Jim's highest was 130. A fellow in no condition can reach 200."

JFK's Advice Became Habit for Jim Ryun

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Strutton said the late President Kennedy deserves credit for getting young Ryun interested in track.

He said the boy "used to play baseball when he was just a kid. When President Kennedy started talking about the 50-mile walk everyone was supposed to do in 1961, Jim started doing it."

Southfield Legion 9 Gives Leaders Boost

Southfield moved into a tie for second and handed Farmington's title hopes a boost with a 2-0 win over Waterford last night in District 18 League, American Legion Baseball action.

★ ★ ★

Mike Kuhna outdueled Jack McCloud in a battle of the league's top two left-handed hurlers. The victory tied Southfield and Waterford at 17-6, two games behind Farmington with three contests left for each.

Berkley forfeited to Farmington, Walled Lake ripped Clarkston, 12-2, and Milford surprised Troy, 6-3, in the other games.

Southfield scored a run in the third and added an insurance marker in the fourth on Kuhna's squeeze bunt. He allowed three hits and McCloud four. The winners now have won 17 of 20 after three opening losses.

John Burgess and Tim Alderson each had three hits for Walled Lake who scored all 12 of its runs in the sixth. Don Freeman gained the mound verdict.

Milford's Bob McFarland was the winning pitcher and had two hits good for runs batted in.

The league will have four single games Friday night, then wrap up the campaign with four Sunday twinbills.

GOOD TRY — San Francisco right fielder Len Gabrielson came up with this effort as he tried to snag a home run hit by the New York Mets' Al Luplow in the seventh inning of their game in San Francisco yesterday. Mets won, 3-2, in 10 innings.

'New' Eagle Lineman Impressive Blocker

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Offensive tackle Ray Rissmiller, the Philadelphia Eagles' top draft choice for 1965 who missed the entire season because of a knee injury, was a standout blocker in a contact passing drill Wednesday at the team's training camp.

★ ★ ★

Working with the rookie offensive unit, which will oppose the Washington Redskins rookies in a formal scrimmage here Saturday night, Rissmiller repeatedly held off charging defensive linemen as quarterbacks Jack Concannon and Bob Miller handled the passing chores.

Eagles Coach Joe Kuharich said Concannon, a two-year veteran from Boston College, will start at quarterback against the Redskin rookies.

★ ★ ★

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — The Baltimore Colt offensive team scored five touchdowns in a scrimmage Wednesday at the National Football League club's training camp.

Another fullback, Tony Lorick, scored on a two-yard run while the other two touchdowns came on passes — one from Jim Ward and another from Fred Custardo.

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — Rookie defensive tackle Tom McGuire, a 6-foot-3, 255-pounder from Tulsa University, was put on waivers Wednesday by the Washington Redskins.

RENSSLAER, Ind. (AP) — Fullback Andy Livingston galloped 30 yards on an end sweep to score in the Chicago Bears' first full-scale scrimmage Wednesday.

Rookie Curtis Gentry of Maryland State intercepted a Larry Rakestraw pass and ran 60 yards for another touchdown.

Rudy Bukich and Rakestraw shared quarterback duties.

BLACK MOUNTAIN, N.C. + — The Atlanta Falcons have apparently found the kicking specialist they want for field goals, extra points and kickoffs. He's Bob Jencks, a 6-foot-5, former Washington Redskin who came to the Falcons in last winter's player pool.

"We think Jencks will do a good job for us," said Coach Norb Hecker Wednesday. "He has extremely strong snap to his kicks, and he needs only to work on his accuracy a little."

Broken Bones Put 2 NY Giants Out

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (UPI) — Flanker Joe Morrison of the New York Giants suffered a fractured left hand during a scrimmage Wednesday and will be sidelined for an undetermined period of time.

Rookie Randy Minniear, a running back from Purdue, suffered a broken leg that will sideline him 10 weeks and defensive end Glenn Condren was hospitalized with a concussion during the day's workouts.

Canada Books 8 Extra Flights

TORONTO (AP) — Air Canada officials said eight extra flights were scheduled Wednesday because of the demand for seats caused by the U.S. airline strike.

A Toronto Airport employe said one U.S. airline was sending American servicemen to Canada "in droves," hoping to book them through to the West Coast for connecting flights to San Francisco.

U.S. Swimmers Heated by Soviet Track Action

William A. Lippman Jr., the chairman of the Amateur Athletic Union Swimming Committee who shepherded the U.S. team through competitions in Russia and Poland, told newsmen about the reaction of the American swimmers to Soviet cancellation of the track meet scheduled in California.

UPHOLD PRESTIGE

When the U.S. swimmers realized that it was up to them to uphold the United States in athletic competition with the Russians, he said this "really brought things out of them that we did not know they had and they didn't either."

The U.S. swimmers captured 11 of 17 first places in the Moscow meet July 16-17.

This was with a team of 15 compared to 40 Russian entries, Lippman said.

★ ★ ★

Compared with the highly competitive approach of the Soviets plus official coolness over U.S.-Viet Nam actions — the ostensible reason for the track meet cancellation — Lippman reported a warm reception for the Americans.

At Warsaw, the Americans won all of the 17 swim events.

Lippman said the Soviets were interested in another swimming meet next year in this country, but conflicting schedules apparently rule this out.

HALL OF FAMERS — Ted Williams, 47, and Casey Stengel, 75, will be inducted formally into baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y. Monday. Stengel, who guided the New York Yankees during their domination of the American League during the 1950s, was elected in March by an extra-special ballot of the veterans' committee. Williams, one of the great sluggers of all time who starred with Boston, was voted in last January. The two got together briefly at the recent All-Star game in St. Louis.

World's Meet Teams Relax

Portugal Favored for Soccer Cup

LONDON (AP) — Portugal came into the crucial stage of the World Soccer Cup Championships today with seven other teams trailing way behind in the betting odds.

The eight teams, survivors of 16 who made the trip to England hoping for soccer glory, took a couple of days off before Saturday's quarter-finals for restful training but tensions were high in camps in four areas of England, the home of the game.

FAVORITE'S ROLL

Portugal soared into the favorite spot at odds of 13 to 8. Ironically, a few days before the World Cup final series began here July 11, Portugal was 22 to 1.

★ ★ ★

Hungary, as listed by a leading British bookmaker was second favorite at 3 to 1 with host nation, England, next at 4 to 1.

★ ★ ★

Then came West Germany at 7 to 1, Russia at 10 to 1, Argentina at 12 to 1, Uruguay at 16 to 1 and North Korea at 100 to 1.

At London's Wembley Stadium, England vs. Argentina.

At Sheffield, West Germany vs. Uruguay.

At Sunderland, Russia vs. Hungary.

A sellout crowd of about 100,000 is expected at Wembley for the England-Argentina match. Jimmy Greaves, England's ace goal scorer, still has to get the ball in the net in this series. He's the man England Manager Alf Ramsey will be relying on to pierce the Iron Men of Argentina.

Eusebio, the Black Panther of Portugal and scorer of two vital goals against Brazil, will be the key man against North Korea, the 500-to-1 underdogs who knocked favored Italy out of the championships.

Uwe Seller, a giant of European soccer could be the man to break down the rock-like defense of Uruguay for West Germany.

HIGHLIGHTS

The highlight of the quarter-finals will be the game between Russia and Hungary — two Iron Curtain and comrades who like to win.

★ ★ ★

Hungary's stars like Ferenc Bene and Florian Albert can shake the best teams. The man the Hungarians will have to watch is Porkujan, the Russian winger who scored both goals against Chile Wednesday night as the Soviets won 2-1.

★ ★ ★

In Wednesday's other games, Hungary beat Bulgaria 3-1 thus sealing the doom of defending champion Brazil, England shut out France 2-0 and West Germany downed Spain 2-1.

Death Claims Spalding VP

An avid golfer until his death, Dawson played in the National Amateur Golf Championship semifinals — both in New York and in Chicago — during the early 1930s.

He was to retire next August.

Snow Slows Plans

PORTILLO, Chile (AP) — Heavy snow hit this Andes resort Wednesday slowing preparations for the World Alpine Ski Championships scheduled to start two weeks from today.

Retired Hockey Ace Eying Football Career

TORONTO (AP) — Carl Brewer, the retired hockey player, may be wearing a professional football uniform next season.

* * *

Brewer, who quit the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League a year ago, worked out with the Toronto Rifles of the Continental Football League Wednesday. Afterward, he said, "I'm in shape and the thought of getting back into football is attractive."

* * *

U. S. Shooter Pistol Champ

Yanks Take Team, Individual Crowns

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — William Blankenship of Columbus, Ga., won the center fire pistol event at the World Shooting Championships Wednesday and helped the United States take the team title.

Those two championships lifted the U.S. total to 13, five more than the total of the Russian shooters, who won four crowns Wednesday.

* * *

Blankenship triumphed in the pistol event with 595 out of a possible 600. He fired over a distance of 25 meters. Lubor Nakovski of Czechoslovakia was second with 589 and Renart Suleimanov of Russia third with 587.

* * *

The U.S. four had an aggregate of 2,341 of a possible 2,400 with Russia next at 2,340. Czechoslovakia was third at 2,313.

* * *

The Russians took titles in the women's small bore pistol competition, women's skeet shooting and the individual and team crown in the running bore event for men. The United States was second in the team race.

2 AFL Holdouts Asking Raiders for Dual Pact

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — Halfback Clem Daniels and offensive end Art Powell, who have hired a lawyer to negotiate their 1966 contract with the Oakland Raiders, say they must be signed in tandem.

* *

"Unless we both are satisfied with contract terms, neither one of us will sign," Daniels said Wednesday. "Powell won't sign unless I'm agreeable to terms and I won't sign unless Art is ready to, too."

* * *

The two American Football League players, who failed to report to training camp last week, have said they each want three-year, no-cut contracts at $50,000 a year.

* * *

Scotty Stirling, Raider general manager, has said he won't negotiate with the pair unless they come to camp.

Twins' Coach Awaiting Verdict

Trouble Usually Can Find Billy Martin

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Poor Billy Martin shakes his head sadly and says, "maybe I'm prone to trouble."

That's like Zsa Zsa Gabor saying maybe she likes men.

Martin, who usually minds his manners and speaks so low that you have to move closer to hear him, never goes looking for trouble but somehow always winds up in the middle of it.

Once when some of the Yankees were helping him celebrate his birthday in a New York nightclub, a heckler horned in and Martin never said a word back, but he was called the "ring-leader" in the fight which followed.

More recently, he was cast as the villain who was backhandedly gunning for Minnesota manager Sam Mele's job although both laughed over the report later on and told everyone it wasn't true.

FIST FLYING

And last Monday night, Martin, who is a coach with the Twins, got into a fist fight with Howard Fox, who is the club's traveling secretary, and once again the general feeling is that it was Martin's fault.

All the evidence doesn't point that way, however.

* * *

Fox, like Martin, is not a fellow who shops around for a fight although Billy insists Howard despises him, which is a little difficult to believe because the Twins' traveling secretary doesn't strike you as the type who feels that way about anyone.

"Maybe not," said Martin over the telephone from Washington "but I know he hates me and never did like me from the moment I joined this club in 1961."

The whole trouble started on a plane ride from Minnesota to Washington last Monday. Due to the airline strike, the Twins and Yankees, who were to go on to New York, were traveling on the same chartered flight.

* * *

Martin was sitting alongside Sherry Robertson of the Twins' front office. Clete Boyer and Hal Reniff, of the Yankees, were seated alongside them. And Fox and his wife were farther back in the rear.

The purser on the plane began getting on Roger Maris, according to Martin. Boyer and Reniff, in turn, started giving the purser what-for. It got pretty loud, Martin says.

* * *

"Why don't you tell those guys to quiet down," Robertson instructed Martin. "I'm not their keeper," Billy replied. "Why should I be the one to tell them?"

NOISY CUSTOMER

At the time, Martin says, the purser was in the back of the plane speaking with Fox. Martin claims he saw Fox pointing toward him. He also claims the purser told Fox that Boyer and Reniff were the noisy customers, not Martin.

"Stop pointing at me," Martin called back to Fox.

"You're always trying to get me in trouble. I'm not saying anything and you know it."

* * *

That ended that but it turned out to be only a temporary truce.

When the club arrived at the hotel in Washington, Martin says he was the last one to get his room key and when he finally did, Fox threw it in his face.

Ex-Foe Works With Faubus

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Two old adversaries in the South's battle over desegregation work together now in a quiet move to place Negroes in responsible state government jobs in Arkansas.

On one side is Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who defied federal power in a short-lived attempt to keep Negroes out of Little Rock Central High School in 1957.

* * *

On the other side is L.C. Bates, the Negro leader who championed the cause of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in that crisis nine years ago.

Faubus, still the governor, is the ruling thumb on appointments, but Bates, a special adviser, is among those who have his ear.

ARRANGEMENT BEGAN

The arrangement began two years ago, before Faubus announced in March that he wouldn't seek a seventh two-year term.

Bates and Faubus say their dealings had been on a friendly basis, something not to be taken for personal affection between them.

* * *

UNFRIENDLY

But in 1957 they had unfriendly things to say about each other. Bates accused Faubus of giving Arkansas a bad name by opposing court-ordered desegregation. Faubus charged in turn that Bates was ignoring the will of the majority of Arkansas for the sake of the Negro minority.

Today their association rests on practicality.

* * *

Faubus must get Negroes on the state payroll to keep federal dollars flowing in. Bates, still an NAACP field secretary, can point to the changes and tell his people that segregation is crumbling — at the top as well as the bottom.

More than 200 Negroes have been hired for state jobs in agencies which handle federal funds since the Faubus-Bates arrangement began. It is a matter of necessity, federal law requiring equal job opportunities for all races when federal money is involved.

ATTITUDE THE SAME

Faubus has changed his practices, not his attitude," Bates said. "My attitude is the same, too, for getting more and better jobs for Negroes.

"He plays politics, we know that," Bates said. "But while he's playing politics, we are getting some of the things we've been fighting for."

* * *

Faubus didn't seek Bates out but accepted Bates' offer of advice in the selection of qualified Negroes for the positions previously not open to them.

Two others — who have never been identified — are on a committee Bates heads in his advisory role.

JOBS GO

The jobs don't go to just anyone.

"We don't want any (Uncle) Toms," Bates said. 'These jobs are for the people who got out and worked. They're not for people who sat on their behind and watched the world go by."

It is at this point that Faubus deftly points out that he is not bound by any group's recommendation.

And Bates, in turn, points out that he has recommended every Negro who holds a responsible job in Arkansas' state government.

Poison Cause Is Found in Nature, Food

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — The organisms causing the often-fatal food poisoning, botulism, can sometimes be found in nature as well as in improperly canned food.

* * *

During a survey of natural distribution of Clostridium botulinum type E in the Pacific Northwest, Drs. James M. Craig and K. S. Pilcher of the department of microbiology, University of Oregon, Corvallis, identified the type F organism.

Reporting the discovery in Science, the researchers said mice injected with a toxic filtrate containing type F died unless they had been protected with a type F antitoxin.

END OF AN ERA — The 78-year-old West Physics Building is shown as it is being razed on the University of Michigan campus. The second oldest teaching facility at the college was built in 1888 with a $30,000 appropriation. Only the Economics Building (1856) ranks as an older classroom structure. A paved landscaped area, the Library South Plaza, will be developed on the site.

Pressure Hard on Fruit, Too

By Science Service

WASHINGTON—Many people do poorly under pressure, and so, apparently, does fruit.

The storage life of apples, avocadoes, bananas, tomatoes and other fruit may be more than doubled if they are kept in vaccum dryers and ventilated with air at less than atmospheric pressures.

At normal air pressure, bananas, for example, ripen within about 10 days, but they can be safely stored for about 18 days if they are flushed with air at one-half normal atmospheric pressure.

If pressure is reduced to one-third, storage time can be extended to 45 days or more without any significant drying or loss of taste or appearance.

* * *

Experiments by Stanley P. Burg and Ellen A. Burg of the University of Miami School of Medicine indicate that the delay in the ripening process may be the result of the reduced amounts of oxygen available when air pressure is lowered.

Fruit ripening in air at normal pressure was compared with some ripening in pure oxygen at about one-fourth normal, thus evaluating fruit exposed to approximately the same partial pressure of oxygen in gas mixtures with widely varying total pressures.

* * *

In six tests the fruit ripened more slowly at the lower pressure.

From these results the researchers concluded in Science that something other than reduced amounts of oxygen was causing the delay in ripening.

Feeble Rally Fizzles

Stock Market Heads Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — A feeble attempt to rally was a failure and the stock market headed lower early this afternoon in light trading.

Smart recoveries by some of the glamor stocks featured early trading but there was no follow through and the gains of these issues were soon wiped out.

Prominent in this disappointing performance was Xerox, which had fallen 24½ points in the previous two sessions. Xerox recovered more than 2 points in early trading but quickly backtracked from the advance and showed a further net loss approaching 5 points.

Drugs were hit by reports of a cutback in the development of oral contraceptives because of costs being increased by Government regulations.

AUSTERITY PROGRAM

The austerity program of the British government, aimed at supporting the pound sterling, was prominent in the Wall Street background.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .4 at 314.5 with industrials off .6, rails off .2 and utilities off .3.

Soviets Call U.S. Envoy Spy

'Spread Bad Feeling and Gathered Data'

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet youth paper accused a U.S. diplomat today of spreading anti-Soviet feeling among foreign students in Moscow and gathering intelligence. The U.S. Embassy denied the charges.

Komsomolskaya Pravda said that embassy second secretary Alan Logan was "an open enemy of our country" and "deeply mistaken if he thinks he can get away with it." It said Soviet authorities "have all grounds to examine more closely the activity of the second secretary."

★ ★ ★

"The article is full of fabrications," the U.S. Embassy said in a statement. "There is of course no truth in any allegations that Logan or Garnett had engaged in improper activity of any kind."

Norris D. Garnett, a cultural attache at the embassy, was ordered out of the Soviet Union on May 11, 1965, after similar accusations were made against him.

LIKE GARNETT

"Like Garnett," the youth paper said, "Logan evidently arrived with secret instructions to find informers among the students and diplomats from the countries of Asia, Africa and the Near East and to use them for picking up intelligence information.

"Logan has been in the practice of establishing broad contacts among students and diplomats to instill in them an anti-Soviet spirit and to involve some of them in ideological diversions.

Young, executive secretary of the National Urban League, arrived Wednesday, lunched with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and was briefed by U.S. military officials.

Climbing Economy Ignores Talk of Dip

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Much of the talk these days is about the economy turning down. But most of the key statistics show the economy is still climbing to new highs.

DAWSON

What is happening is that while the economy was booming ahead at a rapid rate in the first three months of this year, it is now advancing at a more normal pace and responding in a more healthy fashion to seasonal factors. With few exceptions, the key segments in the economy haven't turned down or even leveled off.

And the exceptions, such as auto sales, housing starts and new orders for durable goods, have exceptional circumstances of their own.

Car sales are lower at the moment than a year ago when they were at a record high. But no one can be sure whether that means that consumers are tightening up on spending or are influenced by all the talk about auto safety.

FEWER CARS

Although Americans were buying fewer cars in April, May and June, total consumer spending for that period grew by $3.3 billion to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $458.9 billion. You can view this with alarm because the gain was less than the $10.4 billion advance in the first quarter of the year, or you can hail the more normal rate of advance and the new high it set.

Housing starts have had periodic sinking spells for two years now. At the moment a new uncertainty — tight money in the mortgage fund field — is complicating the picture. And tight money stems from the inflationary boom of the first three months of 1966 — both because of official efforts to tighten credit and of still booming demand for loans in many fields.

New factory orders for durable goods — watched as a guide to future output — in June came to a seasonally adjusted $24.1 billion. This was $100 million below the May and April totals. But the June orders were $2.8 billion higher than a year ago. And a "large increase in bookings for defense products" is reported by the Commerce Department. These seem more likely to continue to gain than to drop.

The backlog of durable goods orders actually rose by $1.2 billion to a total of $70.7 billion at the end of June, or $13.2 billion more than a year ago. Factories apparently still have lots of orders to keep them busy.

ECONOMY WORRIERS

Worriers about the economy like to point to a slowdown in the advance of the Gross National Product. Actually, this measure of the total output of goods and services is still rising. In the second quarter it hit a new high, a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $732 billion. The annual rate gain was $10.8 billion above the previous record of $721.2 billion set in the first three months of 1966. But it was the abnormal and unexpected $16.8-billion advance in the first quarter that sparked all the worry about the onset of inflation and the overheating of the economy, and started a campaign in some quarters for a rise in federal income tax rates.

★ ★ ★

The economic pace may moderate a bit more this summer. But even professional worriers aren't suggesting that the Gross National Product actually will turn down this summer or this fall.

For all they really know, the pace might pick up again and revive the old fears of overheating.

Used Car Sales Booming; Auto Industry Is Cheered

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry was cheered today by word that business is booming again in the used car market.

One of the strongest factors in the used car market was that the stockpile of used vehicles stood at about 832,000 units on July 1. This was the lowest figure since October.

Auto companies and dealers are keeping an extra close watch on used car sales in the final weeks of 1966 model production.

They know full well that the industry faces a king-sized job in bringing its inventory of about 1.7 million new 1966 models down to a target of some 500,000 vehicles by the time the new 1967 models reach dealer showrooms in the fall.

LATE MODELS

The great percentage of new car sales involves a trade-in, many of them of late model variety, and that pinpointed the need for the used car segment of the market to remain strong.

The July 1 stockpile of used cars compared with the 873,971 vehicles on hand at this same time a year ago.

Jack Charlesworth, American Motors used car manager, said prices remained unusually strong on the dealer level in virtually every phase of the used car market.

HIGH DEMAND

He cited California as an area in which used car establishments were having a hard time keeping up with customer demand.

AMC's Charlesworth and Charles A. Joans, national used car manager for Chrysler leasing, said that cars which have been released from the lease pool and siphoned into the used car market have commanded good prices.

Charlesworth said that some of the lease cars have brought prices $200 or $250 above the regular used car book value.

As usual in the weeks preceding introduction of new models, some weakness developed in the used car price range in the past two weeks but the trend was not general.

PRICES DROP

Automotive News, which keep track of price trends in nearly a score of used car auction houses around the country, said that prices paid for autos at auctions dropped an average of $57 last week.

Losses ranged from $1 on 1960 models to $113 on 1964 models, the paper said. Demand remained strong, however.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "Our granddaughter received money on graduation from high school and she would like to invest this cash for her future. Would you please name a few good growth stocks?" C. K.

A) Since she is probably a minor, she cannot buy stock herself, but can be given stocks under the Uniform Gift to Minors Act. If this is done, the stocks should be registered in the name of a Custodian for her under this same act.

If the stocks are so registered, the donor—if an adult member of the girl's family—may act as Custodian until she is 21. Then the shares can be placed in her name. I advise that she look long ahead and forego current income. For strong growth, I like Avon Products; American Hospital Supply; Bristol-Myers.

Q) "I hold Series E bonds dated from 1950 to 1954. Do these bonds continue to draw interest as long as I hold them, and if so, at the old rate or the new rate of 4.15 per cent? I have just received a Series E bond dated March, 1966, maturing in seven years nine months. Is this bond figured on the old rate of 3¾ per cent or the new rate of 4.15 per cent? How long does it take a bond to mature at full value at the new rate?" T. S.

A) Your Series E bonds are in their first period of extension, and have never ceased accruing interest. All accruals are at the rate of 4.15 per cent since Dec. 1, 1965. Your Series E bond bought recently now has a maturity date of seven years which brings your interest to maturity up to 4.15 per cent.

All E bonds — dated Dec. 1, 1965 and subsequently—now mature in seven years and the interest accrual, if held to maturity, is 4.15 per cent.

U.S. Incomes Rise in June

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Americans' personal income rebounded in June to its booming first quarter pace, the Commerce Department reported today.

A gain of $3.4 billion was reported over May — nearly as much as the first quarter's average monthly increase of $3.6 billion.

The new figures showed that the economy still has plenty of steam left in it, despite declines in some other key indicators such as home building.

Later in the day, the Labor Department was expected to report that the cost of living rose again in June.

The personal income and consumer price figures will help keep alive the possibility of a tax increase to fight inflation.

COMPARISON

June's $3.4 billion increase in personal income compared with gains of $2.5 billion in May and $1.5 billion after much greater increases in January, February and March.

The Commerce Department also announced that corporations paid out $3 billion in dividends in June, 6 per cent more than June, 1965.

10-Year Mark Is Set in State Employment

DETROIT (UPI) — May nonfarm employment in Michigan jumped to the second highest total for any month during the past 10 years despite construction strikes and car production cutbacks, the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported today.

Unemployment in May dropped 1,000 to 97,000, exactly 3 per cent of Michigan's labor force and the lowest unemployment figure since last October, the MESC said.

But the commission forecast that unemployment would "rise moderately" during the next 60 days as car factories close for model changeover.

Employment during May climbed 17,000 to 2,997,100, the MESC said, the highest May total in 10 years and second only to the record of 3,004,800 set last December.

★ ★ ★

Earnings Up at Fruehauf

Sales for the first six months of 1965 were $184,181,022 and earnings were $10,569,483.

State Girl Said Harassed

Nurse Who Dated Speck Hospitalized

HANCOCK (UPI) — A nurse who dated accused mass killer Richard Speck was hospitalized today with an "emotional condition."

Her lawyer said it was caused by "harassment and threats" from Chicago authorities.

Andrew Wisti, attorney for Judy Laakaniemi, 28, said local police took the nurse to St. Joseph's Hospital after Kenneth Gilles, assistant Illinois state's attorney and Chicago police officers "saw fit to pound at her door in the night and make statements which were in the nature of threats to Miss Laakaniemi."

Hancock Police Chief Joseph Karry said officers called to Miss Laakaniemi's apartment found no Chicago officials there but drove her to the hospital where she met Speck May 3 when he underwent an emergency appendectomy.

Wisti said he was "preparing a legal action against the state's assistant attorney and the persons who participated in the harassment and the threats to Miss Laakaniemi."

REFUSED TO TALK

The attractive brunette has refused to talk with Gilles and his aides who came here to question her about her association with Speck. She nursed him at St. Joseph's and he returned to visit her June 23 through 27.

Miss Laakaniemi told United Press International in an interview that Speck, accused of killing eight nurses in Chicago just 18 days after he left Hancock, "had a hatred in him."

She has been in seclusion since the interview.

★ ★ ★

Wisti said Miss Laakaniemi was willing to give a statement only "if we are convinced that her testimony will be material in the trial, either from the standpoint of the prosecutor or the defense."

Gilles has been trying to see her since Tuesday without any success.

Restore Villa's Name--Widow

PARRAL, Mexico (UPI)—the widow of storied Pancho Villa stood resolutely before the old bandit's grave here yesterday and demanded Mexico restore Villa's good name.

Dona Austreberta Villa told a sympathetic gathering of peasants and aging veterans of Villa's band it was the duty of modern Mexico to vindicate Villa's name and add him to the list of Mexican heroes.

"The essential thing was that he was faithful to the principle of the revolution," Dona Austreberta said in the ceremony marking the anniversary of Villa's death.

Although he fought faithfully as a cavalry leader in the revolution of 1910 that established modern Mexico, Villa has never been accepted in the "official" list of Mexican heroes.

★ ★ ★

He went on fighting against the government which the revolution estabilshed, mixed robbery with revolution and was blamed for luring U.S. troops into Mexico.

LED FORCE

Gen. John "Black Jack" Pershing led a cavalry force into Mexico in a fruitless attempt to hunt down Villa after he attacked the border town of Columbus, N.M.

Whereabouts of Frank, Mia Still Mystery

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The whereabouts of honeymooners Frank Sinatra and Mia Farrow remained a mystery today, even to friends and business associates.

The balding singer, 50, and the slender 21-year-old star of television's "Peyton Place" were married Tuesday in a surprise ceremony at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev.

The couple said they would fly to New York City for several days before going on to London, where Sinatra is shooting "The Naked Runner."

★ ★ ★

But Sinatra's private Lear jet was reported to have stopped in Palm Springs, Calif., where grounds of the Tamarisk Country Club.

HOME UNOCCUPIED

Newsmen there said the newlyweds had not been seen in the desert resort, however, and there were no signs that Sinatra's home was occupied.

Some of the singer's filmland pals said the pair might be here in Hollywood, or in Palm Springs, New York or at a hideaway almost anywhere.

★ ★ ★

Death of Man in Ohio 'Looks Like Suicide'

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (UPI) — The death of William J. McIntyre, 30, Ferndale, Mich., "appears at this time to be suicide," Logan County Deputy Sheriff De Weese L. Skidmore said yesterday.

McIntyre was shot early Tuesday in a vacation cottage at Russells Point near here. The cottage was rented by Mrs. Dorothy Waugh, about 40, Warren, Mich.

Mrs. Waugh told police there was a "little argument" after a party Saturday night. She was not held by police.

Nothing on the suicide ruling was definite "until we can check out a few details," Skidmore said.

SHEPHERD OF CLEVELAND — Brian R. Illig of Lyndhurst became Pfc. Brian R. Illig of the Ohio National Guard when his unit was mobilized for duty in the riot-torn Hough area in Cleveland. The Cleveland vigil put him appropriately in front of a store-front church proclaiming "Shepherd of the Street." Illig is anxious to get back to his job as cost estimator at an engineering firm, "The pay's a lot better . . . and it's not as dangerous."

Luci, Pat Will Live in Duplex

Secret Service Staff to Occupy Other Half

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Luci Baines Johnson and Patrick J. Nugent will live after their Aug. 6 wedding in a 5-year-old duplex apartment in a quiet West Austin neighborhood, a newspaper reported today.

The Austin American said Secret Service men will occupy the apartment on the other side.

The house sits atop a slight hill in one of Austin's older and finer sections. The owner, Phil Sanders, a former assistant district attorney, would not confirm or deny the newspaper's account. He merely said he leased the apartment unfurnished.

Mr. and Mrs. David W. Robertson refused to discuss rumors that they would vacate their half of the duplex to make room for Secret Service agents.

NO FIREPLACE

It is a pinkish-orange brick structure with a covered court yard and a wrought iron gate. There is a woodburning fireplace on the Robertsons' side but not on the other.

★ ★ ★

The apartment, described previously by Luci as "a dream house with two skylights to save on electricity," is a few blocks from a complex which houses several hundred students of the University of Texas.

Luci and Pat plan to attend the university next fall.

The Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority said today the scholarships were renewed for students who have maintained a "C" average and continue to show financial need.

★ ★ ★

It said an additional 614 sophomores and juniors not previously receiving state assistance have been awarded scholarships totaling $217,000.

Another Yank Pilot Caught, Say N. Viets

TOKYO (AP) — North Viet Nam announced today it had captured another American pilot, Capt. James Joseph Connell, and quoted him as saying U.S. fliers were "greatly afraid" of dense antiaircraft fire near Hanoi.

A Hanoi broadcast said Connell was shot down south of the North Vietnamese capital at noon last Friday. The U.S. Command announced earlier that a Navy A4 Skyhawk was lost that day and listed the pilot as missing.

The North Vietnamese News Agency did not give Connell's home town but said he was born May 6, 1939, in Delaware. It quoted him as saying he was confronted by angry North Vietnamese after he bailed out.

"But then I was surprised to see that the same people contained their anger and dressed my wounds carefully. And not a single blow fell on me," he added, according to the broadcast.

'MANY WAR CRIMES'

The broadcast again stressed the alleged criminal activities of American pilots by asserting that Connell admitted he had "committed many war crimes against the Vietnamese people." There was no threat to put him on trial.

Connell was among a contingent of pilots ordered to bomb an area south of Hanoi, the broadcast said.

"They were greatly anxious, because, Connell said, the target area was a 'danger zone' with very heavy ground fire and where they might bump against both the North Viet Nam air force and the surface-to-air missile," the broadcast said.

The broadcast also said Connell's group had been instructed in a new flying tactic to meet the missile challenge but added: "His nerves were hamstrung and even before he could decide how to apply the new tactic a dreadful explosion was heard, his plane shook and caught fire. All he could do was to eject to escape death."

The Pentagon said Wednesday that 45 Americans are known to be captives of the North Vietnamese.

Seek Woman in Ballot Case

Detroit Hunt Spurred by Absentee Requests

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit police today were searching for an unidentified woman in connection with an investigation of a large request for absentee ballots in the Aug. 2 primary election.

Authorities said 459 absentee ballots were turned in to the Election Commission by William V. Banks, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for state representative for the 10th District, last Friday.

Many of the 459 persons who signed the ballot applications claimed an unknown woman asked for their signatures on request.

Detroit Elections Director John Smith said investigation showed many of the applicants had no idea they were applying for absentee ballots and that 63 of the requests from one precinct appeared to have been filled out by the same person.

He said that if the "mystery woman" had induced the signers to make a false claim she could be prosecuted for conspiracy to violate the state election code.

This crime would be a felony. The person signing the application, under a false claim of physical disability, could be charged with a misdemeanor.

Two special investigators from the secretary of state's office today questioned applicant signers. Banks was unavailable for comment.

Douglas: No Comment on Criticism

GOOSE PRAIRIE, Wash. (UPI) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas had no comment on congressional criticism on his fourth marriage, but he had plenty to say regarding his application to visit Red China.

★ ★ ★

Both declined comment on a resolution Monday by a group of congressmen seeking to have the House Judiciary Committee investigate the "moral character" of Douglas.

Regarding his application to the State Department for permission to go to China, Douglas said he had wanted to visit there since his trip to the Far East in 1950.

"This has not been a popular thing," he said, "but now more and more people are beginning to realize that it is necessary.

"If we go, it will be symbolic of the kind of thing I think all Americans should be able to do."

VISIT U.S.

He added t at he thought Chinese should be able to visit the United States.

JEROME FORD ROCHESTER'S FORD DEALER OL 1-9711

(C) Volkswagen of America, Inc.

This Car has Passed Our 16-Point Safety and Performance Test.

Introducing a used car guarantee.
It doesn't come with every car.

And it comes only with used cars that pass the Volkswagen 16-point Safety and Performance Test.

This is how it works. When we get a car as a trade-in, we give it the inspection. Check it out completely. If it passes, we tune up, tighten, repair or replace everything that needs tuning up, tightening, repairing or replacing.

Then we guarantee it: 100% repair or replacement of all major mechanical parts* for 30 days or 1000 miles.

What kind of cars get our guarantee sticker? Chevys, Fords, Ramblers, VWs. (We get all kinds of trade-ins for new Volkswagens.)

So, the next time somebody tries to sell you a used car that's "just like new," ask about the guarantee. Then remember us.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Jackie Gleason for the first time in many years is going to suffer the cruel indignity — and the crueler perspiration — of rehearsing his TV show just as most other stars have always done.

WILSON

But the Great Non-Rehearser isn't going to carry it to any ridiculous lengths.

On the five days he rehearses — he formerly rehearsed none—he won't start work until 3 o'clock in the afternoon after he's already been playing golf since early in the forenoon.

"The working day starts at 3 so I can get in the golf first," the Large One said. "I don't know how I'm going to like that rehearsing," he added, announcing his policy change to me at Miami Beach.

"I never rehearsed before. It was always a one-man show and I only had me to contend with. But them other actors" — Art Carney and Sheila MacRae included—"got to have rehearsal time."

Jackie started the 1966-67 season Monday, holding his first staff meeting to sketch out 10 "Honeymooners," 10 variety shows and 10 "specials."

By Aug. 1 Jackie'll be rehearsing at new offices built for him in North Miami.

"The offices will be ideal for my real occupation—golf," Jackie said. "They're building my offices a 250-yard drive from the golf course."

Space Spectacular Near End

Related Story, Page C-8

Command pilot John W. Young, a Navy commander and space-walker Michael Collins, an Air Force major, planned to trigger the retrorockets on their fuel-short spacecraft at 3:31 p.m. EST to start a fiery descent.

The landing in the Atlantic about 550 miles east southeast of Cape Kennedy was timed for 4:07 p.m.

A recovery force of ships and planes headed by the helicopter aircraft carrier Guadalcanal was stationed in the planned landing zone, where weather conditions were reported good.

Until the reentry, the astronauts were to drift through space, conserving their precious remaining fuel and conducting whatever photographic and scientific experiments they could.

3 DAYS ALOFT

They were ready to come home after three days aloft.

In that period they had the hatch open three times — twice for Collins' business outside and once to jettison items no longer needed.

Discussing that last night, Young commented: "We'd like to try for five — on the water. One on the left side, one on the right — no more, thank you."

Despite problems that forced Collins to cut short two space excursions, the flight of Gemini 10 was rated one of the best U.S. man-in-space trips yet.

'REWARDING MISSION'

"John and Mike performed magnificently."

Lunney said Gemini 10 proved the feasibility of rendezvous with both an active and a passive satellite — the Agena 10 and the Agena 8, that man can survive outside a spacecraft, and that a manned satellite can dock with a fuel tanker in space for long periods and use its engine for maneuvering.

Navy Cmdr. Alan L. Bean, a Gemini 10 back-up pilot, told newsmen the rendezvous with the lifeless Agena 8 was the most significant achievement.

Noted Director Is Appointed to Head Staff

Brings State Its First Professional Resident Repertory Company

Meeting at OU today, the Michigan State University Board of Trustees approved the project and confirmed Fernald's appointment as professor of dramatic art, director of the academy of dramatic art, and the professional resident theater company.

The board's action will mean that OU will have the state's first professional resident repertory company and take a leading position in the cultural expansion of Southeast Michigan.

According to OU Chancellor Durward B. Varner, the academic portion of the program will be a regular part of the university. The professional will be the responsibility of the wide area it will serve.

★ ★ ★

As projected, the performing arts center would provide season-long professional theater, performed by the professional company, some members of the teaching staff and well-known visiting theater performers.

CLASSICAL THEATER

Current plans call for the first production this December.

During his period of guiding the Royal Academy, Fernald trained a number of now well-known actors and actresses, including Albert Finney, Peter O'Toole and Susannah York.

★ ★ ★

He recently was described by actor Peter Ustinov as "one of the prime architects of England's impressive array of young actors and actresses who are so much in demand on the stages and screens of the world."

Speck Charged With Murder

Suspect Sees Lawyer, Talks to Minister

CHICAGO (AP) — Richard Speck, 24, who is accused of slaughtering eight student nurses, was formally charged with murder yesterday and conferred with his lawyer and a minister.

The Rev. David Peterson, 30, a Lutheran minister, spent 20 minutes with Speck in the City Jail Hospital and told newsmen:

"He is concerned about his relationship with God. I think that primarily was the reason he saw me. It was a very personal conversation."

The Rev. Mr. Peterson, pastor of the Irving Vark Lutheran Church of Chicago, said Speck asked him to visit again today.

The minister said he would if jail authorities agree.

Speck, an itinerant seaman and divorcee with a long arrest record in Dallas, Tex., was formally charged with murder and the hearing was continued to July 28.

The call for a minister was the first request made by Speck since he was carried into the Cook County Hospital emergency room early Sunday, bleeding from self-inflicted slashes to his arms and reeking from alcohol.

He was later transferred to the City Jail Hospital.

Violence in Cleveland Leaves Five Wounded

By The Associated Press

Five persons were wounded early today, including a teen-age Negro mother and her two children, as police and troops fired on a car near the scene of a fire which destroyed a dance hall and skating rink in Cleveland, Ohio.

The scene was near a section which has been wracked by rioting since Monday night.

Among those wounded was Capt. James Pletcher. The National Guardsman was struck in the leg by a riocheting slug.

Diane Towns, 16, identified as the mother of the two children, was wounded in the face and shoulder.

Her son, Emanuel, 7 months, was shot in the leg. Her other child, Christopher Green, 4, was in serious condition with a head wound.

★ ★ ★

A 12-year-old boy, Ernest Williams, a brother of Mrs. Towns, was wounded in the leg.

RIDING IN AUTO

Police said all were riding in the automobile which was fired on.

The driver, who escaped injury, was not identified.

Police said the dance hall and skating rink, in the same building, apparently were set afire.

Ideal Weather Is Predicted

Poets may acclaim the perfect day in June but what about weather this week? Skies are cloudless, breezes balmy, temperatures warm during the day and cool at night.

★ ★ ★

The weatherman is a pretty good fellow after all. He gives us blustering storms, high winds and sizzling temperatures then favors us with perfect weather.

The mercury will dip to lows of 48 to 57 tinight and climb to 77 to 85 tomorrow. Partly cloudy and slightly warmer is Saturday's forecast.

Variable winds at 5 to 15 miles per hour will continue.

A balmy 56 was the low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury reading was 79 at 1 p.m.

Complete Breakdown Looms in Airline Strike Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The striking machinists union canceled today its plans for a vote on the latest offer of five strike-bound airlines and federal mediators said the negotiations will continue until the walkout is settled.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The thunderhead of a complete breakdown threatened airline strike talks today, heightening speculation that President Johnson will step in.

"The hell with this thing!" snapped Vice President Joseph W. Ramsey of the striking AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists. "I don't know if we'll ever be back."

An equally irked William J. Curtin, chief negotiator for the five strikebound airlines, said no tenative contract offer will be made for the union to present for a vote of its 35,000 strikers.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said such a union vote would be pointless and a farce without agreement between the top negotiators.

The verbal storm clouds over the talks meant the two-week strike against Trans World, Eastern, National, Northwest and United airlines could extend to at least a month.

Johnson's only alternative appeared to be to call the negotiators into the White House for marathon sessions as he successfully did to settle stalemated steel and railroad talks in the past.

SPECIAL LAW

He appeared to rule out any special emergency law such as Congress whipped out to stave off a threatened rail strike in 1963.

The Johnson and Wirtz remarks pressured the machinists' negotiators into delaying their 5 p.m. deadline yesterday for taking a membership vote on whatever was the airlines' last offer.

Ramsey wanted to recess the talks for the five days it would take to conduct the vote.

Negotiations flew apart again when Ramsey reset the deadline for noon tomorrow. The vote will be taken at union meetings next weekend in some 30 cites, Ramsey said.

"The union officers confirm the certain fact that the union vote will be negative," Wirtz said in sharply denouncing the machinists' plan.

30 Picketing Motorcar Firm

Some 30 employes of the Motorcar Transport Co., 1280 Joslyn, began picketing the firm's main gate this morning in protest of alleged unfair labor practices.

Joe Bane, president of Teamsters Local 614, declined to describe the union action as a strike, but indicated that drivers employed at Motorcar "don't want to work."

Bane said an unfair labor practice suit was filed with the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) last Friday after the company granted what he called a wage increase, hospitalization and life insurance benefits to clerical workers.

The complaint charges that Motorcar made the move in an attempt to thwart union organization or clerks and secretaries.

Management officials were not available for comment on the suit.

Bane said picketing would continue at the company until the complaint is heard by the NLRB.

"That could be as long as six to eight weeks," he said.

A spokesman for Pontiac Motor Division said a work stoppage at Motorcar would have "no effect" on delivery and transportation of Pontiacs and Tempests.

Of Austerity Program

Britons to Feel Pinch

LONDON (AP) — Britons hitched up their belts another notch or two today and moved into a period of economic hardship as austere as any they have faced since World War II. There were doubts the new austerity program had gone far enough but some unions rebelled.

The principal reason for the economic recession deliberately set in motion by their government — the defense of the pound sterling in world money markets — was complex and confusing to the man in the street.

But he will be hit by higher sales taxes, tighter curbs on consumer credit and a freeze on any increase in wages, prices or dividends.

★ ★ ★

The austerity program, announced in Parliament yesterday by Prime Minister Harold Wilson, also chopped $2 billion off government spending, much of it in foreign aid and maintenance of British armed forces in Western Europe and east of Suez.

SPENDING CURB

The aim is to curb spending at home and abroad and promote domestic production of goods for export in an effort to eliminate the perennial deficit in foreign exchange.

This deficit has persisted over a number of years and has brought the pound close to devaluation.

There have been heavy sales of the pound in recent weeks, set off by fears of devaluation, and its price has dropped in relation to other currencies.

But the exchange rate went up sharply yesterday after Wilson announced his program.

ALMOST QUIT

Wilson's proposals, which almost led to the resignation of his deputy prime minister, George Brown, were seen by many as first and only for an economy badly out of kilter and not a long-range solution.

The reaction at home included expressions of dismay from labor leaders, the backbone of support for Wilson's Labor government.

Frank Cousins, head of the Transport and General Workers Union, the largest in Britain, said his organization could not "accept and cooperate" with the wage freeze.

Trials Would Offend U.S., Says Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, while carefully avoiding retaliation threats, says the American people would "react accordingly" should Hanoi try downed U.S. pilots on charges of war crimes.

Asked about North Vietnamese threats that such trials will be launched, Johnson responded at a news conference yesterday by saying:

"I think the people of this country and the peaceful people of the world would find this action very revolting and repulsive, and would react accordingly."

Johnson twice skirted questions about possible American retaliation against any trials of the American prisoners.

Winnie Files Suit on Ballot

Wants Withdrawn Rival's Name Off

A candidate for the 16th District senate seat filed suit yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court to remove from the Aug. 2 primary ballot the name of a woman who has withdrawn from the race.

The legal action was initiated by Birmingham attorney Dale A. Winnie, who is seeking the Republican nomination over the incumbent, Sen. Robert J. Huber of Troy.

Winnie, 40, of 135 Chewton is asking the court to restrain the Oakland County Election Commission from preparing and delivering any ballots containing the name of Mary Bawden.

★ ★ ★

A hearing on the matter is scheduled for 11 a.m. Monday before Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

WITHDREW LAST WEEK

Mrs. Bawden, 977 Gordon Lane, Birmingham, announced her withdrawal from the campaign last week.

She explained that she believed that the incumbent could be more effectively opposed by one candidate than by two.

At the time, she said she was aware that her name would still appear on the ballot since state law requires candidates to withdraw within 72 hours after the June 14 deadline for filing petitions.

"Our political philosophies are similar, as contrasted to Huber's," said Winnie, "and voters now have a much clearer choice."

DISENFRANCHISED

"Voters who do not know that Mrs. Bawden has withdrawn and unintentionally vote for her will be disenfranchised," said Winnie.

By law only the names of candidates appear on the ballot, said Winnie, "and Mary is no longer a candidate."

Winnie said he filed the suit in his own behalf and for "the voters who are not informed and able to vote for the candidate of their choice."

★ ★ ★

"This will be a close contest," said Winnie. "A four-year term of office is at stake. The votes cast for Mrs. Bawden could make the difference."

BLANK STICKER

County Election Clerk Mabel Child said that if the court rules in Winnie's favor it would be possible to place a blank sticker over the name of Mrs. Bawden.

3 Yank Planes Lost in N. Viet Strikes; More MIGs Sighted

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Viet Nam's antiaircraft defenses shot down three more U.S. Air Force planes — one a radar ship packed with electronic detection and jamming gear — as American pilots ran through another barrage of missiles and sighted more Communist MIGs, the U.S. military command announced today.

The twin-jet RB66 reconnaissance plane with a crew of six was the second of its type reported lost in the war. The other planes brought down in raids Wednesday were both single-seat F105 Thunderchief fighter-bombers, bringing the announced toll of American aircraft over the Communist North to 298.

All eight airmen were listed as missing.

The North Vietnamese fired off nine Soviet-built surface-to-air missiles and American pilots sighted six Communist jet fighters, the U.S. command said. There was no report of any clashes with the enemy planes.

USUAL POLICY

The RB66 was hit about 70 miles north-northwest of Hanoi, while one of the Thunderchiefs went down on a strike 60 miles north-northeast of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman said.

The location of the other loss was not immediately announced.

Seven American planes have been reported shot down in North Viet Nam this week. On Tuesday, a missile knocked down one U.S. plane and a MIG17 got another. American jets encountered a record barrage of 29 SAMs.

LOSSES DECLINE

U.S. combat casualties declined sharply last week, a military spokesman announced. He said 65 Americans were killed, 368 wounded and none were missing in action in the week of July 10-16, compared with 10 killed, 620 wounded and seven missing the previous seven days.

The casualties brought the number of Americans killed this year to an unofficial toll of 2,456 and to 4,304 since the beginning of U.S. involvement in the war on Jan. 1, 1961.

Total allied combat dead for the week were reported as 279, of which 209 were Vietnamese, an increase of 44. Allied forces estimated they killed 1,200 Communists.

The number of government troops reported missing declined to 39 from 106 the week of July 3-9.

Buddhist, 18, Sets Self Afire

In critical Condition; Monk's Fast Goes On

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — An 18-year-old Buddhist monk set himself afire today after South Viet Nam's most militant monk, Thich Tri Quang, told a religious meeting he would continue his 44-day antigovernment fast.

The young monk, identified as Quan Tuong, was rushed to a hospital in a critical condition but was still alive two hours after he had doused himself with gasoline and squatted in the muddy street outside Buddhist Youth Institute headquarters.

★ ★ ★

It was not immediately known if Quan Tuong heard Tri Quang repeat his demand that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky resign.

People at the scene said Quan Tuong's attempted suicide was thwarted when he fell backward into a puddle of water.

STAYS ON FAST

Tri Quang told the meeting at the Buddhist Youth Institute, outside which Quan Tuong set himself ablaze, that he had been asked to end his fast, but declared he would not do so.

He left a hospital bed to attend the meeting and was escorted into and out of the building on the arms of two monks.

Between May 29 and June 17 this year — when the angry minority of Buddhist dissidents were at the peak of their power — 10 monks and nuns burned themselves to death. Since 1963, there have been 22 such ritual suicides in South Viet Nam.

Germans Host French Leader

Moscow Trip, Troops Will Be Key Issues

BONN, Germany (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle arrived in Bonn today for 10 hours of talks about his recent visit to the Soviet Union and the future status of French troops in Germany.

Main points on the agenda announced by the Bonn government were:

1. A report by de Gaulle on his recent visit to the Soviet Union. The Russians rejected his proposal that they discuss German reunification with the West Germans.

2. A discussion of a new legal framework for the 72,000 French soldiers and airmen stationed in West Germany. The West Germans want to work out a new status for the French forces now that they are no longer under the integrated military command of the Atlantic Alliance. The French say a 1954 agreement between West Germany and her allies with troops in the country provides an adequate framework.

The President expressed the opinion that the nation's white majority wants to see the Negro minority achieve equality "without violence."

Discussing his plans for the 1966 congressional election season, Johnson said he "will take advantage of every opportunity to go out into the country to discuss our program, our convictions, and to tell them what we stand for, and ask for their support."

Johnson was asked about a new Saigon statement indicating that withdrawal of Hanoi troops from the South and dissolution of the Communist-controlled National Liberation Front could result in an end to bombings of the North and the withdrawal of American forces.

While saying he had not examined the statement carefully, the President said: "I look with favor upon the general suggestion made.

"We generally approve of the sentiment expressed in the Saigon statement as I interpreted it."

OU Will Get Drama Center

interview last week with The Press, Fernald indicated he would prefer to establish a theater first, with the drama school following as a natural development.

"If you have a good theater, then you want to perpetuate it, to train actors to graduate into it," he said.

As outlined by Varner, the drama school would eventually have 100 students, and performances would be given in the Wilson Hall theater, which has a seating capacity of 1,000 to 1,200. Offices of the center would be in the same building.

Financing of the performing arts center is expected to come from foundations, federal assistance and interested individuals, Varner said.

COCHAIRMEN OF CENTER

Mrs. George Romney and OU benefactress Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson will be honorary cochairmen of the center, with Charles Adams, executive vice president of MacManus, John and Adams advertising agency, as general chairman.

A policy committee and an executive committee will be named later.

★ ★ ★

NATURAL EXTENSIONS

Expanding the festival and then starting a summer music school were natural extensions toward the goal of a performing arts center, he said.

Fernald originally was considering establishing a similar project at Richmond, Va. It is possible that he may conduct a spring and fall drama festival there while on leave from OU, Varner said.

Born in California, Fernald moved to England with his parents as a child. He became a British subject 19 years ago.

★ ★ ★

Married to actress Jenny Laird, they have a daughter Karin, who is also an actress.

The trustees also approved the appointment of two staffers for the center.

Both are associates of Fernald at the Royal Academy. They are John Broome, who will teach movement, and Robin Ray, who will teach acting technique.

Dump Owner Given Notice

Health Departments List State Regulations

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — The owner of a land-fill operation on Bald Mountain has been given until Aug. 1 to comply with certain state regulations before "appropriate action" is taken against him.

Representatives of the state and county health departments extended last Tuesday's deadline after an inspection of the dump showed that Charles MacRae was making an attempt to comply with regulations.

The inspections held during the past week were prompted by spontaneous combustion-ig-

* * *

MacRae was given a list of seven steps he must take before another inspection on Aug. 1. He must:

- Stop a pond containing chemicals from draining onto adjoining property to the south.
- Order additional equipment, which he claims he has done.
- Adequately cover exposed rubbish on a daily basis.
- Stop water from flowing into the chemical pond creating flooding conditions.
- Place only inert material such as concrete blocks on the open face of the back of the hill.
- File proper applications for a license with the Oakland County Health Department.
- Obtain a bond by Aug. 3.

The recent inspection was made by Fred Kellow of the Michigan State Health Department, Robert Coleman and Oscar Boyes of the Oakland County Health Department and State Representative Robert J. Slingerlend (D-Lake Orion).

School Tax Levy Boosted in Rochester

ROCHESTER — A $7.3 million bond issue and a slight increase in county tax allocation account for the increase in the school tax levy set by the board of education Monday night.

Voters approved the bond issue last April, thereby approving a ½-mill increase in the bonded indebtedness levy.

The ½-mill increase to 7 mills qualifies the district to borrow from the State Bond Loan Fund for building projects.

Street Work Pact Awarded

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has awarded the contract for township road improvements to Fyke & Sons, Inc., of Berkley.

The company's bid of $54,160 was the lowest of four bids received.

Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz said the work on the roads would begin as soon as the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission gives the township permission to issue bonds to cover the cost.

The improvements include realignment, regrading and blacktopping of four roads: Burgess, Cedar Shores, Coledale and Raveen.

Owners of property fronting on the roads will be assessed $7.49 per foot of frontage. The assessment will be paid over a 10-year period.

Lake Restoration Planned

ORCHARD LAKE — Thanks to a concerned group of lake area property owners, steps will soon be taken to halt the apparent evolution of Orchard Lake into a lily pad-studded mill pond.

Headed by William W. Gotshall, 3081 Walma, the Orchard Lake Conservation Committee hired an engineering firm to make a survey of the problem of the lake's steadily receding shoreline and to offer a plan for its restoration.

According to Gotshall, Orchard Lake is currently about 4½ feet below its normal level of 930.5 feet above sea level.

* * *

SPRING-FED

The lack of rain has been especially damaging to Orchard Lake because it is a spring-fed lake and does not have a watershed, said Gotshall.

Most other lakes in the area have watersheds and are not dependent on ground water. Many are fed directly by the Clinton River.

Orchard Lake, however, is entirely dependent on rainfall and the water table. It discharges water into the Clinton River, rather than being fed by it.

Contributing causes to the problem are population growth and new construction.

* * *

More people are moving into the community, using more water and making increased use of sewers.

WATER USAGE

A private well combined with a sewer represents a total loss to the lake area since the water is drawn off of the water table and then diverted away after it has been used, he said.

Homes which have well-septic tank combinations do not seriously affect the lake level since the water is eventually returned to the water table.

Building projects have filled in swamps and other natural water collection areas which normally feed the table.

The engineering survey conducted by the firm of Pate, Hirn and Bogue, Inc., of Detroit, was financed by contributions from about 65 per cent of the lake area residents.

* * *

Results of the firm's study and its plan for the lake's restoration have been presented to the County Board of Supervisors a approved by that body.

SET HEARING

The board has yet to set a date for a circuit court hearing on the plans.

If the court endorses the engineering firm's recommendations, the drain commissioner would be assigned the task of establishing and maintaining the designated water level.

The drain commissioner has assumed this responsibility already for 18 lakes in the county.

The firm's plans, according to Gotshall, center around a dam that would be built between Orchard and Cass lakes.

SPRING HELP

In the spring, with heavy rains and melting snows and a swollen Clinton River feeding Cass, this could be expected to add about a foot to the level of Orchard Lake.

No water rights would be violated, said Gotshall, since only surplus water would be used and the water levels of Cass and the Clinton River would not be diminished.

With the usual rainfall the lake level could be expected to fall to about 929.5 by the end of the summer.

At the earliest, Gotshall said, the plan could be operative by next spring.

Turpentine a Tre(e)at

PORTLAND (AP) — Basil Kinney says he has an American Elm tree which is thriving by guzzling turpentine.

Kinney said he noticed last fall that the tree was showing signs of ill-health —it was losing some of its leaves and several branches near the top were completely bare.

He said he had read of several trees being nursed back to health on a turpentine diet, so he decided to give the tree an occasional nip.

He drilled a hole in the trunk and ran a rubber hose from the hole to a bottle filled with turpentine.

* * *

This spring, he resumed the process and so far the tree has consumed five pints of turpentine.

DARRIS McCORD

McCord Latest in Salary Squabble

Lions 'Happy Den' Has Money Woes

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Coach Harry Gilmer may hope to have a "happy house" down on the practice field at Cranbrook school, but up at the cottage in Russ Thomas' room of the Detroit Lions' camp problems are mounting.

Veteran end Darris McCord has joined several of his teammates in the $100 per day fine category by leaving camp in a salary dispute.

After the opening day of camp Tuesday Gilmer said he was hoping for a "healthy, happy and fast season," without expecting the current salary problems to mount.

"As I remember, we had a 6-7-1 record last year. There is quite a bit of distance between our offer and the players' demands," he said.

MEETING TODAY

He was to meet again today with Brown, the 6-foot-5, 300-pound defensive tackle and with Gordy.

Brown and Karras failed to show up Tuesday at camp and Gordy walked out without working out the same day.

"The kind of increases players are asking are as much as 60 and 70 per cent over last year's contract. We have offered raises in each case," said Thomas.

"A lot of players were contacted by the American Football League and big money was talked about. Some of it may have been sincere but much of it was not," he added.

"The bonuses some of the rookies are getting has stirred things up."

Three more Lions however did join Gilmer's side of the Cranbrook camp with guard John Gonzaga, halfback Joe Don Looney and halfback Tommy Watkins signing yesterday.

J. D. Smith, former All-Pro guard with the Philadelphia Eagles, whom the Lions obtained three years ago is still in Texas "harvesting wheat."

Smith is contemplating retirement and Gilmer is hoping he will consider. The big offensive lineman played only 3½ games in two years because of knee injuries.

Baltimore Roughs Up Tiger Hurlers

Orioles Pound Detroiters, 10-7

Birds Shell McLain in Four Innings

BALTIMORE (AP) — Will the real Denny McLain please step forward?

★ ★ ★

The man who took the mound for the Detroit Tigers Wednesday night at Baltimore didn't look like the Denny McLain who started for the American League All-Stars and pitched three flawless innings. He didn't look like the winner who had 13 victories to his credit and only five losses.

TWO RELIEFERS

The man who started for the Tigers Wednesday night gave up 10 hits and 8 earned runs in 4 innings. He was followed by Orlando Pena and Larry Sherry. Between them they gave up six more hits and two runs and Baltimore won, 10-7.

★ ★ ★

Detroit, now 10½ games behind the league leaders, has lost 14 of its last 20 games, the last five in a row. And in those last five, Tiger pitchers have given up 53 runs.

★ ★ ★

Detroit mustered nine hits and seven runs, enough to win most games. Jim Northrup paced the Tigers with a homer and a double, knocking in two runs and scoring three.

Don Wert started the game for the Tigers with a double. Jake Wood walked and Northrup doubled to drive in Wert. Willie Horton tapped a grounder but a wild throw let Wood and Northrup score.

But Baltimore came right back in its half of the first. Russ Snyder singled and Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell walked. Curt Blefary singled in two runs and Dave Johnson singled in another to tie the game.

In Orioles' Camp

Flag Fever Checked

BALTIMORE (AP)— Manager Hank Bauer isn't talking, but some of the Baltimore Orioles can't help but be realistic about their bulging 10½-game lead in the American League.

"If we lose now, we ought to be run out of town," is the way coach Gene Woodling analyzed the task confronting the other teams if they hope to prevent a Baltimore runaway.

"We haven't won yet," Woodling said, citing the collapse of the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1951 as they blew a 13½-game advantage after a mid-August.

NOT IMPOSSIBLE

"It's not impossible, but I can't see it happening with the type of club we have," Woodling said. "Everybody does his part, even filling in for guys who get hurt."

Bauer, Woodling's teammate when the New York Yankees weer winning pennants, couldn't be persuaded to make a prediction after the Oroiles whipped the second-place eDtroit Tigers 10-7 Wednesday night.

"I haven't said anything yet, and I'm not going to start now," Bauer said. "Henry learned his lesson a long time ago. You don't get gay when you're flying high."

Most of the players made guarded statements but several wisecracked, "What race?" when questioned about the possibility of other teams closing gound.

The Robinson boys, Brooks and Frank, were as unlike in their responses as they are alike in helping to lift Baltimore to its lofty perch.

"I'm keeping my mouth shut," Brooks said.

Frank quietly observed that the race "is breaking open," and then backed up his statement with imposing statistics.

"Let's see, we're 63-32 now," Frank said. "We only have to play a little better than .500 ball the rest of the way, 37-30, to win 100 games. Detroit would have to win 50 of 72 to match us."

HONING A WAR CLUB — Outfielder Russ Snyder of the Baltimore Orioles, American League's leading batter, hones his bat prior to last night's game against the Detroit Tigers in Baltimore. Snyder collected two hits, upping his average to .338 as the Orioles won, 10-7, and raised their lead over the second place Tigers to 10½ games.

Jack Nicklaus

Nicklaus Watching Timetable

Success Keeps Jack Sharp

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Success hasn't spoiled Jack Nicklaus, who will tee off today in the PGA's Golden Anniversary Tournament, seeking his third major title of the year and the ninth of his short, illustrious career.

★ ★ ★

Success has given the 26-year-old Columbus, Ohio clouter an opportunity to pace himself so that he might remain one of the world's premier golfers for years to come.

"No more than two tournaments in a row, if I can help it," said Nicklaus, who this year completed his grand slam when he captured the recent British Open.

★ ★ ★

USES TIMETABLE

Now Jack is using a timetable which he claims will not only enable him to play better golf, but also to enjoy the game more.

"Nobody likes to do anything he doesn't enjoy," said Nicklaus, "and I can't enjoy playing golf week after week. The cutdown will not be drastic. Instead of 25 tournaments a year, I'll probably play 18, maybe 20.

★ ★ ★

On the subject of major tournaments, Nickalus is not only closing in on the record 13 won by Bobby Jones, but he has a chance to equal or better Jones' mark in the matter of time.

Nicklaus has no intentions of an early retirement and has not really set a timetable for passing Jones' record at 28.

"Sure, I've given that record some thought," smiled Nicklaus. "The age doesn't enter into it. I'd go after the record if I were 100.

★ ★ ★

"I've been asked if I've lost any of my incentive now that I have won all the major tournaments. The answer is no. I want to win 'em all again. And I'd also like to win them all in one year.

★ ★ ★

"Maybe I'd be going for all of them in one year this week," said the man who won his third Masters in addition to the British Open, but fell short in the U.S. Open, won by Billy Casper in a dramatic playoff with Arnold Palmer.

Nicklaus, along with Palmer and Casper, is a heavy favorite in the 50th PGA. The 7,180-yard Firestone course with a par of 35-35—70 is tailored for the big hitters and the rough is so short that most of the golfers are not even considering it a factor.

Teen Golfers Tumble Vets in Tourney

BARRINGTON, Ill. (AP) — A vivacious youth movement swirled into today's quarter-finals of the 66th Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament but defending champion Barbara Fay Boddie remained the gal to beat.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Boddie, 26, seeking a third successive Western title, is the only one of five starting current Curtis Cuppers to avoid humiliating by up and coming youngsters in the week long tourney over Barrington Hills County Club's roller-coaster course.

★ ★ ★

Hagen Award for Northwest Sportsman

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Oregon sportsman Robert A. Hudson was presented Wednesday with the Walter Hagen Award, given annually for distinguished contributions to Anglo-American golf.

The 79-year-old Hudson, known as Mr. Golf of the Pacific Northwest, was selected for the honor by a poll of U.S. and British Golf Writers.

★ ★ ★

Hudson, a self-made millionaire and prominent businessman from Portland, was instrumental in bringing about resumption of the Ryder Cup matches after the war by personally financing the British team's expenses in 1947.

German Golf Final Includes Arkansan

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Bob Moss, 40-year-old gym instructor from Independence, Ark., routed Lawrence Stewart of Phoenix, Ark., 6 and 5, in the semifinals of the German Amateur Golf Championship Wednesday.

Moss will play Friedrick-Karl Janssen of West Germany in the final. Janssen defeated Bob Falkenburg, an American from Los Angeles now living in Brazil, in the other semi, 4 and 3.

Falkenburg reached the round of four by defeating Barry Terjesen of Akron, Ohio on the first extra hole in the quarter-finals. Moss had beaten Helge Rademacher, West Germany, 2 and 1, while Stewart put out Nils Wirich, West Germany, 3 and 2.

Breaks Color Barrier

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Vince Colbert of Washington D.C., who played junior college basketball last season at Eastern Utah, has signed with East Carolina College. Tom Quinn, East Carolina coach, said the 6-foot-4 Colbert is the school's first Negro basketball player.

49ers' Brodie Doesn't Report for Workouts

Viking Coach Happy With Guard Prospect From Southern Cal

MORAGA, Calif. (AP)— Quarterback John Brodie remained in Honolulu as 14 other veterans reported to the San Francisco 49ers training camp.

Brodie was supposed to show up at 10 a.m. Wednesday. When he didn't appear, the deadline was futilely extended to 4 p.m.

"John knows that we opened camp fully today," Coach Jack Christiansen said. "Unless he has a good reason for being late, I will take what I consider appropriate action when he does arrive."

Brodie reportedly is asking for more than $50,000 to play this season. He is said to have received an offer of $750,000 in May to jump to the Houston Oilers of the American Football League. The offer died when the AFL merged into the National Football League.

SLEEPER FOUND

MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings, who in their five-year history never have had an over abundance of depth in the interior of their offensive line, may have found a sleeper at guard in Jim Vellone of Southern Cal.

Vellone came to the Vikings — along with his tackle running mate at USC, Chuck Arrobio — as a free agent.

The 6-foot-2, 255-pounder had a history of knee trouble and reportedly lacked enough speed to play guard and do the pull-out blocking.

★ ★ ★

But Vikings' Coach Norm Van Brocklin said Wednesday that Vellone "has demonstrated that he has the speed, he blocks very well and he apparently has overcome his knee problem. We're very impressed with him so far."

Arrobio quit last Saturday after only three days of practice in the Viking camp, but Wednesday he telephoned Van Brocklin and said he wanted to try it again.

The Vikings picked up on waivers Wednesday linebacker Joe Novogratz, a 6-foot-2, 223-pounder from the University of Pittsburgh who was the Steelers' 14th round draft choice last year. The Steelers cut him.

★ ★ ★

Williams Insists There's No Feud, Says He Retired

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Former Detroit Lions star defensive end Sam Williams says he has no contract squabble with the new Atlanta Falcons—because he has retired.

"I guess Atlanta does not believe that I have retired," Williams said Tuesday.

"Last week I was on a canoe trip with my 8-year-old son, and when I returned I saw a story from Atlanta saying that I was in a contract squabble and had refused to report to the training camp," Williams said.

"I told the Falcons that I was through when they first contacted me and have reaffirmed my position every time they've called," he said.

"I realize I can't play football all of my life. I'm 35 years old now, and it's time to put my family first."

Still Treating 2 Tigers

Detect Food Poisoning

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Detroit Tigers announced Wednesday night that acting manager Bob Swift and shortstop Dick McAuliffe are suffering from bacterial food poisoning.

McAuliffe became ill during the All-Star game last week and was admitted to Ford Hospital Tuesday after spending several days at home.

Swift, filling in for Manager Chuck Dressen who suffered a heart attack earlier in the esason, was admitted to the hospital last Thursday.

A club spokesman said Swift and McAuliffe would be hospitalized indefinitely, with the shortstop not expected to join the Tigers during the current road trip which extends through Aug. 1.

ORIOLES HURTING

The Baltimore Orioles may have to come up with a surprise choice for catcher in tonight's game against the Tigers.

The only other Baltimore catcher, rookie Andy Etchebarren, was sidelined Monday night after being struck on the hand by a pitch from Chicago hurler Dennis Higgins.

USING HIS HEAD — Baltimore Orioles' Russ Snyder had to use a head-first slide to get back to the bag safely in the first inning last night as the Detroit Tigers tried to pick him off first base in their game in the Baltimore park. Trying to make the tag is Norman Cash. Orioles won, 10-7.

State Women Golfers 'Playing It Straight'

Miss Shook 2-Up Winner

Ex-City Champion Goes to Sidelines

FARMINGTON — The gals are playing the 50th edition of the Women's Michigan Amateur Golf championship straight . . . no surprises, no upsets.

The nearest thing to a surprise came as tournament favorite Patti Shook of Saginaw, three down after 11 holes, rallied to shake off Cathy Henrickson of Atlas Valley, 2 up, over the 6,175-yard Farmington Country Club course.

The victory put Patti, 23, into today's quarter-finals against Cynthia Hill of South Haven, who turned back Lynne Gilbert of Kalamzoo, 1 up.

Mrs. Keith LeClair, chief challenger to Miss Shook for the title, ousted Pontiac's City Champion Mrs. Bobbi Miller of Novi, 2 and 1, and today she was slated to take on Joyce Kazmierski today in the top match.

OTHER MATCHES

In other matches yesterday, Feather Frechette of Indianwood ousted Mrs. Frank Camsie of Grosse Ile 1 up in 22 holes; Emily Gail of Grosse Ile downed Mrs. Anthony Koustas of Dearborn 5 and 4; Sherry Wilder of Grand Rapids defeated Mrs. S. E. Gawne of Bloomfield Hills, 2 and 1; and former champions Mrs. E. O. Reynolds of Lansing ousted another ex-champion Mrs. Harold Marquardt of Gowanie, 1 up.

★ ★

Mrs. LeClair, who captured the title in 1960 and 1962, found herself in the role of the underdog as she took on Miss Kazmierski, 20-year-old senior at Michigan State University.

Miss Frechette and Miss Gail are paired in another of today's quarter-finals, while Miss Wilder meets Mrs. Reynolds in the other match.

Miss Shook, runner-up in 1963 and last year, was a little shaken after the first nine as she watched Miss Hill get down with one putt on the first eight greens.

★ ★ ★

Two more one-putt greens — Nos. 10 and 11 — put Miss Hill three up, but Miss Shook came back to even the match by winning 12, 13 and 14, and after halving 15 and 16, she took the match by winning 17 and 18.

Miss Frechette, winner of the championship consolation last year, found herself in one of the tightest matches of the day.

★ ★ ★

Miss Gail forced a tie by gaining a par on 18, but Miss Frechette parred the fourth hole of sudden death, while Miss Gail took a bogie after hitting into a sand trap.

Aussie Still Leads Left-Handers' Golf

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — Australia's southpaw champion Bill Wright rocketed to a seven-over-par 77 Wednesday but still held onto the lead in the National Left-handers' Golf Championship.

★ ★ ★

Wright, 35, who scored a three-under-par 67 at Uplands Golf Club Tuesday, ran into most of his grief Wednesday on the back nine of the tougher-rated Colwood course.

★ ★ ★

Wright's 36-hole total of 144 was still good for a one-stroke lead over Tim Reisert of Las Vegas, Nev. Reisert, a 36-year-old former professional ball-player, had a 73 to go along with Tuesday's 72.

Flat Rock Speedway's program Saturday night will feature the mid-season Figure Eight competition championship with Mel Murphy of Livonia expected to clinch the laurels.

The late-model drivers will be gunning for the Beau Geste world premiere trophy in their division. Time trials will begin at 7:30 p. m. and the first race will commence at 8:30 p. m.

SANDRA SPUZICH

From Obscurity to Stardom for One Yankee Open Favorite

When the pairings for the Yankee Women's best-ball Open golf tournament at Atlas Valley were determined, it was decided that top players would be paired with the not-so-fortunate.

Sandra Spuzich, a four member since 1962, fell in the latter class. She hadn't won a tournament and usually was well down the list when it came time to pass out the money.

When the 29-year-old physical education teacher from Indianapolis starts first round play tomorrow in the 54-hole tournament she will find herself among the favorites.

★ ★ ★

The pairings were announced before the U.S. Women's Open three weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

Miss Spuzich promptly went out and won the tournament and joined the likes of Carol Mann, Mickey Wright, Clifford Ann Creed, Sandra Haynie and Ruth Jessen as a major LPGA star.

★ ★ ★

And she is paired with Miss Jessen, who is consistently in the top 10 money winners on the tour. They are expected to make a strong bid for the championship. Miss Jessen won the 1964 medal play Yankee Open.

STRONG TANDEMS

The $20,000 tournament has changed its format from medal play to best-ball (four-ball) this year. It is something new for the LPGA tour.

A pro-am is being played today. The second round will be Saturday and the final 18 on Sunday. Atlas Valley is located on Perry Road between Goodrich and Grand Blanc.

Miss Spuzich took up golf when she was 16. Her father decided it was time she gave up softball (she was a .400 hitter) and concentrate on the links. She also is an accomplished bowler and has rolled a 289 game.

★ ★ ★

Miss Mann, the tallest of the women pros at 6-3, lost to Sandra by one stroke in the U.S. Open. She was the 1965 champion. Miss Creed won last week's Lady Carling Open and is teamed with Margie Masters.

★ ★ ★

Ace Miler Not Unusual

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Jim Ryun's greatness can be measured by a track official's stopwatch but not by medical equipment in a University of Kansas physiology laboratory.

Dr. Ed Elbel, a physical education professor at KU, said Wednesday that Ryun, the world's fastest middle distance runner, differed little in physiological profile from other Jayhawk runners he has tested over the years.

"The most rigid difference between Jim and anyone else is his ability to expend energy when it's necessary," Elbel said.

"I call it explosive power—the ability to go into high gear when he has the desire. It's a matter of perfect timing."

MEASURES FUNCTIONS

Elbel puts the athletes through a 30 minute stint on a treadmill and measures such heart and lung functions as rate and amount of air exchange and pulse rate.

Ryun, whose time of 3:51.3 Sunday shattered Michel Jazy's world mile mark by 2.3 seconds, has a pulse rate while reclining which runs a poor second to that of Bill Dodson, a former KU miler who had a best of only 3:59 in 1962.

Elbel said Ryun's pulse rate on May 21 was 54 to 55 per minute while Dodson was measured at 30 to 32. A low pulse rate often is considered a sign of a well-conditioned athlete.

There is no physiological test available, Elbel said, which explains why one trained distance runner will defeat another.

Ryun's difference from the nonathlete, however, can be measured easily.

"A man not in condition just can't do the work required of Jim or Dodson," said Elbel. "The pulse has a very rapid rise when you begin to exercise, but after four or five minutes, Jim reaches a peak and maintains it.

★ ★ ★

"It may only go up three or four beats in the next 26 minutes. After 10 minutes at eight miles an hour, Jim's highest was 130. A fellow in no condition can reach 200."

JFK's Advice Became Habit for Jim Ryun

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Strutton said the late President Kennedy deserves credit for getting young Ryun interested in track.

He said the boy "used to play baseball when he was just a kid. When President Kennedy started talking about the 50-mile walk everyone was supposed to do in 1961, Jim started doing it."

'New' Eagle Lineman Impressive Blocker

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Offensive tackle Ray Rissmiller, the Philadelphia Eagles' top draft choice for 1965 who missed the entire season because of a knee injury, was a standout blocker in a contact passing drill Wednesday at the team's training camp.

★ ★ ★

Working with the rookie offensive unit, which will oppose the Washington Redskins rookies in a formal scrimmage here Saturday night, Rissmiller repeatedly held off charging defensive linemen as quarterbacks Jack Concannon and Bob Miller handled the passing chores.

Eagles Coach Joe Kuharich said Concannon, a two-year veteran from Boston College, will start at quarterback against the Redskin rookies.

★ ★ ★

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — The Baltimore Colt offensive team scored five touchdowns in a scrimmage Wednesday at the National Football League club's training camp.

Another fullback, Tony Lorick, scored on a two-yard run while the other two touchdowns came on passes — one from Jim Ward and another from Fred Custardo.

★ ★ ★

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — Rookie defensive tackle Tom McGuire, a 6-foot-3, 255-pounder from Tulsa University, was put on waivers Wednesday by the Washington Redskins.

RENSSLAER, Ind. (AP) — Fullback Andy Livingston galloped 30 yards on an end sweep to score in the Chicago Bears' first full-scale scrimmage Wednesday.

Rookie Curtis Gentry of Maryland State intercepted a Larry Rakestraw pass and ran 60 yards for another touchdown.

Rudy Bukich and Rakestraw shared quarterback duties.

BLACK MOUNTAIN, N.C. — The Atlanta Falcons have apparently found the kicking specialist they want for field goals, extra points and kickoffs. He's Bob Jencks, a 6-foot-5, former Washington Redskin who came to the Falcons in last winter's player pool.

"We think Jencks will do a good job for us," said Coach Norb Hecker Wednesday. "He has extremely strong snap to his kicks, and he needs only to work on his accuracy a little."

Canada Books 8 Extra Flights

TORONTO (AP) — Air Canada officials said eight extra flights were scheduled Wednesday because of the demand for seats caused by the U.S. airline strike.

A Toronto Airport employe said one U.S. airline was sending American servicemen to Canada "in droves," hoping to book them through to the West Coast for connecting flights to San Francisco.

Aging Netter Shines in Grass Court Duel

HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP) — For 66 games in the first set, tennis veteran Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Australian Bill Bowrey battled on the grass at the Merion Cricket Club, with Bowrey finally finally coming out ahead 34-32.

★ ★ ★

But then Seixas, 42, a former Davis Cupper, U.S. and Wimbledon champion, reached back, drew on years of experience and won the next two sets, 6-4, 10-8 Wednesday to advance to the quarter-finals of the 67th annual Pennsylvania Grass Court Tennis Championships.

STAYING POWER

Bowrey, 20, and a Wimbledon doubles finalist this year, expressed amazement at Seixas' staying power. "I'll give him credit. I thought he was going to collapse after that first set. But damn it, he got stronger.

★ ★ ★

"Right to the end, he rarely played a bad shot. I had to hit a winner to beat him, and I ran out of them. I still can't believe it that after nearly four hours he was still running down every shot."

★ ★ ★

"On this stuff, it's never over until the last shot.

"Put that match on cement, and it would have been a heck of a bout," he said.

★ ★ ★

The match lasted 3 hours and 45 minutes and the 66 games was a tournament record, surpassing a 54-game set two years ago between Frank Froehling and Gene Scott.

★ ★ ★

In other matches Wednesday, Tony Roche the top-seeded contender from Australia, defeated Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., 6-3, 6-2, and defending champion Charles Pasarell of Santurce, Puerto Rico defeated Steve Tidball of Van Nuys, Calif., 9-7, 6-3.

In women's play, Tory Fretz, ninth ranking U.S. player from Los Angeles, defeated Stefanie De Fina of Hollywood, Fla., 6-3, 6-2 and Esme Emanuel of South Africa turned back Rosemarie Casala of San Francisco 6-1, 4-6, 6-1.

GOOD TRY — San Francisco right fielder Len Gabrielson came up with this effort as he tried to snag a home run hit by the New York Mets' Al Luplow in the seventh inning of their game in San Francisco yesterday. Mets won, 3-2, in 10 innings.

U.S. Swimmers Heated by Soviet Track Action

William A. Lippman Jr., the chairman of the Amateur Athletic Union Swimming Committee who shepherded the U.S. team through competitions in Russia and Poland, told newsmen about the reaction of the American swimmers to Soviet cancellation of the track meet scheduled in California.

UPHOLD PRESTIGE

When the U.S. swimmers realized that it was up to them to uphold the United States in athletic competition with the Russians, he said this "really brought things out of them that we did not know they had and they didn't either."

The U.S. swimmers captured 11 of 17 first places in the Moscow meet July 16-17.

★ ★ ★

This was with a team of 15 compared to 40 Russian entries, Lippman said.

★ ★ ★

Compared with the highly competitive approach of the Soviets plus official coolness over U.S.-Viet Nam actions — the ostensible reason for the track meet cancellation — Lippman reported a warm reception for the Americans.

At Warsaw the Americans won all of the 17 swim events.

Lippman said the Soviets were interested in another swimming meet next year in this country, but conflicting schedules apparently rule this out.

Ex-Foe Works With Faubus

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Two old adversaries in the South's battle over desegregation work together now in a quiet move to place Negroes in responsible state government jobs in Arkansas.

On one side is Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who defied federal power in a short-lived attempt to keep Negroes out of Little Rock Central High School in 1957.

* * *

On the other side is L.C. Bates, the Negro leader who championed the cause of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in that crisis nine years ago.

Faubus, still the governor, is the ruling thumb on appointments, but Bates, a special adviser, is among those who have his ear.

ARRANGEMENT BEGAN

The arrangement began two years ago, before Faubus announced in March that he wouldn't seek a seventh two-year term.

Bates and Faubus say their dealings had been on a friendly basis, something not to be taken for personal affection between them.

* * *

UNFRIENDLY

But in 1957 they had unfriendly things to say about each other. Bates accused Faubus of giving Arkansas a bad name by opposing court-ordered desegregation. Faubus charged in turn that Bates was ignoring the will of the majority of Arkansas for the sake of the Negro minority.

Today their association rests on practicality.

* * *

Faubus must get Negroes on the state payroll to keep federal dollars flowing in. Bates, still an NAACP field secretary, can point to the changes and tell his people that segregation is crumbling — at the top as well as the bottom.

More than 200 Negroes have been hired for state jobs in agencies which handle federal funds since the Faubus-Bates arrangement began. It is a matter of necessity, federal law requiring equal job opportunities for all races when federal money is involved.

ATTITUDE THE SAME

Faubus has changed his practices, not his attitude," Bates said. "My attitude is the same, too, for getting more and better jobs for Negroes.

"He plays politics, we know that," Bates said. "But while he's playing politics, we are getting some of the things we've been fighting for."

* * *

Faubus didn't seek Bates out but accepted Bates' offer of advice in the selection of qualified Negroes for the positions previously not open to them.

Two others — who have never been identified — are on a committee Bates heads in his advisory role.

JOBS GO

The jobs don't go to just anyone.

"We don't want any (Uncle) Toms," Bates said. 'These jobs are for the people who got out and worked. They're not for people who sat on their behind and watched the world go by."

It is at this point that Faubus deftly points out that he is not bound by any group's recommendation.

And Bates, in turn, points out that he has recommended every Negro who holds a responsible job in Arkansas' state government.

Poisoning Still Occurs From Paint

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — The organisms causing the often-fatal food poisoning, botulism, can sometimes be found in nature as well as in improperly canned food.

Reporting the discovery in Science, the researchers said mice injected with a toxic filtrate containing type F died unless they had been protected with a type F antitoxin.
