

Chrysler Prexy Newberg Quits

DETROIT (AP)—William C. Newberg resigned as president of Chrysler Corp. today after holding the job only two months.

L. L. (Tex) Colbert was re-elected to his old job as president. Colbert of 491 Martell Dr., Bloomfield Hills, had been elevated to chairman of the board when Newberg took over as president.

The changes were announced today at a Chrysler board meeting in New York.

The board said Newberg, of 1111 Kirkway Dr., Bloomfield Hills, quit in a difference of opinion on certain corporation policies. There was no elaboration.

The board's statement said:

"At a special meeting of the board of directors of Chrysler Corp. held today, W. C. Newberg resigned as president and director of the company. His resignation was due to difference of opinion on certain corporation policies."

"The board accepted Mr. Newberg's resignation and elected L. L. Colbert as president in addition to his other duties as chairman of the board and chief executive officer."

"E. C. Row was elected first vice president."

"Mr. Row has been active in the rebuilding program of the company since 1956. From 1956 to 1959 he was administrative vice president of Chrysler Corp. and from 1959 to 1960 first vice president."

"Mr. Newberg reported directly to Mr. Row from 1956 until Mr. Newberg was elected president in April 1960."

Newberg had been elevated to the presidency April 28, also at a New York board meeting.

Row had been left as an executive of the company but with no title. It was understood he would retire later this summer.

Although Newberg had been given the title of president, indications had been strong that Colbert retained strong control.

Newberg also held a new post as operations officer.

When his election was announced, Colbert described Newberg's duties as "Bill will run the day-to-day operations. I will have general overall charge of the corporation."

SURPRISE THIS TIME

But the same night, at the same news conference, Colbert also said: "I will be very active in the day-to-day operation."

The Newberg-to-presidency shift had been rumored in Detroit several weeks prior to its announcement last April.

But today's action came as a complete surprise.

Chrysler auto sales have been good by comparison with last year. During the first 10 days of June, Chrysler products took 16.5 per cent of the domestic auto market and during the middle 10 days of the month they took 17.1 per cent.

OPTIMISTIC YESTERDAY

Only yesterday, Newberg, as president of the company, issued an optimistic statement of sales prospects for the remainder of 1960.

Dies in Bike-Car Crash

LANSING (UPI)—Edward Goldstein, 61, of Bay City, was killed about 6 a.m. today when he swerved his bicycle in front of a truck, State Police said. The accident was on U.S. 23, about a mile south of Bay City, police said.

According to the elder Harrelson this is his son, it is the former address of the elder Harrelson. He said his son does not use junior after his name.

Bush, 614 vice president, denied there was anything wrong with the names on the petitions he circulated. In a statement to Taylor, Bush did not deny that maybe two of the signers weren't registered as required by law—but "they all signed in my presence."

He denied forging any names.

Other officials cited by the Oakland County Elections Commission were Frank A. Orsini, a trustee of the local, and Joseph M. Bane, a business agent with the local.

Kaufman had sufficient signatures to still qualify for a spot on the Aug. 2 nonpartisan ballot. He is one of eight candidates bidding for the new two-year term of probation judge.

Taylor said Bane volunteered to come into his office today to tell his story, yet no contact had been made as yet with Orsini.

Castro Menaces U.S.-Owned Electric Co.

Replaces Minister of Communications; Grabs Big Texaco Refinery

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's regime early today replaced its communications minister in a move apparently signaling further harassment and possibly seizure of the Cuban Electric Co., the largest remaining American investment in Cuba.

With a marathon cabinet session still in progress after 13 hours, President Osvaldo Dorticos announced the resignation of Communications Minister Enrique Oltuski and his replacement by Raul Curbelo Morales, a virtual unknown.

Oltuski at a news conference two weeks ago accused the electric company—which comes under his ministry's jurisdiction—of sabotaging the revolution because it refused to carry out an expansion program after the Castro government cut its rates a third. But informed sources said the regime felt Oltuski had not been aggressive enough in his application of revolutionary policies.

Valued at 200 million dollars, the electric company is owned by the American and Foreign Power Co.

Oltuski's replacement also could be a preliminary to formal cancellation of the 125-million-dollar Cuban Telephone Co., in which the U.S. International Telephone and Telegraph Co. owns 65 per cent of the stock. But Castro representatives have been in complete control of the telephone company since March 4, 1959, and the last U.S. executive was ousted last February.

Retaliating for the pending U.S. congressional bill to trim Cuba's quota of sugar sales to the United States, the Castro regime stepped up its campaign against American investments by taking over all operations Wednesday of the American-owned Texaco Oil Company, including its 26-million-dollar refinery at Santiago. The oil company indicated its claims for the properties seized may total 50 million dollars.

Texaco, along with Esso Standard of New Jersey, the other American refinery in Cuba, and the British-Dutch Shell Co., had refused to process Soviet crude oil bought from the Soviet Union with Cuban sugar.

The U.S. State Department denounced the action against Texaco as "a naked seizure of property in contravention of norms of conduct by responsible governments." The U.S. Congress was expected to rush passage of the new sugar act, which empowers the President to cut the quota of U.S. purchases of Cuban sugar for which the United States now pays a premium above the world price of about 150 million dollars a year.

SEEKING LOSING BATTLE

But it boiled down to this: That Truman has decided Symington can't make the grade, and doesn't want to go to Los Angeles and fight a losing battle.

2. That Truman suspects a "deal" between Symington and Kennedy and wants to be so part of it.

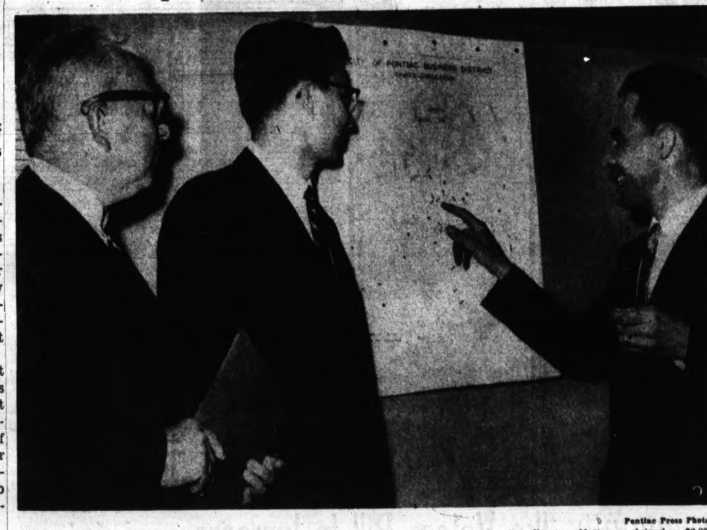

3. That Truman has personal reasons for not wanting to go to Los Angeles. This theory was discounted by Truman's decision to hold a news conference. He hardly would summon newsmen from far and wide for a personal announcement, but might for a major political statement.

4. That Truman is dissatisfied with the manner in which Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler has organized the convention and wants to dissociate himself from it.

Burdick Takes Scant N.D. Lead

GOP Governor Davis
Loses Ground to Dem
in Key Farm Race

FARGO, N. D. (AP)—Democratic Rep. Quentin Burdick held a narrow lead over Republican Gov. John E. Davis today in the special election for U.S. senator from North Dakota.

The election on Tuesday was to fill the seat of the late William Langer, a Republican. It was watched widely for possible clues to farm belt voting sentiment.

Burdick held a lead of 610 votes as returns from 30 scattered rural precincts trickled in by mail today to county auditors' offices. With 2,397 of 2,514 precincts, tallied to the unofficial total, the vote showed:

Burdick—104,007.

Davis—103,397.

It wasn't until late Wednesday almost 24 hours after the polls closed, that Burdick forged into a slim lead—a margin that narrowed slightly as the vote-counting ended for the night. Davis had led in the early counting by as much as 8,000 votes.

Consider Cutting Downtown Parking Traffic Plan Presented

For the first time in 10 years, Pontiac city officials and business leaders are seriously considering elimination of parking on downtown Saginaw street during afternoon rush hours.

The proposal is the first in a crash program designed to improve downtown traffic circulation. "The program, prepared by George W. Barton & Associates, Inc., was outlined yesterday at City Hall by Jack Hutter, staff member of the Evanson, Ill., consulting firm."

Hearing the report were City Manager Walter K. Willman and top aides plus a small gathering of the Downtown Development Group (DDG). The organization paid for the $2,800, two-month study of downtown driving, parking, and pedestrian problems.

Hutter, who made the study, said the city should eliminate Saginaw parking from 3 to 6 p.m. daily on a trial basis. "Six months or more, to give it a fair trial," he recommended.

Willman said he will take the recommendation to the City Commission if opposition from downtown merchants is not too great. "But we can expect some criticism of the idea from downtown," he emphasized.

DDG representatives indicated they are willing to try the plan. In the audience were a few members of the Mayor's Steering Committee for Downtown Redevelopment, and they voiced no objections, either.

The idea was last tried 10 years ago, Willman noted.

"And the idea was soon dropped because of pressure from merchants who wanted to keep the Saginaw street spaces for customers."

Hutter also recommended:

1. Elimination of several of the Saginaw street parking restrictions adopted last year, notably at Huron, Lawrence and Water streets.

2. Installation of traffic light again at Warren street for pedestrian crossing, with a pedestrian route to be provided between Saginaw and Perry, near Lafayette street.

The State Highway Department would have to okay the light changes, Hutter noted.

3. Revision of the city philosophy about parking meters so that downtown workers would park on the fringes and shoppers in the heart of the business district.

A new rate scheme and time restrictions could help accomplish this, said Hutter, through higher rates and shorter hours in the heart of downtown, and lower rates and longer hours on the fringe. Private lots should be encouraged to follow this pattern too, he said.

4. Allowing of parking on West Lawrence, West Pike and East Huron streets to help offset the loss of 52 Saginaw street parking places during the afternoons.

5. Sprucing up of side streets, alleyways and rear lots to provide (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

An Alert to All Motorists: Drive Extra Carefully

Oakland County law enforcement agencies today appealed to motorists to exercise extra caution over the Fourth of July holiday weekend.

Arthur J. Bogue, manager of the Pontiac office of the Auto Club, said today that it was "conservatively estimated that at least three million cars will jam Michigan highways over the weekend."

Some 28 festivals held at various parts of the state, including the Detroit-Windsor Freedom Festival, are expected to attract thousands of motorists, including many from out of the state.

State police in the county will work 10-hour shifts, instead of eight, and will be augmented by National Guardsmen in traffic control.

Police also warned swimmers and boaters to use extra caution over the weekend.

At least 670 persons already have lost their lives on the state's highways and waterways this year, 56 in Oakland County.

Federal Loan Near $6 Million Is Authorized

Government Will Pay Two-Thirds of Project's Net Cost

Pontiac's first urban renewal project has been given final federal approval. Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) announced today in Washington, D.C.

The approval authorizes a five-year redevelopment effort with a gross cost of approximately six million dollars.

Broomfield announced that David M. Walker, Urban Renewal Administration (URA) commissioner, has authorized a federal loan of $3,165,044 to finance the project on a revolving fund basis.

The URA authorized a federal grant of $2,430,567, he said, to pay for two-thirds of the net project cost estimated by the URA at $5,638,976. The city would pay the other one-third in the form of public improvements.

"The federal grant is an investment in Pontiac's future," said Broomfield.

"The city now has the authority to get the plan rolling. 'The project will help the city in its redevelopment of the central business district and in the preservation of valuable neighborhood properties from blight.'"

PLEASURE EXPRESSED

City Hall officials expressed pleasure that the project—two years in the planning stage—has finally been approved.

"The net cost is about $300,000 less than the amount sought by the city in its final application for a loan and grant this spring."

"Apparently the project has been trimmed, but we won't know until we see the detailed figures," said Robert A. Steiner, assistant city manager and urban renewal coordinator.

Even if trimmed $300,000, the grant would amount to about $500,000 more than originally proposed by the city two years ago.

First step in getting the project under way will be a request to the federal government for part of the loan money for initial property acquisition.

City Hall officials have indicated that blighted properties on the west side of Saginaw street between Pike and Patterson will be among the first to be acquired. So will Park street properties along the right-of-way of the proposed loop highway, they have said.

Alert Lifeguard at Elizabeth Lake Saves Detroiters

An alert lifeguard, fully clothed dashed into Elizabeth Lake late last night to rescue a drowning 15-year-old Detroit youth.

The victim, Orville Vetrano, 19, was foundering in six feet of water 50 feet from shore just as 11 p.m. guard William Gariand, dressed to go home, was closing the gate at the beach.

Vetrano was unconscious by the time Gariand had pulled him to shore.

Artificial respiration applied by the lifeguard, plus oxygen from the Waterford Township firemen, who arrived soon after the rescue, helped revive the victim, said Milford Fender, township police chief.

Vetrano, who had been swimming at the beach with three friends from Detroit, was given a checkup at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

U.S. Air Forces Go Up 5 Per Cent Tomorrow

Controller Frets as Year Closes

With Trust Fund Gone, Next Hope Is Solution in November

LANSING (AP) — Michigan closes the books tonight on 1959-60, the most turbulent fiscal year in her 133-year history, save the one just before.

The mountainous $35,471,000 deficit that drove her money managers nearly to distraction in mid-1959 has melted down to 70-plus million but is edging slowly higher once again.

The state treasury's key general fund was practically broke, still subject to fortnightly cleanouts under emergency rationing procedures.

Cash was lacking to pay $39 million in current claims against the fund. Most of the money was owed to school districts.

With the state embarking on a record high spending program, a tax answer to the root revenue problem was months away — at least until a November vote on a $110 million a year sales tax boost.

A batch of "temporary" new and increased taxes on tobacco, whiskey, other objects was due to expire automatically a year from today unless renewed.

Iron Policy, acting state controller, took a shuddering look back a year to the time when administrators were trying to run the state with IOUs.

"We owed suppliers galore, some of them $100,000 or more so far this year than last, A. C. Girard, bank president, said.

Some suppliers refused to deal with the state anymore except for cash. There was talk of possibly missing university payrolls. A few contractors shut down state building projects for nonpayment.

The big fund, center of a political tug of war for nearly a full year, was liquidated as part of the temporary tax settlement, although with technical provision for restoration.

Polley said the exact size of the year-end deficit was known for the first time when fiscal year accounting is complete. The last official estimate was $71 million.

However, the controller disclosed that revenues in the fiscal year fell between five and ten million dollars behind estimates. This possibly could have the effect of increasing the deficit by that amount.

The 1960-61 budget is an estimated 10 million dollars in the balance, pointing to a slow rise in the deficit.

"There are difficult days ahead," Polley said, "but I hope nothing like we've recently been through."

Community National Bank Net Rises

Community National Bank has netted $318,000 more so far this year than last, A. C. Girard, bank president, announced today.

He said that net profit after taxes during the first six months of 1960 amounted to $630,000, compared with $312,000 during the same period last year.

The gross income so far this year was $2,370,000, compared with $1,995,000 last year, Girard said. The bank today declared its regular quarterly dividend of 45 cents per share, he said.

President Joins Rite for Grange Building

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower took part Wednesday in ceremonies dedicating the new 14-million-dollar headquarters of the National Grange, a block from the White House.

About 1,000 persons assembled in a parking lot behind the building for the ceremony.

In a short informal talk the President called it a great personal honor to have been invited to the dedication.

He noted that the master of the National Grange, Herschel D. Newsum, had referred to the organization as nongovernmental in character.

Eisenhower said that phrase was "to be cherished and spoken of with pride" in any movement seeking improvement of the farmer's lot.

House GOP Vote to Fight Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans voted unanimously today to oppose the Democratic plan for Congress to recess this weekend and return to work in August after the national political conventions.

Rep. Charles B. Heeven (R-Iowa) announced the GOP stand after a party caucus.

He called the recess proposed by House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas "a politically inspired move."

"There is still plenty of time to complete the public's business," declared Heeven, spokesman for the caucus.

Heeven said he expects to pick

Newberg always has been regarded as a Colbert man. He joined Chrysler in 1933, the same year as Colbert.

He was chief engineer of the Dodge Chicago plant which produced 129 engines during World War II, an operation which Colbert was eyed as the heir apparent.

Newberg later followed Colbert as president of Dodge Division and was eyed as the heir apparent.

ed roughly by the west side of Saginaw street, Pike, Paddock, Perkins, Parkhurst and Osmun streets.

Today's approval includes these figures:

- The area of the approved project includes 145 acres containing 432 standard dwelling units.
- Eighty-five of the acres are to be rehabilitated, where necessary, and the rest cleared.
- The cleared and is to be used for new commercial developments, civic center expansion, parks and such facilities as off-street parking.
- A total of 330 families will have to be relocated, and special federal funds to help this move will be available over and above the project costs.

When the city submitted its final figures last month, it was asking for a project with a gross cost of $6,499,000 and a net of $3,735,252.

The city was asking for a capital grant of $2,630,747 and said it was prepared to put up $1,249,861 in such projects as flood control on the Clinton River, parking facilities, streets and parks.

The city figured about $4,000,000 would go into property acquisition, $570,000 into clearance and $78,000 into administrative costs.

Resale of acquired land was expected to bring in about $2,740,000 to offset the gross expenditure.

Although the final estimated figures will be different in amount, they'll be proportionately the same.

Hutter said the city might negotiate with the bus companies and taxi companies to shorten the length of bus stops downtown and eliminate some of the cab stands.

"Added parking might be gained this way," he said.

"Although downtown Pontiac offers a parking problem, it still has a better potential for good traffic circulation than any city we've worked with," Hutter said.

"Downtown handles tremendous volumes of traffic—90 per cent of it is through traffic—and does it reasonably well."

"The overall parking supply is reasonably adequate — although there is a critical shortage of 10,000 spaces — but this could be straightened out," Hutter said.

might result, Taylor said, depends on what the handwriting expert finds. Swearing liability to the affidavit could mean prosecution for perjury for the circulators, he said.

He said an expert in the State Police Crime Laboratory in East Lansing will be asked to determine whether any of the purported names themselves.

"I've examined all of the 59 signatures that Bush solicited and find nothing improper," Taylor reported. "The Elections Commission did find two persons who weren't registered, but that isn't Mr. Bush's fault."

Taylor said a notary public who notarized some of Harrelson's petitions—Berdine Vervey, a secretary for Local 614—said it was Harrelson's son that circulated the petitions.

Harrelson senior reported that his son was on business in Chicago. Taylor said he planned to talk to the son and had no plans to confer with the local president "right now."

"Right up until this moment the only real violator would be Leann W. Harrelson, whom I have been informed by the notary public is the son," Taylor said.

Today, however, Taylor was studying closely one petition circulated by Leann W. Harrelson. The first name on the petition was: Leann Harrelson Jr. — 26 Delaware — 6-10-60.

City clerk registration records showed two Harrelsons registered — Leann Harrelson, of 26 Delaware Dr., and Leann W. Harrelson, of 26 Delaware Dr.

The Day in Birmingham Sewage Plan Hearing Today in Beverly Hills

BIRMINGHAM — A public hearing on special assessments for the construction of a $688,000 internal sewer system in Beverly Hills will be held at 8 p.m. today in the village offices.

The hearing is the second to be held in regard to the project which is expected to begin in September.

The cost to individual property owners would range from about $200 to $5,000, with the average assessment approximately $300.

Financing will be done over a 20- or 30-year period. Village officials have not yet determined what firms will be used.

The special assessments will cover the cost of lateral mains and a pumping station.

When completed, the system will be connected to the Evergreen Interceptor.

The Cass improvement is "vital," said Hutter, to provide a downtown bypass, relieving pressure from the retail area.

The East boulevard extension is important for heavy industrial traffic, he said.

Hutter said the city might negotiate with the bus companies and taxi companies to shorten the length of bus stops downtown and eliminate some of the cab stands.

Royal Oak Family of Five Injured as Cars Collide Near Caro

CARO (AP) — Three persons — a minister and two women — were killed and five others were injured today in a fiery two-car crash near this Tuscola County community.

Victims were one driver, the Rev. Howard Webster, 68, of Midland; his wife, Anna R., 65, and Bernice Cary, of Midland.

Injured were Wayne Milliron, 32, of 205 E. 15 Mile Rd., Royal Oak, driver of the second car; his wife, Anna R., 30; and their three children, Mary Ann, 8; Robert, 6; and James, 5.

Two Founders Look Back at AA

By BERNARD GAVZER
AP Staff Writer

An old proverb has it that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery.

Today there's a Gamblers Anonymous for the compulsive plunger, Narcotics Anonymous for the addict, Youth Anonymous for delinquents, even Fatties Anonymous and Divorces Anonymous.

All take their cue from the success of Alcoholics Anonymous—the pioneer fellowship that started with the idea that people who are in the same serious fix are best equipped to help one another. The two men who founded AA were hopeless alcoholics: One a New York stock broker, the other an Akron, Ohio, surgeon. They found they could stay sober by helping each other. From this old partnership grew the society which now claims 300,000 members. Perhaps 10,000 or more of these members—joined by wives, husbands and children—will gather at permit publication of names or listed to members who generally talk about their problems. Almost any AA group looks like a cross-section of society. Membership is open to all races, creeds, colors. There are members in 80 nations. There are AAs in convalescent hospitals, in remote, lonely places, in prisons.

When good practice is followed in applying and paying work, no more than one repeat job may be necessary for the first 15 years of occupancy.

New Fisher Plant Is World's Most Modern

Fisher Body's complete and gigantic overhaul at the local plant, as shown in Tuesday's Pontiac Press, is a great step forward in the future development of this city. The area was definitely handicapped a few years ago in the loss of employment when Fisher shifted certain operations to some of the other 32 plants it operates. "We can do the work more efficiently and expeditiously there," said top management. And that was that.

Now the local plant is undergoing a complete house cleaning. "Everything that was used before is being swept away to make space for the most modern body building plant in the world," said J. E. Goodman and Thomas F. Wietorn. "Only the latest and most modern machinery is going into the Pontiac division."

Also, this city was definitely heartened by the news that convertibles and station wagons were assigned here. This means additional employment and when Pontiac's new Tempet is in production, further work will accrue to the Fisher operation here.

The entire community is very happy with the fact the Corporation has seen fit to present us with the most modern body building plant there is. Also, we are grateful for the fact we have been assigned station wagons and convertibles as these additional factors provide new jobs and added employment.

Fisher Body has always been one of our most important units but it is assuming additional standing through the added work and the entirely new plant with which we have been presented. The installation of all the new and modern machinery is complicated by the fact the plant has continued in steady operation. This presents major difficulties and necessarily lengthens the operation. THOMAS WIETORN estimates that the changeover will be completed during the late fall.

Pontiac should stage a luncheon in honor of the event, when the time comes.

'Gifted' Children Being Taught During Summer

Several places around the country are experimenting with using public school facilities during the summer term when normally the schools are unoccupied.

Taking advantage of this valuable space during the off season seems tremendously important today. More so than ever before because the cost of building has soared in recent years.

One such educational venture recently started in Darien, Connecticut. The local high school started a day camp under the auspices of Sciences and Arts Camps, Inc., a non-profit group.

Two hundred and fifteen "gifted" children in the fourth to sixth grades will participate in a program of courses ranging from philosophy to the Russian language.

The six weeks pilot program is designed to supplement and complement their regular school studies. The sponsoring group is hopeful that the program may become nationwide for unusually talented children.

Like other programs today, this is joint effort endorsed by five other school superintendents from towns close by.

The summer school program is staffed by 35 teachers and the children are paying $185, plus the transportation involved.

This appears to be another sound method to use our school buildings, plus continuing higher education for some of our "gifted" children.

Rockefeller's recent statement that he wouldn't be a candidate for any office in the forthcoming national campaign under any circumstances or condition was so emphatic it's a bit difficult to believe he might change his mind.

The Man About Town

Largest in World And Local Man Designed Its Intriguing Outline

Dirk: What a woman gets on a rich man when she wants to clean him.

New York's new airport is nine times the size of La Guardia Field, that city's other major airport. It is to cost $250,000,000, and 20,000 air travelers will pass through it every day.

The Trans World Airlines part is a soaring structure, designed by our Bloomfield Hills famous architect,

Eero Saarinen, and brings features to aviation that are new, gigantic and entrancing in the extreme. Its shape has been nicknamed, "The Flying Brasserie."

Employed at the new airport will be 25,000 people, with an annual payroll of $200,000,000. The lobby of some of the terminals is larger than Grand Central Station in New York.

These impressive figures are published in this column principally to show that when an architect is wanted to design something that is to beat anything else in the world, they know where to come to get such a man.

The go-kart craze has taken over Flint, and a letter from Blaine Parsell of that city says, "Tell your Pontiac City Commission that they'd better put some curbs upon it, before it becomes a dangerous nuisance."

Don't Hitch Your Wagon—to This One

David Lawrence Says:

Foreign Relations Unit Faltered

WASHINGTON—Has the prestige of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee reached a new low? The Senate has just been given a report on the U2 affair which in part is concurred in by some of its members, while others dissent. It lacks coordination and consistency.

Ten senators—all of them Democrats, including Sen. Kennedy—officially put themselves on record as implying that the President should have had to the world.

Six Republicans and one Democrat insist that it was absolutely necessary for the President to tell the truth.

The same committee's chairman, Sen. J. William Fulbright, Democrat of Arkansas, after presenting the report to the Senate, alleges that the administration is lying now about certain aspects of the incident. In a speech to the Senate, he says:

"We are told that this particular flight was in a special category; that it was seeking information of extraordinary importance which might not be available later. However, we are not told, even under conditions of the utmost secrecy, what that information was."

"In view of the sensitivity of some of the other things we were told, this reference on the part of the executive branch raises the question of whether the information sought on May 1 was in fact as important as it has been represented. There is ground here for the conclusion that the alleged extraordinary importance of this information is an administration's cover story for its own costly mistake."

To accuse one's own government of lying to a Senate committee doesn't seem to bother the senator, who, in the same speech, also declares that President Eisenhower should have refused to take responsibility for the U2 business, and instead, should somehow have evaded the truth.

AUTHORIZATION GENERAL For, while Eisenhower did not really know in advance of the particular flight on May 1, he did give general authorization in advance and said so to the Chairman Fulbright says to the Senate:

"The gravest mistake was made when the President assumed responsibility for the flight."

Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, and Sen. Frank Lausche of Ohio, Democrat, in a separate report concurred in by five Republican senators, rebutted this same point as follows:

"Conditions following the May 1 flight having developed as they did, it was unavoidable for the President to make a statement with regard to it. If he had to make a statement, he had to state the truth. Moreover, if he had not told the truth by avoiding personal responsibility, the demands of Khrushchev made upon him in Paris would not have been altered."

But what is puzzling are the contradictions in the main report, which frankly says that "the sort of information provided by the U2 is of enormous value in assessing Soviet capability to mount a surprise attack," and then argues later on as follows:

"In looking back, if one accepts the conclusion that the failure of the mission furnished an excuse for Khrushchev's winking of the summit conference, then, in the absence of compelling reasons to the contrary, there is good reason to conclude that the flight should not have gone."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Camphor-Sulfur Lotion Will Combat Your Acne

Excessively oily skin, blackheads and pimples, medical term for which is acne, is most common in adolescence although it occurs less frequently in young children and adults.

Acne is without significance so far as purity or impurity of the blood, cleanliness or uncleanness or morality or lack of it is concerned.

For a copy of my free pamphlet Blackheads and Pimples, send me a stamped envelope bearing your address. Unpaid requests ignored.

In the pamphlet I try to give the gist of what medical authorities consider causes acne.

It is generally helpful to wash the face vigorously but not too vigorously with hot water and plain toilet soap every day or every alternate day, then rinse repeatedly with cold water, and dry with a soft towel by patting rather than rubbing, finally apply a scant teaspoonful of camphor-sulfur lotion, by putting it on gently with the fingers, and let it dry on the skin.

The camphor-sulfur lotion is a mixture of one ounce of sublimed sulfur (otherwise called flowers of sulfur), one ounce of camphor water, one ounce of glycerin and two ounces of witch hazel "extract."

Make the lotion yourself. Two level tablespoons of powdered sulfur equal one ounce. Two level tablespoons of camphor water equal one ounce. Two tablespoons of glycerin equal one ounce. Four tablespoons of witch hazel "extract" equal two ounces.

Stir the mixture up just before you apply it. If it causes any irritation, apply it less frequently or dilute it by adding another ounce or two of witch hazel "extract."

Continue using it for a month, then discontinue for a month, and thereafter use it when you think you need it.

FALSE NOTIONS

There are a good many professional and popular notions about the effect of diet on acne. If you are convinced that indulgence in this or that food aggravates or produces a new outbreak of pimples, cut it out.

I'm from Missouri in regard to the relation of diet to oily skin, blackheads and pimples. Old timers had the notion that butter, cream, fried foods and fat meats should be excluded from the diet of a young person with oily skin and pimples. This is absurd.

Likewise candy and sweets.

The sensible diet for one with acne is just a standard corrective diet built on the outline of the basic health diet described in the booklet The 7 Keys to Vite (for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope) with special care to include items made of plain wheat, cracked or ground daily at home.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to health and diet, and signed, stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Playboy Tires of Worldly Living

If you were reared in a good home but have drifted away, you'll sooner or later realize the need for idealism. So read this Case Record and follow its suggestions if you wish to restore your soul by rebuilding faith and idealism.

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE F. 404: Hal R., aged 38, is a wealthy bachelor.

"Dr. Crane, I'm fed up with life," he announced as he slumped down into a chair.

"What's the point of going on? I've been everywhere and have tested every amusement and every variety of liquor from the South Sea to the South Sea."

"I've been a typical playboy, and have had my fill of women. Now life nauseates me."

"My friends are all married. They DR. CRANE seem fairly happy with their wives and children. And it puzzles me."

"For I cannot see how any man can be content with one woman. And why will I follow the herd down to one little section of the globe?"

"Since I am so fed up with life and have no further goals, I see no point in living. I'm considering suicide. Can you give me a logical argument for staying here till old age descends upon me?"

DIAGNOSIS

Hal's case is one of the most tragic in life. It illustrates what we psychologists call a nostalgia for idealism.

As a boy, Hal had the typical high ideals of the usual adolescent. He had then fallen in love with a girl whom he had met at the age of 16.

Hal worshipped her, though he was too shy to tell her and never even attempted to kiss her. For he kept her on a pedestal.

Just her glance or the sound of her merry laugh would enchant him. Maybe you cynical divorcees can't imagine that soon

Voice of the People

'Have Our Policemen Ever Served in the U.S. Army?'

The Pontiac Police Department reminds one of the old Army game, "Pass the Buck."

I wonder how many ex-G.I.'s there are in the department? Surely they experienced discipline in the service. Why can't they take it now?

G.I.'s know that in the service an officer is as good as his nose-counts and all you had to do was to make your superior look bad, etc., up or down the line it went.

Said the Private to the General, "Let me pitch."

'Politicians Could Be Giving Enemy Aid'

I do not always agree with Mr. Lawrence, but I believe his article in The Press on June 6th needs to be written.

I agree with him that certain journalists, TV commentators and politicians appear to take delight in denouncing our government and belittling our defense efforts, and in many other ways giving aid to our opponents in the world struggle.

There is a very odd word that one hesitates to apply to any person, but according to our Constitution it is "treason" to "Give aid and comfort to our enemy" and I do not think it can be contradicted that the present Russian government is "our enemy."

Is the winning of a political office or campaign more important than the safety and integrity of our country and its Government?

Wondering

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Thursday, June 30, the 182nd day of the year, with 184 to follow in 1960.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1834, Congress created the Department of Indian Affairs. In 1870, Ada Kravley graduated from the Union College of Law in Chicago, the first woman to be graduated from an accredited law school.

In 1906, President Theodore Roosevelt signed the Pure Food and Drug Act.

In 1924, as a result of the Teapot Dome scandal, Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and oilman Harry F. Sinclair and Edward Doheny were charged with bribery and conspiracy to defraud the government.

Thought for the day: U. S. President Theodore Roosevelt said: "I wish to preach, not the doctrine of ignoble ease, but the doctrine of the strenuous life."

go through a worshipping stage with reference to femininity, but is later.

Later in college, Hal met another girl. She was the first one he had ever kissed. She was thrilling, intoxicating. He wanted to marry her at once. But his father was disappointed and sent him on a long business trip to South America.

DECLINE OF IDEALISM

In his dependency, Hal began drinking and gambling. Soon he started carousing with other women.

Finally, he became a connoisseur of pretty girls and took them where he found them. Inhibitions were entirely cast aside.

But with the passing of years, he began feeling pangs, for his idealism was fading. He found love too mechanical. Each seducing romance became more stimulating than the last, so he became nauseated with women. He was fed up with living.

Without a consciously knowing what ailed himself, he suffered from a nostalgia for idealism, or a homesickness for his boyhood outlook on life and femininity.

Many a husband and prominent business executive, after the age of 40, develops a purely idealistic fixation on a young girl not out of her teens. It is partly due to his subconscious wish to return to the state of idealism and faith of that earlier period in his life.

So I planned a rigid six-month course of action for Hal, I selected a girl who had physical charm, pure religious faith and idealism. She was truly a charming young woman.

EMOTIONAL CALISTHENICS I introduced Hal and had him consciously woo her, but not according to his former wolfish policy.

He was to re-mold his social life around her pattern and make an attempt to convert her to his own sexual wishes. He solemnly vowed to follow my prescription to the letter, and he did.

Idealism is contagious and faith will stimulate the arousal of faith.

Backs Bill Protecting Laboratory Animals

Thank you so much for the editorial in support of the bill for humane treatment of experimental laboratory animals.

We all realize these animals are necessary for experiments, but their care and comfort is of great importance. When people realize these animals have been mistreated, I am sure they will be in favor of the bill.

Portraits

By JOHN C. METCALFE

Oh, won't you sing to me the song you sang last night... Was fading into white... And warm my heart again... Beneath the windy skies... With those entrancing charms... That linger in your eyes... I would not wander on... To purple hills or seas... If every long night... You sang this song for me... So stay with my love... Remain now at my side... And let the echo of... Our song with us abide... Let me forever hear... This haunting lilting tune... This haunting, lilting tune... That every star of night... Will always leave too soon... So sing again for me... The song you sang last night... Just as the orange moon... Was fading into white.

Smiles

A western man was pinched for tearing up dollar bills. Sounds like getting them down to their real value.

Women economize by doing their own cooking, says a writer. Maybe because hubby eats less.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

The mountains saw thee, and on the deep gaves lift their voice, waving their ragged waters, swept it lifted its hands on high— Habakuk 3:10.

The Divine mind is as visible in its full energy of operation on every lowly bank and mouldering stone as in the lifting of the pillars of heaven, and setting the foundation of the earth. — John Ruskin.

Our good emotions need to be exercised daily to keep them strong. That's why church attendance is so vital!

"Act the way you'd like to be and soon you'll be the way you act," is one of our axioms of applied psychology.

"Go through the proper motions and your emotions will be exercised the corresponding emotions," is another way of stating the same thought.

To regain idealism, go where it is to be found! Then don't decease it! Take an evening stroll with a child when the stars are shining and try in answer its sobering queries.

Cynics are fed up with humanity, chiefly because they've left God out of their social relations. To tomorrow's case record you'll see how Hal regained his zest for living by such emotional calisthenics.

So go to church tomorrow, for our good emotions need to be exercised regularly, just as do our muscles!

Farther and Faster Into State Extends Letter Delivery

Pontiac has been given reciprocal next-day postal service with almost all of Michigan's Lower Peninsula counties, Postmaster William W. Donaldson announced yesterday.

Under the new postal service plan, which has undergone a month's shakedown period, all first class letters deposited before 5 p.m. on a business day will be delivered to any destination within a 64-county area on the first delivery trip of the following business day.

Pontiac could count on next-day letter service with only nine other counties before the new system. Service time between Chicago and Pontiac also has been shortened.

Next-day delivery has been made possible by a closely integrated timetable which governs the work of the area's postal units and the transportation linking them together. Lansing is the hub of a gigantic postal transport wheel.

Transport lines from Lansing lead to sectional centers, through out the Lower Peninsula, which serve as collection points for surrounding post offices.

Prof Says Detroit Needs Income Tax

DETROIT (UPI) — University of Michigan economist Harvey Brazier told the Detroit Common Council yesterday a city income tax is the best solution to Detroit's financial woes.

Brazier said the likelihood of additional revenue for local governments from the state is remote and "The only real alternative I see available to the city is an income tax."

He termed Detroit's present property tax "repressive."

The Michigan professor appeared before the Council at one of a series of hearings being held in advance of reintroduction of the 1 per cent city income tax proposal.

Mayor Louis Miriam vetoed the income tax proposal after it was passed by the Council in May, and the Council failed to muster enough votes to override the veto.

Council members intend to reintroduce the income tax question in August.

The first American turnpike, known as Little River Turnpike, was authorized in Virginia in 1785. Today, Americans travel on over 70,000 miles of highway. To familiarize motorists with the luxury and comfort of driving a new car, auto manufacturers last year spent over $80 million in newspaper advertising.

Red University Graduates Grow Snobbish

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Associated Press News Analyst
Moscow University today is training the young people who will guide Soviet destinies a generation hence. And it is producing what, to many Westerners, appear to be a generation of snobs.

This applies to the students of great Russian nationality, from the huge central Soviet state whose Russians dominate the many other nationalities making up the 15-republic Soviet Union.

Often, say foreign graduate students studying in Moscow under exchange arrangements, there is more than a little racial arrogance in the Russian student's makeup.

Frequently a foreign visitor notes his Russian colleague ridiculing a Mongol or some other dark-complexioned student from Soviet Central Asia. Gossip about one incident involving a student from Africa has assumed proportions of a scandal.

The incident occurred some months ago at a university dance. Foreign students tell it this way: The Negro wanted to dance with a white Russian girl. She refused him. Later he tried to cut in while she danced with a Russian student. The Russian challenged the Negro to meet him outside. There the Negro was waylaid by a group of Russian students. The beating landed him in a hospital.

The incident may have been more of a student brawl than actual racial antagonism. But it had an effect upon other foreign students. Indeed, it affected their attitude toward the new "people's Friendship University" announced by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

This school, scheduled to open in the fall, is to be for African, Asian and Latin American students up to the age of 35. It will offer free tuition and dormitories, living allowances and free travel to and from Moscow. Plans are to open with an enrollment of 500, to be expanded to 1,000 in three years.

APARTHEID UNIVERSITY

This school will be entirely separate from Moscow University's student body, with separate faculties and separate facilities. And it is arousing some resentment among foreign students who say they feel it will be a means of isolating them from the Russian students. Already some are calling it "Apartheid University."

About 1,500 foreign students are studying in Moscow. The great majority are from Asia and the Middle East, about 120 from black Africa. The Soviet student body numbers 14,000, including 5,000 at the university's downtown branch.

The Russian students seem to consider themselves a privileged class. They must be financially privileged to afford this state-run university. The living allowance for a Russian student in the first year is only 250 rubles monthly, $25 at the tourist rate. A student cannot live on that. Since the institution of working one's way through school is virtually unknown, he must get money from home.

The system appears to have produced a social group dedicated to the status quo—keeping things as they are. There seems to be little political restlessness among university students. Lives and activities are fairly well controlled by units of the Komsomols Young Communist League.

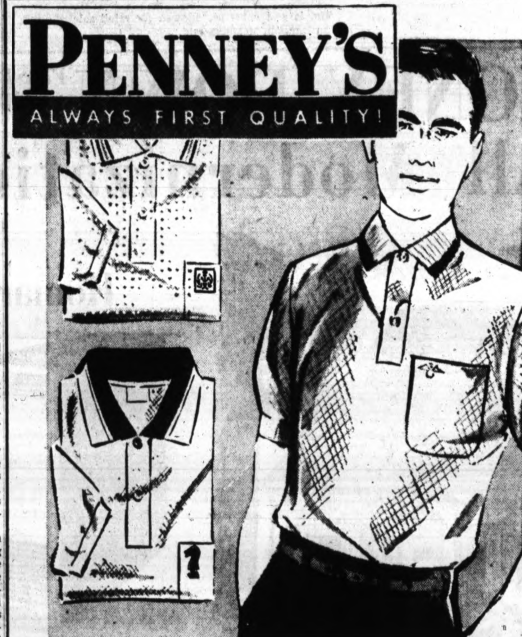

The attitudes of Russian students have produced adverse reaction from many a student from countries in the underdeveloped world, where communism is most anxious to make an impression. One graduate American student observed that Moscow University will be sending back to that area many a confirmed young anti-communist.

An Egyptian reports his dismay at the straitlaced minds of the Russians. He looks on the students as young people wearing blinders, unwilling to look at outside ideas and satisfied to surrender individuality to the state.

Students from Asia, coming from families accustomed to high living standards, express shock at the low level they have noted in the U.S.S.R. Some resent Russian attempts to use them for political purposes, such as endorsements for this or that slogan or propaganda circus. Others resent what they see as the obvious aim of the "People's Friendship University" indoctrination of young people from underdeveloped areas.

Western students in Moscow say it is practically impossible to penetrate the minds of most of the Russian students. They have been indoctrinated in Soviet dogma since birth and are accustomed to the rigid disciplines of life in a Communist society.

There are some indications that States Khrushchev's blasts at the West's living standards. They express eagerness for the day when they will be able to travel independently and see it for themselves. And it seems highly likely they harbor some resentment against the regime for its restrictions on that sort of travel.

Bigger 1st-Year Depreciation No Aid in Used Car Business

By BEN PHILEGAE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT—An auto industry executive suggested today that if you've been in the habit of trading for a new car every year you're soon going to find it more expensive.

The villain, says Edward Cowan, national used car manager for Chevrolet, won't be higher new car prices but greater first year depreciation.

Depreciation is the drop in resale value of your car and it begins the moment you drive a new one away from the dealer's showroom.

If you plan to keep the car forever, depreciation won't bother you.

It's only several years from now when you roll the old buggy around to your friendly dealer's near-sighted appraiser (to quote from some current dealer advertising) that you'll get an idea of how far the figure has dropped from the original selling price.

Cowan says one of the current trends in the used car business is a bigger drop in the price of year-old cars than has been the case in recent years. He thinks the new, less expensive compact cars are part of the reason.

A Detroit banker said recently that it takes less cash to buy a brand new compact car than a late medium price model—and that often monthly payments will be less.

Cowan wholeheartedly agrees. He also says long-term financing—36 months and up—can slow the car business generally.

"People don't have the equity to trade," he said. "They have to run their cars longer. This in turn means it costs the dealer more to recondition the trade-ins for resale."

The banker put it this way: "A man can find himself owing more on a car than the car is worth, and that's bad."

Cowan, whose basic job is to help Chevrolet dealers sell more used cars so they can move new cars, describes the used car market currently as "sticky."

"We don't like what we see," he said, "although it's not really bad."

Used cars outsold new cars during the first five months of this year by slightly more than three to two. This is about normal.

Cowan says he believes the major impact of compact cars on the used car market was to depress prices. The big job already has come, in his opinion, and the addition of four new compact lines this fall will have no major effect.

Cowan says several factors other than the compacts have affected used car sales. Among them are increasing competition for the customer's dollar from boats, home swimming pools, personal travel.

Another is the increased average mileage being driven. A three-year-old car used to have about 30,000 miles on it. Now the figure usually is above 35,000. And, says Cowan, there has been a tendency for car owners to keep their cars longer—not trade so often.

He believes this factor has helped create some public objections to annual new-car model changes.

"They have to keep their cars longer, so they don't want them to look out-of-date," he said.

State Will Halt Sale of Milk in Gallon Jug

LANSING (UPI)—The state is going to court in an effort to prevent sale of milk from gallon jugs.

Assistant Attorney General Myron McMillan said he was informed Circuit Judge George S. Baldwin, Munising, would hear arguments early in July on the state's effort to prevent Claude Dallas, Luce County dairy operator, from using the large jars.

The largest container allowed for retail sale of milk is a half-gallon, McMillan said.

Mackinac Bridge Count Down 14 Pct. This June

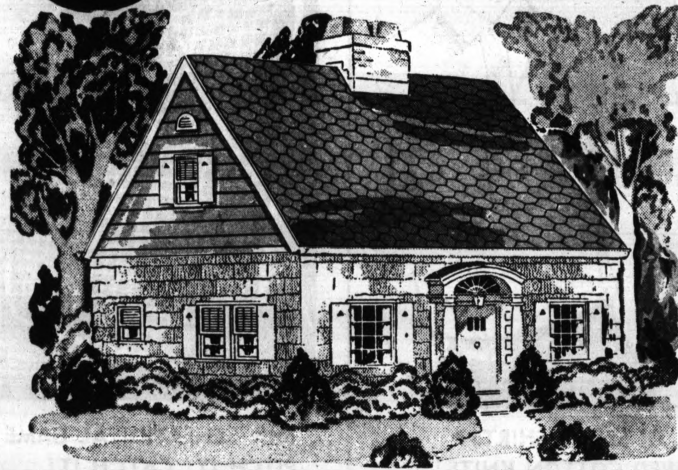

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Traffic over the Mackinac Bridge this month is expected to be about 14 per cent below the volume for June last year, according to bridge authorities.

Herman Ellis, public information executive for the Mackinac Bridge Authority, said that heavy rains are believed to have caused the drop in travel over the bridge connecting Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas.

Small Car Owners Buying Accessories

DETROIT (UPI)—Compact car last month for which complete figures were available, sales were off practically all car conveniences in favor of economy, are gradually abandoning their austerity.

A Chrysler Corp. official who specializes in sales trends of extra cost equipment on cars says each month shows an increase in the percentage of compact cars equipped with various optional accessories.

For example, during April, the

the official said he was sure the gap would be narrowed considerably in the future.

"In most cases, optional equipment on compact cars will probably never reach the degree of acceptance it has on standard cars," he said. "But, with a few exceptions, the gap between the two should be very narrow in a year or two if the present trend continues."

The percentages of compact cars equipped with white sidewall tires already is approaching the percentage for standard cars. Chrysler figures showed 63.9 per cent of its standard cars were equipped with white sidewalls while 61.3 per cent of the Valiants were similarly equipped.

U.S. to Aid Turkey on N-Reactor Cost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will contribute $300,000 to Turkey toward the cost of a nuclear research reactor, the Atomic Energy Commission announced Wednesday.

The reactor will be part of a research and training center being built near Istanbul.

Donkey Licenses Ready for Dem Convention Cars

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The state has issued license plates for official cars at the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles next month, each imprinted with a donkey head.

Four hundred of the plates, carrying the legend, "Democratic National Convention 1960," with the party symbol below it, were manufactured by convicts at Folsom Prison.

The Democratic party paid 65 cents apiece for the plates. The plates will not substitute for regular licenses.

A COMPLETE LINE OF CLOTHING AND FURNISHINGS FOR MEN AND BOYS

INDEPENDENCE DAY — King Baudouin of Belgium, right, is pictured with Republic of Congo President Joseph Kasavubu, left, and Prime Minister Patrice Lumumba, after the King's arrival near Leopoldville, Belgian Congo, Wednesday. The Congo became independent at ceremonies today. It is the 14th African nation to be freed since World War II. A short skirmish was caused by a demonstrator snatching the King's sword but the man was quickly overpowered by officers. Two rival Congo leaders were given official staff ratings which they accepted in order to gain harmony. An artillery battery boomed slowly as the young Belgian King proclaimed the independent Republic of Congo.

Honor Retiring McVean for 54-Year Hospital Job

"THIS IS YOUR LIFE" — Duncan McVean receives congratulations from Mrs. William Aldrich, 1004 LaSalle St., at his retirement party last night at Elks Temple. McVean, the oldest employe in state civil service, is retiring as storekeeper at Pontiac

State Hospital after 54 years there. Mrs. Aldrich, who is in charge of the mending department, was the oldest employe in time of service at the hospital hired by McVean and attending the party. Looking on is Mrs. McVean.

Duncan McVean got a good dunking in the old fountain at Pontiac's Grove School (now the site of Pontiac Central High School) somewhere around 1910.

It was a traditional baptism for freshmen, McVean says, and fun. There was a lot of fun and a lot of work for a willing Scotsman in those days, too.

McVean worked seven days a week. On school days, he worked from 6 to 8 a.m., went to classes and returned to work from 4 to 10 p.m.

He got a job at Pontiac State Hospital in 1905 at the age of 14. He has never worked anywhere else and totals 54 years there on his retirement.

McVean has worked longer for Michigan than any other state employe.

HONORED AT PARTY

Last night fellow workers and friends honored him at a "This Is Your Life" party in the Elks Temple. More than 200 persons attended.

Representing the State Department of Mental Health was Ivan Etes, personnel director. Keynote speaker was Dr. Walter H. Orsinauf, superintendent of the Pontiac hospital.

Letters of congratulations came from such people as Congressman William S. Brownfield and Lt. Gov. John B. Swinison.

McVean started at $10 per month as a telephone and elevator operator. Since 1919, he has been storekeeper for the institution and earns $6,715 a year plus the use of a house on the hospital grounds.

"I hate like the devil to leave," the 54-year-old man said.

"The people I have worked with are above the average."

McVean and his wife are looking for a house in which to live, and, he says, another job, although he is assured $3,584 a year in combined state pension and federal social security benefits.

"I am not allowed to make more than $100 a month in order to remain eligible for these benefits," he says, "but I hope I can get a job to keep me occupied."

McVean, who has been active in Boy Scouts and a member of the First Presbyterian Church, and Masonic Lodge No. 21, passes on this advice to today's youngsters: "Finish school, get your education."

Go to school and have a job at the same time? "It's good for you," McVean is especially proud of his son Duncan, 24, who worked hard and received his master's degree in pharmacy at the University of Michigan.

He has another son, Robert, 22, and a stepson, Major D. E. Keel, in the Army.

During the exercise, 19 youths, ranging in age between 12 and 14, panicked when one of them stepped into unexpectedly deep water. In the confusion, six disappeared and presumably drowned.

No trace of them was found despite a concentrated search of the river and surrounding area yesterday.

See Rockefeller as Backing GOP

Governor of New York Won't Bo: His Party, Despite Disagreements

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller apparently is going to back the Republican ticket this fall despite policy disagreements with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Rockefeller, who has criticized with GOP governors departing after the windup of the 52nd annual conference of state executives Wednesday.

Rockefeller who has criticized the administration's defense and medical aid for the aged programs supported by Nixon, appeared to have left himself a way in press conference remarks Wednesday to sit on his hands in the November election.

But when some other Republicans interpreted his statements as indicating he might desert the GOP, Rockefeller told a reporter: "I will not leave the party." While he did not commit himself finally to campaigning for Nixon as the expected GOP presidential nominee, Rockefeller indicated he thinks he can find enough common ground to do that. Republicans think that if the governor were inactive, Nixon might lose New York's vital 45 electoral votes.

Tourist Wants to Visit Hell; Paradise, Too?

LANSING (P)—A Montreal woman asking directions to Hell, Mich., was counseled today to visit Paradise as well.

Mrs. E. Cartwell wrote the State Highway Department, explaining she planned a visit to the Detroit area and "we thought it would be fun to be able to say we had been to Hell."

The motorist services division responded by routing a marked map showing the location of Hell, a tiny unincorporated community at the junction of two county roads southwest of Piquette in Livingston County.

"To complete your trip you might also visit Paradise in the Upper Peninsula," suggested John Takas in an accompanying message.

Paradise is a town perched on the edge of Whitefish Bay in Chippewa County.

BID FAREWELL — Madeleine Half (center), who is leaving her position as director of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, was honored at a dinner sponsored by the clinic's board of directors last night at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Reminiscing with Miss Half, who will become the director of case work services for the juvenile court in Allegheny, Pa., were board members Noel Buckner, 2633 Cove Lane, Orchard Lake, and Mrs. Farrell E. Roberts of 2488 Laffay Dr.

Kids Leave Camp Where Six Drowned

MAUSTON, Wis. (P)—Nearly 100 sad-faced children packed their meager belongings today and planned to leave their summer camp near here while authorities continued to search for the bodies of six of their companions who were believed drowned in the Wisconsin River Tuesday night.

The children, most of them from Chicago's poorer districts and from families displaced from eastern Europe, had been at the camp since Sunday before the tragedy struck in what had been planned as a routine river-crossing exercise.

During the exercise, 19 youths, ranging in age between 12 and 14, panicked when one of them stepped into unexpectedly deep water. In the confusion, six disappeared and presumably drowned.

No trace of them was found despite a concentrated search of the river and surrounding area yesterday.

Child Guidance Clinic Fetes Departing Director

The board of directors of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic honored Madeleine Half who is leaving as director of the clinic at a farewell dinner last night in Orchard Lake Country Club.

Miss Half will assume the position of director of case work services for the juvenile court at Allegheny, Pa.

Recipient of a B. S. degree from Carnegie Institute of Technology, Miss Half earned her certificate in psychiatric social work at Western Reserve University and M. S. degree at Carnegie Institute.

She began work in her field with the Behavior Clinic of Pittsburgh's Criminal Court and from there went to Mayview State Hospital in Pennsylvania where she was director of social services.

In 1949 she became director of the Child Guidance Clinic in Muskegon after serving as a psychiatric social work consultant for the Michigan State Department of Social Welfare in Lansing (1945) and as acting director of the Clinton Valley Children's Center (1946).

A member of the National Assn. of University Women, National Assn. of Social Workers and the Soroptimists Club, she came to Pontiac in 1952 as director of the Child Guidance Clinic.

The clinic now consists of the main unit in Pontiac and branch offices in Birmingham and Royal Oak.

Dr. Moore to Walk Into Virginia Groves

ROMNEY, W.Va. (AP) — Dr. Barbara Moore planned to hike through the heart of Virginia's apple growing country today and head down tonight at Winchester, Va.

That would be 43 miles along U.S. Highway 50 from her starting point in this West Virginia town.

The 36-year-old British veterinarian is en route to New York via Washington and has been on the road nearly three months since she left San Francisco.

Who? ... Mrs. Henry Gaukler

Bosses Big Business in Big Way

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

"Big" is one word in the English language that doesn't bother petite Mrs. Henry Gaukler.

She sits behind a massive desk in one of Pontiac's oldest and largest business firms, the Gaukler Moving & Storage Co., which she manages in a "big" way.

Since her husband's death six months ago, the pretty mother of four children has carried on a family tradition established more than 55 years ago. The firm has never changed hands, nor moved from the original building at 7 Orchard Lake Ave. in all those years.

The firm's nine drivers, who last year drove the heavy tractor-trailers more than 100,000 miles from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts, have plenty of respect for their new boss.

She has a sense of humor along with a sound business sense that has helped add to the company's fine reputation.

Working as a corporation with her brother-in-law, Edwin Gaukler, the 38-year-old matron is one of only two women in the nation who manages a moving and storage firm affiliated with Allied Van Lines, Inc.

A new trailer, a tractor and a new state truck have been added to the fleet of 12 vehicles since Mrs. Gaukler assumed her husband's position last January.

Not only does the company haul household goods and commercial materials all over the United States, but the building houses four floors of everything from kitchen brooms to antique trucks.

"When the General Motors Corp. delivered three very old GMC trucks for storage, it caused quite a sensation," Mrs. Gaukler said.

"People walking by stopped, and traffic was tied up by drivers stopping their cars to watch."

Although her job takes up most of her time, her main interest is still her two boys and two girls, ages 16, 14, 9 and 2.

The family lives at 3305 Interlaken Rd., West Bloomfield Township, and when the weather is just right, all "truck" out to the country for swimming, picnicking and family fun.

Polite Austria Greets Nikita

9-Day Visit Expected to Feature Smiles and Coexistence Talk

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev arrived in neutral Austria today for a nine-day state visit that is expected to be all smiles and talk of peaceful coexistence.

The Soviet Premier and his party of more than 80 persons were met at Vienna's Schwechat Airport by President Adolf Schauerl, Chancellor Julius Raab and other top Austrians.

Only two hours were set aside for private talks with Austrian government leaders — and these were expected to deal with trade.

"There was a minimum of fanfare for Khrushchev's arrival — the usual honor guard and 21-gun salute; only three flags (two Austrian, one Soviet) at the airport, and a relatively small crowd of newsmen, officials and Soviet embassy staff. Some 6,000 police and army troops manned the 15-mile route from the airfield to the visitors' hotel."

Khrushchev smiled happily as he walked down the steps of his plane.

In Vienna, a protest march of the Catholic Youth Organization and the Austrian Prisoners of War Assn. was banned. The government wanted no unpleasantness.

There was no cheering or clapping as Khrushchev walked half a mile in a two-button, single-breasted suit, from his plane.

Welcoming him, President Schauerl described the premier as a "warm friend of Austria and its independence." He said he hoped his visit would lead to better conditions between the two countries and that peace would continue in the world.

Khrushchev in reply said that the growth of friendly relations between the Soviet Union and Austria "is an especially pleasing sign of peaceful coexistence."

"The Soviet Union has always supported Austrian neutrality, and will always do so," he continued.

"Finally we are convinced that peace will win and the foundations of peaceful coexistence will triumph despite the agitations of some people who want to keep the cold war," he said.

He promised the club a full report upon his return.

YMCA Prompts on Water Safety

Lists 13 Rules to Apply Common Sense and Reason to Live

With thousands of area residents heading for lakes and swimming pools over the holiday weekend, the Pontiac YMCA, which stresses swimming and water safety programs the year 'round, today joined other agencies in an appeal for common sense and reason around the water.

John J. Moran, aquatic director, suggested that swimmers follow 13 basic rules of water safety taught in the national YMCA aquatic program.

"Obeying these precautions could save lives," Moran said, "not only this weekend—but all through the summer."

The rules are:

1. Pick a safe place to swim. Swim only at protected pools and beaches, and obey all warning signs. Never swim alone.

2. Don't misjudge your swimming ability, especially if you are a "once-a-year" swimmer with short breath and unconditioned muscles.

3. Never dive into unknown waters. Before diving, test the depth of the water and check the bottom, looking out for dangerous rocks, broken bottles and sharp tin cans. Keep away from weeds, lily pads and grass, too.

COOL OFF FIRST

4. Rest, relax and cool off after hard exercise before you go into the water.

5. Don't be a water show-off.

6. Avoid swimming in strong currents.

7. Always row toward the shore or parallel to it, never away from shore. Pick your distance and make sure it's a shorter distance than you usually swim.

8. Beware of water wings, old inner tubes and similar objects.

9. If you can't swim, stay out of small boats. If your boat overturns, hang on, as if you float. Don't dive off a small boat since a common danger is tipping such a craft over, or coming up under the hull, causing serious injury.

Instead, slide into the water. Never overload a boat.

10. Don't take a sailboat out unless you are an experienced sailor.

11. Avoid swimming during electrical storms.

HEROES CAN MISS

12. When attempting a rescue, stay out of the water if at all possible. Try to reach the person with a pole, with clothing or a rope. Or throw him something buoyant. Don't try to be a swimmer hero.

13. Last—and most important—if you are in trouble in the water, force yourself to keep calm. Create no small boat disaster. Panic is the danger. Cling to an overturned boat or some buoyant object. Comparatively small things will support you in the water if you just keep calm and take advantage of your body's natural buoyancy. It's actually harder to sink than to stay up.

ON THE JOB — One of two women in the United States to manage a large trucking firm, Mrs. Henry Gaukler has assumed her deceased husband's position as manager of the Gaukler Moving & Storage Co. like a veteran executive.

She'll Go to Republican Convention as Page Girl

Miss Irene Giacobbi, chairman of the Oakland County Young Republican Club, will attend the GOP National Convention next month as a page girl for the Michigan delegation.

Miss Giacobbi, of 170 Roth Blvd., Clawson, was one of five Michigan Young Republicans chosen for the honor.

(As secretary at the General Motors Technical Center in Warren, Miss Giacobbi was elected chairman of the local organization last December. She said she was thrilled to be selected to attend the July 25-28 convention in Chicago.

"I shall be proud to represent Oakland County at the convention," she said. "I think our Young Republicans will gain better insight into political affairs by having one of their own members to observe."

She promised the club a full report upon her return.

Treasury Uses Black Ink Closing Its Fiscal Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Thanks to the Treasury's use of black ink today, the U.S. government is closing its fiscal year with a surplus of $500 million.

This is good news to all those who fear further monetary inflation—a mainpring for a rising cost of living, although there are other pressures, too.

But the Agriculture Department has been doing its bit, too, to help out the Treasury. Because of low prices for support spending for corn coming next six months than in the second half for several years, the department hasn't spent as much recently as earlier it had been expected to.

Although the books won't be tallied for several days yet, it now seems sure that budget revenues for the 12 months ending today will top the January estimate of 78.6 billion dollars, and federal spending will be a bit below the January estimate of 78.4 billion. Most guesses now put the budget surplus at 500 million.

Part of this is because rising dollars or better, or tax withholding payments. And returns filed by individuals have been running higher. Some think this is because of the drive to make taxpayers more conscientious about reporting dividend and interest receipts.

OOH, IT'S SHORT! — Nancy Sinatra, 19, strokes the closely cropped hair of her fiancé, Tommy Sands, while visiting him at Lackland AFB, Tex., where he is taking his Air Force basic training. Nancy's father Frank Sinatra also is under the influence of Cupid. His newest love interest, Juliet Prowse, is being eyed by Elvis Presley, too.

Still Picking Jury for New Finch Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The retrial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff on murder charges is still in the jury-choosing stage, but the defendants already have suffered two setbacks.

In Superior Court Wednesday, prosecutors announced they would again seek the death penalty for both.

In Washington, D.C., the Supreme Court denied Miss Tregoff's request that trial Judge LeRoy Dawson be disqualified. Finch and his red-haired sweetheart are accused of murder and conspiracy in the slaying of the doctor's wife, Barbara, last July. Their first trial ended in a deadlock jury last March.

Counsel for both sides said jury selection probably won't be completed until week after next.

Ex-Red Spy Going to Cuba

SERGEI KUDRYAVTSEV

Leader of Canadian Ring Named Russia's First Ambassador

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Diplomatic sources said Wednesday Moscow plans to send a one-time spy in North America, Sergei M. Kudryavtsev, as the first Soviet ambassador to the Cuban government of Fidel Castro.

Kudryavtsev, whose most recent post was minister consular at the Soviet embassy in Paris, is expected to arrive in Havana in a few weeks.

The 52-year-old Soviet diplomat, who is reported to have a pleasant personality outwardly and a talent for juggling.

In the early 1940s, according to information available here, he headed a Soviet spy ring in Canada. He was first secretary of the Soviet Legation in Ottawa in 1945.

The espionage activities were exposed after a Russian code clerk, Igor Guzenko, defected in 1950.

Kudryavtsev was sent to the United States in 1947 as an adviser on Balkan affairs to the Soviet U. N. delegation. He was soon recalled after being the target of criticism in this country in the wake of the Guzenko disclosures.

Dems to Bounce Free Doormen 'for Economy'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House doorkeeper William L. Miller has been notified that his voluntary services at the Democratic Convention are being dispensed with on economy grounds.

A spokesman said Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler wrote Miller that the cost of transportation for Miller and his aides from Washington to Los Angeles are too great and that "professional security people" will handle the doorkeeping duties.

Miller served as doorkeeper at the 1948, 1952 and 1956 conventions. According to Democratic national headquarters, he is paid the cost of transportation and living expenses. In 1956, he and seven assistants were on hand for the event.

A committee spokesman denied that Miller was being dropped on grounds he is closely associated with Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson or Johnson's fellow Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn who is spearheading Johnson's unannounced candidacy for the presidential nomination.

Men Need Job Interest

Women Happy to Gab

ANN ARBOR (AP)—"Although some elderly men leave their jobs when they find they have no contacts with other men of their age and are unable to find happiness in retirement, this problem does not affect women as much, she said, because women are 'naturally more sociable' than men."

Because of this, Dr. Cumming said, men "adapt themselves to social isolation and recreation as a primary goal less readily than women."

She told the University of Michigan's 13th Annual Conference on Aging that such men must find a satisfactory substitute for their work because "when old men are offered situations, which simulate the working world, they use them more than they use purely recreational facilities."

Dr. Cumming said that when

Physician Tells All

Leading Hopefuls Report Top Health

NEW YORK (AP) — Are the leading candidates for presidential nomination in good health? Apparently so, in the case of at least four.

The subject came up in a Columbia Broadcasting System television discussion Tuesday night with Dr. William Jeffers of the University of Pennsylvania Hospital.

The prospective nominees mentioned were Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Sen. John F. Kennedy, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Stuart Symington.

The medical discussion with Dr. Jeffers was launched this way by Phil Scheffler of CBS-TV: "You spoke about the necessity for American voters knowing the medical qualifications of the various candidates for the presidency, as well as the political qualifications, and you mentioned that four of the current candidates for the presidency have what might be serious difficulties. Which candidates are these, and what's wrong with each of them?"

HEALTH REPORTS

Dr. Jeffers responded: "We cannot judge the severity of disorders from the material available in books which anyone can read. However, the diagnoses and the persons involved are as follows:

"Sen. Kennedy — Addison's disease, or adrenal insufficiency. Sen. Symington — had an operation for high blood pressure, result unknown to us. Sen. Johnson — had a heart attack. Vice President Nixon — is said in one reference to have high blood pressure and elevated cholesterol."

During the program, which was recorded in advance, CBS also presented statements from the individuals concerned or spokesmen for them. In substance, the statements were as follows:

Nixon — Never had either high blood pressure or high cholesterol. His latest physical examination, in April, showed his health excellent in all respects. Kennedy — In 1955, when doctors were preparing him for surgery to correct a war-injured back injury, they discovered he was suffering from a glandular imbalance diagnosed as "Addison's disease." He was given cortisone and the condition was corrected. No symptoms have returned.

Johnson — His recovery from his heart attack is so complete that a physical examination now would show no evidence of his having had one. His doctors say there is nothing that would prevent his presidential candidacy.

Symington — 13 years ago he underwent a complicated operation to sever certain nerves which help cause high blood pressure. The operation was completely successful. After a physical exami-

Piggyback Idea Brings Railroads Into Farmyard

DETROIT (UPI) — Piggyback service is bringing the railroads into the farm yard, a Detroit rail official has told a Future Farmers of America meeting.

George R. Wallace, district sales manager for Pennsylvania Railroad, spoke to 40 FFA officers from Michigan, Ohio and Indiana.

"It's a second transport revolution," he said. "Last year the railroad handled 580,000 trailers in piggyback service. In 1960, it will be close to a million, and this is just the beginning."

With the phenomenal growth in piggyback service, Wallace said, "railroads once again are becoming standard, long-haul carriers" and "trucks are finding their proper role as feeders and distributors of railroad freight."

Frank J. Anderson, 70, died in Traverse City Tuesday. He was a native of this area and attended schools in Traverse City before going to Alma College.

Legion Award Causes Furor

High School Principal Sends Students Home in Middle of Graduation

NEW YORK (AP)—A high school graduation ceremony Wednesday broke up in a tumult of jeering, hisses, boos and cheers when an American Legion award was presented to one of the graduates.

Officials promptly halted the program and cleared the hall. It was the second furor over Legion awards in this area recently. The outburst came in a theater auditorium on Manhattan's 12th street, where 1,400 persons, including parents and friends, were gathered for the graduation exercises of 700 Stuyvesant High School seniors.

A board of education spokesman said an award from the Washington Square Post of the American Legion had just been presented to Raymond Frey, when the "boisterous behavior" began.

Leonard J. Flendner, principal of Stuyvesant, one of the city's foremost science schools, reproached the class for what he called its "atrocious conduct," halted the ceremonies, and ordered the playing of the recessional.

He told the seniors they could come to the school Thursday and pick up their diplomas. He said he'd give them a "talk on manners" then.

Another incident involving a Legion award occurred recently at suburban Westbury, N. Y. High School when an honor graduate spurned such an award.

The student, Stephen Bayne, president of the student council and holder of a scholarship to Harvard, said he couldn't accept "an award from an organization whose policies I can't respect."

Ike Tells Group
 U.S. Tax Money
 Not for Local Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower Wednesday urged Americans to turn more to their local governments than to the federal government for assistance in their problems.

Eisenhower spoke informally to a group of 43 high school students and their teachers, here from Oregon and Washington State on the fourth annual American Heritage tour from the Northwest.

The students said the President told them that federal tax money should not be used "to build our homes and mow our lawns."

Joann Potratz of Walla Walla, Wash., said the President told them the federal government should be approached for help "only as a last resort" and that Americans should establish their primary contact with government at the local level.

the one that remembers people have feet!

"Hey," said our Corvair engineers (bless 'em), "people who sit in the middle seat have feet, too!" So they put Corvair's engine-transmission package in the rear (only U.S. compact built that way) and presto! a practically flat floor, front and rear.

Crowell-Collier Buys Control of Macmillan

NEW YORK (AP)—The Crowell-Collier Publishing Co. said today it is buying control of the Macmillan Co., fourth largest publishing concern in the nation.

Crowell-Collier, publisher of encyclopedias and the Harvard Classics, has previously owned about 42 per cent of Macmillan stock. Crowell-Collier now is buying the 33,000 shares needed to gain 51 per cent control.

The stock has traded recently at about $46 a share, but Crowell-Collier is buying it at $50 a share and will invest $1,650,000.

A Crowell-Collier spokesman said the controlling interest would represent a total investment of about seven million dollars.

The merger was agreed upon because Macmillan needed money for expansion and Crowell-Collier wanted to get into the textbook market, a highly lucrative field, the spokesman said.

Actress Jean Simmons Sad at Divorce Plans

LONDON (AP)—Film actress Jean Simmons today described her marital rift with Stewart Granger as amicable—but saddening.

The English-born screen star shut herself up in a hotel suite with her daughter Tracy, 3, and refused all callers.

But she announced through a publicity agent that the statement issued in Hollywood that they intended to get a divorce was made with the "joint approval of myself and my husband."

Campaign for $120,000 to End Long Lake Muck

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — An all-out campaign to raise $120,000 yet needed to reclaim muck-filled Long Lake will be undertaken in hopes of getting the project under way this year.

According to Alois S. Vincler, treasurer of the Long Lake General Council, only $41,000 of the $120,000 needed to clean the lake bottom has been collected to date.

The organization plans to restore the 146-acre lake to its original beauty and usefulness by dredging an accumulation of peat from the bottom, giving the lake an average depth of 18 feet.

The lake now averages three-feet deep.

'HUGE VACUUM CLEANER'

The lake-cleaning project will be undertaken by the Waterways Control and Development Commission of Lansing.

Part-owner of the firm Donald D. Rutter said the work would be done by a huge "underwater vacuum cleaner" built specifically to return lakes and rivers to their clear, sandy-bottom state.

If a contract is not signed with the company by Nov. 20, money already collected will be returned to lake front property owners who have already contributed toward the project.

Plans are being made by the community association to have a four-by-eight-foot billboard placed in front of the Community National Bank in Union Lake showing progress of the fund-raising drive.

It is expected that the thermometer-type sign will be set up next week.

If a contract is signed, the firm has stated that dredging will begin during the winter months with work completed in late spring or early summer.

Once the contract is signed, Rutter said it would take from 10 to 90 days for operations to begin.

This has already raised the interest of University of Michigan geologists.

The dredging project will not upset the balance of fish in the lake. Rutter promised the home owners association.

He said the State Conservation Department will take a fish survey once the project is completed.

Along with the planned "house cleaning," property owners have proposed a set of safety rules to be used on the lake by boaters.

DEPUTY WOULD ENFORCE

The rules would be enforced by a deputy sheriff.

However, before rules, which go beyond the stipulations of state laws, could be enforced, they would have to be approved by the State Conservation Department which has jurisdiction over use of public lakes.

If the rules were approved and put into effect, Long Lake would become a first public lake in Oakland County governed beyond state laws, except by "gentlemen's agreements" which now exist among property owners on several lakes.

Two Florida Schools Ordered Integrated

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Dade County School Board, by unanimous vote, has ordered token integration of two schools in North Miami Beach.

Fulford will become the third elementary school in Florida to be integrated, all in Dade County. North Miami Beach Junior High will be the first white secondary school in Florida to admit a Negro.

The board denied requests of 12 other Negro pupils seeking admission to white schools. No reasons were given.

The Democratic governor said the "people really want this kind of contrary system."

Waterford Church Scene of Miller-Tossey Nuptial

CLARKSTON — Barbara Jo Tossey and Joseph L. Miller were married Saturday in a setting of white gladioli and carnations at Our Lady of the Lakes Church, Waterford.

The bride wore a white silk organza over a sheer net tulle gown. It was accented with a lace overlay in leaf design on the bodice. Her bouquet was arranged with white carnations and red sweethearts.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall D. Tossey of 1961 1/2th St. Her husband is the son of John A. Miller of Cedar and the late Mrs. Miller.

The bride's sister Janet was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Alita Lawrence of Clarkston, Betty Parr of Brown City and the bride's sister Judy.

The bridegroom's brother Steven of Traverse City was best man. Ushers were Larry Miller of Cedar, Jack Parr of Brown City and Richard Miller of Traverse City.

Leland Clifford to Head Farmington School Board

A newly created post of vice president was won by Douglas Hammill. Re-elected secretary was Board member Patricia Davies. Vernon Fisher was elected treasurer.

Everyone but Everyone Has a Backyard Pool

The typical purchaser of a backyard swimming pool pays 10 percent down and finances the balance over a period of five years.

This information comes from Joseph C. Eklers, head of the pool finance department of an installation financing company.

Eklers predicts that the number of American families owning their own swimming pools will climb to more than 225,000 this year, up from more than 55,000 in 1959.

Changes Plea in Loss of Eye by Boy, 2 1/2

MADISON HEIGHTS — A 2 1/2-year-old husband who pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery in the partial blinding of his wife's two and a half-year-old son in Municipal Court here June 23 changed his plea to not guilty yesterday.

The more serious charge of felonious assault was lodged against Everett Thomas of 568 W. Barrett St. the same day. He was freed on a $2,500 bond pending trial in Municipal Court July 19.

At the time he pleaded guilty, Thomas admitted to police that he threw a glass ashtray during an argument with his wife. He said it crashed to the floor near where her son, a former marriage, Bradley Biers, was sitting.

Glass fragments were sprayed on the boy, one of which resulted in his being blinded in the left eye.

According to Assistant County Prosecutor William Lang, the trial sign at the intersection of M-53 and I-75 crashed head-on into the side of a truck. The truck driver escaped injury.

Woman Fatally Hurt as Car Hits Truck

A 53-year-old Springfield Township woman was injured fatally and her husband hospitalized with injuries yesterday when their car rammed a truck west of Tawas.

Mrs. Sara P. Kintz of 985 Dixie Hwy. died in Tawas City Hospital four hours after the accident. Her husband, who had been driving the car, was admitted to the same hospital.

According to East Tawas state police, the Kintz car ran a stop sign at the intersection of M-53 and I-75 and crashed head-on into the side of a truck. The truck driver escaped injury.

OXFORD — Kenneth C. Huff has resigned from the Oxford Village Council, giving as his reason the fact that he has moved out of town.

Huff was appointed in October to fill the unexpired term of Gordon Matthee who resigned. He was elected March.

The Council will act on the resignation at the next regular meeting, July 12.

LAKE ORION — Area newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Conrad C. Konczal will live in Oxford when they return from their honeymoon trip next week.

The bride is the former Betty Jane Ruge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ruge, 228 Alvarado St. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Konczal of 878 S. Rochester Rd., Avon Township.

For her wedding in St. Joseph Catholic Church, the bride chose a princess-style gown with a chapel-length train, made of silk organza trimmed in Venetian lace.

Plans Cheaper Air-Condition Unit . . . Late Rumor From Chrysler Source

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — Chrysler Corp. hopes to make air conditioning as popular on low-priced cars as it now is on the higher-priced models.

Chrysler's Mopar Division is developing, for introduction along with its 1961 model cars, a new low-cost air conditioning unit which can easily be fitted under the hood of any car, industry sources said.

The sources said the new unit will still need the condensing elements of current automobile air conditioners but will be greatly simplified to allow it to be sold at about half the cost of existing units.

Another advantage of the new unit will be that it can be transferred from one car to another without too much difficulty, the sources said. The unit, they said, the motorist who buys an air conditioning unit for his car can remove it when he is ready to trade for a new model rather than try to sell the car to the limited used car market for air conditioners.

Because the air conditioner will usually outlast the car, it also will mean the cost of the unit can be written off over at least two new car purchases, instead of one.

But the new unit will still not be cheap. Even at half the cost of existing units—about $400—it will find a limited market among motorists in all except the areas of the country where temperatures soar to near 100 throughout much of the summer months.

Chevrolet will abandon the gasoline heater as standard equipment on its Corvair when the 1961 models are introduced, industry sources said.

The sources said the gasoline heater, which hurt the Corvair's gasoline economy in cold weather, will remain as optional equipment on the Corvair but the standard heater will be a hot air exchange unit similar to the manifold heaters once used in cars.

The new heater will pump air from the passenger compartment to a special heating chamber built around the manifold. This heater will not provide warm air as the gasoline heater, which burns fuel from the same tank that supplies the engine, but will be more economical.

Ford Motor Co. is working on a convertible for its Falcon line but it is not expected to be ready for introduction by the time the other 1961 models are introduced. Sources said the new Falcon convertible may be introduced during the 1961 model year, perhaps late in the spring, or may be held for introduction as a 1962 model.

The only compact car that now offers a convertible is the Studebaker-Packard Lark.

At least one 1961 model car will offer rear window wipers as optional equipment. If it catches on, the rear wipers will be offered on several other lines and may become standard equipment on some of the higher priced models.

State Printers Unions End 3-Day Convention

Kenneth Hull, Detroit, was re-elected president. Earl Bond, Flint, was named first vice president and John Gallagher, Kalamazoo, second vice president. New secretary-treasurer is Edgar Crum, Lansing.

Battle Creek was chosen as the 1961 convention city.

Cookie Crumbs Add Texture

A summery dessert should be cool... delicate... delicious. If it's made with fresh, sweet strawberries — better still!

Look no further. Molded Strawberry Cream is the essence of summertime and, like all good hot-weather desserts, it needs no cooking. It's a delectable mixture of the juicy strawberries, crushed pineapple and fluffy whipped cream.

To enhance its flavor, serve it with Coffee Mist. (Simply pour cold, dark coffee over crushed ice and sweeten to taste.) The combination is irresistible!

Strawberry Cream
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 cup sugar
1 cup chopped fresh strawberries
1 can (8 1/2 oz.) crushed pineapple
1/2 cup vanilla wafer crumbs (about 15)
1 cup whipping cream, chilled
Softening gelatin in cold water and dissolve over boiling water. Combine strawberries and sugar and let stand until juicy. Add pineapple, heat to boiling point and add to gelatin, stirring constantly. Add water crumbs. Chill until slightly thickened.

Whip 1/4 cup cream and fold in Spoon into 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Whip remaining cream and use to garnish mold. Makes 6 servings.

FRESH AS A DAISY—Daisies, daisies everywhere—and lots of frosty iced coffee in the tall pitcher! What better refreshment for a summer's day than a plate of Daisy Cookies and a tall, tinkling glass of iced coffee?

Feel Fresh As a Daisy With Glass of Iced Coffee

When daisies bloom along country lanes—as well as in flower baskets on shady patios—then you can be sure it's summer. Time to slow down, take it easy, cool off. Time for a platter of cookies and a tall, frosty pitcher of iced coffee.

There are several easy ways to make full-flavored iced coffee. One excellent way is by brewing coffee extra-strength and pouring it hot into ice-filled glasses. To brew coffee for this method, use half a measuring cup of water to one standard coffee measure (or two level measuring tablespoons) of coffee for each serving. These proportions apply no matter which brewing method you use.

EFFORTLESS METHOD

At its best, iced coffee should be the same strength as hot coffee. An effortless way to make it is this: Brew extra breakfast coffee and cool it. Freeze it into coffee ice cubes, turning temperature control to coldest point for quick freezing. Then make iced coffee anytime by simply pouring regular strength coffee into glasses filled to the top with coffee ice cubes. You can be sure your iced coffee will be all coffee, through and through!

One of the quickest and best ways to produce a glass of iced coffee in a moment is by using instant coffee. In the bottom of a tall glass, put twice as much instant coffee as you would use for a cup. Dissolve it in a little cold water. Fill the glass to the top with ice cubes, add more water and stir thoroughly. Drink and enjoy!

You may enjoy your iced coffee with cream and a touch of sweetening. The cream should be the best you can provide—good cream really makes a difference in iced coffee. The best way to sweeten iced coffee is with simple syrup—equal amounts of sugar and water, stirred and boiled for seven minutes and cooled. The syrup keeps indefinitely in the refrigerator. These cookies are just right with iced coffee.

Daisy Cookies
1 cup soft butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
2 1/2 cups flour, sifted
Mix butter and sugar together thoroughly. Stir in flour. Mix thoroughly. Chill dough. Roll out 1/2 to 1/4-inch thick. Cut with

Q. What is the name of this meat cut?
A. Country Club or Rib Eye Steaks.

Q. Where do they come from and how are they identified?
A. Country club steaks are cut from the eye muscle of a blade rib roast of beef (the 6th and 7th ribs). The eye muscle is attached to the backbone and part of the rib section. The steaks are boneless.

Q. How are they prepared?
A. They are tender and may be broiled or panfried. If cut thin, they may be panfried.

Blueberry Dessert Is Red, White and Blue

Come Fourth of July and every drop of Americana in us comes rushing to the surface. We love international cooking — except on Independence Day! On that day of days, "What was good enough for Grandpa is good enough for us" — without the work of course.

Take the dessert, for instance. Grandmother had to pick the blueberries or huckleberries or sell the youngsters on the idea. Not so now. Today's beautiful frosty berries are available from June to September.

Remember those wonderful just-barely-warm berry dumping desserts she used to serve? Blueberry Islands are the modern-day counterpart. That unusual flavor of the islands comes from the bite-size shredded wheat biscuits.

Now for the party touch, paint sugar cubes with red and blue food coloring. Just before serving, drop lemon extract on the cubes and touch a match to them. Just wait till your family sees Blueberry Island complete with blue flame. Those sounds you hear will be expressions of Americana on Independence Day.

BLUEBERRY ISLAND
Blueberry Sauce
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup fresh blueberries

Bubbly and Good
A different cinnamon toast! Spread buttered toast slices with honey and sprinkle with cinnamon. Broil until bubbly and serve at once.

Islands
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons margarine or butter
1 cup bite-size shredded wheat biscuits crushed to 1/2 cup
1/4 cup milk
Heat oven to hot (425 degrees). Combine sugar, cornstarch and cinnamon. Add water. Heat and stir to boiling. Add lemon juice and blueberries. When boiling resumes, pour into baking dish. Mix together flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and spices. Add margarine. Blend. Stir in cereal crumbs. Add milk. Mix well. Drop by tablespoons onto berries. Bake 15 minutes or until browned. Serve warm with cream. Yield: 6 Servings.

Holiday Meals Can Be Gala Ones

weekend when Marlene's family will join her at the Filaks. Outdoor meals will be in order, weather permitting.

By JANE ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

If the weatherman will get all the rain out of his system this week, maybe we can plan a series of outdoor meals for the upcoming holiday weekend. Three warm sunny days would be just about right for steak roasts, grilled spare ribs, burned marshmallows (that's the only way children like them) and fish fries.

Mrs. Jesse Filak of Pine Ridge road is busy planning her meals for company she expects from Ohio and Flint. Her niece, Marlene Talosi, of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, is here already.

The Filaks will barbecue steaks in their outdoor grill. With the steaks Mrs. Filak is serving corn on the cob, a tossed salad with Italian dressing, relishes, that pineapple-orange-marshmallow soup cream salad, brownies and ice cream cones.

Now if the Filaks lived in New England, they would probably have salmon on the Fourth of July. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service of the U.S. Department of the Interior suggests barbecuing it in the following manner:

Barbecued Salmon Steaks

Two pounds salmon steaks or other fish steaks, fresh or frozen
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 cup salad oil
3 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons hickory liquid smoke
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon grated onion
1/2 teaspoon powdered mustard
2 teaspoons paprika
2 drops tabasco

Thaw frozen steaks. Cut into serving-size portions. Place fish in a single layer in a shallow baking pan. Combine remaining ingredients. Pour sauce over fish and let stand for 30 minutes, turning once. Remove fish, reserving sauce for basting.

Place fish in well-greased, flange wire grills. Cook on a barbecue grill about 4 inches from moderately hot coals for 8 minutes. Baste with remaining sauce. Turn and cook for 7 to 10 minutes longer or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serves 6.

When you're trying to use the day colors in food, often you're stymied for something blue. In this salad recipe you can use blueberries or blackberries. It's a gelatin mold that has some character to it.

Red-White-Blue Melange

8 cups ginger ale or lemon-lime carbonated beverage
2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/2 cup blueberries
1/2 cup white grapes
1/2 cup red grapes
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup lime juice
1/2 cup cherry flavored gelatin
1/2 cup cherry flavored gelatin

Put 1 cup ginger ale in large measuring pitcher; sprinkle with the unflavored gelatin and let it soften. Add sugar and lemon rind; put pitcher in pan of boiling water until sugar and gelatin are completely dissolved.

Cool somewhat; then add lemon juice and 1/2 cup ginger ale or lemon-lime beverage.

Soften cream cheese in small heater bowl with 1/2 cup of the lemon gelatin; chill. Keep remaining gelatin at room temperature.

Rinse a 9-inch square pan with cold water; cover bottom with 1 cup of the lemon gelatin; chill to soft jelly consistency.

Arrange berries in nine evenly-spaced small clusters on partially-set gelatin in pan (these will appear on top of the gelatin in the center of the cheese-filled peach when unmolded.) Return pan to the refrigerator.

Beat softened chilled cheese with hand rotary or electric beater until smooth and fluffy. Put a rounded tablespoon of cheese over each group of berries on gelatin in pan; cover each with a chilled peach half. Pour rest of lemon-gelatin mixture over peaches. Let chill until fairly firm. Refrigerate remaining cheese; it will be used to frost sides of mold.

Dissolve packages of strawberry and cherry gelatin in remaining ginger ale or lemon-lime beverage, heated to just below boiling; cool. When cold, pour over peaches in pan and chill until completely firm.

TO SERVE:

Unmold on serving platter; beat remaining cheese again if necessary; cover sides of mold (cheese may be put through decorator tube or spread on with spatula). Garnish base with fresh leaves if desired. Makes 9 servings.

Mrs. Filak is going to serve brownies for dessert. You may follow her example or you can try this new recipe for Lemon Chip Macaroons.

Lemon Chip Macaroons

1 cup (8 ounces) lemon chips
2 cups flaked coconut
1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sweetener
Combine chips, coconut, baking powder and salt. Add vanilla and condensed milk and mix well. Drop from teaspoon on well-greased baking sheet in slow oven (325 degrees F.) 15 to 18 minutes, or until delicately browned. Makes about 26 macaroons.

NOTE: One teaspoon grated orange rind may be added with vanilla. Or substitute 1/2 teaspoon peppermint extract for vanilla.

Meats to Cook on Grill Are Featured This Week

For the Fourth, let's celebrate! Let's make food preparation easy this holiday week end. Regardless of the amount you plan to spend, there is a wide selection of easy-to-prepare foods says the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawry.

What meat will you choose? Will your family select a fryer which many stores are featuring at near-wholesale cost? You may choose the roaster, the grill, the top of the range or the oven for preparation. Often frying at 325 degrees takes little work and about 60 minutes when the chicken is cut into individual pieces.

Ham, spareribs and frankfurters will be popular pork choices this week. If you choose a whole ham, there are possibilities for more than one meal. You might have thick slices cut from the center for grilling. Or split the ham in half and balance each half on the spit or rotisserie.

If the children order ground beef patties, they can be shaped before the meat for quick preparation. Many markets are cutting boneless beef roasts to grill on a spit. A meat thermometer, inserted in the thickest part of the roast, is the best test for doneness. Check to see that it does not touch the bone or rest in a seam of fat.

Now that more spring lambs are being marketed and prices are declining slightly, a leg of lamb might be a good choice. A whole leg of lamb might be grilled or roasted. If the family is small, you might have the butcher cut several steaks for broiling and then roast the rest. Or for company fare, cut the meat into 1 1/4 inch cubes for tasty kabobs.

Michigan's crops of lettuce and cabbage are adding to total supply and supplies and prices are low. Green onions and radishes are in heavy supply for easy salads or "sizzling" food. You'll find green peppers, cauliflower and cucumbers in more generous amounts than last week.

Fresh fruits are the answer for easy dessert. This is the last week for heavy supplies of Michigan strawberries in grocery stores. Cool weather has helped the quality of the berries arriving from the southwestern part of the state. Local berries are ripe for freezing and preserving. If you find the time this week. Do you empty strawberries onto a cookie sheet or into a shallow pan for refrigerator storage? This makes it easy to remove bruised berries and the good ones keep much longer.

Watermelon, cantaloupe and bananas are desserts requiring minimum effort to serve. Supplies of these are large and prices are low.

A fruit platter might include peaches, grapes, plums and blueberries. All these continue to increase in supply.

Dairy products are plentiful. Many stores are featuring ice cream for dessert or cool refreshing drinks, butter and cream cheese.

Starting the day with a breakfast of large soft eggs provides protein and energy for the morning's activity with little cost on the food allowance.

Let's celebrate! Let mom enjoy this long week end by preparing food that is easy and quick to prepare.

PARTY TARTS—If you're looking for a something-special warm-weather dessert, these strawberry-rhubarb party tarts will spark your interest. They're light, delicious and nutritious, too, since the pastry shells are pepped up with wheat germ.

Little Strawberry Tarts Have Glazed Topping

Strawberries and rhubarb have gone together like love and marriage ever since folks began to make pastry, and these party tarts show why the two fruits have been a happy-ever-after combination. And best of all, they give us a chance to show off our pastry-chef skills when preparing for special festive occasions as summer approaches. The tarts, nutritionally fortified with toasted wheat germ, are as light as a whispering breeze—and they're cool, mann, what with the berries and rhubarb nestling in the creamy gelatin filling.

The tarts, of course, can be made ahead of time and kept in the refrigerator until served, thus eliminating the last-minute rush in a hot kitchen.

The basic recipe for the wheat germ tart shells and the fillings can be the pastry-vehicle for other summer fruits, such as raspberries, blueberries and peaches, or combinations thereof.

Party Strawberry and Rhubarb Tarts

3 cups sifted enriched flour
1½ teaspoons salt
1 cup wheat germ
1 cup shortening
7 to 8 tablespoons ice water

Sift flour and salt together. Add wheat germ and mix well. Cut in shortening until it is the size of peas. Add water slowly, tossing mixture with a fork until dough forms a ball. Roll on lightly floured board or pastry cloth.

Cut dough in circles and line 3½ inch tart pans or press on the bottoms of inverted muffin pans. Prick well and bake at 425 degrees F. for 12 to 15 minutes until golden. Cool.

Filling:

1 pound fresh rhubarb, cut in ¼ inch pieces
1 cup sugar
1½ cups cold water
1½ cups sliced strawberries
2 tablespoons sugar
2 packages strawberry flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
¾ cup cold water and fruit juice
Dash of salt
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Simmer rhubarb, ½ cup sugar and 2 tablespoons of water in covered pan for 2 minutes. Cool. Add 3 tablespoons sugar to sliced strawberries.

Dissolve strawberry gelatin in hot water. Drain juice from rhubarb and strawberries and add enough cold water to make 1½ cup. Add fruit juice and water to gelatin, add salt. Cool.

Whip cream until stiff and fold in ½ cup of cold gelatin. Place cream in bottom of tarts. Chill. Chill gelatin until slightly thickened. Fold in fruit. Place in tart shells and chill until set. Makes 15 to 16 tarts.

Quick Hash Made With Instant Spuds

NEW YORK (UPI)—Make beef 'n potato hash in minutes with instant whipped potatoes.

Melt 2 tablespoons of butter in a large skillet. Add 1 large onion and 1 small green pepper, both chopped. Saute until tender. Dissolve 2 beef bouillon cubes in 1½ cups of hot water. Add, with 2 cups of cooked cubed roast beef, to the vegetables.

Sprinkle one 4-serving envelope of instant whipped potato flakes over the mixture. Stir gently, until the flakes are moistened and cook over medium heat until warm through. Serves 4.

The median age of the 1960 homebuyer is 33 years, and more than 50 per cent of the people who will buy new houses this year will be under 35.

Wait Half a Minute

amount into a whole cup of cold water; then count in 30 seconds. When you are testing candy to allow for cooling before checking make sure that you drop a smalling.

Toasted Coconut Pudding

shredded coconut. If the pudding is made with 3 cups of milk, you'll need about ¼ cup of the coconut. Good flavor addition to a vanilla-flavored cornstarch pudding: plain or toasted.

Phrases So-o Confusing

Our English Language Greek to Foreigners

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Soichi Kato, a Tokyo magazine writer, wants the United States to adopt "international English" because "ordinary English" is just Greek to many foreigners. He told the State Department during a recent visit that regular English is too complicated. "There is a constant language barrier," he said. "At international meetings the Japanese delegation cannot tell what you are talking about."

International English would be a simplified language, with short-cut grammar and a vocabulary of perhaps 1,500 words.

Kato, who also is secretary general of the International Language Institute, formed in Japan, has pushed his plan in talks with congressmen.

Kato showed reporters at the State Department a U. S. customs form he was given when he came to the United States. He pointed to a section which read:

"Do you have more than one gallon of alcoholic beverages or more than 100 cigars, or does the quantity of these articles exceed the combined exemptions of the family group?" Kato said his "family group" went back hundreds of years, and he had no idea how many ancestors smoked cigars. He also wants this country to adopt international road signs, which show such hazards as curves and intersections in simple, standardized pictures.

"When I see 'Left Lane for Airport Only,' he said, 'all I know is that I may be killed.'"

Q. What characteristics should we look for in buying a Siamese cat?

A. This almond-eyed feline with its beauty, agility and inimitable ways has been fascinating man since its origin in Siam in the early 1800s.

The two most popular Siamese colors in this country are the Seal-Point and Blue-Point. A touch of the Orient will invade your home with either selection. The body of the Seal-Point is pale fawn or cream and this shade is complemented by a brown facial mask, ears, legs, paws and tail.

The Blue-Point divides his colors in the same areas, the body being light blue and the accents a darker blue.

All varieties have a line running from the intensity of their clear blue eyes. The Siamese should be slim and muscular. His hind legs stand slightly higher than the front ones, and the paws are small and oval. Further information on the Siamese is available through: Siamese Cat Assn. of America, care of Mrs. Adele Deeths, Box 636, Ross, Calif.

Imperial at Dearborn Starting Changeover

DETROIT (UPI)—Chrysler Corp. will begin to shut down its plants today for 1961 model changeovers, a company spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the first plant to close to prepare for production of 1961 model cars would be the Imperial plant at Dearborn. The remainder of the plants will close on a staggered basis and all of the plants were expected to begin shifting over to 1961 model production by the last of July, the spokesman said. The plants will be closed anywhere from one to three weeks to make the necessary changes.

Between 18,000 and 20,000 Chrysler employees were expected to be laid off for various periods during the model changeovers. Some of the employees will be retained, however, to take inventory in the plants, and some held in the changeover process.

Oh Yes, Do Ask Them to House

By EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is to be married soon. She plans a very small wedding, with no reception. The groom's parents and also his closest relatives live quite a good distance from here.

Of course, his parents will come to the wedding and also some of his closest relatives will drive here to see the wedding.

As there is to be no reception afterwards, I would like to know if it is necessary for me to invite the groom's parents and relatives back to my house after the ceremony for some light refreshments. I have been told that it would be very inopportune not to offer them something after dining driven such a long distance. Will you please give me your opinion.

Also, if you say I should ask them back to my house, would this not cause hard feelings with local friends and relatives?

Answer: You should ask them to your house after the ceremony, and your local friends and relatives will understand that it is not for a reception, but to give the groom's relatives something to eat before their long drive home.

Dear Mrs. Post: When dining in a restaurant, where does a woman put her purse and gloves?

Answer: In her lap, unless her purse is very small and ornamental and there is plenty of room on the table she might put it down near her plate or above it, and keep her gloves in her lap.

Dear Mrs. Post: My father is not living and I have asked my uncle to give me away. I would like to know if he should be given a present similar to the one given the bride?

Answer: No, it is not customary to give a present to a groom who gives the bride away.

Dear Mrs. Post: My son was married about a year ago. He has been invited to his house on several occasions, but the invitations have always come from my son. Not once has his wife called to invite us to anything.

Maybe I am being very finicky, but I think that she should call and do the inviting — at least some of the time, and I am beginning to feel that we are not welcome.

Answer: It would be reassuring and thoughtful of your daughter-in-law to invite you herself some of the time, but she probably does not in the least realize how you feel, and thinks that as you and your son talk together frequently it is simpler to let him do the inviting.

Women's Section French View of Marriage: It's Not Toujours l'Amour

PARIS (NEA) — In France, love and marriage do NOT go together like a horse and carriage.

If that is not surprising enough, it may shock you to learn that the French women generally are looking for marriage—not love.

Marriage is an ultimate goal, a career, a job, while love is well, love.

Only one out of five French girls marries for love; three out of five find married love a bitter disappointment. Aside from love, French girls marry for "happiness," children, escape from parental authority, tradition, the title of "Madame" (Mrs.), protection, companionship, or any combination of these reasons.

GAIL ROBINSON

Mr. and Mrs. Larry C. Robinson of Hospital road, Waterford Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Gail to Roger P. Reynolds, son of the William Reynolds, also of Hospital road, Waterford Township. Miss Robinson's fiancé serves with the U. S. Marine Corps.

This all came out in a Gallic version of the Kinsey report based on a poll conducted by the French Public Opinion Institute and published in the French women's magazine, "Elle."

ANSWER 60 QUESTIONS

Women in all walks of life between 15 and 35 years old each answered 60 questions put to them by the Institute.

It seems that most women in France pursue this marriage thing actively.

In the 20 to 30 age group, 65 million are married; another one-half million are divorced or widowed; and only 1 1/2 million still are looking. So the French women certainly should know something about her chosen profession.

How much they know about love is another question. More than 40 per cent of the women polled believed that a "one and only love" existed; 30 per cent of these claimed to have found it. Most of these "believers" were under 25; those over that age tended to be less romantic.

More than 60 per cent found satisfaction in love; 17 per cent were disillusioned by it. Again, those under 25 found more satisfaction; those over, more disillusionment.

VARY ON STATUS

On what marriage provided, the women were sharply divided. Only 13 per cent found love and happiness; another 11 per cent, a good husband and handsome children; 27 per cent, satisfaction; 18 per cent, some good, some bad things; and 18 per cent, disillusionment.

The poll also shows that the French put the horse before the carriage, believing that the love will follow marriage rather than expecting love to lead to marriage.

But times are changing this old world concept as French women now find themselves in other careers, too. Six million French women work at something besides marriage.

Yet in or out of the marriage field, the French women prove to be French. Seventy per cent said that sexual happiness was a vital factor in marriage. And it would seem again, the younger they were, the more they were satisfied. But a comforting thought to women who are getting older: more than 40 per cent of the women married for more than 46 years said that their husbands loved them as much as they did in the first years of marriage.

ELIZABETH DEGG

A fall wedding is planned by Elizabeth Degg, whose parents Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Degg of West Rutgers avenue have announced her engagement to Francis Vinski. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Stanley Vinski of Oliver street and the late Mr. Vinski.

Abby Says: Put Your Gun Away

All Kinds of Animals ... People, Too

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: How come there are all kinds of laws to protect such dirty, rotten things as dogs? It looks to me like dogs have more rights than people. Just let me do all the things dogs do and I'd be in jail.

Why is a dog's life worth any more than a skunk's or a wolf's or a fox's? A dog should be treated like any other animal that does damage and goes where it doesn't belong.

I think a man should have the right to protect his own property against a dog if he has to take down his gun and start shooting.

ABBY

DOG HATER

DEAR DOG HATER: Whoever heard of a skunk, a wolf or a fox saving a life? Or leading the blind? Or protecting a child? Or guarding a home? Or bringing comfort, affection and companionship to a master? Better leave your gun where it is, my friend.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for three months to a man who can do everything I can do — but he can do it better and in half the time. He's a much better cook than I am. He loves to wash and iron.

And his baking could take a prize. He was the eldest of 12 children and his mother was a widowed invalid, which accounts for it.

I hate housework, but I love business. I had six girls and two men in my department before I quit my job to get married. (My husband was one of the men in my department; my salary almost doubled his.)

Abby, would people think we were out of our minds if I went back to work and my husband quit his job to keep house? My boss keeps calling me. My husband says he would like the arrangement if it weren't for what people would say. We'd like your opinion.

MARY AND MOREY

DEAR M. and M.: All a marriage needs to succeed is two people whose common objective is making each other happy. Don't worry about what "people" say. Do as you please.

DEAR ABBY: I was employed by a well-known firm for 21 years. I achieved a fine position and excellent pay. Believing a single woman I was frequently invited to dinners and theaters by some traveling business associates. Everything was aboveboard, and I never saw the inside of a hotel room.

Imagine my horror when I was called as a witness in a divorce case! I had had about 12 dates with this married man over a period of two years.

They could find nothing immoral in our relationship, but the questions put to me were humiliating and insulting. I'll never get over it.

My firm "suggested" I resign, which I did gladly, as I couldn't face my coworkers after all that nasty publicity.

Maybe printing this letter will put the brakes on some unsuspecting girl who dates married business acquaintances. I wish I had had such a warning.

A crown of seed pearls secured the shoulder veil of silk illusion. The bride wore a single strand of pearls and held a cascade of stephanotis and white roses.

WEARS PALE BLUE

Diane Hillman, maid of honor, wore pale blue silk organza over taffeta, with a wide band of Chantilly lace edging her ballerina-length skirt. Pink roses comprised her cascade bouquet.

The bride's niece Kathleen Corbin, also in blue organza, carried a nosegay of pink roses.

Phillip Schuricht was best man and the bride's nephew Keith Corbin, ring bearer.

Before leaving on a brief Canadian honeymoon, the new Mrs. Grogan donned a light blue linen sheath dress. On their return, the newlyweds will live on South Johnson avenue.

Name Guthrie McClintic 2nd Will-O-Way 'Master'

Director-Producer Guthrie McClintic will be the "master" at Will-O-Way Theater's summer term, it was announced.

Second in the theater's series of master classes, the appearance of McClintic is anticipated by local thespians with the same degree of excitement they felt for the local appearance of Basil Rathbone in May.

The master technique permits students to work over a period of weeks, polishing performances to as near a professional level as they can. Climax is the appearance for several nights of a noted theater figure to observe and constructively criticize the students' effort.

EXTENSIVE IN EUROPE
Largely used in Europe with music students, the master class technique has been pioneered in this area by Director Celia Merrill Turner as part of the dramatic training offered at Will-O-Way.

The summer course includes acting and directing workshops, with special emphasis on oral interpretation and dialects. Pantomime and mime (the serious study of the art of the clown) will also receive special attention at this session.

Classes for all ages, adults to young children, are being formed.

Registrations are being accepted through Tuesday for the six-week course.

Don't Try Hurrying Your Child Authority Claims Some Leisure Time Is Beneficial

The wheels of family living are likely to sound some loud screeches when the school schedule has stopped and summer time freedom is here.

The children of the house want to sleep late, dawdle through their breakfast, and spend a large amount of time in what looks like aimless activity.

Before you decide this is a messy state of affairs, and start laying down the law, listen to the advice of Miss Josephine Frank, staff member of the Child Study Assn. of America.

"Children need time to waste," she says. "But parents get nervous if they see their children doing nothing. It's partly our Puritan heritage which tells us idleness is a sin."

"We deplore unscheduled time as a waste, and don't realize idle time can really be an absorption time, a time of growth."

Another reason for parental jitters over idleness results from the fact that life is so crammed full of knowledge. "There is so much new knowledge, more than anyone can ever accommodate," explains Miss Frank. "The parent himself feels pushed to keep abreast of this flood of new material, and hence urges his child to do more, learn more."

"Actually, the busy parent is jealous of his child's shining hours of idleness."

Mrs. Frank suggests a casual approach to summer days instead of a highly regulated summer.

"Most children need unscheduled time for unsupervised adventure," she says. "But they also need suggestions and materials for their creations."

"They need house room, and parents should cheerfully put up with a certain amount of confusion and disorder."

"A little girl who wants to cook is going to make the kitchen a mess. But nevertheless she should be allowed to cook."

Adventuring into new fields may lead a non-reading child back to the library, Miss Frank says. His summer-time projects may inspire him to read up on these activities and interests, particularly if there's a bit of parental encouragement at this point.

Eskimo Babies

(UPD) The highlight in fashions for infants has a domestic flavor—Alaskan, that is. The little ones will be sporting hooded car coats of white pile, lined with satin. These are trimmed at the shoulders with pastel and white beadwork, giving babies the Eskimo look.

A reception at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club in Waterford followed the marriage of Shirley May Tipolt to Charles Wesley Tindall Jr. Saturday evening in Community United Presbyterian Church, Drayton Plains.

Candelabra and standards of white chrysanthemums and gladioli graced the chancel where the Rev. Walter J. Tegunissen Jr. read the ceremony before 200 guests.

Parents of the newlyweds are the Henry Tipolts of Seabolt street, Drayton Plains; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Tindall of West Walton boulevard, Drayton Plains.

The bride's gown of rose point pattern white Chantilly lace featured cap sleeves and a neckline edged with peacock. Four lace panels were set into the bouffant floor-length skirt of accordion-pleated net over tulle.

Fingertip veil held by a lace crown, and the bridegroom's gift of a single strand of pearls completed the bride's ensemble. White roses and Stephanotis comprised her cascade bouquet.

Mrs. Duane Brown, her sister's matron of honor, appeared in an Empire dress of blue silk organza over tulle. Her fan bouquet of pink roses and blue carnations was streamered in pink.

Bridesmaids, Mrs. Everett Beach of Waterford, and the bridegroom's sister Susan, also in blue organza, held fan arrangements of white roses and blue carnations with blue streamers.

Everett Beach was best man. The bride's brother Harold and MRS. CHARLES W. TINDALL JR.

Roger Tindall, brother of the bridegroom seated guests.

Before leaving on a Northern Michigan honeymoon, the new Mrs. Tindall donned pale yellow linen with yellow embroidery on the white bodice. They will live on Paula court, Waterford.

Mrs. Tipolt was attired in turquoise nylon over tulle and the mother of the bridegroom chose beige lace over satin, with white accessories.

Concern About Three Factors Brings Beauty

(NEA) A silvery blue-eyed blonde named Sarah Thom has become, in three years, one of New York's top fashion models. Sarah does not practice the look of bored hauteur which most fashion models affect. Summer's High Humidity Hard on Your Hair

(NEA)—In the high humidity of summer, things happen to your hair. It either goes limp or frizzes up. Sometimes it contrives to do both at once. Fortunately, there is something you can do to prevent it looking its worst on very hot days or at the seaside. The first is to have your hair cut a shorter length than you wear in the winter months. Have it styled simply so that you can set it yourself each night.

Next, equip yourself with some chiffon head scarves in pretty pastels. These come in helmet shapes now with either tie or snap on. They're intended to keep you pretty and in order in an open car, at the seaside or just on a generally breezy day.

Old Advice to Frosh Still Valid

ANN ARBOR—The problems of the university freshman haven't changed much in a half-century.

Famous novelist Lloyd C. Douglas ("The Robe," "Magnificent Obsession" etc.), then pastor of First Congregational Church in Ann Arbor, penned a letter of advice for University of Michigan freshmen in 1916 that would do nicely for the class to enter this fall.

The novelist-minister's advice to freshmen is included in a collection of personal materials in the Michigan Historical Collections at the U. of M. The collection contains the original manuscript of "The Robe."

Douglas' advice to freshmen reads in part:

(1) Don't be stampeded— "These are trying days for you, what with scurrying about to locate suitable quarters and a good boarding place, learning to find your way on campus, undergoing the perplexities of registration, the panic at the bookshop, the effort to associate new names and faces, the problem of choosing with which organizations to unite—plus the anxiety about heavy expenses—you are excited, bewildered and fatigued."

"Don't allow your poise to be stamped!" In a few days the university machinery will have settled down to a steady grind and all this chaos will be reduced to order. "Keep your head. Do one thing at a time. Do it deliberately."

BE WHAT YOU ARE

(2) Be a freshman — Being snubbed by superiors and roughed up a bit by one's equals is excellent discipline, Douglas says. "Keep sweet! These other people meet the same problems, and they lived through it."

(3) Strive for culture — "The University should be able to do considerably more for you than teach you how to earn your bread and butter. . . . Don't be in too great a hurry to specialize."

(4) Make acquaintances quickly — People are important. (5) Make friends slowly—Don't select a roommate in 10 minutes.

(6) Get to work at once—"Two or three days loafing may spoil a whole course."

(7) Be decent to your landlady and don't lose your good manners.

(8) Don't neglect the people at home—Mother won't care if the football team wins a game this season, but she will "want to know about your experiences."

(9) Fraternities—"You are no more justified in joining a fraternity just for the sake of being a 'fraternity man' than you would be safe in marrying just anybody to enjoy the distinction of being a 'husband.' Look 'em over."

(10) Be loyal to the university — "At registration you are as much a part of the University of Michigan as you will ever be."

(11) Take an interest in religion — "Don't be a 'sermon taster' or an 'ecclesiastical vagabond,' roaming about from one church to another."

Don't Cover Furs

(UPI) — Never leave furs in covers or bags — plastic, cloth or paper — for long periods of time. Without freely circulating air, furs will dry, the tips will get crushed and eventually break off.

Wed in Garden Setting

Tropical foliage and white gladioli created a garden setting in the home of the Georgia Valentine Laughlins for the marriage of their daughter Carol Sue to Gerald Richard Cummings, Saturday in Midland.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Alva Cummings of East Kennett road.

Vows and rings were exchanged before the Rev. Henry D. Cole.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a scoop-necked sleeveless ballarina-length gown of white chiffon worn with a jacket featuring three-quarter length puffed sleeves.

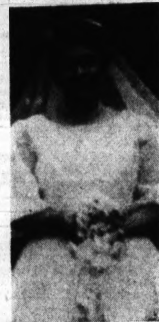

JULIET-TYPE HEADPIECE

Her Juliet-type braided headpiece was trimmed with pearls. Iridescent sequins held a shoulder-length cloud veil of silk illusion.

Pink and white miniature roses fashioned the bridal bouquet.

Melon chiffon for honor maid Diane Oakley of Midland featured a satin cummerbund. Her flowers were white carnations.

Richard DeBerger was best man. For a honeymoon in Northern Michigan and Canada, the new Mrs. Cummings wore a black polka-dot dress.

MRS. GERALD R. CUMMINGS

ashed cotton jacket dress with white accessories.

The newlyweds will live on East Kennett road.

Beige accessories accented Mrs. Laughlin's sheath dress of navy linen. The bridegroom's mother appeared in pink lace with matching hat.

Cleanliness Is Biggest Factor for 'Cool Look'

(NEA) — A good many women look hot and untidy all summer long while others maintain a neat, fresh, cool look. There are sound reasons for this cool look.

It stems, first of all, from absolute cleanliness. This means a warm, scented soapy bath each day even in hot weather. A cold shower alone won't do the trick. It comes from consistent use of a good deodorant and fresh lingerie daily.

There are other things: simple cotton or linen dresses in fresh, clear colors. Hair that's cut fairly short and kept shining clean. Light make-up in natural colors. And a scent that's flower-fresh, light and appealing.

There are two ways to achieve a scent that feels cool to you: keep a bottle of cologne in the refrigerator or put a bottle into a bowl of ice. Then splash the refreshing, cool scent over your arms and wrists.

Wed in St. Benedict Church

Couple on Northern Trip

A wedding dinner at the Elks Temple followed the vows of Ann Florence Rupert, and Earl Jay Sedam pledged before the Rev. Robert Wyzkowski Saturday noon in St. Benedict Church.

The George Ruperts, parents of the bride, opened their home on South Winding drive, Waterford Township, for the evening reception. Receiving with them was the bridegroom's mother Mrs. C. L. Sedam of Oakmont street, Auburn Heights.

French silk illusion fashioned the bride's waist-length butterfly veil held by a crown of lace and pearls. Her gown of white Chantilly lace over silk tulle was ballerina-length, with fitted bodice, scoop neckline and three-quarter sleeves.

She held a white Bible, a gift of the bridegroom, topped with white roses.

Nancy Rupert, her sister's honor maid, and bridesmaid Mrs. John Nelson of Waterford wore bouffant yellow linen. Crowns of white and yellow daisies with stand-out veils of heavy netting matched the attendants' cascade bouquets.

To begin the honeymoon in Northern Michigan, the new Mrs. Sedam donned a black sheath of textured cotton, black hat and white accessories. The couple will live in Auburn Heights.

Mrs. Rupert dressed in light blue silk organza received the guests and Mrs. Sedam's selection was navy polished cotton worn with beige accessories.

Smart Woman Ignores Rumor About Perfume

There are many old wives' tales about the use of perfume. One rumor claims that perfume worn in the morning shows bad taste. Another says that perfume should never be applied to cloth. But the wise woman recognizes these fairy tales for what they are.

Here are some tips on the use of perfume by the makers of a famous French perfume: Perfume is never in bad taste if it has been chosen to suit you, the occasion and the season of the year.

The only way to decide if a perfume is right for you is to test it on the skin. What may be heavenly on your best friend is not necessarily good on you.

If a scent calls to mind gala nights and glittering ball gowns, it is improper to wear with before — noon casual clothes.

Some perfumes are generally proper for any age and for all occasions. They are youthful scents, flowery, with an exotic edge.

Now — about fabric — a drop of perfume never hurt a handkerchief, and it creates a lovely aura every time a woman opens her handbag.

MRS. EARL JAY SEDAM

Designing Ways Seen in Hawaii

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — A Beverly Hills designer predicts the average housewife, either from Main Street, U.S.A. or Paris, France, soon will look to Hawaii for many fashions.

One big reason, said Waldt Clarke—"The French keep putting more and more clothes on women and the Hawaiians keep taking them off."

Clarke, who happens to design Hawaiian clothes, gave the rest of the world three to five years to catch up to the mode of dress in the 50th state.

"Hawaiian fashions already have taken over the Riviera," he said, after a tour of Europe. "Everywhere we went we noticed the silks, the bright colors and gay prints that are identified with Hawaii at these very chic resorts."

Clarke predicted that in the years to come, "Mamma will wear a muu muu, a utility type Hawaiian version of the Mother Hubbard."

"She'll wear it around the house and even to the market when she goes shopping. She will relax and entertain in a teatime or an oriental robe or even a sarong."

"She will wear a formal mandarin gown and the materials from which these garments will be made will be bright silk and brocades."

Get Attention With Subtlety

(NEA) — Teen-age girls who think they'll attract boys by wearing layers of make-up, talking loudly and giggling shrilly are really out to hunch in the popularity department. For these are methods calculated to frighten the boys away.

You can have fun, look pretty and get all the attention you crave without being obvious. Tone down the make-up and try out a hair style that isn't a penny tall. Try looking just a bit different (not much) from the other girls.

Leave the eye make-up to your favorite movie star, who probably needs it. You don't. Use powder and lipstick, but use them well. Have your hair expertly cut and teach yourself to set it.

Remember this: when you look pretty, you feel confident.

Popular teacher of songs and games, Minnie Churchwell, right, of Bloomfield avenue, has been named Volunteer of the Month by the Central Volunteer Bureau. Here she teaches an action-motion song to Blue Birds from

But It Lengthens Career Life

Many Don't Want to Dye

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Mr. V. George, hair stylist, devotes much of his time and effort to the career woman. He knows that business is not happily inclined toward employing women past 40.

Employers are beginning to realize that it is foolish to judge a future employee by her age rather than her ability and experience.

but a great deal of age consciousness still remains. MAY SAVE CAREER
Therefore, women in business should look as youthful as possible. Many career women are past 40 (some of the most famous ones long past that age) but they appear to be 10 to 15 years younger.

As Mr. George will tell you, hair coloring plays an important part in this deception. Many a career has been saved by a clever dye job.

Some women feel older because of grey hair while others are not bothered by it. The former should have their hair dyed because of the psychological lift it gives them. Physicians and psychiatrists often send their patients to a beauty salon for a make-over when they feel that this will have a happy psychological impact on the woman.

ONE SHADE LIGHTER

Mr. George believes that the mature woman should have her hair dyed at least one shade lighter than her original coloring. The dark shades are too harsh and emphasize any wrinkles. He calls attention to the fact that she may have to change her make-up some to fit her new hair shade.

He also warns not to judge your new hair coloring immediately. It takes 24 hours for the true color to come through. Natural hair oil and oxidation have an effect.

To dye or not to dye? That is the question confronting many women. Certainly the gamble has been taken out of hair coloring. Today this can be done so expertly that it looks entirely natural and the hair is left soft and lovely.

If your hair has even a slight natural curl and you're setting it with hobby pins in small curls, the result is probably frizz. Try those new flat metal clips and make larger curls of the hair. You'll find that the result is a softer, more natural curl.

If your hair seems oily and stringy after five days, you should shampoo it every four days. For there is no set rule about how often you need a shampoo.

Some girls really need a shampoo only at an interval of eight days. Others need one often. Experiment to find out the best time lapse for your hair.

If you would like to have my leaded "Framing Your Face Attractively" hair styling send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 31. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Minnie Churchwell Honored

Student Is Top Volunteer

A talented but modest high school senior has been named Volunteer of the Month by the Central Volunteer Bureau of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Slender Minnie Churchwell is a soft-spoken program aide in the Campfire Girls, a member agency of the United Fund.

Daughter of the Joseph Churchwells of Bloomfield avenue, she has worked with younger girls at the summer day camp in the organization for three years.

Each year, the youngsters ask their leaders if Minnie will be there—remembering her and her "bag of songs and games." The 300 day campers take back the songs and games to their local units, sharing Minnie indirectly with youngsters not attending the day camp.

In addition to her work as a volunteer with younger girls, Minnie is an active member of Pontiac Central High School's "Playcrafters." She was a member of the 1960-1961 cast of "The King and I" and sings with the Selective Girls Chorus at the school. She is chairman of the sopranos.

An active member of her church, Minnie is also president of the Methodist Youth Federation of the St. John Methodist Church.

Gang Problem Exaggerated, Teens Claim

By EUGENE GILBERT
 Worried about teen-age gangs? Our young people say the problem has been greatly exaggerated, and they're up in arms about it.
 Where gangs do exist, teen-agers say stricter discipline and punishment is the solution. Of nearly 1,000 interviewed across the country, seven-eighths agreed that their schools, whether in big cities or small towns, had no gang problem.

Twelve per cent of the young people did report gangs in their schools.
 They blamed the teen-age toughs for hot rodding, gang warfare, disobedience in class and giving the school a bad name.

Suggested remedies: tougher discipline and punishment.
 One dissenter on this was Ed Carver, 17, of Crawfordsville, Ind., who says, "They aren't real bad, just rowdy."

Most young people—63 per cent—say their schools have no rules against dress associated with gangs, such as leather jackets and long haircuts. Teeners divide on the value of such school controls. 51 per cent saying they neither help nor harm the gangs. Some 36 per cent feel such rules are good while 13 per cent say they accomplish nothing.

We found that 41 per cent of the teen-agers have social clubs such as fraternities and sororities in their schools while 56 per cent do not.

Boys are more likely than girls, and only 35 per cent of the girls, to be "joiners." Where there are members, such clubs, 62 per cent of the boys and only 35 per cent of the young Men 'Don't Gossip,' but Still Know Plenty

RUTH MILLETT
 Since women do the gossiping and men wouldn't stoop to anything so low, how does it happen that a wife has such a hard time ever really surprising her husband with her tidbits of news?
 She: "Mabel called me up today and told me that Ed and Jean are getting a divorce. I can hardly believe it. Aren't you surprised?"
 He: "Nope, I heard they were having trouble some time ago. As a matter of fact, Jean has already filed for divorce."

She: "Our new neighbor, you know, the young divorcee three houses down, was at the beauty shop today and I overheard her saying..."
 He: "Before you go any further you might as well get your facts straight. She isn't a divorcee. She's a widow, I happen to know because Joe sold her that house."

She: "I'll bet you'll never guess who is driving around in a new foreign sports car. It's some kind of a French car, I think. Anyway it's real expensive."
 He: "You're not talking about Joe, are you? Well, it's not French. It's British — and he got a real good buy on it."

She: "I don't see how Bill and Helen can afford a trip to Europe after buying that new house and getting all new furniture for it. She must have money of her own."

He: "I'll bet all the women are talking about that. But it just so happens that Bill made some very good investments in real estate. I know for a fact he sold one piece of land for enough for three trips to Europe."

The question is: Where do our men, who never gossip, pick up all their information?
 And why if they aren't interested in other people's business, do they always seem to know so much about it?

Maybe some of you men readers can explain this strange state of affairs.

For a brighter, happier marriage, send for a copy of Ruth Millett's new booklet, "How to Have a Happy Husband." Send 25 cents for each copy to Ruth Millett, Reader Service, (The Pontiac Press), P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 13, N. Y.

people feel social clubs harm students. These mentioned such things as "promoting snobbishness" and "cutting down individual independence."

Thirty-four per cent of the boys and girls think clubs are helpful in social life. The majority—61 per cent—do not consider them either helpful or harmful.

We found that 57 per cent of the teen-agers believe social clubs could be more helpful if they were effectively controlled through faculty advisers, school approved functions and scholarship standards.

Of the 19 per cent who disagreed, Roberta Footlick, 16, of New Orleans says that even with school control, the clubs "would still be discriminating."

The young people who do belong to clubs say most of them—55 per cent—do some charity work. This includes visiting hospitals, orphanages, making up Christmas baskets and raising money for charity.

In talking to teen-agers, we found them angry about reports of juvenile delinquency. They don't like being linked with what they consider a handful of misdirected youths.

Salli Nixon, 15, of Crawfordsville, Ind., put it this way: "Gangs are usually the ones connected with juvenile delinquency and some adults feel they represent all teen-agers."

The young people were outspoken in criticizing gangs, saying they lead to the dangerous power of mob rule which results from the feeling of safety in numbers.

Workshop Registry Near End

Tuesday is the final registration day for the first course of a theater arts workshop for children and teens conducted by Vanguard Playhouse, Detroit's only resident professional theater.

Designed for youngsters aged 7 to 17, the workshop offers training in creative dramatics, children's theater and interpretive movement for the stage.

The first course runs from July 6 to 30 and the second, from Aug. 3 to 27.

Dr. William A. Gregory, Vanguard's managing director, heads the workshop staff.

Have short ribs cut from end of a standing rib roast for an extra meal. Brown the ribs and then braise with a lot of sliced onions and as little water as possible.

Short? No Plaids

(NEA) — A short woman must avoid plaids in her wardrobe, and if she wears a checked fabric, the checks should be so small as to be almost invisible. She should also stay away from flamboyant floral prints.

When you are sprinkling bread or roll dough with poppy seeds, put the seeds in a salt shaker and you'll be able to distribute them evenly.

Teens Put Up Reward for School Vandalism

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio (U.S.)—Students at Jefferson Union High School offered their help and money to track down vandals who damaged their school bus and chopped down trees in front of the high school.

Principal K. W. Christopher says high school clubs posted a $100 reward for the apprehension and conviction of the vandals.

UP Phone Co. Given OK on Dial System Borrowing

LANSING (UPI)—The Upper Peninsula Telephone Co. has been given permission by the Public Service Commission to borrow

$75,000 to replace its hand-cranked system with a dial system. The company has its main offices in Wallace, Memuminee County. It recently bought the Marinette Telephone Co. and the Nadeau Township Telephone Co. and wanted to contract with General Dynamics Corp. for a modernization program, a commission spokesman said. A man found $100 hidden in a refrigerator he bought at auction. Easy way to get cold cash.

LPGA Tourney Starts Friday

Ladies Pro Golf Meet to Be Played Through July 4th

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP) — Mickey Wright of Bonita, Calif., and other long hitters will have an advantage in the sixth championship tourney of the Ladies Professional Golf Assn., Friday through July 4th at the hilly Sheraton Country Club course.

The 6,533-yard par 74 spread is an attractive piece of scenery after recent heavy rains. The lush fairways, however, will give little roll.

Marilyn Smith, LPGA president and the tourney's touring woman pro, called the field of 29 the strongest yet in the youngest U.S. national tourney. They'll play for $5,000 in addition to the association trophy.

Entrants include Joyce Ziske, Waterford, Wis., who defeated defending LPGA champion Betty Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C., in the Western Open playoff last weekend, and all other winners of tourneys on the ladies' pro circuit this year.

Miss Ziske, Miss Rawls, Louise Suggs of Atlanta and Fay Crocker of Uruguay, have won two apiece.

Waterskier Drowns

FORT ERIE, Ont. (AP) — Peter Daretz, 24-year-old water skier from South Bend, Ind., drowned at a Lake Erie resort Saturday. Daretz and Peter Schmidt, 24, of Buffalo, N.Y., were being towed by the same boat when both fell. Schmidt was rescued.

Northern Hurler Signs Contract With Cleveland

Pontiac Northern baseball star Dick Launspen has signed with the Cleveland Indians for $5,000 cash and a $1,000 contingent contract.

According to his 1961 contract he will go to Daytona Beach for rookie camp next spring and then be assigned to a C or D club.

The eighteen-year-old left-handed pitcher had a record at PNH of seven wins and one loss this year. Last year his record was 5-2.

He pitched 64½ innings and struck out 119.

Rademacher TKO Victor Over Clark

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Pete Rademacher, once king of world amateur heavyweights, Wednesday night administered a brutal beating to Lamar Clark, erstwhile kayo artist of the pros, before scoring a technical knockout in the 10th and final round.

The massacre between the 1956 Olympic titleholder from Columbus, Ga., and the Cedar City, Utah, batter was a followup of NBA middleweight champ Gene Frazier's 12th round TKO over Carmen Basilio.

Rademacher played it cautiously, even after he flattened Clark. Clark was so groggy at the end of the first round that he didn't know the way to his stool.

Cardinals Win, Braves Gain Half Game

McDaniel Is Cards' 'Saver'

By The Associated Press
No one's calling the St. Louis Cardinals cheap, you understand, but they set aside just one locker in the clubhouse for more than half of their pitching staff. It's the one with Lindy McDaniel's name on it.

The lean right-hander has figured in 17 of their 33 victories—saving 14 and winning three. And he's streaking along with an 0.64 earned run average, allowing just three runs in 42 1/3 innings on release.

The one-time $30,000 bonus kid hung up his seventh consecutive save Wednesday night, nailing Rookie Ray Sadecki's second major league victory in a 5-2 decision over Cincinnati that put the Cards back in fourth place in the National League.

Second place Milwaukee, 2 1/2 games of the lead, blew a chance to gain ground—splitting a doubleheader with the last place Chicago Cubs. The Braves lost the opener 3-2 in the ninth, then won the second game 3-1. First place Pittsburgh and San Francisco were rained out.

Los Angeles tied Cincinnati for fifth place by sweeping Philadelphia 6-3 and 5-2 in a two-night doubleheader.

McDaniel, who has accounted for seven of the Cards' last 11 victories, extended his latest shut-out string through 11 2/3 innings with a 1-2-3 job after Wally Post opened the ninth with a homer off Sadecki (2-3). That was only the fourth hit off the young lefty, whose other victory was a three-hit shutout over the Reds.

Stan Musial, bouncing back from the bench after a long slump singled home the Cards' first two runs in the third off loser Jay Hook (6-7). The man, now batting .364 and swinging in the cleanup spot, has seven hits in his last 12 trips.

A pinch single by Bob Will won the first game for the Cubs, tagging rookie Ron Piche (2-3) with the loss in relief of Bob Buhl, who gave up four of Chicago's six hits. Southpaw Dick Ellsworth (4-3) won it with a five-hitter.

The Braves also had only five hits in the second game, but three of them were home, two by Joe Adcock. After Hank Aaron hit his 18th home run in the second inning, Adcock broke a 1-1 tie in relief of Don Drysdale. Dick Farrell (3-2) was the loser in relief. Winner Sandy Koufax (3-8) and reliever Ed Roebuck held the Phils to four hits in the second game, with Sandy pitching a two-hit shutout until the seventh. A four-run fourth beat Gene Conley (3-4), making his first start in three weeks after some back trouble. Johnny Roseboro singled the winning run across after Norm Larker extended his hitting streak to 14 games with a two-run single. Larker took over the NL lead with .350.

The four Dodgers pitchers, who stopped Pancho Herrera's hit streak at 20 games, fanned 24, tying the major league record for a doubleheader.

Seven Hits in 12 Trips

Musial on Hitting Spree

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan Musial, day night was 2-for-4 including a nearing 40 and relegated to the bench, has been acting like a youngster since restored to the St. Louis Cardinals line-up and today there's even talk he might hit 300 again.

Since Sunday, a day after he got a starting nod from Manager Solly Hemus, Musial has clubbed seven hits in 12 at-bats. He went 2-for-4 Sunday, 3-for-4 Tuesday including two doubles, and Wednesday.

Yankee Builds Par-3 Layout

Driving Range With 50 Mat Tees to Be Ready July 15th

Ralph Yankee, who resigned as head pro of Indianwood Country Club prior to the current season, is back in golf circles—this time a part owner of an 18-hole, par-3 course now being built in the Miracle Mile shopping center.

Along with builder William Pulte, Yankee acquired 40 acres on the Telegraph-Franklin Road area behind the shopping center, where he will open 50 driving range tees July 15th in the start of operation.

Another 50 grass tees will be added and the 18 hole course is expected to be ready by next summer.

In the winter, an ice skating rink will be built on the range. The par-3 holes will range from 90 to 180 yards and light standards will make night golf available. The clubhouse is expected to be ready when the first 50 tees of the driving range open July 15th.

Trial Saturday for DRC 'Mile'

DETROIT (AP)—Some of the nation's top horses will be in Detroit Saturday to compete in the $10,000 Michigan Mile trial.

The mile and 1-16 run for three-year-olds and up will be a tune-up for these horses planning to run in the July 9, $50,000-odd Michigan Mile.

Among the horses expected Saturday are Emil Dolce's Manana Mauler, winner of the $25,000 Stytle Handicap at Belmont June 22; Olymar and Alhambra of the Fred W. Hooper Stable, and Jerome Davidson's Pippity.

The results of the trial will determine if many of the owners will put up the $500 starting fee for the mile on the following Saturday.

Hank vs. Zalazar at U. of D. Tonight

DETROIT (UPI)—Henry Hank, second ranked middleweight contender and title aspirant, meets Victor Zalazar of Argentina tonight in a rain-postponed, 10-round bout at University of Detroit stadium.

It will be Hank's first fight before a hometown crowd in more than two years.

The card, part of the International Freedom Festival here, also includes two other 10-rounders. One is between heavyweight Wayne Bethea of New York and George Moore of Detroit, and the other between welterweights Billy Flannery of New York and Ronnie Cohen of New Rochelle, N. Y.

The bouts, originally scheduled for last Tuesday, were rained out.

1,450 Golfers Entered in USGA Junior Event

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. Golf Assn. Wednesday closed its books on entries for the U. S. Junior Amateur Golf Championship with approximately 1,450 names on the list.

The tournament will be held at Millburn Golf and Country Club, Overland, Park, Kan., near Kansas City Aug. 3-6. The field will be cut to 128 for the match play championship in 54 qualifying tournaments.

Man Convicted for Trying to Bribe Pitcher

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A former cafe operator has been convicted of offering Philadelphia Phillies pitcher Humberto Robinson $1,500 to lose a game last year.

Baseball observers said they believed it marked the first time someone outside of baseball had been convicted of attempting to bribe a major league player.

A jury of seven men and five women deliberated less than 30 minutes Wednesday before returning the verdict against Harold (Benny) Friedman, 42.

Minnesota Man Jumps From 5th to 3rd in Archery Meet

GRAYLING, Mich. (AP)—Bob Kadlec, the defending champion from Rochester, Minn., moved up from fifth to third Wednesday in the men's freestyle competition in the 15th National Field Archery Championships.

Both defending champions in the women's freestyle and the women's instinctive competition continued to lead their divisions. But Carl Heinrich of Richmond, Mich., the 1959 winner, was bogged down in fifth place in the men's instinctive shooting.

Freestylers are permitted to use sights on their bows; instinctive competitors are not permitted sights.

James Mackey, a 25-year-old bowman from Bradford, Pa., maintained his lead in the men's freestyle with a total of 1,992 points through the first four rounds. Bob Pender of Donner's Grove, Ill., was second with 1,978.

Kadlec had 1,960. James Palmer, a 40-year-old instructor from Dansville, N.Y., led the men's instinctive division with 1,804 points.

Cleo Roberson of Samaria, Mich., the defending champ, kept out front in the women's freestyle, with 1,742 points.

Pontiac Skaters to Host Regionals

Rolladium Site of Four-Day Championships

Over 500 Contestants From Midwest Aim for National Spots

Pontiac Rolladium on M-39 will be the site of the Great Lakes Regional Roller Skating championships to be held Friday July 1, July 4th.

The state champions and those who took 1-2 or 3 positions in their respective state championships have qualified for the regionals.

More than 500 contestants from the states of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin will be entered with the winners qualifying for the national championships.

The Pontiac host skaters, winners of the state title recently in Detroit by an overwhelming margin, are highly favored in the regionals.

A total of 54 events will be held with opening ceremonies Friday at 9:00 a.m. Starting time each day will be 9:00 a.m. and continue into the evening.

Strongest competition for the Pontiac squad should come from contestants from Ohio.

The Nationals will be held July 23-31 in Little Rock, Arkansas.

Still No Russian Entry in Olympics as Deadline Near

ROME (AP) — The deadline for entering the 1960 Olympic Games is midnight tonight and the Soviet Union still hasn't submitted its official entry blank.

"What can we do?" complained an official of the Italian Olympic Committee. "If all the entry forms aren't in by the deadline we will accept the laggards, too — provided it doesn't take them too long."

Sixty countries had entered by today — the most that has participated in any modern Olympic Games. The Rome Games start Aug. 25.

U.S. Olympic Swimmer Is Seriously Injured

OXFORD, England (AP) — Joan Rosazzo, a medal winner on the U.S. 1956 Olympic swimming team, Wednesday was reported "pretty seriously ill" of head injuries suffered in a fall off a bicycle.

The 23-year-old schoolteacher from Torrington, Conn., fell off the bike at White Hill, near Henley-on-Thames. Her head struck the curb. She was admitted first to Battle Hospital at Reading and then was transferred to Oxford's Radcliffe Infirmary.

LOOK MAN, NO SNOW — Dan Harbick of Manistiquie doesn't need snow to ski. The 23-year-old ski promoter built a slide and padded it with broom bristles, a unique way of skiing in the summer which he saw done while in the service in Germany. The slide is in Munising. On July 3rd, thirty jumpers will compete on the slide.

Propose $2 Million for Stadium Seats

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore City Park Board proposed Wednesday that two million dollars be spent to put more seats in Memorial Stadium and give every fan a back rest.

The stadium, completed in 1954 at a cost of slightly more than six million dollars, now seats 47,778 in the American League. The Colts increase capacity to 57,557 for their National Football League games by putting bleachers on the field.

The park board proposal would add 8,000 to 10,000 permanent seats. This would be done by extending the upper decks all the way around the horseshoe shaped stadium.

Ex-Georgia Grigger Dies

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Robert L. McWhorter, former Athens mayor, lawyer and a University of Georgia football hero of two generations ago, died at his home early Wednesday after an illness of several weeks. He was 68.

A halfback, he was the first Georgia player to gain national fame. He played 60 minutes of every game during each of his four years of 1910-13. He scored 61 touchdowns and led the Bulldogs to four victories over Georgia Tech.

Scuba Classes Offered at YMCA

Another of a series of skin diving and scuba classes will be offered by the Pontiac YMCA starting Monday, July 11th. The course will cover five weeks.

Bill Jackson of the Oakland County sheriff's department will instruct the course, teaching basic fundamentals and proper techniques.

The cost for the course for Y members is $15 and for nonmembers $20.

Limited registrations are available, and they can be made by calling John Moreau, director of aquatics at the YMCA, FE 5-6116.

Earlier in the day Boston owner Tom Yawkey, General Manager Bucky Harris and field boss Mike Higgins had decided to act against Delock but withdrew when the league stepped into the picture.

"I made a mistake," Delock told Higgins. "I'm sorry. It will never happen again."

Tom Heinsohn, former Holy Cross star, paced the Boston Celtics in the recent basketball playoffs by averaging 21.8 points in 13 games.

Tribe Stays Close With Yanks

By The Associated Press

Dick Stigman, the rookie who went sour as a reliever, has been nothing but a winner now that the Cleveland Indians have given him another chance as a starting pitcher.

The lanky lefty followed up a four-hit victory over the New York Yankees with a 5-3 job on Baltimore Wednesday night, giving up just six singles as the Indians edged ahead of the Orioles into second place in the American League race.

Cleveland is one percentage point above the Orioles, three behind the Yankees, who have lost three straight and are a half-length ahead in the "games behind" column since they've played more games. They're 1 1/2 games back of first place New York. The Indians trail New York by two.

The Yankees stayed with it by whipping Kansas City 10-0 as Roger Maris belted two more home runs and Jim Coates won his 13th in a row, nine this season, with a three-hitter.

Last place Boston defeated Detroit 4-2. Chicago's game at Washington was rained out.

Stigman, who beat the Orioles and Jerry Walker (2-1) with a two-run single in the fourth inning, now has a 4-4 record—3-4 as a starter and 1-3 in relief. He had five saves in relief, but had lost three in a row when Manager Joe Gordon gave him his first start in a month on June 18. Stigman was charged with an unearned run, but allowed Boston just one hit over seven innings in that one, won 2-1 by Cleveland and reliever, Ted Bowsfield. He's been a regular starter since.

Against the Birds, who have lost five in a row at home, Stigman

walked out a dozen, but fanned five—for a total of 20 strikeouts in three starts.

Coates, getting his usual support from the Yankees, put away the first low-hit game and second shutout of his somewhat fantastic 15-1 big game.

He had five saves in relief, but had lost three in a row when Manager Joe Gordon gave him his first start in a month on June 18. Stigman was charged with an unearned run, but allowed Boston just one hit over seven innings in that one, won 2-1 by Cleveland and reliever, Ted Bowsfield. He's been a regular starter since.

Against the Birds, who have lost five in a row at home, Stigman

walked out a dozen, but fanned five—for a total of 20 strikeouts in three starts.

Coates, getting his usual support from the Yankees, put away the first low-hit game and second shutout of his somewhat fantastic 15-1 big game.

Dick Stigman, the rookie who went sour as a reliever, has been nothing but a winner now that the Cleveland Indians have given him another chance as a starting pitcher.

The lanky lefty followed up a four-hit victory over the New York Yankees with a 5-3 job on Baltimore Wednesday night, giving up just six singles as the Indians edged ahead of the Orioles into second place in the American League race.

Cleveland is one percentage point above the Orioles, three behind the Yankees, who have lost three straight and are a half-length ahead in the "games behind" column since they've played more games. They're 1 1/2 games back of first place New York. The Indians trail New York by two.

The Yankees stayed with it by whipping Kansas City 10-0 as Roger Maris belted two more home runs and Jim Coates won his 13th in a row, nine this season, with a three-hitter.

Last place Boston defeated Detroit 4-2. Chicago's game at Washington was rained out.

Stigman, who beat the Orioles and Jerry Walker (2-1) with a two-run single in the fourth inning, now has a 4-4 record—3-4 as a starter and 1-3 in relief. Defending Bow Champs Hold Lead After 4 Rounds

By The Associated Press

Grayling (N)—Defending champions Cleo Robertson and Fay Coopers remain well out in front of their respective divisions at the end of four of six rounds in the 15th National Field Archery championships.

Miss Coopers of Modesto, Calif., led the women's instinctive division at the end of fourth round competition yesterday with 1,511 points. Joan Curran of Alhambra, Calif., came in with 1,445, and Mildred Hickman of Richmond, Va., third, 1,373.

Mrs. Robertson, a Samaritan, Mich., mother of four children, heads the men's free style division with 1,742 points, Lucille Shime of Glendale, Calif., is second with 1,648, and Diana Grandman of Wyandotte, Mich., third, 1,603.

James Mackay, a 25-year-old bowman from Bradford, Pa., leads the men's free style with 1,592 points. Bob Pender of Donners Grove, Ill., is second with 1,576. Bob Kadlec of Rochester, Minn., the defending champion, is third with 1,569.

James Palmer, a 34-year-old illustrator from Danville, N. C., heads the men's instinctive division with 1,701 points. Wallace Copensky of Dover, N. J., is second with 1,701 and Dr. Fred Simmons of Houston, Tex., third, with 1,703. Defending champion Carl Heinrich of Richmond, Mich., is fifth with 1,777.

The archers meet in two rounds.

Two More Softball Shutouts

By The Associated Press

A pair of shutouts and another victory for front-running Sno-Bol led by Dick Shell and Harlan (Fat) Keith combined to outpitch Bill Ryan.

Keith, who relieved Shell in the 5th inning with Sno-Bol trailing by a 1-0 count, was the winning pitcher. Sno-Bol won the game in the 6th on a walk to Paul Atkins. Bud Thompson's triple and Dick Cooper's single.

In the other American league contest, the Elks stayed in 2nd place with an 8-2 decision over Smith Siro.

Three Junior Teams Rally for Victories

Gary Hayward's double in the 8th broke up a tight duel and gave T-J-Huron a 4-3 Class E baseball victory over Westside Kiwanis Wednesday. The Tigers had rallied to tie with three runs in the 6th without a hit. Down 6-4, Lake Orion tallied nine times in the 6th to whip Vernors 13-6 in the other game.

Aurum Heights Boys Club of Class D was the third team to come from behind and win. All five runs in a 5-3 triumph over Pontiac-Centennial crossed in the 5th featuring pitcher Darryl Thorpe's second hit. Powell Trucking was in command all the way to trip Oxford, 8-3. Ron Lund gave three singles for the victors while winning pitcher Rich Caversy socked a double and triple.

Gasoline Tax Refund Available for Boaters

The Outboard Boating Club of America has urged all pleasure boaters to file claims for their federal gasoline tax refunds. Under the Federal Highway Act of 1956, part of the U. S. excise tax on gasoline is refundable if the fuel is used for purposes other than operating a highway vehicle. Deadline for filing claims is September 30.

Nicked Propeller Means Trouble Unless Fixed

After every use of your motor, check your propeller for nicks and distortion of the blades. A bent blade may be corrected by your dealer, who has pattern blocks for restoring it to proper shape. Continued operation with a badly nicked or distorted blade, throwing it out of balance, can cause serious damage to the driving mechanism of the motor.

Dock Your Boat Right

Tie up on the downwind side of a dock—the side on which wind or current will push your boat away from the dock instead of into it. If you have to tie up on the windward side, use fenders to protect the side of the boat. If you have a big boat, drop anchor off the bow and stern to hold you away from the dock, but close to it.

OBC estimates that 400,000,000 gallons of gasoline were used by recreational water craft in 1959, including 336,000,000 gallons in outboard boats and 134,000,000 gallons for inboard boats.

Claims must cover the period from July 1, 1959, to June 30, 1960. Claims must be made on Internal Revenue Service form 843, which can be obtained at any Internal Revenue Service office.

The form is not complicated and calls only for the total number of gallons of gasoline purchased and used during the claim period, and the Internal Revenue district where the claimant filed his last income tax return. The normal one cent a gallon refund has been increased to two cents effective October 1, 1959, as a result of an increase in federal gasoline taxes.

Approximately two thirds of the states also grant state gasoline tax refunds to pleasure craft operators, according to OBC.

Harvard Oarsmen Triumph on Thames

Detroit Club Eliminates Another American Shell in Henley Regatta

HENLEY ON THAMES, England (AP)—Harvard University oarsmen were confident today of making International rowing history at the Henley Royal Regatta after a record-breaking victory over an Oxford University crew.

Even the staunchest English rowing men admitted after Oxford's defeat that no homegrown crew is likely to keep the Harvard lightweights from rowing off with Henley's Thames challenge cup for the third straight time.

If the crimson 150 pounders beat the London rowing club today—as seems likely—they will be in the quarter finals. And the strongest opposition in sight is from another American crew, the Detroit Boat Club, who today raced the Midland Bank crew.

The Harvard lightweight rowed the fastest Thames cup race since the event was founded in 1868. The time was six minutes 29 seconds, well inside the old record of 6:45, set by Princeton in 1953 for the one mile and 550 yards.

The Detroit Boat Club eliminated another American shell yesterday. Taber Academy of Marion, Mass. Detroit stroked to a 4½ length lead over Taber and was clocked in 6:40.

Fuel Care Assures Carefree Boating

Between outings in your outboard rig always disconnect the fuel line from the gasoline tank in order to seal the tank and retain vapors in the fuel.

Fuel tanks have a valve at the tank which automatically seals the tank when the fuel line is removed.

Temperatures in the gasoline tank in hot weather may reach 115 to 140 degrees.

As some components of gasoline will boil off at these temperatures as much as 15 per cent of the "high ends" or more volatile gases are lost from an unsealed tank, lowering the running qualities of the fuel.

These more volatile gases are also the most easily combustible, and are therefore very important in starting, especially when the engine is cold.

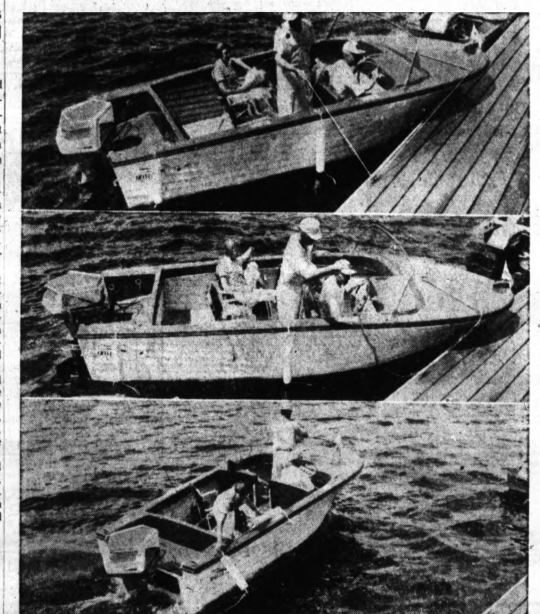

Lightning 7227 Winner of P.Y.C. Yacht Race

The Pontiac Yacht Club's Wednesday Night Owl Race was won by Betty Holman and her crew, Clarence Holman and Doctor Leo Wasserberger, sailing Lightning 7227.

Andy Roussel Jr. and Go-Go took second place honors. Crew of Go-Go was Bill Roussel and Charles Baker.

Third place was "Mafia" sailed by Phil Smith and crew Maric and Mack Goodwin.

This weekend P.Y.C. will have its Intra-Club Regatta featuring two races on Sunday. Monday the annual Co-operative picnic will be held.

USING SPRING LINE TO LEAVE CROWDED PIER—When boats are moored stern to a pier, it is sometimes advantageous to use a spring line in leaving. With the line attached at the bow and around a cleat midships, turn the motor so it points away from the pier as much as possible and accelerate slightly in forward gear to swing the stern out. Then straighten the motor, put it in reverse gear, flip the line off the cleat and back straight out. When clear, put motor in forward gear and pull away, taking in the boat fenders before accelerating to high speed.

Safety Stressed in Yacht Race

NEWPORT, R. I. (NEA)—More than 130 boats carrying 1,000 yachtsmen sailed from Newport bound for Bermuda 625 miles away.

Once called "the Bermuda to the Onion Patch," the Thru-the-Race is probably the best known event in ocean sailing competition.

It is a deep water proving ground for the skipper and his crew. Lessons learned are passed along as better products for boatmen.

The boats in the 1960 affair ranged from 35 to 92 feet in length. Fibers of wood, steel, fiberglass and aluminum were represented. No two alike.

A complicated formula devised by the Cruising Club of America gives each boat a time handicap according to its measurements. All, in theory, have an equal chance.

Racing-machine hulls that might be built more for speed than seaworthiness are penalized.

Once out of sight of land, the skipper and his crew are also being tested. They are up against the age-old challenge of the sea.

This is part of the appeal which brought boats this year to a fog-brouded Rhode Island starting line—from the East and West coasts, Great Lakes, Canada, South America, England and Sweden. Though the race this year proved to be slow in light airs, here are some of the precautions each boat took—items every boatman should check if he plans to head off shore.

Skippers checked all standing rigging and all hardware fittings holding the rigging in place.

Loss of a mast in midocean is serious. Running rigging was examined and renewed if worn. This meant checking many feet of line.

Flood and water, plus extras for emergency must be stowed aboard. The crew studies how the boat floats to be sure too much heavy gear is not too far forward or aft. This affects speed of the ocean sailing yacht.

It could cause a small boat to end up in the water. Sometimes boating on a pond can be more dangerous than on the ocean if the skipper is careless.

Safety equipment was carried aboard the racing boats. Most had life lines rigged around the deck so that the crew could move about more safely.

Many wore a length of line with a snip hook on each end—an extra precaution.

Life rings ready to be tossed to a man in the water were handed to the helmsmen. Each had a light attached that would go on immediately as it struck the water.

Long bamboo poles with a yellow flag on one end and a weight at the other to make them float upright were carried. One of these could be seen above the waves in a heavy sea to be a check point for swimmer and boat.

Fire extinguishers were placed so that crewmen in cockpit or cabin would find one handy in an emergency.

First aid kits were chosen that could treat injuries which might occur during a week at sea.

A committee boarded every boat to examine the equipment and ship.

Bloomfield Rowers Picked for Trials

NEW YORK—Bloomfield Hills residents Bernard (Pat) Costello and James Gardiner of the Detroit Boat Club were named yesterday to compete in the Olympic double sculls rowing trials at Lake Onondaga, N. Y., July 9.

The pair finished second in the 1956 Olympic games.

The U. S. Olympic committee named three other two-man teams for the rowing trials.

Pan-American Champions John B. Kelly Jr. and William J. Knecht of the Philadelphia vesper boat club are expected to provide the Detroit pair with their toughest competition. Kelly is seeking his fourth Olympic berth. He represented the U. S. in the 1948, 1952 and 1956 single sculls.

Other double sculls combinations competing in the trials include Eugene Lobosch and Edward Rupp of the New York Athletic club, and Harry Ellenden and Lt. Ted Nash, U.S. Army, who represent the Lake Washington Rowing Club.

Vincent Astor Estate Over $127 Million

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP)—Vincent Astor left an estate valued at more than 127 million dollars, according to a New York State Tax Commission appraisal.

Astor died in New York City Feb. 3, 1959. The appraisal was filed here Wednesday in Dutchess County Surrogate Court.

The chief beneficiaries were the widow, Mrs. Brooke Russell Astor, and the Astor Foundation, a charitable organization.

The will was fought by Astor's half-brother, John Jacob Astor III, who was not named as a beneficiary. He settled out of court for a reported $200,000.

Good at THINKING

British Flabbergasted at Soviets' Automation

MOSCOW (U.S.)—Western experts say they are flabbergasted by Soviet achievements in automation. "They will really get way ahead unless we buckle down to work," said one top British authority attending the first International Congress on Automations.

The British visitors said the Soviets had used a "leap frog technique," skipping intermediates the West had to make—in their development of automatic devices for computation and control systems in industry.

"They sat down to think for five or six years and now the result of this thought is beginning to pay off," said one visitor. The consensus of Westerners after a tour of the Soviet Institute of Automation and Telemechanics was that it was far ahead of anything in the West, with only the Massachusetts Institute of Technology remotely approaching the standards of the Soviet institute.

"We've been a bit shattered," said one Western delegate. "We never dreamed this level had been reached."

Another told reporters: "If you want a general opinion, just say we are all lost in admiration."

What called forth the panegyrics were self-optimizing systems and pneumatic computing instruments, neither of which, the experts said, had been achieved in the West.

The first of these is basically a self-correcting control system. The Soviets are using it to control temperatures in steel mills and also to keep power in radio transmitters at the most efficient level.

The pneumatic computers have no moving parts and thus are more reliable than the electronic devices used in the West. They also can be safely used in such places as chemical plants where electronic controls would be hazardous.

They are not nearly so fast as electronic devices, but it was pointed out that speed was not always vital. In this connection, the Soviets are also developing highly advanced electronic computers.

Trial for Pilot of U2 Postponed 'til Later

MOSCOW (U.S.)—Informed sources said Wednesday the trial of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers on a charge of spying for the United States has been postponed from early July until a later, unspecified date.

Unofficial informants said the reason was that the Soviet government is being flooded with applications from persons in the United States, Britain, France, West Germany and other countries who want to witness the trial.

These were said to include the British novelist Graham Greene, numerous newsmen, lawyers and even detectives.

Powers' reconnaissance plane was downed May 1 deep inside the Soviet Union.

Drowns Near Hastings

HASTINGS (U.S.)—Thomas R. Green, 18, of Battle Creek, drowned Tuesday while swimming in Swan Lake, 10 miles west of Hastings.

U.S. Approves City Renewal Plan

Politicians Up in Air Over Truman Boycott

WASHINGTON (AP)—Supporters of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson hoped today Harry S. Truman would change his mind about boycotting the Democratic National Convention and would publicly announce his support of the Texan.

They were known to be trying to persuade the former President to reconsider his decision, announced Wednesday, to withdraw as a convention delegate from Missouri and to stay away from the Los Angeles sessions.

Truman himself gave no immediate explanation.

Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, who has had Truman's active support, insisted Truman still is backing him and he is "rumored hard as a candidate."

But supporters of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts read into Truman's announcement a possible collapse of Symington's candidacy and a big boost for their hopes of a first-ballot nomination for Kennedy.

Short of a clarification of his motives by Truman himself at a news conference he has called for Saturday in Independence, Mo., speculation among the politicians was rife.

Alert Lifeguard at Elizabeth Lake Saves Detroit

An alert lifeguard, fully clothed dashed into Elizabeth Lake late last night to rescue a drowning 19-year-old Detroit youth.

The victim, Oratio Vetrano, 19, was floundering in six feet of water 50 feet off shore just as 11th guard William Garland, dressed to go home, was closing up at Family Beach on Cass-Kelly abeth road shortly before 11 p.m.

Vetrano was unconscious by the time Garland had pulled him to shore.

Artificial respiration applied by the lifeguard, plus oxygen from the Waterford Township firemen who arrived soon after the rescue, helped revive the victim, said Millard Pender, township police chief.

Vetrano, who had been swimming at the beach with three friends from Detroit, was given a checkup at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

U.S. Air Fares Go Up 5 Per Cent Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most U.S. air fares will increase by about 5 per cent Friday.

The Civil Aeronautics Board said that all of the domestic trunk airlines, and all except three of the local service operators, have filed for the higher fares. The CAB announced on June 17 that it would approve them.

Castro Menaces U.S.-Owned Electric Co.

Replaces Minister of Communications; Grabs Big Texaco Refinery

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's regime early today replaced its communications minister in a move apparently signaling further harassment and possibly seizure of the Cuban Electric Co., the largest remaining American investment in Cuba.

With a marathon cabinet session still in progress after 13 hours, President Osvelto Dorticos announced the resignation of Communications Minister Enrique Oltuski and his replacement by Raul Curbelo Morales, a virtual unknown.

Oltuski at a news conference two weeks ago accused the electric company—which comes under his ministry's jurisdiction—of sabotaging the revolution because it refused to carry out an expansion program after the Castro government cut its rates a third. But informed sources said the regime felt Oltuski had not been aggressive enough in his application of revolutionary policies.

Valued at 200 million dollars, the electric company is half owned by the American and Foreign Power Co.

Oltuski's replacement also could be a preliminary to formal confiscation of the 125-million-dollar Cuban Telephone Co., in which the U.S. International Telephone and Telegraph Co. owns 65 per cent of the stock. But Castro representatives have been in complete control of the telephone company since March 4, 1959, and the last U.S. executive was ousted last February.

Retailing for the pending U.S. congressional bill to trim Cuba's quota of sugar sales to the United States, the Castro regime stepped up its campaign against American investments by taking over all operations Wednesday of the American-owned Texaco Oil Company, including its 26-million-dollar refinery at Santiago.

The oil company indicated its claims for the properties seized may total 50 million dollars.

Texas, along with Esso Standard of New Jersey, the other American refinery in Cuba, and the British-Dutch Shell Co., had refused to process Soviet crude oil bought from the Soviet Union with Cuban sugar.

The board said Newberg quit in difference of opinion on certain corporate policies. There was no elaboration.

Water Mishaps Kill 56 in State So Far in 1960

LANSING (AP)—Fifty-six persons have perished so far this year in 107 water accidents in Michigan, a state police compilation shows.

Forty-seven persons were injured in the same mishaps. Twenty-one of the deaths occurred in the 18-day period ended Monday.

Consider Cutting Downtown Parking

Traffic Plan Presented

For the first time in 10 years, the city should eliminate Saginaw parking from 3 to 6 p.m. daily on a trial basis. "Six months or more, also give it a fair trial," he recommended.

The proposal is the first in a crash program designed to improve downtown traffic circulation.

The program, prepared by George W. Barton & Associates, Inc., was outlined yesterday at City Hall by Jack Hutter, staff member of the Evanston, Ill., consulting firm.

Hearing the report were City Manager Walter K. Willman and top aides plus a small gathering of the Downtown Development Group (DDG). This organization paid for the $2,800, two-month study of downtown driving, parking, and pedestrian problems.

Hutter, who made the study, said

An Alert to All Motorists: Drive Extra Carefully

Oakland County law enforcement agencies today appealed to motorists to exercise extra caution over the Fourth of July holiday weekend.

Arthur J. Bogue, manager of the Pontiac office of the Auto Club, said today that it was "conservatively estimated that at least three million cars will jam Michigan 'highways' over the weekend."

Businesses to Close for Holiday

Do your last-minute shopping, banking and odds-and-ends either tomorrow or Saturday, or you'll be out of luck for the three-day Fourth of July weekend which starts tomorrow evening for most people.

A check by The Press of local banks, city, county and state offices, and stores found that most operations will cease at noon Saturday.

City and county offices won't be open Saturday at all.

Regular banking hours will be in effect until 6 p.m. Friday for the Community National and Pontiac State downtown banks.

STANDSTILL MONDAY

The offices of Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Assn. will also be open until 6 tomorrow evening.

The two banks and the Savings and Loan Assn. offices will be open until noon Saturday and open at their regular hours Tuesday morning.

Business will be at a standstill for all Monday, July 1.

Employees of the three local General Motors plants will have a three-day holiday, starting Saturday.

$6-Million Effort Over 5 Years Is Authorized

Federal Government to Pay Two-Thirds of Net Cost, Broomfield Says

Pontiac's first urban renewal project has been given final federal approval, Congressman William S. Broomfield (R - Oakland County) announced today in Washington, D.C.

The approval authorizes a five-year redevelopment effort with a gross cost of approximately six million dollars.

Broomfield announced that David M. Walker, Urban Renewal Administration URAJ commissioner, has authorized a federal loan of $3,165,044 to finance the project on a revolving fund basis.

The URA authorized a federal grant of $2,439,562, he said, to pay for two-thirds of the net project cost—estimated by the URA at $3,639,576. The city would pay the other one-third in the form of public improvement.

"The federal grant is an investment in Pontiac's future," said Broomfield.

"The city now has the authority to get the plan rolling."

"The project will help the city in its redevelopment of the central business district and in the preservation of valuable neighborhood properties from blight."

PLEASURE EXPRESSED

City Hall officials expressed pleasure that the project, two years in the planning stage—has finally been okayed.

They held off official comment, however, until detailed figures arrive with official notification of the approval.

The grant apparently is about $300,000 less than the amount sought by the city in its final application for a loan and grant this spring.

"Apparently the project has been trimmed, but we won't know until we see the detailed figures," said Robert A. Steiner, assistant city manager and urban renewal coordinator.

Even if trimmed $300,000, the grant would amount to about $500,000.

Expert to Study Petition Names

Leann Harrelson Denies Circulating Papers for Candidate Kaufman

A state police handwriting expert will analyze some 70 nominating petitions of Probate Judge candidate David Kaufman for possible forgeries by local Teamsters officials.

Prosecutor George F. Taylor planned to talk today to the officials who circulated the petitions for the Detroit attorney.

One of the officials originally believed to be one of the circulators, Leann Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, yesterday denied circulating petitions for Kaufman, 27, of 2650 Everett St., Southfield.

"It must have been my son," Harrelson said.

The affidavits at the bottom of about 20 petitions were signed by Leann W. Harrelson, 26 Delaware Dr.

According to the elder Harrelson, this is his son. It is the former address of the elder Harrelson. He said his son does not use junior after his name.

This morning, another Teamster official, Alvin Bush, 514 vice president, also denied there was anything wrong with the names on the petitions he circulated. In a statement to Taylor, Bush did not deny that maybe some of the signatures weren't registered as required by law—but "they all signed in my presence."

He denied forging any names.

Other officials cited by the Oakland County Elections Commission were Frank A. Orsini, a trustee of the local, and Joseph M. Bana, a business agent with the local.

Kaufman had sufficient signatures to still qualify for a spot on the Aug. 2 nonpartisan ballots. He is one of eight candidates, bid to run for the office.

MAKE OVER PAIR Big Debt Hangs Over State

With Trust Fund Gone, Next Hope Is Solution in November

LANSING (AP) — Michigan closes the books tonight on 1959-60, the most turbulent fiscal year in her 133-year history, save the one just before.

The mountainous $95,471,000 deficit that drove her money managers nearly to distraction in mid-1959 has melted down to 70-plus million but is edging slowly higher once again.

The state treasury's key general fund was practically broke, still subject to fortnightly closures under emergency rationing procedures.

Cash was lacking to pay $39 million in current claims against the fund. Most of the money was owed to school districts.

With the state embarking on a record high spending program, a tax answer to the root revenue problem was months away — at least until a November vote on a $110 million a year sales tax boost.

A batch of "temporary" new and increased taxes on tobacco, whisky, other objects was due to expire automatically a year from today unless renewed.

Ira Polley, acting state controller, took a shoulder rest and backed a year to the time when administrators were trying to run the state with IOUs.

"We owed suppliers, some of them $100,000 and $200,000 — the New York Central Railroad, Swift & Co., the telephone company, dairies, plumbers—hosts of people and companies."

REDUCED DELIVERIES

Some suppliers refused to deal with the state anymore except for cash. There was talk of possibly missing university payrolls. A few contractors shut down state building projects for nonpayment.

"Things began to look less direful when we got the $40 million infusion of cash from the Veterans Trust Fund bonds in December," Polley said.

The big fund, center of a political tug of war for nearly a full year, was liquidated as part of the temporary tax settlement, although with technical provision for restoration.

Polley said the exact size of the year-end deficit was not known for several weeks when the accounting is complete. The last official estimate was $71 million.

However, the controller disclosed that revenues in the fiscal year fell between five and ten million dollars behind estimates. This possibility, although not necessarily, could have been offset by increasing the deficit by that amount.

The 1959-60 budget is an estimated 10 million dollars out of balance, pointing to a slow rise in the deficit.

Renome Bedloe's Island for Statue of Liberty

In ceremonies Wednesday, the old name of Bedloe's Island disappeared. The remaining had been approved by a House of Representatives bill and signed by President Eisenhower.

Murray Sales Down

Small Car Owners Buying Accessories

DETROIT (UPI)—Compact car accessories were available, sales of backup lights on the Valiant were up 14 per cent from the previous month. Sales of heaters on the Chrysler Corp. compact were up 7 per cent during the month, power steering sales were up .06 per cent, windshield washers were up .8 per cent and automatic transmission sales were up 5.1 per cent.

A Chrysler Corp. official who specializes in sales trends of extra equipment on cars says each month shows an increase in the percentage of compact cars equipped with various optional accessories.

For example, during April, the

the official said he was sure the gap would be narrowed considerably in the future.

"In most cases, optional equipment on compact cars will probably never reach the degree of acceptance it has on standard cars," he said. "But, with a few exceptions, the gap between the two should be very narrow in a year or two if the present trend continues."

The percentages of compact cars equipped with white sidewall tires already is approaching the percentage for standard cars. Chrysler figures showed 63.9 per cent of its standard cars were equipped with white sidewall while 61.5 per cent of the Valiants were similarly equipped.

U.S. to Aid Turkey on N-Reactor Cost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will contribute $300,000 to Turkey toward the cost of a nuclear research reactor, the Atomic Energy Commission announced Wednesday.

The reactor will be part of a research and training center being built near Istanbul.

Turkey is the 20th country to receive a grant under President Eisenhower's atom-for-peace act made in June, 1955.

Donkey Licenses Ready for Dem Convention Cars

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The state has issued license plates for official cars at the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles next month, each imprinted with a donkey head.

Four hundred of the plates, carrying the legend, "Democratic National Convention, 1960," with the party symbol below it, were manufactured by convicts at Folsom Prison.

The Democratic party paid 65 cents apiece for the plates. The plates will not substitute for regular licenses.

Honor Retiring McVean for 54-Year Hospital Job

"THIS IS YOUR LIFE" — Duncan McVean receives congratulations from Mrs. William Aldrich, 1004 LaSalle St., at his retirement party last night at Elks Temple. McVean, the oldest employee in state civil service, is retiring as storekeeper at Pontiac State Hospital after 54 years there. Mrs. Aldrich, who is in charge of the menial department, was the oldest employee in time of service at the hospital hired by McVean and attending the party. Looking on is Mrs. McVean.

Duncan McVean got a good dunking in the old fountain at Pontiac's Grove School (now the site of Pontiac Central High School) somewhere around 1910.

It was a traditional baptism for freshmen, McVean says, and fun. There was a lot of fun and a lot of work for a willing Scotsman in those days, too.

McVean worked seven days a week. On school days, he worked from 6 to 8 a.m., went to classes and returned to work from 4 to 10 p.m.

He got a job at Pontiac General Hospital in 1905 at the age of 14. He has never worked anywhere else and totals 54 years there on his retirement.

McVean has worked longer for Michigan than any other state employee.

HONORED AT PARTY

Last night fellow workers and friends honored him at a "This Is Your Life" party in the Elks Temple. More than 200 persons attended.

Representing the State Department of Mental Health was Ivan Etes, personnel director. Keynote speaker was Dr. Walter H. Oberauf, superintendent of the Pontiac hospital.

Letters of congratulations came from such people as Congressman William S. Broomfield and Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson.

McVean started at $10 per month as a telephone and elevator operator. Since 1919, he has been storekeeper for the institution and earns $6,718 a year plus the use of a house on the hospital grounds.

"I hate like the devil to leave," said the well-known "Devil" McVean. "The people I have worked with are above the average."

McVean and his wife are looking for a house in which to live, and he says, another job, although he is assured $3,638 a year in combined state pension and federal social security benefits.

"I am not allowed to make more than $100 a month in order to remain eligible for these benefits," he says, "but I hope I can get a job to keep me occupied."

McVean, who has been active in Boy Scouts and a member of the First Presbyterian Church and Masonic Lodge No. 21, passes on this advice to today's youngsters: "Finish school. Get your education."

Go to school and have a job at the same time? "It's good for you."

McVean is especially proud of his son, Ronald, 24, who graduated his way through school and last week received his master's degree in pharmacy at the University of Michigan.

He has another son, Robert, 22, and a stepson, Major D. E. Keefe, in the Army.

See Rockefeller as Backing GOP

Governor of New York Won't Bolt His Party, Despite Disagreements

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller apparently is going to back the Republican ticket this fall despite policy disagreements with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Rockefeller, who has criticized with GOP governors departing after the windup of the 22nd annual conference of state executives Wednesday.

Rockefeller who has criticized the administration's defense and medical aid for the aged program supported by Nixon, appeared to have left himself free way in press conference remarks Wednesday to sit on his hands in the November election.

But when some other Republicans interpreted his statements as indicating he might desert the GOP, Rockefeller told a reporter: "I will not bolt the party."

While he did not commit himself finally to campaigning for Nixon as the expected GOP presidential nominee, Rockefeller indicated he thinks he can find enough common ground to do that. Republicans think that if the governor were inactive, Nixon might lose New York's vital 45 electoral votes.

LANSEING (AP)—A Montreal woman on a vacation in Hell, Mich., was consulted today to visit Paradise as well.

Mrs. E. Cartwright wrote the State Highway Department, explaining she planned a visit to the Detroit area and "we thought it would be fun to be able to say we had been to Hell."

The material services division responded by mailing a marked map showing the location of Hell, a tiny unincorporated community at the junction of two county roads southwest of Flushing in Livingston County.

"To complete your trip you might also visit Paradise in the Upper Peninsula," suggested John T. Talbot in an accompanying message.

Paradise is a town perched on the edge of Whitefish Bay in Chippewa County.

Kids Leave Camp Where Six Drowned

MAUSTON, Wis. (AP)—Nearly 100 sad-faced children packed their meager belongings today and planned to leave their summer camp near here while authorities continued to search for the bodies of six of their companions who were believed drowned in the Wisconsin River Tuesday night.

The children, most of them from Chicago's poorer districts and from families displaced from eastern Europe, had been at the camp since Sunday before the tragedy struck in what had been planned as a routine river-crossing exercise.

During the exercise, 19 youths, ranging in age between 12 and 14, panicked when one of them stepped into unexpectedly deep water. In the confusion, six disappeared and presumably drowned.

No trace of them was found despite a concentrated search of the river and surrounding area, yesterday.

Child Guidance Clinic Fetes Departing Director

The board of directors of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic honored Madeleine Half who is leaving as director of the clinic at a farewell dinner last night in Orchard Lake Country Club.

Miss Half will assume the position of director of case work services for the juvenile court at Allegheny, Pa.

Recipient of a B. S. degree from Carnegie Institute of Technology, Miss Half earned her certificate in psychiatric social work at Western Reserve University and M. S. degree at Carnegie Institute.

She began work in her field with the Behavior Clinic of Pittsburgh's Criminal Court and from there went to Mayview State Hospital in Pennsylvania where she was director of social services.

In 1949 she became director of the Child Guidance Clinic in Muskegon after serving as a psychiatric social work consultant for the Michigan State Department of Social Welfare in Lansing (1945) and as acting director of the Clinton Valley Children's Center (1946).

A member of the National Assn. of University Women, National Assn. of Social Workers and the Soroptimists Club, she came to Pontiac in 1952 as director of the Child Guidance Clinic.

The clinic now consists of the main unit in Pontiac and branch offices in Birmingham and Royal Oak.

Who? . . . Mrs. Henry Gauller

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

"Big" is one word in the English language that doesn't bother petite Mrs. Henry Gauller.

She sits behind a massive desk in one of Pontiac's oldest and largest business firms, the Gauller Moving & Storage Co., which she manages in a "big" way.

Since her husband's death six months ago, the pretty mother of four children has carried on a family tradition established more than 56 years ago. The firm has never changed hands, nor moved from the original building at 7 Orchard Lake Ave. in all those years.

The firm's nine drivers, who last year drove the heavy tractor-trailers more than 120,000 miles from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts, have plenty of respect for their new boss.

She has a sense of humor along with a sound business sense.

"When the General Motors Corp. delivered three very old GMC trucks for storage, it caused quite a sensation," Mrs. Gauller said. "People walking by stopped, and traffic was tied up by drivers stopping their cars to watch."

Although her job takes up most of her time, her main interest is still her two boys and two girls, ages 16, 14, 9 and 2.

The family lives at 3305 Interlaken Rd., West Bloomfield Township, and when the weather is just right, all "trucks" out to the country for swimming, picnicking and family fun.

Not only does the company haul household goods and commercial material all over the United States, but the building houses four floors of everything from kitchen brooms to antique trucks.

Working as a corporation with her brother-in-law, Edwin Gauller, the 38-year-old matron is one of only two women in the nation who manages a moving and storage firm affiliated with Allied Van Lines, Inc.

A new trailer, a tractor and a new state truck have been added to the fleet of 12 vehicles since Mrs. Gauller assumed her husband's position last January.

Polite Austria Greets Nikita

9-Day Visit Expected to Feature Smiles and Coexistence Talk

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev arrived in neutral Austria today for a nine-day state visit that is expected to be all smiles and talk of peaceful coexistence.

The Soviet Premier and his party of more than 80 persons were met at Vienna's Schwechat Airfield by President Adolf Schaerf, Chancellor Julius Raab and other top Austrians.

Only two hours were set aside for private talks with Austrian government leaders — and these were expected to deal with trade.

"There was a minimum of fanfare for Khrushchev's arrival, the usual honor guard and 21-gun salute; only three flags (two Austrian, one Soviet) at the airport, and a relatively small crowd of newsmen, officials and Soviet embassy staff. Some 6,000 police and army troops manned the 15-mile route from the airfield to the visitors' hotel."

Khrushchev smiled happily as he walked down the steps of his plane.

In Vienna, a protest march of the Catholic Youth Organization and the Austrian Prisoners of War Assn. was banned. The government wanted no unpleasantness.

There was no cheering or clapping as Khrushchev walked hatted, in a two-button, single-breasted suit, from his plane.

Welcoming him, President Schaerf described the premier as a "warm friend of Austria and its independence." He said he hoped his visit would lead to better conditions between the two countries and that peace would continue in the world.

Khrushchev in reply said that the growth of friendly relations between the Soviet Union and Austria "is an especially pleasing sign of peaceful coexistence."

"The Soviet Union has always supported Austrian neutrality, and it will always do so," he continued.

"Finally we are convinced that peace will win and the foundations of peaceful coexistence will triumph despite the agitations of some people who want to keep the cold war," he said.

The rules are: 1. Pick a safe place to swim. Swim only at protected pools and beaches, and obey all warning signs. Never swim alone.

2. Don't misjudge your swimming ability, especially if you are a "once-a-year" swimmer with short breath and unconditioned muscles.

3. Never dive into unknown waters. Before diving, test the depth of the water and check the condition of the bottom, looking out for dangerous rocks, broken bottles and sharp tin cans. Keep away from weeds, lily pads and grass, too.

COOL OFF FIRST 1. Rest, relax and cool off after hard exercise before you go into the water.

2. Don't be a water show-off. 6. Avoid swimming in strong currents.

7. Always race toward the shore or parallel to it, never away from shore. Pick your distance and make sure it's a shorter distance than you usually swim.

8. Beware of water wings, oil inner tubes and similar objects.

9. If you can't swim, stay out of small boats. If your boat overturns, hang, as it will float. Don't dive off a small boat since a common danger is tipping such a craft over, or coming up under the hull, causing serious injury. Instead, slide into the water. Never overload a boat.

10. Don't take a sailboat out unless you are an experienced sailor.

Lists 13 Rules to Apply Common Sense and Reason to Live

With thousands of area residents heading for lakes and swimming pools over the holiday weekend, the Pontiac YMCA, which stresses swimming and water safety programs the year 'round, today joined other agencies in an appeal for common sense and reason around the water.

John J. Moreau, aquatics director, suggested that swimmers learn 13 basic rules of water safety taught in the national YMCA aquatic program.

"Obeying these precautions could save lives," Moreau said, "not only this weekend—but all through the summer."

The rules are: 1. Pick a safe place to swim. Swim only at protected pools and beaches, and obey all warning signs. Never swim alone.

2. Don't misjudge your swimming ability, especially if you are a "once-a-year" swimmer with short breath and unconditioned muscles.

3. Never dive into unknown waters. Before diving, test the depth of the water and check the condition of the bottom, looking out for dangerous rocks, broken bottles and sharp tin cans. Keep away from weeds, lily pads and grass, too.

COOL OFF FIRST 1. Rest, relax and cool off after hard exercise before you go into the water.

2. Don't be a water show-off. 6. Avoid swimming in strong currents.

7. Always race toward the shore or parallel to it, never away from shore. Pick your distance and make sure it's a shorter distance than you usually swim.

8. Beware of water wings, oil inner tubes and similar objects.

9. If you can't swim, stay out of small boats. If your boat overturns, hang, as it will float. Don't dive off a small boat since a common danger is tipping such a craft over, or coming up under the hull, causing serious injury. Instead, slide into the water. Never overload a boat.

10. Don't take a sailboat out unless you are an experienced sailor.

11. Avoid swimming during electrical storms.

HEROES CAN MISS 12. When attempting a rescue, stay out of the water if at all possible. Try to reach the person with a pole, with clothing or a rope. Or throw him something buoyant. Don't try to be a swim-rescue hero.

13. Last—and most important—if you are in trouble in the water, force yourself to keep calm. Cramps don't cause drowning; you just keep calm and take advantage of your body's natural buoyancy. It's actually harder to sink than to stay up.

She'll Go to Republican Convention as Page Girl

Miss Irene Giacobi, chairman of the Oakland County Young Republican Club, will attend the GOP National Convention next month as a page girl for the Michigan delegation.

Miss Giacobi, of 170 Roth Blvd., Clawson, was one of five Michigan Young Republicans chosen for the honor.

(As secretary of the General Motors Technical Center in Warren, Miss Giacobi was elected chairman of the local organization last December.

She said she was thrilled to be selected to attend the July 25-28 convention in Chicago.

"I shall be proud to represent Oakland County at the convention," she said, "I think our Young Republicans will gain better insight into political affairs by having one of their own members to observe."

She promised the club a full report upon her return.

Treasury Uses Black Ink Closing Its Fiscal Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Thanks mainly to the taxpayers, the U.S. Treasury is using black ink today as it closes its books for the fiscal year.

This is good news to all those who fear further monetary inflation—a mainspring for a rising cost of living, although there are other pressures, too.

Also the Treasury is going to borrow less new money in the coming next six months than in any second half for several years. This is good news for all others who want to borrow—state and local government agencies, corporations, and individuals. It means there will be less competition for the available funds—and perhaps somewhat easier borrowing terms.

The taxpayers get the major credit for the happier fiscal days in Washington because the Treasury is collecting more from individual income tax returns.

Part of this is because rising prices this year have meant larger tax withholding payments. And returns filed by individuals have been running higher. Some think this is because of the drive to make taxpayers more conscientious about reporting dividend and interest receipts.

But the Agriculture Department has been doing its bit, too, to help out the Treasury. Because of lower price support spending for corn and unusually heavy export sales of cotton, the Agriculture Department hasn't spent as much recently as earlier it had been expected to.

Although the books won't be tallied for several days yet, it now seems sure that budget revenues for the 12 months ending today will top the January estimate of 78.6 billion dollars, and federal spending will be a bit below the January estimate of 78.4 billion. Most guesses now put the budget surplus at 300 million dollars or better.

OOM, IT'S SHORT! — Nancy Sinatra, 19, strokes the closely cropped hair of her fiancé, Tommy Sands, while visiting him at Lackland AFB, Tex., where he is taking his Air Force basic training. Nancy's father Frank Sinatra also is under the influence of cupid. His newest love interest, Juliet Prowse, is being eyed by Elvis Presley, too.

Campaign for $120,000 to End Long Lake Muck

COMMERCIAL TOWNSHIP — An all-out campaign to raise $120,000 yet needed to reclaim muck-filled Long Lake will be undertaken in hopes of getting the project under way this year.

According to Alois S. Vincier, treasurer of the Long Lake General Council, only $11,000 of the $120,000 needed to clean the lake has been collected to date.

The organization plans to restore the 16-acre lake to its original beauty and usefulness by dredging an accumulation of peat from the bottom, giving the lake an average depth of 18 feet.

The lake now averages three-feet deep.

"HUGE VACUUM CLEANER"
The lake-cleaning project would be undertaken by the Waterway Control and Development Commission of Lansing.

Part-owner of the firm Donald D. Rutter said the work would be done by a huge "underwater

"vacuum cleaner" built specifically to return lakes and rivers to their clear, sandy-bottom state.

If a contract is not signed with the company by Nov. 30, money already collected will be returned to lake front property owners who have already contributed toward the project.

Plans are being made by the community association to have a four-by-eight-foot billboard placed in front of the Commercial National Bank in Union Lake showing progress of the fund-raising drive.

It is expected that the thermometer-type sign will be set up next week.

If a contract is signed, the firm has stated that dredging could continue through the winter months with work completed in late spring or early summer.

Once the contract is signed, Rutter said it would take from a month to 90 days for operations to begin.

depending on delivery date of the new-type dredge.

Rutter explained the dredge would weigh 50 tons and is about 40 by 20 feet, with a ladder extension that makes it 87 feet long. He said it anchors itself to the bottom of the lake, cleans one spot, and then "walks" along to another location.

The muck is drawn out of the lake through an intake pipe attached to a suction pump, he said.

A swampy area at the west end of the lake would be used to dump the decaying material, Rutter said.

LEGISLATURE SAYS NO
A bill failed in the State Legislature this year which would have allowed groups to set up financing for such cleaning projects in the same manner as sewer projects are now undertaken by communities.

It has been estimated that 1,500,000 cubic yards of peat will come from the lake bottom, some of it 20,000 yards.

This has already raised the interest of University of Michigan geologists.

The dredging project will not upset the balance of fish in the lake, Rutter has promised the home owners association.

He said the State Conservation Department will take a fish survey once the project is completed.

Along with the planned "house cleaning," property owners have proposed a set of safety rules to be used on the lake by boaters.

DEPUTY WOULD ENFORCE
The rules would be enforced by a deputy sheriff.

However, before rules, which go beyond the stipulations of state laws, could be enforced, they would have to be approved by the State Conservation Department which has jurisdiction over use of public waters.

If the rules were approved and put into effect, Long Lake would become the first public lake in Oakland County governed beyond state laws, except by "gentleman's agreements" which now exist among property owners on several lakes.

Weeds Must Be Cut, Says Keego Harbor

KEEGO HARBOR—A city ordinance requiring property owners to cut weeds will be strictly enforced this year, City Clerk Ellen Van Horn warned today.

Adopted last year, the ordinance calls for a fine of $10 to $20 for persons failing to comply when notified by the city to cut weeds.

If property owners fail to destroy the weeds within 10 days after receiving a notice, the city will cut the weeds at the expense of the owner.

If the debt to the city is not paid by Sept. 15, it will become a special assessment and result in a lien against the property, Mrs. Van Horn said.

The "Democratic governor said the people really want this kind of contributory system."

Huff Will Leave Oxford Council

Gives His Resignation Because He's Moving Out of Community

OXFORD — Kenneth C. Huff has resigned from the Oxford Village Council, giving as his reason the fact that he has moved out of town.

Huff was appointed in October to fill the unexpired term of Gordon Mathie who resigned. He was elected in March.

The Council will act on the resignation at the next regular meeting, July 12.

Village officials will meet July 12 with the Oxford Township Board to discuss plans for the proposed sewer system to serve both Lake Orion and Oxford.

Orion and Oxford townships will be involved with the two villages in financing the sewer project and will also share in the cost of engineering the treatment plant to be built south of Lake Orion.

ALREADY HAVE SIGNED

The two village councils already have signed resolutions allowing the Oakland County Department of Public Works to proceed with the sanitary sewer program. The DPW must have the approval of all the municipalities to be serviced before construction can begin.

The temporary facilities will be designed to serve the Lake Orion-Lake Orion area for 10 years or until they can be tied into the Clinton River Sewage Disposal system planned to include this area.

In other action, the Oxford Council has instructed the village manager to have walk lights installed at the main intersection in town. They will be installed with the new light unit in the present traffic control which was authorized previously.

The reason for the walk light request is that the awkward angle of the traffic signal makes it difficult for pedestrians to see it before leaving the curb, the manager said.

The expenditure of $35 to build a new foot on the fire station also has been authorized by the Council.

Two Florida Schools Ordered Integrated

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Dade County School Board, by unanimous vote, last ordered total integration of two schools in North Miami Beach.

Fulford will become the third elementary school in Florida to be integrated, all in Dade County. North Miami Beach Junior High will be the first white secondary school in Florida to admit a Negro.

The board denied requests of 12 other Negro parents seeking admission to the schools. No reasons were given.

The wedding took place at Seymour Lake Methodist Church. The newlyweds are honeymooning in Northern Michigan.

'The Great Gold Mountain' Comes Off Too Tarnished

BY FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI)—A polished performance by Brinkner, the most, justly suggest in "The Great Gold Mountain," last night's "Steel Hour" drama.

Set in a small Indiana town called Barcelona during the summer of 1927, the lead-filled story attempted a souped-up "Our Town" sort of study.

It depicted the impact on the villagers' morals and morals when a cool, alcohol-guzzling, cockle, played by Polly Bergen, landed in town.

Aided by her boy friend, played by Robert Lansing, Miss Bergen seemed to be working a profitable phony scam on come on the rest-less natives.

CALAMITY STRIKES

The caper led to the suicide of the town's elderly newspaper editor, played by Ed Begley, after he learned (1) that his lovely young wife was carrying on with Lansing, and (2) the stock he bought with his hard-earned cash was worthless.

At the end of Ron Sproat's CBS-TV teleplay, from a novel by James McCague, Miss Bergen was genuinely filled with remorse and young Brinkner, the eager, fawning young cub reporter, took over the paper and married his childhood sweetheart.

Presumably, he never had cause for remorse.

British Flabbergasted at Soviets' Automation

MOSCOW (U)—Western experts say they are flabbergasted by Soviet achievements in automation.

"They will really get away ahead unless we buckle down to work," said one top British authority attending the first International Congress on Automations.

The British visitors said the Soviets had used a "leap frog technique," skipping intermediates the West had to make—in their development of automatic devices for computation and control systems in industry.

"They sat down to think for five or six years and now the result of this thought is beginning to pay off," said one visitor.

The consensus of Westerners after a tour of the Soviet Institute of Automation and Telemachanics was that it was far ahead of anything in the West, with only the Massachusetts Institute of Technology remotely approaching the standards of the Soviet institute.

"We've been a bit shattered," said one Western delegate. "We never dreamed this level had been reached."

Another told reporters: "If you want a general opinion, just say we are all lost in admiration."

What called forth the panegyrics were self-optimizing systems and pneumatic computing instruments, neither of which, the experts said, had been achieved in the West.

The first of these is basically a self-correcting control system. The Soviets are using it to control temperatures in steel mills and also to keep power in radio transmitters at the most efficient level.

The pneumatic computers have no moving parts and thus are more reliable than the electronic devices used in the West. They also can be safely used in such places as chemical plants where electronic controls would be hazardous.

"They are not nearly so fast as electronic devices, but it was pointed out that speed was not always vital. In this connection, the Soviets are also developing highly advanced electronic computers."

Trial for Pilot of U2 Postponed 'til Later.

MOSCOW (U)—Informed sources said Wednesday the trial of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers on a charge of spying for the United States has been postponed from early July until a later, unspecified date.

Unofficial informants said the reason was that the Soviet government is being flooded with applications from persons in the United States, Britain, France, West Germany and other countries who want to witness the trial.

These were said to include the British novelist Graham Greene, numerous newsmen, lawyers, and even detectives.

Powers' reconnaissance plane was downed May 1 deep inside the Soviet Union.
