Crucify, Crucify Him!

NEA Color Sketch by Ed Kudlaty

Pilate then called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, and said to them, "You brought me this man as one who was perverting the people; and after examining him before you, behold, I did not find this man guilty of any of your charges against him; neither did Herod, for he sent him back to us. Behold, nothing deserving death has been done by him; I will therefore chastise him and release him."

But they all cried out together, "Away with this man, and release to us Barrabas"—a man who had been thrown into prison for an insurrection started in the city, and for murder. Pilate addressed them once more, desiring to release Jesus; but they shouted out "Crucify, crucify him!" A third time he said to them, 'Why, what evil has he done? I have found in him no crime deserving death; I will therefore chastise him and release him." But they were urgent, demanding with loud cries that he should be crucified.

Recall Exodus Story

Jews Mark Passover

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Church Editor
The Pontiac Press

The story of the deliverance of the Israelites from bondage in ancient Egypt will be retold all over the world as Jews observe the Feast of the Passover beginning at sundown today.

In his message to Jewish people throughout the United States Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, said "When we sit down at the Seder table to celebrate the Passover feast and recite the story of the Exodus, we cannot be content to think of it as an old story which took place thousands of years ago and no longer concerns us.

"In our day we have lived to see the Book of Exodus reenacted. Today scientific miracles have replaced the wonders that startled Egypt. Within our grasp is the power to create new plagues or to build a utopia here on earth," the rabbi said.

"One has only to look to South Africa to see new slavery masquerading under the elegant name of apartheid, or nearer to home to witness all the evils of ancient Egypt — hatred, hunger, and the worship of gold."

★ ★ ★

He concluded with "If we will turn our energies from the will to stockpile weapons toward the will to feed the hungry, educate the ignorant, combat disease, stamp out the poverty which exists not only in far away places but at our own back door we will be applying the lessons of the Passover story."

LENGTH OF FESTIVAL

The festival lasts for a week among liberal Jews and eight days among the traditionalists.

During the first two evenings the family takes part in a special ritual meal, the Seder, which includes family dining and worshipping together, and handing down to the children, the greatest story of Jewish heritage.

The festival is called Passover because the Bible says God passed over the homes of Israelites in Egypt to strike the blow that liberated Hebrew people, enslaved by Pharaoh Rameses II more than 1,300 years before the birth of Christ.

★ ★ ★

It marks the escape of the Jews under Moses when the waters of the Red Sea parted just long enough for them to cross.

DRAMATIC STRUGGLE

Its rituals commemorate a dramatic struggle for freedom and annual rededications to the principle of liberty.

The Seder table is set with the best dishes, linen and silver the family can afford. Just before sundown the mother lights the candles, and all members of the family gather around including the young children for a festive meal and ceremonial.

Each step of the Seder is prescribed by tradition and each item of food has a symbolic meaning.

★ ★ ★

As a part of the reading in the Passover prayer book, known as the Haggadah, the youngest child asks, "Why is

House Votes to Limit City Income Taxes

2 New Bills Include Election Requirement; Excises Excluded

LANSING (AP) — The House passed and sent to the Senate yesterday a pair of bills to limit city income taxes — including a requirement that all such taxes be approved by a vote of the people.

Other key provisions of the bill, as passed by the House, would be a statutory tax limit of 1 per cent on residents and ½ per cent on nonresidents.

The second bill would bar cities from imposing any form of any excise tax except on income.

The tax package is a part of Gov. Romney's program.

It was approved with bipartisan support after surviving an effort by House Democratic leaders to postpone action by sending it to the ways and means committee.

A series of amendments to prohibit any tax on nonresidents was offered by Rep. William Hayward, R-Royal Oak.

The amendments were defeated.

BILL DEFEATED

Earlier, Hayward's own bill to limit local income taxes was defeated.

The main bill sets up a "uniform local income tax act" which all cities, after Jan. 1, 1965, would be required to adopt in order to levy an income tax, subject to approval by voters.

The referendum requirement was added in a floor amendment by Rep. Wilfred Bassett, R-Jackson.

★ ★ ★

Bassett said he expected his amendment to be unpopular with city officials of Jackson who are considering enactment of an income tax.

CHANGE OKAYED

The amendment was approved by a 68-30 vote.

The bill was adopted 67-36 after a series of other amendments were defeated.

News Flash

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (UPI) —The freighter Mormacpine, fighting a spreading fire in No. 4 hold at sea southwest of Bermuda, sent a second urgent message to the Coast Guard today as the fire spread. A Coast Guard cutter and a motor vessel were expected to rendezvous with the Mormaspine later today.

HELP FROM TUGBOATS — What's left of the shattered tanker San Jacinto is being towed to port by the tug Lambert's Point (see arrow, upper right). The tanker was blasted apart by an explosion yesterday. The stern section is being hauled to Newport News, Va. At left, the tug Eugene Moran stands by to lend assistance.

Hulk, Crew Under Tow to U.S. Port

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP)—The severed stern of the tanker San Jacinto, wallowing at the end of a tow rope, inched toward port today with 35 crewmen who spurned rescue to stay with their ship.

★ ★ ★

Just after midnight, the seagoing tug Lambert's Point and its pitching, yawing charge still were more than 100 miles from their destination, Newport News. Their speed was three knots.

But the Coast Guard said the San Jacinto's stern was riding well in six-foot seas and was in no immediate danger.

Barring bad weather, tug and tow are expected in harbor about noon Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Capt. Harold J. Titus of Elmira, N. Y., and his men were reported dry, comfortable and in good spirits aboard the hulk.

The American tanker, steaming south off of Chincoteague Island in the Atlantic, snapped in half early Wednesday, when rocked by an explosion as its cargo tanks were being cleaned.

★ ★ ★

Chief Steward Martin Dotilla, one of the men who left the San Jacinto in a lifeboat to take the ship's papers, apparently died of a heart attack after being picked up by a nearby merchant vessel.

County Engineer Outlines $6.3-Million Building Plan

A $6.3-million building program at the Oakland County Service Center has been proposed by County Engineer Joseph Joachim to meet projected space needs for the next five years.

The engineer's report was prepared and submitted to the County Board of Auditors at that body's request.

It is left up to the auditors to recommend how the program can be financed.

The actual decision whether and how to proceed with the building program would have to be made by the County Board of Supervisors, and by the taxpayers if any special millage is sought.

Included in the program is a recommendation to proceed immediately with plans to construct the second, and major phase of the Children's Village at a cost of an estimated $2.5 million.

The first phase of the village construction was launched Wednesday. It comprises the first three units on the 50-acre site.

The second phase calls for an additional 12 buildings for 320 youngsters by 1970.

Meanwhile the auditors want

Weatherman: Dress Warmly Easter Sunday

Flowered bonnets may top new hairdos, but the weatherman said warm suits or topcoats will be in order for Easter Day as he forecasts partly cloudy and cool with temperatures in the mid-30s.

There's a chance of occasional light snow falling on the Pontiac area tonight and tomorrow with temperatures climbing into the high 30s tomorrow. Tonight's low is forecast as 15 to 25.

Temperatures will average about 5 degrees below the normal high of 48 and normal low of 32 during the next five days.

Precipitation will total less than two-tenths of an inch for that period.

About one-half inch in light snow fell in the downtown area during the night and early morning.

Temperatures dropped to a low of 19 prior to 8 a. m. today. By 2 p.m., the recording was 31.

LBJ to Stay in U.S. Until VP in Office

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department has informed Congress that President Johnson has decided "not to leave the United States while the office of vice president remains vacant."

This advice was in a letter from Asst. Secretary of State Frederick G. Dutton to a group of congressmen who had suggested a meeting between Johnson and President Charles de Gaulle of France.

A copy of the letter was released today by Rep. Robert F. Ellsworth, R-Kan., one of the congressmen who suggested the de Gaulle-Johnson meeting.

Dutton said that Johnson had reached "a firm decision" against leaving the United States while the vice presidency is vacant, except in event of "some crises not now foreseen."

★ ★ ★

"This decision," Dutton wrote, "is based on a sound regard for our constitutional system, and the department would not feel justified in urging him to do otherwise."

MEETING UNLIKELY

Dutton said that in view of Johnson's decision and of de Gaulle's refusal to come to the United States, a meeting between the two leaders was unlikely this year.

The Newark Evening News had published a story about the letter, and said Johnson does not intend to set foot outside this country until a president and vice president are sworn in next January.

This determination is one of the reasons why Johnson did not make some effort to meet with the French president when de Gaulle recently visited Mexico and the Caribbean, the News said in a dispatch from Washington.

Reds Claim Promise to End Air Violations

Two Downed Fliers Appear Okay After Being Held 17 Days

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP) — The Russians today freed two U. S. airmen whose reconnaissance plane was shot down by a Soviet fighter over East Germany March 10. Both appeared to be in good health.

Communist East Germany asserted they were "expelled" after the United States gave assurances that strict orders had been issued to prevent a recurrence of air violations.

An announcement repeated a Soviet charge the plane was spying, a charge denied by Washington.

Released after 17 days of U.S. diplomatic pressure were Capt. David I. Holland, 35, Holland, Minn., and Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, Philadelphia.

★ ★ ★

Their companion, Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, Detroit, was released March 21.

All three parachuted when their RB66 penetrated 20 miles into East Germany on a training flight and was shot down. Welch was injured in landing.

HANDED OVER

Holland and Kessler were handed over at 2:58 p.m. (8:58 a.m. Pontiac time) to U.S. authorities at the Western allies' checkpoint at Helmstedt, on the 2nd—PG 1—96TC-5-2

There was no announcement of where they had been held.

Welch had been confined in a Soviet military hospital at Magdeburg, 120 miles southwest of Berlin.

★ ★ ★

In Johnson City, Tex., President Johnson expressed gratification that the fliers were released and "that this matter has been sensibly settled."

'VERY HAPPY"

Kessler's mother, Mrs. Abraham Kessler, exclaimed in Philadelphia that she was "very, very happy he was released by East Germany today on the eve of Passover."

School Board Gets Report

Committee Suggests October Millage Vote

An October election on a five-year school millage proposal was recommended to the Pontiac School Board last night by a citizens study committee.

The Pontiac School Study Committee okayed a millage increase over the present extra voted levy of 8.27-mills, but did not recommend a specific amount.

But the study committee agreed with an administration study that 2.91 might be needed in addition to renewal of an existing 8.75 mills.

This would be subject, however, to the "many uncertainties" in projecting school district income, cautioned Dr. Robert Turpin, chairman of the subcommittee that drafted the report.

Moves Studied on N. Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has carefully studied proposals for direct military action against North Viet Nam, says Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

While not ruling out the possibility of such a move, he said any action along this line would only supplement the main task of wiping out Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

He said military action "particularly against North Viet Nam, in order to supplement the counterinsurgency program in South Viet Nam" was one of the options placed before President Johnson last week after McNamara and Gen. Maxwell Taylor returned from Viet Nam.

"This course of action — its implications and ways of carrying it out—has been carefully studied," McNamara told the National Security Industrial Association in a speech last night.

"Whatever ultimate course of action may be forced on us by the other side, it is clear that actions under this option would be only a supplement to, not a substitute for, progress within South Viet Nam's own borders."

★ ★ ★

The secretary said the situation in South Viet Nam "has unquestionably worsened" since last fall, but that the new government of Gen. Nguyen Khanh is working on military and civilian programs to improve the situation.

RECOMMENDATIONS

He said Johnson had approved 12 recommendations he and Gen. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, made after their tour of Viet Nam.

1st Candidate for Judgeship

John E. McGrath, Waterford Township attorney and justice of the peace, today announced his candidacy for a Circuit Court judgeship.

McGrath, 38, of 1311 Edgeorge said he will seek nomination in the Aug. 4 primary election for one of the two recently created judgeships of the 6th Judicial Circuit.

JOHN E. McGRATH

He is the first announced candidate for the nonpartisan election.

A Denver University law graduate, McGrath has been a practicing attorney in Waterford Township since 1953. He twice was elected township justice of the peace and presently is serving in this capacity.

He is a member of the state and county bar associations and currently serves on the Justice Courts subcommittee of the State Bar Association's court administration committee.

ACTIVE IN COMMUNITY

Active in community affairs, McGrath serves on the township's youth Assistance committee and was the first president of the Highland Homes Improvement Association.

He is a past president of the Optimist Club of Lakeland and last year served as Optimist Lt. Governor for Zone 8, the state's largest district.

Commenting on his candidacy, McGrath said he had a sincere desire to be a Circuit Court judge and that, if elected, he would strive to uphold the dignity of this high office with integrity and humility.

"I neither seek nor want the endorsement of any political party," he added. "I do seek individual endorsement of all people for my responsibility shall be only to the people and to the law."

McGrath and his wife, Virginia, have two daughters; Mary, 9, and Terri, 7.

to build a new wing at the courthouse complex. At an estimated $800,000 construction cost, it comprises the second largest single project in the engineer's report.

★ ★ ★

"It should be emphasized that these are tentative recommendations," said Joachim, "and this report should be considered an interim measure to fill a current and immediate need for information relative to our physical growth needs . . ."

ORDERLY GROWTH

He urged "that consideration be given to proceeding with a long-range development plan, coupled with short-range development programs for the orderly growth of the service center."

Joachim also included in his report the following recommendations:

- Assuming that the second phase of the Childrens Village will be completed prior to 1970, that the present Childrens Center building be totally remodeled and expanded to house social welfare functions at a cost of $440,000.

★ ★ ★

- That the Department of Public Works and Drain Commission be moved into the present Welfare Building after it has been remodeled for about $10,000.
- That Cooperative Extension Services be moved from 1 Lafayette, when that building is disposed of, and relocated in a new building at the service center to be built for about $80,000.
- That a new Central Services Building be constructed to house the maintenance operations for $220,000.
- That a $100,000 addition be made to the Central Garage.
- That $1.3 million in expanded utilities and site work at the service center be built to serve new facilities. New roads, parking lots, water mains sewers and drains would be included.

★ ★ ★

The program also includes $660,000 for a new county health center in South Oakland County, although part of this money already has been earmarked in county budgets.

RECOMMENDED

A 29-acre site in Southfield has been recommended by the supervisors' health committee.

The report refers to a need for a new county jail and chronic disease hospital at the service center on Telegraph and further additions to the courthouse complex sometime after 1970, although no cost estimates are made at this time.

Auditors said the report covers all foreseeable building needs of the county in the immediate future.

Joachim recommended that his current review of space needs be replaced soon with a more detailed study projecting well beyond 1970 and "reaching for the ultimate growth capacities of the service center."

WSU REPORT

He predicated his report on a space needs analysis prepared for the county last year by Dr. Louis Friedland, Wayne State University professor.

lett presented the millage report.

The future of Pontiac's state-equalized valuation prevented recommendation of a specific millage, said Dr. Turpin.

He added that this was the main point of disagreement among committee members.

Dr. Turpin described the next five years as a critical period in forecasting state valuations for the school district.

According to Howlett, the committee thought the school board could better set the final millage figure after state-equalized valuations are known in June.

The report recommends an October election rather than a normal June vote because of the many issues to come before voters this year.

A short term — five years — millage was also recommended by the citizens group. Dr. Turpin explained that this would enable all voters to pass on the question.

(Any millage beyond five years is restricted to property owners by the new state constitution.)

The citizens study pointed to "the continued upward trend of personnel costs" and expected yearly increases in school expenditures.

"The committee agreed the school budget should make provisions which will allow our system to continue to keep abreast of modern educational trends and the advancing educational standards," Dr. Turpin said.

Don't Mind Weather; It's Easter Contest Time

BIRMINGHAM — Weather prospects being what they are, Easter egg hunters and kite flyers may find themselves tripping over snowman builders at Eton Park tomorrow.

The weatherman warned today that there's a chance of light snow.

However, both the Jaycees and the Recreation Department are continuing with plans for their contests which annually herald spring.

The Recreation Department had scheduled its kite flying event for last Saturday but changed its mind when the morning gave indications the day would be snowy and windy.

★ ★ ★

The day turned out to be mild and excellent for getting kites up into the air so the children came anyway, prizes or no.

ANOTHER STAB

They will get another stab at the award ribbons tomorrow if the weather permits. The contest for youngsters 5 through 12 years of age is to begin at 1:30 p.m.

The Jaycee-sponsored Easter egg hunt is set for 10 a. m. at the park.

Open to those between the ages of 3 and 9, the contest is expected to attract about 5,000 children.

★ ★ ★

A giant Easter bunny will appear to help the hunters and award prizes to those who do the best job.

Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, will speak at the 16th annual meeting of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

The banquet is scheduled for 7 p. m. April 22 at Devon Gables. Tickets are to be distributed next week.

Rev. Ernest Thomas of the First Methodist Church will be among some 1,000 laymen and ministers studying the role of the layman at a conference April 3 and 4.

The representatives of Michigan's Methodist churches will meet at Michigan State University.

Carl E. Larson

Memorial service for Carl E. Larson, of 4830 Ardmore, Bloomfield Hills, will be 2:30 p.m. Monday at Kirk in the Hills Church, Bloomfield Hills, with private interment following.

Mr. Larson, former owner and manager of Beardsley Furniture and Home Furnishings, Detroit, died early today after a long illness.

He was also owner of the Executive Building, Birmingham, and a member of the Highland Park Rotary Club and the Economic Club of Detroit.

Surviving are his wife, Frances G; two sons, Donald B. of Alamagordo, N.M. and Richard M. of Plymouth; a brother; three sisters; and three grandchildren.

Memorial contributions can be made to the Kirk in the Hills Memorial Fund.

Woman Slain in Street

Citizens Ignore Killing

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirty-eight respectable citizens—according to a police court—looked on, but did nothing as a killer stalked and stabbed a woman in three separate attacks spread over more than half an hour in the Kew Gardens section of Queens.

The sound of the householders' voices and the sudden glow of their bedroom lights interrupted the slayer twice and frightened him off. He returned each time, sought the woman out and stabbed her again.

No one telephoned police during the assaults. One witness phoned after the woman was dead.

Asst. Chief Inspector Frederick M. Lussen, in charge of police detectives in Queens, says he still is shocked by the events of two weeks ago today.

★ ★ ★

Lussen, a veteran of 25 years of homicide investigations, told a New York Times reporter:

"As we have reconstructed the crime, the assailant had three chances to kill this woman during a 35-minute period.

He returned twice to complete the job. If we had been called when he first attacked, the woman might not be dead now."

The victim was Catherine (Kitty) Genovese, 28, a bar manager, who was stabbed to death as she returned home from work at 3:20 a.m. She lived on quiet, middle-class, tree-lined street.

★ ★ ★

Six days after the slaying, police arrested Winston Moseley, 29, and charged him with homicide. They said he admitted he killed Miss Genovese because he had an urge to kill. Two days ago, a judge committed him to a hospital for mental observation.

'TIMES' SAID

The Times, which published a detailed account of the case today, said in part:

Miss Genovese noticed a man at the far end of a parking lot where she had left her car. . . . Nervously, she headed up Austin Street . . . . . The man grabbed her. She screamed . . . Lights went on in a 10-story apartment house . . . . Windows were opened, and voices punctured the early morning darkness.

Miss Genovese screamed: "Oh, my God, he stabbed me! Please help me! Please help me!"

★ ★ ★

From one of the upper windows in the apartment house, a man called down: "Let that girl alone."

WALKED AWAY

The assailant looked up at the man shrugged and walked down Austin Street . . . Miss Genovese struggled to her feet.

— The lights went out. The killer returned to Miss Genovese — now trying to make her way to her apartment. The assailant stabbed her again. "I'm dying — I'm dying," Miss Genovese shrieked.

Windows were opened again and lights went on in many apartments. The assailant got into his car, parked nearby, and drove away. Miss Genovese staggered to her feet . . . The assailant returned.

★ ★ ★

By this time, Miss Genovese had crawled to the rear of an apartment building and sought safety by entering one of the doors. The assailant, after trying two doors, found her slumped on the floor at the foot of the stairs. He stabbed her a third time — fatally.

FIRST CALL

It was 3:50 a.m. by the time the police received their first call. It was from a male neighbor of Miss Genovese.

Police were on the scene in two minutes.

"I didn't want to get involved," the man sheepishly told the police.

★ ★ ★

Two weeks after the crime, witnesses in the neighborhood —made up mostly of homes in the $35,000 to $60,000 price range—find it difficult to explain why they didn't call police.

Police said most told them they had been "afraid" to call.

'Playboys' for Church

PASCO, Wash. (AP) — In this automated age, someone must have goofed and punched the wrong button.

A large pouch of mail arrived yesterday at the Riverview Methodist Church. The address tag showed it was from the Methodist Publishing Co., Nashville, Tenn.

Inside were 100 copies of Playboy magazine for Massachusetts subscribers.

TV Watcher Receives Visitor From Space

HARTFORD, Ky. (AP)— Anna Fay Autry often reminds her friends of a visit she received from outer space while she was watching television.

A half-pound metallic object crashed through the window of her home.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Autry sent it to geological-survey authorities in Washington. They said it was a meteorite.

Boundary Change Is Protested

A Pontiac post office employe protested to the school board last night over recently approved boundary line changes for junior high schools.

V. C. Shafer of 20 Moreland disputed a boundary change which transfers the area in which he lives from Eastern to Lincoln Junior High School.

He claimed that his children would have to walk nearly two miles to Lincoln, while Eastern was only a mile away.

Shafer said his basic concern was that the walking would be in a north and west direction on a zig zag course which he claimed would be a "terrific problem in the winter."

★ ★ ★

He added that he had walked mail routes in the area for years and knew from first-hand experience.

BALANCE ENROLLMENTS

In previous discussions, school officials said that the boundary lines were changed to balance enrollments between the two junior high schools.

The school board recently set new boundary lines for all six junior high schools in order to establish an attendance area for the new Baldwin Junior High School.

Board President William H. Anderson promised Shafer, "We will take another look at this."

★ ★ ★

In other business, board members heard complaints on library service for elementary schools.

STUDENT'S PARENT

A letter from a Washington Irving School parent declared that the school's library was not "properly equipped and staffed."

Two shortages — trained personnel and books — were noted by the parent letter.

William J. Lacy, assistant superintendent, answered the complaints.

★ ★ ★

He said that because Irving School was a small school (156 children) its library reflected it. Lacy compared the Irving library with the one at Webster School, which has an enrollment of 759 students.

COMPARISON

Irving has 1,602 books and the services of a trained librarian one day a week, while Webster has 4,824 volumes and a librarian two days a week.

He added that the two schools were about equal in the library service they receive. Lacy did say that special efforts are made to bring the smaller schools' libraries up to the coverage of larger schools.

"If anything," commented Lacy, "Irving has the better proportionate coverage."

City library service was also the topic of another letter presented to the school board last night.

★ ★ ★

Signed by four principals — Vida L. Walker, Whitfield; Wilma Muldowney, Irving; William J. Condon, Rogers; and Perry Ninotti, Willis, the letter suggested free use of city library facilities by non-resident students.

The principals suggest extending school library services if city facilities are not available.

Point's Oldest Grad Is Retired General, 98

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Brig. Gen. William J. Glasgow of El Paso — who will be 98 years old on May 18 — now is the oldest living graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y.

The general became the oldest living graduate with the death last Wednesday of Col. John Power Hains, also 98.

Recalls Legislature

Rocky Handed Setbacks in New York

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller suffered serious defeats on two major issues during the 1964 session of the New York State Legislature, which ended early this morning on a note of anger and bitterness.

He claimed success on eight issues he listed as important.

But the setbacks were enough to cause the governor to recall the Republican-controlled Legislature to a special session April 15 for additional consideration of his program.

Rockefeller, a candidate for the Republican nomination for president, apparently is concerned that the homefront reverses pose a threat to his bid for national leadership.

The legislators rejected Thursday major Rockefeller program bills that would have:

Repealed a law providing for price fixing on retail liquor sales and eased other state controls over liquor, controls the governor says have bred graft and corruption.

Repealed the state's 51-year-old full-crew laws, which mandate the minimum size of crews on railroad trains and are blamed by the railroads as a cause of what they term featherbedding. He said defeat of the repeal bill was "a matter of deep distress to me." Organized labor opposed repeal.

* * *

The governor also had called for "strong and effective action" to tighten state laws designed to prevent conflicts of interest between the public and private activities of legislators.

A compromise measure was passed but Rockefeller has not indicated whether it met his standards.

Within minutes after adjournment, the governor called a news conference and announced he was calling the special session April 15 for reconsideration of the rejection of his liquor-law proposals.

* * *

He declined to say what else would be on the agenda. There were reports he would insist on a vote on repeal of the full-crew laws and consideration of a tougher ethics bill.

Rockefeller told a news conference at 1:35 a.m. EST):

"The Legislature has adjourned without taking effective action on essential reforms of the state liquor laws. Accordingly, I am summoning the Legislature into special session to act on this subject."

* * *

While complaining of lack of action on the liquor and full-crew issues, he said that "many important and significant programs were acted on at this session" on his recommendations.

Retired Doctor Dies

TEMPLE, Tex. (AP)—Dr. Albert C. Broders, 78, a retired staff physician at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., who was famed for development of a tumor malignancy test accepted throughout the world, died Thursday of a stroke.

Nab Ex-Detroiters in Bank Robbery

DETROIT (AP) — The FBI Thursday reported the arrests of two former Detroiters and a Los Angeles man in a $6,800 California bank holdup last Friday.

All three had flown here Tuesday from Los Angeles and had been living at the home of a relative of one of them, the FBI said.

* * *

Charged in federal warrants with the holdup of the Boulevard Bank of Sepulveda, Calif., were Peter D. Cooke, 26, and Alan J. Ginther 28, former Detroiters, and John Barzacchini, 22, of Los Angeles. They were held for federal court arraignment.

Hat Firm Exec Expires

NORWALK, Conn. (AP) — James B. Lee, 48, former president of the Frank H. Lee Hat Co., died Thursday after a brief illness.

Explains Position to Board

Pontiac School Chief Speaks on Issues

Explaining he wanted to "stand up and be counted," Pontiac School Supt. Dana P. Whitmer outlined to the school board last night his position on various education bills in the legislative hopper in Lansing.

He said he had described his position in letters to Rep. Arthur J. Law and Sen. Farrell E. Roberts. "My reaction to certain bills," Whitmer characterized the letters, noting they were his personal opinions and not that of the board's.

Specifically, the superintendent objected to a series of four bills that would provide for binding arbitration in labor disputes involving public employes, including school teachers.

". . . a board of education, representing the electorate, cannot discharge their function properly if binding decisions are made by an arbitration board," wrote Whitmer.

★ ★ ★

Proposed legislation to establish a minimum salary for Michigan teachers drew qualified support from the local school head.

ESTABLISHED PAY

Whitmer agreed that a minimum salary of $4,800 and a maximum salary of $9,600 over a ten-year period was desirable.

But additional state funds must be made available to local school districts to finance such a proposal, he cautioned.

"It would not be possible for many local school districts to do this from property tax revenues," he said.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac has a minimum salary of $5,000 and pays $8,400 after a ten-year period to instructors with a master's degree.

RELATED TOPIC

On a related topic — revision of the state school aid formula — Whitmer urged approval.

Commonly called the united educators bill because of its widespread support from educators, this proposal would change both the method of state aid distribution, but also the level or amount.

It approved and financed accordingly, this bill could give the Pontiac school district a $385,926 chunk of cash, upping per-pupil state aid from this year's $172 to $189.

★ ★ ★

The united educators bill, according to proponents, is a new approach to school financing, giving the state a greater share of the costs, but also inaugurating a long-sought principle.

This principle, which would be backed by cash if the bill received legislative approval, recognizes the local school district's effort to support itself as shown by its extra voted millage.

House Bill 514, establishing a guaranteed 45-minute lunch period for all teachers, is viewed by Whitmer as a case where "the cure might be worse than the illness."

Local teachers recently approached the school board asking for this measure, but failed to gain a decision from board members.

★ ★ ★

Whitmer agrees with the desirability of the bill, but feels that a mandatory requirement in state law is not desirable.

OTHER EMPLOYES

In order to guarantee such lunch periods, lay persons — untrained for working with large groups of children — might have to be employed.

"Questions of school liability would certainly appear," writes Whitmer, "school districts have the obligation to properly supervise children during the time they are under the jurisdiction of the school."

The Pontiac superintendent supported a bill to increase the compulsory school attendance age from 16 to 17 or 18, but qualified his backing.

★ ★ ★

"The idea is good providing that the educational programs offered in schools for those pupils who are potential dropouts at age 16 have an occupational-vocational training emphasis.

NOT COMMON

"This) . . . is currently uncommon among schools in Michigan."

Such vocational programs are expensive and additional state support would be required, Whitmer said.

Although the superintendent said that he had only seen capsule versions of some of these school bills, he said that he expressed his reaction to the "basic ideas."

3 Die in Crash Near Denver

Truck, Bus Collide; Drivers, Girl Killed

DENVER (UPI) — A Continental Trailways bus and a Colorado State Highway truck collided at a rural intersection about five miles west of here last night, killing both drivers and a 4-year-old girl.

Thirty-one persons were injured, but the Colorado State Patrol said none was in critical condition, and only eight were hospitalized.

The victims were identified as Earl O. Chamberlain, 55, Denver, veteran driver of the Continental "Golden Eagle" eastbound from San Francisco; Carl Lewis Hicken, 32, Hideaway Park, Colo., driver of the dump truck-snow plow vehicle; and Pamela Joe Grant, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Grant of Louisville, Ky., a passenger with her parents on the bus.

The patrol said the truck, northbound across four-lane NS 6 at a rural intersection, pulled out in front of the bus, headed toward Denver on the highway.

★ ★ ★

The bus smashed into the truck nearly broadside on the left side, officers said, knocking it 75 feet from the point of impact.

TO HOSPITAL

The injured were taken to Lutheran Hospital in Suburban Lakewood, where all but the eight were treated and released.

The patrol said Chamberlain's legs were amputated and his chest crushed in the twisted wreckage of his bus. Hicken and the little girl died of head and internal injuries.

The 4-year-old victim's 36-year-old mother, Mrs. Charlene Grant, suffered minor cuts. Her brother, Dan, 3, suffered lacerations of the right ear. Neither was admitted.

★ ★ ★

Continental officials called the accident a "tragic situation."

Roger Williams, regional assistant general manager of operations, said the truck apparently pulled out on the highway directly in front of the bus.

State Police Detective to End 26-Year Career

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police Detective Sgt. Russell Katsinger of the East Lansing Fire Marshal Division will retire April 3 after more than 26 years of service. Kitsinger, a native of Grand Rapids, joined State Police in 1937 and previously served at the Wakefield, Jackson, Jonesville, Battle Creek and Bay City posts.

Members of the Nebraska Legislature are elected on nonpartisan ballots.

Letter Writer Asked to Reread Editorial

We reproduce a letter from our good friend CLELAND B. WYLLIE as the first communication in today's Voice of the People. We suggest Mr. WYLLIE reread the editorial. It doesn't say the "intercollegiate program is supported by state funds," and to us it doesn't imply it.

★ ★ ★

His second paragraph is absolutely true and Michigan can basically thank FIELDING H. YOST, the greatest financier that ever had a finger in the athletic pie anywhere—with FRITZ CRISLER a worthy successor and disciple.

★ ★ ★

We disagree with the third paragraph completely. If Michigan could realize $50,000 to $75,000 rental a game, three Lions' games would mean more than $150,000 and The Press suggests this be turned over to the State in tiny appreciation for the hundreds of millions supplied the grand Ann Arbor institution.

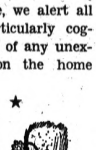
★ ★ ★

Thus, Mr. WYLLIE, it would "directly affect the Michigan taxpayer."

Mates of Mad Hatters Need to Walk on Eggs

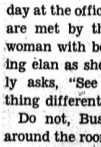
As a public service, we alert all husbands to be particularly cognizant at this season of any unexpected revelations on the home front.

★ ★ ★



Like when you zero in after a hard day at the office and are met by the li'l woman with becoming elan as she coyly asks, "See anything different?"

Do not, Buster, look frantically around the room or even venture an evasive tentative question.



Do, Buster, look at her head. Because no matter what you see on it besides hair, it's a hat.

She's got herself a new Easter bonnet, and you'd better get pretty excited about it.

Red Cross Activities Benefit Entire Nation

By Presidential proclamation, March is observed as Red Cross month.

The 2,800 chapters of the organization touch the lives of more Americans than any other nonofficial agency.

★ ★ ★

During the past year one of every four Americans was a Red Cross member; one of every seven served as instructor, volunteer or blood donor; one of every eight received direct service or instruction from the society; and one of every three families of U. S. servicemen was a beneficiary of it.

★ ★ ★

Although Red Cross received an inestimable amount of donated time, its activities represent vast expenditures of money — $99.2 million for last year.

★ ★ ★

We pay our deep respects to this worthy social force with commendation on the significant place it has attained in the humanitarian sphere of America.

Urban Renewal Move to Initiate Trend?

It is with satisfaction that we view the long-awaited first move on Pontiac's urban renewal front.

The 23 - unit, single - dwelling housing project, for which ground was recently broken, is expected to have several model homes ready for inspection by May 1.

★ ★ ★

This development is being undertaken by a River Rouge building firm, and will establish a modern and attractive residential nucleus on the east side of the City.

★ ★ ★

Now that the log jam on urban renewal development has been broken, it is to be hoped that other entrepreneurs will see the prime possibilities offered within the redevelopment framework and follow the lead taken.

★ ★ ★

Once started, ventures both residential and commercial tend to snowball, leading in time to the rejuvenation of Pontiac's central area envisioned by civic leaders.

Diamond Game Is Easy to Play

Clairvoyance No Must— but It Might Be Useful

There is probably no easier contest to enter than The Press baseball matching of wits—or would you say, matching of hits? You don't have to send in a box top or any stuff like that.

★ ★ ★

You merely summon the Diamond Muse, and ask her what player with 50 or more times at bat will be top hitter in the American League on the evening of May 15—the windup of the contest. Ask her also what his batting average will be at that time.

If the Muse is having a night off, and you can't contact her, ask any woman, if you are a man. Of the 16 contests thus far, the women have outscored the men with the greatest of ease.

★ ★ ★

At this point you are in business, and have merely to observe the ground rules that appear below.

But don't delay—too long. Each year, despite well-meant warning, a considerable number of entries stray in after the deadline—for this contest, it's noon, April 13—and have to be disqualified.

You'd feel pretty bad if yours was one of the laggards, and it turned out that it was the winning combination—but lay sadly interred in an envelope bearing the epitaph "Better Never Than Late."

★ ★ ★

Oh, yes. If your homework turns out to be right, you'll become sole owner and proprietor of a $500 U. S. Savings Bond—unless, of course, you're a husband. In that case, the old prerogative "To the victor belong the spoils" will likely be subject to reapportionment.

★ ★ ★

- Everyone is eligible to enter contest but Press employes and members of their families.
- Families may send in as many entries as there are members.
- Write choice of player and average on postal card, or card of similar size, with your name and address.
- Entries should be addressed to The Press "Baseball Contest," and may be mailed or deposited in the Huron Street drop box.
- Contest closes Monday noon, April 13, and all entries must be in hand—not just postmarked—by that time.
- Decision of judges will be final on all points related to contest.

David Lawrence Says:

Must Clarify Rights Bill on Clubs

WASHINGTON — Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Democrat, and Sen. George Smathers of Florida, Democrat, engaged in a little debate the other day in the Senate on the subject of "private clubs" and whether the latter would be required by the proposed civil rights bill to open their doors to guests, irrespective of color, creed or national origin.

LAWRENCE

It happened that the discussion arose after the Florida senator read into the record a dispatch by this correspondent pointing out the difficulties that may confront private clubs which furnish lodging or meals or other services to transient guests.

Sen. Humphrey stated that the quotations in the dispatch were accurate, but that he differed with the interpretation placed upon them.

He is convinced that the private clubs are exempted even if they do serve meals or rent their rooms to guests of members who are transients in interstate commerce.

★ ★ ★

But he added:

"If the proposed statute is not adequate to give that kind of club an exemption, and to make it crystal clear that it would be exempt, I would favor writing in clarifying language to that effect."

COMFORTING WORDS

This is a comforting reassurance, because no matter how the senators themselves may interpret the proposed law, the courts reserve the right to read it literally and to pass judgment on the actual words contained in the statute.

Sen. Humphrey said during the course of the debate in the Senate that the key phrase in Subsection B is the reference to an establishment "which serves the public."

He declared that a private club loses its identity as a private club only when it "serves the public."

★ ★ ★

The Minnesota Senator furthermore stated that it is only when facilities are open to everybody that it could be said that a club "serves the public."

PRECISE POINT

But this is precisely the point made by the hotels and motels.

They claim to be engaged in private business and assume the right to say who shall or shall not be admitted to their premises.

The other side of the argument is that a hotel now has presumably become clothed with a "public" character just because it accepts persons who travel in interstate commerce.

★ ★ ★

This, however, is exactly what the private clubs also do, subject to restrictions of their own, and it is, moreover, what the hotels and motels believe they have the constitutional right to do.

So the question really turns on whether the Congress of the United States can, under the Constitution, pass laws at will regulating the conduct of any business association or enterprise or activity merely by declaring that its patrons move in interstate commerce and calling it a "public" facility.

The enforcement problems are bound to be complex, if not unsolvable.

For the basic truth is that Congress is attempting to take away the rights of privacy from persons who are engaged in business and has also come very close to an interference with the rights of many organizations hitherto considered to be private and selective in their relationship to their patrons.

'Nonfired' Ruby Lawyer Boosts Client's Morale

NEW YORK — Big Joe Tonahill, who may be remembered in Texas court annals as the lawyer Jack Ruby did not fire, gave his imprisoned client's drooping morale a shot in the arm the other day.

CONSIDINE

"There are so many reversible errors in this case that it is difficult to enumerate them all now," he wrote Ruby.

"We are going all the way for you Jack. Hold on to your courage and dignity. You have shown that you have plenty of that as well as honest-to-God red-blooded American patriotism."

Tonahill presented the Court of Criminal Appeals with a six-page, 36-point document listing what the defense considers the errors committed by Judge Joe E. Brown.

★ ★ ★

Here are some of them:

- The court erred in failing to grant defendant's motion for change of venue.

TV WITNESSES

- The court erred in failing to disqualify the prospective jurors who had become (TV) witnesses to the offense.
- The court erred in failing to discharge for cause the jurors who had an opinion as to the defendant's guilt.
- The court erred in failing to allow the defendant to inquire of prospective jurors whether they were Democrats, Republicans, or members of the John Birch Society.

★ ★ ★

- The court erred in forcing two unacceptable jurors upon defendant, after defendant had exhausted his peremptory challenges.

SUBSTITUTE JUDGE

- The court erred in substituting Judge J. Frank Wilson during Judge Joe Brown's short illness . . .
- The court erred in allowing the testimony of (Dallas cops) in evidence after the defendant was under arrest (and without legal advice).
- The court erred in failing to allow Rabbi Silverman to testify as to facts going to show and support his opinion as to the defendant's mental status.

★ ★ ★

- The court erred in refusing to admit into evidence the case filed against Lee Harvey Oswald for the murder of John F. Kennedy.

We'll see.

Editorial on Stadium Use Prompts U. of M. Reply

The editorial in your Feb. 14 issue headed "Big Ten Won't Permit Pro Ball in Stadiums" contains the strong implication that the University of Michigan's intercollegiate athletic program is supported by state funds.

★ ★ ★

The athletic program here is self-supporting and has been for as far back as memory can recall. All buildings used for intercollegiate sports or intramural activities have been built with funds from intercollegiate athletics. And these receipts also cover salaries and other expenses.

★ ★ ★

So you can see that the Big Ten's attitude about professional football in no way affects the Michigan taxpayers, who in fact, have been saved lots of money for years because the U. of M.'s athletic program is a self-supporting one.

Writer Objects to House Bill No. 89

Lake area dwellers beware of legislation recently introduced in the House of Representatives in Lansing called the "inland lakes and stream" bills. Its sponsors claim that it will prevent illegal dredging and filling and the building of marinas injurious to the rights of other water-front owners. They picture large activities and indicate that they are "after the big violators." Beware because the proposed legislation applies to any inland body of water that will float a log in the springtime.

★ ★ ★

It will require that a citizen obtain a permit from Lansing costing not more than $50.00 to do many things most lake-front owners in Oakland County now do. Do you want to place a load of white sand on your beach area? You will have to get a permit.

If the people in any of several state or local agencies of government object to what you want to do or do not like the way you part your hair, your permit application must be denied as the bill is now written, if they pocket-veto your request.

★ ★ ★

Answers Queries on County Treasurer

In reply to "Ex-Pontiac Resident" concerning County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks, the picture was taken a few years ago but one should look at Mr. Sparks' accomplishments, not his picture. Mr. Sparks' age is of no consequence, but he is 67 years old. How many men accomplished their best in their eighties?

★ ★ ★

The writer questioned Mr. Sparks' health. He has certain infirmities known to all men, yet I have yet to hear him complain or shirk his duties as county treasurer.

★ ★ ★

It is not difficult to see any man of his caliber. You only have to call, state your business and he will give you all the time in the world. The fees charged by the county treasurer's office are set by state law to defray expenses created.

'Authoritative' Story of Assassination

Jackie Picks Writer for Book on Tragedy

WASHINGTON AP) — The "authoritative" book on events surrounding John F. Kennedy's assassination will open with a White House reception and close with the President's widow receiving foreign dignitaries five days later in the black draped executive mansion.

It will be written by William Manchester during the next three to five years. Mrs. John F. Kennedy personally selected him for the job although she had never met him, a family announcement said Thursday.

* * *

Manchester, managing editor of the Wesleyan University Press at Middletown, Conn., is the author of "Portrait of a President," a book on Kennedy published in 1962.

Mrs. Kennedy, members of the slain President's family, President Johnson and eyewitnesses to the Nov. 22 slaying of Kennedy in Dallas will be interviewed for the book.

Mrs. Kennedy hopes the book will be the authoritative story of her husband's death.

The announcement said:

"Because versions of what occurred Nov. 20-25 already have appeared and because it is understood other articles and books are in the course of being prepared for later publication, these arrangements were made with Mr. Manchester in the interest of historical accuracy and to prevent distortion and sensationalism."

* * *

Manchester said Thursday he plans to open the book with the Nov. 20 judiciary reception in the White House and conclude it with Mrs. Kennedy's reception of foreign dignitaries there on Nov. 25, after Kennedy's funeral.

He said he will begin conversations with her as soon as possible "while her recollections are fresh."

SURPRISED BY REQUEST

Manchester told newsmen he was surprised when Pierre Salinger, former White House press secretary, relayed Mrs. Kennedy's wishes in February. He said he had not met the former First Lady, even when he had interviewed the late President for his 1962 book.

"I have mixed feelings about this," he said. "It's an honor and a (privilege and a solemn responsibility. But I don't think anyone who remembers the anguish of those days will want to relive them."

Manchester said he and his publisher, Harper & Row, have agreed that profits "beyond a moderate return on investment on the first printing by both the author and the publisher" will go to the John F. Kennedy Library in Boston.

He said he has taken indefinite leave from his university post and will move to Baltimore with his family to work on the book.

If Speaker Sticks to Rules, Cuspidor Faces Scrap Heap

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Speaker John W. McCormack insists on strict enforcement of the House rules, one of the first casualties could be his new marble-lined brass cuspidor.

No one expects the easy-going McCormack to insist on sticking to the letter of the laws of decorum. But he got technical Thursday to straighten out several Republicans who were blasting a speech made in the Senate by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.

* * *

He referred them to Section 371 of Jefferson's Manual, a part of the rules, which says it is "a breach of order" for a member in House debate to take notice of something said in the other body. A footnote adds that it is improper for a representative to "refer to a senator in terms of personal criticism."

McCormack's shining spittoon would become an unnecessary ornament if two other sections were enforced. So would quite a few other cuspidors around the House chamber.

Section 763 prohibits smoking in the chamber, but the members get around it by the simple process of standing in the rear of the chamber where they can see and hear the proceedings.

NO SMOKING

Section 364 interdicts "hissing, coughing, spitting, speaking or whispering to another" while a member is trying to make a speech. Since someone always has the floor during sessions, the rule would make the cuspidors useless for their intended purpose.

* * *

Anyone who has observed the House long will agree that Section 359 is flagrantly flaunted. In fact, a footnote admits that the ban against speaking "impertinently or beside the question, superfluous, or tediously" is not enforced.

Other rules disregarded with great regularity say members should sit down when the speaker "is seated in his chair"; should not walk around the chamber during debate and should not read papers.

* * *

But since precedent and practice govern just about everything in Congress, some of the rules of decorum have been turned inside out by tradition.

Other Candidates Gallant

State Woman in Senate Race

LANSING (AP) — The two GOP gentlemen were gallant when they learned that pretty, personable Mrs. Elly Peterson, the first lady of the Republican Party, had tossed her chapeau in the ring.

Mrs. Peterson, 49, of Charlotte, Republican national vice chairman, announced Thursday she is seeking nomination for the U.S. Senate. She's the first Michigan woman to do so.

★

"My husband thinks I can win," she said. "That's good enough for me."

Also seeking the GOP nomination are Edward Meany Jr., Grand Haven businessman, and James O'Neil of Livonia, member of the State Board of Education and Ford Motor Co. planning executive.

PRAISED BY OPPONENTS

Both praised the lady for stirring up interest in the Republican primary, but had some "buts."

"Elly is attractive, articulate and knowledgeable," said Meany. "But she is not too well known outside the party.

★ ★ ★

"I think her entry will spark up the primary and create a tremendous amount of interest that won't hurt any of us."

At Washington, Democratic Sen. Philip A. Hart, whom all three are hoping to unseat, was a little less gallant.

SAYS HART

"A candidate shouldn't be judged on the basis of sex, color or religion," Hart said.

If Mrs. Peterson wins the nomination, Hart said, he expects to discuss the issues in the way he would with any other opponent.

★ ★ ★

"Elly is a very close friend of mine and a most welcome addition into the party primary," O'Neil said.

"But," O'Neil said, "she's really going to have competition. It will be anybody's race down to the wire for the nomination, especially since the governor and state headquarters has agreed to keep hands off and not endorse anyone."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Peterson irked both her male rivals with one comment at her coffee-and-rolls announcement session.

"I decided to get in after the polls showed the party needed a stronger candidate than those who had announced," she commented.

BACKED BY HUSBAND — Mrs. Elly Peterson of Charlotte, vice chairman of the Republican National Committee, announced yesterday that she will seek the nomination as the party candidate to oppose Democrat Sen. Philip A. Hart. Mrs. Peterson is the first woman from Michigan to seek a senatorial post. "My husband thinks I can win," she said, "and that's good enough for me."

Reputation Is Hard to Shake

JEFFERSON, Ga. (AP)—While six candidates for sheriff told a rally of their intentions to rid Jackson County of its car-thieving reputation, whould-be thieves were trying to steal an auto outside the courthouse.

Witnesses said the two young boys escaped after a chase, when the forum broke up last night.

The six candidates are seeking to succeed Sheriff John Brooks, who is under a five-year sentence in connection with a car theft ring.

Aviatrix Completes 2nd Leg of Flight

SANTA MARIA, Azores (AP) —Jerrie Mock landed at this mid-Atlantic way station today, completing the second leg of her solo flight around the world.

Smiling broadly, Mrs. Mock, 38, Columbus, Ohio, jumped from the cockpit of her single-engine Cessna, shook hands with Gen. William Boylan, commander of Lajes Air Base on nearby Terceira Island.

She completed the 2,500-mile overwater flight from Bermuda in 13 hours and 3 minutes.

'Take Away My Boots, but Leave the Hat'

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — It's easy to see that Jack Ware, 75, is a retired rancher.

He has been a patient at Parkview Episcopal Hospital for five weeks. The nurses finally got Ware to remove his boots at night, but his ten-gallon hat stays on. "I'm naked without it," he said.

City Manager Reineck Completes Hectic Year

By DICK SAUNDERS

Remember Little John? He was Robin Hood's right hand man in a place called Sherwood Forest, where bows and arrows were thicker than Republicans at an Eisenhower testimonial.

Pontiac, too, has its Little John.

He's City Manager John F. Reineck who today celebrated his first anniversary in the field of municipal administration.

Like his legendary counterpart, Reineck has survived by being alert and on his toes.

★ ★ ★

One year ago today, Reineck was hired as an administrative assistant on the recommendation of former City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

PAST EXPERIENCE

He was a 20-year veteran of the U.S. Army and had retired with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. He had plenty of experience in military administration and some in private business.

Reineck knew what it meant to work under pressure.

"I made it clear when I came here," he said looking back over the last 12 months, "that it was not the money I was interested in. It was experience in municipal administration I wanted.

★ ★ ★

"What I got was a five-year crash course in one year."

PAST POSITIONS

Reineck's "crash course" has seen him hold the following positions since last March.

● Administrative assistant.

● "Interim" city manager (a title bestowed upon him by the City Commission although no such position is provided in the city charter).

★ ★ ★

● Assistant city manager twice (once as acting manager and once as full-time assistant manager).

● City manager.

● Personnel Director and Personnel Officer.

PROBLEMS

His course has been charted by the suspension of Stierer last August, the resignation of former Assistant City Manager David S. Teel and firing of Stierer in September, the hiring of City Manager Robert A. Carter in November and Carter's resignation last month.

The personnel titles come as the result of former manager Carter's resignation last month.

Shortly before Carter left, the commission passed resolutions which (1) put the city manager in control of personnel and (2) authorized him to appoint a personnel officer to manage personnel records.

Carter appointed Reineck. Carter then resigned. Reineck was appointed city manager and thus, holds both titles at this time.

SMALL AND EAGER

The manager is a small, solidly built man who is eager to learn his job and do it well.

His 20-year military career is spattered with impressive assignments.

JOHN F. REINECK

Reineck spent five years immediately following World War II in Berlin, first as a security officer for Gen. Lucius Clay, commander of U. S. forces in Europe, and then for Gen. Maxwell Taylor, commander of U.S. forces in Berlin.

★ ★ ★

He was a U.S. Army Intelligence Officer in the Pentagon for several years, served as Armor Adviser to the Vietnamese Army for two years and finished his military career at 2nd Army Headquarters, Ft. Meade, Md., where he was in charge of Army Reserve and National Guard Affairs for six Eastern states.

NOT ROUTINE

After one year in Pontiac, Reineck, 51, of 10704 Nadine, Huntington Woods, conservatively reflects that "this has not been what you'd call a routine type of evolution in city administration."

Perhaps the real story of Reineck's inaugural in city management is best found in off-the-cuff remarks he made when the pressure was highest.

● When Stierer was suspended last August: "I accept the post of interim manager strictly on a temporary basis. I'm not qualified and don't want this job on a permanent basis."

★ ★ ★

● When Pontiac's next City Manager Robert A. Carter was arrested on a Flint grand jury indictment Jan. 28: "I think I'll put in for a transfer to Viet Nam."

(Reineck's son, currently an army adviser there, had been wounded in a border skirmish a few days before.)

● When Carter resigned, and Reineck became city manager: "Someday I'm going to write a book in two volumes; one volume on Saigon and the Pentagon, and one volume on Pontiac."

Reineck's wit, if nothing else, has pulled him through.

★ ★ ★

What have been his biggest headaches?

NO SATISFACTION

"The Police Department and urban renewal," he said. "Because neither can be settled in a way that satisfies everyone."

Reineck still occupies the assistant manager's office at city hall. The manager's office stands empty, but for the furniture.

"It's been quite an experience," Reineck reflected. "It was worthwhile in the sense that it forced me to do many things I wouldn't be doing yet under normal circumstances.

"I don't know if I'd want it as a steady diet, though."

HIS FUTURE

What about his future? There's an election coming April 20.

"It's perfectly all right with me if they hire a full-time professional," Reineck noted. "A man should have a good three to five years experience before he tries to handle the manager's job in a city this size."

City employes filed in and out of the administrative wing today, offering their congratulations — some almost sympathetically.

★ ★ ★

One friend honored Reineck with an anniversary gift which brought a laugh from the manager and some of his closer associates. It was a wall plaque.

It read: "My work is so secret — I don't know what I'm doing."

Teen-Age Girl Killed by Truck

JACKSON (AP) — Wendy Bennett, 14, of Wyandotte was killed Thursday when she was hit by a tractor - trailer truck after being thrown from a car following a collision on the I-94 freeway, about a half mile north of Jackson.

★ ★ ★

State Police said Wendy was a passenger in a car driven by her mother, Edith, 40. The car crossed the median of the freeway and collided head - on with another auto driven by Harlan Wireman 36, of Homer.

Wendy was thrown from the car and was apparently getting up from the pavement when she was struck.

BOTH INJURED

Mrs. Bennett and another daughter, Kathy, 9, were both seriously injured. They were taken to Jackson Mercy Hospital and were later transferred to University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

State Pilot Crash-Lands Navy Plane

MARSHALL, Mo. (UPI) — A Michigan Naval Reserve officer rode his twin-engine S2F antisubmarine plane in for a crash landing near here last night after his copilot parachuted to safety.

The pilot, Lt. John R. Brandstatter, 30, of Grand Rapids, Mich., landed the plane on the Roy Tennill farm near Slater, Mo., about eight miles northeast of here.

Copilot Cmdr. C. L. Reymann, 40, Akron, Ohio told authorities he parachuted from such a low altitude that the chute opened only seconds before landing on the Helen Fizer farm, about one - half mile from where the plane landed.

The two officers, both members of the Detroit Naval Reserves, were reportedly shaken but not injured.

★ ★ ★

They said both engines went out within a few minutes of each other.

NEAR DESTINATION

They left Grosse Ile, Mich., Naval Air Base late yesterday afternoon and were about 35 minutes from their destination, Richards - Gebaur Air Force base near Kansas City, when the engines failed.

★ ★ ★

Cause of the engine failure was not known.

Rally at Pontiac Northern Hears Band, Girls' Choir

By SUSAN KILLEN

Before the close of the short week at Pontiac Northern High School, a special assembly was presented. Taking part in the presentation were the PNH band and the girls choir.

★ ★ ★

The program opened with the "Star Spangled Banner," and continued with "March Shenandoah," both presented by the band, under the direction of Eldon Rosegart.

Next, Easter selections were performed by the girls choir, under the director of instructor Judith Parry.

As the program progressed, a flute trip was presented. Robert Carr, Mary Huemiller and Phyllis Hardy performed "Number 5" by James Hook.

★ ★ ★

These students also performed in state competition and received a one rating for their efforts.

OTHER NUMBERS

The entire band performed other numbers for the audience of Northern students, such as "Elsa's Processional," "Study in Steel," "Cha Cha for Band," and "Percussion in Review."

A cornet ensemble closed the program. This group was composed of Jerry Rowden, Robert Church, Gary Forrest, William Comstock, Daniel Hinson, Richard Adomitis, and Robert Grand with drum accompaniment by Ronald Course.

Although school was let out Wednesday afternoon, juniors and seniors returned for a brief period Thursday morning.

★ ★ ★

Juniors came to receive their class rings which were ordered late in the fall and seniors returned to order their senior announcements in preparation for the close of the year.

School at PNH will resume after the Easter holiday on Wednesday.

WBHS Fetes Senior Girls

Service Club Plans to Tour Oakland U.

By SUE GOTSHALL

A banquet for 60 senior girls and their mothers was held at West Bloomfield High School Monday night.

★ ★ ★

The affair, sponsored by the Keego Harbor Business and Professional Women's club, included dinner and a lecture and featured a band.

The American Field Service club, sponsored by French instructor Nancy Bulgarelli, will be taking a trip to Oakland University next Saturday.

An OU exchange student will lecture and guide AFS members on a tour of the campus. Lunch will then be served and club members will be allowed to swim in the University pool.

★ ★ ★

John Kern and Kristina Morrison have been chosen to play the leads in the coming junior-senior musical. The play, entitled, "The Dreamer," involves a teen-age girl who is constantly daydreaming.

★ ★ ★

Her daydreams threaten to ruin her chances for a college scholarship. The setting for this musical is a small town and the characters are high school seniors.

★ ★ ★

Faculty directors are music Instructor Merlin Asplin, English instructor Myrtle Kolden and Latin instructor Claudia Baker.

Milford High Okays New Alma Mater

By BOB GORSLINE

Milford High School has a new alma mater, written especially for it by an anonymous person.

★ ★ ★

By a near-unanimous vote, the student body accepted the song after hearing the choir perform it several times.

Three MHS students attended the state solo and ensemble festival at Grand Rapids Christian High School. Laura Goodell and Marilyn Glancy both received first division ratings on their piano and clarinet solos, respectively.

James Shotey and Melvin Nick were awarded a second division rating for a cornet and French horn duet. These people were eligible to go to this competition because they received first division ratings at the district festival.

★ ★ ★

The school forensics competition was held recently. Winners in the various categories were Gabriel Cherem and Laura Goodell, original oration; Carol Rose and Edith Williams, humorous reading.

OTHER COMPETITORS

Others were Frank Youd and Robert Simmer, declamation; Patrice Buck and John McCarthy, interpretative reading; and Robert Gorsline, extemporaneous speaking.

★ ★ ★

These students will represent Milford in the Wayne-Oakland County league forensics contest at Northville April 11.

Mother Goose on Trial at WTHS

THE GOOSE IS COOKED — Corrupting kiddies' minds is the charge brought against Mother Goose in the Waterford Township High School annual Junior Showboat production. She will go on trial in the WTHS gym next Thursday and Saturday at 8 p.m. Juniors rehearsing their parts here are (from left) Sally Sword of 5351 Coomer, Frank Van-Husen of 1387 Alhi, John Hills of 4475 Forest and Gois Goff of 130 South Tilden.

By MARY BARNINGHAM

Charged with corrupting kiddies' minds, Mother Goose will go on trial April 2 and 4 when the Waterford Township High School Junior Showboat is presented.

Traditionally, Showboat has been produced by the junior class. This year the plot centers around collecting evidence to convict Mother Goose, the trial itself, and, in the third act, the secret of Mother Goose's success.

General chairman of the production is Sandra Malone. Faculty adviser is Gilbert Bergsrud, WTHS speech instructor.

Heading the script, ticket and publicity committees are Bruce MacDonald, William Walter and Thomas Somers, respectively. Refreshments are being planned by Sandra Rick and costumes by Pamela Davison.

★ ★ ★

Scenery cochairmen are Sally Crocker and Patricia Kems. Pamela Morgan and Sandra Malone designed the program. Choreographers are Mrs. Marjorie White and Mrs. Finn Reed.

TWO PERFORMANCES

The two Showboat performances will begin at 8 p. m. in the WTHS gym. Admission is 60 cents and all proceeds will be used to finance activities in the senior year.

Students at WTHS find their classes being shuffled about from room to room due to the building addition now under way.

The south entrance to the school has been blocked off to allow work to begin on the lobby. New facilities, including an auto shop, music room, science labs and new classrooms, will be added.

★ ★ ★

Several classes which normally meet in upstairs classrooms are being held in the teachers' conference room and other available rooms.

Brandon Picks Top Students

Scholars Are Listed as Best From School

Brandon High School has announced those students in the class of '64 who have placed top in their scholastic achievement.

★ ★ ★

Beverly Austin, daughter of Mrs. Elsie Austin of 326 South, Ortonville, was named valedictorian with a grade point average of 3.9.

Active in school activities, she has been class secretary, a member of the yearbook staff and served on the "Hawk Herald" staff.

She received the DAR good citizenship award and was the Betty Crocker winner for Brandon High School. Upon graduation, Beverly plans to attend Pontiac Business Institute.

★ ★ ★

Daniel Sellers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Sellers of 1400 State Park, Ortonville, was named salutatorian with a grade point average of 3.63.

CLASS TREASURER

Daniel is treasurer of the senior class, a member of the contemporary history club and varsity baseball team.

★ ★ ★

Upon graduation he intends to enter pre-law study at Oakland University.

Others listed in order of their point standing are James Sherman, Carol Martin, Harold Webb, Kendall Weeks, Kathy Borst, Theresa Ball, Meg Woodington, Tom Troyer and Carmen Sue Miller.

★ ★ ★

All held an average of 3.0 or above.

Short Week Curtails St. Michael Activities

By MICHAEL OMANS

Because of the short week due to Easter vacation, activity at St. Michael High School was somewhat curtailed.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday however, the student body gathered in St. Michael Church at 9 a. m. and participated in the Biblical service before confessions heard by St. Michael priests.

The service included readings from the Old and New Testaments. Readings were taken from Daniel, Ezekiel and Luke. At 9:30 a. m. confessions were heard and at 10:55 a. m. students assembled again as they helped in the celebration while three senior boys read the Passion.

Those reading were David Greenless, who narrated the Passion; George Lavoie, who read the speaking parts other than those of Christ; and John Wargel, who read the part of Jesus Christ.

★ ★ ★

The staff of St. Michael's newspaper, The Michaelite, finished preparing its June book, The Shamrock, for publication.

EASTER VACATION

Easter vacation will see members of St. Michael's faculty journey to various parts of the country for special conventions.

Mother Mary Marua, SSJ, St. Michael's principal; and Sister Mary Hillerine, SSJ, business instructor, will journey to Atlantic City, N. J. for the national Catholic education convention.

Two other faculty members, Sister Marie Paul, SSJ, social studies instructor; and Sister Mary Callista, SSJ, English instructor, will attend the National Catholic library association convention at Detroit's Hotel Statler-Hilton.

★ ★ ★

Next Friday the St. Michael student council will present "Spring Fever" in the parish hall from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. Dress is casual.

8 From Kettering at 'U.N.'

By JOY McREYNOLDS

Representing the philosophies of Cuba, Holland, Sweden and the United States, eight Waterford Kettering High School students recently attended a mock United Nations meeting in Richmond, Mich.

Joining with some 300 students from southern Michigan secondary schools, the representatives debated resolutions from the viewpoints of their assigned countries.

Highlights of the event included a mock general assembly and lectures by such noted authorities as Mrs. Phillip Gentile, official United Nations observer.

Waterford Kettering students participating included Steven Bone, John Dunham, Thomas Hampton, Diana Irish, Trudy Moore, Stephan Morch, James Nicholie and Benjamin van Leeuwen.

★ ★ ★

Occupying Wednesday morning was the annual Easter assembly sponsored by the Hi-Y. Addressing the student body was the Rev. Hugh Clifford White, of the First Methodist Church in Plymouth.

On hand with the sounds of the season was the WKHS a cappella choir.

Launching a drive to raise money for the summer foreign exchange program, Waterford Kettering and Waterford Township High Schools will present "Bon Voyage" in the WKHS gym Monday night.

★ ★ ★

The dance will be open to students of both schools and will begin at 8 p. m. Identification cards are required, however, and the guest policy will be in effect.

News Events of the Week From Other Area Schools

AVONDALE

By PAT KLEIN

Some 25 members of the Avondale High School Future Homemakers of America will help celebrate national FHA week April 5 to 11.

★ ★ ★

Throughout the United States, there are over half a million members in 11,000 high school chapters.

There are over 12 million women working in the U. S. on jobs outside the home, in addition to carrying their responsibilities as homemakers.

FHA chapters prepare the girl in advance for the dual roles of homemakers and job holder.

★ ★ ★

Training includes home management, good family relations, individual development and community service.

EXCHANGE STUDENT

Avondale students welcomed their second exchange student this week. Girmay Tedla is from Ethiopia and has been in the U. S. for six months.

Formerly attending Rochester High School, he comes from a family of nine, six boys and three girls.

Girmay is interested in track and received his Rochester letter in cross-country, also breaking two of the schools track records in cross-country.

ROCHESTER

By FRED ENNIS

Comedy basketball will be presented at Rochester High School when the varsity club plays the Harlem Ambassadors April 4.

★ ★ ★

Sponsored by the American Field Services, all proceeds will go to benefit the AFS foreign exchange student fund.

For those who are not familiar with the Ambassadors, they are a professional touring comedy basketball team, some of whom are veterans of the Globetrotters.

Student council representative elections will be held during homeroom period next Friday.

★ ★ ★

Delegates will be selected from the sophomore and junior classes to represent juniors and seniors respectively on next year's council.

REQUIREMENTS POSTED

Candidate requirements are posted around the school. The deadline for turning in recommendations and petitions is Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Members of the student council election committee will have further information for those who wish to inquire.

★ ★ ★

"Falcon Follies" an annual review of RHS talent, will be presented April 14 at Central Junior High under the guidance of Frank Irish, director of vocal music at RHS.

WALLED LAKE

By SUE GERVAIS

The junior class of Walled Lake High School has begun work on the junior-senior reception slated for May 8.

★ ★ ★

On this night the juniors entertain the seniors with a short skit and a semiformal dance.

Bob Smart, president of the junior class has appointed Cheri Grinnell, Jan Bales, Dennis Rogers and Dana Kott as committee chairmen.

Sponsors are Mrs. Thomas Dolsen, William Makowsky, Glenn Ruggles, Mrs. Thomas Sands, Robert Shafer and Bruce Trimmer.

★ ★ ★

The band, orchestra, choir, boys chorus and girls glee club recently attended district festivals at Hazel Park, Troy and Pontiac Northern high schools. Each group received a first division rating on their performances.

Frosh at Our Lady Plan April Dance

By LYNNE SPRINGER

The freshman class of Our Lady of the Lakes High School is sponsoring a dance entitled "April's Dawn", April 1.

★ ★ ★

The dance will be from 8 to 11:30 p.m. and will feature Dave Prince and other guests. Dress is casual.

★ ★ ★

Those students who win ribbons at Derby High School will enter the annual Detroit Metropolitan Science Fair April 4 at Cobo Hall.

★ ★ ★

A paper drive, sponsored by the juniors and sophomores, will be held April 3, 4, and 5 for the benefit of the library. Everyone is welcome to bring unwanted paper to a truck located behind the grade school building.

Beatles' Reign Won't Last Teens Think

Gilbert Youth Research Co.

The reign of the Beatles may be loud, but it won't be long, say American young people.

Forty-five per cent of the 1375 teen-agers we interviewed recently think the long-haired boys from Liverpool will stop waving their mops in front of audiences in a year or less; 18 per cent give the Beatles two years of popularity.

Whatever their future may be, the Beatles remain at the top right now, and an amazing 85 per cent of the girls say they're Beatle fans.

The boys aren't as impressed by the quartet—only 58 per cent of the young men like them.

★ ★ ★

Almost all the teens—97 per cent — have seen the Beatles perform at one time or another.

VOICES ATTRACT

Just what makes the Beatles —and Beatle fans—tick? Approximately one-third of the boys and one-fourth of the girls are attracted to the Beatles by their voices, and 24 per cent of the boys and 30 per cent of the girls like the shaggy-dog look of the young singers.

Many of the teens think the Beatles' appeal stems from the fact that they're somehow different.

"They are original and really cool," says Stephen John Ryan, 16, of Arlington, Ohio.

Honor Roll Set at Clarkston

Name Top Students for Marking Period

By BOB COBB

Clarkston High School has incorporated an honor roll for all students attaining no grade less than a "B" for a six weeks marking period.

Seniors on this honor roll for the last marking period include JoAnne Berry, Corrine Blackett, Sheryl Brand, Dan Craven, Ron Fusilier, Jon Gary, Paulette Hawkins, Carol Kieft, Rick Lausten, Judy Leach, Angelika Lehmann, Calvin Morgan, Nancy Stanquits and Carol Thompson.

Junior class members included Carolyn Cooper, Gary Fitch, Sue Hampshire, Cynthia Humphrey (all A's), John Maier, Fred Schwarze, Carol Storn and John Wilberg.

Sophomores who were included in the list are Cynthia Alexander, Star Bailey, Gale Getzan, Charlene Hardy, Royce Hyatt, Joanne Kriss, Tom Masters, Gwen Ostrom, Sue Peters, Jodie Strother, Cathy Verbeck, John White, Cheryl Wilton, Jim Wooley and Kathy Yarbrough.

★ ★ ★

Many freshmen made the honor roll. They were John DiPietro, Mike Daugherty, Larry Duncan, Kathy Eudis, Jack Frost, Faith Gustafson, David Hammack, Linda Heath, Lynn Howey and Chris Maier.

Others were Sue Powell, High Rose, Sharon Rundell, Jack Sanson, Neil Stalker, Joette Schultz, Mike Schweitzer, Rebecca Smith, Roberta Tate, Carolyn Trent, Virginia Underwood, Clay Wilson, (all A's) Priscilla Wice and Brenda Woodworth.

PCH Students Taking Break for Easter

By DIANE OLSEN

Students of Pontiac Central High School are now on an Easter vacation which is to last until next Wednesday.

During that time various groups will be preparing for coming events.

These groups include the girl's synchronized swimming club, the spring play cast and the music department.

The a capella choir, directed by Robert Setterlind of the vocal music department, received a superior rating last Friday at Pontiac Northern in competition with other schools of the area.

The choir, plus the sophomore, junior and senior girl's ensemble and the boy's quartet, performed an Easter musical assembly for Central students last Wednesday before vacation.

★ ★ ★

Senior Dick Taylor won the grand prize of the senior division in the local science fair held at Pontiac Central recently.

He is now eligible to enter his project in the regional floor fair of the Detroit Metropolitan Science Fair scheduled for next Saturday and Sunday.

FACULTY TEA

Last Tuesday after school the Pontiac Central faculty held a tea in the library for the 1964 basketball team and the coaches.

Seniors will be measured for the caps and gowns Wednesday. They will be black in color.

Seniors earning all A's and thereby on the principal's honor roll are Cheryl Coffing, Russell Hickson, Alton LaVallis, Joe McNeely, Richard Northcross, Janice Phillips, Lenore Schoonover, Sarajane Serwin, Cheryl Wilton and Sherill Wharff.

Juniors on the list are Robert Bell, Suzanne Froede, Linda Harrell, Cheryl Hight, Leon Huntly, Bonnie Lilly, Beverly Nosanchuk and Tom Stearns.

★ ★ ★

George Ellenwook, Connie Weber and Roberta Wine were sophomores attaining all A's.

JUNIOR IS WINNER

Junior Linda Harrell was named local winner in Time Magazine's 28th annual current affairs contest. Also receiving awards were juniors George Melnik, Richard Post, Tom Stearns and Nelson Tucker.

The Pontiac Central High School band received a superior rating recently in competition with 21 bands at Hazel Park High School.

AP Report Rates Press as Tops During Kennedy Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—Wes Gallagher, general manager of the Associated Press, said in his annual report today that the assassination of President Kennedy "saw the press rise to its finest hour in keeping the world informed."

Gallagher said news coverage of the tragedy "demanded the best in everyone and it received the best."

★ ★ ★

"The Associated Press and its members threw more resource into the covering of the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy than any single news event in its history," Gallagher said.

The report, noting a net gain of 727 newspapers and broadcasters receiving AP news around the world, was mailed to members in advance of The Associated Press annual meeting here April 20. President Johnson will be the principal speaker.

RAPS CRITICS

Gallagher's report dealt in part with some critics who attacked the press for its coverage of the assassination and funeral.

★ ★ ★

"Criticism revolved around the mass reporting of reporters, cameramen and broadcasters, the relatively quick designation of Lee Harvey Oswald as the accused assassin and Oswald's own murder a few hours later," he said.

"Mass reporting of some major news events is becoming so unruly that it puts all media in a bad light. The profession badly needs a solution and is groping for one.

★ ★ ★

"This should not obscure the basic fact, however, that at the time of the assassination the nation demanded and needed to know every detail of the events in Dallas and Washington. The quick identification of Oswald and his background shut off rumors which could have fueled ideological hatreds to the point of possible violence."

Gallagher said all media met the challenge of supplying answers to questions quickly and accurately.

"Legal critics who sought to treat the death of a president in the same framework as an ordinary murder ignored the realities of the situation," he said.

★ ★ ★

"Nor should the press be asked to share the blame when lax police work made it possible for an outsider to kill Oswald."

Gallagher noted that a team of Associated Press top writers and editors captured the drama of the death of the President in a book, "The Torch Is Passed," which was offered to readers by more than 700 AP members.

3 MILLION COPIES

"The members sold 3 million copies in the United States and abroad it has been reprinted in Danish, Swedish, Dutch, Italian, Japanese, Korean and Spanish," he said.

★ ★ ★

Referring to Viet Nam, which he called the biggest story in the foreign field, Gallagher said events bore out the day to day reporting by the AP.

"During the year," he said, "some reporters and columnists who flew into Viet Nam for a couple of weeks, raised questions and insinuations about the repertorial and analytical ability of the resident correspondents. While much of the criticism was not directly aimed at AP coverage, it tended to draw up an indictment against all correspondents regularly based there.

"Subsequent events, including overthrow of the Diem government and instability of its successor, bore out the day to day reporting of our men on the spot."

BIG NEWS YEAR

Gallagher said that while the Kennedy assassination overshadowed all other news events, 1963 was a tremendous news year in which the AP was called to use its resources to the utmost.

"Segregation - integration disputes which have been described as the worst domestic crisis since 1865 swept both North and South," he said. "It was a time for cool, objective reporting and that is what this continuing story received."

★ ★ ★

Recalling Viet Nam, the death of Pope John, African turmoil, the warmup for the presidential election and other events, Gallagher said:

"All these stories and much more flowed over Associated Press wires in a torrent of 3 million words a day."

SEES TREND

"The trend was toward the Associated Press," Gallagher said.

★ ★ ★

"The year's performance can be measured in concrete terms with a net gain of 727 in the number of newspapers and broadcasters who are members in the United States or subscribers in other countries.

"Photo subscribers at home and abroad grew by 440 as wirephoto turned in its greatest margin of news superiority over its competitors in history.

★ ★ ★

"In world services the most notable gains were in Latin America."

GREATER INTEREST

Gallagher said that in his visits to members in 35 states during the year he found a greater interest than ever in new methods of handling news.

★ ★ ★

"This decade is certain to see more changes in our profession than have taken place in the first half of this century," he said. "This is a healthy climate for the Associated Press and its members and a great opportunity for us all. The Associated Press aims to be in the forefront of those changes."

Gallagher said some of the ways the AP expects to take advantage of the opportunities are indicated by these developments in the past year:

1. Improvement of the news and photo services through critical examination by special task forces of AP editors of newspaper and broadcast wires, and an intensive photo conference of AP photo editors and experts.

NEW ADVANCEMENTS

2. New technical advancements, notably the use of AP's computer system—the only one in the press association field—to produce textual matter for the news wires, in addition to its original function of tabulating stock market transactions.

3. Sharp increase in contributions to the news report by AP's ever-growing membership among broadcast stations.

"New assignments were made, especially on the general desk in New York, giving AP editors the time and responsibility to plan ahead and to develop suggestions for enterprise copy" he said.

★ ★ ★

"Those assigned to such responsibility follow the world and domestic news for the purpose of spotting areas that need backgrounding and explanation beyond the spot handling. They also suggest related and follow-up coverage."

Korea Leader Calls Home Right-Hand Man in Japan

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — President Chung Hee Park recalled his personal representative from Japan today in an attempt to quiet students demonstrating against the Tokyo talks to normalize relations between Japan and South Korea.

In Tokyo, Japanese government spokesmen said the departure of Kim Chong-pil, Park's right-hand man and top troubleshooter, would not affect the normalization talks.

★ ★ ★

Park recalled Kim as abuot 30,000 students demonstrated for the fourth straight day against the negotiations to patch up longtime enmity between the two nations.

The turnout, about 7,000 youths in Seoul and the rest scattered among 12 provincial towns, was less than half the size of the outpouring Thursday, when more than 60,000 students marched.

PAINFUL REMINDER

In government circles, where the demonstrations are a painful reminder of an aroused younger generation that toppled President Syngman Rhee four years ago, there was hope that the public displays might be tapering off.

Much of Seoul resembled an armed camp.

tapering off.

Much of Seoul resembled an armed camp.

★ ★ ★

About 300 teen-agers, wearing the traditional black uniforms of high school students, tried to tear down a barricade strung across the broad avenue in front of the capitol. This touched off a 10-minute clash with police in which one youth was bloodied by a flying club. The police managed to push the demonstrators back about 50 yards. The students threw a few rocks from that point, then marched off.

700 STUDENTS

About 700 university students lined up in front of Seoul's Bando Hotel, popular with Japanese, and stood there more than an hour chanting slogans, singing and shouting "Go home, Japanese!"

Kim, instructed to catch the first plane back Saturday, actually is not one of the official negotiators sent to seek normal diplomatic and trade relations with Japan. But his closeness to Park has made him a key figure in the negotiations.

The students and Park's political opponents want the talks suspended. They fear that concessions will be made giving Japan a grip on the Korean economy.

Hunt Spotter Plane Lost in Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A search began today for an L19 spotter plane with two U.S. officers aboard which disappeared in jungle mountain terrain near the Laotian frontier.

American military sources said the unarmed light plane was flying yesterday near Lao Bao, a village on the Laotian border about 400 miles north of Saigon. The area is only 20 miles from Communist North Viet Nam.

On board were an Air Force captain and an Army captain, the sources said. There was no indication of their fate.

Robert Frost Plaque Placed in Home Town

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A bronze memorial plaque depicting Robert Frost will be placed at the site of one of the poet's childhood homes in San Francisco.

Some 150 persons looked on Thursday as the three-foot-square plaque was unveiled by its sculptor, Francis M. Sedgwick of Los Olivos, Calif., and the poet's grandson, William Prescott Frost, of Eugene, Ore.

Outlook Gets Gloomy

Teen Woes Discourage Even Experts

(Editor's Note—This is the fifth and last dispatch by the national reporter of United Press International on the plight of American youth.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The discouraging thing about the teen-age unemployment crisis is that the people who are trying to solve it are becoming discouraged.

★ ★ ★

Not all of them will admit it publicly, but in private they talk nothing but gloom and despair.

They think events relentlessly are pushing millions of teen-agers into a blind alley of idleness from which there is no exit.

The worst factor is that a sizable number of the kids already have lost hope and don't care whether they find jobs.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Children's Bureau lays the following facts on the line:

● Twenty-nine per cent of the children who dropped out before finishing high school in 1962 could not find jobs.

● In 1960 two out of every three youths were living in cities, and by 1970 it is estimated the rate will be three out of four.

● The undereducated ones can't find jobs, spend their time mostly on the streets and provide an enormous recruiting pool for juvenile gangs.

● The American economy will have to provide between 19 and 21 million more jobs in the coming decade to soak up the teenagers coming into the labor market. Some estimates—probably a bit high—say that automation is eliminating 40,000 jobs a week.

UNCONDITIONAL WAR

President Johnson has declared unconditional war on poverty and is committed to solving the youth unemployment problem. But the question the experts are asking is—how and when? Most of them think only a crash program is the answer and they talk about spending $10 billion quickly.

They are ignoring the political facts of life. The Johnson administration, in this election year, is committed to economy even unto cutting down the White House electric bill.

Persons who expect Lyndon Johnson to come out now in favor of a billion dollars-plus appropriation for youth or anything else are either native or think the President is, which he isn't.

★ ★ ★

There has been considerable experimentation in a program to retain under educated teenagers to give them marketable skills.

WORKING WELL

Here and there they seem to be working fairly well. But the other day the Wall Street Journal came up with this report:

"Consider what recently happened at the Youth Career Development Center in Newark, N.J., a government sponsored pilot project aimed at finding new ways to combat teen-age joblessness.

"Social workers . . . arranged a short training course for would-be waiters and waitresses.

★ ★ ★

"The instruction ranged from personal hygiene to how to figure out the sales tax on a customer's check.

GOOD IDEA

"It seemed like a good idea, for the Newark papers were full of want ads for waiters. Several local restaurant owners even called the center promising to hire any of its graduates.

"But the course never got under way. Joseph Viviani, an official of the center, glumly tells why:

'We simply couldn't get enough youngsters who wanted to be waiters. I'm afraid that sort of work isn't glamorous enough and they would just as soon remain unemployed.'"

★ ★ ★

Viviani said only 11 per cent of the 14,000 youths who sought jobs through the center have been placed. But he thinks the rate would have been 25 per cent except for the fact he couldn't find any kids interested in certain types of work.

CASE HISTORY

Case history of a high school dropout as reported by Andre Fontaine in McCall's Magazine:

"Five days after his 16th birthday, Joe Young quit high school. Most of his marks were D's and he was failing English. Though he never admitted it to himself he could scarcely read.

Anyway, he was sick of being told what to do by teachers and he wanted to get out and do a man's work and earn some money so he could buy a car.

★ ★ ★

". . . He started looking for a job right away. He visited the employment gates of factories, hit up the corner gas station, finally began calling on the little shops.

SWEEPING JOB

After a discouraging month he got o job sweeping out a small printing plant. After six weeks he was fired because the owner couldn't afford him.

During the summer he got a job cleaning up debris for a house wrecker, but he was laid off when the job was finished.

"By late autumn, Joe was convinced he had made a mistake in quitting school. But he couldn't go back. He'd be a year behind his own class and would feel a fool with the younger kids.

★ ★ ★

"He couldn't face submitting himself to the authority again, to being a kid after he had been a man.

OFTEN UNEMPLOYED

"So he drifted, unemployed often, working occasionally on unskilled jobs in a pattern that would dog him the rest of his life."

Margaret Mead, the noted anthropologist, thinks the trouble is that our teen-agers are in too much of a hurry:

The casualties of our society . . . are the young people who do not take the needed time.

These are the young people who plunge into some form of substitute adulthood — race hot rods, dress like an artist rather than working at becoming artists, marry and become parents without ever growing up.

College Backers Are Seeking Funds

Financial support was being elicited this week from county residents for a community college campaign.

Wendell Brown, chairman of the Community College Citizens Committee (CCCC), said letters were sent 1,760 area residents seeking funds to conduct a campaign for the proposed two-year school.

Lack of time and almost no campaign money to spread information are considered the major factors in the defeat of the college question last year, Brown added.

A June 8 election date has been set for the three-part college proposal.

★ ★ ★

An initial 5,000 brochures as well as fact sheets on the college have been printed, he said.

Plan Detour on M66

IONIA (AP)—The State Highway Department has announced a 20-mile detour on M66 will go into effect April 1 between Ionia and Stanton in Montcalm and Ionia counties. The detour is in conjunction with a $1.4 million modernization of M66 and will be in effect all summer.

More than 4.5 million items are possessed by the Historical Society of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia.

Johnson Girls Were Friends of President Kennedy

(Editor's Note—This is the second article of a two-part series on the Johnson sisters life at the White House.)

By TOM NOLAN

WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Kennedy was a special friend to Lynda Bird Johnson and Luci Baines Johnson. He particularly enjoyed teasing Lynda about her boyfriend, Bernard Rosenbach, then a midshipman at the Naval Academy.

* * *

Several times he threatened to send Rosenbach on iceberg patrol in the Artic Sea or to minesweeping duty off the coast of Korea following his graduation.

"After all," he would point out. "I am the Commander-in-chief."

Each time the threat produced the desired results — a scream of anguish followed by laughter when the President could no longer contain his smile.

* * *

Now Lynda is engaged to marry Lt. (J.G.) Rosenbach at the White House this June.

AT THE MIKE—Luci Johnson likes to take part in political issues. During the 1960 election campaign, she made a speech on the part of the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

WORK EASIER

This makes it slightly easier for the Secret Service agents assigned to guard her, who are not now confronted with the problem of following her on dates.

Agents assigned to Luci may feel more unwelcome, however, for she has just recently begun dating.

Theatergoers laughed sympathetically last year as a president's teen-age daughter in Irving Berlin's musical, "Mr. President," bemoaned her lack of privacy by singing "The Secret Service Makes Me Nervous."

* * *

The song is a reality for President Johnson's daughters.

CONSTANT SCRUTINY

"They're holding up under the constant scrutiny pretty well," says one White House secretary. "I'd sure hate to trade places with them, though."

"I wouldn't want to be shadowed," a sorority sister of Lynda's at the University of Texas remarked. "That would drive me wild, especially on dates. What fun could that be?"

But until their father leaves office, the girls will be watched over night and day by Secret Service agents.

* * *

Protecting the young Kennedy children was relatively easy for the agents. Caroline, their time at the White House 6, and John, 3, spent most of or with their parents, to whom other agents were assigned.

HAVE EXPERIENCE

But the Secret Service has had experience in guarding young women of marriageable or dating age.

The last was Margaret Truman, now Mrs. E. C. Daniel of New York City. She had just turned 21 when her father became president in 1945. President Truman once wrote his sister:

"A guard has to go with Bess (Mrs. Truman) and Margaret everywhere — and they both spend a lot of time figuring how to beat the game, but it just can't be done."

* * *

In addition to "The Brigade" —the term applied by her classmates to the six agents while they were guarding Lynda at the University of Texas — the girls are often followed by curious news cameramen.

"I wish the photographers would stop following me," Luci has noted. "I'm running out of dresses to wear."

But Luci found out that sometimes the agents are handy fellows to have around.

Taking part in a weekend of religious conferences with 400 other teen-agers in Buck Hill Falls, Pa., last February, she was caught unprepared at the final ceremony by the announcement that a special collection to aid poverty-stricken Indians would be taken.

A Secret Service agent caught her frantic glance and passed a bill to her. Luci dropped it in the basket.

Both girls have gotten used to the agents by now and treat them almost like members of the family.

ONE REASON

One of the reasons behind Lyndia's switch from the University of Texas to George Washington University last January was her realization that of the six agents guarding her, five were married and had to be away from their families.

The main consideration, though, was that Lady Bird Johnson missed her daughter.

The Johnsons are a very close family. Lynda and her mother telephoned each other station-to-station almost every night while Lynda was away in Texas. The practice stopped when the Johnsons moved into the White House.

* * *

Mother, you just can't call the White House station-to-station," Lynda explained in a letter.

BANK ACCOUNTS

Mrs. Johnson gave both daughters their own bank accounts and allowances before they entered their teens. Both girls have been taught to buy their own clothes within budgets.

"Mother never tells us to be in at a certain time from a party or date," Luci recently told a friend. "How can you break faith with a woman who does that?"

Bomb Goes Off in Singapore

SINGAPORE, Malaysia (AP)—A bomb exploded in a manhole just outside the Singapore state palace grounds early today, digging a crater 5 feet deep and 7 feet across.

The blast was heard two miles away, but no one was hurt. Former U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, here on an Asian tour, was in a hotel less than a mile from the scene.

Police arrested a man found walking half a mile from the bomb site soon after the explosion.

Singapore's ceremonial ruler, the Yang Di-Pertuan Negara, was in the palace at the time.

After a preliminary investigation, authorities said they believed the bomb was similar to a gelignite time bomb that rocked a wing of the Raffles Hotel on March 7. No one was hurt in that explosion either.

BOMBING BLAME

The authorities were inclined to blame the bombs at the palace and at the Raffles, as well as the bombing of four cars late last year, on Indonesian saboteurs.

Indonesia is waging a campaign to end British influence in the new federation of Malaysia, of which Singapore is a part.

Jackie and Children Spend Ski Weekend

STOWE, Vt. (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her two children are in Stowe, Vt., for a weekend of skiing.

For Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3, the late President's children, it was believed to be their first visit to a ski resort.

Kin Make Apology for Assailant

TOKYO (AP) — The parents and older brother of U.S. Ambassador Edwin O. Reischauer's assailant apologized today for the youth's act.

* * *

They expressed their apology during a visit to the U.S. embassy. The attacker's father, Mistugu Shiotani, 65, told U.S. Minister John K. Emmerson:

"We have no words to convey our profound apologies to Ambassador Reischauer and the United States of America for our third son, Norikazu, who committed this grave offense, and for our own failure to provide him with adequate supervision.

"We pray from the bottom of our hearts for the speedy and complete recovery of Ambassador Reischauer."

* * *

Emerson told the family he would convey their message to Reischauer, who is recovering from the knife wound in his thigh.

The 19 - year - old youth has shown no sign of remorse, which is expected of wrongdoers in Japan. Those who show contrition are generally treated more leniently.

East German Seaman Jumps Ship to Turkey

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Turkish officials today questioned an East German ship engineer who dived into the Bosporus and swam to shore as his ship was entering the Black Sea en route to Russia. He asked for political asylum in Turkey.

Press reports said the East German was Georg Brajmong, 26, and that he fled yesterday from the East German Freighter Voker Gorelkehorts.

Gunman Takes $56,000 After Night in Vault

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — A man wearing pink gloves, tan overalls and silver lacquer in his hair took $56,000 in unemployment insurance payments from an office of the National Employment Service at gunpoint.

* * *

A woman cashier, Mrs. Joseph Watson screamed, pressed an alarm button and fainted when the vault door swung open Thursday and she saw the man standing inside with a gun in one hand and the money sack in the other.

* * *

The man ran down a flight of back stairs, stepped into a car and drove off.

* * *

Stanley Purdy, the NES zone manager, said the man must have entered the unlocked vault Wednesday and crawled out of sight atop an air vent until an armored car crew delivered the money to the vault and left, locking the vault.

U.N. Troops Begin Police Duties in Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British and Canadian troops put on blue berets and the U.N. flag rose over their camps today, marking the birth of the United Nations Force in Cyprus.

Indian Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani took command at dawn and assumed responsibility on behalf of the United Nations for keeping Greek and Turkish Cypriots from killing each other.

★ ★ ★

To begin his task, Gyani has 6,000 British and 1,000 Canadian soldiers. About half the British force will be withdrawn as Irish, Finnish and Swedish soldiers join the U.N. force shortly. An advance party of Swedes and Finns is due tonight.

TOLD CANADIANS

Gyani, former commander of the U.N. Emergency Force in the Middle East, told the Canadians Thursday:

"Our one and simple aim is to do everything possible to assist them (the Cypriots) in preventing a recurrence of hostilities and ensuring that they resolve their problems under peaceful conditions. We must be absolutely impartial in whatever we do."

Maj. Gen. R.M.P. Carver, British commander on Cyprus, also donned a blue U.N. beret to become Gyani's second in command.

★ ★ ★

Except for the new headgear and change in top command, the British Tommies carried on as usual at scattered posts throughout the 140 - mile - long island. But the Canadians began their first peace-keeping patrols, with two companies assigned to the Nicosia suburb of Trahonas, a frequent trouble-spot between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

The U.N. command has not disclosed its orders from Secretary-General U Thant. It was not known whether Gyani could direct his men to shoot, search or disarm any Cypriots.

"I want to emphasize that this force is a U.N. force, operating exclusively under the mandate of the Security Council and the instructions of the secretary-general," he said.

Among the Canadians there seemed little doubt as to their reaction if fired upon.

"We'll shoot back even if we don't have any orders on it," said Lance Cpl. Claude Gravel, 24, of Montreal. Another Canadian said most of the contingent felt the same way.

A Canadian lieutenant said the force needs more authority than the British had. "It won't solve anything if we don't get it," he said.

SHOULDERING ARMS — Canadian members of the United Nations peace-keeping force on Cyprus sharpen up with bazooka training in Nicosia yesterday. They are wearing the blue berets which mark the United Nations troops. About 1,000 Canadians are on the island, soon to be joined by Irish, Swede and Finnish forces.

Romney Slates Flint Speech on School Dropouts

FLINT (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney will speak here April 3 at the statewide Community Action Conference on the school dropout problem.

★ ★ ★

The conference, which opens April 2, has two purposes: (1) help community and school leaders throughout the state equip their communities to deal most effectively with the problem, and (2) initiate a program for statewide action.

★ ★ ★

The Greater Michigan Foundation is sponsoring the conference.

Harding Mott, executive vice president of the Mott Foundation, estimated 250 will attend. Charles S. Mott, president of the foundation, will be one of the speakers.

Sonic Booms Used to Start Avalanches

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—A dozen avalanches have been set off on cue by Air Force F101 jet fighter planes streaking over Glacier National Park.

The sonic booms have cleared snow piled at dangerous depths on the slopes of peaks. Now highway crews are clearing the roads.

Avon Twp. Voters to See Return of the Democrats

By ROGER SRIGLEY

AVON TOWNSHIP—The Democrats are back in "town."

More specifically the Democrats have petitioned for reinstatement as a party of record in Avon Township.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday Louis W. Berklich and Raymond H. Storm turned in petitions bearing 360 signatures to Avon Township Clerk Mrs. Thelma Spencer.

Both men are members of the Avon-Oakland Democratic Club, and Storm is chairman of the group's petition committee which spearheaded the name-gathering.

"Approximately 200 valid signatures are needed," Mrs. Spencer said. She based her figure on the formula which requires 2 per cent of those voting in the last gubernatorial election, 1962.

"We don't have any axes to grind here," Storm explained before submitting the petitions.

OFFER A CHANCE

Storm said he and others who worked to have the party candidates on the ballot wanted them there to "keep people on their toes," and "offer township residents a chance to make a change."

The last time the Democratic Party had been eligible to sponsor a slate of candidates here was in 1959. None were victorious then.

No Democratic candidate for supervisor has been victorious since Democratic Supervisor Harvey Taylor was in office over 50 years ago.

★ ★ ★

Following him were two justices of the peace, who then sat on the township board, Raymond Green and Charles Terry, according to former township Clerk Mrs. Frances Covert.

FULL SLATE

"We'll run a full slate in the next election," Berklich said.

The two men pointed out that by the time of the next election, still undetermined due to the new constitution, an Avon Democratic Club should be formed and active.

Currently, under guidance of the Avon-Oakland club, a township telephone canvassing program is under way. Compilation of the results has not been completed.

★ ★ ★

"When the new members are added and the organization formed we'll set up our platform," Berklich explained.

AUGUST PRIMARY

He said that although the election date is not established, the petitions were submitted yesterday to prepare for a possible August primary.

Members of the Avon-Oakland Club who are residents of Avon Township circulated the petitions, Berklich explained.

He said Democrats, Republicans and independents who simply wanted both parties on the ballot signed the papers.

★ ★ ★

"The township needs new leaders," he said. "If any party or people are in power too long a change is needed—this is true regardless of performance."

CHOICE NEEDED

The Democrat added "if a person is good, the people will keep him in office — but the people should have a choice."

★ ★ ★

Yesterday, after five years of single-party balloting, Berklich and Storm acted to give the 8,836 Avon Township registered voters that choice.

Pontiac Press Photo

TURN IN PETITIONS—Raymond H. Storm (left) of 2746 Stoodleigh, and Louis W. Berklich, 2409 Livernois, yesterday handed over petitions bearing 360 names to Avon Township Clerk Mrs. Thelma Spencer. All the signers were endorsing placement of the Democratic Party on the ballot in the next township election. The two Avon Township men have spearheaded the drive, under guidance of the Avon-Oakland Democratic Club.

Bid to Block Recall Vote Thwarted

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Trustee Samuel Woodard, Supervisor Edward L. Kennedy and Treasurer Frank Miles lost their bid yesterday to have the Oakland County Circuit Court block Tuesday's election on recall petitions against them.

They also lost on two other points, receiving, in return, only some unofficial words of support on one of them from Judge James S. Thorburn.

Judge Thorburn dismissed their request that the petitions be nullified and the election canceled.

He also rejected a plea that the vote be postponed to coincide with a later election on counter recall petitions against the three's opponents on the township board — Clerk Mrs. Artie Gray and Trustee Aubrey Dunn.

In addition, he declined to issue a court order requiring Mrs. Gray and Dunn to attend township board meetings so that township business could be conducted, although he said Mrs. Gray and Dunn had a duty to attend them.

USED AS WEAPON

Mrs. Gray and Dunn have used absence from meetings as a weapon in the township's political feuding.

Because of two vacancies on the board, Woodard, Kennedy and Miles cannot get a quorum of four for an official meeting without Mrs. Gray's or Dunn's presence.

Mrs. Gray and Dunn have not attended a meeting since Dec. 19 when they opposed the firing of former Urban Renewal Director Jeffrey Teamer.

★ ★ ★

Judge Thorburn said he spoke only as a private citizen in saying that Mrs. Gray and Dunn have a duty, as elected officials, to attend meetings and conduct township business.

NO AUTHORITY

But he said the court had no authority to force them to do so.

He said they should meet to appoint a board of canvassers for Tuesday's election. The lack of such a board was cited by Woodard, Kennedy and Miles as a reason for canceling or postponing Tuesday's election.

★ ★ ★

Judge Thorburn indicated afterwards that, while a board of canvassers should be appointed before Tuesday's election, the lack of one would not automatically invalidate the election.

Romeo Drive Nets $700 for Program

ROMEO—The drive for scholarship funds to help students other than those planning to attend college has ended in Romeo with over $700 collected for the new program.

Sponsored by the Junior-Senior High Parent-Teachers Club, the plan is to aid, on the basis of merit and need, those students interested in short-term vocational courses.

The scholarship committee, in cooperation with the high school administration, is now making a study of state-approved schools which provide various courses ranging from tool design, secretarial, IBM key punch operation to floral design and professional dressmaking.

The club hopes to award the first scholarships this year.

It is now up to a selections committee to pick the students most deserving of assistance.

LONG OVERLOOKED

The school clubs committee, which launched the drive about a month ago, initiated the program to fill "a need that has long been overlooked."

"A scholarship will give that student who, with a little extra help, will have the vocational training to put him a jump ahead of the untrained high school graduate who seeks employment," said Dr. John A. Hannum, committee chairman.

While the scholarships will be available for a variety of types of training, the committee has not ruled out grants for college-bound students.

★ ★ ★

However, members felt that there are many sources of financial aid for those students, so the emphasis has been placed on other types of training.

CANVASS MAIL

The money was raised through a door-to-door canvass and mail contributions.

★ ★ ★

Serving on the committee with Dr. Hannum are Mrs. Charles Appel, secretary; Edgar Priest, Mrs. Lawrence Van Camp, Robert L. Smith, Mrs. S. G. Sam, Mrs. Jack Hovey and Walter Shepley.

★ ★ ★

Others are George Tapley, Mrs. Conrad Friedemann, Robert Hutton, Andrew Hemela and David Olson, high school principal.

Area Men Chosen for Baptist Confab

SOUTHFIELD — Two local men have been chosen to attend a specialized Baptist conference on "Christian Laymen in Urban Structures."

Robert M. Boltwood, 28401 Red Leaf, and Dr. Selwyn Smith 17259 Cornell, will be among some 50 laymen participating in the sessions Tuesday through Friday in Cincinnati.

★ ★ ★

Boltwood, a General Motors employe, is a member of Birmingham's First Baptist Church and Dr. Smith is executive director of the Detroit Association of American Baptist Churches.

The delegates will concern themselves with the implications of a Christian layman bearing witness to his faith in the public sectors of urban life.

Romeo Apartments Now Being Erected

ROMEO — Construction of the first multiple dwellings to be erected within the village limits is now in progress on a 2½-acre site facing South Van Dyke.

The new "Village Green Apartments" are expected to be ready for occupancy by June 1, according to builder Bert Van Dyke.

★ ★ ★

Each of the six apartments will contain a living room, kitchen and dinette, two bedrooms and bath.

Later additional units will be designed especially for retired couples, according to Van Dyke, of 55150 Van Dyke, Washington.

Seek Blood Donations in Avon Township Area

AVON TOWNSHIP — The American Red Cross is asking area residents to donate a pint of blood at the mobile unit in Oakland University's Gold Room Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Blood can be given for replacement, specific banks, or other purposes, without appointment. The facilities will be open from 8 to 11 a.m. and noon to 2 p.m.

BOYS' CHOICE — Trudy Wiseman, 16, has been chosen sweetheart of the Lake Orion chapter of DeMolay. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Wiseman, 365 Newman, Orion Township, she is a junior at Lake Orion Community High School. She is also past worthy advisor of Lake Orion Assembly No. 51, Order of Rainbow for Girls.

Detroiter Says He's Innocent

Examination April 6 on Abduction of Girl

TROY — A 21-year-old Detroit man yesterday pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of kidnaping a 16-year-old Detroit girl and driving her to a trail off Square Lake Road.

★ ★ ★

Ralph H. Fox, appearing in Detroit's Recorder's Court befor Judge John P. O'Hara, was put under $5,000 bond for examination April 6. Through his attorney he asked for psychiatric help.

Fox, whose 16-year-old wife, Ann, is expecting a baby soon, was charged with forcing Lynda G. Gerish at gunpoint into his car in Detroit Wednesday and driving her to a "lover's lane" in Troy.

Troy Patrolman Raymond Major, 29, spotted the car traveling through the muddy trail off Square Lake Road about 1 p.m. He followed it and arrested Fox as the Detroiter was binding his passenger's hands behind her back with his tie.

★ ★ ★

Later Fox, an ex-convict, told police he didn't know why he forced the girl to go with him. Lynda, a Pershing High School junior, was not harmed, she told police.

★ ★ ★

She said she had been forced into his car at gun point while standing at a bus stop.

Buffet in Ortonville

ORTONVILLE — The Women's Society of Christian Service will sponsor a smorgasbord Wednesday at the Ortonville Methodist Church. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m.

Church Play Has New Idea, Old Truth

By PAT McCARTY

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A chair, a table, a lamp, a man and an idea.

These are the ingredients of Commerce Methodist Church's Easter story — these and the willingness of a man to develop his idea until it reaches out and encompasses others.

Kingsley Page is such a man.

The retelling of the Easter story is an integral part of the church's traditional observances, but it is difficult for people to relate to something that happened 1,931 years ago, Page commented.

Page, 3965 Detroit, West Bloomfield Township, has been putting a new slant on the old stories for a half dozen Easters and Christmases at the church.

★ ★ ★

His concept of this year's presentation is a good example of the way he tackles the problem.

MAN'S SHADOW

Those who attend the 6 a.m. presentation will see only the silhouette of a man behind a shadow screen. He will be sitting in a chair beside a table with a lamp on it.

Enter the idea. The man, portrayed by John Himes, is a modern-day Easter Scrooge. He can't attend church — he's just too busy.

The four voices he hears thank him for his attitude for the resurrection of Christ has no place in their operations. The voices represent gambling, narcotics, segregation and the underworld in general.

★ ★ ★

The idea is simple and so will be its execution. David Mansfield, Forest Skaritt, Norman Taylor and Stuart Terry will speak for the elements which work to weaken a society.

BRIEF OUTLINES

The characters have brief outlines of what they are to say, but much will depend on the ability of each to ad lib on his feeling toward the role at the moment.

Lighting also will be important. Through the years Page has come up with other different techniques — black lighting while the choir trimmed the Christmas tree with florescent bulbs and dividing the stage into two scenes to depict materialistic children around a Christmas tree and Christ in a manger.

Page, truck sales manager for Jerry McCarthy Chevrolet in Detroit, spends much of his free time in theatrical pursuits. He is a free-lance director on a professional basis, but his church and the Multi-Lakes Theater Guild do not pay for his services.

★ ★ ★

"It's a lot of fun," he said. "Religion is something that has to keep pace with the times. Anyone can have our scripts, regardless of their denomination."

BONSTELLE GRAD

NEWS OF THE AREA

Area Groups to Hold Easter Egg Hunts

Children in several area communities will be following the path of the Easter Rabbit Saturday in hopes of finding every one of the colorful eggs he'll leave.

Besides the thrill of discovering the eggs, the children also will be rewarded with prizes in Farmington, Milford and Walled Lake.

All contests will begin at 10 a.m.

The Jaycee egg hunt in Farmington will be on Shiawassee east of Farmington Road. Prizes will be given to the best hunters in several groups. A special rope - off area will be provided for toddlers.

Milford Jaycees expect eggs to be particularly plentiful in the Milford Memorial Field on George.

★ ★ ★

Contestants will cover the area throughout the afternoon, with 7- and 8-year-olds starting at 10 a.m., 5- and 6-year-olds at 1 p.m. and 1- to 4-year-olds at 3 p.m.

PLANS JOINED

The Walled Lake Firefighters Association has joined with the local Jaycee unit to make plans for the hunt behind the Walled Lake Post Office.

★ ★ ★

The children will be divided into three age groups to track down some 1,500 eggs.

PTA Skit to Trace History of Troy Unit

TROY — A skit entitled "The PTA of the Twenties" will be presented by members of the Johnson Niles PTA at their regular meeting Thursday.

It will make use of historical data concerning the one-room schoolhouse beginnings of the school and information about the man whose name it bears.

Also on the agenda for the 8 p.m. event is election of executive board officers.

GM Forecasters See Bright Future at Home and Abroad

(Editor's Note—In this last of five articles on General Motors Corp., AP Business News Writer Roger Lane takes a look at what lies ahead for his industrial giant.)

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—As General Motors Corp. rolls into its 56th year, what of the future? Can GM burnish an already brilliant record?

And what's ahead for the industry?

Generally, auto company forecasters see a bright future at home, even brighter prospects abroad. American car builders account for nearly one-third of production and sales outside the United States through overseas subsidiaries and exports.

The optimism is rooted in speedily rising spendable income—prosperity, for the average family here and in industrialized nations elsewhere.

FAVORING INFLUENCES

Other favoring influences in the nation include a continued migration to the suburbs, a rising auto scrappage rate, a climb in multicar families, lowered driving age and widening of the car-buying age group in the population.

These factors are expected to far overbalance resistance set up by jammed urban traffic, with its implied bias for an increase in public mass transit, and concern about the traffic death toll, air pollution and esthetics.

* * *

With production of more than 7 million vehicles in both 1962 and 1963, GM President John F. Gordon foresees a basic U.S. annual demand of about 9 million autos by 1970.

Aging of the present car population accounts for about two-thirds of present demand. Autos are being scrapped at a 5 million-a-year clip, and the rate may exceed 6 million a few years.

ADDS ONE

Stated another way, about on of three new cars bought nowadays adds to the nation's auto fleet; the other two replace discards.

Multiple ownership is the most dynamic force in the growth market. No longer is the two-or three-car garage a mark of the very wealthy. Now there are two or more cars in one of every five car-owning households. The proportion has doubled in a decade.

In western Europe, a golden age of the automobile seems to be dawning. The standard of living is rising steeply, and a very important share of future expansion by GM and Ford, now running neck and neck in overseas markets, and Chrysler, will be concentrated outside the United States.

"Today's vehicle usage in Europe is about where the United States was in the 1920s," Gordon told a Detroit audience. The car to population ratio is about one to nine. In the United States there is one car for every 3 persons.

SELLING ABROAD

Already, more cars and trucks are sold outside the U.S. than within its borders.

To take advantage of this broadening frontier, American companies have spent heavily on building up facilities.

Of $2 billion GM plans to spend in a 1964-65 expansion program $400 million will be allotted to overseas projects and $120 million to work in Canada.

In the future, GM might have trouble improving one outstanding measure of its success—its return to shareholders.

* * *

One share of common stock that cost $100 in 1909 would have multiplied as of last Dec. 31 to 2,289¾ shares, swollen in worth on a cumulative cash return basis to $275,288.

* * *

The calculation allows for growth in market value, stock splits, cash dividends and stock dividends. It also assumes exercise of all three rights granted to buy additional shares at bargain prices. These would have called for an added input totaling $3,636, only $910 of it before 1955.

The statistics on just one share of stock shows as well as any indicator General Motors' already legendary growth and success.

Senate Rights Backers to Take Floor Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate backers of the civil rights bill take the floor starting Monday to tell of the merits they see in the measure.

* * *

Assistant Senate Democratic leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota passed that word to newsmen after Thursday's vote to make the bill the Senate's pending business.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Southern senators who blasted the measure through 16 days of speechmaking in opposition even to taking up the bill, said his forces probably would be biding their time next week.

ONLY SKIRMISH

But he insisted his side had lost only a skirmish in Thursday's voting and declared: "We shall now begin to fight the war."

* * *

Both Humphrey and Russell agreed there would be no votes next week, although the Georgia senator said foes of the bill might introduce some of their proposed amendments.

* * *

Shortly after the Senate took its second vote Thursday, the Rev. Martin Luther King held a news conference at the Capitol and announced plans for "direct action" protests if Southern senators filibuster against the civil rights bill.

* * *

He declined to say what form the protest might take.

NOT NECESSARY

In answer to a question, the Negro civil rights leader said "at this point I would not say that civil disobedience would become necessary." Adding that "civil disobedience could become necessary" to dramatize the issues, he stated he is an advocate of nonviolence.

When the Senate debate resumes Monday, the bipartisan bloc supporting the bill plans to be ready to lay down a complete case for all 11 titles of the measure.

* * *

In Thursday's voting, the Senate first agreed 67 to 17 to take up the bill formally for debate. Then, in what was regarded as the first real test, the Senate voted 50 to 34 to kill a move by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to send the measure to the Judiciary Committee until April 8.

Humphrey conceded that the vote to table this referral motion was somewhat bigger than the bill's supporters had anticipated. He credited church groups with winning extra support.

MINISTERS ARRIVE

Russell, declaring that his side was fighting "overwhelming odds," said that ministers from all over the nation were arriving in Washington in relays "demanding that senators resolve all constitutional doubts by voting in favor of the bill."

After the second vote, the Senate took a crief Easter recess until Monday.

Glenn Faced With Delay

May Not Recover by Retirement Date

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Democratic U.S. senatorial race between Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. and Sen. Stephen M. Young drew taut today.

A Marine Corps announcement indicated that Glenn, injured in a fall here Feb. 26, might not be sufficiently recovered to retire from the Marines by April 1.

This would sharply limit the former astronaut's campaign for nomination in the May 5 primary.

Young's campaign manager asserted that if the election were held now, Sen. Young, 74, would win handily.

UNDISMAYED

Glenn headquarters in Columbus appeared undismayed by Marine Gen. Wallace Greene's statement Thursday that: "I'm sure he is not going to be able to retire by April 1."

Ford Eastman, who left the space agency to aid Glenn's campaign, declined immediate comment but indicated the situation might become cleared by Monday. He did not elaborate.

Regardless of developments, Glenn's name will remain on Ohio ballots, making his nomination possible without returning to Ohio, election officials pointed out.

Glenn's fall against a bathtub caused injury to his inner ear, producing nausea and dizziness, that often takes many weeks to cure, Eastman explained.

TEXAS HOSPITAL

The astronaut has been in a San Antonio, Tex., military hospital since March 6.

Shortly before the Marine commandant's statement, Howard Metzenbaum, Young's campaign manager, asserted that the senator had pulled ahead in the Ohio race.

"If the primary election were held now, Young would win nomination handily in practically every county," he said.

Glenn has been prevented by Marine regulations from engaging in active politics before retirement.

Tax Tips

(Editor's Note — The following income tax information is furnished by the Internal Revenue Service as a public service.)

Question: I contribute to the support of my father who is over 65. He lives in his own home and also receives social security. He has no other sources of income and does not file a return. How do I determine if I can claim him as a dependent? Am I entitled to the extra exemption since he is over 65?

Answer: You must determine if you contributed over one-half of the support of your father for the year. In this determination, you first compute the total amount of support which your father required during the year. This includes the amount spent by you and the amount spent from his own sources. In this case you would have to include his social security spent toward his own support and the fair rental value of his residence. If your contribution is more than one-half of this total support, then you can properly claim your father as a dependent. The extra exemption for persons 65 or over may not be claimed for a dependent since the additional exemption for persons 65 or over may not be claimed for a dependent since the additional exemption for age is allowed only to the person filing his own return.

For the answer to YOUR question, call your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: The Floating Paraffin.

NEEDED: A jar, some water, some kerosene, and a piece of paraffin.

DO THIS: Fill the jar not quite half full of water, then pour kerosene in.

Drop the paraffin into the jar, and it sinks through the kerosene but floats on the water. It seems to float mysteriously midway in the jar.

WHY? Paraffin was is heavier than kerosene but lighter than water. (See Archimede's principle.)

Altrusa Group Plans Busy Springtime

Katherine H. O'Connor has been elected as president of the Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham.

Other new officers chosen to assist her include Valerie Harvey, vice president; Mrs. Nino Scalia, recording secretary; Mrs. Otto K. Becker, corresponding secretary; and Marjorie Sallie, treasurer.

★ ★ ★

Directors are Mrs. Leslie T. Shanks and Dr. Ethel T. Calhoun.

Several Altrusa members and new officers of the Birmingham club will journey to Saginaw April 25 to participate in the district workshop.

LEAD WORKSHOP

Mrs. Shanks, district five treasurer, and Lavora Conklin, governor elect of district five from the Detroit club, will be in charge of the workshop at Painesville, Ohio on the same day.

Chairman Marion Goodale, headmistress of Kingswood School, will be assisted by Mrs. Laurence J. Hetzelt, Muriel Brusie, Mrs. W. C. Sproull and Mrs. Charles Layman at the April 26 Altrusa breakfast.

★ ★ ★

Members are to bring guests to the 10 a.m. affair at Kingsley Inn. Other clubs in district five are to be invited.

'Take-Over' at Party Draws Rap

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Last week my newly married son and his bride invited me and a few very close friends to their house for the evening.

My daughter-in-law had a dish of candy and another dish of assorted salted nuts on the coffee table for the guests to help themselves.

★ ★ ★

However, none of them seemed to be doing this and so I got up and passed the dishes around to them.

I understand my daughter-in-law has criticized me for doing this and resents my "taking over." Was I wrong?

★ ★ ★

A: As you were a guest in her house, it was not your place to pass the dishes around and you really should not have done so as it implied that you thought she was neglecting her duties as hostess.

---

Q: We have an old family garnet necklace that my niece would like to wear on her wedding day.

The necklace belonged to her great-grandmother and has been worn by different members of the family on important occasions.

Would it be in good taste, considering the stones are red, to wear this necklace with a white bridal dress?

A: I'm sorry to disappoint your niece, but a garnet necklace (even an old family one) would be very unsuitable with a white bridal dress.

---

Q: Is it true that when one encounters someone to whom she hasn't spoken for months because of a quarrel in the house of friends, does etiquette require her to speak to him (or her) out of deference to the hostess?

★ ★ ★

A: This rule applies only if they happen to be seated next to each other at a formal dinner at which people talk two and two.

At a general party, it is not necessary that they speak.

They should not, however, make the fact of their not speaking, conspicuous.

Political Parties

Recognize Value of Women Volunteers

By MIRIAM NEAL

"Nuclear power has no power like a woman bent on a mission," declares the chairman of Oakland County Republican committee, Charles L. Lyle.

★ ★ ★

It is for this reason, agrees Sander M. Levin, chairman of county Democrats, that the female volunteer political worker is "the backbone of the party."

A volunteer is anyone who can say with Mrs. Melvin Hampton of Terrell Road in Waterford: "I became (a leader) mainly because no one else wanted to."

★ ★ ★

Or echo Mrs. Grand Furgerson of West Iroquois Road: "When they don't know whom else to call, they call me."

FLAG WAVER

Around November, when everyone is standing firmly on top of his TV set and waving his flag, it's not very difficult to find party workers.

But those who work without benefit of flash bulbs, headlines, or a place at the speaker's table are those who can be classified as real volunteers.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Furgerson and Mrs. Hampton belong to two different parties and hold different jobs in them. The reasons they work are basically the same: patriotism, responsibility and background.

Mrs. Furgerson is Republican city director for district two, the muncipality of Pontiac, and has worked or managed four campaigns. Mrs. Hampton is Democratic precinct director for the Waterford area.

She affirms that "precinct work is my big love."

SENSE OF URGENCY

"A sense of urgency" drives Mrs. Furgerson to "get in and pitch." She was born in Great Britain, has lived in the United States for seven years, and says she wants to "stop what happened in England."

★ ★ ★

Although she admits that many would dismiss it as sentiment, she says she still gets "goosebumps when the flag is raised" and feels that all citizens should participate in government.

★ ★ ★

There are "no set rules" for her joy which includes "anything and everything." As city director in the 1962 election she supervised a canvass of Pontiac and a campaign to get the unregistered to register.

She directed the distribution of Gov. George Romney's letter to the people and made sure the polls were covered.

★ ★ ★

Covering the polls means providing checkers, telephoners, rides, and coffee.

SIXTEEN YEARS

Mrs. Hampton, on the other hand, has lived in Waterford for 16 years and has watched it grow. She is proud of her area and feels that it is her duty as a citizen to understand and be a part of its government. She feels that too many are ignoring the "privilege of participation."

She was president of the first Democratic Woman's Club in Waterford and enjoys the feeling of "being a charter member."

★ ★ ★

Her job is composed mainly of telephoning and contacting people and trying to "work on the independent person." Part of it too, is education. She remembered one woman who said with relief, "I am so glad there are other Democrats."

Another part of her job involves attending conventions and campaign dinners.

She notes in passing that when it gets close to election time, many people volunteer because of the "band and front seat."

CONTINUOUS JOBS

Both women admit that theirs are continuous jobs. Mrs. Furgerson says she's been waiting for a slump period for a year and a half. She notes too the necessity of constant contact and estimates she spends about eight hours a week on the job.

★ ★ ★

Although Mrs. Hampton has been doing political work for the past six years, she says she has "no feeling for an office" and hopes that she may "never get so involved that I have to be at meetings on weekends or neglect the children."

★ ★ ★

In each case the volunteers have a job and a family. Mrs. Furgerson runs a gift shop and runs after her daughter, Stacey. What Stacey calls her mother's "politickling" is, in her mother's opinion, good for Stacey. The six-year-old enjoys the "banners on her bicycle" and "buttons on her blouses."

TWO SONS

The same is true for Mrs. Hampton's two sons, Melvin II, 16, and Michael, 12. Their mother's work has enabled them to meet prominent political personalities. Besides her political work she has a job as food administrator at a junior high school.

★ ★ ★

Although both are working hard for politics, both feel, as Mrs. Hampton says, "no malice," and even Mrs. Furgerson admits "there have to be two of us to fight." She adds: "It makes no difference to my bridge game."

★ ★ ★

Levin comments that the work of people like Mrs. Hampton is "critical and sometimes decisive." A party can be built, he says, by paying for all help or the patronage system, both of which he rejects. "What's left," he asks, "except volunteers?"

INCREASED RELIANCE

He notes that the growth of the party in Oakland County has increased the Democrats' reliance on volunteers.

Republican chairman Lyle lists women volunteers as "the second most important factor. The first is finance."

He adds, though, that the party is "very proud of its women" and "depends on them for the effective functioning of the organization."

★ ★ ★

So who said it's UNCLE Sam?

Club to See Knit Fashions at Luncheon

"Knitting Specialities," will be featured at the Christian Women's club luncheon April 8 at 12:30 p.m. at Greenfield's in Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. William McClenahen of the Yardcraft Shops of Birmingham and Grosse Pointe will present the latest ideas in knitting fashions.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Howard Young, national chairman of the Stonecroft Book club will be keynote speaker. She has recently moved to Detroit from Kansas City, Mo. and is an adviser to the East Side Christian Women's club.

CHAIRMEN

Luncheon chairmen are Mrs. Henry Sherril and Mrs. Robert Sager.

★ ★ ★

Women interested in attending the luncheon may contact Mrs. Walter Augusten or Mrs. Fred Hartkopf, both of Birmingham.

Sorority Unit Hears Resident Policewoman

That Herb Gets Around

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter signed "Can't Forget Him."

It was from a woman who was still trying to find a man she met in La Crosse, Wisconsin, during World War I.

She said all she knew about him was that he was from Sioux Falls, South Dakota, and he had "HERB" tatooed on him.

ABBY

Can you please tell me where the tattoo was located? I think my Herb has some explaining to do.

CAN'T FORGET HIM EITHER

★ ★ ★

DEAR CAN'T: Sorry, but I don't have this information. But if I were you, I'd lay off. Your Herb has already been needled enough.

---

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "Can't Forget Him" that she will have to. He came this-a way and married me.

MRS. HERB WINTER ON FARLEY DRIVE

---

DEAR ABBY: I married a fine young man who lost his parents at an early age.

He was reared by his only living relative, an older sister. I was so looking forward to meeting her because my husband told me how wonderful she was.

On our first meeting alone she told me that the only reason her brother married me was to stay out of the army!

She was so cruel and cutting I couldn't wait to get away from her to let loose the flood of tears within me.

I love my husband and I think he loves me. I don't want to stir up trouble between my husband and his sister but I would like to know where she got an idea like that.

MARRIED TWO WEEKS

DEAR MARRIED: Dry your tears and take a good, hard look at your husband's sister.

You will see a jealous, possessive woman who would have disliked any woman her brother married.

Ignore her barb, if you can. If you can't, ask your husband where his sister got such a notion.

---

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago a very nice boy gave me his ring. I am 16 and he is going on 19.

I was afraid to tell my father about it because he thinks all boys are rats. The day before yesterday I couldn't find it.

★ ★ ★

I was sure I had left it on the window sill in the kitchen while I did the dishes, but it wasn't there.

I just found out that my father took it off the window sill and pawned it.

★ ★ ★

He drinks and he needed some money. He said he thought it was my brother's.

Anyway, the ring is in the pawn shop and I don't know what to do because I have to tell the boy something soon. Can you suggest anything?

NOWHERE TO TURN

★ ★ ★

DEAR NOWHERE: Tell the boy you "lost" the ring. (Spare him the details.)

Then start lining up some baby-sitting jobs to raise the money to get the ring out of hock.

Fringe Benefits

Buried Beauty Secrets Are Bared

By MIRIAM NEAL

The next time your husband makes some snide remark about the goo it takes to make you beautiful shove this article under his aquiline nose.

While working on a new cosmetic, researchers at Helene Curtis Industries, Inc. uncovered early beauty secrets which had been buried for obvious reasons.

In 1779 "The Toilet of Flora" adapted from a French work by P. J. Buc'Hoz was published in England. Its subtitle: "A Collection of the Most Simple and Approved Methods of Preparing Baths, Essences, Pomatums, Powders, Perfumes, and Sweet-Scented Waters With Receipts for Cosmetics of every Kind that can smooth and brighten the SKIN, give FORCE to BEAUTY, and take off the Appearance of OLD AGE and DECAY."

WRINKLE REMOVING

This book contained hundreds of beauty recipes including three that dealt specifically with wrinkle removing. One of these, No. 237, was "A Secret to take away wrinkles."

To prepare this, "HEAT an Iron shovel red hot, throw on it some Powder of Myrrh, and receive the smoke on your face, covering the head with a napkin to prevent it from being dissipated.

"Repeat this operation three times, then heat the Shovel again, and when fiery hot, pour on it a mouthful of White Wine.

"Continue this method every night and morning as long as you find occasion."

GUIDE TO BEAUTY

In the early 19th century, Sir James Clark, private physician to Queen Victoria, published the "Ladies Guide to Beauty." This called wrinkles "heralds of decay," attributed them "not so much as to old age, as wear and tear on the constitution," and said the solution was to "preserve undiminished the action of the skin . . . and to direct how wrinkles may be removed if acquired."

His first recommendation was "a system of ablution and friction" which involved "passing the whole surface of a person at least once a day either with cold or tepid water." This system was supposed to be invigorating in the morning and sleep-inducing at night.

* * *

According to Clark, a person following this would be insured a "ten-year exemption" from wrinkles. He also suggested: 1) make the water more tepid as you get older, 2) fifteen minutes after drying use friction with a soft flesh brush, and 3) temperance and exercise are indispensable.

Thank heavens for cold cream!

Hold Discussion of Knowledge

"Dimensions in Knowledge" was the theme for a meeting of the Frances Willard unit, Women's Christian Temperance Union, Wednesday, in the home of Mrs. Carleton Edwards on South Jessie Street. Mrs. Hope Jeffery was cohostess.

Rev. Lola P. Marion reported on the recent meeting on legislature in Lansing.

Congratulations were extended to Mrs. William Church on the occasion of her 60th wedding anniversary.

Work With Wheels

Whenever you can, "work with wheels." For instance, set all window-washing supplies on a movable cart so you can suds, rinse, and dry a group of panes without repeated trips for more equipment.

Watch Skin in March

The March winds with their promise of Spring should also be taken as a warning to take care of complexions. The warning is especially important if the skin tends to be dry.

Wind dries up the natural oils that protect the skin and, unless cosmetic creams or oils are used, exposed skin can coarsen and discolor. Make-up is a protection in itself but to have truly beautiful skin one should follow a consistent beauty ritual.

Dry skin? Avoid strong astringents. Rather, use a pure herbal extract like good quality witch hazel, massaging it well into the skin. Protect the throat with one of the rich oils or vitamin creams on the market. It is wise also to wear a scarf these last few wintry weeks.

Lard Removes Tar

Tar or axle grease stains on youngsters clothes can be removed by first rubbing with lard, soaking in turpentine and then laundering.

Clean Wallpaper

To remove grease spots from wallpaper rub French chalk over the soiled spot and allow to remain overnight. Wipe off next morning.

Remove Red Spots

Red ink spots can be removed by first washing with suday water and then rinsing with vinegar diluted with water.

Area College Students Leaders on Campus

Ed Bradley, son of the James H. Bradleys of Spokane Drive was recently elected vice president of the Michigan State University chapter of Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

He is a sophomore, majoring in civil engineering, and is a member of the executive council of Spartan Spirit and the public relations committee for this spring's Greek Week.

CMU MUSICIANS

Four Central Michigan University students who won Louise Francis Memorial Music Scholarships had an opportunity to watch the musical technique of concert pianist Ronald Turini at CMU recently.

The area girls are Beverly Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland S. Wells of Ramona Terrace and Sharel Isanhart, Auburn Heights.

* * *

Mr. Turini performed on a grand piano given to the Mt. Pleasant First Methodist Church by George L. Francis of the Leelanau schools.

* * *

For the last four years, Francis has provided a scholarship in memory of his wife, to a freshman piano student who plans to teach public school music. It covers full tuition and fees for two semesters, plus piano lesson and practice room fees.

* * *

Both Francis and his late wife were graduated from CMU.

Two Washcloths for Cleaning Fun

Here's a clever gift for a little boy. Take two wash cloths and draw the pattern of a mitt on them. Cut out the pattern, sew on the wrong side and turn.

* * *

Using a blanket stitch, hand hem the edge with colored embroidery thread and the stitching will make the bath mitt look like a catcher's glove.

Fraternities and Sororities Pick Local Pledges in Ann Arbor

At the University of Michigan, more than a thousand undergraduates have pledged 39 fraternities and 23 sororities this spring.

Among the fraternities, pledging 497 men, a new emphasis on academic achievement is promised. The sororities have pledged 535 women.

From Pontiac are Pamela Griffin, Alpha Chi Omega; Ernest D. Humphreys, Alpha Tau Omega and Roger J. Shaw, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Orchard Lakers James E. Lawson and Robert O. Rice have pledged Kappa Sigma and Sigma Nu, respectively.

OXFORD

Donna J. Shinnick of Oxford is affiliated with Collegiate Sorosis and Angie Arcuré of Rochester, Delta Gamma.

From Bloomfield Hills are Diana W. Gornick and Erma J. Livingstone, Kappa Alpha Theta; Frankie A. Hutton, Alpha Phi; Judy A. Keith, Zeta Tau Alpha; Rodney M. Lockwood Jr., Tau Kappa Epsilon; Douglas L. Norland, Zeta Psi; Richard L. Weiss, Phi Sigma Kappa; John E. Judge, Alpha Tau Omega.

* * *

Birmingham pledges include Michael K. Bequette, Edward T. Downs, Lambda Chi Alpha; Richard F. Beaubien, Triangle; Thomas D. Brooks, Delta Tau Delta; Robert A. Brown, Donald L. Palmer, Beta Theta Pi; Jeffery A. Walker, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Robert Dale has pledged Phi Sigma Delta; David C. Downs, Phi Kappa Psi; Ernest L. Dunn, Alpha Delta Phi; Miles H. King, Delta Kappa Epsilon; Robert J. LaMarre, Sigma Chi; Jerry A. Lohla, Richard H. McIntyre, James N. Odle, J. Douglas Phillips Jr., Delta Upsilon.

SIGMA KAPPA

Robert E. McDougall has pledged Sigma Kappa; Charles J. Meeske, Theta Delta Chi; Lance E. Mermell, Tau Delta Phi; Gilbert J. Premo, Delta Sigma Phi; John C. Shaw, Psi Upsilon; Jay W. Shutt, Phi Gamma Delta; Charles M. Sutherland, Jon L. Miller and James O. Wright Jr., Alpha Sigma Phi; Kent D. Rakas and Scott C. Woodison, Theta Chi.

Birmingham coeds pledged to Alpha Delta Pi are Mary Ann Kendall, Helen R. Matthew and Dianne L. Mott; Susan E. Diehl and Pamela L. Ludwig have pledged Alpha Phi; Patricia T. Flaherty and Ginny Van Dyke, Kappa Alpha Theta; Lauri V. Smith and Barbara B. Maxson, Delta Gamma; Linda L. Mitchell, Collegiate Sorosis; Julie Francis and Julie Ann Frank, Sigma Delta Tau; Lynda Mills, Alpha Chi Omega; Janet L. Morley and Joan Osborn, Pi Beta Phi.

* * *

FROM FRANKLIN

Franklin pledges are Brian K. O'Shaughnessy, Sigma Chi; Susan Blackburn, Alpha Chi Omega and Robert E. Winkel, Delta Upsilon.

Trigon affiliates include Craig A. Hanna, Union Lake and Edson P. Doolittle, Desmond Drive.

Mary McCarthy, Union Lake, has pledged Kappa Alpha Theta and Neal S. Watkins, Walled Lake, Alpha Tau Omega; and Roger W. Blain, Dorothy Lane, Alpha Sigma Phi.

Sponge Away Key Smudges

Piano keys do get smudged and sticky, especially when there are junior musicians in the family who come to practice straight from strawberry jam sessions.

* * *

When ordinary dusting isn't enough to keep the ivory gleaming, wipe off the keys with a dampened cellulose sponge. The gentle power of the sponge squeezed out in clear water, or mild suds for very dirty keys, is all you need to keep your piano keys in top condition.

Widow Over 40 Can Get Job by Trying

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: I don't understand why there isn't a widow's pension of some kind after the age of 55 years.

When my daughter reaches 18, I was told, I won't get any Social Security until I am 62 — although my husband paid into the fund since it started.

MARY FEELEY

It is impossible to get a job after the age of 40 unless you know somebody or are trained in some profession.

Could you tell me how much I will get when I do reach 62? I am receiving $180 monthly at the present time. My daughter will be 18 years old before I am 59.

That means I won't have any income for four years. I have been under the care of the doctor for diabetes and arthritis.

Is there any place I could get any help until I am eligible for benefits again?

M. K., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

* * *

Dear M. K.: Aren't you letting self-pity incapacitate you to a dangerous extent? Who says a woman can't get a job of any kind after 40, unless she knows somebody or is a trained expert?

I know of many women who have disproved that statement simply because they didn't believe it and put it to the test.

Granted it may not be easy to find a job that suits you—but how about one that doesn't suit you but still pays a wage?

* * *

I am certainly sympathetic with physical ailments, and no doubt they contribute materially to your depression at this point.

HEALTH NOT FACTOR

But since you bring up the subject of a job, I gather your health doesn't prevent your working at some kind of employment.

According to U.S. Government figures, almost four out of 10 working women are 45 years old or over—double the number of 1940.

Of course that's not saying that a large per cent of those employed got their jobs day before yesterday.

* * *

But maybe these statistics will encourage you to square your shoulders and do some determined job-hunting. And how about free night courses in your community through which you might learn typing and shorthand or some other skill? Inquire at the Board of Education, as well as the state employment agency.

You still have a few years to go before your present income from Social Security stops, so there's at least some time to plan ahead.

CLAIM BENEFITS

Speaking of Social Security, if everybody could claim benefits at any age that proved most convenient, the country would be in a bad way.

After all, you are benefiting now—and will again at 62. At that time you will receive 82½ per cent of whatever your husband's benefits would amount to.

Contact your district office of Social Security and ask them to tell you the specific sum you can expect.

(You can obtain Mary Feeley's new leaflet on savings by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of The Pontiac Press.

America's Mass of White Wash

NEW YORK (UPI) — A newly-organized bureau of bleaching information reports that every week, almost 51 million homemakers wash 1.5 billion pounds of laundry in 44 million washing machines. At least 200 million washer loads are done per week at home.

Care for Easter Plants

Easter plants should be attractive, enjoyable home decorations for many days.

Actually, flowering plants at this time of the year are doubly expressive. Their happy brilliance and shining glory are a perfect symbol of Easter. With proper care, they can remain indoors for some time as a much-desired reminder of the coming of spring.

This year, notes the Society of American Florists (SAF), beautiful flowering plants can serve a third purpose, since March 30, the day after Easter, is National Shut-In Day. The glowing colors of tulips, sunny daffodils, showy clusters of hydrangeas, traditional and regal Easter lilies, delicate hyacinths, and profuse azaleas can do much to perk up a "shut-in" at this time of the year.

The care needed by flowering plants to maintain their perfect loveliness for days isn't difficult, adds SAF, but it definitely determines their life span.

GENERAL RULES

There are a few rules which apply to almost all Easter plants. They should be kept away from drafts and not placed close to radiators. They like a lot of light, but not direct sunlight. A relatively cool spot is good for them as are the same air and humidity that are healthy for a human being.

Of prime importance, says the society, is the fact that these plants need plenty of water. Hydrangeas, for example, are exceedingly thirsty and may require water twice a day.

Azaleas should be watered every day. They also profit from a real dunking when the blooms seem soft. Just immerse the whole pot in water deep enough so it covers the top soil. When the soil is really wet, remove the pot from the water and let it drain.

KEEP MOIST

Easter lily plants also should be kept amply moist. When a lily trumpet finally fades, SAF suggests snipping it off with shears so the remaining buds will receive adequate nourishment and come into full bloom. As the buds open, remove the yellow stamens so the pollen will not discolor the waxen purity of the beautiful flower petals.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

So often a wonderful new idea makes us wonder why someone didn't think of it sooner. I felt that way when I learned about bikeways.

Bicycle riding has become so very popular that millions of folks are on two wheels. The majority of the riders are school age, but increasing numbers are middle aged and older.

This cycling interest probably is due to the emphasis on exercise for health. Cycling is one form of exercise which can be enjoyed at any age.

Record numbers are competing for a share of road space, which has an ever increasing population of cars, trucks and buses.

★ ★ ★

The bicycle industry, through the Bicycle Institute of America, has been conducting a bike safety program for 87 years.

FINANCED MANY

It has encouraged and financed thousands of schools, and civic and service groups which required help in conducting community bike safety programs.

In 1963 the Institute distributed more than twelve million pieces of safety literature to such groups.

Homestead, Fla., introduced the first system of bikeways, a practical, inexpensive and effective way to make bicycling pleasanter and safer.

★ ★ ★

Bikeways are a system of secondary routes which usually run parallel to main streets. These streets and avenues are designated by the city as safer routes for bike riders of all ages.

CLEARLY MARKED

The routes are clearly marked with signs which guide riders and caution motorists to drive with special care.

Parents do not worry so much when their children follow the marked routes where there is less traffic and where drivers are alerted to be especially watchful for cyclists.

Students who ride their bikes to school form the habit of using the bikeways. Adults who ride for physical fitness enjoy the special routes.

Some grownups use this system of marked roads or streets for transportation to and from work or to the supermarket.

INSTINCTIVE REACTION

Police in Homestead say that motorists instinctively reduce their speed and drive more carefully when on the marked routes or avoid them, thus reducing traffic.

Nylons Protect Shoes

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Another use for discarded nylons is to draw them over your fancy shoes while you drive to a party. You leave them in the car and quickly pull them on again for the drive home.—J. H. W.

DEAR POLLY — My daughter, 8, recently tore one of her best school dresses in the front near the top of the skirt.

I had no matching fabric to mend with so I took one of her prettiest hankies and pinned it on the spot with a costume pin.

★ ★ ★

Now when she wears the dress to school she gets many admiring comments on her cute hanky with no one suspecting there is a patch under it.

★ ★ ★

Collect your child's miniature toys and oddities that are presently just a cluttery nuisance and pack them away in a box to be brought out later as a "Sick Day Toy Box."—MRS. H. C.

DEAR POLLY — A child's sleigh can be made by cutting off the legs of an old high chair, just below the seat, and fastening the seat to a sled.

Every time you make a dress or other garment, put a scrap of the material and an extra button or two on a page of a scrapbook kept for this purpose.

When a button is lost or you need a patch for mending, it is easy to locate the needed item. — AUDREY.

DEAR POLLY — My grandmother, 94, has a remarkable memory and likes to remember the birthdays of her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Since she is unable to go shopping for gifts, she keeps a big "handkerchief box."

All her relatives contribute handkerchiefs for the box and she has the joy of selecting one for each birthday.

If this is printed I will use the Polly Dollar to buy a handkerchief for her 95th birthday.—MRS. D. L. P.

Women Have Face for Every Occasion

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Women have many faces.

A man usually goes through life wearing one look. As he grows older it resembles nothing more than the expression of a soggy potato in a rain-washed gutter.

BOYLE

But women are different. They have at least one face for every occasion—and sometimes two. If you will look back at some of the situations you have known involving women, these feminine expressions may seems typical:

The great female stone face—This is the hard, fixed unseeing stare millions of women wear in the street, as if they were sleep-walking zombies.

You know I don't like to be kept waiting—The angry face of a wife who gets to an appointment half an hour late but figures the best defense is an attack.

LOT OF NERVE

Well, you've certainly got a nerve—Her eyebrow arches in indignation because you have managed by some oafish form of behavior to slow milady's progress. You have either got your foot caught under hers, brazenly impaled your eyeball on the point of her umbrella, or failed to push soon enough to help her through a revolving door.

So you had to be the life of the party—This is the protective morning-after accusation. You only had three martinis, she had four. Actually she really doesn't remember too clearly what happens, but figures you must have made a fool of yourself or else why would she feel so awful?

* * *

Oh, let's eat any place you'd like. Heaven knows I'm not fussy—But that set smile is ominous. She's in a picky mood. You can name a thousand restaurants—and she'll find something wrong with every one.

If you think it's any picnic trying to run a house on the money you bring home — She has the worn air of a martyr after long torture. Joan of Arc died looking more cheerful.

* * *

Why, of course, I don't mind staying a little late tonight, Mr. Thrombosis. I didn't have anything special planned — But as soon as the boss turns his back, his secretary sticks out her tongue and makes a witch face at him.

* * *

Oh, you didn't have to do that—An expression of feminine gratitude reserved for a man who buys the girl a $7.50 steak or throws himself under a passing truck to retrieve one of her $2.95 novelty earrings.

Plane Crash Kills Family

ALLIANCE, Neb. (AP) — Five Wichita, Kan., residents died yesterday afternoon when their light one-engine plane crashed in a wheat field about 20 miles west of Alliance.

* * *

Don Brown, Alliance airport manager, said there was evidence the plane was torn apart by turbulent weather.

Killed were Eugene S. McClain, 40; his wife, Imogene, and their children, Larry 16; Kay, 14, and Steve, 10. They were on an Easter holiday flight to Greybull, Wyo., to visit Mrs. McClain's father who learned of the crash as he watched at the Greybull airport for the family.

The fatal spin of the plane was seen by Hilton Nielsen, on whose ranch the ship plummeted to earth, and his 5-year-old daughter, Dianne.

* * *

Nielsen said he saw the spinning plane disappear behind the crest of a hill. He ran to the top of the hill, then saw the wreckage scattered over a wide area.

NO ENGINE NOISE

Nielsen said there was no engine noise just before the tearing sound of the crash.

Box Butte County Sheriff Fred Marsh said school books, magazines and an Easter bonnet were scattered over the crash area. Mrs. McClain's body was partly outside the plane.

The other four bodies were inside the cabin. There was no fire.

State Senators Vote to Keep Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Philip Hart and Patrick McNamara, both Michigan Democrats, voted with the majority Thursday as the Senate tabled and killed a motion of Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., which would have sent the pending Civil Rights Bill to the Senate Judiciary Committee for limited hearings.

Hawks Win Easily in Third Period

CHICAGO (AP) — After a battle of goalies in the first two periods, the Chicago Black Hawks burst forth with three goals in the third to whip the Detroit Red Wings 4-1 Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

It was the opening game in the best-of-seven semifinal round of Stanley Cup action. The two teams meet in the second game at Chicago Stadium Sunday night before the series shifts to Detroit, where the Hawks haven't won this season.

A stadium crowd of 15,697 whooped it up in the opener and another 8,200 watched the game on closed circuit in four Chicago theaters and one in Milwaukee.

SOMETHING WRONG

However, the big Palace Theater in Chicago's Loop had to give refunds to 1,500 patrons when something went wrong with the TV circuit, blacking out the game.

Defenseman Pierre Pilote and Right wing Murray Balfour scored goals at 6:42 and 8:27 of the third for a 3-1 Hawks edge. At 16:23, Stan Mikita connected for another. Balfour's shot came after he had skated onto the ice for the first time in competition since suffering a groin injury Jan. 23.

★ ★ ★

Andre Pronovost put Detroit ahead at 12:16 of the first period and the Hawks tied it at 13:06 on Ab McDonald's goal. In the scoreless second period, Hawks goalie Glenn Hall made 15 saves and opponent Terry Sawchuck 12. Hall had 34 for the night and Sawchuck 25.

"We played our best defensive game in quite some time," said Hawks coach Billy Reay. "Although Balfour says he is all right now, I have my doubts. I probably will platoon him with John McKenzie Sunday. McKenzie has had to take it easy since his operation."

LIKE MATCHES

Bobby Hull of the Hawks complained about the hockey sticks.

"They were new ones and they broke like matches," he said. "I must of broken four or five of them."

Manager-coach Sid Abel of Detroit said referee Art Skov should have blown the whistle and halted play before Pilote's tie-breaking goal in the third.

★ ★ ★

"Skov said the penalty was to have been called on Bill Gadsby," Abel said. "If that's so, then Skov should have blown the whistle because we had possession before Pilot scored the goal."

Defenseman Al Langlois of the Wings was injured in the game.

OUT OF ACTION

A Detroit club spokesman said Langlois may miss the second game of the playoffs with the Hawks in Chicago Stadium Sunday night.

NEW PNH COACH—Dave Schmidt was named head football coach at Pontiac Northern High School last night, succeeding Bob Dingman who will take a similar post at Lansing Eastern. Schmidt is the third coach in the young football history at Northern.

Schmidt New PNH Coach

Former University of Illinois gridder David Schmidt will be at the helm when Pontiac Northern's football team trots onto the field this fall.

Schmidt, 29, an assistant coach at PNH for the past four years, was elevated to the head coaching post last night by the Board of Education.

He succeeds Bob Dingman, who resigned to accept the head coaching job at Lansing Eastern High School in Lansing.

The head coaching assignment will be Schmidt's second.

During a two-year hitch with the U.S. Army at Fort Knox, Ky., Schmidt guided the Specialist Training Regiment's football squad, compiling a 17-4 won-lost record.

★ ★ ★

Schmidt played football under coach Ray Elliott at the University of Illinois (1950-51-52), making the varsity squad as a sophomore. He was graduated from the university in 1953.

He joined the Pontiac Northern faculty in 1960, following a year of teaching at Steinmetz High School in Chicago.

Schmidt is a social studies instructor at PNH.

★ ★ ★

He served as an assistant football coach under Ed Heikkinen (1958-62) and Dingman (1963).

Lening Leads Bourdase by Single Pin

Two Sessions Today; Final Matches Set for TV Saturday

By JERE CRAIG

At first glance the Professional Bowlers' Association North American Open at 300 Bowl would appear a two-man battle based on the 24-game qualifying results.

German-born Fred Lening and Californian Ed Bourdase dominated the scoring in the first two days' competition and were one-two entering the 16 head-to-head matches today.

At one o'clock this afternoon, they paced 16 bowlers in their last quest for the four spots in tomorrow's 3:30 p.m. nationally televised finals.

Eight matches are scheduled for the afternoon and another eight begin at 7 p.m. tonight, with the last one a position round based on the standings.

Lening, a 42-year-old Fairless Hills, Pa., bowling house manager, and the colorful 35-year-old Bourdase, Fresno, Calif., seemed likely to meet in that final match of the night if they retain their present scoring grooves.

★ ★ ★

Lening led the 16 qualifiers into today's action with 5171 pins in 24 games, a 215-plus average, but had only a one-pin lead over runner-up Bourdase.

They were well in front of defending champion Bill Allen, Orlando, Fla., and Detroit's Mike Totsky who tied for third place at 5102.

CONSISTENT

The two front-runners have been the most consistent performers on the "300" lanes. Lening, who has an outstanding record for finishing in the money when he makes a PBA tournament, was second, third, first and first after the four six-game qualifying blocks Wednesday and Thursday.

Bourdase, like Lening a bespectacled veteran with a good winning money record, stood first after the opening six, and has been second since each time since then.

He won more than $16,000 last season and has $4,765 this season. Lening, meanwhile, made money in seven of his eight PBA appearances last year for $5,820. The year before his name appeared among the earners seven times out of 12 attempts.

But both men are not assured of a spot among the four finalists. There were considerable changes in the standings during the second day's action.

Perhaps the most notable was Totsky's feat of climbing from 28th place to a tie for third in 12 games. Fort Worth Southpaw Jerry McCoy jumped from 39th to 13th.

★ ★ ★

Today's head-to-head format includes a provision for 50 bonus pins with every victory over an opponent. Thus the almost 70 pins Lening has over Totsky and Allen could disappear rapidly.

Checks were presented last night to the 17-40th place finishers in the $31,400 tournament. One of the biggest went to Pontiac's Mike Samardzija, Jr. who collected $440.

He finished 20th, only 35 pins from a qualifying spot, and won $50 for his performance in Tuesday's Pro-Am event. Samardzija was 33rd starting yesterday's two blocks.

Another strong surge was Monroe Moore's climb from 117th to 54th, but his late start left him 43 pins from a paying spot. The Pontiac "Sparemaster" was only 19 pins behind Don Carter of St. Louis for the 48 games.

★ ★ ★

National All Star champion Bob Strampe of Detroit, the leader after the first day's action, slumped to seventh in the third block and held that spot through the final six last night.

Bowling Hall of Famer Buzz Fazio of Detroit suffered one of the big falls when he dropped from fifth to 19th with an 1165 final block.

The tournament's top amateur performer, Jerry Jamkowski of Detroit, was 17th, only five pins from the low qualifying total. He won $455.

Bengals' Loss 4th Straight

Demeter, Horton Still Lead Hitting Attack

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Maybe having the day off today will help the Detroit Tigers shake a little of the blues and get them back on the winning track when they resume their exhibition scheduled against the Chicago White Sox at Sarasota, Fla., Saturday.

The Tigers got a good look at Los Angeles pitcher Don Drysdale Thursday in dropping a 6-2 decision to the world champion Dodgers.

It was the fourth straight loss and left the Tigers with a 4-9 record for their exhibition efforts. They've won only one game in the last eight.

Manager Charlie Dressen said he hates to lose whether it be in the spring or during the regular season, but he admits that even the losses will help him decide which players to keep and which to let go.

Don Demeter has been hitting near the .300 mark and Willie Horton continues to lead the team in runs batted in. Horton got a double to right off Drysdale Thursday to knock in the Tigers' first run in the sixth inning, then scored the second on Demeter's single.

Dick Egan gave up just one hit in two innings of relief and continued to impress the Detroit skipper.

Phil Regan started for the Tigers and breezed through the first two innings. The Dodgers picked up their first run in the third when Willie Davis' grounder got through Jerry Lumpe's legs on what should have been a third out play.

Repaired Limb Continues to Slow Yanks' Mantle

By the Associated Press

It's often been said that Mickey Mantle on one leg is better than most players on two, but even Mantle himself might not care to speculate how good he would be without that one good leg.

Actually, the leg—the left one—isn't that good, and that's what has the New York Yankee superstar worried.

★ ★ ★

"I was running real good when I came down her, but I haven't been running good the last couple of days," Mantle said Thursday after missing his second straight exhibition game.

Manager Yogi Berra had planned on using the switch-hitting center fielder against the Mets and even had his name on the line-up card. But Mantle asked for another day of rest, saying his left knee was troubling him.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

The left knee is the one which was operated on during the winter for torn cartilage. He has had recurring problems with his right knee since he twisted it as a rookie in 1951.

Mantle, who played in only 40 per cent of the Yankees' games in 1963 and 58 per cent the past two seasons, started in the first 11 spring games but departed after the early innings. He has five hits in 19 times at bat, has scored one run and driven in two.

★ ★ ★

Until the past few days, he had not been bandaging his legs before games. Now he's reverted to that precautionary practice.

He said Thursday the left knee hurts where the cartilage was removed.

"I got hit by Siebern the first game we played," Mantle said, referring to Norm Siebern's line drive that struck him on the side of the knee. "The darned thing hit right near the operation, and now it's hurting. Doc says it's just a bone bruise. I hope that's all it is."

NO WEAKNESS

Dr. Sidney Gaynor, the physician, said the knee had healed completely before Mantle came to camp, and no weakness exists.

The torn cartilage was discovered after Mantle suffered a fractured left foot in a crash against a fence at Baltimore last June. That was only another in the seemingly impossible long list of injuries the 32-year-old Yankee has suffered throughout his illustrious career.

Despite the bothersome setbacks, Mantle has played the fifth highest number of games in the team's history and is eighth on the list of all-time home run hitters among other accomplishments.

★ ★ ★

How much he'll play this year or in future years remains to be seen.

Manager Berra said, "I'm never gonna play him when he doesn't feel right."

Berra, however, hopes he'll be able to play him at least some of the time.

★ ★ ★

Mantle's replacement in the game with the Mets, Hector Lopez, drove in both of the Yankees' runs in their 2-1 victory. That evened the spring series between the teams.

In other games, Washington won its fourth straight game 9-3 over Pittsburgh, Bob Chance's grand slam home run powered Cleveland to a 9-8 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers, Kansas City downed the Chicago White Sox 10-6, the Chicago Cubs won a 15-inning game with Boston 10-8 and Milwaukee ran its winning streak to six, beating Cincinnati 4-1.

The games between Baltimore and Minnesota and St. Louis and Philadelphia were washed out after they got started.

Ralph Vanzo, head basketball coach for the past three years, was notified March 18 by school officials that his coaching contract would not be renewed for the 1964-65 season. The announcement was made public yesterday.

School officials said Vanzo's contract as a physical education teacher was not affected and that he would retain his position as assistant football coach.

DODGE CITY, Kan. (UPI) — Gene Summers of Flint, Mich. Junior College was selected by members of the National Junior College Athletic Association to the second team 1964 All-America basketball team.

Bobby Thompkins of Jackson, Mich. Junior College was given honorable mention.

WING MAKES LIKE BIRD—Joyous over a first period goal against the Chicago Black Hawks is Paul Henderson of the Detroit Red Wings. He didn't score the goal. It was put past goalie Glen Hall by Andre Pronovost. The Hawk defenseman is Elmer Vasko. Chicago won the opening Stanley Cup semifinal game last night, 4-1.

Michigan 9 Splits Pair

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP)—Michigan's touring baseball team split a morning-afternoon set of games Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The Wolverines defeated Wyoming 5-2 in the morning, but absorbed a 6-1 defeat by rugged Arizona State in the nightcap.

Doubles by Earl Meyers and Dave Campbell sparked a three-run fourth-inning rally to wrap up the Michigan victory in the opener.

★ ★ ★

Arizona State had little trouble in the second game for its 13th victory in 15 outings. Michigan now stands 4-5.

Two Juniors Get 'A' State Honors

By The Associated Press

Two juniors who already have drawn the attention of a number of college coaches led the Class A All-State Michigan High School Basketball Team announced today by the Associated Press.

Lee Lafayette of Grand Rapids South and Benton Harbor's L. C. Bowen are the two youngsters who crashed the elite five in close voting by sports writers around the state.

Bruce Rodwan of Ferndale, Bruce Forstrom of Marquette and Ralph Brisker of Hamtramck, all seniors, round out the top five.

Mel DeWalt of Pontiac Central made the second team.

Lafayette is considered the finest all-around player to come out of Grand Rapids in years. Unusually graceful under the basket, he is both a strong rebounder and scorer.

He connected on 236 of 383 shots from the floor and scored 587 points in 21 games for a 27.6 average. Lafayette picked off 359 rebounds.

ALL RECORDS

Bowen already has broken all of the Benton Harbor scoring records formerly held by Chet Walker, now plying his trade with the Philadelphia 76ers of the National Basketball Association.

Also a good rebounder and defensive player, Bowen averaged 28.2 points a game.

Rodwan, who led Ferndale to the state championship in 1963 and was named to the all-tournament team, continued his fine play this season, but despite his efforts, Ferndale could not repeat. His scoring average was 22.3.

Forstrom scored 407 points during the regular season for a 27.1 average in leading Marquette to the Upper Peninsula Class A title.

Regarded as one of the top three players in the UP, he gained considerable support in the balloting from sports writers who covered the regional tournaments in the Grand Rapids area.

Brisker set school game, season and career scoring records as he closed out his three years of play at Hamtramck. The sharp-shooting guard averaged 29 points a game in leading the Cosmos to a share of the Twin Valley title.

The top five players averaged 6-feet-4 with Rodwan tipping that mark exactly, while Bowen and Brisker are each 6-2 and the other two measuring out to 6-6.

Second team selections on the first AP high school all-start team ever were Larry Hammock of Muskegon Heights; Larry Salci of Warren; Steve Rymal of Adrian; John Holms of Lansing Sexton; and DeWalt.

Records Even Set in Whistle Toots

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You won't find Frank Udvari's name listed in any team line-up. Nevertheless he took the limelight Thursday night in the opening of the National Hockey League Stanley Cup semifinal playoffs.

★ ★ ★

Udvari is a referee and his whistle blowing set two Stanley Cup playoff records and equalled two others as the Montreal Canadiens beat Toronto 2-0. He handed out a record 16 penalties in the first period and a record total of 31 in the rough game before 13,934 at Montreal.

★ ★ ★

In contrast only 11 penalties were assessed at Chicago where the Black Hawks exploded for three goals in the last period to whip Detroit 4-1.

The 16 penalties in one period for two teams broke the mark of 15 set by Toronto and Boston April 1, 1951. The game total of 31 eclipsed the previous record of 29 set by Toronto and Detroit March 25, 1952.

Of the 16 first period penalties, eight were assesed against each team and this equalled the record set by Boston away back in 1927. The other record equalled was the 16 penalties against Montreal, also first set by Boston April 4, 1927 against New York.

★ ★ ★

Included in the record 31 total was a bench penalty against Montreal for having too many men on the ice and one against Claude Provost late in the game for an illegal faceoff procedure.

Provost was mad in the dressing room over this call, disregarding his assists on both of Montreal's goals. He passed to Boom-Boom Geoffrion for the first one at 6:53 of the opening period and did likewise to Ralph Backstrom at 9:32 of the second period. Meantime goalie Charlie Hodge had little trouble registering his fifth shutout of the season against the Leafs.

Toronto is at Montreal again Saturday night. The second game of the Chicago-Detroit set is at Chicago Sunday. Both series are best-of-seven.

2 Coaches Bid for Kansas Post

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Ralph Miller of Wichita and Ted Owens' Kansas assistant, are running neck-and-neck among Kansas alumni for the head basketball coaching job resigned by Dick Harp Thursday.

★ ★ ★

This doesn't mean either one is certain to get the job. Miller is a prime candidate for the vacancy at Iowa and is visiting there today.

The decision will be made by the Athletic Board, Chancellor W. Clarke Wescoe and the new athletic director, Wade Stinson. They have made no decision about their next step. The Athletic board won't act formally on Harp's resignation until April 16.

Cyclists Go Hunting

DETROIT (UPI) — Area motorcycle riders get outdoor competition starting Sunday with the annual Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by the Liberty Motorcycle Club of Farmington. Cyclists are required to hang onto their bikes while picking up the eggs in the competition that begins at 2 p.m. at Novi Road and the Grand River Expressway.

Hickey Fired at Marquette

Veteran Cage Coach Not 'Retiring'

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Marquette University — which put all of its athletic eggs into basketball four years ago — was looking for a new athletic director and cage coach today after the dismissal of Eddie Hickey.

★ ★ ★

Hickey, the 61-year-old outspoken "Little General" who has won or directed his teams to most of basketball's top honors since he began coaching in 1927, said he was "not ready or prepared for retirement."

★ ★ ★

Hickey was turned out after the poorest season in his coaching career and after the worst record since Marquette began basketball in 1917. The Warriors had a 5-21 record and lost 15 in a row before closing the season with a victory.

WINNING MARK

Hickey, who had a 90-72 record in six seasons at Marquette, also coached at Creighton and St. Louis University, where his teams had a combined record of 444 victories against 159 defeats.

★ ★ ★

His teams made nine appearances in the National Invitation Tournament, and his 1947-48 St. Louis squad won the NIT title.

He was named 1959 Coach of the Year by the Basketball Writers Association of America after his Marquette team posted a 23-6 record and went to the NCAA tournament.

Title Winner Triumphs

The winner of the Christian Service Brigade basketball title, Marimont Baptist B, closed its post-season play last night with a 61-58 triumph over a league All-Star team.

Th/ Marimont five, 15-1 for the season, was paced by Roger Bailey (23) and Paul Oliver (12). Bob Irwin led the losers with 30 markers.

Clay Builds Escrow for Liston Rematch

Washington (AP) — Heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay had to agree to put half of his purse from his fight with Sonny Liston—some $225,000—in escrow in order to get a crack at the former champion, an attorney has testified.

★ ★ ★

Gordon B. Davidson, attorney for a Louisville, Ky., group sponsoring Clay told the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee Thursday:

"We didn't like it, we don't like it, but we had to swallow it . . . because Clay wanted to fight for the title."

★ ★ ★

Clay won the championship in the Feb. 25 match at Miami when Liston failed to answer the bell in the seventh round. The committee has been taking testimony for three days about arrangements concerning the fight and will resume hearings Monday.

FIRST AGREEMENT

Davidson said Liston, when he was challenging former champion Floyd Patterson for the heavyweight title, had to agree to a rematch promoted by a firm selected by Patterson and also had to post half of his purse from the first fight as a guarantee he would give Patterson a rematch.

★ ★ ★

When backers of Liston—after he stopped Patterson in the first round of both fights — began negotiations with Clay, Davidson said, they insisted on a similar clause in the contract, although the pact did not specifically call for a rematch. It required that half of Clay's purse would be placed in escrow and that a group of which Liston was a stockholder would have the right to promote the match.

★ ★ ★

Davidson said the rematch agreement was in a second contract, kept secret until after the Miami fight.

"This was the deal they had to swallow to get a fight with Patterson and they were going to make the next guy swallow it," the attorney said.

EXPENSE MONEY

Davidson said Clay received $50,000 for expenses for agreeing to give Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc., the firm in which Liston is a shareholder, the right to promote Clay's first championship fight and to name his opponent.

About the secret rematch agreement Davidson said:

"I'm not sure about the legality of this provision, and I still don't like it. I don't think we would have agreed to it except that Clay wanted to fight for the title and this was the only way he could do it."

The World Boxing Association prohibits rematch clauses in contracts.

Fighter Who Beat Liston Coming Back

DETROIT (AP) — Marty Marshall, only fighter to beat Sonny Liston until the former heavyweight champion lost his title to Cassius Clay, was given a license Thursday to fight again — at 40 years of age.

Marshall, who broke Liston's jaw in a bout here Sept. 7, 1954, but then lost two subsequent fights to Sonny, one by knockout, received a one-year license from the Michigan state boxing commission.

★ ★ ★

Commissioner Frank Cavanaugh said the boxing board gave way to Marshall's insistence that he should have "a chance to make a few dollars for his wife and nine children."

Cavanagh said the commission would "take a close look" at any opponents to be chosen for the Negro veteran.

New Baseball Loop Announces Czar

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Arthur G. Morse of Toledo has been selected as commissioner of the newly formed independent United Baseball League.

Benjamin J. Harmsen, commissioner of the old UBL of Western Michigan, said the new loop would include teams from Grand Rapids, Wyoming, Ionia, Lansing, Ann Arbor, Adrian and Toledo and Findlay, Onio. He said the season will begin June 6.

The new league is a merger of the western Michigan loop and the Greater Toledo Circuit.

Realty Squad Increases Lead in Table Tennis

Dorris & Son Realty opened up a three-point lead in the Pontiac Table Tennis League last night by knocking off second place Anita Lettering, 4-2.

The four points upped the Realty crew's record to 94-44. Anita is 91-47.

In other games, Buettner Cleaners downed Kenerly's Service, 4-2; Frostop Drive-In trimmed Pine Knob, 5-1; Francis Fued edged Harvey's Colonial House, 4-2; Clark's Drive-In rolled over A & W, 4-2; Crocker Candy took a 6-0 decision from Country Kitchen; and Pepsi Cola defeated Club 99.

"A Lot Of Folks Think I'm The Service Manager.

That's probably because I talk so much about the importance of better service in building a business like this. What's more, I follow through to make sure that our customers get the best service possible. That's what brings them back here when they're thinking about a new car or for another service job. Bob Johnson is our service manager. And he's tops. The best I could find. He knows as well as I do that we can't afford to do anything but the best service work at the right price. So, if that's what you're after, drive your car in here the next time it needs service and let us prove that we practice what we preach."

Sincerely yours,

Soccer Is Big—No 'Bologna'

ROME (AP) — Italians take soccer as seriously as their daily pasta. This year doping charges and walkie-talkie coaching from the stands have put the spice of national scandal into the game.

Pep pill charges against the Bologna team, a leading contender in the major league race, have aroused the country. Fans have rioted in Bologna.

Police are looking for a fix. Lawyers are reading the fine print in the rule books.

Parliament is upset.

And the Bologna coach, barred from sitting on the bench during games, has taken to the stands to run his team by walkie-talkie.

FRONT PAGE

Sometimes the soccer scandal leaves little room on the front pages of Italian newspapers for major national and world news. No wonder. Soccer is Italy's national sport. Italian major league teams have spent millions of dollars to import some of the finest players in the world. Every Sunday, when the 18 major league teams clash, is like a World Series day.

The pep pill scandal started unexpectedly.

★ ★ ★

Soccer league doctors spot check players each week to see if any has used stimulants. No one really expects them to find anything. But they said they did.

The doctors charged five Bologna players had used pep pills before a game. At the time Bologna was in first place just ahead of two teams from Milan.

FANS PROTEST

Bologna fans exploded. They marched through city streets shouting that it was all a fix by the Milan teams. Milan cars found on Bologna streets were overturned.

The state prosecutor in Bologna announced there was reason to suspect that someone had tampered with urine specimens of the five players to make it appear they took dope. He ordered police to step in.

Now police are checking whether there was a fix.

Members of Parliament from Bologna are demanding that the government say what it is doing to protect the sport.

In the meantime, the league judiciary commission decided that the five players were unaware they were taking stimulants. But the commission ordered the Bologna coach, Fulvio Bernardini, suspended for the rest of this season and all of the next one.

DENIES CHARGE

Bernardini claimed he never doped his players.

Almost in tears, he said his career as a coach was finished. The next day, in Rome's big Olympic stadium as Bologna beat Rome 1-0, he sat in the stands. He had a walkie-talkie radio set. His assistant coach down on the bench also had a set.

★ ★ ★

"Bologna Radio - Guided," headlined the newspapers.

League officials got out their rule books. The rules said nothing about walkie-talkies for suspended coaches.

★ ★ ★

As tempers continued to rise, and police were alerted for riots at games involving Bologna, it was clear that the pep pill case had become a bitter pill for Italian soccer.

Progress Uncovers a Memory

SEATTLE (AP) — Workmen at the University of Washington dug up a memory Wednesday. Now they'll transplant it.

To make room for a building project, an oak tree 30 feet tall is being moved carefully to a new location from a spot beside the Conibear Shellhouse, headquarters of Washington crews.

★ ★ ★

Occasionally it has been called the "Hitler Oak," but the late Adolph Schicklegruber had nothing to do with it.

At the 1936 Olympics in Berlin each gold medal winner also received a tiny German oak tree. One went to the Washington eight-oared crew. Joseph H. Rantz, who pulled No. 7 oar, carried the 10-inch potted sapling under his arm until it was confiscated by Department of Agriculture authorities when the crew landed in New York.

SICK STICK

"They said they had to fumigate it," recalls former Coach Al Ulbrickson. "The tree arrived here a few weeks later, looking like a sick stick."

"I took it to the campus greenhouse, where the late Sam McMonies coaxed it back to life and set it out in the tree nursery."

When the shellhouse was built in 1949 the oak, still a stick but 10 feet tall, was transplanted near a corner of the building.

★ ★ ★

Now tall and gracefully branched, the tree bears no identifying marks or scars, although crew veterans have suggested attaching a plaque to explain its origin.

"It isn't a Hitler oak," said Ulbrickson. "Adolph never touched it."

Plymouth a Threat to Ford's Leadership

ATLANTA (AP) — "I'm telling you the cars we have now are not running, they are just flying!"

This was the comment of driver Elzie Buck Baker of twice NASCAR grand national champion and twice runner-up, now drives a Lee Petty Plymouth in the major speedway races. He is entered in the Atlanta 500 April 5.

★ ★ ★

Plymouth and Ford are engaged in a see-saw battle for the king of the hill in the stock car races. Ford held the lead for a long time, but now Plymouth is challenging with its new hemispherical combustion chamber engine.

The first big challenge to the Ford rule came at the Daytona 500, where Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C. won in a Plymouth. The best Ford could do in that race was fourth. Plymouth got first, second and third.

NEW ENGINE

The Plymouth challenge sent Ford engineers racing to get back in competition with a new 427-cubic inch displacement engine kit which turns a reported 7,000 revolutions per minute. NASCAR President Bill France has approved it for the Atlanta 500.

Ford regained the lead in the Southeastern 500 at Bristol, Tenn. Fred Lorezen of Elmhurst Ill., won, and fellow Ford driver Glenn Fireball Roberts of Daytona Beach, Fla. was second. Plymouth's best was third.

★ ★ ★

"That added power and torque that the cars now have, and the handling ability, is really going to make a difference in the Atlanta 500, with the short straightaways and wide, sweeping turns of the high-banked Atlanta international raceway," said Baker.

"I don't think we'll ever get these things straightened out," he added. "They'll probably slide all around the track. There's nothing to keep them from setting new records."

Drivers and race officials are predicting the official car record of 141.435 miles per hour will easily be broken when the cars take to the track for qualifying time trials the week before the 500.

Ex-Ohio Coach on 'M' Staff

Tony Mason Named Grid Assistant

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — One of Ohio's most successful high school football coaches, Tony Mason, today was named assistant on the University of Michigan football coaching staff.

★ ★ ★

Mason, a native of Sharon, Pa., will replace Jack Fouts who recently resigned to become head coach at Ohio Wesleyan. U-M spokesmen said the 35-year old Mason will assume his new duties immediately and be available when the Wolverines open spring practice next Thursday.

In five years at Niles, Ohio McKinely High School, Mason's teams won 47 games, tied two and went undefeated. Last year, they were state champions of Ohio.

Mason, a bachelor, is well known to at least four members of the present Wolverine team. Halfbacks Rick Sygar and Dick Rindfuss, Charles Kines, a tackle, and Dennis Flanagan, an end last season, all played for Mason on the McKinely team.

Sox Cushioning Rightfield Wall to Curb Injuries

CHICAGO (AP)—Not all the foam will be on beer in Comiskey Park this season.

The White Sox are having the right field wall covered from top to bottom with foam rubber.

★ ★ ★

"I think it will guarantee an almost completely injury-proof inclosure," said General Manager Ed Short. "The wire screen in front of the picnic wall in left field offers good protection, and there's no problem in center field with its five foot high canvas wall that guards the bull pen.

★ ★ ★

"With foam rubber in right, there is protection all around for players."

Before the picnic area was installed in left field, Ted Williams suffered a fractured elbow in the 1951 All-Star game when he crashed into the wall.

Mild Winter Aids State's Deer Herd

Things continue to look exceptionally good for northern Michigan's deer herd which is headed down the final stretch of its wintering season.

Although Upper Pensinula whitetails were yarded more tightly last week than they had been all winter, there are no signs of the animals being in serious trouble.

Warming temperatures should cut short the animals' confinement to these swampland areas.

There may be some spurts of bad weather before the spring breakup is complete, but winter is considered over for deer in the Lower Peninsula.

'Crusher' Is Featured in Armory Wrestling

Ricky 'Crusher' Cortez will take on Man Mountain Cannon in the feature event on the Saturday night professional wrestling card.

Other bouts have Ivan Kalmikoff meeting Louis Kline, Tom Londos battling Johnny Gates and a midget scrap pitting Farmer Pete against Vito Gonzales.

The first bout will get under way at 8:30 p. m. at the National Guard Armory on Water Street.

NBA Playoff Contest Is Switched to Monday

NEW YORK (UPI) — The St. Louis Hawks will host the fifth game, if necessary, in their National Basketball Association Western Division semifinal playoff series with the Los Angeles Lakers on Monday night, March 30, instead of Sunday, March 29, as previously announced.

★ ★ ★

The Hawks, who hold a 2-1 edge in the series, meet the Lakers Saturday night in Los Angeles in the fourth game.

BRING YOUR TRUCK NEEDS TO THE BEST OF THE BEST

NEIL B. WARD

GEORGE OERTEL
Two Matthews-Hargreaves' truck experts named to Chevrolet Truck Hall of Fame
Awarded annually for outstanding truck sales achievement, membership in the Chevrolet Truck Hall of Fame honors top truck specialists nationwide — men like Neil B. Ward and George Oertel, recently selected in recognition of their 1963 sales records. Even more important than the records themselves are the attitudes that made them possible, the sincere effort and desire to serve that characterize every Matthews-Hargreaves representative. Whether it's specialized truck counseling, help in selecting the right new or used car for your needs, or service after the sale, you'll find the entire Matthews-Hargreaves staff geared to put your needs first. This is the way we've built our business, and the way we'll continue to grow.

RECORD BREAKER — Roy Saari of the University of Southern California makes a turn on the way to winning the 500-yard freestyle yesterday in the NCAA meet at New Haven, Conn. Saari set an NCAA record with a time of 4:45.8. Pontiac's Ben Donaldson, swimming for Ohio State, was fifth.

Swim Records in NCAA Meet

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—How will America's swimmers do in the Tokyo Olympics next October?

It's still seven months away, but Olympic Coach Jim Counsilman says he can hardly wait after seeing some top prospects blister the Yale pool Thursday.

The tall, bald Counsilman was smiling as the collegians opened the three-day annual NCAA swimming and diving championships by breaking one American and four NCAA records in four races.

RECORDS

The record-wrecking was expected to continue today in five tests, all over the 200-yard distance, including the freestyle where Yale's Steve Clark and Southern California's Roy Saari may collide.

★ ★ ★

Both figured big in Thursday's assault on the standards. Saari, 19-year-old sophomore, won the 500-yard freestyle in 4:45.8, bettering the old mark of 4:40.7 set last year by John Konrads, the Australian Olympian.

Clark shattered the 50-yard sprint record by leading the qualifiers in 20.9 seconds, but lost by a shade to his teammate, Mike Austin in the final. The old NCAA record was 21 seconds posted in 1963 by Steve Jackman while at Minnesota.

Pontiac's Ben Donaldson, swimming for Ohio State, took third in the prelims of the 500 freestyle in a time of 4:53.7, but he was 5th in the finals in 5:02.0.

Ed Boothman, ex-Kimball diver, was second in the preliminaries and took second again in the finals behind Indiana's Richard Gilbert in the one meter dive.

The other record-breaking peformances were registered by Southern California's 400-yard medley relay team; Bob Bennett, who swam the opening leg in that race, and Dick McGeagh, another Trojan, who won the 400-yard individual medley.

★ ★ ★

The Southern Cal team nosed out Yale in the medley relay in 3:30.9 for the new NCAA record and Bennett lowered the American 100-yard backstroke mark with a 53.2 in his leadoff leg.

Indiana's Hoosiers gained the lead, as expected, in the scrap for team honors, piling up 33 points, five more than Southern California and Yale, each tied with 28.

500-yard freestyle—1, Roy Saari, Southern California, 4:45.8. NCAA record. (old record 4:50.7 by Jon Konrads, Southern California, 1963.) 2, Gary VerHoeven, Indiana, 4:53.7. 3, Terry Townsend, Indiana, 4:55.3. 4, Thomas McAneney, Southern Illinois, 4:57.1. 5, Ben Donaldson, Ohio State, 5:02.0. 6, Charles Schuette, Oklahoma, 5:03.6.

400-yard individual medley—1, Rick McGeagh, Southern California, 4:16.4. (NCAA record, old record 4:22.5, Ed Townsend, Yale, 1963.) 2, Ralph Kendrick, Indiana, 4:19.7. 3, Ed Townsend, Yale, 4:21.0. 4, Ted Stickles, Indiana, 4:21.3. 5, Dale Kiefer, Yale, 4:25.0. 6, Richard Boyd, Oregon, 4:25.3.

50-yard freestyle—1, Mike Austin, Yale, 0.21. 2, Steve Clark, Yale, 21. 3, Jim Van Kennen, Wesleyan, 21.5. 4, Bill Stuek, Colgate, 21.7. 5, Richard Abrahams, Northwestern, 21.9. 6, Chris Marker, Washington State, 22.

One-meter dive — 1, Richard Gilbert, Indiana, 491.70 points 2, Edward Boothman, Michigan, 455.35. 3, Randall Larson, Ohio State, 436.20. 4, Bruce Brown, Michigan, 422.55. 5, John Candler, Michigan, 402.00. 6, Charles Neel, Indiana, 401.65.

400-yard medley relay — 1, Southern California (Bob Bennett, Bill Craig, Jim McGrath, Roy Saari), 3:30.9. (NCAA record, old record 3:34.5 set by Southern California in afternoon qualifying round). 2, Yale, 3:31.0. 3, Indiana, 3:33.7. 4, Minnesota, 3:35.4. 5, Southern Methodist, 3:36.5. 6, Michigan, 3:40.5.

Team standing — Indiana 33, Southern California 28, Yale 28, Michigan 12, Minnesota 6, Ohio State 6, Southern Methodist 4, Wesleyan 4, Colgate 3, Southern Illinois 3, Northwestern 2, Oklahoma 1, Oregon 1, Washington State 1.

Archers Ready to Take Aim at Rough Fish

Archers and spear fishermen will soon be able to take aim on rough fish in streams of 67 Lower Peninsula counties.

Starting April 1, these sportsmen may take carp, suckers, redhorse, mullet, dogfish, and garpike in this part of the state. Only Otsego County is not included under the Lower Peninsula's special season which continues through May 31.

★ ★ ★

Upper Peninsula bowmen and spear enthusiasts will be on the firing line for these same fish throughout May in designated streams of all counties except Ontonagon.

For free lists of these streams, write the Conservation Department's Publications Room in Lansing or contact any of its field offices.

World Champ Drivers Monte Carlo Entries

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (UPI) — A trio of world champion drivers — defending champion Jim Clark of Scotland and former champions Graham Hill of Britain and Jack Brabham of Australia — have entered the Monaco Grand Prix, scheduled for May 10.

Dan Gurney and Ritchie Ginther will be America's two leading representatives in the racing classic.

SCRAMBLE FOR REBOUND—Oregon State's 7-foot Mel Counts (14) is outrebounded by UCLA's Keith Erickson (6-7) in last night's game between the Bruins and NCAA Olympic All-Stars. The Stars, led by Counts' 20 points, handed UCLA its first setback (it doesn't count in the record book) of the season, 86-72.

A's Bank on Colavito, Gentile

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Eddie Lopat counts on the home run power of Rocky Colavito and Jim Gentile to shock a few people in the American League if he can uncover pitching help for his Kansas City Athletics.

★ ★ ★

The deal that sent Ed Rakow and Dave Wickersham to Detroit with Jerry Lumpe for Colavito, pitcher Bob Anderson and cash cost the A's two starting pitchers and their regular second baseman. Colavito and Anderson may help but Lopat can't play the $50,000 booty on second base.

NEEDED POWER

"I didn't like to give up two pitchers," Lopat said. "But when you have to get power, you have to give up something. There was talk of getting Felipe Alou from the Giants but they wouldn't give enough. So, we made the deal with the Tigers. If Rocky comes through the deal will be okay. It can stimulate the gate."

The gate can stand stimulating. The winter-long hassle between owner Charles Finley and the American League about moving the franchise to Louisville or Oakland disenchanted many Kansas City fans. However, the club reports advance sales will be close to 3,000, as good as last year.

★ ★ ★

Lopat thinks the Gentile-for-Norm Siebern swap with Baltimore is a standoff.

"Gentile will give you more home runs and RBI and he also is a better first baseman," said Lopat. "Siebern will hit for a better average and is a faster and better base runner."

The A's are set in the infield, except at second base, where 22-year-old Dick Green will try to fill Lumpe's shoes. Gentile at first, Wayne Causey at short and Ed Charles at third are the others. Charles led the '63 club with 15 homers and 79 RBI. If Green doesn't make it, his job goes to George Williams.

OUTFIELD SET

Colavito in left, Jose Tartabull in center and Gino Cimoli in right will be the regular outfield with Nelson Mathews, ex-Chicago Cub, probably platooning with Tartabull in center.

Doc Edwards and Charlie Lau are fighting for the No. 1 catching job.

Lopat has only three regular starting pitchers—Moe Drabowsky, Diego Segui and Orlando Pena. His bullpen is well stacked with John Wyatt, Ted Bowsfield, Tom Sturdivant and Dale Willis.

BOWLING

Oz Jewett had a 700 series Monday to lead the action in the Classic League at West Side Lanes.

His 257 game (plus 243-203) was the night's top game. Jewett had a 703 series and there were 12 in the 600 category.

The Calbi Music team, meanwhile, grabbed a share of first place in the Huron Bowl Classic last week as 300 Bowl suffered a 6-2 reversal.

Ron Rothbarth led Calbi to its six-point win over Veterans Disposal with a 647, while Joe Foster's 662 kept Pontiac Window Cleaning (1106—3203) right in the race.

★ ★ ★

The Friday night scoring honors, however, went to Lee Luenberger (254) and Jerry Perna (673).

LEADER

Airway Lanes' Guys and Dolls League last Friday posted a 235—610 duo for Ron Hopp. He teamed with Bill and Margaret Pfahlert and Karen Hummel to win first place this season as the "Unpredictables."

Action in the Wonderland Lanes Masters League Monday saw Karl Sniderman hit 278—620 (including nine strikes in a row) and John Wozniak had 225-253—673.

Sally Ley of Lloyd Lincoln bowled 202-204—556 in the St. Paul Methodist Church women's league at Orchard Lanes last week for the loop's first 200 games this season.

Saturday night's Braves and Squaws loop at West Side Lanes had a 131 triplicate by Gertie Cooper, Virginia Mueller hit 563 and Philip Keith 237.

West Side's Monday Pontiac Motor Mixed circuit was led by Ruby Burnett's 214—525.

The Marimont Baptist Church Saturday League at Montcalm Bowling Centre recorded a 234 for E. A. Lundeen, and a 229 for William Hill.

Sunday at Howe's Lanes the Merry Mixers had a 556 by Doris Schaller, and Ed Pierson and Ken Riggs each hit 221.

TOO LATE?

It may be a case of too little, too late for the Hanson's Plastering team in Howe's Tri-City League. Last week they hit the season's high series (2887) and trimmed the lead of Bloch Brothers Realty to seven points.

But Hanson's has only a couple weeks now to catch the leaders. Clarence Laatch's 255—639 led Hanson's last week. Larry Meyers also hit 255 in a 618.

Howe's Senior Classic last Friday had a 179 triplicate by Jim Debow, a 225— 22 by Al Whittingham, a 243 by Paul Barnum and a 242 by Walt Honchell. In addition, the first place J&I Pattern squad dropped four points.

Basketball Talent Coaches' Problems

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—All coaches would like to have the problems and headaches that plague Slats Gill of Oregon State and Jack Gardner of Utah.

★ ★ ★

The two will coach the East and West teams in Saturday afternoon's East-West College All-Star basketball game, and there's so much talent on hand that both are working overtime just trying to come up with a starting line-up.

Gill will handle the West and Gardner the East.

SKILL TO SPARE by Dick Weber

MOVE slightly to the right.

To make the 8-pin spare, move slightly to the right.

Follow the Sparemaker arrow and roll a normal ball.

This leave is one of the breaks of the game. One of those things you can't help. You didn't do anything wrong.

Unfortunately, the ball deflected one way and the 5, which normally takes the 8, was deflected the other way.

UCLA Loses to All-Stars

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA's national basketball champions proved they're mortal after all by losing to the NCAA Olympic All-Stars, 86-72.

But the Thursday night exhibition game was just a tune-up for the Olympic tryouts and didn't count toward the Bruins' 30 straight wins for the season.

Oregon State's 7-foot Mel Counts led the All-Stars to victory with 20 points while his teammates were shooting 52 per cent from the floor. Jack Hirsch had 18 for UCLA.

Fred Slaughter of the Bruins scored the first basket but the All-Stars came back immediately to tie it up, then spurted ahead and led the rest of the way.

At halftime, the All-Stars held a 45-35 advantage in the Olympic Fund benefit game.

★ ★ ★

Winning coach Slats Gill of Oregon State called it a "real delight" to guide the All-Stars.

"Every player in our lineup was a starter on his own team this season and they all wanted to play," Gill said.

Action Heavy in ABC Meet This Weekend

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The American Bowling Congress Tournament moved into its customary Easter weekend of heavy booster team activity here today with Oakland and San Francisco clubs filling th schedule.

★ ★ ★

There were no important changes in Thursday's action although the San Francisco Knights managed to finish out their classic team play with a 5,873 total for fourth place in the standings. Only ten classic teams have competed so far with the California Bombers pacing the pro team field on a 6,021 six-game total.

★ ★ ★

Bob Johnson, a San Francisco bowling proprietor, went into eighth place in the regular all events standings on Thursday with a 1,878 nine-game score. Johnson had a 622 out in team and followed with 607 in doubles and 649 in singles.

9th Frame

By JERE CRAIG

Quickly they come and quickly they are gone.

Members of the Professional Bowlers' Association do not tarry when they have finished their participation in a tournament.

Most of the competitors in the North American Open at 300 Bowl were on their way elsewhere this morning.

Several departed last night as soon as today's 16 finalists were determined and the checks were given to those in 17-40th places.

In fact, one of the finalists also left. No. 16 man Roy Rosland had an early morning appointment with his Chicago draft board and his continuation in today's bowling was doubtful.

Amateur Jerry Jamkowski, No. 17 in the scoring, would move into the finals if Rosland does not return by 1 o'clock.

The regular tour members are bound for Denver, Colo. as best they can manage. There will be numerous cars crowded with PBA members going west today and again tomorrow while the top four are bowling on national television for the $4,000 first prize check.

Sharing rides and living quarters is not unusual for the pros. It's expensive on the tour and the paychecks are not always big or steady.

There are only three meets left on the winter tour after this weekend's. The pros hop on to California after Denver.

They'll cap the two stops in California with their appearance in the American Bowling Congress' Masters Tournament at Oakland. Then they'll rest prior to starting in on the PBA's summer tour.

COAST TRIP

A familiar name in local bowling departed Thursday for Oakland and the ABC regular division tournament. Mitch Calbi and his wife flew west to join his Calbi Music team.

This marks the 31st year for Calbi in an ABC tournament, and he has sponsored his own team over half of that time.

Jim Walker, Pat Sweeney, Ken Wilhite and Ron Rothbarth drove out earlier this week as the other team members. They will bowl Sunday night and Monday afternoon.

Sparkling Gallic 'Robin'

French Bowler Scores

NEW YORK (NEA)—Mlle. Gigi Robin, 23, of Geneva, Switzerland, is deceptive looking, even for a French girl.

★ ★ ★

Her 112 pounds are strategically distributed as whistle bait over a 5 foot, 4 inch basic structure. She has an Elizabeth Taylor-type nose, big brown eyes sparkle with Gallic vivacity and jet black hair has been teased until it is ready to fight back.

GIGI ROBIN

She looks like a dancer, skier, tennis player or one of those dainty gymnasts—all of which she is.

She doesn't look anything like a professional bowler, who mostly bear a strong physical resemblance to Haystack Calhoun or Sonny Liston. Yet Gigi is the best distaff kegler in Europe, and she has been at the sport only 10 months.

★ ★ ★

In that period, Mlle. Robin has finished second in the All-Europe Tournament at Besancon, France (an American girl won it), and was on the team that won the first European mixed doubles championship in Paris. She has an average of 162, a high game of 247 and a 592 series.

Gigi was born in Dijon, France, the only child of the owner of an electrical appliance store. When she was 10 she started taking gymnastics in school. By the time she was 18 she was a full-fledged gymnastics instructor, complete with diploma.

SKIER

She became proficient on skis and took up dancing and tennis. Because she is high strung, she practices yoga, which she lately has been supplementing with isometric exercises.

★ ★ ★

Gigi went to Geneva, where she got a job as a hotel telephone operator. When a firm (AMF) which manufactures most of the bowling equipment sold in Europe held a meeting at her hotel, Gigi was pressed into service as an interpreter.

The boys took her bowling, she liked the sport and took it up seriously. A few months later she was good enough to make her first appearance as an instructor at the opening of a new establishment in Milan, Italy.

Gigi likes American men, but her biggest thrill to date has been taking lessons from Dick Weber, the great American bowler.

★ ★ ★

"I learn much from Deeck Wayber in so short a time," Gigi Robin said. "He is so vunderful man."

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

Newspaper ads. Magazine ads. Catalogs and brochures. This is where sales get started. This is where people turn to ferret out the facts which allow an intelligent buying decision.

People can linger with a printed page: two minutes, five minutes, ten. They can come back to it again and again. They can compare one product with another. They can study styles, features, sizes, prices at their own pace. They can rip out a printed ad, save it, show it to friends, make notes on it, clip coupons. They can and they do. Don't you? If you've something to sell, it will pay to promote it in print —where people on the brink of buying can get their hands on it. Print makes sense because print makes sales.

Gloxinias Are Spectacular

An Easter gift of a solid color, bicolor or even tricolor gloxinia plant provides a dramatic "spectacular."

Gloxinias blossoming in new red clay pots remain in good condition for about two weeks, then, the first eye-filling display is prolonged as additional buds appear and open.

For best results set clay pot on a half inch layer of moist pebbles in a red clay saucer.

The motto of the state of California is "Eureka, I have found it."

Prolong Pleasure of Easter Azaleas

Those Easter azaleas you received will bring prolonged enjoyment if you plunge them outdoors in the red clay pots they came in.

Garden Tips to Home Owners

"More Beautiful Home Grounds" is the theme for two meetings presented by the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University.

Lyle Abel, director of the Oakland County Extension Service will discuss shrubs and trees on April 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the fourth floor auditorium of the old Oakland County office building, 1 Lafayette St., corner of Saginaw, Pontiac.

Slides of desirable shade trees for various locations will be shown.

On April 9 at the same time and place Eugene D. Johanningsmeier, agronomist and sales manager of Hiram Godwin and Son, Inc. of Detroit will discuss the fine points of building and maintaining a good lawn. A well known authority on lawns, he has served as President of the Michigan Turf foundation.

★ ★ ★

Jay Poffenberger, County Extension Agent in Agriculture will present information on soils and control of undesirable grass and weeds.

Interested home owners are welcome to these free meetings.

Send a Color Slide

Sending a color slide of your Easter gift plants to their senders is a gracious and thoughtful way to say "thank you" — simple and economical too with new Dynachrome color film now available with processing by its manufacturer.

TREAT SEEDS—Treatment of seeds before sowing takes two forms: dusting with a seed protectant powder to control disease and inoculation with a bacterial growth stimulant to aid formation of nodules by bacteria on the roots of peas, beans, other legumes.

Treated Seeds Mean Healthier Crop Yield

Two different kinds of seed treatment will result in the production of better crops.

The first is dusting seeds with a protectant to control diseases which may be present on the surface.

The second is inoculation of seeds with a bacterial growth stimulant.

★ ★ ★

Several types of seed protectants, each made specifically for certain kinds of seeds, are available.

READ LABEL

Read the label to make certain you are buying the right kind for the seeds you wish to sow.

Because many seedsmen pretreat seeds of vegetables that particularly need such treatment, inspect the label on the seed packet first to find whether seeds have already been treated.

Otherwise, treatment is simple — as much of the protectant powder as will fit on the tip of a knife is added to the seeds in a packet.

★ ★ ★

The packet is closed tightly and shaken to mix powder with seeds and then the seeds are sown.

An added amount of protectant, in excess of that suggested by the manufacturer, can do more harm than good.

Inoculation is practiced only with seeds of legumes — the plant group to which peas, beans and soybeans; lupine and sweet peas all belong.

Only legumes can profit by inoculation for these plants alone attract certain bacteria which live on the roots of the plants.

FREE NITROGEN

These bacteria have the power to take free nitrogen from the air and "fix" it in nodules which they produce on legume roots.

Since nitrogen is the chemical most closely associated with plant growth, it is a desirable addition to soil.

When leguminous crops are harvested and the roots allowed to stay in the ground to decay, valuable nitrogen is added to the soil and better future crops result.

Bathe Plant Each Week

Don't wait until house plants are infested with insects before doing something about this problem.

A weekly bath in sudsy water is the recommended method for controlling these annoying pests.

Place plants in a sink or bathtub and wash all exposed areas with soapsuds, using a soft flat paint brush about an inch long.

Make sure that no bugs are lodged in the joints of the branches, then spray the plants with clear water.

Aerate Top Soil of Potted Plants

It's good spring indoor gardening practice to aerate the top soil of your clay-potted plants by raking it about a half-inch deep with an ordinary kitchen fork.

This will permit more effective water penetration all through the roots.

Annual Garden Forum Will Gather April 22

An impressive panel of speakers representing the nation's most outstanding horticultural authorities will gather at Greenfield Village for the Henry Ford Museum's third annual Garden Forum April 22-24.

The Clara B. Ford Garden Forum each year presents illustrated lecture programs and animated panel discussions on a wide variety of gardening subjects.

Morning and evening lectures with such themes as regulating plant growth, arranging flowers and exploring for orchids are supplemented by films, exhibits, tours and nature walks.

Members of metropolitan Detroit garden clubs will exhibit flower arrangements against a background of early Americana with a floral motif.

LECTURE SCHEDULE

According to James A. Fowler, Forum chairman, the lecture schedule is as follows.

April 22, "Our Changing Gardens," May T. Watts, Naturalist Emeritus, Morton Arboretum, Lisle, Ill.; "Plants in Pots — Indoors and Out," Ernesta D. Ballard, executive secretary, Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, Philadelphia; "A Twentieth Century Drug Garden," John M. Frogg, Jr., director, Morris Arboretum, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.

April 23, "Nature Nearby," James A. Fowler, director of education, Henry Ford Museum; "Plant Growth Regulators," Donald D. Jucharz, Wayne County Extension Director, Cooperative Extension Service, Michigan State University; "The Complete Garden," Carlton B. Lees, executive secretary, Massachusetts Horticultural Society, Boston.

★ ★ ★

April 24, "The Story of the Gardens at Adena," Reed A. Masse, landscape architect, Ohio Historical Society, Columbus; "Contemporary Flower Arrangements," Osa Mae Barton, flower arranger, East Lansing, Mich.; "Explorations for Orchids in Equator," Calaway Dodson, University of Miami, Coral Gables, Fla.

Forum registrants may attend the entire program, including the banquet scheduled for Friday evening, for $25. Daily registrations are also possible.

Further information is available from the Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Mich.

Kill Weeds Chemically

An easy way to upgrade a poor lawn to a good bluegrass turf may be by "burning back" unwanted vegetation chemically.

Weeds and coarse bunchgrasses are struck down, the bluegrass and fine fescues introduced into the withered rubble without even plowing the seedbed.

Results are not so sure as when a seedbed is cultivated, but the idea works well in seasons of high humidity, often the case in spring.

There are good knockdown chemicals under several brand names, cacodylic acid having received wide usage, and diquat showing considerable promise.

CHEMICALS KILL

Both of these chemicals kill vegetation they come into contact with, but are inactivated by the soil.

Thus there is no persistent chemical hazard, and only a day or two delay is needed before reseeding (just enough time to dry up treated vegetation.

After knockdown chemical treatment, according to the directions accompanying the product, it is helpful to scratch the old turf surface.

The tiny new bluegrass and fine fescue seeds must contact soil in order to sprout well.

The dried duff of old vegetation can remain as a mulch helping protect the new seeding from washing.

Regular light watering to keep the surface moist hastens sprouting of the new seed.

FLORIBUNDA ROSE — Saratoga won the 1964 AARS honor for its pure white flowers and pronounced fragrance.

Soil Test Information Available

Some lawn soils are acid—some are alkaline and in order to grow a beautiful lawn it is necessary to know whether your grass needs an alkaline soil or acid soil.

Now available for the first time, this list will give you information about the pH needs of different lawn grasses.

Also included will be information on the advantages and simplicity of soil testing.

Write for your FREE list of pH preferences of grasses and soil testing information to Sudbury Laboratory, Lab D, Sudbury, Mass.

Prayer Plant Apt

An appropriate Easter foliage plant to combine with your traditional gifts of clay-potted lilies, tulips and hyacinths, is the rich green Maranta or prayer plant. It gets its name because its leaves fold gently at night, like clasped hands.

Zenith Zinnias

Horticultural Breakthrough

One of the biggest "hits" of this or any other year in the horticultural world is Burpee's development of the magnificent, F1 hybrid 'Zenith Zinnias, including the brilliant red Firecracker and the golden - orange Bonanza, respectively the 1963 and '64 All-America Silver Medal winners.

Zeniths are large, ruffled and quilled informal or cactus-flowered zinnias measuring up to six inches across, superb specimens of plant bybridizing by the W. Atlee Burpee Co.

These new Zeniths have met with such great popularity and interest among garden experts and home gardeners alike in advance trials that people are coming to think of 1964 as "The Year of Zenith Zinnias."

NEW DEVELOPMENT

Behind the development of this new flower, which is available in mixed colors this year for the first time, lies discovery of a scraggly, somewhat-colorless zinnia without petals which possessed the unique factor of being male-sterile (completely female).

This drab little zinnia was found lurking shyly among hundreds of proud and colorful zinnias in the trial fields at Floradale Famrs, Lompoc, Cal., by one of Burpee's plant breeders in 1950.

He made his "find" in row number 66 in the fields and christened her "Mrs. 66." Because it was male-sterile, this flower would not yield pollen, but could be used as the "mother" of hybrids when pollen from normal zinnias was introduced.

★ ★ ★

Most zinnias (and other flowers as well) consist of large numbers of both male and female parts so that bybridization to produce true varieties becomes extremely difficult.

With the discovery of "Mrs. 66," however, Burpee hybridists could then use bees, rather than arduous and time-consuming hand-pollination, to produce true hybrid zinnias with outstanding characteristics of beauty and vigor.

After making a number of test crosses to select the best "fathers," Burpee plant breeders set out alternating rows of "Mrs. 66" and the male parents and "let the bees do the work."

David Burpee, Burpee's president, notes that "bees are lazy creatures" and tend to visit flowers close to each other.

ALTERNATE ROWS

By alternating rows of "Mrs. 66" with the seclected male parents, Burpee more or less "stacked the cards" in favor of the specific crosses they wished to obtain.

He points out that the seeds produced by "Mrs. 66" yield true hybrids and are saved, while the seeds produced by the "paternal" plants are not used.

Once "Mrs. 66" was discovered, Burpee hybridists look more than a decade of careful testing and experimental breeding before introducing the first Zenith, Firecracker, last year. It was an immediate success with gardeners.

Zenith Zinnias develop large numbers of flowers from early in the season, boast mildew-resistant foliage and have notable F1 hybrid vigor characterized by lateral branches with fine flowers over a long period of time.

Zenith Zinna plants grow two feet tall.

Looking back, Burpee said, "The discovery of Mrs. 66 and the consequent development of the F1 hybrid Zenith Zinnias was as significant a horticultural breakthrough as was our development of the F1 hybrid Climax Marigolds."

Singer Eartha Kitt Is Granted Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Negro actress-singer Eartha Kitt won an uncontested divorce in Santa Monica, Calif., from Beverly Hills accountant William O. McDonald.

★ ★

Miss Kitt, 36, wept on the stand in Superior Court as she said McDonald, 32, who is Caucasian, was inconsiderate of her in public and with friends. McDonald was ordered to pay $100 a month support for their only child, a daughter, Kitt, 2. The couple was married June 9, 1960 and separated July 1, 1963.

Turf Needs Nitrogen

The home owner who understands how grass grows can appreciate the importance of feeding his lawn regularly and properly.

The millions of grass blades that make up a lawn contain a high percentage of protein. Nitrogen is an important part of protein, and is, therefore, essential to new leaf growth.

Each time the grass is mowed, part of this stored nitrogen is clipped off. Yet at the same time the plant needs nitrogen for new top growth.

★ ★ ★

In addition, nitrogen helps each grass plant develop aboveground stems or tillers that produce new blades and thicken the lawn.

NITROGEN REQUIRED

Since all of these important functions require nitrogen, it's understandable why most lawn foods have a high nitrogen content. But this is just part of the solution to a green, healthy lawn.

Since grass needs nitrogen continuously, lawn foods that feed gradually for many weeks come closest to satisfying grass needs—and produce the best lawns.

Manufacturers realize this also and have been working for a number of years on slow-release lawn foods.

The latest idea is coating nitrogen with a special material to prevent wild bursts of growth and permit controlled release of nitrogen as the grass needs it.

The result is still a quick greening, but more uniform growth and a longer-lasting green.

One fertilizer on the market does include coated nitrogen. Part of the nitrogen in Greenfield's 20-10-5 Measured-Release Lawn Food is immediately available for quick, green growth.

Other nitrogen is protected in tiny, coated particles or "prills." The protective coating prevents lawn burning and releases nitrogen slowly as the grass needs it.

NITROGEN RELEASED

Moisture enters the nitrogen prills and carries out nitrogen slowly through microscopic openings in the coating.

Nitrogen continues to be released for several weeks. The rate of nitrogen release in the lawn food is controlled by openings in the coating.

Plants Plentiful

Professionally grown combinations of spring flowering plants, blended with low-growing green foliage plants in large clay pots will be available in abundance as Easter plant gifts this month.

JOB-FINDERS—Merrill Walls, manager of the state Michigan Employment Service Pontiac office has thousands of jobs at his fingertips—up to 40,000 of them. They're job descriptions contained in a unique dictionary, one of the tools used by the state employment agency in matching qualified workers with job openings.

Matches Workers to Positions

Service Has Jobs at Fingertips

By ALLEN PHILLIPS

Ever thought of looking for work as a gigolo or a gambler?

If your amateur standing is good, or you've had professional experience in these fields, you could walk into the Michigan Employment Service and file an application.

In fact, anyone in or out of work looking for a step up might give this agency a try. It may well be able to find you a better-paying, more interesting job just down the street or even in Paris.

Sound odd? It shouldn't. This service has been around for almost 30 years, quietly doing its job of matching qualified workers with eager employers.

★ ★ ★

But to submit your application, you first have to locate the Employment Service. This could be confusing, since it shares the Michigan Employment Security Commission branch at 242 Oakland, commonly known as the "unemployment office."

ONE IMPRESSION

"That's certainly one impression we'd like to clear up," lamented Merrill Walls, Employment Service manager.

"We date back before there was an agency paying unemployment benefits."

In 1936, Walls was in Pontiac on the staff of the National Reemployment Service, a federal effort to ease the Depression and recruit for public works projects.

★ ★ ★

By 1938, however, it was absorbed as a dual function of the then-Michigan Unemployment (this lead to the present misnomer) Commission when Michigan joined other states in taking federal aid to set up a unified program.

NO FEE

The Employment Service is unlike private agencies in several respects: there is no fee if it finds you a job; it has testing and counceling facilites to determine what kind of work you can do, and its job market is nationwide.

Most people have their first contact with the job-finding service when they come into an MESC office to file for unemployment benefits. Part of the procedure requires claimants to fill out an employment form.

"But you do not have to be a claimant for benefits to file with us," explained Walls. This means anyone, young or old, can place an application if they are seeking work.

CHANCES GOOD

What are your chances of getting a job once you file an application? Fairly good, says the Employment Service.

In a recent one-month period, the Pontiac office added 1,153 new job applications, giving it an active file of 4,019 job seekers.

Of this number, 519 were placed in new jobs, a total likely to increase as the retail trade and other fields expand during warm weather months.

★ ★ ★

As expected, most of those securing work had education or experience. Auto mechanics, tool and die makers, accountants, and skilled tradesmen are all in demand, but so are domestics and produce clerks.

HARDEST TIME

"Older workers, depending on their past occupation, those without particular skills, or the very young have the hardest time," said Walls.

"But with economic conditions today, a high school graduate in this area, over 18, has a reasonably good chance of placement."

The Employment Service lists job openings from throughout Michigan, state and federal agencies, and other states in needs of manpower.

★ ★ ★

Possibilities range from a few hours work unloading a truck for a downtown merchant, seasonal department store sales work, a high-paying machine shop job or being a typist in a U. S. embassy.

BETTER POSITIONS

Employment Service files contain applications from doctors and engineers looking for better positions, just as they do blue collar workers and recent high school graduates.

If someone has unusual or varied experience, an interviewer can flip open a "job dictionary" which lists a staggering 40,000 different occupations he might qualify for.

"Gambler" is listed because this craft exists in states where wagering is legal. A "gigolo," or male escort, might be steered to a major city where it is a recognized line of work.

The choice of work, along with an individual's ability might strike a responsive chord in some far-off company disparing of ever filling an unusual position, said Walls.

UPDATED PROGRAMS

In addition to job-finding, the staff of 26 in the Pontiac office also helps local businesses update personnel programs; compiles local lagor market statistics, and tackles unemployment problems with other public agencies and schools.

★ ★ ★

More recently, the Employment Service screens applicants for federal Manpower Training and Development Act retraining programs and has established the need for several such programs in Pontiac.

Video Star Is Born; Nobody's Watching

LONDON (AP)—A 5-foot 10 inch giraffe was born in London Zoo Thursday. Mother and calf are doing well.

For weeks keepers had maintained daily watch on the expectant mother over closed circuit television. But the baby was born in the early hours of this morning when no one was looking.

Salesman Sentenced in Detroit Mail Fraud

DETROIT (AP)—Joseph Vettraino, 39, was sentenced in U.S. District Court Thursday to three years in federal prison in a $433,000 mail fraud. Vettraino, a former $18,000-a-year securities salesman, had pleaded guilty to three of 14 counts charging manipulation of common stocks and creation of dummy accounts.

NICE KITTY, NICE KITTY — There's more than one way to get under a cat's skin, even if it's a ferocious jaguar. Employes at the Chicago zoo are being as gentle as they can, tying down this beast so they can give him an anesthetic in preparation for an operation. The jaguar had a tumor on his eyelid.

Mishap Puts Britains Out of African Race

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Torrential rain claimed an early victim today soon after the start of the East African Safari, a four-day 3,190 mile test regarded as the world's toughest auto rally.

★ ★ ★

A Japanese Contessa, driven by Mike Bird and Mrs. Doris Sherwin of Britain, rolled over on the treacherous Molo escarpment and was out of the race 100 miles from Nairobi.

★ ★ ★

The car failed to negotiate a hairpin bend during heavy rain and plunged 75 feet over the edge of the Great Rift Valley. Miraculously Bird and Mrs. Sherwin climbed out unhurt.

Won as Director in '48

Oscar No Novelty to Huston

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Odds-on favorite to win this year's Oscar as best supporting actor is a lean, lanky Irishman who acts for free and couldn't care less if he ever acts again.

And the Oscar? If he wins—as most experts predict—it will be no novelty. He won in 1948 for best director and best screenwriter. He also helped his father win an Oscar for the same movie—"The Treasure of The Sierra Madre."

How did Director John Huston get cast as the cardinal-archbishop of Boston in Otto Preminger's "The Cardinal?"

"My agent is Ingo Preminger, Otto's brother," says Huston. "He is also his brother's agent.

"Otto told Ingo that he wanted a John Huston type to play the part. Ingo said there is no such thing as a John Huston type except John Huston. So Ingo suggested to his brother that he cast me. It was all very simple."

When the picture came out, one important critic wrote that Huston's father couldn't have played the role better. His father, of course, was the late Walter Huston whom Stanislavsky once called the greatest actor in the world.

"I can't say I agree with that critic," says the son.

Huston took no money for the role.

Huston recently renounced his U.S. citizenship for Irish nationality. He makes his permanent home in County Galway.

"I believe a person should be a citizen of the country where he lives," he argues. He has lived in Ireland for 12 years. He is a big man in Galway where he is master of fox hounds for the Galway Blazers, one of the world's most colorful hunts.

It's quite a status symbol over there—sort of supersquire.

Junior Editors Quiz on HORNS

QUESTION: Why is a French horn called French when it was invented in Germany?

ANSWER: Both France and Germany should be credited with perfecting this fine orchestral instrument. Horns actually are very ancient.

Originally people would blow through an animal's horn (upper left). Long, straight horns made of brass tubing became used in celebrations, tournaments and for hunting.

But the long horn was clumsy, and it was found that a horn would sound just as good when wound around itself, so such a shape was often used in France (upper right).

As orchestras came into being, especially in Germany, there grew a need to include the mellow-voiced hunting horn, but this type could only produce a few notes.

In 1815, two Germans, Stolzel and Bluhmel, perfected a system of adding valves to brass instruments. When these are pressed down (top of main picture) more tubing is added and the note played sounds lower.

Different combinations of the valves produce all the needed notes. When this German invention was added to the easily handled French type hunting horn, the beautiful orchestral instrument we now call the French horn was complete.

It was first used in German orchestras, and Beethoven was especially fond of this instrument.

FOR YOU TO DO: Listen to some symphony orchestra records and see if you can distinguish some of the instruments—the singing quality of the violins, the nasal oboe sound, the romantic notes of the flute. If you hear a very rich mellow sound in the background, this may be a French horn.

MODEL MOONCRAFT—A full-scale wooden model of Amercia's moonship is on display at Bethpage, N.Y., at the Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. plant. It is designed to carry astronauts to a moon landing and then return to a mother ship for return to earth.

Will Follow Moon Exploration

U.S. Plans to Orbit Three Men for 120 Days

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Space officials said today plans had been made to follow up the Apollo moon landing by orbiting three men around the earth for 120 days.

★ ★ ★

This newest development in the United States space program came to light in a proposal for a study and construction of an extended mission environmental control and life support system for the Apollo spacecraft.

The three astronauts would travel in a modified version of the Apollo mooncraft, similar to the one scheduled to go to the moon this decade.

USE EQUIPMENT

Besides modifying the spacecraft, Manned Spacecraft Center officials said all efforts would be made to use as much Apollo technology and equipment as possible in the new project.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it was hoped by starting the two-year study now, the long-flight mission could get under way soon after the first American sets foot on the moon.

★ ★ ★

The NASA proposal would modify the Apollo spacecraft by replacing the Lunar Excursion Module with a space laboratory, but keeping the three-man crew.

The LEM is the moon landing vehicle of the Apollo spacecraft and in outer space it will turn around and dock with the command module so astronauts can move between the two sections for the ferry to the moon.

The space agency said the four-month mission was necessary if this country wants to accomplish future space goals, such as interplanetary travel and exploration.

Twin purpose of the extended flight, NASA said, would be to learn how men live and work under a weightless condition for long periods of time, and to provide means of conducting engineering and scientific experiments under space conditions.

★ ★

It will consist of three separate modules—the Apollo command, Apollo service, and the laboratory.

To be included in the final mockup at the end of the study are a water supply system, a waste management system, and provisions for charging portable life support systems, which indicates exploration outside the space ship will take place.

VERSATILE VEHICLE

The Apollo command module has been looked upon as a versatile space vehicle for other space adventures.

Manned Spacecraft Center proposals include using the module for ferrying crews back and forth to a manned orbiting laboratory from earth.

Will Exchange Teacher Posts

Start Program in Fall to Fight 'Segregation'

A teacher exchange program to help combat "de facto segregation" will go into effect next fall in Pontiac.

The first phase of an avowed effort "to strive for an equitable distribution of Negro and white teachers in all schools" was unanimously approved last night by the Pontiac school board.

Adopted with little comment, the exchange plan calls for a voluntary switch between Negro and white teachers to give students the opportunity to work with teachers of both races.

Exchanges will be for at least one year, but no more than three.

★ ★ ★

Teachers must initiate any exchange and school administrators will pair Negro and white teachers, reserving final approval for any exchanges.

BOARD RESOLUTION

In a covering resolution on policy change, the school board resolved:

"Although teachers have been for a number of years, assigned to positions on the basis of merit without regard to race, religion, or ethnic background, it is believed desirable that the school district now establish a teacher exchange program which will encourage teachers to serve in schools other than that of present assignment."

Following a policy statement on segregation two weeks ago, board members suggested the exchange plan and appointment of a representative citizens committee to help solve issues of classroom integration.

★ ★ ★

Principals will review the individual teacher exchanges at the end of each school year. Any teacher may withdraw from the program at that time.

In the event a teacher wishes to withdraw, his paired counterpart would also have to return to his original assignment unless a new pairing could be arranged, stated Whitmer.

★ ★ ★

The exchange program is designed for all teachers, but the resolution said that encouragement will be given exchanges by Negro teachers in schools with large Negro enrollments and white teachers in schools with predominately white enrollments.

Political Pot Boils Over on Foreign Affairs

Senator's Speech Stokes Election Year Fires

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright has stoked an election year foreign affairs debate that's causing some pain to the Johnson administration even though it has found no fault with much of what the Arkansas Democrat says.

★ ★ ★

The main sore point is the attack by Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, on the Johnson-Kennedy policy toward Cuba. Fulbright flatly labeled as a "failure" the administration's strategy aimed at toppling Fidel Castro by diplomatic and economic boycott.

Republican critics have been saying this right along, while using different reasons. They quickly found ammunition in the 70-minute Senate speech Wednesday by Fulbright who is a long time colleague of Johnson and a Democrat of the same general persuasion as Johnson.

GOP National Chairman William E. Miller promptly tagged Fulbright's address as a trial balloon for future Johnson policy. And such a policy, he declared, would lead down the same road toward communism as British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's appeasement led toward Hitler conquests in the 1930s.

Administration sources picture the President as generally undisturbed over the impact of Fulbright's address.

It was noted in administration quarters that most of what Fulbright said was in line with official policy; but the White House had disavowed Fulbright's remark on Cuba and on another point, Panama, which conflicted with administration policy.

★ ★ ★

It also was noted that both Fulbright and the administration say he was not speaking for the administration and did not seek advance advice on his speech. And Fulbright denies he was sending up any trial balloon.

In a television interview Thursday night on ABC's news reports, Fulbright said his speech was not an attack on the administration's foreign policy. He said that for 10 years he has been making similar speeches once or twice a year, analyzing the situation as he sees it.

NO DRAMATIC CHANGE

The senator said he does not expect any dramatic change in U.S. policy as a result of his speech, adding "I'm just saying we have to recognize the facts of life."

He stressed he was trying to put the Cuban issue "in perspective" because he feels it has been exaggerated as a danger and believes the Organization of American States can deal with it.

Earlier Thursday, Fulbright told newsmen he had spoken out because of repeated GOP attacks on the administration's foreign policy. He said laying out "the facts" is not "appeasement or being soft on communism—it's just common sense."

★ ★ ★

A main theme of the senator's address was that "old myths" which have guided foreign policy attitudes in post war years should give way to revised assessments "in the fact of new realities."

"The master myth of the cold war is that the Communist bloc is a monolith," he said. But the new realities are that there are differences between the Communist regimes, he said. He advocated a flexible U.S. policy to make the most of this.

In this reasoning, Fulbright was in lockstep with current administration strategy and in conflict with those the senator termed rightwingers.

He was also close to the administration view in saying that the United States should not now pull out of South Viet Nam or recognize Communist China.

Broomfield Rips Sukarno, Urges End to 'Pampering'

WASHINGTON — Oakland County's Congressman William S. Broomfield, was shooting again yesterday at his favorite foreign target—Indonesian Premier Sukarno.

Broomfield, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and ranking Republican on its Far East subcommittee, called Sukarno a "minor league Hitler" and urged the U. S. to stop "mollycoddling" him.

He called on the administration to wake up to the fact that there is nothing vital to U. S. interests in aid to Indonesia.

Broomfield also backed up indications by some lawmakers yesterday that Congress may increase the administration's $1-billion military aid request to avoid backing into a corner on aid to war-torn South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

"Congress is not going to be working on a narrow margin with 16,000 American boys in Viet Nam," Broomfield said.

NO STEP-UP

Defense Sec. Robert S. McNamara had said arms aid to Viet Nam could not be stepped up under the $1-billion program without jeopardizing military assistance to others.

McNamara earlier had shocked the foreign affairs committee with a statement that the $1-billion request was $400 million short of basic needs, but was set because it was thought that Congress would not approve more.

Committee members criticized that thinking, saying such a judgment should not be made in advance on such a crucial issue.

McNamara told the committee in a closed session that the situation in South Viet Nam was "not hopeless but not particularly optimistic."

Pontiac Press Photo

Urban League Elects Chief of Directors

The Pontiac Urban League has elected Dr. Harry L. Riggs president of the league's board of directors for 1964.

Dr. Riggs, of 149 Franklin Blvd., had returned to the board this year after having served as a director for several years previously.

Other board officers elected were Mrs. Robert Hatt, first vice president; John F. Perdue, second vice president, Conklin Bray, treasurer; Mrs. W. E. Carey, secretary.

All offices are one year terms. The election was held yesterday at the first board meeting following the league's annual meeting.

Clarence Barnes, executive director, announced that National Urban League Director Whitney Young would be in Pontiac to address board and staff members and the public on April 9.

Details concerning a special public meeting are being worked out and will be announced in the near future, Barnes said.

School Use Okayed for Antipolio Drive

Free use of five local schools as "feeding" stations for an oral polio immunization program was okayed last night by the Pontiac School Board.

The schools — Owen, Herrington, Lincoln, Washington and Longfellow, will be used by the Oakland County Medical Society as part of a tri-county immunization program.

The antipolio drive will be conducted on two Sundays, April 19 and June 14, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Supt. Dana P. Whitmer said the medical society expects to "feed" 5,000 persons at each station.

Set Date for School Budget OK

A 1964-65 school operating budget must be approved at the Pontiac School Board's next meeting April 9, according to Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

★ ★ ★

He told board members last night that the budget must be approved for submission to the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board later in April.

The budget, as it now stands, would total $11,233,163, including a $200,000 contingency fund carried over every year, Whitmer said.

He said this included preliminary estimates of $10,957,422 and $275,741 worth of staff studies.

★ ★ ★

The superintendent also informed the board that a new state law required that the school district hold a public hearing on its proposed budget.

FINAL ADOPTION

However, the hearing only has to procede final adoption.

The school board set Thursday, June 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the board offices, 40 Patterson, for the hearing on the 1964-65 budget.

In another legal requirement, the school board learned last night that a board of canvassers must be appointed to canvass results of all school district elections.

★ ★ ★

The board of canvassers, made up of four persons, equally divided between the two major political parties, is required under the new state constitution.

Previously, the school board had been authorized to canvass the vote of its own elections. The canvassers will be appointed by the school board.

Foster Mother of 164 Dies

State Honored Her for Raising Children

ROMEO — Miss Amanda Moore, foster mother of 164 children who was named "Michigan Mother of the Year" in the early 1950s, died yesterday. She was 96.

A native of Petersburg, Va., she was the sole survivor of 14 children born to parents in slavery. When she was old enough to walk, she went to work in the fields for five cents a day.

She recalled making baskets and footmats and learning how to crochet, embroider and knit.

Miss Moore came to Michigan at the age of 20. Her first job was working in the fields on a farm near Washington.

★ ★ ★

Later she got a job as cateress in Romeo's one-time fashionable hotel, The Maples.

REAL CAREER

When she bought her home at 184 Hollister 58 years ago, she started on her real career of raising children. She adopted three and took in five more.

In 1919, the Michigan Children's Aid Society in Detroit began sending the diminutive woman youngsters to board. In the ensuing years the society sent her 164 children.

On her 80th birthday the society gave her a reading glass and a Bible. She used the Bible but never the glass.

★ ★ ★

Service will be 1 p.m. Monday at Roth's Home for Funerals. Burial will follow in Romeo Cemetery.

Several nieces and nephews survive.

Leak Located at Courthouse

A break in the water main to the County Courthouse was located last night by county maintenance personnel.

The 8-inch pipe is cracked at a retainer wall behind the building, said George Atchison, buildings and grounds superintendant.

The cost of repairing the break by inserting a new 10-foot section of pipe should be known by Monday, he said.

Meanwhile water is being supplied to the courthouse through a four-inch pipe temporarily connected into another main which normally is used to supply water to the lawn sprinkling system.

Atchison said he expects to have repairs finished by Tuesday or Wednesday. The break was discovered last Wednesday.

DIG TO MAIN

Workers had to dig down 18 feet to get to the main.

According to Atchison, the break was caused by ground settling after the wall was built.

2 Wall Safes Cracked at Milford High

Two wall safes in the Milford High School building were broken into early today and an undetermined amount of change was reported stolen.

Principal Jack Minzey estimated that a total less than $100 was taken from the safe in the school office and another in the board of education office in the same building.

Papers in the two safes were disturbed but nothing else appeared to be missing, Minzey said.

The building was entered between 12:30 a. m. when a school board meeting was adjourned and 7 a. m. when the break-in was discovered.

★ ★ ★

One of the safes was pried open and the other was entered by burrowing a hole in the adjacent wall. The safes are located at opposite ends of the building.

Collision Drivers Both Satisfactory

The drivers of two cars that collided yesterday morning at the intersection of John R and South Blvd., Avon Township, both are in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Caroline Weinland, 48, of 3735 Locust, Orion Township, told sheriff's deputies she was driving south on John R when a west-bound car on South Blvd. came into her path.

★ ★ ★

Walter Pfeil, 25, of 7627 Flickinger, Utica, driver of the west-bound auto, said he didn't see the other car approaching the intersection.

Both drivers suffered facial and head cuts.

Religious Center Hit in Lawsuit

DETROIT (AP) — A faculty member charged in a lawsuit Thursday that Henry Ford Community College of Dearborn violates the Constitution in supporting a religious center on the campus.

Donald A. Calkins, a political science teacher, brought suit in Wayne County Circuit Court, naming the Dearborn Board of Education as defendant.

Calkins, a plaintiff in the Michigan congressional districting suit now before federal court, said the Board of Education violated both the US. and Michigan constitutions in allocating $8,600 to the religious center. He said he objected as a citizen and taxpayer to the use of public funds for religious purposes.

The religious center, nondenominational, was organized three years ago by a Dearborn citizens group as a place for students to bring their spiritual problems. A corporation headed by Harry Jones, an industrialist, administers the center. It works with a clergymen's group.

Gas Incinerator Fire Damages Apartment

Fire caused by an overheated gas incinerator resulted in an estimated $500 damage yesterday an an apartment at the Fontainebleau, Cass Lake and Pontiac Lake roads, Waterford Township.

The blaze, discovered at 5:33 p.m., spread from studdings above the ground level incinerator to the floor of a second floor apartment occupied by Andrew Priemer.

State Road Toll at 436

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic accidents have killed 436 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The highway death toll at this date last year was 304.

3 Area Youths Plead Guilty to Entering

Three of four youths charged with breaking into the Detroit Gun Club in Commerce Township pleaded guilty yesterday to a lesser charge of entering without permission.

The fourth pleaded guilty to another burglary charge.

The three — Douglas Freytag, 20; of 3573 Elder, Orchard Lake; David Hargreaves, 19, of 317 Charlevois, and Benjamin Swift, 17, of 2603 Union Lake, both of Union Lake — were permitted to plead to the lesser offense by Circuit Judge Philip Pratt.

They and Robert Hesselgrave, 17, of 9324 Applewood, Union Lake, were to go on trial before Judge Pratt for breaking and entering the gun club at 2775 Oakley Park Nov. 20.

★ ★ ★

Hesselgrave instead was arraigned on a charge of burglarizing a West Bloomfield Township gas station March 22 and pleaded guilty.

All four will be sentenced April 21.

The Great Smoky Mountains national park partly in North Carolina, covers a vast area estimated to be in excess of one half million acres.

Reds Release U.S. Singer

BERLIN (AP) — Gabrielle Hammerstein, a New York singer, has been released from prison on Communist East Germany a U.S. spokesman announced today.

Miss Hammerstein, 39, a Wagnerian soprano, was sentenced to six years in jail as a spy by an East German court in August 1962.

The spokesman said she was released Thursday and flew from Frankfurt, West Germany, to New York the same day. She was accompanied by her mother, Dr. Gertrude Rosenhain, of Jackson Heights, New York City.

Miss Hammerstein before her arrest told reporters in West Berlin she had sung in East German opera houses. She was arrested in January, 1962. No information has ever been made public on her alleged offense.

Board Awaits Action

Bill Alters College Vote

County school board members discovered yesterday that proposed legislation in Lansing could greatly alter the three-part community college question slated for June 8 ballots.

Supt. William J. Emerson said that House Bill 807 would permit a college board of trustees to levy a 1-mill tax for support of such an institution.

The Oakland Schools board amended its resolution on the June vote to remove the millage part from the ballot in the event the state bill is passed.

★ ★ ★

Thus, county voters would pass on the establishment of the community college and elect a six-member board of trustees, but not vote on the millage.

LAST YEAR

The millage question defeated the college proposal last year.

★ ★ ★

In other business, contracts were ordered paid on three special education rooms, one in Walled Lake and two in Holly.

The Walled Lake type B room for the mentally handicapped cost $14,801, while a type A room attached to a Holly elementary school ran $22,535 and a refurbished room in Holly Senior High School cost $17,256.

JFK Coin Is on Sale

Community National Bank today made its first shipment of half dollars with the likeness of President Kennedy ready for distribution through its branches today.

CNB received $5,000 worth of the new coins, and reported it will "ration" them as are other Detroit area banks so customers receive not more than one each.

This is due to the heavy interest in the coin by collectors and souvenir hunters.

Coldness No Excuse to Start Fire in Booth

DANIELSON, Conn. (AP)—It was a bitterly cold night, but state police said that was no excuse for starting a fire in a phone booth.

They charged two men with injury to a public service facility The men said they started the fire in the outdoor booth to keep warm when their car broke down.

Sit-In Strike Broken in Brazil

Air New Facts in Wife-Killing

DULUTH, Minn. (UPI) — New mystery today surrounded the million - dollar "murder for hire" case in which attractive heiress Carole Thompson was bludgeoned and stabbed to death.

★ ★ ★

Frank Bell, one of three convicts brought here from Stillwater State Prison for the trial of the alleged middleman in the slaying, testified yesterday that the confessed hired killer told him someone else performed the murder.

Mrs. Thompson's husband, prominent criminal attorney T. Eugene Thompson, was convicted of masterminding the murder of his wife to collect more than $1 million in insurance and take up a new life with his sultry mistress.

Thompson is serving a life term at Stillwater.

★ ★ ★

Bell was brought here to testify for the defense in the trial of former prizefighter Norman J. Mastrain, who allegedly "went shopping" for a killer on Thompson's orders and found hard - drinking Korean War veteran Dick W. C. Anderson.

FRIGHTENING ACCOUNT

Anderson gave a frightening, step-by-step account of the murder in Thompson's trial, and it was largely his testimony which was credited with bringing about Thompson's conviction.

Both Bell and another convict, Layton Orr, testified yesterday that they had talked with Thompson in prison before being brought here for the Mastrian trial.

Orr said he believed Thompson had advised Mastrain's attorneys to summon him as a witness for the defesne.

★ ★ ★

They were the first witnesses in either trial to directly attack the state's charge that Thompson, working through Mastrian, hired Anderson to slay his wife.

GOT INVITATION

Bell testified Anderson invited him March 4, 1963, to join him in burglarizing the home of a St. Paul attorney "who's got a lot of money.

Bell said Anderson pointed out Sheldon Morris and Henry Butler and told him they were going to help commit the burglary.

Morris is charged as an accessory in the murder. Butler admitted stealing the luger pistol Anderson said he used to beat Mrs. Thompson.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Thompson, 34, mother of four, was beaten and stabbed to death in her fashionable St. Paul home March 6, 1963.

BOTCHED JOB

Bell testified Anderson told him on March 17 that "we botched the job. They killed her. I told you this is a rough game."

He quoted Anderson as saying "Something is bothering me pretty bad. But those guys are pretty tough, and if I talk they'll kill me."

Bell said Anderson was drunk at the time.

★ ★ ★

He also disputed other parts of Anderson's testimony. He testified he met Anderson in November 1961, and they were good friends. Anderson had denied he knew Bell.

BOTH SIDES OF FENCE—Brazilian sailors and marines inside wire fence around a building in downtown Rio de Janeiro try to persuade marines sent to arrest him to join in their sit-in strike. The group last night spent their second night in the building protesting the arrest of a marine corporal for political activities. The building houses a union hall.

Trucks Move Demonstrators

Protest Marine Arrest for Political Activity

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — The presidential palace announced today sailors and marines who took part in a two-day sit-in strike in a downtown building were being moved away by army trucks to headquarters of the 1st guard battalion.

Dozens of army trucks had massed in nearby streets.

"Sailors and marines who were at the Metallurgical Workers Union Hall (the building) presently are being taken to the battalion of guards of the 1st army," said a communique issued by President Joao Goulart's military staff.

Goulart had taken personal charge of effots to break the defiance of the band, estimated at 3,000, which holed up Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

The rebels launched their demonstration in support of a marine corporal who was ordered arrested for violating regulations against political activity by members of the armed forces.

OFFERED TERMS

They were reported to have offered terms, saying they would leave peacefully and return to duty Monday if:

- They were guaranteed no punishment.

★ ★ ★

- Authorities recognized the Association of Sailors and Marines that they formed last year.
- All enlisted men held on charges of insubordination and engaging in political activities were freed.
- The navy was "humanized" and food on ships and at naval bases improved.

NAVY MINISTER

Radio Jornal Do Brasil said Goulart refused to accept the resignation that Navy Minister Silvio Mota offered last night—when he failed to oust the rebels — and that the president ordered the army troops to move in.

Goulart interrupted his Easter vacation at his home ranch at Sao Borja, 300 miles to the south, and flew to Rio de Janeiro for conferences with his top military advisers.

The navy announced the rebellion remained localized. It said other units throughout the country were carrying out their normal duties.

★ ★ ★

Navy police, marines, army troops, then more marines took turns yesterday in blockading the building. But the last marine contingent was withdrawn last night.

Military police patrols, however, kept watch on the neighborhood.

The dissidents, with the expectation they would leave the building voluntarily out of hunger, if nothing else. There was believed to be no food in the building and some of the men shouted from windows "We are starving."

Future Is Uncertain for Torn Jacksonville

By DON McKEE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Fire bombs, bullets and bricks rapped out a violent climax to five weeks of Negro sit - ins, picketing and marching aimed at segregated hotels and restaurants in this port city.

The outlook for racial progress was uncertain after three years of gradual desegregation which included some lunch counters, cafeterias and restaurants, six schools and all governmental facilities.

★ ★ ★

The metropolitan population of Jacksonville, 500,000, is 25 per cent Negro. Racial barriers began dropping after a bloody outburst in August 1960 left one dead.

The latest sequence of events started last month.

SMALL-SCALE SIT-INS

Negroes staged small - scale sit-ins and picketing at several hotels and restaurants. A few days later, dynamite blasted the home of a Negro boy attending a previously white school. No one was hurt.

Larger demonstrations followed.

Last Saturday, Mayor Haydon Burns, in office 15 years, and now a candidate for governor, warned against further demonstrations.

Burns said Negroes had no right to force their presence at hotels, restaurants or other businesses. He cited 12 laws and warned that arrests would be made.

SPECIAL POLICE

Then Burns swore in, on the air, the entire 496-man Fire Department as special policemen.

Within 48 hours, fire bombs smashed into a Burns campaign subheadquarters in a Negro section to ignite the violence.

Gunfire from a passing car killed a Negro woman. Three other persons were wounded by bullets. Gangs of Negroes began attacking white motorists, other Negroes, policemen and newsmen.

Police Chief Luther Reynolds attributed the violence to thrill-seekers and thugs.

NEGROES BLAMED

The mayor said Negro leaders were to blame because they could not control their youth in the desegregation campaign. He said his get-tough speech resulted from information that persons working for his political opponents were instigating racial trouble. His opponents denied this.

Negro leaders blamed Burns' speech for the violence.

★ ★ ★

"To us—we accepted it as a real threat," said Rutledge Pearson, president of state and local chapters of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

"It angered the entire community," Pearson said.

Marvin Collins, 17, a Negro youth leader, agreed with Pearson. He said some of his classmates attacked newsmen, policemen and spectators Tuesday after a bomb scare evacuated the school.

"They got excited," he said, "when a policeman fired his gun into the air."

Michigan Bell Reports on '63

Note Sharp Increase in Telephone Usage

Michigan people had plenty to talk about last year, according to Michigan Bell Telephone Company's annual report.

★ ★ ★

Bell noted the volume of telephoning soared by nearly a million calls a day to a new record daily average of 16,449,000. Long distance calls hit 142.5 million, 8 per cent above 1962 for another record.

William M. Day, Michigan Bell president saw 1963 as a year of "heartening signs," including continued strong comeback of "Michigan's economic health, which largely governs our own."

During the year, the company added 120,757 telephones to bring the total in service to 3,259,334.

★ ★ ★

Among new services, Bell offered a free information aid for persons who move anywhere in the country, to intercept calls to their old telephone number and inform callers of the new address and number.

NEW PRODUCTS

Two new products for business users were a push-button switchboard and a teletypewriter 65 per cent faster than old models. Mobile telephone service was also improved in several areas of the state.

To prevent customers from inadvertently dialing long distance numbers, Bell began a requirement that the numeral one be dialed first on toll calls.

In the report, Day said greater employe efficiency, improved tools and techniques helped the company make a better financial showing last year.

★ ★ ★

Increased labor costs and higher operating taxes were $15.3 million above 1962, Day said, but earnings were up 13 cents a share to $1.59.

DOUBLE AMOUNT

He said the $78.6 million tax bill alone, however, was more than double the amount paid in dividends to investor owners.

Michigan Bell said its mounting investment to provide communications service amounts to $343.68 behind each telephone, a $5.77 increase per phone over the previous year.

★ ★ ★

In 1963 company purchases totaled $57 million; construction $88.5; payroll to $146.6 million for 21,000 employes, and state and local taxes to $24 million.

This Easter Sees Hope

World Problems Ease

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

DAWSON

NEW YORK—This Easter is as hopeful as the nation and the world has known for some years. It probably is as full of promise as the world could expect.

No millenium in sight. Just a fair quota of peace and an easing of friction and fear. Americans, and all the rest, have cause to be grateful.

Trouble spots remain, and some are serious. But trouble spots, like the poor, will always be with us. And the world seems intent on seeking ways to ease the tensions, help the poor.

★ ★ ★

The chance of sudden catastrophe must always be recognized and guarded against.

But Americans have lived with this risk for so long now that this Easter's comparative freedom from imminent disaster nurtures confidence and hope.

SHOWN MANY WAYS

This shows up in many ways in the United States—from the fairly trivial matter of buying a new hat to the long-range planning that industry is doing just now with greater assurance.

Industry donates huge sums each year to college and university programs, and carries on many of its own. Some of this aid goes into scientific research, either for general advancement or for handling the problems of particular industries. Much of it goes into educating youth for the new techniques and tasks that a more prosperous America will depend upon.

★ ★ ★

Much also results in the general advancement of the nation's level of intelligence and understanding — never more needed than today.

More important perhaps is the growing feeling that something really can be done to make this much better and more meaningful to more people.

BEYOND U.S.

This aura of expectation, even if a bit wistful, stretches beyond the nation's boundaries.

Today's international debates in Geneva between the haves and the have-nots stress the difference and sore points between rich and poor nations. But out of the acrimony may come some attempts to ease the friction. And a few years back the talks couldn't have been held at all.

★ ★ ★

Many of America's corporations with international dealings are working along quietly in the same direction. Fruits of their activities in other lands often go unnoticed—the raising of living standards there, the industrialization and development which these nations crave.

And now more than ever many U.S. corporations are consciously stressing the need for their employes in foreign lands to understand and respect the peoples and their aspirations.

The same spirit is stressed at home. Each year more companies enter into community projects, think of the community's welfare as well as their own.

This Easter isn't seeing any definitive solution of problems, at home or abroad. It's just a little bit more hopeful than many in past years.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "We have money to invest and would appreciate your recommending a good growth drug stock. We own 300 Radio Corp., having held 100 shares before the split. Is this worth holding?" A.P.

A) RCA is very well worth holding, and I should like to congratulate you. The company is in all phases of electronics and is the major factor in the rapidly expanding color-TV production as well as in the sets themselves.

You mention no other commitment, and if this is your only holding, it may represent a disproportionate amount of capital investment — over $10,000 at present prices. If it does, I would diversify by switching at least 200 shares into equal dollar amounts of Texaco, a strong oil, and Corn Products, a leader in packaged foods.

As a drug stock for growth, I recommend Merck & Co., which sells at a high dollar price but proposes to split its stock for 3-for-1 after April 28 and increase its dividend.

Q) "We would like to invest $5,000 in tax-exempts. Must we wait until maturity to cash them in? If, heaven forbid, we need the money in a hurry, can we dispose of the bonds? If we do so, will we lose interest or will we get interest to the time of sale?" M. D.

A) It is by no means necessary to wait for the due date on tax-exempts to get your money out. There is a very good market for these bonds, maintained by most large dealers and many banks.

As is the case with all fixed-income securities — with the exception of savings bonds — there is no guarantee that when you sell you will get the exact amount you paid. All bonds fluctuate somewhat, usually when money rates change.

If you sell, you will be paid accrued interest up to the date of your transaction. For your purpose, I suggest State of California 3½s due 9-1-1995 to yield 3½ per cent.

Hoffa Jury Probe Goes Into Recess

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A federal grand jury has recessed its investigation into the James Hoffa jury - tampering trial until next Wednesday.

The jury began the investigation Thursday, spending nearly six hours behind closed doors interviewing witnesses.

One of the first witnesses was professional wiretapper Bernard Spindel of New York, who was hired by defense lawyers during Hoffa's trial to try to prove FBI agents constantly spied on Hoffa and other defendants.

Spindel testified during the trial that he monitored radio conversations by government agents whom he said were watching Hoffa's hotel.

Switchboard Is Stateside for Antarctica

KENDALL HILL, Ill. (AP) — The South Pole may be 8,000 miles from Charlie Vannoy's home, but the 35-year-old television engineer is in personal contact with members of "Operation Deep Freeze."

Through radio contact with amateur radio operators in Antarctica, homesick scientists and servicemen are able to speak to relatives and friends through a process called telephone "patches."

"Telephone patches," Vannoy explained, "are made after I receive a radio call requesting the contact of a relative or friend.

Medicine Won't End Test-Time Tension

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: My son gets tense during exams and gets very poor marks because of this. I have read of some medicine a person can take to combat tension. Could you tell me what this is? M.J.T., Lansing, Mich.

DR. NASON

Answer: Taking medicine is not a solution to the problem of too much tension while taking tests.

Such things as previous low test scores and the desire to live up to the expectations of family and peers produce pressure. Medicine will not make these thought patterns disappear.

To control these thoughts and drive them into the background students should enter the test well prepared and with a definite plan how the test is to be taken.

The plan can be simple. For example, "I will answer the first question, giving it my full attention — dismiss it from my mind and turn my full attention to the next question."

---

Dear Dr. Nason: My child in elementary school has a problem with his homework. Should a parent try to help?

I was informed that the school system teaches so differently now that it is unwise for parents to try to help a child—they may do him more harm than good.

Have school subjects changed so much that parents who have been out of school for the past 15 years are incapable of helping their children when they have problems? Mrs. S. M. H., Schenectady, N.Y.

* * *

Answer: Some schools are using a new approach to arithmetic involving analysis of the problems by group theory and numbers using a base other than 10.

Parents may find it difficult to teach these materials, but can still be of help. They can listen.

Not until a child understands an idea well enough to explain it to his parents does he really know it. If parents will let the children teach them, they will be helping the children.

Certainly in many subjects a parent can answer a question at the time a child needs an answer and be of great help without doing him harm. Harm is done when a parent actually does the work for the child.

LBJ Designates April Cancer Control Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson proclaimed the month of April as cancer control month and called Thursday for renewed efforts to cut the toll of the disease.

The proclamation said the gap between actual and potential gains in the cure of cancer patients can be narrowed by educating the public to cooperate with the medical profession in seeking earlier diagnosis and treatment.

Opening lead—♦3

By OSWALD JACOBY

If a poker player gets a reputation as a bluffer, he can afford to watch the money roll in as everyone tries to catch him bluffing.

JACOBY

If a bridge player once gains a reputation as a deceptive bidder, he can sit back and bid as scientifically as he wishes without fear that he will be helping the defense.

The late Edward Hymes Jr. spent several years building up a reputation for deception and then proceeded to cash in by going back to straight bidding.

Sitting South, he went out of his way to bid diamonds before bidding four no-trump and six spades.

West knew Eddy's reputation. He noted that Eddy had taken the trouble to make an unnecessary bid of four diamonds on his way to the slam.

He wasn't going to be fooled by that diamond call. Obviously, Eddy was trying to stop a diamond lead. West led a diamond, and Eddy racked up an overtrick.

If Eddy had just bid four no-trump over his partner's three spade bid, there is still a chance that West would have opened a diamond. On the other hand, he might have led the ace of hearts, in which case Eddy would have gone down, or made a club or spade lead, which would have held Eddy to his contract.

A—Bid either three or four hearts, depending on how aggressive your opponents are.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid only three hearts. West bids four diamonds and your partner doubles. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Saturday

"The wise man controls his destiny ... Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Emphasis on defining terms. Includes speech, written word, contracts. Be safe rather than sorry. Avoid jumping to conclusions. Key is CAUTION. See situation in realistic light.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Key is BEING OF SERVICE. Means cooperate, offer aid. By so doing you project good will. This will be returned in numerous ways. Evening favors quiet relaxation, entertainment.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Be selective in choice of companions. Could be very special day and evening. Share it with one who means much to you. Avoid wasteful methods, extravagance. Be simple, sincere, direct in actions.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Lunar position emphasizes home, relations with family members. Listen to suggestions aimed at bringing about greater security. Don't be afraid of new contacts, ideas.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Trust intuition. Your mind is active, alert and PERCEPTIVE. Your inner feelings tell true story. Don't be misled by one who claims to know all. Maintain sense of humor, balance.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Fine for considering new interests, for promoting a more "adventurous" form of life. Financial questions indicated. If you are careful, observant, they will "turn out" in your favor.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Previous efforts due to bear fruit. Your cycle is high. Fine for exhibiting talents, expressing ideas. Evening favors entertaining, being entertained. Attend to routine matters early.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Bring yourself out of emotional shell. Romance, change, variety are now of special importance. Dig deep for added knowledge. Don't judge books by covers. Avoid superficial conclusions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): PLEASURE is key word. Means you can now make discoveries which make life happier. Know truth, value when it is encountered. Keep mind, heart open. Be with loved ones.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Don't force issues where work, aspirations are concerned. You can gain most by utilizing creative abilities. Find new ways of accomplishing goals. Taking time to THINK pays off.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Be sure of facts. Take extra care where legal matters enter picture. Read between lines. Day favors advertising, publication plans. Work out budget to get message across.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Emphasis on partners, agreements involving money. Trust those with experience. Much can now be accomplished.

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY ... you are dynamic, possess original methods and ideas. But you must learn to APPLY YOURSELF. Means stick with projects through completion.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for LIBRA, SCORPIO, SAGITTARIUS. Special word to ARIES: Be sure of yourself before making commitments.

Twister Knocks Dixie Area on Its Collarbone

HALEYVILLE, Ala. — Tornadoes often bring freak events, and the one that hit at nearby Addison Wednesday was no exception. Six of the injured suffered broken collarbones on the right side.

Dr. Robert F. Blake, their physician at a hospital here, said that it was the first time he had seen such similar injuries. "They apparently must have seen the storm and were all trying to run—all in the same direction."

Man Heads Home After Blackout

DENMARK, Wis. (AP) — A 26-year-old Denmark man missing since March 19 was on his way home Thursday after a flight from Los Angeles, where he turned up after suffering an apparent blackout.

Lawrence Kolarick, object of a widespread search after his automobile was found aboard a Lake Michigan car ferry when it docked at Manitowoc from Ludington, Mich., was met by his wife, Mary Jo, and his brother, Jack, at O'Hare Field in Chicago.

They continued their trip to this northeastern Wisconsin community. Kolarick, father of five, has been employed as a salesman by a Grand Rapids, Mich., firm for the last year.

Brown County authorities said Kolarick telephoned his brother Wednesday night from a bus station at Los Angeles and requested funds for a bus ticket to Wisconsin. The brother told officers he arranged a prepaid flight from Los Angeles to Chicago because he was afraid Lawrence "might black out again." Kolarick could not explain how he got to Los Angeles.

Suburb Fire Hits Lumberyard, Flat

WYANDOTTE (AP)—A wind-whipped fire caused an estimated $250,000 lumber yard loss and drove out occupants of a neighboring four-family flat Thursday night.

The approximately 12 residents of the flat, including four children, escaped before flames engulfed the two-story building, destroying it.

All Wyandotte's firemen, aided by others from half a dozen cities, fought the blaze.

Pieman Got Last Laugh

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Allan C. Finley explained that when he saw those big, cream-topped pies he just couldn't resist.

What Finley did, police said, was fling two of the pies in the face of delivery man Leland E. Baum as Baum unloaded the pies from his truck yesterday.

Finley, promptly clapped in jail on a battery charge, said Baum "has no sense of humor."

Cement Firm Will Expand

Construction Slated for Plant in Alpena

DETROIT (AP) — A $102-million expansion and modernization program, described as due in part to the federal tax cut, was announced Thursday by the National Gypsum Co.

★ ★ ★

National Gypsum, Buffalo, N.Y., cement company, said $45 million of the program will be shared by its Huron Portland Cement plant at Alpena, Mich., and its Allentown, Pa., plant.

Melvin H. Baker, chairman, announced the plans at a news conference.

PROGRAM EXTENDED

Besides the Alpena and Allentown plants, the program will be extended to the company's 70-odd manufacturing and distributing facilities in the Great Lakes region and the Northeast, Baker said. It is to cover a three-year period, he said.

Baker said the company's decision followed in part from the recent federal income tax cut for individuals and corporations and that it is based on an improved long-term outlook for the Great Lakes region and the construction industry, a major cement user.

Alpena is to add four million barrels to its present annual capacity of 14 million barrels of cement through addition of two new large kilns. A new kiln went into operation about a year ago.

An eighth ship, an oil tanker which is to be converted to a cement carrier, will be added to Huron Portland Cement's lakes fleet.

UAW Votes to Meet in California in '66

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Delegates to the 1964 convention of the United Auto Workers Union voted overwhelmingly Thursday to hold their 1966 biennial convention in California.

After the voice vote, UAW President Walter Reuther said he took it as a mandate and instructed Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey to make arrangements for meeting in California two years hence.

Cambodia Rally Protests Attack on Border Village

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Several hundred students shouted slogans hostile to the United States, South Viet Nam and Thailand today in protest against the Vietnamese attack on the Cambodian border village of Chantrea.

★ ★ ★

The youths assembled at the information ministry, where several dozen huge photos are displayed showing results of the attack March 19.

The United States and South Viet Nam have apologized for the attack.

Cambodian authorities put extra guards around the American and British embassies, and the staff of the U.S. Information Service closed their building and moved to the embassy across the street.

To Loud Family Church Door Barred

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Mrs. Betty Chapman is permanently barred by court order from attending services at the First Baptist Church of Mar Vista.

The court granted the injunction yesterday on grounds she "did disturb the church in its worship and activity" by deliberately singing loud and offkey during services and making faces at the minister.

Church officials had obtained a temporary order in 1961 against Mrs. Chapman, 41, and her husband, John, and daughter, Mrs. Connie Ray.

The temporary orders against the husband and daughter were dismissed earlier this year, but Superior Court Judge McIntyre Faries agreed to make the order against Mrs. Chapman permanent.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Chapman had testified she regarded the church her "home church," and fought the attempts of the Rev. Wayne A. Eurich and deacons to bar the family from services.

The church officials claimed the deliberate disturbances started after differences over arrangements for a marriage.

ONE OF THE SHARPEST we've ever seen, a four-bedroom brick ranch in the Pine Lake area. There's a dreamy paneled family room (16 x 25), featuring one full wall of gray brick centered with a natural fireplace, slate hearth. One-and-a-half ceramic tiled baths. Beautiful, big kitchen, built-in oven and surface burners. With 4 lovely bedrooms you'll certainly need an extra half bath and you'll have it here! Plus a 2-car garage, (attached). Sounds like $20,000, but it's only $18,500. 10 per cent plus costs will handle.

TWIST AND SHOUT — A downpour at Daytona Beach, Fla., couldn't stop these vacationing college students from dancing. A hundred or more kids were twisting in the rain to music provided by the motel manager. 75,000 are expected this weekend.

For Indicted State Police Chief

Acts on Suspension in Massachusetts

BOSTON (AP) — Gov. Endicott Peabody is acting to suspend the head of the Massachusetts State Police indicted on charges including conspiracy and larceny.

Peabody told a news conference Thursday night it appeared "there are legal grounds for me to suspend" Public Safety Commissioner Frank S. Giles, 48, former Republican floor leader in the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

★ ★ ★

"However, to insure the commissioner's basic rights," he said, "we are asking the attorney general to give us a ruling on the matter. If his ruling concurs with that of my legal counsel, we shall suspend Commissioner Giles forthwith."

Giles was indicted Wednesday by an Essex County Grand jury on 38 counts of conspiracy, larceny, aiding and abetting in filing false reports and violation of the conflict of interest law.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

The commissioner earlier Thursday announced he would ask for a leave of absence without pay until court action in the case was complete.

Peabody said suspension would protect Giles' rights better than a leave of absence. He explained that Giles would receive back pay should he be cleared of the charges.

★ ★ ★

The governor, a Democrat, declined comment on charges by Giles that the indictments were politically motivated.

Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke, also a Republican, said the offenses charged in the indictments did not involve state police activities. He said they covered a period from 1958 to 1962.

GOP APPOINTEE

Giles was appointed in 1961 by former Gov. John A. Volpe, a Republican.

Four other persons, including Giles' administrative assistant, also were indicted on testimony submitted by the Massachusetts Crime Commission.

★ ★ ★

Giles said in a news conference there had been published reports that a leading Republican had to be "a sacrificial lamb" in the commission's investigations.

"Evidently, I have been judged expendable," he said.

The commissioner served 15 years in the Massachusetts House and was a candidate for the GOP nomination for governor in 1960.

Five Democratic state officials have been indicted recently on charges involving conspiracy and bribery. Court action on the five cases, including those of two executive councilors, is not complete.

'Hello Dere' Comic a Hit as He Hits 41st Milestone

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The great wild comedy team, Marty Allen and Steve Rossi, celebrated Marty's 41st birthday at Roma Di Notte ... Because of the wild hairdo of "Hello Dere" Marty, one guest gave his wife Frenchy, a bag of steel-wool to take his place when he's away ... Marty and Steve, who spoof the national scene, had this to report: Gov. Rockefeller made an urgent phone call to Henry Cabot Lodge, like this ... "Henry?" ... "Hello, dere!" ... "Can I ask you something very important?" ... "Certainly" ... "What's the name of your campaign manager?"

WILSON

They claim that Bobby Baker refused to answer on the grounds that he might incriminate the U.S. Senate ... They recently quizzed Lawrence Welk: "You've played for thousands of college dances. What request did you receive most?" ... "The way to the powder room." ... The team is now really going big-time after recent successes in Hollywood and on TV. Their "Hello Dere" routine is known around the world.

The Merv Griffin World's Fair TV show, thought dead, has been resuscitated already, so look out there! We were in his office when he got the news ... Sarah Miles the beautiful little English star of "The Servant," smokes those wee Dutch cigars all over NY ... Gordon Jankins, who wrote "Manhattan Tower" so lovingly, tells us he's from Webster Grove, Mo., and Bob Goulet, who sings it in a new album, is from Boston and Canada.

State Milk Bill Passes House

LANSING (AP) — The latest version of a milk-pricing bill which has created controversy in the past was approved Thursday in the House.

★ ★ ★

Legislators passed the bill 74-20 and sent it to the Senate.

Supporters of the legislation contend it is needed to protect independent dairy retailers from "unfair competition" by chain stores which sell milk below cost to induce sales of other products.

BILL OPPONENTS

Opposition to the bill is based chiefly on arguments that establishment of minimum prices for milk is not fair to the consumer.

Chief sponsor of the bill is Rep. Andrew Bolt, R-Elsie. He sponsored a similar measure which was adopted by the legislature in 1961 and vetoed by then-Gov. John Swainson.

★ ★ ★

Another milk-pricing bill died in committee in 1963. Gov. George W. Romney has not taken a position on the 1964 version.

Speaker pro tem Wilfred Bassett, R-Jackson, argued Thursday that the state director of agriculture, who would have jurisdiction in setting prices, would have excessive power.

GRANTS POWER

He noted it would grant the agriculture department power to summon witnesses and records.

★ ★ ★

In defense of the bill, Rep. Lester Allen, R-Ithaca, said it was "a long way from price-fixing."

Demonstrators Are Rejected

Arizona Patrolmen Clear State Building

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Civil rights demonstrators, planning an overnight sleep-in on the tile floors of the State Senate Building, were ejected by Arizona Highway Patrolmen Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

There was no violence as the 40 patrolmen moved swiftly over the first and second floors of the structure.

Harold Giss, state Senate majority leader, a Democrat, had twice pleaded for the demonstrators to leave peacefully. His only answer was loud singing.

SOLID LINE

A force of plain clothesmen formed a solid line on the first floor as uniformed patrolmen walked briskly into the building.

The first floor was emptied in less than minute.

★ ★ ★

The patrolmen then moved at double time to the second floor where Chut Duncan, a leader in the Congress on Racial Equality, and 10 youths were camped.

Each demonstrator was lifted from the floor by three, sometimes four, patrolmen.

URGED PASSAGE

The demonstrators showed up at the Capitol in the morning to urge passage of a state public accommodations bill that would outlaw discrimination in lodging, cafes and amusement facilities.

Giss offered to meet with Duncan alone, but the Negro leader insisted the entire CORE delegation would have to be included.

When it came time to close the building, Giss asked the demonstrators to leave. Giss said that as a Jew "I know something of your problem. I ask that you peacefully leave this building."

ORDERS POLICE

When he was answered with loud singing, Giss ordered the patrolmen into action.

Later the demonstrators tried to block the cars of Giss and Gov. Paul Fannin as they left the Capitol, but patrolmen cleared the way.

Ex-Slav Consul Dies

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Kosto Unkovich, 82, one-time royal Yugoslavian consul in Pittsburgh, died Thursday.

Greece plans to adopt the liter as the unit of capacity for all liquids instead of measuring liquids by weight as at present.

The electric power industry is the largest coal customer in this country.

Crucify, Crucify Him!

NEA Color Sketch by Ed Kudlaty

Pilate then called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, and said to them, "You brought me this man as one who was perverting the people; and after examining him before you, behold, I did not find this man guilty of any of your charges against him; neither did Herod, for he sent him back to us. Behold, nothing deserving death has done by him; I will therefore chastise him and release him."

But they all cried out together, "Away with this man, and release to us Barrabas"—a man who had been thrown into prison for an insurrection started in the city, and for murder. Pilate addressed them once more, desiring to release Jesus; but they shouted out "Crucify, crucify him!" A third time he said to them, 'Why, what evil has he done? I have found in him no crime deserving death; I will therefore chastise him and release him." But they were urgent, demanding with loud cries that he should be crucified.

Recall Exodus Story

Jews Mark Passover

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Church Editor
The Pontiac Press

The story of the deliverance of the Israelites from bondage in ancient Egypt will be retold all over the world as Jews observe the Feast of the Passover beginning at sundown today.

In his message to Jewish people throughout the United States Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, said "When we sit down at the Seder table to celebrate the Passover feast and recite the story of the Exodus, we cannot be content to think of it as an old story which took place thousands of years ago and no longer concerns us.

"In our day we have lived to see the Book of Exodus reenacted. Today scientific miracles have replaced the wonders that startled Egypt. Within our grasp is the power to create new plagues or to build a utopia here on earth," the rabbi said.

"One has only to look to South Africa to see new slavery masquerading under the elegant name of apartheid, or nearer to home to witness all the evils of ancient Egypt — hatred, hunger, and the worship of gold.

★ ★ ★

He concluded with "If we will turn our energies from the will to stockpile weapons toward the will to feed the hungry, educate the ignorant, combat disease, stamp out the poverty which exists not only in far away places but at our own back door we will be applying the lessons of the Passover story."

LENGTH OF FESTIVAL

The festival lasts for a week among liberal Jews and eight days among the traditionalists.

During the first two evenings the family takes part in a special ritual meal, the Seder, which includes family dining and worshipping together, and handing down to the children, the greatest story of Jewish heritage.

The festival is called Passover because the Bible says God passed over the homes of Israelites in Egypt to strike the blow that liberated Hebrew people, enslaved by Pharaoh Rameses II more than 1,300 years before the birth of Christ.

★ ★ ★

It marks the escape of the Jews under Moses when the waters of the Red Sea parted just long enough for them to cross.

DRAMATIC STRUGGLE

Its rituals commemorate a dramatic struggle for freedom and annual rededications to the principle of liberty.

The Seder table is set with the best dishes, linen and silver the family can afford. Just before sundown the mother lights the candles, and all members of the family gather around including the young chillren for a festive meal and ceremonial.

Each step of the Seder is prescribed by tradition and each

House Votes Limits on City Income Tax

LANSING (AP)—The House passed and sent to the Senate yesterday a pair of bills to limit city income taxes—including a requirement that all such taxes be approved by a vote of the people.

Other key provisions of the bill, as passed by the House, would be a statutory tax limit of 1 per cent on residents and ½ per cent on nonresidents.

The second bill would bar cities from imposing any form of any excise tax except on income.

The tax package is a part of Gov. Romney's program.

It was approved with bipartisan support after surviving an effort by House Democratic leaders to postpone action by sending it to the ways and means committee.

★ ★ ★

A series of amendments to prohibit any tax on nonresidents was offered by Rep. William Hayward, R-Royal Oak.

The amendments were defeated.

BILL DEFEATED

Earlier, Hayward's own bill to limit local income taxes was defeated.

The main bill sets up a "uniform local income tax act" which all cities, after Jan. 1, 1965, would be required to adopt in order to levy an income tax, subject to approval by voters.

The referendum requirement was added in a floor amendment by Rep. Wilfred Bassett, R-Jackson.

★ ★ ★

Bassett said he expected his amendment to be unpopular with city officials of Jackson who are considering enactment of an income tax.

CHANGE OKAYED

The amendment was approved by a 68-30 vote.

★ ★ ★

The bill was adopted 67-36 after a series of other amendments were defeated.

★ ★ ★

Bassett said he was uncertain as to the effect of his amendment on Detroit, Hamtramck, Flint and Saginaw, which have local income taxes in effect.

'$6.3 Million for Buildings'

Program Is Outlined by County Engineer

A $6.3-million building program at the Oakland County Service Center has been proposed by County Engineer Joseph Joachim to meet projected space needs for the next five years.

★ ★ ★

The engineer's report was prepared and submitted to the County Board of Auditors at that body's request.

It is left up to the auditors to recommend how the program can be financed.

The actual decision whether and how to proceed with the building program would have to be made by the County Board of Supervisors, and by the taxpayers if any special millage is sought.

★ ★ ★

Included in the program is a recommendation to proceed immediately with plans to construct the second, and major phase of the Children's Village at a cost of an estimated $2.5 million.

FIRST UNITS

The first phase of the village construction was launched Wednesday. It comprises the first three units on the 50-acre site.

The second phase calls for an additional 12 buildings for 320 youngsters by 1970.

Meanwhile the auditors want to build a new wing at the courthouse complex. At an estimated $800,000 construction cost, it comprises the second largest single project in the engineer's report.

★ ★ ★

"It should be emphasized that these are tentative recommendations," said Joachim, "And this report should be considered an interim measure to fill a current and immediate need

FORRESTAL AWARD — Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara received the James Forrestal Memorial Award in Washington last night from John A. Hill, chairman of the awards committee of the National Security Industrial Association. The award is given annually by the association for contributions to national security.

Move Into North Viet Nam Studied, Says McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has carefully studied proposals for direct military action against North Viet Nam, says Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

While not ruling out the possibility of such a move, he said any action along this line would only supplement the main task of wiping out Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

He said military action "particularly against North Viet Nam, in order to supplement the counterinsurgency program in South Viet Nam'" was one of the options placed before President Johnson last week after McNamara and Gen. Maxwell Taylor returned from Viet Nam.

"This course of action — its implications and ways of carrying it out—has been carfully studied," McNamara told the National Security Industrial Association in a speech last night.

"Whatever ultimate course of action may be forced on us by the other side, it is clear that actions under this option would be only a supplement to, not a substitute for, progress within South Viet Nam's own borders."

★ ★ ★

The secretary said the situation in South Viet Nam "has unquestionably worsened" since last fall, but that the new government of Gen. Nguyen Khanh is working on military and civilian programs to improve the situation.

Tanker Stern, Crew Being Towed to Port

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP)—The severed stern of the tanker San Jacinto, wallowing at the end of a tow rope, inched toward port today with 35 crewmen who spurned rescue to stay with their ship.

Just after midnight, the seagoing tug Lambert's Point and its pitching, yawing charge still were more than 100 miles from their destination, Newport News. Their speed was three knots.

But the Coast Guard said the San Jacinto's stern was riding well in six-foot seas and was in no immediate danger.

Barring bad weather, tug and tow are expected in harbor about noon Saturday.

Downed Fliers Reported to Be in Good Health

Reds Say U.S. Gave Assurance That Air Violations Will End

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP) — The Russians today freed two U. S. airmen whose reconnaissance plane was shot down by a Soviet fighter over East Germany March 10. Both appeared to be in good health.

Communist East Germany asserted they were "expelled" after the United States gave assurances that strict orders had been issued to prevent a recurrence of air violations.

An announcmenet repeated a Soviet charge the plane was spying, a charge denied by Washington.

Released after 17 days of U.S. diplomatic pressure were Capt. David I. Holland, 35, Holland, Minn., and Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, Philadelphia.

★ ★ ★

Their companion Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, Detroit, was released March 21.

All three parachuted when their RB66 penetrated 20 miles into East Germany on a training flight and was shot down. Welch was injured in landing.

HANDED OVER

Holland and Kessler were handed over at 2:58 p.m. (8:58 a.m. Pontiac time) to U.S. authorities at the Western allies' checkpoint at Helmsteda, on the East German frontier.

There was no announcment of where they had been held.

Welch had been confined in a Soviet military hospital at Magdeburg, 120 miles southwest of Berlin.

★ ★ ★

In Johnson City, Tex., President Johnson expressed gratification that the fliers were released and "that this matter has been sensibly settled."

'VERY HAPPY"

Kessler's mother, Mrs. Abraham Kessler, exclaimed in Philadelphia that she was "very, very happy he was released by East Germany today on the eve of Passover."

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP)—The freighter Mormacpine reported today that fire is spreading in one of her holds and asked for assistance. A Coast Guard plane and a Coast Guard cutter from Bermuda were sent to the ship's aid.

School Board Gets Report

Committee Suggests October Millage Vote

An October election on a five-year school millage proposal was recommended to the Pontiac School Board last night by a citizens study committee.

The Pontiac School Study Committee okayed a millage increase over the present extra voted levy of 8.27-mills, but did not recommend a specific amount.

But the study committee agreed with an administration study that 2.91 might be needed in addition to renewal of an existing 8.75 mills.

This would be subject, however, to the "many uncertainties" in projecting school district income, cautioned Dr. Robert Turpin, chairman of the subcommittee that drafted the report.

Dr. Turpin and study committee chairman James L. Howlett presented the millage report.

Castro Blasts 2 Cuba Reds

MIAMI (UPI) — Fidel Castro used the trial of a Cuban Communist accused as an informer today to defend the unity of the Communist party on his island while delivering slaps at two of the party's top figures in Cuba, Army Maj. Joaquin Ordoqui and Faure Chomon.

The premier took over the trial of 26-year-old Marcos Rodriguez Alfonso by giving "testimony" in the form of a four-hour and 40-minute speech; broadcast directly from the Havana courtroom and monitored here. The speech extended well into this morning.

Castro immediately declared his conviction that the defendant was "guilty," and then quoted Rodriguez as blaming the writings of American author Edgar Allan Poe for the "negative shaping of my intellectual personality."

Ironically, it was Castro who ordered the retrial of Rodriguez after "cancelling" a trial last week in which the accused Red was found guilty and sentenced to death — the first Communist to draw such a sentence since Castro came to power in 1959.

* * *

Castro charged Ordoqui had asked President Osvaldo Dorticos to intercede on behalf of Rodriguez.

CRITICIZES MINISTER

He heatedly criticized Transport Minister Faure Chomon and charged that the minister's testimony diverted the first trial into political channels by touching on matters "that should have been discussed at a party meeting."

Castro lost little time getting to what apparently was the point of his appearance at the trial, which had been suspended since yesterday afternoon until 9 p.m. last night when the premier appeared.

"In this trial the unity of our (Communist) United Party of the Socialist Revolution has been placed in doubt," he said.

* * *

In the background of the trial — delayed for three years after the defendant's arrest and extradition fron. Czechoslovakia in 1961 — was a difficult-to-interpret tangle of Cuban Communist party politics.

'$6.3 Million for Buildings'

for information relative to our physical growth needs . . ."

ORDERLY GROWTH

He urged "that consideration be given to proceeding with a long-range development plan, coupled with short-range development programs for the orderly growth of the service center."

Joachim also included in his report the following recommendations:

- Assuming that the second phase of the Childrens Village will be completed prior to 1970, that the present Childrens Center building be totally remodeled and expanded to house social welfare functions at a cost of $440,000.

* * *

- That the Department of Public Works and Drain Commission be moved into the present Welfare Building after it has been remodeled for about $10,000.
- That Cooperative Extension Services be moved from 1 Lafayette, when that building is disposed of, and relocated in a new building at the service center to be built for about $80,000.
- That a new Central Services Building be constructed to house the maintenance operations for $220,000.
- That a $100,000 addition be made to the Central Garage.
- That $1.3 million in expanded utilities and site work at the service center be built to serve new facilities. New roads, parking lots, water mains sewers and drains would be included.

* * *

The program also includes $660,000 for a new county health center in South Oakland County, although part of this money already has been earmarked in county budgets.

RECOMMENDED

A 29-acre site in Southfield has been recommended by the supervisors' health committee.

The report refers to a need for a new county jail and chronic disease hospital at the service center on Telegraph and further additions to the courthouse complex sometime after 1970, although no cost estimates are made at this time.

Auditors said the report covers all foreseeable building needs of the county in the immediate future.

* * *

Joachim recommended that his current review of space needs be replaced soon with a more detailed study projecting well beyond 1970 and "reaching for the ultimate growth capacities of the service center."

WSU REPORT

He predicated his report on a space needs analysis prepared for the county last year by Dr. Louis Friedland, Wayne State University professor.

Woman Slain in Street

Citizens Ignore Killing

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirty-eight respectable citizens—according to a police court—looked on, but did nothing as a killer stalked and stabbed a woman in three separate attacks spread over more than half an hour in the Kew Gardens section of Queens.

The sound of the householders' voices and the sudden glow of their bedroom lights interrupted the slayer twice and frightened him off. He returned each time, sought the woman out and stabbed her again.

No one telephoned police during the assaults. One witness phoned after the woman was dead.

Asst. Chief Inspector Frederick M. Lussen, in charge of police detectives in Queens, says he still is shocked by the events of two weeks ago today.

* * *

Lussen, a veteran of 25 years of homicide investigations, told a New York Times reporter:

"As we have reconstructed the crime, the assailant had three chances to kill this woman during a 35-minute period.

He returned twice to complete the job. If we had been called when he first attacked, the woman might not be dead now."

The victim was Catherine (Kitty) Genovese, 28, a bar manager, who was stabbed to death as she returned home from work at 3:20 a.m. She lived on quiet, middle-class, tree-lined street.

* * *

Six days after the slaying, police arrested Winston Moseley, 29, and charged him with homicide. They said he admitted he killed Miss Genovese because he had an urge to kill. Two days ago, a judge committed him to a hospital for mental observation.

'TIMES' SAID

The Times, which published a detailed account of the case today, said in part:

Miss Genovese noticed a man at the far end of a parking lot where she had left her car. . . . Nervously, she headed up Austin Street . . . . The man grabbed her. She screamed . . . Lights went on in a 10-story apartment house . . . . Windows were opened, and voices punctured the early morning darkness.

Miss Genovese screamed: "Oh, my God, he stabbed me! Please help me! Please help me!"

* * *

From one of the upper windows in the apartment house, a man called down: "Let that girl alone."

WALKED AWAY

The assailant looked up at the man shrugged and walked down Austin Street . . . . Miss Genovese struggled to her feet.

The lights went out. The killer returned to Miss Genovese — now trying to make her way to her apartment. The assailant stabbed her again. "I'm dying — I'm dying," Miss Genovese shrieked.

Windows were opened again and lights went on in many apartments. The assailant got into his car, parked nearby, and drove away. Miss Genovese staggered to her feet . . . The assailant returned.

* * *

By this time, Miss Genovese had crawled to the rear of an apartment building and sought safety by entering one of the doors. The assailant, after trying two doors, found her slumped on the floor at the foot of the stairs. He stabbed her a third time — fatally.

FIRST CALL

It was 3:50 a.m. by the time the police received their first call. It was from a male neighbor of Miss Genovese.

Police were on the scene in two minutes.

"I didn't want to get involved," the man sheepishly told the police.

* * *

Two weeks after the crime, witnesses in the neighborhood —made up mostly of homes in the $35,000 to $60,000 price range—find it difficult to explain why they didn't call police.

Police said most told them they had been "afraid" to call.

Inside were 100 copies of Playboy magazine for Massachusetts subscribers.

JOHN E. McGRATH

1st Candidate for Judgeship

John E. McGrath, Waterford Township attorney and justice of the peace, today announced his candidacy for a Circuit Court judgeship.

McGrath, 38, of 1311 Edgeorge said he will seek nomination in the Aug. 4 primary election for one of the two recently created judgeships of the 6th Judicial Circuit.

He is the first announced candidate for the nonpartisan election.

A Denver University law graduate, McGrath has been a practicing attorney in Waterford Township since 1953. He twice was elected township justice of the peace and presently is serving in this capacity.

He is a member of the state and county bar associations and currently serves on the Justice Courts subcommittee of the State Bar Association's court administration committee.

ACTIVE IN COMMUNITY

Active in community affairs, McGrath serves on the township's youth Assistance committee and was the first president of the Highland Homes Improvement Association.

He is a past president of the Optimist Club of Lakeland and last year served as Optimist Lt. Governor for Zone 8, the state's largest district.

Commenting on his candidacy, McGrath said he had a sincere desire to be a Circuit Court judge and that, if elected, he would strive to uphold the dignity of this high office with integrity and humility.

"I neither seek nor want the endorsement of any political party," he added. "I do seek individual endorsement of all people for my responsibility shall be only to the people and to the law."

McGrath and his wife, Virginia, have two daughters; Mary, 9, and Terri, 7.

He added that this was the main point of disagreement among committee members.

Dr. Turpin described the next five years as a critical period in forecasting state valuations for the school district.

* * *

According to Howlett, the committee thought the school board could better set the final millage figure after state-equalized valuations are known in June.

MANY ISSUES

The report recommends an October election rather than a normal June vote because of the many issues to come before voters this year.

A short term — five years — millage was also recommended by the citizens group. Dr. Turpin explained that this would enable all voters to pass on the question.

(Any millage beyond five years is restricted to property owners by the new state constitution.)

The citizens study pointed to "the continued upward trend of personnel costs" and expected yearly increases in school expenditures to occur.

Don't Mind Weather; It's Easter Contest Time

BIRMINGHAM — Weather prospects being what they are, Easter egg hunters and kite flyers may find themselves tripping over snowman builders at Eton Park tomorrow.

The weatherman warned today that there's a chance of light snow.

However, both the Jaycees and the Recreation Department—are continuing with plans for their contests which annually herald spring.

The Recreation Department had scheduled its kite flying event for last Saturday but changed its mind when the morning gave indications the day would be snowy and windy.

The day turned out to be mild and excellent for getting kites up into the air so the children came anyway, prizes or no.

ANOTHER STAB

They will get another stab at the award ribbons tomorrow if the weather permits. The contest for youngsters 5 through 12 years of age is to begin at 1:30 p.m.

The Jaycee-sponsored Easter egg hunt is set for 10 a. m. at the park.

Open to those between the ages of 3 and 9, the contest is expected to attract about 5,000 children.

A giant Easter bunny will appear to help the hunters and award prizes to those who do the best job.

Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, will speak at the 16th annual meeting of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

The banquet is scheduled for 7 p.m. April 22 at Devon Gables. Tickets are to be distributed next week.

Rev. Ernest Thomas of the First Methodist Church will be among some 1,000 laymen and ministers studying the role of the layman at a conference April 3 and 4.

Avon Twp. Voters to See Return of the Democrats

By ROGER SRIGLEY

AVON TOWNSHIP—The Democrats are back in "town."

More specifically the Democrats have petitioned for reinstatement as a party of record in Avon Township.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday Louis W. Berklich and Raymond H. Storm turned in petitions bearing 360 signatures to Avon Township Clerk Mrs. Thelma Spencer.

Both men are members of the Avon-Oakland Democratic Club, and Storm is chairman of the group's petition committee which spearheaded the name-gathering.

"Approximately 200 valid signatures are needed," Mrs. Spencer said. She based her figure on the formula which requires 2 per cent of those voting in the last gubernatorial election, 1962.

"We don't have any axes to grind here," Storm explained before submitting the petitions.

OFFER A CHANCE

Storm said he and others who worked to have the party candidates on the ballot wanted them there to "keep people on their toes," and "offer township residents a chance to make a change."

The last time the Democratic Party had been eligible to sponsor a slate of candidates here was in 1959. None were victorious then.

No Democratic candidate for supervisor has been victorious since Democratic Supervisor Harvey Taylor was in office over 50 years ago.

★ ★ ★

Following him were two justices of the peace, who then sat on the township board, Raymond Green and Charles Terry, according to former township Clerk Mrs. Frances Covert.

FULL SLATE

"We'll run a full slate in the next election," Berklich said.

The two men pointed out that by the time of the next election, still undetermined due to the new constitution, an Avon Democratic Club should be formed and active.

Currently, under guidance of the Avon-Oakland club, a township telephone canvassing program is under way. Compilation of the results has not been completed.

★ ★ ★

"When the new members are added and the organization formed we'll set up our platform," Berklich explained.

AUGUST PRIMARY

He said that although the election date is not established, the petitions were submitted yesterday to prepare for a possible August primary.

Members of the Avon-Oakland Club who are residents of Avon Township circulated the petitions, Berklich explained.

He said Democrats, Republicans and independents who simply wanted both parties on the ballot signed the papers.

★ ★ ★

"The township needs new leaders," he said, "If any party or people are in power too long a change is needed—this is true regardless of performance."

CHOICE NEEDED

The Democrat added "if a person is good, the people will keep him in office — but the people should have a choice."

★ ★ ★

Yesterday, after five years of single-party balloting, Berklich and Storm acted to give the 8,836 Avon Township registered voters that choice.

The two Avon Township men have spearheaded the drive, under guidance of the Avon-Oakland Democratic Club.

Bid to Block Recall Vote Thwarted

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Trustee Samuel Woodard, Supervisor Edward L. Kennedy and Treasurer Frank Miles lost their bid yesterday to have the Oakland County Circuit Court block Tuesday's election on recall petitions against them.

They also lost on two other points, receiving, in return, only some unofficial words of support on one of them from Judge James S. Thorburn.

Judge Thorburn dismissed their request that the petitions be nullified and the election canceled.

He also rejected a plea that the vote be postponed to coincide with a later election on counter recall petitions against the three's opponents on the township board — Clerk Mrs. Artie Gray and Trustee Aubrey Dunn.

In addition, he declined to issue a court order requiring Mrs. Gray and Dunn to attend township board meetings so that township business could be conducted, although he said Mrs. Gray and Dunn had a duty to attend them.

USED AS WEAPON

Mrs. Gray and Dunn have used absence from meetings as a weapon in the township's political feuding.

Because of two vacancies on the board, Woodard, Kennedy and Miles cannot get a quorum of four for an official meeting without Mrs. Gray's or Dunn's presence.

Mrs. Gray and Dunn have not attended a meeting since Dec. 19 when they opposed the firing of former Urban Renewal Director Jeffrey Teamer.

★ ★ ★

Judge Thorburn said he spoke only as a private citizen in saying that Mrs. Gray and Dunn have a duty, as elected officials, to attend meetings and conduct township business.

NO AUTHORITY

But he said the court had no authority to force them to do so.

He said they should meet to appoint a board of canvassers for Tuesday's election. The lack of such a board was cited by Woodard, Kennedy and Miles as a reason for canceling or postponing Tuesday's election.

★ ★ ★

Judge Thorburn indicated afterwards that, while a board of canvassers should be appointed before Tuesday's election, the lack of one would not automatically invalidate the election.

Romeo Drive Nets $700 for Program

ROMEO—The drive for scholarship funds to help students other than those planning to attend college has ended in Romeo with over $700 collected for the new program.

Sponsored by the Junior-Senior High Parent-Teachers Club, the plan is to aid, on the basis of merit and need, those students interested in short-term vocational courses.

The scholarship committee, in cooperation with the high school administration, is now making a study of state-approved schools which provide various courses ranging from tool design, secretarial, IBM key punch operation to floral design and professional dressmaking.

The club hopes to award the first scholarships this year.

It is now up to a selections committee to pick the students most deserving of assistance.

LONG OVERLOOKED

The school clubs committee, which launched the drive about a month ago, initiated the program to fill "a need that has long been overlooked."

"A scholarship will give that student who, with a little extra help, will have the vocational training to put him a jump ahead of the untrained high school graduate who seeks employment," said Dr. John A. Hannum, committee chairman.

While the scholarships will be available for a variety of types of training, the committee has not ruled out grants for college-bound students.

★ ★ ★

However, members felt that there are many sources of financial aid for those students, so the emphasis has been placed on other types of training.

CANVASS MAIL

The money was raised through a door-to-door canvass and mail contributions.

★ ★ ★

Serving on the committee with Dr. Hannum are Mrs. Charles Appel, secretary; Edgar Priest, Mrs. Lawrence Van Camp, Robert L. Smith, Mrs. S. G. Sam, Mrs. Jack Hovey and Walter Shepley.

★ ★ ★

Others are George Tapley, Mrs. Conrad Friedemann, Robert Hutton, Andrew Hemela and David Olson, high school principal.

Area Men Chosen for Baptist Confab

SOUTHFIELD — Two local men have been chosen to attend a specialized Baptist conference on "Christian Laymen in Urban Structures."

Robert M. Boltwood, 28401 Red Leaf, and Dr. Selwyn Smith 17259 Cornell, will be among some 50 laymen participating in the sessions Tuesday through Friday in Cincinnati.

★ ★ ★

Boltwood, a General Motors employe, is a member of Birmingham's First Baptist Church and Dr. Smith is executive director of the Detroit Association of American Baptist Churches.

The delegates will concern themselves with the implications of a Christian layman bearing witness to his faith in the public sectors of urban life.

Romeo Apartments Now Being Erected

ROMEO — Construction of the first multiple dwellings to be erected within the village limits is now in progress on a 2½-acre site facing South Van Dyke.

The new "Village Green Apartments" are expected to be ready for occupancy by June 1, according to builder Bert Van Dyke.

★ ★ ★

Each of the six apartments will contain a living room, kitchen and dinette, two bedrooms and bath.

Later additional units will be designed especially for retired couples, according to Van Dyke, of 55150 Van Dyke, Washington.

BOYS' CHOICE — Trudy Wiseman, 16, has been chosen sweetheart of the Lake Orion chapter of DeMolay. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Wiseman, 365 Newman, Orion Township, she is a junior at Lake Orion Community High School. She is also past worthy advisor of Lake Orion Assembly No. 51, Order of Rainbow for Girls.

Detroiter Says He's Innocent

Examination April 6 on Abduction of Girl

TROY — A 21-year-old Detroit man yesterday pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of kidnaping a 16-year-old Detroit girl and driving her to a trail off Square Lake Road.

★ ★ ★

Ralph H. Fox, appearing in Detroit's Recorder's Court before Judge John P. O'Hara, was put under $5,000 bond for examination April 6. Through his attorney he asked for psychiatric help.

Fox, whose 16-year-old wife, Ann, is expecting a baby soon, was charged with forcing Lynda G. Gerish at gunpoint into his car in Detroit Wednesday and driving her to a "lover's lane" in Troy.

Troy Patrolman Raymond Major 29, spotted the car traveling through the muddy trail off Square Lake Road about 1 p.m. He followed it and arrested Fox as the Detroiter was binding his passenger's hands behind her back with his tie.

★ ★ ★

Later Fox, an ex-convict, told police he didn't know why he forced the girl to go with him. Lynda, a Pershing High School junior, was not harmed, she told police.

★ ★ ★

She said she had been forced into his car at gun point while standing at a bus stop.

Seek Blood Donations in Avon Township Area

AVON TOWNSHIP — The American Red Cross is asking area residents to donate a pint of blood at the mobile unit in Oakland University's Gold Room Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Blood can be given for replacement, specific banks, or other purposes, without appointment. The facilities will be open from 8 to 11 a.m. and noon to 2 p.m.

Church Play Has New Idea, Old Truth

By PAT McCARTY

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A chair, a table, a lamp, a man and an idea.

These are the ingredients of Commerce Methodist Church's Easter story — these and the willingness of a man to develop his idea until it reaches out and encompasses others.

Kingsley Page is such a man.

The retelling of the Easter story is an integral part of the church's traditional observances, but it is difficult for people to relate to something that happened 1,931 years ago, Page commented.

Page, 3965 Detroit, West Bloomfield Township, has been putting a new slant on the old stories for a half dozen Easters and Christmases at the church.

★ ★ ★

His concept of this year's presentation is a good example of the way he tackles the problem.

MAN'S SHADOW

Those who attend the 6 a.m. presentation will see only the silhouette of a man behind a shadow screen. He will be sitting in a chair beside a table with a lamp on it.

Enter the idea. The man, portrayed by John Himes, is a modern-day-Easter Scrooge. He can't attend church — he's just too busy.

The four voices he hears thank him for his attitude for the resurrection of Christ has no place in their operations. The voices represent gambling, narcotics, segregation and the underworld in general.

★ ★ ★

The idea is simple and so will be its execution. David Mansfield, Forest Skaritt, Norman Taylor and Stuart Terry will speak for the elements which work to weaken a society.

BRIEF OUTLINES

The characters have brief outlines of what they are to say, but much will depend on the ability of each to ad lib on his feeling toward the role at the moment.

Lighting also will be important. Through the years Page has come up with other different techniques — black lighting while the choir trimmed the Christmas tree with florescent bulbs and dividing the stage into two scenes to depict materialistic children around a Christmas tree and Christ in a manger.

Page, truck sales manager for Jerry McCarthy Chevrolet in Detroit, spends much of his free time in theatrical pursuits. He is a free-lance director on a professional basis, but his church and the Multi-Lakes Theater Guild do not pay for his services.

★ ★ ★

"It's a lot of fun," he said. "Religion is something that has to keep pace with the times. Anyone can have our scripts, regardless of their denomination."

BONSTELLE GRAD

Page, 48, is a graduate of Detroit's Bonstelle Playhouse, where he started to apply his interest in drama in 1935.

There have been many other playhouses and radio shows for him since. Each has contributed its share to the background Page brings to his task at Commerce Methodist Church.

Each comes into play every year when Page begins to think about the next holiday and says, "This year we're going to do something different."

NEWS OF THE AREA

Area Groups to Hold Easter Egg Hunts

Children in several area communities will be following the path of the Easter Rabbit Saturday in hopes of finding every one of the colorful eggs he'll leave.

Besides the thrill of discovering the eggs, the children also will be rewarded with prizes in Farmington, Milford and Walled Lake.

All contests will begin at 10 a.m.

The Jaycee egg hunt in Farmington will be on Shiawassee east of Farmington Road. Prizes will be given to the best hunters in several groups. A special rope - off area will be provided for toddlers.

Milford Jaycees expect eggs to be particularly plentiful in the Milford Memorial Field on George.

★ ★ ★

Contestants will cover the area throughout the afternoon, with 7- and 8-year-olds starting at 10 a.m., 5- and 6-year-olds at 1 p.m. and 1- to 4-year-olds at 3 p.m.

PLANS JOINED

The Walled Lake Firefighters Association has joined with the local Jaycee unit to make plans for the hunt behind the Walled Lake Post Office.

★ ★ ★

The children will be divided into three age groups to track down some 1,500 eggs.

PTA Skit to Trace History of Troy Unit

TROY — A skit entitled "The PTA of the Twenties" will be presented by members of the Johnson Niles PTA at their regular meeting Thursday.

It will make use of historical data concerning the one-room schoolhouse beginnings of the school and information about the man whose name it bears.

Also on the agenda for the 8 p.m. event is election of executive board officers.

Hawks Win Easy in Third Period

CHICAGO (AP) — After a battle of goalies in the first two periods, the Chicago Black Hawks burst forth with three goals in the third to whip the Detroit Red Wings 4-1 Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

It was the opening game in the best-of-seven semifinal round of Stanley Cup action. The two teams meet in the second game at Chicago Stadium Sunday night before the series shifts to Detroit, where the Hawks haven't won this season.

A stadium crowd of 15,697 whooped it up in the opener and another 8,200 watched the game on closed circuit in four Chicago theaters and one in Milwaukee.

SOMETHING WRONG

However, the big Palace Theater in Chicago's Loop had to give refunds to 1,500 patrons when something went wrong with the TV circuit, blacking out the game.

Defenseman Pierre Pilote and Right wing Murray Balfour scored goals at 6:42 and 8:27 of the third for a 3-1 Hawks edge. At 16:23, Stan Mikita connected for another. Balfour's shot came after he had skated onto the ice for the first time in competition since suffering a groin injury Jan. 23.

★ ★ ★

Andre Pronovost put Detroit ahead at 12:16 of the first period and the Hawks tied it at 13:06 on Ab McDonald's goal. In the scoreless second period, Hawks goalie Glenn Hall made 15 saves and opponent Terry Sawchuck 12. Hall had 34 for the night and Sawchuck 25.

"We played our best defensive game in quite some time," said Hawks coach Billy Reay. "Although Balfour says he is all right now, I have my doubts. I probably will platoon him with John McKenzie Sunday. McKenzie has had to take it easy since his operation."

LIKE MATCHES

Bobby Hull of the Hawks complained about the hockey sticks.

"They were new ones and they broke like matches," he said. "I must of broken four or five of them."

Manager-coach Sid Abel of Detroit said referee Art Skov should have blown the whistle and halted play before Pilote's tie-breaking goal in the third.

★ ★ ★

"Skov said the penalty was to have been called on Bill Gadsby," Abel said. "If that's so, then Skov should have blown the whistle because we had possession before Pilot scored the goal."

Defenseman Al Langlois of the Wings was injured in the game.

OUT OF ACTION

A Detroit club spokesman said Langlois may miss the second game of the playoffs with the Hawks in Chicago Stadium Sunday night.

NEW PNH COACH—Dave Schmidt was named head football coach at Pontiac Northern High School last night, succeeding Bob Dingman who will take a similar post at Lansing Eastern. Schmidt is the third coach in the young football history at Northern.

Schmidt New PNH Coach

Former University of Illinois gridder David Schmidt will be at the helm when Pontiac Northern's football team trots onto the field this fall.

Schmidt, 29, an assistant coach at PNH for the past four years, was elevated to the head coaching post last night by the Board of Education.

He succeeds Bob Dingman, who resigned to accept the head coaching job at Lansing Eastern High School in Lansing.

The head coaching assignment will be Schmidt's second.

During a two-year hitch with the U.S. Army at Fort Knox, Ky., Schmidt guided the Specialist Training Regiment's football squad, compiling a 17-4 won-lost record.

★ ★ ★

Schmidt played football under coach Ray Elliott at the University of Illinois (1950-51-52), making the varsity squad as a sophomore. He was graduated from the university in 1953.

He joined the Pontiac Northern faculty in 1960, following a year of teaching at Steinmetz High School in Chicago.

Schmidt is a social studies instructor at PNH.

★ ★ ★

He served as an assistant football coach under Ed Heikkinen (1958-62) and Dingman (1963).

Lening Leads Bourdase by Single Pin

Two Sessions Today to Be Concluded on TV Saturday

By JERE CRAIG

At first glance the Professional Bowlers' Association North American Open at 300 Bowl would appear a two-man battle based on the 24-game qualifying results.

German-born Fred Lening and Californian Ed Bourdase dominated the scoring in the first two days' competition and were one-two entering the 16 head-to-head matches today.

At one o'clock this afternoon, they paced 16 bowlers in their last quest for the four spots in tomorrow's 3:30 p.m. nationally televised finals.

Eight matches are scheduled for the afternoon and another eight begin at 7 p.m. tonight, with the last one a position round based on the standings.

Lening, a 42-year-old Fairless Hills, Pa., bowling house manager, and the colorful 35-year-old Bourdase, Fresno, Calif., seemed likely to meet in that final match of the night if they retain their present scoring grooves.

★ ★ ★

Lening led the 16 qualifiers into today's action with 5171 pins in 24 games, a 215-plus average, but had only a one-pin lead over runner-up Bourdase.

They were well in front of defending champion Bill Allen, Orlando, Fla., and Detroit's Mike Totsky who tied for third place at 5102.

CONSISTENT

The two front-runners have been the most consistent performers on the "300" lanes. Lening, who has an outstanding record for finishing in the money when he makes a PBA tournament, was second, third, first and first after the four six-game qualifying blocks Wednesday and Thursday.

Bourdase, like Lening a bespectacled veteran with a good winning money record, stood first after the opening six, and has been second since each time since then.

He won more than $16,000 last season and has $4,765 this season. Lening, meanwhile, made money in seven of his eight PBA appearances last year for $5,820. The year before his name appeared among the earners seven times out of 12 attempts.

But both men are not assured of a spot among the four finalists. There were considerable changes in the standings during the second day's action.

Perhaps the most notable was Totsky's feat of climbing from 28th place to a tie for third in 12 games. Fort Worth Southpaw Jerry McCoy jumped from 39th to 13th.

★ ★ ★

Today's head-to-head format includes a provision for 50 bonus pins with every victory over an opponent. Thus the almost 70 pins Lening has over Totsky and Allen could disappear rapidly.

Checks were presented last night to the 17-40th place finishers in the $31,400 tournament. One of the biggest went to Pontiac's Mike Samardzija, Jr. who collected $440.

He finished 20th, only 35 pins from a qualifying spot, and won $50 for his performance in Tuesday's Pro-Am event. Samardzija was 33rd starting yesterday's two blocks.

Another strong surge was Monroe Moore's climb from 117th to 54th, but his late start left him 43 pins from a paying spot. The Pontiac "Sparemaster" was only 19 pins behind Don Carter of St. Louis for the 48 games.

★ ★ ★

National All Star champion Bob Strampe of Detroit, the leader after the first day's action, slumped to seventh in the third block and held that spot through the final six last night.

Bowling Hall of Famer Buzz Fazio of Detroit suffered one of the big falls when he dropped from fifth to 19th with an 1165 final block.

The tournament's top amateur performer, Jerry Jamkowski of Detroit, was 17th, only five pins from the low qualifying total. He won $455.

Drysdale Keeps Tigers on Skid

Bengals' Loss 4th Straight

Demeter, Horton Still Lead Hitting Attack

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Maybe having the day off today will help the Detroit Tigers shake a little of the blues and get them back on the winning track when they resume their exhibition scheduled against the Chicago White Sox at Sarasota, Fla., Saturday.

The Tigers got a good look at Los Angeles pitcher Don Drysdale Thursday in dropping a 6-2 decision to the world champion Dodgers.

It was the fourth straight loss and left the Tigers with a 4-9 record for their exhibition efforts. They've won only one game in the last eight.

Manager Charlie Dressen said he hates to lose whether it be in the spring or during the regular season, but he admits that even the losses will help him decide which players to keep and which to let go.

Don Demeter has been hitting near the .300 mark and Willie Horton continues to lead the team in runs batted in. Horton got a double to right off Drysdale Thursday to knock in the Tigers' first run in the sixth inning, then scored the second on Demeter's single.

Dick Egan gave up just one hit in two innings of relief and continued to impress the Detroit skipper.

Phil Regan started for the Tigers and breezed through the first two innings. The Dodgers picked up their first run in the third when Willie Davis' grounder got through Jerry Lumpe's legs on what should have been a third out play.

Repaired Limb Continues to Slow Yanks' Mantle

By the Associated Press

It's often been said that Mickey Mantle on one leg is better than most players on two, but even Mantle himself might not care to speculate how good he would be without that one good leg.

Actually, the leg—the left one—isn't that good, and that's what has the New York Yankee superstar worried.

★ ★ ★

"I was running real good when I came down her, but I haven't been running good the last couple of days," Mantle said Thursday after missing his second straight exhibition game.

Manager Yogi Berra had planned on using the switch-hitting center fielder against the Mets and even had his name on the line-up card. But Mantle asked for another day of rest, saying his left knee was troubling him.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

The left knee is the one which was operated on during the winter for torn cartilage. He has had recurring problems with his right knee since he twisted it as a rookie in 1951.

Mantle, who played in only 40 per cent of the Yankees' games in 1963 and 58 per cent the past two seasons, started in the first 11 spring games but departed after the early innings. He has five hits in 19 times at bat, has scored one run and driven in two.

★ ★ ★

Until the past few days, he had not been bandaging his legs before games. Now he's reverted to that precautionary practice.

He said Thursday the left knee hurts where the cartilage was removed.

"I got hit by Siebern the first game we played," Mantle said, referring to Norm Siebern's line drive that struck him on the side of the knee. "The darned thing hit right near the operation, and now it's hurting. Doc says it's just a bone bruise. I hope that's all it is."

NO WEAKNESS

Dr. Sidney Gaynor, the physician, said the knee had healed completely before Mantle came to camp, and no weakness exists.

The torn cartilage was discovered after Mantle suffered a fractured left foot in a crash against a fence at Baltimore last June. That was only another in the seemingly impossible long list of injuries the 32-year-old Yankee has suffered throughout his illustrious career.

Despite the bothersome setbacks, Mantle has played the fifth highest number of games in the team's history and is eighth on the list of all-time home run hitters among other accomplishments.

★ ★ ★

How much he'll play this year or in future years remains to be seen.

Manager Berra said, "I'm never gonna play him when he doesn't feel right."

Berra, however, hopes he'll be able to play him at least some of the time.

★ ★ ★

Mantle's replacement in the game with the Mets, Hector Lopez, drove in both of the Yankees' runs in their 2-1 victory. That evened the spring series between the teams.

In other games, Washington won its fourth straight game 9-3 over Pittsburgh, Bob Chance's grand slam home run powered Cleveland to a 9-8 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers, Kansas City downed the Chicago White Sox 10-6, the Chicago Cubs won a 15-inning game with Boston 10-8 and Milwaukee ran its winning streak to six, beating Cincinnati 4-1.

The games between Baltimore and Minnesota and St. Louis and Philadelphia were washed out after they got started.

WING MAKES LIKE BIRD—Joyous over a first period goal against the Chicago Black Hawks is Paul Henderson of the Detroit Red Wings. He didn't score the goal. It was put past goalie Glen Hall by Andre Pronovost. The Hawk defenseman is Elmer Vasko. Chicago won the opening Stanley Cup semifinal game last night, 4-1.

Michigan 9 Splits Pair

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP)—Michigan's touring baseball team split a morning-afternoon set of games Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The Wolverines defeated Wyoming 5-2 in the morning, but absorbed a 6-1 defeat by rugged Arizona State in the nightcap.

Doubles by Earl Meyers and Dave Campbell sparked a three-run fourth-inning rally to wrap up the Michigan victory in the opener.

★ ★ ★

Arizona State had little trouble in the second game for its 13th victory in 15 outings. Michigan now stands 4-5.

Will Exchange Teacher Posts

Start Program in Fall to Fight 'Segregation'

A teacher exchange program to help combat "de facto segregation" will go into effect next fall in Pontiac.

The first phase of an avowed effort "to strive for an equitable distribution of Negro and white teachers in all schools" was unanimously approved last night by the Pontiac school board.

Adopted with little comment, the exchange plan calls for a voluntary switch between Negro and white teachers to give students the opportunity to work with teachers of both races.

Exchanges will be for at least one year, but no more than three.

★ ★ ★

Teachers must initiate any exchange and school administrators will pair Negro and white teachers, reserving final approval for any exchanges.

BOARD RESOLUTION

In a covering resolution on policy change, the school board resolved:

"Although teachers have been for a number of years, assigned to positions on the basis of merit without regard to race, religion, or ethnic background, it is believed desirable that the school district now establish a teacher exchange program which will encourage teachers to serve in schools other than that of present assignment."

Following a policy statement on segregation two weeks ago, board members suggested the exchange plan and appointment of a representative citizens committee to help solve issues of classroom integration.

★ ★ ★

Principals will review the individual teacher exchanges at the end of each school year. Any teacher may withdraw from the program at that time.

In the event a teacher wishes to withdraw, his paired counterpart would also have to return to his original assignment unless a new pairing could be arranged, stated Whitmer.

★ ★ ★

The exchange program is designed for all teachers, but the resolution said that encouragement will be given exchanges by Negro teachers in schools with large Negro enrollments and white teachers in schools with predominately white enrollments.

Political Pot Boils Over on Foreign Affairs

Senator's Speech Stokes Election Year Fires

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright has stoked an election year foreign affairs debate that's causing some pain to the Johnson administration even though it has found no fault with much of what the Arkansas Democrat says.

★ ★ ★

The main sore point is the attack by Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, on the Johnson-Kennedy policy toward Cuba. Fulbright flatly labeled as a "failure" the administration's strategy aimed at toppling Fidel Castro by diplomatic and economic boycott.

Republican critics have been saying this right along, while using different reasons. They quickly found ammunition in the 70-minute Senate speech Wednesday by Fulbright who is a long time colleague of Johnson and a Democrat of the same general persuasion as Johnson.

GOP National Chairman William E. Miller promptly tagged Fulbright's address as a trial balloon for future Johnson policy. And such a policy, he declared, would lead down the same road toward communism as British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's appeasement led toward Hitler conquests in the 1930s.

Administration sources picture the President as generally undisturbed over the impact of Fulbright's address.

It was noted in administration quarters that most of what Fulbright said was in line with official policy; but the White House had disavowed Fulbright's remark on Cuba and on another point, Panama, which conflicted with administration policy.

★ ★ ★

It also was noted that both Fulbright and the administration say he was not speaking for the administration and did not seek advance advice on his speech. And Fulbright denies he was sending up any trial balloon.

In a television interview Thursday night on ABC's news reports, Fulbright said his speech was not an attack on the administration's foreign policy. He said that for 10 years he has been making similar speeches once or twice a year, analyzing the situation as he sees it.

NO DRAMATIC CHANGE

The senator said he does not expect any dramatic change in U.S. policy as a result of his speech, adding "I'm just saying we have to recognize the facts of life."

He stressed he was trying to put the Cuban issue "in perspective" because he feels it has been exaggerated as a danger and believes the Organization of American States can deal with it.

Earlier Thursday, Fulbright told newsmen he had spoken out because of repeated GOP attacks on the administration's foreign policy. He said laying out "the facts" is not "appeasement or being soft on communism—it's just common sense."

★ ★ ★

A main theme of the senator's address was that "old myths" which have guided foreign policy attitudes in post war years should give way to revised assessments "in the fact of new realities."

"The master myth of the cold war is that the Communist bloc is a monolith," he said. But the new realities are that there are differences between the Communist regimes, he said. He advocated a flexible U.S. policy to make the most of this.

In this reasoning, Fulbright was in lockstep with current administration strategy and in conflict with those the senator termed rightwingers.

He was also close to the administration view in saying that the United States should not now pull out of South Viet Nam or recognize Communist China.

Foster Mother of 164 Dies

State Honored Her for Raising Children

ROMEO — Miss Amanda Moore, foster mother of 164 children who was named "Michigan Mother of the Year" in the early 1950s, died yesterday. She was 96.

A native of Petersburg, Va., she was the sole survivor of 14 children born to parents in slavery. When she was old enough to walk, she went to work in the fields for five cents a day.

She recalled making baskets and footmats and learning how to crochet, embroider and knit.

Miss Moore came to Michigan at the age of 20. Her first job was working in the fields on a farm near Washington.

★ ★ ★

Later she got a job as cateress in Romeo's one-time fashionable hotel, The Maples.

REAL CAREER

When she bought her home at 184 Hollister 58 years ago, she started on her real career of raising children. She adopted three and took in five more.

In 1919, the Michigan Children's Aid Society in Detroit began sending the diminutive woman youngsters to board. In the ensuing years the society sent her 164 children.

On her 80th birthday the society gave her a reading glass and a Bible. She used the Bible but never the glass.

★ ★ ★

Service will be 1 p.m. Monday at Roth's Home for Funerals Burial will follow in Romeo Cemetery.

Several nieces and nephews survive.

Broomfield Rips Sukarno, Urges End to 'Pampering'

WASHINGTON — Oakland County's Congressman William S. Broomfield, was shooting again yesterday at his favorite foreign target—Indonesian Premier Sukarno.

Broomfield, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and ranking Republican on its Far East subcommittee, called Sukarno a "minor league Hitler" and urged the U. S. to stop "mollycoddling" him.

He called on the administration to wake up to the fact that there is nothing vital to U. S. interests in aid to Indonesia.

Broomfield also backed up indications by some lawmakers yesterday that Congress may increase the administration's $1-billion military aid request to avoid backing into a corner on aid to war-torn South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

"Congress is not going to be working on a narrow margin with 16,000 American boys in Viet Nam," Broomfield said.

NO STEP-UP

Defense Sec. Robert S. McNamara had said arms aid to Viet Nam could not be stepped up under the $1-billion program without jeopardizing military assistance to others.

McNamara earlier had shocked the foreign affairs committee with a statement that the $1-billion request was $400 million short of basic needs, but was set because it was thought that Congress would not approve more.

Committee members criticized that thinking, saying such a judgment should not be made in advance on such a crucial issue.

McNamara told the committee in a closed session that the situation in South Viet Nam was "not hopeless but not particularly optimistic."

Urban League Elects Chief of Directors

The Pontiac Urban League has elected Dr. Harry L. Riggs president of the league's board of directors for 1964.

Dr. Riggs, of 149 Franklin Blvd., had returned to the board this year after having served as a director for several years previously.

Other board officers elected were Mrs. Robert Hatt, first vice president; John F. Perdue, second vice president, Conklin Bray, treasurer; Mrs. W. E. Carey, secretary.

All offices are one year terms. The election was held yesterday at the first board meeting following the league's annual meeting.

Clarence Barnes, executive director, announced that National Urban League Director Whitney Young would be in Pontiac to address board and staff members and the public on April 9.

Details concerning a special public meeting are being worked out and will be announced in the near future, Barnes said.

INVALID STICKER—Pontiac Firefighters Association is again offering reflectorized stickers to identify the homes of invalids and handicapped persons. Engineer Clifford Johnson (left) and Assistant Chief Lee Nye are shown affixing a new sticker to one of about 70 homes in Pontiac where an invalid lives. Replacement stickers, or ones for new invalid residents can be obtained by calling Central Fire Station.

Set Date for School Budget OK

A 1964-65 school operating budget must be approved at the Pontiac School Board's next meeting April 9, according to Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

★ ★ ★

He told board members last night that the budget must be approved for submission to the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board later in April.

The budget, as it now stands, would total $11,233,163, including a $200,000 contingency fund carried over every year, Whitmer said.

He said this included preliminary estimates of $10,957,422 and $275,741 worth of staff studies.

★ ★ ★

The superintendent also informed the board that a new state law required that the school district hold a public hearing on its proposed budget.

FINAL ADOPTION

However, the hearing only has to procede final adoption.

The school board set Thursday, June 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the board offices, 40 Patterson, for the hearing on the 1964-65 budget.

In another legal requirement, the school board learned last night that a board of canvassers must be appointed to canvass results of all school district elections.

★ ★ ★

The board of canvassers, made up of four persons, equally divided between the two major political parties, is required under the new state constitution.

Previously, the school board had not been authorized to canvass the vote of its own elections. The canvassers will be appointed by the school board.

Leak Located at Courthouse

A break in the water main to the County Courthouse was located last night by county maintenance personnel.

The 8-inch pipe is cracked at a retainer wall behind the building, said George Atchison, buildings and grounds superintendant.

The cost of repairing the break by inserting a new 10-foot section of pipe should be known by Monday, he said.

Meanwhile water is being supplied to the courthouse through a four-inch pipe temporarily connected into another main which normally is used to supply water to the lawn sprinkling system.

Atchison said he expects to have repairs finished by Tuesday or Wednesday. The break was discovered last Wednesday.

DIG TO MAIN

Workers had to dig down 18 feet to get to the main.

According to Atchison, the break was caused by ground settling after the wall was built.

2 Wall Safes Cracked at Milford High

Two wall safes in the Milford High School building were broken into early today and an undetermined amount of change was reported stolen.

Principal Jack Minzey estimated that a total less than $100 was taken from the safe in the school office and another in the board of education office in the same building.

Papers in the two safes were disturbed but nothing else appeared to be missing, Minzey said.

The building was entered between 12:30 a. m. when a school board meeting was adjourned and 7 a. m. when the break-in was discovered.

★ ★ ★

One of the safes was pried open and the other was entered by burrowing a hole in the adjacent wall. The safes are located at opposite ends of the building.

Collision Drivers Both Satisfactory

The drivers of two cars that collided yesterday morning at the intersection of John R and South Blvd., Avon Township, both are in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Caroline Weinland, 48, of 3735 Locust, Orion Township, told sheriff's deputies she was driving south on John R when a west-bound car on South Blvd. came into her path.

★ ★ ★

Walter Pfeil, 25, of 7627 Flickinger, Utica, driver of the west-bound auto, said he didn't see the other car approaching the intersection.

Both drivers suffered facial and head cuts.

Religious Center Hit in Lawsuit

DETROIT (AP) — A faculty member charged in a lawsuit Thursday that Henry Ford Community College of Dearborn violates the Constitution in supporting a religious center on the campus.

Donald A. Calkins, a political science teacher, brought suit in Wayne County Circuit Court, naming the Dearborn Board of Education as defendant.

Calkins, a plaintiff in the Michigan congressional districting suit now before federal court, said the Board of Education violated both the US. and Michigan constitutions in allocating $8,600 to the religious center. He said he objected as a citizen and taxpayer to the use of public funds for religious purposes.

The religious center, nondenominational, was organized three years ago by a Dearborn citizens group as a place for students to bring their spiritual problems. A corporation headed by Harry Jones, an industrialist, administers the center. It works with a clergymen's group.

Gas Incinerator Fire Damages Apartment

Fire caused by an overheated gas incinerator resulted in an estimated $500 damage yesterday an an apartment at the Fontainebleau, Cass Lake and Pontiac Lake roads, Waterford Township.

The blaze, discovered at 5:33 p.m., spread from studdings above the ground-level incinerator to the floor of a second floor apartment occupied by Andrew Priemer.

School Use Okayed for Antipolio Drive

Free use of five local schools as "feeding" stations for an oral polio immunization program was okayed last night by the Pontiac School Board.

The schools — Owen, Herrington, Lincoln, Washington and Longfellow, will be used by the Oakland County Medical Society as part of a tri-county immunization program.

The antipolio drive will be conducted on two Sundays, April 19 and June 14, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Supt. Dana P. Whitmer said the medical society expects to "feed" 5,000 persons at each station.

State Road Toll at 436

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic accidents have killed 436 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The highway death toll at this date last year was 304.

Board Awaits Action

Bill Alters College Vote

County school board members discovered yesterday that proposed legislation in Lansing could greatly alter the three-part community college question slated for June 8 ballots.

Supt. William J. Emerson said that House Bill 807 would permit a college board of trustees to levy a 1-mill tax for support of such an institution.

The Oakland Schools board amended its resolution on the June vote to remove the millage part from the ballot in the event the state bill is passed.

★ ★ ★

Thus, county voters would pass on the establishment of the community college and elect a six-member board of trustees, but not vote on the millage.

LAST YEAR

The millage question defeated the college proposal last year.

★ ★ ★

In other business, contracts were ordered paid on three special education rooms, one in Walled Lake and two in Holly.

The Walled Lake type B room for the mentally handicapped cost $14,801, while a type A room attached to a Holly elementary school ran $22,535 and a refurbished room in Holly Senior High School cost $17,256.

3 Area Youths Plead Guilty to Entering

Three of four youths charged with breaking into the Detroit Gun Club in Commerce Township pleaded guilty yesterday to a lesser charge of entering without permission.

The fourth pleaded guilty to another burglary charge.

The three — Douglas Freytag, 20, of 3573 Elder, Orchard Lake; David Hargreaves, 19, of 317 Charlevois, and Benjamin Swift, 17, of 2603 Union Lake, both of Union Lake — were permitted to plead to the lesser offense by Circuit Judge Philip Pratt.

They and Robert Hesselgrave, 17, of 9324 Applewood, Union Lake, were to go on trial before Judge Pratt for breaking and entering the gun club at 2775 Oakley Park Nov. 20.

★ ★ ★

Hesselgrave instead was arraigned on a charge of burglarizing a West Bloomfield Township gas station March 22 and pleaded guilty.

All four will be sentenced April 21.

The Great Smoky Mountains national park partly in North Carolina, covers a vast area estimated to be in excess of one half million acres.

Reds Release U.S. Singer

BERLIN (AP) — Gabrielle Hammerstein, a New York singer, has been released from prison in Communist East Germany a U.S. spokesman announced today.

Miss Hammerstein, 39, a Wagnerian soprano, was sentenced to six years in jail as a spy by an East German court in August 1962.

The spokesman said she was released Thursday and flew from Frankfurt, West Germany, to New York the same day. She was accompanied by her mother, Dr. Gertrude Rosenhain, of Jackson Heights, New York City.

Miss Hammerstein before her arrest told reporters in West Berlin she had sung in East German opera houses. She was arrested in January, 1962. No information has ever been made public on her alleged offense.

JFK Coin Is on Sale

Community National Bank today made its first shipment of half dollars with the likeness of President Kennedy ready for distribution through its branches today.

CNB received $5,000 worth of the new coins, and reported it will "ration" them as are other Detroit area banks so customers receive not more than one each.

This is due to the heavy interest in the coin by collectors and souvenir hunters.

to Start Fire in Booth Coldness No Excuse

DANIELSON, Conn. (AP)—It was a bitterly cold night, but state police said that was no excuse for starting a fire in a phone booth.

They charged two men with injury to a public service facility. The men said they started the fire in the outdoor booth to keep warm when their car broke down.
