U. S. Willing to Join Cyprus Peace Forces

Russia Denounces NATO Attempt to 'Enslave' Cypriots

LONDON (AP) — President Johnson informed Britain today that U.S. troops will take part in an international peace-keeping force for Cyprus if satisfactory arrangements are made., informed sources reported.

The President's decision was conveyed by U.S. Ambassador David Bruce to Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys, informants added.

The decision came as the Soviet Union stepped up its denunciation of plans to move soldiers from the United States and some other NATO countries to Cyprus to aid the British in preserving the truce between feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

London and Washington face the task of persuading Archbishop Markarios, the bearded Greek Cypriot president, to accept the international contingent. Markarios wants a U.N. force.

★ ★ ★

The official Soviet news agency Tass accused the Western allies of threatening the freedom and independence of Cyprus and suggested the feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriots could settle their own affairs.

PLUNGE INTO SLAVERY

The statement claimed that Britain, which once ruled Cyprus, is seeking to plunge the Cypriot people "into slavery by deceit" and is backed by the United States.

★ ★ ★

"The government of Cyprus has informed the Soviet government that there is now a serious danger of aggression against Cyprus," the statement said.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today launched two scientific space stations into orbit with a single rocket, the Tass agency reported.

U. S. Plans Photos

Moon Shot Clears 1st Hurdles

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Ranger 6 rocketed toward the moon on a photographic mission today and successfully cleared early hurdles on the planned 66-hour flight.

Ranger 6's assignment is to streak 231,187 miles to the moon, take more than 3,000 pictures of the lunar surface and relay them to earth in a furious 10-minute burst of activity before it crash lands.

The planned impact time is about 4:30 a.m. Sunday.

Ranger 6 is the first of four similar payloads planned for launching this year to help locate possible landing areas for American astronauts scheduled to make lunar voyages late in this decade.

Nearly an hour later the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the mammoth rocket apparently had done its job and hurled Ranger 6 outward on its long voyage.

Army General Takes Charge in Swift Move

Pledges to 'Smash Communists, Traitors Favoring Neutrality'

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, 37, an army corps commander, became virtual dictator of South Viet Nam today in a swift, bloodless coup. He pledged to "smash the Communists and the traitors who advocate neutralism."

A new council of generals took shape to help him in running the country and the U.S.-backed war against Red guerrillas.

Khanh dissolved the old government and clapped four key generals of that regime in jail. Three of them were charged with plotting with France to neutralize South Viet Nam.

French President Charles de Gaulle has advocated neutralization of both North and South Viet Nam.

IKE STILL LIKED—Some 3,000 Republicans gave their beloved champion, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, a rousing reception last night when he stepped from behind a curtain to the speaker's table at Michigan's "Dinner With Ike" at Cobo Hall in Detroit. Eisenhower was the star attraction amidst a galaxy of GOP speakers linked with many such dinners across the nation by a closed-circuit telecast.

Ike Calls on GOP to Go to the People

By JIM DYGERT

DETROIT — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower last night called upon Republicans throughout the nation to "go directly to the people with the nation's major problems" and furnish them with a method for doing it.

Eisenhower proposed a system of "party-to-people panels to conduct forums, public discussions and round tables, all across the country."

It would be an all-out, nationwide program to establish "a two-way political avenue of understanding and cooperation," he said.

★ ★ ★

His proposal came in a seven-minute speech at Cobo Hall where some 3,000 party faithful, including an estimated 500 from Oakland County, gathered around $100-a-plate dinners to see and hear Ike in person.

STAR ATTRACTION

He was speaking as the star attraction among a galaxy of leading Republicans from among whom the GOP's 1964 presidential nominee will no doubt be chosen.

The others spoke from cities across the nation in a closed-circuit 'teleganza' connecting up 22 GOP "Go-Day" dinners.

They included Gov. Romney, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Sen. Barry Goldwater, Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Their blasting of the incumbent Democratic Administration and exhortation of Republicans to a victory effort in 1964 are reported in stories on page B-4.

Eisenhower's speech climaxed a two-day visit to Detroit during which he praised Romney, disagreed with Goldwater, indicated he'd like to see Michigan State University President John Hannah run for the U.S. Senate, and said he would name no personal preference for his party's presidential nomination.

He departed Detroit this morning, leaving Michigan's GOP infused with enthusiasm and determination and richer by several thousand dollars.

Eisenhower called his "party-to-people panels" plan "United States-manship."

He suggested panels "to arouse and to teach in each major region of our country."

These regional forums could set a pattern, Ike said, for similar convocations in every state and every county.

Eisenhower suggested the panels include leaders in other fields as well as GOP experts.

Similar Plan in State Party

Michigan Version Is Launched by Elliot

Michigan Republicans were ready to move today to implement former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's proposal last night for "party-to-people" forums on political issues.

State GOP Chairman Arthur G. Elliott last night issued instructions to start moving machinery that already had been poised to establish a similar system of public political meetings.

In fact, Republicans privately expressed surprise over the similarity of Eisenhower's suggestion to the state GOP's plans for next year as part of Gov. George Romney's "citizen participation" program.

A spokesman for the state Republican party said such a plan had been under discussion for some time.

BIRMINGHAM MAN

He said it had been proposed to Elliott by James Dickerson, a Birmingham Republican who has announced his candidacy for U.S. Congress from the new 19th District.

Dickerson, who is assistant to the chancellor of Oakland University, was active in an attempt to start a similar program on the local level in the Birmingham - Bloomfield area last summer.

The local program, initiated by Robert Lowry when he was chairman of the 3rd District GOP, fell by the wayside, however, when Lowry moved to New York at the end of July.

Philosophy behind the local program was to bring citizens in closer contact with the Republican officials and legislators they elect, thus giving them a more effective voice and participation in politics, legislation and government.

IKE'S PLAN

The same philosophy seemed to be behind Eisenhower's proposal—bringing the problems and issues to the people so that they will produce the votes and the support to solve and resolve them.

Republicans at Detroit's Cobo Hall, where Eisenhower made the proposal, said the former two-term president apparently came up with the idea independently of Michigan Republicans.

$2-Million Plan for Expansion

Consumers to Reach 3,100 New Users

Consumers Power Co. today revealed plans for a $2-million expansion which will extend natural gas service to 3,100 new Pontiac division customers.

Charles F. Brown, division manager, said 65 miles of new gas mains will be constructed during 1964.

"About a third of the new users will be in new residential areas, but generally, the service expansion will be within localities we already service."

The overall expansion will also involve replacement or modernizing of existing gas lines serving about 1,000 of the division's present 46,000 users, Brown said.

MODERNIZATION

At the same time, an extensive modernization will be under way at division headquarters at 28 W. Lawrence.

Brown outlined the project as remodeling of first floor customer service offices, and general redecorating of other floors.

Remodeling of the building's exterior is in the planning stage, Brown stated.

★ ★ ★

He listed other projects as extensive remodeling of the Wesson Street service center and minor changes in the Consumers' branch at 431 Main, Rochester.

MODIFICATIONS

Over $250,000 is also budgeted for modifications of the division's electrical system within the city.

"This will provide better service to our large industrial users," said Brown "and keep pace with downtown construction activity."

He explained that expansion of

LBJ Asks Congress

Hike Overtime Pay?

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson asked Congress today to approve machinery that would permit double pay for overtime in selected industries in order to fight unemployment.

Johnson also sent to the Senate and House a draft of proposed legislation that would increase overtime and minimum wage protection for more than 2 million workers.

In his State of the Union message on Jan. 8, Johnson had first broached the proposal to increase the time-and-a-half overtime pay rate in industries where a higher overtime penalty would promote employment without excessive cost increase.

He did not at that time spell out the procedures for determining how the higher rate would be imposed, nor did he suggest what the higher rate should be.

The draft bill called for double-time compensation in industries where this "might be necessary and appropriate to reduce work hours and increase employment . . . taking into account both the costs and the benefits involved."

Here is the machinery that Johnson wants Congress to create for determining cases in which higher overtime pay would be desirable:

The secretary of labor would appoint special committees representing the public, management and labor in individual industries.

★ ★ ★

These groups would hold public hearings to determine whether higher overtime pay would increase employment without an excessive rise in costs.

Knife Tests Inconclusive

Can't Tell if Blood Matches Slain Girl's

Police found too little blood on a knife suspected in last week's slaying of a Birmingham schoolgirl to establish whether it matched the victim's blood type, it was reported today by Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Full details of a state police crime lab report on the knife are expected from a representative of the lab at a Juvenile Court hearing today.

He will also be asked whether fabric fibers found on the knife match the material in the coat of the victim, 14-year-old Nancy Jean Jones.

The hearing is to be held today for Daniel Lovaas, 15, of 1042 Smith, Birmingham.

3 WITNESSES

Police have three witnesses, it was learned, who said they saw Daniel give the knife to an acquaintance after Nancy was slain.

Other witnesses have placed him at or near the scene of the crime.

ALAN LADD

Movie Hero Found Dead at His Home

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) —Alan Ladd, who realized a dream of driving a limousine through the same studio gate where once he had to punch a time clock, is dead at 50.

The 5-foot-6 star, who walked tall as a movie hero for 23 years, was found dead in the master bedroom of his home yesterday.

A servant who had become alarmed when the actor failed to wake up from a nap found the body.

A doctor and Police Chief Gus Kettmann said that Ladd died of natural causes, presumably of a heart attack.

An autopsy has been ordered.

Ladd, except for a butler, had been alone in his desert home for the last 10 days.

His wife, the former actress Sue Carol, was at the couple's West Los Angeles home.

"I talked with Alan three times Tuesday," she said.

It was Miss Carol, who later turned agent, who heard Ladd on a 15-minute radio show.

She interviewed him, signed him and later married him.

Ladd appeared in 150 movies.

His last, still unreleased, is "The Carpetbaggers," in which he played the sympathetic role of the movie cowboy, Nevada Smith.

U.S. Convoy to Get Bodies

BERLIN (AP)—A convoy of five U.S. military vehicles left today for Red-ruled East Germany to pick up the bodies of three U.S. Air Force officers and the wreckage of the plane in which they were shot down by the Russians.

★ ★ ★

An Air Force spokesman said the Russians had granted permission to recover the bodies and the wreckage in a meeting between Col. Paul Skowronek, Pittsburgh, Pa., chief of the U.S. liaison mission to the Soviet army, and Soviet Colonel M. Khartov.

State Department authorities said it is up to Moscow to make the next move in the U.S.-Soviet dispute over the plane incident.

Without some Soviet help the U. S. government may never know precise details about the incident Tuesday that cost the lives of three U. S. Air Force officers, they said.

Washington and Moscow traded protests yesterday. The Kremlin sent a note saying a Soviet fighter downed the T39 jet trainer about 60 miles inside Communist East Germany after the plane failed to heed warning signals.

The note accused the U. S. military of "gross provocation" by intruding into Communist air space.

BRUTAL ACT

The State Department charged the Soviets with "a callous and inexcusably brutal act of violence against an unarmed aircraft that accidentally strayed over the demarcation line between West and East Germany."

It demanded U. S. access to the plane wreckage and recovery of the fliers' bodies, and punishment of "those responsible for the shooting down of the aircraft and the killing of these men."

The official Soviet News Agency Tass hinted today the Russians believe the U. S. trainer may have been on a photo reconnaissance mission over East Germany.

Air Force officers suggested today that the Soviets probably suspected the plane had been having navigation and radio troubles.

★ ★ ★

The officers said frantic U. S. attempts to reach the plane and warn it away from Communist air space were radioed on frequencies that the Soviets are known to monitor.

The U. S. jet did not answer the signals as far as is known.

Thus, Air Force sources reasoned, the Soviets must have been aware it was not a deliberate violation of East German air space.

The incident was described by U. S. sources as serious but not as provocative, from the standpoint of East-West relations as the Soviet shooting of a U. S. RB47 reconnaissance plane over the Barents Sea in 1960.

High-Level Meeting Urged as Panama Talks Collapse

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations aimed at a peaceful solution of the U.S.-Panama dispute have collapsed and Panama—charging aggression — has called for an emergency meeting of hemisphere foreign ministers.

Miguel Moreno, Panama's ambassador to the Organization of American States, delivered a note from his government which included the request and the renewed charge of aggression to the OAS secretary general, Jose A. Mora, Wednesday night.

AGREEMENT REQUIRED

Agreement by 14 of the 21 American nations would be required to call such a meeting as Panama requested. There have been broad indications that the United States would not oppose it in the present case.

If agreement by two-thirds of the member nations is achieved normal procedures call for convening the OAS organ of consultation — actually the OAS council—with power to act until the foreign ministers can get together.

The procedure is set up for dealing with a problem which a member nation contends is a threat to the peace of the hemisphere.

"We have searched for a dignified solution to the controversy but unfortunately and in spite of the good offices of the Inter-American Peace Committee and our willingness we have achieved no success," Moreno said.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Organization of American States (OAS) announced today its council will meet tomorrow to hear Panama's charge of aggression against the United States in the Canal dispute.

The note included a Jan. 9 note by Panama Foreign Minister Galileo Solis in which he said "the Republic of Panama has been the victim of an unprovoked armed attack against its territory and civil population made by the armed forces of the United States of America stationed in the Canal Zone."

President Johnson has met this accusation with a declaration that U.S. troops, faced by sniper fire and mob action, repelled aggression rather than committed it.

Riots in the Canal Zone led to a rupture in U.S.-Panama relations. The Inter-American Peace Committee, an arm of the OAS, has been trying to mediate the dispute. This effort ended in failure Wednesday.

Shortly before the breakdown, Johnson conferred with Democratic and Republican congressional leaders. Moreno held up on delivering the note while this session was under way.

Harder Wallop in U.S. Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States disclosed today development of nuclear bombs and intercontinental missiles of greatly increased wallop during 1963 — and reported it can produce even more powerful models in the future.

In a report of unprecedented frankness in the nuclear weaponry field the government disclosed it has:

1. Enhanced its abilities to defend the United States and its allies against possible nuclear attack and to penetrate enemy defenses against U.S. missiles and bombs.

2. Found ways of greatly reducing the radioactive fallout from nuclear weapons—that is, ways of making so-called cleaner bombs and warheads.

The developments were unveiled by the Atomic Energy Commission in its annual report to Congress.

★ ★ ★

In the nonmilitary field, the AEC said five additional civilian nuclear power plants were completed last year.

GENERATING CAPACITY

This brought the generating capacity of the nation's atom-powered stations to more than a billion watts — enough electrical power to supply the domestic needs of about 1½ million people.

On the weapons front, there were these highlights:

1. "The year 1963 was notable," the AEC said, "for the attainment of substantial increases in the yield of the warhead associated with the Polaris Minuteman and the Titan systems."

★ ★ ★

That is, new explosive wallop was built into those key missiles without increasing the size of the warheads.

EXPLOSIVE YIELD

This was accomplished by perfecting means to tap greater explosive yield out of a given amount of nuclear explosive.

2. Aside from such improved "yield to weight ratios," ways were found to provide additional room and weight-allowance in such missiles for decoy missiles to fool an enemy.

Also, greater provision for devices to increase the "invulnerability" of the nuclear warheads themselves.

★ ★ ★

The latter presumably would include heavier shielding against radiation from nuclear-tipped antimissile missiles designed to detonate an oncoming missile prematurely.

★ ★ ★

It also might include devices for jamming an enemy's search-radars.

3. The Pacific tests in 1962 included a previously undisclosed test of an atomic antisubmarine rocket weapons system called "ASROC."

to the secretary of labor, who could then issue an order imposing higher overtime pay scales if this was the committee's recommendation, supported by hearing evidence, and such a move would take account of "all costs and other relevant factors."

Johnson believes that, in industries where overtime work is common, higher overtime pay might encourage employers to hire more workers rather than assign their present force to work overtime.

In manufacturing industries, some 35 million hours of overtime were worked last year—the equivalent of 919,000 full time jobs.

The announcement said tracking data received at stations in Johannesburg, South Africa, and Woomera, Australia, indicated the space craft was performing normally and was headed in the proper direction toward the moon.

Radio communication difficulty delayed receipt of this information at Cape Kennedy for nearly 30 minutes and for a while observers at the Cape felt that perhaps the Agena second stage had not fired properly.

The 22-foot upper stage settled into a 17,500 m.p.h. "parking" orbit 115 miles above the earth about eight minutes after launching.

After coasting through space for about 20 minutes, the Agena reached a desired point over Western Africa where its engine reignited for a brief burst to accelerate the spacecraft to the required 24,500 m.p.h.

Federal, State, Local

To Eye Joint Crime Attack

A new proposal for a joint attack on organized crime by federal, state and local authorities will be up for discussion at a Feb. 4 meeting in Lansing called by State Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley.

Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said yesterday that he has been invited to the meeting of law enforcement officials from throughout the state.

Taylor, who said he will attend the meeting, backed Kelley's proposal wholeheartedly.

★ ★ ★

"Federal, state and local law enforcement officials should cooperate 100 per cent to eliminate organized crime and any other crime," Taylor said.

TASK FORCE

Kelley has proposed "some type of task force with persons from each of the areas working together on a permanent basis," Taylor said.

This was an idea Kelley wants to explore at the meeting "with the purpose of increasing coordination between federal, state and local law enforcement authorities," according to Taylor.

Public attention has been focused on concern over organized crime for the past several months, mostly as a result of hearings before a U.S. Senate committee investigating operations of a national crime syndicate called "Cosa Nostra."

★ ★ ★

Taylor repeated earlier statements that he knows of no organized crime operating in Oakland County.

ONLY INSTANCE

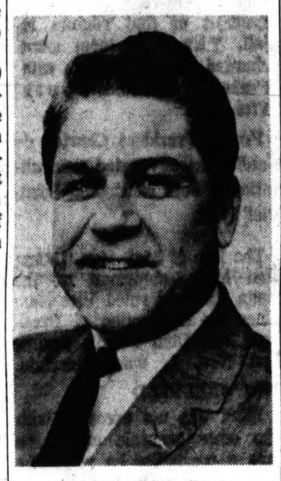

He said gambling at the Steren Assembly Club in Madison Heights, which police raided Oct. 11, was the only instance of it and that is no longer in operation.

Two of the 45 arrested in the raid were identified by police as members of "Cosa Nostra."

The prosecutor cited charges against four Pontiac men in October on charges of conspiracy to violate state gaming laws as an example of coordination between federal, state and local authorities.

★ ★ ★

The four were among eight charged earlier with failing to pay federal wagering taxes after a raid by federal, state and local agents on what authorities termed a $1.5-million bookie operation.

JACK F. PRASIL

Competes for City Post in District 6

The owner and manager of a Pontiac dry cleaning establishment, Jack F. Prasil, has filed a nominating petition to run for the District 6 City Commission seat.

Prasil, 44, of 29 N. Anderson owns Jax Dry Cleaners, 896 Joslyn.

He said he had decided to be a candidate for city commission "because I feel the public has been forgotten during the last two years.

"If nominated and elected, I would dedicate myself to working for the people of Pontiac. They would be my boss."

NEWCOMER

Prasil, a newcomer to political circles, has never before been a City Commission candidate. He is the second candidate to file to run against incumbent Dick M. Kirby, who hasn't yet filed.

If Kirby files for reelection, a primary would be needed in District 6.

Prasil is married and a native of Pontiac. He attended Pontiac Public Schools and is a graduate of KD Flying School. He holds a private pilot's license.

After graduating from high school, Prasil worked at GMC Truck & Coach Division from 1939 to 1945 as a priority analysis clerk.

SERVICE HITCH

He was in the U. S. Air Force for two years and then returned to open his own dry cleaning establishment which he operated until 1951.

Prasil then spent five years as plant manager for Huron Cleaners before reopening his present establishment in 1956.

He said he had encouraged several potential nominees to "get out among the people to discuss national issues" but had no personal favorite for the nomination.

He disagreed with Goldwater's criticism of U.S. missiles as undependable. "I don't know what he had in mind," Eisenhower said. "I am confident we have just as good missiles as there are in the world."

Fishy Driver Angles for Dismissal of Case

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Bert Lester Brown, 62, had the right answer Wednesday when he appeared on a charge of driving the wrong way on a one-way street.

"I guess I was thinking about going fishing," Brown told Municipal Court Judge Harry B. Grund.

"Case dismissed," said Grund, an ardent angler.

The Liberty Party, organized in 1840 to combat slavery, merged with the Free Soil Party in 1848.

Charm Nets Win in TV Political Debates

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — A modern-day Hamlet, faced with embarrassing challenges for television debates from his political opponent, might well soliloquize:

To debate, or not to debate:
That is the question:
Whether 'tis nobler on airwaves to suffer
The slings and arrows of an outrageous rival,
Or to take aim against him in a sea of newsprint
And by opposing, end him?

Certainly, any smart politician should think twice before subjecting himself to such a contest before the merciless eye on a TV camera.

The voter who reads a candidate's position in newspapers, or hears him on radio is forced to think about the issues. On television, the charm-school approach has a habit of getting in the way of facts and figures.

Unlike high school debating contests, points are more apt to be awarded for wit and winsomeness than for wisdom or logic.

New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller who declined to debate with GOP gubernatorial rival Leonard Hall in 1958, is now needling his GOP presidential opponent, Barry Goldwater, to a series of debates.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

SAME ARGUMENT

In refusing, Goldwater is using essentially the same argument that Rocky did six years ago: that Republicans should debate Democrats, not each other.

Most political analysts agree that the famed Kennedy-Nixon debates in 1960 turned the tide in favor of the less well-known Democratic presidential candidate, John F. Kennedy.

It is also the general consensus that except for the first one, when Richard M. Nixon was still suffering the effects of a hospital bout with an infected knee, Nixon won the debates on points.

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately for the Republicans, most viewers were uninterested in such technicalities. On television, they suddenly discovered a fresh new personality, brimming with wit, grace, and a remarkable memory for statistical data.

GOLDEN BOY

Nixon's heavy jowls had five o'clock shadow on TV, even when he shaved five minutes beforehand. Kennedy came through like golden boy.

JFK's performance was all the more impressive because politicians who knew of Nixon's prowess as a college debater thought he would "make mincemeat" of his less experienced rival.

Kennedy himself later conceded that the debates had put him over the top. Having challenged his opponent to the TV matches, he repeatedly said he would offer the same opportunity to the GOP standard-bearer in his 1964 reelection contest.

★ ★ ★

His successor is, of course, freed from that agreement, and it is a safe bet that President Lyndon B. Johnson will decline to debate the Republican presidential nominee.

BAD DECISION

Frankly, LBJ would be ill-advised to offer such an inviting showase to a rival, no matter how much Amerians would relish the debates.

As president he can appear on television about as often as he likes, simply by opening his press conferences to TV, making public appearances, and delivering "nonpartisan" addresses at dedications and the like.

No "out" can hope to match the "exposure" of a man who occupies the White House. The powers of the office are so great in this space-age that about the only way an available president can lose a bid for reelection is to defeat himself by his own acts or conduct.

LBJ is shrewd enough to know that he is not at his best in debates. He learned that when he permitted the youthful senator from Massachusetts to appear with him on television before his own Texas delegation at the '60 convention.

Although Johnson's was the voice of experience, Kennedy stole the show with his flashing Irish wit.

It will be interesting to see whether ex-astronaut John Glenn challenges aging Sen. Stephen Young to TV debates in Ohio.

Should the incumbent senator be foolish enough to accept, he could discuss governmental issues from a vantage point of 14 years in Congress, but televiewers would predictably be more entranced by the fresh-scrubbed charm and glamour of a young man who had viewed the world from outer space.

Young would probably come off second best.

State Firm Aids Space Probe

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Ann Arbor technicians helped send rockets aloft Tuesday night in the international Year of the Quiet Sun program to study temperatures and winds in the upper atmosphere.

Three Nike Cajun grenade rockets fired simultaneously from Wallops Island, Va., Fort Churchill, Manitoba, and Ascension Island in the South Atlantic were powered by "grenades" designed and built by Superior Engineering Co. of Ann Arbor.

A Rocket 609, or Sparrow - Bee fired one hour earlier from Wallops Island carried an instrument package designed at the University of Michigan's Space-Physics Laboratory.

The Nike Cajun flights brought to 18 the number of consecutive payloads of the Superior Co.

NASA CONTRACT

The firm has been under contract to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration since January, 1962 and has an overall record of 28 successful firings in 30 attempts. The firm has not had a rocket failure since November, 1962.

Crucial Confab on Districting

State Commission Is on Eve of Deadline

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Apportionment Commission will hold a crucial meeting tonight, on the eve of its deadline for formulating new boundary lines for the state's legislative districts.

If the bipartisan commission fails to agree by Friday, the redistricting will be turned over to the Michigan Supreme Court for a decision.

Wilber Brucker, cochairman of the eight - member commission, told The Associated Press Tuesday night that he fears no agreement can be worked out before the deadline.

Brucker, onetime Republican governor, said he so advised Gov. George W. Romney.

NEW DISTRICTS

The commission is charged under the new State Constitution with drawing up new Senate districts by using a formula which gives 80 per cent weight to population and 20 per cent to land mass. House reapportionment is to be figured almost entirely on population.

The 80 - 20 formula is being challenged in the courts. August Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL - CIO, has asked three federal judges at Port Huron to void the formula on grounds it is unfair to city voters.

The judges herd two days of testimony this week and took Scholle's suit under advisement Tuesday.

County 3rd in Buying of U.S. Bonds

Thrifty Oakland County residents last year purchased $11,749,481 worth of U.S. savings bonds, making the county third largest in sales volume in Michigan.

Director of bond sales in the state, Delmar V. Cote, 3135 Alco, Waterford Township, said 1963 sales were up 17 per cent from the previous year.

"We attribute the increase to a step-up in payroll savings plans, particularly in the General Motors plants in Pontiac."

★ ★ ★

Cote said much of the stimulus has come from GM President John Gordon, who heads a national bond promotion committee for the government.

85 PER CENT

An estimated 85 per cent of all savings bonds sold in Oakland County are purchased through employe payroll plans, with the rest sold at financial institutions and schools.

Poll of Ohio Dem Chiefs Has Glenn Leading Young

JOHN H. GLENN JR.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. was running ahead today in a preference poll of Ohio county Democratic chairmen conducted by the Associated Press.

★ ★ ★

Glenn, the first American to orbit the earth, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator in the May 5 primary against the incumbent senator, Stephen M. Young.

Those who replied to the poll showed a strong sentimental attachment to Young, but also indicated a preference for Glenn from the standpoint of practical politics.

POLLED CHAIRMEN

The AP polled all 88 county chairmen and got 44 replies. Given their choice, many asked not to be identified.

Two principal questions were asked:

At this time, whom do you favor for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator, Stephen Young or John Glenn?

The replies: Glenn 27; Young 16; undecided 1.

★ ★ ★

Assuming Robert Taft Jr. is the Republican nominee, which Democratic candidate would make the better race against him?

The replies: Glenn 31; Young 4; undecided 9.

FOR WINNER

"Whom do I favor? Young for devotion. Glenn for a winner."

That comment from one chairman seemed to sum up the privately expressed views of those chairmen who welcomed the entry into politics of Glenn.

Glenn entered the race 10 days ago.

★ ★ ★

The ages of Glenn and Young appear to figure large in the attitude of the party leaders who could help swing the party primary either way. Young is 74 and Glenn is 42.

Taft, Ohio's GOP congressman-at-large, is 47.

METROPOLITAN AREAS

Four chairmen in Ohio's eight metropolitan areas said they favor Young and four expressed a preference for Glenn.

Most said it is too early to form a solid judgment as to which candidate would fare better against Taft.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Efforts to provide a mile of public beaches in the Indiana dunes area were announced Wednesday by Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind.

Despite Ward Support Henry Resigns Post

With a final swipe at his critics, MILTON R. HENRY has resigned from the City Commission as the representative of District 1.

He felt his time was too important to spend it on petty politics and receiving abuse.

★ ★ ★

The fact that he was placed in office for three terms indicates he had strong support in his own district. HENRY gave primary consideration to the residents of his district, and they returned him to office.

The Pontiac Press disagreed with Henry on numerous occasions. Frequently we felt he confused "abuse" with "disagreement."

★ ★ ★

We will continue to disagree with what we feel is wrong, and praise what we feel is right.

Nation Must Renew Respect for the 'Badge'

In a current message to all law enforcing officials, J. EDGAR HOOVER, Director of the FBI says:

"Unless we witness a radical change in the behavior patterns, 1964 will bring another sharp rise in crime. Basically, the lone defender between the public and criminal violence is the law enforcement officer. The question which every public-spirited citizen should resolve is 'Am I doing my part?'

★ ★ ★

"Obviously, an alarming number are overtly aligning themselves with violators against law enforcement officers. This is above the large segment which stands by with indifference and apathy. It is most disheartening to note the increasing abuse inflicted on officers during the arrest of three individuals in a Midwest city. Before the arresting officers could move the violators from the scene, persons attacked the police and attempted to free those under arrest. Four officers were injured, and a police car damaged by thrown bricks. In an Eastern city, a gang of howling youths chased a mother into her home, ransacked the dwelling, and demolished most of the household furnishings. When police arrived the gang, joined by nearly 100 other young thugs, assaulted the officers with bricks and stones. In another metropolitan area, a police executive reported that one of every four officers of the 5,000-man police department was attacked, injured, or 'roughed up' performing his duties.

★ ★ ★

"These contemptible incidents are shocking indictments of society. They are a disgrace to people who live under a government of law. A noted columnist stated: 'the life of an officer is neither easy nor terribly remunerative, and one thing he shouldn't have to put up with is violence at the hands of mobs for the sin of doing his duty.'

★ ★ ★

"A refreshing contrast is the action of two college boys who came to the assistance of a police officer being assaulted while atempting to effect an arrest. Their action saved the officier from serious harm. Also there is encouraging evidence that authorities are becoming 'fed up' with unprovoked assaults on officers. One state enacted a law making an assault on a police officer a felony punishable with a maximum of 5 years' imprisonment and/or a $2,000 fine. Two judges alarmed over the increase called for quicker trials and stiffer sentences.

"Let us make certain that respect for the badge is restored so that officers may discharge their duties without being set upon by vicious mobs."

Mr. Hoover, this newspaper stands with you 100% in everything you say here — and have said before.

THE latest rather conclusive report that smoking cigarettes is a serious health hazard will doubtless cause some 5 per cent of smokers to smoke two or three fewer per day than usual for upwards of two weeks.

IF you have been dropping heavy objects on your toes, perhaps you should follow this advice given in an article on "Circulation in Feet": "Don't drop heavy objects on the toes."

LBJ Rambles in News Talks

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—The most unpredictable event in Washington is a President Johnson news conference. He seems to call conferences on impulse, with scant advance notice.

MARLOW

Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy rambled a bit, with halts, starts, and some broken sentences. So does Johnson, with some additional rambling of a different kind which he must feel serves a purpose of its own.

Where the other two men pretty much limited their answers to a specific question asked, Johnson has a tendency to spread out, hopping from one subject to another while replying to a single question.

In effect, it turns a news conference into a platform for his ideas.

But, while the long statements permit him to give out more information, or opinions, on more subjects than reporters might have thought to ask him about, it also reduces the time they have for asking questions they might want answers to.

Eisenhower and Kennedy usually handled an average of 25 to 30 questions. The most questions Johnson has answered were 18 at one conference; 9 at another; 17 at another; 14 at another. Then there was a memorable meeting with the press when, after making a statement, he answered only one question.

★ ★ ★

The accuracy of calling that particulat meeting with the press a news conference is questionable. Johnson called the reporters together suddenly last Thursday for one reason—or so it seemed—and that was to give information on Panama.

ONE NEWSMAN ASKED

When he finished, one newsman asked: "How do you think things are going on the Hill (meaning with Congress)?" That gave Johnson two opportunities to talk about what Congress was doing with his programs, and to talk about his relations with his former Senate aide, Robert G. (Bobby) Baker.

This was Johnson's first public comment on the Baker case. He has declined to say anything further. It is debatable whether he was wise to comment at all. He has opened the door to be quizzed further as the committee investigation goes on.

Eisenhower and Kennedy usually let it be known days ahead when they would meet newsmen. The place was always known beforehand. This enabled all newspaper men and women with White House credentials to be present and try to question the President.

★ ★ ★

Johnson's conferences have been called on such short notice, right in the White House or at his ranch, that the only newspaper people able to be present usually have been those regularly assigned to cover the President.

LIKE MOB SCENES

This isn't by itself necessarily bad, either. Some of the Eisenhower and Kennedy conferences looked like mob scenes. Some of them, because of the dull nature and pettiness of the questions, were boring.

★ ★ ★

Johnson, neither as witty nor as much at ease as Kennedy, has not yet attempted what Kennedy did as routine for almost three years: meet the press at a question and answer session televised live.

'Now That Bobby Kennedy Has Left, Where Were We?'

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Seems Headed for Inflation

WASHINGTON — Is inflation on the way, and is the purchasing power of the dollar headed for a further downward movement?

LAWRENCE

An announcement just made by the U.S. Department of Labor throws some light on the subject. It states officially that higher prices for food and housing raised the nation's living costs in December to a new record.

This means it takes $10.76 to buy the same goods and services that $10 could buy in the period between 1957 and 1959. The increase in the consumer price level as compared with the previous December was the largest in five years.

The increases in prices did not affect all things, but the total impact on the cost-of-living index was noticeable.

Oddly enough, "take-home pay" of factory workers, due to longer work weeks and higher rates of pay, resulted in a larger amount of individual compensation, so that many citizens were able to offset the rise in the cost of living.

★ ★ ★

The main significance of the Department of Labor's announcement is that, despite all the claims that inflation is a thing of the past and that the coming tax cut will not be inflationary, there are evidences that an inflationary trend has already set in and will, if anything, be intensified by the forthcoming tax cut.

REAL EFFECT

Secretary of the Treasury S. Douglas Dillon, on a radio and television program, declared that the real effect of the forthcoming tax cut will not be felt in 1964, but in 1965.

He said the former has been erroneously assumed because the bulk of "the rate reductions take place this year." He added:

"It takes quite a bit of time for these rate reductions to work through the economy and for people to buy more, and therefore create more demand and therefore have orders to expand factories and expand production and so forth.

★ ★ ★

"The full stimulus from this tax cut will be taking effect next year, not this year. And next year is the time when expenditures are being held down."

Mr. Dillon called attention to the fact that the tax bill might take effect on March 1, and he mentioned that the increase in income a citizen may retain thereafter, due to a reduction in the withholding rates, will add to the total amount available to the economy. He estimates the increase at $8 billion this year.

So it is evident that the effect of the delay in the date for the enactment of a tax bill will be offset by the larger amount of money per week the taxpayer, after March 1, will retain out of his income.

When Mr. Dillon was asked how all this could keep prices down or labor-union demands from being pressed, he declared that the President was trying to keep in touch with the wage-and-price problem.

Another question asked of Mr. Dillon was whether, if both management and labor did increase prices and wages, this wouldn't practically compel the Federal Reserve System to increase its interest rates. He replied:

"If there is an inflationary push, they (the Federal Reserve Board) would naturally take some action, and I think that would be expected, but we don't expect there will be need for that."

MORE INCREASES

But the additional demand for goods as a result of the increase in consumer purchasing power growing out of tax reduction may be expected to bring more price increases and wage rises.

Bob Considine Says:

Fisher Has Legal Edge, but Possession Is Key

NEW YORK — Any man who falls for a babe, dumps his wife and two children and marries up with the babe, loses her to another bloke, then holds her up for hundreds of thousands of dollars, can't be all bad.

CONSIDINE

At least that's Eddie Fisher's self-appraisal. He is highly offended that the new guy, Burton, should dare state that he, Eddie, is making a pitch for $750,000 tax free and $250,000 to play around with over the next 10 years, in exchange for giving Liz's Mexican divorce a semblance of legality.

Burton's a fine one to lecture him on moral ethics and integrity, Eddie snorted as he took off for Innsbruck to assume his dedicated duties as nonplaying captain of the American morals team at the Winter Olympics.

As these two soiled knights in amour tilted at 30 paces, using lawyers as seconds, somewhere out there in No Man's Land — a most unlikely place for her, come to think of it — trembled the object of their affection and disaffection, respectively.

Who would win her hand? Or to put it another way, who would win the key to her bank vault?

LEGAL EDGE

Eddie has the legal edge it would appear, as we poke the evidence with a 10-foot pole.

He made a blood pact with his wife to help her spend the fortune she'll make for lousing up the manufacture and finally the production of "Cleopatra."

All red - blooded American sportsmen must therefore be on his side if this image of the ideal American girl seeks to keep most of it herself.

On the other hand, possession is nine-tenths of the law, and Dickie has possession. There hasn't been much doubt about that for a long time.

FOREVER DISGRACED

If Joe Doakes, the plumber, fluttered across a state line with Maggie Schlocemshlager, the waitress, they'd be clobbered by the righteous right hand of the law and forever know disgrace.

But the same laws do not seem to apply for better-known persons.

There is also the matter of what children of a more impressionable age are learning from his flamboyant conduct, and what people overseas — people we are trying to impress with our might and dignity — must be saying about us.

The only thing sure about this case is that the principals couldn't care less.

'Will America Continue to Bear French Affront?'

Many World War II veterans admired Gen. Charles de Gaulle as a soldier but since he became President of France, I can't understand his motives regarding his policies toward us. Now his biggest blow is recognizing Red China.

Teen-Ager Writes About Cigarettes

It's an eyesore to see boys in their early teens smoking, and especially in between classes at school. I can hardly stand to sit opposite them because of the smell of smoke.

Our nearby drug and grocery stores sell cigarettes to anyone who has the money and I think something should be done about this.

'Press Shouldn't Print Suspects' Names'

While the family and neighbors of Nancy Jones mourn and the public gasps in horror at the seemingly senseless killing of a 14-year-old girl, a suspect's picture is splashed all over the front pages. This killing is a tragedy, but I feel it's a terrible injustice to smear the name of Daniel Lovaas, age 15, and to publish his picture. It is quite possible that this boy is not guilty. Nevertheless, his reputation is ruined and his family suffers because of the "freedom of the press."

★ ★ ★

His name and the name of all suspects attached to killings, should be withheld from the papers for the sake of the right that by law one is "innocent until proven guilty."
Rochester — Mrs. Virginia Hunt

(Editor's Note: First, may we timidly suggest a picture three inches by three inches is hardly "splashed all over the front page."

When we start to suppress news, our democracy is on the way out. You wish this story "left out," but the next 1,000 people have a thousand different stories. Who will decide? You? Us? Things aren't perfect under any system. Ours merely happens to be the best in recorded history.

And being detained for a crime you didn't commit has never blighted the life of a single American since the days of Chief Pontiac. Few people are that bigoted.)

Firemen Commended for Job Well Done

The Pontiac Fire Department performed a very capable, efficient job in fighting the recent fire at Orchard Court apartments. If it hadn't been for their quick response the damage would have been much greater.

Fan of The Beatles Offers Defense

Thomas F. Drury advised readers, "When The Beatles appear, reduce your volume, plug your ears, and close your eyes." If Mr. Drury thinks he can persuade the younger generation to commit such an outrageous act, he's mistaken.

★ ★ ★

Maybe some people never had an idol or have never been moved by music, so they couldn't know what The Beatles mean to their fans. What other group has performed before royalty, written its own million-seller songs, had an advance order of 1-million copies for a record 3 weeks before it was released, had 4,000 fans stand all night in pouring rain just to get tickets for an appearance, and caused mass hysteria wherever they went?

★ ★ ★

Perhaps Mr. Drury would like it better if more teen-agers listened to Rusty Warren and her vulgar array of jokes and songs. If there are any recordings to be criticized, it seems that these are the kind. At least The Beatles don't sing about sex!

'Why Can't Students Walk on Sidewalks?'

It's too bad parents fail to teach their children the value of other's property. We have children down our street from Owen and Lincoln and Pontiac Northern. They either jump our fence, walk over the lawn or on the flowers. They just can't walk on the sidewalk!

Some may think I'm an old crank but we work hard in our yard and hate to see it destroyed by children.

Disgusted

'Chairman Undignified at Board Meeting'

I was dismayed at the lack of dignity with which Supervisor Cy Miller conducted an Avon Township Board meeting. Chairman Miller resorted to sarcasm and ridicule whenever others disagreed with him, particularly to Trustee Campbell. The other members conducted themselves with decorum. I am skeptical of opinions expressed by such a chairman. Miller failed to dazzle this voter who prefers to remain anonymous. — Mrs. S.

Writes About 'First Freedom March'

We would not have racial problems in Michigan if people understood the truth. The first freedom march started in the North and the soldiers were white. The object was a rebirth of freedom and their standard: "All men are born equal."

★ ★ ★

The human race is the crowning act of God's creation and the lowest mortal is endowed with the possibility of asserting his dignity and arising to the place where his life is directed by God Himself.

Human life cannot be held as chatel or sold as merchandise. That first freedom march was a bloody and heartbreaking war, but the Negro people owe their freedom to the Northern white soldiers. If they hold hatred in their hearts they are ungrateful, for many Northern boys gave their lives. They should show appreciation by being good citizens. Michigan has many fine Negro citizens and they are accepted by local people.

Negroes are not in danger in the North and any man who carries a knife is a potential killer. This hinders him from being accepted, not because of his color but of what is in his heart.

Michigan people are generous and kind but expect people to have courage and faith enough to go about unafraid and unarmed. We are proud of the fine Negro citizens who have taken their places as local citizens.

Advice Dieters Don't Need: Cut Off That Ugly Fat Head

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks a man on a diet gets tired of hearing:

"Gee, George, have you been putting on more weight lately?"

"I don't see why you make such a fuss about losing weight. All it takes is a little strength — the strength to push yourself away from the table."

BOYLE

"Why bother to take it off? As soon as you quit starving yourself, it comes right back on."

"If George ever did some real work, he wouldn't have all that blubber on him in the first place."

★ ★ ★

"You should be like me. No matter how much I stuff myself, I never seem to gain an ounce."

DOESN'T SHOW

"Maybe you have lost five pounds, George. All I can say is that it still doesn't show."

"I read in a medical journal that only two out of every 100 people who diet themselves slim stay that way—so it looks like your're up against pretty hopeless odds.

"If you didn't have some hidden frustration, you probably wouldn't have gotten so fat to begin with. Maybe food is your consolation for some childhood sorrow."

"George has the weirdest dreams lately. Last night, for example, he dreamed he was taking a bath in a tub full of mashed potatoes and coconut custard pudding."

RIGHT PERSPECTIVE

"Why fight it, George? After all, a hippopotamus has just as much fun out of a life as a gazelle. Maybe more."

"I think I'll order the peach parfait for dessert. What'll you have, dear—another radish or a nice carrot?"

★ ★ ★

"At your age, the more weight you lose the more wrinkles you get in your face."

"You mean your doctor only lets you have 1,200 calories a day? My doctor lets me have 1,800 on my diet—and the pounds are simply melting off."

DOING FINE

"You're doing fine, George. If you keep on losing an ounce a day, you'll be down to normal weight in about a year and a half—give or take a month."

Locates Water Leak as Road Collapses

CASPER, Wyo. (AP)—Jack Denny, a city public utilities inspector who checked out a water main leak Wednesday, guessed the location pretty accurately.

He parked his truck and climbed out to look around just as the pavement collapsed. It took two hoist trucks to lift his truck out.

Trial Starts for 'Ivan the Ripper'

MOSCOW (UPI) — "Ivan the Ripper" and his pretty girlfriend have gone on trial in a Moscow court for the axe murder of five persons, authoritative sources said today.

The girl, a former ballet dancer named Alvetina Dimitrieva who allegedly wiped the blood from the defendant's death weapon, was charged with being an accomplice.

The accused killer, Vladimir Ionesyan, 27, and his girlfriend went on trial in Moscow's Supreme Court yesterday, the sources said.

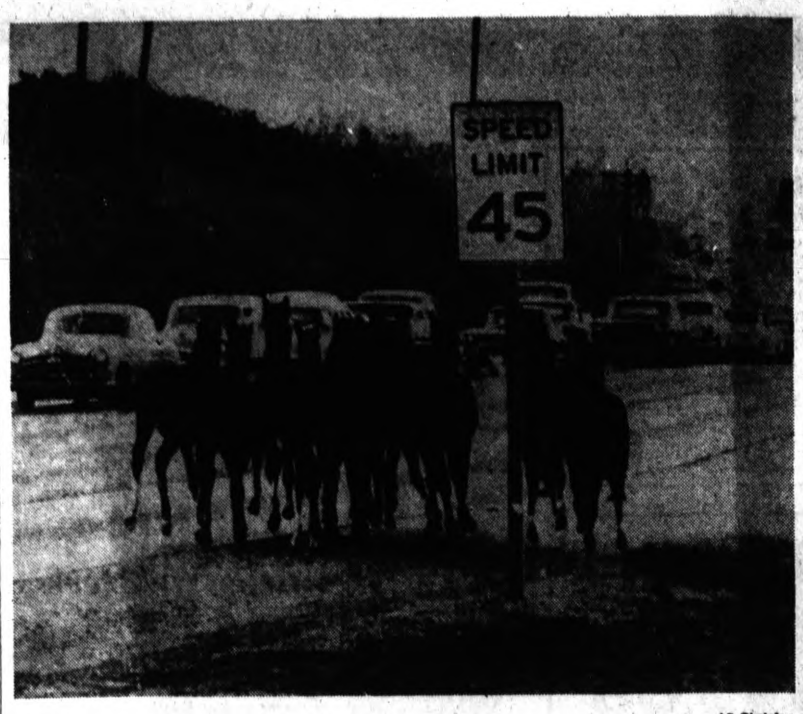

★ ★ ★

Ionesyan, nicknamed Ivan the Ripper after England's infamous "Jack the Ripper of the 19th Century," faces the death penalty. He has been charged with aggravated murder and the rape of a teen-age girl.

NOT ANNOUNCED

The beginning of the trial was not officially announced. The courtroom, which seats 200 persons, was open to the public by invitation only. Western newspapermen were barred.

(Russia's controlled press rarely reports crime news. The authorities claim they consider crime news trivial, and do not like to admit crime exists in a Communist country.)

TRAFFIC STOPPERS — Rush-hour motorists in St. Louis thought someone was horsing around when they met a herd of horses on one of the "mane" boulevards. Traffic was bad enough, but this was a horse of a different color. Some were afraid they would have to hoof it, but police managed to wrangle things out.

Two Voters Vanished

MOUNT STERLING, Ky. (AP) — Lost: two voters.

In the Democratic primary for governor, Edward T. Breathitt Jr. and A. B. Chandler each received 70 votes in the Howards Mill precinct.

In the general election, Breathitt and Republican Louis B. Nunn each received 69.

Some 200,000 Americans attempt suicide each year, with 25,000 to 35,000 succeeding, Dr. Louis I. Dublin, statistician, estimates.

Set Workshop for Speakers

For Proponents of Community College

The first of three speaker workshops for proponents of a community college will be held Saturday at 300 N. Woodward, Birmingham.

Slated to get under way at 10 a.m., the first workshop will be a training session for prospective speakers on the college question.

A second workshop is set for 8 p.m. Monday at 17600 W. Eight Mile, Southfield.

The third session will be 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 12, at Pierce Junior High School, 5145 Hatchery, Waterford Township.

The training workshops will feature a film "The Community College — Catalyst of a Community," which has been loaned the local Community College Citizens Committee (CCCC) by Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn.

Mrs. John May, chairman of the Speakers Bureau of CCCC, arranged the workshops to train speakers for PTA groups, clubs, unions, professional organizations and similar groups.

In addition to the community college film, participants will also learn how to operate an overhead projector, as well as the legal aspects and financial proposals behind the college.

New Design Needed for Mars Ship

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Discovery that Mars' atmosphere is even thinner than believed—forcing redesign of vehicles planned for landing on the planet's surface—was reported today by a space scientist.

The discovery is not expected to affect two Mariner spacecraft scheduled for launching next November—they are designed to fly past Mars with television cameras but not to land.

★ ★ ★

It could cause redesign of other Mariners to be launched in 1966. A spokesman for the U.S. Space Agency's jet propulsion laboratory said, "We are currently studying whether to attempt to land instruments with the 1966 craft."

The discovery was reported by a staff scientist of the laboratory, Dr. Lewis Kaplan, at a meeting of the American Meteorological Society.

TELESCOPE DISCOVERY

Studies with improved instruments on the 100-inch telescope of nearby Mt. Wilson Observatory showed that Mars' atmosphere is three to four times thinner than indicated by previous observations—equal to the earth's atmosphere at about 15 miles altitude.

★ ★ ★

Kaplan said engineers must either devise a parachute system that could function in the extremely thin atmosphere or allow more weight for retro rockets to slow the capsule's descent. Either system would subtract weight from the scientific payload planned for the capsule.

Kaplan said the low pressure and the presence of a large amount of carbon dioxide in Mars' atmosphere, also detected in the study, will affect aerodynamics and heat-shielding on the capsule as well as communications systems.

City Skills Bank to Probe Negro Job Potential

By ALLEN PHILLIPS

A massive effort to learn the employment market potential of Pontiac's Negro workers gets under way Tuesday with opening of a skills bank sponsored by the Pontiac Urban League.

Employable adults, from factory hands to professional people, will have the opportunity to "deposit" a record of their abilities with the skills bank.

It could put them on the road to a more important job at higher pay, believes Raleigh D. Hairston, job development director of the Pontiac Urban League.

He explained that the local effort is part of a national league program.

"We know there are Negroes in the community who have skills or job aptitudes which are not being fully used.

"Many of them are unaware of how or where to seek better employment.

"Our service will be to register these people, whether they are out of work or presently employed, by filing their background information and job experience.

"We're not going to act as an employment agency, but we could help put qualified persons in contact with local employers.

NATIONAL SETUP

"Or, using our national setup, they may be able to find better jobs in other cities or states."

Hairston explained that assembling the data will aid a number of local firms who have been unsuccessful in locating minority group members with certain skills.

State and federal agencies will be watching the survey to determine the need for more manpower training programs in Pontiac, Hairston added.

★ ★ ★

The registration, which continues until April 2, is intended also to throw light on local problems resulting from automation and low education or training.

★ ★ ★

"We're not asking questions about discrimination on the form," remarked Hairston. "We know it exists, that's why we are having this program."

He estimated there are 10,000 Negroes, or other minority racial group members in the city, who could register. This includes an estimated 800 unemployed, he said.

Hairston said the actual registration takes only a few minutes. Trained volunteers at each of six registration centers will assist applicants in filling out forms.

Registration locations and their hours are:

Antioch Baptist Church, 351 Prospect; Mark Twain School, 729 Linda Vista, and Newman A.M.E. Church, 233 Brush. They will be open 7:30 to 9 p. m. Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

Open the same hours on Wednesdays and Thursdays will be centers at Jefferson Junior High School, 600 Motor Way; New Bethel Baptist Church, 175 Branch, and Lakeside Community Building, 535 Branch.

In Bombay, there are only 663 women for every 1,000 men.

Siamese Twins Born; Die Within an Hour

Reds Open New Campaign to Woo East African Nations

By DENNIS NEELD

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)— The Communist bloc is making a determined new drive to win friends and influence people in East Africa.

At the same time the governments of Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika are playing down a threat of Communist subversion, partly for fear of frightening away foreign investors.

★ ★ ★

Kenya's leftist information minister, Achieng Oneko, said Wednesday that no evidence was uncovered connecting foreign interference with recent army mutinies in the three newly independent countries.

But Oneko said that plans for Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai to visit Kenya have been canceled. His visit to Tanganyika also was called off. Chou is on an African tour.

Western sources reported the Kenya government is worried that potential foreign investors may view the army mutinies as a serious setback to African stability.

Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika are eager to attract overseas capital.

It is believed that the three countries also are unwilling to offend the Communist bloc for fear of cutting off a potential source of aid. East Africa in recent months has been the scene of increasing Communist efforts to gain influence at the expense of the West.

A drive is being made on several fronts:

About 500 students from Kenya are attending schools in Communist countries. The figure for all of East Africa is probably more than three times that. When they return, they could play a major role in Communist plans for the area.

Communist countries are constantly rolling out the red carpet for politicians and union leaders from East Africa. Large sums of money also are known to have been paid by the Communists to certain prominent individuals.

★ ★ ★

The flow of Communist publications, banned by the British colonial government, is increasing. The Communists are also helping the Kenya government set up a news agency.

Communist broadcasts in English and Swahili, the prevailing native tongue, are on the increase. The Russians are building a powerful radio transmitter at Mogadishu, in nearby Somalia.

A number of Communist-front organizations have been attempting to penetrate pan-African organizations.

At Kenya's independence celebrations on Dec. 12, the Chinese delegates paid particular attention to Mau Mau fighters who had come out of the forests and who are complaining that the Kenya government is ignoring them.

★ ★ ★

The Communist drive in East Africa is not a concerted effort and rivalries between Moscow and Peking are apparent.

The Soviets, for example, made the most of reports that China's trade with white-ruled South Africa was increasing.

Generally, however, Chinese communism seems to have more appeal to Africans. It is felt that China's experience is more applicable to this backward continent, and the doctrine of violence is more attractive to the vast numbers of African unemployed.

Missionary Tells of Attack by Terrorizing Congolese

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (UPI) — "Irene was hit right in the face by an arrow. She fell on top of me, and they left us both for dead."

With these words, Miss Ruth Hege, an American missionary in the Congo, told yesterday how years of tending her jungle mission in Kwilu province ended in an attack by the half-naked, Communist-trained terrorists roaming the province.

Miss Hege, 48, of Wellington, Ohio, and Miss Irene Ferrel, 42, of Jerome, Idaho, both members of Baptist mid-missions, ran the mission station at Mangungu. They were there last Saturday morning when the terrorists attacked before dawn.

"Irene was hit right in the face by an arrow, over the nose, when we opened the door to the terrorists at two o'clock in the morning," she said. "I was hit in the arm by an arrow.

KILLED INSTANTLY

"Irene was killed instantly. I was struck down first and she fell on top of me, and they left us both for dead.

"The terrorists smashed up our home completely. I just lay there, not daring to move.

"Somehow, I managed to crawl to the garage after they had left me, and there friendly Christian villagers found me and brought me to the village to hide me from the Mulelist terrorists who were looking for me."

★ ★ ★

The terrorists are called "Mulelists," or "Jeunesse," after their leader, former Congo Education Minister Pierre Mulele, who was trained by the Communist Chinese.

KILL MISSIONARIES

The terrorists have sworn to kill all missionaries — but Miss Ferrel is the first white woman known to have been killed by them.

"I was carried on a bicycle to safety," Miss Hege went on. "But on the way there, we were intercepted by another gang of terrorists and taken back to the mission — where Irene still lay dead.

"They left me there along with a Congolese nurse until yesterday, when a U.N. helicopter came in and got me out."

Miss Hege arrived in Leopoldville on the helicopter last night and met a friend, Miss Susie Brucks, a Canadian missionary who thought Miss Hege was dead.

PROOF OF TERROR

Miss Brucks brought with her proof of the terror of the two women at Mangungu during the hours of attack.

She said she was at another mission when a runner came to her with a message — a frantically scribbled note from Miss Hege.

The note read:

"My coworker slipped away to higher planes. My heart is near breaking. The Jeunesse left us as dead, but I am alive. But God" — and these lines were heavily underlined "God, come and help us."

Before she was evacuated, Miss Hege buried Miss Ferrel at the mission.

OTHER MISSIONARIES

Miss Brucks of Vancouver, arrived here with two other American missionaries, Mrs. (first name unavailable) Haller and her daughter, Geneva of Detroit. They had operated the mission in Intshueme.

The runner who brought the pathetic note to Miss Brucks had told Miss Hege and Miss Ferrel the night before that the terrorists were coming closer.

"They had decided to leave," the runner told Miss Brucks. "They had distributed gifts and we all had a Bible prayer meeting with the two ladies. When the terrorists arrived, they beat up the student who kept night watch, and the others fled in terror.

"I found Miss Hege the next morning wounded by an arrow in her arm in the garage and alarmed the villagers. She scribbled this note for you."

Missile Age Requires Replacing Global Maps

TURNER AIR FORCE BASE, Ga., (AP) — Moving the Grand Bahama Island could be listed as one accomplishment for the men of the 1370th.

The shift was done on maps after the Atlantic Missile Range was surveyed by the 1370th Photo Mapping Wing of the Air Photographic and Charting Service.

★ ★ ★

This project, born of need to meet precise guidance requirements of missiles, sharpened considerably the accuracy of the Atlantic range by uncovering mapping errors.

They found Grand Bahama was six miles out of position on maps then in use; Cuba misplaced by sixth-tenths of a mile and other points erroneously located on maps.

MAJOR SURVEY

One major survey of the 1370th was charting of the North Atlantic to link accurately the North American and European continents. Covering 2,000 miles, it was accurate within 34 feet.

"It provides the basic geodetic link for our missile strategy," said Col. Kendall S. Young, commander of the 1370th.

From polar icecaps to desolate peaks in South America; from New Guinea jungles to barren Pacific atolls — the men of the 1370th measure the world, bit by bit.

Sometimes it's lonely.

"For five months I saw only one bird," said M. Sgt. Thomas Fenton telling of his experiences on Greenland's icecap. Ground crews of three men usually spend about three months at a station, living in tents.

Sometimes there's too much company.

"A whole tribe of natives, painted and armed with spears, bows and arrows, surrounded our three-man station on an island near New Guinea," Col. Hugh W. Bell said.

"They were obviously disturbed about something."

So were the three Air Force crewmen.

"To keep the tribesmen from exploding, the ground crew gave away nearly all their food," Bell said.

The natives usually are friendly. It is the elements, insects, snakes and other animals that usually bother the ground crewmen.

In Brazil, the snakes were a menace. In the South Pacific, it was the birds. A new project in Ethiopia has a proposed ground station on a 15,000-foot peak.

"Even breathing might be a problem," said M. Sgt. Donald B. Rider.

HELP OTHERS

Much of the 1370th's work is done to help other countries find out what they look like.

Aerial survey teams are working in Colombia, Panama, Costa Rica, Honduras, British Guiana, Nicaragua, Guatemala and New Guinea.

★ ★ ★

Projects have been completed in and around Brazil, the Hawaiian Islands, Alaska, the Aleutians, Iceland, Greenland, the Philippines, Greece, Spain, Italy and Norway.

The men of the 1370th still have plenty of work ahead. Only about 40 per cent of the globe has been mapped.

Apple Farmer for City Hall

WALKER (AP) — This southwestern Michigan community is looking for an apple farmer to keep an eye on things around city hall.

Walker bought a 15-acre apple orchard as the site of a proposed new city hall and officials want to continue cultivating apple trees on part of the land to make some additional money.

The previous owners grossed about $3,000 last season in apple sales.

Officials have contacted about 10 farmers, but so far all have declined the city hall job, citing problems in transporting equipment to the scene.

Bill Proposed to Probe State Cancer Quackery

LANSING (AP) — Legislation to control the activities of cancer quacks was proposed Wednesday by Rep. Lucille McCollough, D-Dearborn.

★ ★ ★

The measure would establish a cancer advisory council to the state health commissioner to investigate cancer quackery. Members would be five physicians, a dentist and three other persons, at least one an attorney.

Cigarette Units Out

MUSKEGON (AP) — Cigarette vending machines have been removed from the Muskegon County Courthouse by Controller Mark W. Potter at the suggestion of the county's judges. The judges noted that juveniles being referred to Probate Court had in possession cigarettes apparently obtained from machines in the building.

Cost of Living Slips

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit cost of living index slipped one tenth of 1 per cent in December, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported Wednesday. The December price index stood at 103.6 compared with 103.7 in November.

STUDENTS TAKE OVER—North Farmington High School student Phil Cooper got an idea yesterday of what it's like to be responsible for the operation of a township. Supervisor Curtis H. Hall turned over his gavel to the youth at the start of Farmington Township's first student government day. Clerk Floyd A. Cairns and Marlea Welton, the girl who took over his job, look on. At their mock board of trustees meeting, the students discussed noisy mufflers, allowing 18 year olds to vote and Sunday closing laws.

Hospital Unit Elects Officers

20 Directors Are Chosen

Facility to Be Built in Huron Valley Area

MILFORD — More than 80 members of the Huron Valley Community Hospital Association convened last night to elect 20 new directors.

They also heard progress reports on the proposed 100-bed facility and discussed plans for the next year. It was the group's second annual meeting.

The at-large directors include three incumbents, Dr. Norman Krieger and Rev. Lawrence Edwards of Milford and Edward Sharpe of Pontiac. All will serve two years.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Florence P. Rogers and Rev. Frank Williams, both of Milford, were elected on an at-large basis to one-year turns.

MILFORD INCUMBENTS

Representing Milford will be two incumbents, Don Good and Mrs. Georgia Watkins. Also continuing to serve on the board will be Thomas H. Collins and Mrs. Walter Eis of Highland Township and Mrs. Florence Harris and Police Chief Lee BeGole of Novi.

Edward Cheyz, White Lake Township supervisor, was returned to the board and joined by William Carls.

Mrs. Charles Taylor and Rodney McKusick of Commerce Township will begin their first terms.

★ ★ ★

Elected to represent Hartland Township in Livingston County were incumbent Norbert Kulsavage and Glee Cook.

TERM LENGTHS

The top vote-getter from each township will serve two years with the other director having a one-year term. Those elected for two years are Good, Collins, Cheyz, Kulsavage and Mrs. Harris.

Mrs. Taylor and McKusick were tied in the Commerce Township race. The length of their terms will be decided later.

Three of the 10 townships involved in the hospital project had unopposed candidates and will have a single representative.

★ ★ ★

They are Mrs. Myrtie Pettingill of Lyon, Mrs. Ila Wermuth of Rose and Clarence Luckhardt of Brighton, Livingston County.

NO NOMINATIONS

The other Livingston County township in the association, Green Oaks, had no nominations.

Including proxies, there were 91 ballots cast at the meeting at Johnson Elementary School.

The board will meet Feb. 11 to elect officers. Planned for the association's spring project is a presentation to the Greater Detroit Hospital Council.

★ ★ ★

There also will be a special campaign conducted by area clergymen.

The association is beginning its new year with pledges totaling $43,885 toward its $2 million goal.

VP to Take Over

College Head Resigns

AVON TOWNSHIP — Otis Gatewood, president of Michigan Christian College (MCC) since its beginning five years ago, has resigned.

Gatewood's official notice has been accepted by the school's board of directors and is effective immediately.

In his letter of resignation, Gatewood said, "I am a pioneer and have served MCC during her pioneering years. I believe I can now move on to other pioneering work without hindering the future growth of the college."

Vice President Lucien Palmer will take over administrative responsibility of the college until a new president is named.

★ ★ ★

'PLEASANT EXPERIENCE'

In his letter of resignation the former president thanked the board of directors for its "favors and kindnesses," and thanked the people of neighboring Rochester for making his stay a "very pleasant experience."

Commending Gatewood for his fine work, Board Chairman G. Wheeler Utley took note of the fact that Michigan Christian College is larger and in better financial condition than it has ever been before.

Present enrollment at the young institution is 189.

Acting President Palmer has also been with the college since it began.

★ ★ ★

He has served as academic dean and was recently promoted to the position of vice president.

'GREAT CONFIDENCE'

In announcing Palmer's appointment, Utley said the board "has great confidence in Vice President Palmer."

He said Palmer has "a thorough knowledge of all phases of the school's operations and we can assure all concerned that the college has every reason to believe that the future is bright."

Oakland County's only two-year college, the school is non-denominational. It was founded by a group of laymen and ministers of the Churches of Christ.

★ ★ ★

Based on percentage, Michigan Christian College has more foreign students in attendance than any other Michigan College. It is located two miles southwest of Rochester.

★ ★

School Board Plans Project

Leonard Elementary Set for Experiment

LEONARD—Starting Monday, the Oxford Area Community School Board is going to experiment. It has picked Leonard Elementary School as the trial subject.

The some 90 students in the school, all in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, are going to have specialists teaching them each subject, instead of one teacher instructing them in all classes.

Called the "platoon" system, the method has been used in few area schools, according to Oxford Schools Supt. Roger Oberg.

★ ★ ★

"A program of this type, on this scale, is new to the Oxford district," Oberg said. "It was tried and found successful in sixth grade, but was discontinued due to the lack of specialists."

OK'D PROGRAM

The school board approved the program at Tuesday's meeting.

★ ★ ★

"We feel that we can gain better continuity as the children go through the grades," Oberg said. "We also think the subjects can be better taught in this method."

Principal of Leonard Elementary is Harold Titus.

Ground Breaking Set for Novi Sewer

Ground-breaking ceremonies for a $1.5-million sanitary interceptor sewer are scheduled for Wednesday in Novi by the County Board of Public Works.

Known as the Huron-Rouge Interceptor, it will accommodate new development on 16 acres in southeast Novi and Novi Township.

Initially, the sewer will be able to serve 10,000 customers, County Public Works Director R. J. Alexander said.

★ ★ ★

The project is slated for completion in September. It will replace a few existing septic tanks in the area by carrying sewage into Detroit for treatment.

NOT ADEQUATE

Septic tanks aren't adequate to serve the expected increase in population, said Alexander.

The sewer construction is being financed entirely through connection charges, he added.

Subdivision developers are expected to build internal sewer systems to tap into the interceptor.

According to Alexander, the interceptor can be extended later on to serve at least two-thirds of the village. He said other arrangements will have to be made for the remaining third.

Ground-breaking ceremonies will be at Nine Mile Road and the railroad crossing east of Novi Road at 11 a.m.

Missionary to Talk at Avon Church

AVON TOWNSHIP — Kent Ragsdale, radio missionary from Haiti, will speak at Elmwood Methodist Church Sunday at 7 p.m.

A graduate of Moody Bible Institute, Ragsdale went to Haiti in 1959 intending to stay one year. His services were in such demand, however, he stayed for four.

The program is open to the public.

132 Die on Highways

The musical is being directed by Jarvis Lamb, assisted by Mrs. Robert Halbach. They served in the same capacities for "South Pacific."

Music directors are Mr. and Mrs. Walter 'Spike' Moser and choreographer, Mrs. Andersen.

Mrs. Edward Ramsey is the producer.

Keego Rezoning Hearing Is Scheduled for Feb. 25

KEEGO HARBOR — Public hearing on the rezoning of property for a proposed 193-unit apartment development will be Feb. 25.

City councilmen scheduled the hearing for 8 p.m. at Roosevelt School.

Plans for the development are expected to be presented at the meeting by Bert L. Smokler and Co. of Southfield.

★ ★ ★

The firm is the first to apply for rezoning under the city's new multiple-residence ordinance adopted Oct. 22. It is seeking the designation for 13 acres of property between Cass and Sylvan lakes now zoned residential.

17 BUILDINGS

Tentative plans for the development indicates 17 buildings two stories high. They show parking for 210 cars and a private boat marina on Sylvan Lake.

The new multiple-residence ordinance defines the zone but does not give that designation to any particular section of the city.

★ ★ ★

This can be done by the City Council after the project is approved by the planning commission and at a public hearing.

Rock Exhibit to Be Shown at Area Park

MILFORD—Two rock polishing demonstrations have been scheduled for this weekend at Kensington Metropolitan Park southwest of here.

The process of cutting and polishing rock specimens to shape them for jewelry and other objects will be shown from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, according to park naturalist Rainer Brocke.

Demonstrating the techniques will be Clarence A. Travis, Ralph H. Merkle, James M. Booth and Geore Cavannee, all of Milford and Howard J. Hawn of Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Rock and mineral collections will be displayed by members of the Waterford Gem and Mineral Club and the Michigan Mineralogical Society.

Buy Fish Permit? Not on Your Life!

GREENEVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Less than two hours after paying a $10 fine and $11.75 court costs for fishing without a license, Tov C. Najar was arrested again for the same offense.

This time the judge fined him $10 but suspended the court costs because of the amount of fines Najar has paid during the past two years.

Cost of a Tennessee fishing license is $3.

The Soviet Union shipped Cuba in 1962 about 370 million dollars worth of goods and received Cuban merchandise, mainly sugar, worth about 230 million dollars.

Math, Persistence Pay Off for Youths

NEW YORK (AP) — A flair for math, a knack with slide rules and a dose of gumption paid off for three college boys who tackled a modern version of "how many beans in the jar?"

★ ★ ★

The "Jar" was a 7-foot high plastic tank, shaped something like a football, in the Staten Island Ferry terminal.

The idea was to guess how many British Thermal Units of heating capacity it would contain if filled with fuel oil.

FIGURED VOLUME

The youths figured the volume to within 3 per cent of capacity, even though they couldn't get closer than three feet to the tank. One had to stand on another's shoulders to take sightings on its height.

Their use of the mathematics of probabilities and statistics brought their winning entry to within 3,000 BTUs of the correct answer — 24,889,000 — and gave them second and third prize as well.

★ ★ ★

Top prize was a compact sedan, second was 500 gallons of fuel oil and third 250 gallons. The boys sold all three for nearly $1,800 and split the money to help pay college expenses.

It began last December when the three saw the contest booth at the terminal.

STATEN ISLAND

They are Lewis Mandell, 20, a senior at City College, Jeffrey Michaels, 19, a sophomore there, and Arthur Sher, 19, a junior at Brooklyn College. All live on Staten Island.

They spent two hours taking measurements, mostly by sightings along tape measures.

Then they went to the Michaels family kitchen for a skull session that lasted until 4 a.m. They used slide rules, math tables and "our memories."

To blanket both sides of their best guess they sent in about 500 entries. Getting blanks meant picking them up day after day. Embarrassed, they changed coats and tried to look different each time they approached the booth.

ANOTHER CONTEST

After that contest, another went up in the same spot — to guess the price of an automobile with a special paint job.

Entry blanks, however, cost 25 cents.

"It would have been profitable," Mandell said, "if we were in a higher tax bracket and could write off the expenses of buying the entry blanks. But we only make $200 or so summers so this wouldn't work.

"Otherwise, maybe, we might have won this one, too."

Public Hearing on Economics

School Program Topic of Waterford Council

Economic development and the current $6.25-million school building program in Waterford Township will be discussion topics at Tuesday's meeting of the Greater Waterford Community Council (GWCC).

Open to the public, the meeting is slated for 8 p.m. at Pierce Junior High School.

Ralph Main, chairman of the Oakland County Economic Development Commission, will discuss the function of this organization.

★ ★ ★

A civil engineer and former county drain commissioner, Main was appointed a year ago by the county board of supervisors to head a committee exploring possibilities of bringing industry to the area through countywide planning and cooperation.

BUILDING PROGRAM

Dr. Tatroe will report on the building program now in progress in Waterford. A total of 12 new school facilities and a bus garage are slated in the next five years.

Tatroe also will discuss school finances and report on Flint's Mott Foundation plan for community use of school buildings.

In other business, GWCC members will consider changing their regular meeting night from the first to the second Tuesday of each month.

Blast, Fire Level Unit of Firm in East

LINDEN, N. J. (AP)—Firemen wet down the blast-leveled ruins of an experimental building in the sprawling General Aniline & Film Corp. complex here while waiting for daylight to search for three men missing in the huge explosion and fire.

A roof-lifting blast rocked the three-story brick-and-glass block building last night and a fire followed that completed the destruction.

A stopped clock set the time of the explosion at 8:22 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Three of nine men working at the time were feared lost. Authorities delayed search for the bodies because the ruins were still hot and dangerous.

SIX OTHERS

The six others got out and none was reported seriously hurt.

The destroyed building housed an experimental chemical operation, a company spokesman said.

He did not speculate on what may have caused the explosion, but said that highly volatile solvents were used in most of the products manufactured here.

★ ★ ★

Aniline's installation here contains some 60 buildings on a 145-acre site.

★ ★ ★

It is one of the largest of 11 General Aniline plants throughout the United States.

Can't Talk to Him, He's an American

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—When Orlando Bosch Jr., was born in Miami of Cuban exile parents, his brother moaned:

"Now we won't be able to talk to him because he's an American."

Orlando is 3 now, and speaks only Spanish.

His four school-age Cuban brothers and sisters speak fluent English as well as Spanish.

GOP Speakers at 21 'Go-Day' Rallies Attack Johnson

AP Photofax

'GO-DAY' Speaker — Former Vice President Richard Nixon at a dinner speech last night in New York said that Republicans can win in November on the issue that the U.S. must regain initiative in the fight against world communism. The speech was televised on a closed-circuit hookup.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In rallies across the land, Republicans rolled out their biggest guns, stocked their war chest and thundered the theme of their campaign attack on President Johnson.

They also heard a go-to-the-people strategy outlined by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The GOP leaders pictured Johnson as master of a political shell game, as hoodwinking the public and as a stunt man "riding two horses going in the opposite directions."

All the names were at one or another of the 21 rallies — candidates, possible candidates and former candidates.

IKE STILL STAR

But the star attraction Wednesday night was Eisenhower, the only Republican to gain the White House since 1933.

He told the party, via closed-circuit television hookup from Detroit, that the GOP should do something to improve "the acceptability of our party to the public."

★ ★ ★

He urged a party-to-people system of roundtables and forums to help produce a "Republican people's platform" for the convention in August.

These panels, he said, would teach, as well as learn, and build an avenue of political understanding and cooperation.

GO-DAY RALLIES

The dinners were heralded as "go-day rallies."

Speaking in Cleveland, GOP National Chairman William E. Miller explained it this way: "This is the starting line from which we will race down the length of the track to cross the finish line in victory in November.

"It may be a photo finish. I'm not going to stand here and tell you that this critical campaign will be any walkaway.

"But if we get off the mark tonight and keep driving, we will win."

★ ★ ★

Although a spokesman said it was too early to make a tally, the advance sale for Eisenhower's Detroit speech was reported as $300,000. In Cleveland, an overflow crowd of 2,700 paid $100 a plate. The Los Angeles dinner where Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York spoke raised $126,000—half for the national treasury. In New York, the party netted about $213,000.

Generally the words were tough as the Republicans rallied themselves for the battle ahead.

NIXON STRIKES

In New York, Richard M. Nixon, who has indicated he would accept a draft for the presidential nomination, scorched fair-weather Republicans, who "throw in the towel before the fight begins" and fear that "Johnson is too smart."

Said Nixon: "We shall not win by resorting to image-making, by being everything to everybody, by trying to appear liberal to the liberals, and conservative to the conservatives. The present occupant of the White House is a past master of that kind of a political shell game.

★ ★ ★

"We shall win and deserve to win by standing for principle on a great issue." The issue, he said, is the initiative against communism.

Sen. Barry Goldwater and Rockefeller, announced candidates who often turn their fire on each other, fired salvos at Johnson.

RIDING 2 HORSES

In Los Angeles Rockefeller portrayed the administration as riding two horses, adding: "And the stunt man is that old political ringmaster — Lyndon B. Johnson.

"It is time to expose this operation hoodwink. He's going to have programs for everything—but he's going to spend less money!"

"Whatever became of the New Frontier?" asked Rockefeller. "It appears that it has been principally a trading post —with Bobby Baker behind the counter."

Goldwater told 1,400 Republicans in Pittsburgh that the hallmark of the Johnson administration is "a lack of honesty."

"If you want to put it another way," he said, "It's a lack of faith in the American people."

★ ★ ★

Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, an avowed non-candidate who some observers tab as a likely dark horse in the GOP presidential derby, let Midwesterners look him over with an Indianapolis speech that accused the administration of economic doubletalk.

★ ★ ★

"If we tell our story effectively," he said, "the American people will recognize the present administration's economy program for the mirage that it is."

Romney Asks for New Goals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George W. Romney told a Republican audience Wednesday night that "our nation needs new leadership and new goals."

Romney spoke at a Republican fund-raising dinner here. His remarks were beamed to other GOP rallies across the country via closed-circuit television.

"America today is not the America that our divinely inspired forefathers envisioned," Romney said. "Mighty as it is, it is but a shadow of its promise.

"When we honestly face the deterioration in personal responsibility, individual morality, family life, public integrity and faith in American principles, it is clear our nation needs new leadership and new goals."

Romney, often mentioned as a possible GOP presidential candidate, also said that "in 1964, the $64 question is: must the American people wait for needed political leadership until the full consequences of our present excesses produce another crisis?"

'CAN'T FIGHT CENTRALISM'

Romney told the audience the Democratic Party cannot deal with centralism in the federal government.

★ ★ ★

"They can't deal with this problem because they are part of it," he said. "They are responsible to a great extent for creating it and fostering it. They are doing so more today than ever before and they are proud of it."

Romney said "the problem of excessive concentration of power in the federal government at the expense of individual, community, local and state government responsibility represents one unique opportunity for the Republican Party this year."

3 Arrested in Robbery

CINCINNATI (AP) — A man and two women were arrested Wednesday shortly after a messenger was robbed of $7,450 in a bank parking lot. Another man is sought.

Arrested were Arlie Lawson, 44, Detroit; Miss Marie Baker, 23, Detroit; and Miss Helen Meeks, 38, cincinnati.

Victim of the holdup was Cecil Rowland, 58, who said he was delivering the money from the bank to a restaurant. The money was recovered.

The robbery occurred in the parking lot of the Roselawn Branch of Central Trust Co., and Rowland said a man, later identified as Lawson, shoved a shotgun into his stomach.

Lawson was arrested while walking on a street three blocks from the bank. The two women were arrested later when police stopped their car, which had been seen leaving the holdup scene at high speed.

Falconry was practiced as a sport as early as 2000 B. C. in China.

Dowagiac Sets Election Date for Charter Group

DOWAGIAC (AP)—The Dowagiac City Council set May 4 as the date for election of a nine-member charter commission, but delayed action Wednesday night on two other issues facing the community.

The new charter would replace the present mayor-council form of government.

★ ★ ★

A special meeting to discuss a council request to oust Harold Wagner, superintendent of the city's utilities department, was delayed until today by the Dowagiac Board of Public Works.

INDICATE IRREGULARITIES

Wagner's removal was sought by the council, following public hearings into activities of the BPW. Testimony at the hearings, some of it confirmed by Wagner from the witness stand, indicated irregularities in payroll, bookkeeping and other matters.

The newly adopted AR - 15, dubbed M-16s upon induction into the service, will be the 36th rifle used by U.S. troops.

Convict's Wife Is Arrested on Escape Charge

IONIA (AP)—A Niles woman sought for allegedly smuggling dangerous items to her imprisoned husband surrendered to authorities Wednesday.

Mrs. Eileen Hodges, 24, was held in lieu of $1,000 bond after she waived examination on a charge of aiding an escape in connection with the items smuggled to her husband, Thomas, 25, an inmate at the Ionia Reformatory.

Reformatory guards seized a pistol, ammunition, a hacksaw blade and $50 in cash smuggled to Hodges over the Christmas holidays in a candy box. Hodges is serving 5 to 15 years on a Cass County burglary charge, and was sentenced Jan. 17 to an additional 5 to 6 years on his plea of guilty to a charge of escape from the reformatory two years ago. He was returned last October.

In 1817 the United States adopted the Hall rifle and became the first nation to arm its infantrymen with breech-loading rifles.

Suicides Have No Standard Method

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth of five dispatches on suicide by the national reporter of United Press International. It deals with the methods persons use to kill themselves.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The other day Robert Lawson, flying a single-engine plane, told the control tower at the Shawnee, Okla., airport that he has going to ram into the administration building of Oklahoma Baptist University.

"You're kidding," the control tower messaged back.

"I'm not kidding," Lawson replied. "I'm going to build a monument."

And so he did. He made a low level approach and rammed into the third floor of the building and died.

He hit an unoccupied room and the only life lost was his own.

STRANGE WAYS

People bent on suicide choose strange ways to do it. Most of them never live to tell why they do it the hard way — such as ramming a school building with an airplane — and endanger the lives of other persons.

Lawson was a former student at the school and had been a mental patient, but that is the sum total of evidence available to scientists seeking clues as to why people commit suicide in the ways they do.

The most common methods of suicide are, in this order:

Firearms and explosions, poisons or gases, hanging and strangulation, drowning, jumping from high places, using cutting or piercing instruments.

Men don't seem to care about how things appear after their death and they lean to shooting themselves in the head.

Women seem to carry vanity even beyond death and do nothing that will deface them. An overwhelming number of them take poison and many carefully apply make-up before killing themselves.

Some years ago George Kennan, in an article titled "Problems of Suicide," listed the bizarre ways in which people end their lives:

★ ★ ★

"I have well authenticated cases in which men or women have committed suicide by throwing themselves upon swiftly revolving circular saws; by exploding dynamite in their mouths; by thrusting red hot pokers down their throats; by allowing themselves to freeze to death on piles of ice in refrigerator cars; by lacerating their throats on barbed wire fences; by drowing themselves head down in barrels; by suffocating themselves head downward in chimneys; by diving into white hot coke ovens; by swallowing poisonous spiders; by forcing teams of horses to tear their heads off; by drowning themselves in vats of soft soap; by plunging into retorts of molten glass; by decapitation with home-made guillotines."

AUTO DEATHS

There is an increasing use of the automobile as a means of committing suicide, and A. L. Moseley of the Trauma Research Institute, Cambridge, Mass., provided the results of a study he has made on the subject.

He conducted an in-depth investigation of 124 traffic deaths — both pedestrians and drivers. He found evidence that 20 of the dead persons had suffered from severe depression, including 14 which were judged to have had suicidal tendencies.

Death by automobile tempts the potential suicide because it readily lends itself to the appearance of having been an accident.

Moseley tells of the case of a woman killed in a new automobile which had rammed into a concrete pillar. The car seemed to be in perfect condition until investigators got to the self-adjusting brake mechanism. It didn't work and a reasonable assumption would be that it had been tampered with before the accident.

DRIVERS IN DANGER

The study showed that all drivers are under steady danger of being convicted of traffic deaths because a person bent on suicide leaps in front of the car.

The only clear-cut defense for the driver is that the dead person carries a suicide note on his person or there are ample witnesses to testify about the circumstances of the death.

Moseley relates the case of a housekeeper who left her place of employment clearly stating that she was not returning and hinting at suicide.

She was killed when she jumped in front of a car, and the driver was convicted because the woman's employer repudiated his earlier story about her suicidal intentions.

Specific places seem to be associated with suicide in the minds of many persons. As late as 15 years ago it appeared that Niagara Falls had a fatal fascination for potential suicides.

In 1948, seven men and three women killed themselves by going over the falls, but the trend seems to be on the decline.

High places tempt some people to impulsive suicide. The Empire State Building in New York had to build a barrier to keep people from plunging to their deaths. High bridges, such as the Golden Gate in San Francisco, appear to be a constant temptation to self-destruction.

★ ★ ★

One of history's most famous suicides had a double purpose. When Samson pulled down the pillars of the temple, he took his own life. But he also took with him into death the Philistines who had captured and blinded him.

Persons who commit suicide by blowing up buildings with high explosives are reenacting, in their fashion the story of Samson.

Tomorrow: Can suicide be prevented?

Rabies No Problem for Human Beings

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

Physicians and laymen alike seem to prefer myths to facts about some subjects, such as rabies, smoking and the cri (pronounced "kree").

The publication by Dr. George A. Dennison, director of laboratories, and Dr. J.D. Dowling, health officer, Jefferson County (Birmingham), Ala. of the conclusions they reached in their 17 years of experience with rabies, marked, I think, the beginning of the end of the myth of human rabies in America.

In the report they said Birmingham has been considered by some as the rabies capital of North America and possibly of the civilized world. Their No. 1 conclusion was:

"Rabies is primarily a veterinary problem. Regardless of its prevalence among dogs, it will probably never cause sufficient morbidity or mortality among human beings in this region to allow its classification as a public health problem of importance."

Further, aside from mad dog scares whipped up from time to time by publicity hungry health officers and newspaper reporters, doctors and folks are less concerned about "rabies" than ever before.

IT'S A MYTH

In no conceivable circumstance would I submit to so-called Pasteur treatment nor would I advise anyone to submit to it. Human rabies is as mythical as little green men from Mars.

Another myth I have been fighting all my professional life — and am I frustrated — seems as prevalent as ever, at least among people of limited intelligence.

It is the myth that "exposure" to drafts, dampness, trifling changes of weather, wet feet, insufficient clothing and the like cause cri — whatever common respiratory infection one may have.

★ ★ ★

Most people have been so thoroughly inculcated with this idea in childhood that they are quite unteachable.

BLAH, BLAH, BLAH!

Now and then some sophomoric individual writes to explain that of course the insufficient clothing or draft or wet feet is not the direct cause of the illness, it merely lowers resistance and blah-blah-blah.

Aside from immunity, which is well recognized as a specific state, no one can educe from universal everyday experience "exposure" makes one more susceptible to any illness anyone might call a "cold."

On the contrary, it seems that carelessness about going hatless, coatless, or without this or that winter armor makes one rather less susceptible to the cri.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

From Animal to Human

Reveal 3 Kidney Transplants

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A Tulane University surgeon yesterday revealed three more successful animal-to-human kidney transplants performed by Tulane surgeons.

Dr. Brian McCracken said the three patients all received kidneys from chimpanzees and all still are alive. No other details were divulged.

The operations were performed by the same medical team that last year transplanted Rhesus monkey kidneys into an unidentified woman and chimpanzee kidneys into Jefferson Davis, a 44-year-old dock worker.

Both patients died, but in each case death was not caused by the transplant.

Davis suffered from penumonia, but the animal kidneys were functioning perfectly when he died.

The woman, who was the first patient in the series of experimental operations at Tulane, died of her original ailment after the kidneys began to fail and were removed.

She had been returned to an artificial kidney for three days before death.

Both cases were diagnosed as terminal before the operations were undertaken.

ANNOUNCES CASES

McCracken yesterday made the announcement about the three additional cases to a session of the American College of Physicians, which is meeting here.

No other details of the new cases were given out. In earlier explanations of the operation, the Tulane doctors said the major breakthrough in the technique was overcoming the body's natural tendency to reject foreign tissue such as animal kidneys.

In Davis' case, his body began to react to the kidneys after five days. His drug dosage was then stepped up to meet the emergency.

The drugs were successful in overcoming the reaction factor, and Davis was well enough to go home on a weekend pass.

Doctors explained that while the drugs reduced his resistance to foreign tissue, they also reduced his resistance to other physical conditions and made him more prone to develop illnesses such as penumonia.

Successful human - to - human transplants had taken place prior to the Tulane series of operations, but they were the first animal-to-human transplants to meet with any success.

No Road Building Due to Water Work

Waterford Township probably will pass up $31,400 in road construction matching funds this year because of its water system construction program.

Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin said today that road improvement projects would not be feasible because several roads will be torn up for installation of water mains.

The township made no specific appropriation for road work in its 1964 budget.

It could, however, draw from its improvement fund for such expenditures.

MATCH AMOUNT

Under the matching program, local communities can match any portion of the amount allocated to them by the Road Commission.

May 15 has been set by the Road Commission as the deadline for matching fund applica-

Warning Given to Malaysia

JAKARTA (AP) — An Indonesian foreign office spokesman said today that any effort by British and Malaysian military forces to move against Indonesian-backed "freedom fighters" in North Borneo would lead to grave consequences.

His statement came as President Sukarno presided over a session of the supreme operational command to consider the 6-day-old cease-fire along the Malaysian-Indonesian frontier in Borneo.

After the meeting First Deputy Prime Minister Subandrio told newsmen:

"This cease-fire by no means must be exploited to weaken or to strengthen the position of the parties concerned."

★ ★ ★

The government's Antara News Agency said Sukarno stressed anew at the command session that the cease-fire to Indonesia means only a halt in the fighting and that positions of combatants cannot be altered.

SERIOUS VIEW

The foreign office spokesman said Indonesia also took a serious view of reports that Malaysian security forces had killed five guerrillas after the cease-fire went into effect Saturday.

Asked whether Indonesia was considering ending the cease-fire, the spokesman declined to comment.

He also refused to say under what circumstances Indonesia would consider the cease-fire no longer valid.

★ ★ ★

But he said should British and Malaysian forces use the cease-fire to mop up guerrilla pockets inside Malaysian Borneo it "would lead to very grave consequences."

HOLD POSITIONS

Indonesia maintains the guerrillas are to hold their positions and retain their arms under international law dealing with a cease-fire.

Malaysian leaflets dropped to guerrilla bands called on them to surrender.

The foreign office spokesman said U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy fully understood Indonesia's views on a cease-fire and "He must have explained it in Kuala Lumpur," the capital of Malaysia.

Kennedy arranged the cease-fire and agreement by Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines to work for a new summit meeting during an Asian tour last week as President Johnson's special envoy.

World Situation Could Create New Divisions of Power

News Analysis

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Events in Asia and Africa cast a grim shadow over the future, raising the prospect—perhaps still years away—of a world divided into hostile white and nonwhite camps.

Chain reaction explosions in Africa and shifting political patterns in Asia may be traceable, at least in part, to the battle royal between the Soviet Union and Communist China over what directions the world Communist movement should take.

This battle, which began in earnest about five or six years ago, had led Communist China to strike out on its own in those underdeveloped areas of the world where Peking seems to feel it can make the swiftest progress.

The Red Chinese are making some headway, too, and this likely is a source of a alarm not only to the United States but to the men in the Kremlin. Willy-nilly, events may push the Soviet Union and the United States closer together as the two powers with the greatest responsibilities and the most at stake.

CATALYST De GAULLE

The cold war picture is affected by the behavior of President Charles de Gaulle's France, which appears to be acting out a role of catalyst speeding up the action and reaction of new forces released by the Soviet-Chinese conflict.

Perhaps de Gaulle, noting the decreasing communication between Peking and Moscow, sees France as a prospective bridge between Red China and the West. There are no signs that Peking is looking for any such bridge.

★ ★ ★

It is possible that de Gaulle sees a good chance of salvaging something of what France once had in the way of authority in the East and in Africa, and that he also sees advantages in getting in on the ground floor in trade with Red China. But if the lessons of the past are any guide France likely will be wary. She tried a decade ago to salvage something out of her crumbling Southeast Asian empire and came out of it empty-handed.

What France may be doing these days, however, is conferring sufficient stature upon the Red Chinese regime to tip the scales at the next session of the United Nations and force Peking's entry at the expense of Nationalist China. Even the threat of such a development—in an American presidential year—can cause political turmoil.

AFRICAN WORRIES

This writer has just returned from the Middle East, where responsible Western diplomats are exhibiting deep worry about the shifting alliances and the sporadic explosions in Africa—Zanzibar, Tanganyika, Uganda and possibly other areas later on. These may be earmarking 1964 as a bad year for the world's peace of mind.

Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai has been touring Africa, asserting Peking's intention to seize the leadership of the nonwhite world and turn it against imperialists.

★ ★ ★

With the state of relations between the Chinese and Soviet Communist parties, even the Soviet Union and the European Communists it commands can be equated in the Chinese mind with the imperial camp.

★ ★ ★

Peking has displayed deep satisfaction with the way things are going in the underdeveloped countries and with what it calls the "national liberation movement." To Peking's way of thinking, a national liberation movement is any violent movement which expels U.S. and Western influence. The Soviet Union has accused the Red Chinese of using racial feelings to advance its claim to leadership of this violence and of deliberately setting white against nonwhite.

SPRING TRIP

Moscow regards all this so seriously that it would be no surprise if Premier Khrushchev braves the torrid springtime heat of Africa and drops in on festivities in connection with completion of the first phase of the United Arab Republic's Aswan Dam.

★ ★ ★

Such a trip might be intended less as a ceremonial attendance at ribbon-cutting for a project financed by Moscow than as a public appearance in Africa to deaden the effects of Chou's trip.

★ ★ ★

If the United States is worried about developments in the underdeveloped world, so is Moscow in all likelihood. The careful Soviet attitude in recent months, steering clear of stirring up hornets' nests in areas like the Middle East, seems a token of that worry.

★ ★ ★

When it comes to China and the future, the Soviet Union and the United States may have a good deal of worry in common.

Holland Couple Killed in Texas Car Crash

ALBANY, Tex. (AP)—A Holland, Mich., couple and a Texas resident were killed in a car-truck collision Wednesday during a rainstorm.

They were Peter J. Sinke, 55, and Mrs. Sinke, 52, occupants of the car, and James Winzer, 46, of Roby, Tex., an occupant of the truck. The collision took place on U.S. 180 about nine miles west of Albany.

With Road Commission

8-Room House Wins 2 Races

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI) —A 50-ton, eight-room house can move faster than you think.

Clarence Johnson can prove this. Twice he beat the West Virginia State Road Commission in a race.

It all began in 1959 when Johnson bought the white house in nearby McMechen but was informed by the commission it had plans to widen Route 2. And the blueprints showed that the route was going right through the site of the Johnson home.

★ ★ ★

The Johnsons had a choice to sell their home. But Johnson, his wife and five children decided they liked the homestead and didn't want to leave it.

MADE DECISION

The family held a conference and came up with the decision.

"Let's move the house to grandpa's farm," they decided.

Grandpa Johnson's farm is 18 miles from McMechen and the move posed an engineering problem.

★ ★ ★

Johnson, an advocate of the do-it-yourself school, came up with a solution after some rough calculations. He called for saws. Then he dismantled the second story and sawed the first floor in half—right down the middle.

NARROW CURVE

Using two trucks to move the sections of the house, Johnson was wining the race until he encountered a narrow curve in the road. He called for the saws again. After more sawing, the house made it around the curve.

But it was not to be the final move for the house. Shortly before Christmas, the Johnsons received "greetings" from the State Road Commission again. New Interstate 70 would pass precisely through the center of the house.

The Johnsons got on the move again. But this time the journey is shorter — only 250 yards east of the present site.

The home is now on three trailers and the odds are it will reach the finish line before new Interstate 70.

Pontiac Man Killed in Apparent Suicide

A 44-year-old Pontiac man, Melvin A. Peterson of 792 St. Clair, died yesterday at Pontiac General Hospital of a gunshot wound in the head, apparently self-inflicted, according to Pontiac police.

Peterson was found by his wife Kathleen, 40, on the floor of a room at the rear of the house when she went to investigate a muffled shot.

Police found a 22-caliber rifle nearby.

7th Victim of Fire Is Dead of Injuries

MONTROSE, Mich. (UPI) — A home fire which killed six persons here Monday claimed a seventh victim yesterday.

Mrs. Marjorie Cook, 21, Montrose, died at Hurley Hospital in Flint of injuries suffered in the fire.

The fire previously claimed the lives of Mrs. Carl Leyrer; her children, Walter, 4 and Carl, 18 months; and Kandi Cook, 3 and her 14-month-old sister, Carla, daughters of Mrs. Cook. Another victim was Mrs. Leyrer's unborn child, which was dead when delivered at Hurley Hospital by Caesarean section.

Chamber Projects

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Industrial, waterways and urban development, plus tourist and convention promotion, were listed Wednesday as major projects to be emphasized this year by the Traverse City area Chamber of Commerce. The projects noted in the chamber's annual report, aim to "insure the economic stability of the area."

Convalescent Home

MONROE (AP) — A convalescent home will be set up in the Monroe hospital this spring when the two-story hospital is vacated. The hospital will be shifted to a new building.

Bomb Scare Clears School in Alpena

ALPENA (AP) — It took the 1,700 students at Alpena High School only about three minutes to get out of the building Wednesday after police received an anonymous telephone call reporting there was a bomb in the school.

Police quickly relayed the warning to school officials.

A search by city and state police and sheriff's officers turned up nothing.

This country's steel exports in 1963 will probably be a meager 2 million tons.

Steak Isn't the Only Cut of Beef!

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Even steak gets monotonous if you eat it often enough. This may be hard to believe if you have it only on rare occasions.

John Kozar is showing how meat is cut into retail portions at The Press cooking school this week. His demonstrations should help show women why steaks are not so plentiful as pot roasts and why they cost more.

In this article we're going to give you a few recipes for lower cost beef cuts. All are good eating and all supply as much important protein as higher priced cuts.

Men like oxtails. Our young lady who recently married put out an SOS for a recipe for them; her new husband is fond of them. The following recipe is similar to the one we gave her.

BRAISED OX JOINTS

2 oxtails
2 medium onions, chopped
¼ teaspoon celery salt
1 bay leaf
4 cloves
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup canned tomatoes
1½ cups water

Have meat-man cut oxtails into 2-inch pieces. Wipe with a damp cloth and roll in flour. Brown thoroughly in hot fat in Dutch oven or large heavy skillet.

Add onions, seasonings, tomatoes and water. Cover and cook slowly for 3-4 hours or until meat is nearly falling from bone. Add more water during cooking as necessary.

Remove ox joints to platter and keep warm. Skim fat from gravy and stir in 1 tablespoon flour blended with 2 tablespoons cold water. Add water to gravy to dilute to strength desired. Season to taste.

Serve with buttered noodles. Makes 4 servings.

Pot roasts are often offered at reasonable prices. No matter which cut you get nor how much it costs, you must cook it in moist heat.

FIND THE STEAKS—John Kozar, chief meat cutter at Hoffman's Pontiac Freezer Foods, prepares to cut up a hind quarter of beef at The Press Cooking School. This demonstrated clearly how few steaks there are in a beef, compared to other cuts. All beef is good eating, however.

POT ROAST

3-4 pounds beef pot roast
3 tablespoons fat
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 medium onion, sliced
½ cup water

Brown meat thoroughly in hot fat in Dutch oven or other heavy utensil. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Add onion and water, cover pan tightly.

Simmer over low heat 2½ to 3 hours or until very tender when pierced with a fork. (Pot roast may also be cooked in the oven at 325 degrees).

Remove from heat to platter and skim off all but about 2-3 tablespoons of fat. Add enough water so that amount in pan equals about 2 cups.

Mix 3 tablespoons flour to a smooth paste with a few tablespoons of water and stir into liquid. Stir and cook until thickened. Season.

For Cranberry pot roast: After browning pour over roast one can whole or jellied cranberry sauce which has been mixed with ½ cup water, ½ teaspoon cinnamon and 4 whole cloves. Cook until tender, as above.

★ ★ ★

Short ribs are another dish men like. They make good eating on cold winter nights.

RIBS IN WINE

6 large meaty short ribs
Instant meat tenderizer
1½ cups dry red table wine
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon crumbled sweet basil
1 onion, thinly sliced
1 bay leaf
Cornstarch or flour
Minced parsley

Use instant meat tenderizer on short ribs according to label directions. Brown meat well in large Dutch oven. Pour in wine, tomato sauce, salt, basil, onion and bay leaf. Simmer until meat is tender, about 1½ hours.

Remove meat to warm platter and keep hot. Skim fat off juices; then thicken juice with cornstarch or flour paste. Sprinkle meat with minced parsley. Makes 6 servings.

STEAK—Here's the cut most everyone wants from beef. But only a few steaks can be had from each hind quarter. Broil steaks like these about three inches from the source of heat. Check your range instruction booklet or a cookbook for timing to your taste. Turn only once. Season before serving.

Like the Unusual? Try Fruit Soup

A marvelous new recipe for soup, which can be served hot or cold and the dollop of sour cream is just right.

1 cup (9 ounce package) dried figs
2 cups water
4 medium bananas, all yellow
½ cup sugar
¼ cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
Sour cream

Combine the figs and water in saucepan; cover and simmer 30 minutes. Mash 3 of the bananas; blend in sugar, lemon juice and spices. Add to fig mixture and simmer 5 minutes.

Remove from heat; slice in remaining banana. Serve warm or chilled with sour cream. Makes 6 servings.

Count on a 15-ounce package of raisins yielding about 3 cups.

Regal Sipping Soup

Beautiful soup, piping hot, is a satisfying way to start a luncheon. For 8 or 9 low calorie servings, combine 3 cans of consomme, 3 soup cans water and ¼ teaspoon crushed rosemary in a saucepan. Heat thoroughly. Now add 1½ tablespoons lemon juice. Serve this distinguished soup in dainty cups.

Instant Cocoa Mix Good in Cookies

One of the ready-mixes is used in this recipe.

Cocoa-Mix Cookies

½ cup soft butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
½ cup instant cocoa mix
1 egg
1 cup flour
½ cup (about) chopped pecans

Beat together thoroughly the butter, sugar, cocoa mix and egg. Add flour; stir until blended. Cover and chill for several hours or overnight.

Using a level tablespoon of dough for each, shape into small balls. Roll, pressing slightly, in pecans. Bake, 2 inches apart, on ungreased cookie sheets in a moderate (375 degrees) oven for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 30.

Good flavor, unusual appetite appeal and the surprise of crab meat combined with apple make this savory mixture a new top favorite either as an appetizer or as a first-course salad.

While crisp good apples are at their best in this winter market, try this new appetizer for party guests or the family.

Dual Apple Appetizer

3 large red apples
Lemon juice
1 can (7½-oz.) crab meat boned and flaked
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
4 teaspoons drained sweet pickle relish
2 tablespoons chili sauce
½ cup chopped walnuts
¼ cup sliced celery
¼ cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon curry powder

Core apples, do not peel; cut crosswise in ½-inch slices. Reserve the two center slices from each apple; brush with lemon juice. Dice remaining slices; measure and divide in half.

To one half the diced apples add flaked crab meat, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, pickle relish and chili sauce; mix well. To remaining half add walnuts, celery, ¼ cup mayonnaise and curry powder; mix well.

Place apple rings on individual plates. (If desired cut in bite-size pieces and put together again in ring shape.) With crab meat mixture cover one half of slice; use walnut mixture on the other half.

Serve as an appetizer, or, garnished with cress, as a salad. Makes 6 servings.

Get Up Earlier to Bake Batch of Raisin Scones

Extra-good hot bread!

Raisin Scones

2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1-3 cup butter or margarine
1 egg, slighty beaten
1-3 cup buttermilk
1 cup raisins

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut in the butter with a pastry blender until in fine particles. Combine egg and buttermilk; add to sifted ingredients with raisins. Stir to moisten dry ingredients.

On pastry prepared cloth roll ½-inch thick. With floured 2-inch cutter, cut into rounds. Brush with milk and sprinkle with sugar.

Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in a 425-degree oven 10 to 15 minutes. Makes 12.

SIAMESE TWINS — Chiquita Banana never did better than this! Mrs. Virgil Everett, Lowell Street, found twin bananas inside one skin recently. She wonders just how rare this is.

Cream Cheese Gives Sauce Smoothness

Here's a meal that can be prepared early in the morning and heated the last minute. The dishes will be washed, flowers arranged and you will look pretty as you don your frilly apron to set the meal on the table.

Chicken a la Creme is oven-fried chicken breasts coated with crumbs of bite size toasted corn cereal and seasoned butter. The sauce, which can be cooked and reheated, is made of cream cheese, delicately flavored with thyme and ripe olives.

Coat the chicken in the morning and refrigerate until an hour before dinner. Prepare twice baked potatoes and baked apples at the same time. Stuff the potatoes and refrigerate until you turn the chicken. Make twin tomato aspic molds and the hard sauce the day before.

We made two tomato gelatin molds because the last people to visit the buffet table never get to see the pretty salad. Having two should give them at least half a chance. Too, smaller molds can be cut into more attractive servings.

See how easy it is to make the meal seem to appear like magic? The food will be delicious and economical, and your kitchen will be so neat, your guests will suspect you of hiring a cateress.

Chicken a la Creme

½ cup butter or margarine, melted
½ cup and 1 teaspoon enriched flour
1 teaspoon and ½ teaspoon seasoned salt
⅛ teaspoon fresh ground white pepper
3 cups bite size toasted corn cereal crushed to 1 cup
6 chicken breasts, boned
2 packages (3 oz.) cream cheese
1 cup water
⅛ teaspoon ground thyme
¼ teaspoon kitchen bouquet
¼ cup chopped ripe olives

Heat oven to hot (400 degrees). Combine butter, ½ cup flour, 1 teaspoon seasoned salt and pepper.

Dip chicken breasts in butter mixture. Roll in cereal crumbs. Allow to dry 20 minutes. Place chicken skin side down on a shallow baking sheet. Bake 30 minutes. Turn and bake 20 minutes or until meat is brown and crisp.

Heat and constantly stir cream cheese, water, thyme, kitchen bouquet, 1 teaspoon flour and ½ teaspoon seasoned salt until smooth. Add olives.

Pleace chicken in an ovenproof serving dish. Pour sauce over it and bake 5 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Ham Kabobs

Baked ham leftover? Cut it into cubes and thread it on skewers with pineapple chunks and green pepper squares. Brush with barbecue sauce and broil. Nice for Saturday lunch

Curry Sauce Tops Cauliflower

Good enough for company.

Curried Cauliflower

1 large head cauliflower (about 1¾ pounds after trimming)
2 cups boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon curry powder
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup chicken stock

Separate washed cauliflower into flowerets and turn into a medium saucepan with the boiling water and salt. Bring to the boiling point; boil gently, uncovered, for 5 minutes. Cover and continue boiling gently for 5 to 10 minutes or until tender-crisp; drain if necessary.

In a small saucepan melt the butter over low heat; add onion and curry powder; stir constantly until onion wilts. Stir in flour. Add chicken stock; cook and stir constantly until thickened; pour over cauliflower; reheat.

If sauce is thicker than you like, stir in a little drained cauliflower liquid or chicken stock. Makes 6 servings.

Serve as a Salad or on Relish Tray

Store any leftover spicy beets and onions.

Spicy Beet and Onion Salad

1 can (1 pound) medium whole beets
¼ cup sugar
1-3 cup cider vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
6 whole cloves
6 whole allspice
½ stick cinnamon
1 small onion, sliced thin and separated into rings

Drain and quarter beets. Heat to boiling ½ cup beet liquid, sugar, vinegar, salt, cloves, allspice and cinnamon; pour over beets and onion in a jar; cover and refrigerate overnight. Serve drained beets and onions on salad greens. Store leftover in marinade in refrigerator.

Clever Casserole

In buttered 1-quart casserole, combine a 15-ounce can macaroni with cheese sauce, a 5-ounce can boned chicken, ½ cup cooked whole kernel corn, and 2 tablespoons diced pimiento. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons crushed potato chips and bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes. Serve to 2 or 3.

Canned Food Is Bettered

To get the most flavor and food value from canned foods, follow these tips from the National Canners Association.

When heating canned vegetables, drain liquid into saucepan, simmer until reduced in quantity, and heat vegetables quickly in the remainder.

Pep up canned stews with a few spoonfuls of table wine — white wine for chicken fricassee, red for beef stew.

Canned fruits taste best if chilled before serving.

The only object in the White House from the time of its first occupancy by President John Adams in 1800 is the famous full-length portrait of George Washington by Gilbert Stuart. The painting hangs in the East Room, one of the rooms open to the public.

Yet Secure French Friendship

Erhard Must Soon Confront De Gaulle

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In the world beset by swift and frequently disturbing change, a moderating voice is that of West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

His has neither been the dramatic, go - it - alone policy of a de Gaulle nor the unbending policy of his predecessor in office, Konrad Adenauer.

NEWSOM

Among his first official duties after taking his new post was the sorrowful one of attending the funeral rites of President John F. Kennedy, a man with whom he had hoped to have one of his earliest meetings.

Instead, he conferred with Kennedy's successor, Lyndon B. Johnson, and assured him of West Germany's continued loyalty to the United States.

* * *

In contrast to de Gaulle's well - publicized differences with United States policy and his frequently ostentatious displays of independence, Erhard declared before the West German Parliament a different brand of independence.

NOT A PROTECTORATE

"We need American protection," he said, "but we are not an American protectorate."

With few dramatic flourishes Erhard has cut out for himself a task of considerable magnitude and has become one of Europe's busiest traveling men.

He has conferred in Washington, London and Paris and this week rounded out visits to the major allies with a meeting in Rome with Italian Premier Aldo Moro.

* * *

Other meetings will follow with leaders of the smaller members of the European economic community — Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg — and after that he hopes for a summit meeting to cure what he calls Europe's "political malaise."

FOREIGN POLICY

Out of this has developed an outline of the Erhard foreign policy.

Aside from France, but along with other members of the European community he believes in a politically united Europe in which British participation is "indispensable."

He opposes any attempt by the larger members of the European community to impress their will upon the smaller.

* * *

As a free trade advocate, he will press for broad and deep tariff cuts in the so-called "Kennedy round" of world trade talks this spring.

NATO N-FORCE

He will give all-out support for the U. S. concept of a multination nuclear naval force for NATO and will urge other members of NATO to follow suit.

Along with the United States he opposes long-term credits for the Soviet Union and has appealed to allied governments not to start a race to Moscow.

In contrast to the Adenauer "hard" line, he has declared himself in favor of a realistic but open-minded approach to any opportunities which may develop in relation with agreement with Moscow to reduce world tensions.

* * *

As Erhard moves to make himself spokesman for the other Common Market countries outside France, he also must move toward head-on collision with de Gaulle.

Yet he also has declared that without close ties of friendship between France and Germany there can be no European policy, no integration and no Atlantic partnership.

And therein lies the enormity of his task.

Auto Dealer to Buy Site of Hudson Plant

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit auto dealer Russ Dawson has agreed to buy the site of the old Hudson Motor Car Co., it was disclosed Wednesday.

AMC was formed in 1954 by the merger of Hudson and the Nash-Kelvinator Corp. The Hudson plant was closed then.

Dawson entered into the agreement personally, not in the name of his new and used-car dealership, Courtesy Ford Inc.

All-Girl Band Laughs at Superstition

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — It bothers comely blonde Joan Fairfax not the least that a coiffure count of her new all-girl orchestra adds up to 13.

★ ★ ★

"No, I'm not superstitious," said Miss Fairfax, a Canadian-born vocalist who is leader of an all-female dance band which she believes is unique in today's music business.

Surely, she said, there are any number of all-girl combos of four and five musicians performing. But to her knowledge, her group has no competition, now that bandleader Ina Rae Hutton and Phil Spitalny have retired from the ballroom scene.

BAKERS' DOZEN

Miss Fairfax, who has been in show business since she was eight, heads a band recruited in the main from music departments of colleges and universities in the midwest and southwest. Currently, baker's dozen is appearing at the Roosevelt Hotel, New York, in the Grill Room where Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians had one-two-three'd since 1929.

It was by coincidence they eventually succeeded Lombardo at the hotel.

When Lombardo switched his band's base of operations to the Port O'Call Inn and Country Club, in Tierra Verdi, Fla., the Roosevelt tried other bands and other acts — without much success. The hotel manager, Arthur Dooley, decided to close the room.

Then, Lombardo called Dooley and suggested he give a listen to Miss Fairfax's orchestra which was playing its first date, Port O'Call, while Lombardo filled an engagement in Las Vegas, Nev.

LIKES SOUND

Dooley liked, and the hotel where Lombardo had been a fixture became the first New York engagement for the 13-member band (counting its leader) organized only last November.

"Most of the girls had never seen New York before," said Miss Fairfax. "Many hadn't even seen a live television show. Everybody's wide-eyed."

★ ★ ★

But she figured a lot of sophistication would be added during the rest of the New York engagement and in succeeding ones. The orchestra heads west after the New York stay for one-night stands in Wichita, Kan., Lincoln, Neb., and Rolla, Mo., before it settles in for longer stays at Harrah's Tahoe, a casino near Reno, and in Reno and Las Vegas.

Miss Fairfax in private life is Mrs. Thomas Higgins, 27, a native of Toronto. By the time she was eight, she recalled, she was a solo vocalist on radio stations in her home town.

MUSIC STUDIES

She studied voice and music theory at the Royal Conservatory in Toronto (one other member of the band is a graduate of the same conservatory) and arrangement and composition with private teachers.

Before she formed her dance orchestra she had been solo artist in a number of smart Canadian and United States supper clubs and had directed an all-female orchestra on Canadian television.

★ ★ ★

The idea for the dance band was hers, she said: the financing, her husband's. He is in the real estate and construction business — or rather, was. He said that for the time being he is letting it sort of run itself while he travels with the band as business manager. They've also recruited Matt Betton, formerly with bandleader Stan Kenton, as the orchestra's music director.

The musicians, most of whom can double on anything from trumpet to autoharp and who are soloists in their own right, were screened by Miss Fairfax and her husband.

FLIES TO PROSPECTS

"We listened to combos all over the country," she said. "We wrote to . . . talked with deans of music schools and when we heard of a likely prospect flew out to see her." Both are pilots and get around in a twin-engined plane they currently have "parked" at Teterboro, N.J. airport.

They decided to make the band up of music students wanting some actual experience before graduation or of recent college graduates for one reason—"We wanted the band to have youth, a lot of zing, good looks," said Miss Fairfax.

Its members in general range in age from 18 to 27 years. The one exception is the "den mother" of the group —Alyce Sheratt, a trombonist who had played in the Ina Rae Hutton orchestra in the 1940's.

Help One Another

Disregard Those Gossips

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: An elderly neighbor lady and dear friend of mine recently passed away, leaving a bachelor son sort of helpless for his meals.

I have been giving him his evening meal in my home and then inviting him to watch television with me afterward as I am a widow and lonely, too.

ABBY

He in turn does some chores around my house, takes me to church and sometimes to shop (as I have no transportation and he drives a car).

His mother and I were very close friends, and when she knew she was growing weaker, she asked me to care for him.

He is a good Christian man and there is no marriage or love talk between us, as I am 18 years older than he.

We each have our separate means, and consider one another just good companions, and nothing more.

But, Abby, dear, the gossips are going at us so fiercely. If you think I am doing wrong, please tell me in your column.

A BELIEVER IN FAITH

DEAR BELIEVER: Continue helping one another and enjoying the mutual companionship. When one walks tall and straight, he should not worry if his shadow is crooked.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am in the ninth grade and the dentist has told my parents that I need braces.

I don't think I do. I like my teeth the way they are and none of my friends thinks they are so bad, either. My parents say I will be glad later on, but I still don't want them.

★ ★ ★

I am popular in school and am afraid I wouldn't be with wires on my teeth. Please tell me what you think.

AGAINST BRACES

DEAR AGAINST: Get the braces. Your popularity rating won't go down if you have to smile through a bird cage.

And the rest of your life you'll have an attractive mouth and a song in your heart.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I read somewhere that the gentleman should always precede the lady INTO a taxicab so she won't have to climb across his feet.

★ ★ ★

How about getting OUT of a taxi? Should the man let the lady out of the taxi and then get out himself so he won't have to climb across HER feet?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: The gentleman should let the lady get into the taxicab first, and she should slide over so that when he gets in he will be near the door.

That way he can get out of the taxi first and help the lady out.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BUFFALO BILL": Do not resent growing old. It is a privilege denied to many.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, c/o The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Groom's Kin Should Visit Bride

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My nephew was married a month ago to a girl from another city. Two weeks ago, he returned here to his home town with his bride where they are making their home.

His wife is a stranger to me. My sister (the groom's mother) thinks my husband and I should go to see them. I think it is up to my nephew to bring his bride over to meet us. What is your opinion?

★ ★ ★

A: It is the duty of the bridegroom's family as well as his closest relatives to call on the bride and her family as soon as the going to see them.

Since you apparently have not done so, you should invite her and you nephew to dinner to show that you welcome her into the family.

Q: The man I am going to marry is a widower and I would like to know if it would be in order to invite the family of his deceased wife to the wedding and reception.

I personally feel it would be in very bad taste, but he thinks they should be invited. May we please have your opinion on this?

★ ★ ★

A: If your fiance has remained close to his late wife's family and he does not think it will cause them distress to be present at his marriage to someone else, it will be quite proper to send them an invitation.

Q: Will you please answer the following question concerning bread-and-butter plates? Should they be placed above the forks or alongside of them at the extreme left?

A: The bread - and - butter plate is put above the forks.

New Panel Has Better Control, Fewer Faults

Girdles with control panels that are sprayed on, instead of sewn in, are being shown at the January foundationwear market in New York. They are expected to be in stores by late March.

The control panels are a flocking substance that is sprayed on the basic net fabric in floral designs.

★ ★ ★

The flocking has no definite edge to show through whatever you wear over it, which should especially please stretch pants wearers. There are no bulky seams either.

The manufacturers say the spray-on panels give better control and more comfort.

Cleopatra Cure Helps Prevent Skin Problems

When Cleopatra took her milk baths she may have been protecting her skin from the drying effect of the Egyptian sun. Any skin that tends to dryness can benefit from milk.

Here is a dry skin mask that can be made at home out of powdered milk. Place two tablespoons of powdered milk in a saucer and mix with enough good quality witch hazel to form a creamy paste. While mixing, pour in a teaspoon of boric acid.

Spread the mask evenly over the face and throat and let dry for several minutes. Remove with warm water and soap. Persons with dry skin should avoid strong astringents. A mild freshener like witch hazel will tone the skin nicely.

Olympic Fashions

Americans Choose Best

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — America's Olympic ice hockey wives delivered their verdict on the fashions at the 1964 Winter Games today.

The Austrian girls look the most feminine and the French the most chic.

The startling sealskin coats of the Russian team drew a divided reaction.

★ ★ ★

The wives, at the Games to follow the fortunes of their hockey-playing husbands, the defending Olympic champions, have seen Olympic girl competitors both practicing on the ski slopes and at their ease in the Olympic Village.

"I definitely think the outfits of the Austrian girls are the most feminine," said Mrs. Tom Martin of Milton, Mass. "They have dark green skirts over dark brown nylon leotards, knubby beige wool coats and tan Tyrolean hats."

CARE THE MOST

"The Austrian girls seem to take the most care about their appearance too," said Mrs. Tom Yukovich of Rochester, Minn. "They are always neat, with nice hairdos."

Mrs. Paul Coope of Green Bay, Wis., nominated the French girls as the most chic at the competition.

"They have navy blue stretch ski pants, speckled blue sweaters and navy blue tammies."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Yukovich, a striking blonde, said the sealskin coats worn by the Russian women and men seemed the most appropriate for winter sports activity. The coats blend yellow, gray and white colors.

PREFERS MINK

Mrs. Martin, a pert, dark-eyed brunette, disagreed.

"If I have to have a fur coat, I'd prefer mink," she said.

Mrs. Paul Johnson of St. Paul, Minn., voted for the parade outfits of the American team as the most eye-catching at the Olympics.

"White wool coats over blue ski pants striped in red and white. Those coats would be hard to keep clean, but for the one event, I think they're perfect," she said.

Watching world teams determine which is "swifter, higher, stronger" are two of the fairest. Among the spectators at the ninth Olympiad in Innsbruck, Austria, are two gold medal fashions from White Stag. On the left is a classic quilted parka with an elastic face hood called "Mt. Hood Reversible" which sells for about $18. On the right is the "Taos Button Cardigan" with a bold jacquard design of Inca origin and antiqued metal buttons. It retails for about $20. Both are color coordinated with White Stag stretch ski pants.

"Oh, what big teeth you have, Sally!" says Junior Girl Scout Nancy Burkholder. She's properly impressed by toothbrushing demonstration by student Sally Ann Hamilton of Pontiac of the University of Michigan School of Dentistry. Miss Hamilton will be teaching oral hygiene to Ann Arbor school children during National Children's Dental Health Week.

U. of M. Dental Students to Tour 23 Area Schools

Forty University of Michigan dental hygienists, the entire advanced class, will make visits to 23 schools during the week of Feb. 3-7.

In each classroom, they will give a 20-minute program on the causes of dental decay, proper methods of toothbrushing, also the care of teeth and gums.

The program is part of the nationwide Children's Dental Health Week sponsored by the American Dental Association and the State Dental Society.

Area young women preparing to enter the field of preventive dentistry and caries control include Sally Ann Hamilton, Sharon K. Peacock and Susan L. Forbes.

From Birmingham are Wendy J. Sanderson, Christy J. Schad and Stephanie N. Smith.

About 50 per cent of these students enter training right after high school and receive a 'certificate' in two years. The rest enter midway in their college training and receive the degree of bachelor of science in dental hygiene.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer: What makes the seams in velvet pucker? Mrs. W. E.

Dear Mrs. W. E.: I would say that there are two reasons your seams in velvet are puckering. First, you are probably using too small a machine stitch.

Try using about 10 stitches per inch. Secondly, the tension on your machine might be too tight. If your seams still pucker after you have lengthened the stitch, try loosening the tension.

Also, the pressure bar should be raised slightly so that there is less pressure placed on this pile type fabric.

Dear Eunice: Is it necessary to back stitch when you begin a seam in order to keep it from ripping? Mrs. M. E. L.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. M. E. L.: Ordinarily, if your sewing machine is properly adjusted, it is not necessary to back stitch or secure your stitching when you sew your seams.

If your stitches would rip out, the tension on your machine is probably too loose.

Remember, whenever your pattern tells you to stitch only to some special marking on your garment (and not to continue to the edge) you must secure this stitching or it will pull out before you can continue with the construction.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

EXPECTING THIS SPRING?—Here's a terrific tip for all mothers-to-be! Go ahead and make your Easter suit as Easter is so early this year. You'll get a lot of wear out of it.

Make two skirt fronts, one, using a regular maternity pattern, the other, using your regular skirt pattern. After the baby is here, just change the skirt panels and no one is the wiser.

You may also try making a skirt with two large inverted pleats in front, these can be left unstitched at the waistline for extra ease. Later, just stitch in place, attach a new waistband and you'll be ready to go again.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. A. F. Slankard, Tulsa, Oklahoma is this week's winner of a Tailor Trix Pressing Board for this suggestion.

Mrs. C. says that to solve the problem of the slip showing under the short overblouses, dye an old white slip to match the skirt; it will hardly be noticeable if the blouse slips up.

"Dear Eunice Farmer:

"I have a jewel neckline dress that always creeps back and nearly chokes me. I have lowered the neckline, but that doesn't seem to be the answer." Mrs. H. W. J.

Dear Mrs. H. W. J.:

I would have suggested lowering the neckline first. If that doesn't work, the real problem is the length of the bodice back. If the bodice back is too short-waited, no matter what you do, your dress will pull back at the neck until there is enough room.

TIE STRING

After this, carefully tie a string tightly around your waist, raise your arms for the amount of ease you will need, mark just below the string and use these marks as your waistline guide. Always baste the bodice to the skirt and recheck before stitching.

Tax Deductions for Children Complicated

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: Would it be possible for you to make out a cost-of-living chart to show whether I can claim my two children for income tax dependents?

MARY FEELEY

I am divorced and have a girl aged 10 and a boy aged 12. I do not have to pay doctor or dental bills. The children go to a public school. They live with their mother who has since remarried, and lives in an average-to-better income home.

★ ★ ★

I contribute $1,300 a year ($25 a week) for both children, or $12.50 weekly for each child. I do not wish to confer with the children's mother as to how this money is spent, so I would appreciate a break-down of expenses for children this age. Also, would this vary much from year to year, as I have to pay support until they are of age?

I read your articles and find them very informative. If you cannot help me, do you know of someone who can?

E. T., Rochester, N.Y.

Dear E. T.: I can give you some basic cost-of-living estimates for children this age, But I advise you to talk your specific situation over with a tax expert. The following figures are based on the low-income scale, and were compiled by the Community Council of Greater New York:

For a girl, 6 - 11 years old: $471 a year. This estimate includes food, clothing, personal care, transportation, school expenses. It does NOT include the child's share of housing cost.

For a boy, 12 - 15 years old: $645. Same provisions as above.

If the child's share of housing were figured in, the total yearly sum needed for both children would be $1,359.

★ ★ ★

Of course these figures do not prove that the $1,300 you contribute toward your own children's support covers all their needs, one-third, or one-half.

★ ★ ★

That's why you need advice in dealing with an actual standard of living, in order to know what your tax deduction privileges really are.

COST INCREASED

The cost of raising children does indeed increase with the years. For instance, based on these same low-income estimates quoted above, a girl aged 12 - 15 years needs a minimum of $608 a year, not including cost of housing. And a boy 16 - 20 years, $777 a year.

So better be prepared. You mention that your children are living in an average-to-better income home environment, so take that into consideration in future planning.

Dear Miss Feeley: Please give me a budget for a single working girl. I am 23 years old. My take-home pay, after hospitalization and life insurance, is $50 a week. My monthly expenses are as follows:

Rent (sharing an apartment), $45; utilities, $9; oil heat, $3.75.

I have high doctor bills which I wish to get paid off. I am pretty well off. I am pretty well off where clothes are concerned. My car is old and while repairs are low, as my father helps me maintain it, I wish to save for a newer car.

J. K., Royal Oak, Mich.

Dear J. K.: One reason a new wage earner gets confused about money is that the pay check comes by the week while most bills come by the month. The easiest solution is to budget on a weekly basis.

That's when you see the money in your hand, and dividing it up into various categories makes more sense.

Try putting the proper sums for each budget item in different envelopes, plainly marked.

You can find these handy budget envelopes in many dime stores, or arrange your own set. If you budget this way for awhile, you'll soon get the knack of thinking in terms of monthly sums and can do a more formal kind of banking.

Now for the weekly split-up:

Rent, $11.25; household operating costs, including laundry, cleaning supplies, and utilities, $3.75; food, $8 — assuming you and your roommate cook some meals at home; clothing, $3.75; savings, $3; personal expenses, $5; miscellaneous, $2, payments toward the medical bills, $9; recreation, $2.25; car operating cost, $3.

If I were you, I'd put the idea of a newer car out of my mind for the present. You really need to build up a financial cushion first, and you don't have a great deal to save anyway.

As long as the old car will get you there and back — and your father's generosity holds out — try to make do.

★ ★ ★

Your gasoline allowance is so modest right now the car could not be over-worked!

After you pay off the doctor's bills, you'll have a little more leeway in distributing your salary. A little more for clothes, a little more for food, a little more for savings.

(You can write Mary Feeley in care of this newspaper. Enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply.)

Catchy Idea Not So Hot

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — American girls at the Olympic Village have hit on a new way of drying their hair.

Lacking conventional aides, speed skating ace Barbara Lockhart from Chicago has been shoving her head into an electric clothes drier.

"I hope the idea doesn't catch on," said one of her teammates.

Beautiful Blouses Back for Spring

The beautiful blouse is "in" for spring. The blouses include white organdies with crisp ruffling, the tucked blouse in soft fabrics, and the cowl-neck blouse that frames the neck in soft folds of fabric.

Bouncy Bubbles of Female Trouble

The bubble silhouette is "in" for little girls. A maker of infant and toddler clothes, says the bubble is similar to the rompers of yesteryear. It's made of cotton knit, woven cotton and stretch terry.

Flat bolsters have replaced both pillows and round bolsters as the favored finishing touch on the well-made bed.

The flat latex foam rubber bolsters have zippered slip-covers that match the bedspread. When you change bedspreads, you change covers on the foam rubber bolsters.

Most of the bolsters shown are rectangular, but some have curved or scalloped edges.

Polly's Pointers

One Gets You Ready

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — When moving to a new home, pack a suitcase or carton with just enough sheets, pillowcases, towels and washcloths to take care of the family's needs for the first night.

Mark the container so it is easily found on arrival. This will save going through several large boxes to assemble the things needed.

● When my daughter buys new slacks for her son, she immediately turns them inside out and irons on knee patches. This gives double protection and cuts down on mending. — G.S.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — I have a quick way to make a child's sweater from an adult's discarded one. Measure the child for length, waist and sleeve-length.

Cut a paper pattern and lay it on the big sweater. Cut through the front and back at the same time. I lay the pattern for the smaller sweater on the lower part of the big sweater and the ribbing of one is the ribbing for the other.

If there are no side seams to the adult sweater, the sleeves for the smaller one can be cut from what is left on the sides. Cut straight across the top from shoulder to shoulder of the new sweater and then cut the front neck lower.

Sew shoulder seams together, then put sleeves in the armholes and finally sew sleeves and body all together with small stitches on the sewing machine.

Remove binding from the neck of the big sweater and apply to the neck of the newer and smaller one. Leggings can be made from the sleeves of a large sweater.

Cut off the rounded tip at the top of the sleeves (the remainder of the shaped upper sleeve will be sewn together for a crotch seam) make a casing at the top for elastic to run through, and you have a pair of warm leggings for a youngster. — MRS. G.K.

Pupils Get Souvenirs From Artist

Herrington School PTA members participated recently in an interesting project of the fourth graders.

★ ★ ★

In November they drove the youngsters to the Detroit Book Fair at Wayne State University. Among the authors and illustrators who were there was Lovis Slobodkin who is both author and illustrator.

After the fair the children wrote to Slobodkin and received not only a letter in return, but a drawing of his, "Lady Horse."

The letter, the picture and all of Slobodkin's books in the school library are now on display. The PTA has given the library a check for $325—proceeds from the last school fair—and more of Slobodkin's books are sure to be in the order list.

Mrs. Peter L. Spring, librarian at Herrington School, and Kenneth Harbold, Moore Street, look over one of Lovis Slobodkin's books. Karen Monroe, Dudley Street, admires the amusing drawing, "Lady Horse" which author-illustrator Slobodkin gave the fourth graders.

Make a Cuddly Cape

For any evening or afternoon affair, this smart cape model by Connie Hines of CBS Television's "Mr. Ed" show is just right. It hugs your shoulders gently and falls into a wide soft swing in toward the back.

You can start knitting on Monday and wear it by Sunday. The instructions are very easy to understand and best of all, large needles were used. We imitated the mink by using the purl side of the cape on the outside and pooching it up so that it will resemble our little fuzzy friends as closely as possible.

Step by step, lining instructions are given right on the pattern so that you will achieve that professional look.

Instructions for this cape come in one size.

Pattern for Mohair Mink Cape No. 49 may be obtained by sending $1.00 by check, currency or money order to: Ursula duBois, The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Box 3307 Van Nuys, Calif. 91407.

Night Session Futile in Trial

Short Two Men on De La Beckwith Jury

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Despite a marathon night session, the jury for the Byron De La Beckwith murder trial was still minus one man and an alternate today.

The overtime period ordered by Circuit Court Judge Leon V. Hendrick, 69, in an effort to speed the process was the third straight night session.

Judge M. M. McGowan, who substituted for Hendrick at the hearing Wednesday night, cut it off at 10 p.m. after 14 men were called in a futile effort to seat the 12th juror.

Beckwith, 43, a fertilizer salesman from Greenwood, is accused of shooting Medgar Evers, a Negro civil rights leader, from ambush.

SUPRESS PREJUDICE

Interrogation centered on whether the prospective jurors could suppress any racial prejudice and decide the verdict on the evidence and the law.

Beckwith watched the preliminaries with a smile and occasional squirms of impatience. About 40 Negroes watched impassively from the spectator section.

★ ★ ★

During recesses, Beckwith moved freely about the courtroom, chatting with lawyers and deputies.

Whenever Dist. Atty. William L. Waller walked past, the defendant clapped him on the back.

In three days and nights of examination, 11 white jurors were accepted and 60 men rejected—three of them Negroes. Women cannot serve on state court juries.

Extraordinary security measures imposed at the start of the trial remained in effect. All spectators were searched before being allowed to enter. They also had to sign their names and addresses on an admission list.

Junior Editors Quiz on HISTORY

QUESTION: Why was Jefferson chosen to write the Declaration of Independence?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: During the historic days of the early part of 1776, the feeling swept through the 13 American Colonies that the time had come to declare the country an independent nation.

This feeling was especially strong in Virgina. On June 7, 1776, Richard Henry Lee of the Virginia delegation introduced a resolution in the Continental Congress calling for independence from Great Britain.

The Congress postponed voting on this until July 1. But since it seemed certain Lee's resolution would be adopted, Congress appointed a committee of five, among which were Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin and John Adams, to draw up a paper which would state the reasons for such a step.

Jefferson was not widely known at the time, but was an ardent patriot and a most accomplished writer.

He was also on the Virginia delegation and the committee entrusted the writing to him to help honor a colony so active in the cause.

By June 28, Jefferson had finished the paper — that paper which caught in wonderful phrases man's right to freedom and the pursuit of happiness. It was presented to Congress and by July 2, Lee's resolution was approved.

Then, on July 4, the final draft of the Declaration was adopted by the Congress.

Senate Starts Tax Debate; Administration Confident

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate begins debate today on the $11.6-billion tax cut bill with administration forces confident the measure will be passed overwhelmingly, probably late next week.

Several sharp floor fights are in prospect before the final vote, but the major rate cut provisions of the bill are expected to survive intact.

These provisions will mean substantial tax savings for practically every individual and corporate income taxpayer in the nation.

President Johnson has put the bill at the top of his legislative list along with civil rights and has made repeated public and private appeals for early action.

ADMINISTRATION CLAIM

The administration claims a tax cut would spur economic growth and cut into unemployment.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana called the Senate in two hours early to act on a Senate rules change and two treaties and then start the tax debate.

Mansfield said the Senate will meet early and sit late until the bill is passed. However, it is unlikely that any important votes will come this week.

★ ★ ★

Finance Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., was ready to open the debate with a speech explaining why he remained opposed to the bill despite some budget cuts achieved by Johnson.

Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, No. 2 Democrat on the committee and designated by Byrd as floor manager for the measure, was scheduled to follow with an explanation of the main features of the bill.

The finance committee made numerous changes in the House version of the legislation. The net effect is to raise the total tax reduction from $11.1 billion to $11.6 billion.

The Treasury yesterday released new tables showing what tax savings the committee's version would mean for a four-person family which files a return with itemized deductions.

★ ★ ★

The tax cut would be $82 for such a family with $5,000 income, $159 for one in the $7,500 bracket, $287 for one with $12,500 income, and $5,542 for a $100,000 family.

FEDERAL DEBT

In his prepared text, Byrd said federal taxes are too high and the reason is the federal debt which already exceeds $300 billion.

"The risks of massive debt and inflation incident to this tax reduction bill are inescapable," the Virginian asserted.

★ ★ ★

"I question that its an enactment at this time would contribute to sound and constructive progress."

Maharis Hits the Movie Road

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. — George Maharis has hit the road again, but this time its California Highway 111, not Route 66.

THOMAS

The ruggedly handsome actor late of television, has made the jump to movies and is starring in an adventure yarn called "The Satan Bug." It is being filmed in the canyons and on the highways of this desert resort by John Sturges, the "Great Escape" man.

The Greek-American is thoughtful and calculating about his career, as evidenced by his relations with his onetime "Route 66" employers. Maharis went that route with buddy Martin Milner for two years and half, attracting a large and demonstrative following among the younger crowd.

Circumstances caused Maharis to leave the television series, after which Glenn Corbett jumped into the codriver's seat. Those circumstances were stormy, and Maharis sketched his side of the dispute during a break in shooting.

WORKING 20 HOURS

"Within a month after leaving the hospital where I had been treated for hepatitis,'" he said, "they had me working in St. Louis 70 hours a week. This, despite their claims that they would make it easy for me if I came back to the series.

"That seemed to me like a strange way to recover—on the road. I lost complete faith in them (the producers). And I'm the kind of a guy who can't work for someone I've lost faith in.'"

★ ★ ★

He said that the best medical advice, including that of a doctor for the company, indicated that he should take a year to recover from the effects of hepatitis.

★ ★ ★

"And I did just that," he said. "I took off a whole year. The only work I did was some personals in connection with my records, a television version of Edward Albee's 'The American Dream' for David Susskind, and a Judy Garland show."

DIDN'T END

But the dispute with the "Route 66" makers didn't end. The company still claimed rights to his services. Opposing lawyers finally reached an agreement.

"I didn't pay them a cent to get out of the contract," he declared, "and I didn't give them any call on my services. The only concession I made was that I wouldn't star in any other television series as long as 'Route 66' was on the air." He added with a grin: "And now it's being dropped."

Maharis said he also cashed in on his residual payments, rather than wait until the show goes into syndication—" I just didn't want to have any more dealings with them."

Blue Chips Recover

Mart Up in Moderate Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market nudged irregularly higher early this afternoon in moderately active trading.

Gains of fractions to about a point outnumbered losers in the same range.

★ ★ ★

The market was at a standoff in early trading but showed no disposition to follow through yesterday's session with a further decline. Buying gradually crept in to blue chips which had been battered in the previous session.

Steels, Motors, chemicals, drugs and cigarette stocks showed a generally higher trend.

Some of the higher-priced "glamour" issues rebounded from recent sharp losses.

Airlines continued generally lower. Electrical equipments, oils and mail order-retails were mixed.

AP AVERAGE

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .1 at 290.4 with industrials up .2, rails up .1 and utilities off .1.

Leading chemicals, which were down sharply yesterday, recovered nicely. Gains of a point or thereabouts were posted for Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, du Pont and Eastman Kodak.

★ ★ ★

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Data-Control Systems rose about 3.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U. S. Government bonds were unchanged. Trading was moderate.

Women Due Better Car Service---Ford

By CHARLES C. CAIN
Associated Press Auto Writer

DETROIT — A high-ranking Ford Motor Co. official today urged auto dealers to provide better service, especially for feminine custmoers.

Said Lee A. Iacocca, Ford vice president and general manager of Ford Division, in an interview:

"Women have been getting more and more time-saving appliances over the years — dishwashers, automatic dryers and the like. They don't want to waste all the time they have saved by waiting for hours in some garage to get the car fixed.

"And no man wants his wife to hang around for hours waiting for car repairs."

Iacocca said one of his primary goals for Ford is an ever-improving service program.

"Dealers have got to provide quick service in good locations and they have to realize the public is more and more sophisticated," he said, continuing:

WANT SERVICE

"People are savvy on value. When they buy a car they want service with it. Department stores have proved this theory —they are giving service and making everything as convenient as possible for the customer.

"If people are not given the best of attention when they bring their car in for repairs or a routine checkup, they will go somewhere else. Dealers have got to realize this."

★ ★ ★

Iacocca said he was well satisfied with results of the test drive program which Ford inaugurated last summer. This was a 60-city campaign in which representative citizens were asked to test drive a new Ford for a few days.

★ ★ ★

"We found that after our test drive talks, one out of every four persons who had the car for a week's test drive bought it," he reported. "I think all our dealers now realize the full value of this program."

HELPS SALES

Iacocca still is convinced Ford's participation in racing, from the Indianapolis 500 to dirt track stock car races, is helpful to Ford sales.

He summed it up thusly:

"The improvements we make in our racing cars helps in the overall development of our production cars. Sure, you can't get the same engine in your car that is in the racing cars, but we say that in our advertising. However, many of the things developed through racing will show up in our cars."

★ ★ ★

Of the Indianapolis race last year in which Ford - Lotus entries finish second and seventh, he said:

★ ★ ★

"We went down there hoping to qualify. Then when we qualified we thought it would be fine if we just finished the race. The longer we were there, the more we wanted to win.

CAN'T COMPARE

"There is nothing that can compare with the Indianapolis atmosphere for testing cars. Our proving grounds can't do the same things that are done at Indianapolis. It's not the same acid test.

★ ★ ★

"The work at Indianapolis transmits a sense of urgency to everyone. The engineers have to fix or improve things in a hurry. Our experience at Indianapolis has had a revolutionary impact and you can bet there will be a lot of V-8 power there this year."

★ ★ ★

He concluded, "We're going back to Indianapolis too, but not with the old car. We want to have something new and we want to keep moving ahead."

There used to be a group of poker players in Seattle known as the Ifida club. The club slogan was "Ifida only not called."

JACOBY

Judging by the remarks after South finished going down one at four hearts, today's foursome could have qualified as bridge playing members.

South started out with, "Ifida just passed your three no-trump partner."

North said, "Ifida played the hand Ida made it."

West put in, "Ifida led anything but a spade you would have gone down at four hearts, just as South did."

All "Ifidas" were correct. When South played the hand he ruffed the king of spades, ran off a bunch of trumps and hoped for bad discards by East and West. The bad discards did not materialize and South lost four tricks.

He could have made the hand by setting up a spade in dummy as his tenth trick. He should start by ruffing that first spade.

Then he should lead a trump to dummy's eight, play the jack of spades and discard either a diamond or club. West would be in the lead and assuming that South had discarded a diamond, West would lead a club.

South would win that, lead another trump to dummy's nine spot, play the ten of spades, and discard a club.

West would be in the lead to cash a club trick, but South would ruff the next club and enter dummy with the jack of trumps. The nine of spades in dummy would then be his tenth trick.

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♥	Pass	Pass	Dble
Pass	2 ♣	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	3 ♣	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ K J 10 8 7 ♥ A ♦ K 5 4 3 ♣ A Q 6
What do you do?

A—Pass. You have forced your partner to bid twice and he has shown no strength at all.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three clubs your partner goes to two spades over your two hearts. What do you do now?

AFL Wraps Up Rich TV Package With NBC

Five-Year Pact Brings League $36 Million

New Contract Ends ABC Ties; Effective for 1965 Season

NEW YORK (AP)—After four years of travail the American Football League has reached major league status.

"The greatest day" in the history of the eight-team circuit came Wednesday with the signing of a $36 million, five-year television contract with the National Broadcasting Company.

The pact is effective with the 1965 season and replaces the current TV contract with the American Broadcasting Company which runs through the 1964 season for $2.3 million.

BIG SHARE

The $36 million, which breaks down into nearly $1 million yearly for each of the eight AFL clubs, compares to the record $28.2 million two-year television contract signed last week by the rival National Football League with the Columbia Broadcasting Company.

The NFL pact breaks down to slightly more than $1 million a year for each of the 14 teams in the older circuit which has been operating for 43 years.

★ ★ ★

"This is our greatest day," exclaimed an elated Billy Sullivan, president of the AFL and also of the Boston Patriots.

Commissioner Joe Foss and the other club owners in New York, Buffalo, Houston, San Diego, Denver, Oakland and Kansas City joined in the enthusiasm.

"This is another step forward for the AFL which has improved its position yearly since its formation in 1960," declared Foss who negotiated the pact with Carl Lindemann, Jr. vice president of sports for NBC.

"This contract puts all of our present clubs in the black and means we can really start thinking about expansion."

The commissioner disclosed that the AFL has received applications from four groups in Philadelphia as well as from those in Chicago, Los Angeles, Cincinnati, Columbus, Montreal, Portland, Ore., and Atlanta.

★ ★ ★

"It's great," said Cal Kunz, president of the Denver Broncos. "It's evidence that the television media recognize the AFL as a solid institution and it's another indication of solid acceptance of the AFL by the nation's fans."

At the NFL meeting in Miami Beach, Fla. there was no official comment from any club owner and Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner, said merely that "we are concerned only with our own National Football League and we are very happy."

Television Fills the Till

New Pro Football Loop Blossoms

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The American Football League is here to stay. That is the hard-to-swallow fact that owners of National Football League clubs had to admit today in the wake of the rival pro league's new $36 million television contract.

"The new television contract stabilizes the other league," said an NFL club official who wished to remain anonymous. "It gives them substance. Now they are big league."

The day when the two league champions may meet in a title playoff still may be far in the future. At least there was no inclination to hasten the day at the NFL meetings which end today.

NO TITLE PLANS

"We have no such plans," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle just as he had been saying for weeks and months.

Asked to comment on the new AFL contract, Rozelle said only, "We are concerned only with our own National Football League. And we are very happy."

The NFL had reasons to be happy, too, with its two-year $28.2 million television deal with the Columbia Broadcasting System. Each of the 14 clubs will get about $1 million.

However, the new AFL contract will bring each of its eight member teams approximately $900,000 for each of the next five years. A sliding scale will take care of additions if there is expansion. Undoubtedly the value of all pro football franchises leaped skyward in the last six days.

The players look forward to the happy prospect of watching the two leagues engage in an all-out bidding contest for talent. This will include more big bonus payments to college boys next fall. It also will include countless increases in salaries to the Veterans in the 1964 season.

"You ain't seen nothing yet," said one club observer. "Wait until they start chasing those college kids after next December's draft. Now is the time to raise your kid to be a football player."

FURIOUS BATTLE

The furious dollar bidding in the past few weeks gave CBS the NFL games and NBC the AFL as well as the college games and three of the New Year's Day bowl contests—the American Broadcasting Company will be out of the major football business after its current contract with the AFL expires following the 1964 season.

For the moment, ABC has a bargain with one more year at a reported $2.35 million on an AFL package that already has been sold for $35 million for the next five years.

★ ★ ★

Pro football will cost the television networks about $25 million this year. In addition to the $14.1 million for the NFL and $7.2 million for the AFL, the two title games, still open for bids, probably will be worth about $2 million each. A head-on conflict every Sunday afternoon is in prospect with each network showing pro doubleheaders from coast to coast.

The television news shadowed the normal routine at the NFL meetings.

★ ★ ★

Ordell Braase of the Baltimore Colts, new president of the NFL Players Association, appeared before the owners Wednesday and asked that the players be paid $100 a game for pre-season exhibition instead of the present $50. He also asked for player representation on the pension committee.

Hawks Put Young on Waivers

CHICAGO (AP) — Defenseman Howie Young apparently has come to the end of the line with the Chicago Black Hawks.

The club placed the pugnacious 26-year-old Young on the waiver list Wednesday night.

General manager Tommy Ivan said if no other National Hockey League team picks up Young for the $20,000 waiver price, the Hawks could do what they want with him.

★ ★ ★

He could be shipped to a farm club, probably Buffalo, or he could be made eligible to be bought by any minor league team.

"The decision to place him on waivers was made strictly on his play," said Ivan. "At present we have a better defenseman in Autry Erickson. The deadline on waivers is midnight Saturday."

★ ★ ★

Young missed practices without permission Tuesday. He showed up at a club meeting Wednesday and later was told he was on the waiver list.

He did not suit up for Wednesday night's game in Chicago Stadium with the Detroit Red Wings and was unavailable for comment.

U.S. HOPE — Still hoping to win a medal, the U.S. women's ski team, lead by Jean Saubert, American champion, will get into competition tomorrow. U.S. men failed in the downhill events and 30 kilometer cross country races.

Russian Women Triumph

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — A trio of sturdy Russians scored a record shattering 1-2-3 sweep in the women's 500-meter speed skating finals today as the tempo increased in the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

Americans again failed to win a medal, but a pair of U. S. girls, Jeanne Ashworth of Lake Placid, N. Y., and Jan Smith of Rochester, N. Y., tied for fourth in the speed skating, won by the Russians in Olympic record time.

U. S. TRAILS

The top U. S. hopes also trailed in the opening phases of the women's figure skating, an event the Americans once dominated, as Holland's favored Sjoukje Dijkstra stepped off to an early lead in the compulsory figures.

★ ★ ★

Likia Skolikova led the Russian sweep in the women's 500-meter speed skating, covering the 546.8 yards in the Olympic record time of 45 seconds flat.

She clipped nine-tenths of a second off the Olympic record set by Helga Haase of East Germany at Squaw Valley, Calif., four years ago and missed the world mark by a bare one-tenth of a second.

Irinia Yegorova and Tatyana Sidorova, two other husky daughters of Russia, also bettered the Olympic record in finishing second and third in 45.4 and 45.5, respectively.

Misses Ashworth and Smith were clocked in 46.2 for fourth place.

Miss Ashworth, a 25-year-old school teacher striving for a bronze medal, threw everything into her race and literally flung herself over the finish line.

She was cheered wildly by the crowd of 3,000 as she finished 50 yards ahead of Eiegrit Behrenz of Germany.

Pontiac's Chiefs Need Help in SVC Race

AP Photofax

NO SCORE — What appears to be a successful goal by the Red Wings, showing the puck inside the Chicago Black Hawks' net in the first period, was not counted by the officials. The Wings argued in vain. Detroit center Norm Ullman (white Jersey) is surrounded by Black Hawks Bobby Hull (9) Bill Hay (11), Elmer Vasko (4) at net and goalie Glenn Hall on the ice. The game ended in a 2-2 tie.

PCH Unit to Entertain Flint Five

Pontiac Central's hopes in the Saginaw Valley Conference can rise tomorrow night, but it will take victories by two teams that lost their last league games to improve the outlook.

The Chiefs dropped a 65-53 verdict to Saginaw in an important SVC contest last week that left them two losses behind their conquerors and Flint Central.

Tuesday night Saginaw had the tables turned on it by underdog Flint Southwestern, 83-63, and Friday the losing Trojans will entertain unbeaten Flint Central.

PCH, meanwhile, will have its hand full with Flint Southwestern will visit the Huron Street gym. A victory by the Chiefs and one for Saginaw will tighten the race considerably.

The orange-and-black local quintet still has another meeting with Saginaw here, while the Trojans also must visit Flint Central later.

IMPRESSES

Southwestern made a big impression on PCH Coach Fred Zittel Tuesday.

"It was (last night) the best team I've seen all season," Zittel commented yesterday. He praised the Colts' aggressiveness.

"They hit the backboards very well," he added.

The Central coach said the Chiefs will have to work hard on defense to stop the Colts' sharp shooting offense. Leading the attack are Ray Parks, under twin figures only once all year, and 6-3 center Tim Reasoner who has scored 23 in the last two games.

Mike Ramsey and Larry Gillis are the starting forwards and they both contributed double figure efforts against Saginaw. Rick Yuille is the other guard (with Parks).

Team co-captain and last year regular Mac Farmer is the No. 6 man and he had his best game against Saginaw with 15 tallies.

PCH has played Southwestern only twice — once home and once away. The Chiefs won both games but only with clutch efforts.

No changes in the starting lineup are contemplated for PCH, although Lessel Hanspard has been seeing more action in the pivot during practice this week. Walter Moore, the first forward reserve, has been ill and may not play.

A 6:30 p.m. reserve game will precede the varsity encounter.

Finnish Speedster 1st in Olympic Ski Run

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — Finland grabbed the second gold medal of the ninth Winter Olympic Games today when Eero Maentyranta, a 26-year-old border customs employe, won the gruelling 30-kilometer ski race.

The winning time for the 18.6-mile course was 1 hour, 30 minutes, 50.7 seconds. Americans finished far back.

FAR AHEAD

The wiry Finnish world champion crossed the line more than a full minute ahead of the runner-up, Harald Groenningen, a Norwegian farmer who was a doubtful starter until the last minute. Groenningen was clocked in 1:32.02.3.

In third place came Igor Voronchikhin of the Soviet Union, in 1:32.15.8, followed by Janne Stefansson of Sweden, in 1:32.34.8. Sweden's Sixten Jernberg, who won the title at the Squaw Valley, Calif., Olympics in 1960, finished fifth in 1:32.39.6.

Austria's Egon Zimmerman lived up to his favorite's role today, flashing down the men's downhill ski course in 2 minutes, 18.16 seconds for the gold medal in one of the Winter Olympic's top events.

France's Leo Lacroix was second in 2:18.90, with Germany's Wolfgang Bartels third in 2:19.48.

U.S. FAR BACK

The four Americans were well down the list, with hopes Bud Werner and Billy Kidd even finishing behind Ni Orsi of Stockton, Calif., who was timed in 2:21.59. Kidd of Stowe, Vt., was clocked in 2:21.82 and Werner, of Steamboat Springs, Colo., in 2:22.05. Chuck Ferries of Houghton, Mich., finished in 2:-23.00.

The second day of the big ice and snow carnival started under ideal conditions, with the temperature at 5 degrees. The skies were clear.

★ ★ ★

A total of 69 skiers from 18 nations took off on the exhausting race, staged over two loops on the hard-packed track west of Seefeld.

The downhill race was the big event of the second day opened by president Adolf Scherf of Austria in colorful ceremonies before a crowd of 60,000 in the scenic Bergisel Ski Jump Stadium on the edge of town.

Chicago 1-Point Behind

Wings Tie Hawks, 2-2

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings gave a big boost to their hated National Hockey League rivals — the Montreal Canadiens—last night by spilling the Chicago Black Hawks out of first place for the first time since Oct. 13.

It was only a 2-2 tie for the fourth place Wings but the Hawks needed a victory to keep pace with the surging Habs. The tie put Montreal in first by itself with a one-point lead over Chicago. The Canadiens edged Toronto, 2-1.

Detroit upped its margin over the idle fifth place New York Rangers to three points but the Rangers can make up two of them tonight if they defeat Boston.

It was the second straight tie for the Hawks, who have won only two of their last eight games.

Chicago protected a 1-0 lead—on Bobby Hull's 33rd goal of the season—for more than 30 minutes. Then the Hawks held a 2-1 margin until only six minutes remained in the game after league leading scorer Stan Mikita got his 25th goal.

★ ★ ★

But Detroit's Eddie Joyal got his 10th goal and his fifth against the Hawks, with a short backhander when he was facing away from the net.

FIRST GOAL

Red Wing rookie Paul Henderson got his first NHL goal with barely six minutes to play to produce the deadlock.

Each team disputed one goal. In the first period Detroit argued that it was deprived of a score when it had three men on the Chicago net while Chicago was shorthanded, but referee Art Skov said that the puck did not cross the goal line.

In the third period, Kenny Wharram carried the puck from behind the Detroit net and pushed it through goalie Roger Crozier into the cage, but Skov said the whistle had blown first.

Crozier finished with 33 saves and goalie Glenn Hall of Chicago with 25.

★ ★ ★

Montreal Edges Leafs, 2-1

By The Associated Press

For Montreal, the way to the top of the National Hockey League was Bobby Rousseau's stomach.

It was Rousseau's goal with less than four minutes remaining that boosted the Canadiens' to a 2-1 victory over Toronto Wednesday night and into sole possession of first place.

Rousseau, rookie of the year in the NHL two years ago, scored on a rebound of his own shot. The puck, however, rebounded off his stomach.

So now Montreal is in first place alone, a status it hasn't enjoyed since Oct. 12, the fourth day of the season. Chicago had been in first place, alone or tied, since Oct. 20.

Toronto had taken a 1-0 lead on Jim Pappin's goal early in the second period. Dave Balon tied the contest later in that frame. Rousseau's winning point came at 16:20 of the third.

Clarkston After 'Rebound'

West Bloomfield will meet a stern challenge Friday night as the Lakers strive to prove they belong in the upper reaches of the Wayne-Oakland cage chase.

The Lakers will visit Northville in the feature game of a full league schedule that also will see Clarkston trying to bounce back at Milford's expense.

The Wolves were dumped for the first time this season by Holly last week, and saw their lead trimmed to one game over runner-up Bloomfield Hills.

While Milford is visiting Clarkston, Hills will be host to winless Brighton. Holly at Clarenceville will complete the schedule.

ON STREAK

West Bloomfield has won four straight in the conference and now rests in third place after a steady rise in the standings from sixth place.

★ ★ ★

The addition of 6-2 Rick Hacht for rebounding power has been one reason behind the climb; and Dan Greig has provided the consistent scoring punch which was lacking earlier.

Northville currently is fourth with Holly and the Mustangs will be out to tie the Lakers for third place with a win.

Holly's chances for a win at Clarenceville are good, and it appears likely to stay in the race. The Broncos will welcome Woody Pierce to the lineup as the second semester begins.

Clarkston's Ken Miskin tied the school scoring record last week with 19 field goals for 38 points, but he was all the league leaders had on offense against Holly.

The Wolves are 7-1 in the race and had an eight-game winning streak (overall) go down the drain in the defeat.

Milford's Redskins snapped a four-game losing streak by winning last Friday. They are presently tied for sixth place with Clarenceville's Trojans.

★ ★ ★

Bloomfield Hills' coach Hal Henderson welcomes Rich Kleinfelder and Jon Hipps as varsity eligibles with the new semester. Both are junior transfer students.

Golf Classic Leader on Familiar Course

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Tommy Jacobs was about to drive away from his house Wednesday when his wife came out and told him a load of furniture had just arrived.

Jacobs wasn't driving away in the ordinary sense. He had a golf club in his hands, not a steering wheel.

★ ★ ★

His house, you see, is on the seventh tee of the Bermuda Dunes Country Club. This is one of four courses being used in the $50,000 Palm Springs Golf Classic, and Jacobs is one of 128 professionals playing in the 90-hole event.

Anyway, when a pile of furniture arrives, it usually sets a man to hoping a pile of money will similarly materialize, so the furniture can be paid for.

Jacobs didn't say whether economic necessity motivated his subsequent behavior Wednesday, but it's a fact his golf improved substantially shortly after he played through his front yard.

FIVE BIRDIES

Tommy shot five birdies in the next 12 holes and finished the round with a six-under-par 66. This put him in a first-place tie with Charlie Sifford, who got his 66 at La Qunita Country Club.

Par is 72 at all four courses. Thirty-eight players shot 71 or better Wednesday, but Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus were not among them.

★ ★ ★

Bob Goalby and New Zealander Bob Charles were just a stroke back of the leaders at 67. Bob Rosburg was alone at 68. A stroke farther back were eight players — Don January, Doug Sanders, Art Wall Jr., Jerry Pittman, Johnny Pott, Ted Kroll, Tom Nieporte and Bob Harrison.

Palmer, golf's leading money winner in 1963, shot a 78, his worst round in at least four years. Nicklaus, the defending champion here, had a 73.

Scotts Take Lead in Rochester Loop

The Scotts took over first place in the Rochester Avon Youth Service Recreation Association men's basketball league Monday night with a 61-46 win over the Korompay Rockets.

★ ★ ★

Dave Kraft hit 28 points to lead the winners' attack. The Scotts built a 26-16 halftime margin in dissolving their league tie with the losers.

★ ★ ★

Dwight Swords had 23 for the losers. The other loop contest saw the Webber Bulls take Harmon, 72-70, as Gordon Montross tallied 24 points.

Visiting Cagers Get Hot

Loyola Five Trims Broncos, 101-64

By The Associated Press

Three out-of-state teams, including 10th-ranked Loyola of mark in totaling 313

Loyola swamped Western Michigan, 101-64; Defiance, Ohio, dumped Olivet, 102-57; and Findlay, Ohio, outlasted Lawrence Tech, 110-90.

The only Michigan quintet to win against an out-of-state opponet was Hope which defeated Concordia, Ill., 78-59. In another game, Michigan Tech ended an eight-game losing streak against Northern Michigan, 85-82, at Houghton.

RETURNS

Loyola celebrated the return of ailing star Vic Rouse in jumping to a 50-34 halftime margin over Western. The Broncos played without ace scorer Manny Newsome, who is injured. Rouse scored 12 points and grabbed nine rebounds in a 20-minute appearance. The Ramblers got 23 points each from guards Ron Miller and John Egan as they rolled to their 13th victory in 16 games. Ajac Triplett paced Western with 17 points, and Dave Anderson added 16.

★ ★ ★

Defiance handed Olivet its 11th loss in 12 games as the victors hit on 52.6 per cent of their floor shots to 32.2 per cent for the Comets. Mike Rabbers 16 points paced Olivet.

Findlay ended a two-game losing streak in whipping LIT. Al Cohill of the Oilers and Bob Alexy of the Blue Devils shared shared scoring honors with 27 points each. Gerry Wnuk added 20 points for LIT which now has split 20 games. Findlay has won nine of 14 contests.

★ ★ ★

A pair of free throws by substitute center Frank Wythe in the final 37 seconds gave Michigan Tech its first victory over Northern since the 1958-59 season.

★ ★

Tech blew a 12-point cushion halfway through the second half and saw the lead change hands several times before Wyte connected on a one-and-one attempt. Bill Massey, who led Tech with 25 points, tossed in the last point to provide the final margin.

Dave Cade led Northern, which trailed at the half, 45-36, with 25 points. The victory was the third for Tech in 10 games. Northern stands 9-5.

Huskies Meet League Foe Berkley

PNH Eyes 16th Straight Home Court Win

Pontiac Northern's Huskies will be gunning for their 16th home-court victory in a row when they take the floor tomorrow night against Berkley.

The PNH quintet launched the impressive string of home wins early in the 1962-63 season, adding three to the list this season.

The game is a big one for the Huskies, since a win, plus a defeat for Farmington, would leave them alone atop the Inter-Lakes League standings.

The Huskies and Falcons have compiled 4-1 league marks.

Farmington will journey to Walled Lake for a scrap with the Vikings, the team responsible for the Falcons lone league setback.

The other game on the I-L slate will find Southfield at Waterford.

EARLIER WIN

PNH disposed of Berkley in easy fashion in an earlier session, 88-60, and the Bears will enter the game as an underdog tomorrow.

Walled Lake holds down the third spot on the league ladder and the Vikings need a win to remain in the race.

★ ★ ★

Waterford is winless in loop play and owns a season mark of 1-7. The Skippers lack height, but they showed a lot of spunk in the 67-60 loss to Walled Lake last week.

★ ★ ★

Oxford and Romeo will tangle in a Tri-County League basketball game Friday while Dryden and Almont will meet the top Southern Thumb League contenders.

Almont will visit unbeaten, and third-ranked (Associated Press weekly Class C poll) New Haven; Dryden has a home date with defending champion Capac.

Other Southern Thumb contests will pit Anchor Bay at Brown City and Armada at Memphis. A second Tri-County tilt has Lapeer visiting L'Anse Creuse at Mount Clemens.

Oxford, Romeo and L'Anse Creuse all have 1-3 logs in the Tri-County race. Should Lapeer pick up half a game on idle Waterford Kettering, the leader, by beating L'Anse, then the Romeo-Oxford winner will have sole possession of third place.

Wingate Leads

Scoring Race Hectic

The basketball scoring race in Oakland County is slowly settling down to a two-man scrap.

Ralph Wingate of Emmanuel Christian continues to lead the pack with an average of 25.1 for 11 games, with Bruce McDonald of Rochester running a close second with a mark of 24.7.

Wingate walked off the 1962-63 scoring crown with an average of 23.8, and he has shown no sign of faltering in his bid for a second title.

The slender forward pumped in 54 points in two outings last week to run his season total to 277.

McDonald came up with 52 markers in two contests last week to boost his point total to 198.

Pontiac Central's Mel DeWalt collected only 18 points against Saginaw last Friday and his average slipped a notch to 22.2.

SF Warriors Making Most of Chance

By The Associated Press

San Francisco's Warriors might lose basketball games, but they're not letting anyone beat them at opportunism.

The Warriors have played two games since Los Angeles' Jerry West broke a thumb and haye won both while the Lakers have lost two.

That success at opportunism has pushed the Warriors to a point just 1½ games behind the first-place Lakers in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

San Francisco picked on Boston Wednesday night for a 100-92 decision. Philadelphia downed Los Angeles 102-97 in the first game of the Boston doubleheader.

The Warriors vaulted into second place in the west, one-half game ahead of St. Louis which wasn't so opportunistic, losing to New York 105-104 on Johnny Egan's last-minute basket.

As usual, Wilt Chamberlain provided the power for San Francisco. Chamberlain scored 28 points and snared 22 rebounds.

County Ski Racers Score at Nub's Nob

Bloomfield Hill's Geoff Smith continued his fine showings in the U. S. Ski Association Central division Junior Alpine Region III point meets last weekend at Nub's Nob.

★ ★ ★

Smith finished fourth in the Class 1 Boys High School division giant slalom although adverse weather and slope conditions limited the contestants to only one run.

Cheryl Luther of Rochester overcame the difficult conditions, too, to capture second place in the Class IV girls slalom race.

She was only one-tenth of a second behind Cass City's Lynn Atwell, the winner at :38.5.

★ ★ ★

Brother Don Luther had a ninth place finish in the Class I boys giant slalom. The conditions prevented the boys from also competing in the downhill event.

In the same class, Hazel Park's Larry Haefeli came in fourth and Robert Clark of Royal Oak was sixth.

LAST MEET

Points scored in the weekly and regional Class III meets count toward qualification for the divisional championships. The last point meet prior to the regional is scheduled for Sunday at Boyne Highlands.

★ ★ ★

Other local competitors that scored last weekend in a bid for a berth at the divisonal meet include Dick Wood and Mike Kraatz of Bloomfield Hills, Dave Clark of Royal Oak and Paul Magnell of West Bloomfield.

Clark was sixth in the high school boys Class I race. Kraatz tied for 16th, Wood was 21st and Magnell 23rd.

West Bloomfield's Laura Carter had a seventh place finish in the Class I High School girls slalom and Cheryl Smith of Bloomfield Hills equaled that in the Class II event.

★ ★ ★

Robert Trepp of Clarkston and Hills' Richard Kraatz were sixth and seventh respectively in the Class II boys independent giant slalom.

Marlon Jarosz of Clarkston had the ninth best time in the girls' Class III slalom.

IN RUNNING — Bloomfield Hills' skier Geoff Smith is making a strong bid to qualify for the junior Alpine central division championships next month based on his showings in the weekly point meets in northern Michigan.

Third Annual Event Brings State Entries

Slope Is Lengthened With Hopes of Longer Distances

Competitive jumping will return to the area Sunday afternoon and a new distance record is expected as Mt. Grampian holds its third annual Ski Jump Meet.

The sponsoring Grampian Ski Club has lengthened the hill this year and has hopes hat a 120-foot jump may be achieved.

The winning distance two years ago was 77 feet. For the second meet, the club members added 20 feet to the slide and steepened the landing area. This led to a 96-foot leap last year.

Detroiter Earl Hill will be back to defend his title and try to better the distance record he set.

The 3 p.m. starting time is expected to find entrants from Wisconsin, Illinois and Ohio vying with the Michigan competitors.

An Austrian jumper will also attempt to top he field. He is George Janes, a Michigan State University student.

Among the other entries are Flint's Clint Beach, Toledo's Carl Holubitz and Berkley's Walt Hyry. Beach won the event the first year.

Local competitors attempting to hit the 120-foot limit will be John Grames, John Tessmer, Carl Nolan, and Ralph and Don Guthrie.

Cold Spell Improves Local Skiing Outlook

The cold spell early this week enabled many local ski resorts to manufacture snow and improved the outlook this weekend for good skiing.

Despite the forecast of warmer weather today, most areas report good skiing on fair-to-good bases. Last weekend's wind, however, cleared some runs while leaving others firmly packed.

Pine Knob reports conditions are good-to-very good with hopes of making more snow tonight. One chairlift was running this morning and both will be operating if more snow is made.

Summit Ski area also reports a good base and all main slopes open with good skiing. Resort officials emphasize the area is open to the general public.

No local ski areas are closed. The state report:

Prep Skiing Meet Attracts 17 Teams

Seventeen teams have entered Saturday's Interscholastic Invitational Skiing Meet set for Mt. Holly. Four entrants had an abreviated meet yesterday in warmup for the weekend.

Waterford Kettering's girls team and West Bloomfield's boys squad took victories on a shortened, icy course.

The Lakers finished second to Kettering on the girls' run while Pontiac Central took second among the boys' teams. Kettering was third on the latter course and Waterford Township was third in the girls' race.

The Kettering girls, led by Stephanie McKenna, are expected to contend for the team championship Saturday along with Bloomfield Hills, Detroit Thurston and West Bloomfield.

Hills is the defending boys' champion and is favored to repeat. Berkley and Walled Lake's male entries could figure in the title picture, also.

Berkley is the defending girls' champion team.

The races Saturday will begin at 11 a. m. using separate 24-28 gate courses for the girls and boys. Two runs will be made and a combined time figured for the top six finishers.

Both team and individual champions will be crowned. Bloomfield Hills' Geoff Smith is the defending champion and favored to repeat, although teammate Dick Wood and Pontiac Central's Dick Gorman may push him for the honors.

★ ★ ★

Helen Foa of Berkley is not defending her girls' title. Cheryl Smith, sister of Geoff, West Bloomfield's Cathy Stanker, and Laura Carter, Kettering's Miss McKenna, and Waterford's Debbie McNair are strong contenders this year.

PCH's Gorman and Miss Stanker of the Lakers were the individual winners yesterday.

One bright spot for Cranbrook has been the play of winger Dick Moon, who has 17 points to rank among the top five scorers in the league.

Teammate Tom Pfaff is among the top ten with 10 points. Cranbrook has only one more home game following Monday's contest.

Teen to Appeal Court Verdict

Test on Waterford's Antiloitering Rule

An attorney for a youth found guilty yesterday of violating Waterford Township's disorderly persons ordinance, said he would appeal the Justice Court decision.

Mike Novak, 17, of 1133 Holbrook, Waterford Township, tried on a charge of loitering at the Pontiac Mall, was sentenced to three days in jail, two years probation, probationary costs of $15 and $15 court costs.

Novak and Larry Woods, 19, of 3570 W. Hospital were arrested last Thursday on the same charge.

Woods pleaded guilty to the charge at yesterday's trial and received the same sentence as Novak except for seven days in jail rather than three.

In both cases, the judge applied the time spent in jail awaiting trial as fulfillment of the jail element of the sentence. Both youths are free now, with Novak on $100 appeal bond.

The trial was the first test of the ordinance adopted nearly a year ago by the Township Board to combat mounting instances of youths loitering at business places.

Police said that the stretch of road is dangerous because there is no shoulder and the banks come right to the roadway.

Eye Detroit Transit Study

A continuing population growth in the Detroit metropolitan area demands study of a possible rapid transit system, Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, declared in Washington today.

He was addressing a national conference on urban passenger transportation, sponsored by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber wants to see passenger transportation modes improved in urban areas as a stimulus to trade and commerce in the cities.

SEEK SOLUTION

The conference was called to learn what might be done toward this end.

"Hopefully, a proposed new Detroit area transportation study will add many new dimensions to the knowledge of transportation system planning and construction," said Hamlin.

"With the continued expansion of population in the metropolitan area, a closer look will be taken at the future importance of rapid transit," he added.

The proposed study will again bring state and various local officials together to tackle a common problem, he said.

Bill to Curb Fast Sales to Housewife

LANSING (AP)—A bill drops into the legislative hopper today which could cramp the style of the door-to-door supersalesmen who talk housewives into buying things they can't afford.

The bill by Sen. Charles Youngblood, D-Detroit, would allow four days during which the man of the house could help decide whether to close the deal.

★ ★ ★

The buyer could rescind the contract within four days unless the goods had been delivered to the home, and the seller would have to make a full refund or face misdemeanor charges.

"This is our way of putting into law the old saying that a woman always has a right to change her mind," said Youngblood.

ENGLISH LAW

He is taking a leaf from the lawbooks of England, where by Easter a new law, also containing a four-day "cooling-off period", is expected to take effect.

Like the English bill, Youngblood's proposal is not aimed at reputable dealers. "No legitimate merchant has anything to fear from this bill," he said.

★ ★ ★

Youngblood said his attention to high-pressure selling was attracted by a housewife who purchased home awnings from a door-to-door salesman.

When her husband came home that evening, she learned that the materials used in the awnings she had bought would not suffice for their home, Youngblood said. The couple could not back out of the deal.

"You can call them and tell them to keep the merchandise," said Youngblood, "but you're still liable—the company can still make you pay for it."

Sentence of Pontiac Judge

School for Traffic Violators

By JIM LONG

Motorists who ignore Pontiac traffic signs and traffic signals will be going back to school soon.

Classes for such drivers will begin Wednesday in the courtroom of Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCallum.

Judge McCallum established the school after becoming alarmed over rise in traffic sign and signal violations.

★ ★ ★

He said that 10 of the 60 traffic tickets issued daily in Pontiac involve drivers who ignored traffic signals.

FATAL ACCIDENTS

He noted that two of the 13 fatal accidents in Pontiac in 1963 were caused by violations of traffic signs and signals.

Of the 781 tickets issued in December, he said 231 were for sign and signal violations. The drivers were responsible for 41 accidents.

"For the time being, the hour-long sessions will only be for those who disregard these safety measures," said the jurist.

★ ★ ★

Last week, Judge McCallum ordered such violators into court, and if found guilty, fined them $20, a $15 increase over the regular fine for either of the offenses.

REVISED PROCEDURE

He revised the usual procedure on these two offenses and directed that all tickets for the violations be written to show that a courtroom appearance is necessary. Previously, a fine could be mailed in.

Judge McCallum said he has discontinued the $20 fine because he realizes that it presents a financial hardship to some.

"The court does not need the money," McCallum said. "I just think that these violators will get more out of a lesson in safety than if they are hit with a big fine."

★ ★ ★

Second offenders will have their drivers license suspended for an indefinite period, according to McCallum.

EACH WEDNESDAY

The drivers education course will be held each Wednesday from 7 to 8 p. m. and every third Saturday at 10 a. m. for those who work and can not make it during the week. It will be conducted by a policeman.

While the school is cheaper than paying the $20 fine, it will still cost a violator $10—$5 fine, $2 probation fee and $3 for the school operation.

"Something had to be done and I think the school is the answer," said McCallum.

★ ★ ★

"Most of the violators seem to be conscientious people who can't believe they are doing something wrong when they ignore a traffic sign."

Bill Seeks Raises for State Officials

LANSING (AP)—Rep. Joseph Gillis, D-Detroit, Wednesday introduced two bills to raise the pay of Michigan's lieutenant governor and five key lawmakers.

One would double the $7,000 salary of the speaker of the House, who now gets the same pay as the other lawmakers. Majority and minority leaders of both houses would get $2,500 in addition to their base pay as lawmakers.

★ ★ ★

The other bill would fix a $14,000 annual wage for the lieutenant governor, whose pay is not now set by statute but who now gets $11,250, including expenses.

'All Roads Lead to Kenya,' but Kenya Believe Wilson?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—It looks like all roads will soon lead to Nairobi.

Shirley MacLaine's already gone there to visit her favorite leading man, Robert Mitchum, who's filming "Mr. Moses" in the elephant and lion country near Lake Naivasha—with beautiful, nudiful Carrol Baker, one of the new Sex Symbols, as his current leading lady.

WILSON

And now Carroll's husband, Jack Garfein, is flying to Nairobi any day to give his wife some company in the lonely jungle, where they play the Elephant Game with real elephants.

Shirley went, it seems, because she always wanted to go on a safari. Her husband, Steve Parker, who's in business in Japan, flew from Tokyo to Hollywood to join her, then issued a statement saying, "Shirley has gone to Kenya to be with our pal Bob Mitchum."

Jack Garfein said he's going because all communication with Kenya's difficult due to the African army mutinies.

"I haven't been able to get through to Carroll," he said. "She was hoping to go on a safari for a week, too. Everything's fine between us. She has said in interviews that an actress must be attracted to her leading man to be able to play love scenes with him. I'm not concerned if she may have had dinner with Mitchum. I just think due to the political unrest, I should be with my wife."

Do-It-Yourself Delivery

FLINT (AP) — Melvin L. Brooks delivered a baby by telephone.

There wasn't time for Jack Myers, a neighbor, to get his wife, Cynthia, to a hospital Tuesday night, and Dr. C. R. Gumpper said he couldn't get to the Myers home in time either.

Brooks, who had been called in to baby-sit with the Myers' three children, followed instructions for delivery procedure telephoned by Dr. Gumpper.

★ ★ ★

The instructions were taken by Mrs. Brooks, who in turn called them upstairs to her husband.

ASSISTANT

Brooks was assisted by Myers.

Myers said Brooks was calm all the time and added, "It's a good thing somebody was calm."

"It was a boy — a beauty." Brooks said.

★ ★ ★

The mother and baby were taken to McLaren General Hospital where they were reported doing fine.

A sea canyon, 600 miles long, 10 miles wide and a half-mile deep was recently discovered off southeast Africa.

Oswald's Mother Ties Proof to Questioning Probe Witnesses

DALLAS (AP) — The mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused slayer of President Kennedy, and her lawyer say they won't be able to accept findings of the Warren commission unless they can question its witnesses.

They talked to newsmen yesterday as further mental tests were given Jack Ruby, who killed Oswald two days after Kennedy was assassinated last Nov. 22. One source reported doctors found no organic brain damage.

Mrs. Marguerite Oswald and her New York lawyer, Mark Lane, said they will continue a search "for facts that will determine the guilt or innocence" of her son although their request to cross-examine Warren commission witnesses has been denied.

★ ★ ★

Oswald, 24, was arrested shortly after the assassination and charged with shooting both Kennedy and a Dallas policeman.

SHOT OSWALD

Ruby, 52, a Dallas strip joint operator, shot Oswald as officers started to move the prisoner from the city to county jail.

Mrs. Oswald said again yesterday that evidence against her son was circumstantial and "No one saw Lee fire the gun."

Lane said: "I have very serious doubts as to Oswald's guilt."

★ ★ ★

He said on the basis of evidence released by Dist. Atty. Henry Wade two days after the shooting there was no case against Oswald. This information was false or contradictory and it left many questions unanswered, he said.

NOT QUESTIONED

Lane said the FBI had not questioned all the persons who could give evidence and added:

"I believe the FBI adopted the theory Oswald assassinated the President and that Oswald acted alone."

He and Mrs. Oswald released letters from J. Lee Rankin, general counsel for the commission, stating it was not advisable for Lane to represent Mrs. Oswald before the commission or have access to the commission's material.

Lane said he and Mrs. Oswald would intensify their efforts to appear before the commission.

Sheriff's deputies escorted Ruby to a Dallas neurological clinic for a second straight day. He spent about four hours there.

Seemingly calm as he passed reporters and cameramen, Ruby apologized to one for not answering questions the day before.

"Yesterday I was nervous and didn't expect you guys," he said.

Paraders Mark Start of Mardi Gras Season

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Mask paraders take to Mobile's streets tonight as the Mardi Gras season gets under way.

A 10-float parade, sponsored by the Order of the Polka Dots, gets the annual pre-Lenten celebration under way.

Everybody who wants a Wildcat, please stand up.
Everybody who wants a Skylark, please stand up.
Everybody who wants a Riviera, please stand up.

Now that everybody's standing, let's all go to the Buick Sports Car Rally.

Really.

It would be a shame to waste this chance to drive one of Buick's lively sport models, wouldn't it? Especially considering your Buick dealer's so close, and the price is so nice. That's what the Sports Car Rally is all about. And they're all luxurious enough to make you wonder why anybody'd settle for a two-seater. A finely tuned production 340 hp Wildcat with a skilled driver scored the highest miles per gallon in the economy test of Class I—high performance V-8's—at the Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona Beach, Florida. (So who's surprised? Not Wildcat owners.)

IKE STILL LIKED—Some 3,000 Republicans gave their beloved champion, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, a rousing reception last night when he stepped from behind a curtain to the speaker's table at Michigan's "Dinner With Ike" at Cobo Hall in Detroit. Eisenhower was the star attraction amidst a galaxy of GOP speakers linked with many such dinners across the nation by a closed-circuit telecast.

Ike Calls on GOP to Go to the People

By JIM DYGERT

DETROIT — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower last night called upon Republicans throughout the nation to "go directly to the people with the nation's major problems" and furnish them with a method for doing it.

Eisenhower proposed a system of "party-to-people panels to conduct forums, public discussions and round tables, all across the country."

It would be an all-out, nationwide program to establish "a two-way political avenue of understanding and cooperation," he said.

★ ★ ★

His proposal came in a seven-minute speech at Cobo Hall where some 3,000 party faithful, including an estimated 500 from Oakland County, gathered around $100-a-plate dinners to see and hear Ike in person.

STAR ATTRACTION

He was speaking as the star attraction among a galaxy of leading Republicans from among whom the GOP's 1964 presidential nominee will no doubt be chosen.

The others spoke from cities across the nation in a closed-circuit 'teleganza' connecting up 22 GOP "Go-Day" dinners.

They included Gov. Romney, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Sen. Barry Goldwater, Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Their blasting of the incumbent Democratic Administration and exhortation of Republicans to a victory effort in 1964 are reported in stories on page B-4.

Eisenhower's speech climaxed a two-day visit to Detroit during which he praised Romney, disagreed with Goldwater, indicated he'd like to see Michigan State University President John Hannah run for the U.S. Senate, and said he would name no personal preference for his party's presidential nomination.

He departed Detroit this morning, leaving Michigan's GOP infused with enthusiasm and determination and richer by several thousand dollars.

Similar Plan in State Party

Michigan Version Is Launched by Elliot

Michigan Republicans were ready to move today to implement former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's proposal last night for "party-to-people" forums on political issues.

State GOP Chairman Arthur G. Elliott last night issued instructions to start moving machinery that already had been poised to establish a similar system of public political meetings.

In fact, Republicans privately expressed surprise over the similarity of Eisenhower's suggestion to the state GOP's plans for next year as part of Gov. George Romney's "citizen participation" program.

A spokesman for the state Republican party said such a plan had been under discussion for some time.

BIRMINGHAM MAN

He said it had been proposed to Elliott by James Dickerson, a Birmingham Republican who has announced his candidacy for U.S. Congress from the new 19th District.

Dickerson, who is assistant to the chancellor of Oakland University, was active in an attempt to start a similar program on the local level in the Birmingham - Bloomfield area last summer.

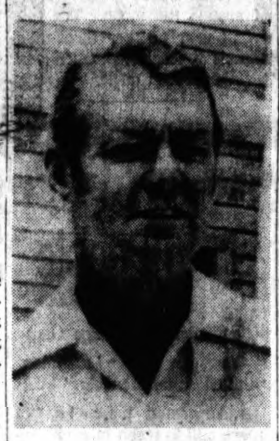

The local program, initiated by Robert Lowry when he was chairman of the 3rd District GOP, fell by the wayside, however, when Lowry moved to New York at the end of July.

Philosophy behind the local program was to bring citizens in closer contact with the Republican officials and legislators they elect, thus giving them a more effective voice and participation in politics, legislation and government.

IKE'S PLAN

The same philosophy seemed to be behind Eisenhower's proposal—bringing the problems and issues to the people so that they will produce the votes and the support to solve and resolve them.

Republicans at Detroit's Cobo Hall, where Eisenhower made the proposal, said the former two-term president apparently came up with the idea independently of Michigan Republicans.

ALAN LADD

Movie Hero Found Dead at His Home

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) —Alan Ladd, who realized a dream of driving a limousine through the same studio gate where once he had to punch a time clock, is dead at 50.

The 5-foot-6 star, who walked tall as a movie hero for 23 years, was found dead in the master bedroom of his home yesterday.

A servant who had become alarmed when the actor failed to wake up from a nap found the body.

★ ★ ★

A doctor and Police Chief Gus Kettmann said that Ladd died of natural causes, presumably of a heart attack.

AUTOPSY ORDERED

An autopsy has been ordered.

Ladd, except for a butler, had been alone in his desert home for the last 10 days.

His wife, the former actress Sue Carol, was at the couple's West Los Angeles home.

★ ★ ★

"I talked with Alan three times Tuesday," she said.

It was Miss Carol, who later turned agent, who heard Ladd on a 15-minute radio show.

She interviewed him, signed him and later married him.

★ ★ ★

Ladd appeared in 150 movies.

His last, still unreleased, is "The Carpetbaggers," in which he played the sympathetic role of the movie cowboy, Nevada Smith.

U.S. Putting More Wallop in N-Bombs and Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States disclosed today development of nuclear bombs and intercontinental missiles of greatly increased wallop during 1963—and reported it can produce even more powerful models in the future.

In a report of unprecedented frankness in the nuclear weaponry field the government disclosed it has:

1. Enhanced its abilities to defend the United States and its allies against possible nuclear attack and to penetrate enemy defenses against U.S. missiles and bombs.

2. Found ways of greatly reducing the radioactive fallout from nuclear weapons—that is, ways of making so-called cleaner bombs and warheads.

The developments were unveiled by the Atomic Energy Commission in its annual report to Congress.

★ ★ ★

In the nonmilitary field, the AEC said five additional civilian nuclear power plants were completed last year.

GENERATING CAPACITY

This brought the generating capacity of the nation's atom—powered stations to more than a billion watts — enough electrical power to supply the domestic needs of about 1½ million people.

On the weapons front, there were these highlights:

1. "The year 1963 was notable," the AEC said, "for the attainment of substantial increases in the yield of the warhead associated with the Polaris Minuteman and the Titan systems."

★ ★ ★

That is, new explosive wallop was built into those key missiles without increasing the size of the warheads."

Consumers Announces Expansion

Consumers Power Co. today revealed plans for a $2-million expansion which will extend natural gas service to 3,100 new Pontiac division customers.

Charles F. Brown, division manager, said 65 miles of new gas mains will be constructed during 1964.

"About a third of the new users will be in new residential areas, but generally, the service expansion will be within localities we already service."

The over-all expansion will also involve replacement or modernizing of existing gas lines serving about 1,000 of the division's present 46,000 users, Brown said.

MODERNIZATION

At the same time, an extensive modernization will be under way at division headquarters at 28 W. Lawrence.

Brown outlined the project as remodeling of first floor customer service offices, and general redecorating of other floors.

Remodeling of the building's exterior is in the planning stage, Brown stated.

★ ★ ★

He listed other projects as extensive remodeling of the Wesson Street service center and minor changes in the Consumers' branch at 431 Main, Rochester.

MODIFICATIONS

Over $1250,000 is also budgeted for modifications of the division's electrical system within the city.

"This will provide better service to our large industrial users," said Brown "and keep pace with downtown construction activity."

He explained that expansion of Consumers Pontiac area gas service was scheduled last year when the company signed contracts with supplier firms.

"Our natural gas supply is assured for years to come, and we see no restrictions on meeting the needs of new users."

Brown said the increased supply will mainly originate from major gas fields in the south, but some will be piped from production facilities in St. Clair County acquired by Consumers two years ago.

U.S. Rockets Craft to Photograph Moon

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The camera-laden Ranger 6 spacecraft was rocketed toward the moon today on a mission to snap and relay to earth more than 3,000 pictures of the lunar surface.

An Atlas-Agena rocket, 102 feet tall and weighing 150 tons, blazed away from Cape Kennedy at 10:49 a.m. EST to start the 804-pound gold-and-silver-plated craft on its lunar journey.

If all goes well, Ranger 6 will cover 230,187 miles in 66 hours and crash land on the moon early Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The early portion of flight appeared normal as the rocket rose smoothly from its launching pad and pitched over on a southeast setting. It was swallowed in a cloud bank about 140 seconds after lift-off.

If the payload, which resembles a giant dragonfly, succeeds, it will break a string of 11 straight U.S. moon-launching failures dating to 1958.

The flight is the first U.S. lunar attempt since Ranger 5 fizzled in October 1962, prompting a revamping of the program.

The Soviets have announced three moon launchings, two of them successful. Lunik 2 crashed onto the moon and Lunik 3 took the first pictures of the moon's hidden side, both in 1959.

10 MINUTES

In a 10-minute session before Ranger 6 crash-lands on the moon, its six cameras are to snap hundreds of pictures and transmit them to a ground station at Goldstone, Calif.

Knife Tests Inconclusive

Police found too little blood on a knife suspected in last week's slaying of a Birmingham schoolgirl to establish whether it matched the victim's blood type, it was reported today by Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Full details of a state police crime lab report on the knife are expected from a representative of the lab at a Juvenile Court hearing today.

He will also be asked whether fabric fibers found on the knife match the material in the coat of the victim, 14-year-old Nancy Jean Jones.

★ ★ ★

The hearing is to be held today for Daniel Lovaas, 15, of 1042 Smith, Birmingham.

3 WITNESSES

Police have three witnesses, it was learned, who said they saw Daniel give the knife to an acquaintance after Nancy was slain.

Other witnesses have placed him at or near the scene of the crime.

★ ★ ★

The boy has denied ever knowing the girl or being on the street where she was slain.

Army General Takes Charge in Swift Move

Pledges to 'Smash Communists, Traitors Favoring Neutrality'

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khnah 37, an army corps commander, became virtual dictator of South Viet Nam today in a swift, bloodless coup. He pledged to "smash the Communists and the traitors who advocate neutralism."

A new council of generals took shape to help him in running the country and the U.S.-backed war against Red guerrillas.

Khanh dissolved the old government and clapped four key generals of that regime in jail. Three of them were charged with plotting with France to neutralize South Viet Nam.

French President Charles de Gaulle has advocated neutralization of both North and South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

The fate of Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, chairman of the junta that had ruled Viet Nam since the destruction of President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime last Nov. 1, was uncertain.

NOT ARRESTED

Minh was not arrested with the other generals and there was a possibility he would be kept on as technical chief of state.

The premier of the provisional civilian government, Nguyen Ngoc Tho, was ousted and sent back to private life. He was not arrested.

The top three generals under Minh were held. They are Maj. Gen. Tran Van Don, defense minister; Don's brother-in-law, Maj. Gen. Le Van Kim, armed

New Turmoil Could Prove Help to Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) —The new turmoil in South Viet Nam's government may give the Communist guerrillas an opening for an offensive that could wipe out recently reported gains by U.S.-backed forces.

Reports of a new government upheaval in Saigon suggested a return to the confused conditions on which the Red Viet Cong had thrived after the ouster of the Diem regime last November.

Top Washington officials kept a close eye on Saigon developments, withholding comment.

★ ★ ★

Two days ago Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told a news conference the military junta which unseated the Diem government last fall finally had sorted out its civil and military responsibilities.

PROGRESS GOOD

As a result, McNamara said, "there has been a very noticeable improvement in the operations. I am encouraged by the progress of the last two weeks."

★ ★ ★

A Pentagon briefing officer yesterday reported new statistics from the battle front indicating South Viet Nam's army was becoming more aggressive.

In the week ended Jan. 22, he said, there had been an increase in the number of attacks against Viet Cong elements.

It's K's Move in Jet Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department authorities said today it is up to Moscow to make the next move in the U.S.-Soviet dispute over an American training plane downed by the Soviets in East Germany.

Without some Soviet help the U. S. government may never know precise details about the incident Tuesday that cost the lives of three U. S. Air Force officers, they said.

Washington and Moscow traded protests Wednesday. The Kremlin sent a note saying a Soviet fighter downed the T39 jet trainer about 60 miles inside Communist East Germany after the plane failed to heed warning signals.

The note accused the U. S. military of "gross provocation" by intruding into Communist air space.

BRUTAL ACT

The State Department charged the Soviets with "a callous and inexcusably brutal act of violence against an unarmed aircraft that accidentally strayed over the demarcation line between West and East Germany."

It demanded U. S. access to the plane wreckage and recovery of the fliers' bodies, and punishment of "those responsible for the shooting down of the aircraft and the killing of these men."

Asst. Secretary of State William Tyler called in the ranking Soviet diplomat available, Georgi M. Kornienko, and gave him the U.S. rejoinder orally.

Kornienko told newsmen afterward, "I did not accept the protest."

NO ACCIDENT

He termed the U. S. flight deliberate, saying, "We have all grounds to believe that this was not an error or a mistake."

The official Soviet News Agency Tass hinted today the Russians believe the U. S. trainer may have been on a photo reconnaissance mission over East Germany.

Air Force officers suggested today that the Soviets probably suspected the plane had been having navigation and radio troubles.

The officers said frantic U. S. attempts to reach the plane and warn it away from Communist air space were radioed on frequencies that the Soviets are known to monitor.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. jet did not answer the signals as far as is known.

Thus, Air Force sources reasoned, the Soviets must have been aware it was not a deliberate violation of East German air space.

The incident was described by U. S. sources as serious but not as provocative, from the standpoint of East-West relations as the Soviet shooting of a U. S. RB47 reconnaissance plane over the Barents Sea in 1960.

U.S., Britain Warned

Russia: Stay Out of Cyprus

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union charged today that Britain and the United States plan "aggression" against Cyprus and warned them not to endanger peace by landing troops on the island.

The Tass News Agency disclosed that the Cyprus government told the Soviet government that "there is now a serious danger of aggression against Cyprus."

A Tass statement called on the Western powers to refrain from steps that would "complicate the situation in that area of the globe."

★ ★ ★

In London, Britain's propsoal to send a NATO peace force to the strife-torn island appeared to be gaining support.

LONDON (AP) — President Johnson informed Britain today that U.S. troops will take part in an international peacekeeping force for Cyprus if satisfactory arrangements are made, informed sources reported.

KEY TO PLAN

The United States was said to be the key to the plan, and the Johnson administration was understood to be in favor of some form of U.S. participation in the force, if diplomatic steps also were taken to settle the crisis.

Tass said Russia supports Cyprus' independence "and denounces any attempts of foreign interference in the internal affairs of . . . Cyprus, no matter under what pretext or form it may be carried out."

Informed sources at the London peace conference on Cyprus said other NATO countries were likely to go along with the British peace force proposal if Washington is agreeable.

★ ★ ★

Sir Arthur Snelling, who discussed the plan with U.S. officials in Washington, returned home last night to report American reaction to Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandys, chairman of the peace conference.

STEPPED UP

Diplomatic exchanges were stepped up to align the positions of other NATO nations involved —West Germany, France, Italy and possibly the Netherlands.

The plan calls for stationing a multinational military force in Cyprus to police a cease-fire between the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities pending a political settlement of their differences.

The dispute, stemming from the Turkish minority's fears of having its constitutional rights taken away by the Greek majority government in Cyprus, resulted in fighting that caused 200 deaths before the cease-fire was imposed earlier this month.

★ ★ ★

Efforts by Britain, Turkey and Greece to resolve the quarrel at the peace conference here have bogged down. The three nations have guaranteed Cyprus independence under 1960 treaties which changed the Mediterranean island from a British colony to a republic.

The dispute has escalated into a major confrontation between Greece and Turkey, two NATO allies, threatening unity within the Western alliance and peace in the Mediterranean region. Both Greece and Turkey have alerted their military forces in the event of further trouble.

The NATO force envisaged by Britain would replace the existing police force of Greek and Turkish troops commanded by the British.

Greek and Trukish officials in London held consultations last night in an effort to align their views on the plan. Their governments were said to agree in principle to the proposal but to differ on conditions under which NATO troops would remain in Cyprus.

Cyprus President Archbishop Makarios has rejected the idea of a NATO force in favor of a United Nations force, but informed sources said he probably would fall in line if the Greek government agrees to the British proposal.

High-Level Meeting Urged as Panama Talks Collapse

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations aimed at a peaceful solution of the U.S.-Panama dispute have collapsed and Panama—charging aggression — has called for an emergency meeting of hemisphere foreign ministers.

★ ★ ★

Miguel Moreno, Panama's ambassador to the Organization of American States, delivered a note from his government which included the request and the renewed charge of aggression to the OAS secretary general, Jose A. Mora, Wednesday night.

AGREEMENT REQUIRED

Agreement by 14 of the 21 American nations would be required to call such a meeting as Panama requested. There have been broad indications that the United States would not oppose it in the present case.

★ ★ ★

If agreement by two-thirds of the member nations is achieved normal procedures call for convening the OAS organ of consultation — actually the OAS council—with power to act until the foreign ministers can get together.

The procedure is set up for dealing with a problem which a member nation contends is a threat to the peace of the hemisphere.

"We have searched for a dignified solution to the controversy but unfortunately and in spite of the good offices of the Inter-American Peace Committee and our willingness we have achieved no success," Moreno said.

★ ★ ★

The note included a Jan. 9 note by Panama Foreign Minister Galileo Solis in which he said "the Republic of Panama has been the victim of an unprovoked armed attack against its territory and civil population made by the armed forces of the United States of America stationed in the Canal Zone."

President Johnson has met this accusation with a declaration that U.S. troops, faced by snper fire and mob action, repelled aggression rather than committed it.

Riots in the Canal Zone led to a rupture in U.S.-Panama relations. The Inter-American Peace Committee, an arm of the OAS, has been trying to mediate the dispute. This effort ended in failure Wednesday.

Shortly before the breakdown, Johnson conferred with Democratic and Republican congressional leaders. Moreno held up on delivering the note while this session was under way.

Panama has remained firm on its demand that the United States pledge it will sign a new treaty to replace the 1903 agreement which gave it rights to the canal in perpetuity.

The launching, scheduled in April, will be a step toward the U.S. goal of landing men on the moon in this decade.

The Saturn 1 performed flawlessly Wednesday on its first full-scale test flight, propelling into orbit a 37,700-pound satellite, the world's heaviest. For the first time the rocket generated full first stage thrust of 1.5 million pounds and carried a live second stage powered by liquid hydrogen.

'GIANT STEP'

After watching the launching on television, President Johnson issued a statement in Washington describing it as a "giant step forward for the United States space effort."

Robert Seamans, associate administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said he hoped the flight "will give the nation confidence that we can carry out the manned lunar landing mission in this decade and will support this important step in a continuing program."

★ ★ ★

Wernher von Braun, chief of the Marshall Space Flight Center which is developing the Saturn rockets, said: "we are now ahead of the Russians in cargo-carrying ability. They have orbited payloads on the order of 15,000 pounds. Saturn 1 gives us the capability of orbiting 19,000 to 20,000 useful pounds."

★ ★ ★

The extra weight was achieved Wednesday because the second stage rocket casing remained attached to the nose cone. It will separate on future flights.

NO EVIDENCE

Von Braun estimated that the biggest Soviet booster rocket has a thrust between 700,000 and 900,000 pounds and he said there is no evidence the Soviets have made progress with liquid hydrogen fuel for upper stages. But he cautioned that the Soviet Union's plans are shrouded in secrecy.

The United States is developing the 7.5 million-pound-thrust Saturn 5 to hoist three-man astronaut teams to the moon.

★ ★ ★

In early 1967, the Saturn 1, combined with more powerful upper stages, will hoist astronauts into orbit to practice lunar landing techniques.

★ ★ ★

By 1968, Saturn 5 is expected to hurl an Apollo crew into orbit around the moon. The following year another three-man team is to orbit the moon and two are to land on it.

Federal, State, Local

To Eye Joint Crime Attack

A new proposal for a joint attack on organized crime by federal, state and local authorities will be up for discussion at a Feb. 4 meeting in Lansing called by State Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley.

Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said yesterday that he has been invited to the meeting of law enforcement officials from throughout the state.

Taylor, who said he will attend the meeting, backed Kelley's proposal wholeheartedly.

★ ★ ★

"Federal, state and local law enforcement officials should cooperate 100 per cent to eliminate organized crime and any other crime," Taylor said.

TASK FORCE

Kelley has proposed "some type of task force personnel with persons from each of the areas working together on a permanent basis," Taylor said.

This was an idea Kelley wants to explore at the meeting "with the purpose of increasing coordination between federal, state and local law enforcement authorities," according to Taylor.

Public attention has been focused on concern over organized crime for the past several months, mostly as a result of hearings before a U.S. Senate committee investigating operations of a national crime syndicate called "Cosa Nostra."

★ ★ ★

Taylor repeated earlier statements that he knows of no organized crime operating in Oakland County.

ONLY INSTANCE

He said gambling at the Steren Assembly Club in Madison Heights, which police raided Oct. 11, was the only instance of it and that is no longer in operation.

Two of the 45 arrested in the raid were identified by police as members of "Cosa Nostra."

The prosecutor cited charges against four Pontiac men in October on charges of conspiracy to violate state gaming laws as an example of coordination between federal, state and local authorities.

★ ★ ★

The four were among eight charged earlier with failing to pay federal wagering taxes after a raid by federal, state and local agents on what authorities termed a $1.5-million bookie operation.

JACK F. PRASIL

Competes for City Post in District 6

The owner and manager of a Pontiac dry cleaning establishment, Jack F. Prasil, has filed a nominating petition to run for the District 6 City Commission seat.

Prasil, 44, of 29 N. Anderson owns Jax Dry Cleaners, 896 Joslyn.

He said he had decided to be a candidate for city commission "because I feel the public has been forgotten during the last two years.

★ ★ ★

"If nominated and elected, I would dedicate myself to working for the people of Pontiac. They would be my boss."

NEWCOMER

Prasil, a newcomer to political circles, has never before been a City Commission candidate. He is the second candidate to file to run against incumbent Dick M. Kirby, who hasn't yet filed.

If Kirby files for reelection, a primary would be needed in District 6.

Prasil is married and a native of Pontiac. He attended Pontiac Public Schools and is a graduate of KD Flying School. He holds a private pilot's license.

★ ★ ★

After graduating from high school, Prasil worked at GMC Truck & Coach Division from 1939 to 1945 as a priority analysis clerk.

SERVICE HITCH

He was in the U. S. Air Force for two years and then returned to open his own dry cleaning establishment which he operated until 1951.

★ ★ ★

Prasil then spent five years as plant manager for Huron Cleaners before reopening his present establishment in 1956.

Ike Tells GOP: Go to People

ty-to-people panels" plan "United States-manship."

He suggested panels "to arouse and to teach in each major region of our country."

★ ★ ★

These regional forums could set a pattern, Ike said, for similar convocations in every state and every county.

OTHER FIELDS

Eisenhower suggested the panels include leaders in other fields as well as GOP experts.

"After full discussion, these panel members should invite and respond candidly to questions from the audience."

Eisenhower also spoke off the cuff briefly to the crowd at Cobo Hall before starting his televised talk.

★ ★ ★

Earlier in the day, looking hale and hearty, he lauded Romney as "a vote-getter" with an appealing personality but avoided giving him a plug for the 1964 presidential nomination.

ENCOURAGED SEVERAL

"By no means would I put anybody else above Romney," Eisenhower said, but neither did he put Romney above anyone else.

He said he had encouraged several potential nominees to "get out among the people to discuss national issues" but had no personal favorite for the nomination.

He disagreed with Goldwater's criticism of U.S. missiles as undependable. "I don't know what he had in mind," Eisenhower said. "I am confident we have just as good missiles as there are in the world."

★ ★ ★

At a private luncheon, Eisenhower indicated having someone in mind as a GOP candidate to oppose incumbent Democratic U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart this year.

★ ★ ★

Party officials later identified the person as Hannah, whom Ike appointed to head the U.S. Civil Rights Commission when he was president.

CONSPIRACY CHARGES

Don, Kim and Maj. Gen. Mai Huu Xuan, prefect of Saigon and general police chief, were arrested on charges of conspiring with France to bring about neutralization of South Viet Nam.

The exact character of the charges was not disclosed; but Khanh and his aides reportedly consider the evidence against Don, Kim and Xuan as conclusive.

In a radio statement to the people, Khanh said members of the old council had betrayed the revolution and had shown neutralist tendencies.

2. Aside from such improved "yield to weight ratios," ways were found to provide additional room and weight-allowance in such missiles for decoy missles to fool an enemy.

Also, greater provision for devices to increase the "invulnerability" of the nuclear warheads themselves.

The latter presumably would include heavier shielding against radiation from nuclear-tipped antimissile missiles designed to detonate an oncoming missile prematurely.

It also might include devices for jamming an enemy's search radars.

Fishy Driver Angles for Dismissal of Case

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Bert Lester Brown, 62, had the right answer Wednesday when he appeared on a charge of driving the wrong way on a one-way street.

"I guess I was thinking about going fishing," Brown told Municipal Court Judge Harry B. Grund.

"Case dismissed," said Grund, an ardent angler.

Charm Nets Win in TV Political Debates

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — A modern-day Hamlet, faced with embarrassing challenges for television debates from his political opponent, might well soliloquize:

To debate, or not to debate:
That is the question:
Whether 'tis nobler on airwaves to suffer
The slings and arrows of an outrageous rival,
Or to take aim against him in a sea of newsprint
And by opposing, end him?

Certainly, any smart politician should think twice before subjecting himself to such a contest before the merciless eye on a TV camera.

The voter who reads a candidate's position in newspapers, or hears him on radio is forced to think about the issues. On television, the charm-school approach has a habit of getting in the way of facts and figures.

Unlike high school debating contests, points are more apt to be awarded for wit and winsomeness than for wisdom or logic.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller who declined to debate with GOP gubernatorial rival Leonard Hall in 1958, is now needling his GOP presidential opponent, Barry Goldwater, to a series of debates.

SAME ARGUMENT

In refusing, Goldwater is using essentially the same argument that Rocky did six years ago: that Republicans should debate Democrats, not each other.

Most political analysts agree that the famed Kennedy-Nixon debates in 1960 turned the tide in favor of the less well-known Democratic presidential candidate, John F. Kennedy.

It is also the general consensus that except for the first one, when Richard M. Nixon was still suffering the effects of a hospital bout with an infected knee, Nixon won the debates on points.

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately for the Republicans, most viewers were uninterested in such technicalities. On television, they suddenly discovered a fresh new personality, brimming with wit, grace, and a remarkable memory for statistical data.

GOLDEN BOY

Nixon's heavy jowls had five o'clock shadow on TV, even when he shaved five minutes beforehand. Kennedy came through like golden boy.

JFK's performance was all the more impressive because politicians who knew of Nixon's prowess as a college debater thought he would "make mincemeat" of his less experienced rival.

Kennedy himself later conceded that the debates had put him over the top. Having challenged his opponent to the TV matches, he repeatedly said he would offer the same opportunity to the GOP standard-bearer in his 1964 reelection contest.

★ ★ ★

His successor is, of course, freed from that agreement, and it is a safe bet that President Lyndon B. Johnson will decline to debate the Republican presidential nominee.

BAD DECISION

Frankly, LBJ would be ill-advised to offer such an inviting showase to a rival, no matter how much Amerians would relish the debates.

As president he can appear on television about as often as he likes, simply by opening his press conferences to TV, making public appearances, and delivering "nonpartisan" addresses at dedications and the like.

No "out" can hope to match the "exposure" of a man who occupies the White House. The powers of the office are so great in this space-age that about the only way an available president can lose a bid for reelection is to defeat himself by his own acts or conduct.

LBJ is shrewd enough to know that he is not at his best in debates. He learned that when he permitted the youthful senator from Massachusetts to appear with him on television before his own Texas delegation at the '60 convention.

Although Johnson's was the voice of experience, Kennedy stole the show with his flashing Irish wit.

It will be interesting to see whether ex-astronaut John Glenn challenges aging Sen. Stephen Young to TV debates in Ohio.

Should the incumbent senator be foolish enough to accept, he could discuss governmental issues from a vantage point of 14 years in Congress, but televiewers would predictably be more entranced by the fresh-scrubbed charm and glamour of a young man who had viewed the world from outer space.

Young would probably come off second best.

State Firm Aids Space Probe

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Ann Arbor technicians helped send rockets aloft Tuesday night in the international Year of the Quiet Sun program to study temperatures and winds in the upper atmosphere.

Three Nike Cajun grenade rockets fired simultaneously from Wallops Island, Va., Fort Churchill, Manitoba, and Ascension Island in the South Atlantic were powered by "grenades" designed and built by Superior Engineering Co. of Ann Arbor.

A Rocket 609, or Sparrow - Bee fired one hour earlier from Wallops Island carried an instrument package designed at the University of Michigan's Space-Physics Laboratory.

The Nike Cajun flights brought to 18 the number of consecutive payloads of the Superior Co.

NASA CONTRACT

The firm has been under contract to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration since January, 1962 and has an overall record of 28 successful firings in 30 attempts. The firm has not had a rocket failure since November, 1962.

Crucial Confab on Districting

State Commission Is on Eve of Deadline

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Apportionment Commission will hold a crucial meeting tonight, on the eve of its deadline for formulating new boundary lines for the state's legislative districts.

If the bipartisan commission fails to agree by Friday, the redistricting will be turned over to the Michigan Supreme Court for a decision.

Wilber Brucker, cochairman of the eight - member commission, told The Associated Press Tuesday night that he fears no agreement can be worked out before the deadline.

Brucker, onetime Republican governor, said he so advised Gov. George W. Romney.

NEW DISTRICTS

The commission is charged under the new State Constitution with drawing up new Senate districts by using a formula which gives 80 per cent weight to population and 20 per cent to land mass. House reapportionment is to be figured almost entirely on population.

The 80 - 20 formula is being challenged in the courts. August Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL - CIO, has asked three federal judges at Port Huron to void the formula on grounds it is unfair to city voters.

The judges herd two days of testimony this week and took Scholle's suit under advisement Tuesday.

Suicides Have No Standard Method

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth of five dispatches on suicide by the national reporter of United Press International. It deals with the methods persons use to kill themselves.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The other day Robert Lawson, flying a single-engine plane, told the control tower at the Shawnee, Okla., airport that he has going to ram into the administration building of Oklahoma Baptist University.

"You're kidding," the control tower messaged back.

"I'm not kidding," Lawson replied. "I'm going to build a monument."

And so he did. He made a low level approach and rammed into the third floor of the building and died.

He hit an unoccupied room and the only life lost was his own.

STRANGE WAYS

People bent on suicide choose strange ways to do it. Most of them never live to tell why they do it the hard way — such as ramming a school building with an airplane — and endanger the lives of other persons.

Lawson was a former student at the school and had been a mental patient, but that is the sum total of evidence available to scientists seeking clues as to why people commit suicide in the ways they do.

The most common methods of suicide are, in this order:

Firearms and explosions, poisons or gases, hanging and strangulation, drowning, jumping from high places, using cutting or piercing instruments.

Men don't seem to care about how things appear after their death and they lean to shooting themselves in the head.

Women seem to carry vanity even beyond death and do nothing that will deface them. An overwhelming number of them take poison and many carefully apply make-up before killing themselves.

Some years ago George Kennan, in an article titled "Problems of Suicide," listed the bizarre ways in which people end their lives:

★ ★ ★

"I have well authenticated cases in which men or women have committed suicide by throwing themselves upon swiftly revolving circular saws; by exploding dynamite in their mouths; by thrusting red hot pokers down their throats; by allowing themselves to freeze to death on piles of ice in refrigerator cars; by lacerating their throats on barbed wire fences; by drowing themselves head down in barrels; by suffocating themselves head downward in chimneys; by diving into white hot coke ovens; by swallowing poisonous spiders; by forcing teams of horses to tear their heads off; by drowning themselves in vats of soft soap; by plunging into retorts of molten glass; by decapitation with home-made guillotines."

AUTO DEATHS

There is an increasing use of the automobile as a means of committing suicide, and A. L. Moseley of the Trauma Research Institute, Cambridge, Mass., provided the results of a study he has made on the subject.

He conducted an in-depth investigation of 124 traffic deaths — both pedestrians and drivers. He found evidence that 20% of the dead persons had suffered from severe depression, including 14 which were judged to have had suicidal tendencies.

Death by automobile tempts the potential suicide because it readily lends itself to the appearance of having been an accident.

★ ★ ★

Moseley tells of the case of a woman killed in a new automobile which had rammed into a concrete pillar. The car seemed to be in perfect condition until investigators got to the self-adjusting brake mechanism. It didn't work and a reasonable assumption would be that it had been tampered with before the accident.

DRIVERS IN DANGER

The study showed that all drivers are under steady danger of being convicted of traffic deaths because a person bent on suicide leaps in front of the car.

The only clear-cut defense for the driver is that the dead person carries a suicide note on his person or there are ample witnesses to testify about the circumstances of the death.

Moseley relates the case of a housekeeper who left her place of employment clearly stating that she was not returning and hinting at suicide.

★ ★ ★

She was killed when she jumped in front of a car, and the driver was convicted because the woman's employer repudiated his earlier story about her suicidal intentions.

Specific places seem to be associated with suicide in the minds of many persons. As late as 15 years ago it appeared that Niagara Falls had a fatal fascination for potential suicides.

In 1948, seven men and three women killed themselves by going over the falls, but the trend seems to be on the decline.

High places tempt some people to impulsive suicide. The Empire State Building in New York had to build a barrier to keep people from plunging to their deaths. High bridges, such as the Golden Gate in San Francisco, appear to be a constant temptation to self-destruction.

★ ★ ★

One of history's most famous suicides had a double purpose. When Samson pulled down the pillars of the temple, he took his own life. But he also took with him into death the Philistines who had captured and blinded him.

Persons who commit suicide by blowing up buildings with high explosives are reenacting, in their fashion the story of Samson.

Tomorrow: Can suicide be prevented?

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) —Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodian chief of state, returned by plane Wednesday to Phnom Penh after a nine-day trip to Kuala Lumpur, Manila, and Jakarta.

DEAR POLLY — When moving to a new home, pack a suitcase or carton with just enough sheets, pillowcases, towels and washcloths to take care of the family's needs for the first night.

Mark the container so it is easily found on arrival. This will save going through several large boxes to assemble the things needed.

● When my daughter buys new slacks for her son, she immediately turns them inside out and irons on knee patches. This gives double protection and cuts down on mending. — G.S.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — I have a quick way to make a child's sweater from an adult's discarded one. Measure the child for length, waist and sleeve-length.

Cut a paper pattern and lay it on the big sweater. Cut through the front and back at the same time. I lay the pattern for the smaller sweater on the lower part of the big sweater and the ribbing of one is the ribbing for the other.

If there are no side seams to the adult sweater, the sleeves for the smaller one can be cut from what is left on the sides. Cut straight across the top from shoulder to shoulder of the new sweater and then cut the front neck lower.

Sew shoulder seams together, then put sleeves in the armholes and finally sew sleeves and body all together with small stitches on the sewing machine.

Remove binding from the neck of the big sweater and apply to the neck of the newer and smaller one. Leggings can be made from the sleeves of a large sweater.

Cut off the rounded tip at the top of the sleeves (the remainder of the shaped upper sleeve will be sewn together for a crotch seam) make a casing at the top for elastic to run through, and you have a pair of warm leggings for a youngster. — MRS. G.K.

Pupils Get Souvenirs From Artist

Herrington School PTA members participated recently in an interesting project of the fourth graders.

★ ★ ★

In November they drove the youngsters to the Detroit Book Fair at Wayne State University. Among the authors and illustrators who were there was Lovis Slobodkin who is both author and illustrator.

After the fair the children wrote to Slobodkin and received not only a letter in return, but a drawing of his, "Lady Horse."

The letter, the picture and all of Slobodkin's books in the school library are now on display. The PTA has given the library a check for $325—proceeds from the last school fair —and more of Slobodkin's books are sure to be in the order list.

Mrs. Peter L. Spring, librarian at Herrington School, and Kenneth Harbold, Moore Street, look over one of Lovis Slobodkin's books. Karen Monroe, Dudley Street, admires the amusing drawing, "Lady Horse" which author-illustrator Slobodkin gave the fourth graders.

Announce Price: Du Pont Must Sell GM Stock

NEW YORK (UPI) — A price of $78.375 a share was set yesterday for the huge secondary offering of 3,916,223 shares of General Motors Common on behalf of the Du Pont family, the Du Pont Co. and Christiana Securities Corp.

The price was set by Morgan, Stanley & Co., manager of the underwriting group.

Of the total, 3,572,971 shares are being offered to the public pursuant to the federal court divestiture order that ended the long litigation over Du Pont's big interest in General Motors.

The total sales will involve more than $320 million. It is the second large public offering of Du Pont-held shares of General Motors.

AFL Wraps Up Rich TV Package With NBC

Five-Year Pact Brings League $36 Million

New Contract Ends ABC Ties; Effective for 1965 Season

NEW YORK (AP)—After four years of travail the American Football League has reached major league status.

"The greatest day" in the history of the eight-team circuit came Wednesday with the signing of a $36 million, five-year television contract with the National Broadcasting Company.

The pact is effective with the 1965 season and replaces the current TV contract with the American Broadcasting Company which runs through the 1964 season for $2.3 million.

BIG SHARE

The $36 million, which breaks down into nearly $1 million yearly for each of the eight AFL clubs, compares to the record $28.2 million two-year television contract signed last week by the rival National Football League with the Columbia Broadcasting Company.

The NFL pact breaks down to slightly more than $1 million a year for each of the 14 teams in the older circuit which has been operating for 43 years.

"This is our greatest day," exclaimed an elated Billy Sullivan, president of the AFL and also of the Boston Patriots.

Commissioner Joe Foss and the other club owners in New York, Buffalo, Houston, San Diego, Denver Oakland and Kansas City joined in the enthusiasm.

"This is another step forward for the AFL which has improved its position yearly since its formation in 1960," declared Foss who negotiated the pact with Carl Lindemann, Jr. vice president of sports for NBC.

"This contract puts all of our present clubs in the black and means we can really start thinking about expansion."

The commissioner disclosed that the AFL has received applications from four groups in Philadelphia as well as from those in Chicago, Los Angeles, Cincinnati, Columbus, Montreal, Portland, Ore., and Atlanta.

★ ★ ★

"It's great," said Cal Kunz, president of the Denver Broncos. "It's evidence that the television media recognize the AFL as a solid institution and it's another indication of solid acceptance of the AFL by the nation's fans."

At the NFL meeting in Miami Beach, Fla. there was no official comment from any club owner and Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner, said merely that "we are concerned only with our own National Football League and we are very happy."

Television Fills the Till

New Pro Football Loop Blossoms

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The American Football League is here to stay. That is the hard-to-swallow fact that owners of National Football League clubs had to admit today in the wake of the rival pro league's new $36 million television contract.

"The new television contract stabilizes the other league," said an NFL club official who wished to remain anonymous. "It gives them substance. Now they are big league."

The day when the two league champions may meet in a title playoff still may be far in the future. At least there was no inclination to hasten the day at the NFL meetings which end today.

NO TITLE PLANS

"We have no such plans," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle just as he had been saying for weeks and months.

Asked to comment on the new AFL contract, Rozelle said only, "We are concerned only with our own National Football League. And we are very happy."

The NFL had reasons to be happy, too, with its two-year $28.2 million television deal with the Columbia Broadcasting System. Each of the 14 clubs will get about $1 million.

However, the new AFL contract will bring each of its eight member teams approximately $900,000 for each of the next five years. A sliding scale will take care of additions if there is expansion. Undoubtedly the value of all pro football franchises leaped skyward in the last six days.

The players look forward to the happy prospect of watching the two leagues engage in an all-out bidding contest for talent. This will include more big bonus payments to college boys next fall. It also will include countless increases in salaries to the Veterans in the 1964 season.

"You ain't seen nothing yet," said one club observer. "Wait until they start chasing those college kids after next December's draft. Now is the time to raise your kid to be a football player."

FURIOUS BATTLE

The furious dollar bidding in the past few weeks gave CBS the NFL games and NBC the AFL as well as the college games and three of the New Year's Day bowl contests—the American Broadcasting Company will be out of the major football business after its current contract with the AFL expires following the 1964 season.

For the moment, ABC has a bargain with one more year at a reported $2.35 million on an AFL package that already has been sold for $35 million for the next five years.

★ ★ ★

Pro football will cost the television networks about $25 million this year. In addition to the $14.1 million for the NFL and $7.2 million for the AFL, the two title games, still open for bids, probably will be worth about $2 million each. A head-on conflict every Sunday afternoon is in prospect with each network showing pro double-headers from coast to coast.

The television news shadowed the normal routine at the NFL meetings.

★ ★ ★

Ordell Braase of the Baltimore Colts, new president of the NFL Players Association, appeared before the owners Wednesday and asked that the players be paid $100 a game for pre-season exhibition instead of the present $50. He also asked for player representation on the pension committee.

Hawks Put Young on Waivers

CHICAGO (AP) — Defenseman Howie Young apparently has come to the end of the line with the Chicago Black Hawks.

The club placed the pugnacious 26-year-old Young on the waiver list Wednesday night.

General manager Tommy Ivan said if no other National Hockey League team picks up Young for the $20,000 waiver price, the Hawks could do what they want with him.

★ ★ ★

He could be shipped to a farm club, probably Buffalo, or he could be made eligible to be bought by any minor league team.

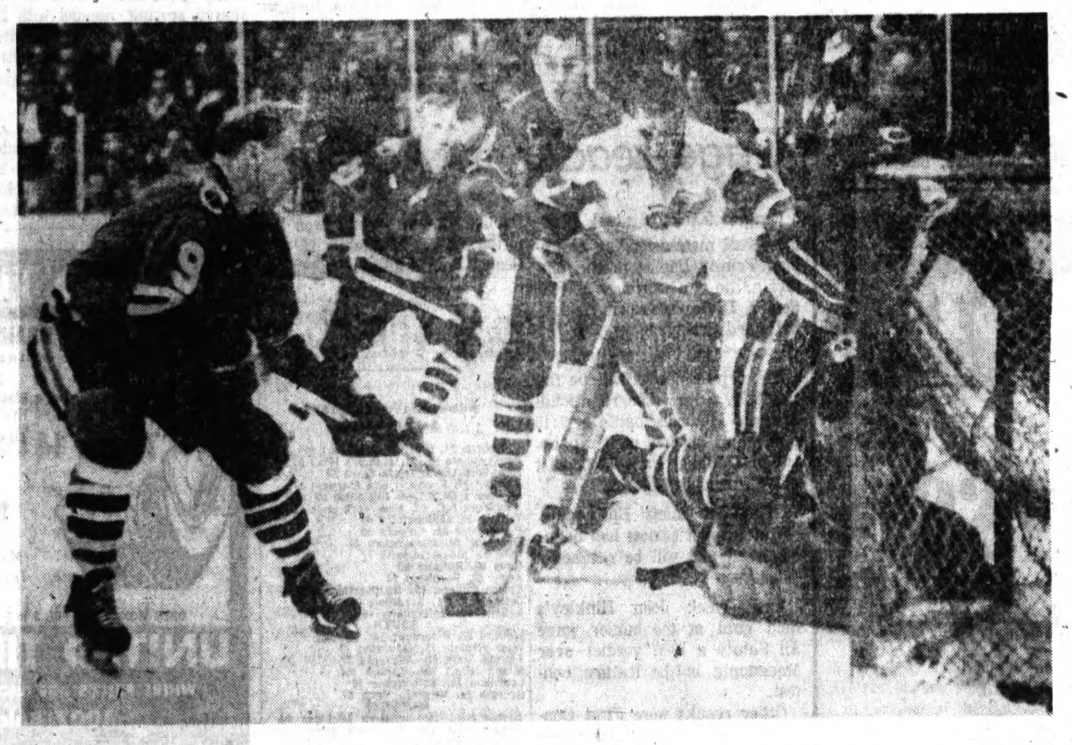

"The decision to place him on waivers was made strictly on his play," said Ivan. "At present we have a better defenseman in Autry Erickson. The deadline on waivers is midnight Saturday."

Young missed practices without permission Tuesday. He showed up at a club meeting Wednesday and later was told he was on the waiver list.

He did not suit up for Wednesday night's game in Chicago Stadium with the Detroit Red Wings and was unavailable for comment.

Pontiac's Chiefs Need Help in SVC Race

NO SCORE — What appears to be a successful goal by the Red Wings, showing the puck inside the Chicago Black Hawks' net in the first period, was not counted by the officials. The Wings argued in vain. Detroit center Norm Ullman (white Jersey) is surrounded by Black Hawks Bobby Hull (9) Bill Hay (11), Elmer Vasko (4) at net and goalie Glenn Hall on the ice. The game ended in a 2-2 tie.

PCH Unit to Entertain Flint Five

Pontiac Central's hopes in the Saginaw Valley Conference can rise tomorrow night, but it will take victories by two teams that lost their last league games to improve the outlook.

The Chiefs dropped a 65-53 verdict to Saginaw in an important SVC contest last week that left them two losses behind their conquerors and Flint Central.

Tuesday night Saginaw had the tables turned on it by underdog Flint Southwestern, 83-63, and Friday the losing Trojans will entertain unbeaten Flint Central.

PCH, meanwhile, will have its hand full with Flint Southwestern will visit the Huron Street gym. A victory by the Chiefs and one for Saginaw will tighten the race considerably.

The orange-and-black local quintet still has another meeting with Saginaw here, while the Trojans also must visit Flint Central later.

IMPRESSES

Southwestern made a big impression on PCH Coach Fred Zittel Tuesday.

"It was (last night) the best team I've seen all season," Zittel commented yesterday. He praised the Colts' aggressiveness.

"They hit the backboards very well," he added.

The Central coach said the Chiefs will have to work hard on defense to stop the Colts' sharp shooting offense. Leading the attack are Ray Parks, under twin figures only once all year, and 6-3 center Tim Reasoner who has scored 23 in the last two games.

Mike Ramsey and Larry Gillis are the starting forwards and they both contributed double figure efforts against Saginaw. Rick Yuille is the other guard (with Parks).

Team co-captain and last year regular Mac Farmer is the No. 6 man and he had his best game against Saginaw with 15 tallies.

PCH has played Southwestern only twice — once home and once away. The Chiefs won both games but only with clutch efforts.

No changes in the starting lineup are contemplated for PCH, although Lessel Hanspard has been seeing more action in the pivot during practice this week. Walter Moore, the first forward reserve, has been ill and may not play.

A 6:30 p.m. reserve game will precede the varsity encounter.

Chicago 1-Game Behind

Wings Tie Hawks, 2-2

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings gave a big boost to their hated National Hockey League rivals — the Montreal Canadiens—last night by spilling the Chicago Black Hawks out of first place for the first time since Oct. 13.

It was only a 2-2 tie for the fourth place Wings but the Hawks needed a victory to keep pace with the surging Habs. The tie put Montreal in first by itself with a one-point lead over Chicago. The Canadiens edged Toronto, 2-1.

Detroit upped its margin over the idle fifth place New York Rangers to three points but the Rangers can make up two of them tonight if they defeat Boston.

It was the second straight tie for the Hawks, who have won only two of their last eight games.

Chicago protected a 1-0 lead—on Bobby Hull's 33rd goal of the season—for more than 30 minutes. Then the Hawks held a 2-1 margin until only six minutes remained in the game after league leading scorer Stan Mikita got his 25th goal.

★ ★ ★

But Detroit's Eddie Joyal got his 10th goal and his fifth against the Hawks, with a short backhander when he was facing away from the net.

FIRST GOAL

Red Wing rookie Paul Henderson got his first NHL goal with barely six minutes to play to produce the deadlock.

Each team disputed one goal. In the first period Detroit argued that it was deprived of a score when it had three men on the Chicago net while Chicago was shorthanded, but referee Art Skov said that the puck did not cross the goal line.

In the third period, Kenny Wharram carried the puck from behind the Detroit net and pushed it through goalie Roger Crozier into the cage, but Skov said the whistle had blown first.

Crozier finished with 33 saves and goalie Glenn Hall of Chicago with 25.

Montreal Edges Leafs, 2-1

By The Associated Press

For Montreal, the way to the top of the National Hockey League was Bobby Rousseau's stomach.

It was Rousseau's goal with less than four minutes remaining that boosted the Canadiens' to a 2-1 victory over Toronto Wednesday night and into sole possession of first place.

Rousseau, rookie of the year in the NHL two years ago, scored on a rebound of his own shot. The puck, however, rebounded off his stomach.

So now Montreal is in first place alone, a status it hasn't enjoyed since Oct. 12, the fourth day of the season. Chicago had been in first place, alone or tied, since Oct. 20.

Toronto had taken a 1-0 lead on Jim Pappin's goal early in the second period. Dave Balon tied the contest later in that frame. Rousseau's winning point came at 16:20 of the third.

MEDALISTS — The United States failed to gain a medal in the opening day of the Winter Olympics yesterday at Innsbruck, Austria. Here are the figure skating pairs champions: Gold medalists were Oleg and Ludmilla Protopopov of Russia; silver medalists (2) Hans Baeumler and Miraka Kilius of Germany and (3) Guy Revell and Debbi Wilkes of Canada.

U.S. HOPE — Still hoping to win a medal, the U.S. women's ski team, lead by Jean Saubert, American champion, will get into competition tomorrow. U.S. men failed in the downhill events and 30 kilometer cross country races.

Russian Women Triumph

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — A trio of sturdy Russians scored a record shattering 1-2-3 sweep in the women's 500-meter speed skating finals today as the tempo increased in the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

Americans again failed to win a medal, but a pair of U. S. girls, Jeanne Ashworth of Lake Placid, N. Y., and Jan Smith of Rochester, N. Y., tied for fourth in the speed skating, won by the Russians in Olympic record time.

U. S. TRAILS

The top U. S. hopes also trailed in the opening phases of the women's figure skating, an event the Americans once dominated, as Holland's favored Sjoukje Dijkstra stepped off to an early lead in the compulsory figures.

★ ★ ★

Likia Skolikova led the Russian sweep in the women's 500-meter speed skating, covering the 546.8 yards in the Olympic record time of 45 seconds flat.

She clipped nine-tenths of a second off the Olympic record set by Helga Haase of East Germany at Squaw Valley, Calif., four years ago and missed the world mark by a bare one-tenth of a second.

Irinia Yegorova and Tatyana Sidorova, two other husky daughters of Russia, also bettered the Olympic record in finishing second and third in 45.4 and 45.5, respectively.

Misses Ashworth and Smith were clocked in 46.2 for fourth place.

Miss Ashworth, a 25-year-old school teacher striving for a bronze medal, threw everything into her race and literally flung herself over the finish line.

She was cheered wildly by the crowd of 3,000 as she finished 50 yards ahead of Eiegrit Behrenz of Germany.

SPORTS

Finnish Speedster 1st in Olympic Ski Run

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — Finland grabbed the second gold medal of the ninth Winter Olympic Games today when Eero Maentyranta, a 26-year-old border customs employe, won the gruelling 30-kilometer ski race.

The winning time for the 18.6-mile course was 1 hour, 30 minutes, 50.7 seconds. Americans finished far back.

FAR AHEAD

The wiry Finnish world champion crossed the line more than a full minute ahead of the runner-up, Harald Groenningen, a Norwegian farmer who was a doubtful starter until the last minute. Groenningen was clocked in 1:32.02.3.

In third place came Igor Voronchikhin of the Soviet Union, in 1:32.15.8, followed by Janne Stefansson of Sweden, in 1:32.34.8. Sweden's Sixten Jernberg, who won the title at the Squaw Valley, Calif., Olympics in 1960, finished fifth in 1:32.39.6.

Austria's Egon Zimmerman lived up to his favorite's role today, flashing down the men's downhill ski course in 2 minutes, 18.16 seconds for the gold medal in one of the Winter Olympic's top events.

France's Leo Lacroix was second in 2:18.90, with Germany's Wolfgang Bartels third in 2:19.48.

U.S. FAR BACK

The four Americans were well down the list, with hopes Bud Werner and Billy Kidd even finishing behind Ni Orsi of Stockton, Calif., who was timed in 2:21.59. Kidd of Stowe, Vt., was clocked in 2:21.82 and Werner, of Steamboat Springs, Colo., in 2:22.05. Chuck Ferries of Houghton, Mich., finished in 2:23.00.

The second day of the big ice and snow carnival started under ideal conditions, with the temperature at 5 degrees. The skies were clear.

A total of 69 skiers from 18 nations took off on the exhausting race, staged over two loops on the hard-packed track west of Seefeld.

The downhill race was the big event of the second day opened by president Adolf Scherf of Austria in colorful ceremonies before a crowd of 60,000 in the scenic Bergisel Ski Jump Stadium on the edge of town.
