Local Educators at Meet Hear Nixon, Bishop Oxnam

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

CLEVELAND—The emphasis was on "peace talk" at the opening session of the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators when Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam spoke Sunday before 9,000 school superintendents and board of education members attending their five-day conference.

Vice President Nixon, building his address around his recent tour of 30 different nations, advised the classroom teacher of today to "teach about communism in order to insure the survival of democracy."

He chided those whose favorite sport was "kicking around the United Nations and feeding the Communist propaganda mill with war party rumors."

Bishop Oxnam, controversial figure in recent congressional committee hearings, called upon the entire nation to develop "faith that is more than a credo utterance on Sunday" by adopting three affirmations:

1—Belief in the finite worth of the individual.

2—Belief that the state does not confer our liberties, but merely confirms them.

3—Belief that love is the cohesive which will unite man for enduring social unity.

Drawing his observations from his visits to classrooms in Latin America and Asisa, Nixon said that youngsters today need to:

1—Be shown the interdependence of nations.

2—Be taught foreign languages in the early elementary grades so they can develop an understanding of these other countries.

3—Take pride in our own national customs and cultures, coupled with that same appreciation for other nations' traditions.

He noted that what these other countries needed was more library material — information which was not propaganda—research data and technical books and pamphlets.

"They call themselves part of the American family in our Latin countries, drawing the analogy of the human hand. Pointing out that there are five fingers, all different in size and strength, they believe pulling together we can be a powerful force for good."

Enumerating the policy of the administration which is predicated upon peace without surrender, Nixon said that militarily and economically the United States must be kept stronger than the potential aggressors.

Winning one of the top architectural awards of the year was the proposed Birmingham Junior High School which will be constructed within the next year, designed by Eberle M. Smith Associates. The honor came from the National Council on Schoolhouse Construction.

Attending this convention are school superintendents and board members from nearly 30 of the Oakland County districts. The convention ends Wednesday afternoon.

Nationalists Say Attack Due Soon

Expect Matsu, Quemoy to Be Hit Any Day Now by Red Chinese

TAIPEI (INS) — High Nationalist Chinese military authorities warned today the Communists are expected to attack the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu "any day now."

Officials said the explosive Formosa Straits situation is entering the critical phase as the Reds rush completion of two major airfield propects on the mainland opposite the islands.

Foochow air base, only 37 nautical miles from Matsu, is being remodeled for use by jet planes, and Luchiao, 185 miles from the island group, is in the final stages of construction.

The same sources, restating Nationalist pleas for American support in defense of the islands, said "the real danger lies in the undecided United States policy . . . which will invite attack."

Nationalist planes, based on Formosa 120 miles from Matsu, still claim air superiority over the offshore islands, but the military officials said the edge might be lost soon in the face of Peiping's rapidly mounting air threat.

The spokesmen said the United States could best avoid war with Red China by announcing it would help defend Quemoy and Matsu or by ordering a massive air buildup on Formosa bases.

The Nationalists claimed either or both firm steps would force Peiping to call off invasion plans and upset the Red timetable for conquest.

They warned, however, that a Communist attack on the offshore islands will bring Nationalist retaliation against mainland bases, exploding into full-scale war which might involve the U.S.

Appearances by Pope Launch Holy Week Rites

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Looking fit and vigorous after his serious winter illness, Pope Pius XII made two public appearances yesterday at the opening of Holy Week.

Yesterday he took part in the ceremonies opening the anniversary week of Christ's passion and crucifixion, then met for nearly an hour with 1,000 delegates to the World Congress on Prevention of Work Accidents.

Next Sunday the Pope will appear on the central balcony of St. Peter's Basilica to give his Easter blessing to Rome and the world. He also is expected to deliver an address.

Two Top Mao Aides Purged by Red China

HONG KONG (INS)—Kao Kang, high Chinese Communist Party boss regarded as a right hand man to No. One Red Mao Tse-Tung, was purged today by the party's central committee.

A Peiping radio broadcast said that the committee also condemned and called for the expulsion from the party of Jao Shu Shih, veteran Communist and political commissar for the East China military district.

Bonanzagram No. 5 Starts

For puzzle number three, 4,434 answers were received.

Until noon today, no correct claim checks had been presented. If none is received by the deadline (5 p. m. tonight) the $100 for No. 3 puzzle will be added to the award for No. 4 bringing the present Bonanzagram jackpot to $400. Deadline for No. 4 answers is Tuesday at 5 p. m. or with a Tuesday midnight postmark.

Several Bonanzagrammers have come disappointingly close to cracking the big reward. Their only errors were in punctuation.

Under the rules set up for Bonanzagrams everywhere punctuation is as important as letters to make correct words. Punctuation must be correct to win.

So finish up No. 4 puzzle and turn to No. 5 in today's paper.

Keep Curious From Murder Scene

POSSE GUARDS AREA—Three members of the Oakland County Sheriff's Posse shown above were among 15 men dispatched yesterday to the area near Pontiac Trail and Halstead Road in West Bloomfield Township where little Barbara Gaca's body was discovered last Thursday. The posse was sent to guard the area when more than 2,000 curious motorists converged on the scene Sunday. Left to right, above, are Arnold Nelson of Clarkston, Ed Marshall of Birmingham and Clayt Kellogg of Royal Oak.

M'Arthur OKs Releasing Notes

Agrees to Publication of Pre-Yalta Documents If All Are Included

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur says he will agree to the release of documents dealing with "responsibility for the Yalta decisions" only if the record is released in full.

The wartime Far Eastern military chief referred to the requested release of certain Army documents and messages dealing with the war against Japan.

Publication of these records was sought after MacArthur denied statements that his advice had prompted concessions to the Soviet Union in order to enlist that nation in the Pacific war. These concessions were made by the United States and England at the Yalta conference in February 1945.

The Army on Saturday announced it had boosted the security classification of MacArthur's wartime message file and other documents and was leaving a decision on their release to the Department of Defense.

MacArthur said he wants the whole record released — if at all—because he understands that the Defense Department is now being asked to release only selected documents dealing with plans for implementing the Yalta decisions. He said this release would exclude "the documentation which preceded the Yalta decisions and which alone might cast light upon the responsibilities involved."

Britain Expects Churchill to Step Down Tomorrow

LONDON (INS)—All Britain waited tensely today for a final major act in the great Churchill political drama—his expected resignation announcement tomorrow.

The 80-year-old prime minister, who loves his Friday to Monday weekend in the country, changed his plans last night, returning from his Chartwell estate to London for a quiet dinner.

With typical Churchillian mischeviousness, he let it be known that heir apparent Sir Anthony Eden, now foreign secretary, and Lady Eden will attend Churchill's dinner for Queen Elizabeth at 10 Downing St. tonight.

The dinner will be purely social—although most observers consider it Sir Winston's farewell dinner to the sovereign family he has served so well.

Churchill is expected to stick to rigid protocol by requesting an audience with the Queen at Buckingham Palace. And his usual Tuesday audience in all probability will serve well to give him a convenient opportunity to hand in his official resignation.

Eden's weekend activities also gave added evidence to the now almost undoubted report Churchill will resign this week. He spent the weekend dealing with papers in London. And junior ministers in the Eden clique were suddenly attacked by shyness, and pleaded that they could not circulate among their friends or acquaintances until after Easter.

At his audience with the Queen, the cigar-famous statesman who led England through her "darkest hour" probably will suggest the Queen call on Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, to replace him and take steps for a new general election.

Eden is a mere 57 compared to the prime minister's 80.

Churchill is expected to continue, even after his retirement, to hold himself ready to offer advice on many problems similar to those he has met in more than half a century in the House of Commons.

Retirement will mean giving up Churchill's hopes to take part in a big four meeting—"at the summit"—in the search to ease world tension and find permanent peace.

Skies Will Cloud Tonight, Tuesday

After a bright, sunny weekend, the weatherman says skies will begin to cloud tonight. Mostly cloudy skies and a few possible showers are in store for area residents tomorrow.

Saturday temperatures ranged from 40 to 69 degrees, Sunday from 36 to 53.

According to the U. S. Weather Bureau, the low tonight will be from 34 to 38 with a high Tuesday of 54 to 58. Tomorrow night will bring a low of around 40.

Today at 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac the mercury stood at 38 degrees, rising to 52 by 2 p.m.

Relatives View Burned Bodies

Try to Identify Victims of Belgian Movie Fire in Which 39 Died

SCLESSIN, Belgium (AP) — Weeping relatives filed through a makeshift morgue today to identify a grim row of charred bodies, victims of a movie house fire yesterday that killed 39 persons, including 22 children.

Belgium's King Baudouin arrived in this grieving industrial suburb of Liege this morning to visit the scene of the flaming disaster in the tiny Rio Theater and to talk to the victims' families.

Officials announced that 38 of the 39 bodies had been identified. They were part of the matinee audience — mostly children — which was trapped when the fire broke out. Many were trampled to death in the mad rush for the exits.

The theater is situated in the heart of a Belgian and Italian steel workers' district. It was showing "Adventure of Sevilla," in which popular Basque crooner Luis Mariano stars.

Workers Stoke Boilers at Mackinac Bridge Site

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Preliminaries of a new season's work on the giant $100,000,000 Straits of Mackinac Bridge got under way today.

Workmen began firing the boilers of the big steel-hoisting derricks. Actual resumption of construction is probably no more than a week away, engineers said.

The building of the five-mile long bridge, linking St. Ignace and Mackinac City across the Straits, is a four-year job.

Police Uncover Development in Slayer Hunt

Late-Model Car Seen at Dump-Site Thursday Afternoon

Considered the "hottest" lead so far in the fiendish slaying of Barbara Gaca today caused police to concentrate their search for a 1955 cream-topped Buick which was seen by five witnesses at the murder site the day the child was kidnaped.

However, the new lead doesn't rule out the possibility that that car was a green Hudson as formerly reported. Police are also investigating reports that the auto was a blue 1954 Ford.

The latest lead was considered the "most promising" since the girl's body was found in a West Bloomfield Township dump Thursday.

Authorities were planning to question witnesses, who said they had seen the cream-topped car the day Barbara was reported missing, further today.

The witnesses said the auto was at the dump about four hours after the girl was seized March 24.

Police quoted the witnesses as saying that the car was backed up to the dump and its trunk was open. The five witnesses all agreed that the car was a 1955, but their reports of the color of the auto varied.

Four of the witnesses said the car was red or maroon and the fifth witness said he believed the car might have been green. Police said they are continuing theiri nvestigation in the Halsted Road-Pontiac Trail raea.

Police urge resident in that area to come forth with any information they are able to furnish.

Authorities further regarded the new information as a "good clue" because witnesses in the area said they had never seen a late model car come into the dumping area before.

Oakland County Sheriff Frank C. Irons is coordinating the investigation from his office here.

"Whenever we get something that looks good," Irons said today, "we immediately notify authorities in Detroit and begin a coordinated plan to follow through."

State Police of both Detroit and Redford posts are working with local detectives for "one possible good lead." Over 50 suspects have been questioned in the case so far and released. But four others held in Detroit for questioning may be released later, following verification of their alibis.

Meanwhile, thousands of persons are visiting the little girl's home where she lay in her small white and pink casket.

This was the most frequently heard comment at the Gaca home as more than 15,000 persons stood in line yesterday to view the body.

Last night, several thousand persons stood in the street outside the home, among them 500 Knights of Columbus who had arrived in a body to give the responses to the Rosary. The words of the Rev. Fr. John Rozak were carried from the Gaca living room by two loudspeakers and the response echoed up and down the block on Detroit's East Side.

Les Hutchinson Dies in Hospital

Trailer Magnate, 41, Succumbs Suddenly; Services Wednesday

Funeral service for Leslie A. Hutchinson, 41-year-old owner of the Pontiac Coach Co. and Hutchinson Trailer Sales Co., will be held here at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Mr. Hutchinson, who rose from a factory worker's job to head his own multi-million dollar house-trailer firm, died yesterday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

He had entered the hospital Friday morning and underwent surgery that night. Cause of death has not been announced.

Born the son of a Tuscola County farmer in Gagetown June 25, 1913, Mr. Hutchinson moved to Pontiac with his family at the age of six months.

He attended school here and was graduated from Pontiac High School.

His first job was as a locker room boy at Forest Lake Country Club after school. After graduating from high school, he worked as a laborer in the Fisher Body Division plant for about five years.

Later he went into the used car business as a salesman. During World War II, he was an inspection foreman at the Willow Run bomber plant.

In 1943, he went into the grocery business on Sashabaw road near Woodhull Lake. He soon began selling house trailers on a lot next to the grocery.

A brother recalls that in 1946 trailer manufacturers were mak-

Local Precincts Report Morning Balloting Slow

Both Parties Terming Outcome of Election 'Crucial'

A "slow" vote this morning made Pontiac election workers skeptical that the city total would reach the predicted 10,000 to 12,000 despite an increasing pace during the noon hour.

Most of the 44 Pontiac precincts had not recorded half as many votes by 1 p.m. as during the general election last Nov. 4 when about 20,000 persons balloted.

Out-county precincts also were running well behind last fall's pace, but slightly ahead of the 1953 spring election, said County Clerk Lynn D. Allen.

Presence on the Pontiac ballot of the controversial fluoridation proposal and two charter amendments was expected to run the city total above the 1953 spring-election figure of 5,247 votes. There are about 37,000 registered city voters.

Some 227,000 of the half-million county citizens are registered. Two years ago 42,187 exercised their franchise.

Experts had predicted that a 22-year-old state record for a spring election would topple today with over a million voters turned out.

Not since 1,112,658 ballots were cast in 1933 as a backwash of the Roosevelt victory a year earlier, has a spring election rallied so much effort by both major parties.

If Democrats win, it will mean the traditional Republican hold on spring voting has been broken, adding to the Democratic prestige gained by the sweep of state offices in question last November.

The GOP, on the other hand, has fought hard to avenge last fall's defeat.

The issue will be decided in the races for state superintendent of public instruction and two theoretically non-partisan state supreme court justice seats.

Individual candidates were thrust into the background by party leaders who considered the election a battle between the two large parties for control of a key state.

The leaders said the handful of candidates were contesting minor state offices, but the election was the most significant test of political strength since the early days of the "New Deal."

The voters will elect two state supreme court justices, a state superintendent of public instruction, a member of the State Board of Education and two members each of the governing bodies of the University of Michigan and Michigan State College.

Three local issues face Pontiac voters. One is a proposed ordiing it so difficult for Mr. Hutchinson to obtain coaches that he decided to return to Pontiac and manufacture his own.

"When he told them what he was going to do they just laughed at him," his brother said. "That made him even more determined to do it and succeed.

With Frank William of Pontiac and Eldon Mudge of Drayton Plains, he set up a small shop on Lake street and began turning out one or two trailers a week.

In 1947, the partnership was dissolved and he moved the manufacturing operation to 4615 Dixie Highway in Drayton Plains, where a sales lot had been operating.

On July 1, 1947, the Pontiac Coach Co. was inaugurated as a full-fledged trailer building firm.

Mr. Hutchinson built up a sales organization and signed up a string of 200 dealerships across the country. Hutchinson Trailer Sales Co. operates outlets in Detroit, Flint, Flat Rock, Indianapolis, Ind., and Miami, Fla., along with the factory branch in Drayton Plains.

Mr. Hutchinson died before completion of a pending deal for a $2½ million plant he constructed on Williams Lake road.

His brother, Robert L., secretary-treasurer of the coach company and sales manager of the sales company, said a deal for sale or lease of the factory building is expected to be concluded shortly.

Mr. Hutchinson, who lived at 2860 Chadwick Rd., Waterford Township, is survived by his wife, Betty Jane, six children, his parents, 11 brothers and sisters and four grandchildren. The children are by a former marriage.

He was a member of Elks Lodge 810. A Lodge of Sorrow will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Service will be at Donelson-Johns Funeral Home, with burial in Ottawa Park Cemetery. The Rev. Eldon Mudge will officiate.

Surviving children are James L., Drayton Plains; Stuart I., Pontiac; Leslie A. II, Royal Oak; Judith D., Pontiac; Penelope, Royal Oak, and Mrs. Frederick Foster Jr., Pontiac.

His parents are the Rev. and Mrs. Allen Hutchinson. He is pastor of the Full Gospel Church, Oakwood.

Surviving brothers include Delbert J., Lake Orion; Melvin J., Alma; Russell E., Pontiac; Paul L., Ortonville, and Robert L., Drayton Plains.

Surviving sisters are Mrs. Russell Lindsay, Pontiac; Ruth E. and Rose Mary, Drayton Plains, and Mrs. Lucien Barker, Mrs. Frederick Lindsay and Mrs. Manford Kirkland, all of Drayton Plains.

nance which, if approved by a majority of voters, would stop the city from adding fluoride to the water supply.

A "For" vote should be cast on the fluoridation issue by those OPPOSED to adding the substance to city water, and an "Against" vote should be cast by those FAVORING fluoridation.

Charter amendment 1 provides for a correction in the revised city pension plan approved by the voters last fall.

Today's amendment changes the wording back to the form in effect since the pension plan was first activated in 1946.

Charter amendment 2 is aimed at a better balance in number of voters in the city's seven districts.

It is worded "to add certain territory to District 3 from District 2 and add certain territory from District 1 to District 2 so that Districts 1, 2 and 3 will be comparatively equal in population and area."

All voters will rule on four proposed amendments to the State constitution.

1. A uniform date for qualifying candidates.

2. Limiting eligibility for the Supreme Court and Circuit Court to lawyers under the age of 70.

3. Authorization of $100 million dollars of state bonds as a lending fund for distressed school districts.

4. Making the State Board of Canvassers nonpartisan.

Candidates for the Supreme Court were Circuit Judges Stephen J. Roth, of Flint, and Eugene F. Black, of Port Huron, and Chief Justice Leland W. Carr seeking re-election, and D. Hale Brake, former state treasurer.

Although high court candidates carry no ballot designations, Roth and Black were named at the Democratic state convention last spring and Brake and Carr were nominated at the Republican state convention.

Running for superintendent of public instruction were Clair L. Taylor, Republican incumbent, and Lynn M. Bartlett, a Grosse Pointe Democrat.

In the university regents race were J. Joseph Herbert, of Manistique, incumbent and William B. Cudlip, Detroit attorney, both Republicans; Paul L. Adams, of Sault Ste. Marie, and Eugene B. Power, Ann Arbor publisher, both Democrats.

For the State Board of Agriculture, voters were to choose between Republicans Sarah Van Hoosen Jones, of Rochester, incumbent and Dale Stafford, Greenville publisher; Democrats Dr. Connor D. Smith, of Standish, incumbent and William E. Baker, of Mesick.

All persons in line at 8 p.m. will be allowed to vote.

Woman Reader Asks for Return of Carrier's Bike

If you live near Crescent Lake, and your paper is late this afternoon, it's because somebody stole Albert's bike.

Usually, when someone calls the Press about a news carrier, it's to complain about a paper not being delivered, or a newsboy trampling across flower beds, but not this time.

Mrs. Bernice Rivard, of 361 Highgate, sounded indignant enough when she called Saturday morning, but her news carrier, Albert Harrell, wasn't at fault.

It was just that he has a long way to go delivering his papers in the Crescent Lake area, and somebody stole his bike from the back yard of his home at 249 Briscoe.

"Maybe the person who took his bike will be conscience-stricken if they read about it in the Press," Mrs. Rivard explained. "Albert's the best newsboy we ever had out here—he delivers our paper right on time, and in even in the worst kind of weather.

"Won't you please ask whoever took the bike to bring it back . . . Albert needs it."

Engineers Praised in Birmingham Talk

The occasion was the 75th annual banquet of the society.

"The most creative thinking and constructive cooperation the supporters of the St. Lawrence seaway have had from any quarter came from the United States Corps of Engineers," Dr. Danielian stated.

"I think it is only fair that the country should know that it is the Corps of Engineers who conceived this project, who planned it, in cooperation with their Canadian colleagues, who helped sell it to Congress, and who are now designing and building it for the future benefit of the country," he added.

Also praised for their part in the St. Lawrence seaway work were Sen. Charles Potter, and Congressman George Dondero, Gerald Ford, T. Machrowicz, and Louis Rabaut.

Predicts Huge Growth in Auto Parts Sales

Lee said in a speech prepared for delivery today before the Michigan Automobile Wholesalers Assn. that there are now 21 million cars on the highway more than five years ago. Twelve million are 10 years old or more, he said.

"And age," Lee said, "means parts service business for the automotive wholesaler."

Rezoning, Water Service on City Agenda Tonight

BIRMINGHAM—Rezoning of the entire Adams Village, Subdivision to single-family residences will be recommended to the City Commission tonight by the City Planning Board.

The area, the former "Porritt Farm" on Adams road south of Maple, already is under development and a half dozen duplexes have been built.

James H. Spencer, plan board chairman, said the board had been advised informally that builders have abandoned their intention to build a shopping center on Adams and intend to build nothing further but single residences.

At tonight's meeting commissioners also will consider a request for water service for the proposed junior high school, to be built at Adams and Derby Rds. in Troy Township.

Recommendation for a public hearing April 25 on paving Bird, Edgewood, Grant and Southlawn in the vicinity of Pierce School is also on the agenda. City Manager Donald C. Egbert has recommended consideration of the project, together with other paving in the area bounded by Pierce, 14 Mile, Grant and Lincoln Sts.

The Gold Medal Award for excellence in design and architecture of the proposed new east side junior high school was announced Sunday at a convention of the American Association of School Administrators in Cleveland.

The award will be made to Peter Tarapata, designer, of Bloomfield Township, and Eberle M. Smith Associates of Detroit, architects, by the AASA and the American Institute of Architects. Bids already have been taken on the $2,200,000 school to be located at Derby and Adams Rds., and completion is expected in 1956.

Eight permits for new single homes and 13 for alterations to single homes were among the 45 building permits issued here in March, according to T. C. Brien, building inspector.

The new homes have a permit value of $132,500 and the alterations $27,700. In addition, three permits were granted for new 2-family residences with a total permit value of $57,000.

Two business permits were issued, one for a new building with a value of $25,000 and one for a $20,000 alteration.

At Least 8 Dead in Train Wreck

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (INS) — A resort-bound Mexican train jumped the tracks and plunged two passenger cars to destruction — killing at least nine persons — near Guadalajara last night.

Eight of 70 known injured persons were reported in serious condition. The train's locomotive and three freight cars also derailed near the town of Colima at 7:45 o'clock (CST) last night.

Officials said the toll of injured was incomplete. The fast express was packed with holy week holidayers en route from Guadalajara to the coast resort town of Manzanillo.

A special assistance train sped from Colima with Red Cross and other medical personnel. Federal troops also were on their way with medical equipment.

Officials gave no cause for the derailment.

The first medical groups to reach the scene were unable to remove all the injured from the crumpled wreckage.

Trains running from Guadalajara to the coast beaches have been packed with vacationers leaving for the holy week. Passengers have been standing in vestibules and in the aisles.

3 Hurt, One Badly, in Plant Blast, Fire

MIDLAND (AP)—Three men were injured, one critically, in an explosion and fire last night that ripped out a wall of the Dow Chemical Co.'s Brom Indigo plant.

R.G. Whitmer, 25, of Beaverton, was taken to Midland Hospital in critical condition with second degree burns.

Perry H. VanSickle, 41, of Mount Pleasant, and John Spitnale, 44, of Midland, were treated and released at the company dispensary.

The three were the only occupants of the building when the blast occurred.

Company officials could not estimate immediately the amount of damage but described it as "substantial." Cause of the explosion was not determined.

Military Funeral Scheduled Today for McCormick

CHICAGO (INS)—Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, will be buried today with full military honors.

Private services will be held at Col. McCormick's Cantigny Farm home in Wheaton, west of Chicago, where he died in his sleep early Friday after a lingering illness. He was 74.

Military rites will be conducted by a firing squad of eight soldiers and a bugler, veterans of the 1st Army Division in which Col. McCormick served in World War I.

Col. Thomas R. Gowenlock will attend as a representative of the 1st Division and of Gen. Charles B. Summerall, Col. McCormick's old commander and close friend.

Ten soldiers and an officer of the 1st Division will serve as pallbearers.

Burial will be near Col. McCormick's farm home.

Flags on all state armories will be flown at half staff today "in respect and admiration" for the famous publisher. This tribute was ordered by Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton.

Public memorial services will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. (CST) in the Fourth Presbyteran Church in Chicago. Members of the Chicago area American Legion posts will attend the services, which will be broadcast by radio station WGN, one of Col. McCormick's many holdings in addition to the Tribune.

Americans today are rearing the Biblical age span of three score years and 10. The most recent life expectancy tables show a child today has an expectancy of about 69.9 years.

Ride on Cable Car Cheapest Tonic in Town

By PHYLLIS BATELLE

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — There are two ways a lady in high heels can descend San Francisco's hills: Ride on the city's cable cars, or slide on her own caboose.

The latter is uncomfortable and costly, doctors being how they are, and almost no one tries it twice.

The former is a 15-cent roller coaster ride which is likely to rip off one's hat and peel away one's dignity. Most cable car gripmen will screech to a gracious halt and retrieve the hat. But there are those who have never quite recovered their aplomb.

Dignity — as we cable fans say —who needs it?

The cable car is a necessary whimsy in this wavy-surfaced city. It is shaped like the Toonerville trolley, with the front half open to fog and sun, and the backside closed in for sissies. Ladies are not permitted to stand in the open section, it being not genteel. Men can stand but seldom do. Everybody, including the conductor and brakeman, travels light-heartedly at his own risk.

To get aboard the cable cars, many of which were sold at auction last year when the city decided to save money and succumb to such symbols of progress as the new-fangled bus, is an easy job. One merely steps gingerly off a curb, holds up a hand, and casts a challenging look at the oncoming autos.

Usually these autos stop, because San Francisco drivers are sentimental about the cable cars, and they also place a certain value on people.

A wide, enterprising step up and you are aboard. Everyone on cable cars smiles kindly; they have preceded you, they are temporarily your hosts and hostesses. The conductor points out a seat, sometimes takes your elbow and leads you into it. There is a pause while you get comfortable and smile your readiness for departure.

The conductor pulls the "cling, cling" cord and the car, which jogs arduously on spinning underground cables, takes off. At street corners, the ritual is repeated. You are now hostess. You smile.

At the top of extra-steep hills, the gripman sometimes calls "And down we go." As down we do. At the bottom of the hills, the cable car personnel, occasionally assisted by customers who are not in a hurry, gently push the cars around on a turntable built into the street, till its square brown nose is headed hillward again.

Since 10 were sold ("to utter strangers," Mourn sentimentalists, "from Nevada and Los Angeles"), there are now only 58 cable cars still running on Powell and California streets, with a fleet of 12 not-very-fleet cars in reserve. But their "cling" (or "clang!" in traffic rush hours) is more familiar still than the hoot of the fog horns in murky weather.

In fact, it is estimated there are 100 "clings" to the "hoot" over a reasonably clement year.

For 82 years, since the cable car was a shiny contraption that replaced the hill-weary horses of San Francisco, this crisp sound resititillated tourists and local residents. To operate, they cost three times as much as buses, they go at comparatively snail's pace and their tracks—laid inconveniently in the middle of the near-perpendicular streets of the city—are often called a real hazard to these new-fangled gas buggies called cars.

As a girl from the flatlands of New York, however, I insist they be kept clanking. A ride on the cables is the cheapest tonic in town.

Shoes for left and right feet were shaped alike for many years. It was not until about the Civil War days that separate left and right patterns were used.

PEOPLE'S

Bob Considine Says:

NEW YORK (INS) — People. . . places. . .things. . .

Doesn't seem possible but the scientist who coined the word "vitamin", and taught the world much of what it knows of the organic substances essential for growth and the maintainance of normal body structure and function, is still around and busy at work.

He is Dr. Casimir Funk, jockey-sized, twinkling-eyed and 71. He works an average of 15 hours a day at basic research in his lab, a non-profit organization named the Funk Foundation for Medical Research. His search now continues in the fields of cancer and diabetes.

Dr. Funk was born in Warsaw and received his doctorate degree in chemistry at the early age of 20. He became an authority on proteins under the great Germans Emil Fischer and Emil Abderhalden and out of that work took his first interest in nutrition.

He singled out beriberi, a disease of malnutrition which affected millions of Asians and found a cure in the polishings of the rice whose monotonous consumption was producing the disease in the first place.

He was dealing with substances essential to life. They needed a generic name. "Vita" (life) was a natural. To it he added "amine," connected with nitrogenous compounds. Now vitamins run the alphabetical gamut. For example, vitamin P, a compound from the pulp and rind of oranges, is regarded as a miracle treatment of a common cold.

Dr. Funk developed the first synthetic adrenalin made available in this country, and the first commercial vitamin concentrates from fish oils in this country. In the early days he was considered a faddist, with all his talk of the profound role of vitamins in life. But now he's about to be hailed in a book about his work.

Speaking of books, if you're interested in communism, war, espionage, love, life and first - rate writing, get Ralph De Toledano's new one—a novel named "Day of Reckoning." Henry Holt Publishes. De Toledano wrote the hard-hitting "Seeds of Treason" with Victor Lasky a few years ago.

The National Association for Mental Health, Inc., is readying an all-out campaign to make the public more conscious about what's going on above its collective Adam's apple. For instance:

There are 750,000 Americans now under the care of mental hospitals, which is more than half the number of patients in all hospitals for all other diseases. There's more mental illness than polio, cancer, heart disease, TB and all other diseases combined. More than a quarter of a million new patients are admitted to mental hospitals each year.

The association states that one in every 16 suffers from some form of mental disorder, though sometimes as slight as "industrial maladjustment." The pitch: Let's spend more money for better treatment.

A story here about the razing of the old Empire Theater stirred memories in Donald Henderson Clarke, famed old New York reporter now living in Orleans, Cape Cod, Mass. He writes about a great party given for Miss Maxine Elliot in the Green Room or salon of this storied playhouse. . ."The only occasion on which I ever saw Enrico Caruso and John McCormack touch elbows, share laughter and in a quasi-duet pay tribute to the queen of a moment." Mr. Clarke concludes:

"As the late Joseph Jefferson O'Neill (whom Gene Fowler and I agree was the greatest writing reporter of our time, and also one of the grandest gentlemen of old Park Row) used to say: 'God bless you and keep you—I can't."

Coeds Marrying Up

CHICAGO (AP)—The dean of women at the University of Louisville says a record number of young women are getting married before they finish college. Girls used to be expelled for marrying, but nowadays they feel "hopeless if they haven't a marriage at least in sight by commencement," said Hilda Threlkeld.

THE EASTER STORY—7
Jesus Is Tried

The priests turned Jesus over to Pontius Pilate, the Roman governor. They said he was guilty of blasphemy because he said he was the Messiah. Pilate said he found no fault in Jesus. He went out and asked the crowd if he should not release Jesus. It was a custom to release a prisoner at Passover. The crowd shouted to crucify Jesus and turn loose a robber named Barabbas. Pilate washed his hands to show he was blameless in the death of Jesus. He turned him over to the soldiers to be crucified.

This is the seventh of 12 stories on Easter. Each story's picture is drawn like a stained glass window. You can look at your church's windows for ideas on how to best color this series.

House Adopts Fair Rules for Conduct of Inquiries

Though it may not end all abuses, the House adopted code of rules for the fair conduct of investigations promises great improvement.

In drafting the code the aim of the Committee on Rules was to have the several committees of the House incorporate it into their own rules. This, of course, was an admission that there had been abuses in the past. Also, formal adoption of the code gives it greater force.

Among other things the new rules require that committee chairmen tell the witness the object of the inquiry and provide him with a copy of committee rules. Witnesses are to have the right to counsel. They can ask to have witnesses called in their own behalf.

Derogatory or defamatory evidence must be taken first in executive session and those accused must be offered a chance to appear in their own behalf. Testimony taken in closed session can be released only on the vote of the committee or subcommittee concerned.

An especially important new regulation is that each committee may determine the size of its own quorum. In no case, however, can the number be fewer than two. This will prevent chairmen from conducting one man investigations, which have been so much criticized in the past.

Usage, no doubt, will show where this code can be strengthened. The big and satisfying fact is that a long step has been taken in the right direction.

Death the Only Penalty That Fits This Crime

As expected, the savage sex murder of seven year old Barbara Gaca has revived demands for the death penalty in Michigan.

Even before discovery of the tiny victim's mutilated body in West Bloomfield Township, there was action at Lansing. Four members of the State Senate proposed an effective legal deterrent to such crimes, the electric chair.

Sponsors of this bill were Republicans Lynn C. Francis of Midland, Frank Andrews of Hillman, Donald E. Smith of Owosso and Haskill Nichols of Jackson. As drawn, and subject to public referendum, the bill would provide the death penalty for any adult who commits murder or kidnaps or rapes a child under 12 years old.

This newspaper long has advocated the extreme penalty not only for sex crimes but for all first degree murders. Almost annually the issue has come up in our Legislature and without exception Michigan lawmakers have refused to face the stark facts of murder.

Perhaps the public indignation roused by this most vicious of recent sex crimes will move the Legislators to action. Certainly it has spurred all police forces to every effort that will bring Barbara's slayer to justice. These, after all, are the only things Michigan can do to protect its women and children from these sadistic beasts.

We believe the Legislators should enact the Francis bill in some form and that the public should approve it when and if it goes on the ballot.

Royal Oak Amends Curfew

Our neighboring city of Royal Oak has revised upward the age limit in its curfew law to ensure more successful control of teenage hoodlumism.

The curfew isn't new. It was adopted two years ago in an effort by Royal Oak's City Commission to break up teenage gangs loitering on street corners, in restaurants and other unsupervised places.

Police complained, however, that enforcement was difficult because the ordinance applied only to children of 15 and younger and exempted the age group of 16 to 17. Youths in that group not only escaped curfew restrictions but could not be arrested as adults.

As now amended to be effective April 18, the ordinance provides that no one up to his 17th birthday has the right to be on the streets after 10:30 p.m. except under certain specified conditions.

These include being accompanied by a responsible adult, having permission from the police because of working hours or returning from worthwhile civic affairs.

In recent months the problem of teenage hoodlumism has been brought forcibly to the attention of Pontiac school and police officials. Our growing problem suggests that the operation of Royal Oak's amended ordinance should be watched with a view to determining whether similar restrictions could be used effectively here.

Falsehood is so easy, truth so difficult.

"Just Say When and Where"

David Lawrence Says:

Taxpayers Have a Right to Conference Documents

WASHINGTON—Decision of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, by unanimous vote to quiz Secretary of State Dulles about the release of the Yalta papers is a step in the right direction, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who raised the point in the committee, is to be commended for doing so.

For there is a deeper issue than politics involved. It is whether records resulting from the money spent by American taxpayers to send their governmental representatives to international conferences and the papers or notes they write belong to the American people or whether they shall be sold for private profit in book publication afterward by the individuals participating in the conferences.

There have been several books published about what happened at Yalta—two of them by former secretaries of state, and one by Churchill himself. Former President Truman probably will devote some chapters to the Potsdam conference in the book he now is writing from the papers he took along when he left the White House.

It has been properly asked, in the current controversy, why it was necessary for the Department of State to include in its release the offhand comments and personal remarks made at Yalta. But the answer is that if the remarks were "personal," they never should have been made in an international conference. As long as the 30 or more persons present, and especially those who took notes of any kind, put them down on paper and made them part of the American government's official records, they belong to the American people.

It has been quite customary heretofore for public officials and some presidents to take away from the White House what they call their "personal papers." But the stenographic time and the time used by the officials in preparing the documents in the first place were paid for by the taxpayers of the United States, and the documents belong to the people and not to the publishers of books.

If someone wanted to say something in a conference that he didn't want publicized later, he should have asked then and there that it be stricken from the record. But as long as it became a part of the record, it cannot be withheld justly from the American people ten years later. If "personal" comments are to be excluded from government records, someone is likely to suggest that they be kept out of the speeches in the "Congressional Record" and committee transcripts, too.

The question is further complicated by the unfortunate circumstance that a person who had access to all the memoranda and participated in the conference as a high official—Alger Hiss—now has been revealed through court proceedings to have been a part of the Communist apparatus in Washington.

No United States senator will be able to stand up before any constituency and successfully defend the suppression of any facts concerning the Yalta papers because the conference itself has been tainted by the presence of a man in the ranks of the American delegation itself who was later revealed to have once given governmental notes to a Communist agent.

Everything that Hiss put down on paper is important enough to be disclosed. He knew all that was said in the conference at Yalta and everything that was written in memoranda or confidential papers. Will any senior argue that the American people can't have, even ten years later, all the information — personal comments or anything else—to which Alger Hiss himself had access?

Now the matter of timing the release is something else. It can be argued that it wasn't opportune But, after ten years of efforts to keep the data secret, it does seem as if the arguments of those who attack the release might mean that it never would be the right time to publish the documents.

On the subject of giving an advance copy to the New York Times, this has been described as a "leak." It is not unusual for long documents to be given to some publications in advance because they print them in full and need more time for mechanical work. The test is whether in this case the document was printed by one paper or by all at the same time. If actually was a simultaneous publication.

But there have been "leaks" in the past and, if the Senate Foreign Relations Committee is fair about it, there will be an inquiry into personal and confidential remarks made by Gen. MacArthur at his Wake Island conference with President Truman were "leaked" to the New York Times by the Truman Administration in 1951.

Certain other "leaks" occurred during the 1952 campaign, when an important military document about the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff deliberations on Korea in 1947 was declassified by President Truman himself and given to Sen. Morse for use on the political stump without, of course, immediately informing the public or even the Defense Department at that time by whom and why the document was "declassified." The people, however, were entitled to the information then that Sen. Morse gave them, just as they now are entitled to all the facts about the Yalta conference papers.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Sleeping Pills, Drinking and Suicide Poor Ways of Overcoming Problems

Myra takes sleeping pills not primarily for slumber. She has a conscience that keeps bothering her. And it is worries or a guilty conscience which drive many people into the sleeping pill craze. Use the better strategy below for nobody needs sleeping pills.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, she takes them constantly," her worried husband informed me over the telephone recently.

"Twice she has swallowed such big quantities that we feared she'd die. But nothing we can do will stop her. She is a dope addict and the dope she demands is simply the ordinary sleeping pills. But she uses them in large quantities.

"Besides, she drinks, heavily, too so I am at my wits end. Why should any attractive woman do such things?"

We psychologists urge everybody to face his problems frankly and try to make some constructive adjustment to them.

Sleeping pills and drunken debauches don't solve your worries but will just increase them when you sober up.

You don't need sleeping pills, so stop kidding yourself with them.

If you can't drop off into deep slumber when you go to bed, so what! You get practically the same benefit even if you don't sleep, providing you lie in the horizontal plane, as on your mattress.

For in that position, your heart gets its main rest, anyway. It beats more slowly and against less blood pressure as long as you are lying down.

So go to bed and if you can't sleep, read some educational book or magazine. The Bible is top-notch.

"But I'm afraid to read the Bible," Myra later confessed to me.

Myra had two-timed her husband, though he was in ignorance of her faithlessness.

So she started drinking whiskey. When she was drunk, she would thus be free from her worries, at least till she sobered up next day. But when her husband was home with her, she couldn't get staggering drunk, for he vetoed the liquor bottle.

Sleepless and wrought up, she'd then demand sleeping pills. So he would acquiesce, thinking she really needed them.

Nobody ever needs sleeping pills! Chalk that up as an axiom of psychology

For you don't need doped sleep for physiological purposes. You'll fall asleep naturally when you quit trying to play hookey from your worries.

Jonah tried to evade his responsibilities, too, by fleeing aboard ship, and you Bible scholars recall that he got caught up in a storm.

The result was his final admission of his problem and his own request that the sailors throw him overboard, where the great fish gulped him down.

It doesn't pay to start fleeing from your worries. And sleeping pills are a common form of escape from consciousness of guilt.

So is drunkenness. And suicide is simply an extreme attempt to flee, as is insanity, too.

Face your problems! Talk them out to your clergyman or doctor. Better yet, kneel down and confess them to God in your prayers.

Everybody makes some mistakes so it is foolish to try to evade facing the facts. Try to salvage as much as you can from your experiences; then resolutely face forward and quit making the same errors in the future.

If you are wrought up unduly because you can't sleep, that means you either don't realize the true medical facts about slumber, or else you are trying to dope your conscience with drugs, liquor or whatnot.

So get wise and read yourself to sleep at night. Clear your conscience meanwhile and you'll drift off into deep slumber without sleeping pills.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

'A Former Patient' Commends Supervisor of Nurses at Pontiac General Hospital

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Pontiac General Hospital is indeed fortunate to have a supervisor of nurses like Mrs. M. Glancy on its hospital nursing staff. Her always smiling and understanding disposition toward patients under her jurisdiction is a great comfort to them.

She does not stop at the minimum care and attention a nurse is required to give a patient; she goes beyond that to see that her patients are made both comfortable and happy at all times during their stay under her charge.

Her capable assistants must enjoy their association with her as they couldn't ask for a finer person, in my estimation, than Mrs. Glancy.

A Former Patient

'Worried Mothers' Offer Answer to Strikes

We are two worried mothers and agree very much with "Interested." Stop all union leaders salaries until a settlement is reached. The men wouldn't be on strike very long that way.

Union men, if you would get together and put that through, you wouldn't have to worry about a strike such as we are now doing. We are afraid to buy anything because we have to feed our children.

One thing that would help, since they want to take $5 extra out for a strike fund, would be to give us at least $25 a week. The last strike gained us nothing but drained us of the money we had saved.

The union leaders are reaching for too much and should think of the working man's pocketbook.

As for people complaining of renters damaging their places, we say they have to expect some damage and the good rent they get should take care of it.

Cabins and shacks shouldn't be built where there are nice homes as it decreases the value of homes that people have worked hard to get.

Worried Mothers

"A Disgusted Union Member" writes and asks the question, "Why strike?" One can preface the answer by asking, "What are the negotiating committees supposed to do?"

You don't get your demands by just dropping them in the company suggestion box. Collective bargaining is synonymous with the collective willingness of workers to withhold their services while preventing others from taking their jobs.

Take away the willingness to strike and you do not have collective bargaining. "Willingness" to strike and "wanting" to strike are two separate things.

Strikes are morally justified provided the demands are just. The United States has declared war not because it wanted war, but we demonstrated our willingness to fight for a just cause.

The writer in question also asks, "Why not keep on working during negotiations?" This is exactly what happens. If a deadlock rather than an agreement should develop at the bargaining table the pros and cons of a strike vote are discussed and the people in the plant have their own opportunity to make up their minds whether to vote "Aye" or "Nay."

Believes Changing Times Changes Families, Too

There are changes in all things. Since the turn of the century, we have lived through two world wars and a wide-spread crippling depression. There has been tension and unrest and there are so many people in our land that forests, farmlands and wagon tracks have become factories, cities and eight lane highways.

To "V.C." who wrote a few days ago that mothers now think more of their personal appearance than of their children, I say, there have always been those mothers who would neglect their families.

Before the turn of the century, the wide open spaces were a boy's own backyard. The mothers who stayed at home and worked in clean, starched aprons are now working to help pay for the home they live in and the car they must have for their far - flung daily chores.

No clock ever turns backwards, so let each of us now look to the problem of our own children who are growing up. Let each of us try to cope with his individual problems as they arise. In this way we can be of service to the next generation.

Fellas and girls, here's your chance to express yourself. We are trying to organize a youth adult group and we have gotten quite a number of cards, but believe there are more that should be interested.

This club will be exactly what you make it, so let's have some more suggestions as we will meet shortly. Write, Mr. Elmer Lepp, P.O. Box 531, Waterford Mich.

Several letters have recently been published in response to Elmer Lepp, Jr.'s suggestion for forming social groups of single young adults in the 21 to 40 age group. I also feel that the formation of such groups would fill a void which exists at present in this area.

Many have already shown interest in such an organization. We would like to emphasize that persons living in the encircling communities, such as Lake Orion, Oxford, Rochester, and Clarkston are included and we would like to hear from all interested persons. Drop a card to either Elmer Lepp, Jr., Box 531, Waterford or myself.

What Weight Can Brady Attach to Testimonials?

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

As I told you last Thursday, I have asked God and Hippocrates many times how much weight a teacher in my position should attach to testimonials.

God said: Whatsoever you would that men should do to you, do you also to them.

Hippocrates said: Do good if you can but do no harm.

I have received a large number of reports from readers who followed the suggestions I give for rheumatiz, stating that they have experienced great benefit or, in many instances what they call cure. Interpreting these testimonials is not easy.

For instance J. R. writes:

I followed your advice, took all the calcium, vitamin D phosphorus, iodin, thiamin, and riboflavin and it cured me. That was nine years ago when I had rheumatiz so bad . . . I still take a good daily ration of calcium and D and when I get any aches or pains I double it for a week or two . . .

Mrs. E. H. writes:

Let me say thanks for the wonderful improvement I've made following the advice in your calcium pamphlet. I had suffered for eight years with arthritis and have had weeks now with no pain or lameness.

I don't understand Mrs. E. H. at all. In the calcium phamphlet I suggest an optimal daily ration of calcium and vitamin D for any one with rheumatiz. This means every day the year around for it is essential food which the ordinary refined diet fails to provide in sufficient quantity, and not, as Mrs. E. H. and a great many others readers assumed, medicine.

The calcium pamphlet is Little Lesson 26, "The Calcium Shortage," available on request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope and inclose 25 cents.

Possibly Mrs. E. H. refers to a pamphlet titled "Calcium and Rheumatiz," available on request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. L. C. A. reports that she has found "wonderful relief from taking Calcicaps for rheumatiz. I am now able to work again and hold down a good secretarial job."

From Mrs. A's report, one might infer that rheumatiz disabled her so that she could not work—but not necessarily. Perhaps the lady thinks I'll remember her case from the three pages of symptoms she described when she asked for my advice, so now, she need only tell me she is better. It's human nature.

W. K. writes:

I have been taking ca and D as you suggested for nearly six months now. I want to tell you how wonderful I feel. No more aches and pains in my joints now . . . two friends who were similarly troubled with arthritis of the joints . . .

You see, W. K., like so many credulous customers, has a childish notion that "arthritis" is a kind of fashionable or up-to-date malady of people who can afford to have "specialists" or go to a well-advertised "clinic."

The Cancer Story

Mystery Substance Produced by Liver Can Make Certain Cells Grow Faster

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A mystery substance made by the liver can make certain cancers grow faster, a scientific team reported today.

They find that liver extracts will speed the growth of some cancers transplanted into animals. The same speed-up chemical comes from rapidly growing liver itself.

The speed-up effect was found by Drs. Karl E. Paschkis, Abraham Cantarow and J. Stasney of Jefferson Medical College. They described it to reporters visiting cancer research centers under auspices of the American Cancer Society.

The research team now is trying to learn just what the speed-up material is. It is not vitamin B12, their tests show.

Pinpointing the mystery chemical could open the way to possible methods of putting the brakes upon some cancers, or finding chemicals possessing an opposite, slow-down effect.

Another medical researcher, Dr. A. M. Bongiovanni of Children's Hospital, the University of Pennsylvania, described the cause and solution of one kind of sex mixup which can make girls be mistaken for boys.

In this mixup, girl babies are born with signs of double sex, and may easily be mistaken for boys. They have some external male sex characteristics. But they are actually female, with all internal female organs.

The cause, Dr. Bongiovanni said, is a chemical defect in the way their bodies try to make an adrenal gland hormone, cortisone.

Backyard Yacht Too Heavy for Maiden 'Voyage'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An all-steel 15-ton boat built by a former Mississippi River pilot in his back yard proved too heavy for its scheduled maiden cruise through St. Louis traffic to the river, but its owner isn't worried.

Jay W. Lloyd says his "retirement home-on-the-water" will be on the water as soon as he finds a trailer and truck heavy enough to get her there.

The twin-engine boat, 40 feet long with two cabins and air conditioning, was to have been launched yesterday in the Mississippi.

* * *

But it bogged down a trailer when jacked off its blocks in Lloyd's back yard in suburban University City.

He called a tow truck, but it wasn't up to the job either.

"We'll just get a new permit and heavier hauler," said Lloyd, a 49-year-old grandfather who views the moving problem as nothing compared to the 15-month building job.

Girl Burns to Death in Playhouse Blaze

Deborah Kathryn Hall, 4, and her brother John Patrick, 5, were playing in a six-foot stack of lumber in the yard of their home.

They became cold and built a fire, John said. Fanned by wind, the fire trapped Deborah. John escaped with singed hair and eyebrows. The fire was out of control by the time he quit trying to put it out and called his father Richard Houston Hall.

Hal Boyle Says:

Teenagers Rock 'n Roll

NEW YORK (AP) —While their sedate elders are still stately prancing to the mambo, the teenagers are reeling to another rhythm.

It is calld "Rock 'n Roll."

But just what is it? No use to ask a teen-ager. His mouth simply falls open, a glassy look comes into his eyes, and his body begins to undulate like an earthworm with the stomachache.

So I went to Mindy Carson for an answer. Mindy, a vibrant young blonde who once earned $60 a week selling candy and now earns $4,000 a week up singing in supper clubs, is tops right now with the teenagers. The latest of her 100 recordings, "The Fish," is creating a kind of epidemic among the Rock 'n Roll set.

"It's easier to feel what Rock 'n Roll is than to explain it in words," said Mindy. "It's a kind of rythmic beat.

"Actually it's not a new type of music. Dixieland and Rock 'n Roll are really the two basic types of original music in America. Is that clear?"

"Oh, yes indeed," I told her. "But is Rock 'n Roll pretty much like jazz?"

"No, I wouldn't say that," replied Mindy. "Rock 'n Roll isn't arranged music. It's a beat—it's, well, it's kind of a feeling. You understand?"

"Like having money? That's a nice feeling."

"No, it doesn't feel like having money exactly. It's different."

"Just what does it have that's so different?" I asked. "I'm getting a strange, confused, mixed-up feeling. Is that what Rock 'n Roll gives you?"

"Not in the least" laughed Mindy. "Rock 'n Roll is a beat. It makes you want to dance."

"If you feel like you aren't tied down to anything. You can't lose the Rock 'n Roll rhythm, once it catches you. It pounds inside you.

"It isn't as subtle as a pulse beat. Rock 'n Roll has even more power. You really do understand it, don't you?"

"Well, I have a feeling—" I began.

"That's it," said Mindy, pleased. "It's really simple, once you grasp it."

Okay, that's Rock 'n Roll. Any questions?

(Editor's note: Frankly I don't know any more than I did before.)

(Boyle's note: That makes two of us.)

* * *

(Mindy's note: Maybe this will clue you both. Pick up a telephone book, open it at random, and start singing the names. When you begin to have the feeling the names are making music—well, boys, you're rockin' 'n rollin'.)

Charge Man Abducted, Raped 3-Year-Old Girl

Charges of rape and kidnaping were filed against Reyes Vasquez, 23. He is accused of luring the child from her front yard Saturday by giving her 25 cents and promising to "take her to her father."

Officers said Vasquez, a U. S. citizen, made a signed statement. He is in custody pending a hearing.

Aid to Italy Called Good 'Investment'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Premier Mario Scelba of Italy said last night, "American aid that helped Italy raise itself from ruins was among the United States best investments."

Scelba, on an informal visit to Philadelphia, said also that "we want the progress of the Italian people to coincide with the cause of the Western Allied nations.

"We remain grateful and faithful to America and Americans because we remember that the United States was the first country which came to offer help to us with open hearts. Your help was decisive."

Nails Cover Highway

DALLAS (AP)—About 1,000 nails were scattered across a busy highway yesterday. Police, called by a worried motorist, quickly swept them up. No flat tires were reported. Where the nails came from was a mystery.

No other low-priced car even comes close to matching these important Chevrolet advantages . . .

If you're planning to buy a new car, the one you just can't afford to miss seeing is Chevrolet—for 19 straight years America's best-selling car. The Motoramic Chevrolet offers you so much more than the other low-priced cars that it's hardly fair to compare them. And even the high-priced cars don't have all the advantages that today's Chevrolet offers you.

And that makes a big difference—not only in how your car looks today, but in how it will look tomorrow, too. Chevrolet's good looks spring from fine, clean, uncluttered design. The beauty is inherent in the basic contours of metal and glass. There's no excessive bolted-on ornamentation to go out of style overnight.

The Body's by Fisher!

No other low-priced car has a Body by Fisher—but many of the high-priced cars do. That fact alone tells you there must be something extra special about the style, quality and construction of Body by Fisher. And there is! You can see it, feel it and even hear it when you slam the door.

Today's most modern engines!

That goes for Chevrolet's new V8 and two new sixes as well. For example, all Chevrolet engines bring you a modern 12-volt electrical system—double the voltage of other low-priced cars. This means quicker cold weather starting and a greater electrical reserve. Then Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" has the shortest piston stroke in the industry, and develops the highest power per pound of any V8 in the low-price field. It takes valve-in-head leadership like Chevrolet's to bring you engines like these!

A drive to suit your driving!

You can take your choice of three different drives—and every one's as modern as this minute. There's silky, peppery Powerglide (even better this year!), new Overdrive (both extra-cost options), and a new Synchro-Mesh transmission that's as smooth as they come.

All the power helpers you want!

Windows, seat, steering, brakes—all are available with built-in "muscles" to make driving as effortless as you wish. And you can even have air conditioning in your new Chevrolet. These things are extra-cost options, of course, but they more than repay you with extra pleasure.

Fun is "standard equipment"!

You find that out the first time you take the wheel of a new Chevrolet. Here, you discover, is a car that takes the curves like it's on rails, that steers like it's reading your mind. It seems simply to ignore bumps—and when you stop suddenly, there's no excessive lurching or diving, either. There has never been such a difference in low-priced cars as there is today—or so many good reasons why you should drive a new Chevrolet. Come in and take the key the first chance you get.

CHEVROLET SALES LEADERSHIP IS A VICTORY IN VALUE FOR YOU!

Isn't it logical that, since Chevrolet leads in sales year after year, Chevrolet must put more into a car than its competitors—more quality . . . more craftsmanship . . . more style . . . more things to make your driving easier and safer and more fun. You have to do that to be the leader and stay the leader like Chevrolet! Because Chevrolet builds the most cars and can build them better to sell for less—Chevrolet sales leadership is a victory in value for you!

19 STRAIGHT YEARS OF SALES LEADERSHIP FOR CHEVROLET

Youthful Stars Both Rose Rapidly

Editor's Note: This is the second of three paired articles providing an up-to-the-minute look at the Oscar champion actress and actor of Hollywood—Grace Kelly and Marlon Brando.

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
International News Service Staff Writer

Grace Kelly has a knack for getting her own way in Hollywood. And she does it without petulance or a prima donna-like display.

When a studio storm brews, she doesn't wade into it. She sits by, like a lady, and waits for the wind to blow her way.

It was on Feb. 25 that MGM, the studio with which she has a contract, announced it was putting her under suspension for refusing to play the lead in a film, "Jeremy Rodock," costarring Spencer Tracy.

"I feel terrible, and I really don't know what to do about it," the beguiling Miss Kelly said over the phone in New York the day it happened. "I've never caused trouble before, and I've never been out of a job before.

Her convent-bred politeness and family-bred sense of loyalty make her feel guilty at "causing so much disturbance." But her personal drive to become a fine actress overcomes most other instincts.

Since she was age 11, and a student at Stevens School in Germantown, Pa.,—near the family estate in Philadelphia—Grace has been seeking out, and usually getting, the parts she wanted. In those days she made walk-on appearances with a local amateur dramatic group.

Once out of the education preliminaries, Grace was happily turned down by Bennington College because she refused to conquer the knack of adding and subtracting to a math teacher's passing standard. So she lured her family, which has made millions of dollars in father Jack Kelly's brickmasonry business, into sending her to the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York.

Mama and Papa didn't thoroughly approve, but Grace was aided by two theatrically-inclined uncles — Uncle George Kelly, who wrote such plays as "Craig's Wife" and "The Show-off," and Uncle Walter Kelly, known as vaudeville's "Virginia Judge."

So she wouldn't have to ask for money from home she took a job modeling for magazine and newspaper ads, and TV commercials ("Terrible," she describes herself on TV), and was soon pulling in $400 weekly.

In her spare time she played stock theaters and pounded Broadway's boards, finally landing a role in the tragedy "The Father." It lasted just two months on Broadway, but got her good reviews.

No one knew she was the Kelly of the rich, influential Kellys in Philadelphia.

Twice she turned down movie contracts, at $250 a week, refusing to be "an ordinary starlet."

Finally, lured by a "girlhood admiration for Gary Cooper, she accepted the role of the cowboy's bride in the Western thriller, "High Noon." Her sweet, refined performance made an impression on nobody but herself.

"Suddenly I thought," she remembers, "that I might not be any good at all." Still refusing to sign a contract, she returned to New York to study.

"I got a little better," she says, "and decided to try it again."

This time, when she went to Hollywood to test for a small part in the film "Taxi," the producer didn't like her. But an MGM, Director John Ford saw her test and offered her a seven-year contract.

She had exactly what she wanted, and had achieved it without influence, family money or even over-exertion.

And from the time she took off for the African jungle to play the subordinate female lead to Ava Gardner in "Mogambo," the determined Miss Kelly fairly flew to the top rung of the Hollywood ladder.

(Tuesday: Where Grace goes from here).

By CHARLES DENTON
International News Service

The hottest question in Hollywood today is what has brought about the miraculous change in Marlon Brando—and will it last?

There is no doubt that he has changed. From a 24-hour-a-day version of Stanley Kowalski, the T-shirted brute he made famous in "A Streetcar Named Desire," Brando appears to have changed himself into a genial actor.

Not the truly Hollywoodish type of actor, perhaps, but an actor, at least, who doesn't carry his theatrical characters off the stage with him.

The reasons for the change of character, however, are as puzzling as Brando himself.

One of them could be the pretty daughter of a French fisherman, Josiane Mariani-Berenger, whom Brando says he plans to marry this summer.

Another could be his treatments by a New York psychiatrist, who described him as "very sick and confused" only a year ago.

Another, and even more likely reason may be that Brando has become convinced that it isn't wise to kick around conventions held dear by fellow-members of the industry in which he has earned, and will continue to earn, a very comfortable living.

But whatever the reasons, Brando is sticking to business, being pleasant to people, dressing like others—more or less—and generally acting in such a way as to endear himself to the same people he once openly scorned.

His movie career has been tempestuous almost from the beginning. When he first came to Hollywood from his stage role in "Streetcar," he violated every accepted rule.

By contrast, he's making noises now like a true Hollywoodan. For instance, he said he was "delighted" to win the Oscar but felt being nominated for it was almost as great an honor as winning.

In his early Hollywood days, he seemed to do everything almost deliberately opposed to the norm for highly-praised newcomers.

Instead of renting a fancy home with a swimming pool, he went to live with his grandmother in a small home in the suburbs and slept on a front-room couch.

He dodged nightclubs like the plague and dated not a single actress, preferring to take non-professional girl friends window shopping and hamburger munching.

And, worst of all by film standards, he snubbed the big-name columnists and avoided anyone who looked like a fan magazine writer as if he might be packing a bomb.

He got the reputation, as he himself put it recently, of being a lad who "scratched himself and spat in the potted palms." And he helped boost the ego of other actors by insisting that he didn't particularly care about the business and only took a whack at it because he couldn't think of anything else to do.

Then, at the age of 28 and with only a few pictures and one Academy Award nomination under his belt, he fired his most stunning shot. He announced that he was about to retire.

"One more film, and I'll have made my pile," he said. "This business has been good to me, but if I'd known when I was 19 how few actors are successful, I probably would have become a plumber's apprentice."

Wind Brings Back $5 After Taking Only Two

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Fred Glusman, 18, paid his check and walked out of a restaurant yesterday holding a $5 bill and three ones. A gust of wind whipped the money from his hand.

After an hour of chasing, Glusman and three teen-age companions had recovered $6. They were about to give up finding the other $2 when Glusman spotted another bill. It was a $5 bill that someone else apparently had lost in the wind.

Actress' Quick Change Sets Off Charms Better

TOKYO (UP) — Sylvana Pampanini, tall and lovely Italian movie queen here for the Italian-Japanese Film Festival, appeared for newsmen and photographers today in a modest, neck-high black dress.

Correctly interpreting the frowns and looks of disappointment, she went upstairs to her Imperial Hotel room and changed into a low-cut pale green evening gown. It amply displayed the charms that helped rocket her to international fame.

Fish Kills Fisherman

NUMAZU, Japan (AP) — Fusataro Goto, 47, landed a 4½-foot, 300-pound scombroid yesterday in Suruga Bay and drove in a harpoon for the kill. The mackerel-like fish jerked in a death flip. The harpoon struck Goto on the forehead, killing him.

Loyal Scholars Needed

By MARGARET LATROBE

Pardon me, Professor — your "slip" is showing!

A liberal arts dean of one of our great institutions of learning the other day publicly deplored the fact that our federal security program is discouraging many scholars from doing government work.

Is scholarship really this negative?

It appears to me that such wishy-washy nonsense being bandied about by intelligent men who should know better, implying that some federal conspiracy is afoot aimed at working hardship and conformity of thought on "intellectuals," is a discredit to the profession.

The learned man further refers to a desirable "recovery from the timidity which has led us to give a world-wide impression that we do not trust ourselves."

As I recall it, treason and proved espionage rather than timidity made strict security measures necessary. And hard as it may hit the sensitive natures of the intelligentsia, there must be a means of deciding who are and who are not suited for government work. A few injustices may have been done in dismissals of the innocent. But even in our courts of law, despite every attempt at impartial and fair trial, injustice is sometimes regrettably done.

Why and how it is possible for certain scholars to reject the security program of this country, at what is probably the most critical moment of our national life, will always be a mysterious contradiction to me. What is it that a true scholar—presumably a wise and tolerant person—has to fear? And why are the self-styled intellectuals so convinced in advance that security measures would work against them? Why should any man or woman whose loyalty is above question be reluctant or hesitant to serve this country?

If there is a kind of scholar so self-centered, so educated that patriotism is no longer possible to him, by all means let him stay out of government work. The kind of men and women needed in Washington and wherever federal work is done are those of the highest integrity, honor and loyalty. Plus all the intelligence they can muster. Educators should choose their best products for Uncle Sam, not cry-babies nursing the Fifth Amendment.

In short, scholarship isn't enough. Where are the great minds in the field of education who will eloquently redefine freedom, in terms that young soldiers waiting to land on future beachheads can cherish? Where is the educator who will say with wisdom and truth—"Freedom is our greatest treasure, but not freedom for treason"?

And if our security program has as its object the protection of young men in service, if they can live a little longer—that's enough for me. The scholars will just have to muddle along as best they can.

Nixon Disowns 'War Party' Tag

Denies Anyone Wants New Conflict; Brands Charges 'Propaganda'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said last night he knows of no one in Congress, the administration or the nation's top military leadership who wants war.

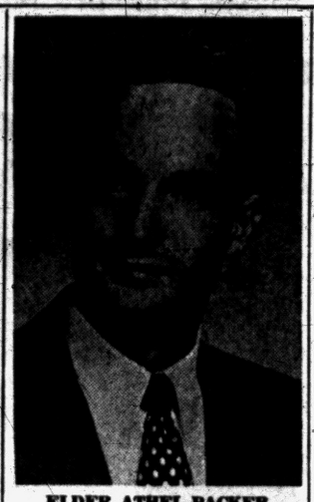

"There will be no major war unless the Communist nations begin one," he told the American Assn. of School Administrators.

"Anyone who charges there is a war party in the United States is unfortunately feeding the Communist propaganda mill which has been grinding out this big lie and trying to peddle it around the world for years."

Most of Nixon's half-hour talk was devoted to answering those who, he said, apparently believe war could be avoided if the United States would "announce to the world at this time that certain named areas would not be defended by us if attacked."

He did not identify the areas, but there have been demands on President Eisenhower to say whether this country will defend Quemoy and Matsu, Chinese Nationalist islands.

Eisenhower "correctly insists," Nixon said, that a decision on defending areas threatened "can and should be made only when we see the nature of the attack."

Airman Slain in Try to Protect Girl Friend

WACO, Tex. (AP)—An airman who threw himself between his girl companion and an armed Negro who vowed to rape her was shot dead yesterday, officers said. The girl fled.

The armed man, who reportedly appeared as the couple sat in a car, vanished. Authorities pressed a hunt for him today.

* * *

Dead from a bullet wound suffered, officers said, after he jumped the stranger was a man identified as A.1.C. Henry Poole, 23, of Spartanburg, S.C. Chief Deputy Sheriff Abe Sanders said Poole was stationed at Bryan Air Force Base, Tex., and had formerly been at James Connally AFB near here.

High-Level Atom Blast to Be Set Off Tomorrow

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The highest U.S. atomic test burst will be unloosed six miles above Yucca Flat tomorrow, weather permitting.

The nuclear antiaircraft device was to have been tested yesterday, but the weather was unfavorable and the Air Force plane scheduled to make the drop developed mechanical trouble.

A weather briefing today will determine the time of the high-altitude shot. Previous high nuclear explosion in this or any Nevada test series has been 5,000 feet.

Janice Stayton Weds Louis W. Gnam

Silk mousseline over white satin was worn by Janice Carol Stayton as she approached the altar of First Presbyterian Church in Birmingham Saturday evening to become the bride of Louis W. Gnam of Boulder, Colo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Stayton of Birmingham, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis M. Gnam of Carroll, Iowa.

Alencon lace was appliqued on the bodice of the gown and down the front of the bouffant skirt, which extended into a chapel length train. The bodice featured long, fitted sleeves and a deep square neckline.

A cap of Alencon lace secured her fingertip veil formed by two tiers of silk illusion. Her bouquet was an arrangement of Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

Mrs. Harry E. Wheeler of Tulsa, Okla., attended her sister as matron of honor. The bridegroom's sisters, Cynthia Gnam of Sioux City, Iowa, and Rosalie Gnam of Carroll, Iowa, were bridesmaids.

They wore dresses of pale pink taffeta fashioned with empire waists and full skirts. The sleeveless bodices, designed with diagonal tucks, were topped by tiny matching jackets with bracelet length sleeves.

Their hats were small wreaths of pink velvet leaves with circular maline veils. They carried colonial bouquets of violets, Carol Amling roses and pink stephanotis.

For her duties as flower girl Sherry Aylward of Chicago, cousin of the bride, wore a pink ruffled organdy dress. A flower arrangement was worn in her hair and she carried a miniature bouquet similar to the other attendants'.

David Lemen of Council Bluffs, Iowa, served as best man and seating the guests were Dr. Harry E. Wheeler of Tulsa, Okla. and R. Hudson Aylward of Chicago.

Mrs. Stayton greeted the guests at a reception held in their home wearing a French blue dress of brocaded taffeta and a tiny flowered hat. Her accessories were blue and she pinned an arrangement of pink cymbidium orchids to her purse.

Mrs. Gnam chose a Dior blue silk suit with navy accessories for her son's wedding. Her flowers were white orchids.

They will reside in Boulder, Colo., where he is a student at the University of Colorado and a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. The bride also attended the university where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

Set Twin Basins in Counter Top

It's practical, too, since space beneath the counter tops can be utilized for storage or for the installation of those labor-saving twins—the automatic washer and gas clothes dryer.

Rebekah Lodge, 450 Welcomes Official

Mrs. Helen Gray, grand warden of the Rebekah Assembly of Michigan, was an honored guest and served as advisor when Pontiac Rebekah Lodge 450 met recently. Refreshments were served to some 75 members and guests by the past noble grands.

Also attending were visitors from Brown City and Ypsilanti.

Try Outdoor Blackboard

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Here's an idea that will have the nighborhood jumping in no time — a big blackboard for the children to write and draw on outdoors.

Weatherproof blackboard or less expensive composition board that may need repainting next year can be bought from school supply companies, or you can make your own blackboard from ¼-inch tempered hardboard and paint it with special blackboard paint.

Blackboard paint comes in black, dark gray, and green, and if the paint dealer hasn't it in stock, he can order it.

There's plenty of room for the blackboard on the side of the garage, and beside it might go an outdoor toy bin or two.

These keep the chalk and erasers dry, and they are roomy enough for most of the outdoor playthings. They're fine to sit on when the tops are down.

16-Year-Old Should Not Take Prize

By EMILY POST

A letter today explains: "I gave a party for my sister who is to be married shortly. It was an informal gathering of all her friends and some relatives.

To add a note of novelty to the party I wrote a number on the back of each plate (I used paper plates), and announced to the guests that there would be a drawing for a prize after all had finished eating.

I asked my sixteen-year-old daughter to draw a number from a hat in which I had marked papers with corresponding numbers. As luck would have it, she drew her own number and was given the prize.

Now I understand that I am being criticized for this by some of the guests who feel that as a member of the family, she should not have been allowed to keep the prize. What is your opinion?"

I am sorry to have to agree with some of your guests, but a daughter living in the house should not really have been included in the drawing. Had she been a married daughter living elsewhere and coming in for the party, that would be something else again.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to another state with my husband to a convention. We will be staying in the same hotel where all of the activities will be held. I would like to know if it is necessary to put on a hat to go into the dining room.

Answer: If it is a restaurant where most people come in from the outside, it will be less conspicuous to wear a hat. But even so, it would be entirely proper for you to go without one if you prefer.

Dear Mrs. Post: What titles may be abbreviated under formal circumstances, such as on visiting cards, formal invitations, etc?

Answer: Mr. and Mrs. are always abbreviated. Dr. in place of Doctor is used if his name is unusually long—otherwise the word written out is in better taste. "The Reverend" is definitely preferred by the fastidious, but "The Rev." is more generally used.

Wayside Gleaners Have Program

Wayside Gleaners of First Baptist Church met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Al Degen giving the lesson, "The Potter and the Clay."

Devotions were given by Mrs. William Hakes and a trio composed of Mrs. William Carls, Mrs. George Bryan and Mrs. Mable Wiser sang for the group.

Also taking part in the musical part of the program was the Honor Choir of Baldwin School, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Northon with Helen Barnett accompanying the group at the piano.

The family has moved to Pontiac from Oxford where he was pastor of the Congregational Church there. Mrs. Graves is a first grade teacher at Blanche Simms School, Lake Orion.

Set Gas Burners Into Tile Surface

Remodeling your kitchen? How about putting a "work island" of clay tile right in the center of the room and setting the new countertop gas burners into the tile surface, to take care of your top-of-range cooking.

Then, with a built-in, waist-high oven-broiler set in one of the walls, your kitchen will be tops in fashion —and in efficiency, too.

Save on Laundry

If you have a child who still wets the bed or an invalid grandmother, consider the possibilities in the disposable diapers with the one waterproof side and the one nonwoven cotton side. They're moderate in price and could save a heap of laundry.

Red is for spring this year. It's at its prettiest accented sharply with black-and-white.

Membership Lunch Scheduled May 7

Arrangements for a membership luncheon were reported completed by Mrs. Norman Weisman, when 16 units were represented at a meeting of the 18th district of the American Legion Auxiliary, held Friday evening at Memorial Hall in Ferndale.

'We' Talk Merely Asserts Our Own Fear of Self-Assertion Writer Says

Parents Must Be Positive, Direct With Their Children

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

As many of us know, it's no longer the fashion to say, "I want this," to a small child.

Today, Ted's mother no longer says at suppertime, "Stack your blocks, now because I want them out of the way to set the table." Now she ways, "We don't leave blocks about at suppertime, do we? No, we always want to put toys away when supper's ready."

Today, it's always this We, not Ted's mother who wants him to put on his rubbers, finish his orange juice and take his medicine.

If he attends a certain kind of nursery school, his teacher may call herself We, too. We, she may tell him, want to stop wriggling in rest hour. By using this term, the young lady hopes Ted will realize that as all his friends are lying quietly on their cots, there's comething peculiar in his refusal to conform.

Well, it's all right if young ladies in charge of children's "groups" want to call themselves We. But as parents, we can't afford to so sink our identities in this vague, anonymous, faceless We authority.

It's just a new "out" from respect for our own wishes. Just as 50 years ago, our grandparents used the Bogeyman's disapproval to make children oey, we, their enlightened posterity, use the We's disapproval to make them obey. Bogeyman or We, both represent the same old fear or an honest, "I want this."

It's always stupid for parents to play tricks on children. Sooner or later, Ted is going to realize that what "We" wants from him is really what Mother wants from him. He's going to wonder why she can't say it's what she wants straight out. And conclude that maybe she's scared to say so.

He'll be right.

This "We" talk teaches us to fear open self - assertion to our children.

That's not a happy situation. For as Ted grows, so will his power to assert his own wants. To live with him, we'll have to assert our different wants, We'll have to be able to do it, not with the uncertainty or belligerence of someone who's never done it, but with the kind, firm, easy self-assurance of the person who's used to saying, "I want this."

Sooner or later, we'll have to address Ted as an individual, talking person to person to him, not as some indifferent "We."

The We talk is not nearly so enlightened as we imagine. All it's doing is to falsely profect us from the terro of open self-assertion that is the basic problem of American parents.

Girl Should Be 'Herself' at All Times

Authority Urges Teenager to Know Own Self Better

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

When a girl's in love, his every word is vital. His compliments repeat themselves over and over in her brain. His cracks cut her to shreds.

In his eyes, she wants to be perfect. Though she knows well enough she has her faults, she wants him to overlook them, to forgive them. And as he sees her, she wants to see herself.

Relying only on his eyes for her self-confidence and self-esteem is a risky business though. After all, it's just one man's opinion. Granted, it's the opinion that carries the most weight with her at the moment. But it's not necessarily general. And it might be more than a little prejudiced.

A girl has to know herself. She has to understand her own personality and disposition. She has to put her own value on herself. And she should measure the worth of cracks or compliments that come her way. They shouldn't be allowed to raise her too high, or sink her too low.

This girl, for instance, is taking her boy friend's criticisms ever so much to heart. She writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm a freshman, and I've been going with Tom for some time. For the past week or so he has been telling me how shy I am, and keeps comparing me with other girls in his room at school who swear a bit and are a lot more gay than I am.

He says, too, that my mother (who still thinks I'm a baby) should let me go out at night more often and that she'll be sorry in years to come.

"I'll admit I am slightly bashful, but I try hard to correct it. I'm afraid I'll lose him if I keep up being shy and a goodie-goodie!"

Tom's remarks have you in a turmoil. His cracks and comparisons are, you think, sure proof that he's losing interest in you. Making yourself over to suit him is, you suspect, the only way to hold him.

But what do his criticisms add up to, really? He calls you shy and bashful — in comparison to other girls who are noisy, pushy, profane, giddy.

It's your nature at the moment to be on the timid, gentle side. Swearing wouldn't be becoming to you. His pattern of the gay gal wouldn't fit you. You wouldn't be true to yourself if you tried to squeeze yourself into it. And you wouldn't like yourself one bit more.

If he stops liking you as you are, it won't be the end of the world. It means that his own tastes have changed. It won't mean that you're all wrong. And changing yourself to suit his changed tastes would be for worse and not for better. It's better for two people who are no longer congenial to part and go their separate ways.

McBride Finds Truman Grand Dinner Companion

It sounds rather pretentious, I'm afraid, but I'm going to say it anyway: The most stimulating dinner partner I ever had was an ex-President of the United States.

This came about when I went to Kansas City to make a speech before Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic organization. Sue Gentry and Frances Bush, in charge of arrangements, writing about who might be in the audience, mentioned Mr. and Mrs. Harry Truman but I dicounted this as wishful thinking.

So the day of the speech was full of surprises. In the afternoon a florist box containing a white orchid from Mrs. Truman. And in the evening, at dinner, I found myself actually seated next to Harry S. Truman.

The one time I diet is when I have to speak in public. That's because I'm too scared to swallow. And on such occasions I literally never hear what anybody says to me in the way of admonition, comfort or persiflage. But somehow this was different, for Mr. Truman understood.

"Eat a little," he urged. "It'll do you good," and added comfortingly, "Everybody feels like that."

"Not you?" I asked in astonishment, remembering how calm he always seemed. "Even messages to Congress?"

The former President nodded and suddenly I felt so much better that I choked down a little chicken.

"How long do you think anybody should talk?" I asked, and hung on his answer which came quickly: "From 20 to 40 minutes, and nearer 20 than 40." Then he told me about the preacher who said that no souls are saved after the first 20 minutes.

Fearfully, I tried out a story of my own on him and he laughed. I was really feeling pretty good by now and we got talking about our mothers, both pioneer types.

Mr. Truman said someone came to his mother shortly after he was inaugurated as president and asked her if she wasn't proud of her son Harry.

"Of course I am," she said. "But I've got another son just as fine—right out there plowing."

The former President explained his special respect for women: "If I had ever said anything derogatory about my mother or sister—not that I ever would have—my father would have whaled the daylights out of me." About his wife, he commented simply, "We were childhood sweethearts."

"I'll be in the cheering section," Mr. Truman promised as Nell Snead finished her graceful introduction and I rose. He was, too. I told what he'd said about how long to speak and when I couldn't get the end of his preacher story exactly right, he prompted me. Another time I went off on a tangent and he helped me get back on course again.

Sure enough I talked just 21 minutes and afterwards Mrs. Truman, bless her, said she was going to scold her husband for holding me down. But I'm thankful that he made me stop while they still wanted me to go on, and so very grateful to two Missourians, returned home from distant places, who understood how it would be with another native who also came back.

Woman Breeds Canaries as Money-Making Hobby

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Here is an unusual money-making hobby which a young mother has been engaging in for three years.

"I raise canaries," Mrs. J. J. writes, "and it is a lot of fun, as well as quite profitable. I have always loved canaries, because their singing is so lovely. We always had a canary or two at home, when I was a child. Well, after John and I got married, I was too busy with children—we have three—to have time to think of canaries.

"When the children began going to school, I thought about it again. When the youngest left for kindergarten, the house seemed so empty. John works long hours, and I began to get downright lonely.

"One day," she continues, "I was shopping at the department store, looking for a pair of tables. We were on a very tight budget, but I had gotten a check for my birthday, and had decided to get the tables we very much needed. In looking around, I came to the pet department. There were the most beautiful canaries, singing their heads off, not too expensive, either. I bought two, a male and a female, right then and there.

"When I got home," she continued, "John was pretty upset at my wasting all that money. I got simply furious, and we had a big battle. Next day, still angry, I decided to show him a thing or two. I decided to breed canaries and sell them and make a profit!

"Well, it took a lot of doing. First I sent for a wonderful booklet, which cost only twenty-five cents, called 'All About Your Canary.' I subscribed to a magazine called 'American Cage Birds.' I checked with a local canary breeder and got very cheap equipment, second-hand.

"Within a year, I had made back the initial investment, and was selling my canaries to a department store and a local pet shop. It is not very hard, and it is very rewarding. I make a nice steady profit. But most of all, the house is full of singing, and I'm not lonely at all any more."

Most success stories have behind them a perfectly unexpected motive like this one, which all began with a wife who splurged and a husband who bawled her out!

Roast Sirloin Is Delicious Any Time

Mrs. Leonard Buzz Cooks Beef Tip for Company Fare

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

If you are having company for whom you're planning a special meal, try this favorite meat dish of Mrs. Leonard T. Buzz. Although sirloin tip roast may seem expensive by the pound, there is no waste at all. The amount called for in this recipe will serve six people adequately and leave enough for sandwiches the next day.

One pre-school daughter keeps Mrs. Buzz busily occupied at home, yet leaves her enough time to be a part-time gym and swimming instructor. She belongs also to the Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary and is publicity chairman for the Hoedowners Square Dance Club.

SIRLOIN TIP ROAST
By Mrs. Leonard T. Buzz

Buy a 4-5 pound sirloin tip roast; you may have to ask your meat man for this, as it is not always in the meat cases. Place in a roasting pan with a little water. Roast at 350 degrees, basting once in a while with the water and meat juices that form. Add salt and pepper. If the water evaporates, add a little more.

For rare meat, roast it 25 minutes to the pound; for medium 30 minutes to the pound. The gravy from this meat is especially good with mashed potatoes.

Conserve Perfume

To make perfume last longer, when it comes in a big bottle, take some out for a small bottle and seal the big one back up with paraffin and store int in a cool, dark place.

Wood Decay Might Cause Real Trouble

By HUBBARD COBB

Couple of weeks ago we went out to visit a friend who was worried because he was sure his house was infested with termites.

We checked around but never did find a trace of termites.

On the other hand, we found traces of wood decay. In fact about $300 worth of wood decay, which is nothing to laugh about.

There is not much difference between a piece of wood that must be replaced because it has been attacked by termites and one that has been attacked by wood decay. Both will cost just the same amount of money.

You can save yourself a lot of worry and money, if when it's necessary to install woodwork in your home you use wood that has been treated with a wood preservative or if you apply the wood preservative to the wood yourself.

A wood preservative does not work the same way as paint. It goes into the wood pores and prevents the fibers being damaged by the fungus that causes decay. What's more, it makes the wood uninteresting to termites and other insects.

It is especially important to treat wood that is going to be used outside, in a damp location or near the earth with a preservative.

At this time of year you'll probably have a lot of small woodworking jobs to do around the house such as replacing porch floors, fences, etc., and if you are smart you'll coat each piece of wood with a preservative before it's nailed into place.

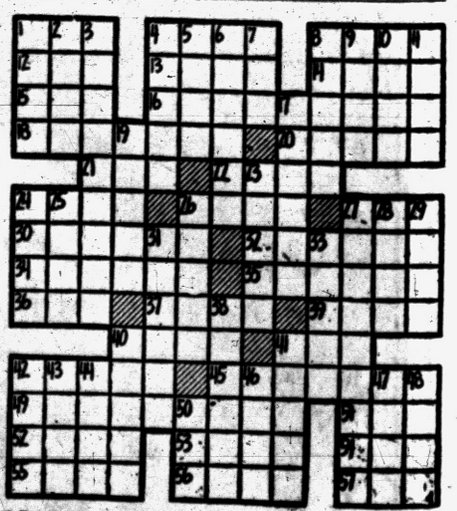

By the way, modern wood preservatives can be painted over without ill effect to the preservative of to the paint.

Even if it is the girl who makes a misstep while dancing, the man is supposed to take the blame for it. Some men, however, don't even take the blame when the fault is theirs. There's the man who steps on a girl's toes and waits for her to say, "It's my fault."

Mark him down as a heel.

U. of M. Symphony Band Begins Tour in Cleveland

By SUE GILBERT

As of Friday, the books were stashed away in shelves, and the notebooks closed tightly in desk drawers. Students were able to give in for the first time to the temptations of spring fever as they began the trek home for spring vacation.

SUE

Some will take a stack of books with them in the hope of getting that term paper out of the way; but far less work is ever accomplished than one plans.

For some people, spring vacation means a chance to travel. The University Symphony Band is combining a vacation with work and travel.

In their Eastern Tour, they have planned a series of concerts for residents of Cleveland; Boston, where they will perform in Symphony Hall; Buffalo, N. Y.; Hartford, Conn.; East Providence, R. I.; besides a score of minor cities and towns.

The featured soloist will be Raymond Young, previously of Voorheis road, who plays the euphonium. His big thrill will be on Friday evening, when he will be the soloist in famed Carnegie Hall.

Other Pontiac musicians will be playing with the Symphony Band in its spring jaunt. Jack Bittle, of Fiddle street, will be accompanying the group with percussion instruments. Tom Course, of Opdyke street, is a bass clarinetist. Other clarinetists are Kathleen Taylor, of West Iroquois avenue; Judy Palmer, of Dakota street; Jeanne Leland, of Middlebelt road; and Fred Smith, of Rapid street.

Lorraine Erickson, of Henderson drive, will also make the tour which will last the entire vacation week. She plays the flute.

There are other students, however, who are heading for the sunny south. Rick St. John, of West Iroquois road, and Corky Heatherington, of Thorpe street, are among those who will return with that bronzed look which bespeaks either a trip to Florida or assiduous devotion to the sun lamp. The men are staying in Ft. Lauderdale.

Dave Huthwaite, of West Iroquois road, is also planning a southern jaunt. He is spending the first part of the vacation week with his parents.

Shower Is Given for Bride-Elect

PTA Activities

LeBaron

An Easter program will be presented by children of the lower grades when LaBaron School PTA meets at the school at 2 p.m. Wednesday. An executive board meeting is scheduled for 1.

Pontiac Council

An audio-visual demonstration will be given by William Wright at a meeting of the Pontiac Council of PTA, scheduled for 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Webster School gymnasium. Convention delegates will meet at 1 at the school library.

Owen

The executive board of Owen School PTA will meet Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. in the teachers' lounge.

Bride-Elect Is Honored at Shower

Jane Steinhelper, bride-elect of David Grover, was honored Sunday afternoon at a kitchen shower given by Mrs. Charles G. Lemon and Mrs. Eugene K. Lemon at the former's home on Roselawn drive.

Jane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Steinhelper of South Genesee avenue, and David is the son of Mrs. John Hendry of Woodstock road and Verne W. Grover of Duluth, Minn. The couple will be married April 23.

Guests at the shower were Mrs. Steinhelper, Mrs. Hendry, Mrs. Rod Bigelow, Nancy Bigelow, Mrs. James Bigelow, Mrs. James Shaughnessy and Mrs. Carl Opland.

Others were Mrs. Franklin Dernberger, Judy Steinhelper, Sandra Johns, Carol Young, Mrs. Doug Campbell, Mrs. Robert Humphreys, Mrs. Gerald Humphreys, and Mrs. Howard Stevenson.

Green Lake Club Plans Card Party

The Green Lake Women's Club will meet April 11 at 10:30 a.m. for a brunch and card party at Green Lake Community House.

Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Edward Burghardt, Mrs. G. E. Rapp, Mrs. Peter Van Ostenburg and Mrs. William Wottawa.

Fashionette Club Hears Mr. Moran

"Swedish Massage and Practipedics" was the topic of Mark Moran of the YMCA, when he spoke at last week's meeting of the Fashionette Club, held at Pontiac High School. Trophy winner for the week was Mrs. Jean Skrine.

Besides a surprise party planned for next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the high school, prize drawing in the contest to see who lost the most poundage in the past six weeks, will take place.

Mrs. Flattley Wins Special Prize

For losing the most weight in a month, Mrs. Gordon Flattley was awarded the monthly prize. Mrs. Edwin Kage was appointed chairman of the nominating committee while welcomed as a new member was Mrs. Harold B. Wright.

Two Narrowly Escape Death

Lights Go Out Near Romeo as Car Hits Pole, Starts Fire

ROMEO—Several towns east of Romeo were without electric power for more than two hours Saturday night when a car crashed into a utility pole.

High voltage power lines were severed and fell to the ground, causing a grass fire. The owner of the car, Nathaniel Richardson, 29, of 306 Dickenson St., was driving into Romeo near the Romeo airport when he misjudged a curve and crashed into a pole, according to state police.

Richardson's wife, Willie Mae, 32, was a passenger in the car which plunged down a 25-foot embankment after the crash.

Troopers from the local state police post were called to release the pair fronr the wreckage, which was covered with barbed wire from a fence the car had torn down.

The accident occured at east 32 Mile Road at midnight, and caused lights in the village of Romeo to flicker. The reflection of the fire was visible for miles.

The area north of Richmond, on Gratiot, parts of Armada and St. Clair was without power for two hours, it was reported.

Richardson was treated for facial cuts and bruises at St. Joseph Hospital, Mt. Clemens, and released. His wife is in good condition at the hospital, having suffered a fractured left leg and ankle in the crash.

The car was completely demolished, and state police troopers said the couple narrowly missed death either from the high voltage wires or the plunge down the embankment.

Dulles Sparks Crisis in Japan

Stuns Government by Rejecting Early Talks With Shigemitsu

TOKYO (INS) — The stunned Japanese government today faced a major crisis and a damaging loss of face caused by U. S. Secretry of State Dulles' rejection of an early meeting with Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu.

Government and political leaders huddled in emergency sessions to discuss what loomed as a serious threat to U.S.—Japanese relations and newspaper pointed out that the rejection was a blow to Japanese national pride.

There were predictions by highly placed political sources that the crisis might upset Hatoyama's newly formed Democratic party cabinet, or at the least touch off a non-confidence motion against Shigemitsu.

(Dulles turned down Shigemitsu's suggestion for a meeting this month by saying his schedule "does not permit adequate time fully to prepare for the discussion" asked by the Japanese foreign minister.

(The secretary of state suggested that Shigemitsu might visit the United States at a later date.)

Japanese newspapers bannered the story, and some openly predicted the action might topple the Hatoyama government now facing its greatest test of strength in the budget debate in the Diet (parliament).

The urgency and lack of advance notice in the request for a meeting was prompted largely by a desire to gain swift U.S. approval of cuts in Japan's share of joint defense costs before the budget goes to the Diet floor for debate.

Sunday Blaze Hits Home in Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Fire which struck the home of Milford Armstrong at 6420 Rowley St. early Sunday morning caused an estimated $6,000 damage, according to Waterford Township firemen.

No one was home when neighbors discovered the fire at 3:50 a.m. and called in the alarm, firemen said. Two trucks from Station Two, and 14 firemen fought the blaze.

Cause of the fire has not been determined. Insurance covered the $3,500 estimated damage to the house, firemen said, but the $2,500 loss in contents of the house was not covered by insurance.

L. A. Smog Probe Shows Industry Biggest Offender

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A $300,000 investigation into the dark and smelly scourge of smog has disclosed:

1. That smog is man-made.
2. That it can be attributed to industry, autos and incinerators.
3. That it can be capricious—causing eye irritation in one district while at the same time causing plant damage, but not eye irritation, in another area a few miles away.

Dr. Lauren B. Hitchcock, president of the Air Pollution Foundation, yesterday gave newsmen a briefing on the results of his group's county-sponsored survey of smog last summer in the Los Angeles basin.

* * *

Medical science is unable to tell that pollutants in the air killed human beings in Donora, Pa., and London, England, in attacks of smog in recent years, he said. But he ticked off the sources that contribute pollutants to Los Angeles smog, and the percentage of contribution, as follows:

Industry: 50 per cent
Motor vehicles: 40 per cent
Incinerators: 10 per cent.

"Smog," defines Hitchcock, "is the eye-smarting, crop - killing compounds in pollutions from these sources.

"We are certain that smog is man-made and not the result of chemical reactions from elements in nature.

* * *

'Air pollution isn't smog," he said. "It is the mother of smog."

It strikes differently in different neighborhoods, he said. On bad days the worst visibility was in the Wilshire District, a few miles west of downtown Los Angeles. But the worst eye irritation was in the downtown district. Plant damage was worst east of Los Angeles in suburban Rivera and Bassett, instead of either the Wilshire District, Pasadena, or downtown.

Hitchcock said these findings were made in an aerometric survey—with most of the $300,000 going to contracts for outside agencies to conduct tests. The survey included aerial samples 24 hours a day at 10 monitoring stations around the Los Angeles basin.

$3,500 Bird Home Again as Thief Turns Chicken

The bird, valued at $3,500 by owner Coulson Glick, disappeared while on display with other birds March 27 at a television studio.

Glick, who rents tame birds to movie studios, said a telephone caller told him last Saturday that Cockie was in North Hollywood park—in a box. Glick rushed over and found the Australian import unharmed.

1955 Construction Higher

WASHINGTON (AP) — Total construction reached a record $8,400,000,000 for the first three months this year, 13 per cent above the same 1954 period, the Commerce and Labor departments reported.

Finland has 60,000 lakes.

Cyprus Terrorists Continuing Attacks

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Pro-Greek terrorists kept up their dynamite campaign against the British rulers of Cyprus over the weekend. Bombs were hurled at the homes of two British army officers last night, slightly injuring the wife of one of the Britons.

Early yesterday a blast wrecked a water pipe near a British army camp at Episkopi. Still another explosion was heard in the town of Limassol last night.

Chinese Junk Embarks on Voyage to America

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese junk Free China sailed today from Keelung on a 6,000-mile voyage to the United States with a Californian and five Chinese oboard.

The junk, on which Calvert E. Mehlert, 26, Fresno, is a crew member, is expected to reach San Francisco on its nonstop trip in about 50 days and then sail through the Panama Canal to compete in the transatlantic yacht race from Newport, R.I., to Sweden in June.

Mehlert is a U.S. vice consul.

Sweden's constitution was drafted in 1809 and this country claims it is the oldest written constitution in all of Europe.

2 Peron Papers in Church Fight

Suggest Ending Roman Catholicism as Force in Argentine Government

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Two newspapers which frequently speak for President Juan Peron have recommended ending Roman Catholicism's favored position as the Argentine state church.

Through editorials in the two papers, Democracia and La Prensa, Peron frequently prepares public opinion for new policies. Observers foresaw a possibility of a government move to change the constitution when Congress meets next month.

Democracia particularly has been the chief government voice in the five-month-old fight between the Catholic Church and the government.

If clergymen continue to create a climate of disturbance, it continued, Argentina should follow the example of "other advanced countries" and change the constitution.

La Prensa cited the United States, saying that there church and state march in harmony.

Frank Sinatra at Peak of His Second Career

By BOB THOMAS

The teen-age girls of the land, who had been relatively integrated members of the American scene, suddenly erupted as a screaming, fanatical mass. The cause of their hysteria was a skinny Hoboken boy with a wavering baritone—Frank Sinatra.

Nothing has been seen like it before or since. Rudolph Valentino had created a furor in the '20s, but his female following was more mature. The post • Sinatra idols seem pale by comparison.

Today Sinatra again stands at a peak in his career. In a dozen years he has managed to pick up loyal friends, bitter enemies, two broken marriages, grave disappointments and a rare triumph, climaxed by an Oscar. In a unique interview, I asked him to review his hits and errors, the high and low spots of his life, plus a look at the future.

* * *

What was it like in those days when the bobbysoxers were screaming over him?

"It was wonderful," he said reflectively. "But it was hectic. I never really had time to sit down and think about where I was going. I just enjoyed it."

Was he ever really hurt by the young mobs?

"No, not really. That part was blown up by reporters; it made for colorful writing, but it wasn't really true. The kids would grab for a handkerchief; that was standard. But I never had them tear the clothes off me. Occasionally I would have a torn lapel when they tried to grab me.

"I remember once I arrived at an airport in Toronto or Quebec, and a big guy decided he wanted my trench coat for a souvenir. He tried to grab it off my arm and I wasn't about to part with it. We had a real tug-of-war. Luckily a cop came along and saved me, because the guy was pretty big.

* * *

"There was only once when I was really hurt. I had finished singing in the Wedgewood room of the Waldorf-Astoria and had to go back to the radio studio to do the West Coast repeat of the Hit Parade. As I walked out the door, a freak thing happened. Two guys grabbed for my bow tie and they got both ends. Neither would let go and I was backed against a wall gasping for breath. I nearly went under before George Evans saved me.

"There was a big crease around my neck for weeks afterward. I had to have massages to get rid of it."

How much of the bobbysox buildup was the McCoy and how much was publicity?

"It was all real. It started when I was with Tommy Dorsey's Band. When I went out on my own, I hired George Evans to try and hold down the publicity. I was afraid it was getting out of hand. We didn't have to dream up anything; it was all there."

* * *

When the crooner left Dorsey, it was the start of his amazing career. His first engagement was singing a number in a Columbia musical. He points out that later he did another picture at Columbia, "From Here to Eternity," and it was the start of his second big career.

His first big date was at New York's Paramount Theater.

"They tore the joint down," he recalled. "That was the first I knew I could make the grade. I had always held the thought that I could go back to Dorsey if I didn't make good."

Years later, he made another decision—to scrap a rich movie contract. Following that, his fortunes hit a low ebb. Many illwishers thought Frankie boy was washed up. He fooled them all.

WPA Art Still Adorns Offices

Depression Paintings in Labor Department Recall Hungry '30s

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ghosts of the old WPA depression days stand vigil today in the corridors and offices of the Department of Labor.

They are the pictures in oil and water color painted by artists back in the 1930s under one of the many projects operated by the Works Progress Administration to provide work for the needy.

A few of the pictures are in storage, but 150 of them have been in the Labor Department building since it was opened in 1935. At first they all hung in the first floor corridors. Then various executives chose some for their offices, and have been choosing and exchanging ever since.

* * *

"They come and go," Miss Frances Jay said of both the pictures and the executives. She has been in the department 22 years, and was executive assistant to Frances Perkins the 12½ years Miss Perkins was secretary of labor.

About a dozen of the pictures have industrial themes — smokestacks, the glare of steel furnaces, blocked out men and a giant symbolic hand rising in the center for the laboring men.

Other pictures painted by some of the artists now hang in museums. They are big names in the American art world—Jerome Myers of New York; Julia Eckel and Bernice F. Cross of Washington, D.C.; Charles Rosen and Morris Davidson of Woodstock, N.Y.; Joe Jones of St. Louis, and Morris Graves.

* * *

A few got their start under the WPA. Others—"well, they were already well-known artists," Miss Jay said. "But this was back in the time when people worried about just eating, and who had the money to buy art?"

The government helped out with the public works of art project.

All the pictures painted under the project are the property of the U.S. government and have never been for sale.

"There would be so much red tape," Miss Jay said. "You know, it's very difficult for the government to get rid of anything."

Reveal First Skipper for Carrier Forrestal

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Command of the supercarrier Forrestal, one of the Navy's most coveted assignments, will go to Capt. Roy L. Johnson, the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot reported last night.

Johnson, a Naval Academy graduate of 1929, has had a distinguished naval career and at present is stationed in Washington as special projects officer on the staff of the deputy chief of naval operations for air. His latest seagoing command was as skipper of the escort carrier Badoeng Straits, which saw extensive action in Far East waters during the Korean War.

Fast Phone Contact Turns Out Slower

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—The Air Force planned to make a telephone connection between St. Joseph and Sacramento, Calif., in 11 seconds yesterday but it took nine minutes.

* * *

The call was made to demonstrate speed in defense communication being inaugurated between plane spotter filter centers in the two cities.

Also it was a contrast with the pony express, started 95 years ago yesterday between St. Joseph and Sacramento.

The best pony time was 7 days 17 hours.

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Sen. Morse (D-Ore) hobbled off a plane on a cane last night. He told reporters that when he picked up a newborn pig at his Poolesville, Md., farm Saturday, the sow rushed him and sprained his right leg. He came here for a Senate committee hearing on a federal Hell's Canyon dam.

Janis Paige Attracts All Eyes at Copacabana

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Lovely redhead Janis Paige, star of "Pajama Game," attracted more attention at the Copacabana than Doris Duke. Fact is, few recognized Miss Duke who, of course, had a pretty fair table. Sammy Davis Jr. thanked Miss Paige for helping him get a start in California and some customers yelled "Ask Janis to sing!

"No!" retorted Sammy kiddingly. "This is my show! I went to see 'Pajama Game' five times and nobody yelled for me to sing."

Doing an impression of Arthur Godfrey, Sammy says, "I'd like to introduce my cast to you, but it's impossible—I've fired everybody."

Raps Congress Over Formosa

Sen. Wiley Says Give Ike Free Hand to Make Decisions on Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) suggested today that Congress "tend to its own knitting" and allow President Eisenhower to decide what the United States should do in the Formosa Strait.

Wiley, senior Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he supports Eisenhower's position in declining to say now what action this country will take if the Chinese Communists attack the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

* * *

Alluding to the defend-Formosa resolution passed earlier this year by Congress, Wiley said in an interview:

"Congress has said that Formosa is significant to our defense and must not fall into unfriendly hands. The President must decide what it is necessary to do to prevent that from happening. We must not limit the President in making that decision.

"It would be well for us to recall that this is a government of divided powers and functions in which each branch should tend to its own knitting."

Wiley thus took a position similar to that voiced yesterday by Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Foreign Relations Committee. George called for a letup in the "heavy pressure" he said is being put on Eisenhower to declare that the United States either will or will not help Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces defend Quemoy and Matsu.

George said that if a decision is announced to defend the islands, "that is tantamount to a declaration of war," and that if there is a public decision not to defend them, "that is tantamount to an invitation to the Chinese Communists to come and take them."

Wings Take 1st Cup Game on Pavelich's Goal

Marty Pavelich, veteran forward of the Detroit Red Wings, was talking of his dramatic, unassisted goal which led to a 4-2 victory over the Montreal Canadiens last night in the opening game of the Stanley Cup final hockey playoffs.

Pavelich broke a 2-2 tie with less than three minutes to play when he stole the puck and skated more than half the ice to beat goalie Jacques Plante with a hard 12-foot shot. And he did it while the Red Wings were playing one man short.

Gordie Howe was in the penalty box when Pavelich, a tireless hustler, intercepted a power-play pass by defenseman Doug Harvey of the Canadiens. He cleared the puck out to center ice, picked it up and raced in all alone on Plante, beating him with a high drive into the top of the net.

"I've watched Harvey on the power play all season," Pavelich explained. "I noticed that sometimes he fakes a shot at the net, then passes blind to a teammate standing on the blue line.

"I took a chance that he'd do it this time—and sure enough, he did. So I was ready for his pass."

Pavelich's goal was the crusher as the Red Wings scored three times in the final seven minutes to pull the game out of the fire.

Vic Stasiuk tied the score 2-2 at 13:05 of the 3rd period, slapping in a quick 10-footer. Pavelich scored his big goal at 17:07 then Capt. Ted Lindsay nailed down the victory with 18 seconds left when he rifled the puck into an open net after the Canadiens had lifted Plante to use six attackers.

The win was the 14th in a row for the Red Wings, tying the National Hockey League record set by the Boston Bruins in 1929-30. It also gave the Wings first blood in this best-of-seven series. The 2nd game is scheduled for Olympia Stadium Tuesday night.

Floyd Curry scored both Montreal goals in an effort to hand the Red Wings their 1st loss at home in 21 games—an amazing streak stretching back to Dec. 10 of last year. But his one-man efforts weren't enough against Detroit's strong attack.

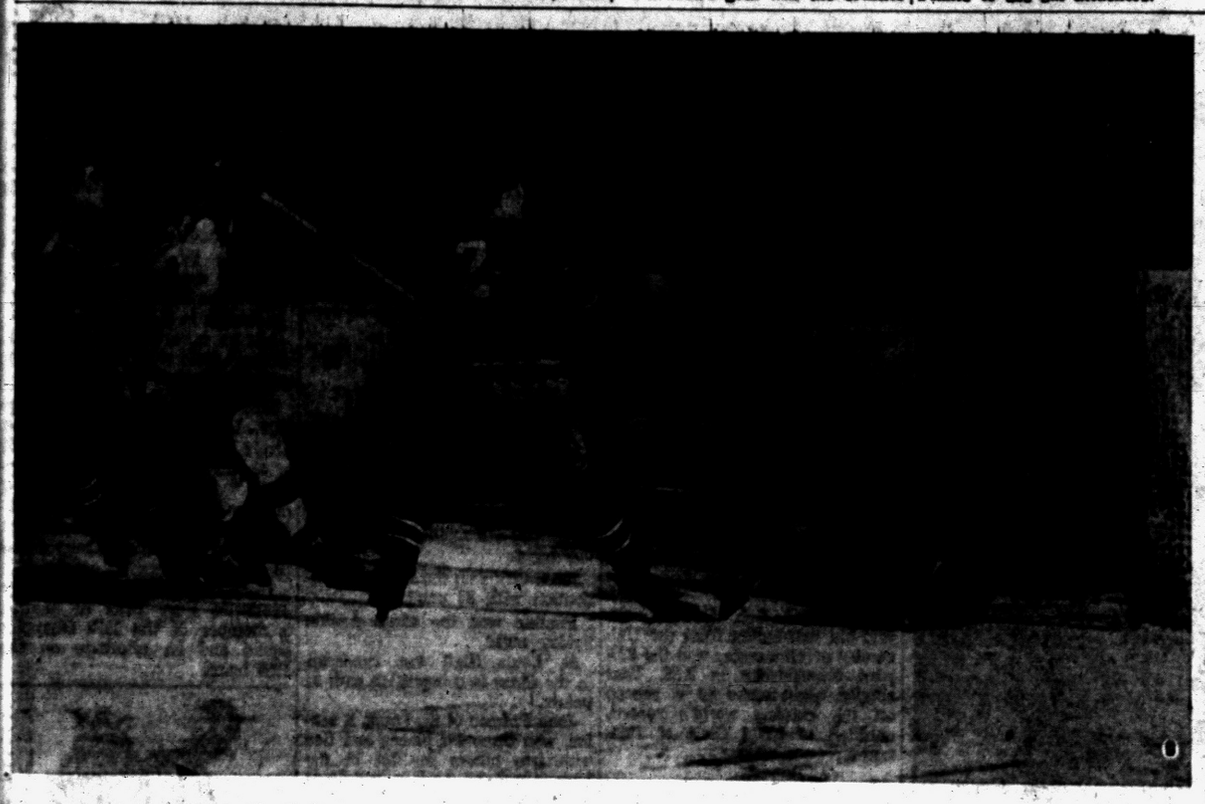

Curry, star of Montreal's victory over Boston in the semifinal round, put the Canadiens into a 1-0 lead at 5:09 of the 2nd period. He drove home a 15-footer after taking a perfect passout from Kenny Mosdell.

Detroit pressed the attack and Alex Delvecchio scored at 14:00 to tie the score. With Montreal a man short, Delvecchio drove in a angle shot which flew between the goal post and Plante's pads.

Curry came right back and put the Canadiens ahead at 8:57 of the final period. His goal was almost a replica of his 1st in that he took a pass from Mosdell from behind the net to score.

Dollard St. Laurent, Montreal defenseman, was sent off at 11:04 for hooking. Stasiuk tied the score for Detroit just as St. Laurent was returning to the ice.

A capacity corwd of 13,862 saw the sharply played game. When Pavelich scored his goal, the fans showered the ice with a storm of newspapers. One jokester tossed a set of false teeth.

Hits 4:00.5 in Texas

Santee Sees 4-Minute Mile Within 2 Months

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Cocky Wes Santee, who came nearest the fabulous 4-minute mile of any time in his glamorous track career Saturday with 4:00.5, thinks he'll get it within the next two months.

The angular Kansan with the chop stride, complained that he was tired and that a brisk north wind might hamper his bid for the glory that has gone to Roger Bannister and John Landy. But the famed burrhead showed no signs of weariness as he breezed around Memorial Stadium as the mightiest runner of the greatest of all Texas Relays.

* * *

His time was a new American record and with a little stronger competition he might have done the 4-minute mile. He was a half lap ahead of Henri Geller of Oklahoma A&M at the finish.

Santee said he will rest three weeks before competing in the Kansas Relays and hopes to be in top shape for May and June meets in California where he believes his chances are best to crack the barrier on a clay track.

* * *

Santee was magnificent despite a tiring 3-months' running and travel schedule that had seen Wes in meets all over the country and in Mexico.

A crowd of 14,000, sensing that he was going to break the barrier, cheered him on every step of the last lap. It was the greatest exhibition of running they ever had seen. It was the fifth fastest mile in history.

The meet was dominated by Oklahoma A&M and Texas, who swept all the seven relays, the Aggies with four first places. Oklahoma A&M might have won a record five but for a dropped baton in the mile relay.

Twelve records were set in the 2-day meet.

Miller Shaky, Garver Good as Tigers, Crackers Split

ATLANTA (AP)—Rookie Bob Miller's performance against Atlanta in the opening of yesterday's doubleheader has manager Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers chewing his nails.

Harris already has picked Miller for starting assignments when the American League season opens.

But Miller was tagged for nine hits and four runs against the Crackers in four innings. Three of the hits were doubles.

Garver, tuning up for next week's opener at Kansas City, held Atlanta to two hits in six innings.

Detroit split the exhibition, losing the opener, 5-4, and blasting the Crackers, 8-0, in the 2nd game.

The 2nd game was called after six innings because of darkness.

Atlanta, last year's Southern Assn. champions, held Detroit to nine hits in the opener. Four of the Tiger safeties, good for two runs, came off starter Bill Tosheff in the 1st five innings.

A walk and two doubles, by Ray Boone and Al Kaline, gave Detroit two more runs and a 4-4 tie in the 8th.

But Black, who followed Miller, held the Crackers scoreless through four innings. Paul Foytack turned in a similar performance for two innings but then let Mike Roarke rap out a single in the 11th that drove in the winning run.

Detroit got its final run in the 4th inning on a walk, an infield out and a single by Al Kaline.

Billy Maxwell Azalea Winner With 270 Score

Staves Off Souchak's Bid to Win 1st Tourney in Pro Ranks

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Billy Maxwell, a check for $2,200 representing first place money in the Azalea Open Golf Tournament in his pocket, headed for Augusta, Ga., today and the Masters Tournament opening Thursday.

The 25-year-old Odessa, Tex., professional of 17 months, broke into the major victory column for the first time since leaving the amateur ranks with a 69 finish Sunday to post an 18-under-par total of 270 and beat massive Mike Souchak of Durham, N.C., by one stroke.

* * *

Souchak finally had wrested the lead from Billy, who held it three days, going out in 33 to move ahead by one shot with nine to go. Maxwell refused to wilt, however, and charged back with three birdies in a row starting at No. 13 to regain the lead.

* * *

Maxwell had picked up $4,600 earlier this winter with several money finishes, including a third at Baton Rouge, La., where he lost a three-way playoff. Maxwell discharged from the Army six months ago, was U.S. Amateur champion in 1951.

Souchak padded by $1,500 his earlier bankroll of $11,200 which led the circuit.

Both he and Maxwell bettered the old tournament record of 272 set three years ago by Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif.

Bob Toski of Livingston, N.J., whos $65,000 led the money men in 1954, finished with a 72 for 275 and third place, worth $1,170.

* * *

Jay Herbert, Woodmere, N.Y., came in with 276 for fourth place money of $9.80. Jerry Barber, Los Angeles, winner here two years ago, was fifth at 277 for $840.

* * *

Tied for sixth at 278 were Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., Eric Monti, Los Angeles, and Dow Finsterwald, Athens, Ohio. Each received $643.3.

Lawrence Cook of Wilmington, N.C., was low amateur at 291; two strokes ahead of Ray Taylor of Greensboro, N.C., and Clyde King of Wilmington.

Victory in Welter Class Breaks Tie to Throw Crown MSC's Way

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—Michigan State College won the National Collegiate Boxing Championship Saturday night on the strength of Herb Odom's victory in the 147-pound class.

Odom's victory gave Michigan State five points and broke a 12-12 deadlock with Wisconsin. That gave the Spartans 17 points. They were followed by Louisiana State, San Jose State and Syracuse with 13 each: Wisconsin 12; Washington State 10; Hawaii, Idaho State, Maryland and Virginia, each 9; California 4 and Santa Clara 1.

* * *

Wisconsin had three fighters in the finals but all lost.

Odom, who also won the 147-pound crown in 1954, fought all three of his bouts with a cracked rib, it was revealed after the tournament.

Three other 1954 champions successfully defended their titles. They were Seiji Naya, Hawaii University, 125 pounds; Vince Palumbo, Maryland, 132, and John Granger, Syracuse, 139.

In addition Gordy Gladson of Washington State, who won 165-pound title in 1952 and 1954, moved up a notch and captured the 178-pound crown.

Other individual winners were Bobby McCullom, Idaho State, 119; Tony DiBiase, Virginia, 156; Max Voshall, San Jose State, 165, and Crowe Pelle, Louisiana State, heavyweight.

Naya was voted the outstanding boxer of the 3-day tournament.

Former Lion Drowns

REDONDO BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Wayne J. Clark, 36, former end for the Detroit Lions of the National Football League, was presumed drowned Saturday. Lifeguards said he plunged into a heavy surf to show his swimming skill to a fishing companion.

A search failed to recover the body.

Reports Disturbing

Avery Brundage to Take First-Hand Look at Aussies' Progress for Olympics

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, arrived here Monday to investigate the progress Australia has been making on the 1956 games — and promptly admited he was worried.

* * *

"However, I cannot see how Melbourne can lose the games unless I discover something serious that has been overlooked in the startling reports I have read," he said.

Only last week, Brundage made plans for his hurried trip here after hearing unofficial reports of work stoppages and other snags that have caused Australian officials alarm.

"I have been much disturbed by reports of strikes and construction difficulties," Brundage observed. "Official reports of Melbourne's progress have been good, unofficial reports very bad. My visit is more unofficial than official."

All work on the major stadium was halted three weeks ago by a carpenters' dispute with the contractors. Until this outbreak, it was thought that the Aussies finally had surmounted all obstacles in their way.

"We have been told that our preparations at a comparable stage are in advance of those for the 1952 Helsinki games," said Lieut. Gen. W. Bridgeford, the executive officer.

* * *

But Brundage is not convinced. He will arrive in Melbourne late today and stay a week, investigating all rumors and holding conferences with top officials of the games. Armed with his own observations he will make an overall report to the IOC in Paris next month.

Brundage added that the United States is extremely disappointed at reports of inadequate accomodations for visitors to the games.

"I am certain that these reports have discouraged many Americans from making plans to visit the games," Brundage said. "But that's Australia's problem not ours."

After Brundage leaves Melbourne, he will fly to Tokyo.

"Japan had invited us to hold the 1960 games there and I plan to look over their preparation plans," he said.

Baker, who manages some farms near Easton, recenty was named to Baseball's Hall of Fame. The dinner is sponsored by a group of Talbot County sportsmen.

Suggs Wraps Up Oklahoma Event

Overcomes Wind, Rain and Dust to Post 229 for 54 Hole Test

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Louise Suggs, a solid strokemaster from Sea Island, Ga., overcame strong winds, rain and dust to wrap up the $5,000 Oklahoma City Women's Golf Tournament Sunday with a score of 229 over 54 holes.

This was two strokes under women's par but seven shots over the men's standard of 222 over 6,695-yard Lincoln Park public course. Women's par is 38-39—77.

* * *

Louise survived numerous putting lapses to walk away with the top money of $1,000 which placed her atop the money winners on the current Ladies Professional Golfers Assn. tour. Her earnings to date amount to $4,828.

Her closest competitors were the loose-swinging Alice Bauer Hagge of Sarasota, Fla., and Jackie Pung, the bulky Honolulu housewife. They tied for runner-up honors with 232s and enhanced their pocketbooks by $650.

Boston Doge Is Unknown Quantity for Derby Day

NEW YORK (AP) — Unbeaten Boston Doge has won nine races, five of them this year, but he has yet to prove he'll be a factor in the Kentucky Derby or even whether he rates a chance to start in the May 7 3-year-old classic at Churchill Downs.

When he galloped home three lengths on top in the six furlongs of the Experimental Free Handicap at Jamaica Saturday, he showed doubting Metropolitan fans that he has plenty of speed. But whether he can carry that speed the mile and a quarter of the Derby is a question still to be answered.

Owner Paul Andolino and Trainer Frank Andolino, brothers from Boston, are non-committal on whether they intend to send the little son of The Doge to Derbytown. But the immediate plans indicate they want no part of Nashua, Derby favorite, and Summer Tan, who is scheduled to make his 3-year-old debut in a mile and one-sixteenth race at Jamaica today.

Boston Doge likely will make his next start in the $30,000 added Governors Gold Cup at Bowie April 16. That also is a 6-furlong race. He has not been named for the April 23 running of the $100,000 added Wood Memorial, which figures to be the last Derby prep for Nashua and Summer Tan. It is a mile and a sixteenth event.

The little colt, who jumped into prominence during the Florida winter season, won the Experimental in 1:10 4-5 under 115 pounds, 11 less than he would be called on to pack in the Derby. The Experimental victory ran his total earnings to $47,420.

Ann Arbor Pin Spiller in Lead

Alvetta Kessler Leads Handicap Division of Women's State Test

JACKSON (AP) — Alvetta Kessler, tiny little Ann Arbor bowler with a 132 average, passed some of the big names of Michigan bowling to take over the handicap singles leadership in the Women's State Tournament at Varden Lanes over the weekend.

Alvetta shot 184-174-211—569-120 630 to displace Marian McRae of Roseville by 10 pins. The series may be good enough to stay at the top until the tournament ends June 4.

Only two other changes among the top five on the board were produced. Muskegon Heights King Radio-5; rolled 2854 to take 5th in handicap singles as Pauline Matovic shot a 636. Mary Ann Fausett and Ann Stein of Ypsilanti gained 5th in the handicap doubles with 1211. Rosemary Earl and Violet Miller of Monroe were only a pin behind with Babe Coughey and Gertrude Sheperd of Muskegon another pin back for 7th place.

* * *

In seven of the eight divisions the winning scores of last year already have been bettered. The sole exception is Detroit Acar Broach which tops the handicap team list with 2929. It also has the actual high of 2818.

Trotters Now Hold Edge Over All-Stars

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The Harlem Globetrotters held a 7-4 edge in their basketball series with the College All-Stars after splitting a pair of games in Chicago Sunday.

The Trotters, led by Sweetwater Clifton's 22 points, won the afternoon game 69-63. Ed Conlin of Fordham scored 21 points to pace the All-Stars to an 81-71 victory in the night contest.

Sweep in 880 Helps 'M' Thinclads Win

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Michigan's Big Ten track and field champions scored heavily in track events Saturday to defeat Stanford, 67 1-3—54 2-3, in a dual meet.

The turning point for the Wolverines came in the 880-yard run when the Wolverines swept the event with Big Ten champion Pete Gray pacing teammates Stan Walter and Hobe Jones.

Carlsen, Ex-Cub Hurler, to Quit Pro Baseball

DENVER (AP) — Don Carlsen, former righthander with the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates, said Monday he plans to retire from professional ball.

Carlsen, 28, has a permanent job as a teacher in the Denver public schools. At present, he is teaching mathematics at Smiley Junior High School.

Pistons Trip Syracuse for 1st Playoff Win

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — Fort Wayne's Pistons finally solved Syracuse last night, whipping the Nationals, 96-89, for their 1st victory of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

With one minute to go, Pistons' lead had been cut to four points but successive fre throws by Larry Foust and Dick Rosenthal and a field goal by Andy Phillip iced the victory.

Three Teams Shuffle Up Standings in ABC Tourney

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—The 52nd annual American Bowling Congress Tournament's team standings were reshuffled Sunday night by three pin-heavy scores.

A Youngstown, Ohio, team, the Golden Age Beverages, rolled up a 2968 to take over third place. Andrew Hudoba's 641 total, including games of 234 and 237, paced the Ohio quintet.

Covino's Restaurant of Port Chester, N.Y., moved into the fifth slot with a 2954 output, highlighted by Pat Santora's fine 667 series. Santora thrilled the largest crowd of the tournament, around 2800 persons, by knocking off eight consecutive strikes in his opening game. He finished with a 266 game.

Junie McMahon and his George London Bowling Shirts team of Lodi, N.J., grabbed the 10th spot in the standings. McMahon, who was awarded a gold watch for his election to bowling's "Hall of Fame," and his mates posted a 2954.

Since Sunday's action was limited strictly to team rolling, the leaders in the other divisions remained unchanged. Eddie Gerzine of Milwaukee tops the singles with 738 and the all events with 1938. Ralph Moorman and William Berding of Cincinnati lead the doubles with 1260. The Howard Clothes quintet of St.Paul still heads the team firing with 3015 recorded on the opening night.

* * *

Pontiac YMCA Captures State 'Volley' Title

Seven-Man Team Takes Two of Three Trials in Ann Arbor Event

A dogged, never-say-quit volleyball team representing Pontiac's YMCA battled through the Class C, state YMCA, championships Saturday at University of Michigan's Intramural building, to finally take the top spot.

This was the 2nd year of competition in this event for the Pontiac association. It was runnerup last year to Grand Rapids. Next year will find the new champs competing in the Class B division.

Pontiac's club had to fight its way up to a 3-way tie for the top spot before beating Muskegon, 15-9, and Bay City, 15-10.

* * *

The event at Ann Arbor was a round-robin type tournament, with nine teams in the list: Pontiac, Bay City, Ann Arbor, Port Huron, Grand Rapids, Detroit Fisher Branch, Detroit Downtown and Detroit St. Antoine.

* * *

* * *

* * *

Kiphuth, Peppe Praise Talent in AAU Meet

Gawboy, Hawaiians of OSU, Harrison Excel in New Haven Meet

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Veteran American coaches are optimistic about U.S. swimming chances in the 1956 Olympic Games after looking at some of the available talent.

* * *

Bob Kiphuth of Yale, Mike Peppe of Ohio State and others expressed these sentiments after a National AAU indoor swim meet in which world and meet records were subjected to a heavy battering.

* * *

Not only did the established performers crack down on existing marks during three days of competition that wound up Saturday, but a bright new star turned up to win the hearts of spectators.

* * *

Unheralded Bob Gawboy, 22-year-old half-Indian from the University of Minnesota, won the 220-yard breaststroke in 2:38. That clipped eight-tenths of a second off the existing world's record, credited to Knud Gleie of Denmark.

* * *

Ohio State's splendid Hawaiians, Ford Konno and Yoshi Oyakawa, each picked up two titles.

* * *

Konno, who passed up defense of his 1500-meter title to conserve energy, retained both his 220 and 440-yard freestyle crowns. In the process he twice whipped his toughest opponent of the season, Michigan's Jack Wardrop.

* * *

* * *

Wardrop, the 20-year-old Seot, bit a huge chunk off his own world's record for the 400-yard individual medley. In defending his title, he lowered the mark from 4:41.7 to 4:36.9. The Michigan star probably will compete for Great Britain in the next Olympics, however.

Wininger Has Bid for Masters' Test

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Francis G. (Bo) Wininger, 32, second best performer in the winter circuit, has been invited to play in the 19th Masters Golf Tournament, completing the field for the event starting Thursday.

His invitation came under rules which provide that bids be sent to the two professionals, not otherwise eligible, who make the best showings on the winter tour. Mike Souchak was invited last week.

Souchak was high man in the winter tournament circuit with a total of 182½ points. Wininger had 112 1-10 points.

Trabert Nears Pro Decision, Beats Seixas

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Tony Trabert, his eye fixed squarely on a lucrative pro career, today is on one of the hottest streaks of his young tennis life.

Having already indicated his willingness to turn professional when the time is ripe, Trabert went about bringing that time closer Sunday when he beat Vic Seixas, the top-ranked U.S. player and national champion, for the Puerto Rican title.

New Haven 6 Wins U. S. Senior Title

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — New Haven, Conn. won the U.S. Senior Amateur Hockey Assn. championship 5-3 from Lewiston, Me., Sunday night. The New Haven club made up a two-goal disadvantage in the contest following semifinal games in which Bates beat Arlington, Mass., 5-2 and New Haven ousted Detroit 5-4.

Raceway Starts Early

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—Trotters return early tonight to Roosevelt Raceway for the 16th annual season, making the earliest start of harness racing in New York State.

Roosevelt, where the night parimutuel trotting boom was born in 1940, usually opens in late May, following Yonkers Raceway, the other big sulky oval in the metropolitan area.

Season's 1st Ace

First ace of the season in the Metropolitan district's golf circles was turned in Sunday by the well-known veteran Jay Law. Law, playing Hillcrest's course, dropped his tee shot on No. 4, to help compile a round of 70 for the day. Law plays Oakland county layouts regularly in the MPGA summer matches. He is one of the district's top-ranked players.

Wally Moon Gunning for 200 Hits in Soph Season

FT.WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Wally Moon, the National League's Rookie of the Year last season, set out today to collect at least 200 hits in his sophomore year with the St.Louis Cardinals.

"I should do even better," Moon said of his first-year performance Sunday, his 25th birthday. "If you don't improve, you're standing still or going backwards."

* * *

Moon moved into the Redbird outfield to replace warhorse Enos Slaughter, who was traded to the New York Yankees.

In 1954, with the pressure of replacing the popular Slaughter, Wally banged out 193 hits, two less than Stan Musial and one more than Red Schoendienst.

* * *

An even 50 of those hits were for extra bases, including 29 doubles, 9 triples and 12 homers good for 76 runs batted in and a .304 average.

"He's a confident kid," Stanky said.

Moon, a 6-foot, 175-pounder, said one reason he believes the coming season will be more productive is that he enjoyed a good rest during the off-season.

New Englander Wins Ski Title

Ralph Miller Captures Giant Slalom Test; Best Time by Austrian

SEATTLE (AP)—A New Hampshire skier won the national giant slalom championship but an Austrian turned in the day's best skiing exhibition.

Ralph Miller of Hanover, N. H. and the U. S. Army, flashed through the 49 gates on Barrier Mountain in the Cascades yesterday in 2 minutes, 10 seconds to take the championship from a field that included three other Olympics team skiers.

While Miller carried home the title, he was 3rd behind Martin Strolz of Austria and Jack Nagel of Seattle, both of whom were ineligible. Stolz was clocked at 2 minutes, 7.1 seconds, the day's fastest time. Nagel, an instructor at the Barrier Mountain Course, was timed in 2:09.3.

Dressen, Higgins Doing Best of New Pilots

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With the start of the major league baseball season just a week away, this is as good a time as any to check up on the six new American League managers in the spring training games.

Chuck Dressen of the Washington Senators and Mike Higgins of the Boston Red Sox have had the most success. The Senators have won 11 and lost 6 to lead the American League. Boston's 12-8 record is good for third place.

But the four other newcomers—Marty Marion of the Chicago White Sox, Paul Richards of the Baltimore Orioles, Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers and Lou Boudreau of the Kansas City A's—haven't been so successful.

The White Sox, Orioles and Tigers each have 8-12 won-lost slates. The A's, in the basement, are 8-13.

All six skippers have reason to be pleased today, however, after the performances of several of their key players yesterday.

Shortstop, which has been a problem for Washington, may have been clinched by rookie Johnny Kline, who went four-for-four as the Nats edged the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-4. Kline singled in the ninth and rode home on Eddie Yost's game-winning home run.

Norm Zauchin, fighting for the Boston Red Sox first base job, walloped a two-run homer in the sixth inning off the Philadelphia Phils' ace, Robin Roberts, to give the Red Sox a 4-2 victory.

The White Sox bowed to the St. Louis Cards 12-7, but Manager Marion continued to gloat over the power hitting of Walt Dropo. The big first sacker socked his third home run in four days and teammate Bob Nieman also hit for the circuit. Rip Repulski of the Cards banged a grand-slam home run in the first frame.

Baltimore's pitching fell apart in the ninth inning when Pittsburgh scored six runs and pulled out an 11-8 verdict, but the Orioles gained some solace from the hitting of Gus Triandos and the pitching of Jim McDonald, both acquired from the Yanks. Triandos, expected to plug the first base gap, poled a home run with the bases loaded, and McDonald hurled seven creditable innings. Jack Shepard's grand-slam homer in the ninth inning climaxed the Pirates' outburst.

The A's and Manager Boudreau got some good news when Bobby Shantz turned in his most impressive stint of the training season as Kansas City downed Savannah of the Sally League 8-1. The crafty southpaw, plagued by arm trouble the past two years, gave up one run and five hits in five innings and his control showed sharp improvement over previous appearances.

Elsewhere, Harry Chiti's pair of homers paced the Chicago Cubs to a 12-3 triumph over San Antonio of the Texas League. Tom Morgan went the route as the New York Yankees trimmed Memphis of the Southern Assn. 13-1, Gene Conley worked eight innings as the Milwaukee Braves licked the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-1, and the New York Giants beat the Indians, 7-5.

Pontiac Table Netters Claim 4 MRA Titles

Tiffany, Ryan, Secord, Wettlaufer Victors in State Meet

Pontiac table tennis players, representing the Pontiac parks and recreation department, won four championships in the Michigan Recreation Association tournament Saturday at Battle Creek.

Ellen Tiffany and John Wettlaufer won junior singles titles and each teamed up with a partner to share in doubles championships. Miss Tiffany and Carol Ann Ryan won the girl's doubles and Wettlaufer and Perc Secord won in men's doubles.

In final matches, Miss Tiffany took the junior girls' crown by downing Lynn Emmons of Kalamazoo, 21-17, 21-18. She had a rough scrape reaching the finals, edging Diana Black, the Grand Rapids champion, 13-21, 21-19, 22-20.

Secord and Wettlaufer staged a come-from-behind effort to win over a large field in the men's doubles. In the finals they downed Vern Johnson and Cliff Strong of Kalamazoo, 19-21, 18-21, 21-19, 21-17, 21-18.

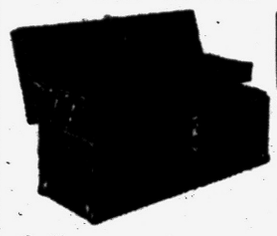

Wettlaufer had little trouble in the junior finals, whipping Bob Slezak of Muskegon, 21-16, 21-10. In the girls' doubles finale, Miss Ryan and Miss Tiffany topped Miss Emmons and Jackie Clark of Kalamazoo, 21-12, 13-21, 21-19.

Grains Ease in Quiet Deals

CHICAGO (AP)—Most grains eased in quiet dealings on the Board of Trade today.

Wheat made a stab at pushing higher during the early trade. Buying came in small lots from commission houses. The bread grain quickly gave up most of its advance.

In other cereals early quotations were mixed. As trading progressed the tendency was for most contracts to slip a little lower.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, May $2.11⅜; corn ¼ to ⅝ lower, May $1.42⅝; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, May 70⅛; rye ¼ lower to ¼ higher, May $1.00; soybeans 1 cent lower to ¾ higher, May $2.49; and lard unchanged to 7 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $12.65.

Absentee Vote Claim Denied

Dem Chairman's Action Is Termed Incorrect by County Clerk

A claim that absentee ballots are not valid when received by clerks through the mail on election day was denied today by Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen.

According to Avon Township Clerk Francis O. Covert, the township Democratic Chairman Otto E. Wendell Jr., has informed her that all absentee ballots received via mail by her office today will be challenged.

"There are to be no absentee ballots distributed to the polls received in the mail Monday," she quoted Wendell as saying.

(Absentee ballots are cast by voters who are away from their local unit on election day.)

"Wendell's contention is not correct," said County Clerk Allen, "the law permits absentee ballots to come in through the mail and be delivered until 8 p. m. tonight to any precinct."

County Democratic Chairman Carlos G. Richardson agreed with Allen stating, "Unless there's been a change in the law which I'm not familiar with, voters have a right to turn them in until 8 p. m. today.

Nab 10 on Charge of Looting Tombs

ROME (AP)—Ten men were arrested in weekend police raids to wipe out a gang black-marketing priceless antiques looted from central Italy's ancient Etruscan tombs.

Police announced that in searches of suspects' homes in little towns around Tarquinia, 50 miles north of Rome, they recovered "a fortune in looted vases, urns, amphorae (two-handled jars) and statues."

They said the tomb looters have been operating for years as an organized gang. Many of the contraband Etruscan treasures tave found their way outside the country, some reportedly to museums in the United States.

Fewer Applying for Aid Reflects Economic Health

A general improvement in the economic health of this area in recent weeks is reflected in the reduced case load of the Oakland County Social Welfare Commission.

During the winter, peak season for assistant cases, the agency was processing an average of about 40 new requests for aid each day.

The commission handles the problems of individuals in the county who are in need of assistance because of sickness, loss of income, disability or other reasons, and who are not eligible for sufficient or federal aid.

Present case load, according to Hubert W. Earle, supervisor, is from 10 to 15 applications daily. He added that this drop is also partly due to the annual seasonal upswing in employment at this time of year, in addition to the high general level of industrial activity here.

State Employment Up in Past Two Months

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Employment Security Commission says the state's employment picture has improved in the last two months.

Max Horton, commission director, said Saturday that four labor areas have been dropped from the acute unemployment list. They are Adrian, Jackson, Owosso, and Belding-Ionia-Greenville.

Iron Mountain, where 13 per cent of the labor force is unemployed, is alone in the acute unemployment class, Horton said.

Some improvement has been noted in Detroit, Lansing and Saginaw, he added.

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Daniel Elmore, 39, took a live duck to Willie May Alexander as an offering of love.

Miss Alexander, police said, spurned his affection after accepting the duck. He allegedly returned, took the duck and then was arrested on burglary charges.

The duck got away.

Predicts Huge Expansion for Atomic Power Plants

CHICAGO (INS) — The Atomic Energy Commission's power chief predicts that generating electricity from the atom will snowball into a 20-million-dollar domestic industry in the next 20 years.

By 1977, he said, American atomic power plants should be creating as much electricity as is now consumed annually in the U.S., and by 1975 they should be filling 60 to 70 per cent of the country's future needs.

The statements were made before the American Power Conference by W. Kenneth Davis, director of the AEC division of reactor development, who said he is convinced that earlier estimates by himself and other AEC officials were too conservative.

Davis continued: "On the basis of my experience since 1952, I now believe that the transition to nuclear power will be rapid rather than slow. . .once the transition really begins, I feel that it will 'snowball'."

The official foresaw three 10-year phases, which he labeled "induction," "transition" and "saturation," and during which he said total consumption of electric power in the U.S. should more than quadruple.

At the end of the first 10 years, he predicted privately-built American plants will be producing about eight per cent of the country's power.

This would be two and one-half times as much electrical power as was provided for in an $800,000,000, 10-year British government construction program announced recently, but would be a smaller proportion of the country's total needs than the British hope to achieve.

During the second 10-year phase, however, Davis said he believes American construction will skyrocket to the $20 billion mark.

On this scale, U.S. atomic plants in 1977 would reach a capacity of 100,000,000 kilowatts, the country's present generating capability.

Davis said: "When one thinks of the various new facilities and plans necessary to supplement and implement such a large nuclear power capacity it is obvious that there will be many opportunities for large and small industries."

He made clear, however, that the huge investments required initially will have to be based on confidence in the future of atomic energy rather than on an actual demonstration that power from the atom is cheaper than that from ordinary fuels.

Voted No on Hike Declare Officials of Pontiac UAW

John Fowler and Andrew Montgomery, chairman and co-chairman, respectively, of Pontiac Motor Division Local 653 (UAW-CIO), today issued the following statement concerning conflicting reports from last week's UAW convention in Cleveland:

"The seating of the elected delegates was protested by the executive board of Local 653 but this protest was denied by the credentials committee of the convention.

"On the dues increase we would like to report that all 18 elected delegates were on the floor and voted against the dues increase, both on the preliminary vote and the final official vote.

"Pontiac local delegates also voted for a roll call vote on the vote for right or need.

"However, the work of the elected delegates to this convention from Pontiac Motor was hampered by the fact that defeated candidates of Pontiac 653 were at this convention working for a dues increase and some were on the convention floor working for the dues increase having been issued either press or staff badges.

"After the dues increase had passed by a majority vote of the convention, Local 653 delegates had a choice to make based on dispensing the strike fund based on right or need. Local 653 delegates then voted in favor of right because we believe all members on strike should have the same right for help.

"Local 653 delegates voted not to increase the expenses of the union at this time by voting against adding two more vice presidents but the convention voted in a majority for adding two more vice presidents. After the vote on this issue carried, the Pontiac local delegates then voted in a bloc for Livingston, Gosser, Woodcock and Stellato.

"As stated above, your elected delegates from Local 653 voted exactly as they promised but as good trade unionists we are now bound by the mandates of the convention and the UAW constitution.

Wilson Sticking to Plans for Cut

Reduced Army Force Still Objective, Says Defense Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson disclosed today he is sticking to the plan for a further cut in Army manpower strength.

There have been recent reports of a new "new look" to leave more men for the ground forces, but Wilson, in testimony prepared for a Senate appropriations subcommittee, said the plan is for an Army of 1,027,000 by June 30, 1956. This was approximately the figure originally recommended by Wilson to the Budget Bureau.

* * *

By this summer the Army will be down from a present strength of about 1,250,000 to 1,102,000. That level had been proposed originally for June 30, Wilson said, but may be reached "a month or two later in order that reductions can be effected in an orderly manner."

Some Army officers, including Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, chief of staff, contend that a larger Army, not a smaller one, would be needed in atomic weapon battlefield fighting. President Eisenhower has described Ridgeway's demands for bigger ground forces as "parochial."

Present combat unit strength of the Army is 19 divisions, 12 regiments and 117 antiaircraft battalions. By June 1956, this will be reduced by one division and one regiment, but antiaircraft strength will be increased to 136, Wilson said.

"Women are the weaker sex and don't ever forget it!"

The Life of Christ—25

Jesus Prepares to Go to the Cross

By BISHOP FULTON J. SHEEN

Some things in life are too beautiful to be forgotten, but there can also be something in death that is too beautiful to be forgotten. That is why we have a Memorial Day—to recall the sacrifices of our youth for the preservation of freedom. Freedom is not an heirloom, but a life. Once received, it does not continue to exist without effort, like an old painting.

As life must be nourished, defended and preserved, so freedom must be re-purchased in each generation. What Washington won, had to be re-won in Lincoln, and then won again in World Wars I and II.

All the blood that crimsoned Valley Forge and Bunker Hill and Gettysburg, and then, later on, reddened the soil of France, Korea and the Pacific Islands cried out like Abel's blood for remembrance. Our hearts, knowing that we live because they died, answer their mute pleas by instituting a Memorial Day to recall in thanksgiving, prayer and reverence, the sublime truth that "greater love than this no man hath, that he lay down his life for his friends."

These youths, however, were not born to die; soldiering was an interruption to their summons to live; neither they nor their parents willed that their ship of life should be sunk so soon after launching into the sea of life. In this, all men differ from Our Blessed Lord, who came into this world to die.

Even at His Birth, His Mother was reminded that He came to die, as the Wise Men brought myrrh for His burial. Never before, did any mother in the world see Death wrap its skeletoned arms so quickly about an Infant Birth; never before did the shadow of the Cross fall so quickly on a crib.

When Christ is still only an infant, the old man Simeon, looked into the face of Him Who turned back eternity and was made young and said that He was destined to be a "sign to be contradicted"—a signal that would call out the opposition of the deliberately imperfect. The Mother, on hearing that word "contradicted," could almost see simeon's arms fade and the arms of the Cross take their place to wrap Him in death.

Before two years of His Life had been lived, King Herod sends out horsemen pounding like thunder bolts, and with swords flashing like lightning attempts to decapitate His Infant Head, not yet strong enough to bear the weight of a crown!

Since, then, Our Divine Lord came to die, it was fitting that there be a Memorial of His death! If we keep a memorial of soldiers who died that we might be free from political oppression, then should not the Divine Soldier have a memorial for preserving us from the spiritual tyranny of sin? Since He is God, as well as man, and since He never spoke of His Death without speaking of His Resurrection, should He not, Himself institute the precise memorial of His own death and not leave it to the chance recollection of men? And that is precisely what He did the night of the Last Supper. Our Memorial Day was not instituted by soldiers who foresaw their death. But His Memorial was instituted, and this is important, not because He would die like a soldier and be buried, but because He would live again after the Ressurection.

In His last hours with His Apostles, He instituted not a Memorial Day, but a Memorial Action. Seated at a Passover meal which commemorated the liberation of His people from the slavery of Egypt, He prepares to fulfill it by celebrating the liberation of souls from the slavery of Satan!

As the paschal lambs were being sacrificed to celebrate the deliverance from political slavery, Christ, the true Paschal Lamb, now prepares to offer Himself to save souls from spiritual slavery. This would be the New Testament, and like the Old, it too would be sealed with blood—not with the blood of sheep and goats, but with the blood of Himself, the Immaculate Lamb.

At the Last Supper, Christ's eyes kindle, and His whole bearing takes on a majesty greater than when He spoke to Moses and Elias in the clouds. Taking in His hands a piece of unleavened bread, He lifts His eyes to heaven, gives thanks, and over it says: "Take, eat, This is My Body Which shall be delivered for you." Then taking the cup of wine, by another act of omnipotence, He breathes over it saying: "Drink, all of you, of This; for This is My Blood of the New Testament, Which shall be shed for many unto the remission of sins."

Note the words: "My Body which shall be delivered for you; My Blood of the New Testament Which shall be shed."

He is looking forward to the morrow, Good Friday, when He will die on the Cross—the one supreme reason for His coming to earth. It was a new Covenant, a new Testament. There had been one Covenant with Noah on leaving the ark, another Covenant with Abraham on leaving Haran; another Covenant with Moses on leading the people from Egypt. All these were figures leading to this new Covenant or Testament between God and man. On God's side, it pledges remission of sins through His Death; on man's side, an incorporation to that faith by death and sacrifice.

But how, it may be asked, does the changing of the Bread into His Body and the changing of the wine into His blood, foreshadow His sacrificial Death on the Cross on the morrow? Notice that Our Lord did not consecrate the bread and wine together but separately. This symbolic action represents the way He would be sacrificed on the Cross, namely by the violent separation of His Blood from His Body. The words: "This is My Body," and then "This is My Blood," were a kind of mystical sword, separating one from the other.

His Passion and His Sacrifice are now beginning, and the grim side of that will be seen on the morrow on the Cross silhouetted against a darkened sky. Then He will be upright as a Priest, and prostrate as a Victim offering Himself for the sins of the world.

But because Our Lord's Memorial was not instituted by us, but by Him, and because He could not be conquered by death which is a penalty for sin, but would rise again in the newness of life, He willed that as He now looked forward to His Redemptive Death on the Cross, so all the Christian ages until the consummation of the world should look back to it.

In order that they would not reenact the Memorial out of whim or fancy, He gave the command: "Do this for a commemoration of Me." That is, "announce My redemptive Death until I come again! I will be the same Priest and Victim on both My Cross and Your commemoration of My Death. But as I look forward to the Cross, you will look back to it. My last Supper looks in prospect to Myself as the Victim to be immolated on Calvary, so in your commemoration you will look back to the immolation that has already taken place."

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—A family friend says Mrs. Adele Austin Rickett, released prisoner of the Chinese Communists, is under "advisement" not to say anything.

Mrs. Rickett, described as "brainwashed" by Hong Kong observers, was greeted by her mother Mrs. Harold Austin, of Yonkers, N.Y., on her arrival by ship in San Francisco yesterday. Friends hurried her away.

Mrs. Austin expects to fly to New York soon with her daughter. Mrs. Rickett's husband Walter, a medical student, still is imprisoned in Communist China.

* * *

"There will be no statement from Mrs. Rickett."

Strugnell brusquely turned away all requests for interviews with the 35-year-old former Wave. She was expelled as a spy from China Feb. 27 along with Malcolm Bersohn, of New York. In Hong Kong, both professed "shame and remorse for our crimes against the Chinese people."

Board Reorganized by Ford Credit Union

DETROIT (AP)— Directors who sought re-election were returned to office by shareholders of the Ford Rouge Employes Federal Credit Union this weekend.

The action was interpreted as a slap at federal examiners who suspended the credit union's charter March 11 alleging mismanagement.

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard ordered the membership election Saturday as the first move to return the operation of the credit union to its 15,000 shareholders.

Only three former officers did not seek re-election. Among those was Robert Fozzosi, former treasurer-manager. Fozzosi has been charged by the government with falsifying a credit union financial report. He is under $50,000 bond pending a hearing.

Reveal Atomic Cancer Cure

Use Radioactive Iodine With Good Results on Children's Thyroid

CHICAGO (AP)—Atomic medicine apparently works beautifully to save children with cancer attacking the thyroid gland, a State University of Iowa physician said today.

The medicine is radioactive iodine, produced in an atomic furnace or pile.

Seven of eight children with thyroid cancer are alive and apparently free of cancer four years after this treatment. The eighth, a girl, is still being given doses of the atomic medicine to burn out the cancer.

* * *

'We feel we can give these children a normal life-span," said Dr. Titus C. Evans, professor of radiation research at Iowa.

One key is using small, not large, doses of radioactive iodine, he told science writers making a tour of cancer research centers under auspices of the American Cancer Society.

When thyroid cancer is diagnosed, the thyroid gland itself is first removed. But some cancer cells often have wandered away, starting new cancer growths elsewhere in the body.

* * *

The thyroid gland has a tremendous appetite for iodine, from which it makes thyroxin, the thyroid gland hormone.

The runaway cancer cells also are hungry for iodine. The injected radioactive iodine atoms are grabbed up by these little colonies of thyroid cells, and radiation from the iodine can kill them.

Mamie Remains on Farm as Ike Returns to Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was back in the White House today, but his wife remained at their Gettysburg farm, where they spent the weekend.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Mrs. Eisenhower remained behind because she is expecting some rugs and other furnishings for the new home. He said she will return today or tomorrow.

* * *

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the chief White House physician, arrived at Gettysburg as the President was leaving yesterday and stopped to talk with him. Newsmen quickly began wondering whether Mrs. Eisenhower was ill. Two White House sources said this was not so, even before Hagerty made his announcement.

A physician almost always accompanies the Eisenhowers on any out of town trip as a regular member of their party.

Michigan Guard Outfits Participate in Test Alert

LANSING (AP) — Michigan units will take part in a nationwide test alert of the National Guard planned by the Defense Department.

Gov. Williams said Saturday he had directed Brig. Gen. George C. Moran, state adjutant general, to cooperate fully in the test, to be held sometime in the near future.

Williams said he had requested the cooperation of employers in releasing guardsmen to report for the operation.

Victims of 'Little Strokes' Show Personality Quirks

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN

A father who was proud of his much-loved son suddenly doesn't trust him to take a few dollars to the bank.

* * *

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez of Chicago, consultant in medicine emeritus, Mayo Clinic, says these persons could be victims of little strokes—"the disease that commonly takes years to kill the patient."

He said the condition, known as intracranial arteriosclerosis, is one of the commonest diseases of man. Clots form in small arteries in the brain, shutting off the blood circulation and damaging brain tissue.

* * *

When this occurs in certain portions of the brain, personality changes rather than paralysis or speech loss, are the chief symptoms.

Writing in the Journal of the American Medical Assn., Dr. Alvarez said:

The condition usually appears in susceptible persons after 38-years of age although it has occurred in persons in their 20s.

* * *

Some victims live 25 or more years after suffering the first such little stroke and some persons have been known to survive as many as 50 such strokes.

Some persons go as long as 10 or 15 years between strokes and some lose symptoms quickly and improve strikingly after a little stroke.

* * *

"In millions of cases little thromboses—blood clots—in the brain slowly, over the course of 10 or 15 years, pull a person down, slow him up, age him, and eventually kill him," he said, adding:

"A little stroke may be expected whenever (1) a man or woman past 38 or so has a mental and nervous disability that is out of all proportion to the little indigestion, abdominal or thoracic pain complained of, (2) a nervous breakdown or a queer group of symptoms come suddenly on a certain day, and (3) one learns from the family that, after a dizzy spell, backout, or perhaps a fall, there came changes in character and perhaps ability to work."

He said onset of the disease possibly can be delayed by avoidance of an overweight condition and reducing the amount of fatty substance, chloesterol, in the diet.

Army Testing $2 Gas Mask

New Device Believed Answer for Protecting Civilian Population

CINCINNATI (AP) — A $2 mask developed by the Army is being tested for possible use in protecting civilians against inhaling poison gas, germ weapons and radioactive dust, two Army scientists announced today.

Researchers Bernard Siegel and Frank Shanty of the Army Chemical Center, Maryland, reported that if test models meet protective requirements, the masks could be quickly mass-produced. They addressed the 127th national meeting of the American Chemical Society.

The low cost of the mask—figured at between $1.50 and $2 — compares with $14 for the standard military mask and $8 for a previously developed mask for civilians, they said.

Key to the cheapness of the new one, they explained, is the elimination of a relatively high cost metal "canister" for absorbing noxious gases or filtering out airborne germs and radioactive materials.

Instead, much of the face piece of the mask itself constitutes the "filter" — a fibrous mat forming a pad and containing an absorbent chemical. The face piece is attached to snug-fitting plastic materials which make the mask cling to the face and head. A harness holds it on the head. Plastic lenses are used for eye-pieces. The whole device can be machine produced.

Wind Causes Blaze, Then Extinguishes It

DENVER (AP) — The 50-mile-an-hour winds that lashed the Denver area over the weekend were credited with at least one useful act.

Telephone wires at the rear of a house shorted out during the windstorm, setting fire to the telephone pole. By the time a fire department pumper reached the scene, however, the wind had blown out the fire.

Barber Slashes Throat of Talkative Customer

The story said Justiniano Zarsadiaz, 41, told police he could not stand the insults Cesar Madarang, 30, directed at him.

Ike Foundation Founder Dies

Abilene Publisher, 92, Helped President Get West Point Appointment

ABILENE, Kan. (AP)—Charles M. Harger, newspaper publisher and founder of the Eisenhower Foundation, died yesterday. He was 92.

Harger had known the President since Eisenhower's boyhood days in Abilene and was instrumental in getting him an appointment to the U.S. military academy.

He was a friend of several other presidents in addition to Eisenhower and had attended every Republican National Convention since 1908, serving in an official capacity as assistant secretary.

His writings through the years appeared in a number of national magazines and in other newspapers.

* * *

One of his most cherished projects was the Eisenhower Foundation. It operates Eisenhower's boyhood home and museum, which houses many of the President's mementoes. Harger was the foundation's first president.

Harger also was one of the founders and the first teacher in the University of Kansas department of journalism.

Funeral services will be Tuesday afternoon. Burial will be in Abilene.

Bevan Assures Constituents He'll Keep on Fighting

EBBW VALE, Wales (AP) — Aneurin Bevan, left-wing maverick of Britain's Labor party, assured cheering followers in his home constitutency last night that his running battle with the moderate Socialist leadership is by no means over.

The 57-year-old rebel, whose outspoken attitude already has cost him Laborite sponsorship in Parliament, told a rally: "I solemnly declare that I am not prepared to buy a successful public life at the cost of shameful silence about things I think should be heard."

Bevan escaped being drummed out of the party altogether last week by apologizing for any pain his attacks might have caused the Laborites' party chief, former Prime Minister Clement Attle.

Cop Corrals Calf

NEW YORK (UP) — Police were caught short without a lasso yesterday when a calf got loose as it was being unloaded at a Manhattan freight yard. Patrolman George McCarthy captured the critter by throwing a straight jacket over its head.

Rushing Polio Vaccine Report

Evaluating Team Head Pushing to Finish Study by April 12 Deadline

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. has made it clear he will be hard put to complete his report on the Salk polio vaccine by April 12.

Scores of tabulations at the evaluation center he heads at the University of Michigan are working overtime to help translate into an overall report the coded results of last year's field experiment with the vaccine developed by Jonas Salk of Pittsburgh.

The April 12 date was set by Dr. Francis who has been pressed to make public what he alone knows. But whatever it is, Dr. Francis isn't saying just yet.

Robert Voight, U.S. census bureau expert, who is acting as chief of statistical operations for the center, gave newsmen some idea of what Dr. Francis was up against.

There were 211 areas in the United States, he said, three in Canada and some in Finland, where more than two million children were covered by the tests.

In paper work, he said, that meant there were at least 144 million pieces of different information that had to be recorded in code on tabulator cards and then decoded and studied before the evaluation could be made.

Dr. Francis explained to the conference that the report was long in coming for several reasons.

Evaluators couldn't begin their job, he said, until after the peak polio season in early fall. And he added they had to have a good chunk of data before they could begin to appraise it.

Planned Parenthood Has Its Hazards, Too

CHICAGO (INS) — Judging from past performances, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sapir of Chicago should have quadruplets—all boys in 1958.

The couple had twin boys on July 7, 1952, and yesterday Mrs. Sapir gave birth to triplets, again all of them boys.

Mayor's Job Strictly Family Affair There

PROTET-DE-LUCHON, France (INS) — The Sastrade family has a steady job. Jean Marie Sastrade just was elected mayor of the little Pyrenes town of Portet - de - Luchon.

Radio Director Resents Term

William M. Ramsey of Proctor & Gamble Says Many Are Good

NEW YORK (AP)—The man who's often referred to as the father of soap opera comes clean about a pet peeve:

"I've resented the term 'soap opera' from the very start," says William M. Ramsey, director of radio for the biggest sponsor of daytime serials (Proctor & Gamble.)

* * *

"I think now everybody uses the word, though," he concedes. He also thinks the term has lost some of its earlier derisive connotations.

"It's simply the age old art of telling a story," he says. "Some are well told and some are poorly told. Many daytime serials are tripe but there are many well written ones.

"Looking down the nose at them is done by people who refuse to listen. Daytime serials are criticized mostly by those uninhibited by knowledge of what they're talking about."

* * *

Ramsey's company has 13 daytime serials on radio and five on TV, and also is a big sponsor of evening TV shows.

He cast the principals for CBS radio's Ma Perkins in the roles they're still playing 21 years later.

Some radio serials have been transferred to TV but Ramsey doubts that Ma Perkins will be. Too many people, he says, have formed their own mental images of Ma and the images probably vary widely.

Voters to Pick Chicago Mayor

Republican Councilman Fighting County Clerk for Top City Post

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's mayoral election tomorrow will bring a momentous verdict for one of the city's most turbulent politicians.

The vote will either lift peppery Robert E. Merriam from a Republican minority desk in the 50-man City Council to Chicago's peak public office, or leave him without a steady job. His Council term expires this month.

For his rival Richard J. Daley, 52, the mayoralty campaign is the latest in a series of political fights over a 22-year period. He seeks his biggest prize to date.

* * *

But, if Daley loses, he will merely face a more difficult task as chairman of the Cook County Democratic Central Committee. And he can return to his $15,000-a-year post as county clerk.

Apart from the $25,000 annual mayor's salary, which compares with Merriam's $5,000-a-year alderman's pay, the election is climactic for what it may mean in justification of his eight-year battle with entrenched Democratic organization leaders.

* * *

Merriam gathered his most telling campaign ammunition as a member, and for a time as chairman, of the City Council Emergency Crime Investigating Committee. He talks of political protection for gamblers and other syndicate criminals under the Democratic regime, of payoffs to policemen, of loafers on the city payrolls, of vote frauds.

Gored Matador Removes Horn, Goes in for Kill

CIUDAD Acuna, Mex. (AP) — A matador impaled on the horns jerked himself free and killed the bull in top style yesterday.

It happened as Marquez was about to plant the sword to kill his first bull of the afternoon in this town across the Rio Grande from Del Rio, Tex. As he went in over the horns to plunge the sword between the shoulders, the bull embedded its right horn in the young matador's lower body.

Clutching his wound and shouting to those rushing to his help to stay back, he picked up his muleta and sword. He sighted down his sword again and killed the bull with such skill judges gave him the rare award of ears and tail.

Marquez earlier had presented his ceremonial cape as an indication of close friendship to Miss Tommie West, 18, of Coleman, Tex., a freshman at the University of Texas. Miss West said she has attended all his fights since last October.

Man Poses as Cop, Kidnaps, Rapes Girl

DENVER (AP)—A man posing as a police officer kidnaped and raped an 11-year-old west Denver girl last night, police said.

The girl and a 9-year-old companion were walking home from a roller skating rink, officers said, when a man about 35 stopped them.

The girls were quoted as saying the man told them he was a police officer and ordered them into his car. He drove to the outskirts of the city, officers said, and pushed the younger girl from the auto. He then parked the car in an open field and raped the 11-year-old, police said.

"Bonanzagram"

Have Fun! Win $100!

"Bonanzagram" is an exciting new puzzle in which the Pontiac Press offers both fun and a $100 cash prize. BUT before you try your hand at "Bonanzagram" be sure and read the rules at the bottom of this page. Solution will apear in the Press April 15.

Claim Check

Below is a duplicate of the "Bonanzagram" entry you send in to contest headquarters. It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 5 is published Friday, April 15. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 5

A prep-school teacher found a pert message from one of his prize English students chalked on the blackboard one cold morning. It was evidently intended to jog his memory in regard to coming holidays and the pile-up of extra school work. By chance, a prankster had come by earlier and erased some of the key letters. However, the teacher was able to reproduce the student's communication, and got a good laugh from it. Can you, too, fill in the proper letters and so decipher the meaning?

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story, or anecdote, accompanying the message. Clues may also be found in the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Punctuation as well as words must be correct for a winning solution.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit Entries

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W. Huron St., until 5 p. m. Tuesday, April 12. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, April 12 for Bonanzagram No. 5. Address "Bonanzagram, %, Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.

4. Copies of the Press need not be purchased to enter. Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and, if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p. m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person, he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." Postmark on this letter must be not later than 5 p. m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

About Eligibility, Information, Etc.

1. Anyone is eligible for the "Bonanzagram" contest except employes of the Press and members of their immediate families. (Immediate family means all those living in an employe's household.)

2. No question as to winners will be answered by phone.

3. The Press will award a prize of $100 to the winner of each weekly "Bonanzagram." If more than one winning answer is received, the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If no correct solution is received, the $100 will be added to the next week's prize. If the winner is a subscriber of record to the Press a $20 bonus will be added to the $100.

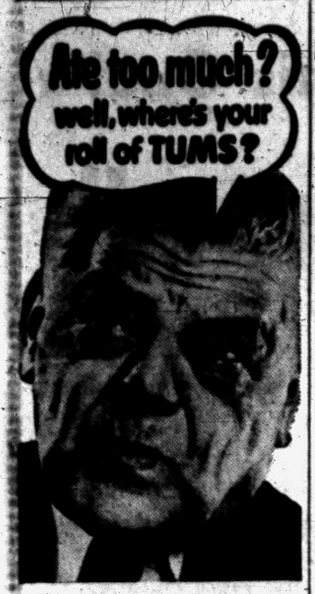

4. Only one winning entry from a family will be eligible for the prize, but there is no limit on number of entries.

5. The Press retains the right to correct typographical errors.

6. Judges' decision will be final and contestant's submission of entries indicates acceptance of these rules.

7. No liability is accepted for entries that fail to reach us.

8. The Press reserves the right to alter rules and/or discontinue the contest at its discretion.

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Case of Brainwashed Korea Prisoners Still Haunting U. S. State Department

WASHINGTON (UP) — Most of the Americans who collaborated with the Communists while they were prisoners in Korea have now returned to civilian life.

They are working and raising families and, in general, leading normal lives. They would like the nation to forget who they are and what they did.

But the case of the brainwashed POWs is far from closed. Defense Department officials said today it is still one of their most agonizing problems.

Just two years ago this month nearly 4,000 GIs, Marines and airmen began coming out of North Korea and China in the great Korean prisoner exchange. And with them came ugly facts.

Under torture and brainwashing and the stresses of capativity, some prisoners had broken down. They had confessed to waging germ warfare. They had made speeches denouncing the United States, they had betrayed their fellow POWs into torture and death. A few apparently had become genuine Communist sympathizers.

What was to be done with these men? Should they be excused or punished? Should they be kept in the service or removed? For two years now the services have been wrestling with these questions—and coming up with different answers.

The Air Force decided to be lenient. It made an intensive investigaiton of 83 cases—mainly involving Red propaganda statements made under force—and for the most part decided against disciplinary action.

One young lieutenant, for example, only broke down after the Communists hammered him with threats that he would never see his wife again. At the time, he was worried to the point of despair because he knew his wife was facing a dangerous childbirth which could cost her her life.

Although it chose a general policy of leniency, the Air Force ordered 14 officers and enlisted men to show cause why they should be retained in the service. All but four resigned or were ordered back to civilian life. The four were cleared and kept on active duty.

In the only formal inquiry it undertook, the Marine Corps decided that Lt. Col. Frank H. Schwable should not be disciplined for making false germ warfare confessions.

But it said he should never again be given a command requiring "unblemished personal example and leadership." He will shortly be shifted from the Pentagon to a routine assignment in North Carolina.

The Army, which committed the most men to the Korean War, had the biggest problem. And it adopted the sternest policy. Regardless of extenuating circumstances, it said a man's misconduct could not be excused without damaging discipline.

Out of the 3,322 Army POWs repatriated from Korea, more than 400 were singled out for investigation of alleged misconduct. More than half of these were allowed to leave the service and another 43 were forced out. In most cases there were no grounds for harsher action.

Officials said today that the vast majority of POWs who collaborated with the Communists did so only because they buckled under brainwashing or other pressures. There is no reason, they said, to suspect them of subversion now that they have returned to civilian life.

A few repatriated POWs, however, were suspected of being real Communist sympathizers. They were released to the Justice Department for investigation, but the department refuses to say what action it has taken, if any.

In addition to easing POWs out of the service and referring some to the Justice Department, the Army has ordered courtmartial proceedings in 44 cases. Most of these still haven't been acted on, but there have been two administrative discharges, one acquittal, and five convictions so far.

Among the convicted were Cpls. Edward S. Dickenson and Claude J. Batchelor, the two soldiers who first refused and then accepted repatriation. (Twenty-one other POWs stuck to their decision to stay with the Communists.)

Dickenson, a 23-year-old mountaineer from Crackers Neck, Va., was sentenced to dishonorable discharge and 10 years at hard labor on charges of collaborating with the Communists and informing on fellow prisoners.

Batchelor, 22, of Kermit, Tex., was sentenced to dishonorable discharge and 20 years at hard labor for collaborating with the Communists and for misconduct as a POW.

Also convicted on various misconduct charges were Pvt. Rothwell B. Floyd, 29, London, Ky., dishonorable discharge and 40 years at hard labor; Lt. Col. Harold T. Fleming, 46, Racine, Wis., dismissal and forfeiture of pay; and M/Sgt. William H. Olson, 40, Lumberton, N.C., dishonorable discharge and two years at hard labor.

Kids' Refusal to Tattle Worries Red Educators

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet educational authorities are manifesting alarm because Russian schoolchildren are refusing to tattle on each other.
