Offer to Quit Spurs Riots

MOVE PRECIPITATES STRIKE — Juan D. Peron offered his resignation from the presidency of Argentina to the Central Labor Federation today. The Federation scheduled mass demonstrations of protest and announced it is calling a general strike.

Peron's Offer of Resignation May Be Trick

Argentina's President Believed Using Move to Rally Support

BUENOS AIRES (INS)—Argentine President Juan D. Peron offered to resign today, but his party-controlled Labor Confederation promptly called a paralyzing general strike to keep him in office.

Peron was expected to address a plaza rally sometime between 5 and 6 p.m. EDT.

A party spokesman, Juan Cooke, said last night at a party rally that "Peronism never will permit President Peron to resign."

Peron is expected to remain in power. His political move has been expected almost daily since the abortive revolt engineered by naval officers June 16.

In Washington the State Department said today it had no comment on Peron's resignation offer.

(Private dispatches from the Argentine capital of Buenos Aires said political observers regarded the Peron resignation offer as "a stage play" aimed to evoke widespread "popular demands" that he withdraw his resignation. Observers recalled CGT agitation in a similar maneuver a decade ago.)

CALLS ON WORKERS

Hector di Pietro, secretary general of the six-million-member General Labor Confederation, announced in a nationwide radio broadcast that the 59-year-old President — target of an armed revolt last June 16—had offered to quit.

Di Pietro immediately called on workers to strike and concentrate in the Plaza de Mayo in Buenos Aires and other public squares to protest the resignation offer.

He called for a halt in all non-essential activities, and asked workers to remain in the squares until Peron withdrew the resignation.

Response was quick. Workers quit in business and industrial establishments and began converging on the squares.

Suspension of work in the city of Eva Peron, formerly La Plata whose name was changed to honor the late wife of the President, was reported complete a short time after the broadcast.

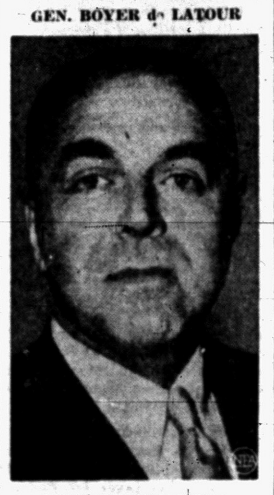

Di Pietro called on workers to use "every means of transport possible" in the giant rallies in support of Peron.

Police took up positions at various key spots in the capital in anticipation of the big rally which Peron will address later in the day.

GEN. BOYER de LATOUR

GILBERT GRANDVAL

CHANGE IN COMMAND — Gen. Pierre Boyer de Latour, French resident general in Tunisa, has been named successor to Gilbert Grandval as president general in Morocco. The switch is the result of unrest which culminated last week in bitter clashes between Nationalists and French forces.

France Appoints New Minister to Morocco Task

Latour Takes Grandval Post to Ease Tension Among Uneasy Moors

As expected, Gen. Pierre Boyer de Latour was named to succeed him as resident general and left Tunis today for Rabat, the Moroccan capital.

Grandval, who went to Rabat July 7 with orders to relax French rule, built up popularity with many Moroccan Nationalists but drew the ire of European residents of the protectorate who oppose giving the natives a stronger hand.

The colonists blamed his "weak" policy for the native uprising Aug. 20 in which more than 1,000 Moroccans and French were killed. Neutral observers considered the uprisings were due to the French government's delay in granting some measure of self-rule to the Nationalists.

A statement from the Hotel Matignon, Premier Edgar Faure's official residence, said that Grandval's long rumored resignation "has been accepted by the government as of Aug. 31."

The French hope that Boyer de Latour, who for many years held military commands in Morocco, will satisfy both Nationalists and French colonials. During his tenure in Tunisia, the French granted the protectorate a large measure of home rule. While he was in Morocco, Boyer de Latour used a firm hand against unruly Moroccans.

The plan to sacrifice Grandval was worked out by Faure and top members of his Cabinet last week during conferences with leaders of all Moroccan factions at Aix les Bains. The Cabinet approved the Premier's plans.

Also slated for displacement is the aged, unpopular Sultan of Morocco, Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa. He was installed by the French two years ago when they exiled his pro-Nationalist relative, Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef, to Madagascar.

The French plans call for formation of a Moroccan government representing all factions by Sept. 12.

Wins Title in Shootoff

CAPABLE STUDENT — Robert E. Rath, 21-year-old Northwestern University student proved a good student of wind conditions yesterday afternoon when he won the National Sub-Small Gauge championship at OCSC. Rath defeated navy aviation chief electrician Ken Prendergass of Jacksonville, Fla. in a shootoff after they had tied with 95x100. This was the first major championship to be decided in the national skeet event at Waterford, which runs through Sunday. Rath's hometown is Waterloo, Ia.

Gordon Leading Gunners at National Skeet Shooting

By H. GUY MOATS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

Lew Gordon, the Texarkana, Ark., "minnow-dealer" early this afternoon shot his way to the leadership of the National Small-Gauge championship round at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, Waterford.

He missed one target on the second field (the high-3) after going 25 straight in the opener. He then shot out with 50 straight.

Gordon moved ahead of Puerto Rico's young Jaime Loyola, who held the early lead with a fine 98x100.

Loyola missed one bird on each of the last two fields. Three other members of the Puerto Rican team were in the 90s.

Among the top scores of today's early round were the 97x100 by Bernard Thom of Honolulu, and Oral C. Fueks of Weston, Pa.; several 95x100s and a number of 94x100s.

With much better wind conditions, scores today were increasingly better.

Heated Debate Precedes Move by Commission

Downtown Businessmen, Developers Argue Issue at Meeting

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

After listening to a heated 3-hour word battle between downtown businessmen and the developers of a new shopping center, the City Commission last night postponed for two weeks a final decision on annexation of the shopping center site.

The Commission was assured by the developer, Don M. Casto, of Columbus, Ohio, that the center at Telegraph and Square Lake Rds. will be constructed whether or not Pontiac annexes the property from Bloomfield Township.

"It's going to be built. That's not the question," said Casto.

"We installed our own utilities in centers in Pennsylvania. We can use your water and sewage facilities, but we don't need them."

'ECONOMIC PRINCIPLE'

Dean G. Beier, an attorney representing the Retail Merchants Assn., said the "nub of the situation is a principle of economics."

"My people are concerned with the effect of the center on Pontiac, not just Saginaw or Huron streets but the whole city. There are only so many dollars to be spent. It (the center) will draw on the city."

The move to delay a decision two weeks was suggested by H. Wayne Gabert, a former president of the merchants group. He said the Commission should try to get independent opinions on the matter.

The Commission agreed and delayed further action until the Sept. 12 meeting.

Abe Lapides, owner of men's wear stores downtown and in the Tel-Huron Shopping Center, charged that there would be no increase in tax revenues to the city through the annexation and that there would be no net gain in employment.

"Any gain will be offset by the loss downtown," he said. "And there will be no new employment, just replacement of workers from downtown."

HITS ANNEXATION

He continued: "We have plenty of space within the city to provide for all the stores that want to come in. It should be done within the city. We shouldn't annex property outside the city."

Lapides prefaced his statements by saying:

"These boys are very clever. They think they can come out here and we're a bunch of stupid people who don't know what's going on."

Powerama Opens Today

Mechanical Power Theme of General Motors Show

By DAVID J. WILKIE

CHICAGO (AP)—The mechanical power that rapidly is changing the industrial economy of the nation went on display on Chicago's lake-front yesterday.

It was demonstrated in some 250 exhibits of stationary and mobile diesel and turbine power applications at a special preview of General Motors' Powerama. Thousands of Chicago's industrial, financial and educational leaders were GM guests at the preview Tuesday.

Today the show, conceived primarily to show the possibilities of diesel power in such varied adaptations as oil well drilling, rail transportation and cotton ginning as well as road building and farming, will be opened to the public.

The admission-free show, running through Sept. 25, has been described by General Motors as designed to portray the dramatic contributions of diesel and aircraft power to America's industrial economy.

It is being staged on a one million square foot site where the Century of Progress Exposition was held in 1933-34.

Harlow H. Curtice, General Motors president, told newsmen he had unlimited confidence in the future of diesel power. General Motors has had a major part in the refinement of diesel energy. In the last 22 years it has produced engines with a total capacity of 100 million horsepower.

Curtice says the second 100 million will come within the next 10 years.

Powerama guests saw huge diesel powered equipment co-starred with circus animals, aerial acts, show girls, dancers, fashion models and a 25 piece circus band.

But major interest appeared to center largely in GM's new aero-train, built at the request of a committee of railroad presidents.

Schools Survey Set for Sept. 13

State Group to Inspect Work Done for Mentally Retarded Children

LANSING (AP)—A legislative committee has started a study to prepare legislation for the special session expected to be called to consider the problem of finding housing for mentally retarded children.

* * *

The joint legislative committee named to study problems of mentally retarded children is headed by Sen. Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland), who said his group would consider the entire mental health problem.

A meeting was scheduled for Lansing Sept. 13 to determine if the public schools are assuming their full responsibility in training the mentally retarded children that are trainable.

Francis said all the committee members will inspect one or more mental institutions before the meeting.

Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) said he thought the Legislature should tackle the question of providing emergency shelter on a temporary basis at the special session and should consider a permanent, long-range building program at the regular 1956 sessions.

Broomfield also suggested the committee consider construction of an 1,100-bed institution in Oakland County.

Other committee members are Sen. Cora M. Brown (D-Detroit) and Reps. Leslie H. Hudson (D-Pontiac), Theodore F. Hughes (R-Berkley) and Clarence B. Meggison (R-Charlevoix).

Dye Demands Exam on Shooting Count

Charged with assault with intent to kill in the shooting of a tenant farmer, Clifford Dye, 53-year-old Fenton Village attorney, yesterday demanded examination when he was arraigned here before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib.

He was released on $10,000 bond set by Leib.

The wounded man, William C. Clark, 27, who operates three farms near Fenton owned by Dye's sister, was reported in good condition at a Flint hospital.

According to authorities, Dye and Clark had been feuding for some time but no specific quarrel occurred at the time of the shooting Friday night, witnessed by Clark's wife, Lois.

Potter Predicts Williams Defeat

He Says Dems Now Plan New Campaign Against Grandchildren Also

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams can be defeated if he runs for a fifth term, Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich) said today.

"The Williams veneer is beginning to wear pretty thin," Potter said.

Potter said he had been traveling around Michigan during the past week and found that President Eisenhower continued to be extremely popular in the state.

Potter made his comments at a press conference during a stopover in Lansing. Gov. Williams was not immediately available for comment.

He had some caustic remarks to make about the Democratic conference at Mackinac Island.

"I see the Democrats still have foot-in-mouth disease," he said.

Potter said he gathered from the remarks of Paul M. Butler, Democratic national chairman, that the Democrats intended to make issues out of "Eisenhower's age and Mamie's health."

"I presume that by spring there will be a concerted campaign against grandchildren, now that President Eisenhower is teaching Davey how to fish," he said.

U.S.-Red China Deadlocked Over Prisoner Issue

GENEVA (AP) — United States and Red Chinese envoys met again today, but apparently failed to break the deadlock over the repatriation of 41 Americans detained by the Peiping regime.

Setting Tuesday for the next meeting indicated that the talks may be carried out in future at an even slower tempo. Until last week, the ambassadors had been meeting three times weekly.

Democrats End Mackinac Meet

'McCarthy a Dead Issue' McNamara Tells Closing Conference Session

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) says "McCarthyism" is a dead issue in American politics.

McNamara, addressing the final session of a three-day Democratic conference on Mackinac Island yesterday, said Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) "has been beaten down and put in his place by the American people."

"The press of America has followed the thinking of the American people," he added.

Truman returned to his Independence, Mo., home yesterday but will return to Michigan next week for a Labor Day speech in Detroit.

In another talk at the closing session yesterday, Congressman Machrowicz (D-Mich) said House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) had praised the Michigan Democratic delegation in Congress

Chrysler, UAW Near Settlement

Midnight Deadline for Strike Probably Will Be Stretched

DETROIT (AP)—A contract agreement that would head off a threatened strike of 139,000 Chrysler Corp. employes and complete the lineup of the Big Three auto companies on layoff pay plans appeared in the making today.

The union has set a strike deadline of midnight tonight, but it is expected to stretch it a bit if necessary to reach a peaceful settlement.

Chrysler and the UAW reportedly have reached agreement on a plan that would guarantee laid-off workers 60 to 65 per cent of regular take-home pay for up to 26 weeks of idleness.

As the Chrysler talks pushed on, UAW negotiators sought to end two strikes idling 60,000 members at Bendix and International Harvester and to avert a walkout which would idle 24,000 others at American Motors Corp.

What Should We Do With Our Large Farm Surplus?

Editor's Note—The United States has more than five billion dollars invested in surplus farm products and is spending $20,000 an hour for storage costs alone. How to reduce the size of the surplus without upsetting domestic and Allied economies is a problem of first-rank importance. Here, in the first of a series of three articles, AP reporter Warren Rogers Jr. details the background of the political puzzler.

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The specter of surplus farm goods haunting the American economy is casting a pall as well over American diplomacy and American politics.

The problem is older than the Republic. It grows bigger by the day, and no ready solution is in sight.

Where did it all come from—this five billion dollars in excess cotton, wheat, corn, rice, dairy products and other commodities? What's to become of it?

Why can't this vast cornucopia of food and fiber be fed out to the world? Why must it mount in bins and elevators, always in danger of spoiling, while people go hungry and ill-clad?

The ironic truth about the cause of the surplus is that American farmers, with the government underwriting them against the vagaries of nature, are too efficient. Cotton, a chronic headache, is a classic example:

"To hold down cotton production this year we cut the allotted cotton land to 18 million acres—14 per cent below last year," one government official recalled.

"Well, the cotton farmer bought a little more fertilizer, got another tractor and more bug killer. Now we're expecting a record yield per acre, throwing total production to within 7 per cent of 1954."

The government is stuck with seeking a solution within the complex farm support system it has built over the past 30 years.

The bench mark for this system is something called "parity." The law declares parity to be equally fair to the farmer and the consumer. Its terms are the prices the farmer pays for the things he needs to keep producing—things like fertilizer, machinery, electricity.

* * *

The law directs that the six basic commodities—corn, cotton, wheat, rice, tobacco and peanuts—must be federally supported at between 82½ and 90 per cent of parity.

In addition to the six basics, tung nuts, honey, dairy products, wool and mohair must be supported at between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. Other commodities are similarly supported as appropriated for.

* * *

The system puts the Agriculture Department, whose Commodities Credit Corporation conducts price support operations in the middle. The pinch generally comes between congressional pressure to unload the surpluses and the State or Commerce departments, fearful of the effects on relations abroad or the economy at home.

"We're damned if we do and damned if we don't," sighed one Agriculture Department official. Even so, he was moderately optimistic:

"Wheat looks pretty good. We have production in balance with consumption. Our wheat surplus is no longer growing.

"The livestock industry is eating us out of the corn surplus. The dairy situation is no longer grim. Our only real headaches are cotton and rice."

Cotton is pesky because of competition. It must compete with foreign cotton and all other fibers as well—especially the synthetics like rayon and the new "miracle" fabrics.

Hickory Grove School Proposed

$550,000 Bond Issue Needed for Financing in Bloomfield Township

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Plans for a modern elementary school in the Hickory Grove District were announced today by the board of education.

"A proposal to bond the Hickory Grove district for $550,000 will be submitted voters Sept. 12," Dr. James Read, school board president, said.

The present 34-year-old, four-classroom school will house 180 children this fall. The auditorium-gymnasium will convert into a classroom for the sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

"Enrollment increase will force half-day sessions within a year unless a new school is built," Read said.

The board now has option on a Lahser road 25 acre site between Square Lake and Hickory Grove Rds.

The proposed school, Read said, would be a one-story building with eight classrooms, kindergarten, library and multi-purpose room. Architect Linn Smith of Birmingham was named to present plans and design for the proposed building, Read added.

Thieves Steal Charity Items From Warehouse

Pontiac Police today are investigating a warehouse breakin in which articles earmarked for charity use were stolen.

The entry was discovered yesterday afternoon by Paul M. Snover, chairman of the Pontiac Kiwanis Club's annual November rummage sale.

He said the warehouse, located at 375 N. Cass Ave., contained clothing, toys and household items to be sold to raise funds for contribution to underprivileged children, Boy and Girl Scout groups and other youth organizations.

Snover told detectives that a preliminary check revealed some articles apparently were taken but a complete list has not been made.

He stated boxes and clothing were dumped on the floor and other articles were scattered about.

Favorites Triumph in WDGA Tournament

Favorites for the Women's District Golf Association championship at Birmingham Country Club breezed to easy victories in today's quarter-final matches.

Defending champion Pat Devany fired the day's outstanding golf, posting three-under-par figures to defeat Helen Grinnell, 6 and 5. Sally Sharp of Pine Lake trimmed Mrs. Victor Ryden, 6-5, and medalist Wiffi Smith overwhelmed Mrs. Don Weiss by the same count, 6 and 5.

In today's only reversal of form, Mrs. Betty Jane Wilson downed Ann Arbor's Mrs. Susie LeClair, 1955 district medal-play champ, 3-2. Mrs. Wilson is a past champion of the WDGA tourney.

Union Official Appointed to Supervisors' Board

A 28-year-old union official last night was named to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors by the Pontiac City Commission.

Robert R. Boyer, financial secretary of Pontiac Motor Division Local 653 (UAW-CIO), has been appointed to fill the unexpired term of Carl L. Hunter, who resigned because he moved outside the city.

Married and the father of a 2½-year-old son, the Pennsylvania-born Boyer attended the University of Illinois and Wayne University.

Hunter had served as Pontiac representative on the board since July, 1950.

Israel Balking at Cease-Fire

Demands That Egypt Accept Responsibility for Gaza Violence

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel balked today at agreeing to a ceasefire along the Gaza frontier and demanded that Egypt first accept responsibility for the violence in the border area during the past week.

* * *

Egypt had agreed late yesterday to a cease-fire beginning at 6 p.m. local time yesterday. It seemed virtually certain, however, that the Cairo government would reject the Israeli demand.

An Israeli spokesman said today his government has no confidence in Egypt's promise to stop shooting, given in response to an appeal to both nations from Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief of the U.N. Palestine truce commission.

* * *

Premier Moshe Sharett's government, the spokesman continued, had replied to Burns with a request that he obtain the Egyptian government's acceptance of responsibility for the past week's "deep penetrations into Israel by terrorist units of the Egyptian armed forces waylaying and killing civilians, planting mines and seeking to terrorize our population."

Investigate Deaths of Doctor and Wife

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Authorities sought today to determine whether Dr. Raymond S. Camp and his wife Ruth—found shot to death in their home yesterday — were slain or whether their deaths were murder and suicide.

The bodies were found on the floor of a bedroom. Their only son Russell, 4, was lying nearby wounded. Police Chief W. D. Joiner said Mrs. Camp, 34, held a .22-caliber pistol in her hand.

State Atty. T. E. Duncan said that "thus far it appears to be a family affair."

* * *

Joiner said the couple had been dead about 24 hours when found by Mrs. Camp's brother Dr. Pierce Allgood of Atlanta, who drove here yesterday for a visit.

Dr. Allgood told newsmen "both had been extremely depressed this last month. We never did know what it was all about."

Reports Stolen Purse

Theft of a purse containing $190 in cash was reported by Betty Seaman, of 4915 Irwindale St., Pontiac Police said today.

She told officers that the purse was taken from her car yesterday afternoon while it was parked in a downtown Pontiac hotel parking lot.

Spike Briggs Drops Hint About Senators' Franchise

"I, personally, am satisfied to get out of the game and go back into the manufacturing business," Briggs was quoted by Hugh Trader in the Baltimore Newspost.

"I'll probably just hold onto the club under the new setup long enough to look around for new surroundings," he was quoted by Murray Wieman in the Baltimore Evening Sun. "I would like to have the Washington franchise."

Trader wrote that Briggs told him that sale of the Tigers is not necessary immediately, "but eventually, according to business standards."

He told Wieman it probably would take place after the World Series in October.

HOLDING COMPANY

Briggs and four sisters form a holding company which is running business left by their father who died in 1952. It includes 9.995 of the 10,000 shares in the baseball club and Briggs Stadium.

"The trust says that baseball is a bad investment and I know that for a fact myself," Briggs was quoted in the News-Post.

While Wieman wrote that Briggs is forming a new syndicate to buy control of the baseball club, Trader reported his reaction to continuing as president:

"Well, that would be up to the new buyers, but as I said I am satisfied to get out of the game. I wouldn't force myself into any deal as president, anyhow.

"My job in baseball is nearly done. That is, build a winning club."

Talking to Wieman about buying the Washington franchise, he said "that could be made into one of the best in the league. Of course, you would have to spend a little money to do it."

Pontiac City Affairs

Sewage Facilities Proposal Shelved by Commissioners

The City Commission last night shelved until 1956, at least, a proposal that sanitary sewage facilities be constructed in the northeast section of the city.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the city has to build a sewage treatment plant at Auburn and Opdyke before that area can be given sewer facilities. He said the site for the plant has been purchased and that the city is ready to proceed with design and construction.

The plant probably will come up in the 1956 capital improvements program, he said.

Commissioner John E. Carry (District 6), pressed a proposal that two pumping stations be built and sewer lines laid as quickly as possible to relieve "hazardous health conditions" in the area north of Auburn and east of Astor.

Acknowledging that the pumping stations would be useless after the new treatment plant was in operation, Carry said he believed the cost of approximately $125,000 was worthwhile from a health standpoint.

RESOLUTION PASSED

The Commission finally passed a resolution of public necessity for the pumping stations and sewer lines. But no further action will be taken on the matter until next year's improvement program is up for study later this year.

In other action, at the session which ended at 1:30 a.m. today, the Commission hiked the annual salary of Leo MacDonald, municipal court clerk, to $6,019, the same pay given supervisory workers in regular city departments. MacDonald, who serves on a year-to-year basis, was re-appointed Aug. 1.

Plans for a $3,000,000 addition to Pontiac General Hospital were approved.

Turned down by the Commission because of policy was a request for enlarging a trailer park on Telegraph road.

The Rev. Ralph L. Hart was given permission to erect a tent for a revival meeting.

Two agreements with a paving firm were approved for work on Canterbury drive, Roland road and Longfellow, Fairmount and Strathmore avenues.

OPTION GRANTED

A resolution was passed granting an air service option for renewal of its lease at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Public hearings were held on vacating portions of Vernon, Crescent, Court and Pontiac drives and a hearing was scheduled for Oct. 4 for vacating another portion of Court drive.

Other hearings were held on:

Intention to construct curb, gutter and drainage on Sylvan court from Orchard Lake to 50 feet west of Myra street.

Special assessment roll for curb, gutter and drainage on Elm street from Marshall to 130 feet west of Going.

Resolutions were passed and hearings set to receive special assessment rolls for pavement, curb and gutter on East Boulevard and for a combined sewer on Richard avenue from trunk sewer to alley south of Walton.

A communication from the Borden Co. asking a change in the zoning ordinance was referred to the city manager for study.

Petitioners for rezoning three lots in Modern Housing Addition to commercial use were instructed to circulate petitions.

Chicago Papers Give Cops Assist in Nabbing Cons

CHICAGO (AP) — Teamwork between Chicago newspapers and police resulted in quick capture of two of the city's 14 most wanted fugitives.

* * *

During the day officers seized Edward Burgess, 22, who was No. 2 on the list, and Richard Szurgot, 27, No. 4.

Szurgot was arrested by Sgt. Joseph Meany, who said he saw him standing on a street corner and recognized him from a newspaper picture. Szurgot was wanted for questioning about a strong-arm robbery.

* * *

A few hours later Burgess, sought for questioning about robbery and use of narcotics and for escape, was nabbed in a theater. Police said the tip apparently came from a theater employe who had seen the newspaper pictures.

State Savings Bond Sales Report Given

Combined sales of Series E and H United States savings bonds continued at a record post-war rate in Michigan during July, according to Delmar V. Cote', state sales director of the treasury's savings bonds division.

Michigan's July sales of these two series were $30.7 million, bringing to $194.4 million the total for the first seven months of 1955. July sales for 1955 exceeded those for July '54 by 35.7 per cent, and the 7-month total was 14.3 per cent above the $170.1 million sold in Michigan during the 1954 January-through-July period.

Cote' commended management and labor for the staunch support given the payroll savings program which accounts for a major portion of Michigan bond sales.

Agencies Checking Flood Relief Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of 10 federal agencies gathered for a White House meeting today to check up on their vast rehabilitation programs for the flood-ravaged Northeastern states.

They wanted to see where the project might be speeded up and whether any new aids could be supplied with existing funds and personnel.

The closed door conference was set up by White House staff members here at the request of President Eisenhower, now vacationing in Colorado.

Meanwhile, AFL President George Meany caled for a congressional investigation of reports that "agents" of Southern communities are at work in the flood areas trying to entice mill owners to abandon their damaged plants and relocate in the South. He did not specify the communities the "agents" came from.

Annexation Action Postponed by City

in question, told the Commission the center would provide new tax revenues to both the city and school district and would employ 1,000 to 1,500 workers.

He scoffed at pictures of empty stores in downtown Detroit and Lansing, which Beier claimed were due to new shopping centers.

"Vacant stores," he said, "can be caused by a man moving, or a death in the family. And sometimes the rent is just too high."

In connection with one large store in Detroit being empty, Edelman commented: "The rent is fantastic. I know the owner and he is. I'm sorry to say, greedy."

Edelman agreed with a "witness for the opposition" Grover Wolf, in one respect when he said buying habits have changed and "we must change with them."

"Some merchants by their own conversation here say they have been in Pontiac 30 years," Edelman said. "And I must say their stores look like they have been here 30 years."

PROPERTY VALUE CUT

Wolf, a real estate management expert and property owner, said: "Shopping centers are the spirit of the times. You can't get away from that." But he added that downtown property values would probably decrease 25 per cent if the center were built.

"The business has got to come from somewhere and it would probably be Saginaw street," he said.

In his opening statement, Beier said the merchants association, which had about 75 members at the meeting, was not opposed to competition, was not opposed to competition, but felt the City Commission "should not be a party to a promotional scheme."

He pointed to an announcement in 1952 of a shopping development at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph Rds. The center has not yet been built, he said.

"You've got to be sensitive to the people you represent. So far as we know all voices raised have been against. The voice that says 'annex' is that of a promoter."

Casto later countered:

'PROMOTIONAL FACT'

"I think it is an honor to be called a promoter. Ford was a promoter and Edison was. But this is not a promotional scheme . . . it is a promotional fact.

"I and my family control approximately $80 million worth of valuable property. I have been a builder of homes and shopping areas for 35 years.

"Here we are offering free to the city a source of hundreds of thousands of dollars in tax revenue and we're opposed. It's absolutely unbelievable . . . The merchants want to deny the people of Pontiac the benefit of the taxes."

Edelman showed the Commission petitions supporting the shopping center which he said bore 1,000 signatures. He said they were gathered in several hours and that thousands more could be had easily.

Both Casto and Edelman said it was unfair for the downtown merchants and property owners to put on the Commission's shoulders responsibility for construction of the shopping center.

They emphasized that it would be built whether or not it was within the Pontiac city limits.

One observer commented: "They sure pulled the rug out from under the merchants when they said that."

A half-dozen questions about the annexation were raised by Robert R. Eldred, executive vice president of the Community National Bank, who said he spoke as a private citizen in the matter.

Included were the costs of acquisition and servicing, expected revenues, police, fire, water and sewer service, lowering of existing property values and whether it "is consistent to expand muncipal parking in the downtown area and assist in this new promotion that may draw traffic away?"

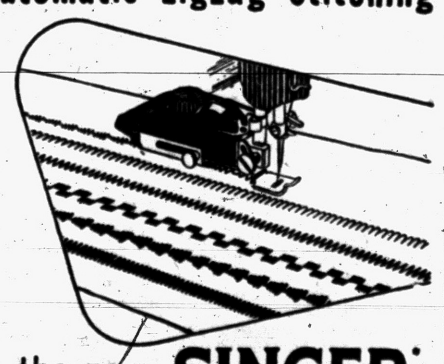

'SPOT' ANNEXING?

Eldred also raised the question of what he termed "spot" annexing.

Edelman said the total cost to the city for providing utilities, such as water, and sanitary and drainage sewers, would be $20,000.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the surface drainage, which would create the biggest problem, has been estimated to cost "a nominal figure." In a report last week, he said it would cost the city about $7,000 for water and sanitary sewer lines to the site.

Kiwanis Club to Sponsor Second Annual Polo Game

BIRMINGHAM — It'll be the Birmingham Ramblers vs. the Royal Oak All-Stars when the Kiwanis Club sponsors its second annual polo game Sept. 11.

This year's benefit game will have the YMCA here as co-sponsors, with both organizations turning proceeds over to youth work and activities.

Game time will be 3 p.m. at the Ivory Polo Grounds, Lahser at 8 Mile road in Detroit. Men from both groups are pushing to make this a family affair, with a promise of plenty of local talent whose names will be announced later.

One of them is Richard Gibson, well-known polo player, who is chairman of youth work for Kiwanis and chairman for the Sept. 11 affair. Gibson promised wagon rides for the youngsters and added that there is no age limit.

Tickets may now be obtained at the Sportsman, Varsity Shop, Higgins and Frank Acme Paint Co., or by contacting the Y or any Kiwanis member.

Justice John J. Gafill signed a bench warrant this morning, authorizing police to arrest Gerald Stamp, 18, 1395 Holland Ave., and Russell Clark, 17, 288 George street.

Both youths failed to appear in Municipal Court Monday to receive sentence following their arrest as a result of an Aug. 21 auto chase through the city by local police.

Stamp had been ordered on Aug. 22 to pay a $90 fine or spend 15 days in jail, but Gafill suspended sentence one week when Stamp asked permission to enter the service. Clark was also to have appeared Monday, after previously pleading not guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge.

Neither of them kept the court date and police said they were informed that both boys had been gone from home since last Thursday. They said Stamp had not kept his appointment with the recruiting officer.

Greenville, Miss., police are holding Dennis Welch, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Welch, 1439 Ruffner Ave., who had been reported missing since last Thursday.

Local authorities said the runaway youth was picked up after phoning home yesterday for money. His mother notified Greenville police and is on her way there to return the youth to Birmingham.

Bobby Socks Era Waning in London

LONDON (AP)—American teen-age girls have adopted "the ladylike look," and the era of baggy sweaters, bobby socks and bluejeans is over, the London Evening Star reported.

The appearance of U. S. girl tourists gadding around London, and gossip from across the Atlantic "show a steady demand for sleek matching outfits—with cut more important than cute," said the fashion note.

"But the teen-agers' sense of gaiety is not wholly smothered in the ladylike look," the newspaper said. "The dominant color is bright red."

Meet a Social Editor From Augusta, Kansas

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"Ima Washout"—the salty-talkin' lady editor from Augusta, Kan., whose stuff I often burgle—was here living it up, and I asked what she thought of our Big Town.

"Like it fine," said Ima—real name Bertha Shore. "Especially the air conditioning.

★ ★ ★ ★

"But I didn't see much air conditioning in the homes in New Jersey. Now in Kansas we admit it's hotter'n hell! We know we got lousy weather, like Florida has, and don't deny it.

IMA

"Instead of getting me a Dior gown this year, I bought me an air conditioner," Ima continued. "In Kansas you only have to go a little way to get cool—just over to Colorado. It gets to 105 in the daytime in Kansas, but it cools off at night—goes down to 104."

I haven't looked into Ima's remark about lack of home air conditioning in New Jersey—she was with friends around Plainfield—but if it's true, then every place is air conditioned but Hell, Hoboken and Hackensack.

The lady editor—she hates the use of 'lady' in a newspaper, and would deny she is one—"and so would my readers," she says—frequently intimates in her pieces that she enjoys bourbon. "I was one of the first women in town to smoke in public, and after that, nothing surprised 'em," she allowed.

"We try to use a picture instead of a boring story," Ima said. The brides' mothers holler, though, because they want us to tell about Mama's lace dress. I don't like to write about a bride being the daughter of a member of the D.A.R. The bride couldn't help it."

MRS. MILLER

I asked her if she had a picture of herself.

"I got a glamour picture of me that's kinda nice," Ima said. "Best thing about it is, it don't look a darned bit like me."

Slapping, TV Are Ruled Out for Young Reds

LONDON (AP) — Russian parents were told today that too much slapping—or too much TV—can spoil a child's upbringing.

A. P. Tropimov, school inspector of the Moscow town district, handed out the advice over Moscow radio today in a broadcast entitled "How to Help Children with Their Lessons."

* * *

He said parents should insist on their children doing all the homework set by school.

"In this, it is very important to create for the working child a normal atmosphere at home. Silence must be observed. Radio receivers and TV must be switched off."

* * *

Tropimov said too many parents thought they could bring their children into line with a slap.

"Great damage is done by corporal punishment," he said.

"Education is a long business, demanding from parents great patience, persistence and continuous interest in the child.

* * *

Algerian Natives Urged to Return to Village Homes

ALGIERS (AP) — French authorities have distributed hundreds of thousands of leaflets in eastern Algeria, exhorting villagers who fled during the recent disorders to return home.

The tracts were part of a psychological campaign to wipe out an atmosphere of fear still hanging over Algeria following the nationalist insurrection of Aug. 20 and previous terrorism.

The tracts called on all Algerians who did not take part in the fighting to take up normal village life again. French police and troops are still chasing down Nationalist rebels.

A decree issued in Paris last night extended the zone of emergency in Algeria to cover the whole country. There have been few reports of nationalist violence in Algeria in recent days, but the decree will aid authorities in their cleanup operations.

The violence in Algeria coincided with that in Morocco on Aug. 20, second anniversary of the deposing of Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, hero of the Moroccan nationalists.

Official figures on casualties in the two countries from the weekend of riots, raids and guerrilla attacks are lacking, but estimates of the total dead run as high as 2,000.

Government Eyes Flood Insurance

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Eisenhower administration was disclosed to be studying the possibility of providing government insurance to protect homeowners from flood damage.

Norman P. Mason, head of the Federal Housing Administration, announced creation of a special committee to conduct the study and report on whether the government should step into the picture.

The FHA commissioner declared that most of the two billion dollars in flood damage stemming from Hurricane Diane was not covered by insurance which he said was "virtually unavailable."

"There is a glaring need for some type of protection," Mason asserted, "and the problems are such that this seems to be a field in which the government must take the initiative."

Mason made the announcement as the small Business Administration was designated to receive all applications for emergency federal aid to businessmen and homeowners in the flood-stricken Northeast.

Bass Violins Preceded Organ in Early Church

BOSTON — The organ had been developed for many centuries before it became associated with church services. Many other instruments were used for church music before the organ took its present place.

The bass violin was frequently used in early American and European churches for background music because of its dominance in rhythm and because it "fortified" the bass singers, balancing the usual preponderance of soprano voices.

A new rollerskate wheel has been developed which, its manufacturer claims, will give free rolling and silent speed with a sure grip on the skating surface. It's made with a blend based on a special-purpose man-made rubber.

Lawnmower Amputates

WASHINGTON (INS)—The condition of a man who lost all five toes on his left foot while cutting his lawn is reported "good."

Ralph E. Talkington, of nearby Cabin John, Md., had his toes amputated by a 19-inch gasoline-powered rotary lawnmower when he slipped on wet grass and caught his foot in the machine.

Dick Haymes Says About Rift With Rita 'I'm Convinced We Will Be Reunited'

By GRAHAM BERRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Crooner Dick Haymes says he is convinced that he and his wife Rita Hayworth will be reunited, although he admits he hasn't even talked to her since she left him Sunday night.

* * *

"I have heard from Rita—indirectly," he told newsmen at a news conference last night. He declined to elaborate. He did say he knew where she was and that the children were with her.

Asked where she was, he declared, "I wouldn't tell. I wouldn't do that to Rita."

He appeared before newsmen in his suite at the Ambassador Hotel resplendent in a yellow terry-cloth robe. After singing in the hotels Cocoanut Grove before a sellout crowd.

As has been his custom during his current singing engagement, he dedicated "Come Rain or Come Shine" to "my wife Rita."

Asked if he had considered passing up the singing engagement because of his distraught condition, he replied he had, "but when I talked to friends they said I would be a fool if I didn't sing."

* * *

Listeners agreed he was in fine voice.

"I think everything is going to be absolutely okay," he told newsmen. "I think Rita and I have been as close as any two people in the world. I know she loves me and I love her.

"This whole thing came about when we sort of got a lot of pressures. It has nothing to do with our marriage. It's like a shock setting in. We have both been greatly overwrought."

He paid tribute to his 35-year-old wife's steadfastness during his long and successful fight against deportation to his native Argentina as an alien illegally in this country.

"I don't believe I could have made the fight without Rita's courage."

He declared that "two human beings who have been subjected to this pressure have a right to a vacation for a week or 10 days. Married people sometimes can have a holiday from each other if they love each other."

"I can't wait for her to come home," he said.

"I haven't tried to talk to her. I think she requested privacy to think things over and I wouldn't intrude on that."

Asked if he planned to try and contact his thrice-divorced wife, he replied: "I will wait until she feels well enough to discuss the situation."

As to reports that Rita left him because he was domineering, he said: "I don't think Rita would say that. There are several others who might though.

"I advised her on her career but backed her up if she disagreed with me."

* * *

As to who was to blame for the breakup, he said, "It was nobody's fault and both were at fault." He did not elaborate.

Shortly after Rita left Haymes she issued a statement at her attorney's office saying she didn't know whether the separation would lead to a divorce but that she had taken the step "in the best interests of my children, Dick and myself."

White Activities Now Aid Senate

Eastland Says Inquiry Has Unearthed 'Security Risk' in Government

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—The chairman of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee says a broad inquiry into influences exerted on U.S. policy in China and Europe was aided by a hearing yesterday on the late Harry Dexter White.

* * *

Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss) said also that an "individual" he did not identify will be investigated soon on the basis of documents found in White's summer home in Ftizwilliam, N.H., and turned over to him.

The material was gathered by New Hampshire Atty. Gen. Louis C. Wyman, who dug into a big cardboard box for an hour and a half at the hearing and produced files of correspondence, official papers and photographs.

White was assistant secretary of Treasury in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, a post he left in 1946 to become U. S. director of the International Monetary Fund.

* * *

White, the center of several congressional investigations into charges he passed information to the Communists, died at his summer home in 1948, three days after he denied before the House Un-American Activities Committee that he never was a Communist or engaged in espionage.

I Can See Now! Blind Man Cries After Auto Crash

RIVERHEAD, N. Y. (AP)—A 61-year-old cigar stand operator, blind for 10 years, says his sight is returning, thanks to an auto collision last Saturday.

* * *

William Francis, whose cigar stand is in the Suffolk County Courthouse, was riding with the courthouse superintendent when a car behind rammed into them at a stop light. Francis cracked his head against the windshield.

"I felt as if something went into my left eye," he said yesterday. "I began to see out of it Saturday night in Mather Hospital.

"I went home Sunday and all Sunday night I kept turning on lights. I could see them."

"I'm so happy I'm almost crazy," he said. "I can see the customers light matches. I can see the white shirts. Faces look like blobs, but I can see. I can see.

A Riverhead eye specialist who examined Francis said it is possible that the blow on his head helped sight, but "only time will tell if his sight is fully restored."

Czechoslovakia's Chief Suffers Heart Attack

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Prague radio announced today that Communist Czechoslovakia's President Antonin Zapotocky suffered a heart attack last night.

A bulletin signed by four doctors said Zapotocky, 70, was suffering from "severe disturbances of blood circulation and heart weakness."

* * *

The bulletin said his condition improved after treatment and he spent a quiet night with his blood pressure and pulse normal.

Czechoslovakia's Parliament elected Zatopocky president March 21, 1953, after the death of Klement Gottwald. He had served as premier under Gottwald from 1948 to 1953 and was chosen for the presidency by the Czechoslovak Communist party's Central Committee.

Iowa Agronomist Thinks Soviet Farms Too Large

That his answers to questions by editors of U.S. News & World Report are authoritative, there can be little doubt. Mr. Pike not only has a master's degree from Iowa State College, but has been a farm manager for seven years and a land appraiser and now operates his own 700 acre farm near Whiting, Iowa.

One gets two major impressions from his interview. The first is that Soviet farms and farm machinery are too large and cumbersome for efficiency. The second is that, contrary to impressions gained in this country from various sources, there is no agricultural crisis in Russia.

Soviet farms, he says, are too big. "Their fields are too big, (up to a square mile). Their labor force is too big as is their supervisory staff. Some of their self-propelled machines are too big."

While the American visitors didn't cover all Soviet farm areas, they did see enough to convince Pike that no agricultural crisis exists in Russia. Generally, the people were well fed on the farms and in the cities.

Russian talk about a crisis, in Pike's opinion, reflects merely a desire to get something besides bread, potatoes and cucumbers. They want to get more meat in their diet.

Finally, Pike saw no evidence of a possible revolt. Instead, he said "those Americans who think there is going to be a rebellion in Russia and that Communism is going to be washed out tomorrow are engaging in purely wishful thinking."

Press Curbs in India

There is concern among friends of India over the possibility of legislation sharply restricting freedom of the subcontinent's press.

This situation is the natural result of unanimous approval by the lower house of parliament in New Delhi of recommendations made by a special commission.

These proposals, critics say, would extend government influence into the business operations of newspapers and thus lay the groundwork for increased federal control.

One of the proposals is federal control of the ratio of news to advertising space. Similarly, the commission favored limits on the maximum size and price of newspapers. Even control of newspaper distribution is proposed.

Most alarming of all, it seems to us, is the commission's recommendation for establishment of a press council to censure infractions of newspaper ethics. There, certainly, would be the foundations of a press censorship.

India's press has many problems peculiar to that country. Less than one-fifth of the huge population can read. Fifteen publishers control half the total circulation and one-sixth of all newspapers. Yet the commission's recommendations are by no means the answer to those problems.

It is to be hoped that parliament will realize before it is too late that the commission's proposals would do far more to throttle the press than to improve it.

Our U.N. Costs Cut

At a time when most governmental costs are rising, it is interesting to read that next year's United Nations budget will be down $685,800.

An announcement from the office of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold reveals that the total of the 1956 budget will be $46,278,000. Of this sum, however, $6,873,600 will come in the form of revenue from guided tours of U.N. headquarters, special postage stamps and other sources. This leaves an estimated operating total for next year of $39,404,400.

These figures have real if limited interest for Americans who normally pay about one-third of U.N.'s expenses. They mean that the 10 cents a year U.N. costs each man, woman and child in the United States will be reduced by something less than one-tenth of a cent.

It should be noted that the operating budget has nothing to do with the expenses of such specialized programs and agencies as the Geneva Atoms for Peace conference. Other U.N. organizations in this category include the World Bank, UNESCO, Food and Agriculture Organization, International Refugee Organization and Technical Assistance Board.

★ ★ ★

The annual cost of these programs is reported at about 48 cents for the average taxpayer. This indicates that for a very small individual cost we Americans are helping to buy a lot of aid for less fortunate lands and peoples.

The Man About Town

Million Dollar Rain

An Old Expression That Is Really Based on the Facts

Secret: What is not worth keeping or is too good to keep.

We've all heard that old saying, "Million dollar rain," when a liberal precipitation followed a dry spell. That it is more than an idle expression is pointed out by County Agricultural Agent

Lyle B. Abel.

He says that such a rain often is worth a million dollars to the farmers of just our own Oakland County alone. Since our annual agricultural production is in excess of nine millions, it can easily be seen that a good rain's influence on farm crops can exceed a mere million. So the next time you are caught without an umbrella, or are obliged to forego some outdoor pleasure or activity, just think of this.

Watch out for kids. Requests come from

Oakland County Sheriff;

Herbert W. Straley,

Pontiac Chief of Police;

Frank Van Atta,

Waterford Chief of Police, and several other law enforcement officers, that drivers get in practice for extra caution. They are ambitious that Oakland County establish a safety record, in spite of its dense and rapidly growing population. With our schools about to open, the hazard increases. Only the greatest vigilance will avert tragedies.

Confusion of red and green actually is the most common kind of color blindness, according to the doctors. This seems to be borne out by the observance of traffic lights, both by some drivers and some pedestrians.

Dewey Huffman

writes from his home in Chicago: "You surely have grown. Fifty years ago I bought a good building lot within five blocks of the court house for $100 and paid for it 50 cents down and 50 cents a week. It was near the high school, just off Huron Street. Sold it for $500 cash in 1909, and thought I was a big operator. Now it is worth $25,000, and I've changed my mind."

A rattlesnake 24 inches long was killed by

in his back yard at Lake Orion. Somebody already had chopped off its rattles.

That Lake Huron shore town of Harrisville always has some unique signs at its entrance. This year's is

Old Saying, Modern Lesson

David Lawrence Says:

Safety to Country or Job Security --Which Is the Most Important?

WASHINGTON—Which is more important—the safety of the United States or the continued assurance of a government job to some individual about whom there is a reasonable doubt as to whether a foreign enemy could subject him to pressure and use him to its advantage?

* * *

This is the fundamental issue which is overlooked in many investigations and studies being started now to shift the burden of proof and to make it more and more difficult for the detective agencies of the government to fight against clandestine enemies.

For it isn't the voluntary but the involuntary yielding under pressure which brings trouble to persons themselves innocent yet with ties to relatives behind the Iron Curtain or with relationships to persons in this country duped by Communist intrigues. Why should the American government take chances on persons with doubtful connections?

The Senate Civil Service Subcommittee has decided to give a lot of time to take testimony from those who, while wholly sincere in their belief that a government employe must be protected at all costs, seem to be unmindful of the main purpose of a security program and the enemy's techniques.

FEW KNOW TEXT

Few of the critics probably have read the text of the regulations, for instance, of the Secretary of Defense. One regulation, which covers all security cases in the Armed Services, reads as follows:

"An officer or warrant officer of the armed services holds a sensitive position by virtue of his commission or warrant regardless of the duties and responsibilities of the assignment. Likewise, an enlisted member whose qualifications would normally require that he have access to classified information or material will be considered to hold a sensitive position regardless of the duties and responsibilities of his assignment."

But this is not all. Another criterion is whether there is a "sympathetic association" or a "close continuing association with a person who has engaged in activities or associations" of the type referred to in the regulations. In addition, hearing boards must ask questions to obtain the following:

FACTS NEEDED

"Any facts . . . which furnish reasons to believe that the individual may be subjected to coercion, influence, or pressure which may cause him to act contrary to the best interests of national security."

* * *

A hullabaloo was raised recently when the executive departments considered instances of government employes with relatives behind the Iron Curtain or cases where a mother or father had been in the Communist movement.

The real question is whether the United States must take the risk of maintaining in its employ persons who could be subjected to pressure or blackmail.

That's why the President's executive order puts into precise form questions to be obtained from government employes or applicants which relate to "any criminal, infamous, dishonest, immoral, or notoriously disgraceful conduct, habitual use of intoxicants to excess, drug addiction or sexual perversion."

GOSSIP AIDS CAUSE

This shows the necessarily large range that the questions must cover and, since the FBI canvasses friends and neighbors, all the unverified gossip as well as the incontrovertible facts have to be appraised.

As the Secretary of Defense puts it in his regulation, "the ultimate determination of whether acceptance or retention in the Armed Services is clearly consistent with the interests of national security must be an over-all common sense determination based on all available information."

* * *

Theoretically, the individual should be given the benefit of the doubt but, since employment in government is a privilege and not a right, it is the superior right of the government to say, in effect, in a given case that an employe may seem loyal and be devoid of any intention to do anything improper but as long as he has ties which can subject him to pressure or habits that could be taken advantage of by the enemy, there is every reason why the government should protect itself by taking no chances.

The greatest danger the American government faces today on the whole security problem comes from those who either are naive and unfamiliar with the operations of the enemy in our midst or who are still obsessed with the idea that a security case in a government department and a criminal case in a court of law are the same thing and must be procedurally handled exactly the same way.

The 11 Communists convicted in Judge Medina's court after a lengthy trial gave a dramatic example of what security-case suspects and their lawyers could do to harass and frustrate governmental operations if the same rules were applied inside the executive agencies.

There has never been any decision of the Supreme Court of the United States which says the rights of an individual supersede those of the government itself in the field of security and national defense. The Bill of Rights protects the government, too.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Hypochondriac Should Use Intelligence in Worthwhile Church and Club Work

Max is a "worry wart" about his health. He is driving his secretary almost crazy with his pills and potions. But his health fear is a camouflage. His wife cured him almost overnight by the booklet mentioned below. Scrapbook this case under "Psychosomatic Medicine."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

* * *

"But he is a typical hypochondriac," his secretary confessed to me over the telephone, "so I wish you could see him for an hour and try to straighten him out.

"Every time he reads the medical column in the newspaper, he sprouts all the symptoms of the disease which is being discussed that day.

"And he constantly takes pills and vitamins before meals and after meals until I get woozy trying to clear off his desk. It looks like a drugstore counter.

"Why, he wastes thousands of dollars taking treatments that I really don't believe he needs.

"He's become a pest to several doctors so they gladly steer him to anybody else who will take him off their hands."

MANY VICTIMS

Millions of Americans are hypochondriacs. That word is composed of "hypo,55 meaning "under" and "chondrium," meaning our "ribs."

Such a person keeps analyzing the organs under his ribs, such as lungs, heart, liver, stomach, etc.

They seem actually obsessed with a desire to find something wrong, so they mentally go over their "innards" with a fine tooth comb until they gleefully alight on some minor ache or twinge.

"Cancer!" they tragically diagnose themselves. "Yessiree: I have cancer!"

That's when they become what we medica call "shoppers." They shop around from one physician to another, disbelieving any doctor who gives them a clean bill of health.

For they are so obsessed with the negative idea that they must be ill, that they keep paying out money for repeated medical checkups, vainly hoping to find they are sick instead of well.

Why don't you intelligent Americans quit irritating God in this wasteful manner?

WHY BE NEGATIVE?

God is a POSITIVE force, so why think negatively? Instead of looking for an eenie meenie little ache, why not count your many blessings?

After you pay a good doctor to give you a medical examination and he then says you are OK, let your physician worry for you. That's why you pay him.

His reputation is at stake if he errs, not yours, so start living like a lion instead of a sissy sheep

* * *

One reason why you intelligent Americans degenerate into hypochondriacs is the fact you have too much IQ, unharnessed!

A neurotic person can obtain some satisfaction out of knowing the feebleminded, plus the lower animals, seldom get neurotic or become hypochondriacs.

But if you will harness that unused IQ, by linking up with a livewire church or working with the Boy Scouts or Camp Fire Girls, then you can derive positive dividends on your high IQ, and not irritate God by your negative thinking and cowardly health fears.

Many men, like Max, however, camouflage their sex worries, including dread of premature impotence, by becoming "worry warts" concerning their health.

So send for my booklet "How to Prevent Impotence in Men."

It has often produced miraculous changes in health cowards and restored both their assurance and erotic vitality.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Mother of Eight-Year-Olds Feels Need for Boys' Club

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. But the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer name, address and telephone number of its nature

As a mother of two eight-year-old boys, I sincerely hope the people of Pontiac support the movement to establish a Boys' Club somewhere north of the Lincoln School.

It is getting very difficult to get volunteer help for such activities as Cub Scouts, so it is becoming more necessary to obtain hired help. These people are trained to lead and teach our children.

The one Boys' Club on Pike Street cannot handle the 2,400 boys in Pontiac between the ages of 7 and 18, and it is very inconvenient to reach from here.

'Complainers Should Act to Prevent Unjust Politics'

My dictionary gives a good description of what that word 'politics' means. I suggest that if you think they are unfair or unjust, you get into the affairs and I personally know that both parties would gladly accept anyone.

That is what the politicians cannot understand . . . why so few come in and see. They just leave everything up to a very few. It's an American freedom that very few take part in except to complain. There are lots of empty seats.

The Best Time to Balance Nation's Budget Is Now

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey gave expression to sound common sense when he said NOW is the time to balance the Federal budget.

His words are a challenge to the Eisenhower Administration to make good a campaign promise.

"In times like the present," he said "with the highest employment in history, the highest disposable income, in records for profits, wages, earnings and production, if there ever is a time when the budget should be balanced, it is NOW."

To attain this, the federal government must overcome a $1,700 million predicted deficit. A change of 3 per cent in expenditures or anticipated revenues would accomplish the equilibrium.

CUT ACROSS THE BOARD

Since revenues depend on business profits and national prosperity, the common sense approach is to reach the goal with a three per cent across-the-board government spending cut.

More is involved here than meeting a political commitment.

Certainly the New Deal and the Fair Deal fashion of conscious and deliberate deficit spending as a means of "pump priming," should be reversed.

Even the late Lord John Maynard Keynes, exponent of deficit spending as an instrument of managed economy, contemplated different procedures at various stages of the business cycle. For example, he preached that in time of depression the government should spend heavily and tax lightly, whereas in time of boom it should spend sparingly and tax heavily.

The trouble with the Keynes doctrine is that spendthrift politicians embraced it during depression as a justification for heavy spending, but refused to reverse the process. This resulted from the tendency of politicians to publicize spending benefits while concealing the cost in taxes and inflation.

TIGHTEN SPENDING BELT—

With the cost-of-living index moving upward after a prolonged stability period it is time to aid money controls, as seen by the Federal Reserve, the FHA and the Veterans Administration, with fiscal measures achieved by pulling in the belt on Federal spending.

Certainly this is no time to "prime the pump" by adding the lifting power of Federal spending to that of heavy private and business expenditures.

Until recently, the politicians had a bear by the tail.

Under the New Deal and the Fair Deal, the inflationary effect of Federal deficit spending was offset by lack of confidence by investors.

CONFIDENCE EXISTS

Now confidence exists and it is feasible to halt the artificial bolstering power believed inherent to deficit spending.

Acid Fruits Necessary for Good, Balanced Diet

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

She does not eat oranges, lemons, grapefruit, limes, tomatoes or other acid fruits or drink their juices, because, her doctor told her, fruit acids are not good for her arthritis. Now I have lame joints, but our doctor tells me to eat all the fruit or drink all the fruit juice I like, that it is good for what ails me. Please tell us about this in your good column. (K. A. M.)

* * *

Your doctor is right, Ma'am, and your relative in the big city ought to have a guardian, for apparently she is being buncoed by the charlatan who tells the poor soul that "acid" fruits are not good for whatever ails her.

As long as gypsters are permitted to separate suckers from their money, in this wonderful free country of our people whose education was neglected will continue to imagine lemons, tomatoes and other "acid" fruits and their juices are not healthful, especially for certain invalids and certain valetudinarians.

Let me say without qualification that no matter what or whether anything ails you it is good for you to eat all the "acid" fruit or drink all the fruit juice you like, and I doubt that any reputable physician will venture to contradict this statement over his or her signature. Some near-doctors or queer-doctors and eminent but elusive "authorities" far, far away may deceive their customers about it, but they don't count.

Physiologically, acid fruits — lemons, limes, grapefruit, oranges, cranberries, gooseberries, whortleberries, pineapples, plums, prunes, strawberries, cherries, peaches, apricots, currants, huckleberries, blueberries, as well as tomatoes and apples, pears, and grapes—the various acids in these fruits are oxidized in the body, releasing the potassium, sodium, magnesium etc., which are changed to carbonates thus increasing the alkalinity of the blood and tissues.

Sugar added to fruit or fruit juice does not detract from the alkalizing effect of the fruit or fruit juice on blood, tissues, urine.

Theoretically some foods, especially spinach, potatoes, beans, endives, tomatoes, plums, strawberries, drief figs, cocoa, chocolate, and tea may contain enough oxalic acid (which is not readily oxidized in the body) to cause formation of kidney stone.

Please excuse me for laughing at the notion advanced by some dentists, that sucking lemons or drinking lemon juice, sweetened or not, may eat or dissolve the enamel and so damage the teeth. The very thought of sucking a lemon or drinking lemon juice unsweetened curdles my gizzard, but if you like it, I promise you it will do your teeth no harm.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Guam Important in U.S. Defense

Strategic Island Vital to American Air Arm in Pacific Ocean Area

WASHINGTON — Guam, World War II stronghold for B-29's that raided Japan, has taken a new military role as top Pacific base for strategic bombers.

Formerly Okinawa was chief base in the Pacific for General Curtis E. LeMay's Strategic Air Command. But with today's speedy jet planes, Okinawa is only 30 minutes away from the Asian mainland.

Guam, second only to Pearl Harbor as the largest concentration of military might in the Pacific, is 1,780 miles from the nearest China coastal area, says the National Geographic Society.

Peanut - shaped Guam, rimmed with coral reefs, lies 5,850 miles southwest of San Francisco. It is the largest and southernmost island of the Marianas group—31 miles long and varying in width from four to eight miles. Half its 215 square miles is given over to military installations.

With increased military building, once - sleepy little Guam is again a mid-Pacific "boom town" with a population of 60,000. Modern buildings, broad highways, theaters, busy stores, electricity and service stations rise largely on the coral plateau on the northern half of the island.

* * *

Along trails and foot paths in the southern volcanic hills, visitors often see Guamanians trudging along behind carts pulled by carabaos, their beasts of burden. In native villages stilts support small frame buildings with open windows and high porches. Here Guamanians squat on hardwood floors around meals of roast pig and steaming rice cooked in coconut milk and colored deep orange by pungent annatto berries.

Because defense works cover most arable land, Guam imports many essential foods. Its few exports — exceeded by imports by about four to one — include copra and coconut oil. Farmers produce corn, sweet potatoes, taro, and cassava, but insufficiently for Guam's growing needs.

Here's a Real Twist

PARIS—Many superstitions have dealt with eyesight. One is that a mustache improves vision. Among the "cures" for visual troubles still used today by ignorant persons are: standing in the door of a church, rubbing a cat's tail over the eyes, applying a poultice made from a raw Irish potato, and bathing the eyes in March snow.

Under current FHA mortgage plans on a 30-year basis you pay back $1,820 for every $1,000 you borrow.

Light Streets Safer

BLOOMFIELD, N. J. (INS) — More than 6,800 miles of mercury-lighted streets and highways in the U. S. today are helping substantially to speed traffic and reduce crime, lighting experts report. Last year alone over 1,800 miles of this highly efficient type of street illumination was installed.

Red Farming—One Man's Opinion

Russian Leaders Pay Little Heed to Soil Erosion

Editors Note: This is the third of six articles in which the dean and director of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture reports on what he saw during a five-week, 10,000-mile tour of Russian farm areas.

By DR. W. V. LAMBERT

The Russians are far behind the United States when it comes to soil conservation.

* * *

For one thing, the Russians are not making very much use of terracing and contour farming. These are keystones of the American conservation program and I was surprised not to see them used more in Russia.

But don't be misled. The Russians are aware of the importance of soil conservation. They are making greater efforts. I expect them to progress in this field.

If the idea ever catches fire, perhaps we may see a Russian soil conservation program which would dwarf the American program.

SEVERE EROSION

In the hilly region north of Stalingrad, we saw much erosion, some of it rather severe. There were two types, ditch and sheet erosion.

In the Tashkent and Alma Ata (central Asia) regions, we saw more erosion in the hills. Since this region varies from desert to semi-desert, proper grazing control would be one of the most effective means of halting erosion here.

I am certain the state controlled collective farms will be able to handle this problem adequately.

In the irrigated sections of central Asia, we also noticed some erosion. But the Russians are well aware of these problems on their irrigated land. They are investigating these problems extensively.

SALINATION PROBLEM

The problem causing them most trouble is salination, or the accumulation of excess salts in the soil. Their research involves investigation into such aspects as soil and water management, drainage and the use of chemicals to reclaim oversalted areas.

In the Ukraine and Kuban regions, we saw relatively little erosion damage except in the hilly lands next to the streams. Here ditch erosion is causing considerable damage.

Although there were occasional signs of sheet erosion, it did not seem to be a major problem.

SHELTER-BELTS GOOD

However, if the planting of shelter-belts (rows of trees to cut wind velocities) is carried out as planned, then the Russians will have licked this problem.

It appears to me that the Russians will not really start putting their full energies into combatting the problems of soil erosion until they can raise production and supply more food, particularly meat, than they are now doing.

When they have achieved that goal, then they will be able to devote more time and money to fighting erosion.

Cobo Envisions Waterfront Slip for 'Aquarama'

CHICAGO (AP) — Construction of a waterfront slip on the Detroit River large enough to handle the new $8,000,000 Great Lakes passenger ship, Aquarama, is envisioned by Detroit's Mayor Albert E. Cobo.

* * *

Creation of a second smaller slip also was a possibility, the mayor added.

"Discussions are under way with the New York Central Railroad for construction of a bulkhead in the river just outside their property," Cobo said. This area would be filled in, making it possible to create a slip for such a large ship, he said.

She has nine decks and can carry 2,500 passengers and 165 automobiles.

41 Americans Held in Korea

ROK Says Businessmen Cannot Leave Until They Pay Delinquent Taxes

SEOUL (AP)—Forty-one American businessmen are on a list to be refused exit permits from South Korea because of a dispute over ROK taxes, a spokesman for the American Chamber of Commerce in Korea states.

* * *

The spokesman said chamber members had been shown the list unofficially and those on it were told they would not be granted exit visas until they paid their assessed tax.

The chamber said it notified the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, asking it to cooperate in protesting what it termed arbitrary, exorbitant taxes and claming "approximately 40 members (of the Chamber of Commerce in Korea) are being held as individual hostages."

These were the latest developments in the running fight between foreign business representatives and Korean taxation officials over taxes which the American chamber claims are "exorbitant, arbitrary and discriminatory."

* * *

The chamber spokesman said foreign business concerns have been assessed "completely unreasonable" taxes and that the Korean officials have refused to itemize tax statements.

He said the taxes apparently are based on total volume without regard for profits or losses or the fact that some transactions are also taxed against Korean firms importing goods.

The spokesman said that under a previous agreement with tax officials, most of the businessmen should be assessed only an income tax or tax on commissions.

He said the businessmen were in Korea as salesmen, technical representatives or commission representatives of various firms selling goods through Korean importers.

He said taxing Korean importers and levying a transaction tax against the American representatives was tantamount to double taxation.

* * *

The spokesman added that American businessmen in the chamber recognized the validity of Korean income taxes or a tax based on gross commissions. He said all were willing to pay such a tax.

He said that at a March 5 meeting the businessmen agreed to pay such a tax, that that now the ROK government was attempting to make a gross business or transactions tax retroactive.

GIs in Korea to Receive Prefabricated Houses

SEOUL (AP) — U. S. servicemen will soon be living in prefabricated type buildings which will arrive from the United States within 60 days, 8th Army Commander Gen. I. D. White announced today.

The announcement said the Army planned to eventually house all its troops in Korea in such buildings instead of tents, for reasons of both comfort and economy.

British Efficiency Blasted

London Express Exposes 23 Gas Stove Installers

LONDON (AP) — How many men does it take to install one gas stove?

The London Daily Express, campaigning for more efficiency in Britain, asked that question today and then went on to tell of one case where it took 23 men to put a stove in a store.

According to W. B. Wilkinson, who runs a London hardware store, this is what happened when he asked the local government-run board for a new stove.

An inspector called, looked at the old stove and agreed to the request. Two men arrived to deliver the new cooker. Two days later, two men arrived to fit it. Later, two more men called and took the old stove away.

Seven men so far.

* * *

Meanwhile, the men fitting the new cooker decided that a new meter was needed. A man arrived with a new meter. Two more men called to connect it. Another man also called to take away the old meter.

Fourteen men so far.

At this point an inspector arrived with a colleague. They surveyed the situation. Then, one morning, a truck carrying six men, automatic picks, compressor and tools drew up. They dug up the road and pavement.

* * *

For two days — no gas at all.

A new section of pipe was installed and for nearly a year everything was peaceful.

Then, Wilkinson reports, the other day a man dropped in. He announced he would be there the following Thursday to paint the pipes.

"What pipes?"

"The new gas pipes, of course," was the reply.

And he was No. 23.

Said the Express editorial: "Can anyone beat that for a record of over-employment?"

There was no comment from the gas board.

THE TERRIBLE PAINS OF RHEUMATISM-ARTHRITIS KEPT ME AWAKE NIGHTS

"Before using O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I couldn't even raise my arms to comb my hair," says Mrs. Charlotte Coopersmith, 24608 Valley St., East Detroit.

Rheumatism and arthritis in my arms, shoulders, and neck, pained so bad that I couldn't even raise my arms to comb my hair.

My neck bothered me too, as it was stiff and pained terribly when I tried to turn my head. Why, I could hardly wash clothes, as it caused my arm to pain just to have my hands in the water. Mrs. Coopersmith Sleeping well at night was difficult as everytime I turned in my sleep, the pains in my neck would wake me up again. Massages, linaments, heat lamps and electric pads all made my neck stiffer. I just didn't know what to do to stop the pains. I suffered like this for about a year when a relative told me about O-JIB-WA BITTERS. He had rheumatism and arthritis in his legs and knees so bad that he could hardly walk or even stand up. O-JIB-WA had put him back on his feet, so I thought it might help me. In about three weeks I could actually feel the difference, and by the time two months had passed, I was all better. I could move my neck without fear of pain. I do all of my housework now, and sleep well every night. The good sleep helps my nerves and gives me lots of pep and ambition. Words fail to praise O-JIB-WA BITTERS enough for what it has done for me."

Aerial Dusting to Boost Crops

First Time Experiment Attempted in Michigan; Test Three Plots

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Airplane seeding of cover crops already is in the advanced stages in several sections of Northwestern Michigan but other areas now are trying an aerial dusting with chemicals to boost crops.

Three Bay County test plots have been dusted by airplane to determine whether chemicals will kill bean foliage and help the beans ripen faster and more evenly.

Cecil Kerr, associate County Agent, says it is the first time such an experiment has been attemped in this part of the nation. Observers report a chemical frost has been tested with good results on crops in New York State. They say, however, that Michigan's climate differences require further tests.

Kerr said step-by-step photographs will record the demonstration's progress in the experimental area.

He says bean greenness in windrows often causes the crop to dry up before harvest and feels that chemical ripening could boost the total crop.

Bay is one of several Michigan counties where the testing is in progress. Observers, including members of the Michigan State University School of Agriculture Staff, last week watched planes dust the three plots near Bad Axe.

Honeymoon in New York After Morning Ceremony

WALLED LAKE—A nuptial high mass at St. Williams Church here Saturday morning united in marriage Rose Marie Zimmerman and Howard Cox.

Gladioli, chrysanthemums and palms decorated the altar as the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Zimmerman of 1115 Superior, and the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Cox, 2450 Welch Rd., spoke their vows.

Rose wore a gown of French Chantilly lace over nylon tulle with chapel-length train. Her portrait neckline was fashioned of lace and lightly sprinkled with opalescent jewels. A crown-shaped headpiece embroidered with the same jewels secured her fingertip, two-tiered veil of illusion.

Sharon Huebler of Union Lake was maid of honor and Shirley Rouh, Janet Guoin and Barbara Littleton, all of Walled Lake, were bridesmaids. Janet Albright of Detroit acted as flower girl.

James Sanderson of Walled Lake was best man for Howard and ushers were Russell Curl, Gerald Tillman and George Campbell, all of Walled Lake. Douglas Cox was ringbearer for his brother.

A breakfast was held afterward at Rotunda Inn, Pine Lake, and an evening reception took place at Milford Legion Hall, Milford.

Carver Adopts New System

Board Approves Room Rule; New Principal, Assistant Appointed

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — A step forward to better education was made last night when George Washington Carver School Board members approved superintendent Oliver A. Johnson's suggestion that Carver School adopt a self-contained room rule system.

Johnson has appointed Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson as principal and Ruth Green as assistant principal.

Former principal Adelaide Long and former assistant principal James Satterwhite are under suspension by the board and are awaiting hearings on charges that "they are unfit to be on the school faculty." Charges were brought by Otis Eaton, chairman of the Citizen's Improvement League.

Return Plans to Architect

ROCHESTER — Since bids for the new high school building totaled more than the amount immediately available, the Board of Education turned the problem over to architects for revision of plans, in a special meeting here last night.

Bids for the general contract ranged from $965,891 to $1,075,000. Electric bids ranged from $137,617 to $160,707.

Mechanical low bid was $193,500 and the high was $254,804. Sewer and water lines bids ranged from $28,267.15 to $43,500. Total of all low bids amounted to $1,325,000.

Since this amount is greater than available funds, of $1,050,000, the board turned the bids over to H. E. Beyster and Associates, Architects, for revision of plans, in order to come within the budget.

The next board meeting will be held Sept. 6.

Picnic Tables Are Youth's Business

Fourteen-year-old Larry is a businessman and artisan in his own right.

He makes and sells picnic tables.

Larry got up the idea because he couldn't quite find the job that suited him for summer vacation time.

He learned from a magazine there was a market for moderately priced picnic tables. That set him to work. The idea took. He now has made and sold several tables from his home.

Larry buys his own rough lumber and cuts it to size. He cuts the table to measure, bores the holes, bolts it together, and sells it, finished or unfinished.

Son's Young Pals Overstay Welcome at Her House

By EMILY POST

A mother writes: "Will you please tell me how we can get our son's young friends to go home at a reasonable hour? We have a finished basement in our house and our son's friends—boys and girls both—come here often and dance to the victrola.

"I'm delighted to have them come and they never seem to want and they are always welcome, but to go home.

"Would it be proper for my husband or me to go down at a certain hour and tell them to go home, or is there a more tactful way to handle this situation?"

Answer: I think if you go down with very light refreshments about the time for them to go home, as they finish you can certainly stop the music and say goodnight to them.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it ever correct for a woman who has been married and later divorced and who had her maiden name restored at the time she got her divorce, to thereafter use the title Miss?

"I contend that after having once been married, it is not correct ever to use the title Miss again, even though she has been granted permission by the court to use her maiden name.

"Will you please tell me if I am right as this is causing a good deal of argument in my family?"

Answer: You are right. One who has been married cannot possibly be called "Miss" in other than her professional or business life. Socially she must be "Mrs."

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to give my sister some stationery for a present. Will you please tell me the correct way to have it marked? She is a widow. Shall I use her husband's name or her own given name?"

Answer: She remains Mrs. Husband's name.

Egypt's Women Get Rights

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS)—Women are winning equality in swift strides in Egypt, especially since the revolution that ousted King Farouk.

Such is the report of Mrs. Amina El-Said (pronounced El-Sah-eed), editor of the Egyptian women's magazine "Hawa al Gadida" (New Eve) and one of her country's leading women journalists.

Mrs. El-Said said during a recent visit to the U.S. that, contrary to western belief, women always have had important legal rights in her country. But social pressure kept them in a secondary position.

The woman editor, wearing a low-cut black dress and smoking a cigarette, said in almost perfect Oxford English:

VEILS LEAVING

"The veils were dropped more quickly than anything else. They began going out after World War I, when we were freed from Turkey.

"Several government bureaus have heavy proportions of women employes — 55 per cent in the education ministry. If the women went on strike, the Egyptian government could not operate!

* * *

"Three million students are enrolled in the country's schools, from kindergarten through the university, and a million of them are girls and women."

Will-O-Way Comedy Has Enchantment

By JANET ODELL

All your favorite people are on the stage at Will-O-Way this week in Samuel Taylor's "Sabrina Fair." This Cinderella-type modern comedy enchanted a capacity first-night audience last evening.

* * *

Sabrina, daughter of wealthy family's chauffeir, returns from three years in Paris as a government employe, a changed woman. The shy, quiet, studious girl who left is now a talkative, bubbling extrovert. Playing the part delightfully is Maggie O'Hara, the young California actress.

With time on his hands as a retired businessman, Linus Larabee Sr. (Burton Wright) spends his days attending funerals—his idea of "good, clean fun."

Linus Jr. (Michael Keith) runs the family business in a most successful manner. The playboy of the family is David (Gerald M. Harrington). Worrying about all of them is Lillian Hicks as the mother.

* * *

Convalescing from an operation as a guest of her college roommate, Mrs. Larabee, is "Aunt" Julia. Bertha Forman shows her versatility as an actress in this sympathetic role.

3 RICH MEN

You'll enjoy seeing how Sabrina resolves her problem of which man she really loves. It's hardly fair for one girl to have three rich men to choose among; but she does.

* * *

Frederick L. Morris plays the part of Sabrina's father. He took the chauffeur's job 30 years ago so that he would have time to read.

In his spare time he managed to do a bit of investing in the stock market. The scene in which he describes his financial affairs is uproariously funny.

KATHRYN DEKAY

Mother Steals Her 'Private' Song

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The year my daughter was 13 she came home from summer camp with a very catchy song.

* * *

Its lyric was made unnotable by phrases like "these happy summer hours" and "friends I'll ne'er forget"—but its tune was new, sprightly and persuasive. I was quite taken with it. And until I tired of it, went humming and singing it about the house.

Weeks later, I heard the child singing it as she pressed a skirt. When she'd finished it, I called out, "Oh, that nice song. I haven't heard you sing it for ages."

She made no immediate answer. But as she started down the hall with the pressed skirt, she looked in at the kitchen door.

She said, "I haven't wanted to sing that song, mother. It was my song and you took it away from me. You may as well know that I've been pretty angry at you for singing a song that belonged to me all over the place. Well, I've taken it back. I think that if you want a song, you ought to get one for yourself."

SHE FELT HURT

I felt astonishment, hurt and anger. Then my mind cleared. It dawned on me that what I'd heard was no protest about a song—but a "goodby" to childhood; an emerging adult's demand for privacy and separateness.

* * *

Take Dave's unreasonable protest against the rearrangement you made of his room last week. Did you note only what he said about preferring his bookshelves against the window?

If so, you must have wanted to slap him. For you kniw that by keeping his bookcase against the window, Dave loses sunlight, fresh air and all hope of balance in his room.

And the fact that he refused to appreciate these realities filled you with the irritable despair common to parents of the adolescing young.

* * *

But if you'd noted what your unreasonable Dave did not say, you'd have saved yourself work as well as exasperation. Much of the time, his vital, unspoken communication is:

WHAT HE MEANT

"Ma, my demand for my own ideas is just the peg on which I hang my urge to separate myself from you. I have to obey it. For I am practicing to become a man whose home, friends and interests will no longer be one with yours.

"It will be easier on us both if you will see that what seems unreasonable in me is rooted in reason far more urgent than your desire to move my bookcase. It is rooted in my right to begin to individualize myself."

* * *

But if we "give in" because his disagreement bores, exhausts or scares us, we can be badly exploited.

Married in St. Patrick Church, White Lake, Saturday were Michaelina Dempster and Kenneth Winkel. She is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Dempster of Kilmarnock, Scotland, and he is the son of the Frank Winkels of Detroit.

MR. AND MRS. K. WINKEL

Gown of Taffeta Selected by Michaelina Dempster

Michaelina Dempster and Kenneth Winkel exchanged nuptial vows Saturday in St. Patrick Church, White Lake. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Dempster of Kilmarnock, Scotland. Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Winkel of Detroit.

The bride's floor-length gown of taffeta was fashioned with lace panels. Her fingertip veil fell from a cap featuring clusters of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Fred Grunstadt Whitfield of Maceday Lake, the bride's other attendant, wore a gown similar to the maid of honor's in yellow nylon. Her bouquet was of aqua carnations. Both attendants wore small caps of white sequins.

* * *

BREAKFAST SERVED

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Hotel Roosevelt. In the evening a reception was held at the Mathew Corrigan Hall in Detroit.

* * *

For receiving the guests Mrs. Dempster wore a light blue nylon dress with navy accessories, and Mrs. Winkel wore a navy blue dress with white accessories.

The bride chose a gray suit with brown accessories as her going-away costume for a honeymoon to northern Canada.

Correct Usage of Frying Pan Is Essential

EAST LANSING (INS) — Correct use of frying utensils is essential if you want to keep them up to snuff, according to Linda Nelson, Michigan State College home management specialist.

* * *

Because fry pans are used directly over the heat and often without water, Miss Nelson points out they must be of materials not easily damaged by high temperatures.

Even in browning food the material should be one that will distribute the heat evenly. This is especially true if the pan or skillet is larger than the heating surface.

Aluminum and cast iron are good for fry pans but as large pans they may be heavy to handle. Miss Nelson recommends a pan of heavy-gauge sheet aluminum. She adds that stainless steel is lighter, but for use as a fry pan should have a heat-distributing surface or core.

Lightweight or poor-quality sheet metals are likely to warp, causing the pan to teeter on the burner and fat from the frying to run to one side of the pan which in turn causes uneven cooking.

* * *

The handle is important in purchasing a frying pan, the MSC staff member says. It should be long enough to get a good grip, shaped so it won't turn in the hand, and smooth enough for comfort.

Adds Herbs and Spices to Beans

Mrs. Max Fruhauf Uses Taste Test to Add Seasoning

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Herb cooking is something special, and far too few people take the time to experiment with it. Mrs. Max Fruhauf of Bloomfield Hills takes pride in her various herb recipes. The one she shares with us today is for Baked Beans.

Mrs. Fruhauf grows her own herbs and dries them for winter use. You may remember that she was featured in a garden story several weeks ago. She makes up her own herb vinegars also.

SPECIAL BAKED BEANS
By Mrs. Max Fruhauf

2 packages navy beans
1 bottle catsup
1 cup honey
½ box brown sugar
2 teaspoons dried basil
1 cup molasses
2 bay leaves
Onion, if desired
Spices to taste—cinnamon, allspice, cloves
Mixed herbs—marjoram, sage, thyme, tarragon

Soak the beans overnight. Cook until the skins split. (Mrs. Fruhauf likes to use water in which a ham has been cooked. She always adds sugar and ginger when steaming the ham.)

Place the beans in an electric roaster and add the other ingredients. It is wholly a matter of taste how much of the spices and herbs you add. Mrs. Fruhauf says the whole family sets themselves up as taste critics as they pass through the kitchen. By the time the beans are done, they've all had a say in the seasoning.

Bake these beans 6-7 hours.

A fingertip veil fell from her small cap and she carried a bouquet of white glamellias. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

* * *

GOWNED ALIKE

Broken Bone Makes Girl 'Skating Widow'

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've just broken my collarbone—and I'm going to lose my boy friend! You see, he has just learned how to roller-skate—and they won't let me skate for the rest of the year.

"Every time I talk to him he says he'll come over if he doesn't go skating. He comes over in the afternoons now so he can go skating in the evening.

"Can you see what it's doing to me? I'm going to lose him on account of my collarbone. Please tell me how to keep that from happening!"

Answer: What is a golf widow but a wife whose husband spends all of his free time on the golf course? And she's a widow because she stays home and doesn't go with him. Skiing, fishing, speedboating keep lots of other couples separated.

You're about to become a skating widow unless you make up your mind to go along with your boy friend to the rink. You don't have to skate. But you can be with him going and coming, you can watch, chat with him in between skates, and see your other friends at the same time.

So, why let this thing come between you? Go right along with him when he wants to skate. And try to promote some other activities that you can participate in until your bone is healed.

"Dear Miss Woodward: We like each other so much. But the trouble is that he gave me a friendship ring and my mother won't let me keep it. What shall I do? If I give it back to him he'll probably break up with me!"

Answer: Not if you're smart about giving it back to him. It will take a bit of buildup.

The next date you have with him, make a gurgling comment about the ring, aimed at making him feel that you love to wear it. During the date let him catch you turning it around on your finger, admiring it, sort of showing it off. Let him see that it's very much okay with you.

Then toward the end of your date tell him mournfully that you hate to do it, you don't want to do it, but your mother made you promise. And take off the ring and give it back to him.

While he's catching his breath, rush into an explanation that your mother has some very traditional conservative ideas, and she doesn't approve of exchanging jewelry even between such good friends as you are. You've tried to convince her with no luck.

She insists that you return the ring, and, golly, you don't want to. But isn't there something else of his you could have instead—his fountain pen, for instance?

Couldn't you wear matching socks, or sweaters the same color, or similar bracelets that you could make yourselves?

That's putting the emphasis on the ring—and not magnifying the issue so that he thinks it's the end of everything.

MR. AND MRS. JACK L. COOK

Colleen Augusta Patterson became the bride of Jack L. Cook Saturday evening at Marimont Baptist Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Patterson of West Sheffield avenue, and he is the son of Mrs. William Cook of St. Johns.

Colleen Patterson Weds in Marimont Baptist Rite

The bride is the former Colleen Augusta Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Patterson of West Sheffield avenue. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. William Cook of St. Johns.

Marimont Baptist Church was the setting for the Saturday evening double-ring ceremony performed at 7 o'clock by the Rev. David Mortenson. Candelabra and arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and palms decorated the altar.

A gown of nylon net over taffeta was worn by the bride. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice and a lace-inserted bouffant skirt that fell into a cathedral train.

WEARS ORCHID

Mrs. Barbara Kenney, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was of orchid dotted swiss, with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt of ballerna length. Daisies and ivy formed her headpiece and she carried a cascade arrangement of glamellias and daisies.

Darlene Nichols and Carmen Newman were bridesmaids. Their gowns were fashioned like the matron of honor's in yellow and green.

Ringbearer was the bride's brother, Rickey Patterson.

Ronald Smith of St. Johns served as best man, and seating the guests were Bill Carrigan of Wyandotte, Barney Chabala of Chicago, Dwight Patterson and Terry Patterson, brothers of the bride.

RECEPTION FOLLOWS

The bride's mother received her guests wearing a light blue lace dress with white accessories and a white rose corsage.

Mr. Cook is a graduate of General Motors Institute of Technology.

Don't Hesitate to Purchase Hearing Aid

Bad hearing is completely destructive of poise. And since poise is such an important part of beauty, it follows that a woman who has to struggle to hear could only be beautiful if she were a hermit.

But the struggle to bring one's self to do something about it sometimes seems more difficult than to endure the bad hearing.

* * *

For these persons, estimated at four million, who have trouble hearing but hesitate to get a hearing aid because of the looks of it, there is now a new aid.

This one, made by a very well-known manufacturer, has four transitors, the tiny gadgets that replace tubes, and the main part is the size of a paper matchbook.

The possibilities of concealing such a unit are far greater than concealing a traditional one. Such a small, light affair can go in the hair under a scarf or invisibly under the clothes.

YOUR HANDS

Hands are often neglected in a beauty program. However, their grooming is often more important that your hair. You can wear a hat when dining out, but you can't eat with your gloves on. At night, when applying cream to the face, massage a little into your hands and then remove surplus. If they are very rough, wear gloves over them, leaving cream on all night. Through the day apply lotion after washing and drying. Do not put your hands into detergents. Wear gloves when doing these jobs. Gently push back cuticle each day with corner of towel or orange sticks. Never use cuticle solvents. They are irritating and sometimes cause infection. Keep emery boards at convenient pisces to take care of a break when it first starts.

Nylon's Just Dandy but Cotton Is Finer

Nylon is dandy, but many women have found that a combination of nylon dress with nylon underwear is uncomfortably hot.

Oil Well Breaks Down, Sprays Cars, Stores

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An oil well broke down yesterday and sent 500 gallons of black, gummy crude oil spewing over automobiles and stores at the intersection of Atlantic and Washington boulevards.

J. W Vandervanter, foreman of the well owned by the Atlantic Oil Co., said an overaccumulation of gases caused the sudden gusher.

Before a workman was able to shut down the well the oil splattered homes, cars and stores in a two-block area. Two trucks collided while moving along the slick pavement.

Crash Elsa's Party

Prince, Princess Pose as Servants at Gay Ball

LONDON (INS)—A prince and princess assumed the roles of waiter and waitress and went unnoticed at a glamorous ball given in honor of Elsa Maxwell and her "culture cruise" guests aboard the yacht, Achilleus, at the island of Corfu Monday.

* * *

The London Daily Mail reported in a dispatch that Princess Maria Pia of Italy and her husband, Prince Alexander of Yugoslavia, flew to Corfu from Venice with millionaire Greek shipowner Stavros Niarchos.

Niarchos, who owns the Achilleus, also staged the ball.

The cruise guests rested in Corfu Tuesday and later toured the island visiting some of the historical sites.

* * *

Miss Maxwell's "culture cruise" aboard the 5,500-ton yacht is expected to last at least two weeks.

A special feast has been arranged at the Acropolis in Athens when the ship docks in Piraeus today.

The main idea of the cruise is to "help promote Greek tourism," according to Elsa. She says that King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece are very interested.

Among the celebrities aboard the yacht are Prince Aly Khan, Mrs. Perle Mesta, former U.S. ambassador to Luxembourg, former French Premier and Madame Reynaud, actress Olivia deHavilland and her French husband, Pierre Galant.

Cop Receives Kickback From His Motorcycle

OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP) — Officer A. F. Blackshore limped into Mercy Hospital's emergency room.

"I kicked my motorcycle," the officer told attendants.

Thief Steals Cops Gun

DALLAS, Tex., (AP)—A thief stole a policeman's pistol during a tavern rhubarb yesterday and escaped on a bus as the officer missed his weapon. Three policemen chased the bus six blocks through rush-hour traffic to overpower and disarm the 35-year-old man. He tried to draw the revolver aboard the crowded bus as the officers grabbed him.

Eye 'Riot Wagon' for Detroit Police

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit police who fight future gun battles will be protected by two large armored "riot wagons" if the City Council approves a recommendation by Police Commisioner Edward S. Riggins.

Death of a patrolman last week and serious wounding of a police executive Sunday night led to Police Department plans to send armored mobile units to future shooting scenes.

Each unit would be equipped with armored platforms which could be raised to a second-floor level. Bulletproof glass would enable police to look into a room without danger of being shot.

Still Lots of Child Left in Maggie O'Brien

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—When Margaret O'Brien was a small braided thief who stole scenes from the biggest hams in Hollywood, a director once explained to her: "Now in this part, you are so happy that you cry. Think you can do that, honey?"

Margaret thought so, yes. "But do you want the tears," she asked, "inside or out?"

Nothing much has changed today with Margaret O'Brien.

She has lost her braids, of course. Her birth certificate and her press agents state that she is 18. But she still knows how to cry—inside, outside and reversible—and how to give you that "Gee, dad, it's okay now?" smile to make things all better afterwards.

"Yes, I am 18," she corroborated, giving a three-quarter (or "there's more yet") smile and asking the waiter to bring her a no-calorie cola drink. "And I have just finished making this movie about this sort of tomboy who falls in love with this rich boy who owns the ranch and starts wearing grown-up clothes for the first time."

The waiter said he never heard of this no-calorie drink that this girl was ordering.

"Then I'll have an orange juice, please," said Margaret, giving him a quarter (or "that's all for you") smile.

Asked if she ordered a no-calorie drink because she is weight conscious, as most 18-year-olds are, she said, "Oh no. I just like the taste better."

NEW FILM 'GLORY'

Maggie, whose new movie called "Glory" marks her comeback to American films after about five years, insists it is not exactly a comeback, since she appeared in a Japanese-made film two years ago and has made TV and off-Broadway stage appearances.

"I never did, feel," she says wistfully, "I was really out of films. I was not out far enough anyway to come back in the usual sense." Besides, she never stopped reading scripts in all that time because she knew she was going to be an actress.

* * *

"I always wanted to be one all the way through."

Margaret's story is the usual one, the legendary one, in show business. Sheltered and taught and managed by her mother, Gladys, she was a pudgy cover girl at age 3, a movie actress at 4, and a star from 5 to 12. Then gradually her salary began to drop from about $5,000 a week to about nothing.

Little Maggie, with nearly $200,000 stashed away for a hurricane day, began to live a more normal life. In a duplex surrounded by Hollywood, mama and movie scripts.

"I never wanted to grow up too fast," she says today, in a voice pitched nearly as high as her future hopes. "I just liked the age I was in, didn't want to be younger or older." She cherished a pin of sapphires and diamonds given her by Lionel Barrymore and a little religious statue from Charles Laughton.

Now she is 18 and, though she still has the soft facile face of childhood and wears rose-bud printed dresses with lace trimming, she is being touted as "grown-up."

She has "about three or four boys" she "goes out with," but she doesn't think she'll be married until she's "21 or 22." She can "stay out as late as I like, but like to come home pretty early." And she seems to have all her second teeth in at least.

Yet although you can't stop progress, as any mature woman with a tape measure can tell you, there still seems to be a lot of the vintage—or child-star—O'Brien left in Maggie.

Africa Faces Food Crisis

JOHANNESBURG—South Africa is worried about the grave problem it faces in feeding its fast-growing population. The Government, predicting that the population will increase in 20 years from the present 13,500,000 to 19,500,000, has urged farmers to increase their yield per acre and per animal.

Many Families Carless

OTTAWA — A survey shows that 55 of every 100 Canadian households have an automobile and 9 per cent of these have two or more.

Hal Boyle Says:

Danny Leaves Behind a Heritage of Love

NEW YORK (AP)—For as long as he could remember, 11-year-old Danny Essoyan dreamed of seeing America.

Danny, whose grandparents were stateless refugees from Armenia, was born in Shanghai and raised in Hawaii.

* * *

His father, Roy, an Associated Press newsman in Honolulu, won his U. S. citizenship a few years ago, and it was hard to tell who was prouder that day, father or son.

This summer Roy came to New York in advance of his assignment to the Moscow AP bureau. For Danny this was exciting news: On the way to Russia he would at last get to see the United States.

* * *

He did see it. He saw it for three wonderful weeks. And then he died . . . suddenly and unexpectedly . . . at the height of his happiness. Death came to Danny on Aug. 21.

After he buried Danny here in the land of his boyhood dreams, Roy Essoyan went to his typewriter and wrote the saddest obituary of his newspaper career:

* * *

"This is a tribute to the most wonderful boy in the world, my son. He was unique, as every boy is unique. . . for each is the most wonderful child in the world.

"The great outdoors was his playground and the blue Pacific his swimming pool. He loved to romp in the surf. He was shy and slim but strong-chested and deeply tanned.

"Danny spent his first couple of days in New York City riding up and down the hotel elevator, making friends with the bellboys, running errands for his mother and baby sister, Catherine.

"He explored the 5-and-10-cent stores, the Central Park zoo, the busy streets near the hotel. He went to the Museum of Natural History twice and wandered open-mouthed around the Hayden Planetarium. He went with us to the musical, 'Silk Stockings,' a special treat, and stood agog at Times Square at midnight. At times he baby-sat for Catherine, changed her diapers and helped feed her. He took time out from all the exciting things he had to do to play with her.

* * *

"Danny went to Rockefeller Plaza, rode the subway and the Staten Island ferry, saw the Statue of Liberty and walked down Fifth Ave.

"A week after we moved out to Bayville, on the shore, he went aquaplaning in Long Island Sound and stood up the first attempt. The day before his alloted time on earth ran out he was a picture of sturdy health and boyish joy, as he had been all his life.

* * *

"It rained in the morning and he stayed indoors. Later he ran out to help with the boats that had been battered by the gale.

"Midafternoon he came in, glowing with pride in the work he had done . . . and we were proud of him. Then he went with us for a drive to Sagamore Hill, President Theodore Roosevelt's old home. When we came back, he said he had a sore throat and a headache. He took an aspirin and went to bed. He had some temperature, but not enough to mar his usual cheerful singsong bedtime ritual, 'Good night, sleep tight, don't let the bedbugs bite, wake up in the morning bright.'

* * *

"The next morning his fever was worse, but he looked out the window and asked if he could go outside and play soon. An hour later, in the ambulance on the way to the hospital, Danny's life came to its unbelievably early end. Practically before we had time to be frightened, Danny and all the hopes and dreams that Danny was were gone.

"Danny lived always in the immediate future, what he could do tonight, where he could go tomorrow, what did we plan next week. He was a quiet boy and did not talk much of things far away, the life ahead of him, growing up and learning to be a man. And now . . . Danny will never be a man.

"The doctor said it was a sudden overwhelming virus infection . . . a virus we all carry with us. But for some unexplainable reason this sturdy boy's immunity slipped momentarily.

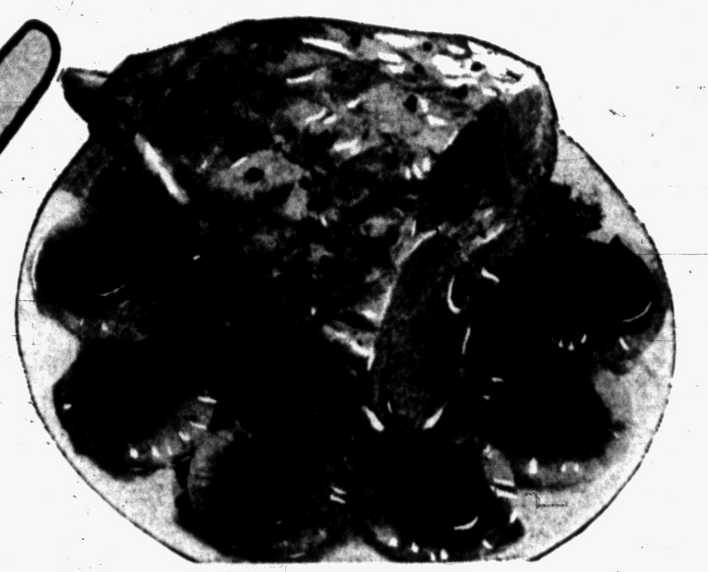

"We know it is God's will. He gave Danny to us. And for some reason known only to God, He took him away. All there is of Danny now is what is in our hearts and the hearts of all that knew him.

"His sweetness and gentleness is now a part of all of us, and may God make us the better for it. For when you leave this world what better heritage can you leave behind than the knowledge that you gave yourself to all who knew you? As one dear friend said, 'We must all be thankful to Danny for he gave us all great joy.'"

Plans to Film Keaton Life Recall the Old Silent Days

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — I did a little private reminiscing when I was told Buster Keaton's life story is being prepared by Sidney Sheldon and Robert Smith for motion pictures.

I knew Buster so well in those old days when he was married to Natalie Talmadge, sister of the two beauties of the silent screen, Norma and Constance Talmadge.

Buster, Natalie and their two sons lived in the house where the James Masons now live. Buster, who adored to cook, would put on a chef's cap and apron and make all sorts of dishes, with the Sunday night regulars crowding around him.

The silent, smileless, serious comic, who achieved great fame in the old days, has been doing all right in England on TV.

The world is Vera Miles' oyster, what with star billing with Joan Crawford in "The Way We Are," and the devotion Gordon Scott is showering on her.

He brought back a lot of jewelry from Africa, convincing proof that Tarzan loves Vera.

And when a girl as new as Vera gets star billing you know she must be good. Of course, her name won't be in as large letter as oJan's in "The Way We Are," but her credit will say "co-starring."

American fans will know more about Sophia Loren, Italy's threat to Gina Lollobrigida, if she agrees to play opposite Tyrone Power in "Lorenzo, the Magnificent."

Ted Richmond has a date to talk to Sophia about teaming with the handsome Ty and they would certainly be a pair to gaze upon.

In many ways Sophia is more popular than Gina. For one thing, the newspaper people find her much more cooperative. When Ty was in Rome he heard some of the reverberations of her ability, popularity and beauty.

SAD TIME FOR RITA

Very tragic and sad that Rita Hayworth, who stuck so staunchly by Dick Haymes, even hurting her best interests, should have this breakup right now.

It's particularly sad because she must go into court to fight the suit Columbia has waged against her, and to testify in her own suit against her studio.

Rita's life has been one long series of front page stories. She's obviously still news, because there were dozens of newspaper reporters and photographers camped in front of her Malibu house waiting to see if she'd come back.

The reporters were hoping to get a view of the shiner that Rita was said to have acquired in her battle with Haymes. However, Haymes denied that he struck her.

EUROPE FOR DOLORES

Snaps: Dolores Gray sails for Europe in about two weeks to see her titled Spanish boy friend whose name she won't reveal.

Susan Cronyn, daughter of Hume Cronyn and Jessica Tandy, is honeymooning with John Tettemer at the Bel Air Hotel following their marriage last Sunday.

Ruth and Milton Berle went to Disneyland and saw an old silent Mabel Norman movie. Who should be in the movie but Uncle Miltie as a child.

Gloria Stewart cut short her vacation at a Nevada ranch to hurry back to take off with Jimmy for Paris where he will do the locations for "Spirit of St. Louis."

Traverse Fair Opens

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — The 1955 Northwestern Michigan Fair opened its gates to visitors Tuesday with officials predicting a record attendance for the five-day run. Secretary-Manager Arnell Engstrom reported hundreds of exhibitors set up their wares Monday, entry day at the fairgrounds.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

DENMARK—3

The Viking Ship

The three largest islands in Denmark are Jutland, Zealand and Funen. On Funen the Junior Editors see the remains of a real Viking ship.

Vikings, the ancestors of many modern Scandinavians, lived in Denmark and other northeast European countries many centuries ago. They were sea-going men who traveled far distances. Some of them landed in America long before Columbus did!

They sailed in big open boats with a dragon's head carved on the front. These boats were rowed with long oars. The oarsmen were protected from attack by round metal shields.

You can have one of these Viking ships for your Danish collection.

Paste down the picture on thin cardboard and color with crayons or paints. The Viking ships often were painted in bright colors. The sails were striped in various colors. Even the oars and shields were painted brightly.

Fold back the panels along the dotted lines. Fold the sea strip forward. Cut along the dark lines at the edge of the white-capped waves and fold them up like real waves. Now your Viking ship will stand upright as if sailing the seas.

Envoy Shuns Restaurant That Segregated Him

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Indian ambassador to the United States, slickly segregated at a swank airport restaurant here a week ago, declined the mayor's invitation to eat in the same place yesterday.

The ambassador, Gaganvihari Lullubhai Mehta, and his secretary were asked to leave the public dining room of Horizon House, International Airport's main dining place, last week.

They were whisked into a private dining room so deftly, witnesses said, that they never realized they were being mistaken for Negroes.

Mehta and his secretary B. A. Rajagopalan were met at the airport yesterday by Mayor Roy Hofheinz and a group of Houston dignitaries.

"I'm most grateful for your cordial invitation to come to Houston," the ambassador told Hofheinz as the pair shook hands. Invited to eat at Horizon House with the welcoming group, Mehta declined.

"I do not wish to say anything about it," he told newsmen. "I believe we can talk about other things."

He said his government considered the incident a closed affair.

Tiny German Theater Seats 48 Customers

SOMMERHAUSEN, Germany — The "Little Arch Theater," smallest in Germany, draws thousands of persons each year to the village of Sommerhausen, which lies among the vineyards of the Main river Valley.

Performances have been resumed after the completion of structural changes, improvements and additions.

The 12-by-12-foot stage has a new lighting system, the 48 audience chairs have been newly upholstered and a new foyer, designed for art exhibitions, concerts, and other gatherings, has a display of drawings and etchings by Luigi Milipiero.

He is not only director and producer at the theater, but carpenter, actor and painter as well.

Charlie Chaplin Refuses to Honor U.S. Tax Claim

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charlie Chaplin is balking at a half-million dollar income tax bill from the United States for 1953 on the contention that he left this country for good in 1952.

* * *

U.S. Tax Court records showed today that the 66-year-old British-born actor has protested an Internal Revenue Service claim that he was a resident alien for the first three months of 1953 and was a nonresident alien doing business in the United States for the rest of that year.

The court documents did not set out how the Revenue Service arrived at this conclusion. Chaplin left the United States in 1952 under a cloud as to whether he ever could return.

* * *

Chaplin said in his protest of the tax claim that while in Europe in late 1952 he "abandoned any intention to return to the United States and made plans to reside in Switzerland permanently." At the same time, Chaplin said, he decided "not ever again" to do any business in the United States.

* * *

Chaplin, his fourth wife, Oona, and their four children were aboard the Queen Elizabeth in September 1952 when the Justice Department issued an order barring his return to the United States until officials could determine whether he could legally reenter under immigration laws.

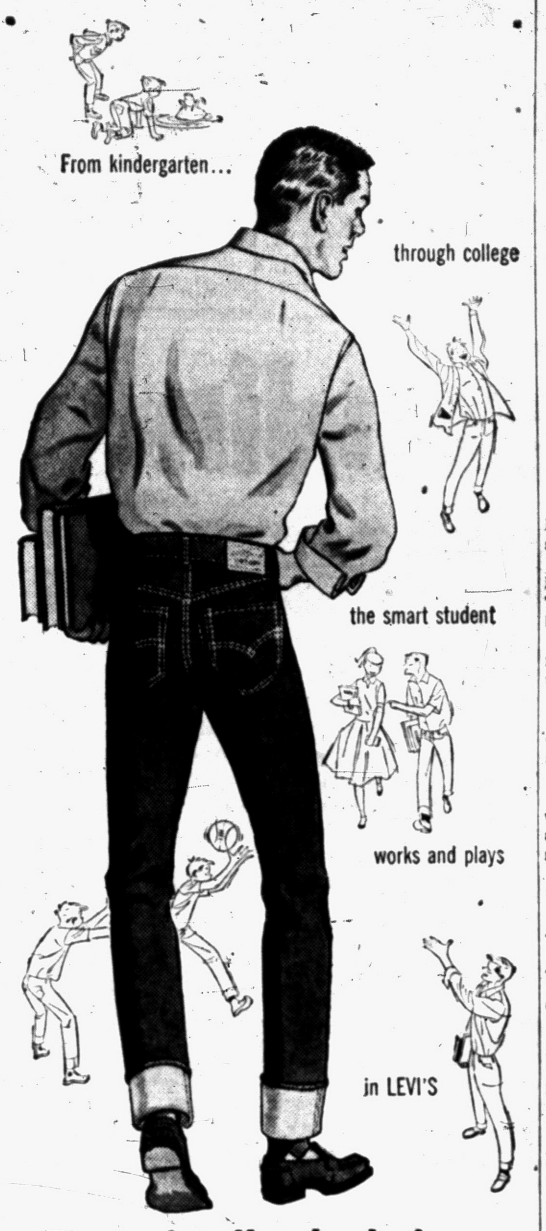

Tot's Devotion to Escalators Causes Search

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two-year-old Danny Wentworth's fascination with escalators led police on a three-hour missing boy hunt yesterday in Center City.

The Riverside, N. J., youngster wandered away from his mother in a downtown department store. It was 10 minutes before she could catch up with him—on an escalator.

All went well until they were about to board a bus for home and Danny broke loose and fled from sight.

Police were summoned and searched for three hours until a clerk in the department store, which was just closing, found Danny riding the escalator again.

Low-Caloried Cheese Made by Ohio Concern

WAPAKONETA, Ohio — A low-calorie cheese, said to be about half as fattening as the usual American cheddar type, has been developed by a Wapakoneta cheese-making company.

An ounce of its cheese, the firm says, contains 61 calories compared with 115 in an ounce of regular American cheese. The company says removal of fats and sugars accounts for the difference.

Bi-Tri-Focals Needed

CHICAGO — Three out of four eyeglass wearers past age 45 need bifocal or trifocal lenses. Many need cylindrical lenses to correct distortion or lenses of unequal power for the two eyes. It is estimated that only 3.8 per cent of persons over 45 have visual errors that could be corrected with ready-made reading glasses if they were lucky enough to select the right ones.

Plan Windmill Project

BOMBAY — India expects to set up during the next five years nearly 30,000 windmills to help irrigation and generate electric power for small rural industries. Cost of the project is estimated at $14,700,000.

He Really Collects 'Em

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. — The match-book collection of Dr. C. J. Higgs of Wilkes-Barre consists of more than 2,500,000 items.

THE BERRYS by Carl Grubert

Canada produced 184,763,000 pounds of leaf tobacco in 1954, about 45,000,000 pounds more than in 1953. Growers were paid $77,788,000 for the 1954 crop, $18,171,000 more than in 1953.

If you were to spend 8 hours a day, five days a week, sightseeing in the Smithsonian Institution, and gave a minute to each exhibit, it would take you 2½ years to see all the present exhibits.

Five Braille Versions of Holy Bible Printed

LOUISVILLE — The American Printing House for the Blind publishes five complete versions of the Bible in Braille, including four in English and one in original Hebrew.

The New Testament is published in Spanish, Portuguese, and Armenian Braille, and the Book of Mormon is printed for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

A Lot of Bulbs

FLINT — The miniature lamp bulbs used in 1954 by one division of one automobile company totaled $825,000,000 candlepower. That is equivalent to the illumination used in 750,000 average American homes.

Many Frog Species

LOS ANGELES — About 1,60 different kinds of frogs and toad are known to exist in various part of the world, but only 99 specie of them are native to the United States and Canada.

Bob Considine Says:

Don Ameche Deserves Credit for Big Race

CHICAGO (INS) — Maybe 50,000,000 persons, maybe twice that many, will read, see or hear about two minutes of horseracing at Washington Park today between a couple of beasts named Swaps and Nashua.

It's unlikely, however, that either animal will remember the event until sundown — the thoroughbred being the next-to-dumbest of all living creatures, topped only by people who bet on them.

It's racing's biggest day in years and Washington Park should resemble an outsized roulette wheel during the war days when patriotic homefronters were keeping up the morale of the boys overseas by betting black market profits.

But the man who made it possible won't be there. He'll be in New York, working overtime at his trade, which happens to be the theater.

* * *

Know how the Swaps-Nashua match came about? Of course there had been talk of such a race since Swaps beat the Eastern horse in the derby. But there's always such talk. Usually nothing is done about it. But this time something was indeed done.

Don Ameche, long-time Hollywood and radio favorite, now starring manfully in Broadway's "Silk Stockings" is the father of the Swaps-Nashua race.

* * *

Rex Ellsworth and William Woodward Jr., the respective owners, are hardly more than the godfathers and the same can be said of Ben Lindheimer.

Lindheimer is the Chicago trillionaire who owns the horse-park and is being hailed as a pretty game fellow for putting up $100,000 for the winner—a sum the public will refund him and his directors several times over during the day.

Ellsworth, Woodward and Lindheimer will take enough bows today to snap their sacroilliacs. If Ameche's name is mentioned at all it will be as much of an upset as when a horse of that name beat Man of War.

The Swaps-Nashua race came to life late on a Wednesday night in May at a New York saloon named El Morocco. Ameche, his wife, and Mrs. Toots Shor were seated at a table fanning Toots, who had just fainted after learning he had won the mambo contest.

Revived, Toots noticed Woodward at a nearby table; took Don over to Nashua's owner and introduced him. Ameche is a first-rate student of racing and breeding, once co-owned a string of 26 during the period when he had to hire relatives to help him spend it.

SOME HORSE TALK

"Would you like to see your horse meet Swaps again?" Ameche asked Woodward in the course of their horse talk.

"Yes, I certainly would," the man answered.

"Yes."

Ameche called his friend Lindheimer the next day with Woodward's approval. Lindheimer personally contacted Ellsworth and the race was sealed and set.

Hollywood Park and Monmouth appeared briefly in the act, Monmouth with a bid of $125,000. But it was Washington Park's deal from the start, thanks to the Ameche stimulus.

There was an understanding between Ameche and the Chicago track that the actor would handle the color description of the telecast. The understanding turned out to be completely one-sided.

Ameche made arrangements with the producers of "Sil" Stockings" to take off today. He was to be docked. With his understudy primed and other details attended to, Ameche called Chicago to announce he'd be in early Wednesday, so as to appear on morning TV shows to plug the race.

The Chicago American has asked me for my winning pick in the Swaps-Nashua match.

Without hesitation I select as my choice for winner that sterling champion of countless turf battles, that peerless leader and stout-hearted campaigner, the one, the only — Ben Lindheimer.

University Student Wins in Shootoff

By H. GUY MOATS

A late finisher in the National Skeet Association's sub-small gauge (.410) shotgun championship Tuesday evening walked off with honors that a naval air station chief electrician for a time was believed to have won.

Robert E. Rath, 21-year-old Northwestern University student at Winnetka, Ill., edged Kenneth Pendergrass of Jacksonville, Fla., Navy, in a shootoff after they had tied over the 100 target route with 95s. Rath's home is in Waterloo, Ia.

One other championship was determined by a shootoff. Young Eddie Harris of Galveston, Tex., defeated Kenneth Sedeckley of Baldwin, Mich., for the national sub-small sub-junior title. Eddie is 17 years old, and has been a regular contender in the NSSA for some time.

Continued high winds plagued the shooters in the big national scatter-gun championships at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club all day Tuesday. The trouble with the sailing "birds" was reflected in the fact that not a single 100 straight was turned in Tuesday. Only one was fired on Monday.

Another late-starting pair captured the sub-small gauge 2-man team title. Ben D'Orio of Utica, N. Y., and his veteran partner, Jimmy Williams of Rochester, N. Y. edged the Puerto Rican team of Capt. Alberto Guerrero and turned in 92-89—181 to 92-88—180 for the team from San Juan.

Altogether eight championships were determined in Tuesday's increased round of firing.

Today's action is centered in the national small gauge championships. Six subsidiary championships for the division will be shot concurrently.

Another highlight for today's program is the big champion of champion test, won last year by young Jaime Loyola. Winners Col. Salvador Roig of Puerto Rico.

One title stayed in Michigan. Where the Baldwin sub-junior lost his chance, 10-year-old Eddie C. Brown of Birmingham came through with a victory in the national sub-junior, shooting 97x100.

Other titles Tuesday were won by Fred Alford of Dallas, Tex., Mrs. Alphonse Ragland, a very personable and very efficient Dallas Texan, who won the women's event with a fine 87x100; the veteran Fred Missildine of Georgia in the industry division and George Docherty of Holyoke, Mass., in the sub-small seniors shoot.

One very interested spectator—for the present at least—was Laurie Saulnier of Halifax, N. S., who came from the longest distance, eastward, for his first try at the nationals. He will shoot only in the national open all-gauge, starting Friday.

He is the current Maritime skeet and trap champion. Saulnier only last week won the Scotian title.

Just being in the Nationals marks the 1st big part of a double ambition for the Canadian. His other big hope is to make a safari in the jungles of Africa. "That, I fear" the modest young man (he's 23, unmarried) pointed out, is a bit far-fetched."

In Halifax, Saulnier is a bookkeeper. He has been shooting skeet and trap for about nine years, he said.

"I heard the shooters talking about the wind here," Laurie commented.

"Up in the Maritimes we shoot along the seacoast. And the way the wind comes in over those heavy North Atlantic breakers makes the targets do a lot of funny things."

Attendance at the Waterford shoot picked up heavily yesterday afternoon, and "skeet alley" became heavily populated. However, the weekend audience is expected to pack the grounds at Waterford. Public is invited to witness the cream of skeet shooters in America in action.

SKEET VETERAN — For more than a score years now, former Maryland state Senator Joseph M. George has been on the firing line at the national skeet championships. Shooting in the current event at OCSC, Sen. George has competed in three nationals in Michigan. Besides the two at OCSC he shot in the 1937 nationals at Utica, he recalls. More than 1,200 trophies have been collected by the veteran skeeter, now 66 years old, but still a crack shot. Sen. Joe is a NSSA director and chairman of the rules committee. He fired a 75x100 Tuesday.

On 30-Day Leave

Martin Seeking Action, Place in Yank Lineup

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Billy Martin is ready to step into the Yankee lineup any moment Manager Casey Stengel needs his services and it's up to the Army whether he'll be available for the World Series if New York wins the American League pennant.

* * *

That's what the 26-year-old infielder, a hero of the Yankees' 1953 World Series champions, said in a between-innings interview at the Yankee-Athletics game last night.

"Let's just say I'm a soldier on 30-day leave," Martin said. "I'm due back in Camp Carson, Colo. Sept. 28. That's the way things stand at the moment."

The World Series is scheduled to open Sept. 28. Martin had been quoted earlier in the day as saying, "I've got the time to get into the World Series. All I have to do is send a wire and get a five-day extension of my leave."

Martin worked out with the Yankees yesterday afternoon, then sat in a box seat near the Yankee dugout to see his team dropped out of first place, 4-3, by the sixth-place Kansas City Athletics.

Martin said he was due for discharge from the Army Oct. 8 and if some of the formalities can be skipped he will be ready for the World Series in the event the Yankees make the grade.

"I'm in good shape and ready to go," Martin said. "I'm already eligible to play. I'll work out again tomorrow and then I'm anxious for Stengel to call on me."

* * *

Martin pointed out that he had played three infield positions with the Camp Carson team—in addition to outfield and pitcher—already this season and that he was in good condition.

Stengel said he was anxious to get Martin "back in the lineup."

Kramer Adding Financial Kick to Tennis Match

Promoter Is Seeking Professional Talent From Amateurs

Kramer is desperate for professional talent. He is ready to grab any amateur who can excite the public imagination. He already has issued "feelers", though no direct offers, to America's Tony Trabert and Australia's Lewis Hoad and Ken Rosewall.

The player who wins the U. S. Nationals next week will be in a strong bargaining position, if he has mercenary leanings.

Trabert, the Wimbledon champion, has put tape on his hand blisters and set himself to avenging his loss to Hoad in the recent Davis Cup matches—a defeat which temporarily knocked the Cincinnati youngster out of the pro limelight.

"I think Tony can redeem himself in the Nationals," said Bill Talbert, U. S. captain.

Hoad, with his explosive game, is the best prospect among the present amateurs but he has never mustered a sustained offensive which would carry him to a national title. Rosewall lacks the big serve and volley attack sought by the pros, but to add the U. S. National to his Australian title would boost his pro prospects.

Seixas, the defending champion, is seeded second and falls in the same half of the draw with Rosewall, who has beaten him in 10 of their 12 meetings. Hoad is the No. 2 foreigner and will play Trabert in the semifinals if the event follows form.

Minnie Minoso's Hot Bat Boosting Chisox in Title Bid

CHICAGO (AP) — Minnie Minoso's bat is the hottest it's ever been and one of the big reasons the Chicago White Sox are on top in the torrid American League race.

Minnie slapped out two hits last night to run his consecutive game hitting streak to 23 as the White Sox blasted the Boston Red Sox, 7-5, to take over first place by one-half game while the New York Yankees were losing to Kansas City, 4-3.

"This is hottest I've ever been," said Minnie, "and I'm glad."

Minoso has been belting the ball at a .430 clip in his last 23 games and has raised his average from .257 to a current .297.

"They say I no good after getting hit in eye at New York last May but I show them. I only get hit, nobody keel me," said Minnie.

"Eet was bad early in season. Minnie no hit, crowds boo and Minnie worry. I even go to eye doctor to see if something wrong. But he say get out of here, nothing wrong with you.

"Finally I say to Minnie, you no kid, you professional. So instead of worry I got up there to hit and I do pretty good.

"Team takes movies of me and I see I go for bad balls and I get hitch. So I stop all those things and I start to heet.

"I say to myself, pull ball and everything be okay. Pay no attention to boos. So I heet and now heeting better than anytime in my life. No more boos and no more talk about Minnie get heet in head. I never scare."

White Sox Manager Marty Marion pointed to his mail box and said "I had a lot of letters early in the season to bench Minoso. But we decided to string along with him. I haven't had a letter to take him out in a long time."

During his current streak, Minoso has raised his average some 40 percentage points, knocked out 9 doubles, 4 triples and 3 homers and has 17 runs batted in.

Swaps, Nashua Duel Today

CHICAGO (AP)—Nashua from the East and Swaps from the West—possibly the most brilliant 3-year-olds ever to be matched — take off today in what should rank as one of the greatest showdowns in thoroughbred racing history.

Each will pack 126 pounds—the same impost, the same distance, and the same jockeys as in their only other 1955 meeting—the Kentucky Derby. In that race, Nashua with Eddie Arcaro up, challenged in midstretch strongly only to have Willie Shoemaker and Swaps sweep on to a 1½ lengths triumph in 2:01 4-5.

Since then, William Woodward Jr.'s Nashua has won the Preakness, Belmont, Dwyer and Arlington Clasic for a sophomore record of eight triumphs in nine starts and winnings of $589,700, just $119,707 short of Citation's record as a 3-year-old.

The California-bred Swaps, owned by Rex C. Ellsworth, in the meantime added the Will Rogers, Californian, the Westerner and the American Derby to his list, compiling a record of eight straight victories as a 3-year-old, and earnings of $418,550.

Swaps matched an American mark in his last start, taking the American Derby Aug. 20 at Washington Park by a length over Traffic Judge in 1:54 3-5 for a mile and three-sixteenths on the turf.

The race will be televised and broadcast nationally starting at 5 p.m. EST, by CBS. There wil be parimutuel win betting only.

Odds list Swaps at 3-5 and Nashua 6-5.

Study Plans for World Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Representatives of all teams still in contention in the major league pennant races met today with baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to make plans for the World Series.

The series is scheduled to start in the American League city on Sept. 28. The first two games will be played there, the next three at the National League park, and the final two, if necessary, at the American League field.

Direct Eddie Victory

It was the 2nd straight victory for the 3-year-old chestnut gelding, owned by Ethel Linehan of Adrian. He covered the mile course in 2:06-3-5 and paid $6.20 straight.

Hammer Posts Win, Outpointing German

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Detroit heavyweight Mike Hammer started slowly last night but rallied with good, punishing body punches in the late round to outpoint Hans Friedrich of Dortmund, Germany.

Hammer, outweighed by 14 pounds, lost the first two rounds. He warmed to his task in the third and began stinging the German with blows to the mid-section. In the fourth round Hammer bloodied Friedrich's nose.

Shorthanded A's Lose Shortstop

Joe DeMaestri Is Hurt When Struck by Pitch in Yankee Game

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics, desperately shorthanded in the infield, lost shortstop Joe DeMaestri through an injury in the fourth inning of last night's game with the New York Yankees.

Minutes later the A's announced they were calling up Gerald Schypinski, 23-year-old shortstop from the Savannah club of the South Atlantic League.

A pitch by Tom Morgan struck DeMaestri on the right arm. He was taken to a hospital where first X-rays showed a bad bruise but no break. Additional X-rays were scheduled today. It was not known when he could return to the lineup.

Charles Confident of Win in TV Bout

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ezzard Charles, confident he can win and stay in the heavyweight title picture, may be a 2-1 underdog in his televised return match with windmill-swinging Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson tonight.

The 10 round bout in Cleveland arena between the 34-year-old ex-champion, who is trying a comeback, and the rising, 24-year-old Jackson will be carried nationally at 9 p. m., Eastern Standard time, on ABC radio and television networks.

DeMaestri's Six Hits First Since Piersall

NEW YORK (AP) — The only player to make six hits in one American League game this season was Joe DeMaestri of the Kansas City Athletics. He got his six in an 11-inning game against the Tigers on July 8.

No players collected six hits during 1954. The last man to do the trick before DeMaestri was Jim Piersall of the Red Sox who smacked five singles and a double in six times at bat on June 10, 1953.

Leon (Buddy) Carter, regarded as the next third baseman for the New York Yankees, has been optioned to Birmingham in the Southern Assn. Last spring the Yankees optioned him to Denver from where he was switched to Birmingham.

Devany, Wiffi Trip Opponents in WDGA Test

Sally Sharp Downs Foe, Four Ex-Champs Fall at Birmingham CC

Headed by defending champion Pat Devany and No. 1 challenger Wiffi Smith, favorites came through pretty much as expected in Tuesday's 1st-round matches of the Women's District Golf Association championship at Birmingham Country Club.

Miss Devany fired yesterday's best golf to inflict a 6-5 defeat on Mrs. Jane Israel. Pat was even par for 13 holes in the opening defense of her WDGA crown.

Four former champions were eliminated, only one of which could be considered an upset. Mrs. Betty Jane Wilson pulled a minor surprise by rallying to down Mrs. Rylma Marquardt, 2-1, in a battle between past titleholders.

Pine Lake's Sally Sharp, matching Wiffi in years with 18, trimmed Mrs. Harley Higbie, 5-4. The veteran Mrs. Higbie has won the WDGA title five times. Other ex-champ to fall by the wayside was Margaret Russell, twice winner of the event. Miss Russell bowed to Mrs. Susie LeClair of Ann Arbor, 1955 district medal titlist, 6 and 5.

Tuesday's other matches went the route. Mrs. Victor Ryden dropped two lengthy putts for a 1-up comeback victory over Mrs. Don Watkins. A 25-footer on the 18th squared the match and a 20-foot gem on the 19th ended it.

Helen Grinnell defeated Mrs. Janet LaBoskey, 2-up. Miss Grinnell won two of the last three holes to post her decision.

Eight remaining contenders resume action today with 2nd-round matches. Pat Devany meets Helen Grinnell, Sally Sharp meets Mrs. Victor Ryden, Wiffi Smith faces Mrs. Don Weiss, and Mrs. Betty Jane Wilson plays Mrs. Susie LeClair.

Pontiac Woman Wins as League Concludes Play

Mrs. Reginald Edwards of Pontiac shot a low net score of 38 to win Tuesday's concluding medal play in the Women's Silver Lake Golf League. Mrs. Fred Stimpert of Watkins Lake won the blind hole event, posting a seven on the 9th hole.

"Doe Day," event at which all golfers play in costume, will be held Tuesday, September 13. A picnic will follow golf at the home of the president, Mrs. Earl Weber of Maceday Lake.

Officers for 1956 were elected yesterday. They are: president, Mrs. Earl Weber; vice-president, Mrs. Fred Stimpert; secretary, Mrs. William Merritt of Pontiac; treasurer, Mrs. John McCallum of Drayton Plains.

Lions Down Druggists, 4-1, for Waterford Loop Sweep

Waterford Lions made a clean sweep of honors in the Waterford Township Softball League by downing Drayton Drug, 4-1, in the championship playoff final Tuesday night at Drayton Plains. Lions were also regular season champions.

Harlan (Fat) Keith was his usual invincible self last night, setting down the Drug nine on just two singles, one occurring in the 5th inning when the losers scored their lone run. Keith struck out 10 batters and walked only two.

After three scoreless innings, the Lions erupted for three runs in the 4th frame to leave no doubt about the outcome. An infield error, two singles, and catcher Art Ruelle's booming double sank the Druggists. The Lions added another run in the 5th stanza.

Three Lions collected two hits in three trips to the plate—Marshall Roose, Tom Studt, and Ruelle. In all, the winners rapped nine hits off the slants of Bill Goulet.

Two trophies emblematic of the league title and the tournament championship, the latter a traveling cup, were awarded to Lions. Dick Cooper of Dick & Wes, boasting a .389 average, received the batting trophy, based on 40 times at the plate. Lions' Harlan Keith received the pitching award while Drug's Bill Goulet was recipient of the sportsmanship trophy.

Turf Writers Take Poll, Swaps Favored, 19-13

The California colt was favored by margins ranging from a half to three lengths. Nashua's backers favored him by a margin of as little as a head to five lengths.

Breaking down the margins predicted, Swaps averaged about 1.4 lengths for victory and Nashua 1.2. Under this analysis, Swaps would win by a head.

BROOKLYN (AP)—At 36, Jackie Robinson doesn't exactly qualify for an old-age pension.

But you'd hardly expect him to be acting like a speed demon on the base paths—especially with his trick knee and other assorted aches and pains.

In the past five games, though, the veteran Brooklyn third-baseman has stolen four bases and has heckled opposing pitchers into tossing two wild pickoff pegs. Most important, the Brooks have won six of the last eight games in which he has started.

"I felt we couldn't go on the way we were," said Jackie today before heading for Ebbets Field for the scheduled game against the Milwaukee Braves. "We were losing and let down. So I was determined to keep running, safe or not. But I must admit I didn't expect to be safe so often."

The Braves finally stopped him last night, but the Brooks won the ball game 8-6, and it didn't make any difference.

A couple of weeks ago Manager Walt Alston announced he was going to give Robinson a thorough test before deciding whether to use him in the World Series—assuming, of course, the Dodgers won the pennant. Until then, Robinson had been in and out of the line-up all season.

"I feel pretty good now," Jackie said. "I'm hitting the ball better than I have in a ong time. But I'm still not competely ready.

"Something had to be done, though. In the spring, I said this was the most determined club I had ever seen. Everybody seemed driven by a desire to make up for last year's flop. Sure enough, that's what happened. We got off winning. Lately, though, that spirit seemed gone."

He pointed out that baseball people all over were talking about the Dodger slump and that something of that sort can get a club down.

Chicago Boxer Ends Ramazetti's String

DETROIT (AP) — Russ Tague, Chicago lightweight, snapped a 17-bout victory string for Dick Ramazetti last night, scoring a 2nd round TKO over the young Detroiter in the main event at Motor City Arena.

Ramazetti was helpless and hanging onto the ropes when referee Jackie Schwartz stopped the fight in 1:33 of the 2nd in the scheduled eight-round bout.

Second Division Teams Are Keeping Up Pressure by Dumping Four Leading Teams With Regularity

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No matter who wins the pennant, the American League idol will have clay feet and a glass chin.

The four contenders, one of whom must soon serve as champ, have been tagged with a sucker punch in 10 of their last 18 games with the second division, and a pretty scrawny second division at that.

* * *

Seventh place Washington and last place Baltimore banged the Chicago White Sox against the ropes last week, winning four-of-seven. Then Washington barred Cleveland's way to the top Sunday with a doubleheader sweep.

* * *

And last night, Kansas City, 24 games deep in sixth place, dropped New York 4-3, spilling the Yankees from first place into a second place tie with Cleveland. With that assist, the White Sox moved a half-game ahead with a 7-5 decision over Boston.

The White Sox didn't ride into the lead on a white charger. They made it with five unearned runs.

Cleveland, meanwhile, stopped the nonsense and moved up with a 7-4 triumph over Baltimore—but had the help of eight walks that became four runs.

* * *

Chicago, playing one less game than either New York or Cleveland for a five-percentage-point edge, tied it at 4-4 in the fourth with the first two gift runs. Then the Chisox put it away with the other three unearned runs while reliefer Millard Howell checked Boston on three hits over the last five frames.

Ted Williams, whose double opened a 4-3 Boston lead, booted a liner by Nels Fox for a two-base error to set up the final Chicago runs in the sixth. George Kell followed with a two-run triple and Minnie Minoso knocked in the gravy marker with a single, running his hitting streak to 23 games.

New York bunched three of its five hits off Alex Kellner to tie the A's at 3-all in the fifth. Then Hec Lopez gave Alex his 10th victory with a home run off loser Bob Grim in the bottom half of the frame.

In the National, Brooklyn went 13 games in front by beating Milwaukee 8-6 as Don Newcombe finally won his 19th.

Tuttle's Homer Helps Hoeft Blank Nats

"How about this!" exclaimed the smiling 26-year-old outfielder last night after hitting a two-run homer to help the Tigers to a 4-0 victory over Washington.

"I've got 14 home runs. That's more than I've ever hit in my life — even in the minors. My best mark was 11 with the Tigers last year.

A mistake?

"That's what I said," Tuttle went on. "Red Major made a mistake and ordered the wrong bats for me, a half inch shorter than I usually swing. Now I'm getting around a lot better on fast balls, especially on the inside.

"Like most players, Bill usually cuts down on the weight of his bat as the season progresses," Major explained. "He started out with a 35-ounce bat. Then it was 34, 33 and 32. I went ahead and ordered him a batch of 31-ouncers and accidentally made them 34½ inches, instead of the usual 35 inches.

"I didn't tell him about the shorter bats until he started hitting well," Major said.

"I sure wish I had been using the shorter bats earlier," Tuttle said. "I'd probably have 25 home runs by now."

Tuttle and Frank House took care of the batting punch and Bill Hoeft hurled a strong three-hitter as the Tigers bounced back from their sorry showing against Baltimore Monday, when they dropped a doubleheader.

"We were more relaxed out there," said House, who also connected for a two-run homer.

But it was Hoeft's near-perfect pitching for 4 1-3 innings which captivated the crowd of 20,097. Firing a red-hot fast ball, Hoeft faced a minimum of 12 batters in the 1st four innings. Jerry Snyder worked him for a pass in the 4th but was quickly erased in a double play.

Hoeft's spell was broken with one out in the 5th. Carlos Paula bounced a single over the box and into centerfield. Hoeft slammed his fist into his glove after the base hit.

"Heck, no," he said frankly. "I should have caught the ball. I should have thrown him out. I was only thinking about the game."

Hoeft permitted only three other singles as he ran his record to an impressive 14-7.

Tigers Recall Seven Players From Minors

4 Pitchers to Bolster Sagging Mound Staff Down the Stretch

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have recalled seven players from their minor league farm clubs.

Scheduled to report upon the close of the minor league seasons are pitchers Duke Maas and Dick Marlowe from Buffalo, Bob Miller from Augusta and Bud Black from Little Rock, and catcher Walt Streuli, catcher-1st baseman J. W. Porter and outfielder Chick King, all from Buffalo.

From a record standpoint, Miller, 20, has been the best hurler, compiling a 7-2 mark with Augusta, including a no-hitter, a one-hitter and a three-hitter. His earned run average for 17 games is 1.94.

Marlowe, 26, is 9-8 with Buffalo, while Maas, local boy from nearby Utica, Mich., is 4-7 with the Bisons. Maas, 24, has an ERA of 3.07.

The second one pictured is the closed stance with the right foot drawn back somewhat from the line of intended flight. The last is an open stance in which the left foot is pulled back from the direction line.

Many good golfers play wood shots and long irons with a slightly closed stance. The reason for this in general is to obtain a slight draw to their shots.

Of course, if an intentional hook is desired this is obtained by taking an exaggerated closed stance and shifting the grip a little right on the shaft.

If an intentional slice is desired on a wood or long iron shot this is obtained by opening the stance, playing the ball further forward, and shifting the grip to the left on the shaft.

The next night the Cubs and Pirates were playing a 1-1 tie. With one out in the ninth Long came to the plate. He hit a home run for a 2-1 victory.

Pontiac Area Dog Owners Reporting Wave of Thefts

With the hunting season drawing near, the annual wave of dog thefts is beginning to hit Oakland County dog-owners.

Phone calls reporting stolen dogs are pouring into the County Animal Welfare Society shelter on Walton Boulevard, according to a spokesman there.

However, a suggestion whereby hunting dog-owners may safeguard their animals was offered by Dr. Frank R. Bates, director of the County Animal Welfare Division.

"For purposes of accurate and indelible identification, persons may have their dog tattooed by someone designated by the state Department of Agriculture," Dr. Bates explained.

Only 75 Michigan dog-owners take advantage of this method of registration yearly. All that needs to be done is to apply for registration slips to the state Commissioner of Agriculture in Lansing.

Proof must be furnished by the individual saying that his dog is worth $100 or more. Then the commissioner will mail back the completed registration slips, along with the assigned identification signal.

"A tattooed mark of registration is then imprinted on the ear and left rear flank of the dog. A small digit or letter is all that's needed, and the tattooing is done by persons appointed by the Commissioner," Dr. Bates pointed out.

State laws provide stiff penalties for anyone stealing or keeping tattooed dogs valued at more than $100. If a dog is kept 48 hours without consent of the owner, the keeper is guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to fines ranging from $50 to $500 and a year in jail—or both.

"Besides, if a dog is not tattooed, it's nearly impossible to convict the robber in court," said Dr. Bates.

Animal Society members daily receive about a dozen calls reporting dog thefts and about nine dead dogs are picked up from the highways every day. Most stray dogs are licensed or bear some mark of owner-identification, Dr. Bates explained.

The process of dog registration is similar to the method used in car registration.

Shooting Titles Now at Stake

Rifle, Pistol Champs Squeezing Triggers at Camp Perry, Ohio

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—A field of 1,850 of the nation's finest military and civilian marksmen start firing today in the final phase of the 1955 National Rifle and Pistol championships.

Some 1,000 shooters will compete in the seven-day high power rifle contest for titles now held by Chief Warrant Officer Thomas R. Carpenter, a Marine from Encinitas, Calif., the U. S. service rifle champion; Marine 1st Lt. Clifford G. Tyron of Vista, Calif., the Marine Air Transport rifle champ; and Miss Helen Orme-Johnson of El Paso, Tex., the national women's title holder.

Shooting Dates Set

Birmingham Gun Club will be open for shooting every Saturday, from Sept. 3 through Oct. 15, according to Warren E. Bertolet, secretary. However, there will be no shoots after Oct. 15, for that month. Future shooting dates will be announced later.

Vic Cardell Outpointed by Jackie O'Brien

Eight Swimming Titles

Youngster Lands Rainbow; Big Fish Derby Nears End

Johnny Doan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Doan of 6810 Desmond in Waterford near Williams Lake, wasn't eligible for the Pontiac Press "Big Fish Derby" because he caught the wrong species and geography was against him.

But the 11-year-old youngster experienced the thrill of besting his father during the family's recent vacation trip to Michigan's northland. Johnny landed, unassisted, a four-pound rainbow trout measuring 21¾ inches in length. His father was engaged in catching another rainbow at the time.

Johnny and his parents were fishing in the Sturgeon River at Wolverine. The youngster caught the husky trout, which topped his dad's by two inches, with a fly rod and night crawler. It was Johnny's first big catch.

Final notice is hereby posted to all Oakland County anglers concerning the annual "derby." Contest ends next Monday—Labor Day—with $50 U. S. Saving Bonds as rewards for the fishermen catching the heaviest bass, bluegill, and pike. Entries will not be accepted after 12 noon Tuesday.

Fall Hunting Outlook Good

By JACK PATTERSON

Rifle shooters who may be attracted out Waterford way the next few days by the heady aroma of burned powder will do well to stop in a commercial tent and heft a new Model 88. Technically a lever action, the 88 is essentially a bolt action in that the breech bolt has a separate head with three locking lugs which turn into recesses in the receiver. Result of head locking no cartridge case stretch.

PATTERSON

The lever has a 40 per cent shorter travel than the Model 94 and the trigger rides with the lever to make for speedy reloading. Box magazine holds five cartridges plus one in the chamber for a six shot repeater. With its one-piece stock and streamlined receiver, the Model 88 is a slim and handsome piece. Chambered for the .308 Winchester, and weighing in at about six and one half pounds, the Model 88 looks like the best news for Michigan deer hunters to come from a major manufacturer in many a year. The gun will be available, in limited quantity, after September 15.

For big game hunters planning trips to the west and northwest this looks like a very promising season, according to Vic Blakeslee, Farmington. Vic, no stranger to the Rocky Mountain areas, just got back from an extended trip embracing most of the choicer heavy game regions and reports that he has never seen the big stuff so plentiful.

Note for deer hunters: From a wide variety of sources, covering much of the state, we gather that bucks are going to be somewhat more plentiful this year, and by and large are sporting bigger racks.

* * *

Most Ontario camp operators are planning to stay open through the moose season and most are getting booked up in a hurry. So, if a bit of moosing sounds in line, better get your bid in quick.

Dave Edstrom, just back from Ontario's Kwagama Lake advises that brook trout fishing has taken a real beating from the hottest summer on record. The fish are there but it takes prescience, a geiger counter, or both to find them. Once they're located, however, the action is fast and furious.

We've always considered the dardevle a pretty reliable lure for everything from brook trout to pike, but now we find it has virtues we'd never suspected.

Jerry Woolever and Ted Hubert were recently fishing a private lake for bluegills, and doing very well at it, by the way, when a fairish pike took a hooked 'gill that was being retrieved.

* * *

On the theory that where there's one there ought to be another, Jerry flipped the spoon back in and was immediately engaged in a tug of war with a snapping turtle of impressive dimensions.

While efforts were being made to boat the turtle it tired of the by-play, straightened out the hooks and repaired to the depths. We fear that such refuge is temporary because when last seen Jerry was muttering something about 50-pound test line, wire leaders and big turtles.

Tiger Notes

DETROIT (AP)—Billy Hoeft fanned fiev last night, running his total for the season to 124. That's 3rd best in the league, behind only Herb Score and Bob Turley.

Boone made a diving stab of Ed Fitz Gerald's liner in the 7th, while Kuenn went deep behind 3rd for Fitz Gerald's grounder in the 5th to make a force out at second.

Post Clouts Long Ball

CINCINNATI (AP)—After watching his young outfielder, Wally Post, hit several drives over the wall in batting practice, Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Redlegs said: "Post can hit the ball farther than any right handed hitter in baseball — and that includes Mickey Mantle of the Yankees."

EAST LANSING — Lyman Frimodig, former Michigan State football great and present MSU athletic business manager, in 1915 was the first Spartan to use a spiral pass from center.

REALIZES AMBITION — One burning ambition has been realized for a Nova Scotia visitor to the National Skeet Shooting association championships at Waterford. Laurie Saulnier (above) of Halifax, Maritimes champion, made good his ambition to shoot in a national title event by this trip. A safari in Africa is his other ambition along sporting lines.

To Satisfy Everyone

Trap, Skeet Shooting Combined in New Test

Something new has been added to the Michigan Outdoors picture—the 1st Annual Michigan Shotgun Championship — and it has been decided in an extremely unique manner.

NEFF

Heretofore proponents of both skeet and trap have considered their sport adequate as a means of sharpening the eye for actual lethal results in shooting live game. In the sport of skeet the contestants move around the arc of a half circle, shooting at clay targets projected from a "high" and "low" house at each end of the arc.

The path of the targets does not vary but inasmuch as the contestants are moving from "station" to "station"—a total of eight in all, the angle of fire is changing constantly.

Trap shooters, on the other hand fire at clay targets thrown from a point almost directly in front of them, near ground level. The trap shooters move over a narrow range to four positions behind the trap house, while the clay "birds" may be tossed at any of several angles.

It is known as the "Practice Bird Field," and was introduced for the first time at the Williams Gunsight Company in Davison, scene of Michigan's 1st Annual Shotgun Championship. This consists of a winding lane laid out in a big apple orchard. Behind trees, bushes and corn shocks clay target traps are located, triggered by a long wire running to the lane. Near each trap is a facsimile, life-size silhouette of a pointing dog, indicating the presence of the "bird." A guide accompanies each contestant through the practice field, indicating the pointing "dogs," and alerting the gunner for action. When the trigger wire is pulled the target may go at almost any angle, simulating the unpredictable qualities of hunting live birds.

By submitting the contestants to skeet, trap and the bird field, the Williams Brothers believe real shotgun proficiency is uncovered. Twenty-five shots are fired in each field for a possible perfect score of 75.

Denver Welcome Member

DENVER (AP) — The moguls of the American Assn. are glad they voted Denver into their loop after Kansas City became an American League city. Denver, formerly a member of the Western League, has been packing its park with customers. In one stretch of eight nights, the Bears averaged over 11,000 per game.

EAST LANSING — Michigan State's string of 28 consecutive football victories (1950-53) is the second longest in modern grid history. Oklahoma's run of 31 (1948-50) ranks first.

Old-timer Among Amateur Qualifiers

A lot of familiar names will be missing when play starts at Richmond, Va., Sept. 12 in the 55th U. S. Amateur golf championship. But there's one real old-timer ready to stand off the youth movement.

Results of yesterday's sectional qualifying rounds in 30 locations throughout the nation showed youth moving to the front and center. Then, right in the middle of the kids appeared the name of Johnny Dawson.

It takes a veteran to remember that Dawson, now a 52-year-old real estate broker in Napa, Calif., was a top-flight amateur golfer back in Bobby Jones hey-day—the 1920's. But yesterday he stirred up memories as he shot rounds of 71-67—138 to lead the Northern California qualifying field at Modesto.

Dawson's score wasn't the best of the day as nearly 1,500 golfers shot 36 holes each at 30 locations in an effort to win one of the 187 places still open. But it tied him with three others for third place.

The only better totals on a day when bad weather in many sections produced high scoring were a 132 by Hillman Robbins, 23-year-old clouter from Memphis, and 136 by wisecracking Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C. Robbins shot 66-66 at Memphis and Patton 67-69 at Greensboro, N. C.

* * *

Two of Patton's fellow members of the 1955 U. S. Walker Cup team qualified with 140 totals. They were Bruce Cudd, who did it Monday, and Capt. Bill Campbell yesterday. Two of last year's amateur quarter-finalists, Ed Meister and Dr Ted Lenczyk, also made the grade.

* * *

Among those who didn't make it were Don Cherry, Jimmy Jackson and Dale Morey of the Walker Cup forces and Ed Martin, one of the 1954 quarter-finalists. Martin lost out in a sudden-death playoff in the Boston district to Frank Souchack.

Yesterday's play whittled the original field of 1,507—an all-time record—down to 200 who will start at Richmond. Eleven players—five former U. S. Amateur champions, four former British champions and the current Public Links and Junior titleholders—were exempt from sectional qualifying.

Olson Fight Puts Giambra Back in Top Ring Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — Soldier Joey Giambra's fine showing in his non-title fight with middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson has moved the former contender from Buffalo, N.Y., back into the middleweight picture.

The handsome, 24-year-old fighter, now stationed at Fort Hood, Texas., was ranked as the fourth contender until he went into the Army. He was dropped from the ratings while he was inactive. Now he has been restored to a No. 8 berth for his strong, but losing effort against Olson last Friday night in San Francisco.

There were several other shifts made in the middleweight division and other minor ones in other classes in the latest rankings released today by Ring Magazine, the boxing monthly.

Gene (Cyclone) Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, was advanced to fifth and Milo Savage of Salt Lake City raised to seventh among the 160-pounders. Germany's Gustav Scholz has been dropped from the middleweight rankings because of eye trouble which has sidelined him.

Nino Valdes' loss to light heavyweight Bob Satterfield dropped the big Cuban from fifth to seventh among the heavyweights. Ezzard Charles, the former heavyweight king, advanced from sixth to fifth.

In the welterweight ranks, former champion Johnny Saxton of Brooklyn dropped from second to third, exchanging positions with Ramon Fuentes of Los Angeles. Argentina's Oscar Pita broke into the first 10 earning the No. 10 berth.

Kenny Lane, of Muskegon, Mich., was upped from seventh to sixth among the lightweights in a swap of places with Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland, Calif.

Jack Christiansen Sidelined by Injury

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Lions today said defensive back Jack Christiansen has a broken thumb and will not be back in the lineup until the Lions start their regular National Football League schedule Sept. 25.

Meanwhile, doctors at University Hospital at Ann Arbor, Mich., report quarterback Bobby Layne's sore shoulder steadily improving and say he will be throwing within a day or two.

4 Records Set as Speed Trials Draw Entrants

Bonneville Salt Flats Roaring With Engines of Numerous Classes

The records were in small engine classes. The 300 miles per hour mark being aimed at this year by the bigger cars stayed out of sight.

Roy Leslie of Denver, driving the Bob Jones Skyland Ford Streamliner Special with three Ford engines, was timed at 234.07 m.p.h. He set the record of 255.31 m.p.h for all classes here in 1953.

Two of the four records were set by John Fox Jr. of San Anselmo, Calif. He went to 118.271 m.p.h. in the H-Streamliner Class, in an English Cooper roadster racer with a Norton engine.

And in the H-Lakester Class — "drop tank" shape — he averaged 91.102 m.p.h. in another Cooper roadster with a Norton.

Paul Stratton, secretary of the Southern California Timing Assn., sponsors of the speed trials, said previous records in these two classes were "about" 109 and 89 miles per hour, respectively.

In the A-competition coupe class, Bud Koopman and Dan Betz, both of Whittier, Calif. went 109.60 m.p.h. This was the first record run in this class.

And in the D-modified roadster, Bill Niekamp and Bob Peterson, both of Long Beach, Calif. went 197.116 with a Chrysler engine. Stratton said the old record was "about" 170 m.p.h.

Lions Ignoring Argonaut Offer

Toronto Heads Outline Pact to End Raiding in Future Signings

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Lions turned a deaf ear when bosses of the Toronto Argonauts offered to settle their long-standing feud over signing of Lions players to play Canadian football.

Harry Sonshine, Argonauts president; Bill Ross, former president, and Charles Dubin, club attorney, flew to Detroit yesterday to confer with heads of the Detroit club.

The Lions said the Toronto officials were willing to sign a "no-raiding" pledge—but only for the future, and with no agreement to release the three Detroit players now in the Argonaut camp.

The Lions have filed lawsuits in an attempt to reclaim the three players—quarterback Tom Dublinski and linemen Gil Mains and Jim Martin. Martin is an assistant Toronto coach.

Truck Provides Needed Refuge for Tired Deer

THAYER, Mo. (AP) — Down here in the Missouri Ozarks the countryside dogs frequently gang up to run whitetail deer. But the deer are getting smart, too.

The other day a dog pack was bellowing on the track of a spikehorn buck. The tired animal veered to bypass a farmer fixing fence. But the farmer, Bud Chronister, straightened up and hollered:

The fagged out deer walked up to Chronister and docilely allowed the farmer to load him into a pickup truck. Then he rested up in the farmer's barn, eating hay and waiting for the dogs to depart before returning to his own environment.

Tom McMahon Leads in National Amateur Area Trials

Tom McMahon of County Club of Detroit gained the medalist position yesterday in the area qualifying trials for the 1955 National Amateur golf championship.

Evanston Wins Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Evanston, Ill., held the Colt League "world series" crown today after a double victory over Hamtramck, Mich., in national competition for boys 15 and 16.

Evanston defeated Hamtramck 7-5 and 2-1 yesterday in the double elimination tourney. Going into yesterday's games, Hamtramck needed only one victory to win the tourney, having a 3-0 record against Evanston's 3-1.

Montreal Player Receives Award Twice in Row

MONTREAL (AP)—Glenn Nelson, Montreal's slugging first baseman, is taking a stranglehold on the International League's Most Valuable Player award, capturing the trophy two out of the three times he has been eligible for it.

Nelson yesterday became the first man in the 24-year history of the award to receive it twice. He did it before in 1953, his first season in the league.

First Parachuter Relives Experience

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — White-haired Henry Wacker every year takes out a tattered bundle of yellow cloth and gives an airing to a famous old parachute. It's the chute in which Wacker jumped for his life from a burning blimp in July, 1919, and thus became Caterpillar No. 1 — first of the club of fliers who have parachuted to safety from disabled aircraft.

Wacker, an aviation mechanic for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., was aboard the firm's blimp "Wingfoot Express" over Chicago when it burst into flames. He was the first to jump with his crude, British-made chute, and pilot Jack Boettner followed.

It was the only leap for Wacker, now retired. "I give the parachute an airing out of gratitude every year," he said. "It's half scorched from the flames that enveloped the bag that day."

Grains Static, Marking Time

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains marked time on the Board of Trade today, not moving far in either direction.

* * *

The little rally of the previous session appeared to have exhausted buying power, at least for the time being. But there was no pressure to sell. Dealings slackened from the recent fast pace.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅜ to 5/7 higher, September $1.91⅛; corn unchanged to ⅛ higher, September $1.27⅞; oats ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, September 56¼; rye unchanged to ¼ higher, September 95; soybeans ¼ lower to ¾ higher, September $2.23½, and lard 5 cents lower to 8 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $11.15.

East Area Gets Steel Priorities

Auto-Train Producers Warned of Shortages to Exist at Mills

NEW YORK (AP)—Consumers' inventories of hard-to-get steel are approaching the critical point, Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, said today.

"Some users are pointing to low inventories as a weapon to bludgeon producers into expediting deliveries," the Publication said. "It's a last-ditch effort to stave off production line slowdowns."

* * *

Floods in the northeast, Iron Age said, have been "an added starter in the tight steel market. Flood-stricken communities in New England and elsewhere are receiving preferential treatment on steel requirements for rehabilitation of bridges, highways and other structures. . .There's no telling how much steel will be required for flood repairs, but producers and consumers already are anticipating a further tightening in supplies of structurals, plate and other critical items."

Warning that "the outlook for virtually all steel products is decidedly gloomy," the weekly added that major consumers show no signs of easing their pressure for deliveries already running as much as two months late.

"Auto producers are giving fair warning to the mills that model changeovers will bring no letdown in their steel requirements," it said. "In fact, a large automotive company has advised his steel suppliers that he sees no possibility of a break in consumer demand for months to come.

* * *

"The railroads, Johnny-come-latelies in the scramble for steel, are in a bad way for plates. Their ambitious carbuilding program is endangered by the scarcity of plates, which have been a tight steel item for months. They may have to cut back on their building program if the situation doesn't improve. And chances are it won't."

Church at Holly Is Scene of Wernet-Stiff Nuptials

DAVISBURG — Margaret Wernet wore a waltz length, princess-style gown with bodice of Chantilly lace and long, tapered sleeves of lace, when she spoke her recent nuptial vows with Robert C. Stiff.

She wore a crown of seed pearls and crystallette from which flowed a fingertip French illusion veil. Her cascade bouquet of white chrysanthemums and ivy was centered with roses.

St. Rita Catholic Church at Holly was the scene of the morning wedding.

Oxford Woman Is Hurt When Auto Overturns

She suffered severe bruises. Her daughter, Geraldine, 25, was treated for minor bruises and released.

Mrs. Willobee told Sheriff's deputies that she lost control of the car when it skidded on Baldwin Road at Hummer Lake Road.

New Car Output Boom Continues

Deliveries Will Exceed 1.75 Million Cars Before September Ending

By DAVID J. WILKIE

DETROIT (AP)—Retail new car deliveries during July and August are being estimated in authoritative quarters at a booming 1,200,000.

* * *

This is more than most car producers expected. They heard predictions early in June that deliveries would fall off sharply during the third quarter. Trade sources now are saying the total for the July-September quarter will go above 1¾ million.

The retail division needs that heavy sales volume. New car inventories have shown only minor reductions, as most producers kept output geared tightly to their retail sales reports.

September and October probably will bring the first major slash in dealer inventories this year. More producers, including Ford division and GM will halt assemblies during September for the model changeover.

But the sales effort will be pressed harder than ever. The outgoing model seems quite certain to be successful.

TWO MILLION MORE

So far this year the factories have built approximately 5½ million passenger units. In the same 1954 period 3,800,000 cars were assembled. There is no doubt anywhere in the industry that another two million vehicles will be built by the year's end.

More than half of them will be 1956 models, styled and engineered to make the present models look "old fashioned."

Probably all the forecasts of styling and engineering advances to be expected in the 1956 cars will make the retailers' outgoing model cleanup a bit more difficult. It is true, however, that most motorists are bargain hunters. Price concessions will influence a million or more of them to buy 1955 models in the weeks immediately ahead.

American motorists probably will spend well over a billion dollars this year for extra cost equipment. Taking the bigger share of these accessories are radios and heaters, power steering and braking and car cooling devices.

* * *

One trade survey indicates that for cooling devices alone some 90 million dollars will be spent this year. Guesses are that next year's investment in the same device will be around 200 million dollars.

The car coolers, with an average factory retail price of around $530, are the most costly of all the optional equipment items. But they represent a tremendously profitable potential for the industry.

* * *

Nobody close to the industry questions that coolers, in a much more economical package, eventually will become as popular as car heaters. It is because of this conviction among the car makers that more of the combination heater and cooler units are expected to be announced next year.

Soviet Paper Lauds Texans' Hospitality

A dispatch from the United States reporting the visit of members of the Soviet farm delegation to San Antonio and other Texas cities to buy cattle praised Texas hospitality and the quality of Texas cattle.

It said that the 60 head of Santa Gertrudis cattle purchased for shipment to the Soviet Union should be ideal for meeting Russian needs.

The breed thrives in dry areas, is not choosy about food and puts on flesh quickly, it said — just what is needed in the big Soviet drive to produce more meat for a growing population.

Elephant 'Queen' Dead

DALLAS, Tex., (AP) — Queen, an elephant at the Marsalis Park Zoo who has been pleasing crowds in Dallas since 1913, died yesterday at the zoo. Federal Judge William H. Atwell bought Queen in Kansas City some 42 years ago. He raised the money by selling "elephant meat" in Dallas at $1 a pound. Queen was between 65-75 years old when she died.

Fire-Starter Ordered to Make Safety Talks

PASADENA Calif. (AP) — A 26-year-old physical education instructor, who U. S. Forest Service officials say accidentally started a $500,000 forest fire with a camp stove, yesterday was ordered to make 20 public talks on fire safety as a condition of probation.

Municipal Judge Richard C. Fildew also fined Bernard V. Buck $100 suspending a six-month county jail sentence. Buck pleaded guilty to a charge of violating county fire ordinances.

District Ranger Carl Wilson said the three-day fire last month blackened 420 acres of watershed in the Angeles National Forest. Buc is a teacher at Pacific College in Los Angeles.

Perky Peggy Signs for Gobel

Jeffreys and Sterling to Star in November 26 Spectacular

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Kukla, Fran & Ollie came home to ABC-TV Monday night as. endearingly diverting as ever.

* * *

Beautiful Anne Jeffreys and charmboy Bob Sterling signed to star in Max Liebman's Nov. 26 spectacular of Rodgers & Hart's "Dearest Enemy."

* * *

FOUND IN VEGAS

Comic Morty Gunty was around N. Y. all the time but was "discovered" for tonight's Frankie Laine Time while cadging guffaws at Las Vegas.

* * *

Marlin Perkins will originate "Zoo Parade" this season from oodles of zoos in cities along NBC's system.

NBC's "Show Biz" spectacular (Oct. 9) of Abel Green's and the late Joe Laurie's hip history will star Groucho, Bert Lahr, Eartha Kitt, Dennis Day, Buster Keaton and Beatrice Kay, with more names to come.

* * *

"Music '55" is the best all-music TV show on the air, we've finally decided.

BENNY ON FILM

Little Gloria Balks at $32,000 TV Question

NEW YORK (AP)—Little Gloria Lockerman has taken her $16,000 winnings and passed up a chance to spell her way to more wealth on the $64,000 Question television show.

* * *

Here's how she figured it would be a hard question. It would be a jumble of words I never heard of, and then I'd be lost. I thought the sensible thing to do was to stop where I was. I'd rather go away and be Gloria the undefeated champion than Gloria the girl who lost."

"Besides," the 12-year-old Negro schoolgirl from Baltimore told newsmen after the CBS program last night, "its $16,000 more than I started out with."

She will net about $11,000 after federal income taxes, according to best estimates. She received $500 to use as she wishes, and master of ceremonies Hal March said the rest of the money will be put into a trust fund for her education.

* * *

Marine Corps Capt. Richard S. McCutchen, Worthington, Ohio, reached the $16,000 mark last night in his quiz category of cooking and foods. He named the flours and geographical origins of five kinds of bread.

Gloria was smiling and just as self-possessed as she was when she spelled "antidisestablishmentarianism" and other jawbreakers.

Firestone, Union Reach Agreement

CLEVELAND (AP) — Beating a threatened midnight strike deadline by less than one hour, negotiators for the CIO United Rubber Workers and the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. last night reached a tentative contract agreement affecting 22,000 workers in eight cities.

The settlement provides for a general increase of 12 cents an hour for Firestone employes in Akron, Ohio; Des Moines, Iowa; Fall River, Mass.; Los Angeles, Calif.; Memphis, Tenn.; New Castle and Noblesville, Ind.; and Pottstown, Pa.

Sinatra in California, Mum on Fox Lawsuit

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Frank Sinatra is back in California, with nothing to say about the million-dollar suit filed against him in New York by 20th Century-Fox Studios.

He flew in last night and parried all inquiries with a cut "See my lawyers!"

He did, however, say Gordon Macrae "is a good man and should do fine" in "Carousel," the film Sinatra walked out on last week at Boothbay, Maine.

Sinatra claimed he had been required to work on two films at once. Fox explained the picture is being shot in two processes but denied this meant two films.

Your Handy Helpful Hardware Man suggests:
How to Make a "Self Cleaning" Pan

Before winter sets in, you will probably have a few patching jobs to do around the house. Here is a little hint that will save you quite a bit of time. When mixing small amounts of plaster or concrete use a "self cleaning" container like the one shown in the drawing. This consists of a hand basin fitted with a sheet of rubber cut from an inner tube. When a job is finished, the rubber is lifted from the basin and shaken free of any dried and hardened particles.

Dems to Attack Farm Price Cut

2 Per Cent Drop Gives GOR Rivals Ammunition for Election Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new 2 per cent drop in farm prices today spurred Democratic preparations for an all-out attack on Republican agricultural policies.

* * *

Announcing formation of a nationwide agricultural advisory committee, Clayton Fritchey, Deputy Democratic national chairman, said his party expects to start "going to town" on the farm issue this fall.

"We regard the farm price situation as one of the most important issues that will come up in the presidential campaign," he said. "We are getting ready to hit it hard."

Fritchey said the Democrats' advisory committee probably will include governors, members of congress and dirt farmers. He said it will be charged with preliminary work on a 1956 farm plank.

Democrats in Congress generally have supported a return to rigid, high-level price supports, as opposed to the Eisenhower administration's program of flexible supports.

* * *

In its monthly price survey, the Agriculture Department reported yesterday farm prices tumbled another 2 per cent in August. Approaching heavy harvesting and marketing seasons threatened further downturns before the end of the year.

Heavy farm production, steadily increasing surpluses and reductions in federal price supports for some products have contributed to the price trend.

Love Blossoms at Playhouse in Traverse City

* * *

Four persons, including two noted theatrical stars, have married since appearing at the theater which opened in July.

Most recent was Veronica Lake, who starred in a production last week. Miss Lake and Joseph McCarthy, New York music publisher and writer, were married Sunday at Traverse City.

* * *

Bearing Troubles Plague Forrestal

ABOARD THE CARRIER FORRESTAL (AP)—Builders of the giant supercarrier Forrestal still hope to deliver the 60,000-ton flat-top to the Navy on schedule next month, even though bearing troubles have forced postponement of full-power speed trials.

Everything was going along fine yesterday when a propeller shaft bearing melted about 100 miles off Cape Henry, Va.

Because of this, officials of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co. decided to bring the great warship back to home base tomorrow, instead of Friday as originally planned. Changed plans now call for the Forrestal to go through her speed paces Sept. 19.

Plant to Be Expanded

MANISTEE (AP) — American Box Board Co. plans to spend upwards of $11 million in an expansion program at its nearby Filer City plant. Walter S. Goodspeed, company president, said new facilities include a third paper machine, pulp mill and bleach plant. He added raw material will come from the Manistee area jackpine and aspen forests.
