De Gaulle Opens Way to Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A message to President Kennedy from President Charles de Gaulle of France appeared today to open the way for detailed exploratory talks on formation of a NATO striking force armed with Polaris nuclear missiles.

De Gaulle's answer is expected to be discussed Saturday at Palm Beach, Fla., when Kennedy confers with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Thomas K. Finletter, the President's representative to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said Thursday night they would talk about "NATO problems."

Rusk, planning a few days vacation in the South, is also expected to confer with Kennedy about other foreign policy matters, including the drive for political unification in the Congo.

The prospects for creation of a Polaris missile force for NATO are not rated very high at present. But U.S. officials said that de Gaulle's message was at least not discouraging and the project which was launched last month in the Nassau conference is therefore over its first hurdle.

At Nassau Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan agreed that the United States would furnish Polaris submarine missiles to Britain as a substitute for the abandoned Skybolt airborne missile which Britain was promised several years ago.

Kennedy then sent a message to de Gaulle offering France the same deal for Polaris missiles that he had made with Macmillan. His over-all policy purpose is the eventual formation of an international NATO nuclear striking force as an alternative to the continued development of national nuclear forces such as Britain has, France is building, and other allies may undertake in the future.

Since the initial project would require U.S. and British and if possible close French cooperation, de Gaulle's response to Kennedy's proposal was considered by the President and his advisers to be of the utmost importance.

Link Wounded City Man to Post Office Holdup

Rufus J. Anderson Jr., 23, who was wounded last night by Pontiac police officers seeking to arrest him on a 2-month-old rape charge, was linked with the robbery of the Bloomfield Township post office substation at 7:30 p.m. yesterday.

Anderson is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital where he is a police prisoner. He was shot in the right hip.

The post office located in the Sabra Tailor Shop in the Miracle Mile shopping center, 2283 S. Telegraph Road, was robbed by a man wearing a handkerchief-type mask and carrying a pistol. He escaped with 21 blank postal money orders and purses of three women employees containing $56.

About 15 minutes later Capt. Donny Ashley and patrolman Robert Burns of the Pontiac Police Department, who were seeking Anderson on the rape warrant, spotted him at South Boulevard and Motor Street getting out of a 1958 Cadillac.

Anderson ignored the officers' repeated warnings to halt, they said. Then the officers opened fire.

Although wounded, Anderson escaped and broke into a home at 603 California. He was later captured and taken to the hospital.

BULLETS HIT HOME

Two of the bullets aimed low to stop the fleeing Anderson apparently ricocheted off the pavement and entered the home of Annie Mae Milton, 331 W. South Blvd.

One stray bullet broke a window and the other crashed through a window sash. No one in the home was injured.

Capt. Ashley said he and officer Burns purposely shot low to halt the fugitive.

"We were not shooting to kill," he added.

Police later found blank money orders and women's purses in the car registered in the name of Arzo Carson. Also found in the car was a blank-cartridge pistol.

MADE THREAT

Snow, Rain May Drop In

There's a chance of a light snow mixed with a little rain tonight or Saturday in the Pontiac area.

The weatherman said temperatures for the next five days will be about average, the high near 33 and the low about 21.

Twenty-nine was the low recording in the downtown area before 8 a.m. The thermometer read 33 at 2 p.m.

Asks for Probe in Pro Football

Bears' Halas Wants Scandal Story Sifted

CHICAGO (UPI)—George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, has asked the National Football League to make an investigation of rumors of a possible pro football scandal, it was revealed today.

George Halas Jr., son of the Bear owner and secretary of the team, said NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle was asked to look into reports that "fellows in the league were associating with some undesirable types."

It is league policy to investigate such reports whenever they occur, Halas said.

It was reported here the rumors concerned a number of NFL teams and involved activities stretching back over a period of two years.

Halas was quoted as saying he learned of the rumors a few weeks ago and asked Rozelle for an investigation to determine whether any members of the Bears were involved.

Congo Leader Renews Plea for Negotiation

Tshombe Warns He'll 'Fight to End' if U.N. Continues Advance

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States urged Katanga President Moise Tshombe today to "end promptly" his secession efforts in the Congo, including a threat of a "scorched earth" policy.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katangan President Moise Tshombe was reported today making a new bid for negotiations as U.N. combat forces prepared to close in on the remnants of his resistance forces at Kolwezi.

But if there are no negotiations and U.N. troops continue advancing, Tshombe declared in an interview, "We shall fight to the end. If Kolwezi falls, then we will fight in the bush."

Tshombe was interviewed in Kolwezi by Adrian Porter of The Associated Press and a Belgian newsmen as U.N. Indian, Irish and Ethiopian troops chased dwindling Katangan forces out of Jadotville without a fight.

A rear-guard of Tshombe's gendarmes and white mercenaries fled in automobiles seized from civilians, yielding the important copper and cobalt producing center which they had threatened to defend street by street.

The victory left U.N. forces in control of up to three-fourths of Katanga's ore-producing facilities. Tshombe left Jadotville earlier with the main body of Katangans and set up the remnants of his government in Kolwezi, 150 miles northwest of his former capital of Elisabethville and 80 miles beyond Jadotville.

WILL NEGOTIATE

"I hear that (U.N. Secretary-General) U. Thant wants me to start negotiations," Tshombe said. "I am disposed to do so."

He said he had been waiting in vain for a U.N. plane to pick him up to return to Elisabethville for talks and also for word from the American and British consuls in Elisabethville guaranteeing his safety.

There was no indication here on what Tshombe based his statement that Thant wished negotiations. The secretary-general on Wednesday rejected Tshombe's (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Estes, of Pontiac Motor Division; Calvin J. Werner, of GMC Truck & Coach Division; and Thomas F. Weithorn, of Fisher Body Division's Pontiac Plant.

Pontiac Nearly Hits All-Time Sales High

Sparked by the best fourth quarter in its history, Pontiac Motor Division last year came within about 3,500 units of breaking all existing divisional sales records.

E.M. (Pete) Estes, Pontiac Motor general manager, today announced that sales of Pontiacs and Tempests for 1962 totaled more than 543,000 units.

This figure is topped only by the record 546,531 cars sold in 1955.

In his year-end statement, Estes said all indications pointed to continued "high-level" sales throughout 1963.

"We have solidified our third-place position in the industry by about 80,000 units and if the present trend continues Pontiac will break all sales records for the division this year," Estes stated.

Sales in the last three months have been "exceptional," according to Estes. "For nine consecutive 10-day sales periods since the introduction of our new models on Oct. 4, we established new sales records," Estes noted. "Sales in October, November and December were the best in our 36-year history."

Pontiac sales also showed a 42 per cent increase over the 380,134 cars sold a year ago. This Estes pointed out, was the largest percentage increase shown by any domestic automobile manufacturer.

"To us this is strong evidence of the outstanding public acceptance of our new models," Estes asserted. "It also is the first time in seven years that we have sold more than half-a-million cars."

Consumers, Edison

Join Power Project Plans

Michigan's two large power companies, Consumers Power Co. and the Detroit Edison Co., will be working more closely together in the future.

Future planning and construction, a joint announcement from the two utilities said today, will be more closely coordinated to serve the state.

Top on the list of projects included in the planning are: 1 — Interconnecting extrahigh-voltage transmission lines. 2 — Large generating facilities. 3 — A "pumped storage" project near Ludington.

Actually, electrical interconnections between the two firms have been in existence for several years. Since 1928 they have joined power supplies in various parts of the state to facilitate supplying emergency power.

The new agreement, an Edison spokesman explained, formalizes what the two utilities have been doing on a more informal basis in the past.

It will enable Consumers and Edison, he said, to take advantage of the latest work being done in high-voltage transmission and larger generators.

Consumers and Edison were two of the larger companies involved in the construction of the Enrico Fermi nuclear power plant at Monroe.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
Red China's leaders appear to suspect Nikita Khrushchev of playing around with the idea of a nuclear weapons understanding with the United States.

The Red Chinese indicate they believe superiority in nuclear weapons should be built up and maintained to help force communism on the rest of the world.

RYAN

To have the potential and shrink from brandishing it for practical political purposes because of the risks involved is a betrayal of the cause of world revolution, Peking seems to feel.

The year-end blast from Red China at Premier Khrushchev implies the Soviet leader is flirting with the idea of a long-term toleration of the Western system during which competition would be used to produce a "new international order" through some kind of peaceful evolution. Such an idea, Peking asserts, is outright revision of Leninism.

Ostensibly, the 10,000-word editorial in the Peking People's Daily of Dec. 31 is a response to statements at the recent Italian Communist party by Red boss Palmiro Togliatti. But the Soviet premier is the target. He is not mentioned by name. But the editorial repeatedly lambastes "some people."

The Chinese themselves are believed working to produce an explosion that will vault them into the nuclear weapon club. Until they do, the U.S.S.R. is the only power which can use the weapon as a lever to force Red expansion.

What should be done, in the Peking view?

In a mass of Communist double-talk, the editorial lays down recommendations.

"U.S. imperialism," says the editorial, "is doing its utmost to disseminate dread of nuclear weapons in pursuit of a policy of nuclear blackmail."

By nuclear blackmail, it means preventing Communists thrusts, such as the attempt to install nuclear-capable missiles in Cuba.

Thus, Peking contends, it would be wrong for Communists to further Western propaganda by admitting a possibility of cataclysm for both sides in a nuclear war.

Money Used for Purchases, Wages Here

$243-Million Total Credited for Increase in Local Business

General Motors Corp. today revealed that it spent more than $243 million in Pontiac in 1962 — a $53-million increase over 1961.

The GM expenditures — consisting of wages at and local purchases by Pontiac Motor Division, the Fisher Body Plant and GMC Truck & Coach Division — were the basis for a steady increase in business and financial trends in the Pontiac area last year.

As payrolls and employment rose, so did employment investments in U. S. Savings Bonds and contributions to the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Also highlighting 1962 were several production milestones at local plants and the largest award ever granted to an employee under GM's suggestion plan.

This announcement was issued jointly by the general managers of GM's three local divisions, E. M. (Pete) Estes of Pontiac Motor Division, Calvin J. Werner of GMC Truck & Coach and Thomas F. Weithorn of the Fisher Body plant.

Their statement "said employee earnings for the year totaled nearly $200 million. An additional $43.7 million was paid to 985 local businesses for supplies."

Employment at the three GM facilities climbed to a monthly average of 24,414, up 1,400 over 1961. In December, the average number of employed rose to 27,685.

Employees invested $3.6 million in U.S. Savings Bonds purchased through the payroll deduction plan, up $700,000 over the previous 12-month period.

More than $376,000 was awarded to local employees for their ideas submitted under the GM suggestion plan, up 45 per cent over 1961. Edward Sutherland, a 24-year-old engineering department employee at Pontiac Motor, was awarded $8,333 for two product improvement suggestions.

It was the largest award ever made to a GM employee at one time during the 20 years the GM Suggestion Plan has been in existence.

Employees at the three plants contributed a record $306,643 to the Pontiac Area United Fund, topping their previous record set in 1961 by more than $37,000. General Motors made an additional corporate gift of $133,000 to the local drive.

60 GIs Capture Viet Cong Unit

TAN HIEP, Viet Nam — A U.S. Army colonel from Texas, reported earlier near Tan Hiep. Two government soldiers were killed and 12 wounded after a clash six miles northwest of here.

Reports reaching Saigon, the South Viet Nam capital, said the government forces, avenging Wednesday's setback, had flushed out an estimated 200 Red Guerrillas.

Apparently all American advisers in the area moved in with the government units to assist in trapping the guerrillas who on Wednesday smashed an attacking force and killed 65 Vietnamese troops and three Americans.

The government claimed that 101 Viet Cong were killed in the engagement Wednesday.

Newsmen at the scene after the battle said only three guerrilla bodies were found.

It was generally assumed, however, that Viet Cong casualties were heavy because of a subsequent heavy air attack on the guerrillas' position, and that the Communists had spirited their dead away through the canals and rice fields.

The Vietnamese were trying to cut off fleeing Communist Viet Cong who attacked in force from nearby Ap Bac Wednesday, killing three Americans and wounding 10 others. Sixty-five government troops were killed in the Communist trap.

"I'm not trying to fight these people's war for them," Vann said. "Our sole reason was to protect that major."

The Americans carried automatic weapons but were under orders from Vann not to fire unless the Communists opened up. He said the Americans did not need to use their weapons.

Vann sent the American patrol out in jeeps and on foot at 10 a.m. By early afternoon they had completed their operation and returned to their advisory roles and field cooking stoves.

Pay Raise to Be Asked for Troops

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration will ask Congress to raise the pay of active duty servicemen and reservists an average of 14.4 per cent.

The estimated annual cost of the proposed pay increase is about $1.75 billion. About four million persons would get the boost.

President Kennedy has given his approval to the plan, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said Thursday. It will be submitted to Congress this month.

The estimated cost is large, McNamara said, "but I believe it to be fully justified."

"Remote and isolated duty" pay for both officers and enlisted men would be substituted for "sea and foreign duty pay." The re-enlistment bonus for enlisted men the military wants to keep because of special skills would give way to a variable career incentive pay. The retirement pay system would be based on cost-of-living changes instead of merely on length of service.

The first reaction from Capitol Hill was cautious.

In the Senate, those familiar with the views of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said some form of pay increase legislation would be approved, but not necessarily in the form and amount proposed.

On the House side, Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., chairman of that body's Armed Services Committee, told newsmen he will not comment on the bill until he sees it. Vinson said that the measure would not have first priority on the calendar.

JFK Gets Plea to Halt Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Telstar went back into action today, transmitting television programs across the Atlantic, its radiation sickness overcome by a kind of electronic aspirin.

The communications satellite had been out of operation for six weeks.

Engineers of the Bell Telephone Laboratories diagnosed the trouble, blamed on radiation, and found a way to restore normal operation.

In essence, one transistor in Telstar's command decoder was running electrical fever, refusing to act on command.

The remedy was a trick code which cut off the electrical fever, not unlike an aspirin.

Fear Crackpots Out to See the Governor

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Romney's enthusiasm for the plan to turn each Thursday morning over to five-minute sessions with private citizens isn't universally shared by experienced State Capitol hands.

And some of Romney's own aides hinted they were skeptical yesterday after the first few calls came in from people requesting—or demanding—to see the governor.

"Sure," said one veteran of previous administrations, "he'll have some sincere visitors. But he's also liable to have his hands full with crackpots.

"There'll have to be some way to screen them out, whether the Governor likes it or not."

Romney, in announcing his plan at the first official news conference Wednesday, shrugged off this concern by saying he believes it's "a matter of opinion whether or not a person is a screwball."

He said the sessions, limited to five minutes by a bell, will be conducted in the privacy of his office but probably with an assistant present.

The visitors will be received on a first-come, first-served basis, with no appointment necessary.

Richard Coleman, on of the three state troopers assigned to Romney's driver-bodyguard detail, admitted the plan ran counter to his protective instincts.

"I want to talk to the governor about it," said Coleman, "and at least agree to leave the office door open. I want to know what's going on in there when the visitor is a total stranger."

Workers in the governor's office said public reaction to the "citizen session" plan was swift, but not overwhelming. A handful of calls were received Wednesday afternoon and yesterday.

To each caller, secretaries patiently explained that the visiting plan won't go into effect until Jan. 17.

Among the first requests for a visit was one from a woman who wanted Romney to sign a "welcome wagon" letter to new residents of Eaton County, a woman with five children and "lots of problems," and a man who had a picture he thought the governor would like to see.

School Unit For Costlier Building

The Pontiac Board of Education retained its aesthetic sense last night when it favored a more elaborate design for a proposed, new board office building in the Civic Center.

The school board members agreed that the additional $30,000 cost would be well spent to provide a striking architectural contrast at the center.

Favored over the usual rectangular construction was a six-sided structure built into the side of a hill, just south of City Hall.

The cost of the proposed building is estimated at $493,500 by the architects, Eberle M. Smith Associates, Inc.

The cost of purchasing the 3.2-acre site from the city would be approximately an additional $50,000.

School officials are hoping to complete construction of both the new office building and a new service building before the end of the year.

PLAN TO MEET

They plan to meet with the City Commission either Jan. 16 or the 24th to discuss the purchase of sites.

The service building, containing maintenance shops and warehouses, is proposed for construction at Montclair Avenue and N. Saginaw Street. It will cost an estimated $516,875.

Preliminary plans for the office building only have been completed by the architects to date.

They call for glass, aluminum and precast concrete construction.

The building would contain a total of 23,500 square feet on two levels.

The site would be sufficient to provide for future ground-level expansion of the building if necessary.

Initial construction—all that is planned at this time—would be financed through a bond issue to be retired within the existing tax rate, according to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools.

The present school board building at 40 Patterson St. is scheduled for demolition under the city's urban renewal program.

Romney Vows Open Housing

Tells Parley He'll Use Power of State

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. George Romney told the Metropolitan Conference on Open Occupancy yesterday he would use the power of the state to bring equality in housing to Michigan.

The governor, who added to his prepared text because he said it was not strong enough for the occasion, said he believes Michigan's climate is right for legislative action in the field of civil rights.

Romney told the crowd of more than 1,200 that "Discrimination is our most urgent domestic problem."

He stressed repeatedly that the decision to treat all men equally is an individual responsibility, a matter of spiritual and moral ethics.

"I believe there is a sufficiently broad acceptance of equality in housing, education and employment to permit appropriate action in some areas of state legislation," he said.

Romney said the proposed new constitution will give Michigan "the strongest civil rights guarantee of any state in the nation."

The proposed document calls for a bipartisan civil rights commission.

"Like the existing Fair Employment Practices Commission, the Civil Rights Commission will depend mainly on persuasion, conciliation and education," he said. "The FEPC has proved that such techniques are successful by processing hundreds of cases without litigation. But when persuasion fails, the state can use its powers of regulation and enforcement."

He added that when the new constitution is approved he would "appoint members of the commission on the basis of demonstrated interest, moral courage and competence. I shall recommend appropriations for sufficient staff and a vigorous educational and enforcement program."

Adult Education Adds Several New Courses

BIRMINGHAM — Several new courses will be offered during the winter term of the Continuing Adult Education Program of the Birmingham Public Schools, beginning Jan. 21, it was announced today.

One of the new courses to be offered will be the "Birmingham Community Band" directed by Arnold Berndt, coordinator of music, Birmingham Public Schools.

This band is open to any adult who has had some previous experience playing a band instrument. A limited number of less common instruments i.e. bass drum, tuba, will be loaned for rehearsals.

The group will meet on Monday evenings in the Seaboard Band Room.

"Connoisseur's Kitchen" will be offered for men and women who are interested in gourmet cooking. Participants will observe the preparation (and sample the results) of such specialties as caviar and egg mousse, Islander shrimps (Polynesian), French Chocolate Roll, wild rice supreme, stuffed artichokes magnificent, veal scallopini a la Marsala Romano.

The class will meet Tuesdays at Groves High School.

Two new crafts courses will be offered. One will be an introductory course using various craft materials and tools and will emphasize design. A variety of media will be explored, including plastic, copper, enamels, papier-mache.

A second course will introduce a variety of craft techniques related to woods i.e. fiberglass liquid resin, veneer lamination, mosaics. Tools and machines will be available for lathe work and furniture building.

Other regular course offerings will include all phases of the creative arts, home making, reading improvement, photography, business courses, and French, Spanish and Russian foreign language.

Registration will begin Monday continuing through Friday, January 18. Those interested in enrolling can register from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily in the Continuing Education office located on the second floor of the Board of Education Building, Chester and Martin Streets, Birmingham.

Because a water main connection is being made at Baldwin Avenue and Montclair Street, Baldwin Avenue will be closed to traffic from 7 a.m. Saturday until Sunday evening.

Recommended alternate routes are: Northbound, Oakland Avenue to Montclair to Baldwin; southbound, Montclair to either Saginaw or Summit streets.

Baldwin will be closed between Cityline Street and Montclair.

The connection is being made between a 24-inch main and an existing 16-inch main, which is part of the city's construction program preparatory to bringing water to Pontiac.

TO ACHIEVE LOW COST

"The plan," they said, "is simply the extension of a long-standing endeavor on the part of both Detroit Edison and Consumers aimed at the fullest and most productive use of one of our state's greatest industrial assets," the announcement asserted.

The announcement was a joint statement of Walter L. Clesler, president of Edison, A. H. Raymond Jr., Consumers' board chairman, and James H. Campbell, president of Consumers.

CONSUMERS POWER DETROIT EDISON INTERCONNECTED POWER SYSTEMS

The new generators could be larger in size.

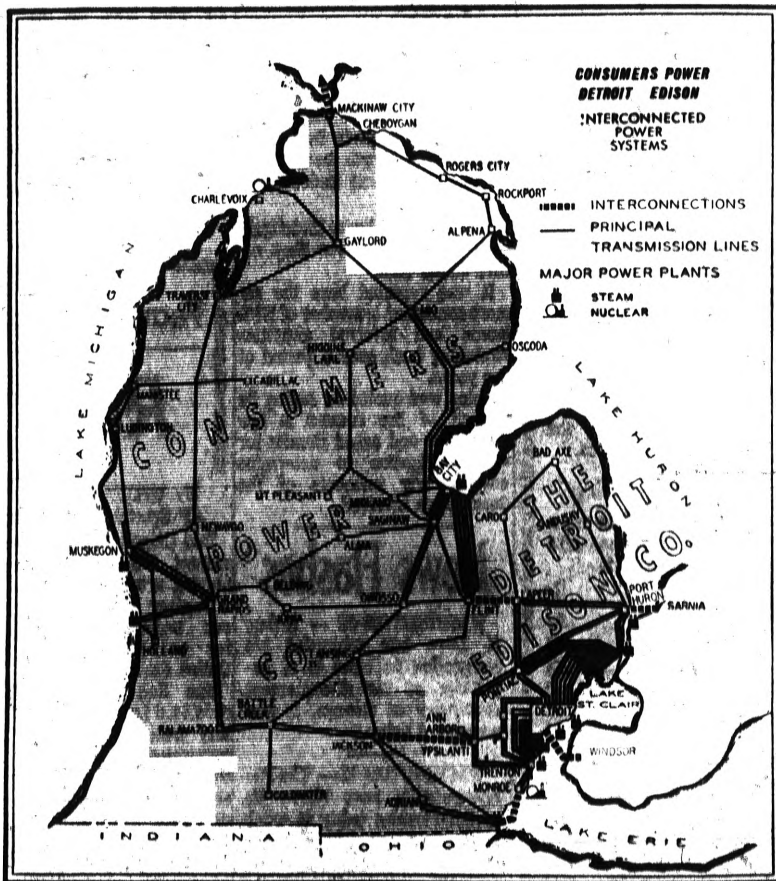

The two firms announced that "the practicality of a 'pumped storage' project which would be located on the shore of Lake Michigan near Ludington has been established."

There, water would be pumped from the lake into a reservoir at an elevation of 300 feet above the lake. This would be done during the night when power demand is relatively low.

Then, to meet peak demands during the daytime, water would be discharged, back into Lake Michigan through hydroelectric generating units.

Studies for such a system are now under way. While planning for such a unit will be on a two-company level, it will not necessarily be owned or operated on a joint basis, the Edison spokesman explained.

The joint statement noted that the whole program will be financed entirely with investor funds and without financial assistance from a government.

Tax Rules Hazy on Borderline Expenses

(Editor's Note — The tax rules on business entertaining have undergone significant change. Their effect on the businessman and the shadow area where his business and personal life overlap are examined in this third in a series of three articles.)

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many Americans have raised their standard of living—and drinking and playing—by deducting personal outlays as business expenses.

But the government changed the rules as of Jan. 1 with an income tax regulation that demands solid substantiation of all claims for business entertainment, gifts and travel.

The spoilsport 87th Congress declared, in effect, that the Treasury will no longer absorb bar bills, supper club checks, greens fees or club dues unless the spender proves a business-getting purpose.

In translating the law into a 33-page regulation, Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin of the Internal Revenue Service has struck with special force at what he called "great discrepancies and some deliberate abuses and fraud" in business entertaining.

The rules could cause a ripple of resignations from country clubs, a weakening of the brisk market for private swimming pools and the forced sale of some fancy pleasure boats.

WAILS HEARD
Even before the regulation was issued there were wails from cocktail lounge and night club owners, as well as forecasts of distress among entertainers, waiters, bartender strippers, cigarette girl and even—as Caplin has acknowledged—call girls.

But Caplin had to hew to the letter of the law, even when it created some intriguing problems which still haven't been solved.

For instance, Congress said clearly that family and personal expenses could not be deducted as business expenses. It didn't say how to treat the situation in overlap.

For instance: A businessman can deduct the cost of taking his secretary on a business trip, but gets no deduction for his wife unless there is a business reason for her to come along.

When entertaining a client or customer, he apparently can invite the customer's wife along as a tax-deductible guest—but not his own wife.

DISCOURAGED
Business entertaining at home is discouraged. It will be difficult, Caplin says, to claim a business deduction for the usual cocktail party because the law doesn't recognize the costs of general goodwill entertainment.

The tax status of wives will be clarified, IRS promises, in further regulations due next month. None too soon, it would appear, for Caplin already has been accused in official hearings of fostering "moral decay."

The basic rules are clear, however—painfully so, to those ready spenders who didn't need big bankrolls because they had fat expense accounts.

Deductions are allowed for a meal or other entertainment which directly precedes or follows a substantial and bona fide business discussion. Every such outlay must be entered in the taxpayer's expense diary. If it comes to $25 or more, a receipt or voucher must be kept.

The diary entry must show the amount spent, the date, the name and location of the place, the kind of entertainment, the business reason for the entertaining, and this additional set of facts.

The name of each person entertained, as well as his title or other designation sufficient to establish a business relationship with the taxpayer.

These exceptions are noted:
1. Other guests need not be named, if they have no business connection. IRS will spell out, in a future regulation, how to figure the deductible portion of the cost.
2. Company secrets or classified matters need not be told in the expense diary, so long as they are recorded and kept available to revenue agents on demand.

3. If there are a number of business guests, not all need to be named. A satisfactory entry might read like this:

"June 10, 1963—Lunch, cocktails and tip, $62.50; Milford Cafe, Bridgeport; for T. L. Young, sales manager, Anchor Distributing Co., and his force of eight salesmen; to discuss promotion of new line of luggage."

Since any single expenditure of $25 or more calls for a receipt or voucher, IRS has had to offer some advice on what constitutes one expenditure. These may be helpful:

A dinner followed by a theater party would be two expenditures. Two rounds of drinks in a cocktail lounge would be one expenditure, even if paid for separately.

Drinks in a cocktail lounge, followed by dinner in a dining room, would be two expenditures. Drinks and dinner at the dining table would be one expenditure.

The tip can be included in the charge for meal or drinks, for record-keeping purposes. But if this would put the bill over the $25 limit, the tip can be noted separately.

The rules for recording business gifts are similar, in general, except that no receipts are ever needed. That's because Congress allowed no deduction at all for gifts exceeding $25 to one person in one year.

The names of gift recipients can only be left out of the diary if the presents are inexpensive—like tickets to a high school football game—and distributed to a number of persons.

SPECIAL RULES

Special rules have been written to curb abuses arising from the entertainment use of what IRS calls entertainment "facilities." The term covers dues paid to private clubs, the rental of hotel suites, and the costs of maintaining yachts, swimming pools, beach cottages or hunting lodges.

Many taxpayers have taken deductions for part of these costs because they were used for business entertaining. Henceforth no deduction is allowed unless 51 percent or more of the use is for business purposes.

To substantiate the 51 percent rule, the taxpayer must show in his day-by-day expense diary not only the business entertaining done, but also each use by the taxpayer himself or members of his family.

Whenever his wife plays bridge at the country club or the children go swimming in the pool, a dated entry must report "family use" or "personal use." It would be simpler, some businessmen feel, to quit trying to claim the deduction—or give up the membership.

Having established the proportion of business to family use, the taxpayer may claim as a deduction only the percentage of his dues which represents his business use of the club.

WOULD BE DOOMED

IRS offers one shred of comfort for the unhappy men in gray flannel: The "business lunch" apparently will survive.

This institution, honored by big and little businessmen from Seattle to Schenectady, would be doomed under an inflexible rule that entertainment must be tied to a direct business purpose.

But Congress left an escape hatch for the millions of businessmen who grab the check day after day just for the sake of "business good will" or "keeping up contacts."

The law lets IRS make exceptions for business meals when the circumstances "are of a type generally conducive to a business discussion." All that remains is for Caplin to decide what kind of luncheon atmosphere is conducive to talking business—instead of baseball—or taxes.

Could Ease Way for Tax Cut, Says GOP Leader

Moratorium Suggested on New Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy could ease the way for moratorium on all new federal spending programs "not designed to deal with actual emergencies," an influential House Republican said yesterday.

revenue of a tax cut, dollar for dollar, with spending reductions and loophole closings," Byrnes said.

if he would simply declare a moratorium on all new programs that are not designed to deal with actual emergencies."

estimates of the money that could be recaptured through so-called loophole closing have been exaggerated.

The suggestion came from Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican member of the House Ways and Means Committee. By giving this sort of assurance, Byrnes indicated in an interview, Kennedy might find room in the divided Congress for agreement on a substantial tax revision program within a reasonable time.

Kennedy's tax reform and reduction proposals will meet their first tests in the Ways and Means Committee. As senior GOP member of this group and as chairman of the Republican Conference, Byrnes is a principal spokesman for his party on revenue matters.

"I don't take the position that you have to make up the lost

He said he expects the Republicans to take a party position on the tax issue and to emphasize the need to control spending as part of any revision plan. But, in advance of specific details of the administration proposal, he declined to guess how the Republicans might spell out their attitude.

Commenting on Kennedy's statement that he expects to hold government expenditures except those for space, defense and fixed charges—at the present levels, Byrnes said.

BROAD TERMS

"The trouble is that defense and national security have become very broad terms and you don't know what spending programs would be exempted under those heads. I would be more confident

Instead of this, Byrnes said, the administration apparently intends to renew its efforts for such things as a large-scale aid to education program. Sources close to Kennedy have indicated, however, that he is not overly optimistic about chances for passage of an education program.

DRAG ON ECONOMY

Byrnes said there is widespread agreement that some tax rates are so high that they act as a drag on the economy and that it appears there is no way to reduce taxes without increasing deficits at least temporarily.

But he said the deficits must be held to a minimum—"We can't go on spending as though they didn't exist." He said he thinks

CUSTOMER PARKING IN REAR OF BUILDING

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — They didn't sell many of those auto seat belts in mink and chinchilla this Christmas. This must indicate that Americans think "the man who has everything" also has safety.

It's not true. Rich people have just as many (in fact more) accidents as poor people.

But rich people are just like poor in that they are unable to accept the fact that an accident can happen to THEM or their family or friends — and thus a rather noble gift gimmick, as gimmicks go, didn't quite catch on.

Now, a new safety device has been invented — a gadget attached to auto seat belts which prevents a car from being started, if the seat belt isn't fastened. But that won't catch on either because it's un-American.

In America, you can't force people to save their own lives. It's not listed in the Constitution, but one of our inalienable rights is the freedom to commit accidental suicide whenever we please. And we please, more than 40,000 times a year, on the nation's highways.

It's a curious thing about America's aversion to seat belts, chinchilla or plain. We know, because statistics tell us, that if we use a seat belt our risk of a fatal accident will be reduced by 5.1 to one. Our risk of hospital injury will be reduced by two to one.

Some of us know (because experts have told us) that in the next 10 years, every family in America will have an auto accident. That includes ours. And yet, in the next 10 years, how many Americans will buy auto seat belts?

Probably only 1 per cent of our 80 million cars will have belts in the next decade. And of the people who do buy belts for their cars, only 30 per cent will be using them at the time they have their accident. (This information is based on an extensive survey of car crashes in California.)

I talked some time ago with John Moore, considered the leading authority on auto accident prevention in America, former director of automotive crash injury research, Cornell university.

He was fascinating, cheerful about the antisafety attitude of Americans, and resigned. He said that if a doctor could give a man a pill and say, "Here — this will make you immune to death in your car," the man would take it gratefully.

But when the industry offers them a seat belt, promising it will drastically reduce his chances of accidental death, he spurns it. Does it have antibiotics? No? Can't be any good.

It's a frustrating business, Moore conceded, knowing you have a great cure for America's No. 3 "disease" (highway accidents rank just behind heart and cancer) and not finding more than an infinitesimal segment of citizens who'll take the cure.

SEEMS SIMPLE

"It seems so simple. When you're in a car, bus or subway, you are going as fast as the vehicle is. When it stops, you are still going.

"A body in motion has energy; every high school kid knows that. So we've worked out a device which, strapped across the pelvis, can soak up that energy and keep you from getting killed or maimed."

And nobody buys it. Sometimes, in some cars, it's given away. But few people use it.

Americans are cockeyed optimists. Ask them about seat belts and they'll say they're a good idea — for the other guy. But an accident? Couldn't happen to ME!

I'm sure we'll wake up someday. Realism is fashionable in literature and drama — it may become fashionable in people too. But meantime, don't tell your neighbor he's got to use a seat belt. He's got a right to get smashed up, just like those 5 million other guys who do it every year!

Williamston Man Seeks U. of M. Trustee Post

EAST LANSING (AP) — John P. McGoff, 38, president of Mid-state Broadcasting Corp. of Williamston, has announced he would seek Republican nomination for Michigan State University's Board of Trustees.

Down-to-Earth People Interest New Governor

After only a couple of days in office, Gov. George Romney has made it letter clear he will be a short-sleeve governor with his office door open to the taxpayers. Actually, he has never indicated that he would assume the hard-to-get "ivory tower" attitude that so many elected officials seem to figure is part of the office.

One of his very first moves was to announce that every Thursday morning his office will be open for five-minute interviews, or gripes, so that just plain Michigan citizens can have their say about how things should be run.

The Governor is serious about this and has emphasized that he wants to talk with folks from all walks of life. In his inaugural address he did not speak in glowing terms, but rather in the same dedicated down-to-earth fashion that he used throughout his campaign.

As a matter of fact, that is Romney's way of life. He is a man who seeks cooperation through a meeting of the minds.

Our new governor is striving for a team operation, which means citizen participation.

Will New Year Curb Arbitrary Labor?

Washington observers report that the KENNEDY Administration is aroused over strikes threatening the national safety and that changes in the Taft-Hartley Act are high on the agenda of presidential proposals for the new Congress.

Obviously, something must be done to safeguard the Nation against such costly stalemates as the longshoremen's strike which has tied up shipping along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

This dispute had already run its course under the act's 80-day cooling-off period without headway toward solution of the issues. The strike then went into effect.

Led by congressional labor investigator Democrat Sen. JOHN L. MCCLELLAN, there is a ground swell in both houses to restrict the unrestrained and uncontrolled power vested in the transportation unions across the country. Says the Senator: "In the last session of Congress I introduced a bill to place unions in vital industry under the provisions of law comparable to the antitrust laws governing business. I shall reintroduce that bill."

Enlightened labor leaders agree that Taft-Hartley needs revision, but are said to be apprehensive that Congress might take Kennedy's rather moderate proposals and run away with them. They don't like the idea of "antitrust laws."

One of the KENNEDY proposals (quite unlike MCCLELLAN's) is that the present Taft-Hartley board of inquiry, which has no power to make recommendations for solution of strikes, would be replaced by an emergency dispute board—with authority to propose terms of settlement, both before a strike occurred and during the 80-day period of marking time.

Such a provision is part of the Railway Labor Act but is already regarded by many experts as inadequate—as borne out by the recent paralysis of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, with serious economic consequences for a large section of the country.

But regardless of what form of legislative relief is finally enacted, it can't come too soon. The United States can no longer be subject to the arbitrary power of dominant unions controlled by tyrannical bosses in areas that critically affect the well-being of the Nation and its citizens.

"A FEDERAL agency contemplates making a survey to determine how Americans spend their money,"—press report. Such a survey would most likely show that some 85 per cent of them spend it recklessly.

"INDIA Suspicious of Red China's Offer"—Headline. Evidently India subscribes to BRET HARTE's statement, "for ways that are dark and for tricks that are vain, the heathen Chinese is peculiar."

Need Assistance Give Birds Helping Hand for Weathering Winter

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

Bird Watchers, it seems, besides watching birds, also watch this column. (Note to editor: Aw, let it go... Christmas spirit, you know.)

A short time ago, a lady wondered about the identity of a flock of feathered diners that arrived without reservation, had a smorgasbord on the berries of her Mountain Ash tree—and left without picking up the check.

Now comes a warm holiday letter from Mrs. Alyce Shinn of 2141 Old Lane, in which she suggests that the berry pickers might have been Grosbeaks, of which there are three kinds.

My correspondent delights in birdlife, as do most of us, and what she wrote is excerpted for the interest of all: "If only people could realize the enjoyment from birds. Christmas trees could be secured to another tree and suet, dry bread or an ear of corn attached... Birds like a drink of water in the wintertime—some of them will even take a bath on the coldest days... We cut the bottoms from 2-quart milk cartons about 2.5 inches up and make suet cups to be secured to trees or shrubbery."

The MAT's sure that the birds that base around the lady's address are having a fine winter.

A fine retirement event was held yesterday at Michigan Bell Building for Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Hoban of 10 Eddy Court.

Arthur has 42 years' service in the plant department, while Rose's span with the traffic department covers 26 years.

The column salutes this outstanding record of service to the public, and offers best wishes for pleasure and good health in the years ahead.

BON VOYAGE: Off on a holiday visit to their son Ronald and wife Pat, following teaching careers in Paris, are Mr. and Mrs. George Pudduck of 3000 Barnes. They will also look in on English relatives before returning.

DID YOU KNOW?—The largest hotel in the world is the Conrad Hilton in Chicago with 3,000 rooms. The hotel employs about 2,000 people of whom 70 are telephone operators and 72 elevator men.

This somehow reminds the MAT of the old minstrel show (anybody remember George Primrose, Lew Dockstader et al?) routine between interlocutor and end man that rose in simulated belligerence until one said to the other: "Boy, I wish I owned a hotel of a thousand rooms and you were up in every room—sick!"

The Real Problem: How To Get It Out

David Lawrence Says:

U.N. Exceeds Authority in Congo

WASHINGTON—If the United Nations—as operated today—had been in existence in 1776, the thirteen colonies in America might never have been permitted to secede from Great Britain.

If the United Nations last year had wished, it could have asserted a right to send troops to LAWRENCE the University of Mississippi to see that James Meredith was enrolled as a student and to make sure that a sovereign state obeyed the orders of the Federal government.

These two hypothetical statements illustrate the extent to which the United Nations today, in invading Katanga to prevent its secession from the Congo, has gone beyond established principles of international law.

Disobedience of the decrees of a national government is an internal matter. The right of revolution has heretofore been regarded as indisputable.

The right of self-determination by peoples everywhere has been supported by the United States for many decades.

During the last half-century—in which international organizations like the Hague Tribunals, the League of Nations and the United Nations have been set up to apply basic rules of international law—there has never been a single encroachment comparable to what's happening right now in the Congo.

To secure unity by mediation and avoid bloodshed is a commendable objective, but the means being used—military force inside a country as between its rival aspirants for power—is just another form of illegal aggression.

The press of Great Britain is almost unanimous in denouncing the U.N.'s tactics as illegal and as unsupported by any provision of the U.N. charter.

The United States is being severely criticized, moreover, for furnishing the military equipment and vehicles to support the U.N. troops in the Congo.

Congress, which is supposed to have the right to authorize the use of American military equipment, has never sanctioned the giving of aid to the war launched by the United Nations against Katanga.

The London Daily Express says: "The direction of the United Nations has passed completely into the hands of a clique of permanent officials wedded to a policy of racial extremism."

These men unleashed a war against President Tshombe, of Katanga without a semblance of authority.

IMPORTANT ISSUE

The use of the funds of American taxpayers for exploits in international politics around the globe presents an important issue to Congress.

Its members have lately been growing sensitive about military help given in the form of foreign aid. At a time when the American people are being told that they must tolerate bigger and bigger deficits in the budget because expenses to maintain troops abroad are high, the representatives of the citizenry in Congress might begin to ask questions as to the legality of some of the expenditures.

It so happens, for instance, that more than 1,000,000 Americans in the various branches of our armed services are stationed in 41 different lands. Was each of these ventures authorized? What military commitments are involved for the future?

Questions of this kind cannot be brushed aside with the statement that the executive branch of the government makes foreign policy and that the President, as commander-in-chief, can order troops anywhere at any time. (Copyright, 1963)

Hal Boyle Says:

Artist Dali Fascinated by the Mystery of Life

NEW YORK (AP)—You can get in an argument over whether Salvador Dali, the eccentric artist, is an obsessed genius or merely a talented poseur.

Dali himself says the question had been settled to his own satisfaction.

"A French doctor spend seven years studying whether I am crazy or not," he remarked. "He find I 'ave one of the best organized brains that exist in the world."

The 38-year-old Spanish-born painter, accompanied by his wife, Gala, is here for the publication of a book of his art and to make his second lecture tour in a decade.

"The last time I speak no English—an' it was a tremendous success," he said.

"Now that my speech is a little too much good—maybe not so much a success. People like mystery."

The mystery of life always has fascinated Dali, who, for all his Barnum-like showmanship stunts, is regarded by some critics as probably the greatest religious artist of the 20th century.

"Everything in life leads to one idea—faith," he said. "At first I was interested in psychoanalysis, then in the theory of relativity and nuclear physics."

"Now I am obsessed with biology, molecular structure, cybernetics, thinking machines. But every science is connected by art."

"Since the French Revolution every generation 'ave been skeptical—it believe only in materialism. But today everything is au contraire."

'BELIEVE IN GOD'

"Scientific people believe in God, and realize that matter is only energy."

"Material things disappear. We live now in a crisis of mysticism. Everything is metaphysical. We are in a new renaissance of religion—and a reunification of religions."

Why does Dali indulge in stunts such as delivering a lecture in a diving suit?

"I am very exhibitionistic," he admitted. "But it 'ave help me tremendously. Everybody think of the day and night—an' without interruption."

Then he explained that his weird actions were the result of a complex arising from the death at the age of 7 of a brilliant older brother, also named Salvador.

"It produce in me a tremendous anguish to prove that I am not my dead brother but myself," he said.

"All my eccentricities are to prove that I am still alive and immortal. With me it 'ave to be that—death or life."

"My eccentricities are not frivolous—but the constant tragical of my life."

To be unnoticed would mean to Dali that time has buried him, as it did his brother, the other Salvador, some 60 years ago. And he can't stand the thought.

'U.N. Congo Action Has Little Worth'

Events in the Congo result from a tragic and incongruous use of the United Nations power. The U. N. may be successful in imposing the Central Government on Katanga. There is no real assurance, however, that the Central Government may not yet turn Communist.

There is neither common sense nor morality in the latest U. N. action in the Congo.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., says: "I can recall no situation in which we have been committed to a less defensible policy... The present situation is doubly preposterous because the U. N., with our backing, is using force not against the side that has been resisting its proposals for the reunification of the Congo, but against the side that has moved to implement these proposals; not against the side that is waging civil war, but against the side that has been defending itself against attack."

From the west coast, Democratic Gov. Albert D. Rosellini of Washington, the new president of the Council of State governors "to act boldly to retain control of traditionally state-run activities." Many areas—he named intrastate commerce, licensing, public education, mental health—remain solely state functions. He warned that, "if our first inclination upon confronting a new problem or a large problem is to turn to the federal government—to pass the buck up the line—then the federal government probably in good time will have to act."

Of course, that has been the history of centralized federal government for the last 30 years. States have been encouraged to turn to Washington, when they could not find or raise the funds to meet new or large problems. And a greedy federal bureaucracy has been only too ready to tax and tax and spend and spend, by taking three tax dollars, for instance, from Pennsylvania, and returning one dollar to that state in grants.

The state governors approved three major amendments to the United States Constitution: The third—and most severe—calls for establishment of a "court for the Union" with authority to review supreme court decisions relating to the rights reserved to the states under the constitution. Each state legislature now will be asked to ratify these same resolutions.

The Daily Oklahoman

One of the best current prospects for involuntary bankruptcy in Latin America is Argentina but it will be no bargain for shoppers hopeful of finding concealed assets.

Ever since Juan Peron played havoc with the nation's finances to the delight of the shoeless ones, Argentina has been in trouble, her resources dissipated and her foreign trade in decline. Military coups have wasted still more substance while economics ministers failed to become magicians. Now the latest has departed with his battered hopes.

Our aid funds have helped build airports, make studies for industrial development, build highways, and arm and equip the military forces. But we cannot create a stable government nor force the ruling cliques to make the reforms necessary for economic solvency. At best we can—and probably will—ball Argentina out of temporary emergencies. The current emergency has the appearance of being permanent.

Kerr's Death May Affect Future of Johnson

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — The power the political destinies of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson almost as much as the flavor of the Senate itself.

The big, bluff Oklahoman had rightly been dubbed by political insiders "the most powerful man in the Senate."

He acquired much of that power through his good friend, Lyndon Johnson, and the mantle of authority— if MONTGOMERY not the title — passed to him when LBJ relinquished the majority leadership to assume the vice presidency.

Kerr's was the first national voice to speak out in favor of Johnson for the presidency in the spring of 1960. He was the prime strategist who swung the Oklahoma delegation solidly to LBJ at the Democratic convention, despite the fact that the governor, J. Howard Edmondson, was an avowed "Kennedy man."

Senate whip Mike Mansfield succeeded to the majorityship after Johnson became vice president, but titles mean only as much as the holders can make them, in the power-hungry inner sanctum of the U.S. Senate.

Neither Arthur H. Vandenberg nor Styles Bridges ever held the title of majority leader, but each in turn was the undisputed GOP leader in the Senate until his death.

STRONG PERSONALITY

Lyndon Johnson was both majority leader and unchallenged boss, because he is an extraordinarily strong personality who chose to expand and wield his vast authority.

Mansfield, a quiet, professorial type, dislikes naked power and prefers to lead by gentle persuasion. The result was 1962's longest-drawn-out session of congress in peacetime history.

Kerr, by contrast, was a man of the Johnson stamp. Keyed to action instead of introspection, Kerr moved comfortably into the vacuum created by LBJ's departure. Thanks to a fortuitous appointment from Johnson four years earlier, he was in a good position to act.

Johnson as majority leader had appointed himself the first chairman of the special committee on space. Kerr was not a member, but when the Senate subsequently established it as a standing committee, LBJ named his good friend Kerr to membership.

Two years later, Lyndon re-joined the chairmanship along with his Senate seat to become vice president. Kerr, although one of its newer members, succeeded him as chairman of the space committee.

WORKED WITH LBJ

In that spot he worked hand-in-glove with Johnson, who became chairman of the President's National Space Council. Long-time friends and close cronies, Kerr and Johnson jointly requested the appointment of James E. Webb as director of NASA, our national space agency, and the President complied.

Interestingly, Webb had been assistant to the President and director of Kerr-McGee Oil Co., of which Sen. Kerr was principal stockholder and chairman, until his appointment to NASA.

Johnson and Kerr saw eye-to-eye on space problems, just as they always did on depletion allowances and other legislation affecting the oil interests. This was natural, since they hailed from the neighboring oil states of Texas and Oklahoma.

Many who knew LBJ's restless ambition in his hard-driving days as majority leader have been amazed at how quietly he stepped into the background as vice president. Outwardly he has stood apart from senatorial politics, over which he once ruled, but his hand was felt in many of Kerr's moves.

Kerr, in his unrivaled position of senatorial power, would have been in a strong position to push the presidential candidacy of Johnson in 1968, at a time when younger men will also be clamoring to succeed Kennedy.

As fate would have it, the pro-Kennedy governor whom Kerr maneuvered out of a delegate's seat to the 1960 nominating convention is now in a position to name Kerr's successor to the Senate. It is expected to be himself.

Kaiser Gets Permit for Detroit TV Station

WASHINGTON (AP)—The communications Commission granted Kaiser Industries Corp. a construction permit yesterday for a ultra high frequency new television station on Channel 50 in Detroit, but it took note of a criminal antitrust suit pending against the firm.

The commission said its approval of the construction permit came "without prejudice to such further action as the commission may deem appropriate as a result" of the suit.

The case against an affiliated firm, Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Sales, Inc., was brought Oct. 31 in Philadelphia.

late star's life and career. The following is the first of two articles.)

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—No other star in Hollywood history enjoyed the wide spread of success that was Dick Powell's.

He had a different career for each of his three decades in the movie capital and excelled in them all.

From 1932-42 he was the dimpled, wavy-haired tenor who warbled "by a waterfall" to a blushing, limpid-eyed Ruby Keeler. He went from "42nd Street" to "Flirtation Walk" to "Hollywood Hotel" with enough success to make him one of the top 10 box office draws.

But the musicals paled and Powell found the public fancy passed him by, along with miniature golf and the Lambeth walk. He knew he needed a new act, and he went after it.

From 1942-52 he was the hard-talking, steel-nerved dramatic actor, the prototype for a generation of tough heroes. He made the transition startlingly, in a little movie called "Murder, My Sweet."

Powell played Philip Marlowe, Raymond Chandler's private eye with a cast-iron head. He absorbed beatings and abuse with scarcely a twinge and muttered wisecracks in return.

Again he was in demand as a star, whether chasing a dope ring "To the Ends of the Earth" or playing a cynical script writer in "The Bad and the Beautiful."

This time the rigors of being a leading man wearied him — "I'm tired of holding my belly in," he cracked. He tried his hand at directing, with fair success "The Conqueror," "The Enemy Below."

TV STAR, PRODUCER

From 1952-62 Powell assumed another role as television star and producer. With Charles Boyer and David Niven he organized Four Star Productions. As the company progressed, Powell took greater part in executive matters and drew enjoyment from his new role.

Realizing that he was one of the firm's assets, he continued to star himself in the company's series — first the Four Star Playhouse, then Zane Grey Theater, finally the Dick Powell Show. But it was apparent that he enjoyed his work behind the camera more.

Race Job Eyed by Ex-Speaker

LANSING (AP)—Former House Speaker Don R. Pears, R-Buchanan, is in the running for the post of state racing commissioner.

Pears has told reporters he'd like the job, which pays $10,000 a year and is appointed by the governor. The commissioner serves at the governor's pleasure and does not require Senate confirmation.

Pears, a long-time racing fan, has asked legislators to write letters to Gov. Romney recommending him for the job. "I know the pay isn't much, but our house is paid for and the children are through college," Pears commented.

The present commissioner, one-time Detroit Times sportswriter Edgar Hayes, has written Romney asking to be retained in his post. But in a letter to GOP County chairmen signed by Romney, racing commissioner was one job included as a patronage plum.

Hayes commented yesterday he hasn't heard "in any way, shape, or form" from Romney and is doing his work on a day-to-day basis.

Pears, who served two terms as speaker of the state house, lost a primary battle last summer for candidacy to the U.S. Congress for the 4th District.

with his fatal illness, I saw him during lunch at his Four Star office. He breezed in from the set where he had been filming "lead-ins" — the introductions to the TV hour.

"Any calls for me, dear?" he said to the secretary. He generally used the Hollywood familiar of "dear," "honey" or "baby" with those he knew; with him it sounded natural and unaffected.

He completed his calls, making friendly comment. Then he sat down at the long, polished-wood conference table for a short highball and a sandwich. He discussed each of Four Star's series from intimate knowledge, their problems and potentialities. Then he switched on the closed-circuit TV set to watch the rushes of a new series that was already in trouble.

Powell had a quick conference with his production chief (and now his successor as president) Tom McDermott. Then he ambled back to the set to continue filming.

Dick Powell seemed to ease through life with the same amiability that made him one of the screen's most effective players. Edgar Bergen, his closest friend, said that he never saw Dick lose his temper in 20 years. Whether commanding a movie set full of extras or directing a multi-million-dollar corporation, his voice never lost its evenness of tone. Other stars may have led more colorful lives or brought more brilliance to their work. None was better liked.

Freed Cubans Absorbed Into Exile Colony

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Most Cuban invasion prisoners and their families have been absorbed into Miami's huge refugee colony. Exile sources said today the new arrivals were seeking quiet and privacy with their loved ones after being ransomed and returned here from Cuba during the Christmas holidays.

The government put up a large number of them in former U. S. military office quarters near Miami International Airport. Others rented apartments or moved in with friends and relatives already in the Miami area.

The Cuban refugee emergency center said some of the prisoners left Miami soon after their arrival. They went to join relatives among the 53,000 who have been resettled in every state but Alaska.

The center said all of the 1,113 returning prisoners were offered free physical examinations at the center. About 400 to 500 have received the examinations.

A center spokesman said, "They are not required to register here. If they come and indicate they are in need, we care for them."

The Cuban Revolutionary Council gave each of the returning Bay of Pigs invaders a $250 combat bonus. In addition, they are entitled with other refugees to a maximum $100 a month per family in welfare funds, or $62 per individual.

Passive Role Called Deficient for Negro

ANN ARBOR (AP)—"The old philosophy that civil rights would come naturally if the Negro minded his business and attended to his duties has proved inadequate and ill-founded," says President Harlan Hatcher of the University of Michigan.

Although the Emancipation Proclamation marked "the dawn of a new day, we know from a century's perspective that the humiliating strain was slow to fade away, and unfortunately still is too apparent in our country," he added.

Hatcher made the statement as the U. of M. prepared for its three-day observance, beginning next Tuesday, of the centennial of the proclamation.

2 Parachute to Safety as Jet Crashes in UP

MARQUETTE (AP)—Two crewmen of a T33 jet trainer parachuted to safety yesterday after their plane was disabled by a flameout. The trainer crashed in a wooded area about 10 miles south of this Upper Peninsula city.

The plane crew, Capt. Robert E. Cleveland, 30, of Winter Haven, Fla., and Capt. Robert E. Ross, 28, of Charleston, S.C., were taken to nearby K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base.

Killed in Flaming Crash

PORT AUSTIN (AP)—Donald Pettit, 28, of Port Austin died last night when his car ran off of M53 near here, struck a tree and burned. Police said they could not determine whether Pettit died in the crash or burned to death.

Churches Eye Race Problem

To Unite Against Injustice

CHICAGO (AP)—Racial injustice subject in Chicago Jan. 14 when clergy will be a much-discussed subject of major faiths conference at the Edgewater Beach Hotel for a four-day meeting.

For the first time, the National Conference on Religion and Race will bring together all major churches to form a united attack on the problem of racial injustice.

The conference may have far-reaching—though perhaps not immediately discernible—effect on the social climate of the United States.

The immediate result will be the hammering out of a "declaration of conscience" which will go out as the word from the leaders of most of this country's churches.

RECOMMENDATIONS
A planning committee is producing recommendations for the consideration of the conference as to follow-up action on national and local levels.

Those attending the conference will include officials of the National Council of Churches, the Synagogue Council of America and the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

More than 60 religiously affiliated national organizations have indicated they will be represented by delegates at the conference.

VICE CHAIRMEN
The vice chairmen will be the Right Rev. Germanos Psalhidakis, bishop of Synod and head of the Greek Orthodox See in Detroit, Mich.; the Most Rev. Paul J. Hallinan, archbishop of Atlanta; Rabbi Ferdinand M. Isserman of Temple Israel, St. Louis, and Bishop Julian Smith, presiding bishop of the First Episcopal District of Christian Methodist Episcopal Church.

The planners of the conference said it is being convened "to provide an occasion for lay and clerical religious leaders to conduct a concrete examination of the role of the churches and synagogues in meeting religious and civic racial problems."

The planners hope that the conference will give a push to projects designed to crumble remaining racial barriers.

Heading the list of the world's 12 best-dressed women of 1962 are Mrs. John F. Kennedy (left) and Mrs. Loel Guinness. Mrs. Guinness of Palm Beach, Fla., Paris and Lausanne, Suisse, is the wife of an international banker. They were selected in the annual international fashion poll.

Jacqueline Kennedy Named World's First Lady of Fashion

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK —The United States' First Lady is the world's first lady of fashion. Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, wife of the President, mother of two, headed the annual list of best-dressed women of the world in 1962 — a list announced today by Eleanor Lambert, a public relations consultant.

Miss Lambert said the list was compiled from "an international poll of 2,000 style observers."

This appearance marked the third consecutive year for Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy on the list which currently cited her "as a symbol of fashion leadership to the average woman everywhere."

Placed right there near Mrs. Kennedy on the list was Mrs. Loel Guinness, the Mexican-born brunette beauty married to a British financier, who made her fourth consecutive appearance.

Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, of London, was on the list for the second consecutive time.

So was a long-time friend of the Kennedy family, Mrs. Charles Wrightsman, of New York and Palm Beach, wife of the oil millionaire.

The listing elevated two women to permanent status in a fashion hall of fame, which means that they're so permanently ensconced as chic that there is no point in their being put in the annual competition.

The two hall of famers are Vicomtesse Jacqueline de Ribes, of Paris, and the American-born Countess Aline Quintanilla, of Madrid.

Two women appeared on the list for the first time. They were Mrs. Frederick Eberstadt, a New York socialite and daughter of poet Ogden Nash, and the Baroness Ernst Thyssen-Bornemisza, of Lugano, Switzerland.

AND OTHERS

Others on the latest list of those celebrated for their clothes know-how were:

Mrs. Gianni Agnelli, of Turin, Italy, wife of the head of the Fiat Co.; Mme. Herve Alphand, wife of the French ambassador to the United States; Mrs. David Bruce, wife of the United States ambassador to Great Britain; Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt Lumet, a actress and socially prominent New Yorker; Mrs. Walther Moreira-Salles, a Brazilian living in Paris; and Mrs. John Barry Ryan III, of New York.

The listing was correct in citing Mrs. Kennedy's fashion leadership — her bouffant hairdo, her pillbox hats, her sleek, long formal gowns and her simplicity of dress in general all have left their mark on Main Street, U.S.A.

The list cited Mrs. Guinness for representing the "ultimate" in elegance. She buys clothes most frequently from Balenciaga or Givenchy, Paris designers.

The best dressed list cited 12 women in the fashion world for special notice for their chic. They included Mrs. T. Reed Vreeland, editor-in-chief of Vogue Magazine; and Mrs. Samuel I. Newhouse, wife of the newspaper publisher.

By moving on up to fashion's hall of fame the Vicomtesse de Ribes and Countess Quintanilla joined such regular fashion plates as the Duchess of Windsor, the Duchess of Kent, Princess Grace of Monaco, Mrs. Henry Ford II, Mrs. Winston Guest, Mrs. William Paley, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst Jr., Queen Elizabeth II, Audrey Hepburn and Merle Oberon.

Sponsor Meeting

'Constitution' to Be Aired

The Oakland County Non-partisan Committee and the Pontiac League of Women Voters will cosponsor a public areawide meeting on the newly revised proposed state constitution, Feb. 13 in Pontiac Northern High School. Laura Belz, state LWV treasurer, will attend a meeting of the committee today in the Birmingham Community House.

Copies of "It's Your Choice," a state LWV publication regarding the proposed constitution may be obtained from President Mrs. Lillian Davidson. A detailed discussion of the new document, including its content, its differentiation from the present law, and how it affects all Michigan residents, is included.

The executive board of the League of Women Voters of Pontiac met Wednesday evening in the Community Services Building.

IDEAS FORMULATED

Ideas were formulated for the 1963 statewide program planning to be submitted to state leagues for analysis and decision.

Communications were presented by Viola Krueger of the Bay City and Ypsilanti leagues urging consideration of the advisability and wisdom of a single-item agenda for Michigan in 1963.

Mrs. Davidson directed attention to the local January news bulletin which contains tentative plans for a state program.

Mrs. Merle Humphries, finance chairman, reported on the league's continued financial drive.

MARGARET ANN REILLY

The Patrick D. Reillys of Whitmore Street announce the engagement of their daughter Margaret Ann to David Joseph Wolski, son of the Joseph B. Wolskis of Orchard Way. She graduated from Marygrove College, Detroit, and her fiancé from Ferris Institute.

Dislikes Mother of the Bride

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My niece is going to be married soon. Her father (my brother) died two years ago. Shortly before his death he and his wife were divorced and there was much unpleasantness over this. I have not seen or spoken to his wife since that time.

However, I am very fond of my niece and see her often. My husband and I received an invitation to the wedding and my niece expressed a hope that we will come, and for her sake we plan to go to the wedding.

Her mother is giving the wedding and no doubt will receive at the reception. I would like to know if it would be a serious breach of etiquette for us to go directly into the reception room without speaking to the bride's mother.

A: You may go to the church, but you really must not go to the reception and accept the hospitality of a hostess to whom you refuse to speak.

Q: My fiancé is going to be best man at his cousin's wedding. I did not receive an invitation of my own but on the invitation sent to my fiancé, the inside envelope was addressed Mr. Jones and guest (I being the guest).

I know the bride and groom rather well and was also invited to a shower for her. Am I right in feeling the bride was very lacking in courtesy not to send me an invitation? A: Correctly, you should have received a separate invitation.

Q: A testimonial dinner is being given for a doctor friend of ours who has been practicing medicine in this town for the last 25 years. The tickets are $25 a couple.

I would like to know if we are expected to give a present to the doctor on this occasion?

A: Your esteem of the doctor is being shown by your presence at the testimonial dinner and a present in addition is certainly not expected.

LINDA LOU FALLS

March vows are planned by Linda Lou Falls, daughter of the Noah C. Falls of Payton Street and Tommy Clifton Drummond, son of the John C. Drummonds of Eutaw, Ala. The bride-elect graduated from the University of Alabama School of Nursing in Tuscaloosa.

Installation on Program

Silver Tea Planned

The Pontiac Council of United Church Women will install officers at the annual silver tea, Monday, Jan. 14 at 1 p.m.

The following women will assume their offices at the tea in the Rose Kneale Room of All Saints' Episcopal Church: Mrs. Lenworth R. Miner, president; Mrs. H. H. Pattison, first vice president; Mrs. Lewis C. Ball, second vice president; and Mrs. H. E. McCulloch, recording secretary.

Mrs. Frederick J. Cockle is the new corresponding secretary; Mrs. P. G. Latimer, treasurer and Mrs. Stanley Kipp, parliamentarian.

Other new officers are Mrs. Frank Gray, Mrs. Wilbur Courter, Mrs. William S. Wolfram, Mrs. James Mallory, Mrs. J. Harry Baker, Margaret Steward, Mrs. Robert Nienstedt and Mrs. James R. Fleming.

Mrs. Cockle is general chairman of the tea. Mrs. Edward D. Auchard is the featured speaker. Her topic will be "The Church in the Middle East."

Also participating in the program will be Gerlinde Supplitt, Gabriele Schwarz, Margaret Cockle, Mrs. Galen E. Hershey, Mrs. Myron R. Everett, Mrs. C. George Widdfield, Mrs. Robert E. Reich and Mrs. Addison K. Oakley.

Tolara String Quartet, Contralto Will Appear at Tuesday Musicales

The Tolara String Quartet from Toledo and a local contralto will appear on the program at Tuesday Musicales Jan. 8. The meeting which will be held at Grace Lutheran Church Fellowship Hall at 1:30 is to be a guest day.

The Tolara quartet is composed of women from the Toledo Symphony Orchestra; Louise Wear and Kathleen Harbaugh, violinists, Catharine Melhorn, violist and Mary Lee Eliason, cellist. The last named is a former member of Tuesday Musicales.

For the past two years this group of musicians has played in Toledo schools, giving the students a chance to become better acquainted with stringed instruments. One of their most satisfying experiences was playing for a class of deaf children.

TWO-PART PROGRAM

Their program on Tuesday will be divided into two parts. For the first part they will play Mozart's Divertimento I, K. 136. The second portion of the program will be a demonstration of their school program, using an actual program.

Dvorak — Lento, Vivace from American Quartet.

Pochon — Air Chinois.

Bloch — Tongataboo.

Borodine — Nocturne from D Major Quartet.

Kroll — Magyar.

Mama Clouts New Son After 'Quickie' Marriage

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (UPI) — Newlywed Donald R. Lovan got his bride and a clout on the head yesterday in court.

Lovan, 22, was married last Sunday in a "quickie" ceremony in Miami, Okla., where it only takes an hour or so. He returned home with his 28-year-old wife, Joanne, and her parents were enraged.

Lovan charged that the bride's parents decided to keep her at home against her will. The bridegroom sought court relief.

ings, they are legal and the bridegroom had a right to his wife.

Instead of officially ruling, however, the judge suggested the dissident parties have a private, family conference on the matter in his chambers. They agreed.

"I don't think a couple can know each other sufficiently well in only six weeks," Mrs. Mullis said. She suggested an annulment, a longer courtship and, perhaps, a later marriage.

RUTH ANN PURVIS

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Purvis of West Fairmont Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Ruth Ann to Dennis Carl Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ross of Bakersfield, Calif. Her fiancé attends Bakersfield College. August vows are planned.

Just as he was walking into the courtroom yesterday for a hearing — whom. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Donald A. Mullis, hit him with her purse. Compact, comb, lipstick and whatnot tumbled to the floor.

She also spoke some pretrial words of advice to her new son-in-law.

The young man, apparently unshaken by the display, went into the courtroom with his new family.

The judge advised the mother-in-law that although he objected to Oklahoma's "quickie" wed-

The talks lasted about 30 minutes, then young Lovan took his bride, rubbed his head and left. Mrs. Mullis dabbed at her tears, took her purse, and went another way.

The myna bird of Southeastern Asia, noted for its whistling, is allied to the starling family.

'Better Now Than Later'—Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am very worried about my 17-year-old daughter. She is going steady with a 20-year-old boy who acts like he owns her. He demands to know every move she makes when he is not with her. He is insanely jealous and accuses her and spies on her, although she is true to him.

He tells her how to wear her hair and how to dress. She is afraid to speak her mind. He dominates her completely.

I can see what a miserable life she would have if she married him. My daughter thinks she is "in love" with him.

How can I make her see how bad he is for her?

I am told that if a mother interferes in her daughter's romances at this age she will drive her into marriage.

WORRIED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Even though pointing out the danger signals is sometimes called "interfering" — interfere anyway! Your daughter's future is at stake. Do it now.

Don't wait until she comes back home five years and two babies later and tells you her marriage is on the rocks.

DEAR ABBY: I have a habit of talking to myself out loud and my wife thinks I am going nutty. I acquired that habit while doing border patrol duty on the Mexican border.

The only time I talk to myself out loud is when I have a problem — and I have solved many of my problems that way.

Now if talking to yourself is a sign of going nutty, please tell me and I will try to break the habit, although I have had it since 1916. Yours truly,

TALKING TO MYSELF
DEAR TALKING: Talking to yourself is not a bad habit. It's ANSWERING yourself that might not be so good. But if you've been getting some good answers since 1916, keep it up.

DEAR ABBY: You can't pick up a magazine or newspaper any more without reading something about how to keep a husband home. I've even seen it in your column. The advice runs from rubbing his back to making his favorite pie. After 26 years of marriage I think I can speak with some authority. Just keep him broke!

BERNICE
DEAR BERNICE: There is nothing clever about keeping a husband HOME. You can chain him to the stove and accomplish the same thing. The idea is to keep him happy.

CONFIDENTIAL TO PLE-MENIK: Some people are not as "successful" as others because when opportunity is knocking on their front door, they are in the back yard looking for four-leaf clovers.

JACQUELINE WILLIAMS JUDITH L. WILLIAMS

Tell Able Father to Care for Ailing Mother

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: Why is an unmarried woman supposed to have no more life of her own than a rag doll? My father is insisting that, at 51, I give up my work, my financial independence, my apartment — in fact, my whole life — to go home to Nebraska to take care of my mother.

She has been in poor health for some years, and my father always causes trouble with the practical nurses she has had. Now he wants to let the current one go.

He says it's my duty to take care of my mother, even though it means giving up a good job and friends, and losing the benefit of a $25-a-month mutual fund investment.

He's financially able to take care of himself and my mother, but he doesn't even want to give me an allowance. Both parents are in their 70's with possibly 10 or 15 years of life ahead. I love my mother, Miss Feeley. But I can't help feeling rebellious.

Laura S., New York City

Dear Laura: That makes two of us, but you have one advantage — you're not in Nebraska now. You're in New York. So stay there. What your father wants to do is shift the entire emotional burden onto your shoulders.

A daughter does have a duty to her parents, but a husband also has a duty to his wife. It's his responsibility to get along with your mother's nurses, whether he likes it or not.

You might quote from his marriage vows: " . . . in sickness and in health."

You can express your love and concern for your mother without sacrificing your own life. You can visit her as often as possible. You can certainly write her regularly. Thoughtful little gifts from time to time will mean much to her.

If it were a question of financial aid, it would be your duty to help out. If there were no one to attend to her physical needs, you'd be obligated to take over.

But under the circumstances, no. You owe it to yourself to keep your financial independence, as well as your interest in your job.

Hang onto your savings and that mutual fund. Your father won't be around to provide for you when you need it most.

Help Hubby Ease Strain of Work

By KAY SHERWOOD

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. After the high-flying frivolity of the holidays, a mood of sober concentration settles like a smog on many a household.

January is the month of reckoning. It is the month to pay the piper, to clean up neglected desk work, to compile economic records so dear to the heart of the government.

Our business breadwinners pack home bulging briefcases.

The lights that burned late so recently for gay partygoers now shine on the papers stacked for after-dinner work.

There may not be much the homemaker can do to ease the economic realities except to promise stricter attention to the budget.

She can ease the tension by providing comfortable night working conditions.

We know that dim lights, cramped space and long hours of concentration may lead to eye strain, frazzled nerves, short tempers and headaches.

He needs room to work. Ideally, this is a spacious desk but it might be the dining room table or a sturdy card table.

He needs a comfortable chair of the right height for work at desk or table. He most certainly needs adequate light.

According to eye care experts, the light should be so positioned that there is no shadow on any papers.

The lamp should be 15 inches away from paper work and a minimum of 15 inches between bottom of lamp shade and desk top.

Prefer Intellectual

Status Out at East's Girls' Schools

NEW YORK (AP)—While the rest of the nation is busily clamoring for more status, seven well-known symbols of exclusivity—Vassar, Barnard, Smith, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe and Wellesley—have united to divest themselves of some of theirs.

The traditional eastern girls schools are sending a pretty, vivacious alumna, Athalia Barker, Smith '59, across the nation to debunk such myths as:

"You have to be registered shortly after birth to get into Vassar."

"You need to have been born with a silver spoon in your mouth to make it into Wellesley."

"You have to be an egghead to go to Radcliffe."

"You need a convertible and a fancy wardrobe to keep up with the Van Jones girls at Bryn Mawr."

"You never learn how the other half (meaning the boys) lives when you go to a girls' school like Mount Holyoke."

And so on.

Such a disarming saleswoman is the petite, nice-but without airs—Miss Barker, that within minutes she has you convinced that nasty ole' money is the last thing anybody in the seven heavenly schools would dare mention.

The schools are still exclusive in that each wants a high quality student.

But they want them from all parts of the nation, of every background and with and without money, for they believe this is the most stimulating climate for intellectual growth.

PLEASANT SURPRISE

Thus, because people who did have money went to those schools before and loved the experience, there are a wealth of endowments.

These provide scholarships, even transportation, on a year-to-year basis. Each year the scholarships are re-evaluated and increased or decreased depending on the family's changed circumstances.

One of every four students is on scholarship, points out Athalia.

"The most pleasant surprise to some of these girls is the clothes situation. The campuses are small and in rather a countrylike atmosphere."

"And you don't have any need for elaborate dress, nothing like on a co-ed campus."

The dating situation is always another pleasant surprise, smiles Athalia.

"There are always boys' colleges nearby for weekend dating. Usually the girls find it is kind of relaxing not to have to be their most glamorous selves the rest of the time."

YOU, TOO

Cooperation instead of rivalry exists among the seven eastern girls' colleges, claims their representative, because none wants to grow any bigger, just better.

Compared to state universities with enrollments of 15,000 or so, the schools are small.

Bryn Mawr is the tiniest with 700, but the average enrollment is around 1,500, with 15 to 20 students per class.

There the changing roles of the American woman is the chief concern of the faculties.

While they are all interested in specific careers, the schools' primary concerns are in developing character.

"They want to give them the tools for dealing with life," says Athalia, who seems remarkably capable of the job.

"The emphasis is on teaching how to think."

Councilmen Forced to Give Seat to Lady

VIRGINIA KESSLER

TRIADAPLHIA, W. Va. (AP)—Miss Virginia Kessler won election to this 134-year-old town's Municipal Council Thursday, despite a community charter which provides that only "six able-bodied men" may serve on the council.

Miss Kessler, 35, secretary, finished fifth in a field of 15 seeking six council seats. The only woman running, she became the first of her sex elected to the council.

Twice, her candidacy was blocked by the council because of the charter, adopted in 1840. But an Ohio County Circuit Court then ordered the council to permit Miss Kessler to run.

"I'm just completely overwhelmed," she said upon learning she had been elected in this Ohio River town of about 600.

Junior Editors Quiz on STARS

QUESTION: What causes the appearance of a "nova"?
ANSWER: In A, our space guide Billy is showing us how our own galaxy, the Milky Way, would look if we could see it from the outside. Our solar system lies at the end of Billy's pointed. In B, Billy looks toward a bright star in the Milky Way which has suddenly appeared where there was nothing visible to the naked eye before.

Such flareup are called "novae," or new stars. Two or three may be seen each year. In C, Billy shows us the "supernova," the thrilling total explosions of a star which happens only once every few hundred years. Supernovae are much more brilliant than ordinary novae. Recent studies suggest that when most of the star's material is burned up, it may burst toward its center.

This pulls in the outer part, which then explodes outward, causing the brilliant light. An explosion like this destroys the star. In the case of the nova (B), it is now thought that such a star is composed of two revolving around each other.

One of these stars may have released part of its material in a limited explosion. Then the light does down. Most novae flare up only once. Some may release more material later and flare again.

FOR YOU TO DO: Don't worry that our sun might become a nova or supernova. It doesn't revolve around another star as the nova seems to do. And it won't become a supernova, at least for an enormously long time, because its material hasn't burned up yet. Let's all relax!

Doris Day Has Top Film Spot Formerly Liz's

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The girl next door type — Doris Day — has stolen the affections of American theater owners from screen siren Elizabeth Taylor.

Miss Day was named the nation's top box-office draw Thursday in the annual poll of film exhibitors conducted by Motion Picture Herald.

She regained the title she held two years ago. Miss Taylor dropped to No. 6 spot. She headed the poll last year, but had no new films released in 1962.

Miss Day had a pair of hits, "Lover Come Back" and "That Touch of Mink."

Others in the top 10 were Rock Hudson, No. 2; Gary Grant, 3; John Wayne, 4; Elvis Presley, 5;

Jerry Lewis, 7; Frank Sinatra, 8; Sandra Dee, 9; Burt Lancaster, 10.

Brazil shares a common border with all other South American countries except Chile and Ecuador. Only Russia, Canada, China and the United States exceed it in size.

Carson Rites Tomorrow

Powell Service Today

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Friends gathered today to pay final tribute to Dick Powell who fought a heroic but futile four-month battle against cancer.

Powell's body, in a solid oak casket, was to be cremated at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale, Calif., at the same time memorial services are being conducted at All Saints Episcopal Church here.

Actress June Allyson, who held her husband's hand in a long death-bed vigil that ended Wednesday night, planned to attend the memorial services with family and friends.

Arrangements were made to place the actor's ashes in the cemetery's great mausoleum which also contains the remains of such Hollywood personalities as Clark Gable, Carole Lombard, Jean Harlow and Jerry Giesler.

Services for Jack Carson, 52, who died only five hours before Powell, will be held at the Wee Kirk O' the Heather at Forest Lawn tomorrow with cremation and private interment following.

Carson also died of cancer.

His death at his Encino, Calif., home came as a shock even to friends.

Only immediate members of his family and close associates knew the affable comedian suffered from the malady. His fourth wife Sandra was with him when he died.

The deaths were the third and fourth from cancer to strike movie stars in the past few weeks. Charles Laughton died Dec. 15 and Thomas Mitchell two days later.

Aviation Editor Wins Journalism Award

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Robert J. Serling, aviation editor for United Press International, yesterday was named winner of Trans World Airlines' annual award for aviation journalism in the newspaper field for the fifth consecutive year.

Serling won a $100 award for his stories on aviation development. He also won a sweepstakes award of $100 as the outstanding entry in the newspaper category for dispatches "covering virtually every aspect of the commercial aviation industry."

He was among 11 winners in TWA's 25th annual writing and picture competition, the longest established honor in aviation journalism.

U.S. Prestige on Line in Latin America

By PHIL NEWSOM
 UPI Foreign News Analyst

When, nearly two years ago, the United States announced its Alliance for Progress program for Latin America, it committed itself to more than just money.

By pledging an all-out effort to help Latin Americans achieve a better way of life through democratic processes, it also placed its own prestige on the line.

And any Latin American nation henceforth which might fall either to violent revolution on the left or to military dictatorship on the right will deliver a blow against the United States itself.

It is with this in mind that the United States of late has been paying more than the usual attention to Brazil.

As of this minute, Brazil owes more than $2.7 billion, about half of it to the United States, and has no money to pay it.

A Christmas bonus of one month's extra pay, which all Brazilian employer must pay their employees, was just about wiped out by vicious inflation which in the last year alone amounted to 50 per cent.

Black beans and meat had just about disappeared and Brazilians were standing in queues to receive small bags of rice at government-controlled prices.

Related to the sorry state of Brazilian finances were two other causes for concern.

One was a fear that the government might feel it had to resort to totalitarian means to solve its problems.

Another was Brazil's increasing flirtation with the Communist bloc. At the center of this is Brazilian President Joao Goulart who on this coming Sunday hopes for a belated Christmas present in a frayed stocking.

WANTS MORE POWER

On Jan. 6, Goulart hopes Brazilian voters will restore to his office the powers stripped away 16 months ago when he succeeded the resigned Janio Quadros.

Under military pressure and in a move of questionable constitutionality, parliament then set up a government of a strong prime minister and a weak president.

It is Goulart's claim that without restoration of his powers, he can do nothing to deliver Brazil from its present state.

In this there are two important question marks.

The first is Goulart himself. In a visit to the United States last April he apparently succeeded in persuading the U.S. government and many businessmen that he was moving away from the political left to the center and was sincere in his announced intention to set up tax, educational and farm reforms to meet requirements of Alliance for Progress aid.

Instead, Brazilian inflation accelerated and little progress was made on other problems.

In addition, Goulart was packing his cabinet with leftists and assigned leftist-leaning officers of his own choosing in the armed forces.

And herewith the second question mark.

JAMES A. PERKINS

Cornell Prexy 'Worldly' Wise

New University Head
Tied to Global Affairs

NEW YORK (AP)—Cornell University, an institution with globe-girdling projects, has as its new president today a man long associated with world affairs and foreign policy, James A. Perkins.

Trustees of the university elected Perkins Thursday, naming him the seventh president of the 98-year-old school.

Perkins, 51, is a multi-career man.

He has been a college professor and official, a federal economic administrator, a foreign policy planner, a foundation executive, a member of two groups making official studies of the national defense program, and a member of the general advisory committee of the U.S. arms control and disarmament agency.

HEADS PRESIDENTIAL UNIT

He is chairman of the presidential panel on a national academy of foreign affairs, and a member of the Herter Commission on foreign service personnel.

However, Perkins says, "My base is primarily in the academic world."

Perkins is now vice president of the Carnegie Corporation of New York, and vice president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

He takes office at Cornell next July 1, succeeding Deane W. Malott, who will become president emeritus.

Port Huron Judge Will Sit Here

A St. Clair County judge will preside at the second Oakland County Circuit Court trial of two men charged with kidnaping and armed robbery.

A mistrial was granted Dec. 20 by Judge Frederick C. Ziem because the alleged victim of the accused had contributed to one of Judge Ziem's election campaigns.

Circuit Judge Edward Kane of Port Huron will hear the trial of Joseph Loncar, 35, of Lincoln Park, and Joseph Welch, 38, of Hazel Park.

The trial is scheduled to open Jan. 22 at the Oakland County Courthouse.

Arrangements for the visiting judge to hear the case were made through the court administrator of the Michigan Supreme Court by Judge Ziem, who disqualified himself at the first trial.

Loncar, Welch and two others were accused of taking J. J. Levy, owner of Oakland County Gas & Oil Co. and its 17 service stations, from his home to his main station at gun point and forcing him to open a safe Sept. 5.

At the first trial, which began Dec. 13, attorneys for Loncar and Welch challenged Judge Ziem's impartiality because Levy had contributed to one of the judge's campaigns.

Though denying any bias or prejudice, Judge Ziem granted their mistrial motion.

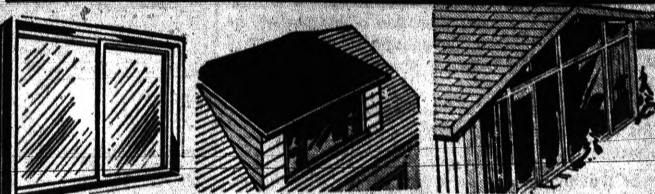

The attorney for a third defendant, James E. Wilson, 27, of Lincoln Park, did not join in the motion, but pointed out Levy also had contributed to campaigns of the county's other circuit court judges.

Wilson pleaded guilty to armed robbery and is awaiting sentence. Thomas Kaballa, 26, of Lincoln Park, pleaded guilty to armed robbery in the case Dec. 10 and was sentenced Dec. 28 to 7½ to 25 years in prison by Judge Ziem.

Soviets Send 32 Siberians Back Home

MOSCOW (AP)—The 32 Siberian Christians who sought refuge in the American Embassy are now on their way back to Siberia, a Soviet government spokesman said today.

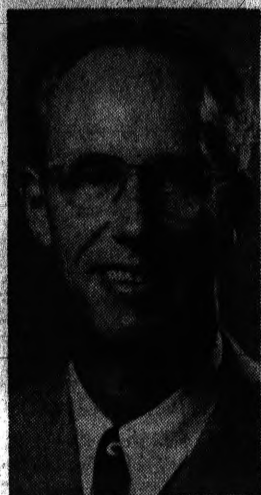

"They went sightseeing in Moscow Thursday afternoon," he said, "and in the evening they boarded a train which will take them back to where they came from."

Asked if they would get their old jobs back, the spokesman only repeated: "They are going back to where they came from."

The U.S. Embassy said the Soviet Foreign Ministry gave it a firm commitment that the Siberians would get good treatment and the embassy would be advised about the handling of the case.

The Siberians—six men, 12 women and 14 children—pushed aside Soviet police guards Thursday morning and invaded the embassy. They tearfully told American officials they were being persecuted for their religious beliefs and asked the Americans to help them get out of the Soviet Union.

The Americans patiently explained they were powerless to help. The Siberians, from peasant families, refused to budge, so Soviet authorities were notified.

Waterford's Winter Activities to Begin at Community Center

By JOE MULLEN
Waterford Township's Community Activities, Inc., winter slate of activities will get started Monday evening with the resumption of judo classes.

Other activities will also begin next week. By Jan. 24, the full winter program will be underway.

Judo, the art of using the weight of an opponent to his disadvantage, has caught the fancy of Waterford youth.

Instruction began last fall for some 30 boys, but the class is expected to expand during the winter sessions. Judo expert Otto Chanko instructs both beginners and advanced grapplers in the skill.

Garbed in oriental attire, the judo combatants begin their matches with the traditional bowing and scraping of the Asiatic judo performers.

The display of profuse politeness ends abruptly, however, when the whistle blows combatants into action. Certainly not a sport for the unhardy, judo involves repeated quick trips to the canvas for even the best of contestants.

The CAI baton-twirling instruction classes will get under way Tuesday with both beginner and advanced instruction offered from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Tuesday also will mark resumption of the popular ladies exercise program. Women from all over the township will go through their paces from 7 to 9 p.m.

BALLROOM DANCING

Classes in ballroom dancing will start Jan. 21 after a month's recess due to the holidays. Instructions will be offered Monday evenings for fifth and sixth graders, teens and adults in separate hour-long sessions.

Jan. 22 will herald resumption of both art classes and the fencing instruction program. Art classes will be offered from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and fencing is slated from 8 to 10 p.m.

CAI director Robert Bauer reports continued high participation in the semimonthly Friday-night teen dances. Members are admitted to the dances free and nonmembers pay a token fee at the door.

Also attracting a packed house on a regular basis is the Saturday children's movie. Comedies and westerns are featured fare at the weekly sessions for youngsters.

Among other CAI activities are piano and guitar lessons slated to resume Jan. 12 and a course in making fiber flowers. It's for adults and will begin Jan. 24.

ORGANIZATIONS MEET

Two very active CAI sponsored organizations which meet regularly at the building on Williams Lake Road, are the Lakeland

Van Dusen Takes Oath

Richard C. Van Dusen, of 32205 Bingham Road, Bingham Farms, was sworn in Wednesday as assistant attorney general to become Gov. George W. Romney's legal aide.

Van Dusen, Romney's legal adviser during his successful campaign, was given the oath of office by Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley.

Officially he is a member of the Democratic attorney general's staff, but is permanently assigned to the Republican governor's office.

Van Dusen served in the constitutional convention in 1961 and 1962 with Romney.

2 Firms to Give R44 Appraisals

Moving ahead rapidly on plans to purchase and clear properties in the R44 urban renewal project, the City Commission has okayed two more appraisal contracts.

A contract calling for maximum payment of $1,800 has been approved for Donald H. Treadwell of Treadwell Real Estate Co., Southgate.

Treadwell will review all acquisition appraisals in pending R44 project condemnation cases.

S. M. Dix & Associates, Inc., of Grand Rapids, has contracted to handle appraisals on special equipment and unremovable fixtures in R44 properties.

The Dix contract is for payment of $100 a day, not to exceed 40 days. Two other contracts for appraisals on urban renewal lands are slated for approval at next week's City Commission meeting.

Road Commission Conceals Gift Givers

DETROIT (AP)—Though acknowledging they had received Christmas gifts from firms doing business with them, more than 30 Wayne County road commissioners yesterday refused to give the names of firms involved.

The commissioners voted the reports were confidential employment records and would not be revealed to the public, even though the employees are paid with tax money.

The committee acted on advice of counsel in suppressing the reports.

Two Former Ionia Inmates Face Kidnap-Rape Trial

Two former inmates of Ionia State Hospital will be brought to trial on kidnap and rape charges in the next Oakland County Circuit Court jury term, Chief Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long said yesterday.

The term will begin Jan. 22 with Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero presiding.

James G. Styes, 34, and John T. Auld, 44, are charged with kidnaping a 19-year-old Farwell housewife and her 14-year-old brother and raping the woman in West Bloomfield Township after escaping from the hospital in August, 1961.

The pair have been held in Oakland County jail since Dec. 13 when Prosecutor George F. Taylor brought them from Ionia on a writ of habeas corpus.

They had indicated to Taylor they would plead guilty to the kidnaping charge, Taylor said.

However, they changed their minds about pleading guilty, Taylor said, and Styes refused to be represented by their attorney.

Gets Prison Term for Hitting Grocer With Tomato Can

Picking up a can of tomatoes and hitting a supermarket manager in the face with it has cost a 24-year-old Pontiac man one to four years in Jackson prison.

Herbert Jones, of 240 Hughes St., was sentenced to the prison term Wednesday by Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Jones pleaded guilty Nov. 29 to felonious assault Aug. 25 on Gregory Bodnovich, 506 S. East Blvd., manager of the Big Valu Market at 59 S. Saginaw St.

Bodnovich was attempting to hold Jones for police investigation of attempted theft from the store when the incident occurred. The store manager suffered a deep gash on his face.

That's the Color of COLD

December Truly Blue

December waited until the last day of the month to show its true color.

And blue it was. It showed up on noses and fingers of all who ventured outdoors on that, the coldest day of the season.

The mercury plummeted to one below zero on the day before New Year's, 60 degrees under the temperature reading on the day that ushered in the last month of 1962.

One year ago last month the temperature dropped to two degrees below zero. It was never as warm, however.

Unfortunately, the unseasonal balmy weather last month only lasted a couple of days. For the next week and a half temperatures moved slowly downward until they hovered around zero.

During the decline, however, it didn't take a weatherman to tell slipping and sliding pedestrians and motorists that winter was already here.

On Dec. 6 area residents saw the end of the April-in-December weather when 10 inches of snow accumulated during the day and evening.

It was the first major snow of the season, and motorists had to learn to drive all over again to keep pace with the seasonal hazard.

PROMISING SIGN

A week went by before there was another snowfall that could be measured. This time the two inches that fell was a promising sign that there might be a White Christmas.

There was, but it did not arrive until late in the evening. Traditionalists had to be content with a gray tinge during the day or look at a Christmas card depicting the sparkling white stuff.

In all, more than 14 inches of snow fell on Pontiac during December. During the 31 days the year before, snowfall was almost negligible compared to last month's less than one inch.

Even with all the snow in December, sunshine was the rule rather than the exception.

Old Sol beamed 16 days. There was only one day that it rained, the evening of Dec. 4.

On the same day, in the morning, there was fog, as there was again Dec. 19.

Sol D. Lomerson Chairs County Road Commission

Sol D. Lomerson was named chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission Wednesday at the commission's annual organizational meeting.

Robert O. Felt was elected vice chairman.

Former Novi Township Supervisor Frazer W. Staman began a six-year term on the commission, filling a vacancy created by the July death of Road Commission Chairman Hiland M. Thatcher.

Lomerson, a road commissioner since 1944 and chairman three times previously (1945, 1951 and 1957), has been acting chairman since Thatcher's death.

He takes over the chairman's post just as a salary raise to $10,000 approved by the county board of supervisors goes into effect. The chairman previously received the same pay as the other two commissioners—$7,500.

Staman resigned as Novi Township supervisor to be eligible for the road commissioner and was named by supervisors Nov. 7.

REAPPOINTMENTS

Road commissioners reappointed Paul VanRoekel to the post of highway engineer, a job he has held since 1957.

The commission also reappointed Irwin Nichols as secretary-clerk, a position Nichols has held since 1959.

A meeting of the road commission with representatives of the Union Lake Area Business Association has been scheduled for Jan. 16, Lomerson said.

Union Lake businessmen have asked for information on whether Union Lake Road from Commerce Lake Road to Cooley Lake Road will be closed during reconstruction planned for the coming summer.

Closing of the road during the peak season would seriously curtail business and possibly force some of them out of business, association members assert.

Lomerson said engineering studies of the project have been completed, providing a basis for discussion.

He said road commissioners would cooperate with Union Lake and attempt to cause as little inconvenience as possible.

However, he indicated that guarantees to keep the road open all during the project may not be possible.

Clarenceville Board OKs Building Plans

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Preliminary plans for a new physical education facility at Clarenceville Senior High School were approved by the board of education at a special meeting with architects last night.

The one-story addition is the fourth unit of a planned expansion project developed in 1955 through the help of a citizens committee, according to School Supt. Louis E. Schmidt.

To cost an estimated $400,000, it was provided for in a $1.5-million bond issue passed by the school district electorate last September.

The new building will contain three teaching stations, plus shower rooms and dressing facilities for both boys and girls.

Outside dimensions will be 136 by 146 feet.

An additional boiler to handle this unit and future additions will be installed in the high school building, the plans specify.

The board has also made provisions to have piping installed that would service a swimming pool at some future date.

OTHER ADDITIONS

Prior to last night the board had approved final drawings and specifications for the other major additions financed by the bond issue.

These include nine new classrooms and a library to be added at Botsford Elementary School, two new classrooms and a multipurpose room at Westbrook Elementary School and eight classrooms at Clarenceville Junior High.

Also included in the building program is a maintenance facility to be built on the old Central Elementary School property. The school itself is being renovated to house the administration offices.

Authorization was given last night for architects Dolner, Rolason and Rokicki of Oak Park to draw up final plans and specifications for the physical education unit for resubmission to the board in the near future.

Water Service Hearing Set Up

Utica Asks Comment of Annexed Area

UTICA — A public hearing here Jan. 15 will give residents in the area recently annexed from Shelby Township a chance to comment on a proposed special assessment district to provide them with water service.

Estimated cost of the proposed water system will be $3.87 per foot of frontage, according to City Attorney George Roberts.

Property owners can check their individual assessments for the proposed program at the City Hall, he said.

No opposition is expected to the creation of an assessment district, Roberts reasoned, as the taxpayers involved already have approved a ballot proposal authorizing the city to issue $200,000 in special assessment bonds for water mains.

Water was one of the main points of contention in the special election last May which led to the annexation of the 300-acre Shelby Township area.

At that time Utica promised residents they would get Detroit water by next May.

Mayor Fred H. Beck will preside at the hearing, which was called by the City Council and is set for 8 p.m. in the City Hall.

U.S. Doubles Aid in County

Grants, Loans Raised for Royal Oak Twp.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., was advised yesterday that federal urban renewal grants and loans for Royal Oak Township have been more than doubled.

Urban Renewal Commissioner William H. Slayton said he has approved big increases for the Oakland County community's project, first approved July 9, 1959.

Royal Oak Township is one of the Detroit area's most blighted communities.

The original federal grant has been increased from $1,361,078 to $3,816,508.

The increases will permit expansion of the urban renewal project from 220 acres to 259 acres and speed up clearance of former slum areas and relocation of displaced families, Slayton said.

48th Farmer's Week Soon Opens at MSU

Final arrangements are being completed for the 48th annual Farmer's Week at Michigan State University, which is scheduled to run from Jan. 28 to Feb. 1.

"Science Serves Michigan Agriculture" will be the theme of the program as MSU welcomes state farmers to the East Lansing campus where they will hear and see reports of latest developments in modern farming.

Daily schedules have been set up, with Jan. 28 being of particular interest to dairymen. State breed associations will hold their annual meetings and special awards will be made at the dairy banquet that day.

Jan. 29 will be "Sugar Beet Day." Outstanding sugar beet growers will be recognized and fruit growers will be invited to hear speeches on pest control and growing nuts and noncommercial fruit.

The "Distinguished Service to Agriculture" awards will be distributed at a noon luncheon Jan. 30 following which guests will be invited to lectures on tillage control.

More than 30 members of MSU's Department of Agricultural Economics will participate Jan. 31 in a session on modern farm management.

Also featured that day will be a poultry program, the annual meeting of the Michigan Lamb Feeders Association and a discussion of a swine system which is engineered for raising up to 2,000 pigs.

On Feb. 1, special exhibits of departments and commercial companies will round out the program to provide something of interest to all those attending.

Area Greenhouse Gutted by Blaze

ROSE TOWNSHIP — Farmer's Greenhouse was destroyed by fire early today despite attempts of the Holly Fire Department to extinguish the blaze.

Beginning in the greenhouse heating plant the fire spread throughout the 100 by 30-foot structure and leveled most of it, according to Fire Chief Maynard Lowe.

The portion which remained standing was completely gutted, he said. No estimate was made of the damage.

Dwelling Destroyed by Fire

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Fire yesterday leveled a two-story house under construction on Sheffield Road and damaged a neighboring home before firemen could bring the flames under control.

Arriving at about 3:30 p.m. firemen found the partially completed dwelling folding in flames. They then concentrated on putting out the blaze burning through the roof and wall of the E. M. Machowski home next door at 663 Sheffield Road.

The flash fire started from fumes released by four makeshift "salamanders" in the garage of the new home, according to Fire Chief Carl Schingek.

He said that four 50-gallon drums were burning coke to speed drying of the fresh cement, when the unburned gas released by the coke caught fire.

Schingek estimated damage to the unfinished house at about $6,000. It was scheduled to be a $16,900 home when completed.

Damage to the Machowski house was estimated at $1,500. The unfinished home was insured, Schingek said.

Game at Bloomfield Hills Takes Area Spotlight

NCAA Convention Begins on Coast

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association opens its 57th annual convention today with the amateur sports dispute with the Amateur Athletic Union sure to occupy most of the attention.

Strictly college matters, which usually dominate this annual meeting of nearly 2,000 of the nation's college and university representatives, seem certain to be relegated to the background.

The reason: The fierce tussle between the nation's two powerful amateur athletic bodies that threatens to ruin the make-up of U.S. teams for international competition, including the Pan American games in Brazil this spring and the Olympics in Tokyo next year.

An apparent "truce" settlement of less than two months ago has been shattered in a maze of confusion, charges and countercharges over what was agreed upon.

PRESIDENT STEPS IN

With the break between the groups again as wide as ever, President Kennedy has stepped in, following up the lead of his brother, the attorney general, and has delegated Gen. Douglas MacArthur as mediator.

And although both sides have accepted the President's appeal for arbitration before Gen. MacArthur, the situation is not what it may seem at first glance.

The AAU will arbitrate only with the NCAA. It has insisted it will not sit down with the year-old U.S. Track and Field Federation, which the AAU calls a "puppet" of the NCAA.

The federation says it will arbitrate with the AAU. The NCAA, which considers itself only a part of the federation structure, says it will not arbitrate individually with the AAU.

It's a case, once more, of seeming agreement on both sides causing a total disagreement.

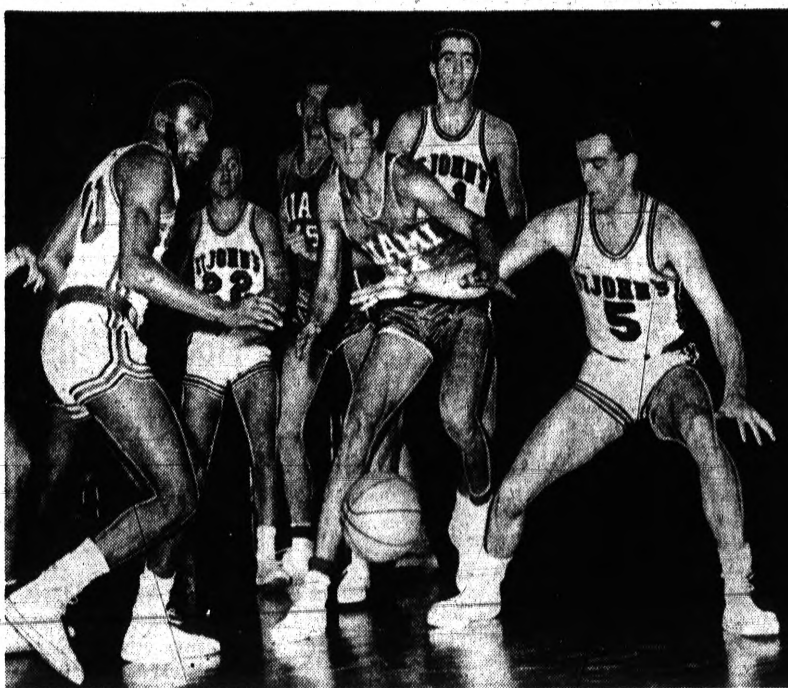

Patterson to Pick Fight Scene Soon

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson is expected to decide on the site for a proposed rematch with heavyweight champion Sonny Liston by the end of the week, Thursday.

Four cities are in the running for the rematch said Bolan, president of Championship Sports Inc., and it's up to dethroned champion Patterson to pick the site.

"The decision is not ours to make," Bolan said. "It's up to Patterson. He probably will make up his mind by the end of the week—I'm sure he will."

Bolan said four cities, Miami Beach, Baltimore, Las Vegas and an unidentified site in the Midwest are under consideration.

BALLHAWK BARRY — Rick Barry (24), Miami's 6-7 sophomore star, and Don Burke (10) and Jerry Houston (5) of St. John's go after a loose ball in last night's game. Barry scored 26 points to lead the Hurricanes to a 67-59 victory.

Loyola, Bradley Aim at Bearcats

By The Associated Press

Chicago Loyola's fast-stepping Ramblers and Bradley's always-the-bridesmaid Braves are gunning for the same rival—Cincinnati.

The Ramblers, currently second to Cincinnati in the national college basketball rankings, are after that top rating. And the Braves, who've finished right behind the Bearcats in the Missouri Valley Conference for five straight seasons, are looking to shake the runner-up role this year.

Both took forward strides Thursday night.

Coach Earns Hard Victory in Rec Play

Coach Dave Struble scored six points in the second overtime last night to enable O'Neil Realty to pull out a 67-60 decision over Hoyt Realty in a game it apparently had lost in the first overtime of the Waterford Men's Recreation League contest.

Hoyt's Mickey Dean had tied the game with a bucket 20 seconds before the end of the regulation game and it took a 59-57 lead into the closing seconds of the first overtime. However, the losers fouled Dave Ross of O'Neil as the buzzer sounded.

He sank both shots to tie the score again and set up Struble's heroics. Struble had 21 and Timb Patterson 19 for the winners while Dean tallied 21 for the losers.

Lakeland Pharmacy remained unbeaten in the other contest by walloping Woodcum Drilling, 104-49. Tom Mickman and Jerry Thomas had 32 and 21, respectively, for the winners.

Time ran out on Local No. 653 and Colonial Lumber last night as they fought to a 55-55 tie in the final night's action of pre-season play in the Pontiac Adult League. Jim Gardner had 22 for the union and Bill Dunston 20 for the lumbermen.

Southwest Community Club and the Bachelors' Club coasted to easy wins in the other two games. Southwest took Michigan Bell, 50-26 and the Bachelors defeated Columbia Avenue Baptist, 56-32. Earl McKee's 16 for the community clubbers was the top effort in the two games.

PCH On Road for Important Valley Contest

Two Waterford Fives in Action; Oakland A Has Full Slate

West Bloomfield's important basketball date at Bloomfield Hills highlights a rather slim area basketball schedule tonight.

Pontiac Central plays a key— for the Chiefs—Saginaw Valley game at Midland. Pontiac North-eastern is idle.

Waterford Township High and Kettering are in action. The Skippers travel to Lapeer for a nonleague contest while Kettering is hosting Walled Lake.

There is a full slate of games in the Oakland A. League. Bloomfield Hills and West Bloomfield are unbeaten and tied for first place in the Wayne-Oakland standings. The two schools meet again later in the season.

Holly, a half game behind the leaders, entertains Northville, Brighton goes to Clarkston, and Milford is at Clarenceville in other W-O action.

KEY CONTEST

Pontiac Central has a 1-2 SVC mark and another setback would all but eliminate the Chiefs from title contention. A victory over the Chemics would put PCH in a fair position.

The schedule would be on the Chiefs' side. They play Saginaw only once, at home, and have already tangled with Arthur Hill, another team they play only once.

If Lapeer players can keep from fouling Waterford's Bob Reader, the Panthers may post an upset. Reader has a knack of drawing about 15 foul shots a game and has been hitting over 75 per cent of his tries.

Walled Lake appears to be coming on strong after picking up its first win in 23 games. Kettering has been slow getting under way.

Troy goes to Avondale, Madison is at Lake Orion and Fitzgerald plays at Clawson in Oakland A encounters.

St. Michael is on the road tonight for a Northwest Catholic game. The Shamrocks travel to last place St. Agatha. Royal Oak St. Mary is at Farmington Our Lady in the other loop contest.

NBA Attendance Improved; Only Detroit Down

NEW YORK (AP)—Attendance is up 31 per cent at the midway point of the National Basketball Association season, and the main reason appears to be soaring attendance in Los Angeles and Syracuse.

NBA President Maurice Podoloff announced Thursday the jump in league attendance, based on a comparison of figures for a comparable number of games this season and last season. He did not mention any figures in his statement.

Podoloff indicated Los Angeles has grossed more so far this year than any other team in the 17-year history of the NBA for the same period. He said Syracuse has shown an 80 per cent rise.

Podoloff did not mention the other teams, but from another source it was learned New York, Boston and Chicago are up, St. Louis and Cincinnati about even and Detroit down.

The Warriors, transplanted from Philadelphia, are in their first season in San Francisco and no comparison figures are available.

Tiger Outfielder Given Increase to $52,000 Despite '62 Injuries

By United Press International
The Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Cardinals have shelled out $122,000 for two players and consider it a "steal" because the men who will receive the money are Al Kaline and Stan Musial.

Musial, amazingly fit and looking much younger than 42, signed his 22nd contract with the Cardinals for a reported $70,000, the same salary he made last year. And the 28-year-old Kaline, who was given a raise by the Tigers, signed his 11th contract with them yesterday for an estimated $52,000.

The Boston Red Sox also signed four of their key players in pitcher Dick Radatz, of Berkley, shortstop Ed Bressoud, outfielder Lou Clinton and catcher Bob Tillman.

Musial rather startled news-men who showed up at the Cardinals' offices for his signing by revealing he had just come in from running a mile "just for exercise" and that he might even decide to play again in 1964 if he hits .300 this year.

Stan the Man batted .330 the past season. Among other records, he needs only three more extra base hits to tie Babe Ruth's record.

Only four pounds over his usual weight of 180, Musial said he thought he "can play 100 games easily" this year.

ONE MORE TIME

And if his hitting stands up, he said "I would think of playing" the year after this one.

Kaline was as happy over his contract as Musial was over his. "Considering the circumstances," said the Detroit outfielder, "it's the best I've ever had."

The circumstance Kaline undoubtedly referred to was the broken collarbone he suffered while making a diving catch to save a game at Yankee Stadium last May 26. He was out of action almost two months but he still batted .304 and hit 28 homers.

"My arm feels as good as it ever did," Kaline said. "In fact, it might be stronger because I worked harder this winter to get it in shape."

Kaline said that a couple of fingers on his right hand were numb even at the end of the season. "But on our trip to Japan the hand started coming around again."

Russian Roulette Set for Wrestling Card

Pro wrestlers will play Russian roulette Saturday night at the Pontiac Armory. Ricki Cortez, The Great Mephisto, Skull Nurnburg, Kurt Von Stroheim, Tim Woodin, Tony Parisi, Ali Bey and Gino Briton will participate. The wrestlers will climb into the ring at 8:30.

Promotor Paul Parks announced that the weekly cards will be on Saturdays for the remainder of the winter.

North Seniors Set for Battle in South

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—With the elections of captains over, North and South squads of the Senior Bowl teams go through their final practice sessions today before Saturday's game.

Both coaches—Weeb Ewbank of the South and Tom Landry of the North—are expressing pleasure with what they agree are the two most evenly matched and talented teams in Senior Bowl history. But neither is making predictions.

Al-America Lee Roy Jordan of Alabama and Johnny Baker of Mississippi State will captain the Southern squad while the North will be led by Ohio State's Gary Moeller and Detroit's Jerry Gross.

CENTER OUT

The Yankees' Rod Schoyer, Washington center, injured a leg and will not dress out for the 14th encounter of North and South. He was replaced by guard Dick

Shue Speaks for 'Little Man'

Wants 3-Point Scoring for NBA

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gene Shue of the New York Knickerbockers, a nine-year veteran of the National Basketball Association, thinks it's about time to rejuvenate the professional game.

Indicating he is at least partially in agreement with critics who say the game is dull, Shue blames tall players, excessive fouling and judgment calls by officials.

"Big men are killing the game," Shue said before Thursday night's game with the Syracuse Nationals. "We ought to take the game back outside from under the basket."

HALFTIME HONORS

Shue, who at 6-foot-2 is one of the smaller players in the league, scored 18 points as the Knicks held off a last quarter rally and defeated Syracuse 123-115. The former University of Maryland athlete was honored by hometown fans during halftime ceremonies and was presented with a silver serving set.

To help unclutter the traffic under the basket, Shue advocates taking a cue from the defunct American Basketball League and award more than two points for shots from long distances.

The ABL awarded three points for field goals of 25 feet or longer. Shue would go one step further, making it possible to score as many as four points.

"A team would never be out of the game, and the fans could see the plays develop for the three and four-pointers," he said.

Shue also proposed several changes to help cut down on the number of fouls, which he called "the biggest difficulty" of the pro game.

He suggested that players be ejected from the game after committing four fouls, rather than the six now allowed, and that two free throws be awarded for all fouls.

"Then coaches couldn't play those who foul all the time," he said. "Players hit up to 85 per cent of their foul shots in the league."

JUDGMENT CALLS

The Knicks backcourt star also suggested the rule makers spell out personal fouls more clearly, cutting down on the number of judgment calls by officials.

"We have to take thinking out of officiating," he said, explaining that judgment calls during the fast, continuous action—rather than the officials themselves—resulted in the almost constant foul shooting.

A total of 54 fouls were called Thursday night as the Knicks, last-place club in the Eastern Division, upended the second-place Nats. New York, which had its lead cut from 17 to four points during the last period, was paced by Johnny Green with 31 points. Hal Greer scored 30 for the Nats.

Tonight's schedule shows Boston at Los Angeles, San Francisco at Cincinnati, and a doubleheader at New York involving St. Louis and Detroit and the Knicks against Chicago.

Montreal Ties Leafs After 4-1 Victory

By The Associated Press

The man behind the mask in the Montreal nets is smiling. That would be Jacques Plante, who has battled back from a respiratory ailment that sidelined him for about a month and has taken over as the National Hockey League's leading goalie while keeping the Canadiens on the move upward in the standings.

The Canadiens pulled into a second-place tie with Toronto—only four points behind first-place Chicago—by whipping Boston 4-1 in the league's lone game Thursday night. Montreal has either won or tied in its last eight games, and Plante has been kicking out shots in every one.

Plante stopped 26 shots against Boston and had a shut out until Tom Williams connected early in the third period. By that time, Montreal had scored all its goals against rookie netminder Ed Johnston, who stopped 38 shots.

SCORING SHOTS

Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, Jean-Guy Talbot and Donnie Marshall scored for Montreal in the first period. Jean Beliveau tallied in the second stanza.

Geoffrion, getting his sixth goal in the last four games and his 18th of the season, injured his hand early in the last period and sat out the remainder of the game. The extent of the injury was not known.

Top Swimming Meet on Tap

The heaviest swim schedule of action at 4:00 p. m. today when the season takes place in high school ranks this weekend with the "meet of the year" slated Saturday night in the Ann Arbor pool where Birmingham Seaholm's state title ambitions will be tested.

The Maples have touted to win the state title this year with Ann Arbor expected to be the closest competitor. The two teams took part in the Royal Oak and Battle Creek Relays this year and they finished 1-2 with Seaholm on top.

Tonight in the Seaholm pool at 7:30 p. m. the Maples host Fitzgerald High School. Pontiac Central gets back into the urban Swim League schedule under way facing newest league member Groves at 7:30 in the Groves pool.

At Royal Oak Kimball, the Knight swimmers entertain Ferndale at 4:00 p. m., while Hazel Park is home to Mt. Clemens tonight.

Those with 500 series were Mesdames Kuhlman 561, Lynch 555, Buffmyer 554, Grubbs 542 and Walker 527.

CLASSIC LEAGUE
The Huron Bowl Classic competition last week came up with some fancy figures on the male side of the ledger. Bob Smith's high 708 actual series was one of three 700-plus marks. Jay Lovett had a 706 and Mike Samardzija Jr. hit 700 on the nose.

Lovett, Samardzija and Smith, also, had the high actual game scores with 268, 266 and 265 in the aforementioned order. Samardzija added a 254.

In addition to the 22 games at the 225-or-better tempo, there were 20 series of 600-or-over. League leading Eamon Electric put some daylight between it and runnerup Pontiac Window Cleaning by defeating its closest pursuer, 6-2, last Friday, despite a 1096 team game by the window washers.

The scoring was exceptionally high in the Pontiac Traveling Classic last Sunday with several notable results. Westside Lanes bombed Airway and moved into striking position of 300 Bowl & Lounge, the league's leader all season.

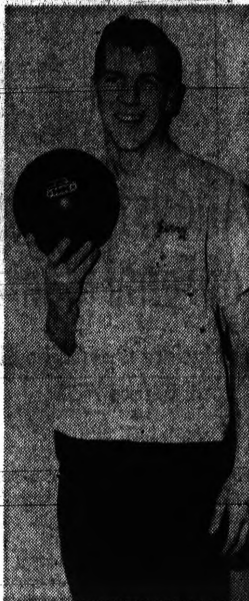

The 23-5 score was one of the highest point totals by a winning team this season. In another lopsided victory, Wonderland Lanes garnered its second favorable decision this season by pinning a 15-3 loss on Howe's Lanes.

In a regularly scheduled match, 300 Bowl & Lounge dropped a 19-12 verdict at Cooley Lanes. The leaders rallied for an 8-7 win over Huron Bowl in a makeup match, however, to re-

BOWLING

The Pontiac Motor Inter-office League at 300 Bowl this week registered 17 games of 200 or better and two of the bowlers posted 600 series.

Jess Williams was the hottest kegler as he tallied 212-212-202-626. Nelson Fields' 617 series with 236-203 games was close behind. Charles Walter scored 21 and Cliff Whitlock had a 221.

In the 300 Bowl Wednesday Nite House League, Carter's Party Store shot a 2,704 team series as Ray Underwood rolled 209-255-632. Gerry Mazza bowled 223-607 in the Badwewers' 2,691 team effort.

However, the most important score of the evening's efforts was a 2,530 by Eastern State which enabled that squad to remain in first place.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

Sharon Smith's 246 was the big news in the Double Trouble Mixed League at 300 Bowl. The loop race features a first place tie between the Alley Rats and the Blue Jays.

The 300 Hep Cats, meanwhile, report a 2,509 team series by Team No. 1. In the Wednesday Nite Ladies Classic, Barbara Wernet had the high game, a 202 and Trade Fair had the high team game, an 808.

Chris Nicholas scored 223-561

in the St. George Goya circuit at 300 Bowl.

At Airway Lanes, B-W Controller tops the field in the Thursday Nite Ladies loop by four games. Fourth place China City Restaurant had the high team game last week, though, a 2,156.

Wonderland Lanes reports its high league game last week was Ed Kirby's 244 in the Hits 'n' Mrs. League. Skip Morton had 226-628 and Mary Lou Durfee converted the 6-7-10 split.

Olive McCarty rolled a 243-560 combination in the Wondergirls' play and Jean Wilkins bowled 212. The Hi-Lo's Ladies recorded a 241-545 by Loretta Vickory. In the 850 House League, Len Papke bowled a 238 and Jack Lange a 227.

"Our basement was hard to heat..."

"Electric heat helped us turn a chilly basement into a modern, useful, year-round family room," says Mrs. Horace Johns. "We have electric heat in the second-floor bedrooms and bath, too. Keeps them as warm as the rest of the house—even warmer if we want. We can raise the temperature in any of these rooms without overheating the whole house. One reason we chose electric heat in the first place was because it cost less to install. Now we like the convenience of electric heat so much that, if and when we buy another home, we'll have it throughout."

Meet the Horace Johns family of Millington, Michigan

What about your home? Do you have a hard-to-heat room? Are you adding on a room? Are you buying a new home? Is the heating system in your present home more trouble than it's worth? One of the types of electric heating units shown below may be the answer to your heating problems. One easy way to find out is to ask your electrical contractor. Another is to call your Edison office. We'll be glad to send you a copy of our free booklet "Electric Home Heating" and will answer any questions you may have about the modern, worry-free way to heat your home—electrically.

Economy Is Lagging

British Worried, Too

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Like the United States, Britain is worried about the slow growth of her economy as measured in terms of employment and as compared with the spectacular rise in the Continental European nations.

So now Britain is trying easier money.

It has brought its official bank lending rate down to 4 per cent, as against a postwar high of 7 per cent in mid 1961.

The latest cut Thursday means that British banks can borrow from the Bank of England at a lower rate. They thus can get more money to lend to industry if it wishes to expand its activities or to consumers who want to purchase goods at lower interest charges.

The U.S. discount rate is 3 per cent—meaning that money is still cheaper here than in Britain.

The United Kingdom also is using another pump-priming technique that the American administration is advocating. The United States is debating cutting income taxes, which puts heavier emphasis on sales taxes, has cut this levy on a number of consumer items such as cars, television sets, radios, cosmetics.

Until recently those taxes had been kept high to discourage consumer purchasing while the British government was fighting to strengthen the pound sterling in world money markets.

At the moment the pound looks much healthier—as does the dollar—and both nations now feel they can stimulate domestic business without danger of another run on their gold and dollar, or gold and pound reserves.

The Macmillan government also is hard pressed at the moment and its opposition will charge that the rate cut is primarily a move to win back favor with the electorate.

HOLD STEADY

The American gold reserves have held steady for quite a spell, and the price of gold in London is now below the U.S. Treasury's selling price. This bolsters confidence in the dollar at the moment, even though this country is still running a deficit in its balance of payments with other lands.

Britain has reported its gold and hard currency reserves are a bit below a year ago. But this is more than accounted for by its recent payment of debts to the United States, Canada and the International Monetary fund.

London now feels free to try to spur a sluggish economy by making money easier. One possible effect in the United States will be that it will be just that less attractive for investors with idle dollars to take them to London in search of higher returns than obtainable here. Any curb on such outflow would help the American balance of payments situation.

NEEDS FASTER GROWTH

Britain's worry about its domestic economy is that in 1962 it rose by only 2 per cent in terms of constant prices. Britain needs a faster growth rate than that if it is to keep up with European nations in the Common Market. It wants to join. Easier money is one means of encouraging additional output of goods and services. The rise last year in Germany was 8.5 per cent, in Italy 8 per cent, and in France 6 per cent.

The United States, too, is seeking to increase its growth rate. And much of the debate in the upcoming session of Congress will involve various schemes of doing this—tax cutting, government spending, easier money, and various proposals for cutting the total of unemployment.

Attests to Safety of Fermi Plant

Nuclear Operation Bid Still Before AEC

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter J. McCarthy, assistant to the general manager of Power Reactor Development Co. (PRDC), said today the company's Enrico Fermi power reactor located 30 miles southwest of Detroit will be able to operate safely at its designed power level of 200 megawatts.

McCarthy testified before the Atomic Energy Commission's 3-man atomic safety and licensing board in support of PRDC's application for a provisional operating license for the $65-million reactor constructed near Monroe, Mich.

The projected test program which PRDC, composed of 21 corporations, seeks to institute would involve only one megawatt of power.

McCarthy, in prepared testimony, said the projected low-power nuclear test program would provide further confirmation of the safety of the reactor.

The hearing, in spite of an unexpected withdrawal yesterday from this phase of the proceedings by three unions, is expected to continue through the first part of next week.

Negotiators Firm in Stalled Strike of U.S. Shipping

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators on both sides are reported standing firm in their positions in the dock strike on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

Alexander P. Chopin, chairman of the New York Shipping Association, said "I can't see any reason for optimism at this time."

Thomas Gleason, executive vice president of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association said the union will maintain its wage demands "until doomsday."

The statements were made Thursday as negotiations were recessed to today, the 13th day of the strike of 60,000 dock workers which has crippled shipping in ports from Maine to Texas.

Demand for Grain Is Eased Slightly

CHICAGO (AP)—The demand for grain futures eased slightly today on most contracts as demand slackened a little and offerings became a bit more liberal on the board of trade.

Setbacks were mostly in small fractions, but rye was down about a cent at extreme during the first several minutes of fairly active mixed trade.

Brokers said there was no significant pressure anywhere and that transactions mainly were toward shifting of speculative positions.

News in Brief

Richard Olmstead, 33, of 6850 Abalone Ter., Walled Lake, told Pontiac police he was knocked down yesterday afternoon and robbed of a $39 ring and $12 cash on Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence streets.

A radio valued at $50 was reported stolen yesterday from a car owned by Marshall Witt and parked in front of his home at 1400 Summit St.

New Year Rally Continues

Mart Gains Against Resistance

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's New Year rally pushed ahead against increasing resistance early this afternoon. Trading was exceptionally heavy.

The first-hour volume of 1.57-million shares was the biggest in weeks.

Brokers saw it as a continuation of yesterday's buying wave, based mainly on the commitment of funds made available by tax-loss selling and profit taking in recent weeks.

The ticker tape ran six minutes late when trading was at its heaviest. Big blocks in leading issues were traded at the start. Most gains were fractional, however.

Rails continued higher in corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange. Utilities were a shade better while industrials held irregular.

Both corporates and government bonds are close to 1962-63 highs.

Bonds Open Mixed, Some Off

NEW YORK (AP)—Bond prices opened mixed today.

Over-the-counter dealers in U.S. government securities quoted long maturities off 6/32 and intermediates down 2/32 to 6/32 in a reversal of the upward move.

Nixon Pauses to Relax at Another Political Crossroad

By JOE LEWIS

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, looking tanned and fit, is living at a relaxed pace these days—playing golf and spending more time with his family—as he ponders his future.

But his future, apparently, is just as much a question mark to the former vice president as it is to everyone else.

Hey, Man, Treat Us Cats Right

WASHINGTON (AP) — A reader telephoned the Washington Evening Star late Wednesday night with this news item:

"Two beatniks are going to the zoo to feed the lions. They heard they aren't being treated right."

What do they look like? "They're just like ordinary beatniks, man," said the caller who termed himself a friend trying to get their mission a little publicity.

National Zoological Park police were alerted, and at midnight they ran down their quarry — a dungaree-and-sneaker-clad couple who identified themselves as William W. Royston, 24, and Carol L. Jackson, 21, of Washington.

They had scaled the high zoo gate police said, and were on the trail to the lion house. It was locked. And anyway they had forgotten to bring along the 'cat' food.

Police charged them with being in the zoo after sundown.

"Shall I speak out on public affairs? Or should I stay completely out of the public arena?" The answer isn't expected for months.

Nixon has been in seclusion since Nov. 7, when his hopes for a political comeback were shattered in a losing bid to unseat Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown. At a farewell news conference, he bitterly criticized the press and said he was quitting politics.

But associates say Nixon since has been getting thousands of letters, from throughout the nation encouraging him to speak out on public issues.

"He's had as many letters and cards this Christmas as he's had at any Christmas," says a former aide. As if in reply to an unasked question, he added: "If anyone doubts it, I'll open the closet and show it to him."

HE'S NOT MAD

The aide gave this description of Nixon's current state of mind: "He's not moping around the house, second-guessing himself or blaming anyone. He's not mad at anybody."

"Financially speaking, losing the governorship was the best thing that happened to Dick. Now he's free to consider a lot of lucrative offers."

Nixon amassed a sizable financial nest-egg in recent years, chiefly from writing projects.

After the election, Nixon vacationed for three weeks in the Bahamas and Key West, Fla. He's been at home since, except for a three-day visit to New York—described by friends as a non-political trip to renew old acquaintances.

"In California," a Nixon source said, "he's regarded as the guy who got beat for the governorship. But he stopped traffic in New York."

He said Nixon made a window-shopping tour of Manhattan's Fifth Avenue at noon—and was besieged by well-wishers. The source denied reports that Nixon plans to move to the East.

Will be consider a job with a large corporation? "I don't think he's really interested in that," the source added, "but you can never turn you back on really big money."

POSSIBLE PATHS

However, Herbert G. Klein, former Nixon news secretary and once again editor of the San Diego Union, said he thinks Nixon will return to the Los Angeles law firm that he served as a consultant before he ran for governor.

However, Klein added, nothing has been decided yet.

There also is a possibility that Nixon might undertake a weekly television program devoted to will think he's running for office again. And he doesn't want to sell aspirin on TV.

"It would be a think-piece type show, part live, part filmed and part tape, with distinguished guests each week. And he would probably try to put issues in perspective rather than comment on day-to-day happenings in politics."

This source, too, emphasized that nothing has been decided yet. "Meanwhile," he said, "Nixon's been on the golf course nearly every morning and he's shooting in the high 80s again. He catches up on correspondence at the law office in the afternoon and has friends over for dinner in the evening."

On Christmas Day the Nixons held a family reunion, including his mother, Hannah M. Nixon, and relatives of his wife, Patricia, in their rambling, modernistic, white mansion.

A big Christmas tree, that could be seen from the street, stood in the living room by a picture window, and Nixon himself played Christmas carols on the piano. "I would say," said a friend, "that this has been a happy Christmas for Dick and his family."

Pontiac Nearly Hits All-Time Sales High

Sparked by the best fourth quarter in its history, Pontiac Motor Division last year came within about 3,500 units of breaking all existing divisional sales records.

E.M. (Pete) Estes, Pontiac Motor Division general manager, today announced that sales of Pontiacs and Tempests for 1962 totaled more than 543,000 units.

This figure is topped only by the record 546,531 cars sold in 1955.

Money Used for Purchases, Wages Here

$243-Million Total Credited for Increase in Local Business

General Motors Corp. today revealed that it spent more than $243 million in Pontiac in 1962 — a $53-million increase over 1961.

The GM expenditures — consisting of wages at and local purchases by Pontiac Motor Division, the Fisher Body Plant and GMC Truck & Coach Division — were the basis for a steady increase in business and financial trends in the Pontiac area last year.

As payrolls and employment rose, so did employee investments in U. S. Savings Bonds and contributions to the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Also highlighting 1962 were several production milestones at local plants and the largest award ever granted to an employee under GM's suggestion plan.

This announcement was issued jointly by the general managers of GM's three local divisions, E. M. (Pete) Estes of Pontiac Motor Division, Calvin J. Werner of GMC Truck & Coach and Thomas F. Weithorn of the Fisher Body plant.

Their statement said employee earnings for the year totaled nearly $200 million. An additional $43.7 million was paid to 985 local businesses for supplies.

Employment at the three GM facilities climbed to a monthly average of 24,414, up 1,400 over 1961. In December, the average number of employed rose to 27,665.

Employees invested $3.6 million in U.S. Savings Bonds purchased through the payroll deduction plan, up $700,000 over the previous 12-month period.

More than $376,000 was awarded to local employees for their ideas submitted under the GM suggestion plan, up 45 per cent over 1961. Edward Sutherland, a 24-year-old engineering department employee at Pontiac Motor, was awarded $8,333 for two product improvement suggestions.

It was the largest award ever made to a GM employee at one time during the 20 years the GM Suggestion Plan has been in existence.

Employees at the three plants contributed a record $306,643 to the Pontiac Area United Fund, topping their previous record set in 1961 by more than $37,000. General Motors made an additional corporate gift of $133,000 to the local drive.

May Discuss NATO, Missiles

De Gaulle Opens Way to Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A message to President Kennedy from President Charles de Gaulle of France appeared today to open the way for detailed exploratory talks on formation of a NATO striking force armed with Polaris nuclear missiles.

De Gaulle's answer is expected to be discussed Saturday at Palm Beach, Fla., when Kennedy confers with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Thomas K. Finletter, the President's representative to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said Thursday night they would talk about "NATO problems."

Consumers, Edison Join Power Project Plans

Michigan's two large power companies, Consumers Power Co. and the Detroit Edison Co., will be working more closely together in the future.

The new agreement, an Edison spokesman explained, formalizes what the two utilities have been doing on a more informal basis in the past.

It will enable Consumers and Edison, he said, to take advantage of the latest work being done in high-voltage transmission and larger generators.

Consumers and Edison were two of the larger companies involved in the construction of the Enrico Fermi nuclear power plant at Monroe.

Tshombe Warns He'll 'Fight to End' if U.N. Continues Advance

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katangan President Moise Tshombe was reported today making a new bid for negotiations as U.N. combat forces prepared to close in on the remnants of his resistance forces at Kolwezi.

But if there are no negotiations and U.N. troops continue advancing, Tshombe declared in an interview, "We shall fight to the end. If Kolwezi falls, then we will fight in the bush."

Tshombe was interviewed in Kolwezi by Adrian Porter of The Associated Press and a Belgian newsman as U. N. Indian, Irish and Ethiopian troops chased dwindling Katangan forces out of Jadotville without a fight.

A rear-guard of Tshombe's gendarmes and white mercenaries fled in automobiles seized from civilians, yielding the important copper and cobalt producing center which they had threatened to defend street by street.

WILL NEGOTIATE

"I hear that (U.N. Secretary-General) U Thant wants me to start negotiations," Tshombe said. "I am disposed to do so."

He said he had been waiting in vain for a U. N. plane to pick him up to return to Elisabethville for talks and also for word from the American and British consuls in Elisabethville guaranteeing his safety.

There was no indication here on what Tshombe based his statement that Thant wished negotiations. The secretary-general on Wednesday rejected Tshombe's condition for talks — a cease-fire on the Jadotville road and the consular escort — and said the time was past for negotiations.

He said Tshombe must now indicate by actions, not words, willingness to cooperate in U.N. plans for the Congo's unification.

Tshombe's threats to carry out a scorched-earth policy apparently were not borne out at Jadotville.

Red China Unveils Suspensions of K

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Red China's leaders appear to suspect Nikita Khrushchev of playing around with the idea of a nuclear weapons understanding with the United States.

The Red Chinese indicate they believe superiority in nuclear weapons should be built up and maintained to help force communism on the rest of the world.

To have the potential and shrink from brandishing it for practical political purposes because of the risks involved is a betrayal of the cause of world revolution, Peking seems to feel.

The year-end blast from Red China at Premier Khrushchev implies the Soviet leader is flirting with the idea of a long-term toleration of the Western system during which competition would be used to produce a "new international order" through some kind of peaceful evolution. Such an idea, Peking asserts is outright revision of Leninism.

Ostensibly, the 10,000-word editorial in the Peking People's Daily of Dec. 31 is a response to statements at the recent Italian Communist party by Red boss Palmiro Togliatti. But the Soviet premier is the target. He is not mentioned by name. But the editorial repeatedly lambastes "some people."

The Chinese themselves are believed working to produce an explosion that will vault them into the nuclear weapon club. Until they do, the U.S.S.R. is the only power which can use the weapon as a lever to force Red expansion.

What should be done, in the Peking view?

In a mass of Communist double-talk, the editorial lays down recommendations.

"U.S. imperialism," says the editorial, "is doing its utmost to disseminate dread of nuclear weapons in pursuit of a policy of nuclear blackmail."

By nuclear blackmail, it means preventing Communists thrusts, such as the attempt to install nuclear-capable missiles in Cuba. Thus, Peking contends, it would be wrong for Communists to further Western propaganda by admitting a possibility of cataclysm for both sides in a nuclear war.

The right attitude, the editorial implies, is that only "the imperialists" would be wiped out in nuclear conflict.

ONESIDED DRIVE

The thing to do, says the editorial, is to "mobilize the masses of people against nuclear war." Popular pressure should be brought against non-Communist governments by "the forces of peace," meaning Communists and their followers.

By implication, since there are no similar forces in Communist countries to do likewise (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

AMICABLE TALKS

U.N. headquarters in New York said there was "very little damage" from acts of sabotage in Jadotville. A spokesman said the U.N. commander at the scene "held amicable talks with the mayor of the city and with representatives of the Union Miniere with a view to maintaining normal activities in the city and to protecting installations."

Union Miniere, the big Belgium-based mining company, earlier had reported Tshombe's forces made good on a scorched-earth threat and destroyed (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

60 Gls Capture Viet Cong Unit

TAN HIEP, Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Army colonel from Texas scraped together 60 American soldiers, including cooks, and turned them into a battle patrol that trapped a unit of Communist guerrillas fleeing into the Mekong River Delta jungles today.

The Americans, military advisers to South Viet Nam's government forces, captured 17 Communist prisoners. Col. John Paul Vann of El Paso said his men didn't fire a shot.

Vann said he put the unit together to protect an American major with Vietnamese troops.

The Vietnamese were trying to cut off fleeing Communist Viet Cong who attacked in force from nearby Ap Bao Wednesday, killing three Americans and wounding 10 others. Sixty-five government troops were killed in the Communist trap.

"I'm not trying to fight these people's war for them," Vann said. "Our sole reason was to protect that major."

The Americans carried automatic weapons but were under orders from Vann not to fire unless the Communists opened up. He said the Americans did not need to use their weapons.

Vann sent the American patrol out in jeeps and on foot at 10 a.m. By early afternoon they had completed their operation and returned to their advisory roles and field cooking stoves.

Heavy fighting had been reported earlier near Tan Hiep. Two government soldiers were killed and 12 wounded after a clash six miles northwest of here.

AVENGE SETBACKS

Reports reaching Saigon, the South Viet Nam capital, said the government forces, avenging Wednesday's setback, had flushed out an estimated 200 Red Guerrillas.

Apparently all American advisers in the area moved in with the government units to assist in trapping the guerrillas who on Wednesday smashed an attacking force and killed 65 Vietnamese troops and three Americans.

The government claimed that 101 Viet Cong were killed in the engagement Wednesday.

Newsmen at the scene after the battle said only three guerrilla bodies were found.

It was generally assumed, however, that Viet Cong casualties were heavy because of a subsequent heavy air attack on the guerrillas' position, and that the Communists had spirited their dead away through the canals and rice fields.

Feel Ambush Shows Lack of Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. military authorities said today the ambush by Communist guerrillas of a helicopter-borne force of South Vietnamese troops indicates intelligence security — one of the basic problems of war — still is unsolved.

As many as 600 Communist Viet Cong guerrillas were reported to have lain in wait for the South Vietnamese, who came in on the battlefield southwest of Saigon two days ago in U.S. Army helicopters.

The Viet Cong opened fire on the fourth wave of helicopters, according to reports received here, and inflicted heavy casualties on the South Vietnamese while shooting down five of the 15 choppers. Three Americans have been listed as killed in the action and six wounded not seriously. The Army is preparing for the White House a report on helicopter losses in Viet Nam.

Army officers said that the objective of the mission obviously was tipped off to the Communists.

These officers said both sides in the bitter South Vietnamese war tried to penetrate each other's ranks with intelligence agents.

out" of anyone who moved, creating the impression that the weapon was lethal.

Postal authorities are now investigating the robbery, a federal offense.

Anderson, of 168 Crestwood St., was placed on three years probation in 1960 for statutory rape. In March 1961 he was found guilty of accepting stolen property and sentenced to 30 days in the Oakland County Jail.

He subsequently served a term in the Southern Michigan prison at Jackson for parole violation.

Anderson caused a wild police chase last Aug. 29 when, awaiting trial on a simple larceny charge, he suddenly bolted out of the Oakland County Jail with sheriff's deputies in pursuit.

He was quickly captured and returned to the jail. He was charged with escaping, a misdemeanor.

Pay Raise to Be Asked for Troops

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration will ask Congress to raise the pay of active duty servicemen and reservists an average of 14.4 per cent.

The estimated annual cost of the proposed pay increase is about $1.75 billion. About four million persons would get the boost.

President Kennedy has given his approval to the plan, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said Thursday. It will be submitted to Congress this month.

The estimated cost is large, McNamara said, "but I believe it to be fully justified."

"Remote and isolated duty" pay for both officers and enlisted men would be substituted for "sea and foreign duty pay." The re-enlistment bonus for enlisted men the military wants to keep because of special skills would give way to a variable career incentive pay. The retirement pay system would be based on cost-of-living changes instead of merely on length of service.

The first reaction from Capitol Hill was cautious.

In the Senate, those familiar with the views of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said some form of pay increase legislation would be approved, but not necessarily in the form and amount proposed.

On the House side, Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., chairman of that body's Armed Services Committee, told newsmen he will not comment on the bill until he sees it. Vinson said that the measure would not have first priority on the calendar.

LET 'EM EAT CAKE — Gov. George Romney and national poster child for the March of Dimes, Jimmy Boggess of Coy, Ark., bite into their luncheon cake with gusto yesterday. Gov. Romney proclaimed January as March of Dimes Month in Michigan, his first official act since becoming governor Tuesday.

have some sincere visitors. But he's also liable to have his hands full with crackpots.

"There will have to be some way to screen them out, whether the Governor likes it or not."

Romney, in announcing his plan at the first official news conference Wednesday, shrugged off this concern by saying he believes it's "a matter of opinion whether or not a person is a screwball."

He said the sessions, limited to five minutes by a bell, will be conducted in the privacy of his office but probably with an assistant present.

The visitors will be received on a first-come, first-served basis, with no appointment necessary.

Richard Coleman, one of the three state troopers assigned to Romney's driver - bodyguard detail, admitted the plan ran counter to his protective instincts.

"I want to talk to the governor about it," said Coleman, "and at least agree to leave the office door open. I want to know what's going on in there when the visitor is a total stranger."

Workers in the governor's office said public reaction to the "citizen session" plan was swift, but not overwhelming. A handful of calls were received Wednesday afternoon and yesterday.

To each caller, secretaries patiently explained that the visiting plan won't go into effect until Jan. 17.

Among the first requests for a visit was one from a woman who wanted Romney to sign a "welcome wagon" letter to new residents of Eaton County, a woman with five children and "lots of problems," and a man who had a picture he thought the governor would like to see.

Fear Crackpots Out to See the Governor

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Romney's enthusiasm for the plan to turn each Thursday morning over to five-minute sessions with private citizens isn't universally shared by experienced State Capitol hands.

And some of Romney's own aides hinted they were skeptical yesterday after the first few calls came in from people requesting — or demanding — to see the governor.

"Sure," said one veteran of previous administrations, "he'll

Strike Sessions Off Indefinitely

NEW YORK (AP) — A former bar association leader appealed to President Kennedy today to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act to halt this city's four-week newspaper strike.

School Unit for Costlier Building

The Pontiac Board of Education retained its aesthetic sense last night when it favored a more elaborate design for a proposed, new board office building in the Civic Center.

The school board members agreed that the additional $30,000 cost would be well spent to provide a striking architectural contrast at the center.

Favored over the usual rectangular construction was a six-sided structure built into the side of a hill, just south of City Hall.

The cost of the proposed building is estimated at $493,500 by the architects, Eberle M. Smith Associates, Inc.

The cost of purchasing the 3.2-acre site from the city would be approximately an additional $50,000.

School officials are hoping to complete construction of both the new office building and a new service building before the end of the year.

They plan to meet with the City Commission either Jan. 16 or the 24th to discuss the purchase of sites.

The service building, containing maintenance shops and warehouses, is proposed for construction at Montclair Avenue and N. Saginaw Street. It will cost an estimated $16,875.

Preliminary plans for the office building only have been completed by the architects to date.

They call for glass, aluminum and precast concrete construction.

The building would contain a total of 23,500 square feet on two levels.

The site would be sufficient to provide for future ground-level expansion of the building if necessary.

Initial construction — all that is planned at this time — would be financed through a bond issue to be retired within the existing tax rate, according to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools.

The present school board building at 40 Patterson St. is scheduled for demolition under the city's urban renewal program.

Drop Charges Against 49 in Pontiac Raid

Municipal Court Judge Cecil B. McCallum yesterday dismissed loitering charges against 49 persons arrested in a raid on the Green Door Club, 82 Branch St., Dec. 1.

In so doing, McCallum granted a motion by defense attorney Milton R. Henry demanding that charges be dropped due to insufficient evidence.

A charge of aiding and abetting the illegal sale of liquor against Herbert Alston, 34, of 201 Eastmoor St., was also dismissed for lack of evidence.

Mrs. William Walker, 30, of 161 Branch St. pleaded guilty to illegal sale of liquor and Richard Boykins, 40, of 76 Branch St., pleaded guilty to aiding and abetting at yesterday's hearing.

Both are scheduled to be sentenced Jan. 18.

Members of the Pontiac Police Vice Squad and sheriff's deputies arrested a total of 52 in the early morning raid.

Romney Vows Open Housing

Tells Parley He'll Use Power of State

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney told the Metropolitan Conference on Open Occupancy yesterday he would use the power of the state to bring equality in housing to Michigan.

The governor, who added to his prepared text because he said it was not strong enough for the occasion, said he believes Michigan's climate is right for legislative action in the field of civil rights.

Romney told the crowd of more than 1,200 that "Discrimination is our most urgent domestic problem."

He stressed repeatedly that the decision to treat all men equally is an individual responsibility, a matter of spiritual and moral ethics.

"I believe there is a sufficiently broad acceptance of equality in housing, education and employment to permit appropriate action in some areas of state legislation," he said.

Romney said the proposed new constitution will give Michigan "the strongest civil rights guarantee of any state in the nation." The proposed document calls for a bipartisan civil rights commission.

"Like the existing Fair Employment Practices Commission, the Civil Rights Commission will depend mainly on persuasion, conciliation and education," he said. "The FEPC has proved that such techniques are successful by processing hundreds of cases without litigation. But when persuasion fails, the state can use its powers of regulation and enforcement."

He added that when the new constitution is approved he would "appoint members of the commission on the basis of demonstrated interest, moral courage and competence. I shall recommend appropriations for sufficient staff and a vigorous educational and enforcement program."

Because a water main connection is being made at Baldwin Avenue and Montclair Street, Baldwin Avenue will be closed to traffic from 7 a.m. Saturday until Sunday evening.

Recommended alternate routes are: Northbound, Oakland Avenue to Montclair to Baldwin; southbound, Montclair to either Saginaw or Summit streets.

Baldwin will be closed between Cityline Street and Montclair.

The connection is being made between a 24-inch main and an existing 16-inch main, which is part of the city's construction program preparatory to bringing water to Pontiac.

Kerr's Death May Affect Future of Johnson

By RUTH MONTGOMERY (Sen. Robert Kerr may affect the political destinies of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson after his death.)

most as much as the flavor of the Senate itself.

The big, bluff Oklahoman had rightly been dubbed by political insiders "the most powerful man in the Senate."

He acquired much of that power through his good friend, Lyndon Johnson, and the mantle of authority—passed to him when LBJ relinquished the majority leadership to assume the vice presidency.

Kerr's was the first national voice to speak out in favor of Johnson for the presidency in the spring of 1960. He was the prime strategist who swung the Oklahoma delegation solidly to LBJ at the Democratic convention, despite the fact that the governor, J. Howard Edmondson, was an avowed "Kennedy man."

Senate whip Mike Mansfield succeeded to the majorityship after Johnson became vice president, but titles mean only as much as the holders can make them, in the power-hungry inner sanctum of the U.S. Senate.

Neither Arthur H. Vandenberg nor Styles Bridges ever held the title of majority leader, but each in turn was the undisputed GOP leader in the Senate until his death.

STRONG PERSONALITY

Lyndon Johnson was both majority leader and unchallenged boss, because he is an extraordinarily strong personality who chose to expand and wield his vast authority.

Mansfield, a quiet, professorial type, dislikes naked power and prefers to lead by gentle persuasion. The result was 1962's longest-drawn-out session of congress in peacetime history.

Kerr, by contrast, was a man of the Johnson stamp. Keyed to action instead of introspection, Kerr moved comfortably into the vacuum created by LBJ's departure. Thanks to a fortuitous appointment from Johnson four years earlier, he was in a good position to act.

Johnson as majority leader had appointed himself the first chairman of the special committee on space. Kerr was not a member, but when the Senate subsequently established it as a standing committee, LBJ named his good friend Kerr to membership.

Two years later, Lyndon resigned the chairmanship along with his Senate seat to become vice president. Kerr, although one of its newer members, succeeded him as chairman of the space committee.

WORKED WITH LBJ

In that spot he worked hand-in-glove with Johnson, who became chairman of the President's National Space Council. Long-time friends and close cronies, Kerr and Johnson jointly requested the appointment of James E. Webb as director of NASA, our national space agency, and the President complied.

Interestingly, Webb had been assistant to the President and director of Kerr-McGee Oil Co., of which Sen. Kerr was principal stockholder and chairman, until his appointment to NASA.

Johnson and Kerr saw eye-to-eye on space problems, just as they always did on depletion allowances and other legislation affecting the oil interests. This was natural, since they hailed from the neighboring oil states of Texas and Oklahoma.

Many who knew LBJ's restless ambition in his hard-driving days as majority leader have been amazed at how quietly he stepped into the background as vice president. Outwardly he has stood apart from senatorial politics, over which he once ruled, but his hand was felt in many of Kerr's moves.

Kerr, in his unrivaled position of senatorial power, would have been in a strong position to push the presidential candidacy of Johnson in 1968, at a time when younger men will also be clamoring to succeed Kennedy.

As fate would have it, the pro-Kennedy governor whom Kerr maneuvered out of a delegate's seat to the 1960 nominating convention is now in a position to name Kerr's successor to the Senate. It is expected to be himself.

Top Leaders Attend Funeral

Bury Sen. Robert Kerr at Oklahoma City Rites

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—President John F. Kennedy and other government leaders join Oklahomaans today at the funeral of Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla.

The funeral is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church where Kerr, a prominent Southern Baptist layman, once taught Sunday school. Dr. Herschell Hobbs, pastor of the church and president of the Southern Baptist Convention, will officiate.

Kerr, 66, died of a heart attack New Year's day in a Washington hospital.

President Kennedy was scheduled to arrive at nearby Tinker Air Force Base at 2 p.m. from Palm Beach, Fla., where he has been vacationing. He was to go directly to the church in the company of Gov. J. Howard Edmondson of Oklahoma. Edmondson is expected to resign this weekend, leaving the way open for Lt. Gov. George Nigh to appoint him to the Senate.

Edmondson couldn't seek reelection because of a law prohibiting consecutive gubernatorial terms. He leaves office Jan. 14 and Henry Bellmon, Oklahoma's first Republican governor, will succeed him.

Kerr's term doesn't expire until 1967 but his successor's appointment will extend only until 1964 general election.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and 28 senators and eight representatives, named as the official congressional delegation to the funeral, were to arrive at 1 p.m.
