Ball-Playing Blonde Wins Beauty Crown

MUSKEGON (AP)—Miss Michigan of 1958 is a curvaceous blonde with blue-green eyes who plays ball and likes prime ribs.

Patience Joann Pierce, 22, Detroit office worker and member of a family of six, won the state's beauty and talent crown last night and will be a Miss America contender this fall.

Judges chose Patience over a field of 25 rivals in the Miss Michigan Pageant.

Miss Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Pierce, will represent the state in the Miss America Contest in Atlantic City, N. J., in September.

She is five feet, seven inches tall, weighs 126 pounds, and has a 34½-23½-36½ figure.

The new Miss Michigan has a twin sister, Mrs. Robert Lafferty, of Mt. Clemens, and two younger brothers. She said she likes best of all to eat prime ribs of beef, and plays on a ball team.

As Miss Michigan, Patience Joann won a $500 education scholarship, a $500 wardrobe, a trophy and other gifts.

Nancy Myrnel, 21, of White Lake in the Whitehall area, won a $250 scholarship as a runner-up. The contest was sponsored by the Muskegon Junior Chamber of Commerce.

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—The 1958 Miss Universe beauty pageant opens today with the arrival of a planeload of lovelies dedicated to the proposition that while beauty may be only skin deep—it's pretty important.

For the next 10 days, the city will host some of the world's most beautiful women from five nations, 45 states and the District of Columbia. Final selection of Miss Universe will be made a week from tomorrow night.

Moore Says Action Likely if Child Mental Health Lag Continues

If the Michigan Mental Health Commission can't find a solution to alleviate the lack of facilities for mentally ill children in the state, Gov. Williams will be asked to intercede, Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore declared today.

Judge Moore, of Oakland County, made this statement as he announced plans for an Aug. 5 meeting of probate judges, hospital superintendents and members of the commission to look into this problem. The meeting will be held in Dearborn.

The judge was instrumental in the formation of a committee of probate judges to see what could be done about admitting some 100 children who are on waiting lists of mental institutions.

Charles F. Wagg, state mental health director, said budgetary limitations prevent the commission from caring for more than the 375 children presently in hospitals.

It has been suggested by Judge Moore that a screening of old-age mental patients might produce many who could be returned to counties, thus making more room for the younger persons.

Macmillan Says Move Made to Forestall Plot Against King Hussein

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—British troops landed in Jordan today as the United States airlifted more soldiers to the Middle East and the Soviet Union began sabre-rattling close by.

British paratroopers from Cyprus flew to the Amman airport to support embattled young King Hussein against the wave of anti-Western Arab nationalism which dethroned and killed his cousin, King Faisal II of Iraq.

By noon, upwards of 1,000 British paratroopers had moved into barracks at the airport here in an atmosphere of tense calm. Ready to back them if necessary were 10,000 other alerted British forces on the big British base of Cyprus.

Jordan will ask the United Nations Security Council today to take up the threat to its independence which causes British forces to be sent into the country, delegation sources said.

In London, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said today that British troops landed in Jordan to forestall a plot to oust King Hussein's government.

Macmillan said Hussein had appealed to the United States as well as to Britain for military help to block the threat against his state.

The Prime Minister said British troops were being sent by air from Cyprus.

CONSIDERING REQUEST

Macmillan said the U.S. government was considering Jordan's request for help.

Hussein announced in a broadcast to his people that the landing had been authorized last night by an emergency session of the Jordanian Parliament. In Amman, at least, the news caused no initial excitement.

The King said the foreign troops were in Jordan as "a temporary measure to protect our borders from enemies circling us in every direction."

He said they had been asked in under Article 51 of the U.N. Charter, which provides for collective defense.

Warmer Tonight, More Humidity

Partly cloudy and warmer with more humidity is the prediction for tonight and tomorrow, with tonight's low near 62.

The high Friday is expected to reach around 84. Scattered showers are forecast for tomorrow night, with a low of 65.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature reading preceding 8 a.m. was 53 degrees. The thermometer registered 76 at 2 p.m.

State Gives Saginaw Street Plan

'Remove 5 Traffic Signals'

Five existing Saginaw street traffic signals should be eliminated and one new one added, according to State Highway Department plans for a progressive traffic light system.

City Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel, who said today he would oppose one of the changes, believed the state would authorize construction to begin in about a month. It should be completed by midfall, he said.

SHOULD BE AT ELM

In order to produce a smooth flow of traffic, the state said, there should be no signals at the corners of Warren, Mt. Clemens, Water, Rapid and Raeburn streets.

The new signal, it recommended, should be at the corner of Elm street, halfway between Rapid and Raeburn.

Vanderstempel, nevertheless, believed that a Mt. Clemens street light is necessary. "Without one," he said, "pedestrians would have to walk to the Huron street or Oakland avenue signals in order to cross Saginaw."

Marine Helicopters Land on Carrier Deck

READY FOR QUICK MOVE — More than a score of Marine assault helicopters landed on the deck of the carrier Antietam at Norfolk after a flight from North Carolina. The helicopters reportedly are destined for early movement to the Mediterranean.

Strong U.S. Naval Force on Guard off Lebanon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States heavily bolstered the naval forces in Lebanese waters today with two aircraft carriers, a heavy cruiser and 16 more destroyers.

This largest single group of warships to reach the Lebanon area carried Vice Adm. C. R. Brown, commander of the 6th Fleet, in his flagship Des Moines.

The flagship cruiser was accompanied by the giant aircraft carrier Saratoga, the heavy attack carrier Wasp, and a division of destroyers.

In addition to the 6th Fleet commander, the new force included two other admirals: Rear Adm. G. W. Anderson, commander of Carrier Division 6; and Rear Adm. Edward A. Hannegan, commander of Carrier Division 14.

The arrival of this heavy force brought the total number of 6th Fleet vessels in the immediate Beirut area to 44.

Increasing concern is felt in official quarters here, it was learned, over the safety of American citizens in Baghdad, the Iraqi capital.

There are 624 U.S. officials and dependents, together with 953 other Americans, for a total of 1,577 in Baghdad.

With persons scattered in other parts of the country there are 1,964 U.S. citizens in Iraq, according to State Department figures.

Girl's Baton-Twirling Goal Closer After Heart Surgery

It looks as if little Linda Forbes of Waterford Township may get her wish of being a baton twirler before too long.

The six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Forbes came through a delicate heart operation at Ford Hospital, Detroit, yesterday with flying colors according to the team of heart specialists who performed the operation.

The little girl is still not out of danger but the trouble has been corrected. She is confined to an oxygen tent and is periodically packed in ice to keep her temperature down, according to the physicians.

A new type plastic solution was used to plug a small hole in the right side of Linda's enlarged heart.

During the four-hour operation a perforated aorta valve was discovered as the cause of other complications which had baffled specialists prior to the operation.

Doctors explained that after a hole has been patched up, it takes almost six weeks for the heart to slow down because of the tremendous pumping of blood through the system before the heart has been repaired.

When Waterford Township residents heard of Linda's plight, they started a campaign to donate blood plasma and Monday, more than 25 pints were accumulated for Linda's surgery.

She is still being given blood plasma in the oxygen tent this morning, according to her father, and he has no idea how much has been used or is still needed.

Dr. E. R. Lamb, who directed the team of six doctors, said that

Tanks, Planes Sighted Moving Along Border

Large-Scale Exercises Will Start Tomorrow; 'War of Nerves' On

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—Soviet troops, tanks and aircraft were seen moving along the Russian-Iranian border today, apparently in preparation for large-scale "exercises" starting tomorrow.

The Soviets announced early today they would hold maneuvers in the Trans Caucasus and Turkistan areas, which border on Iran and Turkey. They said the exercises would start tomorrow.

The troops and tanks were visible from Astara, an Iranian town on the Soviet border. Planes also were sighted in the area.

Informed government sources said they believed the massing of Soviet forces on the border is part of a "war of nerves" the Russians intend to impose on the pro-Western Middle East countries in retaliation for the U. S. Marine landings in Lebanon.

They also said it was designed to keep Iran from extending any aid to loyalist Iraqi elements.

At the same time the British Embassy in Tehran sent a team of jeeps and supplies to the Iraqi border in order to help any Britons who may flee Iraq.

The British consulate at Khorramshahr also has been asked to keep on the lookout for nationals.

Reports arriving in Tehran today said former Premier Nuri Said definitely had been killed and his body hanged publicly in the streets.

There also was a short scare here when travelers arriving from the airport outside Tehran reported that tanks were moving toward the city. But it was learned that it was a routine troop movement and not in any way a revolution.

Reports reaching foreign embassies here said the rebels were firmly in control in Iraq.

The Transcaucasus district borders on Turkey and Iran, both members of the pro-Western Baghdad Pact, and lies less than 800 miles from Beirut and NATO bases in Turkey. Turkistan is the plateau area farther to the east along the frontiers of Afghanistan and the western reaches of Communist China.

Robert Murphy Arrives by Jet

U.S. Envoy in Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Special U.S. emissary Robert Murphy arrived here today and expressed hope Americans can contribute to peace and stability in the Middle East.

Murphy, who said his mission will keep him here some days, arrived aboard a huge jet KC135 tanker after an 11-hour trip from Westover Field, Mass.

It was the first United States-to-Lebanon nonstop flight.

Murphy, who is deputy undersecretary of state, made the lightning trip on orders from President Eisenhower.

"I appreciate the kindness of the Lebanese government in permitting me at the instance of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles to visit Beirut at this difficult time.

"I look forward to useful talks with President Camille Chamoun and other Lebanese officials as well as with Adm. James L. Holloway," Murphy said.

when the 1st Airborne Battle Group of the 24th Division flew in giant Air Force transports to Adana air base.

This base, built for Turkey and her NATO allies, is 300 miles from Lebanon, where 3,600 Marines are already on shore.

The eventual destination of the Army troops, 1,600 strong, is still secret and will remain so pending further developments.

While the Army troops were flying eastward, a powerful force from the 2nd Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, N. C., was boarding transports and at least one aircraft carrier near Norfolk, Va., and Morehead City, N. C.

Although the Pentagon officially described the boarding activity as "a readiness exercise," it had all the looks of an emergency embarkation.

Military officers noted the particular significance of one phase of the Norfolk area activity—the movement of Marine assault helicopters.

These were flown up from Cherry Point, N. C., and landed directly on the flight deck of the carrier Antietam.

In Adana, Turkey, the crack force of more than 1,000 U. S. paratroopers rested on their weapons today, awaiting orders for their next move—if any—in the angry Middle East.

About 24 hours ago, this airborne task force from the U. S. 24th Division was more than 1,400 miles away at its base near Munich, Germany.

The combat-ready paratroopers—or most of them—had no idea where they were going when they were hustled aboard transport planes. They joked about the usual lack of information.

Sgt. Stanley Willard, 29, Gratz, Pa., was in charge of 12 paratroopers and two Jeeps aboard a Hercules transport.

"I don't know where we're going," he grinned. "But you can bet your boots we'll do a good job when we get there."

With that, Willard began a furious polishing of his already spick and span rifle.

The men landed here last night. Unofficial reports said more than 50 Air Force transports were needed for the men and their equipment.

The landing of the task force caught this Turkish-U. S. air base somewhat unprepared.

Some staff officers of the task force had to sleep in tents without cots. Crews of the transport planes slept in their planes. The paratroopers broke out their sleeping bags and dozed down in circles around the planes.

Commander of the task force is Brig. Gen. James E. Roberts of the U. S. Air Force in Germany. The flight was made under tense and hurried conditions. The paratroopers had no food, with the exception of chocolates, during the six hours in the air.

Sixteen American and West German correspondents and photographers accompanied the task force.

Reid F. Hayhow Dies in Bellevue, Ohio

'I Paid for It'

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI) — A Democratic senatorial candidate donated a vicuna coat last night to the Cheyenne labor unions' committee on political education — and the group plans to auction it to raise money. The candidate, Hepburn T. Armstrong, told Union officials: "I paid for it in Bolivia. Goldfine didn't give it to me."

The Day in Birmingham

Mayor Ingraham Names Two to City Positions

BIRMINGHAM—Mayor Carl Ingraham today announced the appointments of William H. Burghum, to the Birmingham City Commission and Walter R. Denison to the City Planning Board.

The appointments will be confirmed at the commission meeting Monday night.

Burghum, of 1875 Winthrop St., an engineer with the George Bass Construction Co., and a former planning board chairman, will succeed William Hutchinson. The latter resigned after accept-and planes which will take part in the maneuvers.

It was deemed significant, however, that the forces will be commanded by two high-ranking officers. The commanders are Marshal A. A. Grechko, former commander in chief of the Soviet forces in Germany and now first deputy defense minister in charge of land forces, and Marshal Cyril Meretskov, deputy defense minister and wartime commander of the Leningrad front.

Assignment of the top military leaders recalled that last year when tension developed along the Soviet-Turkish border, Deputy Defense Minister Marshal Konstantin Kokosovskiy was appointed to the Caucasian Military District. He was recalled to Moscow when the tension subsided.

Diplomatic sources in Moscow believed that the Soviets regarded the situation as less serious than that which existed in 1956 during the Anglo-French invasion of Suez and the Israeli attack on Egypt's Sinai Desert. At that time, the Soviet government actually began registering "volunteers" to help Egypt.

because Linda had not been restrained during her active young life, her heart was strong and healthy and would now heal very quickly.

WOULD HAVE FAILED

Linda was living with an artificial mechanical heart for almost two hours yesterday during the operation and doctors told her father that only 1½ years ago, this operation would have failed because needed equipment was lacking.

When the newly-crowned national champion Land-O-Lakes dancing majorette baton twirler heard Linda wanted to be a baton twirler, they bought her one of the best batons available.

A birthday party for the little girl is being planned for July 30 at the hospital and at this time, the majorettes will present their gift along with an invitation to join their group in learning "how to twirl a baton."

Sharp and Marquardt in Women's Finals

DETROIT — Former champions Sally Sharp, Michigan State senior, and Mrs. Harold Marquardt of Mount Clemens battled into the championship round of the Women's Michigan Amateur Golf Tournament today with convincing semifinal triumphs.

Miss Sharp, 21, of Birmingham, defeated Mrs. Keith LeClair of Ann Arbor, 2 and 1. Mrs. Marquardt ousted Mrs. John Laboskey of Grand Blanc, 4 and 3. The two winners will meet for the championship in a 36-hole match tomorrow at Plum Hollow Golf Club.

ing a position with a Grand Rapids law firm.

Denison, an assistant Oakland County prosecutor, will take the place of Eugene Barney who resigned from the board because he is moving out of the city. Denison lives at 615 Oakland.

Pontiac and Royal Oak topped all other communities in prize winners at the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills Duplicate Bridge Club session last night at the Birmingham YMCA.

In the North-South competition, James White of Birmingham and Mrs. Mary McNearney of Bloomfield Hills were first. Mrs. Norma Keller of Royal Oak and Melvin Small of Pontiac placed second.

First place in the East-West play went to Carl Vossberg of Pleasant Ridge and William Kurth of Royal Oak. John Kraus and Eric Lewis, both of Pontiac, finished second. The sessions, held each Wednesday at the "Y," are open to the public.

The Birmingham Chamber of Commerce is planning its first membership drive since 1955, according to Charles Mortensen, manager.

The drive is being set up to be conducted in one day by two-man teams. No team will have more than six prospects to contact, Mortensen said.

The Chamber's Board of Directors has announced the appointment of Manley Bailey to the off-street parking committee.

Robert B. Hawkins, 234 Tuckahoe Rd., Bloomfield Township, has been elected to the board of directors of Zoller Corp., Fred Zoller of Ft. Wayne, Ind., company president, announced.

With the firm since 1957 as sales manager of the office at 1100 N. Woodward Ave., Hawkins also has been named vice president in charge of sales.

Mrs. Edward Maclean Requiem Mass will be sung for Mrs. Edward (Margaret) Maclean, 89, of 147 Linden Rd., Birmingham, at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Holy Name Church. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Detroit.

Mrs. Maclean died yesterday at her home following a brief illness. The body will be received at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

She was a member of the St. Margaret's Guild of the Holy Name Church and an honorary member of the MacLaren Hospital Auxiliary in Flint.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. James A. Reilly; a sister and one grandson.

Two Are Under Par as PGA Begins

HAVERTOWN, Pa. — Leo Blaggett, a little veteran pro from St. Paul, Minn., gave par its first beating on the deceptively difficult front nine of the Llanerch Country Club in the opening round of the first medal play PGA championship today.

Blaggett, who joins the touring pros for a few tournaments each winter, fired a one-under par 34 on the first nine of the 6,729-yard, par 35-35-70 Llanerch course. Moments later Ted Kroll, runner up in the 1956 tournament, matched it.

Chick Harbert, the 1954 PGA champ, and Dick Mayer, winner of the 1957 National Open and Tam O'Shanter world titles, made the first round turn with one-over-par 36s.

Doug Ford, 1955 PGA champion, bogied the difficult 470-yard ninth for a 37. Just ahead of this trio Vic Ghezzi, 1941 PGA champ, and grey-haired Denny Shute, who won in 1936 and 1937, both had 39s. Ed Furgal, 1954 open champion, came along a few minutes later with a big 40. Tom Falkington of Ann Arbor, Mich., finished 18 holes at 75.

Survives Atmosphere Re-Entry
Jupiter Flies 1,500 Miles;
Nose Cone Is Recovered

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Army blasted a mighty Jupiter intermediate-range ballistic missile 1,500 miles across the Atlantic today and recovered its nose cone after a successful re-entry from space.

The recovery of the cone was announced about two hours after the missile thundered aloft.

It was the second time a full-scale IRBM nose cone survived the fiery dive from space through the earth's atmosphere at a speed of 10,000 m.p.h., and was recovered.

The Army's missile chief, Dr. Werner von Braun, observed the spectacular launching.

Officials announced that the recovery today and the first one May 18 "affirmed that Army missile men have found a satisfactory solution to the warhead protection problem."

The USS Escape, one of four specially equipped ships in the Navy's recovery team, plucked the cone from the sea near Antigua Island an hour and 36 minutes after it streaked back from space.

The recovery package which included a large balloon, radio transmitter, dye marker, and signal light which led the search unit to the spot.

The Jupiter, which is expected to provide the first stage for the Army's moon rocket, went off with a mighty roar at 4:05 a.m. It climbed straight up throwing off a thick stream of white flame that illuminated the Florida sky for miles.

After 70 seconds, the missile moved toward a horizontal course and dove toward the horizon.

The 69-foot rocket was visible for more than 13 minutes, much longer than usual, as it reflected the rays of the rising sun.

The cone was instrumented to separate from the missile body somewhere in outer space.

The cone appeared to be the same size as its 3,000-mile predecessor which missile experts say helped solve the intermediate-range re-entry problem.

LONDON (AP) — An object washed up on a beach in the English Channel last month was identified today as part of an American Snark guided missile fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla., in July 1956.

It was discovered by Betty Fox in St. Clements Bay on the Island of Jersey.

Expecting Slow
Release in Cuba

18 Sailors and Marines
Still Held at Mountain
Hideouts of Rebels

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP) — U.S. Consul Park Wollam sent word last night that it may be a week more before Fidel Castro's rebels release all the U.S. servicemen they kidnapped.

The rebels' idea apparently is to keep Cuban government forces from launching a full-scale attack on their mountain hideouts for as long as possible.

Four more servicemen were returned to the Guantanamo naval base yesterday by U.S. Navy helicopter after spending 20 days in rebel camps in the mountains of east Cuba. Eighteen sailors and Marines remained behind.

Wollam, who has spent three weeks dickering for the prisoners' release, said the whole operation might take from four days to a week with the men probably continuing to come out in small batches.

The latest four men freed were Lawrence E. Jamison, 21, Bradford, Pa.; Angelo Mpasicos, 20, the Bronx, N.Y.; Michael P. McArdle, 18, New York City; and Hal C. Worrall, 18, Marysville, Ind. Worrall is a Marine; the rest are Navy men.

The men were scrubbed and clean-shaven. They said the rebels made them clean up before leaving.

The rebels already have released the 20 U.S. and Canadian civilians they kidnapped in a futile effort to force the U.S. government to recognize them as bona fide belligerents.

defense against armed attack without prior authorization from the U.N.

In the meantime, in Washington, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd is meeting with Secretary of State Dulles today for urgent conferences on the grave events in the Middle East.

Lloyd also was to see President Eisenhower this afternoon to review the crisis which has sent U. S. and British troops into Lebanon and Jordan, respectively.

Lloyd, accompanied by British defense chief Sir William Dickson, arrived here at 10:58 a.m. after conferring with Britain's United Nations delegation in New York. He had flown overnight from London.

He was met by Dulles who said "I'm glad to see you." Lloyd came here at Dulles' invitation.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, was on hand to greet Dickson, chairman of Britain's Joint Chiefs of Staff Committee.

Officials here said there had been no decision on whether U. S. forces would move into Jordan alongside the British, though diplomats understood Hussein had approached Washington on that possibility.

Demand for protection of British interests was accompanied by a warning that Britain would take the most serious view of any further physical assaults on British lives or property.

There are more than 5,600 Britons in Iraq, including about 600 airmen at rebel-held Habanyah Air Base, and several hundred technicians who run the oil fields at Kirkuk, Mosul and the Basra oil port.

One Bare, One Covered

ATLANTA (UPI) — Policemen S. F. Wiggins and L. F. Burch suspected something was fishy when they spotted a car with the license entirely covered. They were right — the male driver of the auto turned out to be completely nude.

ent be altered to a 70-second cycle during rush hours to handle a greater traffic volume.

The change would mean that rush-hour traffic would move at a slightly slower speed — averaging 25-27 miles an hour — than traffic at other times, which could average 25-32 miles an hour, Vanderstempel said.

At all times, he said, the average speed in the downtown area would be slightly lower than in less crowded sections.

The system covers Saginaw from Lafayette street on the north to South boulevard on the south. Included is an estimated $4,500 worth of construction at the Oakland-Saginaw street intersection, consisting of new signals and a traffic island. To put the system into effect, new underground wiring must be installed from Auburn avenue to South boulevard, Vanderstempel said.

Parakeet Feather Count Shows 2,465 on Bird

ROCHESTER, N.Y. — Larry Bice, 15, conducting a project for entry in a national High School

Science Congress contest, counted the feathers on a 2-month-old parakeet.

He found that there were 2,465 feathers and that they made up 18 per cent of the bird's weight.

Farm Projects Set Up

WASHINGTON — The Government plans to spend $21,000,000 during fiscal 1959 in hunting for new uses for agricultural products. It also intends to contract for $5,000,000 worth of research work along the same line in Europe. The projected $26,000,000 outlay would be 40 per cent more than the amount allocated for such work in fiscal 1958 and nearly four times the sum spent for that purpose 10 years ago.

President Andrew Johnson was christened as Andrew Jackson Johnson.

Shanghai Population Up Nearly Million in 5 Years

TOKYO (UPI) — Shanghai, Communist China's largest city, increased its population during the last five years by almost one million despite the relocation of hundreds of thousands of its citizens.

The New China News Agency said an official of the Shanghai Labor Bureau reported that the city's population was now 7,120,000, compared with 6,204,417 in June 1953.

He pointed out that vast numbers of Shanghai residents had been moved to different jobs in other parts of the country.

Conventional safety pins can now be manufactured at a rate of about 80 per minute in a single machine.

Fiance Who Says 'No' Must Pay Girl $500

SINGAPORE (UPI)—A 19-year-old Ceylonese girl was awarded $500 damages Tuesday because her fiancé broke off the marriage "somewhat impaired" by the refusal of her fiancé to marry her.

The girl, V. Rajeswary, claimed damages from V. Balakrishnan, 27, who broke their engagement in November, 1956. The court said, "One can well imagine the whispering gossip that may follow an unhappy incident of this kind."

People may be prone to say there must be something wrong with this girl or Balakrishnan would not have broken off the engagement. Sir James Dewar invented the vacuum bottle about 1892.

Linen Dyeing Speeded

NEW YORK — Linen can be dyed in 25 minutes with the aid of ultrasonic waves, the Russians claim. The publication, Textile World, reporting this, says conventional methods normally take 5 hours to dye linen. And sheepskins scoured under the effect of ultrasonics reportedly come clean in 10 minutes, a process that usually requires an hour. There are more than 1,000 churches in Philadelphia.

Jordan Ruler Hangs On

By United Press International
Boysish-looking King Hussein has done an unexpectedly man-sized job of defending the shaky Jordanian throne against the onslaughts of Nasserism which yesterday overwhelmed his cousin, King Faisal of Iraq.

He may need more than courage and shrewdness to retain control much longer of his impoverished desert kingdom, to say nothing of mending the broken Arab Union of Iraq and Jordan over which he has assumed command.

Already he has turned to the West with a plea for aid in his fight to restore the throne in Iraq and to protect his own. Both Hussein and Faisal are members of the Hashemite dynasty which traces its ancestry directly to the Prophet Mohammed. But in the Moslem world these days the name to reckon with is Gamal Abdel Nasser and the two young kings have been major blocks in the Egyptian's dream of uniting the entire Arab world. Now there is one.

With direct help from Iraq and Saudi Arabi (and a lot of encouragement from the U. S. Sixth Fleet), Hussein outwitted a powerful clique of pro-Nasser military men and politicians who tried to overthrow him 15 months ago. And, only last week he thwarted another plot with the arrest of 60 army officers, including his own bodyguard, who allegedly planned to assassinate him.

Hussein was only 17 when he returned to Jordan in 1953 from two years of schooling in England to become king. Cultured and suave, he devoted most of his attention to fast cars, planes and pretty girls. British diplomats called him "a nice boy."

But in March of 1956, he showed that he was a true grandson of tough and wily King Abdullah, the Arab world's outstanding king until he stopped an assassin's bullet in 1951. Hussein fired Gen. Sir John B. Glubb, the British soldier who commanded Jordan's Arab Legion for more than 25 years, and kicked the British out of the country.

Since then Hussein has been engaged in almost constant intrigue to fight off the Nasserites who had expected him to submit to the Egyptian strongman once the British were gone.

Hussein's queen, Dina Abdel Hamid, left him last year. It was reported he wanted her to accept a traditional role in his harem. She gave him a daughter two years ago.

No Overt Anti-Semitism Found in 72 Countries

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — The world's 11,827,000 Jews are scattered through 115 countries, and in 72 of them they find no overt anti-Semitism, the World Jewish Congress reported yesterday.

In Jordan and Saudi Arabia, however, Jews are barred, and in 43 other countries they run into anti-Jewish attitudes ranging from private social bias to official government restrictions. These facts were contained in a study prepared by Dr. Nehemiah Robinson, director of the WJC Institute of Jewish Affairs.

were the reason Philip H. Armstrong of 422 Bloomfield St., Robert C. O'Dwyer of Birmingham, Douglas R. Palmer of Birmingham and Wiley Trice of 328 Howard McNeil St., lost their licenses.

Ethel Violet Baird of Clarkston, David R. Champion of 608 E. Blvd. N., Robert J. Debolt of 812 Stanley St., Lyle R. Lanway of 258 Orchard Lake Rd. and Charlie M. Lynch of Milford were each charged with habitual negligence and failure to appear for re-examination.

Unsatisfied judgment was the charge against Samuel M. Edwards of 257 Fisher Ave. and Robert J. Harris of Holly. Driving while under the influence of liquor and unsatisfied judgment was the charge against Alfred E. Ericson of Holly.

Britain's Gas Prices Up

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's major oil companies boosted gasoline prices by a halfpenny a gallon yesterday, but it stressed that the increase had nothing to do with the revolt in Iraq, which supplies much of Britain's oil.

A spokesman said the increase reflects part of the hardening in world prices following the decrease of last fall and early this year. Top grade gas now sells at 70 cents an imperial gallon.

Walled Lake School Board Approves Deficit Budget

WALLED LAKE — For the first time in recent years, the Walled Lake School Board has approved a deficit budget.

An outlay of $1,732,430 — $275 more than anticipated receipts — was adopted by the board at its annual meeting.

VALUATION INCREASING

Members pointed out, however, that if property valuation in the school district continues to increase at its present rate the district probably will not have to operate in the red.

Appointed to Board offices were Julius Nelson, president; Dwight Wiseman, secretary; and John Clark, treasurer. Nelson succeeds Joseph Long, board president the past two years.

Miss Ethel Mugler, a teacher at Union Lake Elementary School, was named principal of Wixom School. She also will handle referrals for special education.

Secretary Wiseman was authorized to seek approval from the State Municipal Finance Commission to borrow $50,000 against anticipated state aid because the state has announced its aid payments will be delayed and not paid in full.

The board will invest $750,000 of its $220,000 in bonds in Michigan National Bank. The bonds were sold in June for construction purposes.

Deposits of school funds for the year again will be made in the Community National Bank Branch.

In Walled Lake and the Pontiac State Bank.

Bids for intercom systems for Decker, Twin Beach and Commerce School were opened and tabled for further study.

Fleet insurance was awarded to the Roach Insurance Agency in Walled Lake. The agency's low bid was $1,112.73.

Bidders have until noon Aug. 11 to submit bids for sale of fuel oil, gasoline, ice cream, milk, meat and workman's compensation insurance. They will be awarded at the regular meeting Aug. 11.

At this time the board also will award a contract for a 9-passenger station wagon and panel truck.

The station wagon will be used to transport special education pupils to Farmington, while the truck will have miscellaneous work.

The board signed contracts for seven new teachers. Five elementary teachers and one math instructor for Walled Lake Senior High School remain to be hired. In final business, the auditor's report was accepted and the annual financial statement signed.

Farmers Paid for Idle Acres

U.S. Reveals Figures Under Soil Bank Land Retirement Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. farmers will have received $1,645,858, 415 from Uncle Sam during the past three years for the wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco and rice they didn't produce.

Translated into prices, the government paid farmers an average of about $1.20 a bushel for wheat, 90 cents for corn, $83 a bale for cotton, 20 cents a pound for tobacco and $2.44 a hundred pounds for rice.

These figures were determined from an Agriculture Department report to Congress made public today on the three-year use of the acreage reserve of the soil bank land retirement program.

Under this program—which is being abandoned after this year—farmers are paid subsidies for underplanting acreage allotments of corn, cotton, wheat, rice and tobacco. A major purpose was to help hold down surplus production.

In hearings before a House appropriations subcommittee, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Marvin McLean estimated that without the program, farmers would have produced an additional 239 million bushels of corn, 5 1/4 million bales of cotton, 310 million bushels of wheat, 244 million pounds of tobacco and 11,450,000 bags of rice during the three-year period.

Virtually all these extra supplies had been produced — would have wound up in government surplus stocks.

Orion Civil Defense Unit Takes On New Project

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Civil Defense Unit of Orion Township is in the process of meeting terms of a contract with the State Civil Defense Commission for facilities for a 200-bed emergency hospital.

The Lake Orion Village Council has signed its portion of the contract, making it responsible for storage of the equipment in the annex of Lake Orion Junior High School. Superintendent A. A. Reed was named property officer.

Bands Will Perform

NORTH BRANCH — Members of the North Branch high school junior and senior bands will present an open air concert from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Saturday at the corner of Huron and Saginaw streets. Directing the band will be Gary Sutton of the school band department.

RECORDS FALL AT UNION LAKE — Baseball-pitching music critics are having their say at this Paul Bunyan Days carnival booth in Union Lake. Called the "Record Break," the game offers the "critics" a chance to test their throwing accuracy and bust a phonograph recording they dislike. Taking dead aim here is Daniel Hgtfield (right) of 9215 Fynston St. Kenneth Breit of 760 Farnworth St. awaits his turn. The annual two-day event, sponsored by the Union Lake Businessmen's Assn., will wind up this evening. Proceeds are used to help support local Boy Scout troops, Little League Baseball teams and the Union Lake Volunteer Fire Department.

Sneezing at Ball Game? Ragweed Probably There

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The sneezing may never fan at the ball game may not know it, but his two activities both have something in common—ragweed.

Pollen from ragweed thrives on freshly exposed baseball diamonds, says a researcher from the University of Michigan which is conducting a five-year study of the pesky ragweed.

Prof. Warren H. Wagner Jr., U. of M. botanist, said ragweed digs in and invades roadsides, gardens, wheat fields and just about any place where soils are exposed.

Oddly enough, Wagner said today, ragweed doesn't stand a chance in fields where grasses, trees and herbs have a strong foothold.

But if an animal such as a gopher digs a hole in the field, the ragweed immediately takes over and grows on the freshly exposed soil.

An important phase of the U. of M. study, which is sponsored by the National Institutes of Health, is to determine how far allergy-producing pollen from ragweed travels.

"It's been seen 300 miles at sea and thousands of feet in the air," Wagner said. "Does its age have anything to do with its potency? Does it lose its effectiveness after traveling?"

Man himself is responsible for spread of the weed that causes him so much misery. New roads provide ragweed with a ready-made home on exposed highway shoulders.

Researchers believe common ragweed is driven, through migration and cross-breeding, from two parent species found along the Atlantic Coast from Newfoundland to Louisiana.

The parent plants, according to theory, begin north and south of Washington, D. C. Wagner plans to test this idea this summer by crossing both species in an attempt to produce ragweed artificially.

The vast swampy plain known as the tundra, bordering on the Arctic ocean, has been called an Arctic desert.

DR. RICHARD A. McNEIL

Lewis C. Jarrendt, Oakland County civil defense director, today announced the appointment of Dr. Richard A. McNeil as Orion Township civil defense director. He succeeds the Rev. William O. Swan, who is moving to Clawson. Dr. McNeil, a veterinarian, is president of the Lake Orion Chamber of Commerce and former president of Orion Community Center, Inc.

Boys on Bikes Mishap Targets

Three Youngsters Hurt Colliding With Cars in Area Wednesday

Youngsters on bicycles were prime accident targets yesterday in Pontiac and in Oakland County.

Pontiac police reported that Benny Joe Petty, 14, of 36 Bellview St., was injured when his bike was struck by a car driven by Abraham E. Schwartz, 45, of Detroit.

The accident occurred at 4 p.m. on Mt. Clemens street, east of the viaduct. Benny was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital for lacerations of the head and possible fractures and is in satisfactory condition today.

Police said he turned his bike in front of the car suddenly as the cars was starting to pass him.

The accident occurred on Walton boulevard at Old Perch road, Avon Township.

Rick was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and is expected to undergo surgery today.

A third boy injured by a bicycle was Allen Lynn Hancy, 16, of Detroit. He was struck on Walton west of Clintonville road, Waterford Township, at 10:30 last night. The driver, Floyd Wilson, 41, of 4170 Foley St., Waterford, said the boy was apparently riding alongside his car without lights and he did not see him.

Allen was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for lacerations of the head and released.

Lenore Reuter Marries in Walled Lake Church

COMMERCETOWN — Lenore D. Reuter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Reuter, 3100 Benstead Rd., Saturday evening became the bride of Sergeant First Class Roy G. Maddox.

Performing the rite in the St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Walled Lake, was the Rev. Q. A. Gerkin, pastor.

The bridegroom, who is stationed at the Commerce NIKE Site, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Leon Maddox of Elba, Ala.

For her wedding the bride chose a bouffant, ice blue, waltz-length gown of lace and tulle. It featured a tiny standup collar and lace tulle gauntlets. A seed pearl crown held her shoulder-length veil, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and blue delphiniums with satin streamers on a white prayer book.

Maid of honor was Helen Norris of Commerce Township, and the best man was Master Sergeant Billy Johnson, Sergeant First Class Robert Johnson and Specialist Second Class Ira Griffin were ushers. All are stationed at the Commerce NIKE Site.

A buffet reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony.

Upon return from their two-week honeymoon trip in the south, the couple will make their home in Union Lake.

Five Detroit area youths were arrested at Dodge Park No. 4, Waterford Township, yesterday for investigation of larceny from an auto.

The five were seized by park police at 4 p.m. after several persons reported they had seen them breaking into cars.

Held by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department are Daniel R. Niewirowski, 17; Stanley Senkowski, 17; Lonnie D. Adams, 17; and Richard A. Purves, 18, all of Detroit, and John J. Thornton, 19, of Dearborn.

Deputies said the youths had consumed about a case and a half of beer and were intoxicated when arrested.

Four cars were found which had been forced open and owners reported their wallets were looted in two of them.

Debate on Marine Landings Still Echoes Around World

By The Associated Press

Debate over the landing of U.S. Marines in Lebanon still echoes around the world today.

Prime Minister Nehru said in New Delhi, India, he views the landing with grave concern, adding: "As I've already said, foreign intervention is always dangerous."

But Australia's Foreign Minister R. G. Casey declared in Melbourne it was heartening to see the United States assuming its proper place of leadership as a great power.

Moscow's press thundered with more denunciations of the United States.

The Egyptian press led the chorus of criticism from the Arab world. Cairo's Al Gumbhariya said the United States "must have forgotten the world is not an American colony."

The International Confederation of Arab Trade Unions, denouncing U.S. intervention, declared: "Arab workers will wage forceful battles dwarfing any recollection of the Suez war."

The Times of London sarcastically asked if it was wise to have so many Americans in Lebanon, observing: "We are exposed to U.S. intervention." This referred to Washington's statement the Marines were in Lebanon partly to protect American nationals.

Peiping radio said anti-American rallies were staged in major cities of Red China. The People's Daily, official organ of the Chinese Communist party, carried a cartoon showing a U.S. wolf landing in Lebanon.

Communist North Korea's Pyongyang radio said "U.S. imperialists" cannot "cover up their true color as heinous aggressors."

On Formosa, Premier Chen Cheng of Nationalist China issued a statement saying "We are happy that President Eisenhower has finally taken an action commensurate with the position and responsibility of the United States as the leader of the democratic world." Formosa newspapers echoed Chen's sentiments.

In London, the Daily Express appealed to the people of Britain to back the United States, "for upon their success depends the restoration of peace in the Middle East and the safeguarding of peace in the world."

"Said the influential Times: 'Amid all the dangers, the only sure thing is that the American action in Lebanon, whatever the future may bring, has for the present checked a greater riot and wider bloodshed.'"

Britain's left-wing press still attacked the U.S. action. Said the Laborite, anti-government Daily Herald: "Western intervention, whatever its intention, can only doom every government in the Arab states that accepts it. We can retain nothing this way. We can lose everything."

Dagbladet, Norway's largest afternoon newspaper, reflected the critical view of Scandinavian nations. "Once more those responsible for American policy have acted stupidly and in panic. The Iraq coup caused the American landing in Lebanon, an action which brought the world to the brink of war," it said.

"Today, a new stupid action took place, this time caused by Great Britain. These actions have hurt the prestige of the West for years to come."

Italy Ships Third of Cars

ROME — Italian automobile production in 1957 totaled 351,799, of which 318,488 were passenger cars. One Turin manufacturer alone turned out 308,464 units. Italy's car exports to 100 countries rose to 119,123 units, or 34 per cent of total production.

Corrigan Pulled 'Rock' 20 Years Ago Today

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — Twenty years ago today a pint-sized county fair daredevil named Douglas Corrigan flew a rickety ocean-banned monoplane from New York to Ireland.

The 3,150-mile flight caught the fancy of a depression-glum era and earned the brash young pilot the nickname "Wrong Way Corrigan."

"My compass froze — I guess I flew the wrong way," Corrigan — with a twinkle in his eye — blandly told authorities who had nixed the hop.

An overnight sensation, Corrigan returned to a hero's welcome in the United States and ticker-tape receptions, banquets, a movie contract — and a lifetime membership in the Celebrated Liars Club of Burlington, Wis.

Corrigan, 51 now, lives the life of a country squire with his wife and three sons on his 30-acre orange grove. He's added a few pounds, but still has the toothy Irish grin and the unruly shock of hair so familiar to newspaper readers of 1938.

And he likes nothing better than to reminisce about his flight.

There's still the same twinkle in his blue eyes when he tells an interviewer that a compass error sent his $300 plane winging to Dublin instead of Long Beach, Calif.

"Instead of flying the right heading, I went the opposite way. The weather was foggy and I didn't see the ocean below me."

Corrigan drank a pint of water, ate fig bars and "sang a bit to keep up my spirits" on the 23-hour 13 minute flight. His only instrument, other than the celebrated compass, was a dollar wrist watch that stopped.

Corrigan earned about $35,000 from lectures, magazine articles, a book and a motion picture, "The Flying Irishman." He managed to keep about $50,000, he said, and most of what's left is invested in his orange grove.

Corrigan has flown a friend's light plane just enough to keep up his license. His famous plane is in storage, and the Texas-born pilot hopes someday to reassemble it and donate it to an aviation museum.

Port Huron AF Pilot Killed in Jet Crash

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. — Two F100 Super Sabre jet fighters from Eglin crashed within four minutes in unrelated accidents yesterday. The pilot of one was rescued from the Gulf of Mexico.

An Eglin spokesman said the second pilot, Lt. Francis J. Robinson of Port Huron, Mich., was killed.

The first jet crashed near Destin, Fla. The pilot, Lt. David Evergreen, ejected and went down in the Gulf. Evergreen was picked up by an Eglin helicopter about two miles offshore. He was reported uninjured.

H-Bomb Nearer Industrial Use

U.S. Scientists Achieve Record Temperatures in Peace Power Trials

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new advance in the American quest to harness the H-bomb reaction for industrial power was reported today.

U. S. scientists have generated temperatures of an estimated 10 million degrees centigrade — almost twice the previous record high reported by the United States — testimony released by a House Appropriations subcommittee reported.

Dr. J. H. Williams, director of the Atomic Energy Commission's Division of Research, told of the development at recent hearings on AEC requests for supplementary appropriations for its various activities.

Williams said scientists at the University of California Radiation Laboratory and AEC facility, achieved the high temperature in research aimed at duplicating the powerful hydrogen fusion reaction for peaceful use.

He said this is about 10 per cent of the temperature that would be necessary to sustain such a reaction for power purposes—and is thus "well along the road" to the temperature objective.

In other testimony, the AEC asked for a 100-million-dollar increase in fiscal 1959 for all phases of its weapons program, including weapon research and development.

It was reported during the hearing that the United States now is the largest uranium producer in the world.

Unemployed Navy Vet Passes Forged Checks

BALTIMORE (AP)—Louis Capp couldn't find a job after he was discharged from the Navy.

He pawned all his belongings to support his wife and three children, then sold his blood at a donor center.

Then he met some men who offered to pay him for passing forged checks. Police said he passed 11 checks totaling $735 as "percentage man" for professional forgers and made only $140 for himself.

Criminal Court Judge Joseph Byrnes took Capp's good record into account yesterday in releasing him on an 18-month suspended sentence.

of the first items of business includes fittings for swim suits. Among those greeting the hopeful beauties will be the current Miss Universe, Gladys Zender of Peru.

She will end one of the strangest reigns in beauty queen history when she turns over her crown to a new Miss Universe the evening of July 25.

The debutante from Lima, who needed neither the money nor the publicity, has remained every inch a queen — regally aloof from all things commercial — since her coronation 12 months ago.

Gladys ignored the expense-paid swim suit tour offered her and accepted a cosmetic junket on her own terms — no endorsements by photograph or word. Her mother never left her side.

Also helping greet the new arrivals will be Charlotte Sheffield of Utah, who was named Miss U.S.A. last year.

A new Miss U.S.A. will be chosen the evening of July 23, and will go on to compete against the foreign beauties for the Miss Universe title.

X-Ways Save on Gas

a passenger car traveling on an expressway will get 19.4 miles per gallon of gasoline compared with 14.4 miles per gallon on a city street.

Officials in Honduras Talk Aid With Milton

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — President Ramon Villeda Morales and his Cabinet planned a meeting today with Dr. Milton Eisenhower today to detail their needs for a broad program of economic aid from the United States.

President Eisenhower's brother received a generally enthusiastic reception yesterday when he arrived in the capital of this banana republic on a 19-day Central American fact-finding tour. University students, who had issued a manifesto attacking U. S. policy as imperialistic, stayed home and did not ask to meet with the traveling U. S. emissary.

Villeda Morales outlined Honduras' chief economic goals to Eisenhower at a meeting in his skyscraper legislative palace and a black-tie dinner at the swank Tegucigalpa Club.

The President said his country needs more roads, electric power, education, public health facilities and loans for farmers and manufacturers. Housing and social security were put as long-range aims.

Germany is said to be the source of the hamburger and frankfurter, now considered as typically American.

EAST GOES WEST — This drummer, who looks like an illustration from the "Arabian Nights," is a member of the Ceylon National Dancers rehearsing his role. The Ceylon company is in Paris for a season of ceremonial, traditional and classical dances.

Young crows can eat their own weight in food in a day.

Happy Postmen Making People Talk Louder

KILLEEN, Tex. (AP) — Killen postmen find themselves treated like afflicted persons these days. Women scream at them. Children stare. And they hear expressions of pity.

The trouble started when postman Kenneth J. Rogers bought a portable radio. It straps to his belt with a wire running to an ear plug. The assembly resembles a hearing aid.

That is what most people think it is.

Eight other postmen quickly acquired sets.

Leroy Biels says most people talk louder to carriers with the radio sets.

When a carrier reaches to his belt to turn down the radio's volume, housewives think he's trying to turn up his hearing aid volume and begin screaming their message to help him understand.

Children stare and their mothers rush from the house saying, "Junior, don't say a word and don't stare."

Most carriers say they listen to music during the morning and baseball in the afternoons. The postmen say they tend to walk in time to the music.

Carrier Robert Stubblefield has one solution to post office deficits. "If radio stations played fast march music all day, it would save money. We would walk our rounds much quicker," he said.

Iraq Rebel Regime Recognized by Tito

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Tito's government announced today that Yugoslavia has recognized the rebel government in Iraq and plans to set up normal diplomatic relations between the two countries.

Tito, who was conferring with President Nasser of the United Arab Republic when the pro-Nasser revolt broke out, cabled the new Iraqi Premier that all peoples have the right to decide on their own social system.

Yugoslavia's Communist regime and the Iraqi monarchy did not have diplomatic relations.

Members of the Soviet bloc, meanwhile, lined up the Soviet Union and Communist China in recognizing the new Baghdad government. The East German News Agency reported Poland, Romania and Czechoslovakia had done so. They also had no relations with Iraq before the revolt.

Flaming Middle East a Tribute to Nasser

By The Associated Press

The new flames sweeping the Middle East light up another success for Gamal Abdel Nasser. The Egyptian dictator was sailing home from Yugoslavia today on the yacht of the king he overthrew in 1952 to start a meteoric political career. The President of the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria returns to Cairo amid swiftly moving events that may bring his strongest challenge so far.

The developments began early Monday, while Nasser was visiting Communist President Tito of Yugoslavia. The monarchy in po-

Western Iraq was overturned by pro-Nasser army officers—just as Nasser replaced King Farouk with a military-run republic. The Iraqi revolt started the U.S. 6th Fleet moving eastward through the part of the Mediterranean which Nasser is now plying. The fleet was on its way to land Marines in Lebanon. And the United States, in a statement to the U.N. Security Council, made clear that it considers Nasser the villain in the piece.

Crisis is no stranger to the tall, darkly handsome Arab leader.

A plotter from the time he was a boy, Nasser gambled and won two years ago this month when he nationalized the Suez Canal. France and Britain struck back with an invasion of the canal zone after Israel invaded the Egyptian Sinai Peninsula. But Nasser had correctly calculated the delicate Soviet and American balance.

The United States then threw the weight of its diplomatic forces into action in the United Nations against its usual allies. The Soviet Union threatened to intervene with volunteers and nuclear weapons.

Britain and France were forced to halt their invasion and the Israelis finally agreed to withdraw, turning Nasser's military defeat into a resounding political triumph which sent his stock soaring among Arab nationalists. Nasser moved stubbornly ahead with the operation of the canal on his own terms and rebuilt his military forces with Communist help.

Last Feb. 1 the union of Egypt and Syria was proclaimed with Nasser as its president. The kingdom of Yemen federated a month later and Nasser was hailed by masses in the Middle East as the great Arab unifier.

When the Lebanese revolt erupted this spring, the Beirut government accused Nasser's U. A. R. of sparking the rebellion by its virulent propaganda and aiding the rebels with arms and men from Syria. The U. A. R. denied the charge, but the United States, Britain and France maintained there was outside interference. Observers sent to Lebanon were kept from the border by the rebels.

When the coup in Iraq unfolded Monday, reports from Cairo said it took the capital by surprise but jubilant celebrations followed in the streets of Cairo and Damascus.

Nasser was a 34-year-old lieutenant colonel in the Egyptian army when he masterminded the 1952 coup that toppled King Farouk. He had been plotting that upheaval 10 years, but when it came he still needed a front man. The choice was Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib, a hero of the 1948 Palestine War, who became president and premier of the new regime.

Within two more years Naguib was out and Nasser was the power in front as well as behind the scenes.

Born Jan. 15, 1918, in the upper Egypt village of Beni Mor, Nasser was reared in a lower middle class family. He was sent to Cairo when he was 8 for his education.

He finished high school at 16 and a year later was involved wholeheartedly in anti-British violence. He came out of military college in 1933 as a second lieutenant.

Then he began building up the career and the trusted followers that took him to the top in Cairo and cast his long shadow across the whole of the Middle East.

As late as 1912 most movies consisted of only one or two reels.

Expect Ike to Sign Space Agency Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation creating a new civilian agency to coordinate nonmilitary problems of space exploration is awaiting President Eisenhower's signature.

Eisenhower is almost certain to sign it. The bill, passed in quick succession by both House and Senate yesterday, gives Eisenhower practically all he requested in an agency to supervise civilian space age efforts.

The bill, a compromise of Senate and House space measures, puts the new space agency under the direct control of the President. He would be advised by an eight-member council, including three experts outside the federal government.

Under the bill, the Pentagon will continue to control space activities connected with national defense, with the President settling any disputes between the civilian agency and the Defense Department.

HOW TO BEAT THE HEAT—Bobbie Naylor, a member of the Folies Bergere cast playing in London, demonstrates what a Guardsman in front of Buckingham Palace should wear on a hot day. Actually the 16-year-old beauty was participating in publicity stunt to advertise a current movie, "The Big Heat."

He Wants Attention, Swallows Needle

CHESTER, Ill. (AP)—It was almost like looking for a needle in a haystack, doctors decided, after failing to find the needle convict William (Scrap Iron) Hinkle swallowed.

Doctors started the search after several convicts in Menard State Prison reported that Hinkle gulped down the needle in the prison knitting mill.

Doctors were not surprised. Hinkle recently was released from the prison hospital where surgeons had opened his stomach and removed 16 paper clips, 2 tobacco can tops, finger nail clippers, 12 nails and a pencil stub.

Prison psychiatrists offered this explanation: Hinkle, who is 38 and serving a term for forgery, wants attention.

Inmate's Law Study in Prison Frees Him

LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP)—Because Karl A. Wagner studied law in the Kansas Penitentiary library, he is free today from a life sentence as a habitual criminal.

Wagner won his motion for a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that he was not represented by an attorney at his sentencing on the habitual criminal charge in 1951. Previously, Wagner had been convicted of assault, jail break and petit larceny.

"Mr. Wagner, there is no use of wasting any time," Dist. Judge Joseph J. Dawes told the 30-year-old convict yesterday. "This will be like Christmas morning for you. The court hereby grants your liberty."

"You have a chance to make something of your life and I hope you will take the opportunity to do it."

"Yes sir, I will," replied Wagner, twisting his hands nervously.

Faces Circuit Court in Burglary of Inn

Donald Ritter, 29, of 454 Auburn Ave. was bound to circuit court yesterday by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan on a charge of burglary.

Ritter is accused of participating in the burglary of the Kum Bak Inn, 1494 Baldwin Ave., on July 7. He will be arraigned Monday in circuit court and $1,000 bond was set.

105 Beirut Evacuees Airlifted to London

LONDON (AP) — Two plane-loads of 105 evacuees from Beirut arrived in London today. Most of them were British employees of Lebanon's Middle East Airline and their families.

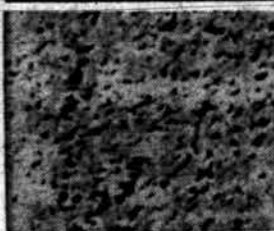

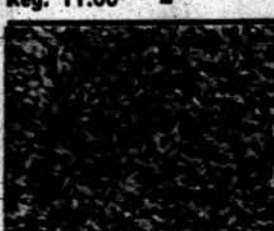

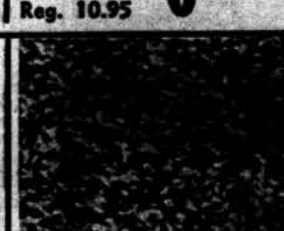

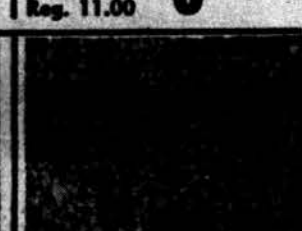

The one American on board, Capt. Jack Griffin, a 35-year-old pilot from Miami, said the people in Beirut were "doing a roaring trade selling coconuts and souvenirs to the American soldiers."

Griffin has been flying with the Lebanese airline since last November.

Hal Boyle Says:

Outdoor Summer Theaters Big Business

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Culture by moonlight is becoming a bigger part of the national entertainment picture.

Outdoor summer dramas are getting to be big business.

"These big productions, live and in color, give people a feeling of opulence they are starved for," said Richard H. Berger, producer of the Starlight Theater here. "They are getting tired of sitting in their living rooms watching small-scale television."

At 53, Berger, a former national senior squash champion, is one of the most experienced men in this form of after-dark art. Brooklyn-born, he said that until 1936, when he went to the St. Louis Municipal Opera, he thought the Hudson River was the beginning of the Far West. He left St. Louis in 1942 and produced movies in Hollywood and some of the top television shows in New York. In 1951, partly to get away from metropolitan tensions, he took over as producer of

State Supreme Court Backs Gov. Williams

LANSING (UPI) — The State Supreme Court yesterday denied a request by Col. Herbert F. Layle that he be reinstated as the state quartermaster general.

The court refused to question action by Gov. G. Mennen Williams in naming Brig. Gen. Ronald D. McDonald to the key Michigan National Guard job Oct. 1, 1957. Under a new law, the job call for a brigadier general. Williams refused to promote Layle.

the newly built $1,750,000 Starlight Theater here in historic Swope Park.

"I can't say I got away from any tensions," he remarked, "but I've had an awful lot of fun enjoying new ones."

The civic-sponsored, nonprofit theater operates on a $600,000 budget during its 12-week season. Its losses are guaranteed by some 700 business firms, but the venture has more than broken even in five of its eight seasons.

"Rain is your big enemy," said Berger, "and that you can't control. It always seems to rain most the week you've got a high-priced star sure to draw big crowds. Two or three days of rain in a week like that — and there goes your season."

"On a capacity night the St. Louis Opera and the Starlight Theater here will have a total of 20,000 customers," Berger pointed out. "That's more than attend all the theaters on Broadway in an ordinary summer week."

"Where is the theater? During the summer it isn't on Broadway. It's out here."

The shows have a six-state audience. People out here will get in their cars and drive 500 miles to see a favorite performer.

Time was when the hinterland clientele was content with revivals of Victor Herbert and Gilbert and Sullivan. Today they demand and get top Broadway productions.

They also demand and get some of the leading performers in show business.

The summer theaters also are wide open to challenging new talent. The Starlight Theater this week is offering the world premiere of a new musical comedy, "Mark Twain." Drama critics from New York and Chicago flew out to cover the opening.

"It would cost perhaps $300,000 or more to put such a show on in New York," said Berger. "Here it can be done for $50,000."

Women See Doctor Often

NEW YORK—More women than men visit doctors regularly, a survey by the National Health Insurance Institute reveals. Doctors' visits to females amount to 5.5 per person per year compared with 3.9 visits to males, the survey shows. For both sexes, the number of calls increases with age, with persons at ages 5 through 14 averaging 3.4 visits yearly and those over 65 averaging 6.8 visits.

Troubled Lebanon Crossroad of 2 Worlds

By CHARLES STAFFORD
AP Writer

In Lebanon, that spot on the globe where for the moment peace dangles over the snakepit of war, East and West strike a delicate balance.

NATION CROSSROADS

Across the centuries, the watch fox-sized nation on the eastern shore of the Mediterranean Sea has been a crossroads for the two worlds.

It is more so than ever in this modern age when armies—and nations—travel on petroleum. Much of the Middle East's oil production is piped out of Saudi Arabia and Iraq to Lebanon's ports where it is loaded into tankers for shipment to Europe.

The Russians, who find it politic to back Gamel Abdel Nasser in his passion to unite the Arab nations, would like to see Lebanon fall into the hands of Nasser's new United Arab Republic. The United States, pledged by the Eisenhower Doctrine to fight for the "preservation of the independence" of Middle Eastern nations, would not.

Lebanon, a melting pot where Christian and Moslem have lived peacefully under the same flag, was able to remain officially neutral to the big power tug of war until recently.

Then Camille Chamoun, Lebanon's Christian and pro-Western president, upset the delicate balance. He hinted he would seek to amend the Lebanese constitution so he could serve a second term.

His hint touched off a flame of opposition among Moslem leaders, who are opposed for a variety of reasons to the Chamoun government. This flame was fanned to violence by the Nasser propagandists of Radio Cairo and Radio Damascus.

The history of Lebanon stretches back into eternity. Ancient Egypt had designs on it because of the famous cedars of Lebanon. These trees were used later to build Solomon's temple in Jerusalem.

During the Crusades, Lebanon was a gateway to the Holy Land for the Western armies. But West-gave way to East in 1290 when the region fell to the Mameluke sultan of Egypt. It fell again in 1516, this time to the Ottoman Turks.

After Turkey's defeat in World War I, Lebanon was occupied by the French. In 1926 the French set up a Lebanese republic, but another world war had passed before the tiny nation became completely independent.

Size-wise, Lebanon stretches at an average width of 30 miles for 125 miles along the Mediterranean coast. It is surrounded for 150 miles by Syria and bordered for about 35 miles more by Israel.

The capital of Beirut is 100 miles from the British island of Cyprus, 350 miles from Nasser's capital in Cairo, 500 miles from the Iraq oil fields, and only 650 miles from the Soviet-Turkish border.

Its terrain is well suited to the guerrilla warfare of revolution. Two mountain ranges, the western-most rising from narrow coastal lowlands, stretch the length of Lebanon. Some of the peaks top 10,000 feet. Between the ranges is the fertile plain of Bekaa.

Beirut, with a population of 230,000, and Tripoli with about 75,000 are the principal cities. Tripoli, an oil tanker port, is the terminus of a pipe line from the oil fields of northern Iraq.

The 1½ million citizens are almost equally divided between Christian and Moslem religions. There are many Turks, Armenians, Greeks, Jews, Persians and Europeans among the population.

Coffee house conversation is a confused jumble of English and Arabic, French and Armenian, Greek and Hebrew.

When the balance was upset, there were four groups principally involved in the revolt. These included the Moslems of the Tripoli area, a hotbed of pro-Syrian sentiment; the Moslems of Beirut, whose leaders are strong for Nasser; the Druses, mountain tribesmen belonging to a religious sect that broke off from Islam, and tribesmen from the Syrian border area who have always opposed central authority.

Behind Chamoun's government—at least theoretically—is the 8,000 to 9,000-man army commanded by Brig. Gen. Faad Shehab, a member of an old Lebanese family respected by both Christians and Moslems. The army's five colonels are Christians as are many of its 170 officers.

But the men filling the ranks are drawn from all religions and sects. Many are Moslems. Equipment is vintage World War II—Sherman tanks equipped with British guns, British 25-pounders for field artillery. The 300-man air force flies about a dozen British Vampire jets. The navy has only a few coastal patrol boats and subchasers.

Hollywood Headlines
Robert Wagner Enjoys Having Wife at Work

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How would you husbands like the little woman to watch you at work every day?

Sound frightening? Maybe so, but Robert Wagner doesn't mind it. Of course, the fact that he is married to Natalie Wood may put the situation in a different light. Natalie is present every day. Bob is working on "In Love and War." She sits on the set while he's acting, has lunch with him, goes home with him.

"I like it," says Bob. "I can't think of anything I'd rather do," says Natalie, who isn't working in a picture of her own right now.

Okay, so they're happy—why knock it? All the same, I suspect most husbands would consider it carrying too much responsibility. The Wagners are not only married; they're incorporated. But not right away. She is tied up to Wagners for another three years, and he has two years to go at 20th-Fox.

Despite their set visiting routine—he was present nearly every day when she was shooting "Marjorie Morningstar" and "Kings Go Forth"—they have no yen to appear together. Jerry Wald considered Natalie for "In Love and War," but Bob discouraged him. The reason is they want to keep their separate identities as far as their work is concerned.

"We decided it would be better for our marriage—in the beginning at least—if we didn't involve our work in it," says Bob. But it's all right if they watch each other work, according to their rules.

Saw Lana Turner having a late snack with her mother at La Scala, and she says she's eager to get back to work in "Imitation of Life." The picture starts this month.

No press agent for "The Barbarian" is John Wayne. "It's pretty, but there's no central story line," he comments openly. His lack of enthusiasm stems from the difficult time he had with John Huston on the picture. They didn't get along.

Floods Causing Heavy Damage
Corn Crop Hit Hard in Kansas, Missouri; More Rain Due

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Floodwaters from three rivers and nine smaller streams, swollen by heavy rains, covered large areas of eastern Kansas and northwestern Missouri today, causing millions of dollars in damage.

Most of the damage was to the promising young corn crop. The water has spread into only one large town, Fort Scott, Kan. But the overflow from Missouri's Grand River lapped at the edge of Chillicothe, two miles east of the river channel.

Rain has fallen in the two areas for the past two days, and the forecast for today and tomorrow is for still more rain. The Weather Bureau said the downpours were caused by a cold front which stalled over southern Kansas and Missouri.

Col. L. E. Laurin, district Army engineer, estimated damage along the Grand, running seven miles wide at points, at $1,700,000.

At Fort Scott, 20 miles west of the Missouri border and 96 miles south of here, the Marmaton River reached 48 feet, its highest level since this area's disastrous 1931 floods.

The water surged into 30 homes and 20 business places before it began receding last night.

Water ran five to seven feet deep in the Belknap section of Fort Scott, a city of 10,000 population. The flood closed five streets including the city route of U. S. Highway 54.

Displaced families were fed by the Red Cross. Most victims found quarters with friends or relatives.

Referendum Date Aug. 26 in Alaska

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Gov. Mike Stepovich yesterday set Aug. 26 as the date for a referendum vote on statehood for Alaska and for Alaska's first primary election as the 49th state in the Union.

Alaska's first general election as a state was set for Nov. 25. The statehood act passed by Congress June 30 specified that Alaskans must approve, in a referendum vote, three propositions before statehood becomes a reality.

Those propositions are that Alaskans approve (1) immediate statehood, (2) the state boundaries as outlined in the statehood act and (3) all other provisions of the act.

Stepovich has expressed the opinion that approval of all three propositions is certain.

Armed Robbery Charges Dropped Against 2 Men

Charges against two men accused of armed robbery were dismissed in municipal court yesterday.

Howard H. Hatchett, 20, of 180 Western St., and John Phlegam, 20, of 33 Chapman St., were accused of robbing Samuel Coleman, of 89 W. Strathmore Ave., on June 2.

Judge Maurice E. Finnegan dismissed the cases when the complainant refused to prosecute.

'Send the Marines' American Tradition

NEW YORK (AP)—The landing of Marines in Lebanon has created quite an international ruckus. Not too long ago, the same operation would hardly have raised an eyebrow.

The peacetime U. S. Corps of Marines has landed, fought—and suffered casualties — so many times and on so many shores that it's easy to lose count.

Thirty-odd years ago Marines were so common in the Latin American states of Nicaragua, Haiti and the Dominican Republic that knowledge of the Spanish language was almost a prerequisite to enlistment.

And, scarcely a century ago, China and the rest of the Far East seems to have been fairly crawling with fighting, sweating and cursing peacetime Leathernecks.

The American habit of calling on the Marines doesn't appear to have started at any one precise time.

Marines were landing "on the shores of Tripoli" (as their song goes) in the unofficial war against the Barbary pirates in 1804. They were back for a repeat performance in Algiers in 1815.

Leathernecks stormed into the Sumatran jungles in 1832, chasing pirates who killed several American sailors. They fought a pitched battle with the buccaneers and even burned the sizable town of Quallah Battoo.

There was hardly any comment even in the local papers when they taught lessons to natives in the Fiji and Samoa in 1838 and 1839. The natives had a habit of killing American traders and seafarers.

In the middle of the last century, American clipper ships carried on a man-sized trade with the Far East. Trade brought the protection of the U. S. Navy, and the U. S. Navy brought its Marines.

As early in 1854, and possibly earlier, the Corps was in Shanghai battling the troops of the Imperial Chinese Army itself to protect the small foreign colony. The home team was runner-up in the engagement.

Two years later, a small detachment of Marines cut its way through a 5,000-man Chinese army, taking forts from the coast to Canton, to demand an apology for an insult to the American flag.

The Leathernecks were fighting for unheralded but deadly police action in Korea 89 years before the most recent unpleasanties in that unhappy land.

It started when the Koreans burned a stranded American vessel and chopped up its crew.

The Marines stormed ashore, captured a supposedly impregnable fortress called the Citadel and extracted a promise to be good.

Highpoint of Marine peacetime action in the Orient came during the Boxer Rebellion in 1900 when anti-foreign feeling ran high.

U. S. Marines and German soldiers stood back to back in the heroic defense of Peking's foreign compound. Marines and Russian soldiers spearheaded the international column that lifted the siege of the enclave.

The Marines' peacetime activities are probably best known in Latin America where, in an earlier era, nearly every revolt produced a Marine landing to protect American lives and property and, sometimes, to back a favored cause.

They landed in Haiti on July 9, 1915 to effect a "quick" settlement of the island republic's century-old political chaos. The last Marine didn't leave until Aug. 15, 1934.

Marine landings were standard procedure in Nicaragua between 1910 and 1933 and in the Dominican Republic from 1912 to 1924. They brought order to Cuba between 1906 and 1909. They were in Vera Cruz, Mexico, in 1914. There's no counting the number of times they returned to the beaches of Panama in time of revolt to protect a vital railroad across the isthmus. There was no Panama Canal or Canal Zone in those days.

To Begin Sewer Project
GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—City Manager Donald M. Oakes announced Tuesday that Grand Rapids will begin shortly a seven-year, two-million-dollar sewer system improvement project. It will be financed, Oakes said, from a yearly surplus of $250,000 accruing from water and sewer revenues.

Australia has developed a new form of butter concentrate that does not melt at 100 degrees Fahrenheit and does not deteriorate when it melts at higher temperatures.

Cherries, Berries Go Into Jelly

CHERRY JAM — Now is the time to capture that fresh cherry flavor in homemade jam. The cherry season flies by and those tightly packed boxes you see in the market today might not be there tomorrow. For year-round good eating, plan now to preserve that good fruit sweetening in jewel-toned glasses of cherry jam or jelly.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Dig out the jelly glasses, stock up on sugar and get to work on jam and jelly for next winter. We assume, of course, that you have made your strawberry jam already. Now's the time to capture the goodness of raspberries and cherries.

Sweet cherries may be made into jam or jelly. They should taste just like the fresh ripe fruit when it's picked. For the jelly you will need about three pounds of ripe sweet cherries.

Sweet Cherry Jelly
3½ cups juice (about 3 lbs. ripe sweet cherries)
3½ cups (1½ lbs.) sugar
1 box (2½ oz.) powdered fruit pectin

Stem and crush thoroughly (do not pit) about 3 pounds fully ripe sweet cherries. All ½ cup water; bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice.

Measure 3½ cups into a LARGE saucepan. (For a stronger cherry flavor, add a few crushed cherry pits during simmering, or add ¼ teaspoon almond extract before pouring jelly.)

Then make the jelly. Measure sugar and set aside. Add powdered fruit pectin to juice in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar.

Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon, and pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with ¼ inch hot paraffin.

Spiced cherry jam is a little unusual and is delicious with toast, hot breads or meat. Try this recipe.

Northwest Spicy Cherry Jam
4 cups fresh sweet cherries, pitted (about 2½ pounds)
½ cup lemon juice
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon allspice
1 cup sugar
1 box (2½-ounce) powdered fruit pectin

Select fully ripe cherries. Wash, pit and chop. Add lemon juice and spices. Measure sugar into bowl; set aside. Measure 4 cups prepared fruit into saucepan (water may be added to fourth cup, if necessary). Add pectin and mix well.

Place over high heat and stir slowly until mixture comes to hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to full rolling boil; boil hard for 1 minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat; skim, ladle quickly into sterilized half-pint jars. Seal according to manufacturer's directions. Let stand 25 minutes and then shake jars gently to prevent floating fruit.

If you grow your own strawberries, the everbearing kind, you might be able to pick a few now. Use them with an equal amount of raspberries for jelly.

Raspberry, Strawberry Jelly
1½ quarts strawberries
1½ quarts raspberries
3½ cups sugar
1 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare the juice, crush thoroughly or grind the fruit. Turn into a jelly bag and press out the juice. Measure juice (there should be 4 cups) and sugar into a large preserving kettle. Mix well, bring to a full rolling boil over the hottest fire and boil hard for at least one minute, stirring constantly.

Add the pectin, bring again to a full rolling boil and boil hard for half a minute. Remove from the stove, skim and pour into hot sterilized glasses. Seal.

Top Potato Dish With Cheese

Here's an idea for an interesting new way to top a potato casserole. Pasteurized process cheese slices, cut from corner to corner and attractively arranged over the creamed potatoes provide this eye-appealing topping.

This product is wonderful for cooking, for it melts quickly to a smooth consistency. And for successful cheese cookery, a good rule of thumb to remember is: "When cheese is melted, it is cooked." Overcooking will toughen.

Cheese blends successfully with so many other food flavors that the possibilities for creating new cheese dishes are unlimited. We suggest you start with easy-to-do Creamed Potatoes with Cheese Triangles.

Creamed Potatoes With Cheese Triangles
1½ tablespoons butter
1½ tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
Salt and pepper

4 cups dried hot packed potatoes
3 slices pasteurized process American cheese, cut in half diagonally
Make a thin cream sauce with the butter, flour, milk, and seasonings to taste. Pour this hot sauce over the potatoes in a 10x6x1½ inch greased casserole. Arrange the cheese around the edge of the casserole. Place in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, until the cheese melts. Serve hot.

Corn oil may be used in salad dressings, chifon cakes, muffins and pancakes. It is a refined product made from a certain variety of corn.

Raspberries Fill Delicate Tarts

"The Queen of Hearts, she made some tarts, all on a summer's day." You can be the "queen" in your family when you make no-bake Cereal Flake Tarts with Raspberry Chiffon Filling. The refreshing freshness of the tangy raspberry filling and cereal flake crust make an unusual flavor combination. You will find Cereal Flake Tarts a favorite dessert for summer-time entertaining.

Cereal Flake Crust Tarts
6 cups whole wheat flakes
3 to 4 tablespoons sugar
½ cup melted butter or margarine
Crush cereal very fine. Add sugar. Mix in melted butter or margarine thoroughly. Press mixture evenly into 8 five-ounce tart shells (or custard cups). Chill thoroughly before adding fillings. Yield: 8 medium-sized tart shells.

Raspberry Chiffon Filling
2 large egg yolks
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ cup crushed red raspberries
2 tablespoons hot red raspberry juice
2 tablespoons raspberry-flavored gelatin
1 cup whipping cream stiffly beaten
2 large egg whites
½ teaspoon cream tartar
¼ cup sugar

Mix egg yolks, sugar, salt, lemon juice, and crushed raspberries to gether in saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring until it boils. Remove from heat. Stir in mixture of raspberry juice and raspberry-flavored gelatin. Cool.

When partially set, beat with rotary beater and blend in whipped cream. Carefully fold this mixture into a meringue of the egg whites, cream of tartar, and sugar. Pipe into Cereal Flake Crust Tarts. Chill until set (about 2 hours).

Serve cold, garnished with whipped cream and whole red raspberries, if desired. Yield: Filling for 8 tart shells.

Wrap Up Hot Dogs in Biscuit Coats

Now is the perfect time for outdoor eating...and extra pleasure when there is a new taste treat for the family. Good as are grilled wieners in toaster buns, even better are charcoal-cooked hot dogs in their own blankets of home-made biscuit dough. Or use a prepared biscuit mix for a quick supper surprise as in this recipe for Dogs in Blankets.

Dogs in Blankets
8 skinless frankfurters
1½ cups biscuit mix
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon caraway seed

Impale frankfurters on skewers. Mix biscuit mix, milk and caraway seeds with fork. Dough should be a little stiffer than for biscuits; otherwise it will slide off frankfurters.

With metal spatula, cover each frank with dough about ¼" thick. If dough is too thick it will fall off. Place skewers on grill and turn frequently so that the "blankets" are browned on all sides.

RASPBERRY CHIFFON TARTS — Here is the answer for a different easy-to-prepare, tangy-flavored summer dessert. Cereal Flake Tarts with Raspberry Chiffon Filling can be prepared early in the cool of the day, already to be served except for garnishing. Truly a luscious dessert!

Berries at Best Now, Other Fruit Plentiful

Variety is the buy-word at the food market. Michigan's offering of fresh produce combined with the volumes being shipped from other states means easy choosing for the most particular of appetites.

Satisfy the family with variety in meat choices too, suggests the Michigan Information Agent. Lower retail prices on many beef cuts and features in other meats spells interesting main dishes at reasonable cost.

FRUITS
Small fruits dominate the produce department. This week marks the beginning of peak supplies.

Good growing weather has helped produce one of the finest raspberry crops ever to be grown in Benton Harbor area. Black raspberries are not as plentiful. This is a good time to can or freeze raspberries suggests Mrs. Josephine Sawyer.

You will find moderate supplies of strawberries still arriving from the Alpena area. Michigan sweet cherries supplies are only moderate.

The beginning of the blueberry harvest here, plus larger shipments expected from the East, should bring a decrease in price next week.

Southern peaches will be as tasty as they look if you let them ripen at room temperature (75-80 degrees F.). Ripe peaches should be stored in the coldest shelf of the refrigerator.

Complete the fruit bowl with bananas, grapes, nectarines, plums or apricots. Then for easy dessert, choose from the melon family.

VEGETABLES
Homegrown is becoming a more popular word in vegetables as summer progresses. The tender yellow and striped zucchini squash are very plentiful, are very inexpensive.

An increasing supply of home-grown lettuce is lowering prices on your favorite salad green. But don't overlook locally grown leaf lettuce, escarole, romaine, endive and spinach.

Like green beans? You'll like the price too. The harvest of Michigan's crop is bringing larger supplies and lowering cost.

Michigan early potatoes are beginning to appear. Take care to select only the amount to be used in a short time.

Local harvest of tomatoes is just beginning.

MEATS

You can expect some decrease in beef prices this week. Numbers arriving at market were larger last week. Cuts from both the front and hind-quarter are being featured.

Look for U. S. Choice or Prime or packer grades of the same quality, and choose only tender cuts if you plan to broil or grill them. Because homemakers prefer tender cuts in summer, the less tender roasts are now your economy buy. If you can think of ways to use chuck roasts or wish to marinate and tenderize chuck steaks, you can save on the meat bill.

Both retailers and wholesalers report that shoulder cuts of pork, veal and lamb are the best values from a price standpoint. Some stores have bacon, spareribs, frankfurters and cold cuts on specials.

Fryer prices are just about as they were two weeks ago. Supplies are very ample and some predict lower prices because of this.

Turkeys are offered at reasonable prices. Choose between young birds, the more mature yearling turkeys or the 5 to 8 pound Beltsville type.

Use Cottage Cheese in Many Ways

Cheese is a food with a romantic past. It predates all other prepared food now in use, with the possible exception of butter. The story of its beginning in pre-historic times has come down as the legend of Kanana, a roving merchant who traveled across Asia centuries ago. According to the legend, Kanana put milk into a pouch made from the dried stomach of a sheep when he set out on a long day's journey across the desert. At nightfall, he stopped for a drink of milk only to find that a thin, watery liquid poured out of the pouch. Curious, he opened the canteen and discovered there a mass of white curd with a delicate flavor, similar to what we call cottage cheese today. A delicately delicious product, cottage cheese needs to be kept cold and insulated against outside odors. The best place to store it is in a refrigerator where the temperature is maintained at 35 to 40 degrees. Stored in its waxed tub with the metal lid, properly protected cottage cheese will stay at its peak of flavor and texture for about one week.

Did you know that you can cook with cottage cheese? It makes a wonderful breakfast soufflé. It is delicious in casseroles as with noodles and sour cream, and it makes a rich and tender pastry for meat turnovers. Cheese cake is well known as a universal favorite, but cottage cheese is equally interesting in bread sticks or cookies.

It's a round-the-clock favorite in hors d'oeuvres, relish trays, main dishes, breads, sandwiches, or all by itself. Its economy and high food value make it a good product to get better acquainted with.

Cottage Cheese Salad Platter
Serve mounds of cottage cheese on bed of salad greens. Surround with crisp raw vegetables or fruit or both. Serve with French dressing.

Low Calorie Cheese Cake
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar, divided
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 egg, separated
1/4 cup skim milk
1/4 cup grated lemon rind
1/4 pint (1/2 cup) cottage cheese
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup graham cracker crumbs
Mix together gelatin, 6 tablespoons of the sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Beat together egg yolks and milk; add to gelatin mixture. Place over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly until gelatin is dissolved and mixture thickens slightly, about 6 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in lemon rind. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon.

While mixture is chilling, beat cottage cheese on high speed of electric mixer 3 minutes. Stir in lemon juice and vanilla. Fold in gelatin mixture.

Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add remaining 6 tablespoons sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture. Turn into an 8-inch spring form pan; sprinkle top with graham cracker crumbs. Chill until firm.

Yield: 12 servings, 125 calories per serving.

Ham Cheese Dip
1 pint (1 cup) cottage cheese
1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
1/2 pint (1 cup) commercial sour cream
1 package (1 1/2 ounces) onion soup mix
1 can (5 1/2 ounces) drained ham
Mix together cottage cheese, Worcestershire sauce and sour cream. Stir in remaining ingredients; mix well. Yield: Approximately 2 1/2 cups.

Tuna Cheese Dip
1 pint (1 cup) cottage cheese
2 tablespoons light brown sugar
1/2 cup prepared mustard
1 can (7 ounces) tuna, flaked
1/2 cup lemon juice
Mix together cottage cheese, mayonnaise and prepared mustard. Stir in tuna and lemon juice; mix well. Yield: Approximately 2 1/2 cups.

Lamb Offers New Taste With Outdoor Grilling

Enjoy the pleasure of outdoor eating during the summer season. Supper's fun for the whole family when everyone pitches in to help. Setting up the grill may be assigned to the man of the house. Let the youngsters make salad, assemble kebab ingredients, pour the beverage, or do whatever jobs suit their ages.

In selecting kebab makings, start with lamb shoulder and add a variety of vegetables. Tender lamb shoulder is an ideal cut for grilling, and lends a delicious flavor to the vegetables.

Another lamb idea for the warm weather is a loaf of ground lamb and pineapple. Bake it in the cool of the morning; refrigerate and serve cold at suppertime. Sliced tomatoes and potato salad go well with the lamb loaf.

Grilled Lamb Kebabs
3 cups diced lamb shoulder (3/4-inch cubes)
1 medium-sized eggplant, diced
1 medium-sized green pepper, diced
12 small onions, cooked
12 small mushrooms
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
Salt and pepper to taste
Arrange lamb, eggplant, green pepper, onions and mushrooms on skewers. Brush with butter or margarine. Broil 3-4 inches from source of heat, or cook on outdoor grill, 7-8 minutes, or until lamb is desired degree of doneness.

Turn kebabs during broiling period. Brush with butter or margarine frequently during broiling period. Season with salt and pepper. Makes 6 servings.

Lamb Pineapple Loaf
1 pound ground lamb
1 cup packaged bread stuffing
3-4 cups (can pineapple tidbits)
1 egg, beaten
1/2 teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
Combine all ingredients; mix well. Press into 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) about 1 1/2 hours. Drain off drippings. Makes 4 servings.

Glaze Dill Pickles
Here's an interesting way to embellish a supper table for an evening party when the gang comes to your house.

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 tablespoons light brown sugar
4 large dill pickles
Melt butter in a small skillet; stir in the brown sugar. Slice dill pickles in half lengthwise. Spread cut surfaces of pickles with sugar mixture. Place on foil; broil 3 or 4 inches from source of heat for 3 to 4 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Scallions Plus Soup Make Chilled Treat

If you are one of those fortunate enough to have a little "patch to in flavor, use them . . . chopped plant," chances are a spot is de- . . . along with lettuce and green pepper to make a salad-type soup. Here's the recipe: In a saucepan, combine 1 can (10 1/4 ounces) frozen condensed cream of potato soup and 1 soup can water; heat until thawed, stirring now and then. Then add 1/2 cup chopped lettuce, 2 tablespoons chopped scallions, 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper, 1 and 1/2 tablespoons cherry. Place in refrigerator for at least 4 hours. This to desired consistency with milk before serving in chilled bowls. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Two-burner cooks: you can cook a meat loaf in a covered skillet.

WITHOUT PHOSPHORUS—NO ENERGY

Phosphorus is the "key" element which enables energy to be expended by the human body. Further, phosphorus is vitally necessary to the growth of every cell in the body. It is particularly important in the composition of bone.

BARBECUED BOLOGNA — Try something new on your charcoal grill's rotating spit. Cook a whole bologna for an unusual meat dish. Baste the meat with a zesty barbecue sauce. You can grill hamburgers at the same time and with the same sauce.

Barbecue a Whole Bologna Outdoors

If you have a rotating spit, make your charcoal grill do double duty. Let a whole bologna go 'round 'n' 'round while you grill hamburgers on the grate. For the hamburgers offer buns — for the sliced barbecued bologna offer whole wheat French bread. To go with both have a plate of sliced Bermuda onions, and red, ripe tomatoes.

BARBECUED BOLOGNA

1 pound piece bologna
1 cup white vinegar
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup chili sauce
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup onion salt
1/2 cup kitchen bouquet
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup pepper
1/2 cup poultry seasoning

Center bologna on spit and fasten securely. Combine all other ingredients in small saucepan and heat 5 minutes. Brush entire surface of bologna generously with sauce. Baste bologna with sauce often during cooking period. Grill over moderate heat on rotating spit, 30 minutes.

Slice loaf whole wheat French bread diagonally into 1-inch thick slices and bologna into 1/2 inch thick slices. Accompany with thin slices of onion and tomato for hearty open-face sandwiches. Makes 18 to 20 1/2 inch slices.

Barbecued Hamburgers

2 pounds ground chuck
1/2 cup onion salt
1/2 cup kitchen bouquet
1/2 cup onion salt
1/2 cup pepper
1/2 cup prepared mustard
1 package hamburger buns (8 to 12 packages)

Shape meat into 8 hamburger patties. Combine and blend together all other ingredients and brush generously over both sides of patties. Grill over moderate heat using the following timing:
Rare Hamburgers — 5 minutes each side.

Cook Dressing to Use in Many Ways

An old-fashioned salad dressing that's always popular.

Cooked Salad Dressing

2 tablespoons flour
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 1/2 teaspoons sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons dry mustard
Cayenne
2 egg yolks
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk
1/2 cup cider vinegar
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Stir flour, salt, sugar, mustard and a few grains of cayenne together thoroughly in the top of a double boiler. Beat egg yolks slightly; add milk and beat enough to combine. Gradually stir into flour mixture, smoothing out after each addition. Slowly stir in vinegar.

Cook and stir constantly over very hot (just below boiling point) water until thickened and smooth—10 to 20 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in butter.

Cover and place over cold water until cool. Store in tightly covered container in refrigerator. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

GENERATIONS OF DOGS HAVE THRIVED ON

Hawaiian Touch Given Chicken With Pineapple

Chicken dishes are perennial favorites and versatile, too, with a variety of delicious flavor combinations.

Tropical Chicken—an exotic version—is seasoned with ginger and pineapple tidbits added. It is unusual enough for your guests to take note, and easy enough to suit the working hostess' timetable.

We suggest serving Tropical Chicken with fluffy white rice and broccoli, topped with slivered almonds.

Tropical Chicken

1 (3 1/2-pound) disjointed fryer, or equivalent in parts
Salt and pepper
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
1/4 cup of melted butter and salad oil, mixed
2 tablespoons soy sauce
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 1/2 cups pineapple juice (part syrup drained from pineapple tidbits)
1 cup pineapple tidbits or chunks
1/2 cup sliced celery (about 3/4-inch thick)
2 tablespoons cornstarch
Fluffy Rice

Sprinkle chicken with salt, pepper and ground ginger, rubbing in well. Brown on all sides in hot butter and salad oil mixture.

Mix soy sauce, brown sugar and 1 cup of pineapple juice and pour over chicken in skillet. Cover and cook over moderate low heat until almost tender—about 25 minutes. Add celery and pineapple tidbits (or chunks). Cook until celery is tender, about 10 minutes.

Mix cornstarch with remaining 1/2 cup of pineapple juice and stir into sauce in pan. Cook until thickened and clear.

Serve with a border of fluffy rice or well-drained noodles.

Vary Basic Cream Sauce

Cream sauces may be easily varied by adding shredded sharp American cheese, chopped parsley, or curry powder. They may be seasoned more highly with a bouillon cube, paprika, onion, celery salt, mustard or herbs. All are delicious served over vegetables or in casserole dishes.

Pineapple Shell Hides Heat for Grilling

Have fun with fresh pineapple! Cut a pineapple off at the top, removing crown and a generous slice of the fruit. Use a sharp curved knife to remove the meat. Place a can of any canned heat in pineapple shell. Set shell on tile or hot pad in center of tray. Surround with chunked pineapple meat, marshmallows, tiny cooked sausages or other "grillables." Provide a handful of inexpensive metal skewers and urge guests to make their own selection for open-flame toasting. Very effective in the garden at dusk.

Cookie Pie Crust Rates as New Idea

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Lazy summer days are just the time to talk about this and that, not getting too serious about anything. We'll go through our folder of saved items with you.

Mothers of babies and toddlers will be happy to know that one manufacturer of baby food now puts its product in easy-to-open reseal screw-top jars. Think of the nice assortment of little jam jars you mothers can collect.

Have you tried making iced tea with the new instant powdered tea product? You make it with water from the tap, then add ice. With this new form of tea you can make one glass or a gallon, each in the same amount of time.

This next isn't a new product, but a new way of using a convenience food. If you have a roll of icebox cookie dough in your refrigerator (homemade or the purchased kind), use it to make a quick pie crust.

Line the bottom of an 8-inch pie pan with thin slices of the dough; press out evenly. Line side of pan with more slices, overlapping slightly to form scalloped edge. Bake in 375-degree oven 6-9 minutes. Cool and fill as desired.

There's a brand new form of canned pineapple on the market. Chunks of the golden fruit are packed in mint syrup. This new Deep Minted Pineapple makes unusual salads with cottage cheese or delicious desserts like the following.

Marshmallow Frosted Pineapple
Chill Deep Minted Pineapple

Chunks and drain thoroughly. Mix 1½ teaspoons lemon juice and ¼ teaspoon lemon extract into 1-3 cup marshmallow sundae topping. Spoon over pineapple chunks, 4 to 5 servings. For a super sundae, serve the pineapple chunks and marshmallow topping over ice cream.

Try Molasses Egg Nog

Ever try a molasses egg nog? It's a drink deluxe, prepared in minutes. To the beaten yolk of 1 egg, add 2 teaspoons real New Orleans molasses, 1 cup cold milk, a pinch of salt and a pinch of nutmeg. Whip the egg white stiff and fold in. This beverage is almost a meal in itself.

Try Smoke Cooking for Flounder Fillet

A new trend in barbecuing this summer is smoke-cooking. Hickory chips or spice pellets are added to charcoal to impart an aromatic hickory flavor to the food. Try it with flounder fillets (fresh or frozen).

First marinate the fish in a mixture of 1-3 cup olive oil, a few shards of anise or fennel, ¼ teaspoon garlic powder and ½ teaspoon salt. Arrange the fillets, cut in serving pieces in foil, shaping the sides of the foil to hold the marinade; leave top open.

Add dampened hickory or spice pellets to very hot fire of coals, place fish in foil over the grill and cover grill. Takes about 25 minutes for flounder to smoke-cook; should be fork-tender.

Be Sure Fowl Is Done!

The proof of doneness for chickens or turkeys roasted on a barbecue spit is the internal temperature of the breast stuffing in the bird. It's no trick to insert a meat thermometer through the skin between the first and second ribs. The temperature for stuffed chicken or turkey should reach 180 degrees.

Add Ground Ham to Fruit Fritters

Ground ham mixed with crushed pineapple made into fritters—well, does that appeal to your warm weather appetite?

Ham Fritters

2 cups ground cooked ham
¼ cup crushed pineapple, drained
¼ cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ cup milk
2 eggs
1 tablespoon aromatic bitters
Plus for deep frying

In mixing bowl sift flour with baking powder. Add milk, eggs, bitters and mix until smooth. Fold in ham and well-drained pineapple.

Save Ham in Olive Oil for Spaghetti Sauce

Here's a flavorful way to use left-over ham: First saute 1½ to 2 cups of diced ham and 1 medium-sized chopped onion in 3 tablespoons olive oil. A crushed garlic clove may be added, if you like, or a diced green pepper.

Then add a can of tomato sauce, half a cup of water, and salt and pepper to taste. Simmer 20 to 30 minutes; serve over rice or with macaroni or spaghetti for a very supper dish.

Blush After Cannon Fires Croquet Balls

WARRINGTON, England (AP) — The roar of cannon shattered the peace of Withers avenue last night.

Then whistling through the air came a volley of croquet balls. One, weighing a pound, crashed through a window and landed on George Carter's bed.

Another shattered a window in Mrs. Kathleen Ascombs's house.

The croquet balls were followed into Withers avenue by red-faced Maj. E. S. B. Talbot, commanding officer of Peninsular Barracks three streets away.

"There's been some horseplay at my farewell party," the major explained. "They've been firing croquet balls out of an old cannon. Can't understand how they went so far."

"The cannon is a trophy from 1700-and-something," he said. "Everybody fires it sooner or later. The croquet ball usually just rolls out the end and trickles across the barrack square."

Put Ball, Chain Around the Neck of 12-Year-Old

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — A mother and elderly stepfather who said a ball and chain hung around her 12-year-old son's neck worked wonders in making him behave, pleaded guilty of unjustified punishment of a child.

Municipal Judge Ray Baugh set a probation hearing for Aug. 4 for Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Guthrie. Unable to post $100 bail, they were jailed.

Guthrie, 72, told officers they locked the 24-pound ball and four-foot chain around the neck of William Gerald Jones "so we could keep an eye on him." Mrs. Myrtle Jones Guthrie, 45, said William had been pretty bad.

Steels Slate 56.6 Output

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit area steel mills have scheduled operations this week at 56.6 per cent of capacity with a planned output of 80,500 tons, Iron Age reported today. The mills operated at 55.3 per cent of capacity last week.

Letter Penalty 3 Months Off

Post Office Suspends Mail Fine Effected July 1 to Oct. 31

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Post Office Department states it will suspend for three months the new five-cent penalty for mailing letters with insufficient postage.

The little known penalty, enacted by Congress in April, went into effect July 1, a month before the Aug. 1 effective date for the recently enacted boost in postage rates.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield decided to suspend the penalty between Aug. 1 and Oct. 31 in order to give the people a chance to get used to the new rates.

Here's how the penalty will work:

If you mail a letter with an old three-cent stamp on it instead of the new four-cent, the letter will be stamped with the one-cent deficit and the five-cent penalty. The receiver will be asked to pay the extra six cents.

If he refuses to pay, the letter will be sent back to the writer. If he won't pay, or if there is no return address, the letter will be sent to the dead letter office or destroyed.

To save yourself a lot of penalties, here are the new rates: Letters, four cents; postal cards, three cents; airmail, seven cents.

Educator Says Flunking Pupils Does No Good

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Should Junior be forced to repeat a year in elementary school? Only under the rarest and most extreme circumstances, according to a California educator.

"All research on promotion and nonpromotion offers conclusive evidence that the child does not do better for having failed," Dr. Bernard Lonsdale said.

Dr. Lonsdale is consultant in elementary education in the California Department of Education. He spoke at the University of Maryland yesterday.

"After the first-grade level, he said, elementary school children 'should never experience failure in situations over which they have no control.'"

What are these situations? Reading the books the teacher gives them to read is one example, Dr. Lonsdale said.

Take a typical fifth grade. You might find some children with second-grade reading abilities. Others, on the other hand, might have a ninth-grade ability.

"How can we expect success if a child whose reading level is second grade must use a fifth-grade reader?" he asked.

He made it clear he believed it was up to the teacher to determine the ability of each child and then provide the child with the materials "with which he can experience success."

"The scales should be weighted in favor of success," Dr. Lonsdale concluded.

Italy Ousts the Sack

ROME (AP) — Today is the beginning of the end of the sack in Italy.

It's the day that Italian high fashion designers start showing their fall styles—and advance word says the chemise is on its way out.

Hundreds of buyers, fashion experts, reporters and photographers hustled around Rome for the fall opening, which started with a big showing of the latest accessories.

The opening day program included a special presentation of high fashion for chic youngsters, from 2 to 15 years old, and a parade of latest Italian men's creations.

SKETCHES ON TRAIN

Also being shown today were women's fashions by 29-year-old Fausto Sarli, of Naples and Rome, who sketches his ideas while commuting between the two cities by train.

A preview of his fashions showed he is going along with most Italian designers in modifying the sack.

Such elements of the fashion as beltness, back-blowing and tapered skirts seem to be hanging on for a time at least, but there is an emphasis on gently bound bodies.

Sarli's preview indicated he favored coats cut with high-slung Martingales. One, in gray houndstooth Shetland, has a back panel that buttons low over deep pleats.

The better known houses start showing tomorrow. Next week the spotlight moves to Florence, where many top Italian designers prefer to open.

Good Night's Sleep Beauty Insurance

A good night's sleep still works in keeping us healthy and happy. Doctors point out that when one is rested it is easier to face the myriad little worries of a day. And regular sleeping habits also will benefit the complexion and keep bags and lines from around the eyes.

Bride-Elect Is Honored

A kitchen shower honoring Karen Tollenaar, bride-elect of Roger Maison, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Maison of Illinois avenue, was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Horace Young on Riviera street. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Albert Day and Mrs. Oswald Burke. Miss Tollenaar is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Tollenaar of Starr avenue.

Guests attending were Mrs. Tollenaar, Mrs. Maison, Mrs. Peter Geiger, Mrs. June Selby, Mrs. Lewis Austin, Mrs. L. Z. Monroe, Mrs. Thelma Viola, Mrs. Douglas Menzel, and Mrs. Anthony Osler.

Also present were Mrs. John Steinhilber, Mrs. Otto Deyo, Carol Young, and out-of-town guests, Mrs. Robert Loucks, Carol Loucks, and Mrs. Mildred Carroll.

Only Chemise Outdated

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—"This is the year everything is in style but the chemise," said a fashion editor as she watched models parade down a runway.

She summed up what several of the 200-visiting reporters have concluded after seeing the new fall clothes from the Couture Group of the New York Dress Institute.

This fall, we women will pay our money and take our choice of just about any silhouette except the purse chemise. When the chemise does show, it has undergone drastic modification from its original sack-like look.

Waistlines are wherever a woman wants to put them, from the high empire down to the knee. But seldom where nature herself established them. The blouson-fashion term for the bloused top silhouette—runs throughout the collections. Clothes are fitted in front, billow out like a parachute at the back; skirts are harem-hemmed, pear-shaped, bell-shaped, straight, pleated or gently flared.

SWEETENING FULLNESS

Coats come straight, moderately full, or with the sweeping fullness of the old-time pyramid. The house of Originala likes the Empire influence, putting such details as pocket flaps or pinch pleats just under the bosom, or getting the high-waisted look from front and back yokes.

Suit jackets range in length from hip to well above the waist. Some are boxy, some almost a cocoon shape, some bloused slightly, and some are shaped at the front and loose at the back.

Frechtel dubbed his other major silhouette "The Tender Trap." It takes its name, he said, from the rounded jacket which cups the figure in the back and belts it through slots in the front.

Some highlights of other collections shown yesterday:

Edward Abbott—"It's not the fullness that is news this season," said Designer Wilson Folmar, "but where the fullness starts, how it falls, and even how it terminates." Mostly, both narrow and full skirts "hang" from the bosom line, or shape out from it into a pear-like hem.

MOST DRAMATIC

One of the most dramatic cocktail dresses in his collection is a sheath of black satin with camisole top; a fringe, like a hula dancer's skirts, covers the dress from high waist to hemline.

Branell—Designer Hilda Altmann likes fur trimming. She used double ring collars of ranch mutation or black mink on soft wool costumes toned to match the fur. One costume jacket has a collar of chin-chilla; another is lined with pastel mink paws.

Famous for his daring necklines, he produced a couple of new sensations for fall. One scoops the neck at the back, in the shape of a giant "U"—baring just about the whole upper spinal region. Another neckline, the "cleopatra," consists of a separate wide flat collar encircling the throat, with a strapless very low cut dress below.

What Young People Think

Certain Parental Discipline Unfair Say Teens

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Disobeying the Biblical law "to honor thy father and mother" is regarded by many people as the first step along the road to delinquency.

And parents are as much to blame in this as the children, they say, because they fail to enforce discipline.

Asking nearly 700 teenagers around the country what they had to say about it, we learned:

1. More than four out of five said their parents do discipline them in one way or another.

2. The rod is still used extensively on young Americans. Almost one-third of the youngsters quizzed said mom and dad either slap or spank for misdeeds.

3. Abusing privileges is the number one reason for punishment, with staying out too late, doing poorly in school and failing to do the chores following closely.

4. The youngsters resent punishment. But then as one wise lad, 15-year-old Philip Nogales of Fresno, Calif., said: "Sure I resent it, but if I liked it, it wouldn't be punishment, would it?"

5. More than half of the youngsters say they'll find some other way of punishing their own children than the method used by their folks.

HOME TIES IMPORTANT

Evidently the strength of the relationship between child and parent is more important to discipline than the form of punishment. If there is a two-way feeling of respect, even slight verbal censure can carry weight.

"My pop stopped hitting me when I was about 13," said 15-year-old Leonard Rahal of Chicago. "He said I would soon be a man, and a man must have dignity."

Now he just talks to me, but I respect him, so I feel just as bad when he had to do that as when he used to slap me."

COMMON FORM

Physical punishment is the most usual form of chastisement. Among the teenagers who receive punishment, 31 per cent said they were either slapped or spanked. But the wound remains, as it has always been, more psychological than physical.

"Sometimes when my father thinks I've done something terrible, and he thinks that pretty often, he'll give me a smack across the face," said a 16-year-old New York boy. "It hurts, but my pride hurts more. I don't think kids past the age of 13 or 14 should be punished physically."

VERBAL PUNISHING

The next most important form of teenage punishment is verbal. Twenty-five per cent said their misdeeds touch off high volume vocal reactions.

A cut in allowance, fewer dates, fewer trips to the sweet shop and bowling alley — this was the form of punishment described by 23.5 per cent of the youngsters. Another sizeable portion — 13.6 per cent — said they are denied some special privilege or treat when they violate their parents' concept of good behavior.

Discourtesy and defiance are high on the list of things which incur parental wrath. And dating for some youngsters carries important restrictions.

"My parents were furious when they found out I had a date with a boy they didn't know, especially because I didn't arrange to have him come to the house first," said a 16-year-old Portland, Me., girl.

"They insist on being introduced to every boy I go out with."

Being out too late is the top cause of parental ill humor with 27.2 per cent of the youngsters. "My mother thinks that's the biggest crime I could commit," said a 17-year-old Miami girl.

Poor grades in school is tops for 21.4 per cent of the youngsters and goldbricking on household chores for 18.6 per cent of them.

THEY'LL DO IT DIFFERENTLY

Looking into the future, 36.3 per cent admit it may be necessary for them to punish their own children. But 58.2 per cent do not intend to use their parents' method — a figure which correlates very closely with the 58.6 per cent who say they resent the type of punishment inflicted on them.

Paris Takes to Beach

PARIS, (INS) — It's "little girl" dresses for the beach this year. And top Paris designer Jacques Heim is making grown-up dolls look like sweet young things who don't go near the water.

For a piquant touch Heim's new baby-doll beach dress is semitransparent — revealing, although blurred, most of the bikini-clad figure underneath.

One, made of sheer pale-blue nylon organdy, is tent-shaped, sleeveless and cami-sole necked. Its above-the-knees hemline is trimmed with a pleated flounce. It is worn over an equally pale-blue bikini. Another semi-revealing beach dress comes in yellow organdy. Both resemble in style the popular short nighties.

Another 1958 way of dressing up for the beach is the "double apron." It looks like a pair of super-size dickies, consisting of two identical panels, one in front and the other at the back. The panels, shorter than knee-length, are fastened together by bows under the arms and just below the waistline. Since they are worn over a bikini swimsuit they permit a glimpse of the wearer's anatomy through the open sides.

Too Bad Her Gain Your Loss

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My sister and I had tickets for a show. The day we were supposed to go my sister took sick and could not go. I called a friend and explained what happened and asked her if she would like to use the ticket. She was delighted to go.

"She has evidently taken it for granted that she was my guest as she has made no offer to pay for the ticket. I certainly did not intend this as the tickets were quite expensive. Could I possibly ask her to pay for the ticket, or is her gain my loss?"

Answer: Unless you asked her if she wanted to buy the tickets when you offered them to her, she quite naturally thought you were inviting her to the show as your guest, and I don't see how you can now ask her to pay you for it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other night my fiancée and I were dining out. I ordered lobster and as it had to be cooked to order, there was quite a wait. Shortly after our order was taken, the waiter brought a basket of rolls to the table. I took one and started to eat it.

"My fiancée thinks I was wrong and that I should have waited until the food was served before taking a roll. Of course I disagreed with her and we had a slight argument. I told her that I would write to you to prove that I was right."

Answer: You were right. In a restaurant, it is entirely permissible to eat a roll while waiting for the first course to be served.

"Dear Mrs. Post: How does a man refer to his wife when speaking to the waiter? Is he supposed to say, 'My wife will have the broiled chicken' or 'Mrs. Smith'? Or how else does he designate her when he has to?"

Answer: He says, "The chicken is for the lady." In a restaurant to which they go often and are known by name, he would call her "Mrs. Smith."

Regular Rubdowns Will Smooth Legs

While making hands and face smooth and appealing, a woman must remember that her legs are noticed, too.

Young girls may find their legs rough and scaly. Daily rubdowns with creams or lotion will help. Also try rubbing a handful of salt on legs while they are wet to smooth them.

Shampoo Your Hair When Necessary

A woman with bright, clean hair is an adaptable person. She knows that increased activity and the weather determine when she needs to wash her hair. Therefore, she doesn't wait for a set day to roll around for a shampoo. She shampoos when her hair needs it.

Lesson for Us

Short Haircut Even Dismays Dog

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I always have known that a haircut has a big effect on the way a woman looks and also can affect the way she feels. I have noticed, too, that the way hair is cut makes a tremendous difference in a man's appearance, although I do not think it makes much difference in the way he feels.

However, I NEVER knew what a haircut could do to an individual until my French poodle had hers cut the other day. Risking the danger of offending some of my readers, I always have thought that poodles are the silliest looking animals possible. I never wanted one.

BUT, I got one and it's a poodle! It happened this way. Our daughter, who is in college at a metropolitan university, thought that she could go to college and also train and take care of a pup. My husband said that she must learn to take care of her own mistakes and he let her have the poodle. I, being a realist, knew what would happen. It happened! I have the dog!

I love pets. We had about eight cats and 10 dogs for our children while they were growing up and I took care of all of them. I became so fond of them that I developed cat language, dog language, and even miniature turtle language. When

I made certain noises, the latter little creature would come up from the bottom of the bowl because it knew that it was either going to be taken for a walk or be fed.

BUT, I am a believer in taking advantage of the advantages of every age. This is the first time since the first few years of my marriage, that I, or my husband and I, have been able to go somewhere on the spur of the moment without planning for someone or something.

Sure, I dearly loved the years of heavy responsibility, but I would not wish our children back at home now because it would not be good for them at their ages. WHY, then, should I find myself in the same position of responsibility because of a dog?

Of course I must admit that this dog is an unusual dog. The two of us have a special rapport. We both love life, affection and fun. Also, this dog is extremely intelligent. (No remarks, please!)

To go back to the haircut! I named my poodle, "Pooch," for "Winnie The Pooh." Until her recent hair cut she looked absolutely charming — just like a woolly little black bear or lamb, and had loads of personality. However, it was getting warm and I had her sheared.

She is a different individual, and I mean this literally. Instead of following us about, racing back and forth, instead of being acutely aware and responsive, she slinks under chairs and divans and acts as though she has a full blown inferiority complex.

Does this give you a clue? I suggest that we women take our personal appearance seriously, especially our haircuts!

Tomorrow: "You Don't Need Rich Food to Gain Weight."

A haircut has a big effect on the way a woman looks and also can affect the way she feels.

Doesn't Take Much to Give Gal a Lift

By RUTH MILLETT

It doesn't take much to give a woman a lift when she is feeling low.

Just a compliment from a man. For instance, a husband glancing up from the morning paper to really look at his wife and say, "My, but you look pretty this morning." Something like that can turn what started out to be blue Monday into a pleasant day.

Or something new for the house. It may be no more than a kitchen gadget if the housekeeping budget is small, but something new will often give a woman a little lift.

Or an invitation to a party. That starts her off on a new train of thought—what to wear, who will be there, should she call right away for a hair appointment. . .

Or a telephone call or letter from an old friend she hasn't heard from in some time.

Or going out to inspect her flower garden and finding that a cherished plant has put out its first blooms during the night.

Or an advertisement in the paper saying something she has been wanting for a long time is on sale at a price she can afford.

Or an unexpected bit of thoughtfulness on the part of a child, an expression of appreciation from a youngster who usually takes all that his mother does for him for granted.

It might be a chance to help someone else, or to comfort someone who needs reassurance or sympathy.

It could even be just a new hat, a new hairdo, a new recipe or a new lipstick.

We women are fond of saying that men are just little boys grown up. But considering the variety and smallness of many of the things that give us a lift, isn't there a lot of the little girl in us, too?

Don't Use Makeup as Blemish Mask

Foundation makeup, contrary to what many believe, is not meant to hide skin blemishes. It first is a powder base and then is meant to give color to the skin.

Never apply it heavily, thinking it will cover up skin irritations. These you should care for with proper cleansing methods and medication.

To clean corner of square cake pans, coffee spouts and percolator stems, moisten a cotton swab and dip it in cleanser.

Dear Abby...

Give Him the Sweet Talk, but Make Him Bathe!

By ANIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am turning to you for advice rather than seek help from someone who knows me because I am too embarrassed. In the 13 months that I am married my husband has not bathed or showered six times.

He has never washed his hair. He's a college graduate and has a good job with chances for advancement. We get along fine except for this one point and I wonder if you could tell me how I can convince him that cleanliness is important.

DISGUSTED: You can catch more flies with honey than you can with vinegar. Sweet-talk him, bribe him and use all the tricks women have been famous for for a thousand years—but don't let him put his head on your pillow until he has bathed.

DEAR ABBY: I would have killed my husband last night if I only had a gun. I took a part-time job two years ago to help out with the expenses and I enjoyed it so much I kept on full-time.

My income pays for lots of extra, but he isn't pleased and never was. He keeps saying he is the head of the house and we should be able to live on what he makes.

Last night after I told him I wouldn't quit my job he went to the phone and called up my boss (at his house, mind you) and quit my job for me. Now what do you think of that?

RAVING MAD: DEAR RAVING: I rather admire your husband's spunk but he could have let YOU quit your own job. Most families would be happier if they lived on what the husband earned and let the wife stay home and be a home-maker.

DEAR ABBY: I am a big woman (260 lbs.) and my husband is very skinny (130). I have tried several times, even with the help of an M.D., to lose weight but I can't seem to do it. My husband and his mother (who lives with us) instead of helping me lose, coak me to eat and drink everything I shouldn't.

They eat everything and tell me to go ahead and enjoy myself and eat, too. I am always hungry and with them coaking me all the time I just can't say no. What shall I do?

CAN'T LOSE: DEAR CAN'T: There's no sense in going to an M.D. and then ignoring his advice. Listen to HIM and ignore your husband and mother-in-law instead. It takes Will Power to stick to a diet, but it's worth it to look better, feel better and live longer.

DEAR ABBY: My problem concerns my husband. We've been married six years and we're happy except for one thing. You see, my husband is the quiet type. He never talks to me unless I start the conversation. He never expresses an opinion, but always agrees with me.

If he doesn't feel well, I have to force it out of him. Anything I say is just fine and anywhere I want to go he is glad to take me, but he never has any ideas of his own. I love him very much and I'm sure he loves me. I wish I knew how to make him take over for awhile.

BOBBI: DEAR BOBBI: THIS is a problem? Some women don't know when they're well-off. Appreciate his angelic disposition and pray he never changes.

DEAR ABBY: I won't beat around the bush. I am a man of 24 and I am married to a woman of 46. We've been married three years and I must have been crazy. I fell in love recently with a wonderful girl my own age where I work. She knows I am married but doesn't know how old my wife is and I'm ashamed to tell her.

I am all messed up and I can't think of anything but getting rid of my wife and marrying this girl. My wife and I have three kids together and she had two when I married her. Help me, please!

ALL MESSED UP: DEAR MESSED: I don't know how crazy you are, but I can tell you this—you are very married! Try to remember what you saw in your wife when you married her. You didn't take her "on approval," Buster.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother. She never keeps her promises. She promised me an umbrella for my birthday and I never got it. Then she promised me I could sleep over at a girlfriend's house and she keeps putting it off. I am eleven years old but I think it is just as wrong for a mother to break a promise as it is for a daughter. Please put this in the paper with your own opinion.

DISAPPOINTED: DEAR DISAPPOINTED: "A promise made—is a debt unpaid." Your mother should realize that she is teaching you by her example.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Oak Park Physician Joins County Staff as Psychiatry Consultant

The Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic, at 113 Franklin Blvd., announced today the addition of Dr. Morris Weiss, 33, to its staff as a consultant in child psychiatry.

Dr. Weiss, who lives at 23141 Parklawn St., Oak Park, and has his private practice in Detroit, will become the third member of the psychiatric staff, joining Dr. Joseph Fischhoff and Dr. Jean Chambers.

He comes to the clinic from a full-time staff position at Hawthorne Center, Northville, a state-run treatment center for emotionally disturbed children, where he will still work one day a week.

Previous to joining the center staff in 1956, Dr. Weiss was a staff psychiatrist at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Ann Arbor, and psychiatric consultant for the University of Michigan psychology clinic.

He graduated from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1951 and took his internship at Harper Hospital before being a resident psychiatrist for three years at the Menninger Clinic in Topeka, Kansas.

Dr. Weiss is married and has two children.

Charges of Break-In Against 2 Dismissed

Two men accused by police of breaking into a GMC plant to steal bars of nickel were arraigned yesterday before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

The judge dismissed the charges against Eugene W. Lowes, 43, of 230 Davisburg Rd., Davisburg, and Arthur Compton, 39, of Detroit for lack of evidence.

However, a new charge of entering without permission was made against Compton whom police saw entering the plant the night of July 1.

Phi Chi says it believes it will be the only university fraternity in the country to do this. More than half the fraternity's 80 members are married men. The building is to be ready by the fall of 1959.

Accommodations for single men will be provided in another portion of the building.

LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—The Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association surveyed its 65,000 members who fly aircraft for business and pleasure and found the "average" pilot to be a college man earning $10,906 a year who is married and has minor children.

Two Assistants of Prosecutors Trade Places

Visiting Pontiac today as part of a new "Prosecutor Exchange Day" was Roy W. Rogensues, chief assistant prosecutor for Macomb County.

Over in Mt. Clemens, the county seat of Macomb, was Robert D. Long, Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem's first assistant prosecutor.

The exchange was part of a plan of Ziem's that counties might learn from others new methods to improve the efficiency of operation of prosecutor offices. It was patterned after "Mayor Exchange Day," a part of the annual Michigan Week celebration.

Rogensues was taken on a tour of the Pontiac and Royal Oak branches of the prosecutor's office. He conferred with Ziem on many different procedures of both the Oakland and Macomb County offices.

Oh, Well--Tigers Can't Beat Yanks Every Time

Turley Defeats Bunning, 3-2, in Homer Trade

3-Run Blast by Lumpe Beats Frank Bolling's Circuit Clout

NEW YORK (AP)—For at least one series, the Detroit Tigers and New York Yankees were all even today.

A 3-2 New York victory last night in a Bob Turley-Jim Bunning pitchers' duel left it up to today's double game to determine how long Tiger domination of the league leaders could go on.

A three-run two-out homer by third baseman Jerry Lumpe and Turley's nine-strikeout, three-hit pitching stopped Detroit to forestall another debacle for the Yanks.

The difference was in the circumstances of two home runs.

Frank Bolling homered in the second for Detroit, but there was only one man on base at the time—Charley Maxwell from a walk. Lumpe hit his in the fourth with two on. It was only his second of the year.

The Tiger defeat was their first in Yankee Stadium since April 29 and stopped their winning streak against the Yanks in New York at six straight. They still hold a 9-5 margin for the season over the Yanks.

Bunning, except for the fourth, was superb with 10 strikeouts. But Turley was a shade better in winning his 14th game against three losses. After Bunning's homer the only hits off him were Harvey Kuenn's single in the sixth and another by Maxwell in the seventh.

It was the third time Bunning and Turley faced each other. Bunning won the two previous games. Last night's defeat gave him a 7-6 record. He had won five straight beforehand.

Mickey Mantle was on from a walk and Norm Siebern from a single when Lumpe came up with two on in the fourth. He drove the ball into the right field stands.

The homer was the 100th of the season for New York, making it 35 times that the Yankees have hit 100 or more for a season. This is their 13th such in a row.

For today's odd game the Tigers figured on pitching Billy Hoelt (7-8) and the Yanks either Art Dumar (4-1) or Don Larsen (7-3).

One fielding thrill of last night's battle came in the third inning when it took two outfielders to rob Kuenn of an extra base hit.

Kuenn smashed a drive deep into right. Hank Bauer, chasing it, barely touched the ball but enough to deflect it toward Mantle, who in pursuit, Mantle caught it in the air.

An unscheduled incident in the seventh touched on the international crisis. Half a dozen demonstrators holding Cuban and American flags came from the stands and marched across the field.

That gave the Redlegs a seven-game losing string, and they escaped the cellar only because of Pittsburgh's 7-4 victory over Los Angeles.

Solo homers by Hank Aaron and Eddie Mathews, who hit a pair, gave it to the Braves in the fifth against reliever Chuck Stobbs (6-2) as the Cards slipped five games behind. Mathews' first of the season helped Warren Spahn to a 4-0 lead, but the Cardinals took over with a five-run third capped by Ken Boyer's grand slam. Spahn, now 11-6, needed more help after the fifth for his 50th victory over St. Louis. He got it from reliever Don McMahon, who came on with the bases loaded in the eighth, and left fielder Andy Pafko, who made a diving catch of Don Blasingame's long liner to end the eighth.

Things were easier for the Giants. They counted four runs in the second, three of 'em unearned, and rolled. Johnny Antonelli, who hit a two-run triple in the deciding second, won his 10th with a nine-hitter and had the Phils blanked until the seventh when Willie Mays cracked his slump, getting three hits for the first time since June 6, one a two-run double. Jack Sanford (6-8) lost his third in a row, while the Phils slipped to sixth with their fifth consecutive defeat.

The Cubs, held to four hits for eight innings, won the opener with four consecutive hits off Harvey Haddix and loser Hal Jeffcoat in a three-run ninth inning. Bobby Thomson's two-run double put it away. Relievers Glen Hobbie and Don Elston didn't give the Reds a hit over the last 5 2-3 innings with Elston (7-5) winning his first since May 30.

In the nightcap, the Reds made nine of their 11 hits good for extra bases, with Pete Whisenant hitting two solo homers. But the

But before Holt gave up because of sheer exhaustion, Durrelle knew he had been in a fight. The 28-year-old fisherman from Bale Ste. Anne, N.B., was the favorite. But when Referee Maxie Berger awarded him the fight on a technical knockout, Holt was ahead on the cards of all three judges.

Durrelle retained his title last night when Holt was unable to answer the bell for the ninth round of their scheduled 12-round title fight after a bruising battle. In Vancouver, promoter Earle Kalani said Moore has tentatively consented to a title fight in September with Durrelle.

But South Africa's Mike Holt can expect more offers for his services on this side of the Atlantic if and when he so desires.

Four Strong Boys Fight for Homer Crown

Just One Kind of AL Race

By The Associated Press

The only race worth mentioning in the American League is the chase for the home run crown, and it's a pip.

With four strong boys abetting, there's only a four-homer gap between Boston's Jackie Jensen, the leader with 27, defending champion Roy Sievers of Washington and early leader Bob Cerv of Kansas City, both tied with 23. Mickey Mantle of New York, the hottest of 'em all, is in between with 24.

They're still well behind Babe Ruth's record 60 pace of 1927. The Babe had hit 30 through 83 games. The A's, Red Sox and Yankees each have played 81, the Senators 86.

Cerv, banged up with a broken jaw, broken toe and bruised hand of late, led the pack with 14 at the end of May, but has hit only nine since. Jensen has hit 18 since May, taking the lead with 14 in June. Mantle has hit 20 since May, one as the Yankees defeated Detroit 2-2 on Bob Turley's three-hitter, Boston beat Kansas City 5-2 and Baltimore split a two-night pair with Chicago, winning 6-5 after a 6-1 White Sox victory.

The Delock needed relief help, but won his 12th in a row, ninth this season, for the Red Sox. Little Murry Dickson had 'em blanked on one hit until a four-run sixth capped by Jensen's two-run double.

Southpaw Jack Harshman (7-7) drove in four runs with a pair of homers while beating Chicago with a nine-hitter, shutting out his ex-mates without a hit after the fifth inning. The other Oriole nightcap runs came in on Gene Woodling's seventh home run as Bob Keegan (5-10) won the opener with his third consecutive complete game. He gave seven hits. Milt Pappas lost it in a two-run second on RBI singles by Billy Goodman and Nellie Fox.

The Senators, given a 3-1 lead on Sievers' first homer, finally nailed it against Don Mossi and loser Ray Niekirk (10-7). Dick Hyde (6-2) won it in relief as the Senators, who have won seven of their last nine, moved within .007 percentage points of seventh place Cleveland.

Weill, who wasn't present, fared far worse. Refused a promoter's license to stage the Patterson-Harris fray during a hearing on June 24, his manager's license was lifted this time on a temporary suspension.

Well, who managed former heavyweight king Rocky Marciano, said he'd fight the suspension. Commissioners felt he hadn't given an adequate explanation last month of his acquaintance with Frankie Carbo, shadowy boxing figure from New York. Now they question the honesty of some of his answers.

Malayans Claim 'Spell' Caused Team Collapse

KUALA TRENGGANU, Malaysia (AP)—All 11 members of a Malaysian football team here collapsed after losing their match yesterday. The coach collapsed too.

They were put under a spell, claimed some spectators, and a witch doctor was brought to revive them. It took him two hours. When they came to, one of the players at least supported the spell theory.

"During the second half, we all felt weak," he said. "We couldn't even kick properly."

"When we approached the opposition goal, we felt that someone was preventing us from kicking."

Kalamazoo's Sues, MacKay Move Up

CHICAGO (AP)—Susan Hodgman and Sue Metzger of Kalamazoo, Mich., are going strong in the National Clay Courts tennis tournament.

Miss Hodgman, the new Western Amateur women's champion, and Miss Metzger won their second round matches yesterday.

Rudy Hernandez of Detroit lost in the men's third round to Alejandro Olmedo of Los Angeles, 6-4, 7-5. Andy Paton of Ann Arbor lost to Grant Golden of Chicago, 6-1, 6-0.

In men's first round doubles Barry McKay and Sam Giammalva, Houston, defeated Gordon Fleming of Flint and Mike Gordon of Chicago, 6-0, 6-0. Ray Senkowski of Hamtramck and George Stoesser of Carmel, Calif., won from Robert Burnham of Michigan City, Ind., and Jerry Budzelek of Gary, Ind., 6-2, 7-5.

Wings Will Play 11 of 20 CBS Games

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Detroit Red Wings will take part in 11 of the 20 National Hockey League games to be televised by the Columbia Broadcasting System next season. Five will originate from Detroit.

All games will be played Saturday afternoon with the home club receiving about $12,000 a game. Chicago will have the most home TV dates with six.

It will be the 3rd straight year the network has carried games. The opener on the schedule will be Oct. 25 with Detroit at Chicago.

Campanella's Progress 'Better Than Normal'

NEW YORK (AP)—The progress of Roy Campanella, injured Los Angeles Dodgers catcher, is "better than normal," a spokesman for the New York University-Bellevue Medical Center Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation said today.

"His determination and eagerness to recover are responsible for 50 per cent of his improvement," the spokesman added. "The next step will be to get him out of the special neck brace and into a collar."

Harris to Get $100,000 'Cut'

Coast Board Puts Its Final OK on Title Tilt With Patterson

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Texan Roy Harris collects $100,000 but heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson grabs for far more when they battle in Los Angeles on Aug. 18 for his title.

California's Athletic Commission heard part of the unique financial arrangements of the bout yesterday before voicing final approval to the setup for Wrigley Field with theater television.

A novice promoter, Bill Rosenbloom, former closed circuit TV official testified more than an hour. He swore Al Weill wouldn't get a nickel from him and drew a plaudit from commission chairman Dan Kilroy for "straightforward answers."

The Senators, given a 3-1 lead on Sievers' first homer, finally nailed it against Don Mossi and loser Ray Niekirk (10-7). Dick Hyde (6-2) won it in relief as the Senators, who have won seven of their last nine, moved within .007 percentage points of seventh place Cleveland.

Union Club Scores Two Runs in 9th to Defeat Grill Team

CIO Local 594 scored twice in the top of the 9th to defeat Grill's 5-3, in an extra-innings Class A City League baseball game yesterday at Wisner Field.

Singles by Chuck Graves, Al Hayward and Kim Conroy plus an infield error resulted in two runs for the Union club to break a 3-3 tie which had existed since the 5th frame.

Southpaw Les Stone buried the distance for Grill's to absorb the defeat. Dan Crowley, who relieved Jim Wagner in the 8th, received credit for the win. Wagner took over the pitching in the 1st after starter Ted Reaver faced only one batter.

The CIO jumped off to a 3-0 lead in the 1st stanza, but Grill's rallied to tie the score with the help of Russ Lothery's 4th-inning home run.

Home Runs and Hurling Too Much for Crackers

ATLANTA (AP)—Bob Thorpe and Chuck Coles drilled early homers and five classy Southern Assn. pitchers made them stand up for a 4-0 victory by the League All-Stars over the Atlanta Crackers Wednesday night.

Thorpe, an ex-Atlanta star who now plays for Birmingham, lofted a Bob Hartman pitch out of the playing area in the second inning and pinned the loss on the Atlanta lefty.

Hebert Blasts 307-Yard Shot, Wins PGA Test

HAVERSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., won the Professional Golfers Assn. driving contest Wednesday with a hit of 307 yards, 17 inches. Hebert is defending champion in the annual PGA Tournament, opening today.

Total yardage honors for three hits were won by Paul Biggs of Butler, Pa., with 787 yards, 3 inches. Second was Henry Castillo of Tampa, Fla., 780-34, and third was Eloy Martin of Houston, 774-1.

Roy Nelson of Essex Country Club in Windsor and Dick Weyand, Birmingham CC member, were on hand to defend their championship flight honors against a strong field.

Among the talented array of shot-makers were the teams of Ben Smith-Fritz Adams, Jack Geiss-Duke Yager, Tony and Tommy Skover, Tom Draper-Dave MacHarg, Chuck Kocsis-Jim Nick, Elmer Ellstrom-Sam Kocsis, Ray Lovell-Ed Dayton, Bud Stevens-Harry Martin and Ted Stillwell-Randall Ahern.

The first round of match play will be held Friday, followed by the quarter-finals on Saturday and semifinals and championship final on Sunday. All matches are 18 holes.

SPORTS

Battling Cubs Crowding NL Leaders

By The Associated Press

Who's going to crack first in that National League race? While three of the so-called contenders fade away, Milwaukee and San Francisco are stepping along just a half game apart, and the suddenly competitive Chicago Cubs are at their heels.

The Braves kept that half-game edge with a 6-5 decision at St. Louis last night after blowing a 4-0 lead. Just .008 percentage points behind are the Giants who whipped Philadelphia's fizzing Phillies 9-2.

The Cubs kept their third place perch, 2 1/2 games behind Milwaukee, by running up a five-game streak for the first time this season, they swept their second doubleheader in four days with comeback 5-4 and 7-5 decisions over Cincinnati.

That gave the Redlegs a seven-game losing string, and they escaped the cellar only because of Pittsburgh's 7-4 victory over Los Angeles.

Solo homers by Hank Aaron and Eddie Mathews, who hit a pair, gave it to the Braves in the fifth against reliever Chuck Stobbs (6-2) as the Cards slipped five games behind. Mathews' first of the season helped Warren Spahn to a 4-0 lead, but the Cardinals took over with a five-run third capped by Ken Boyer's grand slam. Spahn, now 11-6, needed more help after the fifth for his 50th victory over St. Louis. He got it from reliever Don McMahon, who came on with the bases loaded in the eighth, and left fielder Andy Pafko, who made a diving catch of Don Blasingame's long liner to end the eighth.

Things were easier for the Giants. They counted four runs in the second, three of 'em unearned, and rolled. Johnny Antonelli, who hit a two-run triple in the deciding second, won his 10th with a nine-hitter and had the Phils blanked until the seventh when Willie Mays cracked his slump, getting three hits for the first time since June 6, one a two-run double. Jack Sanford (6-8) lost his third in a row, while the Phils slipped to sixth with their fifth consecutive defeat.

The Cubs, held to four hits for eight innings, won the opener with four consecutive hits off Harvey Haddix and loser Hal Jeffcoat in a three-run ninth inning. Bobby Thomson's two-run double put it away. Relievers Glen Hobbie and Don Elston didn't give the Reds a hit over the last 5 2-3 innings with Elston (7-5) winning his first since May 30.

In the nightcap, the Reds made nine of their 11 hits good for extra bases, with Pete Whisenant hitting two solo homers. But the

But before Holt gave up because of sheer exhaustion, Durrelle knew he had been in a fight. The 28-year-old fisherman from Bale Ste. Anne, N.B., was the favorite. But when Referee Maxie Berger awarded him the fight on a technical knockout, Holt was ahead on the cards of all three judges.

Durrelle retained his title last night when Holt was unable to answer the bell for the ninth round of their scheduled 12-round title fight after a bruising battle. In Vancouver, promoter Earle Kalani said Moore has tentatively consented to a title fight in September with Durrelle.

But South Africa's Mike Holt can expect more offers for his services on this side of the Atlantic if and when he so desires.

Press Box

By WILL GRIMSLEY
(Associated Press)

College football, particularly among the smaller schools, this fall will be like a wild poker game—dealer's choice.

But instead of deuces and one-eyed jacks wild, it will be a case of choosing between limited and unlimited substitution of players and one or two points for a conversion after touchdown.

Some colleges will be playing under one set of rules. Other colleges will be playing under another. When they meet—and they will—they will have to decide whose rules to adopt.

Here is the rub:

The sprawling National Collegiate Athletic Assn. (NCAA), which encompasses 397 football-playing, four-year colleges and all the bigtime ones, has adopted rules for 1958 incorporating two main features.

These features are: (1) A change in the aged extra point procedure providing one point for a kicked conversion and two for a ball passed or carried over the goal line after a touchdown (originally, it was one point regardless); (2) A relaxed limited substitution rule which enables a player to enter a quarter twice.

These rules proved objectionable to a large segment of smaller colleges, mainly members of the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA). So they decided to play under their own rules, called the Alliance Code.

Under these standards, there is an inflexible single point after touchdown as before the unlimited substitution. The NCAA killed unlimited substitution and its two-platoon system several years ago.

The NAIA lays claim to around 225 football-playing colleges, all in the small or minor college category, and says most of them will follow the rebel line.

The bigger colleges won't be affected by the chaos except possibly in "breather" games. They'll adhere strictly to the NCAA code—limited subs, extra point option—although many don't like it.

There is another catch. Some 120 small colleges belong to both the NCAA and NAIA. They will have to choose between the two.

Typical of this quandary is the case of Westminster College in Salt Lake City whose coach, Al Mercer, says he will play six opponents under NAIA rules and three under the NCAA.

St. Ambrose of Davenport, Iowa, is striking a happy medium. It will play the NCAA two-point rule on extra points but follow the NAIA on unlimited substitution.

Most of the small colleges of Illinois, Ohio, Virginia, Texas, Minnesota plus those in the Far Western, Rocky Mountain and Mason-Dixon conferences will play the NCAA way.

But in Nebraska, West Virginia, Michigan, Arkansas, North and South Carolina and through the Pacific Northwest the trend is toward the rebel group—one extra point and all the subs you please.

A sounding of opinion on the NCAA's two-point conversion has found most coaches jittery and uneasy on the matter.

Four Shutouts in Softball

A clean sweep of shutout pitching performances, one of them a five-inning no-hitter, highlighted last night's four-game City League softball program at Beaudette and North Side parks.

Walt Travis of the Lakeside Royals hurled the no-hitter during his team's 10-0 rout of Dostal Foundry on the North Side diamond. Play was halted after 4 1/2 innings by the league's 10-run rule.

Jerry Layton hurled a one-hit shutout, a 1st-inning single, as State Hospital blanked Borden's by the same 10-0 score in another five-inning encounter to complete the double bill at North Side. Vincent Long homered for the winners. Two whitewashes at Beaudette, both two-hitters, completed the sweep. Alvah Webster tossed goose-eggs at Griff's Grill as the Sports Shop chalked up a 3-0 win and Roger Reynolds gave the zero treatment to Blue Star Drive-In for a 9-0 Birmingham victory.

Southfield Nine Finally Beaten

The Junior Legion baseball league was tightened up a little today after Southfield had gone to its first defeat bowing to Clawson by a 7-4 count last night.

Rochester nipped Berkley 3-2 and Milford blanked Birmingham 5-0 in other action while Royal Oak took a forfeit over Waterford.

Five runs in the 1st two opening innings and two big double plays paced the Clawson upset. Pitcher Dave Lequier went all the way. Gary Ahfield had a double and single for Clawson, Ron Heffner slammed a triple and single and Neil Stevenson two singles for the loop leaders.

A single by Baker chased John Cadieux home with the winning run at Berkley as Al Krumm was beaten despite his 17 strikeouts. Stratford of the losers had four straight hits.

Tom Mayes flipped a four-hitter at Birmingham. A two-run home run by John Zeeman and a two-run double by Terry Anderson leapt the Milford attack.

Rochester plays at Clawson Friday in a makeup contest.

EHL Expands to 7-Club Circuit

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—The Eastern Hockey League, keeping its champion Washington club and adding the New York Rovers, has become a seven-member circuit.

The Eastern loop also declined yesterday to absorb or play an interlocking schedule with three clubs of the wavering International League.

The Eastern now includes Charlotte, Johnstown, Pa.; Clinton, N.Y.; New Haven, Conn.; Philadelphia; Washington and New York.

Spotlight on PGA and Bolt

HAVERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Two major disputes—Bolt vs. the brass and match play vs. medal—still raged today as the most controversial of 40 Professional Golfers Assn. championships opened at the snug little Llanerch Country Club course in suburban Philadelphia.

The affair of Tommy Bolt, which exploded into a major controversy when observers realized that the National Open champion might be barred from America's No. 2 pro tournament, was settled rather amicably last night.

A rather embarrassed set of PGA officials, who hadn't expected the routine disciplinary action to assume such proportions, let Bolt off with a stern warning and an extension of his probation from one year to an indefinite period. Tommy penitently apologized for his past misbehavior, said it wouldn't happen again and reiterated his new philosophy of calmness and self control.

Bolt previously had been fined for picking up in two tournaments on Long Island, N.Y., recently and for making uncomplimentary remarks to the sponsors. The meetings here were to decide whether he should be given further penalties for violating a probation imposed on him last December.

Cleared for this tournament, smooth-swinging Tommy was rated among the prime favorites as he teed off for the first round at 1:15 p.m. EDT in the company of two Texas stars, Billy Maxwell of Abilene and Fred Hawkins of El Paso.

The field of 186 was rated as one of the strongest ever assembled for any one tournament—better even than that of the National Open. But it still was possible to stir up some lively clubhouse arguments on whether the PGA should have switched from its traditional match play format to the 72-hole stroke play competition and whether the switch would restore the tournament's badly faded prestige.

The PGA automatically qualifies to win in a medal tournament.

he should be given further penalties for violating a probation imposed on him last December.

The result is that it's virtually impossible for a "name" player to miss out. And the 186 or so club pros who hope to outdo the tourists earned their places in rugged qualifying competition.

Still there's something lacking in the opinion of many golfers. "It's just another tournament. We play 40 like it every year," grumbled Vic Ghezzi, the tall, graying 1941 champion. "There's a place in golf for a match play tournament. We had two great ones, the PGA and the national amateur. Now they've made this just like all the others."

"It's the best test of golf. A good player has a better chance countered Lionel Hebert, the poly-poly Louisiana cajan who won at match play last year. "I think I have a better chance of defending the title in medal play as long as I'm playing well."

Llanerch, two million dollars worth of real estate just outside of the Philadelphia city limits, plays at 6,727 yards with a par of 35-35-70. It's crowded into 135 acres and spectators had better be ready to duck if someone hits a wild drive. There isn't much room between the tight fairways.

A few of the holes are deceptively hard, but there isn't a great one on the course. Greens are small and level and nobody is likely to have a putt much longer than 20 feet.

Dundee Gets 5-Year Miami Beach Contract

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—City council Wednesday approved a five-year contract with promoter Chris Dundee for fights and wrestling matches in the Auditorium and the Exhibition Hall. But councilmen stood by their earlier decision to make Dundee pay $10,400 he was supposed to give the city for his profits on TV boxing bouts in the past. He was given five years to pay up.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

Patient's Complaint: Good Practice, Bad Play.

Diagnosis: Too Much Theory.

Treatment: If you want to improve your golf, you give your game some thought. You have to keep on trying out things, keeping the one's that work and discarding the ones that don't. I've been doing this all my golfing life.

The place to work on your theories, however, is on the practice tee—not while you're in competition in the course itself. On the golf course, you have to keep thinking about the tactical problems—where to try to place your tee shot, what iron to use, things like that.

When you step on that No. 1 tee, center your mind on the single and simple objective of how to get that ball into the hole in the fewest possible number of strokes. Get down to the real practical aspects of the problem at hand.

You can handle one gimmick on the golf course. You may for instance, want to concentrate on keeping the backswing slow. Or maybe you want to keep your right elbow tucked in close to the body. But let me warn you: your score is going to soar if you go out there with a head full of theories.

Mrs. Weiss Falls to Susie LeClair in State Amateur

Ann Arbor Star Faces Sally Sharp in Semis of Women's Tourney

DETROIT — Another chore of giant-killing confronts Mrs. Keith (Susie) LeClair today in her bid for the Women's Michigan Amateur Golf Championship.

The pretty Ann Arbor mother of two small daughters is forced to beat a former champion for the second day in a row to move into tomorrow's finals.

She faces the 1956 winner, Michigan State co-ed Sally Sharp of Birmingham, on the heels of her 3 and 1 upset yesterday of five-time queen Mrs. Don Weiss of Flint.

Mrs. Weiss advanced to the semifinals at Plum Hollow Golf Club with a 3 and 2 victory over Helen Grinnell of Detroit.

Mrs. Harold Marquardt, the 1953 champion from Mount Clemens, is pitted against Mrs. John LaBoskey of Grand Blanc in today's other semifinal.

Mrs. Marquardt ousted Mrs. Frank L. Thompson Jr. of Birmingham 4 and 3 in yesterday's quarter-final round. In the only match not featuring a former champion, Mrs. LaBoskey defeated Mrs. T. H. Gething of Orchard Lake 7 and 5.

Mrs. Weiss had her hopes for an unprecedented sixth state title blasted away by Mrs. LeClair's close-in artistry. Accuracy on and around the greens is the defending champion's forte.

But yesterday Mrs. LeClair also had the magic touch. She took the match by winning the 14th, 16th and 17th holes when Mrs. Weiss' shot-making went awry.

Through the 13th, the match was even. Mrs. LeClair had gone one up on the 3rd and again on the 10th. But on each occasion, the tenacious Mrs. Weiss squared accounts.

The turning point came on the par 3, 160-yard 14th. Mrs. Weiss' drive missed the green. Mrs. LeClair landed hers eight feet from the pin and cautiously two-putted, winning the hole and going ahead to stay.

Red Wings Train on Home Ice

The Detroit Red Wings will train at home at Olympia Stadium this Monday, Sept. 8. Some 60 players will report then, including all members of Detroit's top farm club, Edmonton Flyers of the Western League.

In the same announcement, Adams said that a pre-season exhibition tour of Western Canada has been scheduled for the Detroiters.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., had been the site of the camp of the Detroit Hockey Club since 1948. Previous to this, Detroit held its pre-season workouts at Olympia.

8 Piston Veterans Handed Pay Boosts

DETROIT — No recession is going to affect the eight veterans of the Detroit Pistons.

Contracts went out today and they called for pay raises for all returning members of the club for the 1958-59 National Basketball Assn. season.

The Pistons, playing their first season in Detroit, were a disappointment last year until near the end of the campaign. Then they won 10 of their last 14 games and wound up second in the Western Division.

The finish prompted owner Fred Zollner and general manager Nick Kerzawy to offer all the veterans merit raises. They feel the boosts might be an incentive for a faster getaway this time.

Contracts were mailed out to George Yardley, Walter Dukes, Joe Holup, Gene Shue, Phil Jordan, Dick McGuire, Bill Kenville and Chuck Noble.

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — It suddenly the New York Yacht Club's race committee collectively swallowed the anchor and sought refuge on a farm in the Pacific States, no one would blame the members very much.

The committee has been trying since last Saturday to sail the first series of trial races through which a defender will be selected to defend the America's Cup against the British challenger Screecher. Thus far the log records very spotty performances. But the harassed committee tried again today.

Yesterday Columbia defeated Vim and Easterner, in that order, after fractured gear kept Weatherly, fourth defense candidate, out of competition.

Pontiac Yacht Club sailors experienced an unusual situation last night when a feminine skipper showed the men how to win a race. Marilyn Goodwin, with hubby Mack and Ken Bonnett as crew sailed home first, and by a neat margin, in the club's Wednesday night race on Cass Lake.

Johnny O'Dell, with Jerry Lester and Ted Flack was 2nd. Third place went to Fred Prince, with his crew of Cornelia Van Doren and Claudia Bennett.

PYC will have three entries in the Aug. 4 Wakefield series of races for junior skippers, at Put-In-Bay on Lake Erie. They are Don Van Doren, Douglas Johnson and Johnny O'Dell. Dave Davies is the alternate.

Majors Told to 'Backtrack'

Sports Bill in Jeopardy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators of the Western League and now backing a bill to give organized sports considerable leeway under the antitrust laws were reported concerned today about its chances of being enacted this year.

The measure already has been attacked as too sweeping by some members of the Senate Antimonopoly Subcommittee.

Two in particular, Sens. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) and John A. Carroll (D-Colo.), have told witnesses for major league baseball they ought to backtrack and accept some restrictions in the House-passed bill.

The subcommittee continues hearings this morning, with former Sen. Edwin Johnson, Colorado Democrat, and Bill McCarthy, general manager of the Nashville Vols in the Southern Assn., scheduled to testify.

Johnson is a former president of the Western League and now owns stock in the Denver Bears of the American Assn.

Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said he expects to call spokesmen for pro football, basketball and hockey next week. With time running short this session, lengthy hearings and any effort to revise the bill extensively might end any chance of its passage.

Fifty senators, headed by Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.), have co-sponsored a bill just like the one passed by the House. They make up a majority of the Senate, but their bill still faces some picking apart in the subcommittee.

Kefauver, O'Mahoney and Carroll have questioned a provision that would give the four sports authority to limit television and radio broadcasts of their games.

Kefauver said "it is difficult to find the right balance" between the interest of TV sports fans who want to watch at home for free and ball clubs hurting seriously at the gate because those fans do stay home.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick testified yesterday that in 10 years "there will be no television problem because there will be no baseball." If major league telecasts go unchecked, minor league franchises are being wrecked by the competition from television, Frick said, and the majors depend on the minors for the development of players.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick testified yesterday that in 10 years "there will be no television problem because there will be no baseball." Russia Denies Expulsion of Miss Russell, Newman

LONDON (AP) — Russia denied yesterday it had expelled Ernestine Russell, Canadian-born Michigan State gymnast, and Coach Bernard Newman, also of Michigan State, to leave the country immediately after the recent world gymnastic championships were completed.

Moscow radio in a broadcast explained the abrupt departure of the two this way:

"Mr. Newman asked that his return ticket via Moscow be exchanged for via Vienna. This was done but the only tickets available were for July 11, which necessitated an earlier departure than planned."

Late last week there were rumors in Detroit and East Lansing, Mich., that the two had been expelled from Russia. They later were found by The Associated Press in Vienna.

Merchants Rally for 3-2 Victory

The Pontiac Lake Merchants rallied with two runs in the bottom of the 7th inning to nose out the winless Eagles, 3-2, in a Waterford National League softball game last night at Drayton Plains.

Joe Wiley drove home the tying run with a single, then scored the winning marker himself on an inside-the-park homer with a man aboard.

In another National loop contest, Drayton Drug B handed the Arrows a five-inning 13-2 pasting. The Druggists collected 13 hits, with Wendy Meyer, Dennis Kind, Terry Keady, Jim Patterson and pitcher Frank Melissner each making two. One of Patterson's hits was an inside-the-park homer with a man aboard.

Lakeland Hardware scored a 17-6 Little League victory over Drayton Food Market and Pontiac Radiolium forfeited to Roger's Electric in the Junior loop.

Darkness Stops 'B' Game in 11-11 Tie

Pontiac Boys Club and Kuhlman Electric battled to an 11-11 deadlock Wednesday at Jaycee Park in a Class B City League baseball game which was halted by darkness after six innings.

Kuhlman spotted Boys Club an early 5-0 lead, then rebounded to gain an 11-10 edge going into the last of the 6th inning. Boys Club scored once to knot the count and darkness ended the struggle.

Boys Club used three pitchers in the wild free-for-all while Kuhlman employed two. Kuhlman's doubled the Boys Club in hit production, 12 to 6.

Gotham Honors Althea Gibson

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Wagner hailed Althea Gibson, two-time winner of the Wimbledon Tennis Championship, as a "great and worthy champion" at an official reception Wednesday.

The mayor also proclaimed Wednesday "Tennis Day" in honor of Miss Gibson, a native New Yorker.

The Negro tennis champion, in a brief speech of thanks, said she felt that New York City had greeted her return from her triumph at Wimbledon "with welcome, warm hands."

Moose Invade Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI)—Moscow was invaded by a herd of wild moose yesterday. The moose left their nearby forests, swam across the city's northern river, invaded the park of the northern river terminus and then lay down all wet — to the admiration of surprised Muscovites.

"Any reason to suspect foul play?" inquired Dr. Haledjian, kneeling beside the body of the wizened old recluse.

"None whatever. Old Carl lived up here alone with his cats. Sort of a character, you know, but harmless. He used to drive to town in a flivver once a week. Since he got the deep freeze installed last year, he came in every other month."

"Oh, maybe seven-eight weeks ago."

"I suppose the old man disliked banks as well as people?"

"There was that story. Life saving hidden under the floorboards somewhere. The usual stuff. Some folks in town believed it."

"Judging by the body temperature, he's been dead about 12 hours," said Haledjian. "In lay terms, he died of plain old age. Incidentally, who found the body?"

"Jim Casey, when he delivered the mail an hour ago."

Haledjian picked up the fish, sniffed, and swiftly passed them a test under the sheriff's nose. "Smell anything extraordinary?"

"No just a faint fishy odor."

"That what is extraordinary," replied Haledjian. "I'll have to request an autopsy, sheriff. Old Carl's death is not what it appears!"

WHAT WAS THE BASIS FOR HADELIJIAN'S REQUEST?

After being 12 hours in Old Carl's pocket on a hot day, the fish would have smelled to high heaven.

Fate of BusesOnly One Firm Bids for Bay City Franchise
With Possible Subsidy

BAY CITY (AP)—The City Commission has received only one bid to operate buses under a new plan which will be submitted to the voters Aug. 5.

The commission had asked bids prior to its meeting Monday night. But the only proposal came from Balcer Brothers Co., operators of the last bus system here.

The commission will frame a question to put to the voters providing for a city subsidy if necessary to restore bus service.

The Balcer bid was for a guarantee of $3,850 weekly to operate four bus routes on 20 minute schedules six days a week.

The city would supply the company with gasoline, oil and free license plates and set schedules and fares. The city would receive all the fares.

If the amount collected ran below the weekly payment figure, the city would be authorized to spend up to $60,000 per year of a tax subsidy to make up the difference.

Five other firms looked over the contract specifications. But the Balcer company, which had the bus franchise before, was the only one to submit a bid. Under the contract, Balcer would supply 15 buses.

Scheduled airlines now serve about 500 U. S. cities.
