They will wed Sunday. The chain was attached to Falk's leg in a ceremony at a bachelor party and when the party broke up the key to the lock was missing. Falk met Miss Tannenbaum and together they went to the police station.

Molotov's Hostile Attitude in Speech Jolts the West

GENEVA (AP)—Western diplomats said glumly today Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had all but killed chances of peace in war-torn Indochina by his latest policy statement.

Outlining his "peace terms" late yesterday to the nine-party Indochina conference, Molotov not only raised new issues but leveled charges which aroused Western resentment.

17 Are Missing in Navy Plane

Last Word From Craft Was Distress Signal Early Today

TOKYO (UP)—A U. S. Navy PBY seaplane with 17 persons aboard is missing over the East China sea south of Japan, the Navy said today.

The twin-engine aircraft, bound for Hong Kong, was last heard from at 6:55 a. m. Just as it passed south of Nagasaki. However, a call on a distress frequency was heard at 10:30 a. m. and it is believed to have come from the missing plane, the Navy said.

The plane's occupants were not identified, but officials said they included seven naval officers, two marine officers and eight navy enlisted seamen.

Surface craft and Navy and Air Force planes joined in searching the area where the plane was believed to have gone down, but found no trace. The plane, if it landed unharmed, could still be afloat, the Navy said.

India Warns Climbers of Snow in Himalayas

NEW DELHI, India (UP)—The India government radio last night warned American and New Zealand climbers in the Mt. Makalu area to gird themselves against heavy snowfalls and rising winds at temperatures expected to fall to 5 below zero.

A radio official said it was felt certain all attempts on Makalu's 22,500-foot peak should be ended by now and that both teams must be on their way down toward Biratnagar and Joghani en route to Calcutta.

'Poisoned' Atoll Natives Recover From Radioactive Ash

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
KWAJALEIN, Marshall Islands, May 29 (UP)—They call themselves "the poisoned people."

There are the 82 natives of Rongelap Atoll who were showered by radioactive ash from the March 1 explosion of a hydrogen bomb.

One of them, John Anjin, said the ash rained down for 24 hours. "It looked like salt," he said. "It came down like a light rain. You could feel it strike your skin. It burned when it touched."

Some of the "poisoned people" lost their hair. Others were burned. Almost all of them are cured now—but they have been banished from their homes for a year. They are among the Marshall Islanders who have petitioned the United Nations to end atomic experiments in this area—or at least to see that the United States observes closer precautions.

The Marshall Islands, midway between Hawaii and the Philip-

Editor's Note—A shifting wind east radioactive ash along an uncharted path after the March 1 testing of the hydrogen bomb. The result was injury to two score natives—and a petition to the United Nations which sums up the Marshall Islanders' feelings toward the radioactive danger and the loss of their land. To get the facts at the scene, AP correspondent William J. Waugh went from Honolulu to the Marshalls and spent 10 days interviewing injured persons and their leaders, and also personnel who run the atomic tests. This is the first of two stories reporting his preliminary findings. They were delayed by censorship in the Defense Department, the Atomic Energy Commission and the State Department. Only minor deletions were made in the original copy, however.

Natives of Bikini and Eniwetok atolls were uprooted in 1946-47 to make way for atomic experiments. In the March 1 blast the 82 persons on Rongelap and 154 on Utirik were exposed or endangered to such an extent that they were removed from their home atolls. The Utirik people have gone back, but the Rongelapers must wait a year—until their atoll is considered safe.

Anjin, a Rongelap leader, described the March 1 explosion: "First saw light, then smoke. Smoke went up, up and right through the clouds. Later heard and felt blast. Wind so strong some people fell down. It banged doors."

House Group Rejects Flexible Price Supports

Votes Overwhelmingly Against Ike's Proposal for Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Agriculture Committee yesterday rebuffed President Eisenhower's proposal for flexible farm price supports and voted overwhelmingly to continue the present system of rigid high-level supports through 1955.

The committee's 21-8 vote was a blow to both Eisenhower and his secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, who has campaigned vigorously for a flexible system which would permit the administration to raise federal price props to farmers in time of shortage and lower them in times of abundance.

At present the government is obliged by law to support basic farm crops such as cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco and peanuts at 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is a price formula designed to give farmers a fair return on their products in relation to the prices of things they buy—such as tractors, clothes and other manufactured goods.

Secretary Benson, blaming high-level supports for the huge surplus stocks of government-owned butter, wheat and other commodities bulging the nation's warehouses, has said he will recommend a presidential veto if Congress votes to extend the war-born rigid supports.

Across the Capitol, a gathering storm over the price-support issue was reflected as Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee attacked high-level supports.

"The evidence all indicates that both the government and farmers themselves have gotten into serious difficulties only on commodities which have been supported at 90 per cent of parity," Ferguson told the Senate.

"This in itself is a convincing argument for more flexibility in our farm program, along the lines recommended by the President."

The House Committee's action draft the administration a defeat in the first congressional test of Eisenhower's call for sliding-scale inflexible system.

The House could override the committee's recommendation when the omnibus farm bill reaches the floor in a few weeks. However, Chairman Hoe (R-Kan.) of the House Committee has said he believes the House will pass the committee's bill.

New Courthouse Given Boost by Dust Shower

A shower of plaster dust gave several persons additional incentive yesterday to support the proposal to construct a new Oakland County Courthouse.

During a hearing in Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty's courtroom, a cloud of plaster dust from the cracked ceiling rained down on the jury box.

Apparently accustomed to such showers, Judge Doty calmly continued to discuss the case with two attorneys. Other persons in the room were less unruffled. They cast apprehensive glances upward for some time.

Cabbies, Union Seek Settlement

Pontiac Cab, Teamsters Trying for Agreement on Contempt Charges

Attorneys for the Pontiac Cab Co. and Teamsters Local 614, AFL, were seeking a basis of agreement for a settlement of the contempt charges against the union today following a two-hour consultation with three Oakland County Circuit Court judges yesterday.

Presiding Judge Frank L. Doty requested that the attorneys present a basis for agreement this afternoon.

The contempt hearings against the union were resumed Tuesday after being adjourned since May 18 while the judges sat on scheduled criminal cases. A temporary restraining order against interference with the operation of the cab company is still in effect.

Local 614 has been charged by cab company owner Mrs. Lucile G. Cornell with trying to organize their firm by using strong-arm tactics.

Cab company attorneys Edward P. Barrett and Robert G. Lagaris presented pictures showing pickets around cab stands at Saginaw and Pike streets and at 463 Orchard Lake Road after the restraining order was issued.

Mrs. Lee Hill, night cab dispatcher, testified that on May 16 she called police to stop pickets from preventing passengers entering Pontiac Cab Co. vehicles at Saginaw and Pike Sts.

Judge Doty said he is seeking the agreement as soon as possible to allow the judges to resume hearing scheduled criminal cases.

Court Bars Appeal by Lapeer Farmer

LANSING (UP)—The State Supreme Court today refused to hear an appeal from Floyd Schriber, Lapeer County farmer, convicted as the result of an eviction riot in 1952.

Schriber was charged with resisting Sheriff Clark Gregory when law officers attempted to evict Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens from her farm home for non-payment of a shareholder's assessment in the tangled affairs of the Lapeer County Farmers Mutual Insurance Co.

The court's refusal to hear the case means that Schriber must begin serving a 1½ to 2-year prison sentence imposed last Sept. 11.

Cable Cars to Stay in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—San Francisco's colorful cable cars are assured of a place in the city's future as well as in its past.

San Francisco voted 84,092 to 74,777 in yesterday's primary election to keep the controversial little cars in a slightly curtailed but permanent network.

Because the cars have been operated at a loss—fare, 15 cents—to the city for several years, many citizens had campaigned to scrap them.

Frank J. DuFrain was honored at a dinner sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night at Hotel Waldron. He was presented a new Pontiac car and a scroll.

He retires this year as superintendent of Pontiac's public schools, in which post he has served since 1921.

Robert M. Glenn presided over the after-dinner program.

Each of the speakers paid tribute to Supt. DuFrain, his long period of service, his character and qualities of leadership, and his skill in handling school finances. All voiced best wishes for his retirement years. The scroll bore a resolution of the Board of Education expressing its appreciation for his long and faithful service.

In a brief response he voiced his thanks. He expressed the satisfaction he feels as he sees young men, graduates of the Pontiac schools, occupying positions of leadership in the community, on the City Commission and on the Board of Education.

Agrees to Quiz if Dem Senator Will Take Stand

Symington Will Testify in Exchange for Probe of Colleague's Finances

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Symington offered today to testify in the McCarthy-Army hearings if Sen. McCarthy will agree to a special Senate investigation of his financial dealings. McCarthy declared he was willing.

Denouncing Symington's challenge as "a vicious smear," McCarthy said he was glad it was made on television "so millions of people can see how low a man can sink—I repeat, how low an alleged man can sink."

At another point, McCarthy said Symington had taken up the line of the Daily Worker, which McCarthy said has been belaboring him for years about old charges of malfeasance in office.

Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) broke in to criticize both Symington and McCarthy for what he called "a waste of time" in the current proceedings.

Mundt said it was difficult for him to find ways to stop "this mid-morning madness."

Symington dared McCarthy to go before a special Senate Committee—which Symington suggested that Vice President Nixon appoint—to answer questions raised by a Senate Rules subcommittee in its report on a 1952 inquiry into McCarthy's financial dealings.

Symington proposed McCarthy sign a written agreement with him, McCarthy didn't sign it but said "if it is necessary to have a special committee to re-investigate these smears, I will now make a firm commitment to go before that committee to answer the smears."

The possibility that any such hearings will be held is remote. The Senate itself would have to vote such a procedure, irrespective of any agreement Symington and McCarthy might make.

Specifically, Symington, Missouri Democrat, mentioned among other things a $10,000 payment McCarthy received from the Lustron Corp., and the question of whether McCarthy had converted to personal use any funds contributed to McCarthy by his fight against communism.

A Senate elections subcommittee looked into questions about McCarthy's financial affairs in 1952 but said it could come to no conclusions in the absence of testimony by McCarthy.

Man Travels 421 M.P.H. on Rocket-Powered Sled

ALAMAGORDO, N. M. (AP)—A 43-year-old Air Force colonel reached a speed of 421 miles an hour on the ground—a record for a human—during recent tests at Holloman Air Force Base here.

Lt. Col. John P. Stapp, a veteran of aviation medical research, rode a rocket-propelled sled designed to find out the effect upon fliers of bailing out at very high altitudes and supersonic speeds.

"Things happen too fast to think about them at the time," he said after the 3,500-foot run, which takes just seven seconds.

The critical factor in the test is the effect of the breaking on the passenger. Officials estimate Col. Stapp's body underwent the pressure of 22 times the force of gravity and his body assumed the weight of 3,960 pounds.

"It was a fine ride," he said. "I feel a great sense of achievement. Completing this run got a load off my chest."

The only other human to top 400 m.p.h. on the ground was John Cobb, who drove a race car at 403.135 m.p.h. at Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, Sept. 16, 1947.

Stapp, chief of the Aero Medical Field Laboratory at Holloman Air Development Center, made the record run March 19 on his 27th sled ride. His previous fastest time had been 180 m.p.h. at Edwards Air Force Base in California.

The test sled, designed by Northrop Aircraft, Inc., Hawthorne, Calif., consists of two vehicles—the propulsion sled and the test vehicle. The propulsion sled carries 12 rockets, each with a thrust of 4,500 pounds, six of which were used in the March test.

The two vehicles are mounted on special railroad tracks between which is a water trough five feet wide and 18 inches deep. Braking is achieved by controllable metal scoops under each vehicle which scoop up water from the trough.

In future tests, it is hoped to carry volunteers at speeds up to 800 m.p.h. at this 4,092-foot altitude. Due to variations in air density at different altitudes, this would be the equivalent of 1,800 m.p.h. at 40,000 feet.

MAKE OVER THE PLAN BOARD

Birmingham Plan Board Considers Zoning Issues on Eton Road, Maple Ave.

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — Neighborhood conservation was again taken up at a committee session of the Planning Board last night, with particular attention given to proper zoning for the west side of Eton road from Lincoln to Villa, and Maple avenue from Coolidge to Eton.

Most of the lots in question face industrial-zoned property. No decisions were reached, but the board debated the pros and cons of single-family residences or dwellings for the area.

City Planning Director Robert Boatman said that under present financing standards, he felt duplexes might be more superior in quality than single-family homes.

Establishing closer ties with the City Commission, was discussed with a recommendation encouraging more joint meetings, to be sent to the Commission.

Another suggestion to be made is that a Commission member attend Planning Board meetings, acting as liaison between the two groups.

Meetings may be over for members of the High Twelve Club but today is that long-awaited day, the annual golf outing. Some 60 members and guests were expected to tee off at Glen Oaks Country Club on W. 13-Mile road from noon on, with a chicken dinner awaiting the group at 7 o'clock.

Chairman of the outing, plus a picnic scheduled for July, is Neil Hyde.

Bloomfield Calls Zoning Meeting

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Increased lot sizes and further restrictions on multiple dwellings will be under discussion at a June 29 hearing, scheduled last night by the City Commission.

The Planning Commission, under the chairmanship of John Graham, has been working on the controversial proposed zoning ordinance for several months.

Skidmore, Owings and Merrill, Chicago plan consultants, were hired last June to prepare a report on planning for the city, and their recommendations will be brought out at the meeting.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A truck-car collision at the W. Maple and Franklin road intersection injured a Pontiac man yesterday.

Driver of the truck, Fred Putnam, 38, of 159 Lincoln, Pontiac, told police that Bromley, going south on Franklin, did not hit his car at the stop sign. Putnam's car was hit broadside and rolled over, police said.

Witnesses stated that a county tar truck stopped at the corner, blocking the view of both drivers.

Released to their parents, the juveniles will appear Saturday before Police Lt. Henry Timm with their families. Hankins will be tried before the Oakland County Court. No Record.

Stolorow Seeks Parking Delay

Asks City Commission to Postpone Installation of Mill St. Meters

Pontiac City Commission last night heard a request from Sam L. Stolorow of the Outdoor Parking Co. that planned installation of parking meters at 40 Mill St. be postponed.

The parking lot operator asked commissioners to wait and see how the 250-meter municipal lot on the northwest corner of Parke and E. Pike Sts. affects business of private operators.

Stolorow said meters on the site of the present market building on Mill street would be across the street from one of his lots and claimed the city lot would be in direct competition with him.

If the city continues to expand in the public parking business, Stolorow stated, it will monopolize the short-term parkers which many private operators rely on to function at a profit.

He said that 8,000 Pontiac citizens had asked a vote to decide whether the city should enter the parking business, "and this was denied them."

Stolorow and other private lot operators present said it is impossible for them to provide parking at five cents an hour as the city plans to do and still realize a profit.

Mayor William W. Donaldson said his idea is to install the market-site meters plus those under construction behind the market and then see to what extent they solve the parking problem and how private lots are affected.

Commissioners said they will discuss the matter again at a special meeting Thursday night.

Molotov's Attitude Jolts the West

on French public opinion, which threatens to overturn the shaky Laniel government.

Western hopes received their biggest jolt when Molotov got down to the Communist terms for an Indochina peace.

Some quarters had expected him to make important concessions, but instead he toughened his stand and raised new issues.

He proposed that the conference begin discussions immediately on a political settlement in Indochina without waiting for agreement to end the fighting. Other delegates thought they had gotten around this difficulty when the Communists agreed three weeks ago to give priority to the cease-fire discussions. Molotov, however, said the time had now come to begin parallel talks on both military and political questions, perhaps rotating from one phase to the other on alternate days.

The youngsters are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Barnstable of 49761 W. 10-Mile Rd.

The same storm knocked out a transformer on 10-Mile Road, cutting off power to a dairy farm at 49680 W. 10-Mile Rd., according to Fred Stanton, Detroit Edison Co. dispatcher.

A French High Command spokesman said infantrymen and tanks followed up on the attacks on the villages of Tu The and Pra Lan seven miles east of Hanoi.

The spokesman said the raids, similar to those in which two Red supply bases were destroyed Tuesday, were part of a determined drive to clear the Hanoi area of all Communist hideouts within a 20-mile radius.

Other speakers included Donald Rife, Arnold Whitaker, Robert Pote and Sid Siegel. The table topic "Oscar" was won by Edward O'Brien. Toastmaster was Bernard Parrot. At next week's meeting, impromptu topics will be given members who will speak off the cuff, club officials said.

Directors of Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation have elected Steven J. Jay, Gross Pointe, as president of the Foundation, Michigan Chapter, a Torch agency.

McCarthy, Army Feud Reviewed

WASHINGTON — Here is a brief rundown on the Senate Investigations subcommittee's inquiry into the dispute between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and top Army officials:

The original charges—Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams accused McCarthy and two subcommittee aides, Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr, of using improper pressures to win favored Army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a subcommittee aide who was drafted.

McCarthy and his associates in turn accused Stevens and Adams of attempting to use Schine as a "hostage" in efforts to induce McCarthy to halt or divert an investigation of alleged subversives in the Army, particularly at Ft. Monmouth, N.J. They also accused Asst. Secretary of Defense H. Struve Hensel of seeking to discredit the subcommittee.

The subcommittee voted 4-3 on May 26 to dismiss Carr and Hensel as principals.

Yesterday's highlights—Cohn said he does not regard Stevens as a coddler of Communists, but does think the secretary did lend himself to "protecting those who protect Communists."

Cohn repeated under oath the McCarthy camp's charge that Stevens and Adams tried to switch a McCarthy investigation from the Army to the Air Force and the Navy. He balked at a suggestion by Joseph N. Welch, special Army counsel, that he was saying Stevens and Adams tried to "rat on" and "turn traitor" to the other services.

Cohn said the two officials sought to "spread things around," and have McCarthy leave them alone for a while.

Asked whether Stevens and Adams had given full cooperation in the Ft. Monmouth inquiry, Cohn said: "To some extent yes—to some extent, no."

The subcommittee held a secret session to discuss procedure and later made public a transcript which disclosed that Welch said "neither side is bound to have a 100 per cent victory."

McCarthy and Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) renewed at the secret session, and in the public hearing, their feud over McCarthy's demand that Symington testify.

McCarthy challenged Symington to take the stand and tell how he and "the political adviser to the Democratic party"—Washington attorney Clark Clifford, onetime aide to former President Truman—"were pulling the strings" behind the McCarthy-Army row.

When McCarthy called Symington "sanctimonious Stu"—the Missouri's first name is Stuart—Symington broke in: "I resent that reference... you'd better go to a psychiatrist."

The hearings started April 22. Today's scheduled hearing is the 30th daily session.

Edward Keehn Wins 3rd in National Contest

Edward Keehn, 15, of 183 Pine-grove Ave. will be presented Thursday with a $5 third prize award which he won in the 10th annual AAA National Safety Poster Contest. Edward won the prize by drawing a safety poster entitled "Wear White After Dark."

The award will be presented by Principle Philip Wargelin at an assembly at 8:30 a.m. at Lincoln Junior High School. Edward is a Lincoln ninth grade student. Others commended for their posters were Alyce Stephens, 14, of 195 Oneida Rd.; Richard Moody, 15, of 942 Stanley Ave., both ninth graders at Lincoln Junior High; and Jerry Almas, 12, of 28 S. Midland Dr., a sixth grader at Longfellow School.

In the exchange with Symington, McCarthy said Symington was reading a letter to him which he (McCarthy) had never seen.

McCarthy added he assumed the letter was written by Clark Clifford, onetime counsel to former President Truman, or the Democratic National Committee.

It was the third successive day in which there have been flareups between McCarthy and Symington. Before today's session began, McCarthy told reporters he might have a statement later in the day on an Army plan to bring the hearings to an early close.

Attorneys for the Birmingham School District appeared before Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland seeking to dismiss a $200,000 damage suit brought by Royal Oak dentist Maurice Richards.

Dr. Richards was injured when bleachers collapsed during a Birmingham High School football game Nov. 25, 1948.

The basic question to be solved in the case is whether a school district loses its traditional immunity from suit while performing a function for which it charges a fee.

School district attorneys stated that there is no statute authorizing such a suit, and that the school district enjoys governmental immunity since a football game is part of the physical education program required by the State Legislature.

Seek Dismissal of Damage Suit

Birmingham Schools Fight Dentist's Claim for $200,000

Attorneys for the Birmingham School District appeared before Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland seeking to dismiss a $200,000 damage suit brought by Royal Oak dentist Maurice Richards.

Dr. Richards was injured when bleachers collapsed during a Birmingham High School football game Nov. 25, 1948.

The basic question to be solved in the case is whether a school district loses its traditional immunity from suit while performing a function for which it charges a fee.

School district attorneys stated that there is no statute authorizing such a suit, and that the school district enjoys governmental immunity since a football game is part of the physical education program required by the State Legislature.

They pointed out that a decision against the school district would be far reaching, either compelling districts to insure against such liabilities or curtailing the use of schools for such functions.

An appeal by the school district to dismiss the suit was turned down in March 1953 by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty, and the State Supreme Court refused to rule on the lower court's decision.

James Roosevelt Wins in Landslide

ic National Committee's refusal to support him.

But Southern California Democrats rallied behind the late President's eldest son, giving him 2,736 votes in his nearest rival's 476 with 115 out of 901 precincts counted.

The 46-year-old Roosevelt, his balding head shining with perspiration, hailed his victory early today as a return to "party unity in California."

Despite Roosevelt's strong showing, it appeared unlikely that he would score a double victory by capturing the Republican nomination, too.

This had been rated a possibility under California's cross-filing law, but Theodore R. Owings, making his first bid for a major public office, was polling far ahead in the GOP race.

Roosevelt was fighting for his political life in the congressional campaign. His estranged wife, Rosalind, has made sensational charges of infidelity in her separate maintenance suit, and the court fight prompted national Democratic headquarters to withhold financial aid.

Another prominent congressional candidate, Rep. Robert L. Condon, got the same treatment from Democratic headquarters after he was barred from watching atomic tests as a "security risk."

Despite the charges, Condon appeared to be on his way to a victory in the sixth district Democratic race. Attorney John F. Baldwin was the apparent winner in the Republican column.

In one-party South Carolina, Timmerman's Democratic primary victory was equivalent to election to the post now held by former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

Timmerman and his lone opponent, insurance executive Lester L. Bates, both pledged themselves to continue Byrnes' fight against the Supreme Court ban of racial segregation in schools.

Timmerman, however, was the only candidate to campaign with a definite plan for side-stepping the Supreme Court ruling. He also accused Bates of having the secret endorsement of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People—a charge denied by Bates and the NAACP.

Killings Suspect Takes Own Life

Florida Man, Accused in 3 Deaths, Released on Bail, Shoots Self

LAKE WALES, Fla. — Emmett Donnelly, Lake Wales attorney accused of conspiring to kill three well-to-do persons, shot and killed himself today.

Donnelly, who was released under $30,000 bond from county jail yesterday on three charges of plotting to kill, fired one shotgun blast into his head.

Donnelly was arrested in a "murder for profit" plot involving two wealthy widows and an elderly calendar manufacturer, Sheriff Pat Gordon said.

The attorney and a contractor were arrested and another person may be taken into custody, the sheriff added.

Two more cases will be investigated and there may be others, he said.

The bizarre case broke here Monday with the fake abduction of one of the wealthy widows reportedly marked for death. The sheriff said he staged it to break the case.

Arrested on charges of conspiracy to murder for profit were Donnelly, 61, and Willard Durden, 35, Orlando building contractor.

They were accused of conspiring to kill K. H. Gerlach, 81, of Lake Wales, a calendar manufacturer; Mrs. Byrd T. Roach, 51, of Lake Wales, who inherited an estate of about $100,000 from her late husband five years ago; and Mrs. Louise Clark Hawley of Orlando, who has Florida real estate holdings and an interest in a Chicago sun helmet firm.

Donnelly, who had handled legal and financial matters for all three, was released on bond late yesterday.

Durden, still in custody, was questioned more than two hours last night by Sheriff Gordon and County Solicitor Clifton M. Kelly.

Donnelly took his life at his unpretentious frame home on Crooked Lake about five miles from here.

Details of the shooting were sketchy.

This ended the life of a man who figured in one of Polk County's most sensational slayings 22 years ago. He was charged then with assassinating his law associate, Joe H. Beal, but a grand jury refused to indict him and the charge was dropped.

Since then he has had a lucrative law practice here.

Detroit Still Working on Lower Gas Rate

DETROIT (INS) — Assistant corporation counsel James H. Lee said today he will appeal the Federal Power Commission's denial of Detroit's request for a rehearing of its decision establishing a controversial new rate-making method.

Lee's appeal will be filed with the federal Circuit Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia as the newest step in the city's attempts to get lower gas rates for consumers.

Physically, Rongelapers today bear few signs of their exposure. Those who lost hair are getting it back.

Thirteen of the men made a brief visit to their home attic to recover some of the possessions left behind. All the residents have been compensated for the lost copra crops.

Did these people have any message for the American people? Paul Irujiman, 38, spoke up in Marshallese.

"Please tell them not to do the same thing again—throw the bomb. We didn't do anything wrong."

Red Menace to Americas Calls for Fast U.S. Action

(Editor's note: Congressman Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif.) has just returned from Guatemala and brings back a report on how Communists are creating a police state in the Central American nation. Hillings, a member of the special House Committee studying Communist methods in taking over free nations, made the Central American trip with State Department approval.)

By REP. PATRICK J. HILLINGS
WASHINGTON (INS) — I have just returned from a visit behind the Iron Curtain in the Western Hemisphere—Guatemala.

Guatemala is a police state. Anti-Communists are picked up and thrown in jail. The protection of habeas corpus has been virtually abandoned.

Most Guatemalans are Catholic and the people are still allowed to attend church services in Catholic and Protestant churches. However, there are only about 100 priests for a population of nearly 3,000,000 and the government has limited the number of clergymen who may come into Guatemala.

The government has started wide-scale arrests of political opponents, and has stationed police outside of foreign embassies to arrest Guatemalan citizens who might take refuge and request political asylum in such places.

In Mexico City, I talked with a Guatemalan labor leader who had been arrested one evening in his office. He was taken to the police station. There he was beaten on the soles of his feet by cops with rubber hoses.

After the beatings he was forced to walk through salt water which severely burned and which could be felt throughout his nervous system. Later his head was repeatedly dunked in water and removed only when he was on the verge of drowning.

The next morning he was taken in a truck to the Mexican border and dumped over the line.

There is evidence also of attempts to nationalize industry. Here is the pattern: The government provokes a strike in an important industry. On the eve of the strike, the government issues a decree taking over the industry on the grounds that it is in the public interest to do so to prevent a shutdown.

There is constant travel between Guatemala and points behind the Iron Curtain by government officials, labor leaders and other delegations.

The commercial attaché for the Soviet embassy in Mexico City recently appeared in Guatemala, allegedly making arrangements for economic and commercial treaties. There is a bright side of the picture. An anti-Communist underground does exist in Guatemala.

Evidence of this can be seen by merely driving through the streets of Guatemala City where the figure "33" appears on countless numbers of buildings. The figure refers to article 23 of the Guatemalan Constitution which prohibits the existence of political parties under foreign domination.

Much of the anti-Communist movement was ineffective until the recent shipment of arms to Guatemala because of the disunity and factionalism existing among opposition parties.

The shipment of arms seems to have boomeranged on the Reds by causing the anti-Communist factions to unite.

The republic of Honduras appears to be the next target of the Kremlin in Central America. Some 4,000 workers employed by the United Fruit Co. and others have been on strike in that nation for over three weeks.

The Reds hope to capitalize on the fact that there has been opposition to organization of labor unions in Honduras by the government and business interests.

Honduras is closer to the Panama Canal than is Guatemala. Disruption of shipment in the canal is an obvious target of Red agents.

If the United States should find itself involved more seriously than today in the Pacific, even temporary loss of the canal could be disastrous.

I suggest the following approaches which might help to meet the menace of communism in the Western Hemisphere:

1. Continue to supply defense materials to anti-Communist bases in Latin America requesting such aid to show the people of Central America that we intend to stand behind them in their resistance to the Kremlin.

2. Through a more realistic appraisal of foreign aid, encourage our friends in Latin America to strengthen their defenses.

3. Give them assistance in improving health conditions which are so appallingly low.

4. If the majority of Latin American states agree to boycott Guatemalan coffee and stop supplying fuel to that country, the Red government would be in serious difficulty.

5. Students, businessmen, educators, and others should be brought to the United States and given an opportunity to understand our people and our way of life.

6. The Committee on Communist aggression should hold public hearings to alert the American public of the important and significant events which have taken place in our back yard.

My visit to Central America convinces me that the Communist time-table for aggression has been advanced.

We must be prepared to stand up against any further efforts of the Kremlin to put more pressure behind the Iron Curtain. We have the courage to face up to the situation.

280 Sign at Los Alamos
Criticizing the Handling of Oppenheimer Case

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP)—A petition from more than 280 Los Alamos atomic scientists strongly criticizes government handling of the case of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer.

And the scientists warned, the action taken against Oppenheimer may make it tough in the future to fill government laboratories with trained workers.

The petition, sent in the form of a telegram to the President, the Atomic Energy Commission and the chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, said:

"We agree that it is a prerogative of government to choose its own advisers.

"But it is inexcusable to employ the personnel security system as a means of dispensing with the services of a loyal but unwanted consultant."

Dr. Fred L. Ribe, who sent the telegram and helped collect the names, said it bore some 282 signatures—all gathered in less than one day and representing 80 per cent of the scientists here.

Oppenheimer headed the Los Alamos scientific laboratory when it developed the atomic bomb during World War II. He recently was barred as a security risk from further classified information and a three-man board, although holding Oppenheimer loyal, refused to reinstate him.

Author Says Fox

Peter Rabbit

SAINT JOHN, N. B. (AP)—Thornton W. Burgess let the world in on a literary secret today—Reddy Fox isn't ever going to catch up with Peter Rabbit.

The 80-year-old author-naturalist, whose fictional animals have delighted children for 42 years, said in an interview he plans to keep Peter always one jump ahead of his hungry, crafty pursuer.

"There never will be a tragedy in the Burgess bedtime stories," the author added firmly. "It comes into a child's life soon enough."

Burgess, a resident of Springfield, Mass., is vacationing in New Brunswick. He said he doesn't plan to retire for another 20 years—not until he's 100.

One-Time East Berlin
Foreign Minister Cited in Espionage Charge

BERLIN (AP)—The East German radio announced last night that Georg Dertinger, former foreign minister of the Soviet zone government, has been sentenced to 15 years in prison for plotting to overthrow the Red regime.

The broadcast said five other alleged conspirators, including two of Dertinger's women secretaries, were given terms ranging from 3 to 13 years.

Dertinger, 51, was arrested Jan. 15, 1953, on a charge of espionage for the West. His wife was arrested at the same time but the broadcast last night made no mention of her.

Dertinger was a leading member of the East zone Christian Democrats, who collaborate with the ruling Communist party. He was foreign minister from October 1949, when the East German government was set up, until his arrest.

The broadcast said he was accused of espionage for U.S. intelligence agencies, of collecting data on Soviet troops and Eastern economic secrets, and of drafting a plan with former West German State Secretary Otto Lenz for overthrow of the Soviet zone regime.

State Gls Must Get Their Own Ballots

LANSING (AP)—The Department of State today reported that the published by the Office of Armed Forces Information and Education, incorrectly says relatives of servicemen may apply for their absentee ballots in Michigan.

This was permitted under Michigan law between 1944 and 1952, the department said.

Because of the error, municipal clerks have been receiving applications from relatives but have been forced to refuse them.

Servicemen must now make the applications themselves, by mail if necessary. They must also be registered to vote before the ballots can be sent. This, too, can be done by mail, the department said.

Chisox Take AL Lead as Senators Dump Indians

PHILADELPHIA — The Chicago White Sox were perched atop the American League standings today but Manager Paul Richards was unperturbed by it all.

"We expected to get there," Richards said. He added: "And we expect to stay there."

The Chicagoans dislodged the Cleveland Indians' fingertip hold on first place by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics last night, 9-3, while the Indians were losing to the Washington Senators, 5-2. Cleveland had held first place by eight percentage points. It was the first time the Sox were surveying the Junior Circuit pennant race from the top of the standings since May 15.

There's nothing unusual, either, about the Sox's current six-game winning streak, Richards said. "They're just playing the way they can play." The team's pennant chances, he said, "are exactly what I thought before—they're good."

He cites a couple of good reasons: The first is George Kell, whom Chicago recently obtained from the Boston Red Sox. The veteran punched a two-run homer in last night's game to cap a five-run seventh inning for the Chisox. It was Kell, too, who poked a single in the first inning to start a two-run rally.

Second reason is left handed pitcher Bill Pierce who rejoined the club last night. Pierce had two teeth removed in Chicago and underwent diathermy treatments for a sore arm. He said his arm now feels better than at any other time this season.

Even without Pierce, who had an 18-12 mark last year when the Sox finished third, the Chicago pitching staff has the best major league record of the young season. Bob Keegan leads the league with an 8-1 record; Virgil Trucks, last night's winning pitcher, has an 8-3 record, and Sandy Consuegra has won six of seven decisions. Third reason is outfielder Orestes (Minnie) Minoso, the league's No. 3 hitter with a .332 average. Minoso has hit safely in 21 of his last 23 games. He had a single in four trips last night.

The Cuban also drove in one run to hold his league lead in that department with 52. He also leads in triples (7), runs scored (47) and is tied with teammate Jim Rivera for most stolen bases—7.

Richards said he has no specific plans for the important New York Yankee series this weekend.

Orioles Boost AL Attendance Over '53 Figure

New Club Helps Swell Crowd to 2,413,498 for 191 Games

CHICAGO — American League attendance is running 19 per cent higher than a year ago, thanks mainly to the debut of the Baltimore Orioles.

Earl Hilligan, league service bureau director, today reported attendance in the Junior Circuit through 191 games was 2,413,498, an increase of 384,252 over the 1953 total of 2,029,246 for the same number of games.

The National League Monday announced an increase of 307,577 for the first 188 games this year over 1953 attendance for 179 games played through a comparable period. The National total was 2,436,082 against 2,128,485.

Hilligan's figures credit Baltimore with a 25-game home attendance of 339,008, compared with 297,238 attracted for the entire season by the St. Louis Browns last year. For the same period, Baltimore stands 272,949 ahead of St. Louis.

Disgruntled Fans Riot After Soccer Contest

INNSBRUCK, Austria, June 9 — A furious crowd of soccer fans stormed the stadium field here yesterday when the managers of Austria's National teams refused to withdraw the "B" team after the first half and bring out the "A" eleven in a match against Provincials.

The 15,000 fans won the argument after heaving beer bottles, taking the balls away from the players and rushing out on the field. The Nationals rolled over a combined Tyrol-Vorarlberg team 13-1.

Sarazen Files Entry

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, June 9 — Gene Sarazen, winner of the U. S. and British Open golf titles 22 years ago, has entered the British Open championships, the Royal and Ancient Club said today.

The entries of the 52-year-old Harrison, N. Y., pro, and Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City brings to 13 the list of U. S. challengers for the July 5-9 tournament at Birkdale.

Tryouts at Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR — Philadelphia Phillies will hold their annual Michigan tryout camp in Ann Arbor June 23-24-25 at West Park Field.

In charge of the tryouts will be Eddie Krajnik, Phillies' head midwestern scout.

All players between 17 and 22 are invited to attend.

Giel Expected to Sign NY Giant Contract Today

By JIM KLOBUCHAR

MINNEAPOLIS — Minnesota All-American Paul Giel, whose football exploits almost obscured a brilliant college pitching career, is expected to sign a bonus contract today with the New York Baseball Giants.

Besieged by queries at a testimonial banquet last night, Giel commented only that announcement of his signature to a "major league contract" would come today.

He refused to mention what team it would be, but sources next to him said flatly it would be the Giants.

The 21-year-old righthander had before him a decision that has been proffered few athletic greats in recent times. Major league scouts trailed him throughout his Big Ten baseball career. Football representatives from both the National and Canadian Leagues offered sugary inducements for the last two weeks.

But Giel has steadfastly insisted that his future lay in baseball.

Under the bonus arrangement expected to run well into five figures, Giel would remain with the Giants for at least two years and would not be subject to a farm out.
