Early Approval Sought for Proposed Highway

Steel Will Speed Long Delayed Road Project

Ship Material to Finish Underpass at Telegraph and Orchard Lake

Steel for completion of the long-delayed Telegraph Rd.-Orchard Lake Ave. underpass is being shipped to Pontiac today, Chief Deputy State Highway Commissioner George M. Foster announced.

This means that the four-lane, mile-long grade separation should be completed "at least three weeks" ahead of schedule, Foster said.

Construction of the bridge by which Orchard Lake will cross over Telegraph was delayed last fall until this June because of shortages caused by the steel strike.

Foster said yesterday he had been able to expedite shipment of steel, which is expected to arrive early next week.

Work will begin immediately, Foster said. Steel construction can proceed despite weather conditions he said, but pouring of concrete afterwards possibly could be delayed if freezing temperatures occur.

WORK STOPPED

Planned originally for completion last summer, work on the underpass had come to a halt by September. Drivers who protested traffic jams resulting from the present detour were able to see some small improvements made.

Two sharp turns were eliminated and a left turn lane created for cars turning north onto Telegraph. Plans for a sidewalk for school children never materialized, however.

The children have been forced to ride buses and ride in parents' cars this winter.

The grade separation is expected to handle traffic so it can move freely past the city without becoming snarled in local traffic making turns at the intersection.

Rollins Gets Life for Killing Boy

'Wolf Pack' Murder Brings Long Sentence to Two Companions

A 19-year-old Royal Oak Township youth yesterday was sentenced to life imprisonment for the "Wolf Pack" slaying of a Wayne boy at the Michigan State Fairgrounds last fall.

Tommy Rollins, 18582 Foxton Ct. was sentenced on a first-degree murder conviction in the fatal beating of Gerald Rondeau, 14, of 184 N. Hix St.

Two companions, Odell Gray, 18, of 21423 Garden Lane and Horace Collier, 18, of 21405 Parkside St. were sentenced by Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Gerald W. Groat to terms of 10-20 years. A jury found them guilty of second degree murder.

Witnesses testified Rollins slugged Gerald with a tire iron when the younger boy refused a ride in the youths' car.

Last Sept. 4 Gerald was waiting at the corner of W. Eight Mile road and Woodward avenue for his father to bring their car from the State Fair parking lot.

The youths hailed Rondeau from their car, although they never had seen him before.

When Gerald refused to get in, witnesses said Rollins leaped from the car and struck him on on the head with the tire iron. Gerald died three days later.

Your Miss Front Page for March

She's a Junior at Pontiac High

Here she is!

Isn't she grand?

Dianne is a junior in the Pontiac High School and there's a spirited debate on West Huron Street as to whether she's a better singer or violinist. She plays the violin in the High School orchestra and her singing includes a stint with the Presbyterian church choir as you see here.

The young lady sings like something the angels dreamed up and she possesses both range and power.

Furthermore, Miss Dianne has a winning personality and an overall charm that leaves many males wide-eyed and breathless.

Imagine — all this at sixteen years of age.

Confidentially, The Press would rate Miss Beach in the top feminine echelon if she didn't know "sol" from "la," and thought a Stradivarius were a vegetable.

After her photographs came from the dark room, a lot of our boys began speculating on how to turn back the clock and the calendar. We're proud of our selection and we imagine Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Beach are, too.

March Lion Mild in Pontiac Area; East Feels Rage

The March Lion padded into the Pontiac area on silent paws this morning, minus any roars.

The new month began with temperatures in the middle 30's and

Saturday's outlook is colder, with continued occasional snow flurries, high 30 to 34.

Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. this morning was 23. The mercury registered 42 at 2 p.m.

Schools Should Have Newspapers Available

EAST LANSING (AP)—Newspapers should be available in classrooms, school offices, libraries and lounges to encourage reading, an expert on the subject said today.

Dr. Roma Gans, reading specialist from Columbia University, suggested newspapers are a reading tool at a conference for 780 school teachers and principals at Michigan State University.

Weight Restrictions Placed on Highways

Weight restrictions on Class A and Class B (concrete) highways were announced today by the Oakland County Road Commission.

Effective noon Saturday, load limit on a Class B highway will be 13,500 pounds on a single axle, and 19,500 on a tandem axle.

Class A highway restrictions will be 13,500 on a single axle, and 24,000 on a tandem. Restrictions on county gravel and blacktop roads were announced previously.

Israel Prepares to Reveal Plans for Withdrawal

Announcement to U.N. Will Meet Opposition From India, Arabs

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Israel prepared to announce today its decision to withdraw from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area, but a bitter fight appeared shaping up over the steps to follow withdrawal.

The Israeli delegation disclosed that Foreign Minister Golda Meir would spell out the withdrawal plans before the General Assembly.

However, India's roving envoy, V. K. Krishna Menon, took sharp issue this morning with the position taken by the United States in the negotiations which led to the Israeli agreement to pull back behind the 1949 armistice lines.

Menon's position, plus the blast aimed at the United States yesterday by Egyptian Foreign Minister Hahmoud Fawzi, made it clear that the Eisenhower administration would encounter serious difficulties in implementing its agreement with Israel.

Menon told the Assembly that the Gulf of Aqaba was not an international waterway, as claimed by the United States and by U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, and that Egypt had legal rights to stop Israeli shipping there.

One of the factors which had delayed the Israeli withdrawal from the Aqaba area was a fear that Egypt would once more deny the passage of ships to the Israeli port of Eilat.

Menon also took issue with plans to use U. N. forces in the Gaza Strip or the Aqaba area except to supervise the withdrawal of Israeli forces. India

Painter Has Answer for $900 Pot-O-Gold

Things look a little brighter for a Waterford Township self-employed painter and decorator this morning—he won the bursting Pot-O-Gold.

Collecting $900 for his winning entry in The Pontiac Press puzzle contest was Don S. Beck, 57, of 5485 Hadley St. His entry was the only correct one in the 14,527 received.

He received a bonus $25 for being a Press subscriber.

"I plan to pay a few bills, and buy my five kids a present," Beck said this morning. He laughed at hints of a Florida vacation.

Even a brief one-day vacation

celebration was not in order, and Beck collected his check on the way to a decorating job.

Beck, a resident of the area for the past 33 years, said he had been submitting an answer weekly since the Pot-O-Gold contest began.

This week's puzzle is still worth $100, and the now-slimmed Pot will begin to bulge again. Turn to page

Township Police Rescue Woman

Two Waterford Township policemen were credited with rescuing a 26-year-old woman early this morning from the burning wreckage of her overturned car.

Sgt. Frank Randolph and Patrolman Darrel Bruestle came upon the car at the intersection of U.S. 10 and Scott Lake road while on routine patrol duty.

They pulled Miss Phyllis Jane Meyers, of 1359 S. Cass Lake Rd., from the car. She was unconscious and her clothing was on fire, police said. This morning she was listed in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Police said that skid marks indicated that the woman's car was traveling north on Scott Lake road, crossed Dixie Highway, and struck a tree. It then rolled over and burst into flames.

Billy Hoeft Signs; Tigers Open Training

Coan, drafted from a Minneapolis minor league club, is still at his North Carolina home and is not expected to talk to Tiger officials again until next week.

Hoeft came to terms for a salary believed to be about $25,000 in a last minute talk with General Manager Walter O. (Spike) Briggs.

Summer Date for OK Is Goal of Plan Group

Detroit-Bay City Link Would Bisect Pontiac Near Downtown

A summer approval date between the State Highway Department and the city of Pontiac is the goal of the Oakland County Planning Commission for its proposed six-lane interstate highway, the Pontiac Central Artery.

"If we could get the joint approval of the state and the city by summer, we would like this very much," said Robert F. Swanson, chairman of the planning commission.

He said the commission is acting as a coordinating group between the county highway department and the city to iron out certain "ramifications" of the plan.

As proposed last December, the $20 million project would be a part of the expressway between Detroit and Bay City. The route would bisect Pontiac in a north-south direction and pass within a quarter mile of the downtown business district.

"Generally speaking," Swanson said, "we have received very favorable comments on the route."

The chairman said there was strength in arguments that the road would cut off many present city east-west streets. "Some of the access points should be re-studied," Swanson said.

Asked what the State Highway Dept. thought of the proposal, Swanson said: "They were not negative to it."

"This is a local problem and you have to solve it locally, then we will probably go along with it," Swanson expressed as the highway department's feeling.

The proposed route would begin east of the intersection of Franklin and Square Lake roads, cross Franklin and go west of Wrenn and Bagley streets.

NEAR GT STATION

It would cross Orchard Lake avenue east of Williams, intersect Huron between Williams and the Grand Trunk Railroad tracks.

North of Huron it would then take a northwesterly course along Norton avenue until it jogs westerly to intersect with Telegraph road 400 feet south of Pontiac Lake road.

It is proposed to be more than

Old Plates Bring Tickets Today

Pontiac area law officers were seeing mostly maroon and white today, but there were traces of green and white left in their search for expired 1956 license plates.

They began scribbling tickets for cars without 1957 plates at 12:01 a.m. today, and by daybreak had ticketed some 70 motorists. Midnight was the deadline to purchase new maroon and white plates. Pontiac police issued 54 tickets.

The local total was considerably less than 419 tickets that greeted Detroit motorists that had apparently ignored the deadline.

At the Pontiac branch of the Secretary of State's office, the last minute rush ended around 10:30 last night when the last motorist in line received his plates.

Many motorists struggled well into the night affixing their new plates — two for the first time since 1943. Many had waited until the last minute and had forgotten that necessary front bracket.

Police ticketed motorists for not having both plates properly attached, as well as those bearing the green and white tags.

The Pontiac office of the Automobile Club of Michigan issued 515 plates yesterday, while the state office distributed close to 2,000.

Lines were formed at both places today, officials said. There is no extra charge for purchasing plates past the deadline, they added—other than that $2 fine some will be paying.

Police warned that receiving one ticket didn't make motorists immune to further tickets if they continued driving with expired plates.

Many color-conscious women were forced to give in to hubby finally last night, despite their claim that "those maroon and white plates just won't match our regal turquoise and Indian ivory car."

And Pontiac Police Chief Herbert Straley added a wry comment: Cars parked with expired plates will be ticketed along with those in use.

Tosses 'Extra Plate' Out!

DETROIT (INS)—Not all the Michigan residents who have lost one of their two 1957 auto license plates had them fall off their cars. An elderly man approached a Detroit policeman yesterday and asked if it was true that two plates were required this year. When the officer nodded, the man gasped: "Gosh, when I found two plates in the packet, I thought it was a mistake. I threw one away!"

Grill Pinball Operator in Teamsters' Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stanley G. Terry, Portland pinball machine operator, swore today "I never went to see Frank Brewster," a high official in the Teamsters Union, about his alleged troubles with the Portland underworld.

Terry was not asked immediately about testimony yesterday by James B. Elkins, an admitted Portland racketeer, who quoted Terry as saying he paid $10,000 to Brewster to get the union executive's okay to resume pinball operations in the city.

Nor did the perspiring sharp-featured witness volunteer any comment on that testimony by Elkins.

He parried words for two solid hours with the members of the special Senate committee investigating alleged racketeer infiltration of labor unions and industry.

The committee, headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), is looking into charges that racketeers and Teamster Union officials from Seattle, Brewster's home city, tried to "muscle in" on rackets in Portland.

ADMITS ALTERATION

Under questioning, Terry testified that the minutes of a meeting of the Oregon State pinball operations organization were altered to "make them more factual" before a grand jury saw them. He said he had questioned the accuracy of the account of statements he made at a meeting.

The alterations, he said, were made by Alvin Brown, secretary of the pinball operators organization. The significance of the changes was not immediately developed.

The committee in this fourth day of public hearings in a nationwide investigation is digging into charges of an alliance between some West Coast Teamsters Union officials and underworld figures to "organize and control" vice and other rackets in Portland.

Under questioning by Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) and Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the committee, Terry denied that he personally ever had altered any minutes of meetings of the organization known as "Coin Machine Men of Oregon." He said it is "a non-profit organization, I hope."

"Not I, sir," Terry told Kennedy when asked whether he had altered any of the minutes by removing pages and retyping them. But he said that "Al Brown, paid secretary" of the organization did.

He did not say when this occurred, but that he "hailed" Brown when he saw him in a Portland street, en route to hand over the minutes to a grand jury.

He said he pointed to the book of minutes, told Brown to "let me see that" and started reading through it.

"One page said 'Terry said this, Terry said that, Terry said that'," the witness related.

"I said 'Terry must have been doing a lot of talking at this meeting,'" Terry continued. "Stan Terry must have been doing all the talking."

He said he then asked Brown "are you sure Terry said all that?" and that Brown replied he wasn't, and added:

"All right, I'll change it. I'll make it more factual."

James B. Elkins, Portland gambler, was the witness who testified yesterday that Terry told him of paying $10,000 to Brewster.

Group Tackles Sewer Problem

To Get Cost Estimate on Sanitary System for Walton Heights

A newly formed citizens' committee to seek sanitary sewer facilities for the Walton Heights Subdivision in Pontiac Township met Thursday night to consider its next move.

The group had met recently with Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman to find out if Pontiac would accept sanitary sewage from the township.

The members were told by Willman that an official request from the Pontiac Township Board would have to be made before any consideration could be given the project by Pontiac.

Last night, the citizens' committee decided to amass cost estimates of a sewer system in and around the subdivision and present the figures to the township board after the April 1 election.

A total sewer program for the township was laid out several months ago by an engineering firm, and the committee will take its figures from this survey.

Planners Seek Early Decision on Highway

4½ miles long and 350 feet wide. It would require 10 highway grade separations and three railroad grade separations as it passes through Pontiac.

Ninety per cent of the project ($18,000,000) would be paid by federal funds. Pontiac and the state would split the remaining $2,000,000 cost.

The southern connection would be the Southfield interstate highway. The northern link would be with the proposed relocation of U.S. 10.

In December, George N. Skrubb, director of the planning commission, stated that 85 per cent of the right-of-way necessary for the road, is undeveloped.

PLAN HEAVY CAPACITY

It has been designed for a daily vehicular capacity of 80,000, with provisions for two additional lanes, which would boost the capacity to 105,000 vehicles.

Twelve ramps similar to those in the Detroit expressway system, would enable motorists to enter and leave the road within Pontiac.

It is proposed that a one-way street system would be adopted in conjunction with these ramps.

WILLMAN COOL

Commenting on the Oakland County Planning Commission's proposed Pontiac Central Artery expressway, Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman said, "We don't see where it is going to be any good to us."

Willman appeared before a joint meeting of the City Commission and City Planning Commission to discuss the future of the city's planning.

"The question of the road is eventually going to be settled by the State Highway Department and the Bureau of Public Roads," Willman said.

Several commissioners questioned why the road would not be more favorable to the east of the city in order to pull industrial truck traffic.

"This proposal opposes the whole theory of trying to divert traffic around the city instead of through it," the manager said.

The official admitted that one major advantage to the six-lane expressway project would be that the city would "get a few grade separations out of the way."

Discussing the advantages and disadvantages of the route, Willman said he doubted whether it would reduce congestion downtown.

"Frankly, I understand the state system planners see no good in the proposed route, while the route planners are a little more favorable to it," Willman told the commissioners.

The meeting arose over the fact that school has been closed one day because buses were unable to approach the school, and because a number of cars were mired there when parents attended a Cub Scout meeting recently.

Tony Spina, chairman of last night's meeting, was named to head a committee to investigate the situation further.

A Board of Education spokesman said that when the school district applied for a stop light on a highly traveled location it was told by authorities that it should not build schools on main thoroughfares.

In the case of the Eastover School, built on a side street, the spokesman said the board had been advised by the same authorities to build on paved roads.

Oscar Loomis, representing the road commissioners, told the group that he could make no definite promise of road improvement but that he would carry the message back to commissioners and urge immediate relief measures.

Israel Announces Withdrawal Today

He insisted that the Gaza Strip must return to the conditions existing before the Israeli invasion last fall, unless Egypt consented to changes.

"At no time," he said, "can the U. N. Emergency Force be used as an army of occupation."

Hammarskjold will have the responsibility of seeing to it that the Assembly's edits are carried out and must give all-out support to U.N. commander in Egypt, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada.

The thorniest question facing the secretary general after the Israeli withdrawal is completed will be that of keeping U.N. forces in the evacuated areas as long as considered necessary to forstall renewed hostilities between Egypt and Israel.

The sequence of events in the Assembly and elsewhere will on the whole include the following:

1. A reservation by Israel of its rights under Article 51 of the U.N. Charter to take defensive action in the event Egypt reimposes a blockade in the Gulf of Aquaba or launches new attacks in the Gaza area.

2. Declarations by the leading maritime powers after the Israeli evacuation that the gulf is an international waterway open to all ships, including Israeli. These powers include the United States, Britain, France, Canada, Norway and The Netherlands.

3. Another declaration by these powers respecting the maintenance of peace and security for both sides in the Gaza Strip. These declarations are expected, in the long run, to stamp their influence on keeping the Suez Canal open to Israeli shipping.

This formula, agreed upon in Washington in negotiations between top U.S. and Israeli officials and endorsed by Premier David Ben-Gurion in Jerusalem, calls for withdrawal of Israel forces from captured areas in the next day or two.

BIGGER PROBLEM

Evacuation of the Gaza Strip is a bigger problem than Aqaba and will take longer, because of the presence of Israeli civilian administration in the region.

Air Raid Testing Begins With Sirens on Saturday

BIRMINGHAM — Birmingham's first air raid siren test will take place at 1 p.m. Saturday according to Robert Kenning, assistant city manager and civil defense director for the city. Kenning said the test will become a monthly affair coinciding with the Detroit tests on the first Saturday of each month.

The test, which will simulate a real alert, will start with a two minute steady blast followed by one minute of silence. This will then pick up the two-minute wailing tone alternating between high and low pitch, Kenning explained.

"In case of a real alert sirens would blow the steady blast for five minutes," Kenning said. "The single 'take cover' signal cannot be scheduled on any time interval, but will be the wailing note for a three minute period". Kenning added that there are no immediate plans being made by the city to use these signals as tornado warnings.

Let Contracts for 2 Schools

Pontiac Firms to Erect Beaumont, Schoolcraft Units in Waterford

Contracts for construction of the new William Beaumont and Harry R. Schoolcraft Schools were signed at a Waterford Township School Board meeting last night. The contracts must be approved by attorney Marshall Smith.

Contracts were awarded to the Bundy Construction Co. and the McHugh Construction Co. of Pontiac at a special meeting held a week ago.

The school board decided to use the same type of light colored bricks as has been used on newly built elementary schools in Waterford Township.

Other business included a recommendation submitted by William Shunck, superintendant of schools, relative to replacement of teaching personnel for this school year and some requests for release from contracts for leave of absence.

The board will approve plans for the John D. Pierce Junior High School at a special meeting to be held next Thursday.

U.N. Army Under Burns Set to Enter Gaza, Aqaba

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — A crack force of 6,000 international troops under U. N. Commander E. L. M. Burns is ready to move at a moment's notice into the Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba.

The U. N. Emergency Force (UNEF), comprising picked troops from 10 member nations, faces a new and crucial responsibility:

To maintain peace between Egyptians and Israelis in the last occupied areas held by Israel.

The Canadian major general, as head of UNEF, has the authority to deploy his troops into Gaza and the gulf coast in the wake of the Israeli evacuation. No further directives are necessary from U. N. headquarters in New York.

Burns will work out the details of the UNEF movement into Gaza and the coastal region and will decide on his own which units from his 10-nation army will take up positions in the evacuated territories.

Presumably, Burns will keep a large number of forces "at large" for possible deployment to other areas if ordered to take up positions on both sides of the demarcation line.

Once in the Gaza Strip and on the Aqaba coast, the U. N. troops should be in an effective position to preserve peace and prevent renewed attacks.

The troops are well-trained, efficient and disciplined, having already acquired a large degree of experience in their unique task of policing the cease-fire which ended the Anglo-French and Israeli attack on Egypt last October.

In addition, the troops carry strong moral weight and are symbolic of the U. N. efforts to safeguard peace in global trouble spots. Any attack on UNEF is an attack on the 80-nation world organization itself.

Call Message 'An April Fool Package'

Republicans Hit Williams' Tax Plan

LANSING (AP) — Senate Republicans, in a full dress reply to Gov. Williams taxation message, have called it "shocking" and "an April Fool package."

For nearly a half hour, several of them took turns yesterday blasting at the Williams plan for raising 76 million dollars in new revenues, mainly through a tax on corporation profits.

"There is gross inequity in the governor's program, because it is double taxation on corporations doing business in Michigan," said Sen. Clyde Geerlings.

Geerlings, Holland Republican and chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee, was the lead off man and No. 1 critic.

"A successful corporation has to pay twice, first an income tax, and second a receipts tax, both taxes imposed on the same base. It is not only inequitable but discriminatory," he said.

Later, Sen. Charles Blondy, (D-Detroit) struck back at Geerlings, said his speech lacked anything constructive and amounted to a program of "do nothing, see nothing and keep your powder dry."

STATE PROBLEMS

Blondy spoke of thousands of children "clamoring to get into our schools," and other state problems that need an answer.

Geerlings recalled that in his tax message the governor, besides proposing a corporation profits tax, recommended "keeping most of the business activities tax and abolishing the franchise tax based on net worth."

"To me," he said, "the governor's tax and appropriation scheme is shocking."

He said that when he first came to the legislature in 1951, appropriations for general governmental operations were 311 million dollars.

Since then, appropriations have gone up 19 million dollars, he said. He added:

"Gov. Williams' proposed increase of 87 million dollars is a staggering amount to a conservative legislator who believes that you cannot spend yourself rich."

DISPUTES ESTIMATE

Geerlings differed with the governor on his estimate that the proposed new levy will produce 22 million dollars for each per cent of the tax, or a total of 132 million in new revenue at 6 per cent.

He said the Williams figures were based on the level of business activity in 1955.

Sen. Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma) complained that business already is being driven from the state.

"Ask the Whirlpool people who moved out of Benton Harbor," he said.

"I know of another firm that has moved to Georgia. And at Three Rivers another firm moved 12 miles to get into Indiana."

Sen. Patrick J. Doyle (Dearborn) said the complaining senators came from rural areas and knew little about industry.

Doyle spoke of numerous plant expansions in southeastern Michigan, some of them very large.

Revolt Threat Fails to Scare Ben-Gurion

TEL AVIV, Israel (UP)— Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion today was reported unworried about threats of revolt in his coalition government over plans to withdraw Israeli troops from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba coast.

Informants said the 70-year-old Israeli leader told aides, "If I am not afraid of sanctions in the United Nations, I am not worried about sanctions in the Knesset (Parliament)."

The Achdut Avoda, third largest party in the coalition, threatened its two ministers would resign if Israeli troops pull out of the Gaza Strip without iron-clad guarantees that Egyptian troops will never be allowed to return. The party threatened the same action a week ago, then on Monday joined with other coalition members to give Ben-Gurion a resounding vote of confidence.

Summerfield Would Junk the Postal Savings System

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Summerfield today advocated junking of the 46-year-old Postal Savings system, currently holding about $1,700,000,000 in public deposits.

He said the system, whose founding largely stemmed from a distrust of banks by immigrants and from an effort to accommodate persons remote from private banks, had outlived its usefulness.

He added that the declining trend of deposits and the number of depositors "started 10 years ago and is not due primarily to the high interest rates on money at the present time." However, he said, "it is desirable that the government withdraw from competitive private business at every possible point."

Summerfield issued his statement in connection with hearings before the House Post Office Committee on a bill offered by chairman Murray (D-Tenn) providing for a start on liquidation on the Postal Savings Ssytem 30 days after passage.

"The Postal Savings System, started in 1910, no longer meets today's social condition and savings habits," Summerfield said.

NOT NEEDED TODAY

"Patrons in our larger cities do not require this banking service. Points of view have changed in the past half century; notably the traditional old-world distrust of banks. Today funds are invested with confidence in U.S. bonds and in government - guaranteed banks and savings and loan deposits.

"When the system was started the convenience of the citizens in small towns was a factor. This condition is no longer true now, for less than 2 per cent of the aggregate deposits and of all depositors are served by our small third and fourth class post offices."

Summerfield said the decline in postal deposits from close to 3½ billions in 1947 to $1,700,000,000 now was evidence that "the public is finding adequate security for its savings elsewhere."

The Postal Savings interest rate has generally been 2 per cent, except in Mississippi, where state law held the rate to 1½ per cent to prevent competition with private banking. Under a change in Mississippi law, the Postal interest rate there will advance to 2 per cent today.

Soviet Art Must Portray Red Life, Culture, Growth

MOSCOW (AP)—Any idea Soviet painters and sculptors may have of pursuing art for art's sake is out the window. The Communist party's powerful Central Committee says they must depict "the life and culture of the Soviet people and their struggle to build a Communist society."

Moscow radio last month broadcast a remark by Anatoli Chlenov, Moscow art critic, that it was better to paint a feminine nude than a shiny tractor or Stalin. The party committee turned thumbs down on such ideas.

The committee advised painters to leave the flowers and trees alone and "develop images of the Soviet people free from exploitation—workers, farmers, intellectuals in their spiritual growth."

Salemi Electrocuted After 7 Postponements

OSSINING, N.Y. (AP) — Leonardo Salemi, 46, died in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison last night after three years and eight months in the death house during which his electrocution was postponed seven times.

He denied until the end that he was guilty of the fatal shooting of Walter Forlenza in a Manhattan barroom in 1952. Appeals were argued up to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Authorities said the two men feuded over the narcotics racket.

Eden's Health Better; Can Take Short Walks

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Sir Anthony Eden is out of bed again after an attack of fever.

The former British Prime Minister arrived in New Zealand Feb. 21 for his health. He had suffered two attacks of fever on the liner Rangitata and became ill again Feb. 23.

An announcement said Eden's health was considerably improved and he was taking short walks.

Indonesian Communists to Be in New Assembly

Last November in a keynote address to the Indonesian Constituent Assembly after his return from Moscow and Belgrade, President Sukarno called for an end to political parties.

He urged the Assembly to draft a new constitution rejecting capitalism, a federal form of government and the "liberal democracy of the West." Now President Sukarno is asking that a new form of representative but "guided" government be substituted.

It would be a totalitarian regime and would do away with any form of real opposition. In this government the Communist party, which polled an ominous six million votes in the last election and which is much in favor of the change, would have a place at the top.

It's true that President Sukarno has had a difficult time since his election. The government of Indonesia has had 16 cabinets so far but has been unable to bring any degree of stability to this nation of 3,000 islands and 82 million population. The Moluccans have proclaimed an independent republic and riots have occurred in the Celebes, Borneo and Java. Sumatra is in open revolt.

Indonesian Communists have close ties with Peiping and now with official representation in the government, subversion won't be difficult. President Sukarno has stated many times that he would not object to Communists in his government. He apparently thinks they are just another legitimate political party and not an international conspiracy against the liberty of the Indonesians.

Recent history shows that Communists in the government of a non-Communist state eventually take over complete control of that state. It is to be hoped that some strong opposition develops to President Sukarno's proposal.

Okinawa's Red Mayor

Election of a Communist mayor in Naha, capital of Okinawa, last December isn't as much of a joke on the Americans as the businessmen and politicians once thought.

Mayor Senaga received 40 per cent of the vote with two other candidates splitting the pro-U. S. vote. He had been jailed by American authorities two years ago for concealing a Japanese Communist smuggled in from Japan and for giving false evidence. Funds for his campaign came from some of Japan's extreme left wing unions.

The mayor plans to set up a ward system with the leader of each ward responsible only to him, not to the city council. Tax schedules set up by Americans are to be discarded and assessors appointed by the mayor will determine individual tax bills. If Mayor Senaga puts this program into operation, Naha, the largest city of Okinawa will be dominated by a political machine controlled by hard core Communists, says U. S. News & World Report.

Of course, the new mayor could be thrown out of office on order of our military authorities. But that would be the totalitarian way of doing things and would violate the principle of free elections.

The 467 square mile island of Okinawa is America's largest outpost in the Pacific and represents an investment of two billion dollars. About one third of this sum has gone into construction, including vast storage depots underground and typhoon proof buildings. The Marines have a $100 million program to build a permanent base on the island.

Opposition to Mayor Senaga is building up. Mayors of dozens of villages have been organized "to combat Communism" and in Naha's city council meetings Mayor Senaga is under constant attack. All U. S. funds to aid Naha have been cut off and the Bank of the Ryukyus has frozen the city's accounts and discontinued loans to the municipality. Companies are refusing to pay taxes.

The 700,000 Okinawans are more prosperous now than they ever were under the Japanese. They have more food and better clothing and homes. That prosperity is based on U. S. spending there.

Perhaps the election of a Communist mayor may be a well disguised blessing. It may bring into the open mutual grievances and lead to better understanding and co-operation between the Okinawans and the United States.

The Man About Town

Do Not Appreciate

Size of County, Both in Its Population and Area

March: The lion and lamb month, but don't trust either, especially in a year when it makes its entry on Friday.

Few of its own residents appreciate the size of Oakland County, either in population or area. With its 600,000 population, it now outnumbers five states: Delaware, New Hampshire, Vermont, Wyoming and Nevada.

There are only 16 cities in our nation with a larger population: Baltimore, Boston, Buffalo, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Houston, Los Angeles, New Orleans, New York, Philadelphia, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, San Francisco and Washington.

It has a larger population than some whole nations like: Luxembourg, Monaco, San Marino, Leichtenstein and Iceland.

In area it is larger than any of the above nations except Luxembourg and Iceland, and is almost as large as the State of Rhode Island.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Middle Age Doesn't Kill Romance

Winthrop shows the technical curiosity of the true scientist. He wonders how we can be erotic after our sex glands have been surgically removed or have grown old. Study this case carefully for it contains some basic medico-psychological data. And send for the sex booklet named below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-317: Winthrop D., aged 47, is an industrial chemist.

"Dr. Crane, I wish to ask a very technical question," he began as we dined together recently.

"It pertains to such an emotion as love. When a person is young, his grands function actively and generate the sex drive, don't they?

"Well, when we pass middle-age and our glands don't function as actively, how can love and romance then continue?

"By what mechanism is it possible for people to be ardently in love through their Golden Wedding Day?"

BRAIN VS. GLANDS

At birth, food hunger is primarily a matter of the stomach. Crying and restless movements are produced by the fact that the active though empty stomach constantly bombards the brain with nervous impulses.

To show a newborn baby a bottle of milk will evoke no delight. For the eyes and brain do not yet link that bottle of white liquid with the stomach.

But the baby's brain will later become almost as strong a hunger goad as its empty stomach.

This occurs by what we call "conditioning." For when the baby repeatedly sees the bottle of white milk and links it with the satisfaction of his stomach cramps, that milk then becomes a "meaningful" stimulus.

In adulthood we then grow fat because the very sight of food appeals to the food center in the brain and thus incites psychic hunger, even though our stomach is not demanding food.

So the brain ultimately takes over the goading that originally was limited to certain organs and glands.

The situation is similar to a two-way light switch which can be operated from the foot of the stairs as well as from the top of the stairs.

LOVE VS. FOOD

Love hunger is much like food hunger in this respect. Originally, the erotic glands cause us to "light up" with romantic interest.

Later, the brain becomes a second "switch" which can also turn on the emotion.

One reason why we have the bald headed row at the burlesque show or follies is this attempt to fan the waning flames of love by extra stimulation at the mental level.

Pornographic pictures and other lurid fiction attempt to work on the love centers that have developed in the human brain over a period of many years.

There is also a false notion that the womb and ovaries in a woman are the major triggers for setting off the emotion called love.

But the womb can be surgically removed in youth or cease its normal monthly function at the age of 45, yet the woman's love life is not significantly affected.

The ovaries, too, may be surgically removed because of a cystic condition therof, yet the woman may be even more passionate than before.

MENOPAUSAL MISTAKES

Alas, millions of wives since Eve have become frightened and upset after they passed the age of 40, just because they erroneously imagined they could no longer be thrilled or thrilling in marriage.

Actually, sexual excitement is largely a matter of the mind or human brain. So it is foolish for women to dread the age of 45 and for men to get worked up in terror of impotence.

Both men and women can function in the erotic realm without the need for the sex glands at all, especially after having used the latter long enough for the brain to become the second "switch" to light up romantic emotions.

Send for my booklet "Sex Differences Between Men & Women," enclosing a stamped return envelop, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. —Luke 12:29.

A refusal to believe that God loves us is the unbelief which destroys the soul.—E. N. Kirk.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Fear of Dampness Sent Dr. Osler to Early Grave

In the face of the familiar boast about the vast strides medicine has made in the past 30, 40, 50 or 60 years, one needs temerity to smile, much more to make any sarcracks, at the belief held by Dr. Osler fifty years ago, that chronic rheumatism "commonly comes on insidiously in persons who have passed the middle period of life."

BRADY

Nothing wrong about that if you will, substitute chronic joint disability for the meaningless "chronic rheumatism," but the funny part follows.

"It is most common among the poor," continued the sage of Montreal, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Oxford, to the embarrassment of all snobs with lame joints, "particularly washerwomen, day-laborers and those whose occupation exposes them to cold and damp."

Dr. Osler didn't bother to give a definition of chronic rheumatism as he did of most diseases in his famous textbook of Practice, but the morbid anatomy he described would get an A as a definition of physical degeneration of joint tissues, but for one slip—where he refers to changes in muscles adjacent to chronically inflamed joints.

Osler's description of the morbid anatomy mentioned no sign or evidence of inflammation. However, that made no difference to the trick specialists and clinic racketeers who began to infest medicine about the time Dr. Osler was at the end of his career. They sold the customers arthr-itis (joint inflammation), regardless.

SOUNDED EXCLUSIVE

Arthr-itis sounded so very exclusive that everybody insisted on having it, and for 20 or 30 years a doctor who tactlessly diagnosed "rheumatism"—well, he might as well have called his patients washerwomen or day-laborers.

Dr. William Osler succumbed prematurely, I think, because of his morbid obsession with the idea that cold, chilling, or dampness was harmful. This obsession indelibly stained his famous Practice, particularly the chapter on pneumonia. It makes his view of rheumatism quaint if not absurd—in the light of our present knowledge.

And it sticks out like a sore thumb in the final chapters of Cushing's Life of the great teacher. It is my earnest belief that Osler might have lived as long as, say, Oliver Wendell Holmes or Joseph Lister or at least as long as Louis Pasteur but for his preoccupation with damp and cold.

These animadversions, fifty years after Osler, are without prejeducie. Although I want to call names and pound the table, I am still moved to tears by Dr. Cushing's description of Sir William's last days.

Whatever Osler believed about cold, damp and exposure, whether in relation to bronchitis and pneumonia or rheumatism, I cannot help wishing that he had been born just one generation later.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Mr. Rowland Gives Advice Concerning Buying Home

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The average GI is eager to get into a home of his own. It is my advice to check with your Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce on the reliability of the companies. Check with your City Building Inspector. Know what your building code and restrictions are. Also, know what type of zone you will be in.

Retain a lawyer and have him examine your contract and legal affairs. Check your taxes and insurance and possible assessments and be sure that you have enough income to cover all of these.

There are many mortgage companies which are very happy to sell you with the oral promise of $55 or $60 a month, taxes and insurance included. But watch out!

Then your nice new home starts to fall apart. Write to the VA and complain. They have some wonderful excuses. Nine times out of ten the company that built your home has liquidated.

Don't buy blindly, and if at all possible, wait and save until you can buy a home with a good down payment, mortgaged through one of your local banks, checked by your local inspector and licensed under your own area, instead of from someone 50 or 100 miles away.

Buy locally where you know that these people must make good in order to keep a good reputation and keep their licenses.

Likes Ambition of Pontiac Boy

Have been a reader of The Press for 33 years and find it to be one of the best. While going through last year's papers, I noticed an article about a Pontiac boy whose hobby is swimming and life guarding, and I like his hobby very much and love his ambition, it's so outstanding.

He wants to study to be a Coast Guard chaplain. I hope he keeps up the good work and may the Lord bless him.

Backs Waterford in Traffic Patrol

I was in complete accord with your editorial on the alleged "speed trap" and wish to congratulate you.

A daily Dixie driver, I have been amazed at the public's driving habits since the inauguration of the Waterford Police Department. I used to feel I was taking my life in my hands on the Dixie, but now think I have a better than even chance, all due to vigilant patrol.

Having been affiliated with safety work for some time, it has been ironic to follow each year the hue and cry over the mounting traffic death toll. The Governor calls meetings to curb the rising rate and Waterford, even before the Governor's conferences, began a drive on speeders and traffic violators. They have maintained a good, fair and consistent policy toward the motoring public. Yet because a few of the Flint citizenry were apprehended, Williams' attorney general got up in arms and demanded an investigation of a "speed trap."

I personally hope the Waterford Police continue to be one of the departments in this area concentrating on good, fair but strict traffic enforcement.

Owner Discusses Insurance on Dogs

I bought a Doberman dog and paid $125. At that time we could afford a good dog. A dog can become part of your family.

A few months ago the dog came in the house and was very sick and a vet said he was poisoned. The bill was $25. This is cheap when you love your pet, but that was one week we didn't eat at home. It was all the money I had.

Last week he was hit by a car. You can't blame the person driving the car and you can't blame the dog. Well, four years back I would have taken the dog to a vet, but today I can't afford it.

I have talked to a lot of people who have pets and have asked them if they would insure their pet for $12 a year if they could. There wasn't one who wouldn't.

You would contact the insurance company, sign the application and then take this and your dog to the vet. He would check your pet, sign the application, and this would be worth $1.00 to the vet for his service.

I have talked to three men who would finance and back an insurance company like this.

Questions Free Rabies Vaccine

About the statement in a Press ad that rabies vaccinations would be given free if necessary, my husband took our dog to the Animal Shelter and inquired about the free service. He was told they hadn't even heard of such a thing.

Why was that statment allowed in the paper with the Health Department's endorsement if it weren't so? I would like an answer in the paper, as others may have had the same experience.

Mrs. S. R. Holiday

(Editor's Note: Dr. Bates, head of the Animal Shelter, says to his knowledge nobody was turned down on the free vaccination. All the people have to do is sign a card stating they are unable to pay. They present this to the cashier in lieu of the $2.00. Instead of finding out the procedure to get a free vaccination, these people stood in line and had the dog vaccinated. Then they went to the cashier and the cashier told Mr. Holiday it would be $2.00. Mr. Holiday paid and nothing more was said. They vaccinated 419 dogs Sunday and were terribly busy.)

November Petition Gets No Action

We live on East Avon road south of Rochester. Last November we petitioned for speed control signs on this road between Rochester road and John R, but we are still waiting. We would like to know what to do next.

We have talked to some county officials, but feel we are being given the old run-around. Many children live in this area, and the extreme speed of traffic makes it unsafe for them or adults. Will we have to wait for a child to be killed before we get the signs?

Is Against Pension for Ex-Presidents

I see the Press is ballyhooing for pensions for ex-presidents, and I think something was said before about pensions for their widows. It seems the salary they draw while in office plus paid expenses should keep them in cigarette money for a few years (unless they pull a Joe Louis).

As for widows, I don't think Eleanor Roosevelt, as an example, is in very dire need. Ex-Presidents usually have enough know-how to associate with some business to earn a few extra dollars if needed. As for the advice, would you want to pay for Truman's advice? And after the jam Hoover got us into, I'd take his advice with a very large grain of salt.

And who is to foot the bill? Why, the little $65 to $80 a week wage earner, of course, the same one who pays all other bills. Just how silly can we get?

Seconds Request for Better Service

It was of interest to us to read the letter about Birmingham mail. We had thought we were just unlucky with our mail.

A letter mailed February 14 air mail from California was finally delivered Feb. 20. A package mailed Feb. 13 regular mail from Clare (about 140 miles) was delivered Feb. 17. On many occasions the mailman didn't reach our house until after dark.

One time our neighborhood went without mail delivery for three weekdays. No holidays were involved, and a call to the Post Office brought a reply, "Sorry, we're doing the best that we can." They then hung up on us.

If this is the result of insufficient pay, or a shortage of help, I can certainly pay more postage. If it is something else, an investigation might be worthwhile. Not many of us would want to work under mailmen's conditions, but ours never complains. He just keeps plugging along in true Post Office tradition.

OBJECT OF CRITICISM — Mrs. William David, of 2345 Lochaven Rd., Waterford Township, has complained about the maintenance and condition of the Waterford School District's busses. Supt. of Schools William Shunck and transportation head William Bowden have defended the operation and maintenance.

Two School Officials Defend Busses

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Of Our Waterford Bureau

Waterford Township school officials defended their school bus transportation system today, following recent criticism.

In a letter from Mrs. William David, 2345 Lochaven, published in Wednesday's Pontiac Press, she accused the school system of negligence regarding the maintenance and operating conditions of the bus system.

Her 6-year old daughter, Deborah and David Mayer, 6 were injured in an accident last spring when a school bus hit a tree.

At that time, she claims that the school officials promised to investigate and improve transportation conditions. She charged they have not kept their word.

According to William Bowden, administration assistant in charge of operation and maintenance of transportation, an intensive survey was made regarding bus check-ups; driver personnel; and maintenance of buses in comparable school systems.

Results of the survey showed that the Waterford Township school bus system used as much or more help than such schools as Walled Lake and the Huron Valley school system.

The "sit-down" loads were the same, and the bus check-up system was on a par, or better than most school systems, he said.

Bowden said, "Three things govern the operation of our transportation system. They are: the periodic 1,000-mile check-ups; the drivers daily report on malfunction of their individual buses and the annual report made by the State Police in the fall."

The Waterford Township school's transportation crew includes a full time maintenance superintendent, a full time mechanic, a full time helper and Bowden, in charge of maintenance personnel.

There are 28 buses used on regular runs with two older ones used for spares. Four of the regular run buses were new, in August, and five more will be ordered this spring for next year's operation. This is annual procedure and the average bus now in use is of 1954 vintage, Bowden said.

He explained that state-aid officials estimate that school buses depreciate one-seventh, yearly or that the average use of a bus is seven years.

"Over 95 per cent of any bus stoppage on the road is due to engine, ignition or tire failure and our bus break-down record is better this year than any previous time since it has been under my supervision," Bowden said.

William Shunck, superintendent of Waterford Township schools said, "In my opinion, under Bowden's supervision and as a result of changes in maintenance personnel made last summer, our maintenance program is definitely superior to what it was last year, and is continuing to improve on efficiency."

Another Marine Sergeant Faces Discipline Trial

By BEM PRICE

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—A 28-year-old sergeant at this Marine training center faces a summary court-martial today in the third of four scheduled trials of drill instructors charged with mistreating recruits.

Sgt. Daniel J. Corey, of Somerville, Mass., is accused of striking two recruits and forcing a third to eat candy until he was nearly ill.

Corey is charged with striking Pvts. Thomas Hayes, 19, of Lawrence, Mass., and George D. Toper 20, of Watertown, N. Y., and of forcing Pvt. John J. Barone, 18, of Chester, Pa., to stuff candy into his own mouth.

If convicted by the summary court, Corey faces a maximum sentence of 20 days imprisonment, a reduction in rank to private and a fine.

Two drill instructors were convicted Tuesday on mistreatment charges.

Sgt. Clinton L. Jones of Pensacola, Fla., was convicted by a summary court-martial of hitting Toper. Jones was ordered confined for 30 days, reduced in rank to private first class and fined $50.

S. Sgt. William E. Rich, 23, of Canton, N. C., was convicted of unlawfully laying hands on Pvt. Kenneth Allen Benjamin, 19, of New York City.

A fourth trial tentatively has been set next Thursday for Cpl. William R. Walsh, 25, of Lundhurst, N. J. Walsh will face a special court-martial on charges of striking 11 recruits.

Maximum sentence if convicted by a special court-martial is a bad conduct discharge, six months imprisonment at hard labor, reduction in rank to private and loss of all pay during confinement.

Pays Fine for Sale of Illegal Sausage

A Detroit meat salesman, accused of distributing sausage containing illegal ingredients to a Pontiac grocery store, pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Maurice Finnegan Wednesday.

Lawrence Gill, 9616 Hubbell St., a salesman for the Cudahy Packing Company of Omaha, Neb., paid a $25 fine instead of a 10 day jail sentence.

A warrent naming both Gill and the company was obtained by James McCollum, Oakland County food inspector for the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

McCollum said the canned product, labeled breakfast sausage, contained illegal ingredients including cereal, pork stomachs, beef lungs and pork hearts.

Racket Quiz Challenge to Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — If certain underworld characters don't like the quick-tempered lawyer who quizzes them in the Senate rackets investigations, they can blame themselves for his presence.

They crossed swords with Robert F. Kennedy in some preliminary investigations just as he was thinking about quitting the investigative scene.

So naturally Kennedy's Irish temper flared, and naturally he decided to see the investigation through. He says it looks like a good solid year of work ahead.

Kennedy was counsel to the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee last summer, trying to wind up an investigation of alleged graft in some military contracts, when the names of some New York hoodlums popped into the testimony.

WANTED TO QUIT; NOW DIGS

Kennedy and his boss, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), the subcommittee chairman, began digging deeper. By year's end, instead of cleaning out his desk, Kennedy was in a mushrooming investigation which turned into the current hearings on alleged racketeer infiltration of labor unions and industry.

Kennedy had intended, he announced in 1955, to step out of the Senate investigating picture shortly after the 1957 Congress convened. Instead he is counsel to the special committee the Senate created to handle the rackets inquiry and McClellan again is his boss. They are a hard-driving team.

Kennedy, 31, often is mistaken for a youth scarcely old enough to vote. Actually he is the father of five children, the eldest 5 years old, and is a veteran of World War II.

DISTINGUISHED FAMILY

His father is Joseph P. Kennedy, Boston financier and former U. S. ambassador to England. His brother is Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass). His own life thus far has been an adventurous career.

He played varsity end on the Harvard University football team and after graduation became a war correspondent for the Boston Post. He covered for that paper the fighting in Palestine which led to the creation of Israel as a nation.

He toured through Greece during its civil war, went to Czechoslovakia after it fell to the Communists and wrote stories for the Boston Globe, then returned to this country and got a law degree from the University of Virginia in 1951.

KNOWS WORLD'S TROUBLE

Julie London to Wed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Composer Bobby Troup and singer Julie London have announced they will marry this spring. Miss London, divorced wife of Jack Webb, television actor and producer, credits Troup with encouraging her to start a new career as a singer after quitting films. She is 30 and Troup 38.

In 1955 he took a leave of absence from the subcommittee to accompany Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas on a six-week tour of Russia and of places in Central Asia they believe no other American ever had penetrated.

Kennedy, a Democrat, started working for the government in the Justice Department's Criminal Prosecutions Division. He quit to manage his brother's 1952 senatorial campaign and joined the investigating subcommittee's staff in January 1953. He has been with the subcommittee since.

He was named chief counsel in January 1955, and stated then that he expected to step out shortly after the start of this year. He says he probably would have done so had he not become "so wrapped up" in the rackets investigation.

Ann Sothern Notes Smoke Minus Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Ann Sothern was having tea yesterday afternoon in her 14th-floor suite at the Plaza Hotel when she noticed something odd about her fireplace.

Smoke was coming out of it, although she hadn't built a fire.

She called the desk and firemen who rushed to the scene were as puzzled as she. Then a floor-by-floor inspection began.

Twelve floors below — on the second — they traced smoke to the apartment maintained by Architect Frank Lloyd Wright.

Wright was away and a friend (not identified) was occupying the place. The guest, not knowing the fireplace was practically plugged up and unusable, started to burn some papers in it.

Some of the smoke somehow made its way up the flue to Miss Sothern's abode. By the time the fire fighters reached the Wright apartment, the guest had put out the flames.

Years Shroud Facts of Famous Crime

Was Lindbergh Kidnaper a Lone Operator?

By SAMUEL G. BLACKMAN

HOPEWELL, N.J. (AP)—Twenty-five years ago tonight, Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. was kidnaped from his crib.

The intervening years have produced no evidence to challenge the state's theory that Bruno Richard Hauptmann—and Hauptmann alone—perpetrated the nation's most famous kidnaping case.

H. Norman Schwarzkopf, who as head of the New Jersey state police directed the search which led to Hauptmann's arrest, observes today:

"Not only has there been no new evidence, but I do not see how there could be."

Hauptmann, a sullen 36-year-old Bronx, N.Y. carpenter, died in the electric chair for the crime, but not before New Jersey's governor, the late Harold G. Hoffman, intervened in his behalf.

Hoffman paid a secret visit to Hauptmann in the Trenton death house in his effort to get "a complete solution" of the case which he said "reeked of unfairness, prejudice and passion." He granted one 30-day reprieve, but apparently found no justification for a second.

Yet, shortly before his death in 1954, Hoffman had remarked, "I believe that the crime was committed by more than one person."

The Lindbergh kidnaping shocked the nation.

He and his wife, the former Anne Morrow, were in their 2½-story whitewashed house unexpectedly that raw, windy night of March 1,1932, because their only son, Charles Jr., 19 months old, had a cold. They had spent a weekend there and delayed their return to the home of Mrs. Lindbergh's mother in Englewood.

As the Lindberghs talked in a downstairs room, they heard a noise which Lindbergh dismissed as a rustling of the wind. But he said later it sounded like "the top slats of an orange box falling off a chair." He fixed the time at about 9:10.

Fifty minutes later, a nursemaid found the baby missing from his crib. On the window was a crude note demanding $50,000 ransome. On the ground nearby was a three-piece ladder—broken in one place—and a chisel.

They were the only clues, but they figured importantly in solving the case.

Through Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon, an intermediary, Lindbergh paid the $50,000 ransom the night of April 2 in a Bronx cemetery to a man behind a hedge who directed, "Hey doctor, doctor, over here!"

The man behind the hedge passed to Dr. Condon a note—as crudely written as previous ones—which said, "The boy is on the boat Nelly."

Lindbergh was still seeking the boat off the Virginia Capes on May 12 when word came to him that the child's body had been found in a shallow grave five miles from home.

The search for the kidnaper—or kidnapers—was intensified.

Circulars carrying the serial numbers of the ransome money—$35,000 in gold certificates and $15,000 in other paper currency—were distributed throughout the nation. When President Roosevelt called in all gold certificates, a depression measure, banks quietly got a new alert to watch for ransom bills.

A motorist gave a $10 gold note to a Bronx gas station attendant on Sept. 15, 1934. The attendant jotted the auto license numbers on the bill. The trail led to Hauptmann, who was arrested four days later. He had a $20 ransom gold note in his possession, and in his garage police found $14,600 more.

Hauptmann stood trial for murder in Flemington the next January.

Hauptmann's story was that he had found the money in a shoe box left in his possession by a friend named Isidor Fisch, who had returned to Germany in 1933 and died there in 1934.

Frank J. Wilson, a special agent in charge of the intelligence unit of the Internal Revenue Service, was asked by the state:

"So far as you know, Mr. Wilson, since the indictment of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for murder has there been one ransom bill turned up?"

"No sir."

David T. Wilentz, then attorney general of New Jersey, who asked the question, says that answer is still good today. Grover Richman Jr., the present attorney general, and Schwarzkopf agree not a bill has turned up since.

Seven handwriting experts testified the handwriting on 14 ransom notes was Hauptmann's. One said, "He might just as well have signed each and every one of them."

Koehler spent nearly two years tracing the wood in the kidnap ladder. He traced one piece from a lumber mill in South Carolina to the Bronx lumber yard where Hauptmann was a customer. He said another piece had once been part of a floor board in Hauptmann's attic. Koehler said also that the chisel found near the ladder had been used in its construction.

The state's evidence against Hauptmann was largely circumstantial, but New Jersey's highest court said it "pointed unerringly to guilt."

Manipulate Resistance to Infection

Yale Scientist Can Induce, Prevent Cancers in Mice

NEW HAVEN (INS) — A Yale University scientist reported that he can induce or prevent mouse cancers at will by manipulating natural resistance to infection.

Dr. Francisco Duran-Reynals, noted microbiologist at the Yale School of Medicine, made the disclosure in a report on an extensive series of investigations.

He showed that unusual cancers can be induced in animals with a combination of a seemingly innocent virus, innocuous quantities of a cancer-causing chemical and hormones which lower resistance of infection.

On the other hand, he said he has failed to produce those cancers by using no hormone at all or by substituting a hormone which builds natural resistance to infection.

USE 3 AGENTS

Only the three agents together—virus, chemical and hormone—produced the cancers. Singly or by two, no other combination worked, he said.

Dr. Duran-Reynals, whose work is supported by the American Cancer Society, used a virus, vaccina, the anti-smallpox vaccine, in his experiments.

He applied a standard cancer-causing coal tar product called methycholanthrene, but only a small fraction of the dose required to produce cancers in significant numbers.

To depress natural resistance to infection he injected cortisone, a hormone produced by the outer tissues of the adrenal glands.

What the findings mean in human cancer is not yet clear. But, according to the ACS, they indicate a possibility — but not a probability — that common viruses may play a role in human cancers. They indicate further that certain chemicals may act in concert with viruses to cause cancer.

Driver Says Breath Is 'Cough Medicine'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A 44-year-old defendant told quarterly court that wasn't alcohol on his breath—it was "cough medicine."

William James Mohr brought the last of his bottle of cough syrup as exhibit "A" of what he said the patrolman smelled after Mohr's car reportedly struck a police cruiser.

Judge Arthur C. Coaplen and prosecutor James Thornberry both sniffed the medicine. They agreed it didn't smell like alcohol.

Mohr was fined $100 for drunken driving.

Western-Style Art

LONDON (AP)—The London Daily Worker, which has served up a measure of independent communism since the Russian intervention in Hungary, broke out today with some full-fledged, Western-style cheesecake on Page 1. The picture was of bosomy Michele Andrews, an aspiring movie actress, in short, black tights.

The Paris Metro (the French subway) has some de luxe cars which cost extra fare. The cars are sprayed with perfume.

'Mad Bomber' to Stand Trial

George Metesky Insane but New York Jury Must Hear Case

NEW YORK (AP)—"Mad Bomber" George Metesky, although declared legally insane, must stand trial.

The 54-year-old Metesky, from Waterbury, Conn., freely admitted he planted 32 homemade bombs in New York City over a 16-year period. During this time he was supported by his two spinster sisters.

In General Sessions Court yesterday the state sought to postpone a hearing in the case before Judge John A. Mullen.

Mullen ordered that Bellevue send someone to make an oral report to him.

Dr. John H. Cassity, senior psychiatrist at Bellevue, said Metesky is a schizophrenic (split personality) and also suffers from paranoia—characterized by delusions of persecution and grandeur.

Metesky has said he planted the bombs because of a grudge against the Consolidated Edison Co., which he claimed failed to compensate him adequately for an injury while in their employ in 1931.

Twenty-two of the bombs exploded. Fifteen persons were injured, none seriously.

No trial date was set.

Gore Bill Sets Campaign Limits

Puts Realistic Rules on Political Expenses in Presidential Election

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) today offered an election reform bill to fix presidential campaign spending limits at levels he said were "realistic."

The measure also would impose stringent new rules on political contributions and set up strict requirements for public disclosure both of spending by parties and candidates and of campaign gifts by individuals.

In the last session Gore was chairman of the Senate Elections subcommittee, which conducted a detailed investigation of the 1956 campaign. It reported political spending last year of $33,185,725, and said the actual amount "far surpasses that figure."

The basic new presidential campaign spending limit in the bill would be 20 cents multiplied by the number of popular votes in the preceding presidential election.

This would mean, for instance, that the candidates for president and vice president on a party ticket could spend something over 32 million dollars in 1960 since the 1956 vote total was a little over 62 million.

Half this total could be spent by national committees and the other half by state and local committees.

The bill also would impose limits on spending in primaries; there are none in this area now.

C'MON SISSY!—Tom is a 14-month-old foundling cat who refuses to grow up. He was brought up on a doll nursing bottle and now won't drink milk any other way. Richard Shryne, of North Hollywood, California, shown feeding him, says the cat nearly starved to death recently when the Shryne family went on a vacation trip and left him with friends who tried to feed him from a saucer.

2 to Testify in Probe of Medical Bill Bribe

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Two newsmen were called today to testify before a committee of the Texas House of Representatives investigating a charge that a House member consented to accept a $5,000 bribe to withdraw a medical bill.

Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen, committee chairman, said the witnesses today would include Ed Watson and Bill Bradford of the Conroe (Tex.) Daily Courier. The newsmen said the accused member, State Rep. James E. Cox, 36, of Conroe, told them he agreed to accept the money as part of a lobbyist trap.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock testified before the committee last night and said Cox consulted with him about the alleged bribe offer. Carr said Cox wanted to kill himself after admitting he agreed to take the bribe.

Earlier in a tearful speech before the House, Cox maintained he consented to accept the bribe in a plan to trap "crooked lobbyists."

Local Dealer Charged With Resale of Meat

A Pontiac grocer pleaded innocent to a charge of selling pulverized meats to other stores for resale without the proper license and was freed under a personal bond Wednesday.

Leo Metz, owner of Farmer's Super Market, 484 Auburn Ave., appeared before Municipal Judge Maurice Finnegan on a warrant obtained by the Michigan State Food Inspector James McCollum.

McCollum accuses Metz of being a wholesaler of the meats without possessing the proper $100 license. Trial was set for March 13.

'Official' Advice Sterilizes Minks; Man Brings Suit

DETROIT (AP) — Faulty advice from the U. S. Department of Agriculture fixed his minks so they could not become parents, a Michigan man told a traveling federal court here yesterday in an effort to collect $50,000 damages.

The mass sterilization of his herd ruined his business, said Karl Kromer of Anchorville, and he now is operating a bar at his home town.

Kromer charged that his minks became sterile in 1950 because he fed them wastes from slaughtered chickens which had been injected with synthetic female hormones to make them fat and tender.

He said he was acting on the advice of the Agriculture Department when he fed the wastes to the minks.

Kromer's attorney, Bruce Parkhill of Chicago, said 28 other mink raisers from New York to Minnesota have filed similar claims, totaling about one million dollars.

Commissioner Marion T. Bennett of the U. S. Court of Claims is holding hearings in all states where mink raisers have complained the Agriculture Department's advice damaged their herds.

Agreeing to stop "out-dressing" each other, fashion-conscious women members of the Parent-Teachers Association in Shimonoseki, Southern Japan, adopted a simple "kimono-coat" of navy blue nylon serge.

Italy's Segni Wins Vote of Confidence

ROME (AP) — Premier Antonio Segni today won a narrow vote of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies for his 20-month-old coalition government. He appeared headed for more and worse trouble soon.

The vote approving a government farm tenancy reform program was 285-277, with 1 abstention. The required majority was 282.

Segni's Christian Democrats and the allied Social Democrats and Liberals voted for the government. But the Liberals, with 14 votes in the Chamber, decided reluctantly to support Segni only two hours before the balloting.

Reds Use Weak Excuse to Veto Kashmir Action

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The Soviet Uuion has cast an estimated 80 vetoes in the U. N. Security Council.

The latest was used to block a resolution that had some prospect of advancement in the dangerous issue of Kashmir.

Under the terms of the resolution the Council's president, Gunnar V. Jarring of Sweden, was to be sent to India and the northern state of Kashmir to try another mediation job.

There also was the possibility of using a U. N. emergency force to aid in the holding of a plebiscite, a matter recommended by the U. N. and urged by Pakistan. The latter has struggled with India for a decade over the Kashmir territory.

All the Council members except the Soviet Union favored the resolution, although Jarring himself abstained as a matter of diplomacy in a situation that directly concerned him. But once more the decisive majority wish was frustrated by one member—the Soviet Union.

RIDICULOUS REASONS

The Soviet delegate's given reasons for using the veto were considered ridiculous by Western observers. In the first place, he said that a U. N. troop force was mentioned along with a plebiscite.

India, he said, did not like the idea of the resolution. Therefore, the Soviet delegate, Arkady Sobolev, said the resolution violated the spirit of the U. N. charter.

The pitch used by Sobolev, in the view of Western observers, was one of the most glaring examples of power politics, of the Moscow effort to woo India and embitter its relations with the United States and other Western nations.

The United Nations, at the very moment, is using an emergency force in the Middle East. The world peace body also has approved the idea of a plebiscite in the state which India now considers part of its territory.

Kashmir originally was ruled by a Hindu, although its population is predominantly Moslem. When the Hindu ruler made his move to join the state to India a decade ago Moslem irregulars arose in rebellion.

Both India and Pakistan moved in troops and the nation to this day is split with the Indian troops holding the major part of the country.

COULD CAUSE WAR

Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru originally agreed to a plebiscite, but later rejected the idea. Pakistan wrath is such that this dispute could cause a war between the two nations.

The Soviet Union plainly does not want any settlement that would be advantageous to Pakistan, or any move that would relieve tensions.

Long ago it made its bid to woo India. This is quite understandable since Pakistan is a member of the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact. But the arguments used were considered fantastic by Western observers and even possibly embarrassing to India itself.

Harry Belafonte Is 30 and Single Once Again

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Singer Harry Belafonte is 30 today—and single again.

His wife Frances divorced him yesterday.

Belafonte, who is singing at a Las Vegas hotel, did not appear in court. The charge given was mental cruelty, but the court proceedings were private and the records of the case were sealed.

Mrs. Belafonte was given custody of their two children, Adrienne, 7, and Shari Lynn, 2. The Belafontes were married in New York City June 18, 1948.

Tough Time Bulldogging Leaping Kangaroo

DALLAS (AP)—Wally, a curious, 80-pound wallaroo with a yen to see more of Texas, had his keepers and police hopping when he leaped out of his cage at Marsalis Park Zoo and took a half-hour sightseeing tour.

The four-foot-tall rock kangaroo from Australia bounded over the head of a keeper who was putting sand in his cage and escaped.

He finally was cornered in a garage and was bulldogged by zoo keeper George Bulloch.

Kennedy Backs Ike on Foreign Aid Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass) cautioned today that defeat of the Middle East resolution would "embarrass" President Eisenhower in a time of crisis and "dismay" friendly nations in the area.

He said he would support the resolution despite his belief it is "an unnecessary error" supported only by "urgent pleas for speed and unanimity, exaggerated justifications and evasive testimony, without any demonstration of critical need."

Kennedy spoke out in an address prepared for Senate delivery at an unusual 10 a.m. session as Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas exerted new pressure in an effort to speed a vote.

Kennedy joined with four other Democrats in opposition to a proposal to strip the resolution of presidential authority to spend up to 200 million dollars in available foreign aid funds on a crash basis in the Middle East.

The others, all equally critical of the administration, were Senators Church (Idaho), Carroll (Colo), Sparkman (Ala) and Symington (Mo).

Loot May Be Yours for Try at Pot-O-Gold

This week's puzzle is now offering $100 to the person who succeeds in finding the correct solution. Your chances are just as good as the next guy's, so start working now and get your entry in early. Read the rules to find the deadline date . . . a late entry is worse than no entry at all . . . think how you'll feel if you had the right answer, but failed to meet the deadline.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

Ike Says 'Yes' to Second Term Just Year Ago

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower made banner headlines a year ago today. He did so by saying "my answer will be affirmative" — meaning, yes, he had decided to seek a second term.

Actually it was on Feb. 29, 1956. It was leap year and February had an extra day. So this is the anniversary.

The tension that day at the President's jammed news conference was terrific. Eisenhower had not announced in advance he would disclose his long-awaited decision, but there had been pretty good indications he was ready.

For months the speculation had been mounting — ever since he suffered a heart attack Sept. 24, 1955.

At first it had been hard to find anyone who wasn't convinced the attack had ruled out another term for Eisenhower. Republican leaders, having given virtually no thought to the idea of an alternate candidate, were in near despair at word of the President's illness.

Then on Feb. 14 last year Eisenhower's doctors said after another physical examination that they had found him fit to serve another 5 to 10 years in a job like the presidency.

That was the situation when Eisenhower faced 311 tense reporters a year ago. He had promised that if he could manage it his decision would be announced first at a news conference.

Probably none of the 311 ever was more tantalized than during the opening minutes of that conference. The President started the conference with a plug for the Red Cross. Then he went on to talk about the visit of the President of Italy to the United States.

The newsmen fidgeted while Eisenhower spoke of pending farm legislation and of a bill dealing with a river development project.

Then suddenly there was an excited stir. Eisenhower had said, "My next announcement involves something more personal."

But even then he kept everyone on tenterhooks for three or four more minutes, covering background considerations which had led to the decision he was about to announce.

Then, finally, there it was — "My answer will be positive, that is, affirmative."

They Enjoy Father's Day but Keep It Unofficial

Senators Won't Admit Feminine Rule

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — At last, now that the truth of it has been put down forevermore into the Congressional Record of the 85th United States Congress, it must be said bluntly:

Women, of course, have been aware of this weakness in males for aeons, but have tried to soft-pedal the truth for a number of reasons.

The principal theory held by women is that if men should realize that they are truly the weaker, willy-nillier sex they might just say the heck with it and quit working, leaving their women in the untenable position of having to support them—physically as well as morally.

It always seemed sensible, therefore, to keep the truth untold. And then last week in the Senate, out came Margaret Chase Smith, who was feeling her oats, orally, with the very secret that cave women suffered more than a century of hair-dragging to protect:

"Be gone your small, sensitive feelings, gentleman," she announced. ". . . You are too self-conscious to honor yourself."

CLARION VOICE

Mrs. Smith is a fragile-looking lady from Maine but she has the clarion voice of a small senator, and when she fights for a cause she cares not whose spats she is treading on.

In this case, she was dramatically annoyed at the fact that for four decades, the Senate with false modesty has refused to admit that Fathers should be legally revered on an official "Father's Day."

Her ladylike beef against the self-effacing senatorial body was that they had put women — mothers and potentials — in the position of being pampered every spring. But still had refused to accept the fact, and bring it out into the official open, that fathers too were being honored and gifted for a day each year.

"Either we honor both our parents, mother and father," said Mrs. Smith, "or let us desist from honoring either one. To single out just one of our two parents and omit the other is the most grievous insult imaginable.

"Mothers are proud that you have designated a day for them. But they are filled with chagrin that you have rejected their life partners, their sweethearts, the protectors of their land and their homes, the fathers of their children."

ALWAYS BEHIND 'EM

Mrs. Smith made it perfectly clear that women are behind men every step of the way, when she recalled to the male members of the Senate that it was a woman who started the whole idea of honoring paters. That was back in 1910, she said, when Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane brought up the idea before the Spokane Ministerial Association.

The Ministerial Association accepted it, and shortly thereafter the observance of "Father's Day" had spread so far that President Woodrow Wilson and later President Cal Coolidge recommended national recognition for it. But what have the big, bluff, blushing congressmen done about it?

Rejected it. At home, they have accepted new neckties from their wives and been glad to take their day in the sun. But to go on record as annually accepting the adulation and charity of women, by passing a bill concocted by a woman and officially proposed by another?

That is too much like facing the elemental fact that boy needs girl to bring him out of the cocoon and lovingly set him on the road to becoming a butterfly.

Pyrenees Ore May Be Cause of Crashes in 'Devil's Triangle'

TOULOUSE, France (INS) — French geologists believe that rich mineral deposits buried in the eastern Pyrenees are instrumental in creating an "airplane graveyard" along the French-Spanish border.

Five aircraft have crashed mysteriously in the last eight years in what mountaineers on both sides of the frontier now call "The Devil's Triangle." Each side of the triangle is less than 20 miles in length.

The latest victim was a French Air Force transport with nine men aboard that hit the side of Mount Canigou last January.

The crash site was less than seven miles from that of another crash on Dec. 22, 1953.

Aviation experts said it did not appear that fog, winds or icing were to blame for these two accidents.

A U. S. Air Force C47, a British Liberator bomber and a French Dewoitine three-engined airplane have crashed in the same triangular area.

LARGE MINERAL DEPOSIT

Geologists point out that considerable tungsten and uranium deposits have been located near the scenes of these unexplained mishaps and suggest that the minerals may give out magnetic radiations that affect aviation instruments.

The world's second largest scheelite mine has been opened in the Costabonne Range at an altitude of almost 7,500 feet.

Uranium has been located at Paragols at an altitude of more than 3,000 feet and also at Trevillach, near Sournia.

Fourth Annual Meeting

WINFIELD, Kan (INS)—Consuls of Cuba and France will substitute for those of Egypt and Israel at the fourth annual "Little United Nations" meeting in Winfield May 6-7.

At last year's meeting representatives of Egypt and Israel split the sessions into separate groups by their refusal to share the platform or sit on the same panel.

'Look Behind You'

WIESBADEN, Germany (INS) — The U. S. Air Force's European headquarters, worried by a rising auto accident rate among its men, has told its airmen to drive "defensively." The headquarters statement added: "You have to have eyes in the back of your head to drive safely in Europe."

Noah used asphalt to waterproof the Ark. It is still a major waterproof ingredient to protect buildings and highways against weather.

12 Years of Progress, Growth Celebrated by Pontiac YWCA

"As the Pontiac YWCA enters upon its teen years, it is growing in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man just like any other 12-year-old," stated Mrs. Roy McBeth, speaking at the 12th annual meeting of the association held Thursday evening at Grace Lutheran Church.

Mrs. McBeth, wife of the minister of Strathmore - Judson Baptist Church in Detroit, and the mother of four young daughters, found many similarities, both in psychologist's annals and in Biblical texts describing teenagers, between youngsters entering their teens and a young association entering the teen years of its existence.

About 80 members and guests of the YWCA, attending the dinner meeting, heard Mrs. Reba Netzler, executive director, and Mrs. Fred Stimpert, president, report as a team on "The Backward Glance and the Forward Look".

Mrs. Netzler reviewed the good year just ending, which embodied many firsts, such as the Y's first swimming and exercise classes; the accomplishment of several long-term projects, such as the relighting of the members' lounge; and some gratifying statistics concerning membership and age groups served.

Mrs. Stimpert forecast the aims for the year ahead while acknowledging the handicap of limited facilities.

Laying the groundwork for a decentralized program; reaching more varied economic and nationality groups; drawing the people who come to YW classes more closely into the association; establishing a Business and Professional Girls Club, were among the year's goals listed by Mrs. Stimpert.

TELLS OF CONFERENCE

Norma Sandoval told of the Y-Teen Midwinter Conference held recently at St. Mary's Lake Camp near Battle Creek. It was her first conference experience since there are no Y-Teens closer than Manila in the Philippines, and her first winter camping experience. She is an exchange student at Waterford Township High School.

Nine Y-Teens representing several clubs in the junior and senior high schools of the area were among the guests. The Senior Girls' Ensemble from Pontiac High School, accompanied by Lee Patterson, sang two numbers.

Mrs. Addison Oakley, guest pianist, was on the first regularly elected board of directors of the YWCA. Her father, John Stewart, was one of the first YWCA trustees.

Words appropriate to the occasion were written to several familiar songs by Mrs. Donald Hogue. Mrs. Robert Anderson, mistress of ceremonies, led the group singing, with Mrs. J. L. Bennett as accompanist.

Mrs. Adrian C. Ish, chairman of the nominating committee, announced results of the election. Mrs. Myron L. Buck, Mrs. Stimpert and Mrs. Maynard Slater were elected to vacancies on the board, and Mrs. Allan H. Monroe and Kathryn Vedder were elected after one or more years absence from the board.

Puff Sleeve Expanding for Spring

It's ballooning out, puffing down and billowing clear around the body in some cases—always in pretty sheers that make a girl look as if she's wearing angel wings.

The prettiest of the puffed sleeves is the sheer balloon. This one is found on filmy dresses, chiffon or organza, dropping from shoulders to just below the elbows.

Instead of jutting upwards, the '57 balloon sleeves start gently on the shoulder and drift down, with most of the fabric around the elbow.

Smaller puffed sleeves on spring cottons also have taken a downward turn, starting about 3 inches below shoulder seam level and puffing out like little Japanese lanterns in the middle of the upper arm. These look smart on jumper-type dresses, especially when done in white organza against dark dress outlines.

Some puffed sleeves are of the romantic Southern belle school, and are an extension of draped bodices in strapless dance dresses.

For one such dress, designer Arnold Scaasi has created a round-the-body "pouff" evening cape; it's actually just one big puff that runs clear around a girl.

Exercise Corrects Sway Back

'Walk Up Wall' to Improve Posture

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Please give an exercise to improve posture."

A. There are different exercises for different posture faults. One of the most usual ones is sway back. Do this exercise:

Lie on the floor on your back with your hips close to the wall, knees bent and feet on the wall. Press your middle back to the floor as you walk up the wall with your feet. Slowly walk back down the wall with the feet, keeping the middle back pressed against the floor. Continue.

Q. "I am 16 years old, 5 feet 5 inches tall and weigh about 114 pounds. My bust measures 34, waist 23 and hips 36 inches. Do you think I am too large in the hips to wear straight skirts?"

A. You certainly are not overweight, probably a little underweight. Your hips are within the allowable for a well-proportioned figure. I see no reason why you should not wear straight skirts. You might take hip-slimming exercises in order to bring your figure nearer perfection.

Q. "I am almost 19 years old. I weigh 180 pounds and am 5 feet 9½ inches tall. My bust measures 39, waist 31 and hips 44 inches. Please tell me how much out of shape I am and tell me what to do to get rid of what."

A. Even if you have a very large frame you are about 30 pounds overweight. You should lose this by counting your calories and keeping your daily intake at about 1200. Your hips are out of line. I suggest that you take hip and waist-slimming exercises as well as count calories.

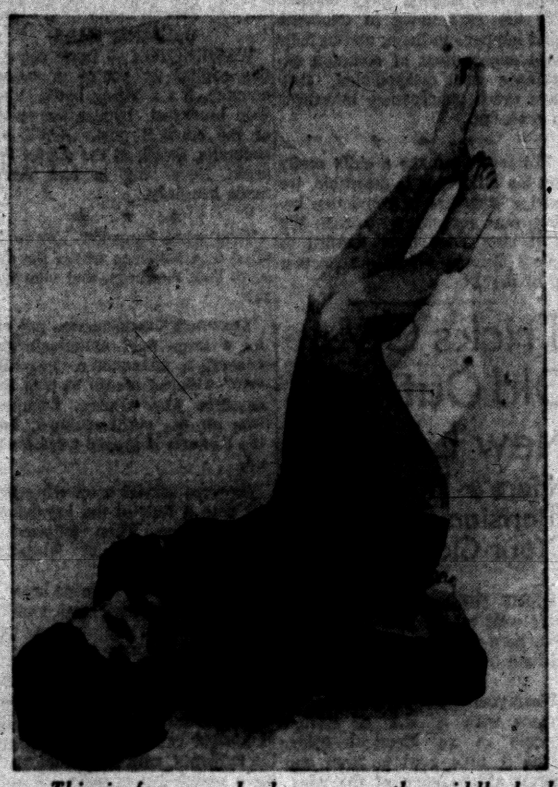

Q. "I am 5 feet 6½ inches tall and weigh 112 pounds. My bust measures 32, waist 24 and hips 35 inches. I am small boned and my folks are all slender but I know I should wegh more. How much? I am 16."

A. Let's say, 10 pounds.

Q. "Are there any foods I should stay away from in order to get rid of blackheads?"

A. There are no specific foods; however, I suggest that you cut down on fats. Blackheads are usually the result of overactive oil glands and careless cleaning. If you have very oily skin you should wash your face several times a day with soap and water.

This is for sway back — press the middle back against the floor, and slowly walk up an down the wall with your feet.

Q. "When I meet a man on the street or at a party or something, one I do not know well but have met, I always wait for him to speak. I think the man should speak first but my friend says I am wrong. We want you to settle the problem."

A. The woman is the one who should acknowledge the acquaintance by speaking first. Your friend is right.

Sweater-Shirt, Striped or Plain Tops for Sports

For cool weather, a perfect mate for men's wool sport coats is the placket sweater-shirt in solid colors, or in a patterned body with solid-colored trim. For spring, black is teamed with cognac or red stripes, red with black, white with charcoal, charcoal with white stripes, and charcoal brown with white.

Without a sport coat the sweater-shirts, in a pullover style, with their deep side vents, can be worn outside slacks, providing a casual tone. Put on a sport coat, and the sports car enthusiast is properly dressed with the sweater-shirt inside his slacks.

The sweater - shirt cardigan comes into its own this spring as knitwear takes the spotlight in sports apparel. One smart-looking model is the long-sleeved, all-wool button-front with contrast border trim on collar, pocket and cuffs.

With its matched pearl buttons, it is sure to make many new friends, particularly among sportsmen. Some golfers prefer it to wearing a sportshirt and sweater. They find it less hindersome when driving for the hole in one. Button-front sweater-shirts, by the way, do not come with side vents.

Sparkling Windows Make Home Bright

If things are beginning to look pretty dingy in your house, chances are your windows need a thorough washing on both sides. During cold weather you'll find it's easier to use one of those long-handled sponges or rubber blade gadgets.

Then you can wash from indoors and reach the outside surface with the help of the gadget. Be sure your sudsy water is hot to begin with because the cold weather will cool it off in just a few seconds.

Labor-Saving Appliances Create Amusing Problem

Women Spend Money to Ease Work and Then Must Buy Their Exercise

By RUTH MILLETT

Once a woman achieves a home that is as automatic as science can make it, the first thing she discovers is that her figure is getting plump in the wrong places.

So she goes on strenuous diets, or she signs up for an exercise class or a course of treatments at a reducing salon where machines are supposed to wear off the inches that other machinery, those labor-saving gadgets at home, has helped her accumulate.

12½-24½

So perfectly fitting for the woman who is not too tall. A charming bare-arm dress to sew for warm weather, accompanied by a brief bolero in rich contrast.

No. 8272 is in sizes 12½, 14½, 16½, 18½, 20½, 22½, 24½. Size 14½ dress, 4¼ yards of 35-inch; bolero, 1¼ yards; contrast, ⅝ yard.

For this pattern, send 35c in coins, your name, address, size desired and the pattern number to Sue Burnett, The Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Don't miss the latest issue of our fascinating pattern magazine, Basic Fashion. The Spring & Summer '57 issue is filled with smart, new designs for all sizes; special features; gift pattern printed inside the book—25 cents.

With a car at her disposal she never has to walk. Yet, feeling the need of exercise, she begins to wonder whether she should take up golf.

On the one hand she tries to save herself from as much physical exertion as possible. She grinds up vegetables in an electric blender. She beats eggs with an electric beater.

Her oven is built high in a wall so that she doesn't have to stoop to look in. She waxes her floors with an electric buffer, and so on and on.

And then for the sake of her figure she jumps in her car and drives to a class where, to music, she bends and stoops and twists and reaches. Or she lets a rolling or thumping or pounding machine give her muscles a workout for her.

The funny thing is that the well-to-do American woman sees nothing funny in the situation. To her it is a grimly serious business — this keeping her muscles from doing any work at home only to spend time and money to put them to work in a reducing salon.

Ensemble of Jacket, Dress, High Fashion

The dress and jacket ensemble is the big fashion silhouette for spring, according to Andrew Arkin, one of the bright young men of the fashion industry. For the most part, the dresses are narrow and contoured to hug body lines, necklines are uncluttered and sleeves barely visible if visible at all.

On the other hand, jacket shapes range from choir boy spencers to cocoon capes and all have extravagant linings for that brief moment of glory when you take the jacket off.

Teach Child to Accept Uniqueness

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Because the children have behaved well while the dentist checked their teeth, their mother bought them sets of paper dolls. Bess got the set with the brunette doll; Emmy, her younger sister, the one with the blonde.

Scarcely had Bess left the store when she started to belittle her doll. At the bus stop, she finally burst out, "I want one with the blonde hair, too! Look at this awful red coat mine's got. I want the one with the blue coat like Emmy's . . ."

Since Bess always disparages what she gets to glorify what Emmy gets, this demand didn't surprise her mother. Resignedly she missed the bus and returned to the store to exchange the brunette doll for another blonde one.

Did this indulgence turn Bess into a happy, satisfied child?

No. How could it? Never in this world can we reproduce one child's experience for another. Bess isn't Emmy; she is herself, unique, different from every other child on earth as a snowflake is different from every other one.

STAUNCHLY REFUSE

By giving her a doll that resembles her sister's, we can no more alter this reality than we can catch the wind in a grocery bag.

So we mustn't pretend we can. When Bess demands the same experience as Emmy, we mustn't behave as though we could grant such an unrealistic wish. Instead of rushing back to the store to exchange her doll for one like Emmy's, let's staunchly refuse to share her contempt for difference.

Let's say: "Why do you want a doll like Emmy's? I'd hate it if you and Emmy were alike. Why, look at that lovely plaid jumper your doll's got! Now look at Emmy's. It's got the blue coat—but it hasn't got that jumper . . ."

Parents who think they are keeping peace between brothers and sisters by giving them the same things are keeping envy instead. For life isn't going to duplicate what happens to them; and as their false expectations of common experience are disappointed, they have much unnecessary bitterness to work out.

However, to make a child really feel his difference is desirable, we need a structure of conviction behind our reassuring words. We must long since have learned to revere difference as the reflection of divine law.

For the teenager's spring wardrobe is this coachman coat with its vivid peppermint-stripe lining. It is in acetate-and-rayon faille with acetate taffeta lining and has a matching striped scarf.

Fruit Loaf Excellent in Lunches

Mrs. Huntzinger's Banana Bread Is Simple to Make

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Banana bread is a favorite with most people. The children will like it in their lunches. Make a loaf, using Mrs. John E. Huntzinger's easy recipe. Keep it overnight to make it easier to slice.

With a full-time job and two young children, Mrs. Huntzinger doesn't have many free hours. She belongs to the Parent Guidance Club.

BANANA BREAD
By Mrs. John E. Huntzinger

½ cup shortening
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
2-3 bananas, well mashed
1¾ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Add flour mixture alternately with bananas and beat until smooth. Bake in greased bread pan in 350-degree oven about one hour. Makes 1 loaf.

Tricks Give Old Outfits New Look

Here's How to Put Parisian Fashions in Your Closet

PARIS (INS) — For those who can't wait to get that 1957 Paris look, here are some tricks for immediate use and stylish results.

Wear your V-necked sweaters or dresses with a slik or chiffon triangle in an identical color. Drape it to a cowl in front and knot it at the nape of the neck.

Wear your man-styled shirts bloused into the skirt at the back and deeply unbuttoned to gape in front.

Give your shirtwaist or tube dresses a new casual look by wearing them with an extra long, buckleless and supple belt. Made of leather or of the dress fabric, the belt should sit just between waistling and hipbone. Don't tighten it but tie it loosley, as on a bathrobe, with the two ends dangling.

For parties and dates you can transform last year's full-skirted formal into a modish outfit with a "lantern-style" skirt. Gather the full hemline into a 4-inch-wide, straight band so it almost hobbles your legs.

This band, of matching or contrasting fabric, will pouch your fully flaring skirt into one of those new, round lantern shapes. It will also lengthen your dress to the 1957 hemline below the calf-middle.

Don't wear petticoats during the day and under wool dresses. Plan on using a fresh, flowery perfume in preference to a heavy and sophisticated scent. Wear your hats off the face and give your make-up a golden, sunny touch.

Veiling that has gone limp can make any hat look shabby. If you've neither time nor inclination to keep veiling freshly pressed, solve the problem by snipping if off the moment you take the hat from the box the first time.

Desserts, Hats Are Look-Alikes

Washington Party Makes Life Hard for Dieters

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Don't come to the capital if you're a calorie counter. It's a losing battle, girls. Skip breakfast, bypass the tidbits at the cocktail parties—AND the cocktails. Smirk at the dinner desserts. Never dig in and you've made headway.

Then what happens? You're invited to a luncheon where the desserts look like hats, and vice versa!

One such luncheon was put on by a large food manufacturing concern to introduce a "low calorie" whipped cream topping for desserts. The topping, I guess, was all the outfit claimed, but the desserts it topped were loaded.

We were served a towering parfait with a fluff of the low-calorie whip on top. Then followed a "fashion parade" of imitation giant-sized desserts.

Another parfait, layer on layer of chocolate, raspberry and vanilla, was broght in on a tea cart pushed by a model wearing a matching hat in tulle.

SIMULATED PIE

Then came a simulated wedge of apricot chiffon pie topped with the new mix, with the model wearing a wedge-shaped turban of apricot and white organza to match; a strawberry shortcake, and strawberry hat, and a fruit salad and corresponding hat. You couldn't tell them apart.

I yearned for a grape dessert hat with a big brim of purple organza, a crown of folded white faille and a cluster of grapes dripping off the brim.

Alas, a pert, slim columnist who makes a career of telling women how to be pert and slim by counting their calories won it as a prize.

The first volume of a new series of single-play editions of Shakespeare is out. As Dr. Louis B. Wright, director of the Folger Shakespeare Library, who is editing the series, says:

It's available, as will be the others, "to everybody for less than the cost of a hamburger and malted milk," 35 cents.

'KING LEAR'

The first volume of the paperbacks, to be known as the Folger Library General Reader's Shakespeare, is "King Lear." "Othello" and "The Merchant of Venice" will follow.

Dr. Wright says the series has been undertaken in view of the "increasing interest and the need for a clear, convenient and inexpensive text unencumbered with too much academic paraphernalia. "Shakespeare," says Dr. Wright, "is not a highbrow writer. He has been read for more than three centuries by every variety of human being in nearly every language."

What's Beach News?

By now you've heard and seen what your 1957 beach silhouette will be like . . . a style exposing more suit and less you. But there is still more to this fashion story. Stoles, jackets and sweaters are beinb designed to accompany swimsuits down to the water's edge.

Store the razor blades you keep in your sewing basket in aspirin boxes. They are just the right size and help prevent accidental cuts when searching for something.

Enjoy Yourself...

An old proverb says that "Man is happiest when his tummy is full" . . . how true, but it's also true that man's tummy must be full of delectable, well prepared food. Want to see if this proverb is true? . . . Then come to Wilkin's TO-NITE, we'll prove it.

Canceled Checks Tell the Story

Not Necessary to Acknowledge Each Payment

By EMILY POST

A wife writes as follows: "Ever since we were married, my husband and I have sent a monthly check to his mother for her support. However, she never writes to say that she received it. It isn't that we expect thanks but we do want to be sure she receives it as mail has been known to go astray.

"Once or twice I asked her if she received the check and she seemed offended. Am I wrong in expecting her to acknowledge these monthly checks, and was it improper for me to ask if she had received them?"

Answer: To have to write a note after every check would be an unreasonable nuisance. Once in awhile she should mention it and say how appreciative she is.

The canceled check would tell you that she received it. If you fail to receive the canceled check then you would certainly call and ask if she received it because it hasn't come through the bank.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please be kind enough to settle a difference of opinion in a discussion group? Some of the members maintain that to compliment your hostess on the delicious food she has served is not proper while others claim that it is proper and gracious to compliment her. Which is correct? Will you please answer soon as we will be having a meeting shortly?"

Answer: When a hostess has done her own cooking and she has prepared a particularly delicious dish, it is entirely proper and certainly pleasing to the hostess to say something complimentary about it. But to keep repeating your praise course after course is not good manners.

"Dear Mrs. Post: At a funeral I went to recently, the funeral director, the assistants and pallbearers all wore boutonnieres. I have gone to many funerals in the past but never have I seen this before and it seemed to me to be in very bad taste. Are boutonnieres proper on such an occasion?"

Answer: I agree with you that the wearing of boutonnieres was in very bad taste.

Terry Towels Fasten to Rack

Tired of picking up the children's damp, used towels? You might try a roller towel for a change.

Great big terry towels come with snap grippers, so that you can hang them over any regular towel rod, snap the snaps, and be sure they'll stay put.

You'll find some ready-made ones with amusing printed designs—such as an all-over black hand pattern.

Or you can make your own with colorful borders or what-not. These are real washing machine treasure. And the bathroom stays neat!

Open Mind Insures Graceful Aging

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Just as surely as beauty is in the eyes of the beholder, age is in the eyes of the one who feels old. Every day I meet old people in their 30s and young people in their 70s and 80s.

It's getting so I honestly don't want to know how old people are chronologically, because nine times out of ten that information is just a red herring.

In a very young and vigorous handwriting she wrote me as follows:

"I was left a widow at 64, with $3,000. I built a house at a cost of $6,000 and in three years time sold it for $11,000. Then I bought another for $11,000 and in three months sold it for $11,500.

"During the winter, I went to Florida as a companion to an old lady of 84. All my expenses were paid during my six-month stay and I came home with $300 plus $25 a month for the six months.

SENSE OF HUMOR

"Who said you can't work after you are 63? All one needs," she continues, "is a sense of humor and a business head.

"Some years later, I was having a little trouble with my hearing. The doctor said, 'It is just a bit of old age creeping up on you.'

"Old age at 85? I never heard of such a thing! I am now in this lovely home for the aged at Ocean Grove, N. J., where something funny happens every day. There's no chip on my shoulder—rather, there's a rainbow round it!"

She signs her letter, "Mrs. Louise E. Spock, age 85 plus."

I remember something a wise doctor told me when I was younger. I had said that I hoped I would turn out to be a nice old lady, charming and witty instead of cranky and horrible.

"How," I asked him, "can I arrange it?"

START YOUNG

"Nothing to it," he replied. "If you want to be a charming, witty and pleasant old lady, be a charming, witty and pleasant young lady. Getting older is just a process of becoming more so!"

Part of growing old zestfully is, also, I think, a matter of keeping an open mind.

Fashion Angle Tells Woman's Age

Such is the doctrine of famed fashion designer and wit, Pierre Balmain.

To solve the controversial problem of a woman's years, Balmain has set down a series of equations. He has tagged them "The Hemline Age," "The Hip Age," "The Waistline Age" and "The Bust Age."

"In her teens," he explained, "a girl is in 'The Age of the Hemline.'

"She is—or ought to be—conscious of her legs and should concentrate on her skirt length. She should wear her skirts rather short and swirling around the legs. She should have several pairs of ballerina shoes and court pumps in gay colors."

For the "Hemline Age," Balmain recommends nylon jersey lingerie. He also favors costume jewelry of the casual and fancy type such as plastic flowers and colored beads. Perfume at this point is a fresh cologne.

"In her twenties," Balmain went on, "a woman has 'The Age of the Waistline.' She likes to wear full skirts and tight belts to accentuate the slimness of her waist. She wears uncluttered and tightly fitted tops.

"Her jewelry is imitation pearls with a touch of rhinestones. She wears frilly unmentionables of nylon taffeta.

For the "Hipline Age," Balmain advises cultured pearls and colored stones—rubies, emeralds, sapphires—as appropriate jewelry. Women in their thirties should wear refined lingerie of silk and lace. They should use a feminine and romantic perfume.

"In the forties a lady has reached the 'Age of the Bust,'" Balmain said. "It is important that she should choose clothes which are soft and semifitted around the waist. But she should insist upon a flattering neckline.

He advised choosing neckline styles according to the shape of your face and hairdo rather than according to the latest fashion.

In her forties a woman ought to be luxury conscious. Concerning lingerie hand-sewen silk and precious lace are the things for nightgowns and robes. If she can afford diamonds, she ought to wear them. She will also look smart with black pearls. She will use perfume, bath-oil and scent her cupboards with perfumed pads.

"Much later in life," Balmain concluded, "women should pay particular attention to hats, gloves, their beauty treatments, but all the other points of the 'Bust Age' are still basically important.

"Also for much later," he added with a smile, "are the hand-knitted cashmere bed-jackets and shawls."

Flocked Fabrics Are Rich, Washable

Flocked designs on fabric have caught the eye of both designers and shoppers these past few seasons.

Now comes a newer, improved method of flocking that adds richness and assures its washability. Some of the patterns are done in a double thick pile which makes the desgns look just that much more luxurious.

Good in Any Room

Colorful floor tiles now may be used in every room of the house with dramatic and charming results. A new marbleizing effect achieved in tiles assures long-lasting sparkle to kitchen and workroom floors as well as dignity and warmth to the living room or den.

Bob Considine Says:

Cocktail Origin Remains Obscure

NEW YORK (INS)—People . . . places . . . things.

My friend Albert Stevens Crockett, who was a star reporter for James Gordon Bennett before some of today's veteran newsman were born, or even considered, fills me in on a deceptive enemy of republic—the cocktail.

Referring to one of his standard works, the oldest member of the Overseas Press Club writes:

"The cocktail is a distinctively American drink, Lord forgive us. Not even the Russians have claimed it. There was once a day when women did not drink cocktails, and even hesitated to speak the word. Times change.

"As was my habit when at a loss for the orgin of a word, I put the aancestry of 'cocktail' up to Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly, managing editor of the Standard Dictionary, when I set out years ago to compile 'The Old Waldorf Astoria Bar Book.'

"The cocktail, Dr. Vizetelly replied after thorough research, goes back at least to the beginning of the 19th Century and may date back to the Revolution. It is alleged by one writer to have been a concotion prepared by the widow of a Revolutionary soldier as far back as 1779.

He offers no proof of the statement. But a publication, The Balance, for May 13, 1805, describes the cocktail of that period as 'stimulating liquor composed of spirits of any kind, sugar and bitters. It is vulgarly called Bitter Sling, and is supposed to be an excellet electioneering potion.'

"Washington Irving, in 'Knickerbocker' (1809), said of the cocktail: 'The Dutch Americans lay claim to be the first inventors of the recondite beverages, Cock-Tail, Stone-Fence and Sherry-Cobler.'

"Hawthorne referred to cocktails in The Blithedale Romance (1852) as did Thackeray in his The Newcomers (1855), but neither of these authors sheds any light on the origin of the term.

"The story that the word is of Aztec origin must be dismissed, too. The legend there is that the cocktail, as we more or less know it today, was the invention of an Aztec noble who sent the recipe to the King, by the hand of his daughter Xochitl.

"The King, delighted or maybe even plastered, named it 'xoctl'—whence 'cocktail.' This is a good example of the manufacture of etymologies, and flights of fancy.

"The origin remains unknown."

ON THE WAGON

Toots Shor is training seriously for The $64,000 Challenge, in which he is tackling an incredible memory expert named Teddy Nadler. The stylishly stout saloon keeper went on the wagon Feb. 28 for the entire rest of the month.

Nadler is training for Sunday night's show by learning to spell the Magna Carta backwards. Unless stopped by the quizmaster, he'll then spell it sideways, for an encore.

Joe Louis, the nation's chief hope of balancing its budget, stopped working for the government long enough the other day to attend the party thrown by a razor comany and the International Boxing Club, celebrating the signing of a new two-year contract to televise the fights.

Joe, who has a minor position with the IBC, owes about a million and a quarter in back taxes. Interest penalties amount to $250 a day—much more than Joe makes.

Mimeographed announcements of the TV-boxing pact were distributed to the reporters at the party. Joe picked up one and read it through.

"I was looking to see if I get a raise," he explained.

PANNED OR IGNORED

Elizabeth Churchill Brown's hard-hitting "The Enemy at His Back" was panned or ignored by liberal book critics. It deals with the morale of nearly 50,000 forgotten Americans Still holding the line in Korea, "...completely exposed to Communist attack because of some policy-makers in Washington."

There are revealing word pictures of Singman Rhee, whose ROK military force's gasoline ration—provided by the U. S.—depends on the tone of his public statements.

The National War College has made the book a class assignment, its critics might like to know. Most big bookstores have it or can get it.

Soviet Artists Open Congress in Kremlin

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia's artists, who were among the first to demand greater freedom after Stalin's death, today opened their first National Congress in the Kremlin.

Decisions reached by the delegates elected from artists' unions will determine the new line in Soviet art—subject to the approval of the government. The government controls everything the artist needs for his work—studios, raw materials and exhibition halls.

Anatoli Chlenov, Moscow art critic, proclaimed earlier this month that it was better to paint a feminine nude than a shiny tractor or Stalin. His statement, broadcast by Moscow radio, was seen as another step away from the tight controls the government exerted over Soviet culture during Stalin's life.

However, an exhibition of paintings featuring a bold treatment of nudes closed Feb. 14 in Moscow after apparently failing to get official approved for an extension. The paintings, by Ilya Glazunov, caused a sensation, but a gallery spokesman said the Ministry of Culture did not approve of the uproar.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

The Martians greeting the first space travelers from Earth may be fantastic furry little creatures peeking out of lonesome burrows.

Speculation that Mars might have animal life is contained in a new book, "A Space Traveler's Guide to Mars," by Dr. I. M. Levitt of the Fels Planetarium, Philadelphia.

But these Martians would be astonishingly different from earthly animals, living by a different chemistry of life dictated by severe conditions on our Red Planet neighbor.

Many astronomers think Mars has some kind of plant life. One bit of evidence is changes in blue-green areas, which could be plant life spreading with the seasons over the Martian deserts.

And if there are plants, are there animals that feed on them, and help decompose dead plants?

There's no evidence yet for animal life, but "it appears intriguing to assume that some sort of animal life may be available on Mars," Dr. Levitt writes.

WHAT KIND OF ANIMALS?

First, they have no lungs, and do not breathe, as do terrestrial animals. Mars has so little atmosphere, and hence such low atmospheric pressure, that breathing as we know it would be out of the question.

Mars has precious little oxygen — apparently only one-thousandth as much as there is in our air—SO Martians might have a life chemistry or metabolism based on nitrogen rather than oxygen.

They wouldn't drink water—because water is so scarce.

But they might get some water from the plants they eat. And from the plants they could also get the tiny amount of oxygen they need. Their kidneys might not only cleanse their blood, but generate some oxygen from their plant food.

By eating and digesting the plant life, the animals ultimately could set free some oxygen which reenters the Martian atmosphere and becomes available again for new growth of plant life.

And perhaps they hibernate every night, too, when the temperature drops far below zero. Temperatures on Mars at its equator may range from 80 above zero by day to 80 below zero at night. By hibernating at night, the Martian animals would slow down their metabolism, and cut their need for food energy.

They probably would be cold-blooded. They might have powerful legs to burrow deep into the ground to escape the killing night cold.

Dr. Levitt assumes they would also have fur, ladies and gents alike, to protect them from the cold. With fur, they could also prowl for food in the still-cold Martian dawn or twilight.

And their life is far from being a gay social whirl. Perhaps they are like the small kangaroo rat, which also faces a hard scrabble for food on a desert. And like the kangaroo rat, the Martian creatures may live alone, with no communal life, except at mating time.

Supreme Court OKs New Bank

Rules Verhelle Group Satisfied Requirements of Responsibility

LANSING (AP) — A court order clearing the way for organization of a new bank in Detroit by a group headed by Joseph F. Verhelle has been affirmed by the Michigan Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court agreed with the Ingham County Circuit Court that the late Maurice C. Eveland abused his discretion as state banking commissioner in withholding approval of the Verhelle group's project.

Eveland, although satisfied on other counts, took the position he would not approve the petition to organize the bank until one of two conditions were met to protect depositors.

These were that the organizers either had to give assurance the bank would become a member of the Federal Reserve System or that its deposits would be insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

In trial of the suit, the petitioners testified that Eveland orally advised them he was satisfied with the responsibility and fitness of the applicants, of the need for a new bank and of the likelihood of its successful operation.

In a Macomb County case, the Supreme Court reversed the conspiracy conviction of Stanley Brynski, who with 12 others was convicted of conspiring to operate a "mutuels" gambling syndicate from 1948 to 1950.

The most that could be said for the prosecution against Brynski, the high court said, "is that for a period of approximately a year the defendant was associated with some people who were convicted."

Proof of his involvement in the conspiracy, as distinguished from "suspicion," was lacking, the Supreme Court said.

Winning Answers Explained Here

The following are answers and explanations for the Pot-O-Gold Puzzle which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

1. TACT, a considerate, diplomatic manner, plus the truth, is more likely to win arguments than just the truth without the tact. Fact often fails to convince, simply because the other party may be prejudiced by the untactful approach of the arguer.

2. SOP is right because the sponge will absorb the liquid. Mop up has more the meaning of clean up, whereas absorption of the liquid is the important function of a sponge.

3. LIST is logical here, for it indicates the survey is still in the planning stage when a good deal of adjusting may be done. Last of a survey would mean the project was almost over, with little time left for any adjusting.

4. PONY is right. A horse like a pony would be approximately pony-sized. A Puny horse may be a poor weak specimen of any size. Puny can mean small, but it also signifies weakness quite apart from actual size.

5. JAZZ is the choice. One doesn't have to be sedate to find persistent Razz hard to endure; constant mockery would bet on anyone's nerves. Sedate person may have no liking for jazz. He might stand a little of it now and then, but it is still true that persistent jazz would eventually disturb him.

6. TASKS is the inclusive word and fits the clue better. If the officials give much time to their tasks, this will include giving time to the conferences or Talks necessary to the situation.

7. OWL is right. "Often used Low sounds" would imply that there were times when they used loud sounds for signaling. This is contrary to the idea of stealth. In using owl sounds, it is implicit that they would be low. The hoot of the owl, easy to imitate, was often used by Indians in signaling.

8. TOAST is better. A critic, severe or not, must see many more second-rate plays than good ones. Because of this, it is a great relief to him to be able to toast or compliment a good playwright. There is no reason to believe that a severe critic is unwilling to praise good work, but he will surely Roast a bad playwright.

9. A man who is DULL or mentally slow will often be cheated. If he is a Gull, he is a dupe, and will always be the victim of the cheaters.

10. TOGA was the dress of the average Roman, not alone of the Senators and other important officials. The toga pulla, of dark gray, was worn by the lower classes. Togs, the colloquial term for clothes, would be an anachronism in speaking of Romans.

11. DAWN "reminds one" of a rosy color, and so fits the phrasing of the clue better. Fawn is a light brown color itself.

13. Girls about to be married will YEARN to become good cooks, desiring to feed their husbands exceptionally well. However, only a few of the brides, the active, practical ones, will go to domestic science schools to Learn the art of cooking.

14. HAT is good. There is nothing about a poor man's hat that should apepal to a man who is better off. It is Hut that can have some attraction. A poor man's hut can be snug, warm and quaint, in winter, or situated in a good place for summer vacations.

15. WAVE is the choice. The word "power" would apply to a dangerous, mountainous wave. An ocean View is actually often monotonous, being a scene of a great expanse of water. Anyone who must deal at first hand with a giant wave knows its undeniable power, either when swimming in its presence or on a ship, feeling its impact.

16. BUNGLE is better. Since "potential" means capable of becoming real, or possible, Bungle is apt. The danger of a Jungle is real, not merely potential. Not only wild beasts make this so, but the very nature of a jungle is hazardous to life. A bungle, once made, may be of little consequence. It is still unwise to assume that a bungle, bad job of work, won't some day endanger the one who made it, or the ones who must see the work that was bungled. A poor construction job for instance, is a potential source of danger.

Turncoat Leaves Hong Kong for U.S.

Hawkins, seventh of the turncoats to return to the United States, crossed the Red China border into Hong Kong Wednesday. There are now 13 of the original 21 American turncoats in China, one having died.

Asked how it felt to be heading for America, Hawkins smiled and said "Great."

Hawkins left behind in China an English-speaking Russian girl named Tanya he married last fall. He said he hoped to get her to the United States later.

'Drunk as Skunk' Truthful Driver Gets Off Cheap

CHICAGO (AP)— Judge Henry C. Ferguson was a little startled in Traffic Court yesterday when Steve Weininger, flashing a big smile, told him: "If I didn't admit I was drunk as a skunk, judge, I'd be lying."

Ferguson termed the 28-year-old auto mechanic's acknowledgment of guilt "brutally frank." He said it was unprecedented for a driver accused of drunkenness to fail to claim innocence.

Charles F. Russ Jr., assistant corporation counsel, recommended that in view of Weininger's "unusual candor" his fine be $50 instead of the usual $100. Ferguson agreed, and in addition he dismissed charges of driving the wrong way in a one-way street and disorderly conduct against Weininger.

Judge Aids Man Cut Off by Wife for 2 (Lost) Bets

LONDON (AP)—Walter Howe, 84, bet on the horses twice in his life. Each time, back in the boom days of 1929, he put up a shilling (14 cents) and lost. He gave up betting after that.

But Mrs. Howe, who died in 1956 after 60 years of marriage, didn't forget. She said in her will that her husband had admitted "squandering" his money on those two bets in 1929, and that he would therefore get only 100 pounds ($280) out of her 3,000-pound ($8,400) estate.

"If I left any more he would only waste it," she wrote, willing the rest to charity.

Howe came to court yesterday to ask for a bigger share of the money. He said it was his earnings that his wife had saved and anyway he had never gambled in his life except for those two bets.

The judge agreed Mrs. Howe "was a mean, ungenerous woman." He ruled that Howe should have a life income from the estate and could keep the house he had bought in his wife's name.

Building Group Will Go Slow

Hoffa Tells Delegates Not to Form Council Before Investigation

The meeting Wednesday, at Lansing's Civic Center, was advertised as primarily to consider state legislation affecting Building Tradesmen.

But a more important purpose was to discuss organizing a stronger trades body to protect the jurisdiction of member unions in battles with the CIO.

Hoffa said his union, which claims 10,000 Michigan members in building trades, did not want to be stampeded into joining a central body.

"The Teamsters don't want to join any central body until we know what it will do and whether or not our rights will be protected," Hoffa said.

Delegates then approved a plan that probably will delay formation of the council about 60 days.

Hollywood Headlines

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Although it's no news that Warners plan to bring the highly successful Patrick Dennis play, "Auntie Mame," to the screen—it is news that Rosalind Russell has put her valuable name to a contract to recreate her role of Auntie Mame.

Jack Warner, who signed Roz, said that the picture will not be made until mid-January of 1958 because of the success of the play on Broadway.

The novel was on the best seller list for 104 weeks, and the play is a "must" on the list of everyone who visits New York. Roz' notices were as good as if she had written them herself.

Tony Quinn gets the role opposite Anna Magnani in "Obsessed" that Ernie Borgnine so wanted. Hal Wallis said that Hecht-Hill-Lancaster, who have Ernie's contract, pre-empted him, so the actor is unable to make an outside picture.

Looked as if the legal battle between Borgnine and H-H-L would be settled, but now the fight goes into the courts. Although Hecht-Hill-Lancaster said that they had agreed to allow Ernie to make the picture with Magnani, the Wallis office says it was never given a clearance on Borgnine.

Magnani arrives in New York tomorrow and will be met by director John Sturgis. Much of the picture will be made in Italy, but Anna's scenes are all in Hollywood.

SHOW GOES ON

Polly Bergen telephoned me from New York to say that the TV Helen Morgan story will appear on Playhouse 90 on May 16. She said she is already rehearsing the songs; that she owned the property and sold it to CBS and Hubbell Robinson has told her CBS is going ahead.

This is very surprising news inasmuch as I understood CBS had agreed not to make it because of the year's work Warner Brothers has put in the the motion picture.

However, I doubt very much if the TV version can be called "The Helen Morgan Story," since this title has been registered for some years by Warners.

I was trying to think how many times I have visited Clark Gable on his many sets during his career. Neither one of us could remember.

I told him he looked exactly like Rhett Butler in his garb of a Southern gentleman for "Band of Angels," which Raoul Walsh is directing. He laughed and said, "A pretty old Rhett Butler."

Clark said his bride Kay has learned to take care of herself and is no longer frightened when she gets a pain. "We live pretty quietly," he said, "but we both like it." He seems very happy and thoroughly enjoying the movie.

I talked with Yvonne De Carlo, who co-stars with Clark. She wears a very dark makeup to fit the character, and she's taken off a great deal of weight. "I'm just starving myself," she said, "to get thin."

NO LONGER ALONE

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Greta Garbo no longer insists on being alone. She's having her portrait painted by Picasso.

June Allyson and Dick Powell had cocktails together in the Polo Lounge at the Beverly Hills Hotel, but with many other people and there is no reconciliation in sight.

Marcel Vertes, who won several Academy Awards for "Moulin Rouge," is in town. He says he has a commission to paint Jennifer Jones.

The Gish sisters are completely sold out for "Chalk Garden" at the Sombrero Playhouse in Phoenix. Oveta Culp Hobby, Clare Booth Luce and Henry Luce were in the audience opening night.

Allen Dale rushed from Palm Springs to Los Angeles to see his new 8-pound baby girl—his fourth. Then he rushed back to The Springs, his new restaurant in Palm Springs.

Robert Q. Lewis, TV actor, newspaperman and narrator, has joined Cary Grant and Deborah Kerr in "An Affair to Remember" at 20th.

Explosion Restores Jackson Boy's Sight

JACKSON (AP) — A 12-year-old boy who was born blind in his left eye, suddenly had his sight restored when a can of paint lacquer exploded as he touched a match to it.

"Mother I can see through my left eye," said Marshall Maul as he was loaded into an ambulance (last Friday) with burns over his face and body from the explosion.

The boy said he found the can in a dump and had poured the excess lacquer from it. He said he was about to burn the remainder from the bottom when his mother, Mrs. Ben Webber, called to him.

"I wheeled around and the can exploded," he said. "And I could see through my blind eye."

Banquet, Dance Off; Town Seeks Missing Girl, 4

BELLMAWR, N.J. (AP)— There was to be a banquet and dance here tonight but they have been postponed "until further notice."

The townspeople of Bellmawr don't feel like a gay time.

Blonde Mary Jane Barker, 4, disappeared last Monday morning while playing near her home. She hasn't been found and police believe it was a kidnaping.

The dance was to have been sponsored by the Jimmy Hoe trust fund, which is trying to raise $10,000 in behalf of a 15-year-old Bellmawr newsboy injured by an automobile two days before last Christmas. The banquet was to be for the installation of the fire department's new officers.

The City Council met last night announced the events were canceled. The Council then started a reward fund for the "return or information leading to the return of Mary Jane."

He had also served on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors and managed the auditor General's Detroit office from 1941 to 1943.

Jack Levitsky Thanks Board

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—In clarification of certain misunderstandings which Jack Levitsky, former electrical inspector for Independence Township, feels have arisen since his recent resignation of the post, he states that "my disagreement is with Floyd Andrews and not with the Township Board".

Levitsky says that Andrews' charges are more a matter of political expendency and have no basis in fact. He further stated that a portion of his resignation read as follows:

"Due to ill feelings engendered and realizing that the necessary cooperation required for the proper operation of the department would no longer be forthcoming, I feel that I have no alternative but to tender you my resignation effective immediately. I extend my thanks to the Township Board for the confidence and cooperation they have given me during the period I have worked for the Township."

Supervisor Andrews had charged that Levitsky was "just not doing the job." Levitsky is a certified electrician and has 35 years experience in the electrical field.

He (Levitsky) also stated that in the past year he has enforced peddling ordinance along with his job, helped James Gardiner with inspections served violations summons and made about 1500 electrical inspections.

Marlette Senior Feted at MSU for High Grades

MARLETTE — David Boyne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Boyne, Marlette, a Michigan State University senior who has compiled a near perfect grade average, was recognized for outstanding scholarship at a college of agriculture honors banquet Thursday night.

Cited by Thomas K. Cowden for achieving a 3.89 grade average, out of a possible four, Boyne headed a list of students and faculty who received a total of Seventy-five awards and $1,500 in cash prizes at the annual dinner program.

David Boyne, a senior in dairy production, also received the $250 Michigan farm Bureau award for winning the scholarship plaque and the $300 Borden award for having the highest grade average in agriculture during the preceeding year.

Man Shoots 4 in Toledo House

Police Answer Call; Roomer Fires Wildly, Then Wounds Self

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A 45-year-old man, surprised by two patrolmen investigating a disturbance report, shot down the policemen, an aged woman and a young girl today and then wounded himself.

The man, construction worker Arnold Washington, was a roomer in the house where the shooting took place. The victims included his 75-year-old landlady, Mrs. Mattie Lewis, who was shot twice in the abdomen, and her 15-year-old niece, Janice Neekins.

One of the two patrolmen, Irvin Smith, 40, was taken to Mercy Hospital in critical condition. The other, Charles Diefenbach, 28, was taken to Mercy Hospital with a wound in the abdomen.

Washington was taken to Flower Hospital reportedly in poor condition with a self-inflicted head wound.

Police Chief Anthony Bosch said Smith and Diefenbach had gone to the home after Mrs. Lewis complained that Washington was running around naked.

Arriving there, Bosch said, the patrolmen found Washington fully clothed and talking over a telephone.

As the patrolmen entered, Washington whirled, drew a pistol from his clothing and started firing wildly, Bosch said.

Apparently Washington then shot the women and himself.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today nominated Andrew H. Berding, now assistant chief of the U.S. Information Agency, to be assistant secretary of state for public affairs.

Berding, 55, has been in government service since 1948. Prior to that he was in the newspaper business.

Dems Lose Battle to Demand a Vote

LANSING (AP) — House Democrats licked their wounds today after fighting a losing battle with the Republican majority over a proposal to change the rules of the lower chamber.

With two GOP members dissenting, they voted to scrap the rule which allows any House member to demand the vote of another member who was present when the day's session began. The vote was 58-45, with 56 affirmative votes required.

Rep. Ed Carry (D-Detroit), House minority leader who directed the fight to retain the ruling, called the move "a craven, cowardly attempt to defeat representative government."

With Gov. Williams and other house Democrats, Carey contended it was an attempt by Republicans to duck voting responsibility on touchy issues.

Morocco Greets Nixon in 1st Stop on Good Will Tour

"Nixon, Nixon," "Long Live America," the crowds shouted in Arabic, French and English.

Crown Prince Moulay Hassan, eldest son of the Sultan, led an airport reception committee that included Morocco's prime minister and foreign minister. Hassan rode with Nixon during the 70-minute parade.

Nixon immediately began an American-style handshaking campaign. He delighted the crowds by twice stopping the limousine to get out and shake hands with persons lining the route.

Hal Boyle Says:

How About Filming Jim's Story?

NEW YORK (AP)—Hollywood always claims it is looking for fresh scripts about real people—scripts with a true-to-life flavor that carry a warm human appeal.

All right, Hollywood, let's test you. Here is a script that has everything you say you are looking for:

Once upon a time there is this tall, lanky Boy Scout who wears glasses, and is shy and awkward and so absent-minded that when he comes to a telephone pole he steps aside to let it pass — because he is always polite and considerate of others.

Some people think he stutters, but he doesn't really stutter. He is just so struck with the moon-beam wonder of living that midway in a sentence he changes his mind because he has thought of something else to say. This makes his talk a bit puzzling.

He dreams of being an accordion player. He reads about Houdini and dreams of being a magician. He sees a movie of Martin Johnson in Africa and dreams of being an actor and a big game hunter. He reads about Charles Lindbergh flying the ocean alone, so he takes to building model airlanes.

"That boy Jim would do better to go to work in his dad's hardware store," say his neighbors in a town with the unlikely name of Indiana, Pa. "He don't know what he wants."

Instead Jim goes to Princeton University where, as thousands cheer — he's a cheerleader — he dreams of being an engineer, an actor, a stage boss.

"Jim's life goals are presently multidirectional," say his professors, which is their way of saying he doesn't know what he wants.

Well, Jim finally graduates — with a degree in architecture, his latest dream — and lands a job doing card tricks and playing an accordion in a New England tearoom. He does a few summer theater roles. Then he becomes a stage manager in Boston, and absent-mindedly rings down the final curtain on Miss Jane Cowl, who is playing "Camille," right in the middle of the famous death scene.

After Broadway, Jim goes to Hollywood, where his shy and gangling charm win him a quick buildup as "The boy who lives next to the girl next door."

The producers, who at first think Jim will be easy to push around because he is so polite and doesn't seem to know what he wants, are suprised to find he knows what he doesn't want—stereotyped roles. In 1940 he wins an academy award in "The Philadelphia Story," and tells an interviewer:

"Hollywood dishes out too much praise for small things. I won't let it get me, but too much praise can turn a fellow's head if he doesn't watch his step."

Jim saves up his money for a rainy day, and soon has enough to last him through a century-long cloudburst. He buys a plane and learns to fly.

Half the famous dames in Hollywood are dying to drag him to the preacher, but Jim likes the bachelor life with some old pals in a house full of mice, half a dozen doves, 3 dogs and 17 cats.

"The guy doesn't know what he wants," everybody says.

War looms. The draft board defers Jim because he is too light for his height. So he puts on 10 pounds, the draft board tosses him to the Air Corps as a private, and Jim's pay drops from $12,000 a month to $21.

He becomes a bomber pilot and goes over to Germany as a big game hunter in uniform. He flies 20 combat missions, comes home a full colonel with a Distinguished Flying Cross, won the only way it can be.

Jim takes up his film career where he had left it—at the peak. In 1949 he finds Gloria, the girl he knows he wants, and they marry and have a fine pair of girl twins.

The last dream? In 1955 Warner Bros. asks Jim if he would like to play Lindbergh in a picture called "The Spirit of St. Louis."

"Be Lindbergh?" asks Jim. "I've dreamed of it most of my life."

Then, when the picture is completed, Uncle Sam adds a final touch. The President of the United States nominates Jim to be a brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve—the same rank Lindbergh has.

A few days later, standing in the midst of a crowded studio party, Jim, who once wanted to be an accordion player, thinks back on all his boyhood dreams. All have come true but two. He hasn't been an engineer or an architect, but if he had, could he have built or designed a happier life?

A reporter steps up and says, "Well, what are your plans for the future?"

"I don't have any program," says Jim in that slow hem-and-haw manner folks have always mistaken for a stutter. "I don't quite see how a fellow really can."

Walking away the reporter mutters:

"What an oddball. The guy don't seem to know what he wants—or where he's going. How did he ever get where he is?"

That, Hollywood, is the script. If you want to buy it, see Jimmy Stewart. He lived it.

THE FLYING HOUSE — 5

A Stitch in Time

Free of the mountain peak that had caught it, the Flying House sailed along much as usual, yet not quite as smoothly. There was a sort of rock and roll feeling about it.

"Must have damaged something when we hit," said Bill, "Guess I'll ——." "Go below and take a look!" a sharp voice interrupted. Two green parrots had lighted on the Flying House. "How can you?" Jill asked. "There's nothing to stand on while you look." "What's wrong with the rope ladder hanging up in the Control Room?" asked Bill.

They lowered the ladder over the side and Bill climbed down carefully while Jill, more worried than she would admit, steadied the ladder. "Slow leak," said Bill as he came up again. "She's leaking dirt and stones through a tear in our cloud. No — we won't ask the Wishing Well for help — I can fix it."

With a jar of library paste, a big roll of cotton and a piece of rope, Bill climbed down again. Pushing the crumbling earth back into place, he packed the hole neatly with cotton, and pasted up the torn edges of the cloud. Then he tied it all firmly in place with the rope. The Flying House righted itself and sailed steadily on once more.

"Well," said Jill drawing a long breath and turning to her maps, "Now where do we go?"

Color and save this drawing with the others in the Flying House story.

TIGERTOWN—Strong winds over the unique little village of Tigertown yesterday had everyone looking for protection under jackets and sweaters.

Most of the audience watching the two rookie teams in action on Charlie Gehringer diamond were Tiger regulars who today don their uniforms at Henley Field about a mile from Tigertown, in Florida.

One of the spectators in the crowd was John Fetzer, radio magnate from Kalamazoo, who was making his first visit to Tigertown.

This was the 2nd annual instructional school at Tigertown under the supervision of John McHale, director of player personnel.

"The new owners are very happy with what has been accomplished at Tigertown," said Fetzer. "I think these youngsters acquire a tremendous amount of improvement with all of the Tiger coaches and minor league personnel accelerating the program" he added.

Billy Hitchcock, Tiger coach sitting on the bench, watched as the planes hit the strip during the game, then commented, "you know I haven't seen a ball hit that landing strip yet this spring. Last year we had a few long hit balls which hit out there."

The rookies will continue workouts at Tigertown for at least another week, while the regulars shift their gear to Henley field.

"I think this rookie school does a great deal in fundamentals, and some of our regulars work out many faults before actual training sessions get started," said Tighe.

Stengel Fears Tigers in '57

By BRUNO KEARNS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

LAKELAND—An earnest band of Tigers, led by their enthusiastic leader Jack Tighe, took the field today for the official opening of spring maneuvers in this inland city just 50 miles northeast of St. Petersburg, where the ever-powerful New York Yankees were plotting their strategy for an 8th pennant in nine years.

The professor, Casey Stengel, with Don Larsen in the fold, figures the addition of Art Ditmar and Bobby Shantz to his mound corps may be just what the Yankees needed to gain that American League flag again.

But Stengel admits his biggest fear comes from the camp at Lakeland and what will transpire here for the next six weeks.

"We have the makings of an upper first division ball club, and with a good start we can give the Yanks a run for the pennant," said Tighe optimistically.

"And today is the time to build that attitude which will carry us through the season in the right frame of mind," he added.

Yesterday with an intra-squad game at Tigertown, the regulars taking part in early drills and the rookies went on parting ways, and at 10:15 a.m., a 38-man Tiger squad met Tighe on the beautiful turf of Henley Field.

There were 42 players expected today, but four of them, including pitcher Billy Hoeft, were still unsigned as of last night.

Three newcomers to the Detroit roster, Ed Robinson, Gil Coan and Roy Hawes are the other "holdouts."

Robinson, who came to the Tigers in the trade with Kansas City, is being figured as the closest competitor to Ray Boone who made his transition from 3rd to 1st base at the Tigertown camp this week.

He arrived in Lakeland last night and was expected to confer with Tiger brass this morning.

Coan, a 10-year veteran who spent most of his time with Washington, started with the New York Giants last season and was then shipped to Minneapolis from where he was drafted by the Tigers. Nothing had been heard from Coan, nor Hawes who hit .274 with Charleston last season.

General manager Spike Briggs, who returned to Lakeland yesterday after a business trip, said the club expected no difficulty with Hoeft's contract.

The 20-game winner was recently married to Margaret Ekelund, a Lakeland girl, formerly from Pontiac. He was expected in camp Saturday at the latest.

In yesterday's rookie game, Al Aber and Paul Foytack made short mound appearances to warm up. Foytack set three men up and down in order and Aber allowed two hits in two innings.

They followed rookie Ken Sheppard on the hill to lead the Striped Sox to a 9-1 victory over the Black Sox. Jim Brady who was up with Detroit last year was the loser. He walked eight men in two innings, without giving up a hit in allowing three runs.

Rain early this week put the turf on Henley Park in beautiful condition and bright and early this morning the tarps were removed from the infield, as spring training, '57 style, got underway officially.

Big Ten Showdown

MSU Aims for First Conference Cage Title

EAST LANSING (AP) — Saturday night is showdown night for Michigan State basketball team.

If the surprising Spartans can beat Indiana, State is assured of at least a tie for the Big Ten championship and a probable bid to represent the Big Ten in the Mid-Western NCAA playoffs.

Michigan State's football teams once earned the nickname of "comeback kids." The basketballers now are stealing this title with an amazing streak of nine straight wins following three consecutive losses.

Jenison fieldhouse will be jampacked with a sellout crowd of 12,000 fans—screaming for State's first conference title.

Since MSU started conference competition in 1950-51, the best previous basketball record was a tie for third in 1953.

MSU still has to play Michigan Monday night and Indiana also has a game left, with Illinois.

600 Attend Sports Show

A wide assortment of boats, an archery shoot and a casting exhibition featured the opening day of the Pontiac Sports Show attended by 600 at the Pontiac Retail Store yesterday. The event continues each day from 1 to 10 p.m. through Sunday.

All types of outboard boats and canoes make up the main display at the show. There is also camping and hunting equipment, games, novelties, boat trailers, leather goods, several types of motors and boat accessories, water skiing and bow and arrow displays and many others to attract the outdoor enthusiast.

Ben Hardesty staged the casting demonstration and also took part in the archery shoot with Joseph Kerr and Al Tang.

In Class D, Memphis plays Clintondale Wednesday in the opener. New Baltimore St. Mary tangles with Detroit St. Agatha and Utica St. Lawrence battles the Memphis-Clintondale winner Thursday. The title game is slated Saturday.

Roseville in Class B and New Haven in the 'C' ranks are area teams scheduled to play in the district tourney at Harper Woods.

Jewelers Complete Spotless Schedule

Shaw's Jewelers completed a perfect season in the American division of the City Basketball League with a lopsided 94-51 victory over Boys Club last night at Pontiac High.

Big Bob McManus connected for 25 points to pace Shaw's to win No. 14. Three other Jewelers broke into double figures in the scoring column. Jerry Nosek tallied 12 points for the outclassed Boys Club.

The Shaw's-Boys Club game concluded the regular schedule in the adult leagues. The post-season tournament is the next item of business.

Ex-Chief Rolls On

Hayes Jones Seeks 4 More Wins Saturday

Pontiac's Hayes Jones goes after some more track triumphs Saturday as the Eastern Michigan thinclads entertain the University of Chicago in a duo meet.

Jones, an 18-year-old freshman, has won 13 of the 15 events he has taken part in thus far for the Ypsilanti school and is favored to extend that mark to 17 by winning all four of his events against the Maroons.

The former Chief star swept the quartet against Central Michigan last week by winning the low hurdles in an unofficial 7.1 seconds, the high hurdles in eight seconds, the high jump with a leap of 6 feet 1½ inches and the broad jump with 23 feet ½ inch. Jones bettered his marks in the jumps in previous meets.

Another local resident will be in action Saturday for the Hurons. Kerry Keating, ex-Waterford ace, will be taking part in the mile relay and 440. He has been hindered by a pulled leg muscle this season.

Chief Natators End SVC Year

Final dual competition for PHS swimming squad was under way this afternoon in the West Huron pool. Coach Bob (Des) Boyce's splashers met the strong Saginaw High crew, which holds the runner-up spot in Saginaw Valley's title race, Arthur Hill has clinched the dual season crown, but all teams swim in the two-day (March 8-9) league championships in the Lumberpack's fine new pool at Saginaw.

This is the final appearance in dual events for captain Dennis Simonson, unbeaten medley swimmer. Dennis is a senior and has led the team during the season.

HILLSDALE (AP) — Kalamazoo gained a third place tie with Adrian in the final MIAA basketball standings last night with a hard-fought 80-77 overtime victory over Hillsdale.

Carol Heiss Rules Again

Wins Second Straight World Figure Skating Crown With Ease

The United States and Austria dominated the competition, with seven of the first eight places.

Uncle Sam's skaters also stood an odds-on chance of grabbing off the men's singles title David Jenkins of Colorado Springs held first place after the first three of six compulsory figures. The skating king will be determined tomorrow night.

Kazoo Is Top Threat

The next to the last weekend for the Michigan State Elks Bowling Tournament comes up here Saturday and Sunday with keglers from eight cities getting in their licks.

A heavy list from Kalamazoo and Port Huron heads the group seeking leads in the various divisions. There have been very few changes among the top places in recent weeks.

Only a few entries from the host Pontiac Lodge 810 will be in action over the weekend. Other cities will include Farmington, Sturgis, Otsego, Holland, and Adrian.

Kalamazoo has been strong in all divisions over the 36-year history of the event and this season is expected to be no exception. One of its chief threats will be C. Mockbee, who was part of the 1951 doubles handicap championship duo which won with 1291.

Another former titleholder slated to appear here this weekend is Port Huron's Claude Berdan. He was singles actual champ in '54 with 692.

Berdan joins a long line of topnotch keglers trying to dump Detroiter John Gavle from the position he has held as top man in both divisions since the 2nd day of play with scores of 724 and 691. In the lead for another sweep is Dickie's Service of Pontiac with team totals of 3301 and 3832.

Doubles hopefuls would have to set a new record to move into the handicap lead. Bill Fann and Vern Miller of Plymouth rolled 1374 three weeks back. Doubles actual kingpins most of the way have been Detroiters K. Walker—E. Haviland with 1217.

A total of $14,590 in cash and trophies will be divided among the top finishers when the tournament ends March 10. Saturday's bowling starts at 2 p.m. at both Elks and Huron Bowl. Team play resumes Sunday at 10 a.m. at the Elks while doubles and singles Sunday start at 9:30 a.m. at Huron.

Jefferson Clinches Junior High Crown

Jefferson wrapped up the Pontiac Junior High League basketball championship Thursday afternoon with a 29-25 victory over defending titlist Washington. It was Jeff's 8th straight win and the 2nd loss for the Braves.

Bill Lee netted 14 points for Jefferson as the Warriors ended a four-year Washington reign. Eastern trimmed Madison, 26-21, in yesterday's other league game.

Mikes, Rams Play Tonight

St. Michael and St. Frederick tune up for next week's Class C district basketball tournament here by engaging non-league foes tonight in their final outings of the regular season schedule.

The Shamrocks encounter Redford St. Mary, always a tough opponent, in the Pontiac High gymnasium. St. Fred journeys to Bloomfield Hills to tackle the Barons.

St. Mike will be aiming for its 10th victory of the year, but it may be a hard goal to attain. The Mikes played St. Mary at the end of the 1955-56 season and took a severe licking.

The Rams are also gunning for their 10th triumph. Their chances of doing it look better than the Mikes, since they are meeting a team which has won only five games this year.

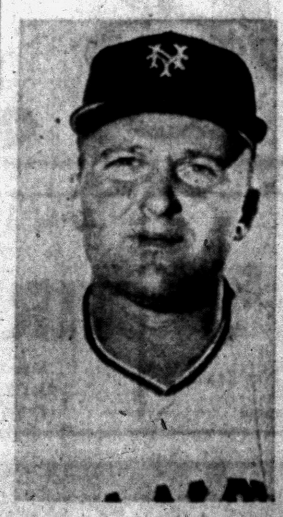

Both St. Mike and St. Fred are scheduled to enter district tourney action next week at Pontiac High.

Tourney Starts Saturday

NEW YORK (AP) — First-round play in the small college division of the NCAA basketball championships opens tomorrow night with games in California and Mississippi.

10 Run at New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The probable field for Saturday's $50,000-added New Orleans Handicap dwindled to 10 today with the Hasty House Farm entry of Sea O Erin and Platan the early favorite.

REPLACES SARNI — Bob Schmidt (above) has been named to replace Bill Sarni, NY Giant catcher, stricken by a heart attack. The 200-pound Schmidt never before has played higher than AA ball.

Bold Ruler, Calumet Pair Rated Favorites

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Names of seven horses were expected to go into the entry box today for Saturday's $100,000 added Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah Park—the race that may point out to the winner of the Kentucky Derby.

According to the morning clockers the mile and one-eighth race for 3-year-olds will be between Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler, trained by Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, and Calumet Farm's pair o. Gen. Duke and Iron Liege, conditioned by Jimmy Jones.

Lightweights on TV

NEW YORK (INS) — Third-ranking lightweight Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland, Calif., tries to make it 14 straight tonight, when he meets rugged Paolo Rosi of Italy in a nationally-televised ten-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Eaglets Win Final Tilt

Orchard Lake St. Mary finished its regular season schedule with a 15-1 record with a 49-34 triumph over Wayne St. Mary at Orchard Lake last night. Paul Franckowiak paced the Eaglets with 17 and Pete Madelans added 14.

I-L, W-O Cage Races Decided Tonight

Oakland County area high school basketball teams take their final fling of the regular season tonight before plunging into district tournament action next week.

Full schedules are on tap in four leagues, but only the results of Inter-Lakes and Wayne-Oakland games will have any bearing on the title picture.

In those two conferences the championship is still up for grabs, although the outcome appears rather obvious. All other league races have been decided.

Walled Lake and Berkley, tied for 1st place in the Inter-Lakes campaign with 8-1 records, seem destined to divide the crown. Both teams engage weak league foes tonight, the Vikings playing host to Van Dyke and Berkley entertaining Southfield.

Clarkston, which finished its Wayne-Oakland schedule last Friday, is assured of a co-championship. Northville will be heavily favored to beat West Bloomfield tonight at Keego Harbor and split W-O honors with the Wolves.

Waterford entertains Farmington in the remaining Inter-Lakes game while Brighton goes to Milford and Holly plays host to Clarenceville in other Wayne-Oakland contests. Fitzgerald invades Clawson for the lone Oakland B League tilt.

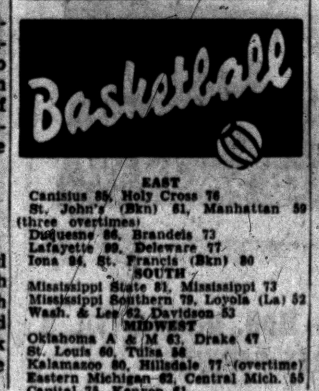

Eastern Michigan League activity sends Birmingham to East Detroit, Ferndale to Hazel Park and Port Huron to Mt. Clemens.

Memphis visits Dryden, Almont greets Armada and Brown City makes the trek to Capac in Southern Thumb League play. Oxford at Ortonville and Imlay City at Millington comprise the South Central Conference calendar.

Utica, which has clinched a share of the Bi-County League title, travels to Romeo for tonight's best non-loop attraction. Anticipated victories by Warren and Center Line would force the Chieftains to accept a three-way split of Bi-County honors.

Additional area games tonight are Royal Oak at Fordson, Flint Tech at Lapeer and Mariette at Croswell-Lexington. Mariette will be trying to close out a perfect season.

Cranbrook welcomes Western Reserve Saturday for an Inter-State League battle.

TEST YOUR BASEBALL KNOW-HOW

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

By BEN OLAN

The New York Yankees weren't always in a commanding position in the American League pennant race last season. On June 24 they dropped a double header to the Chicago White Sox and their once-sizeable lead was cut to a single game.

A couple of weeks later the Yankees were back on the beam and knocked off the White Sox in both ends of a twin bill.

Casey Stengel's strategy had something to do with winning the second game. If you were the Yankee manager would you have done the same thing?

(Key: (R) righthanded.)

Jim Wilson (R) is on the mound for Chicago as the White Sox take a 5-4 lead over the Yankees into the last of the 10th. A crowd of 61,000 at New York watches as Mickey Mantle leads off with a walk and moves to second when Yogi Berra also draws a base on balls. The runners move to second and third on Bill Skowron's sacrifice. Joe Collins is intentionally walked, filling the bases. Andy Carey strikes out for the second out. Phil Rizzuto (R) is the next batter with pitcher Johnny Kucks (R) scheduled to follow.

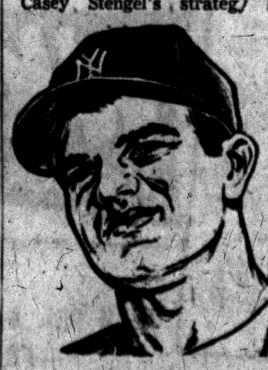

Would you:

a. Order Rizzuto to try a squeeze bunt?

b. Let Rizzuto swing away?

d. Gamble on a steal of home?

BILL SKOWRON

1957 Tigers Bubbling With Confidence

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The experts already have conceded another American League pennant to the New York Yankees, out for sheer conversation, you can't find many teams in front of the Detroit Tigers.

Few, if any, second division teams ever approached a new season with more confidence and optimism. And from all outward appearances—from the top moneymen in the organization to the lowest paid hireling—the spirit is genuine.

Their hopes buoyed by a king-sized shakeup, including new owners, new manager, and some new personnel, the Tigers feel this is the year they'll move back into the first division, a place they haven't reached since 1950.

The whole affair has been dubbed "the new spirit of the Tigers." It can be felt and seen everywhere as the club officially opens spring training today at Henley Field.

No fewer than eight players who will be performing for new manager Jack Tighe had their best major league season in 1956. Can they repeat? Tighe believes most can, and says there will be more overall strength, more capable players available to take up the slack should others fade.

Some of the new players will be new only to the Tigers. The club acquired a half dozen players with combined major league experience amounting to 35 years. Little help is expected this season from the rookies.

Last season the club got 56 victories from Frank Lary, Bill Hoeft and Paul Foytack. Lary and Hoeft were 20-game winners for the first time and Foytack had never won a major league decision before last year.

Four players batted over .300, and for two of them it was the highest batting mark of their major league career.

Prince Khaled Favored but He Needs a Jockey

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — The top horse in the 20th running of the $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby Saturday is Prince Khaled and all he needs is a jockey.

Ralph Neves was booked for the ride but yesterday he was suspended for five days and the stable launched a nationwide search for a rider.

Ted Williams Predicts He Will Have Banner Year

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — A jovial Ted Williams, happy to be back in a baseball uniform, predicted a banner season for himself today but was not nearly so optimistic about his club, the Boston Red Sox.

Baseball's greatest hitter said he couldn't see how any club could possibly beat out the New York Yankees for the American League pennant this year and bemoaned the failure of the Red Sox front office to improve the club through trades during the off season.

"The Yankees' acquisition of two pitchers like Art Ditmar and Bobby Shantz may kill off all interest in the American League race by mid-season," Williams said, "They were tough enough to beat last year. How the heck are you going to beat them this year? We have practically the same team we had in 1956 when we finished fourth. But don't forget that both Mickey Vernon and I are past 38. Unless we can make a trade before the season starts, you can figure out for yourself where we're apt to finish."

Ol' Miss Star 2nd in Scoring

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Joe Gibbon of Mississippi has ended his collegiate basketball career in second place, but still has a chance to win this year's major individual scoring title.

Gibbon finished the season scoring 25 points against Mississippi State last night to give him a season's average of 30.05 points a game, according to figures released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Elgin Baylor of Seattle, Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas, Chet Forte of Columbia and Wallace, the others involved in a five-way battle for scoring honors, still have regular and post season games ahead.

Sports, Travel Show

Big Event at Fairgrounds March 9-17

The 1957 Detroit Sports and Travel Show promises a bigger, more exciting tank and stage presentation than ever before in the history of this popular annual event.

The varied entertainment program will be presented twice daily, at 3 and 7 p.m. on week days and 2 and 7 p. m. weekends, in the Coliseum at the Michigan State Fairground, March 9-17.

Among top performers who will provide thrills is Marc Scala, French judo champion. His fast, fierce, noisy exhibition concludes with a simultaneous attack by three tough assailants.

Honey Girls, four attractive Australians, will present acrobatics in the modern manner. The Amazing Monahans, a father and his two handsome young sons, will give a tumbling performance.

Two Detroiters who have attained national acclaim will appear. Gloria and the Busy B's is a most unusual animal act performed on a floating surfboard in a 70x60-foot pool. Charlie Frank, well known to sports show audiences, will put his trained retrievers through their paces.

Newest hunting, fishing, archery, golfing and camping gear and clothing will be shown.

There will be a display of mobile homes—a first for events of this kind.

Fishermen will have an opportunity to try their luck in a 70x25-foot pool in the Dairy Cattle Building, stocked with hundreds of Michigan-bred rainbow trout. There also will be archery and rifle ranges.

Sponsored jointly by the Detroit Sportsmen's Congress and the Detroit News, the Sports and Travel Show will be open from noon to 11 p.m. on weekends and 2 to 11 p.m. on week days. Admission will be $1.25 for adults, 50c for children.

30 Players Still Unsigned as Spring Training Opens

NEW YORK (AP)—The sponsors of tournaments on the winter golf tour apparently have a legitimate beef when they complain about the non-appearance of the established pro stars.

The PGA probably wouldn't admit it, and neither would the veterans who are trying to stave off the surge of new talent, but the winning scores in eight tournaments so far indicate the tourists are playing the worst golf in four years.

That's rather hard to imagine when comparatively unknown players like Don Whitt, Howie Johnson, Bob Harris, Milton Marusic and Gene Bone can shoot some dazzling scores in the low 60's and still not cop the top prizes and when par golf hardly is enough to win caddie fees.

But the winning scores of the eight important tournaments on tour which began in Los Angeles in January and now is in its ninth week at Baton Rouge have averaged 68.90 strokes per round. Last year the average was 68.29 strokes for the same eight events. In 1955 it was 67.74 and in 1954 it was 68.15 for seven comparable tournaments.

Larsen Ends Holdout for $7,500 Increase

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (INS) — The perfect man has settled for less than the perfect salary he demanded of the New York Yankees.

Skiing Still OK at Mt. Holly Area Despite Weather

Despite the near-spring weather this week — and amazingly too — there is still good skiing in the Pontiac area. The report Thursday afternoon from Mt. Holly's ski area operator, Mort Graddis, that the popular Dixie Highway sports center had 8 to 10 inches of snow base, plus three inches of machine snow came as a welcome surprise to many ski devotees in the section.

First ski races of the season are set for Sunday, weather and snow permitting. It is hoped to make the event an annual one, but earlier in the season. Both men and women will take part in the several divisions of the meet. The slalom events start at 4 o'clock.

Archie Moore OK's June 7 Title Scrap

DETROIT (AP) — Aging light heavyweight champion Archie Moore will put his title on the line June 7 in Detroit against the winner of a Chuck Spieser-Ernie Anthony fight at Olympia stadium April 5.

Nick Londes, Olympia matchmaker, said Moore's manager, Charles Johnston, agreed to the June date after Londes unsuccessfully tried to set up a bout for April 5 between Moore and Spieser, No. 1 light heavyweight contender.

Detroit's NHL Lead Is Sliced to Four Points

Plante Registers Eighth Shutout, Rocket Gets Two Goals for Habs

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — Goalie Jacques Plante posted one of the easiest shutouts of his National Hockey League career Thursday night as the Montreal Canadiens silenced the Detroit Red Wings, 3-0.

The Montreal netminder was required to make only 20 saves, half of them in the final period when Detroit's cause was lost, to record his 8th whitewashing of the 1956-57 campaign.

Meanwhile, Red Wing goaltender Glenn Hall was forced to kick out 36 shots. Hall was magnificent in the nets, but he couldn't repulse the steady tatoo all evening long.

It was the "old pro," Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, who triggered the Montreal triumph. Richard dented Hall's armour twice and rookie Phil Goyette, making his debut on Detroit ice, accounted for the 3rd goal.

A crowd of 14,486 in Olympia Stadium found little to cheer about as the Habs outskated, outchecked, outhustled and completely dominated the Wings.

The game started out as a slambang affair. Eleven penalties were assessed in the 1st period and 18 were called before the contest was over.

Richard scored his 1st goal with just 35 seconds remaining in the 1st period while the Wings were two men short. "The Rocket" beat Hall with a short blast after the Detroit goalie had made several tremendous stops.

The fiery Richard clicked again at the 15:23 mark of the 2nd period. He slipped between two Wing defenders and moved in on the helpless Hall for an easy goal, his 28th of the year.

Goyette skated around a slipshod defense and connected for Montreal's final tally at 18:35 of the middle stanza. The Canadiens were then content to play defensive hockey during the scoreless 3rd period.

It was the 3rd consecutive loss for the slumping Red Wings and cut their NHL lead to four points.

Bill Ebben Ends College Career

Titan Star Winds Up Cage Activity With Bradley, Louisville

DETROIT — Magnificent Bill Ebben, the University of Detroit's high flying captain whose 26.9 scoring average is the nation's seventh best, will close out his collegiate basketball career against two of the toughest opponents in the land when the Titans bid for upsets over Bradley and Louisville within the next week.

Bradley will be here Saturday night (March 2) for Detroit's final home game of the season, and the occasion has been dubbed "Bill Ebben Night" in tribute to the Chicago senior who already is certain of establishing seven all-time Detroit records even if the impossible happens and he goes scoreless in these last two games.

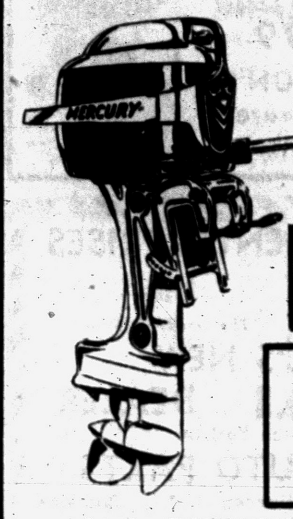

Coach Bob Calhan's Detroiters then will wind up their campaign March 6 at Louisville in a rematch with Charlie Tyra & Co.

FRIDAY'S SVC GAMES (FINAL)
Pontiac at Saginaw High; Arthur Hill at Flint Central; Flint Northern at Bay City Central.

By H. GUY MOATS

Saginaw Valley Conference champs and the team that gave them one of the roughest battles this season, collide tonight at the big Saginaw High gymnasium. Pontiac High Chiefs visit to Saginaw (6-3) marks conclusion of both SVC and regular season schedules for both clubs.

For the unbeaten Valley champions (9-0) the contest will be an encounter in which pride in success will be the dominant note. Art Van Ryzin's club was hard put to it, turning back the Trojans in the Dec. 18 scrap here, Chiefs won, 64-59. They are highly desirous of keeping that SVC record clear.

Contest also will afford Pontiac the opportunity to run its overall total to 14 wins in 15 starts, a rather flossy record. Only one loss mars that record.

Trojans have an overall mark of 10-3, all their losses having been sustained in Valley competition. Incidentally Trojans have not lost a home game this season!

Larry Laeding today named his starters for tonight's game (8:10 p.m.) with his ace point-maker, Deb Blondin and Dick Yates at forwards, Gary Potts at center and Bill Holliday, with either Larry Roosevelt or Willie Thompson at guards. Tyler O'Keefe is also a forward possibility as a starter.

Van Ryzin's starters will include Dave Simmons and Terry Zellhart at forwards, Hudson (Goose) Ray at the pivot, Larry Peet and Dave Diehm in the backcourt posts.

Birmingham Swimmers Set Five EML Records in Meet

Birmingham's swimmers broke five league records and took 1st places in 9 of 10 events yesterday to romp to their 9th straight Eastern Michigan League overall championship with 142 points at the BHS pool.

Ferndale and Mt. Clemens finished tied for runnerup with 37 points apiece and Hazel Park had 33. Maples previously won the dual crown with five successive victories.

Pete Sintz and Tom Bechtel were individual stars of the meet, each setting two records. Birmingham's medley relay team established the other new, mark. A Mt. Clemens boy was the only visiting tanker to win an event.

The summary:

PHS Matmen 'Darkhorses' in Valley's Title Event

Pontiac goes into the 1st Saginaw Valley Conference wrestling tournament in its familiar underdog role Saturday but the Chiefs could very well cause some surprises if their recent improvement continues.

Bill Willson's charges have only a 4-8 record and have suffered severe beatings from two of the other three teams taking part in the meet but cannot be counted out of the running.

Chiefs have been coming along fast in the past two weeks with three victories in four tries, including two in succession.

Flint Northern, Flint Central and Bay City Central are the other mat contingents in the Saturday event. Northern has whipped PHS 38-5 and 36-18, while Bay City took an early season 43-15 win over the locals.

Top threats for conference honors are 133-pound Mel Nosenchuk, who leads Pontiac with 33 points; Dave Payne, 120; John Herron, 165; Duke Reilyear, 175, and heavyweight Willie Duncan.

Tournament prelims get underway at 2 p.m. with finals at 7:30 the same night. Team champions will receive a handsome trophy and pins will go to the runnerups. Trophies and medals go to the individual winners.

The Detroit Lions traveling basketball team will visit the Waterford High School gymnasium the night of March 8 to meet a faculty aggregation known as the Waterford Clowns, it was announced today.

Such grid veterans as Charley Ane, Pontiac resident Tom Tracy, Gary Reichow, Sonny Gandee, Dorne Dibbie and Jug Girard will be aiming at the hoop at the Skipper court. The Clowns will include WTHS coaches Don Beedle and Dove Freeman.

The event will be sponsored by the school's Varsity Club. It is scheduled for 8 p.m. following a preliminary game which will settle the championship of the Waterford Morning Recreation League. That tussle will match the Junior Clowns against the Castoffs.

Montana to Pay Bonus to Korean War Vets

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Gov. Hugo J. Aronson yesterday signed a bonus bill providing up to $600 for veterans of the armed forces who served during the fighting in Korea.

The bonus is $15 a month for overseas service and $10 a month for time on duty in the United States.

An additional tax of one cent a pack on cigarettes will finance the payments. Montana still is collecting a two-cent cigarette tax to pay for the 22-million-dollar bonus awarded veterans of World War II.

Stock Prices Widen Gains

Pivotal issues rose from fractions to around a point. There was an assortment of losers.

After an active opening the pace slowed. Republic Aviation resumed its rise of yesterday in active dealings, adding more than a point. Boeing recovered partially from its recent setback, advancing a point or so.

Gulf Oil tacked on more than a point and was in fairly good demand.

But there was no conspicuous group action and the general performance was slack. The news that Israel plans to withdraw from Egypt brought no particular stimulus to oil shares with big holdings in the troubled Middle East.

The mixed nature of corporate reports gave the market no more inspiration than it has had for the past couple of weeks.

Leading steels were ahead, with Youngstown about the best of this division, up a point or so. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem added fractions.

Motors showed practically no change. Studebaker-Packard eased. Rails were mainly steady but showed no notable gains among leading carriers.

Pilot Runs Into Bad Dust Fifty Miles Out at Sea

HONOLULU (AP) — A dust storm 50 miles at sea from Honolulu and 6,000 feet high streaked the windshield of a United Air Lines plane so badly yesterday the pilot said he had to crane his neck to see out.

Pilot Paul Reeder said he has never before run into anything like the series of dust-bearing clouds. He has been flying to Hawaii 15 years.

The weatherman said the dust couldn't have come from Hawaii. The wind was blowing in the wrong direction.

Predicts Giant Metropolitan Area for State

DETROIT (AP)—A Pennsylvania community development planner predicted yesterday the rapid approach of a giant single metropolitan area bounded by Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, Lansing, Jackson and Toledo.

Francis A. Pitkin, director of the Bureau of Community Development, Pennsylvania Department of Commerce, made the prediction to planning and zoning conference of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

He said more than two million persons will be added to the seven city area by 1975.

"The area for which you must be planning now," Pitkin said, "is the great region with Detroit at its center and which has around its outer rim Bay City, Lansing, Jackson and Toledo."

Marysville Industry Is Offered for Sale

MARYSVILLE (AP)—Pressed Metals of America, Inc., a firm with 300 employes that manufactures automobile parts, is up for sale.

Stockholders of the firm voted overwhelmingly yesterday to authorize the board of directors to negotiate for the sale of the plant.

Asst. Treasurer Harry Levenson said the firm, which is accepting no more orders until the change in financing, is hoping to complete a sale before March 15 and avert a shutdown. He appraised the value of the plant's machinery at two million dollars and the buildings at $600,000.

Strike Halts Deliveries of Socony Gasoline, Oil

DETROIT (AP) — A strike of oil workers halted deliveries of Socony Mobil Oil Co. fuel oil and gasoline in the Detroit area yesterday.

Terminal loaders, members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Local 11-389, walked off their jobs at the suburban Dearborn terminal in a dispute over grievances and wages. Their contract expired last month. Negotiations have been continuing.

Gaugers, drivers and other company employes struck in sympathy with terminal loaders.

UAW Man Denies Beating Non-Striker

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — A Detroit auto union member, accused of beating two non-striking Kohler Co. employes during the prolonged labor dispute, denied yesterday being at the scene of the fight.

John Gunaca, a member of the United Auto Workers' Detroit Local 212, testified on three occasions during a National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) hearing that he never had been in Sheboygan Falls, Wis., the scene of the beating.

Gunaca's testimony was taken in this Upper Michigan city because he has refused to answer a Wisconsin summons. He has been charged by Wisconsin with felonious assault in the beatings, but Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan has refused to extradite him.

Alger Resignation Has Been Accepted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Confirming rumors that earlier stirred objections in some elements of the Michigan Republican Party, the resignation of Frederic M. Alger Jr., as Ambassador to Belgium was accepted yesterday.

Alger, a resident of Grosse Pointe, Mich., is a former Michigan secretary of state. He once ran for governor.

Ambassadors normally offer a resignation at the end of their appointment, but usually they are turned down unless the appointee expresses a desire to quit.

Alger had given no previous indication he planed to resign.

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, said Alger "did not state" why he quit.

Asks State to Release Polio Vaccine Fund

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today asked the Legislature to make available approximately $660,000 in polio vaccine funds that have been appropriated but not released.

The governor said that it is now clear that the full state appropriation is needed and needed immediately.

"The recent sharp increase in demand for vaccine is a gratifying indication of the fact that our campaign to make people conscious of the need to be vaccinated now is paying off," he said.

The governor said that Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, had advised him he has only "a tiny supply" of vaccine on hand and only enough funds available for a one-day supply.

Williams noted that the release of funds would not affect the present budget since the money already has been appropriated.

Solons Approve Bills on Water, Colleges

LANSING (AP)—Senate approval has been accorded bills permitting creation of a water authority and a community college district.

Both now go to the House. The water authority bill originated there but needs concurrence with Senate amendments.

Both were amended to permit taxpayers to swing an amending veto on any financing plans for either water pipe line or community college construction.

The water authority bill permits two or more communities with a valuation of not less than $200,000,000 to finance their own water system.

It has been tailored for the Grand Rapids district, which is planning a pipe line to bring water from Lake Michigan.

Amendments to the bill permit objectors to call for a popular vote on the issuance of general obligation bonds.

Odd-Egg Chick Gets Sentence of Confinement

POOLE, England (AP)—A chicken which lays banana-shaped eggs was put into solitary confinement today pending an investigation by the British Ministry of Agriculture.

The eggs have been turning up for weeks now on Wilfred Waterman's farm here. Instead of fitting neatly into a breakfast egg cup, the shells curve over the top of the cup with a tired, early-morning droop.

Waterman said he found he couldn't sell them and had located the culprit — "a big, bonny hen in apparently excellent condition."

Waterman said he's putting her in a hen house alone.

"You never know, it might be catching," he explained.

Store Sales Rising

NEW YORK (INS)—Department store sales in the U.S. last week rose three per cent ahead of the corresponding period of 1956. Sales increased in eight of the 12 federal reserve districts, paced by the New York region's 14 per cent gain. Dallas District sales were off nine per cent, for the worst showing in the country.

To Hear Appeals on Assessments

Tax Review Board Sets Dates

City Assessor W. Raymond Ransom today announced the hearing dates of the 1957 Pontiac Board of Tax Review.

Beginning next Tuesday, March 5 through March 8, the board will meet to listen to citizens seeking tax exemptions or reductions for reasons of diminished incomes.

March 11 through March 15, the sessions will be devoted to queries on real estate property assessments on both land and property.

The following week, March 18-22, the board will meet to hear questions or complaints on personal property assessments for 1957.

Reappointed last month by the City Commission to the board were James F. Spence, Gerald W. Kehoe and Vernon K. Archer. City Attorney William A. Ewart and Director of Finance Oscar Eckman are ex-officio members of the board.

"If residents of the city are not satisfied with their assessments, this is the time to appeal them," Ransom said, urging taxpayers to appear.

The 1957 assessments, upon which the board will hear appeals, determine city and school taxes payable in July and county taxes due in December, Ransom said.

Those with questions on personal property are urged to bring property books with them when they appear before the board.

It meets in the assessor's office on the first floor of the City Hall, 35 S. Parke St. Hours are from 9 a.m. until noon, and from 1 till 4 p.m.

Contract Not to Low Bidder

Study Training of Official

WASHINGTON (INS) — House investigators question today a youthful Air Force official whose decisions resulted in the award of government contracts worth millions of dollars.

The official is John E. Hickey, 29, an Air Force contracting officer for the past seven years. He is stationed at Wilkins Air Force station, in Shelby, Ohio.

Members of the Armed Services investigations subcommittee, headed by Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La), have expressed keen interest in Hickey's background. They planned to ask him what educational and business qualifications he brought to his job.

A similar interest was being exhibited in Lt. Stanley Schneiderman, who worked for a short period with Hickey as an Air Force buyer. Schneiderman, no longer with the Air Force, was said to be 24 years old.

It was Hickey who made the decision on a three million dollar contract for plane air conditioners which the subcommittee is now investigating. The probe was triggered by Robert G. Adair, president of KECO Industries, of Cincinnati, Ohio, who complained to the house unit that he did not receive the award although he was the low bidder.

Air Force officials have testified that KECO was originally the lowest bidder of five companies which submitted bids.

Northville Man Dies of Car-Train Crash

DETROIT (AP) — Raymond J. Crumb, 28-year-old fireman at Wayne County Training School in Northville, was killed today when his automobile collided with a freight train just outside suburban Plymouth.

Crumb, returning from an ice fishing trip, was the father of three small children and lived in Northville.

Emmy Nominations Contain Some Puzzling Elements

Frank Parker's Debut Lets Godfrey War Die

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Frank Parker made his debut in a New York supper club and made no effort to revive the war with Arthur Godfrey. "My writers used to work for Godfrey," he announced, "and he fired them. If I can find them, I'm going to fire them, too." Furthermore, he declared, Godfrey had a right to fire him: "After all, it was his show, and he owned it. And it is on CBS—and he owns that, too."

Crusading against slaughter on the highways, Moulton Kelsey of Houston, uses this rhyme:

"One life is all you'll ever have,
Slow down before you lose it.
It seems a crime
To make good time —
And then not live to use it."

Toni Carroll, a former "Miss Missouri," has set a new record out called "Think Twice."

TONI

A government agricultural agent who was strictly a book-farmer came upon a goat while taking an inventory and wired Washington: "Have found an animal with a sad face, a long beak, a skinny frame and a bare rump. What value should I place on it?" Washington wired back: "That animal is a farmer. Be nice to them. They vote."

At a luncheon for Ex-Gov. Shivers of Texas, veteran actor Irving Fisher, dressed like a Confederate officer, shouted: "Hold onto your Confederate money because that Yankee dollar is going to hell in a handbasket!" A waiter spoke up: "He ain't kiddin', either!"

Linda Darnell and bridegroom Robbie Robertson'll honeymoon with the junketing movie stars going to the Uruguay Film Festival . . . Brigitte Bardot, the French cheesecake queen, will beat MMonroe to "The Brothers Karamazov"; starts filming in May . . . Edward G. Robinson said his autobiography'll be titled, "All or Nothing at All" . . . Aldo Ray and Robert Ryan ducked autograph hunters at the Steve Allen TV'er by yelling, "Look — there's Pat Boone!"

Nat (King) Cole may have his 15 minute TV spot extended to a half hour . . . Jason Robards Jr., who was signed to star with Hecht-Lancaster, was an 85c-an-hour typist two years ago.

Video Variables May Be Reason

By BOB THOMAS

The nominations are somewhat less confused than in previous years, but there still remain some puzzling elements. I suppose this stems from the fact that competition for honors can never be as clear-cut in TV as it is in movies.

There are too many variables in TV. For instance, actors are pitted against each other in two different mediums; live TV, which is like the stage, and filmed TV, which is movie technique. A live actor has the advantage of playing a sustained performance without interruption. A film actor has the advantage of retakes, but must do his work in bits and pieces.

Ed Wynn, who played single performance in "Requiem for a Heavyweight,' is competing for best supporting actor with Paul Ford, Art Carney, Bill Frawley and Carl Reiner, who appear weekly.

Likewise Mildred Natwick, on the basis of "Blithe Spirit," is up against regulars Vivian Vance, Pat Carroll, Ann B. Davis and Audrey Meadows.

Leonard Bernstein, who has made two or three TV appearances, must fight for "best personality" honors with Steve Allen, Perry Como, Ernie Ford and Alfred Hitchcock, who have weekly shows.

Why does Faye Emerson appear in the "best female personality" list? She hasn't starred on her own show in years, having functioned solely as a guest and panelist.

And what's Nanette Fabray doing amid other "bert comediennes" Edith Adams, Gracie Allen, Lucille Ball and Ann Sothern? Nanette hasn't been on a regular show since last spring, when she left Sid Caesar's program.

Despite these inconsistencies, the nominations appeared to be more apt than they have been in past years of the stormy history of the academy. I guess you can't ask for too much logic during the award season.

Stresses Cause of Scandal Sheet

Get Rid of Wrongdoing to Doom Publications, Detective Tells Probers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A private detective has told a State Senate investigating committee that the way to get rid of scandal magazines is to get rid of scandal.

The committee is inquiring into sources of information used for articles in such publications.

The private eye, Fred Otash, also testified yesterday that he once was Anita Ekberg's boy friend, and that he later supplied Confidential magazine with secret photographs of the shapely Swedish actress.

Otash suggested to the committee that the Communists and the sex deviates be ousted from the movie industry, that male movie stars stay with their wives and female movie stars stay with their husbands.

"If you do that," added Otash, "you'll have no scandal — and no scandal magazines."

The committee heard testimony about a proposed $350,000 movie industry fund to combat scandal magazines and about a pocket electronic device that can radio a conversation to a recorder in a panel truck three blocks away.

The Senate committee is investigating whether state laws need tightening to stop private eyes from selling information on their clients to expose magazines.

Met and Sullivan Cancel Contract for Opera Stars

NEW YORK (AP)—The Ed Sullivan television show and the Metropolitan Opera have decided that each has its place—and that it's not together.

They have agreed to terminate a month early a contract under which Met stars appeared on the TV program.

Sullivan, on one hand, said the show's rating dropped when he presented opera singers.

Rudolph Bing, the Met's general manager, was unhappy about ventriloquists and other variety acts sharing the program with his stars.

The fourth and final appearance of Met stars on the Sullivan show will come March 10 when Renata Tebaldi and Richard Tucker will sing a duet.

There was to have been a presentation but that has been canceled by mutual agreement. Sullivan said there was a difference in artistic attitudes between Bing and him, but that there was no feud and that "We are friendly."

Sullivan said none of the performances by the Met stars lacked quality but that the show had to watch its ratings.

New Era Dawns in Mideast

Patient Diplomacy Lets Israel Join Peace Move

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Patience—the virtue that in international crises is so necessary to the success of a skillful diplomacy—has vindicated itself in the settlement of the dispute over the withdrawal of Israeli troops from the Gaza strip and the shores of the Gulf of Aqaba.

LAWRENCE

It will appear to the world that Israel bowed to the desires of the United Nations. But actually Israel decided to accept the U. N. request for withdrawal of Israeli troops primarily because the United States stepped into the picture and gave some strong commitments that have enabled Israel to take the course she really wanted to take but feared would be in vain.

These commitments could turn out to be of no avail if Egypt disregards her pledges to the United Nations to keep the Suez Canal open to all ships. But then it would be the influence of the United States which would be brought to bear inside the U. N. to secure compliance by Egypt.

The "pressure" would then be applied the other way. It would mean that Israel would not stand alone at the bar of the U. N. simply pleading for justice.

What Israel has gained through her protracted negotiation is an understanding friend at Washington. Israel is giving up her military advantage in the territory she occupied as a result of her march last October but is getting what she considers to be a guarantee against recurrent attacks by Egyptian forces.

The question of who was the first aggressor in the long series of incidents that have arisen in the last few years between Egypt and Israel is academic now. A new era has been begun. Israel will have withdrawn her troops just as did France and Britain.

On balance, the new situation, though developed through moments of great anxiety and tension, is healthier today than it was in the days when raids on Israeli territoy were going on and there was concurrently an adamant refusal to let Israeli ships through the Suez Canal.

What does Egypt get out of it? A chance to rebuild relations with France and Britain and particularly with this country, where trade relationships and economic ties must be reconstructed. It was more than a coincidence that the French premier, Guy Mollet, was in Washington during the last several days while a compromise was being worked out with the representatives of the Israeli government.

Whatever the implications of the terms of the agreement, the fact now is that both the United States and France stand back of them—ready to lend their influence in the United Nations in seeing that the grievances of which Israel complained are cured and that an era of real peace is ushered in with reference to the operations of the Suez Canal.

Bitterness will not vanish overnight, and deep-seated hatreds which have produced friction in the Middle East will not disappear right away.

But the outlook now is for measures to build constructively rather than those which bring a gradual deterioration of the foundations of peace. The Arab countries will soon be able to sell all their oil again. The Soviet schemes for muddying the waters will have less chance of succeeding now than if the Middle East had remained in turmoil.

PAINFUL PROGRESS

It has been a painful and, at times, frustrating series of conferences between the Israeli representatives and those of the United States government, largely because mischievious politicians were constantly trying to picture the United States as having taken sides against Israel and in favor of the Arab point of view.

When President Eisenhower said in his television speech there was no choice but to continue to exert "pressure" on Israel for a settlement through the United Nations, this was widely interpreted as a threat of "sanctions" by this country against Israel.

As a matter of fact, there was no time when the United States wanted to propose sanctions to the U. N. The hope was that, through continuous negotiation, the Israelis would be satisfied that they had everything to gain and very little to lose by trusting themselves to the assurances given by the United States in its Feb. 11 memorandum to Israel.

It was fortunate that a man of the skill of Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban and someone with the standing that Mrs. Golda Meir, the foreign minister, has in Israel, were in Washington this week to negotiate with Secretary of State Dulles.

They came to understand the limits to which America could go and the importance, therefore, of achieving first of all an early withdrawal of Israeli troops. For such withdrawal will symbolize the renunciation of the use of force—a cardinal principle in American foreign policy today.

Now if Egypt will put her faith in American disinterestedness and fairness, and if the Senate will expedite the passage of the Eisenhower doctrine resolution without further quibbling and without picayunish faultfinding, the cause of peace will have been immeasurably advanced and real progress made in the world toward prevention of another global war.

World's Finest Diamond Unveiled in New York

NEW YORK (INS) — A huge, new-cut "finest diamond in the world"—you can buy it for two million dollars—brought a professional smile but little desire to the lovely face of model Edna Rae.

"Two million dollars is more than I can even conceive of," she said a little sadly, "but it is fantastically beautiful, something any woman would love, although she might want other things more."

The still unnamed gem weighed in Wednesday, right after its last cut and polish, at exactly 128.25 carats, about two inches long, an inch-and-one-eighth wide and three-fourths of an inch thick.

FINEST IN WORLD

"Beyond question," said Winston, "this is the finest diamond in the world . . . in quality, shape and perfection it outranks every other diamond. Its value cannot be estimated . . . but I would consider two million dollars."

Winston got the original 426 carat rough diamond in an $8,400,000 deal for 50,000 diamonds last February. The big diamond came from the Jagersfontaine mine in South Africa.

De Haan made a total of 300 lead models, and made his first cut for the smaller gem in July. He began cutting the big drop stone in September and finished Wednesday morning.

"It took about 1,400 manhours," he reported, "but we got almost exactly what we predicted.

"The diamond is perfect, without a single impurity, and the many facets turn it into a gem that burns with a soft blue radiance of utmost brilliancy."

He said the diamond in size alone ranks among the world's top dozen. It is probably the largest drop or pear shape in the world. It is the largest ever cut in the U.S.A.

Winston believes there are people nowadays with large enough fortunes to afford such a gem. But he said, "I wouldn't like to sell it right away. This is a stone people should see."

Meyner to Seek a Second Term as Governor

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)— Gov. Robert B. Meyner, elected in 1953 as New Jersey's first Democratic chief executive since 1940, has said that he would seek re-election in November.

"I'm very much interested in state government and I hope to continue in that activity," he told a news conference, "It has been a most satisfying experience. I should like to continue doing it."

Since then he has traveled all over the country, speaking at Democratic get-togethers and was mentioned as a possible vice presidential candidate in 1956.

He made headlines in Chicago last August when he swung the New Jersey delegation to Adlai E. Stevenson.

State Sens. Macolm S. Forbes and Wayne Dumont are running for the Republican nomination for governor in the April 16 primary.
