Explosions Rock Gotham Atomic Lab; 25 Injured

Radioactive Materials Believed Responsible; Newsmen Barred

NEW YORK (U)—A double explosion rocked an atomic laboratory in Queens today. The Atomic Energy Commission dispatched investigators to determine if radioactive materials were responsible.

First reports indicated the number of injured persons ranged up to 25.

The blasts, coming within seconds of each other, damaged the second floor of the metallurgy laboratory at Sylvania Electric Products company's 56-acre plant in the Bayside section of Queens.

The plant reportedly is part of Sylvania's long-term program for peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Some 50 firemen, 20 policemen and one photographer were detained at the plant for examination to check effects of radioactivity.

REPORTERS BARRED

Other reporters and photographers were barred from the plant because of the top-secret nature of the research being performed there.

The AEC office in Manhattan said the work was classified and confirmed that a team of investigators was on the way.

Police said at least 300 employees were in the plant when the first explosion ripped through the second floor laboratory at 8:40 a.m.

Two Roman Catholic priests administered last rites to at least five of the injured.

Police said 25 windows were smashed in the laboratory and people in the neighborhood likened the two explosions to "tremendous claps of thunder."

A woman employee who answered the phone in the laboratory said a "lot of people" were hurt. "It was terrible," she said. Ambulances from three Long Island hospitals answered the call. The most seriously injured were taken to Flushing Hospital.

Helicopter Crews Begin Body Recovery Project Along Colorado River

Seven Oakland County residents died Saturday in the wreckage of two commercial airliners which apparently crashed in flight over Grand Canyon, Arizona.

Their shattered bodies still lie in the debris of the United Air Lines DC 7 which was carrying them from Los Angeles to Chicago.

Helicopter pilots who flew over the scene said the plane hit the sheer side of inaccessible Temple Butte, leaving a stark burned scar on the rock.

Debris cascaded down the face of the butte, they said, and there is a tragic possibility some of the Michigan residents on the plane found

Gold Contest in 6th Week, Pot Gets Heavier by $100

Loaded down by $500 in still-unclaimed prize money, the Press' POT-O-GOLD grows even more bottom-heavy today with the addition of $100—the least a winner in Puzzle No. 6 can receive for his triumph.

More than 5,000 readers tried at last week's $400 prize and lost, an unfortunate event that can mean $500 to the one who solves Puzzle No. 5, published for the last time in last Friday's Press.

Deadline for entries No. 5 is tomorrow night at midnight—postcards containing completed puzzles must be mailed and postmarked by that time to receive consideration.

Meanwhile, if you missed last week's chance, try our new puzzle on Page 34 today. You stand a chance of winning a possible $600 if last week's contestants don't come up with a successful solution.

To help you along a little bit, the Press has provided the following list of words. It contains all of the 16 you'll need to win.

Four persons drowned, a man was thrown from a speedboat and a baby was killed by a train. The worst single accident happened near Detroit, where two men and a 6-year-old boy died Sunday night when their pickup truck overturned.

Ecorse Township police identified the dead as Carl Harned, 42, of Wyandotte, Bechman L. Large, 40, of Detroit, and Ronnie Whitlow, 46, of Lincoln Park.

Other traffic victims included: Arthur Sturgis, 32, of Sturgis; Richard Herron, 24, of Flint; Vincent Sullivan, 26, of Detroit; Charles A. Monroe, 40, of Jackson.

Ronald H. Walter Jr., 35, of Wixom; Murray Brown, 69, of Grand Rapids.

John William Major, 38, of Ada; Betty Flagel, 17, of Watervliet; Eugene Ready, 22, of Kalamazoo; and Shirley Muntz, 16, of Comstock.

Allen W. Richards, 80, of Detroit; Jessie Farrar, 5, of Wheeler; Leslie Mock, 16, of Elkhardt, Ind.; Chester Locke, 30, of Flint; Oscar F. Larsen, 60, of Englewood; and Norman W. Ewing, 17, of South Bend, Ind.

Theodore Azzam, 25, of Detroit was killed Sunday when he fell out of a speedboat as it made a turn near Harsen's Island. Witnesses said the boat may have hit Azzam before he sank. State Police began dragging operations to recover his body.

A baby girl, Betty Drewier, 18 months old, was struck and killed Sunday by a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train near her home south of Monroe.

Ike Buckles Down to Routine of Office

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower buckled down to some routine of his office today, meeting with staff aides who flew here from Washington with brief cases full of official business.

In heavily overcast weather that delayed their departure from the capital 10 minutes, chief presidential assistant Sherman Adams and other aides arrived at 9:55 a.m. for a work session with the convening President at his farm home.

"How does it feel to be commuting again?" a reporter asked Adams, referring to the period last November and December when Eisenhower was recovering here from a heart attack and Adams flew up almost daily.

"Seems like old times," Adams replied with a smile.

Waugh Rebuffed by Bay City Police

Chester Waugh, 36-year-old "disfellowshipped" member of Jehovah's Witnesses here, received another setback in his quest for "justice" in Bay City yesterday.

Waugh, who drove into Bay City with a five-foot-high kangaroo on the roof of his car, parked in front of the Bay City church.

But police towed the car away, claiming it was creating a disturbance.

Waugh was thrown out of the church 18 months ago. Fellow members charged he was "a brother-hater and a meddler."

He said he went to Bay City because several church members there told him they had been "disfellowshipped" without a fair trial.

old E. Milliken, Pontiac zone, and Gerald J. Schulte, Chicago zone. Schulte succeeds Milliken in the Chicago post.

Formerly regional manager of Pontiac's eastern sales region, with headquarters in New York, Kissam joined Pontiac in 1936. He served in the advertising and customer relations departments before his transfer to the sales department's field organization in 1938.

He was a district manager and assistant zone manager in the New York zone. Later he was zone manager in the Cincinnati and New York zones before his appointment as eastern regional manager.

Milliken joined Pontiac as a district manager in the Cleveland zone in 1935. Since that time he has served as a district manager in the Washington zone, assistant zone manager in New York, and zone manager in Cincinnati and Chicago. He is a native of Pennsylvania where he was born in 1903.

Schulte joined General Motors in 1933 and came to Pontiac in 1936. From 1936 to 1946, he held positions on the Pontiac central office sales staff. In 1947 he was appointed zone manager in Kansas City and a year later became zone manager of the Pontiac zone.

Schulte, his wife and two children live at 395 Suffield in Bloomfield Hills.

Marilyn, Arthur Wed 2nd Time in Religious Rite

ROXBURY, Conn. (AP)—Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller repeated their marriage vows yesterday afternoon in a religious ceremony performed by Rabbi Robert Gold-berg of New Haven, the groom confirmed today.

The couple managed to keep their second wedding just as quiet as the first—the civil ceremony Friday night performed by White Plains Judge Seymour Robinson.

They went to Waccabuc where the service was performed at the home of Mr. & Mrs. James Barrett about 3 p.m.

About 25 guests were present at the wedding, including 15 of Miller's relatives, he said. The rest he identified as friends.

"This was the ceremony I planned originally," Miller said. The other at White Plains he described as being "on the spur of the moment to stop all the publicity."

He described Rabbi Goldberg, who performed the ceremony, as an old friend.

Cars Line Up 5½ Miles in 7-Hour Straits Tieup

MACKINAW CITY (INS)—Cars were backed up as far as 5½ miles yesterday as tourists jammed the Straits of Mackinac ferries over the weekend. The tieup delayed some motorists for as long as seven hours while the jam continued for a total of 13 hours.

Operators of the boats said much of the traffic was caused by vacationists who were getting a head start on the Fourth of July holiday.

But one pilot, Capt. James Womack, who visited the scene yesterday, reported:

"There's not much down there that anyone's going to get out."

CRASH 'A FREAK'

The worst crash in commercial airline history was called "a freak—an unbelievable rarity" by veteran pilots.

The two planes are believed to have crashed while flying between cloud masses at 20,000 feet.

They left Los Angeles three minutes apart. The United Air Lines DC 7 was bound for Chicago, the TWA Constellation for Kansas City. Both were flying great circle routes, but both were slightly off their mapped routes, probably because they were flying erratic courses to avoid the piled cloud masses.

Airline officials reported the DC 7 was assigned an altitude of 21,000 feet, but the Constellation's pilot was instructed to stay 1,000 feet above the clouds.

The last radio report from either plane came seconds before the crash from the pilot of the DC 7: "We are going . . ."

Silence followed on the radio. The three large helicopters which took off at dawn today plan to land in the treacherous jaws of a mile-deep chasm near Temple Butte. Other planes are scheduled to try to navigate closer to Chuar Butte than was possible in yesterday's violent winds.

OK, Kids, Get Lost—the Ice Cream's Free

NEW YORK (INS)—Children lost on the July Fourth holiday—and authorities estimate about 3,500 youngsters will be temporarily misplaced—were guaranteed free ice cream cones today by a major ice cream company.

Paul Granning, executive vice president of the Dairy Queen Stores whose headquarters are in Davenport, Iowa, said police departments throughout the nation were being notified the company would pick up the ice cream tab for "lost uns." Same deal for the kids on Labor day.

Both Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, denied under questioning that military needs and budgets had been subject to arbitrary decisions by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

Wilson Faces More Questions

Senators Want Detailed Explanation of Dynamic Military Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson faced further questioning today about his contention that the Eisenhower administration has given the nation a "dynamic military power."

Counsel for a special Senate checking on air power studied during the weekend Wilson's direct testimony and the answers he gave to preliminary questions Friday.

Among the possible questions was the extent to which the administration plans to use nearly 800 million dollars of Air Force funds Congress voted in addition to the amount it requested.

Wilson himself has said the extra money is not needed, and two senators agreed during the week-end it may not be used.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), who opposed the increase, predicted in a radio talk that none of the extra money will be spent during the year. Sen. Chavez (D-NM), who sponsored the increase, agreed in an interview it may not be used.

Wilson defended the Eisenhower military program of the past 3½ years Friday. He said it had developed "dynamic military power."

He also cautioned against entering an all-out armament race with Soviet Russia and her Communist satellites, lest they have cause for alarm.

At several points he indicated a hope that a change in Soviet leadership and policies may permit less emphasis upon offensive military buildup in this country.

Deadline for Bids on Tigers Tonight

DETROIT (AP)—Groups interested in buying the Detroit Tigers baseball team have until midnight tonight to get their bids in at Briggs Stadium.

Expectations were that the ultimate successful bidder would have to offer between four and five million dollars for the team.

Tiger president Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, Jr., who arrived home last night from a Florida vacation, said the three top bids would be submitted to Ford Frick, Baseball Commissioner, for screening before they are made public.

"About July 15 we will ask the baseball crowd for approval of the most eligible bidders. Then we will make the final decision before July 31."

RELATIVES AND other visitors streamed into the Highland Recreation area camp grounds Saturday and Sunday. They were free to walk throughout the Administration area. I am certain all of you will return to your home communities strengthened in your knowledge of our American heritage and inspired for your future work, through Scouting, for the cause of good citizenship."

Commission Faces Three Drain Problems Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — Drainage problems that will confront city commissioners here tonight include a suggestion of a by-pass for a drain that currently dumps into Nixon pond, the urging of the county to hurry with Twelve Town Drain plans, and drainage assessments along Southfield road.

The motorbus ordinance comes up for public hearing as well, tonight.

Termination of the Bloomfield Village drain at Cranbrook road with emptying into a dry water course caused offensive odors, neighbors report, and City Manager D. C. Egbert suggests it be carried on past Nixon Pond.

The by-pass could ultimately be part of the Evergreen Interceptor and could act as a chlorination chamber, Egbert suggests.

Recent heavy-water weekends and flooding in many areas has occasioned Royal Oak to ask surrounding communities to support its request for speedy action of the Twelve Town drain project.

The resolution would ask for some report and schedule, since the June 15 deadline is already past.

Flooded basements ruined much household goods last week in Berkeley, and that city called to Birmingham's aid for rubbish collection. John W. Short, Berkeley city manager, writes that his men could never have completed their job without Birmingham's aid.

Egbert's budget for the aid itemized $730 for DPW labor, $63 forestry labor, $43, loadpacker rental, $12 for a dump truck, and $103 for two DPW dump trucks—all totaling $953. Actual costs are to be paid by Berkeley.

Hearings on the Southfield road improvement, from 14 Mile to Lincoln and for the Park Street pavement from Oakland to Euclid are scheduled. Owners have objected to the drainage structures on Southfield and assessments will be reviewed tonight.

Pilgrim Fellowship members of the First Congregational Church are having meetings at members homes this month. Tonight's is at Bill Davis' home, 271 Fairfax, at 8:30 p.m.

Jesse Joe Freeleigh, 3551 E. 9 Mile, Hazel Park, was held overnight in jail pending arraignment today on a drunk-driving charge. His car swung across Hunter boulevard yesterday at 1:44 p.m. hitting the cars of James Arthur Campbell, 453 Clarkson, Highland, and Rollo Burr Hart, 1811 Gilchrist, Detroit near Bowers street.

Two in the Campbell car were injured slightly and were treated at Beaumont Hospital. They were Diane Schlenke, 8541 Easton, Clarkston, and Shirley Jean Dunkel, 4401 Sedum Glen, Pontiac. Their car, when hit, spun and hit a building nearby.

Mayme I. Goldenbagen (nee Goulette) of 288 Harmon, who died this weekend, will have rosary service for her Wednesday at 8:30 p.m., from the Manley-Bailey Funeral Home.

Funeral service will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at the Holy Name Church, with interment in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Surviving sons and daughters are Mrs. John Supae, Robert L. and William H. Goldenbagen, Jr.; and brothers John F. and Charles P.

DIVIDE TO CONQUER?—Possible plan for laying the terror in Algeria is indicated on News-map, above. A fully independent inland state would be set up for the estimated nine million-plus Algerians of the strife-torn land.

Harriman Woos Midwest Voters

Governor of New York Sees Iowa, Minnesota, Dakota Delegates

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—All political barometers in the Midwest indicated today that Gov. Averell Harriman of New York is rapidly gaining momentum in his drive for the Democratic presidential nomination.

He has been traveling through Iowa, Minnesota and North Dakota, talking with delegates to the nominating convention in Chicago next month.

In all three states, Democrats said, he has made a good impression.

The tall New Yorker is out-Kefauvering Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), in shaking hands.

He has been addressing his audiences in shirtsleeves. In one Iowa appearance, when he removed his coat, the audience saw red suspenders over his bony shoulders.

In Montevideo, Minn., he had coffee and doughnuts in the kitchen of Mrs. Douglas Hunt, Minnesota's national Democratic committeewoman. And to the huge delight of delegates and alternates who were present, he remarked, "You've remodeled your kitchen since the last time I was here."

Harriman's itinerary is taking him through territory where Kefauver is considered to be very strong. The Iowa delegation, while uncommitted, is considered to be very favorable to the Tennessee senator. In Minnesota, he won his most important primary election victory, taking 26 of the state's 30 delegates.

North Dakota's eight-vote delegation is uncommitted, but a delegate who asked not to be identified said he believed Kefauver is the favorite here also.

Nevertheless, due to several factors, delegates and political observers in all three states said they believe Harriman could emerge with a majority of the convention votes.

One factor is the doubt that Kefauver can win the Democratic nomination. Everywhere you go, even his stronger supporters say his defeat by Adlai Stevenson in the California primary hurt him badly.

At the same time, a number of Iowa and Minnesota delegates expressed doubt that Stevenson can be elected.

Out of these two factors, they believe Harriman may benefit when the balloting begins.

To Do What?
CHEVY CHASE, Md. (AP)—An unidentified woman walked into a service station and asked to borrow the water syringe used to fill automobile batteries.

"I want to put some milk in it," she explained, "and force feed my snake."

Bad Breaks Test Our Character

By ANNE HEYWOOD

A friend of mine, who writes very successful biographies of famous people, told me something once that I'll never forget. I was asking him what he did, first, to get the "feel" of the personality.

"I study the bad periods," he said, "the unlucky breaks the person had and analyze his method of coping with them."

"You can tell more about a person and what makes him tick from the way he handles adversity than from anything else."

"Basically," he continued, "there are three ways of handling adversity."

BURY YOUR HEAD

"You can bury your head in the sand and pretend it doesn't exist. You can throw up your hands and claim that life is evil and there is no God."

"Or you can face the problem head-on and work out some kind of solution."

Creamed Fish Fills Puff Cases

Mrs. Crisman Adds Pimiento, Peppers to First Batter

By JANET ODELL

Mrs. George Crisman shares with us a delicious sounding recipe for a luncheon main dish. She makes cases similar to cream puffs, then fills them with creamed salmon or tuna.

A country dweller for some years, Mrs. Crisman is active in club work. She belongs to the Fellowship class of her church and is corresponding secretary of the Pontiac Women's Club.

When home, Mrs. Crisman loves to cook. She knits and crochets, often makes things for her four grandchildren.

SALMIS PUFFS

By Mrs. George Crisman
1/2 cup flour, sifted
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons pimiento, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 eggs

Melt shortening in boiling water over direct heat. Add chopped vegetables to boiling liquid, then the dry ingredients. Stir and cook until the mixture forms a ball like cream puff mixture. Remove from the stove and let cool 1 minute.

Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Drop 1 1/2 inches apart on a cookie sheet, dividing dough into 6 portions. Bake 10 minutes at 450 degrees. Reduce heat to 400 degrees and bake 20-25 minutes longer. Fill with the following mixture.

Filling
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon pimiento
Few slices of chopped onion
1 tablespoon shortening

Fry vegetables in shortening until soft. Make a cream sauce with 6 tablespoons butter, 6 tablespoons flour and 3 cups milk. Cook until thick and smooth.

Add 2 cups canned salmon or 2 cans tuna. Mix in the fried mixture and salt and pepper to taste. Fill puffs and serve at once. Fills six puffs.

Modern Girls Traveling With Capsule Wardrobes

Travel has changed in the last generation, and all for the better. Time was when grandmas packed 10 trunks for the grand tour, and mortgaged the old family homestead to pay for the trip.

Now she travels with a capsule wardrobe in one bag, and buys a package travel plan that can take her all over the world, the cost paid later on the instalment plan.

Travel and vacation clothes work on a new theory these days. Since so many people travel by air, they can't take half a dozen trunks or big wardrobe bags with them. They must be outfitted for what may in a wardrobe that weighs no more than 40 pounds (or 60 if they are going abroad) and will fit in one suitcase.

Here is where designers have proved themselves equal to the demands of the times. Their mix-and-match wardrobes, with separate tops, skirts, shorts and jackets that go together and can be switched at will, make travel shopping simple.

Seasoned trippers can take a three-month trip and be ready for anything from golf to a formal ball, living out of one suitcase. Packable, coordinated clothes, lightweight, washable, non-crushable fabrics, hats that fold up like a handkerchief and well-planned accessories have brought packing down to a science.

Among new fabric developments of the season, widely used for resort fashions, is a feather-weight corduroy about half the weight of the familiar pinwale version.

Another new effect is a corduroy with a bark-like texture instead of the usual rib. Both are suitable for all kinds of vacation clothes, from sportswear to dance dresses, and in addition pack well and wash easily.

The weekly award for losing the most weight was won by Ada Kirk. Mrs. Gordon Flattley won the monthly award. Cochairman for the meeting were Mrs. Robert Bunce and Mrs. Richard H. Frye. A special program was presented in honor of the team of "Marie's Models," recent contest winners.

A talk on "Improving Your Figure Appearance by Good Posture" was given by Mrs. Frye assisted by Mrs. Flattley, Mrs. Hartley Bray, Mrs. Thomas Clifton and Mrs. Howard Hicks.

Firm the Arms by Practice of This Exercise

Most women who long ago stopped playing basketball and swinging Indian clubs find that the flesh of their upper arms is beginning to sag. This may be distressing if a woman wears short-sleeved dresses. And it seems to happen even to thin women.

In response to letters, here are more exercises aimed at firming the upper arm.

Stand up straight with the abdomen held in and the hips tucked under. Hold the arms straight out in front at shoulder height, palms down. On the first count, turn the palms up, on the second, turn them down again, with a good firm twist.

The value of this exercise, since it isn't strenuous, is in the firmness and snap with which it is done. Watery, soft turns do no good. Wrist twists do no good. The entire arm should be turned as though there were something strong holding it back.

Women with lots of energy may want to add a leg exercise to this one. On the first count, where the palms turn up, go up on the toes. On the second, go down again. Either way, do it 25 times the first few days, 50 thereafter.

Another exercise helps, in addition to the upper arms, the waistline and shoulders. This, too, can be valuable unless you give it your all.

Sit on the floor, with legs outstretched together. Put the arms straight out in front, with fists closed. Now imagine you're trying to pull your now full-grown son out of a crib. Pull hard. The motion is like rowing. With some effort one should be able to pull the arms, against the force of imagination, back to the shoulders.

Lady Beware! That Nightgown May Cause Blaze

LONDON (INS)—The nightgown may be a very fetching, comfortable, convenient and even alluring garment, but ladies, it's dangerous.

And it doesn't matter whether the nightgown is one of those flimsy, transparent creations or something made of sterner, heavier stuff.

This isn't sales talk from pajama manufacturers but the verdict of British scientists who have roundly indicated the nightgown (or night dress as the British say) as a fire hazard.

These scientists, members of the Burns Research Unit operated by the Medical Research Council at the Birmingham Accident Hospital, report that nightgowns—that are loose, flowing garments—were associated with 41 per cent of the cases of accidental burns treated at hospitals in the last five years.

Female dresses were associated with a further 36 per cent. In the case of pajamas, the figure was as low as 4 per cent.

Since children and old people are the commonest victims of accidental burns the report suggests that the fire risks would be greatly reduced if, instead of nightgowns, someone would design for children a composite form of garment embodying the comparative safety of the pajamas' ankle-fitting trouser-leg, without suffering from other "tedious details" of the ordinary pajama pattern.

Aware of these disturbing statistics now published in the British Medical Journal, one well-known clothing firm with 235 branches throughout Britain has, in the last three months, ceased selling nightgowns for children up to about 16 years of age.

'Gals' in for Chasing as Hurricane Season Begins

1955's STORMY WEATHER—The chart above shows the paths of last year's hurricanes. The 1956 season began June 15 and will last through the middle of November. U. S. weather experts are currently plotting the course of all this year's "girls."

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The most alert reception committee in history is now waiting to greet those low pressure ladies from the Caribbean.

For the hurricane season opened on June 15 and it will last through the middle of November. As official host, the U. S. Weather Bureau has everybody busy getting ready for the stormy visitors.

Even the State Department is in on the act. Since last fall diplomats have been negotiating to make it possible for the "girls" to be closely observed from foreign island outposts in the West Indies.

The Air Force is set to fly three specially equipped planes to meet the tempestuous ladies and report their every move.

The Navy will fire camera loaded rockets at the raging tropical storms with female names—ranging from Anna, Betsey, and Carla down one alphabet to Xina, Ysla and Zenilax. A number of colleges, universities and private institutions have been contracted to study the changing moods of the storms.

These are among the many new preparations mapped out to follow and forecast the hurricanes of 1956. The innovations will keep tabs on the violent storms and also provide information for future research.

The most important new feature is a complete network of 28 weather stations throughout the West Indies.

Running from St. Andrews to Guadeloupe, these island outposts will take vital upper air observations four times a day. The chain is part of the Bureau's long-range National Hurricane Research Project to explore all aspects of the tropical storms.

The State Department has been carrying on hundreds of negotiations with foreign governments during the last 18 months to make it possible for the U. S. to set up installations, train local observers and bring equipment to the islands.

In some cases U. S. officials have encountered frustrating red tape in their efforts to beat the deadline. Questions of tariff, union rules, transportation and communication facilities and local regulations have been road blocks.

As another part of the Hurricane Project, the Air Force will provide three bombers and 50 men for full time use. Two B-50's and a jet

B-47 will be modified and equipped with automatic navigation and meteorological instruments and recording systems.

One of the unique devices in the planes will be IBM punch card machines which will automatically record all the data at 10-second intervals. Later on the cards will be analyzed by experts.

Under supervision of the Office of Naval Research, several rockets will be launched over this year's hurricanes. Rising to a height of 50 miles or more, they will carry two moving picture cameras to photograph the complete cloud system of the hurricane and its immediate environment. The cameras will descend by parachute and be retrieved later.

This will help us get a picture of the hurricane and perhaps give us a clue as to what causes it to act as it does," says D. M. Little, Deputy Director of the Weather Bureau.

He admits that one of the biggest barriers still to be hurdled is pinpointing the last-minute swerves that hurricanes take.

A "zig" of a hurricane instead of a "zag" can mean the difference between a light breeze or a destructive storm, according to Little. For example, a hurricane that wobbles just 20 miles off course can change the wind velocity in an area from 20 to 75 miles per hour.

Other preparations for this year's hurricane season include:

Completion of three new radar stations at Nantucket, Mass.; San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Swan Island in the Caribbean. All of them can follow hurricanes up to a range of 250 miles.

Bus Firm Quits in Tallahassee

Boycott Deadlock Ends When Owner Sells Out; Negroes Ask Own Line

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (INS) — Citizens of Tallahassee—some 40,000 of them—are without public transportation today in the wake of a deadlock between the city fathers and the leaders of a Negro boycott.

Throughout yesterday, the first full day without the bus service, white citizens voiced "considerable objection" to the closing down of the service, and many offered to contribute money from their own pockets to keep the buses rolling, according to Mayor Fred S. Winterle.

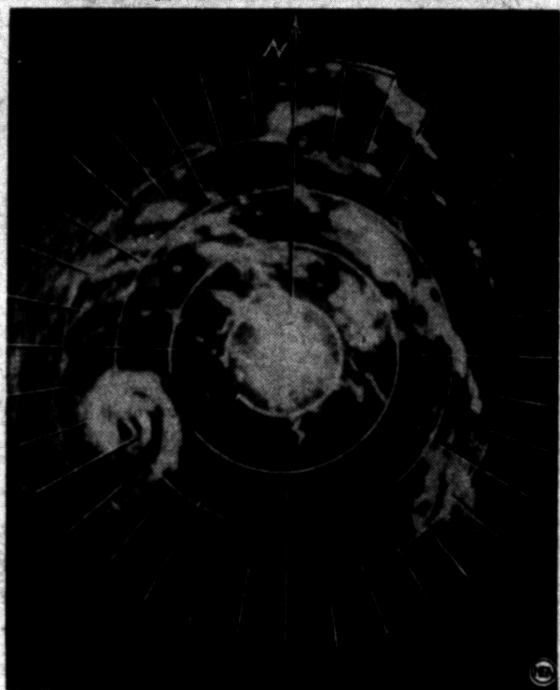

This offer was rejected, Mayor Winterle said, adding, "the owner of the bus company, G. L. Coleman, said he was not operating a charity and so called the end of his operation here."

The service was suspended at midnight Saturday. The city's Negroes—representing about a third of the city's population—demanded the hiring of 30 Negro bus drivers within the next month and the establishment of an inter-racial committee aimed at ending segregated seating.

SEES SERVICE AGAIN

The city council countered with an offer to let the bus company hire Negro drivers on predominantly Negro runs, and to have open seating on these runs "except for three seats in the front reserved for whites," Winterle said.

In answer to reports that Negro leaders seek to permit to set up their own bus line, Winterle warned:

EYE OF A HURRICANE—Here's what the big wind looks like on a radar scope. What you're looking at is the swirl of rainfall into the eye of hurricane Connie off Cape Hatteras, N. C., last August. The eye is at lower left, about 65 miles from Hatteras (in the center of the scope).

The injections will be given according to recently revised recommendations by the Michigan State Advisory Committee and the State Health Department.

It is also recommended by Dr. Monroe that priority be given to children who received the second injections prior to Sept. 16, 1955.

Veterans Coach City Newcomers

New Instructors Learn About Classroom Duties From Experts

A teaching program on experimental trial for one year has been termed "highly successful" by Pontiac educators.

The program involves the use of two helping instructors, chosen as master teachers to help orient the 100 new teachers yearly in the Pontiac School system.

The sole job of the helpers is to visit the new teachers, ask them how they can be of service, be available for problem discussion, contribute to class work and projects if asked and be general "sounding boards" for all classroom situations.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, says "These teachers are the masters, the experts in the teaching field. They are not administrative people, they have no duties of evaluating the new teachers or anything to say about re-employment."

"Their sole job is to be available to the teachers when they want and need help. They are not supervisors," he added.

Gerald White, coordinator of elementary education for the Board of Education, said "We think we have something good here. We have had many letters from the new teachers praising the program. In answer to questionnaires we sent out to the teachers, results indicate that the helpers are very popular."

Expansion of the program will depend on the increase in new teachers, Dr. Whitmer said.

Michigan State University will send 25 student teachers to Pontiac for a full 11 weeks each term next year. This program will require a coordinator, a half time worker, so the other half of this person's time can go as a helping teacher, Dr. Whitmer said.

The two teachers chosen as helpers last year were Mrs. Mary Green, Farmington and Mrs. Dagmar Newstead, 158 Marlborough, Pontiac. Mrs. Newstead is moving from Pontiac this year and will be replaced by Mrs. Irma Johnson, of Royal Oak.

U. S. Miscalculates Curve, Honor Paratrooper Charges British Actress

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — British film actress Diana Dors, who just arrived in Hollywood to star in an American movie, charges that her feminine contours are being "sabotaged" by the American press.

Miss Dors, who has been described as a wiggly-less Marilyn Monroe and a miniature Jayne Mansfield, complained that although she has been in Hollywood less than 48 hours, "somebody's already tried to sabotage me by billing me as having a 35-inch bust line when I'm really a 37."

The platinum blonde actress said she thought it was the New York press which had made the monumental misprint.

Miss Dors made her observation at a cocktail party given for her at the Beverly Hills Hotel last night. The party was attended by numerous Hollywood celebrities, including her co-star, George Gobel, who admitted he was "flabbergasted" by the British gal.

Lehr and his wife have two sons. Mosure has one son and both are enjoying their grandchildren these days, "with no worry about raising them," Lehr says.

Mosure's future plans after his vacation which started Friday will be to remain in semi-retirement and do occasional relief work.

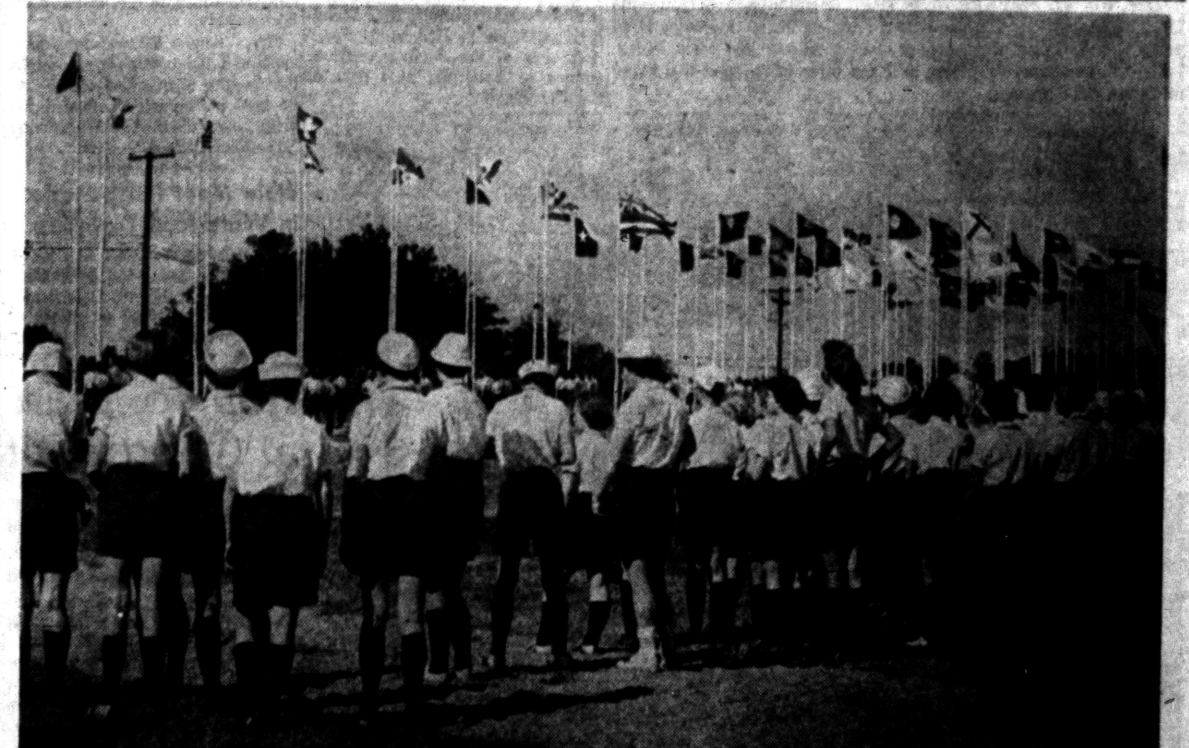

Lehr says he hopes to work for another 15 years and if the time comes he has to slow down a bit, "there's 10 acres at my place that takes an awful lot of time. That's where I'll spend it."

The certificates the two gentlemen received read "In testimony of 50 years service to the public and the unselfish devotion to the profession, we hereby give honorable recognition to an outstanding registered pharmacist."

Mosure received his professional training at Ferris Institute and at the Earner School, in Marquette, and took his state examinations in 1904.

'Near-Collisions' Common on Crowded U. S. Airways

WASHINGTON (AP)—Inadequate regulation of the nation's crowded airways causes a daily average of four "near-collisions" among airlines, a special government advisory group said early this year.

The finding pointed up Saturday's dual tragedy in flight over Arizona—the wrecking of two giant airliners and loss of 128 lives.

It was the worst disaster in commercial aviation history.

The government already has embarked on a five-year program to improve air navigation aids and traffic control facilities. Congress has approved some $10 million dollars of the estimated 246-million-dollar cost of the project.

A special eight-man committee headed by William Barclay Harding, New York investment banker, described the collision hazard to airplanes this way:

"Even more dangerous conditions in the air can be anticipated unless some urgent action is taken to provide full-time high-level leadership to the problem of bringing our aviation facilities in line with air traffic growth and the progress being made in aircraft development."

The problems arising from the movement of more and more aircraft at greater and greater speeds have been outlined recently before congressional committees.

C. J. Lowen, head of the Civil Aeronautics Administration told a congressional group the "No. 1 problem" in aviation is that "air traffic is overloading the system and growing at a rate which exceeds the progress in expanding the capacity of the system."

Lowen declared "the greatest single problem we face is air-traffic control," adding:

"Until we have the capacity to effectively regulate the safe movement of the numbers of aircraft required in our national interest, there can be no real assurance of ability to move the existing volume of aircraft safely and reliably."

Officials said the plan to improve air traffic control involves great expansion and improvement in the use of radar, the capacity of the navigational system and the use of air-to-ground communications.

NAACP Closes Coast Sessions

Proclaim Intent to Push for Rapid Desegregation Throughout Country

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Proclaiming intent to press hard for more and faster racial desegregation, delegates to the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People convention headed for home today after their six-day meeting here.

Cheers, jeers and a shower of money marked a mass meeting yesterday.

The Negro population of San Francisco and surrounding cities swelled the ranks of the 1,000 delegates who since last Tuesday had been attending convention and workshop sessions of the NAACP.

Both visitors and delegates donated $5, $10 and $20 bills in response to fervent appeals sparked by appearance of Autherine Lucy Foster and others whose names have figured in what the NAACP terms the "fight for full freedom."

They shouted approval when Mrs. Foster announced her intention to return to Alabama from Tyler, Tex., and possibly to the University of Alabama where she was expelled after enrolling there as the first Negro student.

The money shower was started by Franklin Williams, NAACP West Coast regional secretary-counsel. He exhorted the crowd to line up and toss bills into huge paper boxes beside which he had posted Mrs. Foster; Mrs. Rosa Parks, NAACP central figure of bus segregation resistance in Montgomery, Ala., and Gus Courts of Belzoni, Miss.

Courts drew vigorous applause when he told of registering to vote despite threats, and of being blasted by shotgun fire afterward.

The crowd joined Williams in cheering election year claims of help and interest from some party politicians.

Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary from New York, called on both major political parties for stronger civil rights planks and warned both they have a "last chance" to pass civil rights bills before the national party conventions in August.

AF Chief Notes Soviet Progress

Twining Impressed by Rapid Development in Aviation Achievements

MOSCOW (AP)—The rate of Soviet progress in aviation most impressed the U. S. Air Force delegation invited to Moscow to see the Soviet Union's big air show and inspect air bases and factories.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, the U. S. Air Force chief of staff, and his aides found Russian achievements in aviation considerable, but they noted particularly the speed with which the Soviets have developed their Air Force.

The American group agreed the rapid Russian gains pointed up sharply the need for more emphasis in the United States on research and technical and scientific training.

Neither Twining nor the officers who accompanied him said before their departure for home yesterday that their Russian hosts had revealed to them anything startlingly new.

But their tour, they said, was interesting and enlightening. They observed that while the Soviet civilian economy generally is backward by Western standards, the Russian efforts in aviation and other military fields showed a great capacity for quick progress.

At Wiesbaden, Germany, where he stopped over on his return flight to Washington, Twining told reporters his weeklong visit in Russia had offered the West's best opportunity to assay Soviet air power.

"I got to see quite a few things," he said. "You never see all you want to see."

During the stay of Twining and other Western air force chiefs, Soviet authorities relaxed restrictions not only to admit them to previously secret installations but also to let Western newsmen accompany them and send reports of their findings without censorship deletions.

Twining said he knew of no plan yet to invite Soviet officers to the United States.

James, the father, told Oakland County Sheriff Department deputies, he was going out of the driveway of the Orchard Lake Community Church in West Bloomfield Township when his daughter suddenly fell out.

Win Cash Prize for the Answer to Puzzle No. 5!

Like to play word games? — Well, even if you don't, you're bound to get a kick out of POT-O-GOLD in this summer's Pontiac Press. One big reason is that, aside from the fun you'll get from playing it, you have a weekly chance to win at least $100. Fill in the blanks below this week's puzzle, clip the whole thing out and send it to the address listed under Section 10.

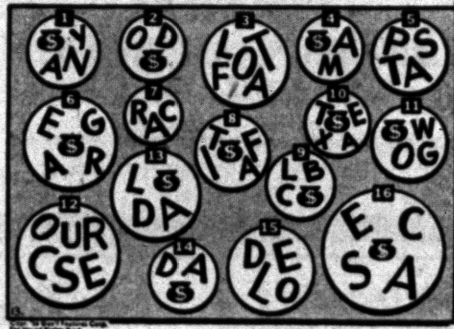

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits the clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conform to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

That's all there is to it. Good luck!

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employees or their immediate families.
2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.
3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 6 must bear a Tuesday, July 10, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.
4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.
5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.
6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.
7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end, Labor Day. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.
8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.
9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.
10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

French Plan Production of Fresh-Frozen Wine

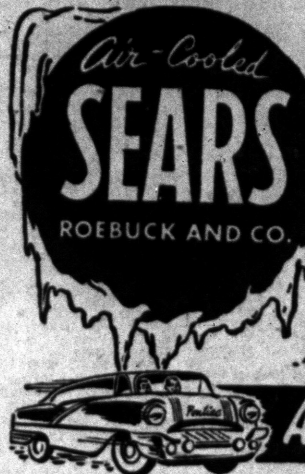

PARIS — And now, frozen, concentrated wine! Freeze concentration is being used in France to produce a highly condensed wine that is said to keep better and longer because of increased alcoholic content. Trial production on a sizable scale is to start this year. The French Army is interested in the concentrate because of its saving of space and weight. The army supply services plan to package the product in individual portions and issue it to the troops if it proves feasible. The coldest theoretically possible temperature, absolute zero, is approximately minus 273.15 degrees Centigrade, or minus 459.6 degrees Fahrenheit.
