Effort by Negroes Urges Supporting Johnson, Romney

DETROIT (AP)—A Negro effort to instruct voters how to split their ballots for President Johnson and Gov. George Romney was attacked yesterday by the Michigan organization of Sen. Barry Goldwater which blamed "Romney Volunteers" for the campaign.

"Romney Volunteers" and the "How to Split Your Ticket Committee" denied they were connected.

A committee spokesman, Mildred B. Smith, said the intent of the campaign "was not to take anything away from Mr. Goldwater. These weren't votes he was going to get anyway."

The committee, under the direction of Dr. John Egan, a Detroit Negro, has circulated 50,000 leaflets explaining and diagramming how to vote for Johnson, a Democrat, and Romney, a Republican.

It hopes to distribute another 150,000 leaflets in Detroit, Pontiac, Flint, Grand Rapids and Muskegon.

The leaflet tells voters, "Do not touch" the party ticket levers with which one votes for all candidates of one political party. It instructs voters to pull down the levers over names of Johnson and Romney, and "over the names of other candidates of your choice."

KNEW REQUESTS

Mrs. Smith, a Romney appointee to the Eastern Michigan University board of regents, said she "knew of the requests and interest" in ticket-splitting information.

"In lower income groups in larger cities the educational level is not such that they have a great deal of experience on how to split the ticket."

Strike Threatened at Ford; At-Plant Pact Deadline Set

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. was threatened today with a crippling strike, just as General Motors Corp. got its fifth assembly plant going again after a 31-day nationwide walkout by the United Auto Workers Union.

The UAW set a strike deadline Wednesday of 10 a.m. Nov. 6 for its bargaining units at Ford which lack at-the-plant working agreements to supplement the newly negotiated Ford-UAW national contract.

LBJ Talks on Reds; Barry Predicts Upset

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater kicked off a Pennsylvania tour today, asserting "millions of unhappy, disgusted Americans across this country" will produce the century's biggest political upset next Tuesday.

He said some people claim he has "just about given up" in his battle against President Johnson.

But he said there is no truth in that.

He launched his third railroad tour of the campaign after toughing his presidential challenge with a charge that Democrats have Communist backing and haven't repudiated it.

The Arizona senator opened his campaign day before a Harrisburg crowd estimated by police at more than 7,000 as the sun broke through a morning overcast.

Goldwater spoke from a platform on a railroad overpass. The crowd, chanting "We want Barry!" and waving hand-made posters, massed at an intersection below on one of Harrisburg's main streets.

ROLLED INTO TOWN

Goldwater rolled on to Lewisport, on the first leg of his 200-mile journey in Pennsylvania. There, he told a crowd at the station parking lot "the United States is going downhill all around the world" under Johnson.

Police estimated the Lewisport crowd at about 500, which seemed low. Republicans said 2,000, but that seemed high.

Goldwater jibed at what he said was Johnson's latest issue—"Get up early and vote."

He said Johnson got in the Senate on a questionable 87-vote margin in the first place. But Goldwater added he will "feel safe" next Wednesday morning "when all the ballots are counted in Austin, Tex., and Chicago and I'll be your next president."

OFTEN CRITICAL

Goldwater, who often has been critical of U.S. newspapers, said the press is full of stories that reveal Democratic shortcomings.

"If we can just keep the newspapers printing for the next few days," he said, "you know who's going to win."

On this swing, Goldwater passed up the traditional rear platform speeches. Instead, he got off the train to speak from temporary stands erected at the railroad stations.

The Republican presidential nominee started this latest campaign tour after a Midwest journey in which he demanded that the Democrats denounce Communist backing. He said Communist publications were "pulling" for the defeat of Republican candidates.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—President Johnson said today he has received a heartening pledge from the new Soviet premier that the Soviet Union will "maintain its own search for peace with the West."

In a speech, prepared for delivery in the historic Mormon Tabernacle, Johnson said the United States "must work to guide the inevitable changes that lie ahead" in Communist countries.

Johnson made an overnight stop in Salt Lake City in order to breakfast with David O. McKay, president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) and to speak in the church's tabernacle.

After two days of campaigning in the West, the President was pointing his vote-seeking efforts eastward, with other appearances planned today in Wichita, Kan., and Philadelphia.

In his tabernacle talk, Johnson said that when Nikita Khrushchev was toppled as Soviet premier, "I sent word to Moscow that our basic policy remained unchanged."

He reported that the new premier, Alexei Kosygin, had replied that "the Soviet Union would maintain its present policies and seek better relations — and maintain its own search for peace — with the West."

Johnson said Kosygin wrote that "the Soviet Union would continue its communications with the United States — and would continue to explore areas of mutual interest."

Termining this "a heartening response," the President promised the United States "will continue with every resource to work for a lasting and just and honorable peace."

In talking about "inevitable changes" inside the Communist bloc, Johnson said: "All political systems change. They are forced to — by historic circumstance."

FOOLISH COURSE

He said it would be "dangerously foolish" to expect either the Soviet Union or Communist China to soon become open societies. But he said it "would be equally foolish to think they will never change."

He continued: "Inside Russia today a powerful force for change is at work—education, the bedrock of democracy, the enemy of dictatorship. Inside the Communist bloc, powerful currents are surging against the dam."

"We cannot sit idly by — we must work to guide the inevitable changes that lie ahead."

Johnson spent Wednesday in Southern California, talking to large crowds in Los Angeles, Riverside, San Bernardino, and San Diego.

Romney Hits Labor; Foe Warns of Smear

LANSING (AP)—The political role of organized labor took a prominent position in the campaign of Republican Gov. George Romney today.

And in Detroit, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Neil Staeble said last night "The Republican party has a history of last-minute hysterical smears" and warned "that in this campaign an action of sort is likely."

A fresh Romney blast at labor's place in the Democratic party yesterday—the strongest of the campaign so far—apparently was triggered by criticism from United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther and joint denials of union domination from Reuther and Staeble.

He hammered away at the charge in most of the 13 speeches delivered in the second day of his "blitz" of Lower Michigan.

Staeble, who said he has not been smeared thus far in his race to unseat Romney, volunteered his prediction at a motel room news conference.

He said "past history" and "such an amount of venom" in the 1964 campaign prompted his prediction. He indicated the national campaign would be the probable target.

Staeble said, "today we got the first little indication that the zeal of Goldwater enthusiasm has gotten out of hand. Jim Hare, Democratic secretary of state, had a sticker left on his car."

"Staeble quoted the sticker as saying, 'So you're for Lyndon. Here is a partial list of other LBJ supporters:'"

The five-part list included, he said, the Communist party, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Final Decision Is Announced by Committee

'Will Be the Largest, Most Modern Unit of Its Type in U.S.'

Pontiac has 'definitely been selected as the site of the proposed $40 million Michigan Osteopathic College.

The decision was announced today by Dr. Alan M. Potts, chairman of the College Development Committee of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons (MAOPS).

It was revealed Tuesday that Pontiac was once more in contention for the college. The city had been considered previously.

Lansing originally had been chosen but, the announcement that Michigan State University was planning to build a medical school there caused the MAOPS to reconsider the locale, said Dr. Potts of Royal Oak.

"Because Lansing does not have sufficient population nor potential growth to support two schools," Dr. Potts said, "we felt that it would jeopardize teaching programs if both were located there."

The decision to build the medical training facility in Pontiac was made by the College Development Committee and the Board of Trustees of the MAOPS.

According to Potts, ground may be broken for the $16-million first phase of the project by the summer of 1965, with completion of this stage by Sept. 1968.

LARGE, MODERN

"It will be the largest and most modern osteopathic college in the country," said Potts.

"We have 1,600 osteopaths in Michigan and everyone was trained outside of the state because we have no facilities here."

There are five schools for the training of osteopaths in the nation, according to Potts.

He said the MAOPS has been working on the development of a college in the state since 1959.

HOSPITAL SITE.

The site of the new college is the southwest corner of Odyke and Auburn, entirely in the city of Pontiac.

Pontiac business firms already have pledged more than $250,000 to purchase the property, and approximately $120,000 more is required before the transaction is completed.

A meeting is scheduled for Nov. 12 to discuss means of raising the remainder of the money.

In announcing the decision to build in Pontiac, Potts said the MAOPS is "satisfied to go along on faith" that the city will raise the rest of the money to buy the 164-acre site from the trustees of the Fisher family.

ALREADY HIRED

Architects already have been hired, said Dr. Potts, and have gone over the land and "are pleased with it as a college site."

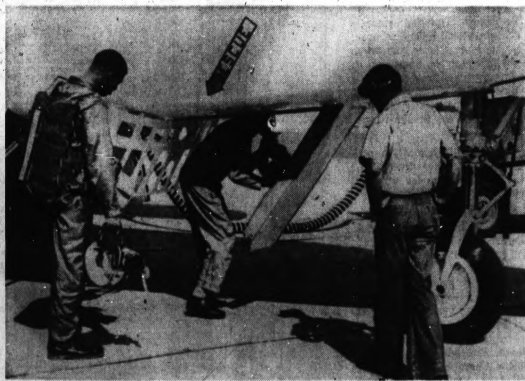

Report to Go on Sale

Over-the-counter sale of the Warren report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy will begin in the lobby of The Pontiac Press tomorrow.

The blue and gold, hard-cover book prepared by the Associated Press sells for $1.50. Its 400 pages contain the report on the death of President Kennedy, the arrest of Lee Oswald, and his death at the hands of Jack Ruby.

The Associated Press is presenting the report as a public service, as it did "The Torch Is Passed," its volume about Kennedy's fatal visit to Dallas.

This illustrated book will not be on sale at book stores, and we cannot accept mail orders.

Guerrillas Land in Malaysia

MALACCA, Malaysia (AP) — About 10 Indonesian guerrillas, attacking in two groups, landed by sea on the southwest coast of Malaysia's mainland early today but by nightfall almost half of them were reported captured.

A military spokesman said the others were pinned down in swampy jungles 30 miles south of here by a force of British, Australian, New Zealand and Malaysian troops.

The spokesman said a holding action would be carried out through the night, and mopping-up operations will be launched at daybreak.

The spokesman reported 25 prisoners taken during initial encounters with police and soldiers along the Kesang River, near the border of Malacca and Johore states. He said not a shot was fired.

RAIDERS TRACKED

The spokesman said the raiders were tracked down, called upon to surrender and came out of the bush with their hands in the air.

Twenty of the prisoners were described as members of a specially trained Indonesian command unit.

Prime Minister Abdul Rahman announced five boatloads of guerrillas landed before dawn on the southwest coast between Malacca and Muar.

Home Minister Ismail bin Abdul Rahman, Malaysia's top internal security official, made a flying tour of the Malacca-Muar area and told newsmen that Malaysian forces had the situation well in hand.

BATTLE PROGRESS

"We have encountered a large number of the invaders," he said, "and the battle between them and security forces is in progress. We have every reason to be successful."

It was the third reported invasion of the Malaysian mainland by forces from Indonesia, whose President Sukarno has vowed to crush the British-backed Malacca-Johore State coastal border region around the island.

Rahman said the invaders crossed the narrow Strait of Malacca from Indonesian Sumatra, and members of the vigilante guards patrolling the Malacca-Johore State coastal border region sounded the alarm.

Police and soldiers immediately sealed off the area, diverting all traffic from the main coastal highway.

TROOPS MOVE

New Zealand troops based in Malacca also moved in against the guerrillas.

The region was placed under a 24-hour curfew.

miles northwest of Johore's Pontian region where 108 Indonesian guerrillas landed last Aug. 17 to open up a second front in Indonesia's undeclared jungle war against Malaysia.

front in Indonesia's undeclared jungle war against Malaysia. The Pontian landings were followed by a parachute landing by 96 Indonesian-led paratroopers into the inland labis area of Johore on Sept. 2.

WON CAMPAIGN

On Tuesday, the government announced it had broken the back of the Pontian and Labis guerrilla campaigns. At last report, six of the Labis invaders were believed still at large and 18 members of the Pontian invasion group were being sought.

At least 47 guerrillas have been killed and 133 captured in combined operations by British Gurkha troops and New Zealand infantrymen, working with Malay defenders.

The list included derogatory comments about the NAACP, ADA and CORE.

"Are you blaming the Republican party for this?" Staebler was asked.

HATE LITERATURE

"No yet," he replied.

He said hate literature, however, "is the kind of thing that might give rise to the last minute smear effort we thought had vanished from Michigan politics."

The Romney caravan worked its way down from Saginaw to Lansing, and was to go as far west as South Haven today — ending back in Detroit with an appearance on the Perry. CMO television show tonight.

Romney, who has repeatedly and heatedly denounced domination of either party by "special interest economic groups," criticized Staebler for "masterminding the coalition between the old-line Democratic party and labor leaders."

Reuther, he said, "is calling the shots for the Democratic party in this state... and he has two lieutenants, one a man and the other a woman, and a guy in Lansing called Gus. He's kind of a front guy."

"LIEUTENANTS"

Asked to identify the "lieutenants" later, Romney said they were Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president, and Jeffrey Reuther, Democratic national committeewoman for Michigan. The person referred to was August Scholle, state AFL-CIO president.

He was not referring to former Democratic Gov. John Swainson, who had strong labor backing, he said, "they don't have to have every officer in the party." Swainson is now Democratic national committeeman.

Apparently in reaction to earlier Romney charges of domination, Reuther and Staebler said in a news conference Tuesday that the party was not dominated by labor, but that coalition existed between the party and organized labor.

During the next two days and nights most of the young children in the area will be on the streets going to parties and dances or trick or treating, officers said.

City, state and county law officers will increase their patrols, but both children and adults must do their share if tragedy is to be averted.

Police stressed these rules:

• Children should not wear masks which obstruct vision.

• Escort NEEDED

• Small children should be escorted by parents when trick or treating, or walking to parties.

• Motorists should use extra caution and anticipate unexpected moves by excited youngsters.

Eisenhower Checks Out of Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower left Walter Reed General Hospital today sufficiently recovered to travel, but saying he is still not well enough for any further political campaigning.

The 74-year-old Eisenhower checked out of the Army hospital looking ruddy and smiling but still on antibiotics. He had been under treatment there since Thursday for a respiratory infection that left him almost voiceless for a time.

Doctors said he has a lingering infection in one sinus and they have advised him to seek a warmer climate for a few weeks. So he is leaving Friday for Augusta, Ga., one of his favorite golfing locales.

Talking with reporters as he left the hospital, staff members and patients cheered him, Eisenhower said he was "certainly feeling a lot better than I did last Thursday when I came here." He said at that time he had sent for an absentee ballot from his home at Gettysburg, Pa., so he could vote from the hospital.

NO CAMPAIGNING

The illness will rule out any more campaigning for him, the Republican former chief executive said, but added that the newsman knew who would get the votes. He has endorsed Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Eisenhower said he feels the "has been lacking in that it has not become an exposition of ideas and philosophies."

"As you know, I am interested first in ideas and philosophies," he said, "and then in the personalities who propose them, Eisenhower said."

He said he doesn't feel the voters have been presented with rounded ideas and philosophies "so we can make up our minds."

VOTING GOP

Asked repeatedly by newsmen to forecast the outcome of the election, Eisenhower said he never indulges in election bets, but, "It's no secret my vote is going to be" on the Republican side.

Loan Granted to Waterford for Sewerage Plans

Interest-Free Funds

Approval of a $150,000 interest-free federal loan for preliminary planning of Waterford Township's internal sanitary sewer system was announced today.

The loan under the 702 Program was approved by the Community Facilities Administration.

Funds will be used for the planning of construction stages of the total internal sewer project which will cost an estimated $14.4 million.

Tentative plans call for construction of the Waterford sewer system to begin in June, 1966. This hinges on progress of the Clinton-Oakland trunkline which will serve Waterford and four other communities.

The trunkline will connect to the Dequindre interceptor line which Detroit will extend to a point near Rochester.

Repayment of the $150,000 planning loan will be made when bonds for the sewer construction project are sold.

Senators Pat McNamara and Philip Hart announced approval of the loan.

LOS ANGELES, (AP) —

Police say Ulysses Pryor reached for another man's wallet Wednesday and came up holding the hand of the President of the United States.

Just as Pryor, a 30-year-old transient, was about to lift the wallet, officers said, the street crowd along the President's motorcade route shifted and pushed forward to the presidential limousine.

Pryor was shoved along with it and his outstretched hand got a hearty shake from a smiling Lyndon Johnson.

Officers James Robinson and Oscar O'Leary said they continued to watch Pryor's activities for about 45 minutes and arrested him after he made several other unsuccessful attempts to pick pockets.

Pryor was booked on suspicion of attempted robbery.

MADE IT CLEAR

"As a matter of fact," he said, "I'd rather be clear that I would not vote for President Johnson in any way."

Dr. John Dempsey, state chairman of Romney Volunteers, and Ward Exel, Genesee County chairman, denied any connection with the campaign. They said their group "has firmly said by an initial decision to refrain from opposing or endorsing any candidate other than George Romney."

Gillespie said the Dempsey group's statement "did nothing, however, to repudiate" the campaign.

Romney has refused to endorse Goldwater for president.

Gillespie said Romney "should repudiate the implication that he is running on the same ticket as President Johnson."

CAREFUL REVIEW

State GOP chairman Arthur Elliott said, "I have carefully reviewed the group (behind the campaign), and I know they are not supported by Romney Volunteers or the state central committee."

"Many identified Democrats are going to vote for Romney. If we can't get them to vote for our total ticket, we at least want them to vote for our state candidates."

Eagan, an unsuccessful candidate for a Republican congressional nomination, said he has not discussed the campaign with Romney. Mrs. Smith said "The governor asked me about it and I assured him Romney Volunteers had nothing to do with it."

Eagan said the program began because "We felt as Negroes we should stick behind Romney and not let him go down the drain because of Goldwater."

He said "a large per cent" of Negroes "are interested in going for Romney provided Adam Clayton Powell and Martin Luther King don't tell them to vote straight Democratic."

Thorny Problem Since Constitutional Convention

Electoral College Proposal Pretty Sure Bet—Not to Get Action

By LARRY OSIUS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON—Election bets are a notoriously poor way to make a fortune, but here's one that seems pretty safe — not too long after the November presidential balloting, some member of congress will propose revision or abolition of the electoral college.

And it's almost as safe a bet, based on past experience, that nothing will be done about it.

Congressmen, political leaders and political scientists have been poking at the college ever since it was put into the Constitution as a compromise solution for a thorny problem. But for every proposed change there's been a loud objection.

Even the authors of the Constitution, who spent a large amount of their time on this question of how to elect a president, were aware they had a tough problem.

Virginia delegate James Madison told his colleagues at the Constitutional convention: "There are objections against every mode that has been, or perhaps can be, proposed" for electing a president.

REPRESENT ALL
The founders wanted a chief executive to represent all the nation and serve as a check on the powers of Congress.

Most of them did not want him chosen by — and therefore dependent on — Congress.

Neither did a majority want the people to elect, fearing in the words of another Virginian, George Mason, that "an act which ought to be performed by those who know most of eminent characters and qualifications should be performed by those who know least."

The solution: presidential electors for each state equal to the number of that state's senators and representatives. They were to choose the president, and if a candidate failed to get a majority, the matter would be settled by the House with each state delegation having one vote, regardless of size.

MOST ELECTIONS
The authors were confident that only rarely would a majority of the electors agree, and that most elections would be settled in the House.

They also were confident that by leaving the selection of electors to the states "in such manner as the legislature may direct," the legislatures rather than the people would choose electors.

They were wrong on both counts.

Two early elections, in 1800 and 1824, were settled by the House when neither candidate got a majority. And a third election, in 1876, was determined after a Congressional-judicial commission awarded some disputed electoral votes to the eventual winner. Otherwise, the college has chosen the nation's presidents.

POPULAR VOTE
And, contrary to the founders' expectations, by 1824 all but two states were choosing their presidential electors by direct popular vote.

Most current criticism of the electoral college is directed at the "winner-take-all" feature under which a candidate with a popular vote plurality of one can have all of the state's electoral votes.

Critics say this gives too much power to the big vote states, and to the minority blocs of the major cities within these states.

Also, they contend, it discourages development of a second party within a predominantly one-party state.

RUN INTO ARGUMENTS
But proponents of reform run into arguments, too.

One proposal made frequently — which even had the reluctant endorsement of Madison back in 1787 — calls for election of the president by direct popular vote.

Opponents say this would be a blow to the federal system of government and would hurt the smaller states. Also, they say, it would destroy political parties at the state level.

Also proposed is a proportional system. Under it a candidate getting, say, 55 per cent of a state's popular vote would get 55 per cent of its electoral votes.

OK'D IN SENATE
Such a measure actually was approved by the Senate in 1950, but it died in the House.

Opponents say the plan still wouldn't preclude a candidate winning with less than the popular vote and that it would encourage splinter parties, leading to increasingly fragmented votes and more selections by the House.

A third plan would allot electoral votes to equally populated districts within a state, based on that state's number of House members, plus two more at large.

Several states followed a similar plan prior to the Civil War. Critics say the proposal would permit state legislatures to germyander electoral districts, and also that it would lead to more splinter parties.

In the most recent hearings on the subject, in 1961, Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey favored retention of the present system, and Republican Chairman William E. Miller favored adoption of the electoral district proposal.

There are two major changes in the electoral college this year.

Several states have gained or lost electoral votes since 1960 as a result of population changes reflected in the 1960 census.

TAKE PART
And, thanks to a Constitutional amendment, the District of Columbia will take part in a presidential election for the first time, casting three votes in the college.

Voters on election day, whether they know it or not, are voting for electors — not candidates. The electors' names may not appear.

The electors, by law, must gather in their states on Dec. 14 to cast their votes, forwarding them to the U.S. Senate.

There they'll be counted next Jan. 6.

If one candidate gets the required majority of 270, he is elected. If neither gets a majority, the House takes over.

It is this last provision which has sparked occasional unpledged elector movements, including one sponsored this year by Gov. George Wallace of Alabama.

Southern proponents of unpledged electors reason this way: if enough unpledged electors are chosen, it might deprive both major party nominees of a majority of electoral votes.

The House, with each state getting only one vote regardless of its size, might then choose a president more acceptable to the South.

Aging Liner America May Have Made Final Voyage

NEW YORK (AP) — The liner America — once the nation's flagship, later a troopship and now a fitted old lady of 24 — is headed for drydock and an uncertain future.

She arrived from Europe with 800 passengers Tuesday on what probably will be her last voyage under the red-white-and-blue house colors of the United States Lines.

After nightfall, the America, second largest passenger ship in the U.S. merchant marine, slipped out of the harbor with a skeleton crew, bound for Newport News, Va.

Among the dockside mourners was Capt. Frederick Fender, the America's master for nearly a decade.

COULDN'T GO ABOARD

Asked why he wasn't aboard, he replied in almost a whisper: "I couldn't. A ship has a personality, and one develops an attachment for her, just as one does for another person after years of close association."

He excused himself, and walked away — alone and in civies.

The 33,000-ton America was the largest merchant ship built in this country when the late Eleanor Roosevelt smashed a bottle of champagne across her bow. The America is still healthy and she looks real nice.

But in these days a big liner is starting to live on borrowed time when she reaches the age of 24.

The America is outclassed and out-run by the United States Line's superliner United States, only 12 years old.

NO SUBSIDY

Because of her years, the America apparently is no longer entitled to a government subsidy unless a special waiver is granted. The United States Lines is one of 15 steamship lines that receive federal sub-dies to help close the gap between U.S. and foreign crew pay and other operating costs. A permanent layup of the $20-million liner — still unofficial — would require government approval.

Late Tuesday the Maritime Subsidy Board in Washington had not received any request from the United States lines for permission to cancel two voyages technically scheduled for this year.

There are reports in shipping circles that the company has been negotiating to sell the America to the Chandris shipping interests for operation under the Greek flag in the Mediterranean cruise service. Estimates of a purchase price range from $6.5 million to $12 million. If the ship is sold for scrap, the price would be from $2 to $3 million.

LBJ in Mock Vote

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The Democratic ticket of President Johnson and Sen. Hubert Humphrey drew 466 votes to 279 for Republicans Barry Goldwater and William Miller in a mock election staged by Western Michigan University students. The same election chose Gov. George Romney over Congressman Neil Stabler by a vote of 533 to 210.

The City of Pontiac lost an articulate and devoted public official in the death of District 7 Commissioner EMMETT S. WELLBAUM.

His service to the city and its residents long antedates his April 20, election. Because of his active interest in city affairs, he was one of the best prepared commissioners when he took office.

The man was marked by intense sincerity of purpose. EMMETT WELLBAUM brought a wealth of experience to the city commission table, and his sage advice and ability to find the heart of an issue will be sorely missed.

Party Records Reveal Wide Gaps in Concept

Sen. JOHN J. WILLIAMS, R-Del., is a pretty sharp man with a pencil. The other evening he got down to doing a little homework and came up with these startling results:

- Since 1906, with the Republicans in the White House 34 years and the Democrats 30, he found that the GOP had 22 balanced budgets, the Dems 3. The former had 12 unbalanced budgets, the latter 27.
- Republicans had run up a cumulative deficit of $13.4 billion, the Democrats one of $293 billion.
- Under Republican administrations, unemployment had averaged 5.6%; under Democratic, 8.5 per cent.
- Republicans had initiated eight tax reductions while increasing taxes twice, the Democrats had cut taxes twice and boosted them eight times.

Finally, the Democrats had gotten us into three wars, the Republicans none.

This got us to doing some thinking on our own account, and we quickly became aware that the Democrats are far ahead in one area—the slogan department. They have given us such classics as the New Deal, the Fair Deal, New Frontiers and the Great Society.

And now it appears that another is aborning: A Skeleton in Every Closet.

Unsound Wage Floor Can Penalize Workers

The head of the AFL-CIO declares that an increase in the minimum wage to $2 an hour is needed. Congress will be asked to approve that figure, or one near it, when it convenes next year.

Many people who are sincerely concerned with the problem of the low-income groups will probably look favorably on this proposal. But there is much more involved than meets the eye. There is every danger that an excessive minimum wage may seriously harm the interests of those it is supposed to help.

Various businesses have room for people whose skills are extremely limited. Retailing is a prime example. It offers employment to youngsters just starting out in the business world, to part-time housewives, and to others whose value to the establishment is minimal.

If the minimum wage is boosted to the point where the productivity of these workers cannot justify it, one result is certain—store operators will be forced to seek ways and means of getting along with fewer marginal workers. Then the unskilled will find it harder and harder to get jobs and to obtain the experience that would qualify them for higher pay.

It may be argued that stores and other businesses affected could solve the problem by simply raising prices. But that is much more easily said than done in this era of intense competition. And if it could be done, the burden of higher prices and inflation would fall heaviest on the low wage groups.

It may also be argued that the stores could use a part of profits to take care of higher costs. But these profits are a great deal less than is generally believed. Food chains, for instance, commonly earn only a trifle more than a penny on each dollar of sales.

What it all comes down to is that worker productivity and wage levels are inseparably related. A law which ignores that fact must do more harm than good.

Leaders Jockey for '65 Position

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The year 1965 will be the year of the jockeys, no matter who wins the presidential election. New leaders in Britain, the Soviet Union and the winner here will be jockeying for position on the foreign policy track.

As they try to figure one another out it should be a busy, even harrowing, year with perhaps fresh crises and unpredictable directions.

A new crew will be running the Kremlin. The Laborites, for a change, will be running Britain. The American President, Lyndon B. Johnson or Barry Goldwater, will be comparatively new in foreign dealings.

Just about a year ago all three governments were headed by men who, by trial and error, had learned to know and deal with one another. Premier Khrushchev in the Soviet Union, Prime Minister Macmillan in Britain and President Kennedy here.

Macmillan, the first to go, quit last October. Last November Kennedy was assassinated. Two weeks ago Khrushchev got the heave-ho into obscurity by the Kremlin hierarchy.

In the Soviet Union, two men took Khrushchev's place: Leonid I. Brezhnev and Alexei N. Kosygin.

MAN IN CHARGE
In Britain, Harold Wilson, whose party won the Oct. 15 elections, is the man in charge. He heads the first Labor government in 13 years. But the Laborites' margin of seats in Parliament is so small he has had to be long.

And here, whether the winner next Tuesday is Johnson or Goldwater, he will really be new to the rest of the world in major foreign dealing and dickering. Goldwater has had no say in foreign affairs, is not even on the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee.

In Johnson's 11 months in office, he has had to make some foreign decisions. He has had a handful of domestic chores to worry about and concentrated first on them and then on the election campaign.

He has been aware of the foreign problems but all three nations—this country, Britain, the Soviet Union—have been pretty much rocking along on such understandings as there were between Kennedy, Macmillan, and Khrushchev.

Since Britain is an ally it can be assumed its relations with this country will remain on a fairly quiet plane. The real task for the new president is to understand what the new Soviet leadership means and to cope with it.

And We Think We've Got Worries

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ Is Running One-Man Show

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has just given a significant example of a one-man decision by the chief executive involving the possible use of nuclear weapons.

He has publicly pledged that he will be ready to employ nuclear power for the defense of those countries which request American help as a countermeasure against any nuclear threat by Red China.

This threat of retaliation, though it is a commitment to American participation in war, was apparently not acted on by the Cabinet or by the National Security Council, as the President later disclosed.

Nor was it authorized by any resolution of Congress, as in the case of the action taken by both houses during the Eisenhower administration when Red China was warned not to invade Formosa.

In a statement given out at Akron, Mr. Johnson repeated and elaborated on the threat he had made previously to carry on a war against Red China. He said:

"In Asia we face an ambitious and aggressive China. But we have will and strength to help our Asian friends resist that ambition.

"We will assist them against attack, if they want our help. We will work to help them achieve progress and self-confidence so they can stand against attack. We will not permit the independent nations of the East to be swallowed up by Communist conquest."

In that same statement on Oct. 21, Mr. Johnson added this comment:

"I am deeply conscious of the immense power this nation commands. This great power cannot be put in the hands of those who might use it impulsively or carelessly."

President Johnson's pledge to commit the use of American nuclear power in the defense of Asian countries, including Japan, is unprecedented. Even the NATO pact is so worded that the matter of employing nuclear weapons is left open.

But now the President has assured all nations, whether in Europe or Asia, which do not have nuclear weapons with which to defend themselves that the United States will furnish the support needed to meet any threat of "nuclear blackmail."

SOUGHT AMPLIFICATION
Murray Marder, reporter for the Washington Post, sought amplification last Wednesday from administrative sources, and then wrote:

"There appears to be the following reasons for what must now be counted as an element of deliberate ambiguity in the President's remark:

"The major purpose behind the President's pledge to come to the aid of nations threatened with nuclear blackmail was to discourage other nations from leaping into the production of nuclear weapons in the belief that it is their only means of self-defense in a nuclear age."

Much has been said lately about contradictory statements in the campaign that have to be cleared up the next day. There may be an explanation for the ambiguity or contradiction in the President's speeches about using nuclear weapons against Red China, but it hasn't been forthcoming.

Oddly enough, even the Republican spokesmen haven't asked for it.

The Better Half

"Come back and see us again... You don't have to wait until we send out the Overdraw Notices."

Voice of the People:

Election Pros and Cons Still Popular With Public

If you are old, sick, poor, colored, unemployed, a union member, a farmer or just want an education, you would be wise to keep Barry Goldwater out of the White House. He said, "I don't believe in Federal aid to education, aid to the aged, or any kind of medical assistance." His vote against civil rights is well known. Over 700 of his fellow church members accused him of exploiting racism.

He is against unions. He said, "States should be allowed to outlaw collective bargaining." He has voted against the school lunch program, against increasing income tax exemptions, against a tax cut to low income families and against the tax cut we got this year. But he voted for raising congressional salaries.

He calls President Johnson dishonest. A news item last summer said Barry Goldwater was being sued by a dressmaker to collect for dresses Barry bought for his daughters? Is that his idea of honesty?

GRANDMA

(Editor's Note: Since there would not be time to answer any new charges the Press will end publication of all political letters on Saturday.)

To me, the pouring of taxpayers' money into the South American countries is only feeding the Communist satellites. Our money will not buy love. I am for Goldwater.

L.F.

Few voters know that the "new frontier" of today's Democrat regime is an extension of its "new deal"—the brain child of Roosevelt. It has successfully brainwashed our voting masses into almost total dependence upon bureaucratic handouts for everything from a loaf of bread to a roof over our heads.

GRASS ROOTS VOTER

If Johnson thinks he is so expendable that he can ignore safety rules set for him by the secret service which costs the taxpayers a pretty penny, I won't waste my vote on him.

His action in jumping from a car amid a crowd of people, ignoring police officers, is not the action of a responsible person, but rather that of a court jester.

HEAD-SHRINKER

Everyone likes comfort, convenience and security. We spend millions on insurance for our homes, cars, health and lives. We tend to look to the government for security in nearly everything else.

But is our desire for peace becoming so great that we negotiate away Berlin Walls, Bay of Pigs, entire populations so that we can continue enjoying our pleasures, forgetting the promises our democratic leaders pledged to those enslaved?

Can we put aside our leisure long enough to decide whether we tolerate corruption in the White House as part of bureaucracy and our high tax rate, whether we can by friends with money, whether we restore God and morality in our society, whether we must depend on Federal government for everything or whether we desire freedom?

BURKE CUENY
NORTH OAKLAND COUNTY COORDINATOR
CITIZENS FOR GOLDWATER-MILLER

My hopes will be crushed only if my children are denied the freedom to which they should be entitled as Americans. Death, war or any other threat means little against the preservation of the American way of life.

I want to see us win the war we are fighting and losing against Communism. We can only do this if our president realizes we are at war. Would you rather take the easy choice, shrink from fighting for truth, and see our children live like those of Communist dominated countries?

If we have a president like Barry Goldwater who cannot be bought or controlled by the leftist influence, our chances of war in our country or control by the Communists will diminish through courage.

J. B. CLARKSON

The Democrats' brainwashing technique is astounding. A letter from "New Voter" states Goldwater wants to cut Social Security. He wants it to be cut. The people who need it and still not bankrupt itself. The people who scrape the most are those who have lived up to all their working years and think the government should support them in their old age.

NOT BRAINWASHED

The statement "We don't have to worry if Goldwater is elected, we will be blown off this earth by war," shows a lack of knowledge about politics.

If there is to be another war — there will be regardless of who is elected, Goldwater or Johnson. Read up on both candidates then cast a mature vote.

R. P.

COMMERCIAL TOWNSHIP

Goldwater has voted against the Social Security system and his voting record on social welfare legislation clearly demonstrates he has nothing but opposition toward our social insurance system.

He voted against job-creating public works May 1, 1963; against federal programs to aid communities hit by unemployment December 10, 1963. He voted against wages and working conditions for agricultural workers on September 11 and August 15, 1963 and against the tax cut February 7, 1964. He also voted against the Kerr-Mills program.

I can see why Gov. Romney does not want any part of him.

M. E. C.

Let's remember that our Waterford Township Supervisor held his ground for something he felt was right and for the betterment of the township on a whole. He was not swayed by the threat of losing a certain number of votes or even losing the election completely. This is a virtue in a politician.

Goldwater is firm and determined to make our country clean and decent. But he's against the Negroes and wants to fuss around with our Social Security and ruin it. They say we'll have war with him.

Either way we vote we're going to lose America! Is this what you call a democracy?

We, the American people, have been sold down the river in the last four years and especially the last eleven months. Down the river to communism, atheism, immorality and insecurity.

I have been a Democrat all my life and it is with regret I must leave my party for another but I cannot condone the selling out of my country. Mr. Barry Goldwater stands for the original way of America and life with freedom and a future of returning God to our national life.

Junior Editors Quiz on Hamburgers

QUESTION: Hamburgers don't have ham—why the name?

ANSWER: Hamburgers have nothing to do with ham—they are made of ground beef. The word doesn't come from "ham" but from the city of Hamburg, in Germany.

Hamburg is a famous Europe shipping and trading center, so important it has been called "the gateway to the world." Goods of all kinds come in and go out; the city is known to seamen and people who handle commodities all over the world.

One of the things Hamburg handles is meat. Much processing of products is done in Hamburg. Some enterprising cook discovered how appetizing lean meat can be when ground, given a dash of lemon juice, salt and pepper, shaped into a steak, broiled a bit and put on a plank to bake.

Sailors and others coming in and out of the port loved it and called it hamburger steak in honor of the bustling city. Since there was so much trade with America, hamburger steak began to appear everywhere in the United States.

Soon we had a miniature hamburger steak, the hamburger. Tender, easy to serve between two slices of a bun, the hamburger soon became an American favorite.

FOR YOU TO DO: Have your mother try this cheeseburger recipe on your friends. Pat out the hamburgers and cook them on both sides. Then place on bottom half of bun, lay a slice of tomato on top, and then a slice of cheese. Put this under broiler until the cheese melts. Add top of bun and you have a delicious variant of the hamburger.

1932--Political Dividing Line of Century

WASHINGTON (AP)—The year 1932 marks the chronological and political — dividing line of the 20th century to date.

In the 32 years before that point only one Democrat — Woodrow Wilson — held the presidency, for eight years. And in the 32 years since, only one Republican — Dwight D. Eisenhower — has been president, again for eight years.

A look at the popular vote shows why.

In the eight national elections from 1900 through 1928, Republicans averaged 50.2 per cent of the popular vote and Democrats only 40.1 per cent.

The balance went to other parties, two of which — the Progressives of 1912 and the Progressives of 1924 — made substantial showings.

SINCE 1932

In the eight elections since 1932, Democratic candidates have captured an average of 51.4 per cent of the popular vote while Republicans have garnered 46.7 per cent.

Why did the Democrats gain more than the Republicans lost?

Because in the second period the vote for minor parties has declined sharply — and most of the defectors have voted Democratic.

Only in 1948 was more than 5 per cent of the popular vote cast for other than the two major parties, and in that election both the States Rights party and the Progressive party were off-shoots from the Democrats.

RESURGENCE IN 1928

The resurgence of the Democratic party actually took place in 1928. Before then the party had never polled much more than 9 million votes, even in elections won by Wilson. In 1928 Al Smith of New York drew more than 15 million votes.

But that was the year Republican Herbert Hoover polled more than 21 million — a figure the GOP didn't hit again until 1940.

Kalkaska to Vote on Chamber Funds

KALKASKA (AP)—Kalkaska County voters will be asked to decide in the Nov. 3 election if they should vote tax funds to support the local chamber of commerce.

The ballot proposal, believed to be unique in the state, proposes a one quarter of a mill tax rate hike for two years to support chamber activities.

State Urged to Tell Women Their Rights

LANSING (AP)—The legal and political rights of Michigan women are in good shape—and women should be told, by pamphlet, about those rights, a governor's commission said Wednesday.

Geral distribution of a "know your rights" pamphlet was among 24 recommendations made to Gov. George Romney by the special Governor's Commission on Status of Women.

"While much progress has been made, much still remains to be done so that Michigan women can fulfill even more meaningful and productive roles in the future," said Mrs. Paul Goebel of Grand Rapids, commission chairman.

The commission report noted that legislation concerning maximum work hours, standards of health and safety and equal pay for equal work already are in effect in Michigan.

It also said gubernatorial appointments held by qualified women reached an all-time high in Michigan in 1963-64, largely because of appointment by Romney of 125 women to boards and commissions and 31 women to court-related posts.

Recommendations included the continuation of the commission and appointment of a woman in the Department of Labor to be responsible for women's affairs.

In discussing political rights, the commission said, "although women outnumber men in Michigan, they do not cast their proportionate share of the state vote. The commission found this fact to be disappointing and the report strongly urges women to exercise their voting privilege and responsibility."

It recommended that women's organizations and political parties recommend and support qualified women for appointive and elective offices.

The commission called for technical training for women in community colleges, counseling to prepare noncollege students better for their role in the home, community and work force, and reevaluation of college courses, taking into account the needs of a woman's role.

Zambia Ideal Jump-Off Point for Africa Nationalists

DESTINIES LINKED — President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia (left), leader of newest nation in Africa, strives for better friendship with President Julius Nyerere of Tanganyika at a recent independence day ceremony in Lusaka. The nation of Zambia hopes to some day ship its copper ore over railroads through Tanganyika.

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — Zambia, the newest independent nation in Africa, is ideally situated to be the jump-off point for African nationalists who want to end white rule in neighboring Rhodesia and in the Portuguese-ruled areas of Angola and Mozambique.

The so-called freedom fighters, who want to end the last white rule in Africa, could move easily from Zambia into those adjoining areas. That would bring them a step nearer to South Africa, whose white government they hate worst of all.

But Zambia's location makes it anything but an ideal springboard for invaders of Rhodesia and Mozambique — as far as Zambia's interests are concerned.

Zambia's wealth comes from its copper mines, managed and financed by British and South African interests. The copper can only move to world markets through rail lines across Rhodesia and Mozambique to the sea.

HOPES FOR FUTURE

President Kenneth Kaunda hopes that some day the copper can travel by rail across Tanganyika, on the northeast. But that railway is many years and much money away.

Meanwhile, Kaunda must remain on friendly terms with the neighboring white rulers.

Many Southern Rhodesian and South African firms operate in the capital of Lusaka and in the smaller rural areas. The major proportion of Zambia's investment capital comes from these white-ruled countries.

Zambia's shops are stacked with foodstuffs from South Africa and Rhodesia. Much of the steel used in this country comes from South Africa. So too does much of the machinery, and many South African whites manage the country's secondary industries.

ECONOMIC NECESSITY

Out of economic necessity, Kaunda finds himself closely allied to the southern white states.

But during a hard-hitting independence speech Kaunda asserted: "Zambia will rededicate itself to fight imperialism and colonialism wherever it exists. We shall welcome freedom fighters from all Africa. At the same time I reserve the right to tell the freedom fighters what to do."

He warned: "Should Americans, Russians or Chinese misbehave in Zambia they will be sent packing home to their countries. Zambians should also remember that plotting against the State of Zambia is treason and the penalty is death."

With the lowering of the British flag, Zambia terminated Britain's 100-year hold on this sweltering central African country. Britain's connection with Northern Rhodesia began when Dr. Livingstone navigated the upper reaches of the Zambezi River. It is from this river that Zambia takes its name.

FAMILY MAN

Kaunda at 40 is a family man with nine children. Well liked by the majority of the 76,000 white population, he is considered a moderate, well-meaning politician who foresees a multi-racial Zambia as the best insurance against violence and economic upheaval.

Although the African now is master of Zambia, few whites have fled the country and those who have left are mainly government workers whose jobs have been Africanized. There is no outflow of capital investment.

OPEN TO COMMUNISTS

Zambia will be opening its doors to Communists as well as Western embassies and those of African nations bitterly engaged in the cold war against the remaining white-ruled southern territories.

Zambia may well seek financial aid from Communist China to assist her to build her railway to the border of Tanganyika.

Her efforts to remain neutral, promote a multiracial society and trade with her white-ruled neighbors will likely incur the wrath of most members of the Organization of African Unity, whose chief aim is to erase the last remaining white spots from the continent.

Using Policies Proposed in British Race

Wilson Puts Economy 'Cure' Into Effect

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst

As leader of Britain's Labor party, Harold Wilson made much during the last election campaign of the stop-go economy which had plagued the country through the 1950s and into the 1960s.

This week, as the new prime minister, he began putting into effect the policies which he believes will stop the potentially disastrous practice in which Britain spends more than she earns.

Britain's trade gap this year will amount to right around $2 billion, and Wilson's first step was to discourage imports by clamping on a 15 per cent surcharge on items which he believes Britons can do without or manufacture for themselves.

Despite pre-election fireworks, the measure probably was not much different than would have been taken by Wilson's conservative predecessors had they, and not labor, won the election.

The stagnating effect of stop-go government economic policies had been recognized by the Conservatives in 1961 and the first steps taken to revitalize British industry and exports.

ATTACK BOTTLENECKS

A national economic development council attacked bottlenecks in the transport and building industries. Location of new industry was encouraged in such lagging areas as the northeast, Scotland and Northern Ireland.

Old stop-go policies were abandoned. These had consisted of credit restrictions which slowed spending but at the same time halted industrial expansion and led to widespread unemployment.

Running under a minimum of controls, the country showed surface prosperity and unemployment fell to around one per cent.

But the problem of outgo over income remained.

The effect of Wilson's first step will be felt both at home and abroad. U.S. businessmen recognized the need but felt less drastic measures would have sufficed.

REVIEW PROJECTS

A move to review "prestige" projects could have a disastrous effect on the 1,400-mile per-hour jet airliner being developed with France and affecting the jobs of 80,000 workers.

Britain already has closed down the gaseous diffusion plant in which it manufactured its hydrogen bomb material, and the new attitude also would seem to forecast a change in its participation with the United States in the operation of Polaris submarines.

At home, the Wilson policy of encouraging modern streamlined operation of industry well could run into opposition from both industry and labor. A dock strike is scheduled and a rail tie-up threatened.

Britain's trade union congress, representing some six million workers, recognizes the need for change but its position is advisory only. British unions guard their independence jealously and are bound by tradition. A case in point is a long, and sometimes unnecessary apprenticeship imposed on young workers.

DONE LITTLE

British industry talks automation but so far has done little about it. Meanwhile, British goods are pricing themselves out of the market.

And industry has not yet rid itself of the notion that around the world, it is patriotic to buy British.

Wife Too Fast on 'the Draw'

Tries to Plug 'Money Gap'

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—There is an old Watusi proverb that translates into something like this: "A successful man is one who earns more than his wife spends."

WEST

Step up and shake hands with a total failure.

My case is so hopeless I am even beyond redemption by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. But never let it be said that I gave up without a struggle.

When I learned that the department had published a new pamphlet called "A Guide to Budgeting for the Young Couple," I ordered a copy right away.

Considering the shape it is in, you might be wondering how the Agriculture Department qualifies to offer budgetary advice. I wondered that myself.

You also might be wondering what budgetary advice for young couples has to do with agriculture. I wondered about that, too.

MARRIED 15 YEARS

And finally you might be wondering why anyone who has been married 15 years would order a budget guide for young couples.

All I can say in regard to any of these curiosities is that I was desperate.

When you are grasping at straws, you don't challenge the haystack's credentials.

Anyway, I obtained a copy of the pamphlet and looked it over as I was going under for the third time.

"Newlyweds are often more romantic than factual about what it actually costs to run a household," the pamphlet says.

"Your views on what you can afford may be a little unrealistic at first."

That is true enough, as far as it goes. But it neglects to point out that the longer you stay married, the less romantic and the more unrealistic your views become.

"The solution to money problems is not necessarily more money," the pamphlet says.

MEET MY WIFE!

Hah! The Agriculture Department should meet my wife.

She has never yet had a money problem that couldn't be solved by more money.

Only on one point does the pamphlet set forth what I regard as practical advice.

This relates to couples who have cut expenses all they "can" or are willing to do" and who still have more commitments than they "can reasonably expect to pay for in the future."

When that happens, the pamphlet says, "you may want to consider ways of increasing your income."

That is a capital idea, and so is the pamphlet's suggestion that "you might be able to make some hobby or talent pay off."

I have already decided how to increase my income through some hobby or talent.

I plan to write a pamphlet called "A Guide to Budgeting for the Agriculture Department."

He Races 25 Yards

to Nab Falling Baby

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—Contractor Ted Gale spotted a baby teetering on the second-floor window sill of a neighbor's home yesterday, raced 25 yards and caught the little girl in his outstretched arms.

The baby, 15-month-old Colene Talbert, was not injured, but Gale was so shaken by the incident he had to be assisted home.

Say Caretaker Regime in Store for Sudan

CAIRO, U.A.R. (UPI)—Radio Omdurman in the neighboring Sudan Republic said today a caretaker government will be formed there after the liquidation of the present strike regime.

The broadcast gave no hint about the fate of President Ibrahim Abboud, 64, who dissolved his six-man military junta earlier this week following heavy anti-government rioting.

Abboud had declared himself in sole power and had promised a transition to civilian rule. But demonstrations and a general strike continued.

At least 11 persons have been killed and 120 injured in the rioting which started a week ago today. Radio Omdurman had warned last night that the huge, largely desert country was on the verge of anarchy.

Today, Omdurman radio said representatives of the armed forces and the "unified national front" of hitherto-outlawed political parties had reached agreement on an eventual return to civil rule.

AGREEMENT REACHED

The announcement said that, following a five-hour meeting, "agreement has been reached in principle for the liquidation of the existing constitutional setup and its replacement by a regime based on the 1956 provisional constitution after its amendment to suit the nature of the transition period."

The constitution referred to was adopted after the Sudan became independent of joint British-Egyptian rule in 1956. It was piggybacked when Abboud, commander-in-chief of the armed forces, carried out a military coup Nov. 17, 1958.

Yesterday, a split among the officer corps itself was reported, with one faction supporting President Abboud and another supporting Maj. Gen. Hassan Beshir Nasir, the deputy commander of the armed forces.

Nasir was replaced yesterday. But he warned that his troops would occupy Khartoum, the Sudanese capital and twin city of Omdurman, if he was relieved of his post.

Today's first radio Omdurman broadcast did not make clear which military faction, if either, had reached the agreement with the civilian "unified national front."

Murder Suspect Is Bound Over in Brick Death

Thirty-year-old Leroy Bruton of 301 S. Jessie was bound over to Circuit Court on a charge of murder following examination in Municipal Court yesterday.

Bruton is being held in connection with the Oct. 10 death of 41-year-old Ernest Whiston of 15 Beaudette.

Whiston was found beaten in an alley between 88 and 92 Bagley Oct. 9. The following day he died at Pontiac General Hospital.

Police accuse Bruton of throwing a brick which struck Whiston in the back of the head.

Husbands! —Wives a Big Pain?

CHICAGO (AP) — Women, do you wonder how to get your husband to take you out more often, mind the kids or get hubby to buy a work-saving appliance?

It's simple. Cut off the top of this article and let him read the rest.

Dr. Edward L. Compere, professor and chairman of the Department of orthopedic surgery at Northwestern University's Medical School, said Wednesday: "Housewife's fatigue with chronic backache is one of the most common problems for orthopedic medical men."

"The condition frequently is accompanied by emotional problems or tenseness."

CAUSE OF ACHE

Dr. Compere said some of the major causes of fatigue and backache in housewives are: taking care of too many children, a constant routine of monotonous chores or baffling situations, and lack of outdoor recreational activities.

Frequent bed rest — two or three times a day — will go a long way to preventing mild fatigue from growing into a very disabling condition, Compere said.

The doctor strongly urged avoiding tension.

WORD TO HUSBANDS

But Compere also had a word to the husbands.

He said chronic backache victims need reassurance and understanding, and should be told "over and over again that some backache is normal."

Compere added that housewife's backache is also seen as a fatigue symptom among office workers, teachers, and persons engaged in low-pressure, monotonous tasks.

But, the doctor emphasized, the main backache burden of the nation is being borne by the overactive, underrested housewife, who must bear up under the "little frictions of every day life."

Remote Radio Base to Aid Polaris Subs

PERTH, Australia (AP) — A huge United States Navy radio station, with one of its 13 aerial masts higher than the Eiffel Tower, is being built in a remote corner of Australia.

The $90-million project will be the largest American defense installation in the Southern Hemisphere. From the base will go out instructions to nuclear-powered Polaris submarines in the Indian Ocean and Western Pacific.

The base is gradually taking shape near the tip of North-West Cape, a lonely finger of land jutting into the Indian Ocean, 800 miles north of Perth.

Man Faces Charge on Firearms Act

PITTSBURGH (AP) — William E. Fisher, 24, arrested Tuesday night on the route of President Johnson's motorcade with two rifles and a pistol in his car, has been held for the grand jury on a charge of violating the Uniform Firearms Act.

Fisher, of suburban Bellevue, said at a hearing Wednesday night he kept the guns in his car to be handy for hunting.

Campaign Practices Chief Rues Action

Regrets Entry in N.Y. Senatorial Race

NEW YORK (AP) — A bit shaken, the Fair Campaign Practices Committee today voted warily aloof from a bruising New York political fray, voicing regret for having got into it in the first place.

"Unfortunately," commented Bruce L. Felkner, executive director of the non-partisan watchdog agency.

As a confusing, chain reaction case, involving the battle for a U.S. Senate seat between the Republican incumbent, Kenneth B. Keating, and the Democratic challenger, Robert F. Kennedy.

A complaint from Keating against his opponent — resulting in a sharply worded letter from the committee to Kennedy — and followed by Kennedy's apology — marked the sequence.

NEITHER RETREATING As for the candidates, neither of them retreated nor took back a word.

What set off the storm around the committee, operating for 10 years to spotlight campaign smear tactics, was a letter, which the committee called private, but which splashed into newspaper headlines.

"It was a mistake and a very serious mistake, but it was not matter of ill will or chicanery," said the episode had "partially embarrassed" the agency and "made it suspect."

The furor resulted in the resignation from the committee of Ralph McGill, publisher of the Atlanta Constitution, who said the episode had "partially embarrassed" the agency and "made it suspect."

Charles P. Taft, former mayor of Cincinnati and chairman of the 21-member committee of leading citizens, sent a telegram urging McGill to reconsider and stay on.

"The whole thing has been a great shame, and I regret it," Felkner said. "I just hope it doesn't impair the work of the committee."

The committee, a tax-exempt civic organization, was formed in 1954 by eminent citizens of both major political parties to foster "the ethical level of election campaigns" and provide factual information on cases of foul play.

It has an annual budget of $100,000, contributed by individuals, business firms and labor unions.

PLAY FAIR By its rules, the committee does not publicly accuse specific candidates, although it privately presses them to play fair. Nor does it cite allegedly false material, unless its origin is outside normal political channels. It does offer factual documentation, for schools, newsmen and others.

This time, however, it found itself in the open crossfire of New York's fierce senatorial contest.

Keating lodged a complaint with the committee last Friday. He claimed, among other things, that Kennedy had unfairly accused him of ridiculing the nuclear test-ban treaty and only supporting it after Senate approval seemed assured.

CONTRIVERSIAL LETTER Kennedy, hearing news reports of the complaint, almost simultaneously presented material to the committee seeking to uphold his side.

Felkner's controversial letter followed. In it, he asked Kennedy for further details, and said

Keating's documentation "demonstrates conclusively that your description of his position on the test-ban treaty is not only false and distorted, but also appears to be either a deliberate and cynical misrepresentation or the result of incredible carelessness, touched with luck."

In the turbulent aftermath, Felkner now says: "It was personal correspondence, and should never have been made public. But I certainly shouldn't have written in those terms."

"I was trying to express shock, but not a judgment. In effect, it was a challenge to him to disprove the charges."

Bolivia Is Hit by Tin Strike

10 Reported Killed; More Trouble Feared

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The tin miners' union called a 24-hour nationwide strike today against President Victor Paz Estenssoro as turmoil continued in Bolivia.

Ten persons were reported killed Wednesday in Oruro, a mining center 143 miles south of La Paz. Violence was feared in La Paz today as students and labor unions scheduled a "freedom march" against the government and the president's Nationalist Revolutionary Movement called for a counter-demonstration.

The government dispatched troops to the San Jose mine near Oruro, where a communist said miners were holding a group of militiamen on hostage. The government accused Communists and leftists of a plot to take over Oruro. The miners' union accused the government of repressive measures and of jailing several labor leaders.

PLOT SMASHED

The government's current troubles began five weeks ago when it said it had smashed a plot to assassinate the president, who in August began serving his third four-year term in 12 years.

State to Gain Federal Funds With New Act

LANSING (AP) — Michigan will receive an estimated $24 million in federal grants during the next fiscal year under the new Land and Water Conservation Fund Act, reports the State Conservation Department.

The funds are earmarked for the purchase and development of outdoor recreation facilities and must be matched dollar for dollar locally.

State Conservation Director Ralph MacMullan has been named by Gov. George Romney as Michigan liaison officer for the program.

MacMullan said federal officials estimated Michigan's allocation under the act will increase to at least $3.8 million by the 1968-69 fiscal year and may eventually reach $5 million.

The federal funds will come from fees charged users of certain federal recreation facilities, proceeds from the 4 percent federal tax on marine motor fuels and money derived from the sale of surplus federal lands.

MacMullan said Michigan apparently will receive the sixth largest state share after New York, California, Ohio, Illinois and Pennsylvania.

Part of Michigan's share of the federal funds will be passed on to local units of government, MacMullan said.

To Pick State Representatives in 10 County Districts

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series to better acquaint Pontiac area voters with candidates in the Nov. 3 election.)

There are 20 candidates for the State House of Representatives seeking election next Tuesday in 10 state legislative districts which lie wholly or partly in Oakland County.

60th District

Active in the Mundy Township Democratic Club, Dwight R. Lawler, 25, of 5270 S. Linden, Swartz Creek, attended Flint Junior College and General Motors Institute. He is employed at the Chevrolet Motor Division, Flint, and is a member of AFL-CIO COPE Booster Club.

LAWLER
Dem

His statement:
"Some of the problems facing this district are:

"Education: Every individual must be given the opportunity to develop himself to the limits of his ability.

"Crime: is at an all-time high. It is time to take a close look at our laws and penalties, court procedures and parole policies."

"Water pollution: We are concerned with a condition plaguing one of the state's greatest natural resources, and we must treat it as such. Legislation is needed to appropriate funds to correct this situation.

Superintendent of Walled Lake Schools since 1945, Clifford H. Smart, 39, of 555 W. Walled Lake is a past president of the Michigan Education Association and Michigan Association of School Administrators. His statement:

"One of the most important things we do is the election of people to public office.

"I am running for public office on two records: first, the record of the Republican governor and legislature during the past two years; secondly on my own record as a public school teacher and administrator in Oakland County.

"Education is one of the most important matters our legislature has to handle.
"I would like to be elected so I can help see to it that the laws we have to pass are not only good for the whole state but are good for my home district."

64th District

An attorney, John I. Bain, 33, of 26393 Springfield, Farmington Township, is a past member of the Young Democrats, has been a delegate to state party conventions and is presently membership committee chairman for the Farmington Democratic Club. He was admitted to the Michigan bar following his graduation this year from the Detroit College of Law. He also holds a degree in business administration from Wayne State University.

BAIN
Dem.

Bain did not submit a statement.

An incumbent with two terms as representative in old District 4, Raymond L. Baker, 57, of 3218 Grand River, Farmington, is chairman of the House Metropolitan Affairs Committee. His statement:

"In the past two years under Gov. Romney we have developed a sound financial program and I intend to work to continue this program of fiscal integrity.
"Continued legislation necessary for the implementation of the new constitution is most important.
"I believe it is necessary that we establish more equitable assessment practices throughout the state.
"The implementation of the effective parts of the state's traffic safety study, such as compulsory auto inspection, is required if we are to reduce highway deaths."

BAKER
GOP

65th District

An attorney, William P. Hampton, 26, of 2757 Windermere, Birmingham, was an executive assistant during Paul D. Bagwell's 1960 gubernatorial campaign, and in 1962 was a campaign worker for George Romney. His statement:
"New legislation is needed in many fields and toward that end I pledge to work for the enactment of legislation in the following fields:
"Implementation of the new State Constitution. Legislation is needed in the areas of executive branch reorganization, county home rule, and a bill covering the procedures, time and details of submission of the budget by the governor.
"Legislation to provide adequate revenue for education.
"Traffic safety—The governor's traffic safety study commission has put forth many recommendations for use in formulating new legislation. These must be carefully weighed and incorporated into new legislation.

HAMPTON
GOP

Assistant to the loan officer in the Mortgage department of the National Bank of Detroit, Ernest W. Nigg Jr., 29, of 1028 Chestnut, Birmingham, formerly served on the Mayors Advisory Committee in Southfield and was a precinct delegate there. His statement:
"We have a much bragged about surplus in Michigan now which is not being used or set aside for meeting the future needs of the people.
"We need more Half Way Houses, community colleges and more vocational training for our young. Half of our hospital beds are taken by the mentally ill... but we do have a surplus.
"Michigan is in dire need of fiscal reform. The tax burden at present is on those who smoke and drink. There should be something done to help our senior citizens with regards to tax on drugs, and the reducing of school tax.
"A flat rate income tax can accomplish this.

NIGG
Dem.

66th District

Former mayor and city councilman of Madison Heights, Bill S. Huffman, 29, of 2965 Herbert is completing his first term in the legislature as representative of the old 6th District. He is a self-employed manufacturer's representative. His statement:
"January of 1965 the legislature will face the problem of fiscal reform due to the new constitution and updating the teacher retirement fund, requiring some $40 million.
"Fiscal reform will be required also to relieve the unfair sales tax on food and other nuisance taxes enacted two years ago.
"Fiscal reform through a state income tax will relieve personal and real estate property taxes at a local level so that county, township and city units can properly function.
"Through fiscal reform the State Legislature can provide the necessary monies for higher education.

HUFFMAN
Dem.

The owner of an insurance firm, Roy F. Strause, 36, of 620 N. Custer, Clawson was elected a precinct delegate in 1962 and was an unsuccessful candidate for the Clawson City Council in 1963. Among his platform programs are:
"More equitable apportionment of state funds to school districts, allowing enough money for tuition-free community colleges.
"Trade schools for the young men and women who do not desire an academic education, necessary legislation to help the retarded and handicapped, and self-supporting halfway houses.
"The assurance to citizens that their vote will be the final decision on any issue that arises in their community or the state.
"I strongly believe it is necessary to maintain grassroots participation in government by retaining maximum responsibility and control, first, at the local level, and second, at the state level.

STRAUSE
GOP

However, only seven of the legislative districts (Dist. 60-66) are located in the Pontiac area.

In South Oakland County, representatives from three districts will be elected. The six candidates and the districts they are seeking to represent are as follows:

Harvey C. Van Buhler (R) and Albert A. Kramer (D) 67th District; William G. Hayward (R) and John

E. Kronenberg (D) 68th District; and Max D. Hill (R) and Daniel S. Cooper (D) 69th District.

Van Buhler, 1919 Harvard, Berkley, is a former Berkley mayor. Kramer, 40, of 23651 Radcliff, Oak Park, is an attorney and in 1962 was a nominee for state representative.

Hayward, 58, of 1839 Sycamore, Royal Oak, is an incumbent in the legislature, representing the old 5th District. Manager of the Royal Oak-Berkley branch of the Secretary of State Office, Kronenberg, 40, lives at 613 Sixth, Royal Oak.

Hill, 46, of 14 Maplefield, is a Pleasant Ridge City Commissioner and mayor pro tem. Cooper, 34, of 13150 Dartmouth, has his own law office in Detroit.

There are 14 candidates seeking office in legislative districts in the North Oakland area.

61st District

ANDERSON
GOP

Among the issues on which Anderson said he will campaign are:

"Responsible, economical and efficient state government, the repeal of city income tax on nonresidents and a state capital improvement program on a pay-as-you-go basis.
"The strengthening of township, city, village and county government and the consolidation of the state and county welfare programs with controls in the county.
"Equal aid to elementary education through state support and equalization of funds and the supplementing of our junior college program in the state.

CROWLEY
Dem

His statement:
"Much is to be done in our great state and to accomplish this we must have legislators who will devote their full time to this task.

"Too many of our legislators have outside endeavors and therefore can forget their obligations to the people who elected them.

"Much beneficial legislation has gone down the drain, so to speak, by a minority group that has prevailed in Lansing these many years.

"New legislation must be written to protect the nonresident who happens to be working in cities that are levying an unjust income tax on them.

62nd District

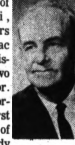

Seeking his fourth term in the House of Representatives, incumbent Arthur J. Law, 58, of 27 Miami, served 12 years on the Pontiac City Commission and two terms as mayor. He was an organizer and first president of Fisher Body UAW Local 596. His statement:

"For the first time in the history of our state the equality of voting rights is an established fact (apportionment).

"Now the problem of education, poverty, crime and delinquency that are so much greater in our cities and populous townships can and should be more realistically recognized and adequately dealt with.

"I believe we should have more state aid to education in all its levels. We must expand our facilities for the education and training of our physically handicapped and mentally retarded.

"The needs of our senior citizens should be met."

LAW
Dem

A former vice chairman of the county Republican Committee, Carolyn Murphy, 34, of W. Iroquois, is the treasurer of the County Council of Republican Women's Clubs. Her husband, Daniel, is chairman of the county Board of Auditors.

MURPHY
GOP

Her statement:
"When the Michigan state legislature convenes next January, I propose that the sales tax be removed from food and drugs. This is entirely possible since our state now is able to operate on a pay-as-you-go basis.

"I will work to remove the $10,000 limit on the value of the homestead in qualifying for old age assistance. I will urge utilization of new federal matching funds for increased vocational education.

"I support immediate action favoring permissive county home rule legislation.

"I plan to make regular reports to, and communicate with the residents of our district, so that we can offer a measure of service to our great state."

63rd District

A former Troy City Commissioner, James F. Carey, 42, of 2691 Binbrooke, is a member of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and is chairman of that group's Co-operative Extension Committee. He is with the Detroit Edison Co.

CAREY
GOP

His statement:
"The legislature has definite responsibilities to provide for many things such as education, both in the K-12 program and higher education, mental health, youth opportunities, social welfare and economic development.

"As a legislator I will help solve these problems but will not use them as an excuse to expand state government at the expense of fiscal responsibility.

"Individuals at the local level should have the right to accept or reject the activities of a higher unit of government.

"I believe that Allen Airport should not be expanded and Oxford should not be used as a major disposal area without the consent of the people in the affected area."

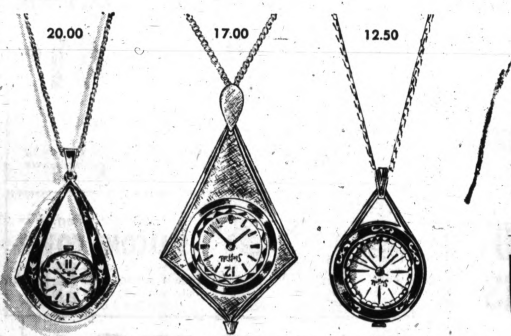

A former teacher and principal, Robert J. Slingerland, 32, of Lake George, Oakland Township, serves on the steering committee of the Rochester Human Relations Council. His statement:
"I would work to improve the welfare of all people by promoting education programs to make them self supporting, thereby increasing self respect, reducing welfare loads, school dropouts, juvenile delinquency and crime.
"Their increased purchasing power would make taxpayers out of tax consumers and make jobs for other people.
"I would encourage business expansion by eliminating the taxes on business activities and factory machinery. I would reduce the sales and property taxes, especially on retired persons.
"I would make the above possible by substituting a state income tax which would eliminate the city income tax on nonresidents and support the schools with more state aid."

Humphrey, Miller Use Different Styles to Accomplish Same Goal--Downgrade Foes

(Editor's Note: Bruce Buis has traveled widely with both vice presidential candidates during the present campaign.)

By BRUCE BUIS

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The vice presidential rivals, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, Democrat, and New York Rep. William Miller, Republican, are playing to the hilt their assigned roles as aggressive campaigners. But it is not clear that they are having great effect.

Each slashes at the opposition party's presidential choice as if the man's election Nov. 3 spells near-disaster for the country.

Each brands his own party's nominee as the indispensable leader of the rescue squad.

Listen to Miller chopping away at President Lyndon Johnson:

"He has the colossal nerve, to go to the people and say: 'Let us continue.' Four more years of this and we might not have any country left at all. There might not be peace anywhere."

Humphrey does not blush to reply in kind:

"Goldwater is a man who vilifies the past, distorts the present, and shrinks from the future. . . . He's no Republican. He's a radical and a dangerous one, and he ought to be repudiated."

TOUGH-MINDED

Miller is a short, tough-minded fellow who looks thin enough to be made of pipe cleaners.

When he hammers home his charges in the prosecutor's accusatory tone, he sometimes glares darkly, as if he could see the whites of the enemy's eyes just beyond his audience.

With him, politics is business.

PEELS OFF COAT

When the plane door closes, the whistle blows and Miller peels off his coat.

There is no jolly talk about the event just ended.

He drifts down the aisle, slips into his seat at a table with three others, picks up his cards from an interrupted bridge game and asks matter-of-factly: "What was the bid?"

Humphrey is a different breed.

BORN TO POLITICKING

He seems born to the rollicking rough and tumble of politicking.

Between airport stops, his eagerness for combat is still visible, simmering at low boil. On the trail, with his familiar flamboyance and his nasal twang, Hubert defies attacks, rocks his hecklers back on their heels with playful jabs, hollers "Go home and tell everybody over 21 not to forget to vote!"

At roadside stops, where he usually lectures school children in elementary civics, Humphrey frequently employs a fire-red bullhorn to help carry the message.

CURE TO HOARSENESS

But some of his partisans think he has the best built-in bullhorn in politics. His cure for hoarseness is to talk louder.

The results of all this banging away with the No. 2 men are not showing impressively on the surface.

Sen. Barry Goldwater told newsmen at the San Francisco convention he chose Miller as his running mate "because he drives Johnson nuts."

No sign yet exists that the President has been untracked by any of Miller's indictments. Johnson seems too busy ignoring Goldwater, whose own harsh assaults largely take the play away from Miller.

ROUNDHOUSE SWINGS

Humphrey, for his part, certainly is traipsing through countless places the President will never see this fall — and steaming up local party forces. But he is hardly disturbing Goldwater with his roundhouse swings.

On the contrary, both the senator and Bill Miller seem glad to have Hubert around.

With his liberal Americans for Democratic Action background, he presents a chilling additional target.

In 1960 the vice presidential nominees had a surer place in the campaign scheme.

HOLDING SOUTH

Lyndon Johnson's role, fighting to hold much of the disenchanted South for John F. Kennedy, was of great special importance.

On the GOP side, Henry Cabot Lodge, running with Richard Nixon, lent the ticket foreign policy class.

He was a bright ornament until he proposed his Negro-in-the-Cabinet idea, whereupon he suddenly became a liability.

Some politicians today are arguing that both Miller and Humphrey are liabilities. Others say they neither add nor detract.

GOOD FOR LBJ

A good number think Humphrey, with his strong liberal pull and his talky bustle, is good for LBJ in some key places — like Hubert's own Minnesota and neighboring Wisconsin.

Neither candidate allows any of this to halt him on his appointed rounds.

Miller, sounding like the landlord come to foreclose the mortgage on all office-holding Democrats, tries in every way to unsettle voters who may be preparing to vote for Johnson.

His doom-crying assaults are more somber and less effective than Goldwater's thrusts, which have a steadier glint of humor.

Miller nevertheless raises louchy topics, like the Walter Jenkins morals case, which Goldwater carefully skirts.

Talking of the prospect of a full term for Johnson, Miller seeks to shock.

"We may face an economic collapse unlike any we've ever seen. We may never extricate ourselves from it, and away will go the military strength which is predicated on our economic soundness . . .

"You implement the programs being advocated by our opposition and you will be working . . . almost all the time for the government."

SOCIALIST SOCIETY

The inescapable terminal point of a Democratic administration, says the GOP nominee, is a socialistic society in which every American will be "federally born" and wind up being buried in a "federal box."

Humphrey's punchy sallies look just as harsh as Miller's in print. Yet his supercharged exuberance imparts a curious light-headedness to even his roughest attacks.

Here's how he brings it off: "Goldwater is a decent, patriotic man. He's sociable. He'd make a wonderful neighbor. But I sure don't want him for my president . . .

"He is by training, statement and commitment not qualified to lead the free world and America in these perilous times, and I don't think you're going to let him do it."

Asserting that Goldwater by his broadsides against "big government" seems to despise government and view it as a kind of "enemy agent," Hubert concludes:

"This man needs a course in basic civics. And if he takes it, he'll have to do some remedial reading to pass it."

When Humphrey gets a heckling chorus of "We want Barry!" from exuberant Goldwateries, he flicks the light lash.

Presidential Candidates Have Distinct Styles in Campaigning

WASHINGTON (AP) — From the climaxing presidential race come two contrasting images.

One is the handshaker who mingles and says he wants to "press the flesh." One is a more reserved campaigner who says he is not the baby-kissing kind of candidate.

But for both — regardless of campaign style — there have been wild, hazardous moments when they have been nearly buried by the boiling-over enthusiasm of the crowds.

By now, President Johnson is cut, bruised and bandaged — but still mingling and handshaking. And Sen. Barry Goldwater has declined to kiss a baby despite his style, and has done his share of handshaking to boot.

They have been pushed, mobbed, rescued and taught anew what the campaigner who wants to meet the people must know: that there are so many of them and so few of you.

The Goldwater crowds generally have been under control — and he seldom wades into the person-to-person kind of campaigning. But there have been exceptions.

At the American Legion convention in Dallas, Goldwater said he wanted to sit with the Arizona delegation for the rest of the session. He stepped down from the platform to walk to the home edifice section at the rear of the hall.

That triggered it. The crowd began pressing in on the Arizona area — and it took a flying wedge of police and Goldwater security men to get the senator out. One of the security men lost his clip-on necktie.

WHIPS UP CROWD

Johnson encourages and whips up his crowds. Several times he has used the public address system on his car to call out "Vote Democratic on Nov. 3 — Hello there, come on down to the speakin'."

He may stop his car on a city street and beckon the crowd closer. When security people stand in the way, he is likely to say, "Let 'em come up here."

The remodeled presidential limousine has been mauled in crowds, its fenders dented.

Goldwater usually travels in a closed automobile and street crowds are not a feature of his campaign. But about a week ago in Pennsylvania, his car came upon a crowd of about 200 at an intersection that stopped his motorcade. Police moved in to force the crowd back.

DANGEROUS PASTIME

It isn't always the candidate who is endangered. Once when a Johnson motorcade was mobbed with people right up to the hub caps, newsmen saw a girl in the crowd get knocked down. At Providence, R.I., the crowd along the route was so thick, the idling cars of the motorcade overheated — and one with Johnson aides aboard caught fire.

One can't help wondering what a candidate thinks when he — as Johnson did in Indianapolis — throws his Texas hat into a crowd, and watches it become instant rags in the sea of hands.

All of the reaction is not friendly. Both candidates have faced hecklers. Goldwater was struck by an egg in Sioux City, Iowa. He said he didn't mind so long as the eggs are fresh. A photographer in a Johnson party was hit by an egg. The President had his Texas hat creased by a Goldwater sign in the hands of a teen-age boy.

Goldwater — handshaking his way along a fence at an Ohio airport — came upon a girl who wanted his autograph but didn't have any paper. He signed her tennis shoe.

SIGN ANYTHING

Johnson autographed a political bumper sticker for a girl in California — and the hand of a girl in Nashville. She was seen kissing her hand ecstatically as she was left behind.

Goldwater — by staying out of crowds — has avoided some of the hazards. Several times women have thrown their arms around Johnson. His hands are calloused, and battered from handshaking. Most of the damage, he says, is from women's finger nails.

Goldwater broke his baby-kissing abstinence only once — in San Diego, Sept. 9. A few days later in Chicago, somebody held up a baby to him — and he solemnly shook the infant's hand.

Johnson doesn't have to be offered babies to kiss. He sometimes just reaches out and takes them.

Loot Just Too Edible

Recovery Is Unlikely

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Police have little hope of recovering any loot taken from the home of Charles Bush. The house was entered by someone tearing a hole in the locked screen door. Missing were four donuts and a small quantity of root beer—total value, 30 cents.

Italian Paper Says Report Explains Khrushchev Ouster

ROME (AP) — The Kremlin has told Soviet Communist party workers that Nikita Khrushchev was ousted because he acted dictatorially and did a bad job besides, the left-wing Italian weekly L'Espresso reported today.

L'Espresso said the report, written by Soviet Communist party President member Mikhail Suslov, had been distributed to party workers throughout the Soviet Union.

It had been rumored in Moscow earlier this week that such a report would be made public and that it would contain Suslov's denunciation at the Presidium meeting Oct. 14 which removed Khrushchev from command of the party. The report has not been made public in Moscow and L'Espresso did not say where it got its summary.

Suslov's report, according to L'Espresso, accused Khrushchev of these failings:

NIKITA'S FAULTS

—He repeatedly violated the principles of collective leadership, displaying a typical "personality cult" attitudes incompatible with directives of the Soviet party congresses.

—He launched and changed agricultural policies without adequate thought and preparation.

—He switched allocated investments from one industrial sector to another, causing consumer industry to suffer through a lack of coherent development of economic plans.

—He sent friends or relatives, including his son-in-law Alexei Adzhubei, on foreign missions without consulting party officials. These emissaries had neither the right nor preparation to undertake the delicate tasks given them, and often the results did not correspond to Soviet interests.

NOT INFORMED

—The party Central Committee was told nothing of the outcome of Adzhubei's last mission, to Bonn and only learned from the Western press that he had formulated prospects on the German and Berlin questions unacceptable to the party.

—During his own trip to Egypt in May, Khrushchev made President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Vice President Abdel Hakim Amer Heroes of the Soviet Union without the required preliminary approval of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet parliament.

INDIA SUPPORT

—Khrushchev made an ostentatious show of support for India during a particularly delicate time of frontier controversy between India and Red China. Such help was in line with Moscow policy, but the way it was done worsened the situation.

—Khrushchev's recent declaration that the Soviet Union has a weapon of total destruction — which Khrushchev later denied he had made — caused alarm and confusion and was a significant example of his arbitrary way of acting without regard for the opinions of others.

In Moscow, Communist officials said Soviet party leaders were assuring visiting delegations from foreign Communist parties that the party of party first secretary and premier would never again be combined as they were under Stalin and Khrushchev.

Delegations from the Communist parties in Italy and France, the two largest Red Parties in Western Europe, and from Austria, Denmark and India are all in Moscow seeking information on the Soviet leadership change, and its implications.

PROPER GROUPS

Polish party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka, after a meeting with the new Kremlin leaders, declared Wednesday that the Soviet party leadership had "proper grounds" for accepting Khrushchev's designation.

Gomulka expressed hope that the Soviet Union and Communist China would take steps to settle their bitter dispute.

Filipino newsmen visiting

Peking reported that Premier Chou En-lai told them he hopes the Kremlin shakeup will improve relations between the Soviet and Chinese parties. Chou reportedly described the ouster of Khrushchev as "a good thing."

Telegraph Aide Dies

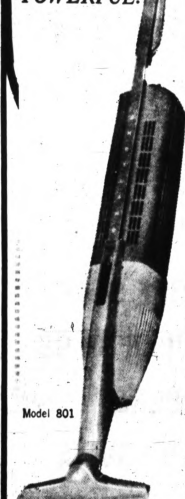

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — James Horton, of Chatham, N.J., assistant vice president of Western Union Telegraph Co. died Wednesday. Horton became ill while dining with a group of officials of the telegraph company.

Fun, Games Is College Attraction

NEW YORK (AP) — Fun and games, not books and teachers, rank first among college freshmen asked in a survey why they went to college.

Educational testing service said Wednesday that 50.8 per cent of the 13,000 students who filled out a questionnaire indicated that their major interest in college was social life, extra-curricular activities, athletics, forming new friendships and carrying on "college traditions."

Henry Chauncey, president of the service, presented the survey findings at the annual meeting of the College Entrance Examination Board.

He said 26.5 per cent of the freshmen gave vocational goals top priority and 18.5 per cent listed the pursuit of ideas and cultivation of the intellect as most important.

WIDE SELECTION

The 23 colleges chosen for the survey last fall provided a wide cross section he said.

At a state teachers college, 64 per cent of the freshmen listed social interests as uppermost, 21 per cent vocational and 12 per cent academic. Three per cent were described as nonconformists.

At a liberal arts college, 47 per cent were most interested in academic pursuits, 31 per cent were listed as nonconformists, 15 per cent ranked social activities highest and 7 per cent vocational.

At an engineering school, 48 per cent put vocational goals first, 34 per cent social activities, and 14 per cent academic pursuits. Two per cent were nonconformists.

Politicos Issue Finance Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., in a preliminary report to the secretary of the Senate, listed contributions of $2,715 for his reelection campaign and expenditures of $3,179.66.

His Republican opponent, Ely M. Peterson, reported contributions of $8,484 and expenditures of $8,484.

The largest contributions listed by Hart were several for $100 each. The largest contributor listed by Mrs. Peterson was the National Republican Senatorial Committee which gave her $4,500. Her report said all contributions were turned over to the Ely Peterson for Senate Committee for disbursement.

Federal law does not require candidates for the Senate to file reports on money raised and spent by individuals or groups acting in behalf of the candidates.

Final statements on contributions and spending are required 30 days after the election.

Cigarettes Branded

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard is waiting for hot tips on the latest London hijacking. They announced that secret markings had been placed on a $56,000 load of cigarettes before they were stolen.

ARE CONTACT LENSES REALLY SAFE?

Three years of diligent research have produced a new antiseptic contact lens which has tested out to be chemically safe, according to Kindy Optical Company, 13 N. Saginaw Street, Pontiac.

The safety features of the new lens have been confirmed by Northwestern University and a nationally recognized research laboratory. Tests prove that the new lens arrests the growth of germs, thereby preventing or retarding possible infections caused by carelessness of the wearer or by dust particles.

Although all contact lenses are considered safe with proper fitting and proper wearing habits, Kindy presents the additional safety margin of the new lens.

Complete information and literature may be obtained without obligation at Kindy Optical Company, 13 N. Saginaw Street, Pontiac.

Miller Raps LBJ's Use of Social Security as Issue

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP) — President Johnson was accused Wednesday night by GOP vice-presidential candidate William E. Miller of having been more interested in keeping Social Security as a campaign issue than in raising benefits for the elderly.

Swinging into the closing days of his campaign, Miller told a rally that the Democrats now are using "cute little ads on TV" to portray Sen. Barry Goldwater as opposed to Social Security.

The issue was one of several on which Miller hit at Johnson and his running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, as the GOP nominee heads into the home stretch of his campaign.

Miller's schedule took him in search of votes today from Missoula, Mont., to Coeur d'Alene, on into the Pacific Northwest, and then down to Santa Barbara, Calif.

OVERFLOW CROWD

Miller spoke Wednesday night to an overflow crowd in the 1,100-seat auditorium of Montana State University at Missoula.

In addition to hitting at Johnson on the Social Security issue, Miller repeated what has been a basic ingredient of all his political speeches — a detailed defense of Goldwater against Democratic charges that the Republican presidential nominee is a warmonger.

Miller, who received an enthusiastic welcome from the crowd, said that Goldwater's basic position was one of "peace through strength." He said that Democrats were allowing the nation's military strength to sag, thereby courting the risk of war.

About 15 student pickets awaited Miller when he arrived for his speech. They carried signs with such slogans as "In your heart you know he's nuts," and "Ban the bomb."

'LOVE YOU'

As Miller passed the group, one student said, "We love you, anyway."

The candidate smiled and replied, "Good luck to you, too."

In his speech, Miller mentioned a Democratic-sponsored television commercial showing a Social Security card being turned up with the comment that Goldwater advocated policies that could destroy the system.

Miller said that President Johnson could have won congressional passage of the 1964 Social Security bill, which provided increased benefits, if the President had been willing to drop his request for a Medicare provision in the legislation.

WOULD ENDORSE

Goldwater would have voted for the bill without Medicare, Miller said. He said that Johnson was "more interested in getting a political issue than in helping our elderly citizens."

Miller said the President knew the bill could not pass with a Medicare provision, but insisted upon it "because he did not want to give Barry Goldwater a chance to be recorded in favor of Social Security in this election year 1964."

LBJ Lead in Illinois Not Slowing Barry Backers

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Illinois has been a bellwether state in the last 10 presidential elections. Here is a look at this year's battle for its 26 electoral votes.)

By CHARLES WHALEN
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Illinois, a bellwether state in the past 10 presidential elections, has drawn concentrated attention from both President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Straw polls indicate Johnson has built a substantial lead in the battle for its 26 electoral votes. But this hasn't daunted the bustling door-to-door activity of Republican nominee Goldwater's hard core of workers.

Both Johnson and Goldwater have swung into the state several times, laying out what they term the bread-and-butter issues for the "heartland of America."

Although registrations have set a record high in Illinois, state election officials predict the turnout of voters will fall below the 4,746,000 who voted for president in 1960.

100,000 INCREASE
The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which conducted a registration drive, estimates nearly 500,000 Negroes will vote in Chicago. This would be an increase of about 100,000 over two years ago.

Records going back to Calvin Coolidge's victory in 1924 show Illinois has been on the winning side in presidential elections every time.

Cook County, with a little more than half the state's population in Chicago and the suburban area, also has been an accurate barometer.

The Chicago Sun-Times, in its latest poll, gave Johnson 64.30 per cent and Goldwater 35.70 per cent of the statewide vote. Such a percentage of the expected turnout on Nov. 3 would enable Johnson to top Dwight D. Eisenhower's 847,000 plurality in 1956.

SLIM MARGIN

Four years ago, John F. Kennedy carried the state by a slim, 8,830 votes.

Coattailriding may play a part in the result of the presidential and gubernatorial races.

One Democratic state candidate, in predicting victories for Gov. Otto Kerner and the rest of the state ticket, says Johnson will be fully responsible if it happens.

In 1960, Kerner won his race by more than 500,000 votes — 60 times better than Kennedy's margin.

Kerner currently is matched in a down-to-the-wire contest with Republican Charles H. Percy, who is running well ahead of Goldwater in straw votes. Kerner, on the other hand, trails Johnson in the straws.

Percy vehemently denies charges he is not wholeheartedly supporting Goldwater.

Although he differs sharply with Goldwater on some issues, notably civil rights, Percy notes he has given more than 80 speeches for the GOP standard bearer.

Leaders of the highly organized Citizens for Goldwater-Miller in Illinois insist they have accepted Percy's position of sticking to state matters in his campaign.

PLUGGED HARD

During his Illinois tours, Goldwater has plugged hard for Percy and other Republican candidates.

Whether the so-called "white backlash" — a protest against the tempo of civil rights activities — will be an influential factor is disputed in both party circles.

One Goldwater organization spokesman said, "The backlash is there but it's silent."

The general view expressed by Democrats holds that backlash effects on the election were overestimated in the beginning and that overriding interest now is focused on Red China's nuclear explosion and the Soviet change of command.

Detroit Tooling Unit Gets Strike Notice

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers union told the Detroit Tooling Association Wednesday it will strike at 10 a.m. next Monday against 57 tool and die firms unless the union and association reach agreement on a new contract by that time.

Association members employ some 5,000 tool and die makers represented by UAW Locals 155 and 157. Their contract usually sets the pattern for independent and non-union shops in the Detroit area.

The union and association have been bargaining on a new contract since mid-August.

For several years there have been slightly less than 10 deaths among every 10,000 Americans compared with 20 births per 10,000.

OPINION DIVIDED — The L. B. Nixon family of Riverside, Calif., is sharply divided in opinion on this year's election. The mother and father are on opposite sides of the political fence.

This Armed Suspect Is Only a Policeman

SPRING LAKE PARK, Minn. (AP) — Patrolman Gary Trotter moved in to arrest an armed man he spotted in the village hall — only to find that the man was an off-duty policeman hired by a local candidate to guard against vandals who had destroyed 33 campaign signs.

Claims to Be Oldest in the Country

Hartford Newspaper Marks 200th Publishing Year

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The first issue of Hartford's first newspaper, a four-page affair turned out on a hand press, was published on Oct. 29, 1764, 200 years ago today.

The newspaper that Thomas Green started now claims to be the oldest of continuous publications in the nation—the Hartford Courant.

"Was it not for the press," Green wrote at the start of the first issue of what was then called the Connecticut Courant, "we should be left almost entirely ignorant of all those noble Sentiments which the Antients (sic) were end'd with."

He said the Courant would be published each Monday with "due encouragement."

ENTIRE HISTORY

The Hartford Courant is in the midst of a 200th anniversary celebration that looks back over a period covering America's entire history as a free nation.

In its infant days, as a weekly publication, the Courant was printed on wrapping paper at times when nothing else was available.

Green came to Hartford and started the Courant when he was 29, having left a job as manager of the New Haven office of a New York printing firm.

His plant was a room above a barbershop in a small wooden building on Main Street. Hartford itself was little more than a country town with some shops and homes near the river front.

TOOK PARTNER

Green eventually took in a partner, Ebenezer Watson, and then left the Courant, long before its most serious crisis — a fire that wrecked its paper mill during the Revolutionary War.

The mill was destroyed in 1777, while the Courant was being run by Watson's widow Hannah. He had died of small-pox earlier that year.

Paper was in short supply and British ships blocked all imports, so Mrs. Watson turned to the Connecticut Legislature for a loan to rebuild the paper mill.

The legislature approved a statewide lottery of 6,000 tickets at $6 each. Prizes totaling $31,000 were given out, and the remaining $5,000 went to rebuild the mill. Until the mill was back in operation, Mrs. Watson put out the Courant on whatever paper could be found, and did not miss an issue.

NEWS DISPATCHES

From the very start, the Courant carried news dispatches from foreign countries, but as much as four months late.

The Courant, in its July 15, 1776, issue, published the Declaration of Independence as a news story, on the second page, 11 days after it was signed.

In those times, stories were printed in the order they were received. A speech made by George Washington placed an advertisement in the March 14, 1796, issue, while serving his second term as president.

MISSING SLAVES

The Courant's want ads of 1764 consisted chiefly of notices placed by men looking for runaway slaves, missing apprentices, or indentured servants.

Even in its earliest days, the Courant was concerned with community problems. In 1786 it printed a lengthy discourse which told of the dangers of quackery in medicine and primitive healing potions.

Choosing a physician, the Courant told its readers, should be done "while you enjoy health and have the full exercise of your reason faculties."

In 1836 — almost six decades after the Widow Watson's fight for the paper's survival — John L. Boswell purchased the Connecticut Courant. A year later he started a daily newspaper — the Hartford Courant — but continued the Connecticut Courant as a weekly for "our country readers."

DISCONTINUED

The weekly edition consisted of stories that appeared during the week in the daily edition. In 1914, the weekly Connecticut Courant was discontinued.

Frank Luther Mott, journalism historian who died last week, said that evidence indicates that the Hartford Courant "has the best claim to priority" as the oldest newspaper in the United States.

John A. Reitemeyer, the present president and publisher, says that the weekly Hartford Courants were "each of a piece of the other, each was listed in the other's masthead, and each had the same common name."

5 Marchers

Forced to End

Base Boat-In

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A boat-in by five Quebeco-

Cuba peace marchers ended abruptly Wednesday when Coast Guard personnel threw them off the base.

Four of the five who had set out for Cuba in a 24-foot launch were carried from their boat to a truck and driven to a nearby causeway. The fifth walked.

When they sailed Tuesday for Cuba, the Coast Guard intercepted their boat and towed it back to the Coast Guard station.

The marchers, members of the Committee for Non-Violent Action, were: Bradford Lyttle, 36; Erica Enzer, 38, of Chicago; Marvin David, 33, of St. Paul, Minn.; Peter Gregonis, 38, of Oregon and Robert Clapp, 26, of California.

HISTORY IN PRINT — George H. Greene, descendant of Connecticut Courant founder Thomas Green, displays a facsimile of the first issue of the Courant, altered to depict the 1776 version of the statehouse in the modern Constitution Plaza. Today the Hartford Courant, said to be the country's oldest continuously published newspaper, celebrates its 200th anniversary.

List Candidates, Issues in Area Townships

Tuesday will be "decision day" for voters who will be making their choices of candidates to hold national, state and county office as well as local offices in 26 area townships.

In many instances the local polling will amount to little more than confirmation of the Sept. 1 primary.

Two of the main exceptions are Avon and West Bloomfield townships where the Democratic party is again presenting a slate after an absence of many years.

There are also local propositions on the ballot in Addison, Pontiac and Washington townships.

Following is a round-up of candidates and proposals to be

Addison

Justice of the Peace: Robert C. Inwood. All the candidates are incumbent Republicans. Also on the ballot will be two propositions. One asks whether an Addison Township Police Department should be created. The other proposes a 2-mill ($2 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) tax to finance such a police department.

Detroit Man Is Killed on Area Road

ROME—A 63-year-old Detroit man, whose car apparently had broken down, was killed while walking on M53 about two miles north of here last night.

Pronounced dead at the scene was James A. Titus, of 2533 McClellan.

He was struck by a car driven by Joseph J. Calliwaert, 21, of 9737 Middle Belt, Livonia.

Calliwaert told Romeo State Police he was driving south on the highway when he saw a "dark object" on the road and was unable to avoid hitting it.

He said he found out later it was a man.

The accident happened just north of 34 Mile Road, and officers said it appeared Titus was walking back toward his car when he was hit. They are continuing their investigation today.

Tax Refund—Big Deal

DALLAS, N. C. (P)—George Cox complained to Dallas town officials that he was overcharged for taxes. Town Clerk J. J. Moore checked and said, "That's right. We overcharged him." Moore then asked the Town Board to pass a motion authorizing a refund. A few days later, Cox received the refund: Fifty cents.

Lake Orion Funds OK'd by State Unit

LAKE ORION—The Michigan Water Resources Commission has approved the idea of giving the village $125,500 toward a sewage treatment plant and site.

Whether or not the village will be in a position to use the money is in question, however, as the Lake Orion Homeowners Association has taken legal action to prevent any further moves toward building a planned $1.36-million sewer system.

A restraining order has been filed in Oakland County Circuit Court against the village of Lake Orion, the Oakland County Department of Public Works (DPW) and the State of Michigan.

Object of the order is to prevent either the sale of bonds to finance the project or the letting of construction bids.

The Water Resources Commission, which long ago spurred the present controversy by ordering the village to eliminate Paint Creek pollution, gave Lake Orion fourth priority in the state for the federal funds.

MONEY APPLICATION

The money is the result of an application by the County DPW for government aid in constructing the sewage treatment plant and purchasing a site for it.

The grant, if used, would cover nearly half the estimated $272,000 cost of plant and site, and could not be applied toward any other part of the sewer system.

Lake Orion's Village Council is now caught between two legal obstacles to action. A lawsuit was filed in August by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley after the village failed to meet two deadlines for the planning of the system.

COURT FIGHTING

The village is now in court fighting this suit, and faces two more deadlines under the Water Resources Commission order.

One is a Jan. 1 deadline for letting contracts and the other a July 1 deadline for putting the system into operation.

Donald W. Ringler, deputy director of the County DPW, said today that the DPW will immediately accept the federal funds.

He also said that an application to sell bonds to finance the project was filed yesterday with the State Municipal Finance Commission.

NEXT MOVE

Once this application is approved, the next step would be advertisement for construction bids.

In order to receive the funds, the County DPW must submit plans to the Water Resources Commission by Dec. 1, and have construction started by May 1.

Blaze Ravages Orion Clubhouse

LAKE ORION—A 9-room clubhouse on Bellevue Island was damaged extensively yesterday by fire after a faulty valve allowed natural gas to seep into the house.

The cottage-type structure at 160 Highland belongs to 12 Detroit families and was being closed up for the winter.

A Consumers Power Co. serviceman, Floyd Chick, was in the process of shutting off the gas supply when a mechanical failure in a valve allowed gas to escape.

According to assistant division manager Mark Blackman of Consumers Power Co., the gas was ignited by the pilot light of a gas range near the valve.

Chick, 38, of 672 Desota, Pontiac, was burned on the face and arms when the gas caught fire. He is in fair condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

NEIGHBORS CALL

Lake Orion volunteer firemen received the alarm at about 11:30 a.m. from neighbors who said that they heard an explosion in the Ace of Clubs clubhouse.

The Oxford fire department was called for help in preventing the spread of flames to nearby houses, bringing the total number of firemen at the scene to about 25.

The blaze was brought under control in about half an hour, but firemen stayed for nearly two hours.

Lake Orion Fire Chief Jack Caylor said the fire caused about $10,000 damage. Caylor said that three rooms in one corner of the house were "extensively damaged" and that the upstairs sustained heat and water damage.

Vanderbilt's Dapper Young Dean Hard to Tell From a Student

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — "What are you majoring in?" a Vanderbilt student asked the slight, tweed-clad man at a school reception.

"I've been graduated," replied Sidney Boutwell.

"Oh, what are you doing now?"

"I work for Vanderbilt," replied Boutwell. "I'm dean of men."

USED TO QUESTIONS

Boutwell has grown accustomed to such questions in the three years he has overseen the more than 2,000 undergraduate men at the university.

There was the time he attended a weekend symposium at a Virginia girls' school. A panel moderator mistook him for a student delegate whose first name was Dean.

Moments of uneasiness followed for the Vanderbilt delegation.

(Political Advertisement)

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS

SPECIAL REPORT

tion until the young dean rose to point out the error.

"My name is Sidney Boutwell," he said, "and I am the dean of men."

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

On another occasion, he was attending a national interfraternity conference in New York.

A Vanderbilt undergraduate voiced objection to a new regulation imposed on fraternities. Afterward the student was standing with Boutwell when the dean of another school walked up.

"You know, I'm in complete agreement with your position," he said to the pair, "and you can tell that dean of yours I said so."

(Political Advertisement)

The incident in New York was unusual in one respect. Vanderbilt students rarely find themselves in disagreement with Boutwell.

YOUTH ADVANTAGE

"Youth, that always lurked as a major potential handicap, turned out to my advantage," he says.

A Vanderbilt graduate, Boutwell found himself in student personnel work when he was counselor of a model freshman dormitory. At 27, he became the youngest dean of a major university in the United States.

Boutwell, 30, has a long way to go before he fills the image of the stern, balding, pedagogue who usually presides over the life of young collegians. The 130-pound, 5-foot-5 bachelor dean wears a size 36-short suit and buys his clothes from the campus haberdasher.

A Vanderbilt graduate, Boutwell found himself in student personnel work when he was counselor of a model freshman dormitory. At 27, he became the youngest dean of a major university in the United States.

Mild-mannered and highly fluent, Boutwell is a liberal among deans of Southern universities.

"I believe in a maximum of student self-government," he says.

MUST BE OPPORTUNITIES

"There must be opportunities for students with initiative to assume individual responsibility. With the energy of these students channeled in the right direction, the college experience is vibrant, taking on a whole new dimension."

There are times when the dean's office must step in to handle certain situations. The undergraduate fraternity men at New York referred to one such occurrence.

Weeknight restrictions on fraternity pledging activities were opposed by several groups, Boutwell stepped in to advise adoption of new rules.

"When a fraternity or individual elects to do nothing in a situation that warrants some action, then, in effect, that person or group has asked for university authority to step in and dictate what to do," he says.

SAME PHILOSOPHY

Boutwell applied the same philosophy to the unpleasanties of dismissal and suspension. He called it another case in individual responsibility — this time a lack of it.

"It's better to be suspended and come to know yourself in school than later on in life when more lasting problems are involved," he says.

Violence Flares in Puerto Rico; 9 Hurt

SAN JUAN, P. R. (UPI)—Police used clubs, tear gas and shots in the air last night to break up a leftist-led riot on Puerto Rico University's Rio Piedras campus in which nine persons were injured and 11 arrested.

Classes at Rio Piedras were suspended until Nov. 5, but work will continue as usual at the university's branches in Mayaguez and Humacao.

The rioting started when about 60 students supporting the Small Independence Movement (MIP) staged a sit-down demonstration on campus. The demonstration exploded into violence involving several hundred persons.

The rioters stoned police, overturned and burned one police car and smashed vending machines and bulletin boards in the university library.

Jaime Benitez, president of the university, blamed the violence on "professional political agitators." It was not certain immediately whether all of the arrested rioters were bona fide students.

BOYCOTT OF POLLS

Gov. Luis Munoz Marin apparently linked the outbreak with MIP efforts to organize a boycott of the polls Tuesday, when island residents elect a governor and other local officials.

"If this movement is inspired by a conspiracy attempting to threaten the fundamental right to vote, it will not succeed," Munoz said. "I have instructed the justice secretary and the police . . . to proceed with all energy to protect the citizen's right to live in peace."

Munoz, who has been Puerto Rico's governor ever since the position became elective, declined to run for reelection this year. He is supporting the candidacy of Roberto Sanchez Vilella.

Details of the outbreak were obscure. Some students charged "police brutality," saying patrolmen used fists and clubs against peaceful demonstrators, but other accounts said the violence was sparked by stone-throwing students.

Two Mariners Rigged to Film Mars

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Two spacecraft set to be rocketed toward Mars next week could produce pictures showing mile-long features on the intriguing Martian surface.

But to do it, the federal space agency said yesterday, the twin Mariner probes will have to complete the most difficult unmanned space mission yet attempted by the United States.

Each of the sophisticated spacecraft carries a single television camera rigged to take up to 22 photographs of Mars when it passes the little planet next July after a 350-million-mile voyage.

The 575-pound Mariners also are expected to measure radiation, magnetic fields and space dust near the red planet and to study the Martian atmosphere.

The first of the planetary probes is scheduled to be launched Nov. 4. With the second following as early as two days later. The launch period ends in early December with the next opportunity coming in late 1966.

If the Mariners' planned paths are achieved, the spacecraft will pass from 7,000 to 10,000 miles above the Martian surface between the Mars equator and South Pole.

"If we get the planned trajectory and everything is normal we should hopefully be able to see something a mile long," a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said.

Another NASA estimate compared detail of the possible Mariner Mars television pictures with photographs of the moon taken by the best earth-based telescopes.

French Police Nab Public Enemy No. 1

PARIS (UPI)—Jean-Jacques Casanova, 37, France's public enemy No. 1, was captured without a struggle last night in a Paris suburb.

He is the alleged organizer of the kidnapping last May 22 of Mme. Marcel Dassault, wife of a major French aircraft manufacturer. Mme. Dassault was found safe and sound May 24, before any ransom demand had been made.

MILO GRAIN HEADACHE — There is not enough room to store all the grain to be shipped out of David City, Neb., so it has been stacked in huge piles. Waiting for shipment is 230,000 tons of milo maize, a sorghum feed grain used as a substitute for corn. A shortage of boxcars is said to be the cause of the backlog in Nebraska.

Virginia Marriage Laws Due U.S. Hearing Today

By United Press International
A federal hearing was scheduled at Richmond today on a motion to strike down Virginia's anti-mixed marriage laws.

Attorneys for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Perry Loving asked for a temporary restraining order prohibiting enforcement of the laws.

Loving, a white man, and his Negro wife, Mildred, were married in the District of Columbia in 1958 and convicted under several laws making it a felony for a white person to marry a Negro, when they returned to Caroline County, Va. They were given suspended one-year sentences and their marriage declared null and void. The couple moved to Washington.

The hearing today was a preliminary step in the Lovings' fight to have the Virginia laws declared unconstitutional and in violation of the equal protection due under the law.

Virginia is one of 19 states having laws against interracial marriages. The Lovings contend such laws are "solely for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a supremacy of the white race."

OTHER ACTION

Elsewhere in the nation:
Jackson, Miss. — Yesterday, a three-judge federal court declared unconstitutional a Mississippi law requiring an "unpaid" poll tax receipt to vote in federal elections. The court said the law was "unconstitutional and void on its face in its entirety."

WASHINGTON — Leroy Collins, head of the Community Relations Service, said yesterday a victory for President Johnson next Tuesday would commit the nation to support civil rights.

Tuscaloosa, Ala. — Two Alabama National Guardsmen, sentenced to two years in prison for setting off explosives near the integrated University of Alabama last year, were placed on probation yesterday.

A musk ox annually produces three to six pounds of a valuable fleece called "qulvuit." A pound of thread, will give a thread near three to six pounds of a valuable of this, spun in a 40-strand by 24 miles long.

Politics Today Tame Compared to Past

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON — This presidential campaign has been rough, and it promises to get rougher, but don't let that mislead you. Compared with their free-wheeling predecessors, today's politics have gone sissy.

To be sure, even before he had the Republican nomination officially won, Sen. Barry Goldwater had a few unkind words for President Lyndon B. Johnson and his stand on civil rights.

"The biggest faker in the United States," Goldwater said of the President. "He's the phoniest individual who ever came along."

Shortly before his nomination in Atlantic City, Johnson struck out at a Goldwater statement.

"Loose charges on nuclear weapons," Johnson said, "without any shadow of justification for any candidate for any office, let alone the presidency, are a disservice to our national security, a disservice to peace, and, as for that matter, a great disservice to the entire free world."

STRONG STUFF

Fairly strong stuff. But Republicans and Democrats have been calling each other names for 100 years.

Let's go back to 1856 when the GOP was fielding its first presidential candidate, John Charles Fremont, the great explorer.

Because the new party included many Abolitionists, it was given a disfiguring adjective that was to hamper it to this day.

"Black Republicans," the Democrats called them.

TOO SYMPATHETIC

Not only that. In one cartoon Fremont was accused of being too sympathetic with the Negro; of favoring free love, of being a member of the Roman Catholic church (he was an Episcopalian) and—in a curious twist of what was to happen a century later—of being soft on communism.

For the true flavor, let's listen to some of the impassioned rhetoric of the time, as poured out by Henry A. Wise in Richmond, Va.:

"Fremont is nothing. (Cheers). He is less than nothing in my estimation. (Enthusiastic cheers)."

TELL ME

"Tell me, if the hoisting of the Black Republican Flag in the hands of an adventurer, born illegitimately in a neighboring state, if not ill-begotten in this very city—tell me, if the hoisting of the Black Flag over you by a Frenchman's bastard, while the arms of civil war already are clashing, is not to be deemed an overt act and declaration of war?"

Republicans didn't sit on folded adjectives while this was going on. They hinted there was something not quite right about James Buchanan. After all, wasn't he a bachelor?

And, as politicians do today, they searched the files for an old quote to embarrass him with. Back in 1818, while he was still a Federalist, Buchanan had said, in the words of one newspaper, "if he had one drop of Democratic blood in his veins he would open them and let it pour out."

As Sidney Hyman, author of "The American President," has pointed out:

"The political past is shot through with so much bile that the worst of our modern campaigns seems saintly. And things now sometimes done under cover were once done openly by reputable men or their agents."

The campaign of 1884 is an excellent — or, if you prefer, atrocious — example of what can happen.

The Republican candidate, James G. Blaine, was accused of using his position as Speaker of the House improperly. Blaine tried to influence railroad legislation, the campaign cry ran, and he was called a liar for saying he never had received any money from the Union Pacific.

The unfortunate Blaine compounded his difficulties by writing on the back of a letter he sent to a railroad official:

"Burn this letter."

So Democrats sang:

"Blaine, Blaine, James G. Blaine,

"The Continental liar from the state of Maine!"

"Burn this letter!"

But in 1884 the scandal league was bipartisan.

The other side of the story broke in Buffalo, with this headline:

"A Terrible Tale

"A Dark Chapter in Public Man's History"

The public man was Democrat Grover Cleveland, a bachelor, who had had an affair with a widow, Maria Halpin. Mrs. Halpin had a son, and, although Cleveland wasn't at all sure he was the father, he had agreed to support the child.

So the Republicans had a chant, too:

"Ha! Ha! Where's my pa? 'Gone to the White House, 'Ha, Ha, Ha!'"

The voters, faced with having to choose between Blaine's public sins and Cleveland's private ones, strung along with Cleveland.

1 State Special Question: It's Massachusetts Ballot

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan voters face just one special question when they go to the polls next week and it's been hotly contested as a campaign issue. It's the so-called Massachusetts ballot question which eliminates the straight party ticket vote and requires a separate choice for each candidate voted for.

The Massachusetts ballot would require a change in the ballot in which candidates' names would be grouped under the office for which they are running, rather than by party affiliation.

The Massachusetts ballot method of voting was pushed by Gov. George Romney and passed, over objections of Democrats, through the legislature.

When it was signed into law, Democrats immediately started a petition drive calling for a referendum and hit at the governor in campaign speeches. Democrats claimed the voting method would disfranchise many thousands of state voters by complicating the procedures.

BEST CANDIDATE

Romney, in pushing for the new ballot, argued it would be good for politics and give the best candidate a chance rather than the member of the strongest party.

But Democrats said it would confuse the balloting to such an extent that many would be unable to vote with understanding.

Loud objections were voiced by organized labor groups which contended that workers who are tied to time clocks would not have adequate time to vote because voting would be slowed considerably.

Under the current voting regulations, a voter can register a choice for a party-line ballot by marking one X on a paper ballot or pulling a single lever on a voting machine.

A BIG COMPLAINT

The Massachusetts ballot or variations of it currently are in use in 17 states. One big complaint by critics is that it tends to discourage voters to go all the way down the ballot to the lesser offices.

Professional politicians tend to object to it because it can destroy the so-called safe blocs of votes that result from ruboff of votes that go to the strong ticket leader.

But supporters of the system say it is good for politics because it increases the chances of the best-qualified candidate and lessens the vote-getting potentials of the candidate who belongs to the dominant party.

And backers of the ballot say political machines are less likely to become powerful under the Massachusetts ballot method than the present system.

Pilot Parachutes From Jet Before It Crashes, Burns

MARQUETTE (AP)—A light-jet crashed and burned near here Wednesday, after its pilot parachuted to safety.

Lt. Col. John R. Hed, 44, of the 140th Fighter Command, Air National Guard, at Duluth, Minn., had planned to land his F89 Scorpion, at nearby K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base.

As he prepared to land, he radioed Sawyer that he was having difficulty with the plane and flew away from the base. The plane crashed and burned about three miles from the base. Hed parachuted to safety. He suffered burns on his head and hands and was hospitalized at Sawyer where he was reported in satisfactory condition.

The biggest living thing is the California redwood tree, which grows taller than 300 feet and is often 3,000 years of age.

It's Coconut All the Way in Elegant Cream Torte

The word "torte," of German origin, is, according to the dictionary, "a rich, sticky cake made of nuts, fruits, egg, and crumbs, with very little flour." There are dozens of tortes — some quite similar to those that were treasured recipes brought over from Europe — some modified by American homemakers and varied to suit the ingredients at hand.

Most tortes make delicious eating and the Coconut Cream Torte here is no exception. There's the cake part, the filling and the meringue — each to make separately and to assemble.

COCONUT CREAM TORTE

2 cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder

1 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
½ cup shortening*

Milk*

1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon almond extract
4 egg yolks, unbeaten
½ cup flaked coconut, toasted

*With vegetable shortening, use 1 cup milk. With butter or margarine, use 1 cup minus 2 tablespoons milk.

Sift flour with baking powder, salt, and 1 cup sugar.

Stir shortening until softened. Add flour mixture, ½ cup of the milk, the vanilla, and almond extract; mix until flour is dampened. Then beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer or 300 strokes by hand.

Add egg yolks and remaining milk; beat 1 minute longer with mixer or 150 strokes by hand. Stir in coconut.

Pour batter into two 8-inch layer pans that have been lined on the bottoms with paper. Bake at 350 degrees for about 25 minutes, or until cake springs back when lightly pressed in center. Cool.

Filling

3 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon cake flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
1 cup milk
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons flaked coconut, toasted

While cake is baking, prepare the filling by combining the sugar, flour, and salt in a saucepan, add egg yolk and milk and cook over low heat until mixture comes to a boil and is thickened, add vanilla. Cool. Stir in coconut.

Meringue

5 egg whites
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
6 tablespoons flaked coconut, toasted, or finely crushed butter crunch candy

Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Gradually add sugar and continue beating until meringue will form stiff shiny peaks. Beat in vanilla.

Assemble torte by placing one layer on an oven-proof plate or greased baking sheet. Spread top with filling. Top with second layer. Spread top and sides of cake with meringue, sprinkle with remaining coconut or candy, and brown in 425 degrees oven for about 5 minutes.

NOTE: To toast coconut, spread in shallow pan. Toast in 350 degree oven for 7 to 12 minutes. Stir or shake frequently to toast evenly.

COCONUT CREAM TORTE — "Torte" — a German word originally, has always meant a fabulous cake. Coconut Cream Torte is a version everyone will applaud . . . there will be requests for second helpings, too!

Broil or Grill

Barbecue Lamb Shanks

Lamb shanks have a generous amount of lean meat and are moderate in price. Cooked until tender, and cooled, the meat may be diced and used in a meat pie, turnovers, a casserole dish, or in any recipe that calls for cooked meat. Count on one lamb shank per person.

The barbecued lamb shanks in this recipe are cooked until tender, then browned under a broiler and brushed with a savory sauce. With them you could serve potatoes cooked with their jackets on or hot cooked rice, buttered broccoli or spinach for color contrast, and short cake for dessert.

Barbecued Lamb Shanks

4 lamb shanks
1 quart water
1 tablespoon salt
1 cup catsup
¼ cup vinegar

1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet (bottled brown bouquet sauce)

2 teaspoons prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon salt

Cook lamb shanks in boiling salted water until tender, about 1½ hours. Drain and refrigerate until needed. To make barbecue sauce blend together the remaining ingredients.

Place lamb shanks on grill over moderately hot charcoal fire and heat thoroughly, turning once. Then brush with barbecue sauce and grill, turning frequently until well-browned. Or broil under a gas or electric unit thoroughly hot, then brush with barbecue sauce and continue broiling.

Cook Fast

If you fry fish fillets at low temperature, you'll find that they are cooked in 10 to 15 minutes; the fish may be rolled in seasoned flour and fried in a skillet in about ¼-inch fat.

Plan School for Cooking in Quantity

An all-day training school for women who prepare meals for churches, lodges, etc. will be conducted Nov. 5 at the First Congregational Church, corner of East Huron and Mill streets.

Gladys Knight, tourist and resort specialist, Michigan State University Extension Service, will be in charge. She drew up plans when the kitchen at the church was remodeled. Subject matter includes planning menus, use of committees, sanitation, purchasing and kitchen arrangement. Two leaders from any church, lodge or extension group may attend.

Those interested must register at the Cooperative Extension Service office on North Saginaw Street. There is no charge except for luncheon.

Brown the Skin

If you roast duck at a low temperature (325 degrees), you may wish to increase the oven heat to hot (425 degrees) toward the end of the roasting period in order to have the skin deliciously brown and crisp.

Top a Pie With Cream

Ever serve a pumpkin pie buried beneath a cloud of coffee-honey whip? No? Here is the recipe.

Combine ¼ cup heavy cream, 1 teaspoon instant coffee, 1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar and ¼ teaspoon vanilla extract in a bowl. Chill in refrigerator for an hour. Remove and whip until thick. Spread atop pie and chill until served.

Just before bringing it to the table, drizzle tablespoons honey over whipped cream. Swirl it into the topping with an angel-flick of a spatula.

Watch Election Returns and Eat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Yesterday we took care of parties for children with Halloween recipes. Now, let's turn our attention to election night parties.

You're sure to have friends who are hoping for the same winners as you. Ask them to for an informal evening to be spent in watching returns on television.

Nervousness makes people hungry. You can have the usual nibble foods, or you can be different and serve something like tiny meat balls dunked in a spicy sauce and served on miniature buns.

You'll like the fact that the meat balls can be made early and baked at a later time. Baking meat balls is something new.

"Ballot Box" Buns

1 pkg. dry yeast
1/2 cup very warm water
1/2 cup evaporated milk
2 1/2 cups biscuit mix

Dissolve yeast in very warm water in a 2-quart bowl. Stir in evaporated milk and biscuit mix. Beat well. Turn out on board lightly dusted with biscuit mix. Knead dough about 20 times.

Pinch off enough dough to form about 36 one-inch balls. Place in greased 9-inch round pan. Let rise in warm place about 1 hour, or until double in volume.

Bake in 400 degree oven (hot) about 15 minutes, or until golden brown.

"Dunk-ey" Meat Balls

1 lb. ground lean beef
1/2 cup corn flake crumbs
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup finely cut onion
1/2 cup catsup or chili sauce
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Mix all ingredients well in a

2-quart bowl. With wet hands shape meat ball mixture into 36 small meat balls using about a teaspoon for each. Place in 13x9x2-inch pan. Bake in 400 oven (hot) 12 to 15 minutes, or until brown.

Place meat balls in "Elephant" Barbecue Sauce and serve with "Ballot Box" buns.

"Elephant" Barbecue Sauce

8-oz. can tomato sauce
1/2 cup catsup
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons finely cut onion
2 tablespoons pickle relish, drained

2 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce

1 tablespoon vinegar few grains pepper

Mix all ingredients in a 2-quart saucepan. Heat until steaming.

A heartier menu can include a casserole of baked beans and bacon, ham sandwiches, tossed salad and fresh doughnuts.

Baked Bean Casserole

8 slices bacon
1 1/2 cups diced onion
1 cup finely-diced celery
1 cup water

1 can (6 oz.) tomato paste
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed

2 tablespoons prepared mustard

1 envelope spaghetti sauce mix

2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 teaspoon garlic salt

1 can (1 lb. 12 oz.) pork and beans in tomato sauce

2 cans (1 lb. each) green lima beans, well drained

1 can (1 lb.) red kidney beans, well drained

Cook six slices of bacon until crisp. Reserve along with two uncooked slices. Sauté the onion and celery in 2 tablespoons of the bacon fat about 5 minutes.

Add the water, tomato paste, brown sugar, mustard, spaghetti sauce mix, vinegar, and garlic salt. Blend together and bring to a boil.

Meanwhile, combine in a 3-quart casserole pork and beans, lima, and kidney beans. Add the crumbled, cooked bacon and the onion and spaghetti sauce. Stir to distribute sauce.

Cut the reserved uncooked slices of bacon into 2-inch pieces and dot the top of the casserole.

Bake, uncovered, in a 350 degree oven 1 hour or until bubbly hot. (Add 20 minutes extra baking time if casserole has been refrigerated.) Makes 10 servings.

Potato Doughnuts

1/2 cup (1/2 envelope) instant mashed potato granules
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup milk

1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs

1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
3/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour

4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon mace

Prepare mashed potatoes according to package directions, using 1/2 cup water and 1/4 cup milk. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs, 1/4 cup milk, and vanilla. Add mashed potato. Mix thoroughly.

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, and mace; add to potato mixture. Roll out about 1/2-inch thick on lightly-floured board. Cut with doughnut cutter.

Heat deep fat to 375 degrees. Fry doughnuts in fat until golden brown, turning once. Drain on absorbent paper. Makes about 2 dozen doughnuts.

Should you be mixed up in plans for a large scale affair, perhaps the following cookie recipes will help you. Even if you don't use the recipes now, they're good to keep for future reference.

Cocoa Drop Quickies

1 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups light brown sugar
2 eggs

1 cup milk
2 1/2 teaspoons vanilla extract
4 cups sifted all-purpose flour

1 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons double-action baking powder

1/4 cup cocoa
1 cup chopped nuts (optional)

Mix shortening and brown sugar together. Add eggs and beat well. Alternate milk and vanilla mixture with sifted dry ingredients. Add chopped nuts if included. Drop by teaspoons onto a greased cookie sheet and bake at 350 degrees 15 minutes. Makes 120 drop cookies, 1 1/2 inch.

Pennypinchers' Refrigerator Cookies

1 1/2 cups shortening
3 cups light brown sugar

2 eggs, well beaten
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
5 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
5 1/2 teaspoons double-action baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

Cream shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, flavoring. Sift dry ingredients and combine with creamed mixture. (You will have to knead in last of dry ingredients.) Divide cookie dough into 3 equal parts and shape into slim rolls. Wrap in wax paper or foil and chill thoroughly.

When firm slice very thin and bake at 375 degrees about 9 minutes. Makes about 300 thin, 1 1/2-inch cookies.

Variations: Chocolate—Add 2 squares melted chocolate with eggs. Blend well. Bake 10 minutes.

Spice—Add 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg. Blend well. Bake 9 minutes.

FOR NOV. 2—"Let's get together Election Night!" Sure to be a winner is this party menu. "Dunk-ey" Meat Balls, browned a new easy way—in the oven along with tiny "Ballot Box" Buns. "Elephant" Barbecue Sauce zestily completes this happy combination.

ELECTION NIGHT FOOD

Quick Fruit Bread Good on Halloween

"Goblin" good! describes an orange date bread just right for Halloween festivities. This handsome quick bread can be baked early in the day for slicing at refreshment time. You might wish to make an extra loaf to tuck into the freezer.

Margarine with a delicate flavor "better" this orange date bread in two ways. The built-in spreadability comes in its own when the margarine is passed with slices of bread at serving time.

Should the night air be crisp, steaming mugs of hot cider with cinnamon sticks for stirrers are mighty welcome. Nothing could be easier than to heat the cider in a large kettle and ladle it into waiting cups.

Halloween Orange Date Bread

1 stick (1/2 cup) margarine
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup packed light brown sugar

1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
1/2 cup sour milk
1/2 cup orange juice
3 cups sifted flour

2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped nuts

1 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup milk, place 1 1/2 teaspoons vinegar in measuring cup and 1/2 to 1/2 cup mark with milk.

Cream margarine with granulated and brown sugars. Add beaten egg, orange peel, and vanilla. Beat well until light and fluffy. Add sour milk. Beat well. Add orange juice. Beat well.

Sift flour, baking powder, soda and salt together. Add dry ingredients and stir in. Fold in chopped dates and nuts.

Pour batter into a 9 by 5 by 3 inch loaf pan, bottom rubbed with margarine. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 60 to 70 minutes.

Remove from pan and cool on rack before slicing.

Washington Disliked

Extravagant Food

George Washington's name was added to at least a half-dozen recipes of his day. But there is reason to believe he would have been distressed if use of his name had increased the price of the various concoctions.

His steward once proudly presented a table with delicately prepared shad, the first of the season. Pleased at first, Washington exploded when he learned the shad had cost three dollars. "Take it away, sir!" he exclaimed. "It shall never be said that my table sets an example of luxury and extravagance."

Lamb Patties Go Glamorous

On days when you've had shopping, a dental appointment, a PTA or woman's club meeting, it's nice to come home and pop a quick dinner into the broiler.

Ground lamb is an economical way to have a broiled meat, maintains Reba Staggs, well known meat expert.

These patties may be stuffed before the homemaker leaves and refrigerated until broiling time.

Fruited Lamb Patties

1 1/2 pounds ground lamb
9 slices bacon
6 cooked prunes, pitted
1/2 cup crushed cornflakes

1 egg
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 cup milk

Cook 3 slices bacon until crisp. Chop, cooked bacon and fill prune centers. Combine lamb, cornflakes, egg, salt and milk. Mix well.

Divide mixture into 6 patties and shape each patty around a stuffed prune. Place patties on broiler rack. Insert broiler rack and pan so that top of meat is 2 inches from heat. Broil patties on one side until brown, 8 to 10 minutes.

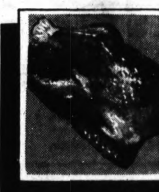

Place remaining bacon slices on broiler rack and broil until crisp. Turn lamb patties and brown second side, about 5 minutes. Serve with remaining slices of cooked bacon. 6 servings.

Court Rules $810,000 for Charity

LANSING (AP) — Some $810,000 from William J. Hartwig's estate now will go where his will specified—to charity—at the conclusion of a long court battle, Atty. Frank Kelley said Wednesday.

Wayne County Probate Judge Thomas Murphy approved a plan in accordance with Hartwig's will, that one-third each will go to local Protestant, Roman Catholic and Negro groups to support orphans and old people, Kelley said.

The Michigan Supreme Court earlier rejected an attempt by relatives to upset the will, Kelley said.

He said the will specified that Hartwig's estate, estimated at upwards of $1 million, go to charity 20 years after his death, in Detroit in 1941.

MORE FUNDS

As additional real estate in the trust is liquidated, more funds will be divided evenly among the three groups, Kelley said.

"This case is an example," he said, "of how the public interest is served by provisions of the Charitable Trust Act which give the attorney general the authority to represent the public interest in these matters."

He said the plan approved by Judge Murphy divides the $810,000 this way:

Protestants — Presbyterian Village of Detroit Inc., $75,000; Boulevard Temple Methodist Home, $60,000; The Eventide Home, $40,000; Luther Haven, $30,000; Williams House Inc., $35,000; St. Peter's Home for Boys, $30,000.

Catholic—Kundig Center Inc., $110,000; St. Francis Home for Orphan Boys, $50,000; House of the Good Shepherd, $50,000; Guardian Angel Home, $30,000.

Negro — Phyllis Wheatly Home Inc., $175,000; Lutheran Home for Girls, $70,000; Delta Home for Girls, $25,000.

If Humphrey Wins

Who'll Wield Senate Whip?

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey is elected vice president next Tuesday, President Johnson may face a delicate decision in the Senate leadership.

As whip, or assistant Democratic Senate leader, Humphrey turned in an impressive performance in helping get critical administration legislation passed in Congress this year.

Ordinarily the White House wouldn't give too much attention to the choice of an assistant leader. But Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has declined to play the whip-cracking leadership role Johnson himself once filled.

All the signs indicate that Johnson would like to see the Senate Democrats install Sen. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island as their assistant leader. The President worked closely with Pastore in the congressional session. He was so impressed with the Rhode Island senator's abilities that he picked him for keynoter of the party's national convention.

SMATHERS IN LINE

Under customary procedures, Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida would be in line for promotion from his post as secretary of the Democratic Policy Committee to the job Humphrey may be leaving.

Smathers, a close personal friend of the late President John F. Kennedy, also has had long association with Johnson. But the Florida senator bucked many of Kennedy's legislative proposals and could be expected to be out of step with some that Johnson makes.

Another potential candidate is Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, who has seniority of Senate service over both Pastore and Smathers. Long is generally a supporter of administration proposals but has not always seen eye-to-eye with the administration's team.

Johnson knows it is ticklish business for a president to become involved in any scramble over an internal organization matter of this kind. The last president who jumped into such a situation publicly was Franklin D. Roosevelt. FDR got the late Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky named majority leader in 1937 by the margin of a single vote.

Search Goes On for Device to Stop Bombs in Planes

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. The scene is a commercial airport. At an airline check-in counter, agents weigh and ticket passengers' bags, then place them on a conveyor belt. It is a routine procedure, performed thousands of times a day.

At one point, however, away from the crowded terminal, a large, heavy-walled chamber squats over the belt.

As each piece of luggage enters the chamber, a revolving door closes around it briefly, then opens on the other side for the luggage to continue on its way to waiting trucks and to the airplane on the field.

Suddenly, a muffled explosion rocks the chamber. The chamber is scarred, its interior a mess. Repairs will be costly.

But it has done what it was built to do: Detect and explode that one suitcase or hatbox in 10 million or 100 million that contains a bomb planted by a psychopath.

COULD HAPPEN
No such scene has ever taken place, but it could, claim the designers of the bomb detector-exploder — if the idea were approved by the Federal Aviation Agency and installed at airports.

No such chamber exists, but a small model has exploded flash powder "bombs" before pilots and official observers.

The system works by using electric and magnetic waves — beamed for a fraction of a second — to burn out the wires connecting a bomb's primer cap to its batteries, thus setting off the bomb.

Although the rays have been proved harmless to luggage or its contents, including watches, radios and electric razors, they also set off flashbulbs.

15 INCIDENTS

According to the Chromalloy Corp., the manufacturer, there have been at least 15 incidents involving bombs and airliners around the world since 1949, killing 233 persons.

The FAA, however, puts the figure at 191 deaths in 17 known bombings since the first one occurred in 1933.

Whatever the true number, which can never be known, there were also — by FBI count — 700 bomb hoaxes in the less than three years between September 1957, and March 1960. One airline executive estimates the cost of each false bomb report at about $10,000.

This, says Chromalloy, is just what it would cost for one of its explosion chambers. For $40 million, it says, every baggage conveyor belt of every airline at every airport in America could be protected.

Again, the FAA has its own figure, contending that a single installation of the chamber would run to at least a quarter of a million dollars, and it has refused to underwrite the cost of a prototype chamber.

While unimpressed at present with this particular device, the FAA is interested in any idea that might reduce the possibility of aircraft sabotage. Other methods studied or under consideration include:

- Radioactive Seeding. The theory is that a Geiger counter-type instrument, scanning luggage, would detect a bomb through telltale clicks caused by radioactive particles added to the explosive at the time of its manufacture. (Later, it was believed that primer caps alone need be seeded.)

The trouble was that a serious health hazard would be presented to people making or using explosives. Also, there is about a 10 years' supply of dynamite on the shelf, and millions of primer caps are imported every year. And there would be the problem of radium-dial watches.

In any event, a determined bomber could make his own powder or caps, or simply use lead foil to shield his bomb.

- X ray or Fluoroscope. Too many innocuous objects like clocks or radios resemble bombs; it would lead to endless searching of luggage. There is a health hazard, too, in this method.

- Mechanical Dog. The FAA is currently conducting tests at the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago with mechanical sniffers that can detect trace odors of different materials. (Live dogs were once considered.)

While explosives, like anything else, have a distinctive odor, present devices can't pick out specific odors in a mixture. They would miss, for example, a bomb wrapped in salami heavily scented with garlic.

- Blowout Panels. A study is scheduled to begin next June at the agency's aviation research center in Atlantic City on the feasibility of building planes with a weak spot in one wall — in, say, the lavatory or baggage hold.

An explosion at such a weak point would choose the path of least resistance — away from the plane.

There has actually been one case of an airliner landing safely after a suicide bomber blew himself out of the lavatory.

But this was at a low altitude. The question is whether a large plane, pressurized at a high altitude, could continue to fly with a hole in its side.

Humor in N.Y. Campaign

MINEOLA, N.Y. — The congressional contest between Republican Rep. Steven B. Derounian and his Democratic opponent, Lester Wolff, has its humorous moments.

Wolff reiterates, "This Wolff is no sacrificial lamb — I'm out to win."

Derounian, speaking to a women's group in Manhasset, a Long Island community, expressed support for noncompulsory, nondenominational prayer in public schools.

"I agree with Bishop Fulton J. Sheen who said it is the right of every child to pray as much as it is the right of every mother to nurse her own child," he said.

Derounian joined the laughter that ensued when a woman cried out:

"In school?"

Road. Strait is president of the Wednesday Dancing Club which opened its 49th season last evening.

Dancing Club Dinner Opens 49th Season

The Wednesday Dancing club opened its 49th season last evening at the Forest Lake Country Club, following a cocktail hour and dinner.

The Howard H. Fitzgeralds, Judge and Mrs. Philip Pratt, Dr. and Mrs. Loren Sheffield, and the James Youngbloods were welcomed as new members.

The current officers and directors for the 1964-65 dancing season who greeted the members were Noyce W. Strait, president; Bruce J. Annett, vice president; Philip E. Rowston, secretary-treasurer; Edward P. Barrett, Mrs. James Corwin, Harold Dudley and Mrs. Henry Houson.

Local Club Hears Talk by Lawyer

Pontiac attorney John Bell addressed the Soroptimist Club of Pontiac at a recent dinner meeting in the Waldron Hotel.

His topic was "What Happens to Your Property After Your Death?"

A lively discussion followed his comments on the importance of wills, the purpose of probate, inheritance taxes and details of estate administration.

Through the Soroptimist Federation of the Americas, the local club has participated in the "Seeds for Brazil" project for the purpose of restoring forests badly affected by the fires of September last.

The annual fall benefit sale sponsored by the club for its local philanthropic projects has been set for Nov. 21, place to be announced at a later date.

U.S. Males Fashionable

Ron Postal, director of the National Council of Men's Fashions, on a business holiday in Europe for a look at continental styles, reports: "The average man in Paris is only one jump ahead of the smock and coarse shirt of his peasant forebears and by comparison most American males are in the well-dressed class."

Most Brides Not Pregnant, Clergyman Is Glad to Say

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Although I read your column regularly, I missed your letter criticizing the clergyman for asking the prospective bride if she were pregnant or not.

However, if the letters which appeared from some clergy men today are representative of the Protestant clergy, I am ashamed to be numbered among them.

Any clergyman who performs 56 marriages in one year, unless he has a congregation of 5,000 or more members, is not a clergyman, but an operator of a marriage mill, and can expect the abnormality he reports.

I am aware, of course, that some brides are pregnant. But the number of brides who are NOT pregnant is so far in the majority that a clergyman can assume that she is not.

Neither I, nor any pastor of my acquaintance, has ever felt the necessity to ask a bride routinely if she is pregnant.

Should I be the only one to uphold your right to criticize the clergyman for having asked that question, please let me know so I can update my conscience. Sincerely yours,

DEAR REVEREND D: No need to update your conscience. It is as modern as tomorrow.

Because so many more people wrote at first to say, "Shame on you," than "Good for you," I pulled in my claws.

But in the final tabulation, more readers agreed with you.

DEAR ABBY: I wonder how many women are not on speaking terms with their daughters and daughters-in-law because they had the nerve to say "No" as I did when asked to baby-sit with my grandchildren?

This generation of grandchildren is wild and uncontrollable, and it is an exhausting job to run after them.

Well, I'm too old for that sort of nonsense, and I said so.

I refuse to buy my children's affection by looking after THEIR children while they do all the things I would like to have done but couldn't because I was too busy raising THEM.

PHILADELPHIAN

DEAR ABBY: Please help me in my crusade against companies that provide their customers with a return envelope marked, "PLACE STAMP HERE" printed in the upper right-hand corner.

This has bugged me for years. I have known where to place a stamp on an envelope since I was in second grade.

BUGGED: DEAR BUGGED: It doesn't take much to bug you. "PLACE STAMP HERE" is only to remind people that a stamp is necessary.

Don't look a gift envelope in the upper right-hand corner and simmer down.

Antiques Market Helps Goodwill

By SIGNE KARLSTROM
The 17th annual - Junior Goodwill antiques market, which takes place at the Goodwill Industries Building, Brush Street and East Grand Boulevard in Detroit, opens Nov. 2 from 2 to 10 p.m. and runs through Nov. 11.

Sunday admission is $2 - other days between 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. $1. (note Wednesday the doors close at 8 p.m.)

Not only will you see outstanding displays of rare American and imported antiques shown by 48 top dealers from all over the country but treasures gathered from the homes in our metropolitan area all for sale under one roof!

LOCAL CHAIRMEN

Mrs. Robert N. Green of Turtle Lake Farm and Mrs. George H. Gotshall of Orchard Lake who are in charge of the finance department, also find time to assist in the sale of some of the choice fruits which come from the Green's Farm.

You will enjoy the early American atmosphere of the country store which will take you back to the turn of the century with its wonderful aged cheddar cheese, unlimited variety of old fashioned candies, etc.

In close proximity is the pantry shelf filled with jams, jellies, pickles and relishes, all prepared by members of Junior Goodwill. Here Mrs. Richard Allman and Mrs. George H. Souter are in charge.

FOOD SERVICE

When weary and in need of a rest there are places provided for your comfort, such as the Victorian ice cream parlor and sandwich bar. Members dressed in pink candy-stripe aprons and caps will serve you.

There is also the Copper Kettle dining room where complete luncheons and dinners will be served—all prepared and served by Junior Goodwill members. Here Mesdames Robert C. Charlton and Hugh Barber are in charge.

Mrs. Harry J. Altick of Kenesaw Road is president, Mrs. Clarence Kramer, publicity chairman, Mrs. George T. Wilde and Thomas La Rue co-chairmen for this fantastic event.

Everyone is welcome to share with the many Goodwill members an opportunity to help in their rehabilitation services and job training program which gives handicapped people in our metropolitan area a brighter future in life. There is a Goodwill store in Pontiac on East Pike Street.

chairman; Mrs. George T. Wilde, Franklin, co-chairman of the fair; and Mrs. George T. Trumbull, Bloomfield Hills, chairman of the preview party. The market operates Nov. 8 through 11.

Area Women Over UF Goals

At the Victory luncheon held Wednesday at the Elks Temple, the women's division of the Pontiac Area United Fund reported an over-the-top solicitation of 183.7 per cent of their quota, or $22,876.04, with contributions still coming in. The event was attended by some 400 campaign workers who saw over 100 receive Indian "Oscars" for having raised their assigned quotas.

As master of ceremonies, Stuart E. Whitfield, a veteran of 30 such fund-raising drives, introduced the Women's Campaign Committee Chairman, Mrs. Merrill D. Petrie, and congratulated the women on the success of their drive.

Other plaudits were made by Bruce J. Annett, 1964 general campaign chairman; Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., publicity chairman, and Donald J. Frey, United Fund director.

Also on the program were Marc Blackman of the drive's Industrial division; Jack Brannack, commercial division chairman; Janet Odell, women's editor of the Pontiac Press; Mrs. Richard Veazey, women's publicity chairman, and Mrs. Walter Noffsinger, 1962 women's campaign chairman.

VICTORY REPORTED

Highlight of the program were the reports given by chairmen of the five representative areas. • Independence Township, under Mrs. James Cowen, reported a goal met of 137 per cent, or $5,572, with additional solicitations expected. • Lake Angelus, with Mrs. Floyd Foren as chairman, reported 106 per cent for a total of $3,883. • Orion Township which was organized late in the campaign, collected 101 per cent of its residential quota and has reached 73 per cent of its business goal.

• Waterford Township, under Mrs. Adrian Ish, reported 104 per cent with over $10,590 received thus far and more contributions coming in. • Mrs. David Saks who chairmanned the Pontiac area, reported 100.5 per cent of its quota, with $10,530 collected and more monies expected.

Music for the event was provided by "The Executives," a group of Birmingham businessmen under the direction of Stuart Mackie. Sponsors were Pontiac Motor Division, Fisher Body Division and GMC Truck and Coach Division.

Don't Give In to Son---but Clarify Promise

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
BEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: When my mother died, she left me her 12-place set of Haviland china. As our son always admired it, I told him and his sister it would be his some day. He now is getting married, and has demanded it. Yet he knows we use it whenever we entertain. I cannot tell you how crushed his father and I are by the things he said when I told him we needed the dishes ourselves.

His father says I must give them to him if I told him they were his.

ANSWER: Nonsense. When you told your son that your dishes would be his "some day" you meant "when I am dead," didn't you? All right. You expressed yourself inaccurately.

You're not obliged to correct your inaccuracy by giving him the dishes but by now making your meaning clear.

Since we don't like to think of ourselves as dead, it is very easy for us to say to a child "These dishes will be yours some day" instead of saying, "These dishes will be yours when I am dead."

Because we refused to be specific, the child assumes that our "some day" means any day he himself can find use for our best china, grandma's silver or the heirloom highboy we have promised him.

We can't blame him but neither do we have to hand over possessions to him that we want to keep for ourselves.

DON'T BE SHOCKED

Try not to be shocked and hurt by your son's disinterest in your need of your dishes or by his intense interest in his own desire for them.

The nesting impulse is a very powerful one, but it is a temporary one.

As children discover that dishes other than our precious Haviland china are satisfactory, their passion for ours begins to subside — and they stop feeling abused.

But if we allow their accusations of "meanness" to scare us into giving them what we want to keep ourselves, things become and remain pretty sticky between us.

Every time we dine on our Haviland china at our son's home, he is bound to feel as "mean" to us as he accused us of being to him, and we will be resentfully reminded of the inconsiderate and painful way he extorted the china from us.

So, in your kind of spot, it is wise to refuse the child the dishes and clarify the original meaning of your inaccurate promise.

The sailor look for fall is bright red by Nannette. No-iron cotton broadcloth is used in this lively dress with its pleated skirt, pristine white rayon challis collar and cuffs. Red-braid trim on the collar and three brass buttons give the final nautical touch to this $5 creation. Lime carried locally.

Bazaar Shows Women in Pioneer Dress

Women in pioneer dress and pioneer-style booths will highlight the "Mormon Pioneer Bazaar" to be held Nov. 8 by the Relief Society women of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon).

From 1 to 8 p.m. the six Relief Society organizations will sell a variety of items at the Stake Center in Bloomfield Hills.

On sale will be toys, clothes, infant items, linens, candy, baked goods and gifts of every description.

Special events are planned for children, including a penny theater with short films. A snack bar will be open during the day and supper will be available for those who shop during the dinner hour.

Mrs. Forrest Erickson of Ferndale is acting chairman of the bazaar which is sponsored by the officers to the Stake Organization which oversees the area Relief Societies.

Garden Club Makes Plans

Mrs. Glenn Hickson opened her home on Tilmor Drive on Tuesday to members of Lorraine Manor Garden Club, a branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Plans were completed to participate in the annual Greens Market sponsored by the Waterford branch, WNF&G, Dec. 11 in the CAI building.

The Lorraine club members will attend the International Tea, Nov. 11, in the Ann Arbor home of Mrs. Harlan Hatcher.

Grease Man Disappears

"Grease Man! Grease Man!" is a street cry no American will ever again hear.

This sound was familiar back in the "olden days" when country people made soap from waste kitchen fat, but city folks sold this to the "grease wagon."

The "Grease Man," in turn, made and delivered crude yellow soap — cut from a long bar stored under the seat of his wagon.

Are Cars Your Undoing?

Getting in and out of an automobile gracefully seems almost impossible in today's low slung cars and high hemlines.

A "bottoms up" or "sprawled out position" can be a woman's undoing.

This one awkward, unflattering maneuver can spoil the picture of poise and grace which you want to paint of yourself.

By learning the correct manner and practicing it until it is the only way you know, it becomes easy and natural.

CORRECT WAY

To get into a car correctly, stand facing in the same direction that the car is pointing and as close to it as you can get.

Date Dresses for Autumn

Autumn's dance and date dresses twirl, twist, slink and sheathe.

Moonlit cottons such as lush printed or plain velveteens and velvets—sometimes quilted for textured interest—sumptuous corduroys and puffy cotton quilts are favored fabrics with the college and career set.

All contribute their richness to evening's "young princess" look.

Four Active Collegians Include Area Students

Don Carlson of Bloomfield Hills is among seniors at Indiana University named to the steering committee for the I. U. Little 500 Weekend festivities next spring.

To date, some 1,482 scholarships of $100 each have been awarded to I. U. working students. Funds were provided by this annual all-campus event.

Among highlights of the weekend are a 50-mile men's bicycle race, "Mini" tricycle race for the coeds, golf jamboree and variety show.

Don's parents are the Glen Carlsons. Ann Fisher, daughter of the Richard W. Fishers of Cherokee Road, is a new pledge of the Kappa Iota sorority at Alma College.

Two Kalamazoo College senior students from Pontiac have been named to the dean's list for the summer quarter. They are Susan Wotila, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fe-

Place the foot nearest the car on a line in front of the seat and the outside foot one step forward.

Now, lower yourself with the weight on your thigh muscles until your head is clear of the top of the automobile. Place the foot that is closest to the car inside, and "walk" in sideways.

STEADY YOURSELF

If you are getting into a small sports automobile, place the outside hand on the roof of the car to steady yourself.

To get out of the car, slide to the edge of the seat, knees together.

Place the foot that is nearer the door up on the curb or street, bending the other leg at the same time to keep your knees close.

Now step out with the other foot, and when you are clear of the automobile, lift yourself to a standing position with your thigh muscles, keeping your back straight.

A summer wedding is planned by Paula Patricia Pope, of West Huron Street and Ross E. Ostrander, son of the Marvin T. Ostrandors of Elizabeth Lake Road, White Lake Township. Both attend Midwestern Baptist College. The bride-elect's parents are the E. V. Wigleys of Marietta, Ga.

Try a Beauty Mark

By MIRIAM NEAL
Magic is the practice of trying to control events by supernatural means or of appearing to do so by the use of trickery. Substitute the word "make-up" for "trickery" and every woman in Oakland County can be bewitching.

For instance, the beauty mark is an age-old glamour technique that can give your appearance an extra touch of intrigue when grooming for special occasions.

If used properly, it can add a dramatic and fascinating effect to your entire make-up application. Because everyone who looks at you will automatically be attracted to the beauty mark, you can use it to draw attention to your most attractive feature.

EMPHASIZE EYES
To emphasize your mouth, for instance, place it approximately three-quarters of an inch from a corner in a line with your lower lip. The beauty of your eyes can be played up by placing the mark on the highest part of your cheek bone.

The most popular and simplest way to create such a mark is to draw it on with an eye pencil. Be sure you are completely made up and that your skin is powder-dry to prevent smearing.

Keep your hand steady, make a small, perfect circle about an eighth of an inch in diameter and fill in with the color.

For real subterfuge, try this new product. A perfume company has created a "bedtime" fragrance. This scent is not diluted by oil or alcohol and is created to be worn by the drop.

NEW PERFUME

It lies dormant at temperatures under 98.6 degrees.

Whatever device you pull out of the modern make-up caldron will help you leave haunting memories.

Offer Sample Fencing Lesson

Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre on West Long Lake Road will offer a sample fencing lesson with a 1964 United States Olympics coach to teenagers and adults.

Wayne State University's head fencing master, Istvan Danosi, is the instructor.

His appointment to the teaching staff of the state-authorized dramatic trade school was announced by Celia Merrill Turner, director.

Mr. Danosi, a resident of Ferndale, will instruct Saturday afternoon fencing classes at Will-O-Way. He will also coach dueling scenes in the apprentice theatre's "Cyrano de Bergerac" and Shakespearean productions.

OLYMPIC COACH

The master swordsman was one of four U. S. fencers who coached the U. S. team competing at the Tokyo Olympics and came to WSU seven years ago, a refugee of the Hungarian revolution.

Under his coaching, the Wayne Tartars developed into a national fencing power, annually ranking among the nation's top six teams.

In Hungary, Danosi coached the unbeaten Olympic teams of 1948 and 1952 and for six years, was fencing choreographer for the Hungarian National Theatre in Budapest.

Appointment for a free lesson should be made with Mrs. Turner.

For Disasters

Want Nurse Register

The Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, Disaster Nursing Committee is anxious to obtain the names and addresses of all resident registered nurses.

The purpose of this survey is to enlarge the list of all county R.N.'s whether currently registered or not. Filing your name with this committee does not obligate service, but guarantees you current information regarding the natural disaster plans concerning your local community.

The next tornado may not touch Oakland County so lightly. Now is the time to organize.

Mrs. Jean Ashby, RN, county Red Cross chairman of Disaster Nursing Service, urges all nurses to send her their name, address and telephone number. Her address is 8213 North Elder, Orchard Lake, Mich. 48034.

Veteran Politicians on Comeback Trail

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of veteran politicians are on the comeback trail trying to cancel out past defeats and frustrations with fresh new achievements this election year.

At least two governors and seven House members are hoping to move back into their old offices. Several had left to try for higher posts only to be rejected by the voters.

Not all candidates riding the comeback trail were victims of past disappointments. Some are moving back into public life after temporary retirement, hoping to rekindle the voter support that originally thrust their names in the head lines.

In West Virginia, Republican Cecil H. Underwood broke a long Democratic winning streak in the State House by capturing the governorship in 1956. But four years later, he failed in an attempt to unseat Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va.

Underwood now is trying to win back the governor's chair in a race with Democrat Hulett C. Smith.

REFUSES TO CONCEDE

Another Republican ex-Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts is refusing to concede that a 1962 defeat by Gov. Endicott Peabody was the end of his political career.

Volpe is right back seeking the same office against Democratic Lt. Gov. Francis X. Bellotti.

The Senate increasingly is getting a reputation as the place where old governors yearn to go. Two of them — Democratic Gov. Elbert N. Carvel of Delaware and Republican Gov. Paul J. Fannin of Arizona — have their hopes pointed in that direction.

Two former officials of the Eisenhower administration also are trying to get back in public life by winning Senate seats.

HOPE TO UNSEAT

Cooper P. Benedict, deputy defense secretary in the last GOP administration, is trying to dislodge Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., one of ex-President Dwight D. Eisenhower's White House aides — Bernard M. Shanley — is trying to do the same to Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J.

Republican Lt. Gov. Paul Laxalt of Nevada is marching in the same parade. He is the GOP candidate for the Senate against Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev.

But one man — Rep. William H. Avery, R-Kan. — is bucking this trend from the state to the congressional branch. Avery is giving up his House seat this year to run for governor in Kansas.

The congressional comeback club has seven members this year — suggesting that it isn't easy to shake Poloma Fever.

HEADING LIST

Heading the list are former Reps. Sidney R. Yates, D-Ill., and David S. King, D-Utah.

Yates was in Congress for 12 years before he left the House two years ago in an unsuccessful bid for the Senate. He wants to come back to his old seat.

King gave up nine years of House seniority in 1962 and also lost out in a try for the Senate.

Two Republicans — former Reps. Emmet F. Byrne of Illinois and Glenn R. Davis of Wisconsin — also are on the list of those who yearn to be called congressman again.

Byrne was elected to Congress in 1956 but was beaten in his reelection bid. Davis served in the House for nine years before he left in 1956 to run for the Senate.

Other ex-congressmen trying to return to their old seats are Democrats Donald J. Irwin of Connecticut, who served in 1958-60; Walter H. Moeller of Ohio, a House member in 1958-62; and Robert W. Levering of Ohio, elected in 1958 and defeated in 1962.

Farmer Has Problem(?)

Water Bad, Too Much Oil

CORNELL, Ill. (UPI) — Gerald Lyons wanted water for his pigs. Instead of water, the well-drilling company he hired struck oil. The discovery has generated a storm of excitement in this rural area of north-central Illinois, but Lyons still has water on his mind. "I'm a hog farmer in need of water," he says.

But he plans to do something about the oil after he finishes fall plowing this weekend.

"I'm going to talk to some oil promoters," he said today in an interview.

Lyons, 37, who lives on an 80-acre farm with his wife and three children, was harvesting beans when he was informed that the drillers had struck a mixture of oil and water at 117 feet.

KEPT WORKING

"I just kept working," he said.

Another shaft was drilled, with the same results at 147 feet.

The drillers pumped the first well for five days, hoping the oil would disappear. Instead, it got thicker.

A geologist from the University of Illinois who analyzed the crude oil said he was surprised at its high grade and the fact that it was found at such shallow depths.

Lyons said he doesn't know how much oil is under his land or what it's worth.

But aren't you anxious to find out?" he was asked.

"They tell me it's been there for a billion years and it's not going to go away," he replied.

Still, life has not been the same for the Lyons family since the news leaked out.

HUNDREDS VISIT

"Hundreds and hundreds of people have been here," he remarked. "It's just incredible."

The visitors are sightseers from near and far, townspeople, neighbors and oilmen with deals.

"I'm getting offers every day," said Lyons.

Lyons said that he plans to contract with an oil company and drill further, but he isn't interested in becoming an oilman.

LOVES FARMING

"Farming is my love," he said. "I've done it most of my life."

Lyons said he and his family are trying to keep their equilibrium through all the commotion.

"I still don't think I'm a wealthy man," he said.

'Old' Missile Still Fires OK

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (UPI) — The Navy has demonstrated that its Polaris missile can perform flawlessly after months in a steel launching cocoon aboard a patrolling nuclear submarine, informed sources report.

The sources report that a sub which had been on underwater station for perhaps as long as three years successfully fired one of its undersea weapons Wednesday from beneath the surface of the Atlantic ocean far offshore. The Polaris, reportedly an early A1 model, had been aboard the craft since it went on station.

A Navy spokesman declined to confirm the secrecy-shrouded firing.

The submarine reportedly was one of the earlier vessels which went on patrol in late 1960 with the Polaris A1 model. These craft are being brought off patrol for modifications to accommodate the longer-range A3 model. The George Washington is the first scheduled for an overhaul.

U.S. Supports British Opposition on Southern Rhodesia's White Government Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has supported the British government's opposition to a move toward independence by Southern Rhodesia's white government.

A statement issued Wednesday by the State Department warned Rhodesians of "serious consequences which would befall all Rhodesia should their government continue to follow its present course," at the situation.

Earlier this week, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson told Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith that a unilateral declaration of independence would mean Rhodesia's expulsion from the British Commonwealth.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has named Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, as head of the U.S. delegation for the

Nov. 3 inauguration of President Eduardo Frei Montalva of Chile. Announcing Stevenson's appointment Wednesday, the White House named as other delegation members:

J. John Jova, ranking official in the U.S. Embassy in Santiago;

the late Chilean poetess Gabriela Mistral;

Dr. James A. Perkins, president of Cornell University; Stuart T. Saunders, chairman of the board of the Pennsylvania Railroad; and WASHINGTON (AP) — Appropriate replies are being prepared for Cambodia's diplomatic protests over its border incidents with South Viet Nam, according to a State Department spokesman.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey emphasized Wednesday that the United States is "not contemplating any military responses."

The incidents occurred when Vietnamese forces supported by U.S. aircraft and ground forces aided by U.S. military advisers pursued Communist Viet Cong guerrillas to the Cambodian border.

"Our people in Saigon are in close consultation with the government of South Viet Nam with a view to preparing appropriate responses based on the facts," McCloskey said.

The Cambodians accused the South Vietnamese and Americans of aggression across the border. American officials in Saigon, conceded that an unnamed U.S. transport plane, downed with a loss of eight American lives, had inadvertently crossed. The plane came down in South Viet Nam.

U.S. Jury Indicts 25 in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A federal grand jury charged 25 persons Wednesday with violating federal gambling and tax laws in what authorities said was the outgrowth of a raid on numbers ring in metropolitan Detroit.

The 25, including Arthur Caplan of Oak Park who has been identified before a Senate committee as a Mafia associate were to be arraigned in U.S. District Court today.

The six-count indictment charged that the persons conspired to evade and defeat payment of the 10 per cent federal excise tax on wagers and willfully failed to purchase a federal wagering stamp.

An incomplete file of records seized in an April 21 raid on 16 locations disclosed that $748,818 in wagers were accepted by this numbers ring during the first four months this year, said U. S. Attorney Lawrence Gubow.

Caplan, 57, was described as a Mafia associate by former Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards in testimony before a Senate investigating committee. Gubow said.

Among those indicted was Harrison (Chink) Brown, 35, of Detroit, who is awaiting trial in Recorder's Criminal Court on a charge of attempting to bribe a police officer, Gubow said.

Humphrey Calls for Rejection of 'Loud Mouths'

By JOSEPH E. MOHRBAT
NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey pays a final campaign call on Manhattan today, saying Americans will repudiate "loud mouthed anti-Communists who would risk nuclear annihilation."

Humphrey slated a two-hour vote drive in the city's garment district, long a favorite vote-hunting ground.

states that voted Republican four years ago. If his schedule holds firm, Humphrey will not return to Washington until after Election Day.

Humphrey, in remarks prepared for the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, scored those he described as "prophets of defeat heaping the cracked drum of disunity, saying that Americans were sick and tired, bitter and frustrated, attacking our political leaders as traitors, fascists, crooks, liars and fools."

He said the Cuban missile crisis of October 1962 "made it clear that the American people want leaders who share their quiet courage, who combine commitment and readiness to act firmly with prudence and patience. They do not want jingoes, loud mouthed anti-Communists who would risk nuclear annihilation because they lack the bravery of responsible action."

The Republican party, he said, "seems to think that the options we face are sudden death, or long-run strangulation at the hands of powerful, all-knowing Communists.

"I see the picture entirely differently: I see communism in deep trouble everywhere. I see the communist empire degenerating and fragmenting before our eyes."

Humphrey did not refer to Sen. Barry Goldwater or the Republican party by name in his prepared text. He was more specific Wednesday night, however, at a rally where he denounced the "puny little minds and dirty little souls" he said have been waging character attacks on President Johnson.

PIRATES BOARD

Speaking in Falls Church, Va., a Washington suburb, he said "the Republican ship was boarded by the pirates at San Francisco" when Goldwater became the party's presidential nominee.

"Name any piece of constructive legislation that passed the 87th or the 88th Congresses, and you can bet your life that the senator from Arizona voted no, no!" Humphrey shouted.

"By its refusal to condemn the lunatic fringe of American politics, the Goldwater party audience of 400 engineers at a technical meeting of the Society of Engineering Science Nov. 24. Teller will discuss 'The politics of hate,' he charged. "And it makes no difference for."

whether they're Communists or Birchites — they hate America, and all it stands for.

Nuclear Expert to Talk

EAST LANSING (AP) — Nuclear scientist Dr. Edward Teller will address an anticipated audience of 400 engineers at a technical meeting of the Society of Engineering Science Nov. 24. Teller will discuss "The Education of the Modern Inventor."

HAROLD H. BURTON

Retired Justice Dies at Age 76

High Court Judge Ill for Several Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Supreme Court Justice Harold H. Burton is dead at 76. He died at George Washington University Hospital Wednesday from a combination of illnesses. Failing health had forced him to retire from the Supreme Court six years ago.

Burton, while serving as a Republican senator from Ohio, was appointed to the court in 1945 by Democratic President Harry S. Truman. They had been close friends when Truman was a senator from Missouri.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, when informed of Burton's death, issued a statement saying:

HIGH ESTEEM

"I am sure that in its long history no justice on the court has been held in higher esteem by his colleagues. His opinions written for the court will be a lasting memorial to him, and will long be studied as a part of the development of American jurisprudence."

In one of his most significant opinions, Burton issued the ruling that outlawed racial segregation on railroad dining cars. It was the first in a line of major rulings by the Supreme Court on civil rights.

Burton began his political career as an Ohio state legislator in 1928 and became mayor of Cleveland in 1935, running as an independent Republican opposed to the regular party leaders. In 1940, he had to back the Republican state organization to win the nomination for senator. He then won the election.

He was near the end of his first term as senator when Truman appointed him to the Supreme Court. Truman broke precedent by attending the court session in which Burton was sworn in. The president said he wanted to pay tribute to a long-time personal friend.

Two memorial services will be held for Burton, the first at All Souls Unitarian church in Washington, the second at the First Unitarian church in Cleveland.

Times for the services have not been announced. Biographical Sketch No. 2271 released.

State Police Hit Leniency to Car Thieves

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A Michigan police official attacked "the soft philosophy of some of our courts toward the car thief" Wednesday as a major factor in increasing auto thefts.

"Considering the offense too lightly is often an invitation to repetition," Police Commissioner Marvin G. Lane of Warren, Mich., said.

"For the life of me, I cannot understand the apathy or the indifference or the molly-coddling attitude of the public toward car thieves, particularly juvenile car thieves," Lane told a workshop of the conference of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

PUBLIC HELP
Lane called on police departments to enlist public cooperation in making it plain that car thefts are crimes, that they will be punished, as crimes, and that once a young man obtains a criminal record, even though it may result from what he thinks is merely an adolescent prank, he could be severely handicapped in his later life.

Crash Kills 2 U.S. Pilots on Viet Training Flight

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Air Force pilots were killed today in the crash of their A1E Skyraider on a training mission 12 miles northeast of Saigon, a U.S. military spokesman said.

The deaths brought to 95 the total number of Americans killed in South Viet Nam in non-combat accidents since December 1961, the spokesman said. A total of 214 have died in combat.

Double Delight to Fans

Liz Montgomery 'Bewitching' Audience?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie, Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — The movie crowd, being a sentimental sort, always draws special cheer from the sight of a second-generation performer who achieves success. That's why there is double delight in the achievement of Elizabeth Montgomery.

The town also likes a hit, and it seems certain that Miss Montgomery's television vehicle, "Bewitched," is a runaway success of the new season.

For Liz Montgomery "Bewitched" could be a particular triumph, since she got it with no reliance on her famous father. He is Robert Montgomery, the suave star of films in the '30s and '40s, later television producer of his own series and for President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

DOESN'T BROOD

Liz is not one to brood over her lot as scion of a star. "Sure, people are always mentioning that I'm Robert Montgomery's daughter," she remarked. "Why should that bother me? I'm proud of the fact."

"It helped me a great deal when I was getting started in acting. "But after that initial advantage — then it's entirely up to you. You have to prove yourself, or else."

The tilt-nosed blonde has been following her father's profession for 10 years with varying degrees of success. She appeared in 250 live television plays. She played on Broadway in "Late Love" and in a Gary Cooper film, "The Court-Martial of Billy Mitchell."

In recent times she has won

Astronaut Grissom Says New Titan is Safest Yet

BALTIMORE (AP) — Astronaut Virgil I. Grissom says the Titan rocket scheduled to launch him and his partner on a three-orbit flight around the earth about next February is the safest space-boosting yet produced.

Grissom told reporters Wednesday that he is far more confident of the GT3 vehicle — so called because it is the third — cleaner than any flown to date — the Redstone, the Atlas, or any previous Titan.

SECOND FLIGHT

It was a Redstone rocket that boosted Grissom on a Project Mercury suborbital mission to an altitude of 116 miles and a range of 254 miles July 21, 1961, as the second U.S. astronaut to make a ballistic flight.

Later, Atlas rockets launched three Mercury astronauts into separate orbital flights.

Grissom, 38, an Air Force major, and Navy Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young, 34, are scheduled to be the first U.S. two-man team to attempt orbital flight.

Also on hand for the GT3 rollout inspection were Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra, 41, and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford, 34, the backup team.

PERFECT SHOT

The first Gemini-Titan rocket, GT1, performed perfectly last April 8 in placing an unmanned production model of the Gemini spacecraft in orbit.

The second vehicle, GT2, is at Cape Kennedy Flt. in readiness for a suborbital Gemini test launch next month.

Jury Indicts Land Sellers

DETROIT (AP) — An indictment charging conspiracy and use of the mails to defraud was returned by a federal grand jury here Wednesday against the Great Southwest Development Co. Inc., its president, Louis H. Dalrymple, 43, of Albuquerque, N. M., and its chief salesman, Jack M. Stork, 27, of Des Plaines, Ill.

Each of 20 counts carries a possible maximum penalty of a year's imprisonment and a $5,000 fine.

The government charges that the firm set up booths in builders' shows across the country, including one in Detroit in 1962, and got at least 21 persons here to register for "free" lots in New Mexico.

Registrants later were notified, the government claims, that they had "won" a lot — theirs for the payment of $49.30 in "expenses."

"UNIMPROVED" U. S. Attorney Lawrence Gubow said the land was unimproved, except for rough roads cut out by a builder, that there were no sewers or other utilities and that water was practically unavailable. He added that local assessors valued the land at $2 an acre.

Big Ten Leaders Face Rugged Assignments

League Race Could Tighten on Saturday

Michigan State Unit of Wisconsin; U-M Meets Northwestern

By The Associated Press
Ohio State and Purdue will put their unblemished Big Ten football records on the line in Saturday's feature conference games.

OSU, the nation's top-rated team, faces Iowa (1-2). Purdue is at home against rugged Illinois (2-1).

Michigan (2-1) plays host to Northwestern (1-3), Michigan State (1-3) is at Wisconsin (1-3) and Minnesota (1-2) is at Indiana (1-3) in the other league games.

TIE POSSIBLE
There's an outside chance that four teams could be tied for the lead come Saturday night.

It would take an Iowa victory over Ohio State and triumphs by Illinois and Michigan to turn the trick.

Ohio State, which has allowed three conference opponents just 12 points in all its games, will be playing its second, and last, game of the season away from its home field.

Purdue, back home for the first time in three weeks, will be trying to snap a two-game win streak by Illinois in the series.

Illinois won, 41-21, last season on its way to the championship. Purdue, which has never gone to the Rose Bowl, will have to keep winning to keep its chances alive. But it will be no easy task for the Boilermakers who meet MSU, Minnesota and Indiana after the encounter with Illinois.

U-M HEALTHY
Michigan, still in the title picture, is expected to be in top shape except for sophomore guard Bob Mielke who may be forced to limit his play because of an injured ankle.

MSU, which last week held Northwestern to a minus 10 yards on the ground, will be seeking its third straight victory over Wisconsin.

Three injured Spartans who did not play against Northwestern are expected to be ready for limited action. They are defensive center Buddy Owens, offensive halfback Harry Ammon and linebacker Ron Govert.

Wisconsin's outstanding line-backer Bob Richter will be out of action. Richter, a sophomore, suffered a dislocated elbow two weeks ago. Team doctors said Wednesday he is not in shape to face the Spartans.

Two other defensive regulars, Ron Fain and Tom Brigham, are also out with injuries. Coach Milt Bruhn has shifted the lineup to compensate for the three missing players.

Northwestern has worked out junior quarterback Dave Milan on pass and place-kicking plays this week. He is to show the quarterbacking chores with Tom Myers against Michigan Saturday.

CMU Players Earn Awards

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Central Michigan University players gained back and line-man of the week honors in the Interstate Conference (IAC) this week.

James Gent, CMU fullback until two weeks ago, directed the team as a quarterback and hit six of nine passes for 54 yards and one touchdown, caught another pass for a score and intercepted two passes in a 12-0 victory over Illinois State.

Middle guard Ken Rickel was named the top lineman for his two-way play. He made 15 unassisted tackles while playing defense.

Will Pontiac Support Team?

Money Problems Face UFL Backers

By FLETCHER SPEARS
Putting a football team in the United Football League would cost a lot of money. And it would cost a lot more to keep it there. Gaining a UFL franchise and putting a well-equipped team on the field is an operation in the $100,000 class. The $100,000 price tag was put on the pro football package by UFL commissioner George T. Gareff at a meeting with members of the Pontiac Professional Football Club last March.

Gareff wanted the local club to put a team in the NFL this fall. Battling a deadline for entry in the league, the group succeeded in gaining more than $40,000 in pledges.

RISKY VENTURE
Since the local businessmen were new at the pro football management game, they decided it was risky and proceeded with plans to test the city's gridiron atmosphere to see if it is rich enough to keep a team alive.

The test will come Saturday, Nov. 7, when the Macomb County Arrows take on the Dayton Colts in an 8 p.m. game at Wisner Stadium. The teams are members of the Midwestern Football League.

"Paul Parks, local sports promoter and chairman of the Pontiac Professional Football Club, said the game is being staged to get some idea of the Pontiac fans' response to pay-for-play gridgers.

A decision on Pontiac's future in the UFL is expected to come at a meeting scheduled for 12 noon Nov. 10 at the Elks Temple on Orchard Lake Avenue.

Parks informed Gareff of the Nov. 10 meeting yesterday, and the commissioner said he would try to attend.

If the decision at the Nov. 10 meeting is favorable, the group will proceed to sell stock and acquire a franchise.

The franchise will cost $75,000. With that in the bag, the club would start the search for a team and equipment.

The nucleus of a team could be available in the Macomb County Arrows, a squad owned and managed by Lyle Wells of Mount-Clemens.

Local supporters are confident they can come up with enough money to equip a team and put it on the field.

LOCAL SUPPORT
The one question they are asking is: Will Pontiac fans support a pro team? Would the support be enough to cover player and management salaries, transportation, replace equipment, pay stadium rental fees, etc?

Pontiac is sitting in the midst of a football hotbed, as evidenced by the popularity of the state college squads and the success of the Detroit Lions.

The assumption that follows is, of course: Yes, the city would support a team.

There are eight teams in the UFL: Canton and Toledo, Ohio; Wheeling and Charleston, W. Va.; Joliet, Ill.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Quebec, Quebec; and Grand Rapids, Mich.

There are 320,969 persons living in Pontiac's retail and trading area, a figure that exceeds that of Wheeling, Joliet and Charleston.

Cities with less population have prospered in the pro football world. Green Bay is the prime example. With 62,888 in the city and a total of 211,737 in the trading area, the Packers find enough to fill the stadium every Sunday at home.

TOMORROW: TIE-IN WITH LIONS

Garrett, Ind. UP — Coach Ward Smith of Garrett High School takes literally his job of building athletes. Smith took a pair of towering basketball prospects, whose weight difference once was 105 pounds, and developed them into powerhouses.

Two years ago, Charles Davis, at 14, stood 6-foot-6 but weighed 225 pounds. He had played some basketball in junior high school but was only mildly interested. He couldn't run.

Smith, instead of dismissing the teen-ager as useful only as a football tackle and putting the shot, sold Davis and his parents on a program of diet and weights.

Davis, now a junior just turned 16, weighs 210 pounds, is 6-11 and still growing.

The molding of James Heitz was an entirely different matter.

Heitz had played no basketball before entering Garrett, was 6-5 and a skinny 150 pounds. When Smith applied a diet and weights, producing a 6-10, 200-pound senior for this season.

Each started on the reserve team last year, but before long Smith was using them on the varsity, although seldom together. The team dropped four of its first five games and then won 20 of the next 22.

If Garrett meets a team that tries to outman the giants with a full court press, Smith has a formula he calls the "Anti-press Missile" — 5-3 Tony Foor, a close-to-the-floor dribbling streak.

Rumble at U. of D.

Alumni Seek Idzik Ouster

Loss Facing Titans Against Miami, Fla.

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

With their 5th loss of the season facing them Friday night when the U. of D. Titans face Miami of Florida in Detroit, rumbles have been reported among the school's alumni for the ouster of head coach John Idzik.

The movement to relieve Idzik of his head coaching job has now held for three years was reported growing. Recently a meeting of several top members of the U. of D. Alumni Association and the Gus Dorais Foundation met in a closed session at a country club in Oakland County.

Those in attendance at the meeting had made a telephone contact with other prominent alumni and one member said "another meeting was planned for the very near future."

The Gus Dorais Foundation is made up of school alumni, Detroit businessmen and former varsity athletes, and each year they pledge thousands of dollars to the U. of D. scholarship fund, primarily intended toward football and basketball.

Idzik, a former University of Maryland football player, was assistant coach to Jim Miller from 1959 and after the 1961 season he was elevated to head coach when Miller went to Boston College.

In his first two years, the Titans won three, lost 14 and tied one. This year their record stands 2-4, having beaten Toledo and Dayton and losing to Kentucky, Cincinnati, Villanova and Wichita.

AFTER MSU AIDE
The spokesman also commented that the move to move Idzik is not a move to move Idzik among alumni is get Dan Boistrup, former Titan player who is assistant coach at Michigan State, as head coach at U. of D.

Other names have also been mentioned including that of Ron Horwath, another alumnus who is now head coach at Northville High School.

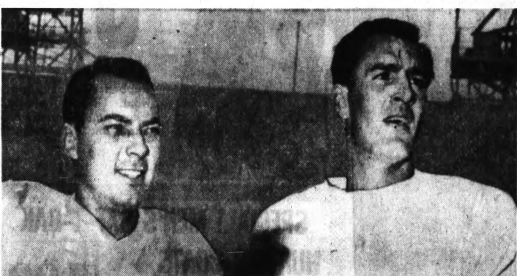

Athletic director Bob Callahan at U. of D. said, "I know nothing of such movements. These things always happen when a team is losing and it's not fair to the coach that they should come up during the season."

Best-Ball Tournney on Sunday Schedule
Hey gals! The season isn't over.

If the weatherman cooperates, an 18-hole best-ball tournament will be held Sunday at Pontiac Country Club.

Entry fee is $10 a team. Constantinians may register at the clubhouse. Tee off is 10 a.m.

If weather hails play, the tourney will be held the following Sunday.

THIS IS HOME — Home for Sonny Gibbs, former TCU All-American, is now Tiger Stadium and Detroit Lions' quarterback Milt Plum welcomes him new understudy to the team. Gibbs, who was the No. 1 choice of the Dallas Cowboys, has been with Toledo in the Pontiac Professional Football League and he was obtained by the Lions Wednesday after the NFL made a change in the player rule to make it possible.

Commissioner of UFL Raps TV Plans

CLEVELAND (AP) — The commissioner of the eight-team United Football League said Wednesday he will seek a Federal Court injunction if the Columbia Broadcasting System telecasts to the East Coast a second National Football League game Nov. 8.

The network has previously announced plans for a West Coast NFL game to be televised following games in the East. The West Coast game will be seen only in those cities where home teams are playing away games.

George T. Gareff, UFL commissioner, said he has filed a complaint with the monopoly division of the U.S. Justice Department and will seek a Federal Court injunction if the complaint is not acted upon.

Gareff said the "piggybacking," or televising of the second game, could conceivably ruin the UFL and put it out of business.

We believe that piggybacking games in this fashion is an attempt to dominate the sport and provide CBS with an unfair advantage to the detriment of those who are trying to promote professional football on a high plane," Gareff said.

The UFL has teams in Indianapolis, Grand Rapids, Mich., Canton and Toledo, Ohio, Wheeling and Charleston, W. Va., Joliet, Ill., and Quebec, Canada.

Barons Soccer Team Rolls By GPUS, 6-1

Bloomfield Hills soccer team remained undefeated after coming from behind to down Grose Pointe University School yesterday, 6-1.

GPUS moved from front early in the contest, 1-0, but the Barons stormed back to break the game open. Kirk Salvay led the Hills attack with a pair of goals.

The win brought the Barons' season record to 3-0-3.

By The Associated Press
A year ago last June the New York Rangers and Montreal Canadiens swapped goalies in a major National Hockey League trade with Gump Worsley moving to Montreal and Jacques Plante coming to New York.

In the rapid-fire world of the NHL, it figures that at the time of the stars of Wednesday's two games were the Canadian and Ranger goalies, they weren't Worsley and Plante.

Gump and Jacques labor these days in the American League, their jobs taken by Charlie Hodge and Marcel Paille. And anybody who saw the Canadiens whip Toronto 5-2 or New York take Boston 3-1 Wednesday night can tell you why.

Hodge took over for Worsley after eight games last season when the Gump got hurt and went on to win the league's Vezina Trophy as the top NHL netminder.

He was reported in danger of losing the job back to Worsley in training this year but has come on strong, allowing just 11 goals in six games for the undefeated Habs.

GETS JOB
Paille got the Ranger job three days before the season opened when Plante was sent to Baltimore to work an ailing knee back in shape. He seems intent on staying.

"This is the place to play," Paille said, mopping himself off after beating the Bruins. Marcel, who's played parts of six other seasons in New York, figures he's getting his best chance ever to stick this time.

"Whenever they called me up in an emergency before, I tried to win the No. 1 job and a couple of times I stuck around for longer than they thought I would. This time I hope I can go all the way," he said.

Ranger Coach Red Sullivan, who was fined $50 by NHL President Clarence Campbell before the game for an altercation during last Sunday's game against Chicago, says the job is Paille's as long as he can do it.

Rookie Claude Larose scored twice as the Canadiens stretched their unbeaten streak to six and handed the Leafs their first loss. Larose's first goal came at 16:32 of the second period, just 28 seconds after Ron Ellis had tied it for the Leafs.

WEEK'S TOP BACK — Senior quarterback Craig Fertig of University of Southern California had quite a day in his team's win over California last week. He completed 21 passes, good for 371 yards and four touchdowns. Associated Press liked the performance and named him "Back of the Week."

CELTS CLOSE GAP AS HAWKS LOSE BRIDGES

By The Associated Press
Harry (The Horse) Gallatin was a rugged, almost indestructible iron man when he played with the New York Knicks and the Detroit Pistons.

But Gallatin apparently has turned soft as coach of the St. Louis Hawks. His ears are sensitive.

Gallatin yanked Bill Bridges out of the game in the third period of the Hawks' 119-117 loss to unbeaten Boston Wednesday night and wound up fining him $100 for using vulgar language.

"Bill gave me some lip service when I decided to take him out," Gallatin said. "This won't affect his status as a starter, but there's no room on the club for a player challenging my judgment."

Bridges finished the night in the dressing room. His evening performance got him the $100 fine and two points.

While the Celtics were running their winning streak to six, the Los Angeles Lakers whipped Baltimore 112-102 in the only other game scheduled in the National Basketball Association.

The Hawks seemed to have the Celtics on the ropes in the fourth quarter when they built their lead to 16 points, 102-86.

But the Celtics struck back and tied the score 111-111 when Larry Siegfried hit for three points with four minutes left and moved ahead with 1:17 to go on a basket by Sam Jones. Three field goals by Tom Heinsohn, clinched it.

Jones was high man for the Celtics with 27 points. Zelmo Beaty scored 30 for the Hawks.

Los Angeles broke up a close game with Baltimore with eight straight points late in the fourth period. Three consecutive field goals by Jerry West sparked the scoring spree.

West's 32 points topped the Lakers, who boosted their hold on first place in the Western Division with a 4-1 record. Walt Bellamy, who fouled out in the final quarter, was high for Baltimore with 24.

Cowboys' Meredith Honored for Play

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Meredith, the Dallas Cowboy quarterback who has been handicapped by injuries all season, finally shook off his aches and pains in the St. Louis game Sunday with a performance that knocked the Cardinals out of a first place tie.

On the strength of his fine job on the Cardinals, who were heavily favored, Meredith earned recognition as The Associated Press' Player of the Week in the National Football League.

The 26-year-old former Southern Methodist passer who has been trying to make it big for five years completed 12 of 19 passes for 160 yards and one touchdown in an upset 31-13 Dallas victory at St. Louis.

WEEK'S TOP BACK — Senior quarterback Craig Fertig of University of Southern California had quite a day in his team's win over California last week. He completed 21 passes, good for 371 yards and four touchdowns. Associated Press liked the performance and named him "Back of the Week."

Harry (The Horse) Gallatin was a rugged, almost indestructible iron man when he played with the New York Knicks and the Detroit Pistons.

But Gallatin apparently has turned soft as coach of the St. Louis Hawks. His ears are sensitive.

Gallatin yanked Bill Bridges out of the game in the third period of the Hawks' 119-117 loss to unbeaten Boston Wednesday night and wound up fining him $100 for using vulgar language.

"Bill gave me some lip service when I decided to take him out," Gallatin said. "This won't affect his status as a starter, but there's no room on the club for a player challenging my judgment."

Bridges finished the night in the dressing room. His evening performance got him the $100 fine and two points.

While the Celtics were running their winning streak to six, the Los Angeles Lakers whipped Baltimore 112-102 in the only other game scheduled in the National Basketball Association.

The Hawks seemed to have the Celtics on the ropes in the fourth quarter when they built their lead to 16 points, 102-86.

But the Celtics struck back and tied the score 111-111 when Larry Siegfried hit for three points with four minutes left and moved ahead with 1:17 to go on a basket by Sam Jones. Three field goals by Tom Heinsohn, clinched it.

Jones was high man for the Celtics with 27 points. Zelmo Beaty scored 30 for the Hawks.

Los Angeles broke up a close game with Baltimore with eight straight points late in the fourth period. Three consecutive field goals by Jerry West sparked the scoring spree.

West's 32 points topped the Lakers, who boosted their hold on first place in the Western Division with a 4-1 record. Walt Bellamy, who fouled out in the final quarter, was high for Baltimore with 24.

Chrysler Raps New NASCAR Rules; Threatens to Withdraw

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. informed the National Association of Stock Car Automobile Racing (NASCAR) today that unless it modifies or suspends for 12 months newly published rules for the 1965 season Chrysler will withdraw from NASCAR sanctioned events.

Chrysler and Ford Motor Co. were major competitors in 1964 NASCAR events. General Motors Corp. and American Motors Corp. do not compete as companies in any form of racing.

Chrysler's notice, was via letter from Ronney Householder, its director of competitive products, to NASCAR President Bill France at Daytona Beach, Fla. It was made available to newsmen here.

RULE CHANGE

Chrysler said NASCAR proposed to make effective Jan. 1 a rule which would raise minimum wheelbase lengths from 116 to 119 inches. It said a new rule requiring production design engines would eliminate Chrysler's 426-cubic-inch HEMI engine and Ford's high-rise engine.

The company said the effect of the new rules "will be to arbitrarily eliminate from NASCAR competition the finest performance cars on the 1964 circuit, including the car of the grand national champion" (Richard Petty).

"Under these new rules," Householder continued, "the equipment running on NASCAR tracks in 1965 will be inferior to the best the automotive industry can produce for this purpose."

Householder contended NASCAR should have given more notice of intention to change rules.

"The standard practice of all competitive sanctioning bodies is to make major rule changes after thorough discussion with owners, drivers, track owners and equipment manufacturers, and to provide a minimum of one full year's notice prior to adoption," he said.

"The new NASCAR rules for the 1965 season as announced Oct. 19 do not permit an orderly development and testing program for replacement of equipment already programmed. The new rules interrupt the continuity of engineering cars for safety and performance and they are not consistent with racing's tradition of bringing the best and newest engineering equipment to the race track."

TO WITHDRAW
Unless there is modification or suspension, Chrysler said "we have no alternative but to withdraw from NASCAR sanctioned events and concentrate our efforts in USAC, IMCA, AHRA, NHRA, SCCA and other sanctioned events in 1965."

USAC is United States Automobile Club, IMCA, International Motor Car Association, AHRA, American Hot Rod Association, NHRA, National Hot Rod Association, and SCCA, Sports Car Club of America.

In Daytona Beach, France said:

"The 1965 NASCAR specifications were designed to provide fair competition among all 1965 American standard-sized production automobiles."

"If the Chrysler Corp. feels that its standard 426-cubic-inch automobiles are not competitive with comparable size cars of other American manufacturers, then I would be the last to criticize Chrysler for its withdrawal from NASCAR racing."

"NASCAR's major aim through the years has been to match American automobiles of like performance capability in races of speed and endurance.

"The 1965 NASCAR specifications were drawn but for one purpose: To bring together as far as possible cars with similar engine size, length, width and weight. No manufacturer is favored, none penalized."

Earlier, Leo C. Beebe of Detroit, a Ford Motor Co. spokesman, said of the new NASCAR specification: "Congratulations to NASCAR for its efforts to speed progress in development of improved stock components. We believe that automobiles in stock car events should be as representative as possible of regular production models."

Petty Setting Racing Sights on $100,000

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Richard Petty, who already has clinched the NASCAR Grand National stock car racing championship this year, has another goal now — to reach the $100,000 mark for one racing season.

The Randleman, N. C., driver, who has won $98,160 in 59 starts this season, hopes to build his chances to reach the $100,000 goal with a victory in the Jaycee 300 at Augusta International Speedway's new high-banked, half-mile asphalt track Sunday.

He could take home as much as $1,700 from Augusta, by leading the qualifying on Saturday and winning the Sunday race. Only one other race remains on the schedule, a 100-mile on Nov. 8 at Jacksonville, N. C., which offers a $1,000 first prize.

Petty must win at Augusta to have a mathematical chance at reaching his goal.

Seven of the top 10 drivers in the national standings are entered in the $10,300 Jaycee 300, a 300-lap, 150-mile event. Practice runs are scheduled from 9 a. m. to noon Saturday, with qualifying trials from 1 to 4:30 p. m. Saturday.

Gridiron Title Hopes Brighten for Milford, Rochester Units

Senior Golfers
in 2nd Round

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Bud Williamson, the keen shooting pro golfer from Lincoln, Neb., went into the second round of the $35,000 National Senior Open Golf Tournament today with a leading five-under-par 67 after the first 18 holes on the Washee County course.

Three-time National Senior champ, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Ellenville, Mo., and John Barnum of Belmont, Mich. are tied for second place at 68.

San Francisco's Bud Shank carded the best score in the amateur division with a gross score of 68. His four stroke handicap gives him the overall scoring lead with a net of 64.

Pontiac Press Photo

Joe Caldwell Inks
Pact With Pistons

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Pistons announced Wednesday that Joe Caldwell, their No. 1 draft choice, has signed for the 1964-65 National Basketball Association season.

The 6-foot-8 Caldwell recently returned from Tokyo where he was the second highest scorer on the U.S. Olympic team which won the gold medal.

While at Arizona State, Caldwell set a career scoring mark with 1,518 points.

Pistons' officials expect Caldwell to make his NBA debut against the league-leading Boston Celtics in Detroit Friday.

Vikings Drop
2nd Dual Run

Willard Lake's Mark Karell, Don Colpitts and George Cist finished three-four-five yesterday but Dearborn had too much depth for the Viking cross-country team.

The homesters took a 24-31 victory that marked only the second dual meet defeat for the Vikings this year. They will compete Saturday in a State Regional Class A harrier meet in Detroit.

The Southern Intercollegiate Conference was formed at Atlanta in 1921.

Redskins Duel
Bloomfield 11Falcons Battle Troy for Oakland 4 Lead

Milford's football fortunes could reach their highest point in the Wayne-Oakland League in the last 12 years Friday night.

The gridiron hopes of Rochester, also, are anticipating a king-sized boost that night as the Falcons bid for their first Oakland 4 championship since the 11 years Friday night.

Dangerous Bloomfield Hills will provide the opposition as the W-O pace setting Redskins attempt to clinch a share of that title before the home folks.

Not since the 1951 co-championship with Northville has a Milford grid team worn a crown. Now the Redskins need only a win over Hills, tied for third, and at Livonia Clarenceville, tied for sixth, to earn the diadem.

The Barons have the air game to bother Milford and a talent runner in Billy Barnes. But their offensive line must produce the "supreme effort" against the large defensive forwards of Milford.

Second place Holly will continue to hope for an upset of Milford. It expects little trouble from Cville Friday.

West Bloomfield will visit Northville, tied with Hills, and Clarkston will be eyeing a share of fifth place with a triumph at Brighton.

FALCONS' CHANCE
Rochester's Oakland 4 championship ambitions were still until Troy was upset last week by Clawson. Now the Falcons have their own shot at the Colts.

They will meet at the Troy field with first place at stake. The Colts are 4-1 and both Rochester and Fitzgerald are 3-1.

The latter will meet improving cross-town rival Warren Cousino. Avondale at Clawson and Lake Orion at Madison will find those two home teams attempting to keep their slim hopes alive. Both are 3-2.

Avondale, meanwhile, will be seeking its second O-A win and Lake Orion its first. The Yellow Jackets need a win to retain any chance for a winning mark over-all.

The Rochester club figures to be ready for Troy's big defensive line. The Falcons had their best offensive showing of the season last week and defensively they bounced back to their tough early season form.

Dryden, Almont Squads
Bid for Share of Crown

It will take a near-miracle if either Almont or Dryden is to win the Southern Thumb football title outright, but both stand a good chance of getting a share of the prize.

The two are in a tie with New Haven and Anchor Bay for first place at 4-1 with two games remaining for each in 100 p play.

One should fall out this week when Almont journeys to New Haven. Twice - victorious Armada will visit Dryden and winless Capac will entertain Anchor Bay. Memphis will travel to Brown City for the other game.

Only if all the leaders tie could the present deadlock continue.

Dryden will be favored to capture both of its final games; and Almont has only Capac to beat if it can get by strong New Haven.

New Haven has the hardest title path, meeting Anchor Bay after Almont. The latter must pull for Armada to upset Dryden, defeat New Haven itself and hope for New Haven to dump Anchor Bay.

Dryden needs a tie between Almont and New Haven and then an Anchor Bay loss to the Rockets.

SHOWDOWN
The Deckerville - at North Branch Friday affair will pair the class of the South Central League in a title tilt. Both are 5-1; but Deckerville's loss was in a league game.

Thus North Branch needs only a tie or a win to clinch the crown outright. It has won three in a row while the soaring Eagles have four straight, allowing only two touchdowns in that span.

Harbor Beach will visit Millington in another loop game. Imlay City has a non-leaguer at Flint's School for the Deaf.

Township's Dusters
Eliminate Castoffs

The Dusters moved into the second round of Waterford Touch Football playoffs last night with an 8-0 victory over Castoffs.

Quarterback Tom Morris put the winners in front 6-0 in the first half with a 60-yard TD pass to Ken Morrow. Art Larson collected a safety for the Dusters in the closing half.

The loss eliminated the Castoffs. The Dusters will meet the Raiders Monday. The Raiders led the league during the regular season.

In a high school flag game, Dave Giles scored twice for the Bruins in a 12-6 decision over the Nerds. Perry Freeman caught a scoring pass for the losers.

TOP PROSPECT — Many county grid observers believe there are few high school linemen in the state to compare with Walled Lake Jackie Roger Tuminski. The 6-4, 260-pound senior will be going both ways tomorrow night when the Vikings are host to East Detroit.

U.N. Group in Clay's Corner

BOSTON (UPI) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay will have a United Nations delegation in his corner Nov. 16 to make sure he isn't the victim of a "dirty loss" when he meets challenger Sonny Liston for their Boston Garden return bout. Cassius might also have a delegation of uniformed state troopers in his corner if Tommy Rawson, a member of the three-man state boxing commission, finds that the champion's charges of a plot to cheat him are true.

The 22-year-old Clay deviated from his usual poetic self during a press luncheon Wednesday to warn that he will take all steps possible to ensure that the bout, unrecognized by the World Boxing Commission (WBC), is above board.

"I know something is wrong," Clay told sports writers in Es-telle's Restaurant in suburban Roxbury. "I have heard a lot of rumors... and just in case anything happens I have invited 15 delegates to the United Nations

No Relief in Sight for Northern Eleven

There is no relief for Pontiac Northern's beleaguered football forces.

They move from last week's 53-7 battering by Inter-Lakes League champion Walled Lake into a Friday journey to Port Huron, for a meeting with the Eastern Michigan League champion.

While every opponent has to cause concern for coach Dave Schmidt, the Warriors are not invincible. On the year they are 2-3-1. A 2-0-1 EML log resulted in their title.

However, EML teams ventured out against I-L squads once already this season; and that Friday's efforts were 2-0-1 for the out-of-county teams.

Neither Port Huron or Walled Lake were involved in that interplay, however. PNH met Mount Clemens that time and was a 13-7 victim, one week after Port Huron and the Bathers fought to a 13-13 deadlock.

NEW COACHES

The PNH-Port Huron clash will see two coaches in their first season doing the strategy planning. It has been a long campaign so far for Schmidt of the Huskies.

Ex-Farmington High School athlete Jim Bates took over this year at Port Huron after several seasons of assistant coaching.

He has been at Port Huron since 1960 and previously put in time at Walled Lake before that school played Northern. He also has a recreation basketball and football background in Pontiac.

He has a fine halfback in senior Bob Wedge, who along with quarterback Jack Morris, has tallied four touchdowns this season — surpassing the entire PNH team output.

The Huskies obviously must develop some offensive punch if they are to give some respectability to their present 1-5 mark. One more decision in the loss column will assure the Huskies of their worst football record.

Campbell Lifts One Ice Fine

TORONTO (AP) — Clarence Campbell, National Hockey League president, rescinded Wednesday a $100 fine levied against Boston Bruins' defenseman Ted Green for fighting during an exhibition game in Boston Oct. 4.

However, a $100 assessment against Reg Fleming for the same offense and additional $50 fines to Green, Fleming and Forbes Kennedy of the Bruins and Dave Richardson, Rod Seiling and Earl Ingarfield of the New York Rangers, will stand, Campbell said in a telephone interview from New York.

Acting on a Boston request, Campbell held a hearing with the players involved and coaches in New York. The Bruins had protested the severity of the fines on the basis that players are not paid for exhibition games.

Campbell said that in Green's case, there was such a "ghastly conflict of evidence that I felt there was a basis for lifting the additional fine. Fleming made no attempt to present a case for rescinding his fine. It was quite apparent that he was putting on a show (in the game)."

Death Takes Ex-Scout

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — John W. Jack, Rossier, the scout credited with starting Robin Roberts toward his professional baseball career, died Tuesday at the age of 60 after a long illness.

Schmidt has been playing many underclassmen in an effort to prepare for next year. If he can get some blocking up front and a good performance at quarterback, the Huskies may start the climb tomorrow.

Unknown Golfer 1 Stroke Ahead in Aussie Open

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — John Sullivan, a relatively unknown pro from Adelaide, shot a one-stroke lead Wednesday after the first round of the Australian Open Golf Championship at the Lakes course.

Big Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio posted a 75 that put him well back in the field. Nicklaus, the favorite, went out in par 35 after a birdie on the first hole.

He blew up at the 355-yard 16th hole where he had a triple bogey after lofting his drive into the lake. Strong winds and tricky greens bothered the players on the 6,618-yard layout. Ted Ball of Australia posted a 71 that put him in second place.

from various countries to be at the fight so the world will know I am cheated," Clay said.

SETS PHOTOGRAPHY

Clay who prefers to be known as Muhammad Ali, said he had arranged for private photographers to take movies "of every round in this fight" to make certain he is not the victim of unfair tactics by Liston, his handlers, the referee or anyone else.

Rawson promised the champ that he would ask the state police to investigate the charges. Rawson also asked Clay to elaborate on his charges to give investigators something to go on.

Clay arrived here Tuesday night from his Miami Beach headquarters for the final three weeks of training at the Boston arena.

Liston, who was listed in Wednesday's odds as an 11-5 favorite to whip Clay, continues to workout at the plush White Cliffs resort in Plymouth.

Pro Ski Leader Causes Storm With Race Plans

VIENNA (AP) — Friedl Pfeiffer, Austrian-born promoter of professional skiing in America, stirred a storm in Austrian ski circles Wednesday by announcing that the first pro ski races in Europe will be held in nearby Seefeld Jan. 30-31.

The Austrian Skiing Association immediately countered by giving notice that Seefeld will be barred from holding amateur races if it goes through with the plan for pro races. Included would be the scheduled International Nordic Ski Contest for amateurs Jan. 8-10.

The executive committee of the Austrian association said, "The Austrian Skiing Association, like the International Skiing Association, holds the standpoint that professional ski races have to be separated strictly from the amateur ski sport."

Former Coach Dies

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Dr. John B. Eckstrom, Ohio State University football coach for three seasons at the turn of the century, died here Wednesday. He was 92.

Committee to View Reorganizing Districts

Selection of the last members of an 18-member countywide committee yesterday paved the way for a reorganization study of local school districts.

Porbatae Judges Donald E. Adams and Norman R. Barnard completed formation of the school committee with the appointment of five members, required by state law.

Under state law, the committee is to study possible reorganization of the county's 20 school districts so that all districts could offer a kindergarten through 12th grade education.

Appointed by the judges were Bartram D. Lewis, 24 Oakdale, Pleasant Ridge; Mrs. John Lesler, 501 S. Baldwin, Orion Township; Leon H. Hubbard, 42 Franklin; Archie H. Bailey, 2922 Elwood; Berkley and Edmund L. Windeler, 5601 Hatcher, Waterford Township.

Previously, ten members were named to the reorganization committee. The members were divided between 14-2 and non-K-12 districts.

Other members: Three county school board members—A. Ambrose of Oak Park and Horace P. Silman of Oak Park and Monroe M. Osmon of Pontiac—will also serve on the Pontiac committee.

Oakland County has three districts—Novi, Dublin and Orchard—where the complete K-12 program is not offered.

No date has been set for the initial meeting of the 18-member committee. County Sept. William J. Emerson, who will call the first meeting, said direction must come from a state member committee appointed by the governor.

Guard Officer Resigns in State Dispute

DETROIT (AP)—Capt. Don H. Ball, commanding officer of the 12th Public Information Detachment, Michigan National Guard, resigned his commission yesterday because, he said, "I no longer can place confidence or trust in the honor of integrity of the commander in chief or commanding general."

Gov. George Romney, the commander in chief, fired three top guard officers, Maj. Gen. Ronald D. McDonald, Brig. Gen. Carson R. Neffler and Lt. Col. Verdel Case Jr., on Oct. 7. Gen. Cecil Simmons is the commanding general of Michigan's National Guard.

"If a general officer with a long and distinguished record of service such as the adjutant general McDonald can be dismissed summarily on charges made by fellow officers culpably guilty of collaboration or ignorance there is little hope of justice from the commander in chief or commanding general for any officer or enlisted man in the Michigan Army National Guard," said Ball's letter of resignation.

Ball's letter of resignation was received by the Michigan National Guard on Oct. 19.

Leafy Looters Deal City a Hard Blow

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—This city's reforestation program has been dealt a big blow, with thieves having taken an estimated 1,500 disease-resistant young trees from Loud Thunder Forest Preserve.

Approximately 10,000 seedlings had been planted in 1961 and 1962 to help replace the increasing number of trees here which have succumbed to dutch elm disease.

Captured U. S. Missionary Faces Trial by Congo Rebels

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — An American missionary — has been captured by Communist-backed rebels and is awaiting trial by a military tribunal, a rebel broadcast says.

The missionary, Dr. Paul Carlson, 36, of Rolling Hills, Calif., has been in the Congo 14 months. Rebel warriors captured him Sept. 20 at Yakoma on the northern frontier, according to a communique issued by Christophe Gbenye, self-proclaimed president of the Congolese People's Republic in Stanleyville.

The rebels claimed Carlson was a major in the U.S. armed forces, but U.S. Embassy officials say his only military experience was a two-year hitch in the Navy.

Carlson's wife and two children fled to the neighboring Central African Republic with other missionaries during the rebel offensive last month.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Several hundred Turkish Cypriot police and guerrillas and troops of Turkey's army contingent in Cyprus paraded in Nicosia today to mark the 21st anniversary of the Turkish republic.

The Greek Cypriots had celebrated Wednesday, observing Greece's entry into World War II. More than 3,000 troops with artillery and armored cars marched through the Greek quarter of Nicosia.

TOKYO (AP) — About 15,000 leftist students throughout Japan staged meetings and rallies today to protest visits to Japanese ports by U.S. nuclear-powered submarines.

The National Police Agency reported eight students were arrested.

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — Nationalist Chinese Olympic marksman Ma Ching Shan, who defeated last Friday because he wanted to see his parents in Communist China, sailed for the Chinese mainland today.

Ma was placed aboard the 1,900-ton Japanese freighter Shinho Maru Wednesday under heavy police guard. Two Japanese patrol boats escorted the freighter out of Osaka Bay to prevent pro-Nationalist Chinese factionists and Japanese ultranationalists interfering with Ma's departure.

HOBART, Australia (AP) —

The antarctic's potential as a tourist resort has been overlooked, according to Dr. Phillip Law, director of the Foreign Ministry's Antarctic Division.

Law said in a lecture today that establishment of transantarctic air routes, possibly within the next 10 years, could lead to development of tourist activities on the icy continent.

McMurdo Sound, the main American base in the antarctic, offers many attractions and would be a suitable site for a tourist resort, Law feels. He said it would also be a good stopping point on an air route between Australia and South America.

Effort by Negroes Urges Supporting Johnson, Romney

DETROIT (AP)—A Negro effort to instruct voters how to split their ballots for President Johnson and Gov. George Romney was attacked yesterday by the Michigan organization of Sen. Barry Goldwater which blamed "Romney Volunteers" for the campaign.

"Romney Volunteers" and the "How to Split Your Ticket Committee" denied they were connected.

A committee spokesman, Mildred B. Smith, said the intent of the campaign "was not to take anything away from Mr. Goldwater. These weren't votes he was going to get anyway."

"The committee," under the direction of Dr. John Eagan, a Detroit Negro, has circulated 50,000 leaflets explaining and disavowing how to vote for Johnson, a Democrat, and Romney, a Republican.

It hopes to distribute another 150,000 to Negroes in Detroit, Pontiac, Flint, Grand Rapids and Muskegon.

The leaflet tells voters, "Do not touch" the party ticket levers with one vote for all candidates of one political party. It instructs voters to pull down the levers over names of Johnson and Romney, and "cover the names of other candidates of your choice."

KNEW REQUESTS

Mrs. Smith, a Romney appointee to the Eastern Michigan University board of regents, said she "knew of the requests and interest" in ticket-splitting information.

"In lower income groups in larger cities the educational level is not such that they have a great deal of experience on how to split the ticket."

Goldwater forces apparently linked the committee with Romney Volunteers because on two

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. was threatened today with a crippling strike, just as General Motors Corp. got its fifth assembly plant going again after a 31-day nationwide walkout by the United Auto Workers Union.

MIT Prof, 2 Reds Get Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Dr. Charles H. Townes of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, England, for her "Determination by X-ray Techniques of the Structures of Important Biochemical Compounds."

At the same time the 1964 prize for chemistry was awarded Dorothy Crowfoot Hodgkin, a biochemist of Oxford University, England, for her "Determination by X-ray Techniques of the Structures of Important Biochemical Compounds."

These prizes, each totaling $53,121, wind up this year's presentations from the foundation established by Alfred Nobel, the inventor of dynamite.

The maser beam, which greatly amplifies radio signals, has become commonly known as both a possible "death ray" and as a potential means of aiding man in medicine. It has led to a revolution in radio and physics. Maser concentrates light energy similar to the way that a magnifying glass can concentrate the sun's rays.

Half the physics monetary award will go to Dr. Townes and half to the Russians, Prof. Nikolay Basov and Alexander Prokhorov of Moscow.

Last night's rain (2 of an inch) chased away the brief warm spell the area was enjoying. But it'll return on Saturday, says the weatherman.

Today in Pontiac 43 was the low mercury reading preceding 8 a.m. At 1 p.m. the thermometer registered 46.

Barry Gets Tougher; LBJ in West Tour

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—President Johnson said today he has received a heartening pledge from the new Soviet premier that the Soviet Union will "maintain its own search for peace with the West."

In a speech, prepared for delivery in the historic Mormon Tabernacle, Johnson said the United States "must work to guide the inevitable changes that lie ahead" in Communist countries.

Johnson made an overnight stop in Salt Lake City in order to breakfast with David O. McKay, president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormons) and to speak in the church's tabernacle.

After two days of campaigning in the West, the President was pointing his vote-seeking efforts eastward, with other appearances planned today in Wichita, Kan., and Philadelphia.

In his tabernacle text, Johnson said that when Nikita Khrushchev was toppled as Soviet premier, "I sent word to Moscow that our basic policy remained unchanged."

He reported that the new

DETROIT (AP)—President Johnson will fly to Michigan Friday for a 10:30 a.m. speech at Detroit's Metropolitan Airport to help the gubernatorial campaign of fellow Democrat, Neil Staebler.

premier, Alexei Kosygin, has replied that "the Soviet Union would maintain its present policies and seek better relations—and maintain its own search for peace—with the West."

Johnson said Kosygin wrote that "the Soviet Union would continue its communications with the United States—and we would continue to explore areas of mutual interest."

Termining this "a heartening response," the President promised the United States "will continue with every resource to work for a lasting and just honorable peace."

In talking about "inevitable changes" inside the Communist bloc, Johnson said: "All political systems change. They are forced to—by historic circumstance."

FOOLISH COURSE

He said it would be "dangerously foolish" to expect either the Soviet Union or Communist China to soon become open societies. But he said it "would be equally foolish to think they will never change."

He continued: "Inside Russia today a powerful force for change is at work—education, the bedrock of democracy, the enemy of dictatorship. Inside the Communist bloc, powerful currents are surging against the dam."

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, toughening the line of his presidential challenge with a charge that Democrats have Communist backing, hunted Pennsylvania votes today on a windy whistle-stop swing.

The Republican nominee for the White House took to a campaign train after a journey through the Midwest and a demand that the Democrats denounce Communists and "their backing." He said Communist publications were "pulling for the defeat of Republican candidates."

Goldwater keynoted a five-stop railroad journey to Pittsburgh with a complaint that President Johnson had used "false and degrading tricks" against him.

"He tells the American public I want to tear up their Social Security cards," Goldwater said in a speech for Lewisiston, Pa.

"There is not an ounce of truth in this smear, and my opponent knows that full well."

THIRD FORAY

The whistle-stop tour was Goldwater's, third campaign foray into Pennsylvania, a state he believes the GOP ticket can carry if the Democrats are held to a 250,000-vote margin in Philadelphia.

An Oshkosh, Wis., crowd rose to cheer him yesterday when the Arizona senator brewed into his presidential bid the charge that Democrats have Communist backers.

Brandishing a copy of "The Worker," Goldwater told some 1,600 people in a high school auditorium the Communist newspaper has urged voters to "smash Goldwaterism."

"I haven't heard a Democratic candidate yet say he doesn't want the Communist party working for him," Goldwater said.

NOT ACCUSING

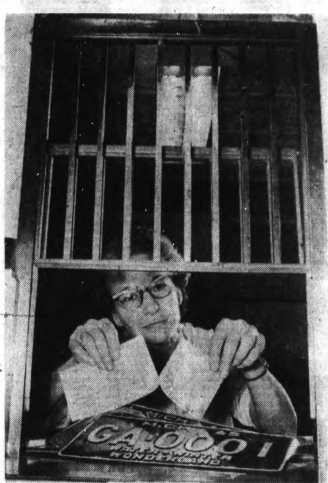

"Now I am not accusing any Democrat of being a Communist, but I am getting a little sick and tired of their not denouncing this party, this Communist group, not denouncing their backing."

Goldwater said the Democrats are forever demanding that he repudiate the support of some organizations.

"If I know of any Communist that I know of helping me," he declared, "I am going to tell him to get out. And all I am asking of my opponents is to do the same thing."

Goldwater tossed in a complaint against U.S. newspapers. Citing "The Worker" he said: "Many times in the press in this country I read almost verbatim what has been written in this Communist sheet."

"Now, our press does a better job with the language, but they're calling for the same thing," Goldwater said.

Romney Hits Labor; Foe Warns of Smear

LANSING (AP)—The political role of organized labor took a prominent position in the campaign of Republican Gov. George Romney today.

And in Detroit, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Neil Staebler said last night "The Republican party has a history of last-minute hysterical smears" and warned "that in this campaign an action of sort is likely."

A fresh Romney blast at labor's place in the Democratic party yesterday—the strongest of the campaign so far—apparently was triggered by criticism from United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther and joint denials of union domination from Reuther and Staebler.

He hammered away at the charge in most of the 13 speeches delivered in the second day of his "blitz" of Lower Michigan.

Staebler, who said he has not been smeared thus far in his race to unseat Romney, volunteered his prediction at a motel room news conference.

He said "past history" and "such an amount of venom" in the 1964 campaign prompted his prediction. He indicated the national campaign would be the probable target.

FIRST INDICATION

Staebler said, "today we got the first little indication that the zeal of Goldwater enthusiasm has gotten out of hand. Jim Hare, Democratic secretary of state, had a sticker left on his car."

Staebler quoted the sticker as saying, "So you're for Lyndon. Here is a partial list of other LBJ supporters:"

The five-part list included, he said, the Communist party, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Final Decision, Is Announced by Committee

'Will Be the Largest, Most Modern' Unit of Its Type in U.S.

Pontiac has definitely been selected as the site of the proposed $40 million Michigan Osteopathic College, Dr. Alan M. Potts, chairman of the College Development Committee for the Michigan Osteopathic Association, announced today.

It was revealed Tuesday that Pontiac was once more in contention for the college. The city had been considered previously.

Lansing originally had been chosen but the announcement that Michigan State University was planning to build a medical school there caused the Association to reconsider the locale, said Dr. Potts of Royal Oak.

"Because Lansing does not have sufficient population nor potential growth to support two schools," Dr. Potts said, "we felt that it would jeopardize teaching programs if both were located there."

The decision to build the medical training facility in Pontiac was made by the College Development Committee and the Board of Trustees of the Association.

According to Potts, ground may be broken for the $18-million first phase of the project by the summer of 1965, with completion of this stage by Sept. 1968.

LARGE, MODERN

"It will be the largest and most modern osteopathic college in the country," said Potts.

"We have 1,600 osteopaths in Michigan and everyone was trained outside of the state because we have no facilities here."

There are five schools for the training of osteopaths in the nation, according to Potts.

He said the Michigan Osteopathic Association has been working on the development of a college in the state since 1959.

HOSPITAL SITE

The site of the new college is the southwest corner of Opdyke and Auburn, entirely in the city of Pontiac.

Pontiac business firms already have pledged more than $250,000 to purchase the property, and approximately $120,000 more is required before the transaction is completed.

A meeting is scheduled for Nov. 12 to discuss means of raising the remainder of the money.

In announcing the decision to build in Pontiac, Potts said the Association is "satisfied to go along on faith" that the city will raise the rest of the money to buy the 16-acre site from the trustees of the Fisher family.

ALREADY HIRED

Architects already have been hired, said Dr. Potts, and have gone over the land and "are pleased with it as a college site."

Report to Go on Sale

Over-the-counter sale of the Warren report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy will begin in the lobby of The Pontiac Press tomorrow.

The blue and gold, hard-cover book prepared by the Associated Press sells for $1.50. Its 400 pages contain the report on the death of President Kennedy, the arrest of Lee Oswald, and his death at the hands of Jack Ruby.

The Associated Press is presenting the report as a public service, as it did, "The Torch Is Passed," its volume about Kennedy's fatal shot to Dallas.

This illustrated book will not be on sale at book stores, and we cannot accept mail orders.

Half of Indonesians Captured

Guerrillas Land in Malaysia

MALACCA, Malaysia (AP) — About 60 Indonesian guerrillas, slipping ashore in three groups last Aug. 17 to open up a second front in Indonesia's undeclared

Malaysian-directed guerrillas, attacking in two groups, landed by sea on the southwest coast of Malaysia's mainland early today but by nightfall almost half of them were reported captured. A military spokesman said the others were pinned down in swampy jungles 30 miles south of here by a force of Australian, New Zealand and Malaysian troops.

The spokesman said a holding action would be carried out through the night, and mopping-up operations will be launched at daybreak.

The spokesman reported 25 prisoners taken during initial encounters with police and soldiers along the Kesang River, near the border of Malacca and Johore states. He said not a shot was fired.

RAIDERS TRACKED

The spokesman said the raiders were tracked down, called upon to surrender and came out of the bush with their hands in the air.

Twenty of the prisoners were described as members of a specially trained Indonesian commando unit.

Prime Minister Abdul Rahman announced five battalions of guerrillas landed before dawn on the southwest coast between Malacca and Muar.

Home Minister Ismail Bin Abdul Rahman, Malaysia's top internal security official, made a flying tour of the Malacca-Muar area and told newsmen that Malaysian forces had the situation well in hand.

BATTLE PROGRESS

"We have encountered a large number of the invaders," he said, "and the battle between them and security forces is in progress. We have every reason to be successful."

It was the third reported invasion of the Malaysian mainland by forces from Indonesia, whose President Sukarno has vowed to crush the British-backed Malaysian federalism of Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and Sabah.

Rahman said the invaders crossed the narrow Straits of Malacca from Indonesian Sumatra, and members of the vigilante corps patrolling the Malacca-Johore State coastal border region sounded the alarm. Police and soldiers immediately sealed off the area, diverting all traffic from the main coastal highway.

TROOPS MOVE

New Zealand troops based in Malacca also moved in against the guerrillas. The region was placed under a 24-hour curfew.

The reported landing site is 70 miles northwest of Johore's Pontian region where 108 Indonesian-directed guerrillas slipped ashore in three groups last Aug. 17 to open up a second front in Indonesia's undeclared

British Forces Joining Fight Against Invaders

LONDON (AP) — The Defense Ministry said British troops today joined a combined Commonwealth operation in Malaysia against Indonesian forces which made an amphibious landing.

Elements of a British battalion within the Commonwealth brigade were operating along side Australians, New Zealanders and Malaysians.

There was no official British governmental comment on the Indonesian thrust, the third in 10 weeks, but officials said they expect the Malaysian government — after consultations with other interested Commonwealth countries — will decide soon whether to refer the incident to the U.N. Security Council.

REAPPRAISAL

The British informants also said an urgent reappraisal now is under way among Commonwealth countries supporting Malaysia to determine just how that country's resistance to Indonesia can be stiffened. Specifically, the military authorities of Malaysia, Britain, Australia and Canada are discussing what further specialized equipment is required to help bolster Malaysian defenses. The British, for instance, are likely to step up supplies of helicopters among other things. Leaders of the Labor government, when they were in opposition, repeatedly urged the need for more helicopters in Malaysia.

SUKARNO LEAVING? Word of the new Indonesian landing came amid speculation among British, Malaysian and other diplomats that the days of President Sukarno's leadership may be numbered.

Informants said they understand Sukarno is likely to have to undergo a serious operation shortly. Without saying precisely what is wrong with the Indonesian leader, they said they hear he has not fully recovered from an operation he underwent in Vienna, Austria recently.

Urges Caution for Halloween

Area police officials today warned area children and adults to use caution in walking and driving during Halloween evening festivities Friday and Saturday.

During the next two days and nights most of the young children in the area will be on the streets going to parties and dances or trick or treating, officials said.

City, state and county law officers will increase their patrols, but both children and adults must do their share if tragedy is to be averted.

Police stressed these rules:

• Children should not wear masks which obstruct vision.

• ESCORT NEEDED

• Small children should be escorted by parents when trick or treating, or walking to parties.

• Motorists should use extra caution and anticipate unexpected moves by excited youngsters.

2 Bama Guardsmen Sentenced in Blast

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Two Alabama National Guardsmen have been placed on 90 days probation on a charge they set off dynamite dangerously near a college last year.

William E. Roughton, 33, of Langdale, and James T. Maxwell, 27, of Tuscaloosa, pleaded guilty to the charge on Jan. 30. They could have been sentenced to prison up to 10 years.

Campaigners Stump in State

Americans for a Democratic Action, Congress of Racial Equality and "all-pro - Communist foreign newspapers."

The list included derogatory comments about the NAACP, ADA and CORE. "Are you blaming the Republican party for this?" Staebler was asked.

HATE LITERATURE

"Not yet," he replied. He said hate literature, however, "is the kind of thing that might give rise to the last minute smear effort we thought had vanished from Michigan politics."

The Romney caravan worked its way down from Saginaw to Lansing, and was to go as far west as South Haven today — ending back in Detroit with an appearance on the Perry County television show tonight.

Romney, who has repeatedly and heatedly denounced domination of either party by "special interest economic groups," criticized Staebler for "masterminding the coalition between the old-line Democratic party and labor leaders."

Reuther, he said, "is calling the shots for the Democratic party in this state... and he has two lieutenants, one a man and the other a woman, and a guy in Lansing called Gus. He's kind of a front guy."

'LIEUTENANTS'

Asked to identify the "lieutenants" later, Romney said they were Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president, and Mildred Jeffrey, Democratic national committeewoman for Michigan. The third person referred to was August Scholle, state AFL-CIO president.

He was not referring to former Democratic Gov. John Swainson, who had strong labor backing, he said, "they don't have to have every office in the party." Swainson is now Democratic national committeeman.

Apparently in reaction to earlier Romney charges of domination, Reuther and Staebler said in a news conference Tuesday that the party was not dominated by labor, but that coalition existed between the party and organized labor.

Parties Slated for Halloween in Waterford

Waterford Township youngsters will attend Halloween parties at four schools Saturday night following the traditional 6 to 7 p.m. trick-or-treat outing.

Fire station sirens will signal the start of the trick or treating and also call the activities to a halt.

Parties will begin at 7 p.m. at Pontiac Lake, Riverside, Leggett and Drayton Plains elementary schools.

All youngsters in grades three through six are invited to attend nearest their home. The parties will end at 8:15 p.m.

Formerly sponsored by the Waterford Recreation Department, this year's Halloween parties will be sponsored jointly by the Community School Board, Firefighters Association, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Lakeland Optimist Club and Lions Club.

PARTY EVENTS

Party activities will include costume judging, movies, games and awarding of prizes. Refreshments will be served.

Eisenhower Checks Out of Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower left Walter Reed General Hospital today sufficiently recovered to travel, but saying he is still not well enough for any further political campaigning.

The 74-year-old Eisenhower checked out of the Army hospital looking ruddy and smiling but still on antibiotics. He had been under treatment there since Thursday for a respiratory infection that left him almost voiceless for a time.

Doctors said he has a lingering infection in one sinus and one ear, and they have advised him to seek a warmer climate for a few weeks. So he is leaving Friday for Augusta, Ga., one of his favorite golfing locales.

Talking with reporters as nearly 200 hospital staff members and patients cheered him, Eisenhower said he was "certainly feeling a lot better than I did last Thursday when I came here." He said at that time he had sent for an absentee ballot from his home at Gettysburg, Pa., so he could vote from the hospital.

NO CAMPAIGNING

The illness will rule out any more campaigning for him, the Republican former chief executive said, but added that the newsmen knew who would get his vote. He has endorsed Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Eisenhower said he feels the campaign — as he read about it — has been lacking in that it has not become an exposition of ideas and philosophies.

"As you know, I am interested first in ideas and philosophies," he said, "and then in the personalities who propose them, Eisenhower said."

He said he doesn't feel the voters have been presented with rounded ideas and philosophies "so we can make up our minds."

VOTING GOP

Asked repeatedly by newsmen to forecast the outcome of the election, Eisenhower said he never indulges in election bets, but, "It's no secret my vote is going to be" on the Republican side.

County Man to Head Unit of Supervisors

Edward Connor, a Detroit common councilman and chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, resigned yesterday as chairman of the Supervisors Inter-County Committee.

He will be succeeded by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, who has been serving as vice chairman of the five-county coordinating committee.

Connor announced his resignation yesterday at a meeting of the inter-county group at the Kingsley Inn. The announcement came as a surprise to other members of the committee, which held a joint luncheon with the Southeastern Michigan Tourist Association.

Loan Granted to Waterford

Interest-Free Funds for Sewerage Plans

Approval of a $150,000 interest-free federal loan for preliminary planning of Waterford Township's internal sanitary sewer system was announced today.

The loan under the 702 Program was approved by the Community Facilities Administration.

Funds will be used for the planning of construction stages of the total internal sewer project which will cost an estimated $14.4 million.

Tentative plans call for construction of the Waterford sewer system to begin in June, 1966. This hinges on progress of the Clinton-Oakland trunkline which will serve Waterford, and four other communities.

The trunkline will connect to the Dequindre interceptor line which Detroit will extend to a point near Rochester.

Repayment of the $150,000 planning loan will be made when bonds for the sewer construction project are sold.

Senators Pat McNamara and Philip Hart announced approval of the loan.

LOS ANGELES (AP) —

Police say Ulysses Pryor reached for another man's wallet Wednesday and came up holding the hand of the President of the United States.

Just as Pryor, a 30-year-old transient, was about to lift the wallet, officers said, the street crowd along the President's motorcade route shifted and pushed forward to the presidential limousine.

Pryor was shoved along with it and his outstretched hand got a hearty shake from a smiling Lyndon Johnson.

Officers James Robinson and Oscar O'Leary said they continued to watch Pryor's activities for about 15 minutes and arrested him after he made several other unsuccessful attempts to pick pockets.

BOOKED

Pryor was booked on suspicion of attempted robbery.

Say Deflecting Craft Downed by Reds

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — North Korean Communists are believed to have shot down a light plane attempting to defect to South Korea.

A South Korean military source reported today that Communist ground fire knocked down the unidentified south-bound light reconnaissance plane Tuesday in the northern portion of the demilitarized zone, about 60 miles northeast of Seoul.

South Korean military authorities said no South Korean or American planes were in the area at the time.

One of the earliest toll roads in the United States was built between 1798 and 1799 linking the 62 miles between Lancaster, Pa., and Philadelphia.

Barry Group Hits Split Vote

letters concerning the effort, Mrs. Smith listed the address and telephone number of the Flint headquarters of Romney Volunteers.

She said she was a Romney Volunteer "member but at this point I am not too active. I probably shouldn't have put the address down, but if there was a letter addressed to me there I could get it."

NUMBER LISTED

Mrs. Smith listed the Volunteers telephone number because "I'd rather not have calls coming into me at the (Flint) board of education office," where she is an elementary school consultant.

Tyrone Gillespie, state chairman of Citizens for Goldwater and Miller, said the Republican State Central Committee and Romney should repudiate the campaign "or accept" the responsibility for "spreading the Republican Party of Michigan."

Romney said, "The Romney volunteers have a policy of not endorsing anyone but me, and I'm pleased that they held to that position in this matter." He said he had no prior knowledge of the split ticket campaign of the Romney volunteers, but the sample ballots were not directed by me nor by those directing my campaign.

"The Romney volunteers are showing people how they can split their ballot and vote for me, but that is all. They are not showing people how to vote for anyone else," the governor said. MADE IT CLEAR

"As a matter of fact," he said, "I made it clear that I would not vote for President Johnson in any way."

Dr. John Dempsey, state chairman of Romney Volunteers, and a Ward Drexel, Genesee County chairman, denied any connection with the campaign. They said their group "has firmly abided by an initial decision to refrain from opposing or endorsing any candidate other than George Romney."

Gillespie said the Dempsey-Drexel statement "did nothing, however, to repudiate" the campaign.

Romney has refused to endorse Goldwater for president. Gillespie said Romney "should repudiate the implication that he is running on the same ticket as President Johnson."

CAREFUL REVIEW

State GOP chairman Arthur Elliott said, "I have carefully reviewed the group (behind the campaign), and I know they are not supported by Romney Volunteers or the state central committee."

"Many identified Democrats are going to vote for Romney. If we can't get them to vote for our total ticket, we at least want them to vote for our state candidates."

Eagan, an unsuccessful candidate for a Republican congressional nomination, said he has not discussed the campaign with Romney. Mrs. Smith said "The governor asked me about it and I assured him Romney Volunteers had nothing to do with it."

Eagan said the program began because, "We felt as Negroes we should stick behind Romney and not let him go down the drain because of Goldwater."

He said "a large per cent" of Negroes "are interested in going for Romney provided Adam Clayton Powell and Martin Luther King don't tell them to vote straight Democratic."

1,400 Lose Use of Telephones

Four Cables Severed by Cement Buster

Some 1,400 Pontiac area telephone subscribers were without service most of yesterday, the victims of progress.

Four Michigan Bell Telephone cables, containing 4,300 circuits, were severed shortly after 10 a.m. by a cement buster being used to remove old concrete on West Pike just east of West Wood Track.

C. B. Woodhead, Michigan Bell Telephone Pontiac area manager in charge of public relations, said 250 trunk circuits running from Pontiac to Walled Lake and Commerce were affected, as well as some 1,200 lines in the downtown Pontiac area.

Service between Pontiac and Commerce was restored by 12:30 p.m., Woodhead said, but repair men were on the job until 1:30 a.m. today repairing the rest of the damage.

No emergency services were affected by the break, according to Woodhead.

A similar incident occurred last week in the street construction area, but disruption of service was as widespread.

High Court Won't Hear GOP Air Time Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has refused to convene before election day to hear arguments demanding equal television-radio time for Sen. Barry Goldwater to reply to an Oct. 18 speech of President Johnson.

The court's refusal, announced Wednesday night, means that there is no chance that the Republicans will win their legal battle to get the time for Goldwater before next Tuesday.

The Federal Communications Commission has ruled that the President's speech was a report to the nation on international developments and not a campaign speech. The ruling said the three television networks, which gave the air time to the President, were not required to do the same for the Republican presidential candidate.

In a tie vote, the U.S. Court of Appeals allowed the FCC ruling to stand. The Republicans then asked the Supreme Court to take up the case quickly — before Election Day.

NO HEARING

The court, which is not scheduled to hear any more cases until Nov. 9, refused.

Although the legal rulings have gone against them, the Republicans have had one chance to reply to the President. The National Broadcasting Co. gave free time to Republican National Chairman Dean Burch a few days after the President's report to the nation on the change in Kremlin leadership and Red China's first nuclear detonation.

announce how it voted in its decision not to hear the Republican arguments before Election Day. It did say that two justices, Arthur J. Goldberg and Hugo L. Black, dissented, while a third, Byron R. White, took no part.

Goldberg and Black said that the question raised by the Republicans was substantial and the court should take up the case before election day.

Goldberg went further and said the equal-time law "on its face plainly requires" a broadcaster "who permits any person who is a legally qualified candidate for any public office to use its broadcast facilities to afford an equal time to all other candidates."

A method has been developed for stratifying water in reservoirs according to mineral content. This will permit the use of upper levels for drinking and other levels for less critical uses.

To Pick State Representatives in 10 County Districts

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series to better acquaint Pontiac area voters with candidates in the Nov. 3 election.)

There are 20 candidates for the State House of Representatives seeking election next Tuesday in 10 state legislative districts which lie wholly or partly in Oakland County.

However, only seven of the legislative districts (Dist. 60-67) are located in the Pontiac area.

In South Oakland County, representatives from three districts will be elected. The six candidates and the districts they are seeking to represent are as follows:

Harvey C. Van Buhler (R) and Albert A. Kramer (D) 67th District; William G. Hayward (R) and John

E. Kronenberg (D) 68th District; and Max D. Hill (R) and Daniel S. Cooper (D) 69th District.

Van Buhler, 1919 Harvard, Berkley, is a former Berkley mayor. Kramer, 40, of 23651 Radcliff, Oak Park, is an attorney and in 1962 was a nominee for state representative.

Hayward, 58, of 1839 Sycamore, Royal Oak, is an incumbent in the legislature, representing the old 5th District. Manager of the Royal Oak-Berkley branch of the Secretary of State Office, Kronenberg, 40, lives at 613 Sixth, Royal Oak.

Hill, 46, of 14 Maplefield, is a Pleasant Ridge City Commissioner and mayor pro tem. Cooper, 34, of 13150 Dartmouth, has his own law office in Detroit.

There are 14 candidates seeking office in legislative districts in the North Oakland area.

60th District

LAWLER

Dem

His statement: "Some of the problems facing this district are:

"Education: Every individual must be given the opportunity to develop himself to the limits of his ability.

"Crime is at an all-time high. It is time to take a close look at our laws and penalties, court procedures and parole policies."

"Water pollution: We are concerned with a condition plaguing one of the state's greatest natural resources, and we must treat it as such. Legislation is needed to appropriate funds to correct this situation.

Superintendent of Walled Lake Schools since 1945, Clifford H. Smart, 59, of 555 W. Walled Lake is a past president of the Michigan Education Association and Michigan Association of School Administrators.

SMART

GOP

His statement: "One of the most important things we do is the election of people to public office.

"I am running for public office on two records: first, the record of the Republican governor and legislature during the past two years; secondly on my own record as a public school teacher and administrator in Oakland County.

"Education is one of the most important matters our legislature has to handle.

"I would like to be elected so I can help see to it that the laws we have to pass are not only good for the whole state but are good for my home district."

Incumbent Lloyd L. Anderson, 56, of 3769 Lincolnshire, Waterford Township, is seeking reelection from an area which was formerly part of the old 1st District which he represented. He was supervisor of Waterford Township from 1951 to 1957.

ANDERSON

GOP

Among the issues on which Anderson said he will campaign are:

"Responsible, economical and efficient state government, the repeal of city income tax on nonresidents and a state capital improvement program on a pay-as-you-go basis.

"The strengthening of township, city, village and county government and the consolidation of the state and county welfare programs with controls in the county.

"Equal aid to elementary education through state support and equalization of funds and the supplementing of our junior college program in the state.

CROWLEY

Dem

His statement: "Much is to be done in our great state and to accomplish this we must have legislators who will devote their full time to this task.

"Too many of our legislators have outside endeavors and therefore can forget their obligations to the people who elected them.

"Much beneficial legislation has gone down the drain, so to speak, by a minority group that has prevailed in Lansing these many years.

"New legislation must be written to protect the nonresident who happens to be working in cities that are levying an unjust income tax on them.

62nd District

Seeking his fourth term in the House of Representatives, incumbent Arthur J. Law, 58, of 27 Miami, served 12 years on the Pontiac City Commission and two terms as mayor. He was an organizer and first president of Fisher Body UAW Local 956.

LAW

Dem

His statement: "For the first time in the history of our state the equality of voting rights is an established fact (apportionment).

"Now the problem of education, poverty, crime and delinquency that are so much greater in our cities and populous townships can and should be more realistically recognized and adequately dealt with.

"I believe we should have more state aid to education in all its levels. We must expand our facilities for the education and training of our physically handicapped and mentally retarded.

"The needs of our senior citizens should be met."

A former vice chairman of the county Republican Committee, Carolyn Murphy, 34, W. Irons, is the treasurer of the County Council of Republican Women's Clubs. Her husband, Daniel, is chairman of the county Board of Auditors.

MURPHY

GOP

His statement: "When the Michigan state legislature convenes next January, I propose that the sales tax be removed from food and drugs. This is entirely possible since our state now is able to operate on a pay-as-you-go basis.

"I will work to remove the $10,000 limit on the value of the homestead in qualifying for old age assistance. I will urge utilization of new federal matching funds for increased vocational education.

"I support immediate action favoring permissive county home rule legislation.

"I plan to make regular reports to, and communicate with the residents of our district, so that we can offer a measure of service to our great state."

63rd District

A former Troy City Commissioner, James F. Carey, 42, of 2891 Binkbrook, is a member of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and is chairman of that group's Cooperative Extension Committee. He is with the Detroit Edison Co.

CAREY

GOP

His statement: "The legislature has definite responsibilities to provide for many things such as education, both in the K-12 program and higher education, mental health, youth opportunities, social welfare and economic development.

"As a legislator I will help solve these problems but will not use them as an excuse to expand state government at the expense of fiscal responsibility.

"Individuals at the local level should have the right to accept or reject the activities of a higher unit of government.

"I believe that Allen Airport should not be expanded and Oxford should not be used as a major disposal area without the consent of the people in the affected area."

A former teacher and principal, Robert J. Slingerland, 3201 Lake George, Oakland Township, serves on the steering committee of the Rochester Human Relations Council. His statement: "I would work to improve the welfare of all people by promoting education programs to make them self supporting, thereby increasing self respect, reducing welfare loads, school dropouts, juvenile delinquency and crime.

Slingerland

Dem

"Their increased purchasing power would make taxpayers out of tax consumers and make jobs for other people.

"I would encourage business expansion by eliminating the taxes on business activities and factory machinery. I would reduce the sales and property taxes, especially on retired persons.

"I would make the above possible by substituting a state income tax which would eliminate the city income tax on non-residents and support the schools with more state aid."

64th District

An attorney, John I. Bain, 33, of 26393 Springfield, Farmington Township, is a past member of the Young Democrats, has been a delegate to state party conventions and is presently membership committee chairman for the Farmington Democratic Club. He was admitted to the Michigan bar following his graduation this year from the Detroit College of Law. He also holds a degree in business administration from Wayne State University.

BAIN

Dem.

Bain did not submit a statement.

An incumbent with two terms as representative in old District 4, Raymond L. Baker, 57, of 32718 Grand River, Farmington, is chairman of the House Metropolitan Affairs Committee.

BAKER

GOP

His statement: "In the past two years under Gov. Romney we have developed a sound financial program and I intend to work to continue this program of fiscal integrity.

"Continued legislation necessary for the implementation of the new constitution is most important.

"I believe it is necessary that we establish more equitable assessment practices throughout the state.

"The implementation of the effective parts of the state's traffic safety study, such as compulsory auto inspection, is required if we are to reduce highway deaths."

65th District

An attorney, William P. Hampton, 26, of 2757 Windemere, Birmingham, was an executive assistant during Paul D. Bagwell's 1960 gubernatorial campaign, and in 1962 was a campaign worker for George Romney.

HAMPTON

GOP

His statement: "New legislation is needed in many fields and toward that end I pledge to work for the enactment of legislation in the following fields:

"Implementation of the new State Constitution. Legislation is needed in the areas of executive branch reorganization, county home rule, and a bill covering the procedures, time and details of submission of the budget by the governor.

"Legislation to provide adequate revenue for education.

"Traffic safety—The governor's traffic safety study commission has put forth many recommendations for use in formulating new legislation. These must be carefully weighed and incorporated into new legislation.

Assistant to the loan officer in the Mortgage department of the National Bank of Detroit, Ernest W. Nigg Jr., 29, of 1028 Chestnut, Birmingham, formerly served on the Mayors Advisory Committee in Southfield and was a precinct delegate there.

NIGG

Dem.

His statement: "We have a much bragged about (surplus) in Michigan now which is not being used or set aside for meeting the future needs of the people.

"We need more Half Way Houses, community colleges and more vocational training for our young. Half of our hospital beds are taken by the mentally ill... but we do have a surplus.

"Michigan is in dire need of fiscal reform. The tax burden at present is on those who smoke and drink. There should be something done to help our senior citizens with regards to tax on drugs, and the reducing of school tax.

"A flat rate income tax can accomplish this.

66th District

Former mayor and city councilman of Madison Heights, Bill S. Huffman, 29, is completing his first term in the legislature as representative of the old 6th District. He is a self-employed manufacturer's representative.

HUFFMAN

Dem.

His statement: "January of 1965 the legislature will face the problem of fiscal reform due to the new constitution and updating the teacher retirement fund, requiring some $40 million.

"Fiscal reform will be required also to relieve the unfair sales tax on food and other necessity taxes enacted two years ago.

"Fiscal reform through a state income tax will relieve personal and real estate property taxes at a local level so that county, township and city mills can properly function.

"Through fiscal reform the State Legislature can provide the necessary monies for higher education.

The owner of an insurance firm, Roy F. Strause, 36, of 620 N. Custer, Clawson was elected a precinct delegate in 1962 and was an unsuccessful candidate for the Clawson City Council in 1963.

STRAUSE

GOP

Among his platform programs are:

"More equitable apportionment of state funds to school districts, allowing enough money for tuition-free community colleges.

"Trade schools for the young men and women who do not desire an academic education, necessary legislation to help the retarded and handicapped, and self-supporting halfway houses.

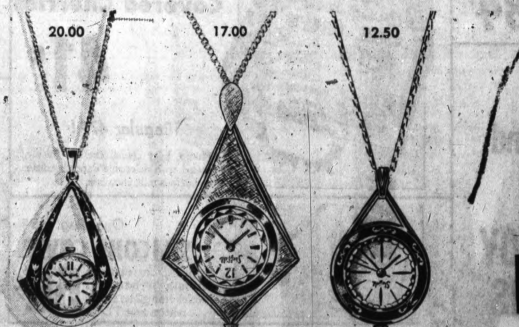

"The assurance to citizens that their vote will be the final decision on any issue that arises in their community or the state.

"I strongly believe it is necessary to maintain grassroots participation in government by retaining maximum responsibility and control, first, at the local level, and second, at the state level.

Italian Paper Says Report Explains Khrushchev Ouster

ROME (AP) — The Kremlin has told Soviet Communist party workers that Nikita Khrushchev was ousted because he acted dictatorially and did a bad job besides, the left-wing Italian weekly L'Espresso reported today.

L'Espresso said the report, written by Soviet Communist party Presidium member Mikhail Suslov, had been distributed to party workers throughout the Soviet Union.

It had been rumored in Moscow earlier this week that such a report would be made public and that it would contain Suslov's denunciation at the Presidium meeting Oct. 14 which removed Khrushchev from command of the party. The report has not been made public in Moscow and L'Espresso did not say where it got its summary.

Suslov's report, according to L'Espresso, accused Khrushchev of these failings:

NIKITA'S FAULTS

—He repeatedly violated the principles of collective leadership, displaying a typical "personality cult" attitudes incompatible with directives of the Soviet party congresses.

—He laughed and changed agricultural policies without adequate thought and preparation.

—He switched allocated investments from one industrial sector to another, causing consumer industry to suffer through a lack of coherent development of economic plans.

—He sent friends or relatives, including his son-in-law Alexei Adzhubei, on foreign missions without consulting party officials. These emissaries had neither the right nor preparation to undertake the delicate tasks given them, and often the results did not correspond to Soviet interests.

NOT INFORMED

—The party Central Committee was told nothing of the outcome of Adzhubei's last mission, to Bonn and only learned from the Western press that he had formulated prospects on the German and Berlin questions unacceptable to the party.

—During his own trip to Egypt in May, Khrushchev made President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Vice President Abdel Hakim Amer Heroes of the Soviet Union without the required preliminary approval of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet parliament.

INDIA SUPPORT

—Khrushchev made an ostentatious show of support for India during a particularly delicate time of frontier controversy between India and Red China. Such help was in line with Moscow policy, but the way it was done worsened the situation.

—Khrushchev's recent declaration that the Soviet Union has a weapon of total destruction — which Khrushchev later denied he had made — caused alarm and confusion and was a significant example of his arbitrary way of acting without regard for the opinions of others.

In Moscow, Communist officials said Soviet party leaders were assuring visiting delegations from foreign Communist parties that the posts of party first secretary and premier would never again be combined as they were under Stalin and Khrushchev.

Delegations from the Communist parties in Italy and France,

the two largest Red Parties in Western Europe, and from Austria, Denmark and India are all in Moscow seeking information on the Soviet leadership change and its implications.

PROPER GROUPS

Polish party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka, after a meeting with the new Kremlin leaders, declared Wednesday that the Soviet party leadership had "proper grounds" for accepting Khrushchev's designation.

Gomulka expressed hope that the Soviet Union and Communist China would take steps to settle their bitter dispute.

Filipino newsmen visiting

Peking reported that Premier Chou En-lai told them he hopes the Kremlin shakeup will improve relations between the Soviet and Chinese parties. Chou reportedly described the ouster of Khrushchev as "a good thing."

Telegraph Aide Dies

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — James Horton, of Chatham, N.J., assistant vice president of Western Union Telegraph Co. died Wednesday. Horton became ill while dining with a group of officials of the telegraph company.

Court Rules $810,000 for Charity

LANSING (AP) — Some $810,000 from William J. Hartwig's estate now will go where his will specified—to charity—at the conclusion of a long court battle, Atty. Frank Kelley said Wednesday.

Wayne County Probate Judge Thomas Murphy approved a plan in accordance with Hartwig's will, that one-third each will go to local Protestant, Roman Catholic and Negro groups to support orphans and old people, Kelley said.

The Michigan Supreme Court earlier rejected an attempt by relatives to upset the will, Kelley said.

He said the will specified that Hartwig's estate, estimated at upwards of $1 million, go to charity 20 years after his death, in Detroit in 1941.

MORE FUNDS

As additional real estate in the trust is liquidated, more funds will be divided evenly among the three groups, Kelley said.

"This case is an example," he said, "of how the public interest is served by provisions of the Charitable Trust Act which give the attorney general the authority to represent the public interest in these matters."

He said the plan approved by Judge Murphy divides the $810,000 this way:

Protestants — Presbyterian Village of Detroit Inc., $75,000; Boulevard Temple Methodist Home, $60,000; The Eventide Home, $40,000; Luther Haven, $20,000; Williams House Inc., $35,000; St. Peter's Home for Boys, $30,000.

Catholic—Kundig Center Inc., $110,000; St. Francis Home for Orphan Boys, $50,000; House of the Good Shepherd, $50,000; Guardian Angel Home, $20,000; Negro — Phyllis Wheatly Home Inc., $175,000; Lutheran Home for Girls, $70,000; Delta Home for Girls, $25,000.

If Humphrey Wins

Who'll Wield Senate Whip?

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey is elected vice president next Tuesday, President Johnson may face a delicate decision taking a hand in replacing him in the Senate leadership.

As whip, or assistant Democratic Senate leader, Humphrey turned in an impressive performance in helping get critical administration legislation passed in Congress this year.

Ordinarily the White House wouldn't give too much attention to the choice of an assistant leader. But Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has declined to play the whip-cracking leadership role Johnson himself once filled.

All the signs indicate that Johnson would like to see the Senate Democrats install Sen. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island as their assistant leader. The President worked closely with Pastore in the congressional session. He was so impressed with the Rhode Island senator's abilities that he picked him for keynoter of the party's national convention.

SMATHERS IN LINE

Under customary procedures, Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida would be in line for promotion from his post as secretary of the Democratic Policy Committee to the job Humphrey may be leaving.

Smathers, a close personal friend of the late President John F. Kennedy, also has had long association with Johnson. But the Florida senator bucked many of Kennedy's legislative proposals and could be expected to be out of step with some that Johnson makes.

Another potential candidate is Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, who has seniority of Senate service over both Pastore and Smathers. Long is generally a supporter of administration proposals but has not always seen eye-to-eye with the administration's team.

Johnson knows it is ticklish business for a president to become involved in any scramble over an internal organization matter of this kind. The last president who jumped into such a situation publicly was Franklin D. Roosevelt. FDR got the late Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky named majority leader in 1937 by the margin of a single vote.

Viet Premier to Be Picked

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Vietnamese Chief of State Phan Khanh Quoc said today with the High National Council to select a civilian prime minister for this war-torn nation.

The selection, already two days past the deadline set for the transfer from military to civil rule, apparently has been delayed by disagreement over the makeup of the new cabinet. But a decision is expected by tomorrow.

At least five candidates for the premiership are under consideration, a government spokesman said, who will nominate the prime minister, has declared a preference for Saigon Mayor Tran Van Hung.

South Viet Nam has been under military rule since President Ngo Dinh Diem was executed last November. The transfer to civil rule comes at a time of mounting tensions over stepped-up warfare with Communist Viet Cong guerrillas and the developing crisis with neighboring Cambodia.

Cambodia has accused South Viet Nam and the United States of attacking Cambodian villages on the Vietnamese border.

U.S. and Vietnamese officials have charged that Cambodia has provided sanctuary for Viet Cong guerrillas and in some cases actually aided the Communist rebels with covering gunfire.

POSSIBLE THREAT

In Bangkok, Thailand, Konthi Saphomphong, secretary general of the Southeast Asia

Treaty Organization (SEATO), said any movement of Communist troops into Cambodia would be taken as a threat to SEATO member countries.

Saphomphong referred to warnings by the Cambodian government that it may be required to ask Peking for military aid if the border incidents continue.

Cambodia denied yesterday it was involved in any way with the slaying on the Cambodian border last week of Army Capt. Herman V. Townsend of Georgetown, S.C.

A U.S. military spokesman in Saigon said Townsend was captured by unidentified troops who entered South Viet Nam from Cambodia under covering fire from a Cambodian border fort.

Report Nikita Pensions Off

Sources Say Home Located Near Kremlin

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev is receiving a pension of 1,000 rubles a month, usually reliable sources said today, and has a chauffeur-driven Volga car at his disposal. A thousand rubles equals $111 at the official rate.

The former Kremlin chief was said to have taken a four-room apartment in a big red brick apartment house a block from his former Kremlin office.

The Granovsky Street address is the old building put up in the 1920s to house Kremlin officials. This is a short sidewalk between Gersens and Kalinin streets. It is normally heavily patrolled by uniformed and plainclothesmen policemen.

Other tenants in the building include former premier Vyacheslav Molotov, who Khrushchev was reported to oblige after a Kremlin power struggle in 1957.

NEIGHBORS

The apartment opposite the Khrushchevs' was reported occupied by the former Red Army Marshal Georgi Zhukov, whom Khrushchev fired as defense minister in 1957.

The Khrushchevs lived in the Granovsky Street building in the 1930s, when he was a fast-rising young secretary in the Moscow party organization.

He was said to have maintained an apartment in the building even during his years of power.

Other top Kremlin officials whose addresses also are officially listed in the building are Khrushchev's successor in the premiership, Alexei N. Kosygin; and Communist party presidium members Mikhail Suslov and Dmitry Polyansky.

TRANSFER REJECTED

Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, rejected his transfer from the chief editorship of the Soviet government organ Izvestia to the post of deputy editor of a Kazakhstan Republic newspaper, these sources said.

Adzhubei's wife, Arada, was reported to have been granted permission to stay in Moscow at her editorial job on the scientific magazine Nauka i Zhizn (science and life).

These sources said she was not planning to follow Adzhubei if he left Moscow.

NEW YORK — The newly settled General Motors strike has left scars.

The automobile and allied industries may be quite a while getting rid of them.

The national settlement of the month-long work stoppage was the best possible news for the economy. It meant that business again can go full speed ahead.

However, it is likely to be some time before GM can get back into the full swing of turning out automobiles. Local issues were yet to be settled at some plants and with those facilities still on strike production will be delayed.

75 MILLION LOST

As for the strike's effects, it was estimated that it meant $1 million a day in lost wages and buying power and cost GM the production of 100,000 cars a week.

This loss of production came just at the time when new models were beginning to go to dealers.

The dealers saw their supplies of new cars vanish in the face of heavy demand. They felt that many of the lost sales will never be recovered but went to other manufacturers. Ford and Chrysler, which reached agreements with the United Auto Workers Union earlier, kept on producing.

New car sales in mid-October were said to be a year earlier totaling 164,306 against 211,800, a loss of 23 per cent.

LOSS IN GM

Most of the loss was in GM sales, which fell 51 per cent to 56,106 from 113,688 a year earlier. On the other hand, Chrysler sales gained 23 per cent and Ford 12 per cent.

ARE IN TOUCH

Griffin said he and Solomon Friend of New York City, attorney for the Durovics, will bring them to court today. Griffin said he had been in touch with Friend and that the New York lawyer planned to fly to Chicago.

One government source said the swift action had been taken because the investigation of Kriebien began only this week — because of indications that central figures in the case might try to leave the country.

But Griffin said the Durovics, who came from Yugoslavia, are in Chicago and available whenever authorities ask for them.

The Food and Drug Administration has declared Kriebien ineffective in the treatment of cancer and has prohibited its shipment across state lines.

Settled GM Strike Leaves Some Scars

Suppliers of materials for cars — steel, rubber, glass, etc. — lost business while GM was shut down. They, too, may be slow in regaining it.

Value Line report said that the distortion in output programming in the current four-quarter will have a continuing effect on the industry's 1965 performance since General Motors will not be able to make up its production losses during this quarter while Ford and Chrysler will face the problem of excessive dealer inventories by year end.

It estimated that 1965 model production will fall to about 7.25 million units, about 10 per cent below the 1964 total.

U.S. Is Seeking Two Men in Kriebien Drug Probe

CHICAGO (AP) — While federal agents today sought two men reportedly indicted by a federal grand jury investigating Kriebien, daily users of the controversial cancer drug expressed alarm that their supplies might be cut off.

Names of the indicted men have been withheld until they are in custody, and Judge William J. Campbell of U.S. District Court has set their bonds at $500,000 each. The nature of the charges also has been withheld.

An attorney for the Kriebien Research Foundation, however, said there is little question but that the indictments are against Dr. Steven Durovic, who developed the substance, and Dr. Durovic's lawyer brother, Marko.

The foundation lawyer, James L. Griffin, said he had tried Wednesday to learn from U.S. Attorney Edward V. Hanrahan if the Durovics were wanted. Griffin said, "If they would only tell us who is wanted, we will bring them in any time. They are not in hiding."

The Durovics have continued making Kriebien at Promak Laboratories in Chicago and marketing it legally within Illinois. It cannot be shipped out of state because of the FDA's ruling.

Big Ten Leaders Face Rugged Assignments

Michigan State Unit at Wisconsin; U-M Meets Northwestern

By The Associated Press
Ohio State and Purdue will put their unblemished Big Ten football records on the line in Saturday's feature conference games.
OSU, the nation's top-rated team, faces Iowa (1-2). Purdue is at home against rugged Illinois (3-1).
Michigan (2-1) plays host to Northwestern (1-3), Michigan State (1-2) is at Wisconsin (1-2) and Minnesota (1-2) is at Indiana (1-3) in the other league games.
TIE POSSIBLE
There's an outside chance that four teams could be tied for the lead come Saturday night.
It would take an Iowa victory over Ohio State and triumph by Illinois and Michigan to turn the trick.

Ohio State, which has allowed three conference opponents just 12 points and yielded 20 points in all of its games, will be playing its second, and last, game of the season away from its home field.

Purdue, back home for the first time in three weeks, will be trying to snap a two-game win streak by Illinois in the series.

Illinois won, 41-21, last season on its way to the championship. Purdue, which has never gone to the Rose Bowl, will have to keep winning to keep its chances alive. But it will be no easy task for the Boilermakers who meet MSU, Minnesota and Indiana after the encounter with Illinois.

I'M HEALTHY
Michigan, still in the title picture, is expected to be in top shape except for sophomore guard Bob Mielke who may be forced to limit his play because of an injured ankle.
MSU, which last week held Northwestern to a minus 16 yards on the ground, will be seeking its third straight victory over Wisconsin.

Three injured Spartans who did not play against Northwestern are expected to be ready for limited action. They are defensive center Buddy Owens, offensive halfback Harry Ammon and linebacker Ron Govert.
Wisconsin's outstanding linebacker Bob Richter will be out of action. Richter, a sophomore, suffered a dislocated elbow two weeks ago. Team doctors said Wednesday he is not in shape to face the Spartans.

Two other defensive regulars, Ron Frain and Tom Brighetti, are also out with injuries. Coach Milt Bruhn has shifted the lineup to compensate for the three missing players.
Northwestern has worked out junior quarterback Dave Milan on pass and place-kicking plays this week. He is to share the quarterbacking chores with Tom Myers against Michigan Saturday.

CMU Players Earn Awards

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Central Michigan University players gained back and line-man of the week honors in the Intercollegiate Conference (IAC) this week.
Jamie Gert, CMU fullback until two weeks ago, directed the team as a quarterback and hit six of nine passes for 54 yards and one touchdown, caught another pass for a score and intercepted two passes in a 12-0 victory over Illinois State.
Middle guard Ken Bickel was named the top lineman for his two-way play. He made 15 unassisted tackles while playing defense.

U. S. Squad Downs Army Team, 6-1

SEOUL (AP) — The touring U. S. Olympic baseball team closed its four-game goodwill series Thursday at Seoul Stadium by defeating a U.S. Armed Forces squad in Korea 6-1.

The visitors left here for Tokyo en route home later Thursday. Their record in Korea was three wins against one loss.

The team which played exhibition matches in Tokyo during the Olympic Games will leave Tokyo Friday.
Second baseman Gary Sutherland paced the winners by slugging two doubles as the visitors outdug the Armed Forces 10 to 6.

Sutherland drove in a run and then scored on Mike Epstein's single in the two-run first inning. The touring collegians made it 4-0 by adding two runs in the seventh.

Right fielder Buddy Hollowell drove in the runs with a double.
