Gruenther Tells Governors of Undersea Fleet

Says Russia Now Has More Submarines Than Nazis Had in '39

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(INS)—The Governors Conference returned to "politics as usual" today after being shaken briefly by Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther's warning of Russian armed strength.

The retiring NATO commander warned his Atlantic City audience also that the present Russian leaders are "more clever" than Stalin, and he noted:

1. Russia built between 70 and 80 submarines last year to bring her strength up to an estimated 400 modern undersea craft, whereas Hitler felt enough assurance to start World War II with between 60 and 70 u-boats.

2. When his predecessor, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, was in charge of NATO, eighty per cent of the Red Air Force was propeller-driven craft. Now, after a comparatively few years, 80 per cent of the Soviet's 20,000 planes are jets and despite much talk of demobilization the Russian ability to strike aggressively "ominously" increases.

3. Russia is reducing the size of her army because she is undergoing a "desperate manpower problem." She is forced to use 55 per cent of her population to support her agricultural program, while the U. S. uses only about 10 per cent.

The U. S. sorely needs her alliance with Western European countries and the countries which they, in turn, control, Gruenther said. Federal aid for schools brought wide divergence of opinion among the governors, some warning that it meant further loss of local control of education; others contended that adequate preparation of scientists in the race for world power made federal school aid imperative.

Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams proposes parents of college students be given income tax credit and that royalties be collected on higher education.

The Michigan Democrat said more students would be encouraged to go to college if their parents could write off the cost on their income tax returns.

NEED ENGINEERS

On a panel discussion of grade and secondary school needs, Williams declared U. S. industry cannot get enough college graduates, and that Soviet Russia is turning out twice as many engineers as the United States.

"In five years," he estimated, "the Soviets will be turning out 85,000 engineers a year as compared with 38,000 in the United States."

Adlai Stevenson appears likely to collect more than 400 overvoting presidential nominating votes from the 37 Democratic-controlled states represented at the conference.

On the basis of an Associated Press survey of opinion of the governors or their representatives from those states which have Democratic chief executives, Stevenson has only to break even in 21 GOP-dominated states to wrap up his party's nomination on an early ballot at the Aug. 13 Chicago convention.

On the Republican side, Gov. Fred Hall of Kansas started circulating a resolution among the 21 GOP governors praising President Eisenhower and pledging support for a second term bid.

Probe of Midair Collision Half Complete, Says CAA

Official investigation of the triple-fatal midair collision of two private planes over Pontiac Municipal Airport Saturday evening has proceeded "about halfway," Thomas S. Murphy, Civil Aeronautics Administration Safety Agent, said today.

But Murphy said his full report won't be ready for shipment to Washington for another 10 to 15 days, and no public statement of its findings will be made before the second week in August.

He said the investigation is intended, "primarily as a preventive measure."

"It's our duty to find out what causes contributed to any air crash," Murphy said. "Then, after we find out, we ask if there's anything we can do to prevent similar accidents—what rules or recommendations we might make in the future."

According to witnesses, Saturday's crash occurred when one of three planes flying to Almont from a plane auction in Defiance, Ohio, collided with another plane flying in the landing pattern over the airport.

James G. Pickett, 42, of Drayton Plains, pilot of the local plane, was killed in the crash. Dale Mathews, 25, of Charlevoix, pilot of the second plane, and his passenger Jess Trot, 60, of Almont, also died in the wreckage.

Witnesses estimated the crash occurred at an altitude of 800 feet. Flyers in the two surviving airplanes said their altimeters read 1,000 and 1,200 feet.

Airport Manager Homer D. Hoskins said yesterday a CAA regulation requires planes to maintain at least 1,500 feet of altitude when flying over an airport.

The forecast for tomorrow is partly cloudy and cooler with a high of 72 to 76 degrees.

The lowest temperature reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 53 degrees. At 1 p.m. the thermometer registered 79 degrees.

Report Wilson Is On Way Out

'Reliable Source' Avers Like Fed Up With Boners by Defense Secretary

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower has definitely determined to run again—barring an unforeseen health setback—and, if elected, expects to call for the resignation of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson shortly after his second term inauguration.

This is the word today from a highly placed administration source who has been in contact with the President during the past two days.

The source said Ike is highly incensed at Wilson for his two latest public blunders and would consider his immediate removal, except for the approaching political campaign.

The official pointed out that it would also be inconvenient to "break in" a new cabinet officer during Ike's current convalescence.

IKE WILL RUN

He said Eisenhower expects to spend from one to two weeks at his Gettysburg "dreamhouse" beginning this weekend, and will then complete his recuperation at the air-conditioned White House.

"There is absolutely no question in Ike's mind but that he will run for re-election," he said. "Naturally, if another attack should occur before the August convention, he would have to reconsider his plans, but the doctors assure him that he will be physically fit for another go at the presidency."

Eisenhower, despite his current illness, administered the severest slap-out he has ever tendered a cabinet officer last week, when he abruptly reversed Wilson's order that military officers wear civilian clothes during working hours.

Senate Slates Showdown Vote on AF Funds

House Chiefs Call Up Highway Bill for Action Today or Wednesday

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Senate schedules a showdown vote today on rival Republican and Democratic plans to boost Air Force funds above the 15 and two-thirds billion dollars requested by President Eisenhower.

On the Senate vote itself, both sides predict it will be nip-and-tuck. Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM), however, said Democrats will win adoption of their amendment increasing funds by 1,160,000,000 dollars.

Republicans are advocating a half billion dollar air fund jump.

The vote will climax long-standing Democratic charges that the administration is not doing enough to maintain air supremacy over Russia in the years ahead.

Their charges led to the appointment of the Symington air investigating committee.

Air Force generals testifying before the unit said they would like more money for planes, bases and manpower. They declared that Russia's air buildup is proceeding at a faster rate than that of the U. S. in many respects.

Final congressional action on a 23 billion dollar highway bill—the largest public works projects ever authorized—also gets under way today.

The measure will go to the White House today or tomorrow.

House leaders called up the bill as hammered out by a House-Senate conference committee for action early this afternoon.

But if a roll call is demanded, passage will have to wait until Wednesday. Because of the importance of the measure, observers believe a roll call will be asked, so that congressmen can be officially recorded.

And a Whopping Veterans' Pension Bill Expected to Cost 118 Billion Dollars During the Next 41 Years is predicted to set off a major political battle in the House today.

Under the committee bill, of the 148 billion dollars the government would pay, for pensions by the year 2000, an estimated 129 billions would go for non-service connected disabilities.

Among other provisions, the bill would hike maximum non-service connected pensions to $105 a month for veterans over 65. Other pensions, burial expenses and widow's compensations would also be increased.

The bill is opposed by the Disabled American Veterans and by Amvets.

Rep. Edmondson (D-Okla.) said the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars will back a $30-a-month pension instead of the $103 version originally approved by the House Veterans Committee.

Seek Contagious Hospital as Aid to Children's Home

Use of the Oakland County Contagious Hospital to house the overflow from the Children's Home was suggested yesterday at the County Supervisors' meeting.

A report suggesting the merger of the Contagious Hospital with the Tuberculosis Sanatorium was received without action by the Board of Supervisors, but a committee of the Board might take further action before the Board's next meeting in September.

A resolution by Mrs. Helen Roberts of Ferndale, chairman of the Board's Juvenile Committee, advocated temporary housing of the overflow from the County Children's Home in the Contagious Hospital. The resolution was referred to the Board of Auditors for action at their discretion.

John C. Austin, vice chairman of the Board of Auditors, disclosed today that the Board has met with the Pontiac General Hospital Board, who asked a two-year lease on the Contagious Hospital for added bed and storage space during construction of the planned addition to Pontiac General Hospital.

Willis M. Brewer, chairman of the Pontiac General Hospital Building Committee, said today no financial offer for the lease had been made.

To Pay Federal Road Cost Gasoline Price Up a Penny

LANSING—Starting probably next Monday, the tax on gasoline purchased by Michigan motorists will edge higher again, rising to an average of 9.8 cents a gallon.

The increase will amount to a penny. It will come about with enactment of the new federal highway program now ready for final action by Congress and the President's signature.

The Michigan Petroleum Industries Committee said today the added federal penny will bring to 42 per cent the total tax paid by Michigan motorists on gasoline purchases.

In Michigan, the increase will be fractionally greater because the state then applies the three per cent sales tax on the base, or retail, price and on the federal gas tax as well.

Then the state applies its own six cents a gallon gas levy, producing the final tax increment.

Palmer called the impending new tax rate the highest on any essential commodity in the nation.

MADA Serves Support Notice on Car Makers

O'Mahoney - Monroney Bills Seek Restrictions on Auto Sales Methods

LANSING (AP)—Officials of the Michigan Automobile Dealers Assn. have served notice on auto manufacturers that the group will support pending federal legislation to control automotive distribution.

Directors and officers of the MADA wired industry officials of the decision despite a reported caution from one company that enactment of the O'Mahoney or the Monroney bills by Congress would bring undesirable changes in the entire system of merchandising and distribution of automobiles.

The O'Mahoney bill would enable dealers to sue manufacturers for failure to use good faith in termination of contracts or for forcing dealers to accept cars they do not want.

The Monroney bill, a companion measure, would force manufacturers to buy back unsold automobiles. The O'Mahoney bill has passed the Senate 75-1.

The MADA, holding its annual convention here, yesterday wired the presidents of auto manufacturing companies, that the organization is backing the bills.

BOTH MAY SUFFER

Meanwhile, it was disclosed that 96 key Ford dealers from throughout the nation came out against the proposed legislation at a meeting in Dearborn last week.

At the Dearborn conference, Board Chairman Ernest R. Breech of Ford reportedly warned that both dealers and manufacturers might suffer if the legislation passes.

A Detroit newspaper said it learned Breech told the group sweeping changes in merchandising and distribution would result if the bills were passed.

The newspaper quoted Breech as saying Ford would be forced to raise car prices if the corporation has to assume the risk of dealer inventories as provided in the Monroney measure.

MAY ADD DEALERS

Moreover, according to the Detroit paper, Breech continued, Ford "might be compelled to set up service facilities of our own" if the company is required to compensate dealers for maintaining warranty and service facilities.

He said, too, that Ford would probably "add a large number of dealers and various kinds of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Twining Views Soviet Bomber

Cordial Russian Airmen Answer Questions About Supersonic Warplane

MOSCOW—Gen. Nathan Twining, U. S. Air Force chief of staff, has been given a look at a new Soviet bomber the Russians say can fly faster than sound.

The U. S. Air Force does not yet have such a supersonic bomber. The speed of sound varies from 760 miles an hour at sea level to about 663 miles an hour at altitudes above 35,000 feet.

The top U. S. airman, a group of his aides and British, French and other foreign military men were shown the new plane during a conducted tour of the closely guarded Kubinka air base, about 40 miles from Moscow.

Reporters who tried to trail the foreign visitors were halted 20 miles outside Moscow.

Twining said later the new craft was a twin-engine, light attack bomber.

Twining said Soviet pilots demonstrated their skills for the visitors, taking off in MIG-17s in formations of five, then circling and showing their style of peeling off. "Their technique is good," said Twining, "just like ours."

"We asked a lot of questions and they were pretty good about answering them," he said. "They let us take our time, didn't hurry us at all."

Girl Scout Town of Roundup Pops Up on Map

By JANET ODELL

A new town has been born in Oakland County, and telephone operators all over the nation have been alerted to handle calls for it. Roundup, Michigan, site of the national Girl Scout encampment, is on the map figuratively.

Actually, the map still reads, Highland Recreation Area, near Milford. Some 5,000 girls will arrive there Thursday, and any time you have 5,000 of the female sex, you've got to have a goodly share of telephones.

In order to service the telephone needs, the General Telephone Company of Michigan trenched in 22,000 feet of cable. This cable carries the circuits for Western Union, radio and TV, in addition to the telephone wires.

All this cable will be removed after July 11.

Twenty-four hour service is being maintained by a staff of experienced volunteers. Mrs. Lois Regan of Almont, is chief operator. Mrs. John D. McNeely of 4740 Forest Ave., is one of the staff.

Twenty-five trunk lines for long distance calls terminate on a Detroit board. The other lines go through the regular Milford exchange. There are 16 public phones in a pay station tent in addition to seven phones in the press tent.

Today the last of the 1,000 adult volunteer leaders will arrive at the campsite. They will put the final touches on the site and the program in readiness for the invading force of teenage Scouts on Thursday.

Eleven special trains will bring the girls to the Detroit yards, where 104 chartered buses will transport them and their luggage to Highland. Each patrol of eight girls is bringing its own equipment, including tents, charcoal stoves, storage units and personal gear.

Mrs. Martha Coe of New York City who is directing the three pageants during the twelve-day encampment is working with lighting experts and army engineers. The Army will move scenery and lend jeeps to be fixed up like early American trains and steamships.

Mrs. N. S. Baldridge of Coldwater, is Health and Safety Chairman of the Roundup. A former member of the national staff in the same field, Mrs. Baldridge coordinates the work of the state police, the American Red Cross for the waterfront, the Fifth Army for the hospital services and the state Public Health department for fire protection.

Also under her direction are the state Conservation people working on the site.

Until Saturday, June 30 the Roundup area is closed to the public.

Supersanitary Code

Duck Airport Hassle by Committee Action on Request

Oakland County Supervisors, at their meeting yesterday, voted approval of the Sanitary Code adopted by the Board of Health despite some Supervisors' doubts of its legality.

The code imposes more stringent regulations than state laws. Supervisors favoring approval argued that the question of legality should be decided in the courts, and this could not be done before the approval was given.

Wayne, Macomb and Monroe Counties have similar codes.

Supervisors also declined to enter the controversy over Wayne Major and Willow Run airports, by referring to the Inter-County Committee a resolution supporting use of Wayne Major by commercial airlines.

In a roll call vote, supervisors bowed out of the political arena by tabling indefinitely a resolution which would have established a bipartisan committee of the board to encourage voters to register for the coming elections. The vote was 41 to 18.

In a series of legal moves, supervisors okayed annexation of 58 acres of Milford Township to the Village of Milford. There was no opposition to the move.

Aug. 7 was set as election date for the village incorporation of Wood Creek Farms subdivision in Farmington Township.

Supervisors honored two of their colleagues and the late Ernest B. Blanchard, supervisor of Farmington Township for 15 years.

Plaques were presented Blanchard's successor and George S. Horkey, supervisor of Royal Oak Township for 17 years, and Elmer W. Haack, supervisor from Birmingham and Southfield Township for 24 years.

Petitions for annexation to Royal Oak of a portion of Madison Heights were killed by the Board after its boundaries Committee reported the petitions were faulty. Two separate suits involving the petitions have been filed in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Supervisors decided to proceed with building the new Animal Shelter on the County Service Center site despite an unexpected rise in costs of construction. Mikes in costs of animal licensing and other services were suggested to help defray the expense.

A lease was granted Michigan State Police for land on the Service Center site, and the old lease was cancelled.

Funds were appropriated for hiring six additional employees in the Oakland County Sheriff's department and the Equalization department.

Board Chairman Deos Hamlin of Farmington agreed to appoint an extra man to the five-man Inter-County Committee to act as alternate for regular members.

Hells Canyon Dam Bill Ready for House Debate

WASHINGTON — The House Interior Committee today approved legislation to authorize the controversial federal Hells Canyon dam in the Snake River between Idaho and Oregon.

The committee vote, 15-13, clears the bill for debate in the House and what is expected to be a full-scale attack on the Eisenhower administration's power policies.

The project, strongly backed by pro-public power forces in Congress and over the country, is a rival river development plan to three private utility projects that have been licensed for construction in the same stretch of the river.

As the federal dam would rule out the private projects and vice versa, the public vs. private power issue has been clearly drawn.

King, who died yesterday at the age of 77, will be held Friday at Washington National Cathedral with burial at the Naval Academy at Annapolis. The body will be taken by air to Washington today and will lie in state at the cathedral. The World War II commander of the U.S. Navy died at Portsmouth Naval Hospital of acute heart failure induced by high blood pressure, from which he suffered for many years.

President Eisenhower noted the passing of his old friend with this statement issued at Walter Reed Army Hospital, Washington, where he is recovering from an operation: "The nation has lost a great American and an outstanding naval officer."

"As commander in chief of our naval forces and as chief of naval operations during World War II, Adm. King carried his heavy responsibilities with courage, brilliance and continued devotion to duty. "Mrs. Eisenhower joins me in extending our deepest sympathies to his family."

Other messages of condolence were received by King's family from many parts of the world. Marines lined the mall of the Portsmouth shipyard as a 17-gun salute boomed while King's body was taken to a Portsmouth funeral home last night before transfer to Washington today.

With King at the time of his death was his son, Lt. Cmdr. Ernest J. King Jr. King took over as commander in chief two weeks after the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941, and as chief of naval operations only three months later. He was the first man to hold both ranks at the same time.

Besides his wife, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Mary Lee Jones of Pontiac, one brother, Joe Bates Lockett, three sisters, Mrs. Clara Bates of Chicago, Ill., Lenora Gillespie of Okolona and Mrs. Pearlina Wicks of Cheftville, Ala. Name Kalkaska as Jet Air Base

Senate Armed Service Committee Votes Site Instead of Manistee

WASHINGTON — The Senate Armed Services Committee voted today to build a Michigan jet air base at Kalkaska instead of in Manistee County.

The Air Force picked Kalkaska last year but the House voted April 11 to switch the site to Manistee County.

Thus, if today's committee action is upheld by the Senate, a Senate-House conference will have to try to settle the two-year-old site controversy.

The Michigan base item is contained in a bill approved by the committee which would authorize hundreds of military construction projects throughout the country which would cost two billion dollars.

The Air Force selected three other sites in the congressional district of Rep. Ruth Thompson (R-Mich) but had to abandon them in the face of local or Congressional opposition.

BIG HASSLE
The Air Force then picked Kalkaska in an adjacent district represented by Rep. Knox (R).

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) led the House battle to switch the site back to Manistee County in Miss Thompson's district.

Miss Thompson has said former Secretary of the Air Force Talbott promised her the base, then went back on his word by moving the site to Kalkaska.

The Air Force has withdrawn a request for money to begin construction of the base in the fiscal year beginning July 1 because of the site dispute.

ready incurred Ike's annoyance by using the word "phony" in his discussion of Senate attempts to dissolve the Air Force budget.

"He now agrees with some of his top advisers that Charlie Wilson's usefulness is at an end," the official told this writer. "The President is a peace-maker by nature, and he simply can't understand how a man can pull as many boners and wound as many feelings as the Defense Secretary has managed to do."

The Defense Secretary also trod on Ike's own first love when he issued—without previous clearance—orders that would have forced military officers to buy large quantities of civilian clothing on their limited government incomes.

An official source said Wilson is "safe" for the time being, unless he himself decides to resign, but that Ike does not want him in his potential second-term cabinet.

He confided that Ike, who as a political novice four years ago felt businessmen would make the best government executives, is now beginning to doubt his own arguments.

"Business executives simply don't know enough about compromise and listening to the other fellow's point of view," the source said. "They're used to issuing unquestioned orders. It takes a trained politician to cut through the maze in Washington without stepping on too many sensitive toes."

3 Killed, 19 Wounded as Police Machinegun Shouting Students

GUATEMALA — Police firing submachineguns and pistols to break up a demonstration against the government's crackdown on Red agitation killed three university students and wounded 19 last night on Guatemala's city's main street.

The victims were in a parade of several hundred students marching toward the government palace to protest curtailment of civil liberties under the "state of alarm" imposed Sunday by President Carlos Castillo Armas' regime.

About half the marchers were girls.

One girl was wounded. So was a policeman.

The state of alarm put Guatemala under a form of martial law. The government said it was necessary to prevent "seditious disorders" plotted by Communists.

Soon after last night's shooting, the government ordered censorship of news dispatches sent abroad.

Breche predicted such adjustments would result in a reduction of the margin of dealer profits. Ford officials declined immediate comment on the newspaper story.

WILES SEES GROWTH

Ivan L. Wiles, executive vice president in charge of General Motors dealer relations, said basic economic signs point to continued long range growth of the automobile business with "substantial encouragement" for the months immediately ahead.

Wiles addressed a luncheon meeting at the annual convention of the dealers.

"We have three basic conditions constantly exerting their influences on the long range growth of the automobile business," Wiles said. He listed these as increased productivity, a broadening market and population growth.

"There is no evidence," he noted, "that any of these factors are likely to lessen in importance in the foreseeable future."

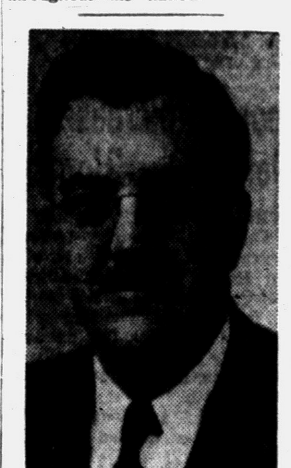

As for the short range, he said, "we should derive substantial encouragement, I think, from the behavior of the economy generally."

NAACP Convention Opens on Coast

SAN FRANCISCO — In the spotlight of election year politics, the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People opened its 47th annual convention here today with nearly 1,000 delegates on hand.

Formal opening tonight will include welcome speeches and a keynote address by Thurgood Marshall, NAACP special counsel who led the successful legal battle for racial desegregation in U.S. schools.

Association leaders already have made it clear they consider this a "crucial year" as their fight to obtain what they call "full freedom" for their race in integrated schools, churches, housing, jobs, transportation and recreation throughout the nation.

Name Reed C. Culp as Head of Kiwanis

Salt Lake City businessman, Reed C. Culp, was named president of Kiwanis International at the organization's recent annual convention at San Francisco. It was announced today by delegates of Pontiac area clubs following their return from the sessions.

Culp will serve as official spokesman for a quarter million Kiwanians in 4,200 clubs in his new position. The new president had previously held several district, state, and international posts. Over 14,000 delegates made the convention the largest of Kiwanis membership in history.

Citizens Seek 2,000 Seat Auditorium Near School

BIRMINGHAM—Citizens efforts toward an auditorium near the present high school were revealed at last night's commission meeting. Land for required parking at the auditorium would feasibly come out of the 60-acre site that the city organizations are eyeing for the driver training program and recreational use, according to city Manager D. C. Egbert. Egbert, whose resignation was accepted with regret at the commission meeting, was lauded by the present mayor, James Allen, and a former mayor, Milton F. Mallender, for his service with the city since 1929.

Among his reports last night, he told commissioners that citizens have asked for a 2,000 seat auditorium. It would be either a part of the group of buildings on the high school site or as a separate building, but it would require increased parking, he specified.

The commission authorized the lease of the land required by the driver training project for fall to the school district, and papers will be prepared and presented for final vote at the next meeting. The Recreation Board is still working on its suggestions for playgrounds and other recreational use for the area.

Discussion at the commission session, which lasted until midnight, included assessments for paving Holland Avenue, which has been postponed indefinitely, and of the reserving of a flood plain at the rear of unplatted parcels on North Woodward Avenue.

For the parcels, rezoning partially to terrace with a plain reserved along the River Rouge, was approved by commissioners, who then tabled the motion rather than let it go into effect. An agreement with the property owner is sought before its release.

Hope that the four property owners, one of whom is the city, of lots on Holland Avenue east of Eton can agree on payments for a projected paving project was voiced by commissioners. The Holland hearing was continued on the complaint of two owners.

Few complaints on the water since Detroit water joined local well supplies are reported by Egbert. None of the complaints were of major status, he says.

With the rainfall over the weekend, consumption dropped from six to two million a day, with a million gallons coming from Detroit.

Kansas Police Kill Man Upset Over Divorce

RICHLAND, Kan. — A father of six children, described by officers as distraught over his wife's divorce action, was shot and killed in a gun battle with police last night.

The dead man was Fred Heberling, 50, owner of a cafe.

Mrs. Heberling had filed suit for divorce and won a court order restraining him from bothering her.

The shooting took place inside the cafe, where deputies had gone to investigate reports Heberling was threatening to shoot any officer on sight.

The Pontiac City Commission still isn't convinced that Grand Trunk Western Railroad officials' request for a $700,000 industrial support yard in the city's northwest corner is the only place for the project.

Top railroad officials from Detroit, including Frank N. Gaffney, general manager, and A. N. Laird, chief engineer, appeared before a special session of the commission last night requesting the city grant permission to the railroad to build the new yard.

The commissioners are hesitant in that it would block a city plan to extend Carlisle and Stanley streets north to Montclair to relieve some of the rush hour traffic on Baldwin Ave. The plan has been under study for two years, according to City Manager W. K. Willman.

Officials from Pontiac Motor Division and Fisher Body Division plants appeared also requesting the project be approved. It is being planned to handle incoming and outgoing freight from both General Motors plants.

The project is proposed for an area south of Walton boulevard, north of the Grand Trunk belt line, with the major portion of the yard lying between Stanley and Baldwin avenues.

After a two-hour discussion last night, it was decided Laird and City Manager Willman would confer tomorrow with the commissioners to hear more at their informal meeting Thursday night.

The City Commission wants to know why the yard cannot be constructed further to the west paralleling Telegraph Road.

Laird explained to the commissioners that "the city street extension program would completely invalidate the railroad's plan." He also emphasized that the area in question is the only site "feasible."

The railroad officials offered an evening at Manley-Balley Funeral Home, before her body is sent to Rockwood, Tenn., her birthplace, for service and burial.

She had lived here since her marriage in 1949 and was an employee of the Arcadia Manufacturing Co.

Surviving are her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Fred Eachus, her parents, the George Cummings, three grandchildren, and four sisters, all of Rockwood, another sister in the South, and a brother in Germany.

Contagious Hospital Sought for Children

Auditors could take action on instructions from a Supervisors' committee.

Austin emphasized today no definite instructions have been given by Supervisors on merging the operations of the TB Sanatorium and the Contagious Hospital.

Use of the Contagious Hospital by either Pontiac General Hospital or the Children's Home will hinge on the merger, he pointed out.

TELLS OF CROWDING

Supervisors yesterday received a letter from Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, detailing the crowded conditions at the Children's Home and setting forth both temporary and long-range plans for solving the problem.

There are now 137 children housed in the Children's Home, Moore said. When built in 1928, the Home was intended to house 80.

In addition, he said, 20 boys are being cared for in Camp Oakland, and 36 children are housed in two cottages.

Moore said authorities at the Home believe that over a five to ten-year period, the Home will need facilities to care for 350 children, or a minimum added sleeping capacity for 128 in addition to classrooms and other facilities.

Income Norm in '79 Forecast at $12,000

EAST LANSING — By 1979, a Purdue University economist says, Americans will have an average income of $12,000, after taxes.

The figure was given Monday by Dr. Emanuel Weiler in a talk to the 33rd annual National Institute for Organizational Management, meeting here.

Weiler said the economic growth of the next quarter century could be expected to duplicate that of the 1929-1956 period. He said a depression could be expected at some point along the line.

Weiler said government controls tend to disturb the normal economic cycle, and that strong controls deny the rights of minorities and must be considered undemocratic.

About 400 executives of chambers of commerce and trade and professional associations are attending institute sessions at Kellogg Center.

New Rail Yard Studied by City Commissioners

The Pontiac City Commission alternate to the city's plan. That is to substitute extension of Columbia Avenue to the northwest through to Telegraph instead of extending Stanley.

"We lessen the value of the yard the further we go from the two industries," Gaffney answered explaining why it could not be moved to another location.

Pontiac's State Representative, Leslie H. Hudson, urged the commission to make an extensive study of the request.

The yard will be approximately 3,000 feet long and 300 feet wide and will incorporate the railroad's present belt line. Switching and siding operations will be carried on in the yard.

Both parties agreed this was a "dual" problem affecting the community and industry.

Fisher Body Traffic Manager Thomas J. Crawford told the commission: "If we're going to operate Fisher Body and expand... the railroad must grow also."

The urgency of the proposal was emphasized by R. J. Longpre, production manager at Pontiac Motor, who said: "We've lost thousands of hours because we couldn't get cars in."

Dual Retirement Benefits Has Dual Requirements

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

Drawing a veteran's pension has no bearing on your eligibility to Social Security retirement payments. But, drawing Social Security retirement benefits does have a bearing on your eligibility to a veteran's pension.

That may sound confusing, but that's the way the eligibility requirements for the two payments are set up. Here's the story:

If you work in employment or self-employment covered by Social Security, you must make contributions from your earnings to Social Security during your working years. In return, you're generally assured a retirement income in case your earnings are cut off by old age.

However, you may earn a certain minimum in wages and still draw the payments. In general, if you're between 65 and 72 you may earn up to $1,200 a year and draw retirement payments for 12 months of the year. If you earn more than $1,200 a year, the payments may not be paid for one or more months of the year.

Veteran's pension payments — $78.75 a month for most vets over 65 — don't count toward the $1,200 limit. The reason is that under Social Security "earnings" only means money received for work for an employer or for yourself. Income from savings, property, investments, company pensions, insurance, annuities or veteran's pensions is not counted as "earnings" under the limit.

3 POINTS NECESSARY

To be eligible for a veteran's pension, you must (1) have a discharge under other than dishonorable conditions from at least 90 days of service in one of the Armed Forces with some part of the service during wartime; (2) be permanently and totally disabled from an ailment which is not connected with your service; (3) have a yearly income of less than $1,400 if you have no dependents or less than $2,700 if you have dependents.

The third requirement is where Social Security retirement payments play a part. In general, the Veterans Administration (VA) counts any money received from wages, investments, rents, commercial insurance, businesses, bequests and retirement payments — including Social Security payments — against the limits.

Here's how this works: Suppose you have no dependents and are eligible as a retired worker to the maximum monthly Social Security retirement payment of $108.50 ($1,303 a year). And, suppose you're a totally and permanently disabled World War vet.

Without dependents, you can only have $1,399 a year in income and still be eligible for the veteran's pension. Your Social Security payments total $1,303. Thus, you'll be over the VA's income limitation if you receive $96 a year more in income.

There's one special allowance the VA makes in applying the income limitations. It doesn't count any money you receive from Social Security against the limit until all the money you've put into Social Security has been paid back to you in monthly payments.

For example: Suppose, over the years, you've a total of $1,000 deducted from your pay in Social Security contributions. Until you've received that amount in Social Security retirement payments, the payments don't count against the VA's income limits.

(You may write Ray Henry in care of this newspaper about your Social Security or retirement problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)

Taxation Agreement Signed by U.S., France

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and France have signed an agreement to make technical changes in their double taxation accords.

Under these conventions, reached in 1939 and 1946, citizens of the two countries, when they reside in one and work in the other, are protected from paying taxes in both.

Unsung Heroes and Heroines Waging 'Hot War'

CHALK ONE FOR THE GIRLS — Board mark-up girls at the Des Moines, Ia., brokerage office of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane have adopted the Bermuda shorts style for hot summer days. Carolyn Waldron, 20, and Madeline Kieler, 17, say the shorts give them greater freedom of movement and do not result in some of the chalked-up figures getting smeared as is the case when they wear dresses. Although their male counterparts in the office haven't gone so far as to adopt the pants, some have joined other "emancipated" men in discarding shirts and ties for sportshirts.

The adage that people are apt to be loquacious but ineffective when it comes to the weather ain't necessarily so... not when the mercury soars into the 90's, anyway.

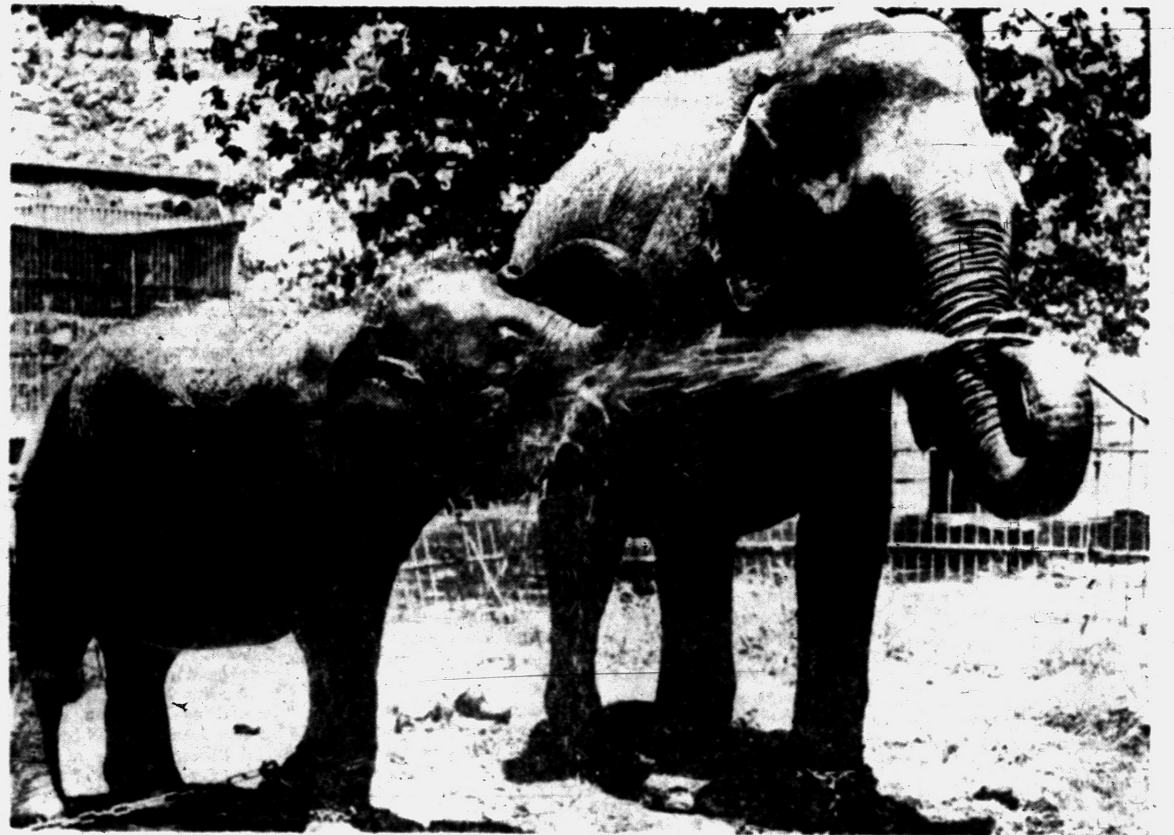

Ingenious Americans go to great lengths to be comfortable when the humidity goes up and the sun beats cruelly down on head and rooftop. It's a pastime that has earned its own slogan ("beat the heat"), has earned millions for air conditioner makers, and which makes resort-owners smile widely indeed.

City youngsters as they dance through the stream of water given off by an opened fire hydrant.

But not nearly as puzzled are local office workers at the prospect of a pair of Bermuda shorts on two mark-up girls in the staid offices of a stock brokerage firm. And many a secretary might feel envious at the scene of the Fort Wayne, Ind., young lady who donned a bathing suit and walked off to sit a spell in a local ice house.

It's all a part of keeping cool in the "good old summertime"—and it'll be with us for a long time, unless some poor fugitive from the heat figures out a way to move Oakland County next to the North Pole for three months of the year.

SPRAY ONE WAY — "Big Ruth" and "Little Ellen," star attractions at the Little Rock, Ark., Zoo, are without air-conditioning this summer. But, as the more experienced Ruth doubtlessly told her young protege, "A little water spray helps." It was 92 degrees in the shade when the cameraman came upon this scene.

COOLEST BOOTH — "Air conditioned" on three sides is this ultra-modern telephone booth in which users can talk while the breeze goes by. Actually, the unit is a "phonevision" booth in which the caller can watch to whom he is talking by a combination of telephone and television. The booth was developed by a student at the Illinois Institute of Technology. The enclosed structure above was built especially for parks and wooded areas.

MISS CALIFORNIA

BEAUTY QUEENS—No summer heat wave can be experienced to its limit without pictures of pretty girls in bathing suits. Among the elite this year are Joan Beckett (top), "Miss California," and Beverly Cass, "Miss New Jersey."

UNDERWATER CLASSROOM — Students at the University of Michigan never skip classes to get in a swim. They just have to drop into the school's swimming pool and they're in class. The instructor, wearing a white T-shirt, briefs his students from the university's department of fisheries on the do's and don'ts of skin-diving.

ROYALTY TOPS HEAT—Italian Princess Doris Pignatelli cruises to a stop on water skis while serving as a member of her country's team in a match between Italy and Great Britain.

ICE HOUSE BLUES—Estelle Dapa, pretty office secretary from Fort Wayne, Ind., decided recently that it was too darned hot to work, so she went to a local ice factory and took over the storage room. The ice in the background is real and oh, so cool. Outside it was 93 degrees—inside it was 28.

David Bauer, father of two of the great names in women's golf, Alice and Marlene, has found a new protégé for the game.

He started Alice in golf at the age of 11 and then put a club in Marlene's hand at three. His newest star-to-be is 19-month-old Heidi Bauer Hagge, Alice's daughter.

Grandfather Bauer has cut a club down to fit Heidi's swing and he predicts the best of Bauer family golfing girls is yet to come, in about 12 years.

"She is learning fast," said Bauer "and by the time she is four she will probably be doing better than Marlene at that age."

Marlene, the younger of the sisters, was hitting the ball 35 yards when she was four, according to Bauer, and at 15 she was shooting men's par on some of the tougher courses around Los Angeles.

At the course in Los Angeles where she won the women's golf championship there was a sign that read "Children Under 14 Not Allowed." She was 13 at the time.

The elder Bauer compared the games of Alice and Marlene and at the Forest Lake Country Club here we had occasion to talk with him, he pointed to reason's for Marlene's recent surge in the LPGA.

"Actually Alice has more of the better strokes than Marlene," he said, "but Alice becomes nervously excited over her shots."

"One thing I can truthfully say however is that Marlene's chipping is definitely her strong point." "In fact she can chip better than many of the men pros I know," he added.

In her chipping Marlene has a tendency to be cautious to a point where her ball is always short, he pointed out, so now "I've been trying to get her to shoot for a spot just to the other side of the cup."

Bauer at this time actually called Marlene's way to victory in the Forest Lake tourney. "If she wins, I think it will be because she will put herself in position with a good chip shot."

That's just what happened in the sudden death play-off. Marlene put a beautiful chip within a foot of the cup, then dropped it to defeat Patty Berg.

Explaining Marlene's red hot streak in winning four of the last six LPGA tournaments, Bauer said, "it was just the matter of getting tournament-tough."

"When she first turned pro amidst all the publicity the girls were getting, she was tight and she tried too hard to live up to those press stories," he said.

"Now she is more relaxed, although the publicity on the marriage has not eased the situation mentally," he figured.

Bauer had little to say about Marlene's marriage to her sister's ex-husband and it was evident during the stay here that he had little to say to Hagge as well.

It seemed apparent that Bauer was willing to forget he had a son-in-law by the name of Hagge, but he readily pointed out that there were still two Bauer girls, Alice and Marlene and a Bauer grandchild, Heidi.

Alston Needs Plenty Help

BROOKLYN (U-P)—Manager Walt Alston of the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers sat in his Eb-bets field cubicle today and began thinking out loud.

"Let's see," he murmured, "we haven't had a starting pitcher finish a game in the last 18. That would indicate we need pitching help badly."

But, on the other hand, neither do we have a 300 hitter on the club, and everyone said we were loaded with power."

Last night, for example, the Brooks pulled one out of the first in Jersey City, their home away from home, when they edged the Chicago Cubs, 3-2. Until Junior Gil-

Union 9 Trims Griff's Grill

The CIO Local 584 lashed out with a 13-hit attack against two hurlers to chalk up a 10-6 victory over Griff's Grill in a Class A City Baseball League game Monday night at Wisner Field.

Third baseman Hal Trott made three hits, including a triple, and 2nd baseman Ron Woodhull added two blows to lead the Union assault against starter and loser Jim Jones and Lynn Wright, who relieved in the 6th inning.

Dick Covrea started on the hill for the CIO and worked until the 4th inning when Griff's shelled him with four runs. Jim Wagner took over to stem the tide and Covrea received credit for the win.

CIO: 10-6 (13 hits, 2 runs, 1 error). Griff's: 6-10 (10 hits, 2 runs, 1 error). Covrea, Wagner and Allen; Jones, Wright and Kind.

Coast Trials to Give Boost to Games Fund

Expect From $100,000 to $150,000 to Come From Finals

LOS ANGELES (U-P)—The U. S. Olympic Fund will get a boost of $100,000 to $150,000 from the final track and field trials here, Bill Nicholas predicts.

Nicholas is general manager of the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum where the business of selecting the Olympic team will be run off Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

He foresees a crowd of 55,000 for Friday night and 45,000 for Saturday. He expects few, if any, reserved seats will be left by Friday. 32,000 reserved places already having been sold for each of the programs.

"It's the biggest advance sale we've ever had for a track meet," he said.

Nicholas said that as of yesterday ticket buyers had contributed $2,200 to the fund in addition to the admission price.

Everything above actual expenses goes to the fund, Nicholas said. The Coliseum commission, he added, is charging no rent and, furthermore, guaranteed the fund $50,000 or the net if that's bigger as it appears certain to be.

The brilliant array of talent is on hand, for the most part, working out. The Coliseum will be open to them again today, then will be closed until meet time. Most competitors will finish their training at the University of Southern California practice field.

Olympic Coach Jim Kelly of Minnesota says the team selected here—the first three finishers and the fourth as an alternate in each event—will be in excellent condition.

There will be a series of summer meets to keep the men in shape.

Jockey Given 'Pin Money' From Purses

STANTON, Del. (U-P)—Apprentice jockey Reggie Root, one of the highest paid 17-year-olds in the country, gets $50 a week for spending money.

Young Reggie, son of 39-year-old jockey Ralph (Buddy) Root, is the second leading rider at Delaware Park with 19 wins to trail veteran Eldon Nelson by just three firsts.

But no matter how many races he wins, his parents won't let him handle the sudden flood of money. All his earnings over $50 a week will be banked.

Shutouts Mark City Play

Two sparkling shutouts were hurled Monday night to highlight men's City Softball League action at Beaudette and North Side parks.

Hank Dudzinski tossed a three-hitter as Bicmar Inn whitewashed Sam Benson, 2-0, in an American division game at Beaudette. Dick Cork also gave up only three hits, but two came in the 4th inning when Bicmar scored both runs.

Richard's Tavern blanked Walled Lake Market, 5-0, in a National loop game at North Side, behind the two-hit pitching of Harper. The Tavern hurler struck out nine. Opposing pitcher Cal Bidwell allowed six safeties.

Elks No. 810 fought off a 7th-inning rally to nose out Stadium Inn, 4-3, at Beaudette, and Pontiac Select a Drink upset Louie's Tavern, 5-1, on the North Side diamond. Eldon Sharrard blasted a home run in Stadium's losing cause and Louie's bats were limited to four hits by pitcher Bob Harris.

Darrel Thorpe hurled the no-hit masterpiece as Boys Club No. 1 swamped the Clarkston Wolves, 12-0, in a Class F game. Thorpe struck out seven batters in his six-inning stint.

Arnold Larson twirled a three-hitter as the Pontiac Police whitewashed the Keego Harbor Boys Club, 5-0, in a Class E contest. Leonard Biallas homered 4th inning for the Police club.

In other Class E games, the Clarkston Merchants downed the Auburn Heights Boys Club, 5-2, and the Pontiac Boys Club drubbed Gingellville, 14-5. Don Nicholle outscored West Side Kiwanis, 8-6, in a Class F battle.

A scheduled "F" game between the Pontiac Sluggers and GMC resulted in a double forfeit and Tel-Huron forfeited to Matthews-Hargreaves in another "F" tilt. The Whitfield Cubs forfeited to Wing Lake and Earl's Market.

Canadians Still Hold Lead

VIRGINIA WATER, England (U-P)—Stan Leonard of LaChute, Quebec, led Ben Hogan of Fort Worth, Tex., by one stroke at the 45-hole turn of the International Individual Golf Tournament today.

Canada's two-man team of Leonard and Al Balding held a five-stroke margin over Hogan and Sam Snead at the same stage in the Canada Cup competition, played concurrently.

Hogan, one stroke behind Leonard at the start of today's final 36 holes of the dual 72-hole tournament, pulled ahead on the 1st three holes this morning but fell behind again at the 7th hole of the morning round.

After 14 holes of the morning round, the 50th of the tournament, Leonard had stretched his lead over Hogan to two strokes and the Canadian team continued to pull away from the Americans as Snead continued to play badly.

Hogan appeared to be tiring rapidly and Leonard showed no signs of letting up on the pressure. Hogan drew even at the 10th with a par three, but he bogeyed the next two and Leonard went ahead with a par four at the 11th. At the 13th Leonard got a birdie three and went two strokes ahead.

Hogan and Leonard both shot one-under-par 34s on the front nine. Balding had a 36 and Snead a 38. This added two more strokes to the Canadians' lead in the aggregate scoring for the Canada

Cup. They had a three stroke margin after the first two rounds, 283 to 286.

The Canada Cup team competition, in which teams from 20 nations were left after the first two rounds, is decided on the same medal scores as the individual international championship.

Leonard, shooting a 2nd round 67 yesterday, took a one-stroke lead over Hogan at the halfway point, 136 to 137, Belgium's Flori Van Donck started the last two rounds in 3rd place at 138.

Hogan shot the first three holes over the Wentworth Club's "Burma Road" course in 4-3-3 while Leonard took 6-3-4. Leonard started today's 36-hole final with a one stroke edge over Hogan, taking the lead with a 67 yesterday.

The two-man team contest for the Canada Cup, which is played concurrently, remained close although Hogan's good start picked up a couple of strokes for the United States.

A stiff wind was blowing and the weather was cool as the Americans and Canadians, paired together in the last four-some of a 20-team field, began play in the 3rd round.

Leonard was in the rough on the 1st and 3rd holes and only a long putt for a par four on the 3rd saved him from further trouble. Hogan knocked in a 20-foot putt for a birdie three on the 3rd.

Hogan and Snead both took bogey fives at the 505-yard 4th hole while Leonard and Balding had par fours. Both Americans were bunkered on their 2nd shots. Snead blasted out 12 feet past the hole and just missed his putt. Hogan came out to within four feet and also missed.

Six Americans Still in Play at Sunningdale

Wiffie Smith Is Among Today's Winners in British Amateur

SUNNINGDALE, England (U-P)—Jane Nelson of Indianapolis, runner-up for the American Women's championship last year, turned back Ireland's Philomena Garvey in a 20-hole struggle today to lead a steady American advance into the 2nd round of the British Women's Amateur Golf championship.

It was the 1st match involving members of the U.S. and British Curtis Cup teams. Miss Garvey, twice runner-up for the British women's title, and Miss Nelson, who lost to Pat Lesser in the 1935 U.S. Women's final, both lost their singles matches in the cup series.

Miss Nelson was the 5th American Curtis Cup player and the 6th American golfer to win her 1st round match this morning. One Curtis cupper, Mrs. Philip Cudone of Montclair, N. J., was eliminated.

American winners included Margaret (Wiffie) Smith of St. Clair, Mich., Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., Mary Ann Downey of Charlottesville, Va. while Leonard and Balding had par fours. Both Americans were bunkered on their 2nd shots. Snead blasted out 12 feet past the hole and just missed his putt. Hogan came out to within four feet and also missed.

Miss Romack easily defeated Mrs. Frank Stranahan of Toledo, 8 and 7, in the only all-American match of the 1st round.

Del Crandall Braves' New Hero

The Associated Press

Picking the big guy in Milwaukee's slightly fantastic comeback in the National League pennant chase is like stepping on ants. Tag one and there are two more to take his place. The Braves simply have a new hero everyday.

It was catcher Del Crandall's turn last night, dropping a squeeze bunt that got the winning run home as the Braves scored three in the ninth inning to beat the Philadelphia Phillies 8-5.

That made it 11 in a row for Milwaukee under Manager Fred Haney, who either is the manager of the year or a whale of an opportunistic. It also retained the Braves two-game lead as second place Cincinnati rallied to drop Pittsburgh into fifth place 2-1 and third-place Brooklyn scored two unearned runs to overhaul Chicago's Cubs 3-2.

In the American League, the New York Yankees buried their four-game losing streak under 14 hits, including 4 home runs, to beat Kansas City 9-3 and take a 1½-game edge over Chicago, the idle runner-up. Washington added to the Tigers' tailspin, handing Detroit its ninth straight defeat 5-3 in the only other AL game scheduled.

The Redlegs stayed in second with their third straight victory, scoring twice in the seventh as Ted Kluszewski hammered his 14th home run and Ray Jablonski hit a sacrifice fly.

Don Kaiser, who two-hit the Dodgers three weeks ago, gave Brooklyn only four hits in his 7-13 innings last night. But No. 4 was Junior Gilliam's triple which was sandwiched between two errors and produced the tying and winning runs in the eighth.

COLUMBUS (U-P)—Ken Rodewald of Michigan State University shot a 36-37-73, one over par and a stroke off the lead, in the list of two qualifying rounds for the National Intercollegiate Golf Tournament yesterday.

Michigan's Fred Michalow was a stroke further back with a 37-37-74.

Rudy Boyd of Northwestern and Bill Redding of Purdue paced the opening qualifying round with even pars, 72s.

Rodewald's 73 was good for a 6-way tie for 3rd place, and Michalow finished in 7-way tie for ninth.

Tiger Castoff Zuverink Tops Majors in ERA

Carves 2.41 Mark at Halfway Point; Sent to Orioles in 1955

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore's George Zuverink, a relief specialist who couldn't make the grade with Cleveland, Cincinnati and Detroit, has carved out the lowest earned-run average in the major leagues as the season approaches the half-way point.

The 29-year-old righthander has allowed 15 earned runs in 56 innings for a 2.41 ERA, best in the American League. Zuverink has appeared in 31 games—all relief appearances. His won-lost record is 4-2.

Statistics compiled by The Associated Press also disclose today that Lou Burdette of Milwaukee heads the National League earned-run listings with a 2.45 mark. Figures include games through Monday afternoon.

Zuverink, who went to the Orioles on waivers from the Tigers in July 1955, is hoping to become the second relief hurler to capture the earned-run title. Hoyt Wilhelm of the New York Giants was the only other bullpen artist to turn the trick when he topped the National League in 1952.

Cleveland's Herb Score ranks third with a 2.76.

Homer Beats Bengals

DETROIT (AP) — Billy Hoelt ran in to an old enemy and the Detroit Tigers' losing streak stands at nine.

Tigers' best pitcher walked seven Washington batters yesterday, and three of them scored to help the Nats to a 5-3 triumph.

A home run that manager Bucky Harris called "as long as the one Mantle hit" was the clincher, though. Clint Courtney belted a two-run homer as a pinch hitter in the 8th inning to send the Senators ahead, 4-3. The Tigers kicked in another run later in the same inning.

Mickey Mantle's "big" home run went out of Briggs Stadium and traveled at least 500 feet. The one Courtney hit popped into the right field stands at the 325-foot mark, just over the screen. But it did just as much damage as Mantle's, picking away a possible Tiger victory before only 3,281 disgruntled fans.

In their biggest inning since their last victory, on June 15, the Tigers gave Hoelt a 3-0 lead on three singles and a pair of walks off starter and winner Camillo Pascual in the 4th inning.

But that was all the Bengals got off Pascual and his successor, lefty Dean Stone. Nats, meanwhile, scored twice in the 7th while taking advantage of Hoelt's wildness.

A single by Eddie Fitzgerald preceded Courtney's deciding home run in the 8th, and another walk, a single and an error by substitute 3rd baseman Bob Kennedy brought home the 5th score.

Paul Foytack gets a chance tonight to even his record at 5-5 and snap the club out of its worst slump since 1953. He will be opposed by the Nats' Bucky Stewart.

Deadline Fixed for Financing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Cleveland organizing committee for the Pan-American Games scheduled in Cleveland in 1959 has until Aug. 15 to submit a financing plan to the games executive committee.

Douglas F. Roby of Detroit, executive committee chairman, said the committee approved a proposed 10 million dollar site in East Cleveland but set the finance plan deadline in yesterday's meeting.

"In the event of failure to give the necessary guarantee by that date, the 3rd Pan-American Games will be withdrawn and re-awarded to some other city in the Western Hemisphere," Roby said.

The Cleveland City Council is far from agreement on the site, and the financing.

Middlecoff on Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. GARY MIDDLECOFF
PATIENT'S COMPLAINT
Locked with pull.
DIAGNOSIS: Let right side go.
TREATMENT: In several articles I concentrated on the importance of the left arm pull-down to keep the swing grooved and to insure transferring the weight to the left leg.

Let me add this significant point: With the pull-down, let the right side go into the swing, or you'll kill power at the ball.

You can pull down with the left arm and still be locked at impact to retard clubhead speed. You may sense a feel of tightness as you pull down, and of course with that the weight won't shift. You've got to be relaxed all the way through the swing—from the one-piece backswing, straight back from the ball, to the pull-down of the left arm and on and out after the ball. It's got to be free, natural, no tenseness.

Let me give you a little tip to eliminate any tendency to tighten up or freeze the body action with the pull-down. As sketch shows, kink the right knee inward or forward with the pull-down, and you'll automatically get the right side started into action so that the right hand applies its full power at the ball.

The pull-down keeps the right arm in proper position, close to the side of the body, to move in past the hip. Kinking the right knee is a key movement. Work on it. (Copyright 1955, John F. Dille Co.)

Medal Honors Up for Grabs at Ohio State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A wide-open race for medal honors was on today in the second round of the 59th National Intercollegiate Golf Championship qualifier, with 28 sharp-shooting students bracketed within three strokes at the top of the heap.

Ohio State University's old man par—his 72—had a lot of fun with the field of 246 in yesterday's opening 18-hole jam, allowing only two of the aspirants to break even.

Out front as they swung into today's play were Rudy Boyd, Northwestern senior from LaPorte, Ind., and Bill Redding, Purdue junior from Logansport, Ind.

Only Fish a Big One

As far as Verne Eisenhardt, Rochester, was concerned Friday night, there was only one bass in Lakeville Lake. And that one was a mighty fine one, a 4-pound-4-ounce bronzeback, about 21 inches long.

The husky bass was the only fish Eisenhardt and his companion, brother-in-law, Floyd Sultz, also of Rochester, took that night.

Bell Overtakes Snider in Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — Gus Bell, one of Cincinnati's homer-bustin' Redlegs, has taken over the National League's center-field spot from Brooklyn's Duke Snider in the next-to-last tally of the fans' All-Star Game balloting.

Bell now tops Snider in the voting by 56,602 to 53,668. Final results in the voting for the July 10 game at Washington probably will be released Friday by the office of Commissioner Ford Frick, which is tabulating the vote this season.

There were no other changes among the leaders.

Mickey Mantle, a cinch in center field for the AL, probably will finish with more than 100,000 votes. The Yankee slugger leads the individual vote with 94,278.

Right behind is Pittsburgh first baseman Dale Long, who tops the National League balloting with 90,059.

Moore Fighting Parker for Crown, Pilot Says

TORONTO (AP) — Charley Johnston, manager of light-heavyweight boxing champion Archie Moore, said today Moore's fight against James J. Parker next month definitely will be for the vacant world heavyweight title.

Johnston said Moore would sign today for the July 25 15-round bout. And he said it will have to be recognized as a world title scrap because "These are the only two logical contenders."
