Start Soliciting Building Trades

Seek $16,592 Toward UF Goal of $162,000 for Pontiac Area

Soliciting of the construction trades by Pontiac Area United Fund workers began today after a kickoff meeting for volunteer workers last night at the Waldron Hotel.

Fund workers will call on nearly 300 area building trades firms and their employees to raise $16,592 of the total UF goal of $162,000 from the Pontiac area.

The general 1957 UF drive does not start until Nov. 4, but it is traditional for all Michigan United Funds to start their building trades solicitation before the general drive.

Volunteers this year are spurred by a trophy, offered by the Michigan United Fund to the community, which posts the highest per capita donation record during the building trades campaign.

Last year, Lansing won the trophy with an 86 per cent average. Pontiac had 38 per cent last year, according to Ray Garrett, of the Michigan United Fund's labor participation staff.

Speakers at last night's briefing were: Richard Fell, PAUF campaign training chairman; Dr. Dana Whitmer, campaign chairman; Norman O'Brien, construction group chairman; and Karl Bradley and Robert Langer, of the local UF staff.

Baseball Fans, Buyers Cram Gotham Hotels

NEW YORK (AP)—Trying to find hotel accommodations in New York this week is about as difficult as finding a seat on a subway during the rush hour—or getting a ticket to the World Series.

A number of major hotels which reported sellouts indicated the crowded conditions would prevail for the remainder of the week.

away would-be guests and scurried to locate alternate accommodations in smaller hotels. All the managers and assistant managers agreed that the influx was seasonal, owing to the start of the World Series and the arrival of buyers and business men.

Dog Proves Point

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP)—Police man Tomlin Furnas went to investigate a complaint that a dog had bitten a man. Furnas got his evidence. The dog bit him.

SLUGGING RIVALS—Two of the major league's top sluggers, Hank Aaron of Milwaukee and Mickey Mantle of the Yankees are expected to wield the big bats as the World Series gets started today in Yankee Stadium. Aaron batted .332 behind Stan Musial and Willie Mays; he was first in runs scored with 118, first in runs batted in with 132, second in hits with 198 and led the National League in homers with 44. Mantle's record in the American League showed a .365 batting average, second to Ted Williams, first in runs scored with 120, fourth in hits with 173 and third in home runs with 34. Games today and tomorrow are at Yankee Stadium.

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICE

The emotion-jammed, dollar-filled tale of two cities unfolded at Yankee Stadium at noon today where the mighty New York Yankees were figured to be 8 to 5 choices to win this game and eventually to take the World Series from the Milwaukee Braves.

The hard-hitting Braves, imbued with an almost passionate desire to bring Milwaukee its first World title, had Warren Spahn, their redoubtable 21-game winning lefthander, on the mound to oppose New York's lefty ace, Whitely Ford.

Warm and pleasant weather and an estimated crowd of more than 69,000 was on hand at baseball's most used October baseball stadium.

The classy Bronx Bombers carried a most awesome record into the spectacular. They have won 23 American League pennants and 17 world championships since 1921.

Under the astute guidance of Casey Stengel, they have won eight pennants in the last nine years and six out of seven World Series.

Against these mountainous figures Fred Haney's Braves offered two National League flags—in 1914 and 1948—and they won the world title in 1914 as the "miracle team" from Boston.

Baseball's jubilant Milwaukee, which became the new home of the Braves in 1953, was in the big payoff round for the first time.

Milwaukee also represented the first western NL entry to see action in the series since 1946—the year the St. Louis Cardinals won the jackpot prize. A winning share this year probably will be in the neighborhood of $10,000.

Doctors Renew Hospital Suit

6 Back in Court Asking Halt to Restrictions at Pontiac General

Back in court again today was a suit of six Pontiac General Hospital doctors seeking unrestricted surgical privileges at the city hospital.

It is the third legal attempt of the six, who have lost two previous bids to put a stop to certain rules and regulations which they charge "impedes, interferes, hinders, prevents and prohibits" them from practicing their profession freely.

In the latest action, a suit was filed in Oakland County Circuit Court Tuesday seeking an injunction to stop hospital officials from enforcing the rules. The seven defendants in the suit must show cause Oct. 28 why the injunction shouldn't be granted.

The doctors are Roy V. Cooley, Robert W. Albrecht, Douglas A. Haddock, Maolin Han, Rodman C. Jacobi, and Leonard Blackwell, all general practitioners. Dr. Cooley is also a Pontiac city commissioner.

Early last month the State Supreme Court turned down a request from the six for a writ of prohibition. The move to the high court followed a rejection for an injunction from Circuit Court in April.

The doctors claim that only the Michigan State Board of Registration in Medicine, under which they were granted their licenses, can govern their practices. Hospital officials have continued to emphasize that the rules are necessary for the protection of the public.

Eye for Strategy

NEW YORK (INS)—Yankee right fielder Hank Bauer said: "right now I have to go out and watch those terrible Milwaukee sluggers knock the balls into the right field stands. I have to see how deep I must stand in the bleachers to rob them of a home run."

Delay Election for Credentials of Teamsters

Supreme Court Ruling Clears Path for Voting; 3 Still Oppose Hoffa

By ROBERT B. TARR
Managing Editor, Pontiac Press

MIAMI BEACH—With a U. S. Supreme Court hurdle removed, the International Teamsters convention moved slowly ahead today towards its climaxing election and it appeared that now the Teamsters themselves may delay the election.

As Jimmy Hoffa's bandwagon continued to gain momentum, it began to look as if the election scheduled for Thursday or Friday may take place next week.

The stumbling block is the credentials committee, which is screening challenged delegations.

Yesterday, U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren refused to halt the Teamster election, as asked by attorneys for 13 rank-and-file teamster members from New York.

Asked to set aside an Appeals Court ruling which voided an injunction holding up the election, Warren ruled:

"In the light of all the circumstances, three seems to be no sufficient reason for me to interfere with the conclusions of the court of Appeals."

OPPONENTS MAY UNITE

Hoffa's opponents appear closer to joining forces for an all-out attempt to stop his drive for the Teamster presidency.

Three other candidates, Thomas J. Haggerty and William A. Lee, both of Chicago, and Thomas L. Hickey, a Teamster vice president from New York, are still very much in the race.

They claim their combined strength can defeat Hoffa, but the expected coalition which would see two withdrawals to throw all support behind the third has not yet materialized.

It is possible that all three will remain in the race until alloting starts, each hoping to siphon away some of the strength Hoffa has been claiming.

If no candidate receives a majority on the first ballot the law drops from the race. Hoffa claims he can win on the first ballot. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Mistrial Ruled on Confidential

After 2 Weeks, Jury Is 7 to 5 for Conviction; No Hope of Agreement

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Deadlocked after two weeks of unproductive wrangling, the jury in the Confidential magazine criminal libel conspiracy trial was discharged last night.

A juror disclosed that the jury stood 7-5 for conviction.

And the same juror said the jury heard a rumor Sunday that one of its members had been bribed. The report stemmed from a remark overheard by a juror as she walked through the lobby of the hotel where the jury was quartered.

Said Presiding Judge Herbert V. Walker: "A five to seven jury doesn't look like anyone was bought."

Declaration of a mistrial dropped the curtain on an inconclusive climax to a two-month legal battle over whether Confidential, its sister scandal magazine Whisper and other defendants conspired to libel celebrities and to publish lewd and obscene stories.

But this, said Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritz, was only the first act.

"The case will be retried," he said. Earlier he had promised that other defendants would be brought to trial on the same charges.

Foreman Fred L. McCulley told Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker that the jury was divided 7-5 and there was no hope of reaching a verdict.

Reaction to Refusal

WAVE OF VICTORY—Teamster Vice-President James R. Hoffa displayed delight yesterday upon learning that Chief Justice Earl Warren had refused to stay the election of union officers. The chief justice turned down a plea by rank and file group that delegates were hand-picked for Hoffa, a leading candidate for the Teamster presidency. Hoffa is shown here at the union's convention in Miami, Fla.

Ike Spurns Faubus' Assurances

Talks on Little Rock Crisis Fail to Bring About Truce

WASHINGTON (INS)—Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee said today that "negotiations are still in progress" to break the deadlock between President Eisenhower and Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus over the Little Rock integration crisis.

White House sources said today the President will not again agree to pull the Army out of Little Rock until Faubus demonstrates his sincerity beyond the faintest trace of doubt.

The President's surprise rejection of the all-but-signed Little Rock truce last night left the next move in the historic drama squarely up to the Arkansas governor.

The pledge made earlier in the evening by Faubus did not, Eisenhower decided, constitute sufficient assurance that the governor would use his "full powers" to prevent obstruction of court-ordered school integration.

Faubus had agreed to assume "full responsibility" for law and order in Little Rock once federal troops are withdrawn. He also promised that the orders of the federal courts "will not be obstructed by me."

To the President, who feels Faubus went back on his word once before, after their meeting in Newport, this was not enough. He decided, according to aides, that the governor was deliberately employing fancy language that could leave a loop-hole in the agreement reached earlier yesterday.

HOPES DASHED

The dramatic announcement from the White House at 10:44 p.m. (EDT) dashed earlier indications that a settlement had been reached in the now historic clash of federal and state powers.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) praised Eisenhower today for not withdrawing troops from Little Rock and said Faubus is a "trickster" and "guilty of bad faith."

After a meeting with a delegation of four southern governors, Eisenhower agreed to withdraw Army troops and turn control of the Arkansas National Guard back to Faubus when he received certain guarantees from the governor.

MAINTAIN ORDER

These were to be a declaration by Faubus that "he will not obstruct."

Officer Injured in Gun Battle During Robbery

Unidentified Prowler Dies in Hospital of Six Bullet Wounds

A Birmingham policeman shot and killed a prowler in a gun battle on the first floor of the Birmingham home of J. S. VanAlstyne Jr. this morning.

The exchange of shots occurred when Sgt. Robert Brown answered a prowler complaint at 515 Kennesaw St.

Both Brown and the gunman were taken to William Beaumont Hospital, in Royal Oak.

Neighbors heard shots shortly after Brown entered the house. The officer later staggered out to his scout car, and radioed that he had been wounded.

First reports were that Brown was shot in the chest, and his opponent was shot six times.

Police said the shooting followed an attempted robbery at the Van Alstyne home.

Van Alstyne is the owner of the Van Alstyne Photo Engraving Co., 437 W. Fort St., Detroit.

Mrs. Van Alstyne told police the man knocked on the front door shortly after 9 a.m. and pulled a gun when she answered. Police said the burglar tied up a couple of members of the family, but Mrs. Van Alstyne managed to slip upstairs to a phone and called police.

Sgt. Brown, answering the call, apparently surprised the bandit on the stairway and the brief gun battle broke out.

The bandit fell, fatally wounded. Brown was rushed to Beaumont hospital where his condition was listed as serious but not critical.

Neighbors told police they had been bothered recently by a prowler in the area.

Weatherman Says Clear, Cool Tonight

Clear and cool tonight, says the weatherman, with the low temperature near 45 degrees.

Thursday will be fair and warmer with a high around 74. Tomorrow night will be partly cloudy and warmer with the low near 54 degrees. Friday will continue to be warm and partly cloudy.

Precipitation will total around .6 to .7 of an inch, occurring as showers Saturday and Sunday. The mild temperatures of the week will become cooler about Sunday.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 45 degrees. The thermometer registered 68 at 1 p.m.

Economy Goal for '58-'59: U.S. Budget of 70 Billions

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's record peacetime budget has grown a bit bigger—to 72 billion dollars—but the administration hopes to reduce spending to 70 billions in the year ending June 30, 1959.

Budget director Percival F. Brundage announced the economy target for next year after issuing his midyear review yesterday. It showed estimated spending for this year up by 200 million dollars from Eisenhower's January estimate, and the prospective surplus down by 300 million dollars, to 1½ billions.

Those figures, covering the 1957 fiscal year that started July 1, would not justify tax reduction, Brundage told reporters, but added the following year may be better, fiscally speaking.

If enough savings are achieved and the personal income of Americans continues to rise as expected, Brundage said, Congress could consider tax relief next spring — although not to take effect until midyear or thereafter.

"I am hoping we can hold the 1959 budget to 70 billion dollars," he told a news conference. "I don't exactly expect that, but I think every member of the administration is doing his level best."

If Congress sticks to its economy drive, it would be very helpful.

The budget review provided this picture of federal income and outgo in the government year which is now three months old:

Spending, 72 billion dollars, as compared with the $71,000,000,000 figure which stirred a storm of Congressional criticism when Eisenhower announced it in his budget message.

Receipts, 73½ billion dollars, down 100 million from the January estimate, partly because of anticipated lower taxable earnings by corporations. Individual income tax receipts are expected to rise.

Surplus, 1½ billion dollars, all of it destined to go into reducing the federal debt.

The comparative figures for last year—the one that ended June 30—were: expenditures $69,400,000,000; receipts 71 billion dollars; surplus $1,600,000,000.

MAKES OVERHEAD PROPOSES MOON as Bombing Site

Scientist in Maryland Eyes Missile Method of H-Testing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A University of Maryland scientist today proposed the moon as a safe, remote site for testing hydrogen bombs. Dr. S. Fred Singer said it will be no greater technical problem to send an interplanetary ballistic missile 240,000 miles to the moon than it will be to launch an intercontinental missile 5,000 miles.

Singer presented his unusual views in a paper prepared for the Congress of the International Astronautical Federation in Barcelona, Spain, next week.

An advance report on his views was published today in Missiles and Rockets magazine.

Singer said the testing of missiles with hydrogen warheads, by firing them at the moon, not only would free the earth of radioactive fallout dangers but would provide valuable scientific data.

He said some of the debris kicked up from blasting craters on the moon may shower the earth with dust particles and even boulders.

The study of these moon samples would provide valuable information on the solar system, he added.

Singer said the moon missile would have to reach a peak velocity of 35,000 feet a second—40 per cent greater than that of the proposed earth satellites—to escape the earth's gravitational field and fall into that of the moon.

The moon would be an easier target for a missile than is a distant city, he said.

'I Was Too Busy Praying to Think'

Diver Goes 370 Feet Beneath Sea

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—You go over the side and into the blue Pacific. The water is cool to your hands and feet. Your body, in two tight rubber suits, is warm.

You grab the steel chain extending to the bottom 410 feet down. You wriggle. Yes, your oxygen and helium tanks are secure. Your face mask is water tight.

You relax your grip and start sinking under the pull of 66 pounds of lead. Your goal: 400 feet, deeper than any free diver has gone and returned.

The scene is near Avalon at off-shore Catalina Island. The yacht is the 54-foot El Sea. The time, 1:40 p.m. last Sunday. The diver is Norman Ream, 37, slender and of medium height. Ream, a bachelor, of suburban Mar Vista, told of the dive last night after emerging from more than 38 hours in a Navy yard recompression tank where he was treated for bends.

Ream is an artist. Commercial? "No. Oils. There's nothing commercial about that."

Put yourself in his suit again. At first, your ears won't pop. You shake your head to get relief. You're sliding slowly down the chain. It takes three minutes for the first 50 feet.

You've been diving since 1945 and training for this one for a year, going to 300 feet several times.

At 200 feet the water turns murky. At 250 it inexplicably brightens. At 325 your hands hit something. You stop. It's a ball in the chain. How could that happen? You try to slide on, but your knife belt is tangled in the ball. A second of near panic, then out with the knife and the belt is cut free.

Down again, faster. Your feet hit something. Thank God... at least. You are standing on a board.

Money-Making Scheme Won't Work Anywhere

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Johnny Barnes, 21, was charged with passing an altered dollar bill today because he didn't look old enough to buy beer.

Barnes said in a written statement to Secret Service agents he tried Sept. 24 a money-making scheme he saw on television.

He said he tore corners from four five dollar bills, then pasted them over the corners of a dollar bill.

Lane Bertram of the service said Barnes bought two bottles of beer with the bill and got change, but only after the bartender had looked at his driver's license to see whether he were old enough.

Bertram said the bartender found the bill and remembered who gave it to him. With what he could remember from the driver's license, the Secret Service was able to track down Barnes.

"You know," Barnes told reporters, "it didn't work for the guy on TV either."

Tito Regime Asking Loans

Yugoslav Finance Head Asks Dulles for Funds to Expand Industries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communist Yugoslavia is exploring this week the possibility of obtaining United States loans to help finance basic Yugoslav industrial expansion.

Talks began today between Yugoslav Finance Minister Avdo Humo and Secretary of State Dulles.

President Tito's independent Communist government is planning to build up hydroelectric power production, aluminum and copper output and fertilizer production. It hopes to obtain outside capital, including financing from the United States. Yugoslav officials have long contended that such loans could be repaid in a reasonable time through exports of electric power, aluminum and copper.

Titoist Yugoslavia has received military and economic aid from the United States to a total of almost 1 1/2 billion dollars since Tito broke with Stalinist Russia in 1948. New Yugoslav aid programs are now under consideration.

United States assistance to Yugoslavia is based on the decision that it is in this country's interest to help Yugoslavia survive as an independent Communist country, as an example for independence moves in other Eastern European nations still subject to Moscow's dictates.

Fast Action Saves Man From Death in Oil Vat

DALLAS (AP)—Carl W. Ely, 42, fell into a vat of 300-degree oil as he and Durrell Pierce, 23, were taking a piece of hot steel from a furnace at a heat treatment plant.

Ely went completely under, except for one hand with which he gripped the edge of the vat. Pierce quickly grabbed the hand and pulled him out.

Doctors said Ely was seriously burned, but said his clothing and Pierce's quick action saved him from more serious burns and possible death.

Humans Edge Cows in Vermont Census

BASIN HARBOR, Vt. (AP)—The head of a Vermont civic group says it is not true Vermont has more cows than people, as had been popularly believed.

Frank Ward, president of the Greater Vermont Assn., told a banquet meeting of the organization last night that he was informed by State Agriculture Commissioner Elmer E. Towne that the state has 1,000 more people than cows.

He did not give any figures. The 1950 census lists Vermont as having 377,747 humans.

Cars Outstrip Roads

Increase Pickets at Mueller Plant

PORT HURON (AP)—Approximately 40 pickets appeared at the strike-bound Mueller Brass Co. plant yesterday, several times the former number.

Members of the striking machinists union said the picket number had been increased because of a report that writs of replevin would be sought by Mueller patrons to get products out of the factory.

About 1,800 employees are idle in the mechanized strike in a wage dispute. The United Auto Workers Union has been honoring picket lines. The plant has been closed since Aug. 16.

65 Age Group Sees Changes

More Will Work and Have Higher Education in 1975

GRAND RAPIDS (U) — A University of Chicago Sociologist says the year 1975 will produce a new type of person in the 65 and over age group.

Individuals in that group will be better educated, will contribute to an increased labor force, but will bring a need for expanded health facilities designed to treat old age infirmities, according to Dr. Philip M. Hauser.

He spoke today at the 39th annual convention of the Michigan Assn. of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

Dr. Hauser said the 65 and over age group will note a 138 per cent increase by 1975 among their number with some college education and a 133 per cent increase of those with some high school education.

"The number of persons 65 and over in the labor force will increase although the proportion of these individuals actually working will decrease, because of the expected great increase in the size of the age group," he said.

Dr. Hauser said "Health facilities will have to be expanded to meet the needs of the greatly increased population of older persons." He suggested more physicians trained in the health problems of old age and more hospitals identified with the treatment of old age disabilities and infirmities.

'Tiny' Cloete Reveals Tactics in New Book

By PHYLAS BATTLE
NEW YORK (INS) — Rehana ("Tiny") Cloete, who's about five feet tall and barely weighs enough to support a mink cape without becoming stoop-shouldered, went over to Europe some time ago to get herself a husband. She was 29 "and not getting any younger, prettier, smarter, wealthier or anything else promising."

The search through Europe was frustrating, and as she reluctantly caught a ship back to the States, she was 29 and 1/2 lbs and not getting anywhere.

Then, suddenly, she located and snagged, from among the passengers, a quite presentable husband. Twice her size, cultured, amusing, moderately rich, named Stuart Cloete. Listed in "Who's Who" as writer, British.

Stuart Cloete now describes the experience — of being located and snagged — as "an enormous series of deceptions, gross deceptions." He continues, "If this woman had been beautiful and intelligent and capable of taking care of herself, I'd never have married her. Wouldn't have needed to. But you get a small creature like this one, and she acts helpless, it's insidious..."

"Tiny" is sitting across the cocktail table from him as he talks. She nods affirmation.

"Disgusting," she says, "what a woman will do. Sorry, Stuart."

"She's not just silly, like ordinary women," Stuart continues. "She is idiotic."

His wife smiles philosophically. "I have discovered," she observes, "that if a woman is merely silly, nobody thinks anything about it. But if you are idiotic, you get a lot of attention."

"We lived for a time in Africa," says Stuart. "In the mountains 160 miles from Capetown — marvelous peaceful place to write. But we came home because she was dying to eat claims. Not even pregnant, just whimsical; dying for claims."

Tiny bristled slightly. "Eight years," she snapped, "is a long time without steamers. Or even chowder."

"She is so small that in England during the blitz I actually had her on a leash — a ridiculous position for a man to be in."

"Quite sensible though," Stuart smiled at him respectfully. "Stuart is quite brilliant."

Tiny is the author, and Stuart the subject, of a new book called "To Catch a Man."

Williams Appoints Judge in Detroit

LANSING (U) — Gov. Williams yesterday appointed John H. Schneider, 53, Democratic Detroit attorney, to the Common Pleas Court of the city of Detroit.

The appointment fills a vacancy left by the advancement of Judge Elvin Davenport to the Detroit Recorder's Court.

Schneider is Wayne County public administrator, a member of the executive board of the 15th District Democratic organization and a former Wayne County Circuit Court commissioner.

He has practiced law since graduation from the University of Michigan Law School in 1927. His new post pays $18,000 a year.

The governor said Schneider probably would be seated on the bench next week.

Schneider will have to wage successful election campaigns next spring and in the fall of 1958 to retain his place through 1961, when Davenport's term expires.

Sales Tax Collection Rises in September

LANSING (U) — Buoyed by fairly good motor vehicle sales, state sales tax collections in September showed an increase of about five per cent over the same month of 1956.

The State Revenue Department reported that sales and use tax collections combined totaled $28,019,912, or an increase of $1,409,000 over a year ago.

Clarence W. Lock, deputy commissioner, said motor vehicles accounted for about half the increase.

First quarter receipts from the business activities tax, covering July, August and September, also showed a rise.

For this year, the first quarter produced $15,661,763 in tax revenue, an increase of about $400,000, or two and one half per cent.

Future Holds Wood Shot From Hose

MADISON, Wis. (U) — Lumber and forestry men have been told that in the future lumber will be squirted from a hose, and will be better than that from a log.

The forecast was made by C. D. Dosker of Louisville, Ky., who also warned that the forecast would only become reality if the lumber industry "engages in a crash research program." The president of Gamble Brothers, Dosker spoke at the opening session Monday of the 32nd annual conference of the American Forestry Assn.

In calling for a speedup in lumber research, Dosker said engineers are constantly finding new uses for plastics, but added that wood can be engineered to outperform light metals and can be combined with fiber glass and resin to furnish a new lightweight material.

See Meddling Parents as Integration Dynamite

Students Want to Solve Own Problem

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — White students of Little Rock's Central High School indicate they could solve the explosive issue of racial integration — if the old folks would stop meddling.

These kids won't be quoted by name. But any parent can attest to the gutty independence a youngster picks up by the time he reaches teenage. Often it falls just short of outright rebellion. At Central High they form a majority.

After Monday's appearance of nine Negroes at Central High School, one white classmate — a comely blonde with sea-green eyes — said:

"Incidents? No. Two of the colored kids were in one of my classes. We got along fine. Nobody said anything about it. It was just like a regular day of school."

"Yeah," added one of her buddies sauntering out of school with an armload of homework, "I just like a regular day of school."

Attendance figures tell the tale. The Negro students yesterday wound up four full days of classes at Central High where the enrollment runs 2,000 students.

ABSENTEEISM SHRINKS — Last Wednesday, when the nine came for their first full day, 750 white students went AWOL. Thursday's absentee total shrank to 650, and Friday to 585.

Yesterday — with Gene Autrey starring in a rodeo feature at Little Rock's annual livestock show — only 470 students failed to turn up at school.

Behind these cold statistics are the random remarks by students at an age when they waver between speaking their minds and what they feel they are expected to say:

A hard-muscled boy with blond hair, wearing slacks and a sport shirt, made a point of declaring he's against integration. But after setting that statement on record he went on to say the Negro students "didn't bother me any." He said:

"One boy is in my history class. Last week he didn't say anything. He was too scared. But today he answered the teacher's questions without any hesitation. And he answered them right."

At noon, however, scores of youngsters dashed to the campus shake-and-burger shop — and two Negro girls followed. Students later related that the two met catcalls and several jibes of "Hey, nigger." It went no further than that. It was the first time any colored person sat in the student hangout and ate a lunch. The two girls did. And later most Central High students agreed that during the day in general "things were fine — just like a regular school day."

One 17-year-old brunette, gripping her books with a clipboard, said:

"Students were very friendly toward the colored kids today. Things have definitely improved over last week. A lot of the tension has cleared. More work is being accomplished in classes."

Asked if she believed the absentee rate would diminish during the next few days, she rolled her eyes and said:

"Well, you got to figure on the World Series, I reckon. I imagine a lot of folks might stay home to see that. We're rooting for Milwaukee."

The commission announced on Aug. 30 that it would receive applications for the post up to Sept. 24.

The commission said that because no one has applied it will issue another call later.

A spokesman for the commission said it is unusual not to receive any applications for a postmastership but that it happens from time to time.

Older Child Resents Tot's Helplessness

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One rainy morning Larry was working on a portrait of a jet plane. He'd just picked up a red crayon to color its fiery tail when his little brother began to howl.

He looked up just long enough to note that Buddy's new yellow ball had got wedged under the piano bench. It was the kind of thing that was always happening to Buddy.

He dropped spoons at meals—and yelled for help. He failed to open the screen door or disentangle a toy's string from a bush—and yelled for help.

What's more, he always got it. His disgusting helplessness didn't revolt Mommy at all. Instead, she'd pick up his spoon, open the door, disentangle the toy—or say crossly to Larry, "Why couldn't you unlatch the door for him? Can't you see he's not tall enough to reach it himself?"

But strangely enough, this morning she neither retrieved Buddy's ball for him herself nor did she ask Larry to do it.

Instead, after surveying the situation, she said, "Buddy can get that ball for himself. Will you help me show him how? He's got to start doing things for himself sometime. You and I can't go on waiting on him forever."

Larry dropped his red crayon at once. Running over to the piano bench, he lifted it. Then, squatting down beside Buddy's freed ball, he said encouragingly to his little brother, "Come on—get this ball for yourself. You can do it. We can't go on waiting on you forever. Come on."

The result was such a triumphant and grateful Buddy that his flattered brother said, "Want me to play ball with him a little while before lunch, Mom?"

An older child wants to help us teach independence to a younger one.

To Larry, Buddy's most irritating trait has been his helplessness.

—that dependence on Mommy which has left her so little time for his brother. Larry wants Buddy to start decreasing his demands on it so that there'll be more for him.

show Buddy how to solve his own problems, we use his natural interest in Buddy's independence to profit both the children.

The mistake is asking the older child to indulge the younger one's helplessness.

High Couture at Low Prices

Experts Style Ready-to-Wear

LONDON (INS)—Today it's high of the designers, finding that few women can afford to be completely "dressed" by them, are turning their talents to the ready-to-wear trade.

The whole fashion picture has become what the experts call "circular."

Why should a woman, however elegant and wealthy, spend hours in fitting rooms at her dressmaker when she can go to the model department of her favorite shop and literally step into an outfit superbly cut of first class material and at a fraction of the cost of the made-to-measure garment?

The lessening ranks of couturiers today are either allying themselves with already established wholesale houses or in some cases are venturing into the wholesale field on their own.

Hardy Amies has a successful tie-up with Brenner which is now in its third year. Amies bases his ready-to-wear collection on the lines he has established in his previous seasons' couture collection. These are, of course, adapted to suit the coming season's most popular materials.

John Cavanagh has begun a similar association this season with the old-established business of Berg of Mayfair, noted especially for their superb fur-trimmed model coats. Cavanagh has his own workrooms and staff while the collection is being assembled.

His new "couture-to-wear" collection is based mainly on suits, but also includes very elegant dresses with jackets or with a matching long coat. He designs his collections with reproduction in mind. Everything is made to facilitate the small alterations that are often necessary for the individual customer. Seams are

Adoptions Gain More Popularity Demand for Tots Exceeds Supply in This Country

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON—More Americans want families today than ever before. The couples who can't have children want to adopt them. The sad thing is there are just not enough boys and girls to go around for all these would be parents.

Adoptions are becoming increasingly popular and they are socially approved today. This is in sharp contrast to 25 years ago when adoptions were a hush-hush matter.

95,000 CHILDREN
The Children's Bureau estimates there were about 95,000 named in petitions for adoptions filed in courts in 1935. These included children adopted by relatives, or step-parents, though the majority were children adopted by nonrelatives.

The Children's Bureau figures there are 10 to 15 times as many families that want to adopt children than there are children legally relinquished by their parents for adoption. Some 40,000 families each year file petitions to adopt a child.

MANY IN INSTITUTIONS
There have been statements that there are plenty of children to go around. Recent census figures show there are some 87,000 children in institutions for dependent and neglected children.

The Children's Bureau says there is no basis for belief that the great majority of these children could be adopted.

Most have parents who have not relinquished them for adoption; some have mental or physical handicaps; many are older children.

—Most are there because death or illness of one parent, or a divorce, has caused temporary removal from their own homes until new plans can be made.

LEGAL SURRENDER
Unless a legal surrender is made by the parents, or ordered by a court, in case the parents are dead, these children cannot be adopted by anyone.

The largest percentage of these institution children also is around 7 years of age or over. Some people want the 7, 10 or 12-year olds.

A few can be persuaded to take 2, 3 or 4-year-olds. But most couples ask for babies.

Shelfman Is Next for Senate Probers

WASHINGTON, U.S.—The Senate Rackets Committee's next hearing, involving the activities of Nathan Shelfman, a Chicago labor relations consultant, is now scheduled to start Oct. 21.

Robert Kennedy, committee counsel, said today the hearings beginning then may continue for four or five weeks. He said they will deal not only with Shelfman's man's affairs, but other matters he is not now in position to disclose.

The pirate Blackbeard was no Bluebeard. He is reported to have had 14 wives. Most of them are believed to have been alive to mourn him when he was killed.

Crown Prince in Auto Which Hurts Pedestrian

TOKYO, U.S.—An automobile in which Crown Prince Akihito was riding struck and injured a former surgeon of the imperial Japanese army today.

Kaihei Ando, 72, was hospitalized with face injuries and a mild concussion. He is expected to be released in a week.

Police said Akihito was en route to a preview of an Italian film. Ando, apparently not seeing the car, attempted to cross the street immediately after the prince's motorcycle escort passed.

Akihito sent a basket of fruit to the old man.

Detective Robbed

TOLEDO, Ohio, U.S.—Private Detective George DeHart called police to report with some embarrassment that a crook had stolen the paychecks of his company, the Continental Secret Service Bureau. DeHart said he got a briefcase containing 40 paychecks beside his car to unlock the door and then drove off without them. When he returned, the briefcase was gone.

Device to Hook Onto Video Set

Telemeter Announces Shows and Their Cost, Accepts Payment

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — If the living room looks crowded already, mom, brace yourself. Another gadget is on the way.

Right now it is a sleeky gray, foot-square box that looks like a cross between an undersized air conditioner and a stunted slot machine.

Within five years, fond backers envision, the device will give a revolution in television viewing, movie going and cultural patterns of the populace at large.

The machine, accompanied by a corps of articulate technicians and stalwart showmen, was recently unveiled here, to give New Yorkers their first peep at pay-as-you-see television.

The sample showcase comprises Don Larsen's epic World Series no-hitter, some snatches of a brand-new Hollywood Western, and for living contrast, as they call it, an engineer scratching his ear forlornly in pose before a robot-controlled studio camera.

HOME BOX OFFICE

"Think of it!" exclaims Barry Balaban, surveying Larsen's wind-up. "Box-office in millions of homes."

Balan is president of Paramount Pictures which holds a 90 per cent interest in the pay-see television process that is the brainchild of International Telemeter Corp.

In addition to Telemeter, other systems for toll video under development include Phonovision and Subservision. Both of these propose some sort of billing system.

Telemeter, which will rely on cash-in-advance for each show, believes it is well in the van as an accomplished reality.

Contracts have already been drawn for a regular telemeter circuit in Los Angeles, and company officials say a dozen other installations are in negotiation for cities big and small.

Operations may be conducted on wire circuits or over the air, if the FCC decides the latter is feasible.

The heart of the Telemeter process is the living room gadget, which hooks onto a regular TV set and doesn't interfere with pickup of regular video programs.

A complex contraption, the gadget will announce a choice of three programs, the price of each (anything from a nickel to two bucks), automatically ring up coins, and electronically clear the signal of the selected show.

The wild cattle of Paraguay are said to be almost immune to disease.

Calvet Is Announcing She'll Be Great Star

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Corinne Calvet—the witness that "Confidential" wouldn't call—calmly announced she's sure to be the biggest foreign star in America.

"You know why?" she asked—and I didn't.

"I've so many talents in my safe that every time I drop in the box office, I am going to pull one out. When I'm old I'll be a politician or home counselor—that's a psychiatrist that doesn't have a license."

Corinne was laughing but she meant it. "Now I'm singing," she said.

"How old are you?" I asked her.

"How many girl friends do you have?" she shot back.

"None," I confessed.

"Then I'm 18!" she flipped. She said she gets 2,500 fan letters a week, mostly from women, who think of her as a woman's woman. . . "who has lived, and loved, and played ze most tremendous Academy Award role—the role of a mother!"

"What about Zsa Zsa Gabor as a competitor?" I asked.

"Zsa Zsa is like Hungarian goulash. The older she gets the better she gets."

"So you're fighting again?"

"I adore Zsa Zsa. We have an understanding now. We don't sue each other any more."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Mike Todd says his guests at the Madison Square Garden do will have to be "screened," fingerprinted and maybe even vaccinated . . . Eddie Condon and his wife ain't spittin'; that's a socialite of the same name. Eddie wants it understood he didn't and wouldn't marry anybody social if he were sober at the time.

George Raft got $25,000 for his magazine series . . . Ernest Hemingway's looking the healthiest in a couple of years; drinks only beer or wine nowadays.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: When a Hollywood medic charged Swiftly Morgan $400 for an operation, Swiftly snapped, "I knew guys in the Capone mob in Chicago who put 300 guys to sleep for less than that." . . . That's earl, brother. (Copyright 1957)

Find Two Innocent of Attacking Officer

DETROIT (INS) — Two men accused of brutally beating an off-duty police officer were free today after a Recorder's Court jury found them innocent of aggravated assault charges.

Defendants Charles V. Collins, 33, of Wyandotte, and Charles L. Collins, 26, of Trenton (no relation) were accused of attacking Detroit patrolman Bernard Beeman, 32, of Lincoln Park.

Beeman testified yesterday he and his wife, Mary, followed a car that repeatedly forced an elderly couple in another auto to the curb.

The officer said he followed the car containing the two Collins men.

The men allegedly assaulted him before he could show his officer's credentials. His wife attempted to hand him his night stick, but it was wrenched from her hands.

Beeman had to be hospitalized for six weeks for a head operation following the fight.

Trooper's Widow to Receive Funds

EAST LANSING (AP) — Benefit plans and insurance policies will protect the future of the widow of State Police Trooper Dugald Pellot, blasted down by a gunman yesterday.

Mrs. Kay Ellen Pellot has one son, Gregory, a year old.

State Police pay $5 each to a voluntary death fund whenever a member of the department dies. This lump sum will be around $6,600.

The widow will receive $5,000 under a separate group insurance policy.

The police pension plan provides for payment of a pension of between $1,500 and $1,800 a year plus $10 a month for the child until the age of 16. A $500 payment is made for burial expenses.

In addition she will be given any sick leave and longevity pay due the officer.

Full medical expenses will be paid for the wounded officer.

'Dry' Dock Suddenly Disgraces Its Name

DAVISVILLE, R. I. (AP) — ARD-16 might be termed "all wet" by the Navy, after its latest demonstration at Davisville.

Intending to halt at a 25-foot depth while awaiting rendezvous with a Navy Destroyer, ARD-16 found itself sinking due to a faulty manhole cover in the hull. It ended up on the bottom of 33 feet of water.

ARD-16 is a 491-foot dry dock.
