Senate Unit Okays $11-Billion Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $11.5-billion tax-cut bill has taken a giant stride toward enactment, but whether it can become law by March 1 — the administration goal — is uncertain.

The Senate Finance Committee voted 12-5 approval of the measure yesterday after 20 days of executive sessions and well over 100 separate votes.

But the floor debate cannot begin until congressional staff experts finish drafting all of the new language written into the 310-page bill by the committee.

They indicated today this might well take all of next week. In that case, the debate probably would not start before Feb. 3.

This would leave only seven or eight days for floor action before the passage deadline of Feb. 11 set by Democratic leaders.

★ ★ ★

They must meet that deadline if the final enactment goal of March 1 is to be achieved.

DEADLINE FOR BILL

If the Senate does not pass the bill until after the Feb. 11-17 Lincoln Day recess there would be little chance to have the conference with the House over differences in the two versions and get the bill to President Johnson for signature next month.

The committee included in the bill all of the major provisions sought by Johnson.

The President won a last-minute victory yesterday afternoon when he persuaded nine Democrats to kill $455-million worth of excise tax repealers which had been voted in the morning.

De Gaulle Tells Johnson: Can't Ignore China

Says American Policy to Isolate Peking Is Unproductive, Dated

WASHINGTON (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle has sent word to President Johnson that he decided to recognize Red China primarily because he felt it unwise in a rapidly changing world to ignore any longer the largest and most powerful nation in the Far East.

De Gaulle's argument, made known to the State Department and White House through various diplomatic channels, boiled down to a contention that the U.S. policy of trying to isolate the Communist mainland of China from the world of allied nations is unproductive and out of date.

The latest and perhaps most comprehensive presentation of de Gaulle's views on this alliance-straining issue was made by Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson when he conferred here Wednesday with President Johnson.

Pearson came here following a visit to Paris last week during which he had several talks with the French leader.

France is expected to announce recognition next week and take immediate steps to establish full diplomatic relations with the Red regime in Peking.

★ ★ ★

A week from today de Gaulle is scheduled to hold a news conference and the prospect is that he will set forth his position on the China question at that time.

COVER POINTS

- He feels there is a vacuum in Western policy in the Far East because of a lack of effective contact between the Western powers and the Red Chinese leadership.

Thus he has argued that the Western powers will gain in the long run from having France move into the gap.

U.S. officials have argued with the French that Britain has had diplomatic contact with Red China from the beginning of the Peking regime 13 years ago and this has made no real difference in Chinese policy.

NEW ELEMENT

But de Gaulle's associates have answered on this point that the French action will introduce a completely new element into Red Chinese considerations at a critical point in world history.

- De Gaulle sees the split between the Soviet Union and

Shows No Surprise at Leading Public Polls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon says he would accept a draft for the Republican Presidential nomination, but doesn't anticipate one and "I don't intend to go out and stimulate a draft."

The former Vice President, defining his position in a television interview on the Columbia Broadcasting System last night, said he wanted to make one thing clear:

"When I say I don't want to be a candidate, I mean exactly what I'm saying. I, however, do not mean I am rejecting public service."

He said he considered it a great privilege to have served the public and "if the opportunity should come again, I would accept it."

Nixon declared he wasn't surprised that he was leading the polls of real and potential GOP candidates, but added "I don't have anything going for me among the pros" because they don't give their support unless they're sure "the horse is going to run."

On the other hand, Nixon said Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, another noncandidate so far, "has the support of a lot of pros . . . (and) the big eastern industrial complex."

Bad Weather Due; but Not Like '63

Pontiac area residents may not like the weatherman's prediction of rain changing to snow and colder but it is better than the 15-below-zero temperature endured a year ago today.

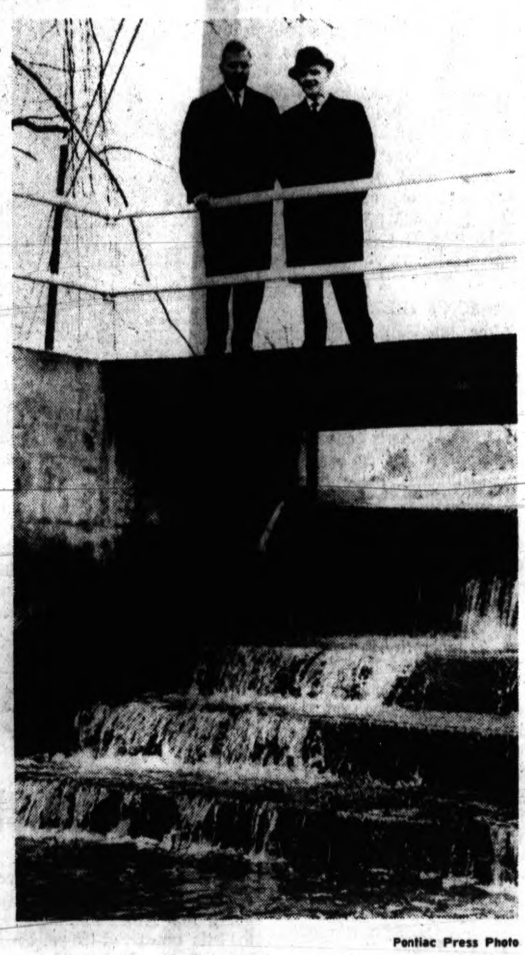

The mercury is expected to drop to 28 tonight and climb to a high of 32 tomorrow.

For the next five days temperatures will average near or a little below the normal high of 30 and normal low of 20. Tuesday and Wednesday will be somewhat warmer.

Thirty-six was the low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. today.

Transplant Human Heart; Patient Lives for 1 Hour

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Surgeons transplanted a heart into the body of a man dying of heart failure last night. The transplant heart beat for an hour before the patient died.

Physicians here said it was believed to be the first heart transplant in a human.

Officials at the University of Mississippi medical center said today the donor heart "ultimately proved inadequate for this patient's requirements."

"The fatal outcome could not be reversed," doctors said.

Surgeons said they were gratified to confirm, however, that procedures previously worked out in the experimental laboratory with animals also are effective in man.

University surgeons have transplanted hearts in more than 200 animals over a period of several years, it was reported.

IDENTITY UNKNOWN

The identities of the patient and the heart donor were not revealed.

The university said the patient had been rushed to the operating room in shock, dying of terminal heart failure.

The operation took more than three hours including one hour on the artificial heart-lung machine.

It began shortly before midnight and was completed early today.

During the transfer, and while being sewed in place, the donor heart was preserved with chilled blood pumped backward through the coronary sinus which is the large vein that drains the heart itself.

The university said a "forceful, regular beat" was immediately established with a single shock of an electrical instrument.

News Flash

Court Bill Will Get OK —Roberts

State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts today predicted clear sailing through both houses of the State Legislature for a new bill to set up a state court of appeals in three 3-judge districts.

Roberts, a Republican who represents Oakland County in the senate, filed the measure for introduction after lawmakers were told by the State Supreme Court that any other districting setup would be unconstitutional.

However, Roberts joined other key GOP legislators in doubting whether the expected wave of bipartisan support will be great enough to put the court into operation this year.

★ ★ ★

If the state is to get the new appellate court in 1964 as intended in the new state constitution, the measure must win immediate effect, which requires two-thirds approval of both houses.

PRIMARY BALLOT

Otherwise, the bill would not take effect until 90 days after the legislature adjourns. This would be too late to get the appellate court posts on the Aug. 4 primary ballot.

Roberts' bill, which was cosponsored by Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, senate minority leader, would put Oakland County in a district with 17 other counties in southern and southeastern Michigan including the Thumb area but not Wayne County.

The Supreme Court gave its advice to the legislature by the unusual method of a letter, the first time in 83 years it has used that method to give an opinion.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL

"Any other plan but the three-district court would be unconstitutional," said Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh.

"Time is of the essence," Kavanagh said. "We don't want the legislature to pass a bill that is clearly unconstitutional."

Kavanagh said he was referring to a bill introduced in the House during the fall special session that would have set up nine single-judge districts.

★ ★ ★

Disagreement between representatives and senators resulted in the passage of no appellate court bill. The Senate had approved a multi-judge plan developed by a study committee which Roberts headed and introduced by Roberts.

CURRENT BILL

Roberts said his current bill is the same.

Roberts, who had considered running for one of the appellate court posts before deciding to seek a seat in the U.S. Congress, had preferred the single-judge district plan.

Teen Denies Knowledge of Victim's Death

A knife believed to be the weapon used in the fatal stabbing of Nancy Jones of Birmingham was being sought in an auto at the Oakland County Courthouse late this afternoon.

Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Robert Long said he was talking to a Seaholm High School student from Birmingham about another matter, and asked the youth if he knew a girl had been stabbed to death near the school this morning.

The youth said he was given a knife in the school lavatory by a youth who said the police were about to talk to him.

Long said the knife was in the boy's car at the courthouse. He requested Birmingham police to search for it.

By JIM DYGERT
PAT McCARTY
and DICK HANSON

A 15-year-old Birmingham youth was being held in the Oakland County jail today for investigation in the fatal stabbing this morning of a 14-year-old girl on her way to school.

The youth, Daniel Lovaas of 1042 Smith, denied knowing anything about the slaying, however. Police picked him up at Seaholm High School in Birmingham.

The victim, Nancy J. Jones of 1128 Emmons, Birmingham, an address about two blocks from the Lovaas home, died of internal bleeding in Royal Oak's William Beaumont Hospital at 8:15 a.m., fifteen minutes after she was taken there.

She was found shortly before 8 a.m. in front of 864 Purdy, five blocks from Barnum Junior High school where she was a seventh grader.

★ ★ ★

Two witnesses, both students at Seaholm, told police they saw a boy hit the girl in the stomach, according to County Senior Assistant Prosecutor Robert L. Templin.

Daniel, a sophomore at Seaholm, was arrested after the witnesses picked him out at the school, Templin said.

Templin said the youth denied knowing the girl or anything about her death when he questioned him this morning.

The boy said no one was on the street with him as he walked toward the high school, according to Templin.

However, Templin said

Pontiac Sets a New Mark

However, there was a slight decline from the first 10 days of 1964.

Pontiac dealers established a new divisional sales record for the second 10-day sales period of January, said Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager.

From Jan. 11 through 20 there were 14,501 Pontiacs and Tempests sold, surpassing the previous high of 14,001 units set for that period in 1955 and the 13,378 cars sold during the same period a year ago.

County Picks Envoy to Cali

The director, John E. Madole, was named to go to Cali, Colombia, for at least two years. He is scheduled to leave here early next month.

Madole's appointment as a special representative to Cali was made by the Oakland County - Cali Alliance for Progress Committee during a meeting at Oakland University this morning.

The committee has been sanctioned by the U.S. State Department to assist the burgeoning city of Cali and its suburbs in improving economic conditions.

The community project is an experiment in the over-all federal aid and assistance program for South America.

CALI COUNTERPART

The Cali committe also is sending a representative here to assist the local group in trying to help the Latin Americans.

Madole was nominated by local committee. Hamlin also is also chairman of the County Board of Supervisors and a recent visitor to Cali for the State Department.

Madole said, "I would like to think that great achievements will be made there."

JOHN E. MADOLE

Madole's new salary has been set at $10,000 annually.

JOINT BUDGET

It will come from a $45,500 budget being financed equally by private foundations here and in Cali and by the federal government, according to Hamlin.

The civil defense director's salary from the county is $9,000 annually.

Madole's former duties in this capacity probably will be assumed by his assistant, Thomas F. Jackson.

Madole, 46, said he probably will leave his wife and three children in Oakland County until he is partially settled in Cali.

For Accepting Stereo

Barry Raps Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said today President Johnson should have realized that Robert G. Baker couldn't have afforded to give him an expensive stereo set on his salary as secretary of the Senate Democratic majority.

The President told a news conference Thursday the stereo delivered to his home in 1959 was simply a gift from an old friend, meaning Baker. He also spoke of Baker as an employe.

★ ★ ★

Senate investigators have developed testimony that the stereo cost over $500 and was paid for by an insurance agent who had sold a big policy on Johnson's life. The agent said he sent the stereo to Johnson at Baker's suggestion.

Baker, a former Senate page boy from South Carolina, owed his $19,000 a year Senate job to Johnson who at the time was the Senate Democratic leader.

GOLDWATER SCOFFED

"I don't think any administrative aide can afford an $835 stereo set, if that's what it cost. I don't know any administrative aide that could. Johnson should have realized that on an administrative aide's salary, that's a pretty expensive gift.

"I think I would have asked, 'Where did you find this, Buddy?' "

Goldwater said it was his practice, when he had doubts about accepting an expensive gift but couldn't return it without hurting the giver's feelings, to give in return an equally expensive gift.

JOHNSON'S VERSION

But Goldwater's comments, and the reaction from some other Republicans, made it plain the Republicans expect to get some election year advantage out of the Senate Rules Committee's inquiry into the dealings whereby Baker, 35, became a millionaire while holding his Capitol Hill job. He left the job Oct. 7 under fire.

★ ★ ★

"The Baker family gave us a stereo set," Johnson said Thursday at a White House news conference. "We had exchanged gifts before. He was an employe of the public and had no business pending before me and was asking for nothing and so far as I knew expected nothing in return any more than I did when I had presented him with gifts."

A DAY AFTER

The President volunteered this explanation a day after the Senate committee released testimony by Don B. Reynolds, an associate of Baker in a local insurance firm, who said he sent the $542 stereo record player to Johnson's home at Baker's suggestion.

Johnson, Chiari Strive for End to Canal Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson and President Roberto Chiari of Panama, working through diplomatic channels, were reported moving cautiously today toward an agreement that could end the Panamanian crisis.

Diplomats said they were hopeful of further progress in a meeting arranged by the Inter-American Peace Commission this afternoon. U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Miguel Moreno, Panama's envoy to the Organization of American States, were expected to have further instructions by that time.

Johnson and Chiari both indicated in statements late yesterday that they were seeking a compromise way out of the deadlock. Their statements followed an intensive round of activity by the peace commission, including a meeting with Johnson.

The essence of a statement issued by Johnson at a suddenly called news conference was that he hoped the two sides—the United States and Panama—could undertake to air their differences without "preconditions."

MIGHT NEGOTIATE

This suggested that Johnson might be willing to agree that the United States would negotiate with Panama on differences over the Canal Zone treaty, even though Johnson did not actually offer negotiation.

Congo Yanks Fly to Safety

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Seven American missionaries and two American children have been flown to safety from a Protestant mission station burned down by Congolese guerrillas in southern Kwilu Province.

They were flown to Luluabourg in the central Congo in two helicopters of the United Nations. Three Roman Catholic nuns were also evacuated from the danger area, U. N. officers said.

Earlier this week, three Roman Catholic priests were slain by guerrilla fighters, and a fourth priest is missing. He was identified by Catholic headquarters in Leopoldville as Father Lode Sebrechts of Belgium.

NO BOMB — Minnewa Bell Roosevelt, divorced wife of Elliott Roosevelt, is being held by FBI agents in Santa Barbara, Calif., on charges of making a false bomb report on a plane on which she had missed a flight. Authorities said she told them, "I thought they'd come back for me."

Romney Raps Union Control of Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Romney, governor of Michigan, thumped the Democrats Thursday night, charging that they are unduly beholden to union leaders.

★ ★ ★

Romney spoke at a training school for young Republicans from all over the country to youths who are mostly Goldwaterites, judging from the hats they wear.

Earlier in the day, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, casing the conservative audience in advance, made a hit by coming down hard on the side of free enterprise.

Thursday night, Romney asserted:

"I believe that the Democratic Party today is so hopelessly beholden to union leaders that it may never become a truly representative and united national political party."

TO BE TALLEST—The twin towers of the World Trade Center which will rise above the New York City skyline later this decade will be more than just the tallest buildings in the world. Birmingham architect Minoru Yamasaki who designed them said the 110-story structures will represent man's striving for world peace and his belief that it can be attained.

Architect Sees NY Center as Monument to Peace

The man who embodied this concept in the design of the structure, Birmingham architect Minoru Yamasaki, sees it as the most important aspect of his work.

Construction of the $350-million center is scheduled to begin early in 1965. The first stage will be completed in 1968 and the balance in stages during 1969 and 1970.

The 16-acre site on which the international trade complex will be built is on the lower west side of Manhattan. The towers will overlook the harbor operated by both New York and New Jersey.

Aim of the authority is to provide a unified community for America's export-import business and act as a clearing house for the expansion of trade.

"It will be recognized throughout the nation and the world as a focal point for the convenient and efficient administration of all phases of international trade," the authority said in its announcement.

The structures containing about 10 million square feet of rentable space will accommodate various governmental agencies, world trade services, exhibit areas and private businesses engaged in world trade.

SPACE FOR TRADERS

Of the total space, about four million square feet will be available to businesses and industries dealing in foreign trade.

The towers will rise from a plaza surrounded by reflecting pools. From the plaza will be seen the delicate tracery of the lower buildings and the soaring arches of the tower entrances.

The architect of the complex said he found in it possibilities which rarely exist in a project.

The monument to world peace, because of its importance, can also represent man's belief in humanity, his need for individual dignity, his beliefs in the cooperation of men and his ability to find greatness through this cooperation, Yamasaki said.

Girl, 14, Killed in Birmingham

Daniel admitted being on Purdy Street, which is not in a direct path between his home and the high school. His home is about two miles from the high school.

NO INFORMATION

Birmingham police refused to release any information as to why they detained Daniel, the identity of the witness, or what the witness said.

Dr. Thomas S. McInerney, Oakland County deputy coroner, said Nancy died of internal bleeding caused by a single stab wound in the back.

Templin said the witnesses were not reported to have said they saw Nancy being stabbed.

★ ★ ★

No weapon had been found at last report.

Daniel faces a preliminary hearing in Juvenile Court Monday morning.

The boy's father, Frederick Lovaas Jr., a grounds keeper for Oakland Hills Country Club, accompanied Daniel to the courthouse this morning where he was taken for questioning by Juvenile Court authorities.

He was described as "in a state of shock."

Templin said the boy had no record of previous trouble with police.

Nancy was one of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jones. She had two sisters — Carolyn, 20, and Mary Ann, 2— and a brother, Douglas, 18. All lived at home.

BOY'S DESCRIPTION

The Lovaas boy was described as about 5 feet 8 inches tall, thin, with brown hair.

Templin said one of the witnesses reportedly chased the youth who hit the girl, but was unable to catch him.

Both the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and the Birmingham Police Department refused to allow the suspect to be photographed.

'Can't Ignore Red Chinese'

Red China as a tremendous power conflict rather than an ideological struggle over Communist doctrine as many Western experts ordinarily describe it.

He feels it is important for the West to have maximum contacts with both sides in this struggle, not just with the Soviet side.

● Under terms of the understanding which he has reached with Red China for establishing recognition, de Gaulle believes he may be laying a basis for a two-China policy since the Chinese did not lay down the condition that recognition covered also their claim to Formosa.

● Once relations are established, de Gaulle believes it should be possible to use French influence in Peking to work for Red Chinese acceptance and support of a true policy of neutrality in Southeast Asia—where the East-West conflict now centers in South Viet Nam.

SHARPLY DISPUTE

Other Western leaders, particularly U.S. policy - makers, sharply dispute the reliability of any Red Chinese neutrality pledge since the neutralization of Laos is still in controversy and U.S. officials think any partial neutrality measures would be used by the Reds as a new springboard for conquest.

● De Gaulle believes that recognition of Red China is directly in line with the policy of his government for reestablishing a position of French influence in Southeast Asia.

And he sees the possibility that expanding trade and other ties between France and the Communist Chinese mainland will provide a bargaining position and some leverage for influencing Chinese Communists activities in that part of the world as well as in the Far East generally.

Boundaries Discussed

Proposed boundary changes for junior and senior high schools were discussed last night by the Pontiac school board.

Action was deferred until Feb. 6.

School officials also proposed shifting boundaries between Pontiac's two high schools to balance enrollments.

★ ★ ★

Under the proposed boundary, an estimated 221 students who would normally attend Pontiac Central High will instead attend Pontiac Northern High School.

PRESENT BOUNDARIES

The present high school boundary extends east along Mt. Clemens and Featherstone to the city limits, while the new line would extend east along Mt. Clemens to Sanford and then south on Sanford to the city limits.

Senior high school students who now attend Central and live south of Mt. Clemens and east of Sanford would attend Northern in the future.

However, school officials recognize that students who have begun senior high school in a school often do not want to change.

Thus, those who entered high school in 1963-64 in the area of the change will be permitted to choose their high school in 1964-65.

NEW STUDENTS

New students or pupils entering high school next year would have to attend the high school serving their area, officials said.

The proposed changes would give Central an estimated enrollment of 2,275, while Northern would have 1,632.

Pontiac Central now has 2,294 and Northern 1,516.

STUDENTS TRANSFER

These are those pupils living along Dixie Highway outside the city limits in the so-called Silver Circle area.

School officials said the Silver Circle area students, who are being transported to Washington Junior High, had been promised they would attend the Baldwin building.

Democrats Choose Division Leader

LANSING (AP)—The appointment of Sherwood Colburn, former State Insurance Commissioner, as head of the special projects division of the party was announced Thursday by the Democratic State Central Committee.

Colburn succeeds Norman Krandall, a Ford Motor Co. executive of Detroit, who is leaving for a new apppointment with Ford at Toronto.

Colburn, now in the insurance business in Detroit, previously has been mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate for several offices.

Hoffa Discloses Plans for New Detroit Clinic

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Teamsters Local 299 at Detroit will build a $1 million, four-story clinic to provide dental and eye care for its members and their families, James R. Hoffa said Thursday.

A spokesman for the union president said the clinic would be the prototype of a hoped-for series which eventually would serve most of the 1.7 million union members across the nation.

Numbers Game

FUR412, Form a Firm

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—"The 484-07-7439 (50359) 283-1313 (515) Co." was formed yesterday to write letters to the federal government and the telephone company.

The name is made up of the social security number, zip code number, telephone and telephone area code number of its president and founder, Robert Hullihan.

Hullihan said he formed his company "in a spirit of surrender to the digit dementia of government and big corporations.

Independent Minded Leader

Will Romania Be Another Yugoslavia?

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

One of the more interesting aspects of Premier Khrushchev de-Stalinization campaign has been the growing independence of Romania within the Communist Bloc.

NEWSOM

This independence of Moscow first expressed itself in Romanian economic policy and in the last year has been extending to political and cultural fields.

The Romanians do not publicize it especially, since, with their long common border with the Soviet Union, they cannot afford to press Moscow too hard.

Nonetheless, the country presents an outstanding example of growing nationalism within the East European Communist Bloc, and, along with Yugoslavia and Red China, provides evidence that probably never again can world communism return to the monolithic state that it was in the time of Lenin and Stalin.

But in the last year, he has defied Soviet displeasure in a number of important ways.

★ ★ ★

RED CHINA'S VIEWS

Romanian newspapers have given prominence to Red China's side of the dispute with the Soviet Union.

Gheorghiu-Dej was conspicuously absent last July when Khrushchev met in East Berlin with other satellite leaders to discuss the China situation.

At the United Nations, in lesser ways, the Romanian delegation also showed signs of independence from Moscow.

In the cultural field was the abolishment of the Maxim Gorky Institute of Russian language and Literature in Bucharest and its incorporation into Bucharest University.

PAPER DISAPPEARS

There also was the sudden disappearance in November of the Romanian language edition of New Times, a Moscow-directed publication devoted primarily to propaganda and political issues.

Industrially, the keynote of Romania's defiance of Moscow pressures has been its refusal to go along with Khrushchev's plan to integrate the Communist economy under Comecon, the Council for Mutual Economic Assistance.

This plan would have reduced Romania to the role of supplier of raw materials.

WESTERN FIRM

He signed up with a Franco-British combine for construction of a $36 million steel plate mill to be built in Romania's Danube River delta at Galatz.

He signed expanded trade agreements with both Britain and France and also is looking for markets in the United States.

Last summer he announced, jointly with Yugoslavia, agreement on construction of a hydroelectric and navigation project on the Danube at the Iron Gate.

TRADE INCREASING

For all this, the Romanian regime is and remains Communist. But it represents a degree of liberalization unheard of less than 10 years ago.

Rocket Site Now Planned in State's UP

HOUGHTON (AP — State Rep. Russell Hellman, D-Dollar Bay, said Thursday plans are under way to start shooting rockets next May from the proposed Keweenaw Peninsula rocket launch site. The rockets will be used for high altitude studies of the weather and radiation.

The committee pushing the launching site has been given six rockets by the Weather Bureau, Hellman said.

Hellman said there are several possibilities for obtaining radar tracking equipment. He said a University of Michigan official has made preliminary arrangements for buying 203 acres of land. A group at Houghton has promised to supply trailers to house personnel and equipment.

The University of Michigan and Michigan Tech will help with the tests.

Hellman said plans to build a rocket launch site on the peninsula in Lake Superior hinges on whether the committee can raise $45,000.

Hard Labor Problems

Unions Have Convictions About Moonlighting

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — Some states, notably Maryland and North Carolina, have adopted a practice of permitting certain prison inmates to hold outside jobs.

WEST

Begun as a rehabilitation measure, this policy enables the prisoners to leave their cells during the day and work a regular shift for a private company.

They draw the same pay as other employes, which they can use to support their families or put aside as a nest egg for the time when they are paroled or have finished their terms.

They dress in civilian clothes while on the job, they work unguarded and, in some cases, they ride public transportation to and from work.

Moonlighting is impractical, however, because the prisoners are required to return to confinement at night.

As was perhaps inevitable, there recently arose a question of whether convicts who have these positions should join a labor union.

PETITION FILED

The matter came up in a petition filed by the Teamsters Union to form a bargaining unit at a plant in Charlotte, N. C., where two convicts were employed.

After due consideration, the National Labor Relations Board ruled that the prisoners should be excluded from the election to determine whether the union would represent the employes.

The board held that there was an "insufficient community of interest" between them and the other workers.

It also excluded the son and the brother of the company's president, but that is another story.

I wouldn't for a minute question the board's wisdom, but I rather regret that it acted as it did. It would have been interesting to see what would have happened if the convicts had become members of the union.

My guess is that a situation something like this would develop:

As their first act as union members, the convicts would demand longer working hours. Almost anything being better than prison, they would want to spend as much time on the job as possible.

★ ★ ★

They would, therefore, also demand that holidays be abolished. Which would naturally lead to a demand to eliminate vacations.

ULTIMATE WEAPON

If the company refused to grant these concessions, the convicts would resort to the ultimate weapon. They would go on strike to make the company pay time-and-a-half for undertime.

'Cuba Robbed in Sugar Deal'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Exiled Cuban sugar growers say Fidel Castro got the short end of his six-year, $3.2-billion sugar deal with the Soviet Union.

"He got robbed," said Pedro Martinez, spokesman for the Cuban Sugar Growers Association in Exile. "Moscow is offering 6 cents a pound for Fidel's sugar. The world price is about 10 cents and the trend is upward."

★ ★ ★

The agreement announced in Moscow called for sugar sales to the Soviet Union over a six-year period scaled from 2,100,000 tons in 1965 to 5 million tons in 1970.

Martinez predicted Cuba could not meet the quotas.

BAD HARVEST

★ ★ ★

In western Cuba, where the harvest starts, the yield has averaged only 10 per cent to date "and that is unprofitable," Martinez said. A 13 or 12 per cent yield is good.

Shoveling Snow Into City Street Not a Violation

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Police accused Lloyd Doxon of Saugus of shoveling snow into the street and thus violating an ordinance against cluttering the streets with "waste, rubbish or filth."

Judge M. Edward Viola dismissed the charge.

★ ★ ★

"I can't see snow as rubbish," he said. "People like it and you hear poems about it.

"Besides, God gave it to us and we'd have a hard time to prove he discarded it."

Toothbrush Causes Search of Aircraft

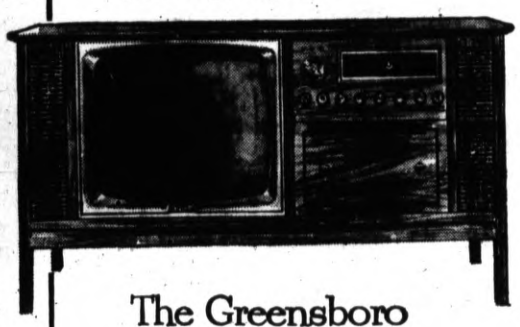

PARIS (AP) — Orly Airport police were alerted Thursday when a buzzing noise was heard from a suitcase aboard a plane about to take off for Marseille.

Police found a battery-driven toothbrush had been turned on accidentally as it was packed.

Record-High Budget to Assist State Needs

A record budget proposal of $622.4 million for the 1965 fiscal year was given the legislature by Gov. GEORGE ROMNEY.

Although $72 million higher than the budget authorized for the current fiscal year, the excess is earmarked for development of social areas and capital-fund projects long neglected as Michigan sank into financial stringency.

★ ★ ★

The Governor stressed the need for greater spending in education and mental health. And with the State now out of debt, he recommends that $19 million be budgeted for capital outlay. In addition, $5 million would go into the general fund surplus.

★ ★ ★

Highlighting ROMNEY's budget is a "pay-as-you-grow" capital outlay program which proposes spending $51 million in 1964-65 for state buildings and expansion. This, he said, will insure progress for 46 different projects with a combined total of $118 million, with planning or start of construction for 24 college and university projects.

★ ★ ★

Other major items of the proposed budget are:

$273.7 million for education.

$99.3 million for social welfare.

★ ★ ★

The costs of re-establishing Michigan in the eminent position it once held in all areas of government and services are understandably high. But the State is again enjoying fiscal solvency and is well able to afford them. (A surplus of $38 million is anticipated for fiscal 1965, in contrast to a $22.8 million deficit for the year ended at midyear.)

We approve the foresighted fiscal concept of Gov. ROMNEY and the budget that reflects it.

Construction of Canal Has Complex History

The current hassle revolving around the Republic of Panama and the canal evokes intriguing history dealing with the famed shortcut between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

It was originally conceived by Spanish explorers early in the 16th century to save vessels the 8,000 mile trip around South America, but inadequate engineering resources kept it from becoming no more than a dream.

★ ★ ★

But a French company actually began work on the 40-mile waterway late in the 19th century, and had removed 30-million cubic yards of earth before the project collapsed in 1889 due to a combination of bankruptcy, lack of planning and disease.

In 1904, the U. S. paid the French $40 million for their holdings and initiatory progress, and resumed work on the project.

The canal was estimated to cost $375 million, but the job was completed ahead of time by 1917 at a cost of $342 million. In that year, 1,937 vessels passed through the canal while in 1962, 11,340 made the passage.

From the start, yellow fever and malaria were the two main obstacles to completion of the channel, and one out of every three workers contracted yellow fever, with half of those dying of it. But in two years yellow fever was eliminated and malaria brought under control.

★ ★ ★

Despite the probability of amicable resolution of the issues now dividing Panama and the United States, with threat to our position with respect to the canal, the canal itself is becoming outdated for modern shipping requirements.

★ ★ ★

Either a major upgrading of the facility must be undertaken or another canal dug. The latter alternative is not a new idea, however, and potential routes through northern Colombia, Nicaragua and Costa Rica or a southern Mexico isthmus have been the subject of serious study.

Nation Is Uneasy on Succession

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—From its beginning, this country has been uneasy about two questions which never go away, although the nation has acted as if it wished they would.

What happens when a president is disabled or when a president dies and there is no vice president?

Eight times—when presidents died in office and were succeeded by their vice presidents—the country has been left without a vice president, as it is now. Luckily, none of the vice presidents who became president died.

MARLOW

The assassination of President John F. Kennedy and the succession of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson to the presidency, leaving the No. 2 spot vacant, once again has forced a national reexamination of the problem.

★ ★ ★

Now, as in the past, ideas have been offered by the bundle. Three times Congress acted to say who becomes president if the president dies and there is no vice president. Always it had second thoughts, as it is having now.

WHO DECIDES?

But it always ducked the task of answering the disability question: Who decides when a sorely stricken president can't carry out his duties? Who decides when he thinks he is no longer disabled?

Now a Senate subcommittee—on constitutional amendments — is tackling both questions: Succession and disability. It held hearings the past two days, will resume in late February.

There will be enormous disagreements, as always. The subcommittee has been drenched in proposals. And, when it's all through, no matter what it recommends, the full Congress may duck again.

★ ★ ★

On the line of succession, perhaps the most influential and persuasive suggestion was made this week by a group of lawyers called together by the American Bar Association.

SUGGEST AMENDMENT

They don't like the present arrangement — under an act of 1947 — and suggest a constitutional amendment providing that when there is no vice president the president should nominate a person "who, upon approval by a majority of Congress in joint session, shall then become vice president."

This proposal has had a good response in Congress. Even if Congress approved and sent it to the states for ratification, this takes a lot of time and meanwhile there is no vice president.

But there is far more dispute over solving the question of presidential disability. There is no law covering this.

★ ★ ★

This is what causes uneasiness: Suppose a president feels he is no longer disabled and wants to take back his duties from the vice president but there is wide doubt that he is capable.

GROUP OF OFFICIALS

For this reason, it has been proposed that some group of government officials—the Cabinet, or Congress, or a commission—should decide when a president is no longer disabled. This is a big tangle, with perhaps no answer in sight.

'All We Latin Americans Must Pull Together!'

David Lawrence Says:

Poverty Comes in Wide Range

WASHINGTON — The word "poverty" has been in the headlines a great deal recently.

President Johnson has stressed plans for relieving poverty.

LAWRENCE

But apparently an acceptable definition of just what the word means has not emerged.

There are, of course, various degrees of poverty, just as there are various kinds of prosperity.

This correspondent has come into possession of a rather remarkable letter which discusses poverty.

It was written a few days ago by a woman who lives in a small town in the middle west.

Excerpts from the letter are as follows:

"Poverty, wherever it exists, is very real; and except where it is self-induced, it is very wrong.

"I am aware, through personal observation, that many cases of poverty are self - induced and deliberately propagated.

"I am also aware that many other cases are the result of misfortune or illness.

★ ★ ★

"There are those who not only have no 'bootstraps' but don't have the ability to pull themselves up by the same.

"Some means of aiding this group should be found — preferably outside the government.

SELF-HELP

"It would be quite humane at least to provide people with the opportunity for self - help.

"To give you some background of what kind of reader takes this kind of attitude, I am informing you of the following:

"(B) Our income has been as low as $5,000 a year and sometimes up to $7,000. Because of deductions, we have not had to pay federal income tax for 15 years.

MODEST HOME

"(C) We almost entirely own our very modest four - bedroom home.

"(D) We own two cars — well, they do sort of run. We have modern household appliances, adequate clothing, four bicycles, many books, a bed for everyone (complete with bedding), stereo - radiophono (our only debt, besides the house and a couple of patient doctors).

"(E) Our diet is simple but adequate and well balanced — usually. Occasionally we receive surplus food — due to seasonal employment.

"(F) We paid out about $1,000 in medical expense in 1963. My husband was hospitalized for three months. I was hospitalized four times for two weeks each. Only very sound management kept us from going into debt. Temporary county aid helped some, but had we continued for any length of time we would have become truly poverty-stricken with long - range ill effects, particularly on the children. To whom could we have turned?"

The foregoing letter illustrates the problems that confront some citizens of the country, who would be at a loss to know where to go for help in an emergency.

In many communities, private charitable organizations, with a staff of case - workers have assumed the responsibility of looking out for families afflicted by misfortune.

Unquestionably, community responsibility is difficult to assert effectively in some instances, especially in areas where the population is large and the means of communication are unsatisfactory.

All too frequently, a long time elapses before the plight of a poverty-stricken family becomes known even to neighbors.

CAREFUL MANAGEMENT

The woman who wrote the letter quoted above apparently feels that careful management can avoid hardships, but it is the sudden emergency that has many a family worried.

'City's Garbage Pick-Up Is Deplorable Situation'

This was trash pick-up day for our area for the week and I'm sure the people in our city government would be "proud" to have out-city visitors see what a "marvelous system" we have.

Little old ladies must lug and tug large garbage cans, trash cans and rubbish barrels several yards from their homes to make it convenient for big, strong men to dump some of it in the truck and spill the rest on our lawns.

★ ★ ★

I retrieved our trash cans and lids about one-half hour after pick-up and had to pick up most of the broken glass I had put in the trash, along with three pieces of wire over a foot in length and eight large pieces of paper and foil.

★ ★ ★

We have several older citizens on our street, three widows living alone and older women whose husbands are too ill or too old to attend to their tasks. They literally have to drag their refuse to the curb. This is deplorable. "Pontiac is on the move," so we're told! Well, for heaven's sake, how about "moving" the garbage back to the rear of the house instead of displaying it out front?

Readers Give Views on Commissioner

We have now established that Mr. Henry is lovable, handsome, kind, generous, drives a Cadillac and carries on a "clean campaign." Besides, he's smart. He's the first politician who has fulfilled his campaign promises. He claims he received 95 per cent support in the recent election. He took care of District 1 and that's what he was elected for. Who said there're more ways than one to "skin a cat"?

Milton Henry claims that he was being run out of the City Commission and that "certain factions" were out to get him because of his race. I doubt that many who voted "yes" did so for any racial reason. There were probably quite a few who voted this way to try to get Mr. Henry out—but not because of his race. It's easier to keep screaming "prejudice" than to face up to reality of one's faults.

'Better Watch Out! Beatles Are Coming'

Sometime in February, American television audiences are to be subjected to a cacophony which will emanate from the drums and three guitars of the successful British group, "The Beatles." To multitudes of adolescents who worship their every reverberation, the noise is known as the Mersey Sound or Liverpool Beat. Elders have another name for it, but after our first initiation we never listen.

Their audience is usually healthy young females, between 11 and 16 each capable of some 130 decibels and it's just too much. When "The Beatles" appear, reduce your volume, plug your ears, and close your eyes.

The Marigold

Chicago's American

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, who is running (a little vaguely so far) for vice president, was photographed with a bunch of marigolds in her hand and with the Senate majority leader, Illinois' Everett Dirksen, alongside. A press agent had instructed both senators to suggest that the marigold would be a fine national flower.

★ ★ ★

The press agent was working for the seed firm, W. Atlee Burpee company of Clinton, Ia., Philadelphia, Pa., and Riverside, Calif. This firm, of which David Burpee is now president, has energetically specialized in breeding marigolds. It naturally would sell more of them as the national flower.

★ ★ ★

The marigold would be among our last choices. It is a bold, flamboyant flower, mostly blooming yellow or orange color. It is coarse and it has an ugly smell, faintly suggestive of skunks. (The Burpee company has been trying, with some success, to breed down this smell, but marigolds are still not a flower for burying the nose in.)

★ ★ ★

The Burpee company says the marigold is qualified as America's national flower because "it is a native of the United States." Actually it is a native of Mexico; it has strayed into the edges of states along the Rio Grande — Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and California.

If the United States really needs a national flower (we can think of dozens of things it seems to need worse), what's the matter with the rose? It is the one flower all Americans are sentimental about, many of its varieties are wonderfully fragrant, and it is easy to grow anyplace in this country.

'Pleasant Surprise'

The Indianapolis Star

★ ★ ★

Now we hope no one gets the idea that because the President is doing some strong trimming the proposal should therefore be spared further cutting in Congress. There still are bound to be places where congressional appraisal of the need for spending can differ —for the better—from the administrative viewpoint. The budget promise would seem to indicate that President Johnson is really serious about wanting a tax cut. The way to get the tax cut is to cut spending.

★ ★ ★

We hope all this materializes. If Congress and the administration could work together, both aiming at the same general goal, the nation could have a balanced budget and a tax cut all in the same year.

'Dominique' Canceled

Protestants Protest

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Protestant parents have protested the cancellation of a performance by third-grade students of the popular Catholic song, "Dominique."

Officials at Fonwood Elementary School said they deleted the song, recorded by a French nun, Soeur Sourire, from a Jan. 14 Parents-Teachers Association program to avoid a religious controversy.

A 20-signature petition protesting the deletion was given the Northeast Houston School School Board last night by Bill Flenniken, 29.

★ ★ ★

He said the cancellation gave the children the mistaken idea "there was something wrong with Catholics" and also confused and hurt them mentally and emotionally.

NARROWMINDED?

George Smith, identified as a 28-year-old Baptist, said he felt the song was cancelled because "somebody was narrowminded."

Flenniken told the board the song had been approved by both a Baptist and a Lutheran minister serving Northwest Houston.

★ ★ ★

Supt. G. C. Scarborough said he had warned the principal the song "might make the school a battlefield on religious matters."

Metro Park Opens This Summer

BAYPOINT BEACH—One of the outstanding features of the Stony Creek Metropolitan Park will be Baypoint Beach, to be ready for use this summer. Above, the beach and unique beachhouse are pictured as seen through the architect's eyes. The park will eventually accommodate crowds of more than 30,000.

The waters of Stony Creek Lake, now quiet and cold, will be interrupted by the splashes of swimmers this summer when Stony Creek Metropolitan Park opens to the public.

Located northeast of Rochester, the 3,500-acre facility is scheduled to be ready for limited use a few weeks after Memorial Day.

Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, has announced that one of the outstanding features of the park will be the Baypoint Beachhouse. This is planned to open on Memorial Day.

"The water and sewer system, now under construction, must be completed and ready for use before the bathhouse can open and we will have to employ a seasonal or part-time staff at this site," Hallenbeck said.

OPERATING POLICIES

Stony Creek will follow the same operating policies as the authority's Kensington Park. Water skiing will not be permitted and boats will be limited to traveling a maximum of 10 miles an hour.

Sailing and fishing will eventually be offered.

Hallenbeck said the main entrance, from 26 Mile, is completed and the divided parkway from Van Dyke is to be in use in 1965.

★ ★ ★

"There is an urgent need for recreational space and we hope to meet the demands of the increased population growth in Oakland, Macomb and north and eastern Wayne counties," the director stated.

CONSTRUCTION

Developers have been working on the area since November 1960, clearing trails, constructing new dams and bridges and creating the mile-square lake.

This will be the eighth recreational site built by the authority in the Metropolitan Detroit area.

Another feature of the park will be the nature center, a converted country estate. Designed in colonial styling, the center will feature exhibit rooms and work rooms.

★ ★ ★

A first aid station, lockers, offices and refreshment facilities will be found under the beach house roof. Approximately 100 by 200 feet in size, the beach house is called a "forest of concrete trees" by architects Wakely-Kushner Associates of St. Clair Shores.

DRAWING CARD

Built on a rise between one of the beaches and an 800-car parking lot, the beachhouse-pavilion will be a drawing card itself, because of its unique design.

Ten to 15 years will be required for full development of the recreational land. Now, however, construction of the beachhouse is well under way, some 10 miles of road has been completed, and work on the lake is coming to a close.

Hallenbeck said the area was chosen for the park because of its wonderful scenic value. The rolling and wooded terrain provides for about 800 acres of water surface by impounding the waters of Stony Creek and its branches to create two lakes.

★ ★ ★

MORE FACILITIES

Additional facilities to be offered at the park will include tables and stoves for picnicking, playground areas, winter sport sites, nature trails and scenic drives.

These will be developed gradually over a number of years.

Estimated value of the park is about $5 million.

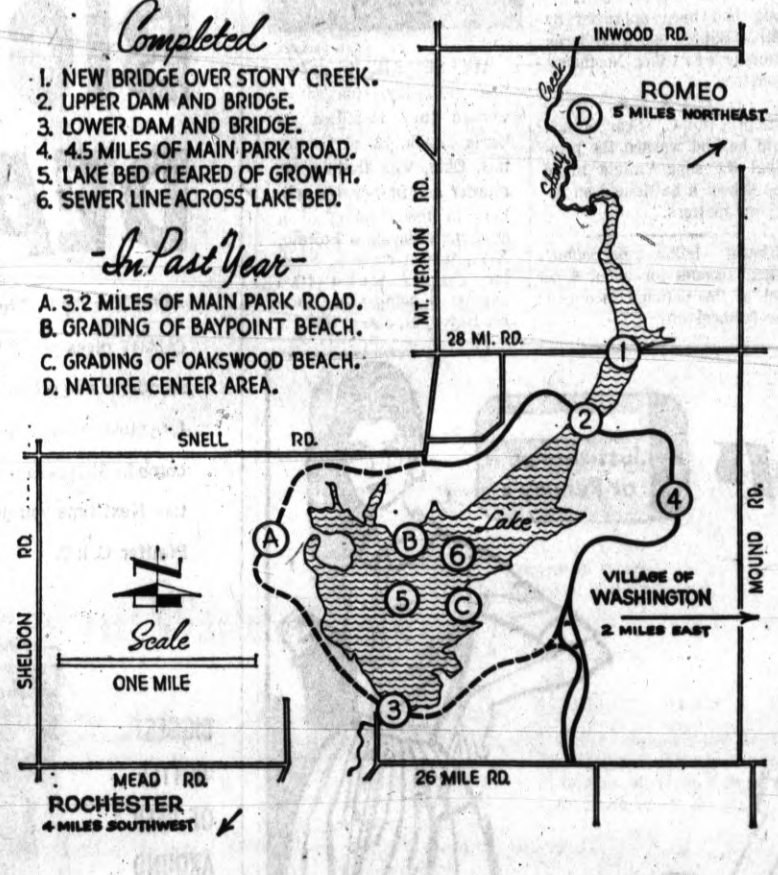

Already Oakland Township, in which a portion of the park is located, has set up rules governing park activities.

★ ★ ★

Watercraft will not be allowed left on the shoreline through the night, except by special permission. Swimming will be permitted only within marked areas and at times when lifeguards are present.

The township has also established ordinances concerning fires, pets, alcoholic beverages and vending.

Set Recital to Dedicate New Organ

AVON TOWNSHIP — The organist of First Presbyterian Church in Detroit, Gordon Young, will present a recital Sunday afternoon when the Alfred G. Wilson Memorial Organ is dedicated at University Presbyterian Church.

Open to the public, the dedication program begins at 4 p. m. Sitter service will be available.

The $10,000 Allen electric organ is the gift of Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson in memory of her late husband.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the organ dedication, Sunday's service will include dedication of other memorials and gifts in the new $100,000 chapel that was dedicated last Sunday afternoon.

NOTED MUSICIAN

Gordon Young is recognized as one of the brilliant organist-choirmasters of the times. He has nearly 100 published works to his credit, appearing under listings of nearly 13 major American publishers and one European firm.

The organist will play several numbers of his own composition, one of them for the first time in public. Young wrote it especially to be presented to his alma mater in June when he receives his doctorate.

He is a member of the Detroit Chapter and American Guild of Organists.

Adults Needed for 4-H Clubs

Youngsters Plentiful; Must Have Leaders

Potential 4-H clubbers in Oakland County need clubs and leaders.

Almost every day, the county extension office receives calls from boys and girls who want to be in a club where none is located.

Evidence of the interest in the 4-H program can be seen in the fact that club enrollment in the country increased by 500 in the past year.

★ ★ ★

This brings the total near the 2,000 membership mark, according to 4-H Agent Ruth Montney.

POTENTIAL LEADERS

To illustrate, she said mothers and fathers usually have special interests, skills or talents ranging from knitting, cooking and woodcraft to nature study they can share with children.

Basic aim of the whole 4-H program, of which the projects are simply the tools, is to help youngsters grow into happy, productive and responsible citizens.

Adults interested in 4-H leadership should contact the cooperative extension office by telephone or mail and ask for either Mrs. Montney or Jack Worthington, the county's other 4-H agent.

New School Set for Pupils

Begin Using Keith Facility on Monday

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Keith Elementary School pupils finally will be united under one roof Monday.

The new building on Keith Road is ready to receive the nearly 400 students in its area. Construction of the school was delayed by an iron workers' strike last summer.

Pupils assigned to the school attended classes in five buildings throughout the Walled Lake School District for the first half of the school year.

★ ★ ★

Each class will move into the new facility as a body, retaining its own teacher.

13 CLASSROOMS

The school contains 13 classrooms. Folding partitions between rooms will allow more flexibility for group instruction and special classes such as physical education.

There is a portable stage in the multipurpose room.

Both the cafeteria and bookstore will be in operation opening day.

Open House Set Sunday for Ortonville Civic Center

ORTONVILLE — Just over one year ago, three men each from two local service organizations started the ball rolling for a community building.

Sunday, an open house is planned from 2 to 4 p.m. to show the public the results of their efforts.

Residents of the area have been invited to view the interior of the new Roto-Jay Hall, which was an old schoolhouse before being converted into a civic center.

★ ★ ★

ENTIRELY RENOVATED

Under direction of the three local Rotarians and three Jaycees, its purchase was negotiated and several major structural changes were made. The entire edifice also was renovated throughout.

It was late in 1961 that the Jaycees circulated a questionnaire in Ortonville to determine interest in a teen or community center. The response was "overwhelmingly in favor of the idea," the group found.

At about the same time, the local Rotary Club came to the same conclusion.

★ ★ ★

Independently, the two clubs began working toward the common goal until it became apparent in 1962 that an undertaking of this size was too large for either organization by itself.

ASSOCIATION BORN

Thus the Roto-Jay Association was born. The six on the original board of directors were Jaycees Richard Wilcox, Louis Williams and William Campbell, and Rotarians Baxter Hamilton, Charles Sherman and Al Brown.

Recently, Dale Springsteen replaced Campbell and Arlo Davis succeeded Sherman.

Last Oct. 3 the building was finished and is now open for rentals and civic use. It contains a banquet room, meeting room and full kitchen.

By ROGER SRIGLEY

OXFORD — A panel of professionals last night told Oxford residents why the privies, cesspools and septic tank and tile fields here have got to go.

They also told the crowd of about 175, gathered in the junior high auditorium, that the proposed sewage system is "never going to cost any less."

Sewage, sanitation and financial experts explained details of the proposed $916,460 construction project as best they could with what Village Manager Michael Kilgore emphasized were preliminary plans at the public hearing.

★ ★ ★

Donald W. Ringler, deputy director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, gave the audience a brief sketch of over-all county plans for sewage and showed how Oxford fits in.

★ ★ ★

He pointed out that in 12 to 15 years connection with a sewage trunk would make the proposed spray irrigation treatment plant here obsolete.

Oscar Boyea, sanitarian for the Oakland County Health Dept., compared the Village to a baby. He said establishment of a water system was the infant's first step.

"If this second step is taken the village will be able to walk of its own accord," he added. Boyea said the proposed system would make all Oxford land available for residences as well as industry.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Hugh Wilson, village health officer termed Oxford residents "fortunate."

OXFORD IS LUCKY

"Here in Oxford we have been lucky not to have any serious outbreaks of typhoid, hepatitis and dysentery..." he said.

Dr. Wilson told those who have not had trouble with their private systems to "count your blessings."

Located east of Davis Lake and south of West Burdick, the plant would be in operation about six hours daily.

★ ★ ★

After treatment, the liquid remains would be sprayed over an area adjacent to the plant, eventually being lost through evaporation and perculation.

POINTED OUT

Fenster pointed out that this method is being used successfully in Washington and elsewhere in Michigan. "The odor problem will not be there with proper housekeeping," he said. The treatment area would be at least a quarter-mile from any residence.

Looking at the cost factor, Louis Schimmel, director of the Michigan Municipal Advisory Council pointed out the advantage of having the county handle the project.

"The Oakland County DPW can finance this for you from 25 to 45 per cent cheaper than you can do it yourself," he said. "Your council is doing a real service by bringing this plan to you."

Many in the audience asked questions about the project after the experts had finished their presentations.

'NEED NOW'

James Ricketts, 71 Dennison, asked why the treatment plant should be built if in the future Oxford would connect with a county trunk line. "The need for sewers is here now," answered Fenster.

A Center street resident asked how retirees are going to afford the projected average annual cost of $125.50 for 12 years and $78 for the next 18.

Kilgore and Village President Allen E. Valentine admitted that this would be a problem for some, a problem that the council would have to consider.

"We've looked at the individual" added Kilgore, "but due to the magnitude of the project we must consider it as a whole."

Firemen to Canvass

Firemen of the Avondale department will canvass the area bounded by Livernois, Adams, Hamlin and South Boulevard in the porch light drive for the March of Dimes Tuesday night.

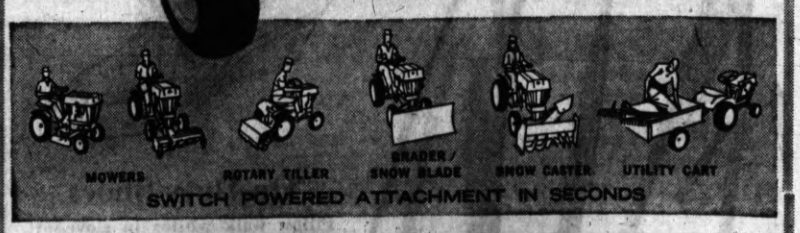

CIVIC HALL OPEN—Completed last October, the new Roto-Jay Hall on the corner of Cedar and Ball streets, Ortonville, will be the setting for an open house Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. The building was an old schoolhouse before an organization made up of local Rotarians and Jaycees purchased and converted it into a civic center. It contains a banquet room, meeting room and complete kitchen.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Pain Aids in Detecting Serious Diseases

The symptom your doctor is most frequently called on to relieve is pain. Yet he often has no way of knowing whether the pain is mild or severe.

BRANDSTADT

Some persons have such a low threshold for pain that a very slight discomfort is described as an excruciating pain. Others with every reason to have severe pain show little or no evidence of having any pain at all.

Pain may be said to arise whenever a nerve that is a pain receptor is irritated.

This irritation can be brought on by pressure from a sharp or blunt object, by extreme heat or cold, or by a chemical reaction such as contact with acid, alkali or salt. Very light stimuli may cause tickling or itching.

★ ★ ★

When a stimulus in the form of a pin, heat or a chemical is applied to the skin, the pain felt acts as a warning to withdraw before extensive tissue damage results.

NOT OBVIOUS

Thus, we all recognize the value of pain arising on the surface of the body. But when a pain arises from within the head, chest, abdomen or a joint, the immediate cause is often not so obvious.

We are then apt to look on the pain not as a warning, but as something to be rid of as quickly as possible.

This has frequently caused a great deal of mischief. An all-too-common example is the person who, when confronted with a severe pain in the abdomen, rushes to the medicine cabinet and takes a purgative.

★ ★ ★

If the pain is due to an inflamed appendix, the purgative is more than likely to cause it to burst. This would result in peritonitis and possibly death.

SUFFER PAIN

In such a case, it is better to suffer the pain and call a doctor to determine the cause.

It is unwise, too, to take a strong pain-killer while waiting for the doctor to come.

Such a drug may not only dull the pain, but also bring down a fever and may thus mask the evidence of an infectious disease. This would cause your doctor to lose valuable time in arriving at a correct diagnosis.

At the other end of the spectrum is the person who complains incessantly about a pain that is little more than a minor discomfort.

FRUITLESS OPERATION

Constant pleas to do something — anything — to relieve the unbearable pain have led to many a fruitless exploratory operation on the abdomen that has left the victim no better off than before the operation.

So let us remember that even the severest pain has limits. A kindly providence has seen to it that we lose consciousness when our pain is truly unbearable.

When you have pain, by all means seek relief, but not at the expense of neglecting to learn the cause of the pain. Pain properly heeded can be your friend, not your enemy.

Reuther Eyes Auto Profits

'Car Makers Can Cut Prices, Hike Wages'

CHICAGO (AP) — President Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers union said Thursday the automobile makes can raise wages, cut prices and still make a good profit.

★ ★ ★

Looking ahead to new contract negotiations this summer, he said his union wants to take its gains out of the "greater profitability" of the industry.

Reuther spoke as the keynoter of a meeting of the Skilled Trades Department of the UAW.

IN A POSITION

"General Motors and the others are in a position where they can raise wages and at the same time cut prices to American consumers," he said.

He said the car manufacturers can cut prices of cars and trucks $200 and still make an 18 per cent profit after taxes.

★ ★ ★

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler spokesmen declined to comment on Reuther's remarks, saying they wanted to study the text of his address.

Reuther said General Motors has more than $2 billion in reserve.

WHAT TO DO?

"General Motors doesn't know what to do with this $2 billion and I think we ought to help them out," Reuther said while the delegates applauded.

The UAW president did not detail the demands he will make, but he said: "We're going after a bigger equity in 1964."

★ ★ ★

He said GM made a profit of $1.868 billion in the first half of 1963 and had set aside $91 million for bonuses for executives.

He said that General Motors has been "squeezing" workers and small parts companies. He also said the productivity and profits of the motorcar companies far exceed the wages of employees.

Reuther said that if the time and a half for overtime provision is not large enough to make job opportunities for the unemployed, "then we'd better raise that penalty."

He said that in negotiations for new contracts to replace those with the three major auto makers which expire Aug. 31, the UAW will give high priority to working conditions and steps to help create more job opportunities and also will consider early retirement of workers to provide work for younger people, a short work week, longer vacations, medical care and more paid holidays.

Poetry Group Gets $1-Million Bequest

NEW YORK (AP) — The Poetry Society of America has received a $1-million bequest. It is believed to be the largest ever given an organization of poets.

★ ★ ★

Countess Alice Fay de Castagnola of New York, who died last September, made the bequest, it was announced Thursday night at the society's 54th annual dinner.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said income from the trust fund will be used for scholarships, grants, publishing and book-buying.

Bad Weather Affects Meat, Produce Prices

Cold, and in some instances freezing, weather in many production areas has raised some speculation as to available produce supplies during the next month. Heavy snow in some states slowed the usual number of hogs going to market last week and wholesale pork prices rose.

These weather conditions will result in changes in supply, quality or condition, size and price of some produce items advises the District Extension Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

Although not evident this week, there may be temporary fluctuations in meat prices at the retail level later.

Most damage to produce will be noticed on tender green leafy vegetables such as escarole, endive, lettuce, and tomatoes, beans, squash, and cucumbers.

Citrus fruits were not damaged by the cold.

Shoppers will find a bonanza of values in the meat department this weekend. Beef, pork, and lamb cuts wear special price tags and provide real savings compared to regular prices of the same cuts.

STOCK UP ON STEAK

If the family likes steaks for summer eating, this is an excellent week to store extras in the freezer. Most top quality beef grades U.S.D.A. Choice and steaks of this grade are juicy and tender when properly cooked.

Pork loins and shoulder cuts are also receiving store emphasis. Perhaps a pork roast from the loin or shoulder, or center cut chops will fit your meal plans. Several lamb cuts, including chops, wear lower than usual tags in some stores this week.

Michigan controlled atmosphere apples are now being used in greater volume. Most of the "CA" apples now in the stores are of the Jonathan or McIntosh varieties. Both are good all-purpose apples.

The McIntosh has more tender flesh than the Jonathan, and some homemakers prefer it for fresh applesauce. To keep these apples as crisp as the day they were picked, keep them in the refrigerator and use within a week.

The 1964 production of Brazilian coffee is estimated at about 13 million bags compared with her usual exports of 18 million bags. This explains why coffee prices recently rose and may be expected to rise more in future months. The supply is shorter because of frost and drought damage.

Recently a shopper asked about substituting one size egg for another in recipes. Generally, one can substitute a medium size egg for a large one. Three small size eggs will equal the same volume as two large eggs. To fill one cup use four extra large or large eggs, 5 medium size eggs, or 6 small size eggs.

Britain and Poland Work for Disarmament

LONDON (AP) — Britain and Poland have agreed to "work for progress toward general and complete disarmament," said a communique Thursday night on talk sbetween British officials and Piotr Jaroszewicz, Poland's deputy prime minister.

The announcement said both governments welcomed "the lessening of tension" which followed the East-West nuclear test-ban treaty and desired expansion of contacts of all kinds between Poland and Britain.

Residential real estate in the nation is valued at $500 billion or about 25 per cent of the total wealth of the country.

During the past 10 years sales of console organs have shown a greater percentage increase than any other musical instrument. Sales in 1953 totaled 16,000, while 1962 sales exceeded 132,000 a gain of about 825 per cent.

U.S. railroads each hour of the day and night pay out an average of $135,000 in federal, state and local taxes.

Exercise to Test Soldiers, Gear

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 4,000-man brigade of Army infantrymen is about to bolt across the Pacific in the first test of a new technique for mating airlifted troops with heavy gear stockpiled afloat.

If the test works well, it could herald wider use of depot ships moored in strategically located harbors and ready to rendezvous with reinforcements at crisis points.

In this exercise, called "Quick Release," a brigade of the 25th "Tropic Lightning" Division will be flown some 5,000 miles from Hawaii to Okinawa.

★ ★ ★

The move will start this weekend, with the brigade flying aboard C135 jet transports and C124 propeller driven Globemasters of the Military Air Transport Service.

ONLY BELONGINGS

The soldiers will carry only their basic personal belongings, rifles and other light arms.

Meanwhile, three depot ships are en route from Subic Bay in the Philippines loaded with tanks, artillery, ammunition and other stocks. They are not under Navy warship escort, but would be in a war situation.

These ships, converted World War II vessels manned by the Navy's Military Sea Transport Service, are due in Okinawa next week.

★ ★ ★

After the equipment is unloaded at a yet undisclosed place on Okinawa, the troops will draw it and presumably be ready to fight.

CHECK READINESS

Whether the vehicles and other gear will be in combat shape remains to be seen — this is one reason for the exercise.

The hundreds of tanks, armored personnel carriers, trucks and other heavy stuff drawn by the 2nd Armored Division in Germany had been waiting in depots for two years.

Should "Quick Release" live up to hopes, the United States might conceivably create additional floating depots and post them elsewhere in the Far East.

'Right in Raising Flag, Though'

U.S. Deaths in Panama Rued by Teen

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A slender youth has come back 1,500 miles to his homeland convinced of the righteousness of his flag-raising act—but troubled over its consequences in the Panama Canal Zone.

"I was right in raising the American flag," James Jenkins, 17, said Thursday, after the S.S. Cristobal docked here.

"(But) if I had the choice of doing it again," the former Balboa High School senior added, "I'd have to think about it if I knew four U.S. citizens would have been killed."

Jenkins, one of the student leaders in the Jan. 9 incident which led to bloody rioting between U.S. soldiers and Panamanians, is on his way to Cambridge, Ohio.

WITH RELATIVES

He will finish his education there, staying with relatives. He's returning to the states voluntarily, he says.

Jenkins, who briefly tried to elude newsmen on arrival, confirmed in his first U.S. interview that he was the student who raised the flag at Balboa High.

★ ★ ★

"It was my flag," he said. "I did raise it."

But the lanky, brown-haired teen-ager said he thought rioting was coming sooner or later.

"If the flag-raising hadn't happened," he said, "I think there would have been trouble anyway. I think there will be trouble in the future."

TWO PREVENTATIVES

Looking back, young Jenkins said two things could have stopped it.

"The police could have prevented it," he said. "They could have prevented them (the Panamanians) from coming into the Canal Zone."

Secondly, he said, two flags side by side at the school could have headed off the demonstration.

After a flag incident in 1959, officials ordered the U.S. and Panamanian flags to fly side by side in some zone areas. Last Jan. 1, officials said no flags would fly at schools.

ONLY FLAGPOLE

American students, in defiance, raised an American flag at Balboa High's only flagpole. A band of Panamanians arrived with their flag. Rioting erupted.

"There has been no trouble since two flags are again flying there," he said. "So I think we (the students) would have been satisfied."

Jenkns had bolted from his stateroom with his grandmother, Eunice Thomas, when newsmen arrived.

"No pictures. I'm not out for glory," he said, hurrying away until newsmen cornered him in a large reception stateroom.

DECIDES TO TALK

His grandmother yanked at his coattails, trying to pull him away. But he decided to answer questions.

"We (students) decided to raise it (the flag) at a group meeting in a club house," he said, his hand trembling as he stood clutching his valise.

The meeting was held a week before the flag incident, he said.

Jenkins said about 150-200 pupils were there when he raised the flag.

Americans at the Canal Zone didn't criticize him, he said, until after the rioting.

DIDN'T SCOLD

"My parents had nothing to do with it (the flag raising)," Jenkins said. "But they didn't scold me."

Jenkins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Jenkins. They have lived in the Canal Zone for 15 years.

In Balboa, Mrs. Jenkins has said her husband, a locomotive operator at the canal locks, had many years in government service and hoped to continue his federal career.

"My parents will come up for vacation next summer," Jenkins said. "If I go back, it will be for a short vacation. That's all."

Commies Confused

Weird Muskovite Winter

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union is being alternately frozen and thawed by the most unusual winter in memory.

The weather is so odd that the government news agency, Tass, which usually concentrates on politics, soberly announced on Thursday "Seven million Muscovites are at a complete loss to understand the weather."

As Tass pointed out, one moment the temperature is 13 degrees below zero and the next moment everything is thawing. Then suddenly it gets icy cold again.

★ ★ ★

Tass said even the old timers couldn't remember anything like it.

Unit of Hospital Reelects 6 Officers

★ ★ ★

Reelected were: Leon G. Reene, president, 140 Elizabeth Lake Road; Wilbur E. Alsup, vice president, 133 LeGrande; George Hilliker, treasurer, 4913 Maycrest, Waterford Township; Lyle Ferguson, Clerk, 51 N. Eastway; Lyle B. Saum, credit committee chairman, 2794 Voorheis, Waterford Township; and Margaret Greer, supervisory committee chairman, 629 Desoto.

No Favorites Played by Radar Equipment

★ ★ ★

So far police have ticketed Municipal Court Judge Robert Costin, Ann Harrison, University of Wyoming policewoman, and Duke Dueweke, who issues and renews driver's licenses.

Nice Weather! Use the Time to Buy Tabs

LANSING (AP)—Use the current good weather in January to pick up license plates for 1964, the Secretary of State's Office urges motorists.

"This early in the sale, motorists can get in and out of branches without having to sweat out a long line," said Secretary of State James Hare.

Unless sales pick up, Hare said, there will be the annual problem of long lines just before the Feb. 29 deadline.

Sales so far are some 75,000 more than the same date last year and are near the three-quarter of a million mark, the office said.

★ ★ ★

There's still a long way to go from the estimated 3 million plates to be sold before 1963 plates become illegal, it was noted.

★ ★ ★

Once again this year, tabs only will be sold. Motorists with plates in bad condition can get replacements for $1, but both old plates must be turned in to receive the new ones.

Animal Limbs Are Restored to Usefulness

EAST LANSING (AP) — A Miami, Fla., veterinarian reported here on a technique for restoring severed animal limbs that also has been used successfully on humans.

Nearly 100 limb restorations have been attempted by Dr. Robert Knowles and plastic surgeon Dr. Clifford Snyder, both of Miami, under a three-year, $65,000 grant from the National Institute of Health.

Dr. Knowles told a conference at Michigan State University Wednesday that the first restoration attempts failed but "lately we've whipped our problems and can do it with consistent results."

TECHNIQUE DEVELOPED

The doctors developed the technique by amputating dogs' legs, storing them, then replacing them.

The severed limbs are hooked up with a pump-oxygenator which circulates blood through them while they are stored.

Dr. Knowles said several successful human limberstorations using the technique have been reported.

House to Get Low-Wage Bill

Asks Salary Floor of $1.50 Per Hour

LANSING (AP) — The first minimum wage bill of the session—calling for a wage floor of $1.50 per hour—was filed Thursday for introduction in the House.

With it came a bill providing that denial of a job to any person on account of his age would be an unfair labor practice.

Rep. Edward Michalski, D-Detroit, was the chief sponsor of both pieces of legislation.

WOULD GUARANTEE

The minimum wage bill would guarantee a $1.50 per hour wage to all workers except domestics, farm labor, newsboys and persons working for charitable or nonprofit organizations.

Gov. George Romney has called this year for enactment of a minimum wage law but supports a proposal, yet to be introduced in the legislature, for a $1 wage floor.

★ ★ ★

The unfair labor practice, defined by the bill barring job discrimination on account of age, would fall within the province of the new State Civil Rights Commission.

OTHER BILLS

Also readied Thursday for introduction in the House were bills which would:

— Require high school students to stay in school until they are graduated or reach their 18th birthday, whichever comes first (Guzowski).

— Allow holders of state liquor licenses to keep them when a church or school is erected within 500 feet of the establishment after issuance of the license (Petri).

— Permit Michigan residents over 65 years of age to fish without a license in inland waters (McCollough).

Two bills concerning unsafe vehicles and a third dealing with drunk drivers were filed for introduction by Rep. Alexander Petri, D-Ecorse.

'What Will Be, Will Be'

No Fixed Net for Wallendas

DETROIT (AP) — "We are ready," Karl Wallenda says, to face the same high wire today which two years ago claimed the lives of two members of "The Flying Wallendas."

Mario Wallenda, his son, still is confined to a wheel chair as a result of the 35-foot plunge to the sawdust floor of the State Fair Coliseum, Jan. 30, 1962.

"What will be will be," Karl said Thursday. "I can't run away. . ."

As before, the Wallendas will work without a fixed net—but a hand net will be held at the ready by 12 or 15 men. Attempts to make nets mandatory were turned down in the Michigan Legislature and the Detroit City Council.

DETROIT MISHAP

The Detroit mishap was the first of a series of troubles for the troupe, which had never experienced any serious accidents previously.

In Sarasota, Fla., a high wire snapped last Nov. 5 and Karl, his brother Herman and his nephew Gunther were injured. Herman, now 62, retired. Gunther, 35, suffered face cuts and was too frightened to return to work.

Then in Omaha last April, Arthur Wallenda's wife Henrietta was killed in a fall.

"No high wire family has ever had such tragedy," Wallenda said. "But this is our experience. Until a man comes who is better than I, whose reflexes and style and knowledge surpass mine, I will not retire."

SHORTENED VERSION

The act will be an abbreviated version of the old one. Two new young men, Andy Anderson, 27, and Louis Murillo, 28, will join Wallenda and his daughter, Jennier, 34.

Both men were trained by Wallenda and all four trained all summer for this first performance, Wallenda said.

"It will be Anderson's first time at this height. We will see how he will react. It may take three or four days before he relaxes. But he is good. They both are," he said.

Wallenda had good news, he said, from his niece, Jana Schepp, 19, who was in a chair at the top of the pyramid 51 feet above the ground when the fall in Detroit came. Other performers grabbed her as she fell, and she watched Dieter Schepp, 23, and Richard Faughnan, 29, die.

"She's decided to work again," he said. "She's coming home from Germany."

SLAYING VICTIMS—Police are seeking the murderer or Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, 43, Oakland, Calif., mother of the year in 1963, and her 19-year-old daughter, Carolyn. Both had been sexually assaulted. The bodies were found by a younger daughter yesterday on the floor of the family's apartment.

A good rule of thumb for prospective home buyers suggested by Ted Seidel, housing specialist: a house should cost no more than 2½ times the buyer's annual income.

Man Dies in Crash Pair Dies at Crossing

BRIDGMAN (AP) — Harvey Hampton, 65, of Flint was killed Thursday in a head-on auto crash a mile south of here.

The first lace was produced in Italy and France in the late 1400s.

The pumpkin was first domesticated in 7,000 B.C. in northeast Mexico, according to Dr. H. M. Wormington of the Denver, Colo., Museum of Natural History.

For New State Constitution

Legislature to Get 10 Proposed Amendments

LANSING (AP)—Ten resolutions proposing changes in 41 sections of the new constitution are being drafted for introduction in the legislature next week with a one-month deadline for passage.

If approved by lawmakers, the resolutions—distilled from several weeks of study by an informal, bipartisan committee—would go on the ballot in a special election April 28.

Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, said Thursday the committee, of which he is cochairman, faces "a tight schedule" in getting the resolution approved by Feb. 28.

60 REQUIRED DAYS

That deadline, he said, is necessary for the secretary of state to have the 60 days required by law to set up machinery for the special election in April.

Each of the resolutions covers one section of the new constitution, and each will be voted on separately in the legislature, requiring a two-thirds vote of both chambers for approval.

O'Brien said the amendments in 41 sections were those which the committee felt were "absolutely necessary" for a decision by voters immediately.

Boiled down from an original list of approximately 100 proposed changes, the amendments would leave only two of the constitution's 12 articles untouched.

FREEZE DISTRICTS

Many lawmakers believe the proposed amendment with the best chance of acceptance in the legislature is that which would freeze the present legislative districts through Jan. 1, 1965.

This would, in effect, instruct the apportionment commission now working on a redistricting plan to "ignore" the 1964 election—and permit lawmakers to seek reelection in their present districts.

With the election being held April 28, the effective date of any amendments approved—45 days later—would fall on June 2, four days ahead of the deadline for candidates to file nominating petitions for public office.

Other key proposals in the list of amendments:

—Abolish language of the new constitution concerning a State Court of Appeals and permit the legislature, instead, to create court systems.

—Prescribe four-year terms of office for state representatives and county and township officers, but provide that county officers would be elected for two-year terms in 1964, four years beginning in 1966.

—Restore the elective offices of state highway commissioner and superintendent of public instruction, and retain the State Board of Education as an advisory group.

Restore language of the 1908 constitution to provide that two cents of the state sales tax shall go to primary and secondary education, instead of one-half to all education as provided by the new constitution.

— Restore the 1908 constitution's provision that highway funds may be used for highway purposes only, depriving the legislature of the right to decide what constitutes a highway purpose.

—Provide that the legislature shall have a 39-member Senate and a 111-member House, to eliminate possibility of an even split. The new constitution calls for 38 senators and 110 House members.

— Eliminate the new constitution's requirement that state government shall consist of no more than 20 departments.

—Eliminate another provision that state retirement systems must be fullyfunded.

Police Patrol Detroit Schools

Seek to Halt Wave of Robberies, Extortion

DETROIT (AP) — Policemen are patrolling the corridors of six Detroit public schools as a wave of juvenile robberies and extortions continues to mount at an alarming rate.

In one precinct, police reported today, a scout car is permanently assigned to cruise from one school to another.

★ ★ ★

Their job is to prevent crimes such as the stabbing of James Bianchette, 16, who was attacked Thursday by four boys who invaded Pershing High School to shake down students for money. He was in critical condition at a hospital.

Police said a 14-year-old boy admitted the stabbing.

HEAD WOUND

★ ★ ★

Spangler first said three boys approached him as he left the building and that one—a 17-year-old—hit him and tried to shake him down for money. He later said he knew of no reason for the attack.

★ ★ ★

The other youth denied the extortion attempt and said the fight was over a personal matter.

Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel Olsen called for an intensive investigation of the Bianchette stabbing.

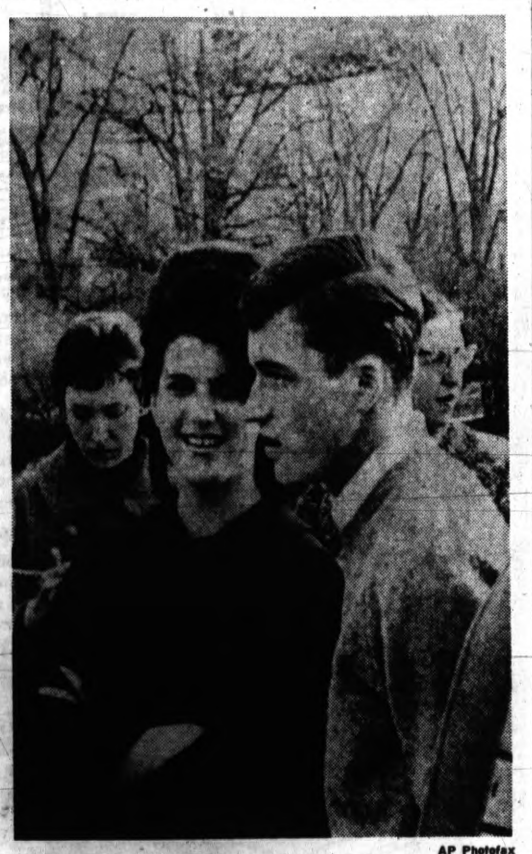

MORE ROBBERIES

The Juvenile Court reported a 53 per cent increase in robberies and extortions from 1962 to 1963—a jump from 296 cases to 454.

The court said many of the offenders are not students in the schools in which the crimes are committed. Many are dropouts, suspended students or students from other schools, it said.

★ ★ ★

Proving extortion is difficult, police said, since the victims often are terrified into paying off—often on a regular basis—and because the extorter has posed his demand in the form of a request for a loan.

Murphy Explains Home Rule to Gals

By MIRIAM NEAL

In advocating county home rule, Daniel T. Murphy Jr. listed the "stumbling blocks" to county government at the Oakland County Council of Republican Women's Clubs luncheon Thursday.

At this fourth annual meeting at Devon Gables, Murphy, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Auditors, defined home rule as referring "to the right of a county to determine its own government . . . through the adoption of a locally formed charter."

★ ★ ★

Under the present form of county government, according to Murphy, all policy-making power belongs to the state legislature. A county is the creation of the state and "all its elected officials, except the sheriff and prosecutor, are administrators with no policy control."

INEFFICIENT

The lag between the county government's discovery of a problem, its determination of a solution, and action through the state legislature is too long, said Murphy, for efficient government.

★ ★ ★

Another fault Murphy found with the current system is that, though the current county board of supervisors is "very efficient," only 24 of its 85 members are elected, the rest are appointed.

Murphy advocates that no supervisors be appointed, saying that "all policy directors should be elected."

He calls this "putting control on the grass roots level."

NEED COUNTY RULE

With problems of many cities overlapping each other, Murphy states that "the best unit of government to solve the problems for you is the county."

★ ★ ★

The governor's study committee on the home rule will disclose its findings next Tuesday. Murphy stressed it imperative that the women understand this proposal. Then when they have a chance to choose or reject home rule, they know what it can mean.

Murphy summarized the current problems of the county, then turned over the microphone to the retiring President Mrs. Charles E. Haynes.

ELECTION

The new council officers and local club officers were installed in a brief ceremony.

WOMEN'S SECTION

But No Values

Knows All the Prices

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband who is a walking adding machine? Our friends are slowly drifting away because of him.

For example, he counts the number of cookies each guest consumes, and he tells them to bring their own tea bags! He is downright insulting.

ABBY

He will sit right there at the dinner table and tell his guests how much the meat costs a pound, and butter, too. Then he wonders why everybody has lost his appetite.

My nerves are ragged and my blood pressure is very high. How can I make him realize what he is doing?

ADDING MACHINE'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: The only hope for your husband is a psychiatrist. One visit should do the trick.

DEAR ABBY: I have just returned from another fruitless shopping trip through our local stores.

I have a teen-age daughter who is, and always has been, dogged by the problem of overweight. She is a lovely, sensitive girl.

Because of her exceptional personality she has many friends. My problem? Clothes!

I wonder if clothes manufacturers think that everyone who wears a size 20 or 40 has to look like "granny." Why don't they make youthful styles in the larger sizes for teen-agers?

MEMPHIS MOM

DEAR MOM: Dress manufacturers design for the masses, and the teen-ager who requires a size 20 or 40 is exceptional.

If your daughter is difficult to fit, buy patterns and fabric and make her clothes — or have a dressmaker make them.

The ideal solution, of course, would be to put her on a diet under the watchful eye of a physician, and eventually get her exceptional personality into a size 12.

DEAR ABBY: Last June we sent our niece a wedding gift that cost us $50 and mailed it to her in another state.

We never got one word of acknowledgment, so we wrote to her mother, who lives in the same city, and asked if the package was ever received.

We said we'd have it traced if she didn't get it. The mother wrote back, "The kids got the gift but they have been so busy trying to get their apartment furnished, and with the baby coming and all, please don't be angry with them for not writing."

Abby, how can young people be so lax? We've had the same experience with graduation and Christmas gifts. How does one handle this?

HURT AUNT

DEAR HURT: Any girl who is old enough to be married is responsible for her own actions, so it's unfair (and unkind) to expect her mother to make her apologies.

You should have written directly to the girl. If one fails to acknowledge a graduation or Christmas gift, and then has the nerve to send a birth announcement, the announcement should be disregarded.

Buy a Gift With Pay for Sitting

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: A neighbor of ours had to go into town yesterday to attend to some business matters. She could not get a baby sitter to come in and so I told her I would stay with the baby.

★ ★ ★

She was gone for several hours. When she returned she offered me money which I refused.

However, she insisted that I take it, saying that she would have had to pay a baby sitter and finally put the money in my pocket. Rather than make a scene, I took it.

★ ★ ★

My husband was furious with me for having taken the money and insists that I send it back to her. He said, what are neighbors for if they can't do favors for each other.

I agree with him on that score and certainly did not expect to be reimbursed, but when she practically forced the money upon me, what else was I to do?

★ ★ ★

I think it would be wrong to return it now and will only hurt her feelings. What do you advise?

★ ★ ★

A: I agree that it would hurt her feelings if you returned the money now, since your husband is opposed to your keeping it, I would suggest that you buy a present for your neighbor's daughter with it.

Q: Is it improper to ask a waiter the meaning of foreign dishes on a menu?

My wife seemed very embarrassed at my asking the waiter what certain dishes were and later told me that it was a mark of ignorance to ask such questions. What do you have to say about this?

★ ★ ★

A: Your wife's fears of seeming ignorant are absurd. It is quite proper to ask the waiter what certain foreign dishes are.

Q: Is it necessary to send a wedding present to a friend who is marrying for a second time?

★ ★ ★

Details concerning the announcement of an engagement are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Announcing the Engagement."

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Suds Drown Smell

A strong baking soda solution, about a cupful of soda per pail of hot water, sponged over walls and ceiling of closets and the inside of drawers will cure a case of mildew or route the smell of mothballs.

Xi Chapter Hears Talk About American Indians

★ ★ ★

William Poland of Royal Oak spoke of the Indian's history and his contribution to our culture. He has spent many years studying their arts and dances and collects or reproduces Indian costumes and artifacts.

★ ★ ★

His 15 - year - old daughter Donna, who has lived with Indian families in Oklahoma, and has won a prize as the best dancer at an Indian powwow joined her father in native dances. Indian costumes were displayed.

Mr. Poland spoke of the nobility and dignity of the Indian and his ability to endure abject treatment to which he is sometimes subjected.

200 Women Hear Talks on Korea

Views were shown of Korea following dessert and coffee served by the Maranatha Sunday school class.

Mrs. Jack Barron, at the piano, was accompanist for Carolyn Simmons, soloist.

Art Work Discussed

Art work was discussed at various stages through the third grade. Imagination and creativity were stressed. Individuality in painting is to be strived for. Slides were shown of art work of children through the third grade.

Mrs. Jorma Sarto opened her Orchard Lake Village home to members for the event.

Needlework Guild Meets

Mrs. Alex Joss, knitting chairman, reported on yarn purchased for mittens and children's hats.

Mrs. William Coleman invited the group to her home on Michigan Avenue for the Feb. 13 meeting.

A push-over for any hostess is this attractive, as well as functional, tea cart. A solid maple top increases from 18 inches to 36 inches with the leaves up. Turned spoke wooden wheels with rubber tires, a large shelf and drawer are other features of this server. Finished in Nutmeg Maple, it's made by Martinsville Novelty Corp.

Nominations Now Open for Mother of the Year

Nomination blanks for the Mother of the Year are now being distributed throughout the state by the Michigan Mothers Committee. Many state organizations are submitting candidates' names.

Anyone may send in the name of a candidate if she has the recommendation of a recognized organization. Her youngest child must be over 15 years of age.

Not only must the 1964 state mother be a woman of achievement herself, her children too must have fine records. She must be a regular member in either her church or synagogue.

The American Mothers Committee, Inc., a distinguished national organization, establishes a jury of well-known persons to select from the 50 elected State Mothers, the National Mother of the Year each May.

If you know a wonderful mother whom you think qualifies, send today to the chairman, Mrs. Charles F. Kuhn, Box 444, Pontiac for a nomination blank.

Perhaps your choice will be honored in the American Mothers Hall of Fame.

The Unbathed Teddy Bears Bear Threat

Thousands of stuffed animals found their way in to the eager arms of children on Christmas morning. As appealing and harmless as these toys are when new, mothers may be sadly mistaken if they will stay that way.

Chances are that teddy bear has been around — around where dirt hides from the most careful homemaker. Chances are too, that her youngster, like most youngsters puts "Teddy" in his mouth.

Germs live in dirt, grow in dirt, and are spread in dirt. Junior is being menaced from dangerous germs in his teddy bear.

It is important that stuffed toys receive periodic "baths." This is best done at a professional laundry where special equipment is used for making the animals as fluffy and as sanitary as they were when new.

Newcomers Meet

Mrs. Robert Larson opened her home on Clintonville Road to members of the Pontiac Newcomers Club on Wednesday afternoon.

Plans were made for a musicale in February.

'Fair Lady' Fashion for Springtime

Nothing could be more "Fair Lady" yet fashion-present than this designer's long evening gowns narrowly overskirted and draped in front—and—in one instance, wrapped by a dolmanish cape.

Another kind of Grecianness appears in a trio of side-wrapped silk jersey dresses called "The Three Graces." One is short in white, and another full length in mauve pink — both fluid and simple, with high necks, curved hems, and scarf drapery from the shoulder.

Whereas delicately-jewelled bodices in such tints as Ceil blue and waterlily pink are pure Ceil Chapman, jewelled jerkins are a sparkling flashback to the medieval.

Always on the side of the angels, Ceil gives her navy and black cocktail dresses the most feminine of swan's-away necklines . . . spilled or crossed with white organdy. And a black silk crepe sheath is V'd under a white cotton lace capelet.

More white with navy appears in daytime costumes—the white in overblouses—but with flattering greens, and black and white with a fillip of red in a clean-cut bobolink print costume with a differprint costume wit ha difference, the coat of lineny fibraine and its overblouse dress in silk.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I must admit that gaining weight is more pleasant than losing it is until you observe the results of dieting. Then there is nothing more exciting or rejuvenating!

After a woman (or her husband) has been struggling for years with bulges, a chocolate cream begins to look like a bulge and fried foods, fat meat, cream sauces, rich dessert and salad dressings seem like poison.

For nine days, beginning the week of January the fifth, I brought you my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan. If you started in right away you are over the hump, have lost some bumps and are determined to continue until you reach your goal. The first two weeks are the most difficult.

On one day a week, for the eight weeks I want to bring those thousands of you who are already following my BIP (Beauty Improvement Plan), and those of you who may be just starting, some suggestions which I believe will be helpful.

Let's suppose that you wish to lose from 15 to 20 pounds in eight weeks. That is what the average woman will lose on a daily 1200 calorie intake. Some women lost more. The variants are cheating or carelessness in counting calories, your physical activity and your metabolism.

A very small percentage of overweights have a glandular abnormality. You can increase your physical activity in many small ways which will count up. For instance, walk every place you can instead of getting into your car or on a bus or subway. Walk at least part of the way. Go upstairs for something you need rather than calling to someone to throw it down to you.

Studies have shown, over and over again, that the most successful reducers eat three meals a day. If they skip a meal they usually more than make up for it because they become so hungry. Also you are less apt to feel weak when you eat three meals a day.

However the individual factor should be considered here too. I know this to be true from my own experience. I am accustomed to eating my largest meal at dinner in the evening. Therefore, because of habit, I am not so hungry at breakfast and luncheon as I am at dinner. I save from 600 to 700 calories for dinner.

All of the above items were at one time or another used to treat colds. Baking soda and lemon are the only things still in use. But treated colds last about two weeks; untreated ones a fortnight!

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald H. Goodrich of East Mansfield Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Saundra Dene Goodrich to Robert Harold Singleton, son of the James H. Singletons of McKinley Street.

Grandma's Remedies Still Around

Grandmother's medical supplies consisted of tallow, goose grease, turpentine, coal oil, sulphur and molasses, baking soda, liniament for man or beast, onion juice, garlic juice, and big bottle of camphor and calomel.

Also pressed into service when sickness struck were the steam kettle, the hot brick and the long johns.

Sole survivor of the list is baking soda, and, strangely enough, as medical knowledge has grown, so, too, has soda's uses.

★ ★ ★

Some of the oldest of these uses, which have withstood competition from modern day pills, evolve around the common cold . . . which is right at its peak this month and next.

At the first sign of a sniffle, grandma would dole out her favorite remedy, a half teaspoon of baking soda in a glass of water. This is still common practice.

ADD LEMON

An added refinement, now that lemons are plentiful and available everywhere, is to add the juice of a fresh lemon to this concoction.

Ingenious mothers go one step further to make the treatment a treat for small fry. They add a teaspoon of honey or maraschino cherry juice, or supply fruit - flavored candy stick straws so that it can be sipped up soda - style.

The banquet trade in New York City, including dances, weddings and bar mitzvahs, is estimated at more than $25 million annually.

Sororities Rush

By BARBARA GRIFFIN

Many University of Michigan coeds sat through early morning classes this week with drooping eyes and stifled yawns, worn out from the initial round of parties which traditionally begin Women's Rush.

Last weekend, the 22 sororities opened their doors to more than 1,300 rushees.

After receiving their invitations for the third set of parties to be held this weekend, rushees will proceed through the remainder of the rushing activity, climaxed by final pledging day Feb. 2.

ELIGIBILITY

Any woman student is eligible to participate in rush if she has attended the University the previous semester and obtained at least twelve credit hours with a 2.0 or "C" average.

★ ★ ★

Sandy Hilderley of Joy Road is involved in rush this year, as she is serving as rush chairman for her sorority, Sigma Kappa.

COLLEGIATE SOROSIS

Barbara Shadley of Ottawa Drive, Barbara James of Percy King Drive, and Mary-Love Russel of Lone Pine Road will be showing rushees around the still-new addition to the Collegiate Sorosis house this week end.

★ ★ ★

Another member of Sorosis, Julie Fitzgerald of Cranbrook Court, is also working on rush but in a different capacity. Last spring, Julie was chosen as a Panhellenic rush counselor to assist girls with rush problems and guide a group of rushees around to the different sororities during mixers.

★ ★ ★

Other area girls working on rush activities are Karen Carter of Worlington Road and Marilyn Vernon of West Rundell Street, Alpha Xi Delta; and Chi Omegas Judy Ward of Starr Avenue and Sally Collman of Erie Drive.

GAMMA PHI BETA

★ ★ ★

Among the Kappa Alpha Thetas greeting rushees this weekend will be Jane Leader of Cranbrook Road, Kay Van Der Meer of Interlaken Drive, and Lynn Carey of Middlebelt Road.

★ ★ ★

Parenthood Unit Checks New Device

Great public interest has been aroused regarding a new birth control method called the "coil" or "loop."

The new intrauterine contraceptive devices are small plastic threads, molded into different shapes which can be inserted easily into the womb by a doctor.

Once in place, the devices cannot be felt and do not interfere with normal menstrual flow, but they effectively prevent conception. They can be left in place for as long as the user wishes to avoid pregnancy.

The devices can be removed by a physician at any time merely by pulling them out by means of a small thread or "tail" attached to the device.

BEING STUDIED

This new kind of birth control device which is both cheaper and more convenient than existing methods, is in research study in Detroit with Planned Parenthood League, Inc.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Mildred F. Stern, executive director of the league says, "This intrauterine device is only available in the Detroit clinic. However we hope to offer this method to southern Oakland County when research study is completed."

Planned Parenthood has had a clinic in operation for a year. Located at 212 Daines Street in Birmingham, this clinic is called The Elizabeth Duffield Clinic as a memorial. Mrs. Duffield was an Oakland County pioneer in sponsoring the birth control movement.

The clinic is open Monday, Wednesday and Friday with extended evening hours on Wednesday.

There are more than 48,000 school bands and 15,000 school orchestras in this country, according to the American Music Conference.

A late summer wedding is being planned by Cheryle Louise Seibert, daughter of the Marvin D. Seiberts of State Street and Ralph J. Marshall, son of the Ralph E. Marshalls of Liberty Street.

Doctor's Kin Gives Talk at SFHS

By KATHY CARRY

At an early assembly this week, the students of St. Frederick High School were very honored to have as guest speaker Malcolm Dooley, brother of the late famous Dr. Tom Dooley.

Dooley spoke to the student body on the highlights of the last years of his brother's life and how Dr. Dooley's devotion and love for his profession drove him to aid suffering persons in remote parts of the world.

Dooley also left with the school a personally autographed copy of the latest book about Tom Dooley, "Promises to Keep," written by Malcolm and his mother, Mrs. Agnes Dooley.

★ ★ ★

St. Frederick has been chosen as location for an advanced math class for adults in the Pontiac area.

★ ★ ★

SEMESTER HOLIDAY

Students at St. Frederick got a holiday today because of the break between semesters.

An International Institute of Human Relations will be established in collaboration with one or more American universities under the auspices of the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation.

Adlai Stevenson, the chairman of the board of trustees of the Foundation, said that various universities are now submitting plans.

Swim Club Begins Activities

By JOY McREYNOLDS

Singing, dancing and recreational sports were the highlights of "Three in One," Wednesday's student council sponsored activity at Waterford Kettering High School.

Designed to let students unwind after the semester exams of Tuesday and Wednesday, the activity was presented in three parts.

Beginning "Three in One," a hootenanny was held in the west cafeteria from 7:10 to 8:10 p. m. Kettering's instrumental group "The Travelers" were on hand to furnish the music.

★ ★ ★

Following the hootenanny, parts two and three swung into action as the gym became a center for volleyball, basketball, ping-pong, and tumbling, while dancing was held in the west cafeteria.

GENERAL CHAIRMAN

Newly organized at Waterford Kettering is the swim club. Under direction of Linda Eggleston, sponsor, the club meets every Saturday, jointly with WKHS swimmers, for an afternoon of swimming in the Pontiac Northern High School pool.

The program consists of recreational swimming and diving, with a course in life saving slated for February. Officers of the club include Donald Steehler, president; Donald Gray, vice president; and Shirley Arama, secretary-treasurer.

Tentative plans are under way at WKHS for the annual winter ski weekend. Resort possibilities discussed by ski club members include Boyne Mountain, Boyne Lodge and Nub's Nob.

The National Council of Churches has established a new Department of Church and Public School Relations, designed, say Council officials, to meet a growing need for "some recognized and unified establishment in the Council to deal with the pressing needs of the public schools."

Although many Waterford Kettering activities have been postponed until next week, due to Tuesday and Wednesday's exam schedule and the end of semester vacation, the WKHS undefeated cage team will face L'anse Creuse tonight.

In response to enthusiasm expressed by students, Gaylord Thompson, pep club sponsor, announced the club will provide as many buses as are needed to carry spectators to away games.

At Pontiac Northern

Final Exam Period Is Over

By SUSAN KILLEN

Students at Pontiac Northern High School returned today to school after a week of final exams and one and one-half days off. Next Monday represents a new marking period and the beginning of a new semester.

For this year's graduating seniors, it will be the last semester. Plans for the finishing touches to this year's class have already begun.

The tentative graduating list has been posted. This list consists of all seniors who will have enough credits to graduate after finishing the new semester successfully.

Senior officers will be chosen shortly. Vernell Duffy, the class' adviser, has already begun meeting with a representative from each senior homeroom, to discuss possible candidates for the election.

LOUNGE REPAIRS

The senior lounge is being repaired. The lounge is a special area in front of the auditorium which is reserved for the seniors. Furniture is being repaired to go back into the lounge.

Also, there has been a new addition to the lounge. The Northern Players, the dramatics club, has presented the school with a portrait of the late president, John F. Kennedy.

This portrait was placed in the lounge.

The PNH varsity club is sponsoring a dance Feb. 8. The boys, under the leadership of their president, James Kimmell, will have complete charge of refreshments, door prizes, and ticket sales.

CAFETERIA DANCE

The dance will be held in the school cafeteria and Charles Lundgren and his group will provide the music.

The dress required for the dance will be sport coats and ties for boys and sheath dresses and heels for girls.

No flowers are requested, and the dance will be held from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight.

★ ★ ★

The varsity club has also been busy in the past few weeks. They are in charge of the refreshment stand at the home basketball games. They have also had two popcorn sales during the school day.

★ ★ ★

Action Speaks Louder

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — As the board of education voted unanimously Thursday night to allow physicians to speak at schools on the health hazards of smoking, one member was smoking a cigarette and three were puffing cigars.

Plea Denied for Jury of All Negroes

Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt yesterday denied a request for an all-Negro jury in the rape trial of a 31-year-old Pontiac man.

The unusual request was made by Milton R. Henry, defense counsel for Louis Milton Jr. of 404 Bagley, who is accused of raping a 19-year-old Bloomfield Township girl last April.

Henry claimed that his Negro client feared he could not possibly get a fair trial from a jury panel drawn from among "Oakland County whites whose attitudes and prejudices are such against the defendant and his race as to disqualify the said jury."

★ ★ ★

Henry, who is a Pontiac city commissioner, said that a case in which a Negro is accused of raping a white woman involves "matters closely associated with the deepest prejudices of white folks generally."

JUDGE'S WORDS

Judge Pratt told Henry he was asking the court to agree that all white people are prejudiced against the Negro, and that only whites can judge whites and only Negroes can judge Negroes.

"You're asking me to practice segregation," he said.

★ ★ ★

Pratt said granting the request "would require me to destroy every belief that I have in our principles of fair and impartial justice."

REPEATED CHARGE

Henry also repeated a charge he has made often in the past that the method of selecting jurors from property assessment rolls is unconstitutional because few Negores own property.

★ ★ ★

A new system using vote registration records is to begin this year.

★ ★ ★

Selection of jurors in the case is to begin today.

The defendant also is awaiting trial on two other rape charges.

Sub War Expert Dies

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Adm. Francis Stuart Low, 69, former commander of the Western Sea Frontier and an expert in submarine warfare, died Wednesday.

Pontiac School Affairs

Some Shop Courses Rapped

A Pontiac school board member charged last night that certain junior high school industrial arts courses were unrealistic and "15 years behind the times."

Victor P. Sutt of 2215 St. Joseph proposed that ninth grade students at the new Baldwin Junior High School be required to take courses in electricity and electronics.

He said the basic wood and metal shops required in the eighth grade hadn't changed in 40 years.

★ ★ ★

SAME THINGS

Sutt pointed out that his two sons had gone through junior high metal and wood shop courses and "had the same things I did 30 years ago."

He asked about electronics, television and plastics.

"Sure," he admitted, "we've done a lot with academic subjects but haven't updated these industrial arts courses."

PROPOSED CURRICULUM

School officials had outlined a proposed curriculum for the junior high school slated to open in September.

★ ★ ★

ALREADY PART

They maintained that instruction in plastics, electricity and the like were already a part of the required wood and metal shop curriculums at some schools.

Richard C. Fell, assistant superintendent, said the Baldwin curriculum called for a "general" shop. This would include, he said, the subject matter demanded by Sutt.

Administrators also pointed out that some teachers were not educationally equipped to teach electricity.

★ ★ ★

Sutt charged that this was "a negative approach."

WOULD LIMIT

School Supt. Dana P. Whitmer said that a compulsory course would limit the ninth-grade students to only one elective.

After his motion was defeated, Sutt said he would raise the issue again.

In other business, the school board set Feb. 6 for their next week early because of a national convention.

★ ★ ★

In still other action, the board okayed a hot lunch program for Bethune Elementary School.

Requested by the Bethune PTA, the hot lunch program will cost an estimated $3,782. It will be instigated this fall.

★ ★ ★

The hot lunches will be prepared at another school and shipped to the Bethune building. A survey showed parents would support the program.

School Bid Opening Date Set

Waterford Township Board of Education last night set April 30 as the tentative bid opening date for the proposed new junior high school.

The timetable also calls for awarding of contracts on the $2.5-million project May 7 and the beginning of construction soon after this date.

Partial occupancy of the new facility is slated for May, 1965 with completion earmarked by Sept., 1965.

Wakely - Kushner Associates, architects for the building, suggested two deductive alternates to be considered in bidding.

MUSIC UNIT

An alternate music unit of 6,775 square feet would reduce the size of the 151,830-square-foot building to 145,055 square feet if omitted.

A second alternate could reduce the building size another 5,060 square feet. Art rooms were earmarked for this area.

The board also expressed a willingness to sell a portion of the junior high school site fronting on Loon Lake in Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

The township planning commission has already discussed the possibility of a park on the 12.6-acre site. The commission, however, has made no recommendation on its purchase to the township board.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business at the regular meeting, the board hired Theodore Wicka, 23299 Valley View, Southfield, as field superintendent of the system's $6.25 million school building program.

Wicka's term of employment will be for about a year and a half and his salary rate will be $9,500 per year payable from construction funds.

An experienced superintendent for school building projects, Wicka will work with contractors and the architects and report to the school system administration.

★ ★ ★

Also last night, the board approved contracts for six new teachers and hired three student teachers for the second semester.

STUDENT TEACHERS

The Central Michigan University students will teach in the elementary schools.

The board also adopted a policy that all future bid openings will take place at a formal meeting of the board after the school system's attorney suggested this procedure.

Board member John Boardman had asked for an attorney's opinion on bid opening procedure after some bids were opened prior to a board meeting and then reviewed at the meeting in a move to save time.

★ ★ ★

RESIDENCE TO ATTEND

Also last night, the board voted to hold its Feb. 20 meeting at Houghton School to encourage residents to attend the meeting.

Board members Donald Porter and Boardman were named to committee to discuss salary structures with the Waterford Education Association.

Beatle Fad Arrives: It's 'Hair' in Pontiac

By L. GARY THORNE

Pontiac take heed! A new fad appears on the horizon for the high school set.

Three stouthearted Pontiac teen-agers have elected to advance a novel hair style that draws whistles, giggles and scorn.

The distinctive, mushroom-shaped coiffure is the visual trademark of an English singing group, The Beatles. The quartet's popularity has inspired the Beatle hairdo on the shaggy heads of young people across the ocean.

Now, however, local dandruff has been stirred.

Brothers Louis Rice, 16, and Earl, 17, of 249 Chamberlain have joined forces with Jim Scribner, 18, of 54 Edison to introduce the unique hair style to Pontiac.

Together they have withstood the laughter of girls, the scorn of adults and the barbed thrusts of their counterparts since the first of the week.

LAUGH AND POINT

"Girls just laugh and point," Louis said. He claims credit of being the first to fashion a Beatle cut.

Asked the reaction of other boys, Jim Scribner said: "They think it's wild. They want something new."

BIG FUTURE

The three Pontiac teens predict a big future for the hair style, expecting it to "top" the old Presley cuts in popularity.

Meantime, reports indicate that Hollywood has instigated Beatle cuts for women. So the girls can join in.

Postpone Launch of Echo 2 Rocket

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — The launching of Echo 2, a giant communications satellite, was postponed after a television camera in the second stage rocket developed technical problems.

It was scheduled to be launched early today from this West Coast missile center.

At 20½ feet, the new Grand Mercedes, made by Mercedes-Benz of West Germany, is the longest standard passenger car in production.

Mother, Son Killed

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Mrs. Gertrude Ann Brinks, 31, of Grand Rapids and her son, Steven, 3, were killed Thursday when their car was struck by a train at a crossing here.

Russia Says France Must Join N-Accord

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union today raised the price for an agreement on banning the spread of nuclear weapons by insisting that France also take part.

The Soviets added their new demand to the condition they made yesterday and reiterated today that the West also abandon its projected multilateral nuclear force if there is to be agreement on a non-dissemination pact.

A. A. Roschin, deputy to chief Soviet disarmament negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin, told newsmen Moscow will "insist on France being part of a non-dissemination agreement."

France officially is a member of the Geneva Disarmament Conference but has never participated. It also refused to sign last year's partial nuclear test ban and is developing its own deterrent.

TIED PROGRESS

Tsarapkin himself, at an impromptu news conference after todays conference session, tied progress on a nondissemination agreement to the West keeping nuclear weapons out of German hands.

Exclusion of West Germany from the nuclear force "would be a step toward solution of this problem," he said.

Here're Some Dos and Don'ts of Tax Deductions

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

This is an ABC on deductions for personal expenses in filing your 1963 income tax return.

Some rules:

★ ★ ★

1. You can take the standard deduction allowed everyone filing a return even though your expenses were not as much as the standard deduction gives you. And you don't have to list your expenses to prove you had them.

The standard deduction is generally 10 per cent of your income up to a limit of $1,000.

MUST PROVE

2. Or, if your expenses were actually more than the standard deduction allows, you can claim them in full but in that case you must prove you had the expenses by itemizing them.

3. Anyone can use form 1040 in making a return. Anyone itemizing must use it and cannot use 1040A.

4. Only under-$5,000 income people can use the tax table to find their tax without figuring it. But no matter how much your income — under on over $5,000 — you must figure your own tax if you itemize expenses.

5. The over-$5,000 income people must figure their own tax, whether they take the standard deduction or itemize.

INSTRUCTION SHEET

The tax table is in the instruction sheet which taxpayers get from the Internal Revenue Service. Those figuring their own tax find their tax-rate in one of the tax-rate schedules which applies to them. Those schedules are also in the instruction sheet.

If you're one of those using the tax table, your standard deduction has already been allowed for in the tax which fits you.

If you're one of the over-$5,000 people figuring your own tax—provided you're single or a married couple filing jointly—you take your standard deduction this way:

★ ★ ★

NOTE RULES

But note these two rules:

1. A married couple filing separate returns can also deduct 10 per cent of their income for expenses but only up to a limit of $500 on each return.

2. When a husband and wife file separate returns and one of them itemizes deductions, both must itemize and then both must use form 1040.

★ ★ ★

The list of deductions is far too long for full treatment here. Those deductions, and various rules for them, cover many pages of government guides. What follows is an attempt to condense much information but not all.

You'll get some information from the IRS instruction sheet. But if you need more than you find there or here then, for 40 cents, buy from the IRS the highly-detailed, 144-page government booklet: "Your Federal Income Tax."

MAY NEED IT

For instance, you may need that booklet if you want to deduct for travel and entertainment expenses. The government, beginning in 1963, tightened up on the rules covering such deductions. You may need detailed information.

Also on your 1963 return you can claim a deduction, too involved for this space, for what is called retirement credit. Also you may need more information on medical and medicine expenses.

★ ★ ★

Some expenses you can deduct:

Contributions to charitable, religious, or educational organizations, such as the Community Chest, Salvation Army, churches, Red Cross, heart and cancer associations, tuberculosis societies and gifts—but not dues — to the YMCA, YWCA, YMHA, YWHA, and the American Legion.

MORE ALLOWED

Generally contributions can not exceed 20 per cent of your income. But 30 per cent is allowed if one-third, or more of your contributions went to churches and tax-exempt hospitals and educational institutions.

★ ★ ★

You can make these deductions:

State income taxes, real estate and state gasoline taxes (but not federal gasoline taxes), personal property taxes, auto license and registration fees, poll taxes and most retail sales taxes.

Some people, perhaps most, have not kept records on the sales taxes they paid in 1963. As a help the IRS has published in single-sheet form what generally can be considered a reasonable deduction, without the necessity of proof, for people who pay a sales tax in the various states and the District of Columbia. If you need one, get it from your IRS collector.

DEDUCTIONS

You can deduct for:

Union dues, dues in professional societies, alimony payments by the person making them, fees to employment agencies, club dues if they are needed for business reasons and books or newspapers bought for use in your profession.

★ ★ ★

Also:

Interests on your house mortgage, on a life insurance policy if you pay the interest in cash, delinquent taxes, your personal note to a bank or individual, and interest on personal property bought on the installment plan.

You can deduct the net amount of actual property loss from fire, storms, theft or accident. These may or may not be business losses.

EDUCATION EXPENSES

You can deduct:

Expenses for your education but only if it was to help or improve you in keeping up with the skills of your job or to meet your employer's express requirements for keeping your salary. You can't deduct if the education was for personal reasons or to help you get a better job.

You can not deduct for:

Federal income taxes, federal social security payments withheld from your wages, estate and gift taxes, state inheritance taxes, fishing and hunting license fees, dog licenses, federal excise taxes on furs, jewelry, telephones, rail, bus and air tickets, wine, whisky, gasoline, tobacco, theater tickets. And you can not deduct self-employment taxes you pay on your earnings from self-employment.

CAN REDUCE

Your pay is taxable if you were home ill only seven days. But for every day you were sick at home over seven days you can deduct up to $100 a week.

★ ★ ★

But—if you were home because of injury or were hospitalized for as little as one day, you can start excluding sick pay from the first day of absence without waiting out the seven-day period which applies to illness at home.

In deducting for sick pay you may use form 1040 but can't use 1040A.

STOCK INCOME

Suppose you got dividend income from stock in domestic corporations. You can exclude the first $50 of it. You can exclude $100 if your wife owns the stock jointly with you and she files jointly with you.

★ ★ ★

And, because of what is called dividend credit, you can deduct up to 4 per cent of what's left of your dividends after deducting the $50 and $100 just explained. You must use form 1040 and can't use 1040A.

★ ★ ★

Medical expenses:

You can deduct for them if you itemize them on form 1040 but only that part of them which is more than 3 per cent of your income as shown on line 9 of 1040.

★ ★ ★

As for the cost of medicines and drugs, you can include it in your medical expenses but only that part which is more than 1 per cent of your income as shown on line 9 of form 1040.

EXCEPTION

But—if you or your wife was 65 in 1963 the 3 per cent limit for your medical care does not apply.

The rules on age don't apply when deducting for medicines or drugs—either for yourselves or your parents. You can include as medical expenses only that part of the medicine bill which is more than 1 per cent of your income as shown on line 9 of form 1040.

★ ★ ★

Is pension income from an employer excludable from taxable income. Some kinds are and some times only part of them are. To be sure in your case consult the instruction sheet of the 144-page booklet.

Dogs Living Longer

Research now is being conducted to find out if the lifespan of dogs has increased, possibly in proportion to that of human beings.

New nourishing foods, modern veterinary skill, drugs and treatments, allow many dogs to live to from 13 to 16 years of age when they formerly would have died at 8 to 10.

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: Alcohol and Surface Tension.

NEEDED: Two matches, a bowl of water, a wire or toothpick, and rubbing alcohol.

DO THIS: Float the matches on the water, parallel to each other and about an inch apart. Place the wire in the alcohol and then touch it to the water surface between the matches. The matches will spring apart.

Johnson Hails Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has hailed as a triumph of liberty a new amendment to the Constitution outlawing the poll tax as a requirement for voting in elections for federal office.

The 24th Amendment was written into the law of the land this election year when South Dakota Thursday became the 38th state to approve it. Ratification by three-fourths of the 50 states was required.

★ ★ ★

Johnson said in a statement it was a "verification of the people's rights which are rooted so deeply in the mainstream of this nation's history."

"This triumph, now, of liberty over restriction is a grateful and proud moment for me," Johnson said.

"The tide of a strong national desire to bring about the broadest possible use of the voting process runs too strong to hold back," he said.

"In a free land where men move freely and act freely, the right to vote freely must never be obstructed."

While certification ceremonies probably will be held here later, they are only a formality. Once South Dakota's Legislature completed its ratification, no further legal action was required.

The amendment provides that the right to vote in any primary or general election for president or vice president, or for senator or representative in the Congress, shall not be denied because of the failure to pay a poll tax or any other tax.

FEE REQUIREMENT

The poll tax, the payment of a fee as a requirement for voting, has long been caught up in controversy with civil rights defenders charging that it was used to keep Negroes from casting ballots.

Only five states — Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia—still have the poll tax.

★ ★ ★

The new amendment will not bar these states from continuing to require voters in state elections to pay a poll tax, since it applies only to elections for federal office.

Poll Tax Banned

South in Confusion on New Vote Rule

By The Associated Press

There were some bewildered voters and puzzled election officials in parts of the South today following ratification of a constitutional amendment banning payment of a poll tax as a condition for voting in federal elections.

DUAL SYSTEM

Texans began preparing a dual poll tax system. There was talk of possible election confusion in Alabama and a special legislative session in Arkansas.

The Mississippi Legislature expected to consider the matter during the present session. Virginia had a new law on the books designed to offset the effect of the amendment to some extent.

The five states, which make poll tax payments a requirement for voting, came face to face with a long expected development Thursday when South Dakota approved the 24th Amendment.

It was the 38th state to do so and thus made the amendment part of the Constitution. Ratification was required by three-fourths of the 50 states.

ENDED POLL PAYMENT

The amendment provided that the right to vote in any primary or general election for president or vice president, or for senator or representative in Congress, shall not be denied because of the failure to pay a poll tax or any other tax.

Here is reaction, state by state:

TEXAS

County tax collectors were readying a dual poll tax system and answering a barrage of questions from puzzled citizens.

"It's not going to be any fun, but we don't anticipate any great problems," said an official in a county tax collector's office at Austin.

Complications included two types of poll tax receipts and separate lists of the two classes of voters.

★ ★ ★

Frank Erwin Jr., secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, reported a drop in poll tax payments this year because of confusion over the federal amendment.

"There is a real danger that many Texans will be unable to vote in state and county races this year unless that confusion is eliminated," he said.

ALABAMA

Judge Roy Mayhall, chairman of the State Democratic Central Committee, said, "this amendment will cause considerable confusion in Alabama if we are forced to hold separate elections."

★ ★ ★

"If the Alabama members of Congress are to be elected without Alabama voters paying a poll tax," Mayhall said, "it is my judgment that all voters ought to be able to participate in all elections alike."

ARKANSAS

Tentative plans are being made to call a special session of the Arkansas Legislature to set up a voter registration system, but Gov. Orval E. Faubus said he did not know when it would take place.

The governor said it might be possible to hold this summer's primaries under the poll tax system if state and federal offices are separated.

VIRGINIA

Gov. Albertis S. Harrison Jr. said Virginia's new law was enacted "in order to provide an orderly means by which citizens of Virginia who so desire might register and vote in federal elections without payment of poll taxes."

★ ★ ★

The law retains Virginia's $1.50 poll tax for state elections. In addition it provides that anyone wishing to vote in federal elections must file a certificate of residence six months in advance.

MISSISSIPPI

Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson of Mississippi said he expects the Legislature now in session "will reckon with the matter and set up machinery to cope with it." He did not reveal details.

But Patterson said "it won't pose as big a problem for Mississippi as some other states, since Mississippi does not elect any state officials at the time it elects senators, congressmen and presidential electors."

Fear First Cong Assault Start of Major Offensive

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) —The first major Viet Cong assault of the year in the Camau Peninsula may herald the start of a new Communist drive to wipe out government influence in the area, U.S. military observers said today.

Yesterday, Communist guerrillas in battalion strength launched a pre-dawn attack against the district capital town of Nam Can, the government's southernmost position in Camau.

Nam Can is located near the southern tip of the peninsula, about 180 miles south of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

The town is isolated and vulnerable. The Communists attacked with artillery, recoilless rifles and automatic weapons.

DRIVEN OFF

They were driven off after a 90 minute battle by Vietnamese Air Force planes which hit the guerrillas with bombs and rockets.

The planes scrambled from other government bases to help the defenders of Nam Can, an estimated 300 troops who do not have an artillery force.

★ ★ ★

But military observers here warned the attack may have been merely a probe. They noted it was the first big Viet Cong action in Camau since Communist guerrillas nearly overran a stronger government outpost at Chala, 17 miles further north, last November.

LARGE ASSAULTS

The observers said the guerrillas probably have been resting and training their units since then, possibly to prepare for large-scale assaults against district capitals, the government-held strong points on the Communist-controlled peninsula.

Last September the Viet Cong overran the district capitals of Cai Nuoc and Dam Doi, both miles north of Nam Can.

Authorities said at least 9 government troops were killed and 25 wounded at Nam Can yesterday. Communist losses, if any, were unknown.

Mortar shells set fire to a half-dozen houses and damaged the building housing the town's administrative offices, it was reported.

Seek Facts in Sinatra Kidnaping

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Lawyers for two of the accused kidnapers of Frank Sinatra Jr. planned to seek federal court action today for what they claimed was "secret concealment" by the government of certain evidence pertinent to the case.

Attorneys Gladys Towle Root and Morris Lavine said they would move for a bill of particulars to force the government to produce the names of three law enforcement officers who were reported to have talked to young Sinatra at a Nevada road block after his abduction.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge William G. East earlier had set last Wednesday noon as the deadline for Assistant U.S. Atty. Thomas Sheridan to deliver the information requested by the defense lawyers, who insisted the material was needed for an adequate defense.

Mrs. Root represents defendant John William Irwin, 42, and Lavine is counsel for Joseph Clyde Amsler, 23. Also facing trial is Barry Worthington Keenan, 23.

In addition to the names of the officers, the attorneys said they had not received tape recorded statements by the three defendants to FBI agents or of telephone calls by the kidnapers making demands for $240,000 ransom.

The case goes to trial Feb. 10.

Legal Tape Fouled With Dodge Wills

DETROIT (AP) — The legal tangle surrounding the estimated $2-million estate of the late auto heir Horace E. Dodge Jr. was complicated Thursday with the filing of nine Dodge wills.

The filing in Probate Court brought the total number of wills to 10. An attorney estimated that as many as 10 more wills may be "floating around somewhere."

Milton J. Miller, representing Gregg Sherwood Dodge, Dodge's widow, said he will rely on a 1958 will, among those filed today, as being the only valid one he has seen.

★ ★ ★

Miller said the previously filed will, drawn up in 1962, "expressly states on its face that it is null and void in the event Mr. Dodge predeceased his mother, which was the case."

ALL TO WIFE

Gregg Sherwood was born Dora Fjelstad.

The 1962 will left her about a third of the estate—which would have been an estimated $62 million if his 93-year-old mother, Mrs. Horace E. Dodge Sr., had died first.

Miller said the 1958 will supercedes the others but that law requires that all be filed.

In Las Vegas Training Camp

Liston Working on Speed in Tuning Up for Clay

★ ★ ★

There was no sound in the auditorium but the squeaking of shoes on canvas, the grunts and heavy breathing of the boxers, and the smack of gloves on flesh.

Like a giant cat, Liston toyed with Martin, sometimes playful and sometimes vicious. Martin flashed jabs at the big champion, making him look clumsy at times.

NO DAMAGE

But the little man, selected to improve Sonny's speed, couldn't hurt Liston. Martin clinched with the champion, barely able to get his arms around the barrel of a chest.

Liston strolled over to the heavy bag on the showroom stage of the Thunderbird Hotel.

★ ★ ★

The hulking, 31 - year - old champion knocked the 75-pound bag around like a hanging sausage for a few minutes, then turned to the speed bag.

An announcer detailed Sonny's routine.

"He's down to about 220," said the announcer. "He weighed about 226 or 230 when he came here at the beginning of January. He wants to be down to about 210 or 215 when he fights Clay Feb. 25 in Miami Beach."

RAT-A-TAT-TAT

Without missing a beat, Liston set the small leather bag splatting against its overhead mooring board. Rat-tat-tat, and the bag became a blur.

"Time!" said the trainer, and the audience applauded.

A questioner yelled, "Who was the toughest man you ever fought?"

"Cleveland Williams was one of the best," said Liston. He said he ranks Williams as a contender after Clay.

★ ★ ★

"I'd like to fight (Zora) Folley again. Either he knocks you out or you knock him out. Either way, you go home early."

Liston started skipping rope to a tune called "Night Train." His big body went doggedly about the business, but his feet were sprightly.

HEAVY MEDICINE

"Against you, maybe, but not against me," said Liston.

"Is your knee giving you any trouble?"

"If it does, I'll leave it at home and fight Clay anyway."

In an interview after the workout, Liston said he is working harder for Clay than he did for former champion Floyd Patterson. He knocked out Patterson twice in the first round.

State Rivals in Regional TV Contest

Wolverines Put Top League Mark on Line Against Spartans

By The Associated Prass

Second-ranked Michigan invades highscoring Michigan State Saturday afternoon for the Big Ten's main basketball attraction.

★ ★ ★

The Wolverines will put a 13-1 over-all record and a 4-0 conference mark on the line in the regionally televised game. The Spartans are 8-6 and 2-2 but are the top-scoring Big Ten team with a 90.3 average. They also are tops in rebounds with a 56.3 average.

★ ★ ★

Michigan, led by Bill Buntin and Cazzie Russell, are sixth in scoring averages with 81.0 and fourth in rebounds with 46.5. The rebounding figure, however, is rather deceiving. In their four conference games, the Wolverines have captured 186 out of a total 330 rebounds for a 56.4 percentage to lead the conference.

OTHER GAMES

In the only other afternoon game, Purdue, 1-2, is at Ohio State, 2-1. At night Minnesota, 3-2, is at Northwestern, 2-2. Illinois has a non-league engagement with Arizona State in a Chicago Stadium doubleheader opened by Loyola of Chicago meeting Wichita.

The schedule is light because of final exams for Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin. The race resumes in force in another week.

Gary Bradds of Ohio State heads Big Ten scorers with a 28.7 average in conference games. But he is pressed by Tal Brody of Illinois with 28.5.

Northern Plays Southfield

PCH Seeks to Break Cage Jinx

Pontiac Central will be looking for a break in the home-court jinx at Saginaw tonight in one of the top prep games on the state basketball slate.

While the Chiefs are traveling, Pontiac Northern will entertain Southfield in an Inter-Lakes contest and the Huskies need a win to hang onto their share of the loop lead.

Central has made the long journey to Saginaw 17 times since 1945, and the trip home was a trifle longer after 14 of the contests.

The Chiefs' last win on the Saginaw court was in 1959. They picked up their other two victories there in 1955 and 1957.

Saginaw holds a 19-15 edge in the series since 1945.

The Trojans share the Saginaw Valley Conference lead with Flint Central (5-0) and PCH is but a half game back at 5-1.

A win over Saginaw would toss the Chiefs into the top spot if Flint Northern can overcome Flint Central.

The squad has racked up a 3-1 record in league play and shares the lead with Farmington.

Farmington has come along strong in winning three of its last four contests, and the Falcons journey to Berkley to meet the Bears who have won three in a row.

Waterford entertains Walled Lake and the Skippers will be looking for their first win in loop competition.

Walled Lake (2-5) is tied for third in the league race and the Skippers are mired in the cellar with an 0-4 mark.

While the Captains are traveling to L'Anse Creuse, Romeo will be entertaining second place Lapeer. And the Bulldogs would like nothing better than to post an upset win.

Kettering could use a Romeo victory. This would leave the Captains two full games in front going into the second half of the season.

Kettering is heavily favored to make L'Anse its eighth victim in as many games.

Romeo's task, however, may be a little too much for the Bulldogs. Lapeer's only league loss was to Kettering and the Panthers will be heavily favored.

Lapeer also needs a victory so that it can go into its home court game Feb. 7 against the Captains in a position to tie for the championship.

Last place Oxford will host Imlay City in a nonleaguer. The Wildcats could have their hands full because the Spartans are showing signs of becoming another Class C power.

In Southern Thumb action, Dryden is given a good chance to win its second game of the season in a visit to Armada. Almont's surging cage forces entertain Memphis.

★ ★ ★

Brown City, tied with Dryden for the cellar, has the unhappy task of trying to halt rampaging New Haven before the home fans. Capac's battered quintet will host Anchor Bay.

Tigers Have Cash on Dotted Line

Four Rookies Also Signed

$26,000 Is Reported Salary for Norm

DETROIT (AP) — Veteran Norm Cash and four rookie pitchers have signed 1964 contracts with the Detroit Tigers, general manager James A. Campbell said Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Joining Cash, who signed for a reported $26,000, were Larry Foster and Denny McLain, righthanders, and Doug Gallagher and Fritz Fisher, southpaws. The signings bring the number of Tigers under contract to 10.

Veteran lefthanded pitcher Don Mossi and third baseman Bubba Phillips also returned signed contracts.

Cash, starting his fifth season as a Tiger, won the American League batting championship with a .361 average in 1961. He slipped to .243 in 1962 and finished with a .270 average last season.

NINE GAMES

Gallagher appeared in nine games with the Tigers in 1962 and had a 5-4 record with Syracuse last year. Foster and McLain finished the 1963 season with the Tigers. Foster appeared in one game without a decision McLain won two and lost one.

★ ★ ★

Ageless Spahn Signs Again for Largest Hurlers' Salary

By The Associated Press

Some few years before Warren Spahn started pitching, so history tells us, the island of Manhattan was purchased from the Indians for about $24. Old Spahnie now gets more than that every time he uncoils that limber, ageless left arm of his.

Wondrous Warren, nearing his 43rd birthday and a 350 game winner, signed with the Milwaukee Braves Thursday calling for what General Manager John McHale says is the highest salary ever paid a pitcher.

That would call for about $85,000. Working on the assumption that he pitches about as many games, and throws about as many pitches as he usually does, it comes out to about $28 a throw for baseball's oldest active performer.

"My job now," said the bald old fellow with the young outlook, "is to go out and earn the money."

The amazing lefty, like good wine, seems to improve with age. His 23-7 record last season was the best of his career that started in 1942 with the old Boston Braves.

★ ★ ★

Spahnie's signing was the top item on a day that offered plenty of fuel to the hot-stove league fires. Other major signings included Ron Perranoski of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Hector Lopez of the New York Yankees and Vada Pinson of the Cincinnati Reds.

shortstop Eddie Kasko was traded to the Houston Colts, Kansas City's Charles O. Finley asked for a meeting with the city fathers and the New York Mets announced that Casey Stengel is going to Mexico.

Lopez, a key figure in taking up the Yankee outfield slack when Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris were fired last season, signed for a reported $32,000. Pinson, who had 22 homers and 106 runs batted in last season, signed for a reported $35,000.

★ ★ ★

Kasko, the Reds' regular shortstop in their pennant winning year of 1961, was the second major infield acquisition by the Colts. They got veteran second baseman Nellie Fox from the Chicago White Sox earlier. Kasko was obtained for cash, pitcher Wally Wolf and a player to be named later.

Dodger Hurler Gets Pay Hike

Reliefer Perranoski Signs for $36,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ron Perranoski, who usually relieves other pitchers, has just relieved his general manager—of $15,000.

The relief ace of the Los Angeles Dodgers was making about $21,000 a year when he walked into the office of General Manager Buzzie Bavasi Thursday.

The Dodger publicity staff, which seldom misses a chance to issue a press release, evidently was not advised of the signing and had no announcement prepared. Bavasi made up his own:

★ ★ ★

"Ron said he wanted a big raise and I agreed that he deserved a lot of money.

"He was as valuable as any player we had last year. He's worth every cent he's getting."

The 26-year-old left - hander had a 16-3 record in 1963 and was credited by the Dodger statistician with 21 saves. Perranoski had an earned-run average of 1.67, the best among major league pitchers who worked 125 innings or more. He appeared in 69 games.

Survey Shows Backing for New State League

Jim Wojcik, a reporter for the Central Michigan University student newspaper, made the survey by sending questionnaires to 31 college leaders.

Wojcik said only one official thought the plan "impossible" and six others called its changes "poor," while 19 thought the idea would be "good" or "excellent."

Wojcik quoted Dr. Edgar Hardin, Northern Michigan University president, as saying such a conference "would have a lot to offer."

OTHERS LISTED

Other schools mentioned for an all-Michigan league include Wayne State, Eastern Michigan, Central Michigan, and Michigan Tech universities; Ferris State, Northwood Institute and Hillsdale College.

Both Louis Jullerat, Northwood athletic director, and football coach Muddy Waters at Hillsdale, said such a league would have merit but point out that a "meeting of the minds" is the next step.

Drawbacks to such a league include varying enrollments, admission requirements and lack of a common athletic philosophy. The enrollment varies from a low of 400 at Northwood to a high of more than 20,000 at Wayne State.

Bench Duty Irks Catcher

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Frank Hoard has asked the Los Angeles Dodgers management to trade him to another team so he can play more, and has been told he must stick around the Dodger dugout, the San Francisco Examiner said today.

Jones Seeks 49th

TORONTO (AP)—Veteran Hayes Jones of Pontiac, unbeaten in more than four years, will be gunning for his 49th consecutive meet victory Friday night in one of the highlights of the Telegram-Maple Leaf Garden Indoor Games.

★ ★ ★

Jones, whose victory string in the indoor hurdles stretches back to 1959, has to share top billing, however, with a flock of international stars including pole vaulter John Pennel, high jumper John Thomas, miler Tom O'Hara and three - miler Bruce Kidd.

Kidd, one of Canada's chief Olympic hopes and among the world's best distance men, is attempting a comeback after being sidelined by a heel injury since last fall.

FIRST START

He injured the heel in the Compton, Calif., meet and will be making his first start of the winter indoor season, as will sprinter Harry Jerome.

Jerome, a Vancouver product and a student at the University of Oregon, hasn't run since he tore a thigh muscle in the 1962 British Empire games at Perth, Australia.

Pennel of Northeast Louisiana State heads a field of five 16 foot pole vaulters. Pennel, world record holder at 17 feet ¾ inches, won the Los Angeles meet last week at 16-4¼, but was beaten by La Salle's John Uelses in Boston the week before.

Others in the field, besides Uelses, are Dave Tork, Rolando Cruz and C. K. Yang, all 16-footers.

Boston's Thomas, who has won three meets this winter with leaps of seven feet or more heads the high jump field which includes Gene Johnson and Lew Hoyt, Sweden's Stig Petersson and Guatemala's Teodoro Palacios.

American League Plays 443 Arc Games in '64

BOSTON (UPI) — The American League today unveiled its 1964 schedule, calling for a total of 443 night games and for the Athletics to operate in the same place they did last year — Kansas City.

★ ★ ★

Had American League officials approved Charles O. Finley's recent request to move the Athletics from Kansas City to Louisville, the schedule would have had to be altered.

As it was, Finley was told to stay put and the Athletics will operate again in Kansas City.

Taking a cue from the National League, the American will open five days later this year than it did last year. The Los Angeles Angels will be at Washington for the Presidential opener April 13 and the eight other clubs swing into action one day later.

★ ★ ★

On April 14 Baltimore will be at Chicago, Kansas City at Detroit, Minnesota at Cleveland and Boston at New York.

In the secondary openers, New York will be at Baltimore and Chicago at Boston on April 17.

Then on April 21, Detroit will be at Los Angeles and Cleveland at Kansas City, for night games while Washington will be at Minnesota in a day game.

Former Tiger Bertoia Joins Japanese Club

DETROIT (AP)—Reno Bertoia, 29, of Windsor, Ont., a former major league infielder, signed Thursday with the Hanshin Tigers of the Japanese Central League.

Bertoia played with the Detroit Tigers, Washington Senators, Minnesota Twins and Kansas City Athletics in his major league career. He retired after serving as player-coach at Syracuse in the International League last season.

NHL Deadlock Still Continues

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The sudden spurt of the Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League race apparently has created quite an impact on the Chicago Black Hawks.

For a while it looked as if the Hawks were going to make a runaway while the other teams concentrated on qualifying for a playoff berth.

★ ★ ★

But the Canadiens caught fire while Chicago went into a tailspin. As a result, the clubs are in a first-place deadlock with 55 points each, and the Hawks realize that Montreal is a team to be reckoned with.

The Canadiens continued their winning ways with an uphill 4-2 victory over the New York Rangers in Montreal Thursday night. Meanwhile, the aroused Hawks kept pace by turning back the Bruins 3-1 on Boston ice.

RANGERS ICED

The Flying Frenchmen picked on their favorite patsies and in the process cooled off the Rangers, who had entered the game with seven victories in their last nine starts. Montreal now has beaten New York seven times in eight meetings.

★ ★ ★

Billy Hicke and Bobby Rousseau were the other goal-getters for the Canadiens, who have won four, tied one and lost one in their last six games.

★ ★ ★

Chicago held on to a share of the lead at the expense of the Bruins, who lost their second game in six starts. The Hawks built a 2-0 edge on first-period goals by Red Hay and Ab McDonald and staved off Boston the rest of the way.

Jerry Toppazzini cut the deficit to 2-1 late in the opening stanza before Ken Wharram's 25th goal midway in the final period provided the cushion. Goalie Glenn Mall sparkled for the Hawks, coming up with 15 of his 30 saves in the second period.

Since Jan. 1 Chicago has won four games as against six defeats.

German Skate Pair Olympic Bidders

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Germany's Marika Kilius and Hans-Juergen Baeumler are favored to capture the pairs championship Wednesday night in the opening event of the Olympic Winter Games and force another delay in the Soviet Union's bid to win its first international figure skating title.

★ ★ ★

The 20-year-old Miss Kilius, a striking blonde competing in her third Olympics, and her handsome 21-year old partner are defending world champions and need only repeat their recent victory over Russia's Ljudmila Belousova, 28, and Oleg Protopopov, 31, in the 1964 European championships to gain the gold medal.

Canada, which enjoyed a near monopoly on world pair titles until the German couple broke the string in Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy, a year ago, is optimistic for its team of Debbie Wilkes and Guy Revell.

Miss Wilkes and Revell, fourth two years ago and sidelined from the 1963 world meet by a training injury, figure to have their hands full battling the Russians for the silver medal.

Tatiana Zhuk and Alexander Gavrilov, a younger Soviet team which showed definite potential by grabbing third place at Cortina, and Germany's Margit Snef and Peter Goebel are expected to round out the top five.

★ ★ ★

The United States has its finest two pairs in recent years in Judianne and Jerry Fotheringill of Tacoma, Wash., and Vivian and Ronald Joseph of Highland Park, Ill. But it is unlikely either will be able to crack the top five. They probably will be in a four-way scrap with Switzerland's Gerda and Ruedi Johner and Czechoslovakia's Milada Kubikova and Jaroslav Votruba for sixth place.

★ ★ ★

Miss Kilius was fourth in the 1956 Olympics with Franz Mingel as a partner. She and Baeumler were runners-up to Canada's Barbara Wagner and Robert Paul in the 1960 Olympics. Starting in 1954 the Canadians won seven of eight world pair titles, before the 1963 German victory.

British Sledder Injured, Yank Skiers Spilled

Officials Urge Care as Mishaps Continue to Mar Practice

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Crippling accidents and less serious ones continue to plague pre-Olympic training sessions, forcing officials to take extra precautions against further injuries for the Winter Games starting next Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

A British toboggan team member broke an arm Thursday while two American ski jumpers were involved in lesser accidents.

The increasing mishaps, though, failed to daunt coaches of the United States teams who named some of their starters for Olympic events.

Norman Barkley, a British sledder, flew off the dangerous toboggan course, spun around in the air and landed on the edge of the chute. Onlookers became alarmed when Barkley lay motionless for a few minutes.

FATAL MISHAP

Another Briton, Kazimierz Kay-Skrzypecki, was injured fatally earlier this week in a tobogganing accident near the same spot.

Barkley, however, regained consciousness by the time he reached an ambulance. Doctors said he broke his left upper arm near the shoulder.

Ansten Samuelstuen of Boulder, Colo., a member of the U.S. Nordic ski team, suffered a spectacular fall at nearby Seefeld Hill. He was shaken up, and both of his skis were broken. Dave Hicks of Duluth, Minn., received lacerations of Minn., received lacerations his back and arms in a spill.

At the request of toboggan officials, the Olympic Organizing Committee took steps to lessen the hazards of the toboggan run. The committee agreed to install wooden lips at the top of the steep curves as soon as possible.

Alpine Coach Bob Beattie named Jean Saubert of Lakeview, Ore.; Bud Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., and Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., as the only definite choices to compete in all three Alpine events—the slalom, the giant slalom and the downhill.

BARBARA NAMED

Besides Miss Saubert, picked for the women's competition were Linda Meyers of Bishop, Calif., two slalom races; Barbara Ferries of Houghton, Mich., the slalom, and Joan Hannah of Franconia, N.H., the giant slalom.

Beattie named Jim Huega of Tahoe City, Calif., for the two slaloms and Chuck Ferries of Houghton, Mich., for the slalom.

Spencer Nears League Crown

Spencer Floor moved within one game of a tie for the Class A League basketball championship in Waterford Township last night with an easy 79-56 win over Five Rs.

★ ★ ★

The win was the eighth in succession for Spencer, and another win, or a loss by Lakeland Pharmacy, would put the squad into the winners' circle.

Bill Gapczynski led Spencer with 30 markers and John Herrington added 27. Dan Droops picked up 17 for the losers.

Joe Umphrey led the Towing quintet with 34 points, the top individual score of the season.

Both teams are now 1-6 in league play.

In games on the Pontiac Recreation schedule, Wilson's All Stars turned back Town and Country, 58-43, and Beckers routed Pontiac Police, 80-37.

Northern Matmen Remain Undefeated

Pontiac Northern boosted its wrestling record to 8-0 Thursday evening with a 31-9 triumph over Southfield.

★ ★ ★

Flint Central won three of the final four events in handing Pontiac Central a 25-16 setback in a Saginaw Valley Conference match.

In other mat action, Lake Orion trimmed Cranbrook, 30-19, Walled Lake downed Waterford, 39-8, Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows whipped L'Anse Creuse, 40-14, and Fitzgerald turned back Roseville, 36-6.

Northern won nine of 12 bouts in handing Southfield its sixth loss of the season. The Huskies are 3-0 in Inter-Lakes League action while the Blue Jays slipped to 1-2.

PCH and Flint Central were deadlocked after the first eight matches, 14-14, but the visitors came through with decisions in the 154, 180 and heavyweight classes to wrap up the win.

The loss dropped the Chiefs' season mark to 3-5-1.

Parochial 5s Battle for Runner-Up Spot

The loser will be eliminated from the championship, but Royal Oak St. Mary has already clinched a tie and needs only one more win to take the crown.

★ ★ ★

The Irish are idle today. St. Frederick plays at Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes and Farmington OLS is at Detroit St. Agatha.

A St. Michael victory would put the Shamrocks in a position to temporarily halt RO St. Mary's express. The two teams meet next week.

But the Irish, win or lose against the Mikemen, are expected to handle either Sorrows or St. Agatha in their last two games. All they need is one victory.

OLSM and the Mikemen are tied for second place with 5-3 records.

READY TO ROLL

The Eaglets appear to have overcome some early season jitters. They clipped St. Frederick Tuesday. Handling 6-5 Mike Pope of the Shamrocks is the biggest problem for the Eaglets.

The Goodrich-Ortonville rivalry resumes tonight on the latter's court. Neither team is going anywhere in the Genesee Suburban League, but a meeting between the schools usually attracts a large turnout.

★ ★ ★

Gold Medals Are Real

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—The gold medals awarded during the 1964 Winter Olympics will be made of gold.

In other Olympics, the gold medals actually have been just gold-plated. But the Austrian awards will be worth $360 each in gold value, it was announced here today.

Mentor's Strategy OK but Team Loses Game

WARNER, Okla. (AP)—Connor's strategy was a masterpiece of planning Thursday night—and it worked. But Oklahoma Military Academy won anyway.

Connors' strategy in the Oklahoma Junior College Conference basketball game was to contain OMA's feared fast break. And Connors' plan—a stall—worked so well that OMA began copying it.

Second Place at Stake

Northville Entertains Hills

Unbeaten Clarkston will be seeking its ninth win and a firmer hold on first place at Holly. Other action has Clarenceville at West Bloomfield, and Brighton at Milford.

The Oakland A leaders, Fitzgerald is expected to have an easy time at Warren Cousino. Avondale plays at Clawson, Troy goes to Rochester and Lake Orion is at Madison.

Northville was soundly trounced by the Barons in their first meeting at Bloomfield Hills. But the Mustangs have been improving steadily and are now a threat for second place.

A Northville victory coupled with another Clarkston triumph would just about assure the Wolves of the championship. It would put them three games in front and only a rash of injuries to key players would hurt the bid.

Clarenceville made the rest of the league sit up and take notice by shocking the Hills last week.

West Bloomfield, however, has been coming on strong, and is favored. Milford is expected to get past winless Brighton.

Lake Orion's present surge upward in the standings started at home and the Dragons continued the pace. Now they hit the road for what could be a close contest.

★ ★ ★

Slumping Avondale is rated an outside chance against Clawson, but Rochester is expected to remain winless in its game with Troy.

Warriors Gain With Decision Over Pistons

Club Hands Detroit 125-93 Loss; Moves Into Second Place

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP) —San Francisco parlayed a team scoring effort with an oppressive defense to crush weary Detroit 125-93 Thursday night and move into second place in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

★ ★ ★

The Warriors got help from the Eastern Division leading Boston Celtics, who tripped St. Louis, 110-104, dropping the Hawks to third in the west. In the only other NBA game Thursday, Baltimore bumped New York, 130-114, to widen their fourth-place western gap over the last place Pistons.

The Warrior victory was their eighth in the last 10 games and set the stage for a three-game weekend series with the division leading Los Angeles Lakers, in front of San Francisco by 2½ games.

ROAD-WEARY

The road - weary Pistons, meanwhile, leave the West Coast with a 1-3 record after four games in four nights. The victory was over the Lakers on Monday.

Ray Scott topped the Pistons with 17 points. Seven Worriors hit in double figures. Wilt Chamberlain managed 28, and Sat out the last eight minutes and 47 seconds, as San Francisco built up a 35-point margin. Teammate Tom Meschery followed with 19.

Walt Bellamy hit all 12 of his floor shots and scored 31 points to pace the Bullets over the Knickerbockers. It was red hot Baltimore's fourth victory in five starts. The Bullets led at one point, 100-64, in running up their highest point total of the season. John Rudometkin's 21 points topped New York.

THIN ICE — Mrs. Joan Gauthier may be skating on thin ice, but it's better than falling down on it. The pretty Canadian donned her sports skates to travel Ottawa streets covered with ice which tied up vehicles and made walking dangerous.

Outlook Dim for Boat Race With Canada

NEW YORK (AP) — There probably will be no United States vs. Canada match this year for the Harmsworth Trophy, coveted prize in powerboat racing.

Melvin Crook of Montclair, N.J. American representative of the trustees of the Harmsworth Trophy, disclosed at the National Boat Show Thursday, that the trustees had turned down Canada's request to limit the competition to seven-liter, a slower type of boat.

The Canadians were told to "defend or default", Crook said. He added: "Since Canada doesn't have unlimited hydroplane they must defend with a seven-liter or default. My guess is they will let it go."

Unlimited hydroplanes are capable of more than 180 m.p.h. The seven-liters seldom exceed 150 m.p.h.

Full Course Is Lighted

SEWELL, N.J. — American golfers' dilemma of not enough hours to play and extremely congested courses is being solved for the first time with the opening here this year of the world's first lighted regulation-length golf course.

The pioneering lighting installation seems certain to trigger a nationwide trend to golf at night, the only weekday time usually available for recreation.

Tall Pines Golf Club, 18 miles Southeast of downtown Philadelphia, has lighted its existing nine-hole, 3230-yard, par-35 links. The plush layout is the first regulation-length type to be illuminated.

Other courses with floodlights have been miniature, pitch-n-putt and par-3-short courses which do not offer the "real" golf of full wood shots and long par-4 and -5 holes.

Jersey Junior Leads Miami

College Cage Schedule Is Light

By The Associated Press

Rick Barry was good as a sophomore in college basketball for the University of Miami, Fla. Hurricanes last year. He's better this season.

★ ★ ★

The 6-foot-7 junior from Roselle Park, N.J. demonstrated his ability anew Thursday night with 32 points to lead the Hurricanes to a decisive 121-99 victory over Lasalle at Miami Beach. He's now the sixth highest collegiate scorer with 457 points in 15 games for an average of 30.5.

In living up to the praise of his coach, Bruce Hale, the 19-year-old Barry flipped in 10 field goals and 12 of 13 free throws. Down by 10 points the Hurricanes went on a 17-2 spree midway of the first half to turn the game into a rout.

JUMPS WELL

"Barry has no weaknesses," Hale has said of his 200-pound star. "Best of all are his ability to get up in the air with anybody and his tremendously quick reflexes."

Barry faces a stern test next month on Feb. 10 when the Hurricanes host Creighton and its star, Paul Silas, the nation's leading rebounder.

★ ★ ★

Silas, a 6-7 giant like Barry, shared the headlines with Rick Thursday on another light national program. He grabbed 32 rebounds and scored 22 points as the Blue Jays from Omaha walloped Marquette 84-57. Creighton's record now is 14-2, Miami's 11-4.

JERSEY UPSET

St. Peter's of New Jersey upset Niagara 91-75 behind Tim Kehoe's 25 points and Tom Baxley's 15-foot jump shot with two seconds left gave Florida a 52-50 triumph over arch rival, Florida State.

In other games Bob Cousy's Boston College Eagles overwhelmed Dartmouth 93-62, Houston trounced Texas Christian 83-63, Weber defeated Gonaga 77-72 and Western Kentucky snapped a seven-game losing streak by downing Morehead 80-74.

In $50,000 Lucky Tourney

Lema, January Share Lead

That recipe doesn't appear in any mixology books but it was the key to Thursday's first round of the $50,000 Lucky International Open Golf Tournament as champagne Tony Lema, helped by the elements, tied Don January for the lead at five-under-par 66.

★ ★ ★

The twosome hardly had a safe lead. Money-winning king, Arnold Palmer, and non-winner Jerry Steelsmith, began today's second round only one strike behind. Breathing on their necks were five men at 68, a dozen at 69 and eight at 70.

Lema and January each putted superbly at the 6,722 - yard, par 36-35—71 Harding Park municipal course, but it was the rain - softened greens which helped Lema — 1964's leading money winner — to his fine round.

LONG PUTTS

While January was sinking long birdie putts, Tony was coming out of trouble onto the greens with splendid shots that stopped dead on the spongy surfaces.

"We can hit the ball at the hole and it will stick," Lema said before teeing off. And that is just what he did on three key trouble shots.

He hooked around trees to within four feet of the second pin and holed a birdie putt. At the 12th and 13th, after hitting into trees on his drives, he came onto the greens low and rescued pars.

Lema, who followed his victory tradition of serving champagne to the press when he won last week at the Crosby tournament, said, "it's still too early to be thinking about the bubbly stuff."

NO BOGEYS

January's shot-of-the-day was a 35 - foot six - iron chip that jumped into the eighth hole. He had birdie putts of 18, 15, 6 and 12 feet and didn't take any bogeys.

Palmer, who couldn't even make the cut at the Crosby, quit smoking Wednesday night and responded with a 67. The sporadic rain—falling for the sixth consecutive day—hurt Palmer as he once had to putt out of a puddle. The group of 69 included Bob Rosburg, Mason Rudolph, George Bayer, Ernie Vossler and Frank Beard. Beard closed with a 31, lowest nine of the day.

Irish Driver Gains Victory

Paddy Kopkirk Wins at Monte Carlo

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP)—"I took it easy because I had everything to lose and nothing to win."

That was the comment of 30-year-old Paddy Kopkirk of Belfast, Northern Ireland, after he had won the historic Monte Carlo auto rally Thursday.

Kopkirk went into the road race, the final test of this grueling 2,900-mile endurance of humans and machines, with a commanding lead in points.

SUPER CAR

With his co-driver Harry Liddon of Britain, Hopkirk pushed his Morris Cooper Super around the twisting 1.94-mile course through the streets of this Riviera resort just fast enough to win over Sweden's Bo Ljungfeldt in a Ford Falcon and defending champion Erik Carlsson of Sweden in a Saab.

Ljungfeldt won the road test with a three lap time of 5:50.5 compared to Hopkirk's cautious 6:24.1, but in the official overall tabulation it was Hopkirk on top with 2,536.2730 points. Ljungfeldt finished with 2,566.7128 and Carlsson with 2,573.7760.

NFL Studies 2-Year Bids of Networks

NEW YORK (UPI) — The nation's three major television networks were expected to bid between $14 and $16 million today for exclusive two-year rights to the National Football League's regular season games.

★ ★ ★

Although he has four days to make a decision, NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle was expected to announce his choice a few hours after studying the bids.

The bids which will be submitted today are for exclusive rights to cover the regular-season games of the NFL's 14 teams.

★ ★ ★

The NFL recently signed a $926,000 agreement with NBC for telecasts of the championship game. The league's previous regular season contract was with CBS at a cost of $9.3 million.

PAY PLAYS

By ED JUCKER
Cincinnati U. Coach

To begin the University of Cincinnati's High Post Series, our pivot man comes high, just about the middle of the foul line.

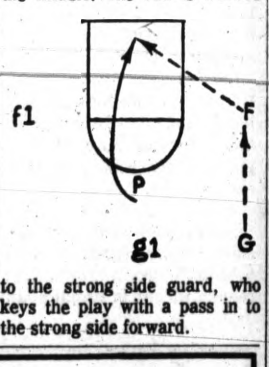

JUCKER

Both forwards come high, taking outside positions on the extended foul line. The guards bring the ball into the backcourt and overplay to the side on which the passing will begin. I will call this the strong side.

The accompanying diagram illustrates the basic pattern with the passing scheduled to begin on the right side. Play can begin to the left at the discretion of the guards.

The basic play off this pattern calls for the weak side guard to score on a cut down the middle. The ball is worked to the strong side guard, who keys the play with a pass in to the strong side forward.

The weak side guard, g-1, drives his defensive man back into the pivot man and continues down the middle to take a quick pass from the strong side forward and lay it up.

★ ★ ★

All that is necessary to make this play work is for the defensive man on G to be momentarily picked by the pivot man. Speed will free g-1 for the feed pass if this pick is even slightly successful.

Gonzales-Ralston Rift Aided Team

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pancho Gonzales doesn't deny he got mad at Dennis Ralston before last month's Davis Cup matches in Australia, but he says there was method in his madness.

"I was trying to teach Denny to put the fear of death into his opponent," Gonzales says.

★ ★ ★

Gonzales and Ralston attended a Thursday luncheon in honor of Robert J. Kelleher, nonplaying captain of the victorious U. S. Davis Cup team. The cup, back in the United States after five years, was on display.

Gonzales, the U. S. coach, said this of his much-publicized quarrel with Ralston: "The only thing different about it was it happened on the back courts."

Watchdogs come in varying sizes and degrees of preparedness and ferocity—some bark, some bite and others sleep through the crime and bite the police to makes amends.

Organized sports usually have watchdogs; frequently they are self-appointed and sometimes radical in their approach.

Bowling is no different. Probably its most vociferous watchdog is the National Committee for Honest Bowling Conditions.

This group is headquartered in Los Angeles and according to its most recent publicity release is "composed of bowling's biggest stars." All of whom are presently unidentified.

The committee's biggest target's at present are the representatives to the American Bowling Congress. The persistent theme of its demands is the super soft conditions that permit increasingly high scores.

The problem of pin deflection bothers the committee intensely and it is seeking an ABC amendment to require deflection tests.

The winner in the recent World's Invitational Tournament at Chicago averaged 234 for 64 games and this evoked the comment from the committee that "there isn't a bowler alive who can average 234 on an honest scoring condition, for 64 games."

The group thus plans to picket all major bowling tournaments to aid its campaign for the amendment and to bring attention to its general cause.

Certainly super soft conditions are a problem, not only at major tournaments but at the local bowling levels. And the problem works the other way also. Some bowling lanes are known as too difficult with few high scores.

But it isn't only pin deflection that creates the unfair conditions. The composition and handling of the lanes, the pins and even the balls will alter the situation from lane to lane.

It will not be easy to standardize bowling surfaces. Besides, the higher and higher scores make better reading in the newspapers.

SPARE PINS

North Hill Lanes in Rochester is staging a Trophyama for sanctioned members of Bowling Proprietors Association of America Youth Bowling Association.

There are four events—team, singles, doubles and all events—and three divisions: major, junior and prep. A 70 per cent handicap will be granted.

The tournament will be on successive Sundays, Feb. 2, 9 and 16 and entries must be in 24 hours in advance of the bowling.

tournament last week at Cad-

In the state women's bowling illac, the Don Nicholie team from the Airway Lanes Major Classic League posted the third best total in the team handicap division.

Led by Grace McNerney's 534 actual, the women had a 2895 handicap total, 156 pins behind the leader from Roscommon. Coincidentally, the team had a 156 pin spot per game.

Other members are Bernice Driver, Ida Maxon, Ruth Batts and Nellie Heming.

An unnoticed change in the local proprietorship ranks saw Bob Evans and Carolyn and Richard Viles take control of Cooley Lanes last month.

Keg Scores Slip in Huron Classic

The scores slipped some last week in the Huron Bowl Classic with 665 by Pat Sweeney the top series among the 24 which were in the "600" level.

Caught in the slowdown was the league leading 300 Bowl team which dropped six points to Westside Mobil. The gas men had a 1080 team game.

Calbi Music, aided by a 3066 series, won six points and cut its runner-up deficit to 10 points and Pontiac Window Cleaning also gained in third place with an eight-point sweep.

Change in Standings of West Side League

Colonial Lounge regained second place from Sport Center Trophies Monday night in the West Side Classic; while 300 bowl continued merrily along atop the 16-man circuit.

Although there were 60 games of 200 or better, Ruben Rodriguez claimed top honors with a 247. Les Rothbarth with 244 and Chaz Palaian with 241 were next in line.

Squads Held Each Sunday at 5 Locally

Pro-Am qualifying and the first elimination for the 10 Professional Bowlers' Association Open amateur slots are set for this weekend.

The PBA North American Open slated for 300 Bowl March 24-28 will have 118 professionals to pair off with amateurs in the Pro-Am event opening the four-day tournament.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-one bowling establishments in Michigan and Ohio have been designated to have qualifying for the Pro-Am berths with the top ten per cent of each week's qualifying at a site filling one of the available slots.

Three have been taken. Robbie Roberts and Walt Zumbrunnen qualified at 300 Bowl and Keith Lester at Collier Lanes.

Many others are expected to join them to compete for the $5,000 purse with the aid of a professional partner. Only the amateurs share in the prize money.

The 21 sites are the largest number of any of the tournaments on the PBA tour.

PBA figures revealed that New Jersey and Oklahoma had more than 10,000 bowlers trying to qualify for tournaments in their respective areas.

The PBA Open eliminations will begin at 2 p.m. Sunday on the 300 Bowl lanes. It is based on actual pinfall while the Pro-Am eliminations use a 100 per cent handicap.

The top 16 scorers in the eliminations for the North American Open will bowl off for the 10 amateur spots. The winners will then compete along with the 118 pros for $4,000 first prize or one of the 32 payoff spots.

Birmingham Keglers Move Within Range

After losing 23 points in a row during one streak early this season, the Birmingham Bowl team now has crept within four points of the lead in the Northwood Lanes senior House League.

The close league race finds seven teams within four and a half points in the battle for first place.

Jim Milford received an ABC award patch last week for a 718 series early in the season; and then he went out and hit 242-266 — 710 as his house team stayed in the running.

TAKES LEAD—Dick Weber, 1963 "Bowler of the Year" took the lead last night in the All-Star bowling tournament at Dallas after holding 2nd place for five straight rounds. Weber, who will be a partner of some local bowler, when he appears at the 300 Bowl for the PBA Open, March 24-28, pushed ahead of Tommy Tuttle.

Upsets Mark Action in Travelling Loop

Two upsets marked the action in the Pontiac Traveling Classic League last Sunday but they did not affect the standings of the top two teams.

Both league leading 300 Bowl and runner-up Airway Lanes were surprised. Sylvan Lanes nipped Airway, 10-8, and Primrose Lanes dumped "300" 17-11.

Other action saw Huron Bowl take Fairgrounds Bowl 15-6, Howe's Lanes top Wonderland Lanes, 11-6, and Montcalm Bowling Center whip West Side Lanes, 13-6.

Sylvan edged Airway when George Bishop beat Ed Gibbs, 200-197, in the last match. Bishop had four points for the day on a 627 while Gibbs scored three with 611.

Chuck Messer with 245—641 and Ed Angles with 633 led Primrose's upset win with six points apiece. The day's best single effort was Don Martell's eight points on 245-222—672 for Huron Bowl.

The league is idle this weekend but will resume action Feb. 2nd at 11 a.m. on the West Side alleys.

Defending Champ Surges Ahead

Weber Leads All-Stars

DALLAS (AP) — Defending champion Dick Weber of St. Louis brushed aside a challenger from Rural Hall, N.C., and took the lead in the $100,000 All-Star Bowling Tournament Thursday night.

Weber had held second place for five straight rounds, while unknown Tommy Tuttle continued to lead the 16-man field.

SPLITS

Weber had rolled 975, the high series of the finals, earlier in the day of the finals with a 21-11 record and a total pinfall of 6,917. He received a 1,050 bonus.

Like Webber, she had suffered the frustration of riding in second place for most of the finals. She moved up into a tie for the lead with Norma Lake in the fourth round, but the Dallas blonde wrenched the lead away from her again in the fifth round.

In the same session, Mrs. Carter won two straight from Jeannette Robinson of Flint, Mich., with a fat 439 series. This triumph gave Mrs. Carter an 11-5 record and a total pinfall of 3,169. Her 550-pin bonus boosted her total to 3,719.

BOWLING

At least five teams are in the running for second place in the Wonderland Lanes Masters League Monday nights although 300 Bowl has first place in a firm grasp.

The league uses the Peterson point system and less than six points separate the sceond through sixth teams. The "300" team has almost a 10-point lead on second place Party Shoppe.

Tim White hit 237—649 to lead all bowlers Monday and Bill Johns had 254 — 626. Harold Walker posted 222—644.

STILL TOPS

A 257 and a 582 by Colleen Bildstein still are reported tops in the Hilltop Rebels League at Hilltop Bowling. Mary Reschke is credited with converting the 7-10 split this season.

Primrose Lanes started a Wednesday Night Mixed Doubles League last week and the first night all teams split the four points, creating an eight-way tie for the lead.

It dissolved some this with Teams No. 6 and No. 3 taking four points and sharing the lead. Garry Crake's 257—625 led the scores with Dick MacIntosh having a 214.

Berg Cleaners has a three-point lead in the Howe's Lanes Dixie All Star League. Terry Thomas recently had a 243 and Ken Graves a 214-211—616 in the league.

The Ladies Doubles Classic leader, Pontiac Lake Inn, lost three points to Coats team in last week's action. Ione Samuel had a 221—553, Marvel Szot 204—547 and Jo Gohl 547 recently.

Les Howe bowled 246—582 in the Men's Doubles League and Al Sharrard had 257—620 in the Waterford Merchants loop. Dick Ryan had a 223-203—622 performance in the latter, also.

The Thursday Morning circuit posted 226-223 — 649 totals for Steve Oliseck last week and 223-234—632 for Tony Zographos. The Howe's Jets were led by Marge Lines 202—516 last time.

A 223 by Chris Nicholas was tops in the Howe's Friday Night House League while Al Beebe hit 220.

That was a good night in the Senior Classic last week with 58 games of 200 or better. Hal DeLongchamp posted 219-223—665 scores and Keith Parker 212-231—654.

The last two weeks Bob Devine has bowled 233 and 234 to pace the Howe's Foursome League. Doug Sharick notched a 600 series last time.

Represent Her Many Jobs

Mrs. Esther Peterson's Hats Different

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — President Johnson will shortly announce the appointment of several more women to high places in government.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

Many members of the fairer sex who worked unstintingly for the election of President Kennedy three years ago lately complained that he had virtually ignored women in filling policy jobs.

The late Eleanor Roosevelt was in the forefront of those who felt that Mr. Kennedy had a "blind spot" where women executives were concerned.

★ ★ ★

Actually JFK named a woman as assistant secretary of labor. A woman heads the women's bureau, supervises the Bureau of Labor Standards, the Bureau of Employes' Compensation and the Compensation Appeals Board.

A woman is executive vice chairman of the Interdepartmental Committee on the Status of Women, and its citizen's advisory council.

President Johnson has gone a big step further by appointing a woman as his special assistant for consumer affairs, and has named a woman to the chairmanship of the President's Committee on Consumer Interests.

The only catch is that all of these impressive - sounding jobs are held by the same woman!

★ ★ ★

OLD AND NEW

Mrs. Peterson is currently handling all of her old jobs along with the challenging new assignments, but even a super woman cannot long continue at such a pace.

President Johnson, who has a high regard for the executive abilities of women, is known to be studying a list of suggested replacements.

He plans soon to begin shifting some of Mrs. Peterson's bonnets to other feminine heads.

★ ★ ★

Congress will need to be consulted before the position of director of the women's bureau can be separated from that of assistant secretary of labor, but this will shortly be done.

COMBINED

The jobs were combined only two years ago, when Mrs. Peterson's former duties were upgraded to sub-cabinet level.

Under the chairmanship of Eleanor Rooseyelt, Mrs. Peterson also served as executive vice chairman of the president's commission on the status of women until its demise last October.

After Mrs. Roosevelt's death the commission continued without a chairman until Mrs. Peterson submitted its final report.

★ ★ ★

She continues as vice chairman of the citizen's advisory council, an offshoot of the commission, but President Johnson has now named Margaret Hickey chairman.

HIGHEST RANKING

Mrs. Peterson, the highest ranking woman in the executive branch, is somewhat unique in that she was never an active Democratic party worker.

A graduate of Brigham Young University and Columbia University's teachers college, she has a solid background in the labor movement.

For five years beginning in 1939 she served as assistant director of education for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, and subsequently became its lobbyist on Capitol Hill.

Married to Oliver A. Peterson, a former foreign service officer, she worked closely with Swedish and Belgian trade unions from 1948 to 1957 during his tours of duty there as U.S. labor attache.

Add to her many other hats the fact that Mrs. Peterson is a mother of four, and does all of her own marketing.

TO THOSE LIVING IN THE COMMUNITIES SERVED BY DETROIT EDISON

As you grow and prosper, so do we. The nature of our business makes us very much a part of the 67 cities, 76 villages, 214 townships and 258 other communities that make up Southeastern Michigan.

It is mutually advantageous for us to encourage farmers to follow good agricultural practices, for example. Electrically driven machinery, so vital in combating the cost-price squeeze, is fast turning farms into food factories and there is much to learn in the process. The successful farmer of the future will be the one who best knows how to evaluate and use these "wired hands."

In behalf of business, we're constantly searching for new and improved ways to put versatile electric energy to work. This helps make our recommendations to our industrial and commercial customers more valuable and meaningful.

To aid in bringing new business enterprises into this area is another goal of ours. We help firms in search of new locations to find the best sites. Of greater long-range importance, we help communities make themselves more attractive to industrial newcomers. One way of doing so is by assisting in the research and work which lead to community planning and to the establishment of industrial development committees.

As you grow and prosper, so do we. We seek always to be staunch and enthusiastic boosters of the area and the people we serve.

Sincerely,

Walker L. Cisler

MIXED STOCKS

Airlines, building materials, motors and mail order-retails were mixed.

The Senate committee's completion of action on tax-cut legislation was a favorable factor along with gains in retail sales and auto sales. Reports of possible boosts in interest rates tended to dampen enthusiasm.

* * *

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .1 at 291.4 with industrials unchanged, rails up .3 and utilities off .1. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .53 at 782.33.

* * *

Superior Oil was off about 45 points as traders apparently "sold on the news"—long pending — that Texaco definitely plans to acquire Superior's Venezuela properties. Texaco, which raised its dividend, was up fractionally. Socony Mobil also gained a fraction as it increased its dividend.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE

Prices on the American Stock Exchange moved irregularly lower in moderately active trading. Syntex slipped 5 points. Chromalloy, adversely affected by the California smog-control ruling, lost more than 2 in active trading.

* * *

Counseling Needed

Can Interest in Study Be Revived?

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our daughter liked school and did fairly well through the second grade. Her work in the third and fourth grades showed a decline.

DR. NASON

Now, in the fifth grade, she has given up trying. She does poor work in all her subjects. Her worst is arithmetic; in fact, she is a complete failure.

How can her interest in school be revived?

A. D., Los Angeles, Calif.

Answer: Your daughter needs help in many areas so be careful not to overwhelm her by expecting improvement in too many subjects at the beginning.

Ask her teacher or the school counselor to go into great detail as to just how she should read her arithmetic text and practice solving problems before the next test.

If your daughter tries one new scheme that proves successful she will be willing to try other experiments.

Little by little her counselor can show her how to meet the challenge to school life.

Dear Dr. Nason: My mother sends me your articles on education including the one titled "Car Can Detour Even Good Student." I was "controlled" by a car but have been able to shake the "habit" and return to my books before it was too late; of course it is never too late.

I quit high school and joined the Air Force and now I am impressed how much an education is worth these days. I'm nearing the end of my enlistment and plan to return to school.

I wish I had listened to people who knew the value of an education but failed to insist I get one.

Do you feel, as I do, that parents are too lenient in cases such as mine?

A.M., Jr. AFB, Fla.

Answer: Parents are negligent when they do not insist with greater vigor that children put education in its proper place of importance.

I have heard many young adults say "I wish my parents had insisted," and have yet to hear one say "I wish my parents had been more lenient."

Dear Dr. Nason: Our daughter failed to make a "C" average her freshman year and cannot return to the same college. She did not fail in a subject but received several D's.

She is interested in speech therapy and has worked with retarded children. We need some professional advice.

Mrs. N., Indianapolis, Ind.

Answer: Before your daughter can begin to help others she must solve her own problem, although she has chosen a rewarding career objective.

An application, accompanied by a letter in which she sets forth the fact that she had analyzed her problem and is now ready to solve it, will bring sympathetic consideration.

(You can write Prof. Nason in care of The Pontiac Press. He will answer in his column questions of greatest interest.)

Opening lead—♥ 8

By OSWALD JACOBY

One of the great bridge players of the '30s was the late Sidney Rusinow (pronounced Rusinof). He is remembered most as the subject of Howard Dietz' plaintive lines, "Why do you signal, Rusinof? Why play the eight? Ain't the deuce enough?"

JACOBY

Everybody learns to signal, but it takes real ability to know when to waste even a six spot, and when it comes to tossing away a very high card such as a king most players simply shudder and hang on to the potential winner.

When East won the opening heart lead with the ace, South dropped his king as if it were a hot potato.

It was, too. Had South hung onto it he could have played the rest of the hand anyway he wished, but would have wound up in the ash can.

Once he dropped the king everything came up roses.

South was certain that West had led from something in hearts and that something had to be the queen. Hence, South was only going to make one heart trick and he wanted to win that heart trick in dummy.

Let's see what actually happened. East returned a heart and West cleared the suit. South was in dummy with the jack and was able to finesse his jack of spades. Then he returned to dummy with the ace of diamonds and finessed the spade again.

This gave him three spade tricks and his contract while if he had clung to his king of hearts he would only have been able to reach dummy once.

KENNETH J. VINSTRA

Vacancy Filled at Scout Unit

Holland Man Gets Clinton Valley Post

The appointment of Kenneth J. Vinstra of Holland as Pontiac District executive for the Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council was announced today by Arthur J. Brooks, council president.

Vinstra, 22, succeeds Richard N. Oslund, who accepted a similar position with the Scenic Trails Council in Alpena, with headquarters in Traverse City.

The new executive is no newcomer to scouting, having joined as a cub scout when he was 8 years old.

★ ★ ★

He since has attained the rank of eagle with a bronze palm and has had extensive scout camping experience.

COLLEGE GRADUATE

A graduate of Hope College, he earned his bachelor's degree in 1963 and was president of Alpha Phi Omega, national, honorary service fraternity for scouting.

He has just completed a semester of postgraduate study in social work on a scholarship at the University of Michigan.

Vinstra will begin a six week course Feb. 11 at scouting's national training school for executives near Mendham, N.J.

Vinstra and his wife, Linda, an English teacher at Walled Lake High School, are now living in Brighton but are making arrangements to move to the Pontiac area.

For Royal Treatment, Try Breaking a Leg

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — A broken leg didn't slow up Marie Aragon's studies. Now she rides to Centennial High School in royal style — in an overstuffed chair borne on bars of wood by two boys.

They say they'll deliver Marie to school and back until she gets a walking cast on her leg next month.

Oscar Nominations Will Be Told Feb. 24

MOLLYWOOD (AP) — Nominations for Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences awards — Oscars — will be announced Feb. 24, Academy President Arthur Freed announced today.

Freed also said the presentation ceremonies will be held in the Santa Monica, Calif., civic auditorium, and that actor Jack Lemmon will be master of ceremonies.

Farming Ranks High as Danger Occupation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farming is the third most dangerous occupation in the country, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Cliff Robertson the Flier

His Hobby's Vintage Aircraft

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "Some men like nothing better than to go out to the country club and spend the afternoon playing golf," says actor Cliff Robertson. "As for myself, I like to take to the air."

THOMAS

And he does so, whenever his busy acting schedule permits. But Cliff is no flier of luxury models. He prefers to go aloft in open-cockpit biplanes — or even a balloon.

Robertson's unusual hobby came to light a month ago. He and Frank Tallman, who with Paul Mantz owns a collection of old airplanes for movie rentals, were flying over the ocean in an ancient craft when they sighted a sinking boat. They reported it and a rescue was effected.

Last Saturday, the two men were again up in the air, participants in the Catalina-to-mainland hot-air balloon race which had an unhappy ending with the death of a woman contestant.

SEEM WONDERFUL

"It was tragic," said Robertson at Revue Studios, where he was filming a Bob Hope Chrysler Theater. "I had entered the race because it seemed like a wonderfully gay and refreshing throwback to the past, something that was needed after the grim news of the past six months."

He and Tallman, a veteran stunt pilot, had no easy time in the race. Their balloon rose quickly to 2,500 feet after leaving the island, then hit a downdraft that plummeted them to the ocean. The pair managed to reheat the gas in their balloon with their butane tanks and rose once more, ascending to more than 5,000 feet. Drifting toward the California coast, they sailed into a cloud, then their butane began giving out. Down they went at a rapid clip, and both figured they'd better jump before the gondola hit the water or the balloon might envelope them.

They jumped at about 50 feet and were picked up immediately by a rescue boat.

"Another minute and a half of gas and we could have made it to land," said Cliff. "But, as Frank pointed out, we were probably better off not landing on hard ground, considering our speed."

Cliff's favorite sport is to take some of the vintage aircraft up for a spin. While he was making "633 Squadron" in England last summer, he bought his own Spitfire and had it shipped here.

'After the Fall' Author Fans Out With DiMaggio

WILSON

NEW YORK—Friends of Joe DiMaggio say he's seething at what he's heard about Arthur Miller's new play, "After the Fall," which is strangely reminiscent of Marilyn Monroe—and is likely to turn into a very angry drama critic. They hope to keep the Yankee Clipper from seeing the show (which "Ladybird" Johnson saw previewed the other night) lest he explode.

Edie Adams heard that "Nobody Loves an Albatross," the hilarious Robert Preston show about a wheeler-dealer Hollywood TV writer-producer, is patterned somewhat after her current boy friend, Cy Howard. "When he makes a date with me, forgets it, goes out with somebody else and I find out about it," says Edie, "Cy says, 'Sweetheart, you know I wouldn't have gone out with her if I'd known you were in town! How can you say that!'"

★ ★ ★

Joyce Mathews, twice divorced from Billy Rose and Milton Berle, told some friends, "Billy's the only man I ever loved—I want him back." That's evidently why Billy flew to Europe to meet Joyce just when everybody thought he and Hollywood's wealthy Doris Vidor were practically at the preacher's.

Water Used in Waterford Sets Record

The figure represents an increase of 42.11 million over the 1962 pumpage of 382,005,000 gallons, according to Kenneth Squires, water department manager.

Squiers attributed the increase in water use both to the addition of new customers as well as to the hot and dry weather last summer.

Varner, Oakland University chancellor; Marion E. Goodale, headmistress of Kingswood School, Cranbrook; and Ramona V. Dahlborg, faculty member of Interlochen Arts Academy.

Bad Weather Due; but Not Like '63

Pontiac area residents may not like the weatherman's prediction of rain changing to snow and colder but it is better than the 15-below-zero temperature endured a year ago today.

The mercury is expected to drop to 28 tonight and climb to a high of 32 tomorrow.

For the next five days temperatures will average near or a little below the normal high of 30 and normal low of 20. Tuesday and Wednesday will be somewhat warmer.

Precipitation will total about two-tenths of an inch as rain or snow flurries tomorrow. Little or no rain or snow is forecast for the first of the week.

EXPECTED WINDS

Today's east to southeast winds at 8 miles per hour will become south to southwest 20 to 35 m.p.h. tonight, and 20 to 30 miles northwesterly tomorrow.

Thirty-six was the low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. today.

De Gaulle Says China Tie Wise

WASHINGTON (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle has sent word to President Johnson that he decided to recognize Red China primarily because he felt it unwise in a rapidly changing world to ignore any longer the largest and most powerful nation in the Far East.

De Gaulle's argument, made known to the State Department and White House through various diplomatic channels, boiled down to a contention that the U. S. policy of trying to isolate the Communist mainland of China from the world of allied nations is unproductive and out of date.

The latest and perhaps most comprehensive presentation of de Gaulle's views on this alliance-straining issue was made by Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson when he conferred here Wednesday with President Johnson.

Pearson came here following a visit to Paris last week during which he had several talks with the French leader.

France is expected to announce recognition next week and take immediate steps to establish full diplomatic relations with the Red Regime in Peking.

★ ★ ★

A week from today de Gaulle is scheduled to hold a news conference and the prospect is that he will set forth his position on the China question at that time.

COVER POINTS

- He feels there is a vacuum in Western policy in the Far East because of a lack of effective contact between the Western powers and the Red Chinese leadership.

Thus he has argued that the Western powers will gain in the long run from having France move into the gap.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Officials have argued with the French that Britain has had diplomatic contact with Red China from the beginning of the Peking regime 13 years ago and this has made no real difference in Chinese policy.

NEW ELEMENT

But de Gaulle's associates have answered on this point that the French action will introduce a completely new element into Red Chinese considerations at a critical point in world history.

- De Gaulle sees the split between the Soviet Union and

Would Accept Draft—Nixon

Shows No Surprise at Leading Public Polls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon says he would accept a draft for the Republican Presidential nomination, but doesn't anticipate one and "I don't intend to go out and stimulate a draft."

The former Vice President, defining his position in a television interview on the Columbia Broadcasting System last night, said he wanted to make one thing clear:

"When I say I don't want to be a candidate, I mean exactly what I'm saying. I, however, do not mean I am rejecting public service."

He said he considered it a great privilege to have served the public and "if the opportunity should come again, I would accept it."

Nixon declared he wasn't surprised that he was leading the polls of real and potential GOP candidates, but added "I don't have anything going for me among the pros" because they don't give their support unless they're sure "the horse is going to run."

On the other hand, Nixon said Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, another noncandidate so far, "has the support of a lot of pros . . . (and) the big eastern industrial complex."

Pontiac Sets Another Mark in Auto Sales

However, there was a slight decline from the first 10 days of 1964.

Pontiac dealers established a new divisional sales record for the second 10-day sales period of January, said Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager.

From Jan. 11 through 20 there were 14,501 Pontiacs and Tempests sold, surpassing the previous high of 14,001 units set for that period in 1955 and the 13,378 cars sold during the same period a year ago.

11TH STRAIGHT RECORD

"This was the 11th consecutive 10-day record from Pontiac since the introduction of 1964 models," Bridge noted.

This was an increase over the 159,907 cars sold during the same period a year ago, but marked a drop of about 3 per cent from the 168,525 cars delivered in the Jan. 1-10 period this year.

Beatle Fad Arrives: It's 'Hair' in Pontiac

By L. GARY THORNE

Pontiac take heed! A new fad appears on the horizon for the high school set.

Three stouthearted Pontiac teen-agers have elected to advance a novel hair style that draws whistles, giggles and scorn.

The distinctive, mushroom-shaped coiffure is the visual trademark of an English singing group, The Beatles. The quartet's popularity has inspired the Beatle hairdo on the shaggy heads of young people across the ocean.

Now, however, local dandruff has been stirred.

Brothers Louis Rice, 16, and Earl, 17, of 249 Chamberlain have joined forces with Jim Scribner, 18, of 54 Edison to introduce the unique hair style to Pontiac.

Together they have withstood the laughter of girls, the scorn of adults and the barbed thrusts of their counterparts since the first of the week.

LAUGH AND POINT

"Girls just laugh and point," Louis said. He claims credit of being the first to fashion a Beatle cut.

BIG FUTURE

The three Pontiac teens predict a big future for the hair style, expecting it to "top" the old Presley cuts in popularity.

Meantime, reports indicate that Hollywood has instigated Beatle cuts for women. So the girls can join in.

Lovaas, also of Birmingham, faces a preliminary hearing Monday at 9 a.m. in juvenile court.

Transplant Heart; Man Lives 1 Hour

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Surgeons at the University of Mississippi Medical Center here transplanted a human heart into the body of a man dying of a heart ailment today.

A medical center spokesman said the transplanted heart beat for more than an hour, but proved inadequate for the patient's requirements and the recipient died.

The spokesman said it was believed to be the first transplant of a human heart in history.

Senate Group Gives Okay for Reduction

May Miss Deadline; Writing Amendments Will Take a Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $11.5-billion tax cut bill has taken a giant stride toward enactment but whether it can become law by March 1 — the administration goal — is uncertain.

The Senate Finance Committee voted 12-5 approval of the measure yesterday after 20 days of executive sessions and well over 100 separate votes.

They indicated today this might well take all of next week. In that case, the debate probably would not start before Feb. 3.

This would leave only seven or eight days for floor action before the passage deadline of Feb. 11 set by Democratic leaders.

★ ★ ★

They must meet that deadline if the final enactment goal of March 1 is to be achieved.

DEADLINE FOR BILL

If the Senate does not pass the bill until after the Feb. 11-17 Lincoln Day recess there would be little chance to have the conference with the House over differences in the two versions and get the bill to President Johnson for signature next month.

The committee included in the bill all of the major provisions sought by Johnson.

The President won a last-minute victory yesterday afternoon when he persuaded nine Democrats to kill $455-million worth of excise tax repealers which had been voted in the morning.

★ ★ ★

The six Republicans on the committee and two Democrats—Paul H. Douglas of Illinois and Albert Gore of Tennessee—remained for repeal of the taxes in the afternoon test.

TO BE PUSHED

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, author of the key repeal amendments, said he would press them on the floor.

Sponsors of the bill said they did not expect any serious efforts on the floor to change the rate cuts in the bill.

'Clear Sailing for Court Bill'

Sen. Roberts Predicts Okay in Legislature

State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts today predicted clear sailing through both houses of the State Legislature for a new bill to set up a state court of appeals in three 3-judge districts.

Roberts, a Republican who represents Oakland County in the senate, filed the measure for introduction after lawmakers were told by the State Supreme Court that any other districting setup would be unconstitutional.

However, Roberts joined other key GOP legislators in doubting whether the expected wave of bipartisan support will be great enough to put the court into operation this year.

If the state is to get the new appellate court in 1964 as intended in the new state constitution, the measure must win immediate effect, which requires two-thirds approval of both houses.

PRIMARY BALLOT

Otherwise, the bill would not take effect until 90 days after the legislature adjourns. This would be too late to get the appellate court posts on the Aug. 4 primary ballot.

Roberts' bill, which was co-sponsored by Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, senate minority leader, would put Oakland County in a district with 17 other counties in southern and southeastern Michi-

CD Director Is Appointed as County Envoy to Cali

The director, John E. Madole, was named to go to Cali, Colombia, for at least two years. He is scheduled to leave here early next month.

JOHN E. MADOLE

Madole's appointment as a special representative to Cali was made by the Oakland County - Cali Alliance for Progress Committee during a meeting at Oakland University this morning.

The committee has been sanctioned by the U.S. State Department to assist the burgeoning city of Cali and its suburbs in improving economic conditions.

The community project is an experiment in the over-all federal aid and assistance program for South America.

'From Old Friend'

LBJ: Stereo Just Gift

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the expensive stero set delivered to his home in 1959 was simply a gift from old friend Robert G. Baker. And Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says this explanation should end the matter.

But Republicans, sensing an election year issue, are pressing this and other facts of the Senate Rules Committee's inquiry into the complicated business dealing of Baker, a former Johnson protege who quit under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate Democrats.

★ ★ ★

"The Baker family gave us a stereo set," Johnson said Thursday at a White House news conference. "We had exchanged gifts before. He was an employe of the public and had no business pending before me and was asking for nothing and so far as I knew expected nothing in return any more than I did when I had presented him with gifts."

A DAY AFTER

The President volunteered this explanation a day after the Senate committee released testimony by Don B. Reynolds, an associate of Baker in a local insurance firm, who said he sent the $542 stereo record player to Johnson's home at Baker's suggestion.

★ ★ ★

Reynolds said he paid for the set after selling Johnson — then the Senate Democratic leader— the first half of $200,000 in life insurance policies. The insurance man said he also agreed to buy $1,208 worth of advertising time on the Austin television station controlled by the Johnson family.

★ ★ ★

Asked for comment, Mansfield said "the President is to be commended for stepping right out and answering the allegations and for laying the cards on the table. The charge has been answered."

SHOULD STAND

House Democratic Leader Carl Albert said, "The statement should stand on its own feet."

On the Republican side, Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen could not be reached for comment and House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck declined to discuss the matter.

★ ★ ★

But Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, who has called for a separate House investigation of Baker's business dealings, told newsmen that Johnson's remarks make it "more imperative than ever that the Senate Rules Committee call Bobby Baker, put him under oath and ask him whether he paid for this record player."

★ ★ ★

Gross said the President's statement "flies directly in the face of sworn testimony of Reynolds that he bought and paid for the stereo."

MAJOR ISSUE

Rep. Bob Wilson of California, chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, predicted today at a breakfast of Young Republicans that the Democrats' "mess in Washington" would provide the GOP with one of its major campaign issues this year.

★ ★ ★

"If we had a Republican Congress," Wilson said in his prepared address, "we'd have gotten to the bottom of the Billy Sol Estes case, the Bobby Baker case and others in short order. As it is, the Democrats on the Senate Rules Committee have ducked and dodged the issue and used every stalling tactic at their command to keep the investigation from getting out of hand."

Russia Says France Must Join N-Accord

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union today raised the price for an agreement on banning the spread of nuclear weapons by insisting that France also take part.

The Soviets added their new demand to the condition they made yesterday and reiterated today that the West also abandon its projected multilateral nuclear force if there is to be agreement on a nondissemination pact.

A. A. Roschin, deputy to chief Soviet disarmament negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin, told newsmen Moscow will "insist on France being part of a nondissemination agreement."

★ ★ ★

France officially is a member of the Geneva Disarmament Conference but has never participated. It also refused to sign last year's partial nuclear test ban and is developing its own deterrent.

TIED PROGRESS

Tsarapkin himself, at an impromptu news conference after todays conference session, tied progress on a nondissemination agreement to the West keeping nuclear weapons out of German hands.

Exclusion of West Germany from the nuclear force "would be a step toward solution of this problem," he said.

Tsarapkin added that Germany must be designated a nuclear-free zone before the Communists will agree to any system of observation posts on both sides of the Iron Curtain to help prevent surprise attacks.

★ ★ ★

The question of nonproliferation of nuclear weapons and measures to reduce the risk of surprise attack are major issues before the 17-nation disarmament conference here.

DEFENSIVE BACKBONE

The mixed-manned nuclear fleet of Polaris-armed surface ships has been proposed by the United States as the defensive backbone of NATO, of which West Germany is a key member. The force still is in the discussion stage.

County Gets Envoy to Cali

With a metropolitan area population of about 700,000 people, Cali is the second largest city in Colombia.

CALI COUNTERPART

The Cali committe also is sending a representative here to assist the local group in trying to help the Latin Americans.

Madole was nominated by local committee. Hamlin also is also chairman of the County Board of Supervisors and a recent visitor to Cali for the State Department.

Madole said, "I would like to think that great achievements will be made there."

★ ★ ★

Madole's new salary has been set at $10,000 annually.

JOINT BUDGET

It will come from a $45,500 budget being financed equally by private foundations here and in Cali and by the federal government, according to Hamlin.

The civil defense diretor's salary from the county is $9,000 annually.

Madole's former duties in this capacity probably will be assumed by his assistant, Thomas F. Jackson.

★ ★ ★

Madole, 46, said he probably will leave his wife and three children in Oakland County until he is partially settled in Cali.

Madole served as civil defense director for 2½ years. Previously, he was manager of Hancock Iron Works in Pontiac.

TO BE TALLEST—The twin towers of the World Trade Center which will rise above the New York City skyline later this decade will be more than just the tallest buildings in the world. Birmingham architect Minoru Yamasaki who designed them said the 110-story structures will represent man's striving for world peace and his belief that it can be attained.

Architect Sees NY Center as Monument to Peace

The man who embodied this concept in the design of the structure, Birmingham architect Minoru Yamasaki, sees it as the most important aspect of his work.

Construction of the $350-million center is scheduled to begin early in 1965. The first stage will be completed in 1968 and the balance in stages during 1969 and 1970.

The 16-acre site on which the international trade complex will be built is on the lower west side of Manhattan. The towers will overlook the harbor operated by both New York and New Jersey.

Aim of the authority is to provide a unified community for America's export-import business and act as a clearing house for the expansion of trade.

"It will be recognized throughout the nation and the world as a focal point for the convenient and efficient administration of all phases of international trade," the authority said in its announcement.

The structures containing about 10 million square feet of rentable space will accommodate various governmental agencies, world trade services, exhibit areas and private businesses engaged in world trade.

SPACE FOR TRADERS

Of the total space, about four million square feet will be available to businesses and industries dealing in foreign trade.

The towers will rise from a plaza surrounded by reflecting pools. From the plaza will be seen the delicate tracery of the lower buildings and the soaring arches of the tower entrances.

The architect of the complex said he found in it possibilities which rarely exist in a project.

The monument to world peace, because of its importance, can also represent man's belief in humanity, his need for individual dignity, his believes in the cooperation of men and his ability to find greatness through this cooperation, Yamasaki said.

Boundaries Discussed

Proposed boundary changes for junior and senior high schools were discussed last night by the Pontiac school board.

Action was deferred until Feb. 6.

School officials also proposed shifting boundaries between Pontiac's two high schools to balance enrollments.

★ ★ ★

Under the proposed boundary, an estimated 221 students who would normally attend Pontiac Central High will instead attend Pontiac Northern High School.

PRESENT BOUNDARIES

The present high school boundary extends east along Mt. Clemens and Featherstone to the city limits, while the new line would extend east along Mt. Clemens to Sanford and then south on Sanford to the city limits.

Senior high school students who now attend Central and live south of Mt. Clemens and east of Sanford would attend Northern in the future.

However, school officials recognize that students who have begun senior high school in a school in 1963-64 in the area of change.

★ ★ ★

Thus, those who entered high school in 963-64 in the area of the change will be permitted to choose their high school in 1964-65.

NEW STUDENTS

New students or pupils entering high school next year would have to attend the high school serving their area, officials said.

The proposed changes would give Central an estimated enrollment of 2,275, while Northern would have 1,632.

Pontiac Central now has 2,294 and Northern 1,516.

STUDENTS TRANSFER

These are those pupils living along Dixie Highway outside the city limits in the so-called Silver Circle area.

★ ★ ★

School officials said the Silver Circle area students, who are being transported to Washington Junior High, had been promised they would attend the Baldwin building.

'Clear Sailing for Court Bill'

gan including the Thumb area but not Wayne County.

The Supreme Court gave its advice to the legislature by the unusual method of a letter, the first time in 83 years it has used that method to give an opinion.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL

"Any other plan but the three-district court would be unconstitutional," said Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh.

"Time is of the essence," Kavanagh said. "We don't want the legislature to pass a bill that is clearly unconstitutional."

Kavanagh said he was referring to a bill introduced in the House during the fall special session that would have set up nine single-judge districts.

★ ★ ★

Disagreement between representatives and senators resulted in the passage of no appellate court bill. The Senate had approved a multi-judge plan developed by a study committee which Roberts headed and introduced by Roberts.

CURRENT BILL

Roberts said his current bill is the same.

Roberts, who had considered running for one of the appellate court posts before deciding to seek a seat in the U.S. Congress, had preferred the single-judge district plan.

But he accepted the theory that only the three 3-judge districts would be constitutional.

★ ★ ★

Reports had circulated that the supreme court justices considered multi-judge districts as the only acceptable arrangement under the new constitution. But there had been no confirmation of this until yesterday.

ADD SECTIONS

Red China as a tremendous power conflict rather than an ideological struggle over Communist doctrine as many Western experts ordinarily describe it.

He feels it is important for the West to have maximum contacts with both sides in this struggle, not just with the Soviet side.

● Under terms of the understanding which he has reached with Red China for establishing recognition, de Gaulle believes he may be laying a basis for a two-China policy since the Chinese did not lay down the condition that recognition covered also their claim to Formosa.

● Once relations are established, de Gaulle believes it should be possible to use French influence in Peking to work for Red Chinese acceptance and support of a true policy of neutrality in Southeast Asia—where the East-West conflict now centers in South Viet Nam.

SHARPLY DISPUTE

Other Western leaders, particularly U.S. policy - makers, sharply dispute the reliability of any Red Chinese neutrality pledge since the neutralization of Laos is still in controversy and U.S. officials think any partial neutrality measures would be used by the Reds as a new springboard for conquest.

● De Gaulle believes that recognition of Red China is directly in line with the policy of his government for reestablishing a position of French influence in Southeast Asia.

And he sees the possibility that expanding trade and other ties between France and the Communist Chinese mainland will provide a bargaining position and some leverage for influencing Chinese Communists activities in that part of the world as well as in the Far East generally.

Sales Are Booming

Makers of Antismoking Drugs Capitalize on Report

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK — A weed that grows wild in the Great Smokies is worth a fancy price because so many people are trying to quit smoking.

An alkaloid derived from the weed would bring $70 an ounce —if there were any to be had.

★ ★ ★

It's lobeline sulphate, main ingredient in most stop - smoking drugs. Ordinarily, it sells for about $40 an ounce. The herb it comes from lobelia inflata which reseeds itself annually, won't be gathered again until late summer.

Makers of tablets, lozenges, pastilles and special chewing gums to substitute for the cigarette habit say business is booming.

CAN'T KEEP UP

Two eastern drug chains confirm difficulty in keeping up with retail demand since the government report of Jan. 4 linking heavy cigarette smoking with cancer.

"We are playing up anti - smoking products," said a spokesman for Walgreen Co.

★ ★ ★

Booksellers, also trying to capitalize on the cigarette deterrent impulse, report fairly brisk sales of books which counsel for aspiring quitters.

Trade sources say about a dozen drug deterrents are sold nationally, and others regionally.

"Bantron," an aspirin - sized tablet containing lobeline sulphate and antiacids intended to offset lobeline's tendency to produce nausea, has been marketed nationally for about 10 years.

OTHER BRANDS

Other specifics have names like "Nikoban," promoted through physician channels, "Lobidram Computabs," "Smokurb," "Smokend," "Smoke Less Tablet," "Ban Smoke," "Beat-Nic" and the like.

Max Levine, president of Dram Pharmaceuticals Inc. formed five months ago in Hempstead, L.I., said his company's "Computabs" are selling at a rate of about $20,000 a month, volume having doubled in the last two weeks.

The gum product is "Smokurb," distributed by Hudson Vitamin Products Inc. It combines lobeline and benzocaine, a mild local anesthetic.

Sales of Nikoban will show a fivefold increase in January over December, said Benjamin Schneider, president of the producing company, M.R. Thompson, Inc. He wouldn't give any figures for competitive reasons.

STIMULATION

George R. Cain, president and board chairman of Abbott Laboratories, North Chicago, Ill., a supplier of lobeline sulphate, cautioned against getting too excited over its potential.

"It has been used for some time on the continent for circulatory and respiratory stimulation," Cain said in a telephone interview.

★ ★ ★

"Its action apparently is to make your mouth taste bad, and there is no physiological effect. Presumably, in time the bad taste becomes associated with smoking."

A buyer for United Whelan Corp., large drug chain, and some book publishers and sellers doubted long run business effects.

NOT IN STOCK

Two supermarket chains said they weren't stocking cigarette deterrents—yet, anyway.

The buyer, conceding that sales of antismoking products "shot up over night," gave the boom about two months. After then, he said, "people will just lose the urge to quit smoking."

★ ★ ★

Leonard Schwartz, president of Brentano's, Inc., a book store chain, said antismoking books were sparking interest "but not the kind of excitement you probably imagine."

Will there be a bonanza for the folk who reap lobelia inflata, the two-foot-tall, alfalfa - like growth that spreads across Great Smokey foothills in North Carolina, eastern Tennessee and Eastern Kentucky?

TOO EARLY?

It's too early to be sure, but probably not, says William Bell. He has charge of domestic botanicals for S.B. Penick & Co., of New York City, perhaps the country's largest herb supplier.

★ ★ ★

"What happens depends a lot on just how strong the anti - smoking crusade turns out to be and whether there's plenty of rain during the growing season in the Smokies," Bell said.

Junior Editors Quiz on PERFUME

QUESTION: What are perfumes made from?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: As little Cathy sniffs new perfume, she thinks of it as just one delightful odor. Actually, however, most perfumes are blends of many odor-producing materials, some of the most important of which we show surrounding Cathy like a wreath.

Perfume experts take extracts from these and other sources and carefully mix them together, producing favorite fragrances, or originating new ones.

The fragrance in plants comes from minute sacs which store "essential oils" bearing the fragrance. These oils can be extracted from the flower blossoms themselves.

Often petals are spread over layers of fat on glass plates; the fragrant oils are absorbed by the fats and then can be removed and used in making perfume.

Leaves, stems and bark of certain plants also give fragrant oils, as do certain woods such as sandalwood.

It's hard to believe that coal would give perfume, but chemicals from coal tar, a product of coal, can be used in making inexpensive synthetic perfumes.

"Castor" from the beaver, "civet" from the civet cat, "musk" from the musk deer and "ambergris" from the sperm whale are often used to strengthen other odors and make them more lasting.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Go outside and see how many attractive odors you can locate: There are quite a few, even in winter. Many evergreens, for example, have a most delightful spicy smell.

Postpone Launch of Echo 2 Rocket

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The launching of Echo 2, a giant communications satellite, was postponed after a television camera in the second stage rocket developed technical problems.

It was scheduled to be launched early today from this West Coast missile center.

Romney Raps Union Control of Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Romney, governor of Michigan, thumped the Democrats Thursday night, charging that they are unduly beholden to union leaders.

★ ★ ★

Romney spoke at a training school for young Republicans from all over the country to youths who are mostly Goldwaterites, judging from the hats they wear.

Earlier in the day, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, casing the conservative audience in advance, made a hit by coming down hard on the side of free enterprise.

★ ★ ★

Thursday night, Romney asserted:

"I believe that the Democratic Party today is so hopelessly beholden to union leaders that it may never become a truly representative and united national political party."

Rocky Proposes Program to Assist Small Business

LACONIA, N.H. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York returned to the campaign trail in New Hampshire today and proposed a program to help the nation's 4½ million small business firms and their 30 million employes.

Rockefeller's plan was outlined in a statement prepared for delivery at a luncheon of the Laconia Chamber of Commerce.

The governor, who is seeking the Republican presidential nomination and votes in New Hampshire's preferential primary March 10, said his program is particularly pertinent to this state.

"New Hampshire, more than perhaps any other state in the nation, is a state of small businesses," Rockefeller said.

CREDIT, CAPITAL

"In New Hampshire, the banks have pioneered in pooling their resources to help finance small business," Rockefeller said. He noted that the New Hampshire Business Development Council had loaned $2,455,000 to 90 companies.

★ ★ ★

He called for full and continuing support for the Small Business Administration, then said:

"According to my information, there is not now, under the Democratic administration, a single official of the agency at the top policy-making level who was a small businessman

"Such a situation would, if I had the opportunity, be promptly corrected."

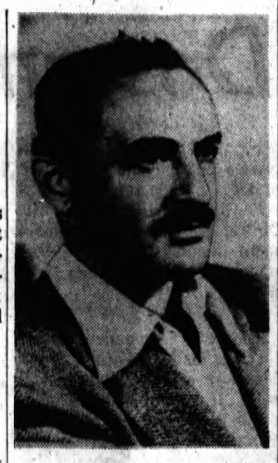

Rockefeller said the most effective help the federal government can give to small business "is the same as for all business —a climate of confidence which encourages expansion and growth."

Among items proposed by Rockefeller to aid small business were reexamination of tax laws from the viewpoint of incentive; encouragement of strong state programs; making available more technological information from federally-sponsored research; effective means to share in federal government procurement; management education courses; simplified federal and state compliance laws; better vocational programs; and wider export opportunities.

Represent Her Many Jobs

Mrs. Esther Peterson's Hats Different

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — President Johnson will shortly announce the appointment of several more women to high places in government.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

Many members of the fairer sex who worked unstintingly for the election of President Kennedy three years ago later complained that he had virtually ignored women in filling policy jobs.

The late Eleanor Roosevelt was in the forefront of those who felt that Mr. Kennedy had a "blind spot" where women executives were concerned.

* * *

Actually JFK named a woman as assistant secretary of labor. A woman heads the women's bureau, supervises the Bureau of Labor Standards, the Bureau of Employes' Compensation and the Compensation Appeals Board.

A woman is executive vice chairman of the Interdepartmental Committee on the Status of Women, and its citizen's advisory council.

President Johnson has gone a big step further by appointing a woman as his special assistant for consumer affairs, and has named a woman to the chairmanship of the President's Committee on Consumer Interests.

The only catch is that all of these impressive - sounding jobs are held by the same woman!

* * *

OLD AND NEW

Mrs. Peterson is currently handling all of her old jobs along with the challenging new assignments, but even a super woman cannot long continue at such a pace.

President Johnson, who has a high regard for the executive abilities of women, is known to be studying a list of suggested replacements.

He plans soon to begin shifting some of Mrs. Peterson's bonnets to other feminine heads.

* * *

Congress will need to be consulted before the position of director of the women's bureau can be separated from that of assistant secretary of labor, but this will shortly be done.

COMBINED

The jobs were combined only two years ago, when Mrs. Peterson's former duties were upgraded to sub-cabinet level.

Under the chairmanship of Eleanor Roosevelt, Mrs. Peterson also served as executive vice chairman of the president's commission on the status of women until its demise last October.

After Mrs. Roosevelt's death the commission continued without a chairman until Mrs. Peterson submitted its final report.

* * *

She continues as vice chairman of the citizen's advisory council, an offshoot of the commission, but President Johnson has now named Margaret Hickey chairman.

HIGHEST RANKING

Mrs. Peterson, the highest ranking woman in the executive branch, is somewhat unique in that she was never an active Democratic party worker.

A graduate of Brigham Young University and Columbia University's teachers college, she has a solid background in the labor movement.

For five years beginning in 1939 she served as assistant director of education for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, and subsequently became its lobbyist on Capitol Hill.

Married to Oliver A. Peterson, a former foreign service officer, she worked closely with Swedish and Belgian trade unions from 1948 to 1957 during his tours of duty there as U.S. labor attache.

Add to her many other hats the fact that Mrs. Peterson is a mother of four, and does all of her own marketing.

TO THOSE LIVING IN THE COMMUNITIES SERVED BY DETROIT EDISON

As you grow and prosper, so do we. The nature of our business makes us very much a part of the 67 cities, 76 villages, 214 townships and 258 other communities that make up Southeastern Michigan.

It is mutually advantageous for us to encourage farmers to follow good agricultural practices, for example. Electrically driven machinery, so vital in combating the cost-price squeeze, is fast turning farms into food factories and there is much to learn in the process. The successful farmer of the future will be the one who best knows how to evaluate and use these "wired hands."

In behalf of business, we're constantly searching for new and improved ways to put versatile electric energy to work. This helps make our recommendations to our industrial and commercial customers more valuable and meaningful.

To aid in bringing new business enterprises into this area is another goal of ours. We help firms in search of new locations to find the best sites. Of greater long-range importance, we help communities make themselves more attractive to industrial newcomers. One way of doing so is by assisting in the research and work which lead to community planning and to the establishment of industrial development committees.

As you grow and prosper, so do we. We seek always to be staunch and enthusiastic boosters of the area and the people we serve.

Sincerely,

Walker L. Cisler

Turnover Active

Stock Market Holding Firm

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was firm in early trading today. Turnover was active.

* * *

The market was moving slightly above the record highs made by the averages in the last couple of days but profit taking was keeping gains limited.

* * *

Steels, rails, motors, airlines and drugs showed a clear but modest gain on balance. Many issues were unchanged.

CIGARETTES MIXED

The completion of Senate committee action on the tax-cut bill, rising auto sales and retail sales generally provided encouragement, offset only partially by talk of possible rises in interest rates.

* * *

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Rayette gained a point. O'Okiep Copper was a point lower. Gainers included Barnes Engineering, Cubic Corp. and Pyle National. Among losers were Paddington "A," Kratter and New Jersey Zinc.
