32 Spill Out Life on State Roads to Lead Nation

From Our News Wire

A blood-stained cloud of death hung over Michigan's highways today after the state led the nation to a New Year's weekend record high for traffic fatalities.

Michigan won its dubious championship by counting 32 dead. Texas was the nearest "competitor." Twenty-seven died there.

The grim national record toll for the three-day holiday came as the count soared far in excess of the preholiday estimate of 320.

Saginaw Crash Kills 7 Persons

Wrecked Cars Grim Sight; 5 Women Were Returning From Dance

SAGINAW (AP)—I have seen cars smashed in train accidents; but they were not wrecked as bad as these two.

Deputy Sheriff Deweyne Bullock today said at the incident on U.S. Highway 10 and tried to figure out how it happened.

Five young women, homeward bound from a dance, were killed in one car. Two men died in the other. All lived in communities in the Saginaw area.

No one survived the crash early Sunday on the two-lane highway 4 1/2 miles northeast of Saginaw.

Miss Carol Purves, 23, a secretary at the Dow Chemical Co. in Midland, was driving one car. She and her girl friends had left a night club near here after a night of dancing.

They thought the dancing would be a good way to clean the holidays. All would have to be back at work today.

LIST OF DEAD

Killed with Miss Purves were Miss Joyce Robins, 23, a kindergarten teacher at Midland; Miss Sue Roberson, 24, a fourth grade teacher at Midland; Miss Gladys Davis, 24, an employee of the Ford Motor Manufacturing Co. in Ithaca; and Miss Janet Lou Anderson, 20, formerly of Alpena, who was a stenographer at Dow Chemical's plant center in Midland.

Killed in the other car were Robert Macklary, 25, the driver, and John Neuenfeldt, 34, both of Freehold. Both were unemployed and relatives 400 not know where they were going at the time of the crash—4 a.m.

Neuenfeldt was the father of three small children and his wife is expecting another child. MacAlary had an artificial right eye.

Sheriff's investigators said they were continuing their probe into the cause of the crash. They said it occurred on a sweeping curve. There had been a snow flurry an hour before and the pavement was wet but not icy.

The car occupied by the men, officers said, apparently swerved at high speed into the opposite lane and was struck broadside by the women's car.

Howard P. Schaffer, 35, of Salsburg, a suburb of Saginaw, said he saw a flash of light and drove off the pavement to avoid hitting into the wreckage. The cars did not catch fire.

"When I came around the curve I saw what looked like for about 100 feet," said Schaffer. "I guess it was dust from the crash still settling."

Miss Davis, Miss Anderson and Neuenfeldt died at the scene. The others died soon afterwards at hospitals.

Before she died at 5:30 a.m., Miss Roberson, in moments of consciousness, was able to identify herself and companions and give their addresses.

Deputy Sheriff James H. LeDouce said, "She couldn't tell me how it happened."

Pontiac May Suffer Shivers for Five Days

20 Below Zero in UP, Area Forecast Is 5-10 Degrees Under Par

Winter is due to catch up with the Pontiac area tonight.

The season's first real cold spell—settling down on the whole state—was expected to send the mercury diving toward the zero mark for several days.

A drop to below 0 degrees—perhaps as low as 4 degrees—was anticipated here tonight by the weather bureau.

Although sub-zero weather is not in sight for Pontiac, the temperature will probably hover 5-10 degrees below normal for at least the next five days, the weather bureau said.

The normal here at this time of year is considered to be 25-35 during the day and 8-18 at night.

No big snowdrifts is expected, but snow flurries are.

Today's flurries probably will continue tonight and tomorrow, when the mercury should rise again to 20-25 degrees.

The cold wave dug into northern Michigan in the early hours this morning.

It was 39 below at Ironwood and 7 below near Marquette. Snow at 10-15 below are expected generally tonight in the interior of the Upper Peninsula.

Temperatures were expected to remain below freezing all day all over the state.

Snow flurries were predicted generally, with heavy falls near Lake Michigan.

Houghton reported 11 inches of snow over the weekend, leaving a total of 55 inches for the season.

In downtown Pontiac, the temperature at 1 p.m. was 23. Southwesterly winds averaged 10 miles an hour. Cloudy skies were expected tonight and tomorrow and winds tomorrow were expected from the south and southwest at 10 to 15 miles an hour.

Peace Spreading Over Mills as Steel Accord Is Reached

WASHINGTON (AP)—The steel industry and its workers got together finally today on terms for a new labor contract—reportedly giving the workers 39 cents an hour increase in pay and benefits.

The agreement came out of a 22-hour negotiating session and was on terms recommended by Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

The end of the eight-month dispute lifted the threat of a new strike later this month, relieved Congress of probable necessity to enact some emergency antistrike legislation and removed one big cloud—the threat of a renewed walkout—from the economic outlook for 1960.

Among the steelworkers and in the financial community there was jubilation.

Stocks generally were higher on the New York Stock Exchange.

Mitchell announced the agreement, but withheld the precise terms pending ratification by larger bodies on each side of the decisions made by negotiators.

The union's Wage Policy Committee was called to meet Tuesday to consider the agreement.

Mitchell in effect handed the palm to Nixon for the settlement.

"Without the vice president we would not have had a settlement," he said.

For Nixon, it appeared at first glance to be a major political coup.

It could, too, be an important milestone in Mitchell's career. There has been talk of the labor secretary as a possible GOP vice presidential nominee.

Yet there are still many unanswered questions—for one thing, what will be the overall impact on the administration's efforts to combat inflation?

R. Conrad Cooper, a U.S. Steel official and chief negotiator for the industry, was asked by reporters

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel price increases will be the inevitable result of the wage settlement in the steel industry, Steel Magazine said today.

The metal working weekly estimates that the new wage settlement will increase steel-making costs by about 10 dollars a ton over the terms of the new contract. The industry's earnings averaged 30.35 a ton in 1959, the last year for which figures are available, the magazine said.

whether the additional costs to the industry from the settlement would result in a steel price rise.

"I do not care to discuss that subject," he replied.

PRAISE NIXON

But Cooper joined with David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, in praising the efforts of President Eisenhower, Nixon and Mitchell to settle the prolonged dispute.

Mitchell had said he and Nixon undertook mediation at the request of the President.

On the matter of possible inflationary effects, the steel industry does not stand alone.

The wage scales in this basic industry have long been benchmarks for others.

Adjustments keyed to steel may come for thousands of workers in addition to the 500,000 in steel.

$3.11 AN HOUR

The steelworkers were averaging $3.11 an hour under their old contract.

Although terms of the settlement agreement were officially withheld for the time being, a reliable source in Pittsburgh told The Associated Press that it provides an estimated 20-cent package increase over the last 30 months.

The informant did not break this down between wages and other benefits, such as pensions and insurance.

As to the matter of work rules, the informant said it was agreed that this will be submitted to a Union-management committee for study. The committee's recommendations will not be binding.

This informant also said an

Trivia Over Steel Peace

They All Have Their Say

DETROIT (AP)—Today's steel settlement cleared the way for what may be record first-quarter production by the auto industry.

Schedules call for 2,240,000 cars to be built between now and the end of March. The record is 2,120,000 in the first quarter of 1958, the auto industry's record since war.

From 80 to 35 per cent of first-quarter output will go to rebuilding dealer inventories which were estimated at about 500,000 cars at the start of 1959.

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today welcomed news of the steel strike settlement.

"Michigan is particularly concerned as being one of the prime metal users in the entire nation," he said.

"This, we confidently hope, means increased operations, employment and prosperity for the state."

He said he had a "special feeling of thankfulness" for the workers who will profit in the pay envelope and through improved working conditions.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, declared: "The international wage-policy committee of our union will meet at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Sheraton Hotel at 29th Street and Broadway."

"You can be sure that I have (McDonald) got it. It will be good for us."

DETROIT (UPI)—Thomas Shane, district director of the United Steelworkers District 73, said today he would do everything possible to complete contracts with Detroit area steel companies in light of the new national settlement.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Election over settlement of the steel strike renewed the temporary White House today, although President Eisenhower himself was officially silent.

The President, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, said, "has stayed in very close touch with the development."

There was no immediate statement on the settlement, for several possible reasons. For one thing, there remained the formalities of ratification by both sides.

And perhaps more important, there was no immediate word on whether the agreement would result in a boost in the price of steel.

The strike ran late from the opening. For a long period it was behind five minutes. Some steel shares rose late in opening as stock speculators attempted to match buying and selling orders.

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A hearing scheduled on a restrictive cost-of-living increase for steel workers was continued indefinitely today by Federal Judge Herbert P. Borg.

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Steelworkers expressed profound relief today on learning that negotiations in Washington had resolved the marathon steel contract dispute.

"There's no question about it . . . we all wanted to see it cleared," said Robert Walsh, who works at the south side plant of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. here.

President Going to Buenos Aires

Part of 4-Nation Tour of Latin America in Late February

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Fresh from his marathon swing through Europe, Asia and Africa, President Eisenhower is expected to visit Buenos Aires late next month as part of a four-nation Latin American tour.

Foreign Minister Diogenes Taborda announced Sunday night that Eisenhower will arrive in the Argentine capital Feb. 24 or 25 for a two-day visit.

He made the disclosure after conferring with Argentine President Arturo Frondizi.

There was no confirmation of the visit from Washington, but reports have been circulating in the U.S. capital that Eisenhower plans to visit Uruguay, Argentina and Chile after visiting Brazil's new capital, Brasilia, in late February.

Earlier reports from Rio de Janeiro said Eisenhower was expected to fly from the United States to Brasilia, in east central Brazil, then fly to Rio for a brief visit.

According to the Rio reports, the President would then sail aboard a U.S. cruiser to Montevideo, Uruguay and Buenos Aires, then fly to Santiago, the Chilean capital.

Relations between the United States and Brazil worsened last year when President Juscelino Kubitschek's government refused to put into effect economic reforms advocated by the International Monetary Fund as a condition for the granting of credits and eventual U.S. loans to Brazil.

At Augusta, President Eisenhower will end a nine-day working vacation Tuesday with his budget and State of the Union message in just about the form in which they will go to Congress.

Says Red China to Have A-Bomb Within 2 Years

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A weekly news magazine has predicted that Red China will have an atomic bomb within two years.

In a copyrighted article, U.S. News & World Report quoted intelligence sources in Hong Kong as saying that the Chinese Communists would explode their first test device in late 1961 or early 1962.

It said Red China is six years ahead of its original nuclear schedule.

According to the magazine, Russia has turned over thousands of materials, test reactors and other equipment to the Peiping government.

It said Russian physicists helped train China's nuclear experts and worked with them.

Welcomes Humphrey and Kennedy

Williams Mum on 1960

LANSING (AP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams still is keeping mum on his political intentions but he says he welcomes the entry of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. John F. Kennedy into the race for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Asked for comment last night on Kennedy's candidacy, Williams said:

"The announcement of Hubert H. Humphrey and John Kennedy assures the public that issues important to the election will be intelligently discussed in the next several months."

Kennedy of Massachusetts announced his candidacy Saturday.

Humphrey of Minnesota previously had made his announcement. Williams has yet to announce whether he will seek a seventh term as governor or make a bid for the presidential nomination.

Michigan's Democratic Party leaders, commenting Saturday on Kennedy's announcement as a presidential candidate, said Williams still is their favorite candidate.

National committeeman Thomas H. E. Quinby said, "I'm a 101 per cent Williams man — but I'll support whomever the party nominates."

State Chairman Neil Staehlin declared, "Any of them — Williams, Kennedy or Humphrey could beat Vice President Nixon."

Hawaii Wants Its Share of Aid

Senators Will Seek Measures to Reflect Islands' New Status

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Hawaii's two senators plan to ask the coming session of Congress to confer on the exotic isles some of the monetary blessings that go with statehood.

Sens. Hiram L. Fong (R) and Owen E. Long (D) want their fellow lawmakers to give the 50th state, which joined the union last year, its fair share of federal aid programs.

In addition, the Hawaiian senators will ask Congress to deal with certain problems peculiar to the islands, separated from the mainland by 1,900 miles of Pacific Ocean.

For instance, Hawaii is the only state in the nation that grows coffee. So Congress may be asked to enact farm price supports for coffee.

The money matters, Fong and Long point out that Hawaii paid the federal gasoline tax while a territory. But, unlike other states, it never has been allocated any interstate highway construction, financed with 50 per cent federal funds.

They figure Hawaii has lost 48 million dollars in federal aid payments since 1952 in the road program alone. To remedy this, Fong and Long jointly sponsored a bill last year asking for 96 million dollars in interstate highway funds during the next nine years.

But the senators give top priority to passage of the Hawaii omnibus bill. It is a catch-all measure designed to amend existing federal statutes to reflect the islands' new statehood status.

They also expect to push hard for establishment of an East-West cultural center in Honolulu, an ambitious student exchange project already authorized by Congress to foster better understanding with Asian peoples.

Construction and operating costs for the proposed center over the first two years are estimated at $22,000,000 dollars.

A government survey found that 23 per cent of all personal consumption expenditures by Americans goes for food, more than any other single item. The smallest percentage — 1 1/2 per cent — is for death expenses.

Grad Gives $5 Million to Columbia

NEW YORK (AP)—A Columbia University graduate who worked his way through college has presented his alma mater five million dollars.

The donation, made Sunday by William Black, founder and president of Chock Full o' Nuts Corp., is the largest single gift ever received by the university from a living person.

Black, who was graduated from Columbia in 1928, said he made the gift now because, "I want to see with my own eyes the results of my good intentions."

Columbia President Grayson Kirk said the money will be used to help build an 18-story medical research building at its College of Physicians and Surgeons in Upper Manhattan. It will be named for Black and his wife, singer Jean Martin.

Ironing Prince Must Obey Law to Hunt Here

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Prince Abolreza Pahlevi of Iran has asked the Idaho Fish and Game Commission for permission to hunt bighorn sheep next fall.

He can hunt during the regular season, says the commission, but he can't bag five bighorns at various ages, as the state's law requires. He wanted them for a museum in Iran.

Director Ross Leonard said no exceptions could be made to regular rules.

West African Colony Gains Independence

Violence blamed on the Communist line People's Union Party marked the beginning of the four day independence celebration of the new African nation of Kamerun, formerly known as Cameroon. Ceremonies at Yaounde, the capital, were attended by U.N. Sec. Gen. HAMMARSKJOLD, U.S. Ambassador HENRY CABOT LOOGS and many other foreign officials.

This former German colony was placed under French mandate by order of the League of Nations after World War I and in 1946 became a United Nations Trust territory. Larger than California, Kamerun has a population of 3.2 million, 13,000 of whom are Europeans, mostly French. They occupy only 15 per cent of the 160 million acres of fertile land. However, these Europeans have invested heavily in industry, commerce and plantations.

The new republic will probably remain in the franc zone and co-operate economically and culturally with France. The fact is that this West African territory has depended on French assistance for over 40 years. Chronic deficits in its budget have been costing France a yearly average of $10 million in subsidies. In addition, during the past 15 years France has invested more than $200 million in development aid in the territory.

Despite 90 per cent illiteracy the people generally are politically moderate. Premier AMINOHO's re-election is expected to follow the granting of independence. The leader of the outlawed People's Union, Dr. FELIX-ROLAND MOUNIKU, is living in exile under the protection of Guinea's President TOURE.

The number of French civil servants in the government has been reduced from 1,800 to 1,000 and they are being replaced by French educated natives. By 1965 it is expected that the civil service will be entirely Negro.

France is following an enlightened policy not only in surrendering the mandate promptly, but in helping this African protectorate to stand on its own feet politically and economically.

Oil Bringing Changes to Sahara's Dwellers

Western companies operating in foreign fields have more than the usual labor problems and entirely different ones.

For example, the French, says the London Observer, are having trouble operating their oil pumping stations and pipelines in the Sahara because of the caste system.

Low caste Arabs are hired as laborers and some soon become semiskilled workers. The high-born Berbers won't do manual work but they need the pay such work brings in.

They will accept jobs as bulldozer and truck operators because they conceive that to be giving orders to machines. This is akin to giving orders to men. In that way they maintain their prestige and dignity. However, they have their own feather-bedding ideas. Low caste helpers have to be furnished to turn the cranks and push the starters. That is manual labor.

Real problems lie ahead. The manual workers learn skills and many more up to jobs paying more than the Berber gets for giving orders to machines. The low caste then can live better than the noble Berber, an intolerable situation.

The Berber may soon decide that he is not too aristocratic to take a well-paying job even if it means manual work. This would bring social as well as economic changes to the Sahara.

Midwest School Plan Strengthens Education

Ten Midwestern colleges in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa, with a total enrollment of 10,000, have banded together to share resources and responsibilities.

The aim of the Associated Colleges of the Midwest is to develop a co-operative program. For example, these independent schools can share outstanding faculty talent, have uniform admission policies and joint operation of summer sessions on selected campuses.

The Ford Foundation thinks so well of the venture that it has granted the association $525,000. Members of the group include Monmouth and Knox Colleges in Illinois; Beloit, Lawrence and Ripon in Wisconsin; Carleton and St. Olaf in Minnesota; Coe, Grinnell and Cornell in Iowa.

Small colleges have an important role in higher education but are handicapped by need for expansion and by competition with larger schools for faculty talent and outstanding students. Collectively these independent colleges will be strengthened educationally and financially and be able to carry a larger share of the increasing student load.

The Man About Town Opens New Year

With a Continuation of Queer Quirks in Weather

Braggart: A person who puts his feet in his mouth.

Not for several winters has the ice on the many lakes in the Pontiac area been unsafe into the opening of a new year. But such now is the case.

While portions of some of the lakes may be skinned over, none are safe. It will require a continuation of colder weather for a longer period than we yet have experienced to make them so. The frequent thaws that have ensued serve only to either wipe out any ice that has been formed or to honeycomb it, and make it as treacherous as open water. The only safe system is to keep off ALL of our lakes until they are completely covered with a few inches of good ice. Open water near the middle of a lake always is tempting for somebody to venture too close.

David Lawrence Says:

The Best Man Doesn't Always Win

WASHINGTON — The office of President of the United States is perhaps more important today than it ever has been in the history of the country.

Yet the process of selecting a new president is as inefficient as it has always been, and the American people by the present system could be confronted in some campaigns in the future, as in the past, with a choice between two mediocrities — men without any experience in federal government affairs at all.

This year is somewhat of an exception. At least five of the six able men being prominently mentioned for the presidential nomination in both parties have been identified with the legislative operations of Congress.

The Republicans have Vice President Nixon, who has served as a representative for two terms and as a senator, while the Democrats have Sen. Kennedy, Humphrey, Johnson and Symington. Only Adlai Stevenson, a former governor of Illinois, has not served in Congress.

Dealing with Congress is the most important of the domestic responsibilities confronting a president, yet it is to be noted that in the last 60 years nobody has been nominated for the presidency who was the leader of either party in the House or the Senate.

This time Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the Democratic leader of the Senate, is the only man being mentioned for the presidential nomination on the Democratic side who has had leadership experience.

Vice President Nixon has been acting as Capitol Hill virtually as leader of his party and liaison with the White House and, if elected, would benefit by his knowledge of the operations of Congress and of the policies of the executive branch gained as an unofficial member of the President's Cabinet for eight years.

PREFERS GOVERNORS
Somewhat, in the past, preference has been given to governors over members of Congress in choosing presidential nominees. And yet members of Congress, particularly those who have had leadership experience, know far more about the federal government than do the men who have served only in state or local offices.

The lack of federal experience is a handicap to any presidential elect, so matter how able he is in other ways. The difficulty with governors is that, if elected to the presidency, they must spend the first two or three years learning the federal government's operations and especially how to deal with members of Congress.

What kind of man should be president of the United States, and what experience should he have had to qualify for the highest office in the land?

Presumably a would-be candidate ought to know something about federal administration. But it rarely happens that a president comes to the White House with any executive training in the cabinet or in the making of executive policies.

PARTY LEADER

Presumably also a candidate should be able to deal with Congress. The Constitution gives the president a part in making laws and, if he has the benefit of a party majority in Congress, he becomes the leader of his party in both houses.

What test shall be applied to the various candidates? Shall they be considered qualified because they have taken trips abroad and visited with foreign dignitaries? Have they made any outstanding speeches that give an indication of how they would deal with foreign policy?

What training have they had in the many intricate matters of legislative policy and particularly in leading their own party on national or international

The delegates who participate in the national convention don't weigh these matters carefully. They are guided by what they think is the vote-getting capacity of a prominent man. He may be a crooner or a television idol or he may be a man with a contagious smile and handshake.

Dr. William Brady Says:

A Clean Tooth Certainly Can Decay — Often Does

The other day I said that the dentists of days gone by goaded on prophylaxis (prevention of caries) under the spell of the huckster's slogan: "A clean tooth never decays."

Some of them have clung to this childish slogan ever since. They have even taught the technical skill of our aged to introduce the silly notion into public school instruction.

Health or hygiene, DR. BRADY — not merely through arbitrary or didactic lessons but through ridiculous "toothbrushing" exercises.

Aside from the very obvious fact that the most dedicated toothbrushers in the world (Americans and English) have more dental caries than any other people, it seems to me in the light of our newer knowledge of nutrition, that the dentists have goofed again, by not recognizing that the teeth require an adequate daily ration of calcium just as the bones, nerves, heart and other muscles do.

Anyone who is familiar with my teachings knows that I not only advise rather than demand that Americans dentists — the ones in the world, but at every opportunity, I endeavor to impress upon readers the importance of dental treatment as a vital factor in preserving health. I appraise the value of every tooth, your own or your dentist's, at not less than $2.00.

And yet some people, even people of means, are so ignorant or ill advised that they have some or many teeth extracted, especially back teeth, lost of which they think will be as good as their teeth; and they would rather spend hundreds of dollars for good reparative dentistry.

The truth is, and dentists not more than 50 years behind in the times know it, that only two things will save your teeth: (1) diet that maintains good nutrition and (2) adequate reparative or restorative treatment by the dentist whenever it is necessary.

I USE A TOOTHPICKER

Picking my teeth with a flat white birch toothpick (which removes particles of fiber, gristle, bone, seed, etc. better than brushing would), I often reflect upon the fact that the hundred million Americans who regularly go through the motions of brushing their teeth in the childlike belief that the monkeyshine will prevent decay.

At the same time I wonder why so many dentists are as attachable about care of the teeth.

Voice of the People

'Downtown Business Ills Hinge on Transportation'

I've never heard anyone say so, but downtown business troubles began when public transportation began to break down. The parking lots have been a big help to shoppers, but they aren't the answer.

Many transit officials say people won't ride the buses, but I travel a good deal and was amazed to see the absence of parking spaces in a large downtown city this fall. Tremendous business was done downtown. Many people who had moved their cars from other cities had always been forced to drive their cars everywhere, but here they could ride public vehicles wherever they wanted to go, when they wanted to go, and were glad to leave their cars home.

But people will not depend on an inadequate system operating on a short term franchise. Neither will they take a chance on strike forcing all buses off the street and endangering their livelihood. Public transportation certainly needs a hard look and a fresh approach. Otherwise the really big stores and office buildings are on their way out.

'They May as Well Have Been Hiding'

Recently I got a ticket for failing to stop at a stop sign. Rather than driving straight through, I paid it. The officers who stopped me said they weren't hiding, but I saw no lights or car, and they said they had just pulled on a side road for a cigarette. Maybe they weren't hiding, but in their location, they couldn't have been seen in bright moonlight unless you looked for them.

Knows Where to Look

'Catholic Couldn't Do Any Worse'

Where did LeRoy Dean get the idea Catholics are holding key positions in Government, industry and education?

If that were true, Khrushchev would never have been invited to this country to sell people on the myth of co-existence. There would long ago have been a just settlement of industry with labor and the church wouldn't be halting so much against secularism in education and trying to protect her religious schools.

What could a Catholic Denver do worse than the last three non-Catholic? Roosevelt took us into a devastating war and sold out China and Eastern Europe to Stalin at Yalta. Truman continued the sell-out by firing MacArthur when he was on the verge of victory and Eisenhower sold out the Soviet menace by aiding Khrushchev in selling us the co-existence myth.

Floesty Disguised

John L. Lewis has proved one of the greatest labor leaders and will go down in history as a great man. He's very much responsible for the time and a half for our overtime and double time for Sunday, our vacation and holiday pay. He's one of the early pioneers in labor and he was one leader that didn't take no for an answer. I just hope our younger labor leaders can do as well. Since he has led the way, I think they will.

They say it takes all kinds, but the Waterford Mrs. who suggests religion be taxed is one kind I didn't think we had, especially here in the U.S.A. I was actually shocked when I read this drivel.

Evidently she doesn't benefit from anything that doesn't show a profit. I wonder how she'd feel if she got in notice saying you've backed in your religion taxes; pay up or stop going to church. If it ever comes to this, may God help us.

CASE D-43: Mabel G., aged 39, has a universal problem.

Dr. Crane, you can see I am quite chubby. "Why does a person's tummy carve more food when we are surrounded by people?" I really want to lose weight.

No the "full" hen ain't far more than her stomach carved, just because of the psychological stimulation of "company at the table."

But that wasn't all, for the hen's appetite seemed to vary with the size of the pile of wheat.

If he placed a single hungry hen in front of a 100-grain pile of wheat, she'd stop after eating 50 grains, as indicated below.

But if he placed the hungry hen in front of a much larger pile of wheat, say 200 or 300 grains — that hen would not stop at the usual 50-grain mark but would eat as much as 100 grains.

If a hungry hen will thus pace herself, so to speak, according to the amount of grain in front of her, you can see why it is wise for dieters to have their food served on their plate.

If a dieter sits down before a family-style meal, with heaping platters of fried chicken and other deliciousities on the cottage table, he is unconsciously prodded to consume far more calories.

10 LBS. IN 10 DAYS

If you are obese, then slenderize, for your seductive allurements as you regulate your grain intake.

But dieters need a fast initial weight loss to spur them on and be a tonic to their morale, so your low-kilo diet for the first 10 days.

Limit your TOTAL food intake to one full glass (8 oz.) the first day. Then move up to 2 glasses the second, and 3 on the third. Remain at that release level through the 10th day.

Meanwhile, women should limit their food intake to 800 calories per day while men may stick to 1,200. Include at least 400 calories of protein — cottage cheese, meat, beans, etc. daily for your body has no storage of protein.

Take a multiple vitamin capsule daily and use an aspirin tablet that first day if you develop a dull headache, as is often the case.

It is also helpful to serve your meal in the living room, away from the table and kitchen.

At 84, Adenauer Has Tight Grip on Life

BONN, Germany (UP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, a physical miracle to his friends, his enemies and his doctors, observes his 84th birthday tomorrow without the slightest thought of relaxing his grip on the political reins of his country.

Looking a full 20 years younger than his age, West Germany's "grand old man" still maintains a strict personal, day-by-day control of the German political scene, from summit preparations down to the minute details of housing construction schemes or war widow pension plans.

The only issue he ignores is the one that occupies the minds of all other German politicians: His succession.

Adenauer is the oldest European chief executive since France's ill-fated Philippe Petain and England's William Pitt. He is the German government chief with the longest tenure of office since Otto von Bismarck. His life spans the time from Thomas Edison's invention of the light bulb to the atomic and space age.

A few weeks ago he estimated jokingly that he could easily be the grandfather of France's Premier Michel Debre.

CHANCELLOR ADENAUER

Yet, while heart attacks are killing politicians in their 50s by the dozen, Adenauer still walks up 57 steps to his Rhine riverside home each day, makes a point of not leaving bed later than 7 a.m., reads without glasses and travels more than the circumference of the globe each year.

The outstanding event of his 84th year was his dramatic decision to cling to the political helm of Germany when his followers almost unanimously thought it time to kick him upstairs into the figurehead job of federal president.

Adenauer is a man with an innate instinct for the possibilities and limitations of political power. His decision to stay on touched off a political storm. For some days his own Christian Democratic Union just waited for some deputy to sign the first name to a vote of nonconfidence, to sweep him out of office.

Adenauer, who figures his political stakes shrewdly, reckoned that no one would sign that first name. No one did.

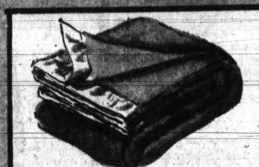

Today, Adenauer's position in the government and in the party is stronger than ever before, while his lieutenant of 12 years, Ludwig Erhard, has lost a good deal of his political glory. It is up to Adenauer, and to no one else, to call the time and the conditions of his retirement, if any.

Adenauer will celebrate his birthday with all the pomp and fanfare that has established itself as a tradition in his 10 years in office. There will be a five-hour birthday reception, an army band serenade, a stream of lavish presents and a patriarchal review of his family of seven children and 13 grandchildren.

A FAMILY HOBBY — When it comes to interest in model trains, there's no age limit in the family of Dr. Charles L. Bowers of Bloomfield Township. The Pontiac physician collects antique iron floor trains. His three sons center most of their interest around less rare electric trains. Dr. Bowers is shown here with his newest train, an 1880 Hudson, while sons Tom, 8, wearing engineer's cap, and Pete, 6, man the controls of a large electric train layout built by their older brother.

Trigger Electric Finch Case Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The state launches its case today against wealthy surgeon Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 41, and his pretty paramour, Carole Tregoff, 32. They are charged with murder and with conspiring to murder the tennis-playing physician's 33-year-old wife, Barbara, last July 18.

Both have pleaded innocent. A jury of six men and six women was impaneled last week. The prosecution says it may take a month to present its case.

Finch and Miss Tregoff, sometime model and his former receptionist, are accused of killing Mrs. Finch in a bitter quarrel over her divorce.

Justice Dept. to Crack Down on Tax Chiselers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department plans to get tougher with income tax evaders and others who try to chisel the federal government. Asst. Atty. Gen. Charles K. Rice, chief of the department's tax division, said last night in a year-end report to Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers that income tax cheats are costing the Treasury large amounts in revenue.

Rice said his division was setting up a program for cracking down on persons who claim false dependency exemptions and in a "substantial number" of cases involving "willful omission" of dividend and interest income from tax returns. Mount Baker in Washington rises to an altitude of 10,844 feet.

Jewish Conciliation Board Unique Judicial Tradition

By TOM MENEMAN
NEW YORK (AP) — The couple stood before the judges uneasily. They were in their 60s; married a couple of years. He was plump and bitter. She seethed with indignation.

The problem was money. Each had brought a small sum into the marriage. Yet neither would trust the other with it. Each thought the other should pay for his or her own living and medical expenses.

It was clearly a case for the Jewish Conciliation Board of America, one of the few religious organizations in the country whose judicial decisions are binding by law under New York State courts.

The conciliation board sits weekly in an upstairs room of the Jewish Educational Alliance on New York's Lower East Side. The judges are a rabbi, a lawyer and a businessman. There are no lawyers to speak for plaintiff or defendant. There are no witnesses called.

In 40 years, the board has meted out justice with crisp dispatch in more than 10,000 civil cases involving Jews, many of which could have wound up on the already clogged state docket.

The key word is justice.

"In our view, justice must be more than just the settlement of a dispute by the application of the law," says Rabbi Israel Goldstein, the president of the board.

Hence no lawyers to bring up technical points. There is a lot of impromptu heart-to-heart talk between judge, defendant and plaintiff — who sometimes turns out to be co-defendant, too.

The conciliation board was founded during the days of large Jewish immigrations from Europe. Many of the immigrants spoke no English and were confused by even the simplest problems arising in a new land.

"Many of our people express a good deal of the board's hearings are still conducted in Yiddish themselves better in Yiddish," explains Mrs. Ruth Richman, who succeeded her late husband as executive secretary of the board.

Some cases are referred to the board by regular courts or other public agencies. But most start with a complaint registered at the board's headquarters on lower Broadway.

The first step in bringing a case to hearing is the signing of a submission — a legal agreement to abide by the judge's decision — by both the plaintiff and defendant.

Choosing Jury for Lynch Trial

Justice Dept. Wades Into Parker Case When State Fails to Act

BILOXI, Miss. (UPI) — The Justice Department — angered by lack of state action against the lynchers of Mack Charles Parker, began efforts today to bring the accused members of the mob to trial.

A 23-man federal grand jury was to be picked to probe the murder of Parker, a 23-year-old Negro truck driver who was accused of raping a white woman.

A mob dragged Parker from the Pearl River County Jail in Poplarville, Miss., last April 22 and lynched him. His badly beaten, bullet-riddled body was found in the Pearl River a month later.

The grand jury was to be selected from a panel of 44 south Mississippi men, possibly including several negroes.

The jury is expected to spend at least two weeks hearing testimony from more than 40 witnesses subpoenaed by the Justice Department. Testimony is scheduled by every person mentioned in a 376-page FBI report on the case.

The group includes several white men fingered by the FBI as members of the lynch mob, several Pearl River County officials, persons who were confined at the jail with Parker, and persons who were seen in Poplarville the night of the lynching.

Among those subpoenaed were J. P. Walker, a Poplarville garage owner who said he was drinking coffee in Poplarville the night of the crime, and the Rev. James Lee, a rural preacher who refused to talk to the FBI.

Also subpoenaed were former Pearl River County Prosecutor William Stewart, former Sheriff Osborne Moody and former Justice Jewett Atford.

Yves Prevost Likely to Be Quebec Leader

MONTREAL (AP) — Political sources today said Provincial Secretary Yves Prevost, 51, is the likeliest candidate to succeed Paul Sauve as premier of Quebec province.

Sauve's sudden death from coronary thrombosis Saturday shocked and grieved the province. He was only 52 and had been premier and head of the dominant Union Nationale party only since September, when he succeeded the late Maurice Duplessis.

Thousands filed past Sauve's bier at his home Sunday in St. Dursache, 20 miles northwest of Montreal. Funeral services will be held Tuesday.

Union Nationale leaders will meet Thursday to choose Sauve's successor. Party informants said the choice had narrowed to Prevost and Attorney General Antoine from Quebec City.

Widow of Sloop Executive Critically Burned in Bed

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Teel, widow of a wealthy drug executive who was killed during a lovers' quarrel, was in critical condition in Methodist Hospital from burns suffered in a fire at her suburban home.

Authorities said Mrs. Teel apparently fell asleep yesterday while smoking in bed. She was found by her son, Tom, 16, overcome by smoke and lying in bed. Hospital attendants said the slight, gray-haired woman was burned over more than half her body and did not have "much chance" to live.

Mrs. Teel's husband, Forrest, was shot to death July 31, 1958, by Mrs. Connie Nicholas, 45, his divorced lover.

Social Security Completes 20 Years of Benefit Paying

WASHINGTON — Checks aggregating about $60 million dollars were mailed to 134 million Americans Saturday to round out 20 years of monthly social security benefits.

A year ago 12½ million men, women and children were being paid $97 million dollars a month.

Social Security Commissioner William L. Mitchell noted in a statement that the first monthly benefits under the federal social insurance system were paid for January 1940, just 20 years ago. Since that time, 11 million beneficiaries have received $24,000,000,000. The totals include benefits to disabled workers and their dependents, provided by 1956 amendments.

Retired workers and dependents have received $38,100,000,000; survivors of covered workers who have died have received $11,600,000,000; and about 750 million has gone to disabled workers aged 50 to 65 and their dependents.

PROTECTION BULWARK
In addition to these monthly benefit totals lump-sum payments to survivors have amounted to $1,200,000,000.

Mitchell said that although the public may think of social security as something mainly for the older population, the survivors' provisions are a bulwark of protection for American families.

He said 1,300,000 of the estimated two million fatherless children in the nation are now receiving monthly survivors benefits.

Social security benefits are financed by a special payroll tax. The tax went up Friday.

The maximum increase of covered workers is $24 a year. There is a similar increase of employers for each worker. For self-employed the maximum increase is $24 a year.

The new rate is 3 per cent on both workers and employers on the first $4,800 of earnings, and 4½ per cent for self-employed up to the same annual earnings.

WAIT UNTIL 1961

The tax on the self-employed will not be due until early 1961. But for employers and employees it becomes effective with the first pay checks received in January or thereafter.

Conspiracy Trial Opens in Cuba

Maj. Morgan, Ex-U.S. Soldier, a Key Witness Against 190 Defendants

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's military tribunals today begin the trial of 190 Cubans accused of taking part in a mass conspiracy against the bearded prime minister.

William Morgan of Toledo, Ohio, a major in Cuba's revolutionary forces, will be a key witness against the defendants. They are charged with complicity in a plot which Castro claims originated in the Dominican Republic last August with the backing of his old foe, Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo.

FORMER U.S. SOLDIER

Morgan, a former U.S. soldier, says he posed as a plotter to lure a plane laden with arms and invaders into a trap at Trinidad, on Cuba's south central coast. Castro himself stood beneath a mango tree and watched the capture after a brief gun fight in which two of his men and two from the plane were killed.

The prosecutor is expected to ask the death penalty for occupants of the plane, who reportedly included Luis Pozo, son of a former Havana mayor, and Roberto Martin Perez, son of a police officer in Fulgencio Batista's regime.

Imagines Tale; Held in Slaying

Man, 77, Charged in Murder of Priest Over Jealousy of Woman

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A man charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of a Roman Catholic priest apparently thought the priest was rejecting him in favor of the priest, police say.

Alfonso Catalano, 77, a retired laborer, had received communion from the Rev. Vincent Belle, 38, an assistant pastor at Holy Cross church, a few hours before the priest was found slain New Year's Day in his automobile in the parish garage.

A middle-aged mother of eight had refused Catalano's attention, police said, and Catalano had accused the priest of improper conduct with the woman.

Police said they were told by the woman's husband several weeks ago that Catalano had informed the husband his wife had been intimate with Father Belle and another priest and three doctors in a hospital clinic.

Police Commissioner Frank F. Loretta called it "a figment of his imagination."

"This strengthens positively that matter," he said.

Police said a threatening note pinned on sheet metal, which referred to "the long man," was found two weeks ago on a church vestibule door. It was written in Italian.

The note accused "the long man" of improper conduct, police said. Father Belle was 5-foot, 5 inches.

A strip of the same type metal was found in Catalano's apartment.

Detectives also found a .32 caliber cartridge in the apartment. Father Belle was shot three times with a .32 caliber revolver. The murder weapon has not been found.

Stop Being So Nice, ADA Urges Dems

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A liberal political action group warns that Democrats must cease "policies of appeasement" toward the Eisenhower administration or find themselves "fatally handicapped" in the November election.

Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) accused leaders of the Democratic majority in Congress of making compromises during the last session which "produced neither good legislation nor clear issues."

Samuel H. Beer, ADA national chairman, said the results "benefited only the conservative cause generally and (Vice President) Richard Nixon specifically."

MANILA (AP)—Hope was abandoned today for 10 fishermen who disappeared in a typhoon-churned Philippine waters New Year's Eve.

Word of the sea disaster off the southern coast of Luzon Island was brought Sunday by the lone survivor of an ill-fated fishing vessel which had run into the midst of Typhoon Harriet and her 120-mile winds.

This raised the death toll from Harriet to 15. Red Cross officials estimated the storm left 210,000 persons in southern Luzon destitute.

By United Press International
John Fitzgerald Kennedy, who announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for president Saturday, is the Harvard-bred star of a family tree that has its roots in the rough and tumble of Boston politics.

The Democratic Massachusetts senator, for all his Ivy League manner, had as grandfathers John F. (Honey Fitz) Fitzgerald, the popular Irish mayor of Boston, and Pat J. Kennedy, a former state senator from the Irish wards of the city.

Kennedy campaigns with the same intensity as his grandfathers but with a markedly different approach.

"Booth-looking at 42 the senator is an almost identical speaker who doesn't hesitate to quote from the classics in discussing the problems of today.

This intellectual approach reflects the fact that he graduated magna cum laude from Harvard and won a Pulitzer prize for his book "Profiles in Courage." The book gives the biographies of a number of U.S. Senators who took firm stands in the face of popular opinion.

Kennedy won recognition for courage as a World War II PT boat skipper in the Pacific. He still is troubled by a back injury he suffered when his craft was sunk during an attack on a Japanese warship.

He was born to prominent wealth—the second of nine children of financier Joseph P. Kennedy, former U.S. ambassador to Britain. His elder brother, Joe, had been the potential politician in the family, but he was killed in World War II.

Another brother, Robert, until recently was chief counsel of the Senate Select Committee. He resigned to help with John's presidential campaign.

Kennedy won election to Congress as a House member in 1946. He was in the same freshman congressional class with a young California Republican—Richard M. Nixon.

In 1952, when President Eisenhower carried Massachusetts by a landslide, Kennedy was elected sidering the current furor over the possibility that the Democrats may again nominate a Catholic (Kennedy) for the presidency, the thought may have occurred to them that a dinner may have been held in the future for Sen. Kennedy, recalling a fate similar to Smith's.

Homework Controversy Rages

DEAR ABBY: Re "MOTHER OF THREE" who complained because her children were overworked with homework. I think she is right and I disagree with your reply. My son is in the seventh grade and here is his typical program: An hour and a half of arithmetic homework every night. On the same night he had to read a chapter of history and answer 20 questions covering that chapter. For English composition he had to write an essay on WHY I LOVE TO LIVE IN TEXAS. For spelling he had to look up 20 words in the dictionary and use each one in a sentence.

For geography he had to turn in a map every week. City maps, river maps, population maps, mineral maps, forest maps, rainfall maps, livestock maps and land form maps. I never saw so many maps in all my life.

Each one had to be beautifully colored and printed in ink with a compass rose and a frame around it. If anybody can do this without burning the midnight oil, I'd like to see him.

MRS. C. D. H.

DEAR ABBY: I am with MOTHER OF THREE all the way. I have four children in school and their teachers give them homework like there's no tomorrow. Each teacher thinks his or her subject is the only one the student is carrying.

If a child carries five subjects and spends one hour on each, that's five hours of homework.

I have a solution. Why don't

Kild Schies, daughter of the Sorraes of Ottawa drive, recently won the campus-wide badminton doubles tournament for women at the University of Michigan. Paired with her was Ann Cheevey of Midland. Kild is a freshman in the school of business education. She was also a member of Stockwell Hall's winning volleyball team.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne M. Cassell of Crosby drive, visited their future daughter-in-law, Mrs. E. J. Cassell, during a recent vacation. They visited Omaha after leaving the Lehigh Acres Country Club Motel and continued on their tour of the state.

The birth of their first child, a daughter, Kelly Anne, Dec. 19 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Jerome C. Vaverek (nee Lorene Rossmann) of Duluth avenue in Herndon Hills.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rossmann of Lake Orion and the Vincent Vavereks of Jodyville avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Macdonald and daughter Arlene Welsh of Perkins street have returned from a southern motor trip. They visited relatives in St. Petersburg and were guests of former Pontiac residents, Kim Vison, chaplain, Washington, D.C., the Macdonalds were guests aboard the aircraft carrier USS Forrestal.

Capt. and Mrs. Harrison B. Dickie of Sheppard Air Force Base will leave Thursday for Texas after spending the holidays visiting their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Dickie of West Huron street and the Carl Hunters of Walton boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer P. Ruth were hosts at dinner and cards at their home on Hoover street Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hill of Pontiac road spent the holidays with their son-in-law and daughter, Sgt. and Mrs. J. Butler and family of Scottsdale, Ariz.

S.J.C. Frederick W. Stephens spent the holidays with his wife Barbara and daughter Cheryl at the home of his parents, the Scott Stephens of Madison avenue. After his return to Norfolk, Va., Mrs. Stephens and Cheryl will reside with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Stecher of Sanderson avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Page (nee Carol Crawford) announce the birth of a daughter, Colleen Mae, Dec. 27 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wanda Nichols and Otto Crawford of Downing court.

Women in Revolt, Call Selves SAPS

CHICAGO (UPI)—A group of women calling themselves SAPS think they've been saps too long—they want to make Mother's Day a full week.

SAPS is short for Society for the Appreciation and Preservation of Spouses, a feminist movement which got off Sunday to a determined if unofficial start in Chicago.

In this case, "saps" refers only to wives.

The SAPS are inauspicious for a National Spouse Week, seven full days in February in which the wives tie the aprons on what they consider the already overappreciated, overpriced spouses, the husbands.

Mother's Day just isn't enough, according to SAPS founder Margaret Jane Fink, 31, of Chicago, a wife five years and a mother three.

ONE LITTLE DAY

"Mother's Day is just one day a year while men enjoy Father's Day 52 weeks a year," said Mrs. Fink. "Besides, we have to cook on Mother's Day anyway."

Organized a few weeks ago, SAPS already claims some 30 housewives and mothers in the Chicago area and Wisconsin.

"Papa should be Mama once in awhile," said Mavis Ageheim, 31, of Racine, Wis., in what easily could be taken as the SAPS motto.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Carbin (nee Guyaneth Ann Landon) recently of Pontiac, of Washington, N.J., announce the birth of a daughter, Cynthia Ann, Dec. 31. Grandparents are the Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Corbin of Washington, N.J., and the Weston Langhams of East Beverly avenue, Great-grandmother is Mrs. Isadora Langham of the East Beverly address.

A daughter, Penny Lynette, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Larry E. Puryear (nee Wanda Nichols) of West Cornell avenue Dec. 21 in Pontiac General Hospital.

Their youngest children, Edith, Eleanor, Paul and David are present.

Also present were Mrs. Casper Verpoeten and Tom Walter of Fenton; Alex Turnbull and daughter Janet of Oxford; Mr. and Mrs. Marion Merrill, the Kenneth Pantons with sons Kenneth and Jeffrey, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Verpoeten and son Tony, Mr. and Mrs. John Kent, Floyd Kent and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hicks and daughter, Mary Ann and Becky.

With a program like that, said Mrs. Fink, SAPS will be a national movement in no time.

There are stumbling blocks, however. Asked what her husband thought of SAPS, Mrs. Fink replied: "He just laughs."

Just Hope to Learn Who It Is

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: What does one do when someone who apparently knows me, but whose face I can't place, comes up and speaks to me. This happened the other day and for the life of me I could not think of who the person was and not until the next day did it dawn on me who she was. It was very embarrassing.

Answer: You should cultivate the ability to recognize faces and remember the names that go with them. In the situation you describe, there is nothing you can do but talk generalities, hoping for some hint from the person who has spoken to you, as to who she is, or he may be.

Dear Mrs. Post: My son has been invited to a school dance by a girl friend of his. They are both seniors in high school. He intends to send her a corsage to wear the night of the dance. When I asked him what kind of flowers he was going to send her, he said "orchids."

Somewhat orchids don't strike me as being very suitable for a young girl. Will you please tell me if they are proper and if not, please suggest what would be suitable.

Answer: You are right. Orchids are too sophisticated for a young girl. A small corsage of sweet peas, lily of the valley or sweetheart roses would be most suitable.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you kindly tell me whether or not it is a breach of etiquette to admire someone when visiting in someone's house? Would it make a difference if it is a close friend or someone you are visiting for the first time?

Answer: If you know that an article is really good you may, with propriety, express your admiration of it to any hostess. In the house of a close friend you can, of course, admire any object you have not seen before.

Working Wife Adds to Marriage

LONDON (UPI)—Marriages improve when the little woman takes off her apron and goes to work.

That's the London from a report published today by Dr. Viola Klein, an unmarried research worker at the London School of Economics.

She interviewed 1,083 women and 500 men on their marriages and received husband comments like this: "My wife's working has kept her fresh and interested in other things besides the home."

Another: "Women who don't go to work are stodgy, narrow-minded, uninteresting and miserable."

The report showed that nearly 4,000 housewives work in Great Britain or one in three.

For three-quarters of those who work, money was the main incentive, the report added.

It also said that the higher the social status of a couple, the more likely it was to have a wife working outside the home.

At Furnishings Market Dyed Woods Add Brightness

By JOYCE SCHULLER

CHICAGO (UPI)—Woods of many colors showed up at the International Home Furnishings Market, which opened today.

Some of the woods are dyed to match the upholstery of furniture, like the pale green frame of a period sofa. Other woods are red, blue or green to contrast with upholstery or the natural woods in a room, and still other colored woods are used throughout a room grouping.

In this class, there is an 18th Century dining room shown in blue and white, as well as in the natural mahogany finish. A modern ash living room also comes with all wood parts high-lacquered in bique, lacquer, pinstriped red and avocado green.

Mainly, however, the colored woods turned up in occasional pieces like a curved modern bench of laminated ash, offered in sapphire or berry blue, red, luscious white and yellow. The manufacturer also showed slat-

Burn Scars Can Curb You

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
I receive so many letters from readers who want to know about burn scars and whether or not they can be removed by plastic surgery that I have investigated the matter.

First let us consider burn scars. First-degree burns, second-degree first-degree burns, second-degree and third-degree burns. A first-degree burn just reddens the skin. In a second-degree burn, blisters form and some skin cells are destroyed. When a third-degree burn occurs all of the cells are destroyed through the full thickness of the skin.

A first-degree burn requires no treatment. Prevention of infection is the main concern when dealing with a second-degree burn. This sort of burn is painful but it usually heals within seven to nine days.

A dressing can be used but many doctors prefer exposing the burn to the air, letting the dried skin act as a bandage. There is some loss of skin coloring in a second-degree burn but this disappears within a couple of months.

If a burn does not heal within 10 days and is still draining and is not covered with what looks like new skin, it is probably a third-degree burn. In this kind of burn the edges of surrounding skin are drawn centrally and anchored by fibrous tissue which is called collagen, of which scars are formed.

LIMITS FUNCTION
Scar tissue does not look pretty and it does not move well. Contraction pulls up the line of the skin especially when the area is in motion. This not only looks ugly but limits the function of the burned part. Even a small burn on a part of the body constantly in motion, such as the fingers, can cause a functional loss.

If a burn does not heal within ten days or if it is as large as a 10-cent piece or larger, it is a good idea to see a plastic surgeon for his advice on the prevention of contracture.

Sometimes the early replacement of missing tissue will shorten the healing period, reduce inflammation and make the scar less noticeable.

A burn scar cannot be repaired by a plastic surgeon immediately following healing. If no action is advisable within the first few weeks the surgeon will wait several months for the scar to mature in order to achieve optimum results.

MRS. J. MICHAEL FLINN

J. Michael Flinn United to Letitia J. FitzGerald

Letitia Jeanne FitzGerald and J. Michael Flinn repeated wedding vows to the Rev. C. George Widdell Wednesday evening in All Saints Episcopal Church. The altar was adorned with white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Campbell FitzGerald of Oakview street, Drayton Plains, Letitia appeared in white Chantilly lace. She was adorned with white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Long streamers fell from a large white tulle bow at the front waistline. Her fingertip veil was held by a pearl-studded satin cap. She held a cascade of white chrysanthemums.

Charlotte Pankner of Waterford, the bride's only attendant, in green iridescent tulle and matching net headpiece, carried tallman chrysanthemums. White gloves, green shoes and a pearl choker completed her ensemble.

Willard Film of Iron River was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Flinn of Ramona terrace. Seating the guests were the bride's brother, Lewis, and George Kapler of Pontiac.

At the church reception in the Rose Knave Room, Mrs. FitzGerald greeted guests in a brown dress, matching feather hat and corsage of yellow carnations. Mrs. Flinn's corsage of pink carnations accented her dress of powder blue, worn with white feather hat and black accessories.

After a brief honeymoon, the couple will live in Lansing where Michael attends Michigan State University. The bride is attending University of Michigan.

Just Ignore Those Amateur Psychologists

By HUBERT LAWRENCE

Sandra F., just turned three years old, recently joined a neighborhood "play group." Not long ago the counselor in charge told Mrs. F. to get Sandra a psychiatric examination. Mrs. F. writes:

"She said that the child laughs in 'leaves' way. We don't know what to do. The child has always had a hearty laugh and when she gets overexcited . . ."

Get the psychiatric examination. Mrs. F.—and be done with it.

Today many people who work with children, from summer camp counselors to Sunday school teachers, use them. They fancy themselves as psychologists.

As youngsters use bad words they've picked up at school to prove they know more than we think they do, the amateur psychologists pick up words like "insecure" or "disturbed" to let us know they've got the inside track on psychological mysteries that are dark to use.

And they apply them to any youngster who doesn't "adjust" in their notions of normality.

Like Sandra's counselor, they want to repress any inconvenient emotional expression in children for the same reason that unconventional people in the Middle Ages were lopped off the heads and ears of heretics.

They succeed in making us believe we, too, are afraid of any excessive emotion in children.

It's really awful for them. If in public they laugh too loudly, or roar with anger or burst into tears at denial of more ice cream, we get very uncomfortable.

We know that everyone around is doing "amateur psychology" and thinking, "That child is 'insecure' or 'disturbed.' He is headed for a mental hospital."

It was easier on the young when they were first told to be "normal" and not heard.

Now I'm going to do some amateur psychology myself. I think that people who use psychological jargon to destroy sincere emotional expression in children are jealous of the children.

I think that Sandra's counselor may be envious of this little girl's capacity for free and hearty laughter.

But this is not a professional opinion. And as the question of her sanity has been brought up, I urge her parents to seek such an opinion for their own peace of mind.

Gifts From the Heart Were Perfect Ones

By RUTH MILAETZ

No matter how much money was spent on Christmas gifts and how many woman-hours were spent in shopping for just the right gift for individuals who "have everything," some of the nicest gifts this year, as every year, were:

The serene and serene-erudite shaped, the sewing baskets filled with large few count darning, the patchwork held together with the woven stitches, the gaily plumed and fashions by first and second graders or made in Oak Street or Breville troops for "mom."

The invitation to spend a day with a family—received by an older person living alone, by a working girl living in a rooming house or efficiency apartment or by a boy in one of the armed services.

The holiday visit made to a patient in a hospital or a resident of a home for the aged. It was unobtrusive and gracious enough to convey the one cut off from the warmth and good spirits of a family.

ly Christmas that he was not forgotten.

The gift painstakingly made by hand from someone who had little to spend, but who never let that be a reason for cutting out Christmas giving.

The impersonal, romantic gifts received from husbands by hard-working, budget-minded wives who would never buy each extravagant bits of feminine frippery for themselves—heart-lifting reminders that a man who can't give his wife everything wishes that he could.

The gift—whatever it was—that a child was so pleased with having selected and paid for out of his own allowance that he begged, "Open my present first."

Those were, all of them, truly perfect Christmas gifts.

Four separate makes of cars—each offering from 6 to 24 different series and models—were produced for the first time this year by the major U.S. auto manufacturers.

Even in cold weather potato salad appears on your table, doesn't it? Just be sure to take care of it and keep it well chilled so that it will be safe eating.

Mrs. Wesley A. Mackey suggests this tangy dressing for your next batch of potato salad. We think it would be good for cabbage salad also.

Carol Lee Turner was her sister's honor maid. Her dress of blue chiffon over tulle was complemented by a hokey of pink rosebuds.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Michael, to be best man. Guests were seated by Tommy Turner.

Mrs. Turner greeted guests at the dinner-reception at Devon Gables wearing a beige dress. Mrs. Lingo chose a beige suit. Both mothers wore orchids.

Will Issue Stamp to Mark Boys' Clubs Centennial

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A four-cent commemorative stamp marking the 100th anniversary of the Boys' Clubs of America will be issued by the Post Office Department next summer.

The multi-colored stamp will go on sale the first day in New York City when the boys' organization moves into its first permanent national headquarters, probably in July.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield said the initial printing would be 150 million. He said the design, colors and specific date of the first day sale would be announced later.

The new headquarters has been named the Herbert Hoover Building in honor of former President Hoover who served as chairman of the board of the boys' club for 24 years.

Summerfield said the boys' clubs stress the theme: "Build juvenile decency."

"The dedicated laymen and national organizations who have assisted and supported the movement deserve the respect and gratitude of the nation," the postmaster said. He noted that the nonsectarian clubs are open to all boys every weekday afternoon and evening, providing them with guidance, recreation and encouragement.

"The individual attention given each boy has proved to be especially helpful to youngsters who may be in danger of acquiring wrong behavior patterns," Summerfield said.

He said the boys' clubs have contributed much to the welfare of our nation's youth during a century of service to every boy who has entered their doors.

The boys' club movement began in the 1850s when Hartford, Conn. citizens set up a club house to provide boys from lower income families with opportunities for constructive leisure time activities.

The movement spread to other communities. In 1898 some 50 clubs banded together to form the national organization to service the clubs and help interested communities form new ones.

The organization was chartered by Congress in 1956. At present there are 542 boys' clubs serving more than a half million boys. A new club is being established every two weeks and boys' clubs alumni are estimated at 10 million.

Oral Polio Vaccine to Get U. S. Testing

NEW YORK (AP)—Tests of the Sabin polio vaccine using live viruses will be made for the first time in the United States in the South, Midwest and East, the National Foundation said today.

The Foundation granted $200,000 for the tests to be conducted in Houston, Tex., Cleveland, Ohio, and New Haven, Conn.

The Sabin vaccine, developed by Dr. Albert B. Sabin of the University of Cincinnati under March of Dimes grants, differs from the Salk vaccine in that it can be taken by mouth and contains weakened strains of five polio viruses rather than killed viruses.

The foundation said the Sabin vaccine had been widely and successfully tested abroad, including the administration to 12 million persons in the Soviet Union without unfavorable effects.

They said the 100-foot high statue will be taller than similar ones in Rio De Janeiro and Lisbon.

The average age of trucks in the U. S. is 5.6 years, compared with 5.8 years in 1961. Some still in use have 20 or more years of service.

State Needs to ... and Will ... Increase Its Pool of Scientists for Fabulous 60s

Research in Michigan Must Open Up to Space Age

Research in Michigan is being stepped up to meet the needs of the state and the nation. The state is now spending more than $10 million a year on research in the state university system.

By Professor Robert E. White, Director, University of Michigan Institute of Science and Technology

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — There is no doubt that research in the state of Michigan will increase markedly in the next 10 years.

both volume and scope during the next 10 years.

Natural progress and population growth alone will account for much of the increase in volume. With industry and government both recognizing the vital part research plays in commercial advances and in defense, the funds spent for such work should continue to jump upward each year.

The automotive, pharmaceutical, chemical and other industries of the state all are making, and will continue to make, substantial investments in research, for it holds the key to their future.

Of equal—if not greater—importance to the state is the amount of diversification achieved in research, the most desirable being in fields which are new to the state.

While it is essential that added funds be spent in the development of automobile engines and components and other established products of Michigan, it is also imperative that research expand into areas which could give rise to entirely new industries.

Now that we have entered the space age, research in Michigan must be geared more closely to space age needs. Assigned the important job of producing vast amounts of wheeled vehicles during World War II, Michigan fell behind when the electronic and missile industries developed elsewhere.

A way must now be found to enter those fields, or to create new ones, so that Michigan is not always one of the first states to feel a recession, and among the last to recover from one.

This can be done by increasing the state's pool of scientists and engineers, and by undertaking more basic research.

The state should multiply its supply of technical people, and large numbers of them should be trained for research on fundamental problems in their fields.

We are heartened by the fact that the State of Michigan, even when beset last spring by serious problems, decided to establish an Institute of Technology at Ann Arbor. The institute intends to play a major role in increasing the supply of scientists and engineers in Michigan, and in fostering basic research which could lead to the establishment of new industry.

In this way, an investment of one million dollars a year over the next five years, for example, could result in a research which could attract many millions in government funds. And from those programs new ones, so that Michigan is not always one of the first states to feel a recession, and among the last to recover from one.

There are many factors which suggest that the state may start a strong educational system, including great universities, and has a tradition of basic research.

Given new impetus, these factors make the development of the State of Michigan as the research center of the Midwest a realistic possibility and even a probability.

It is not possible to predict what new industry or research will be flourishing 10 years from now. We can only point to several promising areas where it is possible vigorous research could create new commercial enterprises.

In space science and technology, for example, there is great need for materials that can withstand extremely high temperature and stresses. Their development depends upon a accelerated fundamental research in physics, metallurgy, chemistry and other fields.

The science of electronic control of a variety of vehicles—rockets, aircraft, automobiles—is still in its infancy, and holds vast potential.

Automated production is a coming field which seems natural for industry of this state. Certain to grow in complexity and importance, it will demand the most highly trained technical minds.

Another whole industry could be based upon the development and production of ultra-small electronic devices for domestic, military and scientific use.

In theory, these devices can be made 100 times smaller than they are at present, rendering them ideal for space exploration.

TOMORROW: Satellite astronomy and meteorology, energy conversion, communications, rocket tests, hypersonic aerodynamics, combustion—these are but a few of the areas where the intelligent application of research funds could bring out tomorrow's scientific breakthroughs.

These fields all have in common the need for sustained research on the materials and processes involved. They are also areas which the Institute of Science and Technology would like to enter.

The institute also is actively negotiating for top scientists from all over the world who are experts in fields related to space science. Added to the university's present resources in these disciplines, they would form an invaluable asset for the state.

It is inevitable that important

Detroit Dies After Scolding by His Wife

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit's first slaying victim of 1960 was a man whose wife scolded him with scolding hot water because he refused to take her out to celebrate the New Year.

William Simmons, 38, died today at Receiving Hospital of second and third degree burns over 60 per cent of his body.

His wife, Corine, 39, a mother of six children, was held in the death.

Mrs. Simmons told police her husband was in bed sleeping when she poured a four-gallon kettle boiling water over him.

Shave Hair Await Final Report of 2 Women on Margaret Sullivan on Orders

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The U.N. command admitted today that two American soldiers, acting on the orders of their military commander, shaved the heads of two Korean women found in their military base.

The announcement was expected to provoke indignant reaction from South Koreans.

An Army press statement said the shaving was done by Sgt. One Curritto, 30, of Chillicothe, Ohio, and Sgt. Harry K. Saunders, 34, of Kansas City, Mo., on the orders of Capt. John W. McEnergy, 34, of Cheyenne, Wyo.

The command said the women, Ae Soon Kim, 20, and Jong Joo Kim, 22, "were apparently not authorized to be within the military reservation at the time of their apprehension."

The U.N. protest marshal's office began an investigation.

GREENWICH, Conn. (UPI)—A toxicological report was awaited today to show what caused the death of actress Margaret Sullivan.

Miss Sullivan, 48, died Friday at New Haven under mysterious circumstances. A coroner said an autopsy was inconclusive, but that she appeared to die of an overdose of sleeping pills.

Memorial services were to be conducted today at Christ Church here for the husky-voiced actress who spent nearly 30 years on the stage and in motion pictures.

Burial was to be private.

Container Business Booming

We're All Wrapped Up in Packages

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans are becoming package addicts at a surprising rate. And the various segments of the container industry expect to get consumers even more attached to packaging this year and decade.

The value of containers, Department of Commerce records show, is growing 18 per cent faster than the nation's total dollar volume of goods and services. And packaging consumption is growing faster than the population, which takes some doing.

The growing demand of consumers for convenience packaging of an increasing number of products sparks the manufacturers to mass. New packages reached store shelves last year in greater volume than any previous year.

The packaging industry is now estimated to be doing a 10-billion-dollar annual sales business.

Carl R. McGowan, president of Owens-Illinois Glass, thinks a record 23 billion glass bottles and jars will be produced this year, a six per cent gain over last year.

Some eight billion of the bottles and jars will hold baby foods, salad dressings, preserves, jellies, catsup, chili sauce, pickles, olives, ham, and instant coffee.

H. R. Turner, president of Union Carbide's plastics division, says that industry should turn out $4 billion pounds in 1960, compared with $3 billion last year, and 14 billion in 1960. A sizable proportion will be used for packaging industrial and consumer products.

Just making machinery for packaging has become a 200-million-dollar annual business, according to Modern Packaging magazine. It sees a demand for a machine to turn out 300 or more packages a minute.

BOTTLE BATTLE

Among the container rivalries that will grow hotter this year, it says, are the battles between glass, tin and aluminum cans, aerosols, high-density polyethylene bottles, squeeze tubes, folding cartons, bubble paper pouches, transparent films, metallized paper and stretchable paper. The last already is a factor in the multiple bag field.

Recent developments cited include additional materials for thermo-forming; automatic forming, filling and sealing machines; stretched vinyl film card packaging; and a new cold forming method for making transparent folding cartons or trays.

Rapidly expanding is the practice of wrapping paper products and soft goods in polyethylene. The trade publication thinks tobacco and candy may be next.

But polypropylene is coming along to challenge polyethylene. And polystyrene film is being used as an overwrap for meats and produce. Europeans are trying drawn and formed vinyl containers. Transparent tetrahedron film is being used for packages, chiefly on the U.S. West Coast.

Older packaging materials also are being learning new tricks.

Many glass containers have been cut in weight by one third, and a further 20 per cent reduction is predicted.

Corrugated carton makers count on a boost from an economical glue-plug construction, tear strip opening, cost saving and opening construction, and a self-sealing carton.

The packaging industry also is taking to heat transfer labeling which permits multicolor printing with economy.

It's all aimed at luring more consumers to buy more packages, or at luring them away from one product to a more attractively packaged one.

Unsuspected Ills in Almost Half of Execs Checked

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Should we get a physical checkup at least once a year?

Forty per cent of 1,525 business executives examined over a nine-year period found they had diseases they were unaware of.

In 50 per cent of the cases, the diseases could have resulted in death or disability if unchecked.

This information is contained in a report by doctors at the University of Pennsylvania diagnostic

While published in the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, the first irrigation project of size from a stream to their fields was started by the Mormons in what is now the area of Salt Lake City when they diverted water.

Red Wings Snap Skid on Fluke Goal

McKenzie Hits
Clincher of 4-3
Home Triumph

Rebound From Side
Spins Into Net Beating
Boston

DETROIT (AP)—Sometimes a fluke goal like that can get you started back on the right track, said Ed Abel.

Regardless, John McKenzie's fluke goal with 19 seconds to play in last night's game against Boston stopped a Detroit Red Wings skid that had lasted for two weeks.

It gave the Wings a 4-3 triumph after they had frittered away a 2-0 lead. The triumph, which looked pretty ragged in spots, he said, "and we might have been in for more serious trouble if the boys got their heads down. But a victory like this might be a good pick-me-upper for."

McKenzie was to the side of the Boston net when he took a second rebound and spun into the net. The puck tumbled down goalie Don Stenstrom's leg, spun crazily at the goal line.

The Red Wings had done a lot of other things. They scored some nice open opportunities and got one of the good bounces around the Bruins cage. Simmons was called on for 25 saves. Terry Sawchuk shot only 12 as the Wings led the attack practically all evening.

In fact, Sawchuk didn't record his first save until nearly 11 minutes had elapsed.

"We've been preparing for a championship game (with the Bruins) until last week," said Ewbank, "so we haven't had too much time to evaluate the squad which we have here."

"However, I have noticed that on both sides there are outstanding players and the teams seem to be about evenly balanced."

Ewbank called the roll on his team and counted 21 on hand. Four more were expected by practice time.

"The Bruins tied it in the second period, two ex-Red Wings doing the damage. Vic Stasiuk smashed in Johnny Bucyk's rebound off the post at 9:45, and Buck himself took a pass from Bronco Horvath and circled the Detroit defense for the tying goal six minutes later."

Stasiuk sent the Bruins ahead halfway through the final period. Still another ex-Detroitian, Charlie Burns, stole the puck from Len Lundie and set up the goal with a perfect drop pass to Stasiuk.

Jerry McEck, grabbing the loose puck at the corner of the Bruins net, scored an easy goal at 15:13 for the tie. McKenzie got the winner, ended the slump, kept the Wings in second place.

The coach regressed hope for the future.

Parseghian Inks 5-Year Contract at Northwestern

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Roman Parseghian, who has been head coach of the University of Illinois for 14 years, was named to the Northwestern football coach position.

The Northwestern football coach position was vacant since the death of the late coach, who had been at the helm for 14 years.

Worsley Back, N.Y. Wins

NEW YORK (AP)—Cump Worsley, who tends goal on a non-permanent basis for the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, said today he'd just got back from his stint in the minors.

"In fact," he said, "I'm keeping my apartment in Springfield."

The Cumper was banished to Springfield, Mass., of the American Hockey League a couple of months back when the Rangers' coach, who had been in the minors, was traded to the Bruins.

Worsley may take it all matter of fact, but the Rangers—buried in the down in last place that they can barely be found—can figure the Canadiens.

Montreal is making a runaway of the NHL race. To be sure, the club has lost only seven games all year and four of them have been to the Bruins.

But time changed his mind and when the Bruins decided that he wasn't filling the bill, a cash deal was sent to Springfield.

Back he came and in the first game of his return assignment last night, the Rangers thrashed the first-place Montreal Canadiens 6-3. Cumper made more than 20 saves.

"Yeah," he said today, "I heard the cheer. But how long will they last? This really was a pretty easy game."

Plays 'M' Five Next; Indiana Upset by Purdue

State Wins League Opener

By United Press International
Michigan State, which opened its defense of the Big Ten title with a 31-7 win over Wisconsin Saturday, should have a breeze in its second conference start against Michigan at East Lansing next Saturday—except the Big Ten says it won't be true to form.

Michigan won only its second game in nine non-league starts by whipping Miami of Ohio, 72-64.

The Westerners, winners of six of eight including the Wisconsin title, rates as an easy favorite. But coach Ferdie Anderson loses scoring star Art Gorman.

Indiana, Saturday night's victim of Purdue's "block" basketball defense, will seek to justify its role as Big Ten basketball favorite when it meets Northwestern in one of three conference games tonight.

In other games on the league's second conference date of the season, Illinois is at Ohio State and Iowa goes to Wisconsin.

The Hoosiers, lost 79-76 while the Boilermakers bottled up the War Ball game, holding the visitors to only eight points.

Purdue coach Ray Eddy credited the zone defense and a "couple of other factors" for Saturday night's upset.

"I don't know whether controlling against Bellamy would work every time, but it certainly worked Saturday night," Eddy said.

He said a second factor in the Boilermakers' favor was the "muck time" to evaluate the squad which we have here.

"However, I have noticed that on both sides there are outstanding players and the teams seem to be about evenly balanced."

"However, I have noticed that on both sides there are outstanding players and the teams seem to be about evenly balanced."

Ewbank called the roll on his team and counted 21 on hand. Four more were expected by practice time.

"The Bruins tied it in the second period, two ex-Red Wings doing the damage. Vic Stasiuk smashed in Johnny Bucyk's rebound off the post at 9:45, and Buck himself took a pass from Bronco Horvath and circled the Detroit defense for the tying goal six minutes later."

Stasiuk sent the Bruins ahead halfway through the final period. Still another ex-Detroitian, Charlie Burns, stole the puck from Len Lundie and set up the goal with a perfect drop pass to Stasiuk.

Jerry McEck, grabbing the loose puck at the corner of the Bruins net, scored an easy goal at 15:13 for the tie. McKenzie got the winner, ended the slump, kept the Wings in second place.

The coach regressed hope for the future.

Parseghian Inks 5-Year Contract at Northwestern

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Roman Parseghian, who has been head coach of the University of Illinois for 14 years, was named to the Northwestern football coach position.

The Northwestern football coach position was vacant since the death of the late coach, who had been at the helm for 14 years.

from the starting five and two other players from the reserve list due to scholastic inability.

The Michigan game will be the first players miss.

MSU still has Lance Olson, Horace Walker and Dave Fahn—all proven scorers—while Michigan is looking for a consistent job from ace John Tidwell and some regular support from Lovell Farris, Terry Miller and Scott Mason.

Indiana, Saturday night's victim of Purdue's "block" basketball defense, will seek to justify its role as Big Ten basketball favorite when it meets Northwestern in one of three conference games tonight.

In other games on the league's second conference date of the season, Illinois is at Ohio State and Iowa goes to Wisconsin.

The Hoosiers, lost 79-76 while the Boilermakers bottled up the War Ball game, holding the visitors to only eight points.

Purdue coach Ray Eddy credited the zone defense and a "couple of other factors" for Saturday night's upset.

"I don't know whether controlling against Bellamy would work every time, but it certainly worked Saturday night," Eddy said.

He said a second factor in the Boilermakers' favor was the "muck time" to evaluate the squad which we have here.

Hunt Declares Actions of NFL Hurt Chances

Says Sabotage Job Was Done on Coaches Being Interviewed

Miami, Fla., and another city that can not yet be named are under consideration for the eighth spot in the league, Hunt said.

He explained that Miami was now under a new group and was in a better position than before to obtain the Orange Bowl as a playing site. He said Atlanta had arranged to use a small baseball stadium with an adjustment in regular distribution, and eventually planned to use the 75,000-seat stadium planned for operation of the Continental League.

"There is no pressing need to select the eighth city," Hunt said, "and it will be done only after considerable deliberation."

Hunt, owner of the Dallas AFL franchise, said the National Football League didn't decide to come into Minneapolis. St. Paul until November, four months after the AFL had accepted a franchise there. He said he believed the move was made because the NFL found it couldn't operate in Houston because of the stadium situation.

The seven teams now in the American Football League include Dallas, Denver, Boston, Houston, New York, Los Angeles and Buffalo. It is scheduled to begin operations next fall.

Rams, Houston Scrap for Services of Cannon

NEW ORLEANS — A possible court fight loomed today between the two rival pro football leagues over the services of All-American halfback Billy Cannon of Louisiana State.

The Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League and the Houston Oilers of the newly-formed American Football League announced after the Sugar Bowl game on Jan. 1 they had contracts with Cannon, who was the No. 1 choice in the pro draft.

Cannon reportedly received $100,000 for a three-year agreement with the Houston club. The Rams did not disclose any details of their pact with Cannon except that it was a "binding contract."

"I can't imagine what type of 'binding contract' the Los Angeles club has with Cannon," Adams said, "but I'd like to see the Rams make good their threat to take us to court."

"Under the constitution and by-laws of the NFL, no contract between a member club and a player is valid until approved by the league. Under those same by-laws, no member club can sign a player until he completes his college eligibility."

Adams charged that the Rams had bent Cannon's check which he turned over to his Baton Rouge banker for safekeeping until reached a decision on the pro tug-of-war to select. He said Cannon recently returned the uncashed check to the Rams.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The New York Giants of the American Football League are among the clubs that have announced their intention to sign the former Penn All-American as a three-year pact—one year as an assistant to Coach Sammy Baugh and two years as an assistant to Coach Benji Walz.

Benji Walz, Titan general manager, said today he has offered the former Penn All-American a three-year pact—one year as an assistant to Coach Sammy Baugh and two years as an assistant to Coach Benji Walz.

WINNING TD — Dick Bass, College of the Pacific halfback, steps over East halfback Ron Burton and falls into the end zone for the tie-breaking score in the final minute of the East-West game in San Francisco, Saturday. He took a pass from quarterback Don Meredith and the West won 21-14 upset. At the right are East halfback Ray Jauch (46) of Iowa and Dick Brooks of Purdue. The East team was coached by Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State.

Pupil Defeats Tutor in Gator Bowl

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Frank Broyles is going to be one of the nation's greatest football coaches, judging by this year's Gator Bowl game.

In his first bowl game as head coach, Broyles brought his Arkansas Razorbacks to a 14-7 victory over Georgia Tech Saturday.

No one else has been able to outdo Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech in a bowl game. He won eight previous ones without a loss.

But Broyles, who learned his football as player and assistant coach at Tech under Dodd, did not only broke the string but did it against a Tech team that came into the game fired up, as Yellow Jackets usually are for the big ones.

"Arkansas had the ball for only three plays in the first quarter and went nowhere. Tech scored a touchdown and missed a field goal."

"I guess we were a little scared," said Broyles of that first quarter.

But the Razorbacks went to work after that and proved among other things that they were a well-coached team.

"Frank is doing a fine job," Dodd said. "I have to love I'm the coach."

The scope of the coaching job Broyles did this season is better appreciated when you realize that pre-season estimates figured Arkansas' fifth among the eight Southwest Conference teams.

The Razorbacks far exceeded that standing, tying for the conference championship and losing its only conference game, 15-12 to Texas. With its bowl victory, Arkansas' record of 9-2 is the best ever made by the school's football team.

Arkansas was outwitted by virtually every foe and came from behind to win several times. The Gator Bowl game pattern was familiar to those who followed Arkansas through the season. After that disastrous first quarter, the Razorbacks took command and Georgia Tech didn't get another first down until the fourth period.

Arkansas sports writers predicted the Razorbacks would have plenty to dent Tech's good defense. The Razorbacks did throw five passes in the second quarter—two of them successful—when they were catching up 7-7. But they threw only once in the second half and it was intercepted.

In the second half, All-American Jim Mooty showed his great running prowess. His 19-yard burst scored the winning touchdown and clinched for him the trophy as the most valuable player on the winning team.

Maxie Baughen, Tech's All-American center, won the honor for the losers.

Arkansas was able to run through a tech line that outweighted the Razorbacks 35 pounds on the average and was able to stop Georgia Tech running and passing after the first quarter.

It was a successful Gator Bowl financially, too. A record crowd of 45,104 jammed the stadium.

Some $50,000 in arrears for the season and languishing in third place in the National Basketball League's Western Division, the Lakers made a powerful upsurge at the gate and a rapid climb in the win-loss column to salvage the season.

Laker owner Bob Short said Pollard, with all his personal following and local prestige, can re-energize the Lakers if anyone can.

Pollard seemed eager to accept the challenge. A former coach of LaSalle University, he has been out of basketball for two seasons.

California, DePaul, Kentucky Are Beaten

Big Powers Fail Along Way

By The Associated Press

California's prairie Bears and clutch-shooting Southern California are at it again tonight in a close basketball rematch of Saturday's 65-75 USC victory that snapped Cal's 25-game winning streak.

Meanwhile Cincinnati, the unchallenged national leader now that California has stubbed its toe, makes ready for a two-game road trip signaling its plunge into full-scale Missouri Valley Conference play.

The California-Southern California meeting, on the same Los Angeles court where the Trojans sprang their string-mapper last night, actually is a rubber game. Cal, which had won nine straight this season since building up a 16-game streak in its rush to the NCAA championship last March, topped Southern Cal 65-61 in overtime in the semifinals of the Los Angeles classic last Tuesday.

The Trojans, now 8-3 and sure to join the elite in the national rankings this week, get the job done with a smooth-shooting rally after failing to hit from the field in the game's first seven minutes.

Cal's loss left Cincinnati, better known as Oscar Robertson, better known as Oscar Robertson & Friends, with a solid top ranking and the longest major streak—more games. The Bearcats rolled to their 10th straight this season by abating away from Dayton's ball control for a 70-63 decision Saturday as "Big O" scored 32 for a 40.1 percent average.

Along with the other major clubs, the Bearcats get down to the serious business of attempting defense of their Missouri Valley title this week. They travel to Wichita Thursday and Tulsa on Saturday.

The way things have been happening, there's a roadblock looming ahead for the best of them. Hardly through the preconference period, only four major schools remain unbeaten—one of the scrawniest perfect record lists in recent years.

With Cincinnati (10-0), the others are Texas A&M (8-0), Villanova (7-0) and LaSalle (6-0). And none of the latter three has been tested by a rated power.

Boston's California, DePaul of Chicago slipped from the all-winning class over the weekend losing 75-74 to Louisville.

In other significant games, ninth-ranked Bradley crashed sixth-ranked St. Louis 86-64 in a showdown meeting of Cincinnati's two rivals in the Missouri Valley and Georgia Tech, 10th-ranked, established itself as a top banana in the Southeastern conference by whipping Kentucky on the Wildcats' home floor, 62-54.

For other teams to watch try Oregon State, now 8-1 with a nine-game streak after whipping Washington 68-58, and Miami (Fla.) 11-1 after going into overtime to edge South Carolina 107-106.

They join the likes of West Virginia and Utah, both 10-1, Detroit (9-1), Illinois (7-1), and Ohio State and Wake Forest (both 7-2), who established themselves earlier.

Triple Winner in Austria

Skiing Honors to Bavarian

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—A 27-year-old electrician from Bavaria has sparked the hopes of central European ski nations of capturing Olympic laurels from the dominating Scandinavians this year at Squaw Valley, Calif.

West Germany's Maximilian (Maxi) Bolkart, triple national champion and top scorer in numerous international events, will head the all-German team at Squaw Valley as No. 1 challenger to the world's best ski jumpers from Finland and Norway.

Bolkart, a blond, 58-all-round athlete from the Bavarian ski resort of Oberstdorf, topped his career by winning three out of four Austrian-German tournament in Austria.

The tournament, however, was marred by a last-minute walkout of top jumpers from Russia, East

Rams, Shamrock Jan. 9 Tilt Marks Week's Action

SCL Resumes Play Tuesday

Rested and completely relaxed (and, as of the present, are concerned entirely with their own league opposition. None, so far, has scheduled any outside contests. However, all squads kept in shape with daily drills.

For the first time in many years the parochials have passed up competition in holiday tournaments.

Perched atop the SCL, the only unbeaten club, are arch-rivals Orchard Lake St. Mary Eagles and the Ravens from Highland Park St. Benedict. Both have won three straight. Pontiac St. Michael Shamrocks are in 2nd place (1-1), followed by St. Frederick and three others at 1-4, and Royal Oak St. Mary, without a win (0-3).

Six clubs will be in action Tuesday, and Friday Jan. 5 with the week's spotlight turned full on a Saturday night encounter between the Rams and Shamrocks. This battle will take place on the Pontiac Central High court.

Ram's Tuesday night foes are St. Rita Vikings. This tilt is set for St. Frederick High. Varsity game starts at 8:15. Coach George Wright indicated today his crew was ready to go, at full strength. He expected to use the same starters as in the surprise upset, Dec. 18 at the hands of St. Clement.

Shamrocks entertain St. James at Madison Junior High. Jim Nebauer's live, thumped by co-leader St. Benedict, last time out aims to rebound against the club OLEM smacked down, 58-43, on Dec. 17. There may be some starting changes for the north sides. Starters probably will include Dick Williams at one guard, replacing Don Mountain.

While both city parochials should be rated over their guests, in the SCL, ratings don't always figure. So, fans can look for interesting clashes in each game.

Only other Tuesday SCL game sends RO St. Mary to St. Clement, where the Crusaders are favored.

Eagles, only club that has missed holiday practice (all players went to their homes for Christmas, will not be back until Thursday night), take on RO St. Mary at Royal Oak, Friday night while Ravens host the Crusaders and St. James entertains the Ritas.

MIAA Action Starts

Titans After 10th Tonight

By United Press International

Powerful University of Detroit meets dangerous Creighton University tonight in Detroit and then travels Saturday to South Bend to meet the Irish of Notre Dame.

The Titans have lost only once, a tough decision to highly ranked Indiana in 10 events, and hold down the 11th position nationally in college rankings.

A pair of wins this week could vault the Titans up high among the 10 top teams.

In other state basketball action this week:

Defending MIAA champion Hope, Saturday winners over Wheaton, 47-35, on a basket by Warren Vanderhill with three seconds remaining, takes on the Dales next Saturday.

Adrian visits Kalamazoo Saturday in another league tilt while MIAA teams have several non-conference games scheduled.

Southern Illinois faces Central Michigan and Eastern Illinois while Eastern Michigan Friday in Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic association.

Killed in Crash in Dryden Twp.

Rochester Woman Dies as Car Hits Head-On, Drivers Hurt

A 35-year-old Rochester woman died about an hour and a half after she was injured Saturday in a head-on collision on Hough road in Dryden Township, Lapeer County. Dead is Mrs. Lila Gammage of 705 Parkside Rd. Also injured in the crash was the driver of the car in which Mrs. Gammage was riding, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Helen J. Jopp, 38, of 3655 Mill St., Dryden.

Mrs. Gammage died in the Community Hospital near Almont where Mrs. Jopp and the driver of the other car, Neil Pittenger of 421 W. St. Clair St., Almont, were taken after the mishap.

Mrs. Jopp is listed in fair condition today. Pittenger was released yesterday.

Dryden State Police said the two cars met head-on on the crest of a hill. The gravel road was narrow and snow-covered, officers said.

Services for Mrs. Gammage will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Bailey Funeral Home, Rochester. Burial will be in Mount Avon Cemetery.

Surviving besides her husband George are six brothers, Albert George, Roy, Herman Hopp of Troy, Theodore and Charles, both of Dryden; Russell Hopp of Kingsley and Fred Hopp of Auburn Heights; and four sisters, Mrs. Jean Jones, Mrs. Alice Fuller and Mrs. Minnie Joy, all of Pontiac, and Mrs. Helen Shipley of Rochester.

To Examine Charge of Traffic Homicide

Examination date for a 25-year-old Troy man charged with negligent homicide in the New Year's Eve traffic death of Carl F. Stenbom, 26, of 202 S. Maple Rd., Royal Oak, is set for next Monday before Troy justice of the Peace Charles E. Loney.

Junior J. Kadrovich of 180 Hart St. stood mute when arraigned Saturday and a plea of not guilty was entered for him. Bond was set at $500.

The fatal crash occurred on Rochester road, south of East Maple road.

Wails in 1960 With Distinction

ALMONT — Although Robert Alin Cummings is too young to realize the honor, he has the distinction of being the first baby born in 1960 at the Community Hospital near here.

The baby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cummings of 224 Rosebud Ct., Walled Lake. He weighed in at seven pounds, seven ounces at 5:48 a.m. on Jan. 1.

The Board of Trustees of the hospital voted the bill for the delivery room charges, and the happy parents received other appropriate gifts from homes and Almont merchants.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Burnell of 5157 Pine Knob Lane, Clarkston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kaye Gark, to Arthur Bricker. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bricker of 2011 Inlay City Rd., Lapeer. No wedding date has been decided yet.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction of retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months. In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "I have ceased to be a problem!"

And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institute.

Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

FIRE LEVELS HOUSE — Arson is suspected as the cause of the fire which destroyed an unoccupied two-story house on Snell road in Oakland Township near last midnight. A state police fire marshal was called to investigate fresh tire tracks in the driveway. Summoned by neighbors, the Rochester Volunteer Fire Department found the house enveloped in flames and beyond saving. Located at 730 Snell road, the dwelling is part of an estate administered by the Detroit Bank and Trust Co.

Four Walled Lake juveniles admitted to Oakland County sheriff's deputies Saturday that they stole more than $2,000 in checks from mail boxes New Year's day.

Oakland County Juvenile Court authorities are expected to file charges against the youths today.

Deputies said one boy is 14-years-old, two are 15 and the fourth is 16.

The manager of the Walled Lake Department Store called deputies Saturday when he became suspicious over a $57 check two of the youths had cashed there.

Deputies said the check was made out to Blanche H. Cummings, Commerce Township Treasurer. The youths, questioned at their homes, admitted stealing several checks from a mail box at the Township Hall, 2846 Fisher St. They also said they had taken other checks and mail from a number of homes in the area. There were 32 checks, totalling $2,887.56 reported stolen.

The youths said they had cashed two and burned four. One was returned to the township treasurer and the remaining checks are being held by detectives.

Missionary Will Speak at Smorgasbord

ROCHESTER — A former missionary to Africa, the Rev. Victor Longfield, associate minister of the First Methodist Church, Midland, will be the speaker at the annual Missionary Smorgasbord Wednesday at St. Paul's Methodist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Longfield visited his former mission stations this past summer and took many colored pictures he will show at the dinner meeting.

The smorgasbord, sponsored jointly by the Commission on Missions and the Women's Society of Christian Service, will be served beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Hostesses for the evening will be the Mariast Shaw Circle, Jean Bagnell Circle and the Wesleyan Service Guild. The nursery will be open.

Lawyers See No Threat in Recent 'Gag' Rule

DETROIT (UPI)—The board of directors of the Detroit Bar Assn. has agreed that a recent federal district court ruling permitting suppression of court suits is not a threat to civil rights.

The so-called "gag" rule has been vigorously attacked by Detroit's three newspapers as an infringement of the public's right to information.

The bar association board met to discuss and considered the ruling. Their opinion was released Saturday.

Have 273 Years of Service

11 Retire at Twist Drill

ROCHESTER—Eleven employees of National Twist Drill and Tool Co. near Rochester, who represent a total of 273 years of service to the company, retired Jan. 1.

Included in the group are three women, all employed at National Twist Drill for 18 years. They are:

Mrs. Culver Riddle of 526 Second St. and Mrs. Arthur Allen of 130 Walnut St., Rochester; and Mrs. Beatrice Sleweks of 186 Benjamin St., Romeo.

Some of the men with the longest service records are Henry Agosti of 1181 N. Vesper St., Royal Oak, 41 years; George Hudley of 2408 Talbot St., Troy, 41 years; David Hawkes of Detroit, 41 years; and Francis Fackel, also of Detroit, 33 years.

Others who have retired are Ernest Dochow of 407 1/2 Main St., Rochester, 18 years; Carrel Brooks of 125 Council St., Clawson, 19 years; Clare Kaiser of 1253 Rochester Rd., Leona rd. 18 years; and Wilcox Fields of 519 Third St., Rochester, 19 years.

Among the activities planned by the retiring workers are trips West, South or abroad, hunting and fishing expeditions and work to their gardens. Others just plan to "relax."

Permanent officers will be nominated and a study topic chosen, according to Christopher E. Boyle Jr., temporary chairman.

Not affiliated with any political party, the organization is composed of citizens interested in the problems of state government who are willing to study possible solutions.

It has the approval of both the Democratic and Republican parties and is open to all citizens of voting age in the state.

Tornadoes are almost unknown on the eastern and western seaboard, according to weather bureau history.

Police Probing Southfield Theft

Seeking Burglars Who Took $16,000 in Goods From Doctor's Home

Southfield police are looking for thieves who looted the home of a Southfield physician Saturday night, escaping with about $16,000 worth of jewelry, furs, household appliances and tools.

Dr. Nathaniel Feldman of 3475 Tenthredin Circle told police that his wife's gold and diamond jewelry worth $15,000, dresses, suits, a clock radio and foodstuffs from a house freezer were missing.

The thieves made a 6 1/2 carat wedding band valued at $15,000, which was hidden between mugs' shirts in a dresser drawer.

The doctor said he and his wife left the house at about 6:15 p.m. Saturday to visit relatives; and returned at 12:30 a.m. Sunday to find the house had been ransacked.

The thieves had entered by breaking a window in the side door and turning it lock.

Dr. Feldman is chief of obstetrics at St. General Hospital, Detroit, and has offices at 1120 Mack Ave., Detroit.

Burglars broke a window to get into the James Transfer Co., 401 E. Wilson Ave. They took $14 from a metal cash box.

The City Collision firm's office, 311 W. Montclair St., was burglarized. It has not been determined what is missing.

TOOK $40
Edna Crawford, 151 W. Columbia Ave., reported that thieves entered her home through an unlocked door and took a wallet containing $40.

Mrs. William Newman, 300 G. St., reported the theft of $145 from her purse by thieves who entered the home through an unlocked door.

Burglars crawled through a broken window to get into the Montclair Builders Supply office, 156 W. Montclair St. The only item missing was a pair of gloves.

The window had been broken in a previous break-in.

Fair's Autocraft, 284 W. Montclair St., was broken into. It is not known if anything was stolen.

Richard Storer, 308 G. St., reported his home burglarized. The intruders entered through an unlocked window and took a purse containing $60.

The Gregory Oil Co. office, 54 E. Walton Blvd., was broken into and a safe opened. An undetermined amount of cash was stolen, according to police detectives.

Someone broke into an unoccupied home at 124 N. Jessie St. and stole clothing and Christmas decorations valued at $45, according to police.

The Fay Barker Hardware store at 79 S. Saginaw St. was broken into. The thieves took an electric drill motor valued at $25.

Area Realtors to Hear of Sales Techniques

More than 100 Pontiac and Rochester area realtors are expected to meet tonight in a program devoted to sales techniques.

Sponsored by the Pontiac Board of Realtors, the program begins with dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the Civic Room at Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Assn., 751 W. Huron St.

Main speaker will be Dr. Ray Morton, Hardy of Lincoln Park, a public relations consultant. Members of the Pontiac Multiple Listing Board and the Rochester Board of Realtors have been invited.

Kennedy, Humphrey to Battle in Wisconsin

WASHINGTON—Two announced candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination appeared certain today to wage a major battle in Wisconsin.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, (D-Minn.) said today he considers the April 5 Wisconsin primary "the heart and core of my political prospects." Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said he knows of no reason why he would not enter the same contest.

Both have campaigned widely in the state. Kennedy's formal announcement Saturday mentioned only his entry in the New Hampshire primary.

In which he is not likely to have opposition. He said Sunday he will announce within four or five weeks whether he will file in Wisconsin and other states.

Humphrey said in an interview he reported that he was in Wisconsin and added: "The Wisconsin primary is at the very center of my efforts. It is the core of my political prospects."

Democratic insiders rate Kennedy the strongest contender for the Democratic presidential nomination but Sen. Stuart Symington commands surprising strength too, a survey indicated today.

A poll of state Democratic leaders across the nation placed the Missouri Democrat a close second behind Kennedy even though Symington's campaign plans are undisclosed.

Much farther behind came Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Adlai Stevenson (Ibid.), and Humphrey (Ibid.).

United Press International queried party chairmen or national committeemen in 33 states on the status of the race after round one of the bidding party leaders were willing to name a single favorite this far in advance.

Kennedy said Sunday in a radio-television interview that he would run in representative primaries. Humphrey is willing to enter them.

Kennedy said he was confident the two would be running against each other in at least two primaries and that he expects to win.

But he declined to issue any challenge to Humphrey, saying he would prefer to "let Sen. Humphrey decide where he is going to run."

As for the Wisconsin contest, Kennedy said "I know of no reason why I might not enter that or many other primaries."

State Police Snare $10,000 in Marijuana

BENTON HARBOR, Mo. — State police said yesterday they found raw marijuana valued at more than $10,000 in a greenhouse, a barn and old pump house here.

Troopers searched the buildings after questioning two men being held on charges of illegal possession of narcotics.

Willie Roberts, 35, and James Cook, 33, of Pittsburgh, were jailed Friday after a state trooper stopped them for a traffic violation.

Throoper Richard Emsus of the White Pigeon post said he found six pounds of marijuana tucked in a suitcase in the trunk of their car.

Probe Break-In of Cottages on Armada Island

Oakland County sheriff's detectives today are investigating the breaking and entering of six cottages on Armada Island, in Lake Orion.

The detectives were notified by area residents last week that four cottages appeared to have been broken into.

While investigating they found two more. Juveniles are suspected of being responsible for the thefts. Detectives haven't been able to locate all the owners of the cottages.

They reported that each cottage had been ransacked by the vandals who took mostly small appliances and household goods.

The cottages are located on Heights road. Detectives said the total value of items stolen wouldn't be determined until the owners were contacted.

Several juveniles have been questioned but no arrests have been made.

Will Ike Build Nixon's Stature?

Could Give Him Jobs That Would Make Good Political Fodder

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Now that Vice President Richard M. Nixon looks like a shoo-in for the GOP presidential nomination, political wits wonder if President Eisenhower will give him jobs to build him up for the campaign next fall.

As long as Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, New York, looks like a rival to Nixon, any presidential assignments for the vice president would have been viewed with suspicion as a breach of Eisenhower's neutrality pledge.

Since Rockefeller has bowed out, anything the President does to help Nixon now would be regarded merely as a boost to the prospective presidential candidate of his own party.

Eisenhower has given Nixon many assignments, both at home and abroad. The vice president's good will missions have taken him to the Far East, Africa, Latin America and Russia.

While there is no reason to attribute a political motive to the assignment to Russia, the vice president's climb in the public opinion polls can be dated from that trip last year.

The President seems to have staked out the field of personal diplomacy as his own for this year with trips in the works to the summer summit meeting at Paris, to Russia and to South America.

Nixon has two assignments now which might bring him publicity. He was named by the President to head a committee to discourage racial discrimination in employment by government contractors, and the cabinet committee on economic growth and price stability.

Some Democrats felt that the economic committee would give Nixon a chance to lay out an eye-catching domestic program of his own.

Kelvinator Plans Not to Hold Up New Appliances

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Kelvinator Division of American Motors Corp. announced today that it will no longer introduce new appliances in line on an annual basis but rather will offer new models "as soon as they are ready."

"The basis for product change will be a genuine and improvement rather than calendar dates," said Kelvinator General Manager B. A. Chapman.

He said the new policy "reflects Kelvinator's responsiveness to the growing consumer reaction against the artificiality and economic waste inherent in annual model changes that do not improve basic usefulness and economy."

Mystery Woman Lures Pontiac Man Into Trouble

Wesley J. Brooks, 26, of 51 Elizabeth St., was deliberately at the wrong place at the wrong time. Brooks told Pontiac police officers Sunday he saw a woman slide underneath a car on Bagley street at Wessen street. It was 12:20 a.m.

He went to investigate. Meanwhile the driver of the auto, Walter E. (Ridley), 47, of 2222 W. 10th, returned. He had parked momentarily in a dark street.

Brooks was just completing his "investigation" when the car started off. He was knocked down on the curb.

Nobody was underneath the vehicle. Brooks was treated for bruises at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

"THE REBEL SET"

Russian Symphony Cheered

BY CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Russian symphony, led by the Beethoven, but perhaps better, the men from Moscow were white, tall, and identical with new shoes.

Their music was out of another century—works Tchaikovsky composed for the czars.

But the sounds that filled Carnegie Hall last night came from the Communist world.

AUDIENCE STANDS
The notes soared like musical spritzkins through the great hall and won the stubby little conductor, and his musicians a standing ovation, thunderous applause and cries of "bravo" from the sequestered audience.

That was the reception given the Moscow State Symphony at the gala opening of the U.S. tour, marking the first appearance ever staged in this country by any Russian Symphony.

The program was devoted to Tchaikovsky works, except for the booming opening renditions of "The Star Spangled Banner" and the Soviet anthem, and several encores by orchestra and soloists.

The orchestra was made up of just over 90 musicians, four of them women in dark evening gowns. Their male colleagues all wore new black shoes with identical white stitching over the insteps. They acquired the shoes in Moscow before flying here last week.

After tuning up in the corridor just offstage in Carnegie Hall, the famous house of music built by Andrew Carnegie, one of America's great 19th century capitalists, the musicians filed onto the stage promptly at 8:30 p.m.

From then until the last note died away at 11:15, Konstantin Ivanov, "people's artist" of the U.S.S.R., and chief conductor of the symphony, held the audience in his musical grasp.

He conducted with a baton but without a score and drew his entire body into the task of delivering Tchaikovsky's "Fifth Symphony." "First Piano Concerto" and "Capriccio Italien" to New York in true Russian style.

He jumped up and down, waved his arms and set his red hair flying every which way with his vehement style of conducting. And he scowled all the while. It was not until the last bars of applause came that Ivanov managed a smile—and it was big one.

Anti-Semitic Incidents Erupting Around World

By JAMES F. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

Anti-Semitic outbreaks under the banner of an "anti-semitic week" broke out over the weekend from West Germany around the world—including the United States.

Incidents with paint-bombs, smeared synagogues, public buildings and homes of Jews and the Nazi symbol and slogans denouncing Jews.

Jewish and government leaders showed growing alarm over the outbreaks, now in its fifth day, but were divided on whether it signified a resurgence of racism and other forms of fascism or was mainly the work of malcontents, hoodlums and crackpots.

The swastika and anti-Jewish slogans emerged in widely scattered places across eight countries in Western Europe, in New York and in Australia.

The Hitler symbol was painted on three Jewish houses of worship in New York City—including the fashionable Temple Emanuel on Fifth avenue.

TWISTED MINDS
Dr. Julius Marx, chief rabbi of the temple, called the "semitic week" individuals with twisted and distorted minds who derive savage delight from participating in a kind of chain reaction of anti-semitic behavior.

Dr. Marx and Rabbi Max Mayer, leader of a temple in Long Island, said the incidents would probably increase but both predicted they would "soon blow over."

"I don't attach any importance to it," said Rabbi Mayer.

But another New York rabbi, whose temple was attacked—Rabbi David Goldberg of the Corona Jewish Center—charged "this is definitely an organized group which is no doubt getting ideas from reports of anti-semitic incidents in Europe."

Two swastikas also were painted on the windows of a vacant building which has been the headquarters of the Corona post of Jewish War Veterans.

West German government officials were openly worried and strove to check the wave of hate which began with the desecration of a new synagogue in Cologne on Christmas Eve.

Prof. Franz Boehm, a leading member of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party and chief delegate to the postwar German-Jewish restitution conference, told an interviewer in Frankfurt:

"I think this is a synchronized operation, a sort of rally signal ever came to light."

The Adenauer government said the incidents appear part of a planned campaign to discredit the West German republic abroad. It hinted Communists may be behind the smearings.

Boehm cautioned this could be a dangerous theory. He declared these outbreaks are certainly welcome to the Communists, but they would not act themselves. It would be too great a loss of prestige for Communism if such a plot ever came to light."

At the same time, radio Tehran declared that "all enemies of Iran will be exterminated unless they return to sanity."

The Iranian broadcast said that only firm action by the Tehran government has sufficed so far to curb thousands of demonstrators who are demanding "freedom to put the aggressors in their place."

About 10 medical prescriptions are filled every second on the average at drug counters in the U.S.

Iran Charges Iraq With Aggression

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—The foreign ministry charged over the weekend that neighboring Iraq is guilty of border aggression, and warned that Iran will use "every possible means" to protect its rights.

The Iranian broadcast said that only firm action by the Tehran government has sufficed so far to curb thousands of demonstrators who are demanding "freedom to put the aggressors in their place."

Nicaraguan Guard Pursuing Invaders

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Patrols of the Nicaraguan National Guard are reported pursuing a new band of invaders from neighboring Honduras.

The Nicaraguan government indicated the band was small, calling it "a limited number of rogues who will fall into the hands of the National Guard from one minute to the other."

The communiqué added the invasion "need not cause unrest or provoke alarm."

Rep. Powell Jr. Wants Fairness for Gamblers

NEW YORK (AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-NY) says he soon will start submitting to the Congressional Record one name a week of Harlem gamblers whom city police ignore.

Powell, a Negro, said Sunday night that police paid only Negro bookies in Harlem. He told a rally of more than 1,000 persons that he knows of 13 Italians operating numbers games in Harlem without police interference.

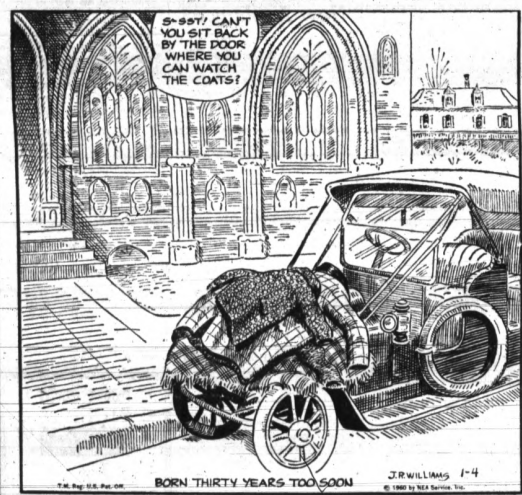

"I am against numbers in any form," Powell, a clergyman, declared from the pulpit of his Abyssinian Baptist church. "But until the day when numbers is wiped out in Harlem—I hate to say this from the pulpit—I am going to fight for the Negro having the same chance as an Italian."

Plan to Arraign Hargrove Today

Details Still Lacking in Man's Confessions of Clark Slaying

PAINEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Floyd E. Hargrove was scheduled for arraignment in municipal court today on a first-degree murder charge in the sniper slaying of the man whose wife he loved.

Although Hargrove admitted shooting Charles R. Clark, 33, through a kitchen window of the Clark's home in nearby Mentor Christmas, 1958, no weapon has been recovered and there are conflicting details in his account, authorities said.

Hargrove, 35-year-old delivery truck driver and gospel worker, was arrested three hours after Clark, a Sunday school superintendent and Boy Scout leader, was struck in the right temple by a rifle shot.

Clark's beautiful brunette wife, Lela, 35, and Hargrove, a divorced father of five, admitted an eight-month love affair that broke off a few weeks ago, Sheriff William B. Evans said.

Mrs. Clark, mother of four, was not implicated in the shooting in any way, authorities said. She spent the weekend with her children at the home of Clark's parents in Rochester, N.Y.

At first Hargrove denied the killing, then a week ago he admitted it. But he was unable to produce the rifle and the detector tests indicated his confession was false. Released last Tuesday he went to his mother's home in Toledo where he was re-arrested New Year's Day. Saturday he made a second confession.

National Congress Opens Wednesday; Will Face Problems

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislators will come to grips with a string of politically explosive issues in a new election-year session of Congress starting Wednesday.

Leaders of both parties have signaled for full speed ahead, in hopes of winding up the session before the opening of the Democratic national convention in Los Angeles on July 11.

Many of the issues have a familiar ring—civil rights, federal aid for education, interest rates, defense spending, budget balancing, minimum wage rates, foreign aid, and farm programs.

In another familiar field, housing, Rep. Albert Rains (D-Ala.) proposed Sunday a billion-dollar government advance for purchase of FHA and GI loans on lower priced homes. He said he will introduce an emergency home ownership bill to make more mortgage funds available.

Democrats outnumber Republicans 281 to 132 in the House, with four vacancies. In the Senate the lineup is 53 Democrats to 35 Republicans. But in both branches the Democratic margin falls short of the two-thirds majority required to override a presidential veto.

President Eisenhower used his veto power with telling effect last year, forcing the Democrats either to compromise or to give up.

on some of the measures they face.

Americans for Democratic Action called on congressional leaders Sunday not to let the President's budget "take precedence over genuine solutions of the nation's most important problems."

Samuel H. Beer, national chairman of ADA, which describes itself as an independent liberal political organization, said that "legislative policies of appeasement and compromise have produced neither good legislation nor clear issues."

WELL-WATCH NIXON

On the contrary, he said, they have "benefited only the conservative cause generally and Richard Nixon specifically."

Vice President Nixon, the Senate's presiding officer, appears to have a clear field for the GOP presidential nomination now that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York has decided against entering the race.

One inevitable result will be to sharpen the attention focused on Nixon's activities in the Senate and the role he plays in shaping the administration's legislative program.

32 Spill Out Life on State Roads to Lead Nation

A blood-stained cloud of death hung over Michigan's highways today after the state led the nation to a New Year's weekend record high for traffic fatalities.

Michigan won its dubious championship by counting 32 dead. Texas was the nearest "competitor." Twenty-seven died there.

The grim national record toll for the three-day holiday came as the count soared far in excess of the preholiday estimate of 320.

Wrecked Cars Grim Sight; 5 Women Were Returning From Dance

SAGINAW (U.P.)—I have seen cars smashed in train accidents but I have never seen anything as bad as this.

Deputy Sheriff Dwayne Bullard looked grimly at the twisted metal on U. S. Highway 10 and tried to figure out how it happened.

Five young women, homeward bound from a dance, were killed in one car. Two men died in the other. All lived in communities in the Saginaw area.

No one survived the crash early Sunday on the two-lane highway 6 1/2 miles northwest of Saginaw.

Miss Clark Purves, 23, a secretary at the Dow Chemical Co. in Midland, was driving one car. She and her girl friends had left a night club near here after a night of dancing.

They thought dancing would be a good way to close the holidays. All would have to be back at work today.

LIST OF DEAD

Killed with Miss Purves were Miss Joyce Rolfs, 25, a kindergarten teacher at Midland; Miss Susan Robertson, 24, a fourth grade teacher at Midland; Miss Gladys Davis, 24, an employee of the Rodman Manufacturing Co. in Ithaca; and Miss Janet Lou Anderson, 24, formerly of Alpena, who was a stenographer at Dow Chemical's plant center in Midland.

Killed in the other car were Harlan MacLary, 28, the driver, and John Noppeletti, 24, both of Freeland. Both were unemployed and relatively did not know where they were going at the time of the crash—8 a.m.

Noppeletti was the father of three small children and his wife is expecting another child. MacLary had an artificial right eye.

Sheriff's investigators said they were continuing their probe into the cause of the crash. They said it occurred on a sweeping curve. There had been a snow flurry an hour before and the pavement was wet but not icy.

The car occupied by the men, officers said, apparently swerved at high speed into the opposite lane and was struck broadside by the women's car.

Howard P. Schaller, 36, of Sheldahl, a suburb of Saginaw, told deputies he saw a flash of light and drove off the pavement to avoid hitting the wrecking.

The cars did not catch fire.

"When I came around the curve I saw what looked like fog ahead of me," said Schaller. "I guess it was dust from the crash still settling."

Miss Davis, Miss Anderson and Noppeletti died at the scene. The others died soon afterwards at hospitals.

Before she died at 5:30 a.m., Miss Robertson, in moments of consciousness, was able to identify herself and companions and give their addresses.

Deputy Sheriff James H. LaDouce said, "She couldn't tell me how it happened."

Argentine Visit by Ike Probable in February

Part of 4-Nation Tour of Latin America; 9-Day Rest Will End Tuesday

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (U.P.)—Fresh from his marathon swing through Europe, Asia and Africa, President Eisenhower is expected to visit Buenos Aires late next month as part of a four-nation Latin American tour.

Foreign Minister Di Genes Taborda announced Sunday night that Eisenhower will arrive in the Argentine capital Feb. 24 or 25 for a two-day visit. He made the disclosure after conferring with Argentine President Arturo Frondizi.

There was no confirmation of the visit from Washington, but reports have been circulating in the U. S. capital that Eisenhower plans to visit Uruguay, Argentina and Chile after visiting Brazil's new capital, Brasilia, in late February.

In August, Ga., where the President is vacationing, press secretary James C. Hagerty would not confirm the Argentine announcement. Last week Hagerty told reporters a Latin American tour was under study.

Earlier reports from Rio de Janeiro said Eisenhower was expected to fly from the United States to Brasilia, in east central Brazil, then fly on to Rio for a brief visit.

According to the Rio reports, the President would then sail aboard a U. S. cruiser to Montevideo, Uruguay, and Buenos Aires, then fly to Santiago, the Chilean capital.

Relations between the United States and Brazil worsened last year when President Juscelino Kubitschek's government refused to put into effect economic reforms advocated by the International Monetary Fund as a condition for the granting of credits and eventual U. S. loans to Brazil.

At Augusta, President Eisenhower will end a nine-day working vacation Tuesday with his budget and State of the Union messages in just about the form in which they will go to Congress.

Eisenhower will fly back to Washington for whatever final polishing still may be required. Sessions with key advisers over the weekend could conclude the message late next fiscal year.

The President personally will deliver the State of the Union message to Congress on Thursday. It sets forth the administration's plans and program for the year ahead.

Seeking Burglars Who Took $16,000 in Goods From Doctor's Home

Southfield police are looking today for thieves who looted the home of a Southfield physician Saturday night, escaping with about $16,000 worth of jewelry, furs, household appliances and frozen foods.

Dr. Nathaniel Feldman of 3529 Tannock Circle told police that his wife's pink coat and pink slacks, together worth $15,000, jewelry worth $5,000, dresses, suits, a clock radio and food-stuffs from a home freezer were missing.

The thieves missed a 6 1/2 carat wedding band valued at $15,000, which was hidden between men's shirts in a dresser drawer.

The doctor said he and his wife left the house at about 6:15 p.m. Saturday to visit relatives and returned at 12:30 a.m. Sunday to find the house had been ransacked.

The thieves had entered by breaking a window in the side door and turning the lock.

Dr. Feldman is chief of obstetrics at Brent General Hospital, Detroit, and has offices at 11420 Mack Ave., Detroit.

Read All About Fabulous Sixties!

What lies ahead for Michigan in the coming decade, which may be hailed as the Fabulous Sixties?

The Associated Press, for The Pontiac Press, posed this question in a well-informed panel of experts representing such diversified fields as politics, labor, research, industry, agriculture and conservation.

This 16-part series starts today, on page 17.

"Originally the law had the purpose of protecting an occasional innocent child born in adultery, but it soon shifted and supports a great many immoral and adulterous homes," the judge said.

"It is time, we faced the fact that we are fostering illegitimacy instead of deterring it," he said.

"Isolated cases of human error are deserving of sympathetic assistance, but continuing adulterous living and promiscuity are very harmful."

Judge Moore's demand for change grew out of the case of local parents who claimed they should not have to continue their support or reimburse the state for aid to their 23-year-old daughter who is mothering her 11-month-old illegitimate child.

The parents claimed, and Judge Moore agreed, that they should be relieved of the obligation to help in that they offered and the daughter refused their offer of support and shelter when they objected to her late husband.

Ritchie's Only Spooning Now, but Just You Wait

LONDON (U.P.)—Mrs. Betty Sugrue, wife of an Irish strongman, said today they are grooming their 13-month-old son Ritchie to be "the strongest man in the world."

While she spoke, little Ritchie was grappling with an iron bar trying to bend it with his jaws. By way of a warmup, he grabbed a spoon and bent it back and forth.

By the time Ritchie is three his parents expect to be ready to match him against anyone his age in England in a test of strength for a $1,000 purse. By the time he is 21, they hope, he will be stronger than anyone else alive.

Kennedy, Humphrey Relate History to Battle in Wisconsin

FROM OUR NEWS WIRE

WASHINGTON—Two announced candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination appeared certain today to wage a major battle in Wisconsin.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today he considers the April 5 Wisconsin primary "the heart and core of my political prospects." Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said he knows of no reason why he would not enter the same contest. Both have campaigned widely in the state.

Kennedy's formal announcement Saturday mentioned only his entry in the New Hampshire primary, in which he is not likely to have opposition. He said Sunday he will announce within four or five weeks whether he will file in Wisconsin and other states.

Humphrey said in an interview he believes he will win in Wisconsin and added: "The Wisconsin primary is at the very center of my efforts. It is the heart and core of my political prospects."

Democratic insiders rate Kennedy the strongest contender for the Democratic presidential nomination but Sen. Stuart Symington commands surprising strength in a survey indicated today.

A poll of state Democratic leaders across the nation placed the Missouri Democrat a close second behind Kennedy even though Symington's campaign plans are undecided.

Much farther behind came Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Adlai Stevenson (Ill.), and Humphrey is in that order.

United Press International queried party chieftains or national committee men in 26 states on the status of the race after round one of the bidding.

Few of the party leaders were willing to name a single favorite this far in advance.

Kennedy said Sunday in a radio-television interview that he would run in representative primaries. Humphrey is willing to enter them.

Kennedy said he was confident the two would be running against each other in at least two primaries and that he expected to win.

But he declined to issue any challenge to Humphrey, saying he would prefer to "let Sen. Humphrey decide where he is going to run." As for the Wisconsin contest, Kennedy said "I know of no reason why I might not enter that, or many other primaries."

Rules for Work Issue Seems to Be Shelved

Much Praise Heaped on Nixon for Forcing 'Voluntary' Contract

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The eight-month steel dispute was settled today.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, looking tired and haggard, announced that the United Steelworkers Union and the industry have "voluntarily" accepted terms recommended by himself and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The secretary made his announcement to newsmen assembled in the banquet room of the Sheraton-Carlton Hotel after a 22-hour continuous negotiating session.

Mitchell, flanked by President David J. McDonald of the U.S.W., and the chief industry negotiator, PITTSBURGH (U.P.)—An informed source told The Associated Press today that the new steel-labor agreement reached in Washington provides for an estimated 20-cent hourly package increase over the next 30 months.

The source, who asked not to be identified, said the work rules issues, which the industry had long insisted was a major requirement for any settlement, "has been shelved for all practical purposes."

As a result, he said, the differences between the parties were narrowed to the point where the government-recommended settlement was accepted voluntarily.

COMMITTEE CALLED

McDonald said the union's Wage Policy Committee had been summoned to meet in Washington at 2 p.m. Tuesday. It will present the settlement terms to the committee.

Mitchell said that pending ratification by both sides the terms would be withheld.

Without going into the terms, McDonald said, the settlement means peace and prosperity for the steelworkers. He added that the union is "sound, safe and secure."

Cooper said in a statement that "categorically we are relieved that this controversy is over and that" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Gifts From the Heart Were Perfect Ones

By RUTH MILLETT

No matter how much money was spent on Christmas gifts and how many women-hours were spent in shopping for just the right gift for individuals who "have everything," some of the nicest gifts this year, all over the year, were:

The chronic and trays—cradledly shaped, the sewing baskets made of jagged leon cream carvings, the patchwork held together with big, uneven stitches, the gaudy plaided and patterned by first and second graders or made in Cub Scout or Brownie troops for "mom."

The invitation to spend a day with a family—received by an older person living alone, by a working girl living in a rooming house or efficiency apartment or by a boy in one of the armed services.

The holiday visit made to a patient in a hospital or a resident of a home, for the aged. It was unburied and gracious enough to induce for the first time this year convince the one cut off from the by the major U.S. auto manufacturers and good spirits of a family.

ly Christmas that he was not for-

The gift painstakingly made by hand from someone who had little to spend, but who never let that be a reason for cutting out Christmas giving.

The impractical, romantic gifts received from husbands by hard-working, budget-minded wives who would never buy such extravagant bits of feminine frippery for themselves—heart-dilating reminders that a man who can't give his wife everything wishes that he could.

The gift—whatever it was—that a child was so pleased with having selected and paid for out of his own allowance that he begged, "Open my present first."

Those were, all of them, truly perfect Christmas gifts.

Four separate makes of cars—each offering from 6 to 24 different series and models—were produced and marketed for the first time this year by the major U.S. auto manufacturers and good spirits of a family.

Tanzy Egg Dressing With Add Oomph to Potato

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Even in cold weather potato salad appears on your table, doesn't it? Just be sure to take care of it and keep it well chilled so that it will be safe eating.

Mrs. Wesley A. Mackey suggests this tangy dressing for your next batch of potato salad. We think it would be good for cabbage salad also.

POTATO SALAD DRESSING

By Mrs. Wesley A. Mackey

1 egg
1 cup sugar
1 cup vinegar
Juice of 1 lemon
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 cup water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Beat eggs. Add other ingredients. Cook over low heat until thick, stirring often. Pour over cubed cold potatoes and onions.

Married in Candlelight

Dr. Joseph Chapman read the candlelight nuptials of Gail Turner and Donald Lee Lingo Wednesday evening, at Bethany Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Turner Jr. of Baldwin Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lingo of Los Angeles, Calif.

Robert Williams was soloist and Edna Sutter played organ selections.

A white orchid centered sprays of stephanotis mounted on the white prayer book held by the bride. Her ballroom-length wedding gown was of white chantilly lace, a pearl-trimmed crown held up by veil.

Carol Lee Turner was her sister's honor maid. Her dress of blue chiffon over tulle was complemented by a nosegay of pink rosebuds.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Michael, to be best man. Guests were seated by Tommy Turner.

Mrs. Turner greeted guests at the dinner-reception at Devon Gables wearing a beige dress. Mrs. Lingo chose a beige suit. Both mothers wore orchids.

After a brief honeymoon, the couple will live in Pontiac.

California, DePaul, Kentucky Are Beaten

Big Powers Fall Along Way

By The Associated Press

California's prideful Bears and clutch-shooting Southern California are at it again tonight in a college basketball rematch of Saturday's 65-75 USC victory that snuffed Cal's 25-game winning streak.

Meanwhile Cincinnati, the unchallenged national leader now that California has stubbed its toe, makes ready for a two-game road trip signaling its plunge into full-scale Missouri Valley Conference play.

The California-Southern California meeting, on the same Los Angeles court where the Trojans sprang their string-snapper Saturday, actually is a rubber game. Cal, which had won nine straight this season, last building up a 16-game streak in its rush to the NCA championship last March, topped Southern Cal 65-41 in overtime in the semifinals of the Los Angeles classic last Tuesday.

The Trojans, now 8-3 and sure to join the elite in the national rankings this week, got the job done with a smooth-shooting rally after failing to hit from the field in the game's first seven minutes. Cal's loss left Cincinnati, better known as Oscar Robertson and Friends, with a solid top ranking and the longest major streak—more than 11 games. The Bearcats rolled to their 10th straight this season by shaking away from Dayton's ball control for a 70-63 decision Saturday as "Big O" scored 32 for a 40.7 season average.

Along with the other major clubs, the Bearcats get down to the serious business of attempting to defense of their Missouri Valley title this week. They travel to Wichita Thursday and Tulsa on Saturday.

The way things have been happening, there's a roadblock looming ahead for the best of them. Hardly through the preconference period, only four major schools remain unbeaten—one of the scrawniest perfect record lists in recent years. With Cincinnati (10-0), the others are Texas A&M (6-0), Villanova (7-0) and LaSalle (6-0). And some of the latter-dayers have been tested by a rated power.

Besides California, DePaul of Chicago slipped from the all-winning class over the weekend losing 75-74 to Louisville.

In other significant games, ninth-ranked Bradley crushed sixth-ranked St. Louis 85-64 in a showdown meeting of Cincinnati's two rivals in the Missouri Valley and Georgia Tech, 100-ranked, established itself as top banana in the Southeastern conference by whipping Kentucky on the Wildcats' home floor, 82-71.

For other teams to watch try Oregon State, now 9-1 with a nine-game streak after whipping Washington 49-38, and Miami (Fla.) 11-1 after going into overtime to edge South Carolina 107-106.

They join the likes of West Virginia and Utah, both 10-1, Detroit (11-1), Illinois (7-1), and Ohio State and Wake Forest (both 7-1), who established themselves earlier.

Triple Winner in Austria

Skiing Honors to Bavarian

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—A 17-year-old skier from Bavaria has sparked the hopes of the central European ski nations of capturing Olympic laurels from the dominating Scandinavians this time at Squaw Valley, Calif.

West Germany's Maximilian "Max" Bolkart, triple national champion and top scorer in numerous international events, will head the all-German team at Squaw Valley as No. 1 challenger to the world's best ski jumpers from Finland and Norway.

Bolkart, a blond, 58 all-around athlete from the Bavarian ski resort of Oberstdorf, topped his career by winning three out of four Austrian-German team events in Austria.

The tournament, however, was marred by a last-minute withdrawal of top jumpers from Russia, East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia in protest against the refusal of Austria to display the East German flag in the last pre-Olympic dress rehearsal. Austria, capturing Olympic laurels from the dominating Scandinavians this time at Squaw Valley, Calif.

The walkout robbed 43 jumpers from Austria, West Germany, Sweden, Finland, France, Switzerland, Canada and Yugoslavia of the chance to match their skills with such stars as Russia's Nikolai Shanov and East Germany's Helmuth Reckinger.

Both West and East German experts were worried over the future of the projected all-German five-man Olympic jump team.

Duluth Skier Keeps His Snowflake Title

WESTBY, Wis. (AP)—Gor Kollarek of Duluth, Minn., rated a top contender to win a gold medal as a member of the U. S. Olympic ski team successfully by winning the 37th annual Snowflake ski tournament.

Kollarek was the only skier to go over the 200-foot mark on Anderson Hill with leaps of 198 and 210 feet for 213.1 points. Willie Erickson of Iron Mountain, Minn., another Olympic hopeful competing in the Senior class with Kollarek, was runner-up with 198 and 191 feet for 213 points.

Jack Bettel of Lapham, Mich., was third with jumps of 199 and 180 feet for 204. Robert Wedin of Iron Mountain, won the Junior division title on jumps of 192 and 198 feet for 218.9 points.

Rams, Shamrock Jan. 9 Tilt Marks Week's Action

SCL Resumes Play Tuesday

Rested and completely relaxed, and, as of the present, are contented entirely with their own league opposition. Note, so far, has scheduled any outside contests. However, all squads kept in shape with daily drills.

For the first time in many years the parochials have passed up competition in holiday tournaments.

and the Ravens from Highland Park St. Benedict. Pontiac has won three straight. Pontiac St. Michael Shamrock are in and place (11), followed by St. Frederick and three others at 1-1, and Royal Oak St. Mary, without a win (0-3).

Six clubs will be in action Tuesday, and Friday Jan. 8 with the week's spotlight turned full on a Saturday night encounter between the Rams and Shamrock. This big battle will take place on the Pontiac Central High court.

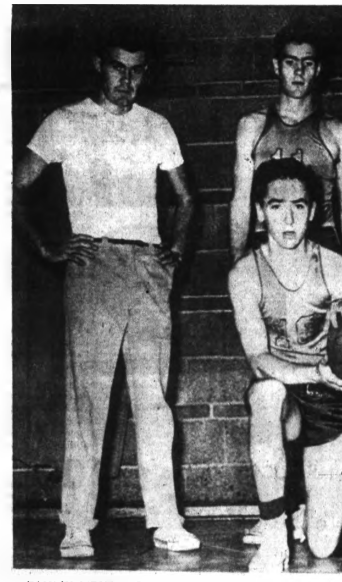

Rams' Tuesday night foes are St. Rita's Vikings. This tilt is set for the St. Frederick floor. Varsity game starts at 8:15. Coach Gene Wright indicated today his crew was ready to go, to all strength. He expected to use the same starters as in the surprise upset, Dec. 18 at the hands of St. Clement.

Shamrock's entrance St. James at Madison Junior High. Jim Niebauer's five, thumped by co-leader St. Benedict, last time out, aims to rebound against the club OLSM smacked down, 50-43, on Dec. 12. There may be some starting changes for the north siders. Starters probably will include Duke Williams at one guard, replacing Don Mountain.

While both city parochials should be rated over their guests, in the SCL, ratings don't always figure. No. 10 can look for interesting clashes in each game.

Only other Tuesday SCL game sends RO St. Mary to St. Clement, where the Crusaders are favored.

Exactly only club that has missed holiday practice till players went to their homes for Christmas, will not be back until Thursday night, take on RO St. Mary at Royal Oak. Friday night, while Ravens host the Crusaders and St. James entertains the Ritas.

BACK IN ACTION—St. Michael and most of the other Suburban Catholic college teams swing right back into league action tomorrow night. The Shamrocks will be host to St. James. Coach Jim Niebauer is counting on these four overhauls to keep his team in the race. They are, left to right, kneeling Tom Dabbs and Pat Campbell. Standing, left to right, are George Dierke and Art Rohak. Campbell will miss the game because of a fractured bone in his left thumb.

MIAA Action Starts Titans After 10th Tonight

By United Press International

Powerful University of Detroit meets dangerous Creighton University tonight in Detroit and then travels Saturday to South Bend to meet the Irish of Notre Dame.

The Titans have lost only once, a tough defeat to highly ranked Indiana 10 stars, and hold down the 11th position nationally in college rankings.

A pair of wins this week could vault the Titans up high among the 10 top teams.

In other state basketball activity this week, Defending MIAA champion Iowa Saturday winners over Wheaton, 61-48, on a basket by Warren Vandenberg with three seconds remaining, takes on the Dukes next Saturday.

Adrian visits Kalamazoo Saturday in another league tilt while MIAA trophies have several non-conference games scheduled. Northwestern Illinois faces Central Michigan and Eastern Illinois visits Eastern Michigan Friday in Intercollegiate Athletic Association games. The teams switch opponents for games here in the state Saturday.

Michigan Green Wednesday, and travels to St. Louis, Mo., for a game with Washington University on Saturday.

W. Virginia Coach Hasn't Been Told About Dismissal

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—"All I know is what I read in the newspapers," says Art Levine about reports that the West Virginia University Athletic Council has recommended his dismissal as football coach.

"Nobody has told me a thing about it. I'll continue to operate as head coach unless I'm otherwise notified," he said yesterday.

Sports Editor Mickey Purrier of reported Saturday he learned of the Dec. 12 recommendation from a reliable source.

Don Fulmer vs. Akins

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP)—Don Fulmer, younger brother of NBA midweight champ Gene Fulmer, has signed for a 10-round bout Jan. 28 at St. Louis against Virgil Akins.

Other standouts for the Major All-Stars were All-America guard Bill Burrell of Illinois, fullback Merlin Priddy of Texas Christian and guard Jim O'Brien of Boston College.

Burrell scooped up two fumbles that led to scores. Priddy scored on runs of 37, 37 and 1 yards to be acclaimed the most valuable player.

All-American Bowl to Stay

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—An official of the All-American Bowl isn't too upset over the 53-0 walloping the Major College All-Stars dealt their brethren from smaller schools Saturday.

Don Vosberg, co-director of the bowl game for Tucson's Optimist Club, said yesterday the game will continue with the same format.

"We would be alarmed if it were the second runaway game in a row," he said. "I think the 1959 game (won by Majors 14-0) is more typical of this bowl."

Biggest trouble for the Small College All-Stars, as Vosberg saw it, was their lack of an outstanding quarterback. This will be avoided in the future, he said, by careful study of movies before players are named.

All-America quarterbacks, Richie Lucas of Penn State and Fran Tarkenton of Minnesota, led the little All-Stars' defense with quick thrusts through the air and on the ground.

Lucas passed for two touchdowns, set up another with a 39-yard pass and scored a fourth on a seven-yard run. Curci scored on a 30-yard sprint in the third period.

Other standouts for the Major All-Stars were All-America guard Bill Burrell of Illinois, fullback Merlin Priddy of Texas Christian and guard Jim O'Brien of Boston College.

Burrell scooped up two fumbles that led to scores. Priddy scored on runs of 37, 37 and 1 yards to be acclaimed the most valuable player.

O'Brien, spearheading a line that held the little All-Stars to 182 yards, was voted outstanding lineman.

Only once did the little All-Stars cross their rivals' 25-yard marker. That was when Bill Schockley of West Chester Teachers, Pa., picked off a Penn State pass and dashed 35 yards for a tally.

It was nullified by an offside penalty.

Hollywood to Build Film Museum in '60

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Looks as if 1960 will be the year the long-awaited motion picture and television museum is established. If plans work out, the multi-million-dollar monument to the film industry will become another Southern California tourist attraction, equal to Disneyland and Marlineland.

Producer Saul Lesser, chairman of the museum committee, announced this week the museum commission has voted to appropriate land near the famous Hollywood Bowl as the site of the project. Falling in that, the busy corner of Sunset Boulevard and Vine Street may be subdivided.

"There is no question the museum will be started this year," Lesser said. "But it will be much more than a museum."

"The first thing tourists to this area want to see is a movie being made. Under present conditions it is not possible for them to do so unless they know someone in the studios."

"A major part of the museum will be a huge sound stage where movies will be filmed. Spectators—some 600 at a time—will be seated behind a one-way glass partition to watch the entire process unfold. Everything will be planned, including the preparation for actual filming, which takes up 50 per cent of the time."

"Nothing will be left to chance," Lesser said. The museum is nonprofit, and an integral part of the Los Angeles County program of parks and museums.

Movie companies, however, will not lose money by filming at the museum site.

"Producers and studios will use our facilities without charge, and would be scheduled far enough in advance for proper preparation," he explained.

"In addition to the working sets, historical records will be displayed, along with famous props, costumes, scripts and other documents. We will capture the great events of film history over the past 65 years, providing a research center for movie-makers and the cinematography departments of local universities. There also will be a theater for significant pictures."

Lesser, who has produced more than 120 movies himself, said television would be well-represented, too.

"We will create a real studio atmosphere," he concluded. "When tourists return home they can tell their friends they've been to a studio and seen a movie in the making."

"The idea will be good for movies, too."

State Soldier Is Killed by a Train in France

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—Pfc. William E. Bowman of Atlanta, 34th, was killed Dec. 29 near Bussac, France, when a train hit his jeep.

U.S. Army headquarters said Bowman failed to stop at a grade crossing. He is survived by his father, James Bowman, of Atlanta.

U.S. Business Shuns Afghanistan

Ike Puts Kabul on Map—a Bit

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP)—When little foothold for a private builder President Eisenhower dropped into Kabul for six hours on his Asian tour, he probably made a lot of tries.

People aware that such a place even exists.

Even to those in the know, Kabul has always been considered a sort of end of the line.

Some are aware that the United States has given Afghanistan about 116 million dollars worth of aid and that the Soviet bloc figure in this competition to use Afghanistan or keep it in the totals about 250 million dollars worth of rubles so far.

What are the chances for American business here?

The answer appears to be: not much.

SCOUTS COME, GO . . .

Economic officials at the U.S. embassy say some American business scouts have come in, looked the country's economic resources around, gone away—and nothing more has been heard from them.

Our Convention Case to Open

Ex-Official to Ask for Reversal of Decision Against Revision

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Supreme Court will hear arguments tomorrow on the plea of a Port Huron lawyer for a new interpretation of the rules on calling a state constitutional convention.

Peter F. Bradt, a former deputy attorney general, will argue that a convention was adequate. A majority of the voters approved calling a convention, but the proposal lost out because it lacked approval of a majority of the citizens voting in the election for governor.

The Supreme Court is being asked to reverse a decision 10 years ago which upheld the State Board of Censorship's ruling that a convention proposal was defeated in 1948 even though a majority voting on the question favored it.

Bradt argues that each election is separate and that the outcome of a vote on the question of calling a convention should not depend upon size of the vote for governor. Bradt's petition is being opposed by Solicitor General Samuel J. Torina.

The Supreme Court is opening its January term today. It will be the final day in office for Justice John D. Voelker, who is resigning to devote all his time to writing novels. Voelker was elected last April to an eight-year term, but he will serve only one day of it.

Wayne County Circuit Judge Theodore Souris is expected to be sworn in as Voelker's successor tomorrow.

Soviet's Pravda Slaps U.S. N-Test Decision

MOSCOW (UPI)—The American decision to abandon the moratorium on nuclear tests has alarmed all "people of good will," the Communist Party newspaper Pravda said yesterday.

The newspaper, in the first direct Soviet comment on the U.S. decision, warned that it "cannot facilitate the success of the Geneva disarmament talks."

Oklahoma Governor, 33, Chosen U. S. Jaycees List 10 Outstanding Young Men

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma Gov. J. Howard Edmondson, who at 33 became the nation's youngest governor, was named today by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce as one of its 10 outstanding young men of 1959.

Others on the list included prominent educators, political figures, space scientists and a magazine editor from seven states and Washington, D. C. They will be honored at an awards congress Jan. 15-16 in Hartford, Conn.

Edmondson was cited by the Jaycees as a reform candidate for governor who "swept by comparison from many seasoned politicians by record margins."

The other nine outstanding young men named by the Jaycees are:

Rep. Daniel K. Inouye, 33, Honolulu—who "became the first American of Japanese descent to be a member of the U.S. House of Representatives."

Russian Symphony Cheered

By CLAIR FOX
NEW YORK (UPI)—The Russian conductor looked like Beethoven, but behaved fiercer. His men from Moscow wore white ties, tailcoats and identical shiny new shoes.

Their music was out of another century—works Tchaikovsky composed for the czar.

But the sounds that filled Carnegie Hall last night came from the Communist world.

AUDIENCE STANDS

The notes soared like musical sparks through the great hall and won the stubby little conductor and his musicians a standing ovation, thunderous applause and cries of "bravo" from the sellout audience.

That was the reception given the Moscow State Symphony at the gala opening of its U.S. tour, marking the first appearance ever staged in this country by any Russian symphony.

The program was devoted to Tchaikovsky's works, except for the booming opening renditions of "The Star Spangled Banner" and the Soviet anthem, and several encores by orchestra and soloists.

The orchestra was made up of just over 90 musicians, four of them women in dark evening gowns. Their male colleagues all wore new black shoes with identical white stitching over the insteps. They acquired the shoes in Moscow before flying here last week.

After tuning up in the corridor just outside Carnegie Hall, the famous house of music built by Andrew Carnegie, one of America's great 19th century capitalists, the musicians filed onto the stage promptly at 8 p.m.

From then until the last note died away at 11:20, Konstantin Ivanov, "people's artist" of the U.S.S.R., and chief conductor of the symphony, held the audience in his musical grasp.

He conducted with a baton but without a score and threw his entire body into the task of delivering Tchaikovsky's "Fifth Symphony," "First Piano Concerto" and "Capriccio Italien" to New York in true Russian style.

He jumped up and down, waved his arms and set his red hair flying every whichway with his vehement style of conducting. And he scowled all the while. It was not until the last burst of applause came that Ivanov managed a smile—and it was big one.

Kelvinator Plans Not to Hold Up New Appliances

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Kelvinator Division of American Motors Corp. announced today that it will no longer introduce new appliances (comps) on an annual basis but rather will offer new models "as soon as they are ready."

"The basic for product change will be a genuine product improvement rather than calendar dates," said Kelvinator General Manager, D. A. Chapman.

He said the new policy "reflects Kelvinator's responsiveness to the growing consumer reaction against the artificiality and economic waste inherent in annual model changes that do not improve basic usefulness and economy."

State Firm Gets Contract

CHICAGO (UPI)—The General Services Administration announced today the award of a $330,283 contract to Dunn Construction Co. of Port Huron for alterations and repairs to the Federal Building, U.S. Courthouse and custom house at Port Huron.
