T-Men Haul In Red Records

Treasury Agents Take Subscription Lists From Daily Worker

NEW YORK (AP) — Treasury agents have hauled away subscription lists and other records from the government-seized offices of the Communist Daily Worker.

Removal of the records came after the government turned down as premature a cash bid for the seized property.

Harry Sacher, attorney for the newspaper, said yesterday's removal was by agreement. He said Treasury officials assured him the subscription lists would not be turned over to the FBI.

An internal revenue spokesman in Washington said the subscription cards contain data that "definitely relate to income" in the government's tax case.

The government seized offices of the Daily Worker and the Communist party Tuesday on income tax liens, claiming the party owes $389,265 in back taxes and the Worker $46,409.

Yesterday John J. Abt, attorney for the party, and Sacher offered $2,850 for the seized property. They pegged the blue of the property at that amount.

Drizzle to Threaten Easter Celebrants

Tomorrow's Easter bonnets will probably survive church services, the weatherman predicts, but a cold drizzle will begin in the afternoon or early evening.

Increasing cloudiness is expected, with somewhat warmer temperatures. Today's high of 42-48 will drop to 30-35 degrees tonight, rising again tomorrow to 52-58.

The Easter prediction is gloomier elsewhere, with forecasters fearful of heavy dust storms in Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Western Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

The only ideal parade ground in the nation, they add, will be San Francisco, where the sun will beam on marchers in 65 degree temperature.

Lowest Pontiac temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 25 degrees. At 2 p.m., the thermometer stood at 40 degrees.

Picketed Dairies Face Emergency Area Shortage

Women Pickets Injured as Truck Crashes Line at Romeo Plant

Milk supplies were at critical level in Pontiac today, with one major dairy reporting "only enough for babies," while sudden violence erupted elsewhere in the sixth day of the area's milk strike.

Major area supermarkets reported supplies of milk exhausted by noon, with small expectation that stocks will be replenished. Neighborhood stores are reported doling out limited quantities of milk to customers.

At Romeo this morning a blockade runner reportedly struck two women as he suddenly swerved into a picket line in an attempt to deliver milk cans loaded in his gravel truck. Neither woman was seriously hurt.

Other threats came from a possible clash between two rival milk-producing groups, one of which signed contracts with 26 metropolitan dairies yesterday.

Latest development in the conflict came in Flint, where members of the United Auto Workers Union for the first time voiced support of the 800 Fair Share farmers.

"If you need help, we are behind you 100 per cent," a spokesman told massed pickets.

The Borden Company here reported home deliveries today would be limited to families with small babies, as supplies on hand were cut to 20 per cent of normal.

Other dairies apparently face similar shortages, according to County Health director Dr. John D. Monroe, who said that emergency supplies may be set up following a meeting of state officials and milk-producing groups in Detroit this morning.

A supply of 9,600 gallons of milk at the MMPA receiving station in Ortonville was bottled up by 150 picketing farmers this morning, after an all-night vigil to prevent truckers from supplying the Pontiac area.

The Huron Dairy company, which maintains two depot stores, reported supplies were exhausted last night and there was no milk to be sold today.

Further action came from Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who moved to halt numerous reported attempts of Fair Share farmers to ambush truckers on state highways. He ordered troopers to protect the "free use of roads" and

Burial Place Like That of Christ's

But the stone closing the door of the Tomb of the Kings gives a good idea of the problem faced by the three women. Around the entrance of this tomb is an elaborate courtyard hewn out of solid rock to a depth of 25 feet below the ground and covering an area 84 feet long and 75 feet wide. From the courtyard a vestibule once supported by columns leads to the tomb entrance.

The door of the tomb is less than three feet high. In front of the door, a groove in the rock holds a stone nearly two feet thick and three feet in diameter.

The stone rolls back and forth in the groove, so that the entrance still can be "sealed," as the grave of Christ was sealed after his death.

The stone is so heavy that two men working together can hardly move it. Three frail women could never have moved it.

In the Tomb of the Kings, the bodies were placed in sepulchral vaults cut out of the rock opening from chambers farther inside. Above each is a small niche where candles or lamps were placed.

CANDLES ONLY LIGHT

Above them on the rock ceiling can be seen the soot from the smoke. These candles provided light for the ritual which the three women expected to perform on the body of Christ.

Although of the same type, the tomb of Christ probably was much smaller and simpler than the Tomb of the Kings.

For an ancient tomb resembling the size of the Tomb of Christ, the visitor may go to the so-called "Garden Tomb" outside the city wall.

Discovered in 1882, many believe this may be the tomb where Christ was buried, although there is little evidence to support the claim. This tomb seems to form part of an ancient Semitic cemetery extending into the property of a Dominican order nearby. Dominicans here still bury dead members of their order in these ancient tombs.

Hewn out of rock in a garden, the Garden Tomb was built to accommodate only three bodies.

Inside the door is a space for visitors to sit and look into the burial chamber. The apostles could have seen the grave clothes on the floor from the door.

Visiting these sites in the Holy City helps the pilgrim recapture the feeling which must have gripped the three women and the apostles when they saw that the stone had been rolled away and realized that "He is not here, for He is risen."

Soil Bank Plan Approved by Senate-House Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's soil bank program has won the expected approval of Senate-House conferees as part of $1,700,000,000 in election-year payments to farmers.

In addition to the $1,200,000,000 soil bank plan of paying farmers to take land out of production, the conference committee voted yesterday to authorize 500 million dollars additional for buying pork and other perishable commodities not eligible for regular price supports.

Still undecided, as the conferees went into session today, was whether to make soil bank participation voluntary, as the administration asked, or compulsory as the Senate voted.

The soil bank plan was Eisenhower's major recommendation for new farm legislation this year, but first the Senate, and since then the Senate-House conferees, have tied it in with rigid price supports and other provisions opposed by the administration. This has raised the threat of a presidential veto.

The soil bank plan, which has not yet come before the House, was approved yesterday in virtually the form agreed on by the Senate.

One section would provide $750,000,000 a year for four years as payments to farmers who cut back allotted production of cotton, wheat, corn, rice, tobacco and peanuts.

The other would provide up to $450,000,000 a year for farmers who contract to divert 25 to 30 million acres of other crop lands to grass, trees or similar soil-building practice.

Christians Throughout World Await Easter Sunrise

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

* * *

Easter, for Christians, is a season of joy after 40 days of Lenten fasting, a day of light and triumph after the darkness and sorrow of Calvary, a day to rid statues of their somber purple shrouds and proclaim Christ's majesty in glorious pageantry.

From Jerusalem to Rome, from New York's Fifth Avenue to the Grand Canyon and Hollywood Bowl, from Radio Free Europe transmitters to remote regions behind the Iron Curtain, Easter will be celebrated with sunrise services, solemn high masses, triumphant music, colorful processions and inspiring ritual.

SPECIAL SERVICES

And for the world of fashion, it is the day of the famed Easter Parade, a parade that has no bands but is loud with the flamboyance of style.

Roman Catholic and some Protestant denominations herald the Easter season today with special Holy Saturday services that feature the vigil before the tomb and the triumph of light over darkness, another symbol of the resurrection.

Catholic services are held in the evening, for the first time since the Middle Ages, and begin in a darkened church with the celebrant lighting the new fire and blessing the huge Easter candle, which is lit from the fire.

NEW RITE NOW

The services were switched from morning to evening by a recent Vatican decree that ordered a return to the ancient ritual as a convenience to most worshippers.

The fire-lighting ceremony will be held in the ancient churches of the Holy Land, in the august basilicas of the Vatican and in thousands of other churches throughout the world.

Pilgrims will travel by plane and train, car and foot—even by ski lift, to mountain tops for Easter sunrise services.

SUNRISE WORSHIP

Sunrise ceremonies will be held at a drive-in theater in Tallahassee, Fla., on the rim of the Grand Canyon in Arizona, atop Pike's Peak near Denver, Colo., in a wooden glen near Natural Bridge, Va., and at the Orange Bowl in Miami, the Hollywood Bowl in Los Angeles, at Memorial Stadium in Baltimore and Monument Circle in Indianapolis and in hundreds of other stadiums and auditoriums throughout the country.

Easter services of various denominations will be carried by many television stations and beamed behind the Iron Curtain by Radio Free Europe.

* * *

President and Mrs. Eisenhower will attend Easter services at the National Presbyterian Church in Washington and preside at egg-rolling festivities on the White House lawn the following day.

The Day in Birmingham

Election Interest Centers on 2 Commission Posts

BIRMINGHAM—Election of two city commissioiners promises to be the most interesting of the issues before Birmingham voters on Monday.

Mayor Charles Renfrew is only incumbent in the commission race. He rivals Carl F. Ingraham, planning board member, Donald K. Fill and Omar Hansen for the two vacant posts.

City clerk has expressed hope that the coral ballot paper which bears details of the three proposals attracts more attention than such proposals usually do. The bright color is aimed to boost the vote to equal that for the candidates, whose names are printed on blue ballot paper. Voting machines are being used at all voting places for the proposals and candidates.

City employes have already voted approval on the charter amendment proposal to change the retirement plan, and city officials have suggested the other two proposals, asking permission of voters to sell three lots in Adams Subdivision and to exchange the southerly portion of outlet A of Quarton Lake Estates.

* * *

Churches will be crowded with worshipers tomorrow according to indications of extra services added in many Protestant churches and the issue of tickets to church members in several churches.

St. James Episcopal Church follows the ticket method, to insure its members of seats.

Special services include a sunrise service at 7 a.m. at Our Shepherd Lutheran Church. Music at Ascension Lutheran Church will feature a violin and organ obligato by Mrs. Wallace Blide and David Leichtung.

A dinner dance is slated for tonight at Oakland Hills Country Club, with dancing to Jack Qualey's six-piece orchestra after 8 p.m. entertainment in the club lounge.

Comment in Bar About President Leads to Jail Cell

DENVER (AP) — A 35-year-old mine caretaker was in jail here today after failing to post a $1,000 bond on a federal charge of threatening President Eisenhower's life.

* * *

"I WAS WORRIED"

Stepp was quoted by reporters as saying, "I only called the FBI to warn them that the President of the United States may be assassinated.

"I was worried."

Schoel, however, said Stepp declared Monday night in a hotel bar at Buena Vista, Colo., in discussing the President, that "If I ever get close enough to him I'll kill him. I have a .30-.30 bullet for him."

Stepp was arrested at Glenwood Springs, Colo., Wednesday after a statewide alarm was broadcast for him.

* * *

Conviction on the charge would carry a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $1,000 fine. He was transferred here from Glenwood Springs yesterday.

3 Minors Jailed After Wild Chase

Three minors who led Pontiac Police on a two-mile chase through the city at speeds up to 75 miles an hour yesterday pleaded guilty this morning to charges of drunk and disorderly, reckless driving and unlawful possession of beer.

Driver of the car, 19-year-old Clarence Jackie Coker of Orion Township, pleaded guilty to reckless driving and possession of beer. # Socialite Cuts Wrists, Throat

Stewardess Saves Girl as Action Takes Place on Gotham-Bound Plane

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (INS)—Ann D. Mills, young socialite led by an unhappy romance to slash her wrists and throat aboard a Paris-to-New York airliner, rested in seclusion at her parents' home today.

She was taken to West Bethlehem last night after being released in her father's custody from the New York hospital where she was treated for superficial razor blade wounds and "emotional stress."

Miss Mills, 26, had barricaded herself in the powder room of a Pan American plane as it neared Idlewild Airport yesterday morning and slashed her wrists and throat.

Asked why she did it, the good-looking brunette replied bitterly: "Why does anybody try to do it? It was a man."

SAVED BY STEWARDESS

Miss Mills, daughter of Daniel Mills, industrial relations manager for Bethlehem Steel Corp., was saved by stewardess Doris Weltsek who broke into the powder room and found her, wearing only brassiere and panties, holding her streaming wrists under the faucets.

Miss Weltsek, 24, of New York, had been closely watching Miss Mills who had appeared emotionally upset. The stewardess said the girl had balked at boarding the plane after a stopover at Nova Scotia because "people are after me."

Miss Weltsek sat with Miss Mills on the plane and sought to calm and reassure her. But five minutes after Miss Mills went to the ladies room, the stewardess grew anxious. She forced her way in and dragged the bleeding girl out. A passenger, Dr. Robert Batterman of New York, gave first aid and administered oxygen.

Miss Mills had been in Paris 18 months studying and working as a secretary for an American firm. She was quoted as saying her romance in Paris with an American youth had been broken up.

Street to Become One-Way Monday

Patterson Street between Saginaw and Cass will become one-way westbound beginning Monday, according to City Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel.

He said the conversion from two-way traffic is to reduce congestion at the Auburn and Orchard Lake intersections at Saginaw Street.

It is expected that Orchard Lake will be converted one-way eastbound between Cass and Saginaw. Vanderstempel said he is conferring with state officials on the proposed change.

House Robbed of Money

Republicans Ask Probe in Thorpe License Case

LANSING (AP) — State Republican leaders today called for a grand jury investigation of charges made by a missing employe of the Secretary of State's office that she had to make contributions to the Democratic party in order to keep her job.

Secretary of State James Hare, a Democrat, branded the charge as false. He said a letter, written by Mrs. Anne Thorpe, missing manager of the St. Clair Shores license branch office, "makes some fantastic excuses for her conduct."

An audit, ordered by Hare after Mrs. Thorpe's disappearance March 2, showed her accountes were short $74,841.

Hare said yesterday Mrs. Thorpe had written a letter to her son, Frank, 23, in Van Dyke, a Detroit suburb. The letter was postmarked from Edwardsville, Ill., he said, and now is in the hands of the FBI.

Mrs. Thorpe, 42, disappeared March 2 with her husband, Floyd, 57, their 9-year-old daughter, Kay, and $74,841 in state funds. It is believed she fled to Mexico.

Despite Hare's statement, John Feikens, Republican state chairman, immediately demanded a thorough investigation and raised the possibility of a grand jury investigation in connection with the letter.

Meanwhile, authorities at Edwardsville said they had found no trace of Mrs. Thorpe there. They said the letter could have been mailed in Illinois by some one passing through the town, which is located on U.S. 66, on a direct route to Mexico City.

The Thorpe family was traced to the Windsor, Ont., Airport where they boarded a plane for Mexico City.

Milk Supply Drops to Critical Point

called for an end to milk-dumping episodes.

One driver yesterday reportedly sought refuge in a Dixie Highway gas station, where he was pursued by cars of pickets who chased away his convoy of rival farmers.

Pickets last night at Romeo reportedly tried to pull a trucker from his cab in an attempt to sneak milk into the beleaguered Borden Milk Company depot. The trucker apparently was persuaded to leave without delivering his milk.

In the incident at the Romeo plant this morning, the driver, Robert Currey, of Almont, as well as two other men in his truck, were taken to the Macomb County Prosecutor's office.

The injured women, Mrs. Phillip Lambert, of Capac, and Mrs. Edward Budnik, of Romeo, were released after treatment in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Mt. Clemens.

State Police at the Romeo post were alerted this morning by unverified reports that squads from Detroit, numbering up to 1,500, were on the way to prevent MMPA officials from removing strike-bound tank trucks. No trouble had occurred by noon today, police reported.

At the Ortonville blockade, maintained by 75 farmers at midnight last night, Fair Share Advisor Homer Martin, told rebels they were doing "a wonderful job."

He announced the FSBA had signed yesterday at $6 with two out-state dairies and hoped conferences today would add to the FSBA side in the quarrel.

"You're conducting this strike without violence," Martin said, "and that's the right way. Our protest is to get public approval of our cause, and not public condemnation."

He said that the MMPA price of $5 is not enough. "It will only prolong your agony," he claimed.

"We're going to fight it out—and it's going to hurt. Let's keep it clean, and let's keep it righteous. No matter what the outcome is, you have made the public aware of your just cause."

The number of blockaders reportedly had decreased to about 60 at 10 a.m. today.

Martin called the Romeo violence "attempted manslaughter" and demanded that the trucker, apparently an independent, be prosecuted. Action by police and a picket leader prevented the infuriated mob of about 25 pickets from mauling the man, according to state police.

Little action was taken by pickets in Pontiac yesterday, where companies reported only "one or two" deliveries came through. There was no violence here, police said.

Latest violence was reported at Grass Lake, where 150 to 200 pickets hemmed in a local dairyman's truck, opened the spigots and dumped the milk. A company official reportedly leveled a hot water hose at strikers, but they refused to leave.

Expect 7,000 to Vote in Monday's Election

A former commissioner and mayor, J. H. Patrick Glynn, will be hoping to win back the District 6 office from incumbent John E. Carry who captured it from him in the 1954 election.

The only issue confronting voters Monday will be a charter amendment to change the date of future general elections to the third Monday in April instead of the present first.

The amendment was recommended in January by City Clerk Ada R. Evans in order to allow sufficient time for voter registration betwen the March primary and the following April election.

If adopted, the charter amendment will allow registrants to have several days between the future elections in which to register.

A simple majority of those voting will decide the fate of the amendment as well as the election of the commissioners.

Vending Machine Looted in Restaurant Burglary

Nab Four Youths on Theft Counts

Petty Larceny Charges Brought Against Gang; Juvenile Involved

Four area youths and a juvenile companion have been arrested by Pontiac post State Police and charged with a string of petty larcenies, troopers said today.

Clifford L. Church, 17, of 197 S. Hospital St., and Gerald Wayne Shovan, 17, of 1965 Rosedale St., demanded examination on a breaking and entering charge yesterday before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle. The hearing was set for April 10.

Both were returned to jail after failing to furnish bond of $500 apiece.

Police said the youths' statements implicated Thomas L. McCoy, 17, of Drayton Plains, who pleaded guilty to simple larceny before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. LeFurgy and was fined $10 with $10 costs and placed on 90 days' probation.

William Boughner, 19, of 173 Norton St., waived examination on charges of receiving stolen property before Justice Dieterle. He was bound over to circuit court for appearance Monday. He failed to furnish bond of $1,000 and was returned to jail.

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (AP)—Rescuers last night brought out the charred bodies of three persons who died in the flaming crash of an Air Force C45 cargo plane carrying Air Force personnel home for Easter vacations.

* * *

Five persons were aboard the twin-engined craft when it crashed last night. The two survivors, seriously injured, were brought to a hospital here suffering from shock, burns and possible broken bones.

Ike Repeats 'No' to Red Chinese

Refuses to Recognize Commie Area or Okay Admission to U. N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower reportedly has restated—in emphatic terms—American refusal to recognize Communist China or to approve its admission to the United Nations.

* * *

Informants said yesterday the matter was raised by Canadian leaders during the little summit talks earlier this week at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Mexican leaders also took part in the three-nation conference, but reportedly were not involved in the U. S.-Canadian discussions on Red China.

Eisenhower was said to have worded his rejection of any change in U. S. policy toward Red China in virtually the same way as he had stated this government's views during a meeting with British Prime Minister Eden two months earlier.

Persons in a position to know what went on in the brief Canadian-American talk said Eisenhower asserted that American public opinion would not tolerate recognition of the Peiping regime, or U. S. acceptance of Red Chinese membership in the U. N.

Osteomylitis Strikes Baby Bitten by Pet

A spokesman at Johns Hopkins Hospital, where Thomas is a patient, said yesterday the youngster had developed osteomylitis near the knee. Doctors said the infection sometimes responds well to antibiotics.

Thomas was attacked by the margay, a member of the cat family, at his Beltsville Md., home last March 13. Walter Perry, 28, his father, said he had bought the cat believing it was an ocelot, which can be domesticated. Margays become wild when they reach maturity.

Ike's 'Open Skies' Inspection Proposal May Be Acceptable to Soviet Russia

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio said today Russia has accepted the basic idea of President Eisenhower's "open skies" aerial inspection plan and has proposed a three-months arms freeze to be followed by all-around cuts in conventional arms and armies.

* * *

The Russian proposal, as outlined by the official Soviet news agency Tass, calls for immediate agreement on reducing conventional armaments. The Soviets say this step "will facilitate agreement on prohibition of atomic and thermonuclear weapons and their removal from national armaments."

Russia made its proposal at the five - power U.N. disarmament talks in London, now closing their second week. The United States, Britain, France and Canada also are represented.

Although the Russian proposal was made in secret, some details had emerged from the conference. But the Tass report was the first broad public disclosure. The news agency gave these details:

After three months, the United States, Soviet Union and Red China begin cutting their armed forces to a level of 1 to 1½ million men each. Britain and France to 650,000 men each. The reductions would be completed in 1958.

Corresponding reductions in conventional armaments and military appropriations.

Creation of an international control agency to check on "fulfillment of obligations" at big ports and airfields, army bases and depots and munitions factories. The agency could make recommendations to the U.N. Security Council "on measures of preventing and stopping the actions of violators of the agreement."

A ban on atomic weapons in Germany.

* * *

Creation of a "zone of limitation" in a section of Europe including East and West Germany. Big Four powers to agree on how many troops they could station "on territories of other states in this zone."

To Seek Deer Hunters

HOUGHTON (AP)—The Keweenaw Sportsmen's Club has organized for an all-out search for four deer hunters believed to have drowned in Gratiot Lake last November. They were crossing the lake in a boat when they disappeared. The search will start when lake ice breaks up around April 24 and 175 are expected to participate. The four men lost were: Daniel Nowak, 30; Edward Van Popering, 50, and Theodore Lemanski, 36, all of Grand Rapids, and Leonard Gillette, 50, of Homewood, Ill.

Reds, Chiang Do Indirect Trading

State Department Says All Dealing Is Done Through Hong Kong

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign aid and State Department officials were agreed today that so far as they know any Nationalist-Red Chinese trading is handled through Hong Kong—not direct.

* * *

The issue was raised Monday when Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. told a Senate committee the Nationalists and the Reds were carrying on trade worth millions of dollars. He returned Thursday to add that any such dealings "took place through Hong Kong," a British crown colony on the Chinese mainland.

CONFLICTS WITH REPORT

This appeared to conflict, however, with a foreign aid report to Congress which listed Nationalist China as "importing country" for $1,300,000 worth of goods from Red China during the first eight months of 1955. Shipments to and from Hong Kong were listed separately in the report.

* * *

Foreign Aid Chief John B. Hollister said in a statement yesterday that the Nationalist imports shown in the report "were actually shipped from Hong Kong," and that he had no evidence of "any direct trade" between the two Chinese peoples.

"Future tables of this type will carry an appropriate footnote to prevent any misinterpretation of them," Hollister said.

Launch Formation of Hardware Group

Foundations for a new area retail hardware organization were laid Thursday when representatives of 33 stores in the North Oakland County region met to select temporary officers.

Other temporary officers include Mason Case of Rochester's Case Hardware store, secretary, and Russell Ryder of Keego Hardware, treasurer. Forty-five attended the initial meeting at Highland Manor.

Shell pointed out that while current membership will be confined to independent stores in the north county region, it may be extended over a larger area later.

A five-year-old boy was treated for lacerations and released from Pontiac General Hospital yesterday after being run over by a horse-drawn milk wagon on West Rundell Street at Putnam Avenue.

James Wade Johnson of 60½ S. Parke St. told Pontiac Police he ran out into the street to look at the horse, but a witness said James was trying to hop onto the wagon.

Driver Roy K. Liley, 23, of 96 E. Sheffield St., said he didn't see the boy run out.

President Signs Channel Bill

Okays Construction on Tidewater Unit From New Orleans to Gulf

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has signed a bill authorizing construction of the proposed 88 million dollar tidewater channel from New Orleans to the Gulf of Mexico.

The authorized project proposes dredging a 70-mile sea level channel from New Orleans southeasterly to deep water of the Gulf of Mexico.

This would permit ocean-going vessels to enter the city from the Gulf without negotiating the 145-mile route up the Mississippi River.

The channel is to be 36 feet deep by 500 feet wide. A turning basin, 1,000 feet by 2,000 feet, at New Orleans, will provide wharf and dock space.

Louisiana senators and representatives have launched a move to have Congress vote some funds this year so Army engineers can draft detailed plans. This would enable backers to ask next year for construction funds.

Slate Family Night at Waterford Center

Turbined Plymouth Ends X-Nation Trip

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It's back to the drawing board for Chrysler engineers following windup of a cross country run by a gas-turbine powered sedan.

* * *

The car, a standard Plymouth model except for the power plant, averaged 14 miles per gallon on the New York-Los Angeles run.

George Huebner Jr., Chrysler's chief research engineer who developed the engine, said the gas mileage was considered "extraordinary because of the changes in altitudes and temperatures on the trip."

Before the turbine engine becomes a production model, Heubner said, research still must be done on heat-resistant materials, accelerating ability, noise and assembly line output of turbine parts.

Los Angeles officials were especially interested in hearing that the turbine engine does not emit smog-producing pollutants. It is propelled by a jet of hot gasses which spin the fan blades of a turbine up to 50,000 revolutions a minute.

The turbine engine is 200 pounds lighter than comparable gasoline engines, engineers said. It has 80 per cent fewer parts, requires no radiator, transmission, cooling fan or carburetor and had only one spark plug which is used for starting only.

3 Hurt in Crash; Driver Hospitalized

Three persons were injured in an auto accident last night at M59 and Waterbury Rd., Highland Township.

The driver of the first car, James W. Green, 17, of Milford was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with multiple lacerations and a possible concussion. His condition is described as fair. A passenger with Green, James L. Davidson, 18, also of Milford, was treated for cuts and released.

Franklin C. Weaver, 23, of Clyde, driver of the second car, was unhurt.

The third car was driven by Burton A. Gavitt 25, of Milford, who was treated for lacerations and released.

Green, Davidson and Gavitt all told sheriff's deputies, Weaver attempted to pass Green, saw Gavitt's car coming from the opposite direction, and slowed down. At the same time, Green slowed, then both Green and Weaver speeded up. Green's car went off the road, bounced back and struck the other two cars.

Man Suffers Injuries in Two-Auto Smashup

Kenneth L. Smartt, 33, of 72 Parkdale Ave., was treated for minor injuries at Pontiac General Hospital yesterday afternoon after a two-car collision on West Pike street near Saginaw.

Smartt was a passenger in the car driven by William H. Snyder, 48, of 382 Orchard Lake Ave., who told Pontiac Police he hit a car driven by Raymond L. Jacobson, 45, of Drayton Plains, when Jacobson suddenly stopped after starting with the green light.

Jacobson said he hadn't stopped.

How Youth Learns to Pray

By CHARLES SHEDD
Presbyterian Minister,
Ponca City, Okla.

Like many others, I, too am amazed by our youngsters in their own church, which is called Ponca City. They have organized the Westminster Youth Church. And although these hundred kids use the adults' church building, they elect their own deacons, elders, and trustees. They handle their own funds, which run into thousands of dollars. They have their own vesper services every Sunday at 5 p. m. Once a year they conduct the worship service for the entire church.

Charles Shedd

They have pledged $4,000 towards our new building fund; they've raised $3,000 for supplies for their Sunday School; they've sent 40 underprivileged youngsters to summer camp.

Once a week they meet with me in "Search Sessions." At these meetings, held in the comfort of one of their homes, there are no questions barred. And they all get asked and answered to the best of my ability.

But the nerve center of all this activity is the 7:30 a. m. prayer group which started three years ago in a significant way.

* * *

Shortly after the youngsters here organized their own church, the question of social events came up. To my great surprise, there was little enthusiasm for a strong social program.

"So much of life is set up to entertain us," one boy said. "We want the church to give us what we can't get anywhere else: food for our spirits."

These young people are not riding the wave of religious interest; they are ahead of it. They are hungry for the spiritual.

To fill the hunger, we had a complete change of emphasis in our church; made an about-face. It was then that we settled on the principle that has guided us ever since. Life is either holy or it isn't. If it is, then all of life is holy, and everything we do should be a religious expression.

That's the principle Bobby Hughes, our state's basketball hero, had in mind.

During last year's semifinals, Bobby seemed to fade under pressure. He "lost his eye." Before the team headed for the regionals, he was really worried.

I could sense he had something on his mind when he came to the 7:30 group ahead of the others and went in by himself for a moment. The chapel was darkened. Only altar candles were lit.

* * *

Bobby settled down near the front of the chapel and seemed to be in deep concentration as the other kids filed in. There was the customary silence. Then Bobby came out with it.

"I'm all tied up in knots," he frankly admitted to the group. "I thought I'd die last Friday when the coach pulled me from the game. My last home game, and boy did I want to make good! I've really fouled up and I need help."

As usual the youngsters sat in silence for a moment, waiting for an answer. Jean spoke first, "Your trying too hard." Another suggested, "Bob, the only way you can be any better is to get help from the outside. Why don't you imagine there's another hand on the ball. Why don't you say, 'O. K. Lord, you shoot it'."

This was just the advice Bobby needed. He was the sensation of the tournament. With one minute to go he shot two baskets in a row from the 30-foot line to even the score. He added another in the last seven seconds from 40 feet out. When pandemonium broke over the crowd and they carried him to the dressing room, someone screamed:

"Little David slew Goliath."

Bobby says he smiled and wondered if maybe David had also prayed as he let the pebble fly, "O. K. Lord, you shoot it."

But not all our young people are as spectacular as Bobby by any means. We have popular kids, kids who are shy, students and youngsters who have trouble with their studies. Rich kids and those from "across the tracks."

Paris Taximen to Forfeit Food —for Fares

PARIS (AP)—The taxi drivers of Paris face the cruel fate of having to put the wishes of customers before their own urge to eat.

But—the customer is going to have to pay more.

For many years the taximen have headed for home at meal time, refusing to pick up fares who want to travel in any direction but the one that leads to the cabbie's dining room table.

This has been an annoyance particularly to American tourists brought up on the idea that a man who passes up a buck's worth of business for a plate of food is more than slightly nuts.

* * *

A. M. Catherine, president of the Taxi Owners Assn., says this is to change: that as soon as city authorities approve a new schedule of fares, his organization will tackle the meter men about their eating habits.

Under the new regulation, taxi meters are to register 100 francs (about 28 cents) at the beginning of a journey instead of 50 francs. And each additional 10 francs will be good for about a sixth of a mile, instead of half that distance.

Trying to Save $1.50 – Killed Under Car

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) Effort of a 25-year-old man to save $1.50 ended in his death yesterday afternoon.

* * *

Willie R. Isham of Michigan City had gone to a junkyard in search of a muffler and tail pipe for his car. Owner Al Brinkman offered him a package deal for $2.50, or both for $1 if he removed them himself from an old car in the yard.

Isham accepted the cheaper offer. He used two bumper jacks to lift the rear of the auto.

Early last night a watchman found Isham crushed beneath the car, which had fallen from the jacks.

Judge Won't Run Again

BIG RAPIDS (AP)—Probate Judge A. W. (Paddy) Miles, 80 and a public official for 45 years, said Friday he will not be a candidate for reelection in the Aug. 7 primary. Judge Miles has served six years as city commissioner, six years as a member of the legislature, 13 years as Big Rapids postmaster and 20 years as Mecosta County probate judge.

Firemen Still Seek Body in Granary Blast Ruins

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Firemen searched still-smoking ruins today for the body of a laborer believed trapped in the wreckage of a granary which exploded Wednesday night.

The blast took tow other lives and caused an estimated 3½ million dollars in damages. Edward Johnson, 39, who started work at the granary 13 days before the explosion, was believed killed but his body hasn't been found.

* * *

Fire Alarm Repairs

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—City Manager R. V. Terrill estimates cost of repairing the city's fire alarm box system at $5,000 and says it may be weeks before the work is completed. The alarm lines were damaged in a recent ice storm.

Don't Forget to Vote in Monday's Election

First, they have to choose the seven men who will make up our City Commission for the next two years. Second, they are to decide the fate of a proposed change in the city charter to shift the date of our municipal election from the first to the third Monday in April.

The desirability of a large turnout, of course, can't be overemphasized. The heavier the vote the greater the chance will be that public interest in our municipal government will continue at a high level.

Throughout its manager-commission history Pontiac has been fortunate in the high caliber of its unsuccessful as well as its successful candidates for commission seats. A heavy vote will do much to assure those elected of a wide measure of public support.

If approved, the charter amendment proposed by City Clerk Ada R. Evans, would not become effective until 1958. We urge electors to vote for this change. Its only aim is to allow more time for registration between our City primaries in March and elections in April.

Don't forget to vote Monday! Polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Easter

As it did in the days of the early Christians, annual observance of Easter tomorrow stands out as the most glorious and inspiring of our religious festivals.

The joy felt by Christians in every land as Easter approaches is spiritual. It comes from the sublime nature of the story of Christ's Crucifixion and Resurrection. The happiness we feel is deepened by the opportunity the day provides for reverent reaffirmation of our faith in the teachings of the Man of Calvary.

Though the date varies from year to year, Easter comes at a happy time. It is in perfect harmony with Spring when all Nature is awakening from its long Winter sleep and the days ahead are rich in their promise of sunny skies and gentle breezes.

But as we sing out hymns of praise tomorrow and voice our prayers for Divine guidance, let us not forget those Christians who aren't free to observe Easter. Let us not forget, either, that those lands in which Easter neither is known nor observed, are among the Earth's most backward.

As this joyous festival nears, one of our greatest comforts is belief that our faith in God and His Risen Son is a force against which no evil permanently can prevail.

County Tops Bond Quota

Proof that citizens of Oakland County have made a good start toward their 1956 E and H savings bonds quota exists in figures just released for January and February.

In the year's first two months sales totaled $3,425,027, reports Alfred C. Girard, County Savings Bond Committee chairman. That sum is 129.9 per cent of Oakland's two month quota and $587,580 more than for the same period last year.

★ ★ ★

At the same time corresponding increases in the State sales of E and H bonds are reported. The total for the months was $65,809,000, or an increase of 20.5 per cent over the same period last year. In both months 68 of Michigan's 83 counties exceeded their bond buying quotas.

★ ★ ★

In other words, the people of Oakland County and Michigan are both wise and thrifty. They know that bonds which in 10 years pay them $4 for every $3 invested are a good buy. They also know that with the backing of the Government of the United States, they are the world's safest investment.

Next Move Up to Spain

Within a short time Spain is expected to take the first steps toward ending its 52-year-old protectorate over Spanish Morocco.

The initial action probably will be an invitation to Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef of French Morocco to visit Madrid. The Sultan so far has refused to make the trip unless assured that Spain was prepared to grant independence.

★ ★ ★

Spanish interest in Africa dates back to the turn of the century. When France gained control of Morocco the government at Paris secretly made a deal with Spain to give part of the country, a small coastal strip largely inhabited by Spaniards, to Spain. The protectorate was recognized formally in 1912.

★ ★ ★

As late as last December Generalissimo Franco was saying that his government would hold on to Morocco. But when France agreed to independence for French Morocco, the Spanish enclave apparently became untenable.

The People's Business:

Fail to Toot Horn

GOP Solons Don't Snatch Their Share of Glory

By ROGER LANE

Part of it, of course, is that most governors are naturals at horn blowing, and there's only one in a state. But that's far from the whole story.

As the Legislature draws to a close, it seems likely that the Republican majority will send to the governor's desk general purpose appropriations totaling nearly 50 million dollars above a year ago.

The lawmakers are in the process of voting more money for education, more for mental health, more for welfare purposes—more for almost everything. And in many cases, millions of dollars more.

WRONG IMPRESSION

And yet the average newspaper reader, if he goes by the sounds emanating from Lansing, must have the impression that the Republicans are a lot of skinflints who are cheating the deserving of their full due.

If this is true, horn blowing—and the lack of it—in the respective camps has a good deal to do with the matter.

Comparatively, it is easy for a governor to get his views before the public, and it ought to be. He is the chief executive of the state. The voters of the state put him where he is.

For the leaders of the legislative majority, assuming control by the opposite political party, getting across an explanation of their position is harder but still not really difficult.

What they need is a little forethought on the question, to have their horn handy, and at the proper time to pick it up and blow.

SORRY JOB

In the legislative session now concluding the Republicans have done a sorry job of this.

Was there any crowing from the Republican leadership when, by Republican votes, it was decided that the University of Michigan and Michigan State University each would be given an additional four million dollars in operating funds for the coming year?

Was there any when the Republican majority in the Senate voted an additional 6½ million dollars for mental health purposes?

Some, maybe, but it was pretty feeble. The Republicans could use some music lessons if they want to get their message across.

It Took Three Centuries to Settle Date of Easter, Greatest Christian Festival

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Easter, celebrated by both Protestants and Catholics, is the commemoration of Christ's resurrection from the dead on the third day after His crucifixion.

Actually the New Testament account does not specify the time of the resurrection; it only states on the first day of the week—"early while it was yet dark" — Mary Magdalene discovered that it had happened. (See John, Chapter 20, verse 1.) And supposing the Lord had risen only moments before Mary's arrival at the empty tomb, the elapsed time since His death would have been about 40 hours — less than two days. It is one of those peculiar time measurements that occur frequently in the Scriptures.

In most languages this greatest of all Christian festivals is called by some variation of the Jewish word Pesach — Passover —for it was at the time of the Passover that it occurred. In early Britain, however, the Angio-Saxons had a spring celebration called Easter, in honor of Eostre, goddess of the dawn, and the old name was retained even after the Christian festival replaced the heathen one. That is why we still say "Easter."

It took the Christian Church three centuries to settle the question of a date for Easter. The Council of Nicea, in 325, decided it should always fall on the first Sunday after the first full moon on or after the vernal equinox (March 21). Therefore, the possible dates of Easter range all the way from March 22 to April 25.

The Jewish Passover, which began at sundown last Monday and will end at sundown Tuesday, has been known as the Festival of Freedom ever since the Jews escaped from slavery in Egypt more than 3,000 years ago. This was the real beginning of Israel as a nation and a religious community, and Jews through the centuries have celebrated it each year as a commemoration of this beginning.

But even before deliverance from Egypt, while they were still nomadic shepherds in the desert with no thought of a national identity the Jews had a spring festival at this time of year. At this festival they sacrificed a lamb or a young goat, believing this offering would avert plagues, misfortunes and all manner of evils.

The present name and the present meaning came into observance when God sent His angel to slay the first born son in every Egyptian household, while "passing over" the homes of the Jews. (See Exodus, Chapter 12) The fact that some sort of Jewish festival already existed at that time is evidenced by the fact that the Jews' homes were marked for the angel with the blood of a sacrificed lamb. The Egyptians, momentarily paralyzed by the tragedy, allowed the Jews to slip away to freedom.

Since that time Passover has been an expression and a reminder not only of the birth of the Jewish nation, but of some of Judaism's deepest beliefs: that God works in human history; that man has rights over tyranny because God,, not any King, is master over His people; and that God cares about the plight of the oppressed.

With such doctrines for its foundation, Passover has become a festival of hope and confidence as well as "the Festival of Freedom."

While the Temple still stood in Jerusalem, every Jew who could possibly manage to do so made a pilgrimage to the Holy City for Passover. After the Temple was destroyed, Passover became, as it is now, mainly a home festival, the chief feature of which is a ceremonial meal at which the family gathers to hear the Passover story read and to partake of symbolic foods and wine.

Resident Urges Thought Before Election Monday

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I hope the people of Pontiac will give a lot of consideration to the coming election on Monday, as we will be electing our City Commissioners.

It is very important to elect good commissioners, those who make no effort to find out about the qualifcations of the men running for office and then vote accordingly should not complain if our city affairs are not administered properly.

We cannot hope for perfection or that these men will always agree with our ideas, but we can hope that these new Commissioners will be democratic enough to allow major controversial issues to go before the people at regular elections, rather than deciding these things among themselves, or forcing conscientious people to tramp the streets with petitions for rights we should have had automatically.

I think we can elect some commissioners who will not be as arbitrary in this regard as some of the present ones. Anyway, I am urging everyone to show an interest in the election, find out all you can and vote.

Tells of Circular Naming Speaker for Men's Club

When I read in the Press that John Roy Carlson was to lecture before the Men's Club of Temple Beth Jacob, it recalled to mind a letter which I wrote to the Voice of the People several years ago regarding this person.

A circular had been put out in Chicago as follows: The Communist Party of America in cooperation with the Chicago Civil Liberties Committee presents Anedis Arthur Ahkass, alias John Roy Carlson.

When a Communist heads the government in America it will be a Soviet government, and behind that government will stand the Red army to enforce its dictatorship. Read "Under Cover" and know the enemies of a Soviet America.

Mr. Carlson who claims to be such a friend of democracy wants freedom of speech and assembly publicly, but pay strict attention to directions sent into America. It is what the Reds are doing in this country which is so dangerous and about which we can do something.

Promote Christianity and combat the Red Party line. Information about the party line is available to those who wish to counter this menace.

City Irishman Expresses Appreciation of Eire Map

I wish to offer my sincere appreciation for publishing in this valuable paper on March 17 such a wonderful map of Ireland, showing every county and the four provinces in which they are located.

It was also a fine editorial and short history of good St. Patrick. There must have been considerable expense to do such a fine job in coloring it, and I hope it was enjoyed by all of us Irishmen and women in Pontiac and Oakland County.

Hope 'Peace, Prosperity' Slogan Will Re-elect Ike

By JACK BELL

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The "peace and prosperity" slogan the Republicans hope will re-elect President Eisenhower and regain control of Congress appears headed for critical testing in Indiana.

As a swing state where the major political parties are fairly evenly matched, Indiana presents seven months before the November election what amounts to a typical slice of the nation's economy.

Industry generally is booming. The biggest steel mill in the world showers its sparks on full schedule in Gary, with a tremendous expansion in capacity planned.

In the cities, large and small, an air of prosperity is everywhere. Indianapolis department stores are as crowded and as well stocked as those in New York. Easter sales were high.

State income tax collections reached a peak in the first three months of the year. Gov. George N. Craig says there is "virtually no unemployment" in the state.

But on the frams and in the smaller towns the story is different. There the pinch of low fram prices shows up in the unpainted barns, the theater with the "closed" sign, the vacant store buildings and the dealer's overstocked tractor showroom. The bigger operators are getting by, but it is the little fellow, with 200 acres or less, who has been hard hit.

The farmers are complaining loudly.

How they will express their feelings at the polls in November is, as yet, anybody's guess. But many politicians believe that on their verdict might depend party control of the U.S.Senate, the governorship, some congressional seats and possibly the state's presidential electoral vote.

★ ★ ★

There are unmistakable signs Eisenhower remains popular in Indiana. Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler is credited only with expected zeal in predicting some unnamed presidential candidate of his party will beat the President here.

Dr. Brady's Mailbag:

Exercise Doesn't Help Weight Problem; Good Hygiene Omits Use of Laxatives

Please send me your pamphlet How to Lose Weight. Also anything you have on exercise for weight reduction . . . (Mrs. C.R.)

Answer—Exercise doesn't reduce weight, although a reasonable amount of general exercise every day is essential to keep a trim look. For the pamphlet How to Lose Weight, send stamped, self-addressed envelope. If you want also an illustrated booklet describing keep-fit exercises, inclose 35 cents and ask for Little Lesson 6, The Last Brady Symphony.

Thank you for teaching me that good health is gained by study and practice of good hygiene, not bought in the marketplace. I have taken no laxative in more than 2 years, and bowel action is as normal as breathing, never a matter of concern. Slightly painful finger joints eighteen months ago. Pain went out when iodin and milk came in. May you long continue dispensing good health and good cheer. (C.E.S.)

Answer—Thank you, sir. For others in the same boat Little Lesson 25, Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene, and the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatis may help. For both, send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

I wrote for the pamphlet How to Gain Weight years ago. I did put on 20 pounds in one year. Now at 42 years I weigh 132 to 135, and I'm grateful . . . the Acne pamphlet for my 12 year old daughter . . . (Mrs. C.O.S.)

Answer—For either pamphlet send stamped, self-addressed envelope. If you ask for both, inclose 25 cents.

The castor oil treatment certainly did the job for my young son who had at least eight warts on his hands. Gramp was so pleased he tried it on one he'd had for ages, and sure enough it disappeared. . . (K.R.A.)

Answer—Well, let's try to keep calm about it, and remember that warts come and go without rhyme or reason, and so the last remedy used before the wart disappears . . . touching the wart every day or two with a drop of iodine would probably work as well.

Does prepared luncheon meat contain as much protein as fresh meat such as chops, roasts, steaks? My husband carries his lunch and he is trying to fatten up. (Mrs. G.E.P.)

Answer—If there is any difference in protein content it is insignificant. Protein is important food but not particularly fattening. Send stamped self-addressed envelope for pamphlet How to Gain Weight.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Dr. Crane Urges Forgetting Worries and Letting God Take Over Night Shift

The "scissors test" is the most significant of all the polls being taken concerning newspaper reading habits. For it shows the beneficial "afterglow" which a newspaper leaves in its area, long after a later edition has made today's paper obsolete. And if you wish to sleep soundly without drugs, follow the advice below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-318: Mrs. A. G. David is a follower of this column in San Gabriel, California.

"Dr. Crane, you have helped me so much that I presume thousands of others have benefited, too," she began.

"For example, I was feeling unusually heavy hearted recently. Then our paper was delivered and I turned to your column.

"That particular day it was headed: 'Try Teaming Up With God.'

"Well, that suggestion did something for me, for immediately I felt like an entirely different person.

"It lifted me out of deep darkness into the light. Incidentally, I have cut out many of your daily articles and sent them to friends in different cities.

"They have written me their appreciation, too, so many, many thanks."

SCISSORS TEST

Many excellent polls have been conducted about newspaper reading habits, but one of the most significant is this "scissors test."

Whenever a person is so deeply moved or so greatly stimulated that he will clip an item from the newspaper and mail it to friends in other cities, that is sure index of the newspaper's beneficial "afterglow."

Indeed, my greatest pleasure in writing this column comes from learning of the many good mothers who regularly clip and mail it to their children at college or in military service.

As a teacher and moralist, I thus value this "scissors test" even higher than top ranking on the standard reader polls.

Many people in person, as well as through their letters, have duplicated Mrs. David's testimony.

When I addressed the Aid Association of Lutherans in Miami Beach, I had mentioned the value of teaming up with God as a junior partner.

"Then, when you go to bed at night," I added, "you don't need to gobble sleeping tablets or feel jittery and tense.

"Just tell God you are tired and greatly in need of a sound night's slumber. Since you are trying to be a junior partner, then ask Him to take over the night shift for you.

"God never objects to the night shift!"

After my address, one of the women in the audience came up to shake my hand.

"Dr. Crane, I can testify to the serenity that comes when you try to be one of God's junior partners she began.

"During the last war I was worried sick because my only son was aboard a ship in the Pacific where the fighting was intense.

"I couldn't sleep. I felt as if I'd have a nervous breakdown that very night. Oh, it was a terrible feeling.

"But finally, I said, 'Oh Lord, my boy's in Your keeping. I can't do anything more about it, so won't You please look after him for me?'

"And Dr. Crane, I had hardly finished whispering that request before I fell into such a deep sleep that I didn't awaken till two hours past my normal time for arising.

"And the very next day I got a letter from my son saying they were safe and out of the danger area.

"So I wish you'd tell people to team up with God more completely since that produces a serenity nobody can obtain with sleeping pills or any other man-made drugs. Don't you agree, Dr. Crane?"

Yes, I agree, which is why I recommend it to all of you readers. Even if you are a doubting Thomas, why not try it just as a scientific test?

God is the best prescription we psychologists and medics can offer you.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Auto Pioneer Today Says:

'Motoring Nowadays Doesn't Appeal to Me'

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Cars have come a long way since Walter S. Austin Sr., stopped producing the Austin Highway King in 1918.

Perhaps too far without comparable driven improvement.

Austin, now an active 89, has this to say:

"I just don't approve of cross-country driving any more. Too many people killed. Motoring nowadays doesn't appeal to me."

He made his last lengthy auto trip, from Los Angeles to Grand Rapids, in 1953—his wife at the wheel. Austin admits that was a smooth trip but says further excurions "will be by train."

MUSEUM PIECE

Austin and his father, the late James E. Ausin, once produced about 50 cars a year in their Grand Rapids plant from 1901 to 1918.

At least one still exists in Michigan, owned by B. J. Pollard of Detroit. Another has been on display at a Cleveland Transportation Museum.

Purchasers of the Highway King came to Grand Rapids or sent orders from overseas when the car was on the market. The late William Randolph Hearst owned two of the "Kings."

An opera singer, Mme. Emma Calve, stopped off from a personal tour in 1915 and took an Austin back to her native France. Another was specially modified for a Bolivian mine operator.

NO ADVERTISING

A Boston hotel once operated a fleet of Austin Highway Kings for the transportation convenience of its patrons. Several Michigan owners were on record as satisfied customers.

But there never was an organized advertising campaign to promote car sales. Austin explains: "We didn't much believe in advertising in those days."

The Highway King, compared with today's streamlined cars, was a formidable auto. A catalogue of the final line ranged from a two-seat, six-passenger open model ($3,750) to a seven-passenger limousine ($5,250). The limousine was powered by a 12-cylinder engine.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS

The line featured several developments introduced by Austin himself. One model had a four-speed planetary transmission with a steering post shift.

A two-speed axle, inadvertently hailed by a competitor as "the finest auto development since pneumatic tires," also was an Austin achievement.

He patented a double-cantilever spring, once also used on the Roamer auto which was produced in Kalamazoo.

Austin still works 12 hours a day at his engineering board in pursuit of automotive developments. He received a patent last month on a hydraulic transmission which had been nine years in completion.

'OUTLIVE FATHER?'

For relaxation, Austin favors chess.

He figures, on a percentage basis, to outlive his father, who died at 95 in 1936. "I can do at least 10 years better than that," Austin believes.

Austin and his father left auto manufacturing in 1918 for other pursuits.

The son turned to real estate development in Grand Rapids. He is credited with pioneering the conversion of mansion-type homes into apartments which offered tenants individual baths, living rooms and rollaway beds.

Austin owns several of the converted apartments in Grand Rapids. He and his wife currently live in one which is managed by his son, Walter S. Jr.

NO FORMAL SCHOOLING

Born in Oswego, N. Y., in 1866, Austin was raised in Grand Rapids and apparently inherited his mechanical ability from his father, a mechanical engineer. "I never did go to a formal engineering school," he says.

The family lived in Standish, Mich., for 10 years before returning to Grand Rapids in 1900. Austin returned again in 1953 after six years' residence in Los Angeles.

One of the 18 charter members who formed the American Automobile Assn., March 4, 1902, he was honor guest in Los Angeles four years ago at the AAA 50th anniversary.

* * *

Urge Big Lake Vessels Not to Cross St. Marys

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Lake Carrier's Assn's ice committee recommended yesterday that no big lake vessels arrive at the mouth of the St. Marys River before next Wednesday.

Ice conditions in the upper Great Lakes area are clearing slower than normal because of continued cold weather, the committee reported.

Mother Bails Son From 100-Foot Well

CENTERVILLE, Kan. (AP) — A three-year-old farm boy tumbled into a 100-foot deep well yesterday, then was pulled out by his mother who told him to hold on tightly to a rope lowered into the shaft.

The lad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brillhart, appeared unharmed except for a few bruises. He was taken to a hospital where he remained overnight for observation.

Freddie held on sturdily to the rope, his grandfather, Wallace Hill, said, and was rescued within a few minutes after his fall.

Cub Scout Murder Trial Opens Monday

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP) — The murder trial of Tommy Williams, one of the 14-year-old Wheeling twins charged with slaying a Cub Scout, will open here Monday in Ohio County Intermediate Court.

Tommy and his brother, Joseph, were indicted in the death of David Powell, 9, whose body was found under the front porch of the Williams' home on Wheeling Island Feb. 10.

* * *

Judge David A. McKee set the trial date yesterday and continued the indictment against Joseph, who has been free on bond since authorities said a statement by Tommy had exonerated him.

The judge granted a defense request to list the boys on separate indictments.

Eating Again, Thanks

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A frantic call for help from a Canadian visitor sent sheriff's officers on a door-to-door search of motels for a set of false teeth. The owner was 100 miles away when he realized his loss — and couldn't remember where he had stopped overnight. Deputies finally located the teeth. A letter of thanks was signed, "C. L. (now eating again) Moran," of Calgary, Alberta.

An Open Letter to Voters of District No. 3

In Thursday's issue of the Pontiac Press certain implications were made, in a political ad, to the effect that citizens working for my candidacy were "hired" by "propagandists" to defeat the present commissioner. Such claims are completely false, and untruths of this nature have no part in any city election.

The truth is that all work for my campaign has been purely voluntary — citizens who have received no pay — other than personal satisfaction in working for better government. In appreciation for the help of these citizens I felt compelled to give the facts as they are.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank these citizens publicly for their splendid support on my behalf.

Birmingham Speaker Tells of Missionary Work

Group Hears Mrs. John Ormond

"From 1834 to 1891 the missionary program was supported by the widow's mite. What is our attitude today toward missions? Are we still willing to make sacrifices to support them?"

* * *

These were some of the questions asked by Mrs. John K. Ormond of Birmingham when she addressed 200 women gathered together for the Good Friday breakfast at the Congregational Church.

Mrs. Ormond spent nearly three years in India with her doctor husband. Together, they ranged the country by car. Their headquarters were at Miraj where a hospital and medical training school were located.

Missionary work is not all giving, Mrs. Ormond said. The Indian people who had a civilization as far back as 2000 B. C. do all in their limited power to give in return. They do not want or need paternalism.

Indian converts to Christianity carry the teachings of their new religion into everyday living. The mission program has something tremendous to give to India far beyond the religious aspects.

GOOD FOLLOWS MISSIONS

Wherever missions have been established, homes for babies, schools and higher institutions of learning have followed. But the Christian influence will stay only as long as the missions meet the ever-increasing high standards set by the government. Some medical schools have been forced to close because of their inability to upgrade their courses.

* * *

The "Challenge for Today" is to see that the many consecrated, compassionate missionaries who are ready to serve are supported by those who stay at home.

Mrs. Ormond was introduced by Mrs. Arthur Selden. Mrs. Malcolm K. Burton gave the invocation, while Mrs. F. R. Conner pronounced the benediction.

Accompanied by Charles Wilson, Mrs. George Putnam sang two solos. Mrs. E. R. Bigler, president of the Women's Association, extended greetings.

Mrs. D. R. Wilson was general chairman of the breakfast. The kitchen committee consisted of Mrs. W. T. Hurlburt, chairman, Mrs. W. H. Vann, Mrs. Carl Weber and Mrs. Stanley Kipp.

She Objects to Questions About Garb

Woman Does Not Like to Tell Where She Buys Clothes

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "Whenever I have on a particularly becoming hat or dress, a friend always very bluntly asks, 'Where did you get it?' Usually she asks this question in the presence of others and at a time when I cannot think of an evasive answer.

* * *

"Due to a very limited clothes budget, I am forced to shop most carefully, often buying at one of the lower-priced shops which I do not like to have everyone know. Isn't it bad manners to ask this question, and how can I cope with the situation without hurting her feelings?"

Answer: You might look thoughtfully at the dress and say, "Oh, I bought this some time ago, and I don't remember the name of the shop" or give some other evasive answer.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When I was in service I wrote to my fiancee almost every day. I know she saved some of these letters for sentimental reasons. Our engagement has recently been broken and she has returned the engagement ring to me but not the letters. Shouldn't these have been returned to me, and may I ask her to do so?"

Answer: Ask her for them if you wish. But remember that they are hers if she wishes to keep them.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me how old a girl must be before she can act as maid of honor in a wedding? I was hoping to have my sister fill this position but she is only 12 years old and I wonder if she is too young.

"She is very tall for her age and looks 15 or 16. I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: Such an age would not be unheard of, and as she is tall for her age no one can criticize your having her as your maid of honor.

Club Hears Lesson on Pattern Altering

Members of the Westside Extension Club met with Mrs. Thomas Johnson on Robinwood avenue. A lesson on dress pattern altering was given by Mrs. Francis Lohff and Mrs. Harold Grogg.

Celebrities Pick Outfits for Easter

The Couture Group of New York Dress Institute has announced what women in the public eye will be wearing Easter Sunday. Among the prominent women listed is the Duchess of Windsor. She will spend the weekend in Maryland and expects to wear a bright red tweed suit with semi-fitted jacket by Balenciaga.

Julie Andrews, star of the latest Broadway hit, "My Fair Lady" will wear a softly tailored street dress of navy silk faille and a small white hat wreathed in lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Norman K. Winston will be in Paris and will be wearing Balenciaga's sheer navy blue wool blouse-back suit with straight skirt and toque of matching wool with gray accessories.

A beige tweed coat cut in the Empire line will be worn Easter by Mollie Parnis. Her dress, of her own design, is slim black silk linen. A small beret of beige silk matching the tone of the tweed will complete her costume.

Lilly Dache will wear a black ensemble of heavy silk, consisting of a slim sheath dress with a three-quarter length jacket—front is fitted, back is loose. Outfit features stand-away neckline designed by de Givenchy. With the costume, a Lilly Dache hat in medium size, of draped white satin organza with black accessories will be worn.

* * *

A black silk ottoman dress with a contrasting "Ceil Blue" organdy bodice is the Easter ensemble planned by Ceil Chapman. The dress, in the Empire silhouette, will be worn under a reed slim coat of matching black ottoman and her Easter bonnet will be a large plateau brimmed hat of "Ceil Blue" organdy, black gloves and shoes.

* * *

Ben Zuckerman's slender black silk alpaca coat with high bosom line marked by two narrow string ties and a bunch of white lilacs will be worn by Dorothy Kilgallen. Her ensemble will be topped with a Lilly Dache white flowered toque.

Spring Note: Pastel Shade Sweaters

A sweater in a pastel shade is comfortable and becoming wear for an early spring day.

But some of those synthetic or wool sweaters that have come through a winter's wear under suits aren't as perky looking as they might be.

* * *

New for a spring neckline is a collar of crocheted silk, decorated all over with a crunchy assortment of flowers, shells and leaves in pastel colors.

* * *

Fresh gloves, new stockings and a clean skirt complete an outfit for the days just before one blossoms in the all-new spring finery.

Bright clear colors and soft fibers are important for accessories in this season. They make the trans-season wardrobe seem fresh.

One great pitfall to avoid is getting into summer cottons so early that they will seem an awful bore by fall. Spring accessories are for spring.

Shower Honors Joyce Bickley

Mrs. Ron Weaver Honored at Shower

Grace Chooses Blue for Easter

NEW YORK (INS)—Grace Kelly will wear navy blue for Easter Sunday.

* * *

The movie star who will marry Prince Rainier of Monaco next month has selected a coat-and-dress outfit to wear Easter Sunday when she visits her parents in Philadelphia.

* * *

* * *

Miss Kelly's hat will be a surprise shipped from Paris by her fiance, but if the French chapeau doesn't arrive in time, she will wear a half-hat of pink straw.

Coming Events

Daughters of Pontiac 186 will meet Monday at 8 p.m. at 82 Perkins St.

The 39-40 Proficiency Group of OES, 228, will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. with Mrs. Quentin Sweet, 204 Exmoor Dr.

Designer Exhibits Fabric Work at Cranbrook

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Marianne Strengell, whose weaving of fabrics has taken her on trips to Europe and the Far East, will display her fabric designs at Cranbrook during April.

It was her weaving career that brought her to Cranbrook in 1938, and recently has taken her into contact with designers of the GM Technical Center, and Detroit's automobiles. In both fields, she has created textiles.

* * *

Her one-man show opened last night in the Cranbrook Academy of Art's galleries. An entry-way is hung with black and white fabrics past which the visitor sees brilliant textiles on the far gallery walls. The show will be open from 2 to 5 p.m. daily until April 29. The gallery is closed Mondays.

Charm Magazine pointed out Miss Strengell's active career this month, calling her this area's outstanding woman worker.

Last week she was feted as one of four Detroit women-at-work by Detroit's mayor, the Central Business District Association and many of that city's women's clubs.

SIMPLIFIES METHODS

She is credited with simplifying weaving instruction methods and making the craft easier to learn than by the old Swedish and Colonial methods. Her department's students may be found among the ranks of prominent teachers and careerists in the industry today.

Working with Eero Saarinen & Associates, she has designed the stage curtain for a new Massachusetts Institute of Technology auditorium, fabrics and rugs for the GM Tech buildings, and other special assignments. Working with Chatham Manufacturing Company, she has also done automotive fabrics.

The daughter of an architect and an interior designer in Finland, she attended a Helsingfors industrial design school before beginning her design career there.

She was a designing head for several studios in Finland before a family friend, Eliel Saarinen, invited her to join Cranbrook's staff. Saarinen was then the academy's president, and his wife headed the weaving department.

In 1951, Miss Strengell was sent to Japan and the Phillipines to start weaving as a cottage industry with materials native to the islands. It was a two-year project.

TO VISIT FINLAND

Next summer, she'll go to Finland, where many of her items will be displayed at a special showing. That exhibit was sent abroad this week.

She and her husband have two teenage children, Sandra, and Chris. Their favorite spot for relaxation is the summer place they have designed and furnished in the dunes near Wellfleet, Cape Cod, N. Y.

Hobbies for the slender, brown-haired woman include surf-riding and skiing, while her favorite aspect of photography is portraits and abstract forms in nature. She does experimental movies as well.

Larger pieces of weaving in the exhibit, such as a six-foot-wide piece that will lie at GM Tech center, were done by her "cottage industry" weavers, says Miss Strengell. She has three such craftswomen working in Pontiac, several in Detroit, and one in Birmingham.

MOTHER'S WAY

"My mother did it that way too," she says. "She had country women in Finland weaving when they didn't have to harvest. It's a way of getting production weaving done after the design is worked out.

* * *

"Production weaving is different from hobby weaving," she says, "because there is no self expression." But it is a profitable work for her 'cottage women'.

Silk screening is another way of taking her fabric designs away from mass production. She has discovered she looses control over color combinations used after she works out the design in one set of colors.

Exhibited fabrics, include using one design in many color assortments. Double-printing, printing on striped fabrics, and putting a dull paint on a silky fabric are among her variations.

* * *

She designs automotive fabrics for mass production using tiny figures in comparison to the bold geometrics of her "decorator's fabrics." Tweeds and brocades are used, all in hard-wearing synthetic yarns.

This plaid throw rug being manufactured at Eaton Rapids was designed by Marianne Strengell at Cranbrook. Behind her are some of her drapery and upholstery designs, and she sits on a rug woven in her "cottage industry."

Pontiac Press Photos

Going Steady Isn't Best Insurance

BY ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Many a girl who is up to her earrings in a fragile young love allows herself to become a real worry-wart. There's nothing more disquieting than the gnawing fear that something might upset her beautiful status quo.

She's afraid she'll lose him. She's terrified that some other girl will take him away from her. And she'll be left with no one and nothing to gurgle over.

What she's really scared of is that something will cheat her out of the beautiful way she feels. Something will destroy the dream image she has of her love.

Something will shatter the illusion she cherishes of herself in relation to him. Something will come along to deprive her of stimulation and encouragement he gives to her ego.

She frets over it. She stews She concocts in her mind ways to hold him fast, cheerfully optimistic that it can be done.

This girl, for instance, considers going steady a burglarproof safe. Here's what she writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: We've been going together a month today and I am terribly sure I love him and he loves me. But I know (and so does everybody else) that he's a living doll!

"I'm so afraid I will lose him. How can I tell him I'd like to go steady?"

Answer: Going steady, you think, would tie him to you but tight. It would make him completely unaware of other girls overnight. It would make other girls keep a safe distance.

It would stop the gnawing ache of fear that this lovely love won't last. It would give you confidence, security and peace of mind. He'd be yours and no one else's. And no one could have him—not until the steady deal was over.

But liking each other a great deal is a stronger tie. It's much more binding than a mere dating agreement. If the liking is strong enough, both of you are blind to others' charms; you couldn't care less about going out with anyone else.

Seeing to it that he cares for you deeply is your best insurance. Your relationship is just a month old. Old enough for getting slightly acquainted. But not old enough to have built a strong foundation for the surface attraction that has you both enmeshed.

* * *

He's undoubtedly said a lot of nice things that will cue you as to what he likes about you, and insists on having in his girl.

On those cues you can develop into a girl who is good for him, a girl who understands and encourages him, a girl who complements him, a girl who is ready to meet his moods and let him lead.

Barbara Bellows Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Clare Kramp and daughter, Kathryn, entertained at a bridal shower at their home on Auburn avenue Thursday evening.

Honoree at the miscellaneous shower was Barbara Bellows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Bellows of Beechland avenue, who will exchange vows with John Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Collins of Sylvan Glen, on June 23.

The open house will be held for friends and relatives to celebrate Mr. Garrett's 94th birthday which he will mark April 4.*

That Stitch in Time

If you wash your sweaters yourself, you many often run across the problem of having the neck of the sweater stretch out of shape. Next time you wash your sweater in lukewarm sudsy water, carefully baste the neck of the sweater to its original size. Keep the stitches in until the sweater is completely dried. You'll find it looking like new!

'56 McCardell Shirtwaist Boasts New Easy Quality

* * *

In her 1956 version there is a new easy quality. The tiny stand-up collar band has a separate, narrow string tie. For hot weather spots, you might prefer short sleeves, instructions for which are included.

In addition, because this is a hand-cut pattern, the measurements are really accurate so that the fine detail can be handled without difficulty. Make it in tie silk, novelty cotton, shantung or sheer wool.

This hand-cut, custom-made pattern is not standard sized but is the only pattern available with exclusive designers' retail sizing measurements for a more accurate fit, better styling, less altering.

Sew, Chatter Club Conducts Meeting

Mrs. Sol Hoover of South Marshall street entertained members of the Sew and Chatter Club Thursday evening. Cancer pads were sewn by the group. Mrs. George Bell's birthday was observed and Mrs. George Smith, a former member, was a guest.

Inspect Baseboards

When hunting for moths, don't forget to look close to the baseboards, particularly if you have wall-to-wall carpeting. Preventative measures include a good washing with hot soapy water and a carpet cleaning before the summer heat sets in.

Couple Wed in Lutheran Church Rite

BIRMINGHAM—A recent wedding (March 24) was that of Grace Elizabeth Nielson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nielsen of Birmingham, and Jens Egon Miller of Detorit. He is the son of Mrs. Egon F. Miller of Detroit.

* * *

The service read in St. Peters Danish Evangelical Lutheran Church in Detorit was a candlelight double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white tulle and lace over stain. A juliet cap held a fingertip veil and she carried white roses.

Her sister-in-law Mrs. Paul C. Nielsen was matron of honor and bridesmaid were Misses Joyce and Carola Nielsen of Detroit. They all wore pale bule frocks and carried roses. The flower girl was dressed in pink.

* * *

Colored Eyeglasses Good Sun Protection

After the long winter, it's good to see and feel the warm glow of the spring sun. You can enjoy it without squinting and getting lines around the eyes by wearing sun glasses in the bright sun.

They'll also protect your eyes from the dust that spring winds blow. Make sure that the glasses you select are the kind approved by the U. S. Bureau of Standards, those that are ground and polished without distortion.

Get Mitt It, Gals!

A handy household gadget is a mitt mop. A soft and fluffy nylon string mop fashioned to fit over the hand for easy cleaning—either dry dusting or wet sudsing.

The mitten pocket is made of plastic, and the whole thing is packaged in a plastic bag that can be used for washing by hand or machine in hot soap or detergent suds.

Confident Living

The Indestructible Soul Lives Past All Suffering

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Life's deepest experiences are in those profound moments of life and death which come to all. Happy is the person who can see above all human suffering the indestructability of the soul; who learns the Easter truth, that God cares. God helps us in life's crisis hours. Through faith we find strength in life and consolation in death. This is a great teaching of Easter.

* * *

I recently received a touching letter from a young mother. "When my son Danny was born," she wrote, "he seemed perfect in every way. But he had been home from the hospital only a week when he became seriously ill and had to be taken back. We were told he had very little chance of recovery.

DR. PEALE

"I thought I couldn't stand it when I looked at Danny's empty crib . . . then my husband and I prayed fervently for Danny's recovery and at the same time told God we were willing to relinquish Danny to Him if that were His will. That was the hardest of all to say, because we wanted Danny for ourselves. But we said it.

"In the meantime my husband and I had been practicing positive thinking. We refused to acknowledge that Danny might die. Instead we pictured him as alive and well.

"Every time I passed his crib I painted a picture in my mind of him lying there, sleeping peacefully. I held on furiously to this . . . I even had my diaper service deliver my regular supply and I sent for booklets on baby care.

"About two days later our prayers were answered. We had been at the hospital all morning. At two o'clock when the doctor went into the nursery we watched anxiously through the glass window. In a few minutes the doctor came out smiling. Danny's temperature had dropped to normal and the color had come back to his cheeks. We said prayers of joy.

ANOTHER BLOW

"The day we took him home another blow fell. The X-ray had revealed an abdominal cyst which meant an operation. I was frightened . . . and Danny was so small . . .

"Outside the operating room I prayed for Danny and for the surgeon too. I prayed that God would put His skill and strength into the doctor's hands and make the operation a success.

"It was more than two hours before they brought him out, in an incubator, more dead than alive . . . How hard it was to hold my faith at that point. But I kept on praying and believing . . .

"The days that followed were the hardest we have ever lived through, not knowing whether our son would live or die. Every night when we called the hospital we were told, 'He is still fighting . . .' He just refused to give up.

"Two weeks later Danny came home. Today he weighs twelve pounds; and is a healthy, happy baby. The doctor calls his recovery a miracle. He is amazed at it, but not Danny's father and I. We had faith. It has been our life's greatest experience."

Do you think those parents will ever forget that deep experience of God's goodness? All their lives they will know what can be done by faith.

I realize that other parents have prayed, yet God has taken their babies. If that is His will, it is right that it should be done. We must learn humbly to accept God's will. That acceptance will in itself bring peace and understanding. This too is one of life's deep experiences.

At Easter, we commemorate one of the most memorable of all human experiences, the Resurrection of Jesus Christ. We hear once more the promise of faith which has sustained men through the ages: "I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die."

* * *

And this is the greatest promise of all. Each of us, as these parents did, must walk through the valley of the shadow in the course of our lives. But Easter tells us that, whatever happens, beyond those shadows, if only you believe, there is always light and life.

ST. TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH—In the end of the Sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre. And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it. His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow. The story of Christ's Resurrection will be read by Pastor Ralph C. Claus on Easter morning in St. Trinity Lutheran Church, Auburn Ave. and Jessie St. The pure white lilies, palms and candlelight will bring beauty to the altar and services.

Joslyn Presbyterian Plans Dawn Service

The Pioneer Youth Group of the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church is having a Sunrise service at 6 o'clock Easter morning with the theme, "What Easter Means." A breakfast will follow.

The Rev. Edmond I. Watkins will preach on "The Master of Death" at the two identical services, 8 and 10:45 a.m.

The choir, directed by Robert Nelson, will sing "Alleluia, He Is Risen," and "Bells of the Sunrise."

Young Boys Guess Cost of World-Wide Jaunt

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — In the imagination of members of a boys' club here, a trip around the world might cost anywhere from $400 to 4-million dollars.

* * *

The boys, 9 to 12, gave the range in a poll. They listed as necessary expenses:

* * *

Meals when you get to Paris, an automobile, candy to eat when you're away from home, airplane tickets to get to New York, Brooklyn and China, and visits to Spain, Italy, France, Japan, Greece. Oh, yes, and Disneyland.

Phone-TV Device Brings Easter Cheer to Patients

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP) — Thanks to a new telephone-television device many lonesome patients look for a happy Easter weekend in Morristown Memorial Hospital.

The morale-boosting installation which begins operation today, enables patients to see and talk to their children who are too young to visit hospital rooms in person.

The device combines a camera to photograph the child and a telephone to carry his conversation. The camers picture is flashed on a TV screen in the patient's room.

Operated on a coin meter basis, the device is housed in a booth on the hospital's clinic floor. Each TV-telephone visit is timed to last five minutes.

The installation is a one-way device. The patient can see his child but the child cannot see his hospitalized parent. Both can chat on the telephone circuit, however.

'Christ Arose' Is Easter Theme Sunday at 6:30

The Christian Youth Fellowship of First Christian Church are planning a program around the theme, "Christ Arose" Easter morning.

* * *

The service will begin at 6:30 with songs of acclaim led by Jackie Kosky. Floyd Powers will give the "Call to Worship" and Reta Stanley will lead the young people in a responsive reading.

Ronnie Morgan will lead in prayer and Janet Appleton will bring a message in song. The morning message will be brought by Doug McColl.

* * *

* * *

Following the Sunrise Service, breakfast will be served in the basement of the church. All members and friends are invited.

Denver Doctor Gives Reasons
Loss of Religious Faith Causes Health Hazards, Increases Problems

DENVER (RNS)—Loss of religious faith was blamed here by a Denver psychiatrist for much of the increase in psychosomatic problems, emotional instability, coronary thrombosis and other health hazards.

The diagnosis was made by Dr. Bradford Murphey in a speech to a gathering of Protestant Episcopal men and boys.

"Modern unrestrained competition which lends to the illnesses has come about because this land has abandoned its ideals of religion to a great extent," he said.

* * *

"By unconsciously rejecting the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, we have developed the traits of fear, resntment dishonesty and hatred. This has resulted in loss of confidence in ourselves, without which we cannot

This change, Dr. Murphey said, has created a "deterioration of our moral fabric which breeds aggressiveness and dishonesty." have faith in our neighbor."

"This aggressiveness in turn brings about unrestrained competition and a search for security through legislation that leads only to a social climate of ill will and suspicion," he said.

Bethel Baptists to Conduct Rites All Day Easter

New Bethel Baptist Church announces an all day of worship, Easter.

* * *

The choir will sing at the early Sunrise Service at 5 o'clock. Immediately following, the Senior Usher Board will serve breakfast.

At 11 a.m. special music will be furnished by the combined choirs.

At 3:30 p.m. the City-Wide Choir Union will hold their monthly meeting.

* * *

The Sunday School department will present their program at 5:30 p.m. After this service, there will be Holy Communion.

St. John's Set for Easter Rite
Two Identical Services Slated for 9, 11 A.M. Sunday

Two identical Easter Services will be held at St. John's Lutheran Church, 87 Hill Street at Cherry Court, on Easter Sunday, at 9 and 11 a. m.

Mrs. Marilyn Nelson, organist, will play "Christ Is Risen" by Johann Fischer for the prelude, and for the offertory, "O My Soul Be Glad and Joyful" by Max Reger. Mrs. Nelson will play "Trumpet Tune" by Henry Purcell as the postlude.

The Senior Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Eugene Danielson, will sing "No Shadows Yonder" by Gaul and "The Holy City" by Adams-Ringwald. The Junior Choir will sing, "Thine Is the Glory" by Edmond Budry.

* * *

The pastor, Rev. Carl W. Nelson, has announced that the Easter Message will be entitled, "A Little Bit of Heaven."

The Sunday School, with Mrs. Adolph Hornblad as superintendent, will present its annual Easter Program at 7 p. m.

This program will be presented by all five departments, namely, the beginners, primary, junior, intermediate, and senior departments. The Junior Choir will also sing at this service. The public is cordially invited to worship with St. John's Lutheran congregation at all of these Easter services.

First Congregational Plans Two Services

Look and feel like a million. Let Josephine Lowman help you be healthier, happier and more attractive. Follow her daily column "Why Grow Old" starting Monday in the Press.

Starts Monday, April 2

Meet Josephine Lowman

Josephine Lowman is a vibrant, incredulously active person who must have half a dozen things to do. Even writing her daily column and filling the role of wife and mother doesn't fill her need. for activity. Besides these, she answers a mountain of personal mail from her readers, teaches an occasional physical education class and writes bulletins on health, exercise and diet. Furthermore, she travels extensively to keep fully informed on all new developments and discoveries. This research takes her to both coasts at least once a year to pursue every trend in make-up, hairdress and fashion.

background for LIVING

RECREATION ROOM — This large, homey room is the place where the family most often assembles. Teenage David clears the floor of furniture for parties. Here the family enjoys TV programs. The walls are painted light green. A door from this room leads to the front yard and the lake.

CONVENIENT KITCHEN — Mrs. Panks has a kitchen on both floors of her home. This one, on the upper level, has plenty of storage space in the birch cupboards mounted on three walls. The window over the double sink looks out on the lake. Yellow and green are the colors used here, with the matchstick bamboo cornice and draperies (in the dinette) exactly matching the walls.

Your Neighbor's House

Panks' Finish Home in Chetolah Shores

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Many people look at a house. Some pass it by, not seeing its possibilities. Others, like the George Panks', can look ahead to the finished house and decide the necessary effort is worthwhile.

This was the case with the house on Elizabeth Lake that the Panks' bought last summer. Oh, it was built — after a fashion. There were no doors. The woodwork was only partially in.

The house had the requisite number of rooms, even a handsome brick garage. But the decorating was yet to be done. The kitchen was incomplete.

The Panks' family numbers five. Mr. Panks is a trucking executive, Mrs. Panks a teacher in the Waterford schools. Their older son, Jim, is at Michigan State. David is in ninth grade. Mrs. Panks' father, James McCleary, lives with them.

Even if they had wanted to be a do-it-yourself family, they didn't have the time. So they contracted the work that had to be done on the house.

Of course, it took longer than they had expected. But they had a home in Pontiac to sell and did not need to move in a hurry. Within three months they were settled in their new place.

October saw them lake residents. David began yearning for ice to form so that he could skate. Now, with a new boat, he wonders if the ice will ever melt!

Actually, this two story house is built around a center hall. The main entrance is at one side. Inside there is a small vestibule with a coat closet.

To the right there is a powder room and the Panks' bedroom. To the left the hall is long and branches out at the other end. The living room, kitchen and one bedroom are on the lake side of the house.

Hall and living room walls are painted in sandalwood tone. Ceilings are gray. The carpeting is an exact match for the walls.

The rayon draperies in the 13x19 foot living room are striped in cream and rose beige. Wine is used in the striped upholstery of the chairs. The sofa and two other chairs are green.

At one end of the room there is a birch fireplace. On either side open bookshelves and storage cupboards have been built. The hearth is tile.

Formal lamps go well with the traditional furniture in this room. There is a spinet piano in one corner.

A door opens out onto a covered porch. The Panks' put in the knotty cedar ceiling and intend to install screens this summer.

All the windows in this room—and there are plenty of them—overlook the lake. Even dishwashing can be pleasant in such surroundings.

Their walls are green, the ceiling cream. The floor is green asphalt tile. Their furniture is sturdy maple. There are several shades of green in the draperies.

Mr. McCleary's room is on the road side of the house. He has maple furniture also, with one of the most beautiful maple chest of drawers we have seen in years.

In his room the walls are pink and the tile floor a deep rose. His bedspread is dark brown. Green and rose are the predominating colors in the draperies.

All the closets in the house have folding matchstick bamboo doors. In two of the bedrooms they are painted to match the walls. In Mr. McCleary's room they are white.

The Panks' have a yellow bedroom. Their draperies are yellow, brown and white. The twin beds have brown plaid spreads over plain brown dust ruffles. All the furniture is antique white.

In the basement there is an enormous recreation room, 20 x 26 feet. It has a large stone fireplace at one end. The walls are painted green, while the ceiling beams have been left exposed.

Comfortable, informal furniture fills this room. Here the family LIVES. They eat most of their meals at a drop leaf table in front of the windows.

Mrs. Panks has a second kitchen in the basement. It is complete with a full size stove and refrigerator. For hot weather and for entertaining it should be ideal.

There is laundry and storage space on the ground level also. Doors open out to the yard, one being large enough for a boat.

The exterior of the house is white clapboard with blue trim. The fireplace and garage are red brick. Their lot which slopes down to the lake from the road is 62x125 feet.

Outdoor Living Facilities Afford Family Relaxation

The family with outdoor living facilities usually is healthieer, happier and homier. Besides, when the family spends more time outdoors, there's less work for Mother in the way of formal cooking and housekeeping. The whole family enjoys this frontier-like life in the back yard, and members pitch in with zest when it comes to cooking over an open grill.

More relaxation is another advantage to backyard living, too. There can be a picnic table, fireplace or grill, lounging chairs and hammocks, facilities for shuffleboard, croquet, horseshoe or similar games. When not away on vacation, the family with outdoor living facilities can have vacation time right at home during the favorable weather months.

The backyard becomes a haven for adolescents, also, and it's good for the family's espirit de corps to have a common meeting place in an enjoyable atmosphere. There is much to be said for an organized effort toward more fresh air and sunshine, right in your own backyard.

Recognizing the "back to nature" appeal, Masonite Corporation's home service bureau has prepared a free plan designed for anyone's back yard. Here are some of the exciting features:

There's a handsome storage unit, permanently attached to the house, garage or carport. Covered with Masonite Panelgroove, which blends nicely with the house no matter what its exterior, the structure has two doors leading to garden storage areas on walls lined with "Peg-Board" panels.

One of the two storage cupboards accessible from the outside contains cooking utensils and room for a fold-up table which drops down to become an efficient work surface. On the inside of the storage unit is a work table for the gardener.

Pontiac Press Photos by Jim Mahar

FRONT ENTRANCE — The entrance to the George Panks' home on Sherbourne at Elizabeth Lake is on the side of the house. The garage is placed nearer the street for easy entering. The exterior of the house is white clapboard with blue trim. From this view the house looks small. However, it has three bedrooms and a large basement.

TWO LEVELS — Built into the side of a hill, the Panks' home is two stories high on the lake side. The lower windows are in the recreation room. It is in front of these windows that the family eats most of its meals. The porch above will be screened this summer for outdoor living. The porch opens into the living room. Windows to the left of the porch are in the dinette.

FORMAL LIVING ROOM — The upstairs living room is more formal than the one in the basement. J. W. McCleary, Mrs. Panks' 83-year-old father, enjoys a leisurely time with his book before going to work. Walls and carpeting in this room are sandalwood. The fireplace and storage units at the end of the room are natural finished birch. Furniture is traditional, with green and wine coverings.

Many Switch Floor Coverings Every Season

A good many families are modernizing their living habits by switching floor coverings seasonally, using rich, warm-textured rugs in winter, then changing to light, cool floor covering in summertime.

The plan has much to recommend it. In addition to giving the rooms a "different" look with seasonal rugs, the more luxurious winter covering will be saved much wear and tear.

An important point to consider when taking the seasonal rugs out of use, is a dry, moth-proof storage space. An ideal place to store the off-season rugs is a cedar closet, where the family's furs and woolens are kept.

If the home lacks a cedar storage, an existing closet can be lined with aromatic red closet lining for relatively little cost. Any home handyman worth his hammer and nails can do the job himself in a few spare hours.

Almost any lumber dealer can supply quantities of aromatic red cedar closet lining for the job. The cedar comes neatly packaged and already tongued and grooved for easy installation and close fit.

Dispose Waste in Sink Drain

There is no good reason why a busy housewife should take time out to wrap fruit and vegetable parings and plate scrapings, then lug the soggy package to a smelly container outside the kitchen door.

Food wastes should be disposed of quickly and conveniently where they accumulate—in the kitchen sink. That was the purpose in designing the automatic under-the-sink food waste disposer, one of the most useful appliances in modern housekeeping.

In some disposers, the combination sink drain and cover regulates the operating switch. The disposer cannot be turned on until the cover is in place and twisted to turn on the current.

* * *

Food waste disposers are equal to just about anything, with the exception of tin cans. These still have to be deposited in an outside container to await the weekly call of the trash collectors.

Chop, steak, and chicken bones are as readily pulverised and flushed to the sewer as softer table scraps. Even fruit pits can be put through. String and paper should be kept out, although the contents of ash trays can be safely emptied into the disposer.

QUARTER-INCH DRILL — Home handymen will find the quarter-inch drill a basic tool in their workshops. The one illustrated is by Thor and comes in a kit with attachments that turn the tool into a sander, buffer, polisher, brush or paint-stirrer. It can be used on steel, wood, plastics and other materials.

All-Purpose Power Drill a Necessity for Handyman

A quarter-inch drill is as basic to a man's home workshop as a blue suit is to his wardrobe in the opinion of a man who has been in the power tool business for a long time.

He is J. A. Hill, an official of Thor Power Tool Co., Aurora, Illinois. After 30 years of observing the tremendous upswing in the use of all kinds of portable power tools, he is convinced that the all-purpose drill is still the vital unit around which a successful home shop should be built.

"A drill that quickly bores a hole or a succession of holes in wood, metal or other materials saves the do-it-yourselfer time and energy," says Mr. Hill, adding that "the many attachments now availble with drills make them versatile tools for such extra jobs as sanding, grinding, buffing and polishing."

Thor, for example, offers a boxed "Speed Drill" kit that brings together in one compact package all the parts that are needed for scores of jobs around the home. Besides the drill itself, the kit contains seven bits of assorted sizes, a rubber backer plate to hold sanding discs and polishing bonnet which are also included, a scratch brush, paint stirrer and a number of adaptors and flanges for fitting the various attachments to the tool. All are packed in a steel carrying case and the whole kit sells at hardware, specialty, department and appliance stores.

There is another feature of this Thor drill kit that should appeal to home handymen who need portability for convenience in garage, yard or other location, and still want the advantage of a fixed tool for bench work. It is a combination cradle-and-stand that holds the tool in a rigid position for grinding, buffing and similar work. The cradle is screwed to the work-bench and a metal band bolted to the cradle. The tool then fits into this rig and is held firmly by it.

The drill itself is a precision tool housed in a highly polished, die-cast aluminum shell. It has a ¼" capacity for drilling steel, or ½" for wood, plastics and other light materials. The universal, series-wound motor operates on either 115-volt AC or DC and develops a "no-load" speed of 2400 revolutions per minute and a speed of 1500 rpm at full load. It has self-aligning, oil-less ball thrust bearings and a three-jaw, snap-action chuck. The switch is trigger-type with locking pin, and makes instant contact. Overall length of this pistol-grip tool is nine inches and it weighs only four pounds.

Windows Given More Attention

New Curtain Hardware, Special Finishes Help in Appearance

More attention is being given to window treatments in today's decorating schemes. New curtain and drapery hardware and rods, improved fibres, fabrics and special finishes help you turn even the most "impossible" window into a lovely addition to a room.

* * *

When buying curtains, look for quality, says the April issue of a home magazine. Even "miracle" fabrics go through many processes —twisting, weaving, finishing, cutting, and sewing—which can add or detract from their qualities as a curtain. Price is a yardstick when comparing curtains of the same style and fibre.

Plan your curtains to blend with the style and color of the room, to control light, view and privacy. Measure the windows carefully and take the measurements with you to the store.

Look for guarantees, new fabrics, and quality. Hang the curtains properly and give them correct care, the magazine says.

Curved bay-windows presented a window treatment problem in the past, but with new curved traverse rods available, a solution is easy. The curved rods are also excellent to round off the corner of a room with draperies.

Glamor can be added to valance boards without ruining the budget by covering the boards with an inexpensive print fabric. The cost is low since very little fabric is used.

* * *

Bamboo pull-up shades and folding, sliding, or swinging shutters can also be excellent window treatments for many rooms, the magazine says.

This Saves Strain

Home owners who take pride in their lawns and gardens will find that a strip edge along gardens, walks and driveways will keep grass and weeds under control. For this purpose many are using long scrap of strips of masonite cut to a uniform width and fitted intoes channels made by a spade. This material is especially desirable because it will bend readily and lasts long despite frequent exposure to moisture.

Unique Half-Bowls Enhance Any Decor

A novel wall decoration to suit all seasons can be made in the home workshop simply by cutting a wooden bowl in half and mounting the two halves on a panel of prefinished hardboard or other suitable backing.

The contents of the half bowls can be both oramental and edible if seasonable fruits are used. Or the bowls can be filled with colorful gourds, artificial flowers or evergreens.

An attractive backing can be provided by a square of plastic finished material available at well stocked lumber yards. This can be obtained in wood grain or plain color. Use plywood glue and reinforce with screws from the back to hold the half bowls.

Cover Basement Steps With Non-Skid Cover

Basement stairs will be less hazardous if they covered with a non-skid materical. A durable covering for this purpose is Masonite ¼" Tempered Presdwood, nailed with its screen side up. This is the flooring that withstood the millions of footsteps of Chicago World Fair visitors.

Front edges of the panels should be beveled. Casing nails spaced three inches apart and an inch from each edge should be used. The hardboard may be finished with a penetrating sealer. If treads are worn, they should be turned over before the hardboard is applied. For even greater safety, the front portions of the treads may be coated with luminous paint.

Extra Electrical Outlets Advised for New Homes

If you're building or buying a new home, heed the advice of architects and builders who recommend plenty of electrical outlets in each room. Electrical appliances fill the home these days. Lack of outlets may be dangerous as well as annoying.

Kitchens carry an especially heavy electrical load, and this makes fireproof surfacing materials a necessity on floors, walls and counter tops. Check for adequate wiring as early as possible in your new home planning and avoid annoyance and hazards later.

Use Ceramic Mosaics for Quality in Flooring

Ceramic mosaics are those small units of clay tile, glazed or unglazed, that measure less than six square inches in facial area. Homemakers sometimes wonder about having them installed on bathroom or kitchen floor, thinking that each small unit is put in by hand. Not so.

Ceramic mosaics come mounted on sheets or paper, about one foot by two feet in size, and the whole sheets are installed, paper side up. The paper backs are removed by sponging with a little water. Virtually any number of patterns are available in range of a hundred colors or more. Waterproof, lifelasting and easy to keep clean, ceramic mosaics are a quality choice for modren flooring.

Color Varieties Top Spring Home Fashions

NEW YORK (AP)—Color comes to new products this week as spring spreads across the land.

Roofs and walls can be colored gold, silver, copper, flamingo pink, cobalt blue and coral with a new coating that contains floating aluminum flakes.

The asphalt base coating can be applied by brush, roller or spray. The aluminum flakes provide insulation by refecting heat, and the whole formulation gives a waterproof protective coating.

Home Owning 'U.S. Miracle'

Private home ownership is the real "Miracle of America," the United States Savings and Loan League says.

The description is contained in a new League brochure to be released as part of the celebration during April of the 125th anniversary of the founding of the savings and loan business in the United States in 1831.

"Since time began, one of man's noblest impulses has been the ownership of the home sheltering his loved ones.

"The fulfillment of this impulse has reached its finest heights in the United States, in great part due to the influences of savings and loan associations.

"Here, the right of property is not an exclusive privilege of a monied class.

"Home ownership is the real Miracle of America. In foreign lands, where the skies are leaden with forlorn hopes of people bound by status or oppressed by government decrees, this American achievement is a symbol of the better life still to be lived, and after which to aspire.

"To broaden and to expand the opportunities for this achievement for many more millions of Americans—that is the pledge of American savings and loan institutions and the national organization serving the business—the United States Savings and Loan League."

Headboard Bookshelf Fine Bedroom Furniture Decor

A headboard bookshelf as an addition to a bed is an attractive and useful piece of furniture. It can be constructed from 1 by 12-inch lumber with 1 by 3-inch lumber for the base. Butt joints are used throughout the construction with the addition of dowel joints for the base.

First make the base from 1 by 3-inch lumber, cutting the pieces as shown. The dowel joints are made by boring holes ⅜ inch in diameter, 1 inch deep into the end grain and 9-16 inch deep into the flat ends. Cut dowel pins 1½-inches long and file a spiral groove to provide a glue pocket. Glue and clamp the frame together. In order to fasten the base to the lower shelf board, bore holes ⅜ inch in diameter and 2 inches deep in at least two places into the bottom of each base piece. With the same centers bore pilot holes ⅛ inch in diameter for 1½-inch No. 10 wood screws.

Next cut the side boards and shelving to the sizes shown and assemble the side shelving between the uprights with glue and 6-penny finishing nails. It is advisable to measure and mark the location of the shelves and to start the nails before assembly.

The lower long shelf can now be joined to the two end sections, again with glue and finishing nails at the joints. The top board is then fastened to the top of the uprights and the divider boards centered in position and fastened. Set all nails and fill the holes with wood filler.

Next attach the base sections to the bottom shelf with glue and 1½-inch No. 10 wood screws.

Round all exposed corners, sand, and stain and varnish.

QUAINT TOUCH—Trellises may be used in various ways to add charm to the house exterior. The above sketch is an example. Across the end of a porch to give privacy or to soften the corner of a garage, a door or window are other uses. The pattern shows views of four styles of trellises and three designs for flower boxes. As tracing patterns are required only for the shaped parts space has been found on the pattern for directions to make the door-side seats and an interesting garden gate that is easy to make. The pattern is rich in detail for the "do-it-yourself" builder. Price of pattern 314 is 25 cents.

Plan Rubber Tile Floor With Own Monogram

You can give a custom look to your foyer by planning a rubber tile floor with your own monogram as a center of interest. Resilient rubber is easy to cut into decorative shapes with an ordinary rubber flooring knife, an ideal choice for do-it-yourself fans.

Rubber is a trouble-free choice for foyer flooring. It's easy to keep it sparkling just by an occasional once-over with a damp mop.

Saves You Home Space

What's in a Nail?

Nail length for 25/32-inch hardwood flooring, a nail of sufficient length to penetrate subflooring and joists to a depth of ⅝ to ¾-inch into the joist should be used. A 7d nail is sufficient for 25/32-inch strips. Species of flooring include maple and birch.

Loans Make Building Easy

Are you unwilling to put out the money for your Add-A-Room or other home-improvement project in one lump sum? Then you should have little or no trouble financing the job with a loan.

* * *

You'll find remodeling money available through savings and loan associations, commercial and savings banks, certain building-materials dealers, contractors and other lenders.

The principal methods of obtaining the necessary cash are:

1) Taking advantage of the convenient credit plan offered by many building-materials dealers.

2) Securing a loan of the FHA-insured Title 1 type under which amounts up to $2500 are available.

3) Refinancing your present mortgage.

4) Using your "open-end" mortgage, if you have one, to borrow what you need.

5) Arranging with your bank or other lender for a low-interest loan on proper security.

* * *

You'll be smart to weigh and check into those various possibilities to make sure you are getting the money you need in the most simple and economical manner and the one best fitted to your needs and circumstances.

Protect Windowsills With Ceramic Tiling

Favor your windowsills with new, lasting beauty. Ordinary windowsill surfacing, especially in the living room area, soon gets soiled and starts to deteriorate because of the great number of uses to which it is put. Flower pots, of course, are the worse offenders. Active children, rain, cigarette burns, beverage stain—all plague the windowsill.

* * *

It's practical, then, to surface the sill with a durable, scratch-proof, waterproof material such as ceramic tile which retains its original beauty partically under any circumstance.

An answer to hardwood floors which reflect quiet beauty has been found in the restrained grain pattern of northern hard maple and birch - the original home floors of Colonial days.

Color for 1956— It's Turquoise

Bridging the gap between the traditional and modern furniture styling is this spring's fashion news—that of Italian provincial It gives the casual relationship between the old and new, explains Mrs. Mary Hixon, Oakland County Home Demonstration Agent, because it is based on straight line designed with a touch of elegance.

It is available in either the natural wood tone finishes or the new pumice gray finish and will be seen in furniture for the living room, dining room, and bedroom. The inset fronts on drawers and the squared hardware are distinctive of the Italian provincial styling. Other features include the tapered square or round leg and slight ornamentation, such as the columned post.

Mrs. Hixon says you will find the number one color for home furnishings this year is turquoise, a color that blends with almost anything. It will appear in upholstery fabrics, leather trim, carpeting and in accessory items. Still most popular for the basic color in your rooms are the browns, tans, and greens, with gold being a close runner-up.

Something new on the color scene are the nomad colors, so called because they travel perfectly with any other color. Name colors are variations of the olive drab of service days.

House of the Week Offers Outdoor Living Room Plan

A patio and an outdoor living room for Northern climates as well as for the South are made practicable and economical in a new plan — Design T-59 for The House of The Week. This house can be built with a basement or on a radiant-heated concrete slab, depending on your budget and your preference.

This is a glamorous house. Walls of glass exploit vistas of landscaping secluded from street view. It's a modern house in function as well as in appearance. It's a family house, designed for a maximum of informal living without sacrificing privacy or dignity in appointments — the kind of a house where you'd like to plan a backyard swimming pool, as a future improvement.

GLAMOROUS LIVING — Glamorous living in any climate is provided by this plan with a front patio and a rear outdoor living room. The big outdoor living room can be secluded from the street. The design is suited for basement or slab.

PLAN WITH A BASEMENT — The kitchen and the dining or family room occupy the center of the house. Bedrooms are concentrated on one side while the living rooms are on the opposite side. The patio is set inside the two arms of the H.

BASEMENT PLAN — If a basement is used, this shows the abundant storage space that is available, as well as the large playroom with big windows in a window well.

Construction is simplified by design. Shaped like a series of cubes arranged in the form of an H, the plan is drawn for rapid and uncomplicated framing. One gabled roof with extended slopes covers the entire H, eliminating the need and expense of roof valleys. Standard size modern materials are accommodated throughout — a feature that speeds building and saves labor on the job.

EFFICIENT UTILIZATION

Pointing up this economy is an efficient utilization of virtually every inch of enclosed space. Although this house includes three bedrooms and two bathrooms, a spacious family room, open-planned kitchen, indoor and outdoor living rooms, the house proper — the part you pay most for — covers only 1,494 square feet when you build it on a slab. Adding space for basement stairs enlarges the house to only 1,572 square feet — still a modest sized dwelling. In each case tool storage and carport areas are figured separately because of their lower cost ratings.

The entrance is both impressive and convenient. A covered walk adjoining the carport leads to both kitchen and front doors. Turn left and you're in the kitchen. Straight ahead is the living room.

LARGE CLOSET AVAILABLE

A large guest coat closet is adjacent to the front door, whether you build this house with or without a basement. If you build over a basement, an open basement stairway flanked by a picturesque planting box on top of a brick stub partition creates a cozy fireplace corner in the living room. High windows, above the tool storage shed, light this stairway and nigh windows in the living room surmount the brick fireplace wall which is continued across one entire side of this room.

Glass walls embracing the outdoor living room enhance the spaciousness of this house. These comprise fixed panes for living room. Sliding glass doors in aluminum frames merge the family room with this outdoor area. Heavy drapes cover the glass wall of the bedroom, or pulled back, they admit a burst of sunshine and a view of the cloistered planting.

With the kitchen immediately adjoining the dining or family room, service of refreshments to the outdoor living area is especially convenient.

Here's an Idea

For cleaning the inside of boots and overshoes, slip the crevice tool of the vacuum cleaner inside the footwear, drawing out the dirt and thus making them safer and cleaner for milady's cherished nylons.

Space Stretching Takes Insight

If you live in a house that is too small, use space-stretching decorating idets to help hide the size of the small rooms.

* * *

Color, furniture arrangement, accessories, furnishings, and lighting are the most important ideas in making a small home live big.

Correct use of color is vital to a decorating scheme. A basic color prnciple is that dark colors advance, light colors recede. Use closely related colors to avoid "chopping-up" backgrounds that make rooms appear smaller than they really are.

Furniture arrangement that defines traffic lanes keeps a room from looking like a bargain basement on sale day. The article advises being open minded, not sentimental, about furniture. A good furniture arrangement may mean eliminating a piece of furniture. Or, for instance, doing away with a large, bulky sofa in favor of two well-scaled loveseats for more seating in less space.

NO HODGEPODGE

A few large, and useful, accessories are better than a hodgepodge of small, meaningless objects, the magazine says.

Furnishings that serve dual purposes, like sofa beds and sectional pieces, are good choices. Comfortable seating pieces do not have to be bulky.

Lighting that draws attention to tall draperies or put a dark, unsued corner to work will surprise you with the space it can add to small rooms, the article says.

* * *

Imaginative decoration does not necessarily mean great expense. Refinished furniture, unusual, but inexpensive, window treatments, and unique fill-in pieces will make the buget go toward buying only the best basic furniture and accessories, says the magazine.

How About That!

A new wax for the floor is believed to be the first to include a potent germicidal. It is supposed to destroy bacteria and make floors bright all in one operation.

New Lighting Unit Gives Natural Light

How would you like to do your work in a constant natural light coming through a north skylight at high noon? You can get it with a new lighting unit from Duro-Test corp. of North Bergen, N. J.

The unit consists of a blended mixture of six 40-watt flourescent lamps, and the light produced covers the full spectrum. It is designed for use by artists, painters, textile producers, fruit and vegetable classifiers, among others.

Buying Rugs? Then Be Careful

Do Not Be Confused by Sale Talks; Examine Before Selecting

Even the most astute shopper today may become confused about yarns when selecting a rug.

Development of a variety of synthetic yarns in addition to various blends and the cottons which are now on the market make it necessary for the prospective buyer of a new rug to make a careful study of yarns and fibers to select one which is right for her needs.

The cottons are the most inexpensive and may be had in exceptionally pretty colors and weaves. However, there are certain points to remember when considering this type of rug. Cotton sheds lint, is not as long-wearing, and in areas where the climate is damp has a natural tendency to absorb moisture and trap dirt.

* * *

Nylon (a plastic) and wool yarns are the longest-wearing and generally practical but are also considerably more expensive, the nylon being more costly than wool. Both of these yarns are resilient and may be had in attractive colorings as the yarns dye well.

CHECK THOSE BLENDS

One should be particularly careful in the selection of blends because they may develop cleaning problems, especially as to color.

Another type of plastic (Saran) is a good choice for a humid climate as it does not absorb moisture — but, again, it is one of the more expensive yarns.

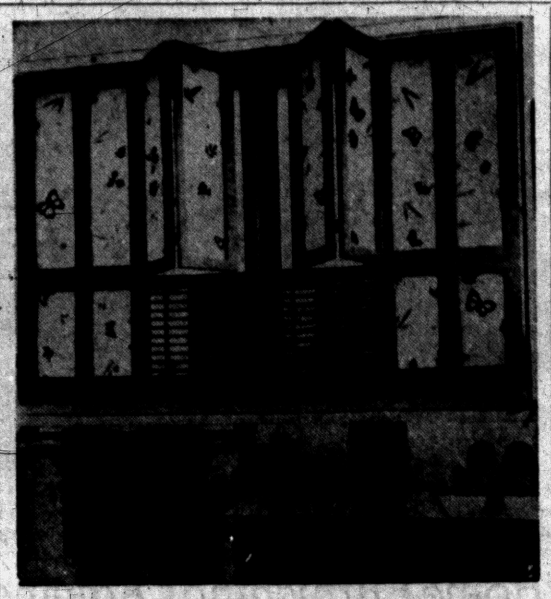

* * *

In the matter of size modern homemakers are rapidly turning away from wall-to-wall carpeting and rugs that cover most of the floor for a number of reasons: the expense of such a large area of rug, the upkeep and, with wool, the ever-present danger of moths and baseboards.

The well-polished floor, whether of one of the new vinyls or of wood, is not only harmonious with modern furniture but has great practical appeal both from the standpoint of easy upkeep and the initial cost of the rug used on it.

Recognizing this trend, many manufacturers are devoting attention to the area rug which is steadily increasing in popularity. One of the attractive aspects of these small area rugs which accent rather than cover a well waxed floor is that they may be used in bright colors and in patterns without creating difficulties with a decoration plan. They also present no upkeep difficulties. Electric polishers take care of the upkeep on waxed floors, whether vinyl or wood, and the rugs are simply taken up in spring or fall and sent to the cleaners.

Don't overlook the little trick of bending wires around terminal screws in a clockwise direction so they will stay in place when the screws are tightened.

SHOJIS — Shojis are decorative panel screens and room dividers. Real butterflies, leaves and flower petals are laminated in rice paper and plastic for these shojis.

Automatic Color Carousel Assists Home Decorator

On the wave of color-consciousness which is sweeping the country, a fabulous new machine which makes myriads of colors automatically has just been evolved.

* * *

It promises to attract attention, especially from amateur and professional decorators hunting "that personal color combination" in the home.

The range of colors possible on this machine runs into the millions —beyond the ability of the human eye to tell them apart. However, over 500 shades have been pre-selected and are assembled in a display piece called the Color Vision Selector.

These 2,000 plus shades are said to take care of most of the demand for special, individual colors.

The machine, no bigger than a large home refrigerator, has a revolving, vari-colored drum containing specially formulated liquid colorants which are automatically blended into countless distinct shades of paint.

Controls consist of dials and push buttons alongside the drum. When the paint-buyer picks a color, its code numbers are set on the dials, the starter button is pressed, and the machine takes over.

Measuring and blending is automatic, and when finished a light flashes and a bell rings.

The customer is not limited to one type of paint. Wall enamels in flat, semi-gloss and gloss are available; different types of paint for different purposes, even non-scuff floor enamel. Decorators can carry their color combinations outside if they wish.

* * *

The various types of paint which can be made up in these myriad colors on the automatic color carousel have been specially formulated. With alkyd resin bases, they are said to be long-lasting, washable and free from the usual "painty" odor.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For the Home

TO STRAIGHTEN RECORDS

Since warped phonograph records are useless in that condition, Popular Mechanics offers a suggestion for straightening them. Simply immerse the record in hot water, 140 to 160 degrees, in a cake pan or similar shallow, flat-bottom container.

Over the record invert a dinner plate of a diameter permitting its edge to contact only the edge of the record. In other words, don't let the plate touch the grooves of the record.

Place a one-pound weight on the plate, leaving the record under pressure until the water has cooled to room temperature.

Cane Produces Unusual Effect

Woven cane is actually a product of rattan. It is a tough and flexible material. There is a lot of romance, as well as practicality, in woven cane.

It is a material which has been used intermittently in the furniture field for many years, with great success. The old cane seating was very popular, very comfortable, and long wearing, back in the early 1900's.

But now, it is becoming a decorative material as well as the same strong, long-wearing basic material. With its new decorative treatment, it appears as a brand new item with unlimited possibilities.

MANY USES

There seems to be no end to the number of different uses, designs and effects that have been created by modern application. Such applications run from dining room groups, showing chairs with cane seat and back, and a china top with cane panel doors, to bedroom groups centered about smart swing beds with cane headboards.

In fact, woven can has now been accepted by many of the leading furniture designers and interior decorators, as ideal material for panels, decoration, and trim.

* * *

Turn off the main electrical switch when changing fuses—. even though you may see licensed electricians do otherwise.

How to Clean Greasy Range

Task Is Easy Using Detergent, Steel Wool, Water, Ammonia

Cleaning greasy range parts is one of the unpleasant chores which a housewife faces in her cleaning routine. That job isn't nearly as difficult or unpleasant when a few simple instructions are followed.

* * *

A pail, detergent, ammonia, steel wool and hot water are the only tools needed to make the task an easy one. Fill the pail with a solution of detergent and ammonia. Home economists recommend one cup ammonia and two tablespoons detergent to a pail of water.

* * *

Allow the range parts to soak in the solution for several hours. After the parts have soaked thoroughly, wipe them with steel wool to remove the unpleasant, clinging matter that didn't dissolve in the solution. A minimum of elbow-grease will remove the grease and burned food which cake on the range parts, and restore the parts to their original bright appearance.

If your skin is sensitive, it is advisable to wear rubber gloves when the hands are in the detergent-ammonia solution.

When larger range parts, such as the broiler unit and the oven racks, are to be cleansed, use a galvanized steel laundry tub for holding the detergent and ammonia solution.

* * *

The same method can be utilized to clean backyard barbecue grills or even fireplace equipment. It's surprising to see how the grease, soot and wood gum dissolve in the solution, and how with little or no scrubbing, the grills are bright and clean again.

* * *

Pails and tubs are suggested for the job in order to keep the kitchen sink free for regular use during the soaking period.

Here's 3 Hints on How to Find Good Builder

Among the best ways to find a good builder are:

1. Ask the man who owns a new house what he thinks of his builder.
2. Ask your banker, savings and loan association or lumber dealer for a list of reliable builders.
3. Ask a builder for the names of some of his customers.

Wasted Space Means Rooms

The ideal, low-cost way to get an extra room, or rooms, is to use space which is now wasted in your home. A second living room, children's playroom, workshop or hobby center, even extra bedrooms can be yours easily and economically—and you'll have fun bringing them to life.

Basements and attics offer one great advantage when you remodel. That is, you can experiment with structural changes, decorating and furnishings without upsetting the order of everyday living. Here's where you can put discarded furniture to work and use color to its utmost — bright-hued fabrics, modern wall and floor coverings, colorful paintings or posters often make the basement or attic room the most popular room in the house!

Before you start remodeling your basement, make sure it is livable. This means checking leaks and some cases waterproofing the interior. Fans, dehumidifiers and pipe insulations will make a basement more comfortable. Then consider ventilation and light — you may wish to enlarge present windows, for example.

* * *

After these problems are solved, you can decide on the wall and floor coverings. Plastic wall tile is a good choice for a basement room because it is easy to install, is heat and moisture resistant, and adds bright, cheerful color to walls.

Attics can give bonus living space, too. First, consider insulation. There are many types of good insulation you can install yourself easily. If your attic is already finished, it is merely a question of which decorating materials to use. Modern flooring products can save expensive refinishing and deaden noise . . . are easy to maintain.

A wise choice for attic room walls is plastic wall tile since it is both beautiful and economical. Then plan your curtains and upholstery to blend with the walls and floor and voila! a new room at your disposal with a minimum of time, effort and expense.

If You Pamper 'Em—

Most manufacturers make junior-sized fixtures for children's baths—scaled-down bathtubs, toilets, and lavatories that can be reached without standing on tiptoe or on a stool. When the children are ready for them, regulation-sized fixtures can be installed, connected to the some water supply and drainage lines.

Don't forget that, if you have small children who might poke metal objects into wall outlets, you can buy anti-shock outlets.

Home Furnishings Advancing in Cycles

American home furnishings have gone through many cycles and lately most of them have been all to the good.

In the early colonial days many wealthy families settled in the East and brought with them the very best of the European furniture styles of their day. Much of this furniture has an elegance all its own, though from our view now it was out-size, over-weight, and in the case of beds with their heavy canopies it was dust-catching.

This furniture was definitely "period" and might be of the styles then current abroad, but the styles nonetheless in turn might be throwbacks to an earlier era famous in whatever country was represented. Queen Anne of romantic and historical fame had a couch which she used when holding conferences with her advisors. It was almost modern in its starkness of design, but like most beds of that era, the cushionings were so curved that staying firmly planted upon it must have been a problem.

The Cardinal Richelieu bed which he took with him wherever he traveled was so enormous that frequently the whole side of a small inn would have to be knocked out to let it be placed inside. That was an era when people lived with splendor and could afford to do so. The exigencies of time caused the modification in the size of beds acceptable to the public.

* * *

As the people in the East gradually progressed westward, conditions at the outset were such that beds were of the barest design to meet minimum comfort standards and mattresses usually were made of straw. Still later the featherbed mattress was adopted by the wealthier groups. They were overly soft, dust-absorbing and tended to be unhealthily warm once the occupants had sunk into the featherbed mattress for the night. They were the ultimate in comfort in their day, and it was just unfortunate that they were unhealthful.

The mattresses of even half century ago, whatever their size and shape, were little more than pads. Then approximately a quarter century ago a revolutionary mattress was developed featuring hundreds of pocketed coils each floating in its own separate pocket.

The over-age mattress, however good at the outset, should be replaced by a new model, according to the sleep experts, who estimate that there are more than 25 million obsolete mattresses now in use which should be replaced. A good yardstick by which to judge is that if your mattress is more than 10 years old, the shrewd homemaker would agree that she had gotten excellent value for her money.

New Conveniences Make Vanity Lavatories Popular

The two-way convenience of a vanity lavatory accounts for the increasing popularity of this fixture with women, quite as much as its attractive sayling and lines.

A vanity lavatory provides a bathroom dressing table with hot and cold running water and takes care of the storage problem, which is apt to be acute where free wall space is insufficient for built-ins.

Prefabricated vanity lavatories, sold and installed by plumbing contractors, are a trim-looking combination of fixture and storage space in the cabinet beneath. The storage facilities can be increased as far as available wall space permits, simply by adding extra prefabricated countertop units.

COLORS ATTRACTIVE

Vanity lavatories come in the same attractive colors as conventional free-standing, wall-hung, or pedestal-mounted lavatories—pink, blue, green, yellow, tan, ivory, and gray—as well as white. Plumbing contractors also sell countertop lavatories separately and are prepared to have the cabinet enclosure built, in that case, to the homeowner's specifications.

A vanity lavatory increases the convenience of a first-floor powder room. Installed in the bedroom, this fixture permits a woman to spend as long as she pleases at personal grooming, without tying up facilities of the main bathroom endlessly.

Countertop surfaces may be anything from a plain or patterned stain and burn-proof plastic material, to clay tile square, mosaic tilting, or real marble. For added tiling or real marble. For added gramed faucets may be chosen for this fixture.

What Comes First?

Mixing lump-free plaster is easy if you add plaster to water, not water to plaster. Let plaster set in water for about four minutes, then stir until the mixture is smooth. If any lumps do occur, work them out with a paddle against the side of the container.

For gymnasium, multi-purpose and family center room floors, the face width of maple flooring most popular with architects who specify it, is 2-¼-inch.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For the Home

In new homes that will have wall-to-wall carpeting, wise owners are insisting on omitting finish floors as an unnecessary expense. Instead, they are specifying Masonite Underlayment, which goes right over the subfloor and provides a smooth, even base for the

Easy to apply, Masonite Underlayment is readily fastened down with nails or staples. It is available, with directions, in lumber yards. The panels have a uniform thickness of .215 inches, slightly less than ¼ inch, and are available in two convenient sizes, 3x4 ft. and 4x4 ft.

Europe Knows Why Soviets Abandon Base

PARIS — Speculation is rife in Europe, as to why the Russians have announced they are leaving Porkkala, Finland, their only base outside the Iron Curtain.

The reasons, most observers agree, are first to create goodwill in Finland and weaken Scandinavian adherence to N.A.T.O.; second, because they are making no strategic sacrifice, due to the atomic bomb situation, and third, and most important, to strengthen Russia's demand for the ending of American bases in Europe.

By giving Porkkala back to the Finns 40 years before the lease expires, they make their demand that Americans get out more plausible, the experts say.

Lauds Fine Paint Job, Even of Reversed Sign

QUINCY, Ill. (AP)—During a meeting of the city council, Alderman Richard Peters commented that the street and bridge department had done a fine job of repainting stop signs.

"But I wish they would work again on the one at the southeast corner of Eleventh and State. They put it back upside down," he said.

Glazing Is the Secret

Large glass areas in homes have been made practicable for keeping cold out in Northern winters and keeping heat out in Southern summers by the use of vacuum sealed double glazing. The permanently, clean and moisture-less space between such panes serves as insulation. Small windows are no longer necessities.

Colored Sink Is Focal Point

Bright Enameled Finish Provides Central Theme in Kitchen Decoration

A good starting point for a color-coordinated kitchen in the modern manner is the sink. Sinks, both single and double bowl types, come in pink, blue, yellow, green, tan, ivory, and gray, as well as white.

* * *

The bright enamel finish of colored sinks is impervious to staining, because of long firing at high temperatures. Color of base and wall-hung storage cabinets can be chosen to harmonize or contrast with the color of the sink.

* * *

Sink fittings—twin handle combination faucets with swin-spout, and crumb strainer drains—are made of brass with a sparkling-bright chromium-plated finish that retains its original lustre indefinitely.

Whenever possible, the sink should be installed beneath a window. This not only improves lighting at the busiest point in the kitchen during the day time. It also frees precious wall space for additional storage cabinets and built-ins.

Flexibility of storage arrangements is an outstanding characteristic of kitchen cabinets these days. Shelves, drawers and trays are adjustible at different heights in a number of major lines, so that storage arrangements can be changed as the need arises.

Ordinarily dead corner space in both base and overhead cabinets has been reclaimed by revolving lazy susan shelves.

SILICONE SEALER — Photo at left shows the kind of damage to interiors that driving rain, soaking right through the wall, can cause inside of six months. Many homes are similarly affected by water that comes right through the masonry. At right is the same wall six months after the outside had been treated with a silicone water repellent and the inside done over with the same type of paint. After six months, the paint was in perfect condition.

Water Continually Carries on Rebellion of Destruction on Masonry Dwellings

Much has been written about the damage that moisture can cause to homes — both from within and without — and many warnings have been issued, often with reference to houses of frame construction.

The story of the Three Little Pigs may have proved that houses built of brick or other masonry are impervious to the Big Bad Wolf. But the BBW of this story is water, which can be as destructive of masonry as of wood.

Water continually carries on its campaign of destruction against masonry dwellings. The damage may take several forms:

1. Interior paint may peel, woodwork crack or warp, plaster stain and fall apart — all of this possibly the result of water soaking right through the walls.

2. Brick, stucco, other masonry and mortar may crack or chip due to a quick freeze shortly after it has absorbed a quantity of water. Freezing water of course expands, causing the damage.

3. Ugly dirt stains may be the result of water carrying dust, soot and dirt into the pores of the masonry, where it lodges.

4. Efflorescence caused by water leaching salts out of masonry material takes the form of an unsightly powdery deposit. Usually efflorescence man only be removed with acid.

PAINTING HELPED

There was a time when painting the exterior was the only defence that owners of masonry homes used against moisture. This afforded incomplete protection. Their only other alternative was periodic repair and maintenance.

No longer. For modern science has developed one-coat silicone water repellents for masonry. One of the prime advantages of the silicone sealers is that they are transparent, and form an invisible coating when dry. They do not change the original color or texture of a masonry wall.

The sealers can be applied with spray or brush, although spraying with a low-pressure gun is recommended. They are effective for up to 10 years, according to Linde Air Products Co., a leading developer of the special silicone resin used as the base for silicone sealers.

SILICONE PENETRATES

Linde chemists say this is the way the sealers work: The liquid penetrates into the pores of brick or concrete; when the solvent evaporates, the silicone is deposited on the surface of pores in the masonry. A chemical reaction takes place, which results in a highly water-repellent surface of silicone resin adhering to the walls of each pore.

Driving rains of hurricane intensity will not hurt the coating.

Existing buildings as well as brand-new ones can be treated with silicone sealers. They should not be used over resin or oil-based paints, but can be applied over cement-based paints.

They can be applied at any time of year, even in freezing weather, but you must wait for a dry spell of two or three days before beginning the application.

A seeming paradox is that while the sealers keep rain water out, they don't keep moisture generated inside the house from getting to the outside.

No Great Necessity for Spring Cleaning

In spite of the fact that the vacuum cleaner, if used regularly, will do away with any necessity for the old-time spring and fall housecleaning, there still are many homemakers who cling to the belief that the semi-annual cleaning is a must.

If you are one of those, and are planning now on a general cleaning, do take one room at a time, finish it completely, before going to another part of the house. This way there always will be a haven for the tired man of the house when he comes home, as well as a place for the energetic homemaker herself to take a little rest.

Regardless of any woman's belief that the twice-a-year cleaning is best, her vacuum cleaner will show her the way to a clean house every day in the year, with no seasonal upsets, if only she will give it the opportunity.

Federal Officials to Heed Advice of U.S. Housewife

NEW YORK (INS)—Housewives who can tell the federal government what's wrong with today's homes in a few well-chosen wods may find themselves in Washington come cherry blossom time.

Albert M. Cole, administrator of the housing and home finance agency, today told a news conference he was inviting the housewives of America to write him about what's wrong with today's homes.

"We expect many letters," Cole said, and from these he will choose more than 100 "grass roots" representatives who will be invited to Washington "toward the end of April."

The homemakers selected will make up Cole's proposed "women's congress on housing" which will meet to discuss such problems as the maximum distance a home should be from schools, whether families get more service from single story, split level or open-design houses.

FREE RIDES TO CAPITAL

"We'll pay their way, the federal government's top housing official said, "12 per diem and mileage, just like I get."

He explained his reasons for believing the congress neccessary by saying "the American home building industry is in transition" and new homes must keep up with the rapidly changing mode of contemporay living.

"I propose to invite from all parts of the country," Cole stated, "the people who are closest to the home—the ones who do the biggest part of the work in the home—the ones who take daily measures of the contribution the home makes or fails to make to a satisfactory living.

"These people, of ccourse, are the housewives of America."

He added that he expected the recommendations arising from the Women's Congress on Housing to influence the Federal Housing Authority requirements, as well as architects, contractors and others in the home building industry.

Check Lighting Needs in Hall and Bathroom

Every house has a hallwzy and at least one bathroom.

In the hall the wiring devices needed depend upon its length. The long hall needs ceiling lights with 3-way switches at each end.

The small hallway may be efficiently equipped with only one, switch. Check your needs and plan accordingly.

The bathroom lighting is important. Many parents of young and growing children like a dim ceiling night light controlled by a wall switch with another switch controlling the bright fluorescent mirror lights.

One duplex wall outlet is most useful for electric shavers, hair driers and other modern appliances. The type of outlet that provides a ground is best for this purpose.

Forests Regrown, Used

Forests, unlike other natural resources, can be used and regrown forever. The forest products industries are dedicated to the principle of continuous production of trees on lands best suited for this purpose.

Try Alternating Fence Boards

An attractive garden fence, with boards arranged alternately on each side of the rails affords greater privacy than does the conventional picket fence.

* * *

It is easily made of 4 by 4-inch posts, 2 by 4-inch rails, and 1 by 6-inch boards. The height of the fence and the spacing of the boards may be varied. If privacy is desired, the fence can be made 6½ to 7 feet high.

Posts may be of decay-resistant or preservative-treated wood. Posts which will be painted should be soaked 48 hours in an oil base wood preservative to a depth of 6 inches above the ground line. For other parts of the fence use a preservative over which paint may be applied.

Set the posts 6 feet apart, center to center; about one-fourth of their length should be set in concrete, but even for a short fence a minimum depth of 1 foot is desirable.

Place 6-foot 2 by 4 rails across the top of the posts, with the ends of the rails meeting at the center of the posts. Cut a ¾-inch mortise on each side of each post, to receive the bottom rails, with the lower edge of the mortise about 6 inches from the ground level; then cut the lower 2 by 4 rails to fit between the posts and into a mortise at each end. Use 2-penny galvanized nails to attach the top rails to the tops of the posts and to toenail the bottom rails into the mortise.

Do-It-Yourself Craze Profitable for Youths

The do-it-yourself craze has proved helpful and profitable to two brothers of high school age. Their father bought them an old weather-beaten car, which they refinished so beautifully that they have orders from friends to refinish their cars. This they do after school and on Saturdays.

They have been using their mother's vacuum cleaner to pick up sand and grit when removing the finish of a car, and the sprayer attachment to apply panit. Now that they have their business on a paying basis the mother has issued an ultimatum that their first investment with their profits must be a new vacuum cleaner for herself.

NEW YORK (INS)—Most housewives would be very unhappy if they moved into a home and found the walls consisted of raw bricks on the inside.

* * *

But that doesn't stop them from covering over the paster with wallpaper to make the walls look like they were brick.

There are several ways this can be done—with plastic brickwork that the do-it-yourself enthusiast can put up himself. This way you can have any color brick you want.

Then there are brick wallpapers—if you want you could probably get lavender or bright green brick paper. Another company puts out brick wallpaper complete wth gilded granules of sand that outline the bricks in a textured fashion.

The "nature" look is a popular one on wall-coverings this spring. Papers designed to make your room look like it was wood-paneled are very popular. There are even papers that make the room like paneled in a parquet design.

Floral-patterned wallpapers are getting a big play with the coming of the warm months, with the emphasis on small-scale or oriental-type patterns.

Make Sure You Fireproof Your Basement

Home owners should make sure that their basements have ample protection against fire, especially if furnace and fuel are located there, says the Liberty Mutual Insurance Co.

* * *

"In this age of game rooms, workshops, deep-freezers, washing machines and modern heating plants," the insurance firm says, the basement is being used more widely than ever and should be danger-proofed so that it will be easy to leave in emergencies.

"The best arrangement is to place both fuel and furnace in separate, smoke-tight, fire-resistive compartments or rooms that have some source of outside ventilation," it says. "And since you may have a number of people in the basement at one time, it is wise to plan an exit from the basement directly to the outside instead of depending on a single stairway up through the house."

Many modern materials, designed to make the basement more useful and attractive, can be used to minimize the dangers of basement fires.

* * *

Fire-resistant panels can be placed over the furnace and used as a finished ceiling. Fireproof steel basement doors installed over the steps leading to the outdoors will provide a permanently safe exit.

Maple Floors Durable and Easy on the Budget

Homemakers like kitchen floors of northern hard maple. This beautiful wood blends perfectly with the new designs of kitchen cabinets built of maple or birch. Maple floors are easy on the building budget and last a lifetime.

Properly finished, the floor requires no scrubbing. Smooth strips in random lengths are popular, but many interior decorators are recommending square blocks and other patterned parquetry designs.

You Can Make Your Own Window Screens

The time to paint, replace and hang window screens is getting near. Wouldn't it be fine to have screens that never need paint, that always fit and never bulge? You can have screens like that and make them yourself. New screen making kits are now available at hardware stores, department stores and lumber dealers. Each kit includes aluminum framing sections, fittings and a roll of fiber glass screen cloth. The only tools you need are a hammer, hacksaw, ruler and screwdriver.

Eliminate Moisture Blisters on Paint

Moisture blistering is one of the major enemies of paint. Now that the paint-up season is beginning, the first step should be to eliminate avenues for moisture to get into walls.

Seal all cracks and all holes with putty or calking compound before you start to paint.

A properly placed shade tree will lower your living room temperature at least 15 degrees in the summer. To get that welcome shade in a hurry, plant trees in clumps of three or more.

Ask the Man!

If you plan building a summer cottage, ask your local lumber dealer for details on the Fourth Grade of maple flooring. This is really inexpensive hardwood flooring. Some cutting is necessary in laying, but the completed floor will be durable and attractive.

Wood Versatility Useful in Creating Music Center

A place to enjoy music, books, television and other home entertainment is becoming almost as important in our daily lives as a place to eat and sleep.

Electronic advance in sight and sound reproduction have made nearly every night a "first night" right within the confines of homes where families may enjoy entertainment and cultural pursuits.

As a result of this latter-day phase of domestic existence, the very architecture of our dwellings has undergone a renovation, as well as our family relationships.

Since music and entertainment is becoming an important part of our furnishings, many interesting methods are being devised to handle the situation attractively and imaginatively. This is where the music wall makes its debut.

* * *

Situation of the music wall depends largely upon its frequency of use, how much it is to be emphasized, and the room where it will be most convenient to the most people.

WOOD IS CHOICE

One factor that architects and cabinetmakers consider of prime importance in building a music storage and display wall, is the material to be used in its construction. The logical material, and that generally preferred is wood, for it may be cut to any dimension, matched, blended or contrasted to the room's period and color style. Wood's composition also allows better sound reproduction.

The music wall may accommodate a television set, radio custom hi-fidelity equipment, record storage, books, magazines, and movie equipment. This allows the homeowner unlimited possibilities for wall units.

One of the most popular is the architectural storage wall. The units may be set into the wall, or built on the wall, depending upon space allocation. Open magazine and book shelves give the installation a more interesting patter, and the beautiful grain of fir or hemlock panels adds textural interest. Louvered doors are also popular for contrast with smooth panels.

Even if your TV set is housed in a storge wall, it may be mounted on a dolly so that it can be angled for viewing from any section of the room.

The room divider-music wall performs a dual duty in the open-area contemporary home, and divider wall paneling of fir or hemlock may match other wall paneling for an integrated look. The divider wall leaves back of TV set and hi-fi mechanisms free for easy removal repairing.

Carpets Provide Decor Flavors

EAST LANSING—Your carpeting can provide the decorating flavor for your room and it can give a built-in color scheme. This spring's design influences seem to be coming from all parts of the globe, declares Jessie Marion, home furnishings specialist at Michigan State University.

There are carpet motifs from the Far East, India, Iran, Italy and Scandinavia, adapted to suit our tastes and way of life. They are made with a wide range of coloring, too.

Brown is still the favored color family, points out Miss Marion, with its many variations from "wheat" to "cocoa." The emphasis is on the warm or rosy tones, such as "sandalwood" and "nutria." Orange and gold are the high style colors in this family. Many weaves have a touch of richness added by gold metallic yarns.

* * *

There is a reason for this warm color trend. It is a perfect complement to the swing in other decorating materials toward true blue, a color that has been missing in home furnishings for some time.

But carpets are making cool news, too — with some blues, greyed lilacs and greens that combine with blue and make a striking effect. In general the whole range of carpet colors is light, with strong colors appearing in "spectacular" rugs.

* * *

Moresque yarns (several colors twisted together) give brilliance to outline or background. The single-hued pattern gives interest underfoot, yet allows decorating flexibility in your room.

Reflections

J. L. VOORHEES

EASTER:

Resurrection! Can you doubt it? The persecutors of Christ had their day, lived a life of remorse and disappeared in death. Christ died, on the Cross and lives more fully now, than during His short span of life. His teachings have spread to every part of the world; the hordes which tormented him, went back to the soil, and stayed there. Their names are anathema.

M. E. SIPLE

As you read again the beauty of His simple philsophy, hear his gentle words, see the untold millions who worship at his feet, there you see the Spirit of Christ. There you witness the resurrection. There you see and feel the love of man, there you confirm His promise of everlasting life—"Abide in me and have everlasting life."

Beware—

of Unknown Building Contractors!

In the last few weeks, Pontiac area house owners have been flooded with offers of re-siding and modernization jobs "at cost or below."

In a particular instance, the home owner was promised a "$1,600 job for only $1,030." A local contractor's bid on the same job was only $850. Other known examples follow the same pattern.

1. If you have signed with a contractor who does not have a state license, your contract is void.
2. If you permit work to be done on your house without a city or township permit, you may be in trouble.
3. Always get at least two bids.
4. For your own safety, deal only with local, reputable contractors.

Congress Starts Vacation, Hot Issues Await Return

It had little major legislation to show for three months of sessions this year and plenty to do when it returns April 9.

Ahead are such potentially explosive election-year issues as farm, social security, foreign aid, education, highway, housing and possible civil rights and tax reduction legislation.

This recess is the first and probably will be the last long holiday for the legislators, most of whom are anxious to get home early in the summer for political campaigning.

Most of the legislating since the session started Jan. 3 has taken place in the House. The Senate, while in session longer, has spent much of its time on a limited number of subjects.

It spent a month debating a bill to exempt natural gas producers from direct federal controls, only to have the measure vetoed by President Eisenhower.

ONE MONTH ON FARM BILL

The Senate took the best part of another month debating the farm bill. It passed a measure which a Senate-House committee is rewriting. There have been GOP predictions that it too will draw a veto.

Another week of the Senate's time was consumed by discussion of proposed changes in the electoral college system, after which the whole issue was sent back to committee for more study.

The House, meanwhile, passed six annual appropriation bills, one of which has cleared the Senate, and an assortment of miscellaneous measures, some of which still require Senate action.

The official congressional calendars list only two "major bills" as having cleared both the Senate and the House this year. One would extend existing corporate and excise tax rates and the other would exempt farm-use vehicles from payment of federal gasoline and oil taxes.

Michigan Fee Agent at Brighton Resigns

LANSING (AP) — The manager of the secretary of state's fee branch in Brighton has resigned, Sidney H. Wolner, deputy secretary of state said yesterday.

* * *

Wolner said the branch manager, John Weise, gave illness and the pressure of running his automobile agency as the reasons for his resignation.

* * *

Wolner said state auditors checked the branch Monday and found that $800 in receipts for Friday and Saturday had not been deposited as required.

* * *

At the time of the audit, Wolner said, the branch was being managed by a secretary because Weise "Weise explained that he had not been able to make the deposits because he was sick. He deposited the money before he resigned and there are no descrepancies in his accounts," Wolner said.

2 Prisoners Carrying Makings of 'Fine' Stew

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Two men were hauled into the Harrisburg police station and booked on charges of disturbing the peace.

Sgt. Paul Towsen ordered the pair to empty their pockets. Results: two ears of corn (still in the husk); three oranges; a handful of string beans; 2½ wrinkled hot dogs; a half loaf of stale bread and one brown banana.

"We were going to make a bit of tasty stew," one of the men explained.

That's Telling Them!

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A preliminary "report" issued by the Jefferson County grand jury read:

"We met, we sat, we hardly ever et."

Some Mean Burglar Stole Lady's Backyard!

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) — Police thought Ida D. Findlay was pulling their leg when she called up to report a theft. She said someone had stolen her backyard.

* * *

A skeptical policeman, Richard Maveety, went over to investigate, and sure enough Miss Findlay's back yard was missing—at least all the sod was gone for a depth of at least two inches.

* * *

Seedlings Available

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University reported that its conservation nurseries still have some seedlings available for reforestation use by private land owners. The nurseries have sold out of conifer tree seedlings but seedlings of red oak, American elm and black walnut still are available.

Wings Bid for 3rd Straight Cup Title

DETROIT, (AP) — The Stanley Cup showdown battle between the Detroit Red Wings and the Montreal Canadiens will be their fourth — and probably the most furious.

Never have the boys from across the border defeated the Red Wings in professional hockey's biggest battle. Three times the clubs have met — and three times the Red Wings have claimed the victory.

This year's meeting is unique in many respects. It will be the 3rd straight season in which the Canadiens and Red Wings have met in the cup finals. It marks the first time the Wings have gone into the playoffs looking "up" from 2nd place.

Counting semifinal playoff action, the teams have met eight times. Only once did the Canadiens gain a victory. That came in 1951 when Montreal took Detroit in six games in the semi-final round. The Canadiens then fell to Toronto in five games in the finals.

The Red Wings' seven-year rule over the National Hockey League ended this season as the Canadiens won the regular season by a wide margin.

* * *

It'll be the 14th appearance in the Stanley Cup finals for the Red Wings, and the 13th for the Canadiens. But Montreal has made the playoffs 29 times, compared to Reibel with 56, center Alex Delvecchio with 51, Ted Lindsay at left wing with 50 and Len (Red) Kelly, defense, with 50. The top five Montreal scorers had a 55-point margin over the top five Detroiters.

A victory in the finals for the Detroiters would make them only the 2nd club ever to win the coveted cup three years in a row. The Toronto Maple Leafs did it in 1947-48-49, and this is the Detroit club's 18th straight chance in the playoffs.

The Canadiens, who have failed to make the playoffs only once since 1940, will be slightly favored to whip the Red Wings in the final series over the best-of-seven route.

* * *

Beliveau led the NHL scoring derby this season with 88 points, nine ahead of the Red Wings' long-time ace, Gordie Howe. Richard was 3rd with 71 points and Olmstead fourth with 70.

Behind Howe in the Detroit scoring were Detroit center Dutch

* * *

Montreal showed no unusual playoff spark in taking the semi-finals from the New York Rangers, three games to one. Playing the same kind of steady hockey that took them to the title, the Canadiens enter the big battle in an effort to take home their first Stanley Cup since 1953.

Wing-Montreal Series

1950—Detroit defeated Montreal, 3-0, in the best-of-five semifinals.
1949—Detroit defeated Montreal 3-0, in the best-of-five semifinals.
1952—Detroit defeated Montreal, 4-0, in the best-of-seven finals.
1954—Detroit defeated Montreal, 4-3, in the best-of-seven finals.

Littler Leads by One Stroke at Azalea Meet

Wally Burkemo Among Six Close Behind in Third Round

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Gene Littler was still the golfer to catch as 63 pros and 10 amateurs set out on today's third round of the $12,500 Azalea Open Tournament.

But it was getting terribly crowded back of the pace setter from Palm Springs, Calif., who, despite an eight-under-par 136 total found six rivals only one shot behind him. He began yesterday's play with only three men a stroke back.

Littler, one of the earliest starters in the second round, found himself tied with 40-year-old Stan Leonard, LeChute, Canada, pro after the first nine in which Stan shot a 34 to 35 for Gene. But the soft-spoken Californian tacked another 35 on his card for a 70 while Leonard slipped to 36, also good for 70. That left them right where they were at the start of the round.

Joining Leonard at 137 were these five:

The big round yesterday was a 36-30—66 by Walt Burkemo, the husky 38-year-old 1953 PGA champion from Franklin, Mich.

After a par front nine, he went on a birdie rampage, snaring seven in a row starting at the 10th hole. He needed only 12 putts on the last nine, canning them from 20 feet, 12 (twice) and 10. A par finish on 18 would have tied him with Littler, but he put a ball into some trees and took a one-over-par five.

GRAPEFRUIT League

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — President Calvin Griffith of the Washington Senators wants an outfielder from the New York Yankee roster, and he doesn't mind if he has to wait.

The Yanks owe Washington one player as a result of a deal last February. They are supposed to deliver a player on cash by April 1.

Griffith has an eye on two hot young Yankee outfielders — Lou Skizas and Whitey Herzog. He says he won't hold to the deadline if there is a chance of getting either of the two.

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Willie Jones, beaned by a pitched ball in an exhibition game against the Brooklyn Dodgers Tuesday, is out of the hospital but doctors are still keeping an eye on him.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Johnny O'Brien and Curt Roberts are waging such a hot battle for second base with the Pittsburgh Pirates that Manager Bobby Bragan might have to two-platoon them during the season.

Both are good fielders and both are currently burning up the Grapefruit League. Roberts is leading all Pirates with a .384 average, and O'Brien is next with .323.

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams has been instructed to concentrate on running today in preparation to returning to action in exhibition competition.

Hamia Pleases TV Bout Crowd

French Featherweight Scores Narrow Win Over Costa

NEW YORK—The featherweight weight division has a fine newcontender today in baby-faced Cherif Hamia, 25, France, who declared he was ready for any of the high-ranking 126-pounders following his victory over Carmela Costa, 21, Brooklyn.

The Parisian with the choir-boy looks and a zest for fighting made a hit in his pro debut in the U. S. last night when he won a split 10-round decision in Madison Square Garden.

It was a narrow win, the way the officials saw it, but the fast, hard-hitting Hamia captivated the slim crowd of 1,500 and television fans with his brisk, aggressive style against the flitting Costa.

Referee Al Berl and Judge Joe Eppy each scored for Hamia 5-4-1. Judge Jack Gordon had it 5-4-1 for Costa. The Associated Press had Hamia in front 7-3.

Buckeyes and Yale Tied in NCCA Swimming Meet

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—After finishing in an unprecedented tie in the NCAA Swimming Championships, Yale's Rex Aubrey and Stanford's Robin Moore could do it again today, but it's probably a 1,000-1 chance.

The 20-year-old Aubrey from Austria and the 19-year-old Moore from Phoenix, Ariz., hit the finish line together last night in the 50-yard freestyle, the first time this had happened in the 33 years of the championships.

At first, officials announced a difference in times. They said Moore touched in 22.1 seconds and Aubrey in 22.2 seconds. But 45 minutes later, Philip Harburger, chairman of the NCAA Swimming Records Committee, said a final recheck showed both swimmers were clocked in 22.

Today, Aubrey and Moore battle in the 100-yard freestyle and the Yale junior has to be favored. Three weeks ago he swam the distance in the spectacular time of 49 seconds, bettering the world's record of 49.2 seconds recorded by Dick Cleveland of Ohio State on Feb. 23, 1952.

The century is among seven finals being settled tonight, after afternoon eliminations, as the three-day meet bows out. Aubrey, Al Wiggins of Ohio State, 200-yard individual medley champion and Ohio State's 300-yard medley relay team are defending titles.

So far, Yale's 400-yard relay team has been the only 1955 champ to repeat. In addition to Aubrey and Moore, other winners last night were Lincoln Hurring, Iowa, 200-yard backstroke; Dick Fadgen, North Carolina State, 200-yard butterfly; Frank Fraunfelter, Ohio State, 1-meter dive and Bill Woolsey, Indiana, 220-yard freestyle.

There's a sizzling team title battle on, too, in which Ohio State, the champions, are knotted with Yale at 29 points each. Other leaders include Oklahoma 16, Harvard 15, Stanford 12, Iowa 11, Cortland State and Indiana, 10 each, North Carolina State, Iowa State and Michigan, 7 each.

Cardinals Get Sauer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The addition of veteran slugger Hank Sauer to the St. Louis lineup should make other National League managers think twice before saving their soft-throwing southpaws for mound duty against the Cardinals.

Sauer, 37-year-old righthanded outfielder of the Chicago Cubs, came to the Cardinals last night in a trade for outfielder Pete Whisenant and an undisclosed amount of cash.

"Sauer is just what we've been looking for," said general manager Frank Lane in announcing the Deal. "He'll help us a lot against the 'softball' lefthanders those other teams were throwing against us last year."

Sauer, who has belted about six homers at the cubs spring training camp in Arizona, said he planned to arrive here by Sunday.

* * *

"The Cubs have been good to me," he said, "and in a way I hate to leave. But I think I'll have a good chance to play pretty often for the Cardinals and I know I can do them some good."

Lane said Sauer would be used in the outfield primarily when left handed pitchers were on the mound for the opposition as well as in a pinch hitting role.

St. Louis got Whisenant, 27, last June from Toledo in a deal that sent catcher Del Rice to the Milwaukee Braves. He hit only .191 in 58 games with the Redbirds.

* * *

Sauer, the league's most valuable player in 1952, has a lifetime batting average of .268 and 244 home runs.

The trade was only the second made by Lane since he joined the Cards with a reputation as baseball's "trader horn." He swapped pitcher Brooks Lawrence to Cincinnati earlier for hurler Jackie Collum.

Ex-Champ Held for Narcotics

Johnny Bratton Faces Detroit Arraignment After Driving Arrest

DETROIT (AP)— Johnny Bratton, 28-year-old former welter weight boxing champion, was to be arraigned today in recorder's court on a narcotics charge.

Police said they stopped Bratton for "erratic driving" Thursday night and found half of a marijuana cigarette in the ash tray of his car.

Bratton said the cigarette apparently had been smoke by youths who had been sitting in the car, guarding possessions which he planned to take to Chicago with him yesterday. He said he asked them to guard the car while he packed.

Bratton was released on $500 personal bond to await arraignment.

A native of Chicago, Bratton said he had been living in Detroit the last several months. He won the welterweight title from Charley Fusari in 1951, but lost it two months later to Kid Gavilan.

Roberts Stops Yanks, 2-0

By International News Service

About the time the birds start flying north, a Robin named Roberts will be right in the thick of the migration, carrying Philadelphia's pennant hopes on his strong right wing.

And, as it to prove to the skeptics he is still "Mr. Pitcher" in any league, the redoubtable Roberts blanked the New York Yankees 2-0 in a Grapefruit game yesterday, allowing only two hits before he let an understudy finish the show in the 8th inning.

Roberts' mastery over the American League champions overshadowed a fine effort by Yankee rookie Ralph Terry, whose only mistake was yielding two runs in the 6th inning. Before he retired for a pinch-hitter in the 6th, Terry rationed five hits.

There were no other spring training games scheduled yesterday.

Chicago Boat Skipper Ahead at New Orleans

The fight for the championship appears to be among Dr. Black, Lippincott, Charles Lyon of Barneget Bay, N. J., and Howard Lippincott of Elk River, N. J. Lyon, who won the 1954 title, is third with 72 points while Howard Lippincott is fourth with 68.

ANGLERS FACING APRIL FOOL JOKE—Phil Tibbetts of Winthrop, Maine, says he plans to snowshoe in search of open water when the trout and salmon season opens in southern Maine Sunday. Due to cold and snowy weather it's going to be a real April Fool's day finding streams that are open.

Boxing Probe Dies Down for 2 Weeks

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The boxing furor died down today in the wake of a searching investigation of the game in Southern California that concluded with matchmaker Babe McCoy of Los Angeles again taken over the coals in rough fashion.

The hearings will be resumed "in about two weeks" in San Francisco, with northern California under scrutiny.

Spartans Drop 4th Encounter

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—North Carolina State College banged out 17 hits, including four home runs, to take a 15-10 baseball victory over Michigan State yesterday.

Third baseman Billy Peed paced the N. C. State attack with 4 for 5, including one homer. Other homers were by Sonny Santolli, Norman Norris and Eddie West.

Three N. C. State hurlers combined to hold Michigan State to nine hits, four of which came in the last inning when the Spartans rallied for three runs.

Righthander Lou Dickman was the winner. Jack Wenner, who relived Ted Hobaugh in the 3rd, was the loser. He gave up 11 hits.

AAU Rules Four Ineligible

NEW YORK (AP)—Bucky O'Connor of Iowa, coach of the hand-picked college squad, is confident the collegians will give a good account of themselves against the best the Amateur Athletic Union and armed services have to offer in next week's Olympic basketball trials at Kansas City.

* * *

"They have jelled rapidly in the last three or four days," said O'Connor today after the collegians wound up practice for tonight's East-West game, sponsored by the New York Herald Tribune's Fresh Air Fund, at Madison Square Garden.

* * *

O'Connor, who piloted the Hawkeyes to the Big Ten title and runnerup to San Francisco in the NCAA national championships, has been working All-America Bill Russell and K. C. Jones of San Francisco, UCLA's Willie Naulls, Iowa's Carl Cain and Illinois' Paul Judson as his first string unit.

* * *

"They have looked very well in workouts, surprisingly so considering the short time they have been together as a unit," said O'Connor. "It's likely to be my starting five at Kansas City."

* * *

O'Connor leans towards 7-foot Bill Uhl and Jim Paxson of Dayton, Hal Lear of Temple, Vic Molodet of North Carolina State and either Gary Bergen of Utah or Bob Burrow of Kentucky as his second team. Bergen plays with the West tonight. All the others are on the East team.

* * *

Bill Reigel of McNeese State, Jack McCarthy of Canisius and Chuck Rolles of Cornell complete the Olympic squad.

* * *

Four players, including two All-Americas, were declared ineligible for the East-West game yesterday because they have announced their intentions of turning pro. The AAU said announcement of their intention constitutes a violation of the AAU code.

* * *

Harness Track Is Planned at Saginaw

SAGINAW Mich. (AP) — George McIntyre, a Columbia grain elevator owner, says he and and a group of Wayne County men plan to acquire the Dixie Motor Speeway near Saginaw and convert it into a harness racing track.

McIntyre said yesterday his group would apply to State Racing Commissioner James Inglis for meeting dates.

The track is located on U. S. 10, about 12 miles south of Saginaw, and is owned by William Schindler of Bay City. Schindler has promoted auto racing there the last three years.

On Southern Tour

Crane Nine Drops First

Cranbrook ran up against a prep pitcher who is considered one of the best hurlers in the state of North Carolina in the first game played on its Southern training tour yesterday.

The pitcher Tom Eaton of Salisbury (N. C.) high school shutout the Cranes 9-0 giving up only two hits during his stint on the mound.

A homer by Mike Waggoner in the 3rd inning made it 2-0, and four more runs on 3 hits, walk and error scored in the 5th.

Teeth Infected

Kaline Needs Dentist for Curing Shoulder

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Al Kaline, the Detroit Tiger batting sensation, today faced another ordeal in a dentist's chair as well as an extended rest from his spring training chores.

The 21-year-old outfielder was told by a Lakeland dentist yesterday that two teeth would have to come out as a precautionary step against recurrence of an aching shoulder that troubled him for several weeks.

Kaline had an infected tooth removed in January and developed a sore shoulder soon after the Tigers opened spring drills March 1 at their training camp here. Doctors traced the trouble to the bad tooth and he's been kept out of action since March 19.

Kaline, who won the American League batting title last season with a .340 average, insists he feels fine.

"My arm feels good," he said. "My hands are in good shape and I think I can get my timing back in a couple of days."

Nevertheless, trainer Jack Homel said the young slugger would not be permitted to play in the next three or four exhibition games —just to make sure he'll be in first class shape when the Tigers start to play for keeps April 17, opening date of the regular season.

Michigan Drops Opener on Southern Tour in Freezing Weather

QUANTICO, Va. (AP)—Beaten 13-3 by Delaware in their 1956 baseball debut, the Michigan Wolverines came here today for an encounter with the Quantico Marines.

Delaware belabored five Michigan hurlers in near-freezing weather at Newark, Dl., yesterday to win its 3rd game in five starts. Delaware's Bob Hooper went all the way and allowed the Wolvernines only five hits.

Kefauver Cites Own Gain; Admits Adlai's Still Ahead

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver says he feels he is running behind Adlai Stevenson in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination, but that he is gaining.

* * *

In a one-day visit to New Mexico, he called Stevenson "still the leading candidate" because, as the party's 1952 candidate for president, he is titular head of the party.

* * *

He refused to become involved in a fight over what he called Stevenson's "little quips at me."

* * *

"I'm not going to speak ill of him," Kefauver told newsmen asking about Stevenson's remarks concerning "boss nonsense."

* * *

"I have not used the word 'bosses' myself," Kefauver said. He reiterated that some political leaders in Minnesota and California got together with "early endorsement (of Stevenson) with the apparent purpose of freezing me out."

* * *

In response to questioning, Kefauver said he feels recent statements have indicated that National Democratic Chairman Paul Butler is "on the brink of partiality" in the Democratic presidential campaign.

* * *

He said he felt that for some time the Democratic National Committee was partial. Then came a period, he said, "when it tried to be neutral." Recently, he said, it appears Butler "has jumped the traces again."

Since his victory in the Minnesota primary, he said quite a number of political leaders have come over to his support.

Robin Hood and Crockett Meet in Filmland Eatery

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The kids could have had a field day in a Vine Street eatery the other lunchtime. There was Davy Crockett in one booth and Robin Hood in another.

Crockett, of course, was Texan Fess Parker, studious-looking in glasses as he conferred with his lawyer about investments. Robin Hood was Britisher Richard Greene, in Hollywood for interviews and the George Gobel Show. The two portrayers of legendary characters were introduced and allowed as how they would meet in London. They will be there today, thanks to modern transportation that Hood and Crockett never dreamed of.

ENJOYING FAME

Greene, still as amazingly handsome as when he was a Hollywood leading man, has been enjoying his new burst of fame as the gay leader of the Sherwood Forest gang. He has had a brief respite before returning to England to film his second 39 shows.

"I took on the show with some trepidation," he commented. "I had never particularly thought of myself in the role of Robin Hood, and I didn't know if I wanted to be typed.

"But then I said to myself that other people had been typed and had managed to break out of it. Frank Sinatra is an excellent example. So I decided to take it on, reasoning that at some future date I would be able to wiggle out of the green tights."

Originally he had planned to do only 39 shows. But the program proved so successful in this country and England that the option was lifted and he was sought for another year's production.

Federal Government Employment on Rise

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government had 2,351,371 civilian employes last month—an increase of 4,621 over January.

* * *

This was reported today by Sen. Byrd (D-Va), chairman of the Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures.

The February rise was the second straight increase after four successive months in which there were reductions in the federal civilian work force.

* * *

Agencies reporting rises in employe totals were the Treasury Department with 1,868, the Post Office Department with 1,851, the Tennessee Valley Authority with 744, and the Defense Department with 713.

The figures did not include 299,878 foreign nationals working for American military agencies abroad. This was a decrease of 617 from January.

Gotham Easter Bunny Drops 'Pay Raise' Egg

NEW YORK (AP) — The Easter bunny will leave a 14-million-dollar golden egg in back pay for New York City employes.

Checks totaling that amount will be handed out Monday to 107,560 civil service employes covering six months of retroactive pay increases under a career plan that went into effect Jan. 1.

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd was the first person to fly over both the North and South Poles.

Postman, on Rounds, Has 10 Canine 'Helpers'

DALLAS (AP)—Henry E. Foster, 55, a postal carrier in southeast Dallas for the past six years, doesn't hold the theory that a dog is the arch-enemy of a postman.

When Foster makes his daily rounds, five to 10 neighborhood dogs accompany him. He calls them his "helpers" and says they make certain he doesn't lag behind on his route.

New 'Tranquilizing Drugs' Help Calm Mental Patients

WASHINGTON (AP)—The use of new "tranquilizing" drugs on mental patients allows mental hospitals to use more homelike furniture without fear of breakage, Dr. Winfred Overholser said today.

Overholser is superintendent of the government's St. Elizabeths Hospital, which will formally dedicate two weeks from today a six-million-dollar addition whose furnishings, he said, reflect the changed situation.

* * *

Overholser said that throughout St. Elizabeths generally old furniture is being replaced with "more attractive, more homelike furniture," and that some other mental hospitals are doing the same thing.

"Thanks to the new drugs," he said in an interview, "we don't have patients any more who break things up, although it's also true that we never had a lot of them."

Psychiatrists have been using on an increasing scale a number of drugs which they report useful in calming disturbed mental patients.

Overholser said original designs for St. Elizabeths addition called for substantially constructed furniture and a minimum of breakable decorations lest some patients destroy them. But those plans were made before the new drugs came into wide use, he said.

LIGHTWEIGHT FURNITURE

The new building now is equipped with lightweight, upholstered furniture and hand-blocked linen draperies. The patients' rooms will have reproductions of works of art in the national gallery.

Overholser said the 420-bed building—which has been receiving patients since January—not only provides a homelike atmosphere but is designed to provide "more intensive, more individualized" treatment than is usually possible in public hospitals.

The age limit of patients at the new unit is 64, but patients of all degrees of severity of mental illness are admitted excluding only those under court sentence for criminal charges.

"The object," said Dr. David Harris, chief of psychiatric service, "is to have disturbed, even suicidal, patients in all wards. A suicidal patient may be put in a room with a patient who is able and willing to assume responsibility.

* * *

"This roommate gives the suicidal patient confidence and interest—he does not feel that he is being watched, that he is being baited to commit suicide."

Mary Magdalene Regains Her God

It was that way at the cross, and again now, at the weirdly vacated tomb. Though the men could walk away, Mary Magdalene could not. Perturbed and desolate, her womanly intuition held her at the place where He had lain.

WOMEN SERVED HIM

In nearly all Jesus' journeys, from town to town, the women were there, hovering loyally in the background, ministering to Him—cooking, weaving, listening to Him—serving His last supper.

* * *

There was Joanna, and Salome and Mary, the wife of Herod's steward, and Martha, the bustling, efficient hostess, and her sister, Mary of Bethany, a dreamy girl who neglected her work to hang on Jesus' words, and many others.

They came from all levels. Mary Magdalene knew keenly how they felt, especially those with bitter pasts.

They were bound to Him by His gentle deeds and words of encouragement and sympathy and understanding.

Such graciousness was little known in those days of harsh judgments and arbitrary condemnation, when prisoners were made slaves, children often exposed to prostitution, and a misstep marked a woman forever.

* * *

But Jesus gave hope—a new start! Like the sobbing street girl who came while Jesus dined at the Pharisee's house. She anointed Him, abjectly washed His feet with tears, wiped them with her hair, kissed them.

The rigidly legalistic host had been aghast, shocked that Jesus would let this sinner, this tainted woman, even touch Him.

GAVE NEW HOPE

But Jesus said that those who are forgiven the most, love the most.

Mary Magdalene, herself a penitent whom Jesus had reclaimed from the devil, had that kind of love, a great, constant, never ebbing glow of gratitude for what He had done, for the winging, new hope He had given.

* * *

There was that time at the temple, glimmering in memory like a jewel in a dark room. The Pharisees, those strict ritualists, thought they had a trap for Jesus. This woman, they said, was caught in adultery! The law says: Stone her to death!

She had stood there, trembling and terrified.

Jesus, His face brooding and pitying, stooped down, His finger tracing in the sand.

"Him that is without sin among you, let him cast the first stone."

She swallowed, trying to speak. "No man . . . Lord."

* * *

It was terrible, beautiful, unforgetable, like a cloud lifting, like chains loosed, like a new life beginning. But it was Jesus' way . . .

" . . . Joy shall . . . in heaven over one person that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons . . . Condemn not and ye shall not be condemned; forgive and ye shall be forgiven."

* * *

So now, three days after Jesus was crucified, Mary Magdalene, distraught and forlorn, lingered outside the tomb, crying. With a feeling of futility, she looked inside again. A new sight startled her.

Two men, in shimmering, silken white, sat at either end of the crypt-stone. Angels! One said, "Woman, why weepest thou?"

"Because," she gasped, "they have taken away my Lord and I know not where they have laid Him!"

WHY WEEPEST THOU?

At that moment, someone strode up from behind her. She whirled as He repeated the question, "Woman, why weepest thou? Whom do you seek?"

* * *

It was the gardener, of course! Her thoughts spinning, hardly looking at Him, her words tumbled out, "Sir, if Thou hast borne Him hence, tell me, where Thou hast laid Him and I will take Him away."

The man smiled tolerantly, "Mary."

It was He! The Lord, risen! Alive again, walking the earth, with His goodness and gentleness and love for all. Her Savior! Her life, regained!

"Touch Me not," Jesus said softly, "for I am not yet ascended unto the Father, but go unto My brethren, and say to them that I ascend unto My Father and your Father, and My God and your God."

Mary went, her feet flying, her heart on wings, knowing now that Jesus would never die, that He is with us always, even unto the end of the world.

(Steadfast women followers of Jesus stayed with Him until the end, after the peril of arrest drove the men into hiding. This, eighth and last of the Easter Week series, is about the women, especially one of them.)

New York Gets Credit for Fleming's Sparkle

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I was very blunt with Rhonda Fleming. I said to her straight out—let her like it or not—"You're one of the most beautiful girls in America."

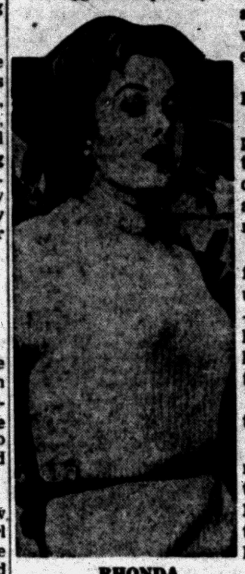

"Goodness," she reddened—her hair, of course, was already that color—"I should carry you around with me!"

★ ★ ★ ★

"I'm really surprised about you being so beautiful, too," I said.

"You are?" Her voice arched its eyebrows.

"Because the first time I saw you, I said 'A-a-a-a'"—here I shrugged eloquently—"but now you're so healthy-looking and fully-blossomed that you might win the famous Earl Wilson 'Prettiest Girl in America' contest."

RHONDA

"That would be nice," said Miss Fleming. "What is the, uh, prize?"

"The winner," I replied nobly, "is permitted to give a great big kiss to the old gentleman for whom the contest is named. Susan Hayward and Barbara Britton have also been nominated."

"I guess it's the no-sleep and the fast pace of New York that makes us look alive here. People have said"—and she spoke modestly—"that I have more sparkle away from my home in Hollywood. I motivate better in colder climates."

I wrote it down carefully, hoping to analyze it later.

"What about the status of your marriage now?" I asked, referring to the fact that she's the wife of Dr. Lewis Morrill of Hollywood, though they've been separated at least once.

"Oh, everything's just fine!" Rhonda rhapsodized. "He calls me up every day and says 'Come on home so we can fight.' We're perfectly happy!"

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Grace Kelly's taking her personal hairdresser to Monaco, and French and Monacan hairdressers are grumbling . . . Basin Street reopened Friday on a daily basis . . . Frank Loesser's soon-due musical, "The Happiest Fella," has 35 songs, setting a record . . . someone ordered an onion in an empty cocktail glass and said, "Now, there's a DRY martini!"

"My Fair Lady" isn't Rex Harrison's first singing role; he did two tunes in "For the Love of Mike" . . . One reason RKO bought part of Unique Records was Pittsburgh-born Jan Welles, a pretty singer under contract to Unique.

CRITICAL OIL—The importance of the Middle East crisis to the Western nations' oil supply is shown by these charts. In 1945, the Middle East had 32 per cent of the world's reserves. By 1955, it had 60 per cent. Saudi Arabia alone had a 35-billion-barrel reserve in 1955. During this decade, U. S. reserves dwindled from 34 per cent to 19 per cent. But Soviet Russia's reserves were more than halved, dropping from 14 per cent in 1945 to 6 per cent in 1955.

Nixon Confident of Renomination

Former GOP Chairman Predicts Vice President Will Run With Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon appears today about as sure of renomination on the Republican ticket as any candidate could be 4½ months before the party's national convention.

Rep. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, former Republican national chairman, dimmed further the hopes of those who might wish to replace Nixon as he predicted last night the vice president again will be President Eisenhower's running mate.

* * *

"The convention alone will make its choice," Scott said in a CBS radio interview, but he added: "I think the ticket will be Eisenhower and Nixon."

Scott is looked upon as a member of the liberal wing of the GOP from which most suggestions for dumping Nixon reportedly have come in the past.

Scott also is close to former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, whom some of Nixon's friends have named as one of those who wanted to change the No. 2 nominee.

The dump-Nixon movement has slumped sharply since President Eisenhower told a news conference March 14 that he would be happy to be on any political ticket on which he was a candidate with Nixon.

Nixon got more than 22,000 write-in votes in the March 13 New Hampshire primary even before Eisenhower made that statement.

Report Output Boost of Fords, Chryslers

DETROIT (INS)—Ward's Automotive Reports said today that output at Ford and Chrysler plants last week was fully 10 per cent above average February-March weekly production.

Ward's said the upturn meant re-employment for thousands of workers even as other producers were laying off and cutting production because of heavy new car inventories.

The report showed the Ford-Chrysler improvement came despite Good Friday absenteeism which cut the industry's car and truck production 2.3 per cent below last week.

The statistical authority counted 151,385 car and truck completions this week, compared with 154,977 last week and 206,262 in the comparable period last year.

Financial Wizard, Age 10, Returns to Video Tonight

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Friends and associates of Leonard Ross back home in Tujunga, Calif., will be interested in knowing he's conducting himself with dignity during his New York sojourn, winning friends and influencing some people on their investments.

Tonight he returns to Big Surprise (NBC-TV), where he's going for $20,000 in his effort to work to the big $100,000 question. His category is stocks and the stock exchange.

VISITS EXCHANGE

The other day he spent a while at the New York Stock Exchange, impressing officials with his wide-ranging knowledge of investments and amazing employes with his ability to read ticker symbols for scores of stocks. Then he spent a while in the financial room of the New York Public Library, where he's checking through 150 various volumes for obscure facts. No night club addict, he spends spare time scanning the financial pages of New York newspapers.

• • •

His suggestions on what to buy and what to sell are so persuasive that it probably would be unfair to the market equilibrium to report them. But the most persuasive thing about him is that he is 10 years old and hasn't the slightest inclination to seek a career in high finance.

"It's simply an interest," he says, fixing you with kindly, intelligent brown eyes and swinging small feet that fail to touch the floor. "I've been interested in investments since I was 7. My father is a CPA and has a few small investments. Listening to him talk, I became interested and began following the market."

EYES POLITICS

If not high finance, what does he plan as a career someday?

• • •

"I'd like to go into politics," Leonard said. Under further questioning he continued, "I'm a Democrat . . . Let's say that under present circumstances I'm a Democrat . . . I'm for Stevenson."

• • •

Having skipped three grades thus far, Leonard finds himself in upper seventh at the Verdugo Hills Junior High School. His favorite subject there is math, followed by social studies "at times."

Sharp-Beaked Bittern Attacks Three People

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) — A bird with a 45-inch wing spread and a sharp beak attacked a 6-year-old boy, a woman and a state trooper near here yesterday.

• • •

Trooper John Waters shot the bird with his .45 revolver as it swooped down on him. The bird, identified by a local resident as a bittern or stake driver, had a 4-inch beak.

Police said the bitte; attacked Donald Van Voorhees as he played in his yard at nearby Rock City, Dutchess County. The bird hacked at the boy with his beak.

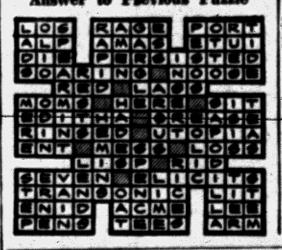

• • •

Mrs. John Osterhoudt, armed with a broom, ran to the boy's rescue. The bird turned on her but she managed to drive it into a barn.

None of the three was injured seriously.

TV IS WONDERFUL!

Your TV set whether it is old or new will at certain times need replacement of tubes and other parts that wear out from normal use. There is no TV set made today that can evade this fact. But when you stop to consider that if you had to pay to go out and see all the movies and entertainment for one year that you see on your TV for that length of time the maintenance cost of your TV is a mere trifle compared to the many hundreds of dollars it would cost to go see this entertainment were it not available to you on your TV set. ## Students to Take Over

EAST LANSING (AP)—A group of 60 Michigan State University students majoring in hotel administration will take over the job of registering delegates to the International Hotel Show starting Wednesday at the Chicago Conrad Hilton Hotel.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

Hunting for Easter Eggs

Here are two junior editors out on a lawn with their baskets hunting for colored Easter eggs hidden among the clumps of foliage and in the grass. The eggs were not there last night; could the Easter Bunny have hidden them?

Often there is an egg rolling on the lawn after the eggs have all been found. Every year on the Monday following Easter, children in Washington, D. C., are welcomed to the White House lawn for an egg rolling and thousands of colored eggs are set in motion on the grass there.

You may win $10 by sending in your idea for a Junior Editors panel or series in care of this newspaper.

Monday: The Fox and the Grapes (One of Aesop's Fables)

Youngsters who can prove they went to church Easter Sunday will be welcomed to a special film showing next Saturday at the YMCA.
