Flying Squirrels Get New Home

Pontiac Press Photo

FEEDING TIME—When Richard Van Huizen, of 2154 Paulsen St., Waterford Township, was cutting down a tree in a lot across from his home a week ago, he didn't expect to end up with a litter of flying squirrels. His saw cut into the nest and exposed a half dozen tiny squirrels. Of the brood, only two have survived.

They are now housed in a shoe box filled with grass, and are fed with a doll's bottle every four hours. Only about 10 days old, their eyes are not open yet, but they still clamor for their diet of warm milk and corn syrup.

The Van Huizen family treat them with loving care and are happy with their progress — all except their pet pomeranian who is reported to be extremely jealous of the intruders.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union today vetoed President Eisenhower's Arctic inspection plan after denouncing it as a gimmick to help get military data in Soviet territory.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union today denounced the Eisenhower Arctic inspection plan as a gimmick to get military intelligence in Soviet territory.

A Soviet diplomat said a veto was evident.

Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev told the U.N. Security Council that the Soviet position remained unchanged despite the appeal of U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

He took a slap at the secretary general for getting into the fight and made it clear that Hammarskjold's relations with the Soviet Union had been harmed.

In effect Sobolev tossed back at President Eisenhower the latter's charge that the Soviet announcement on the suspension of nuclear tests was a gimmick.

Eisenhower told a news conference April 2 that he viewed the Soviet statement as "just a side issue. I think it is a gimmick, and I don't think it is to be taken seriously."

Sobolev did not say specifically how he would vote on the pending U.S. proposal for immediate technical talks on Arctic inspection, but he rejected the plan with such vigor an abstention appeared improbable.

He insisted that the whole idea must be referred to a summit conference without preliminary discussion.

He repeated Soviet charges that the arctic inspection proposal was intended primarily as a measure to gain military intelligence from Soviet territory.

The Soviet delegate declared he could not accept the Swedish amendment which inserted into the original U.S. resolution a reference to eventual discussion of

Accuses Police of Scaring Him Into Confessing

Claims State Police Detective Threatened to 'Rough Him Up'

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

The 24-year-old accused murderer said he admitted killing Mrs. Murdock 22 hours after she was found dead in the Murdock home at 127 N. Josephine St. "so I could get some sleep and and rest."

"I was scared of them cops," said Van Horn during the fourth day of his first-degree murder trial.

He said an officer in the county jail "grabbed my hair, opened my eye wide and said he could tell I had been out with a woman." H later identified Sgt. Paul Carpenter as the man.

Van Horn also accused State Police Det. Charles Leaf of threatening to "rough him up" if he didn't confess. Put back on the stand for the second time, Leaf denied this, and denied that Van Horn had been physically abused in any way.

"The roughest treatment he ever got," testified Leaf, "was when I pulled the hair out of his head at Dr. Cobb's office for laboratory tests. And he voluntarily allowed this."

GIVE STATEMENT

Van Horn, under cross-examination by Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, said he voluntarily gave the statement admitting the crime.

Earlier, he said most of all he said in the statement was "false." "I thought I could say anything because I wasn't under oath. I didn't sign it," he testified.

Ziem was expected to place more police officers back on the stand this afternoon to substantiate Van Horn's confession, and show that he was not mishandled.

Court-appointed attorney for Van Horn, Brakie J. Orr, put his client on the stand as the first defense witness before a jury of six men and six women, and Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

In his opening statement, Orr said he would raise the issue of the "voluntariness of the alleged confession."

Then Van Horn went to the stand to pour out the events of Jan. 24 when the body of Mrs. Murdock

GM Reply Expected on Speeding Talks

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors was expected to reply to a United Auto Workers proposal for a speedup in contract negotiations today.

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock suggested the negotiators stop meeting every other day and get together seven days a week.

Woodcock said GM's decision to terminate its present UAW contract at midnight May 29 had introduced a note of urgency into the negotiations and made more and longer bargaining sessions necessary.

GM's chief negotiator, Vice President Louis G. Seaton, told a news conference that rumors that GM is working on a better contract offer for the UAW were not correct.

Seaton said GM was standing firm on its offer to extend the present contract for two years, but indicated later that GM might be willing to improve the present supplemental unemployment benefit (SUB) plan now covering the 350,000 GM workers who belong to the UAW.

Seaton did not go into detail on the plan but said the company "could do more than now is being done." GM presently contributes 5 cents an hour to SUB.

The union resumed negotiations with Ford Motor Co. today. It met with Chrysler Corp. bargainers yesterday.

Walter Reuther, UAW president, today confirmed previous reports that the union is cutting its operating costs in a sweeping economy program.

Reuther, in an administrative letter to local unions throughout the nation, said heavy layoffs in the auto industry had reduced the union's income from dues-paying members.

Under the union's economy program, Reuther and other salaried officers are taking a 10 per cent cut and 97 staff members are being laid off.

Other staff members are being asked to take a voluntary pay cut but employes covered by collective bargaining contracts are not affected.

The union's newspaper Solidarity will be published biweekly instead of weekly, radio programs will be curtailed and administrative expenses reduced.

The union's general operating fund has been showing a $200,000 a month deficit since the first of the year.

FHA Considers Recession a Flop

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The recession is a flop as far as the Federal Housing Administration is concerned.

Norman P. Mason, FHA commissioner, said that weekly reports from all sections of the country indicate people are just as interested as ever in buying homes.

In Detroit, Mason said, FHA applications for home loans were 50 per cent higher last week than in the corresponding week of 1957.

"If the residents of any city have a reason to worry about their future, those in Detroit do. But they are not worried," Mason told the Home Builders Assn. of Jacksonville.

MSU-Oakland Contracts Let

Pontiac Firm Awarded Major Building Job; Ground Breaking Today

A Pontiac firm won the major construction contract to build Michigan State University's Oakland Branch.

The State Board of Agriculture yesterday awarded the general contract to J. A. Fredman Inc. for $1,108,623.

The mechanical contract went to Farrington and Co., Detroit, $438,385; electrical, Hydon-Brand, Detroit, $239,480; fixed equipment, Kewaunee Manufacturing Co, Adrian, $48,825; and elevators, Detroit Elevator Co., $27,500.

Ground-breaking ceremonies will be held at 2:30 p.m. today on the former estate of the Alfred Wilsons, Squirrel road, south of Walton boulevard.

Withdrawals Leave 14 for 'Roses' Race

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The field for tomorrow's running of the Kentucky Derby was reduced to 14 today when Jet's Alibi and Can Trust were withdrawn.

Dubious Prize for City in State Crime Figures

Pontiac leads other Michigan cities of its approximate size in several categories, the 1957 FBI annual crime report discloses.

Pontiac had 6 murders last year compared with: Saginaw 6; Jackson 1; Lansing, 3; Royal Oak, 0; and Dearborn, 0.

In robberies, Pontiac had 48, while the others were: Saginaw, 25; Jackson, 4; Lansing, 12; Royal Oak, 20; and Dearborn, 41.

For aggravated assault, Pontiac had 86; Saginaw, 160; Jackson, 38; Lansing, 15; Royal Oak, 0; and Dearborn, 16.

MOST BURGLARIES

Burglaries showed Pontiac edging out Dearborn for the dubious distinction of leadership with 560 to 538. Saginaw had 191; Jackson, 78; Lansing, 173; and Royal Oak, 341.

The report also showed that in major categories, Pontiac showed more crime in 1957 than in 1956. The comparisons are: Murder, 6 (5); robbery, 48 (44); aggravated assault, 86 (47); burglary, 560 (448); and grand larceny, 179 (167).

The report generally showed that Michigan cities had a higher crime rate in 1957 than the year before.

Michigan crime for the most part was heavier than in neighboring states and only in murder did Michigan show a lower rate than the national average, although the rate rose for 1957.

The state's rate for robberies and aggravated assaults declined last year from 1956 although running far ahead of national averages.

Would Extend Benefits

Senate Action Uncertain on Ike's Jobless Pay Plan

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower's jobless pay proposal went today to the Senate Finance Committee and an uncertain fate.

Despite a GOP plea for speed, early action appeared unlikely. Finance Committee hearings on the bill to continue existing benefits may be held in two weeks.

A Southern Democratic - GOP coalition pushed across a slightly-modified version of the President's original proposal to Congress rejecting outright a Democratic-sponsored plan that would have aided unemployed not now covered by state programs.

More than two score of Southern Democrats joined an almost-solid Republican corps in adopting the President's program. The vote was 223 to 165 with only 17 Republicans straying from the fold to vote with the Democrats.

The bill would authorize any person who exhausted unemployment compensation payments under present law after June 30, 1957, to continue to receive these benefits for a period half again as long as provided by state law. This period varies widely from state to state.

The bill also requires states to repay the federal government for the cost of the additional payments, now estimated at $585,000,000.

EXPIRES IN APRIL, 1959

Girl Enters Dogs' Pen by Mistake, Fiercely Attacked

LINCOLN PARK (INS)—Three savage watchdogs attacked a 17-year-old Allen Park girl last night when she entered their pen by mistake.

Virginia said she entered the pen behind a bar while looking for a Hungarian refugee girl she was to take to a church meeting.

"The monsters pinned me against the fence and I could not move," she said. "They were tearing and biting me."

Her screams attracted bar patrons and they held the dogs and assisted her from the pen.

John Regorrah, the bar owner, said the animals are prize Weinmaraner hunting dogs and he keeps them behind his saloon and home as watchdogs.

"They won't harm anyone they know," he said. "Deliveries are made through their pen to the bar and they don't hurt the deliverymen."

Regorrah said the pen has a six-foot high fence and a warning sign. Virginia said she did not see the sign.

Young Trees Exhausted

LANSING (AP) — Supplies of young trees for spring forest plantings have been exhausted at the state's three nurseries, the State Conservation Department reported. No more stock will be available until fall.

Everything Else Curves

DETROIT (INS) — Pretty 19-year-old Lila Verslype of Harper Woods, named Michigan's posture queen for her perfect spinal X ray, commented today: "It's nice to know my back is straight because I understand everything else is quite curved."

Showers Expected Here Tomorrow

The weatherman says tonight will be mostly cloudy, windy and warmer, with a low around 50.

Saturday will be cloudy with occasional showers and a little cooler. Tomorrow's high will reach 68. Today's easterly winds at 15-25 miles an hour will become southerly tonight with the same velocity.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature reading preceding 8 a.m. was 35 degrees. The mercury stood at 60 at 2 p.m.

Negligent Homicide Charged in Accident

A warrant charging negligent homicide has been issued against a 59-year-old Detroit salesman whose car collided with an auto-wrecker Tuesday causing the death of a Pontiac father of four.

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Paul M. Mandel obtained the warrant against Edward F. Petsch of 8662 Beechdale St.

Arraigned on the charge this morning by West Bloomfield Justice Elmer C. Dieterle, Petsch demanded examination. One was scheduled for May 13 and Petsch was freed under $1,000 cash bond until then.

Petsch's auto collided with the wrecker driven by service station worker Anthony Grassi, 40, of 27 Edna St. Grassi was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Big Black Critter Scares Atlanta

Mystery Beast at Large

ATLANTA (AP)—The mysterious beast that has frightened residents of Atlanta's northwest section is still a mystery today.

Hundreds of policemen and civilians, some armed with shotguns, searched a wooded section last night after residents reported seeing a critter that was big, black and mean.

Several hunters maintained that only a panther could have made the four-toed tracks that were found. Police said they measured 4¼ inches in diameter.

But patrolman Walt Jones, who used his bear-hunting dogs in the search, said in his opinion there was no panther in the area.

He called off the dogs at 12:30 a.m., soon after they treed a black house cat.

While the hunt was in progress residents of the section kept children indoors and some maintained an armed vigil. Several shotgun blasts were fired at shadows and objects moving across yards.

One member of the hunting party, Eugene Pyle of suburban Hapeville, said he flushed the beast from a creek bed and got one shot at it.

However, he said, so many persons were in the area he was afraid to chance a second shot.

Several persons who saw the critter said it walked with a noticeable limp, indicating that two policemen who fired at it Wednesday may have scored a hit.

The mystery beast has been reported seen in various places in northwest Atlanta in recent weeks, leaving in its wake dead chickens, dogs, rabbits and pets.

Cleveland Feels Quake

CLEVELAND (AP)—A mild earthquake was recorded in the Cleveland area last night, and two unexplained blasts were heard and felt half an hour later by residents of a wide area along the shore of Lake Erie to the West. No damage was reported.

Russian Dance Troupe Learns About America

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 90 young Russians of the Moiseyev folk dance ensemble have learned a lot in three short weeks about how to get around this big city.

They've also learned at least a few things about American life.

Shopping is a favorite activity among the visiting Russians. Today at the Claridge Hotel, where they're staying, there were many packages in evidence as groups returned from shopping trips.

All the Russians are learning about New York's public eating places by personal experience. Many seem to prefer cafeterias and automats where they can eat quickly, and where they can pick out what they want without need for the English language, which most of them don't speak.

The Moiseyev dancers are seeing and doing a lot of things in the limited time they have free from regular morning rehearsals and evening performances.

There have been the usual sightseeing excursions, visits to museums, motion pictures and the like.

Their opinions on things American are varied:

"Your American food tends to be bland to our taste," said another Russian. He felt Russian dishes are tastier and spicier.

"The dancing in 'West Side Story' is very interesting, very difficult—and for us it would be too passionate. We are not used to that," said a girl by the name of Nina.

Shopping occupies much of their thought and energy.

The dancers are not particularly communicative about their ideas about things American. There's an obvious general policy not to comment in any detail on their impressions from their visit.

But they're intensely curious about New York and America. And America is obviously having an impact on them.

May Examine Doctor's Sanity

Detroit Man Accused of Selling Water at $35 a Shot as Cancer Cure

DETROIT (AP) — A petition may be filed today for appointment of a sanity commission to examine a medical doctor charged with selling distilled water as a cure for cancer.

Asst. Pros. George D. Kent said yesterday that he planned to move quickly in securing a sanity commission to examine Dr. Leo Donnelly, 68.

A 14-member police raiding party arrested Donnelly and his assistant, Mrs. Veronica Strach, 35, Wednesday night at Donnelly's Detroit office.

Both are charged with fraud and conspiracy, including false and immoral advertising and larceny by trick. They stood mute when arraigned yesterday and Recorder's Judge John P. O'Hara entered pleas of innocent for them. They were released on $1,000 bond each, pending examination May 14.

Investigators charge he sold distilled water at $35 a shot as a cancer cure. They also charge he sold "anti-radioactive fallout tablets guaranteed to protect one from any injury from radiation and burns of an atomic explosion and television tube irritability."

U.N. Reds Denounce Arctic Proposal

the inspection plan at a summit meeting.

U.S officials said today the Western Powers will not accept as a final answer Russia's rejection in the United Nations of President Eisenhower's proposal to neutralize the Arctic region against surprise nuclear attack.

Officials said the United States and its allies will continue to press the Kremlin for acceptance as a means of achieving a "turning point" in the whole cold war situation.

Top administration sources said it is "almost inconceivable" that Russia's leaders "would turn their back" on overwhelming world opinion for a relaxation of the threat of nuclear war.

Missing 6-Year-Old Sought by Police

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Police are searching for a 6-year-old girl who disappeared Wednesday night from her home in a slum district where a 2-year-old girl was raped two weeks ago.

Missing is blonde Kathryn (Kathy) Hampton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hampton. She was described as too much of a mommy's girl to have run away. "Somebody must have carried her off," said the father, a welder.

A boy, 15, reported he saw a slender dark-haired man talking to Kathy in front of her third-floor flat shortly before she disappeared about 7 p.m.

16.6 Per Cent Idled in Area

Mid-April Joblessness Figure Up 1,900 From Mid-February

There were an estimated 13,000 unemployed in the Pontiac area at mid-April, or 16.6 per cent of the total labor force, according to the latest figures from the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

This compared with an estimated 14.7 per cent in mid-March, 12.2 per cent in mid-February and 5.5 per cent a year ago.

The mid-April figures represented an estimated increase in unemployment of 1,900 from mid-February. During that period, manufacturing employment declined by 2,200, but this loss was partially offset by a gain of 300 in nonmanufacturing fields.

The largest reduction between March 15 and April 15 was 2,000 in motor vehicle plants, due mainly to a one-week layoff during production adjustments. On April 15, total automotive employment was estimated at 20,600, or 6,900 less than a year ago.

An employment gain of 100 was noted in the machinery industry between Feb. 15 and April 15.

During April, the Pontiac branch office unemployment insurance payments totaled $1,425,360, compared with $957,470 in March and $316,805 a year ago.

Last month, 563 claimants exhausted their benefits, compared with 444 the previous month. Since Jan. 1, a total 1,567 have exhausted benefits.

The Pontiac branch has opened an annex at 15 E. Lawrence St. to expedite payment of benefit checks.

Jobless Pay Plan Off to Senate

Organized labor expressed deep disappointment, however. AFL-CIO President George Meany declared: "We certainly are not happy with this measure. We feel it does not go anywhere near far enough."

The Democratic - sponsored bill rejected by the House would have extended existing benefits 16 weeks. It also would have provided 16 weeks of jobless pay benefits to many persons not covered by the unemployment compensation insurance program.

The provision for helping insured workers was attacked as "socialism" and "a dole" by opponents, including the President.

Rep. Hale Boggs (D), a strong supporter of the Democratic proposal, said the "dole" charge was the principal factor leading to its defeat.

An estimated 700,000 jobless have exhausted benefits under present law during the first three months of this year. The administration has estimated that between two and one-half and three million persons will be eligible for help under the measure sent to the Senate.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California today pictured President Eisenhower as very pleased by the House action. After a brief conference with the President, Knowland predicted to newsmen that the Senate also will approve the administration plan.

Liner Overshoots Runway; None Hurt at Newark

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—An Eastern Air Lines plane overshot the runway after landing in a ground fog at Newark Airport today. The plane came to a halt in a soggy grass area.

The 42 passengers and five crewmen walked out unhurt.

The plane, identified as a Douglas DC7B, settled in the soft ground just off the runway. Airport crews poured foam on the engines as a precautionary measure.

With the plane bogged down at a slight angle, the passengers and crewmen were able to walk right out without the aid of a ladder.

Eastern said the plane had come up from Miami, Fla., and stopped at Jacksonville, St. Petersburg, and Washington.

Van Horn Denies Killing Housewife

Van Horn, who came to Pontiac from Chicago, was dressed in a light grey flannel suit, with no belt, a white sports shirt and black shoes. He nervously crossed his legs often during his nearly two hours in the witness chair.

"I went to see Bert Murdock (Mrs. Murdock's husband) to see if he could help me get a place to stay and work. He had done this for me before," Van Horn said.

"She answered the door and said Bert wasn't home but that she would let him know when he got home from work.

"She started to write this note on a pad and asked if I spelled Van Horn with two capitals. I spelled it out for her as she wrote it on the pad. She gave me a note also and I left."

Later he said: "I did not kill her, I didn't. I never stabbed anyone."

He often asked Ziem if he could "explain." The prosecutor demanded "yes" or "no" answers to his many questions as he hammered away at Van Horn's denials of the crime.

Van Horn said he returned to the Murdock home later in the afternoon to see if Murdock had returned from work. He said there was no answer.

Pointing to police officers sitting in the courtroom, Van Horn told how he complained of feeling ill because of ulcers and asking for some food.

"They brought it in but they ate it," declared Van Horn, motioning to several officers.

"When they told me Saturday (Jan. 25) that I had to go to Detroit, I asked them if he couldn't wait because I wasn't feeling well at all.

"They said it wouldn't take long and that it would be all over soon after I made a statement.

"I told them I didn't want to make a statement. But all these policemen accused me of being Mrs. Murdock's boy friend. They just ran me down in any way they could.

"They said if I didn't make a statement I could be sent to Ionia Hospital for the criminally insane for eight years. They kept after me. They told me I couldn't see my wife or an attorney until I made a statement."

Van Horn said he was drinking in a bar on the evening of Jan. 24 when he learned of Mrs. Murdock's murder.

"Later when me and this other fellow was leaving a bar, Lampi (Leslie W. Lampi, of 394 Whittemore St.) stopped me and said I was wanted for questioning," said Van Horn.

"I thought it was my duty as a good citizen to go to the station and get this whole thing straightened out," he added.

With very few defense witnesses besides Van Horn to be called by Orr, closing statements by him and Ziem might be made in the afternoon session. The jury also might get the case for deliberation before adjourning this afternoon.

Police Hunting 2 Bank Robbers

Redford Holdup Nets $4,098 for Speedy Pair Wearing Sunglasses

DETROIT (AP)—Two speedy gunmen in sunglasses were sought by police today for the $4,098 holdup of a Redford Township bank and the possible robbery of three other Detroit area banks.

The bandits robbed the Telegraph-Plymouth branch of the Manufacturers National Bank in Redford Township yesterday. Police believe the same team robbed the Warren Bank in Macomb County of $6,350 Wednesday and two other area banks in the last six months.

Det. Lieut. Howard Whaley of the State Police said, "The description of the bandits tallies with those who robbed the other banks and the speed of the operation indicates they are the same men."

Price McAllister, manager of the Redford Bank, said the bandits entered the bank wearing sunglasses. He said one of the men stood at the door and covered the four customers and three employes with a .45 caliber automatic while the other went after the money. The whole operation took only four minutes, McAllister said.

The Warren Bank also was robbed by two gunmen wearing sunglasses. The bandit team took about four minutes to stage that holdup.

Auto Production Up 36.3 Pct. This Week

DETROIT (INS) — Automotive News has estimated U. S. plants will produce 80,000 cars this week for a three-week high despite the fact 18 assembly plants were closed part of the week.

According to the trade paper, production is 36.3 per cent above last week's 58,664 units but still 33.3 per cent under last year's figures for the same period.

General Motors reported its U. S. factories built 859,445 cars and 123,924 trucks and coaches in this year's first four months. In the like 1957 period they produced 1,086,777 cars and 152,610 trucks and coaches.

Chevrolet's share of this year's January - April output was 487,484 cars and 100,781 trucks compared with 536,314 cars and 126,202 trucks in like 1957.

GM's April output this year in U. S. factories was 166,782 cars and 31,445 trucks against 254,967 cars and 39,291 trucks in April last year.

The Day in Birmingham

Holy Name Teen-Hi Club Will Stage Benefit Play

BIRMINGHAM — The Teen-Hi Club of Holy Name Catholic Church will open its drive to raise $250 for the central Catholic Building Fund at 8 tonight with the staging of the play, "Girl Crazy." Additional performances, all in the school gymnasium, will be presented tomorrow and Sunday.

Lead roles are played by John Rosier, Susan Sundberg, Patricia Hopkins and Frank J. McGinnis. John Hayes is director with John Moore and Sidney McKenna, producers.

Choreography is being handled by Helen McKenna; properties, Judy Grant; costumes, Catherine Skelly and Mary Ann Carroll; make up, Rosemary Grady, and publicity and ticket sales, Patricia Daley.

The Rev. Edmund Schwager, moderator of the Spotlighters, an organization of young Catholics, spearheaded the formation of the players group two years ago.

Miss Daley said the first presentation, a variety show, proved so popular that the play became an annual affair.

"Last year Father Schwager wrote a play based around several Broadway hit songs," she said, "and this year we have had to pay royalties in order to get permission to use the songs and the title. I guess that is the way with show business."

A member of the Birmingham Board of Education for 18 years and board president for the past year, Wylie Groves of 542 West-Chester Way said he will not seek re-election in the school election June 9.

Groves, a Detroit Edison Co. engineer, said his work does not permit him to devote enough time to school matters.

Liti Electric Co. of Detroit, whose construction truck was broken into, said tools and equipment valued at about $200 were stolen.

Other thefts included a $200 calculator taken from the Greenfield Restaurant on Hunter boulevard, and a battery from a car parked at Barnum School.

Derby Junior High School PTA will hold the last meeting of the season in the school at 8 p.m. Wednesday. The program will inform parents of the opportunities and aims of the school and how the courses fit into the overall development of the student.

School department heads and teachers will present a panel discussion and a work demonstration will be given by students.

Several school projects will be displayed for the inspection of parents.

The final business meeting of the Ruth Shain International Relations class for the year will be held at the Community House Tuesday morning. Several members will be rewarded for their constant attendance. Mrs. Shain will discuss the international policies of the United Nations, Congress and other highly influential groups.

Meeting at the Community House at 8 p.m. Tuesday, members of Pythian Sisters Temple 94 will complete plans for their bake sale May 10. Starting at 9:30 a.m., the sale will be held at the McBride Hardware store, 154 S. Woodward Avenue.

Frederick S. Fowler

Service for Frederick S. Fowler, 93, of 661 Henrietta St., Birmingham, will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at Holy Name Church in Birmingham, with burial at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

The Rosary will be recited at 7:30 Sunday evening at Bell Chapel of William R. Hamilton Co.

Mr. Fowler died early this morning at his home after a brief illness.

An early farmer in the Bloomfield Hills area, he later became a greenskeeper for the Bloomfield Hills and the Pine Lake Country Clubs. He retired about 15 years ago.

Surviving are a daughter, Miss Angela M. of Detroit, and two sons, Bernard E. and Alphonsus J., both of Birmingham.

On Durant, Oklahoma

Seven Inches of Rain Falls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An overnight storm deluged Durant, Okla. with seven inches of rain. Flash flooding forced the evacuation of 400 persons and one man was missing.

Cloudy and showery weather persisted across broad areas of the south, marking a week of rain in many areas of the Gulf Coast states.

Mineral Bayou which winds around the east and south edges of Durant spilled out of its banks. Police estimated 100 homes were flooded and 400 persons forced to flee.

The rising waters washed a car off U.S. 69 four miles south of Durant. J. A. Moore clung to a tree 50 yards from the highway until he was rescued. His brother, Bill, about 45, was washed away and was reported missing.

The rains started about 5 p.m. and intensified between 9 p.m. and 2 a.m. The waters began receding after daybreak.

Well-drenched Texas sections got more rain during the night. Rain, with locally heavy showers, hit north Texas areas bounded by Abilene, Fort Worth, Gainesville and Wichita Falls. Up to 3 inches of rain doused Wichita Falls, causing flash floods. Some heavy falls were reported across the border in Oklahoma.

The rain belt extended from the southern Atlantic Coast states westward into Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico and northward through Colorado and western sections of Kansas and Nebraska. However, showers and thunder showers were light in most places.

Prohibitionist to Run

LANSING (AP)—The prohibition party has formally bid for a place on the Nov. 4 general election ballot. It was the only minor party to win ballot listing two years ago.

MSU Tightens Its Belt Under Austerity Budget

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University pulled in its financial belt yesterday and John A. Hannah, MSU president, declared the squeeze was hurting.

The State Board of Agriculture, MSU govering board, approved an austerity budget to tailor university activities to the appropriations cut by the legislature.

The legislature gave MSU $25,315,000 for operations in 1958-59, a cut of $1,011,500 from the appropriation of $26,326,500 for the current year.

The savings will be made by eliminating salary hikes except in a few instances, a program of eliminating less important courses and services, holding student enrollment at the present level and enforcing an across-the-board cut on spending for all university activities.

"This is very painful and unpleasant," Hannah said, "But the things less vital will have to be eliminated. It will require a lot of judgment, courage and wisdom, but, as difficult as it is, we might even find the experience good.

"If this becomes a continuing thing, however," he warned, "we will be in trouble. You can do this once, but you can't do it again."

Major savings will be made by:

1. Enforcing a five per cent reduction in spending on all departments.

2. Holding student enrollments to the present level of 19,970 by requiring high standards of admission and strict standards of scholarship to remain in school.

3. Freezing all faculty salary and wages at present levels with the exception of upward adjustments for 99 faculty members promoted at the board meeting.

4. Eliminating routine step increases in pay for all other MSU employes. It was emphasized, however, there will be no pay cuts.

5. Cutting heat, light and janitor service for buildings to reduce the quality of service.

6. Eliminating or reducing to the minimum such budget items as land purchases, purchases of major equipment and repairs.

7. A re-examination of "all programs, all operations, all activities, all curricula and all courses with the objective of elimination of those of least importance and curtailing those of little importance."

The only thing worse than two women in a man's life is none. . . A wedding usually means showers for the bride and curtains for the groom. . . A local character says he gave his annoying nephew moccasins for Christmas—cottonmouth moccasins.—Earl Wilson.

Hal Boyle Says:

Death Makes Office Work a Prize to Hold

NEW YORK (AP)—There usually are only two days in a modern office.

One is pay day, when life is wonderful. The other is any day on which you aren't paid, and life seems ordinarily hopeless or hopelessly ordinary, depending on your mood.

Pay day is usually easy to get through. The work goes briskly, because one knows that at twilight he will have a full pocket as he sallies forth to pursue his private dream. Tonight freedom — tomorrow the mortgage payment.

But on every day that isn't pay day, one feels the burden of effort. He knows no release from the war of living. His dreams seem impossible. The routine of life appears endless, and anyone who whistles out loud is frowned on as a traitor to mankind.

But there is a third kind of day in an office—the day someone dies. As one grows older, it seems to come more often.

You come to work one morning, and instead of the usual greeting —"What's new?"—there is, for a change, something really new:

"Did you hear so-and-so died last night?"

Who was so-and-so? It makes no difference what his rank was in life, whether he was an executive or a secretive human zero. In death he suddenly stands out larger. For one day he is the most important man in the office.

You may have worked 30 feet from him for 20 years and never even noticed the color of his eyes. All of a sudden, through the pooling of office memories, you learn a lot about him.

As his associates exchange their memories, you get an insight into what is worrying them—the diseases they fear, the dreams unachieved, the problems at home, the panic thought that life, dull as it often seems, should be taken from them without their permission.

The office, no longer a forlorn cell, is a warm shelter. The daily rut all at once becomes a prized thing no one wants taken from him, certainly not by death. All wish again the solace of the commonplace.

They take up a collection for flowers for the one who has gone, and someone is appointed to write a letter of sympathy from "his friends at the office."

Everyone looks at his desk — somehow it now stands out from the others—and wonders who tomorrow . . . or the next day . . . or the day after . . . will be sitting at that desk doing his job.

"Why don't they ever hang crepe on a guy's desk when he dies?" someone asks. But they never do.

He is gone, but the work hasn't. The human herd, lowing, turns its horns toward the future and plods on.

There has just been another death in the office.

German Might Strengthening

Red Threat Supports Big Industry Instead of Deconcentration

LONDON (AP) — A law designed to break up Germany's war production power — and particularly the Krupp empire — is now expected by Western diplomats here to be enforced with leniency if at all.

Britain, France and th eUnited States have agreed to a request by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to re-examine the law, the British Foreign Office said last night.

In the agreemnts ending the post-World War II occupation of West Germany, Adenauer's government pledged to carry out the Allied deconcentration of industry law of 1953.

The law provided that in general by some time in 1958 Alfried Krupp and other German industrial barons would break up their concentrations of coal, steel, iron and related industries by selling some units. Instead, Krupp's empire has expanded.

Adenauer wrote personal letters to the U.S., British and French government heads last year asking that the law be scrapped because the industrial barons were having trouble finding buyers. Some observers thought this was a bid by the Chancellor for political support of the magnates in an election he won.

Now, a Foreign Office spokesman said, Bonn has provided further information on difficulties in breaking up several specific industries.

Diplomats noted that there is no peaceful way the industrial deconcentration can be enforced from outside Germany, and German courts are unlikely to honor the government's pledge. The in-Germany to the Western side in East-West conflicts also makes the Allies less likely to antagonize the Germans by pressing the point.

Cardinal Walks Today

ROME (INS) — Samuel Cardinal Stritch will be allowed to walk around his hospital room today, but it will be several days before he can go outside Sanatrix Clinic, where his right arm was amputated Monday.

The Navajo, Mescalero Apache and Jicarilla Apache Indians of New Mexico are related tribes, which migrated to the Southwest about a thousand years ago and whose people speak Athabascan languages.

Slave Couple's Child State's 'Mother of Year'

DETROIT (AP) — An 86-year-old Negro mother of 12 children who didn't think a thing like this could happen "to a woman where I came from" has been crowned Michigan's 1958 "Mother of the Year."

Mrs. Mattie Baker McFall, the daughter of a slave couple, was crowned the First Mother of Michigan yesterday by Governor and Mrs. G. Mennen Williams in a ceremony at Detroit.

The 17 other Michigan mothers who competed with Mrs. McFall for the honor looked on as the Governor gave her the award.

Mrs. McFall will go to New York this weekend to take part in the "American Mother of the Year" contest. If she wins, Mrs. Eisenhower will receive her at the White House and then she will be flown to Brussels to represent this country at the World's Fair.

The contest is sponsored by the American Mothers Committee, Inc. at New York. The Northland Center Chamber of Commerce sponsored the Michigan portion of the event.

Mrs. McFall married Benjamin J. McFall when she was 14. She and her husband farmed in Georgia until Benjamin died in 1921 and then she continued alone. Many of her children moved to Detroit over the years, and Mrs. McFall followed them to the motor city in 1956.

Prisoner Chases Baseball Into Woods; Keeps Going

CONCORD, Mass. (AP) — Burglar Ronald Mules, 22, outfielder on the Concord Reformatory Farm baseball team, played deep for a slugger last night. When a long fly came at him he chased it into woods bordering the diamond — and kept on going.

The escape broke up the evening ball game in the recreation area of the minimum security farm, half a mile from the walled reformatory.

Mules, from Boston, was serving five years for breaking, entering and larceny.

County Week Opens Monday

In connection with the annual observance of Michigan Week, which starts Monday, our home folks here in the Pontiac area have particular reasons to celebrate.

So, let's also make it Oakland County Week, an occasion to smother our modesty, and do some justified bragging—around home and otherwise.

A little reflection on the hard facts will show us that we live in the very essence of what makes Michigan great.

No other area within its borders has as much (nature or man made) that contributes more in the all-over degree to put our state in the top category.

Largely encompassed by the Great Lakes, its "Water Wonderland" status also is brought about by the thousands of other lakes within its borders.

In this respect, Oakland County's 423 lakes is the largest number in any of the 68 counties in the Southern Peninsula.

And they comprise the largest number of any county in the entire United States, that is contiguous to such a large population.

With more of the 60 state parks than any other of Michigan's 83 counties, supplemented by our many other recreational features, Oakland County has become our state's primary playground.

Nature gave us the setting for all of the above, and we might have been content to let our laurels rest on what has been built on that foundation.

But we've also taken a top place in the industrial development, and have made our county the heart of the greatest such area in the world.

Yes, Oakland County Week should also open Monday as the principal bolster to Michigan Week.

City Police Deserve Thanks for Cleanup

According to recent reports from store owners in the area of Pontiac's skid row, habitants are receiving the "bum's rush." It's about time these undesirable characters were picked up and kicked off Pontiac's streets.

For some years in the past spring has been the annual time for the regular clean up in this area. By and large it has been handled with a lick and a promise and it is not long until these unfortunate souls are back at their stand.

Now the Pontiac Police Department should be commended for the firm stand they are taking. They have come in with the paddy wagon showing they really mean business. Policing the area in pairs is another sign that they are out to clean up South Saginaw Street.

Ridding this two-block area of its derelicts is no easy task. It is an unending job that needs constant watching.

The store owners along with Pontiac area shoppers are thankful for the diligent work our police department is doing.

Let's hope they will continue to keep a watchful eye on this area.

Whole World Benefits From U. S. Travel Boom

The Commerce Department reports that Americans spent $1.95 billion in foreign travel last year and that the percentage rise exceeds the growth in personal income.

Of the total $1.4 billion was spent by Americans outside the country; $250 million was paid to foreign carriers for transportation and $300 million to U.S. shipping companies and airlines. These expenditures have provided the world with more dollars than any single item imported into this country.

Canada is the leading nation benefiting from American travelers who spent $340 million there in 1957. Mexico is next with $300 million. Americans spent nearly $500 million last year in Western Europe.

On the other hand the U. S. benefits from expenditures by foreign visitors. In 1956, the latest year for which figures are available, the total was $800 million, more than we received in that year for such major exports as cotton or electrical machinery.

While tourism accounts for over half the trips abroad, says the Institute of Life Insurance, about one out of eight travelers to Europe goes for business reasons. This indicates the importance to our economy of foreign investments and foreign trade.

The Man About Town

Won the Contest

Once More a Woman Has Best Guess Among 2,648

Holding the bag: Now a matter of feminine attire.

Again a woman has won the $250 prize in our baseball contest. It's getting to be a habit with the fair sex. She is of 145 West Fairmount Ave. Among the 14 contestants, out of 2,648, who picked of Baltimore to be the top batter in the American League after the games of May 1, she estimated that his batting average would be .438.

Robinson climbed into top place on Thursday, with an average of .436. None of the others who had picked him came anywhere near as close.

She is the wife of Merle R. Laurain, tool and die worker at a local plant, and the mother of three children.

The standings of the five top players after Thursday's games were:

	G	AB	R	H	Pct.
Robinson, Balt.	12	39	6	17	.436
Vernon, Clev	12	28	8	12	.429
Cerv, K. C.	13	49	10	20	.417

Kaenn, Det.	15	61	8	24	.393

Delos Hamlin,

wonders if there's another similar area in the entire nation that can show such a growth in every way that makes for better living.

Ask most anybody what has been Michigan's greatest tourist attraction, and their thoughts will go upstate. However, the biggest drawing card has been

Greenfield Village

(not so far from Pontiac), which drew over a million visitors in 1957. This year it will have a strong competitor in the Mackinac Bridge.

After absorbing all of the essentials of a menace to any blaze for many years, Pontiac Fire Chief

How About You, Too?

David Lawrence Says:

Conservative Bloc Dooms 'Dole'

WASHINGTON — Something has just happened in Congress which should generate more confidence in the firmness of the governmental process in resisting inflation than anything that has been manifested in a long time.

LAWRENCE

For a coalition of conservative Democrats from the South and conservative Republicans in the House of Representatives joined together to defeat the idea of a "dole."

The original plan, sponsored by the Democratic leadership, would have put the Federal government in the position of handing out funds to those who are customarily idle or who do not wish to work and hence are ineligible for unemployment insurance.

Likewise, under the Democratic-leadership plan, the Federal government was to make "grants" to the states, whereas President Eisenhower had proposed that loans be made which the states would repay in four years.

These loans would finance a 50 per cent extension of payments to the unemployed who are covered by regular unemployment compensation programs.

The President's plan, which was accepted by the House of Representatives, calls for a choice by the states as to whether they wish to extend unemployment benefits beyond the period normally provided. They can have Federal help if they want it.

On the roll-call vote on the President's plan, there were 223 votes in favor and 165 against. But the division in parties is interesting to note. There were 163 Republicans and 60 Democrats voting for the administration plan and 148 Democrats and 17 Republicans voting against it.

This means that, on proposals that could disturb the confidence of men in business and finance with respect to the future of the government's fiscal position, there is likely to be a conservative majority in Congress to block the passage of any unsound provisions.

Ever since the recession began to reach serious proportions and the Democratic leaders started to propose all sorts of laws that would run up government spending to fantastic heights and produce deficits of unprecedented size, there has been uneasiness in financial and business circles as to what Congress — with both houses controlled by the Democrats — might do.

In fact, one of the reasons for the rise recently of an anti-radical or conservative tide in America has been the fear of what laws the Democrats might enact if they had complete control of all branches of the government.

In next autumn's elections for Congress, persons with fixed incomes will look more closely than ever before at the candidates to determine whether they are on the conservative side.

It is significant that Sen. Knowland, Republican, who is running for governor of California, is in the forefront of the fight to preserve the dollar's value so that persons with fixed incomes will not suffer.

There are many millions of retired persons living on pensions in the state of California. It is significant also that Rep. A. S. Herlong Jr., (D-Fla) — another state where there is a large population living on fixed incomes — piloted the administration measure through the House this week.

His bill was offered as a substitute for that of the regular Democratic leadership.

There are normally about 2,600,000 persons in the "labor force" of the country who do not work regularly or who do not wish to work. They, too, can be called "unemployed."

The Democrats planned to do what has never been done since the whole unemployment insurance system was set up — to give money to idle persons who are ineligible for the insurance benefits. This would have cost several billions.

The Country Parson

"About as close as some folks come to thanking God is when they thank Him that their neighbor's misfortunes didn't happen to them."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Detect Trick Specialist by Competitive Tactics

There's a vast difference between real specialists and trick specialists. Real specialists are comparatively few and far between. Trick specialists are a dime a dozen.

DR. BRADY

A real specialist is a physician who limits his or her practice to the particular field in which he or she has received advanced postgraduate training, such as obstetrics, orthopedic surgery, ophthalmology or urology. The real specialist cooperates with the physicians in the community.

A trick specialist competes with the physicians in the community for all the business he or she can lure away from them. Thanks to the gullibility of the public, htat means a lot of business. The customers generally don't know or care what kind of specialist—it is enough for them to know that he calls himself a specialist, which, they think, means he is better than an "ordinary" doctor.

Also the poor souls imagine the authorities would not allow him to call himself a specialist if he were not better qualified than the "ordinary" doctor.

The truth is that any person with a license to practice medicine may specialize or call himself a specialist in any field he chooses. The law doesn't care.

REAL CLINIC IS FREE

A real clinic is a place, usually connected with hospital or medical school, where patients who consent to being examined and treated before classes of medical students get the very best treatment free.

In a phony "clinic" the suckers pay through the nose and usually for mediocre or inferior service.

The real clinic is in one sense a charity, although the patients who voluntarily submit to examination and treatment before a class of students are entitled to some compensation.

The phony "clinic" is a shabby device which enables its members to get considerable free advertising without being expelled from the medical society. It enables merchants of medicine to attain what the world calls success much faster than honest doctors can hope to do so in private practice.

These twin evils have grown to gigantic proportions in American medicine because most doctors and medical societies nowadays haven't the guts to expose them for what they are.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Minister Refers Readers to Another Point of View

Some time ago an editorial expressed surprise that endorsement of a national lottery had not drawn protest from any "dissident brethren." At the time I was momentarily disposed to register promptly my dissidence.

However, I am not disposed to enter into a controversy with a paper whose general point of view I respect as much as I do that of The Press.

I have just finished reading an article entitled "No National Lottery!" by Senator Richard L. Neuberger of Oregon, published in the Christian Century for April 30, 1958. If readers have access to this journal, they will find in Mr. Neuberger's article a statement of the point of view which I accept and which I hope will prevail.

'Move to Country if You Like Mud'

I've lived in Perry Park for 20 years, have waded mud, cleaned it from my house and breathed dust. Every Halloween our outhouse is turned over. We voted for sewers and finally got them five years ago.

Last night a man asked me to sign a petition to prevent sidewalks on our street. I refused to sign for we've waited 20 years to get sewers, sidewalks, curb and gutters and topping for our street. I can't understand why anyone doesn't want improvements in his community. The only reason given was that his neighbor's unemployment checks are running out.

If people want to live in mud, let them move back to the country where they belong.

People here are too conceited. You call yourselves "Americans" and think that just means residents of the United States. What blindness. Case Records of a Psychologist:

What's Meaning of Your Name?

Hilda has become curious about her name. And if any of you readers wish to become etymologists (word detectives), just scrapbook this case record. The next time you have a party, then bring out your scrapbook, for it will soon start a very lively discussion. Former president Truman deliberately added an "S" to his name because he wanted a middle initial.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE X-395: Hilda G., aged 16, is a high school junior.

"Dr. Crane, how did we get our names?" she began. "And I mean both our first names as well as our surnames?"

Moses and DR. CRANE

The surnames didn't arrive till 1500 in Europe, for population was not so great that last names were greatly needed.

Aristotle and Galileo and other great figures of the past had no surnames.

But when too many boys in an English village held the name "John," something else had to be added. Thus, surnames arose.

John, the carpenter, soon became John Carpenter. John, the gold smith, was shortened to John Goldsmith.

If he lived by the meadows, he was called John Meadows. Just look through your city telephone directory and you will find all sorts of trades now used as surnames.

John Stout, John Short, John Longfellow, John Farmer, John Castle, etc., show that surnames came from personal traits, as well as trades and locations.

Abigail (my father is joy); Adelaide (of noble rank); Agatha (kind); Agnes (pure); Alice (truth); Alma (cherishing); Amanda (worthy to be loved); Amelia (industrious); Amy (beloved); Anne (grace); Avis (bird).

Felicia (happiness); Flora (flowers); Florence (prosperity); Frances (a free woman); Frieda (peace).

Many female first names are taken from similar masculine names, as Caroline and Charlotte, which stem from Charles.

And a large number of girls' names are diminutives of variations of other feminine names. For example, Elizabeth is the "parent" name for Bess, Betty, Elsie, Libby, Lisa and Lizzy.

From Helen we also derive Nell, Nelly, Elena and Ellen.

The prefixes "Mc" and "Mac" indicate "son of" as in MacMillan. So, too, does the prefix "O" in O'Rourke, and also "Fitz" in Fitzpatrick.

Likewise, the suffixes "son," "sen," "sohn," as in Petersen, Anderson, and Mendelssohn.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Mexico Eying Tortillas Made by Machines

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Automation may take over the tortilla industry.

Tortillas are the bread of Mexico. They are made of mashed corn, patted by hand into pancake-sized cakes, cooked, and sold by the millions.

They may be eaten plain, rolled around almost any edible ingredient to form a sort of sandwich, twisted and dipped into beans or other dishes. They are the cover for tacos and enchiladas.

The practice of making tortillas hasn't changed for centuries. But with the cost of living going up, with wages and the value of corn soaring, prices for this basic food item are jumping too.

The government decided that automation is the answer. Machine-made tortillas would save a lot of money and bring the cost back to the average 40-50 centavos —between 3 and 4 cents—a dozen.

CEIMSA, the official import-export agency, had the situation well in hand. Machines to make tortillas were developed and used in some places.

But general adoption of the plan is being delayed. The machines will put tens of thousands of women out of work in Mexico City alone in this presidential election year!

CEIMSA said it will hold up automation until it can find new jobs for the tortilla patters.

Gets Post in Roseville

ROSEVILLE (AP) — A 34-year-old Grand Rapids native, Forrest Gillespie, has been promoted from controller to city manager of this Detroit suburb of 42,000 population. Gillespie succeeds Olaf Pearson, who resigned two weeks ago. Gillespie had been controller two years. He gets a boost from $8,000 to $10,000 a year. At one time he was a west Michigan investigator for the U. S. Labor Department.

Sukarno Tones Down Charges

Reassured by Dulles, Ike in Regard to U.S. Fliers With Rebels

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno's government today took much of the sting out of its charges that Americans are flying for the Indonesian rebels. The retreat was in response to assurances from President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

Foreign Minister Subandrio told newsmen his government appreciated Dulles' receptiveness toward the question of "the elimination of intervention by American adventurers."

Subandrio said he was prepared to give U. S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones a confidential report on the participation of American nationals in the revolt against the Jakarta regime and that he is convinced "with good will from both sides the problem can be solved through diplomatic channels."

Premier Djuanda on Wednesday charged in a sharp statement that American and Chinese Nationalist pilots were flying the rebel planes which have been bombing Jakarta positions in east Indonesia in the past few days. The rebels said their tiny air force was manned entirely by Indonesians and Chinese born in Indonesia, and challenged Jakarta to name any Americans flying for them.

President Eisenhower conceded that "soldiers of fortune" usually are attracted to any rebellion but said U. S. policy toward the Indonesian civil war is one of strict neutrality. Dulles subsequently said the U. S. government would give serious consideration to any proposal Indonesia might make to curb any Americans fighting with the rebels.

Subandrio spoke to newsmen after conferring with Djuanda. Despite his soothing words, he added that "this participation in the rebellion in Indonesia by foreign planes with foreign pilots is regarded by the Indonesian government as a very serious matter."

Giving Polio Shots, Not Retesting Serum

LONDON (AP)—The government has decided to wipe out a huge waiting list for antipolio injections by using American Salk vaccine without retesting it in Britain.

The Salk serum previously has been subjected to two tests—first in the United States and then after arrival in this country. No flaw has been detected so far by British tests.

Health Minister Derek Walker-Smith announced the new policy in the House of Commons last night after advice from the Medical Research Council.

"One million doses have been issued last week and this week," he said. "Substantial new supplies will follow hotfoot."

Priority vaccinations are expected to involve some six million people.

Just Restore Confidence and Sales Follow

'You Auto Buy' Pioneers Tell How to Boost Business

CLEVELAND (AP) — Restore customers' shaky confidence and the recession is dead.

That's the theory of two Cleveland automobile dealers, Leo J. Conway and David Blaushild, who are whooping it up for bigger and better sales efforts by retailers, particularly new car salesmen.

"The money is there," Blaushild contends, "and the public wants to buy. But they're afraid."

PRAISED BY IKE

"Really a pair of workers," President Eisenhower said after a half-hour meeting at the White House last week with the two businessmen who originated the "You Auto Buy Now" idea, which has spread nationally. The President agreed better salesmanship could spark economic recovery.

They told Eisenhower of their plan to post manufacturers' suggested prices on new cars. Dealers would be bonded to assure the prices were quoted properly.

The idea of a firm price and bonded dealers, Eisenhower said later at his news conference, would assure that "this business of undercutting and every other kind of bad practice will not keep people from buying.

"If everybody knows what he has to pay, and these people are so bonded, then confidence tends to go up."

35 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

Conway, with 35 years in the auto business, has two grown sons and a daughter.

A pilot in World War I, he still has trouble with his legs, which he almost lost when his plane exploded and crashed near Ashtabula, Ohio. He spent two years in hospitals after the crash.

He says of the present recession: "The country merely is taking inventory, something that's done periodically." He believes people can be talked out of their reluctance to buy. But, he asserts, "the retailer has got to get his house in order."

PROVES CONFIDENCE

Blaushild, a former Army captain, is the father of three children. His father, who died recently, had the dealership before him.

Of the economic situation, he says: "America is too big and people work too hard" for the economy to collapse. Visitors to his million-dollar showroom and maintenance shops are shown a new $150,000 addition started in March, an example of his confidence.

India's Nehru Tired

Feels He Needs to Rest

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru says he wants a rest. Looking back over his life there's no wonder that he's tired.

Nehru told his Congress Party this week that the daily weight of government administrative duties was becoming too much for him.

He did not say directly that he wanted to retire from office but he indicated that, at least, he wants to throw some of the governmental duties onto other shoulders.

FEELS STALE

Nehru now is 68 years old. He says he feels tired and stale. His party — while far from a critical stage — has also been looking a little tired and stale during the past months. Last year the Congress Party lost to the Communist Party one of India's provinces, Kerala.

There is no indication that Congress Party leaders want Nehru to retire completely. But many of them have complained that his almost one-man rule leaves little room for growth and initiative of other younger men.

But if Nehru should turn over some of his duties, these younger men could move ahead while he personally could take time to shore up the sagging party. Nehru, in addition to being prime minister, is also foreign minister, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission and head of the Planning Commission.

INERTIA CHARGED

In January of this year, a group of Congress Party members, including Nehru's own daughter, charged the party with inertia, complacency and other faults.

Nehru was born on Nov. 14, 1889, in Allahabad, India. After an intensive and exclusive private education in England's best schools, he joined the Mahatma Gandhi movement and took his aristocratic family into it. Between 1921 and 1947, the year India achieved her independence from Britain, Nehru served 11 years in prison.

He has been India's leader since independence was attained. He has been hailed as Asia's first great democrat. But he has alienated western leaders because he was quick to condemn the Suez situation and slow to condemn the Russian slaughter in Hungary.

In addition, his annexation of part of Kashmir, despite a pledge to the United Nations, shocked many of those who previously had hailed him as a great democratic leader.

Western leaders, and many Indians, feel that Nehru has allowed his nation to move too close to the Soviet bloc.

Correct name for the face of a coin is obverse.

Seeks Less Interest on School Bonds

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams says he hopes Michigan school districts soon will be able to market their bonds at lower interest rates, thereby effecting substantial savings to local taxpayers.

He tried to sell them on the attractiveness of Michigan school bond issues, and to persuade them to accept lower interest rates.

One rub, he said, was that investors haven't been getting promptly all the financial information they need to accurately appraise the worth of Michigan school issues.

A better job could be done if the Municipal Finance Commission, which reviews proposed bond issues, was more liberally staffed, he said. The Legislature recently turned down his request for an extra $12,000 for this purpose in 1958-59.

"This kind of short-sighted false economy, the Wall Street people pointed out, is extremely costly to all Michigan citizens," the governor said.

Vivian Blaine Prefers Broadway Success

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — "So I said, when they offered me a screen test, 'Okay, Mom, let's go — at least its' a vacation with pay.'

"I was 17 and a half at the time, living in New Jersey, and I hadn't a notion what Hollywood would be like. Boy, I found out fast enough. I found out that in Hollywood you are just exactly what they make you, nothing more or less. I came out after a lot of starring roles — oh sure, I got the star treatment — not knowing who or what I was.

This is, in part, the plaintive life story of Vivian Blaine, the rosy-haired and cheeked sensation of Broadway. In her new hit, "Say, Darling," she plays the role of an ex-film star, who, having become deceased in Hollywood, turns to the Great White Way for pastrami money.

"I do not want to knock Hollywood, as every actress must keep open all avenues to a job," says Vivian, "but I would like to say that the role I am now playing is so close to the truth, it revives some awfully insecure memories.

"I don't say that Hollywood did wrong by our Nell, but I do say it always gave me the feeling of being terribly insecure. How can I explain it? . . . They won't let you be yourself. They take a successful formula and pattern you after it, or try to.

"Like I was billed as 'The New Alice Faye,' when Alice decided to knock off work a bit and have babies. Now that was the kiss of death, because a person can never be a 'new' other person and not be a faint carbon."

Then there was the personal life, which was just as hard for Vivian to see. "If somebody rumored it around that Zanuck was going to build you up to the skies, you were treated like a wheel. If you were on the downgrade, your friends knew it before you did and you were ignored accordingly.

"There's no privacy in Hollywood. You can live in one of those big homes, with acres of land around it, and a wall around that, and still everybody in town knows what's happening to you even before it happens." Vivian wriggles the neatest nose on Broadway "Very occult indeed."

In 1949, feeling like a retread Alice Faye, Vivian departed filmland ("by mutual consent with the studio") and decided to find out "quote — what made me tick — unquote."

She played everything from the Roxy Theater to state fairs before Broadway caught on to a good thing and put her in lights as Adelaide in "Guys and Dolls." And in New York, she suddenly felt comparatively safe.

"Hollywood's a small town," Vivian sums up. "You feel it in the air — it echoes off the buildings — the insecurity. You keep looking over your shoulder to see where the next knife is coming from.

"Broadway? it's a psychological desert. Nobody breathing down your neck. You're self-sufficient in New York. They don't make you a star here. You make it yourself, or you don't.

"That's the only way to get personal security."

Girl Who Went Away to Palace Dies in London

A doctor told her that if she went there her health might suffer. She ignored the warning. And recently she died, Copenhagen reports. Susan left her Cornish village to be companion governess to 11-year-old Princess Anne Marie of Denmark. She immediately became a favorite of the royal family.

Then she fell ill. An influenza epidemic hit the palace. Nearly everyone went down. Others recovered but Susan became so ill that the royal family had her flown to a London hospital, where she died.

Will Ask State Law to Control Explosives

DETROIT (AP) — In the wake of Detroit's fourth bombing within a week, Police Commissioner Edward Piggins said today he will ask a law to control sale, possession and transportation of explosives in Michigan.

The latest came last night. It blew a three-inch square hole in the side of 73-year-old Mrs. Clara Junker's East Side home. Police said a home-made bomb was used and blamed the explosion on pranksters.

Mrs. Junker's granddaughter, Linda Burmeister, 17, was alone in the house when the bomb went off. She was not injured.

Police said they were seeking three boys who appeared at the Junker home after the bomb went off, but fled when Miss Burmeister came to the door.

Two of the other bombings were at dry cleaning shops and one at an apartment house.

Detroit Man Shoots Himself in Right Leg

A Detroit man, Marvin Gabriel, 28, of 6335 Vaughan St., was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital Thursday after accidentally shooting himself in the right leg, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Gabriel was reported in satisfactory condition today. He had been "practicing fast draws" with a friend, Ed Copeland, of Detroit, at the Proud Lake Recreation Area, according to deputies.

The men were firing .22 caliber pistols. Gabriel accidentally shot too soon and wounded himself just above the knee, said the report.

West Bloomfield Girl Injured in Accident

Susan M. Pierce, 18, of 3508 Erie Dr., West Bloomfield Township, was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Thursday and released after being involved in a traffic accident, said Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

She told deputies that her car went out of control on a curve on Commerce road just west of Hiller road, in West Bloomfield Township. The auto struck a fence and overturned, said deputies.

Tax Officials Doubting Amnesia of Arkansans

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — Arkansas Tax officials say they doubt that Arkansans are quite as "forgetful" as they claim.

State revenue officials caught 7,124 persons in 1957 who "forgot" to file state income tax returns and pay their taxes. Most of those not only hat to pay-up but were tagged with a stiff fine.

Delay Postal Decision

WASHINGTON (INS) — Senate-House conferees on the postal pay and rate increase bill have adjourned indefinitely after reaching a deadlock over a policy statement.

Only Brass Over Space

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roy W. Johnson, the head of the Pentagon's special space bureau, said it could be disastrous to allow a civilian agency to limit military uses of outer space.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCIENCE

QUESTION: Why is the South Pole colder than the North?

ANSWER: American scientists and explorers, working to unlock the Antarctic's secrets in "Operation Deep Freeze", have recorded the lowest temperatures known to man in the vicinity of the South Pole. In May, according to Dr. Paul Siple, it dips to 100 degrees below zero and even colder. By contrast, here are some North Pole figures: January, average estimated temperature, 42 degrees below zero; July, 30 above zero! Actually, it may rain at the North Pole during July and August, something which never happens at the South Pole.

The Arctic is a frozen sea surrounded by land; the Antarctic, a frozen land surrounded by sea. Water retains the sun's heat better than land does, and that makes the North Pole climate comparatively mild.

FOR YOU TO DO: Read a book about Arctic explorations and try to find out why the Arctic is sometimes called "friendly"—which is not true of the Antarctic.

Five Firemen Injured as Pumper Crashes

ATLANTA (AP) — Five firemen were injured when their pump truck crashed into an embankment in southwest Atlanta late last night while on the way to a fire.

Fire Chief C. C. Styron said the truck skidded on the rain-slick street while making a turn and slammed into an embankment. The impact hurled the firemen into the street.

Officials said Frank Wilson Jr. suffered a possible back injury. The others received cuts and bruises and apparently were in good condition.

Two Romanian Cagers Disappear in Paris

PARIS (AP)—Two members of a Romanian basketball team disappeared today just before the team was scheduled to return to Bucharest. French authorities concluded they had decided to stay in the West.

The other 11 members of the Romanian squad boarded a Czechoslovak plane at Orly Field shortly after noon, bound for Bucharest via Prague.

The missing pair played with the "Energia Electro Montage" in a tournament last weekend in Alfortville, a suburb of Paris, against Bulgarian, Belgian, American and French teams. The team finished third in the tourney behind the Bulgarians and a French team.

Church in Rochester Marks Centennial Year

ROCHESTER — St. Paul's Methodist Church in Rochester, one of Oakland County's oldest churches, will begin its centennial celebration Sunday with an anniversary worship service. Delivering the centennial address at both the 9 and 11 a.m. service will be Bishop Marshall Reed of Detroit.

Special events are planned throughout the month to mark the church's 100 years of existence. Among them will be an "Old-Timers Night" on May 18 and a centennial Pageant and Barbecue May 28.

The history of the church in this area goes back to 1858 when Methodist services were held at several places. The Rev. Daniel Birney came from Canada and preached at Mt. Vernon, Stoney Creek, The Hubbell and Ewells schools.

In 1859 services formally were organized at Stoney Creek. The Rev. L. T. Mitchell was placed in charge, and a parsonage was purchased. Several ministers served during the next few years.

In 1866, the parsonage at Stoney Creek burned, and arrangements were made for the location of the church in Rochester where the majority of the congregation lived. An old school house, located on the west side of Pine street, was purchased.

In 1868, the site of the present St. Paul's Methodist Church on Walnut blvd. was purchased, and the old frame building was moved from Pine street to the new location. The building of the parsonage, which is the present church house and offices, was begun in 1871. It was completed and occupied in 1872.

In 1874 a new brick chapel was begun. It was completed in 1876.

It was not until 1912 that the time seemed right for building the church on the front of the lot. The chapel did not fit into the plans for expansion and was razed to make room for the new church building. The new, present church was dedicated in June of 1913, but it was not until 1936 that it was free of debt. The pipe organ was installed in 1914.

In September, 1915, the Rev. William Hill Collycott was assigned to the Rochester Church and remained its pastor until his retirement in 1942.

The congregation of St. Paul's had a fund-raising campaign in 1954 and another in 1956. With this money it purchased an eight-acre site on Romeo street at the east village limits.

The house on the site has been rebuilt as a parsonage, and it is the hope of the congregation that the first unit of St. Paul's edifice will get under way before the end of 1958.

New Argentine President Getting Over Inauguration

He planned to interrupt his rest spell, however, to entertain U. S. Vice President Richard Nixon at lunch and to review the fleet tomorrow.

Frondizi in his inaugural address to Congress made clear his awareness of Argentina's grave political and economic problems. He got a graphic demonstration of the deep political lines dividing the nation as he took office.

Peron's supporters flooded the streets, chanting their exiled leader's name. Spurred on by Frondizi's inaugural promise of freedom for all political parties, they waved Peronist banners and released balloons carrying Peron's picture in front of Government House.

The Communists, who also supported Frondizi, lost no time making themselves heard. Although small in number and officially outlawed, the Reds staged a May Day meeting protesting Nixon's presence at the head of the U.S. delegation to the inauguration.

Thousands of others cheered the outgoing provisional president, Brig. Gen. Pedro Aramburu, who had played a leading role in the 1955 revolution which overthrew Peron and who had held the elections despite considerable opposition from his military supporters.

Church in Troy Lists Schedule

Summer Worship for First Presbyterian to Start Sunday Morning

TROY — The Rev. W. Donald Pendell, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Troy, has announced that the summer schedule for worship will start May 4 with a 9:30 a.m. service for adults and children of kindergarten age. A nursery and Biblecraft period will be held at the same time as the church service.

Sunday School for all ages will be conducted at 10:45 a.m., with a nursery for small children. The pastor will teach the adult class.

The church is located on Livernois road just north of Wattles road.

The Rev. Pendell will direct a church family camp the last week of June at Mill Lake in the state's Waterloo Recreation area, located near Jackson.

Each family will have a cabin of its own and all meals will be provided so that mothers will have a vacation, the cost will be less than that of renting an average cottage alone, the Rev. Pendell said.

There will be group study, recreation and craftwork in the mornings, fishing, swimming and boating in the afternoon and an adult program in the evening with babysitters provided.

Bone Marrow Put in Storage

Deposited by Cancer Patients for Protecting Blood-Producing Ability

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Some cancer patients may deposit part of their bone marrow in a cold storage bank before they face tumor-destroying radiation.

This possible way of protecting blood-producing ability was suggested to a scientific meeting of the American College of Physicians.

It would give radiation therapists much more leeway as to the amount of radiation a patient could receive—without harming the blood-producing marrow.

A group of California doctors, headed by Dr. Nathaniel B. Kurnick of Long Beach, have devised a new technique. Dr. Kurnick described it this way:

Patients headed for heavy radiation treatments give up part of their own bone marrow. It is frozen and kept on deposit.

Then, after treatment, the patient's previous deposit of marrow is repaced in his bones. Within two weeks the marrow has developed a greater blood-producing ability than it had before the operation.

This technique has been used three times on two patients at the Veterans Administration hospital in Long Beach. Despite the success of the transplants, both patients later died from the advanced state of their malignancy.

YMCA Accepts Registrations for Summer Club

Registrations for Pontiac's YMCA's "Summer Fun Club" are now being accepted at the YMCA building, 131 Mt. Clemens St.

Summer club capacity is 120 boys and 120 girls. Applicants will be accepted on a first come basis. The cost is $7 and the program will run from June 30 through Aug. 8.

Planned are swimming, outdoor sports, woodworking, handicrafts, singing, trampoline, movies and educational trips.

Trips, for which an additional fee will be charged, will be to the Detroit Zoo, Cinerama, Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, and Bob-Lo Island.

A child can register without his parents accompanying him, according to John Moreau, director of the summer program. Any child eight years old or older can participate.

There are a few openings for club leaders for which boys and girls 13 or older can qualify, Moreau said.

Man Seriously Hurt in Ferndale Crash

FERNDALE — James M. Cook, 31, of 23754 Tawas St., Hazel Park, is in serious condition in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, from injuries received when his car struck the rear of a truck trailer at Woodward Heights boulevard and Gainsborough road at about 10 last night.

David A. Jones, 34, of 1713 Old Towns St., Pontiac, driver of the truck, told Ferndale Police he had slowed his truck to about five miles per hour when Cook collided with it. Jones was not held.

Cook was unable to make a statement.

Orion Man Injured in Fight Over Onions

Orval Sowels, 44, of 500 Letts Rd., Lake Orion, told Romeo State Police his brother had rented property on Rochester road and planted a garden on it. His brother had been advised by his attorney that he could harvest a crop after he moved away, Sowels said.

But when Orval went to pick some onions from the garden, he was met by the owner of the property, George Daher, 46, of Detroit, who told Sowels to leave, police said. A fight ensued in which Daher allegedly used a machette and car jack.

Ike Aide Opposes 'Stunts'

Space Holding 'Treasures'

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Youngsters with stars in their eyes and space flights on their mind heard a word of warning last night.

E. R. Quesada, special assistant to President Eisenhower, spoke against "stunts that are spectacular and only spectacular" in the race for outer space.

He said, "If we explore space intelligently, many treasures will be unlocked. They are there if we will tap them, find them and put them to use, and I hope, to constructive use."

Quesada also disagreed with a current impression that the Soviet Union is ahead of the U.S. in education.

During the day some 6,000 science students from 400 Oklahoma schools listened attentively to the Air Force's top space scientists.

They also examined the Air Force's Thor missile and studied cutaway models and exhibits of space age problems and prophesies.

During the conference, speaker after speaker urged the teen-agers to think of the future in science in the same manner as the men who pushed back the frontiers of the early West.

Southfield Board Appoints Two JPs

Named were Orland Ellis, 45, of 24600 N. Cromwell, Franklin Village, and Harlan Hubbard, 37, of 15780 W. Kirkshire St. Ellis succeeds Allen Bulloch and Hubbard takes the place of Clarence W. Reid.

They will serve until the next township election in April 1959.

Reid and Bulloch are residents of the newly incorporated city of Southfield and are ineligible to hold posts in the township.

CLEAN-UP DAY IN DAVISBURG — Firemen, as usual, were among the first on the scene for Davisburg's annual May 1 clean-up party. Washing down Broadway avenue, the town's main street, are (from left) firemen Robert Broegman, Al Whittingham, Cliff Schoenhals and Elwyn Hillman, all of Davisburg. The clean-up began about 6 p. m. with the townspeople coming out to pitch in shortly after.

44 Awards Made in State

7 in County Win Merit Scholarships

Seven Oakland County high school students have been awarded four-year scholarships by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. They were among 44 throughout the state to be so honored in the largest private scholarship competition in the nation's history.

The winners were:

Birmingham High School: Dorothy A. Rodgers of 952 Wimbleton St. She plans to attend Radcliffe College to prepare for a teaching career.

Royal Oak Dondero High School: Robert S. Glover III of 26520 Dundee St., Huntington Woods, who will major in optometry, mathematics and science at Williams College; David Benjamins of 606 Woodcrest, Royal Oak, who will take a pre-medicine course at Albion College; and Peter R. Hammerton of 710 N. Alexander. Peter said he will study aeronautical engineering at the University of Michigan.

Pleasant Ridge Lincoln High School: John W. Keyes, Jr. of 29 Elm St., Pleasant Ridge. He intends to enroll in a pre-medical course at Northwestern University.

Southfield High School: Robert M. Ewart Jr. of 27700 Lexington, Royal Oak. Robert plans to study nuclear physics at Case Institute of Technology.

Cranbrook School: Howard H. Kaufman of Flint, who plans to study pre-medicine at Yale.

Their scholarships, depending on the college they attend and their family's economic status, will range from $100 to $2,200 a year.

Around 256,000 of the nation's high school students participated in the exams for the 1,000 scholarships financed by 70 business and industrial corporations.

To Launch Michigan Week

Special Service in Orion

LAKE ORION — A special interdenominational service honoring "Spiritual Foundations Day" as the first day in Michigan Week will be held by students of Lake Orion Community High School on Sunday from 4 to 5 p.m. at Lake Orion Junior High.

The committee in charge of the service includes Joan Carpenter, Ellen England, Marilyn McKenzie, Sharon Smith, Leonore Sutton and Barbara Weaver.

Clergymen participating in the event are: the Rev. Walter Ballagh of the First Baptist Church, the Rev. R. Vincent Myrick of St. Joseph Catholic Church, the Rev. William Hamm of the St. Marys-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church, the Rev. William O. Swan, of the St. Alfred's Episcopal Church, the Rev. Trueman Horton of the Reorganized Latter Day Saints and the Rev. A. B. Johns of Lake Orion Methodist Church.

Presenting histories of the development of these churches in Lake Orion will be Sheri Allen, Norma Ballagh, Jean Hiatt, Mary Ann Martin and Bonnie Upthegrove.

The High School Glee Club, under the direction of Evelyn Micheletti, will sing three anthems.

The congregation will join in with the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers." Prayer and scripture readings also are planned.

MRS. CHARLES N. EWALD

Sonja Noel Buechler became the bride of Charles N. Ewald Saturday evening at the Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Oxford. The rite was performed by the Rev. G. E. Behnke, pastor, in the church sanctuary. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Buechler of Pontiac street, Oxford. Mr. and Mrs. John A. Smith of Indianside drive, Lake Orion, are the bridegroom's parents. The newlyweds will make their home on Walton boulevard in Pontiac.

Time Limits Altered on Camp Permits

LANSING (AP) — A change in time limits on camping permits in Michigan state parks was announced today.

The State Conservation Department said that from June 15 through Labor Day each camp permit will be good for a period of not more than 15 days in one park or recreation area.

There will be no extensions of the 15-day limit to 30 days, as in past years.

The department said stricter limits were forced by the tremendous increase in camping activity. There were 116,119 camping permits issued last year and many parks were forced to turn away visitors seeking camp sites.

Says Both U.S., Soviets Ready for Moon Soon

OTTAWA (AP) — Both the United States and the Soviet Union now are building rockets expected to be able to reach the moon, a Canadian Defense Research Board scientist said last night.

Gordon W. Wallace, the board's director of weapons research, told a scientific meeting here that a moon flight could come at any time.

Wallace said the rockets that launched the American satellites traveled at five miles a second. This was only two miles a second slower than the speed needed to reach beyond the pull of earth's gravity.

Waterford Boy Injured Driving Motor Scooter

Leland T. Zegelien, 14, of 3400 Frembes St., Waterford Township, was injured at 10 p.m. yesterday when he lost control of his motor scooter on Airport road, near Lanman street.

Zegelien told township police he was riding south on Airport when he ran off the pavement onto the gravel shoulder. When he attempted to return to the pavement, he was thrown.

Police Sponsor Benefit Shows in Farmington

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Two shows, sponsored by the Farmington Township Police Dept. for their youth welfare fund, will be held tomorrow at the Farmington Junior High gym on Thomas street.

The matinee will begin at 2 p.m. and the evening performance will be presented at 8 p.m.

Television star Pee Wee King and his band and rock 'n' roller Donnie White will headline the show.

Proceeds from the show and from the sale of a traffic safety directory issued by township police will go into the police welfare fund. This fund is used to sponsor a Little League Baseball team, teenage dances and other youth activities in the township.

Eyes Tunnel Chance at English Channel

PARIS (AP) — An international group today announced the beginning of studies on commercial prospects for a tunnel under the English Channel and technical problems in building it.

The studies to be made for the Channel Tunnel Study Group are expected to be completed by late 1959. It would take about 10 years and 28 million dollars to build a tunnel from France to England.

Financial prospects for three types of tunnels will be examined, according to a spokesman for the study group which was formed last July. These would be a rail tunnel, an automobile tunnel, or a dual-purpose one.

The study group includes the Universal Suez Canal Co., which has just settled its claim on the canal, plus British and French groups and an American company called Technical Studies Inc.

JOAN GIROUX

QUEEN CANDIDATE — Nineteen-year-old Joan Giroux of 3174 Erie Dr., Orchard Lake, is a contestant in the "Miss Central Michigan" Pageant to be held tomorrow in Mount Pleasant. A graduate of Walled Lake High School, Miss Giroux is a student at Ferris Institute in Big Rapids. Her talent presentation in the pageant will be an Hawaiian dance. The Mount Pleasant Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsors the event.

Man Bound Over Here on Child-Rape Charge

Hershel H. Fite, 29, of 88 W. Brooklyn St., was bound over to circuit court on a charge of statutory rape yesterday.

He waived examination before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan who set $500 bond pending his arraignment on May 12.

Fite is accused of raping a three-year-old girl who had been playing at his house with children from the neighborhood.

Japanese Youngsters Bigger Following War

A survey by the Education Ministry, made public today, showed they stand an average of .8 of an inch taller, and weigh 2.2 to 4.4 lbs. more than their prewar counterparts.

The chests of boys aged 11, 14, and 17 showed an increase of .6 of an inch, while the chests of girls aged 11 increased 1.2 inches compared to chests of prewar children.

MESC Finds Jobs on Farms

Plant Workers Urged to Seek Employment in Rural Areas

The Michigan Employment Security Commission during the forthcoming agricultural season would welcome a reversal of the longtime trend of workers going from the farm to the factory, Earl White, area crop supervisor, said today.

In keeping with the national agricultural policy of withholding the importation of foreign farm workers, the commission plans first to give former farm workers — now laid off from their factory jobs — an opportunity to return to the farm, if only temporarily.

Last year in Michigan more than 76,000 migrant farm workers from various states were recruited by the MESC's Farm Placement Section, White said.

In addition, 15,000 Mexican workers were brought into the state to handle certain crops, such as sugar beets, pickles and sometimes cherries and other fruits.

This year, he said, it is anticipated that 86,000 migrant workers will be needed in the peak of the season, during July and August. Since these people cannot be kept in one place throughout the season, but follow the crops, both planting and harvesting, in a well defined route throughout the state, it probably will be necessary for the commision to recruit 125,000 workers to fill all the jobs available.

"With unemployment over the 450,000 mark in the state, it is only logical that our own citizens among the unemployed workers should be given first chance at these jobs," White said.

Information on available farm jobs may be obtained at any MESC branch office.

Fagan Services Set for Saturday in Holly

HOLLY — Service for William H. Fagan, 94, who died yesterday at his home in Holly, will be held at St. Rita's Catholic Church Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

The Rev. Cyril Rancourt will officiate, with burial in St. John's Cemetery in Fenton. The Rosary will be recited at 7 p.m. Friday at the Dryer Funeral Home.

Mr. Fagan was the son of Peter and Eliza Fagan, the second settlers in Holly Township, and the last survivor of their family of 14 children. He was born on March 14, 1864, in Holly Township where he lived his entire life. He was a farmer until his retirement a few years ago.

Mr. Fagan is survived by his wife, the former Agnes Ann Haddon; two daughters, Mrs. Bernice Sims of Greenville and Mrs. Florence Boening of Birmingham; 8 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren. Two sons, Peter R. and William M., preceded him in death.

U. of M. Considers 3-Semester Plan

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Tentative recommendations for changes to enable the University of Michigan to operate on a three semester, fulltime basis year-around by 1964 are in the hands of President Harlan Hatcher.

The five-member University Calendar Study Committee said it will make final recommendations following reactions from the faculty, student body and community to the tentative offerings.

The committee, which has been working on the proposal since January, rejected a plan for year-round operation in the immediate future, saying such action "would be premature since necessary modifications in various activities covered by the present calendar must first be made."

The proposal has been set forth to ease the increasing enrollment load at the university.

Fijians Will Attack European Starlings

FIJI ISLANDS, South Pacific — Having fought an apparently losing fight with the destructive rhinoceros beetle, the Government of Fiji has started a big effort to get rid of another expensive pest — European sarlings.

These birds have taken over the Southern Lau Islands and threaten to spread, Suva learns. Whether they came to Fiji by ship or rode a hurricane, nobody knows, but the European species was found there in 1951 by Rev. Walter Hill, an amateur naturalist. He told the Government these birds would wipe out bananas, pawpaw and similar fruit.

Fijians now are being armed with shotguns and the attack will be concentrated on Ono-i-Lau and other islands. The starlings attack not only fruits but rice crops, corn and tomatoes.

Coast Guard Pulls Out

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—The Coast Guard lifesaving station on South Manitou Island, off Leelanau County in Lake Michigan, was closed Thursday. The Coast Guard said there had been little demand for the station by boatmen.

Persian rugs have a language all their own, says the National Geographic Society. Singing birds portray happiness; brooks symbolize the life force; a tree indicates contemplation.

Dear Abby . . .

Mother-in-Law Has Eye on Gifts

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I am going to be married in June and am now receiving a host of engagement gifts as well as shower gifts such as toasters, irons, linens, glasses, etc. I will be living with my mother-in-law for the first year.

ABBY

"She expects me to bring all my new appliances and other gifts into her home for use. Do you think this is fair or am I wrong?"

BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: If your mother-in-law is willing to share her home with you, you should be willing to share your toaster, iron and what-have-you with her. Better change your attitude, young lady. The success of your marriage is more dependent upon what's in your heart than what's in your gift boxes.

"DEAR ABBY: My mother has been driving me to and from high school, but the boy next door just got his license and has a car of his own so she keeps after me to hook a ride with him.

"She doesn't seem to understand that if I push myself on this boy he will think I am chasing him. Do you think it's right of my mother to make me hook rides from him when I feel like I do?"

RATHER WALK

DEAR RATHER: There is more than just a "ride" involved. Your pride should be considered. If you'd rather walk put your best foot forward.

"DEAR ABBY: I always thought that jealousy was a sign of true love. I tried to see how much my boyfriend cared for me so I flirted with other boys, but he didn't seem to mind. Is there any other test I can use?"

LOIS

DEAR LOIS: Jealousy is a sign of immaturity — and a lack of self-confidence. Love is based on mutual trust so don't try to test it by flirting.

"DEAR ABBY: My son has been in Paris, France, in the service and he has become infatuated with one of those French women. He is planning on marrying her.

"I have noticed that these French women have very little mother love for their children. They just go from man to man. How can I prevent this woman from using my son as a means to get a free trip to America?"

A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You are taking a lot for granted. You do not even know this French woman and you are condemning her. I am not aware that French women have any less "mother love" than American (or any other) woman. Give her a chance. You might like her.

NEIGHBOR POLICY HOLD-NEIGHBOR POLICYHOLDER: Don't cancel. Tell her you are very busy and can't chat long. Smile and get on with your gardening.

Garden Club Plans Annual Meeting

Mrs. H. Earl Hanson, president of the Michigan Division of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, will be a guest when members of the Pontiac branch of the Association gather at Orchard Lake Country Club Wednesday for their annual meeting and election of officers.

Mrs. John W. Fitzgerald is social chairman for the affair.

Hollers Celebrate

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Holler of South Jessie street are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary today.

Gardeners Re-Elect Mrs. Every

Mrs. Gil Every was re-elected president of Waterford Branch of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association Thursday afternoon in the Balmoral drive home of Mrs. Donald White.

Other officers named were Mrs. Eugene Cleland, vice president; Mrs. Grant McDonald, treasurer; Mrs. Dalton Ettinger, recording secretary, and Mrs. William Cobb, corresponding secretary.

The group will provide flower plants for planters built by children at the Oakland County Youth Center.

A style show of flower hats made by members was given. Mrs. George Dean was awarded the most beautiful hat prize and Mrs. Alton Banfield, the funniest hat.

Mrs. Aston Emery and Mrs. Robert Materna were cohostesses. A centerpiece of dwarf iris and forsythia decorated the tea table.

Benefit Bridge Set for May 7

Fashions by Alvin's will be shown at a benefit bridge and fashion show sponsored by City Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. William McClure assisted by Mrs. James Youngblood and Mrs. Russell French are in charge of the annual event, to be held May 7 at Elks Temple.

Area Group Meets for Gym Classes

On Wednesday women of Pine Lake Manor Subdivision will meet for gym classes offered at Daniel Whitfield School.

The recreation program, which features calisthenics followed by volley ball, basketball, roller skating, badminton or swimming, has been conducted since September. Jean Young, physical education instructor at Whitfield School, plans the program. Mrs. Steven Sage is group chairman. Members soon will begin bicycling.

Pontiac Press Photos

A season of bowling was concluded by members of the Gaytime Bowling League when they met at Devon Gables Thursday for the annual award luncheon and election of officers. Mrs. A. J. Michal (extreme left), captain of the high ranking team, was presented an award by Mrs. M. A. Benson Jr., prize chairman. Mrs. Kenneth VandenBerg (far right) was honored for individual high game and high series.

Have You Tried This?

Chocolate Iced Squares Rolled in Cocoanut

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

This is a week of dessert recipes, it would seem. But since it is the month of end-of-the-year parties, that is all to the good.

Mrs. Emil Couture of Walled Lake suggests an easy and interesting cake dessert. She is a teacher, has a family of two girls and a boy.

COCOANUT JUMBLE
By Mrs. Emil Couture

Bake a plain cake (one-egg), using only half the amount of sugar called for in the recipe. Bake in square or oblong pan. When cool cut into 1½x4-inch pieces.

Make a creamy chocolate icing with confectioners sugar. Ice cake on all four sides. Roll in cocoanut. Serve the following day. "Simple, she says, "but delicious."

Curves Lie Ahead

Too Soon to Worry About Too Little

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I am 13 years old but my bustline is very small. My measurements are bust 30, waist 25, hips 34. I am getting very shy and self-conscious because of this. My mother says I am just slow in growing up but I am getting worried more every day. Please help me."

A. Your mother is right. Many girls do not develop curves by the time they are 13. Your waist and hip measurements indicate that you will have a lovely figure in a few years. Bust development varies greatly as to the age at which it appears, so do not worry. I am sure you will have no problem.

Q. "Will you tell me what size clothes I should wear? Since I bought my last dress I have gained 13 pounds. I am 40 years old, weigh 133 pounds and am 5 feet 3 inches tall. My bust measures 34 inches, waist 29, and hips 40. Am I overweight? How much?"

A. If you have a medium build you should weigh around 130 pounds. However, if you have a very small frame you should weigh about 10 pounds less. I think your problems probably lie more in the distribution of your weight than in overweight.

I suggest that you take hip-slimming and bust-developing exercises to bring those two measurements closer together.

Q. "Is there anything I can do for granulated eye lids?"

A. Yes. See an oculist. This can come from eye strain or you may have a chronic infection or an allergy.

Q. "Is it possible to have scars removed? Would it be very expensive?"

A. You should talk to a plastic surgeon about this.

Q. "A year ago I went on a diet and lost 20 pounds. I did leg exercises and lost two inches from my thighs which were my main figure problem. I didn't know that I was supposed to lubricate the skin and now have white streaks on the thighs. Is there any way I can get rid of them?"

A. Lack of lubrication did not cause them, neither did exercise. These were caused by stretching of the skin, or by overweight. Pregnancy sometimes leads to these also. Lubrication of the skin during pregnancy will help avoid these, as it would during overweight.

I also advise skin lubrication before doing facial exercises. This keeps the skin pliable so that the contortions do not crease it permanently.

Memo to home builders.

I've been house-hunting with a friend, and in most of the beautiful new ranch style houses we've been looking at it is plain to see the builder often forgot one important fact. A family is going to LIVE in it.

Where's the closet in Sis' bedroom that will hold formals with so many yards around the bottom it takes a hoop to hold them out?

Where's the extra closet in Son's room for his play equipment when he is little and his guns and fishing tackle and bows and arrows and weight lifting gadgets when he's a teenager?

Where's the big old-fashioned broom closet for Mama — who now has all sorts of fancy cleaning equipment in addition to the mops and brooms women have always needed a place for?

Where is there room for Papa's work bench — which he may not use as often as he fancies he will, but which for a man helps to make his home his castle?

Where's the closet large enough to store a family's out-of-season clothes, so that clothes of every season don't have to be jammed up together?

Where's the built-in desk in the kitchen where a homemaker can file the thousand and one bits of information, receipts, bills, recipes, etc., she handles in the course of a year's time? It's as necessary for storage and working space as counters are for cooking and serving.

And if it's important to be able to throw several rooms together when the family entertains, isn't it just as important to be able to shut them off from each other when privacy between the rooms is desirable?

Remember, gentlemen, that when a woman goes house-hunting she is looking for just such small but important items as these.

Alumnae Group Plans Luncheon

Mrs. Gene Bowles will open her Orchard Lake home May 13 for a luncheon to members of Birmingham Alumnae Group of Gamma Phi Beta Sorority. She will be aided by Mrs. Guy Pitts, Mrs. Winston Ely and Mrs. Raymond Munde.

Participating in a skit will be Mrs. Pat Carnahan, Mrs. James McGuire, Mrs. James McWilliams, Mrs. Mark Jung, Mrs. David Dobson and Mrs. Robert Lapham.

Try Bold Designs

In large rooms, bold wallpaper designs and striking colors can be used successfully and add coziness. If a spacious effect is desired, plain-color walls and plain fabrics are by far the best.

Birmingham Residents Busy With Visits, Parties

BIRMINGHAM — Mrs. Charles K. Latham has come from her present home in New Orleans for a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, the Charles K. Lathams of Poppleton road. Mrs. Latham lived in Birmingham for many years.

Early in June they will all go to Charleston, S.C., to attend the graduation of Charles K. Latham III from The Citadel.

En route they will stop in Oxford to pick up Barbara Latham who is a sophomore at Western College there.

Several cocktail parties will be given Saturday evening preceding the dinner dance at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

The affair will benefit the Goodwill Industries and is being given by the Junior Group of workers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Altick of Kennesaw avenue will be hosts at one of the largest parties and their guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Stringer, Mr. and Mrs. James Bernard, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas LaRue, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Prunk of Dearborn and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ryan and Mr. and Mrs. George Ryan of Detroit.

STARTING A TRADITION

Mrs. David Underdown of Lake Park drive is establishing a tradition in her neighborhood by entertaining for bride-elects living nearby.

Wednesday bride-elect Joan Fairbairn was the honored guest at a tea and shower.

Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fairbairn, will be married May 24 to Richard Blaine Madden of Short Hills, N.J.

She has recently returned from a visit in Short Hills with her fiance's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Madden, who entertained for her at a dinner at the Short Hills Country Club.

Mrs. Bernard Lourim and Mrs. James Fenwick have entertained at a recent tea and table-top shower, and Patricia Skelly and Mrs. Robert Isaacson were among the first to honor Joan. They will both be members of the wedding party.

The wedding will take place in St. Anthony's Chapel, Duns Scotus.

On Thursday the Birmingham Musicale will close its season with a luncheon at Devon Gables.

Mrs. Earl Bartholomew and Mrs. William H. Hohmeyer are co-chairmen for the day, assisted by Mrs. Minoru Yamasaki and Mrs. Frank M. Heath.

Mrs. F. Rankin Weisgerber will be hostess at luncheon next Friday honoring bride-elect Barbara Zeder.

Barbara has returned from a trip to Westfield, N.J., her future home after her May 17 marriage to Myron B. Brookfield.

Mrs. Charles Trapp of Grosse Pointe spoke to Women's Auxiliary of All Saints Episcopal Church Thursday morning in the Rose Kneale room of Stevens Hall.

The speaker, who is Diocesan Women's Auxiliary Christian education chairman, spoke on the value of Christian education.

Announcement was made of the appointment of Mrs. Loren C. Sheffield as diocesan Christian social relations chairman and Mrs. Bruce F. Hubbard, assistant worship chairman.

Camp Won't Change Cause of Teasing

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Later his angry mother got an idea. She thought, "Why don't we send Stan away to camp this summer? Something's got to be done about this eternal teasing of Bud! Maybe separation would break the habit."

After Mr. Y. agreed it was a good idea, she took it to Stan himself. He was bored by the camp brochures she'd sent for. He said, "Who wants to go to dumps like these? I know how to swim."

If she'd shown the brochures to less belligerent Bud, he'd have said, "Gosh, these kids are having a cook-out in the woods! Why can't I ever go on a cook-out in some woods, Mom?"

But Mrs. Y. didn't show the brochures to Bud. Instead she began a campaign to sell resisting Stan the charms of summer camps.

Why didn't it occur to her to send tractable Bud to camp and keep troublesome Stan at home? Because she herself wanted relief from Stan's troublesomeness.

Which is fine with me. It's healthy to want relief from the strains of living with a too-angry child. But his anger is only too apt to be his belief that we don't want him, so we don't get relief from it by sending him away from us—and confirming his impression.

Like that of many other first-born children, Stan's troublesomeness is rooted in the oldest child's immemorial conviction: "My mother had my brother because she was dissatisfied with me."

KNOW REASON

The parents of difficult first-born children know this in their bones. Our trouble is, we don't want to be bothered becoming conscious of what we know.

So we can't think, "All right, this summer I'll act on what I know. We'll send agreeable Bud to camp and keep disagreeable Stan at home where I can give him extra time and attention. If I trust the sincerity of my wish to be relieved of his troublesomeness, perhaps it will be granted and I'll be shown the way to convince Stan that he is as satisfying as his brother."

Unfortunately, some of us dislike laboring for what we want. So we'll keep confident Bud at home and send aggressive, unconfident Stan to camp for others to labor over. We may have fun. But is that relief?

No, ma'am.

This Gal Bit Hasty With Gift

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My parents-in-law recently celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary. My sister-in-law and I decided to get together and buy them something that we knew they wanted but was too expensive for one person alone to give.

"On the day of the anniversary, we went to visit my in-laws and intended to give them the present then. When we arrived we found out that my sister-in-law (she had the present at her house) had already given them the present.

"I was very much put out with her for having done this and thought that since we shared in the present she should have waited until we arrived to give it to them. Don't you think she was wrong?"

Answer: She should have told her parents that she would have to wait until you arrived before showing them the present that you and she were giving them together.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When invited to a dinner party in a restaurant, may one of the guests ask the waitress for additional service, such as more butter, or should she wait for the hostess to do so? In the event that the hostess does not, should the guest just do without it?"

Answer: If the waitress is standing close by, a guest could ask her for more butter or water, but strictly speaking, the hostess is the only one who may properly order anything from the waitress.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct place to leave a napkin if one has to leave the table during dinner? Should it be put on the table or on the chair?"

Answer: If there is plenty of room and no risk of its getting into the food on your unfinished plate the napkin should be placed on the table; otherwise the chair would be better.

Clear Lanes of Home Traffic

A place for everything and everything in its place is a tidy motto. Many housewives place low tables, footstools, fans and other low objects in the traffic lanes of rooms. Then they dare anyone to move them an inch. This furniture is hazardous to those coming through in the dark or those who wander through while daydreaming.

2 Volunteers Honored

Charlotte Pankner and Janice Johnson, both of Whitfield drive have been named "Volunteers of the Month" by Central Volunteer Bureau.

The two spent six to eight hours a day last summer typing, filing and doing general office work at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Campaign Headquarters.

Friends for many years, the girls decided to do volunteer work to pass the summer usefully and felt their work would be of use for future business careers.

Both are avid water skiers. Charlotte will be graduated from Waterford High School in June. Janice, who is a graduate of WTHS, is attending Pontiac Business Institute.

Many summer volunteer jobs are available for teenagers. For further information contact the Central Volunteer Bureau.

The wrong way to tie up your soiled clothing and flatwork is to use a knotted sheet. Use a sturdy laundry bag, lightly tied, to replace the much-abused sheet, never intended by the manufacturer to be used as a carry-all.

Bride-to-Be Announces Attendants

The exchange of wedding vows will take place June 14 in All Saints Episcopal Church.

The bride-elect has asked her sister, Mrs. John Holds of Burbank, Calif., to be matron of honor. Bridesmaids will be Mrs. Ronald Woodhull, Janet Matson, Mrs. Gregory Raft, Mrs. Donald Cordy and Arlene Sargent. Janis Cordy will be flower maid.

Constable Donald Guerrette is to be best man. John Holds, Ronald Woodhull, Donald Cordy, Alan Jackson, brother of the bridegroom, and Barrett Jon Harrison, brother of the bride, will seat the guests. Lee Hyde will be ringbearer.

70 Central Latin Pupils Plan Trip to Canada

By WILLIAM BANK

Seventy Pontiac Central High School Latin students will leave tomorrow morning for a weekend of spring fun and adventure.

The group will travel by bus to "Anchor Lee," the cottage of Iama C. Hook, Latin teacher. It is located on Ipperwash Beach near Ipperwash Provincial Park in Ontario, Canada.

This year each student will only have to pay for his evening meal since money for the trip was earned by selling candy and dishcloths recently.

Monday the annual magazine sales ended. Lillian Jacobs' English class again took the championship.

TO SEE TIGERS

Since both Robert Beauchamp's and Miss Jacobs' rooms had sold much more than their quota and had a total turn-in difference of only nine dollars, both rooms will go to the Tiger baseball game. The student who won the $40 treasure chest was Robert Richardson.

Out of the eleven projects that were taken to the state science fair at Hillsdale College, seven received superior ratings. They were Robert Armstrong, William Bank, John Blamy, James Colando, Sherry Fink, Ronald Hoekman and Rick Serwin.

At the fair in Hillsdale, the Michigan Junior Academy of Science, Arts and Letters held their election of officers. People elected to office from Pontiac were James Shaw, president; Ronald Hoekman and Rick Serwin, council representatives; and Wesley Maas, a PCH biology teacher, a three year term as advisor of the academy.

Dianne Flicker, of 37 N. Merrimac, won honorable mention in a national poetry contest. Her poem, along with those of other contest winners, will be published in the National High School Poetry Magazine for 1958.

At a recent Playcrafters meeting 15 new members were initiated. They are: Vicki Annas, Mary Aughenbaugh, Phyllis Burt, Torraine Butler, Sandra Ferguson, Samuel Hartman, Sandra Hilderly, and Barbara O'Hubbard.

Avondale Pupils to Wash Cars Tomorrow

Avondale High School Future Homemakers of America will conduct a car wash at Fletcher's Standard Station, Crooks and Auburn Roads, tomorrow from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. to add to their treasury for projects.

The price will be $1.50.

Four Avondale High School juniors have been honored by being selected as delegates to Wolverine Girls' and Boys' State to be held in June at Ann Arbor and East Lansing, respectively.

6 Scholarship Winners Named

Perry Smith Qualifies for 4-Year Tuition to Any State College

Six Clarkston High School students have been awarded scholarships to Michigan colleges and universities.

Perry Smith, a junior, has qualified for a full four-year tuition scholarship to any of the state supported colleges or universities.

Perry is one of 60 Michigan students who qualified for this award as a result of his performance on the first annual Michigan Mathematics prize competition tests given this year and sponsored by the University of Michigan.

Five seniors have also been awarded tuition scholarships for the first year of college.

They are Connie Blimka, Diane Chapman and Judy Inman, to Albion College; Rea Watterworth, to Hillsdale College and Carolyn Biber, to Adrian College.

The outstanding girl and boy in the senior class recently honored at the Junior-Senior banquet for their citizenship were: Carolyn Biber student council and Pep Club president, and Harold O'Berry, four-year member of the chorus and band and a member of the junior and senior play cast.

Walled Lake Musicians to Perform Wednesday

Chorus costume changes and suitable backdrops will add color to the traditional spring concert to be presented by the band and choruses Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Walled Lake Senior High School auditorium.

WEEKEND JAUNT — Frank Bloe, 137 Whittemore St., Karen Hayden, 648 N. Perry St., and Ned MacDonald, 66 Oriole Rd., are ready to pack up for the weekend to go to Ipperwash Beach, Ont., tomorrow, to the cottage of Iama C. Hook, Latin teacher. More than 70 Pontiac Central High School students will spend the weekend at one of nature's wonderlands.

Elect Madison Officers

Madison's second annual Spring Music Festival was presented this week. Soloists included: Sharon Stickle, Clara Dawson and Mary Lou Teets.

Students in the cast included: Jerry Heard, Eugene Coe, Rick Cox, Bob Hoadley, Larry Kraus, Gale Lynch, Tom Nichols and Winifred Miracle.

AT EASTERN

The Eastern Junior High School newspaper, The Arrow, has selected Pam Noren as the girl-of-the-month and Lowell Ennis, the boy-of-the-month for May.

The newest addition to the teaching personnel is Nancy Newbreck, a student teacher from Michigan State University. She is working under the supervision of Raymond Must, art department instructor.

AT WASHINGTON

Last night was the last meeting of the year of the Parent-Teacher-Student-Association of Washington Junior High School.

AT LINCOLN

A two hour assembly was presented last week by the 41 piece Lincoln Junior High School Band for students and parents at an annual spring concert.

Students of Sydney Jones are completing a study of the federal laws by acting them out in a mock session of Congress. Students were elected for various officers, wrote bills, debated them and passed judgment upon them.

They have already visited the Michigan Legislature and are now visiting the Congress in Washington, D. C., this weekend.

Mike Biallas Wins Second Scholarship

By MICHAEL BUCHANAN

Michael Biallas, St. Michael High School senior recently won a $1,000 per year scholarship from the Union Carbon Co. to Notre Dame University for four years.

This is the second scholarship he won this year. The first was to Michigan State University. He now has his choice of the two colleges.

Assembly to Feature MSU Promenaders

The Promenaders of Michigan State University will present an assembly at the Birmingham High School Monday morning.

The square dancers in colorful costume include Robert Spence, a 1950 graduate of the Baldwin High School, Birmingham. A Southfield Township member, Dorothy Cameron, also participates in the group.

Orion High School Schedules Dances

"The Red Piano" dance, will be presented tonight by the Inklings, Art Club.

A piano painted red is in the student lobby of the school, decked with pictures of club members in gay flapper styles which they hope all who attend will wear. Even the teachers have been recruited for entertainment.

General chairman is David Schultz. All music will be Dixieland style and tickets can be secured at the door from Mary Hurtik, ticket chairman. Sid Gibniewski is the refreshments chairman.

PARENTS OPEN HOUSE

Parents will have an opportunity to visit the classes, cafeteria, check school conditions and see the shops in operation Thursday. It's all part of Michigan Week.

A totally new concept in senior proms is this year's affair next Friday from 9 to 12:30 a. m. For the first time the Juniors are footing the whole bill and in addition to the usual dance they are planning a buffet.

USE NEW GYM

This will be the first use of the new gym for such an event, and the decoration problems are all new and different. Judy Cudnohufsky and Al Kochinowski are decorations co-chairmen.

Other chairmen are Carol Lumbardo and Diana Roberts, music; Della Arnold and Pat Roberts, invitations; Shirley Wiles, refreshments; and Carolyn Sharrow, clean up.

Alumni and friends of the class can obtain tickets from the general chairman Carl Baber, for five dollars per couple including the buffet.

St. Frederick to Honor Mother Mary in May

By PATRICIA FOSTER

Students at St. Frederick High School commemorated the first day of May yesterday since this month holds a special significance to Catholics throughout the world because it is dedicated and devoted to the Blessed Virgin Mary.

A special procession and May crowning was held in church while hymns were sung in honor of the Blessed Mother. Julie Slowik crowned Our Lady attended by Christina Medina and Rose Marie Scelesky. Students dressed for the occasion in various shades of blue, Mary's color.

Senior girls will attend a closed retreat at Marie Reparatrix Convent, Detroit, ths weekend. They include Maureen Drake, Donna Needle, Julie Slowik, Christina Medina, Pat Foster, Mary Duerr, Mary Agnes Brown, Ellen Schachern, Sharon Talbot, and Becky Schutt.

Three girls of the Future Nurses Club attended a nursing program at Dearborn High School Saturday. The program was entitled "Nursing Around the World." The agenda included nurses who worked in the Belgian Congo, the Philliping Islands, and India. The girls selected to attend the meeting were Mary Duerr, Pat Sagamang, and Donna Needle.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

TURNTABLE TIPS: A top notch LP is "Sometimes I'm Happy—Sometimes I'm Blue" on Columbia by one of the finest singers around today, Jill Corey.

This LP I like, not only because she does it so well, but because it's put together like so many albums should be. One side torchy and blue, the other bouncing right off the turntable.

There's no hunting for the mood you're after. To make the show complete, Jill's expert and sincere way with a song is matched by the great orchestrations of Glenn Osser and his group.

On the single sales, watch for two new releases that look like the most. One is the Four Preps' cutting of "Big Man" with beaucoup piano echoes.

The other may be spurred only by Pat Boone fans, but his "Sugar Moon" has shown a terrific early spurt that may keep the white buck wonder boy in more than "white" bucks for some time.

FIVE ACES: Well, the Everly Brothers have done it again. Their "All I Have To Do Is Dream" is tops in the Pontiac area after a steady climb for the past few weeks.

Construct a Garden Trellis

Preservative-treated or decay-resistant wood should be used, especially for the upright 2 by 4's.

Make three "ladders," as shown in the drawings. The two upright ladders are 9 feet long, with the 1 by 2-inch "rungs" spaced 12 inches apart, on centers. Fasten the rungs to the rails with No. 10 flathead wood screws, 1½ inches long.

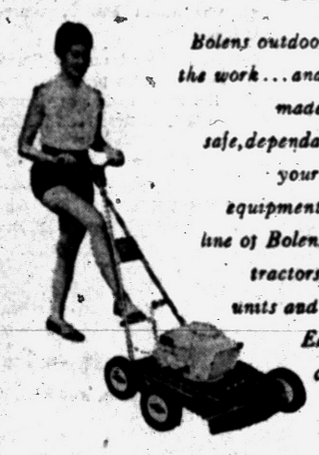

The top ladder is 5 feet long, with six rungs spaced evenly. Fasten the top to the uprights with screws 2½ inches long. Use brass or other non-rusting screws.

Set the trellis in place and mark the positions of the post holes. Dig the holes slightly deeper than 2 feet and place crushed stone in the bottoms to level the trellis. Tamp earth and crushed stone around the posts to set them firmly. If a gate is to be added to the trellis, use 10-foot posts, set 3 feet in the ground, preferably in concrete.

Spray Misinformation Worst Enemy of Yard Fruit Grower

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
County Horticultural Agent

Better information is developing on spray mixtures for back yard fruit gardens. With the multitude of diseases and insects, good fruit seems to be almost a miracle but these spray mixtures which may be used from dormant to harvest are so effective that heavy yields usually result.

These most effective ones all have the same general combination. This is Malathion, Methoxychlor and Captan. When one of these is missing, one of our fruit crops usually suffers. Often times the percentage of ingredients vary, but when the amount of chemical is low, the quantity of mixture is high, it balances out.

Misinformation seems to be the fruit grower's toughest enemy. Often one is told that using a dormant spray insures a good fruit harvest. That's not so. Dormant sprays are seldom used on fruit trees with the exception of peaches.

Some say four sprays give lots of good fruit. Repeated tests show this seldom is true. Only when weekly applications are made, starting before bloom, can one depend on a reasonable harvest.

It has been said spraying lower branches is all that is necessary because disease and insects never go directly into the top. Tests have again shown that diseases and insects do not know about this rule, and just as often appear in the top first. The only sure way is to carefully spray the entire tree until liquid begins to drip off.

Peach trees often require 2½ gallons of liquid and apple trees five or more gallons.

MIX OWN SPRAYS

Fertilizer on fruits is the cheapest expense in fruit growing. Under a good care program, fertilizer gives us more fruit, larger size, better color, better taste and better preserving qualities. Yet this cost item is a drop in the bucket compared to the cost of the spray chemicals, sprayer and time in trimming and spraying.

Lots of systems are used to figure out how much is needed per tree. For large apple trees, 10 pounds is tops. When young trees are involved, use one pound of fertilizer for each year of age. Don't go higher than 10 pounds per tree.

For peaches, apricots, cherries, plums, and nectarines, cut the program in half. One-half pound of fertilizer per year of age and five pounds as a maximum. A 12-12-12 ratio is usually recommended though a lawn fertilizer will work.

Although boring holes in the ground benefits shade trees, fruit trees are very shallow rooted. Therefore, just spread the fertilizer on the ground under the branches. Usually this is completed in March but until blossom time, it is still very effective.

HERE'S THE SECRET

Three-inch peaches and apples are easy to grow but you have to know the secret. Almost every fruit tree will set more fruit than it can mature. How many times has one seen peaches the size of eggs? This is because there was too much fruit on the tree. When peaches and apples are the size of the end of your thumb, and danger of frost is past, take stock of the trees.

If many of the fruits are closer than eight inches apart, pick off these extras. Eight inches apart on a limb is close enough. One will get just as many bushels but a lot larger individuals.

Plums and apricots do not follow this rule. One wants lots in numbers, but can still help the size. These should be hand thinned so they ripen. This is about a three inch spacing. If they touch, rot often starts and they usually are smaller.

Cherries are not thinned.

Find Creeping Grass Which Chokes Weeds

A gardener in New Milford, Conn., named George F. Tukas has discovered what he calls a hybrid creeping grass to choke out weeds, stay green most of the year, spread rapidly and withstand heavy traffic. Named Berkshires grass (after the mountains where it was found), the product is sold only in the northern states where it thrives best.

Erect Fence First When Landscaping

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS)—Don't delay your landscaping plans past daffodil time.

A money-saving program of garden development must be started early.

The homeowner first should ask himself how much he can afford to spend each year on the basic necessities such as fences, patios, outdoor fireplaces, pools and yard furniture and then pay as you go.

Fences set the pace for the rest of the yard and are the first consideration for most garden plans.

Durable material such as western red cedar or Douglas fir are good as a fence investment.

The design possibilities are exciting. Here are some suggestions:

—A conservative high estate fence of solid boards that may be used horizontally, vertically or in combination patterns.

—Vertical louvers, movable or stationary, for sunlight control and air circulation.

—Basketweaves for the contemporary home.

Don't Cut Flower Stem When Daffodil Fades

Just snap off the flower head. The stem serves as an extra leaf, producing additional food to the ripening bulb. If the flowers alone are snapped off, tulips and daffodils produce stronger bulbs and better flowers.

TULIP TIME — Both tulips and these two youngsters from Monroe, Wisc., seem to be in full bloom as the children, lying on the ground outside of their house, look at the spring flowers.

Machine Saves Topping Labor

Hudsonville Farmhand Uses Former Hay Crop Mower for Treetops

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) —A homemade farm machine, described as "the joke that worked," cuts the labor of topping overgrown peach trees at the Herbert Dekleine farm near Hudsonville.

The device is a former hay crop mower elevated on an ingenious tractor mount to barber Dekleine's trees.

"We use it for two or three days, but it saves us three to four weeks of work," says Dekleine, a Hudsonville High School vocational agriculture instructor.

The trees are topped in spring to enable pickers at harvest time to remove peaches without using ladders.

Dekleine says a farm paper cartoon inspired former student Charles Kleinstra, now in military service, to build the device. Wearied of stretching to prune the tree limbs, Kleinstra asked permission to use school shop equipment to develop the machine.

The instructor helped with the work, using as a working model a tractor mower he had purchased at auction.

The limited reach of the elevated mower requires two passes to trim one row of trees — one on each side of the row. One man drives the tractor, the other operates the mower.

The mower controller faces the rear to watch the cutting bar move into the tree tops. Hydraulic controls permit him to adjust the bar plane to cut at a variety of angles and height.

The topper cost about $100 to build and repays that much in one operation.

Poor Plot Means Poor Garden, MSU Man Says

Gardeners, like actors, can waste a lot of time and energy on a poor plot. No matter how good the seeds you buy, and how much time and care you give them, they won't grow into fine vegetables unless they are planted in a reasonably favorable location, says Fred Widmoyer, extension specialist in horticulture at Michigan State University.

You may not have a perfect spot for a garden, but look for one that has good drainage, plenty of sunshine, and easy access to a water supply.

Drainage is important because plants that stand too long in water drown—the roots are shut off from the air and nutrients they need. Don't plant where you can see a green scum on the soil surface—this is one indication of too much moisture.

Leafy crops like lettuce, collards, spinach, chard and kale need at least six hours of direct sunlight a day. Others like tomatoes, eggplant, peppers and lima beans need more than that, so open space is a must.

Be sure your garden is near a water supply for easy irrigation during those summer droughts that do so much damage to your vegetables.

As a rule, a soil that is well-drained and produces a rank, quick growth of weeds or grass will probably be a good place for you to plant your garden.

Can Use Ground Lawn Covers

They Aid Yard Beauty, Cut Care Time Use in Masses

Properly chosen and cared for, ground covers can add to the landscape beauty of your yard and cut the time needed for care, says Joe Cox, extension specialist in landscape architecture at Michigan State University.

Ground cover plants are generally used in masses to cover a bare patch of ground or where trees are dense or low to the ground making it difficult to maintain a good lawn. Ground covers may be used on open, sunny banks, too.

Plants having a sprawling, creeping or prostrate habit of growth fit into use as ground covers. Cox suggests these plants as suitable for ground covers under Michigan conditions:

For shady conditions and year-around foliage — periwinkle or myrtle, baltic ivy, Japanese pachysandra and carpet bugle. All are under six inches in height except myrtle which is under one foot. Myrtle is also suited to sunny conditions while the others need rich moist soil.

For sunny conditions and deciduous foliage — ageratum, alyssum, forget-me-not, lobelia, portulacca, perennial sweet pea and moss phlox. All are under six inches except alyssum and forget-me-not (under one foot) and sweet pea (over one foot).

Moss phlox and perennial sweet pea will come up year after year. Sweet pea may spread to large size if not controlled.

Cox makes these recommendations for the various plant uses: edging — ageratum, alyssum, forget-me-not and lobelia; covering bare spots — portulaca; for slopes — moss phlox; for good mat planting — myrtle and baltic ivy.

CARPET UNDER SHADE

If you're interested in shrubby ground covers, here are some ideas:

For year-around foliage under shady conditions — common winter-creeper euonymus and Halls Japanese honeysuckle. Creeping juniper provides year around foliage under sunny conditions.

All these shrubby covers are over one foot in height except the creeping juniper which is under six inches.

Spacing of these plants will depend on their mature size. As a general rule, they should be planted about as far apart each way as they grow in height.

Mat plantings for ground cover purposes require several years of growth to become thick and carpet like, Cox points out. He also says that some good ground cover plants should be put in "confinement" so to speak because of their creeping habit of growth. Bordering or surrounding them with walks, driveways or walls will help keep them under control.

Cox suggests that you consult a reputable local nurseryman in deciding which ground covers might be best suited for your needs.

Check Mixture of Gibberellin for Growth

Your trouble may be that you didn't use the material right or you may have used the wrong gibberellin on the plant.

Actually, there are at least four closely related but definitely different gibberellins. Each acts somewhat differently on certain groups of plants. Scientists identified these different gibberellins only recently.

Nation's Top 16 Entered in 84th Derby

Tim Tam Given Favorite's Role in Turf Classic

Louisville Is Gripped With Derby Fever for Saturday's Running

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Derby fever, keenly sharpened by one of the most colorful horses in American racing history, gripped Louisville today with 16 of the nation's best 3-year-olds ready for the 84th running of the Kentucky Derby.

Although 16 were entered, not more than 14 or 15 are expected to be in the starting gate when the word "go" is given by starter Dr. L. L. McBride at 4:30 P.M. (EST) tomorrow at Churchill Downs. The race will be televised and broadcast by CBS from 4:15 to 4:45 P.M.

On the basis of 16 starters the 1¼-mile race before an expected crowd of some 100,000 will gross $163,000. A net of $118,900 goes to the winner. Scratches will reduce the purses by $1,250 for each withdrawal.

Until a few weeks ago this derby figured to be a mediocre race. Then along came Silky Sullivan, who tugged at the hearts and imagination of racing fans.

Great and colorful horses have won the great race of thoroughbreds but few rivaled the flaming California Chestnut owned by Tom Ross, a lumberman, and Phil Klipstein, a retired cattleman. Both are from San Francisco.

Author of a dazzling come from behind style of racing, the son of the little known imported Irish stallion, Sullivan, never lets his followers down as far as thrills go.

His style of racing doesn't always win. In fact he lost his last two starts at a mile and a 7 furlongs.

But at the end he was rolling over most of his opposition after shifting into high about a quarter-mile from the finish line.

Silky probably won't be the favorite tomorrow when the thousands of spectators start shoving money into the pari mutuel wagering machines.

That honor is expected to go to Tim Tam, a son of the great Tom Fool from the nearby blue grass country.

He carries the Devil Red silks of Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm, winner of six of these derbies.

The early line quoted Tim Tam victorious in eight of his 10 starts this year after racing only once as a 2-year-old, at 2 to 1.

Silky was held at 5 to 2 and the powerful Maine Chance Farm 3-horse entry, headed by Jewel's Reward, at 7 to 2. Others were only lightly regarded.

All derby horses are 3-year-olds in thoroughbred reckoning but their ages vary by the calendar. Silky is the oldest. He was foaled on Feb. 28. Youngest is rank outsider Chance It Tony. He was foaled May 8. January first is the arbitrary birthday of all horses, no matter when foaled.

Probable Derby Odds for Saturday's Race

P.P.	Horses	OWNER	JOCKEY	PROB. ODDS

4.	Gone Fishin'	Llangollen Farm	R. Neves	20-1
15.	Ebony Pearl	Maine Chance Farm	D. Erb	5-1
8.	Lincoln Road	Sunny Blue Farm	C. Rogers	30-1
6	Flamingo	C. V. Whitney	G. Glisson	30-1
7.	Jet's Echo	Maine Chance Farm	M. Ycaza	4-1
12.	Noureddin	Dr. P. Graffagino	J. Combest	25-1
14.	Can Trust	Hasty House Farm	J. Heckmann	30-1
1.	Warren G.	W. G. Reynolds	K. Church	50-1
11.	Chance It Tony	Mrs. A. Cannuli	L. Batcheller	50-1
16.	Benedicto	Bellardi & Harkins	B. Dever	80-1
10.	A Dragon Killer	S. H. Sadacca	J. Adams	100-1
9.	Red Hot Pistol	Mrs. Sam Wilson	D. Dodson	100-1

All carry 126 pounds. Distance—1¼ miles. Post time 4:30 p.m. (CDT). Purse—gross $163,000; net to winner $118,000.

MISSES PUTT — Arnold Palmer, of Latrobe, Pa. grimaces as he misses a 25-foot putt by inches on the 18th green which would have broken the course record at Colonial Country Club in Fort Worth. Palmer took opening day lead with 5-under par 65.

TIM TAM — JEWEL'S REWARD — NADIR — SILKY SULLIVAN

READY FOR 84TH DERBY — Here are the entrants in the 84th annual Kentucky Derby generally regarded as the top four in the Run for the Roses at Churchill Downs. Silky Sullivan is the popular favorite but Tim Tam and Jewel's Reward are thought to have a better chance than the late-running horse from California.

Tighe Blasts Senators for Latest Trade

Tiger Manager Pops Off at Nats After Berberet Goes to Boston

BOSTON (INS)—Manager Jack Tighe of the Detroit Tigers today blasted the Washington Senators for the deal that sent catcher Lou Berberet to the Red Sox for infielder Ken Aspromonte.

Tighe, in Boston with the Tigers for a two-game series with the Red Sox, said:

"They've got a lot of nerve down in Washington making a deal like that after the offers we made them.

"I can't give names. It doesn't help players to have them think that we might be willing to give them up in a deal. The Senators wanted Reno Bertoia in an even swap. But we wanted to go bigger in a deal, not one-for-one.

"We made a better offer for Pete Runnels than the Sox did. We made a better offer for Berberet than the Sox did. That was out at the winter meetings in Colorado Springs last December. But we got nowhere with Cal Griffith.

"He told us that Berberet was the best catcher in the league. He told us Clint Courtney was the second best. Now, he turns around and trades off the player he says is the best catcher in the league for a fellow who isn't playing regularly.

"I guess it had to be conditions. Washington must have needed that second baseman real badly to have made the switch."

"He's a pretty good hitter," continued Tighe. "He can hit home runs at Fenway Park.

"I wish we had him — and that's just about as high a compliment as I can pay a player."

General manager Joe Cronin of the Sox said he had two right handed catchers — Sammy White and Pete Daley — and he wanted to send 20-year-old Jim Pagliaroni, $75,000 bonus receiver, to one of their farm clubs for experience. He said the club needed a left handed hitter.

Tighe Encouraged About Kaline

Hopes Al Ready to Get Rolling After Slow Start

Skipper Says Flychaser Must Deliver at Plate to Keep Tigers in Race

NEW YORK (AP) — It's odd what three hits can do to a guy even if some other guy made them.

"You know what was the most encouraging thing about our 10-1 victory over the New York Yankees, Wednesday? Detroit manager Jack Tighe asked before taking off for Boston yesterday.

Tighe didn't even wait for a reply. "Al Kaline's three hits," he answered his own question.

"That's the most hits he's made in any one game this season," the Tiger skipper continued. "Maybe that means he's ready to go rolling. I sure hope so. He's got to hit for us to get anywhere in this race."

Before the game, Tighe was saying that Kaline had been his biggest disappointment this young season. Even more so than the failure of the team's highly touted front line pitching.

"I can't figure him out," Tighe had said of Kaline. "I know he has a reputation as a slow starter. At least he always has started slowly each year he's been with us and has come on like a prairie fire toward the end.

"But I thought it would be different this year. He looked great during spring training. For the first time since I've been with the club, he's had no ailments. His arm, sore every spring, did not bother him a bit. He arrived in camp earlier than scheduled, worked harder than ever, and got himself into better shape than he's ever been before. But he went into a batting tailspin as soon as the season began."

Tighe is highly pleased with the conversion of shortstop Harvey Kuenn into a centerfielder and the installation of second baseman Billy Martin, obtained in a trade with Kansas City last winter, at shortstop.

Before Wednesday's game, Kaline was batting .196. He had only two extra base hits and eight runs batted in. Wednesday's three-for-five, including two doubles, boosted his average 36 points to .232.

Righthander Jim Bunning, a 20-game winner last season, was to try to balance his personal record book, today.

Bunning, slated to start today in the first of a two-game series with the Boston Red Sox, has won one and lost two games thus far this season. His pitching opponent, Dave Sisler, is 2-1.

Even Pitcher Connects as Pirates Trim LA

Bucs Feast on Fence

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maybe the wrong club moved to Los Angeles. While the Coliseum has become a homer horror for the Dodgers, the Pittsburgh Pirates are having a ball there, with even pitchers clearing the left field screen as the Bucs close in on the National League lead with a six-game winning streak.

The Pirates made it three in a row at the Coliseum last night, with Frank Thomas belting two home runs—for a total of four in the three games — and pitcher Vern Law popping a three-run homer into the left field seats for an 8-3 romp.

Law, winning his second in the streak, used his fifth major league homer to cap a five-run sixth that bagged it. He hadn't homered since 1956, when he tagged one against the Dodgers in Brooklyn.

Thomas is a genuine belter, although he had managed just one in 10 games before hitting Los Angeles. He also doubled and singled in five trips last night.

The six straight, matching the longest streak in the majors this year (the New York Yankees did it in the American League) hoisted the Pirates into second, a half game behind Chicago. The Cubs took over by defeating Milwaukee 3-2 as Philadelphia dumped San Francisco to third by beating the Giants 7-0, in the only other game scheduled.

Don Newcombe, making his first start since injuring his arm in an April 17 defeat at San Francisco, left with an 0-2 record after Thomas broke a 3-3 tie with his second homer, a two-run shot in the sixth.

Law (2-1) gave up nine of the 11 Los Angeles hits, giving way to rookie Ron Blackburn after three singles loaded the bases with one out in the sixth. Blackburn got Duke Snider to tap into a double-play, then blanked the Dodgers on two singles while fanning four the rest of the way.

The Pirates, with two more to go in the five-game series, now have hit five home runs at the Coliseum. The Cubs and Giants each hit seven in three-game sets at LA, while the Cards hit three in three games. That's a total of 22 opposition homers in 12 games. The Dodgers, with only two in the last five games, have counted but 12 in that span.

Johnny Goryl homered in the ninth for the Cubs off reliever Bob Trowbridge as Moe Drabowsky won with a perfect relief inning in his first appearance since completing a hitch in the service. Lew Burdette was the Milwaukee starter, giving up four hits and two runs in his six innings. One was a homer by Lee Walls, who ranks with Thomas as the leading belter at the Coliseum with four. Walls leads the NL with nine.

Right-hander Ray Semproch won his first as a starter for the Phils, handing the Giants their first shutout by allowing only seven singles — two each by Willie Mays and Daryl Spencer. Ruben Gomez lost his first, although he had a four-hit shutout until Wally Post singed home two runs in the seventh. Ted Kazanski hit a two-run homer in the same frame.

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS

RICHMOND, Calif.—Ruben Vargas, 195, Richmond knocked out Jackie Torme, 189, Oakland, Calif., 7.

Frank Metzger, head pro at Red Run Golf Club, predicted "low scoring, sensational shots and the finest possible field" for the prestige-loaded Western Open tournament coming to Red Run May 29-June 1.

Metzger made his remarks to a press, radio and TV luncheon gathering yesterday at Red Run. Only Sam Snead is missing from the entry list and it is fully expected that he will be there, Metzger said.

'Sore Arm' Ray Narleski Beats Washington 9 to 1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The one-time relief ace the Cleveland Indians tried to peddle to Detroit, Boston and Casey's New York Yankees in a winter search for a second baseman, gained his second consecutive complete game victory last night for the Indians, beating the Washington Senators 9-1 with a five-hitter.

The 29-year-old righthander, converted into a starter when injuries crippled Cleveland's pitching staff last season, gave the Senators nothing but singles. And three of those were by li'l Albie Pearson, as Narleski blanked the Nats over the last eight innings.

The loss kept the Senators from moving into second place ahead of the Kansas City Athletics, who were beaten 7-6 at Boston and now trail the Yanks by one game. The Chicago White Sox called on southpaw Billy Pierce in relief for a 4-3 decision at Baltimore in the only other game scheduled.

Narleski, who beat Detroit 12-2 with a six-hitter in his last start gained his third victory in four decisions (he was 11-5 in '57, losing four of his last six decisions), after giving the Nats their run on a bases-loaded balk in the first.

The Indians also scored in the first, then chased young, lefty Ralph Lumenti in a three-run third. Mickey Vernon's second homer of the year made it 5-1 against Bob Wiesler in the fifth, and Chico Carrasquel, with three runs batted in, closed the scoring with his second 1958 homer in the eighth off Chuck Stobbs, last of four Nat hurlers who gave 11 hits.

Pierce, winless in two starts, saved Jim Wilson's second victory as the last place White Sox bagged but their second success in their last nine games. Pierce gave two hits, one an RBI double by Gene Woodling when he relieved in the eighth. He got rid of three pinch-hitters after Brooks Robinson doubled in the ninth for his third hit.

Fleck 6 Strokes Off Pace

Palmer's 65 Tops Colonial

FORT WORTH, Texas — Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., carried a three-stroke lead into the second round of the $25,000 National Colonial Invitation golf tournament at Fort Worth today.

Palmer, 1958 Masters champion, tied the course record with a five-under-par 65 in the opening round yesterday. He barely missed a 25-foot putt on the 18th hole which would have enabled him to set a new mark of 64.

Jack Fleck of Rochester, Mich. former National Open champ, was six strokes off the pace with an even par 71 on rounds of 36-35. Tied with Fleck were Dr. Cary Middlecoff and Bob Goalby.

Nine other golfers also participated in the assault on regulation figures.

The leaders:
Arnold Palmer	34-31—65
Tommy Bolt	35-33—68
Stan Leonard	33-35—68

Toronto's Mahovlich Top NHL Rookie

MONTREAL (AP)—Frank Mahovlich of Toronto Maple Leafs won the National Hockey League's rookie award for the 1957-58 season, nosing out Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks by four points in the voting for the Calder Memorial Trophy.

The league announced Thursday that the 20-year-old Toronto forward, who piled up a big lead in the mid-season voting, finished with 120 points to Hull's 116.

The voting was done by hockey writers, broadcasters and telecasters in the six NHL cities.

Goalie Marcel Paille of the New York Rangers, who did most of his playing in the first half, had 34 points. Bob Baun of the Leafs had 10 and Buddy Boone of the Boston Bruins 1.

Honor St. Fred Athletes May 6

Over 90 athletes will be honored at the fete which will be attended by several area "celebrities." Tickets may be obtained at the Parish Hall or by contacting ticket chairman John Brown.

PCH Golfers Top Flint

Pontiac Central High's golf team boosted its season record to 5-1 yesterday with a 12-3 victory over Flint Northern in a Saginaw Valley Conference dual meet at Flint Country Club.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

DIAGNOSIS: Watch Those Important Details.

TREATMENT: The waggle is not, as many may think, just a bit of aimless fidgeting that goes on while the player is getting lined up for the shot.

The waggle — in case the term should be new to you — is the little series of preliminary motions made between the time you take your stance and the time the backswing actually begins. And if you're looking around for a way to improve your golf swing, you might try starting with the waggle.

Keep the waggle smooth and free, yet firm and purposeful. You might look at it this way: The waggle is the swing in minature.

Make it back and forth along the intended line of flight, and keep your shoulders out of the act. The waggle is done only with the hands and arms. What you're trying to do during the waggle is get the feel of the shot that's coming up.

One last thing: On the waggle for a full shot, the clubhead should come back about two feet. Shorten the waggle proportionately for shorter shots.

Wrestler Aims to Unmask Foe

Hady Faces $200 Loss in Bout With Crusher Tonight at Armory

Jim Hady, who has become a popular figure with local wrestling fans, returns to the Pontiac Armory tonight and the trip may cost him more than gasoline expense.

Hady has announced that he will forfeit $200 of his pay check if he fails to defeat and strip the mask off the Masked Crusher, his opponent for this evening.

Hady will attempt to unmask the Crusher when they tangle in the feature match of a three-bout card.

Joe Smith meets "Dancing Dick" Nelson, making his first appearance here, and Jack "Bad Boy" Brown grapples with Dynamite Johnny Gates to complete the program. Tonight's show begins at 8:30.

Tickets are available at Griff's Grill and the city Armory. Bert Ruby is the matchmaker and the bouts are sponsored by the 107th Ordnance Company of the Pontiac National Guard.

Calumet Enters '57 Derby King in Garden Race

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Calumet Farm may make the opening day of Garden State's 25-day big-money spring meeting a show of strength tomorrow.

Trainers Ben and son Jimmy Jones plan to lead with an ace—Iron Liege — in Saturday's $25,000-added Valley Forge Handicap at the Jersey strip. A year ago, Iron Liege outraced Gallant Man and his uncertain jockey, Willie Shoemaker, to win the Kentucky Derby.

Also possibilities in the opening day feature at a mile and 70-yards for 3-year-olds and up are Iron Liege's farmmates, Pintor Lea and Fabius.

The track will distribute $1,084,150 in stakes and overnight purses this spring, Walter H. Donovan, the Garden State Racing Assn. executive vice president, said. The meeting ends May 31.

The 46-year-old Argentine said he wanted to drive in the 500-mile Memorial Day race ever since he came here as a spectator 10 years ago. He said he had not come back sooner because training for the May 30 run meant missing two European Grand Prix races, his specialty.

Fangio said he intends to study the track thoroughly, both in his car and on foot. He never has driven on a closed course.

Fangio, who arrived late yesterday, was approved by the U.S. Auto Club stewards committee and passed a physical examination. He still must satisfy the committee of drivers that he can handle a car on the 2½-mile track at speeds up to 130 m.p.h.

After that he will be ready to qualify his Dayton Steel Foundry Special. Only 33 of the fastest of the 56 cars entered will start in the race.

Fangio already has picked up $500 of a special prize fund of $4,000 posted by Floyd Clymer, West Coast automotive publisher, who has been needling the foreign champion since his refusal to drive in the 500-mile race last year at Monza, Italy.

Clymer's needling may have entering, $1,000 for qualifying and $2,500 for finishing better than fifth in an American car to $5,000 for comparable finish in a foreign car.

Fangio has $500 for entering and still may qualify and place. He can't do it in a foreign car, however, because none is entered.

Marbles Finals Here Tomorrow

The championship finals of the 11th annual city marbles tournament will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at Oakland Park.

The tournament is sponsored by The Pontiac Press in cooperation with the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department. Trophies will be awarded to the winner and runner-up by the Press.

Fifth and sixth grade boys and girls from 23 city elementary schools have been conducting local eliminations to determine representatives in tomorrow's finals. One winner or alternate will represent each school in final rounds.

A new division this year, hopscotch for girls, will also finish its competition tomorrow at Oakland Park. The Parks and Recreation Department will present the awards in this category.

Draw Tuesday for Keg Pairings

A public drawing to arrange brackets for the 1st annual Waterford Tournament of Champions will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Dixie Recreation, one of the participating alleys.

All entries must be turned in by Monday for the event being sponsored by the Waterford Junior Chamber of Commerce. Entry blanks are available at the five alleys at which the match games will be played — Dixie, Lakewood Lanes, Land-O-Lakes, Huron Bowl and Howe's Lanes.

Leo's & Joe's Shell Service, champions of the Waterford Merchants League at Howe's Thursday night, is the newest entry. Only loop champs are eligible to compete.

Derby Fight Tonight

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (INS)—Light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore battles German heavyweight Willi Besmanoff tonight in a Derby eve non-title bout to be nationally televised (by NBC).

Besmanoff, who has a record of 37 victories in 55 fights with 14 knockouts, could become the leading contender for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight crown by beating the wily ring veteran.

Topping Would Prefer Truce With NL Clubs

But Current Plan Has 118 Games Scheduled for New York Viewing

NEW YORK (AP)—If it's a television war the National Leaguers want the Yankees can give it to them, says Yankee co-owner Dan Topping, but he'd rather see a sensible truce in the matter.

"We must decide pretty soon," he added, "whether we're playing baseball or running a lot of TV shows."

Topping made his comment to Dick Young, baseball writer of the New York Daily News when asked about the flood of National League games being beamed into New York on television.

First arrangements were made for 78 Phillies games to be televised to New York from Philadelphia when the Yankees were out of town.

Then Wednesday, station WNTA-TV announced a package of more than 40 games involving the Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants to be beamed to New York from St. Louis and Pittsburgh. The station said three additional games with pennant significance might be added later.

It was this newest TV bombardment, scheduled to start May 14, which brought strong reaction from the Yankee boss.

"The other guys should remember that if we want to," Topping told Young, "we can go a lot of places on TV that they can't. I think any network would take Yankee and Milwaukee games from coast to coast.

The Yankee executive said he had been offered a chance of reprisal telecasts into National League cities but had declined, as late as last December.

"I'd hate to make the same mistake these other guys are doing," he added. "They're pouring this stuff into major league towns all over the place.

"It's more a beer war or a war by the sponsors. I'm not going to get into it right now because I still believe baseball belongs to one TV station and one radio station right in your own territory."

Twenty-two games involving the Dodgers and Giants will be televised into New York from St. Louis. A like number probably will be beamed from Pittsburgh.

Good News for Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves' troubled outfield situation improved a bit Thursday night when the club announced that leftfielder Wes Covington will rejoin the team in Chicago Friday.

Milford Stays Unbeaten, Evans Wins 3rd for Avon

Avondale's Dennis Evans won his 3rd straight and Romeo extended its winning streak to seven in other games.

Milford's 5-1 victory over Northville featured the W-O slate. Terry Anderson hurled the win and helped at the plate as the Redskins held 1st place with 4-0.

Clarkston and Holly came up with big rallies in the final inning to post triumphs. The Wolves got seven on eight hits to trip Clarenceville 9-4 while Holly overcame a 6-2 deficit to win 7-6.

A sparkling relief job by Dave Gaddis, 5⅓ shutout innings with 10 strikeouts, helped offset the losers' fast start which included a 3-run home run by Glen Simons.

Amos Bradsher batted in the clinching marker and was the victor in relief for Holly. Loser Ross Fockler whiffed 13.

St. Frederick went down to its 3rd straight SCL defeat bowing to St. Clement 7-5. Dave Blake was the loser. St. Benedict upset Royal Oak St. Mary 6-5 in another loop tilt.

Avondale tripped Madison 9-2 for its 2nd Oakland B victory in three starts. Evans was also the batting star with a triple and double for three runs batted-in.

Romeo broke a 4-4 tie on Ray Ritter's two-run single to nip Lapeer 6-5. Ritter had three hits as Bob Galan hurled his 5th win. Three of Lapeer's five hits were home runs.

In other games, Oak Park lost to Detroit Thurston 6-3, Royal Oak Shrine blanked St. Gabriel 3-0 and Utica fell before Lake Shore, 4-3.

By BILL CORNWELL

The Women's Metropolitan Golf Association announced its 1958 schedule this week and a close look at the 22-event program testifies to the popularity of Oakland County links.

An even dozen of this year's 20 one-day tournaments will be played on eight different county layouts with four of them each drawing two events.

The 54-hole medal play championship Aug. 18-20 at Sunnybrook and the match play championship Sept. 15-18 at Plum Brook complete the schedule.

County courses selected by the WMGA include Bald Mountain, Pontiac Country Club, Sylvan Glen, Bob O'Link, Morey's, Highland, North Hills and River Bank. The first four on the list have two tourneys apiece.

Bald Mountain's hilly acreage is the scene of action May 14 and August 6. On August 13 and October 1 the ladies will visit Pontiac CC. Sylvan Glen will be the host June 4 and August 27 while Bob O'Link gets the call June 11 and July 16.

Single dates are assigned to North Hills, May 21; Morey's, June 25; Highland, July 2, and River Bank, July 9.

Other area links chosen as WMGA sites this season are Maple Lane, Rammler, Brae Burn, Glenhurst and Beverly Hills in addition to Sunnybrook and Plum Brook. Rammler, Sunnybrook and Plum Brook will also entertain the gals twice each.

The WMGA, now preparing for its 22nd year, opens its weekly schedule May 7 at Maple Lane. All events except the two championship tests are set for 18 holes.

SHORT PUTTS

Four Oakland County golfers will be friendly rivals tomorrow when Michigan State, Notre Dame and the University of Detroit compete in a triangular meet at MSU's recently-completed 18-hole course.

Seniors Lloyd Syron of Pontiac and Joe Grace Jr. of Lathrup Village will be firing for the Irish while sophomores Jack Reynolds of Waterford and Tim Baldwin of Birmingham are wearing the MSU colors.

Reynolds, former Waterford High School ace, was medalist last Saturday as the Spartans initiated their new layout by defeating Northwestern. Reynolds shot 78-34 for the 27-hole route. Par is 35-36—71.

All-Time Greats Listed on Team of 'Old Timers'

3 Outstanding Backs Will Wear Numerals 14 on Jerseys

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

EAST LANSING—They have labeled the spring football game in Spartan Stadium tomorrow as the 2nd annual "Oldtimers' Classic," but one could hardly list the players who will face the MSU varsity as old men.

Some of the players on the Old Timer squad can go back into the mid-forties to recall their days when Michigan State was making its climb into the national grid scene, but the Spartan squad of 1958 will have to face such recent greats as Dan Currie, Jim Ninowski, Walt Kowalczyk, Clarence Peaks, Norm Masters, Joe Carruthers, Pat Burke and many more.

At the right halfback post for the Oldtimers, even a program would not help identification as all three returnees will be wearing jersey numbers 14 on the back.

Lynn Chandnois, whose last year at state was 1949, was the first to bring glory to the numeral in the modern MSU football era. Chandnois now has retired from pro football after long service with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Billy Wells, a 1953 grad still in the pro ranks, added distinction to No. 14. Walt Kowalczyk, now going in for pro play after using up his eligibility last season, was the third.

"It should be easy for anyone who ever saw them run to tell them apart," commented MSU coach Duffy Daugherty.

The three are separate physical types. Chandnois is tall and wiry and earned the nickname "Bird Legs." Wells is short and stubby, one of the smallest successful backs in the pro game. Kowalczyk is known as "the sprinting blacksmith" for his overall size combined with tremendous speed.

Holly Golfers Romp

The Holly golfers evened their season record at 3-3 by walloping Grand Blanc 522 to 664 in 18 holes yesterday. Darrel Kinney paced the winners with 74.

Cole, Cawley Carry I-L Rivalry Into CMC Meet

A redhot Inter-Lakes league prep track rivalry, between Bill Cole of Waterford and Warren Cawley of Farmington, a pair of fine hurdlers, will carry on into the eCntral Michigan outdoor meet Saturday, at Mt. Pleasant.

Cawley has one close win over his rival, but yesterday Cole hit 14.75 in a dual which Waterford won from Berkley, 87¾ to 21¼. Cawley also set a school record, with a 14.8 win at home against Walled Lake. Farmington had 59 and one sixth to 58 and five-sixths for Lakers.

At least a half dozen school records were broken or tied in the Farmington test, while Cole's mark in the highs in the Berkley meet was a school record.

In other area prep meets Owosso swamped Holly 77-33 in the latter's first dual of the season. Holly winners included Bill Hayes in the 440 (54.9) and Bob Zauel in the 880 (2:09.1).

Farmington swept the hurdles, Cawley won both, and the high jump; Frank Fink of Walled Lake also was a three-time winner, the 100 (all 7 runners in this event were under 11 seconds) at 10.2, the pole vault and the 220.

Cole took the lows in 21.3 and ran anchor on the 880-relay; Bill Loveland won the century at 10.5, the broad jump, and was 2nd in the 220. Green of Waterford won the 440, Mike Ewer the half-mile (2:11.7), Oley Wright the shot at 46.2 for Skippers. Jerry Young (Berkley) won the mile in a three-quarters battle with Skippers' Jim Devine, during which they ran shoulder to shoulder.

Skippers swept the 100, the 220, took 11 firsts to two for Berkley. Coach Al Cuthrell will take a squad of 30 to CMC, on Saturday.

1,000 Visitors at Sports Show

Opening session for the Oakland County All-Sports Show, at the Ivory Polo club, Cooley Lake road, attacted 1,000 or more visitors, according to show officials. They said today they expected a heavy weekend attendance, and have extended the opening times today and tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.

Special feature for 1:45 p.m. Saturday is a parachute jump in which a 73-year-old Commerce man will jump with the Michigan Parachute team, along with captain Bill Parker, a 29-year-old toolmaker and mailman, Art Lussier, 21, both of Flint. Jack Clapp, Commerce is the septuagenarian jumper.

Outboard races also take place Saturday and Sunday, while the Sunday feature pits Bloomfield Major and Ivory Rangers in a polo game.

Ram Golfers Win Over OL St. Mary

Led by co-medalist Joe Keller, cager turned golfer for the spring, St. Frederick High's team defeated Orchard Lake St. Mary, yesterday, in the Eaglets' first 1958 match, 174-189. Keller and OLSM's Marty Fryt each had 40 over the Pontiac Municipal Course.

Results, on a point basis, were: Keller defeated Bob Fryt (45) plus 4; Marty Fryt defeated Pat Secoy (42) plus 3; Chuck Deschaine (SF, 44) defeated Gary Szczepanski (52) plus 5, and Frank Palopola (SF, 48) defeated Frank Majkowski (OL, 50) plus 2.

Not Bothered by Recession

Transatlantic Travelers Continuing to Provide Brisk Business

Trade sources say business has prospered in the first three months of 1958 and that prospects continue good for the rest of the year.

The Transatlantic Passenger Conference, an association of 28 transatlantic steamship lines, reports a 23 per cent rise in the number of passengers between the United States and Europe in the first quarter of 1958 as compared with the same period in 1957.

Joseph Mapyer, association chairman, said advence bookings were as good or better than last year.

Individual airlines note increases in summer bookings ranging from 19 to 42 per cent.

"American are inveterate travelers," said Luis Bolin, chairman of the European Travel Commission in the United States.

The ETC has estimated that a record 675,000 U. S. citizens will visit Europe this year, an increase of about 14 per cent over 1957.

Such events as the World's Fair in Brussels, the Centennial observance at Lourdes, Israel's 10th anniversary celebration and the new economy-class air fares are among the magnets expected to create this mass movement.

Doctors Patch Up Hole in Heart of Boy, 2

NEW YORK (AP) — A 2-year-old boy can now look forward to a normal life span as a result of the repairing of a hole in his heart, says physicians.

Surgeons fashioned a plastic patch over a one-inch hole between the chambers of his heart while clefts in the heart valve were closed with silk thread.

Bob Considine Says:

Ike the Curses Should Not Utter, Jawohl!

NEW YORK (INS)—"Eisenhower Fluchte Ungeriert!" looked like a pretty ominous headline when we noticed it one day last week in Dusseldorf.

The newspaper was the usually pro-American "Die Welt." So we took the matter to Serge Fliegers, dean of International News Service's school of languages. He gave us an illuminating but strictly literal translation of the article. It turned out to be a sports piece by the paper's Washington correspondent, a Herr R. R. The headline meant "Eisenhower Swore Unembarrassedly!" The text follows:

"Eisenhower wore a light sweater under his sports jacket. He kept his broad rimmed hat on the head as he the first ball into the field threw, the first ball with which the President the new American baseball season opened.

"Players and club managers stood smiling near and behind him under the constant control of secret police (when the President to and the whole scene found itself the baseball goes, even secret policemen as umpires are put along the lines. This happened in Washington recently.)

HAS JOY GIVEN

"Baseball has the President these days anyway given a lot of joy, yes, even satisfaction. It has itself for the first time been confirmed that the President a good eye for young baseball talent possesses. The Pittsburgh Piraten, a famed baseball profit club, have taken a young colored named Preston Bruce. Intermediary in the contract conclusion between the Piraten and the young Bruce was no one else but President Eisenhower personally.

"Mr. Rickey, president of the Baseballklub had, at an official eating, from the President the recommendation received to himself the young player to assure.

"This information reported Eisenhower's Press Secretary James Hagerty has the President with great satisfaction to knowledge taken. To this one must know: Eisenhower is a possessed-by-ghosts baseball onhanger, (ed. note: fan) although he this game only relatively a short while personally played has.

"In his second year as West Point cadet, pulled to himself Eisenhower at the football game a knee injury which him to the upgiving of both games was forced. For this has Eisenhower on a different level proved that he to the most sports—joyous of all states super chiefs of the world belongs.

"Especially, he is a passionate and dedicated golf player, and he has just now in this sport which him for decades everywhere accompanied has, despite his three heavy illnesses, never the desire lost.

"'Golf is brilliant,' has Eisenhower's Doctor Snyder the President advised. 'But he must not over every mistake become upset and already never about this curse.

"It was on the golf course of Thomasville, Georgia, as Eisenhower for the first time according to this prescription played," Die Welt's man continued.

"The first both balls fired he, from the first tee into the woods, which means into the rough. The President looked dark. As for him, also on the third tee the drive failed, cursed he unembarrassedly, as in the old time.

"But then the smile and look here: The fourth ball was in order."

Ferry Bids Called Lower Than Scrap Prices

Attempt to Auction Straits Fleet Fails

By ROGER LANE

Just six offers were received by bid-opening time yesterday in response to 89 solicitations for bids to prospective buyers from across the nation and as far abroad as Uruguay and Greece.

Mackie said some of them amounted to "not even scrap prices." A firm decision on what to do next awaited formal analysis of the bids.

On the block were the 345-foot "Vacationland" which cost the state $4,765,000 in 1952 and four other craft graduating in size to the 149-foot Straits of Mackinac, built in 1925 and bought by the state for $367,887.

Except for the Vacationland, queen of the fleet, the highest offer was $15,000 for the Straits of Mackinac. This was $23,000 less than an appraised value considered by some officials as far too low.

There were three bids on the Vacationland, topped by a $1,733,000 bid that immediately was ruled out because it was not accompanied by the required certified check attesting to good faith.

The offer, made by Great Lakes Trans Oceanic Lines of Detroit, proposed payment by installments of $28,100 annually, plus three per cent interest on the unpaid balance.

The other two Vacationland bids were for $456,000 by Lakes Seaway Line of Chicago, and $303,000, by Gulf Ports Steamship Co. Ltd. of Montreal. Lakes Seaway said it contemplated converting the vessel into a hauler of trailers between Milwaukee, Wis. and Muskegon.

In 35 years of service, the ferries carried an estimated twelve million vehicles and 32 million passengers across the straits before opening last Nov. 1 of the 100 million dollar Mackinac Bridge.

There was talk that after a final decision is reached to reject the bids dickering might start on a negotiated sale through marine brokers.

An odd product of yesterday's fizzl ejs the likelihood that the ferries, sitting idle at the straits, now will be available for participation in bridge dedication ceremonies June 25-28.

Dedication planners have toyed with the idea of using one or more of the craft as a floating dance hall in connection with the elaborate ceremonies.

Tree Houses Defended by 'Natural Law'

ATHERTON, Calif. (AP)—Both of California's gubernatorial candidates agree on at least one thing: little boys have a right to play in tree houses.

Opposing the two candidates is the City Council of this swank San Francisco suburb. Councilmen ruled that two youngsters needed a building permit for their tree house.

The lads involved in this rapidly heating situation are Kenneth Templeton, 9 and his brother John, 8. They erected a tree house in the front yard of their home and councilmen apparently decided it marred the elegance of this town.

J. Francis Shirley, San Francisco attorney called in by Brown, said he was prepared to argue as far as the U. S. Supreme Court in favor of the children of Mrs. Kenneth S. Templeton.

Shirley said he would argue that the tree house is actually a fort, and therefore, is subject to military law which takes precedence over municipal ordinances.

Shirley also mentioned natural law: "The natural law," he said with a fairly straight face, "gives a boy under 12 the unalienable right to climb a tree and build therein a hut for fort."

His Temper Too Rash

Shores Hearing Put Off

MT. CLEMENS (INS) — The removal hearing of St. Clair Shores mayor Thomas S. Welsh has been adjourned until next Tuesday. The defense phase of the proceedings started yesterday after a long delay.

Alaska's mineral-rich soil has yielded more than one billion dollars worth of gold, copper, silver, coal, lead, tin, platinum and mercury. Its gold alone continues to bring more than $8,000,000 a year, a figure that exceeds the purchase price of Alaska in 1867.

LAW DAY PARTICIPANTS — Many persons gathered in Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty's courtroom at 11 a. m. yesterday to hear the first Law Day U. S. A. ceremony in Oakland County, which was part of a nationwide program to show what part law plays in America's free society. Four of the leaders of the brief ceremony here were (l-r) Rev. William H. Marbach, J. A. Tillson, senior member of the Oakland County Bar Assn., William R. Beasley, association president, and Carl W. Forsythe, Ferndale attorney who delivered a talk on the importance of Law Day U. S. A.

Sara Berner Divorced

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Sara Berner, 41, has divorced her husband, talent agent Milton Rosner, 36. She plays Jack Benny's radio show telephone operator, Mabel Flapsaddle. She charged Rosner with cruelty, claiming he criticized and dominated her.

Favor Rhee's Party in Korean Election

By K. C. HWANG

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Votes cast today by an estimated nine million South Koreans are expected to return President Syngman Rhee's Liberal party to control of the National Assembly but with a reduced majority.

The Koreans balloted for 233 members of the one-house Legislature after a quiet month's campaign between the Liberals and Democrats led by Vice President Chang Muyn.

Although both Rhee and Chang have two more years to serve, the election was considered a test of Rhee's administration and an indication of results in the 1960 presidential election if Rhee—now 83—does not run.

No Face Lifting for Me, Insists Gary Cooper

"I've been making a living on this battered old face for years," he told an interviewer. "Why should I change it?"

The veteran film star explained he went into a hospital two weeks ago to have the effects of a battered nose broken twice over the years) corrected, and to have a cyst removed from his left jaw.

"Now where in the world did they get that face-lifting theory?" asked rugged Gary. "Must have been some poor little elevator operator who peddled it."

"He looks 20 years younger," commented another.

Hollywood Headlines

'Maverick', Tab Hunter to Star in Sub Adventure

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — You'll be seeing handsome James ("Maverick") Garner in the submarine adventure story "Up Periscope" with the teenagers' delight Tab Hunter.

That means that "Maverick" and his boss Jack L. Warner got together and his next few options were taken up. But then we all knew they would be with Jim's popularity. I had forgotten that Garner played the marine captain in "Sayonara" and he's been eager to continue his motion picture career.

"Up Periscope" is by Robb White who is also doing the screenplay, and the producers are Zabel, Koch and Schenck who are making the picture for Jack Leonard Warner.

What a triumph for Gwen Verdon to come back to Hollywood an important star. When she was here some years ago she was a housewife taking care of her little boy with little chance on the screen. She's now working on the movie version of "Damn Yankees" in the same role she originated on Broadway.

Gwen's next Broadway show is a mystery musical called "Red Head" which will be co-produced by Robert Fryer and Jimmy Conn who produced "Damn Yankees" for Freddie Brisson. Gwen will have a vacation when she completes "Damn Yankees." "Red Head" opens in February.

Sorry to hear that Helen O'Connell had such a bad time with the birth of her daughter. Complications set in and surgery was necessary. Joanne Dru has received word that Helen is now out of danger.

Nostalgic to those of us who saw Paul Whiteman, Harry Richman, Rudy Vallee and Buster Keaton in their heyday is Jackie Barnett's "Newcomers of 1928" revue at Frank Sennes' Moulin Rouge.

Agent Jerry Rosen and TV actress Lynn Michaels will tie the knot at the home of Dr. Henry Levy in Los Angeles on May 25.

Maureen and John Farrow, Betty and MacDonald Carey, all parishioners of our beloved Monsignor Patrick Concannon, are having a mass said for him in Madrid.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Says Williams Using 'Old Worn Out Line'

"The governor is trying to snag the voters with the same old sinker, the same old hook and the same old worn out line," said Lindemer yesterday.

Now is the time for "statesmanlike leadership," Lindemer said, and "the governor doesn't fit the bill. Certainly it is time for a change and a new approach."

He added the Republicans this year will offer an answer to the challenge.

Youth Injures Coach Trying to Scare Him

BANNING, Calif. (AP)—"I wasn't going to kill him—just scare him and show I wasn't scared."

Arthur Linden, 31, also athletic director at Banning Union High School, was reported in serious condition from loss of blood.

Police said that after Linden broke up a fist fight between Johnson and two other students in the gymnasium, Johnson went outside and got a 16-gauge shotgun from his father's parked pickup truck. Then he fired the gun from the hip, point blank at the coach, officers said.

Johnson was booked in Juvenile Hall on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder.

Says Mechanization Makes Us Goof Off

LOS ANGELES (INS) — A college professor believes that the mechanical age has turned America into a nation of "goof offs."

Dr. Lawrence C. Lockley, dean of the University of Southern California School of Commerce, declared recently that "goofing off" effects everyone and is due to ultra-mechanization. He said:

"There was a time when a farm boy could fix the tractor with bailing wire, but the trend of mechanization has made most machines incomprehensible to any but the highly skilled engineer."

Award AF Contracts

DETROIT (AP)—Contracts totaling $1,356,540 for construction at three Michigan Air Force bases have been awarded by the Army Corps of Engineers. Awards went to A. E. Pierce Construction Co., of Livonia; the Forrester Construction Co. of Flint; the John Miller Electric Co. of Detroit, and Champion, Inc., of Iron Mountain.

Corn, Wheat Demand Low

Traders said there was very little demand for either wheat or corn in the initial transactions, but that offerings, too, were moderate.

Flour milling demand in the wheat pit has been extremely slow recently and the only export sale today was one cargo of about 350,000 bushels to Yugoslavia.

The early weakness in corn was ascribed to reports of more liberal offerings on the cash market.

After an hour, wheat was ¼ cent a bushel higher to ½ lower, May $2.18¾; corn ⅛ to ⅜ lower, May $1.25¾; oats ⅛ higher to ⅜ lower, May 62½; rye ⅜ to 1⅛ higher, May $1.32⅜; soybeans ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher, May $2.26¾; lard 5 to 8 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $12.35.

On its last day before handing corn export business over to commercial dealers, the government reported today it had sold 740,000 bushels.

The Chicago office of the Commodity Stabilization Service sold 350,000 bushels of No. 3 yellow for $1.29¼ a bushel and 250,000 bushels of No. 4 yellow for $1.27¼ a bushel.

Issues Warning: 'Strontium 90 Increasing'

LONDON, England (AP) — Another warning of the possible effects of nuclear warefare has come from Professor Robert Platt, head of the Royal College of Physicians. Commenting on a report from Harwell, Britain's nuclear research headquarters, that nuclear tests have caused an increase of "strontium 90" in people's bones, he said:

"This is a warning that you cannot just go on exploding bombs all around the place and imagine you are doing no damage." Tests for strontium 90—part of the retroactive "death dust" from nuclear explosions—in humans have shown an increase in the bones of children under five, but not yet approaching the critical level.

"There is no cause for panic at the moment," Professor Platt said.

Prison Escapee to Be Returned

Williams Reluctantly Orders Springfield Man Be Sent to Georgia

Gov. Williams today reluctantly ordered James T. Fogarty Jr. 23, of 8317 Big Lake Rd., returned to Georgia where he faces resumption of a prison sentence for a burglary committed in 1954 when he was 19 years old.

Fogarty, who fled prison and came to Michigan where he married and settled near Clarkston, was arrested Jan. 6 on a fugitive warrant by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

With the aid of his pastor, the Rev. James E. Haulbee, of the First Baptist Church of Drayton Plains, Fogarty appealed to Gov. Williams to deny his extradition.

The governor today said, "I regret the necessity of sending him back. At the same time we cannot condone his escape or make Michigan a haven for those who break out of prison in other states.

"There is no evidence he had been ill treated by Georgia prison authorities and I hope Gov. Griffin will see that justice is tempered with mercy."

Fogarty was sentenced to three to five years for looting a general store of some groceries and pots and pans. He walked away from prison three months before he would have become eligible for parole.

Calls Auto Industry Key Factor in Business Recession

Pennsylvania Railroad Head Says Inflation Causing Slump

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Writer

The president of the nation's largest railroad — James M. Symes of the Pennsylvania — said today that the principal factor affecting America's economy is inflation.

"Inflation is moving faster than the country can take it," he declared. "The answer is to slow down."

One of the major elements of the current business recession, he contended, is the inflation that has been taking place in the automobile industry. He described that industry as "the biggest single factor in our economy."

The American railroads are in "a precarious position," according to Symes, who is recognized as one of the country's most able and progressive transportation officials.

"Anything done to destroy or weaken that natural resource (the railroads) is a great blow to our economy," he asserted.

In discussing the recession, Symes directed his attention to the automobile industry. After emphasizing its importance to the nation's economy, he pointed out that the automobile "is a valuable thing but not a necessity." And yet the whole economy "is tied up with the automobile."

"Twenty per cent of the steel output goes into automobiles," he said. "So does a tremendous amount of aluminum and glass, plus oil and gasoline, plus expenditures for highways which gets us into cement and other materials.

"When you get inflation going too fast, and when people stop buying automobiles, you've got your finger on the big factor of the recession.

MUST BE MET

"This situation must be met. If the automobile business starts to go up again, as it did a few years ago, other things will go up, too, and we'll be on our way to recovery."

Turning to the plight of the railroads, Symes pointed out that a number of eastern lines have been operating for months at little or no profit.

The Baltimore & Ohio recently discontinued its trains between New York and Washington, D. C. The famous twin 20th Century trains of the New York Central have been downgraded and are now operating in less de luxe style.

The Pennsylvania reduced employment in 1957 by 11,000 employes and may have to cut still further. The Pennsylvania also cut salaries of employes earning more than $10,000 a year by 10 per cent. That of course included a slash in Symes' pay check.

A pick-up in the general economy will not solve the "real" railroad problem, in Symes' opinion. At best, he said, it will postpone to a day not too far distant "the time when the industry as a whole can no longer be counted on to contribute its share to the growth of the economy and to the national defense, and to provide jobs and business it should provide."

Symes declared that the railroads "are getting the worst deal of any industry in the United States."

Store Sales Increase

NEW YORK (INS) — Department store sales in the U.S. last week rose four per cent above volume in the corresponding week of 1957. Improvement was recorded in 7 of the 12 Federal Reserve districts and included a 12 per cent rise in the Philadelphia region and a nine per cent gain in the Dallas district.

Market Awaits Concrete News

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market dawdled along in an inconclusive pattern in quiet early trading today.

Aircrafts made headway, but most other groups were mixed. Rails were off a shade.

The market appeared to be waiting for some concrete news before pushing further into high ground for the year. There was little in way of surprises in most of the day's quarterly earnings reports.

United Aircraft rose more than two points. American Cyanamid was up a major fraction.

General Motors, Chrysler, Bethlehem, Texas Co., Phelps Dodge and Ford were steady.

Off fractions were Republic Steel, Kennecott and Dow Chemical. The American stock exchange was mixed to higher at the start.

Why Send Card to Mom, She Already Knows

ALEXANDER, Iowa (AP) — Six-year-old Daryl Eckhoff told his teacher he had a new baby sister. The teacher said she would send the mother a card.

"You don't have to," said Daryl. "She already knows it."

AMERICA'S MOST FORMIDABLE WEAPON — The Navy's Polaris, which recently underwent preliminary trial firing at Sunnyvale, Calif., and Cape Canaveral, Fla., could become the most formidable weapon in the U. S. arsenal if it lives up to all of the Navy's claims. Fired from a hidden spot, deep in the ocean, the 1,500-mile Polaris ballistic-missile could be shot to the surface and hurtled through space at tremendous speeds. In case of an enemy attack, atomic-powered submarines (sketch above) armed with Polaris missiles having atomic warheads could strike a devastating retaliatory blow from anywhere in the vast expanse of ocean that covers three-fourths of the earth's surface. The Polaris, a solid fuel rocket, is believed to be about 28.5 feet long and 4.5 feet in diameter. Its navigational equipment is reportedly capable of pin-pointing a target 1,500 miles from its launching site. The hard to detect, mobile launching sites make defense against Polaris almost impossible.

FTC Ends Hearing on Procter, Gamble

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission has completed six days of hearings into antitrust charges against Procter & Gamble.

The hearings convened here last month after similar sessions in Cincinnati and San Francisco. From here they will move to St. Paul, Minn., for several days, convening there May 12.

The antitrust action was filed against the Cincinnati firm after it purchased the Clorox Chemical Co., Oakland, Calif., last August. The government contended the purchase gave P&G a monopoly in the liquid bleach field.

Hearings here were devoted nearly entirely to the position in the field of the Purex Corp. Ltd., of Los Angeles, described as the leading competitor of the Oakland firm. The last session here ended yesterday.

Meyer already had seven stores, six in Detroit and one in Lincoln Park. They now add one in downtown Detroit, one at Northland and the Pontiac store.

Nuclear Foes Spurn Bail

Jail Test Protesters

HONOLULU (AP) — The defiant four-man crew of the ketch Golden Rule was held today in Honolulu's century-old city jail after a shortlived attempt to sail to the mid-Pacific nuclear test zone against court orders.

The skipper of the 30-foot boat, former Navy Lt. Cmdr. Albert Smith Bigelow of Cos Cob, Conn., and his mates spurned bail yesterday when arraigned on charges of criminal contempt of court.

They set sail after Federal District Judge Jon Wiig issued an injunction against their leaving Honolulu and banning them from the nuclear test zone.

About 30 minutes later they were intercepted by a Coast Guard cutter a mile and a half off shore and towed back. A U.S. marshal and two deputies arrested them at the pier and they were arraigned within minutes.

Cadillac, GMC Near '57 Pace

Firm Report Reveals Only 2 Divisions Close to Last Year's Output

Cadillac was behind 1,000 units in April, and 4,661 below the four-month total of 1957. Truck & Coach was behind 364 units in April, and 3,265 units for the first third of 1958, compared to 1957.

GM's April production was approximately 100,000 units below April, 1957, and for the first third of 1958, a 250,000 unit drop is shown, compared to '57.

Some 217,964 passenger cars and trucks were made by GM in the United States and Canada during April, compared with 315,093 during April, 1957.

Pontiac Motor Division marked up 15,333 units in April, compared to 31,015 in April, 1957. For the first four months of 1958, Pontiac had 90,558 units, compared to 145,581 during the same period of 1957.

	April 1958	April 1957	4 Mons. 1958	4 Mons. 1957
Chev.	93,616	132,368	487,484	536,314
Pontiac	15,333	31,015	90,558	145,581
Olds	26,552	37,086	128,483	167,462
Buick	17,763	39,957	89,390	180,189

New Sunoco Pumps 'Custom Blend' Gas

The Sun Oil Company has introduced a new "custom blend" method of selling motor fuel to Oakland County residents by installing recently-invented blending pumps in 90 per cent of their 20 area gas stations, it was announced today.

The installation began about a month ago. This new method for the first time enables each car owner to select the motor fuel which closely matches the octane needs of his automobile.

It offers a choice of six progressively higher octane grades, all dispensed from a single automatic blending pump. Each blend of fuel bears an identifying number, ranging from 200 to 260, and each is priced competitively according to octane quality.

Modern Humans Able to Live for 1,000 Years?

DETROIT (INS)—Do you want to live to be 1,000 years old?

You can, according to Dr. A. S. Church, noted Detroit psychiatrist and medical director of St. Joseph's Retreat in Dearborn.

Dr. Church recently told a meeting of the Michigan State Association of Industrial Nurses that "anxiety and frustration" are the two principal causes for early aging.

"Methuselah was a piker," the psychiatrist said. "The age of 969 which he attained, and beyond, is not out of reach of today's man . . . if we could persuade industrial designer and architects to eliminate from their produce those needless designs which cause endless anxiety to man."

A simple example Dr. Church said are the knobs on stoves that cause mothers hours of anxiety and aging because they are within the reach of children.

He called the job of installing and removing storm windows a frustration.

Dr. Church said "instant meals" should be available for housewives and homes should have push-button windows just as some automobiles already have.

He also called for "ideal design to reduce frustration and anxiety to the optimum." If this were done, according to the doctor, the life span of the "dynamic man would be limitless."

New York City had its beginning as a major transatlantic shipping center on Dec. 28, 1847, with the arrival of the steamship Hibernia from Great Britain.

Ship Tie-Up Halt Ordered

Union Spokesmen Say Longshoremen Return to Jobs Today

CHICAGO (AP)—A federal court today ordered a halt in the tie-up of foreign ships in Great Lakes ports.

The return to duty of the cargo handlers will permit unloading of about 50 ships from overseas that have been idle in ports around the lakes.

Judge Philip L. Sullivan in U. S. District Court issued a temporary restraining order that banned picketing until a hearing next Friday on whether the order should be made permanent.

The judge acted on a petition by the national labor relations board. The order applies to any port where a tie-up exists.

Irving Friedman, attorney for the Longshoremen's union, said the Longshoremen have been told to return to their jobs in Chicago at 1 p.m. today.

MSU Student Dies Training for Derby

EAST LANSING (AP) — A young Michigan State University student died this morning from a heart attack suffered during a training run for a campus soapbox derby.

The victim was Lloyd E. Weiler Jr., 19, a sophomore from Spring Lake.

East Lansing police said Weiler and four fraternity brothers were jogging around the campus to train for the annual competition during which students push soapbox cars around a mile - long course.

Weiler complained of dizziness and became unconscious as they stopped to rest around 1:50 a.m. An autopsy showed the death was caused by cardio failure, due to rheumatic valvular heart disease.

An inhalator squad was called but failed to revive the victim.

Pontiac Mortician Will Be Honored

DeWitt C. Davis, owner of a funeral home at 44 State St. will be honored for his 51 years as a licensed mortician at ceremonies at the 79th Michigan Funeral Directors Association convention May 6-7-8 in Grand Rapids.

The presentation of certificates honoring funeral directors who have been licensed for 50 years or more, will take place Thursday, May 8, at one of the main convention sessions. This is the first time the MFDA has made the award. More than a score of Michigan morticians will be honored.

Dope Worth $1½ Milion Seized in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Narcotics agents raided a gift shop last night in the heart of Chinatown, seizing pure heroin valued at 1½ million dollars on the illicit market.

Most of the 10 pounds of heroin, agents said, had been secreted in a tea can. Held for questioning was the shop's proprietor, Yu-hung Ting, 35 and his 24-year-old wife. They opened the store about a year ago.

Uncle Miltie Returning

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Milton Berle is returning to television. He'll have a weekly half-hour comedy show at 9 p.m. Wednesdays on NBC, starting next fall.

Proves Bands Can Rate High

Accordionist Stars in 2 Hour-Long Programs Every Week

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Contrary to the adage, honesty may not always be the best policy in the one-dimensional world of entertainment.

Yet for the self-effacing, 54-year-old former farmhand who has become television's undisputed music master it is a policy that has paid enormous dividends.

For whether you view Lawrence Welk as a star of unique talents or a "square," and his music as "champagne" or soda pop, there is no doubting the fundamental honesty of either the man or the music.

The millions of viewers who express their support of Welk in 4,000 to 5,000 pieces of fan mail every week have enabled him to accomplish two feats which must be regarded as astonishing in the bitterly competitive TV market.

First, he has made orchestra music a successful format for a show, something that presumably more polished bandleaders such as the Dorsey brothers and Ray Anthony were unable to do, although their efforts never got the critical shellacking that Welk's were given from the beginning.

TWO TV SHOWS

Second, Welk has managed to operate two hour-long TV shows per week for ABC this season, something that no expert worthy of his gray flannel suit would consider possible, much less advisable.

The public, he says, is his yardstick for gauging entertainment and entertainers, and the years of struggle between his boyhood on his parents' North Dakota farm and his television fame have taught Welk that "it pays to serve the audience well."

Welk looks upon each of his followers as an individual with his own opinions, wishes and whims. The performer who hopes to obtain and retain audience support, he says simply, must evaluate and cater to those as nearly as possible.

The Welks' eldest child, Shirley Jean, is 24 and happily married, and their other daughter, Donna Lee, 20, attends Marquette University.

Out of deference to his audience, Welk, a man of strong religious and moral convictions who neither smokes nor drinks himself, selects performers for his shows with many things in mind other than talent and musicianship.

'NICE PEOPLE'

Character is more important to him than professional ability, although he insists that his people are the highest caliber entertainers available. As he puts it:

"Our orchestra is made up of nice people."

Once a performer has made the payroll, however, Welk's powerful sense of loyalty falls upon him like a cloak. His "side-men" have been with him for an average of 10 years.

The Strasburg, N.D., farm background which gave him a common, highly remunerative touch with music also provided him with a fine assortment of frustrations and inferiority feelings. He still struggles with them.

The next-to-youngest of eight children of farmer Ludwig Welk, who came to America from his Alsace-Lorraine home in 1878, Welk ventured into the tough world of show business at 21 with nothing but an old accordion and a determination to play well enough "so that the big ballrooms would hire me."

His formal education had ended at the fourth grade, he had no musical training and, since his parents spoke only German, he was even denied a working knowledge of the English language.

Essentially, he offers the public the music he was reared to understand and appreciate. It has been refined, to be sure, but the heartland of America—corn, if you will—remains in every bar.

REGULAR MUSIC

Repeated experiments with other musical fashions proved equally fruitless for him, and each time he returned to the melodies he understood.

"It makes no difference what we play," he says with unmistakable conviction. "People would still rather hear the regular orchestra playing its regular music."

HONESTY REALLY PAYS — Accordion-playing bandleader Lawrence Welk has won millions of television fans with his honesty, both as a personality and in his music. Welk, backed up by his band and his vocalists, stars in two ABC-TV programs, "Top Tunes" on Mondays at 9:30 p. m. and "The Lawrence Welk Show" on Saturdays at 9 p. m.

Big City Is the Place to Find Monkey Tales

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Our pet monkey "Scratchy" has a new hobby—prying books out of their shelves and hurling them to the floor — especially the works of Shakespeare. Which brings up a story from Mrs. James Ullman of Park Ave. Owning a monkey, she priced a cage for it in a pet shop, and the price was $365. "You must be crazy!" she screamed at the owner.

WILSON

Vivian Blaine is "so cut-up!"—as they say in Show Biz. Pays 40 per cent of her gross to agents and managers, including 20 per cent to ex-husband and ex-mgr., Mannie Frank . . . SEXTRY! Maureen O'Hara agreed to do her first B'way musical, "My Indian Family," based on a Pearl Buck writing chore, for Producers Oscar Lerman and Martin Cohne. It's sort of a "King and I" story —not about an American Indian — but an India Indian.

Where do you suppose the expression "fair-to-middlin'" comes from?

For a lot of years I knew J. Edgar Hoover's long-time assistant, big, broad-shouldered, dark-browed Louis B. Nichols. Our talk was always of the trifles of Broadway and Capitol Hill, in the citified patois that we use.

Then once I happened to ask him how he'd been.

"Fair-to-middlin'," he said and my ears snapped to attention.

MAUREEN

"You come from my neck of the woods!" I said. "The middle west."

He admitted it—born in Decatur, Ill., colleged in Kalamazoo, Mich., but high-schooled in Defiance, O.

"Defiance! That's where my dad had a real estate business and a little farm." I said. "No wonder that "fair-to-middlin' sounded familiar."

"Oh, sure, 'fair-to-middlin' is pure northwestern Ohio,'" Lou Nichols said. Thus we found out we'd been neighbors as boys.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Highway Dept. Uses Up State Maps on Hand

LANSIN (AP) — Commissioner John C. Mackie says the Highway Department has run out of maps, and won't have any more until delivery is made next month on a final printing of 600,000.

The legislature in April decreed an end to the 27-year policy of distributing free road maps after the press run now about to start in Chicago.

Mackie said yesterday the last 1,200 in stock were issued to the Michigan Tourist Council to fill a request.

At National Broadcasters Convention

Marvels of TV Unveiled

TV viewers watching "Green Pastures" recently saw an actor walk through heaven's gates. Few knew the portals were less than a foot high, said Ralph C. Kennedy and Frank J. Gaskins, NBC engineers.

In the "Green Pastures" sequence the actor was photographed by one camera as he walked toward a blue background. Another camera was focused on the 10-inch-high gates.

As the first camera scanned the actor its signal cut out of the blue background the exact space needed to show the gates. On the screen the actor appeared to be walking through them.

"The possibilities are endless," the engineers said. Huge sets aren't necessary. Small models will do. Any film, drawing or postcard can give a realistic background, they said, with the NBC chroma-key system.

TV Audiences Fail to Simplify Long Sentence

NEW YORK (AP)—A 212-word sentence in the Internal Revenue Code has stumped experts trying to boil it down for readability.

The passage, concerning tax estimates, roused the wrath last month of Sen. Arthur Watkins (R-Utah). He offered a book on simplified English to anyone who could reduce its complexity.

A CBS television program (The Last Word) took up the issue and announced it would add an encyclopedia to the prize offer. About 600 answers were examined by a panel of New York University professors.

Bill Weinstein, the program's producer, said the best answer contained five errors.

He said the professional panel suggested that a few periods could be put in, adding: "But there just wasn't any way of simplifying the phraseology."

Sullenberger Interview on Television Sunday

Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger, Pontiac surgeon, will be interviewed on Lou Gordon's TV program Sunday night at 10:30, Channel 7.

Questions he will be asked include what has happened since his dismissal from Pontiac General Hospital, how it has affected his family and what his future plans are.

Pate Opposes Defense Plan

Head of Marine Corps Says Congress Should Retain Final Say-So

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three members of the House Armed Services Committee today supported Gen. Randolph M. Pate's contention that Congress should retain its power over the jobs of the individual services.

Pate, commandant of the Marine Corps, strongly opposed in testimony yesterday a provision of President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan which would give the secretary of defense more power to decide the division of defense responsibilities.

Both Eisenhower and Secretary of Defense McElroy say more leeway is needed because of development of new types of weapons which do not fit easily into the present pattern. The present services will continue separately, they said.

But Pate said some future secretary might consider Eisenhower's plan sufficient authority to give the Marines the "bum's rush" or to eliminate major functions of one of the other services.

Congress now spells out by law the basic roles of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps. And committee members have indicated they hope to keep it that way.

Rp. Hardy (D-Va) said the administration had not shown need for much change in present laws. Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa) said Pate "expressed what a lot of other men in uniform are thinking." And Rep. Rivers (D-SC) said he thinks some "fluidity" can be provided without altering preesnt law.

Train Makes Last Run as Conductor Retires

PARSONS, Kan. (AP) — When the Katy Flyer pulled into Parsons yesterday, it was the end of the run for the passenger train and its conductor.

Service on the Katy Flyer, which had operated daily between Parsons and St. Louis since 1899, was discontinued on the ground that it was losing $120,000 annually.

Delay Murder Trial of Philippine Doctor

NEW YORK (INS)—Relatives of Dr. Rodrigo L. Sarmiento, 38, were en route to New York from the Philippines today to help the surgeon's defense against the charge that he murdered nurse Margaret Kabak.

The accused slayer was granted a two-week postponement by Magistrate Albert D. Schanzer in Brooklyn Felony Court yesterday because "we are particularly concerned that representatives of foreign governments understand our laws." Ordinarily, only 48-hour adjournments are granted.

The self-possessed physician surrendered Wednesday. He has refused to talk about the slaying of Miss Kabak who was found stabbed 15 times in the bedroom of her Brooklyn home last Saturday.

Village to Hold Local Election —After 3 Years

LANSING (AP) — The village of Henrietta, where local officials have been living in a kind of political fairyland, is going to hold a special election June 2.

The balloting will end a three-year moratorium on balloting for village offices.

When state and county investigators visited the Wexford County community yesterday they found that the election date already had been set, and party caucuses to nominate candidates ordered May 12.

Local elections were suspended after 1955 because, residents said, the same persons repeatedly were returned to office, and the expense of holding an election was deemed a waste of money.

State officials said the alternative to a return to the elections as prescribed by law probably would be dissolution of the village as a corporate entity.

About one-third of the American people live in areas without public libraries.
