

Two Boys, Baby Sitter Killed in Plane Crash

To Seek Funds for New School

A 10-week campaign to raise $1.5 million for construction of a new Catholic high school in Pontiac today with formation of a fund-raising committee.

Heading the committee will be William H. Dean, 97, Adelade, and Dr. William J. Janacek, 379 W. Iroquois, campaign chairman and assistant-chairman, respectively.

County Unit Okays Budget

The ways and means committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has approved a tentative 1965 budget of $17,068,878, a record high for the 17th consecutive year.

The final figure represents an increase of $1,033,832 over the current 1964 budget.

Included in the committee's recommendations was a pay raise of $100 across the board for all county employees in 1965. This brings the total salaries allocation to $7,426,112.

The committee also recommended 60 new positions on the employee roster, which if approved will bring the county's work force to a total of 1,291.

Of the more than $9.5 million allocated for operations, more than two-thirds will go for health and welfare, including direct relief and medical care.

The 5.26 mills allocated to the county for the coming year will raise $1,143,478 of the total budget, an increase of $712,652 over last year's tax receipts.

The rest will come from departmental receipts, such as fees, licenses and fines.

The committee's budget recommendations will be presented to the Board of Supervisors Sept. 21. Final action will be taken by the board Oct. 5.

SECRETARY RUSK

Asian Reds Warned in Speech

DETROIT (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told Communist North Viet Nam and China today they "must come to the decision to leave their neighbors alone — and sooner rather than later."

Rusk voiced the warning in a prepared speech to the Economic Club of Detroit in which he told communism that its pursuit of world revolution by force and violence would be opposed by America and the Free World. "With whatever means are required."

At the same time Rusk invited communism to peaceful competition and said this country is ready to play a part in any effort to "broaden cooperation on matters of common interest to the human race."

Rusk's speech, delivered after he had conferred in neighboring Windsor, Ont., with Canadian External Affairs Minister Paul Martin, had a hopeful tone.

Reviewing American foreign policy, the secretary concluded by saying "I, for one, look forward to the future with confidence."

Khanh Returns as Saigon Chief After Uprising

Military Coup Falters Without Bloodshed; Leader States Goals

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A bloodless military uprising aimed at ousting Premier Nguyen Khanh collapsed today and Khanh returned securely to power in Saigon. He called for "discipline, honor and unity."

The attempted coup faltered and died less than 24 hours after 2,000 rebel troops marched into Saigon under orders from their dissident commanders to arrest Khanh as a traitor. Not a shot was fired.

Khanh subsequently told a news conference that the chief objective of his government now is to destroy communism, colonialism and neutralism while building through democracy.

The 37-year-old major general, who is in his eighth month as head of South Viet Nam's U.S.-backed government, said he was moved by the spirit of unity shown by the armed forces. He evidently referred to the military leaders who chose to back him in the showdown.

"Facing the threat of internal strife, we proved to be very worthy and we were able to save the previous blood of all our fighters against the Communist Viet Cong," he said.

AT CONFERENCE

Khanh was seated at the conference table with the top officers who saved him from ouster. These included the air force commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, who held Saigon airport against the rebels; and the paratroop commander, Brig. Gen. Cao Van Vien.

Notably absent was Brig. Gen. Duong Van Duc, commander of the rebel forces, who capitulated to Ky early this morning.

Ky and other loyal generals announced that none of the rebel officers would be punished. But sources close to the government said later that the rebel elements in the armed forces probably will be weeded out.

Khanh promised to keep his earlier promise to prepare for a civilian government "which has the confidence of the entire people." He declined to answer questions and said he had to rush off to an important government meeting.

IN WASHINGTON

In Washington, U.S. officials expressed relief that Khanh remained in power but could not say whether the events would bolster or further weaken his shaky hold in the embattled country.

SCENE OF TRAGEDY — A Waterford Township fireman is shown cooling the smoldering wreckage of a single-engine plane which crashed near Pontiac Municipal Airport yesterday, taking the lives of two small

VP Hopefuls Argue AMC Unveils Barry's Rights Stand 'Broadest Line'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican nominee Barry Goldwater's views on civil rights have come in for sharply divergent assessments from the GOP and Democratic candidates for vice president.

In a speech prepared for Springfield, Mo., Humphrey urged Democrats not to become complacent about the election effort. He said Goldwater could be elected "only if we let him win."

Goldwater and Miller spent today in Washington in preparation for another full week of campaigning starting tomorrow.

AT CONFERENCE

Miller said that if Goldwater is elected president "he will fully enforce the civil rights laws" and "will put the moral persuasion and leadership of the White House behind all law enforcement, in this country, in addition to just enforcing the civil rights bill."

Humphrey, campaigning through the West for himself and President Johnson, was asked in Albuquerque yesterday whether he thought Goldwater was trying to introduce racial issues into the campaign through charges of lawlessness and violence in cities.

"I doubt I could draw any other conclusions," he said, "than the fact that the senator from Arizona is equating the violence that takes place in certain cities with the race issue and the civil rights bill."

CAMPAIGNS TODAY

Humphrey planned to campaign in Missouri today before returning to Washington and an assignment from Senate Democratic liberals lined up to fight for a compromise amendment on reapportionment. The senator starts a new campaign swing Thursday.

Pilot Critical in Fiery Wreck Near Pontiac

Asked Permission for Emergency Landing at Municipal Airport

By BILL EASTHAM

Two small Detroit boys and their baby sitter, who had planned to visit the Detroit zoo but decided to go for a plane ride instead, died a fiery death yesterday afternoon when their single-engine plane crashed just west of Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Killed in the crash were Jeffrey Philpott, 5, his 4-year-old brother, Gregory, and Judy A. Korytkowski, 22, all of Detroit.

The pilot, Roy S. McPhail, 27, also of Detroit, is in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital with burns over 50 per cent of his body.

McPhail took off from Detroit City Airport with the girl and the two youngsters yesterday afternoon, according to Waterford Township Police.

FW TO FLINT

They flew to Flint, where they landed, and were on their way back to Detroit when the pilot radioed the control tower at Pontiac Municipal at 5:38, requesting clearance for an emergency landing.

McPhail told operators in the tower that he could smell gasoline fumes in the cockpit of the plane. Traffic was cleared from the main runway.

Less than two minutes later a call came in to the Waterford Township Fire Department reporting that the plane had crashed and was burning.

County Dems Pick Delegates

One hundred eighty-four state convention delegates and 19 county executive committee members were chosen Saturday night in a "peaceful" county Democratic Convention at the CAI Building in Waterford Township.

Nearly 1,000 party workers, precinct delegates and candidates attended the convention and the fund-raising jamboree which followed.

Heading the list of distinguished guests was former

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, now undersecretary of state for African Affairs.

Leading candidates on hand were Aud. Gen. Billie S. Farnum, nominee for the 19th Congressional District seat, and Frank J. Sierawski, congressional hopeful in the 18th District.

Convention chairman Sander M. Levin, himself a candidate for the State Senate in the 15th District, introduced the other state and county candidates, some of whom were unable to be present.

SHORT CAUCUS

The roll call of precinct delegates was dispensed with and the state convention delegates were named by area committees after a short caucus.

The 19 members of the executive committee were nominated in advance by a committee headed by George Googasian of Pontiac. They (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Weather's Bringing Blanket Time Back

The weather has jumped out of the frying pan into the refrigerator and will stay there for the next five days.

Temperatures are expected to average 2 to 4 degrees below the normal high of 70-75 and low of 48-53.

Scattered light showers were predicted for late this afternoon or early this evening.

Rainfall is expected to total one-tenth of an inch or less with a chance of a few more showers about Saturday.

Today's temperature started climbing from a low of 47 before 8 a.m. By 2 p.m. it had risen to the predicted high of 74.

Livestock Holding Action Indicates Change

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The National Farmers Organization livestock holding action can be compared with a huge rain cloud. While it has produced little economic effect so far, its very existence is a symptom of conditions that forbid a change.

It has been accompanied by scattered violence, although few of the deliberate incidents have been linked to NFO members and none to the organization.

Farmers, farm leaders and government officials agree that something must be done to change the situation in which the farmer is paying more for what he buys while getting less for what he sells.

Many farmers, however, express doubt that the change can be accomplished by a farmers' boycott of markets — a tactic the NFO has pressed in 23 states since Aug. 20.

CONFIDENCE

NFO President Oren Lee Staley continues to exhibit confidence. "You don't judge a holding action on day-to-day receipts," he told the Associated Press.

"You judge the cumulative effect. We have already cut deeply into the meat supply in storage. Now farmers are in the position of being able to really tighten the holding action down, because most of the production that was in the hands of captive sellers or farmers that have intended to sell has already been marketed," Staley said.

Harold Schafroth, who has a dairy farm west of here, said: "My neighbor and I — he's a dairyman too — were going through our old milk receipts the other day. We found that we're not getting as much for milk now as we did in 1952 and 1953.

LIVING STANDARD

"And it's showing up. My standard of living is down. Look at my old car over there." He waved toward an elderly Dodge. Schafroth is not an NFO member. He said that if he had livestock ready he would ship it to market. He said he doesn't believe the holding action has enough strength at present to achieve its purpose.

Blessing Too Late

ROVIGO, Italy (UPI) — A 96-foot long fireman's ladder collapsed here yesterday wrecking five automobiles and severely damaging others. The fire truck and the cars were in front of the local church, waiting for the start of the annual ceremony of the blessing of automobiles.

Another farmer, Boyd Everman, has 100 hogs ready for market and is withholding them, although he is not an NFO member.

"We'll just have to keep holding out until we get big enough to make things right, or else we'll have to have a government program on livestock like we do on grain," he said. He plans to keep his hogs off the market "as long as I can without going under."

SKEPTICAL

"Albert E. Beatty, a breeding cattle producer of nearby Waukegan, also was skeptical. "It won't work unless everybody holds," said this Farm Bureau member. "If I had a lot of meat animals I might hold a while," he said, "but I won't have anything to do with any of this violence." Leaders of the NFO insist they discourage violence. They have said the shooting of vehicle

Cider and Antiques at Paint Creek Mill

PICTURES AND STORY
By LEE OLSON
GOODISON—Cider and doughnuts in an Early American setting.

Fall visitors to the Paint Creek Cider Mill will find some new attractions there this year — most of them to appeal to lovers of antiques.

The oldtime memorabilia are arranged along the walls on the inside of the saleroom and in the front window corner that looks out toward the waterwheel building.

In the window corner are such things as an old sauerkraut slicer, high wheel bicycle, ship captain's control station from a Great Lakes vessel, brass-decorated horse collar and hames and a hand-press cider mill.

At the rear of the building is a kitchen corner featuring an old oak or wood-burning stove equipped with a copper water tank and warming oven.

MANY FROM FARM

Many of the items on display, including the stove, were in the farm home of the mill owner, Dale O. Miller Sr., in Ohio. Others Miller has acquired on his travels both throughout Michigan and in other states.

An ardent collector of Early Americans, Miller is always on the lookout for unusual artifacts that were once used in homes, on farms, in business or industry.

Size of the object has never been a matter of concern to Miller, who is president of Rochester Gear Works across Orion Road from the mill and waterwheel building.

In fact, some of his most prized possessions include a Port Huron Threshing Machine engine, a J. I. Case threshing machine, and an Ahrens-Fox fire truck, all refurbished, which dates over 35 years.

4 YEARS AGO

Not one to start small at anything Miller initiated the first phase of his project to replace the village's over-century-old flour mill and erect a cider mill next door over four years ago.

When the waterwheel building was completed on the site of the old flour mill, it became a major attraction in the area and a trademark for the cider mill.

Both structures, which will eventually be joined by another building, are designed to be in keeping with the general New England character of the community and to fit the contours of the land upon which they sit.

The cider and doughnut saleroom is open Saturday's and Sunday's and Miller invites customers to "sip and eat" while they examine the items he now has on display.

MORE TO COME

And more will be added as the local industrialist continues his hobby of collecting anything from an old wooden butter paddle to a 1917 Locomobile, a seven-passenger touring car that has won three major prizes in recent old car meets.

Pontiac Press Photo

ROCHESTER—An illustrated talk on "Traveling the Alcan" will highlight the first fall meeting of the local chapter of Methodist Men at St. Paul's Methodist Church.

Ray Berens, president of the chapter, will speak to the group Thursday at the get-together which begins with supper at 7 p.m.

Berens and his wife, Clara, spent several weeks this summer traveling the Alcan highway to Alaska. They viewed the extensive damage left by the Good Friday earthquake.

The talk will be illustrated with the use of slide pictures taken during the trip.

set the week starting today for her campaign.

Under the slogan "Each One Reach One," the league has set up a program to make registration easier for shoppers during the "Women Voters Week."

A special registration desk in the National Bank of Detroit will be open each afternoon and on Friday evening and at the National Bank of Rochester on Saturday morning.

Avon Township clerk Mrs. S. Thelma Spencer, who will be present every day to conduct registrations, remarked that the Rochester league's register and vote campaign two years ago was very successful, resulting in over 300 new registrations.

NATIONWIDE EFFORT

The drive is part of a nationwide effort, initially sponsored by the national league and prompted by the report of the President's Commission on Voting and Registration Participation, which pointed out the comparatively poor voting record of women.

To be eligible to register and vote, a person must be a United States citizen, 21 years of age or more, a resident of the state of Michigan for six months and a resident of the village or township for 30 days prior to the election.

But Boyfriend Fears It May Burst

Life Can Be a Dream, Says Miss America

BEAUTY'S BOYFRIEND — Duane Kapp, 22, of Phoenix, Ariz., is shown looking at picture of his steady girlfriend, Vonda Kay Van Dyke of Phoenix, the new Miss America. Miss Van Dyke, who received the beauty title Saturday night in Atlantic City, has been dating Kapp since both were students at Phoenix Christian High. Kapp is now a freshman law student at the University of Arizona.

NEW YORK (AP) — A strenuous and glamorous year lay ahead today for Vonda Kay Van Dyke, the new Miss America, but Vonda isn't sure whether she has awakened yet from a dream.

As the newly crowned beauty queen awaited her first meeting with the New York press, her boyfriend in Phoenix, Ariz., was hoping that Vonda's day in the spotlight would not change their lives.

Vonda left Atlantic City Sunday, still fearful and wonderstruck by her victory in the nation's oldest beauty pageant Saturday night.

The 21-year-old brunette, her brown eyes glistening as she dabbed them with a tissue, described the dreamlike quality of her coronation.

CHAIR GONE

"After making the walk back and forth on the runway, I started up the steps to the chair. I thought that when I got up there, I would put out my hand and it would not be there," she said.

In Phoenix Duane Kapp, 22, a law student at the University of Arizona, was "not too sure what this is going to mean for the two of us."

"I don't quite know how to react, but I know I feel unhappy for myself," he said after Miss America's crowning. "There's a chance this may affect her life and if this happens I know she won't be the girl I knew and the girl I loved."

Vonda and young Kapp have known each other six years. While they had made no definite plans, marriage "was one of those things we knew would be in the future," he said.

POSING FOR PICTURES

Vonda's immediate future involves a month here posing for pictures and being fitted out with a wardrobe.

NO DUMMY — Miss America of 1965 — Vonda Kay Van Dyke of Phoenix, Ariz.—gives a wink at the same time as her ventriloquist dummy, Kurley Q, in Atlantic City yesterday. The Arizona State University senior used the ventriloquism act in her talent presentation.

A senior at Arizona State University, she will postpone her final year of college until after she tours as Miss America.

Show California
Prefers Johnson

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Field California Poll claimed today that President Johnson leads Sen. Barry Goldwater 62 to 33 per cent in statewide voter preference for the presidency.

Marvin D. Field, director of the poll, said that was the result of a survey just completed in which 1,200 potential voters were interviewed around the state as of the first week in September. Field said five per cent questioned were undecided.

Johnson's present lead "is unprecedented in recent California history," Field said.

Church Money Found
Short Distance Away

READING, Pa. (AP) — Last Tuesday thieves broke into St. Margaret's Roman Catholic Church and stole a bag containing $1,695. Sunday the bag and money were found, a half block from the church.

Mrs. and Mrs. John Lesniak and their two sons, James, 14, and Thomas, 12, turned the money over to police. They said they found it while going home from Mass.

An average of 69,700 public school classrooms have been built every year for the past five years, according to the U.S. Office of Education.

GI Braves Gunfire to Aid in E. Berlin Escape

BERLIN (AP) — A German immigrant now in the U.S. Army braved East German bullets Sunday to help a wounded refugee escape over the Berlin wall.

Spec. 4 Hans Puhl, 22, was the hero of a 40-minute battle at dawn during which West Berlin police and East German Communist guards fired dozens of shots at each other. No one was killed, but it was the longest fight since the wall was put up three years ago.

AP Photos

Torn Cloth Attests To Flight From Eastern Zone

Lying in the middle of the fray, on the Communist side of the wall, was Michael Meyer, 21, from the East German town of Frederdorf. Communist bullets brought him down as he tried to scramble over the wall to West Berlin.

Communist guards then tried to drag him away, but Puhl, covered by Western police, marched to the wall and ordered the East Germans back.

ROUTINE PATROL

At a news conference, Puhl said he was riding along the Western side of the wall — in the Krenzberg District — on a routine patrol with a West Berlin policeman and arrived at the scene just after Meyer had been shot.

The American dashed to the second story of a nearby apartment house for a view of the other side of the wall.

He spotted the young man on the ground.

"Two East German guards were pulling on him," he said. "I pointed my rifle at them and told them to let him go."

"When they did not let him go, I threw a tear gas grenade across the wall in the hope that they would stop bothering the refugee and they did."

Puhl then ran back to the wall, gave his rifle to a West Berlin policeman and pulled out his pistol.

"Two West Berliners boosted me up," he continued, "so that I could see across the wall and I called to the refugee not to move and that we were going to cut the wire (on top of the wall)."

PERED OVER

When Puhl peered over the wall, the Communists opened fire, hitting the upper edge of the wall and showering him with concrete fragments.

West Berlin police returned the fire from windows of the apartment house. Two East Germans succeeded in reaching Meyer again. One began pulling the refugee, and the other pointed a pistol at Puhl.

"The American pulled his own pistol from the holster, aimed at the East German and said in German: 'Drop him and get away from here,'" a witness said.

Puhl denied he had pointed his pistol but admitted it was out of its holster.

PULLED ACROSS

The East Germans again retreated. As Puhl covered Meyer, two West Berliners got a step ladder and wire cutters. Firemen brought a rope and Puhl dropped it to the wounded man.

"We got the rope on him and pulled him across," Puhl said. "I passed out when we got him over."

Helping Puhl were two West Berliners and an unidentified U.S. Army sergeant. Five bullets hit Meyer. He was reported recovering from wounds in the thigh and shoulder.

A German man and woman were hit by flying glass and splinters on the Western side of the wall. It was believed that an East German guard also was injured.

Puhl, tall and blond, told his story in a clipped, precise manner. A native of Bremerhaven, he spoke with a slight German accent.

SCHOOL DROPOUT

He was taken to the United States, in 1956 and enlisted, in the Army in 1961 after failing to finish high school. His mother, Wilma Makarewicz, is married to an Army sergeant stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Before joining the Army, Puhl worked for a time in a cotton mill at Statesville, N.C.

"The only thing he did mostly was go to church," said Mrs.

Fleet Brown, who knew him in Statesville. "He'd go to revivals. Anytime he found out about one anywhere out in the country he'd go to it."

Maj. Gen. John F. Frankling, the U.S. commander in Berlin, denounced the shooting of the refugee as an "inhuman dangerous action." He said police in West Berlin "will not remain passive in the face of unprovoked gunfire from the Soviet sector of Berlin."

The East German news agency called the incident a "serious provocation." It made no mention that a refugee was involved.

Resorts Wonder What Caused Violent Teen Riots

(EDITOR'S NOTE: During Labor Day weekend, teen-agers rioted in two quiet resort towns, one on the Atlantic, one on the Pacific. The following article explores the causes of the destructive outbreaks and gives some of the teenagers' reasons for their participation.)

HAMPTON BEACH, N.H. (AP) — Like stricken Florida resorts recovering from the havoc of Hurricane Dora, the quiet coastal resorts of Hampton Beach, N.H., and Seaside, Ore., were still trying to pick up the pieces a full week after the tumultuous teen-ager riots that roared in and brought out the National Guard over Labor Day weekend.

In both towns on opposite sides of the continent the season was officially over, but its frantic finale would be remembered long after the weathered old beach houses were all shuttered up for the winter and long after the last hot dog stand and last popcorn shack had surrendered to the thermometer.

Clean-up crews still sifted through the sand for broken bottles and empty beer cans, lethal weapons in the all-night street fighting.

FEW YOUNGSTERS

Jails and correctional institutions still held a bail-less baleful few of the hundreds of youngsters arrested for hurling rocks, Molotov cocktails and obscenities at the beleaguered police. And bewildered town fathers and outraged property owners joined parents and psychologists in wondering what exactly had happened and why.

What possessed 10,000 youngsters to descend on Hampton Beach that they had literally to be beaten back three miles across the border into Massachusetts by club swinging troops?

What possessed another 1,000, just as frantic and just as lawless, to descend on Seaside in an orgy of riot and ruin?

Are they symptomatic of a deep, lingering sickness in our society?

WHICH LOCATION?

And why did they happen in Hampton Beach and Seaside, rather than Coney Island or Jones Beach or Laguna or Malibu?

True, both towns had experienced minor disturbances on past Labor Day weekends, but nothing like the frenzied mobs that overran their beaches and streets on that never-to-be-forgotten September Sunday.

Hampton Beach, in particular, seemed like an unpromising spot for a teen-ager rumble. A quiet, middle-class family resort consisting mainly of wooden frame Irish boarding houses interspersed with a few good motels and one or two elegantly old fashioned hotels, the beach was as stolidly puritanical as when its first settlers landed.

A dry town with no amusements and only two movie houses, it pointedly discouraged the beatnik element with stern ordinances against whisky, bikinis, blanket tossing and sleeping on the beach.

MAIN ATTRACTION

Its main attractions were a band shell that offered outdoor concerts four times a day and a massive three-block long casino, reputedly the largest ballroom in the world, where Louis Armstrong, Sammy Kaye, Lester Lanin and similar attractions appeared regularly and where coats and ties were always required.

"It's incredible how these young hoodlums who don't spend a dollar here all summer can come in and in one night wreck a reputation as a family resort that has taken us 65 years to build," sighed casino owner John Dineen, who in 35 years of running his ballroom has yet to eject a youngster for disorderly conduct.

"I think this thing was planned and organized. It was an outside crowd who came here just for kicks. The word was out weeks ago that they planned to burn down the casino. I heard they had signs all up and down the Cape saying, 'Come to Hampton Beach for the big kill at the casino.' A friend of mine got a call from Honolulu asking if the casino had gone up in flames yet."

Police claim the evidence is mounting that teen-agers flocked to Hampton Beach because the word went out weeks in advance of a big riot on the Sunday before Labor Day. Maine state troopers reportedly confiscated placards advertising the big rumble. Hitchhikers were spotted as far west as Chicago with "Hampton Beach or Bust" on their suits.

Poll Says 64 Pct. of Women for LBJ

NEW YORK (AP) — Newsweek magazine says a poll taken for it by Louis Harris showed women voters favor President Johnson's election over the Republican candidate, Sen. Barry Goldwater, 64 per cent to 36 per cent.

The magazine's current issue said the women, by 53-47 per cent, think Goldwater — if elected — would involve the United States in war. By contrast, the magazine reported, 55 per cent of male voters polled do not think this is true.

The Harris presidential poll of men gave Johnson a 60 to 40 per cent advantage over Goldwater.

Rare Coins 'Pocketed'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Woodrow E. Pickett's pocket was picked of $4.62 at Candlestick Park.

What provoked Pickett, he reported to police yesterday, was that the purloined four silver dollars and two pennies were rare and worth probably $2,500. He was planning to peddle the pelf for a pretty penny.

Pickett of San Andreas is a coin collector attending the coin collectors' convention in San Francisco.

Supt. Michael Morello of the State Industrial School at Manchester, N.H., where 24 of the out-of-state juvenile offenders were taken on the night of the riot, told of checking in a boy two weeks ago whose "only regret was that he would miss the big kill at Hampton Beach."

Morello, a psychologist, worked until well past dawn interviewing each boy on what had impelled him to come to Hampton Beach and what forces had driven him into bloody battle with the police.

"It's as intriguing as a prison grapevine," he summed up the interviews. "The kids all knew in advance something was going to happen and yet not a one of them could tell you exactly why he was there. It's one thing to conclude that conduct of this sort represents a complete breakdown of law and order among our youth, a complete lack of respect for the local police and all authority but the question I would like to see answered is:

"Where were the parents of these 15- and 16-year-olds when they were tearing up the beach? What sort of a mother lets her teen-ager go away to a seaside cottage with a few friends for a weekend? These are not responsible adults. They are children and should be supervised as such."

STRONGER FORCE

In preparation for the Labor Day weekend, Hampton Beach had strengthened its 43-man police force with 60 additional officers from surrounding towns and had removed wastebaskets and wooden benches from the beach to prevent fires. As the riot increased in tempo, the state police moved into the area with riot guns, then troopers from Maine helped out, and finally the National Guard.

"I don't really know how well-planned it was," remarked Lt. Paul Leavitt of the town police force, "but all I know is that at the magical hour of eight everything blew sky high. A mob of kids rallied around a flag stolen from a golf course and came surging down the street. We confiscated four walkie-talkies from the crowd but didn't monitor any messages indicating that there were any organized commands being issued."

FIRST OBJECTIVE

The first objective of the rioters was the huge casino, but when a band of 30 college boys who worked there for the summer stoutly defended the casino with broom sticks and lengths of pipe, the teen-ager hordes streamed down both side streets and tried to overrun the police station.

A parking lot shack went up in flames. The children's playground fell in a litter of broken colored lights, busted seascas and smashed swings. A girl in shorts lit a newspaper torch and sounded the charge on McCoy's Snack Bar, a new restaurant just opened in June, and the mob completely demolished it in a matter of minutes.

Beats and beat came full of sand went hurtling through motel and shop windows, as the troopers armed with riot guns, police dogs and tear gas began driving the mob out of town. The teen-agers fell back in disorderly retreat, the cops hastening their progress on the three-mile flight to the Massachusetts border by beating them across the back of the legs with nightsticks.

By dawn order had been restored, but National Guardsmen with fixed bayonets still patrolled the glass-strewn streets, pulling rioters out from parked cars and from under cottages and bungalows.

YOUNGSTER PLEADED

"Please, hide me. I just won a scholarship to Harvard and if I'm arrested all will be lost," one youngster pleaded with the owner of a beachwear shop. She obliged by hiding him out in the ladies' dressing room.

When it was finally over, 218 youngsters ranging in age from 15 to 21 and most of them from Massachusetts were in jail on charges ranging from disorderly conduct to inciting to riot.

Most of them claimed they had just come to Hampton Beach to be spectators.

"It was not a drunken crowd," said Lt. Leavitt. "Alcohol was not a major factor. They were mainly middle-class kids, not part of any known gangs like the Vikings or the Monsters. If most of them just came to watch, they came under the influence of a lawless element that has no respect for other people's rights. They were caught up in the mob and mob psychology took over. This is an expression of the moral decay affecting some elements of our society."

The youngsters themselves for the most part indicated they came to Hampton Beach and to Seaside, too, just to "be in on the action," as one youngster in a Delta Pi Tau T-shirt put it.

LAST FLING

"It's something to talk about when you get back to school. You were in on the big rumble. It's the last fling of summer, the weekend of final kicks," he explained.

A sociology major at Tufts, in sandals and bright red beard, ventured his analysis: "Basically, we're here to watch the more demonstrative of our peer group stage a mass defiance of a decadent adult society. We have thrown over the values of our elders but as yet have none of our own with which to replace them."

In less academic terms a graduate of Jefferson High School in Portland, Ore., explained his presence in a bare cell in the Clatsop County Jail at Astoria, Ore.: "I came to Seaside knowing something would happen. I did. I got thrown in jail. Sure I'm worried. I haven't got money for bail. My picture is in the paper. I'm embarrassed."

A freckle-faced blonde in a

Colby sweatshirt blamed the "pretensions" of the resort towns for their annual troubles. "Hampton Beach," she opined, "years like hell to be St. Petersburg, Fla., with 80-year-olds playing shuffleboard, but it just can't help being Port Lauderdale. It's so exquisitely square, the kids can't resist knocking it off. All that authority has just got to be resisted. See what I mean?"

An answer to the age-old saying: "I'm Insurance Poor"

How would you like to make your property insurance dollars buy 100 times as much protection — and at the same time save enough to buy several new hats?

It's not only possible — it's easy. All you have to do is take advantage of the "deductible" options available in our Homeowners Package Policy.

Look at these figures:

For a frame house in Pontiac, insured for $20,000, the three-year premium is $153 for a Homeowners Policy under which the insurance company pays the full amount of any loss.

By taking advantage of the $50 Deductible options, the premium on the same policy can be reduced to $105 — that's a savings of $48 — more than 30%.

In effect, that $48 — when used to buy full coverage — is getting you only $50 worth of insurance for three years. Now it's likely that the value of the house has increased since that insurance policy was first taken out. By using $21 of that $48 saving — paying a total premium of $126 — the limit of coverage on the house can be increased by $5,000, and the premium is still $22 less than it was for $20,000 worth of no deductible coverage.

Ah, you say, but what if something happens to the house? I'd be out $50! You might — but chances are that you wouldn't. First, if you consider all the perils covered in your Homeowners Policy — from fires to riots — which one do you think of first? Fire, of course.

Well, the deductible provision in your policy doesn't apply to losses caused by fire or lightning. The company pays the total amount of those losses, in any case.

And even if the loss is due to one of the other perils, the deductible portion may be less than $50 — perhaps nothing at all! The Homeowners Policy has what is known in the business as a "disappearing deductible." That means that the greater your loss, the smaller the deductible portion becomes. If the loss is $200, for example, the company pays all but $25.50. And if the loss is $500 or more, the company pays the entire amount.

SO WHAT'S THE GIMMICK?

There's no gimmick. What makes all this possible is that processing a small claim costs the insurance company about as much as processing a larger one. The deductible provision relieves the company of the cost of processing many small claims. And the savings are passed on to you.

British Troops Hunt Guerrillas

Kill Four Indonesians in Malaysian Jungle

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—British Gurkha troops hunted through jungles in the Malay Peninsula today for more Indonesian guerrillas. Four guerrillas were killed yesterday.

A Malaysian official said Indonesia, which has vowed to crush British-backed Malaysia — has massed 11 battalions on the border of Malaysia's Borneo state of Sarawak.

The warning came from Stephen K along Ningkan, chief minister of Sarawak. He said five other Indonesian battalions are poised near the neighboring state of Sabah.

Ningkan said "force must be met with force" and urged that Indonesian training bases be attacked if there should be a strike from Indonesia.

In Indonesia, the government took steps to tone down an anti-American campaign sparked by the large Indonesian Communist Party. An order banned demonstrations or boycotts without government approval in advance.

BOYCOTT LIFTED
A five-month Communist-sponsored boycott of American movies was lifted last week, and a boycott of Pan American World Airways, also sponsored by the Communists is being lifted.

Informed sources said President Sukarno was disturbed by the manner in which Communists have conducted their anti-American campaign.

The Gurkhas in Malaysia were searching for the remnants of a band of 50 Indonesian guerrillas dropped by parachute Sept. 2. The four killed yesterday brought the total number of dead guerrillas to 12. About 30 are believed to have been captured.

The drive against the guerrillas came after rocket raids in the area by British Royal Air Force jets Friday and Saturday.

Buy Yule Booze at the Monster Sale

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Each year about this time I go through the Christmas mail order catalogues that have been arriving all summer and prepare a list of gift suggestions.

WEST

Then I make the list available to my readers, all of whom like to do their Christmas shopping early. In performing this service, I try to spot trends that will indicate what kind of Christmas it is going to be. Knowing what to expect in December makes early bird shopping much easier.

Two years ago, having noticed that the catalogues were featuring fancy pill boxes and other pharmaceutical accessories, I predicted that we would have a medical Christmas.

Consequently, my gift list was weighted with suggestions for the hypochondriac who has everything.

This year, if I read the signs correctly, we are going to have a drinking Christmas. I mean even more so than usual. The catalogues are simply loaded with items to please the lush who has everything.

MONSTERS BIG

Likewise, it is obvious that monsters are going to be very big this Christmas. One sure-fire number is a Frankenstein head that contains a three-inch speaker which can be hooked up to a record player. Should add greatly to the enjoyment of Christmas carols.

By the time that Christmas rolls around, it may be that monsters will be even bigger than booze. In that case, you will, of course, want to buy something monstrous for your favorite drunkard.

I'll keep an eye on the situation and let you know, meanwhile, here are some items that are sure to please the drinkers on your shopping list:

- A hydrometer with which to measure the moisture content of cocktails. Takes the guesswork out of bartending. Lets you know with scientific precision whether your martini is regular, dry or extra dry.

- A phony beer tap that can be stuck on the car dashboard, the kitchen sink, the bathroom fixtures, the file cabinet and other appropriate places, such as the forehead of your Aunt Minnie.

- Golf balls with scotch whisky centers. Drive one into a water hazard and you've got yourself a highball.

- Alphabet ice cubes. Great fun at parties. If someone spills a drink, you can play anagrams. • Whisky-flavored mustard. Which certainly sounds more appetizing than mustard-flavored whisky.

- A do-it-yourself wine-making kit. Lets you learn the art of moonshining right in your own home.

- An old time whisky well. Pump the handle up and down and it comes out 100 proof. Hand stained to look "weather beaten," like your guests.

It has been estimated that it will take 10 years to change the nation's smoking habits.

The Office of Education estimates that total elementary and secondary school enrollment will reach 53.2 million by 1970, a 14 per cent increase over the 1962-63 term.

The earth's water content always remains the same, about 326 million cubic miles. But less than one per cent is fresh water. The rest is in the seas or polar ice.

Warren Report Is Due Before Johnson in 'Matter of Days'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren says it is "a matter of days" before his investigating commission completes and submits to President Johnson its 700-page report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Other sources estimated the White House may issue the findings over the weekend of Sept. 27. Other estimates were that final editing, printing and binding could take a little longer. Warren told newsmen Saturday that the seven-member commission has been working night and day to finish the report.

"I hope it will be very soon," Warren said. "We're just driving to get it all done. Our job is completed when we report to the President."

PUBLIC DISTRIBUTION

The chief justice emphasized that public distribution of the report is up to the White House.

ing the report — the original target date was June 30 — stems from painstaking efforts by commission members to make sure each report on Kennedy's death last Nov. 23 in Dallas is fully documented.

although the report will contain "some surprises," in main it will say:

—Lee Harvey Oswald, an unstable Marxist acting without helpers or co-conspirators, shot Kennedy to death.

—Jack Ruby, convicted mur-derer of Oswald, acted in outraged grief as what he conceived to be an agent of retribution when he killed Oswald in the Dallas police station two days after Kennedy's death.

Warren said the commission's primary task now is editing proofs from the Government Printing Office, including the checking of "thousands of footnotes, references to the appendix."

But another commission member reported: "We're still writing."

State Hospital Elderly Respond to New Program

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Because some American Red Cross Gray Ladies cared enough to work out a new program with a heretofore ignored group of patients at Pontiac State Hospital, a number of exciting events have resulted.

Several wards of geriatric patients have a new outlook on life.

Theories held by some doctors and social workers, but not always shared by the general public, have been proven.

The volunteers who have been working since last November on "Gerry Project, Green Light" are going to report their progress at two professional meetings, one state, the other national.

Mrs. Bruce Benway (Shirley) and Mrs. Robert Carlson (Jan) are at a statewide hospital community relations directors' workshop at Haven Hill for three days this week. Mrs. Benway is participating in a round table discussion.

Sept. 26 the two will go to Dallas for meetings of the American Psychiatric Association where Mrs. Benway will be the only volunteer on the program of an allied group—the American Association of Volunteer Services Coordinators.

She will present the story of the new program at Pontiac State Hospital and conduct a question and answer session.

WHAT IS PROJECT?
What is "Gerry Project, Green Light"?

Simply stated, it represents the combined efforts of staff and volunteers to provide a climate for older patients that will lift them out of their lethargy, give them new interests and prevent their deteriorating into "vegetables."

The goal of all treatment at the State hospital is ultimate discharge for the patient and return to normal life.

With new drugs and outpatient care, or the new day care centers, this has been feasible for the younger patients. The present length of stay is shorter.

But many of the older patients—some of whom have been in the hospital for 20 or 30 years—were not considered curable in the same sense. Often, psychiatrists felt that their limited time should be devoted to more promising patients. And there weren't enough helpers of any kind to go around.

JUST AN IDEA

Mrs. Lols Green, social worker at the hospital, took a different view of her "gerry" patients. She had worked with similar individuals at Ypsilanti and knew there's a lot of selected group there had made remarkable progress. Why couldn't this be done with the local group?

After getting permission

Mrs. Robert Carlson, Green Lake, leads a group of men and women geriatric patients in a song. Group from staff psychiatrists, she asked the Gray Ladies for volunteers.

Now, one advantage of pioneering is that you don't have to follow any rules. You do what works best.

The three volunteers who agreed to work with the geriatric patients have that sort of pioneer spirit. They also have ingenuity, patience, great compassion and love of life.

THREE VOLUNTEERS

With Mrs. Benway and Mrs. Carlson at the beginning was Mrs. Jack Sturges (Meymo) of Birmingham. She had to drop out of the program this summer, but her enthusiasm was contagious.

Before this renovation program began, Dr. Myroslaw Hruska who is in charge of geriatric patients, says that some of them didn't even know the name of the person sitting on the other end of the sofa.

One day was pretty much like another. They had no interest in their appearance or in what went on around them.

Then the three volunteers started spending one day a week in the "gerry" wards. (It must be understood that all the patients in the wards visited were able to be up and are 75 or over.)

When the volunteers started coming, the patients began to be aware of what day it was and many looked forward to Wednesdays. Not all of course. But sometimes a more alert look or, in dramatic cases, a word spoken by someone who hadn't talked for years showed interest.

Half a day was spent with the women, the other half with the men. With the help of nurses, a small group from each ward was picked to form a planning committee which met weekly. The aim, of course, was to get the patients to help plan their own activities.

I attended one of these early planning sessions in the women's ward. It took some skillful drawing out by the Gray Lady to get some of the patients to speak up; but they did. Now they take almost complete charge of such meetings.

COED ACTIVITIES

Early in the program, it was decided to bring the men and women together for group singing and parties. Some of the men refused to attend these first get-togethers, but nearly all of them came now.

The day before and the morning of these parties is like the day before a school prom. No teen-ager is fussier about her looks than some of these octogenarians.

Volunteers from local beauty shops came in weekly to give permanents, hair cuts and sets. Most of the men put on white shirts and ties.

Parties are held only a few times a year. More important probably are the two-day-a-week sessions (the volunteers now come on Mondays too). Their program includes group singing, craft projects, games and general conversation. There is always a coffee hour.

SONG BOOKS

At first they sang only old-time songs which they had known in the past. Mrs. Sturges had the words mimeographed in large type and bound into booklets.

When I was at the hospital last week, the group was practicing for their Harvest Moon ball. Not only are they going to sing the old songs, but they are learning some from current Broadway hits.

Their accompanist is a man in his 70's who has been a patient for 28 years and who plays entirely by ear. He learned to play the piano at the hospital.

For this party one of the men patients is acting as general chairman and is doing a more than adequate job, says Mrs. Benway. He has lined up committees and keeps tab on what they are doing.

The volunteers purchase supplies for the patients to do craft work. The Red Cross is now underwriting the expense of the program and many local businesses cooperate by giving material at discount.

The women embroider, crochet and knit. Some of the men weave.

Last week the volunteers were rejoicing over one weaver. A man who for years spoke only with his hand over his mouth and sat behind a partially closed door was given a small hand loom.

Now he is making attractive place mats and is participating in group life. He says that for the first time in his life he can do something for someone else.

Finished products are sold. Each worker is paid as soon as he completes a project. For many of these patients, it is the first chance they have had to handle money of their own and go to the hospital store.

When at the geriatric patients are moved into one ward (this starts this week), there will be a craft workshop for all the patients, one where they can go any time for supplies.

MRS. LAURENCE B. DE WITT piles and to work on their projects.

DAY ROOM FOR ALL

As plans are worked out for this new geriatric wing, it is hoped that there will be a common day room with separate dormitories for the men and women.

The elderly have special attitudes, needs and interest and the least resistance, says Dr. Hruska. They would disappear in a regular ward. But if they can enter the hospital soon after they become ill, receive treatment with the waiting, there will be quicker discharges. They must not be allowed to vegetate.

What pleases Mrs. Green, Dr. Hruska, the nurses and the volunteers so much is that their renovation program has worked with an average group. It has proved that even elderly, long-time patients will respond to someone who shows an interest in them.

In the beginning the Gray Ladies told the patients they were new at what they did here in Pontiac would help oldsters in hospitals elsewhere.

The patients are interested in hearing about the meetings the volunteers are attending and expect a report on them afterwards.

REACTIONS FAVORABLE

What is the reaction of those concerned with this project after almost a year?

Dr. Donald W. Martin, medical superintendent of the hospital, has this to say about "Gerry Project, Green Light":

"The efforts of volunteers in a mental hospital program as exemplified by Mrs. Benway and Mrs. Carlson is rewarding and of great value to all concerned and principally to the patients."

Mrs. Green says, "An idea and desire have become reality. But we've just begun."

Ted Panaretos, community relations director, says, "We've gotten away from the old do-gooder days. Now volunteers are part of the team with nurses, doctors and social workers. These gals are trail blazers."

"The reason this has worked is because of the cooperative nursing staff."

And tall, blonde, attractive, Shirley Benway concludes, "We talk about what we give the patients, but oh, they give us so much in return."

Unit Members Combine Efforts

Members of Rho chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa sorority combined their efforts Thursday evening for a cooperative dinner at the Otter Drive home of Mrs. E. Cleo Wiley. Evelyn Woodworth was co-hostess.

Mrs. Ross Tenny reported on the Great Lakes regional convention held in Columbus, Ohio and Mrs. Wiley gave highlights of the grand chapter meeting at Des Moines, Iowa.

Miss Woodward and Mrs. Morrell Jones will represent their chapter at the state convention voting Saturday in East Lansing.

Slices of the August trip to Mrs. David Walls home were shown.

Sally Pearce Weckler, daughter of the Harold L. Wecklers of Bloomfield Hills, was married in Christ Church Cranbrook Saturday to Laurence B. De Witt, son of the Right Rev. and Mrs. Robert L. De Witt of Philadelphia. The bride is a graduate of Smith College.

Council Starts Season With Tuesday Meeting

"Face to Face Contact," the program for the first meeting of the Pontiac PTA Council Tuesday, will be presented in the form of skits by the dramatic class of Pontiac Central High School.

Stuart Packard will direct the presentation, slated for 7:30 p.m. at Hawthorne School. After the program, a question and answer period will be conducted by Ralph Norvell of the Citizens Committee.

"Our Community, Our Opportunities, Our Responsibilities" is the theme for council meeting programs this year.

At the Tuesday meeting council officers and chairmen will be introduced by Mrs. Robert Trachet, president.

Dr. Dana Whitmer, school superintendent, will introduce the school administration staff.

Whitfield, Bagley and Harrington schools will provide hospitality and refreshments.

A Dog-gone Problem

Learn to Care for Pups

By ANGAUL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am 12 years old and have had eight dogs in my lifetime, one at a time.

The trouble is that something always happens to them when they are puppies.

They either run away, get hit by a car, bite somebody and we have to get rid of them, or they get sick and die.

I really love dogs, Abby, and you once said that you thought every boy should have one, but my father says I can't have another one. How can I convince him to let me have another dog?

UNLUCKY WITH DOGS

Alumnae Set First Meeting of Season

Delta Zeta alumnae of Oakland County will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Pine Hill Drive, Troy home of Mrs. Forbes S. Hascall for their first general meeting of the year.

"That Was The Year That Was" will be the theme as Mrs. Laurence E. Treavor Jr., of Huntington Woods, will present the awards won by the group at the national convention this past summer.

Mrs. Russell T. Costello of Orchard Lake will be the keynote speaker. She plans to discuss American citizenship.

A smorgasbord dinner is slated to round out the evening activities. Co-hostesses are Mrs. Donald C. Burch, Mrs. Marci L. Hagerman, Mrs. Albert C. Lucas, Mrs. Fredrick W. Sweeney, Mrs. Robert A. Hutten and Mrs. Ralph LaParl.

Others working on arrangements for the meeting are Phyllis Stapleton and Mrs. Carolyn W. Reese.

DEAR UNLUCKY: The eight dogs you've had were also unlucky. I never there's more to owning a dog, training it and protecting it than just "luck." I agree with your father.

Before you try to convince him to get another dog, get some instructions on the care and training of dogs from your local S.P.C.A. or a veterinarian.

DEAR ABBY: When we were married 30 years ago, my husband told me of a bit on his past.

He said he feared someone else might tell me if he didn't. He made me promise never to repeat it.

Several years ago, while visiting his relatives, I got so sick of hearing them praise him to the skies that I revealed what he had told me in order to shock them.

Naturally, my husband found out about it. Since that time he has treated me like a housekeeper and nothing more.

He told me he never could love, respect or trust me again. He asked for a legal separation. No divorce. I refused.

I dread the thought of spending my few remaining years alone. (We are both over 60, retired and have no children.)

He wants to give me half of everything he has and then get out of my sight. Should I give it to him?

Please answer in the paper as I do not want a reply coming here. Thank you.

DILEMMA
DEAR DILEMMA: Give him the legal separation.

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "Good Daughter," whose aging mother drove her crazy, could have been written by me.

My mother had a stroke and became cantankerous and demanding in her old age.

She would call me sometimes 20 times a day to tell me the same thing. I would become annoyed and even impatient with her.

I realize now that her memory was poor, and she had no conception of time, poor darling.

Mother passed away last July, and now I would welcome just one phone call from her.

I have a lovely family but, Abby—no one on earth can take the place of a mother. Please tell all those "good daughters," who complain because their aging mothers take up so much of their time, that before they know it they will have plenty of lonely hours to themselves, as nothing is forever.

MISSING MAMA

CONFIDENTIAL TO MICKY IN MANHATTAN: Write that letter. But don't mail it.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

To Lighten Wash Load

Is the daily pile of laundry getting you down? Here's a tip to save sorting and machine loads.

You may wash colored and white linens together. The better quality bed linens and towels are vat dyed to keep their colorfast.

The name is generally true for your cotton, linen and washable rayon men's shirts and children's clothes. Read the labels on your garments and laundry products and follow the manufacturers' directions for a bright, clean wash.

Bit of Spain Adds Drama to Wedding

Sally Pearce Weckler chose a costume touched with Spanish flavor for her Saturday marriage to Laurence Barrett De Witt.

Her white floor length Bi-anchi gown of silk satin featured beaded funnel sleeves edged in a loop fringe of tiny crystals. Her finger length mantilla was of rose point Brussels lace. The outfit was complemented by a cascade bouquet of gardenias and ivy.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Weckler of Bloomfield Hills. Her husband's parents are the Right Rev. and Mrs. Robert L. De Witt of Philadelphia.

Nuptials were performed in Christ Church Cranbrook by Rev. John Albrecht assisted by Rev. Lester Dobyns of Ann Arbor.

ATTENDING BRIDE

The maid and matron of honor for the bride were Hanley Bird of Denver and Mrs. Peter Amrani of Providence, R.I. Among the four bridesmaids was the bridegroom's sister, Katrina De Witt of Philadelphia. Others were Susan Troup of De Pere, Wis.; Margaret Winston of Bethlehem, Ill.; and Ruth Cox of Bethlehem, Pa.

Harvey Croze Jr. was best man. Escorting guests were Tom Kershner of Cambridge, Mass., the bridegroom's brother-in-law; Charles Bunting, Richard Sims of Amherst, Mass.; and Harold Weckler Jr., the bride's brother.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Orchard Lake Country Club. After their honeymoon, the couple will live temporarily in Syracuse, N.Y. Then, in April, move to either Pakistan or India.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Amherst College and is working on his masters degree in international public administration at Syracuse University.

His wife is a graduate of Smith College and also attended Middlebury College.

Is Mortgage Prepayment or Savings Better?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: Is it advisable to have a savings account on which I receive a little over 4 per cent in preference to paying off my mortgage that costs me 6 per cent?

I could pay an extra $200 monthly on the mortgage. I now put this $200 in my savings, an account I started this year. I deduct the 6 per cent interest I pay on my tax return.

L. A. M., Hollandale, Fla.

Dear L. A. M.: If this is a new mortgage and you put the $200 monthly into mortgage payments, you'll save more on interest than your savings account will earn. As you say, the mortgage interest is a deductible item on your federal income tax return.

You have to declare, as taxable income, any interest from a savings account amounting to $10 or more in any one year.

Prepaying the principal of your mortgage loan in the early years of the contract is especially advantageous—because, while the interest rate remains the same during the entire time of the contract, you pay interest on the unpaid principal.

In the beginning the unpaid principal is high, of course. However, if your mortgage contract includes a prepayment penalty, then paying it off ahead of time can be costly. Such penalties may run from 1 to 3 per cent on the outstanding balance during the first five or more years. Check your contract before making a decision.

Dear Miss Feeley: I enjoyed your article on renting a room on the "share" basis. I've done that for five years; had one lovely 71-year-old lady for three of the five years. She was congenial, thoughtful and a real pleasure to have in the house.

But sometimes I think a real "boarding house" printed list of rules is called for. I want to find another woman who doesn't spend one hour per morning in the bathroom, another 45 minutes making tea three hours to prepare and eat one pork chop for Sunday dinner for herself.

But one thing puzzles me—where on earth did you find $7 to $12 a week to be a good price to charge for sharing a home?

H. G. M., Providence, R.I.

Dear H. G. M.: Those figures came right out of the community in which that reader lived—and from homeowners themselves. The best way to check the validity of the rent you ask is by comparing it with the rental Want Ads in your local newspaper.

Costs and standards vary in different parts of the country, as you know. I make this suggestion for the benefit of other readers, too, who ask me what to charge for room and board.

It's only human to put a higher value on your own home than a stranger will. But when you have competition, you have to meet it or else.

I agree with your idea of "boarding house" rules. The only catch is—you'd have to enforce them. Would the battle be worth the money?

Dear Miss Feeley: We find we need a second car due to a change in my husband's business and moving to this city. But with all the other additional expenses, I don't see how we can afford a new car. We've never bought a second-hand car, and wonder if you can give us any tips on shopping for one?

Mrs. E. A. T., Portland, Me.

Dear Mrs. T.: There's really no substitute for having an experienced mechanic check a used car. But in your preliminary shopping, you can keep an eye out for certain indications that a car has or has not had good treatment.

For instance, does the upholstery look as if it has had excessive wear and tear? How about the floor mats and the brake pedal? Experts point out that if these are brand new, they might have been replaced because the car led a hard life.

Take a good look at the outside, to see if there is any substantial amount of rusting. There shouldn't be, if the car has had proper washing and waxing.

When you've picked what you think is your best buy, then let a mechanic give you his opinion before you sign on the dotted line.

A Beauty Hint

Margaret Merrill advises that it is quite simple for every woman to promote an English countryside complexion. Her hint to gain a peach-and-cream loveliness is to damp a cloth with cold water from your refrigerator and press it over your face for a few minutes once or twice a day. Then, to hold the good of the complexion - beautifying cold water smooths on a little tropical oil of olay. This oil is rather scarce and expensive but your drug store should be able to get you a small supply.

San Francisco 'Kicked' by Walker

One Down, Thirteen Remain for Victorious Lions

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. — One down and thirteen to go. That's the remaining football calendar for the Detroit Lions, who may not be as lucky to get away with a victory in another game such as 26-17 triumph over the San Francisco 49ers yesterday.

Coach George Wilson wasn't concerned as much after the game with the way the Lions won, but with the fact that they won.

"I'd take 13 more just like that," he said, "and I'm certainly not going to complain after winning."

The Lions moved freely in the first six series of plays, but couldn't hit on the clutch play for the touchdown when it was needed. As a result, Wayne Walker booted four field goals for a new Lions' single game record.

Walker, Jerry Perry, Jim Martin and Phil Martinovich all had three field goals in one game as the best in Detroit record books.

The Lions had an unusual first half. It may have appeared that they were underestimating the 49ers, but the players who played a big part in the scoring scoffed at this possibility.

POOR KICKOFFS

Walker, who was deadly with his 3-pointers kicking them from 33, 16, 31, and 28 yard lines without a miss, had trouble with his kickoffs which he had to repeat four extra times because of three out of bounds kicks and one penalty.

The veteran linebacker not only provided the winning margin of victory with his field goals but he shot through on what was probably the key play of the game to hit 49er quarterback John Brodie in the end zone, forcing Brodie to fumble and giving the Lions the ball on the five yard line.

"He's not alibing for his kick-offs," said Dr. Richard Thompson, team physician. "It was amazing he was able to kick those field goals as accurately as he did."

Walker showed a discolored bruise on his hip, and to keep the pain controlled, he was given a shot of pain killer.

"I was numb from the hip down on my right side," he said, "I had no feeling or a sense of direction."

Fortunately, his sense of direction on the field goals was priceless. The Lions moved the ball around for the first 18 plays with over 160 yards and still had only six points, two field goals to show for it.

The first time they had the ball they went 73 yards in 10 plays before Walker made it 34.

Milt Plum, hit Gail Cogdill on a 43 yard pass play as the key gain in the series.

San Francisco didn't hesitate to retaliate. John Brodie, using Bernie Casey as his prime receiver, moved the 49ers from their own 20 for the touchdown.

The scoring play was a 63 pass to Casey, who used his 6-foot-4 frame to jump high over the heads of Bobby Thompson and Yale Lary, take the ball on the Lions' 30 and go all the way for the TD.

Tommy Davis added the point, his 15th conversion in a row for a new NFL record.

On the next series the Lions failed to move and Lary had to punt out, but the next four times they had the ball they scored.

NICE CATCH

Starting on their own 28 yard line, Plum hit Terry Barr with a 48 yard aerial. Brodie made a beautiful over the head catch with two 49ers on his back and the ball rested on the Frisco 22.

A roughing penalty moved the ball to the 11, but two Plum passes and a try by Watkins went away and Walker again had to add three points.

On the next series, a couple minutes later, starting on the 49er 47 yard line, the Lions used eight plays and Nick Pietrosante went over for a three yard touchdown, to make it 13-7 with Walkers PAT.

Before the half ended, Plum again joined with Cogdill for a 43 yard completion and the 15 yard march ended with Walker kicking his third field goal. The half ended, 16-7.

The Lions sputtered in the third quarter after going 74 yards in 11 plays to make the score read 23-7. The key play was a 15 yard "modern" version of the statue of liberty from Plum to Watkins. Pietrosante clinched the march with a one yard dive for the TD.

Then the 49ers caught fire. Davis made it 23-10 with a 41 yard field goal, and when Yale Lary's punt got caught in the wind and netted only 21 yards, the 49ers went from the Detroit 10 in five plays for the touchdown.

Brodie again connected with Casey, who made a fingertip catch near the goal post for the touchdown and it was 23-17 with Davis' PAT.

Between the Lions' touchdown and the 49er field goal, two of Walker's kickoffs went out of bounds for five yard penalties.

In the 4th period, the Lions were unable to get moving and fortunately a couple key defensive plays were essential to keep the victory from trickling away. San Francisco was deep in its own territory and Brodie had to go into his own end zone to pass. Walker stormed in and out him down.

RECOVERED FUMBLE

The ball popped out of his hands and bounced freely to the five yard line.

CHAMPAGNE MOOD — Champagne Tony Lema and wife, Betty, enjoy a champagne toast after his five-stroke victory over Ken Venturi in the $50,000 World Series Golf tournament at Akron, Ohio yesterday.

Lema's Favorite Drink Spiced With $50,000

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Champagne Tony Lema stopped his favorite drink, stuffed a $50,000 check in his pocket — thankful for the break which helped him capture the World Series of Golf Sunday.

The British Open champion struck a tree on one shot only to have the ball career 100 yards farther down the middle of the fairway, and used a blacktop walk as a guide to an important par on No. 9. He boosted his lead over his nearest rival, U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi.

Going into the final round, Lema trailed Venturi by one stroke. Masters champion

Arnold Palmer and PGA winner Bobby Nichols were never in the running as Lema fired a 34-34 — 68 for a 138 total and Venturi blew to a 38-36-74 and 148.

Nichols had a 36-34-70 Sunday for a 147 and Palmer, the pre-tournament favorite, had a pair of 74s to finish last with 148.

Venturi's share of the $75,000 purse was $15,000 while Nichols and Palmer pocketed $5,000 each from a swing which does not count in official earnings. Lema wasted no time Sunday in catching Venturi and pulled into a tie on the second hole as Venturi took a bogey 6. The two remained tied on No. 2. But Champagne Tony took the lead on No. 4 when Venturi took the second of six bogeys he posted in the round.

Phillies' Bunning Near Rare Mark

By The Associated Press
Jim Bunning, Philadelphia's ace right-hander, is three steps away from a rare pitching double that hasn't been accomplished in 40 years.

Bunning, who earlier this season pitched a perfect game, posted his 17th victory Sunday in the National League leaders' 4-1, 10-inning triumph over San Francisco and took another giant stride toward becoming a 20-game winner in each league. Only nine pitchers in major league history ever have posted 20 victories in both the National and American leagues, among them Cy Young, Jack Chesbro and Joe McGinnity. Bunning, however, could become the first since Carl Mays in 1924.

SUBMARINER

Mays, a submarine specialist, won 20 games in the AL with Boston in 1917 and 1918 and with the New York Yankees in 1920 and 1921 before switching to the National League and becoming a 20-game winner with Cincinnati.

Bunning, who won 20 games with Detroit in 1957, likely will make four or five more starts in the Phillies' final 19 games.

He checked the Giants on seven hits, bringing his record to 17-4 — best in the majors on a percentage basis.

Bunning's pitching and a three-run 10th built on Tony Taylor's double, a single by Johnny Callison and Richie Allen's homer kept the Phillies'.

bulge at six games over the second-place St. Louis Cardinals, who put together a rare feat of their own.

Walloping the Chicago Cubs 15-4, the Cardinals became only the second team in modern major league history to score in every one of nine innings. The New York Giants did it against Philadelphia in 1923.

Elsewhere, Cincinnati remained seven games back by beating Warren Spahn and Milwaukee 9-2. Don Drysdale won his 18th game as the Los Angeles Dodgers edged the New York Mets 5-4 and Pittsburgh blanked Houston 3-0.

Bunning struck out seven Giants, raising his season total to 15 while lowering his earned-run average to 2.23.

The Cardinals rapped 18 hits while the Cubs contributed even errors to their downfall. Dick Groat lashed four hits, driving in three runs, while Mike Shannon knocked in four runs. Shannon, Julian Javier and Lou Brock homered in support of Curt Simmons' 15th victory against nine defeats.

SPAHN BOMBED

Spahn returned to the Braves' starting rotation, but the Reds battered the veteran left-hander for five runs and eight hits, driving him out in the third inning. The loss dropped Spahn's record to 8-13 and his ERA to 5.43.

Tommy Harper cracked a two-run homer and Vada Pinson connected with none on as the Reds halted Milwaukee's six-game winning streak.

Spartan, Wolverine 11s Have Some Bad Moments

By The Associated Press
The first two strings at both Michigan and Michigan State had some bad moments in game-time football scrimmages Saturday.

Pinpoint passing by two junior quarterbacks helped Michigan's second string seriously threaten the first.

And at Michigan State, the reserves stopped the two top out-fits in the second half.

MSU's first string also suffered a jolt when Dick Proebel, the number two quarterback, was knocked out with a concussion. The team physician, Dr. James Feurig, said Proebel probably will miss the opening game against North Carolina next week.

At Michigan, Pete Hollis hit on seven of nine passes and Wally Gahler hit on five of six and at the half the first string Blues led only 14-6. Gahler tossed 23 yards to Clayton White for the second string Whites' only touchdown.

In the second half, the Blues went on to a 55-6 romp when Coach Bump Elliott broke up the White lineup with frequent substitutions of lower string players.

Elliott praised the second team's efforts. He said he was concerned that the Wolverines were "operating in spurts" rather than sustaining drives.

At East Lansing, all the scoring came in the first half and the Spartan first stringers won 17-0.

Steve Juday, junior quarterback, scored one touchdown on a 29-yard pass and backed the final three yards for another. Steve Bobich kicked two extra points and a field goal.

Iron-Man Pitching Wins Tourney Title

An iron-man performance by the Flint Top Hat Bat team resulted in the championship of the first Invitational Softball Tournament completed yesterday at the Drayton Plains diamond.

The Flint team, an 8-1 loser in the first round on Friday night, won five games Sunday to overcome all opponents and win the Richardson Dairy title trophy.

The barman had eliminated Pontiac's Bob & Larry's Bar, 9-2, in their only Saturday contest of the double elimination tournament.

The championship playoffs after Top Hat overcame the Waterford Township entry, Spencer Floor Covering, 9-2 and 2-1.

Spencer had gone unbattered into the 7 p. m. Sunday title game but lost, necessitating another game at 8:30.

Top Hat's Bill Brandt hurled a five-hitter and had a 3-run first inning cushion in the opener. The final game saw Spencer take a 1-0 lead in the top of the third.

But the tourney's leading pitcher, Stan Austin (he won three games Sunday), led off the bottom of the inning with a double.

Teammate Whitey Long then came through with a clutch single leading to two runs, which were all Austin needed. Long won the most valuable player award.

Earlier in the day, Top Hat had eliminated Pontiac champion 300 Bowl, 6-5, on a two-run rally in the last inning.

The latter had been knocked into the losers' bracket by Spencer's Saturday, 4-0, as Jack Mazur tossed a four-hitter and Harry Dearborn and Louis Seay homered.

Spencer received the Waterford Hotel runner-up trophy for its efforts. Lakeland Pharmacy presented the MVP, top pitcher and sportsmanship trophies. The latter went to Roy Babcock of the Flint Murphy Trucking entry.

State College Football Teams Split 4 Games

Central, Mich. Tech Post Wins; Hillsdale Whipped, 34-12

By The Associated Press
Sweetness was mixed with bitterness for Michigan's college football fans over the weekend as four state teams kicked off their 1964 seasons.

TWO WON, TWO LOST

On the sweet side, Central Michigan University downed Wisconsin State 31-7 at Saginaw and Michigan Technological University beat Superior (Wis.) State 7-0 at Houghton.

But State College of Iowa beat Northern Michigan University 14-7 and Findlay (Ohio) drubbed Hillsdale College 34-12.

GROUND GAINERS

Dick Smith and Bruce Wyman ran for CMU's two touchdowns as the Chippewas ground out 293 yards rushing, but only 35 in the air. Wisconsin's lone score came on a one-yard run by Vilnis Ezersins.

Michigan Tech took advantage of a blocked punt to break up a scoreless defensive battle in the fourth quarter. Tackle Charles Luchessi fell on the ball, and halfback Tom Samach clinched a 35-yard drive with a 13-yard touchdown run.

Over at Iowa State in Cedar Falls, halfback Bruce Montgomery scored both enemy touchdowns — one on an 80-point return.

Northern scored on a 19-yard pass from quarterback Terry Nyquist to end Byron Johnson. Iowa totaled 220 yards rushing and 59 in the air, dwarfing NMU's 61 and 37, respectively.

33 PLAYS

Findlay dominated most of the evening on its home gridiron, running 93 plays from scrimmage compared to only 48 by Hillsdale.

Al Smith of Findlay and Bruce McLenna of Hillsdale each ran for two touchdowns, but Findlay quarterback Martin Terry also collected two touchdowns with a one-yard run and a pass to Jim Lane. Pat Cottrell added a final six-pointer for the Ohioans, returning an intercepted pass 25 yards in the closing seconds.

State College of Iowa 14, Northern Michigan 7, Central Michigan University 13, Wisconsin State 7, Findlay (Ohio) 34, Hillsdale College 12, Michigan Technological University 7, Superior State (Wis.) 9.

Bill Farrah Tells How to Save Money Without Really Trying.

First, decide now to make your next car a Rambler. It's the lowest priced U.S. built car. And the '65's are simply stunning to look at and to drive. Second, as Oakland County's No. 1 dealer, with the largest Rambler volume, we don't have to make as much on each car we sell as a smaller volume dealer does.

So those two moot points, add the fact that you get better mileage with a Rambler than with any other car in its class, as proved by all the official economy runs.

On top of all that, add the longer useful, service-free car life due to Rambler Single Unit, Safety construction and Deep Dip rustproofing. And there you have it. Now all you have to do is to come in and get it at....

You Can't Flee Flu, Get Immunized Now

By DR. WAYNE G.
BRANDSTADT

Influenza has been known since about 1510, but the first influenza virus was not discovered until 1933.

The disease got its name from the Italians, who believed that it was caused by the influence of cold weather.

The cold does seem to lower our resistance to the virus.

The victim may have what appears to be a slight cold or he may be prostrated with fever, generalized aching and loss of appetite, in addition to the usual symptoms of an upper respiratory infection.

Your best protection against this disease is influenza vaccine, but the immunity it confers rarely lasts a year.

EARLY IN FALL

Those who need it should take it early in the fall every year.

The vaccine has the further disadvantage that it protects against only six of the many types of flu virus that have now been isolated.

You have can never be sure which type will predominate in an epidemic.

For that reason, the Public Health Service recommends that the groups who would suffer most from an attack be vaccinated as soon as possible.

TOO LATE?

It takes at least two weeks for the vaccination to give you an immunity. If you wait until an epidemic gets started, it may be too late.

The vaccine should certainly be given to those children who have chronic bronchitis, rheumatic heart disease, or cystic fibrosis.

Among adults, those who are weakened by any chronic disease, those who are over 65, and all pregnant women should take it.

Of course, if an epidemic in any part of the world appears to be heading this way, the Public Health Service will make every effort to find out what immunological type is predominant and to issue warnings in time for mass vaccination of most of the population.

PROTECTIVE MEASURES
Other protective measures in an epidemic consist of avoiding crowds, washing your hands before meals and teaching your children to cover their nose and mouth when they cough or sneeze.

Call your doctor if any unusual symptoms develop.

NEW TRAIN—This is an interior view of the inside of Tokyo's new monorail, the $44.5-million train that will whisk passengers from the Japanese capital's airport to its central area. The monorail opens shortly before the Olympic Games begin next month. The 8.2-mile ride will cost about 70 cents and take about 15 minutes.

New Monorail in Tokyo to Debut

TOKYO (AP)—A fast new mode of public transportation is making its debut shortly before the Olympic Games to ferry passengers from Tokyo International Airport into the city.

It is a double-track monorail expected to carry 30,000 persons daily over an 8.2-mile distance in 15 minutes.

Built in 15 months at a cost of $44.5 million by a private firm, it utilizes the West German Alweg system, in which the coaches ride on rubber tires atop a concrete rail. Other systems usually have coaches suspended from the track.

The new Tokyo monorail is described as the first real commercial attempt to use this means of transportation. Other existing monorails are mostly short, single-track circuits and not considered mass transportation means.

The Tokyo monorail starts in front of the airport terminal, proceeds 600 yards under the airport, then emerges over the sea and runs for five miles along the coast of Tokyo Bay.

5-STORY BUILDING

Its terminal is a five-story building at Hamamatsu Station, a mile from the center of the city.

Previously it took from one hour to 90 minutes to drive from the airport to the city. People often wished for helicopter service.

The monorail almost fills this wish. It hits maximum speed of 50 miles per hour and still is somewhat bumpy. One passenger who rode test runs compared it to riding a bus on a bumpy road.

Company officials attributed the vibration to joints in the concrete beam rail. They say it will be reduced by adjustments in the next few months.

ANOTHER LINE

The Tokyo monorail company plans to build another line from the airport to Yokohama, 10.6 miles in the other direction.

The one-way fare on the present run is 250 yen (70 cents), less than a fourth of what a taxi ride costs. The monorail will operate six-coach units, with a capacity of about 500 persons, at 10-minute intervals, starting from both stations.

The trip will offer new arrivals a panorama of Tokyo and the bay from benches that swivel so passengers may look in all directions.

'Dora' Heads Into Atlantic

Assault on U. S. Is Apparently at an End

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Onetime Hurricane Dora, now a wet and windy tropical storm, sped northeastward into the Atlantic today, her savage assault on the United States apparently at an end.

Barring an abrupt change of course, the Weather Bureau said, Dora no longer threatened any land area even though she might, over the water, regain her hurricane punch.

In an almost week-long meandering journey through Florida and Georgia and up the coasts of North Carolina and Virginia's tidewater, Dora left at least seven persons dead and property damage reckoned at many millions of dollars.

The storm, a disorganized mixture of gale winds and torrential rain, raked north Carolina and Virginia Sunday. Wide swaths along the coast were flooded by Dora's rains and by high tides kicked up by her winds, gusting to 61 m.p.h.

SEVENTH VICTIM

In Norfolk, Dora claimed her seventh life. Preston Taylor, 73, died of a heart attack while trying to secure his boat at its moorings.

No major damage was reported in North Carolina or Virginia, but tides three to four feet above normal flooded roads on Hatteras Island and low-lying streets in Norfolk. Some highways further inland were flooded and Norfolk's municipal airport was closed for a time.

Saturday night, Dora had spawned a small tornado at Howell's Point, 30 miles south of Wilmington, N.C. Cottages were damaged but no one was injured.

Massive mop-up operations continued in Florida. Gov. Farris Bryant toured flooded areas and said the damage in Love Oak was "more permanent and substantial than any wind damage I saw at Jacksonville."

High water in Georgia streams was expected to cause flooding today and Tuesday in the Santa Fe, Savannah and Alpha rivers.

'Ethel' at Sea After Fringes Hit Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — Hurricane Ethel swirled into the chilly North Atlantic today after her fringe winds brushed Bermuda. Tropical storm Gladys was moving in from the east toward Puerto Rico.

No deaths were caused on Bermuda by Ethel, but trees were blown down, power lines cut, boats sunk and roads flooded. Winds averaged 75 miles an hour with gusts up to 100.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said Ethel is expected to stay on a northeastern course into the North Atlantic. At 11 p.m. Sunday Ethel was 350 miles south-southeast of Nova Scotia's Sable Island. Center winds ran up to 100 miles an hour and gale winds extended 250 miles to the east and 150 miles to the west.

Gladys was still about 1,000 miles east-southeast of Puerto Rico and moving west-northwest at 18 miles an hour. Her highest winds are about 70 miles an hour.

Tides Endanger Facilities at Beach

JEKYLL ISLAND, Ga. (AP) — Most of the state's beach facilities here are in danger of being undermined as a result of the pounding they received from Hurricane Dora.

The storm lashed the Brunswick area Wednesday and turned northeast over Georgia Sunday, causing high seas to give the beaches a second beating.

The state's multimillion-dollar Aquanauts, resting above the beach with only a few feet of sand separating it from the breakers, is in a precarious position. The sea has moved in over a recently built rock barrier.

Necessary Adjunct to Learning

Power to Concentrate Can Be Acquired

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Some students daydream, doodle, whatever, but put their mind on their work. What the teacher says goes in one ear and out the other. They read a chapter four or five times and still don't know what it says. They fool around for long periods of time and can't settle down to work. DR. NASON homework.

In direct contrast are the students who concentrate so well that when they study "you could shoot off a cannon and they wouldn't hear it."

All students should be trained in concentration. This is something lasting. They can use it all their lives.

It is a transferable skill!

The ability to concentrate one's thoughts on a chosen subject is not something with which a student is born. It can result from training and practice. Developing it calls for a positive approach. A student must know the kind of thoughts that will lead to study and learning.

For example, when studying a history lesson, a student may give his mind several tasks: first to decide what he is to find out through reading, and second to rectify back occasionally.

As he reads he can fill his mind with mental pictures of the events being described. He can "see" the happenings in their location on the map. He may even see them happening in costume.

BRING THOUGHTS.

As he brings more and more of his own thoughts to bear upon the study of the history he is reading, random thoughts are crowded out. He is concentrating on history.

A student should read ahead and have a general idea of the materials to be talked about before they are brought up in class. He can then organize, summarize and clarify his thoughts about the matter as the teacher talks.

If necessary to keep his mind on the subject he should try games like trying to guess what the teacher will say next.

In playing this game the mind is led into organizing what the teacher has already said as a basis for his next guess.

PLAN APPROACH

These are but illustrations. A student can plan his approach to the study of ANY subject so that his mind will be kept busy and will be forced to concentrate.

This skill can not be acquired suddenly. The first time he tries it a student may be able to concentrate for no more than five minutes. When his thoughts start to wander he should stop, move about the room or walk around the block, reset his plans and try again.

As he trains himself, the periods of complete concentration will become longer. The important thing is that he keep trying.

The estimated loss of San Francisco's fire of 1906 which destroyed 28,000 buildings was $500 million. The Chicago fire which destroyed 12,000 buildings valued at $175 million.

Opening lead—♥A

By OSWALD JACOBY

I think it was the late Cmdr. Winfield Liggett who said, "I care not who holds the nation's two bids, if I can make the killing opening leads."

At first glance, West has an automatic lead of the spade king.

A little employment of gray matter, plus a review of the bidding, will disclose a better lead. South has shown a two suiter and West has the second suit pickled. West wants to destroy as much of dummy's ruffing power as possible, so he opens the ace of trumps and continues with the four spade. South will drop a high trump on the ace to be able to win the second trump lead in dummy. Then he will lose some sort of diamond finesse.

Narcotic Flourishing Despite Resistance

TANGIER, Morocco (AP) — Over the rugged mountains of the north Moroccan Rif, a helicopter whirled and men peered through binoculars at the parched slopes below.

The Rif Mountains—Residential Districts are designated for multiple dwelling structures which are located in the multiple-family residential districts. The multiple dwelling is further defined to be a building containing two or more separate dwelling units, each of which is a separate dwelling unit.

Despite efforts of authorities, the growing and smuggling of keef continues to be a booming business in the kingdom of Morocco.

In the past decade, 325 tons of keef were seized. The amount is believed to be only a fraction of what changed hands, was smoked or left the country aboard smugglers' boats or in the suitcases of foreigners.

CHAP NARCOTICS

For keef — a tobacco-like product similar to Indian hemp — is one of the cheapest narcotics available. Here, in this once notorious seaport of international fame, a pound of keef can be bought for as little as $3.

It is smoked in tiny clay pipes attached to long wooden holders made by local craftsmen and frequently sold to tourists as souvenirs in crowded Moroccan markets.

Up to 1954, keef was sold freely throughout Morocco. The World Health Organization declared keef a dangerous drug and the fight against the growers and smugglers was on.

Soon, the government of newly independent Morocco struck violent opposition of Berbers in the northern part of the country, where keef is virtually the only thing that doesn't refuse to grow in the barren mountains.

So, despite surveillance and the mountains, the growing of keef continues — a time-sanded occupation passed from father to son.

8 Blocks of Alarm Clocks

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — In the skies over an eight-block area of East Denver flutter some 10,000 noisy starlings, shutting out the evening sun and dismaying residents.

The unwanted birds roost in the trees at night.

The birds invaded Denver last fall as well, but stayed only about four weeks then.

"They fly down to the trees about 5:30 p.m. each day and wake up at 4:30 a.m. the next morning," Mrs. Frank Pomeranz said. "The chatter is awful. It wakes everybody."

Strength in Steels

Mart Aims at 9th Daily Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—Strength in steels helped the stock market move toward its ninth straight daily advance early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

Gains of most key stocks were mainly fractional, but the number of losses was increasing as traders took profits on recent gains.

Glowing reports of orders for steel and of improvement in the industry accompanied the rise in steels. Also helpful were prospects of labor peace in the auto industry as union talks continued with Ford.

Motors moved to the upside after an uncertain start. The trend was generally higher among nonferrous metals, electrical appliances, tobacco and mail order-retails.

Aerospace issues, airlines and building materials declined.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 3.34, with Industrials up 3.81 and 6 utilities off 2.

U.S. Steel climbed nearly a point. Bethlehem was very active and added a fraction.

Also up fractionally were Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin.

On the American Stock Exchange some wide gains were made as the list moved higher in moderate trading. Rollins Broadcasting rounded 5 points. Gains of around 2 were made by Pyle National, O'Keefe Copper, New Process, Hill's Supermarkets 'A' and Computer Sciences.

Paul VI Opens Third Session

Vatican City (AP)—Pope Paul VI opened the third and possibly decisive session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council today and called on the bishops of the Roman Catholic Church to clarify their place in church government with regard to him.

The pontiff called this task of defining papal-bishop authority an issue with overtones for Christian unity — the "weightiest and most delicate" task of the council.

He said it would complete the concept of papal primacy elaborated at the last ecumenical council. He made clear that sharing of authority with the bishops did not mean a lessening of papal power.

"As successors of Peter and therefore possessors of full power over the entire Church, we have the duty of heading the body of the episcopate," the Pope said. "Nevertheless, our position in no way deprives you, our brother bishops, of your due authority."

SACRED AUTHORITY

"On the contrary we are among the first to respect that sacred authority."

The issue of shared papal-bishop authority has divided the progressive and conservative elements in the council, and its resolution is expected to set the tone of Roman Catholicism in the modern world.

Some conservative prelates want to put the whole matter of shared authority off to some future council, or leave it entirely to the Pope.

The council starts its daily workings Tuesday.

It still has 13 schemata to deal with. The greatest controversy is expected to focus on three or four of them.

13 SCHEMATA

Q) "What are these inherited stocks worth? I don't need money now but will need additional income at retirement in five years. I own 21 Standard Oil of Indiana, 25 Socony Mobil, 20 Great Northern Railway, 20 (G. C.) Murphy Stores, 5 Bethlehem Steel preferred." D.F.

A) If you sold you would receive about $6,000 after commissions.

I advise you to retain those issues which seem most likely to increase in value over the next five years. Standard Oil of Indiana and Socony Mobil are good oils for growth. Great Northern is expected to merge with Northern Pacific and Burlington which should help it to grow. Two. These three I would hold.

Murphy (G. C.) has shown no growth for years and I would sell this issue. Bethlehem proposes to convert your preferred into $75 4/8 debentures, or $75 cash for each share of preferred. I would accept the debentures.

(Mr. Spear cannot answer all personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.)

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Exuberance and caution suddenly are becoming partners and rivals.

The stock market signals expectation of another climb in the economy. But many traders who recall the signals that way think the advance may be more inflationary than healthy.

Consumers push retail sales to another record high. But collectively they're saving more time than any three-month period since World War II.

Manufacturers still think their sales will climb a bit more in the final months of the year. But they see the pace much slower than it has been earlier in 1964. And they expect part of it to be a buildup in inventories, which would be still another change of pace.

Industrial production, seasonally adjusted, holds at or near a record high, thanks to a smaller than usual summer lull. But some industries aren't enjoying the boom. And for many, production costs of labor or materials are rising.

EXUBERANCE SHOWING

The exuberance that shows in the stock market and in predictions of some corporate chiefs comes from several things:

—But that labor peace is all but in the cards throughout the auto industry, allaying the threat of a strike that would have crippled much of the economy.

—Expectation that consumers, better heeled than ever, will soon be spending at a still faster rate.

—Trust in the very momentum of the long upswing in business activity carrying good times along for several months more.

The caution beginning to show through all the general optimism also has several sources.

—Doubt that any economic upturn, especially one already in its 43rd month, can last too much longer.

—Worry that an overconfident stock market, with the little fellow taking revived interest, might trip over speculative excesses.

—Reading of inflationary threats into the Chrysler labor contract, if it foretells a rise in labor costs in many other industries that would pull prices up, too.

—Fretting over the recent upturn in the taking on of new consumer debt.

—And the watchful attitude that many investors and businessmen instinctively take when a presidential campaign heats up.

POINT HIGHER

For all the caution, most of the economic indicators still point higher. Prophets of a downturn are hard indeed to find. And caution itself can be an asset, as it wards off excesses that might lead to trouble.

Manufacturers' temperance views of the rest of this year are set forth in a Commerce Department survey taken in August. The predictions average out to a sales advance of half of 1 percent. This compares to gains of around 2 per cent in each of the first two quarters of 1964 and in the third one ending September 30.

Even with the slowdown, the year's gain over 1963 would be 6 per cent. The rise that year over 1962 was 4 per cent.

Consumers were doing their bit in August by pushing retail sales up to a record $22.1 billion. And with personal income totals still climbing and individual savings totals at a record high, merchants are preparing for record November and December sales.

With caution, they're saying sales will be only a bit higher than last year. But if stock prices stay high, a lot of shoppers might be more exuberant than usual.

KASOTA, Minn. (AP) — Ten children, "so scared they ran around in circles and didn't know what to do," died in a fire that swept through their farm home.

Another child, Joanne McConnell, 14, was the only occupant to escape the burning home Saturday night. She jumped from a second-story window and, barefoot and wearing only a nightgown, pedaled a mile on her bicycle to the nearest telephone.

Fright Traps 10 Children; All Killed in Home Fire

Joanne and nine of the victims were children and stepchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bowdish. The other child killed was an orphan boy who lived with the family.

Bowdish, an unemployed auto mechanic, had moved his family to the rented home just outside Kasota about a week ago. They had been making repairs on the house the family owned in Mankato, about six miles southwest. Kasota is a town of about 650 population in southern Minnesota.

PARENTS NOT HOME

Mrs. and Mrs. Bowdish were not home when the fire broke out. They had driven to Minneapolis to pick up some appliances which friends had given them.

The victims were Daniel Bowdish, 3; Loretta Bowdish, 4; Lucetta Bowdish, 5; Kenneth Bowdish, 6; Linda McConnell, 7; Marvin McConnell, 10; Richard McConnell, 11; Mary McConnell, 13; Robert McConnell, 16; and Roger Brown, 15. The McConnell youngsters were Mrs. Bowdish's children by a previous marriage.

ORPHAN BOY

The Brown boy, an orphan, had been living with the Bowdish family for about two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowdish learned of the tragedy when they arrived from Minneapolis about midnight Saturday. Law officers stopped them on the road near the house and broke the news.

The couple went to nearby St. Peter and talked to Joanne, the only survivor for shock.

"It's not one's fault," the weeping mother told Joanne. "Just be thankful you got out. It was meant to happen, or I wouldn't have happened."

ALL IN BED

Joanne said all the children except Robert were in bed when the blaze broke out.

Robert was in the basement, lighting the wood-fired furnace.

Sheffield's doctor said that the car in which Mr. Street was riding was driven by her son Dennis, 18. Mrs. Sheffield was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Richard.

Plane Crash Kills Boys, Baby Sitter

To Seek Funds for New School

A 10-week campaign to raise $1.5 million for construction of a new Catholic high school in Pontiac began today with formation of a fund-raising committee.

Heading the committee will be William H. Dean, 97 Adelaide, and Dr. William J. Janeczek, 379 W. Iroquois, campaign chairman and assistant chairman, respectively.

2 Men Killed on Area Roads

Separate Accidents on County Highways

Oakland County's highway death toll climbed during the weekend in two separate single fatality accidents Saturday and Sunday nights.

Gregory D. Strickley, 27, died from injuries suffered when he was knocked from his motorcycle when the car he was attempting to pass on Adams road in Pontiac Township swerved left and struck him.

Other cyclists who were riding behind Strickley did not have an operators license to ride the bike, which belonged to a Taylor township man.

Deputies said Strickley did not have an operators license to ride the bike, which belonged to a Taylor township man.

A three-car accident in Troy Saturday caused the death of Pacifico Paolini, 64, of 24301 Rensselaer, Oak Park, and left his wife, Ethel, in serious condition at William Beaumont Hospital.

Funds will be sought from five parishes to be served by the proposed high school. These are St. Vincent de Paul, St. Joseph, and St. Michael, in Pontiac; Sacred Heart in Auburn Heights; and St. Benedict in Waterford Township.

An 80-acre parcel of land has been purchased for the new school on the southeast corner of Walton and Giddings.

The land was bought by the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit. Announcement of the proposed school was made in May.

The school is slated to accommodate 1,500 students from the five Pontiac area parishes.

Plans for the school are now being drawn, according to Father James Hayes of St. Michael's Church, honorary clergy chairman. The architects for the project are Ken Paulsen & Associates of Bloomfield Hills.

The fund drive will be coordinated by John V. McCarthy & Associates, Inc., of Detroit.

The site of the new school extends along the south side of Walton, a quarter mile east of Giddings and south along Giddings for a half mile.

The building will occupy only about 40 acres of the 80-acre site.

DETROIT SPEECH — Secretary of State Dean Rusk was scheduled to arrive at Metropolitan Airport today for a noon luncheon address to the Detroit Economic Club and a meeting in Windsor with Canadian External Affairs Minister Paul Martin.

Boycott Cuts Attendance at NY Schools

NEW YORK (AP) — A white boycott substantially cut attendance today at public schools involved in a program of using buses to balance enrollments.

The protest also caused opening day absenteeism at many other schools not affected by the busing program.

Police reported 1,975 persons, mostly white parents, picketed 150 schools.

Total attendance figures for the million-pupil public school system, the nation's largest, were not available in the first hours after opening bells rang.

The board of education reported that a check of the eight institutions chosen for the busing program showed absenteeism ranging from 18 per cent at a predominantly Negro school to 68 per cent at a predominantly white.

One virtually all-white elementary school in Brooklyn had completely empty classrooms.

Khanh Returns as Saigon Chief After Uprising

Military Coup Falters Without Bloodshed; Leader States Goals

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A bloodless military uprising aimed at ousting Premier Nguyen Khanh collapsed today and Khanh returned securely to power in Saigon. He called for "discipline, honor and unity."

The attempted coup faltered and died less than 24 hours after 2,000 rebel troops marched into Saigon under orders from their dissident commanders to arrest Khanh as a traitor. Not a shot was fired.

Khanh subsequently told a news conference that the chief objective of his government now is to destroy communism, colonialism and neutralism while building through democracy.

The 37-year-old major general, who is in his eighth month as head of South Viet Nam's U.S.-backed government, said he was moved by the spirit of unity shown by the armed forces. He evidently referred to the military leaders who chose to back him in the showdown.

"Facing the threat of internal strife, we proved to be very worthy and we were able to save the precious blood of all our fighters against the Communist Viet Cong," he said.

AT CONFERENCE — Khanh was seated at the conference table with the top officers who saved him from ouster. These included the air force commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, who held Saigon airport against the rebels; and the paratroop commander, Brig. Gen. Cao Van Vien.

Notably absent was Brig. Gen. Duong Van Duc, commander of the rebel forces, who capitulated to Ky early this morning.

Ky and other loyal generals announced that none of the rebel officers would be punished. But sources close to the government said later unreliable elements in the armed forces probably will be weeded out.

Khanh pledged to keep his earlier promise to prepare for a civilian government "which has the confidence of the entire people." He declined to answer questions and said he had to rush off to an important government meeting.

IN WASHINGTON — In Washington, U.S. officials expressed relief that Khanh remained in power but could not say whether the events would bolster or further weaken his shaky hold in the embattled country.

The attempted coup, engineered by a group of military officers, was completed today.

Today's temperatures started climbing from a low of 47 before 8 a.m. By 1 p.m. it had risen into the 70s with a temperature of 72.

VP Hopefuls Argue AMC Unveils Barry's Rights Stand 'Broadest Line'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican nominee Barry Goldwater's views on civil rights have come in for sharply divergent assessments from the GOP and Democratic candidates for vice president.

Rep. William E. Miller, the Republican candidate, praised Goldwater's civil rights views yesterday during an interview on television. In a news conference at Albuquerque, N. M., however, Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey sharply criticized the Arizona's recent statements.

Miller said that if Goldwater is elected president "he will fully enforce the civil rights law" and "will put the moral persuasion and leadership of the White House behind all law enforcement, in this country, in addition to just enforcing the civil rights law."

Humphrey, campaigning through the West for himself and President Johnson, was asked in Albuquerque yesterday whether he thought Goldwater was trying to introduce racial issues into the campaign through charges of lawlessness and violence in cities.

"I doubt I could draw any other conclusions," he said, "than the fact that the senator from Arizona is equating the violence that takes place in certain cities with the race issue and the civil rights bill."

CAMPAIGNS TODAY — Humphrey planned to campaign in Missouri today before returning to Washington and an assignment from President Johnson to get Senate Democrats.

Democratic liberals lined up to fight for a compromise amendment on reapportionment. The senator starts a new campaign swing Thursday.

In a speech prepared for Springfield, Mo., Humphrey urged Democrats not to become complacent about the election effort. He said Goldwater could be elected "only if we let him win."

Goldwater and Miller spent today in Washington in preparation for another full week of campaigning starting tomorrow.

Goldwater will head south for his first invasion of the Dixie fields that could provide an unprecedented GOP harvest of electoral votes Nov. 3. Miller takes off for Texas and other western and midwestern states.

FONTANA, Wis. (AP) — American Motors Corp. has unveiled its "broadest model lineup in AMC history."

The firm showed three distinct lines with 28 models and seven engine options at its news preview here Saturday.

Last year the firm had 25 models and five engine options.

Heavy emphasis is laid on convertibles in an especially strong pitch to the so-called youth market.

The American wheelbase remained unchanged at 106 inches and the Classic at 112. The Ambassador was up from 112 to 116.

Pilot Critical in Fiery Wreck Near Pontiac

Asked Permission for Emergency Landing at Municipal Airport

By BILL EASTHAM

Two small Detroit boys and their baby sitter, who had planned to visit the Detroit zoo but decided to go for a plane ride instead yesterday afternoon when their single-engine plane crashed just west of Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Killed in the crash were Jeffrey Philip Part, 5, his 4-year-old brother, Gregory, and Judy A. Korytkowski, 22, all of Detroit.

The pilot, Roy S. McPhail, 27, also of Detroit, is in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital with burns over 50 per cent of his body.

McPhail took off from Detroit City Airport with the girl and the two youngsters yesterday afternoon, according to Waterford Township Police.

They flew to Flint, where they landed, and were on their way back to Detroit when the pilot radioed the control tower at Pontiac Municipal at 5:38, requesting clearance for an emergency landing.

McPhail told operators in the tower that he could smell gasoline fumes in the cockpit of the plane. Traffic was cleared from the main runway.

Less than two minutes later a call came in to the Waterford Township Fire Department reporting that the plane had crashed and was burning.

County Dems Pick Delegates

One hundred eighty-four state convention delegates and 49 county executive committee members were chosen Saturday night in a "peaceful" county Democratic Convention at the CAI Building in Waterford Township.

Nearly 1,000 party workers, precinct delegates and candidates attended the convention and the fund-raising jamboree which followed.

Heading the list of distinguished guests was former

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, now undersecretary of state for African Affairs.

Leading candidates on hand were Aud. Gen. Billie S. Farnum, nominee for the 19th Congressional District seat, and Frank J. Sierawski, congressional hopeful in the 18th District.

Convention chairman Sander M. Levin, himself a candidate for the State Senate in the 15th District, introduced the other state and county candidates, some of whom were unable to be present.

The roll call of precinct delegates was dispensed with and the state convention delegates were named by area committees after a short caucus.

The 19 members of the executive committee were nominated in advance by a committee headed by George Gogojan of Pontiac (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Rainfall is expected to total one-tenth of an inch or less with a chance of a few showers about Saturday.

Today's temperatures started climbing from a low of 47 before 8 a.m. By 1 p.m. it had risen into the 70s with a temperature of 72.

Plane Crash Kills Three

rain in the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area, less than a half-mile from the west end of the airport runway.

FIRST AT SCENE

First at the scene were Ronald D. Freeman and Joe Fish, Waterford Township police officers, who saw the crash in the air just before the crash.

The engine was smoking, Fish said, when they saw the plane from the Williams Lake boat landing. Pieces of the craft were falling to the ground, he said.

They drove across a field south of Gale Road and arrived at the scene soon after the plane crashed.

The interior of the craft was burning fiercely, according to the officers, and McPhail was sitting on the ground about 40 feet from the wreckage.

INTENSE HEAT

Freeman turned a fire extinguisher on the plane and subdued the flames, while Fish gave the pilot first aid. The officers were unable to reach the boys and the girl for several minutes because of the intense heat of the metal fuselage and framework of the craft.

The boys were still strapped in the two rear seats of the four-passenger plane, the officers said.

The girl, who had been seated beside the pilot, had partially covered the youngsters with her body in an apparent effort to protect them.

The boys were the sons of Howard Philippart Jr., a Detroit attorney. He had reported by his consent when Miss Korytkowski called to ask permission to take them on the plane ride after they had left their home to go to the zoo.

FLOWN BEFORE

They had flown before with McPhail, who lived in the same neighborhood.

The pilot regained consciousness for a few minutes late last night and gave an account of the crash to Waterford Officer Terry Cranston, who was maintaining a bedside vigil.

Soon after he received clearance for an emergency landing, McPhail said, the odor of gasoline in the cockpit became overpowering.

Moments later the fumes exploded, blowing the window out of the plane. McPhail said he remained conscious, but was blinded by the explosion.

ONLY THOUGHT

His only thought, he said, was to keep the plane under control and try to land it safely.

The officers who witnessed the crash from the ground said the plane remained in level flight until the wing clipped a treetop about 500 yards from the end of the runway.

Although the left wing was torn off by the tree, the fuselage remained level, the officers said, and landed on its wheels.

It bounced and skidded along the ground nearly 200 feet before it came to rest.

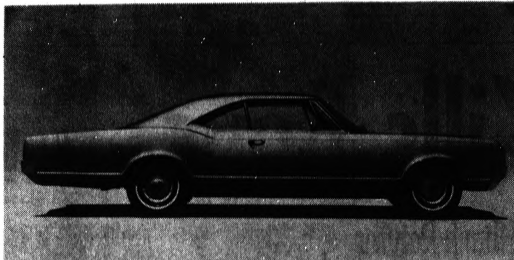

OWNED A YEAR

McPhail had owned the plane, a Mooney Mark 20, about a year. He was planning to marry Miss Korytkowski, according to reports, and had offered the plane for sale.

Federal Aviation Agency authorities were investigating the crash a short time after it occurred.

A Civil Aeronautics Board investigator took over the investigation this morning.

It will be several days before a full report on the crash is available.

'65 FOR '65 - A sweeping new roof line accents the 1965 line of Oldsmobiles. Thirty-two models of the automobile will be on display on Sept. 24, including the Dynamic 88 Holiday Coupe, pictured here.

Delta 88 Among '65 Models

Oldsmobile Unveils New Line

Oldsmobile today unveiled its 1965 models, including a new companion to the Dynamic 88—the Delta 88.

This new Oldsmobile, along with the Dynamic 88s, Jetstar I, Starfires and 98s, is powered by Oldsmobile's recently developed 435 cubic inch Super Rocket engine teamed with the Turbo Hydra-Matic transmission.

The new Oldsmobile line will be on public display Sept. 24 at Jerome Motor Sales, 230 S. Saginaw; Houghton and Son, Inc., 325 N. Main, Rochester; Taylor Chevrolet Sales, 142 E. Walled Lake, Walled Lake; and Suburban Olds, 565 S. Woodward, Birmingham.

On the inside the Oldsmobiles have been enlarged. Most of the interior dimensions have been increased, with shoulder room nearly four inches greater. The design of the automobiles has also allowed an increase of 3.9 cubic feet in trunk space.

A new split back front seat with a large center arm rest—designed for those who like the sporty look of bucket seats, is standard on Delta 88 Holiday sedans and coupes, and on the 98 Holiday sports sedan, coupe and convertible.

NEW GAUGES

Larger, easier-to-read circular gauges are centrally grouped in front of the driver on the instrument panel.

Panels in the 88's will be finished in brushed aluminum, the Starfires in black leather and the 98's in walnut grain.

Thirty-two Oldsmobile models will be offered this year. Nineteen full-size cars will be produced, along with nine F-45's and four Vista-Cruisers.

The F-45 models will boast a new grille, headlamps, bumpers, tail lights and end panel applique.

unit support for the Republican ticket.

The only amended resolution submitted for the delegates' consideration was one dealing with endorsements of candidates for nonpartisan judgeships.

The endorsement for the Circuit Court judges was deleted at their own request because other Republicans were in the race for the three judgeships.

Labor and management cooperation in improving the job and business climate in Michigan, encouraging full use and expansion of existing facilities and providing fair wages and safe working conditions also was called for.

CITES ACCOMPLISHMENTS

In her keynote address, Mrs. Romney enumerated accomplishments of the GOP state administration over the past 20 months and urged delegates to communicate on the sound state program.

There were no injuries among the five-man train crew.

The Seaboard Air Line Railroad Co. train was carrying 1-672 cases of explosives from the Du Pont plant at Falling Waters, W. Va., to Georgia for shipment to Venezuela.

WITH EXPLOSIVES

A Du Pont spokesman said one car contained dynamite-type explosives that "could be quite dangerous," especially from fire. The other car contained a water gelatin high explosive.

The spokesman said the explosives were packed and braced in anticipation of an accident.

Evacuation was limited to an area within a mile radius of the derailed train.

Barrelville is 30 miles south of Charleston.

Railroad crews delayed clearing the tracks until the explosives could be removed. Workers were slowed by soggy conditions caused by several inches of rain dumped on this area by tropical storm Dora during the weekend.

A resolutions committee headed by Ted McElvaine of Farmington presented 13 resolutions to the convention which were unanimously adopted.

Included were requests for strengthening of the State Civil Rights Commission, an increase in state aid to schools, greater state support of higher education and a program of two years' free college education for qualified students.

MENTAL HEALTH

Other resolutions called for improvement of the state's mental health program, support of Michigan's free-choice ballot and legislation requiring municipalities to file service minutes with the Public Service Commission.

The final resolution endorsed the full slate of Democratic candidates for President Johnson on down.

The high-spirited jamboree which followed the convention featured dancing, prizes, food, refreshments and games.

Party officials said this morning that at least count the jamboree had grossed some $10,000, with receipts still coming in.

Surgery for Eshkol

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol, 69, underwent an operation for a cataract of the right eye at Hadassah Hospital today. His condition was described in a hospital bulletin as satisfactory.

Expect Sir Alec to Set Election Before Announcement

Meeting With Queen Before Announcement

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home is expected to meet with Queen Elizabeth Tuesday and then announce that the British general election will be held on Oct. 15.

Douglas-Home will fly to Balmoral, in Scotland, where the queen is vacationing. She will dissolve Parliament to set the stage for election of a new House of Commons.

The election will put all 630 House seats at stake and determine whether Douglas-Home's Conservatives or Harold Wilson's Labor party will govern Britain.

At the moment it looks like a close thing. Two of the three major opinion polls put the Conservatives in the lead. The third shows the Laborites ahead.

PROSPEROUS

The Conservatives, victors in three straight elections since 1951, contend that Britain is prosperous and this is no time to experiment with Labor's socialism.

Wilson contends that Britain has fallen behind comparable nations and that new men and new ideas are needed to get the country on the move.

WILSON'S

Each party is pushing hard the personality of its leader—Douglas-Home, the affable 61-year-old aristocrat, and Wilson, an internationalist.

The third party in the fight is the middle-of-the-road Liberals, once one of Britain's great parties. It now has only seven House of Commons members.

All recent polls show the Liberal share of the vote increasing, though still only 6 or 7 per cent of the total.

Conservatives hold 355 seats in the Parliament; Labor has 261. There are seven vacancies.

Douglas-Home's schedule today included a "meet the party" tour through Kent, the last of a series which has covered the country since he succeeded Harold Macmillan as prime minister last year.

Conservative morale was low then as the aftermath of the Profumo scandal and a split over the party leadership succession. Party managers say Douglas-Home has succeeded in reviving the organization.

Wilson has had few organizational problems. He took over his party last year after the death of Hugh Gaitskell, and found the Laborites a united voice for the first time since they were voted out of office in 1961.

The issue of health care for the aged is the only major legislative business before the House this week.

After preliminary parliamentary moves today, members are expected to vote Thursday whether to arrange a conference with the Senate, which added the hospitalization feature to a Social Security bill passed by the House.

SUBSTANTIVE VOTE

There may also be a more substantive vote—on instructions to the conferees whether to accept or reject the hospitalization feature—but no final decision yet had been made.

The Senate votes Tuesday on a compromise designed to cool the hot dispute over the Supreme Court's ruling that states must appoint both houses of their legislatures by population.

The proposal would simply declare "the sense of Congress" to be that legislatures should be given a reasonable time to conform. It would replace a tougher proposal to require federal courts to grant delays up to two years.

President Johnson has asked his running mate, assistant Democratic Senate Leader Hubert H. Humphrey, to make every effort to work out a compromise on the "sense of Congress" resolution.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has said that if the substitute fails, an even tougher proposal, passed by the House, will be offered—but not by him.

The House-approved measure would limit courts' jurisdiction in reapportionment cases.

neered by a group of dissident generals, was not unexpected. Rumors that Khanh faced a revolt swept the city Saturday.

It came while Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the U.S. ambassador, was out of the country. He returned to the capital early today after four days of talks in Washington during which U.S. officials said they concluded South Viet Nam needs greater political stability to strengthen its war against the Communist Viet Cong.

Throughout the coup attempt, Saigon residents, reeling with sudden indifference, Motorists blew their horns angrily at tanks interfering with traffic. Shoppers paid little attention to announcements broadcast from planes with loudspeakers. Even swooping fighter-bombers failed to arouse much interest.
