Key Hearing Starts in JFK Murder Probe

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A showdown hearing in Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's controversial Kennedy assassination probe opened today before an unusual three-judge criminal district court panel which will determine if retired executive Clay Shaw should go to trial.

The first witness for the district attorney was police detective Frank Hayward who testified he arrested Lee Harvey Oswald after a brawl on Canal Street on Aug. 9, 1963.

Betty Furness Choice Doubted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's appointment of former refrigerator saleswoman Betty Furness as his consumer affairs adviser has drawn a freezer-like chill from consumer groups and congressmen active in consumer affairs.

Most have either declined direct comment or have expressed the hope that once Miss Furness assumes her duties and learns more about consumer problems she will become an effective consumer voice.

Miss Furness, known best for opening refrigerator doors on television commercials, was named to the $25,000-a-year job March 4.

She succeeds Mrs. Esther Peterson, who retains her other job as assistant secretary of labor.

"We were a little surprised that the President picked somebody with no experience in this area," said Sarah Newman, executive director of the National Consumers League. "My hope is that she will be able to pick up where Mrs. Peterson left off."

POLITICAL ASSET?

Her familiarity to housewives was seen by some observers as an asset, however — and perhaps of political help to Johnson.

Fowler Backs LBJ's Income Surtax Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler gave Congress another strong argument for President Johnson's income surtax proposal today even as he asked the legislators to approve a different, tax reducing measure.

Fowler appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee which is considering Johnson's request for an immediate restoration of two tax incentives for business that were suspended last year.

These are the investment tax credit, by which businesses can recover 7 per cent of spending on equipment, and a set of speeded-up depreciation rules of advantage to owners of profit-making buildings.

Since Johnson asked last week for restoration of these incentives, there has been much speculation that the proposed 6 per cent income tax surcharge legislation may not, after all, be sent up to Congress.

Some read the investment credit move as an indication the administration was no longer so confident that business will have a general pickup in the latter part of the year and that the economy will be able to take a higher tax rate and help reduce the government's deficit.

NATURAL QUESTION

Fowler told the committee it was natural to ask about the connection between the two proposals. But he said they are "essentially quite different in design and purpose."

"I have already indicated the suspension of the investment credit was not a revenue measure and had a specific and limited objective—to dampen the excessive boom in the market for capital goods," Fowler said.

"The excessive boom is over and there is no reason for continuing the suspension."

He said the income tax proposal in contrast is "an over-all, across-the-board fiscal measure designed to cope with the economic and budgetary situation as we anticipate it for the latter half of 1967 and throughout 1968."

"We expect the economy to be in need of over-all restraint during that period," Fowler continued.

No Blue Skies Before Thursday

Today's forecast predicts there's little chance of bright, sunny skies before Thursday. However, O'l Sol will dart in and out among the clouds throughout the period.

The weatherman predicts cloudy with little temperature change tonight and tomorrow.

Temperatures will continue mild with the low tonight of 30 to 35 and the high reaching into the 40s tomorrow.

Today's north to northeasterly winds at 10 to 20 miles per hour will become east to northeast at 4 to 12 miles tonight.

Thirty was the low reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury stood near 41 at 2 p.m.

Waterford Township will pay 44.56 per cent or $6,300,000 of the interceptor's construction cost plus $5,311,000 interest over the 30 years.

The township's share of capital expenses excludes cost and capitalized interest for capacity charges and acquisition of additional systems, according to Township Utilities Manager Kenneth Squiers.

Household connection charges will be the township's chief source of revenue to finance its share of the Clinton-Oakland.

The township's present anticipated rate for transportation and treatment of the sewage is $1.51 per 1,000 cubic feet of sewage metered into the interceptor.

CONSTRUCTION IN STAGES

Waterford's proposed 260-mile internal sanitary sewer system will be constructed concurrently with the interceptor. The community project will be built in stages, based on the need in certain areas and available funds.

The Detroit Lions with the No. 7 selection, drafted UCLA running back Mel Farr.

Petitions Filed for Annexation

Petitions seeking annexation of a portion of Wolverine Lake and a portion of Commerce Township to the City of Walled Lake were filed with the Oakland County clerk-register of deeds yesterday.

The Wolverine Lake petitions, signed by about 120 persons, were an unexpected move according to a village spokesman. Those from Commerce Township had previously been presented to the Walled Lake City Council.

About one-third of the village would be included in the proposed annexation from the northern limits of Walled Lake, west through the center of Wolverine Lake to Angola Street.

According to Harold Estep, 2069 Helmsford, Wolverine Lake, one of the originators of the move, it was felt that the tax base in Walled Lake is healthier because of the industrial base and that the city could provide more in the way of sewers and water than the village.

A move to counteract the annexation was started at the Wolverine Lake Village Council meeting last night with the appointment of a committee to "study the situation and present the facts to the people."

Communist Trawler Chased by Yanks, Beached, Blown Up

SAIGON (AP) — American warships fought a running dog fight off the South Vietnamese coast today with a large Communist trawler which was chased by U.S. Navy ships, ran onto the shore and blew itself up when flight became hopeless.

The 100-foot, steel-hulled trawler shot up a 50-foot U.S. Navy patrol boat during the chase.

Negro Senator May See Reds

Arrives in Cambodia on 17-Day Asia Tour

SAIGON (AP) — Sen. Edward W. Brooke, who has suggested a reexamination of U.S. policy of bombing North Vietnam, flew to Cambodia today and said he may talk with Vietcong and North Vietnamese representatives there.

The Massachusetts Republican told newsmen as he left for Phnom Penh that if he meets the Communist representatives, it will be primarily to "study attitudes."

He also hopes to meet with the Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, he said, adding: "There is a possibility that if there are representatives of the NLF (the National Liberation Front) and of the North there, I might talk with them." The NLF is the political arm of the Vietcong.

Brooke, on a 17-day Asian fact-finding tour, again expressed a wish to visit North Vietnam but said the U.S. State Department has been "very discouraging and understanding" about such a trip.

NO INVITATION
He said he had not asked Hanoi for an invitation and had received none. He said he would not go even if invited, however, if the trip would embarrass the U.S. government.

"I have heard nothing on this trip that would lead me to believe that the North Vietnamese would be interested in my visit," he said. If he were to visit the North Vietnamese capital, he emphasized, it would be only to "evaluate how Hanoi is weathering this war."

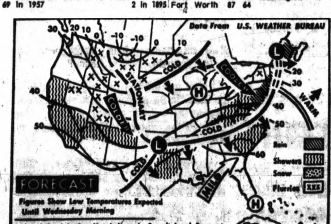

The first Negro to be elected to the U.S. Senate from this country, Brooke said last month he hoped to visit both North and South Vietnam and to interview North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh.

In an address at the College of the Pacific Islands he said a cessation of bombing of North Vietnam "would show a genuine and sincere effort on our part (to negotiate peace) and would shift the burden to the Viet Cong."

School Bond Probe Asked

Districts, State in Rift on New Restrictions

'OWN DECISION' — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower tells a Palm Springs, Calif., news conference yesterday that California's Gov. Ronald Reagan (left) will make "his own decision" whether to seek the GOP nomination for president. The comment followed a private luncheon and conference with Reagan at the former president's winter home near Palm Springs.

School officials from throughout the state yesterday called for an investigation of new bonding restrictions handed down for school districts by the State Municipal Finance Commission. The dispute now being taken to the state level came to a head last Thursday at a meeting of the Michigan School Administrators' Association in Lansing.

The essence of the resolution which came out of that session was adopted yesterday at a joint meeting of some 200 members of the Michigan School Boards' Association and the Michigan School Administrators' Association in Lansing.

Administrative officers of the two associations are to seek meetings with the Municipal Finance Commission, according to Walled Lake Schools Supt. George Garver.

"They will attempt to get from the commission figures to back the commission's claim that the state's loan exposure could go as high as $1 billion if school districts don't boost their share of bond retirement payments."

TO LEGISLATURE
School officials also will request that the information collected in such an investigation be presented to the Legislature.

If the minimum levy of 7 mills does need to be increased, it should be done by the Legislature so that the interests of the schools may be fully recognized and protected," Garver said.

The sale of building bonds in the Avondale, Oak Park and Walled Lake districts, among others, are snagged on new Municipal Finance Commission restrictions, the principal one being that the districts should match repayment funds required over the 7-mill minimum.

Officials in the districts, applying for funds under the Michigan School Bond Loan program, had promised local levies would not be raised over 7 mills if the bond issues were approved by voters.

SOLE AUTHORITY
They maintain that the minimum was set by the Legislature and that no one but the Legislature has the authority to change that requirement.

The resolution adopted yesterday also requests that if the Legislature does change the minimum, that it not be retroactive.

"School districts that have passed bond issues should be allowed to keep their word with the people," Garver said. "We made our commitments, and we would ask the Legislature to allow us to keep these commitments."

School officials also vowed to "take all appropriate steps to require the Municipal Finance Commission to follow the laws adopted by the Legislature and to recognize the right of school districts to borrow from the fund when their needs exceed taxmills," Garver said.

He said there was a "definite sentiment for testing this in court if we are unable to solve the problem any other way."

Golfers Win Round on Protest

GM termed phony lawsuits against other. The huge auto firm has been sued for $26 million by Nader, who charges invasion of privacy, mental distress and economic injury from alleged harassment by detectives hired by GM.

Nader's suit, an aftermath of Senate subcommittee hearings into auto safety, also named Gillen, head of the New York protective agency which allegedly trailed Nader to seek damaging personal information against him.

Meanwhile, Gillen has brought a counterclaim against GM and Nader for $21 million; Nader has sued Gillen in a separate suit for defamation, and Gillen has counterclaimed defamation in a suit against Nader.

Former Federal Judge Simon Rifkind, attorney for GM, said in papers filed Monday in Manhattan Supreme Court that Nader's latest suit against Gillen and Gillen's counterclaim were not lawsuits "in the well-understood sense of that word."

"It is an arrangement between Nader and Gillen," Rifkind's papers charged, "to provide them with a vehicle for obtaining pretrial discovery against defendant GM for use in the Nader-GM lawsuit."

Rifkind's charges were made in support of a motion to consolidate all pending suits before the court in the case.

However, Francis T. McGuire, attorney for Gillen, said he would file an affidavit today opposing the consolidation proposal and denying any arrangement between Gillen and Nader.

S. African Air Crash Kills 25

EAST LONDON, South Africa (AP)—The airliner which U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy chartered during his visit to South Africa crashed into the Indian Ocean Monday night, apparently killing all 25 persons aboard. An American woman was reported among the victims.

It was the worst air crash in South African history.

Col. C. B. Botha, the divisional police commissioner, denied a report that 21 bodies had been washed ashore during the night. He said only a few pieces of wreckage had been found and because of strong currents in the area, a wide stretch of the coast was being searched.

South African Airways, operator of the plane, said the American passenger was a Miss Rosenthal. She was believed to be from California, but the U.S. Embassy in Pretoria said it had no information on her.

SURFERS GO OUT

Surfers went out in rough seas and rainy weather Monday night in unsuccessful attempts to find survivors or bodies in the crash area about 20 miles south of East London.

The weather began clearing at dawn, and two navy minesweepers and two tugs searched the area.

The South African Airways Viscount was traveling from Port Elizabeth to East London. It carried 20 passengers and five crew members. The turboprop airliner, named Rietbok, was bought from Cuba some years ago.

12 Village Elections Generally Uneventful

A new charter was approved in Lake Orion, the purchase of Detroit water was favored in Imlay City and officers were elected in 12 area villages yesterday.

With a good number of candidates unopposed, yesterday's balloting proved relatively mild-mannered. Even the weather cooperated to make area elections uneventful.

The charter approval in Lake Orion will provide for a council-manager type of government there, which will mean the village will employ a village manager to be chief administrator.

The Imlay City water question was an advisory vote on whether that village in the future should connect to the Detroit water system.

Other results — all unofficial — were:

Oxford

Only three incumbents sought reelection to the council. Total voter turnout was 98. The unofficial tally showed: Council: Edmund Unger, incumbent president, 145 S. Washington, 87 votes; Homer Hight, incumbent, 97 Denison, 77 votes; Jay Allen, incumbent, 124 S. Washington, 71 votes.

Milford

Two incumbents were returned to office yesterday, one by a narrow margin of five votes. A newcomer received the second highest number of votes to win the seat vacated by Ralph Wiese, who did not seek reelection. The results were: President — Wilbur Johnson, incumbent, 478 votes. Council (first two elected): James H. Van Leuven, 203 Washington, 363; Merlin A. Feigley, incumbent, 198; Bruce E. Hutchins, 337 Mill, 193 votes; and Dale E. Barr, 767 Friar, 140 votes.

Lake Orion

A large turnout of 438 voters chose a new village charter for the first time since the turn of the century. The vote was 233 in favor, 136 opposed.

Other results included: President: Wallace Crane (R), incumbent, 462 Algine, 361 votes.

Clerk: Mrs. Mary Parkinson (R), incumbent, 14 W. Shadbol, 360 votes.

Treasurer: Mrs. Geraldine J. Campbell (R), incumbent, 225 Darling, 353 votes.

Assessor: Albert J. Rhodes (R), incumbent, 120 Washington, 354 votes.

Council (first three elected to two-year terms): Dorrance A. Galloway (R), 601 Central, 335; Mrs. Mildred Edward (R), 24 Highland, 306; Arlie A. Reed (R), 207 Slater, 304; Mrs. Juanita Robbins (D), sticker candidate, 622 Detroit, 104 votes.

Dryden

A total of 42 voters faced blank ballots here yesterday. Winning with write-in votes were the following candidates:

President: Oliver Braidwood, incumbent, 561 Liberty, 32 votes.

Clerk: Mrs. Mildred Gray, incumbent, 5506 Liberty, 36 votes. Treasurer: Mrs. Jean Mulholland, incumbent, 5556 Liberty, 35 votes. Assessor: Kenneth Chapman, incumbent, 5557 North, 23 votes. Trustees (two-year terms): Irvine Talmadge, incumbent, 5573 Liberty, 25 votes; Raymond Stevens, incumbent, 5589 Main, 23 votes; Glenn Fletcher, incumbent, 5438 North, 21 votes.

Almont

An open race for the position of treasurer, occurring as a result of the death of Mrs. Nellie Veness, was further complicated when it was discovered the winning vote-getter was not a registered voter and was therefore disqualified.

Mrs. Ruth Repphun, 333 Hamilton, received 70 votes for the position but was forced to yield to Mrs. Margaret Greger, 117 Branch, who netted 47 votes.

Close to 300 votes were cast in the election. Unofficial results gave:

President: George Juhl (R), incumbent, 208 E. St. Clair, 286 votes.

Clerk: Verne Messer (R), incumbent, 208 E. St. Clair, 288 votes.

Treasurer: Mrs. Margaret Greger, 117 Branch, 47 votes.

Assessor: Donald Bury (R), incumbent, 124 W. St. Clair, 258 votes.

Trustees (first three elected for two-year terms): Lyle Yoder (R), 328 W. St. Clair, 221 votes; Homer McBeam (R), 284 Almont, 197 votes; Thomas Eastman (R), 337 E. St. Clair, 175

Leonard

A total of 61 voters turned out to choose four of six trustee candidates. Other positions were uncontested. The results gave:

President: Cecil Lieberman (R), incumbent, 69 Division, 49 votes.

Clerk: Mrs. Clara Scheall (D), incumbent, 6260 Basa, 44 votes.

Treasurer: Mrs. Mary Vore (R), incumbent, 225 E. Elmwood, 48 votes.

Saves Rabbit From Freezing

Boy Has Own Easter Bunny

Rodger And Frisky

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Easter is just a few weeks away and 8-year-old Rodger Martin is ready for it with his own bunny.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Martin, 4990 Retiek, Roger found the animal, a cottontail, frozen in the snow early in February.

Even though the little body was stiff, Rodger took it in the house and put it next to the register, Mrs. Martin said. "In a little while, its little leg started moving," she said, Rodger has been feeding the rabbit milk in a toy baby bottle with a nipple.

Rodger, a third grader at Sashabaw Elementary School, said he hopes to keep the rabbit, now growing rapidly, in a pen in his yard. He's named it Frisky.

Rezoning Bid on 40 Acres Tabled Again

WOLVERINE LAKE — A request to rezone about 40 acres of land at Benstein and Glemery to permit a $2-million apartment development was tabled again by the Village Council last night.

Clifford Cottrell, a village spokesman, said that one of the councilmen felt that the legal description was not quite right.

He said there were no objections to the proposed development from about 50 persons attending the public hearing last night.

About 185 feet along Glemery are presently zoned commercial, Cottrell said, and it is proposed to extend this zoning to 272 feet on either side of the area scheduled for multiple zoning.

A special meeting will be set up to discuss the matter further.

$131,750 Okayed to Buy Park Site

TROY — The City Commission last night authorized $131,750 to purchase land for a 37½-acre park in the northeast part of the city.

It is located north of Long Lake between Rochester and John R. The land is undeveloped and considerable planting and landscaping will need to be done, according to City Manager Paul York.

The park is yet unnamed. The commission also adopted

Avondale Faces Delay of 6 Months on Bond Sale

It could be six months before the Avondale School District can sell its $3.1 million worth of voter-approved bonds for new construction.

Schools Supt. John Dickey said today that an amended order of approval from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission in regard to the sale was still unacceptable to bonding attorneys.

The amendment provides that a district levying 7 mills for bonded indebtedness would have to furnish half the millage over that amount up to 13 mills to benefit under the state school bond loan plan. Over 13 mills, the amendment provides that the state would advance any needed money.

Up until the first of the year, the state had guaranteed any loan necessary over a 7 mill debt levy by local school districts.

An ordinance that would allow pay for the planning commission.

The new law calls for payment of $5 per meeting with $150 per year maximum. The vote was 4-3.

Many of our highways are built on original animal or Indian paths that later developed into horse-ways, cart roads or macadam turnpikes for stage coaches.

Voters in Avondale approved their construction program for a new high school and added elementary rooms under those conditions.

RESTRICTIONS TIGHTER Reported fear of state bankruptcy has since led the Municipal Finance Commission to tighten its restrictions.

Dickey said Avondale would not benefit under the amendment since its total debt levy to meet the entire program would mean a total of just 10 mills.

The board of education last night authorized him to seek a hearing from the commission in order to get better terms.

"We just can't sell those bonds unless some sort of compromise is reached," Dickey said.

RESCHEDULING The district meantime is attempting a rescheduling of fiscal tables, taking a longer time to pay the loan, should it become necessary to bear the whole cost without state aid.

Dickey pointed out that Avondale is still in a better position than some districts which have already sold bonds for a much larger construction program.

He said, "Any new regulations enforced will reportedly become retroactive. It will mean a big increase where districts must pay for half of all costs over the 7 mill limit."

Utica-Shelby Group Formed

Possibility of Merger
Draws 40 to Meeting

UTICA — Some 40 people, interested in a possible merger between the township of Shelby and the city of Utica, turned out recently at Utica Senior High School to elect officers to a study coordinating committee.

J. C. Radanovich, chairman of the organizing committee, was elected chairman of the new group.

He will be assisted by two Shelby trustees, Odell Hoesekler as vice chairman and Cliff Pemberton as publicity director.

Robert Beck of Utica will serve as secretary and Shelby treasurer.

A second meeting was called for April 9, at which time, according to Radanovich, about 10 subcommittees will be initiated to investigate varying facets of a merger.

Projects Slated for 4 Streets

MILFORD — Four streets are slated for major "construction work under a program approved by the Village Council last night.

The council authorized Village Manager J. S. Brophy to obtain engineering plans for George and First streets and to set up special assessment districts.

He is to determine the cost of the projects and report back to the council.

Included in the program are George from N. Main to Union at an estimated cost of $7,788; N. Main from Summit to George at an estimated cost of $6,180; Union from Summit to George for $9,500; and George from Union to First at an estimated cost of $14,000.

Brophy pointed out that if a good roads package, presently before the Legislature, is passed, the village will receive about $12,000 to $15,000 which could be applied toward road construction.

TV CAMERA OK'D

In other action last night, the council approved the use of a television camera to locate trouble in the Canal Street sewer

Brophy said the work will be done in the daytime if possible. Brophy has been instructed to ROCHESTER — In an effort to clarify the reasons for an administrative change at the Rochester Senior High School, Schools Supt. Douglas Lund recently sent the following announcement to teachers:

"Following the resignation in June 1966 of John Wellington, who had earlier been selected to succeed Harlan Johnson as senior high school principal, Richard Olson, Central Junior High School principal, generously responded to an administrative request to assume this principalship.

The statement continues, "It was the understanding that this appointment would be for one year because of Mr. Olson's desire to remain in the junior high school program.

"The administration and board of education, at this time, hoped that this assignment would be of longer duration. However, Mr. Olson will return to Central Junior High School for the 1967-68 school year."

Lund said that applications will be solicited for the senior high school principalship.

Voters Look Down Nose at De Gaulle

In the runoff election for France's National Assembly, voters dealt President CHARLES DE GAULLE a stunning setback.

Although his own office was not at stake — he was reelected for a seven-year term in 1965 — DE GAULLE's majority support in the assembly slipped from a solid 40 seats to a precarious one.

Such inconclusive parliamentary backing for its chief executive could bring a crisis in national government and lead the president to invoke the near-dictatorial powers provided under the constitution for such emergencies.

This eventually would hinge on the extent of support given Gaullists by the Center Democrats, which is seen controlling a bloc of some 40 parliament seats.

JEAN LECANVET, leader of the Democrats, had indicated before the election that he would go along with the GAULLISTS were they to make certain concessions in their national stance.

Significantly, the major ones underscored European unity and the continuation of the Atlantic Alliance, on both of which the nationalist-minded DE GAULLE had turned his back. Equally significant, both coincide with the United States' position.

At this point in history, the political future of France is at best uncertain. De Gaulle, despite his arrogance and hostility toward the United States, had given the country a firm and productive administration since the establishment of the Fifth Republic in 1958. But with no outstanding figure with national appeal on the horizon to coalesce the warring political factions that have traditionally plagued French politics, the government could well drift back into the chaos that had characterized it since World War I.

Bloomfield Schools Off Limits for Smokers

Is a 20-day suspension for smoking on school property too much? This is the penalty imposed by the Bloomfield Hills School District. A parent has protested, filing suit in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Bloomfield educators defend their policy. The publicly elected school board, turning aside the protest when presented to them, backed the decision.

The 20-day suspension is imposed for the first infraction of the rules. The penalty for a second infraction is even more severe — suspension for the balance of the school year.

The penalties for smoking are not new, and have been well promulgated at the school. Those who choose to smoke knowing the penalty may well influence their grades, and possibly their entrance into college, do so knowingly.

However, to be truly effective, the policy must be one that receives equal enforcement from all teachers.

Has Society Lost Accord With Its Youngsters?

There has been much discussion lately of mental health needs, not only of our adult population but of our so-called teen-agers.

The theory is advanced that the teen-agers do not exist in nature; that they are physically mature but economically and socially immature; that in the old days, they were turned out on their own and did not feel subject to family regimentation.

Whether this feeling of lack of identification or responsibility leads youngsters to show resentment in order to build status and independence is now a question. Whether mental hospital and psychiatric treatment are the answer is another guess.

Somewhere along the line our schools, colleges and parents should shoulder the job of showing young people that they have very definite responsibilities and are identified with every phase of family life and government.

They can be shown that on them rests the responsibility for their own and the Nation's future. In their far-ranging activities, it looks as though parents and schools have neglected the basic task of providing our youngsters with an understanding of the rights and responsibilities of citizenship.

Viet Policy Adheres to HST Doctrine

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON—The words "should" and "must" made and make a lot of difference.

The President asked the State Department to draft the message he wanted to read to Congress.

He thought the first draft was too wishy-washy. He sent it back. Then he got the second version.

It said letting communism gobble up one country after another would jeopardize this country's national security by endangering world peace and weakening other self-free countries' will to resist.

The President thought this was the key sentence: "I believe it should be the policy of the United States to support free peoples who are resisting attempted subjugation or outside pressures."

He didn't like that word "should." It was too "half-hearted," he felt. He scratched it out and wrote in "must."

Twenty years ago Sunday the President, Harry S. Truman, read to Congress a message which asked $400 million in economic aid to Greece and Turkey and changed American foreign policy.

Isolationism was abandoned and the United States, assuming leadership of the free-world world, undertook commitments that involved it around the globe, and still war, in economic aid and even war.

At that time in 1947, when the Truman Doctrine was first stated, Moscow was pressuring Turkey, and Greece was near collapse under the onslaughts of Communist guerrillas.

Truman's decision was not something long thought out.

QUICK FOLLOW-UP

The Truman Doctrine was followed quickly by the Marshall Plan of economic aid for Europe and then by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the military alliance to protect Western Europe.

As history unfolded, American obligations spread with treaties around the world, including Asia. This country has not always adhered rigidly to the Truman

'What Happened To The Parade?'

David Lawrence Says:

Powell Case Intensifies Racism

WASHINGTON — Ironically, the case of Adam Clayton Powell is perhaps doing more to intensify racism in the United States than anything that has happened since the emotional era of "Reconstruction" 100 years ago.

From all over the country reports are coming in now-days that the American people are looking with dismay on the widely publicized utterances of Negro leaders who say the Harlem congressman is being penalized for his misdeeds only because he is a Negro.

Astonishment is widespread that, even though a special committee of the House of Representatives has accused Powell of fraud in the handling of government funds, Negro leaders of high education and professional achievement insist that he should not be punished since he merely did what others in Congress have done. Yet it has been hitherto taught that his misdeeds do not make a single right.

Most significant is the virtually unanimous prediction today that Powell will be re-elected in April.

The House of Representatives can, of course, refuse to admit him or anybody else, white or black, who is lacking in integrity. But the Negro voters in Harlem are expected to brush aside the misdeeds and continue to charge racial discrimination if he is again barred.

Racism is one of the worst diseases that can afflict a nation. It produces a consciousness of possible discrimination in all walks of life.

GROWING ACUTE
Particularly discouraging is the fact that it is growing acute at a time when many people were coming to believe that at last the voice of reason and the tenets of fairness were beginning to be applied in America without regard to race.

The tragedy of it all is that, as the Negro population grows to unprecedented levels in the next decade, the congestion of whites and Negroes in many areas will increase perceptibly.

Racial problems will plague not merely the cities but the suburbs, too. The hoped-for reconciliation of the races has been definitely retarded by the Powell case.

Then he was gone, and an increasingly familiar reaction swept the crowd. Only a handful of the audience had risen to applaud when the vice president had been introduced. But now, in this

What is the answer? To punish now every member of Congress who has done what Powell did? But there are any in Congress who went off to the Bahamas or some other resort, as Powell did, refused to obey court orders, and laughed off the fact that, as an elected representative, he has not been back in his district for nearly a year?

Much of what has been won since 1954, when segregation in the public schools was outlawed, may be lost now as public sentiment is stimulated to divide again along racial lines. For if Negroes oppose behind Negroes irrespective of the merits of a case, the probability is that other races, in their emotional resentment, will react the same way.

It may be the beginning of another "tragic era" as the bitterness of the 1860s and 1870s are resurrected a century later.

The moment he was gracefully introduced by William L. Nichols, chairman of the National Book Committee, about a dozen persons out of an assembly of several thousand got up and left the hall.

The departure of this minuscule minority of the total house would hardly have been noticed except that one of its members shouted a few angry words from his seat. Then he plunged out into an aisle and headed for a door in the rear.

"Go home and wash!" somebody yelled at him across the hall. It made the man angrier not at the heckler but at Humphrey, who had a "had" a chance to open his mouth.

More Opinions Voiced on Recent Dog Attack

An outraged citizenry demanded the death of four dogs who recently attacked a child. Every day, citizens are robbed, beaten, raped and murdered on our streets by the human animal who has gone berserk. We do not insist on his destruction.

We insure him of his "rights," supply him with legal counsel, give him trials and retrials and take up the challenge of rehabilitating him, all at the expense of taxpayers. Years later we release him into the community and feel secure in the knowledge that we have given him every chance. He promptly displays his gratitude by repeating his original crime or committing a far more heinous one.

It was undoubtedly right that the dogs who attacked this child should pay with their lives. I should enjoy, just once, seeing this same swift justice meted out to the human animals who terrify our citizens.

Is there any code or law saying a merchant must sell what he advertises? Recently in a Detroit paper a Montgomery Ward ad for area stores, including Pontiac, a Sunday-only special advertised ladies' briefs $4.99-$10.00, but the saleslady would sell only $4.99-$10.00.

REPLY

Mr. Sickmann of Ward's advertising department says there was a last minute change in the Sunday special ad, and the Pontiac store didn't have the exact merchandise advertised. The saleslady apparently wasn't aware the store tries to honor ads in cases like this. Consult the store's Customer Service, and an adjustment will be made. According to our advertising department, a customer would have to prove intentional fraud for a legal case. However, it's usually an honest mistake, and most stores make whatever adjustments they can.

First Lady Starts Educational Field Trip

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — The nation's first lady found work of Teacher Corps volunteers whose nationwide effort in families in need themselves as poverty-stricken areas may end she continued her "educational field trip" in Appalachia.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson heads 70 miles by bus to an isolated mountain hamlet in Cana, W.Va., she ate dinner with grade school youngsters and their parents who were sadly ending a two-nights-a-week family-enrichment program of evening classes because their $8,000 in federal money has run out.

"We would like it to run longer," said Principal Violet Johnson. "Working with the disadvantaged is a slow process. It takes lots of time."

STILL HOPEFUL
After two years, Glenwood Elementary School is closing this after-school project, still hoping to get another allocation of funds for the next fiscal year.

The President's wife joined parents and youngsters for a dinner that included chicken casserole, mashed potatoes, green beans, salad, pineapple cake and beverage. The meal was free to those who couldn't afford the 35-cent fee.

A talkative second-grader, Jimmy Hildreth, 8, who got one of the seats of honor next to the President's wife, looked Mrs. Johnson over and commented: "You all must be rich."

Mrs. Johnson said she replied: "I would say that we are well off, but that my husband has been working hard since he was 18."

Two nights a week, about 100 Glenwood area youngsters came with their parents to have dinner in the gym with local entertainment while they eat. Monday night, there were youthful mandolin singers, a clown act, a women's Job Corps chorus and a father-daughter dance team.

Afterwards, everyone went to class. For the youngsters, it was kindergarten or such things as remedial reading and math. For the parents, it was nursing, first aid, home budgeting or discussions on child rearing.

James Sweeney, father of two who works for a machinery firm, said he and his wife had not missed a night since the program started.

"Your kids get acquainted," he said. "It works out real good. It gives you a chance to meet people who live right next door to you and never meet until you came here. You learn to do so many things."

Board Provisionally Approves $25,174 for Recreation

The Waterford Township Board last night approved an appropriation of $25,174 to the 1967-68 recreation department budget, contingent on the board of education's allocation of an equal amount.

The remaining $12,815 of the estimated $63,163 budget is expected to be received through fees.

Last year, the two boards (Advertisement) contributed $21,836 each to the budget.

Recreation Department Director Thomas Simons said the greatest portion of the budget increase is for salaries and rental charges.

He informed Township Board members that the department has dropped three programs—civic band, summer basketball for fifth and sixth graders and girls' basketball—but has added a program for handicapped children.

REQUEST TABLED
In other business, the board tabled for one week a planning commission request for an additional $9,019 appropriation to enter into a planning commission.

tract with township planning consultants to implement that part of the third year "701" planning program deleted by the state.

The state trimmed parts of the program after the applied for federal funds were slashed in half.

The $25,000 program called for one-third township participation and two-thirds federal as-stance. The ratio still applies to that portion of the program approved by the state.

The additional $9,019 appropriation would be used to carry out the public relations phase of the project.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENT

In addition to public relations, the "701" program deals with future industrial development in the township, capital improvements and an attempt to improve appearance and environmental quality of the township by upgrading commercial - industrial frontage on the three major thoroughfares — M59, Dixie Highway and Elizabeth Lake Road.

The Township Board will check available funds before reaching a decision on the request.

Plans for the proposed Loon Bay Marina on Cass Lake were unveiled to the Township Board last night by Ray Lijie, a would-be co-owner of the $160,000 project.

Lijie is seeking a building permit, issuance of a state permit through the Michigan Department of Conservation and Township Board approval.

STORAGE FACILITIES

About 120,000 of the total cost would be used to upgrade existing wells and to construct new wells in the bay which fronts on Cass Elizabeth Lake Road and Parkway.

Formerly known as the Cass Lake Marina, the proposed development would include new storage buildings with capacity for 100 boats, new docks and parking facilities.

Planned as a complete boating and recreation area, the marina would cater strictly to inboard and outboard motorboats, according to Lijie. It eventually could be developed into a semiprivate club, he said.

In other business, Republican Trustee E. Frank Richardson was appointed to the planning commission, succeeding William Dean Jr. whose resignation from the commission was accepted.

A report presented to the board last night indicated 37,596 gallons of water were eventually could be developed into a semiprivate club, he said.

Some 77,300,230 gallons were pumped through the system the first two months this year, the report indicated.

Also last night, an SDM liquor license request by Charles Boros for 2250 Dixie was approved.

News of Waterford

Sprinkler Ordinance Softened, Adopted

Waterford Township board members wavered back and forth and back again last night before finally trimming Fire Marshal Russell See's proposed sprinkler ordinance for apartment buildings occupied by eight or more families.

Mistakenly omitted from the agenda, the issue proved to be the most discussed and most confusing item on last night's itinerary.

Following a handful of motions and as many withdrawals, the board adopted a sprinkler state somewhat less effective than See's recommended ordinance.

To become effective 30 days after publication, the ordinance will pertain only to new multiple dwellings started thereafter.

See wanted the ordinance to apply to existing as well as new apartment buildings.

SYSTEMS MANDATORY
The ordinance, as passed, makes mandatory sprinkler systems in basements of new apartment buildings used for storage areas, boiler rooms and locker rooms.

A few board members opposed See's proposed ordinance because it would have compelled owners of some existing multiple dwellings to hook up to the township water system to acquire an adequate source of water pressure.

Republican Trustee E. Frank Richardson was highly critical of the way the proposed ordinance was presented and what he termed a lack of information.

"Personally, I feel it's been a lousy selling job," said Richardson.

See fired back: "Have we got to wait for something to happen before we approve this. Have we got to wait for someone to die."

Township officials estimate 2 per cent of the community's 35 square miles is used for apartments, but that 4 to 5 per cent of the township's residents live in multiple dwellings.

Voter Assures It's Unanimous

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Cecil B. Davis of Summerville is the only voter in an annexation election today.

The election decided whether a 108-acre tract of land will be switched from Charleston County to Dorchester County. Davis has made up his mind to vote for the merger with Dorchester County, and that settles the matter.

Davis owns two lots in the area up for annexation and is the only eligible voter. Other landowners do not reside in the tract.

The election is being held in Davis' living room.

Gov. Robert McNair had to issue a directive permitting the appointment of two outsiders to serve with Davis as poll managers.

Top Salesman of JA Center Is Utica Senior

By SUSAN OWEN
Best salesman of the Utica Junior Achievement Center is a senior at Utica High School. Randall Posorek is one of six finalists in the competition sponsored by Sales Marketing Executives of Detroit to single out the top salesperson in Junior Achievement of Southeast Michigan.

Each senior at UHS is required to pay $6 class dues this year.

Most of the money will be used to pay for cap and gown rental and some will go to rent the Hillcrest Country Club for prom.

The rest of the money will pay for the all-night party and the class gift to the school.

With over 600 seniors this year, the money will be put to good use.

UHS' school newspaper staff recently took a field trip to Detroit.

Brother Rice Again Busy on Project '67

By JOHN CRUITT
Brother Rice High School's Project '67 is again on the move.

Athletic programs have been organized at St. Francis Orphanage to give the underprivileged a chance to compete in intramural sports.

With Brother J. A. Grimaldi leading the way, the programs are held Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The Student Council plans to give a documentary movie of Brother Rice.

The purpose of the film is to give incoming freshmen a complete picture of the school's facilities.

Filmed by seniors John Hildebrand and Tim Chaput, it will be an 8mm film lasting approximately one-half hour.

It will emphasize the extracurricular activities available as well as the academic side of the school.

This week a school contest is being held to decide which students will represent the school.

The contest consists of five categories — humorous reading, original oratory, impromptu speaking, extemporaneous speaking, and sophomore declamation.

The Valley tournament will be held March 21 in Flint.

Retail Coop students attended Michigan State University's Distributive Education Convention last Wednesday. All Michigan high schools having retail coop programs were represented.

PCH contestants were Julie Green, job interview; Charles Moss, display judging; Jim LeMarbe, sales demonstration; and Eugene Campanello, advertising layout.

Eugene won a second runner-up trophy for his layout.

Congratulations are due three more seniors who have received scholarships.

Donna Williams won the $100 Elks Scholarship and $500 from her college — Alma.

Kris Wetterhahn won a $700 scholarship to Albion.

Peter Miller has won the Evans Scholarship to the University of Michigan.

This scholarship is sponsored by the Golf Association of America and an applicant must have been a caddy for at least two years.

Peter will live in Evans House on campus and have his tuition, board, and books paid through the scholarship.

The last performances of "Superman" are Friday and Saturday. Tickets are still available. Lynn Chandler has been selected as the state's most outstanding senior girl in the Elks Leadership Contest. She now will go to international competition.

Robert Gordan earned second place in the boys' division of the same contest.

HE'S GOT RHYTHM — Mike Arthur, a junior at Milford High School, practices his solo, "The Worried Drummer," for tonight's band concert, "Sounds of Syncope." Directing the pops concert is William J. Campbell of the faculty.

Milford Junior Is Making Name as Top Drummer

By PAULA MIREAU
Junior Mike Arthur, Milford High School's "drummer boy" is creating quite a name for himself as a master drummer.

He has been playing drums for seven years, receiving numerous awards including ratings of 1 at both District and State Solo and Ensemble Festivals for his sophomore year and a rating of 1 at the District Solo and Ensemble Festival this year.

Mike feels that drumming is part of him, sort of his first love.

He now is waiting apprehensively for the State Festival but in the meantime Mike, along with the rest of the Milford High School Band, is preparing for tonight's band concert.

The band will present a pops concert, entitled "Sounds of Syncope," under the direction of William J. Campbell.

It will play several pop pieces as well as specialty numbers featuring comedians, Bruce Watson, Ted Allen, Dennis Walling, Don Connelly, and Debbie Harris in a jazz arrangement of "Joshua." Mike Arthur will present a hectic piece, "The Worried Drummer."

The newly formed wind ensemble will also perform, with numbers ranging from hit show tunes of Henry Mancini to the Tijuana Brass.

The concert will be held in the Milford High School Little Theatre.

Students Examine Sacred Heart Setup

By MARY ELLEN QUINN
A special school committee headed by Helen Fisher, was formed last week to examine the Sacred Heart system.

After talking to all the classes and hearing their ideas, the committee met with religious groups from several Sacred Heart schools over the weekend.

Thursday, senior, junior and sophomore classes attended Meadow Brook Theatre's production of "You Never Can Tell" by Bernard Shaw.

Yesterday, Roni Dengel, a member of the cast and Sacred Heart alumna, spoke to the school.

Review began last week for the third cycle of tests, administered on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

ON THE MOVE — Sunshine bright is the key at Waterford High School Council officers (from left) Anita Freeland, recording secretary; Kent Aeschliman, president; Mary Muse, corresponding secretary; and Hal Powell, vice president, polish their new glass-enclosed office. The council began the move to its new quarters last week.

Dan Frank and Debbie Torch will accompany the "Messiah." Kathy McKenzie will be the accompanist for "Naomi and Ruth."

The Treble Choir will sing "Naomi and Ruth" and the 48 girls of the Treble Choir will join the Concert Choir in the "Hallelujah Chorus."

Marian

By PATRICIA POLMEAR
Marian High School initiated a day of awareness today.

The purpose was to "Make every student aware of her responsibilities to work and pray for vocations," stated Sister Jean Patrice, coordinator of the day.

"We wish to emphasize the role the student plays as a Christian mother in religious vocations rather than emphasize joining the convent," Sister further explained.

Sisters from 18 area communities were guest speakers. They answered questions of students concerning their apostolate or requirements for entrance.

The Rev. Raymond Ellis delivered the keynote speech on his views on vocations as a priest.

The film, "The New Nun," was shown. Lou Gordon, television commentator, interviewed Sisters from five different orders on the role of the nun in the world today.

Kingswood

By CINDY GRISSOM
Students at Kingswood School will be dismissed Friday for spring vacation. Some girls are not only making plans this vacation, but are already looking forward to the summer activities.

Among these projects are European tours being organized for four Kingswood teachers.

A. A. Myers, a French teacher, will take a group of students to Paris. Miss Myers' tour will help increase the girls' French comprehension, perfect their accents and acquaint them with France.

Cranbrook

By RICHARD BOSLEY
"Admission to the Cum Laude Society should be the highest award Cranbrook can confer," said Carl Wonnberger at Cranbrook School recently.

The occasion was the awarding of society membership to Cranbrook's five top scholars: Jack Goodstein, Roger Cunningham, Charles Landau, Ralph Gerson, and Richard Bosley.

Wonnberger, who has been teaching English at the school since its inception and who will retire this year, was the speaker at this solemn ceremony.

He reminded the students that "we are living in an 'A' world, not a 'C' or 'D' one," and that "Cranbrook's good name is built upon its academic standing, not its athletic teams or its theatrical productions; the primary job of every student is to study."

He stated that these factors require academic excellence, which is rewarded and recognized by the Cum Laude Society.

Cum Laude is a national society among selected high schools which corresponds to Phi Beta Kappa on the college level.

North Farmington

By KATHY KOURTJIAN
Winners and runners-up in North Farmington's local forensics contest are now known.

Selected in Serious Interpretation were: Randy Harp and Michael Robinson; Humorous Interpretation: Jan Young and Tammy Tab; Declamation (open only to sophomores), Janet Freeze and Jackie Kirk; and Radio News Commentary, Tammy Rainigh and Bob Hite.

Others were Extemporaneous Speaking, Tom Conlin; and Group Interpretation, Alan Barak, Mary Kay Burr, Bob Davis, Randy Harp, Kathy Jajlich, Kathy Kubit, Tammy Rainigh and Mike Robinson.

The Senior Class sponsored its annual record hop last Friday evening.

The hop was a huge success, and prizes were awarded for the single, wildest pair of socks and for the wildest, weirdest sock combinations of a couple.

Members of the Theater Club traveled for the third time to Meadow Brook Theatre to see a performance of Shaw's comedy, "You Never Can Tell."

The mind-probing war picture "Psycho" may be seen Friday in the cafeteria. French Club is showing the movie as a fund-raising project.

In the first playoff, the freshmen boys beat the sophomores in basketball. The sophomore girls turned the tables and bested the freshmen girls on the court.

These interclass games will take place on the next three Friday nights. The games will start at 7 p.m., and admission will be charged.

The juniors will meet seniors this Friday night in what promises to be an exciting game.

The winners of these two games will then go on to meet the freshmen boys and sophomore girls.

The war in Vietnam is real to many people in the United States today, and now it touches St. Lawrence High School.

A few of our graduate students are in the Armed Forces, some in Vietnam.

One of these is Peter Schutz, a senior from the class of '65. Pete is missing in action in Vietnam.

He was one of those upper classmen who was known and liked by everyone. Pete played four years on the Mustang's varsity football team and was all state in his junior year.

Although he never excelled in his studies he tried hard. And he had school spirit, real spirit that showed all over this school.

When Pete graduated, there were many who were sorry to see him go, students and teachers alike. Many of us who had played football with him felt as if we were losing our best friend.

Last Tuesday we learned that Pete was missing in action. The facts and circumstances are not known.

Words fail to describe the shocked looks and the hidden feelings of the students and faculty when the news was announced.

We all pray that Pete will be found and return safe and sound.

WKHS Council in New Office

By JUDY FRANCIS
The Student Council at Waterford Kettering High School has been moving for the past week to its new, glass-enclosed office next to the main office.

One ticket window has been already installed, and there are hopes of acquiring another. The office can then double as a ticket booth for inside activities.

Two new phones were installed on the outside office wall to replace old ones.

Eventually WKHS's present officers hope to have more cabinets and shelves installed in the office.

Kettering's students had a last minute rush this morning period as the school board moved the end of the marking period up one week.

REPORT CARDS
Complications, due to Easter vacation and the issuing of report cards, moved the end of this marking period to March 10th. Report cards will be issued tomorrow.

Kettering students that participated and won in a recent speech contest at WKHS are Pat Davidson and Bob James, original oratory; and Rick Rosen and Andrea Cook, humorous reading.

Others are Pete Teeuwissen and Paul Barnto, interpretive reading; Kathy Ezslanhere, girls' extempore speech; Rick Schwach and Judy Thompson, declamation.

Also included were Dave Swain and Rodney Reinhardt, radio commentary, and the two groups, "Spoon River" and "Death," multiple reading.

These students will go to Royal Oak Kimball to the district contest in two weeks.

SERIES OF CONTESTS
Winners of that contest will go to a regional contest, and from there, to state finals.

Band members that will participate in the state solo and ensemble Festival at Trenton Saturday are: in the solo classification Tom Reinhardt, trumpet; Rick Hewitt, snare drum; Ken Fourn, clarinet; Sandy Ingelhart, clarinet; and Ed Melhorn, trombone.

The clarinet quartet includes Ken Fourn, Ken Hebenstreit, Sandy Ingelhart and Sue Johns.

Dawn Mercer, Rosemary Corey, Roger Fidler and Wanda Corey make up the saxophone quartet, while Lori Jackson, Sharon Pelkey and Sue Yingling compose the flute trio.

Also attending is the bass sextet consisting of Tom Reinhardt, cornet; Dave Woodward, trumpet; Bob Gohl, baritone; Dale Plympton, French horn; Ed Melhorn, trombone; and Rod Reinhardt, tuba.

ELECTIONS
The senior class held elections for class song, colors, flower, and motto.

Winning were class song, "Impossible Dream"; class flower, yellow rose; class colors, red, green and blue; and a motto, "Reach for the highest and brightest star and never let the falling ones discourage you, class motto."

Senior room captains are reminded that it is necessary for all envelopes to be turned in daily. The deadline is March 15th for all money.

Kettering's Principal, James Fry commended WKHS students that attended the Kettering-Pontiac Central game.

School spirit and good sportsmanship were displayed throughout the game, even though WKHS suffered its first defeat of the year.

Congratulations are due Judy Perkins and Steve T. Peterson who recently were named to the All Conference Ski Team, honorable mention. They were selected from a group of more than 200 skiers.

WKHS Council in New Office

By JUDY FRANCIS
The Student Council at Waterford Kettering High School has been moving for the past week to its new, glass-enclosed office next to the main office.

One ticket window has been already installed, and there are hopes of acquiring another. The office can then double as a ticket booth for inside activities.

Two new phones were installed on the outside office wall to replace old ones.

Eventually WKHS's present officers hope to have more cabinets and shelves installed in the office.

Kettering's students had a last minute rush this morning period as the school board moved the end of the marking period up one week.

REPORT CARDS
Complications, due to Easter vacation and the issuing of report cards, moved the end of this marking period to March 10th. Report cards will be issued tomorrow.

Kettering students that participated and won in a recent speech contest at WKHS are Pat Davidson and Bob James, original oratory; and Rick Rosen and Andrea Cook, humorous reading.

Others are Pete Teeuwissen and Paul Barnto, interpretive reading; Kathy Ezslanhere, girls' extempore speech; Rick Schwach and Judy Thompson, declamation.

Also included were Dave Swain and Rodney Reinhardt, radio commentary, and the two groups, "Spoon River" and "Death," multiple reading.

These students will go to Royal Oak Kimball to the district contest in two weeks.

SERIES OF CONTESTS
Winners of that contest will go to a regional contest, and from there, to state finals.

Band members that will participate in the state solo and ensemble Festival at Trenton Saturday are: in the solo classification Tom Reinhardt, trumpet; Rick Hewitt, snare drum; Ken Fourn, clarinet; Sandy Ingelhart, clarinet; and Ed Melhorn, trombone.

The clarinet quartet includes Ken Fourn, Ken Hebenstreit, Sandy Ingelhart and Sue Johns.

Dawn Mercer, Rosemary Corey, Roger Fidler and Wanda Corey make up the saxophone quartet, while Lori Jackson, Sharon Pelkey and Sue Yingling compose the flute trio.

Also attending is the bass sextet consisting of Tom Reinhardt, cornet; Dave Woodward, trumpet; Bob Gohl, baritone; Dale Plympton, French horn; Ed Melhorn, trombone; and Rod Reinhardt, tuba.

ELECTIONS
The senior class held elections for class song, colors, flower, and motto.

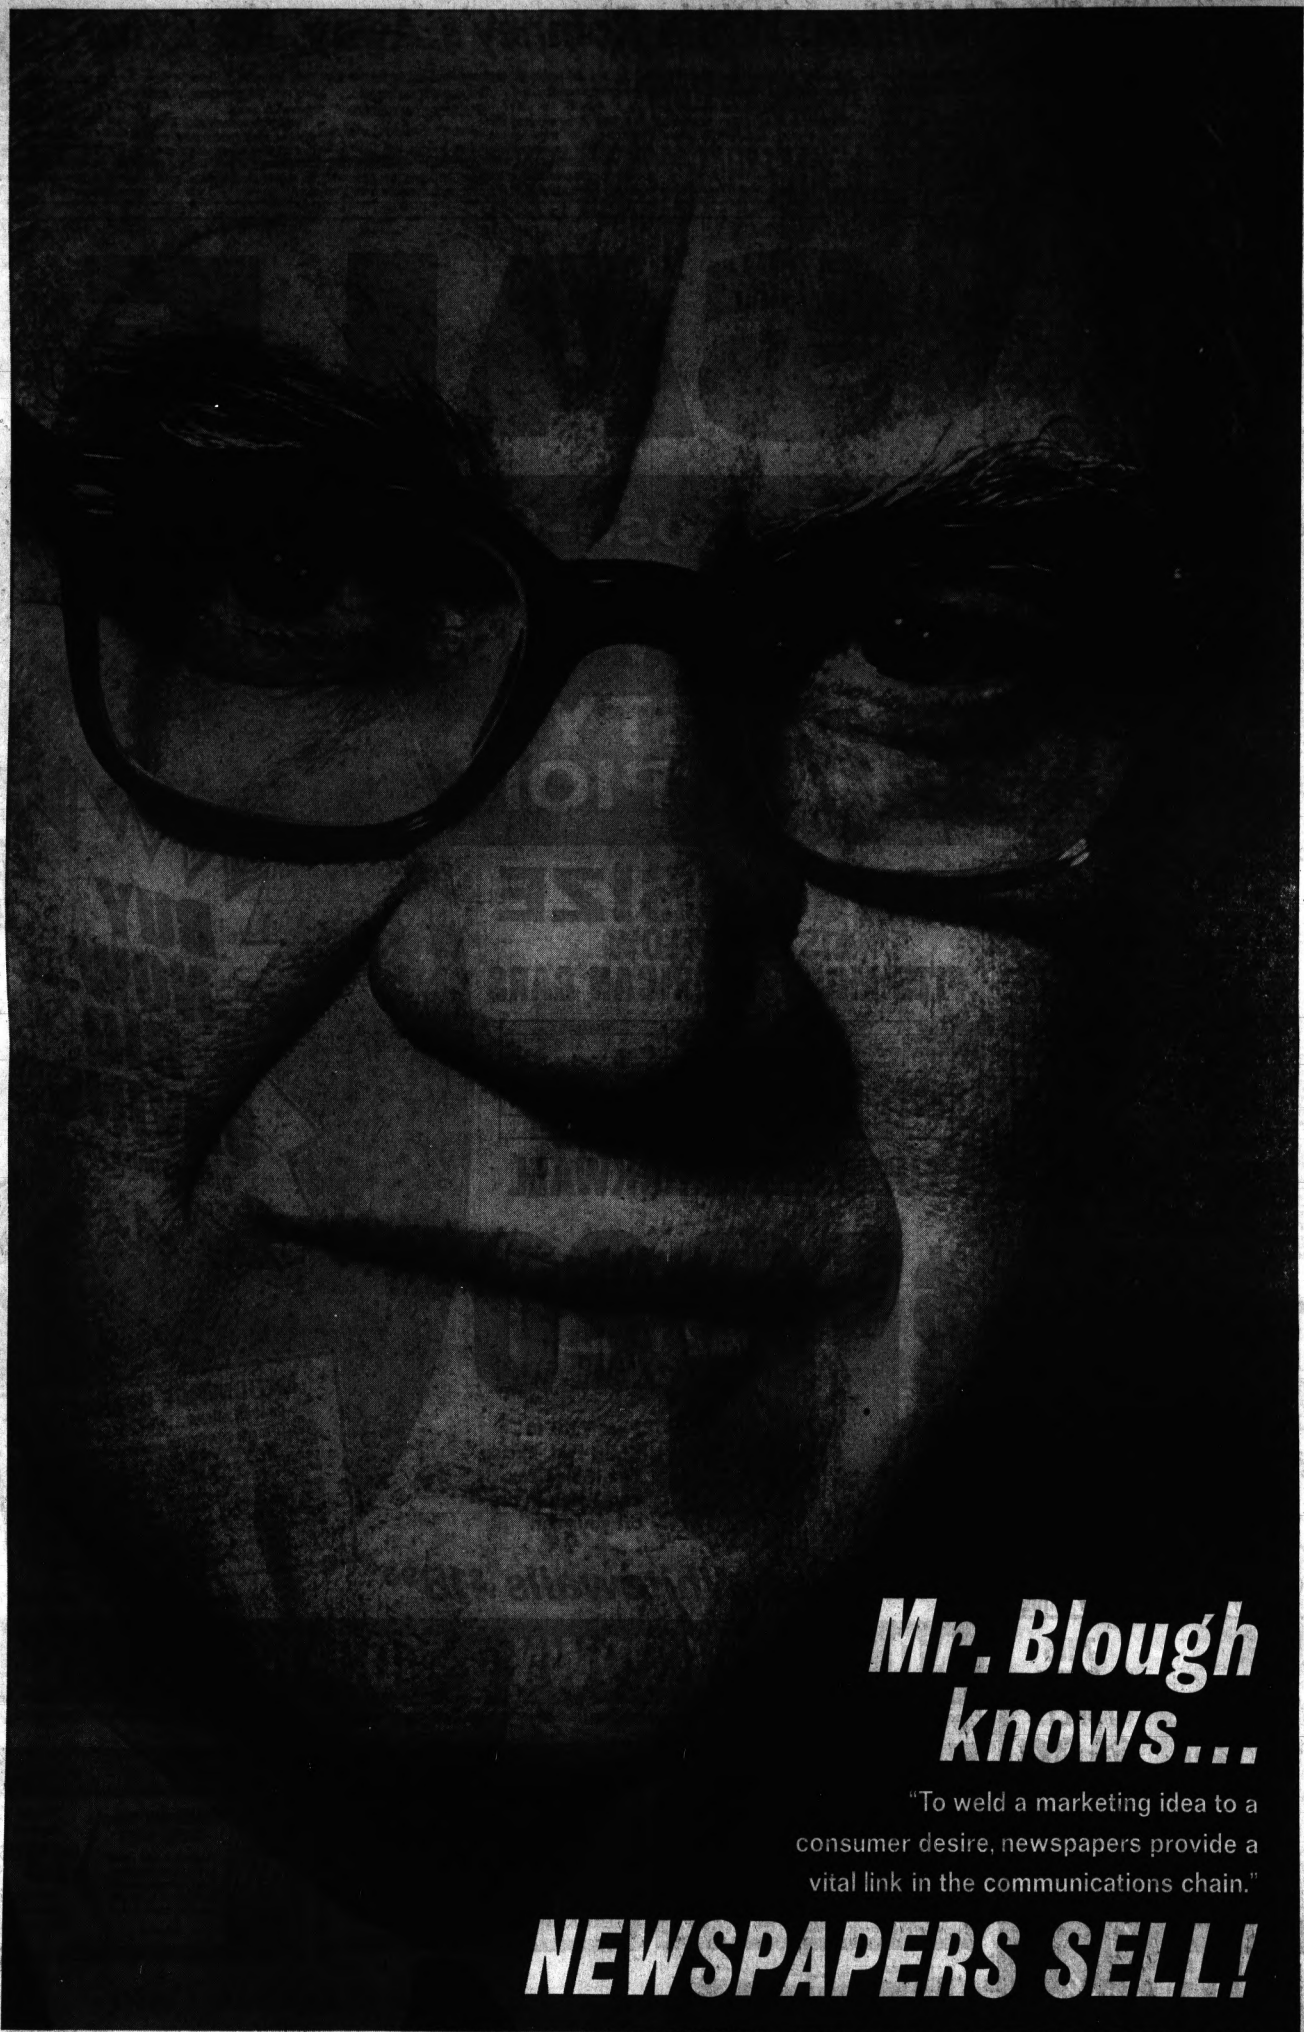

Winning were class song, "Impossible Dream"; class flower, yellow rose; class colors, red, green and blue; and a motto, "Reach for the highest and brightest star and never let the falling ones discourage you, class motto."

Senior room captains are reminded that it is necessary for all envelopes to be turned in daily. The deadline is March 15th for all money.

Kettering's Principal, James Fry commended WKHS students that attended the Kettering-Pontiac Central game.

School spirit and good sportsmanship were displayed throughout the game, even though WKHS suffered its first defeat of the year.

Congratulations are due Judy Perkins and Steve T. Peterson who recently were named to the All Conference Ski Team, honorable mention. They were selected from a group of more than 200 skiers.

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — Michigan Junior Miss Kathie Fliss of Southfield said America's Junior Miss Pageant is an opportunity for a girl "to take back so much and learn so much from others."

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fliss took her first airplane trip when she flew here for the pageant.

The preliminaries begin tonight and the finals are Saturday.

She left behind 15 degree weather and found the trip "fascinating to watch the ground turn from brown up there to green down here."

She said no matter who wins the title Saturday, "We're winners just by being here. It's a privilege for any girl to be in the pageant."

"She takes so much back home."

Thoughtless to Talk of Coming 'Do'

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: If a person is planning a party, isn't it rude and ignorant to tell an uninvited friend all the details of the party? I think it would be better not to mention the party at all. Am I right or wrong? — Mrs. F. W.

Dear Mrs. W.: Of course, you're right. It's the height of thoughtlessness to whet someone's appetite and then snatch the cookie away.

OCCASION

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter was married in January. She left immediately on her honeymoon and proceeded on to Brazil where she is now living. Since she left, gifts have continued coming to my home. We do not wish her to appear remiss with "thank you's".

Is it in order for me to give some temporary informal notification of receipt? — Mrs. Burns

Dear Mrs. Burns: This is one of the few occasions when the use of a printed card to be followed by a hand-written note is not only acceptable, but desirable. Have cards printed reading:

Mrs. John Smith (daughter's name) gratefully acknowledges the receipt of your wedding gift, and will write you a personal note at the earliest possible date.

Send these cards to the donors of all presents being held by you for your daughter, and send her the list as soon as possible so that she may write herself, as promised.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Named the best hatted women of the year are three nationally known personalities. From the left are Lesley Gore, rock 'n' roll singing star; Mrs. Ronald Reagan, wife of California's new governor; and actress Angela Lansbury. The award, a gold charm shaped like a hat, symbolizes their hat style leadership in 1966. It is given by the Millinery Institute of America.

Attitude of Many Swiss People Annoys Writer From Chicago

DEAR ABBY: This isn't just my imagination, as other people have agreed with me. I refer to the uprightness of the Swiss people.

You can't meet a Swiss without his telling you in two minutes, "I am Swiss, you know." Why is that? They seem to think they are better than anyone else

Please tell me what the Swiss have to be so superior about? What have they contributed to the world that makes them so special — if they are.

CHICAGOAN: Well, they've given us chocolate, cheese, and great skiing, and they seem to have the formula for avoiding war and attracting money.

DEAR ABBY: If you and your husband were playing cards with another man and his wife, and this other man kept brushing his leg up against yours, what would you do or say?

I tried moving my leg as far out of his reach as I could until I nearly slid off my chair, but even that didn't help.

This is not just my imagination, Abby. I know he was doing it on purpose. His wife and I are good friends, and I didn't want to hurt her by making a scene. I know we will be seeing these people again soon. How should this be handled? Or should I ignore it?

PUZZLED: DEAR PUZZLED: The next time you are able to have a private word with "Daddy Long Legs," tell him in no uncertain terms that you got his message — and the answer is no!

DEAR ABBY: My mother says that girls shouldn't call boys. I don't see why not. If you want to know about a homework assignment or something like that, what's wrong with it?

WONDERING WHY: DEAR WONDERING WHY: Girls shouldn't call boys because the boy might get the idea that she is "chasing him" — which is the last thing a girl wants a boy to think — especially if she is.

If a girl wants to know about "a homework assignment or something like that," she'd better say ahead to call another girl.

DEAR ABBY: This is for Worried, who said her parents left her alone with her younger sisters and brothers, sometimes for days without telling her where they could be reached in case of emergency.

Do these parents realize that even if Worried were to call nothing but First Aid could be done without the parents' consent?

If parents take off and don't want to be reached, they should at least leave a letter giving permission to a nearby doctor or hospital to do whatever they deem necessary for the welfare of the child.

I have a cousin who lay suffering with a broken neck until his parents' visiting permission from Hawaii to treat it!

CONCERNED

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letters from "Recent Widow" and "Not Doing So Well," and their resentment of those who gave them condolences in public. May I say that they should appreciate such a respectable question as, "How are you doing?"

I have been a widow for four years and when I meet a couple "we" both knew, the first question the husband asks me is, "Jane, how come you aren't married yet?"

I don't want to cry, I want to scream, "Did it ever occur to you that I was in love with my dear departed — and still am?"

Granted, I would like male companionship for social events that require an escort, but I doubt that I will ever meet a man who could come close to being the wonderful man my husband was. Sign me,

NOT LOOKING

DEAR NOT: Perhaps your friend meant to pay you a compliment, but worded it clumsily. ("Jane, you are such a prize, I'm surprised no man has snapped you up yet.")

Should you ever want "permanent" companionship don't compare every man you meet to your first husband. Few men can compete with a widow's "dear departed."

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Ukrainian Easter eggs in a variety of colors are the finished product of Mrs. David E. Walsh, West Tiengen Road, Avon Township. She uses geometrical, floral and simple animal designs applied on raw eggs with wax and then dipped in vibrant dyes.

Ukrainian-Type Eggs for the Adventurous

Mrs. David E. Walsh of West Tiengen Road, Avon Township freely admits she is no Easter egg expert - but she does her best, and the best is more than good enough.

Mrs. Walsh recently demonstrated to the Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church the art of making Ukrainian-type Easter eggs.

Using her method, varied designs and styles are applied on uncooked eggs with a hollow stylus filled with beeswax.

Alternating coats of dye and wax decorations are applied until the desired effect is achieved.

Mrs. Walsh is a graduate of Kingswood School, Cranbrook and the University of Michigan. She has a master's degree in design from the U of M College of Architecture and Design and has taught sculpture at the Saginaw Museum.

Her usual art work calls for wedding and casting metals for sculpture. But she paints a very good egg, as eggs go.

The following is from her instruction sheet.

"How to Make Ukrainian Easter Eggs—(more or less)!"

Needed:

- Eggs, clean and raw.
- Some beeswax (the dime-store kind for strengthening thread will do).
- A shallow tin can (tuna can is fine) and a hot plate or stove burner.

• Ukrainian eggs are dyed with bright aniline dyes, but since these are hard to find, Easter egg or fabric dyes will do.

• A stylus is necessary. A real one may be purchased from a Ukrainian supply store, or you can take the easy way out and make one. A funnel of copper secured with an alligator clip is fine.

• A candle for liquifying the wax placed in the stylus. Your materials are assembled, here are the directions.

- Wash and dry eggs
- Melt wax in the tuna can and fill stylus; draw some designs on the white raw eggs and dip in yellow dye.
- Draw more designs and dip into green dye for yellow, green, blue, purple, black combinations or into orange dye for a yellow, orange, red, purple, black combination.
- Draw more designs and dip into the next darker color.
- Continue this way until egg is wax covered. (It looks terrible).
- Put wax-covered eggs into a pan lined with paper napkins or paper towels and melt off wax in a very slow oven; this will take 15 to 25 minutes or more.
- Very carefully wipe off the excess wax and see (with delight!) what you have created.
- After Easter, store eggs in carton in a place where they will not get too hot or freeze. Eventually the white will dry up and the yellows will settle around in the egg.
- Eggs will last as long as they are not broken. Ukrainians treasure theirs for generations.

UKRAINIAN DESIGNS

Ukrainian designs are usually line characters. It's possible for a beginner to copy some of the simpler ones with great success.

You could go off on your own and simply write the children's names or copy from the Easter egg stencils you undoubtedly have left over from last year.

If you are enthusiastic about being traditional you find several books in your local library on the subject which will illustrate designs to be applied.

HEALTH FOODS

Eat Better—Feel Better

WHAT ARE NATURAL FOODS?

How do they improve your food habits?

By Talmec Surala

Nature provides in the seeds of plants, powers of regeneration—the very source of life. Life sustains life and can be brought into existence only through something already alive. Seeds are one of the most living foods known to man. Unrefined, organically grown seeds are rich sources of vitamins and minerals. Even the birds appreciate feeders well stocked with seeds.

Commonly known seeds are sunflower, sesame, flaxseed, pumpkin, soybeans, millet and other grains. Lesser known are fenugreek, alfalfa, and chia seed.

Years ago farmers frequently ate a handful of raw wheat or other grains, and the nutrients contributed greatly to their strength and endurance. Whole grains, used in baking and as cereals, contain a wealth of natural minerals refining process.

Sesame is popular for baking and candy-making—especially Halvah. Sunflower and pumpkin seeds are often toasted and served as snacks, in place of, or with, nuts.

Any live seed will sprout, of which the soybean is the most popular, being used by the Chinese for their amazing source of protein, vitamins and minerals.

At our store you can purchase natural, organically grown seeds and learn more of their tremendous health-giving properties.

Have Fear of Asking Things We Desire

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My husband has never shown the interest in our older boy he shows in our younger one. I'm sure that this is because John was an unplanned child. He was born 15 months after our marriage.

We had planned that I would continue working until my husband found time to support a family but my pregnancy and John's birth made this impossible. I'm sure that my husband has always resented John's upsetting our plans.

The boy feels this and is so shy, so insecure with his father. If you could tell me how to improve their relationship, I would be so grateful. I...

ANSWER: It's John who is responsible for that improvement. If he is the person who wants more of his father's affection, it's up to him to ask for it.

Next time he looks crushed at slights by his father, why don't you say to him, "Are you sad because daddy won't work for it."

Parents of the bridal couple are the Samuel D. Holders of Elsie Drive and the J. B. Tiltons of Kenford Street.

Gowned in white satin brocade, the bride completed her ensemble with a short illusion veil which fell from a petal tiara.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Carol Bull was maid of honor with bridesmaids, Sandra Pressnell and Lavina Holder and flower girl, Dawn Mellott.

On the esquire side were James Tilton standing as his brother's best man and ushers Elmer Wheeler, Michael Wall and Bobby VanGorder, ring bearer.

A reception followed in the church parlors.

on your rocket engine with you as he plays with Buddy on his railroad cars? If you are, tell him so.

If you want more attention, more love from daddy, tell him so. Ask for them, John. Wait until he is alone. Then, walk straight up to him and say, "Daddy, I want more attention, more interest in me than you are giving me."

That's what I'd do were I John's mother.

I would do it because I know that declaring one's wants to another person is the most liberating of all experiences. I'd do it because I know that once we've so revealed ourselves to the other person, how he responds to us is of minor importance. I'd do it because I know that "shyness" is fear of declaring our wants to another person, whether our wants are a salary raise from an employer, a date with a very popular person of the opposite sex or more affection from a parent.

I'd do it because I know that our terror of saying "I want" is terror of — what's the word? Oh yes, I remember — "rejection." But then I have no use whatever for the awfulness of "rejection" with which the child guidance experts have invested it. I see no awfulness in it.

What's awful to me is our denial of wants and desires lest the other fellow refuse to gratify

That's a form of dependence on the other fellow that makes me sick. So I'm all for John saying, "Daddy, I want you to love me more than you do." That's what I'm for right down the line — the beautiful coming through with oneself.

I'm a writer, not an expert and so I have no caution about coming through with oneself. I come through with myself every time I write this column. I stick my neck out and see no reason why your John shouldn't do the same thing.

Mrs. Lawrence welcomes letters from readers but because of the volume of mail she cannot answer all letters personally.

Allergies and You—8

'Shiners': Trouble Sign

By Allergy Foundation of America
(Distributed by NEA Special Services)
As the doctor enters the room his first glance reveals the history of the child before him. There are all the characteristics written on the face.

Dark circles under the eyes betray the constant cold-type symptoms of chronic nasal allergy which causes swelling of the mucus membrane of the nose and sinuses.

The child is breathing through his open mouth, bypassing the stopped-up nose.

To the doctor, these "allergic shiners" are an unmistakable sign. The child is suffering from a hay fever allergy.

The doctor sets about the task of rescuing him.

Antihistamines or other drugs can give quick relief; skin tests given with essences of known allergy-producing allergens can identify the offending substances by the redness spots only these produce on the skin.

Then desensitization can proceed; with medicine and air conditioning, perhaps, keeping the patient comfortable as possible when necessary during the treatment.

Had this child's condition been neglected, the story would have been far different.

The hay fever paves the way for further infection including sinus trouble and hearing loss.

One of three hay fever victims can expect to develop asthma in time.

There is no season for a child's hay fever. In the spring there can be an epidemic among those sensitive to tree pollen.

Summer's hay fever, coinciding with the release of grass pollen, tells its prey with the second onset.

FALL HAY FEVER
Fall hay fever, when ragweed pollen contaminates the air, engulfs an even larger group. And not to be overlooked is a year-round nasal distress arising from house dust.

Most serious of the allergic diseases of childhood is asthma.

It strikes quickly and the labored breathing, particularly in small babies, calls for emergency treatment and frequently admission to a hospital.

In the past, such a child sufferer was often doomed to near-invalidism, bedridden and needing constant care. Hopefully, asthma experts are seeing signs on the horizon that carefully controlled exercise offers promise of breathing rehabilitation.

U. S. Gives State Education Grant

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Secondary Education Act to Michigan Department of Education yesterday received a $200,000 federal grant under Title and teaching skills. Five of the Elementary and Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., announced the grant and said the state has now received $719,829 under the act for fiscal 1968.

He said several other programs drawn up by the state have not yet been funded.

Domestic Issues Are Cause

PARIS (AP) — Bread-and-butter issues were the underlying cause of the Gaullist election setback last weekend, but President Charles de Gaulle's foreign policy may have helped by making Communist candidates more acceptable to the voters.

Official returns from the second round of voting Sunday for the new National Assembly gave the Gaullists 244 seats to 241 for the combined opposition. That is a Gaullist majority of one in the full Assembly of 487 members. But three seats remain in doubt, and the Gaullists could wind up with a margin ranging from a plus five to a minus one.

One seat, representing Bastia, on the island of Corsica, was credited to the Gaullists. But the losing candidate, incumbent Jean Zuccarelli of the non-Communist Federation of the Left, was reported planning to ask that the vote be annulled and a new election ordered because of election irregularities.

Next Sunday
Returns from Tahiti, in the South Pacific, are not expected until next Sunday. A leftist is favored there. Another seat will be filled from French Somaliland if that East African territory votes in a referendum Sunday to remain with France.

The election trend was clearly to the left. The Gaullists lost 38 seats, while the left gained 53. The Communists will have 73 deputies in the new Assembly, 32 more than they elected five years ago. The non-Communist left, with 126 seats, has picked up 21 new seats so far.

Premier Georges Pompidou is counting on six or seven center Democrats who were elected with Gaullist support to cross the aisle and join the Gaullists on critical roll calls.

The immediate cause for the Gaullist setback was the unity of the left, agreed on last Dec. 20 by leaders of Communist and non-Communist parties and endorsed Sunday by their rank-and-file followers.

Spartan Coach Looks for End of Era

Duffy Already Sees 'Stacked Deck' Against MSU

By BOB VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP) — "We're back playing the boys again," mourned Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty.

That was Daugherty's way of saying the deck is stacked against MSU winning a third

Big Ten football championship in a row. The conference has seen two in-a-row winners 10 times. But no school has come up with a triple title winner.

"The era of the super-athlete at Michigan State is over," said Daugherty. "We had a windfall of exceptional individual stars, great athletes blessed with wonderful competitive attitudes.

"They made us into an outstanding team for two years. But now they're gone, and we're playing the boys again."

WEAK BENCH

The Spartans will need a lot of help from the sophomores to be considered in conference title competition, Daugherty said. There will be 17 lettermen lost and 23 returning. Last fall, there was a sharp dropoff in the playing quality of the first and second units.

"Even with considerable help from freshmen, a slip down the ladder appears inevitable," Daugherty concluded.

Michigan State starts spring football drills April 11, less than a month away. Daugherty plans four-day-a-week workouts through May 13.

TOP PROSPECTS

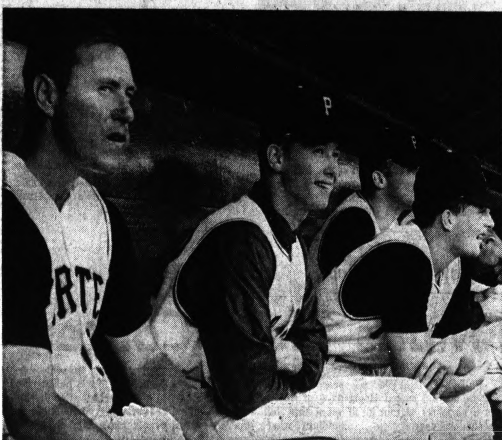

Missing next fall will be such prime pro prospects as halfback

Clint Jones, end Gene Washington, kicker Dick Kenney and line standouts Jerry West, Bubba Smith and Charley Thornhill. A major asset is the return of quarterback Jimmy Raye who led the Spartans to their unbeaten season and second title last year.

Fullback Bob Apisa is a question mark after his knee operation. But if Apisa returns in top shape, he could be the bulldozer of the MSU backfield.

Daugherty, speculating on the Big Ten race, says Purdue should be strong again if the Boilermakers can replace Bob Griese. He figures Ohio State, Illinois and Minnesota as others in the running.

PONTIAC PIRATE — Roger Hayward of Pontiac (second from left), who signed a bonus pitching contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates two years ago, is back in the club's Fort Myers training camp. At left is star second baseman Mill Mazerowski. On the other side is another rookie pitcher from Export, Pa., Bob Moose. Hayward was out most of the 1966 season with an injury.

Cards Snap Streak for Detroit Tigers

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)

The St. Louis Cardinals chastised Detroit Monday 1-0, handing the Tigers their first defeat of the infant exhibition baseball season.

Before then, the Tigers had won three straight games by big margins.

But their luck ran out in the ninth inning Monday.

With the game scoreless, Tiger pitcher Fred Gladding walked Mike Shannon. Dave Ricketts sent Shannon to third with a single and Phil Gagliano the game when he lined a single to left field driving Shannon home.

Three young St. Louis right-handers held the Tigers to three scattered singles and only once did Detroit come close to scoring.

That was in the seventh. But Gates Brown and Jake Wood struck out with the bases loaded.

Tiger pitchers Mickey Lolich and Johnny Podres combined effort with Gladding.

Former All-Star shortstop Dick McAuliffe performed like an All-Star at second base.

SPARKLING PLAYS

McAuliffe turned a base hit into a force out when he streaked behind second and flipped the ball backhanded to the shortstop for the fourth. He also made a pickup on the grass and threw the runner out.

Manager Mayo Smith seemed pleased with Podres' efforts after the Tigers left-handeder had allowed four runs in two innings his first time out. Monday he gave up only one single in his three-inning stint.

"I've talked with John about relying on his changeup more," said Smith, "and I thought he did that real good."

Smith noted Podres had developed another curve "and it could make him awfully tough."

Catcher Bill Freehan said Lo-

lich had a strong fastball in his second outing of the spring. In six innings Lolich has yet to give up a run. Monday he allowed two singles and walked one.

"I'm not pleased yet but I'm encouraged," said Lolich. "I still have a way to go before I can say I'm pleased."

NO SENSATION

Gladding pinched a nerve in the little finger of his right hand while snapping off a slider to Shannon and pitched to the last three hitters with no sensation in the finger.

"I thought he had hurt his arm the way he started shaking it and I just about died," said Smith. "But Fred says he does that quite a bit with the slider."

Smith, Jones Selected 1-2 by NFL Teams

Detroit Names Farr, Webster, Washington Among Top Eight

NEW YORK (AP) — Four

Michigan State stars, headed by giant Bubba Smith, were among the first eight players selected today in the first combined player draft of the National and American Football Leagues.

Smith, the 1966 College Linebacker of the Year, was the No. 1 pick and was selected by the Baltimore Colts of the NFL.

The other seven top picks were:

2. Clint Jones, Michigan State running back, by the Minnesota Vikings of the NFL.

3. Steve Spurrier, Heisman Trophy winning quarterback from Florida, by San Francisco 49ers of the NFL.

BRODIE TRADED

The 49ers were believed to have traded veteran quarterback John Brodie to the Atlanta Falcons for the No. 3 draft pick.

4. Bob Griese, Purdue quarterback, by Miami of the AFL.

5. George Webster, Michigan State linebacker, by Houston of the AFL.

6. Floyd Little, Syracuse running back, by Denver of the AFL.

7. Mel Farr, UCLA running back, by Detroit of the NFL.

8. Gene Washington, Michigan State offensive end, by Minnesota of the NFL.

The Colts got the first choice by using the draft pick of the New Orleans Saints, the new team in the NFL. The Saints had traded their No. 1 selection to the Colts for veteran quarterback Gary Cuozzo, who had asked to be traded by the Colts.

Minnesota, in need of a running back, used the draft choice of the lowly New York Giants. The Vikings had acquired the Saints' No. 1 pick as part of the deal for veteran quarterback Fran Tarkenton.

The Vikings had the privilege of making the first pick this year or in 1968, also as part of the trade with the Giants. They elected to make their super pick next year.

Then the Vikings, making their regular draft as No. 8 on the list, selected Gene Washington, Michigan State's fine offensive end.

Smith, 21, stands 6-feet-7 and weighs 283 pounds. He was chosen as an All-America, as was Jones, a speedy, 6-foot, 200-pound halfback, who gained 1,921 yards during his college career.

Spurrier was third in the country in passing last season with 2,012 yards and 16 touch-downs. He was sixth in total offense last season with 2,078 yards and was Florida's punter, averaging 40.8 yards per kick.

Webster, a 212-pound All-America, was called Michigan State's Monster Man. He is a tenacious tackler and has great punting.

Marshall Cracks Record in NIT Win

Nebraska Five Second Half Surges 119-98 Victim Earn Cage Victories

Southern Illinois Pins 72-63 Loss on Duke

NEW YORK (AP) — Basketball is a labor of love for Southern Illinois' skillful Salukis, but jumping George Stone and the Thundering Herd prefer to shoot first — and let the good times roll.

"When I'm hot, I just keep pumping. I'm not bashful," an exultant Stone exclaimed Monday night after his 46-point barrage led Marshall's Hurling Herd to a record-breaking 119-98 triumph over Nebraska in the National Invitation Tournament.

"The keys for us have been balance and hard work," said Coach Jack Hartman, whose Salukis preceded Marshall into the NIT semifinals by wearing down Duke 72-63 in the first game of the Madison Square Garden doubleheader.

Marshall and Southern Illinois play the respective winners of tonight's Providence-Marquette and New Mexico-Rutgers pairings in Thursday night's semis.

RECORD SCORE

Stone, an angular 6-foot-7 jump-shooter whose accuracy appears to improve as he moves farther away from the hoop, put together the high-point game thus far in the tourney as Marshall shattered Bradley's 10-year-old NIT record of 116 points.

The junior forward, limited to 15 points in Marshall's 70-68 overtime victory over Villanova last Thursday night, poured in 26 in the first half against the stunned Cornhuskers, hitting on 12 of 19 shots from the floor. He finished with 20-for-38 and a school point record.

Sophomore Dick Garrett, rugged Ralph Johnson and Little All-America Walt Frazier led Southern Illinois past the Blue Devils for its 16th straight victory and 22nd in 24 starts.

In winning the award, Brady became the second Hope player in two years to hold the honor. Last year it was Clare Van Wieren.

Ahead 39-33 at halftime, Perry outscored Oxford Hills 21-10 in the third period enroute to a 78-60 decision, while Booth, nursing a lead at intermission, purred in 23 markers in the third stanza and coasted to a 64-51 verdict over Oxford Merchants.

The triumphs boosted the Balance was the key for both AL winners. Five players hit double figures for Perry Drugs.

Jerry Williams led the way with 21 points, followed by John Hooper (15), Robert Vinlay (11), Sammy Soles (10) and Booker Hurning (10). Felix Brooks paced the losers with 15 markers.

Scott Maentz tossed in 18 points and teammate Chuck Phillips added 14 for Booth. Cal Darsee paced the Merchants with 21 markers.

In the opening round of National League action, the champion Amigo Club rolled past Local 653, 85-76, and McDonald's Drive-In whipped Auburn Hills, 69-57.

Down 45-37 at halftime, Amigo whipped in 47 points in the second half to foil the union team's upset bid. Vernon Ellis led the winners with 22 points, 14 in the second half, and Mack Jones added 18. It was Craft night for the losers as Willie hit 28 and Curley and Dale added 21 apiece.

McDonald's led all the way in advancing to the second round. Phillip Rabeja led the winners with 23 markers, while Dan McCoskey tossed in 25 for the losers.

NL games tonight on the Lincoln floor have the Unbeatables meeting Highland Lakes at 7 and Packers taking on Acker Construction at 8:30. Winners of tonight's games play at 8:30.

Thursday on the Pontiac North-Central floor following the 7 o'clock duel between McDonald's and Amigo.

In international playoffs, Orchard Lanes and Local 596 moved into the semifinals. The Lanes squad trimmed Town & Country, 66-42, while Local 596 gained a forfeit decision over Lee's Lawn & Garden.

Nick Neira flipped in 27 points to spark the Orchard Lanes attack.

The Chicago White Sox hitters were really looking over the pitchers. The trouble was that when they found one they liked they couldn't do much with it.

The White Sox weren't swinging at too many bad balls Monday—they got 13 walks. But they also got only one hit and lost 6-0 to the New York Yankees in a Grapefruit League game at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Fischer Dennis Higgins' single off rookie Bill Henry in the fourth inning was the Chicago hit. Henry walked four. Rookie Stan Bahnen, the New York starter, also walked four, and Hal Reniff, the New York finisher, walked five.

Rose Muschio drove in two runs with a double and another with a single for the Yankees. Floyd Robinson hit a pinch-hit homer and Dick Simpson drove in a two-run blast in Cincinnati's 6-3 victory over Houston at Tampa, Fla. Rookie Gary Nolan of the Reds threw three innings of shutout ball against the Astros, who got a bases empty homer from Jim Landis.

LONG BALL

The New York Mets also made use of the long ball in beating the Boston Red Sox 5-3 at Winter Haven, Fla. Cleon Jones hit a two-run homer and Chuck Hiller slammed a solo shot in the sixth inning.

Reggie Smith hit a two-run homer and rookie second baseman Mike Andrews got five straight hits for the Red Sox.

Los Angeles edged Washington 10-9 at Vero Beach, Fla., when rookies John Wenzel and Jim Campanis broke an 8-4 tie with run scoring singles in the seventh inning.

Ron Hunt collected two singles and a triple and Bob Bailey drove in three runs with a double and a triple for Los Angeles. Pittsburgh sent the Kansas City Athletics to their fourth straight setback, 7-1 at Bradenton, Fla., as Matty Alou singled in two runs and Stargell drove in three with a single and double.

Minnesota jumped on Pedro Ramos for five runs in three innings and belted Philadelphia 7-3 at Clearwater, Fla. It also was the Phillies' fourth straight loss. Rich Rollins hit a bases-empty homer for the Twins.

In a Grapefruit League night game, Orlando Martinez squeezed home pinch runner Ed Pacheco in the bottom of the 10th to give Atlanta 1-0 victory over Baltimore at West Palm Beach, Fla.

In two Cactus League games, California edged Cleveland 6-5 at Tucson, Ariz., and the Chicago Cubs beat San Francisco 4-2 at Phoenix, Ariz.

Happy as Cardinal

Maris Now Content

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—So far no one has asked Roger Maris if he thinks he can hit 61 home runs this year.

The man who best Babe Ruth's record still carries deep scars from the frantic, pressure days of 1961 and the troubled years that followed at Yankee Stadium where the cheers turned to boos.

Maris is a St. Louis Cardinal now. At the age of 32 he hopes to start a new career, closer to his home in Independence, Mo., and his family. There is the challenge of a new league, new pitching, new teammates and new surroundings.

Although Maris still has his guard up, he appears happy and contented with the Cardinals, who will pay him $75,000 for the year's work.

"Are you sorry you hit the 61?" he was asked.

"It might have been better," he said. "A lot of bad publicity came as a result of it, perhaps because I wasn't supposed to do it."

There was resentment in some areas because Maris, regarded as a one-year wonder, had broken Ruth's record. The record was marked with an asterisk, denoting it had been made in a 152-game season in contrast to Ruth's 154-game year.

NOT MUCH

Although Maris did cash in on the publicity, he did not make as much extra money as might have been possible.

"The expense of picking up more bad publicity was more than I could afford," he said. "It just wasn't worth it."

First Strike of Pros Seen in Cage Loop

NEW YORK (AP)—The first strike in history against a major league professional sports organization appeared in the offing today as the Players Association and the National Basketball Association owners faced each other across a long-range bargaining table.

On the surface, the deadline was noon today for the players to confirm they would participate in the postseason playoffs beginning March 25. If they did not so confirm, said NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy in a public statement, the playoffs would not be held and the $200,000 players' pool would vanish.

Under the surface, there were rumors from well-informed sources that the deadline would be extended past noon. The sources declined to be quoted directly or identified.

PENSION PLAN

At issue is the player pension plan. At present, 10-year players are assured of $200 a month 30 years after they retire. The players ask $300. The owners have offered $500. More importantly, the players want to be retroactive for players now in the league.

The players over the weekend took a private vote on their feelings about a strike. "We're 100 per cent behind a strike," said Len Wilkins, the St. Louis player representative.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued an uneven decline early this afternoon in moderately active trading.

The market was down from the opening and continued the same pattern, widening the gap between gainers and losers to a ratio of about 3 to 2.

Most losses of key stocks were fractional as the list resumed an adjustment from the feverish rise of early Friday when the Detroit largest volume in history was piled up.

Auto sales were reported down 25 per cent in early March from the like period a year ago — and this was "more of the same" in the economic news picture.

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler gave Congress another strong argument for President Johnson's income surtax proposal at the same time as he asked for approval of the proposed reinstatement of investment tax cuts.

A few issues, affected by speculative currents, took wider losses.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.3 at 316.7 with industrials off 2.0, rails off 7 and utilities off 3.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 2.26 at 842.54.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Up more than a point were Curb Corp., Synlex and Veritron. Down fractionally were Sperry Rand warrants, and APL Corp.

See Many Ups and Downs as Male Diners Obey Form

By EARL WILSON
 NEW YORK—Are you a gentleman (Sir)? When a lady comes to your table, do you leap to your feet (at the risk of upsetting everybody's dinner and booze into their laps), or do you just sit there like a clod?

There was this big brilliant black party at El Morocco after the premiere of "The Taming of the Shrew" where Senator Bobby Kennedy, Senator Javits, the Duke of Windsor, Morris Uchiel, Harry Gould, Jack Paar and David Berkowitz were popping up and down like yoyos, nodding, bowing and smiling and being overwhelmingly charming.

Senators Kennedy and Javits shook hands across a table. "What did these two Presidential prospects talk about?" I asked the white-gowned shapely Mrs. Javits. "They said 'Hello, Bobby' and 'Hello Jack,'" she revealed (exclusively to me). "Then—Senator Javits said, another exclusive—'Bobby said, 'I promised my Republican colleagues I wouldn't stay out this late.' (The Senator was with his sister Patricia.)

The next breathless quote I got from Bobby—and I heard it myself—was "I'm going home."

Bobby went over and greeted William Buckley across the room at this big benefit for the Society for the Rehabilitation of the Facially Disfigured. I got a call later that some Hoffa-lovers had shouted uncomplimentary remarks at Bobby when he left but I couldn't confirm this.

The Duke of Windsor—suffering an eye ailment still—was so polite about getting up and bowing to people, that he probably got up and bowed to some people who merely bumped his chair on the way to the powder room.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Albert Finney said at Ben Beyer's Pub that his one frustration was that he was rejected by Brigitte Bardot. . . Photographer Bert Stern and wife, ballerina Allegra Kent, welcomed their first boy (and 3rd child). . . Comtesse de Bernadette, King of Sweden's daughter, added real royalty to the Royal Box at Allen & Rossi's show.

Secret Staff: A famed actress and top director are having a blazing romance. . . Sen Dirksen, who wrote the lyrics for his next Capitol record, "Man Is Not Alone," will be welcomed into the music composers' union, ASCAP, by Ira Gershwin.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A customer at Jersey City's Ocean Breeze hit traffic all the way into NY and didn't know he was out of gas until he turned into a side street.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Frank Valenza got gasoline on the L.I. Expressway and it put a turtle in his tank.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: Things are always in the last place you look, because after you find them you don't look any more.

EARL'S PEARLS: Larry Mathews took his nephew on a tour the Governor's Mansion in Calif. and found children were admitted last night. . . Jet set's Bobby Van heard of a senator going on a fact-finding tour of Europe—to check his record album sales. That's earl, brother.

Educational TV Gets Equipment From CBS

NEW YORK (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System announced Monday gold of television equipment it valued at $500,000 to support educational television.

"We are convinced that commercial television stands to gain from education television's greater freedom to experiment and that competition between the two services is good for both," said CBS President Frank Stanton.

The gifts went to: The National Educational Television Network to establish a studio at Ann Arbor, Mich. The Southern Television Association at Birmingham, N.Y., for basic equipment to set up a studio.

STUDIO EQUIPMENT
 Community Television of Southern California, Los Angeles, studio equipment including three complete camera chains, video tape, audio tape and other equipment.

Bay Area Educational Association, San Francisco, the same equipment as to Los Angeles.

The Educational Broadcasting Corp. (WBND), New York, four studio camera chains, lenses and support equipment.

WHYY, Philadelphia, six studio camera chains.

Students Start Florida Assault
 FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—College students have begun their annual Easter invasion of Florida's beaches.

The first contingent, 3,000 strong, got a head start when a strike closed Ohio University 10 weeks early. Now they're rolling on the sand at Fort Lauderdale, where 30,000 frolicking collegians are expected on Easter weekend March 25-26.

Another favored resort of the vacationing students is Daytona Beach, where motorcycle races also are scheduled Easter weekend. Police already have set up an auxiliary station on the beach.

Dances, singalongs and other entertainments are planned in hopes of cutting down the drinking and rowdiness which flared into riots at Fort Lauderdale in 1961.

Daytona has outlawed beer cans on the beach.

She and her husband writer, Joe Hyams, escaped through a second-floor window. The paintings were among those she has done since taking up painting as a hobby. Fire damage was estimated at $5,000.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—A different kind of youth demonstration was staged here recently.

About 300 youths from local Assembly of God churches lined up $650,000 worth of new vehicles in a street near the church's international headquarters.

There were 81 new cars, 20 station wagons, 12 trucks, six buses, 16 motorcycles, a Jeep, two boats, two trailers and 48 bicycles.

FOR MISSIONARIES
 The vehicles will go to missionaries for use in their work in 73 foreign countries. Money for the project was raised by the youth department of the church.

Minnie Pearl, Agent Are Sued by State Festival

CADILLAC (AP)—A country and western singer and her agent are to appear at a preliminary hearing to face charges of breach of contract.

The Kalamazoo County Trout Festival Corp. filed suit against Minnie Pearl and her agent, Al Siaggar, charging that the singer failed to make a scheduled appearance at the festival last April.

The festival corporation's attorney, Edward T. Houten, says he is asking for $100,000, on the grounds that the singer's failure to appear severely damaged the festival's reputation.

The preliminary hearing has been set for March 30, in Saginaw.

Suspended Sentence to 'Pharmacist'

DETROIT (AP) — Grace Hospital's onetime chief pharmacist — convicted of fraudulently representing himself as having a pharmacy license — received a suspended sentence Monday from Detroit Recorder's Judge Joseph Maher.

Henry Knack, 51, of Pleasant Ridge had been charged with two other misdemeanor acts: practicing pharmacy without a license and preparing and dispensing drugs without a license.

Friday a jury found Knack guilty of fraudulently misrepresenting himself but acquitted him of practicing without a license and dropped the charge of preparing drugs without a license.

The maximum sentence for his conviction is 90 days in jail and a $500 fine.

'EXCELLENT JOB'

Dr. Roger De Busk, director of Grace Hospital, said at the time of Knack's arrest that he had done an excellent job as chief pharmacist in the 15 years he held the job.

Knack had worked as a pharmacist at the hospital for the last 25 years before the State Pharmacy Board exposed him in a routine inspection.

Romney, Barry 'to Reconcile'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former Gov. Alf M. Landon, the 1960 GOP presidential candidate, today predicted a reconciliation between George Romney and Barry M. Goldwater.

Landon predicted the Michigan governor and the 1964 Republican presidential candidate would reconcile their differences by the 1968 election.

"Between now and 1968, a lot of differences will be reconciled in the name of party unity," the 75-year-old Landon said. "Mr. Romney and Mr. Goldwater may even come a lot closer together."

The statement was released from an interview published in the current issue of Saturday Evening Post.

"Mr. Romney will pick up strength," Landon said, and added that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon "will probably go into the convention with a handful of delegates — mostly from the southern states — and they will start looking around early for a bandwagon to climb on."

Easter Seals

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — More than 5,000 volunteers in Kent County will conduct a door-to-door Easter Seal campaign today to raise $50,000 for the Kent County Society for Crippled Children. The funds will help finance the society's programs, including occupational therapy and equipment for use in the home care program.

Petitions Seeking Annexation to Walled Lake Filed

Petitions seeking annexation of a portion of Wolverine Lake and a portion of Commerce Township to the City of Walled Lake were filed with the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

The Wolverine Lake petitions, signed by about 120 persons, were an unexpected move according to a village spokesman. Those from Commerce Township had previously been presented to the Walled Lake City Council.

About one-third of the village would be included in the proposed annexation from the northern limits of Walled Lake, west through the center of Wolverine Lake to Angola Street.

According to Harold Estep, 2069 Helmsford, Wolverine Lake, one of the originators of the move, it was felt that the tax base in Walled Lake is healthier because of the industrial base and that the city could provide more in the way of sewers and water than the village.

A move to counteract the annexation was started at the Wolverine Lake Village Council meeting last night with the appointment of a committee to "study the situation and present the facts to the people."

Administration Expected to Stall Tax Hike Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration asks a House committee today to restore some tax breaks for business — but now is expected to wait another two months before submitting its formal request for an income tax increase.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler carries the business tax message to the House Ways and Means Committee, where he also faces the certainty of questions about the proposed 6 per cent surtax on income levies.

Johnson, Fowler and others have insisted they still intend to ask for income taxes to be increased at midyear.

The administration, meanwhile, wants immediate restoration of the investment tax credit, by which businesses can recover 7 per cent of their spending on equipment, and of favorable depreciation rules for profit-making buildings.

Congress reluctantly suspended the investment credit and depreciation rules last year. From both parties have come indications of willingness to restore them.

1-DAY HEARING

The Ways and Means Committee hopes to confine its hearings to today. The House leadership already has tentatively scheduled the bill for floor action Thursday.

Administration sources say the two-month delay on submitting the surtax request stems mainly from hints dropped by the Ways and Means Committee that it can't possibly hold hearings on the surtax until June. Some members of Congress have been cool to the planned tax increase.

But the longer wait will also permit the administration to make any last-minute changes in the proposal to compensate for any changing economic conditions.

ARRIVES AT COURT—Clay Shaw (left), who has been accused of conspiracy in the murder of President Kennedy, arrives for a motions hearing with his attorney, Edward Wegman, in New Orleans yesterday. A preliminary hearing is scheduled today for Shaw in which attorneys will argue whether the retired executive should go to trial.

Big Guard for Showdown in Kennedy Murder Probe

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A heavy guard was ordered today for the legal showdown in Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's controversial Kennedy assassination probe.

Twenty sheriff's deputies were assigned to watch over the small Criminal District courtroom while state and defense lawyers argue whether retired executive Clay L. Shaw should go to trial.

Garrison accused Shaw, 54, former managing director of the International Trade Mart here, of conspiring with Lee Harvey Oswald and others to kill President John F. Kennedy.

The Warren Commission report named Oswald, a former New Orleans resident, as the killer — and said there was no credible evidence that a conspiracy was involved.

The president was killed in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963. Whether there is enough evidence to warrant formal charge and trial for Shaw was the only matter before the preliminary hearing. Shaw called Garrison's accusations "fantastic."

"What do I have to eat to be short and fat like you, Daddy?"

Under Louisiana law, Shaw was booked — but not formally charged — with conspiracy to murder the president. He was freed on $10,000 bond.

The preliminary hearing was then called by Garrison, a rare move in Louisiana legal procedure. An equally rare three-judge panel was set up to preside.

The district attorney has kept his case secret. But U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, in Washington, said he knows what it involves and does not consider the case valid.

Clark said Shaw, during the exhaustive investigation which followed the assassination, was checked out by the FBI and cleared. He declined to say why Shaw was investigated.

Shaw's three defense lawyers first accepted the preliminary hearing. Then they switched tactics and fought it vigorously, losing at every step.

The three-judge panel overruled a defense motion yesterday to have a single judge preside over the hearing — rejecting the argument that the panel was tantamount to being tried by a jury, and that it was unprecedented in law and unauthorized.

After disposing of defense motions, the panel rescinded a widely ignored rule which it had imposed on press coverage last week, forbidding the reporting of anything except what occurred in open court.

Sun to Stay Away Betty Furness Choice Doubted

There's little chance of the sun peeking through the clouds before Thursday. The weatherman predicts cloudy with little temperature change tonight and tomorrow.

Temperatures will continue mild with the low tonight of 30 to 35 and the high reaching into the 40s tomorrow.

Today's north to northeasterly winds at 10 to 20 miles per hour will become east to northeast at 4 to 12 miles tonight.

Thirty was the low reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury stood near 37 at 1 p.m.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's appointment of former refrigerator saleswoman Betty Furness as his consumer affairs adviser has drawn a freezer-like chill from consumer groups and congressmen active in consumer affairs.

Most have either declined direct comment or have expressed the hope that once Miss Furness assumes her duties and learns more about consumer problems she will become an effective pro-consumer voice.

Miss Furness, known best for opening refrigerator doors on television commercials, was named to the $28,000-a-year job March 4.

She succeeds Mrs. Esther Peterson, who retains her other job as assistant secretary of labor.

"We were a little surprised that the President picked somebody with no experience in this area," said Sarah Newman, executive director of the National Consumers League. "My hope is that she will be able to pick up where Mrs. Peterson left off."

POLITICAL ASSET?
Her familiarity to housewives was seen by some observers as an asset, however — and perhaps of political help to Johnson.

Iowa Congressmanirate on 'Subsidized Drinking'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. H. R. Gross claims the administration is scheming to make taxpayers subsidize a "plush international drinking club for the diplomatic jet set, go-go and body stocking types."

"For years," the Iowa Republican said, "the State Department has been coming to Congress asking for funds to provide free drinks for foreign nationals in our American embassies abroad."

"Now this line of thinking has come full circle," he said. "The President is asking Congress to provide a club for the international drinking set in Washington."

Gross prepared such remarks yesterday for the Congressional Record and elaborated in an interview.

He referred to a plan to condemn 42 acres near the State Department to develop an international embassy complex including lots for foreign missions, of office buildings and international organizations.

FOR DIPLOMATIC FUNCTIONS

At the core of the complex would be a club to be used for diplomatic functions.

Cost of land acquisition has been estimated at $40 million.

Republicans and Democrats generally agree the government should purchase land, which in turn would be leased tax-free to foreign governments. But there is disagreement on the method.

The administration-backed plan has not been introduced yet.

Rep. Ancher Nelson, R-Minn., has sponsored a Republican plan which calls for purchase of two smaller land areas in the city but omits the core idea.

The State Department says Nelson's plan is short sighted and doesn't offer enough expansion possibilities.

As for Congressman Gross' complaints about the club," a spokesman said, "It's too early to contemplate. We don't know who would run it or how."

"We're talking about a kind of international precinct not to be completed until 1985."

'NEVER TOO EARLY'

Gross insisted it is never too early to talk about tax money.

"A plush international club will undoubtedly attract most of the Great Society's hard-drinking set as well as the State Department's international drinking crowd and the international jet set," Gross said.

By JOE MULLEN

Sure, and 'tis only fitting that when two Danny Boys get together at this time of year to break ground on a project called the Murphy Drain, the shoveling just has to take place on St. Patrick's Day.

There probably are no shamrocks growing there, but the turf turning will occur at the corner of Square Lake Road and Franklin Road at 10:30 a.m.

Planning the mighty swell affair that INTERCEPTOR'S IN BUSINESS—Waterford Township Supervisor Mrs. Dorothy W. Olson and R. J. Alexander, director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, inspect the revised contract for the Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal System approved unanimously by the Township Board last night. Waterford Township was the last of six prospective participating communities to join the $31.1-million project.

Waterford Okays Big Sewage System

The project will be financed by a 30-year bond issue.

Waterford Township will pay 44.56 per cent of $6,300,000 of the interceptor's construction cost plus $5,311,000 interest over the 30 years.

The township's share of capital expenses excludes cost and capitalized interest for capacity charges and acquisition of additional systems, according to Township Utilities Manager Kenneth Squiers.

Household connection charges will be the township's chief source of revenue to finance its share of the Clinton-Oakland.

The township's present anticipated rate for transportation and treatment of the sewage is $1.51 per 1,000 cubic feet of sewage metered into the interceptor.

CONSTRUCTION IN STAGES

Waterford's proposed 260-mile internal sanitary sewer system will be constructed concurrently with the interceptor. The community project will be built in stages, based on the need in certain areas and available funds.

agree to a revised contract drawn up by Oakland County Department of Public Works officials after the City of Pontiac withdrew from the project.

Other participating communities are the townships of Avon, Independence, Orion, Pontiac and West Bloomfield.

Total construction cost of the Clinton-Oakland is $16.9 million. Another $14.2 million is earmarked for interest costs.

Small Turnouts in Area Elections

Elections marked by small turnouts were held yesterday in 12 area communities. In three villages blank ballots were used by electors.

The latter occurred because of a change in state election laws.

Lake Orion voters gave a substantial nod of approval to a new village charter. The vote was 293 to 136. The basic change provided by the charter will be the appointment of a village manager.

(See Page A-4 for other election results.)

Communist Trawler Chased by Yanks, Beached, Blown Up

SAIGON (AP) — American sea battle. The Red crew set warships fought a running duel off the South Vietnamese coast today with a large arms-embellished Communist trawler which ran onto the shore and blew it recovered. Salvage crews were searching for more.

The 100-foot, steel-hulled trawler shot up a 50-foot U.S. Navy patrol boat during the battle.

Negro Senator May See Reds

Arrives in Cambodia on 17-Day Asia Tour

SAIGON (AP) — Sen. Edward W. Brooke, who has suggested a reexamination of U.S. policy of bombing North Vietnam, flew to Cambodia today and said he may talk with Vietcong and North Vietnamese representatives there.

The Communist trawler was spotted by a Navy Neptune patrol plane 25 miles off the coast of Quang Ngai Province, about 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

GOP Holds Tax Caucus

LANSING (AP) — In their first fiscal reform caucus, Senate Republicans drew up an agenda Monday morning at a series of point-to-point caucuses.

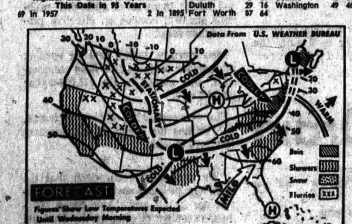

The first Negro to be elected to the U.S. Senate in this century, Brooke said last month he hoped to visit both North and South Vietnam and to interview North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh.

In an address at the College of the Virgin Islands he said a cessation of bombing of North Vietnam "would show a genuine and sincere effort on our part (to negotiate peace) and would shift the burden to the Viet Cong."

School Bond Political Observers Probe Asked

Districts, State in Rift on New Restrictions

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Political observers with an eye on the White House opened today just what look like in a private meeting between President Dwight D. Eisenhower and California's Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Eisenhower and Reagan conferred for 2 1/2 hours Monday afternoon. Eisenhower told newsmen: "Gov. Reagan will have to make his own decision" whether to seek the presidency under the Republican banner.

"There are a number of men who would make fine presidents in our party, and Gov. Reagan is one of the men I admire most in this world."

Districing Goal Is Set in County

Meeting formally for the first time after a series of preliminary sessions, the Oakland County Reapportionment Committee yesterday set an initial goal of 25 supervisor districts.

Presently, the county has an 87-member board of supervisors but Act 261 signed into law last year calls for apportionment of the county into from 25 to 35 districts.

One supervisor will be elected from each district in the fall of 1968 and the streamlined board of supervisors is slated to convene the following Jan. 1.

Joseph H. Farnham, chairman of the county Republican party and the only GOP member on the five-man reapportionment committee, introduced the 25-district plan as a starting point.

Other committee members indicated approval of Farnham's proposal aimed at the end of the districting reform provided by law but there was some speculation that it might have to be adjusted to 27 districts in future workshop sessions.

MAY DEADLINE
Committee members have until May 15 to complete a reapportionment plan.

Farnham's proposal to make 25 districts of the county's original 36 townships is based on 1960 census figures and a per district goal with variance no greater than 10 per cent.

The City of Pontiac would consist of 2,597 districts under this plan and the original Royal Oak Township in the heavily populated southeastern corner of the county would include nine districts.

Waterford and White Lake townships together have population requirements for two districts. Several townships in the sparsely populated northern region would be grouped into single districts.

Statistician Richard Sanderson presented Farnham's plan to the committee and a mathematician, Dr. David Evans, is slated to elaborate on the plan at the committee's meeting Monday.

County Clerk-Register of Deeds John D. Murphy, who has been acting as temporary committee chairman, yesterday was elected permanent chairman.

Golfers Win Round on Protest

BIRMINGHAM — Golfers were out in droves last night, but they weren't out to play around in charges.

They were at the City Commission meeting to protest a proposed dropping of family and seasonal membership fee classification for use at city courses.

The golfers made their point and the classification was maintained at a slight increase in charges.

A study made by the administration recommended raising most fees and eliminating the membership fees, which allows season-long use by families ($15 hike).

A hearty cheer went up when the classification was retained. However, fees were raised slightly and set at $75 for a single member (a $5 hike) and $125 for a family membership (a $15 hike).

Acting City Police Chief Due to Be Named Tonight

Designation of an acting police chief and appointment of a finance director are two items that head the City Commission agenda for tonight's meeting.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren is to announce the appointment of an acting chief to replace Chief William K. Hanger who is to attend the FBI's National Police Academy.

The acting chief will serve from about March 20 to mid-June.

Warren declined yesterday to say who the acting chief will be before informing the commission.

An auditor for Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., is expected to be named city finance director at an annual salary of $13,000.

Edward R. Gallagher, 39, of the Coca-Cola Co., and Phillip Battaglia, the governor's executive assistant.

Huge Sewage System OK'd

DPW Director R. J. Alexander told the Township Board last night that early 1969 is the target date for completion of the Clinton-Oakland, adding that acquisition of easements might be the only stumbling block.

Construction is slated to begin in about a year.

Waterfront Township's payments will not begin until at least 18 months after construction contracts are let, according to Alexander.

Waterfront Township's internal system is to be connected to the Clinton-Oakland which, in turn, will most likely be linked to the proposed Macomb Interceptor, which would transport sewage to the City of Detroit's treatment plant on the Detroit River.

The Township Board also agreed to another contract with the DPW last night for installation of about two miles of sewer lines in a southeastern portion of the community.

The area encompassed by the project consists of 215 developed pieces of property and 40 vacant lots on 10 streets—Myrtle, Levee, Boston, LeSalle, West End, Fremont and Downing.

Cost of the project will be met by a 20-year bond issue to be paid by customer connection charges.

Benefiting property owners will pay $800 per lot plus an annual interest rate of 6 per cent of the unpaid balance. With full interest of $41, over-all cost would be $1,401.

Sewage from the area will be processed at the City of Pontiac treatment plant.

The shot was fired when Green started toward Hudson, he reportedly told officers.

Activities Begin This Weekend

Festival of Fine Arts at OU

Excursions into the arts of drama, poetry, music, dance, painting and sculpture are scheduled this week and next on the Oakland University campus. The annual Fine Arts Festival, under the chairmanship of Eleanor Magone, Grand Rapids, sophomore, is produced with the combined effort and talent of the students and faculty. The student art exhibit which opened earlier this month continues through Saturday.

Sunday is Student Night, featuring humorous and dramatic readings, a short movie and music by a jug band. Time: 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

On Monday there will be foreign language department presentations, Chinese, Spanish, Russian and German in Wilson Hall theatre, beginning at 1 p.m. At 7:30 p.m. an unusual glimpse of the culture of India will be given in the same place by Indian students.

The program will consist of Indian folk and classical dances, songs, instrumental music and a short theatrical presentation of an Indian marriage.

Open to the public, the show has no admission charge.

Four experimental films presented by Focus Now, a student organization which explores avant-garde movements in the arts, will be shown next Tuesday, 8 p.m. in room 135, Tuesday.

March 22 will be faculty night with an 8 p.m. performance in the Gold Room, Oakland Centre. The "Rook Brook Players" will present excerpts from Jules Feiffer cartoon panels, readings and instrumental performances. Elizabeth Baker, a graduate student from Pontiac, has written a theatrical collage, "Lasting Impressions." This will be shown March 23-24 at 8:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

Concluding the festival will be a talk on the American theatre by Roni Dengel, a member of the John Fernald Company of the Meadow Brook Theatre. Time is 2 p.m., March 24 in the Gold Room.

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — Michigan Junior Miss Kathie Fliss of Southfield said America's Junior Miss Pageant is an opportunity for a girl to take back so much and learn so much from others.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fliss took her first airplane trip when she flew here for the pageant.

The preliminaries begin tonight and the finals are Saturday.

She left behind 15 degree weather and found the trip "fascinating to watch the ground turn from brown up there to green down here."

She said no matter who wins the title Saturday, "We're winners just by being here. It's a privilege for any girl to be in the pageant."

"She takes so much back home."

She's Fired as Liability, Claims LBJ

The tenure of President Johnson's top consumer adviser, Mrs. Esther Peterson, was marked by many months of frustration and bitter disappointment for her and bickering that led to the eventual decision by the President that she was a political liability. The Insider's Newsletter said Monday.

Mrs. Peterson, who has been replaced by Betty Furness, had, according to The Newsletter, been denied the means to accomplish anything of substance in her White House job.

Despite her title of President's Special Adviser on Consumer Affairs, she had no access to the President, even by mail.

She received no answers to her memoranda, but instead dealt with a series of Presidential assistants, none of whom could give her the authority to proceed, with consumer programs.

Guest Speakers Will Appear at Sisterhood

Speakers at the March 21, meeting of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob will be Dr. Leroy Augenstein and Rabbi Philip Berkowitz.

A dessert luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. by the hostesses of the day. They are: Mrs. Herman Dickstein, Mrs. Philip Berkowitz, Mrs. Arthur Rosenthal, Mrs. Michael Kabanell, Mrs. Irving Gordon, and Mrs. Morton Metzger.

Subject for the program is "Can We Play God." Dr. Augenstein will present the scientific view point on the subject. He is a professor at Michigan State University and chairman of the Department of Biophysics.

Rabbi Berkowitz, spiritual leader of Temple Beth Jacob, will relate the religious implications of the question. A discussion period will follow.

The event is open to the public and reservation may be made by calling the Temple.

Thoughtless to Talk of Coming 'Do'

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Dear Mrs. Post: If a person is planning a party, isn't it rude and ignorant to tell an unwitting friend all the details of the party? I think it would be better not to mention the party at all. Am I right or wrong? — Mrs. F. W.

Dear Mrs. W.: Of course, you're right. It's the height of thoughtlessness to whet someone's appetite and then snatch the cookie away.

OCCASION

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter was married in January. She left immediately on her honeymoon and proceeded on to Brazil where she is now living. Since she left, gifts have continued coming to my home. We do not wish her to appear remiss with "thank you's".

Is it in order for me to give some temporary informal notification of receipt? — Mrs. Burns

Dear Mrs. Burns: This is one of the few occasions when the use of a printed card to be followed by a hand-written note is not only acceptable, but desirable. Have cards printed reading:

Mrs. John Smith (daughter's name) gratefully acknowledges the receipt of your wedding gift, and will write you a personal note at the earliest possible date.

Send these cards to the donors of all presents being held by you for your daughter, and send her the list as soon as possible so that she may write herself, as promised.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Named the best hatted women of the year are three nationally known personalities. From the left are Lesley Gore, rock 'n' roll singing star; Mrs. Ronald Reagan, wife of California's new governor; and actress Angela Lansbury. The award, a gold charm shaped like a hat, symbolizes their hat style leadership in 1966. It is given by the Millinery Institute of America.

Attitude of Many Swiss People Annoys Writer From Chicago

DEAR ABBY: This isn't just my imagination, as other people have agreed with me. I refer to the uppishness of the Swiss people. You can't meet a Swiss without his telling you in two minutes, "I am Swiss, you know." Why is that? They seem to think they are better than anyone else.

Please tell me what the Swiss have to be so superior about? What have they contributed to the world that makes them so special — if they are.

CHICAGOAN
DEAR CHICAGOAN: Well, they've given us chocolate, cheese, and great skiing, and they seem to have the formula for avoiding war and attracting money.

DEAR ABBY: If you and your husband were playing cards with another man and his wife, and this other man kept brushing his leg up against yours, what would you do or say?

I tried moving my leg as far out of his reach as I could until I nearly slid off my chair, but even that didn't help.

This is not just my imagination, Abby. I know he was doing it on purpose. His wife and I are good friends, and I didn't want to hurt her by making a scene. I know we will be seeing these people again soon. How should this be handled? Or should I ignore it?

PUZZLED
DEAR PUZZLED: The next time you are able to have a private word with "Daddy Long Legs," tell him in no uncertain terms that you got his message — and the answer is no!

DEAR ABBY: My mother says that girls shouldn't call boys. I don't see why not. If you want to know about a homework assignment or something like that, what's wrong with it?

WONDERING WHY
DEAR WONDERING WHY: Girls shouldn't call boys because the boy might get the idea that she is "chasing him" — which is the last thing a girl wants a boy to think — especially if she is.

If a girl wants to know about a homework assignment or something like that, — she'd be way ahead to call another girl.

First Aid Class to Be Conducted

A spring course in standard First Aid has been scheduled by the Oakland Regional Office of the American Red Cross to start March 21, at 7:30 p.m.

The class will be conducted at the Red Cross Regional Office, on Franklin Boulevard.

Open to the public, this free course will consist of five two-hour classes taught on successive Tuesday nights. Ralph Forman, a volunteer Red Cross certified First Aid instructor, will conduct the course.

The general public may call the Pontiac office, for advance registration.

Bluebells or Buffalo Bills? Actually, they aren't either. They're half a ton of hoofers getting a few kicks out of auditioning in New York for a Barbra Streisand television show. Carol Swanberg, who's showing the others how to kick (above) says she feels "Like a million — all in nickels." She's from Santa Monica, Calif. and weighs 210 pounds.

Spartan Coach Looks for End of Era

Duffy Already Sees 'Stacked Deck' Against MSU

By BOB VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP) — "We're back playing the boys again," mourned Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty.

That was Daugherty's way of saying the deck is stacked against MSU winning a third

Big Ten football championship in a row. The conference has seen two in-a-row winners 10 times. But no school has come up with a triple title winner.

"The era of the super-athlete at Michigan State is over," said Daugherty. "We had a windfall of exceptional individual stars, great athletes blessed with wonderful competitive attitudes.

"They made us into an outstanding team for two years. But now they're gone, and we're playing the boys again."

WEAK BENCH

The Spartans will need a lot of help from the sophomores to be considered in conference title competition, Daugherty said. There will be 17 lettermen lost and 23 returning.

Last fall, there was a sharp dropoff in the playing quality of the first and second units.

"Even with considerable help from freshmen, a slip down the ladder appears inevitable," Daugherty concluded.

Michigan State starts spring football drills April 11, less than a month away. Daugherty plans four-day-a-week workouts through May 13.

TOP PROSPECTS

Missing next fall will be such prime prospects as halfback

Clint Jones, end Gene Washington, kicker Dick Kenney and line standouts Jerry West, Bubba Smith and Charley Thornhill.

A major asset is the returning quarterback Jimmy Raye who led the Spartans to their unbeaten season and second title last year.

tion mark after his knee operation. But if Apisa returns in top shape, he could be the bulldozer of the MSU backfield.

Daugherty, operating on the Big Ten race, says Purdue should be strong again if the Boilermakers can replace Bob Griese. He figures Ohio State, Illinois and Minnesota as others in the running.

PONTIAC PIRATE — Roger Hayward of Pontiac (second from left), who signed a bonus pitching contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates two years ago, is back in the club's Fort Myers training camp. At left is star second baseman Mill Mazerowski. On the other side is another rookie pitcher from Export, Pa., Bob Moose. Hayward was out most of the 1966 season with an injury.

Country Day Seeks Berth in Semifinals

Cards Snap Streak for Detroit Tigers

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)

—The St. Louis Cardinals chastised Detroit Monday 1-0, handing the Tigers their first defeat in the infant exhibition baseball season.

Before then, the Tigers had won three straight games by big margins.

But their luck ran out in the ninth inning Monday.

With the game scoreless, Tiger pitcher Fred Gladding walked Mike Shannon. Dave Ricketts sent Shannon to third with a single and Phil Gagliano the game when he lined a single to left field driving Shannon home.

Three young St. Louis right-handers held the Tigers to three scattered singles and only one lowed Detroit come close to scoring.

That was in the seventh. But Gates Brown and Jake Wood struck out with the bases loaded.

Tiger pitchers Mickey Lolich and Johnny Podres combined for first with Gladding. Former All-Star shortstop Dick McAuliffe performed like an All-Star at second base.

SPARKLING PLAYS

McAuliffe turned a base hit into a force out when he streaked behind second and flipped the ball backhanded to the shortstop for the force. He also made a pickup on the grass and threw the runner out.

Manager Mayo Smith seemed pleased with Podres' efforts after the Tigers left-handeder had allowed four runs in two innings his first time out. Monday he gave up only one single in his three-inning stint.

"I've talked with John about relying on his changeup more, said Smith, "and I thought he did that real good."

Smith noted Podres had developed another curve "and it could make him awfully tough."

Catcher Bill Freehan said Lo-

lich had a strong fastball in his second outing of the spring. In six innings Lolich has yet to give up a run. Monday he allowed two singles and walked one.

"I'm not pleased yet but I'm encouraged," said Lolich. "I still have a way to go before I can say I'm pleased."

NO SENSATION

Gladding pinched a nerve in the little finger of his right hand while snapping off a slider to Shannon and pitched to the last three hitters with no sensation in the finger.

"I thought he had hurt his arm the way he started shaking it and I just about died," said Smith. "But Fred says he does that quite a bit with the slider."

South Haven, undefeated in 23 straight games this year, was top-rated in Class B in the final Associated Press high school basketball poll.

Marshall Cracks Record in NIT Win

Nebraska Five 119-98 Victim

Southern Illinois Pins 72-63 Loss on Duke

NEW YORK (AP) — Basketball is a labor of love for Southern Illinois' skillful Salukis, but jumping George Stone and the Thundering Herd prefer to shoot first — and let the good times roll.

"When I'm hot, I just keep pumping. I'm not bashful," an exultant Stone exclaimed Monday night after his 46-point barrage led Marshall's Hurring Herd to a record-breaking 119-98 triumph over Nebraska in the National Invitation Tournament.

"The keys for us have been balance and hard work," said Coach Jack Hartman, whose Salukis preceded Marshall into the NIT semifinals by wearing down Duke 72-63 in the first game of the Madison Square Garden doubleheader.

Marshall and Southern Illinois play the respective winners of tonight's Providence-Marquette and New Mexico-Rutgers pairings in Thursday night's semis.

RECORD SCORE

Stohe, an angular 6-foot-7 jump-shooter whose accuracy appears to improve as he moves farther away from the hoop, put together the high-point game thus far in the tourney as Marshall shattered Bradley's 10-year-old NIT record of 116 points.

The junior forward, limited to 15 points in Marshall's 70-68 overtime victory over Villanova last Thursday night, poured in 26 in the first half against the stunned Cornhuskers, hitting on 12 of 19 shots from the floor. He finished with 26-for-38 and a school point record.

Sophomore Dick, Garrett, rugged Ralph Johnson and Little All-America Walt Frazier led Southern Illinois past the Blue Devils for its 16th straight victory and 22nd in 24 starts. Southern Illinois, the nation's No. 1 college division team, has won seven of nine games against major foes.

Grid Seniors in 'Hat' for Joint Pro Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — The Baltimore Colts, who got first choice when Minnesota decided not to exercise its option, picked Bubba Smith, Michigan State's mammoth defensive end, as the No. 1 choice in the combined NFL-AFL football player draft today.

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 445 college seniors went into the first combined draft of the National and American Football Leagues.

But this time of picking isn't done at random. A lot of thought goes into it.

And because it is serious business, the 17 rounds were expected to last at least two days.

Baltimore was to be the first of the 25 teams to pick, with the Minnesota Vikings to follow. Baltimore was picking in place

Hope College Ace Gets MIAA Honor

HOLLAND (AP) — Floyd Brady, a 6-foot-3 Hope College junior from Chicago, is the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association's most valuable basketball player, as selected by MIAA coaches.

Brady led conference scoring with 313 points in 12 games. He was tops in rebounding with 174 and the best in field goal accuracy with 54 per cent.

In winning the award, Brady became the second Hope player in two years to hold the honor. Last year it was Clare Van Wieren.

Plan Bow Award

DETROIT (AP) — The Sheriff of Nottingham will, appropriately, present a trophy to the winner of the ninth annual International Indoor Open Archery Tournament at Detroit's Cobo Hall April 1-2. Elliott M. Durham, sheriff of Nottingham, England, will fly to Detroit to make the presentation of an oak trophy cut from a tree in Sherwood Forest.

of the new New Orleans Saints and Minnesota had the New York Giants' choice because of trade.

Since Baltimore got the first pick by trading quarterback Gary Cuozzo to New Orleans, the Colts need a backup quarterback for Johnny Unitas. Therefore, the Colts were likely to choose Steve Spurrier of Florida, the Heisman Trophy winner, or Bob Griese of Purdue, the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player.

MINNESOTA — Minnesota reportedly was considering defensive end Bubba Smith of Michigan State and halfback Harry Jones of Arkansas.

Others expected to be picked early included linebackers George Webster of Michigan State and Jim Lynch of Notre Dame, fullback Ray McDonald of Idaho, defensive tackle Lloyd Phillips of Arkansas, and defensive backs Tom Beier of Miami, Houston and Philadelphia, 21 each.

New Orleans, the newest NFL franchise, was to pick the most players, 35, followed by Green Bay, 24, and Baltimore, Buffalo, Houston and Philadelphia, 21 each.

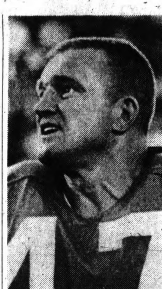

New Orleans originally was to get 37 choices, but the Saints traded away two of them, including the No. 1 pick to Baltimore. World Champion Green Bay got its high number through trades.

Eighty-five of the top college players of 1966 were drafted as futures, or redshirts, in 1965.

Lineman Signs Lion Contract

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions Monday signed a lineman from the University of Southern California, 230-pound Dennis Moore.

Moore was drafted last year as a Redshirt. He has played both offensive and defensive spots in the line. The 6'5 player was picked in the 14th round and was also drafted by Kansas City.

AFL Teams Make Trade

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Keith Lincoln, who wanted to leave San Diego, and Tom Day, who hoped to stay in Buffalo, found themselves in each other's cities after a major American Football League trade.

The Buffalo Bills announced the swap Monday, less than 24 hours before the AFL and the National League began their first common draft of college seniors in New York.

In addition to Day, a 31-year-old defensive end, the Bills traded their second-round draft choice to the Chargers in exchange for Lincoln, 27, an explosive halfback who was slowed by a pulled hamstring muscle last season.

Packer Halts Theft

CHICAGO (AP) — Fred (Fuzzy) Thurston, a 255-pound guard for the Green Bay Packers, and two of his friends nabbed a 110-pound woman Monday who was removing, among other things, a brief case containing all the Packers' offensive plays from their car.

Rec Playoffs Begin

Late Surge Brings 2 Cage Victories

Perry Drugs and Booth Homes pulled away with strong third-quarter surges last night to post victories in the opening round of the city American League recreation basketball playoffs.

Ahead 39-33 at halftime, Perry outscored Oxford Hills 24-10 in the third period enroute to a 79-49 decision, while Booth, nursing a lead at intermission, poured in 23 markers in the third stanza and coasted to a 64-51 verdict over Oxford Merchants.

The triumphs boosted the winners into the final game of the tournament. Round 1 will play Thursday at 7 p.m. at Kennedy Junior High, with the winner moving into a three-game series with Amigo Celts, the regular season champ, to determine Pontiac's entry in the state tournament. That series opens next Monday.

Balance was the key for both AL winners. Five players hit double figures for Perry Drugs. Jerry Williams led the way with 21 points, followed by John Hooper (15), Robert Finlay (11), Sammy Soles (10) and Booker Hurmer (10). Felix Brooks paced the losers with 15 markers.

Scott Maentz tossed in 17 points and teammate Chubb Phillips added 14 for Booth. Cal Darreep, paced the Merchants with 21 markers.

For the opening round of the National League action, the champion Amigo's Club rolled past Local 63's, 65-76, and McDonald's Drive-In whipped Auburn Hills, 69-37.

Down 46-37 at halftime, Amigo whipped in 47 points in the second half to split the union team, upset Bud Vernon Ellis led the winners with 22 points, 14 in the second half, and Mack Jones added 18. It was Craft night for the losers as Willie hit 28 and Curley and Dale added 21 apiece.

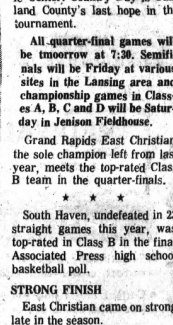

Dan McCoskey Tossed in 25 for the Losers.

In International playoffs, Orchard Lanes and Local 598 moved into the semifinals. The Lanes squad trimmed Town & Country, 66-42, while Local 596 gained a forfeit decision over Lee's Lawn & Garden.

On the IL semifinals card Thursday at Madison, Orchard Lanes meets Country Chef at 8 p.m., while Orchard Lanes takes on league champ Couloacs Insurance at 8:30.

Nick Neira flipped in 27 points to spark the Orchard Lanes attack. The winners held a 30-21 lead at intermission. Roger Reynolds paced the losers with 15 markers.
