Faith Pays Off for Miss Utica

Kin Were Confident She'd Win Crown

UTICA — At least two people's confidence was justified in the selection of Cheryl Baranski as Miss Utica last night.

Her aunt, Mrs. Frederick J. Haase, who entered her in the annual competition, thought she had a good chance of winning the title.

So did her sister Judith, 12, who bet her a dime she'd be queen.

Cheryl, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Baranski, 52673 Brookcrest, Shelby Township.

A 1964 graduate of Utica Community High School, the lovely brunette with hazel eyes won the crown over 23 other contestants.

FIRST MAID

Named first maid of honor was Toni Bogdan, 17, who will be a senior at St. Lawrence High School next fall. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Bogdan, 43640 Ryan, Shelby Township.

Another 1964 graduate of Utica High School, Nancy Durkee, 17, is second maid of honor. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant L. Durkee, 47530 Shelby, Shelby Township.

The trio will reign over the Utica Lions annual 4th of July celebration and homecoming. They will ride on the Lions Club float in the parade which will open the day-long celebration at 10 a.m.

Last night's competition was held at Utica High School with Lee Olson, area news editor of The Pontiac Press acting as emcee.

Bare Bizarre Plot to Murder Couple

CHICAGO (UPI) — Police today confirmed a budding plot by three teen-agers to beat an elderly couple to death with a baseball bat in a secluded Michigan cabin, remove the teeth of the victims and burn the bodies.

Police said the motive for the bizarre plot was to let the ring's leader, a high school dropout, continue forging checks on the couple's $150,000 bank account to pay off his cohorts with cash and the couple's Thunderbird auto.

The youths—aged 13, 15 and 18—planned to slay Elmer and Florence Zander of Chicago this week at the couple's summer home at Fife Lake in Grand Traverse County, Mich., police said.

Michigan State Police captured the would-be assassins at a rented cottage near the Zander summer home earlier this week.

The two youngest members of the gang were brought back to Chicago, where they are being held by juvenile authorities.

According to the authorities, the 15-year-old broke down under questioning and admitted the plot.

Arnold Palmer, the only player to break par with a 35-33—68 yesterday, and Jacobs staged a spectacular duel for the 36-hole lead.

Jacobs dropped in a 60-foot birdie putt on No. 18 to finish his 36 holes with a four-under 136, while Palmer added a 69 today to stand at 137.

There were other players in the field, however, who are very much in the picture at midpoint—including Billy Collins, Tony Lama and Jack Nicklaus.

But Jacobs stole the show. His 64 equals the score shot by Lee Mackey Jr. in the 1950 Open at Meridian Country Club near Philadelphia.

He had six birdies and 12 pars, while Palmer managed five birdies and four bogies. The long, Congressional Course was playing somewhat easier today, aided by an overnight rain which softened the greens.

PLACEMENTS EASIER

"The pin placements were also a bit easier today, and I think this was done to speed up play, which was terribly slow yesterday," said Palmer.

It is estimated that the cutoff will be around 149 or 150 for the 50 low places and ties who go into Saturday's 36-hole finale.

Bill OK Due by Tonight Rights Debate Turns Bitter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate exploded into a round of sharp and bitter debate today as the hour neared for final passage of the civil rights bill.

Southern senators voiced irritation and resentment at what they said were attempts by Northerners to lecture them on racial matters about which the Northerners were wholly ignorant.

At one point, Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., shouted to Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., "Not one word does the senator from Rhode Island know what he is talking about."

Smathers, usually mild-mannered, had been arguing that in most places in the South Negroes never were turned away at drugstores and other places of public accommodation.

"At the lunch counter," Pastore demanded. "If the senator believes that, he hasn't been reading the newspapers."

"You've been reading the wrong newspapers," Smathers came back. "One of the things I resent is how they blow some of these incidents up out of all proportion."

It appeared improbable the Senate would get to a final vote before very late in the day at the earliest.

In view of this, House leaders abandoned plans to hold the House in session to receive the Senate Bill.

They also gave up the idea of a Saturday session and adjourned the House until Monday.

NO PROSPECT

There was no prospect of being able to pass the bill immediately in the House anyway because of the opposition of Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., chairman of the Rules Committee, and other Southern Democrats.

A single member's objection can prevent Rules Committee where Smith intends to use his powers to delay the inevitable final passage as long as possible.

SEN. GOLDWATER

Asking Me to Sell Out, Says Barry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., accused Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton today of asking him to sell out his principles by supporting the civil rights bill Goldwater said he will oppose.

Goldwater, the leading candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, asked in a telegram to his rival if Scranton wasn't

Ask Renewal of School Tax

After reviewing updated income figures, members of the Pontiac School Study Committee last night changed their recommendation on a millage proposition slated for a fall vote.

The citizens group recommended that the Pontiac School Board seek renewal of the present 8.75 mills for a 10-year period.

James L. Howlett, committee chairman, announced the revised recommendation after a discussion between the school board and the citizens committee on school finances.

The change in the committee's recommendation was not unexpected, for 1964 property valuations were not known at the time the group made its original recommendation.

Previously, the citizens committee had advised both a renewal of the 8.75 mills and additional millage of 2.91. Both millages were to run for five years.

The term of the millage was debated last night. The ten-year term, as proposed by the citizens committee, was rejected.

Districting Unit Meets

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Legislative Apportionment Commission convened here today under a six-hour deadline imposed by the State Supreme Court to turn out a plan for redistricting the legislature on an equal population basis.

All eight members of the bipartisan commission were present as the group met first with Secretary of State James Hare and then shifted to a committee room for its own meeting.

Chances appeared remote the commission would be able to find a majority of five to approve any single plan by the 5 p.m. deadline today.

Republicans were ready with a new plan drafted in haste last night, but Democratic co-chairman Richard Austin of Detroit said his group intended to stick with two "one man-one vote" schemes it submitted earlier to the high court.

The four Republicans met late into the night yesterday as they grappled with the relatively new task of drawing up districts on a strict population basis.

Six decisions by the U.S. Supreme Court Monday held that both houses of a state legislature had to be districted on a population basis.

Predictions here, however, were that the commission will end up the way it did shortly after it passed its Jan. 31 midnight deadline — deadlocked.

BUILT-IN STALEMATE

With four members in each party, the commission has a built-in deadlock.

In addition, Republican co-chairman Wilbur Brucker has said the commission can make headway if the Democrats do not insist on the two most recent plans they submitted to the Michigan Supreme Court.

Democratic co-chairman Richard Austin, coauthor of both plans, said it would be "unwise to say I will insist on anything," but added the Democrats are "satisfied" with the plans they already have drawn.

Democrats reportedly met briefly today, but Austin said, they would not need as much advance work as the Republicans, since they already have drawn up a one man-one vote plan.

The Republicans last night approached the problem "from a number of angles," said Eldon Steiner Jr., GOP research analyst.

He replied in a telegram to a statement by Scranton that his decision on the civil rights measure means Goldwater would be unable to defeat President Johnson next November.

But a Southern Democrat, Sen. Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, says that if Goldwater votes against the measure, he could carry the South against their President.

Their reactions came shortly after Goldwater had told the Senate late yesterday he is "unalterably opposed to discrimination of any sort" but is opposed to the bill because two sections of it "fly in the face of the Constitution."

He said he feels these two sections — the public accommodations and equal employment titles — are a threat to individual freedoms.

Hoffa Witness Said Missing

CHICAGO (UPI) — The government said today a key witness in the James R. Hoffa $25-million fraud trial has disappeared.

Asst. U.S. Atty. William Bitman told the court that the witness has dropped out of sight since he was served with a subpoena to appear at Hoffa's marathon Chicago trial.

Bitman identified the missing witness as a bookkeeper for the Cal Kovens Construction Corp. of Miami Beach, Fla.

The construction company is owned by Calvin Kovens, one of seven men charged with Hoffa of conspiring to obtain $25 million in loans from the Teamsters Union pension fund by fraudulent means and diverting $1.7 million of the money to their own purposes.

Cooler Weather Coming

Spring will bow out to summer when she arrives early Sunday at precisely 3:57 a.m. but until then, temperatures will be a little on the cool side.

The forecast is for cool weather tonight and Saturday with temperatures dropping to a low of 56 to 64 tonight, rising to 68 to 76 tomorrow.

There will be a warming trend Sunday with a chance of showers.

The low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was a balmy 70. The mercury had risen up to 92 by 2 p.m.

Bandits Hit Italy Train;

Near $112,000 in Loot

CATANIA, Sicily (AP) — Four bandits held up a train today at the foot of volcanic Mt. Etna, and three of them made off with 14 mail sacks containing cash and other valuables worth 70 million lire ($112,000).

The train crew captured one bandit. Dozens of police with bloodhounds hunted the others.

Model Home

Two Developments Mark Renewal Milestone

Another milestone in Pontiac's urban renewal program will take place this weekend as the first new residential and commercial developments on renewed land offer a "Hey, look me over" invitation to the general public.

Three model homes on O'Riley Court will be formally opened for public inspection Sunday. The open house is from 2 to 8 p.m., according to George Wilhelm, assistant urban renewal director.

Tomorrow, from 1 to 5 p.m., there will be a public open house at the new home of Pontiac Stamp & Stencil Co., 18-20 Whittemore.

Urban renewal officials look upon the companies as "a real urban renewal success story."

They are the first privately owned business firms to locate and complete new facilities in the R20 renewal project.

Former Location

Their former location, on South Cass, was purchased in the R44 renewal program.

"All our dealings with the urban renewal staff, from acquisition through relocation, were very satisfactory," said Franklin Smrcina, part owner of both firms.

The new $40,000 building on Whittemore gives the firms 2,800-square feet of office and plant space, compared to their former 1,350-square-foot building area.

O'Riley Court is a newly-platted residential area bounded by Cottage, Center, Whittemore and Perkins.

BUILT MODELS

Goodell Builders, Inc., of River Rouge, built the models and have options on a total of 21 lots in the O'Riley Court area for single family dwellings in the $13,000 to $15,000 price range.

Goodell is offering a three-bedroom brick ranch, a three-bedroom modern tri-level and a five-bedroom, two-story colonial.

Tucker Realty Co., which is handling the sales, reports that more than half of the proposed 21 homes have already been sold, according to Wilhelm.

On Old Library Site

Suggest Culture Center

For more than three years, the old city library at West Lawrence and Williams has stood empty, collecting dust and broken windows.

Dr. Harold A. Furlong, 68, a native of Pontiac, thinks it should be collecting things like paintings, sculpture, photographs and ceramics.

It might help the man on the street collect a little culture, he suggests.

Pontiac is one of the few cities in the state that does not have any cultural center.

The old library, with its large rooms, is admirably equipped for just such a use, Dr. Furlong feels.

DROPS MESSAGE

This is the soft-sell message he's been dropping in the presence of service club officers, civic leaders and some city officials.

Furlong, a member of the Pontiac Artists Assn., points to the frequent art exhibitions at shopping centers as evidence there is much public interest in this field and need for a centrally located facility to house exhibits.

The old library has fallen into the class of a "problem child" for city officials since, it was vacated in favor of the new main library on East Pike.

There have been suggestions that it be used as a drop-in center for retirees, but renovation costs were too high.

ASK BIDS

The city asked for bids on it in 1962 and got one — about $10,000 below the appraised value of the land alone.

City crews have tried to keep the vacant, two-story, bare-hulk structure clean and the windows unbroken in the meantime.

Dr. Furlong, of 2260 E. Hammond Lake Drive, is beginning to get his "suggestions" across. "It's a fine idea," said Max Adams, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce. "There is a definite need for this type of thing in Pontiac."

HELP ORGANIZE

"I'm sure the Chamber would help organize any venture to provide more culture for the city."

Dr. Furlong is a realist as well as an art lover.

"It will take community interest and money to get the ball rolling," he said.

"First, we need a community group to organize and sponsor this... to go to service clubs, women's groups, labor unions, and other business and fraternal organizations for donations."

NEED GROUP

He is looking for people interested in forming just such a community group right now.

"There are things that must be done to the building," he noted. "It will need a new heating plant, wiring and re-decorating."

"If we could get $10,000 to $15,000 together as a start, I feel we'd be in pretty good shape to go to city officials and ask them what they could do to help."

"But it isn't just a money proposition. It will take the effort of a community eager to provide culture for its children and adults," he said.

IDEAL SPOT

The building is ideally located near a large municipal parking lot on Lawrence.

Dr. Furlong has been a practicing physician in Pontiac for 35 years and currently has offices at 35 S. Johnson.

"Members of the Pontiac artists group are very enthusiastic about the idea of leasing the building from the city for use as a community cultural center," he said.

NOT ONE-CLUB PROJECT

Emphasizing that this "isn't a one-club project" Dr. Furlong added "anyone in the area who would like to be part of such a venture can call me at my office."

Adams also urged interested parties to call the Chamber of Commerce in the Riker Building.

LBJ Reminds California of Heavy Defense Outlay

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—President Johnson carried a frankly political message to vote-heavy California today, reminding an airborne audience that the Goldens State has reaped $21 billion of defense contracts during the Kennedy-Johnson years.

Edwards, first stop on Johnson's tour of the nation's most populous state, afforded the President a chance to see the latest military and space craft — plus an opportunity to plump for the Democrats.

To a noisy welcoming crowd of several thousand, Johnson barked back to his 1960 campaign as running mate of the late President John F. Kennedy. "Four years ago we promised to build a national defense of unmatched might and striking power. We have kept that pledge," he said.

CALIFORNIA SHARE

Citing Democratic-sponsored hikes on defense outlays, he noted that California has received more than $21 billion of defense contracts in less than four years.

He said the state "is responsible for 23.1 per cent of our entire defense effort—more than twice as much as its nearest competitor."

Talking "pocketbook politics," Johnson went on: "Defense personnel in this state represent an annual payroll of almost $2 billion a year—half a billion more than in 1960."

Johnson said defense contracts go "to those places where the most effective and efficient work can be done."

NO ACCIDENT

And he added that California's lopsided share of defense spending "is no accident."

The stop at Edwards, a 300,000 acre base on the Mojave Desert where the nation's newest planes are tested, was labeled nonpolitical. However, Johnson made clear at the outset that his California sortie seldom would lack political implications.

Coming up were avowedly political appearances—at a Democratic fund-raising dinner to night in San Francisco and at a similar affair Saturday in Los Angeles.

At Edwards, the Air Force and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration trotted out for Johnson's inspection half a dozen air and space craft of advanced design.

Head-On Crash Takes 2 Lives

Three Others Injured in Bloomfield Twp.

A head-on collision on Telegraph in Bloomfield Township yesterday took the lives of two motorists.

Edward Gorski, 18, of Detroit was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. June E. Snelling, 41, of 409 Lakewood Township, died an hour after the 11:55 a.m. accident.

Witnesses told Bloomfield Township police Gorski's northbound auto hit the cement island 200 feet south of Orchard Way as he was attempting to pass another vehicle.

The car swerved into the southbound lane and hit the Snelling vehicle head-on.

A passenger in the southbound car, Gilbert Gatchell, 42, of Detroit, was listed in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today.

Two 15-year-old passengers in Gorski's car, Karen Rose and Steve Niedzwiecki, both of Detroit, were in good and fair condition, respectively.

Woman With
Disappears

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (UPI)—The whereabouts of an expectant mother, under court orders to forego her religious beliefs and submit to blood transfusions if needed to save her unborn child, were a mystery today.

The family of Mrs. William Anderson, 29, of Asbury Park, said she underwent a physical checkup yesterday and was pronounced in "excellent" condition.

They would not disclose where she was staying and said only that she was "somewhere in New Jersey."

Superior Court Judge Leon Leonard signed an order today in Freehold, N. J., carrying out the mandate of the New Jersey Supreme Court, which ruled Wednesday that Mrs. Anderson must submit to transfusions if they are necessary to save the life of the baby she has carried for 7½ months.

their Chicago apartment May 1 to spend the summer at Fife Lake.

MOVED IN
He moved in along with the 13-year-old who ran away from his neighborhood home June 1, and the 15-year-old who lived nearby, police said.

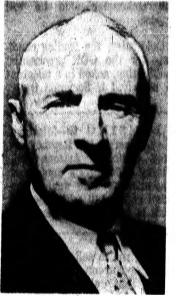

The boys drove up to Fife Lake June 5 to study the Zander summer home and plot their crime and then drove back to Chicago police said.

After the slaying, the 18-year-old was to provide "payoffs," which included $500 and the couple's Thunderbird for the 13-year-old, $2,000 for the 15-year-old, and the 18-year-old would continue forging checks, police said.

Authorities said the boys drove up to the Zanders' summer cottage June 12, stole their auto and burst into their cabin armed with bat and clubs. But the boys were surprised when a third person was with the Zanders and fled in panic.

TRIO ARRESTED
Michigan State Police arrested the trio Monday when they rented a nearby cabin to make the slaying, police said.

The Zanders admitted they knew the eldest of their would-be assassins. They refused to press charges.

County Will Close Voorheis for Work

Voorheis between James K. and M59 will be closed to all but local traffic effective Monday, the Oakland County Road Commission announced today.

The restriction will be in effect about eight weeks to allow widening and repaving of the road, Commission Vice Chairman Robert O. Felt said.

The $118,400 project will replace three-tenths of a mile of blacktop with concrete. The road is to be widened from 21 feet to 31 feet but still remains two lanes.

Curbs and enclosed drains also will be added.

Felt said 13 trees will have to be removed to permit the widening of the two-lane thoroughfare.

Teacher Eyes Seat in 44th

Democrat Candidate Wixom Councilman

Ray Lahti, high school teacher and Wixom councilman, said today he will be a Democratic candidate for state representative from the new 44th District.

The District covers Commerce, Milford, Farmington, Novi and Lyon townships and the cities of Walled Lake, Wixom, Farmington, South Lyon and part of Northville.

Chairman of the social studies department at Oak Park High School and instructor in government and economics, Lahti has served as a Wixom councilman the past six years.

He previously served on the City Charter Commission, has been on the Oakland County Juvenile Court Protective Service Committee for Walled Lake, and a charter member of Farmington Citizens for Michigan and is now a director of Family Service of Oakland County.

Lahti of 2240 Nalene is a University of Michigan graduate and now enrolled in the university's Institute of Public Administration.

PRIOR OCCUPATION
Before entering teaching, he was a systems analyst four years with an automotive firm and an organization and procedures specialist with the federal government for 13 years.

He is also on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors as chairman of the Welfare Committee and member of the Aviation Committee.

Committee Asks School Millage Renewal

age rather than just property owners.

Board President William H. Anderson and board member Victor P. Sutt thought that the millage proposal could be "sold" to the voters because it was only a renewal and not an increase.

"It's nothing new," said Anderson, "it's something people are accustomed to."

RECOMMENDED DATE
The school study committee also recommended a date for the special school election of Oct. 2.

Final action on the millage proposition must be taken by the school board. The board is expected to set up the election at its meeting next Thursday.

Supt. Dana P. Whitmer last night presented updated projections on Pontiac property values, a topic that provoked debate among citizen committee members during the original study of school needs.

State equality valuations (SEV), according to Whitmer, are expected to rise from $398 million in 1964 to $410 million in 1965, and then increase by $5 million each year through 1969.

INCOME, OUTGO
This, school district income would increase from $11,338,245 this year to $11,859,115 in 1969, while expenditures are projected to increase from $11,065,768 to $12,932,779.

Whitmer said that the total difference of expenditures income would be $2,539,847 for 1965-69 or 6.13 mills. The average difference would be $526,009 or 1.24 mills for the five-year period.

A cash reserve of $474,583 will exist at the end of fiscal 1966-65, he explained, which could cover the combined deficits for 1965-66 and 1966-67 of $267,285.

Further extra-voted millage could be considered, then, he said, or income projections might change. He said that SEV projections may prove to be "too modest" and may rise more than expected.

SEEK RENEWAL
Board members and citizens committee members generally agreed that the millage renewal should be sought because it was not known if the added millage would be needed in two years.

Chairman Howlett concluded the meeting with his resignation, based on his election to the school board. He nominated, and committee members concurred, Dr. Robert R. Turpin, 106 Franklin Blvd., to succeed him.

Howlett and Turpin opposed each other last week in a race for the lone school board vacancy.

It will be cooler from Great Lakes southward into middle and upper Mississippi Valley.

Firm Testing Kennedy N.Y. Popularity

NEW YORK (AP) — A public opinion firm has been testing the popularity in New York State of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, among others, but he is expected to wait several weeks before he decides whether to enter the U.S. Senate race in the state, the New York Herald Tribune said today.

A Washington Dispatch identified the public opinion firm as John F. Kraft Inc., of 557 Madison Ave., Manhattan.

The field is still open for a Democratic candidate to oppose Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating in November.

The newspaper learned that a poll is being conducted by Kraft under contract to the Democratic State Committee, and it covers election year issues as well as Kennedy and possible rivals for the Democratic Senate nomination.

A spokesman for Kennedy said yesterday he knew of no other poll to test his popularity in the state.

PROBABLY WAIT

At the same time, associates of the Attorney General said he would probably wait several weeks before making a decision. They indicated, however, that he would not wait until after the Democratic National Convention in August to decide whether to enter the Senate contest. Previously, there had been speculation that he would first wait to see whether he might capture the vice presidential nomination.

The Democratic National Convention opens in Atlantic City, N.J., Aug. 24. The state convention, at which a Senate candidate will be nominated, opens Sept. 1 in New York City.

S. Lyon Schedules School Budget Talk

SOUTH LYON — Public hearing on a record school budget, up some 15 per cent over this year's figure, will be held Monday night.

Three school repair projects, five new staff members and extensive salary adjustments account for a large share of the additional amount in the $939,778 anticipated total.

Proposed expenditures are about $6,000 over the expected revenue of $933,891. However, the district is carrying forward a $39,000 balance from this year, according to Schools Supt. Frank Bartlett.

Included in the maintenance portion of the budget is $16,500 to replace the New Hudson Elementary School boiler, $2,100 for electrical work at the annex and $1,600 for a new entrance to the New Hudson school.

With the enrollment increase projected at 15, the board of education is planning on a total student population of 2,311 for 1964-65.

WILL HIRE

"I will hire four new teachers and a librarian at an estimated total cost of $25,000.

All teachers have been placed on a salary schedule and the rate has been adjusted Bartlett said.

The changes will bring $700 to $800 raises to 10 or 12 staff members.

"We've also raised the beginning salary from $4,600 to $4,800," Bartlett said. "This will affect about 80 staff members."

RECEIVE RAISES

He noted that hourly - rated personnel also would receive raises.

Property taxes are expected to rise $410,282 in the district next year. County allocations is $2.25 mills.

Another 8.5-mill levy was approved by the electorate in April. The operational tax, to be carried for five years, is 1.5 mills higher than that which expired.

Monday's hearing will be held during the board's regular meeting at 8 p.m. at the South Lyon Elementary School. Copies of the budget are available at the board of education office.

Lake Orion Festivities Set for July 4 Weekend

LAKE ORION — Parades on both water and land, dances and baseball games will highlight the annual Small Fry Days celebration here over the Fourth of July weekend.

The four-day program will open with a teen dance at the Youth Center July 2 at 8 p.m.

Three big events are planned for July 3 beginning with a girls' baseball game at 10 a.m. at All Star (Senior League) game is slated for 4 p.m. to be followed by the Merry Makers Square Dance at L.S. Supermarket at 9.

On the agenda for the holiday are the gala parade at 10:30 a.m., merchants and pony game at 1 p.m., Babe Ruth game at 4 and an adult dance at Al Hano's showroom at 9.

Entries still are being accepted for the parade which will form at Atwater Park. Persons or organizations interested in participating should contact James Norton, 403 N. Shore.

TO ATTEND CHURCH

On the final day of the celebration baseball players and their families will attend the church of their choice. Closing event will be the colorful Venetian Parade of boats on Lake Orion at 1 p.m.

All ball games will be played at Atwater Park.

This is the one big money-raising program of the year for the Small Fry League. Proceeds are used for equipment and uniforms for the 750 young players.

Tickets can be purchased from any Small Fry player, manager or coach.

Eye Report Variance on Lake Project Cost

WOLVERINE LAKE — The report which cut nearly in half the estimated cost of renovating Wolverine Lake now is being appraised by the engineers who prepared the original report.

"There is such a discrepancy between the two, we want to hear what our own engineers have to say," Robert J. Evans, Oakland County deputy drain commissioner, said yesterday.

The second report is being studied by engineers at Hubbell, Roth and Clark of Birmingham.

Oakland County Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry last year said the renovation project was unfeasible on the basis of Hubbell, Roth and Clark's preliminary engineering report.

The firm estimated the cost at $995,000 and said hydraulic dredging would empty the lake of water a quarter of the way through the project.

NEW ESTIMATES

Looking north to Long Lake where a similar task had been undertaken with a new type of dredge, Wolverine Lake residents decided to seek new cost estimates.

The second report was prepared by John R. Snell of Lansing who did the engineering for the "first timer" ever project at Long Lake.

He indicated the Wolverine Lake job could be done for about $530,000, using the new method.

The undertaking, Snell said, would deepen the lake to an average of eight feet. It now averages 3.8 feet in depth.

BARRETT REPORT

Members of the Wolverine Lake Rehabilitation Association took the second report to Barry last week. He in turn handed it over to Hubbell, Roth and Clark for comments and criticisms.

The drain commissioner will not study Snell's report himself, Evans said, but "he will want to study the report on the report."

Witness Silent in 'Mafia' Trial

Feel East Detroit May Fear Violence

DETROIT (AP) — A witness in the income tax evasion trial of reputed Mafia lieutenant Matthew (Mike) Rubino refused to testify Thursday after being assured by the judge that he could not incriminate himself.

The witness, Angelo Lombardi, 33, of East Detroit, invoked the Fifth Amendment after Federal Judge Thaddeus M. Machrowicz ordered him to answer.

Assistant U.S. Attorney William Merrill charged Lombardi "does not fear incrimination but is afraid of physical violence and death."

Rubino, identified by former Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards as a "second echelon" "big man" in the Mafia, is accused of evading payment of $6,961 in Federal taxes in 1957.

Merrill claimed Rubino evaded tax by listing Lombardi as recipient of $13,806 in income from a defunct firm owned by Rubino.

Judge Machrowicz told Lombardi that he could not incriminate himself in answering questions about his 1957 income because the statute of limitations had run out, and he could not be prosecuted.

But Lombardi refused to testify, saying: "I have no honest fear."

"Fear of what?" asked Machrowicz.

"My rights," answered Lombardi. "My constitutional rights." The witness, described by Edwards as a section leader in the Detroit Mafia crime syndicate, was ordered to return to the stand today.

Summer School Set by Troy Churches

TROY — The Troy Methodist Church will hold a cooperative Vacation Church School again this year, beginning Monday through Friday mornings.

The Troy First Presbyterian Church and the American Baptist Church of Troy are participating in the program of Bible stories, crafts, recreation and light refreshments.

Millions Evaporating

Low Lake Levels Expensive

TORONTO (AP) — Untold millions of dollars are evaporating because of low water in North America's inland sea, the Great Lakes.

Shipping has suffered. Hydro-electricity losses are heavy. Some shoreline has receded in startling fashion, hitting pleasure boaters, commercial fishermen and cottage dwellers.

For the last 10 years, rainfall over the lakes and their 295,000-square-mile drainage basin, has been below normal.

There has been some tinkering with the ancient pattern of the lakes' flow through navigation and power works of the St. Lawrence Seaway. Experts speculate an abundance of water will return, but there is no knowing when.

SUMMON CONFERENCE

The Ontario government has summoned a conference June 29 with Quebec and the lake-bordering American States. Michigan's attorney-general has called another international meeting for July 29.

There is talk of a Tennessee Valley Authority type of regulation for the lakes. Another plan would divert southward a big flow now going to Hudson Bay.

There is talk in Washington of a far-out plan to bring water east from the Rockies.

For the first five months of this year, Lake Huron dipped past the monthly low records of 1934. It and Lake Michigan are worst off, with Huron about two feet below the 10-year average.

Lake Superior, under control at its outlet, has been kept about normal.

The others have fluctuated but not as widely as Huron, where the effects of the weather were abetted several years ago when the natural outlet into Lake Erie through the St.

Clair River was excavated by the U.S. government — under agreement with Canada — to deepen navigation channels for the seaway.

Some critics have blamed Huron's woes on this ditching, though the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, in charge of the project, contends the combined effects of all human interferences with lakes Huron-Michigan has been to give them an extra half inch.

Because of shallow depth in channels and harbors, larger vessels have to load light. The loss in revenue can run to $3,000 or more on a cargo of grain from the lakehead to Montreal, for example.

Capt. H. B. Bazeley of Upper Lakes Shipping Co., Toronto, says this could mean an increase in shipping rates unless the water comes back.

Small commercial fishermen are in trouble, mainly on Huron. One fleet of fishing boats normally operating out of Port Bruce shifted to Goderich because loaded vessels couldn't clear their own harbor.

Thousands of pleasure boat owners turned up at shore spots to find their craft anywhere up to 100 feet from the water and their docks on dry land.

To Seek County's Support for Study of Great Lakes

Oakland County's support of a proposed study of how to control the water levels of Lake Huron and Lake Michigan will be sought when the County Board of Supervisors meets Monday.

The board's drain committee is recommending approval of the proposed study by joint action of the United States and Canadian governments.

Of all the Great Lakes, only Lake Superior reportedly has maintained an adequate level, through joint efforts of the two governments. Water levels of the other lakes have reached a record low this year.

According to the committee's resolution, low water threatens the welfare and economy of Michigan "by impairment of water supplies, sewage facilities, shipping and commerce, navigational channels, recreational developments, wildlife and many other items vital to our continued way of life and existence."

"While the levels of the lakes have always fluctuated in cycles of high and low water, the increasing use of the lakes as a source of water supply and the diversion of the waters of Lake Michigan to the Mississippi watershed for the purpose of disposing of sewage wastes result in more water leaving the lakes than nature can replace by precipitation."

Similar recommendations for a study of the problem are being presented to county boards of supervisors throughout the state.

Awards Given to 9 in FFA

Presentations Made at Almont Chapter

ALMONT — Honorary awards were recently presented to nine members of the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America by their advisers, George R. Patallo.

Members receiving awards were Bob Jessop, dairy farming; Richard Redd, star chapter farmer; David Van Dyke, star greenhand; Stanley Williams, public speaking; Howard Redd, farm mechanics; and Arland Rays, soil and water management.

Others were Gerald Duckert, farm safety; Jim Sloan, crop management; and Brian Clover, livestock farming.

Honorary Chapter Farmer citations were given to two local men, Elmer Duckert, of 4941 Howland and John T. Glover, of 8158 E. Dryden.

The awards were presented to the 11 area youths and farmers for their contributions to the local chapter.

To Hear Talk by Formosan

DAVISBURG — Bill Lee, Formosan Christian leader, will speak at the 11 a.m. worship service of the First Baptist Church Sunday.

Known as Lee Shin Chang, in his native Formosa, Lee was educated in Japan as an engineer. He has worked with the Orient Crusades missionary organization for 15 years.

Lee is in the United States for further study at the Multinational School of the Bible in Portland, Ore.

Journey Takes Half a Century

Sea Otter Coming Back From Extinction

WASHINGTON — The sea otter has come back from the brink of extinction to gambol again in Pacific waters. The journey took half a century.

The United States Fish and Wildlife Service estimates the present population of sea otters at around 40,000, scattered from the rock-bound coast of California to the Aleutian and Kuril Islands.

Fifty years ago, there were less than a thousand.

The sea otter's decline began in the 1740's, when shipwrecked Russian sailors wintered on a barren island off Alaska and survived by eating what they called "sea apes," the National Geographic Society says.

The survivors later built a ship and returned home with 900 soft, deep pelts of the sea otter.

FRENZIED TRADE BEGINS

Tsars and noblemen of Imperial Russia and mandarins in China soon prized the silky fur for trimming their opulent robes. Fur hunters sailed to America's western coast.

Choice pelts sold for as much as $2,500 each. In one year, 50,000 pelts were taken.

Russia monopolized the trade until 1778, when Captain James Cook, searching for the fabled Northwest Passage, met Indians wearing thick fur shirts on Vancouver Island.

The Indians lost their shirts in trade, and the others lost all chance of survival without protection.

MUTINY, MURDER

News attracted ships of many nations to California. Crews engaged in frantic rivalry involving mutinies and murder.

The sea otter had virtually disappeared by 1911, when it was finally given protection under an international treaty.

The sea otter (Enhydra lutris) is clumsy on land. But it is a graceful swimmer, somersaulting and diving to great depths with the aid of flipper-like webbed hind feet.

Some of the mammals float on their backs while tossing up and catching bits of seaweed in a playful way.

ACTIVE AT DAY

Sea otters live in pods, or herds. Active mainly by day, they sleep in beds of kelp, sometimes with chin on chest and a paw over each eye.

An 80-pound adult may eat 15 pounds of fresh food daily.

News of Area Service Personnel

Seven area servicemen have been among those recently graduated in their respective branches of the service.

Staff Sgt. Raymond H. Smith, son of Dr. and Mrs. Donald S. Smith of 474 Stoneleigh Road, Bloomfield Hills, was graduated from Ohio State University with a bachelor of science degree in mathematics.

Smith studied for his degree through the Air Force's airman education and commissioning program. Upon graduation he is scheduled to enter the Air Force officer training school at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, to train for a commission as a second lieutenant.

His wife, Wilma, is the daughter of Mrs. Ethel M. Willis of 781 Cameron.

A graduate of Pontiac Central High School, Smith attended the University of Michigan prior to entering the Air Force in October of 1960. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Marine Cpl. Lindell J. Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Perry of 67 Pinegrove Street graduated this month from personnel administrative clerk school, Schools' Battalion, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Among his studies were personnel accounting, pay and allowances, travel and special orders. The school is designed to train Marines in the handling of enlisted and officer service records and other administrative work.

Graduated this month from the first Marine Division's Non-Commissioned Officers School, junior leadership course, at Cap Pendleton, Calif., is Marine Corporal Don P. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brent C. Davis of 368 Newport.

Among his studies were effective methods of leadership and the training of other Marines. Davis also received training in weapons, map reading, first aid, hand-to-hand combat and small unit tactics.

Commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force upon graduation recently from Officer Training School (OTS) at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, is Eugene Chin.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Chin of 18261 Nadel Drive, Southfield, was selected for OTS through competitive examination and is being assigned to an Air Training Command (ATC) unit at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo. for training as a missile launch officer.

The lieutenant, a member of Alpha Chi Sigma, received his B.S. degree from Wayne State University. He is a graduate of Western High School in Detroit.

Second Lieutenant Martin R. Kitchen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kitchen of 2883 Frankson, Rochester, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force pilot instructor course at Randolph Air Force Base, Tex.

Now trained to teach student pilots to fly jets, he is being assigned to an Air Training Command (ATC) unit at Vance AFB, Okla.

His squadron supports the ATC mission of training airman and officers in the diverse skills required by the nation's aerospace force.

The lieutenant, who received his B.S. degree from Michigan Technological University, was commissioned through the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program there. He is a member of Phi Kappa Tau.

Lt. Col. Fred E. Karboh, whose wife Jo Ann lives at 3890 Oakland Drive, Birmingham, was graduated from the U.S. Army War College, the senior military educational institution, at Carlisle Barracks, Pa. recently.

Graduation followed intensive study preparing the students for high-level staff and command assignments within the Armed Forces and Federal government.

Col. Karboh is a 1959 graduate of the University of Omaha and a member of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

The federal Area Development Administration approved 358 loans and grants last year representing an investment of $218,291,000, the Department of Commerce reports.

Justices Throw Book at State Redistricting

We think the U. S. Supreme Court rates a big fat "E" for ineptness in snarling the reapportionment procedure with which four-fifths of the Country's states are concerned.

Rushing into a judiciary area previously considered off limits, the high tribunal ruled that the legality of a state's legislative districting formula was subject to judicial scrutiny. At the time, the State of Tennessee was specifically involved.

Subsequently that state appealed the finding of a lower court to the Supreme Court, as did other states—Michigan included.

But with primary election deadlines drawing near in state after state, elective and representation chaos were becoming an increasing threat because a reapportionment formula acceptable to the Supreme Court had not been forthcoming from that august body.

Our own State Supreme Court, after waiting as long as it dared for some hint of guidance from the Washington end of the judicial line, approved a reapportionment plan that was in accord with Michigan's new constitution and seemed to settle the issue in a generally satisfactory manner.

Now, suddenly the U. S. Supreme Court, after months of thumb twiddling, issued a decision establishing the "one man, one vote" concept of apportionment—thereby rendering unconstitutional our State's plan under implementation. But the court still abstained from indicating reapportionment guidelines that it would uphold.

The irony of the whole mess is that the Supreme Court's decision—the soundness of which is widely questioned—was based on interpretation of a clause in the 14th Amendment to the Constitution, and could have been handed down weeks ago.

Such action would have enabled all the states affected to establish new legislative districts in time for orderly progress toward upcoming elections.

History records that an emperor once fiddled while his city burned. From another point in time, it may record that a nation's justices fiddled while the people burned.

Foreign Aid Hassling Now an Annual Event

Progressively acquiring the same inevitability as death and taxes is the annual Administration-Congressional hassle over foreign aid commitment.

Since the yearly handout was established shortly after World War II, procedure attending it has been unvarying.

The Administration puts a price tag on our global grant, presumably fluid enough to permit a considerable amount of water to be squeezed out as the bill is shuttled between House and Senate committees and the floors of both chambers.

Last year, the asking price of the KENNEDY Administration was $4.9 billion—eventually whittled down to a going price of $3.3 billion.

This year marks a new departure in White House fiscal procedure, according to insiders.

Under a "bare bones" concept of drawing an appropriation request, President LYNDON B. JOHNSON submitted one for "exactly the amount needed" to insure a miscellany of nations a standard of living to which we've accustomed them.

So impressed was the House Foreign Affairs Committee with this display of governmental frugality that it did not cut even one cent from the total. Not only that, but it ADDED $125 million.

The over-all figure for foreign economic aid and military assistance now stands at $3.5 billion.

But the "rock-bottom" aid request still faces some pretty rocky going before it bottoms out.

Its nemesis will likely be Rep. OTTO E. PASSMAN, D-La., chairman of the House appropriations committee. He was the prime trimmer of fat off last year's aid bill, and he scornfully declares that there is a lot of fat still on the "bare bones" of the skeletonized form of aid the President has submitted.

Justice Served by High Court

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court has opened the doors to a double revolution in American life—and given it a new sense of justice—by stepping into a vacuum in race and politics.

The vacuum was created by the failure of the democratic process to wipe out two injustices which the ruling forces—white majorities and politicians—sought to ignore. The court has angered many with its willingness to act where all held back. But the alternative was to let the democratic process decay, which would have been a confession of democratic failure and national impotence.

The first revolution began just over 10 years ago when the court on May 17, 1954 declared the principle of racial segregation unconstitutional by outlawing segregation in public schools.

The second revolution began with three decisions—one in 1962, two this year—that elections to state legislatures and the U. S. House must be made more democratic by trying to give all voters an equal voice.

The court has been accused of usurping power. If Congress thought so, it would have tried to curb the court. It did not. Instead, it accepted as law what the court did and has sought to conform to it.

GLOBAL VIEW

Thus to the rest of the world, not entangled in American politics or its racial prejudices, the court stands as an expression of the national democratic conscience at the very moment this country seeks to be a democratic symbol.

While the Civil War freed the Negro, it never in practice made him equal to white man. The Supreme Court blessed the inequality by making it an official part of American life with its separate-but-equal decision of 1896.

This said Negroes could be segregated so long as the treatment they got was equal to that given white people. The treatment became increasingly unequal, particularly in the South but in the North too.

In 1954, the court finally ordered an end to unequal treatment of citizens.

For the first 60 years of this century American politicians largely ignored that other priceless American possession: full enjoyment by all citizens of the democratic process, meaning equal representation.

Why? Because these politicians would not yield power. In those 60 years there had been vast shifts in populations from cities to suburban areas.

Although state constitutions in many cases had provided for reapportionment every 10 years or so to provide more or less equal voter representation, state politicians ignored their constitutions, did nothing.

Nor did Congress, whose members come from the states, do anything. Citizens protested but got no action. This went on for years. Finally, between 1962 and last Monday the court stepped in.

It ordered states to redistrict according to population.

Barry Took Courageous Stand

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona gave the nation last night in the U. S. Senate an example of a man who would rather risk the loss of a presidential nomination, or even an election, than surrender his convictions to political expediency.

This is so unusual in public life that, irrespective of whether his speech announcing that he would vote against the pending civil rights bill disappoints a large number of voters, many of them will have to agree that this is the courageous act of a statesman.

For the Arizona senator makes it plain that he seeks for his country an adherence to the fundamental principles of constitutional law.

He is opposed to the opportunistic expediency which has lately emerged in the handling of the civil rights controversy.

Goldwater says he doesn't believe Congress has the right under present constitutional provisions to pass the public accommodations sections of the bill or the portion of the measure which deals with federal regulation of the employment practices of private businesses.

As for the measure that is finally up for passage, Goldwater feels that to put himself on record as favoring enactment of what he believes is an unconstitutional bill would mean that he has failed to live up to his oath of office.

As he sees it, no member of Congress who conscientiously reasons that a bill is unconstitutional should vote for it.

The question now is what effect Sen. Goldwater's announcement will have on his political fortunes.

It has been assumed that his party's platform would endorse the civil rights bill which is about to be passed.

It has been assumed that his party's platform would endorse the civil rights bill which is about to be passed.

If the Republican party endeavors to make of the civil rights bill an issue within the ranks of the party, it could dramatize the whole controversy in such a way as to cause voters who regularly vote in the Democratic party to vote the Republican ticket to offset the defections.

The "cross-over" vote is likely to be considerable as the protest vote in the various state primary elections recently has shown.

Goldwater's pronouncement will, of course, prompt his opponents now to try to break down his delegate strength.

NOT ENTUSIASTIC But for a long time most of the Republican state delegations that support him have known that the Arizona senator was not enthusiastic about the civil rights bill.

Will the Republican party constitute itself a party of opposition or go along with the administration's proposals for legislation that is of doubtful constitutionality?

This is the question which the Republican delegates will have to decide.

There is no doubt now that the Republican National Convention of 1964 at San Francisco will be the scene of an epochal debate on the fundamentals of constitutional government.

Hearings in TFX Case to Resume This Summer

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Let the political chips fall where they may, Chairman John W. McClellan says he is determined to resume committee hearings on the controversial TFX contract this summer.

This could prove to be a hot potato for the Johnson administration in MONTGOMERY an election year, inasmuch as the President is from Texas, and the Government Operations Committee is probing why Defense Secretary Robert McNamara overruled his military chiefs and civilian advisers to award the colossal plane contract to a Texas rather than a Seattle firm.

McClellan, asked if he has been under any pressure to postpone the hearings until after election, replied shortly: "They know me too well to try anything like that. They may have used pressure on other members of my committee—I don't know—but they wouldn't do it to me."

The Arkansas Democrat has been "rechecked" to supply the requested information.

His present intention, however, is to reopen hearings in late July, between the Republican and Democratic conventions.

The remaining two weeks before the temporary recess will have to be spent on appropriations hearings for State-Justice Commerce, of which McClellan is subcommittee chairman.

Sen. Henry (Scoop) Jackson of Washington, who precipitated the TFX investigation when Boeing Aircraft lost the $7 billion contract, said he is backing McClellan's decision "to the hilt."

MUCH TROUBLE

"I understand the committee is running into a lot of trouble getting information out of the Defense Department," he said.

This may be due to the fact that Defense is having some headaches with the plane.

McNamara's whole argument in giving the contract to General Dynamics was that he wanted a common plane that would serve both the Navy and Air Force. Now reports are coming in that the TFX is failing to meet Navy requirements for carrier-based planes.

The TFX case exploded last year, when McNamara chose to overrule not only his civilian career personnel but also Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay and Adm. George W. Anderson of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. All had recommended Boeing as the prime contractor.

Instead, McNamara gave the contract to General Dynamics, of Johnson's home state.

Permissiveness

The Flint Journal

What once was a widely-accepted assumption—that youngsters of the poor and underprivileged had a monopoly on juvenile delinquency—has been repeatedly discredited in recent years.

Many a middle-to-upper-class suburb has had continuing cause for complaint on the behavior of a certain proportion of its youthful residents.

Vandalism, shoplifting, house-breaking, car thefts, and other crimes are all too common among them.

They may be referred to as pranks and old-fashioned devilry but the acts are still crimes against the law and society.

The key reason, far from new, is "permissiveness." Either through neglect or its opposite, overindulgence, parents in many cases manage to give the youngsters the idea they can do just about anything they wish to amuse themselves.

When this leads to transgressions of the law, disciplinary measures seldom follow. The idea instead is to hush up the matter to avoid unsavory publicity all around.

In this effort, foolish parents too often have the cooperation

'Water Tower Problem Could've Been Avoided'

In the June 16 Pontiac Press, a township official said that the difference between the cost of the present water tower site at Main and Walton and a secondary site at Clintonville Road and Walton is $33,562.

The Lake Oakland Heights water system has in escrow with the Township Water Board something in excess of $20,000 which if applied against the difference would leave a balance to be added to the cost of the entire project of less than $14,000. Members of the Lake Oakland Heights Park Association, owners of the water system, would have given their wholehearted approval of the use of such funds.

The $14,000 difference divided among the 14,000 homes in Waterford Township and prorated over the 30 years bond life would have increased the cost per home owner per year by $.0333, a "negligible" amount to have 600 happy neighbors and voters.

We believe that if the newer members of the Waterford Township Board of Trustees had investigated the matter thoroughly, their decision would have been different, and the present unpleasantness could have been eliminated.

'Democracy Not in Action—Dems Are'

Michigan Democrats have long promoted the slogan "one man, one vote." However, at their recent state convention it was decreed that their delegates to the national convention would each have not one vote, but only nine-tenths of a vote. And a 10 per cent deviation was then added by awarding full votes to National Committee members, Mildred Jeffrey and John Swainson. Not democracy in action, but Democrats.

And rather appalling is the disclosure that potentially if one computer discovers another has made a mistake it can let the second machine know that something has gone haywire without bothering to summon a human engineer.

That may be more independence than we should like machines to have.

As human beings we ought at least to retain the authority to tell them when they're wrong, which is no more than the authority we insist on wielding over our politicians.

Boy Born on Freeway

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Henry Cavanaugh found his way into—and finally out of—a freeway traffic jam, during which his wife presented him with a newborn son. A problem remained, however.

Who acted as midwife? A couple who delivered his wife, Christien, 34, of her baby during the traffic jam yesterday disappeared before he could learn their names.

They were later identified as Mr. and Mrs. Julian Blanco of nearby Azusa.

Cavanaugh's car had slammed into the rear of another vehicle as he was rushing his wife to the hospital—and the baby began to come.

Cavanaugh yelled for help. The Blancos, in a nearby car, responded.

DELIVERED CHILD

They delivered the child, transferred mother and son to their car, drove down the center divider strip to an exit, and took them to General Hospital.

Cavanaugh, 39, a construction worker, was left on the freeway to extricate his car.

QUESTION: Why are bubbles round?

ANSWER: Everyone knows that if you dip a pipe or bubble blower in clear water and blow, nothing will happen, but if you dip it in soapy water a beautiful shiny bubble will start to grow, glowing with iridescent colors and getting larger as you blow, until it finally bursts.

This effect is caused by "surface tension," the pulling of a liquid's open surface together. Even the clear water has this. It is the surface tension which will cause a needle to float if we lower it very carefully onto the surface of a cup of water.

But in the soapy water, the molecules act more strongly to hold together, which is why the soap bubble is formed.

We might think of them as tiny molecule men who have linked hands to stay as close together as possible. The effect of such surface tension is to hold the surface area down to the smallest possible space.

It is this which makes the soap bubble round. The air from your breath forces the water film outward but the stubborn little soap water molecule men hold together as much as they can.

A sphere is the smallest shape which can enclose the volume of air you have blown, and so you have a round bubble.

FOR YOU TO DO: Hold a soap bubble party with a prize for the biggest bubble. Have someone with a ruler act as measurer, but he must be quick and take care not to touch the bubble.

Chief Big Bow Real Gone— Dead or Alive

HOBART, Okla. (AP)—Kiowa Indian Chief Big Bow has proved to be as elusive in death as he was when he was alive.

Reburial ceremonies set for next Saturday have been postponed indefinitely because the remains, thought to have been buried on a farm near this southeastern Oklahoma town, cannot be located.

Big Bow, who died at the turn of the century at 68, was once known as the "terror of the frontier." He surrendered to military authorities in 1874 and was to have been reburied at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Russ Coolness to Laos Plan Called Setback

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Britain appear to have suffered a setback in their efforts to find a diplomatic solution for the crisis in Laos.

The Soviet Union has cooled off on a Polish proposal for an urgent international conference to deal with threats to the Southeast Asian country's neutrality, Washington officials report. The Soviets reportedly have raised some objections to the way the conference was to be set up and the result is seen here as slowing down the diplomatic approach to a solution.

What effect this development will have on further U.S. military intervention in Laos on behalf of the neutralist government is unclear at the moment. But the United States has committed itself to a policy of rolling back Communist forces from territory they recently conquered in the strategic Plaines des Jarres.

If this objective cannot be accomplished eventually by diplomatic means, the Johnson administration presumably will have to consider expanding military operations.

The hope in official quarters is that the Soviets will go along with the conference plan, which Britain had accepted after consultation with the United States, and officials say it is too early to judge the final outcome.

The conference was proposed by Poland would be held by Britain and the Soviet Union as the co-chairmen of the 1962 Geneva conference which agreed on the neutrality of Laos, plus Laos itself and the three countries which form an international commission to supervise the Geneva agreement. Those three are Poland, Canada and India.

Moscow is reported to have asked that the conference plan be revised to provide for participation by the Communist Pathet Lao faction. The United States has been opposed to holding a new Geneva-type conference, which would involve 14 countries and probably reopen all the basic problems concerned with Laos and with South Viet Nam. The larger conference proposal has been advocated by Communist China.

THROWN IN FORCES

In testimony before a House Appropriations subcommittee released Thursday night Asst. Secretary of State William P. Bundy said that if the Pathet Lao and North Vietnamese units in Laos "get military ascendancy" then "the only response we would have would be to put our own forces in there."

Bundy also spoke of the possibility of expanding the war in Viet Nam to include action against Communist North Viet Nam. He said that U.S. policy now is "to try to win the war on present lines."

"I do not think there should be any doubt about it," Bundy asserted. "We are going to drive the Communists out of South Viet Nam. We are trying to do that without attacking the countries to the north with all the problems that involves. If it comes to that, we will have to face that choice."

Bundy's testimony was given early last month at a time when the latest Southeast Asian crisis was beginning to build up. It still represents the thinking at the highest levels of government.

Town in Kentucky Bans Topless Suit

By The Associated Press

Covington, Ky., is not going to have anything to do with those topless swimsuits for women but Vancouver, Wash., may find itself in the mainstream of modern fashion because of its past.

Covington's City Commission Thursday night adopted an ordinance prohibiting the "sale and/or wearing of a one-piece women's bathing suit or apparel which allows the breast of the woman to be exposed."

The vote: 4 for, 0 against. The penalty: Up to three days in jail and a $500 fine.

"It never ceases to amaze me what some industry will do to make a dollar," said Commissioner Don Riesenber, sponsor of the ordinance.

OLD ORDINANCE

In Vancouver, however, a reporter dug up an 1880 ordinance which says: "No person shall bathe in the water of the Columbia River or any lake within the corporate limits of the said city or in any creek or slough within the city limits between the hours of 6 a.m. and 8 p.m. without having a suitable bathing suit, which shall cover the body from the waist to the knee."

Note that "waist to the knee." And, what about 8 p.m. to 6 a.m.?

The bare bosom bathing suit, as designed by Rudi Gernreich, comes somewhat above the waist, but from there to the shoulders there are only two strings—thin strings.

Buyers from clothing stores across the nation viewed the topless wonder this week in New York. Some buyers stocked up, but some of them said they'd show and sell the suits only when asked.

NOT MORAL ENOUGH

Others snubbed it as not in keeping with the moral tone of their town or the image of their store.

Lord & Taylor's New York management canceled its buyer's order. Macy's said, "No," and it didn't have to tell Gimbel's. Gimbel's said "No," too. Splendorous, a Third Avenue shop, was one of the few places you could buy one in New York City. Two girls from the Folies Bergere, now on Broadway, greeted the shipment of 21 suits, reportedly the ones Lord & Taylor had evicted.

The price: $23. The suit hit the beach briefly in Santa Monica, Calif. Blonde Lucki Winn, 23, a dancer, braved the breezes. As photographers snapped pictures, she mentioned a nightclub. She's appearing there.

Owns 2 Pools; One Is Buried

STORRS, Conn. (AP) — Dr. Arthur Shrager has two pools and one is buried — yes, buried in his back yard.

It seems Shrager just couldn't accept the fact that when the cold months arrived he would have to stop swimming in his conventional outdoor pool.

He spotted a big, cylindrical metal tank one day and had it trucked to his home.

Then a power shovel was used to scoop out a yawning trench in the backyard.

Warm air is piped to the pool from the garage, which is also where the water is heated and filtered.

Now it can blow all it wants and Shrager will go right on swimming. How much did it cost? He figures about $1,000.

Michigan First to Set Rural Shelter Study

LANSING (AP) — The first rural fallout shelter study program to be inaugurated in any state will be held at Michigan State University July 16-17.

The workshop, sponsored jointly by MSU Extension Service and the Michigan Office of Civil Defense, is designed to assist persons in rural areas in providing or finding shelter from radioactive fallout.

Visit From National Head

Praises Pontiac's 'Big Brothers'

In his first official visit to Pontiac, the national executive director of Big Brothers of America, said he was "very much impressed" by the work being carried on by the Big Brothers of Oakland County.

"This is the first agency," said Thomas E. O'Brien, chief administrator of the 75 youth units in the nation, "to have more Big Brothers than Little Brothers."

Organized 60 years ago, the movement matches one man with a boy without a father for the purpose of offering a guiding hand. Big Brothers of Oakland County was formed 10 years ago.

"There had been some concern in the past that the local group was serving so few youngsters in such a large area, but a rebirth apparently has taken place here," said O'Brien.

He credited much of the increased interest to Thomas Thompson, executive director here since Nov. 1963.

SCRATCHING SURFACE

"We realize that only the surface is being scratched but it is encouraging," O'Brien added.

"The work is inspirational but frustrating when you realize that there are six million fathers in the country without fathers, naturally not all boys, but you can see the problem."

O'Brien, whose headquarters are in Philadelphia, said Big Brothers is the fastest growing organization to combat youth maladjustment.

Inquiries have been received from 300 cities in the U.S. and Canada," said O'Brien.

PROUD OF MICHIGAN

"We are very proud of Michigan," said O'Brien. "It has the most Big Brother groups of an state with 12, followed by California with 11."

Approximately 12,000 men in the nation are Big Brothers, he said, "and it is encouraging to find the response we are getting."

"It seems that the American male is becoming conscious to the problems of youth and wants to do something to combat them," added O'Brien.

O'Brien, who received his degree from the Boston College of Social Work, is no stranger to Michigan, his first assignment as an executive director of Big Brothers was in Saginaw from 1953 to 1956. Until the time he was named national director in 1960, he directed Big Brother activities in Los Angeles for four years.

O'Brien was invited to Pontiac this week by Thompson to evaluate and make recommendations about Big Brothers of Oakland County.

O'Brien said he does not travel nearly as much as he did when he first became executive director "but there was a time when my seven children must have thought they needed a Big Brother."

Catastrophe? Mishap?

Answer Is Explosive

LONDON (AP)—A school examiner asked children in a suburban London district the difference between a mishap and a catastrophe.

One boy of 11 replied: "A mishap is when you are hit by a rocket from America. A catastrophe is when you are hit by a Russian one."

Search for Trainees in 'War on Poverty'

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Employment Security Commission is searching for young men and women to be trained as counselor aides and youth advisers for President Johnson's "war on poverty."

Those selected will be given eight to 10 weeks of instruction at Wayne State University in counseling, advising and working with disadvantaged youths. Youth advisers must be at least 21 but are not required to be college graduates.

MESC said application blanks are available at its offices and that applicants will be screened June 27.

The average annual rainfall of Great Britain is 40 inches.

Mines Explode Train; 10 Vietnamese Killed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Communist mines blew up four cars of a crowded Vietnamese passenger train Thursday, killing 10 Vietnamese and injuring between 30 and 50.

Helicopters transported the wounded to military hospitals.

Nervous New Dad in Waiting Deserves Some Credit, Too

Waiting:
Delmar Milbacker

Has It Happened?

"Pop," "Dad," "Father," "Sir" or "Hey, Pella" — Whatever you call your own, don't underestimate him.

He has several months warning of your coming but nothing prepares him for "that" day.

Four young men went through a version of "that" day between 2 and 5 p.m. Wednesday. The symptoms were universal: nervous fingers, half smiles, lopsided jokes, and long, long looks out the door and down the corridor.

Delmar Milbacker, 251 Conklin, Orion Township, a father of three, thought he was a veteran until Wednesday.

His wife called him at work saying "It's five minutes, but there's plenty of time." The veteran panicked.

FALSE ALARM

Four weeks before, he and his wife, Carol, had waited hours for a "false alarm."

"I guess she just didn't want to go through that again," said Milbacker, "but Whew!"

Lee Ann, 8, Randy, 6, and

At Pontiac General Hospital, Kyle Hufford, of 356 Auburn,

Pontiac Press Photos by Phil Webb

Avon Township, had recovered nicely from the birth of his daughter, Lisa Renee, on Monday.

By Wednesday he was able to smile broadly and say: "She's the one in the blue blanket."

Delmore Logan, 997 Kettering, started waiting Wednesday afternoon.

From all appearances he was an old pro. He had waited four hours for son Steven, 10, and 12 hours for Mark, 6. Nevertheless, he admitted: "I'm not as relaxed as I look."

At 12:11 a.m. this morning his third son was born.

C. Terence Eaton of 4875

Pontiac Trail, Wixom, was a classic case.

He and his wife arrived at St. Joseph at 4:30 a.m. Wednesday. At 2:30 p.m. he was still waiting.

Enter Doctor. Eaton jumped up and disappeared down the corridor.

LOST HIS BET

When he saw his wife he reported: "She just looked at me and laughed and I knew it was a girl and I'd lost the bet ($5.00 that it would be a boy!)"

With him at the hospital were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eaton of 4907 Duck Lake, Highland, and his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jankovic of Jackson.

Later that day, Eaton smiled his way down the corridor with a box of cigars in his hands. He said that he had recovered fairly well and that his wife was fine. "But after all," he added, "All she had was a baby."

Little do these men know: The fun of being a father has only begun.

'Mystery Man' Stirs Trial

DETROIT (UPI)—Mention of a "mystery man" stirred a row yesterday in the murder trial of Birmingham stockbroker Robert Thorson, who is accused of slaying his mother-in-law Dec. 3, 1962.

Attorneys on both sides clashed over a missing statement which Detective Lt. Sebastian Eifrid testified police took from a neighbor during their investigation in December 1962.

Eifrid said a statement taken from a neighbor of the strangled woman mentioned a suspicious man "he'd seen a week before the murder in front of his home."

Judge Elvin Davenport adjourned the trial after ruling that defense counsel Konrad Kohl had the right to see the statement which Eifrid said was probably in the prosecutor's office files.

Thorson, 32, is on trial for the second time for the death of his mother-in-law, who lived alone. The first jury was unable to agree on a verdict.

New Clinic for Cancer

NEW YORK (AP) — A cancer clinic, where each case will be diagnosed and treated by a team of specialists, will be opened this year in Athens, Greece, by Columbia University.

First such facility to be established in a foreign country, it will be operated by doctors who are natives of Greece but who were trained at the Francis De-lafield Hospital, the special cancer hospital of the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center here.

The clinic will be guided by a joint administrative committee from Columbia University and the University of Athens.

Highway Toll 848

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic accidents have taken a total of 848 lives on Michigan highways so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll on this date a year ago was 718.

Lunch Date Was in Mood for a 'Mootini'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The sign atop the Hyatt House, a hotel - restaurant, said: "June is dairy month. Take a cow to lunch."

So Ray Hansen and his daughter, Ann, did. Hansen is president of the Dairy Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Betty Lou, the bovine, consumed some hay in the restaurant Thursday. She dressed for the occasion in a flowered straw bonnet.

The sign atop the Hyatt House that afternoon said: "Guess what? A cow came to lunch. And had a mootini."

Officials Preparing for Rights Enforcement

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What will happen after passage of the civil rights bill?

Top government officials have been working quietly behind the scenes for months to prepare the way for enactment of the wide-ranging measure.

The key role in its enforcement will be played by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and the Justice Department.

On Kennedy will fall the duty of deciding when to institute legal action in connection with violations of the bill.

Standing second only to Kennedy in importance will be the person President Johnson selects as director of the "Community Relations Service," established under one section of the rights measure.

His duties will be to work with local and state agencies to settle racial problems through conciliation.

White House sources said top priority had been given to screening possible nominees for the Community Relations post because the Senate must pass on Johnson's appointee and the President wants him to take office as soon as possible.

Johnson also must name the five members of the newly created "Equal Employment Opportunities Commission."

This panel was set up under the rights bill to aid in resolving job bias disputes and to refer them to the attorney general for legal action if necessary.

PREPARING DRAFTS

Lawyers in nearly every federal agency and department are preparing draft regulations to cover Title VI, one of the most controversial sections of the bill, which bars use of federal funds in areas where discriminatory practices persist.

This was said to be an especially ticklish task because of the many overlapping areas of local, state and federal responsibility.

It was still uncertain whether a blanket White House order would be issued to cover Title VI, or whether each department would formulate its own regulations to deal with its own problems.

Among the federal agencies most intimately involved in civil rights enforcement will be the Office of Education which will have to aid in desegregating schools.

The Civil Rights Commission, of course, will also have a greater workload, mostly in connection with voting rights.

"We have not wanted to be too obvious in our planning, to point too much of a finger at executive planning while Congress was still considering the bill," one official said. "But now . . . we are accelerating our efforts."

In addition to the preparations of government agencies and departments, the President and other top-ranking officials have been conducting a campaign of education on the bill and its provisions.

There have been suggestions that Johnson call a White House conference on civil rights, but as yet no decision has been made.

PROVISIONS OF BILL

One of the principal purposes of such a conference would be to educate the public on the bill's provisions.

"There will be a need to sort out the various misinformation that has been distributed," one official said, "or the information that has changed as a result of amendments" to the measure.

Johnson told a group of industrialists at a White House meeting in April that passage of the civil rights bill "only leaves us on the side of the hill, with the big peak still above us."

"To reach that peak is going to require the cooperation, the harmoniously, how effectively we take those directions depends in measure on the leadership of men and women like you," the President said.

Toward that end, administration officials have been meeting informally with public officials, businessmen, attorneys, and leaders of religious, women's, labor and education groups from all over the nation to work out voluntary local action.

Since July 12 of last year, the Justice Department has held a total of 21 such meetings, officials said.

"The President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity has stepped up its efforts to get signed "Plans for Progress" agreements from employers all over the nation.

good will, the moral courage, the determination, the good sense and the patriotism of every single American . . .

PROBLEMS OF SOCIETY

"The problems of our society will not automatically disappear with the passage of that bill, you can be sure. They will still have to be dealt with by all Americans."

"The civil rights bill can only chart in law the directions that we must take as individuals."

"Now, how swiftly and how effectively we take those directions depends in measure on the leadership of men and women like you," the President said.

OU Announces New Director

Oakland University announced the appointment today of a new director of university relations.

Named to the post was Troy F. Crowder, 40, of Montana State University, Missoula, Mont.

Crowder succeeds Loren B. Pope, who resigned last fall to join the staff of the Education Research Council of Greater Cleveland.

Assistant to the president at Montana State, Crowder holds a master of arts degree in journalism from Iowa State University.

He is married and has one son. He formerly was director of development and assistant to the president of Educational Television and Radio Center, Ann Arbor.

He takes over his new post July 1.

News From Around the World

Labor Plans to Hike England Nationalization

LONDON (AP) — The Labor party plans to nationalize the steel industry again and step into other sectors of the British economy if it wrests control of the government from the Conservatives in the national elections this fall.

Labor revealed some of its nationalization program during a noisy, three-hour debate in the House of Commons Thursday night after the Conservatives taunted it for silence on domestic policy.

Deputy party leader George

Brown and other Laborites mentioned steel, urban land, truck transport and the national water supply as sectors for nationalization.

The British steel industry, fifth largest in the world, was nationalized in 1949 during the postwar Labor government. When the Conservatives returned to power, they promptly began selling off the nationalized companies in 1953.

LONDON (AP) — Moscow Radio reported that seven miners were saved today after a rescue operation in which thousands of men took part.

The broadcast said the men were trapped behind thousands of tons of rock which blocked the entrance of a tunnel they were blasting through a mountain near Baskhitan, Azerbaijan, in the Caucasus.

The broadcast said the rock fall was caused by heavy rains. There was no indication of the purpose of the tunnel or whether any miners were lost.

BERLIN (AP) — Actors, musicians and other performers in East Germany are going to need a government certificate of competence to appear on the stage. Information Bureau West, a private intelligence service, reports.

The Soviet Union has the same system. Western observers pointed out that professional incompetence could be used as an excuse to ban performers who offended the Communist regime.

PANAMA (AP) — British ballerina Margot Fonteyn, encouraged by improvement in the condition of her husband, Roberto Arias, is returning to Britain this weekend.

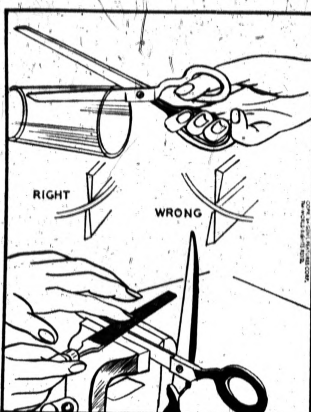

Relatives expressed hope that Arias, who has been paralyzed from the shoulders down since a disgruntled political associate shot him June 8, will be walking again in several months. He will be taken to a rehabilitation center in England as soon as he can travel.

Arias, 45, a wealthy politician and diplomat, was shot four times as he was riding in a car. His assailant, Alfredo Jimenez, is still at large.

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Despite the Peking-Moscow feud, the Polish and Communist Chinese governments have signed a technical assistance agreement. The Polish press agency reported the agreement signed in Warsaw Thursday provides for exchange of specialists and technical information on the goal, chemical and other industries.

The Polish Communists side with the Soviets in the bitter dispute which is dividing the Communist world.

PROBLEM: Sharpen Scissors by "cutting" a drinking glass. THE SUPERSTITION: An old wives' method for sharpening scissors consists of rubbing them on a glass as if trying to cut it.

HOW TRUE? The scissors may be sharpened somewhat if care is taken that the cutting edges rub against the glass in the correct way as shown.

If the cutting edges rub the glass incorrectly, the procedure will dull the scissors.

A more reliable way is to place the scissors in a vise and file them as shown in the lower drawing.

Georgia Chief Appeals for Apportionment Delay

ATLANTA (AP) — Gov. Carl E. Sanders appealed to a three-judge federal court today for a delay in reapportioning the Georgia House of Representatives.

"Our state has certain sovereign rights," Sanders said. "Our problems should be solved by Georgians. They are responsible people."

The governor said reapportionment of the House should not be done in the "flick of an eye," and he said the Georgia Legislature always has responded to court rulings.

The governor reminded the court that the legislature reapportioned the state Senate in 1962, and congressional districts in 1964, both in response to court decisions.

"As one who has served in both houses of the Georgia Legislature, I do not believe immediate reapportionment is practical or possible."

CAREFUL STUDY
"The subject needs careful study and some exploration of the difficulty involved," Sanders said.

Several other witnesses, including the Attorney General Eugene Cook, awaited their turn before the court.

Sanders appealed for more time even though immediate action and a reapportioned House in the last two years of his term might benefit him personally. But Sanders says the legislature should do its own reapportioning — not the courts.

A petition filed earlier this week reopened the case after the Supreme Court ruled Monday that both Houses of a legislature must be apportioned by population.

BEFORE JANUARY
The petition of citizens asks the court to direct reapportionment.

ment of the House before the regular session in January.

Georgia has 121 rural representatives and only 84 from more heavily populated counties.

Sanders, a former Augusta attorney, is a nonconformist, considered a moderate on racial issues, and has been mentioned as a possible successor to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Georgia's only Negro legislator, Sen. Leroy Johnson of Atlanta, calls Sanders the most progressive governor in the South and says he is headed for national office.

Concerning the reports that he has been mentioned as a possible successor to Kennedy, Sanders says he will never go to Washington "by appointment."

Cancerous Woman Fatally Shoots Kin

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cancer-ridden Mary Dick, 69, fatally shot her daughter-in-law and granddaughter, police said, then killed herself.

Leslie Adams, 37, and Dereva Adams, the 20-year-old granddaughter, were trying to make Mrs. Dick's last days as comfortable as possible, relatives said.

The women were sleeping yesterday when Mrs. Dick slipped into their room and shot them with a .38-caliber pistol, police said. She apparently fired at another granddaughter, Loretta Adams, 9, but only wounded her in the hand, officers said.

County Board to Eye Deals for 2 Parcels

Env. 29 acres in Southfield for $32,000, sell 18 acres in Pontiac for $32,400.

These are recommendations to be made to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors by its committees Monday.

The acreage in Southfield is sought for a new county health center to replace the one in Royal Oak, which the board's buildings and grounds committee deems inadequate to serve a growing population.

The Ways and Means Committee agreed that $12,138 an acre is a fair price for vacant property in Southfield. The proposed site is on Greenfield, between 10 and 11 Mile.

Ways and Means also indicated that the county wouldn't need all of the site for a health center and could reduce its expenditure by selling the surplus.

SINGLE PACKAGE
The property is being offered as a single package by the Berkeley School District.

The Oakland Park Methodist Church has offered to purchase the county-owned 18 acres in North Pontiac for a new church building site. The vacant property is located on Kennett Road.

The county has tried unsuccessfully to sell the property several times in the past. It was appraised recently at $1,800 an acre.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Tranquilizer Is Withdrawn From Market

Since first reports on a drug called Parnate, serious complications have been reported following its use.

This tranquilizer has now been withdrawn from the market. Some drugs are withdrawn temporarily and later released with appropriate warnings to the prescribing physicians.

BRANDSTADT

This was the case with hemectin which I described as of value in dissolving bladder (but not kidney) stones.

The manufacturers of tranquylizer (Parnate) believe that the benefits of this drug outweigh the risks and will continue investigation of its side effects with a view to gaining official approval.

Q — I am taking Bellergal. What is it usually given for? Is it new?

A — Bellergal contains ergotamine which relieves migraine headaches and tones up the blood vessels; belladonna, which relaxes spasms in the digestive tract; and phenobarbital, which induces sleep.

None of these components are new, but the combination is put up in a form that gives continuous action for 12 hours or more.

It has been used to relieve the uncomfortable symptoms associated with the menopause, premenstrual tension, chronic nausea and nervous stomach, palpitation of the heart, periodic headaches and nervous tensions of all sorts. It requires a physician's prescription.

Q — What can I do for blackheads? Will peroxide help? If vitamin A is used for this, will it make my hair fall out?

A — Since blackheads are usually associated with an oily skin, washing your face several times a day with soap may help.

The blackheads should not be squeezed because more often than not this is an invitation for the pus germs on your face or fingers to set up an infection.

Removing the blackheads doesn't do much good anyway because they tend to come back in the same location. Neither peroxide nor vitamin A have any special value in the treatment of this condition. It is true that vitamin A in massive doses may cause a marked thinning of the hair.

Getting a good suntan helps some people who have blackheads. A lotion containing sulfur and resorcinol may also be helpful.

Bandit Pulls Gasser

Son Also Rises to Task

IDAHO CITY, Idaho (AP) — Service station owner Ralph Lansing had pumped 30 gallons of gasoline into a pickup truck and cans in the back yesterday when the driver drew a revolver and said: "I'll take the money in the till too."

"What are you, some kind of nut?" Lansing answered.

He continued to talk. The man decided to leave, saying he would forget the holdup but take the gas.

But Lansing's son, Jerry, a deputy sheriff, entered the station through a back door, saw what was happening and arrested the man who gave his name as John Heinrich, 19, Culver, Wash.

American Voters Are Largely a Study in Shocking Indifference

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Social researchers in kitchen interviews with thousands of Americans have found an often shocking indifference to politics, even in hot campaigns. How does a republic exist with such attitudes by large numbers of voters? Here's how the researchers explain it. Last of four articles.)

By JOHN RABOURN
AP Science Writer

ANN ARBOR — Sometime on Nov. 3, the American voter will step into a private enclosure and cast his ballot.

His political reasoning — his expectations, his hates, his dreams and his frustrations — is melted down into that one act.

It has been called "a helluva way to run a country," but it works.

Looking at the American voter under a microscope, he becomes a boiling brew of fact, superstition, prejudice and fantasy. But standing back and looking at the whole man, the total electorate, he becomes the marvel of the age.

PICTURE DRAWN

Analysis at the Survey Research Center (SRC) of the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research have been compiling their picture of why the American votes since 1948 — with pre-and post-election interviews. They have also stood back to look at the whole man.

Politics — essentially the running of the government — appears to be only on the edge of his consciousness, the outer limits of his world, a low mark on the priority list of personal affairs.

Over half of the voters — the interviewers found — live their lives without becoming involved in party politics to any great extent.

NE tonight, tomorrow alright.

There are some who will defy this — shame them for their ignorance and disinterest, said Prof. Angus Campbell, who heads the SRC.

THEY ABDICATE

In a sense, these voters have abdicated their responsibility — but in another sense they have not.

In an earlier, simpler day, everybody could be an expert in public affairs, Campbell said. But today politics has become complex and has more competition than other areas of life. You can't be informed about anything without cost. As public affairs have become more complicated — probing space, nuclear energy, medicare — the cost goes up.

Finally, when so many things go on that the voter can't understand, he is forced to delegate responsibilities.

VIEW HIDDEN

And at times, it becomes quite difficult to see the voter's mind. On medicare, for example, "I doubt very much if 10 per cent of the voters have an active interest in it," Campbell said. "Yet if you ask them, they will say, 'Yes.'"

For many voters the picture is the instinctive one.

"By and large, the thing that people do react to is some sense that things are going well — that the economy is going badly, or that foreign events are going badly, or that there is corruption or dishonesty in government," Campbell said.

In fact the voter seems to have a stockholder-management idea of the whole thing. If the management seems to be doing its job honestly, if things are going well, the voter is apparently satisfied and votes to keep the management in, or abstains from voting.

OSTER VOTES

It things are going badly, he votes the old management out. The campaign often is pictured as a sort of college debate, in which two bright men trade arguments on the issues before an intelligent, informed audience.

But the extensive interviews with the voters shows this is not the case. The debate may favor the image of one candidate over another, however. Many people cited the 1960 debates as improving the Kennedy image, for instance.

Listened to this man who watched the debates:

EASILY RUFFLED

"I don't think Nixon brought his personality out as Kennedy did and he seemed more easily ruffled. It appeared the Republicans wanted things covered up that they didn't want us to know about." Before the election, this man said he wanted the Republicans to win, and was against Kennedy because of his youth and religion. In the end, swayed by the debates, he voted for Kennedy.

Listen to this independent from California who was impressed by the religious issue and voted for Nixon. Nevertheless, in the debates she felt Nixon was trying to stay out of a controversial subject while Kennedy "seemed more intelligent and sympathetic toward people than I had imagined. I found him more interesting than I thought I would."

Or this Nixon voter from New York State, a weakly aligned Republican:

"I think Nixon's personality was lacking. He wasn't friendly acting. Of the two men, I liked Kennedy best in every way. The only reason I didn't vote for him was his lack of experience. I felt Nixon had the necessary experience."

PERSONALITY CLASH

Whatever the issues were, the debates for most Americans seemed to be a clash of personalities. For some, they were even less than that.

Said one strong Democrat for Kennedy: "I just watched them for a little while. I don't even know what they were talking about. I really didn't listen very much. I'm sorry. I suppose I should — but I just don't."

Today in Washington

Lodge to Miss Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: STAYING ON: Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge has written from Saigon that he will not return to the United States in time for the Republican convention in mid-July.

The man he wrote to is Robert R. Mullen, national coordinator of the Committee to Draft Lodge for the GOP Nomination, who said Thursday, "I had urged him to come home and work for himself and he said he just couldn't. I had offered him nothing but blood, sweat and tears, and he replied that was all he had in Saigon."

Earlier this week, Lodge denied a dispatch by the New York Times saying he had resigned his Saigon post. Lodge's letter to Mullen was dated last Monday.

DOUBLE PRODUCTION: The U.S. Treasury Department reports that the mint has doubled production of Kennedy half dollars in the past few months. By June 30, 90 million of the coins bearing the likeness of the late President will have been minted — the amount originally planned for the entire year.

And still, demand continues to outrun supply. Last week the Treasury quietly put 6,000 of the new coins in circulation through its own cash windows. A one-per-customer limit was imposed. In four or five days the supply was exhausted.

STORM WARNINGS: The ominous word from the Weather Bureau is that the odds are overwhelmingly in favor of an active hurricane season for the United States.

"No major hurricanes have crossed the coastline of continental United States for two years, but the odds against a third quiet season for this country are astronomical," the bureau said in a statement Thursday.

HELLO, HELLO: A telephone conversation between President Johnson and Premier Hayato Ikeda Thursday night inaugurated use of the first telephone cable stretching across the Pacific between the United States and Japan.

The historic call spanned 10,000 miles, but came through with perfect clarity.

Similarly, operators at overseas gateways in Oakland, Vancouver and Honolulu can now dial direct to most of the 8.4 million telephones in Japan.

HAIRLS EVENT

Speaking from the White House, Johnson hailed the event as "an historic and happy occasion." He conveyed the sympathy of Americans for the "suffering and sorrow" inflicted in

Three Added to County's Family Unit

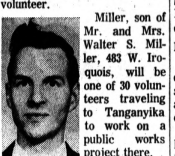

Three members were added to the staff of Family Service of Oakland County yesterday. Introduced to the board of directors at a joint board-staff meeting at the home of Colin John, 783 Puritan, Birmingham, were Mrs. Marika Cahill, 2803 Vinesta, Royal Oak; Miss Cynthia Allen of Detroit; and William Baker of Garden City.

Mrs. Cahill, who had been employed by the International Institute of Metropolitan Detroit, served with the Oakland County group in 1955.

Miss Allen was with the Detroit unit of Family Service. Baker worked with the Oakland County unit while a student at the University of Michigan and elected to remain with the Pontiac staff after graduation.

Boys Gear Up for Practice in State Operation

EAST LANSING (AP) — The mythical 51st state, with a very real population of 1,185 teenage boys, was gearing up today for a week of democracy practice at Michigan State University.

They will take part in the 27th annual Wolverine Boys State, sponsored by the American Legion.

The boys, most of them high school juniors, will be assigned to cities in the mythical state and later will elect governor and key state officials, after nominating city officials in caucuses.

They will attend classes in law and try out for a band, glee club and a state news paper.

Warren Probe Over; to Be Released June 30

WASHINGTON (AP) — The hearings are over and the findings due within a fortnight, but the Warren commission kept its door ajar today for any belated disclosures on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

If the presidential body headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren meets its timetable, the public will know by June 30 all that the investigative resources of the government could uncover on the Dallas tragedy of last Nov. 22.

President Johnson will receive a report totaling more than 500 pages, supported by transcripts of testimony which are said to rival in bulk the findings of the Pearl Harbor Commission after World War II.

There may be some surprises, commission sources have hinted. But there is no indication that the seven-month investigation has turned up any disclosure casting serious doubt on the FBI's original basic conclusions.

REMAINS SECRET

The FBI's report remains secret still, but it is known to indicate that Lee Harvey Oswald, the embittered ex-Marine marksman, conceived the slaying and executed it alone. Two days after the assassination, Oswald was shot to death in the Dallas jail by Jack Ruby, a Dallas night club operator.

It was learned, however, that the commission stands ready to receive any last-minute information offered and may itself recall witnesses if members find any points which need clarifying during the writing of the report.

In addition, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has predicted that investigations will continue "for years to come," even though the life of the Warren commission expires with the filing of its report.

The last of more than 400 witnesses was James J. Rowley, Chief of the U.S. Secret Service. He answered questions for 3½ hours Thursday. On leaving he revealed only that the atmosphere inside was "very pleasant."

NO STATEMENT

Rowley has made no public statement whatsoever on the shooting which ended the life of the young President who personally picked him for his job.

It was believed that the commission, having already quizzed dozens of Rowley's agents and ballistics experts, asked the chief questions which went considerably beyond the adequacy of the precautions taken in Dallas behavior of the agents before, las and the behavior of the agents before, during and after the shooting.

Warren has indicated it is his view that the commission's assignment includes discretionary power to propose any changes or improvements it considers needed in the procedures for protecting the President and his family.

Some recommendations of that kind are expected, even though Secret Service procedures have been tightened rigorously since the assassination, and a considerably closer cooperation has been developed between the service and the FBI.

OTHER REPORTS

Hoover, a witness last month, lauded the depth and exhaustiveness of the commission's work and told newsmen the FBI has sent Warren "many thousands" of supplemental investigation reports since submitting its original findings.

These later investigations added "nothing new of substantial value" in the case, he said.

Other witnesses included Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency, Gov. John Connally of Texas, wounded by the same rifle that killed Kennedy; and Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Commission sources have declined to say whether President and Mrs. Johnson gave statements.

WIFE'S TESTIMONY

The key testimony linking Oswald to the crime apparently was that of his Soviet-born widow, Marina, who was questioned for four consecutive days in February through an interpreter, and was called back again last week.

Libraries Plan Children Clubs

The Pontiac Public Library's Children's Summer Reading Club, for grades four through six, is slated to swing into action soon, according to Phyllis A. Pope, head librarian.

All children wishing to join the club must enroll before July 1.

Enrollments will be accepted at the main library, 60 E. Pike; East Side branch, 656 Auburn; or Adah Shelly Branch on Glenwood at Roubidoux.

The theme of this year's club is "My Favorite Titles," and the club motto being adopted is "Books are our friends; come let us read."

Reading and book reports for the club may last from six to eight weeks, depending on whether the club member chooses to follow Plan 1 (six weeks) or Plan 2 (eight weeks).

Those members finishing either plan will receive special awards and prizes.

There will be a reading club party at the end of the summer. The date will be announced later.

Will Attend Health Talks

Dr. L. Jerome Fink, 500 W. Huron, will discuss community mental health facilities at the first Michigan Congress on Mental Illness and Health in Detroit June 25.

Professional and lay people will gather at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, Detroit, for the all-day congress, sponsored by the Michigan State Medical Society. Dr. Fink will head one of 13 discussion groups on various aspects of mental illness and health.

The Ryukyu Islands between Formosa and Japan have remained under United States control since the end of World War I.

Coffee Hours for Elly

Mrs. Elly Peterson (seated left), Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, attended a pool party at the home of Mrs. George Hopps, Watkins Lake (seated right), Thursday

Coffee hours for Mrs. Elly Peterson, candidate for the U.S. Senate on the Republican ticket, were held in the area this week.

Mrs. Richard Reiter, Ottawa Drive opened her home Thursday morning. Working with her on the planning committee were Mrs. Daniel T. Murphy, Mrs. Paul Gorman, Mrs. Phillip Pratt, Mrs. Joe Benson, Mrs. Nelson Hunter and Mrs. Grant Ferguson.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. George Hopps of Watkins Lake had a pool party. Mrs. Charles Campbell and Mrs. Don White were in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Howard Liverance of Birmingham was hostess for another coffee hour on Wednesday.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. James Howlett of East Iroquois Road have as their house guest this week Takeshi Takahara of Yokohama, Japan. Mr. Takahara is a professional photographer who has been touring the United States and will return to Yokohama next week.

Sue Healy left her Rosewood Drive home this week and flew to Europe where she will spend two months touring the continent.

Mrs. Roy Potter of Davison is the house guest of her sister Mrs. H. F. Simmons of East Iroquois Road.

Your Pooch Had Better Stay Home

By The Emily Post Institute
Q When invited to spend the weekend in someone's house, may we bring our small dog along with us? We can't always find someone to look after him while we are away.

A: You should not bring your dog along with you without first receiving the permission of your hostess who may be allergic to dogs or who may have a dog or other pet of her own who will resent and fight with any strange dog brought into the house.

Q I plan to shop soon for a dress for my son's forthcoming wedding.

I have been told by several of my friends that the bride's mother has the first choice of color and then selecting my dress. I should call her to ask what color she is going to wear so that I will be sure not to choose the same.

I have never before heard of this and would like to know if it is necessary?

A: If you are to receive with the bride's mother, it is advisable to consult with her as to what she is going to wear so that you can choose a dress that will complement and not clash with, the color she has chosen.

Q: My parents are giving a dinner party in a restaurant in honor of my engagement. There will be about 50 guests at the dinner.

I am sure most of them will bring presents. I would like to know if I should open the gifts there or wait until I get home to do so?

A: A restaurant is not a suitable place to open gifts and if your guests bring presents with them rather than send them beforehand, you would put them aside and open them when you get home.

Q: I have a weak stomach and cannot eat certain foods. When invited to lunch or dinner in someone's house and one of these foods is proffered to me, may I refuse it or must I take a small portion on my plate and eat it?

A: Not so many years ago, it was considered very discourteous to refuse whatever one's host or hostess proffered.

A well-behaved guest took at least a little of everything and ate that little.

Today, however, to say "No thank you" to a food that is proffered is entirely acceptable.

After all, if a guest knows that a certain food does not agree with him or her, it would be stupid to eat it.

Reception in Edgewood Country Club followed the vows of Nancy Ellen McClurg to Robert Frederick Garrels Thursday, in St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Orchard Lake.

The Richard H. McClurgs of Green Lake are parents of the bride who appeared in an Empire sheath gown of lace-appliqued white peau de soie styled with chapel sweep.

PEARL CROWN

A pearl crown held her illusion veil. White roses and Stephanotis were arranged in a bridal cascade.

With Mrs. John D. Kohler, Ann Arbor, honor matron were bridesmaids Cheryl Webb, Detroit; Susan Wagner, Franklin and Stephanie Johnson of Jackson.

Dennis Garrels stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Garrels of Sweetbriar Road, West Bloomfield Township. Michael Garrels, Richard McClurg Jr., and Philip Georger of Buffalo, N.Y. ushered. The couple will live in Ann Arbor for the summer.

MRS. ROBERT F. GARRELS

Psi Chapter Names Girl-of-the Year

Members of Psi chapter of Sigma Beta National sorority held their annual June banquet Thursday evening in the Waldron Hotel.

Highlights of the evening included the presentation of the girl-of-the-year award, honoring of this year's officers and the installation of officers for the coming year.

Shakey Godoshian was crowned Psi's girl-of-the-year. Miss Godoshian, who has been a member since October of 1961, this year served as charity-finance chairman.

She received a crown, trophy and gift for her leadership in the chapter's charity projects which made possible donations to the Oakland County Medical Care Facility building, Christmas baskets, stipends for work with the mentally ill and scholarships for Indian children.

RETIRED OFFICERS

Mrs. Jack Kudray was chairman and toastmistress for the banquet. She introduced the retiring officers Mrs. Ezio Bisogni, Mrs. Eddie O'Brien, Mrs. Jerry McKay, Mrs. Wayne Booth, Mrs. William Russell, Mrs. Charles Fournier and Mrs. James DeFlorio.

Following the dinner Mrs. DeFlorio, assisted by Mrs. Morgan Siple, conducted the installation of officers for the coming year.

They include Mrs. O'Brien, president; Mrs. Joe Benson, vice president; Mrs. Roger Dean, recording secretary; Mrs. Clement Berden, corresponding secretary; and Miss Godoshian, treasurer.

Others are Mrs. Thomas Thornberry, charity-finance chairman; Mrs. Frank Phelps, editor; and Mrs. Bisogni, chairman of the board of governors and parliamentary.

GUESTS

Guests for the evening were Mrs. E. E. Russell and Mrs. Charles Marcoux, a chapter pledge.

Guest at Meeting

Mrs. Walter Findlay was a guest at the Thursday afternoon meeting of the Queen Mary section, Needlework Guild of America, Inc. Hostess was Mrs. George Bickley of Mechanic Street.

Plans for the fall were discussed.

New Officers Elected for Alpha Chapter

Alpha chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority elected officers for 1964-65, Tuesday, in the home of Mrs. Emil Mailahn on Nichols Drive, Auburn Heights.

Mrs. Harold Davidson is incoming president; Mrs. R. J. Stanton, vice president; Mrs. Howard Johnson, secretary; Mrs. Hubert Evans, treasurer and Mrs. Arthur McKinnis, conductress.

They will be installed at the June 23 meeting and will take over their duties in September.

Mrs. Frank Coad planned the evening's entertainment. Mrs. Duane Bates was a guest.

A Monumental Mistake

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I read in your column that a woman was in doubt about what to put on her headstone.

The mother has been married twice, and the daughter wanted to use only her mother's first husband's name.

You said, "It's your mother, and you are paying for the monument, so go ahead and put whatever you want on it," or words to that effect.

Believe it or not, Abby, in some states the name on a grave memorial is considered by the Bureau of Vital Statistics to be legal proof of death, and to use any name other than the legal name of the deceased at the time of death is illegal.

So, the daughter should have her mother's headstone marked with her mother's given name, her first husband's surname, and her second husband's surname. Example: MARY SMITH JONES, A MONUMENT DEALER

IN FLAGSTAFF
DEAR DEALER: Thank you for setting me (and 50 million readers) straight. When I make a boo-boo, it's monumental!

Correction: In marking a headstone, it is not daughter's choice. It's the dealer's choice, and he knows what's legal, so ask him.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this so someone else won't make the same mistake I made:

Five months ago a very attractive friend called me at my place of work and said he was in the process of getting a divorce, and asked if I would have coffee with him. I accepted.

Next, there were lunch dates. Then dinner and evening dates. He told me he loved me and I told him I loved him. (I really did.)

We started making plans for "our" future. People began to talk, but I didn't care because I knew it was only a matter of time and he would be free to marry me.

Today he and his wife are back together. The man who "loved" me didn't even have the courtesy to tell me about the reconciliation.

He had his WIFE call me! Please, Abby, put this in your column: "Until a man's divorce is FINAL, a woman is a fool to say more than 'hello to him,' and sign me... THE BIGGEST FOOL IN ROCHESTER

DEAR ABBY: I have a married daughter who has become very fat, sloppy and lazy. Her house is a mess and she spends all of her time reading or talking on the telephone.

She shouts at her children and expects her hard-working husband to do her housework on the weekends. He is ashamed to bring anyone to the house and I am sure the children are not very proud of their home or their mother.

Should I have a talk with her and try to set her straight? Or does a mother's duty end after her daughter gets married?

WORRIED MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: A mother's "duty" ends when her children become of age.

But her love and concern for their happiness and well-being continues as long as she lives.

Yes, have a talk with your daughter. It would appear that she needs more than a "talk" or a reprimand.

Take her to a physician for a much-needed checkup and diet.

DEAR ABBY: How can a person address an invitation to a wedding reception to make it known that only adults are wanted?

Ours is going to be a catered wedding reception and we will be charged by the plate. We have a large family and don't want to feed a gang of kids.

Can we put "POSITIVELY ADULTS ONLY" on the invitations?

MUST KNOW

DEAR MUST: It is considered poor taste to put "ADULTS ONLY" on an invitation.

Speak with those whom you suspect might bring their children, and tell them firmly but diplomatically that the kiddies are not invited.

Problems? Write to ABBY, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, in care of The Pontiac Press for Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Wash Boiler Useful

By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY — Every time I think of a fine idea for you that day's paper peals it forth and from somebody else.

So here is an idea, not really new but important. Thank you for the mention of a wash boiler in your column as it has been so long since I have seen one mentioned in print.

The word has become sentimentally nostalgic.

There are still homes where no especially modern equipment exists but where daily papers are read, so let's hear of uses for sturdy old equipment other than filling the local dump.

A wash boiler I have was once used for a bread box, rodent proof and capacious, to hold a huge baking of homemade bread.

GAY FOLIAGE

Copper sides polish to gold, it now graces a fireplace opening in summer and holds gay flowers and foliage. — C. M. C.

DEAR POLLY — Today two men in an elevator commented on the following idea.

Several times when carrying the newspaper in my arm, I have had the misfortune to get my white gloves covered with fresh ink off the paper and have spotted dresses and coats.

Now these worries are gone as I always carry my newspaper in a plastic bag from the dry cleaners or my husband's shirt laundry.

One of the men in the elevator said, "Well, that's a good idea. Why don't you send it to Polly?" So here it is. — MITZI

DEAR POLLY — Here is an idea for an umbrella holder. Take two large, empty fruit juice cans and remove both ends from one can and one end from the other.

Stack one on top of the other and tape together to form a cylinder.

Cover the whole thing with that contact plastic cloth from the dime store and you'll have a beautiful and useful umbrella holder. — PHYLLIS

DEAR POLLY — When my wife realized that I did not have much time to read the newspaper because of my working hours, she started clipping articles from the paper that she thought would or should interest me.

She clips two or three together and puts them in my lunch box so I can read while eating. — A GRATEFUL HUSBAND

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your idea in Polly's Pointers.

The First Methodist Church in Quincy, Mich. was the setting for the recent marriage of Eleanor Virginia Eagly to 2nd Lt. David Lange Nielson, USA.

At the ceremony performed by Rev. Birt Beers, the bride, daughter of Mrs. Alva P. Eagly of Quincy, and the late Mr. Eagly, was escorted by her brother, Robert V. Eagly of Ann Arbor.

With her gown of white silk brocade, the bride wore a tulle veil and carried a bouquet of white roses surrounding a white orchid.

Mrs. Robert V. Eagly was matron of honor. Nancy M. Gerber of South Bend and Diane M. Nielson were bridesmaids.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Alfred L. Nielson of Percy King Drive and the late Mr. Nielson, had Tommy L. Heltsley for his best man. Tony Ribachia acted as the guest.

The newlyweds are presently in northern Michigan on their honeymoon. He is a graduate of Michigan State University where his bride is a senior. Their summer address will be on Andersonville Road.

In August, Lt. Nielson will report for active duty at Camp Belvoir, Va.

Canterbury's Now Have New Leaders

New officers were elected Wednesday evening as the board of directors of the Canterbury club entertained their wives and husbands in the Silverdale Street home of the Robert C. Andersons.

Charles Knowlton will lead group activities as new president. Mrs. James Aldrich is secretary and Donald Murphy, treasurer.

Mrs. William Grubbs was appointed house chairman and Ralph Allen is orchestra chairman.

Retiring board members honored at the affair included Mrs. Bruce Jacobson, Mrs. Ralph Wilson, Walter Els and Judge Philip Pratt.

Dr. John Pridmore and Mrs. William Dean Jr. will serve another year on the board.

Initiate Woman

Mrs. William Marlowe was initiated into Mispah Temple No. 7, Pythian Sisters, Thursday evening.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Alan Leach and Mrs. Thomas Kretz.

Encore for Baldwin

Official Piano and Organ,
New York World's Fair, 1964-65

Baldwin pianos and organs have been named the official instruments for the New York World's Fair 1964-65. Once again, the attention of the world will be directed to the superior quality of Baldwin pianos and organs at a great international gathering. Baldwin achieved similar recognition at the Seattle World's Fair in 1962, and at the American Pavilion of the Brussels World's Fair in 1958. Thus, Baldwin continues a distinguished tradition of going to fairs and coming home with honors, begun long ago with the Grand Prix at Paris in 1900 and the Grand Prize at St. Louis in 1904.

See Hawaii in Films by Club Group

South Pacific music and films of Hawaii highlighted a meeting of the Better Home and Garden Club, Thursday, in the home of Mrs. Alfred Rothweiler on North Genesee Avenue.

Marietta Spring, a guest, presented the program which followed the cooperative luncheon and a brief out-door meeting. Miss Spring was a former principal of the Sarah McCarroll School.

Mrs. Wallace Morgan, president, reported on the state meeting on international relations she attended with her daughter, Mrs. LeRoy Hecox.

Chairman for the day was Mrs. Louis B. Livingston. Assisting were Mrs. John Armstrong, Mrs. Harry Martin, Mrs. Orrie Adams and Mrs. Ilceox.

Among other guests were Mrs. Roy Potter of Davison, Florence Brown, Margaret Wilmot, Florence Brownless and Paula Elliot.

Mrs. Thomas Lewis of North Johnson Street crowns Mrs. Joseph Lynch of Bielby Street as new Fashion Your Figure club queen. The retiring queen crowned her successor in Thursday evening ceremonies in the Adah Shelly Library.

Mrs. Joseph Lynch was crowned as queen of the Fashion Your Figure club in Thursday evening ceremonies in the Adah Shelly Library.

A club member for some 10 months, Mrs. Lynch has lost 50 pounds, 36 1/2 of these in the contest which named her queen.

Mrs. Thomas Lewis, retiring queen, crowned the mother of eight, four boys and four girls ranging in age from three to 22 years.

Mrs. Lynch also has two grandchildren.

Clean and Protect Tarnished Screens

Clean windows demand clean window screens. You can remove tarnish from your copper screens by wiping them with a solution made by dissolving as much salt as possible in vinegar. Rinse the screens with clear water, and to protect them against future tarnishing, coat them with spar varnish thinned with an equal amount of a mixture to half linseed oil and half turpentine.

The engagement of Jill Sage to Stephen Bell, son of the Max E. Bells of Elkhart, Ind. is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Sage Jr. of Red Maple Lane. She attends Western Michigan University and her fiancé is presently enrolled at Indiana University. His fraternity is Sigma Chi.

Preview Ski Fashions

While most of the population is either wearing a bathing suit or wishing it could, designers are previewing the ski fashions to be worn next winter.

Fashion and function are the keys which coordinate this year's collection. Flower, madras or abstract prints are nonexistent.

SOLID COLORS

This year's ski jackets, solid in color, rely on details in seaming and workmanship to contribute to the overall slim silhouette.

A white blouse collar is now 'the thing' to peak above the neckline of the jacket or sweater, rather than a turtle neck.

Jackets are slim and feature Peter Pan collars, double-breasted closings, mohair linings, wool pile sleeve linings and double zippers which run both up and down.

Hoods hide in kangaroo pouches, the zippers neatly concealed under collars.

PRACTICAL TOUCHES

Dropped shoulders, storm cuffs and nearly invisible side panels of stretch knit are practical touches. Unbelievable are stretch pants, which REALLY stretch—at times up to two feet.

Another innovation is the stretch 'jump suit' with matching jacket. The Tyrolean influence in styling is strong.

Varnished Pieces Can Keep a Glow

Varnished woodwork or furniture may become cloudy looking in time. If the cloudiness hasn't worked through the varnish, you can renew the luster of these varnished surfaces by rubbing them with a soft, lintless cloth wrung out from a solution of one tablespoon of vinegar in a quart of lukewarm water. When rubbing, follow the grain of the wood. Finish the job by wiping the surface with a soft, dry cloth.

some jackets were warm but so light as to give the impression they wouldn't even register on the scales.

Exquisite detailing enhances each jacket. The majority are not designed to be reversed, but are finished on the inside as well that they could easily be worn on the wrong side.

BOGNER FASHIONS

Fresh Strawberries Go Into Tasty Pink Cake

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

If you want your family and guests to rave about a cake, serve them a fresh strawberry cake. Mrs. William Fitzpatrick of Auburn Heights shares her recipe with Press readers.

The Fitzpatricks have two youngsters and expect a third one momentarily. Mrs. Fitzpatrick says she is more than busy with her family and all the pets they have—dogs, fish, hamsters and birds.

FRESH STRAWBERRY CAKE

By Mrs. William Fitzpatrick
1 package white cake mix
1 package strawberry gelatin
1/2 cup chopped fresh strawberries or 1/2 package frozen berries

4 eggs
1 cup salad oil
1/2 cup water
3 tablespoons flour
Ignore directions on box of cake mix.

Put all ingredients in bowl and beat until smooth and well mixed. Pour into greased and floured 9x13 pan. Bake 40-45 minutes at 350 degrees.

Frosting

1 pound confectioners sugar
1/2 package frozen strawberries or 1/2 cup chopped fresh berries
1 stick margarine
Put in a bowl and beat until well blended and of spreading consistency. Makes a lot of frosting, Mrs. Fitzpatrick says.

Announcing Engagement

The engagement and approaching marriage of Lynda Kay Milligan to Laurence E. Watkins is announced by her parents, the S. W. Milligans of New Orleans, La. Her fiancé's parents are Rev. and Mrs. Edmond I. Watkins of East Walton Boulevard.

The bride-elect is a senior at Sterling College, Sterling, Kans.

Mr. Watkins received a bachelor of science degree from Sterling College in May.

The August 1 wedding will be in Sterling.

LBJ's Reported Aid Demands Cause Hassle

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's reported insistence that Congress give him the $3.5 billion he wants for the foreign aid program is stirring up a hornet's nest in the House Appropriations Committee.

The present outlook is that the President will win, or come close to victory, when an 11-member subcommittee sits down next week to make the initial money decisions.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., has a history of cutting the aid program, Passman claiming during his nine years as chairman the cuts have exceeded $8 billion. The House usually sustains Passman's recommendations after they clear the 50-member parent Appropriations Committee.

While Passman and his colleagues have refrained from publicly discussing the controversy, Passman reportedly wants a cut this year of at least $500 million, all of it in economic assistance funds.

The subcommittee is sharply split over whether to uphold Passman or the President.

Passman's difficulty with the subcommittee this year stems in part from the recent death of Rep. Clarence Cannon, Missouri Democrat who headed the full committee and usually supported Passman. Cannon was persuasive with other subcommittee members.

The new chairman of the parent committee is Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., a foreign aid supporter and a close personal friend of the President. Mahon has power to shuffle subcommittee assignments, a maneuver resorted to on occasion by Cannon to punish balky members.

Stalwart of British Colony

Reginald Denny Active at 73

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD—The callboy's knock came on the dressing room door: "Half an hour, Mr. Denny."

For Reginald Denny it meant 30 minutes to climb into his formal clothes for the opening scene of "My Fair Lady." Denny, still deucedly handsome at 73, was backstage at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium where he was appearing as Col. Pickering in "My Fair Lady." He had played the role for two years on Broadway. Later this summer he will switch to the part of Eliza's roughish father when the musical plays the new Valley Music Theater. Born in Surrey, England, he toured with his parents in stock, later acted in Europe and America.

STARTED IN FILMS
"I started in films in this country back when actors didn't like to admit it," he recalled. "When I was doing a New York play in 1911, I would sneak over to Flatbush to do some flickers. I did some others for Famous Players in 1914."

"My first real entrance to films was in 1919 during the actors' strike on Broadway."

He became a star with the "Leather Pusher" movies, of which he made 24. Such casting for the urbane Denny now seems odd, but he played the pilot-fighter role with conviction; during his hungry youth he had fought six bouts, and he was a brigade heavyweight champion in the R.A.F. during the first World War.

His career flourished during the silent era, and his polished diction helped him survive into the talkies. With Ronald Colman, C. Aubrey Smith, Nigel Bruce and others, he became a stalwart of Hollywood's British colony and helped save the empire in many a movie.

An ardent hobbyist, Denny had long run a hobby shop in Hollywood and out of it came a pilot-planes model. The actor helped in developing drone planes for the government during World War II. But he lost control of the company—and $4 million, he said—and went back to acting.

He hasn't made a movie since 1956, but he has done many television shows and appears to have found a career with "My Fair Lady."

"I feel quite fit," he said, "even though I've had two operations. I had bleeding ulcers when I was in New York with this show—lost three pints during one performance."

The final knock came at the door. "Curtain, Mr. Denny," said the callboy. The actor smoothed his mustache, took a final look at the costume, and reported onstage for another opening of another show.

Go on Wildcat Strike

ROMULUS (AP)—Members of United Auto Workers Local 78 walked off their jobs at the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel plant here Thursday in what union members called a wildcat strike. Local 78 accused the company of violating the present union contract regarding production requirements.

Mississippi Girds for College 'Army'

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Armed with a reinforced highway patrol and new laws, Mississippi was prepared today for the first wave of a summer corps of college volunteers to work among Negroes.

The first group — fresh from a special training session at Western College for Women in Oxford, Ohio — was to arrive this weekend.

The students will be the first of about 1,000 volunteers who will live among Negroes and staff workshops for civil rights campaigns sponsored by the Council of Federated Organizations, representing major civil rights organizations, and the National Council of Churches commission on race and religion.

Both projects are aimed at assisting Negroes in registering to vote, gaining knowledge of assistance programs and in self-help projects such as remedial reading.

VOLUNTEER ARMY

The volunteers were called an "army of agitators" by some lawmakers when the Legislature passed bills giving the state a firmer hand in dealing with demonstrators.

Gov. Paul Johnson has repeatedly urged peace and quiet among residents, saying, "Demonstrators thrive on publicity. When they don't get it, they soon leave us alone."

Eric Johnston, director of the State Sovereignty Commission, called on Mississippians to let police handle any confrontations. He urged them to steer clear of such groups as the Ku Klux Klan and Americans for the Preservation of the White Race, Inc. The latter organization has a strong following in southwest Mississippi where Robert Moses, program director of the civil rights groups, claims five Negroes have been killed in racial-related attacks by white persons.

Blamer Hill, president of the Mississippi Economic Council, a state Chamber of Commerce group, called for calm and patience.

"Within the next few weeks the patience and self-control of Mississippians will, no doubt, be taxed to an extreme degree by the unfriendly activities of many outside students and adults coming into our state," he said.

He said it is necessary that state residents conduct themselves with dignity, poise, forbearance and, if possible, good humor.

'Sunset Strip' Ex-Star Announces Separation

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Roger Smith, once a costar on the television series "77 Sunset Strip," and his wife of eight years, actress Victoria Shaw, have announced that they are starting a trial separation.

Smith, 30, and Miss Shaw, 27, have a daughter Tracey, 7, and two sons, Jody, 5 and Dallas, 2.

The meeting of Indonesian President Sukarno, Malaysian Prime Minister Tunak Abdul Rahman and Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal is expected to end Sunday.

The schedule appeared brief in view of the number of grave problems facing Indonesia and Malaysia. But the participants have made clear they do not expect the meeting to resolve all the issues in the feud.

Macapagal, who promoted the summit meeting, said he would be satisfied if the stage is set for more conferences.

PHILIPPINE IDEA

One point likely to be discussed is a Philippine proposal that the antagonists refer the Malaysian issue to a committee of four neutral Asian-African nations.

The first group of 32 armed Indonesian guerrillas passed through Tebedu checkpoint, in Malaysian Borneo, on their way to the border. It was presumed that the withdrawal would continue.

Malaysia, which estimated 200 or more Indonesians are in Malaysian Borneo, had said it would take part in the summit if the withdrawal was large enough to show Indonesian good intentions.

As soon as the 32 guerrillas passed through the checkpoint, Thai observers sent word to the foreign ministers of Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines in Tokyo. They went into session at once and 27 minutes later announced that the summit talks would begin Saturday.

AGENDA PLAN

The ministers agreed to recommend this agenda to their chiefs:

1. Review the present situation.

2. Consider proposals for peaceful settlement of problems.

Indonesia has vowed repeatedly that it intends to crush Malaysia, which it has denounced as a British creation to preserve British colonial influence in Southeast Asia.

The Philippines formally presented to Malaysia its claim to part of Malaysian Sabah, the former territory of British North Borneo. The move was a face-saving way out of the only dispute between Malaysia and the Philippines.

Blamer Hill, president of the Mississippi Economic Council, a state Chamber of Commerce group, called for calm and patience.

"Within the next few weeks the patience and self-control of Mississippians will, no doubt, be taxed to an extreme degree by the unfriendly activities of many outside students and adults coming into our state," he said.

He said it is necessary that state residents conduct themselves with dignity, poise, forbearance and, if possible, good humor.

Two Area Students Win Tuition Aids

Two Pontiac area students have been granted partial tuition awards to John Carroll University, University Heights, Ohio.

Francis V. Dilly, of Rochester, N.Y., a student at St. Basil's Novitiate, 3900 Giddings, Pontiac Township, and Michael P. Phelan, 2071 Pembroke, Birmingham, have received President's Honor Awards from John Carroll University.

The awards, renewable each year, will pay half of the tuition to the university.

Russian Chess Player Shares Tourney Lead

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP)—Vasily Smyslov of Russia defeated Svonko Vranesic of Canada in the completion of an adjourned match Thursday night and moved into a tie for first place with countryman Boris Spassky in the Interzonal Chess Championships.

Smyslov and Spassky each have 18 points with two rounds to go. Tied for third with 15.5 points each are Bent Larsen of Denmark, and two Russians, Mikhail Tal and Leonid Stein.

A quarter of a million persons work in New York City's garment industry.

World's Poor Nations Pose U.N. Threat

GENEVA (AP)—The poor nations of Asia, Africa and Latin America have discovered that their sheer weight of numbers can count heavily in the councils of the world.

The discovery had its first big impact at a three-month U.N. trade conference which ended here this week without concrete achievements.

It raises a challenge to the developed countries of the West and could hamper, if not paralyze, the United Nations.

It is a logical consequence of the end of the colonial era, a consequence that was not foreseen when 50 victor nations of World War II signed the United Nations charter in 1945. The membership has more than doubled.

MORE POVERTY
The colonial peoples generally looked to independence as the beginning of prosperity and happiness. But independence has brought only greater poverty to many. Disappointment with the fruits of national liberation often has turned into resentment against the former colonial rulers. And while the poor countries become steadily poorer the rich countries are becoming richer.

In all Western industrial nations, responsible statesmen agree that this gap cannot be allowed to widen further without breeding revolution, anarchy and war.

The Western nations are pouring money, resources and technical skill into the poor countries but these contend the help is inadequate.

REDS UNHAPPY
To their disappointment, the Soviets have found that many Africans and Asians regard them not as special friends or champions of liberation, but as white men.

Throughout Asia and Africa, the Chinese Communists are calling on the nonwhite races to stick together to end the white man's economic domination. This was one reason, apparently, why the Soviets at the Geneva conference failed to press their usual demand for the admission of Red China.

The conference originally was suggested by the Soviet Union against vigorous Western objections. When it began the Soviets encouraged the formation of a group of 75 underdeveloped nations and promised unconditional support. But in the end, the conference undoubtedly turned into a disillusionment for the Soviet Union.

KEY DEVELOPMENT
All Soviet bloc nations—even Cuba—were refused admission to the underdeveloped group which, on occasions, took a decidedly anti-Communist line.

The emergence of the group itself as a cohesive, basically anti-Western political force nevertheless was the most significant development of the conference. Burma, Indonesia, Ghana, Guinea and Chile were its most outspoken leaders. Western officials fear they will seek to use their newly found power from now on to steamroller their views — with Soviet support — through the United Nations and other international bodies.

The conference brought out some fascinating aspects of the new lineup.

Some of the underdeveloped nations hoped to play off the United States against France and France against her five partners in the European Common market but found when the chips are down, Charles de Gaulle's France stands firmly with the West.

The French-speaking nations of Africa are wavering in their loyalty to France but are still hoping for special benefits from the European Common Market that will be denied to African nations economically linked to Britain.

As in medieval Europe, the new nations of Africa are generally hostile toward their immediate neighbors and friendly toward more distant countries which never became involved in their tribal feuding.

Japan's interests are firmly linked with those of the United States and Western Europe. Australia also stands by the West, but New Zealand, frightened and resentful over Britain's attempt to join the Common Market, regards herself as an undeveloped nation.

Israel's efforts to gain aid and win friends in black Africa have had some success—though not enough to make Israel acceptable as a member of the 75-nation group, which includes all the Arab states.

LONG SHADOW
Red China's lengthening shadow lies over world gatherings even in its absence. Most Latin-American countries remain opposed to Red China's admission to the United Nations, and the issue has become the biggest single political difference between Latin America and most Afro-Asians.

OK Building in Flint for Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—Plans for a $524,000 building at Flint, Mich., to be used by the Social Security Administration were approved Thursday by a Senate Public Works subcommittee. If the project is approved by the full committee, and by the House Public Works Committee, it will be eligible for appropriations.

Last year more than 2,300,000 new applications for credit were cleared in New York City, representing an increase of about 6 per cent over 1963 figures.

Palmer Slips One Stroke Behind

Record-Equaling 64 Gives Jacobs Lead in U.S. Open

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

BETHESDA, Md. — Tommy Jacobs fired a record-equaling 64, including a 60-foot birdie putt on the 18th green, here today to take the National Open lead away from Arnold Palmer.

Palmer, the only golfer in the field of 150 to break par in yesterday's first round, started today's 18 holes four strokes ahead of Jacobs.

But the sharp-shooting Jacobs, from Bermuda Dunes, Calif., fired a birdie 31 on the back nine. This gave him a 72-64-136 for the 36 holes and the early second round lead.

Palmer, playing in the three-some right behind the new front-runner, tried to maintain his lead, but couldn't match the dramatic finish by Jacobs and settled for a 69. This left him one stroke behind. The Latrobe, Pa., pro had a 68 yesterday.

The record 64 for 18 holes in the U.S. Open was fired by Lee Mackey Jr., an obscure Alabama professional, in the opening round of the 1959 Open at Meridian Country Club in Ardmore, Pa.

Palmer and Jacobs staged a nip and tuck battle this morning.

The 35-year-old Pennsylvanian started with a 34 on the front nine, including three birdies and two bogies while Jacobs had two birdies and seven pars for a two-under 33.

On the back nine, each parred 10, 11 and 12. On 13, the toughest hole on the course to crack, both took birdies. Palmer was only the third and Jacobs the fourth in the tournament to break the par four hole.

Palmer bogied No. 14 and Jacobs posted a birdie. This put Jacobs two under and Palmer at three under for the tournament. Jacobs then birdied 15 to tie Palmer.

Palmer holed a 30-foot putt on 16 for a birdie four to gain the lead. Jacobs then took a pair of pars, and on 18, he brought a large roar from the 10,000 fans clustered in the area by sinking the long putt for a birdie three.

Palmer, who bogied 17, learned that Jacobs had taken the lead from him. But all he could do was par 18.

In yesterday's first round, Palmer's lone bogey came on the third hole when his chip shot hit the cup and bounced five-feet away from where he two-putted.

His birds came on No. 8, No. 11 and No. 17. The longest birdie-putt being eight feet.

Among the 14 players with two over par 72 totals were former USGA champions Jack Nicklaus and Ed Furgol and British Open champion Bob Charles.

Bob Panasiuk, 23-year-old pro from Elmstead, Ont., who did his local qualifying at Pine Lake and sectional qualifying at Franklin Hills made a strong finish and was also at 72 with 37-35.

Among the Michigan golfers, Wally Burkemo of Detroit Golf Club had a 36-38-74; Nick Berklach of Grosse Ile had 37-40-77; Dave Hill of Jackson had 36-40-76; Sam Kocsis of Atlas Valley, 37-42-79; John Barnum of Belmont, 37-44-81; Eldon Briggs of Detroit Golf Club, 39-43-82 and former Detroit Tony Novitsky, 42-42-84.

Burkemo started with three straight bogies but holed 10-footers on four and eight for birds to go out in 36.

He moved to even par with an 8-foot putt for a birdie on 17 but then hit three straight bogies on 13-14-15.

His biggest shot was an 80-foot birdie putt he holed on 16, but then he bogied the last two holes to come in with 38.

Barnum also collapsed on the rugged back nine where he took a pair of bogies after hitting the lake on No. 10 and driving into the trees on No. 15.

On the par-3 twelfth hole however, Barnum's three putts from two feet told the tale of the heavy traffic over the greens all day. He went by 12 inches and then missed it again.

Kocsis went out with eight pars and a double-bogey-6 on the third hole, but on the back nine the rough 15th hole spelled his doom. He hit the green in regulation and his first putt from 70 feet was four feet short.

His second putt went by 18 inches and it rimmed the lip when he backhanded it to force him to four-putt.

On 18, Kocsis hit a long straight second shot which hit the green above the pin. It took a high hop and bounced into the lake forcing a one stroke penalty in dropping a ball and a chip from the rough for a double bogey-4.

Panasiuk who went out in 37, sunk a 20-foot birdie putt on 16, a 7-footer on 17 for a bird and par 4 on 18 for his backside 35.

Defending champion Julius Boros found only one birdie in his game yesterday and finished 37-40-77, the same score as Sam Snead.

The slammer started the day with a birdie-3, then four-putted the 4th hole and had four other three-putt greens in what appeared another futile hole to winning an Open crown that has eluded him in 23 previous attempts.

Sharp-Fielding Tigers Drop 3-2 Decision to A's

Detroit Wastes Double Plays

Ninth-Inning Homer Wins for Kaycee

DETROIT (AP) — A person would think that any team that can complete five double plays in a nine-inning baseball game would have incentive to go on and score a big victory.

Not so with the Detroit Tigers who lost another game to Kansas City, 3-2, Thursday, giving the Athletics three of the four games in the series.

The Detroit bats were silent in this one, too, although Bill Freehan's homer leading off the seventh inning tied the score and gave the home fans something to hope for.

ROAD TRIP

"Keep all your strikeouts and double plays and give me the runs," said Manager Charles Dressen, obviously not looking forward to the 12-day road trip which starts tonight at Minnesota.

Dressen was referring to the fact that the Tigers have failed to win the games in which the pitchers have recorded a number of strikeouts and fell Thursday despite the five twin-killings.

Ed Charles' eighth homer of the year, leading off the ninth inning, gave the A's the game.

"Rakow's mad at himself," Dressen explained. "Charles usually doesn't hit the first pitch.

Meanwhile, the Tigers were held to one hit through the first five frames by young lefthander John O'Donoghue.

FIRST RUN

Bubba Phillips, playing third for Don Wert who was sidelined by a back injury, got his second single of the contest leading off the sixth and scored Detroit's first run when Jerry Lumpe doubled.

Wes Stock and Dan Pfister came on to hold the Tigers from that point on, except for Freehan's homer which came off Stock.

Hawaii Calls 'Bo; Angel Lefty Stuck

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bo Belinsky, the Los Angeles Angels' celebrated southpaw, says he'd rather play in a minor league with Hawaii than try to make it big in the majors.

In short, says Belinsky, the pressures on a personality player make him yearn for the care-free days of his youth—like last year when the Angels sent him down to their Hawaii farm club.

"I went to general manager Fred Haney recently and asked him to send me back to Hawaii where I'd be happy," said Belinsky.

"I thought I was getting an ulcer. I didn't want to see or talk with anybody. I was living like a hermit."

Belinsky's attitude toward the little grass shack on the beach at Waikiki has changed greatly since the Angels notified him last May 25 that he was being demoted to the Pacific Coast League club.

He balked for a month before reporting, but all that seems to be water over the reef now.

"It just isn't worth it. I've learned, to sacrifice my youth and personal ways to be a major league ball player," Belinsky said.

"If the management doesn't like me being out at a party, let them get rid of me. I'm just sick and tired of catering to the club."

Belinsky was at the height of his career—partly when the Angels decided to let him swing to a hula beat for awhile.

His request, to relinquish his present spot as No. 7 in the field of 11 Angel pitchers was received by the management with less than enthusiastic approval. It was vetoed.

WARRIORS NEEDED

In the first place, before he could go to Hawaii, he'd have to be passed on waivers by the other major leagues.

"Haney was real nice about it," said Bo. "We had a good heart-to-heart talk. I have no grudge with Haney."

"I told him I didn't care at all about money—even if he were to give me a $20,000 raise. I just wanted to relax."

Belinsky, 27, said he was worried about what people said about him when he returned to the Angels for spring training.

"They said I wasn't concerned about baseball."

"Now, I just can't see any future in bearing down like that to prove a point. Of Course, I'm concerned about baseball."

"I love the game and hope to stay in it as long as I can. But I'm simply going to be loose and relaxed about it."

"It's not that I'm not going to take the game seriously."

"But if I'm seen in a night spot, that's my business. No one else's."

Record Crowd Fails to Show

Oakmont Open Mark Remains on Book

BETHESDA, MD.—The opening day crowd at the National Open was 1,481 short of the first day total of 17,837 who attended the 1962 Open at Oakmont.

And despite the fact that a record 11,500 all-tournament tickets have been sold, many of the Eastern writers don't think a 3-day total record will be set at Congressional Country Club.

The record at Oakmont was 62,300 not including the playoff the next day between Palmer and Nicklaus which drew 10,000.

Sam Snead was a picture of frustration after yesterday's round.

His followers slowly deserted him for other fairways when he started his spree of bogeys and double bogeys.

On the 4th hole where he four-putted, he blasted out of a trap to 15 feet of the pin. His first putt stopped four feet short. His second putt stopped 18 inches from the cup. His third putt went 18 inches by and then he finally canned it.

Bob Hendricks, pro from Indian Valley CC in Telford, Pa., had himself a disgusting time on the 9th hole and 18th yesterday. His threesome took 20 minutes to play the 599 yard hole and Hendricks came off the green with an 11.

His drive went into the trees. He had to sacrifice a shot to get back into the fairway. His third shot went back into rough.

"He shanked his next shot across the fairway into deep wooded trees and rough and when his ball couldn't be found in allotted time he had to take a couple strokes penalty."

Chisox 'Hop, Flutter' Back on Top

By The Associated Press

The rabbit ball and the flutterball have lifted the Chicago White Sox back into first place in the American League.

The lively rabbit ball was lofted out of Baltimore's home Municipal Stadium Thursday night by two of Chicago's bunt-and-run specialists — Mike Hersberger and Al Weiss — and proved the only runs Thursday night in a 2-0 victory over the Orioles.

The deadly flutterball was lofted up to home plate by buntball specialist Hoyt Wilhelm, who probably has the most deceptive pitch and record in the majors.

LOWERED ERA

Wilhelm came in on relief of fourth inning and Weiss connected for his second in the sixth. That was more than enough as the White Sox shoved the Orioles into second place, seven percentage points behind, while the White Sox Yankees closed to within one-half game of the top by downing Boston 6-3. In the only other AL game scheduled, Kansas City edged Detroit 3-2.

FIRST WIN

Elston Howard and Tom Tresh each drove in two runs for the Yankees while Rolfe Sheldon went all the way for his first victory. Howard slammed a two-run triple off loser Jack Lamabe in a four-run first inning, upstaging — and Tresh wrapped up the New York scoring with a two-run homer in the seventh.

Top-Seeded Net Stars Shine in NCAA Play

EAST LANSING (AP)—America's top college tennis stars, playing true to form, moved into the semifinals of the NCAA Tennis Championships today with the top four seeds in both singles and doubles still unbeaten.

In singles, defending champion and No. 1 seeded Dennis Ralston of Southern California met UCLA's Arthur Ashe, ranked third. Northwestern's Marty Riessen, No. 2, faced fourth-seeded Charles Pasarell of UCLA.

Riessen and Clark Graebner, the top-seeded doubles entry, are pitted against third-ranked Ashe and Pasarell in one semifinal match.

The other will pit second-seeded Ralston and Bill Bond of USC against the No. 4 combo of Steve Reed and Dave Sanderlin of UCLA.

Ralston had the easiest time in Thursday's quarter-finals in eliminating Tim Parker of Rice 6-3, 6-2. But he took Ashe 28 games to oust USC's 10th-seeded Jerry Cronwell 11-9, 6-0.

Two-HANDED

Riessen mastered the two-handed game of sixth-seeded Bill Lenoir of Arizona 6-3, 6-2, and Pasarell had little trouble in defeating Bond 6-3, 6-2.

Ralston and Bond needed sets to eliminate Dale McCleary and Parker in the doubles quarter-finals 4-6, 4-6, 6-4.

Graebner and Riessen had an easier time in slugging Willie Hernandez and Steve Field of Arizona 6-4, 6-0.

In other quarter-final matches USC's Cromwell and Charles Lombard 6-3, 6-4, and Reed and Sanderlin beat fifth-seeded Lenor and Fred Drilling of Arizona 6-4, 6-4.

Finals in both events will be Saturday.

Archers in Tournament

MIDLAND (AP) — Archers from five states and Ontario are expected here June 20-21 for the National Field Archery Association's Great Lakes sectional tournament.

Spring Lake Golf Victor

SPRING LAKE (AP) — An uninterrupted march from her qualifying medalist position carried Sharon Wilder of Grandville to the championship of the 43rd Spring Lake Women's Open Golf Tournament Thursday.

She took the crown with a 5 and 4 victory over Sharon Miller of Battle Creek.

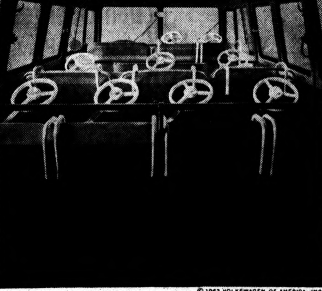

Miss Wilder, 20, an Aquinas College varsity golf team member this spring, coasted to a 2 and 3 semifinals victory over 1958 champion Mrs. Jack Scripps of Grand Rapids.

Seems that everybody wants to drive our station wagon.

Why? Is it the three 5-foot seats? They hold the regular driver plus 9 junior drivers.

Or 7 more adults.

Is it because the back seats are removable? Or because the side doors open 4 feet wide? Slide a seat out and you can slide in a mode-crib.

Take both seats out and you've got room for a full-length bed.

Is it because the Volkswagen, with more usable space than the biggest conventional wagon, is a good 4 feet shorter?

It fits neatly into parking spots the big boys have to pass by.

Is it the legendary Volkswagen mileage? The rear-engine traction?

Is it the sunroof?

It's also a moonroof.

A rainroof, too. When the sky looks threatening, just slide the roof shut. It's windproof. Waterproof.

Is it the 23 windows to look out of? Your guess is as good as ours.

Why not come in and see why. For yourself.

Junior 9's Awaiting D Loop Play

The city's Class D recreation baseball program for juniors completed its practice round last night and will begin league play Monday.

The Pontiac Boys Club scored a convincing 10-4 win over the Pontiac Optimist in their battle to determine league assignments, scoring nine runs in the first three innings.

Dick Krause's two-hitter led Arnold Drugs to a 7-2 win over Rochester in another "D" tilt. The Pontiac Merchants' Larry Keeney matched the feat for an 11-1 victory over Webb Fuel in Class E.

Another fine pitching effort was the 3-1 one-hitter tossed by Stan Bobuke of the Yankees against the Auburn Heights Boys Club "F" squad.

Paul Patterson of Perry Drugs struck out 15 while beating Johnson's Pharmacy, 6-1.

Mays Fails in Clutch—Giants Lose

By The Associated Press

It's the ninth inning and your team is down by a run with two men on. Who do you want as your hitter?

How about Willie Mays? Well, Alvin Dark had him Thursday night, but he'd have been better off with Julian Javier.

The Giants were trailing the Cardinals in just that situation with Willie at the plate in Thursday's 7-4 St. Louis victory. Mays had slugged his 20th homer and two singles earlier but against Ron Taylor in the ninth, he struck out.

Javier, the Cardinal second baseman, did more damage than Mays, cracking a homer, double and single and driving in five of the Cardinal runs. It was a single-game St. Louis RBI high for the season.

THIRD SETBACK

The Cardinals, hard-pressed for runs during their recent road trip, battered Giant ace, Juan Marchal for 11 hits and all their runs in the five innings he worked. It was Marchal's third loss in 11 decisions.

In other National League games, Pittsburgh belted New York 10-0 and the front-running Philadelphia Phillies dropped Chicago 6-3.

Ray Sadecki beat the Giants for the second straight time but needed late-inning help from Roger Craig, Mike Cuellar and Taylor. The loss dropped San Francisco a game back of Philadelphia in the race for the Mets.

The Phillies got two-run homers from Danny Carter and Johnny Callison as Chris Short won his fifth. Carter's first major league homer followed Richie Allen's infield single in the second and Callison's seventh of the season came with Cookie Rojas aboard an inning later.

Ron Santo belted two homers for the Cubs who lost their first series since May 21.

Vern Law won his fourth game in his last five decisions with a strong three-hitter against the Mets. He got all three runs he needed in the first three innings on homers by Donn Clendenen and Willie Stargell, the latter a two-run shot.

Stewards Eye Betting Surge Race Review Planned

HAZEL PARK (AP) — Stewards at Hazel Park Race Track Thursday ordered an investigation after a thoroughbred won its first race of the season following a late betting surge which reduced the odds from 20-1 to 2-1 at post time.

Lord Pips, winner of the fourth race by five lengths, was greeted by an outburst of jeers from 10,619 fans. The boisterous started at the head of the stretch and continued after mutual prices were posted.

Lord Pips, owned by producer man Clarence Cusumano, of Detroit, paid $6.00, $4.40 and $3.

"We will talk to everyone involved in the race," said State Steward Lewis Walker. "There is nothing we can do now but we certainly intend to hold a complete investigation after the races."

Stewards ordered a review of movie films and a complete breakdown of betting.

Lord Pips, which was quoted at 20-1 in the morning line, dropped to 2-1 at post time. The five-year-old horse had raced four other times this season at odds ranging from 13-1 to 35-1.

Bloomfield Hills Move Spurred by Expansion

When the Barons of Bloomfield Hills move onto the gridiron to open the 1964 campaign, coach Don Hoff will view the game from another position.

For the past eight years, Hoff has directed the Barons' football machine. Starting this fall he will devote full time to his position as athletic director, a post he has held since 1956.

During his eight years at the helm, Hoff compiled a 35-32-4 win-loss record and guided the squad to a share of the 1961 Wayne-Oakland League championship.

Named to fill the grid post was Bill Tunnicliff, 24, former University of Michigan full-back.

The planned expansion of the school's athletic facilities, which would add to Hoff's responsibilities, prompted the administration to add Tunnicliff to the staff.

Yovers in Bloomfield Hills School District recently approved a $7,670,000 bond issue to finance a four-year building program in the district.

SWIMMING POOL
Included in the plans are a seven-lane swimming pool, three tennis courts each at Bloomfield Hills and East Hills junior high schools and track facilities at the two junior high schools.

Tunnicliff starred as a full-back for Ferndale St. James and he was named to the All-County Class C squad in 1957.

He enrolled at U of M in 1958 and played on the Wolverine varsity during the 1959-60 seasons.

Tunnicliff was a workhorse on the 1961 Michigan team. He carried the ball 96 times for an average of 4.1 yards a carry, and he scored three touchdowns for 18 points, putting him in a tie for third among the team's scorers.

His other coaching positions at Hills remain unchanged. Hoff will continue to direct the track team. Other members of the staff are Hal Henderson (basketball, baseball), Chuck Robinson (tennis, cross-country) and Don Dennis (golf).

Pro Women to Compete

Men and women bowlers will have another chance to compete with the stars when professional bowling returns to Pontiac in August.

This time the stars will wear skirts and the site will be Huron Bowl.

In March the Professional Bowlers' Association had its third annual tournament at 300 Bowl with top male legends competing.

The Professional Women's Bowlers' Association will have a tournament in Pontiac the second week of August and some of the biggest names in women's bowling will be here.

Qualifying for the pro-am event is under way at Huron Bowl and is open to members of the American Bowling Congress, Women's International Bowling Congress, and registered junior bowlers.

Additional details will be available shortly.

SLOW START
Pontiac's Mike Samardzija, Jr. was well off the cutoff and payoff spots at last week's San Jose, Calif., PBA Open. He'll try again at Seattle, Wash. this weekend.

Golfers After Best-Ball Title

City Twosome to Defend Title at Municipal

Boda, Hausman Seek Third Crown; Seventy Teams Expected

Paul Boda and partners have held a near monopoly on the City Best-Ball title during the last six outings.

The 33-year-old Boda has been a member of the winning combination during four of those outings.

In 1958, he teamed with Ed Wask in grabbing the top spot at Pontiac Municipal Course with a 62, a record shared by several other twosomes, and he and Wask were back again with a first-place finish in 1959.

Boda missed the title in 1960 and he teamed with Robert L. Hausman, 29, in winning the 1961 event, and the same twosome blended its talent to pick up top honors last year.

The Boda-Hausman combination will be looking for its third victory when the 18-hole best-ball play gets under way Saturday at Pontiac Municipal.

About 70 teams are expected to be on hand, including former champions Jack Ross and Harley Hyatt and Stan Savage and Ed Flowers.

Boda and Hausman carded a 63 last year to finish two strokes ahead of Lloyd Syron, former state amateur champion, and Neil Mansfield.

Clippers Close Gap on Leader in A League

Squad Records 9-5
Win Over Cranbrook;
Brooks Pacés Hitters

The Clippers climbed within a game of first place in the city Class A baseball league last night by defeating third place Cranbrook, 9-5, in a stoppy tilt at Jaycee Park.

The winners took advantage of some key errors and an extra-base hit attack to lead all the way for their fifth win in six starts.

Felix Brooks, the defending league hitting champion, paced the offense last night with a single and triple for three runs batted in. Teammate Mike Dodge had a two-run homer in the first inning that ignited the scoring.

Six unearned runs in the first and fourth innings spelled defeat for Cranbrook, now 3-3.

Bob Smith's double and back-to-back triples by Warren Stephens and Brooks in the sixth iced the verdict with three more markers.

Don Glowack picked up his second win with three-hit relief hurling over the final four and two-thirds innings.

John Billeston lost his first in three decisions although fanning 10 and yielding only two earned runs.

Tom Demrick accounted for four of the losers' five tallies by driving in two and scoring twice. The seven hits marked Cranbrook's second best offensive effort this season.

Tonight Pontiac Business Institute will play CIO No. 594 in a makeup contest at 8 p.m.

Two State Entrants NCAA Golf Victims

COLORADO SPRINGS (AP)—Frosty Evashevski Jr. of Michigan and John Kurzynowski of Aquinas College (Mich.) both were eliminated in Thursday's third round of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Golf Tournament.

Kansas State's Jim Colbert outlasted Evashevski in the toughest match of the day, 22 holes. Evashevski had a chance to win the match on the 18th hole but both he and Colbert ran into trap trouble and wound up with 68. On the 22nd, Colbert fired a bogey three and Evashevski a bogey four.

University of Miami's Paul DesJardins upset Kurzynowski 3 and 1. Kurzynowski last week won the small college NCAA tournament and Wednesday eliminated another favorite, George Hixon of Oklahoma, 5 and 4.

Find Nervous Olympic Candidate

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — The United States found a nervous but brilliant candidate for the Olympic 10,000-meter race Thursday.

Little Danny Murphy of San Jose cracked the national collegiate meet record of 31:15.3, coming from behind in the last mile to run away from the field in 29:37.8 in the NCAA meet. Murphy, who is so nervous his stomach would not let him compete much of this season, had considered the 5,000-meter race his best event until Thursday. He will be in the 5,000-meter race today and his performance may determine whether San Jose can carry off the team title. Murphy showed the confidence he picked up Thursday.

"It's the 10,000 meters for me," he chortled. He admitted that his stomach bothered him through two-thirds of the race. By that time he had found out that he could outlast Vic Zwolak of Villanova, the defending champion. He was harassing Doug Brown, a stocky Montana sophomore, who had set the pace almost from the outset.

RUN FASTER

"I kept telling him to run faster," said Murphy. "And when he didn't, I felt I could take over."

With a little more than a half mile to go, the 5-8, 130-pound Murphy cut loose. He quickly opened up a lead over Brown. By the end it was 70 yards. Murphy said his stomach felt fine at the finish.

Brown and nine other runners also cracked the previous record, set by Selwyn Jones of Michigan State in 1956. Murphy's time was nearly 1 1/2 minutes over the world mark and was .47.7 over the American record.

The day, interrupted by showers which left puddles on the track, also saw two meet records tied.

RECORD TIED

Trenton Jackson of Illinois tied the 100-meter dash record of .10.2, a mark shared by four others since 1932, and Ed Roberts of North Carolina College ran the 200 in .20.5, equalling the effort of Henry Carr of Arizona State last year.

Roberts, a native of Trinidad, is not eligible for the U.S. Olympic team.

The 10,000-meter event was the only final of the first day, and when Gene Gurule of San Jose provided an unexpected third place, it shot San Jose into the lead with 16 points.

San Jose is now in good position to win the team title, although host Oregon, California, Fresno State and Oregon State could do it, too.

Zwolak's defeat crippled Villanova's chances. Southern California, the defending champion, also appears out of it. Lew Hoyt, defending high jump champion, failed to qualify in preliminaries, and the Trojans lost two other men in Thursday's trials.

Finals are scheduled today only in the hammer throw, broad jump and 5,000 meters. The remaining finals come Saturday.

SPLASHING ALONG — Cecil Huey (foreground) of Clemson and Bill Boyle of Notre Dame splashed through one of the many puddles on the track during yesterday's 400-meter heat in the NCAA meet at Eugene, Ore. It rained off and on during the day. Boyle placed third, but Huey dropped out of contention.

Champ Has 2 Strokes on Field

Defending champion Mrs. C. P. (Phyllis) Mehas of Bloomfield Hills held a two-stroke lead going into the final round today of the Pine Lake Women's President Cup tournament.

Mrs. Mehas, who fired a net 75 in the opening round of the 54-hole tournament, carded a net 74 yesterday for a 36-hole total of 149.

Mrs. James H. Youngblood of Bloomfield Hills was two strokes back at 151, and Mrs. Glen R. Mackellar of Birmingham held the third spot with a 153 total.

U. S. Tennis Teen Faces Aussie Star

LONDON (AP)—Cliff Richey, 17-year-old American tennis hopeful, faced Australia's Roy Emerson today in the toughest match of his life—the semifinals of a strange, topsy-turvy tournament at London's Queen's Club.

Richey, U.S. junior champion from Dallas, Tex., has won through to the last four while more experienced players have been knocked out.

Thursday he defeated Osamu Ishiguro of Japan 6-4, 6-3 with a tremendous display of forehand driving.

Arro Realty Increases League Lead

A three-hitter by Harry Avesi, an carried Arro Realty to a 2-1 triumph over Elks No. 810 and helped the league leader keep its lead in the city's American softball loop.

Avesi struck out eight and walked three as Arro ran its record to 7-1. UAW No. 594 (5-2), holding down the second spot, defeated 300 Bowl, 2-1, behind Jake Mazur's three-hit effort.

In the National League, Bob & Larry (5-1) downed Local 653, 4-2, and G & M Construction (4-3) romped to a 10-2 decision over Circle Inn (1-6).

Arro picked up its first run in the second inning on a walk to Walt Travis, moved at Pleasant on a sacrifice and came home on a single by Roger Nousek.

The winners added the deciding marker in the fifth on singles by Don Paterra, Bud Hayward and Bill Hayward.

UAW scored single runs in the first and fifth to squeak by 300 Bowl, Marv Fuller and Chuck Whitmore paced the winners with two hits each.

Bob & Larry broke a 1-1 tie with three runs in the top of the sixth inning to trim Local 653. Dean Perko's single sent home two runs in the rally.

G & M collected nine hits in routing Circle Inn. The winners picked up eight runs in the second to put the game on ice.

WATERFORD ACTION

In Waterford action, Haskins (8-2) rolled to a 16-4 triumph over Huron Bowl, and Howe's Lunas defeated Lakeland Pharmacy B, 9-5.

Gary Heaton and Mas Jarrett routed three hits each to pace Haskins. Chuck Young went four-for-four for Howe's.

Lady Pro Bidding for 3rd Open Title

SUTTON, Mass. (AP)—Two-time defending champion Shirley Englehorn and Mickey Wright, top money winner on the tour, are rated the co-favorites for the $10,000 Lady Carling Eastern Open Golf Championship which starts today.

The 54-hole test is scheduled to wind up Sunday at Pleasant Valley Country Club with the winner taking home a $1,500 purse.

Although the odds are against three straight titles, Miss Englehorn, now playing out of Los Angeles, has a special affection for this course which is 6,352 yards, par 74 for the competition. So much so, in fact, she says "I wish I could pick up the whole layout and take it on the tour with me."

There was also a note by a local writer that Felix Craig, who the Senators obtained from the Tigers, would be the first pitcher to be brought up.

Russia to Oust Amorous Briton

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Foreign Ministry has ordered the expulsion of a British student who tried to marry a Russian girl.

The Soviets told the British Embassy that Mervyn Matthews, 31, a Welshman from Swansea, had engaged in "impermissible activities" incompatible with the status of a foreign research student.

They also charged Matthews with conducting "propaganda hostile to the Soviet Union and speculating in articles of everyday use."

The British Embassy protested and indicated student exchanges might be affected. A spokesman said the embassy had no evidence to support the Soviet claim that Matthews had engaged in anti-Soviet propaganda.

Matthews, an Oxford grad who has been studying Soviet labor affairs at Moscow University.

Last week, he took his Russian fiancée, Ludmila Bibikova, 30, to Moscow's No. 1 wedding place to get married. Officials turned them away, saying their documents were not in order.

Barry's Future Kin in Wedding Week

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The future son-in-law of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater will be in Phoenix today to start a week of prewedding activities.

Richard Arien Holt, 26, of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Margaret Ann Goldwater, 20, will be married June 27 at the Trinity Episcopal Cathedral in Phoenix.

The couple will honeymoon in Hawaii. After July 10, they will be at home in Beverly Hills.

Young Vandals Trade Brushes for Mowers

CULLMAN, Ala. (AP) — Cullman High School's football field will be one of the state's best-manicured gridirons this fall.

Six youths have been sentenced by Recorder's Court Judge Tom Smith to work 20 hours each on cutting and trimming the grass on the oval.

The boys all pleaded guilty Thursday to charges of painting "CHS" class of '64-go, go, go" on businesses and other property in Cullman.

One of the lads said he could work out his sentence on Saturdays. Seems he took a summer job—as a painter for the Cullman County School Board.

ANGLED ARBOR—Want to hide a cutting garden or kitchen garden? Here's the ticket: an angled arbor. Solid screen front facing main yard, with a seating bench at its base, amply masks the cutting garden behind. Trellis roof extending in back casts protective shadow over delicate blooms during hot hours of day. Structure is western red cedar, can be painted, allowed to weather naturally, or stained a natural wood tone.

Increasing Pachysandra

Take cuttings of pachysandra anytime during spring or summer.

Make the cuttings of partly hardened growth about four inches long.

Insert in sandy moist soil in sheltered place until rooted.

Ajuga Reptans Hides Shady, Bare Spots

Ajuga reptans, sometimes called bugle plant, is a good ground cover.

A plant that does well in the shade, it blooms in May and June.

Fathers Like Gardening Too

One of the nicer things you can do for a gardening Dad on Father's Day is to make sure he's well potted — with the clay variety, of course.

As more and more men turn to pot plant gardening as a relaxing hobby, a good selection of fresh assorted-sized clay pots can make a thoughtful and welcome gift.

Long regarded by professional gardeners and nurserymen as the ideal plant containers, porous red clay pots now range from one inch to 14 and 16 inches in diameter and height. They accommodate anything from seedlings to the largest foliage or flowering plant.

Odds are that with a good sized clay pot wardrobe at his disposal, Dad will grow a wider and more colorful variety of flowering and foliage plants this summer.

And as an added dividend, many of the plants he grows will be able to winter in the warm, retaining much of the warmth of summer by their presence.

Use Bluegrasses for Sunny Spots

Fescues are excellent all-around lawngresses but generally a better soil results when Kentucky bluegrass is included with the fine fescues.

The fescues do well in sunny locations in the north and are good shade grasses.

Globe Thistle Tops for "Blue Garden"

Planning a "blue garden"? Don't forget Echinops, commonly called the globe thistle. These bold, showy plants are easy to grow in ordinary garden soil. Their flower heads are set with spiny bracts, with each bract a beautiful blue.

Prune early flowering shrubs as soon as the blooms fade.

Beetle 'Stompers' Are Battle Weary!

By L. GARY THORNE

If lately, the guy at the next desk has appeared at work each morning bleary-eyed and weary, he may be a stomper.

And, what is a "stomper"? First and foremost, a "stomper" is a dedicated tree lover. Next to mother, God and country, a "stomper" loves trees — beautiful green, full-leaved trees.

He is devoted to the proposition that all trees, especially his trees, shall have the opportunity to grow and prosper. And, that, woe, is the problem. "Stompers" are at war with June bugs, giant fireflies beetles that feed off of tree leaves.

Attacking in hordes, these winged devils collectively can strip an unprotected tree, nibbling away what one day was destined to provide shade for a tired lawn cutter.

The stomper is prepared to defend his right to shade. Red-faced and pulsating, the home owner prepares for battle.

First, an old straw hat is donned, furnishing "fall-out" protection. Second, the too-small army boots are brought from the garage. It has been determined that an extra-large foot is a definite advantage, although wives have been known to compensate for this by wearing their husbands' boots.

Gloves are optional, it depends. If you're squeamish. Short-sleeved shirts are preferred, a soldier must be light and mobile.

During late May or early June, depending on the weather, June bugs take the offensive. This is the time when the tree lover must be on guard.

These nonsinging beetles prefer warm, damp weather for their feasting. They arise from a day of slumber about 9 p.m. and gorge themselves until midnight.

A visit to residential areas during this part of the evening will reveal a full-scale battle. Areas near open fields are particularly vulnerable to attack.

Home owners can be seen swatting the air, sweeping leaves clean and stomping, all ways stomping.

With gleeful shouts, the tree protector picks the June bug from the leaf, crashes it to the ground and stomps with a heavy foot.

Stomping appears to be the principal defense. Insecticides are too slow, allowing the June bug time (two to three hours) to eat his fill before killing him.

One veteran "stomper," residing on a busy battlefield, has calculated that June bugs follow a three-year cycle. This spring has been one of the worst years.

The leafeaters also have a preference in diet, according to intelligence reports.

Maple, mountain ash, sunburst locust, birch and dogwood are popular items on the June bug's menu. However, forsythia and pear trees appear to be distasteful.

A cherry tree is a particular delicacy for the bug. Some lovely shrubs are likewise appetizing, while a peach tree will do if nothing else is available.

The tide appears to have turned for this year, the June bug has been routed. However, next spring is another battle or maybe another June bug.

Find a Pen-Friend at World's Fair

You may find a foreign garden pen pal if you attend the New York World's Fair this year or next.

A pen company is sponsoring an "International Penfriend Program" to promote a better understanding among peoples of the world. (Sponsor: Parker Pen).

One million peoples of all nations are expected to register and to be matched by an electronic brain. Names are being gathered throughout the world.

Among the categories is gardening, including flower arranging, plants, insects and agriculture.

Swim Was Suicide Try

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Leo Ledoux, 39, died today from the effects of what he said was a 39-hour, 80-mile swim in the Atlantic which started as a suicide attempt but ended as a dramatic struggle for life.

"I wanted to drown myself when I started," he said. "He was pulled from the water about 1 p.m. Thursday by a fishing boat 3 1/2 miles off Riviera Beach. This is approximately 80 miles north of where he said he entered the water on Miami Beach at 10:45 p.m. Monday."

He swam all night. Tuesday morning a yacht spotted him about five miles off shore and offered to pick him up.

Still thinking about suicide, Ledoux told the yacht owner: "I'm not going that way."

The yacht reported the incident to the Miami Coast Guard. A helicopter and 40-foot cutter were sent to search the area but failed to spot a swimmer.

Ledoux, a powerfully built 160-pound bachelor and ex-seaman with an engineer's rating for steam pumps, said: "I saw the helicopter, but was still thinking about drowning."

He swam, floated, drifted and thought through the day.

UAW Local 596 Elects 3 Trustees

Election of three trustees has completed Fisher Body UAW Local 596's selection of new officers.

Tabulation of ballots cast earlier this week in plantwide voting showed Robert L. McDonald, 523 Orchard Lake; John W. Spear, 88 W. Rutgers, and Edson Hall Jr., 2925 Newberry, Waterford Township, as winners among six candidates.

During two-year terms as trustees they will monitor local finances and sit as members of the executive board. Other Local 596 officers were elected last month.

Ginkgo Tree 'Deodorant' Developed

WASHINGTON—Tree experts may have solved a smelly problem that has fouled the air for 200 million years.

Female ginkgo trees (like holly and some other trees, a ginkgo is either male or female) may shade many city streets, but bear evil-smelling fruit in the fall. The smell has been described as a combination of burnt karmel and stale cabbage—or worse.

Botanists recently developed a spray which hopefully will make the trees drop their small fruit buds in spring.

The deodorization campaign takes time and planning, however. Each spring, spray crews must pinpoint the potential offenders on maps, street by street. And since harmless male ginkgos resemble the female, crews must mark the females to avoid spraying all the trees.

Often called living fossils, ginkgos grew 100 to 200 million years ago, the National Geographic Society says.

Dinosaurs nibbled their lacy, fan-shaped leaves. Earliest man must have sniffed the smelly fruit of the female trees.

While many prehistoric plants died out and most others were modified drastically through the ages, the ginkgo biloba not only survived but changed very little. Now planted as a decorative tree that reaches 100 feet, it thrives in the modern city, indifferent to smog, soot, and meager sidewalk soil.

"I got awful weak. I thought about trying to find an island, swimming ashore and starting everything all over again," he said.

He managed to survive through the night and was picked up by the fishing boat.

Ledoux said he had a little more than $9 when he decided to take the one-way swim. He said he left $9 in his room to cover his back rent.

He ate a small meal and had $1 and some small change when he got to the beach. He stacked his clothing, put a cheap watch and the money in his nose near a seawall and waded into the water, Ledoux said.

Palm Beach County police, who questioned Ledoux after his rescue, asked Miami Beach police to check the story.

They found Ledoux's clothing where he said they would be. But the money and watch were gone.

'Guillotine' Sells for $15

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Anybody want to buy a brand-new guillotine, never used? Bob Proctor has one he's willing to sell for $15.

The 15-year-old youth made the wooden-framed head aligner with aluminum blade as a woodshop project. He got the idea while studying the French Revolution in his history class.

He used $10 worth of materials for the guillotine, which won honorable mention in the Cedar Falls, Iowa, Industrial Arts Fair.

Miss Detroit Named

DETROIT (AP)—Sharon Magnuson, 20-year-old Wayne State University coed, was named Miss Detroit Thursday. The Detroit brunette will represent the Greater Detroit Area in the Miss Michigan contest at Muskegon this summer.

Approximately one-third of all employed women are engaged in some form of clerical work.

Fifth German Child Victim of Maniac

COLOGNE, Germany (AP)—A fifth child died of burns today as a result of a maniac's flame-thrower attack on a Roman Catholic elementary school a week ago.

This brought the tragedy's overall death toll to seven.

Renate Puchner, 8, was the latest victim. Another, Rose Roehrig, 12, died last night.

Sings Praise of Opera, With Pitch for Own Films

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"There is a race of us nuts... we're oddities... or oddities... who will fly to Europe to see one show," Tony Randall said.

"I flew to Milan to hear one opera. 'The Hugenots,' which had not been done in our lifetime," he said. "Now I've got tickets to see Olivier in 'Othello' in London June 30. People have been waiting for a year to see it. Sir Laurence only gives it once a week."

Tony was as proud—prouder—than a guy who's holed-in, as he added that he and Mrs. R. take off for London after he does "What's My Line?" June 23.

"When I got out of the Army," he was ex-years study due me under the GI Bill.

"I decided to develop my voice. I got fascinated with the opera world."

"How the Callas fans hate Tebaldi, and the Tebaldi fans hate Callas. Sometimes Callas can't make the high notes, but her fans love her just the same."

"And those claqueurs at the Met! The boss of the Met claques comes into La Scala restaurant, has $14 worth of lunch, and somebody says, 'How was "Aida" last night?' He says, 'Lousy. They didn't pay me!'"

Tony interrupted himself to mention that he should be talking about two movies in which he has an interest, "Fluffy," and "The Seven Faces of Dr. Lao."

"I would give anything to be an opera singer," he confessed. "But you not only have to be good... you have to be great. I'm resigned just to being an opera nut. But when I go shopping... what do you suppose I bought today? Some of that men's new mesh underwear... and some Mozart!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

A Goldwater supporter here closed his dinner table argument this way: "And I'm not just speaking for myself—but for every other Son of the American Revolution!"

Xavier Cugat won't sign with any agency that'll handle Abbe Lane... Director Richard Quin gave Fran Jeffries a new sports car... Anna Maria Alberghetti and her former fiancé, newspaperman Ron Petay, were in Rome last week but didn't meet.

Sarah Miles, asked about her film "Ceremony" (with Laurence Harvey), called it "the best bad film I ever saw." The Gene Kelly called the baby Bridget... Tony Bennett entertained at Perla Mezza's Washington party for Southern Democrats, and was asked to sing something not on his hit records: "Dixie."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "If everybody does it, it isn't necessarily right. If everybody says it, it isn't necessarily true." —Arnold Glazow EARL'S PEARLS: There seems to be just two kinds of drivers today—illegal and ill-tempered.

You can't tell a modern miss that her hairdo looks like a mop and she won't feel insulted. She probably doesn't know what a mop is. That's earl, brother.

UTICA SPARKLERS — This trio of pretty girls was picked last night to reign over the Utica Lions annual Fourth of July Celebration and Homecoming. In the center is Queen Cheryl Baranski, who won the title over 23 other contestants. She is flanked by her first maid of honor, Toni Bogdan, (left) and Nancy Durkee, second maid. All three are 17-years-old.

Faith Pays Off Bare Bizarre Plot for Miss Utica to Murder Couple

Kin Were Confident She'd Win Crown

UTICA — At least two people's confidence was justified in the selection of Cheryl Baranski as Miss Utica last night.

Her aunt, Mrs. Frederick J. Haase, who entered her in the annual competition, thought she had a good chance of winning the title.

So did her sister Judith, 12, who bet her a dime she'd be queen.

Cheryl, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Baranski, 52673 Brookcrest, Shelby Township.

A 1964 graduate of Utica Community High School, the lovely brunette with hazel eyes won the crown over 23 other contestants.

FIRST MAID

Named first maid of honor was Toni Bogdan, 17, who will be a senior at St. Lawrence High School next fall. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Bogdan, 43640 Ryan, Shelby Township.

Another 1964 graduate of Utica High School, Nancy Durkee, 17, is second maid of honor. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant L. Durkee, 47530 Shelby, Shelby Township.

The trio will reign over the Utica Lions annual 4th of July celebration and homecoming. They will ride on the Lions Club float in the parade which will open the day-long celebration at 10 a.m.

Last night's competition was held at Utica High School with Lee Olson, area news editor of The Pontiac Press acting as emcee.

Bare Bizarre Plot to Murder Couple

CHICAGO (UPI) — Police today confirmed a budding plot by three teen-agers to beat an elderly couple to death with a baseball bat in a secluded Michigan cabin, remove the teeth of the victims and burn the bodies.

Police said the motive for the bizarre plot was to let the ring's leader, a high school dropout, continue forging checks on the couple's $150,000 bank account to pay off his cohorts with cash and the couple's Thunderbird auto.

Palmer Retains Open Mastery

Shaves Par Again in Second Round Play

BETHESDA, Md. — Arnold Palmer, early starter in the second round of the National Open Golf Tournament, continued his mastery of the 7,067-yard Congressional Country Club course today by going four under par after 31 holes.

Palmer was the only player in the field to break par in the 13th hole yesterday, and this morning he made the turn in under 34 by picking up three birdies and a pair of bogies.

An overnight rain gave the course a badly needed watering, much to Palmer's liking, and there are many who are now expecting the Pennsylvania to pull away from the field because of the early course condition.

Among the other first-round leaders who are early starters today was Tommy Jacobs, who was hot on Palmer's trail.

Jacobs added a front-line 33 to go with his 72 of yesterday. Charlie Sifford posted a 34 to add to his 76.

In making the turn, Palmer took pars on 10-11-12, and then birdied the tough 13th hole to go four under.

Dave Hill of Jackson birdied No. 2 and No. 7, but had bogies on 1-5-6 to go out with 36 added to his 76.

Former Pro

Former Meadowbrook pro Chick Harbert had a 36 to go with his 76 of yesterday.

Firm Testing Kennedy N.Y. Popularity

NEW YORK (AP) — A public opinion firm has been testing the popularity in New York State of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, among others, but he is expected to wait several weeks before he decides whether to enter the U.S. Senate race in the state, the New York Herald Tribune said today.

A Washington Dispatch identified the public opinion firm as John F. Kraft Inc., of 527 Madison Ave., Manhattan.

The field is still open for a Democratic candidate to oppose Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating in November.

The newspaper learned that a poll is being conducted by Kraft under contract to the Democratic State Committee, and it covers election year issues as well as Kennedy and possible rivals for the Democratic Senate nomination.

A spokesman for Kennedy said yesterday he knew of no other poll to test his popularity in the state.

PROBABLY WAIT

At the same time, associates of the Attorney General said he would probably wait several weeks before making a decision. They indicated, however, that he would not wait until after the Democratic National Convention in August to decide whether to enter the Senate contest. Previously, there had been speculation that he would first wait to see whether he might capture the vice presidential nomination.

The Democratic National Convention opens in Atlantic City, N.J., Aug. 24. The state convention, at which a Senate candidate will be nominated, opens Sept. 1 in New York City.

Protesting Priest Transferred

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The young priest who tried to get the Pope to remove his cardinal is going on a retreat, a vacation, and to a new parish, says a chancery spokesman.

"So far as we are concerned, the case is resolved," the spokesman said.

The Rev. William H. DuBay, had written the Pope accusing the Los Angeles archbishop, James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of "gross malfeasance in office" for failing to speak out on racial matters.

Father DuBay was reportedly summoned to the chancery of the Los Angeles archdiocese Thursday for the second time since he made his letter public at a June 11 news conference.

Since the original announcement, Father DuBay has said he could make no further statement on the matter.

After today's appearance, unofficial spokesmen for the priest said apparently he would drop his drive.

One source said that Father DuBay was asked to "protest his loyalty" to Cardinal McIntyre Thursday which would have the effect of preventing him from complaining further against the cardinal.

At his news conference earlier this month Father DuBay said: "Having been disciplined several times for speaking on the issue, I was threatened a year ago with suspension of priestly duties if I continued to preach that integration is a moral issue.

"In private, Cardinal McIntyre stated that there are many valid reasons for segregation, and declared that, 'After all, white parents have a right to protect their daughters.'"

The cardinal himself has made no comment on the matter. He is also on a retreat. The chancery has declined to mention the matter.

Thursday, The Tidings, the 127,000 weekly circulation paper which is the official voice of the archdiocese, denied the young priest's accusations in a lengthy editorial.

Thursday night Msgr. Benjamin G. Hawkes, chancellor of the archdiocese, told newsmen: "Father DuBay has gone on retreat and after that will go on vacation. As far as we are concerned, the case is closed."

NEWSMEN INFORMED

News men were informed Father DuBay would go on retreat Monday at St. John's Major Seminary at Camarillo, Calif., and then go on three weeks vacation. After that he will become a parish priest at some undisclosed location.

He was an assistant to the pastor at St. Albert the Great Catholic Church in Compton, Calif., in a predominantly Negro area when he made his letter public.

Now trained to teach student pilots to fly jets, he is being assigned to an Air Training Command (ATC) unit at Vance AFB, Okla.

His squadron supports the ATC mission of training airman and officers in the diverse skills required by the nation's aerospace force.

The lieutenant, who received his B.S. degree from Michigan Technological University, was commissioned through the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Program there. He is a member of Phi Kappa Tau.

Lt. Col. Fred E. Karhoh, whose wife Jo Ann lives at 3890 Oakland Drive, Birmingham, was graduated from the U. S. Army War College, the senior military educational institution, at Carlisle Barracks, Pa. recently.

Graduation followed intensive study preparing the students for high-level staff and command assignments within the Armed Forces and Federal government.

Col. Karhoh is a 1959 graduate of the University of Omaha and a member of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

The federal Area Development Administration approved $58 loans and grants last year representing an investment of $218,291,000, the Department of Commerce reports.

Commissioned Officers School, junior leadership course, at Camp Pendleton, Calif. is Marine Corporal Don P. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brent C. Davis of 308 Newport.

Among his studies were effective methods of leadership and the training of other Marines. Davis also received training in weapons, map reading, first aid, hand-to-hand combat and small unit tactics.

Commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force upon graduation recently from Officer Training School (OTS) at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, to train for a commission as a second lieutenant.

His wife Wilma is the daughter of Mrs. Ethel M. Willis of 701 Cameron.

A graduate of Pontiac Central High School, Smith attended the University of Michigan prior to entering the Air Force in October of 1960. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Marine Cpl. Lindell J. Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Perry of 67 Pingree Street graduated this month from personnel administrative clerk school, Schools' Battalion, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Among his studies were personnel accounting, pay and allowances, travel and special orders. The school is designed to train Marines in the handling of enlisted and officer service records and other administrative work.

News of Area Service Personnel

Seven area servicemen have been among those recently graduated in their respective branches of the service.

Staff Sgt. Raymond H. Smith, son of Dr. and Mrs. Donald S. Smith of 4774 Stoneleigh Road, Bloomfield Hills, was graduated from Ohio State University with a bachelor of science degree in mathematics.

Smith studied for his degree through the Air Force's airman education and commissioning program. Upon graduation he is scheduled to enter the Air Force officer training school at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, to train for a commission as a second lieutenant.

Nervous New Dad in Waiting Deserves Some Credit, Too

Waiting:
Delmar Milbacker

Has It Happened?

"Pop," "Dad," "Father," "Sir" or "Hey, Fella" — Whatever you call your own, don't underestimate him.

He has several months warning of your coming but nothing prepares him for "that" day.

Four young men went through a version of "that" day between 2 and 5 p.m. Wednesday. The symptoms were universal: nervous fingers, half smiles, lopsided jokes, and long, long looks out the door and down the corridor.

Delmar Milbacker, 251 Conklin, Orion Township, a father of three, thought he was a veteran until Wednesday.

His wife called him at work saying "It's five minutes, but it's plenty of time." The veteran panicked.

FALSE ALARM

Four weeks before, he and his wife, Carol, had waited hours for a "false alarm."

"I guess she just didn't want to go through that again," said Milbacker, "but Whew!"

Lee Ann, 8, Randy, 6, and

At Pontiac General Hospital, Kyle Hubbard, of 356 Auburn,

Pontiac Press Photos by Phil Webb

Avon Township, had recovered nicely from the birth of his daughter, Lisa Renee, on Monday.

By Wednesday he was able to smile broadly and say: "She's the one in the blue blanket."

Delmore Logan, 997 Kettering, started waiting Wednesday afternoon.

From all appearances he was an old pro. He had waited four hours for son Steven, 10, and 12 hours for Mark, 6. Nevertheless, he admitted: "I'm not as relaxed as I look."

At 12:11 a.m. this morning his third son was born.

C. Terence Eaton, of 4873

Pontiac Trail, Wixom, was a classic case.

He and his wife arrived at St. Joseph at 4:30 a.m. Wednesday. At 2:30 p.m. he was still waiting.

Enter Doctor Eaton jumped up and disappeared down the corridor.

LOST HIS BET

When he saw his wife he reported: "She just looked at me and laughed and I knew it was a girl and I'd lost the bet ($5.00, that it would be a boy)."

With him at the hospital were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eaton of 4907 Duck Lake, Highland, and his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jankovic of Jackson.

Later that day, Eaton smiled his way down the corridor with a box of cigars in his hands. He said that he had recovered fairly well and that his wife baby was fine. But after all, he added, "All she had was a

'Mystery Man' Stirs Trial

Lunch Date Was in Mood for a 'Mootini'

DETROIT (UPI)—Mention of a "mystery man" stirred a row yesterday in the murder trial of Birmingham stockbroker Robert Thorson, who is accused of slaying his mother-in-law Dec. 3, 1962.

Attorneys on both sides clashed over a missing statement which Detective Lt. Sebastian Elfrid testified police took from a neighbor during their investigation in December 1962.

Elfrid said a statement taken from a neighbor of the strangled woman mentioned a suspicious man "he'd seen a week before the murder in front of his home."

Judge Elvin Davenport adjourned the trial after ruling that defense counsel Konrad Kohl had the right to see the statement which Elfrid said was probably in the prosecutor's office files.

Thorson, 32, is on trial for the second time for the death of his mother-in-law, who lived alone. The first jury was unable to agree on a verdict.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The sign atop the Hyatt House, a hotel - restaurant, said: "June is dairy month. Take a cow to lunch."

So Ray Hansen and his daughter, Ann, did. Hansen is president of the Dairy Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Betty Lou, the bovine, consumed some hay in the restaurant Thursday. She dressed for the occasion in a flowered straw bonnet.

The sign atop the Hyatt House that afternoon said: "Guess what? A cow came to lunch. And had a mootini."

Officials Preparing for Rights Enforcement

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What will happen after passage of the civil rights bill?

Top government officials have been working quietly behind the scenes for months to prepare the way for enactment of the wide-ranging measure.

The key role in its enforcement will be played by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and the Justice Department.

On Kennedy will fall the duty of deciding when to institute legal action in connection with violations of the bill.

Standing second only to Kennedy in importance will be the person President Johnson selects as director of the "Community Relations Service," established under one section of the rights measure.

His duties will be to work with local and state agencies to settle racial problems through conciliation.

White House sources said top priority had been given to screening possible nominees for the Community Relations post because the Senate must pass on Johnson's appointee and the President wants him to take office as soon as possible.

Johnson also must name the five members of the newly created "Equal Employment Opportunities Commission."

This panel was set up under the rights bill to aid in resolving job bias disputes and to refer them to the attorney general for legal action if necessary.

PREPARING DRAFTS

Lawyers in nearly every federal agency and department are preparing draft regulations to cover Title VI, one of the most controversial sections of the bill, which bars use of federal funds in areas where discriminatory practices persist.

It was still uncertain whether a blanket White House order would be issued to cover Title VI, or whether each department would formulate its own regulations to deal with its own problems.

Among the federal agencies most intimately involved in rights enforcement will be the Office of Education which will have to aid in desegregating schools.

The Civil Rights Commission, of course, will also have a great workload, mostly in connection with voting rights.

"We have not wanted to be too obvious in our planning, to point too much of a finger at executive planning while Congress was still considering the bill," one official said. "But now . . . we are accelerating our efforts."

In addition to the preparations of government agencies and departments, the President and other top-ranking officials have been conducting a campaign of education on the bill and its provisions.

There have been suggestions that Johnson call a White House conference on civil rights, but as yet no decision has been made.

PROVISIONS OF BILL

One of the principal purposes of such a conference would be to educate the public on the bill's provisions.

"There will be a need to sort out the various misinformation that has been distributed," one official said, "or the information that has changed."

as a result of amendments" to the measure.

Johnson told a group of industrialists at a White House meeting in April that passage of the civil rights bill "only leaves us on the side of the hill, with the big peak still above us."

"To reach that peak is going to require the cooperation, the good will, the moral courage, the determination, the good sense and the patriotism of every single American."

PROBLEMS OF SOCIETY

"The problems of our society will not automatically disappear with the passage of that bill, you can be sure. They will still have to be dealt with by all Americans."

"The civil rights bill in addition to law the directions that we must take as individuals."

"Now, how swiftly and how harmoniously, how effectively we take those directions depends in measure on the leadership of men and women like you," the President said.

Toward that end administration officials have been meeting informally with public officials, businessmen, attorneys, and leaders of religious, women's, labor and education groups from all over the nation to work out voluntary local action.

Since July 12 of last year, the Justice Department has held a total of 21 such meetings, officials said.

The President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity has stepped up its efforts to get signed "Plans for Progress" agreements from employers all over the nation.

Debt Ceiling Next in Senate

Hike Passes House After Partisan Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has another urgent piece of business to take up soon after it disposes of the civil rights bill—legislation to raise the national debt ceiling by $9 billion to $324 billion.

The House passed the legislation 203 to 182 Thursday after a stiff partisan battle. Twenty-eight Democrats crossed over, while no Republican-backed debt limit boost, which would apply through June 30, 1965.

Unless the Senate acts by July 1, the debt limit will drop automatically to $295 billion, well below the actual debt. Prompt action is expected.

CEILING DROP

The debt ceiling would drop from the present $315 billion to $295 billion on June 30, and the next day it would revert to the permanent limit of $267 billion. The debt now is about $313 billion.

Republicans tried to send the debt limit bill back to the Ways and Means Committee for consideration of a four-year figure. The senior Republican member of the committee, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, said a vote for the administration-sought ceiling in effect backed what he called spending programs like the domestic peace corps and mass transportation programs.

OU Announces New Director

Oakland University announced the appointment today of a new director of university relations.

Named to the post was Troy F. Crowder, 40, of Montana State University, Missoula, Mont.

Crowder succeeds Loren B. Pope, who resigned last fall to join the staff of the Educational Research Council of Greater Cleveland.

Assistant to the president at Montana State, Crowder holds a master's degree in journalism from Iowa State University.

He is married and has one son. He formerly was director of development and assistant to the president of Educational Television and Radio Center, Ann Arbor.

He takes over his new post July 1.

New Clinic for Cancer

NEW YORK (AP) — A cancer clinic, where each case will be diagnosed and treated by a team of specialists, will be opened this year in Athens, Greece, by Columbia University.

First such facility to be established in a foreign country, it will be operated by doctors who are natives of Greece but who were trained at the Francis DeBakey Hospital, the special cancer hospital of the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center here.

The clinic will be guided by a joint administrative committee from Columbia University and the University of Athens.

Botrytis Blight Dries
Peony Plants' Bloom

Botrytis blight often causes peony buds to dry up without developing into blossoms.

Spraying with Bordeaux mixture every 10 days from the time the leaves break through the ground until the flowers open should effect a control.

Increasing Pachysandra

Take cuttings of pachysandra anytime during spring or summer.

Make the cuttings of partly hardened growth about four inches long.

Insert in sandy moist soil in sheltered place until rooted.

Ajuga Replants Hides Shady, Bare Spots

Ajuga reptans, sometimes called "tongue plant," is a good ground cover.

A plant that does well in the shade, it blooms in May and June.

Fathers Like Gardening Too

One of the nicer things you can do for a gardening Dad is to make sure he's well potted with the clay variety, of course.

As more and more men turn to pot gardening as a relaxing hobby, a good selection of fresh-assorted-sized clay pots can make a thoughtful and welcome gift.

Long regarded by professional gardeners and nurserymen as the ideal plant containers, porous red clay pots now range from one inch to 14 and 16 inches in diameter and height. They accommodate anything from seedlings to the largest foliage or flowering plant.

Odds are that with a good sized clay pot warming him at his disposal, Dad will grow a wider and more colorful variety of flowering and foliage plants this summer.

And as an added dividend, many of the plants he grows will be able to winter in your home, retaining much of the warmth of summer by their presence.

Use Bluegrasses for Sunny Spots

Fescues are excellent all-around lawngresses but generally a better soil results when Kentucky bluegrass is included with the fine fescues.

The fescues do well in sunny locations in the north and are good shade grasses.

Globe Thistle Tops for "Blue Garden"

Planning a "blue garden"? Don't forget Echinops, commonly called the globe thistle.

These bold, showy plants are easy to grow in ordinary garden soil. Their flower heads are set with spiny bracts, with each bract a beautiful blue.

Prune early flowering shrubs as soon as the blooms fade.

Are Battle Weary!

By L. GARY THORNE

If lately, the guy at the next desk has appeared at work each morning bleary-eyed and weary, he may be a beetle eater.

And, what is a "stomper"? First and foremost, a "stomper" is a dedicated tree lover. Next to mother, God and country, a "stomper" loves trees—beautiful green, full-leaved trees.

He is devoted to the proposition that all trees, especially his trees, shall have the opportunity to grow and prosper. And, that, woefully, is the problem. "Stompers" are at war with June bugs, giant finch beetles that feed off of tree leaves.

Attacking in hordes, these winged devils collectively can strip an unprotected tree, nibbling away what one day was destined to provide shade for a tired lawn cutter.

The stomper is prepared to defend his right to shade. Red, faced and pulsating, the home owner prepares for battle.

First, an old straw hat is donned, furnishing "fall-out" protection. Second, the too-small army boots are brought from the garage. It has been determined that an extra-large foot is a definite advantage, although wives have been known to compensate for this by wearing their husbands' boots.

Gloves are optional, it depends if you're squeamish. Short-sleeved shirts are preferred, a soldier must be light and mobile.

During late May or early June, depending on the weather, June bugs take the offensive. This is the time when the tree lover must be on guard.

These nonsinging beetles prefer warm, damp weather for their feasting. They arise from a day of slumber about 9 p.m. and gorge themselves until midnight.

A visit to residential areas during this part of the evening will reveal a full-scale battle. Areas near open fields are particularly vulnerable to attack.

Home owners can be seen swatting the air, sweeping leaves clean and stomping, always stomping.

With gleeful shouts, the tree protector picks the June bug from the leaf, crashes it to the ground and stomps with a heavy foot.

Stomping appears to be the principal defense. Insecticides are too slow, allowing the June bug time (two to three hours) to eat his fill before killing him.

One veteran "stomper," residing on a busy battlefield, has calculated that June bugs follow a three-year cycle. This spring has been one of the worst years.

The leafeaters also have a preference in diet, according to intelligence reports.

Maple, mountain ash, sunburst locust, birch and dogwood are popular items on the June bug's menu. However, forsythia and pear trees appear to be distasteful.

A cherry tree is a particular delicacy for the bug. Some flowery shrubs are likewise appetizing, while a peach tree will do if nothing else is available.

The tide appears to have turned for this year, the June bug has been routed. However, next spring is another battle or maybe another June bug.
