SPOOFNIK — There are quite a few of these around town, if you know where to look. A Dallas News photographer taking pictures of new Pontiacs dropped his fedora atop the taillights of the new model, and came up with this creation. This might be the "thing" that pilots the saucer-like objects sighted over that region.

Motor Scooters Sure to Make Pontiac Mail Carriers Happy

Those little three-wheeled motor scooters that make the life of a postman happier are coming to Pontiac, experimentally.

Ten of the vehicles, especially designed and developed by the Post Office Department, will make an experimental appearance on Pontiac streets "in the near future," according to Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak).

GETS THE WORD

Broomfield said he received word yesterday from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield Jr.

Tentatively pronounced a good investment after lengthy experiment in Florida, the scooter—called a "mailster" by the post office — is about to make its bow all over the country. The post office hopes it can save up to $600 per vehicle annually by using "mailsters."

In Pontiac, "mailsters" probably will be used mostly in residential districts where homes are few and far apart, said Broomfield. They should save the walking lettercarrier time and shoe-leather and cut down on the added expense of delivering parcel post by truck.

"Mailsters" should be able to handle both letters and parcel post quickly and more cheaply, the post office figures.

Use of "mailsters" here is on an experimental basis, Broomfield said, since it is not known how the scooters will make out on Pontiac's hilly, snowy streets during winter time.

"The vehicle was successful in Florida, but the terrain is mostly level there with no snow or ice. Pontiac should be a real challenge to the 'mailster' this winter," Broomfield said.

Altogether, Broomfield said, 1,500 "mailsters" will go into experimental use all over the nation.

Ike and Cabinet Talk Spending

Next Year's Legislative Program Also Slated for Special Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and his Cabinet today discuss administration spending and legislative programs for next year against the backdrop of Russia's continuing achievement in outer space.

The President called his key advisers to a special session and plans further discussion of domestic and foreign policy programs at Friday's regular weekly meeting of the Cabinet.

This is only the sixth time since Eisenhower took office in 1953 that his Cabinet has been summoned to two sessions in a single week.

Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California confers with President Eisenhower today for what may be a face-saving transfer into a 1958 race for the Senate.

Knight has been saying for some months he would not withdraw as a candidate for renomination despite the entry of Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) into the governorship contest. But he is now reported ready to change his mind.

Anne Wheaton, assiciate White House press secretary, told a news conference late yesterday the two cabinet meetings arranged for this week reflect no emergency.

Charles E. Wilson Returns to GM

Former Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson has returned to General Motors Corp. as a member of its board of directors.

He was elected at a meeting of the board of directors in New York Monday. Wilson was chief executive officer of GM when he resigned January 26, 1953 to enter President Eisenhower's cabinet. He joined the firm in 1919.

Wilson lives at his W. Long Lake Road estate, Longmeadow, in Bloomfield Township.

'If You Have an Ulcer'

Wasting Time No Waste

OMAHA (AP) — There are times when wasting time is not a waste of time.

That can be particularly true if you have an ulcer, says Dr. Eric F. Wollaeger of the Mayo Foundation, Rochester, Minn.

Some people who so suffer should start doing what they consider to be a waste of time, he adds, because then they wouldn't be wasting time at all. They would be helping the ulcer to heal.

People who think they have to be producing something all the time are expecting too much of themselves, he says. They don't know how to relax and they are the kind that get ulcers.

Dr. Wollaeger, told the Midwest Clinical Society it doesn't do any good to tell a person to stop being nervous. That only makes him worry about how to stop worrying.

West Weighs Significance

Claim New Fuel Powered Sputnik

WASHINGTON (AP) — The West today weighed the significance of a Russian announcement that new instruments and sources of power were used to send Sputnik II and its dog passenger more than 1,000 miles into space.

Some doubts were expressed that the Russians had used any revolutionary new kind of fuel, but no one could be certain.

American scientists, who have received meager information from the Russians on Sputnik I and Sputnik II, had to rely mainly on their own studies and knowledge in reaching any conclusions.

Laika, the fluffy little female dog making a lonely space journey aboard the half-ton Sputnik II, was reported by the Russians to have come through her first 24 hours aloft in satisfactory condition.

The Soviet news agency Tass said in Moscow that this was confirmed by recordings of Laika's pulse, breathing, blood pressure and other information sent back by the satellite's radio transmitters.

However, there appeared to be differences of opinion among Russian specialists as to Laika's life expectancy.

Officials at the Soviet Planetarium suggested the dog may be parachuted back to earth. But Prof. Kiril P. Sanyukovich, a Russian rocket expert, implied Laika may die encased in the huge satellite sent aloft last Saturday night.

Russia's pioneer earth satellite, launched Oct. 4, took a back

2 State Elections May Set Trend

New Jersey, Virginia Governor's Race Could Preview 1960 Results

WASHINGTON (INS) — Governors of two states will be elected today, along with scores of other officers, in what could be a preview of the 1960 presidential race.

The most important contest is in New Jersey, where Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner is opposed by GOP State Sen. Malcolm S. Forbes, wealthy publisher who has received active campaign backing from Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

★ ★ ★

In Virginia, the school integration issue has completely dominated the campaign of former state attorney general J. Lindsay Almond, a Democrat, against Republican Ted Dalton. Almond supports the state's "massive resistance" program against any form of integration, while Dalton wants local school boards to decide each case.

In both the New Jersey and Virginia contests, Democrats are favored to win. But an upset GOP victory, a close vote, or a Democratic landslide, would have special significance.

Two House seats also will be decided today. In New Jersey's Second District, a successor will be named to the late GOP Rep. T. Millet Hand. Running for the vacancy are Republican Milton W. Glenn, the favorite, and Democrat Joseph Hancock.

★ ★ ★

In Pennsylvania, Republican John A. Lafore Jr. is favored over Democrat Glenn W. Preston.

Among numerous city contests, most attention is focused on New York, where incumbent Democrat Robert F. Wagner is expected to win over Republican Robert E. Christenberry.

Cutter Reports 'Brilliant Planet'

Coast Guard Sighting Backs Stories From the Southwest

(From Our Wire Services)

NEW ORLEANS—A Coast Guard cutter reported today sighting an unidentified flying object, described as a "brill'ant planet," traveling at a high rate of speed over the Gulf of Mexico.

★ ★ ★

The New Orleans Coast Guard station said it received a radio message from the cutter Sebago, which reported the sighting at 5:21 a.m. (CST) at a positon of 25.47 north latitude and 89.24 west longitude or about 200 miles directly south of the mouth of the Mississippi River.

Meanwhile at Lubbock, Tex., a missile engineer reported seeing a "brilliant colored egg-shaped object" which stalled autos in New Mexico yesterday at about the same time the Air Force started an investigation into similar reports.

Witnesses say a mystery object skipped about the countryside at Lubbock and near scientific military bases in New Mexico over the weekend. The reported sightings startled citizens, peace officers and servicemen but apparently left no concrete trace.

★ ★ ★

James Stokes, 45, an engineer from the Air Force Missile Development Center at Holloman Air Force Base, Alamagordo, N.M., told news director Terry Clark of KALG, Alamogordo, 10 autos were stopped on an isolated desert highway U. S. 54 between White Sands Proving Grounds and Alamogordo yesterday.

Witnesses said other strange lights were seen over other parts of Texas, near Chicago and in Virginia.

Court Rejects Hoffa's Appeal to Head Union

Bars Chief of Teamsters Until Ruling on Legality of Convention Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa will be barred from the Teamsters Union presidency until a court determines the legality of the convention which elected him.

The U. S. Court of Appeals, rejecting Hoffa's appeal, extended and continued yesterday a temporary injunction issued earlier by U. S. Judge F. Dickinson Letts.

It broadened the order to provide that no constitutional changes made by the convention shall be put into effect pending the hearing.

The head of another union, President James G. Cross of the Bakers Union, indicated meanwhile he has no intention of leaving that office as ordered by the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

Both Hoffa and Cross have been charged by a special Senate investigating committee with misusing union funds and the powers of their offices. The AFL-CIO has called for expulsion of both.

Hoffa's immediate troubles stem, however, from a court suit brought by a group of 13 New York union members who contend that the convention which elected him was rigged.

ASKS EARLY TRIAL

The appeals court yesterday directed Judge Letts to expedite a hearing on the charges, and said the injunction may be softened if there is undue delay. A trial date is expected to be determined soon.

Cross' notice that he will oppose ouster was in the form of a circular to the union's 150,000 members. He said a decision will be made at a union executive board meeting Nov. 14.

He said the union prefers to remain within the AFL-CIO, but "we are resigned to leaving if we are forced out."

In Miami, attorney Hyman I. Fischbach predicted today that Hoffa "will emerge as the strong man in America's labor movement."

The Government yesterday dropped its conspiracy - bribery charges against Fischbach, originally a co-defendant with Hoffa.

More Cloudy Skies for Pontiac Area

The U. S. Weather Bureau reports more cloudy skies for the Pontiac area tonight. Little change in temperatures is expected. Tonight's low will be 36-40.

Tomorrow and tomorrow night will be cloudy with a high of 46-50 during the day and a low of 36-40 expected during the night.

In a five-day forecast, the Weather Bureau says temperatures will average slightly below normal, the normal high being 52 and the normal low 36. The cool temperatures are expected to continue through the week with showers possible Wednesday and again on Saturday.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 40. At 2 p.m. the reading was 46.

Owner of Parking Lots Believed Donor of Gifts

Witness Won't Reveal Where Money Was Spent in Labor Investigation

Two Pontiac stores and the owner of a chain of parking lots in the city today were linked in the investigation by the Senate Rackets Committee in Washington.

Listed were Simms Brothers, Inc., 98 N. Saginaw St., Arthur's Women Apparel, 48 N. Saginaw St., and a Sam Stalonow, believed to be Sam L. Stolorow, of 59 Wayne St.

They were named by a committee spokesman as to where and to whom $656 in "selected entertainment and Christmas gifts" were charged by George Kamenow, former top Michigan aide to Nathan Shefferman.

Kamenow refused to tell committee investigators where this money went, and for what purpose it was charged. He took the Fifth Amendment several times. He also tried to invoke provisions of the Michigan Constitution.

With Kamenow in the witness chair, the committee placed in evidence a list, with few details, showing "selected entertainment and transportation expenses" charged to employers which Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said was culled from daily reports made by Kamenow to his superiors.

In this list were found the three local names.

The list also included charges against employers in Detroit, Dearborn, Flint and Saginaw.

Kamenow allegedly charged $103 on Dec. 12, 1956 for entertainment and transportation expenses at Simms.

Committee members said there was a total of $503 in Christmas gifts charged by Kamenow and directed to Stalonow, as it was spelled in the list.

There was a $50 charge shown in the listings as made by Kamenow at Arthur's.

Representatives of the stores, as well as Stolorow, could not be reached immediately for comment.

The Stolorow accounts were shown in $103, $100 and $300 separate charges dating from Dec. 18, 1954 for the first and Dec. 4, 1956 for the $300.

The $100 payment allegedly was charged on Nov. 7, 1956, according to the committee spokesman.

The list showed the charge at Arthur's to have reportedly been made by Kamenow on Dec. 19, 1956.

Champion of Civil Rights to Address Dem Dinner

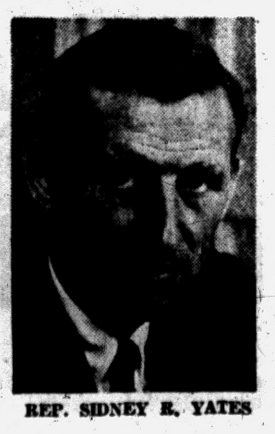

Oakland County Democrats will kick off fund-raising for the 1958 congressional campaign at their third annual congressional dinner tomorrow night in Elks Temple.

Principal speaker will be Rep. Sidney R. Yates (D-Chicago) a fifth-term congressman and civil rights champion.

BACK CANDIDATE

Proceeds from $13.50-per-couple tickets will go to support the county's Democratic candidate in the congressional elections next fall.

Special invitations have been sent to more than 15 top state Democrats, including Gov. Williams, Sen. McNamara and state chairman Neil Staebler.

REP. SIDNEY R. YATES

The dinner is being sponsored by the County Democratic Committee, whose regular funds for county candidates are kept separate from those used in the congressional campaign.

Mrs. Margaret Sutton is banquet chairman, with a 35-member ticket committee co-chaired by Pontiac State Rep. Leslie H. Hudson, who has announced his candidacy for Democratic nomination as congressman next year.

Rep. Yates, a Chicago attorney, also is noted for his opposition to what he calls "discriminatory" immigration legislation. He has favored more liberal social security benefits, anti-monopoly acts, rent-control, minimum interference by the government in collective bargaining and federal aid to education.

Other banquet committee chairmen: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott, publicity; Mrs. Cynthia Nelsey and Mrs. Faye Moskowitz, reception; William John Beer and Philip Rowston, arrangements; Mrs. James Clarkson, decorations; Howard Arnold and Hudson, tickets; and Robert Boyer and Sherwood Colburn, program.

August Scholle will be toastmaster.

Testifies Scott Sought to Marry

Pretty Divorcee Tells of Proposal at Banker's Murder Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An attractive divorcee testified L. Ewing Scott proposed to her before and after his wife's disappearance was made public.

"Mr. Scott asked me if I would marry him and I agreed I would," Mrs. Marianne Beaman said yesterday at Scott's murder trial.

ASKED AGAIN

"Later, when Mrs. Scott's disappearance was made public, he asked me if I would still marry him and I said I would after his problems were settled."

* * *

She said the first proposal was early in 1956, five or six months after she met Scott at a party. The second, she said, was about the middle of the year, soon after it came to official attention that Mrs. Evelyn Throsby Scott, 63, had disappeared.

The prosecution claims that Scott, 61-year-old former investment broker, killed his wife in May of 1955 and hid her body. It has never been found.

TELLS OF VISITS

Mrs. Beaman, 47, told of two overnight visits with Scott to a swank San Diego club late in 1955. She signed the name "Mrs. L. E. Scott" to a restraint check. She told of a trip to Las Vegas where she was introduced as "Mrs. Scott" and of four visits to Scott's home.

* * *

"Mr. Scott told me that Mrs. Scott had left him voluntarily," she testified. "He mentioned his reasons for believing why she left. One of them was that she had tried to poison him."

The state accuses Scott of killing his wife so he could get her $600,000 fortune.

Discuss Negro Role in City Life

The Negroes' role in urban society was discussed by a panel of community Negro leaders before a meeting of Pontiac School principals and administrators yesterday.

Held at Will Rogers School, the program was arranged by the Urban League as part of its program to improve relationships between the Negro community and the Pontiac school system.

On the panel were: Mrs. Anna Williams, Oakland County Children's Home; John F. Perdue, principal of Bagley School; Mrs. Everett Spurlock, supervisor of Oakland County Red Cross Chapter and Everett Spurlock, executive secretary of the Pontiac Urban League, moderator.

Others were the Rev. Joseph Parker, board of education member; Virginia Mills, Oakland County Family Service; and Otis Lawrence, regional staff of the United Auto Workers. They were introduced by Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, chairman of the meeting.

CHIEF POINTS NOTED

Among the salient points made by the panel were:

1. More Negro teachers should be placed in what are now all-white schools.

2. Segregation in housing is the primary cause of segregation in the Pontiac School system.

3. Both white and colored students need to attend classes together on the elementary level to avoid difficulties at the junior and senior high school levels when they are socially conscious.

* * *

4. All white school staff who might object if asked if they would "mind" working with a colored teacher do not object if the colored teacher is assigned to their school without their prior knowledge.

5. The difficulties some Negro students have in adjusting to school stems from their southern rural background rather than from their race.

After the meeting, several principals asked the panel to repeat the program at their school for the benefit of the teaching staffs.

The Pontiac Board of Education this year has embarked upon a number of public relations programs to improve relations with the Negro community.

Two Pontiac Stores Named in Probe expenses allegedly were charged.

The list, covering a period from Feb. 8, 1953 to Dec. 31, 1956, totaled $33,710.22. It reported expenditures to provide gifts including free rifles and a hunting trip, long list of Christmas gifts not described, theater parties, special purchases and other items.

McClellan said Kamenow would be questioned about these whether or not he was willing to answer.

* * *

In the list were some items also charged to Shefferman's LRA firm. One of $181.95 was followed by a notation of "sales expenses; see me." Another in 1955 for $162.-26 was marked "expenses; see me for explan. GK."

A $1,655 item charged to LRA last December was marked "Xmas gifts see GK for list."

Kamenow refused also to hand over his personal financial books and records which the committee had attempted to subpoena.

In sharp tones, McClellan told Kamenow "I can see no difference" between crooked union leaders who take refuge in the Fifth Amendment when called to account, and representatives of business who also invoke the Fifth.

* * *

McClellan ordered Kennedy to ask every question about the thousands of dollars Kennedy charges Kamenow has received since 1955 from employers and passed out to still unidentified Teamster Union or other union officials "for purpose of union busting . . . by subtle means."

Kamenow made no reply to McClellan's remarks.

Kennedy said a possibly incomplete recapitulation made by committee investigators indicated Kamenow received $30,529.73 in 1955 for the same purposes.

He said Kamenow received $15,-000 salary plus $18,000 bonus from Shefferman in each of those years.

* * *

Kamenow refused to reply to that, repeating his monotonous refusal to testify against himself.

In the years cited, Kamenow was Michigan manager of Labor Relations Associates, Inc., a Chicago firm headed by Shefferman. McClellan has termed it a union busting outfit that plied union officials with costly gifts and lush free vacations in order to influence them.

The committee's current inquiry is centered on Shefferman's activities, and Kamenow came into it only as an agent of Shefferman.

Oakland GOP to Raise Funds

Member, Finance Drive Gets Under Way Nov. 7 for Republicans

Oakland County Republicans will hold their first combined membership - finance drive Nov. 7 to 17, county chairman Arthur G. Elliot Jr. has announced.

The objective is monthly pledges totaling $5,000 for local, state and national party needs, Elliot said.

* * *

Heading the campaign is Richard C. Van Dusen, of Birmingham, whose lieutenant, Rovere G. Counselman, of Birmingham is in charge of gaining as many pledges as possible in order to broaden the party's financial base, Van Dusen said.

Van Dusen said the second part of the party's current financial campaign will be to program fund-raising activities "to permit careful and realistic advance budgeting of expenditures."

The membership drive will be conducted through existing city and township organizations, using the block, worker system, Van Dusen said. A number of area chairmen have already been named, he said, including:

* * *

Robert C. Miller, of Pontiac; Loy Sutherland, Lake Orion; Gerald Warren, Rochester; Wright Hill, Birmingham; Peter Finn, Franklin; Ted Simon, Oak Park; James Preisch, Royal Oak and Norman Gilmore, Pleasant Ridge.

The Day in Birmingham

Large Audience Hears Last Home Zoning Talks

BIRMINGHAM — Better attendance at last night's informal hearing saw the conclusion of the discussion on residence zoning.

City Planner Herbert Herzberg again explained that the new ordinance was formulated with the object of providing best use possible for all lands within the city.

He also told his listeners that the entire plan was based on minimum changes in the present ordinance and zoning maps.

Ralph Manuel, stressing that his remarks were strictly personal and did not reflect the opinions of his company or the Birmingham Real Estate Board, congratulated Herzberg on the job he has done.

He likened present property owners and future buyers to football teams with Herzberg the lone man on the 50 yard line.

Manuel said Herzberg's job is to protect the interests of both teams, and at the same time perform the greater task of coming up with a plan most beneficial to the city at large.

Several members of the audience had personal misunderstandings explained and cleared while others were referred to future meetings.

Next Monday night the informal hearing will include parking, district B-4, and industrial zoning. Districts B-1, 2 and 3 will be considered the following week.

Findings of these meetings will be analyzed and studied before the final, formal hearing as scheduled.

Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley and Detective Lt. Merlin Holmquist are attending police training school in Washington this week.

Mrs. Marjorie Estes, president of Unit 3, MOMS of America, received approval of her request for a city contribution of $10 for the Veterans Day program here.

Mayor William Roberts will give the welcoming address at the 1:30 p.m. opening in the Community House. Mrs. Estes said the two-hour affair would deal with the hospitalized veteran, the young service man and national legislation affecting them.

A memorial tribute will be paid to Birmingham soldiers who died during World War II and the Korean Conflict.

City commissioners are asking Mrs. R. K. Ford to select one of the two dates, Dec. 2 or 3, requested for the 1957 Muscular Dystrophy Drive in the area.

Wendel Brown Is New President

County GOP May Slate Nixon as 1958 Speaker

Vice President Richard E. Nixon may make a personal appearance before Oakland County Republicans early next year, members of the Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club were told last night by outgoing club president George F. Taylor.

* * *

"I spoke with Sen. Potter (R-Mich) last week about whether it is possible to have Mr. Nixon as the speaker at our February banquet," said Taylor.

* * *

"There are indications that there is some real hope he may appear here. It would be a great honor for our club."

The Republican club voted to hold its annual banquet the week of Feb. 10, at the Pontiac Elks Temple, if possible.

Taylor, who is chief assistant Oakland County prosecutor, was succeeded as president by Wendel Brown a Farmington Township attorney.

* * *

Brown, a Farmington Township trustee, is a former assistant attorney general, former president of the Detroit Bar Association, and a former president of the Farmington School Board. Other new officers:

* * *

Gordon Haupt, of Royal Oak, first vice president; William Judy of Berkley, second vice president; Mrs. Herman Luhrs of Lathrup, third vice president; Byron Cole of Waterford Township, fourth vice president; Mrs. Genevieve Schock of Berkley, secretary; and Mrs. Daniel T. Murphy Jr. of Pontiac, treasurer.

seat as world attention focused on the much larger Sputnik II.

The first satellite, a sphere said by the Russians to weigh about 184 pounds, has completed nearly 500 trips around the earth. Its radio equipment is dead.

Sputnik II, actually the final stage of a carrier rocket, presumably has completed 22 revolutions around the globe. American scientists estimate this 1,120 pound satellite may be as much as 3½ feet in diameter and from 35 to 40 feet long.

PLOT ORBIT

An astronomer connected with Project Vanguard, the American space satellite program, said last night his latest calculations put the second satellite in an orbit ranging from 1,057 miles from earth at its farthest point to 103 miles at its closest.

The Russian announcement about new instruments and sources of power for Sputnik II came in a Moscow radio broadcast last night. It quoted a person identified only as "Academician Diskushin" as saying:

"A multi-stage carrier rocket of a new design with foolproof precision controls had to be used for putting the satellite into its computed orbit.

"The increase in the satellite's size to provide for a larger number of measuring the telemetering instruments, and even for an animal passenger, necessitated the development of improved new instruments and sources of power."

Death Takes Mrs. Luebke at Clarkston Area Home

Mrs. Edward Luebke, the 34-year-old Clarkston mother of 10 children died quietly last night at her home at 6571 Sashabaw Rd.

Mrs. Luebke was stricken with cancer on Mother's Day and after a series of operations asked to go back home to be with her family knowing her days were numbered.

Three of the youngest children, Judy, six months, Terry, 2, and Cindy, 3, were adopted. George, 7, went to live with relatives leaving Johnny, 5, Molly, 10, Edward 12, Elizabeth, 13, Susie, 14, and Lester, 15, at home.

* * *

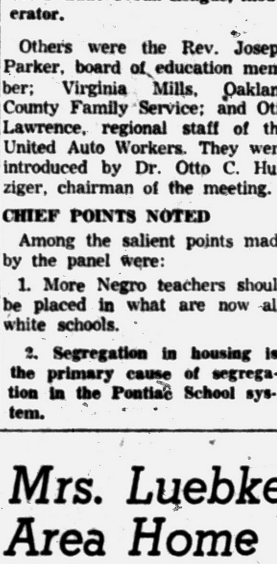

Luebke, a welder in a Pontiac factory, had been unemployed for some time and many current bills had accumulated during Mrs. Luebke's illness.

A "Mickey" Luebke Fund was established in the Clarkston State Bank by various church organizations making provisions for the children after the mother's death.

A fund raising campaign which covered Pontiac, Drayton Plains, and Clarkston netted more than $1500 according to Robert Jones, executive vice president of the bank. Rev. Elvin Mudge and Rev. Walter Gibson are the official executors of the trust fund.

Mrs. Luebke's body has been taken to the Sharpe Funeral Home in Clarkston. The funeral will be at 2 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 7.

Surviving are her mother and father and six sisters and two brothers, aside from her husband and children. The burial will be at Drayton Plains Cemetery.

Cancer Units to Get Orders About UF

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Cancer Society has decided to withdraw from all United Fund and Community Chest money-raising by 1960 and conduct its own financial crusade.

However, the cancer society's Detroit area division has ignored the parent organization's repudiation of alliances with federated fund drives and says:

"The action of the national board of directors calling for a termination of participation in federated fund raising by 1960 will have no effect on our current activities or program. We are participating fully with the present United Fund campaign."

The national society said it would pull out of united drives because it refused to surrender budget control and that it had demonstrated its own ability to raise money.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Is an inch of rain a heavy rainfall? How does it compare with an inch of snow?

An inch of rainfall is a very heavy rain. Over a one-acre parcel of land, an inch of rain means 603 45-gallon barrels of water have been released, or 27,143 gallons of water.

* * *

An inch of snow, however, does not constitute a heavy release of water from the clouds. It is estimated that ten inches of snow are required to equal, in water content, one inch of rainfall.

* * *

Thus, an eight or ten inch snowfall actually represents less than an inch of precipitation, measured in water or rain, which some of us hadn't realized.

Junior Editors Quiz on UNCLE SAM

QUESTION: Why is the United States called Uncle Sam?

ANSWER: On an election day, Uncle Sam often gets prominent notice. He is the symbol of the United States, just as a big man called John Bull is a symbol of England and a bear the symbol of Russia.

It isn't easy to determine just how Uncle Sam became a national figure. There is a story that critics of the government dreamed up the idea during the War of 1812. They saw the initials U.S., standing for United States, stamped on government supply wagons, and said they were the initials of a foolish fellow called "Uncle Sam." Gradually, however, people began to associate Uncle Sam with good American characteristics, and felt quite friendly to him. An unknown artist started drawing the character we know about 75 years ago.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Color Uncle Sam, giving him a blue coat with white stars, a blue hat, and pants striped red and white. Paste on cardboard, cut out around the black outer lines, fold back the tabs as indicated, and stand him up.

Gaillard Seeks to Lead France

Young Politician Seems Certain of Winning OK of National Assembly

By GODFREY ANDERSON

PARIS (AP) — Felix Gaillard, youngest man to seek the French premiership in more than 75 years, appeared certain of winning National Assembly approval today.

★ ★ ★

Endorsement of Gaillard and a Cabinet drawn from all factions except the Communists and the extreme-right Poujadists would install France's 24th postwar government and end a 36-day government crisis.

Gaillard is 38 today. The previous age record was set by Armand Fallieres, who took the job in 1883 at 41.

★ ★ ★

Experts reckoned the young financial expert should get at least 350 votes in the 595-member Assembly, even allowing for some individual defections.

★ ★ ★

Only the 149 Communists and fellow travelers and 42 Poujadists were ranged solidly against him.

★ ★ ★

In assembling his cabinet, Gaillard succeeded in the apparently impossible task of getting Socialists and Conservatives to serve together for the first time since 1951. But this was no promise that he could keep them on the same track in tackling the grave problems of finance and Algerian rebellion. The top men of both parties, ex-Premiers Guy Mollet and Antoine Pinay, refused to join the cabinet.

★ ★ ★

As finance minister in the last Cabinet headed by Maurice Bourges-Maunoury, Gaillard made headlines with a sweeping austerity program to bolster France's tottering government finances and foreign exchange position. He trimmed the budget, devalued the franc, slapped a 20 per cent tax on most imports and propagandized for a switch to cheaper foods to combat inflation.

★ ★ ★

Bourges - Maunoury resigned when the Assembly defeated his bill to give limited home rule to Algeria. Gaillard chose his former chief to be interior minister.

★ ★ ★

Gaillard also retained Socialist Christian Pineau as foreign minister and Robert Lacoste, another Socialist, as the government chief in Algeria, the key post he has held since Mollet became premier in January 1956.

Singer Allan Jones Seeks Fast Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Singer Allan Jones, 50, and his wife of 21 years say they hope to work out a quick divorce so he will be free to marry a shoe fortune heiress.

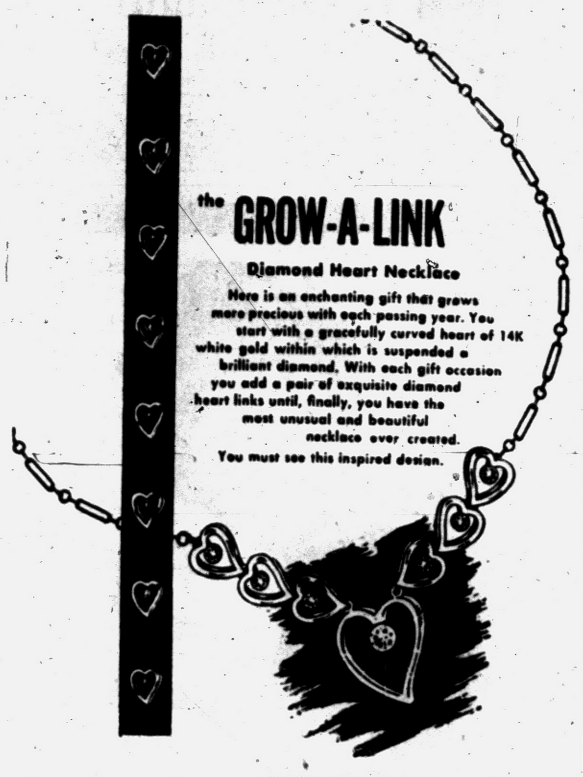

★ ★ ★

Jones told reporters he and Mary Florsheim Picking, 37, are "in love and want to get married." His present wife is former actress Irene Hervey.

★ ★ ★

Miss Heirvey, 48, charging cruelty, filed suit for divorce last September in nearby Santa Monica. She said she may seek a faster divorce than California's decree which takes a year. Mrs. Picking is the daughter of Irving S. Florsheim, board chairman of Florsheim Shoe Co.

Englishman Royal Favorite for Six Decades

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Sir Harry Brittain, a Yorkshireman who has known all the crowned heads of Europe since Queen Victoria's reign and every U. S. president since Teddy Roosevelt, has never been awed in his life.

Closest he came to it was in church on Christmas Eve, 1876, three years after his natal unveiling.

CHOIR SINGS

The choir was singing "Unto Us A Child Is Born" and Harry, for a moment only, was startled. Then, quickly regaining composure, he inquired, "Mummy, how did they know it's my birthday?"

A dozen years later, in his undergraduate days, Harry was vacationing on a boat off the Scandinavian fjords when a large craft bearing the insignia of Kaiser Wilhelm hove into view.

"By George, we must show some sign of recognition," said Harry, rushing for some black powder in the hold, which he promptly exploded with a blast that almost sank the prow beneath him.

KAISER SALUTED

"It was the first and only time in his life the kaiser had been saluted with one-gun," he recalls, "and he promptly pulled up alongside and joined us at lunch."

Sir Harry's social fearlessness has made him a favorite of the international "greats" of three generations, and he has founded and supported so many projects that by now, at age 83 years, 11 months, his "Who's Who" listing is longer than that of any Englishman alive.

He has crossed the Atlantic 62 times by ship and twice by air because of his deep affection for America ("a dear, sweet country"). In 1902 he was fortunate enough to make a good friend of the president, Teddy Roosevelt. "A more virile, finer man than T. R. I've never met."

LIKES THEM ALL

He has liked all U. S. presidents since, although he seems to have some slight reservation about "the last Roosevelt. I don't want to say more, because politics is not my business."

His favorite was "Silent Cal" Coolidge, to whom Sir Harry's delightful gabbiness seemed to import social courage.

"We were introduced," he recalls, "by my dear friend Frank Kellogg—he was your secretary of state—and the President looked at me with a, well you might call it a dry, enigmatic New England smile.

★ ★ ★

"Then Coolidge said, 'How many of our states have you seen, Sir, Harry?'

"I replied, 'I've had the privilege of visiting each one of your 48 states—and you, sir?' "

Harry chuckles at the memory. "So then Mr. Coolidge said, 'Well, I'm going very slow on the next question I put to you, sir. I'm shy of at least six.' "

Philosopher and diplomat, founder and tireless worker for countless causes including his favorite, "The Pilgrims Society," this white-haired gentleman from St. James' Street was once told by Dowager Queen Mary that he was royalty's best friend.

"It seems to me, sir," she advised him, "that you spend half your time going around Europe making royalty laugh, and putting them at their ease."

In this, his special role as royal favorite through six decades, Sir Harry talks back to the critics who have carped at the behavior of Elizabeth II. Ruddy with healthful irritation, he says:

★ ★ ★

"I think the dear little Queen does her job magnificently—and in America, she's done a splendid spot of work!"

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Don't Let Moon Frighten You, Army Aide Says

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Dewey Short, assistant secretary of the Army, cautioned the country last night against becoming panicky in the face of Soviet missile and satellite developments.

★ ★ ★

"There's no reason to get panicky and jittery," Short told the West Palm Beach Chamber of Commerce. "I don't see that the satellite up there in space is going to do anybody any harm.

"This jittery feeling among Americans and so much panic is because of a lack of information given to the public.

★ ★ ★

"Most information on satellites and missiles is highly classified and little has been officially released by the Defense Department as yet."

Humphrey Firm on $6 Steel Hike

Stands Pat on Increase; Admits Wage Boosts Account for Only $3.15

WASHINGTON (AP) — George M. Humphrey, former secretary of the Treasury who went back to the steel business, testified today National Steel Corp. is "not prepared to make any change whatever" in the price of steel.

Humphrey was under pressure from Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) to say why National Steel shouldn't roll back prices, on the basis that higher wages accounted for only some $3.15 of a $6-a-ton boost which National put into effect along with all other major steel firms. Humphrey became board chairman of National Steel last August.

The former Cabinet officer, looking leaner than he used to, appeared before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee headed by Kefauver. He didn't dispute the $3.15 wage figure. But he said that wasn't all the cost increase involved and: "Until we know what our total coast increase will be, we are not prepared to make any change whatever."

★ ★ ★

"What are these other costs, Mr. Humphrey, that explain the difference between the $3.15 and the $6?" Kefauver inquired.

Humphrey mentioned prices of materials, freight rates and a reduction in the operating rate. He said these have about doubled the amount of the wage advance.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, President Eisenhower's heart specialist, is an ardent believer in bicycling. He has been trying to expedite the construction of a public bicycle path in Boston.

Special Discussion Train Goes to MSU

City, Farm Folk to Join in Ride

City slickers and farm folk in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties will have a chance to exchange their ideas and iron out problems while riding a train specially chartered in observance of national farm-city week.

★ ★ ★

The program, planned appropriately during Thanksgiving week, is sponsored through the cooperation of the Farm-City committee of the three counties composed of county extension agents and the chamber of commerce.

The train, which will leave from Detroit at 9 a.m. November 26 and stop to pick up more passengers at Plymouth at 9:30 a.m., will be bound for Michigan State University in East Lansing.

Since a maximum of 300 will be allowed to participate in the tour, the following Oakland County quotas have been set: Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, 12; Oakland County Farm Bureau, 40; Rochester Kiwanis, Oakland County CIO Council, Walled Lake Rotary, Oxford Rotary and South Lyon Kiwanis, 10 each.

$5 COST FOR TRIP

The train trip, subsidized through the Railroad Community Council of Greater Detroit, will cost five dollars per person and includes an all day program.

★ ★ ★

A chicken barbeque at the campus will be followed by a program presenting research and improvements in fruits, meats and the marketing of farm products of interest to both rural and city residents. The train will leave the campus at 5:30 p.m. according to Lyle Abel, county agricultural agent.

The purpose of the entire trip is to help support the idea of the interdependence of the farm and city residents and the need for extensive cooperation, Abel said.

John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, one of the participating groups, said "there is not enough interchange between the business men and farmers in Pontiac."

Looking into the future, Hirlinger expressed hopes for the realization of a business-farm day in Pontiac similar to the BIE days business, industry and education now hold.

No 'Cradle Race' Seen Between U.S. and Russia

WASHINGTON (INS) — Russia apparently has abandoned any plans for a "cradle race" with the West in order to improve the "quality" of its masses.

The Population Reference Bureau said that both the U.S. and Russia are experiencing "steady" rather than "explosive" population increases, with Russia expected to retain its present lead.

In a report on Soviet vital statistics, the private scientific organization saw the gradual growth rates as a "hopeful sign" in the present international situation.

The bureau said that any extension of cold war rivalries into a "battle of births" would "not contribute to a peaceful world nor to the prosperity or stability of either the USA or the USSR."

The Russian population today is near 205 million. The U.S. population is about 172 million.

Robert C. Cook, the bureau's director, said that recent Soviet scientific achievements "emphasize that in the years ahead quality of population rather than quantity will be the determining factor."

Students Polish Contest Scripts on Democracy

Many high school students are this week putting finishing touches on their "I Speak for Democracy" scripts which they will enter in this year's "Voice of Democracy Contest" sponsored by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The top winner will be chosen from three finalists at a Nov. 13 dinner to be held at the Roosevelt Hotel at 7 p.m.

Judges for the contest are Dr. Lynn Allen, Clyde Haskill, Bob Morrison, and Howard Weeden, all Jaycees.

★ ★ ★

Special judge and guest speaker for the dinner will be Peter C. Kalinke, 30, of Birmingham. He was taken prisoner by the Russians in 1945 and kept in slave labor camps for five years.

He was one of the youngest war correspondents in the German Army at the time of his capture.

The Pontiac winner's script will be entered in the state eliminations. State winner will receive a trophy and all-expense trip to the national awards program to be held in February in Washington, D. C.

Bob Considine Says:

Pope Pius Now Learns to Speak Russian

ROME (INS) — Pope Pius XII is studying Russian. The 81-year-old pontiff, who speaks and writes fluently in seven languages and has a working knowledge of two more, is believed to feel he must know more of the language of the empire that confronts Catholicism and the free nations.

★ ★ ★

Pius is wrestling with his Cyrillic alphabet at Castel Gandolfo, the summer residence from which he is soon expected to return to the Vatican. Apparently healthier than he has been for many years, the Pope has found it comparatively easy to assume this additional burden to his daily chores.

It can be anticipated that in time he will speak in Russian over the vastly improved Vatican radio, which now can reach 96 countries and territories. It is considered almost jam-proof.

Also on the papal docket when Pius returns to a Vatican which is now as relaxed and almost as informal as its the White House when President Eisenhower is away, is the prospect of a consistory of the sacred College of Cardinals.

3 RED HATS TO U.S.?

There are 12 vacancies on what amounts to the board of directors of the 400,000,000-member church. Vatican gossips have hinted that the U.S. will get three of the red hats to be distributed. Upped to the robes of cardinal, according to these reports, will be Archbishop Richard Cushing of Boston, Archbishop Joseph Mitty of San Francisco and Bishop Fulton Sheen of New York.

★ ★ ★

A further report on Sheen, who won millions of non-Catholic admirers during his years on television, is that he will also be named president of Catholic University in the nation's capital.

But, of course, there has been no word from Pius XII. Also certain to be raised to cardinal if the consistory is held is Monsignor Montini, Archbishop of Milan, who twice before has turned down the post. He is, by far, the leading name mentioned in Rome as the successor to Pius XII. Montini, credited with de-communizing the industrial vortex of northern Italy, was a valued diplomat under Pius in the formation of Vatican foreign policy during and after World War II.

Another name that continues to crop up as a possible successor is that of Cardinal Agagianian, Armenian and thereby Russian, who is called "brainy . . . well-liked."

★ ★ ★

At Castel Gandolfo, Pius XII continues his clock-like schedule. He rises at 6:30 and celebrates Mass at seven. He eats whatever his old cook and general factotum, German nun Sister Pasquelina, places before him. They speak German to each other and have for 40 years. Sister Pasquelina is in turn assisted by six other household nuns and workers, all German.

RELAXES, STUDIES REPORTS

If the weather is fine, as it has been in Italy, the Pope walks to a chair and table that have been placed under his favorite oak in the garden, and reads all morning from dispatches, memos on Vatican affairs, reports from the heads of religious orders and missions and the like. Some of these have been condensed by Monsignor Domenico Tardini, pro-secretary of state, and by Monsignor Angelo Dell'-Acqua, sub-secretary.

★ ★ ★

No one comes within many yards of him during this period. The only person in sight is his valet and cousin, Angelo Stoppa. If the Pope wants him, he signals Stoppa with a little wave of his hand.

In the afternoon, after luncheon and an hour's nap, he walks in the magnificent gardens. The gardeners disappear as he approaches, not wishing to tire him with blessings.

At night, after dinner, the Pope sometimes goes back to his paper work, sometimes meditates for hours as he listens to classical music and opera on his hi-fi.

Soon it will be time for him to return to the Vatican and leave the place in the hills he loves so much. It will be, as usual, a triumphant ride. Romans will crowd the ways all the way, shouting "Viva il Papa!" and holding up their children to see and be blessed. The Pope will ride into the city in his black Cadillac which has only one seat in the rear—the rest of the room on either side being taken up by a table and a kind of filing cabinet.

The Vatican will come to life again. The "coffee break" will disappear and when the gates close on the Pope, the Italian in the street is likely to say, "All is now well again."

World Sees Powerful Red Leader

Mao Shows Many Faces

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

The many facets of Mao Tse-Tung were clearly visible when the Chinese Communist party leader arrived in Moscow Saturday.

★ ★ ★

There was Mao, the poet, describing the Soviet "Sputnik" in Chinese words meaning "man-made thing that travels among the stars."

There was Mao the staunch Communist, proclaiming that there is "no force in the world which can separate" Russia from China.

There was Mao the American-hater, charging U.S. "imperialists" with perparing an attack on Syria.

There was Mao the war lord, inspecting a military honor guard and being saluted by jets flashing overhead.

★ ★ ★

And there was Mao the Communist theoretician receiving the flattering attention of the Kremlin's top command.

The balding 63-year-old head of the Chinese Communist party and the Chinese Communist state had come to the Soviet Union to take part this week in ceremonies marking the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Russia turned Communist only a short while before Mao did. He became a Marxist after reading the "Communist Manifesto" while serving as librarian of Peiping University.

CAPTURES NATION FARMS

The son of a comparatively wealthy farmer, Mao naturally turned to the peasantry in his fight to communize China. He took over particular rural areas, organized them into centers of power and then extended his sway until Since the death of Joseph Stalin in 1953, Mao has emerged as probably the most powerful single Communist ruler in the world.

Cordiner Report Plan to Come Up for Study

As a result of the new urgency in our defense program, the Administration again will bring before Congress proposals for implementing the Cordiner Report issued last May.

After a 10 month study of loss of men with critical technical skills, the report recommended increased pay for such skilled personnel on completion of their service period as an inducement to re-enlist. The investigation brought out the fact that 500,000 men have to be kept constantly in training to maintain a flow of skilled men for an effective combat force of 2.3 million.

★ ★ ★

This enormous training load is due to loss of skilled personnel. Only 10 per cent of these expensive-to-train-skills re-enlist. The others go into private industry where the pay is much better. No business could be conducted efficiently and economically with such a turnover. For a small initial investment this trend could be reversed, the report pointed out.

★ ★ ★

Previous legislative proposals had been worked out carefully by former Secretary of Defense WILSON and the Chiefs of Staff after discussions with President EISENHOWER. But the plans were ignored. Now Secretary of Defense MCELROY is dusting them off again.

This is a serious, non-partisan matter. The Administration should press for this legislation and take care to inform Congress fully of the Defense Department's need to keep its skilled technicians in the service.

The Lighted Highway Is Proven Life Saver

That mile of the four-lane Dixie Highway through the Springfield community has eliminated "dead man's curve."

It also has greatly increased the ringing of the cash register in the business places along its area. And the population breathes easier.

★ ★ ★

The former scene of dozens of fatalities and hundreds of injuries and wrecks finds no fatals since the lights were installed.

Many people today are living who would not be with us if the lights were not placed on duty along that curving mile.

★ ★ ★

While a great proportion of them ignore the "reduce speed" signs beside the road, practically every driver has a feather touch on the accelerator when he approaches the lights.

They also enable him to see pedestrians and other cars that might come from the side of the road and into his path.

A pet project of Supervisor John L. Carey when he assumed office two years ago, he has had the support of his Township Board in going after it.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-eight of the latest type overhead lights of 3,000 candlepower each were installed by the public utility corporation holding the local franchise.

The cost to the township is about $3.50 per month for each light.

While a number of other more thickly populated communities along our main highways have done the same thing, there are plenty of others who can take a lesson from Springfield's experience.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps we can visualize the day when such congested roads as the Dixie Highway will be similarly lighted over their entire distance.

It is a cheap way to save human lives.

I'll stack George's knowledge of what's going on (and what has gone on) in our county for the last three-quarters of a century against that of any other person, and right now nominate him to succeed himself in 1960.

The situation is pretty well summed up in

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Labor's Dump-Yard

David Lawrence Asks:

New Sputnik Is Symbol of Cruelty

WASHINGTON — The Communist tyrants have flung into outer space a symbol of cruelty which typifies the plight of the imprisoned people of the Soviet Union.

LAWRENCE

For no matter what scientific knowledge the new Sputnik may bring, it affords no hope to the tens of millions of persons in Soviet Russia. Their liberties are almost as tightly incarcerated as is the dog sealed in the metal container whirling around the globe.

In contrast, throughout America this week, in counties and cities and states wherever elections occur, the people of the United States can go to the polls. Without coercion or intimidation, they can by secret ballot select their rulers. They can remove them at the next election if they choose.

This is not merely political freedom. It is economic freedom. For the people of Soviet Russia must take what pay the state gives them. They cannot employ their talents as they will. At the moment the scientists are being glorified so as to assist the propaganda of deception in which the Soviet rulers are engaged. It's a means of fooling the people of Russia as well as the people of the rest of the world.

CONVINCES PEOPLE

The purpose of the propaganda externally is to alarm other nations—to imply that military weapons are coming which can subjugate other peoples. The purpose internally is to convince the populace that the Communist regime is so strongly entrenched that its position is accepted throughout the world. This is again a triumph supposedly of material things as compared with spiritual and moral values in life.

There are many observers who are always impressed by material accomplishment. Its seeming victories are often extolled. But the average man wants liberty above all else.

If the people of Soviet Russia could be polled this week and asked whether they would rather be given back the rubles extorted from them or let this money be used for scientific adventures to increase the prestige which the Russians are reported to be achieving, it is a safe bet the oppressed individuals everywhere would prefer to obtain the freedom they have been denied.

They would prefer to enjoy the wages they have earned so as adequately to feed and clothe their families.

SAD SPECTACLE

The spectacle, moreover, of the Chinese Communist dictator—Mao Tse-tung—appearing in Moscow to help celebrate the Sputnik and another Communist "victories," while tens of millions of persons on the mainland of China are dying of starvation, is a story of indifference to human suffering far more pointed than the flight of the Sputniks.

It's the dramatic news, however, that makes the headlines—a live dog spinning around the world shifts the emphasis away from the people's troubles.

Instead of calling even more loudly for the emancipation of the enslaved prisoners inside Russia and sending words of hope to them from the outside world, will the leaders of the Western countries divert their own eyes, too, from the biggest tragedy the world has ever known? For this week a 40th anniversary is being celebrated in Moscow.

It is an empty anniversary. For it doesn't celebrate the original Russian revolution against the czar in 1917 but only accentuates the despotism that has followed—another form of tyranny, in some respects worse than the czars of the past ever practiced.

SCIENCE FAILS HERE

The "achievement" which followed that revolution is more penetrating than Sputnik. For tens of millions of people have been held in bondage during 40 years. What our own "scientists" have failed to do is to discover the way to help free the imprisoned. Is modern philosophy so devoid of powerful ideas that no "rockets" or "missiles" can be invented that will encourage the slaves to rise up against their masters?

The chant of the hour is that "America has been defeated" by Sputnik. If America and her allies have failed, it is in being unable to set up a means of communication sufficiently strong to induce the people of the Soviet Union to overthrow their tyrannical rulers.

The Country Parson

"There isn't too great a difference between the fellow who contributes nothing to our society and the one who actually degrades it."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Shies Away From Eggs– Scared of Cholesterol!

"This summer when I was visiting my brother, I happened to mention that I eat an egg every morning for breakfast.

DR. BRADY

"He has a son who is a doctor of internal medicine. My brother told me his son says that if I continue to eat so many eggs I will perhaps eventually develop a coronary lesion.

"He says cholesterol deposits have been found in heart tisue or in the coronary arteries in a great many autopsies. Is this true? If so what is your advice. (Signed, Mrs. R.P.)"

What the doctor says about findings in autopsies is true. But what he says about what will happen to you if you continue to eat an egg every day is absurd, in my opinion, although many trick specialists and "clinic" racketeers are now restricting their customers' intake of foods that contain cholesterol.

The customers, half-informed or misinformed, gladly pay fees for such advice; and since nobody really KNOWS whether the cholesterol in such excellent, healthful foods as milk, eggs and meat is in any way related with the cholesterol deposits or plaques commonly found at autopsy in the coronary and other arteries, in the heart, in the joints, no matter what may have been the cause of death, there's nothing to keep the merchants of medicine from going to town with it.

There is no proof that limiting the intake of high cholesterol foods or excluding them from the diet will prevent atherosis or coronary or arterial or joint trouble of any kind.

One correspondent told me her two elderly bachelor uncles carefully dissect out all fat from any meat they eat, so they won't develop atherosis, coronary lesion or other dire consequence of consuming too much cholesterol. Maybe the old boys enjoy practicing such self-denial.

I believe this to-do about "cholesterol" deposits and high blood cholesterol levels is founded on ignorance of pathology. One might as well imagine babies will eventually develop arteriosclerosis if they continue to take so much milk—for milk is the richest food source of calcium.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Several Reply to Question Written by 'Ready to Settle'

In answer to Ready to Settle, the best place to meet eligible women, specially when he is ready for marriage, is in the church of his choice. Friends you meet in church are very likely to have the same beliefs and interests as you.

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately for me (I'm 23 and single) there are no eligible males in my church. Although I work for a very large company that employs plenty of available men, most of them that I've met have the wrong idea about single girls my age and don't respect a decent girl and her beliefs. Consequently, I'll stick to my idea of meeting my closest friends and propective lifemate in my church. Someday he'll come along.

Hopeful

A big thank you to Ready to Settle for bringing to light a problem which exists in Pontiac. Young adults don't have a place to meet for recreation and entertainment on a stag basis. We definitely need an organization with an enthusiastic leader—preferably an eligible male! Many have discussed this situation, but little has been done. Would you be interested enough to get the ball rolling?

Available

Ready to Settle asked about groups where young people might get together. I don't know what groups there are here, but I can tell you why many haven't succeeded. Too many young adults who attend groups like that go with their hooks out, ready to grab the first person of the opposite sex who is even friendly. No one wants to walk into a nest of vultures ready to sweep down the minute you're off guard. Get a group of young people together who are primarily interested in having a good time, who don't have matrimony uppermost in their minds, and you'll have a good time, a group that won't disintegrate in a week or two. Even if you're interested in getting married, you don't want to go out shopping for it like you do for toothpaste or a new pair of trousers.

Interested but Not Desperate

'Think That's Bad? Then Look at This'

If you think nursing mothers and old grandmothers that smoke are so awful, you should see the smoking that goes on in the school rest rooms by the young boys and girls. I wonder how many parents know whether their children smoke.

Editor's note: Alpha Centauri.

'Why Don't Voters Use the Privilege?'

Could someone give me some light on why so few eligible voters vote? Where are people's minds, anyhow? Everyone must vote or what can they expect? Or do they know the state or government will take darling care of them?

Wonderer

Readers Disagree on Nude Pictures

Camera Fan opposes nude pictures in popular magazines. If you have a clean mind, can there be anything objectionable in a picture of a girl without her clothes?

The Lord above made her and he isn't ashamed of her nor does he necessarily wish to hide her.

We don't wear clothing to conceal our bodies. We wear them for warmth and protection. The approval of these pictures will far outweigh the protests.

Another Camera Fan

Camera Fan voices a sound position in opposing nudes. This is purely a cold blooded business move. The magazines hope to sell more copies. They haven't any interest in the girl, in the morals of the world or in negative results. These pictures should be abolished by law.

Teacher

What's so wrong with an undressed girl? How many people in the world over 15 haven't seen one? Don't try to be your brother's keeper.

Hull

It's silly to try to class all nude pictures in the same category. Some are fine pictures and others are intentionally lewd. To say that all should be banned because some are vulgar and indecent is like saying all teenagers should be refused privileges because a few abuse them. Each must be considered individually.

Outraged Husband Voices Complaint

I'm so outraged and disgusted I feel I must speak up. My wife is a patient at Pontiac General Hospital in a room on the fourth floor. There are mostly women on that floor as far as I can tell. There is a police prisoner in a room around the corner from her room. The foul and profane language the man uses is enough to shock the devil himself. He raises his voice until all the patients and nurses can't help but hear him. If police that are guarding his room can't keep him quiet they should at least move him or gag him. If he insists on acting like an animal, he should be treated like one. The women should not have to be subjected to his filthy mouth.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Psychology Needed in Government

Judy's thrifty advice needs to be expanded. Uncle Sam should have been a newspaper carrier in his youth. Then we'd have far more efficient government and lower taxes. Notice the flagrant nonsense which has caused politicians to threaten the famous "goose" that lays the golden eggs of our lush American system.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-338: Judy, aged 23, is our daughter, who suggested yesterday that we ought to re-analyze the purpose of our public schools.

DR. CRANE

You'll recall that Judy wanted compulsory free public schooling to stop at the eighth grade.

She thought this would let the distinterested and the dullards and the playboys, concerned mainly with athletics or dances, drop out.

But they COULD continue into high school by paying tuition. And any child of a poor home whose average marks during the sixth, seventh and eighth grades had been "B" or better, would be entitled to a free scholarship for public high school as long as he kept up that "B" average therein.

Since about 50 per cent of our high school kids make less than a "B" average, their parents would then have to pay a cash tuition if they wanted their teenagers to continue in school.

Thus, the taxpayer would be somewhat relieved of the burden of paying for the compulsory education of dullards or disinterested kids.

EFFICIENCY ENGINEERING

Efficiency engineering is a vital branch of Applied Psychology, and it pertains to government as well as to industrial relations.

★ ★ ★

Maybe our welfare-minded do-gooders have also foisted an unwise code upon America by trying to stop all child labor.

Actually, the short working hours in America nowadays and the hygienic working conditions, plus "coffee breaks" and power machinery to do all the hard work, have altered conditions.

Couldn't 15-year-olds spend five or six hours at a job with no more injury to their health than the same number of hours they now devote to the classroom?

Isn't exercise on the basketball floor or football and baseball fields just as fatiguing as that at a typewriter desk or shop lathe?

★ ★ ★

In some states, the do-gooders have even been sniping at the wholesome American policy of letting children earn their own spending money by operating newspaper routes at such "tender" ages as 14 or 15 years!

Being a newspaper carrier is one of the finest forms of education in our American "free enterprise" system.

Even our schools have nothing remotely to compare with it. For a newspaper boy operates his own private business on what we call the "small merchant plan."

He purchases his papers at wholesale. Then he merchandises them and does his own delivering. Meanwhile, he tries to sell new customers and placate irate old ones.

Finally, he is his own credit man, for he collects on weekends and then performs the rare function of "balancing his books," a thing that even Uncle Sam seems unable to do.

★ ★ ★

Would that Uncle Sam and other politicians had worked for at least a year in their youth as self-reliant newspaper boys!

GOOSE FALLACY

Our "free enterprise" goose, called the American Way of Life, has laid some wonderful golden eggs, permitting us the highest living standard on earth.

But politicians are reaching the point where they are threatening to strangle this goose in order to get more and bigger tax "eggs" from her.

Democrats and Republicans must combine in demanding efficiency engineering in state and federal legislatures.

A former U. S. senator recently showed me a plan by which our Post Office could be operated at much less cost and still render as good or better service to taxpayers.

★ ★ ★

And our taxes could be raised much more cheaply, thus permitting billions of dollars reduction in federal budgets annually.

For further specific advice, send for my booklet "Let's Apply Psychology to Government," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Arithmetic, Languages Start Early

Johnny Meets Science in 1st Grade

(This is the third of six articles reporting what and how America's grade school children are being taught.)

By JOHN BARROW
INS Staff Writer

As the semester progresses, Dad may be startled to note Johnny is tackling arithmetic and science at the same time he's beginning to read.

In Detroit or Washington, D.C., he might also be starting French. Glencoe, Ill., pupils are using slide rules in sixth grade and Pittsburgh seventh graders are well into algebra.

Is Johnny a guinea pig for some "hare-brained" theory? Why are today's children taught subjects many years earlier than in the past?

Across the nation, school administrators explain: Today's children can learn them earlier—because of the way they are taught.

Mom and Dad smacked into an abstract concept stating dogmatically that 10 minus 5 equals 5. Memorize it.

Johnny, however, is shown a group of puppies, a real life concept. How many? He counts 10. Some puppies romp away. How many? Five. How many are still here? Five.

★ ★ ★

Granddad's teachers, of course, related numerals to things as in, "You bought two jack knives and gave one away . . ." but applying abstracts to everyday living has been perfected to such a degree now that, for example, Glencoe grade school youngsters comprehend nuclear chain reaction.

They can see how it works by a demonstration using sewing thread spools hooked together to represent the structure.

In Omaha, Assistant Superintendent Fred P. Hill says "readiness for arithmetic" is taught in kindergarten.

★ ★ ★

In Miami, Fla., Mrs. Mary Nesbit, supervisor of arithmetic for Dade County schools, believes:

"Readiness for multiplication and division should be taught as early as in the first and second grade because you cannot isolate arithmetical procedures."

She explains that if it's driven home why five dogs departing from 10 is the same as 10 divided by two, elementary school children can move easily into decimals, fractions and percentage—to see that .5 or ½ and 50 per cent are the same.

Science is begun in the first grade in Miami as well as in Chicago, Indianapolis and other cities. Kindergarten kiddies meet it in Glencoe, Ill., School Supt. Paul Misner explains:

"Our youngsters reflect changes taking place around them. They hear and use such words as electronics, vertical thrust and feedback."

★ ★ ★

So, he finds kindergarten children can appreciate how plants and animals grow, how water expands and contracts and other functions.

TEACH LANGUAGES

Spanish and French are taught by some trial schools in Detroit in first and second grades. Administrator Otis Crosby says some kindergartens teach them, too.

★ ★ ★

Many other cities are considering languages but feel as Phoenix, Ariz., Superintendent Loren Vaughn does. He says:

"We do not have the space in our curriculum to provide for them."

It's hard to find teachers who can present languages to elementary school children, says Misner of Glencoe and Allen H. Wetter of Philadelphia's schools.

Assistant school superintendent Roy W. Davis of Atlanta which has found teachers with both a reading and speaking use of foreign languages—says children "take to languages easily—they are less conscious of mistakes."

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, another feature of American elementary schools is how subjects are dove-tailed. As Johnny builds a vocabulary in reading, the "integrated" program requires him at the same time to count how many dogs in the picture are brown and how many are black. And, if it's fall, to explain why the tree has no leaves.

★ ★ ★

But why the rush? Regardless of how teaching techniques can enable children to grasp tougher subjects, is there any more point to it than running the four-minute mile?

★ ★ ★

Of course! chorus the educators. There's too much to know in too little time and each day brings something new. A child whose potential is not challenged to the fullest, they assert, is being cheated just as his body might be robbed by vitamin deficiency.

Bears Shipped to Missile Center—for Research?

CATSKILL, N. Y. (AP) — Four black bears — each weighing about as much as a human—have been shipped to the Air Force missile development center in New Mexico by the Catskill game farm.

Roland Lindemann, game farm owner, said today he was not told how the bears would be used.

Lindemann said the bears were trucked to Albany Friday, and then flown to Holloman Air Force Base, N. M., in an Air Force plane.

The bears are 2 to 2½ years old and their weights range between 120 and 200 pounds.

★ ★ ★

Lindemann declined to say how much the Air Force paid for the bears. He said they were purchased from the farm because it could fill the Air Force order to exact specifications.

The farm supplies animals to industry and government departments for research. Lindemann would not elaborate on the use made of them.

Tanker Pilot Explains 'Muttnik' Is Real Word

SAN FRANCISCO — Muttnik is a real Russian word, said Capt. Robert Kamdron today, but its meaning has nothing to do with a dog-carrying satellite.

"It means one who fishes in muddy water," said Damdron, 72, of Seattle, Russian-born tanker pilot for the Union Oil Co.

"Dieting," according to Roger Price, "is just another version of the weighting game" . . . Evidently most of these recent new movie stars come from the same V-neck of the woods.—Earl Wilson.

Children's Aid Society Serves Many

Placing Tot in Home Takes Study

After eight years of marriage, the William Scotts, of Farmington, despaired of having their own child and decided to seek a baby through adoption.

They called many agencies, but finally decided on Oakland County Children's Aid Society because it is non-sectarian.

★ ★ ★

After they applied began the most difficult period of all for couples seeking to adopt a child —the long wait.

Nearly three years went by before the happy day when tiny two-month old Kathleen became the Scotts' very own.

"It was the happiest day of my life," Mrs. Scott recalls, "and today I am happier than I have ever been in my life."

"What makes us even more content is that we went through an agency and know that the baby is really ours. You read so often of mothers wanting their children back when the adoption is one of those quickie things arranged through a lawyer or doctor."

★ ★ ★

The Scotts, both 31 years of age, are a typical couple of middle class means. He owns his own bulldozing service.

NOTHING TO FEAR

"So many people think you have to be rich, or are afraid to apply because they think the investigations are awful," said Mrs. Scott. "It isn't at all like that."

★ ★ ★

"I know I was frightened to death before my first interview, but in five minutes the social worker made me fel at ease.

"And they don't just walk into your house as some think. They always call for an appointment."

Pontiac Press Photo

AND BABY MAKES THREE — The William E. Scotts, of Farmington, show off Kathleen, who they adopted at age two months. By going through the Michigan Children's Aid Society, the Scotts have found not only joy in the baby, but peace of mind since they know the adoption was properly handled. Kathy is now 11 months old.

Placing a child for adoption is a tough and exhaustive job if it is to be done right.

There are plenty of parents anxious and eager to adopt a youngster, but the Children's Aid Society, A United Fund-supported agency, tries to match the child to the parents.

"Our aim," said Miss Oriel Endeman, director, "is to get foster parents as near to the real parents as possible and to be sure they are emotionally prepared to be parents.

"We make an intensive examination of both the parents themselves and the home they offer," she said.

★ ★ ★

"Since we have but one part-time person doing the home studies, it takes up to two years to get around to each applicant."

"After the home study and interviews with the prospective parents, they must wait until a suitable child is available, because we are finding homes for children, not children for homes.

The result is that many people are puzzled as to why it takes so long, but Miss Endelman points out that a delay is better than a mistake. Another full time worker would help shorten this waiting period, she said.

There are currently 222 on the list.

★ ★ ★

Before couples even go on the waiting list, they are invited to a meeting with seven or eight other similar couples and the eligibility rules are explained. Many are eliminated at this point for overage or other factors and thus are spared the long wait which would be in vain.

OTHER FUNCTIONS

Children's Aid has other functions beside placing children for adoption.

It places children in foster homes temporarily until permanent plans can be made for them. It helps unwed mothers plan for their babies and arranges hospital care for them if necessary.

Where it can, it collects from the mothers, the fathers, or the girls' families, with United Fund money paying for those unable to pay for themselves.

★ ★ ★

In addition, Children's Aid gives some protective service to children in their own homes by referal to other agencies if they need medical or physical aid such as clothes or food. A child is removed from its own home only as a last resort.

In 1956, the Oakland County society placed 178 children in 41 foster homes for a total of 25,612 days of care.

It also assisted 82 unwed mothers and completed 24 child adoptions in Oakland County.

A further service is a home for teenage girls maintained by the society in St. Joseph where Oakland County girls can be sent. The girls attend local schools and live together as in a dormitory.

"Some 80 per cent of our funds come directly from United Funds in the county or from the Michigan United Fund," Miss Endelman said. "We rely on a successful Pontiac Area United Fund campaign this year to help us adequately handle our case load."

Person's Diet Called Crucial

Plays Principle Role in Deciding How Long He May Live

CLEVELAND (INS) — A prominent Cleveland doctor has asserted that a person's day-to-day diet plays a principle role in determining how long he lives.

Dr. Joseph I. Goodman, medical director of the Cuyahoga County Nursing Home, declared at the 10th annual scientific meeting of the Gerontological Society in Cleveland that both obesity and malnutrition play a large part in the disabilities of later life

★ ★ ★

"Obesity appears to increase significantly the occurrence of diabetes, gangrene, congestible heart failure and posibly cerebro-vascular accidents," Dr. Goodman said.

"It has been recognized for some time that excess weight exerts a deleterious effect upon cardiac function," he explained. "Overweight must be viewed as a serious problem in the aged population."

Dr. Goodman said there is no doubt the malnutrition also is an important factor in the elderily.

"The causative factors involved in undernutrition are multiple—physical, psychiatric and sociological," he said.

"In every community, there are old or infirm people living alone, who time after time, must be readmitted to the hospital or other institutions simply because they are unable to obtain proper food or care for themselves at home," he said.

"Most people care nothing about either health or nutrition as long as they feel reasonably well and can satisfy their tastes."

Earlier, in a symposium on biological sciences, Dr. Morris Rockstein, associate professor of physiology at New York University, said he believes the future will produce its share of centenarians, but mankind cannot hope for any "Methuselahs."

He said that in the case of human populations, little change has resulted in the life expectancy of individuals entering the period of so-called later senescence (over 65) despite the fact the medical profession has been able to suppress childhood diseases frequently leading to death or permanent ill effect.

"With a considerable number of records of 100 years or over existing for the longevity of male and female humans," Dr. Rockstein said, "This value suggests itself as being close to the potential maximum for the majority of humans for the future."

The Proxy Murder

By ERLE STANLEY GARDNER

Copyright 1957

THE STORY SO FAR: Jerry Conway is alarmed by an advertising campaign Gifford Farrell, a discharged employe, is conducting to obtain proxies and oust Conway at a stockholders' meeting. In a mysterious telephone call a woman calling herself Rosalind offers to supply Conway with a list of the proxies Farrell has acquired. Though he suspects a trap, Conway agrees to follow directions. Asking the hotel clerk for a message for Gerald Boswell, he obtains a key to a hotel room for the meeting but instead of finding Rosalind there's a young woman scantily attired, with a mud pack on her face. She points a gun at Conway which he takes from her. Since the gun has been fired recently, Conway suspects a frame-up and calls Perry Mason, attorney. Mason and Paul Drake, detective, go to the hotel room and find a woman murdered. Mason traps Evangeline Farrell into admitting she is Rosalind. She is divorcing Gifford and wants to help Conway. Farrell is having an affair with Rose Calvert, a secretary. Mrs. Farrell obtains carbons of the proxy list from Rose's wastebasket. Mason tells Drake the body is that of Rose Calvert. Farrell must have had Conway's telephone tapped and had a girl call Conway a few minutes before the call he was expecting from Rosalind. Ruth Culver, occupying the room directly across from the murder room, checked out of the hotel.

Chapter 20

Drake watched Mason as he picked up another doughnut, said, "How I envy your stomach, Perry! I've ruined mine sitting up nights living on soggy hamburgers and lukewarm coffee. Somhow when coffee is lukewarm you drink four or five cups of it. If you can get it piping hot you don't drink so much."

"Why don't you get one of these big electric percolators?" Mason asked.

"Let me have Della Street to run it and keep house and I will."

Mason grinned. "Don't talk like that, Paul. You could get yourself shot. Ring up Inskip and tell him to expect me around—oh, say ten or eleven."

Drake put his coffee mug down on a piece of blotting paper, dialed a number, said, "I want to talk with Mr. Inskip in 728, please. Yes, I know it's a late hour, but he's not in bed. He's waiting for this call.—Just give the phone the gentlest tinkle if you don't believe me."

A moment later, Drake said, "Fred, this is Paul. I won't mention any names, because I have an idea someone is monitoring our conversation, but a friend of mine is coming up to see you around ten o'clock. Leave the door unlocked. . . Okay."

HE'LL BE IN BED

Drake hung up the telephone, said to Mason, "Remember Sgt. Holcomb is looking for you. Are you going to try to get in touch with him?"

"He'll be in bed by this time," Mason said. "I wouldn't want to disturb his beauty sleep."

"Now look," Drake warned, "remember this about Inskip. He isn't in a position to hold out on the police if they start asking specific questions. You've been round the hotel, and someone may recognize you."

"It's all right," Mason said. "I don't care if they know I've been there after I've left. The only thing I don't want is to have some smart guy like Bert King ring up the police and say that I'm there and am visiting someone in Room 728. That might be what you would call premature."

"To say the least," Drake said drily. "Della, please put those doughnuts out of sight. They tempt me and I'd have my stomach tied up in knots if I tried to keep up with your ravenous employer."

Mason said, "I guess this just about winds things up, Della. How about getting in your car and driving home?"

"What are you going to do?"

"I'm going to run out to my apartment, shave, take a shower, put on some clean clothes, and maybe get a couple of hours' sleep before I have to go pick up Conway."

"All right," she said, "I'll go home."

★ ★ ★

"Don't bother with straightening things up here now. You can do it in the morning.—Come on, I'll go down with you and see that you get in the car. Pull that percolator plug out of the socket, and leave everything until morning."

"The office looks a wreck."

"What do we care?"

★ ★ ★

Mason held Della Street's coat for her. They switched out lights and Mason, Della Street and Paul Drake walked down the corridor.

"You going to call it a day, Paul?" Mason asked.

"Gosh, no!" Drake said. "I'm sitting in the middle of everything up there. I have to be where I can handle the telephones."

"Can you get any sleep?"

"I don't think so. I'll keep right on."

"You'll have some stuff to do tomorrow—that is, I mean later on in the day. It's tomorrow now."

Drake said, "It's all right, Perry. I work right on through lots of times. That's what's wrong with my stomach."

"Well," Mason told him, "I think we've got this case pretty much under control. We'll go up there and make an appearance at the D.A.'s office as a matter of form but . . . Say, wait a minute, Paul. They should know who the corpse is by this time. Let's check."

'ANYTHING NEW?'

"All right. Step in my office," Drake said.

They followed Drake into his office. Drake asked the switchboard operator, "Anything new on that murder case at the Redfern Hotel?"

"Nothing except the calls I relayed down there."

"They haven't identified the body?" Drake asked.

"Not as far as we know."

Drake looked at Mason.

Mason said, "That fellow was pretty well caved in. I sure gave him pretty much of a jolt but I felt he'd have been in touch with the police long before this time."

"It could have happened without our knowing it." Drake said. "I've got one of the newspaper reporters on the job.—He telephones anything in to his paper first and then he'll give it to me second. If he got an exclusive scoop he probably wouldn't want to trust me with the information until after the paper was on the street.

"But on anything routine that the other reporters would pick up he'd call me just as soon as he'd finished talking with the rewrite man at the desk."

"Well, they probably know by this time, but aren't announcing it to the press," Mason said. "They've probably sent for the husband to come and make an identification. They'll sure be looking up the boy friend—well, I'll put Della in her car and go on to my apartment. I'll be seeing you, Paul."

Mason took Della Street's arm. They left the office, rode down silently in the elevator.

Mason escorted her over to the parking lot and put her in her automobile. "I don't like to have you driving around the streets alone at this hour, Della."

★ ★ ★

"Phooey! I'll go home like a streak. No one's going to bother me. I am out at all hours of the day and night on this job."

"I know you are," Mason said. "And I wish you weren't. A girl takes chances driving around a city at this hour of the morning."

She patted his hand. "Thanks for the thought, Chief, but I'm fine. Don't worry. I put the windows up, lock the doors, use the mechanical signal and don't stop until I get to the apartment. I'll be seeing you."

"I'll follow you in my car, Della, see you safely home and . . ."

"You'll do nothing of the sort! You need every minute of sleep you can get. Good night!"

★ ★ ★

Della Street stepped on the starter, switched on the lights and drove out of the parking lot.

Mason got in his own car, gunned the motor to life and raced after her. He caught up with her five blocks down the street.

The brake lights on Della's car blazed red as she swung in to stop at the curb. Mason drew alongside, rolled down the window on his car.

"Chief, you go home! I'm just as safe as can be. You shouldn't be . . ."

Mason rolled up his window, sat waiting with the motor running. At length Della gave up and pulled out from the curb.

Mason followed her to her apartment house. She parked her car, came over to where Mason was waiting.

Again the lawyer rolled down his window.

Says Muttnik's Arfing Really Disturbing Him

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Barking dog complaints are routine around police headquarters, but a call taken by complaint secretary Dro-is Stallings last night, was too much.

A man phoned to say that a barking dog was disturbing him.

"Where is this dog?" asked the secretary.

"It's on that new Russian moon," the man said and hung up.

Fish-Killing Red Tide Hits Florida Coast

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — The year's worst attack of the fish killing Red Tide has hit the Naples area.

★ ★ ★

Tons of dead fish have been washed ashore in two days.

★ ★ ★

The State Conservation Department has stepped up its program of spraying the gulf and passes with copper sulphate. The outbreak has killed more game fish than any other this season. The Red Tide is caused by gymnodinium brevis, a minute organism.

Announce New Way to Drain Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New tablet invention for sinus sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pains

New York, N. Y. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet invention which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

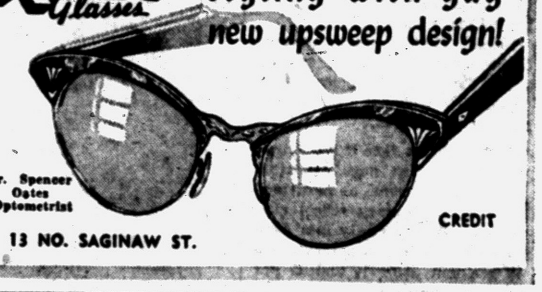

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or your full purchase price will be refunded.

California Designers Hedge on 'Sacks' by Showing Belts With Every Creation

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, Pontiac Press

LOS ANGELES—The chemise dominated California fashions Monday as fashion editors previewed sportswear collections. But don't despair, gals, if you don't like the "sack" type dress, maybe you won't have to wear it after all. Not one designer sent a model down the runway at the Beverly Hilton Hotel without a belt!

★ ★ ★

One manufacturer explained it by saying, "We throw in the belt for the old fashioned." Still, to many fashion editors, that "old fashioned" look seemed pretty good.

Without the belt the dresses seen appear to be copies of the roaring '20s.

RAINBOW COLORS

Alex Colman opened the showings with a resort line of rainbow colors and beautifully detailed clothes. The touch of the flapper look was seen in blousons tied with bows at the hip, sailor-type ties of chiffon for around the neck, and more-than-relaxed waistlines. To complete the 1920s' look, models wore 24-inch ropes which they modeled in the flapper fashion.

★ ★ ★

Plaids and checks were popular in the Colman line. One, a Scandia check, added a touch of old splendor: A border-trimmed skirt was attached to a matching puffed-sleeve blouse with bold brass buttons.

The Monaco Rose, a hand-screened flower, was used on sheath dresses and full skirts, most of which were topped by sweaters with the matching rose. Favorite colors were coral, turquoise, orange and raspberry.

★ ★ ★

Casual Time of California's designer Eddy George had an even more daring display of the chemise. These dresses were fitted at the shoulder and touched at the hips. The designer uses silk almost entirely and displays vivid colors in solids, plaids and paisley combinations.

Sheath dresses and full skirts alike were topped by blousons. Chiffon scarves were used with nearly all the blousons. Hemlines dip slightly in back.

LATIN LOOK FOR PLAY

Campus Casuals of California made news in their South American playclothes. The homespun look of monks cloth in slim pants combined with colorful stripes for the Guatemalan playmates. The silhouette is relaxed, and jackets are shaped but unfitted.

★ ★ ★

Most exciting in the Ardee collection was a basic outfit of Capri pants, jacket and blouse which strangely enough was used only for a showpiece. Of cotton twill broadcloth, the all-white outfit becomes colorful when the sleeves and pant legs are unzipped, for inside are bold stripes of purple, green, blue and white to match the blouse.

This designer concentrates on washable fabrics (cotton and dacron) that can be put in a drier and worn without ironing.

Designers for Junior Miss fashions show a line of sportswear for the true junior figure. The well-fitting clothes are smartly styled, and particular attention is given to fabrics.

MRS. CLEMENCE

The no-iron fabrics are most popular for spring and resort wear. Colors are brilliant with yellows, aqua, shrimp and orange favored.

EXCITING STORY

Sir James' casual cotton playsuits, silk shirt dresses and knits all tell an exciting and individual fashion story. Fabric news is in the printed silks which are made in Italy and Switzerland exclusively for the designer.

★ ★ ★

The sack look is seen in playclothes and in separates where the jacket has the overbloused look. The harem skirt was shown in white pique with a large rose print.

This concludes the news for today. We'll have more fashion news for you Wednesday.

Designer Eddy George of Casual Time of California uses a length of chiffon to wrap the waistline of these separates for a one-piece look.

Vocal Skill Displayed by Students

Program at PHS Features Massed Choir of 700

By MAX E. SIMON

Pontiac, the birthplace of one of the Metropolitan Opera Company's newly hailed stars, continues to turn out vocalists who have received the finest of training.

★ ★ ★

It was here in this city, as every local musc lover is aware, that Met soprano Lucine Amara was born and received her early voice instruction.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the city that Miss Amara proudly calls her home town, refuses to stand on the laurels which it has already won in the musical field. Yearly, students in the Pontiac public school system are drilled in voice fundamentals and then presented to the public in outstanding concerts.

Such a concert was the fall vocal program presented last night by the Vocal Department of Pontiac High School.

★ ★ ★

Featuring a massed choir of 700 voices, the event in the high school gymnasium was one that will long be remembered by the overflow audience which thunderously applauded the efforts of the youthful singers.

NOTED DIRECTOR

Leading the massive choir was William L. Dawson, internationally known choral director, who organized the School of Music at Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Alabama, in 1931.

★ ★ ★

The program opened with the huge choir, under Dawson's direction, performing three works of a religious nature, "Gloria" from the Twelfth Mass by Mozart, the "Ave Maria" of da Vittoria, and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desire" by Bach.

FOUR SPIRITUALS

Dawson, noted as a composer of many songs (and a symphony—the "Negro Folk Symphony"), also led the group in four delightful spirituals which he has writen — a Christmas tune entitled "Mary Had a Baby," "Every Time I Feel the Spirit," a plaintive composition called "There's a Little Wheel A-Turnin' in My Heart," and a rhythmical number named "Ain-a That Good News." All were well-received by the audience.

★ ★ ★

Next in line of importance was the singing of the A Cappella Choir under director George Putnam. This group opened its portion of the program with three numbers, "To Thee We Sing" by Schedov, a Russian folk melody — "Yonder, Yonder," featuring as soloists Diane Beach, Maria Cosma and Vickie Vandecar, and "Hard by a Fountain" by Waelrant.

★ ★ ★

The A Capella Choir's last work was a patriotic composition by Carmen Dragon, "I Am an American." The text of the composition, based on a prize-winning essay in the 1954 Voice of Democracy Contest, was narrated by Carmen Dragon.

Following the Dragon number, Putnam led the audience in singing "America the Beautiful" and a "Prayer of Thanksgiving."

★ ★ ★

The Junior Girls' Ensemble was heard in "Where or When" by Rodgers and Hart, and what is now becoming standard on all such concert programs — a selection from the smash Broadway musical "My Fair Lady" — in this case, the bouncy "I Could Have Danced All Night."

The Senior Boys' Ensemble sang one number, "He" by Mullan-Richards, while the Boys' Glee Club performed "May Thy Blessed Spirit" by Tschesnokoff and Bob Nolan's familiar cowboy ballad, "Cool Water."

★ ★ ★

Rounding out the program was the Senior Girls' Ensemble with a spirited rendition of "Bye, Bye Blues", and a vocal arrangement of Lecuona's piano composition, "Malaguena."

Audience Delighted by Dancer

Iva Kitchell Uses Mimicry, Amuses Concertgoers

By MARY LOUISE LINDQUIST

Iva Kitchell, the lovable mimic of the dance world, did a one-woman show before a very responsive audience of Waterford Civic Music Association concertgoers Saturday night at Isaac E. Crary Junior High School.

★ ★ ★

The program consisted chiefly of dances of the old line inked together in a kind of continuity that produced an altogether different air.

PLEASE WAIT

The continuity turned out to be as entertaining as the dances. In an amusing little prologue, Harvey Brown, accompanist and composer, read a note from Miss Kitchell in which she announced that she had gone to eat, and instructed him, if anybody came in before she returned, to ask him to wait, please.

★ ★ ★

Once she arrived, she put on her makeup in remarkable pantomime, and from that point on made all of her costume changes on stage. Sometimes there was a bit of conversation during the process and always an excellent assumption of the character that followed.

★ ★ ★

She was in toe slippers for some frightening ballet excursions, she got tangled up in a scarf and a flowered skipping rope for a classical dance number, she shook her shoulders in voodoo, clattered heels and castanets in Spanish style, revived a chorus girl of the 20's and brought a warm response to her antics of the little girl performing her first dance in "When I Was 8."

SOLOS AT RANDOM

From a listed repertory of 27 dances, Miss Kitchell picked her solos at random and scrambled artfully from one costume to another.

★ ★ ★

Although she ran the show, Mr. Brown kept up with her capers with his fine accompiment and support.

In these troubled times Miss Kitchell and her clowning constitute wonderful therapy, and the program gave her audience a happy experience.

Three go-togethers from a group of interchangeables were designed for Campus Casuals of California by Clara Love. The fabric is rayon and non-wrinkle cotton.

Cleanse Hairbrush

Sometimes slipping an old nylon over a hairbrush will keep a brush clean longer. But the brush still needs its regular bath. Warm soapsuds usually will do the trick. Occasionally, a water solution with aromatic spirits of ammonia is needed. After washing, air and dry the brush before using it again.

Rest Your Feet

If anyone suggested a 10-mile walk, you'd probably laugh in his or her face. Yet the average housewife walks 10 miles every day! That's a mile more than the average man walks. Give your feet a break. Rest them whenever possible during the day. Massage the feet and ankles at bedtime with good quality witch hazel.

Girls Hold Ceremony of Awards

A combined Court of Awards and tree-planting ceremony was held at Wisner School by members of the Wisner-Lincoln Neighborhood Girl Scouts.

★ ★ ★

Receiving second-class badges were Gail Carmen, Patty Horner, Carolyn Gaddis, Dana Munsil, Cynthia Lewis, Betty Sanders and Claudia Cook.

Dabbler badges were awarded to Patty Horner, Carolyn Gaddis, Patsy Hodge and Gail Carmen, while child care badges were received by Francine Cox, Ellen Kosek, Dena Cosek, Betty Sanders, Sandra White, Cynthia Lewis, Gail Carmen, Patty Horner and Carolyn Gaddis.

ADDITIONAL AWARDS

Other awards were presented to Karen Sigler, five-year pin; Carmen Webb, Margaret White, Sharon Huntwork, Karen Sigler, Barbara White and Karen Vandecar, first class-pins.

Homemaking badges were awarded to Charlotte Johnson, Lynn Dugas, Patricia Rofe, Patricia Burch, Barbara Garner, Christine Kline, Barbara White and Karen Vandecar.

A 10-year pin was presented to Rebecca O'Dell, and Joanne Davis was given the curved bar, highest award in Girl Scouts.

Presented with a five-year pin for adult membership was Mrs. Kenneth Carmen.

A big scarlet rose is attached to the contour self-belt of this ensemble from the Alex Colman resort collection. The harmonizing slim skirt is of crisp, nubby silkalin.

Hospital Marks Awards Month

November has been designated Awards Month by Women's Committee of William Beaumont Hospital.

Newlyweds Honeymoon in Chicago

Irene Brown and Frank Peeples were married Saturday in First Church of God. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Fred Brown and the late Mr. Brown. The Rev. Eugene Ramsey performed the ceremony.

★ ★ ★

For her wedding the bride chose a gray lace gown and carried an arrangement of pink roses.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Stewart S. Kipp of Port Huron, was the matron of honor. The bridegroom was attended by Peter English of Jackson.

★ ★ ★

After a trip to Chicago, the couple will live in Waterford.

Dill's coming on, and don't confine it to the pickle jar. Snip it over poached salmon, new potatoes or lamb stew, the minute you remove them from the gas burner. Serves as garnish as well as flavor.

MRS. GARRETT F. MEHLBERG

Polly Lorraine Bolinger and Garrett Frank Mehlberg were married Saturday evening in Rochester. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Bolinger of Rochester, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Mehlberg of North East boulevard.

Polly Bolinger Becomes Bride in Rochester Rite

St. Paul Methodist Church, Rochester, was the scene of the Saturday evening wedding uniting Polly Lorraine Bolinger and Garrett Frank Mehlberg. The Rev. Douglas Parker performed the 7 p.m. ceremony in the presence of 150 guests.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Bolinger of Rochester are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Mehlberg of North East boulevard.

The bride wore a Chantilly lace gown with a fitted bodice and scoop neckline accented by sequins and pearls. Her bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train, and she wore a headpiece of sequins and pearls securing a fingertip veil of pure silk French illusion.

The maid of honor, Beverly Jo Axford of Rochester, wore an emerald green princess-style gown with a matching feather cap and carried a cascade arrangement of yellow roses and chrysanthemums.

★ ★ ★

Bridesmaids Esther Bolinger and Sandra Bolinger, sisters of the bride; Luana Mehlberg, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Charles Richard Parker of Kalamazoo wore grape-colored and emerald green gowns, styled like that of the honor maid, and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Janice Jenkins was the flower girl.

Jack Williams served as best man. Robert Bolinger Jr., brother of the bride; Dale Mehlberg, brother of the bridegroom; Charles Richard Parker of Kalamazoo and Dale McCardle seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bolinger chose a charcoal nylon dress with a pink feather hat, matching gloves and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Mehlberg wore a light blue wool dress with a matching hat and a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor.

Before leaving on a trip to Canada the new Mrs. Mehlberg changed to a black wool sheath dress with black suede accessories and rhinestone jewelry.

★ ★ ★

The bride is a graduate of Western Michigan University. The newlyweds will live on Auburn Avenue upon their return.

Packages Sometimes Left in Hall

Hostess Not Sure About the Intentions of Her Visitors

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am in a quandary as to what to do when a guest arrives at my house with a package that is supposedly for me but which is not handed directly to me but left on a table in the hall. This has happened several times and I have always just let it stay where it is until the visitor has gone as I hesitated to call attention to it for fear that it was not intended for me after all.

"To ignore it completely seems very unappreciative on my part. I would like to know what would be the correct way to handle this situation."

Answer: You are quite right in leaving the package where it is until your guest is ready to leave, and then if he (or she) does not take it, you should say, "Oh, you have forgotten to take your package."

Your guest should then either say it is for you or take it away. If it is for you, you open it and thank the giver.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married in January and instead of having the bridesmaids and maid of honor carry the usual bouquets, I thought it would be pretty (and a little different) if they all carried small muffs. Will you please tell me if this would be in good taste?"

Answer: No, it would not be in good taste. Marriage is a sacrament and certainly no place for something "a little different."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it not considered rude for a person not to use a salutation when writing a note of thanks? I recently received such a note from a friend which started right off, "Thank you so much, etc."—without any salutation. I thought this very strange and most improper. What is your opinion of this?"

Answer: I agree entirely with you.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1957 PONTIAC, MICHIGAN. SEVENTEEN

Prelude to National Education Week

Pontiac Dedicates Recent School Additions

BOY SCOUTS MEET — Multi-purpose rooms in Pontiac's elementary schools don't close up when school ends. At Willis Elementary School, these scouts meet weekly in the school. Practicing on the basketball court of the 48x66 foot gym are: Gary Pocchiola, 4105 Giddings Rd., David Ferman, 1614 Opdyke Rd., Danny Smith, 2226 Willis Ct., (shooting) Jimmy Stechow, 2221 Opdyke Rd., and John Pierce, 1972 Brown Rd.

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

Just one week before National Education Week, Pontiac is proudly dedicating more than $1,250,000 worth of additions to seven elementary schools this week.

During a four-night program which began last night, Pontiac mothers and fathers may inspect the $137,000 multi-purpose rooms added onto the Central, Crofoot, Emerson, Hawthorne, LeBaron, McCarroll, and Willis schools during the past year.

Last night, the multi-purpose rooms of Emerson and Willis Schools were dedicated.

★ ★ ★

Tonight, Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, school superintendent and Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent in charge of business, each will make the presentation of the building in Crofoot and Central School respectively. All of the programs begin at 7 p.m.

The dedication programs will include representatives from state, city, and school administration; Board of Education and Parent-Teacher association members; local clergymen, the city recreation department and Boy Scouts.

LeBaron and McCarroll additions will be dedicated tomorrow night and the dedication of the Hawthorne school addition Thursday will climax the four day ceremony.

CENTRAL PLANS PROGRAM

Central's program tonight will include demonstrations of physical education and music skills by the older students and square dancing by the first and second graders.

At Crofoot, Thomas Dodson, director of Physical Education at Pontiac Schools, will enumerate and show the various family activities which can be carried on in the multi-purpose room. Crofoot pupils will also demonstrate the elementary physical education activities tonight.

Tomorrow night, students in the LeBaron school choir and band will provide entertainment following the dedication and square dancing for adults under the supervision of the City Recreation Department will follow the McCarroll School dedication.

Thursday, tumbling will be featured at Hawthorne School's dedication program.

ADDED BUILDING

Each room, a 97x68-foot building added to the school, is identical and is connected to the main school by a corridor.

★ ★ ★

Included in each multi-purpose building are a kitchen, dining area, stage, gymnasium, and assembly room with a seating capacity of 350 persons, a shower room with seven showers, a locker room containing 38 lockers, a boys' and a girls' restroom, a ticket office, and physical education, music, chair and kitchen storage rooms.

One of the architectural beauties of the rooms are the ceilings made of laminated wood bents finished in natural with poured gypsum roof decks.

In addition to the multi-purpose rooms, several other rooms constructed during the past year will be dedicated in four of these schools. These include two kindergartens and a boiler room ($62,000) at LeBaron and five classrooms, a library, boiler room and principal's office ($179,000) at McCarroll.

★ ★ ★

One kindergarten room converted into two with a corridor between and additional mechanical work ($24,000) at Central and four classrooms ($89,500) at Crofoot will also be dedicated.

Appropriately named multi-purpose, the rooms will provide the facilities of a gym, cafeteria, auditorium, theater and meeting place for the students and a variety of community organizations.

Poet Sandburg Slated at U. of M. Tonight

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Poet Carl Sandburg will make the keynote address tonight at the University of Michigan's annual International Week program.

He also will recite some of his poetry and accompany himself on a guitar in a rendition of American folk songs.

★ ★ ★

International Week is designed to stimulate student interest in other parts of the world and acquaint foreign students with their American counterpart.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will highlight Friday's program with a lecture on the United Nations.

PARENTS, TEACHERS USE THEM—Parent-Teacher associations also use the multi-purpose rooms in the evenings for their meetings and programs. Left to right Mrs. John E. Stepleton and her husband, of 41 Miller St., members of the Crofoot PTA talk over school policies with Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, Pontiac schools assistant superintendent in charge of business, during a joint board of education-PTA meeting.

EDUCATION VIA MOVIES—Students at Emerson Elementary school appreciate watching interesting and educational movies like this one about rabbits in their new multi-purpose room. The benches are the same as those used during lunchtime.

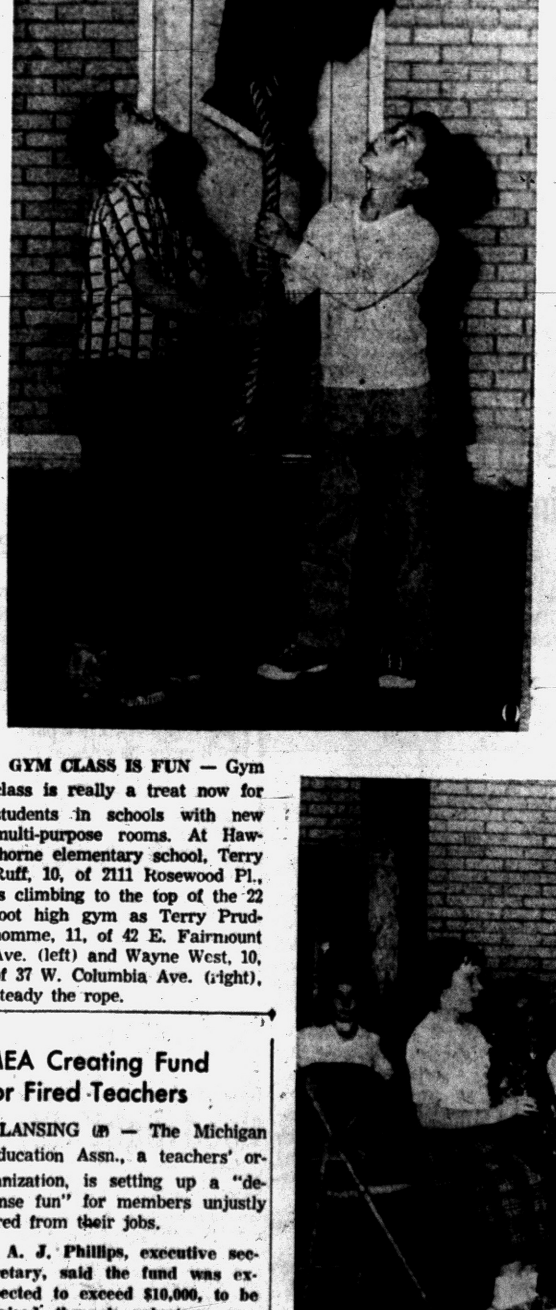

Pontiac Press Photos by Tom Gerls

McCARROLL PROMENADERS — These square dancers at McCarroll elementary school will swing around their multi-purpose room Wednesday night during the official building dedication program. In addition to the multi-purpose room, five classrooms, a boiler room, library and principal's office totaling $179,000 were added plus the initial $137,000 for the new multi-purpose building.

WE EAT THERE TOO — School lunch even tastes better than ever in the new multi-purpose rooms such as the one at Central Elementary School. The dining area is 15x30 foot plus a 22x14 kitchen. The tables and benches fold up neatly into the wall after lunch and the floors are grease resistant asphalt tile.

MEA Creating Fund for Fired Teachers

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Education Assn., a teachers' organization, is setting up a "defense fun" for members unjustly fired from their jobs.

A. J. Phillips, executive secretary, said the fund was expected to exceed $10,000, to be raised through voluntary contributions.

The program was announced yesterday at an MEA directors' meeting.

STAGE OFFERS CONCERTS, PLAYS — The elementary school bands such as this one at LeBaron school under the direction of Donald C. Schultz, Pontiac elementary and junior high school music instructor, really feel professional when they perform on the 46x20 feet stage in the multi-purpose rooms. The stage is also used for assemblies and plays.

Judge Declines to Make Ruling

Asks Little Rock Heads, NAACP Lawyers End Feud, Work Together

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — U.S. dist. Judge Roy W. Harper declined to give an immediate decision yesterday on a suit by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People against a new city ordinance.

He urged city and NAACP lawyers to stop feuding and to work together to test the law's constitutionality.

The ordinance requires that certain organizations file confidential data, such as membership and contribution lists with the city clerk.

At last night's hearing representatives for the NAACP contended the ordinance was passed to cripple the Little Rock branch of the organization and already has caused damage.

City Attorney O. D. Longstreth said it was designed merely to determine whether the NAACP should pay the city's privilege tax.

Harper told NAACP attorney Frank D. Reeves and Longstreth to try to arrange a court test for the ordinance, adding, "You're going all the way up to the Supreme Court anyway."

Harper refused to issue a temporary restraining order requested by Reeves to block enforcement of the ordinance until its validity could be determined.

The judge instructed attorneys to submit briefs by Saturday.

Famed Tropical Hotel of Key West Burns

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Fire destroyed the second and third floors of the 80-year-old Tropical Hotel yesterday. Damage was estimated at $100,000. About 300 firemen and civilians fought the blaze four hours.

The 64-room hotel once provided accomodations for President Taft.

MRS. JAMES CHASE

Walled Lake Women to Hear Mrs. Chase

WALLED LAKE — "How to Gorw Old Gracefully" is the subject upon which Mrs. James E. F. Chase of Jackson will speak at the luncheon meeting of the Walled Lake Civic Welfare Club on Wednesday at Stone Crest.

With an excellent background, Mrs. Chase comes well qualified to speak upon this subject of vital interest to women of all ages. She has been a hostess and dietitian in Home Hotel for elderly persons, a parish visitor and director of work with Home Friends of the First Methodist Church in Jackson, and at present is director of the Volunteer Bureau for the Council of Social Agencies of Jackson County.

Other experience includes serving as president of the Women's Society of Christian Service of her church in Jackson for two years.

Women of the community have been invited to attend this meeting to hear Mrs. Chase.

Waterford PTAs Slate Meetings

Two schools in Waterford Township have scheduled PTA meetings for Thursday.

"Reading and Your Child" is the topic to be discussed at 8 p.m. at the Wiilliams Lake School, with a panel of teachers leading the discussion.

Beginning at 7 p.m., there will be an open house at the McVittie Elementary School, followed by the regular PTA meeting at 7:45. A book fair will feature the evening's activity.

Parents of the McVittie School have been urged to make appointments to discuss their children's progress.

Romeo Bazaar Earnings to Help Youth Center

ROMEO — The new Youth and Civic Center will profit from sales at the First Congregational Church Bazaar, which opens at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. L. R. Newlin is the bazaar chairman.

Proceeds from the annual turkey dinner the same evening will be earmarked for church use. Serving will begin at 5 p.m.

All groups of the Women's Fellowship are co-operating on the dinner.

To Attend 4-H Congress

MARLETTE — Seven Thumb Area 4-H Club members have been picked to represent Michigan at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Dec. 1-5. Those from this section are Mary Garlick, Marlette, Dale Cubitt, Sandusky; Joyce Johnson, Sandusky; and Lorraine Meredith, Snover, all of Sanilac County.

'Holly Youth Activities' Pioneers

300 Teenagers Plan Big Party

Ralph Flanagan to Lead Dance Music Thursday for Civic Event

HOLLY—With no juvenile delinquency in this village, the credit is largely given to a live wire organization of local young people, Holly Youth Activities, Inc.

Organized last year, principally pioneered through the efforts of Chief of Police James Parker, it now has a membership of 300 teenagers, and is rated as tops among local organizations working for the general good.

It gives two parties weekly at the multipurpose building of the Holly Area Schools, the attendance frequently being around the 400 mark.

Wednesday dancing is from 7:30 to 10 o'clock and Saturday from 8:30 to 12 p.m. On Saturday, Ed. Berryman, Flint disc jockey, is the attraction.

★ ★ ★

Youth Activities is a going concern, financially sound, and paying its own way, besides being the biggest civic contribution to the village's life.

To forestall any possible undesirable encroachment from outsiders, Chief Parker or some of his deputies are present at every meeting. Volunteer chaperones also are supplied through the local Jaycees.

From the small membership dues and concessions, the organization has purchased a $1,500 juke box, coke machine and other equipment. They also have set aside a substantial financial nest egg toward their ultimate goal — a community house, a project on which the grownups have been working for 75 years, without success.

★ ★ ★

The teenagers in charge of the organization do business in a big way.

Their current project is their annual "big party," which takes place this Thursday evening. For this they are paying $900 to Ralph Flanagan and his nationally famous dance orchestra, who will give a concert beginning at 7:30, and play for the dance from 9 to 12 p.m. The advance sale of tickets assures an attendance from a dozen or more outside cities and towns, besides a major portion of the local people.

1st Curriculum Study Meeting Slated Tonight

ROCHESTER — Tonight at 8 marks the first of a series of Curriculum Study meetings to be held in conjunction with the Rochester Board of Education in the library of the Rochester Junior High School.

The public is invited to attend the discussion of the curriculum, dealing with science. The science course from kindergarten through the twelfth grade will be studied. Teachers of science will be present.

Oxford Church Bazaar to Be Held Tomorrow

OXFORD — The annual bazaar and chicken dinner of the Ladies' Aid of Holy Cross Lutheran Church will be held Wednesday, with serving starting at 5 p.m.

Mrs. Carl Buechler, Mrs. Daryl Plue, and Mrs. Ralph Hickmott Jr. will supervise the dinner, Mrs. Martin Carlson the dining room and Mrs. Alvin Scheuerlein the bazaar. Ticket chairman is Mrs. Alan McMillan.

Plans Annual Bazaar

BIG BEAVER — WSCS of the Big Beaver Methodist Church, Rochester and Big Beaver roads, has announced the approach of its annual bazaar and turkey dinner.

The bazaar event will take place in the church, from 2 to 4 p.m. on Wednesday, with tea to be served.

On Thursday, starting at 5 p.m., the group will serve its annual dinner, to which the public has been invited.

Among booths at the bazaar will be those displaying for sale, aprons, fancy work, baked goods, rugs and "white elephants."

Bazaar chairmen are Mrs. Walter Carpenter and Mrs. Joe Cornell.

City Land as Dump

TROY — City Commissioners here voted 5 to 2 last night in rejection of the sale of 164 acres of city land as a dump for 14 southeastern Oakland County communities. Though Mayor Frank Costello and Commissioner Elmer Lowe voted for the sale, commissioners rejected it after 75 protesting residents turned up at City Hall to object.

GOP Women Plan Nov. 14 Silver Tea

The West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Women's Republican Club will hold a "Silver Tea" on Thursday, Nov. 14, from 3 to 5 p.m., at the Green Lake home of Mrs. Gordon Van Camp, 6790 Commerce Rd.

★ ★ ★

George M. Van Peursem, speaker of the House in Lansing, will address the group. Interested persons are invited to attend.

8th Grade Pupils Build Kindergarten Playhouse

By NANCE BELLEFLEUR
South Oakland Correspondent

OAK PARK — Eighth-graders of the Paul Best school here are constructing a 12-foot square playhouse for the delight of the kindergartners.

Situated on the school grounds, students and kindergarten parents designed the building with ladders going up one side reaching the low double-railed roof, and a slide attached to another side to get the kiddies down the "fun way."

Students went to Oak Park City Hall for their building permit and were presented with 40 free reproductions of their blueprint, one for each member of the class.

After putting their arithmetic to work figuring the materials needed and costs, the youngsters squared the corners with string. Then the manual work began. Rat walls were installed and a cement floor poured. Walls will be cinder block.

Besides doing the building (with some help from parents) the youngsters will pay for most of the materials, which will cost about $600.

★ ★ ★

Last year's eighth-graders left a gift of $150 to help cover part of the costs. Luncheons and other activities will be sponsored by the students to raise the rest of the money.

W. Bloomfield School Is Busy

Roosevelt Plans Book Fair, PTA Meeting and Open House

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — This week is one of activity at the Roosevelt School here, with the annual book fair, a PTA meeting and an open house scheduled.

On Monday school children were given an opportunity to view the books in their own grade groups, in the gymnasium. There are books for all youth, from the toddler on up.

The PTA will hold its regular meeting at 8 tonight, in the gym.

Dr. Sheldon Root of Wayne State University is to speak on children's books. Second grade students will dramatize "Three Billy Goats Gruff". Second grade mothers will be the hostesses.

Books may be purchased after the meeting, or they may be ordered with a small deposit.

Wednesday, is Open House and the parents are invited to visit their children's class rooms where special events are planned. Books will be on display from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

A special invitation has been extended by Jeanne Rhyhoym, speech correctionist, to attend her classes, in Room 24 near the library.

The school library will receive 20 per cent of the proceeds from the sale of books, to be used to purchase new books for the school. The library is staffed by volunteer mothers.

The book fair is in charge of Mrs. William Sanderson, chairman. Her helpers are Mrs. William Yates, Mrs. Eugene Crawford, Mrs. Ezra Mason Jr., Mrs. A. Wolverton, Mrs. Clyde Gibbs, Mrs. Frances Ammerman, Mrs. Harold McGraw and others.

Leonard Couple Honeymooning in Kentucky

LEONARD — Following a wedding trip through Kentucky and the Smoky Mountains, newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Linseman will make their home on Elmwood avenue here.

The bride, Donna Marie Burton before the recent Methodist rite, was given in marriage by her grandfather, John Lobzien.

Wearing a gown of embroidered Chantilly lace with Sabrina neckline and carrying a cascade of white mums, the bride was attended by Mrs. Gary Sutherby, matron of honor, and bridesmaids, Ruth Ann Althouse of Clarkston and Barbara Koster of Rochester.

Robert Linseman of Oxford served his brother as best man while Paul Althouse of Rochester and Elmer Claycomb of Lake Orion seated the guests.

A reception was held afterward at Rowland Hall for 200 guests.

Area Teachers Plan Program

Dinner, Music Precede Panel on Discipline for Instructors, Parents

WALLED LAKE — The Area D Department of Classroom Teachers November meeting will be held at the Decker School on Tuesday, Nov. 12.

A short business meeting at 5:15 will be followed by brief circle discussions on topics selected by those present. At 6 p.m. Elmer Conrad, Walled Lake businessman, will speak on the subject "The Teacher and the Community."

During the dinner, which is scheduled for 6:30, the Junior High School Boys' Chorus, under the direction of Eugene Guettler, will sing. Members of the Junior High Future Teachers Assn. will serve.

The program following dinner will feature a panel discussion on "A New Look at Discipline." Moderator will be Lyle Zisler, president of the Walled Lake PTA Council. Speakers are Clifford H. Smart, Walled Lake superintendent; Mrs. Carrie Hubbell, principal Monteith School, Waterford; Mrs. Edna Hoffman, mathematics teacher, Royal Oak; Hazel Anderson, Farmington elementary teacher, and Mrs. Robert Wiltse, parent from Walled Lake.

Also on the panel is Howard Morgan, psychologist, who does the testing of exceptional children for the Oakland County Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

Reservations for the dinner and program, which is open to parents, teachers and administrators, may be made through Friday, Nov. 8, with Mrs. Mary Weborg, president of Area D, Department of Classroom Teachers, by calling her after 4 at MA 4-2554 or by calling Delores Naubert at Decker School, MA 4-2981.

Judge to Rule on Special Vote Asked by League

TROY — Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty will rule tomorrow whether the Troy Non-Partisan Property Owners League will get a special election to amend the city's charter.

The league filed a petition for the election to lower the city tax limit, but the City Commission rejected the petition on the technicality that it contained 107 words more than the legal limit.

The league then filed a mandamus suit, asking that the election be granted anyway.

Almont Senior Class to Stage 3-Act Comedy

ALMONT — The senior class of Almont High School will present a three-act comedy, "Johnny Jones, Space Cadet," in the school auditorium on Friday and Saturday nights, at 8. The play will be under the direction of Robert Pardike.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with restless, sleepless nights, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for new, large, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

'Curfew' Group to Present Plan

Commission to Hear Suggested Changes to Up-Date 1915 Law

One dozen parents and students are expected to attend the City Commission meeting tonight to protest the present curfew ordinance and recommend a new one.

★ ★ ★

Donnie Smith Jr., junior and senior high school counselor, said 75 per cent of the committee representing the Pontiac Council of Parent Teacher Associations will present an ordinance to the council tonight which sets a 10 p.m. curfew for all youngsters under 16 years old. An 11 p.m. deadline is proposed for all 16 to 17 years old Sunday through Thursday.

Midnight on Friday and Saturday nights will be suggested in the ordinance as a limit for both groups.

Meeting yesterday afternoon, the original committee of eight parents and junior high school students grew to 15.

The committee is now represented by a boy and or girl from the high school and each of the city junior high schools plus teachers and parents.

New members attending the meeting yesterday include students Jimmie Keel, Jefferson Junior High School and Larry Beamer and Jeanne Johnson, Pontiac High School. Adults added to the committee were: Mrs. Ann Morrow, PHS English teacher and member of the high school PTA; Mrs. Wayne Weaver, council PTA program chairman; and C. T. Forsman, PHS assistant principal.

Youth protection chairmen of 24 of the 31 Pontiac PTA's met last night to discuss the proposed ordinance which protests the present 1915 unrealistic city ordinance requiring youngsters under 16 to be off the streets by 8 p.m. during the school months and 9 p.m. during the summer.

The proposed ordinance makes the parents responsible for youngsters violating the curfew. They may be fined from $10 to $50 and or sentenced from three to 30 days in jail.

Muttnik Invisible in U.S.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (INS) — The Russian dog-carrying satellite will not be visible, mornings or evenings, from anywhere in the United States for about a month, Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory in Cambridge, made this announcement today.

S & H Co. Seeks Injunction Against Ferndale Store

A national trade stamp company has pushed its campaign against an independent Ferndale trade stamp exchange to a Circuit Court climax.

The Sperry & Hutchinson Co., a New Jersey corporation with headquarters in New York City, claims the Stamp Savers Exchange, Inc. of 22938 Woodward Ave. is causing a slump in S&H trade stamp popularity in the Detroit area.

★ ★ ★

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams indicated he may rule this month on the S&H company's petition for an injunction preventing the stamp exchange from dealing in S&H stamps. Judge Adams already has issued a temporary injunction to that effect.

The stamp exchange deals with retail customers who have received trade stamps from the various trade stamp companies. For a small charge, the exchange swaps stamps from one company for those of another.

The S&H company claims the exchange has no right to do this, saying that "S&H stamps are held by the collector solely for presentation to the S&H company for redemption in merchandise."

★ ★ ★

The stamp exchange, in turn, has argued that once a retail customer has been given trade stamps, they are his to do with as he likes.

As a result of the stamp exchange's activities, the S&H company said in its suit for an injunction, numerous complaints have been made by retail merchants licensed by the company to distribute its stamps in the Detroit area.

"The Stamp Savers Exchange, Inc.'s actions are daily diminishing the customers' good will in this area," said William H. Wood, S&H assistant secretary and controller in New York.

Following a show-cause hearing, Judge Adams ordered both companies to submit briefs before a final decision in the case.

MSU Professor Sees Eclipse as Chance for Reds

EAST LANSING (AP)—Possibility that Russia will take advantage of an eclipse of the moon for propaganda purposes Thursday was raised by a Michigan State University professor today.

On that day, 40th anniversary of the Communist revolution, the moon will enter the shadow of the earth, causing a lunar eclipse. To those viewing the phenomenon, the moon will appear to turn red, said Dr. James Stokley, former director of the Fels Planetarium in Philadelphia and now a teacher of science writing at MSU.

The eclipse will be visible only in the westernmost sections of North America, but will be plainly seen over most of Asia, as well as the Arctic and Australia.

★ ★ ★

A "red" moon, Dr. Stokley observed, would serve as a dramatic setting for Russia's announced intention of sending a rocket to the moon, perhaps on the anniversary of the Red revolution.

Police Hold 2 for Bootlegging

Charge Men With Sale of Untaxed Cigarettes at Monroe Store

MONROE (AP) — Sam Bartolotta, 55, and Russell Vitale, 46, are being held on charges of bootlegging cigarettes.

★ ★ ★

The State Revenue Department in Lansing said the arrests for selling untaxed cigarettes were the first since Michigan increased the state tax to five cents a pack in July.

Monroe County Prosecutor Charles J. Golden authorized warrants charging the men with being "unlawful acquirers" of cigarettes and possessing and offering them for sale.

State Police at the Erie Post said the men were arrested Friday night outside a beer carry-out store in Monroe. Police described Bartolotta as a salesman for a local beverage supply firm and Vitale as a wholesale distributor of soft drinks.

★ ★ ★

Police charged the men delivered two cases of untaxed cigarettes to the carry-out store.

Sgt. Sam Sineni of the Erie State Police Post said he believed "a large operation" in cigarette bootlegging is under way in Michigan.

Bootleggers, the officer said, sell cigarettes at $2.05 a carton—27 cents below the standard price—and still make a profit on volume business because the Michigan tax is higher than in many other states.

There are 60 cartons of cigarettes in a case.

Pontiac Family Hurt in Crash With Bus

Four members of a Pontiac family were injured Monday when their car collided with a bus at the intersection of Center and Sanford streets.

Mrs. Bernadette O. Lalone, 34, of 96 Franklin Blvd., her daughters Sheri, 9, and Evelyn, 6, and her son, Michael, 4, were all taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. They were released after treatment.

A bystander, Dale Bowman, 5, son of Mrs. Ida Mae Bowman, of 374 Center St., was also injured when struck by one of the vehicles. He was treated and released.

The driver of the bus, Clarence E. Cue, 54, of 2912 Buick St., was uninjured, as were his passengers.

Sheriff Denies Prisoners Gang

Pontiac Youth Charges Gross Indecency Against Cellmate

In the face of varied reports ranging from robbery to gross indecency among prisoners at the Oakland County Jail, Sheriff Frank W. Irons denied any organized prisoners' gang.

Sheriff's officials and Pontiac Police reported the latest trouble occurred last week when a prisoner was reportedly subjected to "gross indecencies" by a cellmate.

A 17-year-old Pontiac youth, charged with breaking and entering, signed a gross indecency complaint against James R. Jones, 29, of 16 Walnut St. who was in the Oakland County Jail on a charge of rape, said police.

Jones was arraigned before Municipal Court Judge Maurice E. Finnegan and demanded examination. His bond was set at $2500.

A head-shaving incident and the robbing of one prisoner of about $2 last week was merely the work of a rowdy bunch of hoodlums together in one cell block," said Irons.

"It was not in any way an 'organized gang' which were 'terrorizing' prisoners, as some have reported," he explained. "There were only about six troublemakers in a block of 26 men and we brought the situation quickly under control by breaking them up, as we always have in the past," asserted Irons.

Irons asserted that the department policy was to separate all known sex deviates from the other prisoners, "but," he added, "we cannot do this with all those in for rape."

He also flatly stated that he had been misquoted in saying he had the "best-run jail in the state."

"I am proud of the Oakland County Jail and think it is one of the best-run in Michigan, but I am in no position to place it over some of our other fine county jails," he said.

Irons attributed the recent troubles to "a bad run of prisoners in the past month" and said that razor blades would "henceforth be given to prisoners only on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Saturdays." As soon as the prisoner is finished saving, the blade will be taken from him, he announced.

Mighty Battleship to Join Sisters in Mothball Fleet

NEW YORK —The USS Wisconsin, the world's largest battlewagon and America's last battleship in operation, swept proudly into harbor today. The cruise from Norfolk, Va., may have been its last.

The mighty fighting ship will join its silent sister ships in the mothball fleet Friday at Bayonne, N. J. It may be the end of an era. Some say battleships have been made obsolete by the arrival of the hydrogen bomb and guided missile age.

As she sailed in, her nine 16-inch guns outlined against the morning haze, she was greeted by the fireboats, Coast Guard vessels and harbor craft.

A destroyer escort led her up the Hudson River to pier 86 at 46th St. where she will rest until Friday.

Motorcycles, Scooters Weave Through Lines

Parisians Strangle on Shiny New Cars

PARIS (INS) — Parisians, like big city Americans, are strangling themselves with their shiny new cars.

Nearly a million four-wheeled vehicles—one for every five persons—now creep daily through Paris' crowded streets and boulevards.

And France's new prosperity brings 150,000 more autos each year into the Greater Paris traffic tangle.

The yearly increase, said Paris Police Chief Roger Genebrier, can be visualized as "a ribbon of steel of vehicles placed bumper-to-bumper for a length equal to the distance from Paris to Lyon." Lyon is about three hundred miles from Paris.

Only two or three years ago New York was considered the most traffic-twisted city in the world.

Now most persons who flit between New York and Paris think that the French capital has the greater traffic troubles.

NO HONKING

Parisians, like New Yorkers, must wait in exasperated silence as tight columns of cars form before traffic signals. Honking, except in emergencies, is forbidden.

★ ★ ★

But the street scenes here differ in one important respect from those in big U. S. cities. Paris buzzes with motorcycles, motorbikes, motor scooters. Their proud owners weave grinningly among the helpless lines of larger vehicles.

Paris police, in manly efforts to cope with the crisis, have converted 1200 of city's 4000 main streets into one-way thoroughfares.

But Shief Genebrier thinks that "abusive parking" constitutes "one of the gravest obstacles" in the present situation.

★ ★ ★

So on Nov. 7 his police will introduce a slick scheme for do-it-yourself parking regulation. Each motorist, when parking in the city's heartland, must display on his windshield a disc which betrays the hour of his arrival and the hour when police demand that he abandon his precious space in the interests of the general public.

SET PARKING LIMIT

During rush hours — which in Paris include most of the daylight hours — motorists will be limited to a maximum of 90 minutes of legal parking.

★ ★ ★

The new scheme will be a challenge to French ideals of fraternity. There are two obvious ways to cheat.

One can set his little disc at a later hour than his true arrival and so win a 30-minute or 60-minute bonus.

One can return to his car each hour, set his little disc forward and so masquerade all day long as an abider of the law.

Police already have warned that tricksters like these will be treated severly.

Want to File for Homestead on the Moon?

WASHINGTON (AP) — They laughed 13 years ago when R. L. Farnsworth wrote the Interior Department, saying he wanted to stake out a homestead on the moon and how did he go about it?

★ ★ ★

But today, 13 years and two Sputniks later, November 1944 begins to look like one of those days that mankind passes by lightly at the time but hunts out to remember later.

If a dog can go out into space, why can't a man? And if a man ventures into space, can the intrepid homesteader be far behind?

Yet, alas, the Bureau of Land Management is no more prepared to grant homesteading rights on the moon than it was on that historic day when it heard from Farnsworth.

Farnsworth lived in Glen Ellyn, Ill., and was president of the U.S. Rocket Society.

"Many of our members," Farnsworth said then, "write in and ask how they go about filing a claim to land on the moon. This may be a reality within a generation."

Plant Employes Quench Flash Fire at Rochester

ROCHESTER — A flash fire which flared up in the paint division of one of Avon Industries two plants at 4393 Lake Orion Rd. about 9 a.m. today, quickly fizzled as plant employes put fire extinguishers to work.

Rochester Fire Chief George Ross said, "They were using their last extinguisher just as we arrived. They did a fine job in putting out what might have been a serious blaze." As it was he added, damage was just $500.

Ford to Pay 60 Cents on Common Dec. 12

DEARBORN (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. declared a quarterly dividend of 60 cents a share on its common stock today. It is payable Dec. 12 to stockholders of record Nov. 15.

The dividend is the same as that paid quarterly since Ford stock went on public sale two years ago. The Ford Foundation in 1955 sold publicly 10,200,000 shares it held. There are 54,482,820 shares outstanding, a major portion of them held by the Ford family and executives.

Judge Dismisses Suit Against Parke, Davis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government charges of price fixing and boycotting against Parke, Davis & Co., have been dismissed by District Court Judge Edward A. Tamm.

Judge Tamm, in the third day of the trial yesterday, agreed with defense attorneys that the pharmaceutical firm had not been shown to have conspired with wholesale druggists in Virginia and the District of Columbia to force cut rate drug stores to bring their prices into line with minimums suggested by Parke, Davis.

Defense attorneys maintained that Parke, Davis' refusal to sell to wholesalers if they in turn sold to cut rate drug stores was not a conspiracy.

They said the company was acting within its rights to refuse to sell to any customer under a long standing price policy.

Pravda Reports U.S. Hysterical Over Moon

LONDON (AP)—Pravda said today U.S. reaction to the launching of Sputnik II "ranges from sincere admiration to panic, hysteria and malicious rage."

This assessment was made by the New York correspondent of the Soviet Communist party organ in a dispatch quoted by Moscow radio.

Now we know how the Colts and the Baltimore fans felt when victory was snatched away from them by the Detroit Lions couple weeks ago at Briggs Stadium.

The hero for the Lions that Sunday afternoon was little Howard "Hopalong" Cassady who took the winning pass from Bobby Layne with 29 seconds left.

Sunday's star was big R. C. Owens, 6-3, and 205 pound jumping jack basketball player from the College of Idaho who last year turned down an offer to play with the Harlem Globetrotters.

If you're wondering about the school, the College of Idaho is located in Caldwell, Idaho. It is a denominational (Presbyterian) school with an enrollment of 423 men and 196 women and with the nickname "Coyotes."

★ ★ ★

The winning combination from "Y.A." to "R.C." is also an interesting not. Tittle's initials stand for Yelberton Abraham while Owens is just R.C. an nothing more.

OBSERVERS NOT CONVINCED

Back from the coast, some of the Lions' observers aren't convinced that the 49ers are the best team in the Western Division despite the 5-1 mark.

They feel that for the next four games when Frisco goes on the road it will be a different story.

One thing is certain. The play from Tittle to Owens was no fluke. It has been practiced all season.

★ ★ ★

The 49ers, including their exhibition season, have won nine of 11 games in the final quarter, and in the last three contests against the Rams, Bears and now the Lions, it was the same play which spelled the margin of victory in the late stages.

The 49ers will be at Briggs Stadium in two weeks. Get in line for standing room "seats."

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Coach Buddy Parker, now boasting a 4-2 mark with the Steelers, has his "big" game this week in Cleveland where a victory would tie the Browns for the Eastern Division lead.

With all the outstanding major college players in the nation, many of the pro scouts are keeping an eye on fleet-footed Len Syles, University of Louisville back, who is said to be the fastest man in college football.

★ ★ ★

Cranbrook coach Fred Campbell said along time ago that his protege Pete Dawkins was destined for great things. As a junior at West Point, it isn't taking Dawkins long to make good that statement.

★ ★ ★

Speaking of Cranbrook, we wonder why grid ace Stuart Clark, nephew of the famous "Potsy" Clark, suddenly made an exit out of the Champaign, Ill., prep limelight as a senior. One guess — he'll wind up at MSU next year.

TOP SOPH— Frank Malzone Boston Red Sox 3rd baseman, was named American League sophomore-of-the-year today in a poll conducted by the Associated Press.

Malzone Best AL Sophomore

Bosox Slugger Wins AP Writers' Nod by Landslide

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK —Frank Malzone of the Boston Red Sox, a last-minute ineligible candidate for 1957 American League Rookie-of-the-Year honors, was an overwhelming selection today as the best sophomore in the AL.

The slugging third-baseman earned the league's sophomore award by a landslide in the annual Associated Press poll of members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America. Malzone was named on 166 of the 182 ballots cast.

Shortstop Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox, Rookie-of-the-Year in 1956, was second with 14 votes. Outfielders Tito Francona of Baltimore and Rocky Colavito of Cleveland each received one vote.

After hovering above .300 for awhile, Malzone finished with a .292 batting average. The Oneonta, N.Y., resident wound up in a three-way tie for third in runs batted in with 103, was second in hits with 185 and was third in doubles with 31.

His 15 home runs were the most he has ever hit in a season. Casey Stengel was so enchanted at Malzone's performance by mid-season that the Yankee manager picked him to play in the All-Star Game.

Aggies Strengthen Hold on No. 1 Spot

Sooners a Shaky 2nd After Close Shave Saturday

Michigan State Jumps to 4th, Buckeyes 6th in Football Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tough, win-'em-all Texas A&M not only retained, but strengthened its hold on the No. 1 ranking in the Associated Press college football poll this week—the first club other than Oklahoma to stay on top two weeks in a row since mid-1955.

★ ★ ★

Not since Oklahoma took the top spot from then mighty Maryland in the eighth week of the '55 campaign have the Sooners been unable to bounce back to the top after a week's absence. They had been out of the No. 1 position only twice until last week, stepping back for Tennessee and Michigan State last year.

★ ★ ★

But this also is the first time since 1951 that Oklahoma has been held to only two touchdowns on successive Saturdays—losing the top position to Texas A&M a week ago after a 14-13 squeeker against Colorado and barely holding second this week after last Saturday's 13-0 job on Kansas State.

★ ★ ★

The last time Oklahoma failed to total more than two touchdowns in two consecutive games was in the second and third week of the 1951 season—when they lost, oddly, to Texas A&M 14-7, and then were beaten by Texas 9-7.

★ ★ ★

A&M, now 7-0 for the season after a 7-6 scare from Arkansas, moved from a 39-point edge over the Sooners last week to a 215-point budge this week. The 201 writers and broadcasters voting in this week's poll, the heaviest balloting of the season, apparently figured Arkansas would give the Aggies a tough time, but had expected Oklahoma to steam-roller K-State.

Auburn, jumping from fourth to third, finished just 26 points shy of Oklahoma. The Tigers, 6-0 as is Oklahoma, actually gained more first place ballots than the Sooners, 50-48. A&M received 65.

Oklahoma held second on the basis of point tabulations figured at 10 points for a first place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

★ ★ ★

The rest of the top 10 had quite a shakeup from last week. Michigan State, up from sixth, took fourth with Iowa fifth. The Hawkeyes, tied by Michigan, had been third.

Notre Dame, fifth a week ago, and Duke, seventh last week, tumbled to the second division with their first defeats last Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Ohio State moved from eighth to sixth, Navy, the Irish beater, leaped from 16th to seventh, Army moved from ninth to eighth, Tennessee advanced from 17th to ninth and North Carolina State stayed No. 10.

The top ten teams with points on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first-place votes and won-lost records in parentheses):

1.	Texas A&M (65) (7-0)	1,777
2.	Oklahoma (48) (6-0)	1,562
3.	Auburn (30) (6-0)	1,536
4.	Michigan State (6) (5-1)	1,141
5.	Iowa (12) (5-0-1)	1,110
6.	Ohio State (10) (5-1)	869
7.	Navy (6-1)	613
8	Army (5-1)	424
9	Tennessee (5-1)	417
10.	N.C. State (3) (5-0-2)	373

THE SECOND TEN

11	Michigan (4-1-1)	244
12.	Arkansas (1) (5-2)	205
13.	Oregon (6-1)	188
14.	Mississippi (1) (6-1)	166
15.	Notre Dame (4-1)	101
16.	Duke (5-1-1)	75
17.	Mississippi State (5-1)	69
18.	Georgia Tech (3-2-1)	61
19.	Missouri (1) (5-1-1)	46

Spirit High Despite Loss to 49ers

Lions Are Not Downhearted

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions and their coaches are far from "crushed" over their record that stands at only three victories and three losses at the moment.

★ ★ ★

The spirit is high and from all appearances the club feels it has at least a fair chance of making a run for the Western Conference championship of the National Football League.

The 35-31 last-second loss to San Francisco's leading 49ers was a "heart-breaker—but not a spirit - breaker," said coach George Wilson as he prepared for Sunday's meeting with the Philadelphia Eagles in the eastern city.

The setback accomplished by Quarterback Y. A. Tittle and his lithe pass receiver, R. C. (Overdrive) Owens quieted the big plans for the loud celebration on the plane trip home but it did not turn the chartered airliner into a mausoleum. For the most part, the Detroit Lions are hardy, battle-tested professionals who believe that titles are won in the last six games of the campaign—not the first six.

★ ★ ★

"We can run those last six over in our minds the rest of our lives if we want to," said Assistant Coach Aldo Forte. "But no matter what we do, we'll still find that we won three of them and lost three of them."

Buster Ramsey, the defensive coach, was bitter about the loss to the 49ers.

"I'll bet you right now we trim those guys real good when they come to Detroit," he ventured. "I don't understand what's happened to us in a few games—but I know we're not giving up, we're going to work twice as hard the rest of the way."

Moreover, Lion players — especially those on the defense platoon who gathered in one end of the plane to rehash the setback—appeared anxious to get back to work and correct some flaws that cost the Lions a victory. Of course, no one expected the players or the coaches to say "We're giving up—we can't win."

But the determination was surprising, even to veteran observers. Wilson refused to be drawn into a prediction about the league race, but he was quick to point out that the 49ers—currently atop the division pile with a 5-1 record—must play four successive games on the road against Los Angeles, Detroit, Baltimore and New York.

It is not inconceivable that the 49ers—made up largely of players acquired in trades and a batch of rookies—could lose three and possibly all four of these games.

"You can't depend on somebody else doing your work for you," said defensive lineman Gil Mains, who was sitting beside Ramsey. "We've got to win for ourselves—just keep winning every Sunday no matter what. Then at the end of the season we'll look up and see how we made out."

NAIA Seeks Site for Dec. 21 Grid Title Contest

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics is looking for a new site for its championship football game Dec. 21.

★ ★ ★

The first game was played last year in Little Rock and called the Aluminum Bowl. There were plans to hold it there again this year until the school integration crisis arose in September.

The NAIA, an organization of small colleges, has not yet chosen the teams to play for the championship.

Dragons, Parkers Keep Spotless Marks

For the first time since the 1957 high school football season began, there were no casualties among Oakland County's select group of undefeated and untied teams following a weekend of action.

Hazel Park, Class A Eastern Michigan League stronghold, and Lake Orion, power of the Oakland B League, were protecting unblemished records going into last Friday's games.

They still hold that distinction. Both schools scored impressive victories to boost their season marks to 6-0.

UNDER FIRE — Steve Sebo, head football coach for University of Pennsylvania, whom Ed Pollock, Philadelphia sports editor, today suggested should step down "for the good of the university, its alumni, his squad and himself." Pollock said Sebo's squad is one of the best in the last 10 years but Penn was the only member of the Ivy League without at least one victory.

Orion stowed away the Oakland B championship last week with a 20-7 triumph over Troy. The flashy Dragons have two giant hurdles blocking their path to a spotless slate—Romeo this Friday at Orion and Holly on Nov. 15 at Holly.

Hazel Park, which seems to get better as the season moves along, took over the Eastern Michigan lead with a 33-7 rout of Ferndale. The convincing win jumped the Vikings into a 9th place tie in the state "A" poll.

East Detroit and Port Huron of the EML and Garden City, a non-loop foe, bar their road to a perfect year.

★ ★ ★

Two county teams remain unbeaten, but ties mar their efforts. Southfield, Inter-Lakes Conference champ after last Friday's 21-0 decision over Farmington, has six wins and one tie. Holly, the Wayne-Oakland leader, has five wins and two ties.

Five teams in the county's outlying area are also guarding flawless marks.

Warren and South Lake, heading for a showdown in the Bi-County League, are undefeated in six games. Almont, Southern Thumb champ for the 2nd straight year, is unbeaten in seven starts.

★ ★ ★

St. Rita, boasting a 7-0 record, and Highland Park St. Benedict, clean after six games, will clash for the Suburban Catholic League title this Sunday at Hazel Park.

Pettit Is Off to Fast Start

St. Louis Cage Star Has Made 131 Points in 5 NBA Games

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks, who finished second last season after breaking his wrist, is off to one of the fastest starts ever in the National Basketball Assn. scoring race with 131 points in five games.

Only George Mikan, the all-everything of a few years back, ever started a campaign with a bigger bag of points, totaling 139 in the first five games of the 1950-51 season. That was the season Big George won his third consecutive scoring title, with 1,932 points —an all-time NBA record.

Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics also is off to a fast start, the fastest yet, according to NBA statistics released today, with 115 rebounds in five games. The best previous start was a 91-rebound haul by rookie Maurice Stokes of Rochester in 1955-56.

Ace Armstrong Defeats Sandy

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene "Ace" Armstrong, one of six brothers from Elizabeth, N.J., certainly rates as one of the coming middleweights.

Thus far, he has won 12 fights without a defeat. His latest victim is Randy Sandy, a journeyman from New York, whom he decisioned last night at St. Nicholas Arena. This was, perhaps, his biggest test, for Sandy has been in against most of the topnotchers.

Rams Win Pee-Wee Crown

Scoring at least once in every quarter, the Rams handed the All-Stars a 32-7 licking Saturday afternoon at Beaudette Park to win the 1957 Pee-Wee League football championship.

★ ★ ★

Walter Moore scored two touchdowns and Teddy Keller accounted for eight points to pace the Rams, who forged into a 13-0 lead at halftime and were never headed in the playoff game between the divisional winners.

Moore opened the scoring with a 17-yard jaunt in the 1st period. Keller tallied in the 2nd stanza and added the extra point.

Milton McGhee and Moore each hit pay-dirt in the 3rd quarter with Keller converting after McGhee's TD. Don McGhee scored the Rams' final six-pointer in the 4th period.

Donald Weyer made the All-Stars' only touchdown in the 3rd quarter. Weyer also garnered the extra point.

The Rams, coached by Sid Gregory, were Eastern division champs. Coach Dan Donnelly's All-Stars won the Western division title.

Midland Rules Class A Roost

Chemics Look Safe in Poll

By DAVE DILES
State AP Sports Editor

The Midland Chemics are almost assured of winding up the season as Michigan's top high school football team of 1957.

The Chemics walloped Bay City Handy 53-0 Friday night, running their mark to 7-0 and their point total to 240. Opponents have been able to accumulate only 39 points and only Owosso stands in the way of Midland's perfect season.

The Chemics retained first place in the weekly Associated Press Class A prep ratings Tuesday, sitting in the top spot all alone for the second straight week after dumping Bay City Central's Wolves.

The "top ten" ranking underwent a minor reshuffling after unranked Ypsilanti tied fourth-ranked Ann Arbor 12-12, ninth-rated Wyandotte lost 7-19 to Dearborn Fordson and two other teams in the select group — Grand Rapids Union and Muskegon —battled to a 21-21 standoff Saturday night.

Midland drew a first place vote from each member of the AP's panel of sports writers who make up the weekly selections. Bay City Central had a comfortable margin in second place, Muskegon Heights stayed in third place while Flint Northern—a winner 13 times in its last 14 games—slipped into fourth place.

Central came back strong after its loss to Midland and topped Saginaw 41-0. Muskegon Heights tripped Benton Harbor 14-0, while Flint Northern-measured Pontiac 20-7.

A pair of Detroit-area schools, Grosse Pointe and Hazel Park, made the big news in this week's top ten. Groose Pointe, whose stout defense has yielded only seven points—and they came in the school's only loss, 7-0 to Flint Northern—crept up to fifth place after trimming Royal Oak Dondero 43-0.

★ ★ ★

Hazel Park finally caught some attention after rolling to its sixth straight triumph—33-7 over Ferndale—and gained a tie for ninth place with Lansing Eastern. The Lansing school's only loss was a 26-7 setback to Ann Arbor and Eastern came back strong from that one to whip Kalamazoo 27-0 last weekend.

Here's the way the AP panel ranked the "top ten" for the seventh week, including records:

1. Midland (7-0-0)
2. Bay City Central (6-1-0)
3. Muskegon Heights (6-0-0)
4. Flint Northern (4-1-0)
5. Grosse Pointe (6-1-0)
6. Ann Arbor (5-0-2)
7. Muskegon Catholics (5-2-0)
8. Grand Rapids (Union 4-1-1)
9. (Tie)
Lansing Eastern (6-1-0)
Hazel Park (6-0-0)

Bantam Title Test on TV

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—The main pressure on the well conditioned shoulders of Mexico's Raul (Raton) Macias is the fear he will let his countrymen down when he fights Alphonse Halimi of France for the world's undisputed bantamweight championship tomorrow night.

★ ★ ★

The co-claimants of the title meet at Los Angeles' Wrigley Field in a 15-round bout that will be televised nationally via ABC, with a 300-mile radius of Los Angeles blacked out.

★ ★ ★

Macias is an extremely poised young man for his 23 years. He is, in fact, a businessman-fighter, boxing being just one of his enterprises, and at the moment, the chief one.

He owns real estate in Mexico, has starred in one movie and has offers to do more, and thanks to his fatherlike advisor, Luis Andrade, a wealthy tycoon in Mexico, the "little mouse," or Raton, is financially secure.

★ ★ ★

Today in his training camp, if such a luxury setting as the Disneyland Hotel could be called a camp, Macias took things easy.

He is not a worrier or fretter. Anxious to get things over, of course, but Raton knows he has trained faithfully and well.

And in businesslike thinking, he feels he has done all he can to prepare for this all-important battle with the personable Frenchman.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of Macias' followers have already crossed the border towns of Juarez, Nogales, Mexicali and Tijuana, an invasion well anticipated by promoter Cal Eaton and his matchmaker, George Parnassus.

For most of the $200,000 in gate receipts will come from the immense Mexican following of Raton.

Tripp was returned as treasurer for the fourth year. Cross was re-elected a director for a three-year term. Other directors are J. L. Conroy, Birmingham (3 years); Sherman L. LaMeasure, Birmingham (2 years), and Forest B. Wright, Detroit (3 years).

Kerry Keating Tops Grid Scoring Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A four - touchdown splurge against Northern Illinois has enabled swift Kerry Keating of Eastern Michigan's Hurons to take over the undisputed scoring leadership among the state's collegiate football players.

★ ★ ★

Keating opened up a wide gap between himself and the rest of the pack with touchdown runs of 1, 2, 8 and 10 yards as the Hurons swamped the Illinois team 54-20.

His 12-touchdown total gives him 72 points, a 24-point bulge over his closest pursuers, Lovell Coleman of Western Michigan and Rex Terwilliger of Northern-Michigan.

Don Van Gilder of Albion and Pontiac boys Walt Beach of Central Michigan and Walt Poe of Hillsdale's undefeated Dales have 36 each.

Spartans Host Irish Next; 'M' Plays Illinois

MSU Expecting First Sellout at Stadium; 4 Wolverines Ailing

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State and Michigan, still in contention for Big Ten honors and a trip to the Rose Bowl, were back at work today preparing for more tough opposition Saturday.

State steps out of league play to continue its long rivalry against once-beaten Notre Dame, while Michigan travels to Illinois to meet the upset-minded Illini.

The first sellout in the new 76,000 Spartan Stadium is expected with ever popular Notre Dame on hand despite its loss last week to Navy after winning four straight.

Michigan State can thank the Irish for its start as a grid power in 1948 but is expected to provide only a hard time for Terry Brennan's gridders at East.

The Spartans will take a 4-1 record into the Midwestern classic. "MSU would rather beat Notre Dame than anyone except probably Michigan because when you take them on you know you're meeting the best," said a player spokesman for the team yesterday.

Illinois enjoys being the underdog and will very likely be just that when Michigan invades Champaign needing a victory to stay in the conference race.

The Illini dumped Michigan State from the unbeaten at home last fall and did the same to Minnesota three weeks ago. The Wolverines' last visit there was in 1956 as the favorite and the home team won that time, 25-6.

★ ★ ★

Michigan scout Matt Patanelli, who has watched Illinois the last two weeks, calls the next 'M' foe "always dangerous" with a fast backfield and hard charging line. Passer Tom Haller and speedster Bobby Mitchell spark the attack.

Injuries are hindering Michigan coach Bennie Oosterbaan in the early week drills. Quarterback Jim Van Pelt, Gary Prasht, guards Larry Fall and Al Callahan are nursing bumps and bruises suffered in the tie against Iowa.

SHORT OR FAST FOOTWORK CAUSES RIGID KNEE FINISH.

STRIKES AND SPARES

By Joe Wilman

Doesn't today's form look awkward? The cause, of course, is the stiff left knee. Actually, more women than men are plagued with this trouble. For some reason, the women are reluctant about bending the left knee in the slide to the foul line.

★ ★ ★

This stiff left knee can result from several earlier mistakes. Some bowlers begin their footwork too fast and get up to the foul line too soon — before their arm is ready to deliver the ball. Their timing is shot—there is no rhythm. Often, this also happens when the footwork is limited to two or three steps.

★ ★ ★

With the left knee locked, the body is much too high. The ball is thrown, not delivered with the finger lift or wrist turn necessary for stuff on the ball. The ball will bounce out on the alley and lose much of this stuff.

Low Scores Irk Sooner Fans

Bud Wilkinson Insists Team Giving Its Best

By SAUL FEELDMAN

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma is riding a 46-game football winning streak, and is No. 2 in the nation, but this isn't satisfying some Sooner followers.

Fair-weather spectators were unhappy because Oklahoma this season isn't piling up 5 and 6 touchdown margins as in past seasons.

★ ★ ★

The situation was brought into focus Saturday as the Sooners, a 5-touchdown favorite, had a hard time beating weak Kansas State by two touchdowns, 13-0. A 14-13 victory over Colorado in another Big Eight Conference game didn't set well with some.

★ ★ ★

It's a perfect situation for Sooner Coach Bud Wilkinson, who has a reputation for being pessimistic about each upcoming game, to say "I told you so."

But Wilkinson today just pointed out what he had said all season, that he didn't have a superman team and his squad is playing at the peak of its capabilities in each game.

"I feel it's not in the cards for us to keep winning," the greying, 41-year-old Wilkinson said in forecasting Oklahoma's string would come to an end against Missouri at Columbia Saturday.

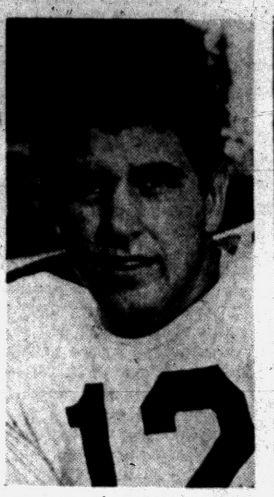

★ ★ ★

"We've been awfully lucky but we're swinging around to the end of a cycle and everything will be equalized," Wilkinson pointed out.

"We'll be trying as hard as we can to win. But we have just an ordinary squad on offense."

The Missouri - Oklahoma clash probably will determine the Big Eight Conference champion with the winner getting a trip to the Orange Bowl.

Wilkinson said yesterday that he told a writer several weeks ago he felt "Missouri will go to the Orange Bowl and I see no reason to change now."

GUIDES SCOTS — Former Pontiac High gridder, Dick Ayling, now a senior at Alma, has been the starting quarterback for the Scots this year. Alma has a 3-2-2 mark this season with two more games to play.

Howe Among NHL Leaders

Richards Top Point Race

NEW YORK (AP)—The only way anyone will ever get Montreal's Maurice "The Rocket" Richard's secrets on scoring and playmaking in the National Hockey League is if he happens to be a brother. Henri "The Pocket Rocket" Richard can attest to this as he is tied with his brother for scoring leadership with 19 points.

★ ★ ★

But on a technical point, Maurice has the overall league leadership, figures released today show. He has not served any time in the penalty box, a rare feat in his case, while Henri 15 years younger and a little more frolicksome, has been docked nine minutes.

★ ★ ★

Gordie Howe of Detroit is tied with Beliveau in assists, and is also tied for the next two spots in the scoring with Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers, each having 11 points.

REVOLUTIONARY NEW TRUCK POWER!

New Workmaster V8 featured in Spartan Series 90 and 100 heavy-duty models.

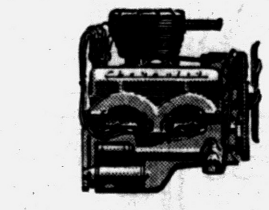

Chevrolet's '58 engine lineup packs new hustle across the board. There are higher powered V8's and Sixes with new stamina. Power leader of them all is a V8 so radical in design that it even looks different on the outside!

Chevrolet trucks introduce a new brand of hustle for '58. Biggest news in the power lineup is the revolutionary, all-new 230-h.p., 348-cubic-inch Workmaster V8!

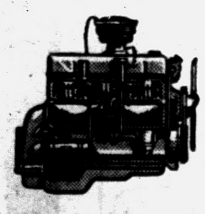

The Workmaster breaks away from conventional V8 design with a new Wedge-Head combustion chamber that helps to develop tremendous power. Combustion chambers are wedge-shaped, precision-machined, and located in the cylinder block rather than in the cylinder head. This means maximum power for each drop of fuel used, equalized work loads on each piston for smooth performance, less wear than ever. It's truck-engineered to help you stay and save on any job!

And no matter what your job . . . your Chevrolet dealer can show you the latest in V8's and 6's . . . engines designed to give you peak truck performance on or off the road!

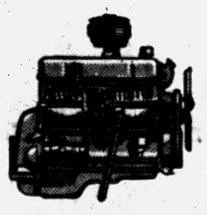

Compact power in Super Taskmaster V8

High-efficiency 175 h.p., short-stroke design gives power plus economy. Standard in heavy-duty Series 70 and 80 models.

More durability and economy in Jobmaster 6

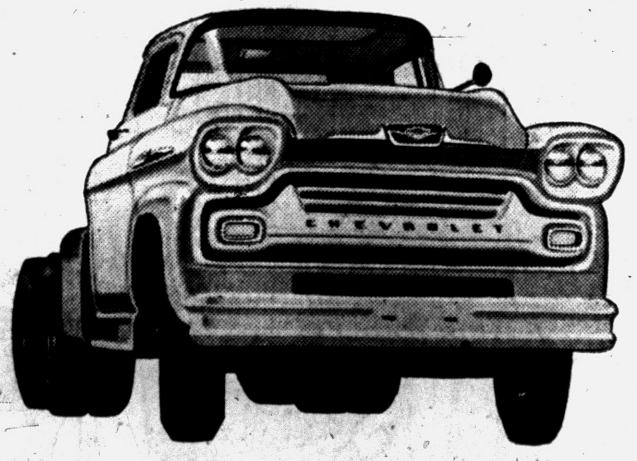

Rugged 150 h.p. valve-in-head power plant keeps maintenance expenses down! Standard in Series 60 medium-duty models.

More "horses" and efficiency in Thriftmaster 6

New 145 h.p., 8.25 to 1 compression ratio in Chevy's famous light-duty truck engine. Here's more economy—more stamina.

U.S. Could've Shot Heavier Satellite

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Dan A. Kimball, former Navy secretary, declares the United States could put up a heavier satellite than the half-ton Sputnik II but hasn't because "we've taken a little different approach" in the satellite program.

Kimball, who now heads Aerojet General Corp., rocket manufacturers, told reporters the United States long has had enough scientific know how to reach the moon but declared there was no money for such a shot.

"I know we have," answered Kimball when asked if the United States had a rocket capable of launching a satellite heavier than Sputnik II.

The Erie canal was opened to navigation in 1825.

U.S. Speculates on Food, Water Needs of Canine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kudryavka, the Russian shaggy dog which is the world's first space navigator, may be getting her food on a rotating machine and her drinking water through a nipple tube.

★ ★ ★

Otherwise, says a government physiologist, the weightlessness of everything that wasn't pinned down in the essentially gravity-free satellite would cause the food and water to float in mid-air, as it were — and the dog would be hungry and thirsty.

Dr. Heinz Specht of the National Institutes of Health (NIH) said the dog may be fed periodically by means of a rotating device that would serve up food in biscuit form and present it in such a way the dog could bite it off the machine.

"And she may have been educated in advance," he said, "to nurse water out of a plastic container."

Specht said he believes a dog could live indefinitely on a survival ration of about 300 calories a day, which would weigh about two ounces.

The animal would also need a pint of water daily, but the scientist declared it's possible the Russians may have devised a means of conserving and re-using the supply, to reduce the amount that would have to be carried.

★ ★ ★

Specht said that if a dog had sufficient food and water, it could survive in a sealed chamber as long as his oxygen supply lasted — and as long as adequate provision were made for absorbing the carbon dioxide the dog would exhale.

He said 50 pounds of oxygen would last a dog about 80 days.

Debate Arises in Waterford

Board Meeting Slowed by Zoning Wrangle Over Gas Station

Rezoning of several Waterford Township areas was partially snagged last night by a split vote on a proposed gas station.

★ ★ ★

Three rezoning proposals already had been approved by the township board, when a two-hour debate with township residents developed over the proposed rezoning of the corner of Walton boulevard and Clintonville road from residential to commercial.

★ ★ ★

Residents said they didn't want a gas station there. The property owner, A. C. Gifford, said he was in the process of filling the swampy land with several thousand loads of fill dirt in order to erect a gas station.

Gifford pointed out that the township zoning board and the Oakland County Zoning Commission already had approved the change in zoning.

With Treasurer Mrs. Dorothy Olson absent, the board split its vote on the change and tabled the proposal until next Monday.

★ ★ ★

Trustees Charles Pappas and John Coleman voted for rezoning, while Supervisor Elmer Johnson and Clerk James Seeterlin voted against it.

★ ★ ★

Areas that were rezoned:

Five lots on the corner of Cass-Elizabeth road from residential to commercial; nine lots on LaSalle street near Telegraph road from residential to commercial; and four lots on Dixie highway at Rural street from commercial to light manufacturing.

The board also tentatively approved the Rainbow Lake subdivision plat near Airport road.

Delay Examination of Confessed Killer

The pre-trial examination of Edward Drew, 26-year-old confessed killer of a Commerce Township grocer, was postponed one week due to the illness of Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

★ ★ ★

West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle set a new examination date for 10 a.m. Nov. 12.

★ ★ ★

Drew, an ex-convict released from Jackson Prison last summer, is charged with first-degree murder in the fatal shooting Oct. 23 of Karl Kolm, 65, at his store, 1010 Oakley Park Rd., following a holdup attempt.

★ ★ ★

Since his prison release, Drew had been living with his parents at 2993 Welch Rd., Commerce Township, and was employed as a landscape gardener's assistant. He is held in Oakland County Jail.

ON THE BEACH

Escaping to Australia with 10 other U.S. Navy ships, submarine Cmdr. Dwight Towers learned radiation from cobalt bombings had annihilated life in the northern hemisphere and that the lethal radiation was relentlessly drifting south.

Based on the Best-Selling Novel by Nevil Shute

Placing himself under command of the Australian Navy, Towers was assigned an Aussie liaison officer, Lt. Cmdr. Peter Holmes.

Holmes introduced him to Moira Davidson, a vivacious blonde disturbingly remindful of Dwight's wife. Dwight preferred to believe that Sharon Towers and their two young children were still alive in West Mystic, Conn.

The flu bug has sent seven members of the Jimmie B. McKinney family of 118 E. Walton Blvd., to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

The mother Gladys, 31, is in serious condition with a case diagnosed as Asian flu while hospital authorities say the six children, ranging in age from 2 to 10, have been hospitalized for influenza. Their condition is satisfactory.

The children, Virgil, 2, Loretta, 3, Margie, 4, Freida, 6, Imogene, 8, and Berlin, 10, were admitted to the hospital at 5 p.m. Monday along with their mother.

To Air Protest on Bus Service

City to Debate Union's Complaint Against Halt of Evening Runs

A protest against curtailment of bus service in Pontiac will be aired before the City Commission tonight.

Commissioners also will hear a report from the Oakland County Board of Supervisors Welfare Committee concerning certain substandard dwellings owned by the county and in the city limits.

The protest against eliminating evening bus service has been made by GMC Truck & Coach Local 594, UAW.

The City Planning Commission will recommend to the City Commission the rezoning of lot 167 at 249 Auburn Ave. from Residential 2 to Commercial 1.

$14,000 A YEAR ...NOW I AM REALLY LIVING!

By a Wall Street Journal Subscriber

A few years ago I was going broke on $9,000 a year. High prices and taxes were getting me down. I had to have more money or reduce my standard of living.

So I sent $6 for a Trial Subscription to The Wall Street Journal. I heeded its warnings. I cashed in on the ideas it gave me for increasing my income and cutting expenses. I got the money I needed. And then I began to forge ahead. Last year my income was up to $14,000. Believe me, reading The Journal every day is a wonderful get-ahead plan. Now I am really living!

This experience is typical. The Journal is a wonderful aid to salaried men making $7,000 to $20,000. It is valuable to the owner of a small business. It can be of priceless benefit to young men who want to win advancement.

The Wall Street Journal is the complete business DAILY. Has largest staff of writers on business and finance. The only business paper served by all four big press associations. It costs only $20 a year, but you can get a Trial Subscription for three months for $6. Just tear out this ad and attach check for $6 and mail. Or tell us to bill you.

Published daily right in the Midwest to bring you vital business and Washington news immediately. Address: The Wall Street Journal, 711 W. Monroe St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Business Gains Top Forecast

Half of Corporations Report Profits Better; Steel, Cars, Oil Up

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Business profits for the year so far are holding up better than the bears in Wall Street foresaw.

★ ★ ★

More than half of American corporations reporting today are making more money than a year ago. Total profits after taxes for all companies reporting so far are running 7 per cent higher than in the first nine months of 1956. But remember:

1. These profits were made before Moscow told its shaggy dog story to jittery and unamused Americans.

★ ★ ★

2. The gain is largely the doing of three industries: steel, which made a smashing comeback this summer in comparison to the strike ridden third quarter of 1956; autos, where two of the Big Three scored big gains this summer in comparison with a slow 1956; and the oil industry, whose big gains were made in the early months of the year and who now face disappointing demand.

★ ★ ★

3. Some of the biggest corporations are turning in the biggest profits—the top 12 money makers are running 26 per cent ahead of last year, far better than the list as a whole—while many a smaller company is falling behind. The big ones weigh the list heavily.

Of the first 660 corporations to report nine months net income, 358 have bettered last year's figures and 302 have slipped. This year an unlucky 13 operated at a loss, against 14 a year ago. Combined, the 60 have earnings of $8,819,493,717 compared with $8,224,091,683 in the 1956 period.

Dividend of 50 Cents Announced by GM

NEW YORK (AP) — Directors of General Motors Corp. have declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on common stock.

This is the same as previous dividends declared this year and last. It is payable Dec. 10 to holders of record Nov. 12.

★ ★ ★

The company had an average of 277,793,545 common shares outstanding during the third quarter. On that basis, total payments under the latest declaration would come to $138,896,722. The company had 629,000 holders of common stock at the beginning of this year.

★ ★ ★

General Motors recently announced that its earnings in the quarter ended Sept. 30 declined to $122,175,621 from $136,113,576 in the same period of 1956. Nine month earnings were down to $333,412,329 from $639,585,399 a year earlier.

★ ★ ★

Regular quarterly dividends of $1.25 a share on the $5 series of preferred stock and 93¾ cents a share on the $3.75 series preferred were also declared yesterday. They are payable Feb. 1, 1958, to holders of record Jan. 6.

Ford Announces Price Increases

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Division of Ford Motor Co. has announced an over-all price increase of less than 2.5 per cent for its 1958 model line.

Suggested list prices range from $1,799 for the custom 300 business Tudor to $2,907 for the Fairlane 500 Skyliner.

★ ★ ★

Plymouth, Chrysler's largest seller, has reported increases ranging from 1.7 to 3.8 per cent. Chevrolet, General Motors' major producer and seller, has announced increases averaging 4.5 per cent.

Chevrolet's lowest price model was listed at $1,824 and Plymouth's at $1,843.

Ford's suggested list price for two custom 300 models and two models in the Fairlane series ranged up to $22.60 below comparable 1957 models.

★ ★ ★

Suggested factory list prices do not include distribution and delivery charges, federal excise tax, state and local taxes, license, optional equipment or accessories.

J. O. Wright, Ford Division general manager, said that price increases for the Ford line were "held below 2.5 per cent, despite the fact that Ford spent 185 million dollars to make sweeping styling and engineering changes adding most importantly to the value of the new 1958 Ford line."

Birmingham Car Firm Manager Announced

The appointment of Fred Walker as general manager of the Wilson Pontiac-Cadillac, Inc. of Birmingham was announced today by Edward E. Wilson, president of the firm.

★ ★ ★

Walker replaces Russell Downey, who recently resigned. Formerly manager of Wilson GMC Truck, Walker has 16 years of auto experience. Wilson Pontiac-Cadillac is located 1350 N. Woodward Ave.

MAID IN ENGLAND — While surveying the television industry in Britain, columnist Richard Kleiner chatted with BBC actress Patricia Driscoll. American viewers can see Patricia as the new Maid Marian in the filmed "Robin Hood" series.

Commercial TV Improves Fare

Encourages Spread of Video to Most Sections of the Nation

By DICK KLEINER

LONDON (NEA) — This is British television humor:

A butcher tries to sell a customer "a yard of pork—three pig's feet." A recruiting officer attempts to attract a youth into Naval service with the inducement that "you'll get six meals a day—three going down, three coming up."

The butcher's customer decides he wants a checken, is shown one and says, "This is really fowl," and the butcher says, "If you don't like it, you don't have to take it."

★ ★ ★

This is British television quiz show procedure:

A woman was proceeding swimmingly, winning money as she answered every question correctly. Time ran out.

"Can you come back next week?" asked the emcee.

"No, I'm sorry," said the woman, and took her money and walked out.

If that happened on, say, "The $64,000 Question" here, Hal March would have a nervous breakdown immediately.

HORSY QUESTIONS

This is a British reporter at work:

He was interviewing Richard Greene, the star of "Robin Hood," at Foxwarren, the 150-year-old castle in Walton-on-Thames where the series is filmed.

He asked nothing about his reported reconciliation with ex-wife Patricia Medina. He asked nothing about "Robin Hood" or the television industry.

But he wanted to know everything about Greene's jumping mare—the color, how many hands high she stood, what her lineage was.

★ ★ ★

British television under the impetus of the year-old commercial channel, has improved tremendously.

And the competition, besides bringing better programs to both the commercial channel and non-commercial BBC, has encouraged the spread of television through the British Isles. Today, there are only a few remote corners in Wales and Scotland where TV is unavailable.

The commercials are virtually the same as ours, except that there are more short ones—71 per cent of the commercials in England are 15 seconds or less.

But there will be more of them piled into the between-shows break and the intermission in the middle of each show.

In one break, seven commercials totaling 152 seconds were counted. In another, 15 minutes later, there were six totaling 127 seconds.

DOES BEST IN U.S.

"Robin Hood," actually, is more popular in America than in England, even though it is an English story, with an English cast, filmed by English technicians in the English countryside.

★ ★ ★

Besides Greene, chief actors are Alexander Gauge (Friar Tuck) and pretty Patricia Driscoll, the new Maid Marian. Miss Driscoll runs a popular children's program on BBC—a daily show—even though she stars in "Robin Hood" at the same time.

The secret is the short distances in England—the "Robin Hood" factory at Foxwarren is, at the most, only 45 minutes drive from BBC headquarters in London.

Gauge, who delights in his role of the mischievous Friar Tuck, hauled a pack of cigarettes out of the pouch hanging from the rope belt of his friarly cassock. What else was inside?

★ ★ ★

He laughed — and pulled out a movie camera, and even extra rolls of film. He takes pictures between acting in them.

Rubber, whose original Peruvian name was "heve," received its English name from scientist Joseph Priestley when he accidentally discovered the gummy substance would rub out pencil marks.

Calls Art Gallery to Find Out Cost of Stolen Painting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Art lovers in general and the Columbus police in particular would like to know the whereabouts of a man who has an interest in the American artist Albert Pinkham Ryder.

★ ★ ★

Ryder, a major American artist around the turn of the century, produced an oil painting in 1875 called "Spirit of Autumn."

A thief spirited it away from the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts. Less than an hour after it was discovered missing, a man called to find out how much it is worth.

★ ★ ★

Gallery officials wouldn't tell him, but the 5 by 8 inch painting, described as the best minature ever produced by Ryder, is insured at $1,000.

Russia Seeking Big-Scale Talks

Quits U.N. Disarmament Commission for Wider Negotiations

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The U. N.'s long push toward disarmament faced complete collapse today following Russia's refusal to continue negotiations unless they are widened to include all 82 U. N. members.

There was no indication whether the Russian walkout would force the Western powers to reconsider their previous rejection of the Russian proposal for larger-scale talks. The West considers any such idea an unrealistic propaganda move.

★ ★ ★

Delegates were shocked by the Soviet decision to quit both the U. N. Disarmament Commission and its five-nation subcommittee. Most of them felt this killed off chances of any more disarmament negotiations at present.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov disclosed his government's decision yesterday to hushed delegates in the Assembly's 82-nation Political Committee.

★ ★ ★

Kuznetsov threw cold water on any hopes the Russians might reconsider by telling delegates his government was not given to making statements rashly.

U. S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge voiced hope the Kremlin move was "just a passing thought and wiser counsels will prevail."

★ ★ ★

Delegates had expected Russia to make some drastic move since the United States and other Western nations blocked the Soviet proposal that future arms talks take place in an 82-nation "little U. N. Assembly."

South Korea Angry Over Reds' Seating

NEW DELHI (AP)—South Korea today protested the seating of Communist North Korea at the International Red Cross conference here. No action on the protest was anticipated before the 83-nation meeting ends Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Hoon Kim, chief of the South Korean delegation, said in a memorandum to the conference chairman, Princess Amrit Kaur of India, that participation of North Korea is "unlawful and contrary to the principiles of the Red Cross." He claimed North Korea does not have a legitimate government.

★ ★ ★

No action was taken on an earlier Red Chinese protest against the seating of Nationalist China. Both Communist and non-Communist governments of Germany and Viet Nam are represented.

Russia Plans Showplace to House Embassy Staff

WASHINGTON (INS) — Soviet Russia plans soon to give President Eisenhower and the American people concrete evidence that it does not plan to start a global nuclear war in the near future.

★ ★ ★

The Communist government is going to build a new streamlined office building four and one half blocks from the White House to house one of the largest foreign embassy staffs in the nation's capital.

The state department has given Moscow permission to erect the new structure after a considerable period of diplomatic conversations and note exchanges.

Plans for the new embassy call for construction of a six-story structure, which the Kremlin leaders expect to be the number one showplace of Washington's "Embassy Row."

★ ★ ★

Tentative plans call for construction of an ultra-modern office-building type of embassy ornamented by plenty of glass walls and gleaming architectual metals.

The building will, of course, be air conditioned to make Washington's sweltering summers more liveable for the Communist diplomats who are more accustomed to a cooler clime.

U.S. officials eyed the Soviet plans with considerable interest. They assumed that the Russians were not building a new embassy only to knock it down with a nuclear bomb.

ANNEX TO PRESENT EDIFICE

The new building will be on property owned by the Soviet government on 16th Street, just north of the White House, and will be an annex to the present ornate stone edifice at which the Russians in years past gave some of the capital's most lavish parties.

★ ★ ★

Ambassador Zaroubin, who lives at the embassy, will presumably remain in the present palatial building after the annex is completed.

The new office building will cover an area now covered by embassy gardens and a next-door house used for over-flow office workers from the embassy.

Russian ambassadors under the Czars and the Communist government have long occupied the present embassy built a half-century ago by the late transportation millionaire George Pullman as a wedding present to his daughter.

★ ★ ★

When the Bolshevik revolution in 1917 swept the Czarist government out of power and the royal family was executed by the revolutionists, the Czarist embassador stayed on in the embassy.

The building was finally turned over to the Russian Communist government in the early 1930s when President Franklin D. Roosevelt gave diplomatic recognition to Soviet Russia.

New Strap-On Copter Wrecked, Pilot Injured

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—A strap-on helicopter developed at a cost of $500,000 has been wrecked in a crash that injured the pilot.

★ ★ ★

"The Pinwheel," as the experimental craft is known, plunged from an altitude of 50 feet at Van Nuys Metropolitan Airport yesterday when its throttle stuck.

Pilot Dick Whitehead suffered a fractured right ankle.

President Gilbert Magill of Rotor-Craft Corp. of Glendale said the craft was to have been delivered to the Navy this week.

Pontiac Eagles to Back 'Jobs Over 40' Drive

Pontiac Aerie No. 1230, Fraternal Order of Eagles, has voted to support a nationwide campaign being waged by the Eagles for "Jobs Over 40."

The campaign is directed at employers, management and government officials to support legislation eliminating discrimination in employment because of age.

The local group, in cooperation with the Grand Aerie and other Eagle units throughout the United States, will carry on an educational campaign to obtain the support of management, labor and the general public for job opportunities for older workers.

Vienna's Citizens See Muttnik Passing Over

VIENNA (AP) — Russia's second earth satellite was visible to the naked eye over Vienna this morning from 5:50 to 5:53 a.m.

Moon watchers of the Vienna Observatory announced it appeared as a second magnitude star moving swiftly from south to east.

Won't Allow Negroes to Use Swimming Pools

JEFFERSON, Tex. — A suit seeking a court order to permit Negroes to use the Marshall swimming pool has been dismissed.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Lamar Cecil of Beaumont said grounds for dismissal were based on the fact the City of Marshall sold the pool to private interests in October after receiving approval from voters in a citywide election.

★ ★ ★

Cecil said the fact the swimming pool is located inside a city park has no bearing, since the city no longer has an interest or control.

NBC Head Predicting Better Color Television

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — NBC President Robert W. Sarnoff predicts a marked improvement in color television when his network begins using magnetic tape instead of film next April.

★ ★ ★

He said a $1,500,000 Tape Central will be constructed at NBC's Color City in Burbank. A similar Tape Central will be established at Radio City in New York.

★ ★ ★

Sarnoff said magnetic tape will eliminate use of current kinescope and lenticular film processes.

Gleason's Reruns Are Topping First Ratings

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—It was a little like the old times—of two or three years ago — when Jackie Gleason and Audrey Meadows worked together again the other day as "Ralph and Alice Kramden" . . . for a few minutes.

WILSON

"Somebody was going to sue us for accidentally using a real phone number in a "Honeymooners' we shot two years ago, so we had to dub in a new phone number," explained Alice.

They couldn't help gloating that the reruns of the Gleason show—which CBS sold to NBC—are beating the CBS ratings many places. It's rather weird that Gleason now doing so well on NBC with reruns, is drawing $2,000 a week from CBS for doing nothing, in return for his "exclusivity" deal with CBS, designed, of course, to keep him off NBC.

Audrey, who turned down a fortune since marrying wealthy Washington builder Randy Rouse, says, "And to think of the years when I struggled, and nobody knew my name but me!"

AUDREY

Principally a housewife now, woh looks at the westerns and asks "Whatever happened to easterns?" she told me she had no plans beyond guest spots on "I've Got a Secret" and Steve Allen show. "Only," she said, "to try out a few new recipes."

Watch Moon Closely for Soviets' Red Paint

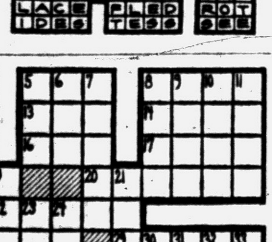

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — The Pan American College Observatory here is going to keep its 17-inch eye on the moon tomorrow night—just in case Russia paints it red.

★ ★ ★

Walter Haas, president of the American Assn. of Lunar and Planetary Observers, asked Paul Engle, astronomy professor here, to keep a close watch. The telescope, built by Engle, is one of the largest in the Southwest.

Scientists have speculated the Russians may have fired a rocket which would leave a red mark on the moon, or maybe just a flash in a partial eclipse, to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Bilshevick Revolution.

Retirement Doesn't Cause Poor Health

By RAY HENRY

If you're hunting for good reasons to keep from retiring, here's one you should avoid:

"I'm sure to have more trouble with my health if I retire than if I keep on working."

★ ★ ★

You should avoid it because, generally, it isn't true.

At least that's the conclusion of a study just completed by Cornell University on how retirement affects a person's health.

The study shows that compared to working, retirement has no significant effect on health; that if your health gets worse after you retire, it's probably due to some other cause than retirement.

There's even a suggestion in the study that, as a general rule, a person's health actually improves some in the first years after retirement if he retired in good health.

★ ★ ★

Thus, the study contradicts the popular impression that retirement leads to a decline in health.

This impression, according to the study which started in 1952, has two causes:

—Everybody knows of at least one person whose health has gone bad or who died suspiciously soon after retiring. So, what has been observed in a few cases by a number of people has created a common belief.

—Some students of old age have backed up the common belief. They've reasoned that when a person gets used to certain habits it's hard for the body to change. Having to make the changes due to retirement, has caused a strain on the body and brought on poor health. Further, the mental changes which must come with retirement have added to the strain on the body causing more physical problems.

★ ★ ★

The people in charge of the study, Dr. Wayne E. Thompson and Gordon F. Streib, agree that the number of deaths shortly after retirement seem to add evidence to this impression.

But, they think this is false evidence.

They feel that the deaths among recently-retired people have nothing to do with retirement; that it was bad health which forced them to retire in the first place. Thus, if they die, retirement wasn't the cause, but the poor health they were in before they retired.

In arriving at their conclusions, Thompson and Streib used two methods of investigation.

The first method involved the questioning of a group of men before and after retirement about the condition of their health. Then, they compared it with similar information from a group of men in the same age group who had continued to work.

★ ★ ★

The second method involved actual physical examinations by doctors who rated the health of a number of the men who had been questioned. This was designed to check on whether the men judged their own health with accuracy.

★ ★ ★

As a result of the two investigations, the study concluded:

"It seems appropriate to lay aside, once and for all the notion that, in general, retirement leads to poor health, the spectre of retirement as death."

Is Sputnik Laika Really Little Lady or Little Lemon?

MOSCOW (AP)—A spokesman for the committee for cultural relations with foreign countries announced tonight the name of the dog aboard Sputnik II is Laika, and that it is a female.

★ ★ ★

Laika is the Russian word for a particular breed of dog native to the far north which is similar in many of its characteristics to the Spitz or Pomeranian. It is small, has great endurance and is used in the north for hunting. The Laika—the word means little barker—is related to the larger Husky.

The spokesman confirmed that Sputnik dog's name is the same as that of the breed.

The dog's name and sex reached the heights of absurdity in Moscow in the last 36 hours. With customary disregard for human—or canine—interest, Soviet officials brushed aside all inquiries.

As a result at least four names have been given it—and perhaps more.

Most British newspapers called the first space traveler Kudryavka, which is Russian for Curly. That was the name the Russians used a week or two ago.

★ ★ ★

Some other papers called it Damka—Little Lady.

Yuri Modin, first secretary at the Soviet Embassy, called the dog Limonchik — meaning Little Lemon.

The Soviet news agency Tass called the dog Laika.
