Combat Maneuvers at Grayling

Pontiac Guardsmen Start Second Week of Training

By ROBERT F. MAHER
(Pontiac Press Staff Writer)

GRAYLING — Simulated combat maneuvers started today for the 83 men of Pontiac's National Guard Company M as they began their second week of field training at Camp Grayling.

The men, members of a heavy weapons company in the 125th Infantry Regiment, 46th National Guard Division, offered support for rifle companies by knocking out "enemy" pillboxes and destroying tanks.

The company's mortars, 75 mm. recoilless rifles and machine guns also went into action against the mythical enemy's other mechanized weapons.

In the first week of training which started Aug. 15, the guardsmen qualified on the small arms range with M-1 rifles, 30 cal. rifles and 45 cal. automatic pistols. Eighty-five per cent of the company's men qualified on the range, giving the Pontiac group one of the highest qualifying percentages of the 7,831 guardsmen at Grayling.

Pvt. James W. Morris of 2934 Hessel St., Rochester, who has been with the National Guard unit only three weeks, scored 234 bullseyes out of a possible 260 to lead 30 other recruits from the division. He was awarded an experts rifleman medal for his ability.

Pvt. Morris was one of the company's seven recruits who received basic training during the first week of maneuvers.

Sgt. 1. C. Charles W. Austin of 12 Downing Ct. and Pvt. Robert Fuller of 4458 Seeden St. received medals for their prowess with the M-1 rifle.

On Saturday afternoon Gov. G. Mennen Williams visited the encampment and witnessed a divisional review in his honor. One of the highest percentages of guardsmen ever attending the two-week encampment in postwar history

Union Wrangle Delays GM Job

UAW-CIO Protests Use of AFL Teamsters in Willow Run Move

DETROIT (AP) — CIO United Auto Workers called on picketing members to end their "unauthorized work stoppage" at the Kaiser Corp. huge Willow Run plant today.

DETROIT (AP) — CIO United Automobile Workers Union pickets today halted the transfer of machinery from the burned out General Motors Livonia transmission plant to the Kaiser Motor Co.'s Willow Run plant.

All roads leading to the Willow Run plant, including the Willow Run express highway, were choked with workers, on foot and in cars, trying to get into the plant.

The pickets assembled at the Willow Run plant early this morning in what appeared to be a jurisdictional dispute between the UAW and the AFL Teamsters Union.

The dispute reportedly centered on which union would have jurisdiction on the transfer of the Livonia equipment to the Willow Run plant, leased by GM for the production of its automatic transmissions.

Kaiser CIO workers appeared at the plant shortly after 4 a. m. and halted a caravan of trucks bearing equipment from the Livonia plant. During the dispute with the truck drivers, Kaiser workers inside the plant pulled switches cutting off all lights and power.

State police and Washtenaw County sheriff's deputies were summoned to preserve order. No trouble was reported, however.

Turned Over to Police by Pontiac Motorist Who Gave Him Ride

A suspect in the slaying of Mrs. Hallie Perkins and the attack on a 16-year-old girl is being held for questioning in Huntington, Ind., Pontiac and State Police were notified today.

State and Pontiac detectives are taking the teenager to Huntington today to view the suspect in a show-up there.

The suspect was turned over to Huntington authorities Saturday by a Pontiac motorist who was driving to Huntington.

The motorist said he picked up the hitchhiking man and became suspicious of him through their conversation. He said the hitchhiker also "resembled an artist's sketch" of the girl's attacker.

Meanwhile, a 32-year-old woman reported to Oakland County Sheriff's Department that a man tried to attack her early this morning in Avon Township.

She told deputies that she was leaving a restaurant where she is a waitress when the man grabbed her by the arm and threatened her if she screamed.

She said the man, who resembled the artist's sketch, fled after she screamed.

The attack attempt is being investigated by deputies and police.

Detective John DePauw, investigation co-ordinator, said 15 more men were cleared over the weekend in connection with both crimes. So far 36 persons have been cleared. Ten of them appeared in police show-ups, but were released when the girl was unable to identify any of them as her attacker.

Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of detectives, said that six more men are sought for questioning.

He added that telephone tips kept most of police lines busy Saturday and Sunday. Tips received by police so far are estimated at over 3,000.

The teenage girl was attacked on the night of Aug. 15, only nine hours after Mrs. Perkins' body was found in a field near Beverly and Baldwin Aves., about four blocks from her home. The girl was attacked two blocks away in another field.

Not Guilty Pleas Entered by Gilleos

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gileo pleaded not guilty to first degree murder charges today before Oak Park Justice William F. Nern. Their examination was set for Sept. 9.

The Gilleos admitted they drove John Caruso, 58-year-old Detroit restauranteur, to Oak Park Aug. 2 to rob him, according to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Gilleo admitted that he beat Caruso to death with a wrench during the robbey, Ziem added.

The pair was arrested in Knoxville, Tenn., by the FBI and returned to Oakland County on first degree murder warrants.

The free GM show, portraying the role of science and engineering in American life, will open to the public Thursday for a four-day run. A series of demonstrations on the small stages of the "Futurliners" and in the big Aerodrome tent will run several times daily between 2 and 10 p. m.

LONDON (AP)— RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend, the divorced war hero whom Princess Margaret is reported to want to marry, is due back in London in a few days.

He was appointed air attache in the Brussels Embassy last month amid newspaper cries of "exile."

The Air Ministry said the handsome 39-year-old officer is coming home for a routine conference of air attaches stationed in Britain's European embassies.

The conference is to start next Monday. The ministry said it is up to Townsend just when he arrives.

Princess Margaret, 23, is with the royal family at Balmoral Castle in the Scottish highlands. Palace officials say she is due to stay there at least another month.

The air attaches' conference is expected to last two or three days. After that Townsend is scheduled to attend an aircraft show before returning to Brussels.

Reject Red Demand for Part in Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP) —An American spokesman today rejected a Red demand that Communist China and North Korea be allowed to take part in arrangements for the Korean political conference.

The Communist demand was made by Red Chinese Foreign Minister Chou En Lai in a broadcast on Peiping radio. Chou said the U.N.'s refusal to let his country and North Korea join in the preparations was "unreasonable." He also insisted that the U.N. must keep the two Red nations informed on all matters related to the political conference.

Iran's Treasury Is 'Very Empty'

New Ruler Makes Plea for Financial Help, Even From Russia

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The world had a pointed appeal for financial help today from Iran's Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi. He indicated that even Russian rubles wouldn't go begging.

The 33-year-old monarch, back in power after the violent overthrow of ex-Premier Mohammed Mossadegh last week, told newsmen at a palace garden party yesterday his nation's treasury "is very empty."

"Immediate help is imperative," the Shah declared. "We need help in the next few days. We do not ask any nation in particular and we are not beggars. However, we must have help now if we are to save the country."

First Boatload of POWs

AP Wirephoto

THEY RETURN BY SEA — The Gen. Nelson M. Walker ties up at the pier at Ft. Mason, San Francisco, Calif., yesterday carrying the first group of repatriated American prisoners of war to come home by sea. In addition to 328 POWs, the Walker brought 2,500 other servicemen being rotated home from Far Eastern duty.

1st Freedom Ship Arrives, Bands Blare Out Welcome

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — More than 300 American fighting men today scattered over the United States, en route home from grim Red prison camps and the emotion-packed arrival of the first shipload of repatriated POWs from Korea.

The Navy transport Gen. Nelson M. Walker—first vessel on the freedom run from Inchon, Korea—glided through the Golden Gate yesterday with 328 former captives as a fog bank broke up overhead and Army and Marine bands broke into "California, Here I Come."

As the ship nosed into her pier at Ft. Mason, just across the stream from Alcatraz, a roar rose from 2,400 Marine, Army and Air Force men also aboard.

Fireboats spouted streams of water and a huge sign emblazoned: "Welcome home." On the pier a third band joined the chorus and a pretty soprano sang "My Hero."

There were scattered shouts as men who once wondered if they would ever see their loved ones again spotted a wife or child. But more often there were tightly clenched jaws and tears in the eyes which had stared too long at barbed wire and bleak North Korean stockades.

On the pier below, many a wife sighted her husband and many a mother her son and started a happy shout — only to find it came out a sob. Some children, bewildered because they didn't quite understand it all, huddled in their mother's arms, their backs to the

Lattimore Trial Charges Pushed

U. S. Seeks to Reinstate Four Perjury Charges Previously Dismissed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today asked the U. S. Court of Appeals to reinstate four perjury charges against Owen Lattimore which a lower court judge threw out as violating his constitutional rights.

The appeal papers said U. S. District Judge Luther W. Youngdahl "misconstrued the counts so as to create the new and spurious issues of free speech, conformity of ideas, imposition of orthodox views, et cetera."

Judge Youngdahl, a former Republican governor of Minnesota, last May stripped down the indictment against the controversial Far Eastern specialist from seven to three counts.

Unless the judge is overturned by high courts, the government will have to decide whether to bring Lattimore to trial on the remaining three counts or drop the case.

Lattimore, a onetime State Department consultant, was indicted last December. The charges grew out of 12 days of stormy testimony before the Senate internal security subcommittee nearly a year earlier.

Since his indictment, Lattimore has been on leave of absence from Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, where he has been director of the Walter Hines Page School of International Relations.

Three Dems Vote Dismissal Over GOP Opposition

Hope Co-operation Will Be Better With New Permanent Successor

LANSING (AP) — The State Agriculture Commission by a 3-2 vote today fired the agricuture director, Charles Figy.

The three Democrats voted in favor of immediate dismissal, but they insisted that the action was not political.

The dismissal motion was made by Commissioner Ray Anderson of Mesick and supported by Commissioner C. B. Smith of Williamston, both Democrats.

The written motion said that the commission took the action to improve the morale of the department and promote cooperation between departmental divisions.

Commissioners said that they "have no idea" who will succeed Figy permanently. They said they would begin a search for a "capable administrator who can bring this department up to standard."

Chairman George McIntyre of Millington and Commissioner Roy Eagle of Sault Ste. Marie, the two Republicans, voted to retain Figy, a Republican.

Commissioner William A. Anderson of Benton Harbor was the third Democrat voting for the firing.

The commission majority, on Figy's insistence that their reasons be brought into the open, told him that the real cause of his dismissal was that the department heads were not working together and that the department was not functioning to its full efficiency.

Commissioner Anderson, however, added that "you know you haven't been yourself since that stroke a few months ago."

Figy then produced two physicians' reports on separate medical examinations, both of which said he was in "excellent health."

Commissioner Smith said that there had never been a staff meeting of the division heads in the 10 years that Figy has held the $10,000 a year job.

Fgy countered that his office has always been open to division heads to discuss their problems.

Republicans charge that the ouster is a political move by the three Democrats appointed to the commission by Gov. Williams. Figy is a Republican.

Two Months in Russia Enough for Perle Mesta

LONDON (AP) — Perle Mesta came back from two months in Russia today and said she was shocked to see how people live under communism.

Mrs. Mesta, former U. S. minister to Luxembourg, said her 12,000-mile tour of the Soviet Union only increased her conviction that the "free world is the only place to live, the only place where you can say what you want to."

She said the fact Russia "has been sealed off from normal avenues of news, commerce and association with the outside world for a long time" has bred fear among its people.

Permitted to travel more extensively in the U. S. S. R. than any non-official American visitor since the war, she declared she returns more impressed than ever with her belief "that the Western world must stick together."

Everywhere she went, she said, she took American canned food with her. She explained she Iran's acute financial troubles result from her loss of oil markets following Mossadegh's nationalization of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co's. vast holdings in the country.

Official sources announced today that police have transferred Mossadegh from the comfortable quarters of the Tehran Officers' Club to a jail cell.

The secrecy of Mossadegh's transfer to jail may have been a protective measure against possible lynching by still tense and angry Royalists or against an attempt by his own followers to help him escape.

Premier Zahedi has said Mossadegh must stand trial before both houses of parliament for his actions in trying to push through legislation giving him dictatorial powers.

He is to get a second trial by the supreme court for the violence committed in his name during the turbulent events of last week.

County Officials Back San Board

Seery Regards Change in Directors as Sound Move for County

Oakland County officials today replied to charges made by Dr. George H. Phillips that Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium's medical care "is being subordinated to the best interest of the business office."

Dr. Phillips is resigning as medical superintendent of the local sanatorium Sept. 1 to become superintendent of Jackson County Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

Chairman Clare W. Seery of Oakland County Board of Supervisors today said: "After receiving letters explaining Dr. Phillips' position in this matter and later talking with the sanatorium's board of trustees, I am satisfied that the best interests of the sanatorium are being served by a change in the position of medical superintendent."

Elmer Kephart, chairman of the tuberculosis sanatorium committee of the board of supervisors, supports Seery's statement.

Albert Weber, chairman of the sanatorium board of trustees, said "We approved Dr. Phillip's resignation, and hope that he will be happy in his new field. We have extended him every courtesy that any other county employe gets, and, since he tendered his resignation of his own volition, we cannot understand his recent statements to the public. We also have given him the use of the superintendent's home during his vacation period."

Dr. Phillips charged in his resignation that the hospital's dual system with authority divided between a medical superintendent and a business executive, "gives rise to many conflicts which have made if difficult to do good medicine."

He charged that on decisions affecting the patients' well-being, trustees invariably decided in favor of the business office.

Latest instance of this, he said, was the board's decision to move the rehabilitation center out of the hospital to a separate building some 100 feet away to make room for seven more beds.

This move, he said, would mean exposure of not fully recovered patients to raw weather—not to mention extra effort involved; conditions which he said might encourage "breakdowns."

He said he had proposed the stockroom be moved outside and the rehabilitation center placed in the present stockroom, keeping it inside the building and still providing seven more beds.

This proposal, he added, was turned down with no explanation.

Dr. Phillips added that the hospital's waiting list is not long — about five to 10 people—and that admission delays average about a week.

Perle Mesta Home From Visit in Russia

She said she was given permission to take all the journeys she asked for, but that she could not always get permission from the Soviet government for Americans from the embassy whom she wished to accompany her.

In answer to a reporter's question, Mrs. Mesta said "I certainly would not like to live there."

Asked whether she had told the Russians in Russia frankly what she thought of their system, she said "I told them I didn't like it."

She said she received the answer: "I don't like your system either."

Mrs. Mesta said she paid her own way in Russia and paid the travel expenses of those embassy Americans who accompanied her. She said she stayed one week as the guest of Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen at his residence, but from then on lived in Soviet hotels.

She plans to stay in London for two or three weeks.

Detroiter Dies Here After Fall Thursday

A Detroit man died in Pontiac General Hospital Sunday of injuries he received last Thursday when he slipped from a raft at Lakeville Oake.

Doctors said Earl H. Stiegler, 32, of 7254 Woodmount, Detroit, suffered a broken back in the fall.

Steigler's body was taken to Sutton and Sons Funeral Home in Detroit.

Airborne policemen decided the plane's occupants had decided on a swim. The cops landed and chased the pair away. The area is off limits for swimming.

Later Kenny confessed to an attack of "buck fever." He said he got so interested in the President he forgot to snap the shutter of his camera.

First POWs Arrive in 'Frisco by Ship

Emotions climbed to a peak in the everlasting minutes required to tie up the ship. They broke, finally, when the gangway was raised and the first of a stream of former prisoners ran down to the dock.

First ashore was Pfc. Roosevelt A. Lunn of Baltimore. Lt. Gen. Joseph M. Swing grabbed him by the hand and shook it. San Francisco Mayor Elmer Robinson did the same as Lunn's mother and most of nine brothers and sisters back in Baltimore watched the scene via a nationwide television hookup.

On Lunn's heels came a steady stream of men pouring down into the huge pier shed. Families hung over white fence barriers and many of the former captives broke into a run for a reserved area where the relatives waited.

It was bathed white with the glare of television and movie lights. Flash bulbs popped and broadcasters dashed to and fro, dragging tangles of cable.

But neither the repatriates nor their families minded.

A mother stepped back and looked at her boy. "He's too thin, he's too thin," she said. But he scoffed and said he never felt better. He never did.

State Vice President of Eagles Order Dies

KALAMAZO (UP)—Matthew A.C. Fox, 62, vice president of the Michigan department of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, died in Borges Hospital Sunday night.

Fox collapsed at the Eagles' national convention in Indianapolis last week. He was brought to Borges Hospital in an ambulance. Hospital officials said he remained in a coma from the time he was stricken until his death.

East Germans, Reds Sign Pact

Soviet Makes Sweeping Concessions to Bolster Grotewohl Regime

MOSCOW (UP)—The Soviet Union has made sweeping concessions in a new pact with East Germany. The Kremlin agreed to exchange ambassadors with the Soviet occupation zone, end reparations after Jan. 1, cut occupation costs, provide additional economic aid and release some German war prisoners.

A joint communique announcing the pact was issued yesterday at the end of a four-day conference between top Russian leaders, including Premier Georgi Malenkov, and an East German delegation headed by Premier Otto Grotewohl.

* * *

The announcement of the new pact closely followed a personal attack on Adenauer by Malenkov. The Kremlin chief declared in a radio broadcast the West German Chancellor, who has favored German rearmament and close ties with the West, was leading his country down the road to war.

Malenkov's speech and the communique also renewed Soviet demands for a provisional all-German government to prepare for elections and eventual German unity.

Tough Suspect Held

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Clay Brook, 31, was in custody today because he was picked up in connection with a case he knew nothing about.

Brook broke the wrists of both policemen who sought to question him and then bit one of them.

Wetback Is Big Problem to U. S., Also to Himself

WASHINGTON (UP)—By the end of this year about 200,000 Mexicans will have crossed the border legally to work on American farms for six weeks to six months. But probably twice that number or more will have slipped in illegally.

Atty. Gen. Brownell says that in the past year U. S. immigration inspectors nabbed about 389,000 illegal entrants and missed perhaps another 100,000.

* * *

He's searching for a way to stop this flow of "wetbacks" which former President Truman's Commission on Migratory Labor said in 1951 was an "invasion."

* * *

"Wetback" once meant a Mexican who came in illegally by swimming the Rio Grande. The meaning has been widened now to include any Mexican who enters illegally by swimming, walking across the border, or being carried over by boat or truck.

There are about 750 guards along the 1,600-mile border. Brownell is studying the question of the government's hiring more guards or perhaps suggesting the use of American armed forces as border guards.

* * *

After a tour of the border area a week ago he said that among other proposals he heard mentioned was this: passage by Congress of a law to penalize American farmers who hire wetbacks.

* * *

An official in the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Security, said there is a penalty for transporting wetbacks but there have been few prosecutions.

In the same agency it was said that if American farm owners "went legal"—that is, hired no Mexican workers except those brought in with U. S. government approval — the need for "legal" Mexican workers would jump 25 to 50 per cent above the present figure of around 200,000.

The President's commission two years ago recommended that employment of wetbacks be made unlawful. This commission was caustic about the abuse it said some of the wetbacks have to endure:

"Those who capitalize on the legal disability of the wetbacks are numerous and their devices are many and numerous. . . If the wetback makes a deal to be guided or escorted across the Rio Grande or some section of the land border, everything he is able to pay is usually extracted in return for the service which may be no more than being guided around the fence or being given a boat ride across the Rio Grande."

* * *

The commission said a wetback who doesn't have the money to pay the smuggler for bringing him in is frequently sold from one "exploiter" to another.

* * *

It said the wetback, since he comes in illegally, can't very well complain to American officials about the treatment he gets here, including the pay on a farm, since that would disclose his illegal entry and he'd be shipped back.

19 Michigan POWs Freed on Weekend

(By United Press)

Nineteen more Michigan men were freed from North Korean prison camps during the weekend, boosting to 81 the number of state GIs released in "Operation Big Switch."

Eight of the weekend returnees arrived at Freedom Village Saturday night and the other 11 Sunday night. Freed Sunday night were:

Pvt. Jack W. Andrews, Northville.
Pfc. Lee James Irons, Lum.
Pfc. Joseph Loutner, Minden City.
Pfc. Richard J. Montgomer, Owosso.
Pfc. Ignacio Perez, Melvindale.
Pvt. Benjamin M. Romero, Jackson.
Sgt. Norman A. Robinson, Adrian
Pfc. Richard C. Smith, Coral.
Pvt. Roman L. Szumiak, Detroit.
Cpl. John C. Williams, Detroit.
Pfc. Allen R. Byer, Portage Center.

Released Saturday night were:
Sgt. Homer Medler Jr., Benton Harbor.
Sgt. Dale H. Williams, Tustin.
Cpl. Floyd E. McKinley, Bay City.
Cpl. Marcos Gonales, Pontiac.
Cpl. Stanley T. Kuras, Gaylord.
Cpl. Maurice D. Racey, Fremont.
Sgt. Robert T. Hesselink, Big Rapids.
Cpl. Charles L. Spencer, Dowagiac.

Before the exchange began, 104 Michigan men officially were listed as Red prisoners. However, early repatriates listed an additional 56 Michigan men they said they saw in North Korean camps.

The Sunday night exchange brought to 120 the number of Michigan men accounted for on lists at Panmunjom — 81 released, 33 reported dead and six reported "escaped."

As before, the Defense Department said it has received no verification of the Communist reports of deaths and escapes.

Meanwhile, 10 of the Michigan men freed earlier were among the 328 repatriated American prisoners who arrived at San Francisco Sunday aboard the USNS Nelson M. Walker. They were:

Pfc. Robert W. Fletcher, Ypsilanti.
Cpl. Leo Freelon, Monroe.
Cpl. Wilbert R. Gibson, Detroit.
Pfc. Edward Hewlett, Detroit.
Pfc. Turner Johnson Jr., Detroit.
Pvt. Kenneth L. Madison, Detroit.
Cpl. Wayne L. Martin Lansing.
Pfc. Wilmer Norman, Remus.
Cpl. L. C. Polk, Flint.
Cpl. Ronald D. Underly, Kalamazoo.

Most of the arrivals planned to return to their families in Michigan as soon as possible.

Martin and Gibson said they arranged for passage east on morning Trans-World Airline flights. Norman, Underly and Johnson also said they were arranging their own transportation but did not give details.

Johnson's wife flew from Detroit to be at the pier when the transport arrived. He said life on the ship was a far cry from that in the prison camp.

"The food on shipboard was wonderful," he said. "I gained 14 pounds in 13 days."

Underly said he was impressed with the ship's cleanliness. "I'd forgotten things could be so clean," he said.

Pontiac Guardsmen Train at Grayling

Attending strength at the camp during maneuvers hit a peak of 96.6 per cent of the current enrollment in the National Guard's ground forces.

Another group attending maneuvers at Camp Grayling is Pontiac's 107th Ordnance Company which recently returned from Korea. This is the ordnance group's first encampment since 1950 when it was activated.

Without the group's technical knowledge and ability to keep mechanized equipment and weapons in perfect order many other units would not be able to function at a high level of efficiency.

During this week's simulated combat training the 107th will set up field ordnance headquarters in order to maintain all mechanized equipment under any conditions, including adverse conditions found in battle. According to the company's commander, Capt. Carl G. Yarling, "We were a highly efficient group before being activated, and the additional experience we picked up on the battlefields of Korea has aided us in maintaining that efficiency."

Cpl. Benjamin Blazak of 5051 Whipple Lake Rd., Clarkston, took 303 out of 350 points on the small arms range with a .45 automatic pistol and was awarded a sharpshooter medal.

Under the command of Capt. William T. Hollis of 342 Central St., Company M members have been recognized by other units at Camp Grayling as one of the most efficient groups on maneuvers.

Capt. Hollis described his company as a bunch of boys who like to play hard and work hard. When it comes time to deliver, they pull together with perfect teamwork and do the best job of any other outfit in camp.

The reason for their high rate of efficiency is that we like to maintain a high degree of morale while on maneuvers, Capt. Hollis explained. Part of that morale-boosting program is a contest now being conducted to give the company a name indicative of their status in the National Guard.

One of the first suggestions submitted by an anonymous guardsman, "The Colonels' Headaches," was promptly eliminated.

Phone Cable Hacked in Kansas City Strike

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Wire cutting was reported in Missouri and Kansas today as contract negotiations were resumed in an effort to end a strike by 53,000 CIO employes against the six-state Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

The wire tampering was reported by the utility in the Kansas City, Mo., and Hutchinson, Kan., areas. Officials of the CIO Communications workers denied knowledge of the incidents.

Teletype and long distance telephone service was disrupted when a 768-circuit underground cable was hacked in two early today near Blue Springs, in the Kansas City area.

Shortly before the strike began the union rejected a company offer of wage increases ranging from $1 to $3 weekly. The old pay scale ranged from $35 to $95 a week.

U. N. Gassed POWs, Red Radio Charges

TOKYO (AP) — The Communist Peiping radio said today that four North Korean soldiers released by the U. N. Command have "died of gas poisoning by the American side."

The Red China radio noted that the Allies have denied using toxic gas, but said "the death of the four returnees has given a lie to the American statement."

Col. L. C. Friedersdorff, spokesman for the U. N. side of the POW repatriation committee, earlier had categorically denied Red charges of "brutality," including the accusation of using toxic gas.

"Our side," the colonel told the Communist members of the committee on Aug. 19," has used only the minimum forces required to maintain order and prevent riots . . . only because the prisoners of war failed to conduct themselves as disciplined soldiers has the use of force and non-toxic irritants (tear gas and vomiting gas) been necessary."

The Peiping broadcast, heard in Tokyo, said "altogether 21 of these poisoned POWs have been handed over, 4 of whom have died since."

Plan Three Apartments in Greenwich Village

NEW YORK (AP) — A part of New York City's Greenwich Village is cheduled for a face lifting, but authorities say the Bohemian neighborhood's distinctive historical and architectural contours will not be marred.

Plans for three big housing projects for 4,056 families were announced yesterday by city officials. The three projects, all in the Greenwich Village area, will cost more than 62 million dollars.

Detroiter Stabs Wife Then Tries Suicide

DETROIT (UP) — Frank Hutson, who stabbed his estranged wife to death in a street-corner argument over divorce proceedings, was a police prisoner in Receiving Hospital today.

Witnesses told police Hutson, 48, stabbed his 34-year-old wife, Gertrude, outside a drug store where she worked Saturday night. Hutson then slashed his own throat in a suicide attempt.

The stabbings were witnessed by the couple's 11-year-old son, Billy, who was selling newspapers on the street. The Hutsons had four other children.

Mrs. Helen Harrison, who worked in the drug store with Mrs. Hutson, told police the victim had told her "several times she was afraid her husband might do something terrible over the divorce."

Relatives said the Hutsons were divorced at Andersonville, Tenn., in 1945 but were remarried before moving to Detroit about a year later. They said the couple had been separated since last April.

35 of 142 Sons of Generals Casualties in Korea Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Korean War showed again that U. S. casualty lists are no respecters of persons.

Among the 142,000 Americans reported killed, missing or wounded is the son of the former 8th Army commander, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, and two sons, both wounded, of Gen. Charles L. Bolte, Army chief in Europe.

The Marine son of Allen Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, was severely wounded in action. Another Marine killed in Korea was the son of Adm. Erhard J. C. Qvistgaard, chief of Denmark's military forces.

The full count of Korean War casualties among the sons of ranking officers won't be made until the military historians complete their work. But a spot check shows that at least 142 sons of Army generals served in Korea and that 35 of these were casualties.

President Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, served in Korea. He is still there and, it was disclosed yesterday, has been honored by the South Korean government for "outstanding professional skill, resourcefulness and ingenuity."

Gen. Van Fleet, now retired, was visiting Korea today, still holding the hope that his son, a missing Air Force officer, might show up alive. The son of Gen. Mark W. Clark, soon to retire from the Far East Command, was wounded early in the Korean fighting. So was the son of Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme commander in Europe.

Two Purple Hearts, bestowed for wounds in action in Korea, went to the sons of Maj. Gen. William M. Miley, Army commander in Alaska.

Ike Will Study Trade Barriers

Gets Report on Need to Relax U. S. Restrictions in World Markets

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower today made public an administration adviser's report declaring free world unity "will remain precarious and fragile" unless the United States liberalizes its foreign trade policies.

The report to the President by Lewis W. Douglas, former ambassador to Great Britain, says that for 30 years this country has erected import barriers which have operated against "re-establishment of international economic and financial health and equilibrium."

America long ago became the world's greatest creditor and can "no longer pursue the protectionist policies of a debtor nation and hope to escape . . . discrimination against American products in the international markets," the report adds.

* * *

"Time is of the essence" in moving toward freer trade, Douglas says in a review of currency and trade relations between the United States and Britain. He urges the administration to make a prompt announcement it is determined to work toward "a progressive vigorous and consistent relaxation of our restrictive foreign trade legislation."

In a letter dated July 21, Eisenhower termed the report—submitted to him July 14—"a most valuable contribution toward illuminating the still dark corners of this highly significant matter."

* * *

Without committing himself, Eisenhower turned the report over to the new government study commission on U. S. foreign economic policy, a group headed by Clarence E. Randall of Chicago, board chairman of the Inland Steel Corp. The group soon will begin a survey to determine whether this country's trade policies should be revised.

Stowaway Swims Ten Miles to U. S.

LIHUE, Kauai (AP)—A 22-year-old Japanese stowaway who had dreamed of America since he was a child jumped off the liner President Wilson Saturday and swam 10 miles through shark-infested waters to reach American soil.

After eight hours in the water, Harry Y. Arii of Yokohama was washed ashore exhausted, badly cut by coral and suffering from shock and exposure.

He spent his first night in U. S. territory there and the second night in jail here, charged with illegal entry.

'I've been dreaming of America for 10 years," Arii told detectives.

No Whooping Cough?

ALLIANCE, Neb. (UP) — An Alliance family was relieved when the quarantine sign on their front door finally came down. One of the three children contracted measles and a little later the other two had the same disease. Then all three became ill with chicken pox — and the mumps.

Panel Disagrees on McCarthy

Two Newsmen See Press Freedom Threat; Others Don't

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four newspapermen disagreed yesterday over whether Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has infringed on freedom of the press by his questioning of editor James A. Wechsler of the New York Post and his criticism of the Washington Post.

Yes, he has, said James Kerney Jr., editor of the Trenton (N. J.) Times and Ed Edstrom, Washington correspondent for the Louisville Courier-Journal. No, he has not, said Benjamin McKelway, editor of the Washington Evening Star and John O'Donnell, columnist for the New York Daily News.

They debated the question on television.

"I really don't think there is any issue of press freedom involved in this episode," McKelway said," . . . if you think that Sen. McCarthy is endangering freedom of the press by anything he does, what you are really saying is that he is endangering all of the great freedoms that belong to our people and which are so closely linked with freedom of the press.

"I don't think Sen. McCarthy is big enough to do that, and it seems to me when the editors think that he is big enough that they show a surprising lack of confidence not only in themselves but in the American people."

Kerney said in reply:

"I think that as soon as a senator, a politician, a public official, impinges on those who criticize him in a newspaper, he is starting to trample on freedom of the press, and he should be cut off right then and there before it goes any further."

McCarthy on Saturday demanded from the Post Office Department an estimate of how much it "costs to subsidize" the Washington Post, the Wall Street Journal and the New York Daily Worker. In a letter to Postmaster General Summerfield, he called the three "typical examples of papers that overburdened taxpayers should not be called upon to subsidize."

McCarthy has accused the Washington Post of printing a deliberate falsehood by saying, in an editorial on Aug. 13, that the senator subjected Wechsler to "intensive interrogation about editorials in his newspaper critical of Sen. McCarthy."

The Post Office Department has estimated that it will lose about 240 million dollars this year in second class mail, which includes newspapers and magazines.

McCarthy wrote Summerfield asking what share of this amount could be attributed to the Washington Post "as a paper typical of those which feel that freedom of the press means freedom to deliberately lie, and to twist and distort facts."

There was no new comment from the Post, whose publisher, Philip L. Graham, said in a statement Friday that McCarthy "has given no evidence that he is qualified to become chief censor of what news may be sent through the mails."

Graham said the Post has consistently advocated that the post office charge newspapers the full cost of mail service.

There was no comment from the Wall Street Journal, with which McCarthy said he has no quarrel. He said he chose it and the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper, because they are "at opposite ends of the economic spectrum."

In New York, Managing Editor Alan Max of the Daily Worker responded by sending telegrams to Summerfield and to Atty. Gen. Brownell to urge a federal investigation of McCarthy's financial background.

All four panel members agreed that McCarthy had the right to summon Wechsler regarding books he had written and which were in use in U. S. information libraries overseas. But Kerney and Edstrom argued that McCarthy not only failed to ask about the books but didn't even know their titles.

Land Reform Balks Reds

A report from Kobe indicates that the standard of living in rural Japan is now higher than any part of Asia, the Middle East or some parts of Europe.

"Farmers there," says the report, "are better dressed and better fed than they are in most other parts of the world." There is no grinding poverty comparable to that of Egypt, Syria, Iran, China, Thailand or Southern Italy.

Farm families have sturdy work clothes and Western style dress for special occasions. Standards of health and cleanliness are high and education is available for even the poorest. Industry and frugality are strong characteristics which have helped work a social revolution made possible by land reforms instituted by General MacArthur.

The average Japanese farmer may have no more than four to six acres but no land anywhere is more intensively cultivated. As a result Japan's rice yield is the highest in the world.

Before the war sharecroppers and tenant farmers were the best material for Communist agitation. When peace came, the political trend outside the cities was strongly leftist.

Today all that is changed. Japan's conservative parties find their greatest strength among these small landowners. The breaking up of large holdings into small farms has wrecked Communism. Even the Socialists say land reform has sapped their political strength.

This great change can't help but be important to Japan's progress toward democracy. It also stands out as shining proof that land reform is one of the most effective weapons against Asiatic Communism.

Tariff a 1954 Issue

Although the second session of Congress is nearly five months distant, lines already are forming for resumption of the trade-not-aid versus protectionist battle.

Washington observers expect, with considerable reason, that the controversy will center around proposed repeal of the Buy American Act of 1932. If that is the case, supporters of the Administration will be found on the repeal side with Republican advocates of higher tariff protection fighting to keep the 21 year old law on the books.

This Act, signed into law by former President Hoover, was a product of depression thinking. It provides that only materials mined or produced or manufactured in the United States from materials mined or produced here shall be acquired for public use.

Written into the law, however, is an escape clause. This gives the head of the Government agency involved the discretionary power to waive the Act if he finds "it inconsistent with the public interest or the cost unreasonable."

Early this year the State Department called the 1932 Act contrary to "the Administration's basic policy of increasing the strength of the free world to resist aggression."

By this year, too, the thinking of the Nation's business leaders had changed markedly from the depression years. On April 29 the U. S. Chamber of Commerce called for the law's repeal. But a House repealer bill got nowhere.

As a result the new commission on foreign economic policy created by act of Congress will include among its other important tasks, a study of the Buy American Act.

This newspaper favors repeal. We believe it important to the Administration's policy of strengthening our Allies economically. We still believe trade-not-aid to be more in the interests of the world's greatest creditor Nation than a tariff policy which makes necessary periodic grants to our Allies.

A Wise Precaution

The decision to cut tall weeds along Pontiac bus routes as a protection for women and children against possible sex attacks should meet with general approval.

Mayor Law and City Manager Willman acted in response to pleas from residents of the Baldwin-Beverly neighborhood. It was in that area that the body of Mrs. Hallie Perkins, victim of a sex slayer, was found in high weeds. Additional weight was given parents' complaints by the subsequent attack on a 16-year-old girl.

After inspecting the bus routes, the Mayor and City Manager decided on immediate action to clear weeds 75 feet back from the sidewalk wherever necessary. They also decided against assessing property owners for the work "in the interest of getting the job done quickly."

We believe this weed cutting program is a wise precaution and will do much to calm wholly natural public anxiety.

It might be well to bear in mind that those who signed the Declaration of Independence were considered radicals by many in their time.

Trail Starts Here

It Is Only Such Route in State's Metropolitan Area

Daffynition

Old timer: A person who remembers when most children said "please" instead of "gimme," and "thank you" instead of "aw heck."

The only canoe trail in Southeastern Michigan among the 44 such trails in the entire state, as listed by the has its source in Oakland County. It is the only such trail in an area that comprises over three-fourths of the state's population. It starts in Commerce Lake, west of Pontiac, and follows a chain of lakes and the Huron River to Lake Erie. It goes through Oakland, Livingston, Washtenaw, Wayne and Monroe counties, passing through Ann Arbor and several other cities and villages. There are a few easy portages. Much of the course is heavily wooded, with high banks, and good places to camp out. A map and booklet, "Canoe Trails in Michigan," can be secured free by writing the council at Lansing.

A sign beside the Dixie Highway which formerly read "Cherries and Worms" has been changed—"cherries" has been crossed out and replaced with "apples."

What is our police force getting paid for? Are they getting paid for stopping us young people and searching our cars and ourselves when we have done nothing wrong?

Thursday night, a little after 10 o'clock two plainclothesmen stopped me at Colgate and Walton St., and detained me for about twenty minutes. They searched my two friends and myself individually and then the car. I had not broken any laws.

It did not matter to them that none of us fit the description of the man they were looking for, or that my license was not the same.

The man they were looking for was the sex fiend who had been reported on that corner. One of them seemed only to ask silly questions such as "Where did you get these matches you have in your pocket?"

I don't mind them stopping me so much, because I know they were looking for the sex fiend, but I don't think there was any reason for keeping us so long, for searching us or asking such silly questions after they saw that we weren't the ones they were looking for.

Senate Security Committee Gives Out 'Astounding' Story of Treason in U. S.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The most sensational report by a committee of Congress in a century or more of American history has just been unanimously approved and issued to the public by the internal security subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee of the United States Senate.

For it shows the outline, design, and active participants in a deliberate conspiracy against the United States government unparalleled since the treason of Aaron Burr.

The report tells that President Truman and other high officials were warned as early as November 1945 by a secret memorandum from the FBI that a Soviet spy ring existed within the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

Names were given and the testimony of confessed Communists was furnished by the FBI.

Nevertheless, in 1948 Mr. Truman was calling an attempted exposure of the whole thing a "red herring" intended, he said, by the Republicans to divert attention from legislative delays.

The Democratic administration, moreover, up to the very end of its term in January 1953 was denouncing the congressional investigations which had been bringing to light the facts about the Communist conspiracy.

* * *

Those Democratic members of Congress and campaign speakers, including Governor Stevenson, who have been proclaiming far and wide that the job of ferreting out Communists from government had better be left solely to the FBI will find by reading the new report that this isn't enough, especially if what the FBI turns up is consistently ignored.

* * *

For the FBI itself cannot prosecute cases or even make public the damaging facts it has collected or ask for the indictment by a grand jury of a single suspect unless the President or the attorney general directs that such a specific step be taken.

All the Democratic and Republican members of the Senate's Internal Security Committee have signed the 26,000-word report, which is the result of nearly three years of investigative work and hearings.

Sen. Willis Smith (D-NC) and a former president of the American Bar Association, would unquestionably have signed the report but for his death a few weeks ago.

He was known to have been shocked by the facts revealed in the large number of sessions of the committee in which he participated.

His comments at the time were always in accord with those of the other members of the committee.

Sen. McCarthy of Wisconsin has never been a member of the Senate internal security subcommittee and has had no part in its proceedings or in the making of its report.

But the findings certainly vindicate many of the broad charges he has made, notably that the FBI's information was disregarded by the executive branch of the government under the last two administrations and that hence congressional investigations became essential.

The committee report says:

"Despite the fact that the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other security agencies had reported extensive information about this Communist penetration, little was done by the executive branch to interrupt the Soviet operatives in their ascent in government until congressional committees brought forth to public light the facts of the conspiracy . . .

"The soviet international organization has carried on a successful and important penetration of the United States government and this penetration has not been fully exposed.

"This penetration has extended from the lower ranks to the top-level policy and operating positions in our government . . .

"In general, the Communists who infiltrated our government worked behind the scenes — guiding research and preparing memoranda on which basic American policies were set, writing speeches for cabinet officers, influencing congressional investigations, drafting laws, manipulating administrative reorganizations — always serving the interest of their Soviet superiors.

"Thousands of diplomatic, political, military, scientific and economic secrets of the United States have been stolen by Soviet agents in our government and other persons closely connected with the Communists . . .

"Powerful groups and individuals within the executive branch were at work obstructing and weakening the effort to eliminate Soviet agents from positions in government."

The committee says that, according to evidence in its records, those involved "in the secret Communist underground included an executive assistant to the President of the United States, an assistant secretary of the treasury, a United States treasury attache in China, the secretary of the international monetary fund, the head of the Latin-American division of the Office of Strategic Services, a member of the National Labor Relations Board, secretary of the National Labor Relations Board, chief counsel of the Senate subcommittee on civil liberties," and several others in wartime projects and boards.

The Senate subcommittee makes a very important recommendation — that existing laws which permit Communists to escape indictment be revised so that the statute of limitations be lengthened, particularly for false swearing.

For at present, unless the evidence of lying is obtained and prosecution begun within three years, there can be no punishment meted out.

Case Records of a Psychologist

He Says Good Spellers Also Good Detectives

Lois is poor in spelling. But you can change a child's rating quickly by using the "Detective Test" described below. Parents often need to co-operate with the school teacher in giving their youngster a boost. So paste this Case Record in your scrapbook. It can altar your child's entire future.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case H-367: Lois G., aged 10, was a problem in school last term.

"Dr. Crane, she seems to be a bright girl," her father informed me.

"But she is terrible in her spelling. So the teacher asked my wife and me to help tutor her a little at home.

"We haven't done much about it thus far, so what would you advise us to do.

"For Lois now hates spelling, probably because of her low marks in that subject."

Good spellers are simply people who are good detectives! They have paid closer attention to the internal make-up of words.

Many people react to words as general visual patterns. For example, they see "window" as a long word with a hole ("o") near the end.

It contrasts with such a word as "door" in that "door" is short and has two such holes.

But they may not pay further close attention to the exact inner arrangement of letters.

of her spelling words?" her father asks.

One simple way is to give her a typewriter. You can purchase an old upright typewriter for possibly $25, which will be adequate for her to use.

Then encourage her to write her cousins, or girl friends away on trips.

For the very act of looking over the keyboard to find the keys, thus stimulates a child to notice how words are spelled.

Besides, the act of typing helps inflate her ego and that will make her enjoy herself. Thus, spelling will lose its former distaste.

You parents can also add zest to spelling lessons by making a detective game out of the process.

For instance, type or write in long hand, a list of 20 to 25 words taken right out of your child's spelling book.

But purposely misspell 5 or 6 of these words. Then give your youngster three minutes to study the list and detect those 5 or 6 culprits.

Call the misspelled words the villains. Lois can thus imagine that she is the detective whose task is to find the villains in the crowd of honest, correct words.

And to inject further zest, pay her 1c to 5c for each villain that she detects. This will help her earn her spending money.

You can repeat this game several times each evening. In a few weeks, you'll be surprised at the way your child improves.

The more "sugar" we can place around educational topics, the more readily children will accept them.

Even in medicine, we physicians have at long last learned to surround our bitter pills with a candy coating.

But we haven't yet done a perfect job of sugar-coating school subjects. So you parents can cooperate greatly with the school teachers by using all your ingenuity in developing educational games.

The old game of anagrams is likewise a help and there are several new card games that teach recognition of words and correct spelling.

For further hints, order my bulletin 'How to Tutor Your Child at Home," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

It can change your child's entire outlook on school and cause him to want to go on to college.

On all foreign policy the Democrats have supported the White House like cement blocks.

And Ike is not like our misanthrope who worried where the icing stops and the cake begins.

This is a mixed-up Congress even on vacation. No longer do the partisans order by catalogue number. Individuals are as independent as a flea with two dogs.

Up until this semester the middle aisle of the Senate has been the 38th parallel of politics. It was an unintentional boundary between diametrically opposed guesses.

Now the members trust each other to the extent they only count their money twice a day.

There was only one self-feeding filibuster since January. That was from a southern gentleman who was more sure what he would get than what he wanted.

The speech was entered in the Congressional Record next to reading matter.

He either wanted a captive Gulf Stream, a bridged Grand Canyon or an egg in his beer. He settled for a chance to take off his shoes and dust his hot feet with cooling talcum.

We are thankful that the unity of the states includes indoors.

And that the appropriations of the people, for the people and by the Senate shall not perish from the irks.

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Several dozen readers have sent me clippings of a recent newspaper article about a Minnesota girl who, winter and summer, walks six miles everyday.

Occasion for the newspaper story was the woman's birthday celebration, her 88th. Her picture shows that she is a young woman.

The young woman, not only walks six miles a day but, she states, she hasn't missed a day of somersaulting since her 53rd birthday, and she hasn't been ill a day since.

The lady says she got the idea of making like a hoop and rolling her troubles away from an international quack who turned Topsy the beautiful sorrel out to pasture for a week and went on a life-saving expedition to St. Paul in 1918.

A lot of old geezers in the medical profession then as now were unteachable. Besides, there's no profit in prescribing somersaults.

Like the Minnesota girl, I have turned my quota of somersaults every morning for years.

Although this takes scarcely 20 seconds, I assure you it wouldn't take that much of my time if I didn't believe it contributes to health and longevity.

In my files is another newspaper story with a picture of a music teacher in Georgia, 75, who begins her day with somersaults; a poem from a man of 75 who says "I'm glad to be alive, and one good reason why I thrive is somersaulting gracefully."

A letter from a man 80 years old who reports that faulty alimentary functions have become normal and remained so since he began somersaulting ten years ago.

Another from a lad who says that when he commenced doing somersaults upon my recommendation six years ago he was a gloomy person but today he is 74 years young.

And newspaper clippings telling about a former premier of France turning somersaults on the lawn by way of expressing extreme pleasure, and Luther Burbank the naturalist turning somersaults on his lawn for the movie news camera on his 75th birthday anniversary.

Now I warn all persons past 40 who are in an advanced stage of decrepitude — old stiffs, that is—that I shall not be responsible for broken necks or other consequences of foolishness.

One in such a shameful condition ought to have enough sense to go at somersaulting with due care and caution.

If you'd like to know how to turn somersaults and what good such undignified behavior can possibly do a blankety-blank, send me, in care of this newspaper, a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet on somersaults.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self addressed envelope is enclosed.

Red-Hunters Request Help

Government Employes Asked to Notify Group of Spy Rings

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee has appealed to present and former government employes for help in learning "the identity of the Communists who are presumably still in government."

The appeal came from the Senate judiciary subcommittee on internal security, which during the past year has been hunting for Communist infiltration of government agencies extending back 20 years. Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) heads the group.

* * *

* * *

"The Soviet international organization has carried on a successful and important penetration of the United States government, and this penetration has not been fully exposed."

The report said four or more Soviet espionage rings among government employes have been described by ex-Reds and "that only two of these have been exposed."

"There is a mass of evidence and information on the hidden Communist conspiracy in government which is still inaccessible to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and to this subcommittee because persons who know the facts of this conspiracy are not cooperating with the security authorities of the country . . .

* * *

"Many government workers who have been loyal to the United States government did learn by their contact with conspirators some details of subversion.

* * *

"If these people will come forward, either to the Federal Bureau of Investigation or to the congressional committees, great strides will be made in protecting the security of this country."

The report, signed by all eight members of the subcommittee, said most of the evidence of Communist espionage in the government has come from such persons as Whittaker Chambers, Elizabeth Bentley, Louis Budenz and Nathaniel Weyl. All describe themselves as former Reds who broke with the party.

Hopes Dim Now for Atom Control

Red Changes Necessary Before Any Agreement Possible, Says U. S.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Revolutionary changes in the whole system of Soviet rule would be necessary before the Russian government could join with the United States in any atomic control program acceptable to Washington.

Diplomatic officials agreed today that Russian participation would be impossible without such revolutionary changes.

They also agreed that this is the fundamental reason why prospects for international atomic controls are extremely dim.

Russia's disclosure last week that it had succeeded in setting off a hydrogen explosion—Moscow said a type of H-bomb had been detonated — has brought a new round of demands and proposals for international action to lift the shadow of atomic war from the world's future.

This has been especially true at the United Nations, where all efforts at arms reduction and atomic controls have been paralyzed for years by East-West disagreement.

On Saturday Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee released a letter from Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith replying to Wiley's inquiry about atomic prospects. Smith said frankly they were dim. He blamed Soviet "intransigeance"—refusal to compromise.

Diplomats believe it would be extremely difficult for the United States, having operated under atomic secrecy for a decade, to give up its restrictions and open the gates of presently restricted areas to foreigners, including Russians.

In a nation where freedom is a general practice, however, it is not inconceivable; it could be done without upsetting a whole way of life.

But experts on Soviet affairs see in the cards no radical alteration of the Kremlin system of rule. And American officials so distrust the Russians on their past record that they will not agree to any system of disarmament and control which does not provide for a constant check against perjury on a grand scale.

Report Real Estate Sales Leveling Off

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although real estate sales volume remains high, the Federal Reserve Board said yesterday, homes in some areas are selling more slowly and at reduced prices.

A study made by the board indicated that real estate prices reached a peak in 1951 and have remained relatively stable since then.

The board pictured the house market as strong and active, but indicated that production has now overtaken demand to put the buyer in a stronger position. Over-all demand was said to be increasing, but at a slackened pace.

Wainwright, 70, Has Birthday in Hospital Bed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)— Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright (ret), the gaunt hero of Corregidor, celebrated his 70th birthday yesterday, flat on his back in a hospital bed.

Only a few old friends and his son Capt. Jonathan M. Wainwright V, gathered around his hospital bed. Many remembered with messages and flowers the man who doggedly defended the rock of Corregidor in Manila Bay and finally had to surrender to the Japanese on May 6, 1942.

Wainwright spent four years in Japanese prison camps.

He was hospitalized here last July 6 following a reported stroke. His condition was reported improved yesterday though he remained in serious condition.

Reds Confined POW With Civil Criminals

FREEDOM VILLAGE (AP) — An American soldier freed from Red captivity today said North Korean police held him in a crude mud jail for three months with Korean civil criminals.

Sgt. Gerald Kilburn, 25, of Charleston, W. Va., said he became friends with some of his fellow inmates.

"We were all kicked around," he said. "I was the only GI but we learned to talk a little to each other," he said.

5th Child (2nd Son) Born to Mrs. Charlie Chaplin

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, (AP)— Charlie Chaplin's fourth wife gave birth to the comedian's fourth son last night.

Both Mrs. Chaplin, playwright Eugene O'Neill's daughter Oona, and the baby were reported doing well. She and Chaplin already have a son and three daughters. Chaplin is the father of two sons by his second wife, onetime actress Lita Grey.

CAB Succeeds in Major Tasks

Chairman Cites Lower Air Fatality Rate, Only Slight Fare Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oswald Ryan, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, celebrated the board's 15th anniversary — and his own 15th anniversary as a CAB member—recently.

In an interview, the only CAB member to retain his post through the 15 years said he believed the board had succeeded in accomplishing the major tasks assigned it under the Civil Aeronautics Act, passed Aug. 22, 1938.

Ryan said that when CAB took over regulation of civil aviation 15 years ago, it found the airline industry financially desperate.

Half the money invested in the industry had been lost, and most of the lines were tottering on the edge of bankruptcy, he said.

Furthermore, he added, the airline safety record was poor.

Ryan said the board was given the statutory tools to foster an economically sound air transport system by:

1. Issuing or denying certificates to promote sufficient competition to "assure good service, rapid development, and fair rates for the public."

2. Regulating rates to prevent rate wars and yet insure a fair price to the public.

3. Granting financial aid — subsidy — to the airlines.

4. Imposing safety rules.

How has it all worked out?

"The public wants safe, reliable equipment available and at the lowest price consistent with the financial soundness of the carriers," Ryan said.

"They have it, and in good measure."

The board chairman said 584 cities now receive airline service, compared with about 200 only 15 years ago.

Airline passenger fatalities have declined from 1 for every 13½ million passenger miles in 1938 to ½ for each 100 million passenger miles in 1952.

First-class fares have increased only 14 per cent since 1941, despite an 80 per cent increase in the cost of living.

"Well," she said, "how was I to know that I drew a VIP?" The note was to her boyfriend on the next floor.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL ordered all its local affiliates yesterday to sever ties with the Carpenters Union, which quit the AFL two weeks ago.

POW Exchange Ends 3rd Week

150 Americans in Last Batch With 136 Next Bringing List to 2,000

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Korean prisoner exchange approached the end of its third week today as 150 Americans, most of them captured late in the war, returned from Red captivity.

The Communists said they would return 136 more tomorrow, which would push the total number of freed Americans over the 2,000 mark. The Reds originally said they held 3,313 Americans.

The Reds also returned 300 South Koreans Monday. The U. N. Command released 2,400 North Korean soldiers and 259 North Korean civilians.

* * *

"Operation Big Switch" is almost two thirds complete, providing the current rate of exchange is maintained. Monday was the 20th day of the exchange.

* * *

Although the Communists have stepped up their pace of exchange, they still are lagging in returning Americans. Only about 56 per cent of the listed American captives have been released.

The Reds still hold most of the Allied officers and noncommissioned officers they captured and apparently are keeping them until the last.

Meanwhile, the first transport carrying released Americans POWs home crossed under the Golden Gate and unloaded 328 former prisoners onto American soil at San Francisco.

And at the South Korean port of Inchon, more Americans began boarding the transport Gen. John Pope, which is scheduled to sail Tuesday on the two-week trip to the United States with about 400 former POWs aboard.

French Arrest 1,000 in Morocco Roundup

RABAT, Morocco, Aug. 24 (AP)—Morocco's outlawed Istiqlal Nationalist movement was on the run today, following French arrest of more than 1,000 Arabs suspected of anti-French activity.

The widespread roundup yesterday by French forces sent Istiqlal members underground or fleeing abroad. Jails were jammed.

Polio Foundation Treated 80,000 During 1952

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis says 1952 was the worst epidemic year for the United States but also was the year of greatest promise in the fight against the disease.

The March of Dimes organization, in its annual report released yesterday, said it spent almost 25 million dollars last year for treatment of some 80,000 persons. Many were old cases; others were from among the 57,628 new cases reported in 1952.

Another $6,736,000 went for research and professional education, the foundation said, and almost three million for administrative and other expenditures.

Some of England's churches have iron hooks or rings attached to the pews to which, in the Middle Ages, the parishioners attached the leashes of their hunting dogs.

LEARNS THE HARD WAY—Jimmy Bird, 2, of Sioux Falls, S. D., does not have the love for trains he did, after meeting face to face with a big freight on a 75-foot railroad bridge. The youngster wandered from his home, climbing on the trestle to get a better look at passing trains. Just then the Omaha freight came along and Jimmy dropped over the side and hung on as the train rumbled by. The kind engineer, noticing the boy, stopped the train and "rescued" him. The little fellow's caustic comment: "Train bad."

Fugitive Admits Slaying Priest

Indiana Man Picked Up After Tip From Girl Acquaintance

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—A fugitive from the Indiana Reformatory admitted late yesterday he shot and killed a Kansas City Catholic priest in a river-bottom field near Kansas City last July 16.

Detective Sgt. Frank Bennett of Kansas City said William Jackson Townsend, 23, signed a statement admitting he shot the Rev. Robert A. Hodges.

* * *

Townsend told Bennett he shot the priest with a .38-caliber revolver he had borrowed after his escape June 5 from the Indiana Reformatory.

* * *

Townsend was arrested Saturday in Logansport, Ind., by FBI agents who said a woman acquaintance of Townsend's had told of seeing Father Hodges' identification papers in Townsend's possession.

Federal charges against him include two counts of unlawful flight to escape prosecution, one of them in the Hodges slaying, and an auto theft charge at Louisville, Ky.

He was also questiond about the recent fatal shootings of two truck drivers on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, but denied these and said he never had been in Pennsylvania.

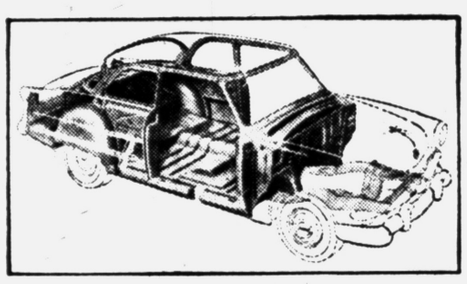
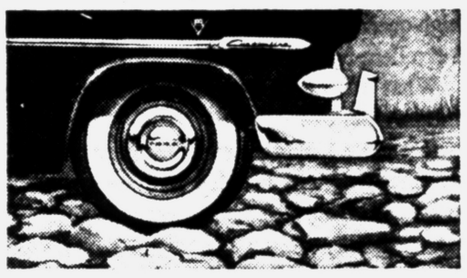
Keeps its value better than any other car!

Used car dealers report that Fords return more of their original cost than any other car— and there are 41 reasons why:

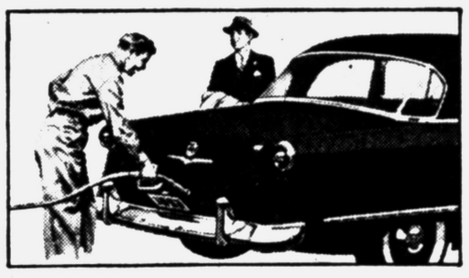
Take power. Ford's two high-compression engines are real leaders in their class. Ford's the only car in the low-price field to offer you the smooth power of a V-8 engine. And no other car in any field has so modern a Six.



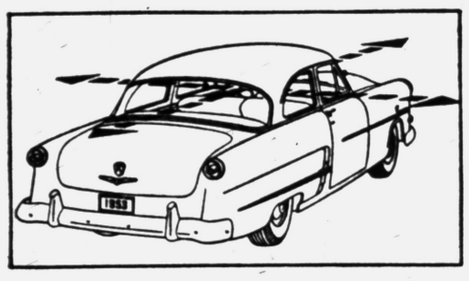
Take build. Ford's Crestmark body gives you style-setting beauty with rugged "build" underneath. Where many cars are bolted Fords are welded hull-tight to keep out rust-causing weather and dirt.



Take ride. Ford's wonderful, new ride reduces front end road shock up to 80%. New spring and shock absorber action gives you the easy ride you want without gas-eating extra weight.



Take savings. Ford's Automatic Power Pilot saves on every gallon of gas. It automatically adjusts carburetion, ignition and combustion to make every drop of gas work its heart out.



Take visibility. Ford gives you the "all-around" view you need in today's fast-moving traffic. A curved one-piece windshield, car-wide rear window and large "picture windows" all around make sure you have Full-Circle visibility.

Take drives. Only Ford in its field gives you a choice of a completely automatic drive, Fordomatic, the finest, most versatile automatic you can buy . . . fuel-saving Overdrive . . . or easy-shifting Conventional Drive.

Nation's Schools Bulge at Seams

Six Million Youngsters Will Study Lessons in Old Firetraps

WASHINGTON (UP) — The nation's schools, faced with a record enrollment of nearly 30,000,000 children, will be more overcrowded this fall than ever before.

Most of the youngsters will find their classroom jam-packed and many will have to study in shifts. About 6,000,000 will get their lessons in buildings classed as firetraps.

Federal and private education officials said today crowded conditions are getting worse, due mainly to the post World War II baby crop which is now reaching school age.

Total school enrollment this fall is expected to exceed last year by 1,500,000, with the vast majority of the new pupils entering the grades.

To make matters worse, most schools are handicapped by a serious shortage of teachers, especially in the lower grades. U.S. education Commissioner Lee M. Thurston estimates a shortage of 70,000 teachers in elementary schools alone.

In Michigan, the first of an estimated 1,500,000 state children returned to school today, the State Department of Public Instruction said.

About 25 rural schools at scattered points throughout the state began classes.

Officials said public schools will have a record enrollment of about 1,250,000 children this year compared to 1,190,000 last year. Parochial school enrollment will be about 250,000 students.

Department officials said majority of Michigan's schools will reopen Sept. 8, the day after Labor Day.

Romania Pledges Lower Prices and More Homes

VIENNA (AP)—Romania's Communist government, observing the ninth anniversary of the satellite country's "liberation" by the Red army, has pledged to take "practical measures to improve shortcomings which have arisen."

Premier Gheorghe Gheorghiu Dej did not elaborate on the shortcomings when he spoke over a nationwide radio network yesterday. He said, however, the government would build new homes, increase pensions and reduce prices.

The Premier's speech appeared to confirm recent reports that the Romania Reds, like their counterparts in other Soviet satellites, are being forced by public discontent to concentrate more on production of consumer goods and an improvement in living standards.

Business Experts Will Report to Ike

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times reported today the White House is setting up a network of economic experts at key points across the country to report on economic trends.

The Times, in a Washington dispatch by Charles E. Egan, said the experts are known for their business acumen and objectivity in assessing local economic conditions.

Egan said the experts, "chosen on a highly selective basis established by the opinions of bankers, businessmen, labor leaders and politicians in each city, will report on a monthly basis—more often if conditions warrant—to the White House on the economic trends in their respective localities."

The story said White House officials are reticent about discussing the new advisory set-up.

McCarthy to Probe Closed U. S. Mines

LA JOLLA, CAlif. (AP)—Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) says he is going to investigate stocks of strategic minerals mined in the Midwestern and Western states.

McCarthy told reporters yesterday he was informed that mines had been shut down while the government, under the Truman administration, sought supplies in foreign countries.

Some such mines, he said he was told, would take as long as five years to get into operation again.

The Wisconsin senator declared that, while he wasn't accusing anyone, the loss to the country was the same as if caused by shutdown by deliberate sabotage.

In World War II there were about 50,000 battle deaths of Americans in the Pacific area.

Barring of India Seen Closer

Lodge Says U. S. Will Win Vote at Conclusion of Discussion

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP) —United States hopes rose today that it could prevent India's participation in the Korean peace conference as a crucial period in the pre-conference debate began in the United Nations.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., radiated confidence that the U. S. campaign to keep India out of the peace conference would succeed. He predicted the matter would be decided by the end of this second week of discussion.

Voting of the participants in the conference was forecast for midweek, as soon as all scheduled speakers have made their bid for support. The speakers list was scheduled to close at 3 p. m. today.

Two meetings were scheduled for the 60-nation Political Committee of the General Assembly. Either might provide a definite trend as to which way the voting would go on the make up of the conference.

Lodge, gaining confidence that his campaign to exclude India from the peace conference is nearing final success, said his objective was only to "make the Korean armistice stick."

The U. S. opposes India on grounds that only countries that fought in the Korean War should be included in the political conference which the Panmunjom truce agreement stipulated should start by Oct. 28.

India must have support from two-thirds of the voting countries to be admitted.

Most of the United States' western allies favor India's participation in the conference. But Lodge said the split between the U. S. and its Allies on this issue was not serious.

Lodge said that if India is admitted to the peace conference the U. S. would "try to make the best of it."

Highway Official Released on Bond in Theft Charge

LANSING (UP) — John Dolfin Jr., of Grand Rapids, a state highway department official charged with embezzling $2,350 in state funds, demanded examination and was released on $2,500 bond today when arraigned before Municipal Judge Earl E. McDonald.

The examination hearing will be held Sept. 3.

Dolfin, who was subject of a nation-wide police search after auditors uncovered irregularities in his highway accounts last Friday, gave himself up to Lansing police Sunday morning.

Ingham County Prosecutor Paul C. Younger said he confessed depositing two highway department checks totaling $2,350 in his personal bank account last April 30.

Younger said Dolfin admitted he had been taking funds from his highway accounts for four years and believed the accounts were about $8,000 short.

The prosecutor said he covered up past shortages with current funds during the period.

Auditors said it would be several weeks before they could determine full extent of irregularities in Dolfin's accounts and they could not estimate how much he may have taken during the four-year period.

Unshaven and highly nervous, Dolfin told Younger he left his home in Grand Rapids a week ago today when he realized his activities had been discovered.

Dolfin said he put his files of financial transactions in a brief case and took it home with him.

Before leaving Grand Rapids, Dolfin said he put the brief case in a parcel locker at a railroad depot and mailed the key to his wife. The auditor general's office said it had recovered the brief case.

From Grand Rapids, Dolfin went to Chicago, Omaha, Minnespolis, St. Louis, Mo., and Ft. Wayne.

"I wanted to try and think out a solution to my problem," he said.

Younger said Dolfin told him most of the money he had taken was from sale of property on the Edsel Ford expressway in Detroit.

Plane Takes Off, Flies Two Hours Without a Pilot

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP)— A small, 8-year-old airplane is nesting in a treetop today after showing its frantic owner it could fly pretty well without him.

The little Aeronca two-seater kept this community rubber-necking skyward for nearly two hours yesterday as it circled lazily 4,000 feet overhead after leaving owner Walter Warner staring dumbfounded at its departing tail structure from the runway of Ford Airport.

All Warner had done was accidently leave the throttle advanced a mite too far when he spun the propeller. He tried to climb in and stop the unscheduled flight but, the aircraft was a stubborn little cuss. It wanted to be alone.

Warner and sheriff's deputies raced down highways in a ground chase. Then the U. S. Air Force sent up a plane from Kinross Air Base near Sault Ste. Marie with orders to shoot down the carefree soloist.

At this juncture, the little plane ran out of gas and circled down to land in a flock of elms 20 miles southeast of here, only slightly damaging itself in the process.

Now to get it down.

Saturday Evening Post, American Weekly and Better Homes and Gardens give unbiased, conservative reports on anti-enzyme action. Remember, Amm-i-dent did not sponsor these articles, nor the research behind them; nor is Amm-i-dent named. Be sure to read them!

New Hope for Security from Decay came first with ammoniated Amm-i-dent. Now, research shows that Amm-i-dent's anti-enzyme ingredient gives continuing protection. Brush morning and night. The average family will have far fewer cavities with Amm-i-dent!

GIVES YOU A DECAY BARRIER

AROUND EACH AND EVERY TOOTH IN YOUR MOUTH!

Anti-enzyme action brings new hope of defeating tooth decay for good and all. And Amm-i-dent Toothpaste brings you anti-enzyme action, two ways:

1. Instantaneously, with an ingredient which removes the vast majority of all enzyme-producing bacteria from the surface of the teeth.

2. Continuingly, with an ingredient that actually stays in the mouth with an enzyme-inhibiting action.

This is the astonishing decay barrier, which surrounds each and every tooth in your mouth with double, long-lasting protection. There's never been anything like it to protect against cavities! Amm-i-dent's ammoniated, anti-enzyme formula is patented and exclusive.

Think what Amm-i-dent's decay barrier with anti-enzyme action can mean — particularly to the children. Remember the cavities you've had, and count how many the children may be spared by this wonderful discovery!

Patman Assails Brownell Choice

Says Oppenheim Not Qualified as Co-Head of Anti-trust Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Patman (D-Tex) has accused Atty. Gen. Brownell of naming as co-chairman of a committee to study the anti-trust laws "one who has already prejudged and has long preached" that the laws should be "emasculated."

There was no immediate comment from Brownell, but the man whose selection Patman assailed, Prof. S. Chesterfield Oppenheim, said:

"I am opposed to monopoly business. But I'm not against big business just because it's big. I believe in fair and equitable treatment of all business, regardless of size. I do not believe antitrust laws should be weakened."

* * *

Oppenheim is a professor at the University of Michigan Law School. Brownell has named him and Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes as co-chairmen of a study committee which Brownell said would "give clarity, produce uniformity and insure a common sense approach to enforcement" of the antitrust laws.

In sailing ship days, one recipe for blacking for standing rigging included about 6 gallons of whisky to half a barrel of tar, 4 pounds of litharge and 4 pounds of lamp black plus two pails of boiling salt water.

Refugees Farm Once Arid Land

Reclaim Jordan Seabed to Provide Acreage for Palestine Arabs

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Bananas, vines, vegetables and trees grow on a once desolated land between the Jordan River and Jericho.

For centuries that land was submerged by the Dead Sea. Then the waters evaporated, leaving a thin layer of salt which, experts said, forbade reclamation of that stretch.

But one man did not agree with the experts. He was right.

Musa Alami, chairman of the Arab Development Society, thought those 5,000 acres of barren land, if irrigated, could help solve the problem of Palestine Arab refugees now living on Jordanian territory. Several thousand of them, Alami believed, could be established in that region.

* * *

Four years ago Alami asked U. N. expert advice toward rendering that land fertile. The experts analyzed the soil and came out with a negative answer. Their reports said that even if water were found, the land was too salty for any vegetation.

But Alami had faith. He controlled 200,000 dinars (around $560,000) donated by the Iraqi government to his society and earmarked for refugee asistance.

Alami sought to buy machinery in Britain and in the United States. He failed. But far from being discouraged he put several thousand men on the job, using primitive tools and wartime surplus equipment purchased on the spot.

* * *

And one day he was rewarded—there was water under that barren soil. And it was sweet water. Today the land is irrigated by 20 wells. Motors and pumps irrigate hundreds of acres already.

Several refugee families have settled down on the reclaimed land while the desert stretch gradually is becoming fertile.

It is expected the whole area will be reclaimed in a few years. Moreover, several Arab governments encouraged by Alami's success have started similar projects on desert lands within their territories.

With proper modern equipment it is estimated a great number of refugees can be resettled in a short period of time.

Hospital Veteran Has Long Sleep After Bad Day

NEW YORK (AP)—A Navy veteran who spent 13 hours and 17 minutes threatening to jump from a 14th-floor hospital ledge slept through most of yesterday after he was coaxed back to safety.

The Brooklyn Veterans Administration hospital reported yesterday that Sidney Herman, 23, was resting well and responding to treatment.

Herman, in the hospital for treatment of a stomach ulcer and anxiety neuroses, climbed out on the ledge at 1 p.m. Saturday.

He let firemen lead him back into the building after Dr. Harvey Kay, hospital psychiatrist, told him, "I can help you and you know it."

Earlier he had eluded three attempts to take him off the ledge and ignored pleas by clergymen, doctors and his brother. Thousands watched the tense drama.

Sergeant POW Reminisces About Gen. Dean

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—A sergeant captured at Taejon early in the Korean War said today, "The last I saw of Gen. Dean he was in a jeep with a bazooka, chasing a tank."

Sgt. Charles H. Panco, 34, was a machine gunner fighting from a position at a street corner in Taejon.

There, on July 20, 1950, he last saw Maj. Gen. William Dean, then commander of the U. S. 24th Division.

Panco was captured the next day.

Dean also was captured in the Taejon battle. There has been no report when the Communists intend to release him in the Korean War prisoner exchange.

424 Jets Take Part in Soviet Air Show

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet air force hurled 424 military jet planes —more than twice as many as last year — over Moscow's Tuschina Airport yesterday for the annual display of Russia's air might. Western observers said they noted no new types of aircraft.

Starving Despite Food

NEW YORK (AP) — Almost two thirds of the world's peoples are starving despite sufficient food production to feed everyone, says the American Geographical Society.

The society reported yesterday the findings from a study by its medical geographical department.

Poland Gripped by Food Crisis

Commies Blame 'Beria Saboteurs' for Nation's Hungry Plight

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (NEA)—Reports from across the Baltic say that Poland is in the grip of a severe food crisis.

Meat is unobtainable unless one pays fantastic prices on the black market — sometimes as high as $8 a pound. Bread and potatoes, almost the only food, are desperately short.

There is a grim anecdote making the rounds of Warsaw which accurately reflects the mood of the Poles. The latest discovery of Moscow's scientists — according to this joke — is a cross between a giraffe and a cow. "It eats in Poland and is milked in Russia."

Four Polish fishermen who recently escaped to Sweden across the heavily-guarded Baltic reported:

1. Unlike in East Germany, there have been no large-scale uprisings in Poland in recent weeks. But clashes between armed partisans and Soviet troops continue.

2. Anti-Soviet resistance is especially strong in western Poland.

3. Red Army troops and tanks have recently been posted along the Polish-German frontier on the Oder-Neiss to reinforce Polish security and border police in a big manhunt for "people's enemies" — as the Red government calls the resistance men.

Poland, bordering on the Baltic, is but a stone's throw from Sweden. But unlike East Berlin it is deep behind the Iron Curtain, surrounded by a wall of silence.

It is only in the real-life stories of those who manage to get away that the human background to the conditions in the satellite countries becomes clear.

The consensus of Polish refugees with whom reporters have talked is that in case of war sections of Poland's armed forces would turn their guns against the Russians.

He has removed all indigenous" Poles from high military positions and substitued Red Army officers. Russians are now in command of the Polish Navy and Air Force.

The most striking aspect of the Kremlin's bitter struggle for power is the reported release from prison of Wladyslaw Gomulka, former general secretary of the Polish Communist Party.

Gomulka was arrested in 1951 on charges of "Titoism." He was to have been tried, according to Poland's official press, as an "enemy of the people" and an "American agent."

Now Gomulka is free while some of his erstwhile jailers seem to be preparing for the short treck to the execution squad or the long road to Siberia.

Autos Safe in Lightning

14 — PITTSBURGH, (INS) — A steel-topped automobile is a safe refuge in a storm since the steel body carries lightning to the ground even though the bolt has to leap across rubber tires.

Engineers have proved this by million volts of man-made lightning — while drivers sit safely at the wheel. The only effect on the car is a small pit mark in the paint where the bolt strikes.

Chinese General Seems to Be in Slow Fadeaway

HONG KONG (AP) — In the midst of international concern over Red China's next move, now that her armies are free of battle in Korea, one mysterious question crops up. What has become of Lin Piao, once considered China's greatest military genius next to Chu Teh, commander in chief of China's Communist armies?

Is Lin Piao in disfavor with his Red bosses? Is he dead? Or is he somewhere deep in China's interior building up a massive army in preparation for a move toward the tempting targets of southeast Asia?

Lin still is listed as commander of the huge Fourth Field Army and head of the Central South China Administrative District, two of the biggest jobs in Red China.

But it has been many months since he presided at a Central South Regional meeting. Whenever the Fourth Field Army is mentioned, Yeh Chien-Ying, military governor of Kwangtung Province appears to be running it as deputy commander.

Lin was leader of the Fourth when it swooped down from Manchuria through the center of the nation and chased Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalists out of Canton. Chiang was driven to Chungking, Kweichow and ultimately to Formosa.

It was Lin's swift hordes that kept Chiang on the run while other more publicized Red generals were capturing Nanking and Shanghai.

After the Nationalist debacle in 1949, Lin seemed to be climbing politically. There were rumors he would replace aging Chu Teh as chief of staff.

But nothing happened. In 1951, it was rumored he was wounded by a would-be assassin as he debarked from a plane in Hankow, but apparently recovered.

During all the fanfare about the "People's Volunteer Army" fighting in Korea and the new five year plan for Red China, Lin was not mentioned.

17-Month Boy Rides 12 Miles Outside Car

SNOWFLAKE, Ariz. (AP)—Elwood Peterson said a guardian angel must have been along on the 12-mile ride after he found his 17-month-old son clinging to the door handle of his pickup truck as he drove through here.

How Bobby Lynn Peterson managed to ride the running board for that distance and how he got on the car in the first place was still a mystery to Peterson.

Mom-Daughter Use Rennel

Young Mother Lost 46 Lbs.

Rennel Concentrate is fast becoming a family remedy. Mother and daughter teams are common. A weight problem follows the new baby and the young mother remembers the clothes she laid aside. Mother interest and past results suggest Rennel. The young mother is Mrs. E. Mastalanski, 6136 Rohns Ave., Detroit, Mich. She writes, "Before I married I weighed 110 lbs. and my clothes looked so nice on me. After I had my first baby I kept gaining weight and soon weighed 160 lbs. Then I was tired and bloated all the time. Regularity was failing me. My mother told me about Rennel and the good it had done for her. I tried it and I am so pleased with the results. In a short time my weight went from 160 to 114 lbs. with no ill effects whatsoever. Rennel has been wonderful to us and we recommend it to anyone in need of it. We are never without it at our house."

Liquid Rennel goes to work quickly. If not pleased with the very first bottle return it to the manufacturer for your money back. $1.40 at your drugstore.

Probe Brutal Death of Paper Owner

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Investigators today continued to probe into the brutal slaying of Mrs. Walter E. Clark, principal owner of the Charleston Daily Mail, who was beaten to death in her fashionable home Friday night.

Except for a fragment of varnished oak wood found in a pool of blood beside the body, police admitted they were "up against a blank wall."

Police Chief Dewey Williams said the wood may have splintered off a weapon used to beat the socially prominent 59-year-old widow to death. Detectives said no motive had been established for the killing.

Nearly two-thirds of American farms keep dairy cows.

Get an Electric Air Drier
(Dehumidifier)

It's no joke—the way rust can wreck a furnace and other costly metal equipment found in a basement. But there is a modern answer to this old problem. Dry out basement air with an electric dehumidifier and you stop moisture damage.

A dehumidifier's thirst is enormous. It removes as much as 3 gallons of water from damp air every 24 hours.

Favor Optional Fee for State Park Fund

ROSCOMMON (AP)—The so-called Minnesota Plan of charging $1 for a year's permit to use state parks was recommended for this state by directors of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs at a meeting here yesterday.

In Minnesota motorists are given an option to buy a state park sticker at the time they purchase auto licenses.

The MUCC directors acted after Arthur C. Elmer, chief of Michigan state parks, told them that this state has only about half enough funds for park operation.

They also adopted a resolution favoring institution of damage suits in cases where water pollution kills fish.

A budget of $18,000 was approved for the fiscal year running through next June.

Directors voted to hold the October board meeting in Escanaba Oct. 10-11. The December meeting will be in Detroit, the February one in Lansing and the April meeting in Kalamazoo.

Oust Right Candidate From German Vote

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP)—Dr. Werner Naumann, controversial candidate of the extreme right wing German Reich party, was classified by the State Interior Minister here today as a Nazi offender and ousted from the Sept. 6 parliamentary election campaign.

In campaign speeches, Naumann has compared Hitler with Napoleon and praised Nazism for saving West Europe from Communism.

Truck Hits House, Killing Two in Sleep

Four children asleep in a second floor bedroom were not injured. They are Wanda, 7; Clinton, 10; Rita, 13; and William, 15.

The truck, driven by Don Killing, 32, Coal Valley, left route 78 on a curve some 350 feet from the Milner house, Havana police said. Mason County Coroner John Hurley, after questioning Killing, said the truck driver apparently dozed at the wheel.

Killing was not held.

Series Depicts Police at Work

Realistic Approach Wins This New Type Show Many Awards

One of the most successful young men in the television industry is Jack Webb — the gifted creator, director, and star of the radio and television documentary series Dragnet.

With "Dragnet's" initial appearance on TV in Janjary, 1952, both the program and Webb continued to win wide acclaim from the nation's critics and viewers. The show has been commended not only for its sheer entertainment value, but also for its realistic approach in depicting the work of police officers in combating crime — attributes which can be accredited to Webb's insistence on authenticity.

"Dragnet," has garnered more awards than any other program of its type in the history of broadcasting and telecasting.

The dynamic personality responsible for all this is handsome, 6 foot, Jack Webb, ex-Air Force pilot who hails from Santa Monica, Calif., where he was born April 2, 1920. He got his start in radio in San Francisco, following World War II when he originated the title role in "Pat Novak for Hire."

When Webb moved back to Hollywood in 1949, he introduced "Dragnet" on radio and it scored an immediate hit with radio listeners throughout the country. During these years, Jack also had a crack at pictures, some of which included: "The Men," "Halls of Montezuma," "Sunset Boulevard," and "He Walked By Night."

Webb, a man of great modesty, is quick to explain that he is simply trying to present a true dramatization of the police force in action as honestly and factually as possible, and in so doing he holds as closely as possible to the actual case file on each program, stressing naturalism, realism, and — above all — authenticity.

"Dragnet's" Joe Friday is very conscious of the debt he owes to the public for the overwhelming acceptance of the program and feels that perhaps its success indicates a new trend in viewing preferences. "Today," he says, "people are looking for more realism in television. They want to be entertained, but they also want to learn, to benefit and to become better citizens as a result of it. You might call it entertainment with an ulterior motive. However, at no time, does 'Dragnet' attempt to preach, it simply presents the facts."

Model Plane Contest Awards to Be Given

DETROIT (UP) — Vice-admiral Charles E. Rosendahl (ret.) was in Detroit today to congratulate winners in the seventh international model airplane contest.

Rosendahl, in charge of the Navy's lighter-than-air operations during World War II and now executive director of the National Air Transport Co-ordinating Committee, arrived by plane from New York Sunday night.

He will be on hand at tonight's banquet when the Plymouth Division of Chrysler Corp., sponsor of the four-day contest, awards more than $4,000 in prizes and 120 trophies to winners from the field of more than 300 entries.

Unofficial winners in Sunday's speed competition included Airman 1-c Thomas P. Baker of Kings Mountain, N. C., in the leader division; Edwin McGowan, 19, Napa, Calif., in the senior division, and Thomas Tomaser, 13, Kenmore N. Y., in the junior division.

Baker's plane was clocked at 131.53 miles per hour, McGown's at 128.43 mph and Tomaser's at 119.71 mph.

Three U. S. Presidents, Johnson, Jackson and Polk, were born in North Carolina.

Hit Red Supply Bases to Hinder Preparations for Fall Offensive

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — The French air force today broadened its raids on rebel Vietminh supply bases being built up for an autumn offensive.

Pilots making 50 sorties reported direct hits on supply dumps and barracks near Vinh, 165 miles south of Hanoi. Vinh is reported to be the present headquarters of Vietminh chief Ho Chi-Minh and was one of the jumpoff points for the Communist-led invasion of Laos last April.

In the north, the bombers hit Lang Son, 80 miles northeast of Hanoi and within 10 miles of China's Kwangsi Province. The Vietminh is again using Lang Son as one of the chief gateways for the 3,000 or more tons of war material being received monthly from Red China. The border base was badly wrecked by French parachute troopers in a raid July 17.

In the Red River delta French union troops continued mop-up drives against an estimated 50,000 Vietminh regulars and guerrillas raiding villages and sabotaging French communication lines.

A French army spokesman reported 43 Vietminh killed and 53 captured within the last 24 hours.

Thugs Abandon Safe Too Large for Auto

MONROE, Wis. (AP)—A pair of burglars tussled and sweated in an effort to get a large metal safe into the back seat of their auto.

Police said several onlookers on the street never suspected the two men were attempting to steal the safe from the Monroe Clinic Pharmacy. They thought it was being taken away for repairs.

France's Postal Strikes Dwindle

But Protesting Workers Continue Walkouts in Other Industries

PARIS (AP)— The back of France's postal and telephone strike appeared broken today everywhere except in the capital. But balky workers continued to resist back-to-work orders in other strike-bound industries and services.

As the nationwide workers' protest against Premier Joseph Laniel's proposed payroll and retirement benefit cuts went into its 20th day, [illegible] were operating.

The Paris subway and bus systems still were partly paralyzed. Army trucks still hauled some Frenchmen around the city. Elsewhere, scattered strikes continued to "spring up like weeds," as one observer put it.

The Communist-led General Confederation of Labor (CGT) openly defied Laniel's demands for an end to the strikes and promoted new walkouts to push demands for higher wages.

But the continuation of the tieup was not only Communist-inspired. Although the non-Communist Christian and Socialist unions had ordered their workers back on the job, many members defied the command. They first wanted assurances they wouldn't be fired for striking and could make up pay losses through overtime.

Even right wing newspapers said many of the non-Communist workers were refusing to go back to work because they felt their union leaders had not won enough concessions from the government.

REGATTA—Sparkling with lights and bright pennants, boats participating in the second annual Venetian Night, sponsored by Watkins Lake Yachting Assn., line up to begin parade around lake. Twenty craft assembled for the event in front of the cottage of Commodore James Parshall, 4094 South Shore Dr.

Mental Home Betting Bared

Nurse's Suicide Leads to Discovery of Racket at Chicago Institution

CHICAGO (AP)—The bizarre story of a horse-race betting handbook operated in a mental institution by a physician, an inmate of several years, and the inmate's woman friend was told today by Chief Patrick C. Tuohy of the sheriff's police and Dr. Otto Bettag, state welfare director.

Dr. Bettag said the suicide of a nurse in the Chicago State Hospital Aug. 7 after she had lost heavily on bets placed with the bookie gave authorities their first tangible lead, although he said betting operations were believed to have extended over several years.

* * *

Tuohy said Mrs. Dorothy Hughes, 31, told of picking up bets of $30 a day when she called daily on Martin Wanzig, 42, who was last committed to the hospital in September 1952. Tuohy quoted her that she telephoned the bets to an outside bookie and carried winnings back to Wanzig.

When arrested, she had $65 in her possession.

Authorities said Mrs. Hughes told them the betting operations were started by a staff physician, who later enlisted Wanzig because, he said, "The operation is too big for me to handle alone." Mrs. Hughes said she drew a commission on the bets she relayed.

Dr. Bettag announced the physician and three other hospital employes have been dismissed. He declined to identify them.

* * *

The investigation began after Mrs. Fredonia Jones, 47, was found hanged in her room in the hospital nurses home. State investigators said she mailed a letter earlier that day to her husband, a laundry operator, indicating she was taking her own life because she had lost several thousand dollars betting.

Tuohy said no charge has been filed against Mrs. Hughes, who he said agreed to cooperate in the investigation.

Seek Hooded Robber

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A robber who wore a green hood when he broke into the Paul W. Wellencamp home early Sunday and fled with $80 was sought by police today. Wellencamp surprised the intruder when he came downstairs with a shotgun to find out why his dog was barking. However the man disarmed him and ran off.

Ghost Worship Holiday Marked

Formosa Holds Annual Feast Despite Protests From Government

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Today was the day for big pai-pai in Formosa—the 15th day of the 7th moon on the lunar calendar, the anniversary of the feast of ghosts.

Essentially, pai-pai means worship, and the Formosans love it on the feast of ghosts.

Food and wine are prepared to assuage the hunger of departed souls and especially to cheer any who aren't resting peacefully wherever they may be.

The Formosans eat and drink for the ghosts.

Firecrackers are set off and fake paper money is burned in honor of the ghosts. Incense sticks are lighted and prayers are said.

The government has made many futile efforts to curb the feting of the ghosts, which it considers wasteful. It sent loudspeaker trucks through city streets today exhorting the Formosans to save their money instead of spending it on the pai-pai.

However, it did no good.

Everywhere lavish feasts were cooked—for the ghosts who would not eat them and the mortals who did.

PADDLIN' HOME — Venetian Night parade over, yacht crew guides craft to shore to begin job of tearing down decorations. Several participants were still busy un-decorating today.

Obesity, Ltd. Members Keep Roster Held Down

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP) — Members of Obesity, Ltd. held a meeting on a bathroom scale today to report on progress in their battle of the bulge.

The reports were favorable. They're still outfoxing the enemy — overweight.

This was the monthly gathering of the unique organization whose only purpose was to keep its once-portly members in line.

The club pays no dividends, except in good health and when members fall down on the job. It has no expansion plans, because expansion would ruin the whole idea of it.

The idea is good, apparently. One large insurance company, aware that overweight is apt to have a part in many kinds of bodily ailments, sent a man here recently to scan the battle reports.

Many medical people have taken notice.

Obesity, Ltd. is the outgrowth of worry by five prominent citizens who three years ago became concerned with their excessive weights.

Alarmed, they consulted their doctors who told them they better do something about it.

So they did. Preparing for battle, the men — two educators, two businessmen and a lawyer — soon discovered that the only weapons they needed were a strong will power and a knowledge of calories.

To bolster their will powers, they banded together under a contract which is re-negotiated every year.

As specified by their pact, the members meet once a month for a weigh-in. Any member tipping the scales even an ounce over the weight prescribed by his physician must pay $20 to each of the other members.

Helicopters Carry 'Tragic Traffic'

American POWs, Broken in Prison Not Battle, Arrive at Freedom Village

By FRED SPARKS

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (NEA) — Helicopters hum over this strange city of shacks and tents, carrying to final sanctuary our hurt young men — broken not in battle but in Communist prison camps.

This tragic airborne traffic clouds not only the days and nightmares of the witnesses, but also any lingering hopes of an honorable settlement at the forthcoming peace conference.

During "Little Switch" we were assured all our sick and wounded prisoners were being returned. But what about the lad who just came back with a crudely stitched-up belly from wounds he suffered in 1950?

I am told that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and South Korean President Syngman Rhee, while still apart on fine political points, are united in their doubt of the success of the peace parley. The manner of the prisoner exchange which they witnessed has done this.

In 1945 I accompanied relief teams liberating GIs held by the Japanese. Their stories, told while imperial guards awaited someone to accept their surrender, paralleled present sufferings, with this exception: Generally the Communists didn't allow individuals to beat our soldiers, as was often permitted behind Jap prison wire.

But Chinese and North Koreans, using tactics polished by the Soviet OGPU, proved that a brave man can be turned into a whimpering wretch without touching him — by pressuring his mind and withholding proper food and medicines.

Thus starving and diseased GIs — as good Americans as you are — had their brains dulled, imformed on their fellow prisoners, and became known as "GI Chinks."

Kindly treatment by loved ones will correct their mistake and erase the hatred of prison mates.

Not only have the Communists violated the Little Switch pledge and all written and unwritten laws of common decency, but it is now obvious they have no intention of returning all POWs they hold.

Repeatedly GIs insist that chums have been marched into Manchuria, particularly those who were skilled mechanics.

The absolutely shattering condition of the South Koreans being returned will surely needle Rhee's determination to refuse any compromise with his Communist neighbor.

I've seen my share of massive misery in my years as a war correspondent, but seldom before have I seen faces with such deeply etched bitterness as those of Seoul citizens as they watch healthy and well-fed Communists being trucked north.

Mobile Exhibits Show Research

Air Conditioned Cabs, Built-in Stairs Make Driver's Life Happy

By PATRICIA A. WOOD

Big exhibit doors on the sides of 10 "Futurliners" will swing open in Pontiac next Thursday to unveil stirring samples of progress as General Motors' Parade of Progress opens a four-day run.

But the big vehicles, which will arrive at the Washington Junior High School show site Tuesday, are exhibits in themselves.

They are one of the mainstays of General Motors' giant mobile exhibit, which portrays the role science and engineering have played in American life.

For the big red and white liners their stop in Pontiac is a return to their home town. All were built at GMC Truck & Coach Division with the help of GM Research Laboratories.

Towering 11 feet four inches above the road, the "Futurliners" measure 33 feet long and eight feet wide. Head on appearance is similar to that of a Diesel locomotive.

The driver sits atop a 145-horsepower, 302 cubic inch GMC gasoline engine, easily reached for servicing by a separate large door at the front of the vehicle. Dual gas tanks in front of the rear wheels feed the motor, which has a compression ratio of 7.3 to one.

Air conditioning keeps the cab cool in summer, with a special built-in "safety hatch" in the top ready for use in case of trouble.

Once he's behind the wheel of his "Futurliner," the driver flicks on a short-wave receiving set to get warnings of coming curves, intersections or traffic from the lead car which carries John E. Ryan, Parade of Progress director.

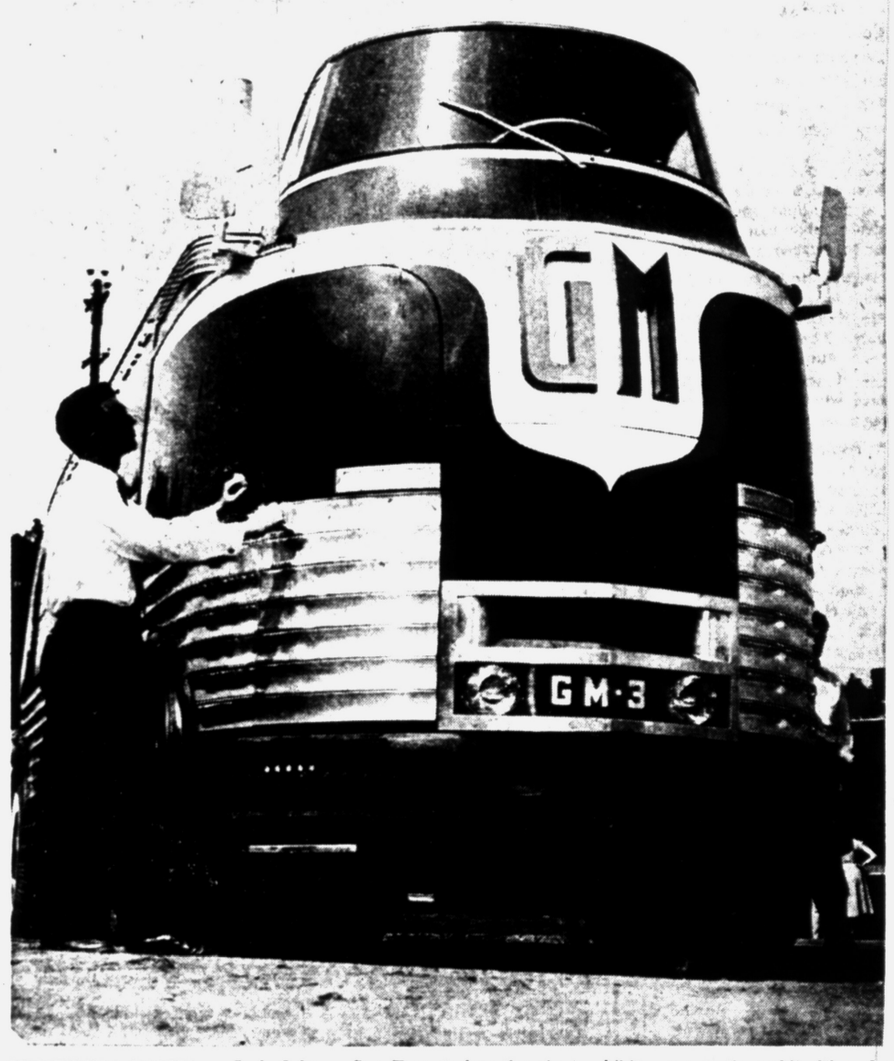
A special electric eye for night driving automatically sharpens the slope of his headlights if traffic approaches; and the dual-range hydramatic transmission does away with the chore of shifting gears.

The 10 big liners, specially built for the Parade of Progress, are among 44 trucks, cars and vehicles which stretch out to become a mile-long caravan on their trek from city to city.

Michigan State Police will escort the parade to Pontiac, where Pontiac Police will take over at the city limits to clear a path through traffic to the Washington school grounds.

Once arrived, each "Futurliner" driver will switch on motors to raise the huge 15-foot-long "lighting tower" in the top of each vehicle, floodlighting the show site.

Sides will swing open to reveal exhibits with the upper door becoming a marquee and the lower door a stage platform as the GM show gets under way.



HOMEWARD BOUND — Jack Osborn, San Francisco, inspects big Pontiac-built Futurliner which will lead GM's Parade of Progress into town tomorrow. Osborn will be on hand to deliver science lectures when the giant exhibit opens to the public Thursday at Washington Junior High School grounds. Admission to the four-day exhibit is free.

Emergency Operation Separates Sink, Girl

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP)—Attendants laughed when Casey Williams walked into the hospital carrying a kitchen sink. They they learned the sink was firmly attached to a finger of 4-year-old Joan Williams.

Williams explained that his daughter got her finger stuck in the sink drain and he couldn't get it out. So he unbolted the plumbing fixture and brought both sink and child to the hospital.

After a few minutes work in the hospital emergency room attendants reported that Joan's finger was saved—but the sink was lost.

Park Crowds See Wrong Dr. Kinsey

PALISADES PARK, N. J. (UP) —The public address system at the Palisades Amusement Park blared a call for Dr. Kinsey Sunday night and hundreds of persons rushed to the administration building to see the sex authority.

But the call was for Dr. Joseph Kinsey of Philadelphia.

Park officials said 90 per cent of those who rushed to get a look at the author and researcher were men.

Sultan Sends for Wives

AJACCIO, Corsica (UP)—Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, ousted Sultan of Morocco, sent for two of his favorite wives to brighten his lonely life in exile

The wives were ordered flown from Rbat, where Sidi Mohammed's stranded harem already is beginning to give French officials in Morocco a headache.

Many of the wives already had started packing their veils to make way for the new sultan, who was put on the throne by the French Friday to avoid civil war.

There was considerable speculation on the number of wives Sidi Mohammed left behind in his royal seraglio when he flew to this island birthplace of Napoleon Bonaparte.

The French government "office of Morocco" estimated Sidi Mohammed might have 300 to 400 wives, but other sources said he had two official wives and only 10 concubines.

McCarthy Probers Labeled 'Clowns'

MACKINAC ISLAND (UP) — James E. Doyle, national co-chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, said Sunday night Sen. Joseph McCarthy's investigators of American employes abroad were "vicious young clowns."

Doyle assailed the Wisconsin Republican during a panel discussion over a national radio broadcast.

"McCarthy's vicious young clowns," he said, "have barnstormed through Europe, scuffling with one another in hotel lobbies, obstructing the serious work of our embassies."

Hold 2 for Questioning

DETROIT (UP) — Anchel Cross, 35, and Billy Mathis, 19, were held for further questioning today in the fatal stabbing of Manuel Childs, 25.

Police said the pair told them they found Childs lying wounded in front of Mathis' home Sunday night and took him to Providence Hospital. Both denied any connection with the slaying.

Keep Cool and Fresh Via Cologne

Battle Heat Wave With a Refreshing Fragrance

By ALICIA HART

Your before-bed shower may leave you cool and clean for a while. But, before you know it, prickly heat and damp beads of perspiration have crept up on you.

During a heat wave, a box of cotton and a bottle of cologne — in a dry, light scent — at your bedside table can provide a lazy way to refresh yourself again.

Don't climb out of bed—just reach for a piece of cotton, saturate it and wipe off the damp spots. The alcohol will evaporate almost immediately and with it the perspiration. In its place will be a sleep-compelling fragrance.

A bottle of cologne in the refrigerator can be a help when you have only a few minutes to freshen up before sitting down to a dinner you've heated yourself up to cook.

Again, have cotton handy. Wipe off youh hairline, back of neck, or any clammy spot that you can reach.

If you haven't time to give uncomfortable feet a special bath, you can at least take a minute or two to remove stockings and shoes and cleanse with cologne-saturated cotton.

In these ways, and myriad others you'll think of, you can keep femininely cool and clean with cologne.

Cotton saturated with cologne is used to wipe off surface soil and perspiration from this girl's hair in summer. These tricks with cologne are wonderful remedies for a heat wave.

Girls Seeking to Correct Friend's Slovenly Habits

By EMILY POST

Two girls write: "We have a dear friend who is very careless about her appearance. She is extremely attractive except for a number of inexcusably slovenly habits which cause my friend and me a good deal of embarrassment whenever she goes out with us.

"We have been wondering if there is anything we can do to change the worst of these without sacrificing the friendship of one whom we think a good deal of."

Answer: The only thing to do is contrast the fault with something nice such as: "why do you do this one thing (whatever it is) when in every other way your behavior is so perfect."

Dear Mrs. Post: Is there some way that questions about a woman's age can be tactfully and lightly turned aside? I am sure I am not alone in this problem. I am a single woman in my mid-30's, but believe I appear somewhat younger.

It seems that whenever I meet new people men or women, they seem possessed to find cut my age. If they don't ask directly, which is often the case, they ask what year I graduated from school or how long I have been working, or some such question.

This has happened so often, and in the company of supposedly well-bred and polite people, that I am quite at a loss to know what to say. Is there some polite but vague answer?

Dear Mrs. Post: Are the members of the immediate families the only women supposed to wear corsages at a wedding? My husband bought me a lovely one to wear to my cousin's wedding but I thought I shouldn't wear it. He was very much hurt.

Answer: I don't wonder your husband was hurt and I can't imagine why you didn't wear it. It certainly isn't the sole prerogative of the wedding party.

There is no rule against a woman's wearing a corsage whenever she happens to be given one except, of course, at a funeral.

Girl's Fear Keeps Her From Dates

Dreads Having to Test Attractiveness With Boys

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Joyce's bedroom is decorated with pictures of movie stars who are reputed to have fatal fascination for the opposite sex. But Joyce herself, at 15, has never had a date with a boy.

As this is a source of much secret humiliation to her, you'd think she'd be glad to be asked for a date. She wasn't.

Recently when the attractive boy cousin who was visiting next door asked her to go swimming with him, she first accepted his invitation — and then in a panic, telephoned to tell him she had to babysit instead.

Her mother vigorously protested this behavior. Joyce's reaction was to burst into tears and retreat to her room, seeking consolation in chocolate cookies and movie magazines.

"Will she outgrow this shyness with boys?" her mother wants to know.

I couldn't say. Were I Joyce's mother, I would be less concerned with her shyness than with the idea behind it. For this shyness may express Joyce's conviction that, like her favorite movie stars, she must exert fatal fascination, too.

That is a terrible idea. It can put such a strain upon Joyce that she dares not accept a date with a boy. Indeed, it can force her to discourage his interest.

The exaggerated demand she makes on her physical appeal may make it so impossible to test it with a boy that she avoids the the risk of failing with him by ignoring or snubbing him.

Her point of view could be, "If I don't test my attractiveness, I won't have to discover I haven't any."

So now we know where we are. We've run away from the neighbor's attractive boy cousin because we don't think we can sustain his original interest.

At Joyce's age, lots of us feel like that. Though it's a mean feeling to face, it's good to face it. Then we may do something practical about it.

We may stop overeating sweet cookies that are bad for our skin and quit envying movie stars' figures by losing some weight of our own.

If we reach the point where we can openly discuss our fear with other girls who suffer from it too, we may begin to lose the idea that we're a queer freak with a special awful problem.

That's an important point to reach. It means that we can regard ourselves as a normal girl, instead of an odd one. When this happens, that idea of having to score a knock-out with every boy we meet looks pretty silly.

Then we're ready to accept the fact that normal girls don't expect every date to fall in love with them.

Coat Interest Goes Chinchilla

A new, surprising aspect of the fall coat fashion scene is the interest in classic chinchilla. Long a favorite staple, appearing in classic styles for both girls and teens, chinchilla takes a brand-new look this season in freshly styled dressy-casual coats.

Beige tones lead for the "furry" coat, followed by a garden of bright pastels, including turquoise, bright-sky, coral, strawberry, yellow.

Luxury look of the fabric is highlighted through simple styling, a minimum of trimming. Newest expression of the "furry" coat is its appearance in the dressy full-skirted fitted silhouette, more usually associated with smooth coatings or tweeds.

Jilted Girl Should Abandon Her Dream of Luring Ex-Boy Friend Back Again

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: About two months ago the boy I'd been going with for almost a year broke up with me. Three days later he started going with another girl.

"Since our break I've thought about him every second. I'm going steady now but I'm always thinking about my old beau when I'm with my current one! Yesterday I saw him at the movies and my heart started pounding like crazy.

"Everyone, including myself, thinks I could get him back if I had the chance. So please tell me how I can be near him so I can have a chance to get him back?"

This old beau of yours is out of reach because he took himself off — he broke away from you and started going with someone else. He'd apparently contemplated the move for some time — it was not the surprise to him that it was to you.

So how can you be near a guy who has walked away? Well, you can run after him. You can call him up; you can ask him to come over for a talk; you can invite him to go to a party with you; you can gallop up to him when you see him around somewhere.

But by the time you've caught your breath, recuperated from the awkwardness and strain of talking to him face to face again after all that's happened — you just might find that you had nothing to say.

Your boy friend broke away from you and started going with another girl only because he wanted to. What makes you so very hopeful that being near him will make him change his mind?

'Twould be better if you'd make up your mind to let him go. When your think-box gets to churning with thoughts of him, tilt it sideways and spill such thoughts out.

Make a positive effort to keep your mind on your present steady. There's a guy who's within reach because he wants to be!

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm in love with a boy who doesn't even say 'hello' to me! When we were in school he would only say something when there were lots of other boys around him. Then it would be some teasing, smart crack.

"When he's alone, he acts as if he never saw me before in his life. Everyone tells me he's conceited and never speaks to a girl first. Some say he's shy. He can't be that because he's the life of the party when his friends are around.

"Seeing him every night at the soda shop and not having him speak to me is killing me. Is there any way I can break him of his conceit — or his shyness — or whatever it is?"

This boy is out of reach because your shyness has put him there and lets him stay there. You know each other, you see each other all the time in the same places. You don't speak, so he may think you don't want to.

His conceit? His shyness? How about your own? Pull him closer by saying "hello" to him just as you do to the other boys — as a beginning.

Then as time goes on, add other words to keep his attention on you for short and then longer moments. He'll speak when he sees you after that!

Well-Placed Mirrors Are Boon to the Whole Family

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Think of a new place to put a mirror, and if it's a good one, the mirror will be a delight every day.

Never mind if there is no entrance hall in the new house or apartment—hang a big mirror near the front door anyway for last minute checkups of nose powdering and the tilt of a hat.

How about a mirror in the kitchen? It's wonderful convenience to tuck up wayward locks of hair on busy days, and makes sure the hostess is at her prettiest as she brings in the soup.

Add bigger mirrors to the teenagers' rooms to help break up the morning traffic jam in the bathroom. They are best if they're long mirrors to encourage good grooming with full views of stocking seams, hems of skirts and press of trousers.

Set a mirror small-fry high in the bathroom so the youngest can see whether or not he's washing his face clean, and he'll also be more successful at brushing his hair.

If the bathroom is small, hang a mirror on the wall opposite the medicine cabinet. It provides a back of the head view, at different angles, as the mirrored cabinet door opens.

Mrs. H. E. L.—"What color and fabric should be chosen for a bedspread to go with a pink rayon faille dust ruffle? The bed is in a teenage girl's room which has rose-colored walls. I would like a washable fabric, and will use more of it for sill-length curtains."

Organdy in white or printed in a dainty pattern, or embroidered organdy, batiste or muslin would be especially attractive. There are also new washable cottons with a silky surface which would go well with the faille.

Mrs. P.F.B. — "We have just bought a new house which has a combination living-dining room.

"I thought I would buy a drop-leaf table for the dining area and a breakfront because I need some place to keep china and crystal, but am told by a friend that breakfronts aren't being used now. Is this true?"

There has been traditional furniture in every big market showing of furniture which I have ever attended, and the traditional breakfront cabinet is always shown.

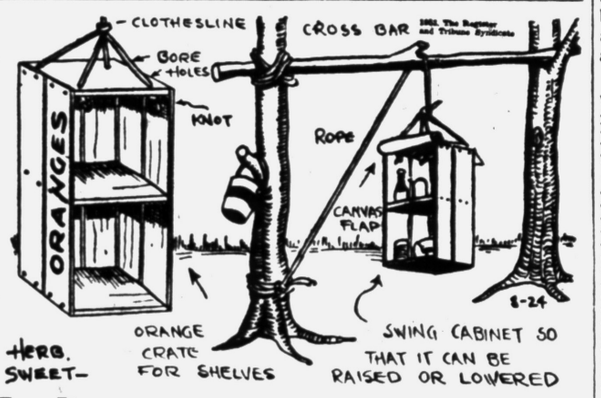
IF hip-narrower needed—

Wide carving bodice tucks; a skirt of straight falling fullness; black crepe with pink satin collar are stand-in for a once good figure.

Mrs. N. N.—Wearables for clubwomen at tea time, cocktails. Black or soft colors, slim dresses and suits in a new imported rayon fabric featuring solid color with ombre accent such as deep brown with ginger ombre — one of the wearables.



Try It

Camp Out With Comfort

Have you ever been on a camping trip and really "roughed it?" If you have, I wonder if you carried the right equipment and if you knew how to make all of the little things which are used around a camping area to make it more livable.

Some people start out on a camping trip with little or no idea of how to get along in the woods. These are the ones who try camping once — then never try it again.

If you are planning on staying in the out-of-doors for a few days, why not make yourself comfortable? Look through some camping books and see how they tell you to plan your shelter, your cooking, and other details. Remember, a good camper is a safe and comfortable one.

One of the most troublesome things in camping out is keeping your food in a safe place. It seems that all of the woods creatur like to explore the good things that we take to eat, so how about throwing an orange crate in on top of your supplies? When this is hung on a limb between two trees all of the food supplies will be safe.

Bore four holes in the top and knot the rope through them. Tie a long rope through this to raise or lower your food safe.

Resident of Illinois Gives Her Recipe for Casserole

By JANET ODELL

We are happy to print a recipe for a dinner in one dish as we often have requests for one. This comes from a recent visitor from Illinois, Mrs. Hugh Green.

As a child, Mrs. Green appeared on the Chautauqua Circuit in a family singing act. Now she is a professional singer and has made a number of recordings.

She devotes some of her time to Grey Lady work. Since her husband is a state representative, Mrs. Green is active in political circles.

People Don't Forget You; They Just Don't Learn

Are you the type who can never remember names, important dates like your wife's birthday, or information which may come in handy for getting you a job promotion and a riase?

Don't waste your time with memory exercises, says Dr. John Brandon, British physician in the September issue of one magazine. Memory, unlike muscles, cannot be improved by exercises. But it can be improved by applying the basic principles of memorizing efficiently.

Most of us can get by with the memory we already have, but if you want to improve yours, Dr. Brandon offers a few suggestions.

To remember a name, the most important thing is to have the intention of doing so. Get into the habit of repeating names when you are introduced, and again when you say goodbye. Usually you don't forget a name; you just didn't learn it in the first place.

To memorize a speech, the best advice is to get the general hang and meaning of it first, then concentrate on the parts you find most difficult. Repeating out loud definitely helps you to remember. Reciting aloud has been found to be about fifty per cent more efficient for memorizing purposes than silent reading.

To remember facts, try to form associations with them. Tie them up with what you already know. Whenever possible, jot down information you want to remember. Writing it down impresses a fact upon your mind.

Use humor, rhyme or anything else that will help fix a fact in your memory. Students rarely forget their professors' jokes, even through they may forget the rest of the lecture.

And don't clutter up your mind with details that are of no use to you, advises the article. Remember only what is important.

Get Professional Advice Before Starting Business

By ANNE HEYWOOD

One woman reader has written me about a very good idea she has for a food product designed to help reducers.

She has given it considerable thought and is, I think, equipped to handle such a project.

However, many of the questions she asks — such as how to get containers wholesale, whether or not she needs a permit, how much to spend for newspaper advertising, and how to get a trade name—are matters which must be taken up with a lawyer, a banker and an accountant.

When a woman is starting a business, especially with a small amount of money, she always feels it is a waste of money to talk to such people.

But from my desk, I have seen hundreds of tragic cases where everything was fine, except that the basic planning had been neglected.

If you explain to the lawyer, the banker and the accountant that you are beginning on a small budget, they will almost invariably give you a special fee.

You can then learn your legal rights and requirements, the best method to make your money go far enough to keep you in business long enough to start making a profit.

Your accountant can advise you on the right method of setting up your books, handling taxes and in many cases, purchasing materials and equipment wholesale.

If this woman will first take these precautions, I can then give her some ideas on how to sell her product, how to advertise it, and so forth.

If you are risking any of your capital, your talents, or your energy on a new venture, remember that the right advice is just as important for a brand new business as a pediatrician's advice is for a brand new baby.

New Pipes Best Cure for Clogging

By HUBBARD COBB

When it comes to clogged water pipes there is just one really final solution and that's to replace the lines.

The best kind of pipe for this job is copper tubing because it can be run up through walls and across ceilings without a lot of ripping and smashing. The old pipes can be left right where they are.

Trouble with all this is that it costs a little money and so sometimes you may have to look for something of a temporary nature in the way of a cure.

Sometimes you can clear some of the deposits and sediment that clog up a line by forcing water through it in the opposite direction from the normal flow.

Another thing that will often help a clogged water system is to replace the fittings such as elbows and Ts.

These fitings usually clog up before the rest of the line and if they are replaced you should get a considerable increase in the flow of water out of taps.

We suggest that if you haven't tried this before you take an odd hunk of wire and make a few practice cuts just to get the hang. No use spoiling a whole length of cable if you can help it.

Take a hacksaw and hold it at about a 45-degree angle to the cable. You should make your cut about 8 inches from the end so there will be plenty of exposed wire to make your connection.

Now start cutting through the cable and take it very easy because you only want to cut the cable — be very careful not to let the saw cut into the insulation around the wires for if it does you have the potential for a short circuit.

After you have cut through the center part of the cable, a twist will break off the short end. Here you have to be careful not to let any sharp edges of the remaining cable cut into the wire insulation.

You'll find that the insulated wires inside the cable are wrapped with heavy paper and the paper over the exposed wires should be torn off.

Before joining the cable to an outlet box, be sure to use an anti-short bushing on the end. This is a small fiber sleeve which protects the wires from damage by the sharp ends of the cable.

Man's Work Is Nothing for Maggie

Margaret — "Maggie" to her coworkers — has one of the most unusual jobs in the country for a woman. Holder of a master mechanic's rating, she's employed in the precision instrument shop of Northwest Airlines in St. Paul.

She moves casually in a man's world of gyroscopes, tachometers, gyrostabilized driftmeters, automatic pilots, flux gate compasses and strobodyne balancing machines, and loves every minute of it.

Brown-haired, brown-eyed Margaret swings a compass as easily as a steno wields a pencil. She's equally at home at her work bench, clad demurely in a baby blue smock, or in the cockpit of a plane thousands of feet in the air, garbed appropriately in overalls.

The intricate system of instruments used by flight crews—there are some 40 on a panel—must be checked with regularity to ensure their perfect functioning according to regulations of the Civil Aeronautics Administration. For Northwest Airlines, this work is done by 39 men and Maggie.

Maggie got into aircraft work during the war. Her boss, M. G. Boe, says he knew the first day she reported for work back in 1943 that she had "educated fingers and educated ears" for aircraft instrument work.

Maggie says she does a lot of her work by feel and sound. Her trained ear can tell if a part is functioning correctly. Her educated fingers often can pick up a flaw quicker than can an instrument.

Travel on Overseas Job

So you want to go abroad! You're in a rut now. You know that travel is a cure-all for boredom. But you haven't the cash for a Grand Tour. You're strictly an armchair traveler.

For your kind of problem, there's a fascinating solution these days, says the current issue of a popular magazine. Take the year off! Live twelve months in Paris, Vienna, Rome, or practically any of the world's famous cities. "On what?", you say. It's quite simple.

Foreign jobs are a world apart from the usual routine jobs in an American city. The color of everyday life in a foreign city, the new customs, art, and architecture you'll become aware of, all blend to create a thrill that will linger the rest of your life. Roughly, overseas jobs fall into four categories:

1. Foreign-service jobs (government and semi-government agencies; military jobs for civilians.
2. Jobs in the foreign departments of American firms.
3. Jobs with foreign firms.
4. Exchange teaching fellowships.

These jobs usually require that you have comparable experience in the United States, can adequately fill the educational requirements, possess better than average skills, and in many instances have a knowledge of foreign languages, economy, and political science. For some jobs, you must be an American citizen, over 21 but preferably between 25 and 35.

Published sources of information about foreign jobs or companies that offer them are available in your library or you can write to any one of the agencies mentioned in the article.

Bathing Beauty Must Take Care of Swim Suit

NEW YORK (INS)—It's hard to be a bathing beauty if your bathing suit is soiled and wrinkled.

Swim suits do get soiled whether you've been in the briny deep or in a chlorine treated pool, and just because you've been up to your neck in water doesn't mean your bathing suit has been washed.

Instead of wadding it up into a soggy ball and tossing it in the car trunk, or stuffing it into a small beach bag, rinse it out in fresh clear water and fold it neatly. Carry along a piece of plastic material for wrapping the folded suit. This is a sure-fire method to keep it in shape and prevent messy dripping.

When you're home again, shake out the suit over the wash tub. Use a small medium bristled brush to chase dirt and gritty sand from the seams, folds, openwork, or ruffles.

Squeeze the suit through warm soapsuds. Don't rub the fabric against itself to help it to come clean. This only wears away the fibers and, in time, weakens the whole garment.

Give the suit two clear water rinsings. Cup elasticized or wool suits in your hands; don't wring or twist them.

If possible, hang suits up to dry in the air or spread them on the ground over a sheet of plastic. When nearly dry, finger press the suits that have built-in bras or foundations.

If the suit has an elastic nipped-in waist, it's a good idea to pinch it in with both hands to ease out the excess moisture so that it will quickly zip back into place.

A matching lace headpiece held her fingertip veil, and she wore a single strand of pearls. Gladioli, carnations and roses surrounding a white orchid formed the bridal bouquet.

Venita Patton was maid of honor and Kay Norden and Della Steward were bridesmaids. Karen Darling was the flower girl.

By BOB THOMAS

That's a prime question in Hollywood these days. The film industry is wondering if the 3D films — the ones that give a depth illusion with the use of polarized glasses — have lost their favor with the public.

2. Of the 27 features being made by Hollywood companies this week, only five are in 3D.

Perhaps the proof of the 3D situation will be provided with MGM's "Kiss Me Kate." The picture will be shown in two comparable cities, one in Texas and one in upstate New York. One theater will show it in 3D with glasses and the other show it flat without glasses. Business will be compared to see if the added dimension draws added money.

Reports Variety: "There has been general agreement that the deepies released so far have been more or less gimmick pictures, quickly assembled to cash in on the novelty value of 3D. The novelty aspects, it's acknowledged, have been largely dissipated, and the public will no longer go for a 3D film simply because it's tri-dimensional."

But will the public go for well-made pictures in 3D? The "Kiss Me Kate" experiment possibly will prove that.

Milton Gunsberg, who started the stereo cycle with his Natural Vision, thinks 3D is here to stay. Says he:

"The 3D pictures, none of them exceptional or destined for high grosses, have done fabulous business and revitalized the industry.

No great picture has yet been made in 3D. Dramatically it has not yet been used properly. No test short of that will decide the fate of the new medium.

"Some people have received eyestrain from the pictures because they have been poorly projected. If projected properly, 3D is good for the eyes and good for story telling. The public likes it. There will always be a place for 3D in film programing."

The first week's gross was $171,000, a new world's record for a film without a stage show. The picture is flat and in black and white.

1. 3D. This is the only method that gives a real illusion of depth. It is filmed with two cameras. The two images are flashed on the screen and the viewer sees one with each eye, by using polarized glasses.

2. Anamorphoscopic. A special lens squeezes a wide scene onto normal-size film. Another lens on the projector broadens the picture out again so it can be shown on a giant screen.

The first of these movies is "The Robe," filmed in Cinemascope. It will open in New York Sept. 16. Another method is Todd-AO, in which "Oklahoma!" will be made.

3. Cinerama. This is what started the whole revolution. Three cameras photograph a scene and three projectors show it on a huge, semi-circular screen. The bigness gives a sense of audience participation.

4. Wide Screen. Many films made in the normal way have been blown up in the projection to be shown on bigger theater screens. There is no difference except in the size of the image on the screen.

NEW LOOK FOR LIBERTY—Visitors to the Statue of Liberty now have a place to rest after a trip up to Miss Liberty's crown. Grounds around the base of the pedestal have recently been decorated with colorful outdoor chairs, tables and umbrellas. Formerly tourists were greeted with slum-like surroundings on Bedloe Island.

Steals Car, Doesn't Waken Passenger

BALTIMORE (AP) — It's a good thing that thief didn't wake little Georgie Bennett when he stole the Bennett family car. George was asleep in the back at the time.

The 6-year-old son of an Army captain said yesterday:

"If I'd seen him and if I'd had this gun (a toy cowboy pistol) I'd have killed him."

George slept during the theft Saturday night and an all-night search by military and civilian police, volunteers and an Army helicopter pilot.

When found by curious residents in a suburb 10 miles away yesterday morning, he was playing the car radio, tinkering with the headlights and romping on the front seat.

Planes Aid Capture of Man Who Shot 2

EDMORE (AP) — Captured after a land and air hunt, Henry Martin of Nashville, Tenn., was held today in the shorgun wounding of two Mexican laborers.

Civil Air Patrol planes were ocalled for search for Martin, who police said fled after the shooting Saturday night. Guided by the planes, Montcalm County sheriff's men located Martin in a hedgerow near McBride.

Sheriff Elton Sampson said Martin told him he wounded Jose Vaca and Georgis at a home between here and McBride. He quoted the Nashville man as saying Vaca and Tores were disturbing his sleep and he got into an argument with them, during which they threatened him with a stick.

The sheriff said Martin's companion, J. A. Peasley of Nashville, apparently tried to stop the battle by hitting Martin with the butt of the shotgun. Marin was injured slightly.

Harbert Wins 4th Open; Morey Western's King

Gadja Second, Ransom of Pine Lake 4th; Ten Finish Under Par

Harbert, now four-time winner of the Open, blasted the Hillcrest Country Club layout with a record-busting 261 for 72 holes of play, including a magnificent 62 first round yesterday and a closing 68.

Bob Gadja of Birmingham came in second, 11 strokes behind the blistering pace set by Harbert. He carded a three-day total of 272.

Next came Horton Smith of Detroit with a 274. Henry Ransom of Pontiac was fourth with 275.

Deadlocked for fifth spot at 277 were John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Larry Tomasino of Utica and amateur Bob Babbish of Detroit.

Harbert's 261 total broke the old open record of 265 he set in 1948 when the tournament was staged at Tam O'Shanter. His card of 68-63-62-68 was 19 strokes under par.

His 62 over the par 70, 6,055-yard Hillcrest course set a new club record which Harbert had lowered with a 63 on Saturday's round. The 62 included eight birdies and 10 pars for a 31-31 total for 18 holes.

Harbert, who also won the Michigan PGA taurnament last month to become the third state golfer to take both events, won $750 for his golfing lesson.

Ten players scorched the course under par for the four rounds. Al Watrous, venerable pro who has walked off with the Open crown six times, wound up with 278 in a tie with Hal Whittington of Midland. One stroke back at 279 was Reggie Myles Sr. of East Lansing.

Upstaters Take MRA Tank Title

SAGINAW (AP) — Saginaw swimmers outnumbered and outscored 11 other teams to win the Michigan Recreational Association's outdor swim meet Saturday at the six-lane Anderson pool.

Detroit was second and Grand Rapids third. Battle Creek followed in fourth. Trailing were Dearborn, Ypsilanti, Jackson, Flint, Midland, Alma, and Ann Arbor in that order.

He set new meet records in the 50 and 100-yard free style. The state high school free style champ also tied a pool record in the 50, and led the Fordson 150-yard medley team to a new meet record in the event.

Coast Netters Win Public Courts Title

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — California walked off with the major share of the titles in the National Public Parks Tennis Tournament which ended Sunday, capturing 4 of the 5 events.

Rookie's Bat Big Help to Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — Second-place Chicago White Sox showed the Detroit Tigers two good ways to win ball games yesterday — and each lesson put a new damper on Tiger hopes of reaching sixth spot.

Sandy Consuegra's masterful five-hit pitching job set the Detroiters down 2-1 in the first game of a doubleheader. Steve Gromke, who gave up only seven hits himself, was the loser.

The double victory gained Chicago half a game in the squad's drive to overtake the Yankees, eight and one half games out in front. Tigers dropped four full games behind sixth-place Philadelphia.

Tigers rest up today and return to Briggs stadium to take on the Yanks in a two-game series starting tomorrow night.

Chicago's big batsman in both games was rookie first baseman Bob Boyd. He tripled in the ninth inning of the opener and then scored the winning run on Sam Mele's single. In the second game, his fifth inning double was the blow that put the Sox ahead to stay after they had overcome a four-run deficit.

The Boyd double was off Ray Scarborough, second in the procession of Tiger pitchers in the nightcap. Ray followed Al Aber during Chicago's three- run fifth, but before the inning was over Ted Gray had to take over.

Then Ray Herbert pitched the sixth and seventh without allowing a run, but Dick Marlowe, who came on in the eighth, ran into six-run trouble. Ralph Branca finished for the Tigers.

Virgil Trucks lasted through the game for the the White Sox. He allowed 10 hits in all and got off to a bad start when Detroit picked up two runs off him in each of the first two innings. But the ex-Tiger settled down after his club went ahead, and the only other runs scored off him came on Pat Mullin's two-run homer in the ninth, his third of the season.

Opener was a fine hurlers' battle between Gromek and Consuegra. Each pitcher faced only 33 batters, and the hits were all even at five each until Chicago's final inning.

Boyd's first-inning single sent Chicago off to a one-run lead, but the Tigers got it back promptly in the second. Singles by Walt Dropo and Bob Nieman, a walk to Matt Batts and a force-out did the trick, but that ended the scoring off Sonsuegra.

Manager Fred Hutchinson was ejected from the park for the second time this season during the nightcap. Umpire Jim Honochick thumbed him out after a plate argument in the fifth inning.

Region Title to Pontiac

Pontiac's Shaw Jewelers won the Michigan Softball Association men's Class A regional tournament Sunday at Flint, but four other Pontiac softball clubs were defeated in tourney play over the weekend.

Shaw's survived a defeat by Port Huron Sunday to come back and win a second game and qualify for the state tourney at Escanaba Sept. 4-7.

Mutt Morse hurled a six-hit shutout Saturday night as the Jewelers downed Port Huron, 2-0. Port Huron then defeated Flint, 4-0, Saturday afternoon to regain the final bracket.

"Imported" pitcher Paul Gatto of Roseville lost a tough three-hit, 2-1 decision for Shaw's in Sunday's first game, but Wimpy Johnson came back with a three-hit job in the nightcap for a 7-2 win and the title.

Dick & Wes Sports bowed out of the men's Class B test at Flint with Port Huron the stumbling block. D&W dropped a 5-4 decision Saturday, but Bob Choinere came back Sunday to beat Lapeer, 4-3, as Bob Thatcher singled home the winning runs in the 7th.

Three girl's teams were among the losers. Avondale played in the Michigan Recreation Association tourney at Ypsilanti and lost to the host team, 16-5.

Here in Pontiac, Shaw's girls in Class B and CIO 653 in Class C dropped from MSA events. Jewelers committed 10 errors as Flint United Cleaners took an easy 17-3 triumph on a one-hitter by Voss.

CIO eliminated Yale, 5-2, then trounced Flint Beecher 10-1 on Kate Boykins' 1-hitter, but in the final game, Beecher slammed out 14 hits to score a runaway 14-4 win.

Jack Berlein's Ramblin' Rascal took first place in a thrilling finish to the lightning class boat races Sunday of the Watkins Lake Yachting Association. Dave Green was second and fleet captain Brown Williams, third.

Commodore Jim Parshall's Tar Baby, skipped by Harm Gillen, won the thistle class race for the second time in a row after a close race with Don Zannoth's Seaweed.

Small boat class was won by Sheldon Covert with Don Glossop, second. Final races of the regular series will be held next Sunday.

Bennett Wins First Feature at Speedway

Joy Fair took second place and Rusty Kelly of Pontiac was third. Kelly also won the six-lap trophy dash. Marvin Main of Pontiac took the 15-lap semi-final.

Only double winner of the night was Waterford's Carm Ragatz. He won his heat race, then captured the Australian pursuit. Fair also won a heat in addition to his second-place finish in the feature.

Tulsa Youth Winner of Caddie Golf Title

Frank Malara, 17, of White Plains, N. Y., who lost to Pittman, 3 and 2, in the finals, won a $1,000 scholarship.

Pittman, son of an oil company accountant, says he plans to use his scholarship at Oklahoma A. & M. He has another year of high school.

Dancer, Arcaro Winners First Time Together

CHICAGO (AP)— Maybe, as Eddie Arcaro says, Native Dancer hasn't proved himself an all-time running great but he's certainly one of the all-time great attractions.

People, thousands of them, turn out just to see him run, with little thought of betting on him or against him. Rarely has a thoroughbred possessed this tremendous crowd appeal.

Arcaro subbed for the Dancer's regular jockey, Eric Guerin, in Saturday's $112,600 American Derby at Washington Park. He "tickled" home Alfred G. Vanderbilt's galloping gray ghost in 1:48 2-5— just a fifth of a second shy of the track record.

Though 22-year-veteran Eddie said his mount could have run faster, "If he hadda," he still wouldn't accord the Vanderbilt gray ranking alongside Citation,

Georgia Youngster Grabs Jaycee Title in Playoff

ANN ARBOR (AP)— He had to work overtime for it, but sharp-shooting Jimmy Raines of Augusta, Ga., now wears the crown of the 8th International Jaycee Golf Tournament.

He won it from Detroiter John Schubeck yesterday when he turned in a 3-over-par 75 in an 18-hole playoff match.

Raines' victory was by a solid six strokes. He shot 37-38 — 75. Schubeck shot 42-39 — 81.

The two 17-year-olds wound up the regular four days of tournament play Saturday with identical final cards of 297. Thus they had to play an extra day to determine the championship.

Raines picked up his advantage early in the extra round. By the end of nine holes he was four strokes up on Schubeck, and he widened the margin by another stroke in the back nine. At one point he had an eight-stroke lead. The Detroiter finished with 81.

The two finalists had topped 221 other young golfers in the tournament on the University of Michigan's 6,660-yard course.

Raines had regular play rounds of 74, 78, 75 and 70, while Schubeck made 78, 72, 73 and 74 before Sunday.

'Long-Shot' Ace!

Bob Ream of Drayton Plains registered Silver Lake Golf Club's second hole-in-one of the season Sunday by acing the fifth hole while playing with Stan Bleakly and Al Bornak.

Despite the length of the hole (200 yards), Ream turned the trick with a five-iron. It was the 10th ace carded on the fifth hole at Silver Lake since 1929.

Now Eyes National's Amateur Test After Grand Rapids Win

By BURDETTE B. ASHLEY

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Dale Morey, the new Western golf champion is taking a relaxed view of the National Amateur next month.

He already has gone a long way toward realizing his life's ambition.

Meticulous Morey, a Hoosier bachelor whose charming manner hides a golf game as calculated as a precision machine, wants more than anything else to become a member of a Walker Cup team.

By brushing aside sensational young Dick Norton of Grand Rapids, 8 and 6 in the Western finals Sunday after eliminating two of this year's Walker Cuppers, the Martinsville, Ind., salesman has entered a powerful bid for the 1955 international matches.

In a performance described by WGA officials as "unbelievable golf" for a championship match, Morey blasted Norton's hopes with an 8-under-par round of seven birdies and an eagle in 30 holes. He was a phenomenal 24 under par for 164 holes over the Blythefield course.

The blow was softened somewhat for 21-year-old Norton, overwhelming gallery favorite, since he lost to his golfing idol. For the past four years, Norton has been shaping his game with Morey's help.

The end was forecast in the morning round when an eagle and two birdies by the methodical Morey gave him a 4-up lead over the steady Purdue University golf team co-captain.

"I've never seen such sub-par golf in any major amateur tournament," said WGA vice president Robert R. Walker of South Bend, Ind., who was refereeing the round.

Keed Takes Shot at 160-Pounder

NEW YORK (AP)— Now that he has just about run out of opponents in his own class, welterweight champion Kid Gavilan invades the middleweight division Wednesday night when he battles Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N.Y., in the 10-round main bout in Madison Square Garden.

The bout will be televised over CBS starting at 9 p.m. EST.

This one will be in the form of a warmup for another defense of his title for the Cuban Keed. He signed Saturday to defend the championship against Carmen Basilio in Syracuse, N. Y., on Sept. 18.

Gavilan has been having his troubles making the 147-pound limit and would like to become a full-fledged middleweight. In his last fight with Ramon Fuentes, he tipped the scales at 152¼.

Angelo Vasil, who is riding many horses at Monmouth Park this season, was born in Yugoslavia.

Gordien Again Beats His Own Discus Record

Ex-Gopher Ace Heaves Platter 194 Feet Six Inches on Coast

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Fortune Gordien once again has surpassed his own world's record for the discus throw, with a toss of 194 feet 6 inches.

The former University of Minnesota athlete, now competing for the Los Angeles Athletic Club, holds the world's mark of 186 feet 11 inches, set four years ago in Finland. Earlier this year he threw the discus 190 feet 7½ inches.

Gordien's newest mark, set Saturday at an all-comers meet at John Muir College, will be submitted for world record consideration. The toss came on his fifth try, and he followed it with a throw of 190 feet 6 inches.

Absence of Evans From Western Test Recalls Days When Amateurs Were Among Top U. S. Golfers

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—A golf tournament was played this last week that cuts deeply into the traditions of America's ancient green. For Chick Evans was not one of the players and Chick goes back in the golf lore of this nation for over 50 years. It was the first Western Amateur he had missed for nearly half a century.

• • •

I recall following a tournament over Tennessee turf where Evans was the winning competitor around 1908, a matter of some 45 years ago. He is now 63, still playing in the low 70's and still battling for the Western crown which he once won four years in succession, 1920 through 1923.

• • •

Chick was one of the first three stars to build up a long line of American amateur champions. The three were Walter J. Travis, Jerry Travers and Evans. They were the forerunners of a fast pack that later included Bob Gardner, Francis Ouimet, Bobby Jones, Lawson Little and Johnny Goodman.

• • •

• • •

Before that date, the amateurs who also won the Open were Ouimet, Travers, Evans, Jones and Goodman. But there has been a big drop in the class of amateur golf ever since 1933. For one reason a good many of the better amateurs have turned pro, although the better ones such as Gene Sarazen, Walter Hagen, Mac Smith, Byron Nelson, Ben Hogan and others were always pros.

Cary Middlecoff and Julius Boros were amateurs who turned pro and then won the Open.

• • •

Chick Evans was certainly one of the soundest golfers the game has ever known. He was great up to the green. But he could not be depended upon to hole even a two-foot putt.

• • •

When he putted well he usually won. Accustomed to the much slower greens of the Midwest, he frequently used a midiron on the putting greens in the East He had Bill Fownes two down and three to play in the final of the amateur championship, played at Brookline. Using a midiron he three-putted the last three greens to lose th title.

• • •

What has happened to the standard of amateur golf? There is no one today, except Frank Stranahan in medal play, who can finish anywhere near the leaders of an Open. There is also no amateur who is even a standout.

Before 1930 when we had Bob Jones, Francis Ouimet, Chick Evans and George von Elm in one field. Today amateurs win a title and vanish.

Gerry in Good Shape

Coleman Back in U. S., Yanks Await His Return

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—"Fit as a fiddle an eager to get back to the Yankees," Marine Capt. Gerry Coleman is home after 63 Korean air combat missions.

The world champ second base ace arrived at Travis Air Force Base Sunday, the lone passenger on an air force transport plane. After greeting his family, his next thoughts were of baseball.

"I feel that if the opportunity presents itself, in a week or 10 days maybe I could pinch run or something," he grinned.

"I'm in awfully good shape but of course I won't know for sure about that myself until I get back in there and try."

The Yankee management was jubilant. A scout met Coleman to size him up and bring him up to date.

And the champs' brass quickly scheduled a Gerry Coleman Day in Yankee Stadium Sept. 12. They added they expect Gerry to rejoin the team this week.

Gerry himself wasn't so sure. Although a Marine Corps spokesman in San Francisco reported Coleman had been ordered home for "immediate discharge," Gerry said he hadn't been informed the date.

"I haven't played a bit of baseball since I went into service on April 30, 1952. I've played a little catch, stuff like that, but no games."

The 28-year-old Coleman hit .405 for the dozen games he played that spring. Rookie of the year in 1950, he batted .249 in 1951.

Browns Impress in Exhibition Win Over 49ers

Giants Show Little in Loss to Packers; Bears Trounced by Eagles

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that the National Football Leagues teams are getting down to the serious business of preparing for the official opening just a month away, it's beginning to look like the rich are getting richer and the poor poorer.

Last year, the mighty Cleveland Browns, who have been in the playoffs the past three seasons, were worried about the New York Giants —and with good cause. The Giants threatened their position until the waning weeks of the season.

Today, Brownie Coach Paul Brown must be breathing easier. The Giants, swing T and all, were clubbed by the Green Bay Packers 31-7 in an exhibition game Saturday night, while the Browns polished off the San Francisco 49ers 20-7 yesterday. Four other clubs played exhibitions Saturday night, the World Champion Detroit Lions whipping the Pittsburgh Steelers 16-13 and the Philadelphia Eagles trouncing the Chicago Bears 24-10.

"This was the first time we had even lined up for a kickoff," he said. "And I thought the team looked very good. Otto Graham was a little slow to get started, but he looked sharp in the second half."

U. S. Water Ski Titles Decided

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A pretty Alabama girl and a tall New Englander are the new water ski champions of the nation today.

Leah Marie Rawls of Birmingham, Ala., and Warren Witherell of the Weirs, N. H., topped the field in overall competition consisting of jumping, trick skiing and racing the slalom course in the National Water Skiing Tournament.

Alfredo Mendoza, Cypress Gardens, Fla., finished second to Witherell in overall and won the jumping event with a new record of 97 feet. That bettered his old record by five feet. Emelio Zamudio of Cuernavaca, Mex., the defending men's champion, placed third.

Rose, Hartwig Take Doubles Title Sunday

By BUD WEEKS

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Australia's second-line pair of lefty Mervyn Rose and Rex Hartwig wore the men's national doubles tennis crowns today while perplexed U. S. Davis Cup officials pondered the thorny task of finding an American squad capable of testing the Aussies.

* * *

As expected, the 23-year-olders from Down Under swept through veterans Gardnar Mulloy of Miami and Billy Talbert of New York yesterday to win the title at Longwood 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4.

* * *

American Davis Cup committeemen probably were resigned to that defeat after watching the Aussie second-stringers whip the top U. S. combine of Philadelphian Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert of Cincinnati in a semifinal.

But what has the U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn. bigwigs worried is the poor showing made by Trabert in that semifinal loss.

The ex-sailor from Cincinnati is the big questionmark in U.S. hopes for a successful challenge in December against Australia in the Davis Cup tests.

* * *

Seixas, the 1953 Wimbledon titlist and 1952 national doubles winner with Rose, performed well despite a knee injury that greatly restricted his sidewise motion. But his partner was very slow getting up to the net. Trabert just didn't maneuver fast enough to cope with the sharp-hitting Aussies.

In yesterday's women's doubles final, defenders Doris Hart, Coral Gables, Fla., and Shirley Fry, Akron, Ohio, rallied to ruin the tennis comeback of veterans Louise Brough, Beverly Hills, Calif., and Mrs. Margaret Osborne du Pont, Wilmington, Del., 6-3, 7-9, 9-7.

Detroit Pistol Expert Wins National Crown

CAMP PERRY, O. (UP) — Harry Reeves, a Detroit police lieutenant, scored 2,606 points out of a possible 2,700 Sunday to win the pistol competition of the National Pistol and Rifle Tournament.

It was Reeves' fifth national pistol championship. His perennial rival, army Sgt. Huellet Bennett of West Point, N. Y., was second

Rosen Shoots for 'Triple Crown'

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Cleveland's vanishing Indians rate as the biggest flop in the American League but Al Rosen, their chief hatchet man, is heading for the triple crown as well as the circuit's Most Valuable Player award.

* * *

The slashing third baseman, who gave evidence of future stardom when he led the league in home runs in his rookie year in 1950, is the No. 1 guy today in batting, runs batted in and homers.

Only three players in each league in the long history of the game have been able to win the triple crown. They were the American League's Ted Williams (1942 and 1947), Lou Gehrig (1934) and Jimmy Foxx (1933); and the National League's Rogers Hornsby (1922 and 1925), Chuck Klein (1933) and Joe Medwick (1937).

* * *

Rosen boosted his batting average to .326 yesterday, getting three hits in six times at bat as the Indians clubbed the St. Louis Browns 2-1 and 9-0. Rosen hammered his 33rd homer in support of Art Houtteman's shutout pitching in the nightcap and batted in four runs to increase his total to 116, tops in both leagues.

Despite the double victory, the third-place Indians still remained 13 games behind the league-leading New York Yankees, who blanked the Philadelphia Athletics 4-0 behind the six-hit pitching of Vic Raschi. The runner-up Chicago White Sox struggled to within 8½ games of the Yankees, sweeping a twin bill from the Detroit Tigers, 2-1 and 11-6. Boston's Red Sox vanquished Washington 5-4 on Ted Williams' fifth home run in 25 official times at bat since his return from Korea.

* * *

Brooklyn's National League pacemakers increased their margin over Milwaukee to nine games, drubbing the hapless Pittsburgh Pirates twice while the Chicago Cubs were holding the Braves to a split in their two games. The Dodgers clubbed nine pitchers into submission, winning 10-4 and 9-4.

Johnny Klippstein snapped the Braves' eight-game winning streak, pitching the cubs to a 7-2 triumph after Warren Spahn had hurled his 16th victory in Milwaukee's 10-2 opening success.

Doak Sets Pace in Lion Victory

Star Halfback Scores TD, Field Goal to Pull Win Out Over Pitt

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Doak Walker, the Detroit Lions' Star halback, came through in brilliant fashion Saturday against the Pittsburgh Steelers, in a 16-13 exhibition victory here.

Steelers had taken a surprise 13-7 lead in the final period. That infuriated the Detroiters, and in three plays the big Lions moved the ball 47 yards to put them in position for a tally. Doaker galloped 20 yards for the marker, and then minutes later booted a five yard field goal to settle the issue.

Andonian Wins 3rd Straight Medal Crown

Mike Andonian won the City Medal Play golf tournament for the third straight year with a two-under par total of 136 for the 36-hole weekend test at Municipal Golf course.

* * *

He retains possession of the Pontiac Press rotating trophy for another year and also was awarded a permanent award by the sponsoring Pontiac Parks and recreation department.

Andonian is the second golfer in the history of the toruney to win the event three years in a row. Emory Stolt did it in 1930-31-32.

Andonian clipped five strokes off his winning total of last year in opening a seven-stroke gap between himself and ex-champ Cliff (Kip) Inman and Ron Rothbarth, who tied for second at 143.

Rothbarth won a second place playoff in two holes. Glen Harding, another former winner of the affair, was fourth at 146, while Paul Barnum was fifth with 147.

Andonian got off to a great start in defense of his title by firing a fine four-under-par 30 on the first nine holes Saturday. He followed with 36 for a first-day 66, three-under-par.

His 35-35 — 70 wrapped it up Sunday. Inman narrowed the margin to three strokes at the end of 27 holes, but took a 38 on his final nine.

Andonian's card:

Andonian In	336	355	543—35—70—136

Butler Cooper, who led last week's qualifying round, finished in a 10th place tie with 152.

Top five players are expected to represent Pontiac in the Michigan Recreation Association tourney at Lansing, Sept. 19.

MEDAL CHAMPION—Mike Andonian's "war clubs" served him well in the weekend's links battle for the city medal play championship. Mike won his third consecutive crown, and with Glenn Harding who finished 4th will be one of very few three-time winners of this fine event. Mike, above, is holding both the big Pontiac Press Sterling title trophy and the Park and Recreation department's handsome award. He fired a sizzling 136, seven strokes ahead of the field.

State Amputee Wins National Links Test

Harrison, 44, who is also partially paralyzed on the left side, shot an 80-76—156 on the par 73 Wanakah course. Harrison lost his arm in an automobile accident in 1940.

Louis Monge, 34, of Silver City, N. M., a leg amputee veteran of the Sicilian campaign in World War II, was second with 80-81—161.

Ford Chops Par to Pieces to Capture LaBatt Test

MONTREAL (UP)—Young Doug Ford owned the biggest check of his golfing career after making mincemeat out of par and competition in the inaugural $25,000 LaBatt Open tournament.

A 15-under-par 265 gave the Harrison, N. Y., pro first money of $5,000 in Canada's richest tournament and boosted his 1953 earnings to $21,000, which put him right behind Lloyd Mangrum and Ben Hogan.

"That's the most I ever won, but Canadian taxes grabbed $900 before I ever saw the check," Ford said. "However I'll be in Toronto next year for the second LaBatt Open. I wouldn't pass up a chance at these good Canadian dollars for anything."

The New Haven, Conn., native, winner of the Virginia Beach Open earlier this year, slam-banged his way into the lead in the LaBatt with a record-equalling 64 Saturday at the end of 54 of the 72 holes played on the par 70 Summerlea course. He put together a five-under-par 65 Sunday to take the tournament by five strokes.

Wally Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., earned $2,780 second money with a 10-under-par 270, one stroke better than the 271 posted by little Jerry Barber of La Canada, Calif., whose 64 on Thursday had set a new competitive course record for the layout.

Players, Legal Aide Meet With Majors' Brass

Seek Increase in the Minimum Wages From Present $5,000

NEW YORK (UP)— Player representatives Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees and Ralph Kiner of the Chicago Cubs, together with their newly appointed representative, attorney J. Norman Lewis, were scheduled to meet with baseball's executive council today at commissioner Ford Frick's office.

Lewis, retained several weeks ago by the major league players to represent them in their dealings with the club owners, said he expected to engage in friendly discussion with the league officials. He preeicted an amicable agreement.

"There will be no impossible demands when we meet with commissioner frick and the executive council," he said, "there is every indication of an amicable and mutually reciprocal cooperation."

Earlier National League president Warren Giles criticized the players' idea of hiring a lawyer to represent them.

"The players can do more for themselves than an outside representative, no matter how able that outsider may be," he said.

"We are not getting the job done ourselves. That's why we decided to get legal aid.

"The way ti is now, the club owners 'yes' us and then disregard their agreement as in the playing of night games on getaway days. Or they agree to consider a proposition and then proceed to forget about it."

The players want an increase in the minimum wage from the current $5,000, unlimited barnstorming in the fall, and a strong rule against night and twi-night games on getaway days.

Minority Groups Suffer; Perhaps U.S. Does Too

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—There was a story in the papers the other day that set me thinking about that painfully familiar word, "minorities."

An American sergeant, freed in Korea, was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. This is America's highest military decoration, and as you might expect, the citation reads:

"His indomitable heroism and consummate devotion to duty reflect the utmost glory on himself and uphold the highest traditions of the military service."

The sergeant's name is Hiroshi Miyamura.

Nobody will ever know how many guys named Smith, Jones, Brown, McLeod and O'Rourke are alive today because he stayed behind, alone blasting with a machinegun.

Nor can we ever estimate how much this country owes the 442nd Regimental Combat Team — although through the Army tried by hanging more combat medals, per man, on that outfit than any other in the last war.

It was composed exclusively of American-born Japanese.

How many potential medal of honor winners, how many artists and scientists, how many plain good citizens, have been lost to America because the concept of minorities still persists?

What does it cost us, every day, to set people apart by reason of race or color?

During the last war, this writer was a prisoner of the Japanese for about a year. There was an investigation on charges of espionage.

The interpreter was a bright young fellow who spoke perfect English. One day, he took a ferocious risk. He told me he was an American, born in California.

Two of his brothers were then serving in the American Army. He had been impressed into the Japanese Army.

"If you ever get home," he said, "I wish you'd deliver a message to my family. Tell them I'd like to be with my brothers—in the Army."

And how did he happen to be in the wrong uniform?

"You come from California," he said. "You remember how it was."

I knew what he meant. There were the days of the "yellow peril" the Japanese "picture brides," and all the wierd nonsense about how "The Japs" were all spies and planning to take over the Los Angeles City Hall any minute now.

What was worse, they used to work in their truck gardens on Saturdays and Sundays. How can you compete with a sinister Oriental who works on Sunday? It was strictly unfair, dirty pool.

A Japanese name seldom, if ever, appeared in the crime news. During the depression, none was on relief rolls.

They always were among the first to meet their quotas in the Community Chest and Red Cross drive. Their homes and stores, and the very streets in "Little Tokyo" were spotlessly clean.

That didn't help much in those days. You see, the configuration of their eyes was different from ours.

"Finally, I couldn't take it any more" he said. "Especially in high school, I felt as though I didn't belong. I thought, 'Okay, if I'm not an American, there's no use trying to be one.' "

So he left this country, went to Japan, got a job. When the war came, the Japanese Army grabbed him.

He was especially useful because of his language — and there was nothing he could do about it.

"I'm sorry now," he said. "I guess I was pretty dumb."

Who knows? He might have been another Sgt. Miyamura. He might have been one of those in the 442nd RCT. He might have contributed any number of invaluable services to the country that bore him.

How many like him have we lost? How many people are Communists, spies, traitors, festering enemies because "I felt as though I didn't belong?"

Sisters in Hospital After Auto Accident

Two Detroit women were sent to Pontiac General Hospital after a three-car collision on US-10, north of Williams Lake road, Waterford Township, Sunday night.

Reported in "good" condition are Ruth MacDonald, 61, driver, and her sister Sarah, 75, both of 630 Merrick St., Detroit.

Mis MacDonald told Oakland County sheriff's deputies that an auto, driven by Homer R. Morgan, 41, of 5678 Trumbull St., Detroit, struck her auto in the rear, forcing her car into another auto driven by William K. Ryan, 42, of 5867 Andersonville Rd., Waterford Township.

Boy, 2, Kills Infant Sister While Mother Is at Store

Derrick quoted the children's mother, Mrs. Waddell Pressley, as saying she left the children alone while she went to a store. When she returned, the mother said, she found the boy, Waddell Jr., dragging his sister, Shirley Mae, about the yard.

A doctor said the infant died of a brain concussion.

Market Quietly Slipping Lower

The decline went to between 1 and 2 points at the most with the majority of issues posting small fractional losses. Gains were small and scattered.

Trading was at a moderate pace of around a million shares for the entire day. That was well ahead of Friday's unusually low 850,000 shares.

Railroads, whose performance is under close scrutiny by technicians, were lower after starting mostly unchanged to higher. Some contend that the railroads are likely to point the market's direction by their own action.

Some major divisions leaning lower included air lines, coppers, chemicals, distillers and motors. Mixed divisions included steels and aircrafts. The oils, utilities and radio-television held steady.

Pair Admit Holdup of Legless Grocer

CHICAGO (AP)—The holdup robbery of legless grocer Lyle Jennings' store in Indian Lake, Mich., was reported solved today with the arrest of two Chicago men. Police identified the pair as Lonnie Payne, 30, and Willie Smith, 32.

Officers said they admitted robbing the store of $300 Aug. 4 and fleeing in a car in which a 22-year-old woman and two teen-age girls were waiting.

Jennings was stabbed 12 times when he tried to resist the robbers, and his wife was shot in the ear.

The couple had recovered sufficiently to come here with Michigan state police after Payne and Smith were arrested. They identified the pair today, officers said.

Japan Big Issue at Peace Parley

Decisions on Strategic Nation May Be Cause for Red-U.S. Conflict

(By United Press)

There'll be an uninvited guest looking over the shoulders of the men who shortly will square off for the verbal contest that is the successor to Korea's recently halted hot-lead war.

But no matter who the gentleman now debating the issue in the united Nations decide to seat at that forum, Japan will loom large in all their considerations.

Japan is a key element in any attempted settlement—strategically, economically and politically. No relaxation of Far Eastern tensions appears possible unless a way is found to reconcile Japan's economic needs and U. S. strategic interests in the Pacific.

Japan is of concern to the Red Chinese and to Russia because both governments believe that the United States and the West are plotting to use Japan as a base for aggression in the Far East.

China is believed almost certain to demand in the post-armistic conference specific and realistic guarantees of future security.

Peiping, military sources say, will most certainly look upon control of her geographic zone of influence as one of the fundamental requirements of her security.

This will run head-on into American strategic interests in the Western Pacific.

Peiping also is known to be fearful that Japan will fall under an American economic hegemony, and is eager to see a prosperous Japan open to China's trade.

Vogeler Sues IT&T; Asking $500,000

NEW YORK (UP) — Robert A. Vogeler, former assistant vice president of the International Telephone & Telegraph Co., who spent 17 months in a Hungarian prison, has filed a $500,000 suit against the company.

Jacob Rosenberg, attorney representing Vogeler, said Vogeler was seeking damages "for his imprisonment and impairment of his health in the discharge of his duties with the company."

Vogler said he delayed filing the suit until the release from prison of Edgar Sanders, an English citizen who also worked for IT&T in Budapest and was arrested at the same time as Vogeler. Sanders was turned loose by the Communists a week ago.

Ex-Air Chief Declares Russia's H-Bomb Is Serious Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, recently retired as Air Force chief of staff, says that Russia's achievement of a hydrogen explosion "should give us all serious pause."

"Whether this explosion was a test article on a bona fide weapon is in the long run academic," Vandenberg said in a speech Saturday night. "If Russia does not now actually have such a weapon, she will soon have one.

"And its addition to Soviet Russia's already vast accumulation of armaments both conventional and unconventional will further widen the margins of power on which we Americans have so far counted."

Vandenberg spoke at the concluding banquet session of the Air Force Association, an organization of present and former members of the Air Force, which held its convention here last week. He received the group's highest award, the H. H. Arnold Trophy.

President Eisenhower sent the association a message saying that "no real security rests in a second best Air Force," and Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott said in a speech that "if a nation has enought air power, the destruction it can inflict upon another nation is beyond our imagination."

Talbott also said that Russia now has an air force capable of immediate atomic attack on any point in Europe and any point in the United States.

Moscow announced last week that Soviet scientists had detonated a type of hydrogen bomb. The U. S. Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) followed with a statement saying that an atomic explosion had taken place in Russia on Aug. 12 and that it included thermonuclear reactions—the technical term for the fusion process of the hydrogen bomb.

An atomic scientist, Dr. Ralph Lapp, said yesterday that atomic secrecy has hurt this country, and he urged that the President speak out and tell the American people about the danger they face.

Lapp, former executive director of the AEC's research and development board, said on a television program that "it is just not true" that espionage helped Russia produce the A-bomb sooner than had been anticipated.

He said the American people have been given only "bootleg information" about atomic weapons, and challenged anyone to prove that atomic secrecy "has done us any good whatsoever."

Asked who was responsible for the secrecy, Lapp replied without elaboration that it was the "the Pentagon and some people on Capitol Hill."

Macomb Sheriff Sends Rafflers Back to Detroit

MT. CLEMENS (UP)—The Macomb County Sheriff's Department broke up a raffle in East Detroit Sunday but the group staging it said it would give the prizes away anyway.

Ten sheriff's deputies showed up at Schwaben Park, just inside Macomb County, and ordered the Knights of Columbus Council 2463 of Detroit to stop its raffle of five new cars and other merchandise. They said they were acting under orders from Sheriff Harley Ensign to enforce Michigan's anti-gambling laws.

The deputies advised Mathews to return to Detroit and try his luck there. They emphasized that gambling was "against the law" in Macomb County.

UAW Gains $3.8 Million in First Half of Year

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers reported this weekend that it is worth nearly four million dollars more now than it was six months ago.

The CIO union issued a financial report Saturday in compliance with provisions of the Taft-Hartley act. The report said that the union's worth was $17,451,658, $3,825,672 over last year.
