Hope of Averting a Strike by Teamster Union Dims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chances for a settlement that would head off a strike pitting the Teamsters Union against the nation's trucking industry were less than promising today.

As they returned to negotiations with industry bargainers, the Teamster leaders were armed with a vote from the members putting in their hands the decision to call a strike.

The negotiations, covering 450,000 workers in 12,000 trucking firms, by now center on money issues. The employers and the union are believed still to be far apart.

The talks recessed at 2 a.m. today and were to resume at an unscheduled hour.

A nationwide vote of Teamsters trucking locals was overwhelmingly in favor of striking if there is no settlement.

The union's announced strategy would be to strike only a few major firms, but spokesmen for 1,500 major companies represented by Trucking Employers Inc. have threatened to shut down all TEI firms if any are struck.

After the third straight night of all-night sessions, the talks reportedly were snagged over wages.

The union's last reported demand was 56 cents per hour over a three-year contract. The industry's last known offer was 37 cents.

★ ★ ★

Many other issues, including increased per-mile pay for long-distance drivers, health and welfare benefits, and new equipment demanded by the union are also involved.

Federal mediators are participating in the negotiations.

LET'S GO FISHING, DAD! — Frankie Hayes, 9, who is believed to have recovered from leukemia, checks over fishing equipment with his dad, Frank Hayes of Dallas, Tex., Saturday. Frankie was the first human to receive a revolutionary new treatment. His illness was diagnosed as leukemia in September of last year.

New Leukemia Drug Is 'Possibly a Cure'

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — Dr. C. Gordon Zubrod, scientific director for chemotherapy, National Cancer Institute, says the antileukemia drug, L-Asparaginase, provides a new lead into childhood leukemia but "needs to be researched."

The new drug was announced in Texarkana, Ark., Saturday by J. K. Wadley, Texas oilman and philanthropist, who described it as "a major breakthrough" and "possibly a cure" for leukemia.

Wadley told of researchers at the Wadley Institute of Molecular Medicine, Dallas, Tex., clearing a nine-year-old Dallas boy of an advanced type of leukemia.

Zubrod said the method described was "interesting" but added that "virtually all patients" with childhood leukemia can be put into remission by drugs. He said sometimes these remissions last for years.

"One patient going into complete remission for two weeks isn't very impressive," Zubrod said. "Only time will tell and it takes years to find this out."

'REMARKABLE'

Dr. L. J. Old, of New York's Sloan-Kettering Institute for cancer research, commented, "from the description given of the boy and his condition, I would say that they have a very, very remarkable case there."

"We have been conducting reseach on human patients here, but I would not want to make a statement this early. I think the word 'cure' at this point is premature.

"What they have done in Texas is to destroy a great number of cancer cells, but have they got them all? And I think some time should be allowed to pass before a statement is made on it."

Dr. Joseph Hill, director of Wadley Institute, whose work led to successful use of L-Asparaginase on human beings, said, "We need to expand our scientific investigation. We are only now scratching the surface. We hope to expand our studies and perhaps even apply this to other types of malignancies."

Jury Is Sworn in Speck Trial; Security Tight

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — A jury of seven men and five women was sworn today for the trial of Richard Speck on charges murdering eight student nurses.

★ ★ ★

The seating of the jurors, at the start of the seventh week of the proceedings, cleared the way for opening statements and the taking of testimony.

The six rows of pew-like spectator seats were filled to capacity by 50 men and women.

Six state policemen, wearing holstered pistols, guarded the hallway outside the courtroom in the new Peoria County courthouse. Two uniformed policemen and a policewoman searched spectators and newsmen before they were admitted.

★ ★ ★

Joseph Matusek, father of one of the slain young women, Patricia Matusek, 20, sat in the rear row of spectator benches.

OBSERVES PROCEEDINGS

Speck, looking very serious, removed his new glasses as he entered the courtroom. He sat at his counsel's table and watched and listened to the proceedings that could possibly free him, imprison him or send him to death in the electric chair.

Gerald Getty, public defender of Cook County (Chicago) where the mass killings took place, is representing Speck. His strategy was indicated in statements he made to prospective jurors during the six weeks it took to complete a jury.

The defense attack, Getty indicated, will be directed at the methods of police who allowed Miss Corazon Amurao, 23, an exchange nurse from the Philippines, to identify Speck, 25, in his hospital room after his arrest July 17.

Getty's defense team also will challenge a photographic identification of Speck, Miss Amurao's first description of his haircut, and a police artist's drawing of him, and then move to cast doubt on the validity of fingerprint evidence.

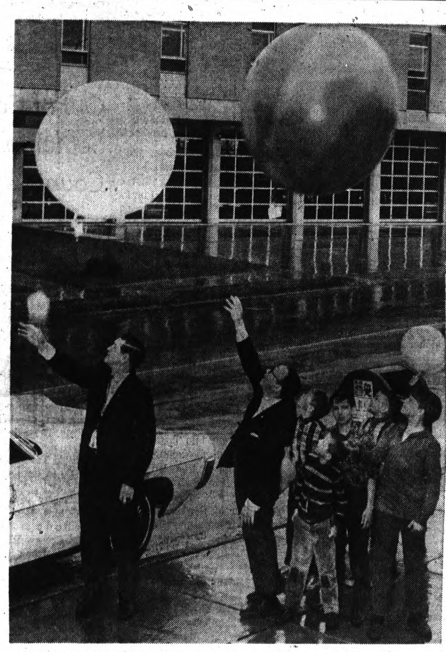
Getty's repeated remark that "there may be other verdicts here," is an apparent indication that he may try to obtain a verdict of innocent by reason of insanity if other tactics fail.



LAUNCH SITE — Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. (left) and Pontiac Boys' Club President Clyle R. Haskill send aloft large weather balloons to signify the start of Boys' Club Week, April 1-8. The balloons each carry a self-addressed card for a Boys' Club member, with the boy whose balloon travels farthest winning the contest.

Winds, Rain Rake the Area, Put Phones Out

Gale force winds and gusts up to 70 miles an hour raked the Pontiac area as thunderstorms brought a quick halt to yesterday's sunshine.

Rainfall during the late afternoon and evening totaled 1.1 inches.

Trees and telephone lines fell at Romeo and Davisburg.

A Michigan Bell Telephone Co. spokesman said service to about 1,200 customers, the majority of them in the Lake Orion-Oxford-Clarkston area, was interrupted yesterday by the storm.

★ ★ ★

Service had been restored to more than half by midmorning today.

POWER DAMAGE

The Detroit Edison Co. reported wind and lightning damage throughout the area, with the most serious occurring in Farmington Township.

Electrical power was off from 9 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. in a half-mile square area south of 11 Mile east of Middle Belt.

Consumers Power Co. reported no interruption of customer service due to the storm.

With the end of the rain, partly cloudy skies covered most of the state.

COOLER

Much cooler weather dominated the Pontiac area weather scene today with the highs predicted to range between 44 and 50.

It will be fair and cold tonight with the lows falling between 26 and 32.

★ ★ ★

The weatherman predicts that tomorrow will be more of the same, sunny but cool. Skies will become cloudy on Wednesday as temperatures rise and the chance of scattered showers increases.

LOW

The low mercury reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 38. By 2 p.m. the sunshine warmed the thermometer to 44

Yesterday's violent winds howled through New Haven wreaking extensive damage to the Macomb County Road Commission garage and a new high school building under construction.

There were no reports of injuries.

The front of the 60-by-160-foot garage was blown in on top of the machinery in the building, and about one-third of the roof caved in.

'JFK Death Gun Model Found'

PUTNAMVILLE, Ind. (AP) — A rifle of the same model as the one named as the gun used in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy was found in a Terre Haute, Ind., hotel three days after Kennedy's slaying, Terre Haute's former police chief said today.

Frank Riddle, the retired chief, said the rifle, a 6.5mm Italian Mannlicker-Carcane, was traced to a saleman from San Antonio, Tex.

Riddle, who retired Feb. 15 after 16 years as Terre Haute police chief, now is in charge of custody at the Indiana State Farm in Putnamville.

He said all his information about the rifle was turned over to the Warren Commission and the rifle was taken by Secret Service agents.

The Warren Comission named Lee Harvey Oswald as the slayer of Kennedy in Dallas, Tex., Nov. 22, 1963.

★ ★ ★

Riddle said San Antonio authorities informed him the salesman had no criminal record, was a member of the Young Communist League and an expert rifle marksman. He declined to name the salesman.

Riddle said the salesman registered at Terre Haute House Nov. 25, 1963 and, according to the desk clerk, was carrying a "long package."

Shortly after noon on Nov. 26, he checked out without the package, the former chief related.

County Budget Is Submitted

A tentative 1968 Oakland County budget of $21,722,229 was submitted today by the board of auditors to the ways and means committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

The proposed budget for next year compares with a 1967 county budget of $18,613,932, or a hike of about $3.1 million.

Slated for consideration today and tomorrow by the ways and means committee, the tentative budget is based on an equalized valuation of $3 billion and a county tax rate of 5.86 mills.

The current budget is based on an equalized value of $2.689 billion and a tax rate of 5.4 mills.

A year ago at this time the board of auditors recommended a tentative budget of $23,207,852 for 1967. This was based on an anticipated county tax allocation of 6.43 mills.

EXPENDITURES

Expenditures proposed by the auditors in the tentative 1968 budget include $9,557,814 in salaries, $6,704,238 in departmental and institutional appropriations and $5,460,177 in nondepartmental appropriations.

The tax rate is expected to raise $17,565,479 in revenue in 1968 with the balance to meet proposed expenditures to come from receipts for county services.

Action by the ways and means committee recommending the tentative 1968 budget for consideration next week by the board of supervisors is expected tomorrow afternoon.

★ ★ ★

When the county tax allocation determines the new county tax rate next month, action will be taken by the auditors in planning a recommended final 1968 budget. This will be considered by the supervisors next fall.

Appearing before the ways and means committee this morning were officials of the Oakland County Road Commission who requested that .8 mill of the county tax rate be earmarked for road improvements.

Snow Removal Cost Double

City costs for snow removal since November are more than double expenses incurred in the same period last year, according to Clyde Christian, superintendent of public works.

Some $137,000 has been expended for clearance of local and major streets, state trunklines, parks and parking lots during the 1966-67 winter.

Total cost in 1965-66 was only $63,220, Christian said.

The proposed city budget for 1967 allots $97,818 for snow and ice removal, a figure sorely strained by the heavy snowfall through the early months of this year.

Traditionally snow-heavy November and December of 1967 are yet to come, Christian pointed out.

Tabulation of costs in the current budget year — which began Jan. 1 — is difficult, he said, because the start of the fiscal year falls in the midst of the winter season.

Indirect expenses attributed to snowfall and removal attempts include overtime maintenance of equipment, damages to traffic signs and mailboxes and rental of heavy vehicles during the 10-inch snow Jan. 26.

Last Implementing of Wide Track Near

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series on Pontiac streets.)

By DICK SAUNDERS

The final act to implement Pontiac's downtown perimeter road, Wide Track Drive, is near at hand.

★ ★ ★

Contracts have been awarded by the Michigan State Highway Department for improvements at the intersection of Oakland with Cass and Montcalm this summer.

Though it is a mile from Wide Track, changes at the intersection will have profound effect on Wide Track traffic.

When the improvements are completed, Oakland will become a one-way thoroughfare northbound from Wide Track to the Montcalm-Cass intersection. Cass will become one-way southbound from Oakland.

The city's share of this project is about $23,000, said city director of public works and services Joseph E. Neipling.

Purpose of the construction is to widen the intersection to allow for turn movements and build a barrier to implement the transition from one- to two-way traffic on Oakland at that point.

Here are the specific items to be built:

- A right turn lane on Montcalm for westbound traffic turning onto northbound Oakland.
- For southbound Oakland traffic, a two-lane right turn onto Cass and a center left turn lane onto Montcalm (this traffic cannot continue south on Oakland beyond the intersection).
- An island-barrier to channel northbound one-way Oakland traffic left onto Cass or back to a two-way traffic movement on Oakland north of the intersection.
- A right turn lane onto Montcalm for northbound Oakland traffic.

★ ★ ★

Thus, Oakland will become a major, one-way exit from Wide Track Drive. Cass will become a major one-way access route to the downtown loop highway.

BOTTLENECK

With every improvement, however, there always seems to be at least one bottleneck.

This project's bottleneck will come at Oakland and Baldwin.

(Next: The Baldwin Bottleneck)

★ ★ ★

• The M59 freeway in Pontiac will be completed this year, but the city is saddled with "deplorable major street conditions," according to one city official.

★ ★ ★

• Motorists can look forward to gigantic traffic jams on Baldwin and Joslyn.

• Downtown Pontiac's interior loop road has been shelved by lack of funds and indecision over redevelopment of the central business district north of Huron.

• Failure to increase assessment rates for local street construction has hurt major street improvements.

• Cass will be one-way southbound and Oakland one-way northbound to Montcalm by the end of this year, easing traffic movement north of Wide Track Drive.

Galbraith: War Brewing Dem Disaster

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Kenneth Galbraith, former U.S. ambassador to India, says the Vietnam war is "unnecessary" and "will be even more disastrous for the Democratic party."

Galbraith spoke Sunday as newly elected president of Americans for Democratic Action, which called Saturday night at its convention here for acceptance "without qualifications" of United Nations Secretary General U Thant's proposals for ending the war.

★ ★ ★

The Thant proposals, however, were rejected Sunday by Nhan Dan, North Vietnam's official newspaper. The Hanoi publication was particularly critical of their lacking any reference to the Vietcong.

Galbraith said when he heard generals "or high State Department officials speak blithely of a five- or 10-year war I am willing to believe that they have not considered the political consequences.

'NO EXCUSE'

"Perhaps they can afford to be indifferent. But for the rest of us there is no excuse for innocence. This disaster could, indeed, mean the death and burial of the Democratic party," he told ADA.

Various aspects of U.S.-Vietnam policy also came under attack by four senators in separate forums.

Sens. John Stennis, D-Miss., and Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., urged a harder line but Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., criticized the resumption of bombing. Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., complained of an information gap between Congress and the war leaders.

Elements of the war policy were defended by George W. Ball, the State Department's former No. 2 man.; Roman Catholic Archbishop Robert E. Lucey of San Antonio, who was sermonizing with President Johnson in the congregation; and Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman of Thailand.

Comment on the war of another type came from Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., who said he would not support any candidate for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination who tried to make the war a political issue.

Galbraith said, "While it is the Republicans who are the most enthusiastic for this war, I do not suggest that the Republican leaders would wish to prolong the conflict for party advantage."

★ ★ ★

Referring to the Negro civil rights struggle, Galbraith said President Johnson should "require all friends of Vietnam democracy to do their boot-training in Birmingham."

Specifically excluding Johnson, he said, "Those who have spoken most fluently and feelingly about the defense of liberty, freedom and Marshal Ky's version of democracy in Saigon have never shown the slightest passion for these principles in Birmingham or Harlem."

★ ★ ★

But he said he could not "spare the President whose administration and responsibility it is" for going along with policy makers "who have presided over our Far Eastern policy in increasing error for the last 20 years and who now ask a closing of ranks on the mistakes that brought us this misery in Vietnam."

Death Claims Local Realtor

Service Thursday for Independence Man

Rolfe H. Smith, owner of Rolfe H. Smith Real Estate, Pontiac, died Saturday in Clearwater, Fla. He was 61.

Service will be 2 p.m. Thursday at the First Methodist Church, Clarkston. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy, by the Sharpe-Goyette Funeral Home, Clarkston.

Surviving are his wife, Ruth; two sons, Sheldon B. and Craig R., both at home; four sisters; and four brothers.

Smith of 6450 Maybee, Independence Township, was active in many organizations. He was past president of the Pontiac Board of Realtors, past president of the Plymouth Rotary Club, past president of the Lake Horican Corp. and a member of the Pontiac Rotary Club, Elks Lodge No. 810, Pontiac, the Pontiac City Club, and the Wednesday Night Dance Club of Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

He moved to the Pontiac area in 1925 and worked for Consumers Power Co. for 25 years.

Birmingham Area News

Street Drainage Plea on Commission Agenda

BIRMINGHAM—Residents of Worthington Avenue are complaining about the "lake" that forms on their street.

The City Commission has their complaint on its agenda for 8 o'clock tonight.

Residents claim 10 inches of water forms on the north side of the street each spring — enough to sail toy boats, but not enough for swimming.

The group, known as the Birmingham Hills Association, promises to cooperate fully with any solution the commission finds to the problem.

★ ★ ★

Another complainant writes that the commission is continuing to "pour salt in the wounds," concerning traffic routing in the city.

CONFUSION

The letter claims the "no left turn" sign at Bates and Willits, plus six new traffic signals in the downtown area, have "added to the confusion."

The northeast quadrant of the city has been hard-hit by new regulations, it is alleged.

The commission will also get a report from William T. Killeen, city engineer, on another street problem at Yosemite from Adams to Columbia.

It points out the phone and power company have done extensive underground work in the area and that the streets have been left badly marred with mud and dirt.

CLEANUP PLEDGE

Killeen reports both firms have pledged to clean up the area and do what resurfacing and resodding is necessary.

Armored Truck Hijacked; Part of Loot Recovered

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — Police said today they are investigating four men in connection with the robbery of more than $400,000 in cash and checks from an armored truck.

Still unaccounted for today was more than $300,000, about half of it cash. Four bags found Sunday in a wooded section yielded $94,577, including $17,000 cash.

★ ★ ★

Hijackers slipped into the cab of the truck Saturday night at a shopping center while its two guards were beside the vehicle. The guards ran after it, firing several shots, but were unable to halt it.

Capt. Paul LaHive of the Quincy Police Department said the four men sought in the investigation are from Quincy, Weymouth, Hull and Rockland, all suburbs in Greater Boston.

NAMES KNOWN

"We know names," he said, but would not elaborate.

Officials of the Skelley Detective Agency, owner of the truck, said an exact total of the amount taken would not be available until they check duplicate deposit slips held by stores.

CHECK FOR PRINTS

Police dusted the empty truck, found Sunday in nearby Weymouth, for fingerprints, but would not say whether this provided any leads.

One car that police said the hijackers used was found near the four bags of money.

A second car believed to have been involved was found parked on a highway in Quincy. Police said it contained two submachine guns, several other weapons, ammunition and a nylon mask.

SHIPWRECKED 3 MONTHS — Safe in Darwin, Australia, Hospital yesterday, Henri and Jose Bourdens tell how they spent three months on tropical Bathurst Island after their yacht was wrecked in a cyclone. The French couple was rescued Saturday from a raft they built when they were certain they were dying of starvation.

Pair Describe 'Hellish' Ordeal

DARWIN, Australia (AP) — After three months shipwrecked on a tropical island and three days at sea on a submerged water-logged raft, Henri Bourdens told his wife he was sorry but he was going to die.

"I asked him: 'Please wait for me, we must go together,' and he said he would try to live one more day," Mrs. Bourdens, 48, said today.

By the end of that day — Saturday — the ketch Betty Jane had rescued the French couple whose yacht was wrecked by a cyclone on the shores of Bathurst Island in late December.

From his hospital bed in Darwin, Bourdens called the three-month ordeal "a foretaste of hell."

His wife said they built the raft when they were certain they were dying of starvation.

"We lived on sea snails for most of the two months after the food from the yacht ran out," Mrs. Bourdens said.

She said three days they spent in a mangrove swamp on the island were the most terrifying of her life.

For a while, they were trapped up to the waist in slimy water and often heard animals fighting around them, she added.

They saw crocodiles and "hundreds of snakes, sometimes wrapped together like huge worms."

SINKING IN MUD

She saw her husband sink to his shoulders in mud and thought he was lost in quicksand.

The couple were trying to sail to France on a 45-foot yacht Bourdens had bought in Singapore. Hampered by water in their fuel, they tried to steer for the island of Timor but ended up 300 miles to the south, shipwrecked in an uninhabited area of Bathurst Island.

They didn't know that a Roman Catholic mission was 40 miles away on the other side of the island.

Out-of-Court Settlement Is County's Tops

A $132,500 out-of-court settlement stemming from an auto accident in Southfield a year ago was reached today.

It was the largest out-of-court settlement made in the county.

Circuit Judge Farrell E. Roberts approved the damages for Mrs. Joyce Bones, 39, who has been in a coma since suffering a brain injury in the March 11, 1966, crash.

Her attorney, Daniel C. Devine of Birmingham, had started suit against the driver of the other car, Dr. Sidney Prystowsky, 48, of 4665 Coachmaker, Bloomfield Township, asking for $1,180,000 in damages.

★ ★ ★

Prystowsky rammed into the rear of Mrs. Bones' car as she was about to turn onto her street, Cromwell, from Telegraph, according to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. The impact knocked her car into oncoming traffic.

The youngest of Mrs. Bones' three children, David, 7, was a passenger in the car, but he wasn't seriously injured.

Murder Trial of MD Starts

Detection of Drug in Wife's Body Is Key

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — Whether a drug could be detected a year after death may be the crux of Dr. Carl Coppolino's murder trial starting today.

Choice of a jury — expected to be exhaustive — was the first order of business. The anesthesiologist is charged with first-degree murder in the death of his first wife.

The case was shifted from Sarasota, where Carmela Coppolino, 32, died in her bed Aug. 28, 1965, after the defense and prosecution agreed that news coverage of the case made it unlikely that an unbiased jury could be seated there.

SECOND TRIAL

The trial will be the second in four months for Coppolino, 34, on a first-degree murder charge. He was acquitted in Freehold, N.J., last December in the 1963 slaying of William Farber, a former neighbor. Bailey also was the defense attorney there.

Indictments in the two states followed a statement to Sarasota authorities by Farber's widow, Marjorie, 52, that she was suspicious of the causes of both deaths.

★ ★ ★

The bodies were exhumed for autopsy.

A grand jury charged that Coppolino murdered his wife with an injection of a drug — succinycholine chloride — which paralyzed then killed her. Coppolino has pleaded innocent.

Defense and prosecution will seek medical testimony of experts as to the presence of the drug in Carmela's body and whether it could be detected after death.

Ice Prevents Finding Body

Special to The Press

BAY PORT — Ice floes in Lower Wildfowl Bay six miles west of here prevent the recovery of a body believed to be that of a Waterford Township duck hunter missing since last Nov. 2.

Gerald L. Stinson, 45, of 2093 Briggs was the object of a search last fall after a snowstorm and 50-mile-an-hour winds swept the bay.

Stinson's 12-foot boat was found washed ashore about a mile from his parked car, but search efforts at that time were hampered by heavy fog.

Huron County Sheriff Merritt R. McBride said the body was seen late yesterday by a fisherman who went ashore for help.

★ ★ ★

When McBride and deputies reached the scene, however, an ice field covering some 100 acres had been pushed over the area by a sudden northwest wind.

McBride said attempts will be made to recover the body when the ice leaves.

Blast Occurs Near Turkey's U.S. Embassy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A small handmade bomb was detonated about 20 feet from the Turkish Embassy here early today, just a few hours before the arrival of Turkish President Cevdet Sunay.

★ ★ ★

The blast caused no damage to the embassy, although it apparently burned the left rear door of a car parked on a lot behind the building. It was not learned to whom the car belonged.

★ ★ ★

Police said the bomb had been placed in a cardboard box. They said first it apparently was thrown from a car, but later found a detonator with a wire leading to the blast scene.

The detonator was found partially hidden in a tree stump about 50 feet from the parking lot.

$11,000 Fire Hits Home in Waterford

Fire Saturday afternoon, caused by an overheated pan of grease, resulted in an estimated $7,000 damage to the house of Norman Hilding at 1284 N. Hospital, Waterford Township, and $4,000 to contents.

★ ★ ★

Most of the damage was confined to the kitchen, where the pan was on a range, and the living room, according to firemen.

The estimated value of the bilevel frame house was $13,500.

Hippies Given the Hip

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The hippies sang and waved flowering branches. Policemen directed traffic around the Haight-Ashbury District for about three hours, then moved in and broke it up, arresting about 40.

The Sunday afternoon street parade of the oddly attired, often shoeless hippies—what one described as "a beautiful thing"—ended as some 150 marched after nightfall on Park Station to protest the police action.

Arrests were on charges of unlawful assembly, failure to disperse and creating a public nuisance.

"We went to the police sergeant on the beat and offered to help disperse the crowd," said the Rev. Larry Mamiya of the Methodist Church Glide Foundation. "He said, 'We don't need your help, our orders are to redirect traffic.' "

Andrew Chavez, 20, a part-time student at San Francisco State College, said, "Sightseers kept pouring in, pouring in. The sidewalks got so crowded people were pushed into the street. The hippies were passing out flowers —it was a beautiful thing."

Mansfield: Must Be Equitable

Campaign Aid Law Faces Senate Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield advises sponsors to make changes if they want to save the law permitting an income tax checkoff for presidential campaign financing.

★ ★ ★

Mansfield said before Congress returned today from a 10-day Easter vacation that the Senate is faced with the responsibility to make the law more equitable.

★ ★ ★

"When we passed this legislation last year," he said, "we made a commitment to give consideration in this Congress to filling in the gaps. We must plug up the loopholes to make it more effective and to see to it that it is equitably administered."

The issue comes before the Senate today as Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., attempts to repeal the plan aimed at making $30 million available for each major party to finance its presidential nominees campaign.

This fund would be created by permitting each individual to earmark $1 of his income tax to be divided equally between the two parties.

Gore complains the law is so loosely worded that parts of it are unconstitutional and others provide no safeguards on how the money would be spent.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and assistant Democratic leader, has ready some amendments to tighten provisions but may withhold them if he can defeat Gore's repealer.

Long wants hearings in which his committee could look into recommendations made by a study group to President Johnson but not yet released by the White House.

The outcome of Gore's fight may depend on which tack Senate Republicans take. Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., a finance committeeman, is supporting Gore.

But whether Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen will throw his weight behind the repeal move remains to be seen.

2 New Ground Sweeps Try to Pressure Cong

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. military headquarters today announced two new major ground sweeps — including the biggest operation so far by Australian forces in Vietnam — aimed at steadily increasing the pressure on Communist units.

The U.S. command said 19 ground actions are currently under way seeking out Communist units from the highlands to the marshes of the Mekong Delta. But only scattered contact was reported, with 60 to 65 of the enemy killed.

* * *

The U.S. command also said the Australian guided missile cruiser Hobart, which joined allied forces off the coast last Friday, shelled a Vietcong assembly point below Quang Tri City. It was the first offshore bombardment by an Australian ship in the Vietnamese war.

The biggest U.S. ground operation of the war, Operation Junction City in Tay Ninh Province near Cambodia, continued to run into significant numbers of Vietcong troops in the area where a Red regiment lost at least 581 men last Friday and Saturday. A U.S. spokesman said the U.S. troops reported killing 25 to 30 Vietcong in scattered skirmishes today.

STILL FLEEING

It appears that small Vietcong units were still fleeing the area of the major battle, and U.S. forces were fanning out to catch them.

The Australian ground sweep in coastal Phuoc Tuy Province began March 21 but was kept under security wraps until Monday. It numbers perhaps 4,000 men, including U.S. soldiers under Australian command.

The operation, called Portsea, is aimed at clearing an area long under the control of the Vietcong and is intended to open local roads so peasants can reach the district market without harassment.

MOVE INTO MOUNTAINS

At the same time the Australians moved out, more than 1,500 U.S. soldiers of the 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade swept into the coastal mountain area of Phu Yen and Khanh Hoa Provinces in Operation Summerall. It, too, was kept under security wraps until today.

Neither operation encountered significant Vietcong forces in the initial phases, the U.S. command said.

The heaviest ground fighting today was by troops of the South Korean Tiger Division who killed 16 Vietcong in a sharp fight in Phu Yen Province on the coast. Two Korean divisions there are trying to clear a large area of the central coast and reopen the main north-south highway.

Also on the coast, soldiers of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division killed 19 Vietcong in Binh Dinh Province Sunday, while six of the Americans were killed and 20 were wounded.

All of the coastal operations are aimed partly at driving Vietcong units back into the jungles and mountains where they cannot live off the country and where air power can blast them at base camps.

U.S. B52 bombers from Guam made three such raids in South Vietnam Sunday night and today all against jungle areas where air and ground intelligence had spotted Communist bivouacs. One of the raids today struck at an enemy base camp only 25 miles east of Saigon.

In Bangkok, Thai and American officials said that American B52's will not begin arriving at their new base in southern Thailand today as previously announced. An American spokesman said the big bombers are not due at the Utapao airbase for "a week or two."

A spokesman for the Thai supreme command said the first B52 is scheduled to arrive at Utapao next Friday. Thai Premier Thanom Kittikachorn said last Monday the first three B52's would arrive today at Utapao.

Pilots of U.S. fighter-bombers flew 108 missions against North Vietnam Sunday despite heavy weather that covered much of the country.

Carrier pilots hit coastal traffic at the mouth of the Red River east and southeast of Haiphong. A Phantom jet from the Enterprise pinpointed a 500-pound bomb on a 100-foot barge carrying oil and left it flaming in the mouth of the river.

* * *

Other Air Force and Navy pilots ranged up and down the coast from the delta area to the 17th Parallel and to the west where Red supply routes filter across the Laotian border to the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

Veteran City Employe Steps Down

Pontiac lost a devoted city employe last week when MARVIN M. ALWARD stepped down from his post as City Finance Director. ALWARD, succeeded by EDWARD R. GALLAGHER, retired after 38 years with the City.

ALWARD

He joined the City in March 1929 as a clerk in the treasurer's office. A diligent worker, he went to the top financial post in city government when he was named finance director for Pontiac in November 1958. His career was not an easy one. ALWARD was weaned on a great depression when financing anything was a neat trick.

In his years as finance director, he managed the City's monies through an era in which all facets of the economy seem to have been blessed with prosperity except municipal treasuries.

★ ★ ★

In his capacity as finance director, ALWARD also served as a trustee of the retirement systems for city employes. In this capacity, ALWARD served terms as vice president and president of the Michigan Association of Public Employe Retirement Systems.

He has also served as a director of the Michigan Municipal Finance Officers Association.

★ ★ ★

ALWARD, of 69 Osceola, always conducted his office with the utmost in honesty and dignity. The City will miss his services.

Voters Seen Junking Junketing Lawmakers

News reports of committee investigations of the personal actions of various members of Congress, their use of taxpayers' money for their own purposes and their disregard of restrictions that govern private citizens, have been an eye-opener for the voters and taxpayers.

There used to be a myth about the "divine right of kings," and the "king can do no wrong." The people in those olden times were helpless. But, in the U.S. today, they are not powerless. They have the right to vote, and they should note well the spenders of their tax funds.

To add insult to injury, a bill has been introduced in Congress to provide annual government-paid vacations for congressmen—two weeks abroad and two weeks in the U.S., including one traveling companion. But why at taxpayers' expense on nonofficial business?

Such lavish attention to vacations, with the public footing the bill, could prove a risky business for Congressmen. Constituents may decide that certain of their representatives should have a long, long vacation—at their own expense.

Ray of Hope Seen for New York's Drug Addicts

Drug addiction in New York State, Gov. NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER has said, will be "as rare as tuberculosis" within a decade. The governor obviously looks for spectacular results from a program to take effect today under which narcotics users can be compelled to undergo treatment at public expense.

The Federal Narcotics Bureau estimates that there are about 30,000 drug addicts in New York—slightly more than half of all addicts in the Country.

California's six-year experience with compulsory treatment of narcotics addicts furnishes ground for hope that the New York program will prove successful—though perhaps not so successful as Rockefeller might wish.

One out of every five addicts treated in California has stayed away from the drugs for at least two years after parole. This is considered a good record, given the high rate of recidivism among treated addicts.

It is, however, considerably short of the goal that the governor of New York hopes his state will attain.

'What Are We Supposed To Do Now—Talk?'

David Lawrence Says:

Pre-WWI Debate Like Today's

WASHINGTON — Do fundamental issues in international affairs really change in a half-century?

This correspondent has just been rereading his news dispatches published during the eventful week of April 2, 1917, beginning with the memorable occasion on Monday night when President Wilson addressed both houses of Congress. He formally requested a declaration of a "state of war" against the imperial government of Germany.

LAWRENCE

Despite pacifist demonstrations outside the Capitol and after a comprehensive debate, the resolution declaring a "state of war" was passed on Wednesday by a vote of 82 to 6 in the Senate, and by a vote of 373 to 50 in the House of Representatives at 3:15 a.m. on Friday, April 6. At 1:19 p.m. that same day, the war proclamation was signed by the President.

Examining the pro and con of the discussion in Congress, the points made 50 years ago against involvement of the United States in war are remarkably like some of those being heard today with reference to a possible "escalation" of the Vietnam war.

During 1914 America had stood aloof and, through a series of diplomatic notes, had insisted on "freedom of the seas."

★ ★ ★

But German submarines in May 1915 sank the Lusitania, a British unarmed passenger ship. Nearly 1,200 of the civilians aboard, including 124 American citizens, were killed.

RESISTED CLAMOR

The United States government resisted the clamor for war and tried the path of negotiations. The Kaiser's government agreed not to attack unarmed ships thereafter. America continued to exercise her right to trade with both sides.

Peace sentiment swept the country, and Mr. Wilson was reelected in November 1916.

But public opinion changed when less than four months later — in February 1917 — Germany ordered unrestricted submarine warfare.

Mr. Wilson asked Congress for authority to arm American vessels for defensive purposes. A Senate filibuster, however, prevented action, as Congress automatically ended its session on March 4.

The President then issued an executive order to permit merchant ships to be armed, but it soon became apparent that, without the help of the navies on the allied side, such a step would be inadequate. So the President called a special session of Congress, and, in his address on April 2, requested the declaration of a "state of war."

Will a miscalculation by the enemy again lead to a big war, or will a policy this time of military firmness by the United States convince the Communists that no sacrifices will be spared to force an end to the conflict and ensure a guaranteed peace?

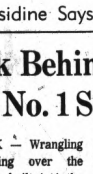
Bob Considine Says:

Kook Behind the Wheel Still No. 1 Safety Hazard

NEW YORK — Wrangling and lint-picking over the safety features built into the new automobiles retains a characteristic oversight. The safest car ever devised is a lethal weapon in the hands of a nut driver.



CONSIDINE

"High-school driver education, which is currently costing about $80 million a year, has been in existence for 30 years," notes a study made for the automobile Manufacturers Association.

"During this period more than 13 million students have been trained... high school-trained drivers have significantly fewer accidents and violations than untrained drivers."

"On the basis of such studies, it has been easy to calculate that for each dollar invested in the schools nearly $3 has been saved in terms of the economic cost of accidents prevented."

Probably sounds trivial, actually amounts to hundreds of millions of dollars. The cost of U.S. traffic accidents last year soared near to $10 billion.

Man named Ivars Avots has made some interesting studies in the realm of car accidents, which in this country alone last year killed five times as many persons as have died in the longest war in which U.S. forces have ever engaged, the war in Vietnam.

Here are some of the facts he unearthed:

Skidding is a major cause of accidents everywhere.

In Switzerland authorities are making a special effort in this field.

They maintain "skid courses," where the average bloke can find out what he's likely to encounter some rainy or icy night on the road.

The Swiss and French are both interested in making the driver's license more meaningful.

Swiss authorities hope to put into effect, a graduated form of license.

A driver would be rated according to his skills behind the wheel, his ability to handle cars of varying complexity and horsepower.

The transportation systems of the world would collapse in terror if the traveling public was told that pilots of great jet transports, drivers of huge buses and engineers on express trains qualify for their jobs simply by presenting themselves at the terminals and taking over the controls.

However, any two-headed kook can walk into any auto showroom in the world today and zip off in a car that would present a handling problem to an Indianapolis Speedway driver, if the kook has the money with which to buy.

Game Time in Political Ring

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—The games people play in politics are surprisingly similar to those which used to provoke excited squeals at children's parties, until the present generation decided they were square. For example:

Ruth Montgomery

If President Johnson determines not to seek reelection in 1968, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey are virtually certain to be the finalists in "pin the tail on the donkey," with LBJ adjusting the blindfolds.

Two years ago, Republicans played "tag" at their nominating convention and Barry Goldwater won. During the subsequent campaign, however, some other GOP leaders messed up the party by refusing to play "follow the leader."

This precipitated another old-fashioned game in which Nelson Rockfeller became one-third-of-a-ghost, William Scranton two-thirds, and Goldwater a full ghost as far as White House haunting is concerned.

★ ★ ★

Now the Republican hopefuls are playing "musical chairs," and the object is to count the others out one-at-a-time, whenever the music stops, until only the presidential rocker remains. But since the game must continue for the next sixteen months, each player will be fouled if he tries to pull the chair from under a rival while the political siren song is still playing.

THE FIRST FOUL

Michigan Gov. George Romney committed the first foul by telling newsmen another denizen of the GOP's liberal wing, Sen. Charles Percy, is an "opportunist." When this failed to slow the tempo, the Michigan governor hopefully alibied that calling a man an opportunist means he has a good sense of timing.

If that explanation be true, then Romney could not in good faith call California Gov. Ronald Reagan an opportunist, because he thinks Ronnie is a wee bit off his timing.

Compared to Romney and Percy, who tango shoulder-to-shoulder on most basic issues, Reagan dances to the right of the presidential chair. But when this writer asked Romney for his views on Reagan's abortive attempt to charge tuition at California's heretofore free university, he gallantly pointed out that Michigan not only charges tuition, but has recently raised the rates to meet rising costs of education.

★ ★ ★

Romney added that so many scholarships are available from governmental and private sources that he doubts if anyone is being denied an education because of poverty, and he sees no reason why those who have the means should not help to defray the cost of their higher education.

PRECIPITOUS?

The only point he questioned was whether Reagan's action might have been precipitous, but since his response was unlikely to give much comfort to Berkeley Beatniks, who would rather demonstrate than graduate, no one stopped the music.

In fact, the tempo picked up as Richard Nixon flew off on another world tour, and Romney announced that he will make three overseas forays after the Michigan legislature adjourns in May.

To date, the most discordant note has been sounded by AFL-CIO president George Meany, who, although he isn't even supposed to be playing in a GOP game, has practically pulled the chairs from under both Romney and Percy.

★ ★ ★

Big labor would infinitely prefer either of those two Republicans to Nixon or Reagan, but by publicly espousing President Johnson's reelection nearly two years in advance, he took the heat off Republican delegates who might have sought to "tag" a presidential nominee considered attractive to labor unions.

But such snafus are inevitable when people play games. There's always someone who won't abide by the rules.

Voice of the People:

'We Need to Take Stand on Behavior of Students'

Hooray for Florida State Attorney Roger H. Harper and his remarks about "the college crud invasion" and his reference to them as "a despicable class of tourist." Sure wish there were more of our prominent law enforcement officials who would stand up to these punks.

★ ★ ★

Also, three cheers for California Governor Reagan and his desire to raise tuition rates. That should be done all over instead of subsidizing students and giving them the idea that it is their right to attend college. It is a right but should also be made a privilege.

★ ★ ★

All those punks in college who are so ready to riot, etc., should be shipped to Southeast Asia, given a gun, and turned loose against someone who can and will fight back.

Reader Views Worldly Goals of Ministers

I know of few ministers who do not have all the creature comforts and worldly trapping for themselves and their families. Aren't they human beings following their profession (I doubt they are all answering a religious calling) just as the rest of us? Most wives want to stay home, but who will tithe to allow us to do so? A minister's wife is a human being. Why shouldn't she earn a few things for herself and family just as other wives do?

I believe in God but cannot tolerate hypocrisy, and claim no church affiliation. Nor do I tithe, nor will I tithe. In one religion, those who follow a religious vocation give up all worldly goods and interests and work the rest of their lives for the good of mankind. They have earned my respect and admiration and have my financial support to the capacity I am able to give it.

Disagrees With Recent Decision of Court

Our courts continue to pamper the guilty without just consideration of the injuries, death and sorrow inflicted upon the victims and their families. The man responsible for the deaths of two teen-agers 16 months ago was ordered not to drink or drive for six months and to join Alcoholics Anonymous. The court overestimates the powers of the organization. Unless a person joins voluntarily, with an intense desire to stop drinking, this organization can work no magic to reform an alcoholic.

It is humane to consider the plight of this man's four small children if he is sent to jail, but haven't other parents the right to expect protection of their children's lives from this type of person?

Question and Answer

The Council of Nice in 325 A.D. fixed Easter on the first Sunday after the full moon which happens upon or next after March 21st. If the full moon happens on a Sunday, Easter is the Sunday after. Properly speaking, full moon means the 14th day after the moon. Easter never occurs before March 22 or after April 25. This information was taken from our Bible. The full moon was on Sunday March 26, so Easter should have been April 2, shouldn't it?

LESTER AND ELLA SLOCUM

REPLY

What you say would be right, except the full moon was March 25; therefore, Easter was March 26, the Sunday following the full moon after the vernal equinox, March 21.

Diplomacy

Newsday

Hanoi has given a good demonstration of its unyielding attitude on peace talks and the world has been its witness.

The North Vietnamese regime's informal response to Secretary General Thant's three-point peace proposal was not only negative; it was irascible.

The Thant proposal calls for a stand-still truce, preliminary talks and reconvening the Geneva conference. Thant made the proposal to the U. S. and North Vietnam on March 14.

★ ★ ★

The next day the U. S. responded, saying the initiative was "welcome" and that the proposal contained "constructive and positive elements."

Hanoi's reaction was in such vivid contrast that the lesson cannot help but be apparent to the 122 member nations of the United Natons.

The North Vietnamese have yet to give Thant the courtesy of a formal reply. But Hanoi radio aired an informal reply.

★ ★ ★

The broadcast questioned the right of the U.N. to interfere in Vietnam in any way and said that Thant's proposal failed to distinguish between aggressors and their victims.

After this public rebuff to the secretary general, Hanoi is going to find it difficult to peddle the propaganda line that it is being victimized by U. S. aggression.

Never before have the attitudes of the two sides toward peace talks been more cogently demonstrated. The U. S. responded immediately, positively and directly.

★ ★ ★

Hanoi's response was neither immediate, nor positive nor direct. It broadcast a statement that, in substance, told Thant to mind his own business.

No Backtracking

The Bay City Times

Firing of three University of Illinois coaches, the result of a slush fund scandal, is not one of the most inspiring events of the year.

The Illini were caught red-handed. Records of under-the-counter athletes were indisputable evidence.

Nor did the action of Dr. David D. Henry, president of the university in turning over the evidence voluntarily placate the Big 10 commissioners.

Yet summary dismissal of the coaches, under threat of expulsion of the Illini from the conference, is, it seems, extremely harsh.

It would appear that there are many other ways to discipline the errant University of Illinois with the penalty more in time with the crime.

★ ★ ★

Alumni and "slush" fund aid to athletes is old hat. Nor will Illinois be the last to be caught violating.

If there is any value to be achieved from the furor raised by the scandal, it likely will be to put the Big 10 on record that it never again will stand for hanky-panky concerning aid to athletes.

Precedent has now been set. There can be no backtracking.

DON COOPER

Travel Show Will Feature Alaska Trip

A pictorial diary of an Alaskan logger and his buddy forms the next Travel and Adventure Series program at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

Don Cooper will narrate while showing the slides he took during travels through Alaska.

Included is a film of Cooper trapped in an ice pack off Hubbard Glacier for over 14 hours while thousands of tons of ice cascaded from the glacier into the sea on all sides of his 14-foot skiff.

Other shots include Mt. McKinley, Alaskan forests, wild animals in hidden valleys, the natives of Yakutat catching seals and panoramic views of Anchorage and Fairbanks.

Tickets may be purchased from any Downtown Kiwanis Club member. Also at the C. R. Haskill Studio, 1 Mt. Clemens or at the Pontiac Travel Booth at the Mall.

Shun Sukarno Is New Policy

Indonesian Regime Turns to Other Issues

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — An anti-Sukarno campaign at its height a few weeks ago has subsided since the ouster March 12 of Indonesia's long-time president.

The policy now seems to be to ignore Sukarno, a fate some veteran observers here say could prove worse than death for a man who thrived on attention, adulation and power.

* * *

In central Java, once a pro-Sukarno stronghold, military authorities have banned publication of articles or statements defaming Sukarno to prevent "unhealthy provocations" and to preserve "political stability."

The tide of events has swept the Sukarno issue aside. With the problem of the presidency settled by congressional action, the new Suharto government has other pressing matters to tend to, such as the economic plight of this potentially rich but almost bankrupt country.

Sukarno stays either at the presidential palace in Jakarta or in his private home near the mountain resort town of Bogor, 40 miles south.

Gone are the smartly cut uniforms and rows of medals that used to be his trademark. The presidential flag no longer flies for him at the palace or on the vehicles he uses.

* * *

At the palace here he lives with his second wife, Hartini. He makes visits now and then to the market place or to the botanical gardens.

Sukarno's movements between Jakarta and Bogor are unrestricted and the Suharto government has made it known that the ex-president is free to go abroad if he wishes. The impression is that they would not mind seeing him go.

Officials insist that Sukarno's health is deteriorating. They have left the way open for him to go abroad for medical treatment. Some sources close to the palace say Sukarno still suffers from an old kidney ailment and is visited regularly by his physician, but is otherwise all right.

DOWNTOWN AND DRAYTON PLAINS

Town Meetings Focus on Pay and Budgets

Pay raises for township officials was the common denominator for annual township meetings held Saturday in 14 area townships.

Preliminary budgets were approved by electors without many changes.

Those changes requested by residents in most instances upped the pay for township officials.

Held each spring, "town" meetings are required by state law.

It is a law carried over from an earlier time when townships were more rural in character and smaller in population.

Independence

Township electors approved an increased budget plus a salary raise for township officers.

The budget for the next 12 months was set at $225,685. Last year it was $195,000.

Salary hikes were: supervisor, $11,300 from $9,500; clerk, $10,000 from $8,500; treasurer, $8,700 from $7,500; and trustees $900 from $600.

Groveland

The township found itself about $5,000 in the black at its annual meeting Saturday.

Earl Rhinevault, supervisor, reported revenue of $25,608.04 last year and expenditures of $19,791.16.

He attributed the savings to the very small number of fires in the township in the previous April to March period.

★ ★ ★

The township has no fire service of its own, but uses neighboring facilities on a per-fire fee basis.

Residents approved a $2,300 expenditure for dust control, but a budget for the coming year was not presented.

Rhinevault said the budget must wait until the county tax rate is established and revenues can be projected.

Rose

Residents increased their annual budget by about $10,000, most of which will be used to hire a firm to draw up a zoning ordinance.

The total budget was set at $35,507.

The possibility of a fire department was also discussed. The township presently pays Holly and Springfield townships for fighting fires on a fee basis.

★ ★ ★

It was indicated the fire department issue may be put on the ballot later.

Lyon

A tentative $30,000 budget was approved at the annual township meeting Saturday.

The meeting was adjourned until May 2 at which time the final budget will be adopted.

In the meantime, salary increases for employes will be considered, according to Township Clerk F. Lyman Joslin.

Commerce

Approval of a $192,950 proposed budget and discussion of a projected $90,000 addition to the township hall were items debated at the annual township meeting here.

An estimated 50 persons attended the three-hour session.

Electors approved the proposed budget, which runs until March 31, 1968, after adding $500 for added pay boosts for firemen.

★ ★ ★

The electors added $100 to the salaries of the township's four full-time fire fighters. A fifth man is to be hired this summer.

Most of the discussion centered on a nonbudget item — a projected addition to the township hall. A motion was approved to have a citizens' committee appointed to investigate the proposal and advise the Township Board.

New salaries in the budget include $8,000 for the fire chief, $9,500 for the supervisor, $6,500 for the clerk, $7,000 for the treasurer, and $8,600 for the assessor.

Highland

A $4,000 raise for the supervisor was included in a $62,592 budget approved at the annual township meeting. His salary was increased from $7,000 to $11,000.

Raises for other employes were also included in the budget.

The clerk's salary was raised from $5,000 to $6,500; the treasurer's salary from $4,500 to $6,000; and the trustees from $1,000 to $1,200.

★ ★ ★

Financial support for the township library was also increased from $6,000 to $12,500.

White Lake

A $170,262 budget, which included raises for employes, was approved at the annual township meeting Saturday.

The salary increases averaged between $400 and $500. Only the supervisor's salary remained at $10,000.

Salaries for the clerk and treasurer were raised from $7,500 to $8,000.

★ ★ ★

It was also reported that out of a $40,000 revolving fund, a new fire truck has been purchased and a 2,982-square-foot addition made to the township hall.

Avon

A township budget $18,800 over the $361,200 budget for last year was adopted at the annual meeting Saturday.

The new figure includes $500 raises for clerk Mrs. Thelma Spencer and for treasurer Mrs. Helen Allen. Their salaries are now $9,500 a year.

A similar raise voted for Cyril Miller, supervisor, was turned down by him. Miller makes $12,000 a year and it was pointed out that he gets no car allowance for the use of his personal car on township business.

Requests for raises in the amount paid to volunteer members of the Brooklands Fire Department will be taken to the Township Board. Firemen in the department now split $2,500 paid twice yearly by the township. Spokesmen said the sum amounted to about $2.50 an hour for each man.

Arrangements for an open meeting to discuss the tax set-up in Avon Township were asked by Robert Thor, president of the Avon Township Taxpayers Association. The supervisor, clerk, treasurer, members of the Board of Review and the County Equalization Committee were asked to be present.

The opening up of the new Stony Creek Cemetery on East Tienken on land donated by Sarah Van Hoosen Jones was discussed. The proposal was to put the cemetery on a paying basis.

The township recently lost its largest cemetery when the city of Rochester incorporated, assuming control of Mount Avon Cemetery.

Addison

The issue of alleged inadequate police protection from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and the Michigan State Police provided controversy at the annual meeting here.

Roy Lewis, 1670 Rochester, was named township police officer succeeding Francis Westphal who did not wish to continue in the job.

Walter A. Leipold, 90 Annandale, was named building inspector after May 1 succeeding William Trevarrow who said he did not wish to continue.

★ ★ ★

John Hoch was renamed fire chief.

Last year's budget of approximately $30,000 was adopted until a more definite figure could be obtained.

Oakland

An $80,926 budget figure was set by residents for the coming fiscal year, with money set aside to carry on a legal battle and also to provide a township plan.

Last year's receipts were reported as $74,999 and expenditures at $42,923. This leaves about $32,000 for this year.

The township is involved in litigation with a gravel mining firm.

Pontiac

An increased budget of $289,180 — up $80,000 over last year — was passed by electors.

New costs were expected to include the price of a fire truck, the construction of an equipment storage building, the start of a pension plan for township employes and the possible addition of new help.

Moderator was the incoming new supervisor, Roy Wahl, who will take office next Monday.

★ ★ ★

He substituted for outgoing supervisor Leonard Terry, who has been hospitalized the past month.

Milford

Raises for the supervisor, clerk and treasurer were included in a $56,350 budget approved at the annual township meeting Saturday.

The supervisor's salary was increased to $7,500, a $1,000 raise; the clerk's salary was raised to 75 per cent of the supervisor's salary, or $5,625; and the treasurer's salary was raised from $4,100 to $4,575.

Also included was an allocation to bring the township dump to sanitary land-fill specifications. The allocation was increased from $200 to $6,000.

Brandon

The budget was set at $46,405 by residents, with money included for reappraisal of township lands.

Last year's expenditures were reported at $40,641.

Approximately $9,000 is to be spent to make assessments of property at 50 per cent of sale value as required by state law.

Springfield

The budget for the coming year was set at $31,180 by residents, an increase of $2,760 over the previous year.

A building official's report showed construction valued at $594,850 was approved in the township in the previous period.

Township meetings will continue to be held the first Wednesday of each month at 8 p.m., residents decided.

TAKING A CLOSE LOOK — Independence Township residents study the proposed budget for next fiscal year in preparation for asking questions of officers at the annual meeting Saturday. They must have liked what they saw because they added about $5,000 to the proposed figure and gave their officials an approximate 20 per cent raise. Officials facing their constituents are (from left) Kenneth Johnson, treasurer; Harold Altman, clerk; Duane Hursfall, supervisor; and Harold Bauer, trustee.

State Road Toll 7 on Weekend

By the Associated Press

Seven persons died on Michigan highways over the weekend.

The weekend count runs from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Killed in the sports car accident Sunday were Patrick Hoey, 20, who lives near Dexter, and George Schneider, 19, of Dexter.

Washtenaw County Sheriff Douglas Harvey said they apparently were racing another car on the Dexter-Pinckney road north of Dexter when they hit a dip in the road, flew into the air, came down on one edge, bounced up in the air again, slammed through the trunk of a tree and flipped over.

OTHER VICTIMS

Neither of the victims was wearing a seat belt.

Other victims were:

Carmen Jane O'Rourke, 28, of Detroit, in a two-car collision Sunday on M 123 near Moran in the Upper Peninsula.

Michael Strang, 16, of Brighton, Saturday when hit by a pickup truck a mile west of Brighton in Livingston County.

Audrea Theien, 5, of Pewamo, when hit by a car Saturday in Portland Township, Ionia County.

★ ★ ★

Ronald M. Stanbaugh, 16, of Nashville, Saturday when the car in which he was riding hit a tree a few miles east of Vermontville.

Ernest L. Harris, 42, of Detroit, when he fell, under the rear wheels of a bus he was running after Saturday in Detroit.

Dogs Unleash Biting Words

By JEAN SAILE

Dogs don't recognize social lines.

They make no distinction between neighbors who are friends and neighbors who aren't.

Your best friend's pedigreed canine can be just a garbage-strewing mutt to you.

And short of collaring the stray and locking it in your garage for pickup by the county dog warden, there's little you can do.

★ ★ ★

Locking up such an animal, provided he doesn't scare you to death by sheer physical size, takes courage and the ability to smile sweetly at your friend the next day no matter what she says.

COMPLAINTS

Few have such stamina.

But "behind the back" comments are something else again.

You hear about:

Dogs in the garbage.
Dogs in the garden.
Dogs spotting lawns.
Dogs frightening children.
Dogs frightening adults.
Dogs creating a gosh-awful mess.

Most area governments have ordinances regarding wayward dogs — that they be penned or on a leash at all times.

Unfortunately, few dogs willingly abide by such restrictions. A dog in love — as is apt to be the problem at this time of year — doesn't stop to read the ordinance.

A door nudged open by a 2-year-old can mean a dog on the loose and bent for trouble.

War Is Growing by Leaps and Bounds

By EUGENE V. RISHER

SAIGON (UPI)—The war in Vietnam is mushrooming faster than ever. Americans are building up at a rate of about 500 per month in a nation where already there is one U.S. soldier for every 40 Vietnamese.

While U.S. diplomats seek peace, Gen. William C. Westmoreland and his staff are planning for a protracted war.

That war burned white-hot during the past two weeks and will get hotter.

Both sides are escalating.

★ ★ ★

Despite losses of more than 28,000 in battle casualties and defections so far this year, U.S. estimates of Communist strength in South Vietnam were revised upward 1,000 last week to 287,000 fighting men.

U.S. STRENGTH

American strength now stands at 427,000 and is expected to reach 470,000 within a few months.

During the first 2½ months of 1967 the Communists have brought new and more powerful weapons to bear on U.S. troops and installations.

They moved another division into the demilitarized zone boosting strength in or on the fringed sanctuariess of South Vietnam to nine or 11 North Vietnamese and two Vietcong main forces.

In a war with no fronts and only statistics and charts to map its awful course, the escalation is told in "firsts" and "mosts" and other such superlatives.

RIVERS MINED

Since the first of the year:

- U.S. planes began mining North Vietnam's rivers and canals.
- U.S. artillery moved up to the demilitarized zone and started pounding targets across the DMZ inside North Vietnam.
- U.S. Navy ships started using their big guns against military targets in North Vietnam.
- Communist forces used medium artillery capable of reaching seven and perhaps 11 miles—U.S. experts are not sure which yet—and Russian-made rockets capable of reaching about six miles.
- U.S. jets hit the Thai Nguyen steel plant which produces about 80 per cent of North Vietnam's steel output and previously had been on the list of prohibited targets.

"Communists deaths reached a new monthly high in January—5,954— and again in February—7,100. More than 22,000 guerrillas have been killed since the beginning of the year—almost two divisions.

In military terms, all this buildup is part of a "closely coordinated effort to exact upon the enemy an increasingly high toll as the price of continuing his aggression."

Space Becoming Big Issue at Arlington Cemetery

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There is no reason, both sides say, why there should be an issue over burial space for veterans in Arlington National Cemetery.

But both sides — veterans groups and the Department of Defense — know well that even the smallest of matters here can explode into banner headlines.

It is estimated that Arlington will be out of burial space in about nine months. Then, presumably, its gates will close forever as a burial place.

It isn't geographical limitation which bothers groups like the VFW.

★ ★ ★

It is rather the Defense Department's "arbitrary administration" of Arlington and a "reluctance by Congress to look into the matter, which is congressional jurisdiction in the first place."

DECREE ISSUED

Recently, the department decreed that Arlington, as long as burial space remained, could receive and bury only Medal of Honor winners, men on active duty (Vietnam), retired veterans and veterans in high government positions (Congress, federal courts, policy-making executives, etc.).

"That's discriminatory and autocratic," says VFW legislative director Frank Stover.

"What about the guy who slogged through Europe 50 years ago in mud just as irksome, facing bullets just as lethal?

★ ★ ★

"Our argument is that, for whatever space the cemetery has left before it runs out, the family of an average veteran has just as much right to the honor of Arlington as any of those in the four categories Defense now favors."

'NO RANK IN DEATH'

"The VFW believes," said VFW Commander - in - Chief Leslie M. Fry, "That in death there is no rank."

Pentagon offices which deal with national cemeteries decline comment, other than to say the decision to restrict remaining burials at Arlington to the four categories was made to defer its closing as long as possible.

"The Defense decision violates the intent of Congress," Fry charges.

★ ★ ★

"No office anywhere in the Pentagon has the right by law to decide what groups of veterans should be buried where and for what reasons.

'FOR ANY VETERAN'

"Whether Arlington is open for one more month or nine, it should be open to any veteran."

The VFW has gone before the House Committee on Veterans Affairs to argue its case.

Fry asked the committee to have the Arlington order rescinded, either that or create other "little Arlingtons" nearby, such as on unused federal ground around Manassas battlefield in Virginia or near Ft. Meade in Maryland.

★ ★ ★

There are two reasons why neither Department wants the squabble to become national.

Debate over what to do with a dead soldier makes any intent to honor him look silly, something which anti-Vietnam war legions could dramatize.

Second, debate brings up the broader cemetery-burial picture. It has been proposed that crematories supplant national cemeteries, saving money and space.

This is a problem similar in scope to the thorny question of birth control in the population explosion.

The largest amphibian is the giant salamander of Japan, attaining a length of five feet.

Hams Answer Letter About TV Distortions

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This is to thank you for telling that woman who insisted that a ham operator in her neighborhood was interfering with her TV reception to get her set checked — that she needed a filter coil!

ABBY

Whenever it becomes known that there is a ham operator within ten miles, every time there is trouble with a hi-fi, stereo radio, or television set, the ham gets blamed. After an investigation, the trouble is usually traced to a faulty electric blanket, refrigerator, incandescent light (about to burn out), thermostat on a tropical fish tank, even a hearing aid in the home of the complainer!

★ ★ ★

I stood right in the living room of a lady who insisted that my ham radio was ruining her reception, so she KNEW I couldn't very well be operating my set, but she said, "I don't care what you say, I can see your radio tower from here, and I KNOW that's what's causing my trouble!" So, go fight city hall.

J. J., K3PZU

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: This is for "RECEPTION RUINED," who insisted that a ham radio operator in her neighborhood was ruining her TV reception: I hope you have your TV set checked as Abby suggested, because if it picks up my signal, the trouble is in your set, which, if properly constructed, should be able to reject unwanted signals.

★ ★ ★

You called all ham operators "useless nuts." Perhaps you didn't know that ham radio is more than a "hobby," it is frequently the only means of communication to a disaster area in cases of floods, tornadoes, hurricanes, earthquakes, sinking ships, and in locating people in faraway places where there is no electricity or telephone.

★ ★ ★

In order to become a licensed ham, one has to study hard to pass the examinations, and then abide by the rules of the Federal Communications commission. His "rig" is also inspected and monitored by the FCC to be sure it is kept "clean."

★ ★ ★

There are over 280,000 licensed hams in the states today. We buy our own equipment and use it constantly as a public service without cost to anyone. Thank you, Abby, for letting me get this off my chest.

A HAM SINCE 1926

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO K. K.: True confession may be food for the soul. But it's very bad for the "heels."

★ ★ ★

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Mrs. Clark Is President of Voter Group

Election of officers took place at the annual meeting and brunch of the Pontiac League of Women Voters Saturday in Devon Gables.

Mrs. Cameron Clark assumes presidential duties, with Mrs. Arthur Crain, first vice president; Mrs. John Brice, second vice president.

Serving as secretary will be Mrs. E. C. Carlson and as directors for two years, Mrs. Eva Terrell Lillian Davidson and Mrs. Frederick Holmes.

Mrs. George Gray will be a director for one year.

The League voted to adopt for its local program "The Study and Evaluation of Public Library Services in Oakland County."

Its continuing responsibility will be the support of "County Home Rule for Oakland County."

On the brunch committee were Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Mitchell Bacow, Mrs. Crain, Mrs. Joseph Jenkins and Laura Belz.

Mrs. James Atkinson, state consultant, was a guest.

Alumnae Unit Meets Thursday

The Detroit North Suburban Alumnae Association of Alpha Delta Pi will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in Brown Brothers on West Huron Street.

A furniture refinishing and antiquing demonstration will be the feature of the evening by Mrs. Lucinda Wyckoff.

Mrs. Ulric Berard of Ferndale, Mrs. George Baird and Mrs. Robert Brown of Birmingham will be hostesses for the event.

Stockbroker Giancarlo Uzielli and his wife, the former Anne Ford, pose on deck of liner Queen Elizabeth at Pier 92, New York City. The ship sailed Saturday for Cherbourg, France and Southhampton, England.

Bryant Replaces Donley

Actor Takes Role in Emergency

Because of an emergency appendectomy operation on Robert Donley, Joshua Bryant has been pressed into service in the forthcoming Meadow Brook Theatre production of "The Waltz of the Toreadors."

Donley was to have played General St. Pe, the leading role in the play. According to David Bishop, the company's general manager, the character of the General is the pivotal one in the play. He carries about 75 per cent of the lines.

REAL TROUPER

Bryant, a native of Virginia and a graduate of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London, is no stranger to Meadow Brook audiences. He has appeared in all four of the troupe's productions this season.

He was seen as a rough, unkempt soldier in "The Caucasian Chalk Circle;" as the clown Costard in "Love's Labour's Lost;" the elderly barrister McComus in "You Never Can Tell;" and most recently as a Suspicious Character in the Children's play which closed Saturday.

One of the most versatile actors in the company, Bryant has performed in numerous productions at the Pasadena Playhouse, Los Angeles' Carousel Theatre, on television and in summer stock.

Prior to his engagement with the John Fernald Company he completed the leading role in a network public service film for the National Association of Retail Druggists entitled "Bartlett and Son."

Donley was admitted to St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital Tuesday complaining of abdominal pain.

He too has also appeared in all four Meadow Brook productions. His most recent role as the waiter in Shaw's "You Never Can Tell" won him praise from critics and audiences alike.

Robin Ray, who is directing "Toreadors" says that Bryant has an amazing capacity for memorization and already has a good grasp on the very difficult part of the aging General St. Pe.

"The General is difficult not only because of the sheer bulk of lines, but because of the delicate nature of the play, sliding as it does from hilarious comedy to utter poignancy.

"We are all confident in Josh's ability, however. He is a very talented young man. We are most fortunate to have an actor of his abilities to take over at such short notice."

★ ★ ★

"The Waltz of the Toreadors" will run for four weeks Wednesday through April 30.

JOSHUA BRYANT

Barbara Caruso has a leading part in "Waltz of the Toreadors".

Women Go to Lansing for AAUW

Members of four branches, American Association of University Women, will attend the seventh annual legislative day in Lansing on Wednesday.

Mrs. Fred Crossman and Laura Belz of the Pontiac branch are going; from the Waterford branch, Mrs. James Howe and Mrs. John Bills.

Union Lake branch will be represented by Mrs. Harry Reed and Mrs. Richard Robb. And from the Rochester branch, Mesdames Stephen DuBrul, Frank Beach, E. L. Barlow Jr. and Robert Skrivseth are going.

The morning program is "Strategy for AAUW action toward good government," which will underline AAUW support for adequate programs in education, mental health, social services and human relations.

AAUW state legislative committee members will address the group in the morning.

★ ★ ★

Local legislators are invited to have lunch with the women.

The Hon. Sander M. Levin, minority floor leader, will address the luncheon session, speaking on "Evolution of Legislation."

John Rockefellers Flying to Orient

CHICAGO (AP) — Sharon Percy and John D. Rockefeller IV were on their honeymoon today—after a wedding of pomp, pageantry and publicity.

The ceremony Saturday at the University of Chicago's Rockefeller Chapel united Sharon, 22, the daughter of Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., and Rockefeller, 29, a Democratic West Virginia state legislator.

★ ★ ★

The bridal couple finally stepped out of the spotlight late Saturday when they stepped into the private plane of the bridegroom's uncle, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, a Republican.

They had decided to continue with their plans to honeymoon in the Far East despite the death hours before their wedding of Sharon's step-grandmother Emily Guyer, Mrs. Percy's mother.

A spokesman for the Percy family said the newlyweds had not decided at the time of their departure if they would attend the funeral today at Altadena, Calif.

FAMILIAR GROUND

When the couple reaches their honeymoon destination, Rockefeller will be an able guide.

He attended International Christian University in Tokyo for three years and was an instructor in the English language there for a year.

Later he served in the State Department bureau of Far Eastern affairs.

Although Sharon has not been to the Orient, she attended the Brillantmont School in Lausanne, Switzerland, her junior year in high school and spent two months last summer with the Experiment in International Living in the Central African Republic.

★ ★ ★

The unexpected death of her grandmother was a last-minute addition to a burden of grief Sharon bore on her wedding day.

Her twin sister, Valerie, probably would have been her maid of honor had she not been murdered less than eight months ago by an intruder in the Percy's suburban Kenilworth home.

Instead, Sharon's 13-year-old sister, Gail, served as a maid of honor.

★ ★ ★

A friend close to the family said before the wedding: "The family expected to be criticized for having this wedding so soon after Valerie's death. And they have. Sharon has even had threatening phone calls from screwballs.

"But the Percys felt that a young girl is entitled to the kind of wedding she always dreamed of, and they feel quite certain it is what Valerie would want."

Concerts Coming to Pontiac

Dates are released for two outstanding musical events sponsored by the Music Department of the School District of the City of Pontiac.

One, on Sunday, is a gala concert called "American Youth Performs".

The second, on April 11, is a concert by the Michigan State University Band Concert.

TWO FEATURED

"The American Youth Performs," will feature Dr. Joel Berman, violinist, from the University of Maryland, and Joyce Mathis, soprano, from New York City.

The Pontiac Honors Orchestra will accompany these youth artists and will handle the major portion of the program. Featured also will be the Northern High School Choir.

* * *

"American Youth Performs" is nationally known for its encouragement and development of young performing artists throughout the United States and Canada.

This concert will be in Pontiac Northern High School auditorium at 3 p.m. Tickets are $1.

MSU BAND

Two days later, the Michigan State University Band, directed by Dr. Leonard Falcone, will play in Pontiac Central High School gym.

This program will be one of the final concerts for this famous band and its internationally famous director before his retirement.

Tickets for the 7:30 p.m. concert are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

* * *

Tickets for both concerts may be purchased from instrumental directors, their students, or local music stores.

* * *

For blocks of tickets or for further information, contact the Music Department office at the Pontiac Board of Education.

Still Better to Address It to Wife

ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Seldom do I disagree with your columns, but I must take exception to one of your answers. If a wedding gift arrives with a card engraved "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith," it would certainly seem rude to write only to "Mrs. Smith."

I've never had a thank-you note for a wedding present addressed only to me, and would consider it in poor taste. — Mary Van Vleck

Dear Mrs. Van Vleck: I don't believe you attached enough importance to my statement that the husband should be referred to in the text of the letter.

It is not incorrect to address thank-you letters to both man and wife, but they are more generally addressed to the wife alone.

GOOD MANNERS

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it not correct for a young man to send his future mother-in-law a card or a little gift of thoughtfulness on Valentine's Day, Mother's Day, etc., especially when he brings a gift or sends a card to her daughter?

Perhaps I am wrong in thinking he should. —Mrs. G.

* * *

Dear Mrs. G.: One of my favorite sayings, "Good manners should be expected but never demanded," is applicable here. Of course, it would be a thoughtful gesture, and perfectly correct for your future son-in-law to send you a card or small gift on Valentine's Day or Mother's Day.

But I wouldn't hold it against him if he didn't remember you last February 14th. I'm sure it was not an intentional slight. Let us hope on Mother's Day he will remember you, as well as his own mother.

COLORED GLOVES

Dear Mrs. Post: I was wondering if it is proper to wear colored gloves to a formal dance. — Diane

Dear Diane: Yes, you may wear colored gloves. Have them dyed to match your dress, or they may go with your evening purse.

Nothing Left Out in Vast Display

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Wilford Moss, manager of a local Goodfellow store, remarked as he showed visitors the vast number and variety of items on display: "We have everything here but the kitchen sink."

Moments later, he received a call from Mrs. Milton Radney informing him that she had remodeled the kitchen of her home and had a donation to send to Goodwill—a kitchen sink.

Be Immaculate

Immaculate cleanliness of person and apparel is the first role of a gentleman or lady.

The event is scheduled for Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the church hall N. Lewis Street. Interested persons may contact Mrs. Gordon Gillette of Corwin Street or Mrs. George McCormick of Kemp Street for tickets.

Miss Ferich Selects Gown of Lace

A French lace gown featuring a chapel train was the choice of Carol Ann Ferich for her Friday vows with Joseph Willard Cobble Jr.

* * *

She is the daughter of the Andrew Ferichs of East Walton Boulevard.

A matching petal headpiece held her illusion veil for the evening ceremonies in St. Michael's Catholic Church. She carried a cascade arrangement of white orchids, carnations and Stephanotis.

* *

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Robert McLane, was matron of honor with bridesmaids, Mrs. Allen Wadley, Mrs. William Cassel and Carrie Knickerbocker. Flower girl was Kimberly Merrell.

* * *

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Chester Knickerbocker of Myrtle Street and the late Joseph Cobble, asked Bob Merrell to be his best man.

Ushers were Robert McLane, James Shea, Andrew Ferich (bride's brother) and ring bearer, Douglas Ferich.

* * *

Luncheon Club to Hear Florist

Mrs. Ruby Dunstan will entertain the Pontiac Christian Women's Club on April 11 with a feature on "Flower Arranging."

The club will meet in the Holiday Inn at 12:30 p.m.

* * *

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Mrs. Frank Blue, authoress. Marlene Sherman, soprano, will sing.

A nursery is available in the Emmanuel Baptist Church on Telegraph Road.

Reservations must be made by April 10 with Mrs. Kenneth W. Dudley of Clintonville Road.

August 18 vows will be spoken by Pamela Ann Mackavich and Norbert Bruce Donnelly. Their parents are the Joseph P. Mackaviches of Lake Front Drive and the Norbert J. Donnellys of Marge Street. Her fiance is a senior at Oakland University.

Polly's Pointers

Erase Child's Fears

DEAR POLLY — My small daughter was frightened of shadows cast on her bedroom wall by the trees outside the window. I simply picked up the child's doll and several other toys, and showed her the shadows they made.

Next I held the baby in my arms and showed her the shadow she made on the wall. Doing this for several days helped her to overeome this fear.

When I am busy and baby wants attention, I give him company by cutting out large, colored pictures of babies and small children from magazines and tape them around the inside of his crib.

It makes him quite happy to "talk" to his friends while I get some housework done. — MRS. H. E. M.

GIRLS — When trying this the first time, do watch and see if baby shows any tendency to eat his paper friends. Some children cannot wait to get anything paper into their mouths. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — How can I remove wrinkles from a plastic shower curtain? These wrinkles remained in after I washed the curtain. — MRS. R. M. B.

DEAR POLLY — To avoid messy hands when unwinding a typewriter ribbon if you want to save the spool, straighten out a paper clip and slide the clip through the center hole in the spool.

Hold the spool over the wastebasket and whirl the spool around and let the ribbon fall in the basket until the spool is free of ribbon. No more messy hands. — LUCY

DEAR POLLY—I am answering Mrs. W. L. C. who wanted to know how to make a button spin or hum. Either a two- or four-hole button (coat-size) should be threaded with a long piece of string which goes through two opposite holes.

Tie the ends of the thread together so the knot is at one end. One finger is looped through each end and the button on the string twirled round and round (Polly's note: Like turning a skip rope) until the cord is wound tight. Then pull it in and out and the button will spin and make a humming sound.—MRS. M.

* * *

You will receive a dollar if Polly uses your favorite home-making idea, Polly's Problem or solution to a problem. Write Polly in care of The Pontiac Press.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred G. Smith of East Holly Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Kay to Paul Robert Helmstetter. His parents are the Frank Bolens of Morgan, N. J. He is a sophomore at General Motors Institute.

Sturdy Table for Shut-In

A large cardboard carton can be turned into a sturdy bed table. Remove the top from the box, tape down flaps for a smooth surface, and cut a curved opening on each side of the box to make room for the patient's legs. State Senators Set to Seek Acceptable Fiscal Reform

LANSING (AP)—Republican and Democratic senators go back to the fiscal drawing boards tomorrow to try to reach an acceptable middle ground on Gov. George Romney's fiscal reform program.

Romney's income tax bill was defeated last week and sent to Senate committee along with his seven other fiscal reform bills for further study.

Senate Taxation Committee Chairman Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, says the three Republican and two Democratic members will begin by taking a look "at how the Republicans and Democrats wants to proceed with the bills."

"We'll lay it right out on the table and see what is proposed in hopes in 10 days or two weeks we can whip something together and get it back on the Senate floor," he adds.

★ ★ ★

The income tax bill failed to receive the necessary 20 votes for passage when six Republicans joined 17 Democrats in opposing it, leaving only 14 of Romney's fellow Republicans to cast "yes" votes.

LITTLE CHOICE

The Republicans on the committee must work out a package that will be acceptable to all 20 Senate Republicans or get together with the Democrats to come up with a compromise.

The second possibility apparently is the only road open.

At least one Republicans, Sen. Robert Huber of Birmingham, says he will not vote for any income tax that does not include a provision allowing the people to vote on it.

★ ★ ★

A vote of the people at a general election could not be accomplished before 1968 and Romney has promised he will cut state services 15 per cent unless fiscal reform is achieved this session.

DELAY APPROPRIATIONS

In addition Romney says he will approve no appropriations until he sees "where the money is coming from."

However, in working out a compromise with Democrats, the Republicans must take into consideration the possibility of losing even more GOP votes if they make too many concessions.

Romney's package provides for 2½ per cent personal income tax, a 5 per cent corporate tax and an 8 per cent tax on financial institutions. It also would raise the cigarette tax three cents a pack, repeal the business activities tax and provide some sales and property tax relief.

★ ★ ★

Democrats complain that Romney's plan contains too many inequities.

'NOT FAIR'

"This is not a fair-share tax reform program," said Minority Leader Raymond Dzendzel after voting "no" on the income tax. "The governor's proposals unfairly place 90 per cent of the burned for additional revenues on individual taxpayers and only 10 per cent on corporations."

The Democrats also charge that Romney's bill does not adequately reflect ability to pay and provides for only a $600 exemption for each dependent.

They say this is unjust since the proposed state income tax is flat rate while federal tax structure, using the same exemption rate, is graduated.

★ ★ ★

Romney's bills fail to provide a satisfactory answer to the financial programs of local units of government, including municipalities and school districts, Democrats say.

They also criticize Romney's sales tax and property tax relief proposals.

OBJECT OF CHICAGO SEARCH — Carrie Stephens, 8, missing from her North Side neighborhood for five days, was found unharmed over the weekend in an apartment about one mile from her parents' home. Here she is being escorted by a Chicago policeman. The man charged with her abduction, Michael Zito, 51, is being held in Cook County Jail under $100,000 bond.

Safe Return of Kidnaped Child Celebrated

CHICAGO (AP) — Carrie Stephens, who was found unharmed Saturday night, was feted at parties over the weekend, while the man charged with her abduction last Monday was being held in county jail under $100,000 bond.

Carrie, 8, was returned home after police found her in a North Side apartment with Michael Zito, 51.

★ ★ ★

Zito, charged with aggravated kidnaping, remained silent throughout his court appearance Sunday.

The girl had been the object of an intensive five-day search. After a physical examination, doctors said Carrie had not been molested.

RECEIVED TIP

Police said Carrie identified Zito as her abductor and told them "the man did not harm me." Police found the two after receiving a tip from a woman in the neighborhood.

Playmates of Carrie told police last week that the girl was taken from a neighborhood street by a fat man who offered the youngsters $1 to help find his dog. Police said their description of the abductor matched Zito except that he has only one arm.

Carrie told police that she was alone in the apartment with her abductor during the five days she was missing. She said she left the apartment once to use a bathroom, but returned voluntarily "because I didn't know my way home." She said she was "scared the whole time."

Carrie's family celebrated her return and her father's 42nd birthday on Saturday night. Playmates and friends crowded into the family's three-room apartment to welcome Carrie back.

'WE ALL CRIED'

"This is the happiest birthday of my life," said Daniel Stephens, Carrie's father.

Mrs. Stephens said she "just started bawling" when she saw Carrie. "You could hear me five blocks away. Carrie started crying too, then my husband came in and we all cried together," she said.

Mrs. Stephens said she had never seen Zito before.

★ ★ ★

Another party was held for Carrie and her friends Sunday at her home.

Zito's hearing was continued until today after police told Magistrate James M. Bailey that Zito served 60 days in jail in 1952 on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Newspaper Is Sold in Gratiot County

ITHACA (AP) — The sale of the Gratiot County Herald, which had been in the hands of one family for 75 years, has been announced.

Publisher George McCall has sold his stock in the weekly to his partners Robert MacDonald and John Stafford.

The paper was purchased by J. N. McCall in 1892 and was inherited by George and Romaine McCall in 1927. MacDonald and Stafford purchased Romaine's stock after his death in 1963.

State Wiretap Probe Cautioned

DETROIT (UPI) — A former Detroit police commissioner has urged a Senate subcommittee scheduled to hold hearings on wiretapping this week to remember that no Michigan or federal law as yet prohibits wiretapping by law enforcement officials.

★ ★ ★

Federal Judge George Edwards noted that several high-ranking current or former Detroit police officials have been subpoenaed and said, "I trust that no effort will be made to pillory them for their pursuit of proper law enforcement objectives by methods which the law of their state and their nation allowed and . . . still allows."

★ ★ ★

At the same time Edwards voiced his support for legislation to prohibit wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping.

FLAMING PROTEST — An Arab demonstrator leaps through flames of burning wood in Aden last night, protesting against the arrival of a United Nations mission. The mission flew in from Sudi Arabia at the end of sporadic anti-British demonstrations in Aden. The mission is to advise on the thorny problems posed by the South Arabian Federation's independence, which the British have promised to grant by 1968.

LA's Yorty Counters NY Efforts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Samuel W. Yorty wants a "totally integrated entertainment industry center" in Hollywood as its answer to New York City.

Yorty told the 17th annual American Cinema Editors Awards dinner Saturday that the center proposed by the city of Los Angeles would embrace motion picture, television, radio and record production industries.

A 740-acre site recommended by the Los Angeles Economic Development Board is the city's reply to a recent bid by New York Mayor John V. Lindsay to attract entertainment industries to Manhattan, Yorty said.

★ ★ ★

He said Hollywood is recognized as the center of motion picture production with facilities invovling hundreds of millions of dollars.

Arabs Fight British in Aden Demonstration

ADEN (AP) —Hundreds of Arab demonstrators roared through the streets of Aden today to fight a grenade and bullet battle with British troops. Two British soldiers were wounded and an Arab grenade thrower was shot and captured.

A score of demonstrators were arrested.

★ ★ ★

The demonstration formed up in the back streets of Aden's Crater District, and the Arabs ran through the town waving Anti-British banners and chanting nationalist slogans.

Troops of the Royal Northumberland Fusiliers poured into the area in trucks to head them off. Two grenades were flung from the mob and from a building on the narrow street. Two fusiliers dropped, wounded. An Arab grenade thrower was shot down.

ROUND UP RINGLEADERS

With rifle butts swinging, the troops moved into the mob, rounding up ringleaders and throwing them into the back of a truck. Several of the captured were clubbed and kicked as they screamed for mercy.

The demonstration broke up within minutes and the troops moved slowly through the area to clear the streets.

Violence exploded following the arrival Sunday night of a United Nations mission to investigate and advise on the problems posed by British plans to give South Arabia independence next year.

Closing Loopholes: Substitute for Tax Increase?

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Some people in and out of Congress are urging tax reform — a general closing of loopholes — as a substitute for President Johnson's proposed 6 per cent income surtax.)

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has planted a go-slow sign in the way of congressional proposals to plug some of the major tax loopholes through which an estimated $50 billion of revenue escape every year.

★ ★ ★

Instead of a major loophole-closing, officials expect President Johnson to seek modest changes, mostly cinching up corporation tax rules and offsetting any revenue increases by tax relief for lower-income families.

★ ★ ★

The presidential package won't reach Congress until July or August, under present plans. They could not be enacted before 1968. And under White House orders, the revisions will not produce a gain in revenues.

"The reforms will be little and late," predicted Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., a ranking member of the Senate-House Economic Committee.

NO MAJOR REFORM

He has urged prompt loophole-closing as a substitute for Johnson's proposed 6 per cent general surtax at midyear on most income taxes. But Reuss reported no signs of a major tax reform effort in the executive branch and added, in an interview: "Unless there is strong presidential leadership you cannot get real tax reforms out of Congress.

"Congress is where the vested interests live. The White House is where the national interest lives."

★ ★ ★

Administration aides agree that the President's promised reform package won't go to Capitol Hill until after Congress takes its action, if any, on Johnson's tax surcharge proposal.

And they concur that Johnson in effect has said "no" to the Reuss plan — and is not changing his mind. Johnson's economic report to the new Congress in January said proposals to reduce tax inequities and distortions were being prepared, but the President added: "These proposals will be designed to avoid significant revenue effects."

CLAMPDOWN ON ABUSES

He is expected to ask clampdowns, of still undisclosed severity, on asserted tax abuses by private foundations, on the swelling flood of tax-exempt "industrial development bonds" issued by cities, and on the mushroom growth of multiple-unit corporations being organized to claim surtax exemptions in wholesale quantities.

But an apparently growing number of lawmakers wants reforms considerably more drastic in impact, to lighten the load on the less-favored taxpayer.

★ ★ ★

In the group, besides Reuss, are Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., who joined Reuss in attaching a separate demand for reforms to the annual report of the Senate-House Economic Committee; Republican Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, who bedeviled Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler about oil and gas depletion allowances in last month's tax hearings; Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and others.

Some cite a 1963 estimate that potential revenue totaling $40 billion a year escapes through the honeycomb of "preferences" in tax laws. The figure probably should be $45 billion now because of growth in income, taxed and untaxed.

But not even a determined loophole-closing drive could possibly recover much more than half that. Some "preferences" are not likely to be tampered with, like those benefiting the blind, aged, crippled and ailing — or even the income-splitting privilege of married couples.

But some huge and heretofore "untouchable" loopholes are now drawing public criticism. One is the virtually all-inclusive tax exemption of the churches, among other tax-exempt organizations. Another is the unlawful — and therefore untaxable — segment of the "industry" of gambling.

★ ★ ★

Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike estimates that the churches — moving ever more rapidly and deeply into business by borrowing, buying, investing and reinvesting their tax-exempt income — probably avoid with complete legality more than $4 billion of federal income taxes. That roughly matches estimates of the local taxes they do not pay on their real estate holdings.

★ ★ ★

For the churches' own good, Bishop Pike contends, their business enterprises should be taxed like other business to avoid future dangers to society and the church itself.

Other churchmen share the bishop's concern. The magazine "Christianity Today" recently published the estimate that with present tax exemptions and prudent management "the churches ought to be able to control the whole economy of the nation within the predictable future."

★ ★ ★

Gambling represents not a loophole but a floodgate of escaping revenue. The bishop's guess on the potential revenues from church-owned businesses is dwarfed by a newly published estimate that gambling could pour $30 billion into the Treasury each year — if the government would legalize and control all organized gambling, and take for itself a cut of the profits that now finance rackets, crime, loan-sharking, prostitution and encroachments on legitimate businesses.

MILWAUKEE — Those pesky pigeons that litter city parks with their droppings and feathers in complete disregard of civic virtue are causing lung inflammation, fever and chills in addition to even more disabling conditions.

★ ★ ★

To find out exactly what foreign material, or antigen, is making allergic people react as they do, scientists at Marquette University here, will study pigeon blood and excreta as well as the human body's reaction to the substance.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Joseph J. Barboriak, assistant professor of pharmacology at the university, will direct the research under a new grant from the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, Bethesda, Md.

Junior Editors Quiz on CAT'S WHISKERS

QUESTION: Cats have whiskers—but why?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: As an animal moves about, to find food or escape from other animals, it needs highly developed senses. Its life often depends on how keen these senses are.

But different animals have developed some senses more than others, because they are especially useful in a particular way of life. Flying high, an eagle needs keen eyesight Wolves and dogs track down game animals by their sense of smell.

One of these useful senses is that of touch; some animals use this sense more than others. Insects can often escape from danger because tiny bristles on their body are sensitive to touch and warn them in time.

Whiskers are a kind of feeler found on many higher animals. They are particularly developed in the cat family because these animals hunt at night. The whiskers let them feel their way around in the dark.

There are nerve cells which surround each whisker and tell the animal at once if it has touched something.

Yank Chaplain Fretful After Firing Gun

CAPT. JAMES PIERCE

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

CU CHI, Vietnam — The difference between Capt. James Pierce and the rest of the soldiers in his outfit is that he wears a small white cross on his collar, the insignia of a chaplain.

★ ★ ★

But there ends his distinction. The cross gives Jim Pierce no immunities here. He is a man of God, but only a man and thus wears no special armor.

★ ★ ★

He can be frightened.
He can be weak.
And he can err.

The other day the chaplain did all three. At least he says he did. And in the span of a few desperate moments, he blemished his conscience with what he determined to be "an act of selfishness."

It happened during the opening minutes of a heliborne combat assault. Pierce, 26, of Memphis, Tenn., was aboard a troop-laden aircraft which was moving into the middle of an enemy sanctuary.

★ ★ ★

The chaplain was aboard as a matter of course. His duties never ended at the pulpit and he often went along on the field operations.

SEVERAL HITS

All was well with the mission until the helicopter prepared to land. Then, 20 feet from touchdown, the ship took several hits in the tail.

The stabilizing propeller shrieked. Passengers flew askew as the big green bird lurched out of control.

The rear of the plane sank like a rock and the craft pitched sideways, scrambling the cargo. In the melee, Chaplain Pierce was thrown out the open door to the mucky earth.

★ ★ ★

He was cut up on impact but had no time to worry about the wounds.

NARROW MISS

As he looked up, he saw the helicopter's great mass falling almost on top of him. It crashed with its rotor blades impaled in soft dirt, inches from the chaplain's head.

Every man on the chopper was injured. Pierce's legs and hands were lacerated. Other men suffered bumps and abrasions. But, no one was even knocked unconscious.

Enemy gunfire erupted anew. The chaplain saw muzzle flashes from behind a thicket. A GI returned fire.

★ ★ ★

Pierce grabbed a gun.
He waited.
More shots were fired. The crash victims bellied into the reeds and bramble and concentrated fire on the enemy position.

Finally, the chaplain opened up himself.

It was, of course, purely an act of self-preservation. Then too, fire protected two helicopter pilots who darted across an open field toward a rescue vehicle.

Pierce aimed his rifle at the enemy powder flashes. He saw no one. He fired a number of times. He was, as everyone was, terribly afraid. He didn't want to kill, necessarily, but rather to force the enemy to break contact.

And in a few minutes the firing died away.

★ ★ ★

It ended for everyone except Jim Pierce. As a chaplain, a devout Methodist, and a theologian who has serious misgivings about war, it didn't end for him.

WAS PRAISED

No one here faulted his act. Many praised it.

Yet Jim Pierce regretted it.

Afterward he said he was carried away, scared, that he shot his weapon only because he thought he could help.

And surely he did help. The downed pilots made it to safety and the return fire brought enemy activity to a halt without further GI injury. But the chaplain said:

"It was wrong. I hope I didn't hit anyone."

Job Opportunity Outlook for Negroes Is Still Bleak

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG, Jr.
Executive Director
National Urban League

The outlook for employment opportunities for Negro citizens is still bad.

Unemployment continues at more than double the rate for white workers and the unemployment rates for young people looking for their first jobs is catastrophically high; one out of every three Negro teen-age boys who want jobs cannot find them.

YOUNG

Corresponding figures for white workers and white youngsters have been improving at the same time that the figures for Negroes have been getting worse.

This is, of course, one of the great problems facing American democracy.

A nation whose gross national product this year is expected to be in the neighborhood of $780 billion should be able to include all of its citizens in its prosperity, and it certainly should not let race or color be the decisive element in determining whether a man works or not.

In the face of an otherwise grim situation however, some progress is being made.

More than ever before, the thousands of Negro college graduates are finding acceptance in professional and managerial jobs long closed to them. They are opening doors in government, business and industry through which many others will follow.

PROFESSIONAL JOBS

The proportion of nonwhites holding professional jobs has increased from 3.9 per cent in 1955 to 5.9 per cent in 1965, the last year for which there are figures.

This indicates that the expanded educational opportunities of recent years have begun to pay off in better jobs for the determined pace-setters of the new generation. It also indicates that employers are beginning to learn how to be color-blind in their hiring practices.

But there is such a long way to go. Much of the new hiring was done by government agencies, and a lot of the improved job status of many Negro workers is due to upgrading and training on their government jobs.

Although the government's employment policy leaves much to be desired, private industry is still the follower, not the leader, in hiring Negroes for managerial positions and in training and upgrading their present Negro employees.

A look at some government agencies reveals the wealth of talent lost to business through its short-sighted hiring practices.

The three largest post offices in the nation—Chicago, New York, and Los Angeles—are run by postmasters who are Negro.

Taken together, these three offices handle 11 billion pieces of mail, have receipts of $650 million per year and have 77,000 employes.

GOING ROUGH, WET — Troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division churn through a muddy stream in the Plain of Reeds, 10 miles south of Saigon, as they pursue Vietcong forces. The soldiers of the division's 27th Infantry Regiment were in the swampy area for 30 days after months of chasing the Vietcong through tunnels. From tunnel rats they became water rats.

In the Plain of Reeds

25th Division GIs Become Water Rats

DUC HOA, Vietnam (AP) — Wolfhounds of the U.S 25th Infantry Division, once known as tunnel rats, have become water rats in the Plain of Reeds.

For a month they have been up to their hips in water and mud of the plain, which flanks the Mekong River delta from a point 10 miles west of Saigon to the Cambodian frontier.

* * *

They are waging a campaign of a type American troops will be seeing more and more of as they move into the delta.

The enemy has seemed to be everywhere, shooting from the tree lines. But they are rarely found when the Americans close in.

Two battalions of the Wolfhounds, the nickname for the 25th Division's 27th Infantry Regiment, moved to the edge of the Plain of Reeds at the beginning of March with the assignment of stopping the flow of Vietcong replacements along the main route east from Cambodia. They knew there were at least two battalions of Vietcong in the watery wastelands.

* * *

After months of chasing Vietcong in and out of relatively dry tunnels in the Hobo Woods and on abandoned rubber plantations, the infantrymen found themselves wading through deep canals and squishing through soupy miles of mud.

Maj. Harvey Perritt of Alexandria, Va., moved his men by helicopter one day last week to keep up with the elusive prey.

"We know we're up against a provincial battalion," he said. "We just have to go in and root them out. They're big, well-fed, healthy and well-equipped, and they never seem to run out of ammunition."

A platoon led by Lt. Ed Cravey, Houston, Tex., had discovered a base camp that yielded 5,000 pounds of rice, a large cache of documents, 10 pounds of medical supplies, a large amount of clothing and some ammunition and grenades.

"We blew her sky high," said the lieutenant.

The rate for mailing a first-class letter went up from two cents to three cents in 1944; to four cents in 1959, and to five cents in 1963.

Sandy Hundley had a ball today.

Fun!
On the job.
Mostly because she gets along with people and enjoys doing something extra for them.

It might be a Saudi Arabian sheik, a business tycoon, a lawyer, a mother, a matinee idol or a multi-millionaire Australian prospector.

Stretching it a bit? Maybe. Some days are more exciting than others but no matter . . . people will always be the most interesting part of her job. She likes them. So she's quick, alert, pleasant and helpful. And that's why people like her. Sandy learned a long time ago that all people like to be liked. We saw that the day she came to us. That's why she's an Operator for Michigan Bell in Saginaw.

Foundation Urges FCC to Bar Comsat From Satellite Net

NEW YORK (AP) — The Ford Foundation urges formation of a nonprofit satellite relay system for both public and commercial radio and television—but wants the Communications Satellite Corp. barred from it.

In a 103-page brief prepared for submission today to the Federal Communications Commission, the foundation asked that a national test satellite program be undertaken by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

★ ★ ★

Tonight is the FCC's deadline for submission of briefs in the satellite controversy.

Adding domestic service to Comsat's present international satellite relay operations, the foundation said, would make it an unprecedented "world monopoly."

SEPARATE SYSTEM

A separate, nonprofit relay system would aid educational TV through revenues gained from distributing commercial video shows, the foundation said.

Comsat announced Saturday that it had asked the FCC for immediate authority to introduce a pilot satellite system for experimental domestic relay of TV programs plus telephone, telegraph and data transmission services. Comsat operates a number of relay satellites transmitting television and telephone signals between continents.

★ ★ ★

The Ford Foundation asked the FCC to delay for one year any final authorization of a domestic satellite system. Even an experimental grant to Comsat, it said, could carry the implication of a permanent arrangement.

★ ★ ★

The foundation endorsed a proposal last January by the Carnegie Commission for Educational Television for a vast expansion of noncommercial telecasting.

EXCISE TAX

The Carnegie commission asked Congress to impose an excise tax on all television sets manufactured in the United States and to increase the budget of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to finance the proposed corporation for public television.

"The foundation is in strong general agreement with the eloquent and persuasive report of the Carnegie commission," McGeorge Bundy, president of the Ford Foundation, said in a letter accompanying the brief to the FCC.

★ ★ ★

The corporation proposed by the foundation would be called Broadcasters' Nonprofit Satellite Corp.

"It is important to understand that the income from BNSC could contribute approximately two-thirds of the total programming costs in the near-term period (1968-1971) and a very considerable fraction in the intermediate (1972-1980) and long-run periods," the Ford Foundation brief states.

"Over the years, revenues will increase because of increased traffic, and costs will be sharply reduced."

★ ★ ★

A test program, said the foundation, would determine the practicality and economic advantages of using satellites to interconnect educational radio and television stations without charge.

When a baby is teething, tack a square of soft plastic to the back of his bibs, and it will make them waterproof, keeping his clothing underneath from getting wet.

Grieving Wisconsin Community Appeals for Privacy

JUDA, Wis. (AP) — The people of Juda raised a plea for privacy today as funerals began for the nine girls whose senior class trip ended in death.

Hundreds of persons flocked to the small community Sunday for memorial services which preceded the individual services today and Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Memorial services were conducted in the same school gymnasium where the girls were to have received their graduation diplomas in May.

The Rev. Melvin J. Nickel said the senior trip had ended in "the greatest adventure of all, knowing the love of the Father."

PREGRADUATION TRIP

The nine girls were among 19 persons killed Thursday when a jet airliner crashed into the motel where they were staying on their pregraduation trip to New Orleans, La.

In the front row of the high school gymnasium sat the seven surviving girls among the 26 seniors left.

Parents of the victims listened to the services in section in the grade school gymnasium at the opposite end of the building.

The services were attended by an esimated 1:500 mourners, five times the population of this farming hamlet in southern Wisconsin.

'NO MORE CAMERAS'

As television cameras watched, the Rev. Mr. Nickel ended his sermon with a plea for no more cameras, no more interviews.

The parents of the dead girls had arrived in silence. One father had to be supported by two other men as he left an hour later.

★ ★ ★

Flowers from other schools in four states lined the gymnasium stage. Kenneth Wittlief, assistant principal, told a newsman he expected the survivors to go through graduation exercises as scheduled in the same gymnasium May 26.

GAUCHIE

Lost 58 Days, Bush Pilot Safe

YELLOWKNIFE, Canada (AP)— A bush pilot who huddled under six sleeping bags for 58 days before being rescued from his downed plane near the Arctic Circle was reported in good shape today although he lost 40 of his 203 pounds and will lose five toes.

Robert Gauchie, 39, was taken off a frozen lake Saturday by another flier who spotted sunlight glinting off the windshield of Gauchie's plane. Gauchie was waiting with a bag packed when his rescuers, Glen Stevens and Ron Sheardown, landed their ski plane.

Doctors said Gauchie would lose three toes from his left foot and two from his right because of frostbite but otherwise was in good shape.

Gauchie ran out of fuel in a blizzard Feb. 2. His radio equipment didn't work and he was presumed dead after three weeks of searching.

★ ★ ★

The heavily bearded Canadian pilot ate survival rations and fish from his cargo and was strong enough to leave the rescue plane unaided when it landed at Yellowknife.

Queen Named for the Kalkaska Trout Festival

KALKASKA (UPI) — Connie Sue Cherven, "Miss Roscommon," has been named new queen of the annual Kalkaska Trout Festival.

Miss Cherven, an 18-year-old brunette who is a freshman at Marygrove College, was chosen from 13 community queen contestants in the annual competitions Saturday night.

Miss Janet Van Amburg, 16-year-old Kalkaska High School student who was "Miss Kalkaska," was runner-up in the contest.

The festival, which annually attracts thousands of fishermen to nearby trout streams, will be held April 28-30.

ARNOLD PALMER'S COORDINATED BLAZER AND SLACKS WITH FORTREL® WON'T IMPROVE YOUR GAME... BUT THEY'LL CERTAINLY IMPROVE YOUR FORM

When Arnold Palmer puts his signature to a fashion design, it means two things: the fashion is excellent, and the design is easy-going and great for wear. Like his Birdie Two Duo: a handsomely coordinated sport coat and slacks. PBM tailors the sport coat in a classic blazer model, in hearty homespun hopsacking blended of 55% Celanese Fortrel® polyester and 45% wool worsted—a blend that's light and cool and crisp and remarkably wrinkle-resistant. It's teamed with trim plain-front trousers in coordinated shades. The duo shown is in Dorado light olive. Others are combinations of dark blues, cocoas, persimmons, golds, light blues, and char olives. The two-piece ensemble, 69.95

Mr. Kimberly knows...

Very important to Kimberly-Clark's diversified business is to maintain leadership for such brand name products as Kleenex tissues, napkins, and towels and Kotex feminine products.
"Our Consumer Division knows the importance to us of Mrs. and Miss America," says Mr. Kimberly: "Because women make a habit of shopping newspaper ads for their household and personal products needs, we have always used newspaper advertising as a substantial part of our sales effort."

It's Autos on Parade at Annual NY Show

NEW YORK (AP)—The 11th International Automobile Show opened Saturday at the New York Coliseum with more than 500 models and a "zoo's who" of automotive power on display.

The emphasis was on glamor and styling, with a close link to ladies' fashions and men's sports and gimmicgs for all.

★ ★ ★

A number of automobiles made their debut at the show, which lasts through Saturday. Some are new production models being introduced to the public, but others are simply one-of-a-kind cars.

Among the innovations on display are Chevrolet's Electrovair II and a two-wheeled car kept upright by a gyroscope.

EXPERIMENTAL

The electric car is an experimental model using a Corvair body and chassis with a cruising range of 40 to 80 miles before a recharge.

The Gyro-X, designed by Alex Tremulis of Northridge, Calif., looks like a shiny red missile and runs on an 80-horsepower engine. Tremulis said he hopes public response to the car is enough to warrant limited research in the near future.

★ ★ ★

Nell Theobald, bitten by a lion at last year's show, modeled by a spider this time—the Fiat 850 Spider, a new production sports car being introduced at the show.

"No lions this year," she said.

But the show will have live cougars to accompany an automobile by the same name. Some of the other cars take their names straight from the jungle, sea and plains —Mustang, Barracuda, Impala, Jaguar, and Sting Ray.

AUTO SHOW OPENS — A two-wheeled Gyro-X, which boasts an 80-horsepower engine, (left), and a Fiat 850 Spider, a new production Italian sports car, are displayed in a press preview prior to last Saturday's official opening of the International Auto Show in New York. Nell Theobald, the model atop the Fiat, was attacked by a lion while posing with the animal at last year's auto show.

Bonn Now Friendlier to E. Germany

BONN, Germany (AP) —The West German government has begun a new policy of not being beastly to the Communist rulers of 17 million Germans east of the Elbe River.

It remains to be seen whether the policy will pay off.

★ ★ ★

The new Bonn government has no more affection than its predecessors had for Communist leader Walter Ulbricht. His Lenin-like beard, his Stalin-like policy and his responsibility for the Berlin wall have long made him the man West German politicians love to hate.

"It's not a question of being nice to people who aren't so nice themselves," explained Willy Brandt, the foreign minister. But Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger's men believe that the way to reunify Germany is to be friendlier with the Communist powers that have so far prevented it. There has been a lot of political double-talk in recent speeches, however.

BEATING AROUND BUSH

One West German editorialist spoke of "beating around the bush." Editors of the news weekly Der Spiegel accused Kiesinger in an interview of giving a "sphinx-like" answer on the issue. "You have to keep a lot of options open in politics," Kiesinger replied.

One editor suggested that a majority of legislators secretly favor official recognition of Ulbricht's government and of its border with Poland. These are major Communist demands on West Germany, and many West Germans would consider it treasonable to yield.

Kiesinger denied any such majority exists.

Kiesinger offers some concessions to Ulbricht's government. One that does not sound like much, but which carries a heavy emotional charge in Germany, is the fact that he sometimes refers to it as the DDR. These are the initials for German (Deutsche) Democratic Republic, its official title.

A few months ago anyone who used those initials without quotation marks ran the risk of being called a Communist or fellow traveller.

The official initials recognized in Bonn are SBZ for Soviet Occupied Zone. The expression raises the hackles of East Germans, Communist or not.

Government Conformity Hit

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Most government officials are slaves to tradition and powerless to help themselves, a high Department of Defense official has advised the Senate Special Subcommittee on Scientific Manpower Utilization.

★ ★ ★

While industrial executives have free rein to apply the most advanced techniques, such as systems analysis, to their problems, government officials often are bound by rigid systems set up 20 years ago, said Arthur W. Barber, deputy assistant secretary of defense.

This has produced "a cultural gap between the managers of our corporate society and the managers of state and local government," Barber said.

He cautioned the subcommittee, chaired by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., that he was speaking only for himself and not for the Defense Department.

★ ★ ★

The key to making change, Barber said, is effective local political institutions.

MUST BE CONVINCED

People, he urged, must be convinced that they have an important role to play in shaping their future.

★ ★ ★

The federal government might encourage local development, he suggested, by establishing a large annual award to the community with the best programs. The award might cover operating expenses of the program for five years.

Symphony Grant

MIDLAND (AP) — The Midland Symphony has received a grant from the State Council for the Arts which will enable the orchestra to present its first full-length, "Pearl Divers," on April 21.

Oswald: "How about devoting this week's articles to lessons on dummy play?"

Jim: "Good idea. I happen to have some hands that Eddie Kantar uses in his teachings in Los Angeles."

Oswald: "Let's use one that illustrates how declarer can count the number of cards held in an important suit, so he can change a guess into a sure thing?"

Jim: "This is one he uses in his advanced classes. South is declarer at a normal six no-trump contract. How would you go about playing it?"

JACOBY

Oswald: "So I'm an advanced pupil! I start by counting 11 sure winner plus a potential trick in hearts or diamonds. It either suit breaks I am home. If the jack of diamonds drops I am home and there will be a squeeze of some sort if one opponent is long in both those red suits. In any event it is up to me to work on the black suits first. I win the spade in my hand and lead the king of clubs."

Jim: "West wins and leads a second spade."

Oswald: "I cash two clubs and a spade. Are there any discards?"

Jim: "West discards a spade on the third club; East a club on the third spade."

Oswald: "What happens when I play three rounds of hearts?"

Jim: "West drops his last spade on the third heart."

Oswald: "I'm going to pass this course. West has shown up with exactly five spades, two hearts and two clubs. He must hold four diamonds. I play my ace and queen and if the jack doesn't drop I finesse against it with certainty of success."

You, South, hold: ♠KQ943 ♥A53 ♦Q10 ♣Q76

What do you respond?

A—One spade. This is a good hand but not strong enough for a new suit jump.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Tuesday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Some of your hopes, wishes are spotlighted. Friendly manner gains objective. Avoid trying to force issues. Compliment paid today by member of opposite sex causes pleasant glow.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): You may find it difficult to get started. Tendency exists to daydream . . . but once you are in motion goals are achieved. Avoid extravagance. You could be recipient of fine gift.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Friendly competition could lend sparkle to affairs. See persons, situations in realistic light. Avoid self deception. Quiet time tonight lends strength to convictions.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Check hidden resources. Look beyond surface indications. One close to you could discuss financial situation. Keynote independence, original approach. New contacts favored.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): Do more listening than asserting. Many seem intent on blocking your efforts. Ride with the tide. Don't rush, force or push. Best to finish rather than to start project.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Reading material could provide clue, result in profit. New approach to work succeed. Give attention to pets. Realize many details left hanging now require personal touch.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Opposite sex intrigued. Your personal magnetism rating moves up. Fine evening for night out. Follow through on hunch. Be confident. Young person due to offer fine advice.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Some of your pet theories may be subject to revision. Day to put into effect resolutions you made not too long ago. Stress versatility, willingness to experiment.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Gossip, rumors could get you involved in serious situation. Finances, future happiness might be affected. Know this . . . act in mature manner. Don't give in to childish impulses.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Breakthrough indicated. What you seek is available. Key is so obvious you tend to overlook it. Check sources close at hand. If thorough, you add to bank account.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Cycle continues high. Circumstances favor current efforts. Surprise indicated at home. One who opposed you extends hand of friendship. Accent gracious manner.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Battle tendency to brood. Look ahead instead of worrying about past. Shake off lethargy. Realize being alone is not same as being lonely. Cherish degree of privacy.

IF TUESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you are a determined individual who reveres facts. Would make fine reporter, teacher, researcher. Current cycle points to chance for added income.

★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for AQUARIUS, PISCES, ARIES. Special word to LIBRA: Welcome adventure. It could come your way today in somewhat of a rush.

Foe of Maddox to Talk in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Former Democratic Congressman Charles L. Weltner of Georgia will speak in Detroit April 12 at the 12th annual Freedom Fund dinner of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

★ ★ ★

Weltner declined to seek re-election for a third term in Congress when he refused to obey a party loyalty oath in support of a fellow Georgia Democrat, Gov. Lester Maddox.

Old Churchyard Is Vandalized

SPOTSWOOD, N.J. (AP) — Vandals attacked a historic Middlesex churchyard cemetery Sunday for the second time in two weeks, overturning 36 tombstones and demolishing some dating back to the revolutionary war.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Canon J. Perry Cox, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, estimated damages at the 211-year-old cemetery would run about $10,000.

Beehive Bomb Devastates Attacking Reds

KONTUM, Vietnam (NEA)—It happened without warning. There were some shots and explosions. And, in a dreadful instant, the American camp was being overrun by dozens of suicidal enemy soldiers.

The GIs were stunned.

It could have been a disaster.

But, fortunately, it wasn't.

At is happened, the U.S. unit, an artillery battery from the 101st Airborne, was prepared. At a preordained signal, the crew of a 105mm howitzer leveled their tube directly at the onrushing terrorists.

The gun fired once. Its report was almost ridiculously weak. It sounded more like a popping tire than the boom of an artillery piece.

But its effect was devastating. What was a wall of ranting enemy became a silent sea of writhing bodies.

LIFELESS HEAPS

Guerrilla troops grabbed at their faces and fell like rocks. Others gaped open-mouthed, groped helplessly with their hands, and dropped in lifeless heaps.

Shocked and confused, those guerrillas who survived turned and ran for the jungle in stark terror. Their attack was hopelessly mutilated. They never knew what hit them.

And what did hit them?

U.S. technology did.

In this case, the beehive bomb.

The beehive, more officially the XM-546, is a recently declassified, three-foot-long artillery shell which can kill with such eerie efficiency that it may well strangle the most fearsome strategem in Oriental warfare—the human wave assault.

The shell is simple enough, actually. A bit larger than a normal 105 round, but no more expensive to make, its payload consists of over 8,000 three-gram, inch-long darts.

The darts, or flechettes, are uniformly packed in a row of separate containers . . . and covered by a layer of shell casting iron.

In event of close-in fighting, the shell can be set to explode at less than five feet from the guntube. After blast, the 8,000 darts are hurled in a cone-shape direction with the velocity of rifle shots.

Color film speed rating soared to a new high, ASA 500, with the introduction of Anscochrome D/500 film at the Chicago photo dealers' trade show recently.

In addition, the new film can be pushed an extra stop—to ASA 1,000—by extending the first development time when the film is processed.

It is a remarkable color achievement, enabling photographers to shoot in color anything that has been limited heretofore only to fast black-and-white film.

The criterion in that field 'til now has been Kodak Tri-X film with an ASA rating of 400.

* * *

"The Anscochrome 500 film is a new emulsion formula, not the forced processing of an old color film," an Ansco official stressed.

"It is planned for daylight exposure at a high speed rating and for processing in the same chemicals at the same processing times and temperatures as previous Anscochrome films now available.

"Of course, any increase in speed is accompanied by a slight increase in grain. There is less here than might have been expected.

"To achieve ASA 1,000, the film is left in the first developer for 21 minutes at 75 degrees Fahrenheit instead of 12 minutes."

The film will be available in 35mm 20-exposure cassettes starting in April.

NORMAL EXPOSURE

A normal exposure in direct sunlight calls for 1/500th of a second at f/16.

A picture of a girl holding a candle near her face as the only source of light would be properly exposed at 1/30th at f/2.8.

This extreme range makes it possible to do hand-held color shooting with long telephoto lenses at faster speeds to minimize motion and to explore low-level illumination situations.

* * *

Other items introduced at the trade show included some new models in the somewhat neglected 2¼ x 2¼-inch twin-lens reflex camera field.

MICRO-PRISM FEATURED

One is a Rolleiflex 28F/120-220 camera which supersedes the standard model.

With an f/2.8 lens, it features a micro-prism focusing screen and a built-in 220 film transport mechanism.

Another camera which accepts either 120 roll film (for 12 exposures, each 2¼-inch square) or 220 film (for 24 exposures) is the Yashica 24.

It has an 80mm f/3.5 taking lens but an f/2.8 viewing lens for easier focusing. The Yashica 12 is a similar camera but it accepts only 120 roll film.

Latin Envoys Enjoy LBJ Ranch Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's weekend wooing of Latin diplomats in his native Texas seems to have achieved its limited goal-generating increased good will for the United States.

Comments from the President's guests—29 Latin-American envoys and their ladies—were enthusiastic.

★ ★ ★

"A thrill to come here," said Dr. Rodrigo Jacome, ambassador from Ecuador to the Organization of American States. He termed it a "well-organized weekend" and voiced only one regret: that he did not have more time for sight-seeing and other tourist-type activities.

Mrs. Celso Pastor, wife of the ambassador from Peru and sister of that country's president, fairly bubbled as she summed up her feelings: "The most unblemished weekend I've ever had. The President tried to show us a part of his wonderful state and we're so grateful."

'SPECIAL SIGNIFICANCE'

The ambassadors said in a statement upon their departure from Texas that Johnson's initiative in inviting them to the ranch was of "special significance" coming near the April 12-14 meeting of American chiefs of state Punta del Este, Uruguay.

They predicted the forthcoming conference would contribute to the deepening and speeding up of continental solidarity.

The ambassadors said that from the moment of their arrival to the moment of departure each had a complete sensation that their visit was like being in their own homes.

Some of the diplomats were particularly pleased because they had expected Johnson to try to sell them "a bill of goods." In his statements to them, he never even mentioned the hemisphere summit or, in any other way, put pressure on them, they said.

NO SERIOUS DISCUSSIONS

The diplomats, who flew to Texas with the President and Mrs. Johnson Friday night, returned to Washington aboard the presidential jet late Sunday. The Johnsons returned later on a smaller craft.

The Texas sojourn produced no serious discussions of hemisphere problems.

★ ★ ★

White House sources said today this was in keeping with Johnson's basic plan for the weekend—to seek a closer personal relationship with Latin ambassadors based in Washington. They said he never intended to engage in policy talks in Texas.

With scant advance notice, the President and Mrs. Johnson joined the diplomats for the final public event on the weekend program—attendance at a Roman Catholic Mass in the historic San Fernando Cathedral in San Antonio. Built in 1738, the church serves as the tomb for the defenders of the Alamo.

SERMON ON VIETNAM

Archbishop Robert E. Lucey, an old Johnson friend who is considered a liberal in his approach to social reforms, asserted in his sermon that American intervention in the Vietnam war is morally justified and a moral national duty.

The 75-year-old archbishop also defended Johnson's peace efforts and took an off-the-cuff swipe at Vietnam dissenters.

★ ★ ★

Said the cleric: "If anyone thinks that the President of the United States has not made every effort, sincerely and honestly, to bring our adversaries to the peace table and to terminate the war on terms fair and honorable to both sides, he should study current events."

BACK HOME — Buel Ray Wortham of North Little Rock, Ark., walks from an airport terminal in New York Saturday after his arrival from Europe. Released by the Russians March 21, he had been sentenced to three years in prison for changing money illegally and stealing a statue.

Mackinac Island Vote Today

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Residents of this tiny resort island at the head of Lake Huron go to the polls today in an election reflecting a long-smoldering feud between islanders and Morla Re-Armament.

The mayoral race pits Eugene (Chester) O'Brien, running as a self-proclaimed anti-MR-A candidate, against incumbent Mayor Ray Smith.

★ ★ ★

O'Brien, a 75-year-old retired carriage driver and railroader, is forthright when asked about his political position.

★ ★ ★

"I'm running against MR-A, that's what," he says. "They're taking over the island. Mackinac Island should belong to the islanders."

MORAL REBIRTH

MR-A a worldwide anti-Communist organization which stresses moral rebirth, especially among youth, was founded in 1921 by the late Frank N.D. Buckman, a Lutheran minister.

★ ★ ★

The organization first purchased property on the island in the 1940s, but turned its 21-acre holdings, valued at $6.5 million, over to Mackinac College, an institution founded by MR-A backers last year.

MR-A's ideology advocates adherence to and practice of four principles: "Absolute honesty, absolute purity, absolute unselfishness and absolute love."

★ ★ ★

"I can't say I'm for 'em, but I'm certainly not against 'em," says Smith, 76, a veteran of 20 years in island government and boiler room attendant at MR-A headquarters. "They are a group of dedicated people."

NOT DISCOURAGED

Smith said he doesn't openly court the MR-A vote, but he says he doesn't discourage it either.

O'Brien, like his father and grandfather before him, was born and reared on the island. He charges that the college is buying up property on the island and taking it off the tax rolls.

★ ★ ★

"It's strangulation by taxation, that's what," says O'Brien.

The college, tax exempt as an educational institution, pays $20,000 to the island government as a donation. MR-A instituted the original practice. But O'Brien argues the property is worth far more in actual taxes.

THREE PARCELS

Wilbur Chaffee, a spokesman for the college, said only three parcels of land, totaling less than one acre, have been purchased by the college. He said it would be used for faculty housing and kept on the tax rolls.

Chaffee says the college has invited islanders to use its facilities and points out that it employs 50 islanders.

"Our payroll goes into the island economy," he said, adding that the college has spurred establishment of a bank and supplies physical education instructors to the island school.

★ ★ ★

But islanders long have resented "being improved by changes they don't want. They prefer the rustic qualities of the summer resort, including the ban on motor vehicles.

Jenison Man Dies in River

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — John Vineyard, 28, Jenison, drowned yesterday when the motorboat he was riding in overturned in the Grand River offshore from Riverview Park.

★ ★ ★

Edward Hager, who was operating the boat, made it safely in to shore, but Vineyard went down before he could be rescued, police said.

★ ★ ★

Police said the search for the body would be resumed today.

Warren to Talk

DETROIT (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren of the U.S. Supreme Court will deliver the keynote address Saturday night to climax the two-day celebration of the 75th anniversary of the Detroit College of Law. A panel discussion Saturday afternoon on "Free Press and Fair Trial" will feature Martin S. Hayden, editor of the Detroit News; F. Lee Bailey, an attorney; Judge George Edwards and Judge Wade H. McCree Jr., both of the Sixth District U.S. Court of Appeals; and Vincent T. Wasilewski, president of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Crossing Death of Teen Probed

CASSOPOLIS (UPI) — Sheriffs deputies today were investigating the death of a teen-aged boy apparently run over by a train early yesterday while on his way home from a friend's house.

Cass County sheriff's deputies identified the victim as Donald Raymond Morse, 18, the twin son of Mr. and Mrs. William Morse of rural Cassopolis.

Police said the boy's twin brother, Dean, and a friend, Jerry Lechlitner, found the body between the rails on a Grand Trunk crossing three miles southwest of Cassopolis yesterday afternoon.

It was not immediately known how the accident happened, police said.

★ ★ ★

The last time Morse was seen was when he left the home of a friend early yesterday to walk home.

Marine Sentence OK'd

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — Maj. Gen. Herman Nickerson Jr., commander of the U.S. 1st Marine Division, has approved a life sentence given Cpl. Stanley J. Luczko, 20, of Gardner, Mass., for the murder of a Vietnamese man and woman during a patrol.

Two other Marines also were convicted in connection with the killings. Nickerson reduced the life sentence given one of them, Pfc. Charles W. Keenan of Nitro, W.Va., to 25 years at hard labor and approved a 10-year sentence given Pfc. Ronald A. Piatkowski, 18, of Trenton, N.J.

★ ★ ★

All three sentences must be reviewed by the U.S. Navy Board of Review in Washington and the secretary of the Navy.

The killings occurred last Sept. 22 during a patrol led by Luczko near the Marine base at Chu Lai, 350 miles north of Saigon.

COURT-MARTIAL

A general court-martial convicted Luczko of one count of premeditated murder, acquitted him on a second such count and acquitted him of a charge of mutilating the man's corpse.

His sentence included forfeiture of all pay and allowances, reduction to the ranks of private and a dishonorable discharge. Nickerson confirmed these penalties also.

★ ★ ★

If the life sentence is confirmed in Washington, Luczko can apply for parole in 15 years.

Trade Fairly Active

Stock Market Catches Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market caught its losses early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

Losers still outnumbered gainers at a ratio of about 3-to-1 but better prices for some of the blue chips which compose the popular averages reduced the loss in the Dow Jones industrial average.

★ ★ ★

The Dow Industrials at noon were off 3.79 at 862.19.

An early decline of 6.63 put the average slightly below the heralded support level of 860. Technical support was mustered there and the decline in the average was reduced.

★ ★ ★

Losses still ran from fractions to 1 to 2 points among blue chips and to several points among higher-priced glamor issues.

CUTBACKS, CONCERN

Auto industry cutbacks and concern over the impact of lower first quarter earnings on stock prices were cited as factors.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 2.1 at 319.3 with industrials off 2.2, ails off 2.1 and utiilties off .6.

★ ★ ★

Prices were generally lower on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was fairly active. Molybdenum lost 3. Down about a point were Louisiana Land, Gulf American Corp. and AMK Corp. Up about a point were Kleer Vu Industries and Radiation Inc. Fractional losses were taken by Pacific Petroleums warrants, Goldfield, Astrodata and Nestle le Mur.

'68 Car Styling Is Previewed

By the Associated Press

DETROIT (AP)—Details leaking from behind the auto industry's chrome curtain indicate next year's cars generally will be longer, lower, sportier—and priced $100 or so higher.

But most major styling changes in 1968 models will be on the intermediate models, Newsweek magazine disclosed Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Supporting this contention was Robert W. Irvin, Detroit News automotive writer, who reported that "Generally, standard-sized cars will get face-lifts."

The magazine said standard-sized Chevrolets, Fords, Mercurys and Dodges will reflect few changes from the 1967 models.

$125 INCREASE

Newsweek said additional safety equipment and exhaust pollution control devices, required by the government, plus increased costs of labor and materials indicate "the average price increase on '68 models is almost certain to total $125."

Estimates of a $60 price hike for next year "sound low and $100 seems entirely possible," said Victor G. Raviolo, American Motors Corp. group vice president for automotive products.

★ ★ ★

Stuart Perkins, president of Volkwagen of America Inc., said, "By doing simple arithmetic you can see that the costs of the air pollution control system, more seat belts and other things are pushing close to $100 price increase."

★ ★ ★

Chevolet's rear-engined Corvair, "despite rumors to the contrary, will remain very much in the GM lineup," Newsweek said.

NEW MODELS

The magazine said American Motors will build two new cars, the Javelin, a four-passenger sports car priced at about $2,400, and a two-passenger fastback sports car patterned after its AMX "idea car."

The published reports say Lincoln will produce a new model. Terming it a "baby Lincoln," Newsweek said the car will feature a squared, Rolls Royce-type grille and a spare tire mounted straight up at the rear in classic car style. The magazine said it will be priced at about $5,500.

★ ★ ★

Ford will produce a new Fairlane with length increased to 201 inches from this year's 197, Irvin reported. One model will be a torpedo-shaped fastback.

All-new Pontiac Tempests and Oldsmobile F-85's are in the works, the Detroit writer said.

News in Brief

Vallie Tiggs, 28, of 504 Central was arrested early Sunday in connection with a breaking and entering at the L and L Grill, 499 S. Saginaw, according to Pontiac police. Officers said they found Tiggs leaning over a garbage can containing suspected loot, including cigars, hot dogs, chili, shrimp and soup.

Economic Climate Is Uneven in April

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Apalyst

NEW YORK (AP) — April is the cruelest month, the poet said, and already some evidence of this has been provided by April fool jokes and more support is upcoming April 17, the deadline for income tax payments.

CUNNIFF

The showers seem also to be drawing some flowers from the dead land, risking death by frostbite perhaps in the unpredictable economic climate. April will be like that: a bit of good and a bit bad.

★ ★ ★

Some sap seems to flow again through that dried and shriveled husk called consumer confidence. There seems some indication now that nourishment is being provided by those swollen savings accounts.

Evidence that the consumer might become more active in the market comes from the University of Michigan one of the groups which try to give a numerical value to buyer impulses — impulses which have long confused both psychiatrist and economist.

WIGGLING UPWARD

The latest Michigan survey shows the confidence line, which had dropped steadily for a year or so, has begun to wiggle upward a bit. Hopefully it will continue to strain that way.

Reflecting this hope, General Motors officials say there are now definite signs of a spring upturn in automobile sales. "There is a rising reservoir of consumer cash reserves for needed and wanted purchases," an official said.

★ ★ ★

This statement sounds very good until the damp cloud of memory obscures the sunny outlook, reminding the listener that the statement is similar to what auto officials have said weekly throughout the automotive sales drought.

This is the critical month for the automotive industry. If the consumer is not "strongly tempted," as GM officials hope he will be, then this could really be a horrible year for autos.

BIG INVENTORIES

Already car dealers begin April with 1.5 million vehicles, or enough for the next two months without additional production. Such inventories, and the realization that they must be worked off, awe economic analysts.

There is a more positive direction to the recent turn in interest rates. Most money men feel rates will continue to fall. Some even foresee another drop this month in the prime interest rate, a rate basic to all others.

★ ★ ★

But there is evidence also that the rising thermometer might also measure a rise in some consumer prices. And rising prices, tempers and temperatures is the formula for a long hot summer for the housewife and those near her when she explodes.

Jobs will continue to be plentiful during April, despite layoffs in spots and a possible further reduction in the number of overtime hours available.

NOT AS PRECISE

Estimates early in April of the direction the stock market might take are not nearly as precise. Neither are the forecasts clearly on the side of the bulls, as some people seem to think. Many advisors, including some to the big institutional investors, still see mixed weather. Some even are suspicious.

One economic consultant who has forecast a renewal of the economic expansion during the late months of 1967 now foresees, as April begins, a rather difficult climb through 1968. In other words, no boom.

★ ★ ★

As said the poet, who is T. S. Eliot, April mixes "memory and desire." Grim memories of inflation are making the consumer, producer, analysts a bit cautious in their desires.

Pontiac Div. Promotes 4 in the Engineering Dept.

Pontiac Motor Division has promoted four men within its engineering department, Chief Engineer Stephen P. Malone announced today.

★ ★ ★

Herman S. Kaiser has been named executive assistant chief engineer. His responsibilities will include chassis, power train, body, electrical, heating and ventilation, styling, administration, design drafting rooms and materials.

William T. Collins Jr. has been promoted to assistant chief engineer in charge of body and styling.

Hulki Aldikacti becomes an experimental engineer and Norman L. Cheal a production engineer.

★ ★ ★

All promotions are effective immediately.

Kaiser, 1337 Kirkway, Bloomfield Township, joined Pontiac Motor Division in 1928 as a chassis designer.

KAISER

COLLINS

He became body engineer in 1955, assistant chief engineer for body in 1961 and assistant chief engineer in charge of planning, programming, cost, heating, air conditioning and electrical equipment in 1965.

A graduate of Lehigh University, Collins joined Pontiac Motor Division in 1954 as a product engineer.

★ ★ ★

He subsequently moved to the position of project engineer, senior project engineer for advance design, assistant advance design engineer and advance design engineer.

Collins, 312 Linden, Birmingham, was promoted to production engineer last year.

Aldikacti, 2915 Peterboro, West Bloomfield Township, received his bachelor's degree from Robert College in Istanbul, Turkey, and master's from Michigan State University.

Most recently as assistant experimental engineer, Aldikacti came to the division in 1956 as an advance design engineer.

★ ★ ★

Cheal, 4459 Barchester, Bloomfield Township, has been with Pontiac Motor Division since 1947. A graduate of Michigan State University, he joined the firm as a junior graphic engineer.

Progress Seen in Try to Avert NY Paper Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Progress was reported today in efforts to prevent a strike in the newspaper industry here.

Optimism rose following a series of negotiations that continued past the midnight expiration of contracts between five of the city's major newspapers and 10 unions.

★ ★ ★

Theodore W. Kheel, chief mediator in the negotiations, said at 3:10 a.m.: "There will obviously not be any strike (today) but the situation is still not settled." Officers of all 10 unions emerged from a meeting Thursday night and announced a settlement was possible.

Kheel made the no-strike statement as negotiations between representatives of the publishers and the deliverers union were recessed until tonight.

★ ★ ★

He said "good progress" had been made on some issues involving the deliverers.

Police Press Probe in State Girl's Slaying

Grand Ledge police said they questioned almost 40 persons in the slaying of Ronda Cypher, a fifth-grader.

★ ★ ★

Ronda's body was found Saturday night, lying in shallow water of the Grand River only 350 feet behind her grandmother's house.

ASSAULTED, STRANGLED

A potato chip bag and one of her shoes was found between two houses near her grandmother's home.

★ ★ ★

Police said an autopsy showed she was assaulted and strangled.

★ ★ ★

She was one of three children of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cypher. Cypher, a General Motors employe, is a former Eaton Rapids police chief and former assistant police chief in Grand Ledge, a city of 6,000 just west of Lansing.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) I am semi-retired and hold American Can, American Hospital, Santa Fe, Tenneco and Flying Tiger. Should I exchange some of these for better income? What is going on in Flying Tiger which I bought at nine?" B. B.

A) You have a sound list of stocks, well-suited for the most part to your objective. American Hospital Supply affords a relatively low yield but it is your strongest growth stock and should be held for inflation protection, unless more income is an actual requirement. In that event only, you might switch it into CIT Financial.

★ ★ ★

Your purchase of Flying Tiger was an example of perfect timing. The company is a cargo carrier very heavily dependent on military business. The Vietnam war has been a major factor in lifting earnings sharply. The shares on that account have been a market favorite. No cash dividends are paid and I believe the stock would be vulnerable to any genuine peace talks. In your particular circumstances — and this is no general recommendation — I would take my big profit and invest in Interstate Bakeries and General Motors.

★ ★ ★

Q) "The time never seems right for me to start buying stocks. Could you comment on this?" I. J.

A) If you have a good savings backlog, sufficient insurance protection and the temperament to endure future price declines — I advise you at least to get your feet a little wet right now. Don't try for perfect timing, since few people are emotionally capable of buying when the market is near a bottom.

The best course is to invest moderately, leaving always a good reserve to take advantage of future buying opportunities. As a starter I suggest Avon Products which could have been bought in any year of the past decade and sold in the succeeding year at a higher price.

Baker Snaps Stereotype of a Senator from South

WASHINGTON (NEA — The stereotpye of a southern senator still is of a blustering sort who stands for good bourbon and southern sovereignty and has a name which sound something like Wingate P. Phoghorn.

Fred Allen, remember, used to trip down Allen's Alley for chats with a Senator Claghorn.

Red Skelton has the caricature of a San Fernando Red, the gray-goateed politician who begins speeches, "Mah friends, and yo' arh mah friends, 'cause nobody's gonna tell me who mah friends arh."

The image makes Howard Baker laugh. He is the new senator from Tennessee, a moderate Republican no less.

★ ★ ★

He chuckles at occasional Yankees who ask his stand on civil rights in one breath and make prejudicial statements about southern politicians in another.

SIMILES OUT

"I don't even use southern similes," the former Knoxville attorney said, "and I'm from the hill country of east Tennessee." He was asked for an example.

"Well, I might have described my first day in the chamber as being as nervous as a long-tailed cat in a room full of rocking chairs, but I'm just not the type.

"Rather," he added wryly, "I was more eager than a hound dog in a meat factory.

★ ★ ★

Howard H. Baker Jr., 41 serving in his first elected office, has quickly destroyed any mint julep or coonskin cap image in his few months in Washington.

A stylish dresser, his manner is direct and engrossing and his rhetoric is crisp and refreshing.

In the company of noted Republicans at capital functions, Baker has shone brightly to the total surprise of many who were ready for just another new southern politician.

In short, many here already believe Baker to be the brightest political figure to come out of the South in years.

★ ★ ★

"This man is going to do quite well," said Rep. Charles Halleck (Ind.), former House Republican leader. "Just look at what he did in Tennessee."

DEFEATED CLEMENT

Last November Baker defeated two-time Democratic Gov. Frank Clement by 100,000 votes.

Clement had beaten incumbent Ross Bass in the primary while in the Republican Senate primary Baker was thumping Kenneth Roberts, who managed Barry Goldwater's Tennessee campaign in 1964.

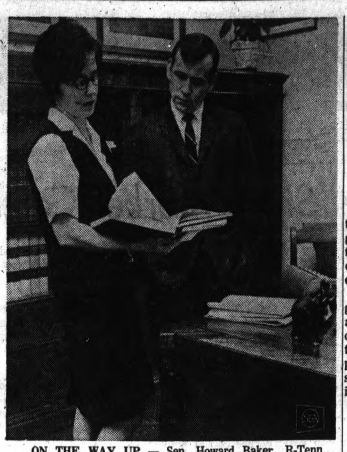
Baker got buried in the Lyndon Johnson landslide in his only other try for public office, when he ran for the unexpired term of the late Sen. Estes Kefauver and lost to Bass.

★ ★ ★

But until last November, Tennessee had never before elected a Republican senator.

POLITICAL HERITAGE

"I suppose a public career for me was inevitable," Baker said. Both his Republican father and mother served in the House of Representatives.



ON THE WAY UP — Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., shown here with personal secretary Peggy Rapking, is one of the young men on the move in Washington. Although very much his own man, Sen. Baker has the added asset of being Illinois Sen. Everett Dirksen's son-in-law.

Magnetic Field Output Viewed

Explosives Key Part of Laboratory Tests

By Science Service

CHICAGO—Magneitc fields 10 to 100 times greater than any generated by previous conventional methods are now being created in laboratories using explosives.

The principles involved in generating magnetic fields of a million gauss were first developed for nuclear weapons technology — precision explosives like those used for assembling fission bomb triggers in a few millionths of a second.

This is a feat roughly equivalent to putting together a jig-saw puzzle with high explosives.

In the bomb, an inward-driven explosion assembles a critical mass of uranium from smaller pieces; in generating a magnetic field, the same precise control of implosion is employed.

During the course of the fleetingly brief implosion, tremendous amounts of chemical energy are converted directly into electromagnetic field energy, considerably in excess of even the most powerful laser.

At the opening session of the American Physical Society meeting, Dr. Thomas Erber of Illinois Institute of Technology outlined the "truly extraordinary conditions" that can be achieved during implosions.

As leader of a team of scientists working in this field at IIT, Dr. Erber reported that the new, powerful techniques put in reach a "whole host of basic experimental investigations" previously considered impractical.

Since, in each experiment, an entire miniaturized laboratory is in effect blown up, a good deal of research is required to plan and fabricate each shot configuration. The overall approach, Dr. Erber noted, is very similar to planning the payload of a scientific rocket experiment.

Dr. Erber said current work is focused on learning more about what is called the "flux compression" process itself. One problem is developing means for reliably measuring magnetic fields with intensities 10 to 100 times greater than any generated by elder methods.

'Nongoal' Is Seen After Apollo

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — The fancy "national goal" status of the the Apollo lunar program would be more than it's worth for space programs beyond the moon, says the President's Science Advisory Committee.

Maddeningly tight schedules, starvation budgets for unrelated projects and recently the feeling by some that "now that we've sunk all that money in it we're in too deep to slow down," have caused a number of second thoughts about whether national goals are the way to do things.

Now these thoughts have some heavy official weight behind them. PSAC, looking far beyond the Apollo program, has reported to President Johnson that it rejects the idea of a "single new dominating goal" in space. PSAC, while not the last word, is at least an influential voice.

While setting a national goal does have a "focusing and galvanizing effect on the program," said Dr. Franklin A. Long of Cornell University, chairman of the Committee's Space Science and Space Technology Panels. "there is a tendency to freeze technology at the point at which you start your program."

Bad News for Detroit Tiger Foes—Kaline Healthy Again

CHAMPS AGAIN WIN—Sunday afternoon's National Hockey League contest in New York was a familiar story. Denis DeJordy (center of top photo), a star netminder for the champion Chicago Black Hawks, deflects wide of the net a shot by New York's Bob Nevin (8) as the Hawks' Pierre Pilotte watches. NHL scoring champion Stan Mikita (21) watches teammate Ken Hodge's (not in photo) shot bounce into the net (right photo) during an 8-0 victory. Jim Neilson (15) and goalie Cesare Maniago can't prevent the goal. The Black Hawks won their first regular season title by a comfortable 17 points.

Flint Northern Wins Relays

Central Hurdler Shatters Two Records

Saginaw Valley Conference teams continue to dominate the state's high school track scene and a young man from Pontiac Central keeps adding to his already long list of achievements.

Flint Northern, second to Flint Central in the Huron Relays last week, piled up 20½ points Saturday night to capture the fourth annual Lansing State Journal-Spartan relays at East Lansing.

Flint Central took the runner-up spot with 17 points and Pontiac Central's Chiefs wound up third with 16½, duplicating their finish in the Huron races.

But the star of the track show was Pontiac's Bill Tipton, a soft-spoken young man who leaves records wherever he goes.

The 5-10 Tipton captured the 70-yard highs and lows and turned in meet records in both events.

ERASES MARKS

Tipton's time of 8.4 seconds in the highs erased the former meet mark of 8.5 by Charlie Davis of Lansing Sexton last year. His 7.9 in the lows wiped out the old mark of 8 seconds flat jointly set by Dick Robinson of Mount Clemens and Al Renick of Flint Southwestern last year.

Tipton will head for the Central Michigan Class A relays this weekend in a bid for more records.

Outfield Star Sparks Win Over Chicago

Shines at Bat, Running Bases, With Glove; Joe Sparma Hit Hard

By WHITEY SAWYER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SARASOTA, Fla. — There's bad news for opponents of the Detroit Tigers.

Al Kaline is hale and healthy and playing like a million dollars.

The 32-year-old slugging outfielder got three hits, drove in two runs, stole a base and made a great catch in Sunday's 7-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

★ ★ ★

"I really felt good," he said. He said it was the first time in years he hadn't been playing with some sort of injury.

He said he is looking forward to the American League opener next week. "You've got to get yourself going mentally," Kaline said, "and you've got to get going now."

He raised his average to .310 and has hit two home runs and has seven RBIs in Grapefruit League play.

OUT OF ACTION

Gates Brown missed the game and will be out a few days with an injured foot. He was on crutches Sunday after bouncing a foul tip off his right foot in Saturday's game.

"There's nothing broken," Brown said, "but it's a bad bruise and it's mighty sore."

Brown had been playing left field in place of Willie Horton. Horton has a bursitis condition in the tendon just above his right heel and has been out several days.

Joe Sparma started Sunday's game and worked six innings, giving up four runs on eight hits.

"Never on Sunday," he joked afterwards, "I never have a good fast ball on Sunday. I thought I got the breaking ball over well, however."

NOT SHARP

Tiger Manager Mayor Smith said, "Joe wasn't anything as sharp as he has been, but I don't think it's anything to worry about."

Larry Sherry relieved and went the final three innings, allowing one run on two hits.

Chicago got a run off Sparma in the first and another in the second.

Detroit went ahead in the fourth with three runs on a walk to Don Wert, a perfect base hit bunt by Kaline, a single by Northrup, a double steal by Kaline and Northrup and infield outs by Bill Freehan and Dick Tracewski.

★ ★ ★

Chicago tied it in the fourth and went one up in the fifth, but Detroit won it in the seventh with four runs.

Norm Cash was walked, Jake Wood, Dick McAuliffe and Wert singled and Kaline doubled.

Smoky Burgess lifted a long drive to open the Chicago ninth but Kaline made a running catch at the fence. The White Sox managed just one run off Sherry in the ninth as a rally fell short.

The Tigers play the Cincinnati Reds at Tampa today.

Ex-Soap Box Loser Wins Atlanta '500'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Cale Yarborough has come a long way from defeat in the Soap Box Derby to victory in the Atlanta 500.

The 27-year-old Yarborough, who led nearly all the way in winning his first major stock car race Sunday, says he started racing at the age of 11 in the Soap Box Derby at Darlington, S. C.

★ ★ ★

"I lost," he said.

He didn't lose Sunday. The pole-sitter from Charlotte, N. C. withstood brief challenges by Richard Petty of Randleman, N. C., and Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., and led for 302 of the 334 laps at the 1½ mile, high-banked Atlanta International Raceway. He had no serious challenge for the last 137 laps.

"That Fairlane was really running good," he said of his 1967 Ford. "Nobody out there could run with it."

ALL OUT

Yarborough said he planned to go all out since he won the pole. In winning it last Wednesday, he narrowly escaped serious injury when Curtis Turner's car overturned and flipped over the front of Yarborough's car on a practice run. Turner was unhurt but his car was wrecked.

The eighth annual race was free of major accidents but six caution flags slowed the time to 131.078 miles per hour.

Yarborough collected $20,385 in first prize money. Finishing second was Dick Hutcherson of Camden, S. C., in a 1967 Ford and Buddy Baker of Charlotte was third in a 1967 Dodge. Charles Glotzbach of Georgetown, Ind., was fourth in a 1965 Dodge and Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N. C., was fifth in a 1967 Dodge.

Local Players Reach Finals

Table Tennis Titles Decided Yesterday

A pair of local players dropped close decisions yesterday in the finals of the Oakland County Table Tennis Championships at Pontiac Central High School.

Robert Quinn of Royal Oak captured the men's open title by trimming Pontiac's Jerry Saunders, 21-17, 21-17, 13-21 and 21-18.

Perc Secord, the local leader in men's senior singles, lost to Robert Holmes of Pleasant Ridge, 21-15, 20-22, 21-18, 21-18, 18-21 and 21-18.

Defending open titlist Ben Baker was defeated in the quarter-finals, but he came back to post a consolation victory over Howard Heckman, 22-20 and 21-18.

★ ★ ★

In the boys' novice (beginners), Byron Gray defeated Elmer Klem, 21-14 and 18-16, and in the men's novice, Terrence Fraser downed Jay Ahearn, 21-18, 21-19, 17-21 and 21-19.

DOUBLES CHAMPS

Quinn and John Wettlaufer downed Sid Britton and Arnold Hoffman in men's doubles, 21-18 and 19-16.

★ ★ ★

Shirley Hepler took the women's singles crown by trimming Loretta Ruiz, 21-15, 20-22, 21-17, 18-21, 21-18 and 21-19.

Heckman and Mrs. Ruiz combined to take the mixed doubles title.

Canadiens Win, 4-2

Wings Fight to Finish

DETROIT (AP) — It was a fight to the finish for the Detroit Red Wings.

Officials called 45 minutes in penalties — the Wings took the brunt, with 31 minutes — in Detroit's free-swinging National Hockey League finale Sunday night against Montreal.

By doing less fighting and more scoring the Canadiens whipped Detroit 4-2, clinching second place in the NHL with an 11-game unbeaten streak.

The Canadiens, defending Stanley Cup champions, will begin their playoff defense Thursday at home against the New York Rangers. Chicago faces Toronto at home in the other semifinal opener.

LOST CHANCE

New York lost its chance of finishing third when Chicago romped to an 8-0 victory Sunday in a nationally televised game. Toronto grabbed third place with a weekend sweep, 5-2 over Boston on Sunday and 5-1 over New York on Saturday. The Canadiens beat the Black Hawks 5-4 Saturday.

Detroit had nothing to gain or lose in the contest. The Wings ended the season in fifth place, out of the playoffs for the first time in five years.

★ ★ ★

The Wings wound up the season with only 58 points in total scoring, tying them with 1958-59 for least points in a season.

Bryan Watson engaged in an elbow-to-elbow slugging match with Montreal's John Ferguson with only 48 seconds gone in the second period.

"It was a dandy," said Watson. He was penalized six minutes and another Wings defenseman, Gary Bergman, got a 10-minute misconduct penalty for protesting the action against Watson.

"I thought Ferguson was your buddy," forward Bruce MacGregor told Watson, referring to an off-the-ice friendship with the Montreal player.

"He's still my buddy," Watson replied.

"With buddies like that," said MacGregor, "who needs enemies?"

The teams packed all their action into the first two periods, scoring the six goals and absorbing all the penalties. Officials stopped the game five times to halt fights.

Bobby Rousseau opened the scoring at 12:15 of the first period, cracking a power play goal past Detroit netminder Roger Crozier. The Wings were two men short and the Canadiens one shy at the time.

Henri Richard gave Montreal a 2-0 lead in the first period.

MacGregor notched his 28th goal of the season, with assists from Gordie Howe and Norm Ullman, at 6:33 of the second period. But Rochefort clicked at 9:49 and Jean Beliveau followed with a goal at 11:10.

★ ★ ★

Dean Prentice scored Detroit's final goal — his 23rd this season —at 15:39.

Chicago's victory over New York made the Black Hawks the highest scoring team in NHL history. Their eight goals gave them 264, breaking the record of 259 set by Montreal five years ago.

Mikita Calls for Replay

NEW YORK (AP)—Stan Mikita, the slick center of Chicago's record-smashing Scooter Line, will have to wait until sometime today to find out if he has broken teammate Bobby Hull's National Hockey League point scoring record of 97.

Mikita picked up two assists in the Black Hawks' 8-0 season-ending victory over New York Sunday and won his third NHL scoring title, finishing with 97 points. But he thought he should have had 98.

★ ★ ★

Doug Mohns, who scored Chicago's seventh goal in the rout, and Mikita both argued that the smallish center should have had an assist on the third period goal. Official scorer Lamie Crovat said no.

The goal, Mohn's 25th, came at 2:14 with assists credited to Ken Wharram and Ed Van Impe.

Mikita talked to the scorer and asked that he look at a video tape replay of the goal. Crovat agreed. "It's only fair," the official scorer, said "I wouldn't change my decision until I had a chance to see the films."

Decision Near on Clay Fight

Detroit Group Offers Champion $250,000

DETROIT (AP) — A decision on a proposed heavyweight title bout between champion Cassius Clay and former two-time champion Floyd Patterson apparently is in the hands of Clay backers.

E&J Sports Club of Detroit offered Clay $250,000 to meet Patterson at Detroit's Olympia Stadium April 25, the group's attorney, Eddie D. Smith said Sunday night.

★ ★ ★

Clay, who prefers to be known as Muhammad Ali, is to be inducted into the Army April 28.

Smith and Michigan Boxing Commissioner Chuck Davey said Friday they were almost certain that Clay would accept the offer. However, there has been no word since.

DEADLINE SET

Nick Londes, who runs Olympia, said E&J would have to come up with the money by Monday before anything would be signed.

Micki King Qualifies

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Pontiac's Micki King, representing the United States' Air Force, qualified for this summer's Pan-American Games by finishing second Sunday in the National three-meter diving championships.

The Pontiac Central and University of Michigan graduate was runner-up to Sue Gossick of Tarzania, Calif., at the Amateur Athletic Union championships that saw only one 1966 champion repeat in the four completed events.

But one of those eliminated, Chuck Knorr of Columbus, Ohio, who failed in the one-meter dive Sunday, has another chance. He also is defending champion in platform diving, the final event to be held. It will take place Wednesday.

Miss Gossick was the only defending champion to make it. She won the women's three-meter final with 416.40 points.

Keith Russell of Arizona State University, won the men's three-meter while Lesley Bush, a 1964 Olympic champion from Princeton, N.J., took the women's one-meter.

Bernie Wrightson of Phoenix, Ariz., was defending champion in men's three-meter. Joel O'Connell of Santa Clara, Calif., was the 1966 women's one-meter winner.

Luis Nino de Rivera, a junior at Indiana University, won the men's one-meter Sunday. Bloomington, Ind., which de Rivera represented, won the first four places and also took seventh, 11th and 12th. There is no men's one-meter dive in the Pan American Games.

Patsy Willard of Phoenix is defending champion in women's platform diving. She puts her title on the line Wednesday afternoon.

Grandma Captures 4th Archery Title

DETROIT (AP) — Margaret Tillberry, a 51-year-old grandmother from Springfield, Ohio, won her fourth women's open championship Sunday in the ninth annual International Indoor Archery Tournament at Cobo Hall.

Mrs. Tillberry, who won titles in 1961, 1963 and 1964, fired a 276 of a possible 300 Sunday to bring her two-day total to 568. Evelyn Goodrich of Filnt finished one point back.

Jim Pickering of Salt Lake City, who won in 1963, fired rounds of 299 and 297 to post a 596 score in winning the men's open.

The 28-year-old welder captured the top tournament prize of $1,500.

Bob Brewer of Dearborn Heights, who fired a perfect 300 score in the opening round Saturday, trailed off to 289 Sunday and wound up fourth.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Dam Pattie, the Australian yacht likely to challenge for the Americas cup, is scheduled to spend several weeks in American waters before the series of races against the United States begins in September.

Softball Plans Topic Tonight

The Waterford Township Recreation Department has its initial elementary softball meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in Room 109 Schoolcraft School.

Program director Bill Wood requests all schools entering either boys' and girls' teams in this year's program have a representative at the meeting due to the significant format change this year.

Thursday night there will be a men's softball meeting at the same time in the same room.

Poised Archer Moves Into Masters' Lineup

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — "How would you like to be leading this tournament and learn you had to play your last round paired with Arnold Palmer and Doug Sanders?"

★ ★ ★

That's what one gallery member asked his buddy Sunday before the last round of the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament in which George Archer found himself playing with Palmer and Sanders.

"I'd probably blow up," was the reply.

Well, Archer didn't blow up. He maintained his poise and the lead by shooting a 68 over the par 71 Sedgewood Country Club course.

It gave him a 72-hole total of 267, 17 under par and two shots better than the old record, for first prize money of $25,000 in the $125,000 event.

GAINS BERTH

It also earned for him an invitation to the Masters Tournament opening Thursday at Augusta, Ga.

Archer, a 27-year-old fourth-year pro whose only previous pro tour victory was the Lucky International at San Francisco, his home town, two years ago, was two shots ahead of Sanders, a 64 finisher for a 269 worth $15,000.

Palmer shot a 66 for third at 271, good for $9,375 to make him the first to go over $800,000 in official winnings. He also took over this year's money lead at better than $54,000.

court for Flint Central, took the high jump with a leap of 6-4 and teammate Herb Washington grabbed the 60-yard dash in 6.2 seconds, tying the meet record.

Flint Northern's lone victory came in the shuttle hurdle relay.

★ ★ ★

While Tipton was sparkling Central, Pontiac Northern also came up with a pair of sharp performances from hurdler Mel Cole and miler Mark Kay.

2ND IN HURDLES

Cole ran second to Tipton in the lows while Kay grabbed the mile crown with a 4:32.3 clocking.

★ ★ ★

PCH took a fourth and fifth in a couple of relay events.

Harold Bone, Walter Terry, Bob Dickie and Jon Costello were fourth in the two-mile event, while Bruce Turpin, Charles Jackson, Carey Wiley and Tipton combined for a fifth in the shuttle hurdle relay.

The Chiefs Earl Polk shared second in the pole vault with a leap of 12.6.

The Chiefs' Earl Polk broke his pole on his first try at 13 feet and settled for a piece of second place with a 12-6 leap.

Gene Brunner of Kettering tossed the shot 55-4½ to grab second place in the shot put and Waterford's Steven Kidwell wound up fourth with a heave of 52-4¾.

'Y' Swimmers Trail in State Meet

Pontiac's swimming team captured 10th and Rochester's squad finished 11th among 26 teams Saturday in the Michigan YMCA state boys' meet.

Saginaw took the midget division title, while Flint picked up the prep and junior class crowns. In the three divisions, Pontiac placed sixth, 18th and fourth, while Rochester managed 10th, 8th and 7th.

Dave Legge gave Pontiac one of its two firsts by grabbing the diving title in the midget class. The 200-yard freestyle team of Steve Ashmead, Dave Hardenburg, Rick Rykowski and Jeff Klann posted a 1:45.7 time to lead the way in the junior division.

HOMECOURT ADVANTAGE — Kentucky's Pat Riley (center) of the East has clear shot at basket after outmaneuvering Wichita State's Jamie Thompson (35) during Saturday afternoon's East-West All-Star cage clash at Lexington where Riley played his collegiate home games as a Wildcat star. The West's Mike Gervasoni of Santa Clara watches the jump shot. The East prevailed, 102-93, as Sonny Dove of St. John's hit 26 points to garner the top player honors.

Also picking up points for Pontiac in the midget class were Francis Webster with a second in the 25-yard backstroke; while the 100-yard medley relay team of Jim and Jeff Dauw, John Irwin and Webster claimed fifth.

★ ★ ★

Bruce Sawhill of Rochester placed fourth in the 50-yard freestyle in the midget competition. In the prep action, Rochester's Chris Jacques was third in the 50 freestyle and Paul Karas third in the 100. Bruce Featherstone gave the team its lone points in the junior part with a third in the 200-yard freestyle.

Along with the first in the junior class, Pontiac added a third, two fourths and a fifth. Klann was third in the 50 breaststroke; Andy Eller fourth in the 100 freestyle; Rykowski fourth in the 200 freestyle; and Hardenburg fifth in the 50 freestyle.

Pontiac's YMCA girls' swimming team turned in a strong performance in the season finale by downing Port Huron Saturday, 124-109.

The local squad took the midget class, 53-28, dropped the prep verdict, 47-35, and squeezed out a 36-34 triumph in the junior division.

Connie Webster won the 80 individual medley and sparked the relay teams to victories in the 80 medley and 80 freestyle in the midget class. Donna Wagner won the 40 freestyle and 20 breaststroke.

Jane Irwin captured the 40 butterfly and 40 backstroke and swam a leg on the winning 160 medley relay team in the prep division. Gail Bard, Pam Dell and Beth Blaylock were other members of the relay squad. Later, Miss Dell won the 80 individual medley and Miss Bard took the 40 breaststroke.

★ ★ ★

Shelley Gray and Sue Cucksey sparked the junior victory. Miss Cucksey won the 40 breaststroke and Miss Gray took the 100 freestyle, and the two joined Amy Stiel and Pam Grothe for relay victories in the 160 medley and 160 freestyle. Miss Grothe also took the 40 butterfly.

76ers Win, 107-102

Celtics Pushed to Brink

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics' eight-year reign as National Basketball Association champions teetered on the brink today, and one member of the Philadelphia 76ers was already reading the obituary notice.

"It's all over . . . I think so, I really do," said Hal Greer after the 76ers won a 107-102 nationally televised thriller Sunday at Boston Garden to take a commanding 2-0 lead in the best-of-7 Eastern Division final playoffs.

The Celtics weren't quite ready for the funeral yet, and even the other 76ers were a bit more cautious. But both sides agreed that the way Philadelphia beat Boston at its own game was significant.

The 76ers used another Celtics standby — a new hero for each crucial spot — but once again it was 7-foot-1 Wilt Chamberlain who dominated over-all action with 15 points, 29 rebounds, five assists and five blocked shots.

Chet Walker's 23 points led the balanced 76ers attack. Wally Jones had 22, Greer 17, Luke Jackson 15 and Bill Cunningham 13.

John Havlicek had 26 and Bailey Howell 22 for Boston, but the usually high-scoring Sam Jones managed only nine and was kept on the bench through much of the fourth period.

In the only other playoff game over the weekend, San Francisco took a 2-0 lead over St. Louis in the Western Division finals with a 143-136 triumph in St. Francisco Saturday night.

The third and fourth games of the series will be played in St. Louis on Wednesday and Saturday.

Nicklaus After New Goal in Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus has his sights set on a golfing goal the blond belter says may never again be within anyone's range.

The 27-year-old kingpin of the fairway starts after a third straight Masters championship Thursday, challenged by the world's top golfers.

★ ★ ★

Difficulty of the assignment can be seen by checking the history of the Masters, where only one champion has ever successfully defended his crown.

That was Nicklaus, 1965 champion who won a playoff last year to repeat as titlist of the tournament many golfers claim is the top plum on the pro tour.

"I have a chance to do something that may never be done again," Nicklaus said while tuning up for the 31st annual tournament. He spent several days on the famed Augusta National layout last week "putting the final refinements" to his game which has been below par most of the spring.

"Last year was awful," he said. "I came in here all tense. I realy wanted to be the first to win the Masters twice in a row.

"This year I'm not nearly as tense. Maybe I should be a little more tense. I just don't know.

"I've played enough this spring to be playing pretty good," Nicklaus said. "Now it's just a matter of refining my game.

"I don't like to play too hard in the spring, because you can get up to your peak only five or six times a year, and the big tournaments are all later."

His top rival is expected to be Arnold Palmer, who has claimed all the Masters' titles Nicklaus hasn't won in the past five years.

★ ★ ★

Palmer, only four-time winner of the tournament, has had a hot spring and is off to one of the best starts of his career.

Gary Player, winner of the 1961 Masters and the last to keep Nicklaus and Palmer out of the championship, also is in the field. So is flashy Doug Sanders, sive field, including 23 foreign who says he'll never feel like a king until he wears the green coat given the titlist.

Gay Brewer Jr., who lost in a playoff to Nicklaus last year after missing a six-foot putt that would have given him the title, also is a contender. So is Billy Casper, No. 2 on the all-time money list who skipped the spring tour and has never won the Masters.

Texas Relays Add to Records Bulge

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Relays already led the Big Four relay meets of the country in comparative records, and three more were added over the weekend to give the big track and field carnival here one more mark than the other three put together.

Randy Matson, Texas A&M's great weightman scored a double and one of them — the discus, where Matson set an intercollegiate record of 201 feet 1 inch — was one of the three picked up.

The others were Kansas, world record in the sprint medley when the Jayhawks, spearheaded by the fabulous Jim Ryun, romped to 3:15.2, and the pole vault where Fred Burton of Wichita State soared 16 feet 9½ inches. This is the highest vault ever in any of the four meets.

Cranbrook Nine Drops Two Tilts

SPECIAL TO THE PRESS

CINCINNATI — A leaky defense betrayed Cranbrook's diamond Cranes Saturday as they completed their annual southern spring training jaunt by dropping a doubleheader to Reading by identical 5-3 scores.

★ ★ ★

Reading scored five unearned runs in the fifth inning of the opener to break a scoreless deadlock.

The Cranes (1-4) never led in the twinbill but did tie the nightcap at 1-1 only to see Reading take advantage of four Cranbrook errors for three runs in the fourth.

The Heavenrich brothers (Ned and Sandy) plus Jerry Iwanski accounted for 10 of the losers' 17 hits during the two games and sparked the late rallies in each game that left the Cranes' two runs shy of tying the score.

★ ★ ★

Sophomore Jim Goldsmith, who posted the only mound victory on the tour, again looked good despite losing the opener, while control trouble bothered Dave Kangas in the nightcap.

★ ★ ★

Cranbrook will open its home season 11 a.m. Saturday against Pontiac Central in a doubleheader.

STEPS UP—John MacLeon, who coached Oklahoma University's freshman basketball team to 7-1 record this past season, was named to the head coaching post yesterday, replacing Bob Stevens who resigned Saturday.

Reds' Nuxhall Quits Playing

Southpaw Accepts Sportscasting Job

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Pitcher Joe Nuxhall has hung up his spikes and glove for good to become a broadcaster of Cincinnati Reds baseball games.

The veteran southpaw retired from baseball Saturday with a record that set him apart from thousands of other players: the youngest ever to participate in a major league game.

Nuxhall, now almost 39, was only 15 years old when he went to the mound for the Reds on June 10, 1944 to pitch against the St. Louis Cardinals, who were leading 13-0.

He lasted only two-thirds of an inning. He faced nine batters and gave up five runs on two hits and five bases on balls.

OTHER TEAMS

Nuxhall spent all but one of his 15 years in the majors with the Reds He was with Kansas City in 1961 and also was with the Los Angeles Angels briefly in 1962. The Reds got him back later that year.

His lifetime record was 135 victories against 117 defeats. One of his best years was 1955 when he led the national league with five shutouts and topped all left-handers with a 17-12 record He also pitched in the 1959 All-Star Game.

New Pro Cage Loop Reveals Draft

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — All-Americas Jim Walker and Clem Haskins loom as the big targets in the approaching professional basketball battle.

The new American Basketball Association also left no doubt Sunday that there will be attempts to lure established pro stars.

★ ★ ★

In its organizational meeting, the ABA drafted 130 college players, with Walker, the leading major college scorer from Providence, picked by Indianapolis, a team to be known in the future as Indiana.

Louisville went for Western Kentucky's Haskins plus his teammate Dwight Smith and Kentucky's Louis Dampier in a preference for home state talent.

Now the ABA clubs must try to sign their draftees.

PENSION PLAN

As ammunition to help lure the college crop and also to seek the established pros from the the new league established a pension plan and said service in the other league would count in longevity.

The ABA did not divulge the order of its selections, a move to discourage comparisons of signings of early round choices in the two leagues.

★ ★ ★

There were surprises and some foul-ups during the day-long meeting. New Orleans went through early rounds normally and then named Bob Seagren the indoor pole vault record holder.

"This is hilarious. It's impossible," declared Seagren in Los Angeles. "I haven't touched a basketball in five years."

Two teams drafted players only to discover scouts hadn't furnished their first names. Another chose one apparently nonexistent.

MSU GRIDDER

Indiana took a flyer when it picked Gene Washington, Michigan State football star, who is expected to play that game professionally. He did play basketball in high school.

In the loop are Anaheim, Dallas, Denver which substituted for Kansas City, Houston, Indiana, Louisville, Minnesota, New Orleans, New York, Oakland and Pittsburgh.

Besides Washington, who has not played basketball since high school and has been drafted by Minnesota of the National Football League, Indianapolis chose 6-foot-11 Craig Dill of Michigan.

Dallas of the ABA chose 6-foot-7 Matt Aitch of Michigan State in the draft.

Houston named 6-5 Jerry Pettway of Northern Michigan.

Detroiter Mel Daniels, 6-9, who plays for New Mexico, was picked by Minnesota.

California Skier in Slalom Upset

TAHOE CITY, Calif. (AP) — Spider Sabich of Kyburz, Calif. scored an upset by winning the second men's giant slalom at the Far West Kandahar Ski Races Sunday.

Sabich, a 21-year-old student at the University of Denver, upset Karl Schranz of Austria, who earlier won the first men's giant slalom race.

Nancy Greene of Canada won the second women's giant slalom Sunday in the unofficial timing. Earlier, Karen Korfanta of Pinedale, Wyo., upset Miss Greene in the first race with a clocking of 89 seconds.

Goalies Win for Montreal

MONTREAL (AP) —Goalies Glenn Hall and Denis DeJordy of Chicago's National Hockey League champions have won the Vezina Trophy with a yield of 170 goals during the regular season, the NHL announced Sunday night.

The trophy goes to the goalie or goalies who play a minimum of 25 games for the team which allows the fewest scores. Hall and DeJordy will divide a $1,000 league bonus plus $250 for leading the Vezina race during the second half of the season.

PBA's Champion Makes Success of 'Only' Job

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — "I don't think I could do another job," said Jim Stefanich after he walked off with the $25,000 top prize in the $100,000 Professional Bowlers Association Tournament of Champions.

The 25-year-old bowler from Chicago needed a two-frame overtime to beat Don Johnson Saturday after they tied 227-227, Stefanich won 49-36.

Johnson, of Kokomo, Ind., took second place money of $12,500. Jack Biondolillo of Houston, finished third for $6,500, with Mike Durbin of Costa Mesa, Calif., fourth for $3,500 and Les Schissler of Denver, Colo., fifth for $2,500.

Biondolillo picked up an extra $10,000 for rolling a 300 game in his opening match against Schissler in the finals.

SECRET SMILE — She stands on a pedestal in the Museum of the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia. The 15-inch high statuette was given to the Museum in 1950 by T. S. Quinn of Lebanon, Pa., who had bought it from a New York antique dealer. She was supposedly fashioned 2,500 years ago by a sculptor who lived in the Tuscany region of Italy long before the founding of Rome. Modern Science has established that the statuette was the work of a clever forger.

TWO INJURED — The driver of this car and a 25-year-old Pontiac man are in Pontiac General Hospital with injuries received in a four-car accident about 1:30 p.m. Saturday, at Dixie Highway and M15, Independence Township. Dennis Valone, 18, of Wixom and Ivy R. Buchanan of 8615 Pontiac Lake are in satisfactory condition with lacerations, according to hospital authorities. Oakland County sheriff's deputies said the cars driven by Valone and Buchanan collided head-on. Passengers in their cars and occupants of the other two vehicles involved escaped serious injury, deputies said.

Maoist Press Demands Ouster of President Liu

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung's official news media today demanded that President Liu Shao-chi be discredited, repudiated and ousted. He was charged with favoring the United States after World War II.

The steady increase of official attacks on Liu, an official defense of zealous Red Guards, and a claim that Mao's cultural revolution is entering a new phase pointed to intensification of the mainland purge after a period of relatively subdued activity. There were signs, however, of continued anti-Maoist resistance.

★ ★ ★

Attacks on Liu came from the New China News Agency, the official Peking People's Daily, and the Communist party theoretical journal Red Flag. Peking radio reported rallies by hundreds of thousands in different parts of China to back the attacks.

While Liu was not mentioned by name, the pro-Mao news media broadened its identification of its target so that any vestige of doubt was removed.

BOOK ATTACKED

On Friday, in the first official attack on Liu, the party organs attacked his book "How to be a Good Communist." They referred to it as "the book on self-cultivation."

On Saturday, they criticized "the top party person in authority taking the capitalist road" — a departure from the previous broader reference to a "handful" of anti-Maoists.

★ ★ ★

On Monday, the news agency linked the two, saying the book under attack was "written by that top party person." Both the press agency and Radio Peking carried on a steady drumfire of attack against "the top party person in authority taking the capitalist road."

A Red Flag article entitled "Patriotism or National Betrayal" appeared to be the opening salvo against Liu in the new phase of the cultural revolution. It declared that "the revolutionary masses must overthrow this handful of counterrevolutionary revisionists, remove the top party person in authority taking the capitalist road from his position and make him stand aside."

'TAKE TO STREETS'

The news agency reported that workers, peasants, soldiers and students in Peking, Shanghai and Harbin took to the streets to acclaim the article.

Japanese newsmen in Peking reported the demonstrators shouted "Down with Liu."

★ ★ ★

Broadcasts from Hunan, Shantung, Kweichow, Honan and Shansi provinces reported mass anti-Liu demonstrations by hundreds of thousands, but stations in Kwangtung and Fukien provinces did not report such rallies. Liu's followers have been relatively strong in Kwangtung and Fukien and apparently still are.

The Peking correspondent of the Yugoslav news agency, Tanjug, predicted it was only a matter of days before Liu resigns his posts.

N.Y. Lottery Tickets Go on Sale in June

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI) — Tickets will go on sale in June for New York State's first lottery, a once - a - month drawing with get-rich-quick appeal expected to enrich state education resources by $165 million a year.

The legislature adopted the lottery early yesterday before adjourning its 1967 session.

New York thus became the second state with a lottery.

New Hampshire for the past three years has been using a sweepstakes tied to horse races twice a year to raise money for education.

Estimated sales for the New York lottery go as high as $300 million a year. Some 30 per cent of the money will go for prizes and 15 per cent for administrative expenses. The rest was earmarked for education.

City Latins Elect a VP, 3 Officers

Members of the Pontiac chapter of Latin Americans United for Political Action (LAUPA) elected a new vice president and three other officers at a meeting yesterday.

The group also gave formal endorsement of last January's election of state LAUPA President Tomas Chavez Jr. of 122 W Fairmount.

Chavez' right to hold office has been challenged because of alleged "irregularities" in the January vote.

A meeting of the state LAUPA in Pontiac next Sunday is expected to either confirm or invalidate the January election.

Pontiac Police Apprehend Man at Jewelry Store

A Lincoln Park man was arrested for investigation of attemped burglary early yesterday after police said they observed him leaning through the smashed display window of a Pontiac jewelry store.

Police said Larry W. McCray, 27, was seen at a window near the entrance to Park Jewelers, Inc., 1 N. Saginaw, about 2 a.m.

Officers said they chased him past a parked car which then sped from the scene and apprehended him at Wayne and Clinton.

They were unable to follow the car, investigators said.

Student Display

DETROIT (AP) — More than 1,500 Michigan youths will compete this week for grand prizes in the Michigan Industrial Education awards program. The student-made products, ranging from sail boats to jewelry, will be on display at a fair Thursday through Saturday at Cobo Hall.

25 Collegians Arrested in Pitt Uproar

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Students at the University of Pittsburgh settled into the routine of classes today following two nights of near-rioting after balmy weather came to the campus. Twenty-five were arrested.

Young men and women, clad mostly in bermuda shorts and sandals, roamed streets surrounding the campus, snarled traffic and hurled insults at police as fellow students heaved water balloons, furniture and other articles from dormitory windows.

★ ★ ★

"It's just one of those things that start out as a lark, and before you know, it's a major catastrophe," said Chancellor Dr. David H. Kurtzman as he stood among a horde of students listening to their complaints.

About 1500 students, studying for finals two weeks away, blocked traffic and pulled fire alarms Sunday night. Police called out K9 units and extra men but made no attempt to herd the students back to the dorms for about three hours until a police lieutenant was felled by a rock tossed from the crowd. He did not require hospital treatment.

WADE INTO CROWD

The police waded into the crowd, gripping nightsticks at their side, and the students returned to the dormitory area.

★ ★ ★

Eighteen students, all men, were arrested. Seven were charged Saturday night in a similar outburst.

★ ★

All but three were charged with disorderly conduct and will be given a hearing today. Three were charged with aggravated assault on a police officer and face arraignment today.

Officers Elected by Area Firemen

ROCHESTER — The volunteer fire department recently elected William Gray, 303 Helen, president. He will serve with Karl Severance, 603 Wilcox, vice president; James Purdom, 318 Taylor, secretary; and Myron Bartholomew, 716 Renshaw, treasurer.

Harvey Littell was named trustee for a three-year term.

More than 70 million vehicles used the New Jersey Turnpike in 1966—four times the number which traveled the superhighway in 1952, its first full year of operation.

Bolivian Rebels Stir No Fears

President Says Small Army Not Dangerous

SANTA CRUZ, Bolivia (AP) — President Rene Barrientos says a small rebel army poses no threat to his government because it has trapped itself in hilly, jungle hideouts and has "no place to go."

Gen. Alfredo Ovando Candia, commander-in-chief of the Bolivian armed forces, estimated the strength of the guerrillas at 300 to 400 men but said it might take months to wipe them out.

★ ★ ★

Barrientos and Ovando made an aerial survey of the rebels' hideouts Saturday. The president said the Bolivian army is in full operation in the area but is taking no offensive measures.

"It is counterguerrilla action, which depends on the guerrillas," he said in an interview Sunday. He added that the rebels are being supported and financed by foreign Communists by way of Cuba.

20 GUERRILLAS KILLED

About 600 Bolivian soldiers, an equal number of militiamen and an undisclosed number of planes are operating against the guerrillas.

Six Bolivian soldiers, a civilian guide and about 20 guerrillas have been reported killed in sporadic fighting in the rugged, thinly populated area.

Fighting has been under way for about two weeks in the area north of the oil-producing center of Camiri and about 375 miles southeast of La Paz, the capital.

Ovando said he had ordered a halt to bombing and strafing of the guerrilla areas, carried on while he was in Europe.

U.S. HELP REPORTED

"There should have been no air attacks," he said. "You can't see what is down there."

One local report said 11 U.S. Special Forces men were aiding Bolivian efforts in the guerrilla zone. U.S. sources in La Paz said the number was not more than four and they were not Special Forces men but members of the regular U.S. military advisory group.

U. S. counterinsurgency specialists are known to have been instructing soldiers in Bolivia as recently as late 1966, but U.S. sources at La Paz say none is in Bolivia now.

Bolivian government sources say the guerrilla forces include many foreigners, with varying versions as to nationalities: Cubans, Communist Chinese, Europeans, Peruvians and Argentines. One recurrent report says Cuban Ernesto Guevara is among the guerrillas or was recently.

$2,700 Is Taken in Pharmacy Theft

A total of $2,700 in cash was reported stolen yesterday in a break-in at Plaza Pharmacy, 3554 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township.

The money was taken from a safe that was pried open, according to State Police.

Entry to the building was gained by making a hole in the wall after breaking into an adjoining office through a window.

Music Contest

FLINT (AP) — The Musical Performing Arts Association of Flint has announced it will hold a competition throughout the Midwest later this year with a $500 prize and a solo appearance with the Flint Symphony Orchestra going to the winner. William C. Byrd, association director and conductor of the orchestra, said details and audition dates for the competition will be worked out later.

Single Contest

NEW BALTIMORE (AP) — Voters in this Macomb County community of 3,160 today cast ballots for mayor, three councilmen, a justice of the peace and constable. The mayoral race is the only one being contested, with incumbent Bruno B. Wisney facing a challenge from Judson Bowers, a former planning commission chairman.

Sentencing Set

DETROIT (AP) — James Renard Hill today faced an April 14 court date for sentencing in the shooting of a Detroit police officer. Hill was convicted in Detroit Recorder's Court of assault to commit murder last week. The maximum penalty is life in prison.

Bataan Battle Veterans Revisit Scene of Disaster

MANILA (AP) — There was hardly a dry eye among 158 American veterans of Bataan and Corregidor and their wives today as their jetliner circled slowly over the tadpole-shaped island of Corregidor.

★ ★ ★

For most of them it was their first look at the island and the neighboring Bataan Peninsula since they left as prisoners of the Japanese 25 years ago.

★ ★ ★

"It was the most fantastic emotional experience of my life," said Arthur Bressi, 47, Mechanicsburg, Pa., who was captured when the island fortress fell on May 6, 1942.

★ ★ ★

"The pilot was wonderful. He flew low over the island and then circled it clockwise and then anticlockwise.

SAW LANDMARKS

"We could pick out all the landmarks and I could see the building where they air-conditioned my headquarters.

"There were plenty of tears shed in that airplane, I can tell you."

★ ★ ★

Bressi, a corporal in the 60th Antiaircraft Coastal Artillery during the siege of Corregidor, is now the commander of the American Defenders of Bataan and Corregidor.

★ ★ ★

He led the first contingent of defenders back to the Philippines for the 25th anniversary of the famous World War II battle.

SPECIAL FLIGHTS

A total of 575 men and their wives are coming this week on special flights from Chicago and New York.

Party Unrest Puts Indira on Shaky Ground

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Three weeks after her reelection as India's prime minister, Indira Gandhi's position is threatened by defections from her Congress party.

Congress party members have bolted in two Indian states, leaving the party with legislative majorities in only seven of 16 states. Some fear that the defections will reach the national level and reduce or wipe out the party's 20-seat majority in Parliament.

★ ★ ★

The cabinet Mrs. Gandhi formed last month after India's general elections could then fall on a parliamentary vote of no confidence. Although Mrs. Gandhi's personal position appears in danger, observers expect the Congress party to retain power.

All six opposition parties in Parliament would have to be united and be joined by at least 15 defectors from the Congress party to put together a new parliamentary majority, and there appears to be no conceivable prospect of this happening.

★ ★ ★

After ruling India unchallenged since the country became independent 20 years ago, the Congress party has declined both in appeal to the voters and party discipline. The party lost 82 parliamentary seats in the February election, and its nearly complete monopoly of the state legislatures was broken.

Seventeen party members joined opposition legislators in Uttar Pradesh State over the weekend and brought down the Congress government by a 215-198 vote.

The leader of the dissidents, Charan Singh, 64, was sworn in today as the state's new chief minister to head a coalition of all major non-Congress parties. Singh cut his ties with the Congress after 45 years because of differences with local party leaders.

Uttar Pradesh, with 75 million residents, is India's most populous state and Mrs. Gandhi's birthplace. Her personal popularity in the state seemed undimmed, as she was warmly received Sunday on a tour of its eastern regions to inspect drought damage.

OLD AND NEW — Bill Suitor (left) of Youngstown, N.Y., propelled by a rocket belt, makes a rendezvous with a hot air balloon piloted by Don Piccard last Saturday near the Washington Monument in the nation's capital. It was part of ceremonies on Washington's Mall staged by the Smithsonian Institution as a salute to the newly created Federal Department of Transportation.

Cyclist, Teen Held in Attack

DETROIT (UPI) — The leader of a motorcycle club and a teen-aged companion were held by police today for allegedly attacking a store owner, his wife and a pregnant woman.

Officers said the pair were among eight persons arrested after the incident at an antique shop, Juaquines House of Three Jacks, early yesterday.

The store owner, John Kiser, said he, his wife, Juana, and Mrs. Linda Faraday, 17, were attacked when he tried to order away a group of youths who were milling around the shop.

The victims said they were hit and kicked before Kiser scared the youths off with an old rifle he had in the store.

★ ★ ★

Held for investigation of assault and battery were Thomas Lee, 24, the president of the Half-Breeds motorcycle club, and Harry Krachmal, 17, of Westland.

★ ★ ★

Four other youths were being held for investigation of attempted breaking and entering, and two teen-aged girls were released in the custody of their parents.

Engagement Ring Sparkles as Star Sparkles in 'Sherry'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I came out gushing after seeing "Sherry"—and while I loved Dolores Gray, Clive Revill and Elizabeth Allen up on stage, I also loved Dolores' husband Andrew Crevolin offstage . . . he bought Dolores a chinchilla opening wrap . . . "and I paid the last installment on her 21-k engagement ring," he said. "The last installment was $25,000."

WILSON

Each of the first three payments also was $25,000.

Dolores had that little bauble worth $100,000 around her during the opening night performance and managed to slip it onto her finger for the final bow. At the party at La Fonda Del Sol, Dolores wore a crystal beaded gown that was beautiful and sparkling: "This dress is my mother's," Dolores said. Her mother, Barbara, died in '63.

Crevolin, her husband, whose horse "Determine" won the Derby in '54, is a Californian with Texas and Chicago investments, and he also bought Dolores diamonds and ruby earrings, and just plain emerald earrings. He also bought her a race hoss, to race under her own name. The insurance premium on her engagement ring alone is about $8,000.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Liz Taylor arrives in Hollywood April 7 for the Oscar awards, minus Richard; she returns to Europe (and Richard) April 11 . . . Lynda Bird saw "Illya Darling" (escorted by financier John Loeb) and went backstage to meet Melina Mercouri . . . Van Rapoport of the Spindletop, wearing his black diamond mink coat, met another guy wearing the same thing: Red Skelton . . . Mia Farrow Sinatra'll be on the McCall's cover soon; four years ago her photo was inside—an unknown—as the daughter of a famous actress.

Jerry Lewis wants to produce and star in the film version of "Don't Go Near the Water" . . . Brad Dillman's out of the "Jigsaw" film, hospitalized with virus . . . Jim Nicholson, producer of "Those Fantastic Flying Fools," has a limousine with three phones. He calls it "my blue convertible phone booth" . . . Twiggy'll have a Newsweek cover (photo'd by Bert Stern).

Andy Russell, opening at the Chateau Madrid (after 12 years away), got wires from Bing Crosby and Peggy Lee . . . The son of a world-famed musician has his name on the Bad-Credit-Risk lists.

WISH I'S SAID THAT: It's obvious that Twiggy's mgr. figures her shortest distance to success is a straight line.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "There is just one way to understand women—and the first guy who figures out what it is will be a millionaire."

EARL'S PEARLS: Kay Lederle described her small bedroom: "I dropped my handkedchief—and it became a wall-to-wall rug."

Bill Dana, who'll host a new TV variety show, was asked if the title would bear his name. "Not exactly," he said, "It'll be called 'The Las Vegas Show'— but I'm changing my name to 'Bill Las Vegas.'" . . . That's earl, brother.

No Air Priority to Superplane

By Science Service

NEW YORK — After four years of study, the Federal Aviation Agency has concluded that giving the supersonic transport automatic priority over other airplanes in the sky would be "most detrimental" to air traffic control.

High priority for the SST would result in "substantial lowering of airport acceptance rates; excessive holding and delays for terminal approach controllers and for en route controllers whose sectors serve the terminal area," according to Joseph D. Blatt, associate administrator for development for the FAA.

"However," he told the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers here last week, "limited preferential treatment can be provided SST aircraft without major adverse effects on the air traffic control system."

One of the FAA's specific recommendations, he said, is that SST traffic over a given route should travel in the same direction. The safety distances between opposite-traveling planes, and the loads on traffic controllers, would be too great with the SST.

★ ★ ★

For its study, which is still in progress, the FAA has been using an SST flight simulator at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Langley, Va., research center, plugged into the FAA national air traffic simulator in Atlantic City, N. J.

Jazz Notable Dies Playing in Concert

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Avery Loposer, who played the trombone with his bare foot, died Sunday before a crowd estimated by officials at "at least 2,000."

★ ★ ★

Loposer, 66, was playing with a local orchestra at a municipal park concert to promote a jazz festival for young musicians when he took the horn from his lips and called out: "Is there a doctor in the crowd?"

He then collapsed and died within minutes of an apparent heart attack.

Hope of Averting a Strike by Teamster Union Dims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chances for a settlement that would head off a strike pitting the Teamsters Union against the nation's trucking industry were less than promising today.

As they returned to negotiations with industry bargainers, the Teamster leaders were armed with a vote from the members putting in their hands the decision to call a strike.

The negotiations, covering 450,000 workers in 12,000 trucking firms, by now center on money issues. The employers and the union are believed still to be far apart.

The talks recessed at 2 a.m. today and were to resume at an unscheduled hour.

★ ★ ★

A nationwide vote of Teamsters trucking locals was overwhelmingly in favor of striking if there is no settlement.

The union's announced strategy would be to strike only a few major firms, but spokesmen for 1,500 major companies represented by Trucking Employers Inc. have threatened to shut down all TEI firms if any are struck.

After the third straight night of all-night sessions, the talks reportedly were snagged over wages.

The union's last reported demand was 56 cents per hour over a three-year contract. The industry's last known offer was 37 cents.

★ ★ ★

Many other issues, including increased per-mile pay for long-distance drivers, health and welfare benefits, and new equipment demanded by the union are also involved.

Federal mediators are participating in the negotiations.

LET'S GO FISHING, DAD! — Frankie Hayes, 9, who is believed to have recovered from leukemia, checks over fishing equipment with his dad, Frank Hayes of Dallas, Tex., Saturday. Frankie was the first human to receive a revolutionary new treatment. His illness was diagnosed as leukemia in September of last year.

New Leukemia Drug Is 'Possibly a Cure'

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — Dr. C. Gordon Zubrod, scientific director for chemotherapy, National Cancer Institute, says the antileukemia drug, L-Asparaginase, provides a new lead into childhood leukemia but "needs to be researched."

NEW LEUKEMIA

The new drug was announced in Texarkana, Ark., Saturday by J. K. Wadley, Texas oilman and philanthropist, who described it as "a major breakthrough" and "possibly a cure" for leukemia.

Wadley told of researchers at the Wadley Institute of Molecular Medicine, Dallas, Tex., clearing a nine-year-old Dallas boy of an advanced type of leukemia.

Zubrod said the method described was "interesting" but added that "virtually all patients" with childhood leukemia can be put into remission by drugs. He said sometimes these remissions last for years.

"One patient going into complete remission for two weeks isn't very impressive," Zubrod said. "Only time will tell and it takes years to find this out."

'REMARKABLE'

Dr. L. J. Old, of New York's Sloan-Kettering Institute for cancer research, commented, "from the description given of the boy and his condition, I would say that they have a very, very remarkable case there.

"We have been conducting reseach on human patients here, but I would not want to make a statement this early. I think the word 'cure' at this point is premature.

"What they have done in Texas is to destroy a great number of cancer cells, but have they got them all? And I think some time should be allowed to pass before a statement is made on it."

Dr. Joseph Hill, director of Wadley Institute, whose work led to successful use of L-Asparaginase on human beings, said, "We need to expand our scientific investigation. We are only now scratching the surface. We hope to expand our studies and perhaps even apply this to other types of malignancies."

Winds, Rain Rake the Area, Put Phones Out

Gale force winds and gusts up to 70 miles an hour raked the Pontiac area as thunderstorms brought a quick halt to yesterday's sunshine.

★ ★ ★

Rainfall during the late afternoon and evening totaled 1.1 inches.

Trees and telephone lines fell at Romeo and Davisburg.

A Michigan Bell Telephone Co. spokesman said service to about 1,200 customers, the majority of them in the Lake Orion-Oxford-Clarkston area, was interrupted yesterday by the storm.

★ ★ ★

Service had been restored to more than half by midmorning today.

POWER DAMAGE

The Detroit Edison Co. reported wind and lightning damage throughout the area, with the most serious occurring in Farmington Township.

Electrical power was off from 9 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. in a half-mile square area south of 11 Mile east of Middle Belt.

Consumers Power Co. reported no interruption of customer service due to the storm.

★ ★ ★

With the end of the rain, partly cloudy skies covered most of the state.

COOLER

Much cooler weather dominated the Pontiac area weather scene today with the highs predicted to range between 44 and 50.

Northwesterly winds clocked between 14 and 22 miles this morning will diminish by tonight.

It will be fair and cold tonight with the the lows falling between 26 and 32.

★ ★ ★

The weatherman predicts that tomorrow will be more of the same, sunny but cool. Skies will become cloudy on Wednesday as temperatures rise and the chance of scattered showers increases.

LOW

The low mercury reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 38. By 1 p.m. the sunshine warmed the thermometer to 44.

LAUNCH SITE — Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. (left) and Pontiac Boys' Club President Clyle R. Haskill send aloft large weather balloons to signify the start of Boys' Club Week, April 1-8. The balloons each carry a self-addressed card for a Boys' Club member, with the boy whose balloon travels farthest winning the contest.

Speck Defender Gives Indication of Dual Strategy

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — A dual defense—aimed at barring certain prosecution evidence and establishing insanity as the basis for a verdict of innocence — is expected in the murder trial of Richard Speck.

SPECK

This conclusion is based on statements made to veniremen Gerald Getty, Cook County public defender, during the six weeks it took to find a jury to try Speck on a charge of murdering eight Chicago nurses.

The defense attack, Getty indicated, will be directed at the methods of police who allowed Miss Corazon Amurao, 23, an exchange nurse from the Philippines, to identify Speck, 25, in his hospital room after his arrest July 17.

Getty's defense team also will challenge a photographic identification of Speck, Miss Amurao's first description of his haircut, and a police artist's drawing of him, and then move to cast doubt on the validity of fingerprint evidence.

★ ★ ★

Getty's repeated remark that "there may be other verdicts here," is an apparent indication that he may try to obtain a verdict of innocent by reason of insanity if other tactics fail.

MOTION TO SUPPRESS

In other moves, Getty has asked Judge Herbert C. Paschen to suppress as evidence a gun and a knife linked by police to Speck. In his motion to suppress fingerprints found in the Chicago townhouse shared by the eight victims and Miss Amurao, he has said they were too blurred to convict a man of murder.

Miss Amurao told police she escaped death by rolling under a bed in the two-story apartment.

William Martin, the prosecutor, is expected to use an exact model of the house in presenting the state's case. The exhibit was built for the prosecution by experts from the Federal Bureau of Investigation at a reported cost of more than $6,000. Martin has said he will demand the death penalty.

Snow Removal Costs Double

City costs for snow removal since November are more than double expenses incurred in the same period last year, according to Clyde Christian, superintendent of public works.

Some $137,000 has been expended for clearance of local and major streets, state trunklines, parks and parking lots during the 1966-67 winter.

Total cost in 1965-66 was only $63,220, Christian said.

The proposed city budget for 1967 allots $97,818 for snow and ice removal, a figure sorely strained by the heavy snowfall through the early months of this year.

★ ★ ★

Traditionally snow-heavy November and December of 1967 are yet to come, Christian pointed out.

ESTIMATE DIFFICULT

Tabulation of costs in the current budget year — which began Jan. 1 — is difficult, he said, because the start of the fiscal year falls in the midst of the winter season.

Indirect expenses attributed to snowfall and removal attempts include overtime maintenance of equipment, damages to traffic signs and mailboxes and rental of heavy vehicles during the 10-inch snow Jan. 26.

Pair Describe 'Hellish' Ordeal

DARWIN, Australia (AP) — After three months shipwrecked on a tropical island and three days at sea on a submerged water-logged raft, Henri Bourdens told his wife he was sorry but he was going to die.

"I asked him: 'Please wait for me, we must go together,' and he said he would try to live one more day," Mrs. Bourdens, 48, said today.

By the end of that day — Saturday — the ketch Betty Jane had rescued the French couple whose yacht was wrecked by a cyclone on the shores of Bathurst Island in late December.

From his hospital bed in Darwin, Bourdens called the three-month ordeal "a foretaste of hell."

His wife said they built the raft when they were certain they were dying of starvation.

LIVED ON SNAILS

"We lived on sea snails for most of the two months after the food from the yacht ran out," Mrs. Bourdens said.

She said three days they spent in a mangrove swamp on the island were the most terrifying of her life.

For a while, they were trapped up to the waist in slimy water and often heard animals fighting around them, she added.

They saw crocodiles and "hundreds of snakes, sometimes wrapped together like huge worms."

SINKING IN MUD

She saw her husband sink to his shoulders in mud and thought he was lost in quicksand.

The couple were trying to sail to France on a 45-foot yacht Bourdens had bought in Singapore. Hampered by water in their fuel, they tried to steer for the island of Timer but ended up 300 miles to the south, shipwrecked in an uninhabited area of Bathurst Island.

They didn't know that a Roman Catholic mission was 40 miles away on the other side of the island.

10 Area Elections Today

Voters in 10 area communities are selecting new village and city officials in elections today.

In Bloomfield Hills, voters will decide whether the city will buy water from the City of Detroit. The question has twice previously been defeated.

The Wolverine Lake ballot offers the largest choice of candidates. Twelve seek 3 four-year terms and 2 two-year terms on the council.

Farmington has a no-contest vote with only incumbents seeking reelection.

Other communities voting today are Birmingham, Keego Harbor, Lapeer, South Lyon, Troy, Utica and Walled Lake.

Last Implementing of Wide Track Near

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series on Pontiac streets.)

By DICK SAUNDERS

The final act to implement Pontiac's downtown perimeter road, Wide Track Drive, is near at hand.

★ ★ ★

Contracts have been awarded by the Michigan State Highway Department for improvements at the intersection of Oakland with Cass and Moncalm this summer.

Though it is a mile from Wide Track, changes at the intersection will have profound effect on Wide Track traffic.

When the improvements are completed, Oakland will become a one-way thoroughfare northbound from Wide Track to the Montcalm-Cass intersection. Cass will become one-way southbound from Oakland.

The city's share of this project is about $23,000, said city director of public works and services Joseph E. Neipling.

Purpose of the construction is to widen the intersection to allow for turn movements and build a barrier to implement the transition from one- to two-way traffic on Oakland at that point.

Here are the specific items to be built:

- A right turn lane on Montcalm for westbound traffic turning onto northbound Oakland.
- For southbound Oakland traffic, a two-lane right turn onto Cass and a center left turn lane onto Montcalm (this traffic cannot continue south on Oakland beyond the intersection).
- An island-barrier to channel northbound one-way Oakland traffic left onto Cass or back to a two-way traffic movement on Oakland north of the intersection.
- A right turn lane onto Moncalm for northbound Oakland traffic.

★ ★ ★

Thus, Oakland will become a major, one-way exit from Wide Track Drive. Cass will become a major one-way access route to the downtown loop highway.

BOTTLENECK

With every improvement, however, there always seems to be at least one bottleneck.

This project's bottleneck will come at Oakland and Baldwin.

(Next: The Baldwin Bottleneck)

★ ★ ★

• The M59 freeway in Pontiac will be completed this year, but the city is saddled with "deplorable major street conditions," according to one city official.

★ ★ ★

• Motorists can look forward to gigantic traffic jams on Baldwin and Joslyn.

• Downtown Pontiac's interior loop road has been shelved by lack of funds and indecision over redevelopment of the central business district north of Huron.

• Failure to increase assessment rates for local street construction has hurt major street improvements.

• Cass will be one-way southbound and Oakland one-way northbound to Montcalm by the end of this year, easing traffic movement north of Wide Track Drive.

Galbraith: War Brewing Dem Disaster

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Kenneth Galbraith, former U.S. ambassador to India, says the Vietnam war is "unnecessary" and "will be even more disastrous for the Democratic party."

Galbraith spoke Sunday as newly elected president of Americans for Democratic Action, which called Saturday night at its convention here for acceptance "without qualifications" of United Nations Secretary General U Thant's proposals for ending the war.

★ ★ ★

The Thant proposals, however, were rejected Sunday by Nhan Dan, North Vietnam's official newspaper. The Hanoi publication was particularly critical of their lacking any reference to the Vietcong.

Galbraith said when he heard generals "or high State Department officials speak blithely of a five- or 10-year war I am willing to believe that they have not considered the political consequences.

'NO EXCUSE'

"Perhaps they can afford to be indifferent. But for the rest of us there is no excuse for innocence. This disaster could, indeed, mean the death and burial of the Democratic party," he told ADA.

Various aspects of U.S.-Vietnam policy also came under attack by four senators in separate forums.

Sens. John Stennis, D-Miss., and Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., urged a harder line but Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., criticized the resumption of bombing. Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., complained of an information gap between Congress and the war leaders.

Elements of the war policy were defended by George W. Ball, the State Department's former No. 2 man.; Roman Catholic Archbishop Robert E. Lucey of San Antonio, who was sermonizing with President Johnson in the congregation; and Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman of Thailand.

Comment on the war of another type came from Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., who said he would not support any candidate for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination who tried to make the war a political issue.

Galbraith said, "While it is the Republicans who are the most enthusiastic for this war, I do not suggest that the Republican leaders would wish to prolong the conflict for party advantage."

★ ★ ★

Referring to the Negro civil rights struggle, Galbraith said President Johnson should "require all friends of Vietnam democracy to do their boot-training in Birmingham."

Specifically excluding Johnson, he said, "Those who have spoken most fluently and feelingly about the defense of liberty, freedom and Marshal Ky's version of democracy in Saigon have never shown the slightest passion for these principles in Birmingham or Harlem."

★ ★ ★

But he said he could not "spare the President whose administration and responsibility it is" for going along with policy makers "who have presided over our Far Eastern policy in increasing error for the last 20 years and who now ask a closing of ranks on the mistakes that brought us this misery in Vietnam."

Street Drainage Plea on Commission Agend

BIRMINGHAM—Residents of Worthington Avenue are complaining about the "lake" that forms on their street.

The City Commission has their complaint on its agenda for 8 o'clock tonight.

Residents claim 10 inches of water forms on the north side of the street each spring — enough to sail toy boats, but not enough for swimming.

The group, known as the Birmingham Hills Association, promises to cooperate fully with any solution the commission finds to the problem.

★ ★ ★

Another complainant writes that the commission is continuing to "pour salt in the wounds," concerning traffic routing in the city.

CONFUSION

The letter claims the "no left turn" sign at Bates and Willits, plus six new traffic signals in the downtown area, have "added to the confusion."

The northeast quadrant of the city has been hard-hit by new regulations, it is alleged.

The commission will also get a report from William T. Killeen, city engineer, on another street problem at Yosemite from Adams to Columbia.

It points out the phone and power company have done extensive underground work in the area and that the streets have been left badly marred with mud and dirt.

CLEANUP PLEDGE

Killeen reports both firms have pledged to clean up the area and do what resurfacing and resodding is necessary.

Out-of-Court Settlement Is County's Tops

A $132,500 out-of-court settlement stemming from an auto accident in Southfield a year ago was reached today.

It was the largest out-of-court settlement made in the county.

Circuit Judge Farrell E. Roberts approved the damages for Mrs. Joyce Bones, 39, who has been in a coma since suffering a brain injury in the March 11, 1966, crash.

Her attorney, Daniel C. Devine of Birmingham, had started suit against the driver of the other car, Dr. Sidney Prystowsky, 48, of 4665 Coachmaker, Bloomfield Township, asking for $1,180,000 in damages.

★ ★

Prystowsky rammed into the rear of Mrs. Bones' car as she was about to turn onto her street, Cromwell, from Telegraph, according to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. The impact knocked her car into oncoming traffic.

The youngest of Mrs. Bones' three children, David, 7, was a passenger in the car, but he wasn't seriously injured.

Murder Trial of MD Starts

Detection of Drug in Wife's Body Is Key

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — Whether a drug could be detected a year after death may be the crux of Dr. Carl Coppolino's murder trial starting today.

Choice of a jury — expected to be exhaustive — was the first order of business. The anesthesiologist is charged with first-degree murder in the death of his first wife.

The case was shifted from Sarasota, where Carmela Coppolino, 32, died in her bed Aug. 28, 1965, after the defense and prosecution agreed that news coverage of the case made it unlikely that an unbiased jury could be seated there.

SECOND TRIAL

The trial will be the second in four months for Coppolino, 34, on a first-degree murder charge. He was acquitted in Freehold, N.J., last December in the 1963 slaying of William Farber, a former neighbor. Bailey also was the defense attorney there.

Indictments in the two states followed a statement to Sarasota authorities by Farber's widow, Marjorie, 52, that she was suspicious of the causes of both deaths.

★ ★ ★

The bodies were exhumed for autopsy.

A grand jury charged that Coppolino murdered his wife with an injection of a drug — succinycholine chloride — which paralyzed then killed her. Coppolino has pleaded innocent.

Defense and prosecution will seek medical testimony of experts as to the presence of the drug in Carmela's body and whether it could be detected after death.

Armored Truck Hijacked; Part of Loot Recovered

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — Police said today they are investigating four men in connection with the robbery of more than $400,000 in cash and checks from an armored truck.

Still unaccounted for today was more than $300,000, about half of it cash. Four bags found Sunday in a wooded section yielded $94,577, including $17,000 cash.

★ ★ ★

Hijackers slipped into the cab of the truck Saturday night at a shopping center while its two guards were beside the vehicle. The guards ran after it, firing several shots, but were unable to halt it.

Capt. Paul LaHive of the Quincy Police Department said the four men sought in the investigation are from Quincy, Weymouth, Hull and Rockland, all suburbs in Greater Boston.

NAMES KNOWN

"We know names," he said, but would not elaborate.

Officials of the Skelley Detective Agency, owner of the truck, said an exact total of the amount taken would not be available until they check duplicate deposit slips held by stores.

CHECK FOR PRINTS

Police dusted the empty truck, found Sunday in nearby Weymouth, for fingerprints, but would not say whether this provided any leads.

One car that police said the hijackers used was found near the four bags of money.

★ ★ ★

A second car believed to have been involved was found parked on a highway in Quincy. Police said it contained two submachine guns, several other weapons, ammunition and a nylon mask.

David Connell of Fall River, son of the president of Skelly Detective Agency, said the hijackers apparently had a key to get into the cab of the truck, because the doors to it automatically lock when shut. He provided reports on the amount of money taken.

SWAPPING KEYS

He said the two guards "were standing beside the truck changing keys in order to swap assignments when the thieves slipped into the cab."

He said company policy calls for the two-man truck crew to take turns driving and going into the stores.

★ ★ ★

"The man whose turn it is to drive has the key to the front door," Connell said. "And the other carries a key to a different lock on a rear door."

Ice Prevents Finding Body

Special to The Press

BAY PORT — Ice floes in Lower Wildfowl Bay six miles west of here prevent the recovery of a body believed to be that of a Waterford Township duck hunter missing since last Nov. 2.

Gerald L. Stinson, 45, of 2093 Briggs was the object of a search last fall after a snowstorm and 50-mile-an-hour winds swept the bay.

Stinson's 12-foot boat was found washed ashore about a mile from his parked car, but search efforts at that time were hampered by heavy fog.

Huron County Sheriff Merritt R. McBride said the body was seen late yesterday by a fisherman who went ashore for help.

★ ★ ★

When McBride and deputies reached the scene, however, an ice field covering some 100 acres had been pushed over the area by a sudden northwest wind.

McBride said attempts will be made to recover the body when the ice leaves.

Oily Sea Birds' Numbers Grow

LONDON (AP) — Oil-soaked sea birds — some alive, many dead — are washing up on England's Cornish coast in increasing numbers, the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals said today.

★ ★ ★

About 5,000 have been retrieved from the English Channel so far, and a quarter of these were in such bad shape they had to be destroyed. Thousands of others were washed up dead, were destroyed on the beaches, or presumably sank at sea. With the oil from the wrecked tanker Torrey Canyon still threatening the coast, at least six clinics were busy in the third cleaning operation.

★ ★ ★

At the Mousehold Clinic Sunday, 100 birds were brought in during one half-hour period.

★ ★ ★

The society warned the public to turn the birds into the clinics rather than try to wash them with gasoline or soaps.

But they reported at least four candidates were murdered, 10 were kidnaped, three policemen and four militiamen were wounded by grenades and three Vietcong were captured

A total of 219 villages in 33 of South Vietnam's 43 provinces went to the polls Sunday in the first local elections since 1964. Incomplete returns showed 1,299 of the 1,964 village council seats had been filled. There were 2,718 candidates.

★ ★ ★

Forty-two of the 105 woman candidates have been seated so far. The oldest candidate was 85 and several of the youngest just barely met the minimum age of 25.

Officials said 495,044 of the 614,806 eligible voters cast ballots. Additional elections will be held in secure areas of South Vietnam for the next four Sundays.

★ ★ ★

Five Sundays of voting for hamlet chiefs and deputy chiefs are scheduled to start May 14.

Cities are not included in the local elections, nor are villages or hamlets seriously menaced by the Communists.

★ ★ ★

Officials reported 123 Vietcong-inspired incidents directed at Sunday's voting. These included 34 acts of terrorism and 89 occasions when the Communists employed "armed propaganda" to intimidate voters or candidates.

FIRE MORTAR ROUNDS

In one incident in Lam Dong village, Communist guerrillas fired five mortar rounds at the polling place but managed only to postpone the voting one hour while repairs were made.

$11,000 Fire Hits Home in Waterford

Fire Saturday afternoon, caused by an overheated pan of grease, resulted in an estimated $7,000 damage to the house of Norman Hilding at 1284 N. Hospital, Waterford Township, and $4,000 to contents.

★ ★ ★

Most of the damage was confined to the kitchen, where the pan was on a range, and the living room, according to firemen.

The estimated value of the bilevel frame house was $13,500.

Mansfield: Must Be Equitable

Campaign Aid Law Faces Senate Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield advises sponsors to make changes if they want to save the law permitting an income tax checkoff for presidential campaign financing.

★ ★ ★

Mansfield said before Congress returned today from a 10-day Easter vacation that the Senate is faced with the responsibility to make the law more equitable.

★ ★ ★

"When we passed this legislation last year," he said, "we made a commitment to give consideration in this Congress to filling in the gaps. We must plug up the loopholes to make it more effective and to see to it that it is equitably administered."

The issue comes before the Senate today as Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., attempts to repeal the plan aimed at making $30 million available for each major party to finance its presidential nominees campaign.

This fund would be created by permitting each individual to earmark $1 of his income tax to be divided equally between the two parties.

Gore complains the law is so loosely worded that parts of it are unconstitutional and others provide no safeguards on how the money would be spent.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and assistant Democratic leader, has ready some amendments to tighten provisions but may withhold them if he can defeat Gore's repealer.

Long wants hearings in which his committee could look into recommendations made by a study group to President Johnson but not yet released by the White House.

The outcome of Gore's fight may depend on which tack Senate Republicans take. Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., a finance committeeman, is supporting Gore.

But whether Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen will throw his weight behind the repeal move remains to be seen.

GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss told a weekend news conference Republicans are taking no party position on the matter. But he said conferences with party congressional leaders led him to believe that most would favor a straight tax deduction for political contributions.

Gore is attempting to revoke the law by amending a House-passed bill restoring business tax incentives. No votes are expected until at least Tuesday.

DON COOPER

Travel Show Will Feature Alaska Trip

A pictorial diary of an Alaskan logger and his buddy forms the next Travel and Adventure Series program at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

Don Cooper will narrate while showing the slides he took during travels through Alaska.

Included is a film of Cooper trapped in an ice pack off Hubbard Glacier for over 14 hours while thousands of tons of ice cascaded from the glacier into the sea on all sides of his 14-foot skiff.

Other shots include Mt. McKinley, Alaskan forests, wild animals in hidden valleys, the natives of Yakutat catching seals and panoramic views of Anchorage and Fairbanks.

Tickets may be purchased from any Downtown Kiwanis Club member. Also at the C. R. Haskill Studio, 1 Mt. Clemens or at the Pontiac Travel Booth at the Mall.

Shun Sukarno Is New Policy

Indonesian Regime Turns to Other Issues

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — An anti-Sukarno campaign at its height a few weeks ago has subsided since the ouster March 12 of Indonesia's long-time president.

The policy now seems to be to ignore Sukarno, a fate some veteran observers here say could prove worse than death for a man who thrived on attention, adulation and power.

★ ★ ★

In central Java, once a pro-Sukarno stronghold, military authorities have banned publication of articles or statements defaming Sukarno to prevent "unhealthy provocations" and to preserve "political stability."

The tide of events has swept the Sukarno issue aside. With the problem of the presidency settled by congressional action, the new Suharto government has other pressing matters to tend to, such as the economic plight of this potentially rich but almost bankrupt country.

Sukarno stays either at the presidential palace in Jakarta or in his private home near the mountain resort town of Bogor, 40 miles south.

Gone are the smartly cut uniforms and rows of medals that used to be his trademark. The presidential flag no longer flies for him at the palace or on the vehicles he uses.

★ ★ ★

At the palace here he lives with his second wife, Hartini. He makes visits now and then to the market place or to the botanical gardens.

Sukarno's movements between Jakarta and Bogor are unrestricted and the Suharto government has made it known that the ex-president is free to go abroad if he wishes. The impression is that they would not mind seeing him go.

Officials insist that Sukarno's health is deteriorating. They have left the way open for him to go abroad for medical treatment. Some sources close to the palace say Sukarno still suffers from an old kidney ailment and is visited regularly by his physician, but is otherwise all right.

It's Autos on Parade at Annual NY Show

NEW YORK (AP)—The 11th International Automobile Show opened Saturday at the New York Coliseum with more than 500 models and a "zoo's who" of automotive power on display.

The emphasis was on glamor and styling, with a close link to ladies' fashions and men's sports and gimmicgs for all.

★ ★ ★

A number of automobiles made their debut at the show, which lasts through Saturday. Some are new production models being introduced to the public, but others are simply one-of-a-kind cars.

Among the innovations on display are Chevrolet's Electrovair II and a two-wheeled car kept upright by a gyroscope.

EXPERIMENTAL

The electric car is an experimental model using a Corvair body and chassis with a cruising range of 40 to 80 miles before a recharge.

The Gyro-X, designed by Alex Tremulis of Northridge, Calif., looks like a shiny red missile and runs on an 80-horsepower engine. Tremulis said he hopes public response to the car is enough to warrant limited research in the near future.

★ ★ ★

Nell Theobald, bitten by a lion at last year's show, modeled by a spider this time—the Fiat 850 Spider, a new production sports car being introduced at the show.

"No lions this year," she said.

But the show will have live cougars to accompany an automobile by the same name. Some of the other cars take their names straight from the jungle, sea and plains —Mustang, Barracuda, Impala, Jaguar, and Sting Ray.

AUTO SHOW OPENS — A two-wheeled Gyro-X, which boasts an 80-horsepower engine, (left), and a Fiat 850 Spider, a new production Italian sports car, are displayed in a press preview prior to last Saturday's official opening of the International Auto Show in New York. Nell Theobald, the model atop the Fiat, was attacked by a lion while posing with the animal at last year's auto show.

Bonn Now Friendlier to E. Germany

BONN, Germany (AP) —The West German government has begun a new policy of not being beastly to the Communist rulers of 17 million Germans east of the Elbe River.

It remains to be seen whether the policy will pay off.

★ ★ ★

The new Bonn government has no more affection than its predecessors had for Communist leader Walter Ulbricht. His Lenin-like beard, his Stalin-like policy and his responsibility for the Berlin wall have long made him the man West German politicians love to hate.

"It's not a question of being nice to people who aren't so nice themselves," explained Willy Brandt, the foreign minister. But Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger's men believe that the way to reunify Germany is to be friendlier with the Communist powers that have so far prevented it. There has been a lot of political double-talk in recent speeches, however.

BEATING AROUND BUSH

One West German editorialist spoke of "beating around the bush." Editors of the news weekly Der Spiegel accused Kiesinger in an interview of giving a "sphinx-like" answer on the issue. "You have to keep a lot of options open in politics," Kiesinger replied.

One editor suggested that a majority of legislators secretly favor official recognition of Ulbricht's government and of its border with Poland. These are major Communist demands on West Germany, and many West Germans would consider it treasonable to yield.

Kiesinger denied any such majority exists.

Kiesinger offers some concessions to Ulbricht's government. One that does not sound like much, but which carries a heavy emotional charge in Germany, is the fact that he sometimes refers to it as the DDR. These are the initials for German (Deutsche) Democratic Republic, its official title.

A few months ago anyone who used those initials without quotation marks ran the risk of being called a Communist or fellow traveller.

The official initials recognized in Bonn are SBZ for Soviet Occupied Zone. The expression raises the hackles of East Germans, Communist or not.

Government Conformity Hit

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Most government officials are slaves to tradition and powerless to help themselves, a high Department of Defense official has advised the Senate Special Subcommittee on Scientific Manpower Utilization.

★ ★ ★

While industrial executives have free rein to apply the most advanced techniques, such as systems analysis, to their problems, government officials often are bound by rigid systems set up 20 years ago, said Arthur W. Barber, deputy assistant secretary of defense.

This has produced "a cultural gap between the managers of our corporate society and the managers of state and local government," Barber said.

He cautioned the subcommittee, chaired by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., that he was speaking only for himself and not for the Defense Department.

★ ★ ★

The key to making change, Barber said, is effective local political institutions.

MUST BE CONVINCED

People, he urged, must be convinced that they have an important role to play in shaping their future.

★ ★ ★

The federal government might encourage local development, he suggested, by establishing a large annual award to the community with the best programs. The award might cover operating expenses of the program for five years.

'68 Car Styling Is Previewed

By the Associated Press

DETROIT (AP)—Details leaking from behind the auto industry's chrome curtain indicate next year's cars generally will be longer, lower, sportier—and priced $100 or so higher.

But most major styling changes in 1968 models will be on the intermediate models, Newsweek magazine disclosed Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Supporting this contention was Robert W. Irvin, Detroit News automotive writer, who reported that "Generally, standard-sized cars will get face-lifts."

The magazine said standard-sized Chevrolets, Fords, Mercurys and Dodges will reflect few changes from the 1967 models.

$125 INCREASE

Newsweek said additional safety equipment and exhaust pollution control devices, required by the government, plus increased costs of labor and materials indicate "the average price increase on '68 models is almost certain to total $125."

Estimates of a $60 price hike for next year "sound low and $100 seems entirely possible," said Victor G. Raviolo, American Motors Corp. group vice president for automotive products.

★ ★ ★

Stuart Perkins, president of Volkwagen of America Inc., said, "By doing simple arithmetic you can see that the costs of the air pollution control system, more seat belts and other things are pushing close to $100 price increase."

Chevolet's rear-engined Corvair, "despite rumors to the contrary, will remain very much in the GM lineup," Newsweek said.

NEW MODELS

The magazine said American Motors will build two new cars, the Javelin, a four-passenger sports car priced at about $2,400, and a two-passenger fastback sports car patterned after its AMX "idea car."

The published reports say Lincoln will produce a new model. Terming it a "baby Lincoln," Newsweek said the car will feature a squared, Rolls Royce-type grille and a spare tire mounted straight up at the rear in classic car style. The magazine said it will be priced at about $5,500.

★ ★ ★

Ford will produce a new Fairlane with length increased to 201 inches from this year's 197, Irvin reported. One model will be a torpedo-shaped fastback.

Biggest change at Chevrolet, he said, will be in the Chevelle. It reportedly will be very streamlined and about two inches longer than the current 72 inches. A nine-passenger station wagon and four-door hardtop will be added to the Chevelle line, he said.

METAL CHANGES

Extensive sheet metal changes are planned for the Dodge Monaco and Coronet models and Plymouth Belvedere, Irvin said. But lesser changes are said to be in the offing for Valiant, Dart and Chrysler.

All-new Pontiac Tempests and Oldsmobile F-85's are in the works, the Detroit writer said.

★ ★ ★

Newsweek said more powerful engines will be used in many of the 1968 cars. In some cases the extra power would be to carry added weight of safety equipment or "to compensate for the power drain imposed by certain options (such as air conditioning)."

Economic Climate Is Uneven in April

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Apalyst

NEW YORK (AP) — April is the cruelest month, the poet said, and already some evidence of this has been provided by April fool jokes and more support is upcoming April 17, the deadline for income tax payments.

CUNIFF

The showers seem also to be drawing some flowers from the dead land, risking death by frostbite perhaps in the unpredictable economic climate. April will be like that: a bit of good and a bit bad.

★ ★ ★

Some sap seems to flow again through that dried and shriveled husk called consumer confidence. There seems some indication now that nourishment is being provided by those swollen savings accounts.

Evidence that the consumer might become more active in the market comes from the University of Michigan one of the groups which try to give a numerical value to buyer impulses — impulses which have long confused both psychiatrist and economist.

WIGGLING UPWARD

The latest Michigan survey shows the confidence line, which had dropped steadily for a year or so, has begun to wiggle upward a bit. Hopefully it will continue to strain that way.

Reflecting this hope, General Motors officials say there are now definite signs of a spring upturn in automobile sales. "There is a rising reservoir of consumer cash reserves for needed and wanted purchases," an official said.

★ ★ ★

This statement sounds very good until the damp cloud of memory obscures the sunny outlook, reminding the listener that the statement is similar to what auto officials have said weekly throughout the automotive sales drought.

This is the critical month for the automotive industry. If the consumer is not "strongly tempted," as GM officials hope he will be, then this could really be a horrible year for autos.

BIG INVENTORIES

Already car dealers begin April with 1.5 million vehicles, or enough for the next two months without additional production. Such inventories, and the realization that they must be worked off, awe economic analysts.

There is a more positive direction to the recent turn in interest rates. Most money men feel rates will continue to fall. Some even foresee another drop this month in the prime interest rate, a rate basic to all others.

★ ★ ★

But there is evidence also that the rising thermometer might also measure a rise in some consumer prices. And rising prices, tempers and temperatures is the formula for a long hot summer for the housewife and those near her when she explodes.

Jobs will continue to be plentiful during April, despite layoffs in spots and a possible further reduction in the number of overtime hours available.

NOT AS PRECISE

Estimates early in April of the direction the stock market might take are not nearly as precise. Neither are the forecasts clearly on the side of the bulls, as some people seem to think. Many advisors, including some to the big institutional investors, still see mixed weather. Some even are suspicious.

One economic consultant who has forecast a renewal of the economic expansion during the late months of 1967 now foresees, as April begins, a rather difficult climb through 1968. In other words, no boom.

★ ★ ★

As said the poet, who is T. S. Eliot, April mixes "memory and desire." Grim memories of inflation are making the consumer, producer, analysts a bit cautious in their desires.

Pontiac Div. Promotes 4 in the Engineering Dept.

Pontiac Motor Division has promoted four men within its engineering department, Chief Engineer Stephen P. Malone announced today.

★ ★ ★

Herman S. Kaiser has been named executive assistant chief engineer. His responsibilities will include chassis, power train, body, electrical, heating and ventilation, styling, administration, design drafting rooms and materials.

William T. Collins Jr. has been promoted to assistant chief engineer in charge of body and styling.

Hulki Aldikacti becomes an experimental engineer and Norman L. Cheal a production engineer.

★ ★ ★

All promotions are effective immediately.

Kaiser, 1337 Kirkway, Bloomfield Township, joined Pontiac Motor Division in 1928 as a chassis designer.

KAISER

COLLINS

He became body engineer in 1955, assistant chief engineer for body in 1961 and assistant chief engineer in charge of planning, programming, cost, heating, air conditioning and electrical equipment in 1965.

A graduate of Lehigh University, Collins joined Pontiac Motor Division in 1954 as a product engineer.

★ ★ ★

He subsequently moved to the position of project engineer, senior project engineer for advance design, assistant advance design engineer and advance design engineer.

Collins, 312 Linden, Birmingham, was promoted to production engineer last year.

Aldikacti, 2915 Peterboro, West Bloomfield Township, received his bachelor's degree from Robert College in Istanbul, Turkey, and master's from Michigan State University.

Most recently as assistant experimental engineer, Aldikacti came to the division in 1956 as an advance design engineer.

★ ★ ★

Cheal, 4459 Barchester, Bloomfield Township, has been with Pontiac Motor Division since 1947. A graduate of Michigan State University, he joined the firm as a junior graphic engineer.

Progress Seen in Try to Avert NY Paper Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Progress was reported today in efforts to prevent a strike in the newspaper industry here.

Optimism rose following a series of negotiations that continued past the midnight expiration of contracts between five of the city's major newspapers and 10 unions.

★ ★ ★

Theodore W. Kheel, chief mediator in the negotiations, said at 3:10 a.m.: "There will obviously not be any strike (today) but the situation is still not settled." Officers of all 10 unions emerged from a meeting Thursday night and announced a settlement was possible.

Kheel made the no-strike statement as negotiations between representatives of the publishers and the deliverers union were recessed until tonight.

★ ★ ★

He said "good progress" had been made on some issues involving the deliverers.

Police Press Probe in State Girl's Slaying

Grand Ledge police said they questioned almost 40 persons in the slaying of Ronda Cypher, a fifth-grader.

★ ★ ★

Ronda's body was found Saturday night, lying in shallow water of the Grand River only 350 feet behind her grandmother's house.

ASSAULTED, STRANGLED

A potato chip bag and one of her shoes was found between two houses near her grandmother's home.

★ ★ ★

Police said an autopsy showed she was assaulted and strangled.

★ ★ ★

She was one of three children of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cypher. Cypher, a General Motors employe, is a former Eaton Rapids police chief and former assistant police chief in Grand Ledge, a city of 6,000 just west of Lansing.

News in Brief

Vallie Tiggs, 28, of 504 Central was arrested early Sunday in connection with a breaking and entering at the L and L Grill, 499 S. Saginaw, according to Pontiac police. Officers said they found Tiggs leaning over a garbage can containing suspected loot, including cigars, hot dogs, chili, shrimp and soup.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) I am semi-retired and hold American Can, American Hospital, Santa Fe, Tenneco and Flying Tiger. Should I exchange some of these for better income? What is going on in Flying Tiger which I bought at nine?" B. B.

A) You have a sound list of stocks, well-suited for the most part to your objective. American Hospital Supply affords a relatively low yield but it is your strongest growth stock and should be held for inflation protection, unless more income is an actual requirement. In that event only, you might switch it into CIT Financial.

★ ★ ★

Your purchase of Flying Tiger was an example of perfect timing. The company is a cargo carrier very heavily dependent on military business. The Vietnam war has been a major factor in lifting earnings sharply. The shares on that account have been a market favorite. No cash dividends are paid and I believe the stock would be vulnerable to any genuine peace talks. In your particular circumstances — and this is no general recommendation — I would take my big profit and invest in Interstate Bakeries and General Motors.

★ ★ ★

Q) "The time never seems right for me to start buying stocks. Could you comment on this?" I. J.

A) If you have a good savings backlog, sufficient insurance protection and the temperament to endure future price declines — I advise you at least to get your feet a little wet right now. Don't try for perfect timing, since few people are emotionally capable of buying when the market is near a bottom.

The best course is to invest moderately, leaving always a good reserve to take advantage of future buying opportunities. As a starter I suggest Avon Products which could have been bought in any year of the past decade and sold in the succeeding year at a higher price.

SECRET SMILE — She stands on a pedestal in the Museum of the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia. The 15-inch high statuette was given to the Museum in 1950 by T. S. Quinn of Lebanon, Pa., who had bought it from a New York antique dealer. She was supposedly fashioned 2,500 years ago by a sculptor who lived in the Tuscany region of Italy long before the founding of Rome. Modern Science has established that the statuette was the work of a clever forger.

TWO INJURED — The driver of this car and a 25-year-old Pontiac man are in Pontiac General Hospital with injuries received in a four-car accident about 1:30 p.m. Saturday, at Dixie Highway and M15, Independence Township. Dennis Valone, 18, of Wixom and Ivy R. Buchanan of 8615 Pontiac Lake are in satisfactory condition with lacerations, according to hospital authorities. Oakland County sheriff's deputies said the cars driven by Valone and Buchanan collided head-on. Passengers in their cars and occupants of the other two vehicles involved escaped serious injury, deputies said.

Maoist Press Demands Ouster of President Liu

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung's official news media today demanded that President Liu Shao-chi be discredited, repudiated and ousted. He was charged with favoring the United States after World War II.

The steady increase of official attacks on Liu, an official defense of zealous Red Guards, and a claim that Mao's cultural revolution is entering a new phase pointed to intensification of the mainland purge after a period of relatively subdued activity. There were signs, however, of continued anti-Maoist resistance.

★ ★ ★

Attacks on Liu came from the New China News Agency, the official Peking People's Daily, and the Communist party theoretical journal Red Flag. Peking radio reported rallies by hundreds of thousands in different parts of China to back the attacks.

While Liu was not mentioned by name, the pro-Mao news media broadened its identification of its target so that any vestige of doubt was removed.

BOOK ATTACKED

On Friday, in the first official attack on Liu, the party organs attacked his book "How to be a Good Communist." They referred to it as "the book on self-cultivation."

On Saturday, they criticized "the top party person in authority taking the capitalist road" — a departure from the previous broader reference to a "handful" of anti-Maoists.

★ ★ ★

On Monday, the news agency linked the two, saying the book under attack was "written by that top party person." Both the press agency and Radio Peking carried on a steady drumfire of attack against "the top party person in authority taking the capitalist road."

A Red Flag article entitled "Patriotism or National Betrayal" appeared to be the opening salvo against Liu in the new phase of the cultural revolution. It declared that "the revolutionary masses must overthrow this handful of counterrevolutionary revisionists, remove the top party person in authority taking the capitalist road from his position and make him stand aside."

'TAKE TO STREETS'

The news agency reported that workers, peasants, soldiers and students in Peking, Shanghai and Harbin took to the streets to acclaim the article.

Japanese newsmen in Peking reported the demonstrators shouted "Down with Liu."

★ ★ ★

Broadcasts from Hunan, Shantung, Kweichow, Honan and Shansi provinces reported mass anti-Liu demonstrations by hundreds of thousands, but stations in Kwangtung and Fukien provinces did not report such rallies. Liu's followers have been relatively strong in Kwangtung and Fukien and apparently still are.

The Peking correspondent of the Yugoslav news agency, Tanjug, predicted it was only a matter of days before Liu resigns his posts.

N.Y. Lottery Tickets Go on Sale in June

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI) — Tickets will go on sale in June for New York State's first lottery, a once - a - month drawing with get-rich-quick appeal expected to enrich state education resources by $165 million a year.

The legislature adopted the lottery early yesterday before adjourning its 1967 session.

New York thus became the second state with a lottery.

New Hampshire for the past three years has been using a sweepstakes tied to horse races twice a year to raise money for education.

Estimated sales for the New York lottery go as high as $300 million a year. Some 30 per cent of the money will go for prizes and 15 per cent for administrative expenses. The rest was earmarked for education.

City Latins Elect a VP, 3 Officers

Members of the Pontiac chapter of Latin Americans United for Political Action (LAUPA) elected a new vice president and three other officers at a meeting yesterday.

The group also gave formal endorsement of last January's election of state LAUPA President Tomas Chavez Jr. of 122 W Fairmount.

Chavez' right to hold office has been challenged because of alleged "irregularities" in the January vote.

A meeting of the state LAUPA in Pontiac next Sunday is expected to either confirm or invalidate the January election.

Pontiac Police Apprehend Man at Jewelry Store

A Lincoln Park man was arrested for investigation of attemped burglary early yesterday after police said they observed him leaning through the smashed display window of a Pontiac jewelry store.

Police said Larry W. McCray, 27, was seen at a window near the entrance to Parks Jewelers, 1 N. Saginaw, about 2 a.m.

Officers said they chased him past a parked car which then sped from the scene and apprehended him at Wayne and Clinton.

They were unable to follow the car, investigators said.

Student Display

DETROIT (AP) — More than 1,500 Michigan youths will compete this week for grand prizes in the Michigan Industrial Education awards program. The student-made products, ranging from sail boats to jewelry, will be on display at a fair Thursday through Saturday at Cobo Hall.

25 Collegians Arrested in Pitt Uproar

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Students at the University of Pittsburgh settled into the routine of classes today following two nights of near-rioting after balmy weather came to the campus. Twenty-five were arrested.

Young men and women, clad mostly in bermuda shorts and sandals, roamed streets surrounding the campus, snarled traffic and hurled insults at police as fellow students heaved water balloons, furniture and other articles from dormitory windows.

★ ★ ★

"It's just one of those things that start out as a lark, and before you know, it's a major catastrophe," said Chancellor Dr. David H. Kurtzman as he stood among a horde of students listening to their complaints.

About 1500 students, studying for finals two weeks away, blocked traffic and pulled fire alarms Sunday night. Police called out K9 units and extra men but made no attempt to herd the students back to the dorms for about three hours until a police lieutenant was felled by a rock tossed from the crowd. He did not require hospital treatment.

WADE INTO CROWD

The police waded into the crowd, gripping nightsticks at their side, and the students returned to the dormitory area.

★ ★ ★

Eighteen students, all men, were arrested. Seven were charged Saturday night in a similar outburst.

★ ★ ★

All but three were charged with disorderly conduct and will be given a hearing today. Three were charged with aggravated assault on a police officer and face arraignment today.

More than 70 million vehicles used the New Jersey Turnpike in 1966—four times the number which traveled the superhighway in 1952, its first full year of operation.

ROCHESTER — The volunteer fire department recently elected William Gray, 303 Helen, president. He will serve with Karl Severance, 603 Wilcox, vice president; James Purdom, 318 Taylor, secretary; and Myron Bartholomew, 716 Renshaw, treasurer.

Harvey Littell was named trustee for a three-year term

Bolivian Rebels Stir No Fears

President Says Small Army Not Dangerous

SANTA CRUZ, Bolivia (AP) — President Rene Barrientos says a small rebel army poses no threat to his government because it has trapped itself in hilly, jungle hideouts and has "no place to go."

Gen. Alfredo Ovando Candia, commander-in-chief of the Bolivian armed forces, estimated the strength of the guerrillas at 300 to 400 men but said it might take months to wipe them out.

★ ★ ★

Barrientos and Ovando made an aerial survey of the rebels' hideouts Saturday. The president said the Bolivian army is in full operation in the area but is taking no offensive measures.

"It is counterguerrilla action, which depends on the guerrillas," he said in an interview Sunday. He added that the rebels are being supported and financed by foreign Communists by way of Cuba.

20 GUERRILLAS KILLED

About 600 Bolivian soldiers, an equal number of militiamen and an undisclosed number of planes are operating against the guerrillas.

Six Bolivian soldiers, a civilian guide and about 20 guerrillas have been reported killed in sporadic fighting in the rugged, thinly populated area.

Fighting has been under way for about two weeks in the area north of the oil-producing center of Camiri and about 375 miles southeast of La Paz, the capital.

Ovando said he had ordered a halt to bombing and strafing of the guerrilla areas, carried on while he was in Europe.

U.S. HELP REPORTED

"There should have been no air attacks," he said. "You can't see what is down there."

One local report said 11 U.S. Special Forces men were aiding Bolivian efforts in the guerrilla zone. U.S. sources in La Paz said the number was not more than four and they were not Special Forces men but members of the regular U.S. military advisory group.

U. S. counterinsurgency specialists are known to have been instructing soldiers in Bolivia as recently as late 1966, but U.S. sources at La Paz say none is in Bolivia now.

Bolivian government sources say the guerrilla forces include many foreigners, with varying versions as to nationalities: Cubans, Communist Chinese, Europeans, Peruvians and Argentines. One recurrent report says Cuban Ernesto Guevara is among the guerrillas or was recently.

$2,700 Is Taken in Pharmacy Theft

A total of $2,700 in cash was reported stolen yesterday in a break-in at Plaza Pharmacy, 3554 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township.

The money was taken from a safe that was pryed open, according to State Police.

Entry to the building was gained by making a hole in the wall after breaking into an adjourning office through a window.

Music Contest

FLINT (AP) — The Musical Performing Arts Association of Flint has announced it will hold a competition throughout the Midwest later this year with a $500-prize and a solo appearance with the Flint Symphony Orchestra going to the winner. William C. Byrd, association director and conductor of the orchestra, said details and audition dates for the competitition will be worked out later.

Single Contest

NEW BALTIMORE (AP) — Voters in this Macomb County community of 3,160 today cast ballots for mayor, three councilmen, a justice of the peace and constable. The mayoral race is the only one being contested, with incumbent Bruno B. Wisney facing a challenge from Judson Bowers, a former planning commission chairman.

Bataan Battle Veterans Revisit Scene of Disaster

MANILA (AP) — There was hardly a dry eye among 158 American veterans of Bataan and Corregidor and their wives today as their jetliner circled slowly over the tadpole-shaped island of Corregidor.

★ ★ ★

For most of them it was their first look at the island and the neighboring Bataan Peninsula since they left as prisoners of the Japanese 25 years ago.

★ ★ ★

"It was the most fantastic emotional experience of my life," said Arthur Bressi, 47, Mechanicsburg, Pa., who was captured when the island fortress fell on May 6, 1942.

★ ★ ★

"The pilot was wonderful. He flew low over the island and then circled it clockwise and then anticlockwise,

SAW LANDMARKS

"We could pick out all the landmarks and I could see the building where they air-conditioned my headquarters.

"There were plenty of tears shed in that airplane, I can tell you."
